Fear Efforts to Avenge Malcolm X

Survives Slide

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP)—Einar Myllyla is partly frozen —but alive.

He lived for 79 hours under an avalanche of snow and crushed buildings at the devastated Granduc mining camp in northwest British Columbia.

A Finnish contruction worker in his 30s, Myllyla is one of 130 miners who survived Thursday's giant slide off Le Duc Glacier near the Canadian-Alaska border. He was pulled from the ruins of a bunkhouse by rescuers yesterday afternoon, then hospitalized at Ketchikan. He was reported partly frozen and in serious condition.

Searchers continued to probe acres of ice and snow on the precarious mountainside for more men. So far 14 bodies have been recovered. At least 13 are missing.

★ ★ ★

Continuing heavy snowfall, darkness and threat of more slides hampered tired rescue crews. The finding of Myllyla renewed hopes that still more might be found alive.

USING HAND TOOLS

Rescuers used hand tools, afraid heavy equipment would trigger another slide as they continued sifting through the devastation around the clock.

Several other miners were dug out alive earlier from under the tons of ice, snow and debris—saved only by pockets of air buried with them. About 40 were rescued Thursday from a tunnel where the miners were boring under the glacier for Granduc's low-grade copper ore.

A bachelor from Winnipeg, Man., Myllyla was saved by an air pocket in the cold, wet darkness.

Doctors here said they are amazed Myllyla could survive for more than three days. He was weak and emaciated. Parts of his arms and legs were frozen, but he had no broken bones.

Romney: Position Firmer After Halting Tax Revolt

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney put his future and that of the state Republican party on the line in a brief speech demanding support for his fiscal reform position at the party convention over the weekend.

Romney demanded and helped bring about defeat of a proposed resolution which called for a referendum before the state could inact an income tax.

The governor said today that he felt the quashing of the revolt strengthened support for his position on tax revision.

"The development clearly threw support behind my efforts to secure tax reforms now," Romney told a news conference. "They show that I have the support of the Republican party. In fact, my position is stronger as a result."

The resolution was proposed by the 14th District, headed by conservative Richard Durant, an old Romney foe.

It appeared to have strong support, but was defeated by a roll call vote after Romney's speech.

★ ★ ★

The speech and a fast maneuver by outgoing State Chairman Arthur Elliott turned back the revolt.

Elliott, replaced at the convention by Mrs. Elly Peterson, held off a storm of protest long enough to ram through a motion to suspend debate on a statewide income tax and bring Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., to the speaker's rostrum.

Murphy's frequently humorous speech, with its bid for party unity, calmed down the embattled delegates and bought time.

GOP Names 7 in County to Committee

Seven Oakland County Republicans were named to the State Central Committee at the GOP State Convention in Lansing yesterday.

Elected to the 76-member committee from the 18th Congressional District were Mrs. James F. Carey, 2691 Binbrooke, Troy, secretary of the district; and Robert Flint, 1577 Island, Bloomfield Hills, 65th Representative District director.

Others were Bartram D. Lewis of Pleasant Ridge, a member of the County GOP Executive Committee; and Alice Schoenholtz of Royal Oak.

Both she and Flint have served on the central committee.

★ ★ ★

Those elected from the 19th Congressional District were Howard Altman, 61 S. Holcomb, Independence Township, township clerk; and John Cartwright, 7119 N. Tratham, West Bloomfield Township, GOP township director.

Mrs. Charles E. Haynes, 33475 Leisure, Farmington Township, past secretary of the County GOP, and Mrs. Marion Donaldson of Redford Township were also named.

Bullets Riddle Ex-Muslim at NY Gathering

Man Is Charged in Slaying; No Report of Black Nationalist Ties

NEW YORK (AP) — Police in New York and Chicago kept wary guard today against any effort to avenge the assassination of Malcolm X, fiery counselor of violence in the Negro civil rights movement.

The rebel Black Muslim, who broke from the parent group to form his own sect, was shot down by conspirators here yesterday as he stepped forward to address a meeting of his followers.

Police seized a young Negro man, wounded in the leg during the disorder caused by the slaying, and charged him with homicide.

The FBI identified the man as Talmadge Hayer, 22, alias Thomas Hayer, whose last known address was in Paterson, N. J.

month feud between Malcolm X and the Black Muslims headed by Elijah Muhammad in Chicago.

NO REPORT

Police, however, did not report any evidence of a link between the assassins and Muhammad's faithful.

In Chicago, special police details were posted outside Muhammad's three-story house and Mosque of Islam No. 2 in the wake of unconfirmed reports that six members of Malcolm's Afro-American Union had departed from New York on separate missions of revenge.

In Harlem, extra uniformed officers walked the streets, on guard against any new violence.

Impasse Confirmed by Romney, Hatcher

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney and University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher confirmed today their impasse over how the state's higher education system should be expanded.

Hatcher told Romney at a 1½-hour meeting that University of Michigan will go ahead with plans to expand its Flint campus to four years this fall and Romney said such basic decisions should be made by a central authority.

The basic question, the governor told newsmen afterward, is who should make decisions of this character — the separate university boards and communities, or the legislature with the advice of the Board of Education, governor and governing boards."

Romney said if Michigan and Flint can implement their program without central authorization, "then there is no reason why Michigan State can't add a medical school or Western Michigan an engineering school or community colleges decide they want to go to four years."

The controversy flared last week when Romney warned the schools to step carefully into expansion or they might find themselves under stricter controls. Hatcher fired back that Michigan was going ahead with its Flint operation.

U. of M. Prof Refuses to Pay '64 Tax

ANN ARBOR, Mich., (AP) — Because "Much of my tax money is going to armaments which threaten the world and provide no security for this country or my family," a University of Michigan professor plans to protest by not paying the balance of his 1964 income tax.

In a letter accompanying his 1964 tax return, Dr. Johan W. Eliot wrote:

"I stand ready to face prison or whatever other penalties may come from this matter, having determined in prayerful counsel with my family that we must take this course together to resist the evil that this great country of ours is doing."

Eliot, an assistant professor in the university's School of Public Health, and his wife, Frances, are the parents of five children.

Eliot, a Quaker, said his decision to protest was made after the recent raids by U.S. planes on North Viet Nam.

He added, however, that "Though the air raids triggered my decision, my protest is not directed solely at the situation in Viet Nam, which is only symptomatic of a foreign policy based on threats."

Car Hits Train; Boy, 4, Dies

A 4-year-old Shelby Township boy was killed early yesterday when the car in which he was riding collided with a New York Central freight train in Avon Township.

Dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was Robert D. Fellows Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Fellows of 52726 Brookfield.

State Police at the Warren Post said the car, driven by the boy's father, hit the second and third cars of the northbound NYC train at Dequindre Road, near Yates Cider Mill, at about 1:45 a.m.

Fellows told police he didn't see the train nor hear its whistle.

The boy's parents and a 3-year-old brother, Alan, were treated and released at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

'Has Agreed to Step Down'

Viet Junta Deals With Khanh

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's new junta negotiated long distance with Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh today as it tried to carry through its ouster of the armed forces chief and get him out of the country.

Three members of the armed forces council were reported back from Dalat where they have been dickering with the former strong man.

There was speculation that they offered Khanh a post abroad to get him to agree to leave South Viet Nam.

Military leaders in Saigon had announced that Khanh had agreed to step down but said later he had asked to meet with a full session of the armed forces council to discuss his future.

One report said Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, impatient with Khanh's stalling, has threatened to drop paratroops in the Dalat area 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

NEW ACTIVITY

New military activity around Saigon Airport kept tension up.

Unconfirmed reports circulated that the "Young Turk" generals who toppled Khanh had already begun squabbling. One report said the 1st Corps commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, and the air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, were contending for power.

The military leaders conferred throughout the night behind barricades at the Saigon airport. The airport was reopened to traffic at dawn, but at noon troops loaded antiaircraft guns around the airport headquarters building and drew up recoilless rifles at entrances to the field, indicating that the crisis was not over.

British to Ease Import Surtax

Announcement Made by Labor Spokesmen

LONDON (AP) — The British government today cut from 15 to 10 per cent its controversial import surcharge, effective April 27.

The announcement was made in the House of Commons by Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan.

A similar announcement was made in Geneva by Economics Minister George Brown to Britain's trading partners in the European Free Trade Assn. (EFTA).

"We have now decided that enough progress is being made to enable us to reduce the charge after it has been in operation for six months," Callaghan said.

★ ★ ★

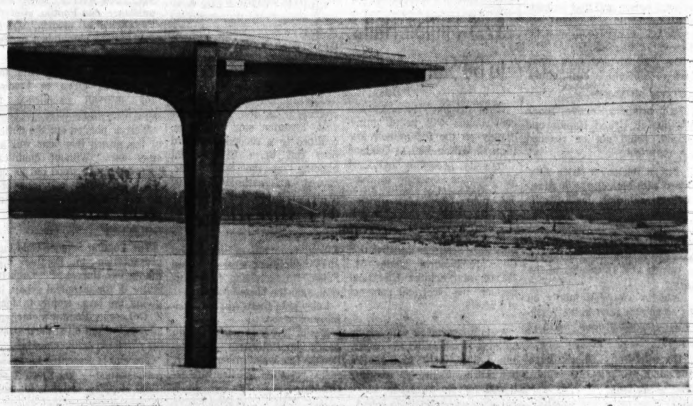
The members of the association — Europe's "outer seven" — have complained about the surcharge, installed by the Labor government last fall to cut imports and reduce the trade deficit.

Edward Heath, Conservative spokesman on financial affairs, asked why the reduction was being delayed until April.

He said it gave a clear indication to importers that if they held up shipments for two months, their duties would be lower — and a rush of imports would follow. The reduction, he said, is "an unhappy compromise."

Pontiac Press Photos

WHERE IS EVERYBODY? — Last July the Press photographer volunteered to go get a "hot weather" shot (above) at the new Stoney Creek Metropolitan Park. He wasn't so eager to return to the same spot last week. We can't imagine why. After all, that cement umbrella is still providing just as much shade. It appears that the Water Wonderland is more popular than the Winter Wonderland. But be of good cheer! Spring is just 27 days away, according to our calendar.



Strain Evident in Detroit Talk to Followers

DETROIT (AP) — The strain of leadership in a controversial cause was evident when Malcolm X spoke to a small, but ardent group of followers in Detroit a week before his death.

The 38-year-old Negro black nationalist leader was shot to death at a rally before 500 of his militant followers in New York yesterday.

The week before he had come to Detroit for a speech at Ford Auditorium. His New York home had been bombed that morning. He salvaged a gray suit for the speech, a rambling address which was a departure from his normally articulate forensic manner.

Before some 400 cheering followers, about 85 per cent Negro, he condemned Negro reliance on nonviolent methods to win their fight for equality.

There was something for the Ku Klux Klan as well.

★ ★ ★

"The Klan goes through the country frightening black people," he said. "Black people are the victims of organized violence from the Klan and white citizens councils. We should defend ourselves. I wouldn't call

Supervisors to Eye Board of Institutions for Facility

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will face a crowded agenda when it convenes at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow for its regular February meeting.

* * *

One of the more important items coming up for board action is the formation of a board of institutions.

Recommended by the ways and means committee, the seven-member board would be responsible for county medical patients. It is authorized by Act 181 of the Public Acts of 1962.

The board has been recommended as a means of operating the county Medical Care Facility as a hospital for both tubercular and nontubercular patients.

* * *

The law under which the county presently operates prohibits such a combined facility.

MEMBERSHIP

The ways and means committee will further recommend that membership of the board include the social welfare board and the trustees of the TB Sanatorium, which has been sold to Oakland Community College.

Creation of the board must be approved by a two-thirds majority of the board of supervisors. The members are then nominated and elected by majority vote.

Also in connection with the transfer of some 75 TB patients into the Medical Care Facility will be a recommendation that a $100,000 remodeling project be authorized to comply with State Health Department regulations for the combined facility.

* * *

A recommendation to award a $39,650 contract for remodeling of the social welfare and bureau of social aid offices to Bundy Construction Co. of Pontiac will also be presented by the ways and means committee.

SEVERAL RECOMMENDATIONS

The county legislative committee is scheduled to make several recommendations to the board regarding the county's 1965 legislative program.

Included will be a request to the State Boating Control Committee for a public hearing on legislation to control the use of alcoholic beverages in boats on Oakland County lakes.

A special committee on traffic safety will recommend that a permanent county traffic safety commission be created to study and make recommendations on the county's traffic problem.

* * *

The County Department of Public Works will present resolutions on a proposed water supply system for Pontiac Township and the establishment of the Wixom and Milford sewage disposal systems as county systems.

State GOP Puts Down Tax Revolt

Elliott said, "and the delegates were getting pretty emotional." The convention started more than an hour late and ran longer than expected. Murphy, the keynote speaker, had been waiting nearly three hours, he added.

NEARLY EQUALLY DIVIDED

Shortly before Murphy's introduction, a voice vote and show of hands showed the convention nearly equally divided over a resolution amendment calling for a statewide referendum before any income tax could be enacted.

After Murphy's and Romney's speeches, the move was voted down, 1,279 to 239.

Although his remarks apparently were not directed to the immediate problem, Murphy warned the Republicans to "stop intramural fighting; It's a luxury we can't afford."

* * *

Warned Romney in his impromptu speech:

"If this amendment is adopted you can kiss goodby to the future of the Republican Party in this state...it would cut the ground right out from under me."

TO DELAY REFORM

Such a decision, he said would delay fiscal reform until after November 1966.

"We would put ourselves in a position of taking the blame for whatever problems may arise as a result of not getting tax reform before 1966," he told the nearly 3,000 delegates and alternates.

Democrats adopted a resolution favoring immediate fiscal reform and an income tax at their state convention in Grand Rapids a week earlier.

* * *

Romney warned that delay of fiscal reform would make the state run the "risk of being plunged right back into the very type of financial difficulty that caused us to lose our reputation in 1958 and 1959."

MOON'S SURFACE — This is one of more than 7,000 pictures of the moon made by spacecraft Ranger 8 and released by Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) in Pasadena, Calif. JPL scientists said the photo was made from an altitude of 151 miles, 2 minutes and 15 seconds before impact.

Moon Explorer May Face Hidden Risks, Photos Show

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The first man on the moon should walk softly and carry a big stick.

So says the head of a scientific team studying more than 7,000 pictures beamed to earth early Saturday in the final 23 minutes before the Ranger 8 spacecraft crashed into the face of the moon.

Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, chief of the five-man analysis team, said the photographic bonanza indicates the lunar surface may be a froth of dust and fragile lava that might hide dangerous tunnels and caverns.

"This could be very tricky and treacherous stuff," said Kuiper, of the University of Arizona. "Many parts of the moon might be hard enough to support considerable weight, but an explorer could not assume that he would be safe everywhere.

LONG POLES

"It may be that the first astronauts would be wise to carry long poles to probe the surface ahead of them to be sure it would hold their weight."

* * *

As with the 4,316 photos relayed last July 31 by Ranger 7, the five men disagreed about what the new, high-quality photos showed, but agreed that they were not surprised.

* * *

The insect-shaped Ranger 8's six television cameras returned sharp close-ups of lunar mountains and plains in the final minutes of its death plunge into the flat, broad, dusty Sea of Tranquillity, 15 miles from its original target. Its impact point was 1,000 miles east of where Ranger 7 crashed in the Mare Cognitum.

Kuiper said he saw evidence that much of the moon's surface is covered with three to six feet of loose, lava-like material, similar to tunnel-coursed, cavern-marked lava areas on Hawaii. He surmised that the material is volcanic overflow, a thin crust of solidified foam.

FOAMY LAVA

But Ewen A. Whitaker, Kuiper's associate at Arizona, said he felt the surface — which he also believes is foamy lava — would hold the weight of soft-landing manned spacecraft.

Dr. Harold Urey of the University of California at La Jolla said the lunar surface may be blanketed by 50 to 60 feet of dust. Several craters of that depth, he said, showed at their bottoms a "whitish button" which may be the moon's solid core beneath the dust.

* * *

Dr. Eugene Shoemaker, another team member, said he doesn't believe pictures can reveal the surface's strength but added that the photos did show the surfaces of the seas where Rangers 7 and 8 crashed to be "substantially the same."

The team will continue studying the giant photographic harvest for months — well beyond the scheduled launching of Ranger 9 in mid-March.

Fear Reprisal for Slaying

week after Malcolm X and his family were driven from their residence in Queens by firebombs.

BEING EVICTED

He was being evicted from the dwelling which was purchased by Black Muslim donations before his break with Muhammad.

For months, Malcolm had spoken of a conspiracy against his life and he reportedly planned to name his assassins at the meeting yesterday.

But the blast from shotguns and pistols cut him down after three words: "Brothers and sisters."

The man who advised Negroes to form rifle clubs to fight the "devil white man" for civil rights, to use "ballots or bullets" apparently was dead before his body hit the floor.

CAUSE OF SPLIT

It was he who had spoken of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy as a case of the "chickens coming home to roost."

The Kennedy remark ostensibly was the cause of the split between Malcolm X and Muhammad.

But many observers believed the cause was Malcolm's desire to seize power and that Muhammad used the "chickens" remark as an excuse to oust his New York lieutenant.

The feud divided even members of Malcolm's own family.

ACTIVE MUSLIMS

Two brothers, active Black Muslims in Grand Rapids and Detroit, could not be reached for comment.

But in Boston, a sister who sided with Malcolm, Ella Mae Collins, said his death "will be avenged."

Leaders of the Black Muslims — which had been accused by Malcolm X of plotting his death — denied any knowledge of the killing.

Malcolm was shot fatally on the stage at a rally in the Washington Heights section, north of Harlem.

His wife, Betty, 35, awaiting the birth of their fifth child, was in the hall.

Malcolm had started to address a gathering of about 500 followers and sympathizers, when a commotion, apparently planned, broke out in the rear of the second-floor ballroom. It drew his bodyguards in the direction of the disorder.

* * *

SHOTGUN

Police Capt. Paul Glaser said Hayer shot Malcolm X with a shortened, double-barreled shotgun. Two pistols also were fired at him.

Hayer and two spectators were wounded in a wild melee that followed.

Hayer, with a pistol wound in a leg, was held in the prison ward of Bellevue Hospital.

* * *

Police said Hayer was shot by Reuben Francis, 33, a Negro identified by police as Malcolm's secretary and bodyguard.

TWO CHARGES

Francis was arrested on charges of felonious assault and illegal possession of a pistol.

$2.5-Million Hall to Be Started at OU

Contracts have been let and construction will begin immediately on the $2.5-million Matilda R. Wilson Hall at Oakland University, according to Robert W. Swanson, director of business affairs at OU.

Two Pontiac firms awarded contracts on the basis of low bids were Schurrer Construction Co., architectural trades, $1,356,000, and Schultz Electrical Service, the electrical contract at $250,470.

* * *

A classroom-office wing of the building is scheduled for use by Jan. 1, 1966, with completion of the entire building set for July 1, 1966.

Blaze Sweeps Apartment of Cassius Clay

CHICAGO (AP) — Fire damaged extensively the apartment of heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay Sunday night a few hours after black nationalist leader Malcolm X was shot to death in New York.

Clay was not in his third floor apartment at the time, police said. Firemen said the blaze, confined to a second and third floor flat in a 30-apartment building on the South Side, caused an estimated $6,000 damage. No one was injured.

* * *

Police and fire department arson squads questioned Carl Elliott, occupant of the second story apartment where William Foley, fifth division fire marshal, said the blaze broke out.

Foley said there was no possibility of arson.

Merlin Nygren, acting deputy police superintendent, said earlier the fire was "arson." Later, police reported the fire was accidental.

Soviet Arms Are en Route

Missiles, Jets Said Going to Hanoi Reds

MOSCOW (UPI) — Diplomatic sources said yesterday Soviet ground-to-air missiles, jet fighter planes and technical advisers are en route to Communist North Viet Nam to defend against any new retaliatory air strikes by the United States.

* * *

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin promised assistance to the Hanoi regime during his trip to Communist Asia earlier this month.

Although dispatch of the military aid could not be officially confirmed, the Kremlin has made it clear that the Soviets will follow through on Kosygin's pledge.

A UPI dispatch from Saigon last Tuesday quoted authoritative sources as saying Soviet ground-to-air missiles had already arrived in the North Viet Nam capital of Hanoi.

The report was based on accounts received from persons who arrived in Saigon from Hanoi.

"'It's your duty and ours to organize ourselves. We only need vigorous action in self-defense."

But, although he was three hours late for the talk, he was given a standing ovation by his followers.

2 OTHER APPEARANCES

Malcolm X had made two other appearances in Detroit.

On April 13, 1964, about a month after his break with Black Muslim leader Elijah Mohammad, he spoke to 3,500 persons at the King Solomon Baptist Church.

He predicted a "hot summer, one in which one spark of violence could sweep the nation."

Birmingham Area News

May Have Decked Lot Ready for Yule Parking

BIRMINGHAM — Shoppers driving to the downtown Birmingham area could be using a decked parking structure during this year's Christmas rush season, according to City Manager R. S. Kenning.

The administrator predicts the structure could be available by Dec. 1 if work proceeds without a snag.

He will recommend to the City Commission tonight that O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates be retained to design the building.

The Birmingham architectural firm, Kenning notes, designed parking structures at the University of Michigan, Wayne State University and Ann Arbor.

* * *

Kenning also will suggest that engineers at McWilliam and Keckonen be engaged as structural consultants.

SUBMIT PROPOSAL

The manager will recommend that the architects be asked to submit a proposal covering the schematic study stage and complete design of a parking structure for lot No. 5, an L-shaped lot fronting on Woodward and Willits.

In designing the structure, the firm is to assume that it will be decked and that future expansion be provided for, although the unit would not necessarily cover the entire lot.

Kenning notes that patrons would park their own cars and that attendants would collect fees.

* * *

The exterior, he said, should be "in keeping with the high standards established for governmental facilities in the community."

JUNE DEADLINE

The architects, if approved by the commission, could begin their work immediately, aiming at a June deadline for letting construction contracts, Kenning said.

His report will be made at an 8 p.m. meeting of the commission.

Marshall M. Fredericks is tired of waiting for the city to do something about a centerpiece.

The Royal Oak sculptor who lives at 440 Lake Park has rescinded his offer to design a memorial swan fountain for Shain Park.

Fredericks announced the end of his plans in a letter which city commissioners will receive tonight.

"Because of the great delays and apparent lack of interest, except for a few dedicated and devoted individuals who have worked untiringly to accomplish this project, I feel that it is best to sever my connection," Fredericks wrote.

* * *

He noted today that his original offer to the city was made almost five years ago.

MATERIAL COST

His services would have been free, but the cost of materials for the proposed sculpture and reflecting pool was estimated at $50,000.

Prior to Birmingham's centennial celebration last year, the City Commission agreed to pay for half the sum if fund raisers could collect another $25,000.

Fredericks said as far as he knew the project never got any further.

* * *

"I hope that eventually a worthy centerpiece can be accomplished," he wrote.

Pension Plan to Be Viewed in Waterford

A revised draft of a proposed pension plan for Waterford Township employes will be presented for consideration of the Waterford Township Board tomorrow night.

The board is meeting tomorrow due to the legal holiday today.

Presenting the pension plan will be the Employes Retirement Committee which has been working on the plan since last fall when provision for a pension program was authorized in the 1965 budget by the township board.

The plan covers all employes except police and fire personnel who already are covered by a pension program.

* * *

When the proposed pension plan is adopted, it will become effective retroactive to last Jan. 1.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business tomorrow night the board will consider a request for transfer of ownership of a beer and wine licensed business and another request for a new beer and wine license.

The ownership transfer is proposed at the Waterford Hotel and a new license is sought for a proposed party store at 3660 Dixie.

Pontiac Line Earns 3 Additional Awards

Pontiac, which recently was named Car of the Year, received three additional trophies preceding the official opening of the 57th Chicago Automobile Show Saturday.

Pontiac officials were presented with the "Best Car of 1965" Award from Motorcade Magazine; the Popular Science Gold Cup for brake performance and a trophy for capturing first in Class II in the recently-concluded Pure Oil performance trials at Daytona.

In presenting the "Best Car of 1965" trophy to E. M. Estes, Pontiac general manager, Don Werner, Motorcade publisher said Pontiac offered "a choice of models, styles and options unmatched in the industry."

Specifically, Werner said, the award was given to Pontiac "for over-all excellence in American automobiles."

Werner pointed out the choice of the award this year was an easy one. "Without qualification, one make stood out as the obvious recipient of our second annual award. The car is Pontiac."

GOLD CUP

The Popular Science Gold Cup presentation to Pontiac was made by Hubert P. Luckett, editor of the technical group. In giving the large trophy to John Z. DeLorean, Pontiac's chief engineer, Luckett cited the division for a "signal achievement."

The cup is presented for brake performance — the shortest official stopping distance for any car at the Pure Oil performance trials.

A Tempest LeMans won this test with a stopping distance of 161.8 feet.

PURE OIL

Hugh Hemingway, research vice president for Pure Oil, presented Estes with the Pure Oil trophy. The award went to a Pontiac Bonneville for winning the Deluxe V8 Class at the Daytona tests.

Following the trophy presentations, Estes told newsmen that Pontiac expects to sell an estimated 800,000 cars this year and achieve a deeper market penetration.

To Close 'Gun Gap' for Marines

Assault Ships Reactivated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy is preparing to pull four rocket-firing ships out of mothballs to help plug a "gun gap" which has been worrying the Marines.

The four vessels — three of them dating back to World War II — each can deliver a "tremendous amount of rocket fire" against shore defenses to soften them up just before U.S. assault troops land, the Navy said.

* * *

In a related action, the Navy will keep on duty the last two heavy gun cruisers, the Newport News and the St. Paul. These ships, mounting eight-inch guns, were scheduled for retirement.

For a long time, Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., the Marine Corps commandant, and Navy amphibious experts have been concerned over a steady attrition in the Navy's lack of fire power to support over-the-beach assaults.

BRIEF MENTION

Buried in Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's annual report to Congress last week was a brief mention that three medium landing ships with rockets — LSMR — and one inshore fire support ship — IFS — would be taken out of the reserve fleet during the coming fiscal year "in order to provide increased ship-to-shore fire power to 'cover' the landing forces during an amphibious assault.

"The requirement for ship-to-shore fire power is still under study and we may recommend at a later time the activation of additional ships from the reserve fleet or the construction of a more efficient landing force support ship," McNamara told the House Armed Services Committee.

