

Joining of Private, Public School Aid Bills Is Hinted

From Our News Wires
LANSING — Bills for tax aid to public and parochial schools may be consolidated into a single measure in a move that could force foes of parochial aid to either vote for the program or doom the public schools.

House Speaker William A. Ryan yesterday said the surprise move, sure to be opposed by anti-parochial forces, could come this month to assure both public and private school systems they will have the money to keep their doors open this fall.

Ryan, D-Detroit, made the announcement shortly after the House Education Committee voted, 7-5 with one absence, to recommend passage of the major parochial bill before the 1969 session. The tax fund outlay was boosted from $40 million to $45 million prior to the predictable ballot.

Ryan was not specific on how the marriage of the bills would occur. He said only that "some sort of arrangement" may be ironed out by the leaders of both parties and sponsors of the tax aid legislation.

FINANCING OF MEASURE
The education committee's action

shifted the parochial spotlight to the House Appropriations Committee, which must say how the measure would be financed.

The measure — facing heavy opposition from such groups as the Michigan Education Association and the Michigan Federation of Teachers — would give state funds to intermediate school districts for the purchase of educational services from private and nonpublic schools.

Recent polls, however, have shown a majority of Senate members opposing the bill. House sentiment is uncertain.

Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin, D-Berkeley, meanwhile, called on Gov. William Milliken to "reverse his timetable" for confronting the issue of educational tax reform.

Levin predicted "a succession of Youngtowns" in the Ohio city where deficits forced school closings last year.

"At the end of the last school year, 75 Michigan districts had deficits of over $20 million," Levin said. "Nor can our large urban districts be expected to cope with the crucial problems which they face, if they are plagued by imminent financial disaster."

Levin blasted Milliken's statements that his recommended budget for 1969-70 is inviolable.

"No budget can be sacred when it falls so far short of the demands of the educational system," Levin said.

Ike Given Final Salute in Heartland He Loved

ABILENE, Kan. (AP) — The body of Dwight David Eisenhower was laid to rest today at the end of a long trail that carried him to the pinnacle of American military and political power.

Cannon boomed a 21-gun salute and riflemen loaded three volleys.

The train bearing the body and the former president's family had pulled into this town of 8,000 around dawn, after a long journey from Washington and a state funeral.

City Gets Grant for Housing Plan

A grant of $3,043,364 to provide 197 units of low-cost housing in Pontiac for the elderly has been approved by the office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). It was announced this morning by Rep. Jack McDonald, R-19th District.

The funds will provide the city with a high-rise apartment dwelling at Michigan and Anderson with twin six-story towers connected by a one-story recreation building.

The funds will go to the Pontiac Housing Commission under the Congressional "turn-key" program for low-cost housing.

Charles Langs Inc. will construct the project and when completed the city will pay Langs for the property. Langs, a Pontiac developer, received approval for his site plan from the Pontiac Planning Commission March 19. Construction could start early next month and be completed late next year.

Roy MacAfee, housing director, said the HUD grant now puts 431 units of low-cost housing for the elderly within reach of the city. Langs is also building a similar project with 234 units at Auburn and Carriage Circle where first rentals are expected to be available late this year.

The housing units will be available to elderly persons or couples at rents that range as low as $30 per month. Income maximums now allowable in the units are $3,000 yearly for a couple.

State Board for MCOM Sought

LANSING (UPI) — A bill to establish a state board for the fledgling Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine (MCOM) at Pontiac emerged yesterday from the Senate Education Committee.

The measure, which is frowned upon by the state's medical doctors, now goes to the appropriations committee, which could provide the first tax funds for the school.

A recent study by the medical society shows that 12,400 more physicians and surgeons will be needed by 1970 and 18,000 in 1980 and the osteopaths feel they can help fill the order with their own school.

Temperatures Falling in Area

Temperatures are expected to fall steadily today to a low of 20 to 25 tonight. Rain ending today will leave skies clear tonight.

Tomorrow will be mostly fair and cold. There's a chance of rain Friday.

The board would consist of eight members appointed by the governor. Its primary purpose would be to govern the institution and receive monies for its support.

The college expects to complete construction of the entire school in 1971 and finish a freshman medical class of 64 students in 1972. The first class of 16 students would graduate with doctorate degrees in osteopathic medicine in 1973.

Resurrection Story Unshaken

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third in a series of five Easter articles about the mystery of the resurrection of Jesus. It deals with the evidence for the historical occurrence of that strange and hope-lifting event.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

A brilliant Jewish scholar, who initially had led a campaign of raids, persecution and arrests to try to stamp out claims that Jesus was raised from the dead, later summarized the firsthand testimony he had accumulated that it actually had happened.

"He appeared to Cephas (Peter), then to the 12," Paul wrote to believers at Corinth. "Then He appeared to more than 500 brethren at one time, most of whom are still alive . . . Then He appeared to James, then to all the apostles. Last of all, as to one untimely born, He appeared also to me."

PSH Medical Chief Asks State Aid Hike

Pontiac State Hospital's medical superintendent appealed to a state legislative committee in Lansing yesterday for more money to increase the hospital's staff and repair some of its drafty windows.

Dr. Donald W. Martin told the Senate Appropriations committee that the hospital could face an operating deficit of up to $3.5 million next year "if we had all the people we needed."

hospital's nonmedical administrative officer, has said.

MINOR CUTBACKS
Although the mental hospital is presently running a deficit, minor cutbacks in office supplies and in personnel are being made to break even, according to Bax. Dr. Martin called for increases of:

- $175,000 for 26 positions to relieve a nursing shortage in care of the elderly.
- $63,350 to cover the half-year costs of salaries for personnel working in a new food services building, scheduled for completion in December.
- $75,000 for 10 positions in the adolescent children's program.
- $50,000 in capital outlay funds "to replace some of the most defective windows in the (90-year-old) main building."

That, Dr. Martin said, would help alleviate a room heating problem.

$412,000 to supplement stipends of four psychiatric residents whose salaries are paid by the federal government.

But Dr. Martin told the committee he would settle for "only the highest priorities" amounting to $375,000 beyond the nearly $12 million, including federal funds, recommended for PSH by Gov. William Milliken.

Gov. Milliken's budget request for the hospital "provides only for a continuation of present programs" which in some cases are below minimum needs, Dr. Martin has said.

The $3.5-million budget increase is "what we'd need if we did the job we'd like," Dr. Martin said.

Meanwhile, Rep. Loren D. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, yesterday urged the House Policy Committee to act favorably on his resolution to look into widespread inefficiency and waste of tax funds in the state's $22-million mental health program.

He cited a hospital study which indicated the staff level should be increased from 1,150 to 1,457. The superintendent told the committee in his annual budget presentation for 1969-70:

State Police; Leon Cohan, deputy state attorney general; John Martin of Grand Rapids, vice chairman of the Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice.

MEETING IS SET
The first meeting of the study committee is scheduled for next Wednesday. The governor asked the group to make specific recommendations on or before Aug. 1 if they feel such a commission is needed.

"I believe that such a study should precede legislative action in this field," Milliken said.

Judge Pratt Heads Study on Grand Jury Revision

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken today announced appointment of a special study committee to determine the need for creating a special commission on investigations.

State Police; Leon Cohan, deputy state attorney general; John Martin of Grand Rapids, vice chairman of the Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice.

Judge Phillip Pratt of Oakland County Circuit Court was named chairman of the study committee.

Meanwhile, Rep. Loren D. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, yesterday urged the House Policy Committee to act favorably on his resolution to look into widespread inefficiency and waste of tax funds in the state's $22-million mental health program.

Such a commission possibly could "replace Michigan" one-man grand jury and special 23-man citizen grand jury systems, the governor indicated.

"I believe that such a study should precede legislative action in this field," Milliken said.

Citing his previous special message to the Legislature on crime, Milliken said that over the years it has become apparent that such jury systems "had only a limited success in the fight against organized crime and the corruption of public officials."

Meanwhile, Rep. Loren D. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, yesterday urged the House Policy Committee to act favorably on his resolution to look into widespread inefficiency and waste of tax funds in the state's $22-million mental health program.

"I have concluded that Michigan needs to look carefully at the possibility of an entirely new structure for this purpose," Milliken said.

Meanwhile, Rep. Loren D. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, yesterday urged the House Policy Committee to act favorably on his resolution to look into widespread inefficiency and waste of tax funds in the state's $22-million mental health program.

Such a commission on investigations, Milliken said, would consist of a small number of members chosen from the most qualified judicial, legal and law enforcement circles on a nonpartisan basis and should have a permanent staff, subpoena power, power to give witness immunity and broadened contempt powers.

Racial Fears Stirred by Probe Call

LANSING (AP) — Liberal Democrats warned of "inflaming heated feelings" and possible racial conflicts as the Senate Tuesday called for an investigation of Recorder's Court Judge George Crockett's handling of arguments in the weekend shooting death of a Detroit policeman.

"The racist approach of this Senate forbids bad for our future," said Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, a Negro.

"The unusual action of this body to lynch the black judge will be understood in the black community," he said.

RESOLUTION OFFERED

"We're calling the matter to the attention of the commission for whatever action they feel appropriate."

Meanwhile, Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, offered a resolution calling on

Gov. William Milliken to remove Crockett from office. That measure, referred to House Committee for study, cited Crockett's alleged "acts of judicial indiscretion."

The harshly worded resolution referred to Crockett's release of some 100 Negroes arrested Saturday after Patrolman Michael J. Czapski of Detroit was shot to death and another policeman wounded.

The incident flared on Detroit's near west side, site of the bloody riots of 1967.

The Richardson resolution, signed by at least 19 other senators, said allegations about Crockett, "if true, would be clearly prejudicial to the administration of justice in the city of Detroit and the state of Michigan."

Young cited what he termed "unequal justice" and mentioned the release on bond of a white Detroit policeman charged with murder in the Algiers Motel slaying during the riots.

"There was no request for an investigation of the courts during the riots," he said. "There was no request for an investigation of the judge who turned a confessed person—a policeman who murdered — free on $5,000 bond."

The investigation should be placed in the hands of those "who are in a position to judge," argued Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe, R-Dearborn. "The policeman who was killed had not even drawn his gun," she said. "It behooves us to see that this does not happen again."

Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin, D-Berkley, opposed the resolution, saying "This will inflame already heated feelings on all sides of the problem."

Birmingham Second School Bond, Millage Vote Muled

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education is seriously considering repeating its request, probably in June, for approval of the recently defeated bond issue proposal, a board spokesman said.

The millage renewal of 7.5 mills would be on the same ballot.

It had been anticipated that the board would come back quickly for the 7.5-mill renewal. However, some observers have felt it might be risky asking for both the millage renewal and bond issue again at the same time.

The spokesman added that the board may try for the bond issue again due to the relative closeness of vote at the March 26th election.

NARROWER MARGIN

The bond issue lost by a 5,976 to 4,774 vote. The millage renewal was defeated by nearly 5,500 votes.

Modification of the $4.5-million bond issue proposal probably will be in order. However, the millage renewal request will have to stay the same since it is a must for school district operation in the 1969-70 school year, the spokesman said.

The building program called for expansion to the district's two high schools — Seaholm and Groves — to meet expanding enrollments.

Official board action setting an election date is expected in the near future.

PRELIMINARY PLANS

The board is to meet with its Citizens Advisory Committee at 8 p.m. today to draft preliminary plans for the new election package.

At its meeting last night, the Board approved 14 curriculum recommendations for the 1969-70 school year and tabled six others for further study.

Changes approved include: establishment of elective courses in probability and statistics, linear algebra and computer mathematics in the mathematics department and institution of an independent study course in art.

In home economics, a pilot semester course for boys will be offered at the high school level. A one semester course in fashion and fabrics will also be offered.

DEPARTMENTAL CHANGE

The present marriage and family course now offered as a home economics elective will be transferred to the social studies department and the title changed to family sociology.

Basic business and creative writing will be added as ninth grade elective courses.

Nixon Mystery: Soviet, Ky Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unannounced visit with a Soviet delegation and a discussion of peace "progress" with a South Vietnamese leader remained today as mysterious—footnotes to a period of pagentry and sorrow.

Then came a up in connection with President Nixon's meetings with foreign officials here for the funeral of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The President cleared his schedule of all other events Tuesday to meet with the officials before flying today to the Eisenhower funeral in Abilene, Kan., and then on to Key Biscayne, Fla., for the weekend.

While briefing newsmen on the meetings, press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler made no mention of a private session Monday night with the Soviet nuclear delegation. Meetings with foreign officials here for the funeral of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He did mention five other private meetings Nixon had the same night. But when asked about the session with Marshall Vasily Chuykov and other members of the Soviet delegation, Ziegler at first hedged.

U.S. Judge Says Draft Law Illegal

BOSTON (AP) — A federal judge says the 1967 draft law violates the constitutional rights of atheists and agnostics by allowing conscientious objector status for religious reasons only.

"It is difficult to imagine any grounds for this statutory discrimination except religious discrimination," said U.S. District Court Judge Charles E. Wyanski Jr.—and that, he held, is against the First Amendment.

The First Amendment states that "Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

Judge Wyanski's ruling came in the case of John H. Sisson, 22, of Lincoln, Mass., recently convicted of violating the Selective Service Act by refusing to induction into the armed forces.

'ILLEGAL AND IMMORAL'

Sisson said he regarded the Vietnam war as "illegal and immoral."

Sisson came before the court for sentencing, but instead Wyanski stayed sentence pending a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court on the question raised.

"When the law treats a reasonable, conscientious act as a crime, it subverts its own power," Wyanski said. "It invites disobedience. It impairs the very habits which nourish and preserve the law."

B52 Cutback a Peace Move?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomats speculated today that a projected cut in B52 flights against targets in South Vietnam and Laos might be presented by the United States in the Paris peace talks as a de-escalation of the war.

Nixon administration officials say privately, as Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird emphasized publicly yesterday, that the reason for the planned reduction is not diplomatic but financial. Laird said his department had to cut military costs.

The rate of sorties for the B52's has been running at 1,800 a month. Under the budget proposed for fiscal year 1970 which begins next July 1, the rate would be cut back to 1,600 a month. This could mean simply that fewer planes would be involved in any particular raid. It would not necessarily mean fewer targets would be hit.

SCENE OF MINE TRAGEDY — An aerial photograph shows two entrances to a coal mine near Barroteran, Mexico, where a searing methane gas explosion trapped 151 to 155 miners two days. It was generally believed all were dead. Before dawn today 23 bodies had been recovered. Seven experts of the U.S. Bureau of Mines in Washington are to reach the small-mining town later today to advise Mexican authorities on faster removal of the dead and restoration of the shattered mine.

Outnumbered Yanks Repel N. Vietnamese Attackers

SAIGON (AP) — Pounded by rockets and mortars and outnumbered two to one, fewer than 100 U.S. infantrymen fought off a North Vietnamese attack today while American helicopter gun-ships and fighter-bombers pounded the enemy.

Military spokesmen said 49 North Vietnamese bodies were found and there was not a single American casualty.

First Lt. Tony Smith of Houston, Tex., commander of the 25th Division company that battled the North Vietnamese for two hours 25 miles northeast of Saigon had anticipated the attack. On night patrol yesterday, his troops spotted enemy soldiers on the move in small groups. Smith ordered his men to "dig in real deep."

At 1 a.m., about 200 North Vietnamese soldiers from the Cu Chi Regiment attacked behind a mortar barrage, a stream of rocket-propelled grenades and machine-gun fire.

2 SMALL SKIRMISHES

In two other small engagements initiated by U.S. patrols, American paratroopers and air cavalrymen reported killing 15 enemy at a cost of one American killed and 21 wounded.

About 20 rocket and mortar attacks hit allied bases and towns overnight. U.S. headquarters said casualties and damage were light.

The lack of heavier shelling and reports of only scattered ground fighting appeared to support U.S. intelligence assessments that the Communist command has eased its five-week-old offensive while its forces receive replacement and supplies.

FTC's Reputation Is on the Line

Hearings on Gas Station 'Giveaways' End

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission, under attack as a do-nothing agency, has been called on to finally take action on gas station games, the "giveaways" denounced by critics as deceptive, fraudulent and costly to unprotected consumers.

The commission, ending six weeks of hearings on the matter today, was asked on one hand to ban the games entirely. On the other were claims the FTC doesn't have the right to take any action involving the games. In between were calls to try regulating the games before considering a total ban.

Before the hearings began, an FTC staff report denounced the games as deceptive, fraudulent and costly to consumers who were said to have only a slight chance to win a prize. The staff report charged the cost of the games is passed on to the consumer in higher prices.

Of the major oil companies, only Atlantic Richfield urged the FTC to prohibit the promotions. Representatives of retail gasoline dealers urged, it last month to outlaw them completely.

Seven producers of the retail games pleaded today with the commissioners to try regulating them before issuing an outright ban.

The Humble Oil Co., however, denied yesterday that the commission even has authority to regulate — much less ban — the games.

Czech Reds Crack Down on News

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The Communist leaders of Czechoslovakia announced today a far-reaching crackdown against the country's newspapers, radio and television and said they would no longer tolerate any deviation from the Moscow-imposed party line.

The announcement was carried in radio broadcasts from Prague. One broadcast said the nation was "on the verge of disaster," indicating the Russians had threatened to use troops to impose their will.

The move evidently came in response to a Soviet ultimatum following last week's anti-Soviet demonstrations during which the offices of the Soviet airline Aeroflot were sacked in Prague and Soviet installations were damaged elsewhere in the country.

The outbursts came during celebrations of the Czechoslovak ice hockey team's victory over the Soviet Union in Stockholm, Sweden.

PUNISHMENT VOWED

In a resolution, the party's ruling presidium said "the organizers of the lawless acts will be punished. It did not say who the organizers were but blamed Czechoslovak mass media for "creating an atmosphere of artificially evoked emotions." It added that "anti-Soviet forces" were responsible for the situation.

Despite the Soviet-led military intervention last August, designed to halt the reform course of the Prague leadership, the country's news media have up to now remained relatively free of censorship.

The language of the resolution seemed to suggest that this would end now.

The presidium added it also would tolerate no longer any deviation from the party line.

"It was a mistake that those Communists who acted at variance with the party line were not called to account." It added and singled out popular reform Communist leader Josef Smrkovsky for criticism.

Official Soviet newspapers had charged that Smrkovsky took part in the victory celebration in Prague. This was denied in Prague.

Vote Puts Yorty, Negro in Runoff

By The Associated Press
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thomas Bradley, a Negro who won substantial white support, forced incumbent Sam Yorty into a runoff for mayor of Los Angeles in a day of balloting that also provided a political springboard for Barry Goldwater Jr.

The 30-year-old son of the 1964 Republican presidential nominee ran away from the opposition in a special congressional election yesterday. He emerged as the favorite to capture the seat in a May runoff in the Republican-minded San Fernando Valley district.

Republican Goldwater will face Democrat John Van De Kamp, a former U.S. Justice Department attorney, for a seat vacated when Ed Reinecke quit Congress to accept appointment as Gov. Ronald Reagan's lieutenant governor.

Democrats claimed victory in the only other congressional contest yesterday.

LAIRD'S SEAT

Wisconsin State Assemblyman David R. Oby defeated Republican State Sen. Walter John Chilsen in the battle for the seat left by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.

Democratic National Chairman Fred R. Harris cheered the victory in what he called "the very region of the country which elected Richard Nixon president last November." He said it's the first time a Democrat has won the seat in the 7th District.

Virtually complete returns gave the Democrat about a 2,000-vote edge.

The Los Angeles City election saw Bradley, a 51-year-old attorney and former police lieutenant, open up a wide early lead in the 14-man race.

NEARLY HALF

In a city with an estimated 15 per cent Negro population, he had almost 42 per cent of the vote with half the precincts in Yorty had 26 per cent and the other candidates were far behind.

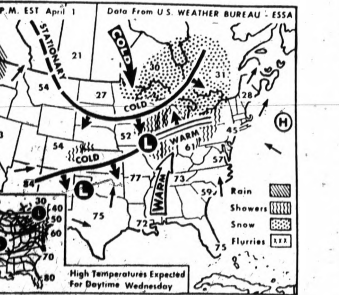

Bradley had the backing of Democratic party leaders in the non-partisan election, and Yorty was in his familiar role as a party maverick.

TV Film Advisers

2 Blind Women Coach Cast

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two attractive, miniskirted young blind women served as technical advisers on a movie, teaching sighted actors how to act blind.

And, says blonde Patty Gibbons, 23, blind since birth, they look forward to "seeing" the movie.

Seeing it?

"Yes," she said. "Just by listening. When blind people say 'see' they mean 'understand.' To say 'listening' to television is, we feel, an unnecessary allusion to a handicap. There's no need to keep pointing it up."

Mrs. Gibbons, whose husband Jim drives a soft-drink delivery truck, operates the telephone switchboard at the Braille Institute in Los Angeles, guided by pop-up buttons instead of lights on the trunk lines.

ONE USES CANE

Accompanied by her German shepherd guide dog Marga, she was taken to the movie set last week with Juanita Davis, 28, a former secretary who lost her sight last December. The brunette Miss Davis, a student at the Braille Institute, uses a cane instead of a guide dog.

Miss Davis coached eight performers, including Milton Berle, Arthur O'Connell and Dina Merrill, all playing blind persons, on how to handle a cane. Mrs. Gibbons showed Miss Merrill her technique for knitting by counting the stitches and rows and feeling the depth of patterns.

Mrs. Gibbons is knitting a blanket for the baby she expects in September. Miss Merrill is required to knit in her role.

In "Against Heaven's Hand," an ABC-TV "movie of the week" for next season, the eight people bound for a Seattle convention of the blind are the only survivors of a plane crash in the Northwest wilderness.

The actors spent two days at the Braille Institute taking, as Miss Merrill put it, "a capsule course for the blind."

"We ate a whole meal blind," she reported, "and the food lost half its taste because we couldn't see it."

ARMED AGAINST RUBELLA — Getting a new rubella vaccination being distributed in Oakland County is Karen Barnes, 8, of 2370 Walton, Avon Township. Administering the vaccine, developed by Parke, Davis, and Co., is Dr. C. Dale Barrett Jr. of Detroit, administrator of the program. Looking on is Karen's father, Dr. Bradley Barnes, and another of his daughters, Brenda, 9.

Pupils in 3 Districts to Get Shots

Rubella Vaccination Plans Detailed

By ED BLUNDEN

Details on a program to immunize between 15,000 and 20,000 Oakland County children against rubella (German measles) were released yesterday.

