From the Press Box

It wasn't too long ago that track fans had been speculating the 60-foot shot put as much as they had been debating who would run the first four minute mile.

Today's thoughts have turned to the 70-foot shot. Impossible? That's what they said before Roger Bannister first cracked the four minute mark with a mile run of 3:59.4 in 1954.

That's also what they said before John Thomas bettered the 7-foot-1 height in the high jump.

There are four mammoth giants who are capable of bettering each other with every toss.

Parry O'Brien, currently the king of the shot putters, still holds the official world record of 63 feet 4 inches although he and the other three, Dave Davis, Bill Neider and Dallas Long, have each bettered this mark.

★ ★ ★

When the International Amateur Athletic Federation passes on the new marks, O'Brien may find himself fourth best.

This could happen and it could also result in O'Brien losing a spot on the U.S. Olympic team which permits three berths.

In the past three months the shot put mark changed faster than it was possible for the ink to dry.

O'Brien bettered his own world mark with a 63-foot-5 heave, but then Dave Davis gained undisputed possession of the unofficial world record by tossing the 16 pound ball 63-feet-10½ inches.

It lasted only 15 minutes. Dallas Long then heaved the shot 64-feet-6½ inches.

Long, in turn held the record only for a week, when Nieder hit 65-feet-7 inches in the Texas Relays. This makes him the present holder unofficially.

All four of the shot putters are well over 230 pounds. O'Brien is the smallest and oldest but has the most polished technique. He has the biggest arms of the quartet.

The assault on the shot put record will get a good going over this month.

Nieder has the all-service championships this weekend while Long and Davis will be pushing for marks at the NCAA championships in Bakersfield, Calif., June 17-18. Then come the AAU championships, June 24-25, featuring possibly all four.

The Olympic tryouts follow, July 1-2 at Palo Alto, Calif., and finally the Olympic games in August.

All four have ample opportunity to improve on the current marks and anyone of them could make a 67-foot shot, the next step in the present revolution for records.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Pontiac Central's Bill Pritchett could easily fit into the picture of the shot put giants. Bill stands 6-4 and 225 pounds as a junior in high school.

His recent toss of the 12-pound shot, 61-feet-8¾ inches is better than Long's when Dallas set the high school record as a junior.

Bill could join this explosion of shot put records in a couple of years if he continues his present progress.

Hamtramck 'Black Sox' of Little League Play

HAMTRAMCK (UPI)—The Hamtramck team which won the little league World Series last year has turned out to be the "Black Sox" of kid baseball, it was learned last night.

Word leaked out that the Hamtramck Little Leaguers have been barred from National Tournament competition this year because of illegal use of nonresident players in 1959.

The practices were brought to light by Ace Minne, manager of the Harper Woods little league team, who spearheaded an investigation of the Hamtramck team.

Minne said last night that a tip from John Orlowski, a former Hamtramck manager, touched off an eight-month probe that was climaxed by a full-scale investigation at the Little League national meeting in Chicago last March.

★ ★ ★

At that time, Minne—along with other Harper Woods little league officials—presented what Minne called "documents of proof" that unveiled Hamtramck's use of nonresident players.

Pete McGovern, national little league president, then ruled to bar the Hamtramck team from the national tournament competition during 1960, said Minne last night.

"But it was decided at the meeting," added Minne, "to hush the thing up because it was believed the scandal would have put an unnecessary smear on little league baseball."

And the story remained a carefully guarded secret—until last night.

Once the story leaked, Minne verified all accounts and said that "Hamtramck has been indulging in shady sports practices for years. This Little League business is simply another example of it."

The chief target of the accusations against the Hamtramck team was Mitchell Wysocki, head of the community's recreation department and number one supporter of the Hamtramck little league program.

Wysocki, according to Minne, was harshly censured at the national meeting in Chicago when the team was barred from tournament play.

Wysocki could not be reached last night for comment.

YOU'RE OUT — Eddie Yost, Detroit third baseman, is a little too late sliding into second base as Marv Breeding takes the throw from catcher Clint Courtney in the first inning of last night's game. Umpire John Rice makes the call. The Tigers won the game in the 9th inning, 2-0, on Charlie Maxwell's single driving in two runs.

Detroit Pushes Baltimore From 1st Place, 2-0

Lary and Fisher Both Pitch Flawlessly in Close Contest

BALTIMORE (AP) — Both Frank Lary and Jack Fisher had that something extra last night, but Lary had a little more — Charlie Maxwell's two run single in the ninth inning.

Until the ninth inning, it looked like Baltimore might get to Lary before Detroit got to Fisher. Fisher had allowed only two Tiger runners to reach base.

But Chico Fernandez and Maxwell teamed up in the ninth to chill the Oriole righthander's near-perfect performance. Fernandez led off with a single and went to second on Lary's sacrifice. Eddie Yost drew his second walk and both runners advanced when Sandy Amoros, batting for Bolling, grounded to second baseman Marv Breeding. Maxwell's single to center, only the third hit off Fisher, gave the Tigers their 2-0 win, and climaxed a spectacular pitchers battle.

Earlier, Yost had walked in the first inning only to be thrown out trying to steal second. Rocky Colavito got as far as third base after his third inning single, but he was stranded as Yost flied out to end the inning.

The Oriole loss dropped them into second place, 10 percentage points behind the Cleveland Indians, who took a doubleheader from Boston last night.

Lary likewise allowed only three hits. The Birds threatened in the first and second innings, getting a man to third both times, but Lary escaped. He struck out seven and walked three in evening his record at 5-5.

Both sides played errorless ball. Fisher, making his first start in 10 days, got excellent support from Breeding at second and Brooks Robinson at third. Each made two fine plays to catch Tiger runners at first.

Breeding and Jackie Brandt saw their hitting streaks cut off at 11 games, but Maxwell kept up his run producing pace. He has batted in nine runs in the last seven games.

The Tigers' win pushed them over the .500 mark with a 22-21 record. They will round out their four game series with the Orioles tonight in a twi-night doubleheader. Detroit hurlers Paul Foytack and Pete Burnside will oppose Milt Pappas and Skinny Brown.

Three Top Pros in Buick Open

Middlecoff, Barber and Collins Have Entered Tourney Field

FLINT (AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Jerry Barber and Bill Collins have entered the $52,000 Buick Open, to be played at Warwick Hills Country Club July 1-4.

Middlecoff set a course record in 1959 with a 65. The golfing doctor plays infrequently on the tour. He finished in a tie for eighth place in last week's Memphis Open.

Barber and Collins each has won twice on the current tour. Barber captured the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas and the Yorba Linda Open. Collins picked up top money in the Houston and Hot Springs events.

Tribe Wins Pair, Yanks Blank Chicago

Cleveland Grabs AL Lead

By The Associated Press

Cleveland's suddenly hot-handed Tribe has barged past Baltimore into the American League lead, and Woody Held, the low-average belter, has been the Injuns' hatchetman.

The power-packed shortstop, batting .257 and benched in an 0-for-15 slump 10 days ago, drove in six runs and brought home the clincher in both games for an 8-7 and 5-2 twi-night sweep at Boston Wednesday night.

That made it four in a row and nine out of 12 for the Indians, who moved ahead of Baltimore by 10 percentage points. Detroit and Charlie Maxwell spanked the Baby Birds for the second night in a row, 2-0, in a double three-hit duel between pitchers Frank Lary and Jack Fisher. The fifth place Tigers, shut out on one hit for eight innings, broke through on Maxwell's two-run, two-out single in the ninth.

The New York Yankees smacked four home runs behind Bob Turley's three-hit pitching and beat Chicago 6-0, moving within a half-game of the third place White Sox. Washington defeated Kansas City 8-6.

Cleveland made it 5-0 over last place Boston on Held's grand-slam, his 11th home run, in the sixth-inning of the nightcap. His two-out single had capped a four-run fifth in the opener, after the Indians had blown a 4-0 lead. Held 3-for-4 in the pair, now has driven in 12 runs in 11 games, eight in the Tribe's four-game streak.

★ ★ ★

Gary Bell (6-4), who had lost three in a row, won the second game with a three-hitter, blanking the Red Sox on one hit until the seventh inning. Jim Perry (6-2) won his fifth in a row in the opener, although giving up Pumpsie Green's first major league slam and solo homers by Ed Sadowski and Pete Runnels. Johnny Klippstein saved it with three innings of hitless relief.

★ ★ ★

Reliever Mike Fornieles (2-1) lost the opener and Dave Hillman (0-2), who also gave up a home run by Jimmy Piersall, dropped the second game. That hung a five-game losing string on the Red Sox in Del Baker's debut as an interim manager. Billy Jurges was relieved earlier in the day because of his health.

★ ★ ★

All of the Yankees' runs scored on homers. Mickey Mantle hit two for a season total of 10 and a career total of 290. Roger Maris, the major league leader, matched his 1959 total with No. 16, and Hector Lopez belted his third. Turley (3-1) gave up nothing but singles, two by Al Smith, for his third straight victory and first complete game in nine starts since last August. Bob Shaw (5-5) lost for the first time in four career decisions against New York.

★ ★ ★

Three runs in the eighth, triggered by Julio Becquer's two-run single, did it for the Senators and winning reliever Don Lee (2-1). Bob Trowbridge (1-2) was the loser in relief.

Baker Replaces Ailing Jurges

BOSTON (AP) — Del Baker wants it known he is a fill-in for ailing manager Billy Jurges of the Boston Red Sox who are on a one-way elevator marked "down."

The 68-year-old Baker said Wednesday night before the Sox doubleheader loss to Cleveland he wants no part of managing. He had even less desire after the twin 5-7, 5-2 beatings by which the visitors took over first place in the American League.

Boston has lost five straight and 22 of its last 27.

Coach Baker became manager pro-tem Wednesday after Jurges was relieved of command for reasons of health. Jurges underwent a physical examination by two doctors who said he was under heavy strain.

The Red Sox then announced that Jurges had been replaced by Baker on an "interim basis for an undetermined period."

There was no firing, no release, no resignation.

Jurges was not available to the press but in a chance meeting with Cleveland's Joe Gordon has spoken of a "three-week vacation."

★ ★ ★

"We do not know how long Jurges will be out so we are not contemplating a managerial change," General Manager Bucky Harris said. "We plan to wait and see how Jurges feels after he has rested."

★ ★ ★

"I have no intention of becoming manager of the team," Baker said. "I have had all I want of being manager. In this case I am glad to help like any loyal employee. I hope that the rest will enable Jurges to come back on the job soon."

★ ★ ★

Jurges, who replaced Mike Higgins last July, had been given at least three votes of confidence by the management in recent weeks—the latest by owner Tom Yawkey nine days ago.

The Sox say no more about the future.

INTERIM MANAGER — Boston Red Sox coach Del Baker, was named interim manager today after Bill Jurges was relieved of the command for health reasons. General Manager Bucky Harris said the future would decide the managerial question. The Red Sox lost a doubleheader to Cleveland yesterday.

Knights Share Lead After 10-0 Victory

The Knights of Columbus tied the Jets for 1st place in the Class A City Baseball League with a 10-0 triumph over CIO Local 594 yesterday at Wisner Field. The Jets and K. of C. now have 4-2 records.

The Knights jumped on starting pitcher Jim Jones for six runs in the 1st inning, then coasted to an easy victory behind the five-hit shutout hurling of Jim Wagner.

Fr. John Rakoczy and Stu Dell furnished the heavy artillery in the big 1st inning by slamming homers, each coming with a man aboard.

In Class B action at Jaycee Park, Talbott Lumber tallied eight times in the 2nd inning and coasted to a 13-6 rout of Elizabeth Lake Estates.

RESIGNS—Charles Comiskey, grandson of the founder of the Chicago White Sox, resigned his position as vice president of the club. He still retains 46 per cent of the stock. A syndicate headed by Bill Veeck bought control of the club last year.

After 59 Years Sox Without a Comiskey

CHICAGO (AP)—There wasn't a Comiskey to be found today in the front office of the Chicago White Sox. And that hasn't happened since the club was founded in 1901.

Charles A. (Chuck) Comiskey resigned as executive vice president of the American League baseball club Wednesday. His letter expressed no bitterness, but wished Manager Al Lopez, the players and the club success.

Comiskey, who owns 46 per cent of the White Sox, will remain on the board of directors. He said he had no immediate plans, but added:

"I'm going to keep my stock. All I'm going to do right now is get out of the office for a while and spend some time with my family."

White Sox President Bill Veeck, leader of the group which bought majority control of the club from Comiskey's sister, Mrs. Dorothy Rigney, said: "It's a complete surprise to me."

"I have mixed emotions over learning this," Veeck continued. "I regret there no longer will be a Comiskey name in the front office of the White Sox, but if we can't operate in complete harmony it may be just as well."

Comiskey's letter of resignation was brief. It said:

"I hereby tender my resignation as executive vice president of the American League Baseball Club of Chicago effective today.

"I sincerely wish Manager Al Lopez, the players and the club continued success and am confident that Al and our players will win the American League pennant and the World Series for the city of Chicago this year."

Veeck said that the resignation of the 33-year-old Comiskey mean a loss for Comiskey of a five-figure annual salary. Veeck said the salary "was higher than when we got here."

Comiskey's grandfather, father and mother had been presidents of the White Sox. The first Charles Comiskey, the "Old Roman," helped found the American League in 1901. His first manager was Clark Griffith, later owner of the Washington Senators. Under him, the Sox won pennants in 1906, 1917 and 1919. The 1906 and 1917 clubs won the World Series.

The 1919 club—the Black Sox—threw the World Series to the Cincinnati Reds.

The Old Roman died in 1931 and he was succeeded as president by his son, J. Louis Comiskey. He reigned until his death, July 18, 1939.

Chuck's mother, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, fought to retain control of the club and was president until her death in December, 1956.

★ ★ ★

Thereafter, Chuck, who never did become club president, and his sister Dorothy shared control of the White Sox. Chuck served as vice president and Dorothy as secretary-treasurer until Veeck bought into the White Sox in March, 1959.

Dorothy later sold her stock to Veeck.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "I missed one no longer than that!"

DIAGNOSIS: Making a production of it.

TREATMENT: Missed short putts generally result either from carelessness or the extreme opposite—studying and fussing with the putt until you get all wound up.

The thing to do on a short putt — or any putt, for that matter — is study the line long enough to get a clear picture of it in your mind, and then step up and stroke the ball smoothly and resolutely.

The process outlined above takes some people longer than it takes others. I happen to be one who likes to be pretty deliberate on all shots, putts included.

I do know, however, that a lot of putts are missed simply because they are fussed over too much, as indicated in the drawing.

An even more frequent cause of missed short putts is carelessness. You think a putt is a cinch and you give it a half-hearted stab. And you miss.

Invitational Starts at Pine Lake C.C.

By BILL CORNWELL

Pine Lake Country Club members like to think of it as a "fun" tournament. Sometimes they jokingly call it a "blame it on your partner" event.

No matter how you look at it, they all have a "ball" every year in the Pine Lake Invitational golf tourney.

It's "fun" time again at Pine Lake C. C. where the 11th annual Invitational test began a four-day stand today with 18-hole qualifying rounds to determine play by flights.

As usual, it's a selective drive—alternate shot tournament, which is the reason for the "blame it on your partner" quip.

The two partners tee off, select the drive they want to use, then alternate shots through the hole.

Elmer Frieskorn, Pine Lake's genial head pro, reports that 144 two-man teams are entered in the tourney and flights and pairings will be announced for all of them tonight at the conclusion of qualifying.

Several talented teams are entered, including the defending champs, Tony and Tommy Skover, and last year's runnerup tandem of Bob Babbish and Bill O'Brien.

Other strong entries include Perry Byard and Dick Whiting from Red Run, Jim Funston and Bill Krall from Plum Hollow, Ray West and Don Patrick from Red Run, and the Pontiac tandem of Dick DeWitt and Dick Robertson.

Another very capable entry will be Dearborn's Ralph Ellstrom and Howard Neilson.

The father-and-son team of Tony and Tommy Skover represent Meadowbrook while Babbish and O'Brien are registering from Detroit Golf Club. The Skovers posted a 3-2 victory over Babbish and O'Brien in last year's finals.

Numerous teams already have shot their qualifying rounds and a par 72 by Byard and Whiting is the best scorecard to date. Pine Lake's par reads 36-36—72 and the yardage is 6,825.

Match play in all flights starts Friday. Single matches are scheduled tomorrow and Saturday with the semifinals and finals set for Sunday. All matches are slated to go 18 holes.

Gordon had stopped Pacheco just 11 seconds before the end of their scheduled 10 rounder. He was rushed to a hospital where Dr. Howard Dunbar performed a 90-minute operation to remove a blood clot on Pacheco's brain. The fighter never regained con-

Bally Ache Favored at Belmont

NEW YORK (AP)—Bally Ache, favorite for the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes Saturday, is a colt who barges out of the gate like a jet-propelled jackrabbit. Then, it's catch him if you can.

He won the Preakness that way, also the Jersey Derby, the Flamingo and the Florida Derby — all $100,000-plus races. Venetian Way did manage to thrust his nose in front momentarily in the Florida Derby, but Bally Ache refused to say uncle, and came on again to win. He also led for almost a mile in the Kentucky Derby, before Venetian Way took charge.

Now, the horse people out Belmont Park way are wondering. Since charts of the Belmont Stakes were first filed in 1905, the year Belmont Park opened, only seven horses have managed to lead from start to finish in the 1½-mile race. The list reads like a who's who of thoroughbred racing.

The seven who led from wire to wire were Hourless (1917), Man O'War (1920), Zev (1923), Chance Shot (1927), Johnstown (1939), Count Fleet (1943, and Citation (1948).

Eight starters are expected for the Belmont. A front-running victory for Bally Ache would just about clinch the 3-year-old title for the Turfland Syndicate darling.

Nothing ran with Bally Ache to force him in the Preakness, and jockey Bobby Ussery set his own slow pace. With plenty of horse left leaving the backstretch, Bobby turned him loose and Bally Ache won easily. The distance was a mile and three sixteenths.

On May 30 at Garden State Park, C. V. Whitney's Tompion forced Bally Ache's pace to the utmost, but the tough son of Bally Dam never tossed in the towel. He hung on like a champ, and won the mile and one eighth race by a neck.

Who will force the pace in the Belmont? It could be the Merrick Stable's John William, winner of the $117,000 Withers Mile. The Cain Hoy Stable's Tooth and Nail is another colt who can make Bally Ache step in the early going. Tompion cannot allow Bally Ache to get too much of a head start.

Celtic Ash, a come-from-behind colt owned by the Green Dunes Farm, could profit if someone takes the starch out of Bally Ache in the first mile.

The Sunny Blue Farm's Venetian Way, beaten Preakness favorite, will be back for another crack at his old rival. The King Ranch's Disperse, son of 1950 Belmont winner Middleground, has the breeding to take it all. The field is rounded out by Howard Keck's Nagea, a long shot from California.

The perfect companion in any drink is clear, light, pleasant Arrow Vodka. Never intrudes, never dominates, mixes well. Preferred by more and more people.

Softball Hurlers Take Back Seat

Realty Club Executes Triple Play in Game at Northside

By and large, pitching took a back seat Wednesday night in City Softball League action at Beaudette and Northside parks. Thirty-eight runs crossed the plate in three National loop games.

Herk's Auto Parts rallied for two runs in the bottom of the 7th inning to edge First Presbyterian, 10-9, with pitcher Ed Rondo winning his own game by doubling home the deciding run.

O'Neil Realty made only one hit off Dick Vivian, but still managed to defeat Blue Star Drive-In, 4-2. The Realty club executed a triple play in the 8th stanza to squelch a budding Blue Star rally.

Lloyd Harper hurled a three-inning no-hitter as Huron Bowl trounced Universal Oil, 13-0. The league's 10-run rule halted play.

"C" Battery staved off a 7th-inning uprising for a 13-12 decision over the 300 Lounge in an International League contest. Harold Dorman clouted a three-run homer in the 4th stanza for the Battery squad.

Twyman Receives Award

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pro basketball star Jack Twyman, who became his brother's keeper, Wednesday received the annual sports award of the Washington Interfaith Committee.

LA 'Ghost' Haunts Milwaukee Again

By The Associated Press

It was Williams who beat the Braves with three innings of hitless relief in the final game of the playoff for the National League flag last season. And Wednesday night in his first run-in with Milwaukee since then the 6-foot-4, 230-pounder beat the Braves 4-1, choking off their spurt toward the top with the help of a pair of two-run eighth-inning homers by Wally Moon and Duke Snider.

* * *

The third-place Braves, who had won six of seven, dropped 4½ games behind league-leading Pittsburgh again. The Pirates, after losing three in a row, won 5-3 at Chicago and retained a one-game edge over second-place San Francisco. The Giants, calling on Sam (Available) Jones for the first time in relief this season, hung on with a 2-1 victory over Cincinnati.

Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 5-4.

* * *

The Dodgers, blanked on five hits for seven innings by Carl Willey, tied St. Louis for fifth place as Moon unloaded against losing reliever Don McMahon (1-5) and Snider tagged Bob Rush. It was Moon's fifth of the season and gave him 13 runs batted in over the last four games. The Duke tied Joe DiMaggio for eighth on the all-time major league list, the 361st of his career, sixth this year.

* * *

Williams allowed just three hits, two by Wes Covington, before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

* * *

The Pirates, now 2-3 on a road trip that has 12 games to go, beat the Cubs with Dick Stuart's two-run homer in the fifth, Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell (2-3) had a three-hit shutout for six innings, then needed Elroy Face's superb relief to get his first victory since coming to the Bucs from the Cardinals. Face retired Ernie Banks on a pop fly and got Ed Bouchee on a grounder after coming on in the seventh with the bases loaded and three runs home. Bob Anderson (2-2) was the loser.

* * *

All the scoring came in the ninth at San Francisco, and all three runs were unearned. Ed Bressoud's two-out, two-run single did it for the Giants, who had been held to four hits for eight innings by loser Jim O'Toole (4-5). Cincinnati, hitless for 7 1-3 innings against Mike McCormick, scored on singles by Billy Martin and Eddie Kasko and catcher Bob Schmidt's throwing error. Jones (7-4) struck out Frank Robinson and Gus Bell to end the uprising.

* * *

A two-run double by pinch-hitter Tony Curry cracked 3-3 tie in the eighth for the Phils, handing Lindy McDaniel (3-3) his first loss as a reliever. The big right-hander had allowed only one run in 29 2-3 innings of relief this season and had a string of 15 scoreless frames. John Buzhardt (2-4) won it.

Patterson Looks Sharp in Drills

* * *

* * *

* * *

Patterson looked particularly good in his session with Mederos. Both slugged it out at close quarters for most of the two rounds.

Rawls Begins Defense of Round Robin Title

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., opens the defense of her Triangle round robin golf title today against 15 other distaff sharpshooters.

Leading contenders for the $1,500 first money of the $13,000 purse include Fay Crocker of Uruguay, Louise Suggs of Atlanta, Ga., and Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich.

New York Picks Up Two Former Detroit Players

Unprotected Lindsay Is Ignored by NHL Clubs

MONTREAL (AP) — The New York Rangers tapped rival National Hockey League teams for three players Wednesday, grabbing forwards Billy McNeill and Ted Hampson and defenseman Jim Morrison for $20,000 each in the circuit's annual intra-league draft.

* * *

The Rangers, last-place finishers in the 1959-60 season, obtained McNeill from Detroit, Hampson from Toronto and Morrison from Chicago.

* * *

McNeill, a 24-year-old right winger, was obtained by the Rangers along with Red Kelly in February. However, when both Red Wing players refused to report to New York the deal was nullified and McNeill sat out the rest of the season. In 47 games with Detroit, Billy scored five goals and made 13 assists.

* * *

Morrison, 28, is a nine-year NHL veteran. He has played with Boston and Toronto in addition to Detroit. The Red Wings traded him to Chicago Tuesday. Hampson, a center, divided last season between Toronto and Rochester of the American League. He collected two goals and eight assists for the Maple Leafs and six goals and 18 assists for Rochester. Ted, 24, is a former Ranger farmhand.

* * *

Bartlett, 27, played for the Rangers and their Springfield farm in the American League team in 1959-60, scoring eight times for New York and seven for the AHL champions.

* * *

Each club was allowed to protect 20 players, including two goalies, from the draft. Among the unprotected was Ted Lindsay. The purchase price of all nine players drafted was $20,000 each.

Not Planning to Quit

I've Decided to Relax and Have Fun – Piersall

The Cleveland outfielder Wednesday night, however, restated his protest about fans throwing objects which touched off at least one of his recent outbursts in Chicago which drew a $250 fine.

* * *

Piersall, an ex-Boston player whose family still lives in suburban Newton, is a high-strung athlete who frankly admits "I've been called crazy and I know I was sick some years back."

He also is enjoying the finest season of his major league career. Now in his 10th campaign, Piersall was batting .317 after Wednesday night's doubleheader sweep over the Red Sox. He has 29 runs batted in, 27 runs scored and nine stolen bases. He slammed his eighth homer in the nightcap.

* * *

Piersall's "fun" included sprinting top speed around the bases on his homer in the first inning of the second contest and blowing a kiss to his wife Mary who was sitting behind the Cleveland dugout; joking with fans in the centerfield bleachers; thumbing his nose at a catcalling customer after popping up in the seventh inning and saluting a group of sailors when they blasted on a Navy horn they had brought along.

* * *

Mrs. Piersall, who saw him through his troubled time when he was hospitalized in 1952, says she hopes that Jim does not run into any problems before he retires from baseball. But she denies she has asked him to get out now.

* * *

"I don't want to get out of the game," Piersall said. "Baseball is my job. And the game helps me in some business interests I have, too.

"I don't want anything but to be let alone so I can do my best for Cleveland. That's it.

* * *

"I expect pitchers to brush me back. I don't care if the other players ride me. The only thing is they've got to be ready to get it right back from me.

"I'm sick of being blamed by the umpires for everything. I just want an even break. Nothing more. The same as any other player."

Piersall's biggest beef has to do with thrown objects, particularly by the fans in Chicago and Detroit. He said he recently has been bombarded with such objects as oranges, golf balls, staples and flashlight batteries. "You can lose an eye that way," Persall said.

* * *

"If I said the ballparks should be policed they'd only laugh at me," Jim continued. "I know what some of those umpires say about me. But I'll go right on fighting for things when I think I'm right."

He'll Play at Home

Expects to Beat Sugar Again

Pender Talks Confidently

BOSTON (AP) — Paul Pender talks with the ease and assurance of a man accustomed to public speaking. When he explains why he expects to beat Ray Robinson again Friday night he is a convincing orator.

Many thought it was a fluke when Pender beat Robinson Jan. 22 for the New York-Massachusetts version of the world middleweight title. Naturally Pender does not agree. It was a split decision among the officials with a wide difference of opinion among boxing writers and television viewers.

"I'm going along with the idea of outpointing him again," said the 29-year-old former fireman from suburban Brookline, Mass. "If the opportunity presents itself later when Robinson tires, I will go for the knockout.

"I expect to fight the same type of fight, feinting him into moves, tying him up and making him squander his energy in the early rounds. Anyone who fights Robinson like that gives him trouble. I'll shuffle with him just like Tommy Bell and Rocky Castellani did.

"The first time I didn't know what to expect. Of course, it always is possible he will do something new. But at his age what can be new."

Although Pender still is a 2 to 1 underdog as the defending champ, he speaks with extreme confidence. His manager, Johnny Buckley, makes it even more definite.

Palmer, Wall Golf Favorites

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Golf's foremost twosome—Arnold Palmer and Art Wall Jr.—commanded most of the attention as 138 professionals and 10 amateurs started the first round of the $30,000 Oklahoma City Open today.

The field will battle Twin Hills Country Club's tight and tricky par 71 layout for four days with $4,300 going to the winner Sunday evening.

The course measures the same 6,440 yards it did last year when Palmer came home with a 273 for the top prize.

Ready if Wall or Palmer fail are former Open champions Julius Boros, Lloyd Mangrum and Tommy Bolt, and former Masters champions Doug Ford and Jackie Burke Jr. Bolt won last week at Memphis.

Others include young Bob Goalby who came on strong to finish two strokes behind Palmer last year, and Gene Littler, the Singing Hills, Calif., veteran who first crashed the big time by winning the national amateur here in 1953.

Gene Sarazen is the only man who has won all four of America's top prestige tournaments. He

Dawson Wins 3rd Straight Seniors

RYE, N. Y. (AP) — Johnny Dawson of Palm Desert Calif., became eligible for the U. S. Seniors' Golf Assn. competition three years ago, and today he held his third straight championship.

The sprightly 57-year-old Californian took his third crown Wednesday as he carded a par 72 over the Apawamis club course to add to his two-under-par 69 for his first round at the Westchester Country Club for a 141 total.

J. Walcott Brown of Sea Girt, N. J., senior match play champion, finished second with 71-73—144, and two former champions tied for third at 145. John Ellis Knowles, 73 and a six-time winner, carded 73-72, and John W. Roberts of Columbus, Ohio, 71-74.

NBA President Asks Regulation of Title Bouts

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Tony Maceroni, president of the National Boxing Assn. will ask for the formation of a championship committee to regulate title defenses at a meeting of the NBA's executive committee he has called for June 20 in New York.

"We neeed to set up a new regulation for title defenses and tighten our rules for championship bouts," Maceroni said. "This work can best be done by a committee of five or six. I'm going to ask that this committee be formed at our coming meeting in New York."

Maceroni said committee reports also will be heard at the meeting. There also will be a discussion of the title situation in all classes, he added.

Michigan Bowlers Win Champs' Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Golembiewski of Detroit and Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, dethroned Mr. and Mrs. Don Carter of St. Louis in the Invitation Bowling Tournament of Champions at Madison Square Garden last night.

Golembiewski put together a 697 with a 203-257-237 to defeat Carter in a three-game bowl-off after Don had led the qualifiers with a 2,043 for nine games. Carter's final three games were 186-241-214 for a 614.

Mrs. Ladewig had a 211-203-157 for a 571 compared to 165-167-181—513 for Mrs. Laverne Carter in the women's finals.

'Father's Day' Contest

Tigers to 'Battle' Sons

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers will take on their sons Saturday, June 18, in a "Fathers Day" two-inning ball game before the start of the regular contest with the Baltimore Orioles.

★ ★ ★

To even things up a bit, the Tigers will have to bat and throw opposite from their normal right or left hand positions and every pitch will be a strike. The sons will get six outs and run to shorter bases.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers' sons team will include Paul Foytack, 9, Frank Lary Jr., 8, Dan Wilson, 8, Steve Bilko Jr., 9, Chris Maxwell, 9, Jeff Maxwell, 6, John Hitchcock, 8, Tom Ferrick, 11, Pat Ferrick, 8, Keary Chrisley, 7, Jim Bunning Jr., 6, and Don Mossi Jr., 6.

The game will be an annual affair.

★ ★ ★

Manager of the boys team will be Tiger Johnny Groth — father of six girls.

Red's Toughest Foe

CHICAGO (UPI) — Red Grange, the old Galloping Ghost from Illinois, says the toughest football player he ever played against was Cal Hubbard, then a tackle with the Green Bay Packers. Hubbard now is supervisor of umpires for the American League.

Two Cage Aides at 'M'

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Jim Scala and Tom Jorgensen, both former Michigan basketball players, will become assistant coaches under coach Dave Strack at the University of Michigan.

Scala, basketball coach at Eastern Michican University since 1955, was a forward at Michigan in 1950-51-52. Jorgenson was a guard on the Wolverine teams of 1954-55-56.

Spring Check of Boat Motor Is Simple Precaution

If you were the perfect outboarder last fall and carefully prepared your motor for winter storage, chances are you can take it out of storage, put it on your boat, and enjoy many hours of trouble-free boating this spring.

But if the press of other activities caught up with you, as they did with many of us, and you just pulled the motor off the boat or left it hanging there on the transom all winter, you'd better give it a maintenance check before you get out on the water. If you don't, that old outboard is apt to fight back.

The entire job is very simple and shouldn't take you over an hour if you follow a set of basic recommendations outlined by Bill Smale, division engineer at Evinrude Motors.

Start with the ignition system. If you have very many hours of running time on your spark plugs, the safest and simplest thing to do is replace them. If you don't need new ones, clean carbon off the old ones and reset the gap. Check the spark plug connectors for corrosion, especially if you used your rig in salt water. Cracked or worn rubber insulators should be replaced.

Next comes the fuel system. Remove the carburetor sediment bowl, which protects the carburetor from gummy deposits present in fuel, and clean both filter and bowl with neutral spirits or thinner.

Check fuel lines for cracks and leaks and replace them immediately if they show damage. This should include the fuel line to each of your portable tanks.

As a word of caution, always be sure your fuel tank lines are free of kinks and in such a position that other gear does not rest on them when you are operating. The best way to assure this is to coil extra line around the top of the gasoline tank.

Another check point, Smale says, is the throttle linkage. All moving parts between the throttle, carburetor and magneto should be lubricated. Replace badly worn linkage. Fill grease fittings on the pivot shaft with grease and keep lubricated all year.

A thorough inspection of the entire lower unit is also recommended by Smale. Drain the fluid from the gear housing and refill with the proper lubricant. See that the drive pin on the propeller shaft is not worn and check the prop.

The propeller may be a main cause of malfunction and it if looks nicked or bent, take it to your dealer and have it repitched.

By the way, if you need to make a call on your dealer, you might have him check your motor's coils and condenser to see that they are operating properly.

To be sure of getting this all out, remove the filler-cap casting and mechanism and scrub the gum loose with acetone or lacquer thinner. While at it, work this material through the fuel intake strainer to be sure it is not clogged. Again, a badly gummed tank can best be cleaned by your dealer.

On the electric start models, be sure your battery cables are in top shape, and it's always best to start the year with a fully charged battery.

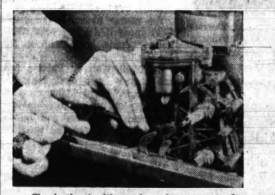
Remove the outer plate from your remote control box head and lubricate the entire head with a waterproof grease. Check to see that steering cables are tight and in good condition, and also lubricate the steering pulleys.

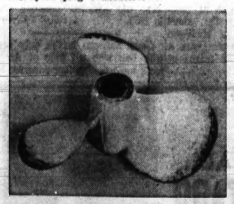
You or your dealer can judge the work that needs to be done on your boat. It may need some caulking or painting or both.

On your trailer, you should lubricate the winch mechanism, all the rollers and the spring shackles. To save trouble later, it is wise to remove and re-pack the trailer wheels and replace the grease retainers if they show any wear.

This is basic maintenance, but a few minutes spent now will save you possible difficulty later this summer when it's especially distressing to miss even an hour of beautiful boating weather.



Check the ignition wires for wear and corrosion and pay particular attention to the spark plug connectors.



If your prop looks like this, it should at least be repitched, and possibly replaced.

If gasoline was left over the winter in the fuel tank, remove the connector attachment, clean the tank thoroughly of any gum deposits and check the filter. Also check fuel hose and connections for cracks.

Drain the lubricant from the lower gear case and refill to the top hole with the proper gear case lubricant.

Maximum Economy Range Important

On almost every outboard-powered planning hull there is a maximum economy range that occurs somewhere between the planing speed and the maximum speed of the boat, according to research by the Evinrude Boating Foundation.

Every outboard owner can save on fuel costs by determining as nearly as possible that maximum economy range according to the load he is carrying. A few runs with varied loads will normally allow the owner to determine with fair accuracy the speed at which his boat will get maximum economy in miles per gallon of fuel consumed.

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Machen the No. 4 heavyweight contender, went through a lot of motion without much progress as he gained his 34th victory against two defeats Wednesday night.

The nationally-televised bout produced a lot of swinging and swaying, but nobody came close to being hurt.

Moore-Schoeppner Contracts Signed

TORONTO (AP)—Contracts for the world light heavyweight championship fight between titleholder Archie Moore and Erich Schoeppner were signed Wednesday in Mayor Phillips' office at City Hall. The only persons missing were the fighters.

The bout will be staged at Toronto's Varsity Stadium Monday, July 18, with the ageless Moore guaranteed $200,000 or 35 per cent of the gate. Schoeppner, undefeated European champion, will get $50,000. A 90-day return-bout clause was included in the contract.

V-Bottom Runabout Passes Stern Test

By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN
Editor, Popular Boating

Notable innovations in pleasure-craft hull designs are rare, but a runabout from the drawing board of C. Raymond Hunt is creating great interest.

Called the Hunt 19, it is a 16-foot version of the larger boats in which Richard Bertram finished first and we came in second in the recent rugged Miami-to-Nassau race.

Most small motorboats today start with a v-shaped section at the bow and broaden as they run aft until they are almost flat-bottomed at the transom. Ray Hunt of Boston had other ideas. With experience ranging from small-sailing classes to the design of the America's Cup contender, Easterner, Hunt does not hesitate to experiment.

The result is a fiberglas hull, made by the Marscott division of George O'Day, which keeps the v-shape for its entire length. Along the bottom are long ridges which add directional stability and help the boat get up onto the surface in planing position. It can take outboard or inboard power.

We heard that it could safely handle large seas that might normally be dangerous for a 16-foot boat, and assigned marine engineer Jim Wynne to give it a workout for a Popular Boating test report.

Straight-away runs were made at various throttle settings to find how much speed was necessary to get the boat up on plane.

Gradual turns were tried and sharp ones at high speed to see if the hull would heel or skid excessively. With a Volvo engine and Aquamatic inboard-outboard drive, the boat topped 39 miles an hour and still handled smoothly without any attempt to fight the driver or roll on the turns.

Five more passengers were brought aboard the maneuvers repeated. The Hunter 19 proved very stable, with no tendencies to tip severely as passengers moved about.

Alone again, Wynne ran the boat in fast circles so that he had to drive across the waves of his own wake. Hitting the chop at an angle and sometimes jumping clear of the water, he found the boat could hold course even with his hands off the wheel—not an experiment to try with a conventional boat.

Earlier tests were run on Florida's inland waterway off the Lauderdale Marina. So for a graduation exercise Wynne ran the Hunter 19 through the steep seas of the inlet and out into the open Atlantic.

The Gulf Stream offshore was kicking up with rolling ground swells topped by a confused chop. Through it all skipped the Hunter 19, with the v-hull giving a stable ride.

Though this hull design draws more water than similar flat-bottomed boats, it refutes the idea that a boat of this type must be slow.

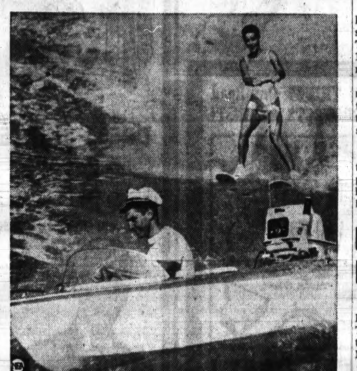
The Hunter 19 is a fast runabout that can take rough seas without pounding, and its different look in hulls might start a new trend in boats that can venture offshore.



MITEY POWERFUL — The little boat isn't much bigger than a water ski, but Jimmy Jackson has it roaring on the water at 25 miles an hour at Cypress Gardens, Fla. There's hardly enough room for a passenger, so Betty (Honey Bear) MacCalla bounces along behind. It's neat transportation on a hot day.

Vibration Often Is Big Cause of Outboard Noise

Quiet-operating outboard motors are taken pretty much for granted today, but few people realize that one of the chief causes of noise comes not from internal operating noises within the engine, but from vibration, amplified many times by the boat hull, which acts like a giant sounding board.

The cure for vibration is isolation, which is why Evinrude Motors pioneered the use of aircraft-type engine vibration mountings that eliminate the rigid connection between boat and motor. This reduces noise to the amount actually made by the engine. The motors are further silenced by sound-tight fiberglass covers over the power-head, shrouding of the exhaust housing and acoustical sound traps to eliminate air intake noises.

Crew of Detroit Boat Club Will Vie in Regatta

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (AP) — The Detroit Boat Club is one of eight American crews which will compete for the Thames grand challenge cup competition of the Henley Royal regatta next month.

Harvard's lightweights, winners of 26 straight races, will try for a third straight victory in the grand challenge event. Harvard's heavyweights however, will pass up the event in favor of the U.S. Olympic rowing trials.

Other American entries are Yale, Kent School, Tabor Academy, Elliott House of Harvard, Hun School of Princeton, N.J., and St. Paul School of Concord, N.J.

HIGH JUMP — Test engineer Jim Wynn puts the new Hunter 19 through its paces by jumping the runabout off a wave. The hull, which carries a v-design all the way aft to the transom, has proved successful in handling heavy offshore seas.

Propeller Slip-Clutch Good Safety Feature

The propeller slip-clutch, introduced on outboards some 35 years ago, but common to most motors only recently has finally won out over the shear pin, according to the Evinrude Boating Foundation.

The important advantage of the slip-clutch to most boatmen is not that it eliminates a nuisance (which it does) but that it provides the means to power clear of dangerous reefs and shoal waters—places where a dead propeller resulting from a sheared pin, could lead to serious trouble.

Black Hawks Sign Michigan Tech Ace

HOUGHTON (AP) — John Kosiancic, a senior from Michigan Tech, has signed a contract with the Chicago Black Hawks, of the National Hockey League.

The 21-year-old right winger, who will graduate Sunday with a degree in business administration, holds Tech's all-time three-year goal-scoring record. Kosiancic scored 64 goals and 131 points in three years of varsity hockey with the Huskies.

Nobody Reads Anymore

Books? I Left Mine Back in School

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Here is a statistic to moisten your bifocals: after leaving school, less than one-fifth of all Americans ever buy a book.

If that isn't sad enough, hear this: after leaving school, less than half of all Americans ever read a book.

