Troy School Cutbacks Set in Wake of Millage Defeat

By ED BLUNDEN

The Troy School District will not open a new junior high school and an elementary will be closed in wake of a millage election defeat, Alex Tunstall, board president, said today.

A 28-step plan announced prior to the election which will cut about 22 teachers and halt interscholastic athletics will also be put into effect, he said.

The moves were decided at last night's board meeting which followed Monday's election. The millage issue lost by a wide margin, 1,532 to 613.

In addition, the board's vice president, Gordon Sparks, a staunch supporter of the administration, was defeated by Harold Janes, an advocate of "fiscal responsibility."

Janes vowed "heads will roll" in the Troy school administration.

'ACTIVE PART'

He said he was angered over the election campaign in which he claims the administration took an active part, contrary to election laws.

The school board said it will not open a junior high recently completed at Donelson and Square Lake. This will mean two shifts at Baker Junior High with the ninth grade attending the high school.

Colerain Elementary is to be closed, but three new elementaries will open as planned, the board decided.

The board's 28-point austerity plan includes cutting all music teachers (10) and art teachers (4), plus five clerk-typists and several special education projects, in addition to a large portion of interscholastic sports.

$278,000 DEFICIT

The school administration said before the election it had attained a $278,000 deficit in the previous year and would face a similar deficit in the 1967-68 year.

This was blamed partly on an expanding program and also on the fact that a retroactive contract negotiated by the Troy Education Association put spending above anticipated figures.

On a platform of "fiscal responsibility" he beat Sparks, a radio executive, by a 1,281 to 697 margin.

WELL-DESERVED DIPLOMA—Eighteen-year-old Diane Schaefer graduated fourth in a class of 399 from Waterford Kettering High School last night even though she has been bedfast since being stricken with rheumatoid arthritis six years ago. Presenting Diane with her diploma is Mrs. Lempi Church, her homebound teacher the past two years. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schaefer of 6695 Wellesley, Independence Township, Diane had a 3.83 average out of a possible 4.0 during her high school career.

Diplomas were awarded to 399 seniors last night at Waterford Kettering High School's sixth annual commencement program.

Commencement speaker Dr. Albert A. Canfield, vice president of curriculum, research and development at Oakland Community College, advised the graduates that they must continue to improve themselves and to adjust to a changing world in order to achieve success.

Canfield told the seniors they must worry about competing among themselves rather than with the older generation because that's where the competition lies.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Don O. Tatroe, superintendent of Waterford Township Schools.

Valedictorian David Cox and Salutatorian Patricia Atkins also spoke. They were introduced by Kettering Principal James S. Fry.

HANDED OUT DIPLOMAS

Diplomas were awarded by Board of Education President Robert E. Field.

City Gives 1st OK to General Fund

City commissioners last night introduced and gave preliminary approval to the annual appropriation calling for a $8,290,331 general fund for 1967 and a tax levy of $18.02 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized for all city operations.

Final approval is scheduled to be given next Monday.

The tax levy for city operations is up 24 cents per $1,000 over 1966 to support a total budget of $12.3 million for the fiscal year, which began Jan. 1.

At the budget public hearing last night City Assessor James E. Kephart Jr. said tax bills — to be mailed next month — will reflect increases also in school taxes and taxes for Oakland Community College

Tax bills will show this year for the first time both assessed valuation and equalized valuation of property, he said.

Mariner Racing Toward Venus

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Mariner 5 spacecraft raced a heavier Soviet probe toward Venus today to penetrate with electronic fingers the plant's mysterious veil of clouds and help scientists see if Venus is a fit place to live.

The 540-pound Mariner 5, less than one-quarter the weight of the Soviet Union's Venus 4 craft launched two days earlier, rocketed from Cape Kennedy at 2:01 a.m. EDT today on the first U.S. venture to Venus since 1962 and this nation's first planetary probe in more than 2½ years.

Mariner's fiery Atlas-Agena booster rocket threaded an imaginary needle in space to send the windmill-shaped spacecraft toward its distant target 212 million miles away.

"We are going precisely where we expected to go," project officials reported after tracking the spacecraft for several hours. Mariner 5's flight path is well within the capability of an onboard motor to adjust its path later in the flight, they said.

House Extends Layoff Benefits

LANSING (AP) — A bill to give auto workers an extra week of unemployment benefits during model changeover layoffs passed the House yesterday with bipartisan support.

But earlier, Republicans beat down a Democratic attempt to amend the Senate-passed bill to provide that employers also pay laid-off workers an extra week's worth of supplemental unemployment benefits.

The measure also increases unemployment compensation payments by $3 to $4 a week.

Representatives faced the possible prospect of working until midnight tonight — the deadline for passing Senate bills which do not levy taxes or appropriate money.

Near the top of the calendar was another controversial labor law prohibiting fire and police employes from belonging to labor organizations which represent other types of employes.

The jobless benefits bill, sponsored by Sen. Oscar Bouwsma, R-Muskegon, would eliminate the provision that workers are not paid unemployment compensation for the first week of their layoff.

Although the worker, under Bouwsma's bill, would get an extra week's benefits, the measure is worded so that an employer would not be required to pay supplemental benefits for the week.

FAREWELL — Retiring Principal Mrs. Iva O'Dell of Donelson School, 1200 W. Huron, Waterford Township, bids farewell to several of her pupils as they head home for the summer. Today marked the last day of school for students of the Waterford Township and Pontiac districts. Mrs. O'Dell is retiring after serving as principal of the school nearly 40 years.

State Drowsy as Hour Is Lost

By The Associated Press

After months of debate in the Legislature, bills, amendments, court decisions, motions, appeals, referendum calls and other legal gobbledygook, Michigan today was an hour faster than the sun.

Michigan's eight million residents awoke with one hour less sleep, but perhaps refreshed by the fact that the great time controversy has been settled — at least for the time being.