The program will begin April 14 in three school districts, Waterford, Farmington and Walled Lake.

Information was supplied news media yesterday by county health officials and representatives of Parke, Davis & Co., developers of the new vaccine.

The program is a pilot project which is expected to become a national effort to eliminate the disease.

Dr. C. Dale Barrett Jr. of Detroit, the program physician for Parke, Davis, said it is believed that an effective anti-rubella program would prevent some 20,000 deformed children annually.

POSSIBLY DISASTROUS

Rubella, also known as three-day measles, is one of the mildest diseases known, Dr. Barrett pointed out. However, the effects are often disastrous to unborn children when the mother carries the child is infected.

The child is often born with defects in hearing, sight, heart or brain or all these. Chances of child damage when mothers have rubella are from 30 to 60 per cent, a public health official pointed out.

Studies of deaf children in the Detroit area indicated that from 25 to 50 per cent of the cases stemmed from rubella in the pregnant mother.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

Area News

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2, 1969

A-4

The relatively high incidence of defects coming to the attention of public health officials presently is believed to be the result of the 1964 rubella epidemic.

ANOTHER OUTBREAK

Dr. Barrett said U.S. Public Health Department officials are expecting another outbreak in epidemic proportions next winter. The disease has a severity cycle of from five to seven years.

Children from kindergarten to third grade in the three county school districts will be immunized at their respective schools.

There is no cost to the parents. The drug firm and the county health department are funding the operation. Parents are being sent information on the program along with forms to be signed authorizing the inoculation.

Though the program presently is limited to the specified school grades and to the three districts, the immunizations eventually are expected to become part of the regular preschool program.

NOT EXPENSIVE

When the drug goes on the market—expected by late summer or fall—it will be available to older persons. It is not expected to be expensive, falling in the $1-to-$2 range.

As part of the program, each child's blood will be tested, at original injection time and about six weeks later. This will be done to check on the presence of antibodies (immunity).

Following the injections, about 10 per cent of the children receiving the vaccine will be checked for the next several years, Dr. Barrett said the drug is intended to give lifetime immunity, but final proof of this will take many years.

Dr. Barrett stressed importance of mass application of the vaccine. He said if at least 75 per cent of the population were inoculated, the disease probably would disappear.

COOPERATION HOPED

Dr. Barrett said he hoped all parents in this area would cooperate. Reactions from the vaccine are quite rare and quite mild, he said. In some cases, mild joint soreness or swelling lasting a few days could occur (these are rubella symptoms, also).

Not eligible for the program are children who might have leukemia or cancer, or who are being treated with cortisone-like drugs, or who may be allergic to dogs or have any other serious allergy, or have convulsions or seizures.

In case of doubt, contacting of family physicians is urged.

The program has the approval of the Oakland County Medical Society.

ALL WILL GET SHOT

Though those who have the disease are immune, all children whose parents approve in the three districts will be given the vaccine.

This is being done because rubella often is diagnosed incorrectly and immunity therefore is uncertain.

Many mothers think their children have had the disease, but actually it was a related one, Dr. Barrett said.

Public Hearing on ABM Is Monday at Courthouse

"We hope to generate enough public interest to stop the construction of this nuclear missile system," said Niles Olson, Democratic member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

He has called a public hearing on the issue for 7:30 p.m. Monday at the courthouse auditorium, Pontiac Lake and Telegraph.

Olson said he opposes construction of the proposed anti-ballistic missile (ABM) system, now under consideration by Congress.

In earlier studies it was indicated a base would be constructed in Oakland County, although that is not now thought to be the case.

Olson's district, 22, Orion and Pontiac townships, contains one of the sites at which soil tests were reportedly performed by federal officials.

However, the supervisor stressed he is not opposed to the ABM system just because of its location, "I am against the nationwide concept," he said. "The system will be obsolete even before it's installed," he added.

SUPPORTING GROUP

Olson noted that there are already some warheads located in Oakland County at existing missile bases.

MSU Grants Awarded

"EAST LANSING (U) — Two Michigan high school seniors are among 10 national winners of Alumni Distinguished Scholarship Awards at Michigan State University. Grants valued at $8,000 over four years will go to Kathleen O'Rourke of Birmingham and Marion High and James McDoald of Bay City Central High.

Backing Olson is a group named We Oppose Missiles and Nuclear-warheads (WOMAN).

Spokesman for the group at a press conference yesterday was Mrs. Samuel Schankler of Southfield.

She said her group is antiwar and anti-nuclear weapons. Mrs. Schankler said scientists and other experts will speak at the meeting and explain why the ABM system should not be built.

INVITED TO ATTEND

Many persons holding political office representing the county have been invited to attend. Olson said he had attempted to get a resolution passed by the board of supervisors in opposition to the ABM system, but had failed.

He said he hopes enough interest is created by the public hearing to induce the supervisors to take a new look at the issue. Petitions to be sent to Washington opposing ABM system will be circulated at the meeting.

Speakers Set Up to Discuss Walled Lake School Vote

A speaker's bureau for the April 29 millage election in the Walled Lake Consolidate School District has been organized, according to Murray Adams, director of secondary education for the district.

School officials and members of the board of education are available as speakers to any organization desiring an explanation of the election. A color-slide presentation will be made by the speakers. Groups interested in obtaining a speaker should contact Adams at the district offices.

Board members who are available include John Clark, Richard Mills, Robert Thibodeau and Mrs. Charles Scully. Citizens who are participating in the bureau are Mrs. Carmin Ginter and Mrs. Floyd Mengel.

Administrative personnel available include Supt. George Garver, Assistant Supt. Robert Langerman, Administrative Assistant Harry Carlson, Director of Elementary Education Hugh Davies, and Director of Vocational Education Lester Carlson.

Walled Lake School district is seeking a five-mill increase and one-mill renewal for school operation expenses for five years in the special election April 29. The increase would bring the district's millage up to 35.3—of which 28.3 mills will go for operational expenses and seven for debt retirement. The renewal is of a mill that expires this year.

'Macomb Shorted in State Rec Plan'

LANSING (UPI) — Rep. Thomas Gustello, D-Mich., today urged Gov. William G. Milliken to reconsider his proposed $2.06-million allotment for Macomb County from the $100-million recreation bond issue.

"By the use of present population as a standard, Macomb County should receive almost twice as much money as the governor's allotment provides," Gustello said.

Macomb is no longer "simply the outskirts of Detroit," he added. "This is not a matter of partisan politics," Gustello said.

"Rather, it is a matter of understanding and meeting the long-overlooked needs of suburban people."

Office-Business Land Use Near City Hall OK'd by Troy

TROY — The principle of future office-business development for an area surrounding City Hall between Crooks and Livernois has been endorsed by the City Commission.

Meeting earlier this week, the commission adopted a proposed land-use plan amendment for the City Center area along Wabash. The area concerned takes in about two-thirds of a mile around the current City Hall.

Essentially, the land-use proposed is office-business, but city officials indicate this would not rule out certain high-density multiple development.

In other recent business, the commission has approved the application of oil to gravel streets upon the request of residents. Chloride will be applied for dust control as a general rule, but upon request oil will be used.

QUICK REQUESTS URGED

A city spokesman urged residents who want oil to request it within about the next week or so. All those in a given block must provide the application of oil.

The low bid of Giannetti Bros. & Co. of $257,158 for construction of the Maple and Stephenson water main has been approved by the commission. There were several bidders.

In still other business, the commission has approved the final assessment roll for waterlines on Thorncroft, Temple City and Blaney. Total cost is estimated at $33,500 with $25,202 assessed and the city's share reaching $8,297. Cost per front foot will be $12.41.

Plans have been approved by the commission for a 24-inch water main on Rochester Road from South Boulevard to Square Lake Road. The city manager was authorized to advertise for bids.

Drive Seeks More U.S. Bond Buyers

A large-scale effort to enroll 85,000 new savings bonds and freedom shares buyers via the payroll savings plan in Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb counties began yesterday with the kickoff of the Metropolitan Detroit Share-in-America Campaign.

Major employers in the tri-county area have scheduled personal canvasses of their employees during the April-May campaign period. Employees of scores of smaller firms also will be given an opportunity to sign up for E bond freedom shares purchases or to increase their regular savings if already enrolled in the payroll savings plan.

Goal of the tri-county is $207,496. Chairman of the three-county drive is Edwin O. George, president of the Detroit Edison Co.

New Supervisor Is Designated for Milford Township

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — Clare Caswell of 102 Detroit has been named the new township supervisor. He replaces Mrs. Roger S. Hubbell who resigned because of illness.

Caswell, 66, recently retired from Chevrolet Motor Division. He was assistant staff engineer in the engineering department.

He spent a term on the Township Council in 1943-44 and has always lived in the Milford area.

Mrs. Hubbell has replaced William L. Anderson, when the latter was elected district supervisor last fall and could no longer serve as township supervisor.

Caswell, a Republican, will serve until November 1970 when township supervisors have to stand for reelection.

Legislators to Discuss Property Tax Relief

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Three state representatives will participate in a discussion here at 8 tonight on property taxes, assessments and what help the state may be able to provide.

Sponsored by the Good Neighbor League, the discussion is scheduled for the Township Hall.

Appearing will be Reps. Clifford Smart, of Walled Lake, Loren D. Anderson of Waterford Township and Roy Smith of Ypsilanti, all Republicans.

Fire Hits Lumber Firm

WARREN (U) — Fire caused an estimated $100,000 in damage to a lumber and building supply firm in Warren yesterday.

Cause of the blaze at Kurmas Brothers Lumber and Supply was not determined.

Holly Schools Moves Camp for Educationally Deprived

HOLLY — The school district will be conducting its annual camp for educationally deprived students in new surroundings this summer.

The board of education is currently developing a recently purchased 10-acre site off Rattles Lake Road near Buckhorn Lake Road into a campground location, which will serve as a permanent site for the school district's Title I Federal Defense Loan summer project.

The Title I program is designed for students in grades 1-9 termed educationally deprived and of substandard economic status. About 160 students will participate in the program this summer.

This summer will mark the first year the school district will have its own facilities for a Title I project. In the past years, the district has used the Holly Recreation area as a campsite.

5-WEEK SESSIONS

Each student will attend the program for five weeks, spending four weeks in half-day counseling and tutorial sessions and one week at the camp coordinating academic and recreational activities.

Tent cottages will house the students at the camp. The local State Conservation office is now drawing a site plan for the camp.

Bruce Mitchell, assistant superintendent of schools, says it plans an intensive tutorial activity combined with a teacher during the summer program. The objective is to give students maximum help and attention. Teaching and administrative staff will be drawn from the Holly system.

Mitchell said the intensive counseling and tutorial activity combined with the informal atmosphere of camp activity is geared towards developing the students academically as well as increasing their self-image.

John Harrower and James Kelly, now affiliated with the Holly school district, will serve as director of instruction and camp director respectively.

The board paid $6,000 for the camp site which was funded through Title I appropriations. Mitchell said operation at cost for the camp will run about $27,000 annually.

'Education Key in Drug Abuse'

BIRMINGHAM—Reeducation and better communication are the answers to the drug problem—no increased rules and regulations and stricter law enforcement of existing regulations, Dr. Sidney Cohen said here last night.

Dr. Cohen, who is director of the National Institute of Narcotics and Drug Abuse in Washington, D.C., told an audience at Seaholm High School that increased communication between parent and child can be far more beneficial than strictly the "warning" technique.

Noting that research regarding the permanent harmful effects of LSD and marijuana is still incomplete, Dr. Cohen said there is no doubt that both drugs have at least temporary negative effects and if used persistently can lead to brain and chromosomal damage. They can also serve as stepping stones to more addictive drugs, such as heroin.

He believes the drug problem will continue, but he also feels that eventually over-all drug usage will recede as the users gradually realize that feeding a habit is costly as well as a catalyst to constant mental depression which usually follows the "escaped hallucinogenic" effect of the drug.

PREDICTS DECLINE

The psychologist stated that LSD usage is now on a firm decline, and he predicts the same for marijuana and "speed" which are now the popular drugs.

Dr. Cohen reassured his call for improved child and parental communication because of the gradual infiltration of drugs into junior high and elementary schools. "Communication about drugs should be informative, not a warning. Parents and teachers both can play an important role in the information process," he said.

Dr. Cohen said an effective reeducation method has been increased willingly by former drug users to talk about the problem to youngsters. He urged continued efforts of having the user himself explain the reasons for taking drugs, the effects and why one should stop.

Dr. Cohen's presentation was part of the Oakland Community College "Con-

Paul, a highly educated and determined foe of the new faith until convinced of it by his own belated vision of the risen Christ about 33 A.D., had afterward spent two weeks in private conversations with the apostle Peter and Jesus's brother, James.

This conference in Jerusalem took place in 36 A.D., within six years of the crucifixion, so Paul had immediate access to the sources in setting down his early resume of the resurrection appearances.

"If Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile," he wrote. "But in fact Christ has been raised from the dead, the first fruits of those who have fallen asleep."

However, it is not the declarations and documented descriptions that provide the most persuasive evidence of the resurrection, but rather the actions following it which would have been incredible if it hadn't been true.

APOSTLES DISILLUSIONED

After the crucifixion, the apostles were broken, disillusioned men. They had fled the scene of His arrest, one even denying acquaintance with Him. "I know Him not," Peter insisted. He and the others had gone into hiding, fearful of the cause had collapsed in the most debasing way.

They had expected Jesus to mount a throne, but instead He died on a degrading criminal's cross. To them, the whole venture had failed. They were beaten, scared, immobilized.

But then something happened, and suddenly they were fearless, unstoppable advocates of a triumphant Jesus, defying official threats, indictments and persecution.

What caused this abrupt, startling change, this complete turnabout, transforming them all at once from cowering, muted fugitives into dauntless evangelists who could not be intimidated or silenced?

'GOD RAISED HIM'

"Men of Israel," Peter proclaimed in a crowded public square, Jesus "was crucified and killed by the hands of lawless men. But God raised Him up, having loosed the pangs of death. . . . Of that we all are witnesses."

Something truly overpowering clearly had affected those apostles to bring about such a total, sudden reversal in their outlook and conduct.

"They are filled with new wine," somebody shouted. It must have been that, figuratively, although not of the liquid kind, as Peter pointed out, since it was only a few days and no wine was consumed by that hour. But in spirit, obviously, these men had been overwhelmingly renewed.

The fact is simply uncountable and from the impact of the resurrection. Psychologically, this is the strongest sort of evidence for its actual occurrence.

Even those who consider it an impressionistic symbolism do not deny that some intensely moving experience had electrified that dispirited apostolic band. Whatever it was, they were catapulted from skulking inertia to heroic stature.

They don't explain the resurrection, scholars have observed, but the resurrection does explain them.

However, in arguments against its really happening, various alternative explanations are offered, chiefly that the apostles had worked themselves up to a point of psychic anticipation so that they had hallucinations.

PRACTICAL MEN

But the theory doesn't square with their previous attitudes. They were hardheaded, practical men, fishermen, farmers, tax collectors, full of ordinary skepticism. They had plainly given up in defeat and run out on the whole business.

Rather than having whipped up an anticipatory mood that could lead to visions, they were dumfounded with surprise when the resurrection took place and it flatly discounted it even after finding the tomb empty. They still couldn't believe it even when Jesus first appeared to them.

"Why are you troubled, and why do questions rise in your hearts?" he said. "See My hands and My feet, that it is I myself."

They had to be convinced, and Jesus had to go to great lengths to do it, once even eating with them to show them He wasn't just a ghost. One hard-line doubter insisted it was a case of mistaken identity until he saw the wounds in Jesus's body.

"My Lord and my God!" Thomas exclaimed.

SUBJECTIVE VISION

Also, it is unlikely that the crowd of 500 which Paul cites as witnesses could have had a purely subjective "vision" all at once.

The theory also gives way before the fact that the Jerusalem authorities, striving vehemently to suppress the resurrection reports, could have quickly demolished them by producing Jesus's corpse, but they didn't.

The only conceivable explanation is that they couldn't — it was no longer in the tomb.

An ancient, discrediting suggestion is that perhaps Jesus did not really die, but only swooned into a deathlike coma on the cross, then revived in the cool tomb, and emerged to rejoin his apostles.

HIGHLY IMPLAUSIBLE

A possibility, but it's highly implausible, considering the measures of execution taken against him, including the final and intellectual basis of Christianity is just as broad and

It's also unlikely that a disabled, weakened, nearly dead man could have got out of the light body wrappings, rolled away the massive outside stone from inside the tomb, eluded the guards posted there, and made his way unaided back to Jerusalem.

But mainly, it's inconceivable, considering the character of Jesus, that He would have then set about misleading the apostles into believing a phony resurrection, even had it been possible in His debilitated state, and then to have fired them with the enthusiasm to go out and risk their lives in behalf of a fraud.

Sometimes, objections are raised that the four gospel accounts of the resurrection offer differing, even conflicting, details about that breathtaking interlude.

For instance, the books don't always agree on the names and number of women who went to the tomb, or on what precisely happened there — yet all say it was empty. Mark and Matthew locate the appearances to the disciples in Galilee. Luke says it was in Jerusalem, while John cites both places.

MORE AUTHENTIC

Considering the excitement of the circumstances, however, the discrepancies serve more to authenticate the reports than to distract from them, since individual observers inevitably absorb an event from different perspectives.

In fact, if the reports completely harmonized, it would suggest they had been doctored.

As it is, they have a ring of genuine, independent reportage, the secondary variations merely reflecting individuality of memory, information and vantage point.

Despite the many efforts over the centuries to undermine the case for the resurrection, the evidence for its reality stands unshaken, both psychologically and from the written accounts.

It is not the lack of evidence that hampers belief in the resurrection, however, but the nature of the event itself.

CONTINUING PRESENCE

Protestant theologian George A. Buttrick once observed that even if a photograph of the risen Jesus were available, or a recording of his voice, many people would call it a fake, simply because it challenged their preconceptions.

But something more than first century evidence figures in the faith in Jesus's resurrection — the experience of Christians ever since of His continuing presence among them.

A leading physicist, William G. Pollard, long in charge of the national nuclear research institute at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and now also an Episcopal clergyman, says "the factual and intellectual basis of Christianity is just as broad and advent" as that of physics, but that both are based on faith drawn from experience.

In physics, he says, you not only have to subject yourself to their own satisfaction of their disciplines of learning facts and techniques, but also to acquiring its mutual spirit until gradually "you somehow know in your bones the truths of the structure of physics."

TENTATIVE TRUTH

"You would also know it is of it just as much as you can come to know the truths of physics."

The "really essential thing" about physics "can't be taught in the same way" in Christianity. In it, too, he says, you not only have to learn its disciplines and techniques, but also to acquire its community spirit, until finally you "come to know to your own satisfaction the truth of it just as much as you can come to know the truths of physics."

It also is that way, in regard to the resurrection. Despite the evidence, it would long ago have faded into dusty forgetfulness if it weren't confirmed primarily in the continuing experience of it in the lives of generations since.

You don't need Osmun's.

We know that there are plenty of places where you can buy men's clothing. Fine stores. Many with pretty much the same kinds of things to sell that we have.

The same Eagle suits. The same Van Heusen shirts. Etc. You can get along without us.

We can't get along without you.

If we're going to pay the rent, meet the payroll, and have a few dollars left over for ourselves, we've got to offer more than huge selections, current fashions, careful tailoring, and charge accounts.

We've got to offer you a reason to shop here instead of another place.

That means being even more concerned than you are about how you look, how your clothing fits, staying within your

Of course, perfection is difficult to attain, but we keep working toward it.

That's what you get from a place you don't need.

Britain 'Saves' Anguilla

"The white man's burden" still weighs heavily on the rulers of the shrunken British Empire, at least to the extent of requiring an invasion of the Manhattan-size island of Anguilla in the Caribbean in order to save its 6,000 inhabitants from themselves.

It reads like the scenario for an improbable musical comedy: A patch of land in the ocean declaring itself independent from a federation with two other patches (St. Kitts and Nevis); a visiting British minister unceremoniously booted off the island; British frigates, helicopters and paratroopers vs. Napoleonic-era cannons.

Fortunately, in keeping with the happy-ending traditions of operetta, no shots were fired and no one was hurt.

Britain, says Britain, has no intention of forcing any government on the Anguillians. It only invaded because the place was in danger of being taken over by gangster elements who, in cahoots with "American adventurers" (pirates?), want to make the island a base for organized crime and gambling.

We await the final act when the grateful inhabitants gather to sing a fond adieu to their departing deliverers. But if the backers of this production really wanted to score a box-office smash, they should have written in parts for a tenor and a soprano.

They'll never make it to Broadway without some love interest.

Youths Gang Up for Good

A new type of youth group is roaming the streets of Ann Arbor. It calls itself the Gillnet Gang. Its members describe themselves as "guerrillas for good." As the Altona, Pa., Mirror observes, "... the Gillnets roam Ann Arbor streets at night doing some rather odd things for a youth gang."

On one recent night they painted a bridge, which has been covered with obscenities. On another, they boarded up an abandoned house, which had been a dangerous but popular rendezvous for neighborhood children. They made a number of adults ashamed of themselves by filling downtown planters, which had remained barren of flowers because of a squabble over which agency was responsible for them.

An assistant professor at the University of Michigan is frequently consulted by the gang for advice. He concedes that some of its activities are "extra-legal." To this, the Mirror concludes, "Some will undoubtedly say any extralegal approach smacks of the vigilantes of old. But who will argue that the Gillnets are not providing a community service no one else seems capable of giving."

Perhaps there's ground for retaining a little faith in humanity after all.

Gas Tax Greatly Inflated

The gasoline tax started in February of 1919 in the state of Oregon—at the rate of one cent per gallon. The trickle of "painless pennies" that began in Oregon has swelled to a national torrent.

U.S. highway users now pay gasoline taxes at the rate of $17,000 a minute, $1 million an hour and $24.5 million daily. In all, they will pay nearly $9 billion in motor fuel taxes in 1969.

Today, combined state and Federal gasoline taxes average 10.8 cents a gallon—the equivalent of a sales levy of nearly 50 per cent on purchases of regular-grade gasoline. Gasoline taxes have provided the major share of revenue for a nationwide highway system that is the envy of the world—despite diversion of billions of dollars to general uses in some states.

No one can deny that the requirements of our complex, mechanized society call for costly governmental services. But, the peril of the taxing power is becoming more evident each year, and the appetites of official spenders at all levels of government have become insatiable.

