Eisenhower to Outline
Program With Specific
Short Messages

WASHINGTON (AP)—
Congress reconvenes today
in the political atmosphere
of a campaign year.

And President Eisenhower is marshaling his administration in a drive to bolster peace and prosperity.

The two houses, meeting
at noon, scheduled only routine formalities, including the swearing in of six members to fill vacancies
caused by deaths and resignations.

There was the possibility
they would adjourn quickly
out of respect to Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, who died Sept. 8 when Congress
was not in session.

The first session of this 83rd
Congress adjourned the night of Aug. 3.

Tomorrow President Eisenhower goes before a joint session with the State of the Union message outlining his program for the year.

Republican congressional leaders predicted he will emphasize that his administration is taking the initiative in far-flung activities for national security.

The President will be speaking to a closely divided Congress, in which Democrats have one more senator than the Republicans and only four fewer House members than the GOP.

Behind that mere numerical diversion lies a growing Democratic unity heightened by GOP attacks and the approach of the November congressional elections.

Such unity could spell trouble for some of the Eisenhower domestic proposals but seems unlikely to produce any major challenge to his foreign policies which may face more opposition within GOP ranks.

One Democratic senator, who didn't want to be quoted by name,
said a White House briefing of congressional leaders yesterday produced no indication of any "fundamental change" in foreign policies.

Eisenhower was said to be preparing to pledge further strengthening of the free world's defenses, coupled with attempts to get Russia to agree to drop its

Death Takes Famed Desert Prospector

DEATH VALLEY CASTLE—Above is a view of the fabulous mansion in California's Death Valley where Walter Scott, 81-year-old Death Valley Scotty, died last night. The $2,000,000 castle has been a tourist attraction for many years.

Death Valley Scotty Dies in Fabulous Desert Castle

DEATH VALLEY, Calif. (INS)—Death Valley Scotty,
one of the most famous of the West's two-fisted, hard-drinking, hard-spending characters, died last night in his $2,000,000 castle perched high above the valley wasteland that gave him his name.

Scotty, who was born Walter Scott 81 years ago in Cynthiana, Ky., had been ill for some time from a circulatory ailment and his physician, Dr. E. B. Wallace had been summoned from Las Vegas, Nev., yesterday.

The news of Scotty's death was carried by messenger 27 miles from the desert tourist attraction to the nearest telephone. The fabulous, Spanish-Moorish castle had neither radio nor telephone.

For years the source of Scotty's wealth was the subject of a much-publicized mystery. But to his death he kept the secret of his riches to himself.

GOP Businessman Leads in 27th Area

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Republican
John Minnema, Traverse City
businessman, held a commanding lead today and apparently was elected in the race for state senator from the seven-county 27th District.

With 92 of 112 precincts unofficially reported from Tuesday's special election, Minnema was out in front of his Democratic opponent, Raymond Murphy of East Jordan, 5,183 to 2,729 for the seat
left vacant by the death of Felix
H. H. Flynn of Cadillac.

Murphy apparently had carried only one county, Alcona, where he polled 600 votes to Minnema's 447
with all 15 precincts reported.

Hopes for Son's Return From Korea Grow Dim

The hopes of Isador and Leocadia Memmer of 2030 E.
12-Mile Rd., Royal Oak, that their son, Donald E., 24, would return alive from Korea faded today.

Sgt. Memmer's name was among those of 34 other Michigan soldiers listed as "presumed dead" by the Army.

The Army said today the men previously were listed as missing, but were relisted "in view of the lapse of time without information to support a continued presumption of survival."

Sgt. Memmer was reported missing in action on April 22, 1951, only two days before he was scheduled to return to the United States.

"He wrote me the day before he disappeared," Mrs. Memmer said, "and told me he was expecting to join a big push just north of Seoul. We never heard from him again."

"I know that if he were still alive he'd get word to me some-
how. He wrote me every other day since he joined the Army
in March of 1948."

Sgt. Memmer disappeared while serving with Co. B, of the 555th Field Artillery Battalion.