The state was officially switched from Eastern Standard Time to Eastern Daylight Savings Time at 12:01 a.m. when the Board of State Canvassers met in Lansing.

Mrs. Zoe Burkholz of Benton Harbor, one of three board members present, moved that the board certify petitions calling for a vote of the people on the issue.

The motion was unanimously adopted, the work of the Legislature in exempting Michigan from the Federal Uniform Time Act was undone, and Robert M. Montgomery, board secretary, announced that it was 1:01 a.m. EDT. The meeting adjourned at 1:02 a.m. (EDT).

SOME CONFUSION

The abrupt time switch caused confusion at television stations, bus, rail and airline terminals and at businesses throughout the state.

General Motors, largest of the Big Three auto makers, announced that its plants would remain on Eastern Standard Time until 2 a.m. Sunday, since the change would cause less confusion then with a minimum of employes working.

In the Upper Peninsula, people were not happy nor quiet about the time change.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled yesterday that the action by the Board of Canvassers would put both the Upper and Lower Peninsulas on Eastern Daylight Time.

This would make the sunset in the Western UP about 9:40 p.m. (EDT).

At least a dozen counties in the UP have claimed they will stay on Central Daylight Time, which is the same as Eastern Standard Time.

"Anyone who does not go along with it," Kelley said, "will be in violation of the law."

Top Problems for OU: Funds and Books

"Reports of a dismaying financial cutback from the state and the problems of an inadequate library are the chief matters confronting Oakland University at the moment," said Chancellor D. B. Varner in his annual report last night to the Oakland University Foundation.

"It is rumored the Legislature may vote us about $50,000 in place of the $1,065,000 which constitutes an absolute minimum," the chancellor said.

"If this ever comes about, all growth will be abruptly halted when current funds are exhausted.

"Our enrollment now is 3,200 and we planned on 3,800 to 4,000 next fall.

"Obviously, this will fade immediately if we can't finance the faculty and necessities."

'CAN BE CRUCIAL'

"The next few days in Lansing can be crucial for Oakland's forward progress.

"Our plans are well-formulated, but a token appropriation would inflict a blow that would take years to overcome," said Varner.

"Our other big problem is books for the library. The Kresge Foundation provided us with this beautiful and serviceable building but the book problem is strictly ours. We need help from the neighborhood in the matter of books, cash, bequests, etc.

"We have 120,000 books now and the accreditating association says 300,000 is a minimum.

Plans were outlined for a slow rotation of the university foundation board and the Executive Committee so that a greater cross-section representation would result over the years.

Reactions to DST Vary in Area

Reaction locally to the change to "fast time" was varied but, as with a switch in the weather, nearly everyone had an opinion.

Comment on the expected effect of the time change, measured by an informal survey yesterday, generally depended on whether an individual did his business at night or during daylight hours.

There's to be more of the latter with "fast time," which finds favor with golf course operators but definitely not with outdoor theater owners.

Mothers, charged with the task of bedding down children, appeared in favor of the added sunshine, although it may mean a later bedtime.

Yesterday was a "touchy day" for local indoor and drive-in theater owners, according to John Taylor, operator of the Hills Theater in Rochester, as they met the approval of Daylight Saving Time with protest.

'WILL KILL US'

Taylor, who closed his theater last night, says "It's going to kill us for the first two or three months because people just aren't going to look at their watches. It's going to take them at least that long to adjust.

"Daylight Saving Time," he said, "is going to be not only murder to places like mine but definitely to drive-ins."

Harry Schneider, district manager for Redstone Drive-in Theaters and spokesman for the Blue Sky, Miracle Mile, Pontiac and Waterford drive-ins, said the industry tried to look at it from an unselfish standpoint.

Tampa Riot Quiets; Guard in Ohio City

By the Associated Press

Officials held National Guard troops and police reinforcements out of riot-torn areas of Tampa, Fla., Tuesday night despite an outbreak of arsonist fires.

But in Ohio, officials called in National Guardsmen to aid hard-pressed policemen trying to stem a second night of racial rioting which spread through Cincinnati and outlying areas with sporadic fires and stoning of cars.

The Tampa Fire Department reported 13 alarms after the troops were pulled out. "They are mostly fire bombs and building fires," the dispatcher said.

A Negro leader at a fire scene said he felt there would have been even more fire bombings if police had not withdrawn.

'BACK TO NORMAL'

Shortly after midnight, a Negro patrolman said things were "almost back to normal."

Cincinnati Mayor Walton S. Bachrach asked Gov. James A. Rhodes for National Guardsmen after violence spread over a wide area of his city. The Guardsmen, carrying the fixed bayonets and with machine guns mounted on Jeeps, moved into the riot areas early today.

Police said more than 20 persons had been arrested and at least 22 injured.

ALABAMA MARCH

Elsewhere on the racial scene, black power advocates Stokely Carmichael and Rep. Brown appeared before the second march in two nights by young Montgomery, Ala., Negroes. Both were critical of action by white officials during a gun battle at nearby Prattville Sunday night.

The incident began when a group of about 25 whites gathered in Elton Park in the East New York section, armed themselves with sticks and bricks and marched to nearby Glenmore Avenue.

There they encountered the Negro group and the row ensued.

MIXED MARRIAGE

In Warren, Mich., police guarded the home of a racially mixed couple after a mob of more than 80 persons hurled stones at the house and shouted threats. A picture window was shattered by stones in the $25,000 house being purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Corado Bailey, but no injuries were reported. Bailey is a Negro and his wife, Ruby, is white.

Calm returned to the predominantly Negro Watts district of Los Angeles after a night in which 500 Negroes threw rocks and bottles at firemen fighting a $35,000 blaze.

At Helena, Ark., testimony began in U.S. District Court on a $150,000 civil rights suit filed by a Negro who claims he was pistol-whipped at the city jail after being arrested unjustly in 1965.