Tax collectors in the U.S. are now taking approximately 30 per cent of the total value of all goods and services produced in the Nation.

Peace...

Wabash (Ind.) Plain Dealer

Forces are now converging that make possible, for the first time, the hope that many of man's deepest aspirations can at last be realized. The spiraling pace of change allows us to contemplate, within our lifetime, advances that once would have taken centuries.

In throwing wide the horizons of space, we have discovered new horizons on earth. For the first time, because the people of the world want peace and the leaders are afraid of war, the times are on the side of peace.

The greatest honor history can bestow is the title of peacemaker. This honor now beckons America—the chance to help lead the world at last out of the valley of turmoil and onto that high ground of peace man has dreamed of since the dawn of civilization. This is our summons to greatness.

The Middle East situation is ripe for settlement. Heretofore, to settle a war it was necessary to move in and contribute men and arms. Here is something new. It can be settled by withholding men and arms, flowing from four countries to the Middle East. Israel and the Arabs are trying to say they won't accept an imposed peace settlement. They will want nothing more than peace and they know they are unable to effect it between themselves. After 20 years of trying this is evident.

Russia's Knocks

Christian Science Monitor

It may sometimes seem to Americans that only their ships are attacked or hauled into harbors by wrathful foreigners. There is the famous Pueblo. There are the American yachts just seized by Communist China. There are the fishing smacks bombarded by Peru.

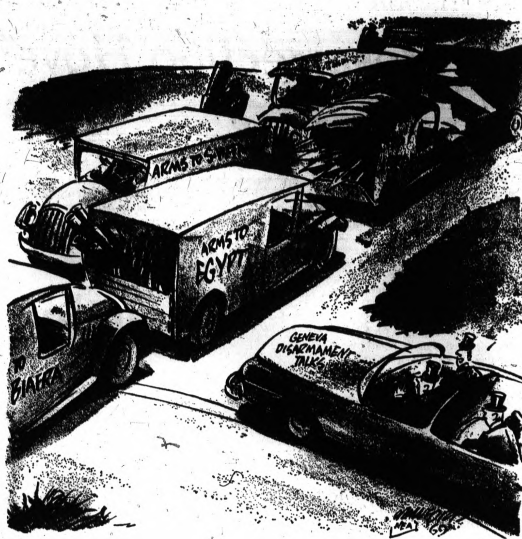

But Americans need not fancy that they alone are targets of the touchy. For the Associated Press reminds us that 82 Soviet fishermen and their two trawlers have now been held captive by Ghana for more than four months.

The Russians said that the boats drifted into Ghanaian waters during breakdown repairs. Accra claims, however, that the craft were either spying or running arms to former President Nkrumah's followers.

While we do not rejoice in Russia's discomfort, there is a certain satisfaction in knowing that America is not the only great power whose rights are being flaunted and whose dignity is being twitted by the weaker.

Experts long predicted that, as the Soviet Union moved more and more into the outside world, it would be increasingly subjected to the harassments which befall the rest of us. Moscow, to its chagrin and helplessness, is learning the truth of these warnings. Maybe these common experiences will hasten the day of greater understanding between Russia and America.

"Everyone Seems To Agree There Should Be A Traffic Light Here!"

David Lawrence Says:

Congress Needs 'Modernizing'

WASHINGTON — Congress has been in session three months, but most people are hardly conscious of it. For very little of importance has been accomplished, and the general feeling here is that the legislators are waiting for the chief executive to map out programs for their consideration.

A variety of explanations for the inaction is being heard on Capitol Hill. Some of the veterans in Congress say it is customary to wait for the administration to lay out its plans and to submit its proposals. The newer members are a bit impatient and think more progress should have been made.

One interesting observation comes from a few Nixon supporters, who say the new President thinks the country wants a little rest from debate over such controversial proposals as were offered during the preceding administration.

Congress is very much in need of reorganization or "modernization."

BASICALLY UNSOLVED

What seems to be basically unsolved is the problem of how 435 members of the House and 100 senators from 50 states can answer the mail from their constituents, satisfy their needs, and yet play a constructive role in shaping the laws that are presented for passage.

Staffs, of course, are inadequate. The people back home continue to ask lots of questions, seek assistance on personal and civic matters, and request help on local public and private projects.

Many members maintain offices with a large personnel just to take care of the requests of constituents.

Entirely apart from demands on his office of a local nature, the representative or senator finds himself taking a great deal of time trying to understand the complex issues involved in proposed laws or appropriations.

NECESSARY TO STUDY

With many billions of dollars being spent in programs that run not merely a year but four or more years,

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dils of Lake Orion; 52nd wedding anniversary.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Groves of 5733 Outer; 66th wedding anniversary.
C. Herbert Southby of Clarkson; 85th birthday.

It is necessary to study the background of each proposal, whether it is new or a continuation of a previous program.

Most of the legislators — 78 per cent of those responding to a questionnaire — said "lack of information" was the No. 1 problem which prevents them from executing their duties satisfactorily.

Printed testimony of committees amounted to 250,000 pages last year, plus 27,000 pages of committee reports. But when is the representative or senator going to find the hours necessary each week to examine carefully all these documents?

Theoretically, Congress has delegated special subjects like banking, finance, appropriations, foreign relations, agriculture and judicial questions to committees which have small technical staffs of their own.

Many members regularly attend the meetings of committees on which they serve and conscientiously endeavor to become familiar with the subjects presented to them, but they naturally are not able to obtain more than a cursory knowledge of the work of the other committees.

Congress has used the committee system effectively to conduct investigations on subjects of paramount interest, and, on the whole, the work of the different committees has been constructive. But as the executive tasks of government grow larger and larger each year, the supervisory duties of the legislative branch also will be forced to expand substantially.

Most members of Congress are well aware of the shortcomings of the congressional system of today, but they are reluctant to offer remedies. This, it would appear, is regarded as primarily the obligation of the party leaders.

Bob Considine Says:

Thieu Gesture to Cong Gives Hope for Peace

NEW YORK — There were "private talks" near the end of the Korean war, too. Most private! President Eisenhower sent word to Pyongyang, through a responsible neutral, that we were prepared to use tactical nuclear weapons against its forces.

North Korea believed him, and the third costliest foreign war of the United States ended where it had begun — on the 38th parallel.

The 10,000 and more Americans killed since the Paris talks started ten months ago could have had little peace with any kind of dilatory debates, open or sub rosa.

The survivors can take heart from President Nguyen Van Thieu's overture to the Vietcong. For him to acknowledge the Cong as a legitimate political entity rather than an armed mob in revolt against the Saigon government is progress, as progress is measured in this least-describable war.

'COULD BE STOPPED'

Perhaps it really is true, as Thieu said with a happy smile, that "we have found a light at another end of the tunnel."

The war-within-the-war, that is, the war between the Saigon forces and the Vietcong, who are also South Vietnamese, could be turned off like a spigot.

At least, that's what Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky told us in Paris earlier this month. He said "Hanoi could stop it just like that," and he snapped his fingers. He alluded to the flow of arms, food and medicine from the North, without which the Cong would soon wither.

If the miracle should happen and the two opposing forces in South Vietnam should reach an accord, they would be the beneficiaries of the $1 billion that President Johnson once earmarked for the rehabilitation of postwar North and South Vietnam.

NOT U.S. TRADITION

The sight and sound and smell of financial aid could conceivably have the same effect on North Vietnam as the Eisenhower threat of nuclear destruction had on North Korea. To buy off a war instead of winning it is not in the American tradition, but finding a way out demands attention.

Many military authorities now believe that our approach to the fighting was basically wrong. We sent an elephant to kill ants. We should have learned to fight at night. West Point manuals should have been replaced by the memoirs of any good Indian fighter of a century ago.

But that's hindsight. Ahead is that flickering light, visible mostly to Nguyen Van Thieu. One prays he is not seeing spots.

High School Production Restored Faith in Youth

So much has been said these days about student uprisings, dissensions, riots, the pill, pot, etc., I was under the impression that students nowadays lacked interest in anything worthwhile.

I had the wrong impression all the time, as I recently found out when I attended the wonderful performance of South Pacific at Pontiac Central High School. These students were tremendous. It wasn't hard to see how much study and effort went forth to present a great play like this. The orchestra contributed its share toward the success.

All I could see was complete harmony and accord among both blacks and whites. No wonder they received a standing ovation. It was well-earned and deserved.

Letter Tells Reason Opposing Parochial

We have our children in a parochial school and consider ourselves lucky to be able to educate them in a religiously-oriented atmosphere. I'm against parochial as I feel it is a violation of church and state. I'm willing to pay for the privilege of private education as long as we can.

I've read suggestions that the churches be taxed. This may or may not be feasible, but would this not also be in violation of church and state? The church property they propose taxing is not used for religion, per se; but neither would parochial necessarily be used to teach religion, per se.

Asks Questions of Concerned Parishoners

To the parishioners of St. Vincent de Paul, the discontented have been criticized for their actions, but who has attempted to understand or made an effort to discover the reasons for this uneasiness in our spiritual community? We now find ourselves on the verge of something that no one wants—a split in our parish. We must be truthful with ourselves and admit that there exists a situation that has caused the dissatisfaction of a group of our parish. Is the answer to ignore them because they may be in the minority? Will we deny them their right to be heard because we disagree with them and their methods? Bishop Scherer stated the answer to your problems must come from the people themselves.

Answers Letter on Police and Fire Fighters

Regarding the letter by B. Carrier concerning fire fighters' and policemen's pay and the danger involved in each occupation, fire fighters are on the job 16 hours a week longer than police, with more duties to perform—maintaining the station, map study, studying equipment and fire procedures, making out reports, daily check of all equipment, fighting fires, rescue runs, nuisance calls and false alarms. A survey taken in 1967 showed 55 fire fighters per 100,000, as compared to 21 policemen per 100,000, who died in the line of duty. As far as I am concerned, the picture is clear.

'Are Rights of Citizens Being Taken Away?'

What do the people of Pontiac think of the new law that the City can come to your property and tell you what you may keep in your yard. Isn't it against the Constitution of the United States to tell people what they can do on their own property? Next they will tell us when we can go to church and what church to go to. People are sitting by and letting their rights be taken away from them.

A friend said he heard of a language that has no vowels, but I think it's impossible. Can you settle the argument?

T. J.

REPLY

We think it's impossible, too, but apparently the Taureg, nomads of the Sahara, don't agree. Information we found indicates their language, Tamahag, not only has no vowels, but also has no fixed order for putting down the consonants.

Pontiac Area Churches Schedule Holy Week Observances

Area Christians are gathering in homes and churches this week in commemoration of the last few days of Jesus Christ on earth.

According to the calendar which dates from the time of his birth, it was 1,938 years ago that Jesus was claimed by the multitude in Jerusalem with the waving of palm branches and shouts of "Hosanna, Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord."

But fate is often fickle.

And so it was with Jesus. A group that didn't like his teaching of love and forgiveness sought to do away with him.

BROKE BREAD

Jesus knew this and on the night of the Jewish Passover when his disciples were gathered with him for supper, he broke bread and gave it to his disciples saying, "Do this in remembrance of Me."

This happened on the Thursday preceding Easter. Known as Maundy Thursday or Holy Thursday it is celebrated in commemoration of this Last Supper and the washing of the disciples' feet by Jesus.

In England and other countries it was formerly the custom for the sovereign on this evening to wash the feet of 12 poor persons and bestow gifts upon them. The custom of washing the feet still exists among several denominations.

Services on Good Friday commemorate the trial, crucifixion and burial of Jesus.

Two Challenge Funds for Paving in Project

By ED BLUNDEN

A proposed $754,000 capital improvement budget for Pontiac was accepted by the City Commission last night, but part of the expenditures were challenged by two commissioners.

Major expenditures call for about $200,000 for a new fire station and most of the remainder for street improvements.

Commissioners Robert C. Irwin, District 2, and Robert F. Jackson, District 5, charged the city was paying too much for roads in a low-rent housing project under construction by Charles Langs Inc.

Langs is building $25 rent-supplement housing for the elderly units in a complex on West Kennet, West of Alcott School. Irwin and Jackson claim the city is contributing too much to street improvements on the site.

$128,000 TOO MUCH?

They claimed some $128,000 of the $174,000 the city is contributing for street construction is excessive. Irwin called it too generous. Jackson said it is contrary to city policy, which calls for street projects to be assessed to benefiting property owners in most cases.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. defended the approval of the projects by the City Commission earlier this year. He said Langs was one of the few developers willing to build in the city recently, and criticism now was "Monday-morning quarterbacking." He said the street would get its money back in taxes and sewer tap-in fees in a few years.

Joseph E. Neippling, director of public works and services, said the city's high payments for the streets represented the difference between providing a subdivision street and a major quarterbacking. He said the street wanted the city to pay for curb, gutter, paving, drains dangerous alignment. Preparation of the assessment would be expected and future repairs costly if the streets were the normal blacktop found in most subdivisions.

'BIG PART OF BUDGET'

Irwin and Jackson insisted the amount paid was a large share of the year's total street budget (about 17 per cent and if the policy were pursued other developers would insist on a similar deal and use up the entire budget, leaving other streets uncared for.

The capital improvement budget will be the subject of a public hearing at 8 p.m. April 15.

In other matters related to streets, two large projects and two smaller ones were acted upon. A public hearing was set for p.m. May 6 on a $180,000 project as a necessity to correct a curb, gutter, paving, drains dangerous alignment. Preparation of the assessment would be expected and future repairs costly if the streets were the normal blacktop found in most subdivisions.

PLANS FOR FRANKLIN

Final plans were ordered drawn up on a $145,000 improvement for Franklin Road between Rapid and West South Boulevard. New surfacing for two lanes of roadway are to be provided. In addition, the project will be engineered to provide for an ultimate five-lane roadway in anticipation that the street will be a major artery. General Motors is to pay $2,700 for curb and gutter on the property adjoining the road.

An $18,200 improvement for the intersection of West Kennet and West Mansfield was ordered. The work was ordered

W. Huron Parking Ban Eyed

Two matters concerning parking in Pontiac came to the attention of the City Commission last night.

The city was informed the State Highway Department wishes to discontinue parking on the north side of West Huron from Franklin Boulevard to Osceola by June 1.

The department insists accidents are at a disproportionately high level in the area.

The City Commission directed the city staff to meet with state officials and try to get an agreement to delay withdrawal of parking two years, if possible. This would give the city time to form a parking assessment district if necessary. It expires Dec. 31, 1973.

Set a public hearing on construction of a sanitary sewer

A public hearing was set for 8 p.m. April 22 on a previously proposed parking lot in the 97 feet south of Benson for 8 same area. The lot would be constructed on the north side of West Huron between Genesee and Telegraph, to serve the Tel. Huron shopping center area. Cost estimates were ordered prepared.

In other business the commission also:

Rejected two bids for a 6½-acre parcel of city-owned land at the southwest corner of East Boulevard and Featherstone (the old incinerator site). Bids were $31,200 and $36,000. A recent appraisal placed the parcel value at $112,700. New bids for the land, zoned for multiple dwellings, will be asked to be submitted before 2 p.m., May 2.

Approved appointment of Richard Hendershott of 247 Chippewa to the City Historical Commission. Hendershott is Eisenhower, former U. S. principal of Herrington Approved transfer of licenses for Sport-A-Rama Bar, 656 Oakland, from Paul I. Spadafore to Clifford Alderson.

Action on Bus Contract, PAPC Budget Is Delayed

The City Commission was unable to act on two issues last night—renewal of an agreement with the Pontiac Transit Co. and approval of the budget of the Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC).

The commission has not yet received a proposed agreement from the bus company, although the old agreement expired Monday. The bus firm will continue to operate, however.

It has been indicated the company will be asking for a 3 per cent profit guarantee in an agreement which would last six more months. The city had been allotting the bus firm a subsidy which paid the difference between operating costs and fare-box revenues.

Proposals have been made to combine the city system with the Pontiac School District system.

PAPC IS HIT

PAPC again received criticism from District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin.

PAPC has proposed a budget of $36,835 for the fiscal year beginning May 1. The previous year's financing was by donations from area businesses. In the future the City Commission and the school board, which set up the group as an advisory and planning body, will be asked to finance operations.

Irwin, who has opposed the group since its inception, insists it is not legally constituted and cannot be funded publicly.

The Commission agreed to delay decision on the PAPC budget until a revised set of bylaws also is presented. PAPC is expected to take final action on its bylaws April 10.

If You Can Arrange It Go With Mate Next Time

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I have been married only two years and have already violated our marriage beyond forgiveness. My husband had to be away for six months, and during his absence I lived alone in our apartment. I was lonely, but everything went along fine until about a month before his return. At this time I met a man, and his attentions led me to the most regrettable experiences of my life.

I never thought it could happen to me, but I was unfaithful to my husband.

Abby, my husband is the most wonderful man in the world, and I love him so very much. The guilt from this "affair" is driving me out of my mind. I am trying to be the most perfect wife possible to make it up to him, but my conscience is torturing me.

In a way I would like to tell my husband, but I know it would just kill him and he may never trust me again. Please tell me what to do. And don't condemn me for my actions. I've already condemned myself.

DEAR GUILTY AND ASHAMED: Telling your husband would be cruel and unwise. If you feel the need to "confess" further, tell your clergyman. (Frankly, you've told me and I'm telling about 55 million people, which is more than enough.) Quit punishing yourself, and forget the unfortunate incident, continue to be a good wife, and if your husband ever has to leave town on an extended trip, go with him or ask a friend (a girl) to stay with you to relieve your loneliness.

DEAR ABBY: What can you get for appearing in a see-through blouse in Fargo, N. D.? JUST CURIOUS DEAR JUST: Pneumonia, for sure. Arrested, probably.

DEAR ABBY: I just read where a well-known marriage counselor and psychologist can go to his church and I'll go to mine. It doesn't take any brains to fight. Civilized people learn to control their tempers and keep their mouths shut. And it's my view that a fight a day keeps a lot of doctors busy.

DEAR ABBY: A man wrote in saying he was upset because the doctor had told him he could never father children, and now his wife is pregnant. He says the baby can't be his. Well, listen to this: Twenty years ago I married, and we had four children then my husband got very sick and when he recovered the doctor told him he couldn't father any more children. He told me to FOUR other doctors and they all told him the same thing. That makes FIVE doctors, right? We didn't care because we had a nice family. Then all of a sudden I found myself pregnant!

Abby, my hand to God, I never had another man touch me. My husband refused to believe me. He left me and filed for divorce. I got myself a good lawyer and fought it tooth and nail. The courts gave me custody of the children and support.

My husband tried to straighten it out later with me when he saw that the boy looked, walked, talked, and even ACTED exactly like him, but it was too late. I wouldn't take him back because he didn't trust me when I was innocent. So, Abby, tell that man that there is one case where FIVE doctors were wrong, so his doctor can be wrong, too. TWO HARBORS, MINN

DEAR ABBY: What's all this stuff in your column about whether or not a 15-year-old girl should ask her boy friend to give her kid sister a ride to school?

Or should the mother take the kid sister? Why should any healthy normal kid who lives less than a mile need a ride to school?

I think it is absolutely ridiculous to see mothers and fathers hauling able-bodied children to school in automobiles when the 15-minute walk would do them a world of good. In a few generations we won't even know how to walk.

I grew up in a midwestern city and we walked everywhere, and I'll bet you did, too! R.H.

Return of Sun Seekers Says 'Spring IS Here!'

By SHIRLEY GRAY
One by one our fair weather fanciers are trickling back into town. Mr. and Mrs. William Bachman Jr. of Bloomfield Hills are just back from eight days in Hawaii.

Another local couple, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Diehl Jr. of Birmingham, recently tore themselves away from St. Croix, Virgin Islands, after a two-month stay.

In case anyone wonders what on earth ever happened to Mr. and Mrs. Don Ahrens — they're back after dropping out of sight for three months. Actually, they took a slow boat to China, plus Hawaii, Taiwan, New Zealand, Australia and a few South Sea spots, not necessarily in that order.

It was a "perfect trip," says Mrs. Ahrens, who adds that the most impressive sight of the trip was the rusted and rotting hulks of sunken World War II ships at Guam.

The couple sandwiched in visits to both their daughters — Sister Louise Ahrens, a Maryknoll nun teaching in Hawaii, and Jane, a senior at the University of California at Berkeley.

Then there are the Graham John Grambs, also absent from the scene since New Year's. As in previous years, they spent January and February in Hawaii. They whiled away most of March at Puerto Rico's Dorado Beach in the company of their Pontiac neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald.

The weather in some parts of Florida has been chilly lately, but in Palm Springs, where Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jayne just spent 10 days, the mercury hovered around 90 degrees, and the Jaynes aren't complaining.

Gene Rawlins, former Bloomfield Open Hunt manager who left last autumn to manage the Deerwood Club at Jacksonville, Fla., has decided Michigan is where he belongs after all. He is now manager of the Lansing Country Club; took the post in February.

Married Man Cannot be "Engaged" Now

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute
Dear Mrs. Post: I am going with a man who is married and has two children. His wife has filed for a divorce, and after this becomes final, we will be married. May I accept a ring from him before the time has passed?

Everyone knows she has left him, and as long as we have definite plans I'd like my family to announce them. Would this be in good taste? —E. M.

Dear Miss M.: Definitely not. It would be in very bad taste for your family, or you, to make a public announcement before your fiancé-to-be is legally free, and I certainly would not recommend that you accept his ring or consider yourself engaged while he is still technically married to another woman.

'Too Many Children' Wife Granted Divorce

LONDON (U) — Eileen Lewis thought three children were enough. But her husband tore up her doctor's prescription for birth control pills, and she had three more.

She was also looking after three of her husband's seven children from a previous marriage.

Actress Lana Turner, 49, arrives at the civic center in San Monica, Calif., Tuesday to seek a divorce from her sixth husband, businessman Robert P. Eaton, 38. She obtained it after testifying Eaton stayed away from home for long periods at a time and told her it was "none of my business where he had been."

Choose Makeup to Suit Your Need

Choosing the proper makeup for you makes the important difference between looking "passable" and looking exceptional. If you want light coverage, use either a tinted or translucent powder.

For medium coverage, use a liquid make-up with light powder over it. For heavy coverage, use matte make-up.

"Iron All" is a snap-on device which eliminates the need for a press cloth. Manufactured for Sears Roebuck from a new, strong, lightweight aerospace material, it can be used on the sole plates of dry or steam irons for all fabrics. About $5.