He was graduated from Royal Oak High School in January 1948
and was sent to Japan in September 1949. A year later he was sent to Korea and was reported missing in action eight months later.

Besides his parents, Sgt. Mem-mer is survived by two brothers,

Two Arrested; Thefts Admitted

Taking 15 Cars

Two youths sought since 1952 told Pontiac Police today they stole 15 autos and broke into at least 25 business establishments and homes in Michigan and other states during the past year.

The pair, Herbert Lentz, 17, of 4635 Franklin Rd., and John W.
Schram, 17, of 35 Lorraine Ct., were arrested yesterday on auto
theft charges.

Sgt. Albert W. Foster Sr., head of the auto theft bureau, said Lentz and Schram admitted taking 11 cars in Oakland County and four outside of Michigan.

Detective John DePauw, questioning the pair in connection with breakins, said the youths probably stole about $3,000 worth of articles in the thefts.

Schram, according to DePauw,
said he broke into a cottage owned by the superintendent of the Oakland County Children's Home while on a weekend pass from the home.

Sgt. Foster said that warrants, thefts, were obtained a year ago,
when evidence was found in two abandoned cars which revealed
the identity of both youths.

Yesterday's arrest followed an anonymous telephone tip. Foster said the caller related that Schram would be found in a home on Oakland ave. When police arrived they found Lentz with Schram.

ROKs Warned Not to Attack Indian Guards

Taylor States Bluntly
Complaint on PW Count
Is Groundless

SEOUL (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor today warned the Republic of Korea that his 8th Army would permit
no South Korean attack on Indian forces guarding prisoners of war at Panmunjom.

In a blunt two-paragraph statement, Taylor labeled as "groundless" South Korea's claim that Indian counting of anti-Communist prisoners is illegal.

"The United Nations Command
has invited the attention of the Republic of Korea to the groundless nature of the allegation of the Republic of Korea against the custodian force India and has made clear its intention to discharge full responsibilities under paragraph six, terms of reference for the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission."

These terms require the U. N.
Command to guarantee the safety of Indian troops and the prisoners of war from any intrusion by irregular armed forces.

Taylor said the UNC has noted
a recent statement to the press
made by a "high official of the ROK government to the effect that the Republic of Korea is contemplating the use of armed forces against the custodian force India in the demilitarized zone because the custodian force India has allegedly violated the armistice by checking the rosters of the prisoners."

Taylor referred to a press conference statement yesterday by ROK Foreign Minister Pyun Yung
Tai bitterly denouncing the POW head count.

Pyun said later, however, that President Syngman Rhee's government plans no action to release the prisoners by force.

The Indians last Thursday counted 4,384 Chinese prisoners in the anti-Communist South Camp and during the process 135 asked for repatriation to Red China.

City to Close Fiscal Year Showing $200,000 Surplus

Pontiac will close the 1953 fiscal year with a budget surplus of about $200,000, nearly the same amount as that left over from 1952 operations.

City Manager Walter K. Willman made the estimate in a summary of 1953 progress made to Pontiac City Commission last night.

(The fiscal year closes Dec. 31, but final figures will not be available until later this month.)

"Within the limits of the city's ability to pay," said Willman, "a well-balanced and progressive program has been carried on during the past year."

"Our sales tax collections have been excellent, and returns, particularly in sales tax and gasoline and weight taxes have substantially exceeded the 1952 figure."

During 1953 the commission adopted 32 ordinances,
adjusted election precincts
by adding nine precincts, confirmed 116 special assessment rolls and held 53
commission meetings, said Willman.

"The new city hall is approximately 35 per cent complete," Willman stated. "The expanded sewage plant is now in service.
Two bridges are under contract.
The 1953 paving program, including both blacktop and concrete, is complete."

"Sewers of all types are still under construction and will continue to be constructed through the winter. The county's interest in the City-County Market property has been purchased and the market is now equipped as a parking garage."