Dems Unify Tax Stand

LANSING (AP) — House Republican leaders, trying frantically to put together 56 votes for a revenue-raising tax program, are right back where they were five weeks ago.

They apparently face the unwelcome chore of formal negotiations with Democratic leaders rather than informal agreements with individual Democrats, in the search for needed support for their income tax package.

The Democratic caucus decided Tuesday that no member should agree to vote for the House tax program until bipartisan negotiations had molded it into shape more attractive to Democrats as a party.

The move clearly was made to head off Republican attempts to win the votes of individual Democratic members for the GOP-drafted program now before the House.

Speaker Robert Waldron and other House GOP leaders, along with Gov. George Romney, have been asking for support from a handful of Democrats, while trying to avoid more formal negotiations with Democratic leader William Ryan — whom they expect will demand more than they want to surrender.

Kosygin May Attend if U.N. Session Called

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union pressed today for an emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly to take action against Israel amid speculation that Premier Alexei N. Kosygin might attend.

The Security Council was scheduled to meet today on a Soviet resolution calling for Israel to withdraw immediately from the territory it seized in its blitz war against Egypt, Jordan and Syria. Council delegates believed the resolution would get only four of the nine votes needed for adoption, clearing the way for action on the Soviet request for the assembly to meet.

Following defeat of the Soviet resolution, Secretary General U. Thant would poll the 122 U.N. members by telegram, and the necessary majority of 62 countries was expected to agree to the emergency session. Thant then was likely to call the session on 24 hours' notice.

Speculation that the Soviet premier would attend stemmed from a letter from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to Thant Tuesday saying "leading statesmen of the Soviet Union" would attend.

Soviet and other Communist sources at the United Nations said they did not know to whom Gromyko was referring, and Soviet spokesmen in Moscow refused to comment on the speculation about Kosygin. The Soviets obtained a permit to land a special plane in New York about Thursday but postponed the flight, apparently awaiting the scheduling of the assembly session. The U.S. Embassy in Moscow said the Soviet government had not requested any visas for the flight.

Should Kosygin come to New York, many other heads of government and possibly even President Johnson were expected to attend the session.

The feeling was widespread among Arab delegations that the Russians were promoting the assembly session primarily to divert attention from their failure to help the Arabs in the war. In line with this, Saudi Arabian delegate Jamil M. Baroody commented that for the Arabs, the result of an assembly session would be "zero."

Gromyko's letter said that despite the Security Council's three cease-fire resolutions, Israel had "seized further territories" from Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

General Fund Gets Initial OK

A house assessed at $5,300 will have a valuation as equalized of $6,678 and would be levied taxes of $256.23, up from $243.28 last year, he said.

The school tax levy rose from $26.85 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized to $28.42 per $1,000 because of an increase in the debt retirement levy, Kephart said.

The Oakland Community College levy rose from $1.27 per $1,000 to $1.90 and the total bill will go up from $45.90 to $48.34.

The city's share of the tax bill —after the commission adopts the necessary ordinances next week — will include a $12.71 levy per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized for general fund operations, $2.21 for sanitation and waste collection, $1.90 for capital improvement funds, 71 cents for retirement of sewage disposal bonds and 49 cents for retirement of hospital construction bonds.

The charter limits the tax levy for general fund operations to $10 per $1,000 of assessed valuation before equalization factors are applied.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said the general fund budget entails deficit spending of $502,539 during the fiscal year.

He said the city can manage a deficit budget this year because of a previous balance. "For all practical purposes there will be no surplus by January 1, 1968, and we will be in the position of facing a deficit budget without funds to meet it," he said.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. warned that unless new revenue is created there will be a "terrific layoff of employes" near the end of the year.

SANITATION FEE

The chief difference in the city budget this year and last year's is that the city will increase the levy for sanitation and waste collection from $1.91 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized to $2.21.

Appropriations for the sanitation fund are larger this year because of the 10 per cent employe salary increase granted early this year and because administrative costs which had previously come out of the general fund were transferred, Edward R. Gallagher, director of finance, explained.

Arson at Taxi Garage Is Charged to Teen

NEW YORK (AP) — A teenager was arrested today in the blast Tuesday night in which 19 persons were burned, seven critically, when a match was tossed at gasoline dripping from a taxicab in the Bronx.

The seven critical were all teen-agers and children.

A fire department spokesman said Soltero's cousin, Ann, and her 4-year-old son, Paul, were injured in the fire.

'TERRIBLY SORRY'

Detectives quoted Soltero as saying, "I didn't think it would do that much damage. I'm terribly sorry."

Police said the young man came here from Puerto Rico only a few months ago.

The victims of the fire and explosion were playing outside a taxicab garage in the Bronx when driver James Paul said he saw a youth about 17 "deliberately throw a match" into gas spilling from the ruptured tank of a cab pulling into the garage.

'LIKE A FLASH'

Then, "like a flash," he said, the auto exploded.

"We were about 40 feet from the garage when I saw this wall of flame coming out of it and enveloping people," said Fire Lt. Salvatore Patrissi whose station is located in the next block. "Kids on fire were running in every direction."

Firemen and police chased the children as they ran aimlessly and with their hair aflame, to throw coats, blankets or whatever they could find on them to smother the flames.

Pontiac Sales Set June Period Record

Pontiac Motor Division reported today that its sales for the first 10 days of June were the highest for that period in the history of the division and were 6 per cent above a year ago.

Thomas L. King, Pontiac's general sales manager, said sales for the June 1-10 period totaled 26,027 units, surpassing the previous record of 25,064 set in 1965.

For the same period last year Pontiac dealers sold 24,469 new cars.

Chemicals will be pumped into the weeds from a pontoon boat traveling around the lakes.

Seoul Violence in 3rd Day

SEOUL (AP) — More than 30,000 students defied a government ban today and waged violent demonstrations for the third day in Seoul charging that parliamentary elections last Thursday were rigged.

