while the bomber (left foreground) continues in formation just prior to its plunge earthward. The picture shows large chunks of the bomber's wing missing. House Democrat George B. Mahon termed "indefensible" the photographic mission which, he charged, caused the collision and took the lives of two pilots. This photo was one of a series taken from a commercial jet chartered by the General Electric Co.

Legislature Extends Session

Testifying Ends in Bribe Trial

Final Arguments Due Tuesday in Local Case

Final arguments will be heard Tuesday in the Circuit Court trial of three men charged with conspiring to bribe a Pontiac police officer.

Testimony in the case before Judge Frederick C. Ziem was completed yesterday.

On trial are Angelo (Barreis) Lombardi, 37, and Charles Rousso, 52, both of Detroit, and Odus Tischer, 48, of St. Clair Shores.

They are accused of conspiring to pay bribes totaling $2,050 to Capt. Raymond E. Meggitt while he was working as an undercover agent for the police department between June and October last year.

In return, Meggitt, then a lieutenant, was to tip off the operators of the Seaway Civic and Social Club, formerly at 118 S. Paddock, to any pending raids on the alleged gambling establishment.

TROOPER TESTIFIES
Lombardi is charged with making the payoffs to Meggitt.

A State Police trooper testified yesterday that he had gained access into the club by posing as a customer shortly before it was raided by police on Oct. 2, 1965.

Trooper Lowell Wilds said that he saw a number of people shooting dice on a pool table and that there was money being bet.

Police, Dogs, Planes Track Killing Suspect

DETROIT (UPI)—More than 100 police, aided by two dogs and two planes, today were searching for a "possibly deranged" man who they believe ambushed his estranged wife and shot her to death.

The manhunt centered in an area of western Wayne County near Taylor township where the woman, Mrs. Eleanor Hajnos, 38, a mother of seven, was found early yesterday on her front porch by her daughter, Cynthia, 16.

Police said Mrs. Hajnos was shot three times with a .38-caliber M1 carbine, which was found nearby.

Cynthia and the six other Hajnos children said they were awakened by a loud noise "that sounded like shots."

The posse, composed of State Police troopers, Taylor Township police and Wayne County sheriffs, was searching for Andrew Hajnos, 44, who had been separated from his wife for several months.

Police said Hajnos, believed to be an expert woodsman and camper, was unemployed and described him as "dangerous and possibly deranged."

CAMPING IN WOODS
They said Hajnos apparently had been camping in woods near the area and he sometimes slept in a tool shed behind the Hajnos house.

Mrs. Hajnos was returning from her job at a Wyandotte factory when she was gunned down as she began to enter her home.

She held a daytime job at an engineering firm in the area. The Hajnos children, two boys and five girls, range in age from 18 to 3 years.

Deputies said Arcsott slammed on the brakes but was unable to avoid hitting the heavy truck.

Sanity Hearing Slated Monday

Lawyers Now Oppose Long-Sought Airing

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby, sentenced to die in the electric chair for the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, will get the sanity hearing Monday his lawyers have been seeking for almost two years.

But in an apparent about-face, the attorneys now say they are opposed to the hearing because it would jeopardize Ruby's constitutional rights if they have to call witnesses who might testify at the new murder trial they are seeking.

They say they will appear in court Monday morning as directed by State Dist. Judge Louis T. Holland but will not call Ruby to the stand and will present no witnesses and no evidence to support their earlier claims that Ruby is insane.

Holland turned down defense motions yesterday which would have forestalled the hearing and would have returned the case to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, which ordered the sanity hearing before it would consider the appeal of Ruby's conviction.

Ruby, 35, a former nightclub operator, did not appear at the pretrial hearing yesterday.

3 Share Lead in Buick Open

GRAND BLANC — Three players shared the top spot as the field of 138 moved into the second round of the $100,000 Buick Open today at Warwick Hills.

Leading the pack were Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., Fred Marti of Houston, Tex., and 41-year-old Jim Ferrier of Burbank, Calif. They turned in two-under par 70s over the 7,200-yard course yesterday.

The field will be trimmed to the low 70 plus ties after today's round, with those who remain playing 36 holes tomorrow starting at 8 a.m.

Two-time champion Tony Lama of California came in with a surprising six-over-par yesterday and he faced an uphill battle just to survive the 36-hole cut today.