* * *

The LSMR's were built during the latter part of World War II, the IFS, one of a kind, is called the Carronad and was built in 1955.

Amplifying on McNamara's statement, the Navy said the addition of these rocket-firing craft to the active fleet "will improve significantly our capability to land assault forces over defended beaches."

ROCKET BARRAGE

The medium landing ships carry 10 automatic rocket launchers, each able to fire 30 five-inch rockets a minute — or a barrage of 300 rockets with high explosive warheads.

In addition to the rocket launchers, the medium landing ships carry mortars, a five-inch gun, 40mm and 20mm antiaircraft guns.

One of them is at San Diego and two are at Mare Island near San Francisco, the Navy said.

The Carronad is somewhat heavier than the medium landing ships and a bit faster. It carries a 15-inch gun and eight rocket throwers which are capable of rapid fire.

Councilman Named Citizen of the Year

ROCHESTER — Roy Rewold, the youngest village president Rochester ever had and now in his seventh year on the Village Council, was named this municipality's "Citizen of the Year" Saturday night at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner-dance.

Rewold, taken completely by surprise as his selection for the annual award was announced, is active in many aspects of community life.

He served as village president in 1962-63 after being elected to the council in 1959.

The 36-year-old assistant fire chief is a member of the Rochester Elks and Lions clubs and has worked every year on the Christmas Parade.

Rewold is a vice president in the firm of Frank Rewold & Son, Inc., builder of many of the village's major structures, such as the library and municipal building.

11 YEARS

Frank Rewold, his father, served for 11 years himself on the council. There has been a Rewold on the council every year since 1948.

Rewold was presented the "Citizen of the Year" plaque by dinner toastmaster Jack Taylor, vice president of the National Bank of Detroit in charge of the Rochester office.

The councilman said "I feel it's quite an honor—I guess everyone knew it but me," after receiving the award.

He and his wife, Beverly, live at 312 Glendale with their four children.

NEW OFFICERS

Taylor also introduced new chamber officers, including Robert Shueller, president; Neil Hartwig, vice president; Don Foss, treasurer; and Mrs. John C. Levick, secretary.

Outgoing President William W. Toussaint was lauded by Taylor for his past year's performance at the head of the chamber.

Elly Will Donate Part of Salary to Cut GOP Deficit

LANSING (AP) — Mrs. Elly Peterson, starting her term as Michigan's first woman state Republican party chairman has pledged $6,000 of her first year's salary to help get the Republican Party out of debt.

Mrs. Peterson, the wife of an Army colonel and a resident of Charlotte, Mich., promised to apply that much of her $21,000 salary to help cut the GOP's deficit of more than $250,000.

She had been Gov. George Romney' s personal choice to succeed Arthur G. Elliott Jr. who retired from the post.

Teamsters to Ignore Union Picket Line

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Members of the Teamsters Union no longer will respect the picket lines of the United Packinghouse, Food and Allied Workers Union, James R. Hoffa, Teamsters president, said Sunday.

Hoffa told a meeting of workers from the Peter Eckrich and Sons, Inc., plant here that the policy was the result of a "blatant organizing raid" by the Packinghouse union.

Usher Society Elects Officers in Orion Twp.

ORION TOWNSHIP—Thomas Hunt of 553 Bagley, Lake Orion, has been elected president of the newly formed Usher Society of St. Joseph Church.

Other officers chosen at a recent dinner meeting include Robert Green of 2544 Semloh, Orion Township, vice president; William Middleton of 2776 Stoney Creek, Oakland Township, secretary; and Edward Podzikowski of 820 N. Baldwin, Oxford Township, treasurer.

The dinner was given by the pastor, the Very Rev. Msgr. Arthur M. Karey in appreciation of the work done by the men of the St. Joseph parish since Msgr. Karey became pastor in October 1964.

W. Bloomfield to Weigh 'Block Plan' for Builders

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A proposed amendment to the township's multiple-residence zoning code and a request for rezoning to that classification will be considered at tomorrow night's planning commission meeting.

The amendment being weighed by commissioners would encourage "block plan" development by alleviating the need to build each building on a separate lot.

It would regulate the required parking areas and side yards and stipulate that each building be no longer than 125 feet.

Developers then could stagger buildings rather than string them out in a line, according to planners.

All of the buildings on a parcel would be considered as one for the purpose of computing yard requirements.

REZONING REQUEST

Also to be aired by planning commissioners tomorrow night is a rezoning request for 18.13 acres of property on the west side of Orchard Lake Road.

The property is just north of the Township Hall, separated from it by two houses.

Herman Ross of Detroit is seeking to have the classification of the property changed from general commercial and parking to multiple residential and limited commercial.

Ross plans to build a complex of some 130 units and enough small shops to accommodate residents of the development.

Consideration of the amendment and the rezoning were tabled last month pending the outcome of a hearing on another multiple residence zoning code amendment.

Approved by the commission Feb. 9, the amendment would give the planning commission the authority to review site plans of potential multiple residential developments.

$1-Million Rochester Facility

To Eye School Pool, Auditorium Plan

ROCHESTER — The Board of Education will consider, and perhaps take action on, plans for a $1 million swimming pool and auditorium at tonight's board meeting.

Part of original plans for the senior high school made in 1953, the pool and auditorium would be paid for through a bond issue.

The plans presented by architects O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach of Birmingham represent many hours of discussion and analysis of the project by school officials and citizens.

A committee of board members went on several trips to other school systems to examine their use of swimming pool facilities while deciding what type of pool Rochester needs.

School Supt. Dr. William Early said that Rochester schools now have no swimming facility at all, and are participating in a pilot project for swimming instruction of fifth and sixth graders at Oakland University.

USED BY ALL

Early said the pool and auditorium would be used by both the schools and the community.

They were part of the planning done by a 1953 citizens committee, which resulted in the 1954 bond issue that financed the high school.

"This would allow us to complete our facilities as originally conceived," said the superintendent.

* * *

The auditorium would also fill a major need of the school, since it now has only a gymnasium without a stage to use.

SEATING PLANS

Present plans call for the facility to seat about 600.

Early said interested citizens have already provided the funds to pay for a bond issue election.

He said he hoped an election date would be set tonight, providing the board approved the plans.

Talent Show Winners Named in 4-H 'Share the Fun' Night

Crofoot Elementary School in Pontiac was the scene of activity Saturday night as entrants from Oakland County 4-H clubs competed in the 15th annual "Share the Fun" talent show.

Winners in three categories were chosen from 17 acts, ranging from pantomime to public speaking, instrumental solos to singing.

Presented with the first-place plaque in the small group division was Linda Armstrong of the Galloway Lake club, playing a piano solo.

Large-group winner was "Goldi and the Group Plus One," which included Dennis Waite, Jack Middleton, Pam Mirakian, Bill Rathburg and Mary Ann Yasaitis, all of the East Orion Club.

The public speaking prize went to Nancy Mills of the Oakhill club.

SPONSOR

The talent show was sponsored by the Oakland County 4-H Service Club.

Winners can compete in the district talent show June 30 at Pontiac Northern's Little Theatre.

Those who win first places in that competition have an opportunity to perform at state 4-H functions.

Judges for Saturday's show were A. P. Johnson, director of Pontiac's Hayes Jones Recreation Center; Mrs. Helen Glenn of the Waterford Schools music department; and John Witherup, Oakland County director of personnel.

Is Stability or Total Victory Our Goal in Southeast Asia?

The more you read about this Southeast Pacific situation, the more bewildered you become. Whichever action anyone espouses in an informal discussion with friends, finds an "authority" who champions another viewpoint with glib and specious reasoning.

Some think "stability" is the ultimate U. S. goal instead of victory. In a case like this, what's "stability" and what's "victory?"

★ ★ ★

Many people feel that "complete victory" for the United States is an absolute impossibility. To begin with, even the natives in the area aren't particularly concerned with "victory." And, the bulk of them don't especially find the United States much of an ally in a time of stress. Someone said the "true reasons are blurred by rhetoric." Certainly the rhetoric has been vague and inconclusive and never persuasive or instructive.

★ ★ ★

Those who feel frustrated by our presence probably include the Nationalists, the Buddhists, the Communists and a big percentage of the peasants. Without doubt this group would be happy to have the U. S. pull out—and stay out. Originally, we went in to this catastrophic "adventure" when the French defected a decade ago. They found they couldn't handle it and their losses were tremendous. Our ostensible purpose was to stem the advance of communism in that section of Southeastern Asia.

★ ★ ★

No allies joined us.

Perhaps they were too smart.

Our motives were lofty but the exactions that have been wrested from us ever since are all out of proportion to anything we have accomplished. And now increasingly we hear an unanswered question:

Must this go on and on?

★ ★ ★

For ages, Washington has apparently felt that if North Viet Nam were harassed sufficiently, she would agree to some form of peace talk. But as time passes, the likelihood becomes less. If you grant the truth of this, you face the imponderable.

Then what is the solution?

★ ★ ★

The guerrillas regard the status quo as merely par for the course. They've existed comfortably — or at least continuously — on this fare for so many years it's accepted as normal procedure. Even though they aren't winning, they aren't losing in the eyes of friend and foe alike.

★ ★ ★

We hope — and hope — for a negotiated peace. But apparently nothing moves in that direction.

We aren't going to win anything worthwhile with these glorified defensive sniper operations and we may never, never win anything anyway without an all-out war.

Perish the thought of that.

★ ★ ★

This newspaper is one of a growing group that would like to see us get out as honorably as we can. We aren't "staying in" with any perceptible face-saving. Our futile physiognomy is already clawed beyond recognition.

Every passing day involves the Reds more deeply. Red China has pledged complete support to our enemy. Russia has done the same. Are we flirting with the possibility of taking on this pair singly or as a team?

Wouldn't that be something!

★ ★ ★

Our government has been exceedingly — yes, exceedingly — wary of telling us what happens or what the plans may be. It's a top secret. Maybe it should be. No one seems to be in a position to express a well-founded or well-grounded opinion. And sometimes I wonder whether those that are in the thick of the thing have a well-defined solution.

Let's think more about our own boys who continue to be killed — and killed — and killed.

De Gaulle Hostility . . .

General DE GAULLE just cut loose with some more withering jabs at the United States. Probably he has become emboldened by our namby-pamby government, but if he wants a fight—diplomatically or in hard cash as he hints—let's give him the works just once.

★ ★ ★

F'instance, we could yell out loud for the $4 billion France has owed us now for 20 years. We could advise tourists to avoid expensive France. (They gave Paris a hard time in 1964 without any bidding.) We could demand that France pay her arrears to the United Nations. She's in the deadbeat class with Russia.

★ ★ ★

A lot of people are becoming fed up with this self-sufficient Frenchman's sneers, jibes and hostility toward the United States. Where would France be today if the U. S. hadn't bailed her out twice when the Germans had her on bended knees with head on the guillotine?

Remember, General?

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Agitation springs anew in New York State for a revision of the divorce laws. Only one cause—adultery—has constituted legal grounds since 1781. . . . . There's a growing belief in legislative halls in Washington that JOHNSON won't care if his foreign aid bill is reduced. He wants it down—but wants Congress to take the responsibility. . . . . Here are the ten "most wanted" colleges by high school grads: MIT, Harvard, Stanford, Cal Tech, California, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia and Michigan. That's for men; and the gals voted: Stanford, Radcliffe, Cornell, California, Michigan, Wellesley, Duke, Northwestern, Barnard, and Smith.

Cures for baldness are legion but there's a new one extant that has the AMA really looking. . . . . The Sunny Jim golf club in New Jersey is accused of being the hardest in the land. The course opened last May and no one has broken par, despite a standing offer of $1,000 to the first one who does it. It's 7,354 yards — which makes it a plain monstrosity in my book. . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's — the moon shot; the J's—that feminine flat tire that announces the acts on GLEASON'S Scenes from the American Magazine.

David Lawrence Says:

Now's Time to Study U.N. Role

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The failure of the General Assembly of the United Nations to reach a vote on how to handle assessments for peace-keeping costs is not an unmixed blessing. For between now and next September, when the U.N. meets again, there will be an opportunity for a thorough exploration of the whole subject.

★ ★ ★

Indeed, there's more than meets the eye in the Soviet Union's refusal to pay certain assessments and France's support of the Moscow view.

The more the question is examined objectively on its merits, the more apparent it is that, far from opposing the Soviet and French views, the United States might well consider supporting the main points they have made.

The real issue is whether the U.N. is a supergovernment and superstate, or whether, as originally intended, it is to remain as an organization of sovereign states each of which may or may not consent to joint action in specific areas of the world where disorders occur.

★ ★ ★

The present charter gives neither the council nor the assembly any clear authority to order members to join a peace-keeping effort — or pay for it, either.

★ ★ ★

It is true that a 9-to-5 advisory opinion by the World Court in costs can be assessed against all members. But it is equally true that Russia and France, by refusing to pay, have shown beyond doubt that the U.N. does not have the power to enforce this advisory opinion.

Even though the General Assembly may vote, as it did, to accept the advisory opinion of the World Court, this does not necessarily make the opinion binding, because only the words of the charter itself can perform that function.

There is no legal stipulation in the charter that nations which are not participants in U.N. peace - keeping operations can be obligated to pay for these expenses.

★ ★ ★

The United States has been trying to get some kind of "collective veto" established with reference to peace-keeping costs and has suggested that each of the Security Council members which has a permanent veto — the U.S., Russia, Britain, France and Nationalist China — should be a member of a special finance committee.

FURTHER CLARIFICATION

While this may help in working out the difficulty, it seems certain that a further clarification of the whole question of peace-keeping costs will someday have to be made.

★ ★ ★

That's why postponement of the debate until next September affords an excellent opportunity for thorough deliberation and a wholehearted attempt to arrive at a constructive solution.

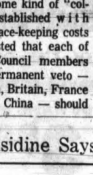
Bob Considine Says:

I'm a Know-It-All Where the Moon Is Concerned



CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Okay, ask me anything about the moon. Right now I know as much about it as Ranger 8, before the crackup.

There are 100 salutes to it in Bartlett's Familiar Quotations, overwhelmingly complimentary except for Rabelais' reference to its quotient of "green cheese" and Shakespeare's reflection that it was "cold and fruitless."

John Randolph used it in the course of his epic vituperation of Edward Livingston in the House of Representatives on March 5, 1808: "He is a man of splendid abilities, but utterly corrupt. He shines and stinks like rotten mackerel by moonlight — certainly no way to speak of a Princeton man.

Nobody can be quite sure just where the moon came from, other than from the direct Hand of God. Charles Darwin believed the earth threw it off in the course of a gigantic prehistoric tide, "as a wet dog will shake water from its sides." Left a scar we call the Pacific Ocean, it was said later.

Another theory: It was just a small happy-go-lucky planet that happened to wander into earth's gravitational field and got stuck in orbit.

'IN HUNDRED AUTUMNS'

It is changeless. "Let a single leaf fall from a tree on earth and there will have been a greater change than may occur on the moon in a hundred autumns," writes Virgilio Brenna in "The Moon," Golden Press, N.Y., source of most of these revelations.

Astronauts to the moon will have to contend with daytime temperatures that rise to 224 degrees fahrenheit and nights that fall to minus 243 degrees. They'll have to bring along their own atmosphere, too. The moon hasn't any of its own.

EARTHSHINE

A moon "day" lasts 708 hours, 44 minutes and three seconds. Nights on the moon, which last just as long, are somewhat brightened by earthshine. We're prettier than the moon: blues, greens, golds.

If you want to see what the moon looks like before an astronaut does, and more clearly than Ranger 8, find yourself a tektite. Tektites are chunks of the moon knocked off by meteors and spun down to earth. Lots of them in Australia, the Philippines and Viet Nam.

Area School District Needs Cooperation

Certain people have and are attempting to correct the actions of unqualified has-beens in the Avondale school district who still insist on doing everything to keep a qualified board from upgrading the name and functions of a fine school. Opinions Vary on Proposed Income Tax

I commend the editorial stand of The Press on the proposed city income tax. I agree with Mr. Irwin that "the income levy would . . . place the burden on nonresidents." But what is wrong with the burden being placed on the recipients of tax benefits? We nonresidents do like salt on Pontiac streets when we come there to spend our money or to work. If our trade is not worth this small courtesy, perhaps we should spend our money elsewhere.

Regarding the obligation of persons employed in Pontiac to help support the city through income taxes, what is wrong with the City of Pontiac helping support surrounding communities whose residents buy so many of Pontiac's products and thereby furnish income to the residents?

L. S. ROBERTSON
WATERFORD TOWNSHIP

So The Pontiac Press wants to raise our property taxes and let the renters, drifters and out-of-city people use our streets and factories for profit! Could we have a sample ballot in the paper to see how it will read on March 18?

A TAXPAYER

I strongly support your editorial stand against the Pontiac City Income Tax. After their first cries of protest, Pontiac's suburban neighbors have remained silent, hoping the city would step forward to oppose the action of the City Commission.

★ ★ ★

Many other groups, particularly in the area of banking and retail selling who boast of serving the entire "greater Pontiac area," derive a large share of their profits and patronage from outside the city. These people should stand up and be counted, either for or against the tax.

★ ★ ★

If Pontiac will really study this new tax, they will reject it the same as other cities have done.

A veteran fox hunter has said that it would be necessary to cut down on his hunting activities if the subsidy on his hunting business (bountying foxes) were removed.

We have caught a glimpse of only one fox in three years, but our land shows the ravages of trespassing fox hunters who make our hills unsafe for our own children or dogs. Let's remove the bounty from fox hunting and return it to the sportsmen.

'Should 18-Year-Olds Be Given a Vote?'

It has been suggested that 18-year-olds should vote, as they may know more about government than older people because they study government in school. In view of what is happening in Viet Nam, a poll was taken. One per cent of the people knew what it was all about. Only five per cent in the government knew. We seem to be in the situation of many still fighting the Civil War and the atomic age is upon us.

Thomas Deegan, chairman of the executive committee of the New York World's Fair, is out to create a body of "yakkers" to talk up the wonders of the show that will open in April.

He plans to enlist the taxi drivers, the barbers, the hairdressers and the bartenders.

Fred G. Clark, chairman of the Foundation which backs the Hall of Free Enterprise would dearly love to get his share of yakking. But he has a beef to register — and the beef is quite legitimate.

★ ★ ★

The Hall of Free Enterprise has been one of the great attractions of the fair. It puts on a show called "Mr. Both Comes to Town." Mr. Both being both producer and consumer, and nobody can watch Mr. Both in action without coming away with a clear conception of how the free enterprise system works. The Hall of Free Enterprise plugs capitalism without preaching.

Even the Soviets have come to see that profits are necessary as an index to what kinds of renovation and development are demanded in an industry. The mystery about the Hall of Free Enterprise is that big business itself is so niggardly in supporting it.

The people have thronged through the doors, but the big corporations, with some exceptions, have found excuses to dodge responsibility. Every single excuse demonstrates a lack of logic that hardly bodes well for the future of the American business system.

It is not "charity" for a big industry to support something that provides a brilliant demonstration of its superiority over Socialist methods. Secondly, there is no program that is remotely similar to "Mr. Both Comes to Town."

Go Without?

The Marshalltown (Ia.) Times-Republican

What in the world will your children tell their youngsters that they had to do without?

Adios . . .

Chicago's American

We have a simple suggestion for all top-level policy planners in the State Department: Get a TV set with ultra-high frequency reception, tune in on the telecast bullfights from Mexico, and you may pick up some fresh ideas. First note the bull always loses, even though he is vastly stronger and heavier than the matador. The matador knows what's happening, and the bull just thinks he knows.

★ ★ ★

Victory is a simple matter of superior strength and weight. To defeat an enemy, you charge straight at him and knock him flat; if that fails the first time, you charge harder. It's always worked before, why not now?

The trouble is that the matador knows all about it, and has made other arrangements. He keeps the bull charging uselessly until its strength is exhausted. After which — adios.

★ ★ ★

Some likeness may be noticed here between the bull and the United States government, which is similarly much more powerful than a Nasser, a Sukarno, or a Viet Cong guerrilla leader, but never uses its strength effectively. Its foes keep nimbly stepping aside and planting new banderillas in its hide. The bull loses for one simple reason: Its actions are predictable. Suppose it started showing an unbullish imagination and catching the torreos by surprise? Suppose they realized they hadn't a notion what that bull might do next? The results would be pretty unpredictable too, no doubt. But there'd be a ring full of badly scared matadors."

Pope Creates 27 Cardinals

All-Time High of 103 Members Established

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI created 27 new princes of the Roman Catholic Church today, bringing the membership of the College of Cardinals to an all-time high of 103.

Creation of the new cardinals — including three from Communist nations, three Middle East patriarchs, and prelates from the Americas, Africa and Asia — gave the college its widest international representation. Forty-one countries are now represented.

★ ★ ★

For the formal creation of the 27 new cardinals, Pope Paul and 36 members of the college met in the Apostolic Palace's Consistorial Hall. The Pope announced nomination of the 27 on Jan. 25, but approval of the other cardinals was required.

The 27 were the first cardinals he has named in his 20-month-old reign. He has said he will name more after the Vatican Ecumenical Council ends later this year.

MESSENGERS SENT

After the secret consistory, papal messengers fanned out across Rome to give formal notification to 26 of the new prelates waiting at four Catholic establishments in the city.

One group, at the North American Pontifical College, included two new cardinals from North America — Archbishops Lawrence Shehan of Baltimore and Maurice Roy of Quebec.

★ ★ ★

The three cardinals from Communist lands are Archbishop Franjo Seper of Zagreb, Yugoslavia, Josef Beran of Prague, Czechoslovakia, and Josef Slipyj, primate of Ukrainian Catholics.

Archbishop Beran came to Rome last Friday after 16 years of confinement in Czechoslovakia. He will remain in Rome. Archbishop Slipyj has been living in Rome since he was released from confinement in Siberia two years ago.

BEHIND IRON CURTAIN

They were the first prelates from Communist lands to be made cardinals since 1953.

The 27th new cardinal, Bishop Angel Herrera y Oria of Malaga, Spain, was not in Rome. In accordance with the tradition for Catholic countries, he will receive his insignia from the Spanish chief of state, Generalissimo Franco.

★ ★ ★

Also among the new cardinals were three Middle East patriarchs and the second Negro elevated to the collee, Archbishop Paul Zoungrana of Upper Volta. The patriarchs are Maximos IV Saigh, Melchite Patriarch of Antioch; Paul Pierre Meouchi, Maronite Patriarch of Antioch, and Stephanos I Sidarouss, Coptic patriarch of Alexanderia.

The wide geography of the Pope's choices emphasized his expressed desire to internationalize the highest bodies of the world's largest Christian church.

For the creation of his first cardinals, Pope Paul also decreed a series of changes that broke with precedent.

U.S. Embassy Prepared for Soviet Demonstrations

MOSCOW (AP) — Usually there is a warning.

Someone, perhaps an American exchange student or a friendly neutral, telephones the U.S. Embassy that a notice is up for a demonstration.

★ ★ ★

Some person, with official approval at least, has ordered a group of students to gather in front of the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

They are to march three blocks to the U.S. Embassy and protest air raids on North Viet Nam, U.S. actions in the Congo or something similar.

POLICE PROTECTION

The embassy calls the Foreign Ministry to ask for police protection.

Then the embassy begins preparations based on the expectation, born of hard experience, that there will not be much protection.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Embassy is a 10-story building. The ground floor, penetrated by two driveways with massive iron gates, contains administrative offices and the consular section. From the second through seventh floors are residential apartments.

The heart of the embassy, where Ambassador Foy D. Kohler and others have their offices, is the top three floors, entered through just one steel door.

Plywood panels are put up inside windows facing the street on the ground floor to catch flying glass.

The 23 American women and 19 Russians who work on the ground floor put typewriters and other equipment under desks, draw curtains behind the windows and leave. Apartments from the second through sixth floors are virtually abandoned.

★ ★ ★

Three American men, led by administrative officer Roger A. Provencher, and seven members of the embassy's Marine Corps guard unit then take over the ground floor. The driveway gates are locked and heavy trucks parked inside against them.

★ ★ ★

The main job of the men, and one person left in each apartment, is to watch for fires.

WINDOWS BROKEN

The damage in November and in the Feb. 9 demonstration against the bombing of North Viet Nam was about the same: almost all ground floor windows broken, numerous apartment windows broken, ink stains on the outside walls and a few inside.

The militiamen made no attempt to prevent the throwing of stones, large hunks of metal and bottles, or the shooting with slingshots of metal bolts that Kohler said endangered embassy personnel.

★ ★ ★

The embassy is technically American soil that can be defended, but the Marine guards would have to cross the line of jurisdiction to try to halt throwing from the sidewalk.

If the embassy were invaded, there would be no defense either. It is feared that force would only inflame the mob and that bloodshed or worse would follow.

STEEL DOOR

If an invasion began, everyone would retreat to the top three floors, behind the steel door. Some of the men assigned to the ground floor are not so sure that, in a really nasty situation, they would be able to make it in time.

★ ★ ★

The most extreme possibility, that demonstrators might set fire to the building and its entire staff would be trapped on the top floors, is hardly considered.

Bomb Hanoi if Necessary —Goldwater

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Barry M. Goldwater says if it is necessary to bomb Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital, to win the war in South Viet Nam, "it should be done."

★ ★ ★

Goldwater, in a television interview yesterday, added that he didn't believe the Red Chinese "would do anything about extending the war."

Goldwater said he could not conceive of Peking sending "her only strength, which would be ground forces," against superior U.S. air and sea power.

"It is worth any kind of risk," he said, to protect the freedom of Viet Nam and all of South east Asia against communist aggression.

The defeated presidential candidate also urged President Johnson to declare a "foreign policy of firmness" to assure the American people and to impress the Communist world that "we intend to win in South Viet Nam."

The First World War

The Eastern Front in 1914: 13

Written By PHILIP VAN DOREN STERN for Newspaper Enterprise Association

Illustrated By John Lane

What happened on the Eastern Front during the First World War has always seemed rather vague to most western people.

★ ★ ★

Strange-sounding names, unfamiliar territory and exceedingly complicated and confusing troop movements have made the fighting there difficult to understand.

The Western Front is far better known to most of us, for it has been celebrated in countless stories, songs and poems, and has been described in detail in numerous biographies and histories.

But this does not mean that the Eastern Front is unimportant. In fact, it can even be argued that it affected the course of world events more than the Franco-Belgian front.