"The Douglas and Bowen properties on Parke and Pike streets have been purchased to further the city's off-street parking plans.
Cooperative planning has progressed with the State Highway Department toward the Cass Avenue extension and certain grade separations within the city limits
is under discussion."

Dondero Urges Highway Funds

Says $1 Billion Slash
in Foreign Aid Would Finance Roads

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Rep.
George A. Dondero (R-Mich.) proposed Tuesday that the government "reduce foreign aid a billion dollars and spend it on the highways of the United States."

Dondero said the one big highway problem facing the country is how to get more money for maintaining old roads and building new ones.

Dondero, chairman of the House Committee on Public Works, gave his views on highway financing in a speech to the annual convention of the American Road Builders Assn.

The congressman said over "ten million motor vehicles are now operating on our streets and highways" and are traveling a "half trillion miles per year."

"Our difficult problem today is not in the production of the world's finest cars, but the inability of public officials to provide adequate facilities on which to operate them."

"Let's stop sending our excise tax money to foreign countries and use it to build roads and for other worthy purposes here at home."

Two Men in Custody,
Another Serving Time
in U. S. Prison

DETROIT (AP)—Authorities, bringing criminal charges against four men,
announced a "solution"
early today to the attempted assassination of Walter Reuther, CIO United Auto
Workers president, in 1948.

"This is the solution, but it may go farther," Wayne County Detroit Prosecutor
Gerald K. O'Brien said.

Two of the accused men were in custody. One was sought and another is reported an inmate of a federal penitentiary.

O'Brien and City Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard together made the announcement of the arrests and charges.

Two of the accused men were identified as Carl Renda and his father-in-law, Santo Sam Perrone, both witnesses before the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigating Committee here.

Renda was in custody at police headquarters. Perrone was sought.
Also named in the charges were Peter Lombardo, described as an inmate of the penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind., and Clarence Jacobs, identified as a Tecumseh, Ont., television shop owner.

Jacobs was in custody in Windsor, Ont.

Prosecutor O'Brien did not give out full details.

However, he said:

"We have evidence as to what actually happened. This is the solution but it may go farther.
There may be other involvements."

Warrants against the four men contained two criminal counts. One charged assault with intent to murder, another conspiracy to assault with intent to murder.

The attempted killing of Reuther—and the attempt also on the life of his brother Victor a little more than a year later—defied years of investigation.

Each was shot at his home by an assassin who fired a shotgun through the window.

Whether it was the same man
on both occasions police could never say.

Reuther was shot April 20, 1948.
Victor was shot May 24, 1949. Walter lost part of the use of an arm as a result. Victor was blinded in one eye.

At the time Walter blamed
"Communists, management or a crackpot." Nothing came out of investigations to support any theory.

Today's police announcement came as a surprise to union officials.

Frank Winn, the union's public relations officer, said he had had no advance word of it.

Walter Reuther was in Atlantic City, N. J.

In 1950 a minor unionist, Carl

Birmingham Users Justify City's Selection as Second to Get Toll Dialing System

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. officials certainly knew which city to pick as the second city in the nation to receive coast-to-coast toll dialing service.

The selection was partially due to the amount of usage the equipment would receive, and Birmingham residents have been living up to expectations, according to local Bell Manager Albert H. Warner.

"We're averaging 190 calls a day through our nationwide toll calling system, with much higher usage during the recent holiday season," Warner stated.

On Nov. 20, 1933, Birmingham telephone users became able to dial directly, without an operator.

some 13 million telephones in 14 metropolitan areas across the country.

"The new service seems to be going well, and usage is up to what we expected," Warner added. He said the toll dialing only handled calls to specific numbers, and that person-to-person long distance calls, and calls without telephone numbers were still being handled by operators.

Boyd I. Walker of the Detroit YMCA Counseling Service, will give his third in a series of six talks on "Preparation for Marriage" at 8 tonight at the local Y.

As a special feature, the Women's Club of Our Shepherd Lutheran Church will see the film "Unto One of These" tonight at 8. The movie deals with the Lutheran Children's Friend Society of Michigan.