We spend, on books and magazines and newspapers combined, less than half of 1 per cent of our recreational dollar . . . less than we spend on admission to ball parks, for instance; a minute fraction of what we reverently donate to parimutual machines.

Yet, we are supposed to be the most literate country in the world. So obviously there is plenty of information kicking around in our undernourished minds.

In fact, it's been revealed that inside one average mature American brain there is stored more than 10 times the amount of information contained in all the books in the National Library of Congress.

★ ★ ★

we wonder. Gossip? Late ball scores? Ready-mix waffle instructions?

The above figures on our no-read status might quickly be passed off as another sign that this country is young and lively and wants to participate. Too busy flexing our muscles to read.

Or we can blame it on television, which has become our national whipping-box. Takes all our leisure hours. Ruins our eyes for intellectual stuff.

MORE EXCUSES

Or how about complaining that books are too expensive these days, and libraries aren't conveniently located?

And how about this idea for absolving the guilt feelings — they don't build houses like they used to. Instead of libraries, there's a "family room." Gee, there's hardly even room for the LP records, and they're so thin, let alone books.

I'm sure we all have our own favorite rationalizations for why we don't read more. If at all. But to me the only valid excuse is the honest one:

I don't read because I don't enjoy it.

Most people in America can find the time, the space and the money for books but they do not bother — chiefly because they were taught in school to respect books, but not to love them.

They were taught to read diligently, but not instinctively. They were instructed in how to digest a book for specific information, in order to pass an examination, but not for ideas.

PASSIVE APPROACH

They were told what never to do (turn down the corner of a page, write in a margin, keep a library book till it's overdue), but never what to do (master one word or one thought at a time, enjoy it, talk about it.)

Schools refused to consider "reading" an end in itself. They made books into tools of work, weapons which had to be used to smash one's way through to a passing grade.

As a result, many of us never learned to read easily, swiftly and with pleasure. We came out of school with the subconscious feeling that wowee! We'd made the grade and could put torturous things like books behind us.

I am assured, by experts in modern education, that the picture is improving and that today's children are being taught to look at books with more keenness, less cringe.

Let's hope so. It is unpleasant to contemplate a great nation of people whose chief sources of information are neighbors, TV tubes and stadium peddlers barking "hot dogs!"

Wraps Up Bill on U.S. Housing

Subcommittee Measure Far Exceeds Requests by President

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Housing subcommittee Wednesday wrapped up a many-sided $1,581,500,000 housing bill that far exceeds what President Eisenhower asked.

The biggest items are: 500 million dollars in government loans for college dormitories, 350 million in added federal grants for urban renewal-slum clearance in the cities and 300 million for direct home loans to veterans unable to obtain mortgage funds elsewhere.

The subcommittee also approved a bill to set up a new program of 100 million dollars in low-interest federal loans to help struggling commuter transit systems in large cities. This also is strongly opposed by the administration, which contends that is a local responsibility.

Both measures now go to the full banking committee, which is expected to send them to the Senate floor soon.

Despite signs that President Eisenhower would veto a housing bill that contains so many features the administration opposes, subcommittee Chairman John J. Sparkman (D-Ala) predicted that the President would sign the measure if it wins congressional passage.

★ ★ ★

Sparkman said he and other subcommittee members voted against several broader features in an effort to shape a bill acceptable to the administration.

★ ★ ★

He added that the subcommittee approved the measure unanimously despite objections by Republican members to some provisions.

Last year, Eisenhower twice vetoed omnibus housing bills. He finally signed a sharply trimmed-down measure.

Many May Want Duke of Windsor Back in England

LONDON (UPI)—Some of the Duke of Windsor's old friends at court are quietly canvassing palace opinion on the possibility of his return from what many regard as exile.

The Duke who will be 66 years old on June 23, ruled only briefly as King Edward VIII.

He has not lived in Britain since his 1936 abdication and only slips in occasionally and almost unnoticed for brief personal visits.

Those of the court claim that a return from exile would be tremendously popular with large sections of the people, and that time has dulled the antagonisms aroused by his renouncing the British throne for the love of an American divorcee, Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Prices Turn Weak on Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices ranged from mostly steady to weak today in slack early activity on the board of trade.

★ ★ ★

Soybeans were under fairly stiff pressure and down major fractions during the first half hour on the nearby months. Wheat and oats held unchanged or within minimum fractions of previous finishes while corn and rye eased slightly in spots.

★ ★ ★

Dealers said there apparently were no new trade influences in the market and that the scattered selling again appeared to be direct liquidation.

Holiday Traffic Jumps

LANSING (AP) — Memorial Day traffic in Michigan jumped 28.4 per cent above the volume for the same day a year ago, the Highway Department said. The largest increase—92.2 per cent—was recorded on M115 north of Farwell.

Stephen Foster, composer of "Swanee River" and "My Old Kentucky Home," died in New York City at the age of 38.

Quality Buying Holds Up Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—Top grade investment issues were bought as the stock market pursued this week's strong rally into the fourth straight session early this afternoon.

Profit taking continued in steels and motors which spearheaded the market's recent breakout above a narrow trading range.

This would cast serious doubt on the "bear signal" flashed March 3, according to followers of the Dow Theory.

Brokers said gains in high quality stocks reflected continued buying by mutual funds and other large institutional investors. Advances of several points by these blue chips gave the popular market averages a strong boost.

★ ★ ★

Space age defense issues also continued to make strides as Washington appeared to be in a mood to spend more on rocketry.

★ ★ ★

Eastman Kodak advanced about 7 points and Du Pont 6 or so. Corning Glass was up about 5, Union Carbide about 2.

"The market looks awfully good at the current juncture," said Joseph E. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co., an analyst who pays strict attention to all the technical signs and portents.

Gains of about 2 points were made by Texaco, Westinghouse Electric and International Harvester while Woolworth added around 3.

Among volatile issues, Universal Match spurted more than 5, Motorola about 3 and Raytheon close to 2.

Up about a point were Zenith and Allied Chemical.

New U.S. Citizens Feted by Elks Club

Nearly 200 new U.S. citizens living in the Pontiac area were honored last night at the 17th annual "Flag Day" banquet sponsored by the Pontiac Elks Lodge.

Dr. Robert Pierce of the Metropolitan Methodist Church in Detroit was featured speaker at the 6:30 dinner at the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

He spoke on Americanism and what new naturalized citizens must do along with other Americans to preserve freedom and the nation's heritage.

The late Lynn D. Allen, veteran county clerk, started the dinners. Since his death, his son Lynn D. Allen Jr. has been chairman of the yearly banquet.

Flag Day doesn't arrive until June 14.

Auxiliaries from the following veteran organizations helped with the dinner: Blue Star Mothers, American Legion Cook Nelson Post 20, Chief Pontiac Post of the American Legion, Bemis - Olson Post of Amvets, Wright Fornier Amvets Post, VFW Post 1370, VFW Post 1008 and the Gold Star Mothers.

Texas Feels Huge Hailstones, Heavy Rains

By The Associated Press

A light rain fell over sections of the country southward from the Canadian border to the Rio Grande today.

It was in this same general area Wednesday that the weather played havoc. At least one and possibly three more tornadoes raked portions of Texas. Hailstones, reportedly the size of baseballs, and torrential rains beat down on the western part of the state.

Nearly 3½ inches of rain fell in 30 minutes at Paducah, some 100 miles east of Lubbock. The high water flooded homes and places of business and closed highways in all directions from the town. Wind gusts reached 85 m.p.h.

The Chicago Weather Bureau reported several tornado funnels were sighted Wednesday in Kansas during a heavy downpour. Northwest of Jetmore, Kans., 6 inches of rain were reported.

New Bill Labels Payola a Crime

Provides for One-Year Sentence or $10,000 Fine for Offense

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Commerce Committee voted today to outlaw payola and rigging of television-radio quiz shows.

It approved legislation to make both the rigging of quiz shows and under the table payments for plugging of records criminal offenses.

The bill would provide penalties of one-year imprisonment or $10,000 fine for such offenses.

The measure carries out recommendations of the legislative Oversight Committee which heard testimony that some quiz shows were rigged with prepared questions and answers, and that many disc jockeys received large sums of money for playing records on their shows.

The committee rejected another proposal that would have given the federal government authority to license and regulate TV-radio networks.

Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich) said the rejection of his proposal for network licensing "seriously weakens" efforts to eliminate abuses in the broadcasting industry uncovered by congressional investigators.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), chairman of both the investigating subcommittee and the parent Commerce Committee, said the network licensing should be handled in a separate bill.

Transfer Kidney From Dad to Son in New Surgery

BOSTON (AP) — Two teams of doctors operated today to transplant a kidney from father to son, the first such operation in medical history.

In the lengthy operation a healthy organ was transferred from Sgt. Virgil N. Reck of the Dayton, Ohio, police, to his ailing 15-year-old son Robert.

Robert has a serious kidney disease and the transfer is considered the only step that will aid him?

Peter Bent Brigham Hospital spokesmen emphasized it will be some time before the outcome of the operation can be determined.

City Underwriters Elect Floyd Blanzy

Others named to office are Cornell Wilson, secretary-treasurer; John Griesen, first vice president; Clair Johnson, second vice president; Thomas Knox, third vice president; and Lou Pohl, national committeeman.

Serving on the board of directors are Thomas McKinstry, William Coulacos, Mack Oakley, Curtis Patton, Olin LaBarge and Charles Vaughan.

Did Baird Seek Judge's Death?

Ann Arbor Jury Must Decide; May Begin Its Deliberation Today

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Industrialist Charles Baird's witness-stand denial that he tried to buy the murder of Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr. is before a jury that may begin deliberating his fate today on a charge of soliciting to murder.

★ ★ ★

Baird, 51, denied yesterday the testimony of convict Kenneth Stratton, 30, that the industrialist tried to hire him to kill the judge, who twice sent Baird to jail for failing to keep up alimony payments to his ex-wife.

Baird denied ever mentioning any such plot to Stratton, but the convict held to his story under cross-examination by defense attorney James R. Beek.

While he was in jail awaiting sentence on a federal charge of transporting forged checks, Stratton said Baird offered him $10,000 to kill the Washtenaw County judge.

★ ★ ★

Stratton's testimony about meetings with Baird at an Ann Arbor restaurant and at Baird's plant, Ann Arbor Grinders, was confirmed by Stratton's brother Billy, 32. Billy said Kenneth had introduced him to Baird as "a friend."

Judd to Keynote GOP Conclave

Halleck and Governor of West Virginia Given Chairmanships

★ ★ ★

The convention arrangements committee also named Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia as temporary chairman, and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House minority leader, permanent chairman of the convention.

Elizabeth E. Heffelfinger of Minnesota was named convention secretary.

PERCY OKAYED

The arrangements group also approved the prior selection of Charles H. Percy, 40, Chicago businessman, as chairman; and Rep. Melvin R. Laird, 38, of Wisconsin as vice chairman of the platform committee.

The selections of convention officers are expected to be ratified at a meeting of the full committee Friday.

★ ★ ★

Baccalaureate for Northern, Central Sunday

Baccalaureate services for the graduating classes of Pontiac Northern and Central high schools will be held Sunday at First Baptist Church and Bethany Baptist Church, respectively.

Dr. H. H. Savage, pastor of First Baptist Church, will be speaker for the Northern baccalaureate beginning at 8 p.m. His topic will be "This Freedom: Whence?"

The Rev. Joseph I. Chapman, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church, is keynote speaker for the Central baccalaureate starting at 7:30 p.m. His speech is entitled "Life With a Capital 'L'."

New AFL Inks Pact of $11 Million on TV

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Broadcasting Co. and the American Football League today announced they have signed a five-year contract calling for nearly 11 million dollars for television rights of the new league's games.

The announcement was made by Tom Moore, vice president in charge of programming for ABC-TV and Joe Foss, commissioner of the league.

Under the terms of the contract the league, which starts its first season Sept. 11, will collect $125,000 for each of 17 dates during the year.

The AFL will divide the money equally among each of its eight clubs.

Teams in the AFL are the New York Titans, Buffalo Bills, Boston Patriots, Houston Oilers in the Eastern section, and the Oakland Raiders, Los Angeles Chargers, Dallas Texans and Denver Broncos in the Western half.

IT'S BEATING TIME — It is all work and no play for these youngsters, who pound their hand paddles and sing to a violin tune in Dacca, East Pakistan. The children are mason boys, a common start at all Pakistan construction projects, where their job is to make floors and roofs completely level by pounding down humps and bumps and filling in depressions. They are serenaded by the head mason, who believes music helps them work harder and faster. Children like these make up a good part of Pakistan's labor force.

National Group Marks Success — Life

Thousands of Hearts Mended

BOSTON (AP)—He's 39 years old, rolls 350-pound oil drums, juggles 53-pound cases, jockeys a giant trailer tank truck 140 miles a day, hauling 14,000-gallon high-octane fuel loads to metropolitan Boston filling stations.

★ ★ ★

Only six years ago he was an invalid with mitral stenosis, which is a narrowing of the valve between the left auricle and the right ventricle of the heart.

How come? Truck driver Roland R. Cyr of Melrose, Mass., explains.

He is one of the growing thousands of members of an international organization, "Mended Hearts, Inc.," whose heart has been repaired by surgery.

Some members of this organization meet in Boston Saturday, in their eighth annual convention. There are chapters from coast to coast.

STRENUOUS LEISURE

Now he plays strenuously off duty, takes his wife dancing, swims in summer, skates in winter, romps with neighborhood children.

"I haven't missed a day's work since my operation," he said.

This story is typical of thousands of true life dramas among "the mended hearts."

★ ★ ★

The organization's purpose is to bolster the morale of person's needing heart surgery—both before and after operations.

They offer vital assurance beforehand.

And, when the newly operated patients see them after surgery, they know the future can be bright.

There are "mended hearts" in Puerto Rico, Canada and South America as well as the continental United States.

Each is a living tribute to good diagnosis, corrective surgery and qualified postoperative care.

WINS GOLF TOURNEY

A New Hampshire housewife took a holiday with her husband—on a motorcycle.

Others work in science and in industry, in business and in the professions.

Attention will be focused on their activities rather than on their surgery when they meet in Boston's Sheraton Plaza Hotel.

Miss Mary E. Switzer, director of the federal office of vocational rehabilitation, Department of Health, Education and Welfare will be awarded a citation for her work.

★ ★ ★

An afternoon symbosium will deal with "Mended Hearts and Their Occupations," moderated by a pioneer in heart repair, Dr. Dwight E. Harken, associate clinical professor of surgery at Harvard Medical School and chief of Thoracic Service at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

A group of doctors in industrial and rehabilitation work will be panelists.

The beneficiaries of modern heart surgery techniques are so numerous that they are found in virtually every occupational category.

Each feels he has been given the gift of life which he once felt slipping through his fingers.

To each the miracle is fresh and new.

ONCE DOOMED

"We were once doomed to die," says a Brookline, Mass., school teacher.

"Now we know better than anyone else that it is wonderful to be alive."

Augustana Lutheran OKs 4-Way Merger

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — The Augustana Lutheran Church voted overwhelmingly yesterday to join with three other Lutheran groups and form a three-million-member church—the denomination's largest in North America.

Augustana was the first of the four bodies to vote on merger documents which by June 1962 are expected to unite the four into the New Lutheran Church in America.

British Hikers in Homestretch; Dr. Moore Lags

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Two British sergeants today marched through the Pennsylvania mountains, homestretch of their 3,022-mile stroll from San Francisco to New York.

Sgt. Patrick Moloney, 34, and Sgt. Mervyn Evans, 33, said they were in "tip top" condition and didn't even have a blister.

Meanwhile, at St. Louis, Mo., lagging far behind, Dr. Barbara Moore planned to resume her cross-country hike today from the middle of the Eads Bridge across the Mississippi River.

An estimated 2.6 million Americans have or have had to some degree a crossed eye.

Typhoon Mary Rips Hong Kong

Rams Into Red China After Leaving 40 Dead in British Colony

HONG KONG (AP) — Typhoon Mary slammed into Communist China today after striking a crippling blow at this refugee-crowded British colony.

At least forty persons were killed in Hong Kong, 23 were missing and 29 injured, according to preliminary police estimates. The casualty toll was expected to rise as rescue workers dug into the wreckage.

More than 4,000 were reported homeless, and property damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Local authorities said it was the worst disaster in Hong Kong since the 1937 typhoon, which tossed ocean liners onto the beach.

The Royal Observatory reported gusts of 115 miles an hour whipped the colony at the height of the storm in the early hours today. An estimated 16 inches of rain fell in the past 24 hours.

The rain and winds set off dozens of massive landslides, uprooted thousands of trees, and smashed hundreds of refugee squatters' huts clinging to Hong Kong's rocky hillsides.

ROADS BLOCKED

Debris blocked roads throughout the colony. Public transportation, brought to a standstill for nearly 24 hours, resumed partial service in scattered areas of the city today, several hours after the fury of the storm passed.

The Royal Observatory said the typhoon whirled on to the Chinese mainland on a 300-mile front moving in the direction of Canton.

There has been no report so far from Peiping on the progress of the storm after it hit the Communist mainland.

Beaten, Robbed on City Street

Man, 39, Is Attacked Near Restaurant Early This Morning

A 39-year-old Pontiac man was beaten and robbed of a pair of glasses by a bandit who followed him out of a restaurant and attacked him early today.

★ ★ ★

Anderson Lawson, 350 W. Huron St., told Pontiac police he left Woodward's Barbeque Kitchen, 153 Wessen St., at 2:55 a.m. and headed for his car when the robber caught up with him, and ordered: "Give me your money."

Lawson said he swung at the robber and continued toward his car when the bandit hit him over the head with a rock.

The blow knocked the dazed man to the ground. While he lay on his back, Lawson said, the robber took the glasses and fled.

★ ★ ★

Lawson was taken to Pontiac General Hospital. Ten stitches were required to close a head cut, police said.

Man Facing Arson Charge

Allegedly Set Fire to Home Because Wife Is Suing for Divorce

An unemployed Waterford Township man, upset because his wife is suing him for divorce, today is faced with a charge of arson after allegedly setting fire to their home.

★ ★ ★

Charles R. Shears, 59, of 70 Carpenter Ct., waived examination before Township Justice Patrick K. Daly and will be arraigned in Circuit Court June 20.

He is in the county jail, unable to furnish a $1,000 bond.

Shears told township police he had been drinking because of the divorce action.

★ ★ ★

Police believe he started the fire, which destroyed the small $2,500 home, by setting fire to some rags around the oil furnace.

Mrs. Shears and her four children were visiting friends.

Five-Year-Old Just Wanted to Take a Walk

Rickie Render, 4707 Ross Dr., had been gone two hours when his mother Mrs. David Render reported to police that her son was missing.

★ ★ ★

Neighbors and every available officer joined in an intensive search.

Detective Ernest Mann spotted Rickie approaching the police station, six blocks from his home, to turn himself in.

★ ★ ★

Argentina Asks Return of Eichmann

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Israel appears certain to reject a demand from the Argentine government for the return of Adolf Eichmann, the former Nazi official captured in Buenos Aires by Jewish agents and whisked away to face charges of mass murder of Jews during World War II.

Argentina in a note to the Israeli government Wednesday night charged the seizure violated its national territory and warned that it would complain to the United Nations unless the 54-year-old ex-Storm Trooper is handed back this week.

"Once the indicated restitution of Eichmann to Argentina is accomplished," the Argentine note said, "the Israeli government's way is open to request his delivery through means contemplated by international law."

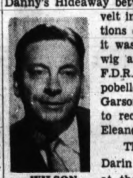
★ ★ ★

The Argentine ambassador to Israel, Rodolfo Garcia Arias, was called home, and there was a possibility that Israel's ambassador to Buenos Aires, Areih Levavi, would be asked to leave Argentina. But it was not expected that Argentina would go so far as to break off diplomatic relations with Israel, at least for the time being.

Greer Does Fine Job in Portraying Eleanor

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Greer Garson — about the only redhead courageous enough to wear a bright red outfit — risked it at Danny's Hideaway between scenes of playing Eleanor Roosevelt in "Sunrise at Campobello." To exclamations of "Isn't she beautiful?" she explained it was a break in the routine of wearing a wig and false eyelashes to resemble Mrs. F.D.R. as a young woman. Due soon at Campobello—via two boats and two planes—Miss Garson said, "In the picture, nobody's going to recognize me—they're going to recognize Eleanor Roosevelt!"



WILSON

They said it couldn't be done—but Bobby Darin equalled Frank Sinatra's weekend biz at the Copacabana . . . Ziva Rodann, the Israeli sexpot who claims she fears spinsterhood, forgets to mention she was married in Israel to "Zapik."

I was congratulating Hollywood restaurateur Dave Chasen, food adviser to TWA, on the delicious dinners I had on recent TWA jet flights, and he said, "Naturally." The top flights now serve Chicken Charlemagne, Bob Hope's favorite dish (garnished with artichokes and mushrooms); grenadine of beef (my favorite) — and will soon be featuring New England boiled dinners — sans cabbage!

Royal Oak Teachers Ask State Mediation

ROYAL OAK (AP) — The State Labor Mediation Board will be asked to intervene in a dispute over salaries between the Royal Oak Federation of Teachers and the Board of Education.

Federation officials said petitions bearing the names of more than 50 per cent of the district's 600 teachers will be submitted to the mediation board tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The teachers expressed dissatisfaction over the board's plans for a 5.5 per cent salary increase next year. The teachers demanded a 7 per cent increase.

Canada buys 25 per cent of all U.S. commercial exports.

Senate Committee to Act

Predict Big Defense Bill to Pass in Present Form

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two senators who helped prepare a $40,166,097,000 defense money bill predicted today the Senate appropriations committee will approve it Friday without major changes.

That forecast came from Chairman Dennis Chavez (D-NM) and the amount previously voted by the House.

★ ★ ★

"It's a good bill now because it puts back several major programs the House cut out and reduces some things the House added which our military experts say were not needed," Saltonstall said in an interview.

★ ★ ★

Chavez said he also expects the full committee to accept the bill without major change, "but there may be some efforts on the Senate floor to add additional funds."

$950 MILLION OVER IKE

Senate action on the bill is likely early next week, Chavez said.

The total reached in two days of voting by the Chavez subcommittee is $950 million dollars more than President Eisenhower's revised budget requested, but it added to the House bill a number of items originally asked by the administration and cut out by the House.

Saltonstall and other Navy-minded senators were happy about restoration of 293 million dollars to build another large attack aircraft carrier. The House deleted these funds.

At the same time the Senate group accepted 241 million added by the House to speed up construction of Polaris ballistic missile submarines and approved 42 million of a 100 million House increase to step up research and development for the Navy's anti-submarine warfare.

Biggest increase was restoration of 400 million the House had slashed by an across-the-board 3 per cent reduction in funds for procurement of missiles, aircraft and other military hardware.

The Senate group also restored 294 million the House had denied for production of antiaircraft Bomarc missiles. And it added 75 million to this to complete two Pacific Northwest bases for the missiles.

B70 COMES TO LIFE

It also added 285 million for the B70 jet supersonic bomber program. Sponsors said this should permit development of a complete weapons system for these high flying 2,000-mile-an-hour aircraft. The administration had cut back this program to provide only for two prototype flying craft.

Dropped from the bill was 115 million the House had added to step up an airborne alert of the Strategic Air Command. This action retained the 85 million the administration asked.

★ ★ ★

Chairman Chavez said the President has authority to use any funds needed for this purpose.

Extra funds for modernization of the Army were held to 37 million instead of 207 million listed by the House.

Expect Cuban Fight Over Oil

2 U.S., a British Firm Reject Castro's Order to Process Soviet Crude

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government is expected to crack down on two U. S. oil companies and a British firm after their rejection of a government order to refine Soviet crude oil at Cuban refineries.

The two American companies, Standard of New Jersey and Texaco, notified the Cuban Petroleum Institute they could not depart from their traditional Venezuelan sources of supply. The third foreign operator of a refinery in Cuba, British Shell, reportedly sent a similar letter to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

The government is expected to deny the companies dollar exchange to purchase Venezuelan crude, forcing them to operate at a heavy loss or suspend operations. Government seizure of the refineries would almost certainly follow a shutdown.

The institute announced May 27 that the three companies each had been alloted 300,000 tons of the Soviet oil to refine this year. By this, the Cuban government expected to save 24 million dollars annually in dollar exchange, nearly a third of the dollars it normally pays for oil imports.

Cuba is getting the Soviet oil in exchange for sugar under the trade agreement signed with Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan earlier this year.

Williams Pardons Pecho

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today announced a pardon for Walter A. Pecho, a Lansing auto plant worker convicted 5½ years ago of murdering his wife.

Examination of the evidence convinced him that Pecho, now 41, was innocent, the statement from the governor's office said.

Processing of papers necessary to effect the release will require about 24 hours.

Pecho, whose case was heard last month by the State Pardon Board, was convicted of second degree murder in his wife's shotgun death and is serving a 15-to 20-year sentence in Southern Michigan Prison.

The pardon was only the second issued by Gov. Williams in nearly 12 years as chief executive. The other came during his first year in office.

The Pardon Board's dramatic two-day public hearing was marked by contradictory testimony of two pathologists on the point of whether it was possible for Eleanor Pecho to have triggered the shotgun blast that wounded her fatally in the chest as she sat in a living room chair.

But Ike Insists on Trip Despite Mob's Uprising

10,000 Mass at Airport in 'Red Agitation' and Catch Police Napping

TOKYO (AP)—Ten thousand screaming leftist demonstrators, fighting against an Eisenhower visit to Japan, besieged the car of White House press secretary James C. Hagerty for more than an hour today, slashing the tires and cracking windows.

Finally, a helicopter was used to rescue Hagerty, U.S. Ambassador to Japan Douglas MacArthur II, and White House appointments secretary Thomas E. Stephens. None of them was injured.

Hagerty and Stephens had just arrived to scout Eisenhower's trip, and started into Tokyo from the airport, along the route Eisenhower is scheduled to follow nine days hence.

That visit is still on, Hagerty announced, despite today's demonstration—and the White House in Washington added confirmation that the plans still hold.

Tokyo police said they had been caught by surprise today, though the demonstration against Hagerty had been announced in advance.

'BIG BLUNDER'

"It was a big blunder for us," a police spokesman said.

The Japanese government apologized.

Hagerty described his ordeal this way:

"We were surrounded by the crowd. They slashed the tires, threw stones, broke two of the windows and tried to overturn the vehicle. Some were climbing on the roof and singing the Internationale.

"We must have been there an hour-it was actually and hour and 20 minutes). Then we saw it was obvious that the police could not get us through. They then asked us if we wanted them to clear a way so we could get a helicopter. It was quite obvious we were not going to make any headway whatsoever. The three of us then agreed to leave and go out by helicopter."

★ ★ ★

"Only when it was obvious we were not going to be permitted to drive did we call for a helicopter," Hagerty added.

The car doors were locked, but

News Flashes

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Charles Baird, 52, an Ann Arbor industrialist, was found innocent today on a charge of plotting to buy the murder of Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr. of Washtenaw County.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today set aside an order of the Atomic Energy Commission authorizing construction of a 45-million-dollar atomic power plant in Monroe County, Mich.

WASHINGTON (AP)—There were brisk sales of "mob insurance" today among reporters, photographers and White House personnel who will accompany President Eisenhower on his Far Eastern tour.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Douglas of the Supreme Court today granted a stay of execution to Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan and two men under death sentences in California in the killing of Mrs. Duncan's daughter-in-law. They faced death in the San Quentin gas chamber June 17.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today reported the interception and destruction of a Corporal missile by an improved version of the Nike Hercules. The announcement described the event as the first known kill of a guided ballistic missile by another guided missile.

Ike Names Feikens, Kaess for 2 State Judgeships

President Eisenhower today sent to the Senate two nominations for judgeships in Michigan—and Oakland County's favorite son candidate for the post, Henry L. Woolfenden of Bloomfield Hills, wasn't among them.

He named John Feikens, former state Republican chairman from Grosse Pointe, for U.S. District Judge in Eastern Michigan to succeed Clifford O'Sullivan, who has been elevated to the Circuit Court of Appeals. Feikens is a Detroit attorney.

Frederick W. Kaess, also of Grosse Pointe, was nominated for U.S. District Judge in Eastern Michigan to succeed Arthur F. Lederle, who is retiring. Kaess began practicing law in 1933 and has been U.S. District Attorney since 1953.

Oakland County Republicans had endorsed Woolfenden for one of the two judgeships. He is past president of the State Bar of Michigan and on the Board of Governors of the American Bar Assn.

Chad M. Ritchie, former county chairman pushing for Woolfenden's appointment, earlier angrily denounced the dropping of Woolfenden from consideration for the post.

He accused present State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer and National Committeeman John B. Martin of "paying a personal political debt" to Feikens.

Ritchie said Feikens "isn't qualified—legally."

The "debt" Ritchie referred to was Feikens getting Lindemer the state chairman post.

Buses Carry 2,000 1st Day

Low Count Expected Until Passengers Get Back Into Habit

Pontiac Transit Corp., as expected, got off to a slow start yesterday, but better than predicted.

In its first day of operation, the company carried about 2,000 passengers, an official reported.

Although the total was small, it was still about 300 more than was conservatively predicted, the official said.

D. J. Giacoma, president of the American Transit Co., has already given a sober appraisal of the dropoff in bus patronage due to the fact that Pontiac went six months without buses.

"It may take as much as a year to get patronage back up to where it belongs," he has suggested.

Pontiac Transit Corp. became the newest subsidiary of American Transit Corp. Wednesday. Operations began Thursday morning.

Warm Weather Ahead, With Rain in Distance

Mostly fair and a little warmer tonight and Saturday is the weatherman's prediction for the Pontiac area. The low will be a mild 53 tonight. Tomorrow's high will be 80.

For the next five days, temperatures will average about four degrees above the normal high of 78 and normal low of 57.

Precipitation for the period will average less than one-half inch in scattered showers Tuesday or Wednesday.

Light variable morning winds at one m.p.h. will become southeasterly at 8 - 15 late this afternoon.

Fifty-two was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the reading was 77.

Rocky, Nixon Meet --and Both Smile

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller greeted each other with smiles and great cordiality as they met today at a British trade exhibition in the New York Coliseum.

The two men shook hands warmly and exchanged greetings in a small, closed-to-the-public anteroom off the main lobby.

Also at the Coliseum was Prince Philip of Britain, who was on hand to officially open the 200-million-dollar British exhibition.

40 GUESTS PRESENT

The press and public were barred from the small room in which the Nixon-Rockefeller meeting took place but about 40 specially invited guests were present.

The friendly meeting took place only 17 hours after Nixon's reply to Rockefeller's sharp challenge to speak out on the issues.

Nixon said he has discussed key issues in more detail than Rockefeller, who had prodded him to make his views known before the nominating convention.

Nixon suggested that the two "have a discussion in depth" before television cameras.

'DOESN'T NEED ME'

The New York governor promptly rejected the proposal. He said Nixon "does not need me to interrogate him on television.

"Once the vice president has made clear his position on the specific issues I have raised, I shall be glad to debate these issues with him."

Nixon told a news conference late Thursday, in answer to criticism fired his way Wednesday by Rockefeller, that he had clearly stated his views on key issues.

"I have set forth with great precision and major detail my views on the issues more than any other candidate," said the vice president.

But he indicated he is considering no change in his plans to wait until he gets the nomination before going beyond administration policies. He said he supports the Eisenhower record as "the best record in my lifetime."

At the same time, he avoided direct controversy with Rockefeller, whom he described as a man of integrity. He also said Rockefeller has a right, if he wishes, to criticize the administration or the Republican party.

The soft tone of his replies seemed to indicate that, confident of winning the nomination, Nixon is looking more toward the general election campaign and seeking to avoid alienating Rockefeller supporters. New York's 45 electoral votes could be decisive in November.

Nixon said he had held 47 news conferences "with no holds barred" during the last five months. He said that over the past 14 years "in the House and

Nixon Answers Softly

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—As far as Vice President Richard M. Nixon is concerned, a soft answer turneth away potential rivals for the Republican presidential nomination.

His public reply to the public challenge by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York came Thursday.

Rockefeller had brought out his long-range political guns to fire at defects he saw in Nixon and the Republican party. Nixon fired back—with marshmallows.

In a hastily called news conference the vice president confidently and calmly:

1. Praised Rockefeller repeatedly, "A man of integrity." Nixon said of the only man who has even a tiny chance of beating him out of the nomination. "Definitely one of the major leaders of the Republican Party today."

★ ★ ★

2. Offered to discuss all issues with Rockefeller before television cameras. Several stations and networks immediately offered free time, but Rockefeller showed no interest at all. He said Nixon still hasn't answered the questions he raised, and when and if he does, they can debate then.

★ ★ ★

3. Said jokingly that he wouldn't draft Rockefeller to be his vice presidential running mate. This evened the score. Rockefeller has often said he hasn't the slightest interest in the vice presidency.

4. Replied firmly, but kindly to Rockefeller's biggest blast: That Nixon hasn't spoken out on major issues and is waiting until after he gets the nomination to do so.

Why, said Nixon, he just happened to check before he left Washington and this was the 47th news conference or forum he has held in 1960.

Over $1.8 Million for Waterford Kettering

Awards School Contracts

Construction and equipment contracts amounting to more than $1,890,000 for the new Waterford Kettering High School were awarded last night at a special meeting of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

The contracts covered all building work and items on bids which had been received two weeks ago for the $2,500,000 school that will be located a half-mile off Hatchery road, near Williams Lake road.

Waterford's second senior high school, it will be on a 50-acre site, have a football field, baseball diamond, tennis courts and blacktop parking space for some 800 cars.

The school is scheduled to open in September 1961.

Construction of the school, which will accommodate 1,500 students, will begin immediately, according to Supt. of Schools William Shunck.

The base bid award for construction was awarded to J. A. Fredmas, Inc., whose low bid was $1,138,888. J. A. Utley Co. of Royal Oak was second low with a bid of $1,143,600.

The mechanical trades low bid of $441,696 was awarded to Kruchko Plumbing and Heating Co. of Drayton Plains.

The electrical trades low bid was $189,842 by Soma Electric Co., which won that contract.

Contracts were awarded to all low bidders of equipment for the school.

They include the Canton China & Equipment Co.'s bid on kitchen equipment, $44,858; and laboratory equipment, to the Peninsular Slate Co., $30,937.

The metal cabinets and lockers contract went to Interior Steel Co., $26,312; homemaking equipment, Geneva Modern Kitchen, $10,997, and music department, Oglesby Equipment Co., $5,834.

The arts and crafts equipment contract also was awarded to the Geneva firm, $15,249; and library equipment, to Universal School Co., $6,279

The refrigerators and freezers contract went to Chrysler & Koppin Co., $10,685.

MODEL OF NEW SCHOOL — This is a model of the new Kettering High School that will be built in the Waterford Township school district. Scheduled for opening in September, 1961, the school will accommodate 1,500 students. Contracts for the construction of the school, Waterford's second senior high, were awarded at a special Board of Education meeting last night.

Pecho, whose case was heard last month by the State Pardon Board, was convicted of second degree murder in his wife's shotgun death and is serving a 15-to 20-year sentence in Southern Michigan Prison.

The pardon was only the second issued by Gov. Williams in nearly 12 years as chief executive. The other came during his first year in office.

The Pardon Board's dramatic two-day public hearing was marked by contradictory testimony of two pathologists on the point of whether it was possible for Eleanor Pecho to have triggered the shotgun blast that wounded her fatally in the chest as she sat in a living room chair.

But Ike Insists on Trip Despite Mob's Uprising

10,000 Mass at Airport in 'Red Agitation' and Catch Police Napping

TOKYO (AP)—Ten thousand screaming leftist demonstrators, fighting against an Eisenhower visit to Japan, besieged the car of White House press secretary James C. Hagerty for more than an hour today, slashing the tires and cracking windows.

Finally, a helicopter was used to rescue Hagerty, U.S. Ambassador to Japan Douglas MacArthur II, and White House appointments secretary Thomas E. Stephens. None of them was injured.

Hagerty and Stephens had just arrived to scout Eisenhower's trip, and started into Tokyo from the airport, along the route Eisenhower is scheduled to follow nine days hence.

That visit is still on, Hagerty announced, despite today's demonstration—and the White House in Washington added confirmation that the plans still hold.

Tokyo police said they had been caught by surprise today, though the demonstration against Hagerty had been announced in advance.

'BIG BLUNDER'

"It was a big blunder for us," a police spokesman said.

The Japanese government apologized.

Hagerty described his ordeal this way:

"We were surrounded by the crowd. They slashed the tires, threw stones, broke two of the windows and tried to overturn the vehicle. Some were climbing on the roof and singing the Internationale.

"We must have been there an hour it was actually and hour and 20 minutes). Then we saw it was obvious that the police could not get us through. They then asked us if we wanted them to clear a way so we could get a helicopter. It was quite obvious we were not going to make any headway whatsoever. The three of us then agreed to leave and go out by helicopter."

★ ★ ★

"Only when it was obvious we were not going to be permitted to drive did we call for a helicopter," Hagerty added.

The car doors were locked, but

Ike Names Feikens, Kaess for 2 State Judgeships

President Eisenhower today sent to the Senate two nominations for judgeships in Michigan—and Oakland County's favorite son candidate for the post, Henry L. Woolfenden of Bloomfield Hills, wasn't among them.

He named John Feikens, former state Republican chairman from Grosse Pointe, for U.S. District Judge in Eastern Michigan to succeed Clifford O'Sullivan, who has been elevated to the Circuit Court of Appeals. Feikens is a Detroit attorney.

Frederick W. Kaess, also of Grosse Pointe, was nominated for U.S. District Judge in Eastern Michigan to succeed Arthur F. Lederle, who is retiring. Kaess began practicing law in 1933 and has been U.S. District Attorney since 1953.

Oakland County Republicans had endorsed Woolfenden for one of the two judgeships. He is past president of the State Bar of Michigan and on the Board of Governors of the American Bar Assn.

Chad M. Ritchie, former county chairman pushing for Woolfenden's appointment, earlier angrily denounced the dropping of Woolfenden from consideration for the post.

He accused present State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer and National Committeeman John B. Martin of "paying a personal political debt" to Feikens.

Ritchie said Feikens "isn't qualified—legally."

The "debt" Ritchie referred to was Feikens getting Lindemer the state chairman post.

Buses Carry 2,000 1st Day

Low Count Expected Until Passengers Get Back Into Habit

Pontiac Transit Corp., as expected, got off to a slow start yesterday, but better than predicted.

In its first day of operation, the company carried about 2,000 passengers, an official reported.

Although the total was small, it was still about 300 more than was conservatively predicted, the official said.

D. J. Giacoma, president of the American Transit Co., has already given a sober appraisal of the dropoff in bus patronage due to the fact that Pontiac went six months without buses.

"It may take as much as a year to get patronage back up to where it belongs," he has suggested.

Pontiac Transit Corp. became the newest subsidiary of American Transit Corp. Wednesday. Operations began Thursday morning.

Warm Weather Ahead, With Rain in Distance

Mostly fair and a little warmer tonight and Saturday is the weatherman's prediction for the Pontiac area. The low will be a mild 53 tonight. Tomorrow's high will be 80.

For the next five days, temperatures will average about four degrees above the normal high of 78 and normal low of 57.

Precipitation for the period will average less than one-half inch in scattered showers Tuesday or Wednesday.

Light variable morning winds at one m.p.h. will become southeasterly at 8 - 15 late this afternoon.

Fifty-two was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the reading was 77.

Rocky, Nixon Meet --and Both Smile

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller greeted each other with smiles and great cordiality as they met today at a British trade exhibition in the New York Coliseum.

The two men shook hands warmly and exchanged greetings in a small, closed-to-the-public anteroom off the main lobby.

Also at the Coliseum was Prince Philip of Britain, who was on hand to officially open the 200-million-dollar British exhibition.

40 GUESTS PRESENT

The press and public were barred from the small room in which the Nixon-Rockefeller meeting took place but about 40 specially invited guests were present.

The friendly meeting took place only 17 hours after Nixon's reply to Rockefeller's sharp challenge to speak out on the issues.

Nixon said he has discussed key issues in more detail than Rockefeller, who had prodded him to make his views known before the nominating convention.

Nixon suggested that the two "have a discussion in depth" before television cameras.

'DOESN'T NEED ME'

The New York governor promptly rejected the proposal. He said Nixon "does not need me to interrogate him on television.

"Once the vice president has made clear his position on the specific issues I have raised, I shall be glad to debate these issues with him."

Nixon told a news conference late Thursday, in answer to criticism fired his way Wednesday by Rockefeller, that he had clearly stated his views on key issues.

"I have set forth with great precision and major detail my views on the issues more than any other candidate," said the vice president.

But he indicated he is considering no change in his plans to wait until he gets the nomination before going beyond administration policies. He said he supports the Eisenhower record as "the best record in my lifetime."

At the same time, he avoided direct controversy with Rockefeller, whom he described as a man of integrity. He also said Rockefeller has a right, if he wishes, to criticize the administration or the Republican party.

The soft tone of his replies seemed to indicate that, confident of winning the nomination, Nixon is looking more toward the general election campaign and seeking to avoid alienating Rockefeller supporters. New York's 45 electoral votes could be decisive in November.

Nixon said he had held 47 news conferences "with no holds barred" during the last five months. He said that over the past 14 years "in the House and

Nixon Answers Softly

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—As far as Vice President Richard M. Nixon is concerned, a soft answer turneth away potential rivals for the Republican presidential nomination.

His public reply to the public challenge by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York came Thursday.

Rockefeller had brought out his long-range political guns to fire at defects he saw in Nixon and the Republican party. Nixon fired back—with marshmallows.