Fails to Meet Deadlines for Finishing Up

Lawmakers Abandon Planned Adjournment to Return June 21-22

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature lost the race with its own deadlines yesterday granting itself another two days to complete work that began five months ago.

Lawmakers, instead of being free to campaign through the Aug. 2 primary election, will return to Lansing June 21-22. Lawmakers were to have adjourned yesterday.

The first day will be devoted to cleaning up more than 30 Senate bills on the House calendar and two House measures facing the Senate.

Chief among the House decisions is whether to help start an osteopathic college in Pontiac.

Nearly 50 bills are in conference committees, where House-Senate differences will have to be worked out by the end of the second day.

BUDGET BILLS
Two budget bills went to Gov. George Romney yesterday — noncontroversial spending for corrections and public safety.

But the rest of the budget, topped by school aid and higher education, is still in limbo. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

House Again Resurrects Osteopath Bill

LANSING (AP) — The oft-defeated bill to guarantee state support to a proposed osteopathic college in Pontiac was still alive in the Legislature today.

The bill, which would establish a 10-member state osteopathic college authority has been under consideration for two legislative years.

It was defeated in the House Policy Committee, then reconsidered and approved. It was defeated and reconsidered in the House Ways and Means Committee under instructions of Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit.

It was defeated 54-39 by the entire House yesterday. It was reconsidered. A second vote is expected June 21, the next — and the last — day for the passage of bills under a new schedule adopted at the last minute yesterday.

The college, whose estimated construction costs run from $80 million to $100 million, needs state backing to win 2-1 federal matching funds, the osteopaths say. No one knows exactly how. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Lack of Hair on Hubby's Head Causes Wife to Vision Red

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am on the verge of a nervous breakdown and it's my own fault, but I can't help it. I was 20 when I married Woodley. He was 29 and completely bald except for a little fringe of hair around his head.

ABBY

It bothered me then, but I told myself I'd get used to it. Well, I never did. It kept bothering me more and more.

I finally made him get a toupee (it cost $200), and he looked 100 per cent better, but I was still ashamed to walk beside him. From a distance he looked fine, but from close up you could tell he was wearing a toupee.

He said he didn't care if people knew he wore a toupee or or not, he thinks it looks better than no hair at all.

I am so ashamed of myself for feeling like I do because he is the dearest, sweetest man in all the world. And the best husband, father, and provider a woman could ask for. I just hate myself for being dissatisfied with him just because he's bald.

What can I do? Sometimes I think I can't stand it another day.

WOODLEY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your problem is that you obviously have never had anything important enough to worry about. A handicapped child, a helpless parent, a husband with a drinking, gambling, or chasing problem.

The real problem is your head and what's not in it. Accept the realities of life if you cannot change them. And ignore the nonessentials in an otherwise good man.

DEAR ABBY: There is an old guy in our town who is driving everybody nuts. He's about 75 years old. His trouble is he can't keep his paws off women. No waitress will get within six feet of him.

When he comes into the restaurant the cashier has to go over and take his order, and the cook comes out of the kitchen to serve it to him.

This guy went to a doctor for a check up and the nurse told me if he ever came back she was going to have a pair of handcuffs ready.

Everybody in town knows about him. I can't understand why they let a man like that run loose. Isn't he dangerous?

SMALL TOWN GIRL
DEAR GIRL: Probably not. If everybody in town knows about him, they're safe. It's the ones they don't know about who are dangerous.

DEAR ABBY: Why are certain people always late? I know two. A man and a woman. The woman has no excuse whatsoever because she has no job, no children, and all the time in the world.

The man is self-employed, and his reputation for tardiness is so well-known that when he makes an appointment it is assumed that he will be anywhere from half an hour to an hour late! And he always is.

But he never has the courtesy to apologize or explain. I am always prompt. My time is every bit as valuable as anyone else's, and I resent being kept waiting.

Why, oh why are some people always late?

ON TIME

DEAR ON: Show me a time person who is "always late" and I'll show you a person who is selfish, inconsiderate, and emotionally immature. Like children, they live in a timeless world, and couldn't care less about the inconvenience they cause others.