Birmingham Business Women's Club will meet tomorrow at the Community House for a 6:30 p.m. dinner with business meeting to follow.

"Many residents erroneously seem to think there is going to be a general assessment against residence owners for any off-street parking solution we arrive at," City Commissioner Vincent Watkins said this week.

"I think we should make it clear that this is not the case at the next public meeting on parking," he added.

A Forget-Me-Not luncheon will highlight tomorrow's meeting of the Women's Mission Union of the Methodist Church. Served by the Naomi Circle at 12:45 p.m., it will feature Forget-Me-Not place cards with the name and address of a foreign missionary for the recipient to correspond with.

The purchase of two police cars, a suburban truck and a tractor were approved by the City Commission this week.

"We might consider ventilation other than opening a window," Watkins stated. "It gets pretty thick in here sometimes."

Acting against Commissioner James Allen, a recent father who contributed to the problem last week with cigars, is not contemplated.

1 Man Acquitted in Reuther Case

Carl Bolton Was Tried of Assassination Count, Freed Feb. 25, 1930

New evidence linking four Detroit area men with the attempted assassination of Walter P. Reuther in 1948 brings to mind the trial and acquittal of another man charged with the same crime.

He is Carl E. Bolton of Highland Park, serving a 10 to 15-year prison term for breaking into a Pontiac co-op.

Bolton was acquitted of the Reuther shooting by a recorders court jury in Detroit on Feb. 25, 1930.

Nine months earlier, Bolton and two companions, Frank Skaaba and Clifford Thonen of Rittman, Ohio, were found guilty of breaking and entering at the Pontiac Consumers Co-operative store at 489 Madison Ave. in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The case against Bolton in the Reuther shooting was based on a chain of circumstantial evidence, which collapsed when it failed to place him at the scene of the crime.

Reuther testified that he and Bolton, a minor union official, often had differed on policy.

The state's chief witnesses were John Koldeziwski and John Pantella, both associates of the defendant, also serving prison terms for robbery.

They testified that Bolton offered them $15,000 to "kill a dirty, red-headed Communist" a few days before the shooting.

The name of at least one of the men accused of the assassination plot is familiar to Oakland County residents.

The suspect, Sam Perrone, Detroit scrap iron dealer, was questioned in connection with the slaying of Lydia Thompson in 1945.

After Mrs. Thompson's brutally slashed body was found in a wooded section of White Lake Township, investigators discovered a note apparently in her writing.

It said, "If anything happens to me, see Sam Perrone."

Perrone denied that he knew Mrs. Thompson, and said he never had any dealing with her or knew anything about the crime. He was released by investigators.

aggressive tactics and to join in peaceful development of atomic energy.

On the home front, the President apparently intends to deal tomorrow only in broad objectives, getting down to cases later in messages on specific subjects.

In one of these, due Monday, congressional sources said the President will recommend a far program combining flexible price supports with a move to freeze part of existing farm surpluses in a national defense stockpile.

This can be expected to anger some Democratic and Republican supporters of rigid high-level supports which Congress has favored for the last five years.

Controversy is almost certain, too, over a message on Taft-Hartley labor relations act changes, scheduled the same day.

50 Cents Plenty for Starlet

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK (UP)—A new movie star named Elsbeth Sigmund popped a grape into her mouth and rubbed her fleece-lined shoes together while she pondered what she wanted to do that afternoon.

As an actress she had new opportunities. She was getting the celebrity treatment — TV appearances, opening nights, formal greetings to the city's new mayor from her own country.

Her 50 cents weekly allowance was clear profit now. Somebody always was on hand in her luxurious hotel suite to pay for the apples or balloons she occasionally requested.

"A ride on a subway!" Elsbeth finally exclaimed after careful thought.

Her constant companion, 10-year-old Thomas Klamath, lunged after a piece of banana that broke away from the limp peel in his hand. It bounced on the gray carpet at Elsbeth's feet, and she gently nudged it with her toe before she picked it up and handed it back to Thomas. He ate it quickly and silently.