In a hastily called news conference the vice president confidently and calmly:

1. Praised Rockefeller repeatedly. "A man of integrity," Nixon said of the only man who has even a tiny chance of beating him out of the nomination. "Definitely one of the major leaders of the Republican Party today."

★ ★ ★

2. Offered to discuss all issues with Rockefeller before television cameras. Several stations and networks immediately offered free time, but Rockefeller showed no interest at all. He said Nixon still hasn't answered the questions he raised, and when and if he does, they can debate then.

★ ★ ★

3. Said jokingly that he wouldn't draft Rockefeller to be his vice presidential running mate. This evened the score. Rockefeller has often said he hasn't the slightest interest in the vice presidency.

4. Replied firmly, but kindly to Rockefeller's biggest blast: That Nixon hasn't spoken out on major issues and is waiting until after he gets the nomination to do so.

Why, said Nixon, he just happened to check before he left Washington and this was the 47th news conference or forum he has held in 1960.

Over $1.8 Million for Waterford Kettering

Awards School Contracts

Construction and equipment contracts amounting to more than $1,890,000 for the new Waterford Kettering High School were awarded last night at a special meeting of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

The contracts covered all building work and items on bids which had been received two weeks ago for the $2,500,000 school that will be located a half-mile off Hatchery road, near Williams Lake road.

Waterford's second senior high school, it will be on a 50-acre site, have a football field, baseball diamond, tennis courts and blacktop parking space for some 800 cars.

The school is scheduled to open in September 1961.

Construction of the school, which will accommodate 1,500 students, will begin immediately, according to Supt. of Schools William Shunck.

The base bid award for construction was awarded to J. A. Fredman, Inc., whose low bid was $1,138,888. J. A. Utley Co. of Royal Oak was second low with a bid of $1,143,400.

The mechanical trades low bid of $441,696 was awarded to Kruchko Plumbing and Heating Co. of Drayton Plains.

The electrical trades low bid was $189,842 by Soma Electric Co., which won that contract.

Contracts were awarded to all low bidders of equipment for the school.

They include the Custon China & Equipment Co.'s bid on kitchen equipment, $44,855; and laboratory equipment, to the Peninsular State Co., $30,937.

The metal cabinets and lockers contract went to Interior Steel Co., $26,312; homemaking equipment, Geneva Modern Kitchen, $10,997, and music department, Oglesby Equipment Co., $3,834.

The arts and crafts equipment contract also was awarded to the Geneva firm, $15,249; and library equipment, to Universal School Co., $6,279.

★ ★ ★

The refrigerators and freezers contract went to Chrysler & Koppin Co., $10,685.

Swainson Explains Platform to Students

To a small gathering in the Oakland Student Center, cut considerably by classes and studying for final examinations, the aspirant for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination enumerated some of the campaign issues.

He said he preferred a state income tax and corporation franchise tax to the "regressive" penny boost in the three-cent sales tax. He said the Nov. 8 vote on the increase would be an issue.

Whatever new tax Michigan needs, Swainson told the students, must be based on the ability to pay.

During a question and answer period, Swainson repeated his stand that he's against the proposed constitutional convention. Rather, he said, he favors revision of the 1908 Constitution through a constitution commission.

★ ★ ★

"We should only strive to change one thing at a time as it is needed," the candidate said.

Swainson was the guest of the 55-member Young Democrats Club at MSUO. He was introduced by Pat Welsh of Royal Oak, club chairman.

Senate and the vice presidency I have entertained questions on every major issue."

But Rockefeller countered with: "Only three weeks ago, the vice president stated publicly, 'If I become the candidate, I intend to present to the country a new program.'

★ ★ ★

"This is the crux of the issue I have raised. The people, the Republican party and the delegates to the Republican convention are entitled to know what a 'new program' means. They have a right to know before, not after, the nomination of a candidate, precisely where he stands."

DEMS CHUCKLE

As the dispute between Rockefeller and Nixon continued, Democrats watched happily from the sidelines. Former President Harry S. Truman said:

"It shouldn't hurt us any. The more they fight the better satisfied I am."

Rockefeller touched off the first fireworks Wednesday in a lengthy statement which called on Nixon to spell out his views on top issues.

The governor listed his own views and was critical of parts of the Eisenhower administration's program.

Nixon held off a reply until Thursday's news conference at Camden, N.J. Noting that Rockefeller heads one of the largest delegations to the nominating convention, the vice president said:

"I would be willing to sit down with the head of any delegation and discuss all the issues. One way to resolve the issue is for the governor to meet with me and discuss all the issues in depth." He said that if Rockefeller wants to meet before the television cameras for such a discussion in depth "I am sure it can be arranged."

LEARNING TO SWIM — Jim Templeton, physical education director of the Pontiac YMCA, shows 10-year-old Buddy Burgess, 11 Shirley St., correct swimming strokes. Watching are nine-year-old Jane Heitjan, 568 Raskob St., and Mac Whitfield, chairman of the Pontiac Rotary-YMCA Committee. The "Y" is now accepting registrations for the annual Rotary-YMCA learn-to-swim program for children nine years and older. Classes start on June 20.

Better Register Early for YM Swim Course

Parents in the Pontiac area are being urged by Pontiac YMCA and Rotary Club officials to register their children as soon as possible for this year's free Learn-to-Swim classes.

The swimming classes are open to all boys and girls nine years of age or older who do not know how to swim.

"Past experience has shown that we annually have to turn away from 75 to 100 applicants who come after we're already filled up," said Ted Slosson, YMCA general secretary.

The class is limited to 465 boys and girls. Telephone and mail registrations cannot be taken.

It is necessary for one of the parents to come to the YMCA to register the child.

Twenty-six Rotarians under the chairmanship of Ben Jerome Jr. have secured the applications of many elementary school children interested in the campaign, but all still must register with a parent at the YMCA.

Instruction will be given at several classes each day. There will be one week of classes for boys and one week for girls.

Laborers Local Re-Elects Thomas Pappas

Laborers Local 1076 (construction laborers) has re-elected Thomas Pappas, 401 E. Third St., president of the Union, for a three-year term.

The executive board includes Joseph Novak, Bufford Bennett and Kenneth Moshier.

Waterford OKs Bond Contract

Detroit Firm Gets Issue With 4.27 Interest Rate at Board Meeting

A contract for the purchase of $2,500,000 worth of Township School District bonds at an annual interest rate of 4.27 per cent was awarded to the Braun Bosworth Co. of Detroit at a special meeting of the Board of Education last night.

★ ★ ★

This is the fourth consecutive time the company has received the bond contract for school building programs in Waterford Township.

Next lowest bidder was the Phelps Fennan Co. of New York, with premium bid of 4.32 per cent.

Several township residents were present at the meeting to learn how Supt. William Shunck had outlined the enrollment area of the newly constructed David Grayson School, due to open in September.

All elementary school children living on the east side of Sashabaw road and on both sides of Pomeroy street will attend the Grayson school. The plan will eliminate 47 pupils living on the south side of Walton boulevard, making a total of 384 children to be enrolled in the new school.

POSSIBILITIES REVIEWED

Shunck reviewed possible school district tax rates for 1960, as "chapter 1" in a series of many such surveys, he said.

★ ★ ★

The Board approved Shunck's recommendations to retain the engineering firm of Johnson & Anderson for the purpose of preparing plans and specifications for surface drainage at the Schoolcraft School.

★ ★ ★

Board Attorney Howard Huttenlocker was authorized to prepare documents for acquisition of an easement over lot 127 in the Lotus Lake subdivision so that a drain pipe can be installed to eliminate water in a huge incline on the schoolgrounds.

Delay Action on City Teacher Pay Hikes

Pontiac schoolteachers last night heard their demands for raises of more than $270,000 turned down by the Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Although Board members delayed action on wages until their next meeting, they told representatives of two teacher organizations that next year's budget did not contain funds for the requested pay hikes.

The request of the Pontiac Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, representing approximately 150 of the school system's 802 teachers, called for $272,260 in raises.

TWO PROPOSALS

The Board proposed two different plans.

One would increase the beginning salary of a four-year trained teacher with no experience from the present $4,450 to $4,550.

The other would increase beginning salaries by $150. The raises would total $124,930 and $186,745, respectively.

★ ★ ★

Wallace Schloerke, chairman of the PEA salary committee, presented an alternate proposal which would cost the school system $172,-695.

His proposal called for raises totaling $172,695, with starting salary set at $4,500.

"While we believe our original proposal superior, since that amount was considered excessive under the circumstances, this proposal would aid the greatest number and retain our experienced teachers," Schloerke told the Board.

FEAR HIRING WOES

Board members feared that acceptance of Schloerke's alternate proposal would create difficulties in hiring capable new teachers.

They expressed the view that a compromise between their proposal calling for a starting salary of $4,600 and Schloerke's plan might be reached.

The main difference in the packages submitted by the organizations is the distribution of the monies asked for in the graduated wage scale.

The PEA now hopes to lump a sizeable portion of the monies it seeks into raises for those with seniority.

The PFT wants to lump most of its requested monies at the bottom of the scale to add incentive to retain career teachers of quality.

★ ★ ★

"The difference of $100 will be a deciding factor for many in whether to join one school system or another," he warned. He said that if the Board felt the money "isn't available from present sources—it must find others."

★ ★ ★

"The Board must keep faith with the teachers," he said. He pointed out that teachers who wished to continue their educations would be "hit heavily" by college tuition boosts.

Russell Buller, PFT spokesman, argued that an increase in revenue from allocated millage should have made more monies available.

Glenn H. Griffin, Board president, replied that the defeat of the recent millage proposal by Pontiac School District voters was a "mandate" from the citizens on how monies shall be spent.

★ ★ ★

Using all extra monies for raises would be "poor public relations," he said.

★ ★ ★

"It wouldn't be consistent with the reaction of the citizens," Griffin said.

Spokesmen for the teachers' organizations said there would be no "protests" after the Board acts. "We will understandably accept their decision," they stated.

Confirmation is expected of Beach's appointment late today from an election committee team staying on in Grand Rapids for post convention clean-up duties.

Copter Rescues Hagerty From Rioting Japanese

the demonstrators had a chance to break through the windows and unlock the doors. They passed up this opportunity to lay hands on the White House emissaries.

Amid the surging crowd were red flags, banners, placards and crew leaders with whistles.

Hagerty told a news conference: "We are sure that the demonstrations in no way reflect the feeling and the attitude of the great majority of the Japanese people for whom America has the warmest friendship."

In Washington, associate press secretary Anne Wheaton said the President had "expressed gratification" that Hagerty and Stephens were not hurt.

KNOWS OF KNOW CHANGE

Asked whether the President would still go to Japan, Mrs. Wheaton said, "I know of no change in plans."

Hagerty said the demonstration was obviously carefully planned and the fact that the demonstrators were singing the "Internationale"—the song of international communism—raised doubts whether they even had allegiance to Japan.

The demonstrators had been called out by Zengakuren, Japan's extreme leftist student federation, and the leftist Sohyo federation of labor unions.

Japanese police finally cleared an opening around the battered car in which Hagerty, Stephens and U. S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur III had been held prisoner. A U. S Marine helicopter picked them up and flew them to a Japanese army base.

From there they drove to the back gate of the heavily guarded U. S. Embassy and slipped in, escaping 8,000 demonstrators massed out front. Within a few minutes, however, several hundred students rushed up to the back gate and battled police, who kept them from breaking into the embassy compound.

Hagerty refused to see leaders of the demonstrators, and the crowd settled down for an all-night vigil in front of the embassy, chanting and shouting slogans attacking Hagerty, the President's visit and Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi.

At his news conference Hagerty was asked whether it would not be risking Eisenhower's safety to bring him to Japan in the present turmoil.

"I wouldn't think so," Hagerty replied. "He will be a guest of Japan. I would think that the necessity for protection would be adequately handled by the capable forces of the Japanese government."

The Day in Birmingham

Monday's Election to Fill Six School Board Posts

BIRMINGHAM — Six Board of Education posts will be filled Monday when voters go to the polls in the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school districts.

Two expiring School Board posts are to be filled in Birmingham while four positions are open in the Bloomfield Hills district.

Appearing on the Birmingham ballot will also be a request to increase school taxes $1.90 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Candidates for the two expiring four-year terms in Birmingham are incumbents Mrs. Mary Beier and William Spence, Garvin Bawden, E. Ross Hanson and Albert C. Scott.

Nine candidates are running for the four offices in Bloomfield Hills. There are five for the two 3-year terms expiring and four for the 4-year terms created by state legislation this year.

★ ★ ★

The Birmingham millage increase proposal is the second request for additional operating funds since March. At that time a proposal to raise school taxes $4 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation was rejected by voters, 4,695 to 3,363.

The School Board had sought the increase to raise the salaries of school personnel and hire 50 additional teachers. The 4 mills would have provided $750,000 in new funds.

The lower rate proposed in Monday's election would give the district an additional $394,433 to be used for increasing teachers' salaries.

Last week School Superintendent Dwight B. Ireland revealed that 61 teachers have resigned. He said many of the resignations were due to the defeat of the millage proposal in March.

★ ★ ★

The annual meeting and dinner of the Birmingham Community House Assn. will be held Monday at 6:45 p.m. The organization is celebrating its 30th year of service to the area.

Five vacancies on the board of directors will be filled at the meeting.

Injured Bally Ache Out of Belmont

A veterinarian, Dr. William Reed, was summoned. X-rays of the ankle were taken. There was no fracture, but there was a slight puff just above the hoof.

DETROIT (AP) — Blue Shield directors say they will wait until the State Insurance Commission rules on the prepaid medical plan's rate increase request before they ask doctors to trim their bills.

The doctor-sponsored plan that pays doctor bills has asked the state for a 19.5 increase in its rates.

A decision on the rate increase is expected Wednesday.

The fee-cutting proposal came up when the Board found itself faced with an $800,000 deficit.

Almost one-half of all pedestrians killed in traffic are struck down in areas away from the regular crosswalks.

Garbage Piles Up, Funerals Delayed

French Workers Strike

PARIS (AP) — More than a million French civil servants who want more pay stayed away from work today, disrupting activities ranging from air traffic to garbage collection.

The widespread 24-hour strike even postponed funerals because gravediggers are employed by the government.

Workers in private industry and business breathed easier when the trains, buses and subways continued to run normally and an expected sympathy strike by transport workers failed to develop.

* * *

The most notable sign of the strike was the array of garbage beginning to pile up in French cities.

Government ministries were on skeleton staffs — with all the clerks and junior employes out on strike. Normal government routine came to a standstill.

The strike began at midnight and was to continue until midnight tonight. The postmen, however, have hinted that they may stay off the job a few more days.

Only urgent calls were accepted by telephone operators, but long distance and dial systems continued to function.

* * *

The crux of the strike is the austere economic program installed by President Charles de Gaulle when he came to power two years ago. Although his program stabilized the French economy and halted inflation, the cost of living has crept up, and few compensating wage increases have been handed out. Restive unions are demanding raises ranging from 3 to 11 per cent.

Dougherty of UAW Still in State Race

The United Auto Workers Local 326 president said he is going to stay in the race despite the fact the Michigan AFL-CIO endorsed Richard Vanderveen, a Grand Rapids attorney, for the post.

Dougherty said he had considerable rank and file union support.

Transferred to Denver

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Paul M. Ireland yesterday was named to succeed Dr. H. M. Engle as manager of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Denver. Ireland, 64, has been managing the Ann Arbor, Mich., Veterans Hospital.

Muskegon Ott Firm to Double Factory

MUSKEGON (AP) — Officials of the fast-rising Ott Chemical Co. at Muskegon have announced an expansion program of $450,000 for more than doubling present plant capacity.

The company has announced registering with the Securities and Exchange Commission an offering of debentures due June 1, 1976, in the $450,000 amount. They will bear six per cent annual interest and are convertible into company common stock.

The firm was established in November 1956 with assistance from the Greater Muskegon Industrial Fund, Inc. It manufactures bulk pharmaceuticals and chemical intermediates.

Sales soared from a few thousand dollars to more than $750,000 annually. Dr. Arnold C. Ott, president, said construction of plant additions already has started with completion set for late summer.

Chubby Children Grow Fastest, 2 Scientists Say

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two Ohio scientists reported today that chubby children generally grow faster and mature earlier.

★ ★ ★

Stanley M. Garn and John A. Haskell of the Fels Research Institute of Yellow Springs, Ohio, reported on their findings in the current issue of the Journal of Diseases of Children, published by the American Medical Assn.

Garn and Haskell said a study of 259 Ohio-born boys and girls showed "Childhood fatness results in accelerated growth and state conservation department sexes."

Children on the plump side between 1½ and 12½ years old were generally a half year ahead of their slender playmates in height, the searchers said.

"Their developmental acceleration carried them to earlier puberty, on the average, and to earlier cessation of linear growth," the report said.

★ ★ ★

In other words, fat kids grow up faster and stop growing sooner.

Bulldog Was Sergeant

Bulldog mascots have served with distinction in the United States Marines. One Leatherneck dog was awarded five campaign ribbons and the Bronze Star for World War II service in the Pacific. Another mascot rose to sergeant after his Quantico, Va., baseball team won the all-Navy championship.

Caudle and Connelly Up to Parole Board

ST. LOUIS (AP) — T. Lamar Caudle and Matthew J. Connelly, Truman administration officials convicted of tax conspiracy, may be released from prison at the discretion of the U.S. Board of Parole, Federal Judge Gunnar Nordbye ruled Thursday.

Judge Nordbye's authorization cleared the way for possible release of Caudle and Connelly before completion of one-third of their two-year sentences.

Connelly, President Truman's appointments secretary, and Caudle, head of the Justice Department's tax division, entered prison May 4 after a series of appeals failed. They were convicted of attempting to block prosecution of an income tax case.

By JOE SINGLETON

More than 32 officers and 130 enlisted men of Pontiac's 2nd Battalion will embark for Camp McCoy, Wis., Sunday for two weeks of annual field training exercises.

The Pontiac Army Reserve unit, which is a part of the 333rd Basic Combat Training Regiment, will move en masse to the southeastern Wisconsin military reservation with over 3,000 reservists from Michigan and Indiana who make up the 70th Training Division.

It was designated on May 1, 1959 after Pontiac's 703d Tank Battalion was abolished, and it will put into practice the refresher courses on basic combat training it received at last year's summer encampment and its weekly training sessions.

★ ★ ★

"Last summer, our men were vigorously drilled on basic combat training tactics and techniques," Maj. Thompson said.

"We have also studied and practiced these subjects in the weekly training sessions since our new designated mission — that of training individual soldiers in basic combat subjects.

"Now we are ready to put this training into action."

The Pontiac unit will train six-month active duty reservists who are not members of an active reserve unit, but who are considered members of the stand-by reserves, by keeping them abreast with basic combat tactics.

The 333rd Training Regiment, with headquarters in Flint is commanded by Col. Harold G. Dumanous of Flint.

The 70th Division, which was reactivated as an Army reserve unit by redesignation of the 21st Armored Division, has been commanded by Maj. Gen. Clyde E. Dougherty, of Detroit, since that time.

During last year's summer encampment, the 2nd Battalion won top ratings from Army inspection teams and special regimental awards. One such award was the "Best Instructor Award" presented by Maj. Gen. Dougherty in a special parade and awards ceremony.

The group will depart by train at 12:20 Sunday morning and is expected to arrive at Camp McCoy at 5:30 Sunday afternoon.

At the end of 1958, there were 545,465 patients in state mental hospitals, a reduction of more than 13,000 paitents since 1955.

Sukarno Takes Over, Hits Coup Rumors

★ ★ ★

The president charged "certain interested foreign groups" with spreading false rumors so they could "have things their own way" and "split the unity of the Indonesian Republic." He refused to identify the foreign groups.

★ ★ ★

Rumors circulated on the Amsterdam Stock Exchange Thursday that the Indonesian army had arrested Sukarno following his return from a 64-day world tour and taken over the government.

Belgian Congo's Whites Look to Future in Terror

By SAUL PETT

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (AP)—As a colony, the big rich Belgian Congo is dying in a convulsion of fear, rumor and confusion.

One nightmare haunts the white community.

They think that many of the most primitive natives expect to take over the white man's world completely and literally on Independence Day, June 30. Take over, not only his government, bit also his home, his car, even his wife.

★ ★ ★

There have been incidents but for every actual incident, 100 are imagined. True, false or medium, the result is the same in this country, where black men outnumber whites 130-1. The Belgians are scared.

★ ★ ★

They have been flying out by the thousands. Airlines are jammed. In rural areas, many plantation owners, copper mining officials, missionaries and trading post managers are planning to send their wives and children to towns for protection.

GUNS IN HOMES

In the cities, many white homes now have guns. Business is dead. Few consumers and retailers are buying more than they absolutely need.

★ ★ ★

The white community (normally about 100,000 compared to 13 million Africans) waits tensely and the rumors multiply. Is there any substance to the reports? Apparently there is, according to missionaries, Belgian officials and people I talked with at the American and British consulates.

CAUSE ARE INCIDENTS

While there has been much semi-hysterical exaggeration, they said, this kind of thing has occurred:

African men (no one can say how many) have approached white women and said, in effect, they were taking title to them after June 30.

Natives in a northern village have laid out many empty boxes, crates, tubs at a cemetery, thinking that with independence they will be filled with the white man's clothes, food, goods. Somehow, they associate the dead with the coming miracle.

A man coming out of a barber shop in Leopoldville saw several natives eying his car possessively. Why? "It will be ours after June 30." Said the owner: "I suppose you think you'll get my house too?" said the natives: "Oh yes sir."

There are many rumors of African blacklists: After June 30, the bad whites will have to go, only the good ones can remain.

★ ★ ★

Trying to nail this last type of rumor down is like trying to nail gelatine to the wall. But true or not, many Belgians now treat their houseboys more carefully.

WHAT TO BELIEVE?

Many people don't know what to believe. This much is fact. Some of the lesser African politicians or jungle precinct captains, have led their primitive constituents to believe they will take over the white man's possessions have tried to spike these notions, but it's doubtful if the speeches can catch up with the rumors among wishful thinking natives in the remote villages unreached by radio or newspapers.

★ ★ ★

This uncertainty is the harvest of haste as the Congo, one third the size of the United States, races toward freedom from Belgium.

OUT OF YOUR PURSE RESCUE FOR HAIR, NAILS

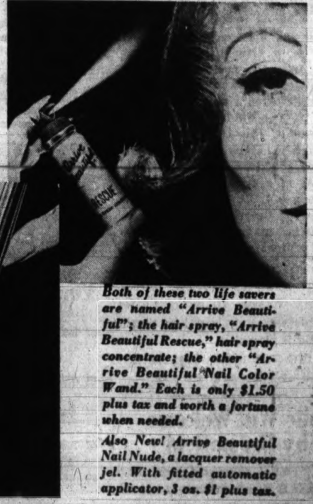
By Mary Ann Tucker

Out of the blue comes two new miracle workers that even the tiniest evening bag now must carry. Both are life savers we've long needed but never had.

(months of hair and nail rescue in these tiny, new purse accessories)

One, the only practical purse size hair Rescue I've seen. It adds no lacquer to your hair; just softens a tumbled curl or rumpled wave so your fingertips instantly re-set it—to stay. Has a metered spray so you don't waste it. 300 sprays—at least 75 rescues.

The other, a slim magic wand filled with a new French formula quick drying nail lacquer and equipped with an automatic built-in brush. Works like a fountain pen. Does all your nails in seconds or repairs a chip in no time. Leak proof, spill proof, never thickens and comes in 13 heavenhued shades. Really a must for the girl on the go. Does 400 nails.



Both of these two life savers are named "Arrive Beautiful"; the hair spray, "Arrive Beautiful Rescue," hair spray concentrate; the other "Arrive Beautiful Nail Color Wand." Each is only $1.50 plus tax and worth a fortune when needed.

Also New! Arrive Beautiful Nail Nude, a lacquer remover jel. With fitted automatic applicator, 3 oz. $1 plus tax.

Mall Experiment Very Successful in Kentucky

Louisville, Kentucky is another area experimenting with beautifying their downtown which bears watching. It has just completed a two week trial period.

Three weeks ago a one block area in midtown Louisville was closed for the revamping. In one weekend city planners, garden club enthusiasts and other volunteers turned into laborers to convert this rather nondescript street into a pedestrian mall.

The experiment called 'Guthrie Green' appears to be a widely admired success. It was promoted by the Louisville Central Area, Inc., a new businessmen's organization with a $100,000 a year budget, and by the Beautification League of Louisville.

Originally the test was to run two weeks; however, the response was so enthusiastic that merchants contributed $1,500 more to carry it two weeks longer.

Seventy-five businesses contributed money, labor and materials to help make the mall experiment possible. Cost of the first two weeks test was approximately $10,000 according to L.C. A. officials.

Two of the most popular features, aside from the colorful flowers and green shrubs, have been a sidewalk cafe serving coffee, and the downtown merchants lending models for noontime style shows.

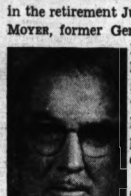
Reactions from merchants in the mall area has been uniformly favorable. More and more such experiments are being tried across the country and it seems reasonable to believe that Pontiac should continue a close watch and perhaps gain valuable information for our own city.

Carl W. Moyer Takes Well-Deserved Rest

Citizens in this area are interested in the retirement July 1st of Carl W. Moyer, former General Manager of Fisher Body plant here. Currently he is General Factory Manager of Fisher assembly plants in the eastern United States.



MOYER

He left Pontiac in 1954, to become head of Fisher plants in Michigan and was again promoted to his current place about two years ago.

★ ★ ★

During his time here, he was active in civic affairs and has continued to have an interest in Pontiac. "I'm a contributor to the Pontiac Area United Fund," he says, "and I'll be an interested citizen of this community." Mr. Moyer has always enjoyed a wide circle of friends in the area because of a friendly and winning personality.

He has earned his retirement through maximum work hours and a steadfast devotion to duty.

★ ★ ★

Henceforth, one of Mr. Moyer's greatest worries can lie in the fear that his wife may beat him playing golf. Both play well.

A fine manufacturing executive takes a well-deserved rest.

Public Will Welcome Bill by Broomfield

Oakland County Congressman William S. Broomfield will not win any standing ovation or cheers from his fellow Congressmen on Capitol Hill with his latest bill, but the public will welcome it.

★ ★ ★

He's introducing a measure which would make junketing Congressmen account for their expenses in detail.

On the heels of exposure that several Congressmen have lived high on Government cash during trips to foreign countries, this bill would plug a drain on the treasury.

★ ★ ★

As Broomfield says, "If labor unions and management are required to submit detailed reports of expenditures, then I believe it is only right Congress live by the same rules."

We agree.

The person who says he hates to talk about himself never hates it enough to refrain from doing it.

The Man About Town

In U.S.A. Our County Now Takes Much Higher Position

Records: What are made to be smashed—in Oakland County.

There are 3,088 counties in our 50 states. But there's only one Oakland County. And that surely showed all the others some population growth in the past ten years.

While the final official figures for the entire country are not yet available, it now appears that it has advanced from that position to 29th or better. It has jumped over more than 20 counties, each of which had more than our 396,001 in 1950.

It looks quite probable that this jump in rank may be the largest recorded among the major counties.

Less than one-third of the 50 states now have a county with a greater population than our Oakland.

"What I Do With Public Money Is Private"

David Lawrence Quotes Steel Man:

Inventory Problem Goes Modern

WASHINGTON—There is something wrong with the business situation. A certain slowness has developed. Explanations are numerous.

But perhaps the most significant is the discovery that the steel strike was far more damaging to the American economy than was realized either by the unions or the companies involved.

LAWRENCE

For the truth is America has not yet recovered from the ill effects of the steel strike, and it may take several months more before there is a balanced situation in the steel industry.

While many of the steel companies have shut down a part of their plants and unemployment has been increased, other companies are finding themselves in the midst of a profit squeeze.

"We realized," said one steel executive, "that the strike was going to have an impact on increasing costs, but we hoped that the union would cooperate to the point where savings could be made to offset the increased costs. Up to date, this has not materialized and it doesn't look to me as though it is going to materialize."

"Will there be a price increase?" the writer asked.

"Well, we will have to just wait and bide our time. Since we have to give a wage increase in December, and since the profit squeeze that we are encountering now is so severe, I don't see how we can stay in business without a price increase."

Discussing the factors that are upsetting the steel industry, including foreign competition, one steel expert pointed out:

"All during the strike, we were receiving reports that foreign companies would not accept business except over a period of two or three years and that they would not furnish steel for a short time. So I am sure there were some long-term commitments made, and this is having an impact right now.

★ ★ ★

"Then there is the problem of substitutes. Some users of steel found that when they could not get steel, they could use substitutes and do a reasonably good job, perhaps even cheaper. It is not known the extent to which these substitutes have made an inroad on the market for steel."

"Perhaps the biggest single factor in the change that has occurred in the steel industry is in relation to inventories.

Referring to the accumulation of large inventories prior to the strike, a steel expert said:

"The inventory situation misled us in two respects. The users had more steel during the strike than we thought. Then, when we started up under the Taft-Hartley injunction, the orders poured in and we started off with a bang.

"Because we had increased our capacity, we got out more steel quicker than ever before in our history, and users bought more than ever. When the settlement came three months later, the buyers of steel figured they were safe for two and a half years and that we had plenty of capacity to produce, so they stopped buying right away.

"Today they are cutting their inventories back not only to where they used to have them, but far lower than they used to maintain.

"This is because, with the introduction of new electronic computing machines, the users can keep a more accurate record of their inventories and get along with much less. In other words, they can place an order with us and get it in 48 hours.

"It is the steel companies who are carrying the inventories today, and not the customers. It is a great upheaval in the industry."

Asked when a more normal situation might be expected, here was the answer given:

IN AUGUST?

"We think beginning in August, when the automobile companies come in big for their 1961 models, we will show a pretty good pickup from there on. Now, how long that will last remains to be seen. At least they will buy goods through the spring of 1961. What happens after the first quarter of 1961 is anybody's guess. It all depends on how the rest of the economy is."

The steel industry is one of the basic factors in the American economy and, when it is upset, many other industries that are related to steel are similarly affected.

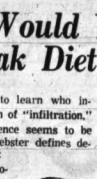
Dr. William Brady Says:

How Would You Know if Freak Diet Is Good?

I am unable to learn who invented the notion of "infiltration," but medical science seems to be stuck with it. Webster defines degeneration thus:



DR. BRADY

"Med. Deterioration of a tissue or an organ in which its vitality is diminished; a substitution of a lower for a higher form of structure, either by chemical change of the tissue (true degeneration) or the deposit of abnormal matter in the tissues (infiltration)."

I hope what I say will make some doctors and some folks question whether they are following the right course.

I say there is no scientific evidence that abnormal matter, such as fat, calcium and cholesterol, is "deposited" in the body tissues. The quaint notion that deterioration of tissue or organ is the consequence of "infiltration" is one of numerous concepts that make our "scientific" pretensions ridiculous.

The plain truth is that when there is more fat, calcium or cholesterol in tissue or organ than there should be, it is the consequence of degeneration, not the cause.

It is because some doctors do not know much about pathology that they prescribe funny diets restricting the patient's intake of fat, calcium or cholesterol in the treatment of cardio-vascular degeneration (C V D) — heart-artery degeneration—and chronic joint disability (rheumatic) or, as the merchants of medicine call it, chronic "arthritis."

As for low cholesterol diet, it is well to remember that virtually every wholesome food contains more or less cholesterol.

If you are a victim of the cholesterol craze, tell me, how will you ever know whether all the freak dieting does any good?

And how do so many old folks keep in fine fettle notwithstanding that they eat whatever they like, Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, and his partner, Karsten Andersen, voluntarily lived on an exclusive meat diet for a year, under constant observation of physicians, nutritionists, pathologists, etc.

Both men finished the year in better health than when they started. Stefansson told me that they preferred meat that contained plenty of fat. One of them had had high blood pressure at the start. At the end of the year his blood pressure was normal.

Comical contrast: A lady told me her two elderly bachelor brothers-in-law carefully trim all the fat from the meat before they eat it—both have high blood pressure and have to keep the cholesterol level in their blood low.

'Statements Are Checked Thoroughly for Accuracy'

While we are congratulating ourselves that our city is in good financial standing, and that we do not have to clip another one per cent income tax from our workers' earnings such as is the case in Detroit, let us consider how we have kept ourselves this way.

A few nights ago in the Voice of the People some question was raised as to the credibility of information that was put out in an ad by the Pontiac Taxpayers Association. Now, I have been a member for a long time and can assure anyone that statements made by them are checked carefully for accuracy before they are sent to The Press. This organization over the years has been largely responsible for 'holding the line' on unnecessary expense in this city.

Let's Not End Up Like Russia

I heard on the radio that this next election is not between Republicans and Democrats for they are the same. It is really between the socialists and the conservatives.

★ ★ ★

Well, through give-away programs the socialists are trying to tear down what the conservatives have built up. They want to give away things in the State, in the nation and all around the world. Let us save our nation and ourselves and not turn to a kind of socialism-communism or we will end up where Russia is now.

Minimum Wage Increase Drastic Step

As a member of the Committee on Education and Labor, I consider H. R. 4488 (or rather the Committee bill which succeeds it) — to raise the minimum wage and extend its coverage to retail and service industries — a very dangerous bill.

★ ★ ★

It is not only highly inflationary and would drastically increase the cost of doing business, but it would also, in my opinion, cause severe unemployment for lower income and marginal workers. This spells tragedy to hundreds of thousands of them because they cannot find other employment.

★ ★ ★

You can help if you will spread this fact by wire and letter to your employes, relatives and friends and have them wire their own Congressman their opposition. This bill can be defeated if the grass roots section expresses itself.

Fernandez Should Have Support

Dykes is still living in 1959. Fernandez is the highest batter on the team and he has him hitting eighth, below the catcher. Nobody on the team has made as many hits as Fernandez through Tuesday, but the manager wastes them. The men with the second and third best batting averages are benched. The fans are getting a pretty bum deal.

Feels Public School Census Is Wrong

To include over five million Catholic and other parochial school children in a Public School Census is wrong. The bill which will aid only the public schools is unfair. If congress meant to aid only the public schools, they had no right to include those five million youngsters and the many millions of dollars they represent, since these children are deprived of even one cent of benefit. If Catholic and other parochial schools were to close their doors in protest, this country would be in the greatest bankrupt mess ever known in our history.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Work Sternly to Finish Education

Tim has the makings for a very successful man, but he can be handicapped all his life because of a tragic mistake he made 5 years ago. His mother phoned me about it recently, so I am helping him correct this all too common American tragedy among teen-age boys (and girls, too). Get help!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E-483: Tim B., aged 22, works in a big Chicago parking lot near my office.

CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he greeted me this morning, "the weatherman predicts clear, sunshiny weather over the weekend.

"So how about having us wash your car? It ought to stay shiny."

I mention this little evidence of good salesmanship. Most car attendants don't think ahead.

So they will ask about washing your car when it is cloudy and the motorist may already have heard his dashboard radio announce rain for the week-end.

Star salesmen look ahead and think ahead, as Tim does.

And "front" men include post office stamp window attendants, as well as bank tellers, counter clerks, bus drivers, etc.

Tim likewise wipes the windshield for his customers and offers extra little courtesies. He will inspect the tires and suggest:

"They look a little soft. Shall I put some air in them?"

Yet Tim is not the fawning type of worker who expects a tip for every gesture. He is simply a good salesman. But he made one bad mistake 5 years ago.

TIM'S MISTAKE

"Dr. Crane," she began, "you don't know me but I am the mother of Timmy, who parks your car every day.

"He has told me you have complimented him, and I want to thank you for your encouragement. Timmy's father died when he was 10 and he has had to fend for himself a great deal.

"But he needs an older man's advice and counsel, so could you please help me get Tim to finish high school.

★ ★ ★

"He dropped out in his junior year. And I tell him the lack of his diploma will often hold him back.

"Will you please encourage him to finish high school?"

GET YOUR DIPLOMA

Yes, I gladly did so. If you are employed, as Tim is, then you can complete your high school by correspondence.

The American School, at 58th & Drexel, Chicago, is a splendid institution that has helped thousands finish high school, solely by correspondence.

Tim's mother is correct, too, in stressing the value of a diploma. Dr. Paul C. Glick, of our Census Bureau, has shown that a high school graduate earns $49,000 more in later life than the 8th grade graduate.

That means every year of high school is worth $12,250 in sheer cash earnings the remainder of your life.

Furthermore, each year of college adds another $25,000 with a 4-year diploma bringing college grads $105,000 more than the high school diploma.

Business College gives you the most for a one-year or two-year course, but don't quibble.

Both Liberal Arts and Business Colleges help guarantee a more cultural home atmosphere, plus a larger salary.

So ignore the teen-age yen to quit school to earn quick cash to buy a jalopy. You cheat your future family of a higher standard of living by such juvenile action!

Six State Universities Awarding 9,000 Degrees

By the Associated Press

Six state-supported Michigan universities will award degrees to almost 9,000 students — and 24 honorary degrees to distinguished men and women — at commencement exercises this weekend.

★ ★ ★

Saturday exercises are slated for the University of Michigan, Eastern and Western Michigan universities and Michigan College of Mining and Technology. Ceremonies at Michigan State University and Ferris Institute are scheduled for Sunday.

With more than 4,000 graduates and six honorary degrees, the University of Michigan leads in numbers. Michigan State will graduate 2,168 students, Western Michigan 913; Eastern Michigan 575; Michigan Tech 333; and Ferris 559.

Ex-President Harry S. Truman and Charles E. Bohlen, former ambassador to Moscow, will receive two of the four honorary degrees. Ferris will present five, Western Michigan will confer three and Michigan Tech will award two.

The University of Michigan's six degrees will go to Sir Geoffrey Crowther, chairman of England's Central Advisory Council on Education; Mortimer Graves, retired executive director of the American Council of Learned Societies; James M. Sweeney, director of the Guggenheim Museum; Willard L. Thorpe, Amherst College economist; Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, chief of Army research and development, and James A. Van Allen, State University of Iowa physicist and discoverer of the radiation belt circling the earth.

Other recipients of honorary degrees at Michigan State are historian Henry Steel Commager, and Clark L. Brody, retired executive secretary of the Farm Bureau.

NOT THE BEANSTALK? — Mrs. Forrest Landers of Wood River, Ill., stands next to the pot from which a 50-foot philodendron vine started two years ago. The vine, which now completely encircles her 24x9-foot kitchen, is still growing and climbing prodigiously. But Mrs. Landers says she is about out of room for it to climb.

Acting President Likely for Western Michigan U.

LANSING (AP) — Inability of the State Board of Education to break a deadlock over naming a new Western Michigan University president fanned speculation today that an acting president will be appointed.

After a day-long meeting of the four-member Board, Chairman Stephen S. Nisbet told newsmen yesterday only that an announcement will be made Monday, hopefully to confirm a conditional decision.

Nisbet indicated an acting head would be named, assuming the choice for this role proved agreeable.

However, he declined to rule out the possibility that a permanent selection could be wrapped up by Monday.

Mentioned by other sources as a logical caretaker president upon the June 30 retirement of ailing Dr. Paul V. Sangren was L. Dale Faunce, vice president for student activities and public relations.

Nisbet acknowledged that the Board was perilously close to a need to start all over again after six months of fruitless maneuver over filling the impending $25,000-a-year vacancy.

A list of possibilities that once numbered 33 was narrowed several weeks ago to four, one of them Lynn M. Bartlett, now nearing the end of a second term as a Democratic state superintendent of public instruction, a $17,500-a-year post.

In a bizarre situation, Bartlett, an outspoken candidate for the much sought-after WMU presidency, holds one of four votes on the Board which is weighing his candidacy against three others — and which reportedly has agreed that any selection must be unanimous.

Mrs. Cornelia A. Robinson of Kalamazoo, a Democrat elected to the Board last year, likewise finds herself in a dual situation—as disinterested spokesman for all the people of the state and as wife of a long-time WMU faculty member.

* * *

Mrs. Robinson reportedly has been unwilling thus far to support Bartlett, reflecting a coolness toward his aspirations on the part of some WMU faculty elements.

The fourth member of the Board is Chris Magnussen, a Carpenters Union official in Southfield.

Bartlett lately has refused to discuss Board deliberations, which have been secret.

Friends say his situation, to the extent he sits in judgment on himself, has ample precedent.

They point to predecessors in the office of superintendent of public instruction who wound up as state college presidents, including Eugene B. Elliott, now president at Eastern Michigan University, Elliott is a Republican.

The final three left in the running against Bartlett — at least when the Board met yesterday — were Russell E. Seibert, a WMU vice president, State Controller James W. Miller and John F. Lederle, a former controller who now heads the public administration department at the University of Michigan.

'Too Many Planes and Tanks'

Our Foreign Aid Chiefs Fight Back at Critics

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Accounting Office has criticized military foreign aid chiefs for allegedly sending one country twice as many jet planes as there were pilots to use them.

Another country with only 30 fully trained tankmen received 255 tanks, the GAO said in a report to a House Appropriations subcommittee.

Censored portions were made public Thursday with closed-door testimony on foreign aid tanks earlier this year. Neither country was named in the public version.

Military spokesman contested the GAO criticism in the case of both countries. They said GAO did not take into account need for planes and tanks for training.

The report said that in January 1958 there were 235 F86 planes and 186 T33s available to a friendly air force, apparently in the Far East.

The report continued that since the air force concerned "had only 187 jet pilots, including instructors, test pilots and students, there were more than two planes available for each of these pilots."

In a reply sent to the comptroller general, the Defense Department acknowledged that some of the planes had been stored instead of being used because of "budget limitations."

It said, however, that the U.S. Military Aid Mission had taken steps to increase the training programs.