Twelve universities were closed in Seoul, Pusan and Taegu, but students from 31 universities and high schools in Seoul battled riot police for six hours, throwing rocks and chanting slogans as the police wielded clubs and fired tear gas.

The police said 49 of their men were injured, six of them seriously. About 50 students and five high school teachers were hurt by police clubs.

Police said 423 students and 14 adults were picked up for investigation.

Two groups of about 500 demonstrators managed to reach the heavily guarded Capitol compound near the presidential mansion. About 400 students staged brief sitdowns in front of the headquarters of the ruling Democratic Republican party.

Aerial Spraying Okayed for Area Near Long Lake

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has approved aerial spraying of an area near Long Lake for mosquito control purposes.

Residents of the area of the western edge of the township between Long Lake and Square Lake roads requested permission to hire a spraying firm to do the job. Area residents are to pay for the service.

An appeal on a zoning proposal was denied.

A change in zoning from single-family residential to multiple dwellings was asked for a parcel east of Telegraph, north of Lincoln and south of Fairlain.

The request had been turned down by the planning board and the appeal to the Township Board was also denied.

A bid for $175,000 in bonds to finance four special assessment water districts was approved.

Winning bidder was Pontiac State Bank at an average interest rate of 3.886 per cent.

Request for permission to sell $190,000 in sewer bonds was sent to state finance authorities.

A $87,000 sanitary sewer project for Charing Cross Estates was approved with 50 sites to pay $1,742 per site in 10 installments.

"I have decided I will run," Thieu said as he returned from a visit to the northern city of Hue.

At baccalaureate ceremonies at 8 p.m., tomorrow, Dr. G. Ernest Thomas, minister of First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, will be the speaker.

A total of 34 students will graduate.

3 Plead Guilty in Plot Case

The trial of a Livonia couple and their son yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court on an alleged murder-for-hire plot was concluded when the defendants admitted attempting to conspire to commit murder.

Facing prison for up to 2½ years each are Mr. and Mrs. John V. Sorna and their son, Jules, 25.

Following a recess in the trial before Circuit Court Judge Farrell E. Roberts, the three defendants asked to plead guilty to a reduced charge.

Just before the recess, witness Bert Davis of Detroit testified that the younger Sorna offered to employ him to murder a Farmington Township party store owner.

The original charge against the Sornas was conspiring to commit murder.

Assistant Prosecutor Michael M. Pantel and Farmington Township police had no objection to a charge of attempted conspiracy which carries half the maximum five-year penalty.

The younger Sorna was arrested Nov. 21 in connection with the holdup of Mrs. Victoria Gogates, who operates a store at 28734 Grand River, Farmington Township.

Davis testified that he and Sorna met March 11 in a Detroit bar and that Sorna offered him money to kill Mrs. Gogates so the defendant could avoid prosecution for the $35 holdup.

Sentencing will be July 5.

Frank Croons New Tune as Patron of the Arts

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

LOS ANGELES — Now it's Frank Sinatra, patron of the arts.

THOMAS

The new role was disclosed last weekend at the First Annual Frank Sinatra Musical Performance Awards Concert in Royce Hall at UCLA. The concert was presented by the College of Fine Arts and attended by 1,500.

Sinatra's presence was denoted by a cluster of youthful autograph seekers around his aisle seat before the performance began. The singer played it cool and academic, smiling courteously as he signed the programs. He was obviously relieved when the concert began.

It was a heady mixture of classical and pop. William Cosby of Torrance, Calif., second prize winner in instruments, played a couple of intricate, moody pieces on the accordion, making listeners wonder why that versatile instrument is neglected for serious music. Next came the instrumental winner, Gary Gray of Indianapolis, Ind., who delivered free-wheeling versions of "Georgy Girl" and "The Shadow of Your Smile" on the clarinet. Then he demonstrated his scholarship with a rhapsody by DeBussy.

Diana Sims lilted through a Schubert composition and "Musetta's Waltz." From Beverly Hills, Calif., she won first prize for vocals. She was followed by Andrew Belling of San Francisco, second-prize winner for creativity. He sang and played his own compositions on the piano and also conducted the New Chatsworth Band, a youthful group.

SINATRA 'COMMENTS'

The program listed "comments by Mr. Sinatra" after the intermission.

He strode swiftly to the stage and shook the hand of Dean William Melnitz of the College of Fine Arts.

"Young people insist on believing that they can work miracles — and they can. I am here to see if I can help talented young musicians make some miracles on their own," Sinatra said.

"I believe we should try to keep all lines of creativity open. I hope we can all strive to bring a little more joy, love, wit, kindness and talent into the world. If we can do that, then perhaps some of us will stop disbelieving miracles."

He then presented checks totalling $5,000 to the winners, who will use the money for graduate studies. They expressed their gratitude with a "Sinatra Tribute," arranged by young Belling and played with the full band.

Significantly, the medley contained none of the songs the more mature Sinatra fans would associate with him: "All or Northing at All," "Night and Day," "This Love of Mine," etc. Instead the youngsters played "Strangers in the Night," "Something Stupid," etc.

Principals Will Switch Positions at Oxford's 2 Secondary Schools

OXFORD — The secondary schools here will have new principals next year.

The board of education last night approved the request of H. B. Johnson Jr., current senior high school principal, to take over the reigns of the junior high school in anticipation of a new building program at that level.

Raymond Brabo, present junior high principal, was named senior high principal.

The board plans this fall to ask voters for funds to construct a new junior high school.

"Mr. Johnson has a great deal of experience in the preparation of educational specifications for the proposed junior high. We are very pleased with his decision," said Roger M. Oberg, schools superintendent.

2-YEAR CONTRACTS

In other action the board renewed its principals' contracts for two-year periods, wages to hinge on teacher negotiations now under way in that teacher salaries are a factor in determining administrators' pay.

A 10-cent-an-hour increase was granted to 16 members of the district's cafeteria association and painting and reroofing projects totaling $7,238 were approved.