"They like fruit better than any other food here," explained a man assigned to look after the pair when they arrived with their mothers from Switzerland last week.

Elsbeth, 11, plays the title role in "Heidi," a part once taken by Shirley Temple in a Hollywood version of the famous story. Thomas plays the role of the mountain boy, Peter.

Both were discovered in their Swiss classrooms by the movie's director and picked for the parts without any training.

"Being in the movies is too strict," said Elsbeth, a beautiful youngster with peaches and cream complexion and stubby black braids. "School is better."

She speaks only German. The movie, which is being released in this country by United Artists, will have English subtitles.

She never heard of Shirley Temple, since Swiss children are not allowed to go to many movies, and she would be interested in going to Hollywood only if she could sail there on an ocean liner.

"I like ocean liners best of everything," she explained, edging toward the door into the bedroom of her suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Until Elsbeth was discovered in her village, where her father is a bookkeeper, she spent most of her time playing soccer with the boys, skiing and mountain climbing.

A red balloon shot into the room from the doorway, followed closely by Elsbeth, who aimed her heavy shoe carefully and kicked the balloon to the opposite wall.

"Maybe we should take her on a subway ride," one of her temporary male guardians muttered uneasily. Elsbeth's brown eyes sparkled with excitement.

Womanlike, she sensed she had gotten her own way, even before the words were translated into her own language.

Korean Veteran's Girl Won't Resume Their Romance Until He Goes to Work

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD
"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 19 and I've been to Korea and a few other places and I've met a lot of girls. But last summer I came home and fell in love with a girl who was staying near my house. When September came she went back to her own home to school. Before I went in the Army I had a good job—but now I can't get one."

"We were going to get married at Christmas, but she called it all off because I didn't have a job. Now she won't even write to me."

"I can't eat, sleep or do anything. I've tried to get in touch with her but all she says is 'get a job.' What should I do?"
The obvious answer is to get a job if you expect to persuade this girl you love to marry you. She's not likely to jump off into space. She'll agree to marriage only when she considers the economic omies of the deal adequate for a start and promising better things. And you leave it to me to guess why you can't get a job. There are jobs to be had—if not in your home town, in a dozen other towns. If there's no special reason why you should stick close to your family, why not strike out on your own in a strange place?"

What happened to your priority with the company you used to work for? Did they make any commitments when you went into the Army? And have you been back to see what are the chances for you?

And have you conferred with your local Veterans Bureau to see what they have to suggest? Have you investigated local or nearby civil service opportunities?

I can't believe physical disability can be the real reason for your unemployment. Your girl would have been very cautious about furthering the romance to the point of making plans for a wedding if she felt you weren't well enough to support your marriage.

It would seem, therefore, that if there's no gold in the hills that surround you now—betake yourself to some other hills. Then you'll have the news for your girl that she wants to hear.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I went with Ted for a while, then decided I didn't like him any more and started going with Hal. Ted kept on liking me and asking me to go out with him, but I always said no."

"Now I've stopped going with Hal and want to go with Ted again. I've dropped him a few hints, but he keeps telling me he's broke."

"I told him he doesn't need money to call me up since he calls from his house anyway. He hasn't called me yet, and I'm afraid to mention it to him again. So what can I do?"

You've done enough, it would seem, and you've heard the answer to your hints. Ted just doesn't want to start forging links in a chain he can't use.

Calling you up won't keep you satisfied for long, and he knows it. You'll want dates and he's broke. He's made it clear that he can't afford a girl at the moment. But keep hoping he'll be in the chips again sometime and will think he can afford to call you up.

Tip for Laundress

Brushing heavily soiled garments and linens with thick soapsuds before laundering usually is a safer practice than regular bleaching.

Top Dessert Is Delicious Apple Bake

Mrs. Shelton Says Straw Hat Pudding Simple and Good

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Now that the Christmas cookies, the mince pie, the plum pudding and the other holiday sweets are things of the past, simple desserts are again the order of the day.