Occasionally, one who is meticulously punctual will be made late through no fault of his own. But those who are chronically tardy are bound to be immature and inconsiderate in other ways.

CONFIDENTIAL TO J.F.H.: The only way I know of to double your money is to fold it over once and put it back in your pocket.

The engagement is announced of Linda Carol Smith, daughter of the Wallace Smiths of Davisburg Road, Springfield Township, to Lenford Dow Harless, son of Mrs. Dow Harless of King Road, Springfield Township, and the late Mr. Harless. August vows are being planned.

Share Joys of Flowers

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — So many people were stopping to look at the dazzling array of flowers in the huge garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Hinkle that the couple decided to put up a sign saying "Visitors Welcome."

Hinkle, who is 85, has enjoyed gardening as a hobby for 18 years and does most of the work himself. He and his wife are pleased that so many travelers on U. S. Highway 280 pause for a look at the thousands of azaleas and tulips.

At the top of the hill near the Hinkles' home is a bell visitors can use to announce their arrival. A sign reads: "If no one answers when you ring, don't turn and go away. Just wander through the garden gate, and view the flowers gay."

Designer Pauline Trigere's fall collection, introduced in New York this week, included the creation at left of purple chiffon with all-over plumes and matching hat and, at right, a white American broadtail short dinner dress with rhinestone border.

Trigere Leans to Leggy Lass With Funds, but Figure Faults

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Leggy lass with a little middle and a lot of money is in this year as far as designer Pauline Trigere is concerned.

So are turtle pins, hairy dresses, rhinestone bibs and bonnets, men's chevron tie materials, built-in lingerie, fur shirt dresses and fur formal gowns, and boots as supple and fitted as gloves.

"Suits are out this year," Miss Trigere said as waiters passed cocktails and sandwiches and television cameras ground away during her fall collection opening Wednesday. "Women want a freeness around the waist."

HULKING COLLARS

The models who stepped forward later wore slim coats, jaunty jackets or swingy caps over dresses with fitted or belted middles. Chins disappeared under hulking collars, huge as-coats, and yards of scarves. But no bulk went to waist.

Other figure faults would have been indiscernible under Trigere's fashion formula. The flat front and back of skirts flared or pleated at the sides.

In tweds and knits the manikins slipped into pliant leather boots that reached higher than their above-the-knee hemlines. Sometimes silk neck scarves matched the linings of collarless coats. Other times the inside story of cape-like coats was furry warmth.

AFFLUENT LOOK

A wardrobe of fitted dresses, long and short, some with swirling cape coats, and made of Russian broadtail were among latest Trigere status symbol offerings. The really one-upmanship dinner gown was of broadtail, bordered, cuffed and collared in Russian sable.

Modesty bibs was what the ones Trigere designers called those collars of twinkling rhinestones and which models tucked into their plunging necklines, or wore with bare-shouldered dresses.

There were glittering baby bonnets to match these.

For grand entrances were gowns gleaming in silver and gold; and jewel embroidered see-through dresses, some with nude hued slips.

And there were slitting chiffons with built-in petticoats for cool comfort. Many gowns bristled with hair like plumeage. Gold turtle pins were worn everywhere, even on the hem line of Miss Trigere's own dress—collecting turtles is her hobby. Silvers of rhinestones were pinned in odd places such as the cuff of a long sleeved dress. And rosebuds sometimes grew out of one side of a collar or covered the cleavage otherwise exposed by a low necked dress.

After the show, the audience shouted for the author. And Miss Trigere sat down on the platform and cried.

Cleveland's Siebert Records No-Hitter

Dry Spell Hit by Tony Lema

By FLETCHER SPEARS
GRAND BLANC — Although long Warwick Hills remains a little soggy from heavy rain earlier in the week, Tony Lema has hit a dry spell and faces an uphill battle in his bid for a third victory in the Buick Open Golf tournament.

The 32-year-old Lema soared to a six-over-par 78 in the opening round of the rain-delayed tournament yesterday at Warwick Hills, and he went into today's round eight strokes back of the leaders.

Sharing the top spot are Jim Ferrier of Burbank, Calif., Fred Marti of Houston, Tex., and Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., who turned in a 70 over the 72-hole, 7,238-yard layout yesterday.