School Board Fills 2 Posts

Dublin Chief Gets Walled Lake Job

WALLED LAKE — The board of education has approved the appointment of two persons to fill two newly created positions.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, superintendent of the Dublin School District which will become part of Walled Lake this month, was named director of auxiliary services.

The position was designed to relieve the assistant superintendent, Roland Langerman, of some of his responsibilities so that he can devote more time and attention to the building program.

O'Shaughnessy has been superintendent of the one-school Dublin district since 1959.

Murray Adams, principal of Clifford Smart Junior High School, was named coordinator of secondary education, a new position to improve curriculum and coordination in the secondary schools.

Principal of the junior high since 1959, Adams has been with with the district since 1948.

Both positions become effective July 1. Schools Supt. George Garver said salaries will not be determined until later.

The board also approved a change in the transportation procedure now used in the Dublin School District to make it consistent with the rest of the Walled Lake district.

Under the new plan, some children who have been transported to Dublin will have to walk next year. Garver said safety and distance from the school were the two main factors in making the change.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Plans for the new Walled Lake Western High School were also approved by the board. Bids will be taken about Aug. 1.

The school, to be located on Beck Road, is to be ready by fall of 1969.

The board also reaffirmed its position on a request that a portion of the Huron Valley School District be transferred to Walled Lake.

Officials both in Walled Lake and Huron Valley have stated they want no part of the piecemeal transfer. Superintendents of the two districts met recently and recommended to their respective boards that no transfer be made.

A group of parents in the southeastern portion of Huron Valley district want the transfer because, they say, they are closer to Walled Lake schools.

Huber Talks to GOP Club

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Sen. Robert Huber, R-16 District, was the guest speaker at the final meeting of the West Bloomfield Republican Women's Club.

The club will reconvene in September.

Anyone interested in joining the future activities of the club can receive details by writing or phoning Mrs. Harold Mensior, 1690 Oldtown.

Joint Session in Orion Twp.

ORION TOWNSHIP — The combined Lake Orion Village Council and the Orion Township Board, with their respective planning commission, will meet tonight at 7 p.m. in the township hall to work out mutual problems.

At issue is construction of a sewage disposal system needed to prevent pollution of Paint Creek and Lake Orion.

Bone had been held in the hospital in critical condition since the accident with head injuries. The Decker woman was released from the hospital shortly after the accident.

The Township Supervisor: Dedication and Many Hats

By ED BLUNDEN

There is a job in each township in Oakland County that periodically is available.

Pay for this job varies from $2,500 to $18,000 and so do the hours. It may require a few hours a week or a hundred or more.

There is lots of travel involved, although this may be at personal expense.

In order to get the job you may first have to win an expensive election. If enough people agree, you may be elected township supervisor.

Even if you win, don't depend on keeping the job too long. There's always the next election, and, of course, a few supervisors fall victim to disillusionment and end up resigning.

PLENTY OF GRIEF

Be prepared for plenty of grief. The township supervisor tends to be the one people call up in the middle of the night.

These calls are mostly complaints that range from flooded basements, and impassable roads to emergency welfare cases.

Township supervisors serve a dual role in government. They are the chief executive officer in their township, plus they have a seat on the 86-member County Board of supervisors. The other members are appointees from cities on a population basis.

The county as originally divided had 25 townships, each six mile square, approximately.

However, in such places as Royal Oak and Troy, the township government has been changed to a city one.

OTHER TOWNSHIPS

In other townships, such as Pontiac, cities or villages exist within and these have a separate government. However, there are several townships with no other incorporated area where township government is the only government, such as Groveland, Oakland, Rose and Waterford.

Supervisors attend about one county board meeting a month and between one and two committee meetings a month. For this they are paid $20 per meeting for an average of $800 per year, which is added to whatever their townships pay them.

Some supervisors are allowed a certain amount by the voters for expenses. This is true in Oakland $1,250; Pontiac, $1,400; Addison, $500; Milford, $1,000; and Farmington, $1,200.

In other townships, the supervisor is paid 10 cents a mile for travel or else a car is provided (Bloomfield). In some cases, no expenses are provided at all, such as in Groveland and Springfield.

BEFORE BOARDS

All spending by supervisors must be submitted to and approved by township boards which aren't necessarily keen on spending.

The township supervisor's task varies a great deal throughout the county, with population the main determination of how demanding the job is.

In the less-populated areas, supervisors are able to perform their civic functions and still hold onto other jobs. This is the case in Oakland, Brandon, Oxford and Addison.

Other small townships are fortunate enough to have men who are retired or are financially independent.

NOT MUCH PAY

These men don't really need the salary and it's a good thing they don't, because the job doesn't pay much in these instances.

"I'd do it for nothing," one said.

One township, Novi, doesn't take much administration. Since all but a few square miles is inside the village, the supervisor there has 67 persons to watch over.

Meantime, the man in Waterford Township has about 60,000. But he has a staff of 129 to assist him.

MANY HATS

The head man in Groveland, and other thinly populated townships, wears a lot of hats. He is responsible for health, fire, police, welfare and assessments.

None of the supervisors could be said to have a "soft job." There is a lot of responsibility involved on the community and countywide level.

For instance, a supervisor may be called on to decide on an emergency welfare case. In some communities, "everybody knows everybody" and the decision is difficult.

It is necessary for supervisors to attend meetings many evenings — for such township business as zoning boards, tax appeal boards, budget matters, etc., and on the county level on such matters as co-op programs, airports, drainage, parks, or whatever matters the supervisor has been assigned by the county board.

DAY, NIGHT

When the supervisors say they "have a full-time job" they often mean day and night.

Some supervisors fit their job like a glove. Their personalities reflect the personality of the community as a whole. And this brings harmony.

Other communities are different. As one supervisor said, "I'm not sure the people here want a supervisor."