Mrs. Bud Shelton contributed this recipe for a good family dessert, Straw Hat Apple Pudding.

Mrs. Shelton enjoys membership in the Opt-Mrs. Club and in the Zeta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. She likes sewing and makes her own clothes.

STRAW HAT APPLE PUDDING

By Mrs. Bud Shelton

4 pared apples
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons water
4 teaspoons melted fat
1 cup quick cooking oatmeal
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg (optional)
1/2 cup nut meats
1 teaspoon lemon rind

Cook apples with 1/2 cup sugar and 2 tablespoons water for 5 to 10 minutes. Then put apples in baking dish.

Mix together the oatmeal, brown sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, nut meats and lemon rind and pour the melted fat over it. Mix together well and spread on top of apples and place in oven. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

Make a Jumper

If you are tired of a dress but feel its material is too good to discard, you might convert it to a jumper. Remove sleeves, collar and trimmings; deepen neckline and make shoulders narrower.

Stop Chipping Polish

Nail polish is less likely to chip if you allow plenty of time between coats and if you do not submerge your hands in water for a few hours after finishing.

Try it before you buy it

Be Your Child's Strong Ally When Faced With Destructive Criticism

Asks Couple to Give Up Cafe Table

Woman's Behavior Is Embarrassing to Her Husband

By EMILY POST

A reader explains: "My husband and I went to a restaurant for dinner last evening. It was a rather small restaurant with no headwaiter to show us to a table. When we arrived, all the tables were taken and we had to wait.

"After waiting 20 minutes, I noticed that one couple had finished dinner but was just sitting, smoking and talking. I went over to the table and said that we had been waiting a long time for a table and that if they had finished eating, we would very much like their table. They left promptly.

"When we sat down, my husband told me in no uncertain terms that I had no right to speak as I did and that I had embarrassed him. Was I out of order in making such a request?"

Answer: It was unusual, but considering that there was no headwaiter to hint to the couple that they were keeping you waiting, and if you spoke in a quiet tone of voice, and briefly, as you report, I do not think you were very far "out of order."

Dear Mrs. Post: My fiancée has recently broken our engagement. She has returned the engagement ring to me, but has not returned any of the letters I had written to her.

As they are rather personal, I would like very much to have them returned. Would it be proper to write and ask her to return them?

Answer: Certainly, you may write and ask her for them if you want them very much—if you have returned any letters she had written to you.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have just received an invitation to a cocktail

Here's a lovely negligee—perfect for your trousseau—perfect to own. This waltz-length gown has jester collar and cuffs. Of nylon tricot, it comes in white, blue or pink.

party. It is written on one of those fold-over cards, which I believe are called "informals," and asks for a reply. Will you please tell me the proper way to reply to such an invitation?

Answer: Write on your own visiting card, "Accept with pleasure," or "Regret unable to accept" and the date.

His Battle Should Be Yours, Too

Instead of Spanking Youngster, Protect His Interests

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Buddy's 6. His sister's three years younger. At home they get along fairly well; but take them to visit Grandma — and a demon takes Buddy over.

You can't leave him with Sister for a second. Spank him for pushing her off the piano bench — and five minutes later he's back with new torments.

His mother dreads visits to her family, for Grandma and Aunt Clare are very critical. She writes, "They say I've made Buddy into a sneaky bully and that I've failed to train him properly."

So then we have two people in disgrace with the family. They don't approve of Buddy the bully, or his mother, the weakling. So what about these two fellow victims of destructive criticism getting together, instead of one spanking and fighting the other?

Who gets the approval in Grandma's house? Sister?

Not that this is important. What's important is that just as we don't take a stroll among cobras without a tube of anti-venom in our pocket, we don't go visiting destructive criticism without making some protective arrangements.

Just because Aunt Clare admires our new hat, we don't forget what we're up against.

Instead of being fascinated by her complaint, we ask Buddy to help us remove Sister's gossamer. Instead of entering into gossip chit-chat, we make chances for Buddy to demonstrate his helpfulness to us.