Lema, whose game seems to ripen at this stage of the season, turned the front nine with a one-over-par 37, but he had sand and putting problems on the back side as he skied to a 41.

Only the low 70 players after today's round will go into the 35-hole finals tomorrow, so Lema will have to end the scoring drought today or give up the title he won in 1964 and '65.

ARNIE'S ARMY

Arnold Palmer, with most of the crowd of 15,788 trailing him, ran into a lot of trouble but he came out with a one-over-par 73 along with 103 other players.

Arnie shot an even par on the front side, offsetting a bogey with a birdie, and he warmed up on the back side, chipping in a 50-footer for a birdie on No. 15 and knocking in a 35-foot chip shot for another birdie at the 18th.

On par-3 No. 17, Arnie hit his tee shot to the left of the green behind a score-board. His second shot went under the score-board into a trap. He blasted out and three-putted for a triple-bogey six.

Ferrier, 51, who won the 1947 PGA championship at Plum Hollow, birdied five of his first 14 holes, but he bogied three of the last four holes for his 70.

Marti, 25, in his third year on the tour, put together rounds of 36-34 as he hit 14 greens in regulation and needed only 31 putts for the round.

FIVE BIRDSIES

Rodgers put together a pair of 35s, collecting five birdsies and three bogeys.

Bunched at one-under-par 71 were Sam Snead, 1963 Buick champ Julius Bore, Kermit Zarley, Roger Gimsberg, Dave Mars and Al Geiberger.

Pacing Michigan's pros in the field was Chuck Matlack who was in early with a 36-38-74, despite bogeying the final two holes.

Ted Kroll of Franklin Hills, Walter Burkemo of Birmingham and Thorne Rosely of Rockford carded 75s. Gene Bone of Pontiac came in with a 77, while amateur John Grace of Grosse Pointe Shores turned in a 76. (Scores on Page C-2)

MAKING PITCH—Tony Lema, winner of the last two Buick Opens, pitches over a bunker on the seventh hole in yesterday's opening round. The anxious look on Lema's face became more pronounced later in the day as he took a six-over-par 78 and faced the possibility of not making the half-way cutoff.

Family 'Joke' Becomes Real With 2-0 Win

Two Senators Reach Base; Leon Wagner Hammers Home Run

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sonny Siebert was kidding when he told his wife that he would pitch a no-hitter Friday night but try to convince the Washington Senators he was.

The 29-year-old Cleveland right-hander moved the Senators down in order except on two occasions in pitching the first no-hitter of the season. It gave the Indians a 2-0 decision and was Siebert's fifth victory against three defeats.

Wiping perspiration, Siebert told newsmen in the clubhouse that his wife, Carol Ann, was kidding him before he left for the ballpark about the way he has been going and particularly about the fourth inning when only six innings against the Minnesota Twins Sunday.

"I told her, 'If you don't get off my back, I'll go out and pitch a no-hitter,'" Siebert said. "I was only kidding but I started to think about it."

FIRST RUNNIN'

Siebert had retired 13 batters in order when Dick Nen walked in the fifth inning to become the first Washington baserunner. The only other Senator to reach first base was Paul Casanova, who did it on an error in the eighth. Neither man got to second.

Leon Wagner's bases-empty homer in the first inning was the only run Siebert needed. Chico Salmon hit a run-scoring single in the third after Vic DeSalvo walked and in the second, Siebert said he didn't actually start thinking about getting a no-hitter until about the eighth inning.

"None of the fellows said anything to me about it," he added. "They just have to the way they were going after everything."

Did he feel stronger as he went along? "I can't say that I got stronger," Siebert said, "but I was wearing down with everything I had and trying to get 'em out one at a time."

The no-hitter was the first for a Cleveland pitcher since Bob Feller pitched one in beating the Detroit Tigers 2-1, in Cleveland July 1, 1952.

The last no-hit, no-run game by an Indian pitcher was on June 30, 1948, by Bob Lemon, who beat the Tigers, 2-0.

TOO HIGH Siebert had praise for his catcher, Joe Azcue, for making him keep the ball down. He said the trouble in Minnesota last Sunday was that he was getting the ball too high.

He also praised teammates who made plays to rob the Senators of hits. In the eighth inning Don Lock hit a sharp liner that appeared to be headed into left field, but third baseman Alvin Dark leaped high to catch the ball.