★ ★ ★

After the disastrous battles at Tannenberg in August and around the Masurian Lakes in September, the Czar's armies were compelled to leave East Prussia.

AUSTRIA AND RUSSIA

Austria had been fighting against the Russians in Galicia, but were doing badly. Germany took the pressure off them by advancing determinedly into Poland. By October 14, a German army was at the gates of Warsaw.

But it was outnumbered by the vast hordes of men the Czar was able to send into the field.

They were badly armed and poorly trained, but they were so numerous that they were able to hold back the Germans, although at enormous cost. They not only stopped the Germans; in November they drove them back.

★ ★ ★

At Lodz, the Kaiser's army was almost defeated by the vastly superior Russian forces. But the better-led Germans broke through later in the month and escaped.

WINTER NEAR

The dreaded winter was coming on. By Dec. 6 the Russians had pulled back to a stronger position., and the Germans occupied Lodz. The conflict then quieted down, while bitter cold and drifting snow took over.

The Russians had lost enormous numbers of men. The terrible winter of 1914-15 took further toll, not only of soldiers but of civilians as well.

During those months of suffering, dissatisfaction mounted. Out of the misery of that winter — and of the misery that followed—came the revolution of 1917, when Russia quit her allies and began a new Soviet state.

★ ★ ★

That state, the result of the Eastern Front, is very much with us today, while the battles on the Western Front have faded into history.

Syria Expels 2nd U. S. Aide

Embassy Secretary Accused of Spying

DAMASCUS, Syria (UPI) — The U.S. Embassy announced today that the Syrian government has ordered the expulsion of a second member of the embassy staff here as an alleged spy.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman identified the employe as Miss Martha Scherrer, a secretary in the embassy's administrative section.

Miss Scherrer is in her 30s and has been in Damascus for about two years. She was said to have relatives in California.

Walter S. Snowdon, the embassy's second secretary, left Damascus last week after spy charges were made against him by the newspaper of Syria's Baath party.

★ ★ ★

Snowdon allegedly tried to obtain military information from a Syrian army officer. The United States denied the charges.

48 HOURS

The embassy spokesman said today that Miss Scherrer has been given 48 hours to leave Syria. He said she has no diplomatic status.

(Reports Saturday from Beirut, Lebanon, quoted Radio Damascus as announcing that a Syrian military court had sentenced a naturalized American citizen to death on charges of spying for the United States and Israel.

(The American's cousin, a Syrian army major, was also sentenced to death on the same charges, it was reported. The U.S. Embassy in Damascus was implicated in the spy charges.

★ ★ ★

(The sentences for Farhan Attassi, the American, and Maj. Gen. Moeen Hanimi must be approved by Syrian Premier Amin Hafez before they can be carried out, the broadcast said.)

Indians to Relearn Old Art

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Palefaces are going to teach three Indians the ancient Indian art of making snowshoes.

Stanley Bennett Jr., Henry Baker and Joseph Jackson, all Chippewas, were to leave here today for the Cusino Wildlife Experiment Station near Shingleton in the Upper Peninsula.

Three Department of Conservation personnel will teach them how to make snowshoes. The idea is to set up a snowshoe factory operated by Indians at Mount Pleasant.

The program to provide gainful employment for Indians is backed by the Chappewa Indian Tribal Council, Central Michigan University, the State Department of Corrections and interested citizens.

37 Yanks Hurt in Mexico

TAXCO, Mexico (UPI) — Thirty-seven Americans were injured yesterday when their tourist bus swerved to avoid a collision and turned over three times on a highway near here. Five were reported seriously hurt.

The accident happened shortly after noon at a place called "El Mogote" on the highway from Mexico City to Acapulco in southern Mexico.

★ ★ ★

The 37 tourists were all taken to the civil hospital at Taxco and later to the American hospital in Mexico City, police said.

Two guides and the bus driver were also injured.

Hospital authorities said most of the injured were from New York and New Jersey.

Some tigers are fierce. Some tigers are ferocious. We build both.

It's getting so that choosing between our Wide-Track Tigers is as distressing as it is enjoyable. For instance, should you choose the incredible GTO with its extra helping of horsepower (360), or the way it comes (335)? Or should you go for the Le Mans with a 285-hp V-8, a 250-hp V-8, or 140-hp six? Either way they're all tigers with bucket seats, carpeting and lots of Oh-you-kid! But choosing is such sweet sorrow, so choose on! And on! And on!

Don't Push Foreign Travel, U.S. Passport Offices Are Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has told passport offices around the country to do nothing that might in any way encourage Americans to travel abroad while the nation suffers from a gold drain.

★ ★ ★

Among other things, the offices are being told to take down any posters or other displays that encourages foreign travel. However, passports will remain available to citizens who want them, and the number of applicants is expected to increase.

★ ★ ★

The State Department's directive is a follow-up to President Johnson's Feb. 18 balance of payments message. Johnson suggested that Americans "see the U.S.A." on vacations rather than unload their dollars on foreign junkets.

Noting that American tourist spending overseas climbed $600 million in the last four years, Johnson said "foreign travel should be encouraged when we can afford it — but not while our payments position remains urgent."

MADE KNOWN

This part of the presidential message is now being brought to the attention of the State Department's passport offices in a memo from Abba P. Schwartz, administrator of security and counselor affairs.

Schwartz adds:

"If you now maintain displays or other materials which encourage foreign travel please discontinue their use in view of the President's message.

"Also, it follows that we should not engage or participate in any activities which could be viewed as encouraging American citizens to travel abroad. You may, of course, continue to assist travelers by having available visas and public health information."

CUT EXEMPTION

Johnson asked Congress to cut in half the present $100 duty free allowance now given returning Americans on goods they buy abroad. State Department employes have called off one of their vacation charter flights to Europe this year.

Whether either the President or the State Department thinks American cities have been doing a booming business in passports. About 3,800 court clerks throughout the nation also are authorized to receive passport applications.

Americans actually will cut back overseas tours is another question.

★ ★ ★

In his budget request to Congress, Johnson asked for a $10-million boost in State Department funds for the fiscal year starting July 1, and he lists as one reason an expected rise in the work load on issuing passports.

According to the presidential budget: "More Americans will be traveling abroad in 1966 resulting in an estimated 1,320,000 applications for passports — a 10 per cent increase over 1965."

Says Nikita Quietly Visited Moscow

Former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who slipped from power and sight last October, recently visited Moscow with his wife, Nina, says a Soviet militiaman.

The militiaman, who gave his name as Melnikov, told newsmen in Moscow yesterday he had seen and talked with Khrushchev at a monument to Soviet space flight, adding:

"Nikita Sergeyevich visited the monument and spent about 30 minutes here accompanied by his wife. He was not accompanied by an official party and no special measures were taken before his visit."

Mormon Leader May Leave Hospital

President David O. McKay of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints may be released from Salt Lake City Hospital this week, a hospital spokesman announced last night.

The 91-year-old leader of the world's two million Mormons entered the hospital a week ago with what doctors described as a lung congestion resulting from a heart condition.

Chicago Archbishop Tested at Hospital

Albert Cardinal Meyer, 61, was scheduled to undergo a series of tests today at Chicago's Mercy Hospital to determine the cause of headaches which hospitalized him last Wednesday.

A hospital spokesman said the cardinal, archbishop of the Chicago Diocese, was not often in pain and was not confined to his bed.

Last month, Cardinal Meyer spent 12 days in the hospital for treatment of a gall bladder ailment.

Less Secure in Homes, Communities

U.S. Losing Desperate Race to Crime

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Four Four serious crimes are committed every 60 seconds in the United States. There has been an alarming rise in every type of crime. UPI's national reporter, in the first of three dispatches, examines some of the statistics and the reasons some experts say they are going up.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Deep down in President Johnson's State of the Union message was this sentence: "Every citizen has the right to feel secure in his home and on the streets of his community."

Sure. Every citizen has the right to be a millionaire, too, but saying it doesn't make it so.

The grim fact is that every day we become less secure in our homes and communities. We are losing a desperate race to crime, and we might as well face up to the fact that so far as lawlessness is concerned, the state of the union is not good.

With due deference to the President's plan to do something about crime, there is small chance that the situation can be improved in the next three years.

★ ★ ★

Every type of crime is on the increase in every type of American community. Years ago, Lincoln Steffens coined the phrase "The shame of our cities" to describe corruption and crime.

CRIME SPREAD

The phrase is no longer operative. The current increase in crime spreads itself impartially through cities, small towns, suburbs and rural areas. Like this:

- Four serious crimes are committed every minute in the U.S.
- Once every hour, somebody is murdered.
- Once every minute, an automobile is stolen.
- Once every 32 minutes, a burglary is committed.
- Once every 32 minutes, somebody is raped.
- Once every four minutes, an American is a victim of aggravated assault.
- Once every minute, a larceny involving $50 or more is committed.

★ ★ ★

What's happening to us? The usual glib and thoughtless answer is that, sure, there is more crime because there are more people. If that had any validity, our problem would be fairly simple.

The shocking fact is that since 1958, the crime rate has been increasing five times as fast as the gain in population.

Every year it gets worse. The Federal Bureau of Investigation reports a 10 per cent increase in crime in 1963 over 1962. But in the first six months of 1964 the increase over the same period in 1963 was 15 per cent.

SORDID SCOREBOARD

Here is the sordid scoreboard: Murder up 13 per cent. Robbery up 13 per cent. Rape up 26 per cent. Auto theft up 17 per cent. Aggravated assault up 17 per cent.

Residents in many large cities are afraid to be on the streets at night. But perish the thought that you would be safer in some neat, quiet suburb where the lights are out early and the doors are locked firmly.

The crime rate for the nation's suburbs was up 23 per cent for the first six months of 1964, eight points above the national average.

★ ★ ★

In trying to fix the blame for the upsurge of lawlessness, people are inclined to strike out in all directions.

TV GETS BLAME

Television is a favorite whipping boy, presumably on the theory that if you watch Marshal Dillon shoot a man in Dodge City shortly after the middle commercial in "Gunsmoke," you will be tempted to buy a gun and do something desperate.

Motion pictures are accused of inflaming the young by creating a world of violence in which every child feels he may be called upon any minute to wage hand to hand combat with the creature from the black lagoon.

The other day the Salvation Army newspaper in London said Ian Fleming's fictional hero, James Bond, was demoralizing British youth and contributing to a 9 per cent increase in indictable offenses in England and Wales.

Bond was denounced for gambling, eating food in fancy restaurants with French menus, violence, sadism and excessive enthusiasm for the principles and practices of toujours L'amour on all continents and islands.

GRAIN OF TRUTH

Perhaps there is a grain of truth in the contention that there is some relation between the increase in crime and the activities of Dillon, Bond and the creature, but there is also a high content of nonsense in it.

Long before television and the movies were invented, children were subjected to accounts of violence.

If Dillon and Bond must go, then so must Little Red Riding Hood because she is the heroine of a story involving house breaking, a threat to devour human flesh and an ax murder.

★ ★ ★

And our students mus be protected from Shakespeare's "Macbeth" where the stage is strewn with almost as many bodies as there are in the Fisher Division of General Motors.

PRIMARY CONCERN

President Johnson has not said so, but it is safe to say his primary concern is not with the spectacular crimes that bring out the big headlines.

We eagerly read about the theft of the Star of India sapphire from a New York Museum ,the robbery of a Brink's truck carrying big money and the senseless work of a vandal gouging holes in Florentine paintings.

But such things do not touch our lives or create dangers on the streets and in our homes.

The story of the sensational increase in crime usually is told in short stories under modest headlines inside our newspapers.

You have to put them all together to get the real impact of what is going on.

When you do that, as the FBI does in its uniform crime reports, the picture becomes clear and it isn't a pretty one.

The real culprit appears to be the American youth.

Report Says 'Radio Priest' Set to Retire

DETROIT (AP) — The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, once one of the most controversial figures in the United States, may be planning to retire as pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower in suburban Royal Oak.

Father Coughlin could not be reached for comment on the report by the Detroit News which also said he is negotiating with a real estate dealer to purchase a house in Royal Oak for personal occupancy.

Coughlin, now 72, once commanded a radio audience of some 30 million and a readership of millions more for his newspaper, "Social Justice." His attacks during the 1930s on President Franklin Roosevelt, England and Russia, led critics to label him anti-Semitic and pro-Fascist.

Both the radio program and the newspaper closed down at the outbreak of World War II.

I-75 Smashup Injures Man

A St. Clair Shores man, injured when his car struck a guard rail at 8:15 a.m. today on I-75 in Pontiac Township, is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Thomas J. Plowman, 23, told State Police he apparently fell asleep while driving north on I-75 near the northbound Baldwin exit.

Police said the car went out of control and struck a rail off the left shoulder of the road.

Forest Service to Buy U.P. Land for Park

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Forest Service has agreed to buy the Sylvania tract in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan for addition to the Ottawa National Forest, Sen. Philip A. Hart and Rep. Raymond Clevenger, both D-Mich., announced today.

The 8,000-acre privately-owned tract is in Gogebic County adjoining the Wisconsin border and is made up of lakes and woodlands.

★ ★ ★

Describing the move as a big step forward in developing tourism in the peninsula, Hart and Clevenger said in a joint statement:

"The agriculture department estimates that development of the tract will require an estimated 625 man-years of work and a total expenditure of some $10 million.

OPERATING COSTS

"This in addition to the estimated $437,700 yearly operating costs that would continue indefinitely.

"Selective timbering would also be allowed, and the department estimates that 21 million feet of saw timber and 400,000 cords of pulpwood could be cut in the first 10 years without injury to the landscape or wildlife."

Snakes do not bite with their tongues, which are soft and could not inflict an injury.

Long Strike Ends With Ratification of Pact

Union employes at Greenfield's Restaurant in Birmingham began returning to work yesterday following a seven-week strike.

On Saturday, members of Pontiac Local 794 of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes Union ratified a three-year contract, ending the strike that started Jan. 5.

Robert Teays, Local 794 secretary, said that he expects all 125 striking employes will be back on the job within a week. They are being recalled on a seniority basis, he said.

The restaurant at 725 S. Hunter was open for business throughout the strike.

The new contract, according to Teays, provides for a annual four-cents-an-hour increase for the next three years, giving employes a total increase of 12 cents an hour during the last year.

HOSPITALIZATION PLAN

Teays said that a new hospitalization plan with increased benefits will ge into effect in January 1966.

State and federal mediators entered negotiations between the union and management on Jan. 20, staying on until agreement was reached at a meeting Friday.

Driver Breaks Leg in Crash

Jerry Barnett, 22, of 26 E. Ypsilanti suffered a broken leg when his car went out of control at 12:40 a.m. and hit a stop sign at Scott Lake and Elizabeth Lake roads, Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

Barnett, who told police he knew nothing about the accident, is reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Police said Barnett's car was traveling south on Scott Lake Road when the accident occurred.

TEARS OF JOY — Mrs. Aurelia Moleta of Hawaii wipes her eyes after her first glimpse of her wounded soldier son last night at Letterman Hospital, San Francisco. Sgt. Raymon Ancho, hit in the left side by grenade blasts in South Viet Nam fighting, was in the hospital plane that paused in Honolulu last Tuesday. His mother hurried to the airport only to see the plane taking off after refueling. Friends collected money so she could follow to San Francisco.

Reds Ease Scholar Policy

MOSCOW (AP) — The new Soviet regime appears to have adopted a more liberal policy toward experimentation in science, literature and art. But it still must stay within limits acceptable to the Communist party.

Alexei M. Rumyantsev, editor-in-chief of Pravda, wrote in the party newspaper yesterday that "the fruitful development of science, literature and art calls for different schools and trends, different styles and genres, competing with each other and united at the same time by their common dialectical-materialistic outlook and unity of the principles of Socialist realism."

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Government forces massed in northeast Laos today in preparation for an attempt to retake Hua Muong, a holdout position that finally fell to the Communist Pathet Lao a week ago.

Hua Muong had been the headquarters for two Laotian army battalions before the Communists took it after a two-month offensive. Military sources say the Communists in Sam Neua province are trying to link up with their forces farther south in Xieng Khouang, which would give them a corridor across Laos.

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — Premier Sir El Khatim El Khalifa's attempt to solve a government crisis by dropping one of the four Communists in his cabinet has been rejected as insufficient by three rightist parties.

Describing themselves as a united front, the National United party, the Moslem brothers and the Umma party held out for further reduction or complete elimination of leftist members from the cabinet.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Borba, Yugoslavia's major Communist newspaper, reported today that eight of the 25 Communist parties invited to meet in Moscow March 1 have refused to attend.

Borba's correspondent in Moscow said the attitude of a ninth party, the Cuban, was not yet clear.

Red China is strongly opposed to the meeting.

One GI Killed in Viet Fighting

Cong Smashes at Government Units

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — One American was killed Sunday and two were wounded as powerful Viet Cong forces continued smashing at government units in central Viet Nam.

A U.S. Marine officer and seven Vietnamese soldiers were killed in a heavy clash in the northern part of mountainous Binh Dinh Province, 300 miles northeast of Saigon.

* * *

The officer was with two marine battalions which were set up two weeks ago after Viet Cong forces in the area killed or captured about 500 government troops.

Surrounded by mountains controlled by the Viet Cong, the marines were virtually pinned down in narrow valleys. More than three quarters of Binh Dinh Province has been taken over the Viet Cong.

Two other U.S. advisers were wounded in other clashes in Binh Dinh Province.

Sixty miles southwest of Binh Dinh in Pleiku Province, the Viet Cong annihilated a government outpost and mauled government reinforcements that way from the Laotian frontier in were sent in.

* * *

In recent months the Viet Cong has virtually cut South Viet Nam in two, taking over a vast tract of territory all the the west to the South China seacoast in the east. All the roads and railroads through the area are cut or controlled by the Viet Cong.

Ford, Bride on Europe Honeymoon

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Ford II was honeymooning in Europe today with his blonde Italian bride, the former Maria Cristina Vettore Austin.

Ford, board chairman of the Ford Motor Co., the world's second-largest auto firm, married the attractive 35-year-old amateur artist Friday night. Both are divorcees.

* * *

The Rev. Edmund Battersby, spokesman for the Detroit archdiocese, said Ford "automatically" would be excommunicated from the Catholic Church.

"When a Catholic who has a valid marriage is divorced and remarries he is excommunicated," Fr. Battersby said. "That is Church Law."

Excommunication bars a person from receiving sacraments of the church.

PLAN RETURN

Ford, 48, left for Europe with his bride immediately after the Washington, D.C., ceremony. The two plan to return to the United States next month and live at Ford's lavish home in suburban Grosse Pointe Farms.

* * *

Ford last year obtained a divorce from the former Anne McDonnell of Southhampton, N.Y., whom he married in 1940.

Mrs. Austin, a native of Vicenza, Italy, and a British subject for 17 years, was divorced in 1947 from Robin W. M. Austin of Montreal, Que., a British naval officer.

* * *

Ford, grandson of pioneer auto maker Henry Ford, was raised as a Methodist. He was converted by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen to the Roman Catholic faith of his first wife.

The new Mrs. Ford is an amateur sculptress and is interested in art. Her name has been linked romantically with Ford's since his divorce.

Space Agency Gets First N-Generators

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Martin Co. has delivered the first pair of prototype nuclear generators for use in space to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The first two units contain no radioactive fuel. They will be heated electrically for their qualification tests.

* * *

Each generator is designed to deliver 30 watts of direct current to the weather satellite Nimbus B, the first NASA satellite to use a nuclear power source.

Reelect Socialist Aide

DETROIT (AP) — Ralph W Muncy of Ann Arbor was re-elected Sunday as chairman of the Socialist Labor Party's State Central Committee. John Zy-Wicki of Belleville was reelected vice chairman and W. Clifford Bentley of Pleasant Ridge, secretary-treasurer.

U.S. shoe factories made 48.3 million pair of shoes during July 1964, enough to put a new pair on one-fourth of the total U.S. population.

Question Faces Maryland Test

Public Funds for Religious Colleges?

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A battery of lawyers is to assemble in a small courtroom in Anne Arundel County Courthouse Tuesday to argue a question that has long puzzled Americans — does the Constitution permit public funds to be given to religious colleges?

On the bench will be Judge O. Bowie Duckett, a gray-haired jurist who loves a good constitutional case.

* * *

Leading the attack on the Maryland practice of aiding church-related colleges will be Leo Pfeffer, a New York attorney and an authority on the church-state issue who has argued cases in this field in many American courts.

Heading the defense will be William L. Marbury, one of Maryland's most respected lawyers.

FOCAL POINT

The focal point of the trial is four grants totaling $2.5 million made by the Maryland Legislature to four small church-affiliated colleges in 1962 and 1963.

The colleges never got the money, intended to help construct buildings, because the bonds approved by the legislature couldn't be sold after the suit was filed.

* * *

During two weeks of hearings in December and January evidence was presented by both sides.

It is likely that the decision will influence the future of public support of church schools at all levels in the United States, and it conceivable could affect the entire financial aspect of church-state relations.

EVIDENCE PRESENTED

Attorneys for both sides say the case probably will wind up in the U.S. Supreme Court. Accordingly, they carefully laid a foundation of evidence at the earlier hearings on which to build their constitutional arguments.

Although the constitutional question hasn't been argued yet, it cropped up a few times.

* * *

Marbury at one point cited several Supreme Court decisions which he said established a precedent that public aid is permissible if a church-related institution performs "a legitimate secular function that does not advance or prohibit religion."

Pfeffer has contended that Duckett must apply a different constitutional test — that tax support cannot be given to institutions "which either teach or practice religion."

STRENGTHEN SCHOOLS

The suit was brought by the Horace Mann League, which lists as its basic purpose "to strengthen our public schools," and a group of Maryland taxpayers.

Lawyers for the colleges are certain to argue that the plaintiffs can not legally bring the action, and Duckett will have to decide this question first.

* * *

The Maryland case represents a change in tactics for opponents of public support for religious institutions. The major battlefield has been Congress and the state legislatures, but many opponents feel the battle is being lost there.

Dr. Edgar Fuller, an official of the league and one of the prime movers in the suit, believes there has been a continuing drift toward more public aid for church schools, especially on the college level.

COLLEGE AID

"Aid to colleges puts us on a greased skid right down to eventual aid at the secondary school level," Fuller says, "but if this case goes our way, then there is no question about the secondary schools."

Those who believe church-affiliated schools should receive public support agree that the decision will be a critical one.

* * *

A ruling against them would temporarily kill hopes for getting state and federal funds for parochial schools as well as cut off a valuable flow of tax funds to colleges.

A ruling in their favor could be used as a lever to get more tax support.

CAREFULLY CHOSEN

The Maryland case was carefully chosen by Fuller and his associates for two reasons.

First, the grants involved are made directly from the state to the colleges.

* * *

Second, the four institutions represent both Catholic and Protestant affiliations. St. Joseph and Notre Dame College are Catholic, Western Maryland is Methodist and Hood College is United Church of Christ.

* * *

Duckett is expected to hand down his decision fairly soon after the Tuesday hearing.

Forward to Invite Her Guest

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I met a woman at a lunch party in a friend's house. She is a very charming person and one I would like to have as a friend.

Would it be presumptuous on my part to invite her to lunch at my house after this one meeting?

A: Unless in her conversation with you, she gave you the impression that she too would like to develop your friendship, it would be presumptuous to invite her to lunch with you after this single meeting.

* * *

Q: Will you please tell me the proper way to serve coffee at the end of dinner? I have no maid and serve coffee at the dining table.

Should I pour the coffee from my place and pass the filled cups down each side of the table, or should I put the cups and saucers at each place and then go around and fill each cup?

A: It will be simpler and best to put the coffee pot on a tray in front of you and pour and serve the coffee from your place, asking each guest whether he or she would like cream or sugar, before passing the filled cup down the table.

* * *

Q: My engagement was announced last week in the newspaper and I have received many personal notes as well as printed cards from friends and relatives expressing their good wishes.

I would like to know if it is necessary to acknowledge these messages.

A: You need do no more than thank verbally those who sent you printed cards, but you should write to those who sent you personal notes.

"Like mother, like daughter" is proven in these photographs. On the left is Marlene Ferrari, San Mateo, Calif., as she looked 26 years ago in a dress by Nannette Manufacturing Company. On the right is Marlene's two-year-old daughter Jill in the same dress. "When I outgrew the dress," wrote Mrs. Ferrari to Vice-President, Jeremy Rosenau of Nannette, "my mother tucked it away. She brought it out for Jill's second birthday. It looks as fashionable and pretty today as it did over a quarter of a century ago. When Jill outgrows it, I'm going to 'tuck' it away again. Who knows — perhaps some day in the distant future, Jill's daughter will be wearing it."

Let Him Hunt

Resents Abby's Advice

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I don't know whether to feel sorrier for ABOUT HAD IT or his wife for being married to such a milquetoast.

He cries that she won't "let" him go deer hunting, although he always loved to. And you, of course advised him to knuckle under.

ABBY

It is about par for the course in this female-dominated society for the woman to simper her way to the altar while plotting how to remold her man as soon as he slips the ring on her finger.

I do not hunt and I am happily married (as is my wife).

And you, Dear Abby, are guilty of a bum piece of advise in this instance, which goes to the heart of something far more important than the question of deer hunting.

50-50 PARTNER IN SAN RAFAEL

DEAR PARTNER: Bum advice; I certainly would hesitate to advise a man who wants to hunt, but doesn't because his wife won't "let" him, to go anyway.

She might turn out to be a better shot than he is.

Problems? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for all Occasions."

Size of Room All-Important

French Florists Prefer Dramatic Effects

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — A French-woman florist whose customers include President Charles de Gaulle took one look at floral arrangements as done by Americans and decided:

The long - stemmed beauty look for which American girls are famous should be applied to flowers as well.

"In France, we do much taller, larger arrangements," said Suzy Aignan.

"I don't know why you cut, cut, cut the stems. In France, we do not. Maybe it is because we do things with the grand gesture."

She figured, however, that one reason U.S. florists usually make smaller arrangements is the difference in homes.

FOR TALL ROOMS

Most of those in her native Paris, for instance, are tall, old structures with high ceilings and giant rooms which call for large arrangements.

Low-ceiling, modern housing in the United States does not.

Mme. Aignan, 43, wife of a construction engineer and mother of two teen-aged boys, represents a fourth generation of her family as florists. Her great-grandfather founded the firm, Debrie-Millon, in 1852.

Now, she, her father, mother and one sister run the shop located amid the great fahion houses of Paris.