We don't allow our attention to be lured away from the protective job in hand through talk that excludes him. So when Aunt Clare wants to engage us in discussion of some new movie, we say, "I must see it. How about a game of Chinese checkers with me and Buddy?"

If by the end of our visit, we have shown consistent loyalty to our small ally against destructive criticism, we will not only have disproved it for him, but proved strength and wisdom for ourselves as well.

The trouble in these situations is our dream of perfect love from our relatives. Like Aunt Clare, they do not always give us perfect love, but sometimes enjoy watching us flounder in confusion and embarrassment.

When we meet this kind of joy in them, we have to be as firm with it as we would with anyone else's need to inflate themselves at our expense.

Just because we grew up with Aunt Clare, we don't have to trust the hatefulness behind her destructive criticism. If she were really interested in helping us, she'd find another technique than calling us "sneaks" and "failures."

So let's see that Buddy's battle is ours, too. Instead of spanking our fellow victim of hateful expectations, let's support him in the work of rejecting them for us, both.

If we're in trouble, it's because we've let destructive criticism separate us from him.

It's easy for people to be stupid today because there's so much to be ignorant about.

College Education Is Not a Necessity for Success in Most Secretarial Work

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Is a college degree, or some college training, absolutely necessary for the secretary who wants to get ahead?

That question appears regularly in my mail. Sometimes it is from a girl who could not afford to go to college and is afraid the cards will be stacked against her.

Sometimes it is from a woman who complains bitterly of "prejudice," and has been using her lack of college as a perpetual alibi for remaining in a lowly stenographic pool at a low salary, year after year.

And yet, my experience has been that plenty of secretaries reach the top without any college degree.

In the first place, a degree is usually necessary in a specialized field like chemistry, economics, export or journalism.

The girl who enters one of those fields in a secretarial capacity will be pretty much expected to have a degree.

But in business generally, and in less specialized fields, it is not always necessary.

More often than not, when the employer specifies "college," what he really means is a type of girl who is well-mannered, who dresses in good taste, and whose diction is good.

He means, in short, someone who will not chew gum and who will not say, "Yerr-I-know," and who will be on her toes, with an open mind and a capacity for learning.

All of us know that these things are not automatically guaranteed by a college education.

Many, many girls who never got beyond high school have developed this capacity for learning, this excellent diction, and these good manners.

So—if you have been using your lack of college as an excuse for not advancing, better stop it this minute and get to work.

Check with your local YWCA, or your nearest university, and see if you can take a dictation course. And see if there aren't any evening courses which will open your mind to new horizons, intellectually.

Brush up your manners, in business as well as at home.

One excellent little booklet is called "Keys to Etiquette for the Business Girl," and is very inexpensive. It is written by Marilyn French, a successful executive who started as a secretary, and who knows all the ropes.

It handles every situation that you can think of, and shows you the simple, gracious way to cope with it.

Clean Clothespins

Don't let soiled clothespins mark your linens or garments. Wash them occasionally in soapy warm water; scrub with stiff brush. Rub in ammonia water. Dry in sun.

Ancient Europeans considered the mistletoe a magical medicine.

Laniel Facing Authority Test

Seeks Vote of Support Before Big 4 Meeting in Berlin

PARIS (AP)—Premier Joseph Laniel faced the National Assembly today in an effort to pull his crumbling majority together for a vote of support in advance of the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Berlin.

He was expected to win grudging approval—not for love of Laniel but to assure France of having a foreign minister present when the talks open on Jan. 25. Even some of Laniel's bitter enemies want France to speak up with some show of authority in Berlin.

The test comes on a statement of general policy by Laniel stressing domestic affairs, followed by a demand that debate be cut off. Laniel planned to tell the special Assembly session that if he is defeated or gets a weak majority on his demand to pigeonhole debate, he will resign. By this device he avoids a 24-hour postponement required when a formal confidence vote is posed.

Adjournments and explanations by the deputies of their views on postponing debate were expected to put off the vote until late tonight.