Controlled Heat Saves Wear, Tear on Stainless Pans

You can prolong the life of your stainless steel cookware by taking just a few simple precautions. The West Bend Company, leading manufacturer of stainless ware, suggests medium to low heat for top-of-range use. This will do a satisfactory job of cooking.

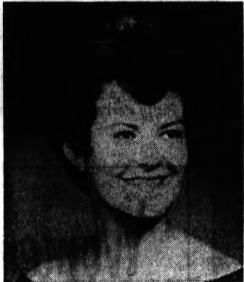

To preheat for frying, use medium heat for 2 to 3 minutes. Do not use high heat when cooking and do not preheat any longer than necessary. Overheating and too-high heat may result in discoloration.

Also never pour cold water into a hot utensil and avoid cutting food in pans with sharp-edged utensils. These suggestions will save needless wear and tear on your cookware and keep it looking lovely for years.

Save all your empty thread spools and use them to wind all the left-over pieces of bias binding, braid, elastic, or lace. Fasten the ends with tape.

This is the 22-room English Tudor house in Grosse Pointe that has been transformed into a designer-type showplace for the

Mansion Gets Face-Lifting

A mansion on the lake shore in Grosse Pointe, vacant for more than a year, is receiving the Pygmalion treatment for a brief return to its former glory.

The 22-room English Tudor house, with its hand adzed timbers and imported marble fireplaces, is being redecorated by 12 interior decorators in keeping with the latest design trends.

When completed, it will be shown to the public for three weeks, beginning May 5.

The Designers' Show House project is sponsored by the Planned Parenthood League of Detroit, assisted by the Michigan District Chapter of the American Institute of Designers.

The third floor boutique area will feature items from the following area stores: Galerie de Bolcourt, Birmingham; Needlepoint la Carte, Birmingham.

AREA CHAIRMEN
In addition to the furnished rooms, all color coordinated — other corners of the house will be used to exhibit interesting things related to the house, according to Mrs. Ello Robinson and Mrs. Edward Lawrence, both of Birmingham, who are cochairmen of the project.

A local nursery will do the indoor and outdoor garden areas. Geraniums and artificial flowers will be sold on the terrace and international pastries and coffee will be served in a coffee shop.

Serving as hostesses will be 400 volunteers from throughout the Grosse Pointe, Birmingham, Bloomfield and Detroit Metropolitan areas. Proceeds from the project will be used to support the family planning clinics which the Planned Parenthood League operates in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

The house will be open six days a week from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. as well as on Wednesday evenings from 7 until 9 p.m. and Sunday afternoons from 1 until 4 p.m. Parking will be available nearby in the Grosse Pointe Farms Pier Park. Tickets are available in many areas for a donation of $2.50 and a map on the back of each ticket shows how easily the house may be reached from 96. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Each visitor will receive a program giving the history of the house, a floor plan, and the details about the renovation and furnishings of each room.

The novel fund raising project is being so enthusiastically received that groups from various parts of the state are planning to charter buses to bring them to the show house.

FINE CONDUCTING
Mr. Dovaras is an impressive conductor. Along with his knowledge of music and the vocal and choral arts, he has youthful enthusiasm, demanding standards, and the rare ability to project, both to chorus and listeners, the inner meanings and values of the works which he performs.

Sacred Music Sung Beautifully by Chorus

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

Throughout centuries of synagogal music, many settings for the Sabbath service have been composed and used, either entirely or in part, throughout the Western World. Most of these settings have employed ancient and traditional Hebrew modes and melodies as their basis.

One of the great choral compositions of modern times, the "Sacred Service" by Ernest Bloch, uses none of these.

As with his secular works, there is a universality, a transcendence, and intense religiosity, Hebraic in essence, but confined to no one religion, that leaves the listener shaken, transformed and uplifted.

The pristine purity of his music is difficult to sing, the intensity difficult to maintain. Yet the Oakland University Chorus, under the direction of John Dovaras, gave an inspired performance of Bloch's "Sacred Service", last night.

Harold Orbach, cantor and soloist, sang the numerous solo sections.

FINE CONDUCTING

Mr. Dovaras is an impressive conductor. Along with his knowledge of music and the vocal and choral arts, he has youthful enthusiasm, demanding standards, and the rare ability to project, both to chorus and listeners, the inner meanings and values of the works which he performs.

So the 138 voices of the chorus blended into a majestic musical tapestry which, under his hand, cast a spell; sometimes declaratory, as in the "Shema"—the proclamation of the oneness of God; sometimes introspective, as in the "Kadish" or memorial section.

The vocal blend was mellow and unlabored. Nowhere, even in the most agitated sections, was the tone pushed or harsh. The words, mostly in Hebrew, were well-pronounced and clear, the phrasing skillful, and the interpretation spiritual and intense.

Like most famous cantors, Mr. Orbach is a tenor with beautiful high lyric tones, which are effortless and pure. But unlike most cantors, his low voice, reaching into the baritone range which the solos require, is equally full and certain.

The bulk of the text and interpretation rested with Mr. Orbach. Never have these solos been sung with more understanding, good taste, and what amounts to an almost forgotten art, compassion and humility.

SOLOIST PLEASES

His diction, both in Hebrew and in English, was distinct and unaffectedly clear. His honest straightforward approach caught the composer's intent, sincerely, clearly, without mannerisms, but with inner spirituality.

Particularly in the gentle supplication of "Tsur Yisroel"—"Rock of Israel, arise to the help of Israel", his voice was a mirror of true religiosity, while the clarion call of the "Shema", was majestic and challenging.

Robert Bates, master accompanist, supported the chorus and soloist at the piano; he minimized the difficulties of the orchestral score, and gave a full and rich background.

Polly's Pointers

Needs Tip on Washing

DEAR POLLY — I have to put warm, wet compresses on an incision which is very painful. This was so messy that I would get my clothes wet. I washed using a folded, wet washcloth, placed plastic wrap on top, then filled a hot water bottle to put on top of that. The compress stays hot and wet for an hour, and I do not get wet from frequent wringing out of the wet cloth. — DOROTHY

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — I would appreciate hearing from some reader how to wash a lamb's wool comforter. I have had mine a few years and have never washed it. The cover is brown sateen on one side and gold sateen on the other. It is very pretty and so nice and warm but I do feel it should be washed. — MABEL

DEAR GIRLS — This worked well for me on FRESH ball point ink and lipstick stains on white kid gloves. When the cleaned spots dried, my gloves were a bit gray and stiff but rubbing well with the fingertips remedied that. — POLLY

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Arriving in New York by plane for a scheduled sailing the next day on the S.S. Rotterdam, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sanger of Dallas found that the big plaid bag containing most of Sanger's clothes was missing.

However, an identical bag tagged with the name of James Turner of Odessa, Tex., remained unclaimed and airline officials immediately called the Turner home in Odessa. They learned that the Turners were spending the night in New York — and would be leaving the next day for a cruise on the S.S. Rotterdam.

Sanger got his own bag back in short order.

An inexpensive way to prevent fabrics from running is to add a little salt to the wash water.

MRS. P. J. UGOLINI

Linda Lee Long of East Boulevard South and Peter John Ugolini of Highland Road spoke vows at noon Saturday in St. Ephrem's Catholic Church, Utica.

The bride selected an Empire-waisted gown with bodice and sleeves overlaid with lace. A band of spring flowers secured her bouffant illusion veil and she carried a matching cascade of spring flowers.

Why Not a Pill for Understanding?

By BETTY CANARY
Science is great and I never cease in my marveling at the wonders performed in its native. Now, if only I could get some scientist to spend time working on a project I think is important.

I willingly concede that moon travel is important. I loudly applaud the research now being done in the depths of the ocean. I believe the creation of edible foods from crude oil is spectacular. I could talk all day if we were to get on the subject of plastics.

Of course, we all know about the miracles performed with organ transplants and many are interested in the idea of after-death deep freezing. Surely there will be some good come from the discovery of DNA. That kind of thing, however, is not exactly what I had in mind.

HUMANITY
While we are overawed with the boggle-the-mind sort of stuff, I still think it would be nice if we could come up with something designed to help us with our attitudes. If a laboratory can come up with a no-knock gasoline, why not hope for no-knock attitudes?

I do not mean new tranquilizers. We need nobody in a stupor. I don't mean a mind implant designed to render a person susceptible to a potential Big Brother.

Really, all I have in mind is a simple little powder that would help a person understand the feelings of others.

A capsule, perhaps, that could open a person's mind to both sides of a question. A tiny pill that would help him see a problem from more than one angle.

Despite Dryers, Many Women Favor Clothesline

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Despite modern housewives' growing use of automatic dryers, the old-fashioned clothesline is holding its own, says a man who has been importing and selling these washday accessories for the past 18 years.
"Although many people are buying clothes dryers the increasing population seems to mean a ready market for clotheslines," reports Eric Muentzing, president of a local sales company, who still sells about $350,000 worth of the pins annually to some of the largest novelty and grocery chains in the country.

Muentzing, a native of Sweden, has imported more than 750 million from Sweden, Denmark and the Netherlands in his almost two decades of handling the product. He deals only in the spring-type pin, which has almost completely displaced the round type.

An elixir that could allow him to feel the pain and injury he has given others with casual thoughtless words or bad manners.

At its best, the prescription might enable a man to develop some kind of radar or sensors which would pick up the static, the "knocking" the individual throws out in the world around him . . . and play it back with the volume turned to high.

We could hope a dose of this magic potion could show an individual how his cruel whim, his careless loud remark, can plunge another into despair.

Possibly an ingredient could be added that would be specifically designed to make a person pause before voicing an ignorant prejudice or repeating a hateful remark. Something that would keep him wondering if he really understands what he is saying or if he actually means what he says.

Something that would help him do unto others as he would have others do unto him. If science ever comes up with it, I do hope they find a beautiful, exciting name for it. Until then, I'll just think of it as The Golden Rx.

City Schools Plan 2-Pronged Attack on Bias

By MARY SUNDBROM
A more detailed program in sensitivity training in human relations and closer study in hiring new teachers are two methods by which the Pontiac School District plans to alleviate discrimination against black students.

The Black Student Union, an organization representing all human black students in Pontiac Schools, recently demanded "an end of this school year, Lacy investigation of all Pontiac teachers regarding racist action, racist attitudes and discrimination against black students."

Recognizing that there is some racism and discrimination in the schools, administrators agree that investigation and action on specific cases must be conducted.

However, a full investigation of all of the almost 1,200 persons who work in the Pontiac Schools regarding racism and discrimination, as demanded by the Black Student Union, is impractical, said William J. Lacy, superintendent in charge of instruction and pupil personnel services.

CORRECTIVE ACTION
Administrators ask that principals and assistant principals in the city's public schools observe and take corrective action when teachers are reported to demonstrate racist behavior in working with students, Lacy said.

He said that reports should be made to principals of each building or to central administration personnel by students or parents who feel a teacher discriminates against pupils because of their race.

In staffing the schools with nonracist, nondiscriminatory personnel, the school district is making efforts when interviewing to determine that candidates for positions have wholesome attitudes toward both black and white pupils.

"In addition, an in-service sensitivity training program is needed. We must make the most sincere effort we can to find realistic programs to sensitize our personnel to the needs, feelings and aspirations of students and their parents," Lacy said.

PARTICULARLY IMPORTANT
"It is particularly important that these in-service training programs be designed to improve the understanding and sensitivity of all instructional personnel to the needs, feelings and aspirations of black students," he added.

A plan was worked out in the spring of 1968 for developing mandatory instructional materials on Afro-American history district personnel to guide problem. Participants are given materials, and are expected to resolve the confrontation.

One example would be to have participants listen to a tape of black and white students describing what it is like to attend a newly desegregated school where they have just been confronted with.

Another program is called "survey feedback" in which the feelings of both black and white students on classroom and other problems would be compiled through surveys, and then would be presented to the teachers in training. This can help teachers realize how students feel and think.

The Equality of Educational Opportunity (EEO) report released last June to the school district from the Pontiac Citizens Study Committee included recommendations on in-service training on race relations.

MAJOR ROLE
The recommendations stipulated that Negro administrators and leaders of the Negro community should play a major role in drafting such a program.

Several programs are being reviewed by Lacy.

The "Teacher Training Designs for Improving Instruction in Interracial Classrooms" by Dr. Mark A. Chesler of the Center for Research on Utilization of Scientific Knowledge at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, offers several suggestions for sensitizing programs.

CONFRONTATION
They include the "confrontation search" in which a presentation is made of a serious problem. Participants are given materials, and are expected to resolve the confrontation.

Front to rear: Kingswood Estate Wagon, Concours Station Wagon, Sportvan and Suburban.

No other wagons have such a capacity for enjoyment.

Show you what we mean.

Say you're in a Chevrolet Kingswood Walk-In Wagon, when suddenly the road becomes nothing but chuckholes and ruts. Only you can't tell it's rough.

You see, the Kingswood floors along on computer-selected coil springs that smooth even the meanest road. It takes a mighty rough trail to bother you.

That's true of our other wagons, too. Take the Concours Wagon. It's our second size, but there's no compromise on room. Put down the back seat and you've got up to 94 cubic feet of cargo space.

Maybe you're a bit more serious about the great outdoors. So are we. That's why we offer the Chevy Sportvan. To a camper, this one's like clear skies and no mosquitoes. Add a camper conversion unit and take along beds, stove and the kitchen sink. But we're not done yet: there's also the Suburban, the tough go-anywhere truck that doubles as a car.

So before you head out to see the U.S.A., better stop by your Chevrolet dealer's.

His Sports-Recreation Dept. is right up your alley.

OU Symposium Is Accredited

'Clinical Genetics for Practicing Physicians'

The medical symposium series at Oakland University entitled "Clinical Genetics for Practicing Physicians," has received accreditation by the Michigan Academy of General Practice.

Member physicians attending the series may receive two hours of elective credit for each Tuesday evening session.

The series has been planned by a joint committee of the Oakland County Medical Society, leading osteopathic physicians and the university's division of continuing education.

Dr. Cecil Jacobson, chief of the reproductive genetics unit of George Washington University School of Medicine, will speak Tuesday on "Mendelian and Genetic Counseling."

PEDIATRICS PROFESSOR
On April 15, Dr. Richard Hong, professor of pediatrics at University of Minnesota Medical School, will cover "Genetics and Immunology." Later sessions include "Red Cell Genetics," "Inborn Errors of Metabolism," and a "Cytopathology Workshop." Interns, residents and physicians interested in attending the weekly sessions may contact Oakland University's Division of Continuing Education, Rochester, Mich. 48063.

'Satellite Backs Big-Bang Universe Origin'

HONOLULU (AP) — Man's nation's heaviest and most complex unmanned observatory above earth's atmosphere casts doubts on the theory that the universe is unchanging and provides some evidence that it began with a big bang, says an astronomer.

Dr. Arthur D. Code told the American Astronomical Society Tuesday that the second Observing Astronomical Observatory "provides further argument against the theory that the universe has looked the same since the beginning of time."

Telescopic eyes aboard the chance to study the bulk of the bang or expanding universe radiation from the large stars that doesn't get through earth's atmosphere.

OAO2 and its 11 telescopes are being controlled from NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center at Greenbelt, Md.

"We're aiming it at objects we already know exist," Code said. "In general, we don't expect to discover any new objects but will learn something new about known objects."

The University of Wisconsin astronomer said OAO2 will help with "cosmological problems"—how the universe was created. Data collected so far, he said, "is most consistent with the big bang theory."

Hearing on Aging

LANSING (AP) — The State Commission on Aging will hold a public hearing April 11 at the Kalamazoo Public Library. Dr. Wilma Donahue, commission chairman, said the group is anxious to hear from older people themselves what their problems are and what steps the Legislature can take to help them.

Luci's Mate on Way Home From Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — One of ex-President Lyndon B. Johnson's sons-in-law left Vietnam for home today with a medal.

Altran J. C. Patrick J. Nugent, married to Johnson's daughter Luci, completed his year of Vietnam duty and took a plane for Bergstrom Air Force Base in Texas. He will be discharged there.

He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross while loadmaster of a C123 loaded with troops on Jan. 2.

An Air Force spokesman said the twin-engine transport had 88 soldiers of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division aboard when it came under mortar attack. But Nugent and the other crew members accomplished their mission "without battle damage or crew injury," the citation said.

Nugent arrived in South Vietnam in April 1968. He first was assigned to Cam Ranh Bay, where he loaded bombs on U.S. warplanes. He was later transferred to Phan Rang airbase and became a loadmaster aboard C123s.

Johnson's other son-in-law, Marine Maj. Charles Robb, is scheduled to leave Vietnam later this month. Robb, served about six months as a company commander and now has a staff job at the headquarters of the 1st Marine Division.

Bridge Tricks From Jacobys carried over into the early days of contract.

The bidding in the box took place at both tables in the 1930 National Team Championship final. Since the diamond jack dropped nicely both declarers had no trouble collecting 12 tricks and no one even considered the slam which was bidable.

Five or 10 years later any really good pair would get there. South would bid one spade instead of two no-trump. North might jump in spades or he might even cue bid in hearts. Either way North and South would get to either six spades or six no-trump.

Today any fair pair would get to the slam. The combination of a fit in two suits plus 29 high-card points including three aces and four kings would be good enough.

Some modern scientists would get to slam somewhat differently. South would make a negative double over the one heart overall. This modern gadget shows at least seven points, including four spades and is for takeout. North would Break-In Foiled by Breakdown?

OXNARD, Calif. (AP) — Guadalupe Lomas' car broke down early Monday so, like many stranded motorists, she flagged down a passing car. The occupants, highway patrol officers Frank Frede and Edward Dockery, pushed the car into a service station. The station was closed and, the officers noted, had been broken into. Glancing into Lomas' car, the officers said later, they saw batteries, oil cans, tools and cash. The officers called local police, who booked the 24-year-old laborer on suspicion of burglary.

Kansas Decides Iowa State Bird Not a Nuisance

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas House has killed a resolution that would have declared the goldfinch—Iowa's state bird—a public nuisance. Iowa legislators have been considering a bill to outlaw the sunflower—Kansas' state flower—as a noxious weed. Rep. Ben Madden, sponsor of the anti-goldfinch resolution, said Monday: "We made the first step toward peace, and will even consent to peace talks in Hawaii—at their expense." Meanwhile, Sen. Joseph Coleman, sponsor of the sunflower bill in the Iowa Legislature, said Iowa would take all the goldfinches in Kansas if—Kansas would take all the sunflowers in Iowa. The exports of the Netherlands rose during 1967 to $462.9 million from $399.1 million the preceding year.

Foods for Passover Are Delicious

One of the most ritualistic and happiest holidays of the Jewish people is Passover, the eight-day celebration commemorating the emancipation of the Hebrews from the bondage of Egypt.

Specifically, Passover refers to the passing over of the Israelites' houses by God when the first-born of Egypt were killed, and the exodus that followed. But, in a larger sense, it is the Jewish festival of freedom . . . and thus is filled with symbolic reminders of the Hebrews' time of strife and subsequent liberation. During the eight days of Passover, which begin tomorrow, Jewish people refrain from eating bread or any dishes prepared with leaven, symbolizing their haste and sacrifice when they marched out of Egypt. Instead, matzo is substituted for bread and matzo meal for leaven.

On the first night of Passover (and often the second night too) the family feast or Seder is held, not only the traditional way to celebrate the holiday, but, in modern times, a celebration of Spring as well.

The Seder table holds a sumptuous meal with many courses, including sweet wine for every one. Symbolic foods are eaten: apples, nuts and wine, resembling the clay used in the buildings of Egypt, and bitter herbs, a reminder of the bitterness of life in slavery.

Family members often lean back on cushions while eating for on this holiday every Hebrew is a king.

Some of the most popular dishes served during the Passover holiday are knaidlach, light fluffy balls usually served in soup, kugel or charlotte, a kind of pudding souffle, and matzo brie, an omelet.

Macaroons are a favorite dessert, often served with a glass of Cherry Heering, the famous cordial that brings a light touch to the end of a hearty, full meal. Often, too, a chocolate covered matzo is hidden somewhere in the house to bring luck to the family member who finds it.

Here are some recipes for Passover fare . . . traditional or with a modern touch . . . that you can "pass over" to any other time of the year!

POTATO KNAIDLACH

2 eggs
1½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons grated onion
3 tablespoons matzo meal
½ cup potato flour
4 cups grated potatoes
Beat eggs, salt and onion together. Stir in potato flour, matzo meal and potatoes. Shape into 1½-inch balls. Cook in salted water 20 minutes or until they rise to the top. Drain (18 balls for soup, side dish).

APPLE CHARLOTTE

¾ cup yolks
½ cup of sugar dash salt
3 egg whites
4 tablespoons ground pecans
2 cups grated apples
½ cup matzo meal
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons cherry liqueur
Beat egg yolks, sugar and salt until thick and lemon colored. Stir in apples, matzo meal, lemon rind and cherry liqueur.

Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in. Turn into a greased 8-inch spring pan. Sprinkle top with nuts.
Bake in 350 degree oven for 35 minutes until brown and firm.
Cool before releasing sides of pan. (Serves 6-8)

2 eggs
2 teaspoon grated onion
2 matzo
½ teaspoon salt
Beat eggs, salt and onion together. Hold matzo under running water. Drain. Crumble into eggs. Mix well. Turn mixture into greased skillet. Fry until lightly browned on both sides. (Serves 1-2)

CHERRY MACAROONS

6 egg whites
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cherry liqueur
½ lb. almond paste
½ cup matzo meal
3 cups cherries, drained
Beat egg whites until peaks form. Beat in sugar. Fold in almond paste and matzo meal. Add cherry liqueur. Drop by teaspoon onto greased baking pan, flatten tops slightly with a wet knife and insert a cherry into the top of each.
Bake in 350 degree oven for 20 minutes. (Makes 6 dozen.)

Passover Pancakes

Fruits and Nuts in the Filling

Intriguing filled pancakes called Chremslach are a Passover specialty. Prepared in a variety of shapes and sizes — often more like fritters than pancakes — they are filled with meat, vegetables, fruits or nuts. Chremslach are served as a main dish, accompaniment or dessert.

Suggested here are two unusual new fillings for dessert Chremslach. Apple-Raisin spiced with cinnamon, and Apricot-Almond made with apricot preserves. Both are shallow-fried to a crispy golden brown in peanut oil, lightest of the common cooking oils.