For Villages and Cities

Managers' Salaries Surveyed

Salaries for village managers are fairly uniform throughout the area. They range from about $7,000 to $10,500 a year, while city managers receive from $8,307 to $21,000.

The highest paid is Harold N. Ackley of Novi who receives $10,500.

Next will be the new chief administrator of Wolverine Lake when he is hired. The salary for the new position was recently approved as part of that village's budget.

The village will advertise for someone to fill the position.

Next highest is J.S. Brophy, Milford village manager, who receives $9,300.

He is followed closely by Robert Smalley of Oxford who will receive $9,200 after July 1. He presently receives $8,000.

Harvey Weatherwax of Imlay City also currently receives $8,000. This will be raised to $8,600 after July 1.

John Reineck, new manager of Lake Orion, receives between $7,000 and $8,000. He said the fringe benefits are yet to be worked out.

Clerk Norman Engel, who is in charge of Romeo village affairs, was recently raised from $5,200 to $7,000.

The villages of Clarkston and Ortonville do not have managers. Their village councilmen are paid by the meeting.

Of the cities, Troy tops the list with a $21,000 bid for their highest-paid administrator.

The importance, and the salary, of the job seems to correspond to the population except in the case of Troy which has the second largest population (19,100 approx.) of the cities surveyed.

High-income area Birmingham offers a manager's salary of $17,500 to supervise a town of 25,600 people.

RAISE DUE

Neighboring Bloomfield Hills pays the city manager $14,300 presently and will raise his salary July 1. Population there is around 9,000.

The 7,000 people of Farmington allot a $13,500 salary for this position. Lapeer follows closely with $13,000 and a population of 6,300.

A dip comes with Rochester where 5,600 inhabitants pay their manager $10,500 yearly. Walled Lake offers $9,100 with 3,600 population.

Lowest on the salary scale is Keego Harbor's city manager who earns $8,007 presently for his job but will receive $8,805 after July 1.

Contracts Let on Additions to 2 Farmington Schools

FARMINGTON — The board of education has awarded contracts totaling $3,800,000 for additions at its two high schools.

The additions include a swimming pool and auditorium at both schools as well as additional classrooms.

Farmington High School will get the largest addition increasing the capacity from 1,200 to 1,600.

The contracts were awarded contingent on the sale of bonds on June 26 at which time $6,120,000 worth of bonds are to be sold.

The board also approved a proposal by the elementary principals and the director of elementary education that a study be made of a nongraded plan at the new Forest Elementary School to be opened in the fall.

Schools Supt. Gerald Harrison explained that this would be an attempt to have the children working at their own level rather than at a specific grade level.

He said the school will start out under the traditional system but that the teachers will be encouraged to familiarize themselves with the new concept.

In other action, the board approved a master contract with the School Bus Drivers' Club granting a 10-cents-an-hour increase.

The contract must now be approved by the bus drivers.

Assessing Is Hit at Avon Hearing

By JEAN SAILE

AVON TOWNSHIP—"Assessing is not an exact science," said Herman Stephens, director of the County Equalization Department.

It was one of few statements that representatives of the Avon Taxpayers Association and other citizens agreed with wholeheartedly at last night's township tax study session.

The township had gathered its "big guns" in the tax area for a public hearing on the property assessing methods as requested at the annual meeting in April.

Present were John Markiewicz, district supervisor of the Michigan State Tax Commission; Stephens; Vance Fouts, manager of Hazel Park and chairman of the Oakland County Equalization Committee; and Clark Hagstrom, assessor of Birminhgam and member of the equalization committee.

Also present were the township board of review, composed of Chairman H. C. Newingham, George Schutte and George Karas, and members of the Township Board, including Supervisor Cyril Miller and Assessor John Marmon.

Under fire from the taxpayers group, which chairman Robert Thor said represented 500-600 "disgruntled taxpayers," the panel did its best to explain the complicated procedure of assessing, equalization and the application of the tax rate structure.

Out of the meeting came the information that:

- Avon Township arrived at its 50 per cent current market value assessment with the use of factors provided by the county. Stephens said the factor was arrived at by taking 50 per cent of the total true cash value of the township and dividing by the assessed value.
- The "25 per cent of reproduction cost" basis used by the township for residential platted suburban property was multiplied by 2.85 to reach this year's 50 per cent market value figure and an equalization factor of 1.
- The 2.85, as compared to last year's equalization factor of 2.35, means an increase of 21 per cent in most tax bills providing the levies remain the same.
- Supervisor Cyril Miller contended he had never had trouble with assessing until he went to the "uniform formula" of assessing by reproduction costs.
- The continuing tax increases are due more to the rising value of property in the township than to any formula of assessment.
- A whole reappraisal of property will be needed.

Representatives of the taxpayers' association contended that assessing was not done on an equitable basis. At one time a charge of "fraud" erupted from Thor, who lives in southwest Avon Township.

The group's main contention, as stated by Thor and by Joseph Arthur, 3302 Grant, was that not enough allowance is made in assessing for improvement of the lot.

Marmon admitted that such items as septic tanks, wells, paved driveways and landscaping are not taken into consideration in the assessment. He did say that paved streets, sewer and water facilities add to the value of the lot as totaled with the "reproduction" costs of the house.

The southwestern home owners, caught recently in the township's upgrading for uniformity and hit at the same time by the state's requirement for a 50 per cent assessment according to market value, have noted increases in the tax bills.

A World Traveler's View: 'Just No Place Like Home'

It's very interesting to note that English is universally taught clear around the world in practically every nation we visited. Our language is "Number Two," with the home tongue Number One, of course. People of all ages struggle to speak to you in "Americanese" and are proud when they can.

The informal and spontaneous music world-wide is fascinating in one respect. They play American tunes everywhere and play them continuously. Invariably they're the rhythmic and musical numbers that please most Americans. There's very little boogie-woogie and they ignore those offbeat pieces where half a dozen long hairs play the same three or four notes 25 times without cessation. We heard nothing like that anywhere. "Some Enchanted Evening" can be heard the world around and it's played melodiously.