Mme. Aignan said the shop holds numerous awards for floral arrangements — "every time we enter an exposition, we take first prize," she said, without bragging, but as if this were a thing to be expected from 113 years of flowers.

OFFICIAL ORDERS

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs regularly orders from them for state occasions. But for the presidential residence, de Gaulle's own gardens provide the flowers.

Mme. Aignan, her family and a supplemental staff, placed flowers in every room of the many - roomed Palace of Versailles when the late President Kennedy and his wife were on an official visit to France.

The palace was site for a de Gaulle reception. She said some 80 arrangements were placed about, each planned to blend with the tapestries and rugs of the rooms.

FOR JACKIE

She also planned flowers for the Palais du Quai D'Orsay which the Kennedys occupied during their visit.

She used many mixed spring flower bouquets, she said — "Protocol had told us Mrs. Kennedy liked them."

Among the more difficult decorating jobs was doing one of the huge rooms in the Louvre for a dinner the French president gave to honor Queen Elizabeth II of Britain.

The area, she said, was "big as the metropolitan museum" and the seating arrangement was in the form of a giant U.

Low vases of mixed flowers alternated with candelabra on the tables.

And for the dais — where the president and his guests sat — the firm used orchids, roses, snapdragons, crystal vases and Sevres statuary, so arranged that all present could see the honored guests clearly.

"No one and nothing can be in front of the president or queen," she said.

Mme. Aignan talked of flowers and of the famous she's helped to serve during a stop in New York en route to Detroit for the Michigan all-industry conference ending tomorrow.

The conference attracted 2,000 florists from the United States and half a dozen other countries where Interflora, a flowers - by - wire service, operates.

The organization, world-wide except for Iron Curtain nations, has 29,000 members.

She said she personally admired also the classic Japanese way of arranging one group of flowers set perfectly vertical, another group at a 45-degree angle to the bowl.

"I like," she said, "but it doesn't sell."

The Joseph Taylors Receive Degrees

Probably the most 'identical' degree recipients at Loyola University's recent mid-year commencement were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor (Audrey Gineman) who were awarded masters degrees in mathematics.

Mrs. Taylor is the daughter of the Frank Ginemans of Buckskin Drive, Commerce Township, and her husband comes from LaPorte, Ind.

TOP STUDENTS

Each was valedictorian of his high school graduating class. Each chose Loyola for undergraduate college studies.

They met on campus at Chicago while both were studying for a bachelor of science degree in mathematics and were married last September 1964, a year after they both received their degrees.

Embarking on like graduate study programs, they both earned their way via assistantships. Even their grade totals were the same in graduate studies: nine "A's" and one "B."

Mr. Taylor plans to teach full time at the university.

Makeup Removal Worth Time

Face it, girls. Everyone tells us how to put on mounds of make-up but few offer sound advice on how to take it off properly.

Does your towel show the same telltale signs of wash-and-swipe normally associated with grubby little boys?

If it does, it's time to do something about removing stale make-up thoroughly.

Complexion troubles can start with carelessness.

To help you avoid make-up build-up that cogs pores and leads to blackheads try these simple tips from a well-known beauty house.

For lipstick: Apply a heavy coating of cleansing cream to your lips with your fingertips.

Work this over your lips in a gentle, circular motion and remove with a tissue or clean cotton. Repeat. All lipstick should be gone.

If there are traces, again apply the cleansing cream in the circular motion.

At night, ward off dry cracking lips by applying an emollient.

For eye make-up: Stroke on a heavy coating of cleansing cream. Do not coat the eyes but circle the eyes with the cream.

Now apply a special mascara and eye make-up remover to the eyelids and lashes with a cotton ball. Whisk this away with a tissue. Remember to be very gentle. The skin around the eyes tears easily.

Even if the eye make-up or mascara runs during this operation, it will get into the cream under or around the eyes.

Simply remove all cream with a tissue and then apply an astringent or skin refresher.

For face and neck: Select a cold cream, cleansing cream or lotion best suited for your skin type.

Smooth this on, working in upward and outward motions from the neck.

Remove cream with the same motions and dot on an astringent or skin refresher.

Modern Day Horse Thief

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Horse stealing has changed a bit from frontier days.

Thieves stole a one-ton pickup truck and four-horse trailer from Miss Jean McHarg's home, then drove to her ranch and stole four of her prize horses.

Miss McHarg valued the horses at $25,000 and the truck and trailer at $8,000.

Firm Fat

When you take a boiled ham from hot water, drop it immediately into cold water. This makes the fat firm and white.

Doctors Say Hormones Make Skin Look Younger Safely

NEW YORK (Special):—A leading dermatologist and his assistants have conducted a "half-woman" test that proves conclusively estrogenic hormones make skin look younger, smooth dry-skin wrinkles, often fade "old-age" skin discolorations.

A preparation containing female hormones was applied to one side of the face and neck and to one hand of 50 middle-aged women. A similar formula containing no hormones was used on the other side. It was quickly apparent that the side treated with hormones looked better. At the end of the test in all but two cases, skin lines were definitely less noticeable, complexion was softer, smoother, fresher. There was no local irritation in any case; examination revealed absolutely no systemic effects. The hormones had beautified effectively and safely.

In an effort to speed up hormones' beautifying action, a trustworthy 50-year-old laboratory developed a fluid formula called HORMONEX Beauty Serum. This laboratory conducted a test on 15,000 women volunteers who were asked to use the formula for just twelve days on one side of the face and neck. An impressive percentage signified that good results were attained even in this short period.

HORMONEX Beauty Serum acts so rapidly because pure female hormones are dissolved in a combination of penetrating Sesame Oil and a patented, liquid Lanolin. Only 7 drops a day are required to treat face and neck.

If you would like to test HORMONEX Beauty Serum without risk, get a bottle at your favorite toiletry counter today, use it just twelve days. If the change is not astounding —if you are not completely satisfied, your dealer is authorized to refund purchase price without question. HORMONEX Beauty Serum is inexpensive to use. A 100-day supply costs only $3.50. Look younger quickly. See these dry-skin wrinkles smooth out, starting today! You may obtain HORMONEX Beauty Serum at:

By The Associated Press

Michigan's week of decision has arrived and, as Illinois Coach Harry Combes says of the Big Ten basketball race, "there are five games to go. Maybe Michigan won't continue to get the breaks."

As far as the top-ranked Wolverines are concerned, there are only two games to go and both are scheduled this week. Michigan takes its 9-0 Big Ten record to Minnesota Tuesday night where a defeat would drop the Wolverines into a tie with the Gophers.

★ ★ ★

Four days later the Wolverines play at Illinois. Neither Minnesota nor Illinois is accustomed to losing at home and that's the crux of Combes' statement about the breaks.

So far, Michigan has played the basketball version of Russian roulette in two of its road games. The Wolverines were forced into overtime at Michigan State and into a double overtime at Indiana but managed to win both times.

COULD END IT

A pair of Michigan triumphs this week would end the race for all practical purposes. That would leave Michigan needing two successes in the last three games for the title. The Wolverines still have dates against Ohio State and Wisconsin who have a total of three victories in 18 games.

★ ★ ★

However, losses to Minnesota and Illinois would leave the title up for grabs. Michigan cannot afford a championship tie. A tie involving Michigan would send the other team to the NCAA championships since the Wolverines represented the Big Ten in the playoffs last year.

★ ★ ★

Another important game Tuesday night finds Iowa at Illinois. The two are tied for third place with 7-2 records and the loser will have to step out of the title scene.

Two big games are scheduled tonight with Michian State at Ohio State and Indiana at Purdue. In addition to the Michigan-Illinois game Saturday, Indiana will be at Minnesota, Northwestern at Ohio State, Iowa at Purdue and Michigan State at Wisconsin.

★ ★ ★

In last Saturday's games four teams scored 100 or more points, Michigan defeated Ohio State 100-61, Indiana downed Wisconsin 100-87, Iowa won over Purdue 101-85, Illinois slugged Michigan State 113-94 and Minnesota turned in an 88-77 victory over Northwestern.

Red Wings Advance With 3-2 Conquests

By The Associated Press

Detroit's Red Wings, a flock of old birds and fledglings rated no better than fourth in National Hockey League pre-season estimates, are homing in on the top perch.

The Wings dumped Toronto, 3-2 Sunday night after taking New York's Rangers by the same count Saturday afternoon to sweep a weekend home stand that boosted them into a third-place tie with the Maple Leafs.

The Black Hawks bombed Boston 7-0 and New York tied second-place Montreal 2-2 on Doug Robinson's last-second goal.

Detroit, with three more games to play than the Black Hawks and seven of 16 against also-rans New York and Boston, has a shot at its first NHL championship since the 1956-57 season.

The Wings, paced by veteran Alex Delvecchio, young Bruce MacGregor and handyman Val Fonteyne, ran their home-ice winning string to eight games, longest in nine years, against the Maple Leafs.

Delvecchio, at 34 one of Detroit's old pros — Ted Lindsay, 39, Gordie Howe and Bill Gadsby, 37, and Marcel Pronovost, 34, are the others — fired his second consecutive game-winning goal.

MacGregor, who, with goalie Roger Crozier, heads the Wings' kiddie korps, and Fonteyne, reacquired recently from New York, scored the others.

MacGregor's goal was his 19th of the season. He had scored only 28 times in three previous full seasons with Detroit. Fonteyne's tally was his first of the campaign. Delvecchio has 15.

Detroit packed all its scoring into the second period after Bob Pulford had given the Leafs a 1-0 lead. George Armstrong pulled Toronto close in the last period but Crozier held off the Leafs in the final minutes.

Chicago's Stan Mikita scored two goals — both unassisted — and set up another, increasing his individual point lead over sidelined teammate Bobby Hull, as the Hawks moved three points ahead of Montreal by blitzing the last-place Bruins. Mikita has 72 points; Hull, out with a knee injury, has 67.

New York's Robinson tipped in a Rod Seiling shot with one second to play, capping the Rangers' two-goal comeback in the final period. Don Marshall scored for New York midway in the period. Second-period. Don Marshall scored for New York midway in the period. Second-period goals by John Ferguson and Henri Richard had given the Canadiens a 2-0 bulge.

OU Tankers Boost Record

'Manpower Shortage' Loses Relay Event

Despite its shortage of manpower, Oakland University's swimming team is earning its winning laurels in its first season of inter-collegiate competition.

Friday night the OU tankers defeated Albion 50-45 for their 6th win in seven starts and Saturday they had to settle for a 47-47 tie because all the available manpower had been used and the final 400 freestyle relay event was awarded to Calvin.

Terry Koehler of Birmingham, Calif. took three firsts in defeating Albion.

With only six swimmers on hand, OU won the final free relay event in 4:05.0 but each had already been used three times and thus Calvin's team was awarded the event in 4:19.4. Only one diver took part in the diving event.

Tuesday night, OU is at Eastern Michigan.

Big Runs Aid Billiards Wins

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Three players ran out with long runs to fatten their records in the 36-day $19,500 World's Pocket Billiard Championships Sunday night at the American Billiard Parlor.

Joe Balsis of Minersville, Pa., ran 65 straight balls in defeating Bill Staton, Washington, D.C., 150-90.

Frank McGown of New York City dropped 53 in a row to whip Bob Woods of Los Angeles, 150-56. Jimmy Moore, Albuquerque, N.M., wound up his 150-24 win over Harold Baker, North Hollywood, Calif., on a run of 50 balls.

Tiger Hurlers Given Session in Bunting

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Control bunting and pitching contests and races were scheduled to open the first day of practice today for all minor league players in the Detroit Tigers early camp at Tigertown.

Major League pitchers in camp also will get into the act in the control bunting contest, part of Charlie Dressen's so-called "field day."

The Detroit manager has said if a pitcher can't hit, the least he can do is help himself by learning to bunt well enough to move the runners along.

While the pitchers are bunting, other players in camp will be racing against a stop watch, from first base to home plate.

Later, pitchers will try to throw as many strikes as possible in five pitches.

A special foot race for the catchers in camp also was scheduled.

TWO REASONS

Dressen has two reasons for holding the special event.

First, it gives him a chance to see which pitchers need extra work on the fine points of bunting and which other players need to brush up on other fundamentals.

Second, it provides a break from the daily routines of calisthenics, batting practice, etc.

★ ★ ★

Dressen has only three more days to look over the youngsters in camp before moving over to Helney Field to begin drills with the major leaguers.

The players spent 20 minutes running, during a rainfall, in the only workout Sunday.

Schollander Collects Sullivan Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Olympic swimming champion Don Schollander keeps piling up awards.

Acclaimed as The Associated Press Male Athlete of the Year for his four gold medals at Tokyo, Schollander today holds the James E. Sullivan Award, given to America's top amateur athlete.

★ ★ ★

Schollander received his latest award Sunday from Clifford H. Buck, president of the Amateur Athletic Union, at a luncheon at the New York Athletic Club. The award is presented by the AAU each year.

The 18-year-old Yale University freshman from Lake Oswego, Ore., is the second youngest athlete ever to receive the Sullivan Award. Decathalon star Bob Mathias was six months younger than Schollander when he was honored in 1948.

★ ★ ★

Mikita Leads Hawks' Rout

CHICAGO (AP) — Stan Mikita's talent for scoring points is gaining momentum. If he keeps it up the Chicago Black Hawks might hold on and capture their first National Hockey League championship.

The Hawks have managed to remain in first place even though the great Bobby Hull has missed six of the last eight games because of knee injuries.

★ ★ ★

And, as if someone blew a trumpet, Mikita has moved in. Not only has the impish center taken much of the slack left by Hull's absence but he has forged into the scoring lead and threatens to win his second straight Art Ross Trophy as NHL scoring leader.

★ ★ ★

In the last 16 games, Mikita has hammered home eight goals and picked up 14 assists to boost his league-leading scoring total to 72 points, five ahead of Hull who was plagued by a slump before suffering his injuries.

Mikita led the Hawks to a 7-0 triumph over Boston Sunday night which gave Chicago a three-point lead over second-place Montreal.

TWO GOALS

Mikita scored Chicago's first two goals in the opening period without an assist. In the final minute of play he got a breakaway for what looked like a sure goal. Instead he passed off to Dennis Hull who flicked the puck past Jack Norris, Boston's much abused goalie.

★ ★ ★

"I had an opening that wide," said Mikita who stretched his hands apart three feet. "But I saw Dennis over to the side and figured he might need the goal to make a bonus figure.

"It doesn't make much difference," shrugged the 24-year-old wheeler-dealer who was born in Czechoslovakia and reared in Canada. "I'll get a lot more chances for my share."

Despite his size — 5-feet-9 and 165 pounds — Mikita is in the middle of practically every scrap on the ice. As a result he is one of the league's most penalized players.

Titans Have Cage Streak Snapped

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Outsiders had a field day, snapping Detroit's seven game victory streak and defeating Western Michigan, in state college basketball action over the weekend.

Detroit's Titans fell before St. Bonaventure, 84-71, at Buffalo. The defeat all but crushed their hopes for a post-season tournament bid. A late Titans drive fell three points short of tying the score.

★ ★ ★

Bowling Green nipped Western Michigan 83-81 in overtime on a pair of foul shots by Bob Downs. The victory at Kalamazoo put Bowling Green's Mid-American Conference record at 2-6. WMU is 1-9. Dave Anderson led the Broncos with 25 points.

Eastern Michigan bucked the trend by knocking off Washington & Jefferson, 70-67, at Ypsilanti. It was EMU's eighth victory against six losses. The Pennsylvania school is 3-5 in the President's Athletic Conference.

HIGH SCORE

Hope outlasted Wheaton of Illinois, 115-110. The Dutchmen picked up 24 points in the final five minutes of play, against 12 for Wheaton, and ran their record to 14-6. Wheaton is 13-8.

Ron Bigler scored 26 points for Indiana Tech and Jim Brown hit 21, aiding the Warriors in their 123-100 victory over Spring Arbor. Tech led all the way.

★ ★ ★

Ohio Northern overcame a four-point halftime lead by hitting at a 64 per cent clip from the floor and defeated Hillsdale 93-90. The non conference contest left Hillsdale with an 8-15 record.

Bethany's Rick Cipulo hit on a 40-ft. jump shot at the final buzzer to break a tie win, 28-26, over Wayne State, leaders in the President's Athletic Conference. The low-scoring contest was led by Bethany's Bill Watkins with eight points.

Olivet hit on 51 per cent of its floor shots and handed Alma its tenth loss in 10 MIAA games, 113-101. Alma is 1-18 over-all. The game left Olivet with records of 3-7 and 8-11.

Tom Nicolai collected 23 points and Jim Peters got 20 as Kalamazoo upset Calvin 78-73 and evened the Hornets' MIAA record at 5-5. Calvin, now 7-3, was led by Jim Fredericks' 16 points.

Another contender has moved into the spotlight of the Michigan high school state swimming contenders along with Seaholm and Royal Oak Kimball.

Trenton won its 14th meet in 15 starts by upsetting Kimball, 53-52 Saturday, handing the Knights their second loss in 14 meets.

This set the stage for the Kimball-Seaholm meet Friday night in Birmingham. Seaholm, a loser only to Battle Creek, won the first meeting between the two.

In the big event, Kimball's Doug Webster lost in the 100 freestyle to Trenton's Henry Ahlf. Ahlf went 49.8 and Webster 50.8.

PNH Plays Regular Season Finale Against EML King

Lake Orion 5 Routs Oxford; Cranes Lose

Dragons Play Troy After Posting 94-55 Triumph Saturday

Pontiac Northern's Huskies will put the lid on the 1964-65 basketball season tomorrow night, playing host to Eastern Michigan League Champion East Detroit.

A victory would give the Huskies an 11-5 mark and a sweep of the games with EML foes this season. Northern knocked off Mount Clemens, Roseville and Port Huron earlier in the campaign, but tomorrow's clash may be the most difficult.

In games played Saturday, Lake Orion routed Oxford, 94-55; Madison edged Cranbrook, 69-66, Detroit Country Day downed Waterford Our Lady of Lakes, 51-40.

East Detroit will come into the game with a 12-3 record. The Shamrocks dropped a couple of a close decisions to Ferndale and a squeaker to Royal Oak Kimball last week.

Avondale will entertain Warren Cousino and Lake Orion journeys to Troy in a pair of Oakland A engagements on tomorrow's slate.

Walled Lake (7-8) will be trying to even its record with a game at West Bloomfield (8-7) and Oxford (5-8) will try to end the season on a winning note at North Branch (4-10).

Royal Oak Kimball (9-5) is sporting a three-game winning streak and will try to make it four with a home encounter against city rival Dondero.

★ ★ ★

Other games will find Emmanuel Christian at Lansing Boys' Training, Ferndale at Port Huron, Flint Northwestern at Flint Northern, Imlay City at New Haven, Flint Hamady at Ortonville and Lapeer at Davison.

Detroiter Champ as High Winds Break Iceboats

It takes wind to have an iceboat race but there was just too much of a blow over the weekend for the International D-N Ice Yacht championships at Cass Lake.

Detroiter Eddie Grant took first place comfortably after early leader Jack Wesenberg of Detroit had his boat break up in the gusty breezes that swept the thick ice.

Some 20 of the original 70 entries broke up during the two-day competition. This included Chuck Cartwright and Ed Stack, strong contenders from the Cass Lake Club.

Jane Pegel of Wisconsin, the lone woman entered, took second place, just edging Mel Holman of Toledo, Ohio. Cass Lake's Ro Redner was fourth.

Of the top seven finishers, two were from Michigan, and one each from Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Canada.

Lefty Driesell's Davidson Wildcats have won 22 straight games, the longest current streak in major college basketball, but it won't mean a thing if they don't sweep through the Southern Conference championship tournament this week.

★ ★ ★

"Our record is nice," the Davidson coach said. "But I'd trade it to go through the tournament unbeaten."

★ ★ ★

Driesell's feelings are understandable because the tournament winner gets an automatic bid to the NCAA playoffs and a chance at the national collegiate championship. And the Wildcats, fifth-ranked nationally, have been upset in the tournament the last two years.

★ ★ ★

Davidson is favored in the three-day tournament opening Thursday at Charlotte. Oddly, its first round opponent is Virginia Military, the team that shocked the Wildcats in the semifinals a year ago.

★

With an over-all 8-12 record to Davidson's 23-1 it hardly seems possible VMI can do it again, but Driesell knows anything happens in this tournament.

The Providence Friars, 19-0, visit Villanova and risk their record as the nation's only unbeaten major team and the Oklahoma State Cowboys, needing a win to protect their shaky Big Eight lead, host the Oklahoma Sooners at Stillwater Tuesday.

Sharing the headlines with the Crimson Tide's upset of Tennessee was Yale's stunning 71-69 victory over Cornell at Ithaca. Netter Ralston Outlines Plan to Bring Davis Cup to U.S.

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Dennis Ralston has some suggestions for U.S. Davis Cup officials if they're really intent on getting the big trophy back from Australia.

The suggestions are these:

1. Name a Davis Cup captain immediately — preferably Bill Talbert.

2. Return Pancho Gonzales as coach.

3. Persuade the semi-retired Chuck McKinley to stay on the team as a doubles player.

★ ★ ★

"Something should be done right away — we should have a captain, get a squad and start organizing," America's No. 1 ranking player from Bakersfield, Calif., said. "The longer we sit, the worse are our chances."

Ralston was in an expansive mood in the Salisbury Civic Center after losing the National Indoor tennis championship final Sunday to Jan-Erik Lundquist, the Swedish Davis Cup star, 4-6, 13-11, 6-4, 11-9.

On the match itself, the crew-cut Californian had no excuses.

"Jan simply played better," he explained. "His serve was awfully tough and he kept the pressure on me from the start. Still, I thought I might have won if it hadn't been for a line call in the fourth set."

LOST SERVICE

Ralston, with a service break, was leading 5-3 when he served an apparent ace to Lundquist. The lineman called the ball out. Ralston went on to lose the service and ultimately the set and match.

★ ★ ★

"I would like to see Bill Talbert brought back as captain," Dennis said. "He's a very good captain and especially valuable in doubles. That's the most important point in the Davis Cup."

Talbert was fired as captain after leading the team from 1953 through 1958. A succession of captains followed, with Vic Seixas serving last year.

Seixas is not sure he can get away from his investment business for the campaign. The Davis Cup committee has given him 30 days to decide.

Ralston said he also thought Gonzales should be hired as coach.

★ ★ ★

Ralston, who is the key to U.S. Davis Cup hopes, believes McKinley, who recently joined a financial firm in New York, could be talked into a part-time role on the team.

Brightest new prospect in the cup picture, Ralston says, is 18-year-old Cliff Richey of Dallas, surprise semifinalist in the indoor here.

Lefty Charles Tucson Winner

Forsakes Week Off, Leads From Start

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Bob Charles almost took off last week from his work as a pro golfer but he'll relax this week instead, $6,800 richer for waiting a few days.

The former British Open champion entered the $46,000 Tucson Open tournament five minutes before the deadline and led from start to finish with rounds of 65-69-67-70—271.

★ ★ ★

His 17-under-par total gave the 28-year-old left-hander from New Zealand, a four-stroke victory over Al Geiberger, who trailed by five strokes going into the final round.

Five strokes back at 266 was Don January, who has won the Tucson Open twice. January closed with a brilliant 63 Sunday on the 7,200-yard, par-72 Tucson National Club golf course.

Bill Casper Jr., top over-all money winner on the tour this year, was a stroke behind January at 277.

SIX WEEKS

Charles had just about decided to pass up the Tucson event because he was tired after six straight weeks on the tour.

"However, my game was in good shape and I didn't have anywhere to go," he said. "So I decided I might as well come down here and take the week off."

★ ★ ★

The result was the most decisive victory on the pro tour this year. It was the first time a player had led from start to finish in a pro tournament since Dan Sikes did it in the Sahara Invitational last October.

The $6,800 paycheck boosted Charles to the top of the heap in official 1965 earnings with $13,575. Rod Funseth, winner of the Phoenix Open, has $12,000 and Casper $11,727.

Flags Increase Lead

PORT HURON (AP) — Two goals each by Billy LeCaine and Jerry Moore prodded Port Huron to a 5-3 victory over Fort Wayne in the International Hockey League Sunday.

The Flags' victory put them 10 points ahead of the second-place Komets in IHL standings.

Pistons Lose Chance to Pick Up Ground

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons blew a chance to pick up ground on the Baltimore Bullets Sunday by dropping a 112-107 National Basketball Association game to the Hawks in St. Louis.

Meanwhile, Baltimore held on to a 3½ game lead for the final Western Division playoff spot, despite a 107-106 loss to Philadelphia.

In other NBA action, New York dumped Cincinnati 109-104 and Los Angeles knocked off Boston 129-114.

A cold third-period sealed the Piston's defeat. While the Hawks hit on only six of 21 field goals and scored 18 points, Detroit managed only 20.

Rookie Joe Caldwell led a rally which brought the Pistons to within two points, 107-105, with two minutes to play. But Zelmo Beaty and Cliff Hagan led a late Hawk surge which clinched the game.

LAST QUARTER

Beaty and Hagan scored 18 of the Hawks' 29 points in the last quarter of play. Each ended up with 21 points for the afternoon.

Terry Dischinger led Detroit with 18 points and Eddie Miles added 17. Caldwell, who scored 12 points in the last quarter, ended up with 16, as did player-coach Dave DeBusschere.

At Baltimore, Wilt Chamberlain scored 40 points to help the 76ers hand the Bullets their 11th loss in their last 14 games. Gus Johnson led Baltimore with 30 points.

★ ★ ★

The New York Knicks rallied late in the game to whip the Royals despite a 40-point effort by Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson. New York had seven men in double figures, led by Willis Reed's 22 points.

At Los Angeles, the Lakers snapped a six-game losing streak to Boston and marked their sixth victory in a row.

PCH Close Second in SVC Meet

Pontiac Central came within a whisker of claiming the Saginaw Valley Conference wrestling championship Saturday at Flint Northern.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs racked up 60 points in finishing second, three points behind Flint Central, and it was a referee's decision in 95-pound duel that decided the match.

Central's Clarence Thomson and Flint Central's Ivan Hawthorne locked horns in the 95-pound battle, and the unbeaten Hawthorne came out on top with the referee's decision to give FC 10 points. Thompson picked up seven points for PCH.

Defending champion Flint Northern (58) came in third, followed by Saginaw Arthur Hill (51), Saginaw (33) and Flint Southwestern (11).