"In addition, the excess of F86 aircraft will be reduced by the redistribution of these aircraft to meet other—requirements in the Far East," the department reply continued.

In reply to the criticism on tanks, apparently sent to a European country, the European command was quoted as saying some were intended for modernization and replacement.

Genesee County Politico Wants State House Job

FLINT (UPI)—Floyd N. Baldwin, long-time Genesee County political figure, has announced he would seek the Republican nomination to the State House of Representatives from Genesee's 1st district.

Baldwin, a delegate to the GOP National Convention, has been a member of the City Commission here and a member of the County Board of Supervisors. He currently serves on the County Social Welfare Policy Board.

Israel, Argentina Out to Save Face

Seek Eichmann Compromise

★ ★ ★

Argentina charged the seizure of Eichmann by Jewish commandos in Buenos Aires violated her sovereignty and said she would appeal to the U. N. unless Israel returned him. The former Nazi is accused of helping direct Hitler's extermination of the Jews.

Informed sources in Israel said Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion would not comply with the Argentine demand. But he was reported to have sent a conciliatory letter to Argentine President Arturo Frondizi.

Official sources in Buenos Aires said Argentina would sympathetically consider mediation of the dispute by some foreign country or a suggestion that the case be taken up by the International Court in The Hague.

Diplomats in the South American capital speculated that a European country — perhaps France —might be asked to mediate. Frondizi and Ben-Gurion will both be touring Europe next week and their paths may cross in Paris.

Western authorities in London were reported behind the move to let the World Court—organ of the United Nations—rule whether Eichmann was kidnaped or, as Israel claims, agreed to go with his Jewish captors and stand trial.

There was no indication from Jerusalem that Israel would be willing to go to the World Court, however.

The international tribunal usually moves slowly, sometimes taking years for a decision in major cases. And with feeling running high in Israel against the ex-Nazi, the Israeli government is going ahead with plans for a showcase trial within a year to bring out details of the Nazi extermination of six million European Jews.

Eichmann will be tried in Israel under the 1950 "Nazi and Nazi Collaborators' Act" and will face the death penalty.

Firms Increase Expansion Pace

Spending Is Scheduled to Reach 3-Year High This Summer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Business investment spending to enlarge and expand production capacity is increasing and is scheduled to hit a three-year high this summer, the government reports.

It said a survey of businessmen's plans for purchase of new equipment, plant expansion and construction of new facilities showed 1960 spending at a near record.

The survey is made quarterly by the Commerce Department and Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). They reported that capital outlays reached expectations in the first three months of the year and will continue to climb into the July-August-September period.

The expected 1960 total would be a big jump from the low 1959 level of $32,540,000,000. Administration economists often have cited this pickup as one of the few big plus marks in an economic picture which generally shows high but only slightly rising levels of activity.

Start Fund to Assist Burned-Out Family

Friends of the Charles R. Shears family, whose home at 70 Carpenter St., Waterford Township, was destroyed by fire Monday, have started a campaign to raise funds for furniture, dishes and new and used lumber to build another house.

Mrs. Shears and her four small children were away from home when the fire broke out at the rear of the one - story frame house.

The drive is being led by Mrs. George McDowell of 142 N. Josephine St., who will be responsible for any contributions.

Flatter to Get Another Trial

Detroit Jurors Tell of Checking on Convicted Murderer's Alibi

DETROIT (AP)—George Darryl Flatter, convicted murderer of a Detroit housewife, Mrs. Elizabeth Moughler, 51, was granted a new trial yesterday. Two jurors testified they had done some unauthorized checking on Flatter's alibi.

★ ★ ★

A third juror, France Cisinski, told Recorder's Judge Elvin L. Davenport that she had decided Flatter was guilty only after she heard the findings of the other two jurors.

★ ★ ★

Flatter had contended he could not have covered the distance from the murder scene in the time between the murder and his arrival home. The jurors said they paced off the distance and he could have.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Moughler was dragged between houses and strangled Jan. 22 as she returned from a movie. She was the mother of three children.

★ ★ ★

Flatter was sentenced to life imprisonment after his conviction on a first-degree murder charge March 31.

Xways Found Boost to Residential Values

LANSING (AP) — There's good indication that values of residential property go up when an expressway is built nearby, the State Highway Department said today.

That's contrary to the opinion of some land appraisers and condemnation commissioner which contend six- and eight-lane highways cut home prices nearby, the department said.

Dianthus, a hard species of the carnation family, is commonly known as Sweet William.

Supreme Court Eyes Assessment

Accepts Drain Cost Appeal

The State Supreme Court yesterday took under advisement Oakland County's appeal of a lawsuit, the latest in a series holding up construction of the 12-town drain relief drain.

The Oakland County Drainage Board is appealing Circuit Judge William J. Beer's ruling of last December that it had illegally determined Madison Heights' $2,848,805 assessment for the sewer.

The justices listened Thursday to the city's arguments presented by attorney Harry N. Dell, and then heard counter - arguments from Claude H. Stevens, attorney for the Drainage Board.

★ ★ ★

The Board has struggled through a legal maze for years to build the $47 million drain to relieve flooded streets and basements in southeastern Oakland County.

Beer agreed with the city that the drainage officials had failed to take into consideration benefits to the city and how much it contributed to the flooding conditions before arriving at the city's assessment.

Dell told the high court that by "proper calculation" this share would amount to "well below" two million dollars.

Stevens argued that the financing arrangements were considered and settled in a prior case decided by the Supreme Court last year and could not now be re-opened.

Presbyterian Moderator

ALMA (AP)—The annual Presbyterian synod of Michigan, which met on the Alma College campus, elected the Rev. Paul Sobel, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Kingsford, as moderator for the coming year. He succeeds Elder J. Lamar Newberry of Grosse Pointe Memorial Presbyterian Church.

GOING TO BULGARIA — Mr. and Mrs. Michael V. Kerensky of 97 Churchill Rd., Pontiac Township, are leaving Sunday by plane for Bulgaria. It will be Kerensky's first trip back to his birthplace, behind the Iron Curtain, in 47 years. His wife came to the United States from there 36 years ago.

Dream Coming True

Kerenskys to Travel Behind Iron Curtain

BY LEE WINBORN

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP—Michael V. Kerensky is a happy man.

His long-cherished dream to return to his birthplace behind the Iron Curtain after a 47-year absence is about to come true.

"I can't believe it," Kerensky repeats over and over again as he continues with his packing. He says for years he has wanted to see relatives he left behind when he came to the United States at the age of 14. That was in 1913.

He has a brother and a sister left in the old country whom he is planning to visit. He also is looking forward to meeting their children and other distant relatives he hasn't seen for nearly half a century.

Kerensky lost contact with members of his family during World Wars I and II. He couldn't write to them because his country was aligned with the Axis during both conflicts and communication was impossible, he said.

Recalling the desire that prompted him to come to the United States, Kerensky said he and a young friend who accompanied him wanted "better living."

"We found it here and stayed," he said. In 1914 Kerensky came to Pontiac and worked in the Wilson Foundry Corp. "for a while" and then at the old Beaudette plant.

RETIRED LAST YEAR

He went to Fisher Body Division in 1943 where he was employed as an inspector until his retirement last year.

Mrs. Kerensky is a secretary to Dr. Julius Rutzky, director of laboratories at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She has been an employe of the hospital for 10 years.

This trip is something the Kerenskys have talked about ever since their marriage in 1930. They didn't want to make the journey until the U.S. government agreed to allow them to go behind the Iron Curtain.

WAY FINALLY CLEAR

It was just last fall that the road opened up, they said. They found they could get a passport from the government and a visa from the Bulgarian consulate in Washington, D.C.

The Kerensky home, at 97 Churchill Rd., is a flurry of excitement today as members of the family drop in to help with last-minute packing and hear the latest plans for the trip.

These include a daughter, Mrs. James Hulen, who lives nearby, a son, Vasil (Bill) who resides in Holly, and their children.

The Kerenskys will land in Sofia then go on to the village of Kaleitsa, north of the mountain that divides the country in half. That is where Kerensky was born.

Mrs. Kerensky said no provision has been made for her to see her cousins in the southern part of the country but an opportunity may develop after they arrive.

She came to the United States in 1924, so the upcoming trip is equally exciting to her — even though she hasn't had to wait as long as her husband.

CAROLYN CHISHOLM

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chisholm of 325 Tower Rd., Oxbow Lake, announce the engagement of their daughter Carolyn Oriole to John Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon of 1211 N. Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake. No wedding date has been set.

Plan Special Meeting on Wixom City Hall

WIXOM—Another in a series of special meetings to discuss plans for a new city hall will be held Thursday by city councilmen.

The meeting was called by Mayor Donald Brooks after the Council was shown a new type of glass paneling that can be used in exterior and interior construction.

The vacuum-sealed, colored glass panels are used for cutting expenses in construction as well as being decorative, the Council was told.

The paneling can be also taken down and moved easily when the building is expanded, it was explained.

"In no way, shape or form do we have a plan for a new city hall," Brooks said. "That is why these informal meetings have been called."

"The only thing that we know is that the new building would house a fire department along with the city offices."

He said the city has about $30,000 budgeted for civic center developments.

★ ★ ★

At a meeting last week Council directed an architect "to see what he could come up with for $25,000."

However, the construction of the building is not the main problem the Council is faced with at the moment.

"Since word got out that we were planning a new municipal office land values seemed to have skyrocketed," Brooks said.

He said he has been quoted several prices on poroperty that has been eyed for a new site.

"Both were fantastic. One five acre parcel is $40,000. Another 13 acre site is going for $60,000." Brooks said that property in the area of the present city hall on Wixom road near Pontiac Trail would be preferred for the location of the new building, but any area in thec ity would be considered.

He said that anyone at anytime could submit bids at the city hall on property for a new site.

ARVIN C. BROWN

JANET E. DOTY

102 in Largest Senior Class

Holly's 'Top Ten' Listed

HOLLY — An all-A student, Janet E. Doty has been named valedictorian of the Holly High School graduating class.

Janet, who has carried an A average throughout high school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Doty, 205 Grant St., Holly.

Salutorian of the class is Arvin C. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Brown, 307 North St., Holly.

Janet will attend Alma College in the fall to study medical technology. Arvin will attend Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton to study engineering physics.

Eight others who make up the "top ten" in the 102-member senior class are John Adams, Patricia Boncher, James Canfield, Sharon Gavette, Lorraine Krieger, Karlene Lamberton, Marilyn Mitchell and Marilyn Young.

The class is the largest ever to graduate from the school. Last year there were 74 graduates.

The seniors will receive their diplomas at ceremonies Tuesday evening in the high school, from Board of Education treasurer Worth Hitchcock.

Principal speaker at the exercises will be Henry C. Dykema, assistant director in the men's division of student affairs in the dean of students office at Michigan State University.

Mrs. Michigan Takes Awards in Two Contests

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Mrs. Michigan submitted a combination of ideas from her entire family to win the judges award yesterday for the best home bathroom plan in the Mrs. America Contest.

She is Mrs. Geraldine L. Scott, wife of a Traverse City, Mich., physician.

WED 50 YEARS — Mr. and Mrs. Garrett B. Stagg, of 4284 Bald Mountain Rd., Pontiac Township, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at their home. They will receive relatives and friends between 2 and 6 p. m. and will be assisted by their son Garrett I. Stagg of Pontiac and granddaughter Sheryl Lynne Stagg.

To Interview Three for Information Post

LANSING (AP)— The Civil Service Commission has asked the three top candidates for its director of public information post to appear for interviews today.

The candidates are Albert Kaufman, newsman for the Detroit Times; Otis Hardy, director of information services for the Highway Department; and Ralph Swan, an official of the Economic Development Department.

The $15,000 post was created by the commission 10 weeks ago and filled by Paul Weber, former press secretary to Gov. Williams. Last week, however, Weber accepted a public relations job with the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

In other business at its meeting yesterday, the commission:

Postponed action on requests to put four top state jobs under civil service status—the director and deputy director of the Mental Health Department, and directors of the Aeronautics Department and Upper Peninsula State Fair Board.

Tentatively adopted a rule to liberalize maternity leaves for state employes.

IMPORTANT Medical Facts For Every Man Who Has Passed His 40th Birthday

Men, too, Go Thru "Change of Life"

DOCTORS CALL IT "MALE CLIMACTERIC"

New Safe Discovery Compounded For Counteracting Effect on Body and Blood Changes Due to Usual Deficiencies That Often Occur During Middle Age.

Doctors, employers and scientists all agree that after the first 40 years, the human body undergoes important normal changes. This change occurs in MEN as well as WOMEN! Men, if you are over 40, in good health . . . but feel nervous, physically weak in legs, back and arms, can't sleep, find it difficult to make decisions . . . are quick-tempered, always tired and suffer from that terrible "what's the use" feeling . . . chances are, you are going through "change of life," or as doctors call it, MALE CLIMACTERIC. And at this time it's more important than ever that your system be not deficient in the very vitamins and minerals nature created to counteract and offset the distressing symptoms of these "after 40" body and blood changes. Amazing new power-packed capsules called Red Rooster Pills, have been created especially for men and women over 40. Each hospital recognized ingredient carefully chosen and carefully compounded for its benefit on every man and woman . . . Yes, one potent Red Rooster Pill daily feeds your system a special and particular combination of Vitamins and Minerals to supply your blood, body organs, glands and nerves, including Thiamine and Vitamin B-1, the vitamin Germ of Wheat, E, stimulating B-1, Iron, Calcium, Phosphorus, Iodine and other potent Vitamins and Minerals. Don't be deprived of life's pleasures by these nutritional deficiencies when science has given you a second chance to recharge body and blood this new easy way.

Amazing New "Health in a Tablet" Discovery You've Long Heard Was Coming. Every Ingredient Works Immediately To Help Strengthen Body and Blood.

Just recently a well-known scientist perfected Red Rooster Pills. He combined a group of the RECOGNIZED VITAMINS and MINERALS most often needed by men after 40. Common sense, and your doctor . . . will tell you, vital organs often require the supplement of different VITAMINS and minerals in different amounts at maturity than they do during younger years. Amazing Red Rooster Pills were created specifically to provide a rich source of these essentials needed by mature men and women. ORDER NOW!

Don't Surrender to Old Age Until You Have Made This Test

What Is Climacteric? . . .
Medical distinction tells us "climacteric" is the time of life when the body undergoes a change of life. The first change, when boys become men and girls become women, is usually between the ages of 13-17—another change often occurs usually between 40 and 50.

Who Does It Affect? . . .
Both men and women. In women it is called "menopause" or "change of life"—in men, doctors call it "male climacteric."

What Are The Common Symptoms? . . .
Because the body and blood are undergoing important changes during climacteric, the entire system may become upset and symptoms are varied. Men are usually extremely nervous, tire easily, become irritable, feel weak in arms, legs and back and often are very "cranky." Often there are "hot flashes" accompanied by that "what's the use" feeling. And very often a special supplementary source of certain vitamins and minerals is needed such as you find in this important discovery called Red Rooster Pills.

What Can Be Done? . . .
Medical science has discovered many medicines that can tide you over the difficult "change of life" period. Today Red Rooster Pills supply the body with an unusual combination of vitamins and minerals so often needed during this period. Full month's supply only $5.00 . . . be absolutely delighted with results or cheerful, unquestioned refund.

Here Is List of Candidates and Special Issues:

Lively Contests Predicted for 15 School Elections

Lively contests in Monday's school elections are predicted with a full slate of candidates for Board of Education posts to be filled at this time in 15 area school districts.

In addition, special issues will appear on ballots in Avondale, Clarenceville, Farmington, Troy and Walled Lake school districts.

Voters in many cases will increase their school boards from five to seven members as the result of recent state legislation making the move mandatory.

Following is a list of candidates, posts being sought, and special issues in each school district:

WALLED LAKE

Voters here Monday will be asked to approve a one-mill tax increase for school site improvements along with electing four members to the Board of Education.

Being sought for an eight-year period, the proposed tax levy would bring in a total of $250,000 and be used to pave school parking areas and construct recreational facilities.

The four candidates vying for two expiring three-year terms are Samuel W. Burnley, Mrs. Barbara Scully, Julian M. Beals and Samuel R. Gardiner.

CLARENCEVILLE

Nine candidates are seeking the four school board post open in Monday's election. Five candidates are running for two three-year terms and four persons are seeking two four-year terms.

Also appearing on the ballot will be a request to pay board members $300 a year. Each member of the board has been receiving that sum in the past but the approval of voters is again necessary with the addition of two members to the board.

Seeking the three-year terms are incumbents Halley Hayes and Mrs. Regina Beerbolm. James E. Bowers, Arthur J. Leland Jr. and Thomas C. Wilson.

Candidates for the four-year posts are Raymond Chaiken, Edwin L. Johnson, Naomi Stevens and Martin T. Wechsler.

FARMINGTON

Four members will be elected to the Board of Education here Monday, two for three-year terms and two for four-year terms.

A request to increase the salaries of school board members from $150 to $300 also will appear on the ballot.

WEST BLOOMFIELD

Four school board openings will be sought by nine candidates in Monday's school election here.

In the race for the two four-year terms, the four candidates are incumbents Kern Murphy and Edwin R. Dryer, Frank S. Jones and Mrs. Carol Goodale.

The five candidates vying for the two three-year terms are Paul J. Rich, Frank W. Marriott, Richard H. McClurg, Thomas R. Lodden and Roswell Reeves.

DUBLIN

Three of the candidates are vying for two three-year terms and two candidates are seeking the one-year term.

Incumbents Donald Fish and Raymond E. Hoffman will be challenged for the three-year terms by Kenneth M. Kiner.

The one-year term is being sought by Frederick T. Cortiss and incumbent Onni Kuhna.

HOLLY

Candidates for the two three-year posts are incumbent Robert Brummeler, Allen Jones, David Field and Elinore M. Seavey.

The two four-year terms are being sought by R. William Fagan, Walter A. London, Earl F. Farner and James H. Brown.

HURON VALLEY

Nearly a score of candidates are seeking Board of Education posts in Monday's election here. It is the largest field of candidates running for school board officers in the county.

Twelve candidates are seeking two four-year terms while seven are in the race for the two expiring three-year terms.

The four-year term candidates are Wesley Wilson, Mrs. Walter Els, Mrs. Edna Dirkse, Bert T. White, Horace W. Lodge, Agnes M. Keith Mervyn H. Kidd, Kenneth Goodell, Carlton Crawford, Gordon D. Brooks, Arthur N. Eldred and L. J. LaVoy.

Candidates for the three-year terms are Mrs. Louise Dildine, incumbent; Maurice W. Ramsby, E. Eugene Russell, Edward E. Molloncopf, Dr. Eugene H. Campbell, Fred Schroeder and George Howard.

NOVI

The two incumbents will be among five candidates for school board posts here in Monday's election.

Seeking the two three-year terms that are expiring are incumbents Jack Crawford and Dr. Harold Morris, William G. Bean, Walter Ambinder and John L. McBride.

LYON

Ten candidates will seek three school board posts here in Monday's election.

Two four-year terms will be sought by six candidates. They are Mrs. Glenn E. Dail, Samuel Ballo, William Markham, Alton Miller, Donald Riddering and Ferman Rohraff.

The expiring three-year term is being ought by Oonald K. Smith, incumbent; Mrs. Josephine Allen, Everett Williams and William Linter. Linter is a sticker candidate.

AVONDALE

The two candidates who are running for the single three-year post open on the Avondale Board of Education Monday are George Granger and former Schools Supt. Raymond N. Baker.

Candidates for the newly created four-term terms are Mrs. William U. Porter, Mrs. Mildred Thorpe, Carlyle Bragen and present board member, Floyd Cobb Jr.

The question of teacher tenure also will be on Monday's ballot.

BRANDON

Two candidates are seeking election Monday to each of the four positions open on the Brandon Board of Education.

Competing for the two new four-year posts are Dr. Edward M. Gates, Charles E. Pangus, Keith K. Cooper, Mrs. Doris May and present board treasurer, Leslie L. Wright.

Two women, Mrs. Lilly A. Smith and Mrs. Ilene M. Sellers, and two men, Roger F. Shiveley and present board president Leary Q. Wood are candidates for the two three-year vacancies.

ROCHESTER

The two incumbents up for re-election on the Rochester Board of Education are candidates for three-year terms in Monday's regular school election. They are board treasurer, Wallace R. Hodges and secretary, Mary Ann Beatty.

Challenging them will be Willis Plassey and Jack C. Hughson Jr.

The four men who are seeking election to the two new four-year terms are Leroy Felton, George Feeley, James S. Ludwik and Eugene V. Rounds.

TROY

Two present board members are seeking election to four-year terms on the Troy Board of Education Monday. They are Alex Tunstall, secretary and Lloyd Stage, vice president.

Two other men are running for membership on the board to fill the unexpired term of Gene Johnson, who resigned recently. Candidates for the one-year term are Robert A. Meade and Donald W. Richards.

A proposal to renew the present eight-mill operational levy expiring with the December 1960 collection also will be on Monday's ballot.

UTICA

Twelve persons are candidates for the four trustee posts open on the Utica Board of Education in Monday's election.

The six are running for the two three-year terms are Joseph W. Boardman, Edward H. Dore, Frederick M. Hoeprich, Everett L. Van Wilken and present board treasurer, Walter Flickinger.

The six aspirants for the new four-year posts available are Charles H. Bannow, Jerome J. Donahue, William H. Robertson, William Shugart, Mrs. Arlene R. Tyler, and trustee Marvin J. Priehs.

ROMEO

It promises to be a hotly contested race for the four offices on the Romeo Board of Education Monday with two candidates competing for each post.

Running for the two three-year terms are former board member Walter Sewell, present board president, Dr. Ralph G. Renwick, Jerome E. Schoff and Howard Tyler.

Education Board Petitions Due Saturday in 2 Areas

The deadline for filing nominating petitions for Board of Education posts this year in both the Lake Orion Community and Oxford Area Community school districts is 4 p., tomorrow.

Three positions are available in the Oxford district in the annual school election July 11. One is for three years. The other two are for the newly created four-year terms.

In the Lake Orion district, four posts will be filled this year, two for three years and two for four years. The two members whose terms are expiring are Board President Mrs. Ray Van Wagoner and Treasurer Richard Young.

Young has indicated he will seek re-election and Mrs. Van Wagoner has decided against running for another term.

The petitions, which must bear the signatures of at least 50 qualified electors, must be filed with the Board secretary in each district.

Spring Swings Tomorrow

To Add 92 Teachers Next Year in Utica

UTICA — Administrators in the Utica Community School District said today that approximately 92 teachers will be added to the system next fall. This figure includes replacements.

Sixty-six already have been hired, leaving 26 positions still available on the elementary school level and in special education.

A total of 295 teachers will be staffing all the schools in the system. These include a senior high school, two junior highs and eight elementary schools.

Approximately 55 rooms now are being added to schools on both the elementary and junior high level, all to be ready for opening in the fall, according to Asst. School Supt. Floyd H. Ebeling.

Rodeo to Thrill 70 From County Home

Some 70 youngsters from the Oakland County Children's Home will thrill to the color and excitement of the rodeo Sunday afternoon.

Boys and girls from the home between the ages of 12 and 17 will board buses to arrive at the ranch at 2 p.m.

Performers also will give the children an advance showing before the rodeo gets under way at 3 p.m.

COUPLE SHUNS DOCTORS — Meet Dean Aughinbaugh, 18, his wife Kay, 17, and their two-week-old baby Kimberly, delivered at home without the assistance of a doctor. The young couple, after deciding to have the baby by "natural childbirth," read 20 books on the subject. When Kay went into labor, Dean stayed home from his mail clerk job. The child arrived 12 hours later. They decided to spurn the services of a doctor because they didn't wish to have the baby in a hospital. The baby, they say, is doing fine.

Businessmen Looking at Pleasant Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen have had a fair share of sobering reports and statistics to swallow in the last two months. But today they have some pleasant ones for a change.

These may not balance out the output slowdowns in some industries, the layoffs here and there, the price weaknesses and deadlier competition, the rising costs of production and cutting of profit margins.

But they do allay somewhat the fears of the timorous. And they add up to a fairly healthy outlook for the weeks ahead. The new and more pleasant reports are:

1. The best rally in the stock market for some time — and the more seasoned stocks of the old-line and stable industries.

2. Evidence that the business slowdown has had but little effect on long-range business planning for plant and equipment spending.

3. Continuing steady spending by consumers without either a splurge set off by inflation fears or a purse tightening prompted by recession doubts.

4. A strong revival in U. S. exports after two years of world trade problems that could have threatened the dollar's position.

This export surplus pleases both the countless companies that sell abroad and the nation's money managers who have been disturbed by the loss of gold due to a two-year deficit in our balance payments.

GM Tours Begin Monday

Tech Center Calls Visitors

The grounds of General Motors Technical Center in Warren will be open to visitors from Monday through Labor Day, it was announced today.

Tours will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and noon to 6 p.m. Sundays.

Visitors who register at the main entrance on Mound road just north of 12-Mile road, will be driven around the 330-acre campus-like grounds in station wagons by specially trained guides.

27 BUILDINGS

The buildings house General Motors styling, research, manufacturing development and engineering staffs and the defense systems division.

The tour, which takes about 25 minutes, includes a drive around the lake, explanations of the purpose of each of the principal buildings and brief descriptions of activities conducted in them.

Saltonstall Will Seek Third Full Senate Term

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) has announced his candidacy for a third full term in the Senate, saying, "I'm going to win, and I'll win against anybody."

★ ★ ★

Gov. Foster Furcolo has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination to oppose Saltonstall, who beat him once before.

★ ★ ★

Saltonstall, now 67, served six years as Massachusetts governor before going to the Senate in 1944.

Tooting at Friend Impolite

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please settle this question: Today I was bawled out by my mother for tooting the horn of my car to attract the attention of a girl I know very well who was walking on the sidewalk.

When she turned to look in my direction, I waved "hello."

I can't see anything wrong in this, but my mother made quite an issue of it, saying it was not only belittling to the girl, but also not the behavior of a properly brought up young man.

I was in heavy traffic and had to drive on because of the change in traffic lights. I would very much like to know what you think about this.

Answer: You were wrong for disturbing others with unnecessary horn blowing, and what was more important, you conspicuously called attention to yourself and the girl in public, which is exactly what you should always try not to do.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: My wedding is to be a very simple one with only about forty guests present. I am going to write my own invitations but am not sure just how these should be worded. Also, will you please tell me the correct stationery to use?

Answer: Plain white quite heavy paper marked with a house address is most suitable.

You would write something like the following: "Dear Mrs. Jones, John and I are to be married at Christ Church at noon on Thursday, the tenth of May.

We both want you and Mr. Jones to come to the church and afterward to breakfast at the Ritz. Hoping so much that you can come. Affectionately, Helen Greene."

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: When serving salad with the main course, but on a separate plate, is it necessary to provide a salad fork, or may the salad be eaten with the dinner fork?

I think it is much more practical to eat both meat and salad with the dinner fork, rather than switch from one to the other.

Answer: While it is proper to provide two forks, I agree with you that when served with the meat course, a separate salad fork is entirely unnecessary and may be omitted.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please explain the difference between an American plan and a European plan hotel? My friend and I have a difference of opinion on this.

Answer: American plan means so much a day for room, including meals. In the European plan hotel, the prices of rooms include no food.

New York Woman Helps Rule Baha'i Religion

BY GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—She was born Mary Maxwell of New York, daughter of a famous architect.

Today, she is Ruhiyyih Rabbani, one of nine members of an international body directing the affairs of the Baha'i religious faith from its world headquarters in Haifa, Israel.

* * *

"All of my life I wanted to serve," said the attractive brown-haired Mrs. Rabbani, a widow in her late 40s. New York was one stop on a 22,000-mile trip to attend Baha'i conventions in Toronto and Wilmette, Ill., and visit the faith's centers in North America, Europe and Africa.

* * *

In an interview, Mrs. Rabbani explained what Baha'is believe, how the religion has spread since it was founded in 1844 by a Persian scholar named Baha'u'llah, and how she met and married Shoghi Effendi Rabbani, the great-grandson of the founder.

LIFE AFTER DEATH

"The faith is not a new religion," she said, "but a renewal of religion. We believe in the one-ness of God . . . life after death."

"Just as there is physical evolution," she continued, "so is there a spiritual revolution. God educates humanity . . . according to our needs and capacities. All the world's great religions are part of this same great process."

* * *

Baha'is, she said, are Christian, work toward the principles of world brotherhood, for peace, and abolition of all prejudice because of race or creed.

There is no priesthood or clergy, she said; it is up to each member of the faith to tell others. "We are not an aggressive religion," she explained. In 116 years, Baha'u'llah's teachings have spread to 256 countries, territories and islands. She said there are 6,000 centers—1,700 of them in the United States.

WAS 1ST BAHA'I

Mrs. Rabbani's mother was a New York girl who married William Sutherland Maxwell, the Canadian, architect who designed the parliament buildings at Regina, Saskatchewan, and the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec City.

Her mother was a part of the first American pilgrimage to Haifa and the first Baha'i in North America.

* * *

Haifa became world headquarters, she said, because the founder died there in 1892—an exile from his native land because of his teachings.

* * *

Mrs. Rabbani said she was on a pilgrimage to Haifa when she met Rabbani, then the "guardian of the faith." They were married in 1937, and he gave her the name of Ruhiyyih—meaning "spirit-like." He died three years ago of a heart attack.

She will continue at least until 1963 as one of the nine appointed "hands of the cause" stationed in Haifa—all told, she said, there are 27 hands in various parts of the world. One other woman is stationed in Haifa—Mrs. Amelia Collins, 86, of Phoenix, Ariz.

* * *

"You haven't asked me yet what has been the highlight of my visit to the United States," said the Baha'i leader.

* * *

"I'll tell you. I visited a Blackfoot Indian reservation where there are a lot of Baha'i members. I was invited to address their council and afterwards they named me 'Natu-okcist.'

* * *

"It means, 'blessed mother.'"

Abby Says: That'll Cure Hubby

Let Him Take Those Guests of His Out for Good Dinner

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is a wife supposed to do when her husband brings home unexpected company for dinner?

ABBY

He has done this to me several times and I get so mad at him I could break every dish in the place. There are just the two of us and sometimes I planned a very simple pick-up supper or just left-overs.

"Don't fuss," he tells me (right in front of them). "They will eat anything you have." Can you tell me how to handle this awkward situation?

NOT PREPARED

DEAR NOT PREPARED: In this enlightened age of the freezer and canned goodies there is no reason for a woman to be caught with her cupboard bare. Keep something on hand for just such occasions. And if you are too rattled to start cooking or thawing — just start dressing and let hubby take everyone out to dine. (That'll cure him.)

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a married man for 10 years. If his wife hasn't made him happy in the 30 years she has had him, why doesn't she step aside and give someone else a chance? She knows about this affair. If I were in her place I would never stand for it, but she has no pride.

Sometimes the "other woman" in the triangle is right. I believe I am. Why not have TWO happy people instead of THREE unhappy ones? I am tired of the few hours we have to be content with every week.

THE OTHER WOMAN

DEAR OTHER WOMAN: There are many reasons why a wife refuses to "step aside and give someone else a chance." First, she has respect for her marriage vows. Then, there could also be children and, finally, there is the everlasting hope that her husband will wake up and live right! When the flame dies (and it will!) the wife will have a husband in her old age. What will you have besides a guilty conscience and an aged chassis that no man wants?

DEAR ABBY: I don't know how to solve my problem without causing family trouble.

I have relatives who call my doctor and ask him questions about my condition. They know more about me than I know. I am over 21 and am not in critical condition. I am not financially obligated to them and I wouldn't think of calling their doctors and asking embarrassing questions. What does a refined woman do in a case like this?

CONVALESCING

DEAR CONVALESCING: A doctor does not give out information that could be embarrassing to his patient, so leave it in his able hands and don't worry.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Why does a woman say she's been "shopping" when she hasn't bought anything?

ELMER

DEAR ELMER: Why does a man say he's been "fishing" when he hasn't caught anything?

* * *

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Plans Complete for Central High Class Reunion

Arrangements for the February, June and August 1950 Pontiac Central High School class reunion are complete, William Hamilton, chairman, announces.

The dinner dance affair will begin at 6:30 p.m. June 18 at the Elks Temple. Reservations for 300 have been received by Brooke Bennett, reservations chairman, and others may still be sent in for the event.

* * *

Robert F. Beauchamp, an instructor at Wayne State University and supervisor of student English teachers from the college of education, will be guest speaker. Mr. Beauchamp was a former teacher in the Pontiac public school system, at Eastern Junior High and at Pontiac Central. While at Central, he headed the English department, advised the Tomahawk school paper editors, and brought Quill and Scroll society to the school.

* * *

Serving as master of ceremonies will be Donald J. Steele with music by a local orchestra. Paula Linn and Mike Ashley are decorations and prize chairmen, respectively.

August vows are planned by Judith E. O'Neill, daughter of the Robert J. O'Neills of Locklin Lane, and John David Angott, son of the Samuel T. Angotts of Orchard Lake. The bride-elect is an alumna of Barry College. Her fiance was graduated from Olivet College

Detroit Show Accepts 4 Arts Festival Entries

The Birmingham Arts Festival will feature an art market each day beginning Saturday in Shain Park with items in bronze, wood, stone, glass, terra cotta and silver for sale. But four pieces of art will be missing from the display because of their acceptance for the Michigan Artists Exhibition at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Julie Webb, who has been instructing at her Royal Oak studio, will display her two bronzes entitled "Han-Shan" and "Yin and Yang."

Two members of her class also received recognition, Betsy Webster for her "Birds of a Feather," and Betty Reekie for "Cesare." The three are members of the Terra Cotta Sculptors, whose main exhibit during the arts festival will be in Grinnell's Auditorium on Maple, June 11-19.

Svea Kline, the club's first instructor and present teacher at the Bloomfield Art Assn., will display panels of fused glass.

Serving refreshments were Mrs. Moffatt, assisted by Mrs. Roscoe Lund and Mrs. Robert Lohff. The group will meet again this fall.

When Applying for Job

Stand Tall at Interview

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Whether you're a young college girl seeking a summer job, or a mature woman who wants to supplement the family income, your appearance has a lot to do with whether or not you're hired.

The two most important factors are that you be well-groomed and that you are dressed appropriately. Wrinkled clothes, unpolished shoes, wispy hair, soiled gloves or collars, are not only unattractive but may indicate that you would have a sloppy attitude toward your work.

NO GLAMOR GIRLS

The glamor girl has no place in an office. Long, clawlike, red finger nails and elaborate hairdos are impractical and inappropriate. Heavy, overpowering perfume is in the worst taste, and may even give someone else in the office a headache.

* * *

I do not mean that you should not look attractive but lean toward simple, tailored clothes, a simple hairdo, light perfume or cologne, and meticulous grooming.

Be natural in your attitude. Don't try to put on an act. State your qualifications and be enthusiastic. Don't apply for a job you don't want and don't be afraid to show how eager you are to get it.

BE ENTHUSIASTIC

Tell your interviewer that you want it and will do your very best to succeed at it. No matter how small the job is, plan to give it your best. There is nothing so appealing as enthusiasm.

Also, remember your posture when entering the room and when sitting. Stand tall. Don't slump in the chair while being interviewed. All of these things will have an important effect on the impression you give at that important first meeting.

Your appearance is an important factor when seeking a job. You must be well groomed and dressed appropriately.

Patty Sumpter Lists Attendants at Shower

At a miscellaneous shower in the League of Catholic Women Building, Patty Sumpter, recently of Bloomfield Terrace, named attendants for her forthcoming marriage to Phillip LaPine, son o fthe James LaPines of Royal Oak.

Hostesses at the recent party were Mrs. Harry Rhodes of Liberty street and the bride-elect's sister Katheryn, who will be honor maid at the July 23 nuptials.

Daughter of Mrs. Carrie Ingram of Whitesburg, Ky., Miss Sumpter has asked her sister Mrs. Jonah Mitchell of Dearborn, Mrs. Clifford Marsh and Mrs. John LaPine to be bridesmaids. Debbie and Robin Mitchell of Dearborn will be flower girls at their aunt's wedding and Danny LaPine, nephew of the bridegroom, ring-bearer.

Nixon's Views in Book Form

Push Publication Date Up to June 15 in Reply to Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP) — The publication date of a book compiling Vice President Nixon's views on public questions is being rushed — with an okay from Nixon's office.

★ ★ ★

The speedup came after Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller demanded that the vice president make his position clear on national issues.

The book, "The Challenge We Face," compiled from Nixon speeches and papers, is being published by the McGraw-Hill Book Co.

A spokesman for the publisher said first copies came off the press Wednesday night and that one would be available to Nixon in case he wishes to present a copy to Rockefeller today when they are scheduled to meet at a British trade exhibition in New York.

The spokesman said the publication date had been advanced from June 21 to June 15 with the consent of Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, and that Klein further had authorized release of copies to the press immediately.

★ ★ ★

A foreword in the book said the material was compiled by McGraw-Hill editorial staff members "with the aid and assistance of Mr. Nixon's staff and with the vice president's full authorization."

It said Nixon was donating all his royalties from the book to charity.

The material has been arranged and edited topically into 22 sections under five major headings.

The 22 topics include: "The Soviet Challenge," "Foreign Aid," "Labor and the Steel Strike," "Civil Rights," "Khrushchev in America," and "America Accepts the Challenge."

★ ★ ★

"Here is Mr. Nixon on the record, discussing the major issues of the day," the publishers said on the flap of the book.

Woman Who Bit Welfare Aide Jailed

DETROIT (UPI) — Mrs. Pearl Knight was serving a 90-day term in the House of Correction today for biting, punching and throwing a chair at a welfare worker.

She was sentenced yesterday. Mrs. Knight sank her teeth so deeply into the arm of welfare worker William Forrester that fellow workers had to pry her jaws apart to free him. She also punctured his eardrum with a punch.

Mrs. Knight said she was angry because she thought Forrester should have filled out a welfare form instead of having her do it.

"I don't like to be pushed around," she said.

The judge, in imposing sentence, said welfare workers have been too much abused lately and an example must be made.

Will Add 400 Workers

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)— Parsons Corp. says it will increase its payroll by about 400 persons to handle a new 10-million-dollar contract with Umbaught Corp., of Ocala, Fla., for plastic-type rotor blades for the new Umbaugh-18, a helicopter designed for private use.

"I never think of the future," said Dr. Albert Einstein. "It comes soon enough."

Theater Strike Ends; Shows to Open Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—Actors and producers ratified a four-year contract Thursday night to end the week-long Broadway stage blackout.

Plans were made to reopen 19 of the 22 shows by Monday night.

The League of New York Theaters, representing the producers, unanimously agreed to accept a peace formula hammered out earlier Thursday under the direction of City Labor Commissioner Harold A. Felix. Members of Actors Equity Assn., by secret ballot, voted 773-54 for acceptance.

David Merrick, one of the producers, said he did not think the settlement would force a raise in ticket prices. "With careful management," Merrick said, "we will be able to hold the price line."

Under the new contract Broadway actors get their first pension fund, the crux of the dispute which shuttered Shubert Alley. The pension terms extend for six years, two years beyond the life of the pact.

OTHER TEAMS

Other terms are:

Minimum pay for actors on the road will be $145 for the next two years and $150 the following two years. The present minimum is $135.

Per diem pay out of town goes to $10 or $12.50 depending on whether rehearsal payments are made. The present minimum is $7.50.

Rehearsal pay will be $82.50 for the first two years of the contract, $92.50 in 1962, and $97.50 starting in 1963. The minimum now is $75.

Minimum New York pay for actors goes from $103.50 to $117.50 a week.

Burton Zorn, the league's lawyer, described the settlement as a fair and reasonable compromise "with no victory on either side."

Helen Hayes, a member of the Equity council, hailed the settlement as "wonderful." One of the most significant aspects of the stage stoppage, she said, was that "the people of New York have been brought to a sharp realization of how important the theater is to the city."

★ ★ ★

Merrick disclosed that a five per cent contribution by ticket brokers would aid producers in holding the ticket price line. He added that the Greater New York Hotel and Restaurant Assn. also made a contribution to the contract cost, but gave no details.

Says Country Needs Stevenson After Paris Summit Collapse

She says the collapse of the summit conference convinced her that the country needs the wisdom, maturity and experience of Adlai E. Stevenson, 60, two-time contender for the presidency.

★ ★ ★

She said Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, front-runner for the presidential nomination, would show courage and unselfishness by accepting the vice-presidential nomination.

Her son, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., has been assisting Kennedy in his campaign.

She said the vice presidency would give Kennedy, 43, "the opportunity to grow and to learn."

Kennedy, Mrs. Roosevelt said, "is young enough yet to look forward to many more years of public service."

Husband-Slayer Pleads Guilty

Area Woman Awaits Sentencing on Charge of Manslaughter

Just hours after she went to trial for first-degree murder in the shooting death of her husband, Mrs. Myra A. Godsey of Clawson pleaded guilty to manslaughter.

She will be sentenced June 27 by Circuit Judge William J. Beer. The housewife is free on a $7,500 bond pending sentencing.

Mrs. Godsey, a 29-year-old mother of five children, has admitted shooting her husband, James, 30, on April 9 because, as she told police, she feared her husband was going to beat her after his return from 12 hours of drinking.

Three witnesses testified yesterday morning as the trial opened before Judge Beer. After the noon recess, Mrs. Godsey's attorney, James Renfrew, said his client desired to enter a plea to the reduced charge.

Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Templin accepted the reduction.

Chevy Output Sets Million-Car Record

DETROIT (AP)—Chevrolet division of General Motors said Thursday it has built one million cars since Jan. 1, a production record for the auto industry.

★ ★ ★

The old mark was set in 1955 when Chevrolet built its millionth car on July 13.