Peanut oil offers special advantages for Jewish-style cookery the year round. To help you plan more varied menus, write for the free 32-page booklet, "Five Great Cuisines with Planters Peanut Oil."

In addition to such interesting Jewish specialties as Esau's Potage, Salmon Chowder, Knaidlach, Israeli Eggplant, Salad and Red Sea Slaw, the cookbook includes classics from Italy, France, China and All-American favorites.

For your free copy of "Five Great Cuisines with Planters Peanut Oil," write: Standard Brands Educational Service, P.O. Box 2895, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

FRUIT FILLED CREMSLACH

4 eggs
¾ cup water
2 tablespoons peanut oil
1 tablespoon sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
2½ cups matzo meal
Peanut oil

In a mixing bowl beat eggs. Add water, 2 tablespoons peanut oil, sugar, salt, pepper and ginger. Beat again until well blended. Stir in matzo meal. Cover and refrigerate at least 30 minutes.

Divide mixture in half. On a board lightly sprinkled with matzo meal, roll half of mixture to a ¼-½ inch thickness. Using a 3¼-inch round biscuit cutter cut 10 circles, re-rolling dough if necessary. Top circles with a generous tablespoon of either of the fillings (below).

Roll out remaining matzo meal mixture and cut out 10 circles; place over filling and firmly pinch edges together to seal.

FRY IN OIL

Fry in about ¼-inch of peanut oil at medium heat just until golden. Drain on paper towels. Serve hot or cold. If desired, top with cinnamon-sugar or honey and silvered Planters Blended Almonds. Makes about 1 dozen.

Apple-Raisin Filling: Thoroughly combine 1 cup firmly packed grated apple, ¼ cup dark seedless raisins, ¼ cup honey, 2 tablespoons matzo meal and ¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon. Let stand at least 15 minutes before using to fill chremslach.

Apricot-Almond Filling: Thoroughly combine 1 cup apricot preserves, ¼ cup finely chopped toasted blanched almonds and 1 tablespoon matzo meal. Let stand at least 15 minutes before using to fill chremslach.

It's Sweet Sour

For a truly luscious dessert spoon this topping over coffee or chocolate ice cream. Fold 2 oz. finely chopped semi-sweet chocolate and 1 teaspoon sugar into 1 cup dairy sour cream. Makes 1 cup sauce.

PASSOVER PANCAKES — Intriguing filled pancakes called Chremslach are a Passover specialty. Two new fillings are suggested here: Apple-Raisin spiced with cinnamon, and Almond-Apricot made with apricot preserves.

Tuna Stars in Lasagna Recipe

Americans consume so much tuna today that we've turned to cheese.

The tuna, caught by the Japanese in far off waters is frozen on the ship so that it arrives at the canneries as fresh as though it had just been pulled from the water.

Lasagne has long been a favorite food for many, but here is an especially nutritious version that is perfect for this time of year. Instead of the usual sauce, meaty chunks of tuna are teamed with a rich creamy white sauce subtly seasoned with nutmeg. The lasagne is baked until bubbly and golden brown.

It's superb for entertaining, for it is a good-sized recipe and the entire dish can be assembled and refrigerated so that all you need do is bake it at the last minute.

CREAMY TUNA-LASAGNE
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
¼ pound lasagne (12 pieces)
Cream sauce*
3 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna, drained
1 pound ricotta or creamed cottage cheese
About ¼ cup grated Parmesan or Romano cheese
½ pound Mozzarella cheese, sliced
Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add lasagne so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

In bottom of 13x9-inch pan or shallow 2½-quart baking dish, pour a small amount of Cream Sauce. Layer half the lasagne, tuna, ricotta, sauce and Parmesan cheese. Repeat layers. Top with Mozzarella until crisp-tender. Stir in ¼ cup flour, 1½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon marjoram, ¼ teaspoon pepper and ¼ teaspoon nutmeg. (moderate) oven 25 minutes. Gradually add 2 cups milk; Broil 4 inches from source of cook, stirring constantly until heat 2 minutes or until lightly brown. Makes 8 servings.

*Cream sauce makes 3 cups: Chop 1 medium onion and sauté in ¼ cup butter or margarine until crisp-tender. Stir in ¼ cup flour, 1½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon marjoram, ¼ teaspoon pepper and ¼ teaspoon nutmeg. Gradually add 2 cups milk; Broil 4 inches from source of cook, stirring constantly until heat 2 minutes or until lightly brown. Makes 8 servings.

Because Easter is such an important festival, every Christian country has traditional dishes for the holiday feast. The egg, symbol of the rebirth of nature in the spring, is featured everywhere. Easter breads are also favored, often elaborately shaped creations studded with fruits and decorated with frosting.

In some countries the egg and the bread are combined in fancy braids of rich yeast dough entwined around hard-cooked eggs. Italy, Portugal, Greece and many South American countries have such specialties. In Brazil, home of many interesting sweetbreads, the Easter loaf is a handsome ring with a whole egg centered in each twist. It is served with thimble-sized cups of strong black coffee — the Brazilian national beverage.

LOTS OF BAKED GOODS

The variety of breads and cakes in Brazil is tremendous owing largely to the choice of flours available. Yeast breads, however, are more popular in the wheat-growing states of the South. Sweetbreads and coffee cakes are specialties in this country, one of the world's leading producers of both sugar and coffee.

Pennsylvanians Are Bunny's Originators

The Pennsylvania Dutch get the credit for having introduced the Easter egg and the Easter Bunny to the American scene. To these people, eggs were important in planning Easter week meals.

An egg laid on Good Friday was to be eaten on that day; the shell, saved for use as a cup out of which to drink water on Easter morn.

Egg eating contests were popular during pre-Easter week and even on into Easter Monday observances. In 1874, the winner of one of these contests was reported to have consumed 56 eggs.

To this day, eggs are the center of attraction for Easter-time meals. And, are very popular with the diners, too. Anyone who has assisted in scrambling or frying eggs for an Easter breakfast following sunrise services can testify to that fact.

Brazilian Easter Twist — Brightly colored hard-boiled eggs nestled in rich yeast-raised bread make Brazilian Easter Twist as good looking as it is good eating.

Laundry, TV Style, Proves a Washout

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — "What in the world are you doing?" my wife said curiously when she sauntered into the laundry room.

"What does it look like I'm doing?" I replied tartly.

"It looks like you are darning the twist in your underwear while standing in a glass tank with water up to your chin," she said absurdly.

WEST

"You have formed that impression because you spend your spare time reading instead of watching television," I said reprovingly. "If you watched television as much as I do, you would know that I am washing my T-shirt."

"I saw this commercial where a guy in a dirty T-shirt stands in water up to his chin, adds detergent and then agitates himself like a washing machine. So I bought this glass tank and now I'm testing it out."

"Forgive me," my wife said humbly. "I should have known a man of your intelligence wouldn't be doing anything ridiculous."

APOLGY ACCEPTED

I accepted her apology gracefully. It was one of those little domestic triumphs that are all too rare in married life. Imagine, then, my chagrin when a few days later I picked up a press release from the Federal Trade Commission and discovered that somebody had been putting me on.

According to the FTC, the stain on the T-shirt "had not been removed by the immersion depicted on the television screen." It had been laundered in the normal way.

Apparently the guy in the water tank had changed into a clean T-shirt while the camera was stopped. Or something of the sort.

THAT CATEGORY

Although noting that the commercial was probably intended to be "spoofing," the FTC said even humorous commercials may fall into the category of deceptive advertising.

Therefore, it obtained from the soap company that dreamed up the idea an agreement to discontinue the commercial.

So here I am stuck with a glass of milk and the necessity of eating crow in front of my wife.

How was I supposed to know the commercial was a "spoof." It looked as plausible to me as any of the other commercials I see on television.

In fact, I may continue to wash my T-shirts that way. The commercial might have been deceptive, but I have never had cleaner underwear.

MICHELANGELO

QUESTION: Why is Michelangelo so famous?

ANSWER: Unlike some artists of our time, who present broken up or highly distorted pictures of the human figure, the artists of the Italian Renaissance took delight in showing human beings in as majestic and beautiful a manner as possible.

It is because Michelangelo achieved a power and glory in his figures greater than any other artist, that his name is world famous and will always remain so.

He himself wrote: "Nor hath God deligned to show Himself elsewhere. More clearly than in human forms sublime Which, since they image him, compel my love." This artist, both sculptor and painter, lived between 1475 and 1564.

The figure shown is Michelangelo's great fresco on the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel in Rome. Compare the hand - also from this fresco - to the branch of a tree below. All living things have rhythm. Michelangelo has expressed this life quality with tremendous force.

This artist's favorite medium was sculpture. He seemed to enjoy overcoming the resistance of the hard stone. His great figures in marble, such as the David and the Moses, are among the most glorious triumphs of Italian art.

(You may win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Year-book if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Board to Act on Waterford School Cuts

The first official repercussions of last week's defeat of a school millage proposal in Waterford Township will be felt at tomorrow night's meeting of the township school board.

Nearly every item on the agenda for the 7:30 p.m. meeting at the school district's new administrative offices, 6000 Pontiac Lake, is affected by the voters' March 26 decision.

Scheduled are superintendent's recommendations pertaining to staff appointments and reappointments, contracts for special education and the 1969-70 budget for submission to the county tax allocation board.

In addition, routine purchases by the district and discussion of elementary school planning for next year and the pursuit of fiscal reform are slated.

VIRTUALLY CERTAIN

An austerity program necessitated by the failure of the two-year, 3-mill proposal is virtually certain to include cuts in staff retention and hiring, the special education program, the elementary program and the district's purchasing power.

34 Charged at PNH

Prosecution Rests Sit-In Case

The prosecution completed its persons — mostly students — case yesterday in the Pontiac charged with trespassing in a District Court jury trial of 34 March 11 sit-in at Pontiac

Northern High School.

Testimony was heard from four witnesses, including William K. Hanger, city police chief, who described in detail the events which led to the arrests of about 75 persons at the scene.

Blood Disease Is Fatal to Dr. Richard Traicoff

Dr. Richard W. Traicoff, who contracted a blood disease almost two years ago and received more than 200 blood and platelet transfusions, died yesterday. He was 27.

Service will be 10 a.m. Friday at St. Benedict Church, Waterford Township with burial in the Ottawa Park Cemetery, Independence Township. The Rosary will be said at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Surviving are his wife, Constance, two daughters, Nancy and Barbara, and a son, Richard, all at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Traicoff, of Detroit; and a sister, Mrs. Norman Greenfield of Pontiac.

Hanger took command when the demonstration reportedly a protest against alleged lack of action taken by the board of education on black students' demands — swelled to a milling crowd of an estimated 150 students and several adult protesters.

He was questioned most of the afternoon on decisions which led to the arrests and testified that those arrested entered police custody voluntarily after having been given the choice of leaving the building.

Police videotapes of the demonstration and the subsequent arrests were shown and identification officer Freeman Station, video tape operator, took the stand to describe scenes. Moping proceedings included the testimony of Vernell Duffy, an assistant principal at the school, and Officer James Terry Ball, 5490 Brunswick, Waterford Township.

Duffy told the court that several firecrackers exploded when the demonstration began and that some unruliness had taken place.

Batchelor testified that he contacted police headquarters to advise superior officers of the demonstration. He said the procedure he took was routine in his job as liaison between the police department and students.

No violence took place at the sit-in and police began making James Stanley of 3773 Hl Hill, Lake Orion, is the new assistant 11 a.m., clearing hallways in about two hours.

County to Get Plans for New Building

Plans for a $3-million service building will be presented to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors at its meeting at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the County Courthouse auditorium at Pontiac Lake and Telegraph.

The proposed building would house the Department of Public Works, Drain Commission and other facilities.

The plans have been approved by the planning, zoning and building committees.

Also on the agenda is a report from the finance and personnel practices committees on salary and personnel requests for the 1970 budget.

Traffic Toll Up

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police report Michigan had 185 deaths in March, 10 more than the average for the month over the past five years and one more than the same month a year ago. The highest monthly fatal toll for March was 179 in 1966.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Ping-pong, nose-picking, a form of irritability are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... only parents that medical experts say must know it out of every person examined. Badly itching may be victims and not know it. To rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. They're usually what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it: First—a scientific seeping capsule the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily. Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge. Small, easy-to-swallow tablets—special sizes for children and adults.

Christ Is Part of Family Life

By BELLE DANIEL
Homemaker, Grand Junction, Colo.

The days after we moved into our home were filled with the confusion of unpacking, arranging furniture, cleaning. My husband's business schedule left little time for him to help but the four older children tried to be useful.

I was relieved when Holly, age 9, decided on a project of her own: a chapel in the attic. Only once did she intrude on my business. Would I unpack the brass cross which formerly hung in our living room?

When a brief search failed to find the cross, I pushed Holly's project from my mind, trying not to notice her disappointment.

Temper flared more than once during those hectic days. It seemed futile to try to have family prayer times, so we settled for blessings before meals. But we did hang our plaque

Soviet N-Arms May Top U.S. in 2 Years—Expert

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Soviet Union could gain nuclear superiority over the United States within two years, a researcher says.

Dr. Stefan T. Possony, director of international studies at Stanford University's Hoover Institution, said Tuesday the United States lacks a defense against Soviet SS-9 missiles which have 30 megaton warheads capable of destroying underground missile sites.

Possony told a Town Hall meeting the antiballistic missile system advocated by President Nixon "is one element which will deter the Russians from launching their missiles against us."

Possony is a former special adviser to the Air Force intelligence staff.

2 Buried Alive

LAKEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Two boys digging in dirt mounds at a construction site were buried alive a block from their home. The bodies of Darrell Albiston, 12, and Mark Wayne Feneley, 8, were found under a dirt slide Tuesday, several hours after being reported missing.

"Christ is the Head of this House" on the front porch.

HURRIED HIM AWAY

A new neighbor, seeing our sign, stopped to visit, but I hurried him off until a better time. Christ lived in our house, of course, but it just wasn't appropriate for Him to take over yet. Not until we got things straightened out.

Weariness and edginess increased with the days. I was glad when school finally opened and I could be alone. And then one day it confronted me — Holly's chapel.

I stepped over the attic clutter at the top of stairs, made a slight turn toward the morning sunlight, and there it was: a tiny enclosure bounded by the window under the eaves and by sheets of light wallboard I had seen stacked there the day we moved in.

Holly had covered the floor with a worn Mexican tablecloth; the colors glowed like stained glass in the sunshine.

TABLE LAID

A table was laid and seemed to be waiting to refresh me. There was no wine, no wafer; nor was the piece of white net placed over the blue "altar" according to any prayer book rubric.

But the hollyhocks were still fresh, and the little white Bible, open, invited me to a feast.

Centered above the table was the cross. Not the lovely brass one Holly had asked for, but a small white shaggy-edged one that she had fashioned with in-styrofoam. A large black nail in the middle of the cross secured it to the wall.

It was this nail that held my attention. How ugly it was against the white! How deeply it pierced!

And how necessary, I suddenly realized. For the nail was the hard, black, sharp unpleasantness of daily life.

I had forgotten the true meaning of the cross — Christ had died on it, yes, but He had died as a man. I had to learn not to turn from His creatures: from Holly, from my neighbor. I had been occupied with things and self, daring to think that I could exclude God from parts of the whole. At that moment I knew He was to sanctify all of life.

A prayer remains in my heart since leaving Holly's chapel that morning: "Help us, Lord since 1945.

Jesus, to offer Thee a fitting throne. Come in, we pray, Rule and abide."

Washfenaw OKs Police-Dog Use

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Douglas Harvey, Washfenaw County sheriff, was granted the use of police dogs for patrol and tracking purposes by the Washfenaw County Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

The board withheld action on a request to use the dogs for crowd control action.

More than 100,000 Germans have emigrated to Australia since leaving Holly's chapel.

Foreign Press Comments

U.S. Policy on China Eyed

LONDON (AP) — One Japanese editorial writer said the United States has to take "concrete steps for breaking the current deadlock with China." Another predicted it would.

Both were commenting on a meeting in New York last week at which China specialists of the academic world reviewed U.S. policy toward Peking.

One of the speakers was Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who called for steps toward diplomatic recognition of Red China and a seat for Peking in the U.N. General Assembly.

Noting that "The political ring of Kennedy's voice is not lost on President Nixon, who is apparently gunning for another term in the White House," the newspaper Mainichi said, "If American-Chinese relations are to be ironed out, it certainly behooves the United States to ditch its long-standing policy regarding China as a potential enemy and recognize Peking as the 'legitimate power in control of the mainland.' In the current situation, however, we doubt very much if such a realistic peace policy can evoke a forthright response of like intent from Peking."

"It is up to the United States to show concrete steps for breaking the current deadlock with China."

The newspaper Yomiuri said: "The importance we attach to the proposal by Kennedy lies in the fact that it envisages the United States taking the initiative by improving relations with Peking."

"Obstinacy on the part of Peking may be partly responsible for the failure to make progress in the ambassador-level talks begun in 1955 after the Korean War armistice. Yet U.S. attitudes toward China seem to have proceeded from prejudiced assumptions. Now Sen. Kennedy proposes recognizing the Peking regime for what it is, the government controlling the Chinese continent."

Other comment abroad on U.S. affairs included an observation from the West German newspaper Die Welt on the change in style at the White House.

"To be precise, the revolution is a restoration," it said.

Vast Sahara
Test for Drivers

By National Geographic Society
WASHINGTON — A few years ago a French army truck driver entered the ranks of motoring immortals. He struck a tree in the Sahara Desert — the only one in a 1,000-square-mile area.

Trees are nearly as rare as water in the Sahara, a barren expanse of sand and stone that covers 3½ million square miles of northern Africa.

The Tree of Tenere, for example, a mere scrawny acacia in the Republic of Niger, looms importantly enough to appear on maps. The only tree for a hundred miles, it guides caravans to a lifesaving well.

For centuries a camel highway for trade and culture, the Sahara now welcomes adventurous motorized vacationers.

The only prerequisites, one travel guide advises, are "reasonable good health, an inquiring mind, and a readiness to forego luxuries."

Why Apollo 10 Won't Try Lunar Landing

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The decision was simple. We really didn't have the technical basis for flying the second LEM (lunar module) to the surface of the moon. We needed additional testing in which we could learn as much as possible that could be applied to a manned lunar-landing mission."

That's how Christopher C. Kraft Jr. explained last week's decision to fly the next space probe into lunar orbit rather than landing it on the moon.

Kraft, director of flight operations for the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, gave two major reasons for preferring a moon orbit for the Apollo 10 mission.

"To set 'time lines' on activities up to and preparing for the landing. We learned on the Apollo 9 LEM flight that activities in space often take longer than expected. We want to know how long it takes the astronauts to do things, to check systems, to get ready to separate the ship, executing maneuvers."

planned for the Apollo 11 crew after it blasts off the moon.

The descent will be over the same spot on which Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin hope to land next July 20. That is in the Sea of Tranquility near the crater Molke.

Kraft said the precise altitude over the moon may not be exactly 50,000 feet. Present knowledge indicates earth-based calculations can be as much as 4,200 feet off, although data obtained when Apollo 8 orbited the moon in December shows the error may be only 1,500 feet.

Apollo 8 did not carry a LEM and circled the moon for 20 hours at a relatively constant altitude of 70 miles. Apollo 10 is to orbit for 6½ hours.

"By flying the LEM at various altitudes on Apollo 10, we'll be able to predict the error with much greater accuracy and gain confidence that we'll be right when we go for the landing," Kraft said.

Kraft said Apollo 8 supported information from five unmanned lunar missions in which satellites constantly shifted orbital paths and speeds because of irregularities in the moon's gravitational field.

Each time a satellite passed over one of five large ringed maria, or dry seas, frequency changes in radio signals showed it dipped 15 to 30 feet and increased its 4,500 mile-an-hour speed by about one mile an hour.

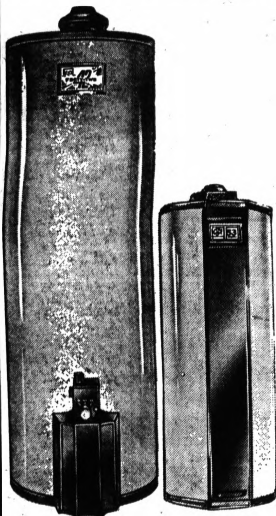

But other seas which are irregular and unringed had almost no effect on the vehicles.

In each of the five ringed areas, scientists reported there are concentrations of material called mascons in the lunar crust. The makeup of these craters is not known, but they could be nickel-iron meteorites which slammed into the moon. Some mascons are believed to be as large as 50 miles in diameter and could exert a gravitational pull on an orbiting ship.

Ingenuity of Its Technocrats Keeps Rebel Biafra Going

UMUAHIA, Biafra (AP) — A few miles and several checkpoints from Umuahia's red dirt streets is a classroom, its blackboard chalked with equations and sketches. A text in Spanish telling how to make land mines does not go to the desk.

Not too far away, in an office at an agricultural college, a man looks over planting records. In another part of Biafra sit 50-gallon oil drums that have been turned into "cookers" for making crude oil into fuel.

The men who run these operations are the secessionist state's most important technocrats, men whose ingenuity has kept Biafra going.

Cut off from the world except for flights into Uli airport, Biafra was forced "to begin producing 20th century material in a 19th century technological environment."

WELL GROUNDED

The expression is that of Dr. Felix Oragwu, a physicist trained at Toronto and Manchester universities, who sits in front of the blackboard, planning mines, bullets, mortars and rockets. He is deputy to Dr. En Nwosu, Biafra's director of research and planning, a man who studied at Ohio State University and later worked at the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna.

It is not clear just how much armament Biafra is producing, but one mine that looks like an oversized coffee pot and sprays pellets like a claymore mine is known to have been effective. The Biafrans say that about 500 killer mines are being turned out daily.

Oragwu showed a visitor a roughly finished, green-painted rocket called an Agbakajo or demon that he said was being produced at the rate of 40 to 50 per day. It is an armor-piercing weapon.

"All my life I've dealt with theory," Oragwu said. "There were explosions all the time, but mostly on paper. Now we've plunged into the real thing."

Most of the material for the weapons comes from scrap or parts cannibalized from the area's former small industry. Steel for 60mm and 81mm mortars is said to come from oil-drilling equipment transported into the heartland from Port Harcourt before that city fell to the federal army. Some chemicals are produced locally, others brought in by air.