★ ★ ★

Central produced a pair of Valley champions in John Cato (133) and Neal Peterson (heavyweight).

Peterson regained a litle revenge when he gained a decision over Flint Central's Tom Pierson, who had a string of 20 victories going into the match and who had beaten Peterson earlier in the season.

State, Wolverines Nab Big 10 Swim Triumphs

Michigan State swimmers, losers only to Michigan this year in 10 dual meets, and the Wolverines, still unbeaten in seven meets, posted impressive pool victories Saturday in Big Ten competition.

MSU routed Northwestern, 73-31 and Michigan swamped Ohio State, 78-27, in their respective pools at East Lansing and Ann Arbor.

The Wolverines took first place in all 11 events with sophomore Doug Robie, Olympic silver medal winner, winning the 200 butterfly in 1:58.7 and the 200 freestyle in 1:48.5. Birmingham's Tom Fritz, swimming for OSU, was second in the butterfly.

Other double winners were soph Tom Williams and junior Bob Hoag.

Warren Darryle Kifer helped Michigan State's 400 freestyle relay team tie a U.S. record as the Spartans won all but one event. Kifer swam the first leg in 47.9 as the Spartans finished with 3:08.1 to match Yale's record time of last year.

Jim Grelle Best of 'Slow Milers'

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Grelle may not be the best miler in the world, but there are few who would argue that the lean Californian is the best 4:07 miler around.

The veteran from Los Angeles has won three major mile races on the indoor circuit this season, and each was tailor-made for him. The fastest was 4:07.1.

"That's fine, just fine," Grelle said today. "If they want to set a slow pace, it's fine with me. I'm happy to lay back there and let them plod — then kick with them. I can kick with 'most anyone."

★ ★ ★

That was his strategy Saturday when he loafed along in the 11 laps of the AAU indoor championship mile at Madison Square Garden, then started his kick.

He whipped past the frontrunning Witold Baran of Poland just at the gun and took it going away by five yards. The time was 4:07.4.

★ ★ ★

It was his third victory on the indoor circuit this season. The others were 4:07.1 in the New York A.C. Games, and a plodding 4:13.2 in the Toronto Maple Leaf Games.

In each case it was the same. Grelle hung back in the pack, found the slow pace to his liking and then charged away with his blistering kick.

★ ★ ★

"I'm running to win" Grelle said. "If it's 4:30 and I win, I'm delighted."

The AAU championships Friday and Saturday followed suit! Only four factors lifted the meet out of the ordinary. There was an excellent six flat 60-yard dash by Fordham's Sam Perry, Hal Connolly's 70½ weight throw, second best on record, an American citizen's record 13:25.4 by Olympic hero Billy Mills in the three mile and some good performances by the women.

Russia's Valery Brumel, who had announced a concerted attack on his own indoor 7-4 high jump record, settled for 7-2. He missed only once en route to the winning height, but wasn't close on three tries at 7-3.

American Team Glides Past Canadian Skaters

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The strongest United States figure skating team in five years is optimistically looking ahead to next month's world meet after crushing Canada Sunday in the 1965 North American championships.

Yank skaters won three of the four titles and placed second in all four events for their first international showing since the glory days of the 1950s when American dominated World figure skating competition.

A capacity crowd of nearly 8,000 in the War Memorial Auditorium looked on as Gary Visconti of Detroit won the men's singles, Vivian and Ronald Joseph of Highland Park, Ill., captured the pairs and Lorna Dyer and John Carrell of Seattle skated off with ice dancing honors.

The only title that Canada could salvage went to world title favorite Petra Burka of Toronto in ladies' singles. The 18-year-old Canadian edged Peggy Fleming, 16, of Pasadena, with a brilliant freestyle show.

The 1965 world championships will be at the Broadmoor World Arena in Colorado Springs, Colo., March 2-6.

UPSET WIN

Visconti, 19, repeated his upset of Olympic bronze medalist Scott Ethan Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J. The 16-year-old Allen had been the world title favorite until his loss in the 1965 U.S. championships. Sunday's victory pushed Visconti into a contending position. Allen was second in the North American meet.

Miss Dyer, 19, and Carrell, 18, climbed back in to the world title picture by avenging their loss to Kristin Fortune, 18, of Northridge, Calif., and Dennis Sveum, 19, of Sun Valley, Calif., in the national meet.

Men's Singles

1. Gary Visconti, U.S.A., 6 ordinals and 1273.4 points. 2. Scott Allen, U.S.A., 11 and 1253.1. 3. Donald Knight, Canada, 14 and 1234.3. 4. Charles Snelling, Canada, 20 and 1205.3. 5. Tim Wood, U.S.A., and 1171.8. 6. Jay Humphry, Canada, 30 and 1122.4.

Ice Dancing

1. Lorna Dyer and John Carrell, U.S.A., 6 ordinals and 172.4 points. 2. Kristin Fortune and Dennis Sveum, U.S.A., 11 and 169.8. 3. Carole Forest and Kevin Lethbridge, Canada, 13 and 166.3. 4. Local YMCA Tankers Fall to Flint Unit

Pontiac YMCA swimmers were swamped in three divisions by Flint YMCA swimmers at the local "Y" Saturday.

The Midget team had five swimmers out sick and they were beaten 61-21, failing to take a first place.

★ ★ ★

In the Prep division, Jeff Klann, Steve Ashmead and Dave Hardenberg took individual events but still lost 56-38.

John Mason's double win in the 80 yard medley relay and 100 freestyle paced the juniors, but Flint still won, 56-41.

PNH Wrestlers Get More Honors

Pontiac Northern added more laurels to an already glittering wrestling record with a double victory at Roseville Saturday.

Coach Bill Willson and crew won the Inter-Lakes League championship early in the day and came back in the evening to finish first in an Inter-Lakes vs. Eastern Michigan League match.

The league title was the Huskies' fifth in six years of competition. Walled Lake finished second in the league outing, Waterford third and Farmington came in fourth.

In the inter-league meeting, Port Huron trailed Northern by two points and East Detroit captured the third spot. Walled Lake was fourth.

★ ★ ★

In winning the I-L crown, Northern picked up five individual titles and four Huskies finished second. The team nailed down four individual crowns in the inter-league scrap.

TITLE WINNERS

Taking first-place points in the I-L battle for Northern were Dave Oswalt (112), Dennis Mills (120), Art Allen (138), Bruce Tippin (145) and Al Rayner (165).

Oswalt made it to the finals in the inter-league match but sickness forced him to retire. His opponent in the finals would have been Port Huron's Ken Kania, whom Oswalt had defeated earlier in the week.

Mills, Allen, Tippin and Rayner moved into the inter-league competition and came away with individual titles.

Northern and Port Huron battled down to the wire in the inter-league contest.

Going into the finals, Port Huron led Northern by two points. Both squads had five wrestlers in the finals.

SHARP IN FINALS

Northern then proceeded to win four or five final matches and two of four in the consolations. Port Huron picked up only three victories in the finals and only one of five matches in the consolations.

★ ★ ★

Northern received some help from Waterford in the inter-league finals.

In the heavyweight division, Waterford's Gerry Gebrowsky, who also bagged the I-L title, defeated Port Huron's Ron Sturmer in the finals. A win by Sturmer would have pushed Port Huron into a tie with Northern for the title.

Waterford had another I-L champion in Bill Hunt (180), who also grabbed a second place in the inter-league match.

★ ★ ★

Walled Lake had a pair of league titlists in Roger Nicolay (103) and John Hellner (133). Nicolay was second in the inter-league, losing a duel with Port Huron's Gary Raven, but Hellner was more fortunate as he pinned a 6-5 defeat on Roseville's Alif Joshua.

Art Woehler (95), Dan Hever (127) and Dick Johnson (154) captured league titles for Farmington, and Johnson finished first in his division in the inter-league match.

Form Not Up to Par, U.S. Tankers Rally

BREMEN, Germany (AP) — A team of American Olympic swimmers, some well off their peak form of the Tokyo Games, won five of 10 final events Sunday in the windup of a star-studded International meet.

The winners included Olympic champions Jed Graef of Verona, N.J., Cathy Ferguson of Burbank, Calif., Dick Roth of Atherton, Calif., the women's medley relay team of Miss Ferguson, Claudia Kolb and Donna de Varona of the Santa Clara, S.C., and Sharon Stouder of Glendora, Calif. The other U.S. victor was Olympian Phil Riker of Paterson, N.J.

Graef took the 200 meter backstroke in 2:14.3; Roth won the 400-meter medley in 4:57.1; Riker captured the 100 meter butterfly in 58.0; Miss Ferguson won the 100 meter backstroke in 1:09.1 and the girls' medley relay quartet edged Holland by three-tenths of a second in 4:37.5.

Miss Stouder, winner of three gold medals and one silver at Tokyo, has been busy touring the banquet circuit. She only recently resumed training.

The 16-year-old Olympic queen bowed to Ada Kok of the Netherlands, who was timed in the Dutch record of 2:25.8 for the 200 meter butterfly, and lost in the 100 meter freestyle to another Dutch girl, Winnie Van Weerdenburg, who was timed in 1:02.2. Miss Stouder was timed in 1:02.5 in the freestyle with Miss de Varona third in 1:03.4.

Holland's Klenie Bimolt won the 100 meter breaststroke in 1:17.3, with Miss Kolb third in 1:18.6; Czechoslovakia's Jizdrick Wagner took the 100 meter freestyle in 54.6 with Mike Austin of Yale third in 55.6, and West Germany's Holger Kirschke won the 200 meter freestyle in 2:01.4 with Mike Wall of the Santa Clara S.C., seventh.

Ex-Flint Speedster Ice Skates to Title

DETROIT (AP)—Jim Chapin of St. Louis and Detroiters Eddie Bertrand and Jeanne Omelenchuk dominated Sunday's Midwest speed skating championships at Farwell Park.

Chapin, a 32-year-old druggist who once skated out of Flint, Mich., took the men's title in the two-day meet with victories in three of his five races.

Bertrand, 18, won all six races in the intermediate boys class and added the five-mile special to his trophy case.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Omelenchuk, the skating school teacher from suburban Warren, also was undefeated, taking all five races for the senior women's crown.

4-Stroke Lead Victory Margin in Bogota Golf

Argentine Linksman Coasts to Triumph After Fast Start

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Veteran Roberto de Vicenzo was locked in a three-way tie when he started, but breezed in with a four-stroke lead over the last nine holes of the Bogota Open golf tourney.

"I saw Al Besselink shooting par after the ninth hole," the handsome 41-year-old Argentine said after his victory Sunday. "I was four under at that point so I was only concentrating on par golf the rest of the way."

★ ★ ★

De Vicenzo, who owns a dozen international titles, shot a blistering four-under-par 32 over the front nine of the Los Lagartos Course Sunday, then coasted in with a 68 for a 274 total, a four stroke lead and the $3,000 first prize.

He had started out in a tie with Besselink, Grossinger, N.Y., and rookie Willie Scholl, who plays out of the Bahamas. Besselink had to settle for a par on the final round, however, and Scholl went to a 74 and a 278 for third place.

BARNUM SIXTH

Wes Ellis, West Caldwell, N.J., and Raymond Floyd, St. Andrews, Ill., were tied for fourth with 279s and John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich., was sixth at 280.

The golfers now move on to Maracaibo, Venezuela for the third stop on the Caribbean tour this week, followed by the Caracas Open and the San Juan Open. The Seagram Cup goes to the top scorer in the five tournaments.

A 'Phew' Words on BO

Fellow Failed to Smell Swell

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gentlemen, I feel it my duty to warn you that if your deodorant leaves you only half safe, your government likely will do nothing to protect you from the consequences.

WEST

At least not if an opinion recently handed down by a trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board is adopted as federal policy.

In what may be a landmark case, the examiner stated that firing an employe for failing to keep himself in an acceptable state of deodorization would not constitute an unfair labor practice.

As far as I could learn, this was the first time that the U.S. government in all of its solemn majesty has exercised any sort of jurisdiction over BO.

Heretofore, the problem has more or less been regarded as a local issue to be dealt with within the framework of the free enterprise system.

* * *

The case in point involves a food store employe whose discharge was contested by the Retail Clerks union. Management maintained he was let go for aromatic reasons after being told that he would have to use a stronger deodorant.

OTHER REASON

The union, on the other hand, insisted that he was terminated for organizational activities.

Examiner Phil W. Saunders, who heard the case, ruled in favor of the union. But in doing so, he also took a precedent-setting position on the BO question, tying it in with the march of civilization itself.

". . . It can be said without serious contradiction that in our present state of existence these days we have now branched out and fully attained the modern era of clean shaves and adequate deodorants," Saunders wrote.

* * *

"In fact, I think it is even safe to say that a stranger coming to our shores for the first time might conceivably believe that such preparations rank as our most prized possessions."

WIDE SCOPE

While conceding that "it may be somewhat difficult to ascertain the exact scope of offensiveness to others in the non- or misuse of deodorizers," he said, such matters "must be evaluated in the light of progress."

He noted that we no longer live in the "era of the old-fashioned store centered around pot-bellied stoves in the days when the homesteaders were pushing West."

Therefore, Saunders said, the dismissal of an employe who failed to meet modern standards of fragrance would be "within the legitimate prerogative of management."

* * *

I interpret this to mean that underarm redolence will not be tolerated in the "Great Society."

If your best friends won't tell you, maybe Uncle Sam will.

Slaying of Malcolm X Shocks Harlem; Police Fear Violence

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Two Associated Press writers assessed the mood of Harlem following the slaying of Malcolm X. Bernard Gavzer and Austin Scott record the reactions in the mostly Negro area.)

* * *

By BERNARD GAVZER

NEW YORK (AP) — Outside Malcolm X's headquarters in Harlem's Theresa Hotel, a knot of young Negro men talked cryptically — like conspirators in a Shakespeare tragedy — and seemed too tense for tears.

Their leader — the militant Malcolm X — had been shot to death only a few hours earlier. He was killed as he sought to raise the spirits of some 400 followers.

* * *

"There will be names named," one bearded Negro said. He had been one of the handful of men who had just come from the hotel headquarters. "This is not the end of it."

Diagonally across 125th Street and Seventh Avenue, the crossroads of Harlem, five dozen well-dressed Negroes gathered before the book store of Louis Michaud —who has long promoted his brand of African nationalism — and talked soberly. A large smooth-faced brown man in a tweed coat and gray hat talked bitterly, his voice rising.

HOT SUMMER

"This thing ain't over," he said, angrily. "It ain't over from last summer. That was all scientifically planned, that long hot summer the man (white men) talked about. But last summer was just a warning of what was going to happen. You say what Malcolm X has to do with you? The man is telling you. He is telling you that you have outlived what he wants, and he is going to kill you."

There was no violence in the streets, but police feared there might be a clash between Malcolm X supporters and the Muslims. Once high in the Muslim hierarchy, Malcolm X was forced out — by his own accord — in December 1963. Last week his home was burned by fire bombs — and he said it was a move by Muslims to kill him.

* * *

"There is something about the Muslims that is like the Mafia," said one knowledgeable Negro. "You can't resign. You can't be as high in the Muslims as Malcolm was and then quit, or oppose it, as he did."

REAL POWER

Malcolm X's real power in Harlem or in American Negro life was not easily assessed.

"The intellectual Negroes really didn't support him outright, because they couldn't accept his philosophy, but they liked Malcolm X because he had a style," said one Negro intellectual. "He was bright, articulate, young, and he had a place in this whole sort of Negro revolution."

* * *

Why would the Muslims or any Negro element want to kill Malcolm X?

"It must be understood," said this intellectual, "that Malcolm X was making a fundamental change and that was that there was a possibility of coexistence of the races. Elijah Muhammad and the Muslims preach separatism. They were experiencing too many defectors to the Malcolm camp."

'NONSENSE'

William Epton, of the Progressive Labor Movement, said the notion of a fratricidal fight between the Muslims and Malcolm was nonsense.

"That has been built up over a long period so people would accept the idea, but the Muslims are nonviolent and assassination is not their work," said Epton. "Rather, this is parf of a larger, deeper plot with the power structure determined to kill its enemies. Malcolm X was dangerous to the power structure because he had begun directing his fire at the racist element in American life."

Epton in the past has described himself as a Communist.

At nightfall, no outbreak between Muslim and Malcolm X supporters had occurred. However, police were geared for it. Dozens of squad cars patrolled the area. Patrolmen stood in pairs at almost every corner.

A white reporter moving into the crowd before Michaud's closed store drew the attention of a large surly Negro, who threatened him. When the reporter failed to move, the man leaned close to him and swore menacingly.

SHOWPLACES CLOSED

The Muslim showplaces were closed, reportedly at the request of police.

Outside the Theresa, the men who said they knew Malcolm X talked about the possibility of a rally and said there would be a statement. But they seemed leaderless.

A boy came up Seventh Avenue, whirring along on roller skates. One of the bearded Malcolm X men gave an involuntary jerk to his arm. The boy carried a M1-style rifle with a sling. He held it at the ready. As he got close, it could be seen the weapon was plastic.

By AUSTIN SCOTT

NEW YORK (AP) — Across the street from Harlem's black nationalist bookstore, little knots of people gathered to talk about the violent death of Malcolm X.

"I wasn't with him," said a tall, bearded Negro, "but it's a damn shame. Even the Ku Klux Klan doesn't try to kill Martin Luther King, and nobody could behave worse than that. It's just black against black all over again."

"I'm with you, brother," said the other man. And that was pretty much the way Harlem took the death of the black nationalist leader.

There was a lot of talk about the Black Muslims, and their running feud with Malcolm and his followers. But nobody was really sure who had gunned him down as he stood on the stage of the Audubon Ballroom.

DIVE FOR COVER

"I just don't know," was the comment made by a number of people who had dived for cover when the shots rang out.

* * *

The tall, sandy-haired leader did not have a large following. It was estimated at several hundred at best. But he had a magnetic personality, and a lot of sympathizers.

* * *

"There weren't two dozen of his own followers in that ballroom," said one man who was there. "Most of them — and there were whites there too — were just like me. We like to hear him speak."

The cheerful greeting "Brother Malcolm" rang out as he traveled through Harlem. Most of those who greeted him did not subscribe to his belief that violence should be met with violence, and that whites were really devils.

CAPACITY MEETINGS

But they would still fill to capacity the meetings where he spoke. With his wide grin, his easy, cultured speaking voice and his dramatic gestures as he hammered home a point, he was an effective speaker.

This reporter remembers when Malcolm X spoke to a group of young Harlem Peace Corps volunteers, men and women in their early 20s who devote their time to education and recreation programs for Harlem's underprivileged youth.

* * *

The speech turned into a condemnation of whites. Before he had finished, he had his largely college-educated audience laughing out loud at the mention of the nonviolent tactics advocated by Dr. Martin Luther King.

Malcolm X won a thundering ovation after his speech. "Isn't he great," screamed one young woman as she applauded. "He really knows how to say it."

GOOD WORDS

Even his enemies had good words for him Sunday night.

"He was no leader," said one man in the crowd. "He was just another black man trying to climb all over top of us. But it shouldn't have ended like that."

* * *

On the corner a small, weather-stained poster clung to a lamppost. It bore a picture of Malcolm X, and these words:

"Ballots or bullets in 1965, Malcolm X speaks. Why must 1965 be the longest, hottest and bloodiest summer of the current black revolution. Sunday January 31, 1965, 8 p.m. Audubon Ballroom."

Reporter Looks at Vietnamese War From Behind Cong Lines

(EDITOR'S NOTE — How does the war in Viet Nam look from the Communist side? Wilfred G. Burchett, an Australian-born reporter has been visiting the Viet Cong this winter. This story was excerpted from Burchett's articles in the National Guardian, a U.S. weekly, and the Mainichi Daily News of Tokyo.)

* * *

By WILFRED G. BURCHETT

WITH THE VIET CONG — A tough, slightly built peasant who calls himself Huynh Minh says he led the surprise mortar attack on Bien Hoa airfield 18 miles northeast of Saigon last Oct. 31.

The Viet Cong call it the greatest victory over U.S. airpower of the war with $25 million worth of planes destroyed on the ground.

* * *

(U.S. ociffials reported 26 aircraft, including 20 B57 light jet bombers, were destroyed or damaged. Four U.S. Army men were killed and 31 other Americans wounded.)

How did the Viet Cong manage to penetrate the base's outer defenses with what must have been a sizable unit carrying heavy weapons?

LOCAL HELP

"I can't go into details," said Huynh Minh — obviously not his real name. "But we had great help from the local people — without that the whole thing would have been impossible." He says there were difficult obstacles to overcome to get close to the planes.

These included three outer defense lines, with the first formed by 100 "strategic hamlets" that surround the base and the 70 military posts that control them.

* * *

The second line comprised 12 blockhouses and 18 fortified observation towers and the third an inner line made up of five rows of barbed wire entanglements covering 50 yards in depth with mine fields in between the rows and triggering devices on the wire to set off flares if touched.

* * *

He says all of the men in his unit were from the area of the base, and that the Viet Cong knew precisely how many planes were there despite U.S. efforts to keep this secret.

MORTAR FIRE

To get into position to ensure accurate mortar fire "we had to carry out very complicated infiltration movements with the greatest care in order not to alert the enemy. But we did this and at 11:26 p.m. as we had planned all our teams were in position and opened fire simultaneously.

"Within split seconds there were thunderous explosions and flames shot high into the air. Our first priority was for the B57s."

* * *

He added that within minutes part of the mortar fire was switched to the "U.S. only" barracks and the main observation post was knocked out with the first salvo.

He said that the action at Bien Hoa was over in a few minutes "and we started the complicated task of withdrawal — the whole area was lit up then by flares. There was no resistance to our attack at all and we managed to get away."

ATTACK DIVERSION

A diversionary attack on a South Viet Nam artillery battery at Tan Uyen, about eight miles to the north, aided in the successful withdrawal, he said.

This correspondent was briefed also by a Viet Cong officer on the fighting in December around Binh Gia, 40 miles east of Saigon, in which the South Vietnamese took heavy losses.

(U.S. estimates were 200 South Vietnamese killed. Six Americans were killed, eight Americans wounded and two presumed taken prisoner.

He credited Viet Cong successes to the poor morale among the South Vietnamese troops and the flexibility of Viet Cong tactics.

VIET MORALE

He described the enemy's morale in this way: "If you flee, you can flee. No idea of coming to each other's help."

"Our tactics were always flexible," he said in telling about one phase of the operation.

DAWN ATTACK

"The enemy knew that last time we attacked at dawn, so they kept in a high state of alert from midnight to dawn. But this time our guerrilla force, which was operating with our regular army, attacked at dusk and again took them by surprise."

He said that one of the tactics used with success was to use bodies of American soldiers as a lure to ambush South Vietnamese forces trying to recover them. On one occasion a helicopter was left in a field as bait and trenches dug all through the night to prepare positions.

* * *

He said that when the South Viet Nam troops were ferried in to recover the bodies "we attacked with a tremendous concentration of fire; there were not more than 45 to 50 survivors from our first heavy first blow; within an hour it was all over. The 4th Marine Rifles had been expended for four American bodies."

He summed up his feeling about it in these words:

"Dead Americans in the eyes of the U.S. command are worth much more than plenty of live puppets."

TRAINING METHODS

I asked a regimental chief of staff how it was possible for his forces, recruited from village youths, to learn to use such weapons as mortars, heavy machine guns and bazookas.

* * *

He said the Americans rely entirely on local troops, which means they must train local military technicians in the use of modern arms —"something the French were far too shrewd to do. They rightly feared the arms would be used against them some day.

"A proportion of these highly trained military technicians deserted to our side all the time. But in addition the Americans were forced to produce training manuals in Vietnamese and these also started falling in our hands. They have become our standard manuals in handling (captured) U.S. weapons."

Nguyen Huu Tho, the former Saigon attorney who heads the Communist National Liberation Front, says any negotiations to end the war must be based on withdrawal of all American forces from South Viet Nam.

CONTINUED RESISTANCE

"As things stand at present," he said in a jungle interview, "we will continue to devote all our energy, all our resources, to continue the resistance struggle to final victory.

"Recently the American press talks more and more about peace and negotiations. We have every reason to believe that this is a concerted campaign to deceive public opinion while the Americans in fact continue to draw up new plans for aggression in the hope of recovering from their present disastrous situation."

Ethiopia, noted for its sunny climate and mountains, attracted a record 27,000 tourists last year compared with 17,374 a year previous.

Africa's highest point is Kilimanjaro (19,320 feet) and its lowest the Sahara Desert (150 feet).

Education Program Funds Can Go Astray

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

A considerable segment of the government's War on Poverty program is devoted to problems of education.

DR. NASON

Proposals for reeducation of the jobless, and measures which will give children from underprivileged areas a better start on their journey through school, are being approved in large numbers.

The primary purpose, relieving the plight of people, must always be kept foremost.

The decisions made by one project supervisor will illustrate how thinking can go astray. He insisted that a proposed program for prekindergarten children from underprivileged homes place 25 to 30 children to a group.

The school principal questioned this point. He felt that 25 was too large a number to allow for the individual attention which such children need.

The supervisor explained that 25 was the minimum number that could be used in his statistical analysis of the results. Thus, the children's needs gave way to administrative expediency.

LARGE GROUPS

Large groups meant that schoolrooms must be used. First consideration should have been given to preparation for kindergarten carried out in homes, parks or libraries in the area, rather than in schools already short of classrooms.

Furthermore, the children were to be selected not on the basis of need but by means of applications made by parents in response to newspaper invitation. To assure the success of the project, only the most mature children were to be selected.

Children with the least interested parents and those of least maturity, the very ones needing the most help, were passed over.

* * *

The children were to be held in the classroom three hours per day five days a week. The principal recommended small groups for one-half to one hour a day, two or three days a week, pointing out that kindergarten, for which they were being prepared, had but a two and one-half hour session.

FOR STATISTICS

But three hours per day, five days a week, made a more manageable portion of the child's waking hours for statistical purposes — so three hours was the specification for the project.

The fetish of modern educators for statistical proof, which in turn demands group handling, has great danger.

Even though, on the average, a group may show progress, the statistics may conceal the fact that a sizable minority has actually been injured.

* * *

Why are we not satisfied to work with an individual family or child? In assisting the early development of children, the judgment of trained and interested persons may be superior to the results obtained by the statisticians.

The Johannesburg Bridge Club of South Africa publishes a monthly bulletin and is kind enough to send it to members of the International Bridge Press Association.