Normally the question of support for the government would not come up until after the installation of President-elect Rene Coty Jan. 16. Tradition requires the Cabinet to resign then. But Laniel, realizing he was on shaky ground, told outgoing President Vincent Auriol last week he wanted to quit at once. Auriol and Coty conferred and asked Laniel to remain in office. This gave Laniel the excuse to seek an immediate expression of confidence from the Assembly.

With the Berlin conference only three weeks away, most of the deputies realized it would be an extremely risky business to plunge France into a new crisis. It took 37 days to end the last one.

Many of the deputies are getting jittery as the time approaches for a showdown on ratification of the European Defense Community Treaty. Some proponents believe that delay is favoring those opposed to EDC. Others who oppose EDC believe they can defeat it now and are against further postponement.

Expect Delivery Within 1 Week

Complete Organization of New Force Expected by Mid January

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Two-way radio equipment for Waterford Township's new police force is expected to arrive in about a week, according to Chief Frank Van Atta.

At present the new force, which has been in operation since Saturday, is using telephones to communicate with the station.

Routine police work is being conducted throughout the township, Van Atta said, and complete organization is expected within the next two weeks.

The force, which was set up late in 1953 by the Township Board, is comprised of five experienced officers drawn from Oakland County police agencies.

Chief Van Atta was in Detroit today checking on delivery of uniforms. They will be ordered grey with red trim and each officer will have an Eisenhower-style jacket and mackinaw.

Although the force is conducting routine police work, officers report that Oakland County Sheriff's deputies are handling all accident reports and other major mishaps.

Such reports will be handled by the new forces as soon as radio equipment is installed. About a week will be necessary for installation once the equipment arrives, Van Atta said.

Offices for the new forces are located on the second floor of the Waterford Township Hall on Highland Road. Township offices and Fire Department are also located in the building.

School Enrollment Topic of Discussion

SOMETHING DIFFERENT—Frank K. Golden, 29, wanted "something that couldn't be bought at a store" for his wife this Christmas. So he went to a department store, bought a green, cone-shaped brush, mounted it on a Swiss music box and began decorating it with baubles, hangers and four-colored miniature lights specially imported from Japan at 35 cents apiece. Above, Golden of 3116 Hillside Dr., Milford, points to one of the 22 tiny bulbs. While the tinkling tune of "Silent Night" plays, the tree slowly spins. Golden plans to install a small electric motor in the base so his wife won't have to keep winding up the music box movement.

Air Force Officer Lauds Milford Observer Corps

MILFORD—"Top volunteer post and one of the top few nationally," was the rating given the 115-member Milford Ground Observer Corps unit last night by Col. Albert Tucker of Selfridge Air Force Base.

Speaking at the group's first birthday party, Col. Tucker told why radar is an imperfect detecting device.

Even a heavy (high humidity) air mass will blur radar scanning screens for as much as five miles around the radar equipment, he said.

Birds, valleys, hills and falling rain also make the electronic device go into mechanical tizzies, the colonel stated.

"The need of the Ground Observer Corps is to fill the gap," he declared.

Volunteers learned of the importance of another of their jobs which they looked on as a routine.

Col. Tucker explained that prevailing winds in this part of the state are westerly and that a bad weather report from the Milford Post is given high priority at Selfridge.

The reason is that 22 minutes later the weather change affecting the Milford area is over Mt. Clemens and the air base and there is that much time to get planes out of the sky.

Another speaker at the anniversary celebration was Capt. Robert Tawney, commander of the Southern Michigan Filter Center at Grand Rapids.

Both Air Force officers answered questions of volunteers and guests.

Exports Likely, Grains Look Up

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains moved moderately higher while hard continued its all out race into new high ground on the board of trade today.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to 1/2 cent higher, March 2.08 1/2, corn 1/4 to 1/2 higher, March $1.56, oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, March 79 1/2, rye unchanged to 1/2 lower, March $1.21 1/2, soybeans unchanged to 1/4 higher, January $3.10 and lard 25 to 55 cents a hundred pounds higher, January $18.35.