You can't help but be impressed with Tokyo and the Japanese in general. Tokyo is the largest city on earth. Its population is currently past 11,100,000—and it looks it. The city sprawls easily all over a huge area but you can't accumulate that many people without encompassing just a little of everything.

By and large the Japs are well dressed, mannerly, friendly and create the definite impression that they want to get along with us — and everyone else. Their progress has been tremendous since the war. We've helped them substantially but the money hasn't been frittered away. Sharp and decisive business practices made good use of it.

The Japanese are ladies and gentlemen. Their streets are clean. Their homes are neat. Their business organizations are well kept and the housekeeping is top-hole outside and in. Their clothes are orderly and almost impeccable. The girls wear attractive dresses in color and design.

I had lunch with a Japanese girl that almost attended Kingswood School on a scholarship. Everything was completely arranged and she was to spend six months there in an intensive English course, and then live with "Suey" Smith in Birmingham.

But fine plans fell apart.

The young lady won the 100 meter free style in an all-Asian meet and then showed Olympic potential in the 200 meters and she was solemnly advised to remain right there in Japan until after the Olympic games.

She swam too well.

That was our loss.

And I think it was hers, too.

Watch for her on the 1968 Japanese team. Her name's MICHIKO KIHARA and she's one of the most winsome and attractive lasses I viewed on the whole trip. Once at lunch she said something and I replied facetiously:

"I'll take you over my knee."

Can you picture being whirled for a double backward loop by a beautiful Japanese girl that you outweigh 50 pounds? Could happen.

Japan probably has the largest percentage of tillable soil under cultivation of any nation in the world. Too much of her land isn't arable and with a population passing seventy million, she can't raise enough food for her own consumption. Therefore, with that precise and scientific Japanese mind, they meticulously mark every square foot for maximum production — and that's precisely what they're getting.

We took a rail journey to a famous temple and passed thousands and thousands of acres in rice paddies. It's a curious agricultural endeavor. At one stage, the rice is actually under water and you see men and women wading diligently and painstakingly in these small watered sectors. In one area they had just experienced the longest dry spell in memory—17 days. But there was water around. Perhaps it wasn't in sufficient quantity to satisfy them, but that Japanese mind would never countenance an absolute blank.

Hong Kong is one of the wonder cities of the world. It's only about 10% Communist but the younger generation is getting the full treatment for indoctrination into the purported "advantages." It's a big, huge impressive citadel that deserves the world reputation it has. And communism over-all is really having a rough time there.

Hong Kong is an essentially individualistic city. It's awe-inspiring and forever a challenge. At times it's a veritable fairyland—and then it's depressing and sobering. They tell me the Chinese could bring Hong Kong to its splendorous knees almost in a matter of hours by cutting off the water supply. The more I see of humanity and of nationalism in all its ramifications, the more I seem to find an Achilles heel everywhere. (Horrors—could I have one myself? But let's disavow silly thoughts.)

It's great to return.

It's great to be an American.

In all the wonders of the world, the greatest is the existence of this marvelous and magnificent homeland.

This is strictly tops.

The world stands respectfully at attention when comparisons are made. Someone out there outdoes us in a special feature. Another beats us in something else, and a third and fourth outrank us in a specific possession. But when you add the whole together, the United States is preeminent—and first.

No one rivals us.

We're unchallenged.

Truly, "God Bless America."

And this isn't mawkish sentiment. It's cold-blooded, factual, hard-headed analysis. We should keep it in our central thinking.

We have freedom.

And some people here even abuse that. Selfish, self-centered mugwumps figure their own personal freedom is always first. If it transgresses that of others, it's just too bad — for the others. Their own takes precedent. Regrettably there are several hundred thousand people that stupid in the U. S.

Further, we complain and we criticize.

We protest and we howl.

But when all's said and done and when the chips are down for the long haul and the final return, the United States of America is IT.

Ask someone from the outside.

Voice of the People:

'Pranks of Youngsters Result in Serious Injury'

It seems like fun to hit a moving target, and a Lansing youngster did just that recently. But his markmanship with a stone nearly cost a railroad brakeman the sight of one eye.

Stone-throwing at moving vehicles of all types—locomotives, buses and private automobiles — occurs too frequently and the danger of inflicting injury in spite of safety glass is too great to let it go unnoticed.

If youngsters could realize the painful and lasting injuries that sometimes result from what they consider just a prank, perhaps they would choose less vulnerable targets. We hope so for the sake of their own peace of mind as well as the protection of possible victims.

Public Helped Make Recent Parade Success

Our Memorial Day Association should be commended for the fine parade and exercises at City Hall and Perry Park Cemetery on Memorial Day. People turned out in large numbers, making months of planning seem worthwhile. The tiny American flags given out added to the festive air. Let's wave them today on Flag Day and on July 4th.

President Should Make Intentions Known

Recently a presidential appointee visited the Senate and talked to several senators about getting a treaty to surrender U. S. rights to the Panama Canal. It is to be kept a secret until sneaked through the Senate.

Isn't it time the President stopped thinking of this as a one-man country and at least let us know what he is trying to do before he starts railroading it through Congress?

Question and Answer

Wayne State University has 172 acres, and three campuses of Oakland Community College have a total of 563 acres. OCC is seeking more acreage for a fourth campus. Why does OCC need so much land? University of Michigan at Ann Arbor has only 1,477 acres and over 30,000 students. Does OCC have two or three times as many students as Wayne?

TAXPAYER

REPLY

According to OCC Community Relations Director Mitchell Tendler, there can be no real comparison between a community college and the universities you mention. The essential philosophy of a community college is to locate the campus within relatively easy access to students it serves, because no living quarters are provided and all students must be able to commute. Mr. Tendler says present campus sites were purchased on the basis of three studies made prior to voter approval for the college, and a feeling of need for an additional campus in the southeast section of the County has prompted OCC Board of Trustees to seek an appropriate site in that area.