Bob Saverine led off the seventh with a sharp liner, but first baseman Fred Whitfield caught it.

The no-hitter was the first of his baseball career for Siebert, who is in his third season as a major leaguer.

"Sam McDowell is the guy that I figured would get a no-hitter someday this season," he said, "and he probably will."

Tiger Lefty Finding Groove

6-2 Victory by Aguirre 6th in Row

The Standings

DETROIT (UPI)—Good things are starting to happen to Hank Aguirre — like winning baseball games and hitting foul balls.

The Tigers finally supplied some runs for the lanky left-hander and he rewarded the efforts by pitching Detroit to its sixth straight victory, a 6-2 decision over the New York Yankees Friday night.

The win kept the Tigers in the thick of the American League race, one and one-half games behind the league-leading Baltimore Orioles and one-half game behind the second place Cleveland Indians.

The veteran Aguirre held the resurgent Yankees to five hits in the first eight innings but in his eagerness to finish the ninth inning allowed three more base hits before chalking up his second win in five decisions this year.

LOUD FOUL

He even gave indications that he may get a base hit himself this year. After striking out in his first trip to the plate, Aguirre swatted the 26.7th fans in the park by hitting several foul balls, including a line shot down the right field line which was barely foul in the eighth inning.

In Aguirre's consideration, base hits are categorized in that rare atmosphere of no-hitters and perfect games. He jokingly claims the title of the worst hitter in the game.

It was the first time in his last four starts that the Tigers had applied more than a single run for Aguirre to work on. But Friday night the Tigers started early as James Wood and Norm Cash belted back-to-back homers in the first inning.

Clete Boyer, the only man in the Yankee lineup Aguirre couldn't control, got one of the runs back for the Yankees in the second inning by belting his fourth homer of the year.

After that Aguirre gave up only a pair of singles and a triple before he relaxed in the ninth and allowed Joe Pepitone his seventh homer and then gave up a pair of singles before finishing the game.

What Can Ryun Do for an Encore?

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Sensational Jim Ryun, new claimant to a world half-mile record, and the crusading Amateur Athletic Union were both somewhat on the sport today as the U.S. Track and Field Federation's fourth national meet reached a hectic close.

What could Ryun, 19-year-old Kansas University freshman, do for an encore in his mile specialty today after streaking the half mile Friday in 1:44.9 to shatter Peter Snell's world mark of 1:45.17?

And what could the AAU do for an encore after its ignored ultimatum Thursday that athletes competing in this federation meet will be barred from the National AAU meet at New York two weeks hence?

The AAU's unheeded mandate

Yankees' Hook Lists Newcomer to Hurl Sunday

DETROIT (AP)—Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees is not going to waste any time finding out if a five player trade he negotiated with the Kansas City Athletics Friday is as good as it looked to him on paper.

Houk said right-hander Fred Talbot, whom he regarded as the key man in the deal, would start against the Detroit Tigers in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader.

The straight player deal saw the Yankees send pitchers Bill Stafford and Gil Blanco plus outfielder Roger Repox to the A's in exchange for Talbot and catcher Bill Bryan.

ostensibly means that Ryun, 3:53.7, only one-tenth of a second slower than France's Michel Jazy's world record of 3:53.6.

"I wasn't shooting for the half-mile record, especially after my slow 5.3 first quarter," said Ryun. "I had planned to move out on the back stretch of the last quarter, but I never thought I could run away from the field in this event."

In smashing Snell's record of 1:45.1, set Feb. 3, 1962, at Christchurch, New Zealand, Ryun raced over the closing quarter mile in 51.6 to finish 20 yards in front.

Only last Saturday at Los Angeles, Ryun ran the mile in

Tearful Arizona Entry New Miss Tan America

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dolores Evans, 19, of Tucson, Ariz., brought the audience and her fellow contestants near tears with her original dramatic monologue, couldn't hold back her own tears as she was crowned Miss Tan America Friday night.

The pert 19-year-old beauty from Tucson, Ariz., had told her mother not to waste the money on a plane trip for the finals "because I won't win anything."

As she signed her first autographs, handing her tear-dampened red roses to a friend, she kept repeating: "My mother will never believe it. I have to go call her."