JACOBY

A monthly feature is an article for students by Ben Cohen of Hove and his November article is a fine illustration of the play known as the "Uppercut."

Mr. Cohen points out that one of the rules of defense taught to beginners is never to play a card that will give declarer a ruff and discard. That is never to give him a chance to ruff in one hand and discard in the other.

Then Mr. Cohen points out that all rules should be broken on occasion.

South's jump to four spades effectively discouraged any idea West might have had about bidding and West has no problem about the first three tricks. He simply cashes three high clubs and then looks around for some place to find a fourth trick.

A brief review of the bidding will tell him that there is no chance to collect a trick in either red suit. South has bid four spades all by himself and certainly has at least six spades in his hand. He has shown up with three clubs and therefore can't hold more than four red cards and dummy has four top cards in the red suits.

Thus the only possible trick is in trumps and West can make a trump trick if he can get his partner to trump the lead of a fourth club with the king, queen or jack of spades.

West must lead the last club and if East is smart enough to trump with the jack he will force South to use up one of his high honors and West's ten spot will take the setting trick.

HEADS FOR CAIRO — Walter Ulbricht (right) East German Communist boss, shakes hands with Heikal (first name unknown), head of the United Arab Republic trade mission in East Berlin, before Ulbricht left yesterday for Cairo, Egypt. Ulbricht's trip is straining West Germany's ties in the Middle East.

East German Leader Sails to U.A.R. for Controversial Visit

CAIRO (UPI) — East German President Walter Ulbricht sailed toward Egypt today for the visit with President Gamal Abdel Nasser that has produced a crisis in relations between West Germany and the Arabs.

Ulbricht flew yesterday to Dubrovnik, the Yugoslav coastal resort, and boarded an East German ship for the trip. The vessel is due in Alexandria Wednesday, and Ulbricht will go by train to Cairo for an official welcome from Nasser.

The Bonn government fears Ulbricht's visit may mean the United Arab Republic plans to recognize the Communist East German regime despite West German threats to cut economic aid and break relations with Cairo.

Nasser told a rally yesterday the United States was at the bottom of the United Arab Republic's feud with Bonn over shipment of West German arms to Israel.

★ ★ ★

Nasser charged that Washington organized "an international conspiracy" to send Israel arms via West Germany because "it did not want to do it openly."

YIELDED TO PRESSURE

He said Chancelor Ludwig Erhard's government gave in to pressure from the United States against the wishes of the West German people. If it (West Germany) is not independent, then we will have to deal with it on that basis," Nasser declared.

West Germany halted arms shipments to Israel because of Nasser's objections.

The government - controlled Cairo press said leaders of the Arab world would draw up a statement backing the U.A.R. against West German reprisals because of Ulbricht's impending visit.

The newspapers said the statement would warn that any West Germany reprisals against the U.A.R. would be viewed as actions against the entire Arab world.

GETS SUPPORT

Statements of support for Nasser have already been issued by President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria and President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia who is visiting Cairo.

★ ★ ★

Nasser refused to call off Ulbricht's visit even though the West Germans cut off arms aid to Israel. Israel charged that the West Germans were giving in to blackmail, and Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol turned down Bonn's offer of $16 million in money in lieu of that amount of arms which were not delivered.

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Fire starting from an overheated smokestack caused an estimated damage of $20,000 to the Haviland Products Co. yesterday.

Firemen said damage to the building was estimated at $15,000 and loss to the contents $5,000. The company makes chemical compounds

House GOP Is Readying School Aid Alternatives

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Republicans are readying their own school aid proposals as an alternative to President Johnson's $1.2 billion plan.

The administration program would aid schools with high enrollments from poor families, help pay the cost of books for public and parochial schools and encourage "shared time" teaching projects. It already has been approved by the House General Education subcommittee.

A change in the original plans to push the bill through as quickly as possible has given Republicans time to prepare their own bill and to draft proposed changes in the administration plan.

The House Education and Labor Committee originally was scheduled to take up school aid earlier this month. But chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., has held off the start of meetings on it.

★ ★ ★

The GOP committee minority, which boycotted voting on the subcommittee bill on the ground that it was being ramrodded through without any attention to Republican proposals, has used the two-week delay to prepare for a committee showdown.

START WORK

Powell may call the committee together this week to start work.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N. Y., ranking Republican member of the general education subcommittee, said during the weekend that 32 amendments already have been drafted. He said the decision on whether to offer them will depend on the attitude of committee Democrats when drafting sessions start.

Republicans also are working on a completely separate alternative aid-to-education plan.

This might take the form of a federal tax credit system for individuals who support elementary and secondary schools through local and state property, income and sales taxes. Former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., the 1964 Republican presidential nominee, had a similar plan.

The GOP also might offer a proposal to return some portion of federal taxes to the states for use in the schools. This has been suggested, in various forms, by members of both parties in the past.

The possible Republican alternatives suggest that the main GOP objection to the Johnson plan will be that it would impose too much federal control on local schools.

Junior Editors Quiz on BARRACUDA

QUESTION: Will a barracuda really bite people?

ANSWER: The barracuda looks something like the pikes and pickerel found in the streams and lakes of our eastern and central states—but this fish inhabits salt water.

There is a number of different species, the smaller kinds not being considered dangerous to human beings.

It is different, however, with the largest variety, the Great Barracuda, which lives off the coasts of the Carolinas, Florida and the West Indies.

Larger specimens of this can be from eight to ten feet long, although barracuda over five feet are rare. Wise swimmers like the one in our picture, will head for shore at top speed if they know a barracuda is lurking around, as these fish do sometimes attack human beings.

The barracuda has razor-sharp teeth and a habit of following any moving object, being likely to make a sudden rush or strike at anything which gleams in the water or catches the light.

Although the barracuda's tendency to strike at something moving makes him dangerous to swimmers, it also leads him to seize lures cast out by fishermen.

The Silver Barracuda of the coast of South California is said to be the kind most useful for food.

FOR YOU TO DO: Some time you may have occasion to visit tropical seas, and it's good to know about underwater dangers so you can avoid them. Look up "shark" and "piranha" in an encyclopedia. Another very dangerous creature is the moray eel.

MACHINE MATCHMAKER'S MISTAKE— A computer at the University of Tennessee matched up couples for a big dance, but apparently goofed in the case of Marti Clark and Bill Baird. The pair reported back to the dance committee that they couldn't seem to find a thing in common. However, some 250 other couples had no gripes.

Today in Washington

Humphrey: Must Guard Negro Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says the administration has decided additional legislation is necessary to guarantee Negro voting rights.

He did not spell out the recommendations that may be made by the President, but did say on a nonnetwork television program Sunday:

* * *

"What we are trying to do is to simplify the procedure of registration to see to it that every person of voting age is permitted to vote without these impediments and without all of these gimmicks that seem to deny the opportunity to register."

He said roadblocks such as those encountered by Negroes attempting to register in Selma, Ala., "bring us to the conclusion that additional remedies will be necessary."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury says last year's reduction in withholding tax payments is having a much smaller effect on the average taxpayer "than is popularly supposed."

At the same time, the department conceded that many persons are not average and thus will owe more income tax this year than in the past.

* * *

In a statement Saturday night, the department said the withholding cut will not make a difference of more than $100 for a single person making $10,000 annually. It said the effect on a married couple with two children and an income of $10,000 would be even less.

The withholding tax reduction was part of the tax cut bill approved by Congress last year. Although the tax cut was staggered over a two-year period, the entire reduction in the withholding rate came the first year.

The result was a little more cash in the taxpayer's pocket during the year, but a larger payment or smaller refund due on April 15.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A judge, editor and lawyer have urged voluntary efforts to control pretrial publicity as preferable to possible restrictive moves.

Judge J. Skelly Wright of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals; Alfred Friendly, managing editor of the Washington Post; and Oliver Gasch, president of the District of Columbia Bar Association, appeared on a Sunday television program, "Law on Trial — Trial by News Media" over Washington station WTTG.

* * *

Wright said he questions the constitutionality of any limitations on the press, but there is still a possibility that some senators and congressmen may be able to win passage of a contempt statute.

Warning against any rigid and authoritarian way of attacking the problem, Friendly said: "I have a feeling that the press at this point is in a mood to reexamine itself and to move toward restraint."

Said Gasch: "If you can achieve voluntary compliance, it's much better than rigid sanctions."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked Sunday to reject numerous provisions in President Johnson's "Great Society" program.

The Council of State Chambers of Commerce suggested rejection of some health, education and welfare programs as a beginning toward reduced federal spending.

The organization also said in a statement that there should be a sharp cut in foreign aid. It said this also would reduce the nation's balance of payments deficit.

The group said its proposals could cut $3.4 billion from the proposed $99.7-billion administration budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Buried Gold, Silver Hunted in Texas Cave

SALADO, Tex. (UPI) — An army of men using the latest electronic devices claim they are within a few feet of at least $35 million in gold and silver bullion.

H. D. McCord, his partner Les Guerra, and a work crew are burrowing into the limestone to a depth of 82 feet.

They are trying to reach the so-called "first room" which, according to stories told here for the past 50 years, contains the treasure.

"There are 2,000 bars of gold, 600 bars of silver, two stacks of coins and artifacts in that room," McCord said.

One of the artifacts is supposed to be a gold life-sized bull's head with ruby eyes. Guerra claims he has seen it.

He said it was in 1958. He was lost in a maze of caverns for 48 hours. Guerra said he stumbled into the room but was unable to bring out any of the treasure because of his physical condition. Guerra said there were also other rooms of treasure.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Cyprus government reached a three-year agreement with the Soviet Union today for exchange of goods totaling $19.6 million.

The signers were Trade Minister Andreas Arouzos and the Soviet deputy minister of foreign trade, Ivan Semichasnov, who arrived on the island last week.

Shots Are Fired at Car in City; Local Man Held

A 24-year-old man is being held for investigation of attempted murder after he reportedly fired a high-powered rifle yesterday at a speeding car on South Edith.

Albert Smith of 461 S. Edith was arrested by Pontiac police about 6:15 p.m. yesterday in front of 184 Prospect.

Police said that Smith apparently fired a British .303 rifle at a car as it sped away from 462 S. Edith.

Smith, according to police had an argument with Sarah McFarland of 462 S. Edith and shot at a car containing her and Doretha Buford, 45, of Bay City.

Officers found a loaded rifle in Smith's car when they stopped him.

Did Vice Ring Use Rooms?

Yard Checks Clues in Women's Murders

LONDON (AP) — The hunt in London's mystery of the murdered nudes centered today on a grimy basement apartment which detectives believe was headquarters of a vice ring.

More than a dozen men of Scotland Yard's murder squad spent all day yesterday in the apartment, checking for fingerprints and sifting a mass of clothing.

Some of the furniture was dismantled and taken off to yard laboratories for more detailed study. Other detectives dug in the small back garden.

The apartment, in Hammersmith, lies at the heart of the West London area in which six prostitutes have been found stripped and strangled in the past year.

* * *

It is only 200 yards from the home of Bridie Moore, 27, the sixth victim, whose body was discovered last Tuesday.

NO REGULAR TENANT

Detectives said the apartment has no regular tenant. They believe it was used for weekend parties attended by some of the dead women.

Earlier, Scotland Lard appealed for anyone to come forward who had seen Bridie Moore leaving a bar with a man the last night she was seen alive.

The yard described the man as 5 feet 6 inches tall, with broad shoulders and brown hair, wearing a three-quarter length suede jacket with a green or brown soft hat.

* * *

Anthony John Holland, 29, a car dealer who police had said could help them, walked voluntarily into the murder hunt headquarters at Shepherd's Bush Police Station last night with his lawyer.

He left after two hours. Another man, one of several questioned by police, was kept at the station all night.

Malaysia Charges 165 in Raid on U.S. Library

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Police charged 165 persons in court today with rioting and unlawful assembly in connection with an attack on the U.S. Information Agency Library 10 days ago.

Some 1,500 supporters of the leftist Socialist Front party marched through the Malaysian capital on Feb. 13 protesting the arrest of party leaders on charges of pro-Indonesian plotting.

News in Brief

Richard Schulte of Trenton yesterday reported the theft of a pair of skis and poles at Pine Knob. Value of the missing property is undetermined.

Three unidentified men pulled a knife on Norman E. Burnett, 33, of Ferndale at 3:30 a.m. yesterday behind 330 Franklin and robbed him of $110 to $120.

Theft of a woman's coat valued at $150 was reported to police Saturday by James Tomlinsky, 15 Doremus.

'Washington Image Acquiring Warmth'

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Pa. (AP) — That widely held impression of George Washington as a cold fish is at last giving way to a more human and appealing image, a historian said today.

Ann Hawkes Hutton, author of several books and a play about Washington, and chairman of the Washington Crossing Park Commission, said that more and more Americans are finding unexpected warmth in the personality of the father of his country.

* * *

For a long time, she said in an interview, Washington has been overshadowed in the popular imagination by the heart and humor of Abraham Lincoln, the dash of Andrew Jackson, the sophistication of Thomas Jefferson.

"The usual thing," Mrs. Hutton continued, "was to call Washington a great man and let it go at that. Great, but touching no sympathetic chord.

DISCARD IDEAS

"Now, however, Americans finally are discarding those time-worn ideas of Washington as forbiddingly aloof, coldly remote, a legendary figure rather than one of life and blood, who suffered acutely, who knew what it meant to be hard up and in debt, who was as sensitive as most men to criticism, who was fond of children and grieved that he had none of his own, and had his share of faults.

"Every year we welcome thousands of visitors to this shrine," she said. "They come from all the states and dozens of other countries. They have been telling us the last few years how much more they appreciate the character of Washington, and that they feel he has been misunderstood.

* * *

"This is true even among grade school children. Many of these ask keen questions, far removed from that "Father, I cannot tell a lie" tale, which probably has alienated more people than it has pleased."

* * *

Mrs. Hutton said she had studied attendance records at this and other favorite Washington shrines — Mt. Vernon in Virginia, Valley Forge, Pa., and the Washington Monument in the nation's capital — and found increases up to about six per cent in the number of visitors in the last five years.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: Convection. NEEDED: Drinking glasses, ink, cardboard, and cold, warm, and hot water.

DO THIS: Color a glass of hot water with a little ink, turn it upside down by using a thin card as shown, and place it over a full glass of warm water. The water mixes very slowly.

Next, color a glass of cold water with ink, and invert it over a glass of hot water. They mix quickly. (Figure 4 shows how to place the glass with ink over the other glass.)

HERE'S WHY: Heating water causes it to expand and become lighter.

When cooler and heavier water is above warm lighter water, the heavier water flows downward because of the greater pull of gravity.

When the lighter hot water is above, and the heavier cool water below, they both tend to stay in place.

School Board Hit by Labor Council

The Oakland County AFL-CIO Central Labor Council has gone on record opposing the action of the Pontiac School Board's support of the Pontiac Education Association (PEA).

In January, the school board recognized the PEA over the Pontiac Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) as the official negotiating agent for teachers in the school system.

The PEA has 564 members. The PFT has some 300 members.

In a statement, the council said it is "not favorable to any organization that conspires behind the backs of our union brothers and sisters."

"We wish to go on record that we are with the American Federation of Teachers and its members and recognize them as our brothers and sisters and we are sure that in time, the school board will agree."

USW Tallying Begins Today

2 Labor Department Officials on Hand

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The official count of the United Steelworkers Union (USW) election begins today and the outcome has overtones of a soap opera.

Will David J. McDonald win his fourth four-year term as president of the million-member union?

Or will I. W. Abel, international secretary - treasurer, oust his former ally from the top spot?

The three international tellers of the USW—John Shipperbottom, Wayne Antrim and Steve Caruso—will supervise the count of the Feb. 9 elections tabulated by the Honest Ballot Association of New York.

★ ★ ★

The tally will be made behind locked doors in USW headquarters in the Commonwealth Building in downtown Pittsburgh.

DEADLINE PAST

The deadline for return sheets from the locals was last Friday midnight. Ballots received after that time are invalid, according to the USW Constitution.

The Labor Department has assigned two representatives to be on hand when ballots from 3,283 locals in the United States and Canada are opened.

Charles Donahue, solicitor of labor, and Frank M. Kleiler, director of labor and management and pension reports, will be present as government representatives.

★ ★ ★

The Labor Department said arrangements for their presence was "made by mutual agreements" of McDonald and Abel.

NO REPORTS

According to a union source between 100 and 200 locals either did not conduct elections or did not report results.

An unofficial tabulation by UPI from 2,907 of 3,283 locals showed 290,188 for Abel and 285,770 for McDonald.

Returns from some locals are expected to be invalidated by the international tellers for varying reasons.

★ ★ ★

It was recalled that when Donald C. Rarick unsuccessfully opposed McDonald for the presidency in 1957, votes from 58 locals were tossed out.

MOSCOW (AP) — President Urho Kekkonen of Finland arrived in Moscow today on his way home from a visit to India. Soviet President Anastas Mikoyan greeted him at the airport.

Cold and Snow Hit State

By United Press International

A late winter cold wave descended on Michigan today, plummeting temperatures to as low as 15 below in the Upper Peninsula, and accompanied by snow that blanketed the state under one to six inches.

* * *

The weatherman predicted the frigid spell would last at least another 24 hours and that temperatures for the next five days would average from 6 to 12 degrees below normal.

* * *

Most of the Lower Peninsula was blanketed under a light snow of up to one inch in most places, although five inches fell in Charlevoix County.

* * *

In the Upper Peninsula, there were four inches in Ontonagon, in the western section, and six inches in Luce County, in the eastern section.

Arctic Weather Spreads East

CHICAGO (AP) — Arctic weather which plunged temperatures below zero in the upper Mississippi Valley and western Great Lakes region spread chill to the Atlantic seaboard today.

The spread of cold covered everywhere east of the Rockies except the extreme Southeast. The low 30s embraced much of Texas.

International Falls, Minn., reported 24 below zero. It was -13 at Marquette, Mich., -11 at Houghton, Mich., and zero at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Madison, Wis. Minneapolis, Minn., had -4.

The mercury contracted from the high 50s yesterday to the low 30s at Washington, D.C., where winds blew 40-mile gusts.

Rain and showers gave way to snow flurries in the northern Atlantic coastal states.

Skies were clear over the Midwest and Great Plains.

Swirling snow fell through the northern Rocky Mountain region, and in the Far West, increasing cloudiness and precipitation spread from the Washington and Oregon coast across the intermountain section. Light rains fell from northern California through western Washington, and there was some snow inland.

At Key West, Fla., however, the early morning temperature was 70 degrees.

Some temperatures and weather conditions reported by the Weather Bureau:

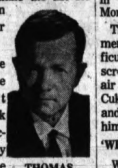
Boston, 33, rain; New York, 40, rain; Philadelphia, 37, rain; Washington, D.C., 33, rain; Atlanta, 30, clear; Miai, 68, rain; Louisville, 21, snow; Chicago, 7, clear; St. Louis, 15, clear; Minneapolis-St. Paul, 4 below, clear; Kansas City, 18, clear; Denver, 28, clear; Dallas, 33, clear; Phoenix 52, partly cloudy; Seattle, 39, rain; San Francisco, 48, partly cloudy; Los Angeles, 53, cloudy; Anchorage, 8, cloudy; Honolulu, 70, partly cloudy.

Prize Has Eluded Cukor of 'Fair Lady'

Director in Line for First Oscar

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — When the Oscar nominations are announced Tuesday, George Cukor is certain to make the list for his direction of "My Fair Lady."



THOMAS

Further, he appears the man most likely to pick up the directorial Academy Award at the presentations April 5. Why? Because this year he won the award of his own Director Guild, which has predetermined the Oscar for the past 12 years. He also was handed a Golden Globe by the foreign press and other awards have been coming his way almost once a week.

* * *

George can happily grow accustomed to this pace. He has been overlooked in the award department for a long time.

It is one of the local puzzles that the Oscar has eluded Cukor, who has been in films since 1929. He has been nominated four times — "Little Women," "Philadelphia Story," "A Double Life," "Born Yesterday" — and has directed stars to Oscars — Ronald Colman, James Stewart, Judy Holliday, Ingrid Bergman.

CAN'T EXPLAIN

"I can't explain the neglect," he commented, "except that I don't believe in getting between the actors and the audience. I came from the theater, where the text determines the style.

"I believe in working through actors. The better I succeed, the less obvious is my function."

* * *

He is indeed considered an actor's director, and particularly an actress' director. Among his subjects: Garbo in "Camille," Katharine Hepburn in "Adam's Rib", Judy Garland in "A Star is Born", Ava Gardner in "Bhowani Junction", Marilyn Monroe in "Let's Make Love".

The "My Fair Lady" assignment meant sustaining two difficult performances on the screen, as well as preserving an air of elegant taste. For this, Cukor was eminently qualified, and no one realized it more than himself.

'WISE DECISION'

When Jack L. Warner met him on an airplane and proposed that he direct "My Fair Lady," Cukor replied: "I think you've made a very wise decision."

There was more than blind self-confidence in the remark. The director reasons: "When you take on a job, you must think you can do it better than anyone else. Otherwise you won't have the enthusiasm to carry it through."

* * *

"That's something that silent-screen actors had, they believed what they were doing," said Cukor. "Odly enough, it's the same quality you often see in TV dramas. They are essentially B pictures, but the actors believe their work — because it must be done fast and on a small budget.

"I try to get the same effect in films. For that reason, I seldom rehearse, except for mechanical things. Most actors give their spark in the first few takes. Rex Harrison was that way. So were Garbo, and Spencer Tracy. On the other hand, Katharine Hepburn never wilted, and Audrey Hepburn was the same way.

Africa is three times larger in area than the United States.

BRONXVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Samuel Guy Inman, 87, international affairs adviser of President Franklin D. Roosevelt on formulating the "good neighbor policy," died Friday of a heart condition in his home.

Same Old Gag: Hello, George; How's Martha?

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — George Washington does not observe his birthday today, but he goes along with those who think he does.

George Washington resides in suburban Kenmore and was born Feb. 9, 1902 in Stony Creek, Ont.

★ ★ ★

"Without fail, I get a dozen or more phone calls every year at this time wishing me happy birthday," says the Kenmore Washington.

The name carries through the rest of the year, too.

★ ★ ★

"Every once in a while someone will call up and ask how Martha (the first president's wife) is, or ask if George is in," he added.

Russians Launch Unmanned Satellite

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched satellite No. 57 in its unmanned Cosmos series today and announced that its orbit ranged from a low of 105 miles to a high of 307.

Three of the Cosmos satellites were put into orbit from a single rocket yesterday, the Soviet news agency Tass announced.

The announced purpose of the Cosmos series, begun in March 1962, is scientific research in space.

UAW OKs Budd Pact

Rock Appears Informally at Formal Show Opening

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Rock Hudson attended Broadway's dressiest opening—"Baker Street" at the Broadway Theater—"without a tux . . . towering over everybody in his plain dark suit and regular tie . . . because he doesn't carry a dinner jacket when he's out promoting his movies.

WILSON

"The Rock" was with Gina Lollobrigida, his partner in "Strange Bedfellows," though they split later . . . Rock going to a party for 700 that Producer Alex Cohen gave at the Rainbow Room, Gina going somewhere slightly more "intime."

Six-feet-4, he doesn't find it easy to pick up dinner clothes quickly.

Besides, when he undertook to buy a pair of $40 cufflinks at a Hotel Plaza shop, without cash, a saleslady asked for identification.

"Dou you really think that's necessary?" he asked, smiling.

"Certainly!" she said—unsmiling.

Rock's afraid to push these arguments. Once when he exclaimed to a salesgirl, "I'm Rock Hudson!" she said ". . . So?"

I thought "Baker Street" one of the merriest evenings ever spent in the theater—the gimmickery, the gadgets, the showmanship of Producer Alex Cohen, who looks like me but is trying to get over it . . . the wondrous beauty of lovely Inga Swenson, the cleverness of Fritz Weaver and Martin Gabel, the dancing talent of Teddy Green, the showstopper!

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

With Eddie Fisher a smash at the Miami Beach Fontainebleau, the next-door Eden Roc booked Debbie Reynolds for March . . . The Viennese Lantern, closing to be turned into a discotheque, had bad luck. Burglars broke in and took proprietor Max Loew's cash receipts.

Carol Channing who danced with Veep Humphrey at the Inaugural ball, got a note from him signed: "Your Twisting partner" . . . Dagmar's husband Dick Hinds will be recuperating for two months, so she'll work as a single . . . Pat Suzuki's ex-husband Mark Shaw was at the Copa, sat through her show twice.

★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: At the Garrison discotheque they played Chubby Checker's "Let's Twist Again," which helped start the craze. Photographer Joe Munster said nostalgically, "Boy, it's good to hear the old songs again."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The average woman has nothing against home cooking—as long as it doesn't involve cooking at home.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "All a speed-reading course does for some people is enable them to become misinformed faster." —Arnold Glasow.

EARL'S PEARLS: Women are now doing many things only men did once—bowl, golf, play billiards. Pretty soon they'll want to do the dishes.

A patron disclosed at Roseland he'd sent a wedding gift to the Ringo Starrs—His and Hers hair curlers . . . That's earl, brother.

Fear Reprisal for Malcolm X

ARRESTED AFTER SLAYING — A New York policeman grips Talmadge Hayer, 22, after the slaying of black nationalist leader Malcolm X yesterday. Hayer was hospitalized with a bullet in his leg. He faces homicide charges.

Negro Leader Shot to Death at NY Meeting

Man Is Charged in Slaying; No Report of Link With Muslims

NEW YORK (AP) — Police in New York and Chicago kept wary guard today against any effort to avenge the assassination of Malcolm X, fiery counselor of violence in the Negro civil rights movement.

The rebel Black Muslim, who broke from the parent group to form his own sect, was shot down by conspirators here yesterday as he stepped forward to address a meeting of his followers.

Police seized a young Negro man, wounded in the leg during the disorder caused by the slaying, and charged him with homicide.

The FBI identified the man as Talmadge Hayer, 22, alias Thomas Hayer, whose last known address was in Paterson, N. J.

month feud between Malcolm X and the Black Muslims headed by Elijah Muhammad in Chicago.

NO REPORT

Police, however, did not report any evidence of a link between the assassins and Muhammad's faithful.

In Chicago, special police details were posted outside Muhammad's three-story house and Mosque of Islam No. 2 in the wake of unconfirmed reports that six members of Malcolm's Afro-American Union had departed from New York on separate missions of revenge.

In Harlem, extra uniformed officers walked the streets, on guard against any new violence.