Dr. Bede Okigbo is coordinator of Biafra's "land army," the state's attempt to bring the entire population into the production of food.

Behind every village planting area, in empty fields in Umuahia, earth has been turned over and seeds put down so that Biafrans will be able to depend more on themselves for food. All Biafrans, including civil servants, are required to put in time on the land.

Okigbo said his training at Washington State and Cornell universities "got me out in the fields in the summer, driving a tractor and bending my back."

"Now that's very important to me, because our work is so basic, so close to the soil," he said.

Okigbo has concentrated land army production on corn and peanuts to be used as poultry feed. He has asked the United States for chickens to supplement the poultry stocks that could become a solid source of protein. He has also sought aid in developing river fisheries, another source of protein.

Biafra's oil production comes under Nwosu's direction. Because of their importance, petroleum installations are among Biafra's carefully guarded secrets.

According to a study, the average retired couple spends less than $3 a day for food.

season opens next Tuesday.

Lou Brock opened the game with a line double and was stopped from coming home when Willie Horton fired the ball home after Juan Javier's short slide to left.

GOOD PEG

Again in the fourth inning, a perfect peg from Kaline stopped a run from scoring, but Dobson couldn't take advantage of the break. With the bases loaded, he fired a wild pitch to score Buckner who had walked and went to third on the singles by Gagliardi and Huntz.

That tied the score at 1-1, and with two outs, Brock again doubled down the line to make it 3-1.

SLOPPY FIELDING

The Cardinals were guilty of some sloppy fielding of their own in the fifth inning. Cock McCarroll hit a bloop to center. Second baseman Bob Johnson was off balance when he picked up the ball with his back to the infield and instead of throwing it in, he underhanded it to center-fielder Jim Hicks to make the throw.

Hicks picked it up and fired past third into the Cards' dugout permitting both McAuliffe and Stanley to score. Johnson and Hicks were given errors on the play.

LEAD RUN

Joe Hague, the muscular young first baseman whom the Cardinals have been grooming to take the job and then cock Stanley hit a bloop to center. Second baseman Bob Johnson was off balance when he picked up the ball with his back to the infield and instead of throwing it in, he underhanded it to center-fielder Jim Hicks to make the throw.

It was apparent that this was the day for some of the borderline players to earn their ticket to Detroit. Friday when spring camp breaks, but judging from the performances, the Tiger coaches will have some tough decisions to make.

COACHES Huddle

Smith and the staff huddled after the game and the Tiger manager admitted that the squad was just about complete. He hoped today's game with St. Louis and tomorrow's home finale in Lakeland against Cincinnati would complete the decisions.

Earl Wilson is scheduled to go against the Cardinals today.

Keith Allen, coach of the Flyers, said he didn't mind facing the West champion Blues in the opening round. "They're the best team we'll have to face in our division, so why not face them now? If we get by them, we should win the division playoffs," said Allen.

VEZINA WINNER

The Blues boast the best goaltender in the NHL in Vezina Trophy winner Jacques Plante and Glenn Hall but their defense will be without 44-year-old Doug Harvey, who suffered a slight head injury in an auto accident Sunday. Jim Roberts will replace Harvey, who is expected to miss at least two games.

Oakland, the Cinderella team that moved from a last place finish in 1967-68 to second place this season, figures to have its hands full with Los Angeles. It wasn't until the last two games of the regular season that the Seals managed to beat the Kings.

"We have to work hard all the time against L.A.," said Fred Glover, freshman coach of the Seals. "They're a skating team all the time and keep moving. If we work hard it's no problem, but it has got to be for 60 minutes."

BALANCING ACT — Philadelphia 76ers' Darrall Imhoff and Boston's Bill Russell (6) are both off balance as they battle for this loose ball during the first period of their National Basketball Association playoff game in Boston last night. Philadelphia won, 119-116, but trails the Celtics in the best-of-seven series, 3-1.

'Court' Provides Funds for Gala Bosox Party

"Darn right they have. Santiago might have been the biggest contributor last year."

"Where do you 'collectors' keep the money?"

"In a safety deposit box. They keep an account, too. The whole thing is done right."

"You don't accept checks, do you?"

"Strictly cash. If you don't pay the day you're fined, it costs you double the next day."

"How does one of your pitchers know when he's fined?"

"They police themselves and then let me know who has been fined. If the fella fined thinks he's not guilty, he can bring his case to Stange and Santiago but that doesn't do any good. They always say he's guilty."

"Is there any appeal after that?"

"Yes."

"To whom?"

"Always GUILTY."

"Me. That's when we go to court." I always hope they bring it to court because then if they're found guilty it costs 'em double and I always find 'em guilty."

"Is there anything they can do about that?"

"Yeah, sue City Hall."

"Did anybody on the staff manage to go through the season without being fined last year?"

"Nobody got away. Everybody contributed."

"How much did it come to?"

"About $700. We had a great party during an off day on the last road trip of the season. We did the thing right with hors d'oeuvres and shrimp to begin with. It was a terrific party. No gate crashers or anything."

"Did all the pitchers attend?"

"Are you kidding?"

"Was there anything left over in the kitty?"

"Eighty bucks and we divided it up."

"That means you're gonna have to start from scratch again this year right?"

"No sweat," Johnson said, laughing. "We've got a pretty good nest egg going already."

Billiards Champ Blasts Hopeful

TOKYO (AP) — Belgium's Raymond Ceulmans, the defending world champion, defeated Luis Manuel Martinez of Argentina in the second match of the 24th World Amateur Three-Cushion Billiards Championship today.

Ceulmans beat Martinez 60-37 in 61 innings.

In another second-round match, Bill Hynes of the United States suffered his first defeat at the hands of Koya Ogata of Japan. Ogata beat Hynes 60-34 in 69 innings.

San Diego, 76ers Break Into Win Column

By the Associated Press

The Philadelphia 76ers and San Diego Rockets got off the hook in the National Basketball Association playoffs Tuesday night, leaving the Baltimore Bullets, with the best regular season record, facing the possibility of becoming the first team to be eliminated from the post-season competition.

The 76ers, down three games to none, stayed alive by edging Boston 119-116 on the Celtics' court. The Rockets, losers of two games in Atlanta, returned home and rallied to beat the Hawks 104-97.

The other two series resume tonight. Baltimore is at New York and the Eastern champions must win to stave off the humiliation of a four-game sweep by the Knicks. Los Angeles, trailing 2-1, plays at San Francisco.

TRIO SHINES

Archie Clark, Hal Greer and Darrall Imhoff led Philadelphia to its must victory with 29, 23 and 22 points, respectively. John Havlicek had 28 for the Celtics.

Greer, whose lack of scoring has hurt the 76ers in the playoffs, hit a long jumper to break a 109-101 tie with 2:18 left. Matty Guokas sank a free throw and final and semifinal games to be played the third week with winners meeting in a one-day final.

"I don't consider this a good shooting game," said Greer, who hit on eight of 15 shots. "A lot of those shots I missed usually make."

The 76ers' backcourt ace said the Celtics stopped him in the first three games "by getting between me and the ball. They were still doing it but we just played well against it."

CHARITY REJECTED

Boston suffered at the foul line, sinking only 24 of 41 with league leader Larry Siegfried missing five-of-nine.

San Diego's John Block scored 10 of his 15 points in the final period as the rockets battled from behind. They trailed by 17 in the first half but sliced Atlanta's lead to three after three quarters.

Meeting on Tap

There will be a meeting of Clarkson Little League baseball managers Monday, April 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the Independent Township hall. Boys eight to 16 years old are eligible to participate in league play.

Block's 20-foot jump shot with 4:54 left put the Rockets ahead 81-79. Elvin Hayes contributed 28 points. Zelmo Beaty was high for the Hawks with 31. Lee. "Big for us and big for them."

'M' Mat Captain in All-Star Meet

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan wrestling captain Pete Cornell has been chosen to take part in the annual East-West All Star Wrestling Meet this weekend at Penn State University.

Cornell finished second in the 177-pound division at the NCAA Wrestling Championships last weekend in Provo, Utah.

Maryland Lures Help

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP) — Terry Holland, assistant basketball coach at Davidson College resigned Tuesday to take a similar job at the University of Maryland.

Block's 20-foot jump shot with 4:54 left put the Rockets ahead 81-79. Elvin Hayes contributed 28 points. Zelmo Beaty was high for the Hawks with 31. Lee. "Big for us and big for them."

Baltimore Coach Gene Shue thought his team played well against the Knicks on Sunday despite dropping a 119-116 decision when New York rallied in the final six minutes.

"We had a chance to win," Shue said. "If we can play that well again Wednesday night, I'll take our chances."

Prep Cage Tourney Plan Rapped

HERMANVILLE (AP) — Up at East Lansing or Ann Arbor per Peninsula sports writers have added their voices in opposition to a plan to lengthen the post-season high school basketball tournament from three to four weeks beginning in 1971.

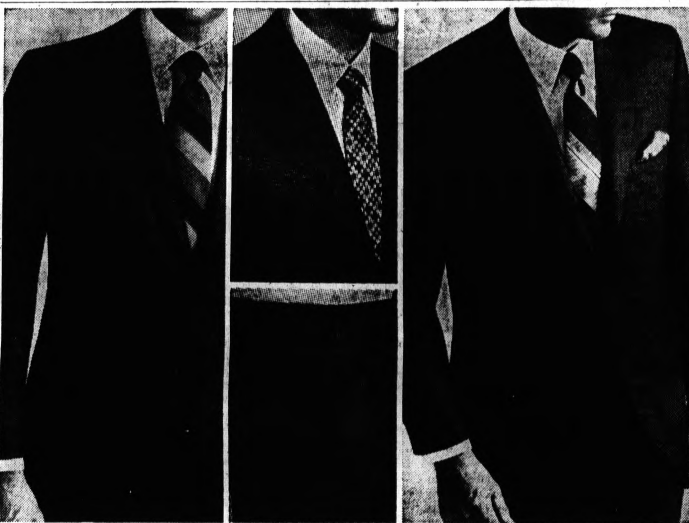

The plan, approved by the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA), calls for the first two weeks of district and regional tournament play to continue as usual.

However, it requires quarterfinal and semifinal games to be played the third week with winners meeting in a one-day final.

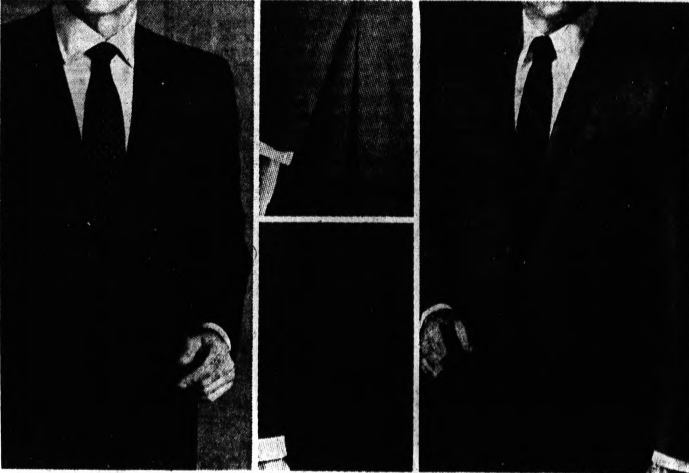

Gary Burley, Menominee high school principal, has been spearheading opposition to the plan. The new plan would force qualified U.P. teams to make an additional trip to the Lower Peninsula for tournament play.

The present plan calls for district and regional play, followed by quarterfinal action, and ending up in East Lansing with two days of semifinal and final games.

The sports writers also criticized the location of some quarterfinal games in the past which forced two opposing U.P. schools to play at Lower Peninsula sites.

YANKEES CATCH 'YAZ' — New York Yankee second sacker Horace Clarke (right) awaits toss from shortstop Tom Tresh to register force out against Boston's Carl Yastrzemski (8) during the third inning yesterday at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Boston won the exhibition contest, 2-0. The Red Sox pitchers limited the Bronx Bombers to two hits.

Royals, Pilots Swap Hitters

Kansas City Deals Ex-Yankee Whitaker

PORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — The Kansas City Royals and Seattle Pilots the American League's two expansion teams, moved to give themselves hitting balance Tuesday.

The trade fulfills a need for each team. The Royals are loaded with left-handed hitters and the Pilots with right-handed swingers.

Whitaker, 25, hit .243 in 122 games with the Yankees in 1967, then spent 1968 shuttling among Syracuse, Hawaii and New York, playing only 56 games all told.

Piniella, also 25, hit .317 for Portland in the Pacific Coast League last year and was drafted by Seattle from Cleveland. He is hitting .288 in 16 exhibition games this spring.

Gelmar, 25, was 10-10 with Co. in the International League last year. He is a right-handed who had been sent to the Royals' Omaha farm team.

Track Officials Talk Contract With Local 79

DETROIT (AP) — After forcing Wolverine Raceway to be closed by a strike, a union local meets today with Hazel Park racetrack officials in hopes of reaching a contract before its thoroughbred racing season opens April 14.

Members of Local 79 of the Service Employees International Union are on strike against Wolverine Raceway Tuesday, forcing cancellation of the harness racing program.

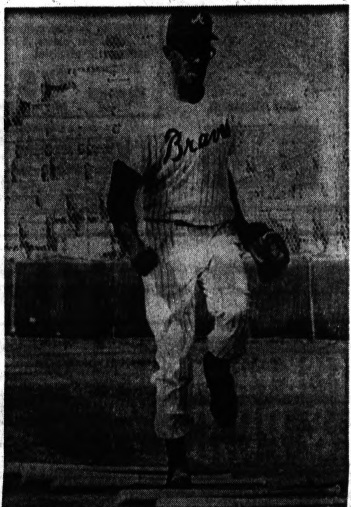

Both Wolverine — which operates at Detroit Race Course — and the union have been at odds for days. The track has offered an increase of $1.25 per day in wages and fringe benefits over a three-year period. It was turned down March 19 by a 214-5 vote.

No offer has been made yet by Hazel Park racetrack.

Decision Due on Resuming Salmon Plants

Frozen Coho Seizure
by FDA Halts Efforts in Lake Michigan

The Department of Natural Resources' still hasn't made a decision whether to resume stocking salmon in Lake Michigan watershed streams.

Over three million coho and chinook fingerlings are being held in hatchery rearing ponds.

The DNR halted stocking operations on the west side of Michigan late last week after a shipment of frozen salmon from a Gand Rapids picking company was held up by federal officials for containing too high of a pesticide residue count.

Federal Food and Drug Administration officials impounded 22,555 pounds of coho in Wisconsin and Minnesota warehouses pending action by a U.S. District Court on a seizure order request.

"We need more information on this latest development and time to evaluate it before making any firm decisions affecting the future of our Lake Michigan salmon program," said DNR director Ralph A. McMullan.

"However, purely as a precautionary measure, we have temporarily suspended this spring's releases of salmon fingerlings in Lake Michigan streams."

About 300,000 had been stocked before the suspension. The DNR is going ahead with salmon releases in Lakes Superior and Huron where pesticide levels are known to be lower than in Lake Michigan.

"FDA tests of the impounded fish showed Dieldrin residues ranging from .10 to .25 parts per million (ppm) and DDT residues from .15 to .19 ppm. According to the FDA, similar tests of Lake Michigan coho salmon made a year ago showed Dieldrin in the range of .07 to .09 ppm and DDT in the range of 7 to 8 ppm."

"FDA officials indicated they were concerned both by the high levels of the pesticides in this year's salmon and by the large increase over last year's levels, and those were the reasons why they took action."

"The so-called 'actionable' level for Dieldrin in fish — the level at which fish are withdrawn from sale — is 3 ppm. A problem with involved coho several weeks ago involved a Dieldrin level higher than 3 ppm in a sample from one lot of fish."

"There is no official actionable level for DDT in fish. The level in beef and pork is 7 ppm. We hope this incident might lead the FDA to set a level for fish, so we and the fish-processing industry would have a guideline to go by. Obviously, the agency believes that 13 to 19 ppm of DDT in Lake Michigan salmon is too high."

NESTING TIME — A great blue heron stands guard over a nest like those shown in the picture at the right in a rookery on Gull Island near Alpena. The Eastern Michigan Nature Association has acquired the island in Lake Huron's Thunder Bay. The island brings to 19 the number of nature sanctuaries and plant preserves established by EMNA. Gulls and other species also nest on the island.

Smelt Run Reported

Cohos Active

A light run of smelt has been reported from Port Huron and some coho are being caught on the Ontario side of Lake Huron north of Sarnia.

Otherwise, fishing is generally on the down side. A few trout and bluegills are being caught locally.

The smelt run is hit-and-miss. A warm rain could trigger a good movement by smelt in the Port Huron area. Dipping south of Tawas isn't expected to peak for two weeks.

A number of coho in the two and three pound class are turning up at Point Kettle south of Grand Bend. This is next to Iperwash park. Some of the salmon should be showing up on the American side of Lake Huron later this month.

TROUT FISHING
Trout fishing is reported to be fair on Union, Maccady and Cooley lakes. The rainbows and splake are in the shallows this time of year and can be taken on spoons, spinners, minnows, crawlers and cut bait.

A few bluegills are being caught at Pontiac, Orion, White and Lakeville lakes. Crappies are moving in close to spawn and offer good early spring fishing.

Cut bait, streamer flies and small spoons are effective lures. Good catches of large crappies have been made at Bald Eagle lake.

Waterfowl continues to return in greater numbers. Swans have been observed on Oakland County lakes for the last two weeks. Thirty orange swans are staying around Fish Point in Saginaw Bay.

They are specially marked as part of an experiment.

Sighting Reports of Marked Cranes Sought by DNR

Persons spotting wing-marked sandhill cranes are urged to report their sightings to the Department of Natural Resources.

Some 50 of the long-legged birds were marked with light green wing tags by the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission. That commission has now asked Michigan's DNR to cooperate in getting reports on when and where these birds are seen so it can learn more about their migration patterns and summer distribution.

The first flight of the cranes headed north from upper Florida Feb. 28, and some of the birds may have arrived in this state.

They are most likely to be seen in parts of Clinton, Jackson and Calhoun counties in Southern Michigan and in the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula, notably the Sault Ste. Marie and Seney areas.

Boat Launch Ramps Open in Metro Parks

Boat launching facilities of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks are now open at Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica and Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford.

Metropolitan Beach ramps are located on the Black Creek, which provides access to Lake St. Clair. The ramps are open daily until dusk.

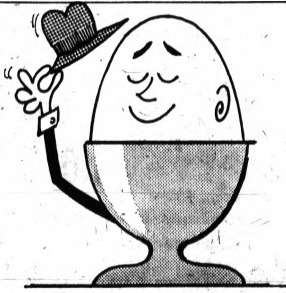

Stony Creek has ramps that permit up to 10 launches simultaneously. The ramps are located at the south end of Stony Creek Lake within the 3,500-acre park and provide space for 150 cars and boat trailers.

Boating permits are available at the park office without charge and good for the 1969 season. There is a 10 mile per hour speed limit on the lake and no water skiing is permitted.

Kensington has opened its two boat launching sites. SIX AT ONCE

Six boats may be launched at one time from the east launching site, where there is space for 60 cars and trailers and additional parking for cars only. The west launching site has space for 125 cars and trailers with six to eight launches available at one time at the 120-foot ramp.

There is no charge for launching, however, launching permits are required and are available at the park office. The permits are good for the 1969 season. There is a 10 mile per-hour speed limit on Kent Lake and no water skiing is permitted. Launching hours are sunrise to 10 p.m.

New Sanctuary Goal Set by Nature Association

The Eastern Michigan Nature Association has set a goal of four more sanctuaries by July.

This was announced at the annual meeting in March. Fund raising toward the goal is now under way. EMNA has established 19 sanctuaries and preserves in Michigan, mostly from private donations.

The most recent purchase was Gull Island in Lake Huron's Thunder Bay at Alpena. It is a major nesting area for herring gulls and blue herons.

The island also is one of two remaining Lake Huron nesting sites for the black-crowned night heron. No hunting will be permitted on the 11-acre island and visitors must have permits and a guide from EMNA.

OFFICERS ELECTED
Dedicated to acquiring areas of land to preserve in a wild state, the association has established nature centers near Lakeville and Davidsburg.

Philippine Tour, Decision Crucial to Ike

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Third of terms of salary. If he would were not to be realized, but a when Washington advised telephoned and advised him of orders. When he opened the five articles based on the author's forthcoming biography, contract form and told much more important assign- Eisenhower that President the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

"Dwight D. Eisenhower: A Gauge of Greatness."

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

Dwight D. Eisenhower's four years of service in the Philippines — much against his will — and his decision to come home in the autumn of 1939 constitute two more critical turning-points in his career.

They led directly to the historic role he was destined to play in World War II.

He went to the Philippines as senior aide to Gen. Douglas MacArthur. After a series of desk jobs in Washington during the mid-30s, Eisenhower wanted very much to command troops in the field. MacArthur, however, gave him no choice. His task in Manila was to work out a defense plan for the islands. By 1939, it was complete, or as complete as it ever could be, considering the limitations in funds and available equipment.

On a warm, tropical evening in September of that year, Eisenhower heard the radio broadcast from London which announced that Britain, honoring her commitment to Poland, had declared war on Nazi Germany.

ASKED RETURN TO U.S.

So World War II began, as Eisenhower's mentor, Gen. Fox Connor, had predicted 15 years before.

Eisenhower immediately asked MacArthur for permission to return to the United States. MacArthur replied that Eisenhower's work with the new Filipino army was more important than anything he could do at home, but he granted the request.

Eisenhower then called on Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippines, and advised him of his intention. Quezon liked Eisenhower as a man and he had developed the highest respect for him as a professional soldier. He tried to dissuade Eisenhower from leaving Manila.

In effect, Quezon told him he could write his own ticket, in

PERSONAL MATTER OF CONVICTION

Eisenhower replied, "Mr. President, your offer is flattering. But no amount of money can make me change my mind. It's a matter of personal conviction with me. I believe we're going to get into this war and I'm going home to try to help do my part in preparing for it."

Quezon gave a farewell lunch for Eisenhower and his wife and there awarded him the Distinguished Service Star of the Philippines.

The citation read: "Through his outstanding achievements in the service of the Philippine government he has increased the brilliance of his already enviable reputation, and has earned the gratitude and esteem of the Filipino people."

The liner that carried Eisenhower and Mamie out of Manila Bay sailed past a chunk of rock, Corregidor. That name was destined to be engraved for all time in American military history.