Chevrolet said the one million cars include about 140,000 compact Corvairs.

Forests and croplands combined comprise about 60 per cent of the Saar region, famous for its industries.

Union Bag Executive

NEW YORK (AP) — Union Bag-Camp Paper Corp. has elected Arthur J. Goetz of Monroe, Mich., a director and vice president. He will continue as president of the River Raisin Paper Co., a division of Union-Camp.

House Spending Audit Begins

Shipments of Personal Belongings by Military Also Under Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Professional government auditors have begun scrutinizing the expense accounts of House members accuse of spending taxpayers' funds on whisky, night clubbing and vacation cruises.

* * *

The independent audit was announced at the House Armed Services Committee. Moving to protect taxpayers on another front, voted to crack down on military men who ship pianos, sleds and other personal goods around the world by plane.

The Armed Services group acted after the General Accounting Office (GAO) said a spot check of 21 cases turned up 13 instances in which personal goods was shipped by air at a cost of $155,470 when other transportation would have cost only $23,000.

GAO auditors also are checking into the congressional expense accounts which were aired in a series of copyrighted dispatches by the Knight newspapers.

Most of their dispatches, have dealt with instances in which congressmen allegedly spent taxpayers' money for whisky and entertainment or ran up unreasonable charges for food or lodging while performing official chores.

The fact that the GAO is checking into the matter was revealed by Rep. Omar Burleson (D-Tex), chairman of the committee which performs housekeeping chores for the House. Burleson also said steps are being considered to prevent any repetition.

MAMIE AND YOUNG SWEETIE — Tony Santoro, 21, boy friend of Mamie Van Doren, picks her up at the airport in Hollywood. The 26-year-old actress hints that boyish Tony has asked her to marry him, but he says they aren't engaged. Tony is doing bit parts in movies while waiting to start university classes. Mamie says Tony will join her in Argentina in a couple of weeks.

But Americans So Modest

Men Trying Bikinis

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — American men are climbing into bikini swimsuits in increasing numbers — but they're still too inhibited to show as much flesh as women, according to stylist Mayer Monroe.

"Men are definitely following the lead of women," said Monroe, director of style development for Jantzen, Inc.

"About two years ago we noticed that women were buying more bikinis. At the time men held no brief for them — now we see a new interest among men."

Monroe said most American men still were too inhibited to like the full bikini, preferring a modified bikini that allows maximum tanning but is more modest than those worn on some European beaches.

"U. S. men seem to be the most modest in the world as far as swim trunks go," said Monroe. "The girls are more willing to show off their figures."

State Drug Group Plans for Muskegon in 1961

DETROIT (UPI) — The 78th convention of the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Assn. will be held in Muskegon in June 1961, association President Charles Hahn announced.

Worked 29 Times Out of 30, Judge Says

Calls Solitary for Juveniles Success

MARSHALL (UPI)—Circuit Judge Alfonso Magnotta, who doles out solitary confinement sentences to young lawbreakers rather than expose them to hardened criminals, said today he has "lost" only one of his subjects in more than nine months.

Magnotta has sentenced more than 30 youths to solitary confinement since last September, despite cries from church groups that the punishment is "inhuman."

The youthful offenders are isolated from the outside world. Their diet consists of bread, milk, water and vitamin pills. They are permitted no visitors except ministers. And reading is limited to the Bible or school textbooks.

★ ★ ★

One church group carried the fight to the Michigan Supreme Court, asking the high court to restrain Magnotta from handing out solitary confinement sentences. But the court refused to consider the petition.

Last week, Magnotta extended his isolation treatment to a girl for the first time. He ordered 18-year-old Sally Klepper of Battle Creek to spend five days in "meditation" for violating terms of her probation.

However she is receiving regular jail food instead of bread, water and vitamin pills. She had been placed on probation previously for car theft.

★ ★ ★

Magnotta said the five days in solitary were prescribed to teach the attractive young brunette she must "abide by the rules."

Ironically, the only young lawbreaker the judge admits he "lost" was the first youth he sentenced to solitary confinement.

BLAMES TIMING

"He got out at a bad time," the judge said. "It was in the middle of the school term and he couldn't return to classes. He stole a car and broke into a couple of places."

Babic is now serving 7½ to 15 years in prison.

★ ★ ★

Magnotta believes most youthful offenders have merely graduated a step beyond "their cooning watermelon days" and "I wouldn't send them to prison."

"This gives them a chance to think," he said.

★ ★ ★

Magnotta takes pride in the fact that the teen-age crime rate has dropped considerably in Calhoun County since he began handing out solitary confinement sentences.

"Police officials have indicated publicly and privately that it has had a very, very wonderful effect," the judge said.

"A year ago, the supervisors were considering an addition to our jail because it was overcrowded," he said. "Now the jail is only about half full."

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Question: Which dog makes a better pet, the pedigreed or cross-breed?

Answer: Most of today's pedigreed dogs originated many years ago and for definite purposes.

The Schipperke was bread to guard the boats on the Dutch canals, the Pekingese to be the lap dog of the Emperor's wives, the Dachshund to hunt badgers, etc.

With the advent of the Coast Guard, a noticeable shortage of Emperors' wives and relatively few badgers around, these breeds are obviously chosen today for more practical purposes.

★ ★ ★

The German Shepherd continues to be a fine watch dog, the beagle excells in rabbit-hunting and so on. In essence, if you want a dog for a particular purpose, the pure-bred will be the answer.

★ ★ ★

The cross-breed combines the good and bad traits of his ancestors and what he grows into is largely a matter of luck. The mongerel is as healthy as the pure-breed and vice versa.

(Address your questions to Dr. Moller in care of this paper. He will answer selected inquiries in his column, but cannot reply to them.)

Brunswick Starts Fete in Muskegon

MUSKEGON (AP) — The Brunswick Corp. launched a two-day program today dedicating the firm's new multi-million-dollar automatic bowling pinsetter plant here.

The plant, already operating six months, has boosted employment by the huge bowling and billiards equipment manufacturing firm at Muskegon from about 1,400 persons at this time last year to approximately 2,500. Another 250 workers are expected to be hired within a few weeks.

Heading the 15-member group of Brunswick executives arriving for the dedication were R. F. Bensinger, chairman of the board, and Corporation President B. E. Bensinger.

★ ★ ★

Besides attending the ceremonies, the executive group was scheduled to convene in the first meeting of the corporation board ever held at Muskegon. The official party includes Brunswick executives from Chicago, St. Louis, Mo., and Cincinnati.

Saturn Superbooster Long Test Success

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The Army said the seventh and longest test of the Saturn superbooster was entirely successful.

★ ★ ★

The static, or tied-down, firing Wednesday was for 110 seconds. The booster's eight engines can generate 1½ million pounds thrust in about 150 seconds.

★ ★ ★

The Army has been conducting the series of static tests for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration which takes over control of the Saturn project officially July 1.

★ ★ ★

The Saturn is the United States' greatest hope for placing large vehicles into space.

Speech Writer Breaks With Ike

Voice Is Rocky's but Words Belong to Hughes

NEW YORK (AP)—When Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller delivers a speech as he did Wednesday the voice is his. But the words quite often are those of Emmet J. Hughes, a tall serious student of world affairs.

Hughes used to be President Eisenhower's speech writer. Now he performs the same service for Rockefeller, who says he's available for drafting as a Republican presidential nominee.

The 39-year-old Hughes was generally credited as a principal author of Eisenhower's 1952 "I will go to Korea" speech, which helped put the former general in the White House.

In Wednesdays statement, Rockefeller challenged Vice President Richard M. Nixon, as a candidate for the GOP nomination, to speak out on major issues in advance of the Republican National Convention. The New York governor said the party cannot carry a banner "whose only emblem is a question mark."

Hughes attacked Nixon last year in a book, "America The Vincible," in which he also was critical of the broad lines of foreign policy developed under Eisenhower's leadership.

The book marked Hughes' final break with the administration he helped elect and which he once served. On March 10, he joined the Rockefeller camp as the family's senior advisor on public relations.

Hughes ,with deep voice, high forehead and graying hair, is a native of Newark, N.J., schooled in Princeton and Columbia universities. After he left Columbia in 1942, he served as press attache at the U.S. Embassy in Madrid. He is a Roman Catholic.

In 1946, Hughes went to Rome for the magazines Life and Time, shifting two years later to Berlin and returning the next year to the New York offices. He likes Europe, wouldn't mind returning there to work.

Hughes took a leave of absence from Time-Life for the 1952 Eisenhower campaign, and afterwards served as a $15,000 a year administrative assistant to the President.

As White House speechwriter, Hughes put in a 10-hour day in a quiet office overlooking the White House lawn. Often, special assignments kept him on the job around the clock. For relaxation, he played gin rummy with his pretty wife, Eileen. They have a son and two daughters.

Hughes resigned this post Sept. 23, 1953, to return to Time-Life magazines. There were reports of a rift between Hughes and other Eisenhower advisors. However Hughes performed occasional services for the White House and helped in Eisenhower's 1956 reelection campaign.

But in his 1959 book, Hughes revealed the depth of his differences with the administration. He deplored the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' reluctant to negotiate directly with the Kremlin, saw benefits accruing from the proposed exchange of visits between Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Hughes deplored what he termed excessive reliance on coalition, advocated disarmament, disengagement in Europe and a new approach to the problems created by Communist China.

In the book, Hughes said Nixon had urged that the U.S. lead in establishing "the rule of law in the world to replace the rule of force." Yet the fact is, Hughes wrote, throughout history the "role of law is to make force its servant not its enemy."

How much of Hughes' philosophy has rubbed off on Rockefeller is not yet apparent—but it may become so as the voice of the governor continues to deliver words written by Emmet Hughes.

CHANCELLOR — Dr. John Rutherford Everett, president of Hollins College, Roanoke, Va., is the first chancellor of the municipal college system of the City of New York. His appointment Wednesday ended a three-year search for a man to take the position which was established in 1955. The city system has more than 80,000 undergraduates.

Convair Strike Due to Spread

Next Move Expected at San Diego Plants; Will Idle 20,000

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Union spokesmen say the strike against Convair's far-flung missile facilities will spread Monday to the firm's big airplane and missile-making plants here.

The move would idle 20,000 workers building Atlas intercontinental missiles, F106 interceptors and speedy new Convair 660 and 880 jet transports.

★ ★ ★

The walkout is slated as a one-day affair, called by the 6,000-member Engineers and Architects Assn.

★ ★ ★

Officials of the International Assn. of Machinists Thursday night said it would order IAM workers not to cross the EAA's picket line.

The move came as talks between the firm and the two unions remained deadlocked.

On another front in Southern California's troubled plane-and-missile scene, there was one hopeful note: Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s missiles and space division was expected to make an announcement — possibly a new contract offer—at a meeting in San Francisco today with another IAM union.

Involved are 10,500 employes at Lockheed facilities in Van Nuys, Sunnyvale, Santa Cruz and Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., and at Holloman AFB, N.M., and in Hawaii.

The IAM has authorized a strike at the Douglas aircraft plant in Santa Monica, Calif., next week.

The United Auto Workers has set a June 15 strike deadline at the Douglas plant in Long Beach.

Tibetans Said to Win Key Junction Town

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Tibetan rebels have captured an important road junction town from the Chinese Communists after a 10-day battle, according to reports reaching Katmandu today.

Sources believed reliable said the rebel victory occurred at Shekar Dzong. The town, which is the district headquarters, is 50 miles north of Mt. Everest.

The reports said the Chinese were bringing up reinforcements.

Unicameral Chamber Urged by Socialists

DETROIT (AP) — The Socialist Workers Party in Michigan Thursday proposed replacing the State Legislature with a one-chamber body "based on equal representation."

In a statement, the party said it was opposed to the constitutional convention plan proposed by the League of Women Voters and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The party's candidate for governor, Robert Himmel, said delegates to a constitutional convention should be elected on the basis of population.

BIAS VICTIM — The Rev. R. Edwin King, 23-year-old Boston University theology student, has arranged for his release on bond from the Montgomery, Ala., city jail. He had been confined there since his sentence for trying to eat with a Negro in a Montgomery hotel coffee shop. King and the Negro were fined $200 and sentenced to 10 days. The Rev. King likened himself to the early Christian martyrs.

Further Drop in Steel Seen

Metal Magazine Cites Inventory Cutbacks and Slow Strike Recovery

The national metalworking weekly said Thursday the rate of new orders continues at a low level — at a point which is not enough to justify an operating rate of more than 50 per cent of capacity. This compares with scheduled operations this week of 62.3 per cent and actual output last week of 60.6 per cent.

The small improvement noted in recent weeks has not gained momentum, Iron Age commented.

The magazine laid the blame for the low level of business on two principal factors:

1. Continued cutbacks of inventory levels by major steel users. It estimated consumers have been using steel at the rate of a million tons a month in excess of deliveries.

2. Failure of many of the major steel users, such as oil equipment suppliers, railroads and heavy construction, to really get going after the steel strike. Of these three, only heavy construction shows any hope of a resurgence, Iron Age said.

* * *

The magazine also said the steel industry would be in a desperate situation if it were not for heavy production schedules by the auto industry.

It added, however, that continued high auto production is not enough to sustain a high rate of steel production without support of other major consumers.

In this connection, Iron Age pointed out that the inventory of unsold 1960 models, now estimated at 1,075,000 cars, is the highest in history.

Peyton Place Author Will Divorce 2nd Mate

LACONIA, N. H. (AP) — Grace Metalious, author of the best-selling novel Peyton Place, will file a divorce action against her second husband, her lawyer says.

Atty. Bernerd I. Snierson of Laconia said the suit against Laconia radio disc jockey Thomas J. Martin will be entered in Belknap County superior court here within a few days.

Mrs. Metalious and Martin, "have mutually decided to separate," Snierson said.

They were married in February 1958, three days after Mrs. Metalious was divorced from her first husband George A. Stowe, Mass., high school teacher.

Briggs Is Improving but Still Critical

BENNINGTON, Vt. (AP) — Continued slight improvement was reported today in the condition of Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, 48, former president of the Detroit Tigers, who suffered a cerebral hemorrhage last Saturday.

* * *

A report from Henry Putnam Memorial Hospital said Briggs' name remains on the critical list.

American men die sooner than American women, as an average, resulting in more aged women in the United States than there are aged men.

CONGO CONTRAST — The primitive tendencies and threats of Belgian Congo Negroes are causing great fear among the whites. Wives are being told they will be taken over by the Negroes when the colony achieves independence June 30. Whites also fear for their possessions, such as cars and homes. The contrast between these chiefs who met to elect nine of their number to the council of Leopoldville province illustrates the great difference in advancement among Congo Negroes.

Prof. Howard Becker, Noted Sociologist, Dies

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Prof. Howard Becker, 60, president of the American Sociological Assn. and former chairman of the department of sociology and anthropology at the University of Wisconsin, died here Wednesday.

Rushing 2nd X15 After Explosion

May Be Sent Up in Six Weeks; Pilot Uninjured in Earlier Blast

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A hurry-up program may get the X15 rocket plane on its way into space in six weeks, despite an explosion which damaged one of the sleek planes.

So states the X15's builder North American Aviation, which had earlier feared a setback of several months in the X15 test program.

* * *

The blast damaged one of the three X15s in the ground here Wednesday as test pilot Scott Crossfield tested the big rocket engine expected to take the research craft to altitudes of 100 miles and speeds of perhaps 4,000 m.p.h. The pilot wasn't hurt.

* * *

A North American official said a speeded-up program for placing one of the big, 57,000-pound thrust rockets in a second X15 might have it flying in six weeks. Before the blast in its sister ship it wasn't due for flights until next fall.

* * *

The third X15 is still equipped with a 16,000-pound thrust engine used in all previous X15 flights. The first flight using the big engine had been scheduled for this month.

Female immigrants outnumbered males three to one in 1946 in the United States, reflecting the number of war brides brought home by servicemen.

Rocky Ideas Pleasing to Meany

NEW YORK (UPI)—AFL-CIO President George Meany said Thursday the program presented by New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is just what the country needs to hold its own in the Cold War and meet any possible recession.

Meany said he thought a recession was "highly possible within the next six or eight months."

"I like his program," he said of Rockefeller's attack on Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"Of course it's an internal party matter that I have nothing to do with. But the program he laid out is very constructive."

Meany said he particularly liked "the part about having a complete defense and the fact that he stressed the internal economic picture as being closely connected with defense."

* * *

Meany sailed with his wife and a secretary aboard the liner United States to attend a Geneva meeting of an international confederation of free trade unions committee.

Los Angeles County Population 'Way Up

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles County has a population of 5,967,246, the Census Bureau announces.

This is an increase of 1,835,559 or 44.2 per cent over the 1950 count of 4,151,687.

* * *

Leonard C. Isley, regional field director, said the figures are preliminary. He predicted the final count will show Los Angles County over six million.

Monday VOTE to KEEP Our Good School System!

GLENN H. GRIFFIN

The Pontiac Board of Education has provided these ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- They have improved and expanded the curriculum — increased the emphasis on Science, Math and Languages.
- They have brought outstanding teachers and administrators here, and retained them.
- Building needs have been met — no half-day sessions.
- Extensive provision made for "Special" education.
- They are taking advantage of opportunities offered by the National Defense Education Act.
- They are working in harmony with Business, Industry and Labor.
- Continual program of rehabilitation of older buildings.
- Our graduates are achieving success in college.
- Recognized by state universities and colleges as an excellent school system.
- You, the public, have been kept informed on needs and programs.
- Equal opportunities have been provided for all people and students.

A SPECIAL NOTE:

Mr. Griffin's opponent has critized the Board of Education for having year end balances and says he is opposed to confiscatory taxes. Yet, last week he proposed to the Board that they levy taxes for next year that would cost 1/3 Millon Dollars more — to produce a balance to be used for buildings. Mr. Griffin opposed this plan and voted to reduce the tax rate to meet only next years needs.

Continue This Progress!

Rocky Is Real Eager Beaver; Wife Amazed at His Energy

NEW YORK (UPI)—Millionaire Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller, who has his eye on the White House, has succeeded in everything he's tried so far.

Rockefeller had just succeeded against heavy odds in grabbing the nomination for governor of New York from under the noses of Hall and three other hopefuls. Hall had the off-the-cuff endorsement of President Eisenhower.

Rockefeller went into the gubernatorial battle against Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman as a distinct underdog. The Democrats figured Harriman for a runaway.

But Rockefeller organized his campaign with the same eager efficiency that he applied to his government service under three presidents.

It became apparent as election day neared that the race was neck-and-neck. When it was over, Rockefeller had rolled to a smashing 555,218-vote victory over Harriman and carried all but one of his GOP running mates into office with him.

★ ★ ★

It was Rockefeller's first try for elective office and catapulted him into the nation spotlight. His victory was all the more impressive because it ran against a strong Democratic tide that surged through most of the nation.

As one of the four grandsons of John D. Rockefeller, Nelson inherited tremendous wealth—usually a political liability.

NELSON ROCKEFELLER

But he has more than enough in political assets—personality, an aura of sincerity, ease on the rostrum, rugged good looks and stamina that has left competitors and colleagues panting.

"My husband is a real beaver," his wife Mary, has remarked. "I just don't know where all his energy comes from."

A born crusader, Rockefeller was reared in an environment that offered little to crusade against. But, although a foremost member of the "leisure class," Rockefeller has known little leisure.

★ ★ ★

"I was totally unconscious of being a rich boy," he has said. "When we lived on the estate at Tarrytown, my brother Laurance and I had the shoe shine concession for the house. We got a nickel a shine.

"We also had gardens to take care of and we'd sell vegetables to the family. We also had some rabbits and we sold them to the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research."

★ ★ ★

When it came time for college, Rockefeller chose Dartmouth as more democratic than other Ivy League schools favored by young men of his class. Endowed with intellect of unusual scope, he was graduated from Dartmouth with Phi Beta Kappa honors.

TAUGHT SUNDAY SCHOOL

Casual and unassuming, Rockefeller's usual attire in college consisted of sweat shirts, slacks and tennis shoes. He worked in the school cafeteria when he ran out of money and also taught Sunday School for little girls for four years.

At 51, the blond, six-foot Rockefeller can look back on a long career of governmental service.

His first public job was coordinator of commercial and cultural relations between the American republics in 1940. He later became coordinator of inter-American affairs with broader economic functions.

During World War II he set up the Institute of Inter-American Affairs, the Inter-American Education Fund and other agencies for international technical cooperation. He also served as chairman of the Inter-American Development Corp., which had standing committees in all American republics.

Rockefeller was named assistant secretary of state in 1944 and in that post was instrumental in planning Chapultepec Conference of American Republics in Mexico in 1945.

★ ★ ★

He headed an advisory board to the Point Four program for President Truman, and was a White House advisor to President Eisenhower. In addition, he has headed the study panels financed by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, Inc., which turned out reports on such national problems as defense and education.

Despite his many interests, Rockefeller manages to find time to devote to his children and four grandchildren. He says it "only means budgeting my time a little better."

Army's Draft Call Increases for August

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army Thursday issued a call for 7,000 draftees in August, compared with 6,000 for July and 5,000 for June.

The August call will bring to 2,539,930 the total number of men drafted since conscription was revived during the Korean War.

Benevolence Funds Rise

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Methodist Church has announced that receipts for its general benevolence and administrative funds increased 3.7 per cent this year to $24,545,472.

Bolling's Bat Bops Orioles in Doubleheader, 7-5, 7-4

Detroit Sweeps Series Against Faltering Birds

Victories Move Bengals Into 4th Place Ahead of White Sox

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, having knocked the Baltimore Orioles into dead ducks in four straight, are in fourth place, only four games out of the American League lead.

The Tigers, rolling sevens like a hot carpshooter, clouted Baltimore 7-5 and 7-4 last night.

Detroit meets Washington tonight in the start of a four-game series. Tiger Jim Bunning faces Chuck Stobbs.

Frank Bolling was the Tigers' live wire last night, driving in five runs with two home runs and a double. He blasted a two-run homer in the seventh inning to win the first game. In the second game he smacked a two-run homer in Detroit's five-run fifth inning rally and added a run-producing double in the seventh.

Bolling had been hitting .192 with one homer and 10 runs batted in before the doubleheader.

* * *

Detroit jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the fourth inning of the first game on Charlie Maxwell walked, Al Kaline singled, Steve Bilko singled — he went three for four for the game — and Red Wilson walked to force in a run.

Rocky Colavito then grounded into a double play, but Kaline scored.

Detroit got two more in the fifth. Eddie Yost doubled, Bolling walked, Maxwell forced Bolling and Kaline singled Yost home. Bilko then doubled Maxwell home.

But Baltimore tied it up in the sixth with five runs, highlighted by Ron Hansen's single. The rally chased Foytack and Dave Sisler took the mound.

The Tigers jumped to a quick lead in the second game, getting one run in the third inning. Chico Fernandez singled, went to third on an error and scored on Yost's long fly.

Baltimore went ahead in its half of the third, getting two runs. Hansen and Walt Dropo drove them in with singles.

Detroit went to town in the fifth. Colavito singled, Fernandez tripled and brought him home, Peter Burnside bunted safely, scoring Fernandez, Yost singled but Burnside was thrown out at third. Bolling homered, Maxwell tripled and Kaline doubled for another run.

Baltimore loaded the bases in the sixth on two walks and an error, but Burnside bore down and struck out Gene Woodling and Marve Breeding.

Yost walked, stole second and rode home on Bolling's double for the final Tiger run.

Baltimore tried again in the ninth, scoring two runs on one hit, three walks and a sacrifice fly.

Sisler got credit for the first game victory, running his record to 3-2. The Orioles chased Bob Bruce in the ninth inning of the second game, but Hank Aguirre saved the game. Burnside, relieved after the sixth inning, was the winner.

Bye Bye Byrd Rated Over Pacing Rival

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — The duel between Bye Bye Byrd and Widower Creed for pacing and money winning honors today favored Bye Bye by a margin of 3-2 in races and $5,678 in cash.

* * *

When Bye Bye Byrd defeated Widower Creed by a length in the second leg of Yonkers Raceway's international pacing series Thursday night, he earned $25,000 to boost his all-time earnings to $361,484—a record for pacers. Widower Creed's $12,500 for second sent his bank account to $355,806.

GROUNDED BIRD — Marv Breeding of the Baltimore Orioles slides into second base after being forced in the 6th inning of the opening game against Detroit last night. Fernandez (left) made the unassisted play but his attempt for the double play at first was too late. The Orioles scored five runs to tie the score but the Tigers won the game, 7-5, in the opener.

Start Big Series at New York Tonight

Tribe, Yanks in Hot Streaks

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians, leading the American League by 1½ games now that Baltimore's Baby Birds have laid an egg, roll into Yankee Stadium for the opener of a four-game series tonight in a showdown with the revived New York Yankees.

Cleveland now has won five in a row, sweeping a four-game set at Boston with a 3-2 decision over the last place Red Sox Thursday. Baltimore, blowing a 1½-game lead in 48 hours, dropped a twi-night doubleheader to Detroit, 7-5 and 7-4, as the Tigers swept the four-game series and handed the Orioles their sixth defeat in eight games.

The Yankees, 3½ games behind after winning five of their last six, made it three straight over Chicago with a 5-2 victory that spilled the White Sox to fifth, .002 percentage points behind Detroit.

It was almost exactly a year ago, and with exactly the same situation, that the Indians, leading by 1½, came into New York for a four-game series with the Yankees—who trailed by 3½ after sweeping three from the White Sox. The Injuns lost the first two games, then won a Sunday doubleheader as the Yankees blew their last chance to take charge, finally finishing third. The Indians weren't wised out by the White Sox until September.

* * *

Cleveland built a 6-0 season record against Boston with a sixth-inning home run by George Strickland. It was the first of the year by the Cleveland third baseman, who had been batting .095, and hung the defeat on Bill Monbouquette (5-5). Rookie Wynn Hawkins (4-3) needed two innings of two-hit, shutout relief by Johnny Klippstein for his first victory in three decisions since being struck on the shoulder by a line drive May 5.

Mickey Mantle's two-run homer in the fourth inning, his third in two games and 11th of the year, did it for the Yankees. Rookie Johnny James (2-0), who won it in relief of Ralph Terry, and Bobby Shantz blanked the White Sox on two hits over the last five frames. Frank Baumann (3-3) was the loser, after pitching shutouts in his last two starts.

* * *

The A's junked their slump with six runs on seven consecutive hits with two out in the fifth inning. Danny Kravitz' first AL home run, a three-run, inside-the-park job, was the big blow off loser Pedro Ramos (3-7). Ken Johnson (2-3), a right-handed rookie, was the winner, giving up six hits and striking out 10.

At Oklahoma City

Vossler, Goetz Out Ahead

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The former national open champion Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif., who shot a 39-39—78 and Hillman Robbins of Memphis, the former national amateur champion, with a 39-40—79.

Vossler, a veteran from Midland, Tex., and Goetz, a rookie on the professional circuit from Tulsa, Okla., fired 5-under par 66s over the 6,440-yard, par 71 Twin Hills Country Club course.

The 72-hole, $30,000 tournament ends Sunday.

Hot on the trail of Goetz and Vossler going into today's second round was Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., who carved out a 35-32—67.

Arnold Palmer, the defending champion, taught a gallery of 3,000 something about recovery. He started with a 2-over par 37 on the front nine then closed with five birdie putts for a 31 and a 68 total that tied him with Bob McCallister of Yorba Linda, Calif. Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes Calif., and Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill.

* * *

* * *

Although one third of the field of 138 pros and 10 amateurs matched or bettered par, the course claimed some victims here and there. Chief among them were former national open champion Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif., who shot a 39-39—78 and Hillman Robbins of Memphis, the former national amateur champion, with a 39-40—79.

Pontiac Keglers Won $629 at State Meet

Pontiac bowlers won a total of $629.28 in the Michigan State Bowling Tournament topped by Stroh's 8th place finish in team play with 3255 for $260.

* * *

Glenn Smith's 718 for 55th was the best local showing in singles while Paul Karas-Joe Kane led the way in doubles with 1312 for the 123rd prize. Len Biallas' 1999 was tops in all events for 74th place.

All checks are now available at Motor Inn Recreation.

* * *

Stinson-Smith 71 Tops Pine Lake

Chuck Stinson and Leigh Smith "arrived" Thursday as Pine Lake Country Club's 11th annual Invitational Golf Tournament opened its four-day run.

Stinson, a Pine Lake member and Royal Oak resident, and Smith, a Birmingham resident who registers from Red Run, have been partners for the past three years in the selective drive-alternate shot test.

But not until yesterday did the Stinson-Smith tandem succeed in breaking into the elite championship flight. On their 4th attempt, Stinson and Smith fired 37-34—71, one under par, to capture medal honors in 18-hole qualifying rounds.

Offsetting four bogies with five birdies, Stinson and Smith turned in their finest round as Pine Lake partners to lead the championship flight into match play which got under way today.

They were due for plenty of trouble in their 1st head-to-head battle. Their opponents were last year's champions, Tony and Tommy Skover who were among four teams qualifying with 74s.

Three public links golfers from Pontiac were among the 16 teams managing to crack the championship flight.

Mike Andonian and Joe Shields, a 53-year-old magazine salesman who plays out of Red Run, qualified with 74 as did the city team of long-hitting Dick Robertson and Dick DeWitt.

Robertson and DeWitt had their work cut out for them this morning. They were scheduled to meet one of the strongest tandems in the tourney—Red Run's Perry Byard and Dick Whiting who qualified with 72.

* * *

Andonian, three-time Michigan Publinx champ, and Shields, a nine-handicap player, were slated to face Tom Watts of Pine Lake and Robert Brewster from Cleveland's famous Canterbury Country Club.

* * *

Watts and Brewster earned their championship flight berth the hard way. They were among six teams shooting 76 and had to wage a sudden-death playoff for the one remaining spot.

Oddly enough, they won the playoff on the 1st extra hole with a par five as the other five teams all bogied.

Stinson birdied the 1st hole with a 20-foot putt, the 11th with a 20-footer and the 15th with a 15-footer. Smith birdied No. 9 with a 25-foot putt and No. 12 with a two-footer after Stinson pitched "stiff." They bogied the 2nd, 7th, 8th and 18th holes, the latter a three-putt green.

* * *

Single matches in all flights were set for today and Saturday over Pine Lake's par 36-36—72 course. Semifinals and finals, all 18 holes, will be played Sunday. A record field of 144 teams is entered in the event.

Chuck Stinson, Pine Lake and Leigh Smith, Red Run (37-34—71), vs. Tony Skover, Meadowbrook and Tommy Skover, Meadowbrook (37-37—74); Harry Martin, Birmingham, and Chuck Grandaler, Birmingham (35-37—72), vs. Harry Hamilton, Red Run and Dr. Harry Lalos, Red Run (37-38—75); Howard Nelson, Pine Lake, and Ralph Ellstrom, Dearborn (35-37—72), vs. M. O. Wiley, Red Run, and Don Morlow, Red Run (37-38—75); Frank Knight, Oakland Hills and Neil Dostal, Pine Lake (36-38—74), vs. Jim Hogan, Pine Lake, and Dick Taylor, Pine Lake (37-38—75).

Perry Byard, Red Run, and Dick Whiting, Red Run (35-37—72), vs. Dick Robertson, Pontiac and Dick DeWitt, Pontiac (38-36—74); Bill Petithone, Red Run, and George Linkhiter, Red Run (36-36—72), vs. Carl Collett, Meadowbrook and Harold Richardson, Pine Lake (38-37—75); Dave MacHarg, Dearborn, and John Knittel, Detroit (36-36—72), vs. Jim Smith, Oswego, and Chuck Byrne, Lochmoor (36-37—73); Mike Andonian, Pontiac and Joe Shields, Red Run (37-37—74), vs. Tom Watts, Pine Lake, and Robert Brewster, Cleveland, O. (39-37—76).

Evashevski New Iowa Athletic Head

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Forest Evashevski, who coached the Hawkeye football team to national prominence, Thursday was named University of Iowa athletic director.

The State Board of Regents, in making the announcement, said Evashevski will continue to coach the football team through the 1960 season.

* * *

Evashevski, 42, succeeds Paul Brechler, with whom he had feuded for several years. Brechler resigned in February to become commissioner of the Skyline Conference.

Evashevski's salary as athletic director will be $20,000 a year, the regents said.

* * *

Evashevski's selection as director of athletics highlights an Iowa career that began in 1932 when he was named head football coach after leaving a similar job at Washington State.

That leaves nearly a year to find a new head coach. Meanwhile, Evashevski will continue at his present salary, $20,000 a year, although the way was left open to give him a raise next year if the regents see fit.

"I'm very pleased at the confidence placed in me by the president (Dr. Virgil Hancher) and the board in control of athletics," said Evashevski, who was out on the university course for a round of golf when he learned of his new job.

"I will do everything I can to justify their confidence."

In the choice of jobs at the university Evashevski had his pick. His coaching contract runs to 1963 and he was offered new annual tenure amounting to four years more. But Evashevski had made up his mind to step up.

"This will make my 20th season of football coaching," said the man who has brought Iowa two Big Ten championships and two Rose Bowl titles. "I hadn't intended to go on coaching for a long time."

Feather King Loses $3,951 in Court

CHICAGO (AP) — Featherweight champion Davey Moore Thursday was ordered to pay $3,951 to a former manager in a breach of contract settlements in U.S. District Court.

* * *

Gus Latsis, a wholesale produce dealer who manages amateur fighters, alleged Moore signed a contract Jan. 1, 1957, calling for him to pay 50 per cent of his earnings to his manager.

* * *

Latsis said he advanced the fighter $2,951 and that the contract never was fulfilled and he never got his share of the earnings. Latsis also charged that the fighter had hidden from him the fact that he had signed a contract two months earlier with William Ketcham, 52, of New York, his current manager.

* * *

Judge Joseph Sam Perry ordered Moore to pay $2,951, plus $500 interest and another $500 for breach of contract. The judge termed the contract valid but said it apparently was not worth much since Latsis did not take complete charge of Moore's career.

* * *

The 26-year-old boxer said he would pay the money Sept. 19 after an August fight in Tokyo.

Doctoring Your Golf

DIAGNOSIS: Quitting on the shot.

TREATMENT: Quitting on the shot — that is, not hitting on through the ball to a complete finish — is fatal with both wood and iron. Neither power nor accuracy is possible unless you hit on through.

One way to insure that you don't quit on the shot is to concentrate on keeping the forearms driving on through past the ball. Another is to keep the left hip turning on around to the left. Both points are shown in today's illustration.

If you find that failing to hit on through is one of your faults — and it's a very common fault, believe me—correct it with a session on the practice tee.

For the first five minutes or so, practice swinging without hitting a ball. Then hit some shots, taking two or three practice swings before hitting each ball.

When there is no ball to be hit, it is easy to swing on through as you should. Use this fact to advantage in correcting that score-wrecking, quitting-on-the-shot fault.

DECISION STANDS — Umpire Ken Burkhart's decision that Don Zimmer (17) of the Cubs was out stayed intact as he motions Zimmer to the showers after a strong protest. Manager Lou Boudreau (5) also raced out of the dugout to protest the call at third base. Cubs lost, 11-3.

NCAA Baseball Finals Get Under Way Tonight

OMAHA (AP) — The fans who like to tab a winner in the unusually hectic double elimination tournaments are finding it hard to settle on one in the NCAA college baseball tourney opening tonight.

Many think the eventful champion will be one of three former title winners in the field. These are Southern California, Oklahoma State and Minnesota.

★ ★ ★

Just about as many others seem to think the eventual winner will be either North Carolina or St. John's of New York City. This group points to the 14-game winning streaks the Eastern clubs are bringing into the tourney, and contend that a team that is that hot is apt to stay hot.

★ ★ ★

Southern California has twice been a champion, in 1948 and in 1958, and can become the first school to win the championship three times. Oklahoma State can become the fourth school to win two championships, joining Southern California, California and Texas. The Cowboys also could join Texas as the only team to win two championships in successive years.

★ ★ ★

Oklahoma State's chances go on the line in the only game scheduled tonight, a meeting with Arizona, the team the Cowboys whipped last year for the title. It rates to be pitching for Oklahoma State against hitting for Arizona.

The other two former champs, Minnesota and Southern California, meet the two hot clubs, North Carolina and St. John's, on Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota and North Carolina will open play with Southern Cal and St. John's closing out the program. In between, the two dark horses, Boston College and Colorado State college, will meet.

Slumping Giants Now 2 Out of 1st

By The Associated Press

San Francisco's slumping Giants shove off on what could be a week of worries—seven games in seven days against Milwaukee and Pittsburgh—as they open a four-game series with the Braves tonight.

★ ★ ★

The second-place Giants slid two games behind Pittsburgh in the National League race with a 7-4 loss to Cincinnati Thursday, their sixth defeat in 11 games on the home stand, while the Pirates rapped Chicago's Cubs 11-3.

★ ★ ★

Milwaukee, 4½ games behind in third place, made it seven out of nine by coming from behind for a 6-5 victory at Los Angeles Thursday night in the only other game scheduled.

The Giants, 1-1 against Milwaukee, have won only one of their last four games. Right-hander Sam Jones (7-4), who picked up that lone victory in relief, is Manager Bill Rigney's starting pitcher tonight against southpaw Warren Spahn (4-2).

The Braves won behind Lew Burdette (5-2) and reliever Joey Jay at Los Angeles, after wiping out a 4-1 Dodger lead with five runs in the seventh against Don Drysdale (4-8). The Dodger right-hander, pegged as a probable top winner in the NL, now is the top loser in the majors, dropping his fourth in a row. He's won just one of his last eight decisions.

★ ★ ★

Ed Mathews' single scored the clincher for the Braves in the seventh after Red Schoendienst tagged reliever Ed Roebuck for a three-run double. The Braves had chased Drysdale with four singles and a sacrifice fly by Frank Torre, who was hitting for Burdette, to get the rally rolling.

★ ★ ★

Duke Snider, Wally Moon and Junior Gilliam homered for the Dodgers, who have lost seven of their last 10 at home. Snider's eighth, putting him eighth on the all-time list with 362, and Moon's two-run shot, giving him 16 RBI in six games, were off Burdette. Southpaw rookie Ken MacKenzie gave up Gilliam's No. 4 home run leading off the seventh, but Jay then blanked the Dodgers on one hit the rest of the way.

★ ★ ★

The Reds came from behind on four runs with two out in the seventh. They got three on Jerry Lynch's home run off loser Jack Sanford, then counted the deciding run when reliever Billy O'Dell walked Willie Jones with the bases loaded. Reliever Billy Loes then gave up solo homers by Vada Pinson and Whitey Lockman in the eighth and ninth. It was Sanford's second loss, both to Cincinnati, in eight decisions.

Lefty Bill Henry saved it for Joe Nuxhall (1-2) by fanning pinch-hitter Willey McCovey and getting Willie Kirkland on a fly with the bases loaded in the eighth.

Don Hoak drove in three runs as the Pirates beat Glen Hobbie (5-7) for the third time. Hoak's two-run single made it 5-1 in the fifth. Bob Friend (7-3) won it with two innings of hitless relief by Fred Green after Ernie Banks hit a two-run homer in the sixth. It was Banks' 14th, tying Ken Boyer of St. Louis for the NL lead, and lifted the Cub shortstop into the RBI lead with 44.

Foss Called to Tell About Flowers Case

DALLAS (AP) — Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League will answer questions before Federal Court reporter Tom Irby regarding the dispute between the AFL and National Football League over the services of Charlie Flowers, Mississippi fullback.

Foss was served a subpoena and was supposed to appear for the deposition Thursday but he obtained a postponement because he had a speaking engagement in New York.

"They want me to tell them all I know about the Flowers case," said Foss. "I can't reveal at this time any evidence I may have but I believe in what I'm doing."

Flowers was signed by the New York Giants of the NFL and the Los Angeles Chargers of the AFL and a suit was filed by the Giants in a Mississippi federal court.

Shutout Hurling, 13-Run Inning Contrast in Softball Play

The pitchers held the spotlight in two American League games but the hitters dominated two other city softball contests here last night.

Elmo Burgess fired a three-hit shutout and banged a single and double as the Pontiac Police beat Dave's Beef Burger, 8-0. Stadium Inn edged Smith Silo 3-2 in the other AL affair.

Stadium put together two of its five hits with a walk, two hit batters, a steal and wild pitch for its runs in the second. Silo got two back in the 4th but missed golden opportunities to go ahead in the final two frames. Roger Reynolds bested R. D. Jacobs with Leo Cooke of the losers slamming two hits.

★ ★ ★

Langdon's Boat Livery got the first run but Phillips Sporting Goods came roaring back to romp 12-2 in a National loop tilt. Dick Goyette and Dick Elliot each got two singles backing up the four-hit chucking of Ralph Long.

In an International League breeze, Griff's Grill buried the Northland Rockets, 22-1. A 13-run third resulted in the game being halted after four innings. Griff's piled up 16 hits, including seven singles by the Holler boys — Marv and Fritz, Dexter Jarent gave up one hit.

Miss Jamieson Early Round Robin Leader

ELMSFORD, N.Y. (AP) — The second and third rounds of the eighth annual women's round robin golf tournament will be played at the Knollwood Country Club today, and there is no guarantee the low scorers will be in the lead.

They weren't Thursday in this five-round event in which each of the 16 pro stars meets every other entrant at match play.

Betty Jamieson of San Antonio, Tex., shot a two over par 74 in the first round. Marilyn Smith of Juniper, Fla., and Louise Suggs of Cincinnati had 75s. Yet Miss Jameson led the field with plus 12 points.

Miss Smith and Miss Suggs each had plus 11, as did Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., although Miss Faulk had a medal 75.