Runners-up in the all-Negro beauty and talent contest were Harriet Rhe, 19, a pianist from Stamford, Conn., and Glenda Lovett, 18, an Oklahoma City coloratura soprano.

SCHOLARSHIP—Miss Evans stands 5 feet, 3 inches with measurements of 36-23-36. She has completed her freshman year at the University of Arizona. One of her prizes is a four-year college scholarship. Since the sixth grade, she has been preparing for a career in the professional theater, working backstage and with props and lights as well as serious dramatic study for six years.

She wrote poetry, short plays and monologues or skits. Her performance Friday night concerned an unwed mother rejecting and then accepting her infant.

"I never lived in the days of knights and armor—I don't know how to act with this thing," she said as she stumbled over the train of her purple and white velvet queen's robe.

Other finalists were Valerie Holiday, 18, Boston; Lora Reed, 18, Sacramento, Calif.; Helen Miller, 18, Washington, D.C., who represented Columbia, S.C.; Cheryl Ann Clark, 19, Los Angeles; and Kriss Brooks, 19, Berkeley, Calif., who represented San Jose.

Then, last Tuesday, the 17-year-old high school sophomore sneezed and immediately received an "unpleasant" electrical shock. Another sneeze, another shock.

Four hours later, June Clark's frightening ordeal—a mysterious malady that had baffled neurologists, internists, allergists, nose and throat specialists, hypnotists and psychiatrists—had come to an end at last.

SNEEZES END
For the first time in more than five months, the pretty, brown-haired girl stopped sneezing.

Dr. Malcolm Kustner, 39-year-old chief of psychological service at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Miami, gave June a treatment he calls "operant conditioning."

This means the control of human behavior by reward or punishment—a system patients use when they spank a child for being bad and give him candy for being good.

Crash Injures Avon Youth

An Avon Township youth was in satisfactory condition today after being injured in a Troy traffic accident last night.

Gary L. Harkins, 17, of 2821 Gravel Ridge is being treated at Royal Oak's William Beaumont Hospital for injuries he sustained when his car collided with another one on John R. at 7:15 p.m.

Troy police said the accident occurred when Harkins pulled out to pass a car which was making a left hand turn into a driveway.

The other driver, Henry C. Parrett, 37, of Cincinnati, was not injured.

News in Brief

The theft of her purse, containing $450, in a store at 66 N. Saginaw was reported to Pontiac police yesterday by Mrs. Nellie Kallen, 65, of 111 Poplar.

Demotion Tied to Safety Idea

Chevy Worker Claims Suggestion Ignored

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—An inspector at the Chevrolet body plant for 12 years claims he was demoted to operating a "fuzz pad" after suggesting safety improvements.

Edward Gregory, 48, who says he has read auto critic Ralph Nader's "Unsafe at Any Speed" and agrees with it, said yesterday "I think I've been persecuted."

General Motors said Gregory's switch in jobs may have been "the normal pattern."

Gregory said he was told, in effect, to butt out when he suggested a way to keep poisonous carbon monoxide fumes from seeping into the rear, lower quarter-panels on some Chevrolets.

When he first suggested the "safety improvement," Gregory said he was told the suggestion was being declined because the car was being built to specifications, warranty and field reports did not indicate a problem in that area, and that Gregory was "not an engineer and not qualified to give an opinion on this item."

Since being relieved of his inspector's duties, Gregory has been assigned to take scratches out of a car's finish with a sanding disc, called a fuzz pad.

Nader said Thursday night in New York that auto workers are growing dissatisfied with cost-cutting techniques resulting in shoddy workmanship and unsafe cars.

He cited two cases—Gregory's and one involving the Ford Motor Co.'s Dearborn, Mich., plant.

There, Nader said "United to Workers Local 600" is about to release a written criticism of inadequate frames for collision protection.

Local 600 President Walter Dorosh said yesterday in Detroit that "Ford is not building unsafe cars. I have a 1966 Ford myself. I certainly wouldn't buy a car that isn't safe."

Gets a Jewish Surprise on the Sofa With Sofia

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Sophia Loren, Take The Stand! ... Imagine ... on a sofa with Sophia!

Sophia Loren sat with her beautiful legs crossed on a sofa in her suite at the Regency and dropped numerous Jewish words into the conversation.