RIGHT MOVE

Suppose Eisenhower had yielded to Quezon's wishes and remained in Manila. Would he have become a casualty on Bataan? A prisoner of war in a Japanese stockade? His great career, barely begun, would have ended in the Philippines.

Events soon told him he had made the right move in deciding to come home.

By the end of 1940, thousands of drafted men were flooding into the armed forces. Eisenhower became a full colonel on March 11, 1941. Now, in the expanding army, he felt certain that he would be given a field command, and he particularly wanted a tank regiment. His hopes

The war games, planned in the summer of 1941, pitted the 2nd and 3rd armies against each other in large-scale operations. Eisenhower was appointed chief of staff to Lt. Gen. Walter Dresher, commander of the 3rd Army, a force of 300,000 men.

DECLARED WINNER

The maneuvers began in August and the main engagements lasted into late September. By Sept. 25, the Army umpires ruled that the 3rd Army had decisively defeated its "enemy." A Washington newspaperman reported that "Col. Eisenhower conceived and directed the strategy that routed the 2nd Army."

Eisenhower's technical competence as a planner and strategist was becoming well known throughout the Army and there was additional evidence of

He always enjoyed relating an anecdote that presumably took place during the maneuvers. He said a corporal was marching at his detail across a bridge that had been ruled knocked out by day drafting reports and artillery fire. An umpire shouted, "They can't see that bridge has been destroyed!" The corporal replied, "Of course, I can see it's destroyed. Can't you see we're swimming?"

DUMMY MESSAGES

Exactly two months later, on Nov. 29, a Japanese naval task force secretly slipped out of its home waters. A flow of dummy radio messages, normal in volume to the listening American monitors, masked its departure. The dark gray warships steamed slowly along a northeasterly course and disappeared in the fog and lonely wastes of the north Pacific. The task force commander sailed under sealed orders. When he opened the envelope and read them he learned his objective—Pearl Harbor.

On Sunday, Dec. 7, Eisenhower went to his office in Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex. He had been working every weekend after the end of the maneuvers, summarizing and evaluating the findings. They had exposed weaknesses at all levels and of many types. Eisenhower was busy night and day drafting reports and recommending corrective measures.

He returned to his quarters in the afternoon of that Sunday, replied, "Of course, I can see it's destroyed. Can't you see we're swimming?"

CALL FROM MARSHALL

Five days later, he was told that Gen. George C. Marshall, the chief of staff, wanted him in Washington as soon as possible.

Why? The officer who called him did not know. Mystified, Eisenhower left San Antonio within the hour. He reached Washington on Sunday, Dec. 14, and went directly from the railway station to Marshall's office.

In a few terse sentences Marshall briefed him on the situation in the Far East. Everything pointed to an all-out Japanese offensive against the Philippines. "What should be our general line of action?" he asked Eisenhower.

"Give me a couple of hours," Eisenhower replied.

Within the two hours he formulated the plan by which Australia was to house the main Allied base in the Pacific with subsidiary bases, like stepping stones, forming the supply line from Hawaii across the Pacific.

Judge Is in Center of Detroit Dispute

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Judge George W. Crockett, no stranger to controversy, stands quietly today in the center of a swirling debate on the rights of policemen as opposed to the rights of those arrested.

Crockett ordered the release early Sunday of more than 100 Negroes arrested in the wake of a shoot-out at a Detroit church, which claimed the life of a young policeman.

Crockett also had cited Wayne County Prosecutor William C. Hall for contempt of court in the aftermath of the slaying. Heer's Court judge just as he dropped the charge Monday in many of them policemen and their wives to protest Crockett's judicial decision in releasing the prisoners. Many of those released were members of the militant Republic of New Africa which had rented the inner-city church for a Saturday meeting.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, Martin Luther King's successor as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, visited Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh Tuesday to discuss the shooting incident.

CAME TO DEFENSE

Crockett first gained national publicity in the late 1940s when he consented to join the legal team defending members of the Michigan Communist party for alleged violations of the Smith Act. Crockett represented two white defendants in the trial held in federal court in New York.

The 11 persons tried were convicted before Federal District Judge Harold R. Medina, who later cited Crockett and four other defense attorneys for contempt of court in connection with their conduct during the trial.

In 1952 he served four months in jail on the contempt conviction. Crockett, who emphasized he did not agree with the political views of his clients, said the contempt conviction resulted from his vigorous efforts to defend the men.

In 1965 Crockett came under fire on the Senate floor in a speech by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

SOME REACTIONS

● 250 Detroit policemen and their wives picketed Detroit Recorder's Court in protest.

● About 200 Negro leaders picketed a police station, praising Crockett.

● The Michigan Senate passed resolutions supporting an investigation by the Judicial Tenure Commission and calling Crockett's action "questionable."

● "It brought disrespect for the judiciary."

● Some 400 Negro leaders organized as the Black United Front, a confederation of about 40 smaller organizations. An initial aim is to "show Judge Crockett the black community is behind him all the way."

● The Detroit Police Protective Association called for an investigation by a federal grand jury into the circumstances surrounding the shooting of Patrolman Michael Czapki, 22.

COURTEOUS

The Rev. Mr. Abernathy conferred two hours with Mayor Cavanaugh Tuesday. Abernathy described the meeting as courteous. He added, "The thing that really disturbs us is that good policemen always use other tactics before resorting to the final tactic of taking lives and injuring people."

Four Negroes were wounded when police stormed the inner city church located near the scene of the 1967 Detroit riot.

Mayor Cavanaugh praised the quick action by police Sunday and said it may have averted more widespread disorders, possibly a riot.

Heat Shows Promise in Cancer Treatment

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston, Tex., for some 10 years, Dr. Stehlin has been treating cancers of the arms and legs—melanoma of black cancer, and bone cancer—with a technique that concentrated the flow of an anticancer drug into the blood supply of the affected limbs.

The treatment of drug plus heat to 110 to 115 degrees benefited 75 per cent of 65 patients with melanoma, double the rate of good results obtained with the drug alone, Dr. Stehlin said.

Amputations have been avoided. Recoveries in a few cases of bone cancer of limbs are also promising, he added.

Dr. Heideberger spoke for a Wisconsin team which plans first to use heat alone for whole body treatment. Patients will be placed in a cabinet with diathermy machine heating blood and tissues from the inside rather than through the skin. It is hoped this treatment may kill off cancer cells which have spread from an original site in the body and cannot be tackled by surgery or X-rays.

Later, the whole body heat treatment will be combined with drugs.

Cooperative research at Wisconsin and the University of Rome, Italy, showed that heating the blood supply to the arms and legs to about 107 degrees Fahrenheit produced complete disappearance of cancers in eight of 22 patients. They have been well now for at least two years, two of them for more than four years. Normal body temperature is 98.6.

The American-Italian team shared its early heat findings with Dr. John S. Stehlin of the

Ex-Lake Orion Civic Leader Dies in Florida

A long-time Lake Orion civic leader, Max Wichmann, died yesterday at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He was 89.

Masonic memorial service will be conducted by Orion Lodge 46, F&AM, at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the funeral home.

Surviving is a sister.

Man Is Guilty in City Slaying

A Pontiac man was found guilty yesterday of manslaughter in the shooting death of a woman during a party last summer.

The verdict was returned against Ervin Bradley, 33, of 404 Lench Road, by an Oakland County Circuit Court jury.

Judge Clark J. Adams will sentence Bradley May 7.

Bradley had been charged with second-degree murder in the July 20 killing of Mrs. Willie Smith, 26, of 229 Victory during a party at Bradley's home.

Mrs. Smith was shot in the head with a bullet from a 22-caliber rifle.

Pontiac police are investigating the theft of $1,434 in cash and goods yesterday from an office, an auto and a home.

Donald Ogg, 33, of 464 Lench Road said he left the office of Collection Service Bureau in the Pontiac State Bank building for a moment and when he returned $624 from a money drawer was missing.

Michael Smith, 19, of 306 E. Sheffield said he left the office at the rear of his home, was entered and $330 of contents, including several tools, were stolen.

Doris Whittington, 59, of 416 Ontario reported that someone broke a window in her house and took a color television set valued at $400, and $80 in cash.

MOBILE CLASSROOM — George Keating, Western Michigan University graduate student, pauses to answer a question in the mobile classroom used to teach basic reading, mathematics and English skills to children of migrant workers in Van Buren and Allegan counties.

Three R's on Wheels School Is Taken to Children

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The little red schoolhouse has practically disappeared in the march of progress.

But one of the groups the sentimental symbol of old-time education never reached was the gang of kids around migrant worker camps.

This year George Keating, a graduate student at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, is bringing the school to the kids in a 27-foot camper truck.

The Ludington native drives the truck to Lawton, Paw Paw, Gobles, Hartford, Pullman, South Haven and Decatur where he uses his blackboard and projectors in teaching children of Mexican-American, Negro and southern white workers.

WORDS SPREADS

"When the first few students begin studies, word spreads rapidly, the response has been overwhelming," says program director Carl Sandoval.

The camper and Keating's services are part of a federally sponsored Migrant Education Program. He is assisted in teaching by regular program employees Delores Solis of Van Buren County and Joseph Gogora of Bangor.

Keating is delighted by his students. "They're enthusiastic, interested and eager—ideal students," he says.

Two other agents in the program, Joe Pena of Allegan County and Segundo Garcez of Berrien County, attempt to help solve home problems which might prevent students from getting to Keating's moving classroom.

The 130-student program is gaining such acceptance among the migrants that program director Carl Sandoval said it may even stop being mobile and move to a standard classroom.

Said a student, "It would be nice, but it wouldn't be as much fun."

Milliken Finishing Education Message

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. William G. Milliken showed up at his Capitol office an hour earlier than usual today to put the polishing touches on his long-awaited education message to the Legislature.

Milliken tentatively plans to present the message, which will spell out his stand on public and parochial school problems, tomorrow afternoon before the lawmakers adjourn for the weeklong Easter recess.

"The basic draft is ready but it is not in final form and it is still subject to revision," said George Weeks, the governor's press secretary.

The message is expected to maintain Milliken's budget position of no new taxes this year. But it is not likely the governor will close the door to a tax increase program initiated by the Legislature.

BILLS WEIGHED

Bills to boost the state income tax are before the House and Senate. Revenue experts say a one per cent hike in the levy could bring in as much as $100 million more a year and prevent a classroom crisis this fall.

Milliken has acknowledged Michigan schools need lots of additional money but he feels that with some internal fiscal tightening and restraint by teachers, mass school closings can be avoided.

The governor has recommended an $85 million increase in state aid to schools in fiscal 1970.

But so far he has not proposed a penny for the state's 1,000 parochial schools, though he expressed "sympathy" for the financial plight.

REFINED HIS POSITION

The education message, Milliken has said, "refine" his position on parochial aid.

The artichoke season in California is being extended by 10 to 50 days through the use of a natural plant growth hormone.

Few Waterford Levy Appeals

Waterford Township property owners are apparently more agreeable about their property assessments this year.

At least they seem much more concerned about a hike in the state equalization factor than about the assessment figure.

The Township Board of Review, which met nine times last month to hear appeals from property owners protesting their assessments, was approximately one-fourth as busy this year as in 1968, according to Elmer Johnson, township supervisor.

Clerks said about 40 persons used the review proceedings during the month.

However, the township tax office was inundated with phone calls seeking information about the projected 2.49 equalization factor and its effect on tax burdens, Johnson said.

The 1968 factor was 2.09.

"This was about an average year in terms of the volume of appeal appearances," he explained. He termed 1968 as having been unusually busy for the board of review.

"But the equalization factor, because it means about a 25 per cent tax boost, was another story all month," he said.

State Violence by Migrants?

LANSING (AP) — A migrant labor spokesman Tuesday predicted violence would occur in Michigan fields this autumn if migrant laborers were denied the right to bargain collectively.

Reuben Alfaro, a former migrant worker now with the Midwest region of the U.S. Catholic Conference, said violence would occur if workers walked out of the fields and left the crops to rot in support of salary demands.

"When I talk about people walking out of the fields, I mean violence," he told the House Labor Committee.

"We've been trying to avoid this," he stated.

SECOND LARGEST

Michigan, he added, was the second largest employer of migrant workers in the nation.

A walkout, he added, "could really cripple the economy in Michigan."

Alfaro urged passage of a bill giving migrant workers the rights to bargain collectively.

Anderson Hewitt, a member of the Michigan Migrant Ministry, said most migrant workers "were consistently cheated" on wages.

SALARIES WITHHELD

He added that 32 per cent of the state's employers of migrant labor withheld part of the workers' salaries until the harvest is complete.

In one instance last fall near Hartford, he said, the employer withheld wages and then fired the workers a week before the harvest ended.

When the farmer refused to give the workers the withheld funds, Hewitt said, the workers threatened to kill him.

Hewitt added that he had worked in the fields and averaged 70 cents an hour for picking cherries. He earned $4 after spending eight hours picking blueberries, he said.

2 Lake Orion Teens Are Apprehended

Two Lake Orion teen-agers were apprehended by Oakland County sheriff's deputies on charges of possession of stolen property from an auto dealer in Avon Township early today.

Randy L. Rouse, 17, of 154 Heights was being held in the county jail this morning while the other youth, a 15-year-old, was returned to the county children's home from where he had escaped.

Deputies said they caught the pair with tires in their truck at Station Pontiac-Buick Inc., 855 S. Rochester.

Dogcatcher Quits Teachers Eat After Five Hours Lawyer Treat

VESTAL, N.Y. (AP) — The first full-time dog catcher in this south-central New York town quit his job after five hours, saying he didn't realize what the job entailed when he accepted it and decided he was uncertain he could handle dangerous dogs.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A group of young attorneys inadvertently played host to Tulsa schoolteachers Tuesday.

The attorneys, who just passed the Oklahoma bar examination, were being sworn in before the state supreme court.

The association had coffee and doughnuts waiting for them outside the courtroom but a group of Tulsa teachers, here to protest a proposed teacher retirement bill, thought it was Capitol "welcoming committee." They ate the doughnuts and drank the coffee.

PENSIVE PORTRAIT — Framed by a window as she waits to do her next scene, Italian actress Claudia Cardinale seems pensive. Perhaps she's thinking about her lines.

Joining of Private, Public School Aid Bills Is Hinted

MAKE OVER PAPERS

From Our News Wires
LANSING — Bills for tax aid to public and parochial schools may be consolidated into a single measure in a move that could force foes of parochial aid to either vote for the program or doom the public schools.
House Speaker William A. Ryan yesterday said the surprise move, sure to be opposed by antiparochial forces, could come this month to assure both public and private school systems they will have the money to keep their doors open this fall.

Ryan, D-Detroit, made the announcement shortly after the House Education Committee voted, 7-5 with one abstention, to recommend passage of the major parochial bill before the 1969 session. The tax fund outlay was boosted from $40 million to $45 million prior to the predictable ballot.

Ryan was not specific on how the marriage of the bills would occur. He said only that "some sort of arrangement" may be ironed out by the leaders of both parties and sponsors of the tax aid legislation.
FINANCING OF MEASURE
The education committee's action

shifted the parochial spotlight to the House Appropriations Committee, which must say how the measure would be financed.
The measure — facing heavy opposition from such groups as the Michigan Education Association and the Michigan Federation of Teachers — would give state funds to intermediate school districts for the purchase of educational services from private and nonpublic schools.

Recent pools, however, have shown a majority of Senate members opposing the bill. House sentiment is uncertain.
Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin, D-Berkeley, meanwhile, called on Gov. William Milliken to "reverse his timetable" for confronting the issue of educational tax reform.

Levin predicted "a succession of Youngtowns" — the Ohio city where deficits forced school closings last year.
"At the end of the last school year, 75 Michigan districts had deficits of over $20 million," Levin said. "Nor can our large urban districts be expected to cope with the crucial problems which they face, if they are plagued by imminent financial disaster."

Levin blasted Milliken's statements that his recommended budget for 1969-70 is inviolable.
"No budget can be sacred when it falls so far short of the demands of the educational system," Levin said.

"The governor must choose one of three courses," he added, "deficit financing, a tax increase or a drastic cutback in education opportunity for the children of Michigan."

City Gets Grant for Housing Plan

A grant of $3,043,364 to provide 197 units of low-cost housing in Pontiac for the elderly has been approved by the office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). It was announced this morning by Rep. Jack McDonald, R-19th District.

The funds will provide the city with a high-rise apartment dwelling at Michigan and Anderson with twin six-story towers connected by a one-story recreation building.

The funds will go to the Pontiac Housing Commission under the Congressional "turn-key" program for low-cost housing.

Charles Langs Inc., will construct the project and when completed the city will pay Langs for the property, under the concept, Langs, a Pontiac developer, received approval for his site plan from the Pontiac Planning Commission March 19. Construction could start early next month and be completed late next year.

Roy MacAfee, housing director, said the HUD grant now puts 431 units of low-cost housing for the elderly within reach of the city. Langs is also building a similar project with 234 units at Auburn and Carriage Circle where first rentals are expected to be available late this year.

The housing units will be available to elderly persons or couples at rents that range as low as $30 per month. Income maximums now allowable in the units are $3,000 yearly for a couple.

6:57 a.m. as the train bearing the general's body and his loved ones slid to a gentle stop beside the little freight station in Abilene.

Here, the man who commanded the mighty Allied war machine to victory in Europe and was honored by his countrymen with its presidency in peacetime, would be entombed beneath the floor of a tiny chapel near the Eisenhower Library.

Several hundred residents of the former president's home town stood silently behind rope barricades guarded by troops as the train entered Abilene. Nobody talked. All eyes were on the train as military personnel and Secret Service men descended to a concrete ramp.

The window shades remained down on the last car, the Santa Fe, in which Mrs. Eisenhower and other members of the family had ridden from Washington.

Abilene — once the end of the trail for cattle drives from Texas to the Great Plains — resembled an armed camp as the Army prepared for the final salute.

Up to 100,000 persons — dignitaries and the ordinary Americans who made him their leader — were expected.

The soldiers strove to lend to the rites the crisp efficiency Eisenhower, who died Friday in Washington, D.C., might have praised.

Their chores were complicated by the requirement to please the U.S. Secret Service, charged with guarding President Nixon when he arrives to say farewell to the man he served eight years as vice president.

Tight security was in force. Manhole covers and sidewalk elevators in front of the little stores of downtown Abilene were sealed along the route of the 45-minute military procession.

JOURNEY'S END — The funeral train bearing the body of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower arrives early today at the Abilene, Kan., railroad depot. The tall structures in the distance are grain elevators.

State Board for MCOM Sought

LANSING (UPI) — A bill to establish a state board for the fledgling Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine (MCOM) at Pontiac emerged yesterday from the Senate Education Committee.

The measure, which is frowned upon by the state's medical doctors, now goes to the appropriations committee, which could provide the first tax funds for the school.

The board would consist of eight members appointed by the governor. Its primary purpose would be to govern the institution and receive monies for its support.

The Michigan State Medical Society has recommended the Legislature expand facilities at Michigan, Wayne State and Michigan State universities to include the granting of a doctor of osteopathy degree rather than spending tax funds for a separate school for osteopaths.

DONATION PROGRAM

But the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons is going ahead with plans to admit a 16-member class at Pontiac next fall with or without state funds. A donation program is under way to finance a $500,000 classroom building.

Defense Ministry sources said about 200 British soldiers remain on the island. No date has been fixed for the final withdrawal.

Anguilla Force Cut

LONDON (AP) — Fifty sustained British paratroopers returned today from Anguilla, the Caribbean island occupied by British forces on March 19.

A recent study by the medical society shows that 12,400 more physicians and surgeons will be needed by 1970 and 18,000 in 1980 and the osteopaths feel they can help fill the order with their own school.

Ground was broken last November for the first MCOM building at Auburn and Opdyke on Pontiac's east side.

The college expects to complete construction of the entire school in 1971 and plans a freshman medical class of 64 students in 1972. The first class of 16 students would graduate with doctorate degrees in osteopathic medicine in 1973.

Draft Law Violates Rights of Atheist, Agnostic—Judge

BOSTON (AP) — A federal judge says the 1967 draft law violates the constitutional rights of atheists and agnostics by allowing conscientious objector status for religious reasons only.
"It is difficult to imagine any grounds for this statutory discrimination except religious discrimination," said U.S. District Court Judge Charles E. Wyanski Jr., and that, he held, is against the First Amendment.

The First Amendment states that "Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

Judge Wyanski's ruling came in the case of John H. Sisson, 22, of Lincoln, Mass., recently convicted of violating the Selective Service Act by refusing induction into the armed forces.

'ILLEGAL AND IMMORAL'

Sisson said he regarded the Vietnam war as "illegal and immoral."

Sisson came before the court for sentencing, but instead Wyanski stayed sentencing pending a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court on the question raised.

"Sisson is not in a formal sense a religious conscientious objector," the judge said. "His claim may seem less weighty than that of one who embraces a creed which recognizes a Supreme Being, and which has as part of its training and discipline opposition to war in any form."

However, the judge said, "When the state through its laws seeks to override reasonable moral commitments, it makes a dangerously uncharacteristic choice."

'INVITES DISOBEDIENCE'

"When the law treats a reasonable, conscientious act as a crime, it subverts its own power," Wyanski added. "It invites disobedience. It impairs the very habits which nourish and preserve the law."

In a 1966 decision the U.S. Supreme Court said the draft law provides no conscientious objectors should be interpreted broadly and not necessarily confined to those with orthodox religious beliefs.

The 1967 draft law extended until July 1, 1971, the basic provisions of the act in force since 1948, including the section on conscientious objectors.

The letter was written in 35 A.D., no more than 25 years after the crucifixion, and before the gospel accounts were compiled. The scrupulous Paul points out that he had gathered the information directly.

"For I delivered to you as of first importance what I also received," he noted, in regard to the eyewitness affirmations of Jesus' resurrection.

Pontiac Twp. Backs Stadium

The Pontiac Township Board has gone on record in support of the proposed dome stadium near M59 and I-75 in Pontiac.

The board approved the proposal in a 3-2 vote, with Trustees Walter Smith and John Richardson and Treasurer Mrs. Goldie Mallah in favor. Trustee Mrs. Ronald Drake was absent.

Smith, who introduced the motion to back Pontiac's proposal, commented, "I think the stadium would be a good thing for this whole area. The sites proposed in downtown Detroit are undesirable because of city traffic and the crime problem."