★ ★ ★

It all depends on the luck of the draw, Miss Jamieson's playing companions in the first round were off their game. Jackie Pung of Daly City, Calif., had a 77, as did Joann Prentice of Birmingham, Ala. Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., carded an 80.

The scores:

Betty Jameson, plus 12	40-34—74
Mary Lena Faulk, plus 11	39-36—75
Marilyn Smith, plus 11	36-39—75
Louise Suggs, plus 11	38-33—71

U.S. Track Coach Says: Olympic Team Stronger Than in 1956

DES MOINES (NEA)—Jim Kelly doesn't knock winning.

But why be hoggish about it.

Everybody gets hot and bothered about the Olympic Games, and whether Russia is going to show up the United States. Not Kelly.

"It's not a good thing for the Games," says the coach of the 1956 American Olympic contingent to Melbourne, "to have us dominate the Games any more than we already have."

This was by way of leading into a discussion of American prospects, as they shape up this early in the track season, for the Rome extravaganza.

Kelly, who'd ineligible to repeat as coach this time and deferred to Larry Snyder of Ohio State, stays right on top of the situation as the track tutor at Minnesota, a job he's held for 24 years.

"We'll have a better team than we had in Australia," he gauges, "but we'll have a hard time winning as much."

Shotput—"We were 1-2-4 in Melbourne. We should be better. O'Brien won last time. He'll find it tough against Nieder, Long or Davis."

Pole Vault—"1-2-4 in '56. We'll be stronger, led by Don Bragg. J. D. Martin and Bob Gutowski are close."

Discus—"1-2-3 in Australia, but we'll be stronger, with Al Oerter trying for a second gold medal. This boy Cochrane of Missouri is coming along. There's Rink Babka of Southern California. Don't count out my old pupil, Fortune Gordien."

Broad Jump—"1-2 Down Under. We'll be just as good, with Gregg Bell and this boy from Cornell, Bo Roberson."

★ ★ ★

Hammer—"1-4 last time with Harold Connolly winning. We have a chance. Depends on what kind of shape he reaches."

Hop-step-jump—"Fourth in Melbourne. Don't know about our prospects because we don't specialize enough in it."

High jump—"Dumas won in '56, but we got to be better, with John Thomas jumping."

Springs—"We were 1-2-4 in the 100 and 1-2-3 in the 200 and should be about the same, Ray Norton is the best sprinter in the world."

High hurdles—"1-2-3 in Melbourne, but we may not do as well. A German boy now holds the world record. Hayes Jones and Lee Calhoun are just as good, though, I think."

400-meters — "Charley Jenkins finished first, and I understand he's getting in good shape again. We could do better."

800-meters—"May be in trouble. Tom Courtney and Arnie Sowell, who were 1-4, are through."

1500-meters—"Might have a boy up there after a fourth place in Melbourne. Dyrol Burleson or Don Bowden can run with the best."

Distance runs—"We won't win the 5,000 meters or the steeplechase, in which we were shut out, but we may get some points."

Decathlon—"We're in trouble if Rafer Johnson isn't in shape. There's no more Milt Campbell, and that Russian, Kuznetsov, is tough."

Summation—"We won 11 gold medals in track and field in 1948, 14 in 1952 and 15 in 1956. We're a cinch to win at least 12 of the 24 events in Rome, and we may do considerably better.

"But no one should expect us to."

Spray Defends National Title

The field includes five of the eight quarter-finalists of the 1959 tournament plus 12 former or current state champions.

Spray, 19-year-old University of Iowa sophomore, is exempt from the 36-hole qualifying rounds which will consume the first two days of the five-day meet.

Two boys who lost to Spray last year are back for another try — Don Stickney, Columbus, Ohio lost 2 and 1 to Spray in the semifinals and Chuck Newton, Ann Arbor, Mich., who lost to Spray, 1-up in 19 holes in the quarter-finals.

Two other 1959 quarter-finalists on hand are Tom Ahern of Detroit and Bill Cochran of St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

Earl Buchholz, American Davis Cup player from St. Louis, Jack Douglas, another Marine from Santa Monica, Calif., and Chuck McKinley of St. Louis, also advanced to the quarter-final round.

Aussie Tennis Great Laver Surprise Loser

BECKENHAM, England (AP)—John Cranston, a 23-year-old Marine from San Marino, Calif., upset Rod Laver, the Australian Davis Cup player, 6-2, 2-6, 8-6, and gained the quarter-finals of the Kent Tennis Championships.

★

The Californian, ranked 28th in his own country, broke through Laver's service in the 14th game of the final and won a match played in cold and blustery weather.

★ ★ ★

won the PGA Championship in 1922, 1923 and 1933, the USGA Open in 1922 and 1923, the Masters in 1935 and the PGA Seniors' Championship in 1954 and 1958.

In addition, Signor Gene took the British Open in 1932.

Colleges May Form New Loop

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Officials of several schools acknowledged Thursday they will attend a meeting in San Francisco next week to discuss a possible new athletic conference.

The meeting on June 16-17 will be the third attempt to form a new circuit.

There have been reports for several months that the Skyline was either about to break up or undergo a drastic shakeup. The 8-school Skyline held meetings recently in Ft. Collins, Colo., with representatives of Arizona and Arizona State sitting in. Apparently attempts to smooth things out in the Skyline and expand to a 10-member loop did not jell.

Breakup of the Skyline would leave Utah State, Wyoming, Denver, Montana and Colorado State University of the old alignment. Wyoming has been reported making overtures to the Big Eight, and Utah State has been mentioned as a possible member of a new group which would include Idaho, Montana, Montana State, Idaho State and teams from the Dakotas.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac Municipal's 1960 calendar of golf events lists Saturday, June 18, as the first date of a six-tournament schedule. The occasion is the annual Men's Best Ball test.

The ever-popular Mixed Two-Ball Foursome tourney is slated Saturday, July 9. Following the Scotch Foursome event, the city course plays host to the Women's Medal Play championship which last year went to Mrs. Edith Wright.

Saturday, July 30, is reserved for the "working stiff" as union golfers invade the links for the UAW Regional tournament. After that, it's strictly city competition the rest of the way.

The Pontiac area's masculine swingers hold the spotlight for the balance of the summer. Eighteen-hole qualifying rounds for the men's Medal Play tourney are set for Saturday, Aug. 6.

Then, on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 13-14, all the qualifiers plus defending champion Mike Andonian and other exempt players will battle it out over a 36-hole route for the city crown.

Paul Bada and Ed Wasik are everybody's targets in the city Best Ball event. The Bada-Wasik team has won the title for the past two years.

★ ★ ★

Cresse Barner, manager of the Pontiac Municipal layout, announces that pairings and tee-off times for the season-opening Best Ball test will be posted only for those golfers who register before 6 p.m. on Thursday, June 16.

★ ★ ★

Come on, gentlemen, let's enter and have a big field. The more the merrier!

WHICH ONE, SAM?

★ ★ ★

The Slammer has Buick Open officials in a tizzy concerning his entry in the July 1-4 tournament at Warwick Hills Country Club near Grand Blanc.

Although Snead has filed no official entry, he reportedly made a verbal promise to play in the $52,000 Buick event. At the same time, British Open officials say that Snead will play in their tourney at St. Andrews and offer his application as proof.

Since the British Open is scheduled July 4 through 9, it is impossible for Snead to compete in both events. He has to choose one or the other.

Which one will it be, Sam?

NO PALMER OR ROSBURG

While Snead is playing catch with the British and Buick tests, Arnold Palmer and Bob Rosburg have made their positions quite clear. Both Palmer and Rosburg are definitely going to enter the British Open and will be the only active "name" pros missing at Warwick—not counting Snead.

SHORT PUTTS

Sylvan Glen is host to the Michigan Amputee golf tourney June 25 . . . The State Publinx Golf Assn. has another handicap tournament on the docket Sunday at Bob-O-Link and a Pro-Am Metro will be played Monday at Lakelands.

Nieder Aims for 68 Foot Shot

DES MOINES (NEA)—"Maybe," said Bill Nieder, "it's just gotten to the point where Parry O'Brien can't get in the papers any more by throwing."

He went out that afternoon in the Drake Relays and whipped O'Brien by more than 10 inches with a torso-twisting shotput of 63 feet, 11½ inches. Parry said, "Nice going, Bill."

To which Bill answered curtly, "Thank you."

There went the most glorious grudge of the current track and field season that passports to Rome and the Olympic Games.

The burning question had been: Will O'Brien talk to Nieder; will Nieder answer OBrien

"O'Brien," he shrugged, "has had it. He's pretty much reached his limit." That limit is the current world standard of 63-4, while Nieder has up for acceptance 65-7.

"Like O'Brien says," he continued, "let the shotput do the talking. I didn't have to be egged on at first. He said I had atrocious form and was a cow pasture performer and that I only got my good throws in practice.

"You know, he's the only competitor I haven't ever talked to. He wants it that way, so I ignore him and don't try."

The tinge of bitterness in Nieder doesn't mar his exultation at the tremendous interest generated in the shotput this season by the four-way battle for world supremacy among himself, O'Brien and the kid Californians, Dave Davis and Dallas Long.

How far can they go, 70 feet maybe?

"Prior to this season," he admitted, "I said no, that 67 was the limit, but I've changed my thinking. The shotputter of the future will be 6-5 or 6-6 and weigh 270 or more. He'll be stronger and bigger than us, just as well coordinated and with burning desire."

"I've thrown 62-7 from a standing put. Track experts estimate you ought to be able to add six feet using the whole ring. I expect to throw 67 feet before the end of this season."

The burly infantry lieutenant, who must be reckoned number one, is the smallest of the four top contenders, at a puny 6-3 and 240 pounds. Long weighs 265, Davis 260, O'Brien 250.

★ ★ ★

Nieder didn't really want to be a shotputter. As a high school kid he started out to be a baseball pitcher, but suffered a compound fracture of the right wrist.

"I fell out of a swing," he explained, "trying to see how far we could jump and land in a cement courtyard."

★ ★ ★

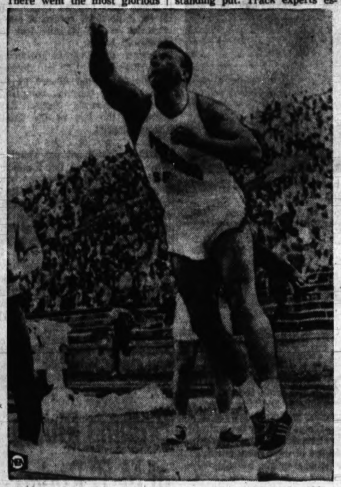
Nieder started his sophomore year touted as the greatest linebacking prospect in KU history. After 12 minutes of the opener against Texas Christian, after the whistle had blown, he was hit laterally, and his career ended with severed cruciate ligaments in the medial collateral (those are Nieder's words) of the right knee.

He spent 10 weeks in a body cast, four weeks in a leg cast, two weeks on crutches. His weight dropped from 218 to 170. And in the spring he was once again an athlete, throwing the shot.

★ ★ ★

He runs with a limp, walks without a limp and has had his bad knee drained of fluid 26 times.

There's nothing wrong with Bill Nieder's arm, though. Ask Parry O'Brien.



Two-Day Show at South Lyon

One of the season's early horse shows takes place Saturday and Sunday, at South Lyon, when the South Lyon Jaycees hold their 2nd annual exhibition. The show will be held at the Woods and Waters Farm on Pontiac Trail at Nine-Mile Rd. Show will operate from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

★ ★ ★ ★

The exhibition is a specialty affair, with Appaloosas, Quarter-Horses and Morgans, along with ponies to be shown. Judging will be on halter and performance.

Several exhibitions have been arranged of "cutting" horses in action, working with cattle. The exhibitions will be featured both days, says general chairman Everett Williams.

There are 84 classes, and post entries will be received.

Trophies and cash awards go to winners.

Refreshments will be available on the grounds, and pony rides for children, along with entertainment by Milky the clown, will be featured each day.

U. of D. Picks Up Star Gridder and Better Card

From Our Wire Services

DETROIT — University of Detroit is strongly pushing its bid into big time football.

The Titans announced their schedule for the next two years and also made it known that all-state quarterback Ron Bishop from Royal Oak Shrine High School plans to enroll at U. of D. this Fall.

Coach Jim Miller made the announcements. He also announced that 209 pound Hamtramck football star Mitch Siskowski will also enter U. of D.

Gross had a great passing record in prep ranks and also on the Titan freshman team last fall. He will be a sophomore in September.

Bishop, who is 5-11 and weighs 180 pounds completed 74 of 143 passes for 1,330 yards and 10 touchdowns last season.

He easily took all-state honors. Shrine lost in the Detroit Soup Bowl game last season.

Miller also listed 9-game schedules for 1960 and 1961 to include such teams as Michigan State, Navy, Army, Iowa State, Cincinnati, Villanova, Boston College, Marquette and Arizona State.

Iowa State will open the home season this year and Michigan State will close the season at East Lansing.

U. of D. and Michigan State at one time were old rivals. There have been 13 games in the series with each team winning six and one ending in a tie.

In 1961, the Middies of Annapolis will visit Detroit Oct. 21st and two weeks later with Dayton sandwiched in between, the Titans will travel to West Point to meet Army.

The Cadets have met Detroit four times in the past and have won all four.

Mexican Has System for Winning at Track

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — If winning more than a quarter of a million dollars on horse races in two years is due to luck, then Ziv Mayer is lucky. But he says he isn't.

"In my opinion," he said, "I'm not lucky because if my system worked eight times it should have worked 80 times."

★ ★ ★

The eight times returned him approximately $239,000 from Agua Caliente track's five-ten pool. He picked the most winners in the fifth through tenth races on three occasions and enough on five other occasions to share in the consolation prize.

★ ★ ★

Mayer, 68, a refugee from Romania, arrived in Mexico six years ago without a penny. He was in the export-import business in Bucharest when World War II began.

★ ★ ★

He, his wife and two sons got out of Romania. Leaving his family in the Israeli section of Jerusalem, he came to Tijuana via New York and Los Angeles. He now is a Mexican citizen and operates a restaurant.

Mayer has also won the Mexican National Lottery's top prize once, and second money five times.

★ ★ ★

However, in betting on the horses he considers many factors, including condition, records and competition.

★ ★ ★

"But you never know," he added, "whether the jockey slept well the night before, or is the horse feeling well that day? That is where the luck comes in."

Mayer's biggest day at Caliente was May 29 when an $80 multiple five-ten ticket paid him $98,063. He picked all six winners for first money of $84,767, and had eight combinations of five winners for $13,296 in consolation money.

His other two big winners were $60,824 on a $96 ticket March 8, 1959, and $56,190 on a $48 ticket Sept. 5, 1959.

Arcaro Seeks Belmont Win Record Saturday

NEW YORK (AP)—Five weeks and two defeats later, Eddie Arcaro gets his chance Saturday to put Kentucky Derby winner Venetian Way back on the victory trail in the 92nd running of the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes.

Eddie also has an opportunity to set a personal record of seven victories in the 1½ mile test for 3-year-old horses.

Trainer Vic Sovinski announced late Thursday that he had decided on the 44-year-old Arcaro as the rider of the chestnut colt from Isaac Blumberg's Sunny Blue Farm in the last of the Triple Crown classics.

Arcaro almost got the Venetian Way assignment in the Kentucky Derby. But on the eve of the May 7 race, Sovinski decided to stick with out-spoken Bill Hartack. Since winning the Derby by 3½ lengths, Venetian has finished fifth in the Preakness and fourth in the Jersey Derby.

Sovinski was far from pleased with Hartack's ride in the Preakness and switched to Steve Brooks in the Jersey Derby at Garden State Park. The trainer wasn't happy over Brooks' ride either.

If Arcaro is successful in the Belmont, he'll break a deadlock with Jimmy McLaughlin for the number of Belmont victories. McLaughlin was astride six Belmont winners prior to the turn of the century.

Eddie has ridden in every Belmont Stakes since 1937 except in 1943, when he was under suspension. His last winner was with Nashua in 1955. Before that he won with One Count (1952), Citation (1948), Pavot (1945), Shut Out (1942) and Whirlaway (1941).

Arcaro, originally, was slated to ride the King Ranch's Disperse. But he asked to be taken off so he could negotiate for Tooth and Nail after the Harry F. Guggenheim colt easily beat Disperse last Monday. He was unsuccessful. By that time trainer Maxie Hirsch had obtained Sammy Boulmetis for Disperse.

★ ★ ★

The presence of Arcaro on his back is almost certain to shorten the odds on Venetian Way. But Bally Ache, the Turfland Syndicate's $1,250,000 purchase after winning the Preakness, remained the firm 8-5 choice as the names of the horses were dropped into the entry box this morning. Bally Ache also won the Jersey Derby, edging C. V. Whitney's Tompion in a ding dong duel.

Eight horses are expected to be entered at the cost of $250 each. It'll take another $1,000 to get into the starting lineup Saturday.

If eight run, the purse will be a record $152,150. Tompion and Tooth and Nail, supplementary nominees at $5,000 each, could pick up a net of $92,647, the others $97,597. All carry 126 pounds.

Rounding out the probable field are the Green Dunes Farm's Celtic Ash, third in the Jersey Derby, Howard Keck's Nagea and the Merrick Stable's John William, winner of the recent Withers Mile.

Post time is approximately 3:48 p.m. EST with (CBS) television at 3:30 and radio at 3:45.

Brahma Riding at M-59 Rodeo

Five Bronco - Busting Events Each Sunday at Tip Top Ranch

Three evil-tempered Brahma bulls, imported from the Dakotas, will be featured in the weekly rodeo at Tip Top Ranch on M59 in East Highland.

Brahma bull riding is one of the most hazardous events of a rodeo. The rider's only equipment is a braided loose-rope around the belly of the bull and he attempts to stay on the bull for at least eight seconds.

★ ★ ★

There are five events listed each Sunday at the Rodeo, including bare back bronco busting, calf roping, saddle bronco riding, bull dogging wild cattle and the Brahma bull event.

★ ★ ★

Winner in the events last Sunday included Slim Pimberly in the bare back bronco, Horace Kenyen on the saddle bronc, J. R. Williams in the bull-dogging event with a time of :7.5 John Banner in the roping event and Don Adams on the Brahma Bull.

★ ★ ★

Business Nine Holds 'B' Lead

PBI and Lytell Post Wins; Class A Forfeit to Jets

Pontiac Business Institute remained one-half games ahead of Lytell-Colegrove in the Class B Baseball race as both teams won Thursday.

The Jets were awarded an "A" forfeit when Oxford could field only eight players for a scheduled game.

PBI led all the way but had to keep scoring to down Griff's Grill, 12-8. A five-run 7th featuring a single by reserve Bruce Johnson and Al Levy's double finally put the decision on ice.

Tom Chapdelaine walloped a one-out home run with one on in the last of the 7th but winner Jerry Pointer settled down to retire the last two batters. He had allowed only three other hits but was in constant trouble due to wildness and errors.

Lytell tallied six times on one hit in its first offensive chance and coasted along to a 12-1 battering of Don Nicholie. Dave Jongs gave up five hits for the win. Mike Giannini and Dave Parker slammed two hits apiece for Lytell.

On Racial Restrictions

California Opposes PGA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Professional Golfers' Assn.'s racial restrictions cannot be observed on California public golf courses, State Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk ruled Thursday.

Mosk said PGA tournaments on public courses must be open to everybody, regardless of race.

His opinion was contained in a letter to the League of California Cities. It was prepared by Franklin H. Williams, assistant attorney general for civil rights.

Mosk noted the racial membership restrictions was in the PGA constitution. Both the federal 14th Amendment and the state constitution and other laws and public policies prohibit the state from discriminating against its citizens because of their race, creed, color or national origin, he said.

★ ★ ★

Because of this, the PGA must not receive any special privilege on public golf courses, the opinion said.

It declares restrictions limiting jobs at public courses to PGA members are illegal. And, public courses are forbidden to extend free playing privileges to PGA members.

Temple Star Signs Two Professional Contracts

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bill Kennedy, Temple University basketball and baseball star, Thursday signed a one-year contract with the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Assn.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy on Tuesday signed a contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball organization. He leaves Friday for Kingsport, Tenn., where he will play with the Pirates' Appalachian League farm club.

Reunion for Ex-'M' Stars

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — More than 200 former University of Michigan athletes will gather for the 48th annual "M" day reunion this Saturday.

The nostalgic event will include a golf tournament, luncheon, annual business meeting of the varsity "M" club and a presentation to a current Wolverine athlete of the fifth annual John E. Maulbetsch scholarship award worth $400.

Houghton Lake's Pike Derby Gets Under Way Today

HOUGHTON LAKE — A pike derby offering prizes that include a dozen one-week vacations will usher in the summer season in this resort community this weekend.

The fishing event is sponsored by the Houghton Lake Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of the Michigan - Ontario Muskie Club and is open for pike, walleye and blue gills caught on Houghton Lake between today and Sunday noon.

Nine weigh-in stations in convenient locations around the lake will make registration of catches easier for fishermen.

Ball Fans May Travel by Boat to Giants' Park

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's Candlestick Park may become the only baseball stadium in the country where fans can arrive in a stern-wheeled riverboat.

The city recreation and park commission today approved the plan of Leo Lomski, Menlo Park real estate developer, to build a 370-foot pier less than two blocks from the main entrance at Candlestick to dock a 228-passenger ship from Redwood City.

The voyage of two and a half hours will cost $3 roundtrip from Redwood City. The 100 - ton craft, decorated like an authentic wood burner and staffed by frill-shirted bartenders, will depart from the Redwood City marina. Lemski said if the venture, which must be approved by the board of supervisors, is successful, his company may extend its service to other bay cities.

Miss Hantze, 18, in 1st Wightman Match

LONDON (AP) — In using 18-year-old Karen Hantze of San Diego, Calif., in the opening singles match of the Wightman Cup tennis matches today, Capt. Janet Hopps of the U. S. team is turning back the clock 36 years.

★

Back in 1924 another 18-year-old American — Helen Wills — was introduced to Wightman Cup competition, and there ensued a long period of U. S. supremacy in the matches.

British tennis experts, although confidently predicting a victory for their team, nevertheless are eyeing Miss Hantze as a possible dark horse who might bring about an upset.

★ ★ ★

The weather was a big worry on the eve of the matches. It has been raining for days around Wimbledon, and the forecast is for more rain. If the Cup matches have to be postponed they will be played next week.

Sugar Ray 8-5 Choice in Two-State Title Fight

BOSTON (AP) — Challenger Sugar Ray Robinson rules an 8-to-5 favorite to keep his unbeaten rematch record intact against champion Paul Pender Friday night in a two-state middleweight title fight.

The entire gate receipts had been tied up by court orders hours before the noon weigh-in at the Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

★ ★ ★

Though a late influx of money is expected to back the one-time fireman from suburban Brookline, Robinson is the people's choice to win back the middle crown in the 15-rounder at Boston Garden.

Television and radio (NBC, 9 p.m., EST) will carry the scrap nationally with the Boston-Providence area blacked out on TV.

★ ★ ★

Robinson, stripped of his crown by the National Boxing Assn. and suspended in New York which nevertheless recognizes the title bout, is out to win the middle crown for the sixth time in his 22nd championship encounter. As the challenger he gets $105,000 of the $150,000 TV money.

★ ★ ★

The gate receipts, which may reach $100,000 off promoter Sam Silverman's estimate of an 11,000 attendance, were tied up late Thursday by restraining orders issued by Judge Charles Bolster in Superior Court.

Each fighter is supposed to receive 30 per cent of the gate with the balance going to Silverman.

The orders followed two rapid-fire suits. One by a Baltimore boxing club asked a $9,000 claim from Robinson for failing to appear in a rescheduled bout there May 16 which led to Ray's suspension in Maryland and New York.

★ ★ ★

Local promoter Nuno Cam brought an injunction against Silverman and the Boston Garden Arena Corp., claiming Silverman is running a rematch in violation of an oral partnership agreement.

Silverman's lawyer, John Cronin, called the Cam suit "an abuse of legal process." Added Silverman: "I haven't seen the guy in six months so how am I supposed to be in business with him?"

Robinson, who has trained harder for this fight than the first one, has called the Jan. 22 decision "a fiasco." His advisors, George Gainford, who has accused Pender's manager Johnny Buckley of having the commission "in his pocket," has asked for the scoring to be announced at the end of each round and when he was told it is illegal in the state then requested the votes to be sealed after each round to opened at the finish.

★ ★ ★

Gainford said he wired Sen. Estes Kefauver, chairman of a Senate committee investigating boxing, to watch the fight for any possible miscarriage of justice.

Buckley says all the Robinson talk conceals the fact Robinson is over the hill which Pender will prove by knocking out the Sugar Man.

Pender, however, figures to fight as he did before, moving cautiously, staying out of Robinson's way in the early stages to let Ray tire himself. Retired three times because of brittle hands, Pender takes a 36-5-2 record into the bout.

★ ★ ★

Robinson, who first won the middleweight crown from Jake LaMotta, Feb. 14, 1951, probably will go for a quick knockout to erase any doubts. His record is 143-7-2 with one no decision encounter.

The 10-point must system prevails in the scoring with the winner of a round getting 10 points and the loser nine or less. Even rounds are scored 10-10.

Birds' Tasby Traded for Bosox Veteran

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles today announced an even trade of outfielder Willie Tasby for Boston's veteran Gene Stephens.

Stealing a Challenge to 'Robin Hood'

VERNON, Calif. (AP)—At first, said police, warehouseman Joseph Gruber helped himself to his employers' wares "to help friends."

Then he took home a truckload of toys, and gave them away to children in his neighborhood, detectives said.

"Soon stealing became a challenge with him," said officers. They said Gruber, a 27-year-old bachelor, used a company truck to take items home from the discount house where he worked.

Among the items, said police, were these:

Television sets, radios, tape recorders, power tools, shotguns, rifles, silverware, household appliances, cameras, typewriters, luggage, air conditioners, a dinette set, a complete hi-fi set, a mahjong set and a portable cement mixer.

"When we arrested him Wednesday," said Det. Sgt. Jim Morrison, "he told us he was planning the high point of his career—walking out with a wall refrigerator.

"He would probably have given that away, too, because he has a brand-new refrigerator in his kitchen—one he paid for."

★ ★ ★

Morrison said the $350-a-month warehouseman stole goods totalling a value of $50,000. He gave most of them away. Police undercover men traced the thefts to Gruber, who, they said, admitted the Robin Hood escapade.

He was booked on a suspicion of grand theft.

★ ★ ★

Officers spent much of Thursday recovering loot from among Gruber's neighbors. They didn't try to recover the toys, however.

"We just didn't have the heart to take those back," said Morrison.

Lucky to Forget Those Old Specs

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Tucson service station operator Julius Smith says he seldom forgets anything but recently left his glasses in the office ater locking up for the night.

★ ★ ★

For Smith it was a lucky break. He returned to the station to get his glasses, found the office filed with smoke and called the fire department.

★ ★ ★

Firemen snuffed out the blaze which started when a cigarette fell from an ash tray and landed on a grease rag.

Power Needs Force Tunnel

Peru Blasting Through Andes to Get at Water in High Lake

WASHINGTON — Peru is blasting a tunnel through the North Central Andes to tap the waters of a lofty lake.

The 6½-mile tube under the backbone of the Andes will link a chain of dams, canals, and smaller tunnels winding down the mountains from Lake Marcapomacocha to the sea.

The system will generate 240,000 kilowatts of power and reclaim desertland surrounding Lima, the capital. It also will provide the growing city with abundant water for years to come.

Lake Marcapomacocha, actually three connected bodies of water, lies nearly 15,000 feet above sea level on the eastern side of the Andes, the National Geographic Society says. It now drains eastward into the lushly vegetated Amazon watershed.

REVERSE FLOW

Engineers long have dreamed of reversing the flow of the lake to provide badly needed water for Lima and the barren Peruvian coast. As early as 1936, a power company suggested building a tunnel through the mountains to connect Marcapomacocha with the westward-flowing Canchis River.

The proposal was rejected as impossible. The idea was revived when postwar growth in population and industry greatly increased the demand for water and power in Lima.

Late in 1957, the Lima Light and Power Company began the prodigious job of drilling the Trans-Andean Tunnel, as it is called. It is scheduled for completion in 1961.

The tube must be dynamited out foot by foot through solid rock. Icy water constantly seeps in, sometimes pouring down at the rate of 184 gallons a second. The danger of rock slides is ever present. Temperatures sometimes drop to 30 degrees below zero.

A mother is torn between the fear that some designing young woman will carry off her son, and that no designing young man will do the same for her daughter . . . There's a new cigaret that filters the tobacco smoke through a long piece of wood. It's called a pipe. —Earl Wilson.

HARD-HITTING ADVICE — Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, left, chairman of next month's Democratic National Convention, gets some advice on gavel smashing from Speaker Sam Rayburn, chairman of the last three, a wicked wielder himself. The preferred method, Collins was told, is not on a delegate's head. Rayburn holds a copy of the House of Representatives rules which will be used at the convention.

Average age of a scrapped motor vehicle is now about 14 years. In 1925 the lifetime of the average car was about 6.5 years.

About 60 per cent of the wall-paper hung in private homes is done by amateurs, the industry estimates.

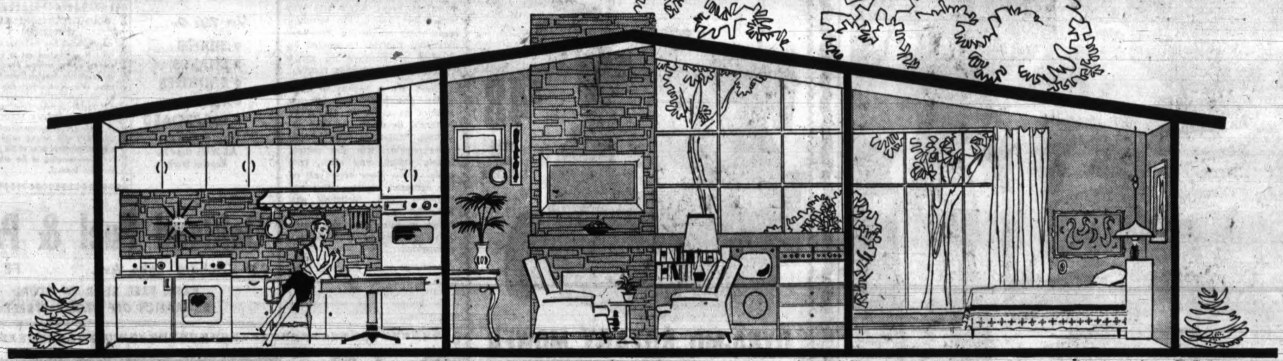
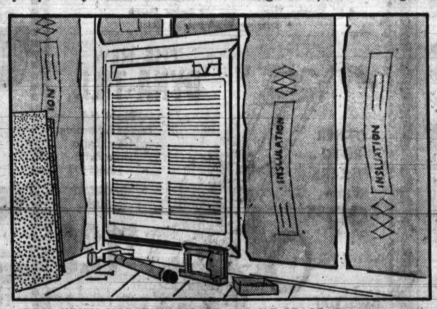
why there's no heat like ELECTRIC HEAT

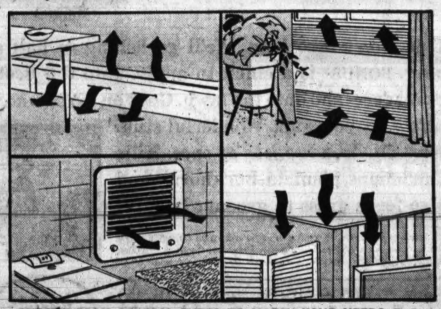


EVERY ROOM HAS ITS OWN THERMOSTAT TO HOLD ITS OWN BEST TEMPERATURE. The ideal temperature will vary according to personal taste, the use of a room and its exposure to wind or sun. Dial that temperature, and electric heat keeps you perfectly comfortable. Should conditions change, you can quickly warm up one room without overheating others. Built-in electric heat may cost more but it's worth every penny in solid comfort. And Edison's Budget Billing Plan equalizes heating costs over the year.

ELECTRIC HEAT GIVES YOU FLOOR-TO-CEILING COMFORT. Here's uniform heat—warmth that seldom varies more than two or three degrees in any part of the room, even between floor and ceiling.



IDEAL WHEN MODERNIZING OR ADDING SPACE. Electric heating units can be built in where you want them, where they will be most efficient. Installation is simple since there's no need for connections with any existing heating system.



CHOOSE FROM SEVERAL TYPES TO MATCH YOUR NEEDS. Built-in electric heat systems may be baseboards; forced air units or radiant panels set in walls; cable embedded in ceilings.

Not Too Late to Get Flowers in Border

For the hurry-up gardener who missed the planting rush at the first of the season, there's good news in transplants.

★ ★ ★

If you need plants in quantity for edgings, flower beds or borders, get transplants grown in flats or half-flats. You'll have as many as 50 or a hundred to give color where needed. Space the plants generously to give room for developing into specimen plants during the season. Cut each plant with its square of soil from the box with a trowel or knife, just as you would a cake.

★ ★ ★

Petunias are ideal for transplanting. These sturdy flowers don't need special attention. Singles or doubles, fringed, frilled, or plain — just give them a spot to grow in and they blossom merrily from now until frost.

Pontiac Press Photo

WHAT A SNOWBALL! — Competition among gardeners for the biggest and tallest and prettiest specimens of plants is keen. Last week within one 24-hour period two women reported gigantic snowballs. In the above picture Mrs. Milton Walters of 2050 Galloway court shows the photographer that one bloom measures nearly 20 inches. Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh of 47 Glenwood reports that hers are 16 inches around and 6 inches deep. Any bigger ones claimed?

How They Do Grow!

Trees and shrubs grow faster than we think. An elm sapling just 16 feet when planted can top 40 feet in six years. Trim evergreens that graced a doorway can rise to block path and view. Planning can prevent these problems.

Trees for Your Lawn

Birch and hornbeam, ginko and maples can add accents to your lawn. Redbud, dogwoods, crabapples and cherries add color. All are available in varieties that mature to less than 30 feet.

Try Non-Tuberous Begonias on North

If you live on the south side of the street, then the north exposed planter is always a problem.

For many seasons, tuberous begonias have been a successful choice for such locations. Nurserymen have discovered that some kinds of non-tuberous begonias are even more successful than the tuberous varieties. These non-tuberous varieties are in various shades of red and pink.

As they do not grow more than 18" high, but produce several flower clusters simultaneously, these plants should not be overlooked. If you try them, make a mass planting, just as you might with petunias.

In addition to those varieties especially adapted for shade, other varieties are extremely good in partial or complete sun.

Tuberous Begonias

The most popular plant for shady areas.

Gorgeous double blooms all summer 75¢ Ea.

Sedum Not Fussy

Sedum spectabile, the showiest of the family, wants a fairly heavy, moist soil. It does not do well in sandy, dry soils. It tolerates considerable shade and seems immune to all insects except aphids, which can be controlled by spraying with malathion, lindane or Black-leaf 40.

Keep a spare rotary mower blade on hand for replacement while the dull one is being sharpened and balanced.

Sprays to Curb Scale Insects

Weekend gardeners should become backyard sleuths over the next few weeks

The criminals in point are newly hatched scale insects in the crawling stage, almost invisible to the naked eye. Borrow a trick from the movie gumshoes and use a good hand lens to spot them in this soft, vulnerable stage. Soon they will acquire protective armoring that enables them to chortle at chemical efforts to destroy them.

Most of the hard-shelled kind, including the common oyster shell scale and the euonymus scale, hatch in late May or early June. Control measures should be taken as soon as the hatch is completed about the middle of June. Tree men expect bumper crops of scale insects in areas where late Winter didoes, such as torrential rains, high winds and unseasonably cold weather, prevented application of dormant oil sprays to destroy overwintering stages.

There are a variety of good spray chemicals that kill on contact to curb the threat of Nature's developing pamper divisions. Malathion, one of the most popular, will also control mites, aphids and other tree pests. Scale woes aren't all of the armored variety. Most unarmored kinds, including oak lecanium and European elm, hatch in late June and early July. Mid-July spraying is recommended.

Deciduous trees that are likely hosts include elm, apple, ash, lilac and forsythia. Evergreens include juniper, pine, spruce and arborvitae.

Your Tomatoes Come Soonest?

"Beat Thy Neighbor!" That's the first commandment for every home gardener as he sets out his tomato plants. Nothing beats the satisfaction of beating your neighbor with the earliest fruit in the neighborhood, not to mention saving on the food bill. Here's a recipe for growing the earliest tomatoes:

Get the plants transplanted now. If you have plants in the cold-frame, leave the cover off the frame to let them harden. Do the same with any plants you buy in a flat from the greenhouse. Keep them a little dry and when watering, feed them a phosphorous fertilizer in the water.

Just a couple days before planting put on a cup of starter solution per plant. This will give the plant a little push after transplanting. The ideal plant for earliest tomatoes has a solid blocky stem with dark green leaves. Some plants will have blossoms or even some early fruit already set. Some gardeners, with luck, will have some fruit by early July.

Here's another suggestion: If night temperatures go below 60 degrees use a hormone fruit set spray on the flower clusters. You can get higher quality, better size and earlier fruit if you stake or trellis your plants.

Don't be too afraid of late frosts. A bushel basket or cardboard box over the plants during real chilly nights will probably protect them from any frost this late in the year.

Flowering Rhubarb May Need Dividing

The common garden rhubarb seems to just "grow" for some people, but for others, it becomes quite a project. One comon problem is development of seed stalks.

If plants are from five to six years old, this may suggest the clump needs dividing. But for the present, break off these flower stalks as soon as they appear. Leaves produced on these stalks are not very good, and with the presence of this stalk, the plant "goes to seed" and will no longer produce leaves.

If you are considering dividing your clumps, wait until fall. For additional information about rhubarb in the home garden, call the Cooperative Extension Service Office, and ask for the folder on "Rhubarb Culture."

Plant Flowers in the Sky for Summer Beauty

Plant flowers in the sky now for overhead bouquets this summer. Well-chosen vines that climb walls and fences can be valuable additions to your landscaping. Cascading flowers and sweeping foliage can transform abrupt angles, provide privacy and give glorious eye-catching highlights to your garden.

Fast-growing annuals, including morning glories, moonflower and sweet peas are favorites for fences and arbors. They grow best in well-drained soil in sunny locations.

Morning glory flowers will stay open longer each day where they are not exposed to direct hot sun. They thrive in somewhat poorer soils with good drainage.

For permanent plantings, a wide selection of hardy and colorful vines is available.

Wisteria can be grown to magnificent heights.

You might also choose colorful and fragrant varieties of jasmine or clemat's or the ever-popular rambling and climbing roses, depending on your location and growing conditions.

Several types of ivies and creepers are ideal to grace walls or uninteresting surfaces.

Remember that some vines, ivies especially, cling. Don't plant them against surfaces that need painting or frequent care.

Clinging ivies, creepers and plants like hydrangea do well on chimneys, brick and stone surfaces.

English ivy is especially good. The smaller-leaved Baltic ivy will stand temperatures to 10 degrees below zero, but often suffers from sunburn in exposed locations.

BITTERSWEET

Year-round variety is possible with the bittersweets. The evergreen bittersweet is fairly hardy, and its dark, green foliage is brightened with gay berries in the fall.

To screen unsightly areas, quick-growing vines are needed. You can choose from many including honeysuckle, kudzu and silver fleece. However, these need periodic traning and pruning to keep them under control.

To prepare the soil for large vines, you should dig deeper than for most plantings. Prepare an area about three to four feet in diameter and about two feet deep. Take out the soil and put in a good mixture of loam and humus. Manure and compost will help give the vine a good start.

In some locations, according to your soil conditions, you may need gravel or ashes to insure good drainage.

Another caution, avoid planting too close to drains or dry wells. Roaming roots can cause trouble.

Some 1,400 roses have been named for women; 870 in honor of men.

House Favors Another Year

Senate Tax Extension Feud Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — A rousing Senate tax fight appeared in prospect today over a bill to extend for another year levies which bring in four billion dollars of annual revenue.

★ ★ ★

The measure, passed by the House Wednesday, also provides an eight billion dollar temporary increase in the national debt ceiling for the year ahead. This year's temporary 10 billion dollar increase expires June 30.

Several senators have announced plans to try to use the House bill as a vehicle for major tax changes, both to cut some revenues and also to pick up some.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) said his finance committee would meet soon on the legislation, but no date has been fixed. He plans to try to get the bill acted on there without public hearings.

HOLD AMENDMENTS

Byrd is expected to seek to get the bill through without change, in line with Eisenhower's recommendations. But several other committee members are ready with amendments.

Under Senate rules, the bill will be wide open to amendment. The House considered the measure Wednesday under a rule barring any floor changes, but the members nevertheless showed considerable dissatisfaction with it by their votes.

The House agreed only by a 202-181 tally even to take up the bill, and passed it 222-174.

Many legislators said their "no" votes reflected a feeling that Congress this year should remove the 10 per cent federal tax on local telephone service and cut in half the 10 per cent passenger tax affecting train, bus and plane riders.

The Senate last year voted to kill both of these levies effective immediately. But in conference with the House, it was decided the effective date for wiping out the telephone tax would be made July 1, 1960, and the passenger levy would be reduced to 5 per cent also effective July 1 this year.

However, President Eisenhower asked this session for another year's extension of both levies at current rates, and the bill before the House Wednesday reflected his views.

WANT CHANGES

Several members of the Senate Finance Committee are working for changes.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) said he would move in the committee again this year to let the telephone tax die July 1.

Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla) plans to ask that the cut in the passenger levy be allowed to take effect at the same time.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn) said he would seek to add 325 million to annual revenues by offering an amendment to repeal the 4 per cent credit allowed stockholders on their dividend income. The administration is against this proposal.