The murder came exactly a week after Malcolm X and his family were driven from their residence in Queens by firebombs.

BEING EVICTED

He was being evicted from the dwelling which was purchased by Black Muslim donations before his break with Muhammad.

For months, Malcolm had spoken of a conspiracy against his life and he reportedly planned to name his assassins at the meeting yesterday.

But the blast from shotguns and pistols cut him down after three words: "Brothers and sisters."

Junta Negotiates With Khanh on Ouster

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's new junta negotiated long distance with Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh today as it tried to carry through its ouster of the armed forces chief and get him out of the country.

Three members of the armed forces council were reported back from Dalat where they have been dickering with the former strong man.

There was speculation that they offered Khanh a post abroad to get him to agree to leave South Viet Nam.

Military leaders in Saigon had announced that Khanh had agreed to step down but said later he had asked to meet with a full session of the armed forces council to discuss his future.

★ ★

One report said Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, impatient with Khanh's stalling, has threatened to drop paratroops in the Dalat area 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

NEW ACTIVITY

New military activity around Saigon Airport kept tension up.

Unconfirmed reports circulated that the "Young Turk" generals who toppled Khanh had already begun squabbling. One report said the 1st Corps commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, and the air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, were contending for power.

The military leaders conferred throughout the night behind barricades at the Saigon airport. The airport was reopened to traffic at dawn, but at noon troops loaded antiaircraft guns around the airport headquarters building and drew up recoilless rifles at entrances to the field, indicating that the crisis was not over.

★ ★ ★

An unconfirmed report said the 5th Cavalry unit of about 40 tanks might still by loyal to Khanh.

NO SHOOTING

Despite all the alarms and threats, there had been no shooting since the latest upheaval began Friday.

The generals of the Armed Forces Council decided to oust Khanh after crushing an attempted coup against him Friday.

Yesterday they stripped him of his title of commander in chief, named Maj. Gen. Tran Van Minh "temporary acting chairman" of the council, or chief of the armed forces, and voted to send Khanh into exile.

Khanh, who had held power for 13½ months, flew to Dalat Saturday to try to muster support but his plane ran out of gas there. Apparently fearing an attack by Khanh's followers, the members of the council barricaded themselves inside the airport and conferred among themselves and with American advisers.

★ ★ ★

Ky, the air force commander, ordered fighter-bombers to circle the area in search of partisans of Khanh who were reported readying a tank attack on the airport.

Detroit Talk Showed Strain of Leadership

DETROIT (AP) — The strain of leadership in a controversial cause was evident when Malcolm X spoke to a small, but ardent group of followers in Detroit a week before his death.

The 38-year-old Negro black nationalist leader was shot to death at a rally before 500 of his militant followers in New York yesterday.

The week before he had come to Detroit for a speech at Ford Auditorium. His New York home had been bombed that morning. He salvaged a gray suit for the speech, a rambling address which was a departure from his normally articulate forensic manner.

Before some 400 cheering followers, about 85 per cent Negro, he condemned Negro reliance on nonviolent methods to win their fight for equality.

There was something for the Ku Klux Klan as well.

★ ★ ★

"The Klan goes through the country frightening black people," he said. "Black people are the victims of organized violence from the Klan and white citizens councils. We should defend ourselves. I wouldn't call upon anybody to be violent without a cause."

LANGUAGE OF FEAR

"The black man is justified in standing up and defending himself. The Klans speaks the language of fear. It is time we started learning a language the Klan will understand so that when they come up on our doorstep they'll get the point.

"It's your duty and ours to organize ourselves. We only need vigorous action in self-defense."

He declined to talk with reporters afterwards. A spokesman said he was under heavy sedation.

★ ★ ★

But, although he was three hours late for the talk, he was given a standing ovation by his followers.

2 OTHER APPEARANCES

Malcolm X had made two other appearances in Detroit.

On April 13, 1964, about a month after his break with Black Muslim leader Elijah Mohammad, he spoke to 3,500 persons at the King Solomon Baptist Church.

He predicted a "hot summer, one in which one spark of violence could sweep the nation."

★ ★ ★

He spoke only after a court order issued by Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph A. Sullivan.

NO RIGHT

Several church members had wanted to deny Malcolm their building as a forum. But Judge Sullivan ruled that the church had no right to do this after accepting a $50 deposit for the rental of the auditorium.

In another Detroit speech, Malcolm spoke at Wayne State University in October 1963. He was still a Black Muslim at the time.

His bitter address attacked "Jewish slum landlords" for taking advantage of Negro tenants.

Car Hits Train; Boy, 4, Dies

Parents and Brother Survive Avon Crash

A 4-year-old Shelby Township boy was killed early yesterday when the car in which he was riding collided with a New York Central freight train in Avon Township.

Dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was Robert D. Fellows Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Fellows of 52726 Brookfield.

State Police at the Warren Post said the car, driven by the boy's father, hit the second and third cars of the northbound NYC train at Dequindre Road, near Yates Cider Mill, at about 1:45 a.m.

Fellows told police he didn't see the train nor hear its whistle.

The boy's parents and a 3-year-old brother, Alan, were treated and released at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Blast Traps 70 Miners in North Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A gas explosion tore through a coal mine in Hokkaido yesterday and police said 70 miners were trapped. Two of them were recovered dead.

Police getting reports from Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island, said the blast occurred about 15,000 feet from the pit entrance.

Seeping gas prevented more than 100 rescuers from approaching the mine for hours. The National Police Agency said an appeal was made for gas masks.

They arrived four hours after the explosion and the rescue workers began digging.

A police spokesman said there were no details as to the cause of the accident in Yubari, a major coal mining city about 600 miles north of Tokyo. The explosion occurred at 6:30 p.m. at the Yubari refinery of the Hokkaido Colliery Co.

The accident came 15 months after 453 miners died in Japan's worst postwar mine disaster after an explosion ripped through a mine on the southern island of Kyushu.

Man Alive Under Snow

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP)—Einar Myllyla is partly frozen —but alive.

He lived for 79 hours under an avalanche of snow and crushed buildings at the devastated Granduc mining camp in northwest British Columbia.

A Finnish construction worker in his 30's, Myllyla is one of 130 miners who survived Thursday's giant slide off Le Duc Glacier near the Canadan-Alaska border. He was pulled from the ruins of a bunkhouse by rescuers yesterday afternoon, then hospitalized at Ketchikan. He was reported partly frozen and in serious condition.

Searchers continued to probe acres of ice and snow on the precarious mountainside for more men. So far 14 bodies have been recovered. At least 13 are missing.

★ ★ ★

Continuing heavy snowfall, darkness and threat of more slides hampered tired rescue crews. The finding of Myllyla renewed hopes that still more might be found alive.

USING HAND TOOLS

Rescuers used hand tools, afraid heavy equipment would trigger another slide as they continued sifting through the devastation around the clock.

Several other miners were dug out alive earlier from under the tons of ice, snow and debris—saved only by pockets of air buried with them. About 40 were rescued Thursday from a tunnel where the miners were boring under the glacier for Granduc's low-grade copper ore.

A bachelor from Winnipeg, Man., Myllyla was saved by an air pocket in the cold, wet darkness.

Doctors here said they are amazed Myllyla could survive for more than three days. He was weak and emaciated. Parts of his arms and legs were frozen, but he had no broken bones.

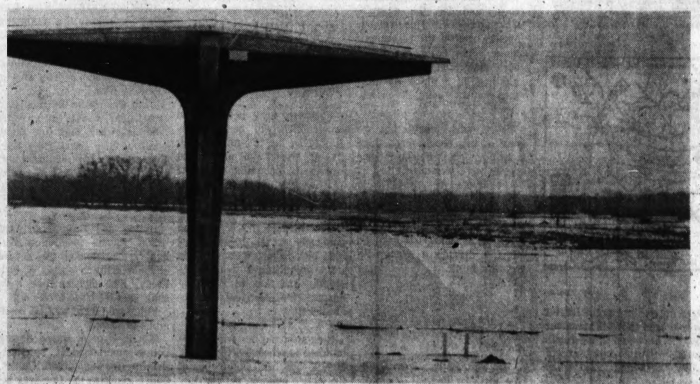
WHERE IS EVERYBODY? — Last July the Press photographer volunteered to go get a "hot weather" shot (above) at the new Stony Creek Metropolitan Park. He wasn't so eager to return to the same spot last week. We can't imagine why. After all, that cement umbrella is still providing just as much shade. It appears that the Water Wonderland is more popular than the Winter Wonderland. But be of good cheer! Spring is just 30 days away, according to our calendar.



GOP Revolt Is Squashed

State Republicans Back Fiscal Reform

LANSING (AP) — Most state Republicans today stood squarely behind fiscal reform — and Gov. George Romney — after a shaky hour or so Saturday, when both were on the line.

A fiery, 15-minute speech at the GOP state convention by Romney and a fast maneuver by outgoing State Chairman Arthur Elliott turned back a growing revolt spearheaded by an old Romney foe—Richard Durant, controversial chairman of the conservative 14th congressional district.

Elliott, replaced at the convention by Mrs. Elly Peterson, held off a storm of protest long enough to ram through a motion to suspend debate on a statewide income tax and bring Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., to the speaker's rostrum.

Murphy's frequently humorous speech, with its bid for party unity, calmed down the embattled delegates and bought time.

★ ★ ★

"I just felt that we had kept the senator waiting too long," Elliott said, "and the delegates were getting pretty emotional." The convention started more than an hour late and ran longer than expected. Murphy, the keynote speaker, had been waiting nearly three hours, he added.

NEARLY EQUALLY DIVIDED

Shortly before Murphy's introduction, a voice vote and show of hands showed the convention nearly equally divided over a resolution amendment calling for a statewide referendum before any income tax could be enacted.

After Murphy's and Romney's speeches, the move was voted down, 1,278 to 239.

Although his remarks apparently were not directed to the immediate problem, Murphy warned the Republicans to "stop intramural fighting; It's a luxury we can't afford."

★ ★ ★

Warned Romney in his impromptu speech:

"If this amendment is adopted you can kiss goodby to the future of the Republican Party in this state...it would cut the

GOP Names 7 in County to Committee

Seven Oakland County Republicans were named to the State Central Committee at the GOP State Convention in Lansing yesterday.

Elected to the 76-member committee from the 18th Congressional District were Mrs. James F. Carey, 2691 Binbrooke, Troy, secretary of the district; and Robert Flint, 1577 Island, Bloomfield Hills, 65th Representative District director.

Others were Bartram D. Lewis of Pleasant Ridge, a member of the County GOP Executive Committee; and Alice Schoenholtz of Royal Oak.

Both she and Flint have served on the central committee.

★ ★ ★

Those elected from the 19th Congressional District were Howard Altman, 61 S. Holcomb, Independence Township, township clerk; and John Cartwright, 7119 N. Trathan, West Bloomfield Township, GOP township director.

Mrs. Charles E. Haynes, 33475 Leisure, Farmington Township, past secretary of the County GOP; and Mrs. Marion Donaldson of Redford Township were also named.

Supervisors to Eye Board of Institutions for Facility

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will face a crowded agenda when it convenes at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow for its regular February meeting.

One of the more important items coming up for board action is the formation of a board of institutions.

Recommended by the ways and means committee, the seven-member board would be responsible for county medical patients. It is authorized by Act. 181 of the Public Acts of 1962.

The board has been recommended as a means of operating the county Medical Care Facility as a hospital for both tubercular and nontubercular patients.

* * *

The law under which the county presently operates prohibits such a combined facility.

MEMBERSHIP

The ways and means committee will further recommend that membership of the board include the social welfare board and the trustees of the TB Sanatorium, which has been sold to Oakland Community College.

Creation of the board must be approved by a two-thirds majority of the board of supervisors. The members are then nominated and elected by majority vote.

Also in connection with the transfer of some 75 TB patients into the Medical Care Facility will be a recommendation that a $100,000 remodeling project be authorized to comply with State Health Department regulations for the combined facility.

* * *

A recommendation to award a $39,650 contract for remodeling of the social welfare and bureau of social aid offices to Bundy Construction Co. of Pontiac will also be presented by the ways and means committee.

SEVERAL RECOMMENDATIONS

The county legislative committee is scheduled to make several recommendations to the board regarding the county's 1965 legislative program.

Included will be a request to the State Boating Control Committee for a public hearing on legislation to control the use of alcoholic beverages in boats on Oakland County lakes.

A special committee on traffic safety will recommend that a permanent county traffic safety commission be created to study and make recommendations on the county's traffic problem.

* * *

The County Department of Public Works will present resolutions on a proposed water supply system for Pontiac Township and the establishment of the Wixom and Milford sewage disposal systems as county systems.

ground right out from under me."

TO DELAY REFORM

Such a decision, he said would delay fiscal reform until after November 1966.

We would put ourselves in a position of taking the blame for whatever problems may arise as a result of not getting tax reform before 1966," he told the nearly 3,000 delegates and alternates.

Democrats adopted a resolution favoring immediate fiscal reform and an income tax at their state convention in Grand Rapids a week earlier.

* * *

Romney warned that delay of fiscal reform would make the state run the "risk of being plunged right back into the very type of financial difficulty that caused us to lose our reputation in 1958 and 1959."

MORE HEAVILY

Failure to achieve fiscal reform would mean that for the state to meet its educational obligations, it would have to depend more heavily than ever on federal programs.

Durant said later that Romney's speech "brought out into the open" the fact that the governor favors an income tax.

"He was trying to cover it up under a semantic smokescreen with his fiscal reform program (of two years ago)," Durant told a reporter. "It's now out in the open."

* * *

The fight changed completely the complexion of what was to have been a routine convention aimed primarily at electing Mrs. Peterson and selecting a new State Central Committee, both of which went as scheduled. Macomb County Republican Chairman William McLaughlin was elected vice chairman.

RIGHTS RESOLUTION

Shoved into the background by the tax fight was a civil rights resolution — hammered out in nearly five hours of committee debate.

MOON'S SURFACE — This is one of more than 7,000 pictures of the moon made by spacecraft Ranger 8 and released by Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) in Pasadena, Calif. JPL scientists said the photo was made from an altitude of 151 miles, 2 minutes and 15 seconds before impact.

Moon Explorer May Face Hidden Risks, Photos Show

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The first man on the moon should walk softly and carry a big stick.

So says the head of a scientific team studying more than 7,000 pictures beamed to earth early Saturday in the final 23 minutes before the Ranger 8 spacecraft crashed into the face of the moon.

Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, chief of the five-man analysis team, said the photographic bonanza indicates the lunar surface may be a froth of dust and fragile lava that might hide dangerous tunnels and caverns.

"This could be very tricky and treacherous stuff," said Kuiper, of the University of Arizona. "Many parts of the moon might be hard enough to support considerable weight, but an explorer could not assume that he would be safe everywhere.

LONG POLES

"It may be that the first astronauts would be wise to carry long poles to probe the surface ahead of them to be sure it would hold their weight."

* * *

As with the 4,316 photos relayed last July 31 by Ranger 7, the five men disagreed about what the new, high-quality photos showed, but agreed that they were not surprised.

* * *

The insect-shaped Ranger 8's six television cameras returned sharp close-ups of lunar mountains and plains in the final minutes of its death plunge into the flat, broad, dusty Sea of Tranquillity, 15 miles from its original target. Its impact point was 1,000 miles east of where Ranger 7 crashed in the Mare Cognitum.

Kuiper said he saw evidence that much of the moon's surface is covered with three to six feet of loose, lava-like material, similar to tunnel-coursed, cavern-marked lava areas on Hawaii. He surmised that the material is volcanic overflow, a thin crust of solidified foam.

FOAMY LAVA

But Ewen A. Whitaker, Kuiper's associate at Arizona, said he felt the surface — which he also believes is foamy lava — would hold the weight of soft-landing manned spacecraft.

Dr. Harold Urey of the University of California at La Jolla said the lunar surface may be blanketed by 50 to 60 feet of dust. Several craters of that depth, he said, showed at their bottoms a "whitish button" which may be the moon's solid core beneath the dust.

* * *

Dr. Eugene Shoemaker, another team member, said he doesn't believe pictures can reveal the surface's strength but added that the photos did show the surfaces of the seas where Rangers 7 and 8 crashed to be "substantially the same."

The team will continue studying the giant photographic harvest for months — well beyond the scheduled launching of Ranger 9 in mid-March.

Fear Reprisal for Slaying

John F. Kennedy as a case of the "chickens coming home to roost."

The Kennedy remark ostensibly was the cause of the split between Malcolm X and Muhammad.

But many observers believed the cause was Malcom's desire to seize power and that Muhammad used the "chickens" remark as an excuse to oust his New York lieutenant.

* * *

The feud divided even members of Malcolm's own family.

ACTIVE MUSLIMS

Two brothers, active Black Muslims in Grand Rapids and Detroit, could not be reached for comment.

But in Boston, a sister who sided with Malcolm, Ella Mae Collins, said his death "will be avenged."

Police said at least five persons were believed involved in the killing.

DENY KNOWLEDGE

Leaders of the Black Muslims — which had been accused by Malcolm X of plotting his death — denied any knowledge of the killing.

At the Chicago headquarters of the Black Muslims, a spokesman for the group's newspaper Muhammad Speaks, said of the assassination: "This could not have been done by our people. If it was done by a Black Muslim, then he was doing it on his own."

Police said today that "a great many people" remained to be questioned, but no further arrests were imminent.

* * *

A dozen Muslims, whose spokesman said they were not followers of Malcolm X, got in touch with police today in an effort to arrange a Muslim funeral for him.

ON STAGE

Malcolm was shot fatally on the stage at a rally in the Washington Heights section, north of Harlem.

His wife, Betty, 35, awaiting the birth of their fifth child, was in the hall.

Malcolm had started to address a gathering of about 500 followers and sympathizers, when a commotion, apparently planned, broke out in the rear of the second-floor ballroom. It drew his bodyguards in the direction of the disorder.

* * *

SHOTGUN

Police Capt. Paul Glaser said Hayer shot Malcolm X with a shortened, double-barreled shotgun. Two pistols also were fired at him.

Hayer and two spectators were wounded in a wild melee that followed.

Hayer, with a pistol wound in a leg, was held in the prison ward of Bellevue Hospital.

* * *

Police said Hayer was shot by Reuben Francis, 33, a Negro identified by police as Malcolm's secretary and bodyguard.

TWO CHARGES

Francis was arrested on charges of felonious assault and illegal possession of a pistol.

Blaze Sweeps Apartment of Cassius Clay

CHICAGO (AP) — Fire damaged extensively the apartment of heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay Sunday night a few hours after black nationalist leader Malcolm X was shot to death in New York.

Clay was not in his third floor apartment at the time, police said. Firemen said the blaze, confined to a second and third floor flat in a 30-apartment building on the South Side, caused an estimated $6,000 damage. No one was injured.

* * *

Police and fire department arson squads questioned Carl Elliott, occupant of the second story apartment where William Foley, fifth division fire marshal, said the blaze broke out.

Foley said there was no possibility of arson.

Merlin Nygren, acting deputy police superintendent, said earlier the fire was "arson." Later, police reported the fire was accidental.

Soviet Arms Are En Route

Missiles, Jets Said Going to Hanoi Reds

MOSCOW (UPI) — Diplomatic sources said yesterday Soviet ground-to-air missiles, jet fighter planes and technical advisers are en route to Communist North Viet Nam to defend against any new retaliatory air strikes by the United States.

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin promised assistance to the Hanoi regime during his trip to Communist Asia earlier this month.

Although dispatch of the military aid could not be officially confirmed, the Kremlin has made it clear that the Soviets will follow through on Kosygin's pledge.

A UPI dispatch from Saigon last Tuesday quoted authoritative sources as saying Soviet ground-to-air missiles had already arrived in the North Viet Nam capital of Hanoi.

The report was based on accounts received from persons who arrived in Saigon from Hanoi.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The U.S. ambassadors to South Viet Nam, Thailand and Laos met in Saigon today in what was described as an American effort to coordinate U.S. policy and to treat Southeast Asia as a unit.

"Borders are no longer so important," a reliable source said, indicating the United States is not looking at the situation in this area only in respect to individual countries.

Ambassadors Graham A. Martin of Thailand and William H. Sullivan of Laos conferred with Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor of South Viet Nam at the embassy in Saigon.

Although officials in Bangkok and in Saigon described it as a "routine meeting," it was the first time all three have met in Saigon.

May Have Decked Lot Ready for Yule Parking

BIRMINGHAM — Shoppers driving to the downtown Birmingham area could be using a decked parking structure during this year's Christmas rush season, according to City Manager R. S. Kenning.

The administrator predicts the structure could be available by Dec. 1 if work proceeds without a snag.

He will recommend to the City Commission tonight that O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates be retained to design the building.

The Birmingham architectural firm, Kenning notes, designed parking structures at the University of Michigan, Wayne State University and Ann Arbor.

* * *

Kenning also will suggest that engineers at McWilliam and Keckonen be engaged as structural consultants.

SUBMIT PROPOSAL

The manager will recommend that the architects be asked to submit a proposal covering the schematic study stage and complete design of a parking structure for lot No. 5, an L-shaped lot fronting on Woodward and Willits.

In designing the structure, the firm is to assume that it will be decked and that future expansion be provided for, although the unit would not necessarily cover the entire lot.

Kenning notes that patrons would park their own cars and that attendants would collect fees.

* * *

The exterior, he said, should be "in keeping with the high standards established for governmental facilities in the community."

JUNE DEADLINE

The architects, if approved by the commission, could begin their work immediately, aiming at a June deadline for letting construction contracts, Kenning said.

His report will be made at an 8 p.m. meeting of the commission.

Marshall M. Fredericks is tired of waiting for the city to do something about a centerpiece.

The Royal Oak sculptor who lives at 440 Lake Park has rescinded his offer to design a memorial swan fountain for Shain Park.

Fredericks announced the end of his plans in a letter which city commissioners will receive tonight.

"Because of the great delays and apparent lack of interest, except for a few dedicated and devoted individuals who have worked untiringly to accomplish this project, I feel that it is best to sever my connection," Fredericks wrote.

* * *

He noted today that his original offer to the city was made almost five years ago.

MATERIAL COST

His services would have been free, but the cost of materials for the proposed sculpture and reflecting pool was estimated at $50,000.

Prior to Birmingham's centennial celebration last year, the City Commission agreed to pay for half the sum if fund raisers could collect another $25,000.

Fredericks said as far as he knew the project never got any further.

* * *

"I hope that eventually a worthy centerpiece can be accomplished," he wrote.

Pension Plan to Be Viewed in Waterford

A revised draft of a proposed pension plan for Waterford Township employes will be presented for consideration of the Waterford Township Board tomorrow night.

The board is meeting tomorrow due to the legal holiday today.

Presenting the pension plan will be the Employes Retirement Committee which has been working on the plan since last fall when provision for a pension program was authorized in the 1965 budget by the township board.

The plan covers all employes except police and fire personnel who already are covered by a pension program.

* * *

When the proposed pension plan is adopted, it will become effective retroactive to last Jan. 1.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business tomorrow night the board will consider a request for transfer of ownership of a beer and wine licensed business and another request for a new beer and wine license.

The ownership transfer is proposed at the Waterford Hotel and a new license is sought for a proposed party store at 3660 Dixie.

Pontiac Line Earns 3 Additional Awards

Pontiac, which recently was named Car of the Year, received three additional trophies preceding the official opening of the 57th Chicago Automobile Show Saturday.

Pontiac officials were presented with the "Best Car of 1965" Award from Motorcade Magazine; the Popular Science Gold Cup for brake performance and a trophy for capturing first in Class II in the recently-concluded Pure Oil performance trials at Daytona.

In presenting the "Best Car of 1965" trophy to E. M. Estes, Pontiac general manager, Don Werner, Motorcade publisher said Pontiac offered "a choice of models, styles and options unmatched in the industry."

Specifically, Werner said, the award was given to Pontiac "for over-all excellence in American automobiles."

Werner pointed out the choice of the award this year was an easy one. "Without qualification, one make stood out as the obvious recipient of our second annual award. The car is Pontiac."

GOLD CUP

The Popular Science Gold Cup presentation to Pontiac was made by Hubert P. Luckett, editor of the technical group. In giving the large trophy to John Z. DeLorean, Pontiac's chief engineer, Luckett cited the division for a "signal achievement."

The cup is presented for brake performance — the shortest official stopping distance for any car at the Pure Oil performance trials.

A Tempest LeMans won this test with a stopping distance of 161.8 feet.

PURE OIL

Hugh Hemingway, research vice president for Pure Oil, presented Estes with the Pure Oil trophy. The award went to a Pontiac Bonneville for winning the Daytona V8 Class at the Daytona tests.

Following the trophy presentations, Estes told newsmen that Pontiac expects to sell an estimated 800,000 cars this year and achieve a deeper market penetration.

The Joseph Taylors Receive Degrees

Probably the most 'identical' degree recipients at Loyola University's recent mid-year commencement were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor (Audrey Gineman) who were awarded masters degrees in mathematics.

Mrs. Taylor is the daughter of the Frank Ginemans of Buckskin Drive, Commerce Township, and her husband comes from LaPorte, Ind.

TOP STUDENTS

Each was valedictorian of his high school graduating class. Each chose Loyola for undergraduate college studies.

They met on campus at Chicago while both were studying for a bachelor of science degree in mathematics and were married last September 1964, a year after they both received their degrees.

Embarking on like graduate study programs, they both earned their way via assistantships. Even their grade totals were the same in graduate studies: nine "A's" and one "B."

Mr. Taylor plans to teach full time at the university.

Makeup Removal Worth Time

Face it, girls. Everyone tells us how to put on mounds of make-up but few offer sound advice on how to take it off properly.

Does your towel show the same telltale signs of wash-and-swipe normally associated with grubby little boys?

If it does, it's time to do something about removing stale make-up thoroughly.

Complexion troubles can start with carelessness.

To help you avoid make-up build-up that cogs pores and leads to blackheads try these simple tips from a well-known beauty house.

For lipstick: Apply a heavy coating of cleansing cream to your lips with your fingertips.

Work this over your lips in a gentle, circular motion and remove with a tissue or clean cotton. Repeat. All lipstick should be gone.

If there are traces, again apply the cleansing cream in the circular motion.

At night, ward off dry cracking lips by applying an emollient.

For eye make-up: Stroke on a heavy coating of cleansing cream. Do not coat the eyes but circle the eyes with the cream.