"Not only would a project of this type benefit Pontiac, but it would be an asset to Lapeer, Lake Orion, Oxford, Walled Lake — all the communities in this area."

Racial Fears Stirred by Probe Call

LANSING (AP) — Liberal Democrats warned of "inflammatory heated feelings and possible racial conflicts as the Senate Tuesday called for an investigation of Recorder's Court Judge George Crockett's handling of arraignments in the weekend shooting death of a Detroit policeman."

"The racist approach of this Senate forbodes all for our future," said Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, a Negro.

"The unusual action of this body to touch the black judge will be understood in the black community," he said.

RESOLUTION OFFERED

"We're calling the matter to the attention of the commission for whatever action they feel appropriate."

Meanwhile, Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, offered a resolution calling on

Gov. William Milliken to remove Crockett from office. That measure, referred to House Committee for study, cited Crockett's alleged "acts of judicial indiscretion."

The harshly worded resolution referred to Crockett's release of some 100 Negroes arrested Saturday after Patrolman Michael J. Czapki of Detroit was shot to death and another policeman wounded.

The incident flared on Detroit's near west side, site of the bloody riots of 1967.

The Richardson resolution, signed by at least 19 other senators, said allegations about Crockett, "if true, would be clearly prejudicial to the administration of justice in the city of Detroit and the state of Michigan."

Young cited what he termed "unequal justice," and mentioned the release on bond of a white Detroit policeman charged with murder in the Algiers Motel slaying during the riots.

"There was no request for an investigation of the courts during the riots," he said. "There was no request for an investigation of the judge who turned a confessed person—a policeman who murdered — free on $5,000 bond."

The investigation should be placed in the hands of those "who are in a position to judge," argued Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe, R-Dearborn. "The policeman who was killed had not even drawn his gun," she said. "It behooves us to see that this does not happen again."

Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin, D-Berkeley, opposed the resolution, saying "This will inflame already heated feelings on all sides of the problem."

Birmingham

Second School Bond, Millage Vote Mullied

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education is seriously considering repeating its request, probably in June, for approval of the recently defeated bond issue proposal, a board spokesman said.

The millage renewal of 7.5 mills would be on the same ballot.

It had been anticipated that the board would come back quickly for the 7.5-mill renewal. However, some observers have felt it might be risky asking for both the millage renewal and bond issue again at the same time.

The spokesman added that the board may try for the bond issue again due to the relative closeness of vote at the March 26th election.

NARROWER MARGIN
The bond issue lost by a 5,976 to 4,774 vote. The millage renewal was defeated by nearly 5,500 votes.

Modification of the $4.5-million bond issue proposal probably will be in order. However, the millage renewal request will have to stay the same since it is a must for school district operation in the 1969-70 school year, the spokesman said.

The building program called for expansion to the district's two high schools — Seaholm and Groves — to meet expanding enrollment.

Official board action setting an election date is expected in the near future.

PRELIMINARY PLANS
The board is to meet with its Citizens Advisory Committee at 8 p.m. today to draft preliminary plans for the new election package.

At its meeting last night, the Board approved 14 curriculum recommendations for the 1969-70 school year and tabled six others for further study.

CHANGES APPROVED
Establishment of elective courses in probability and statistics, linear algebra and computer mathematics in the mathematics department and institution of an independent study course in art.

In home economics, a pilot semester course for boys will be offered at the high school level. A one semester course in fashions and fabrics will also be offered.

DEPARTMENTAL CHANGE

The present marriage and family course now offered as a home economics elective will be transferred to the social studies department and the title changed to family sociology.

Basic business and creative writing will be added as ninth grade elective courses.

Another curriculum recommendation stipulates that junior-high school teachers in all departments should consider the student's total program before assigning homework.

Nixon Mystery: Soviet, Ky Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unannounced visit with a Soviet delegation and a discussion of peace "progress" with a South Vietnamese leader remained today as a mysterious—but possibly insignificant—footnote to a period of gloom and sorrow.

Both came up in connection with President Nixon's meetings with foreign officials here for the funeral of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The President cleared his schedule of all other events Tuesday to meet with the officials before flying today to the Eisenhower funeral in Abilene, Kan., and then on to Key Biscayne, Fla., for the weekend.

While briefing newsmen on the meetings, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler made no mention of a private session Monday night with the Soviet funeral delegation.

He did mention five other private meetings Nixon had the same night. But when asked about the session with Marshall Vasiliy Chuykov and other members of the Soviet delegation, Ziegler at first hesitated.

Then he said Nixon had talked to the Soviet representatives for five or 10 minutes in his living quarters.

Vote Puts Yorty, Negro in Runoff

By The Associated Press
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thomas Bradley, a Negro who won substantial white support, forced incumbent Sam Yorty into a runoff for mayor of Los Angeles in a day of balloting that also provided a political springboard for Barry Goldwater Jr.

The 30-year-old son of the 1964 Republican presidential nominee ran away from the opposition in a special congressional election yesterday. He emerged as the favorite to capture the seat in a May runoff in the Republican-minded San Fernando Valley district.

Republican Goldwater will face Democrat John Van De Kamp, a former U.S. Justice Department attorney, for a seat vacated when Ed Reinecke quit Congress to accept appointment as Gov. Ronald Reagan's lieutenant governor.

Democrats claimed victory in the only other congressional contest yesterday.

LAIRD'S SEAT

Wisconsin State Assemblyman David R. Obey defeated Republican State Sen. Walter John Chilsen in the battle for the seat left by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.

Democratic National Chairman Fred R. Harris cheered the victory in what he called "the very region of the country which elected Richard Nixon president last November." He said it's the first time a Democrat has won the seat in the 7th District.

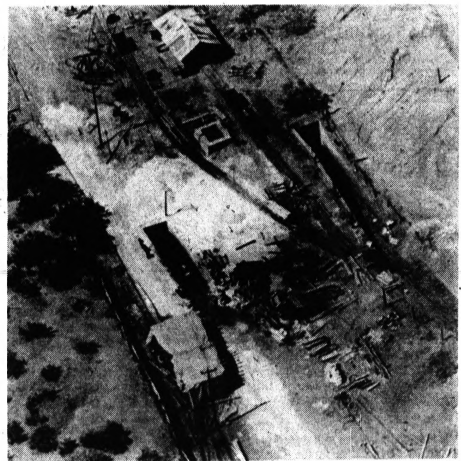

Virtually complete returns gave the Democrat about a 2,000-vote edge.

NEARLY HALF

In a city with an estimated 15 per cent Negro population, he had almost 42 per cent of the vote with half the precincts in. Yorty had 26 per cent and the other candidates were far behind.

Bradley had the backing of Democratic party leaders in the non-partisan election, and Yorty was in his familiar role as a party maverick.

SCENE OF MINE TRAGEDY — An aerial photograph shows two entrances to a coal mine near Barroteran, Mexico, where a sharing methane gas explosion trapped 151 to 155 miners two days. It was generally believed all were dead. Before dawn today 23 bodies had been recovered. Seven experts of the U.S. Bureau of Mines in Washington are to reach the small mining town later today to advise Mexican authorities on faster removal of the dead and restoration of the shattered mine.

Outnumbered Yanks Repel N. Vietnamese Attackers

SAIGON (AP) — Pounded by rockets and mortars and outnumbered two to one, fewer than 100 U.S. infantrymen fought off a North Vietnamese attack today while American helicopter gun-ships and fighter-bombers pounded the enemy.

Military spokesmen said 49 North Vietnamese bodies were found and there was not a single American casualty.

First Lt. Toy Smith of Houston, Tex., commander of the 25th Division company that battled the North Vietnamese for two hours 25 miles northeast of Saigon had anticipated the attack. On night patrol yesterday, his troops spotted enemy soldiers on the move in small groups. Smith ordered his men to "dig in real deep."

At 1 a.m., about 200 North Vietnamese soldiers from the Cu Chi Regiment attacked behind a mortar barrage, a stream of rocket-propelled grenades and machine-gun fire.

2 SMALL SKIRMISHES

In two other small engagements initiated by U.S. patrols, American paratroopers and air cavalrymen reported killing 15 enemy at a cost of one American killed and 21 wounded.

About 20 rocket and mortar attacks hit allied bases and towns overnight. U.S. headquarters said casualties and damage were light.

The lack of heavier shelling and reports only scattered ground fighting appeared to support U.S. intelligence assessments that the Communist command has eased its five-week-old offensive while its forces receive replacement and supplies.

B52 Cutback a Peace Move?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomats speculated today that a projected cut in B-52 flights against targets in South Vietnam and Laos might be presented by the United States in the Paris peace talks as a de-escalation of the war.

Nixon administration officials say privately, as Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird emphasized publicly yesterday, that the reason for the planned reduction is not diplomatic but financial. Laird said his department had to cut military costs.

The rate of sorties for the B-52's has been running at 1,800 a month. Under the budget proposed for fiscal year 1970 which begins next July 1, the rate would be cut back to 1,600 a month. This could mean simply that fewer planes would be involved in any particular raid. It would not necessarily mean fewer targets would be hit.

FTC's Reputation Is on the Line

Hearings on Gas Station 'Giveaways' End

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission, under attack as a do-nothing agency, has been called on to finally take action on gas station games — the "giveaways" denounced by critics as deceptive, fraudulent and costly to unprotected consumers.

The commission, ending six weeks of hearings on the matter today, was asked on one hand to ban the games entirely. On the other were claims the FTC doesn't have the right to take any action involving the games. In between were calls to try regulating the games before considering a total ban.

Before the hearings began, an FTC staff report denounced the games as deceptive, fraudulent and costly to consumers who were said to have only a slight chance to win a prize. The staff report charged the cost of the games is passed on to the consumer in higher prices.

Of the major oil companies, only Atlantic Richfield urged the FTC to prohibit the promotions. Representatives of retail gasoline dealers urged it last month to outlaw them completely.

Seven producers of the retail games pleaded today with the commissioners to try regulating them before issuing an outright ban.

The Humble Oil Co., however, denied yesterday that the commission even has authority to regulate — much less ban — the games.

Czech Reds Crack Down on News

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The Communist leaders of Czechoslovakia announced today a far-reaching crackdown against the country's newspapers, radio and television and said they would no longer tolerate any deviation from the Moscow-imposed party line.

The announcement was carried in radio broadcasts from Prague. One broadcast said the nation was "on the verge of disaster," in calling the Russians had threatened to use troops to impose their will.

The move evidently came in response to the Soviet ultimatum following last week's anti-Soviet demonstrations during which the offices of the Soviet airline Aeroflot were sacked in Prague and Soviet installations were damaged elsewhere in the country.

The outbursts came during celebrations of the Czechoslovak ice hockey team's victory over the Soviet Union in Stockholm, Sweden.

PUNISHMENT VOWED

In a resolution, the country's ruling presidium said "the organizers of the lawless acts" will be punished.

It did not say who the organizers were but blamed Czechoslovak mass media for "creating an atmosphere of artificially evoked emotions." It added that "anti-Soviet forces" were responsible for the situation.

Despite the Soviet-led military intervention last August, designed to halt the reform, course of the Prague Communist leadership, the country's news media have up to now remained relatively free of censorship.

The language of the resolution seemed to suggest that this would end now.

The presidium added it also would tolerate no longer any deviation from the party line.

"It was a mistake that those Communists who acted at variance with the party line were not called to account." It added and singled out popular reform Communist leader Josef Smrkovsky for criticism.

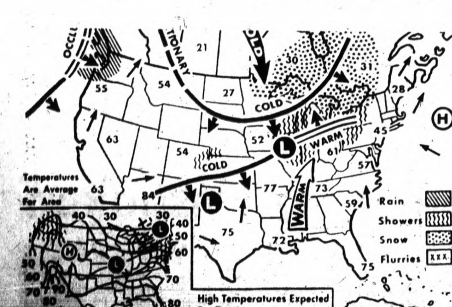

Official Soviet newspapers had charged that Smrkovsky took part in the victory celebration in Prague. This was denied in Prague.

Traffic Part of Emerging Africa's Ills

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — If traffic problems are a mark of modern civilization, then some of the new nations of Africa have arrived.

Inadequate roads, ill-trained drivers, poorly maintained cars, drunken and reckless driving, traffic jams and a fast-growing list of fatal crashes afflict Zambia and other countries in the no-longer dark continent.

More than 600 persons were killed and 5,663 injured last year in 9,760 highway accidents in this landlocked, Texas-sized nation of 4 million. The death toll was 18 per cent greater than 1967. It promises to be even higher this year, says the Road Safety Council secretary, Davidson Phiri.

"All of us are in danger of losing our lives through what is happening on our highways," warned President Kenneth Kaunda.

DEADLIEST ROAD

Officials consider the 36-mile, two-lane tarred road between the copper-belt cities of Ndola and Kitwe to be the deadliest single stretch in the country. One recent excursion along what is termed the "death route" featured big trucks laden with gasoline or copper hogging the middle of the road and buses overtaking slower traffic on blind hills. One senior police officer forbids his family to use the road after dark.

It is estimated that highway accidents cost Zambia more than $5.6 million a year. Some insurance firms refuse to take any new customers. One insurance company in the copper-belt charges up to $20 a day to insure rental cars.

Lusaka has only three traffic signal lights. Railroad tracks cross busy roads in many places. Bicycles and motor scooters compete with larger vehicles on busy highways.

Safety expert Phiri says alcohol contributes to more than 60 per cent of all traffic mishaps.

MANPOWER SHORTAGE

Police blame an acute manpower shortage in the traffic department and a high proportion of inexperienced motorists for most of the trouble. More than 6,000 additional vehicles have been registered every year since 1960 and some 50,000 new driver's licenses have been issued since independence in October 1964.

Grey Zulu, former Home Affairs minister, announced without pride that Zambia holds the world record for highway accidents in relation to the number of vehicles on the roads.

But this country is not alone in its traffic troubles. High accident rates are prevalent throughout east and central Africa.

"Mammy wagons," passenger and freight-bearing trucks painted with such whimsical names as "No Telephone to God" or "Cash is Heavenly" or "Hell is Nigh," carve a bloody accident record in Nigeria, Ghana and elsewhere in west Africa.

Jersey Family Fulfills Dream

By National Geographic Society
WASHINGTON — Stanton Waterman, his wife and three children packed up and moved 6,500 miles to the South Pacific to fulfill a family dream.

Waterman, a professional diver, explorer, and photographer, explained: "We came to Polynesia to film the many forms of marine life sustained by a coral reef."

"There is a strange and beautiful world below the surface. I want my family to see it and apply what they have seen to the world around them."

"And it was also a chance for all of us to experience a new way of life."

FOR FULL YEAR

For a full year, Waterman, his wife, daughter and two sons lived in the Society Islands — Tahiti, Moorea, Bora Bora, Raiatea, Tahaa — sharing the life of the islanders.

The Watermans' South Sea idyll is depicted in the National Geographic Society television special, "Polynesian Adventure," to be shown over CBS Television Network April 15.

Produced in association with Metromedia Producers Corp., the hour-long color program is narrated by Alexander Scourby.

Lou Brock opened the game with a line double and was stopped from coming home when Willie Horton fired the ball home after Juan Javier's short single to left.

GOOD PEG
Again in the fourth inning, a perfect peg from Kaline stopped a run from scoring, but Dobson couldn't take advantage of the break. With the bases loaded, he fired a wild pitch to score Buckner who had walked and went to third on the singles by Gagliano and Huntz.

That tied the score at 1-1, and with two outs, Brock again doubled down the line to make it 3-1.

SLOPPY FIELDING
The Cardinals were guilty of some sloppy fielding of their own in the fifth inning. Dick McAuliffe walked and Mickey Stanley hit a blooper to center. Second baseman Bob Johnson was off balance when he picked up the ball with his back to the infield and instead of throwing it in, he underminded it to center-fielder Jim Hicks to make the throw.

Hicks picked it up and fired past third into the Cards' dugout permitting both McAuliffe and Stanley to score. Johnson and Hicks were given errors on the play.

LEAD RUN
Joe Hague, the muscular young first baseman whom the Cardinals have been grooming to take the job and then confirmed his position by trading season opens next Tuesday.

Orlando Cepeda to the Braves, smashed out a double to deep center in the eighth inning to score Brock who had been walked by Lasher. In trying to stretch it to a triple, Hague was cut down, but the Cards led 4-3 until Price's homer in the bottom of the eighth.

It was apparent that this was the day for some of the borderline players to earn their ticket to Detroit Friday when spring camp breaks, but judging from the performances, the Tiger coaches will have some tough decisions to make.

COACHES Huddle
Smith and the staff huddled after the game and the Tiger manager admitted that the squad was just about complete. He hoped today's game with St. Louis and tomorrow's home finale in Lakeland against Cincinnati would complete the decisions.

Earl Wilson is scheduled to go against the Cardinals today.

Keith Allen, coach of the Flyers, said he didn't mind facing the West champion Blues in the opening round. "They're the best team we'll have to face in our division, so why not face them now? If we get by them, we should win the division playoffs," said Allen.

VEZINA WINNER
The Blues beat the best goaltender in the NHL in Vezina Trophy winners Jacques Plante and Glenn Hall but their defense will be without 44-year-old Doug Harvey, who suffered a slight head injury in an auto accident Sunday. Jim Roberts will replace Harvey, who is expected to miss at least two games.

Oakland, the Cinderella team that moved from a last place finish in 1967-68 to second place this season, figures to have its hands full with Los Angeles. It wasn't until the last two games of the regular season that the Seals managed to beat the Kings.

"We have to work hard all the time against L.A.," said Fred Glover, freshman coach of the Seals. "They're a skating team all the time and keep moving. If we want to win, it's no problem. But it has got to be for 60 minutes."

BALANCING ACT — Philadelphia 76ers' Darrall Imhoff and Boston's Bill Russell (6) are both off balance as they battle for this loose ball during the first period of their National Basketball Association playoff game in Boston last night. Philadelphia won, 119-116, but trails the Celtics in the best-of-seven series, 3-1.

'Court' Provides Funds for Gala Bosox Party

"Darn right they have, San Diego might have been the biggest contributor last year."

"Where do you 'collectors' keep the money?"
"In a safety deposit box. They keep an account, too. The whole thing is done right."

STRICTLY CASH
"You don't accept checks, do you?"
"Strictly cash. If you don't pay the day you're fined, it costs you double the next day."

"How does one of your pitchers know when he's fined?"
"They police themselves and then let me know who has been fined. If the fella fined thinks he's not guilty, he can bring his case to Stange and Santiago but that doesn't do any good. They always say he's guilty."

"Is there any appeal after that?"
"Yes."
"To whom?"
"Always GUILTY"

"Me. That's when we go to 'court.' I always hope they bring it to court because then if they're found guilty it costs 'em double and I always find 'em guilty."

"Is there anything they can do about that?"
"Yeah, sue City Hall."

"Did anybody on the staff manage to go through the season without being fined last year?"
"Nobody got away. Everybody contributed."

"How much did it come to?"
"About $700. We had a great party during an off day on the last road trip of the season. We did the thing up right with hors d'oeuvres and shrimp to begin with. It was a terrific party. No gate crashers or anything."

"Did all the pitchers attend?"
"Are you kidding?"
"Was there anything left over in the kitty?"
"Eighty bucks and we divided it up."

"That means you're gonna have to start from scratch again this year right?"
"No 'sweat.' Johnson said, laughing. "We've got a pretty good nest egg going already."

Billiards Champ Blasts Hopeful

TOKYO (AP) — Belgium's Raymond Coulemans, the defending world champion, defeated Luis Manuel Martinez of Argentina in the second match of the 24th World Amateur Three-Cushion Billiards Championship today.

Coulemans beat Martinez 60-37 in 61 innings. In another second-round match, Bill Hynes of the United States suffered his first defeat at the hands of Koya Ogata of Japan. Ogata beat Hynes 60-34 in 61 innings.

San Diego, 76ers Break Into Win Column

By the Associated Press
The Philadelphia 76ers and San Diego Rockets got off the hook in the National Basketball Association playoffs Tuesday night, leaving the Baltimore Bullets, with the best regular season record, facing the possibility of becoming the first team to be eliminated from the post-season competition.

The 76ers, down three games to none, stayed alive by edging Boston 119-116 on the Celtics' court. The Rockets, losers of two games in Atlanta, returned home and rallied to beat the Hawks 104-97.

The other two series resume tonight. Baltimore is at New York and the Eastern champions must win to stave off the humiliation of a four-game sweep by the Knicks. Los Angeles, trailing 2-1, plays at San Francisco.

TRIO SHINES
Archie Clark, Hal Greer and Darrall Imhoff led Philadelphia to its must victory with 29, 22 and 22 points, respectively. John Havlicek had 28 for the Celtics. Greer, whose lack of scoring has hurt the 76ers in the playoffs, hit a long jumper to break a 109-all tie with 2:16 left. Matty Guokas sank a free throw and Greer made two foul shots and another basket.

"I don't consider this a good shooting game," said Greer, who hit on eight of 15 shots. "A lot of those shots I missed usually make."

The 76ers' backcourt ace said the Celtics stopped him in the first three games "by getting between me and the ball. They were still doing it but we just played well against it."

CHARITY REJECTED
Boston suffered at the foul line, sinking only 24 of 41 with league leader Larry Siegfried missing five-of-nine.

San Diego's John Block scored 10 of his 15 points in the final period as the rockets battled from behind. They trailed by 17 in the first half but sliced Atlanta's lead to three after three quarters.

Meeting on Tap

There will be a meeting of Clark Little League baseball managers Monday, April 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the Independence Township hall. Boys eight to 16 years old are eligible to participate in league play.

The present plan calls for the district and regional play, followed by quarterfinal action, and ending up in East Lansing with two days of semifinal and final games.

The sports writers also criticized the location of some quarterfinal games in the past which forced two opposing U.P. players to play at Lower Peninsula sites.

Block's 20-foot jump shot with 4:54 left put the Rockets ahead to stay 99-91. Elvin Hayes contributed 26 points, Zelma Beatty was high for the Hawks with 31. "Big for us and big for them."

Baltimore Coach Gene Shue thought his team played well against the Knicks on Sunday despite dropping a 119-116 decision when New York rallied in the final six minutes.

"We had a chance to win," Shue said. "If we can play that well again Wednesday night, I'll take our chances."

The Los Angeles-San Francisco clash is a pivotal one and both coaches know it.

"We can rest on one game," said LA's Bill Van Breda Kolff. "The fourth game is the big one," echoed Frisco's George Lee. "Big for us and big for them."