Several senators are considering a variety of other tax amendments.

The House bill continues at their present rates the corporation income tax as well as excises on liquor, wine, beer, cigarettes, autos, auto parts and accessories, local telephone service, and passenger fares.

It leaves intact the permanent 285 billion dollar national debt ceiling, but would raise it to 293 billion for the year ending June 30 1961. The present temporary ceiling of 295 billion expires at the end of this month.

Formosa Tries to Tame Wilds

Eastern Frontier Was Land of Head-Hunters Until Recently

WASHINGTON — Formosa, the crowded stronghold of Nationalist China, is trying to tame its wild eastern frontier.

Some 10,000,000 people live on Formosa, a leaf-shaped island about the size of Maryland and Delaware, the National Geographic Society says.

★ ★ ★

The birth rate is high. To provide more living and working space, the Government is opening up a mountainous region that was once the domain of head-hunters.

The mist-wreathed peaks of the Central Range cover most of eastern Formosa, leaving only narrow plains and valleys. These pockets have been cut off from the populous western plains, but now a 190-mile-long highway is being hacked across the rugged mountain barrier to link the east and west coasts for the first time.

A new port is being built at Hualien. New power station, factories and forts are rising.

Until recent times, Formosan aborigines regarded the hunting of heads as the highest form of human endeavor. If a dispute arose between two warriors, it was decided in favor of the first to take a head. An adolescent boy was not admitted into the company of men until he had won a trophy. Each village proudly displayed its collection of skulls.

★ ★ ★

The primitive mountain people did not take kindly to Japanese occupation (1895-1945). They kept up a peppery guerrilla war against the aliens and took as many Japanese heads as they could get their hands on.

Today, Formosa's 150,000 aborigines are being rapidly assimilated into Chinese life. Many have accepted Christianity. Head-hunting is outlawed.

Recently two chieftians got into a fierce squabble over land in a mountain resort area. Instead of reverting to the decapitation of each other—and their hapless subjects—the two rivals held press conferences to air their differences.

★ ★ ★

Despite the flash of sophistication, the aborigines have acquired few amenities of modern life. Their progress is complicated by superstition and an uninhibited appetite for the alcohol they make from sweet potatoes. To help these people advance, the government exempts them from taxes and duties.

★ ★ ★

Completion of the highway will contribute greatly to the economic welfare of the aborigines and the east coast as a whole. Power from the swift, tumbling streams there already turns countless wheels in less rugged parts of the island. One of Formosa's chief assets is the blue-green forests of the eastern mountains. Through lack of roads, the bountiful supply of lumber, fuel and pulp has remained virtually inaccessible.

Market Rally Stops Short

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's sensational rally of this week came to a definite stall today with trading slack and prices mixed early this afternoon.

Gains and losses off fractions to about a point ruled among the usual key stocks. The higher-priced blue chips, whose gains yesterday raised popular market averages despite general irregularity, were shorn by profit taking today.

Pre weekend caution was heightened by concern over possible international developments in the next two days.

The market had the benefit of a drop in the discount rate by eight more federal reserve banks and this confirmed the previous trend toward easier money but was no immediate stimulus.

Rails came back slightly but their failure of yesterday to top the March recovery high and thus "confirm" the rise of industrials was construed by Wall Street chartists as an unfavorable sign.

Most major groups were either narrowly mixed or slightly changed on balance.

★ ★ ★

As the blue chips backed away, DuPont dropped about a point on yesterday's 6½-point rise and Eastman Kodak lost about 2 of the previous session's gain of 5¾. International Business Machines was down more than 4.

★ ★ ★

In a mixed space age group, Zenith gained more than 2 and Texas Instruments lost more than 2. Radio Corp. rose about a point in a trading spurt.

U.S. Steel and Bethlehem traded about unchanged while small losses were posted for Republic and Jones & Laughlin in the mildly lower steel section.

★ ★ ★

Goodyear rose more than a point. International Harvester (ex-dividend) was a point or so lower.

Car Production Prediction Out

12.5 Per Cent Rise Over Last Year Seen This Week

DETROIT (AP)—Automotive News Thursday estimated production in United States plants this week at 143,000 cars, an increase of 24.2 per cent over last week's holiday-curtailed output of 115,243 units.

The trade paper said this week's production will top by 12.5 per cent the 127,170 cars produced during the week ending June 13 last year.

Compacts will account for 28 per cent of this week's production compared with 29.4 per cent last week.

Automotive News estimated truck production this week at 24,097 units compared with 22,228 last week and 27,895 in the comparable week a year ago.

Production at Canadian plants this week was estimated at 8,300 cars and 1,745 trucks. This compares with 8,668 cars and 1,927 trucks produced in Canada last week. The Canadian industry turned out 10,016 cars and trucks in the like week of last year.

Charles Baird Trial Goes to Jury Today

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The trial of Ann Arbor industrialist Charles Baird, 52, on charges of soliciting to murder was to go to a jury today.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys presented final arguments yesterday. Judge Edward T. Kane of Port Huron was to give the jury its instructions today.

Baird, president of the Ann Arbor Grinders Co., is accused of plotting to buy the death of Washtenaw County Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr. Breakey had sent Baird to jail three times for failure to make support payments to his first wife.

Baird denied the charge. No actual attempt was made on Breakey's life. The charge carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison.

★ ★ ★

Kenneth Stratton, 30, now in the Federal Correctional Institution at Milan, testified Baird gave him $250 as part payment on an arrangement to kill the judge. Baird testified he gave Stratton $100 out of sympathy.

Lay, Professional Leaders Seek Unity

Hospital Psychiatric Units Discussed

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

Differences were set aside last night when lay and professional health leaders joined to pose a unified approach to the proposition of establishing a psychiatric unit in one or more of the county's three general hospitals.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Society for Mental Health and other factions have been critical of the rate of progress for providing such a service here.

Hospital administrators have alleged that their critics were unfamiliar with present efforts and the reality of existing problems.

Attending the meeting at the Fox and Hounds Inn were representatives of the Oakland County Medical Society, the Michigan Society for Mental Health, St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital and Pontiac General Hospital and other interested doctors.

Dr. Jacques S. Gottlieb, director the renowned Lafayette Clinic in Detroit, told the group that a psychiatric unit is very similar to any other in a general hospital.

"There need be very little restriction of the kinds of patients to be admitted," Gottlieb said. "With present therapies, isolation is not as necessary. Drugs are very helpful. Acute patients can be controlled. The psychiatric service is usually the quietest in the whole hospital."

Gottlieb advised the group that a psychiatric unit, once integrated in a general hospital, can carry its own weight financially.

"There would be no bed occupancy problem," he said. "You will always have a waiting list. You can stand a 20 to 25-bed unit without any difficulty.

COST IS LESS

"The total cost per patient per day is less to the hospital for a psychiatric unit than a surgery unit."

Gottlieb reported, also, that Blue Cross pays the same cost per patient day for psychiatric beds as for beds in any other unit of a general hospital.

Dr. Ivan LaCore, chief of the psychiatric committee of Pontiac General Hospital, assured those present that there is a definite need for a psychiatric unit in the county.

"There is no question," said LaCore, "that a 25-bed unit in Oakland County would be full. There is a need for it in this community. It is my opinion that each of the three hospitals should have a psychiatric unit."

Harold Webster, executive director of the Michigan Society for Mental Health, said federal aid priority is given to general hospitals willing to establish psychiatric units.

It was agreed at the meeting's close that the session helped establish understanding and a point of departure for positive steps to provide facilities for the mental health needs of the community.

WHAT CAN HAPPEN — Inspector F. A. Beer of the Fire Prevention Bureau, Detroit Fire Dept., shows the dangers of leaving a cigarette smoldering in a demonstration at first annual Oakland County Fire Prevention Institute. The program last night at the Pontiac State Hospital auditorium attracted 375 persons. Watching the demonstration is Ross Luxon, fire chief at Pontiac Motor Division. The institute was sponsored by the Industrial Division of the Fire Safety Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Woman's Food Bill Courted Trouble

Not Always Papa Who Pays

If a ruling in Circuit Court today by Judge William J. Beer is to be construed as a precedent, housewives had better take heed.

The judge, in essence, has indicated that housewives must use that household allowance from hubby for its specified purpose or they may find themselves in hot soup—or even in court.

Just ask Mrs. Veldra Bergstrom of 360 N. Glengary Rd., Bloomfield Township, wife of a Detroit auto dealer.

She's stuck with a $496 grocery bill from the Quarton Food Market, 1744 W. Maple Rd., Birmingham, which originally her husband had been ordered to pay by Royal Oak Municipal Judge Keith J. Leenhouts.

But Judge Beer saw it a different way today. He set aside the $496 judgment against Bergstrom and ordered his wife to pay the bill.

GOT $250 A MONTH

Bergstrom had testified in the lower court that he had no knowledge that his wife had a charge account at the market. "That's what I was giving her $250 a month for," he said.

Although he admitted consuming the groceries with his wife and two children, Bergstrom said he doesn't owe the money. Mrs. Gergstrom does, he said. He appealed the judgment against himself to Circuit Court.

Judge Beer ruled: "When married women go out and get credit without the authority of their husband they have to pay for it themselves."

He ordered Mrs. Bergstrom added as a party defendant to testify despite strong objections from Bergstrom's attorney, Donald W. Grant of Detroit, that there was a constitutional prohibition against a wife having to testify against her spouse.

Judge Beer overruled the objections.

Grant said the reason for the reversal was that the charge account was in Mrs. Bergstrom's name. The owner of the market, however, said the account was carried in Bergstrom's name.

Mrs. Bergstrom could not be reached for comment. She was reported "very perturbed."

Reserve Banks Get Rate Cut OK

8 Institutions Follow 2 Others; Could Charge as Little as 3½ Pct.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Eight more Federal Reserve banks received Federal Reserve Board permission Thursday to drop their charges on loans to commercial banks from 4 to 3½ per cent, effective Friday.

★ ★ ★

This credit-easing signal was first given last week when the board authorized the half point drop in the discount rate for the Federal Reserve banks of Philadelphia and San Francisco.

Authorized to take the same step were the reserve banks in New York, Dallas, Cleveland, Minneapolis and Kansas City.

The remaining two reserve banks in Boston and Atlanta are expected to follow suit soon.

Last week's discount rate cut touched off speculation that commercial banks would respond by lowering their interst rates on loans to the public. They have not yet done so.

News in Brief

Dr. Milton Rathaway reported to Pontiac police that a burglar entered his office in the Community National Bank Building during the noon hour yesterday and took $34.25 in cash and $105 in checks.

William L. Young of 1068 S. Park St., Highland Township, told sheriff's deputies yesterday that his 16-foot wood boat, valued at $60, was stolen from its mooring on Harvey Lake behind his home.

Billy Hoeft Called Up From Minors by Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles announced today the recall of pitcher Billy Hoeft from the Miami Marlins of the International League.

The veteran lefthander, a 20-game winner for Detroit in 1956 and husband of a Pontiac girl, had a 4-5 record with Miami this season.

Balloon Foils Jets ---Likes High Living

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Jet fighters tried in vain to shoot down a roaming 40-story high Navy balloon off the Pacific Coast.

Four jets, zooming straight up in sudden bursts of speed, made passes at the instrument-loaded balloon Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Only one of the fighters was able to get in firing position because of the 68,000-foot altitude at which the big bag was drifting, a Navy spokesman said. This is well above the planes' operating altitude.

125 MILES OFF COAST

Balloon experts said the small holes would not allow enough helium to escape to result in an immediate descent.

The attempt to shoot down the wayward balloon occurred about 125 miles off the coast from San Diego. Further plans to shoot it down were abandoned.

★ ★ ★

The balloon was launched at Brunswick, Ga., Sunday. Its instruments, in a gondola, are designed for cosmic ray research under a project conducted by the Navy and University of Chicago.

Lt. William Steirman of the Office of Naval Research said no further attempts are planned to shoot the balloon down because of the risk of damaging equipment and almost priceless information it has collected while drifting across the United States and prevailing easterly winds at 60,000 feet or higher.

Steirman said the wayward bag will be tracked by Pacific Missile Range and other stations and an attempt made to recover it when it eventually comes down. He said there is no indication of any descent soon.

Yockey Still Held by Bail

Won't Reduce $50,000 on Mystery Figure in Passport Fraud Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Francis Parker Yockey, 47, a man of many names, remained in jail today unable to get his $50,000 bail reduced.

★ ★ ★

Yockey was arrested in Oakland Monday after three passports with three different names were found in a stray suitcase of his. They all had his picture. He was charged with passport fraud.

Asst. U. S. Atty. William P. Clancy Jr. said yesterday Yockey used at least 15 aliases in "what appears to be a systematic and well-planned operation in passports, the purpose of which we do not know."

James Cavanaugh, U.S. State Department security supervisor in San Fransico, said he understood that Yockey made one phone call after his arrest—to Washington—and that Washington called attorney Carl Hoppe into the case.

BEHAVIOR ABNORMAL

"I have talked with Mr. Yockey," Hoppe told U.S. Commissioner Joseph Karesh, "and he doesn't behave in a normal fashion.

"I don't believe he has all his senses. I felt sharply that a psychiatric examination is indicated."

"That's a dirty trick!" Yockey exploded and then in a clamer manner said, "I'm sorry—I'd like to dismiss the attorney. This comes as a complete surprise to me."

Hoppe then backed off on the psychiatric examination but continued to press for a reduction of bail. Karesh continued the case until today.

Yockey, whose current occupation is unknown, graduated with honors from Notre Dame Law School in 1941, enlisted in the Army in 1942, received a medical discharge, worked in the wartime office of the price administration and with the War Department's advocate general's office in Germany in 1946.

He was an assistant Wayne County prosecuting attorney in Detroit in 1944.

Death Notice

PERCY YOUNG

ROCHESTER — Service for Percy Young, 83, of 515 Harrison St., will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow from Pixley Memorial Chapel. Burial will be Cobleskill, N. Y. Sunday.

Mr. Young died yesterday at Avon Center Hospital after a brief illness.

No Parks Fee 'til '61

HIGGINS LAKE (AP) — Michigan residents will be able to enjoy the State's 60 parks and recreation areas for another year without admission charges, the State Conservation Commission has decided.

A bill passed by the 1960 legislature authorized a $2 windshield sticker admitting a car and its occupants to the parks for one year. Gov. Williams allowed the measure to become law without his signature.

However, the law does not become effective until Aug. 17 when the peak of the park season will be over. Because of this, the commission voted yesterday that sticker permits would not be required this year.

The commission also noted that the legislature failed to provide the estimated $100,000 to $200,000 appropriation needed to cover costs of collecting fees.

When the free program finally is put into operation, proceeds will be used to finance a bond issue to improve and expand the parks system.

Selfridge Dedicates New Electronic Brain

DETROIT (UPI) — A missile master—the electronic brain which feeds information on approaching aircraft to the men who stand by Detroit's Nike-Ajax and Nike-Hercules missiles—was dedicated today at Selfridge Air Force Base.

Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker headed the blue ribbon military and civilian group visiting the base.

Also at the ceremonies were Walker L. Cisler, president of the Detroit Edison Co., and Detroit councilmen Edward Connor and Eugene Van Antwerp. Connor is also a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Detroit is the fourth city in the United States to get the missile master, following Seattle, Boston and New York.

Surface of the lake in Chubb crater in northern Quebec is 500 feet below rim level. The lake is 225 feet deep and the diameter of the crater is about 11,500 feet.

ORDINANCE NO. 42

An Ordinance Amending Ordinance No. 27 Zoning Ordinance of the Township of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan.

The Township of Pontiac Ordains,

That Section 11.3 of Article XI of Ordinance No. 27 (Zoning Ordinance) be amended to read as follows:

LOT AREA—A one-family dwelling in R-1 and R-2 Districts together with accessory buildings, hereafter erected shall be located on a lot having not less than nine thousand six hundred (9,600) square feet, where it is permitted to construct a single family residence on a lot with a minimum lot area of seven thousand (7,000) square feet with a width of not less than sixty (60) feet at the set back line. This exception is made due to the acceptance by the Township Zoning Board and the Township Board, of proposed plats which were submitted prior to this subject amendment, on property described as:

Part of Section 35, T3N, R10E, Pontiac Township, Oakland County, Michigan, described as beginning at the Southwest corner of Section 35, thence along the West line of said Section 35, North 00° 04'13" West 2607.84 feet to the West ¼ corner of said Section 35, thence South 89° 39'29" West 1021.13 feet, thence North 77°00'09" East 2744.81 feet, thence South 01°02'37" West 204.87 feet, thence South 62°42'11" East 66.83 feet, thence South 18°16'37" West 1242.45 feet to the South line of said Section 35, thence along the South line of said Section South 89°41'42" West 643.39 feet to the North ¼ corner of Section 2, Bloomfield Township, thence continuing South 89° 41'42" West 643.39 feet to the point of beginning, thence South 87°00'09" West 34.02 feet to the point of beginning.

This property is on the Northeast corner of E. Blvd. and Opdyke Roads.

This Ordinance shall be effective 30 days after publication in a newspaper circulating within the Township.

Barbara Stanwyck Hit by Bronchitis, Laryngitis

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Barbara Stanwyck is hospitalized with acute bronchitis and laryngitis. Her doctor ordered her into the hospital Thursday and said he'd keep her there five or six days because she has a past history of pneumonia.

Buzzards Always Back on Same Day in March

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — One of Ohio's most intriguing natural mysteries is the annual return, always on March 15, of more than 70 turkey buzzards to Hinckley Ridge.

They roost in trees in the northern Ohio area, just below Cleveland. The legend of their return goes back to a century and a half and never has been disproved in recent years. The Cleveland Metropolitan Park District now discourages any disturbance of the roosting trees.

WILBURTON, Okla. (AP)—Two men saw a tornado approaching and got into the nearest thing they thought would save them — and it did.

When the twister passed they climbed out of their shelter, a deep freeze unit.

TV News and Reviews

Applause Lack Only Fault of Spring Music Festival

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Applause, applause, applause. That's to help make up for the lack of a studio audience at last night's "Spring Festival of Music" on CBS-TV.

I just thought the performers deserved to hear, even belatedly, the sound of deep appreciation.

It was a delightful hour, filled with dazzling performances by youngish American soloists and the CBS Symphony Orchestra.

Camera work that had verve precision and charm also helped set the music off as something quite special.

PRECISION FEELING

The soloists were violinist Aaron Rosand, harmonica player John Sebastian and pianist John Browning. All displayed their talents with precision and feeling.

Conductor Alfredo Antonini won me as the camera zoomed in on his expressions of amusement and kindliness.

Produced and written by Robert Herridge, the hour offered a couple of unusual features.

One was the kettle drum player—a young lady. The other was the host, music editor Jay Harrison.

The program was cosponsored by an electric shaver and Harrison sported a beard. How's that for a "hands-off" policy?

I've covered Thursday night's superior show. Tonight, NBC-TV concludes the two-part "Sacco-Vanzetti Story." I saw this at a special screening Thursday.

The magnificent fusion of acting skill, directorial brilliance and passionate playwriting makes this hour a great viewing experience.

Whether it leaves you in tears or not, it will never leave your heart.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: A series of 15 full-hour public information programs, for prime evening time presentation on ABC-TV next season, will be sponsored by Bell & Howell. The same sponsor has purchased part of ABC-TV's weekly half-hour series based on Winston Churchill's memoirs.

★ ★ ★

"The Far Horizon," the new daytime serial that makes its debut on CBS-TV Monday, will have a space age setting.

Ludwig Bemelman's humor book, "Hotel Splendide," is the basis for a half-hour filmed series being prepared by Producer Peter Kortner and Director Robert Stevens, who have teamed in the past for some "Playhouse 90" productions.

Broadway Is Having 'Long Intermission'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Arthur (Twinkle-Toes) Murray was feeling rich and independent when we called. "At the age of 65, I don't need the money!" he said—explaining his hold-out against a half-hour TV show next year. He's keen for monthly one-hour "roasts" like the Bob Hope ribs he did for Fight-for-Sight. (Eight roasts @ $200,000 would pay him $1,600,000. He'd get $1,170,000 for 39 half-hour shows at $30,000.) So if nobody buys the roasts for next season, we'll be off the air and wait. We need a rest—and we can afford one," added Kathryn's jaunty husband. It must be nice to be rich, we always said.

WILSON

"Broadway may become a ghost street for months," two theater producers involved in the "long intermission" (mustn't say strike) gloomily told us. Blasting Equity Prez Ralph Bellamy's rosy forecasts, one said, "Papa thought he could fix everything up in a few minutes—but he was just misinformed. Things have gone too far." (Peggy Cass of "A Thurber Carnival" left a cocktail party explaining, "Excuse me, I've got to run to the theater and get locked out.")

Ava Gardner, at the bullfights in Madrid, saw comedian Harvey Stone near, taking pictures. Ava called to him, "Do you speak English?" Stone, thinging Ava'd recognized him from nightclub appearances, said, "Yes." Ava shouted: "Don't take my picture!"

EARL'S PEARLS: A pretty Texas gal in a very low-cut dress met her beau who said he liked her gown: "Sho' nuff?" she exclaimed. Blushing, he said, "Sho' does!"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: The only thing wrong about earning a big salary is that it costs so much to let people know about it.

Teen-agers who whistle at girls in the street are merely going through a stage — which'll probably last 50 years. That's earl, brother. (Copyright, 1960)

Copter Grabs Hagerty From Jap Mob

Rocky, Nixon Meet --and Both Smile

RICHARD M. NIXON

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller greeted each other with smiles and great cordiality as they met today at a British trade exhibition in the New York Coliseum.

The two men shook hands warmly and exchanged greetings in a small, closed-to-the-public anteroom off the main lobby.

Also at the Coliseum was Prince Philip of Britain, who was on hand to officially open the 200-million-dollar British expedition.

40 GUESTS PRESENT

The press and public were barred from the small room in which the Nixon-Rockefeller meeting took place but about 40 specially invited guests were present.

The friendly meeting took place only 17 hours after Nixon's reply to Rockefeller's sharp challenge to speak out on the issues.

Nixon said he has discussed key issues in more detail than Rockefeller, who had prodded him to make his views known before the nominating convention.

Nixon suggested that the two "have a discussion in depth" before television cameras.

'DOESN'T NEED ME'

The New York governor promptly rejected the proposal. He said Nixon "does not need me to interrogate him on television.

"Once the vice president has made clear his position on the specific issues I have raised, I shall be glad to debate these issues with him."

Nixon told a news conference late Thursday, in answer to criticism fired his way Wednesday by Rockefeller, that he had clearly stated his views on key issues.

"I have set forth with great precision and major detail my views on the issues more than any other candidate," said the vice president.

But he indicated he is considering no change in his plans to wait until he gets the nomination before going beyond administration policies. He said he supports the Eisenhower record as "the best record in my lifetime."

★ ★ ★

At the same time, he avoided direct controversy with Rockefeller, whom he described as a man of integrity. He also said Rockefeller has a right, if he wishes, to criticize the administration or the Republican party.

The soft tone of his replies seemed to indicate that, confident of winning the nomination, Nixon is looking more toward the general election campaign and seeking to avoid alienating Rockefeller supporters. New York's 45 electoral votes could be decisive in November.

Nixon said he had held 47 news conferences "with no holds (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Fires Marshmallows at Rocky

Nixon Answers Softly

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—As far as Vice President Richard M. Nixon is concerned, a soft answer turneth away potential rivals for the Republican presidential nomination.

His public reply to the public challenge by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York came Thursday.

Rockefeller had brought out his long-range political guns to fire at defects he saw in Nixon and the Republican party. Nixon fired back—with marshmallows.

★ ★ ★

In a hastily called news conference the vice president confidently and calmly:

1. Praised Rockefeller repeatedly. "A man of integrity," Nixon said of the only man who has even a tiny chance of beating him out of the nomination. "Definitely one of the major leaders of the Republican Party today."

★ ★ ★

2. Offered to discuss all issues with Rockefeller before television cameras. Several stations and free time, but Rockefeller showed no interest at all. He said Nixon still hasn't answered the questions he raised, and when and if he does, they can debate then.

★ ★ ★

3. Said jokingly that he wouldn't draft Rockefeller to be his vice presidential running mate. The evened the score. Rockefeller has often said he hasn't the slightest interest in the vice presidency.

4. Replied firmly, but kindly to Rockefeller's biggest blast: That Nixon hasn't spoken out on major issues and is waiting until after he gets the nomination to do so.

Why, said Nixon, he just happened to check before he left Washington and this was the 47th news conference or forum he has held in 1960. Of all the candidates, including a potential one like Rockefeller, "I believe . . . that I have set forth with greater precision, in more detail, my views on the major issues than any of the others."

★ ★ ★

But even here Nixon let Rockefeller down lightly.

Warm Weather Ahead, With Rain in Distance

Mostly fair and a little warmer tonight and Saturday, is the weatherman's prediction for the Pontiac area. The low will be a mild 53 tonight. Tomorrow's high will be 80.

★ ★ ★

For the next five days, temperatures will average about four degrees above the normal high of 78 and normal low of 57.

Precipitation for the period will average less than one-half inch in scattered showers Tuesday or Wednesday.

Light variable morning winds at one m.p.h. will become southeasterly at 8 to 15 late this afternoon.

TURMOIL IN TOKYO — Two American bodyguards, center, stand behind James Hagerty's car at Tokyo's Haneda Airport today after it was stopped by leftist demonstrators. Hagerty, who is White House press secretary, and two other American envoys, had to be rescued by helicopter.

Ike Still Plans Visit Despite Massive Riot

Tumult by 5,000 Called Red Agitation; Police Caught Off Guard

TOKYO (AP) — Five thousand screaming leftist demonstrators, fighting against an Eisenhower visit to Japan, besieged the car of White House press secretary James C. Hagerty for more than an hour today, slashing the tires and cracking windows.

Finally, a helicopter was used to rescue Hagerty, U.S. Ambassador to Japan Douglas MacArthur III, and White House appointments secretary Thomas E. Stephens. None of them was injured.

Hagerty and Stephens had just arrived to scout Eisenhower's trip, and started into Tokyo from the airport, along the route Eisenhower is scheduled to follow nine days hence.

That visit is still on, Hagerty announced, despite today's demonstration—and the White House in Washington added confirmation that the plans still hold.

Tokyo police said they had been caught by surprise today, though the demonstration against Hagerty had been announced in advance.

'BIG BLUNDER'

"It was a big blunder for us," a police spokesman said.

The Japanese government apologized.

Hagerty described his ordeal this way:

"We were surrounded by the crowd. They slashed the tires, threw stones, broke two of the windows and tried to overturn the vehicle. Some were climbing on the roof and singing the Internationale.

"We must have been there an hour (it was actually an hour and 20 minutes). Then we saw it was obvious that the police could not get us through. They then asked us if we wanted them to clear a way so we could get a helicopter. It was quite obvious we were not going to make any headway whatsoever. The three of us then agreed to leave and go out by helicopter."

★ ★ ★

"Only when it was obvious we were not going to be permitted to drive did we call for a helicopter," Hagerty added.

Buses Carry 2,000 1st Day

Low Count Expected Until Passengers Get Back Into Habit

Pontiac Transit Corp., as expected, got off to a slow start yesterday, but better than predicted.

In its first day of operation, the company carried about 2,000 passengers, an official reported.

Although the total was small, it was still about 300 more than was conservatively predicted, the official said.

D. J. Giacoma, president of the American Transit Co., has already given a sober appraisal of the dropoff in bus patronage due to the fact that Pontiac went six months without buses.

"It may take as much as a year to get patronage back up to where it belongs," he has suggested.

Pontiac Transit Corp. became the newest subsidiary of American Transit Corp. Wednesday. Operations began Thursday morning.

Israel, Argentina Out to Save Face

Seek Eichmann Compromise

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Western diplomats are trying to work out a face-saving compromise to avert a showdown between Argentina and Israel in the United Nations over Adolf Eichmann.

Argentina charged the seizure of Eichmann by Jewish commandos in Buenos Aires violated her sovereignty and said she would appeal to the U.N. unless Israel returned him. The former Nazi is accused of helping direct Hitler's extermination of the Jews.

Informed sources in Israel said Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion would not comply with the Argentine demand. But he was reported to have sent a conciliatory letter to Argentine President Arturo Frondizi.

Official sources in Buenos Aires said Argentina would sympathetically consider mediation of the dispute by some foreign country or a suggestion that the case be taken up by the International Court in The Hague.

Diplomats in the South American capital speculated that a European country — perhaps France —might be asked to mediate. Frondizi and Ben-Gurion will both be touring Europe next week and their paths may cross in Paris.

Western authorities in London were reported behind the move to let the World Court—organ of the United Nations—rule whether Eichmann was kidnaped or as Israel claims, agreed to go with his Jewish captors and stand trial.

There was no indication from Jerusalem that Israel would be willing to go to the World Court, however.

The international tribunal usually moves slowly, sometimes taking years for a decision in major cases. And with feeling running high in Israel against the ex-Nazi, the Israeli government is going ahead with plans for a showcase trial within a year to bring out details of the Nazi extermination of six million European Jews.

Eichmann will be tried in Israel under the 1950 "Nazi and Nazi Collaborators' Act" and will face the death penalty.

Delays Increase for Teachers

School Board Balks at Proposed $270,000 Pay Boost

Pontiac schoolteachers last night heard their demands for raises of more than $270,000 turned down by the Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Although Board members delayed action on wages until their next meeting, they told representatives of two teacher organizations that next year's budget did not contain funds for the requested pay hikes.

The 567-member Pontiac Education Assn. had asked for $288,390 in wage increases for the coming year.

The request of the Pontiac Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, representing approximately 150 of the school system's 802 teachers, called for $272,260 in raises.

TWO PROPOSALS

The Board proposed two different plans.

One would increase the beginning salary of a four-year trained teacher with no experience from the present $4,450 to $4,550.

The other would increase beginning salaries by $150. The raises would total $124,930 and $186,745, respectively.

★ ★ ★

Wallace Schloecke, chairman of the PEA salary committee, presented an alternate proposal which would cost the school system $172,695.

His proposal called for raises totaling $172,695, with starting salary set at $4,500.

"While we believe our original proposal superior, since that amount was considered excessive (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Over $1.8 Million for Waterford Kettering

Awards School Contracts

Construction and equipment contracts amounting to more than $1,890,000 for the new Waterford Kettering High School were awarded last night at a special meeting of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

The contracts covered all building work and items on bids which had been received two weeks ago for the $2,500,000 school that will be located a half-mile off Hatchery road, near Williams Lake road.

Waterford's second senior high school, it will be on a 50-acre site, have a football field, baseball diamond, tennis courts and blacktop parking space for some 500 cars.

The school is scheduled to open in September 1961.

BEGIN IMMEDIATELY

Construction of the school, which will accommodate 1,500 students, will begin immediately, according to Supt. of Schools William Shunck.

The base bid award for construction was awarded to J. A. Fredman, Inc., whose low bid was $1,138,888. J. A. Utley Co. of Royal Oak was second low with a bid of $1,143,400.

The mechanical trades low bid of $441,696 was awarded to Kruchko Plumbing and Heating Co. of Drayton Plains.

★ ★ ★

The electrical trades low bid was $189,842 by Soma Electric Co., which won that contract.

Contracts were awarded to all low bidders of equipment for the school.

They include the Canton China & Equipment Co.'s bid on kitchen equipment, $44,856; and laboratory equipment, to the Peninsular Slate Co., $30,937.

The metal cabinets and lockers contract went to Interior Steel Co., $26,312; homemaking equipment, Geneva Modern Kitchen, $10,997, and music department, Oglesby Equipment Co., $5,834.

★ ★ ★

The arts and crafts equipment contract also was awarded to the Geneva firm, $15,249; and library equipment, to Universal School Co., $6,279.

The refrigerators and freezers contract went to Chrysler & Koppin Co., $10,685.

MODEL OF NEW SCHOOL — This is a model of the new Kettering High School that will be built in the Waterford Township school district. Scheduled for opening in September, 1961, the school will accommodate 1,500 students. Contracts for the construction of the school, Waterford's second senior high, were awarded at a special Board of Education meeting last night.

Swainson Explains Platform to Students

★ ★ ★

To a small gathering in the Oakland Student Center, cut considerably by classes and studying for final examinations, the aspirant for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination enumerated some of the campaign issues.

He said he preferred a state income tax and corporation franchise tax to the "regressive" penny boost in the three-cent sales tax. He said the Nov. 8 vote on the increase would be an issue.

Whatever new tax Michigan needs, Swainson told the students, must be based on the ability to pay.

★ ★ ★

During a question and answer period, Swainson repeated his stand that he's against the proposed constitutional convention. Rather, he said, he favors revision of the 1908 Constitution through a constitution commission.

★ ★ ★

"We should only strive to change one thing at a time as it is needed," the candidate said.

Swainson was the guest of the 35-member Young Democrats Club at MSUO. He was introduced by Pat Welsh of Royal Oak, club chairman.

barred" during the last five months. He said that over the past 14 years "in the House and Senate and the vice presidency I have entertained questions on every major issue."

But Rockefeller countered with: "Only three weeks ago, the vice president stated publicly, 'If I become the candidate, I intend to present to the country a new program.'

★ ★ ★

"This is the crux of the issue I have raised. The people, the Republican party and the delegates to the Republican convention are entitled to know what a 'new program' means. They have a right to know before, not after, the nomination of a candidate, precisely where he stands."

DEMS CHUCKLE

As the dispute between Rockefeller and Nixon continued, Democrats watched happily from the sidelines. Former President Harry S. Truman said:

"It shouldn't hurt us any. The more they fight the better satisfied I am."

Rockefeller touched off the first fireworks Wednesday in a lengthy statement which called on Nixon to spell out his views on top issues.

The governor listed his own views and was critical of parts of the Eisenhower administration's program.

Nixon held off a reply until Thursday's news conference at Camden, N.J. Noting that Rockefeller heads one of the largest delegations to the nominating convention, the vice president said:

"I would be willing to sit down with the head of any delegation and discuss all the issues One way to resolve the issue is for the governor to meet with me and discuss all the isues in depth." He said that if Rockefeller wants to meet before the television cameras for such a discussion in depth "I am sure it can be arranged."

Flatter to Get Another Trial

Detroit Jurors Tell of Checking on Convicted Murderer's Alibi

DETROIT (AP)—George Darryl Flatter, convicted murderer of a Detroit housewife, Mrs. Elizabeth Moughler, 51, was granted a new trial yesterday. Two jurors testified they had done some unauthorized checking on Flatter's alibi.

A third juror, France Cisinski, told Recorder's Judge Elvin J. Davenport that she had decided Flatter was guilty only after she heard the findings of the other two jurors.

Flatter had contended he could not have covered the distance from the murder scene in the time between the murder and his arrival home. The jurors said they paced off the distance and he could have.

Mrs. Moughler was dragged between houses and strangled Jan. 22 as she returned from a movie. She was the mother of three children.

Flatter was sentenced to life imprisonment after his conviction on a first-degree murder charge March 31.

Rain Speckles Varied Regions of the Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain ranging from heavy downpours to light showers fell over wide sections of the country today.

The heaviest fall was near Amarillo, Tex., where more than 4 inches fell Thursday night before a tornado struck, then heavy rain fell again.

Other sections getting precipitation included the northern tier of Great Lakes states into the Dakotas and southward into Oklahoma and Texas. Some showers fell over Louisiana and Florida.

The tornado at the Amarillo Air Force Base wrecked a building. No injuries were reported. Winds up to 70 m.p.h. were recorded.

Better Register Early for YM Swim Course

Parents in the Pontiac area are being urged by Pontiac YMCA and Rotary Club officials to register their children as soon as possible for this year's free Learn-to-Swim classes.

The swimming classes are open to all boys and girls nine years of age or older who do not know how to swim.

"Past experience has shown that we annually have to turn away from 75 to 100 applicants who come after we're already filled up," said Ted Slosson, YMCA general secretary.

The class is limited to 465 boys and girls. Telephone and mail registrations cannot be taken.

★ ★ ★

It is necessary for one of the parents to come to the YMCA to register the child.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-six Rotarians under the chairmanship of Ben Jerome Jr. have secured the applications of many elementary school children interested in the campaign, but all still must register with a parent at the YMCA.

The campaign is scheduled to begin June 20 and run through July 1.

Instruction will be given at several classes each day. There will be one week of classes for boys and one week for girls.

★ ★ ★

Says Country Needs Stevenson After Paris Summit Collapse

She says the collapse of the summit conference convinced her that the country needs the wisdom, maturity and experience of Adlai E. Stevenson, 60, two-time contender for the presidency.

★ ★ ★

She said Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, front-runner for the presidential nomination, would show courage and unselfishness by accepting the vice-presidential nomination.

Her son, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., has been assisting Kennedy in his campaign.

Mrs. Roosevelt issued a statement Thursday formally announcing her preferences.

She said the vice presidency would give Kennedy, 43, "the opportunity to grow and to learn."

Kennedy, Mrs. Roosevelt said, "is young enough yet to look forward to many more years of public service."

Delay Pay Hike for City Teachers

under the circumstances, this proposal would aid the greatest number and retain our experienced teachers." Schloerke told the Board.

FEAR HIRING WOES

Board members feared that acceptance of Schloerke's alternate proposal would create difficulties in hiring capable new teachers.

They expressed the view that a compromise between their proposal calling for a starting salary of $4,600 and Schloerke's plan might be reached.

The main difference in the packages submitted by the organizations is the distribution of the monies asked for in the graduated wage scale.

The PEA now hopes to lump a sizeable portion of the monies it seeks into raises for those with seniority.

The PFT wants to lump most of its requested monies at the bottom of the scale to add incentive to retain career teachers of quality.

"The difference of $100 will be a deciding factor for many in whether to join one school system or another," he warned. He said that if the Board felt the money "isn't available from present sources—it must find others."

★ ★ ★

"The Board must keep faith with the teachers," he said. He pointed out that teachers who wished to continue their educations would be "hit heavily" by college tuition boosts.

Russell Buller, PFT spokesman, argued that an increase in revenue from allocated millage should have made more monies available.

Glenn H. Griffin, Board president, replied that the defeat of the recent millage proposal by Pontiac School District voters was a "mandate" from the citizens on how monies shall be spent.

Using all extra monies for raises would be "poor public relations," he said.

★ ★ ★

"It wouldn't be consistent with the reaction of the citizens," Griffin said.

★ ★ ★

Spokesmen for the teachers' organizations said there would be no "protests" after the Board acts. "We will understandably accept their decision," they stated.

Husband-Slayer Pleads Guilty

Area Woman Awaits Sentencing on Charge of Manslaughter

Just hours after she went to trial for first-degree murder in the shooting death of her husband, Mrs. Myra A. Godsey of Clawson pleaded guilty to manslaughter.

She will be sentenced June 27 by Circuit Judge William J. Beer. The housewife is free on a $7,500 bond pending sentencing.

Mrs. Godsey, a 29-year-old mother of five children, has admitted shooting her husband, James, 30, on April 9 because, as she told police, she feared her husband was going to beat her after his return from 12 hours of drinking.

Three witnesses testified yesterday morning as the trial opened before Judge Beer. After the noon recess, Mrs. Godsey's attorney, James Renfrew, said his client desired to enter a plea to the reduced charge.

Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Templin accepted the reduction.

Copter Rescues Hagerty From Rioting Japanese

the demonstrators had a chance to break through the windows and unlock the doors. The passed up this opportunity to lay hands on the White House emissaries.

Amid the surging crowd were red flags, banners, placards and crew leaders with whistles.

Hagerty told a news conference: "We are sure that the demonstrations in no way reflect the feeling and the attitude of the great majority of the Japanese people for whom America has the warmest friendship."

In Washington, associate press secretary Anne Wheaton said the President had "expressed gratification" that Hagerty and Stephens were not hurt.

KNOWS OF KNOW CHANGE

Asked whether the President would still go to Japan, Mrs. Wheaton said, "I know of no change in plans."

Hagerty said the demonstration was obviously carefully planned and the fact that the demonstrators were singing the "International"—the song of international communism—raised doubts whether they even had allegiance to Japan.

The demonstrators had been called out by Zengakuren, Japan's extreme leftist student federation, and the leftist Sohyo federation of labor unions.

★ ★ ★

Japanese police finally cleared an opening around the battered car in which Hagerty, Stephens and U. S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II had been held prisoner. A U. S. Marine helicopter picked them up and flew them to a Japanese army base.

From there they drove to the back gate of the heavily guarded U. S. Embassy and slipped in, escaping 8,000 demonstrators massed out front. Within a few minutes, however, several hundred students rushed up to the back gate and battled police, who kept them from breaking into the embassy compound.

Hagerty refused to see leaders of the demonstrators, and the crowd settled down for an all-night vigil in front of the embassy, chanting and shouting slogans attacking Hagerty, the President's visit and Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi.

At his news conference Hagerty was asked whether it would not be risking Eisenhower's safety to bring him to Japan in the present turmoil.

"I wouldn't think so," Hagerty replied. "He will be a guest of Japan. I would think that the necessity for protection would be adequately handle by the capable forces of the Japanese government.

GOP Committee Meets State's Favorite Son

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee met Michigan's favorite-son candidate for the GOP vice presidential nomination, Rep. Gerald R. Ford, of Grand Rapids, at a reception at the Statler Hotel last night.

Republican State Chairman Lawrence Lindemer said Vice President Nixon agrees that Ford would be a suitable vice president, but has not committed himself.

Presbyterian Moderator

ALMA (AP)—The annual Presbyterian synod of Michigan, which met on the Alma College campus, elected the Rev. Paul Sobel, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Kingsford, as moderator for the coming year. He succeeds Elder J. Lamar Newberry of Grosse Pointe Memorial Presbyterian Church.