Now apply a special mascara and eye make-up remover to the eyelids and lashes with a cotton ball. Whisk this away with a tissue. Remember to be very gentle. The skin around the eyes tears easily.

Even if the eye make-up or mascara runs during this operation, it will get into the cream under or around the eyes.

Simply remove all cream with a tissue and then apply an astringent or skin refresher.

For face and neck: Select a cold cream, cleansing cream or lotion best suited for your skin type.

Smooth this on, working in upward and outward motions from the neck.

Remove cream with the same motions and dot on an astringent or skin refresher.

Modern Day Horse Thief

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Horse stealing has changed a bit from frontier days.

Thieves stole a one-ton pickup truck and four-horse trailer from Miss Jean McHarg's home, then drove to her ranch and stole four of her prize horses.

Miss McHarg valued the horses at $25,000 and the truck and trailer at $8,000.

Firm Fat

When you take a boiled ham from hot water, drop it immediately into cold water.

This makes the fat firm and white.

By The Associated Press

Michigan's week of decision has arrived and, as Illinois Coach Harry Combes says of the Big Ten basketball race, "there are five games to go. Maybe Michigan won't continue to get the breaks."

As far as the top-ranked Wolverines are concerned, there are only two games to go and both are scheduled this week. Michigan takes its 9-0 Big Ten record to Minnesota Tuesday night where a defeat would drop the Wolverines into a tie with the Gophers.

★ ★ ★

Four days later the Wolverines play at Illinois. Neither Minnesota nor Illinois is accustomed to losing at home and that's the crux of Combes' statement about the breaks.

So far, Michigan has played the basketball version of Russian roulette in two of its road games. The Wolverines were forced into overtime at Michigan State and into a double overtime at Indiana but managed to win both times.

COULD END IT

A pair of Michigan triumphs this week would end the race for all practical purposes. That would leave Michigan needing two successes in the last three games for the title. The Wolverines still have dates against Ohio State and Wisconsin who have a total of three victories in 18 games.

★ ★ ★

However, losses to Minnesota and Illinois would leave the title up for grabs. Michigan cannot afford a championship tie. A tie involving Michigan would send the other team to the NCAA championships since the Wolverines represented the Big Ten in the playoffs last year.

★ ★ ★

Another important game Tuesday night finds Iowa at Illinois. The two are tied for third place with 7-2 records and the loser will have to step out of the title scene.

Two big games are scheduled tonight with Michian State at Ohio State and Indiana at Purdue. In addition to the Michigan-Illinois game Saturday, Indiana will be at Minnesota, Northwestern at Ohio State, Iowa at Purdue and Michigan State at Wisconsin.

★ ★ ★

In last Saturday's games four teams scored 100 or more points. Michigan defeated Ohio State 100-61, Indiana downed Wisconsin 100-87, Iowa won over Purdue 101-85, Illinois slugged Michigan State 113-94 and Minnesota turned in an 88-77 victory over Northwestern.

MAPLE LEAFS SCORE — Bob Pulford (20) took this short pass from teammate Andy Bathgate (9) and rifled it past Detroit goalie Roger Crozier for a score in the second period last night at Olympia Stadium. Behind Bathgate is Detroit's Gordie Howe (9). Detroit won, 3-2.

Red Wings Advance With 3-2 Conquests

By The Associated Press

Detroit's Red Wings, a flock of old birds and fledglings rated no better than fourth in National Hockey League pre-season estimates, are homing in on the top perch.

The Wings dumped Toronto, 3-2 Sunday night after taking New York's Rangers by the same count Saturday afternoon to sweep a weekend home stand that boosted them into a third-place tie with the Maple Leafs.

The Black Hawks bombed Boston 7-0 and New York tied second-place Montreal, 2-2 on Doug Robinson's last-second goal.

Detroit, with three more games to play than the Black Hawks and seven of 16 against also-rans New York and Boston, has a shot at its first NHL championship since the 1956-57 season.

The Wings, paced by veteran Alex Delvecchio, young Bruce MacGregor and handyman Val Fonteyne, ran their home-ice winning string to eight games, longest in nine years, against the Maple Leafs.

Delvecchio, at 34 one of Detroit's old pros — Ted Lindsay, 39, Gordie Howe and Hill Gadsby, 37, and Marcel Pronovost, 34, are the others — fired his second consecutive game-winning goal.

★ ★ ★

MacGregor, who, withgoalie Roger Crozier, heads the Wings' kiddie korps, and Fonteyne, reacquired recently from New York, scored the others.

MacGregor's goal was his 19th of the season. He had scored only 28 times in three previous full seasons with Detroit. Fonteyne's tally was his first of the campaign. Delvecchio has 15.

BIG PERIOD

Detroit packed all its scoring into the second period after Bob Pulford had given the Leafs a 1-0 lead. George Armstrong pulled Toronto close in the last period but Crozier held off the Leafs in the final minutes.

Chicago's Stan Mikita scored two goals — both unassisted — and set up another, increasing his individual point lead over sidelined teammate Bobby Hull, as the Hawks moved three points ahead of Montreal by blitzing the last-place Bruins. Mikita has 72 points; Hull, out with a knee injury, has 67.

★

New York's Robinson tipped in a Rod Seiling shot with one second to play, capping the Rangers' two-goal comeback in the final period. Don Marshall scored for New York midway in the period. Second-period. Don Marshall scored for New York midway in the period. Second-period goals by John Ferguson and Henri Richard had given the Canadiens a 2-0 bulge.

OU Tankers Boost Record

'Manpower Shortage' Loses Relay Event

Despite its shortage of manpower, Oakland University's swimming team is earning its winning laurels in its first season of inter-collegiate competition.

Friday night the OU tankers defeated Albion 50-45 for their 6th win in seven starts and Saturday they had to settle for a 47-47 tie because all the available manpower had been used and the final 400 freestyle relay event was awarded to Calvin.

Terry Koehler of Birmingham, Calif. took three firsts in defeating Albion.

With only six swimmers on hand, OU won the final free relay event in 4:05.0 but each had already been used three times and thus Calvin's team was awarded the event in 4:19.4 only once diver took part in the diving event.

Tuesday night, OU is at Eastern Michigan.

U. S. Chess King Fails Once vs. 46 LA Foes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — U.S. open chess champion Sammy Reshevsky played simultaneous matches Sunday with 46 Los Angeles area youths aged 12 to 18, beating 41, drawing with four and losing to one in the four-hour battle.

Reshevsky, 53, of Spring Valley, N.Y., lost to 17-year-old Martin Fabian, who won in 40 moves.

Reshevsky won the national title earlier this month in Las Vegas, Nev.

SPORTS

Tiger Hurlers Given Session in Bunting

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Control bunting and pitching contests and races were scheduled to open the first day of practice today for all minor league players in the Detroit Tigers early camp at Tigertown.

Major League pitchers in camp also will get into the act in the control bunting contest, part of Charlie Dressen's so-called "field day."

The Detroit manager has said if a pitcher can't hit, the least he can do is help himself by learning to bunt well enough to move the runners along.

While the pitchers are bunting, other players in camp will be racing against a stop watch, from first base to home plate.

Later, pitchers will try to throw as many strikes as possible in five pitches.

A special foot race for the catchers in camp also was scheduled.

TWO REASONS

Dressen has two reasons for holding the special event.

first, it gives him a chance to see which pitchers need extra work on the fine points of bunting and which other players need to brush up on other fundamentals.

Second, it provides a break from the daily routines of calisthenics, batting practice, etc.

★ ★ ★

Dressen has only three more days to look over the youngsters in camp before moving over to Helney Field to begin drills with the major leaguers.

The players spent 20 minutes running, during a rainfall, in the only workout Sunday.

Schollander Collects Sullivan Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Olympic swimming champion Don Schollander keeps piling up awards.

Acclaimed as The Associated Press Male Athlete of the Year for his four gold medals at Tokyo, Schollander today holds the James E. Sullivan Award, given to America's top amateur athlete.

★ ★ ★

Schollander received his latest award Sunday from Clifford H. Buck, president of the Amateur Athletic Union, at a luncheon at the New York Athletic Club. The award is presented by the AAU each year.

The 18-year-old Yale University freshman from Lake Oswego, Ore., is the second youngest athlete ever to receive the Sullivan Award. Decathalon star Bob Mathias was six months younger than Schollander when he was honored in 1948.

★ ★ ★

Buck described Schollander as a great swimming star and an honor student, who possesses "willingness to help others and advance the cause of amateurism."

Mikita Leads Hawks' Rout

CHICAGO (AP) — Stan Mikita's talent for scoring points is gaining momentum. If he keeps it up the Chicago Black Hawks might hold on and capture their first National Hockey League championship.

The Hawks have managed to remain in first place even though the great Bobby Hull has missed six of the last eight games because of knee injuries.

★ ★ ★

And, as if someone blew a trumpet, Mikita has moved in. Not only has the impish center taken much of the slack left by Hull's absence but he has forged into the scoring lead and threatens to win his second straight Art Ross Trophy as NHL scoring leader.

★ ★ ★

In the last 16 games, Mikita has hammered home eight goals and picked up 14 assists to boost his league-leading scoring total to 72 points, five ahead of Hull who was plagued by a slump before suffering his injuries.

Mikita led the Hawks to a 7-0 triumph over Boston Sunday night which gave Chicago a three-point lead over second-place Montreal.

TWO GOALS

Mikita scored Chicago's first two goals in the opening period without an assist. In the final minute of play he got a breakway for what looked like a sure goal. Instead he passed off to Dennis Hull who flicked the puck past Jack Norris, Boston's much abused goalie.

★ ★ ★

"I had an opening that wide," said Mikita who stretched his hands apart three feet. "But I saw Dennis over to the side and figured he might need the goal to make a bonus figure.

"It doesn't make much difference," shrugged the 24-year-old wheeler-dealer who was born in Czechoslovakia and reared in Canada. "I'll get a lot more chances for my share."

Despite his size — 5-feet-9 and 165 pounds — Mikita is in the middle of practically every scrap on the ice. As a result he is one of the league's most penalized players.

Titans Have Cage Streak Snapped

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Outsiders had a field day, snapping Detroit's seven game victory streak and defeating Western Michigan, in state college basketball action over the weekend.

Detroit's Titans fell before St. Bonaventure, 84-71, at Buffalo. The defeat all but crushed their hopes for a post-season tournament bid. A late Titans drive fell three points short of tying the score.

★ ★ ★

Bowling Green nipped Western Michigan 83-81 in overtime on a pair of foul shots by Bob Dowrs. Te victory at Kalamazoo put Bowling Green's Mid-American Conference record at 2-6. WMU is 1-9. Dave Anderson led the Broncos with 25 points.

Eastern Michigan bucked the trend by knocking off Washington & Jefferson, 70-67, at Ypsilanti. It was EMU's eighth victory against six losses. The Pennsylvania school is 3-5 in the President's Athletic Conference.

HIGH SCORE

Hope outlasted Wheaton of Illinois, 115-110. The Dutchmen picked up 24 points in the final five minutes of play, against 12 for Wheaton, and ran their record to 14-6. Wheaton is 13-8.

Ron Bigler scored 26 points for Indiana Tech and Jim Brown hit 21, aiding the Warriors in their 123-100 victory over Spring Arbor. Tech led all the way.

★ ★ ★

Ohio Northern overcame a four-point halftime lead by hitting at a 64 per cent clip from the floor and defeated Hillsdale 93-90. The non conference contest left Hillsdale with an 8-15 record.

Bethany's Rick Cipulo hit on a 40-ft. jump shot at the final buzzer to break a tie win, 28-26, over Wayne State, leaders in the President's Athletic Conference. The low-scoring contest was led by Bethany's Bill Watkins with eight points.

Olivet hit on 51 per cent of its floor shots and handed Alma its tenth loss in 10 MIAA games, 113-101. Alma is 1-18 over-all. The game left Olivet with records of 3-7 and 8-11.

Tom Nicolai collected 23 points and Jim Peters got 20 as Kalamazoo upset Calvin 78-73 and evened the Hornets' MIAA record at 5-5. Calvin, now 7-3, was led by Jim Fredericks' 16 points.

Another contender has moved into the spotlight of the Michigan high school state swimming contenders along with Seaholm and Royal Oak Kimball.

Trenton won its 14th meet in 15 starts by upsetting Kimball, 53-52 Saturday, handing the Knights their second loss in 14 meets.

This set the stage for the Kimball-Seaholm meet Friday night in Birmingham. Seaholm, a loser only to Battle Creek, won the first meeting between the two.

In the big event, Kimball's Doug Webster lost in the 100 freestyle to Trenton's Henry Ahlf. Ahlf went 49.8 and Webster 50.8.

American Team Glides Past Canadian Skaters

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The strongest United States figure skating team in five years is optimistically looking ahead to next month's world meet after crushing Canada Sunday in the 1965 North American championships.

Yank skaters won three of the four titles and placed second in all four events for their finest international showing since the glory days of the 1950s when American dominated World figure skating competition.

A capacity crowd of nearly 8,000 in the War Memorial Auditorium looked on as Gary Visconti of Detroit won the men's singles, Vivian and Ronald Joseph of Highland Park, Ill., captured the pairs and Lorna Dyer and John Carrell of Seattle skated off with ice dancing honors.

The only title that Canada could salvage went to world title favorite Petra Burka of Toronto in ladies' singles. The 18-year-old Canadian edged Peggy Fleming, 16, of Pasadena, with a brilliant freestyle show.

The 1965 world championships will be at the Broadmoor World Arena in Colorado Springs, Colo., March 2-6.

UPSET WIN

Visconti, 19, repeated his upset of Olympic bronze medalist Scott Ethan Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J. The 16-year-old Allen had been the world title favorite until his loss in the 1965 U.S. championships. Sunday's victory pushed Visconti into a contending position. Allen was second in the North American meet.

Miss Dyer, 19, and Carrell, 18, climbed back in to the world title picture by avenging their loss to Kristin Fortune, 18, of Northridge, Calif., and Dennis Sveum, 19, of Sun Valley, Calif., in the national meet.

4-Stroke Lead Victory Margin in Bogota Golf

Argentine Linksman Coasts to Triumph After Fast Start

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Veteran Roberto de Vicenzo was locked in a three-way tie when he started, but breezed in with a four-stroke lead over the last nine holes of the Bogota Open golf tourney.

"I saw Al Besselink shooting par after the ninth hole," the handsome 41-year-old Argentine said after his victory Sunday. "I was four under at that point so I was only concentrating on par golf the rest of the way."

★ ★ ★

De Vicenzo, who owns a dozen international titles, shot a blistering four-under-par 32 over the front nine of the Los Lagartos Course Sunday, then coasted in with a 68 for a 274 total, a four stroke lead and the $3,000 first prize.

He had started out in a tie with Besselink, Grossinger, N.Y., and rookie Willie Scholl, who plays out of the Bahamas. Besselink had to settle for a par on the final round, however, and Scholl went to a 74 and a 278 for third place.

BARNUM SIXTH

Wes Ellis, West Caldwell, N.J., and Raymond Floyd, St. Andrews, Ill., were tied for fourth with 279s and John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich., was sixth at 280.

The golfers now move on to Maracaibo, Venezuela for the third stop on the Caribbean tour this week, followed by the Caracas Open and the San Juan Open. The Seagram Cup goes to the top scorer in the five tournaments.

PNH Wrestlers Get More Honors

Pontiac Northern added more laurels to an already glittering wrestling record with a double victory at Roseville Saturday.

Coach Bill Wilson and crew won the Inter-Lakes League championship early in the day and came back in the evening to finish first in an Inter-Lakes vs. Eastern Michigan League match.

The league title was the Huskies' fifth in six years of competition. Walled Lake finished second in the league outing, Waterford third and Farmington came in fourth.

In the inter-league meeting, Port Huron trailed Northern by two points and East Detroit captured the third spot. Walled Lake was fourth.

★ ★ ★

In winning the I-L crown, Northern picked up five individual titles and four Huskies finished second. The team nailed down four individual crowns in the inter-league scrap.

TITLE WINNERS

Taking first-place points in the I-L battle for Northern were Dave Oswalt (112), Dennis Mills (120), Art Allen (138), Bruce Tippin (145) and Al Rayner (165).

Oswalt made it to the finals in the inter-league match but sickness forced him to retire. His opponent in the finals would have been Port Huron's Ken Kania, whom Oswalt had defeated earlier in the week.

Mills, Allen, Tippin and Rayner moved into the inter-league competition and came away with individual titles.

Northern and Port Huron battled down to the wire in the inter-league contest.

Going into the finals, Port Huron led Northern by two points. Both squads had five wrestlers in the finals.

SHARP IN FINALS

Northern then proceeded to win four or five final matches and two of four in the consolations. Port Huron picked up only three victories in the finals and only one of five matches in the consolations.

★ ★ ★

Northern received some help from Waterford in the inter-league finals.

In the heavyweight division, Waterford's Gerry Gebrowsky, who also bagged the I-L title, defeated Port Huron's Ron Sturmer in the finals. A win by Sturmer would have pushed Port Huron into a tie with Northern for the title.

Waterford had another I-L champion in Bill Hunt (180), who also grabbed a second place in the inter-league match.

★

Walled Lake had a pair of league titlists in Roger Nicolay (103) and John Hellner (133). Nicolay was second in the inter-league, losing a duel with Port Huron's Gary Raven, but Hellner was more fortunate as he pinned a 6-5 defeat on Roseville's Alif Joshua.

Art Woehler (95), Dan Hever (127) and Dick Johnson (154) captured league titles for Farmington, and Johnson finished first in his division in the inter-league match.

Form Not Up to Par, U.S. Tankers Rally

BREMEN, Germany (AP) — A team of American Olympic swimmers, some well off their peak form of the Tokyo Games, won five of 10 final events Sunday in the windup of a star-studded International meet.

The winners included Olympic champions Jed Graef of Verona, N.J., Cathy Ferguson of Burbank, Calif., Dick Roth of Atherton, Calif., the women's medley relay team of Miss Ferguson, Claudia Kolb and Donna de Varona of the Santa Clara, S.C., and Sharon Stouder of Glendora, Calif. The other U.S. victor was Olympian Phil Riker of Paterson, N.J.

Graef took the 200 meter backstroke in 2:14.3; Roth won the 400-meter medley in 4:57.1; Riker captured the 100 meter butterfly in 58.0; Miss Ferguson won the 100 meter backstroke in 1:09.1 and the girls' medley relay quartet edged Holland by three-tenths of a second in 4:37.5.

Miss Stouder, winner of three gold medals and one silver at Tokyo, has been busy touring the banquet circuit. She only recently resumed training.

The 16-year-old Olympic queen bowed to Ada Kok of the Netherlands, who was timed in the Dutch record of 2:25.8 for the 200 meter butterfly, and lost in the 100 meter freestyle to another Dutch girl, Winnie Van Weerdenburg, who was timed in 1:02.2. Miss Stouder was timed in 1:02.5 in the freestyle with Miss de Varona third in 1:03.4.

Holland's Klenie Bimolt won the 100 meter breaststroke in 1:17.3, with Miss Kolb third in 1:18.6; Czechoslovakia's Jindrick Wagner took the 100 meter freestyle in 54.6 with Mike Austin of Yale third in 55.6, and West Germany's Holger Kirschke won the 200 meter freestyle in 2:01.4 with Mike Wall of the Santa Clara S.C., seventh.

Ex-Flint Speedster Ice Skates to Title

DETROIT (AP)—Jim Chapin of St. Louis and Detroiters Eddie Bertrand and Jeanne Omelenchuk dominated Sunday's Midwest speed skating championships at Farwell Park.

Chapin, a 32-year-old druggist who once skated out of Flint, Mich., took the men's title in the two-day meet with victories in three of his five races.

Bertrand, 18, won all six races in the intermediate boys class and added the five-mile special to his trophy case.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Omelenchuk, the skating school teacher from suburban Warren, also was undefeated, taking all five races for the senior women's crown.

A 'Phew' Words on BO

Fellow Failed to Smell Swell

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gentlemen, I feel it my duty to warn you that if your deodorant leaves you only half safe, your government likely will do nothing to protect you from the consequences.

WEST.

At least not if an opinion recently handed down by a trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board is adopted as federal policy.

In what may be a landmark case, the examiner stated that firing an employe for failing to keep himself in an acceptable state of deodorization would not constitute an unfair labor practice.

As far as I could learn, this was the first time that the U.S. government in all of its solemn majesty has exercised any sort of jurisdiction over BO.

Heretofore, the problem has more or less been regarded as a local issue to be dealt with within the framework of the free enterprise system.

* * *

The case in point involves a food store employe whose discharge was contested by the Retail Clerks union. Management maintained he was let go for aromatic reasons after being told that he would have to use a stronger deodorant.

OTHER REASON

The union, on the other hand, insisted that he was terminated for organizational activities.

Examiner Phil W. Saunders, who heard the case, ruled in favor of the union. But in doing so, he also took a precedent-setting position on the BO question, tying it in with the march of civilization itself.

". . . It can be said without serious contradiction that in our present state of existence these days we have now branched out and fully attained the modern era of clean shaves and adequate deodorants," Saunders wrote.

* * *

"In fact, I think it is even safe to say that a stranger coming to our shores for the first time might conceivably believe that such preparations rank as our most prized possessions."

WIDE SCOPE

While conceding that "it may be somewhat difficult to ascertain the exact scope of offensiveness to others in the non- or misuse of deodorizers," he said, such matters "must be evaluated in the light of progress."

He noted that we no longer live in the "era of the old-fashioned store centered around pot-bellied stoves in the days when the homesteaders were pushing West."

Therefore, Saunders said, the dismissal of an employe who failed to meet modern standards of fragrance would be "within the legitimate prerogative of management."

* * *

I interpret this to mean that underarm redolence will not be tolerated in the "Great Society."

If your best friends won't tell you, maybe Uncle Sam will.

A reef estimated to contain more than 100,000 tons of lead zinc pay ore in Auckland Province, New Zealand, is the first such deposit in that area.

Nasser Blames U.S. for Bonn Feud

East German Leader Sails to U.A.R. for Controversial Visit

CAIRO (AP) — East German President Walter Ulbricht sailed toward Egypt today for the visit with President Gamal Abdel Nasser that has produced a crisis in relations between West Germany and the Arabs.

Ulbricht flew yesterday to Dubrovnik, the Yugoslav coastal resort, and boarded an East German ship for the trip. The vessel is due in Alexandria Wednesday, and Ulbricht will go by train to Cairo for an official welcome from Nasser.

The Bonn government fears Ulbricht's visit may mean the United Arab Republic plans to recognize the Communist East German regime, despite West German threats to cut economic aid and break relations with Cairo.

Nasser told a rally yesterday the United States was at the bottom of the United Arab Republic's feud with Bonn over shipment of West German arms to Israel.

★ ★ ★

Nasser charged that Washington organized "an international conspiracy" to send Israel arms via West Germany because "it did not want to do it openly."

YIELDED TO PRESSURE

He said Chancelor Ludwig Erhard's government gave in to pressure from the United States against the wishes of the West German people. If it (West Germany) is not independent, then we will have to deal with it on that basis," Nasser declared.

West Germany halted arms shipments to Israel because of Nasser's objections.

The government - controlled Cairo press said leaders of the Arab world would draw up a statement backing the U.A.R. against West German reprisals because of Ulbricht's impending visit.

The newspapers said the statement would warn that any West Germany reprisals against the U.A.R. would be viewed as actions against the entire Arab world.

GETS SUPPORT

Statements of support for Nasser have already been issued by President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria and President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia who is visiting Cairo.

★ ★ ★

Nasser refused to call off Ulbricht's visit even though the West Germans cut off arms aid to Israel. Israel charged that the West Germans were giving in to blackmail, and Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol turned down Bonn's offer of $16 million in money in lieu of that amount of arms which were not delivered.

School Aid Alternatives

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Republicans are readying their own school aid proposals as an alternative to President Johnson's $1.2 billion plan.

The administration program would aid schools with high enrollments from poor families, help pay the cost of books for public and parochial schools and encourage "shared time" teaching projects. It already has been approved by the House General Education subcommittee.

A change in the original plans to push the bill through as quickly as possible has given Republicans time to prepare their own bill and to draft proposed changes in the administration plan.

The House Education and Labor Committee originally was scheduled to take up school aid earlier this month. But chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., has held off the start of meetings on it.

The GOP committee minority, which boycotted voting on the subcommittee bill on the ground that it was being ramrodded through without any attention to Republican proposals, has used the two-week delay to prepare for a committee showdown.

START WORK

Powell may call the committee together this week to start work.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N. Y., ranking Republican member of the general education subcommittee, said during the weekend that 32 amendments already have been drafted. He said the decision on whether to offer them will depend on the attitude of committee Democrats when drafting sessions start.

Republicans also are working on a completely separate alternative aid-to-education plan.

This might take the form of a federal tax credit system for individuals who support elementary and secondary schools through local and state property, income and sales taxes. Former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., the 1964 Republican presidential nominee, had a similar plan.

TAX REBATE

The GOP also might offer a proposal to return some portion of federal taxes to the states for use in the schools. This has been suggested, in various forms, by members of both parties in the past.

The possible Republican alternatives suggest that the main GOP objection to the Johnson plan will be that it would impose too much federal control on local schools.

This theme was frequently sounded by Republican members during hearings on the Johnson bill.

Junior Editors Quiz on BARRACUDA

QUESTION: Will a barracuda really bite people?

ANSWER: The barracuda looks something like the pikes and pickerel found in the streams and lakes of our eastern and central states—but this fish inhabits salt water.

There is a number of different species, the smaller kinds not being considered dangerous to human beings.

It is different, however, with the largest variety, the Great Barracuda, which lives off the coasts of the Carolinas, Florida and the West Indies.

Larger specimens of this can be from eight to ten feet long, although barracuda over five feet are rare. Wise swimmers like the one in our picture, will head for shore at top speed if they know a barracuda is lurking around, as these fish do sometimes attack human beings.

The barracuda has razor-sharp teeth and a habit of following any moving object, being likely to make a sudden rush or strike at anything which gleams in the water or catches the light.

Although the barracuda's tendency to strike at something moving makes him dangerous to swimmers, it also leads him to seize lures cast out by fishermen.

The Silver Barracuda of the coast of South California is said to be the kind most useful for food.

FOR YOU TO DO: Some time you may have occasion to visit tropical seas, and it's good to know about underwater dangers so you can avoid them. Look up "shark" and "piranha" in an encyclopedia. Another very dangerous creature is the moray eel.