"schmegegge ... muhschach ... magilla." "Where did you learn those?" I exclaimed in surprise.

"I had lessons from Sydney Chaplin," she smiled.

"You," I said, "are the dream girl of every able-bodied man in the world. How does it feel to have attained that?"

"Every woman wants admiration—I like it!" "What do your male fans say to you in their letters?"

"Sometimes they're upset that I'm married. They threaten me, or my husband."

It was Charlie Chaplin who stared at her when she came out in a décolleté gown during the filming of "The Countess of Hong Kong" and exclaimed, "I wish I was 60!"

"He was a dream to work with, but stubborn," Sophia said. "In insisting that the actors do the scenes as he said. Clash? No. Who would disagree with Chaplin? He almost invented our business as it is today."

"I've always been honest with myself and with the roles I chose. The talk of me being a sex symbol doesn't mean anything. I'd rather be a Woman, with a capital W. Sex is there if you're a Woman. If you try to act sexy, you're not sexy anymore."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP ...

Producer Joe Levine, who gives parties for almost any reason, tosses one June 20—to mark the renaming of his yacht (the "Rosalee L.") ... Franchot Tone, who shaved off his beard, said jokingly at Asti's: "I lost it to a quick-closing bus door!" ... Hello, Dolly! marked its 1,000 performance last week ... Flag Day

June 14th is Flag Day, a time when our Stars and Stripes mean everything to everyone, brave, honorable, decent, great and small men in every level of our society have an equal share in that banner.

On June 14th, 1777, wrangling ceased, a vote was taken and 13 stripes and a star for each state was officially adopted as the emblem of our United States. That emblem belongs to all, black or white, Protestant or Jew, farmer or merchant, the underprivileged or the affluent. It has proudly waved over our battle grounds, courts, schools ... wherever men gather in the sincere belief of justice and peace.

Flag Day, June 14, 1966 ... let the proud banner float from your home. Display it in pride!

Romney Picks Pulled Back

LANSING (AP)—Three gubernatorial appointees rejected by the Senate Thursday were reconsidered Friday and withdrawn by Gov. George Romney.

Two are expected to be confirmed later and the third will continue to serve until Romney names a successor.

The two are State Fair Board members Alfred Glynn Jr. of Grosse Pointe Shores and Richard McManus of Orchard Lake. Democrats charged them with using political influence in State Fair activities.

The third man is William Hague of Ecorse, a member of the Michigan Employment Security Appeal Board, a full-time position. Democrats objected to his also working part-time as Ecorse city attorney.

Romney is not expected to re-submit his name.

Royal Oak Twp. Policeman Fired Over Past Crime

DETROIT (AP)—A suburban Royal Oak Township policeman was fired Friday by township officials who said he had concealed a criminal record when appointed to the force last January.

Township Police Commissioner Howard L. Bibb said Patrolman Sylvester Copeland concealed that he had been sentenced to a four-to-eight-year prison term in New York in 1958 for robbery and assault.

Bibb said Copeland, 29, served 3½ years of the sentence before he was paroled in 1961 and returned to the Detroit area, and that his record also shows he was convicted and fined for larceny in Ferndale in 1955.

The record came to light when Copeland was fingerprinted in a routine Detroit police investigation after he complained Friday of being robbed by three men who, he said, fled in his car.

Graham Picks 250,000 in Attendance

LONDON (AP)—Officials of Billy Graham's London crusade expressed hope today that cumulative attendance at the nightly meetings will reach a quarter of a million by the middle of next week.

A total of 18,056 persons jammed the Earl's Court Arena last night to hear the North Carolinian preach on "The problems of the home."

The crowd brought to 173,431 the number of persons who have gone to see and hear Graham since his crusade began here June 1.

Crusade officials said 570 persons "made decisions for Christ" last night, bringing to 6,375 the number to "come forward" so far.

Special guests in the audience were about 80 Tennesseans, followers of Graham, who breakfasted with him yesterday. The group was led by Peter Gunn of Nashville.

NECESSARY FACTOR
During his message last night, Graham said, "Love is the necessary factor" for happiness in the home, adding that, "God must be the head of the home."

Tonight, Graham will preach on: "Why I believe Christ to be the son of God."