"I never think of the future," said Dr. Albert Einstein. "It comes soon enough."

The Day in Birmingham

Monday's Election to Fill Six School Board Posts

BIRMINGHAM — Six Board of Education posts will be filled Monday when voters go to the polls in the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school districts.

Two expiring School Board posts are to be filled in Birmingham while four positions are open in the Bloomfield Hills district.

Appearing on the Birmingham ballot will also be a request to increase school taxes $1.80 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Candidates for the two expiring four-year terms in Birmingham are incumbents Mrs. Mary Beier and William Spence, Garvin Bawden, E. Ross Hanson and Albert C. Scott.

Nine candidates are running for the four offices in Bloomfield Hills. There are five for the two 3-year terms expiring and four for the 4-year terms created by state legislation this year.

★ ★ ★

In the race for the 3-year terms are William B. Bachman Jr., Dr. Charles L. Bowers, George A. Jones, Hugh T. Carney and Richard T. Phelps.

The Birmingham millage increase proposal is the second request for additional operating funds since March. At that time a propotal to raise school taxes $4 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation was rejected by voters, 4,695 to 3,363.

The School Board had sought the increase to raise the salaries of school personnel and hire 50 additional teachers. The 4 mills would have provided $750,000 in new funds.

★ ★ ★

The lower rate proposed in Monday's election would give the district an additional $394,433 to be used for increasing teachers' salaries.

Last week School Superintendent Dwight B. Ireland revealed that 61 teachers have resigned. He said many of the resignations were due to the defeat of the millage proposal in March.

★ ★ ★

The annual meeting and dinner House Assn. will be held Monday at 6:45 p.m. The organization is celebrating its 30th year of service to the area.

Five vacancies on the board of directors will be filled at the meeting.

Directors whose terms are expiring are Harold S. McFarland, president; Richard A. Fischer, Mrs. John J. Joyner, James F. Moore and Mrs. Robert F. Hatt.

Injured Bally Ache Out of Belmont

A Veterinarian, Dr. William Reed, was summoned. X-rays of the ankle were taken. There was no fracture, but there was a slight puff just above the hoof.

Woman Who Bit Welfare Aide Jailed

DETROIT (UPI) — Mrs. Pearl Knight was serving a 90-day term in the House of Correction today for biting, punching and throwing a chair at a welfare worker.

She was sentenced yesterday. Mrs. Knight sank her teeth so deeply into the arm of welfare worker William Forrester that fellow workers had to pry her jaws apart to free him. She also punctured his cardrum with a punch.

Mrs. Knight said she was angry because she thought Forrester should have filled out a welfare form instead of having her do it.

"I don't like to be pushed around," she said.

The judge, in imposing sentence, said welfare workers have been too much abused lately and an example must be made.

Population Rises in 14 of 15 States

Fourteen showed population gains ranging from 6 per cent to 31 per cent. The 15th, Mississippi, showed a loss of nearly 1 per cent.

Here are the states and their 10-year population records:

Alabama — 1960 population of 3,244,298, up 182,555 or 6 per cent since 1950; Georgia — 3,917,240, up 472,662 or 13.7 peg cent; Hawaii — 620,385, up 120,591 or 24.1 per cent; Indiana — 4,637,005, up 702,781 or 17.8 per cent; Kansas — 2,160,825, up 255,526 or 13.4 per cent.

Louisiana — 3,230,932, up 547,416 or 20.4 per cent; Maryland — 3,072,999, up 739,998 or 31.3 per cent; Michigan — 7,793,294, up 1,421,528 or 22.3 per cent; Mississippi — 2,162,422, down 16,492 or 0.7 per cent; Ohio — 9,636,234, up 1,689,607 or 21.3 per cent; Pennsylvania — 11,217,708, up 719,979, or 6.9 per cent.

Rhode Island — 845,019, up 53,123, or 6.8 per cent; South Carolina — 2,357,223, up 240,196 or 11.3 per cent; Virginia — 3,898,772, up 580,092 or 17.4 per cent; Wisconsin — 3,925,854, up 491,279 or 14.3 per cent.

The figures are based on field counts and are subject to later revision.

Bentley Raps Rocky

Subcommittee OKs Ike-Fought Housing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House Banking subcommittee Thursday approved an administration-opposed $1,265,000,000 housing bill which, for the first time, would extend "no down-payment" financing to nonveteran home-buyers.

The catch-all bill was approved by voice vote. Five Democrats and one Republican attended the subcommittee session. The bill is expected to clear the full committee next Tuesday.

Like the $1,581,000,000 housing bill approved previously by a Senate housing subcommittee, the measure would meet election-year demands of city mayors and colleges for more federal aid in solving their housing problems.

More than half of the funds in each of the measures was earmarked for just two programs: Federal grants for urban renewal projects, including slum clearance, and direct federal lending for construction of college dormitories.

Walt Whitman said that in school he studied the four "Rs": readin', writin', 'rithmetic and restin'.

'June' in January

The famed "January thaw" often brings unseasonable weather to much of the United States about the third week in January. In the Northeast, temperatures usually rise between Jan. 20 and 23. Toward the Southwest, the warm spell comes a few days earlier.

NOT THE BEANSTALK? — Mrs. Forrest Landers of Wood River, Ill., stands next to the pot from which a 50-foot philodendron vine started two years ago. The vine, which now completely encircles her 24x9-foot kitchen, is still growing and climbing prodigiously. But Mrs. Landers says she is about out of room for it to climb.

Japanese Agitators Plain 'Anti'

Student Leaders in Jail

TOKYO (UPI)—Kentaro Karoji, 22, failed to attend classes for one year and Hokkaido University expelled him two months ago. He now is in jail.

All told, 47 Zengakuren leaders are behind bars.

These are some of the top leaders of the Federation of Students' Self-Government Associations (Zengakuren), the student group which has stormed the diet, and the prime minister's residence, torn up the Tokyo International Airport Terminal Building, tied up Tokyo traffic day after day, and generally wreaked havoc.

Their philosophy of martyrdom is one of the major reasons all security agencies are so uneasy over the visit of President Eisenhower, starting June 19.

Ordinary force can be beaten or contained by superior force, but Zengakuren is different. Many of its members seem to be bent on self-destruction against any odds.

Zengakuren is a loose federation (there are at least three groupings within it) of from 100,000 to 350,000 students. All are in college. No lower school members are accepted.

The leaders are so extreme they have been expelled from the Communist Party because they would not take orders. Many are anti-Kremlin, anti-Emperor Hirohito, anti-Ike, and just plain "anti." What they stand for is difficult to determine. Change probably would sum it up best . . . any change.

Most of the members are hard-studying students. Most of them go along on demonstrations in the same good spirit American college students go to a pre-football game rally—or on a panty raid.

But the leaders are more like professional agitators than students. They only toy at scholastic activities—as witness Karoji who must have set a record for college "cuts" by not attending class for a full year.

There appears to be a great difference between the Zengakuren hard core and the rioting students in Korea and Turkey. The cause of Korean students and the Turkish students was easy to understand—the lack of elemental freedoms. Here, the students have the freedom to tear down the town.

Why are students always the leaders?

Perhaps because the students are the most politically aware. The older generation never has played politics. In the old days it would have been dangerous.

But members of the new post-war generation have been given their heads. Sometimes they use them. Sometimes they don't.

Four Days; Night Sessions

Streamlined Convention Planned by GOP Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican organization leaders have approved plans for a streamlined five-session four-day national convention despite the renewed possibility of a contest over the presidential nomination.

* * *

National Chairman Thruston B. Morton predicted such a contest Thursday following New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's challenge to Vice President Richard M. Nixon to speak out on the issues. But Morton also stressed his belief that Nixon has the nomination practically in the bag.

* * *

Shortly afterward, a convention arrangements committee headed by Morton approved plans for a four-day convention opening July 25 in Chicago. Day and night sessions will be held the opening day, and only night sessions the following three days. Sessions would last three or four hours if no hitches developed.

Although no lengthy fights are anticipated, Jaren L. Jones of Utah said the national committee has reserved the International Amphitheater, the convention site, for eight days just in case. Jones is vice chairman of the arrangements committee.

* * *

Jones said the only day session of the convention will be for the purpose of organizing. This session on opening day will start at 10 a.m. Central Daylight Time. The evening session that day will start at 7:30 p.m. and will feature the keynote speech by Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota.

The Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday sessions also will start at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday night is being talked of for a speech by President Eisenhower. The platform may be presented the same night.

* * *

Wednesday night has been set aside for nominating speeches and roll calls on the nominations for president and vice president. The final night session will be for acceptance speeches by the nominees.

Jones said each day will be given a name with several hundred young Republicans dressed to identify themselves with the occasion. For example, Monday will be "Lincoln Day" since this is the party's 100th anniversary convention since Lincoln's first nomination. Tuesday will be "Eisenhower Day," Wednesday "GOP Day" and Thursday "Nominees Day."

One new feature this year will be a closed circuit television system which will carry convention proceedings to two huge TV screens back of the platform. These will enable delegates and spectators to see enlarged images of convention speakers and other convention happenings.

The dental care bill for all Americans last year amounted to $1.7 billion.

Hutchinson Enters Lt. Governor Race

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) Thursday officially bid for the office of lieutenant governor, saying again "it ought to be upgraded or abolished."

* * *

His wife, Janice, a former appropriations committee clerk, accompanied Hutchinson to the State Elections Bureau to file nominating petitions listing 13,403 signatures from 68 counties.

The race for the Republican lieutenant governor nomination is expected to develop into a three-cornered affair, with Rep. George W. Sallade of Ann Arbor and Clarence Reid of Detroit entering later.

Young Rep. Strange Out for Re-Election

LANSING (UPI) — Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr., (R-Clare), still the youngest man in the Legislature although he has served two terms, has announced he was a candidate for re-election.

Strange, who will be 26 next September, represents Isabella and Clare counties.

Chicago Loses 150,000 in Last 10 Years

CHICAGO (AP)—The City of Chicago has lost an estimated 150,000 residents in the last 10 years while Cook County may have gained up to a half million.

* * *

Theodore F. Olson, regional census director, said the nation's second largest city will undoubtedly drop below the 3.5-million mark from a 1950 total of 3,620,962.

He said the loss was due mainly to demolition of dwellings for expressway construction and migration to the suburbs.

* * *

He said Cook County, the country's most populous in 1950, should top the 5 million mark.

* * *

State-Sized County

Bardot's Husband Home After Rest in Hospital

Charrier entered the hospital for a rest cure May 11. While he was in the hospital, his wife continued work in Paris on a film "La Verite" (The Truth) which was responsible for an outburst of jealousy by Charrier before he went to the hospital. He was ordered off the set by director Henri-George Clouzot after a row while Brigitte was doing a love scene. The film is now almost finished.

Tooting at Friend Impolite

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please settle this question: Today I was bawled out by my mother for tooting the horn of my car to attract the attention of a girl I know very well who was walking on the sidewalk.

When she turned to look in my direction, I waved "hello."

I can't see anything wrong in this, but my mother made quite an issue of it, saying it was not only belittling to the girl, but also not the behavior of a properly brought up young man.

I was in heavy traffic and had to drive on because of the change in traffic lights. I would very much like to know what you think about this.

Answer: You were wrong for disturbing others with unnecessary horn blowing, and what was more important, you conspicuously called attention to yourself and the girl in public, which is exactly what you should always try not to do.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: My wedding is to be a very simple one with only about forty guests present. I am going to write my own invitations but am not sure just how these should be worded. Also, will you please tell me the correct stationery to use?

Answer: Plain white quite heavy paper marked with a house address is most suitable.

You would write something like the following: "Dear Mrs. Jones, John and I are to be married at Christ Church at noon on Thursday, the tenth of May.

We both want you and Mr. Jones to come to the church and afterward to breakfast at the Ritz. Hoping so much that you can come. Affectionately, Helen Greene."

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: When serving salad with the main course, but on a separate plate, is it necessary to provide a salad fork, or may the salad be eaten with the dinner fork?

I think it is much more practical to eat both meat and salad with the dinner fork, rather than switch from one to the other.

Answer: While it is proper to provide two forks, I agree with you that when served with the meat course, a separate salad fork is entirely unnecessary and may be omitted.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please explain the difference between an American plan and a European plan hotel? My friend and I have a difference of opinion on this.

Answer: American plan means so much a day for room, including meals. In the European plan hotel, the prices of rooms include no food.

New York Woman Helps Rule Baha'i Religion

NEW YORK (UPI)—She was born Mary Maxwell of New York, daughter of a famous architect.

Today, she is Ruhiyyih Rabbani, one of nine members of an international body directing the affairs of the Baha'i religious faith from its world headquarters in Haifa, Israel.

★ ★ ★

"All of my life I wanted to serve," said the attractive brown-haired Mrs. Rabbani, a widow in her late 40s. New York was one stop on a 22,000-mile trip to attend Bahai conventions in Toronto and Wilmette, Ill., and visit the faith's centers in North America, Europe and Africa.

★ ★ ★

In an interview, Mrs. Rabbani explained what Baha'is believe, how the religion has spread since it was founded in 1844 by a Persian scholar named Baha'u'llah, and how she met and married Shoghi Effendi Rabbani, the great grandson of the founder.

LIFE AFTER DEATH

"The faith is not a new religion," she said, "but a renewal of religion. We believe in the one-ness of God . . . life after death.'

"Just as there is physica' evolution," she continued, "so is there a spiritual revolution. God educates humanity . . . according to our needs and capacities. All the world's great religions are part of this same great process."

★ ★ ★

Bahais, she said, are Christian, work toward the principles of world brotherhood, for peace, and abolition of all prejudice because of race or creed.

★ ★ ★

There is no priesthood or clergy, she said; it is up to each member of the faith to tell others. "We are not an aggressive religion," she explained. In 116 years, Baha'u'llah's teachings have spread to 256 countries, territories and islands. She said there are 6,000 centers—1,700 of them in the United States.

WAS 1ST BAHA'I

Mrs. Rabbani's mother was a New York girl who married William Sutherland Maxwell, the Canadian architect who designed the parliament buildin gs at Regin a, Saskatchewan, and the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec City.

Her mother was a part of the first American pilgrimage to Haifa and the first Baha'i in North America.

★ ★ ★

Haifa became world headquarters, she said, because the founder died there in 1892—an exile from his native land because of his teachings.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rabbani said she was on a pilgrimage to Haifa when she met Rabbani, then the "guardia of the faith." They were married in 1937, and he gave her the name of Ruhiyyih—meaning "spirit-like." He died three years ago of a heart attack.

She will continue at least until 1963 as one of the nine appointed "hands of the cause" stationed in Haifa—all told, she said, there are 27 hands in various parts of the world. One other woman is stationed in Haifa—Mrs. Amelia Collins, 86, of Phoenix, Ariz.

★ ★ ★

"You havent asked me yet what has been the highlight of my visit to the United States," said the Baha'i leader.

★ ★ ★

"I'll tell you. I visited a Blackfoot Indian reservation where there are a lot of Baha'i members. I was invited to address their council and afterwards they named me 'Natu-okcist.'

★ ★ ★

"It means, 'blessed mother.'"

Abby Says: That'll Cure Hubby

Let Him Take Those Guests of His Out for Good Dinner

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is a wife supposed to do when her husband brings home unexpected company for dinner?

ABBY

He has done this to me several times and I get so mad at him I could break every dish in the place. There are just the two of us and sometimes I planned a very simple pick-up supper or just left-overs.

"Don't fuss," he tells me (right in front of them). "They will eat anything you have." Can you tell me how to handle this awkward situation?

NOT PREPARED

DEAR NOT PREPARED: In this enlightened age of the freezer and canned goodies there is no reason for a woman to be caught with her cupboard bare. Keep something on hand for just such occasions. And if you are too rattled to start cooking or thawing — just start dressing and let hubby take everyone out to dine. (That'll cure him.)

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a married man for 10 years. If his wife hasn't made him happy in the 30 years she has had him, why doesn't she step aside and give someone else a chance? She knows about this affair. If I were in her place I would never stand for it, but she has no pride.

Sometimes the "other woman" in the triangle is right. I believe I am. Why not have TWO happy people instead of THREE unhappy ones? I am tired of the few hours we have to be content with every week.

THE OTHER WOMAN

DEAR OTHER WOMAN: There are many reasons why a wife refuses to "step aside and give someone else a chance." First, she has respect for her marriage vows. Then, there could also be children and, finally, there is the everlasting hope that her husband will wake up and live right! When the flame dies (and it will!) the wife will have a husband in her old age. What will you have besides a guilty conscience and an aged chassis that no man wants?

DEAR ABBY: I don't know how to solve my problem without causing family trouble.

I have relatives who call my doctor and ask him questions about my condition. They know more about me than I know. I am over 21 and am not in critical condition. I am not financially obligated to them and I wouldn't think of calling their doctors and asking embarrassing questions. What does a refined woman do in a case like this?

CONVALESCING

DEAR CONVALESCING: A doctor does not give out information that could be embarrassing to his patient, so leave it in his able hands and don't worry.

Plans Complete for Central High Class Reunion

Arrangements for the February, June and August 1950 Pontiac Central High School class reunion are complete, William Hamilton, chairman, announces.

The dinner dance affair will begin at 6:30 p.m. June 18 at the Elks Temple. Reservations for 300 have been received by Brooke Bennett, reservations chairman, and others may still be sent in for the event.

★ ★ ★

Robert F. Beauchamp, an instructor at Wayne State University and supervisor of student English teachers from the college of education, will be guest speaker. Mr. Beauchamp was a former teacher in the Pontiac public school system, at Eastern Junior High and at Pontiac Central. While at Central, he headed the English department, advised the Tomahawk school paper editors, and brought Quill and Scroll society to the school.

★ ★ ★

Serving as master of ceremonies will be Donald J. Steele with music by a local orchestra. Paula Linn and Mike Ashley are decorations and prize chairmen, respectively.

August vows are planned by Judith E. O'Neill, daughter of the Robert J. O'Neills of Locklin Lane, and John David Angott, son of the Samuel T. Angotts of Orchard Lake. The bride-elect is an alumna of Barry College. Her fiance was graduated from Olivet College

Julie Webb views paper models she transformed into bronze for Saturday's Birmingham Arts Festival, then later to be accepted for the Michigan Artists Exhibition at the Detroit Institute of Arts. A member of Terra Cotta sculptors, she instructs at her studio in Royal Oak.

Detroit Show Accepts 4 Arts Festival Entries

The Birmingham Arts Festival will feature an art market each day beginning Saturday in Shain Park with items in bronze, wood, stone, glass, terra cotta and silver for sale. But four pieces of art will be missing from the display because of their acceptance for the Michigan Artists Exhibition at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Julie Webb, who has been instructing at her Royal Oak studio, will display her two bronzes entitled "Han-Shan" and "Yin and Yang."

Two members of her class also received recognition, Betsy Webster for her "Birds of a Feather," and Betty Reekie for "Cesare." The three are members of the Terra Cotta Sculptors, whose main exhibit during the arts festival will be in Grinnell's Auditorium on Maple, June 11-19.

Svea Kline, the club's first instructor and present teacher at the Bloomfield Art Assn., will display panels of fused glass.

Shower Lauds Janice Imboden

Janice Imboden was honored with a surprise bridal shower given by Mrs. Duell Parent of Whitfield street. Assisting her were Mrs. Paul Trosper and Mrs. George Morgan.

Miss Imboden will become the bride of Michael Parent July 2 at the Church of Christ on Perry street. Their parents are Mrs. Orpha Imboden of Lowell street and the late William C. Imboden and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Parent of West New York avenue.

Among the guests attending Tuesday evening's party were Mrs. Imboden, Mrs. James Flanary, Sandra Flanary, Mrs. Parent, Shirley Parent, Carolyn Parent, Mrs. John F. Parent and Christine Parent, Mrs. Ira Wilkins, Mrs. Edwin Prell and Mrs. Clarence Prell, all of Pontiac and Mrs. John C. Parent of Troy.

Chilean City in Terror Over Dams

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — While the rest of southern Chile faced up to the heavy task of reconstruction from the recent earthquakes, the almost womanless city of Valdivia lived in terror today. They feared dams holding back swollen Lake Rinihue might break any hour and engulf a large section of the city.

For the past four days thousands of persons have left by ship, helicopter, train, truck and on foot. Most of the evacuees were women and children. The interior ministry estimated 25,000 persons had pulled out of the stricken city, which formerly had a population of 100,000.

The earthquakes which made a shambles of Valdivia in late May blocked normal outlets of the lake.

Bob Hope Costars in 'Facts of Life'

Lucy Starts First Movie in 9 Years

By BOB THOMAS

★ ★ ★

The famed pair is making a movie—the real, big-screen kind for theaters, not the living room box. The provocative title is "The Facts of Life."

THOMAS

The facts of Lucille's life are that she is as happy as could be expected, that she is plunging into work following her marital and professional divorce from Desi Arnaz.

We shared lunch in her dressing room at the Desilu-Cahuenga lot, where she toiled her years in "I Love Lucy." She and Desi still own the studio, along with two others, and they are renting space to film makers Norman Panama and Melvin Frank. "They must have got a good deal or they wouldn't be working here," she explained.

TALKS MORE OF FUTURE

Lucille seemed restrained and contemplative as she talked about the present and future. She appeared less willing to glance at the past.

"I love working with Bob," she said. "He's always such fun and such a professional. It sounds funny, but I always feel like a real part of show business when I'm working with him.

"Doing a feature again after all these years is kind of hard. I had forgotten what pains they take to make movies.

"Another thing I had forgotten is how much time they take with your personal appearance. In TV, it didn't matter so much how I looked, so I never worried about it. But with the big screen, they're very careful. I guess it wouldn't hurt me to look good for a change."

She looks very good. She has taken off several pounds and seems as pretty and perky as in her glamor days at MGM.

As soon as she finishes the film in midsummer, she takes off for New York to begin work on a stage musical, "Wildcat."

"Its the story of a gal who works in the oilfields in the 1900s," she said.

"We'll open in New York around Thanksgiving. If it's a hit, I'll stay in it a year and a half. It's a rough role, with lots of rough stuff and singing and some dancing. I'm not worried that it will be too strenuous. I always wanted to be a stage actress and I never made it because I always had contracts in Hollywood. Now I can realize my ambition."

"No," she replied. "I was all set to do the show before it happened; I had signed the contracts and enrolled the kids in school in New York. No, its not a substitute. Nothing could substitute for what has been lost."

Con-Con Pushed by Williams

Favors Campaign for Petition Signatures in Letter to Romney

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams Thursday threw his weight behind a Citizens for Michigan drive for petition signatures to submit a constitutional convention proposal to voters in November.

He endorsed the campaign in a letter to George Romney, American Motors Corp. president and chairman of the Citizens group, which is backing an all-out, 10-day effort starting today.

Constitutional reform backers have only until July 8 to collect a minimum of 231,000 qualified signatures, with little more than one half that number now in hand, and hope for a much larger total.

Williams said reasonable men and women differed on the question of need for constitutional reform as proposed initially this year by the League of Women Voters and Michigan Jaycees.

But he said he felt it a "privilege" to join in its support.

"My decision was reached on the basis of 12 years experience as governor. In my opinion a constitutional convention is necessary," he wrote Romney.

"The purpose of the convention would be to modernize our Constitution and to provide one attuned to the age of the atom and the space vehicle, and one which would meet the problems that will confront Michigan in the years ahead."

Boys Vocational School Director Changes Jobs

LANSING (AP) — Robert Wisner, 50, chief of the Boys Vocational School at Lansing since 1950, has been named superintendent of Michigan Industries for the Blind at Saginaw.

He succeeds Earl Taylor, who is retiring after 35 years as head of the Saginaw facility.

The transfer was approved by the State Social Welfare Commission which also announced the promotions of:

Virgil Pinckney, 35, head of the BVS facility at Whitmore Lake since it opened in February, to chief of the BVS in Lansing.

The changes are effective July 1.

BIAS VICTIM — The Rev. R. Edwin King, 23-year-old Boston University theology student, has arranged for his release on bond from the Montgomery, Ala., city jail. He had been confined there since his sentence for trying to eat with a Negro in a Montgomery hotel coffee shop. King and the Negro were fined $200 and sentenced to 10 days. The Rev. King likened himself to the early Christian martyrs.

Further Drop in Steel Seen

Metal Magazine Cites Inventory Cutbacks and Slow Strike Recovery

The national metalworking weekly said Thursday the rate of new orders continues at a low level — at a point which is not enough to justify an operating rate of more than 50 per cent of capacity. This compares with scheduled operations this week of 62.3 per cent and actual output last week of 60.6 per cent.

The small improvement noted in recent weeks has not gained momentum, Iron Age commented.

The magazine laid the blame for the low level of business on two principal factors:

1. Continued cutbacks of inventory levels by major steel users. It estimated consumers have been using steel at the rate of a million tons a month in excess of deliveries.

2. Failure of many of the major steel users, such as oil equipment suppliers, railroads and heavy construction, to really get going after the steel strike. Of these three, only heavy construction shows any hope of a resurgence, Iron Age said.

★ ★ ★

The magazine also said the steel industry would be in a desperate situation if it were not for heavy production schedules by the auto industry.

It added, however, that continued high auto production is not enough to sustain a high rate of steel production without support of other major consumers.

In this connection, Iron Age pointed out that the inventory of unsold 1960 models, now estimated at 1,075,000 cars, is the highest in history.

Peyton Place Author Will Divorce 2nd Mate

LACONIA, N. H. (AP) — Grace Metalious, author of the best-selling novel Peyton Place, will file a divorce action against her second husband, her lawyer says.

Atty. Bernerd I. Snierson of Laconia said the suit against Laconia radio disc jockey Thomas J. Martin will be entered in Belknap County superior court here within a few days.

Mrs. Metalious and Martin, "have mutually decided to separate," Snierson said.

They were married in February 1958, three days after Mrs. Metalious was divorced from her first husband George A. Stowe, Mass., high school teacher.

Nieder Aims for 68 Foot Shot

DES MOINES (NEA)—"Maybe," said Bill Nieder, "it's just gotten to the point where Parry O'Brien can't get in the papers any more by throwing."

He went out that afternoon in the Drake Relays and whipped O'Brien by more than 10 inches with a torso-twisting shotput of 63 feet, 11½ inches. Parry said, "Nice going, Bill."

To which Bill answered curtly, "Thank you."

There went the most glorious grudge of the current track and field season that passports to Rome and the Olympic Games.

The burning question had been: Will O'Brien talk to Neider; will Nieder answer O'Brien

"O'Brien," he shrugged, "has had it. He's pretty much reached his limit." That limit is the current world standard of 63-4, while Nieder has up for acceptance 65-7.

"Like O'Brien says," he continued, "let the shotput do the talking. I didn't have to be egged on at first. He said I had atrocious form and was a cow pasture performer and that I only got my good throws in practice.

"You know, he's the only competitor I haven't ever talked to. He wants it that way, so I ignore him and don't try."

The tinge of bitterness in Nieder doesn't mar his exultation at the tremendous interest generated in the shotput this season by the four-way battle for world supremacy among himself, O'Brien and the kid Californians, Dave Davis and Dallas Long.

How far can they go, 70 feet maybe?

"Prior to this season," he admitted, "I said no; that 67 was the limit, but I've changed my thinking. The shotputter of the future will be 6-5 or 6-6 and weigh 270 or more. He'll be stronger and bigger than us, just as well coordinated and with burning desire."

"I've thrown 62-7 from a standing put. Track experts estimate you ought to be able to add six feet using the whole ring. I expect to throw 67 feet before the end of this season."

The burly infantry lieutenant, who must be reckoned number one, is the smallest of the four top contenders, at a puny 6-3 and 240 pounds. Long weighs 265, Davis 260, O'Brien 250.

★ ★ ★

Nieder didn't really want to be a shotputter. As a high school kid he started out to be a baseball pitcher, but suffered a compound fracture of the right wrist.

"I fell out of a swing," he explained, "trying to see how far we could jump and land in a cement courtyard."

★ ★ ★

Nieder started his sophomore year touted as the greatest linebacking prospect in KU history. After 12 minutes of the opener against Texas Christian, after the whistle had blown, he was hit laterally, and his career ended with severed cruciate ligaments in the medial collateral (those are Nieder's words) of the right knee.

He spent 10 weeks in a body cast, four weeks in a leg cast, two weeks on crutches. His weight dropped from 218 to 170. And in the spring he was once again an athlete, throwing the shot.

★ ★ ★

He runs with a limp, walks without a limp and has had his bad knee drained of fluid 26 times.

There's nothing wrong with Bill Nieder's arm, though. Ask Parry O'Brien.

Two-Day Show at South Lyon

One of the season's early horse shows takes place Saturday and Sunday, at South Lyon, when the South Lyon Jaycees hold their 2nd annual exhibition. The show will be held at the Woods and Waters Farm on Pontiac Trail at Nine-Mile Rd. Show will operate from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

★ ★ ★

The exhibition is a specialty affair, with Appaloosas, Quarter-Horses and Morgans, along with ponies to be shown. Judging will be on halter and performance.

Several exhibitions have been arranged of "cutting" horses in action, working with cattle. The exhibitions will be featured both days, says general chairman Everett Williams.

There are 84 classes, and post entries will be received.

★ ★ ★

Refreshments will be available on the grounds, and pony rides for children, along with entertainment by Milky the clown, will be featured each day.

U. of D. Picks Up Star Gridder and Better Card

From Our Wire Services

DETROIT — University of Detroit is strongly pushing its bid into big time football.

The Titans announced their schedule for the next two years and also made it known that all-state quarterback Ron Bishop from Royal Oak Shrine High School plans to enroll at U. of D. this Fall.

Coach Jim Miller made the announcements. He also announced that 200 pound Hamtramck football star Mitch Siskowski will also enter U. of D.

Gross had a great passing record in prep ranks and also on the Titan freshman team last fall. He will be a sophomore in September.

Bishop, who is 5-11 and weighs 180 pounds completed 74 of 143 passes for 1,330 yards and 10 touchdowns last season.

He easily took all-state honors. Shrine lost in the Detroit Soup Bowl game last season.

Miller also listed 9-game schedules for 1960 and 1961 to include such teams as Michigan State, Navy, Army, Iowa State, Cincinnati, Villanova, Boston College, Marquette and Arizona State.

Iowa State will open the home season this year and Michigan State will, close the season at East Lansing

U. of D. and Michigan State at one time were old rivals. There have been 13 games in the series with each team winning six and one ending in a tie.

In 1961, the Middies of Annapolis will visit Detroit Oct. 21st and two weeks later with Dayton sandwiched in between, the Titans will travel to West Point to meet Army.

The Cadets have met Detroit four times in the past and have won all four.

Stocks Stem Initial Retreat

NEW YOR (UP) — The stock market stemmed an initial retreat and showed an irregular pattern in early trading today. Trading slowed after an active start.

A spate of profit taking on this week's phenomenal rally threw the list for a loss at the opening for the first time this week.

After a spell of active trading, during which the ticker tape lagged for a nine-minute period, some losses were recovered. Though a slightly lower tendency was visible, the balance to the downside was not definite.

Many stocks traded about unchanged from yesterday's close. Gains and losses ranged from fractions to about a point. Slightly wider moves appeared among the more volatile or higher-priced issues.

* * *

Texaco advanced more than a oint in an oil group which showed scant change. Kennecott (ex dividend) dropped about a point. Other nonferrous metals were unchanged to easy.

* * *

Zenith rose more than a point. Drugs and tobaccos were mostly higher. Moderate gains were scored by Liggett & Myers, Lorillard, Merck and Schering.

* * *

Chrysler was firm in a mixed auto section. Ford dropped about a point. General Motors was unchanged.

Rails were narrowly mixed after their failure of yesterday to top the March recovery high.

Dead Stop Marks Trading in Grains

CHICAGO (UP)—Within five minutes after the opening gong, activity on the Board of Trade virtually stalled today with grain futures prices scarcely changed from previous closes.

Broadest fluctuations were in corn which eased about a half cent in the initial transactions.

The trade appeared to be making no push from either side and the small plus and minus signs were about equally divided.

Car Production Prediction Out

12.5 Per Cent Rise Over Last Year Seen This Week

DETROIT (UP)—Automotive News Thursday estimated production in United States plants this week at 143,000 cars, an increase of 24.2 per cent over last week's holiday-curtailed output of 115,243 units.

The trade paper said this week's production will top by 12.5 per cent the 127,170 cars produced during the week ending June 13 last year.

Compacts will account for 28 per cent of this week's production compared with 29.4 per cent last week.

Automotive News estimated truck production this week at 24,097 units compared with 22,228 last week and 27,895 in the comparable week a year ago.

Production at Canadian plants this week was estimated at 8,300 cars and 1,745 trucks. This compares with 8,668 cars and 1,927 trucks produced in Canada last week. The Canadian industry turned out 10,016 cars and trucks in the like week of last year.

Danny Thomas' Dream Comes True

Starting St. Jude Hospital Today

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A $2,399,099 children's hospital—conceived in adversity and financed through laughter — starts taking shape today.

* * *

The rumble of bulldozers marked the beginning of the end of a long campaign by comedian Danny Thomas, whose hawk nosed profile is familiar to millions of television viewers.

* * *

St. Jude's Hospital is his dream. He promised it to his patron saint during a down-and-out period and personally raised 1½ million dollars for it with benefit shows.

* * *

Thomas has sweated with the project, worried over it, almost given up on it. But now the construction contracts have been signed.

* * *

The wisecracking comedian who is very serious about the hospital, was jubilant Thursday night at a benefit played in a baseball park.

"Had the contract not been signed this trip there would not have been a contract signed," he told the some 3,000 spectators.

The hospital will treat all children's diseases but specialize in leukemia — cancer of the blood. Leukemia kills. There is no known cure.

* * *

But Thomas, a Catholic, has an almost mystic faith that St. Jude's Hospital is destined for great things. St. Jude is the patron saint for hopeless causes.

"It is my belief that St. Jude Hospital will one day announce to the world the great tidings of a cure for leukemia or cancer or even both," he said. "I am proud to beg for this project."

The project was born years ago when the comedian's career was in a slump. He prayed to St. Jude. When success swerved his way he vowed to build the hospital in gratitude.

Fulfillment of that vow is in sight.

Reserve Banks Get Rate Cut OK

8 Institutions Follow 2 Others; Could Charge as Little as 3½ Pct.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Eight more Federal Reserve banks received Federal Reserve Board permission Thursday to drop their charges on loans to commercial banks from 4 to 3½ per cent, effective Friday.

* * *

This credit-easing signal was first given last week when the board authorized the half point drop in the discount rate for the Federal Reserve banks of Philadelphia and San Francisco.

Authorized to take the same step were the reserve banks in New York, Dallas, Cleveland, Minneapolis and Kansas City.

The remaining two reserve banks in Boston and Atlanta are expected to follow suit soon.

* * *

Last week's discount rate cut touched off speculation that commercial banks would respond by lowering their interst rates on loans to the public. They have not yet done so.

Western Paper Praises Rocky for 'Service'

DENVER (UPI) — The Denver Post, largest newspaper in the Rocky Mountain area, said Thursday Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has performed "a signal service" in trying to force Vice President Nixon "to stop playing the part of a mute and tell the country where he stands."

The Post said the New York governor has cast himself in the role of the conscience of the Republican Party.

"The Nixon strategy has been based on the theory that it is better to remain silent and let the nomination fall in the lap of the vice president through manipulation of the party machinery rather than go out and win it through a display of the qualities of leadership," the Post said editorially.

* * *

The newspaper said the American people, "in this year of tension and trouble," have the right to expect all aspirants for the presidency to disclose what they would do about bolstering defenses, catching up with the Russians in space, about disarmament, and other important issues."

Kways Found Boost to Residential Values

LANSING (UP) — There's good indication that values of residential property go up when an expressway is built nearby, the State Highway Department said today.

That's contrary to the opinion of some land appraisers and condemnation commissioner which contend six- and eight-lane highways cut home prices nearby, the department said.

Lay, Professional Leaders Seek Unity

Hospital Psychiatric Units Discussed

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

Differences were set aside last night when lay and professional health leaders joined to pose a unified approach to the proposition of establishing a psychiatric unit in one or more of the county's three general hospitals.

* * *

The Michigan Society for Mental Health and other factions have been critical of the rate of progress for providing such a service here.

Hospital administrators have alleged that their critics were unfamiliar with present efforts and the reality of existing problems.

Attending the meeting at the Fox and Hounds Inn were representatives of the Oakland County Medical Society, the Michigan Society for Mental Health, St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital and Pontiac General Hospital and other interested doctors.

* * *

Dr. Jacques S. Gottlieb, director the renowned Lafayette Clinic in Detroit, told the group that a psychiatric unit is very similar to any other in a general hospital.

"There need be very little restriction of the kinds of patients to be admitted," Gottlieb said. "With present therapies, isolation is not as necessary. Drugs are very helpful. Acute patients can be controlled. The psychiatric service is usually the quietest in the whole hospital."

Gottlieb advised the group that a psychiatric unit, once integrated in a general hospital, can carry its own weight financially.

"There would be no bed occupancy problem," he said. "You will always have a waiting list. You can stand a 20 to 25-bed unit without any difficulty."

COST IS LESS

"The total cost per patient per day is less to the hospital for a psychiatric unit than a surgery unit."

Gottlieb reported, also, that Blue Cross pays the same cost per patient day for psychiatric beds as for beds in any other unit of a general hospital.

Dr. Ivan LaCore, chief of the psychiatric committee of Pontiac General Hospital, assured those present that there is a definite need for a psychiatric ward in the county.

"There is no question," said LaCore, "that a 25-bed unit in Oakland County would be full. There is a need for it in this community. It is my opinion that each of the three hospitals should have a psychiatric unit."

Harold Webster, executive director of the Michigan Society for Mental Health, said federal aid priority is given to general hospitals willing to establish psychiatric units.

* * *

It was agreed at the meeting's close that the session helped establish understanding and a point of departure for positive steps to provide facilities for the mental health needs of the community.

Wants Dispersals of B47s

AF to Land Jet Bombers at Commercial Airfields

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force announced Thursday that its B47 jet bombers will operate periodically from commercial airports to disperse the U.S. bomber force more widely and make it a more difficult target for attack.

The Air Force described the operation, which will start in a few days, as "periodic dispersal training."

It said the aim is to familiarize bomber crews with civilian airports and military basis other than those of the Strategic Air Command.

The Air Force refused to say whether the jet bombers would be carrying nuclear weapons when operating on ground alert or in transit to overseas bases to have their weapons with them.

The Air Force also refused to say what commercial airports would be used. It was assumed they would be fields with runways about 8,000 feet long.

It presumably will be necessary for the bomber crews to notify commercial airport control towers if they are arriving with nuclear materials aboard.

The Air Force said:

"The six-jet B47s will be deployed from their regular bases to other airfields for short periods, making it impossible for any enemy to forecast the location of the Strategic Air Command medium bomber force at any given time."

The Strategic Air Command has been spreading its B52 heavy bombers and their jet tanker planes over additional bases of its own for several years.

* * *

Periodic use of other than SAC bases and of civilian fields is a "practical and economical way" to spread out the medium B47 bomber force, the Air Force said.

Firms Increase Expansion Pace

Spending Is Scheduled to Reach 3-Year High This Summer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Business investment spending to enlarge and expand production capacity is increasing and is scheduled to hit a three-year high this summer, the government reports.

* * *

It said a survey of businessmen's plans for purchase of new equipment, plant expansion and construction of new facilities showed 1960 spending at a near record.

The survey is made quarterly by the Commerce Department and Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). They reported that capital outlays reached expectations in the first three months of the year and will continue to climb into the July-August-September period.

* * *

The expected 1960 total would be a big jump from the low 1959 level of $32,540,000,000. Administration economists often have cited this pickup as one of the few big plus marks in an economic picture which generally shows high but only slightly rising levels of activity.

Seymour, who was born in Detroit, was assistant pastor at St. Ignatius Church in Chicago 26 years. He previously taught at Loyola Academy in Chicago, and at Prairie Du Chien, Wis.

Biggest Oil, Gas Leases Since 1951 Okayed by State

HIGGINS LAKE (UP) — Oil and gas leases covering nearly 84,000 acres of state-owned lands, the largest area leased since 1951, were approved by the State Conservation Commission yesterday.

* * *

Bids on the lands, offered at a public auction in Lansing last week, will bring more than $142,000 to the state's general fund.

The upturn in leasing reflects a revival of interest in Michigan lands, boosted for the most part by growing production from the Albion-Scipio oil field near Albion. Relatively new, the field produced about 30 per cent of the state's oil output last year, the State Conservation Department reported.

Most of the land in the Albion area already has been leased.

Last week's auction brought bids for land-lease in 31 counties of the Lower Peninsula. Charlevoix and Montmorency counties topped the list, with leases covering 12,562 and 9,613 acres respectively.

ORDINANCE NO. 42

An Ordinance Amending Ordinance No. 27 (Zoning Ordinance) of the Township of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan.

The Township of Pontiac Ordains:

No Parks Fee 'til '61

HIGGINS LAKE (AP) — Michigan residents will be able to enjoy the State's 60 parks and recreation areas for another year without admission charges, the State Conservation Commission has decided.

A bill passed by the 1960 legislature authorized a $2 windshield sticker admitting a car and its occupants to the parks for one year. Gov. Williams allowed the measure to become law without his signature.

However, the law does not become effective until Aug. 17 when the peak of the park season will be over. Because of this, the commission voted yesterday that sticker permits would not be required this year.

The commission also noted that the legislature failed to provide the estimated $100,000 to $200,000 appropriation needed to cover costs of collecting fees.

When the free program finally is put into operation, proceeds will be used to finance a bond issue to improve and expand the parks system.