David Lawrence Says:

Workers' Right of Dissent Lost

WASHINGTON — In Russia a person can't get or keep a job unless he conforms to the rules and discipline of the trade unions set up by the Communist party. There is no "right of dissent."

LAWRENCE

In the United States a judicial oligarchy of five men has just taken away from members of trade unions this same right, and placed them under the discipline of labor organizations.

The Supreme Court of the United States, by a 5-to-4 decision, has ruled that, if workers do not abide by union rules, they may be punished by the union. They can no longer assert their right to work and to cross a picket line. To do so means risking heavy financial penalties.

This sensational decision overrides the provisions of the National Labor Relations act itself wherein Congress forbade either an employer or a union to "restrain or coerce" workers in the exercise of their right to "refrain from" concerted activities.

The majority of the justices held that, since the union was the designated bargaining agent for employes, it could set up rules that bound all of them.

Yet the union is itself not the employer. It is merely the agent of the employes and, when it makes a contract, it does so on behalf of the employes, who can ratify or reject it. But the new Supreme Court ruling says a union group has the power, when a strike starts, to decide that an employe cannot continue to work for his employer even if he wishes to do so.

Much has been heard lately about the sacred "right of dissent."

Some individuals, to be sure, have misused this right as a justification for the disregard of statutes governing law and order.

When protests are merely expressions of individual opinions and no public law is violated, the principle of dissent is recognized as a constitutional privilege.

Apparently a labor union now can make its own laws on a parity with public legislation.

The "right of dissent" has been vehemently espoused by "liberals," but, oddly enough, most of them have never taken a stand against the arbitrary action of unions in depriving a worker of his individual rights.

There is plenty of criticism over the high court's tendency to legislate in disregard of the will of Congress and of the principles of freedom imbedded in the Constitution.

It seems ironic that, with the hue and cry currently about the "right of dissent," the words of the First Amendment to the Constitution which guarantee "freedom of speech" have been summarily brushed aside by a majority of the highest court in the land.

Bob Considine Says:

New Book on Vietnam Tells the People's Story

NEW YORK — Hugh Mulligan of the Associated Press has written the best book about the war in Vietnam. It is done as Ernie Pyle would have covered the conflict, not in terms of national aspirations and international policy-making but in the most human of terms.

CONSIDINE

"No place to die: The agony of Vietnam" is about people, the people who populate the whole miserable gamble — friend, foe and the millions who don't give a damn which side wins. Hugh has a good ear. His people talk like people.

The book contains a clue to why the Vietcong, though outnumbered perhaps four to one by the allies, continue to fight hard and well.

But Mulligan saw signs of the enemy's erosion, too:

"The long Vietcong supply lines have tarnished the pristine slogans and shining ethics of the revolution somewhat. Instead of scoffing at government taxes and land rents and national conscription, the Reds in many places have had to increase the take of their roving tax collectors to as much as 50 per cent of a farmer's rice harvest or a fisherman's catch.

"With combat losses averaging 12,000 to 15,000 a month killed or captured in 1966, they have had to dip deep into their manpower resources, even to conscripting 14-year-olds. More and more as the message of the revolutions falls on frightened ears, the Reds have had to resort to terror, assassination and kidnapings to keep their own villages in line."

Nobody named Mulligan could fail to find some humor in the war.

I like a sergeant Hugh found:

"'Sunday,' the sergeant told Hugh, 'is when you take your malaria pill. That's how you know it's Sunday. Every other day you take a salt pill.'

"The sergeant arose languorously from his canvas cot and with a grease pencil struck off another day on his massive cardboard cutout of a nude and voluptuous blonde model whose anatomy was ingeniously subdivided into 365 days.

"Each day one tiny segment of the blonde was obliterated, with the more alluring portions of her physique saved for the last.

"'When she's completely crossed out,' the sergeant explained, pouring cold water into a steel helmet for his morning shave, 'You get to go home and trade her in for a real one.'"

Watch for Dad

Buffalo Evening News

The U.S. Office of Education confirms on a national basis what the parents of every college student know personally: the high cost of higher education.

Washington says total costs —including not only tuition and fees, but also food, books, supplies, transportation and miscellaneous expenses — for putting one student through college for one academic year average $3,360 in a "high-cost private college"; $1,942 for a "low-cost private college"; $1,890 for a "high-cost public college" (includes most state universities); and $1,102 for a "low-cost public college" (usually a community college attended by commuting students).

Of course even such soaring price tags don't make ignorance bliss. But they quickly sober any dad facing a four-year bill, and sweeten the relief felt by any dad just making his last payment.

Any way you read the cost figures, they add up to quite a four-year burden for dad. Perhaps these days the traditional gold watch should go to him, not the new graduate —a small gift of appreciation for successfuly finishing up.

Short War

The Ann Arbor News

War in the Middle East has sputtered to a close as first Jordan and then the other Arab allies yielded to the appeal for a cease-fire, thus ending one of history's shortest wars.

The pundits and politicial commentators impressed upon all who hung on their wisdom that the Middle East crisis was the nearest we have been to the brink since the Cuban missile crisis.

Perhaps they are right; but unlike the Cuban crisis, the two superpowers were not meeting on a collision path in the Middle East.

The Soviet Union was meddling, of that we can be sure, and the United States had its own interests to protect, but the two were sideline observers from start to finish.

Furthermore, the threat of a nuclear exchange was not nearly so great in the Arab-Israeli crisis as it was in the Cuba showdown.

Both the Soviet Union and the U.S. have egg on their faces from standing too close to the brawlers. Maybe that's the price of non-involvement.

Whatever working relationship we may have had with the Arab bloc has been torn to tatters. For its own part, the Soviets huffed and puffed and still came out on the wrong side. The Soviets stand discredited in the Middle East.

The battles of politics and diplomacy will prove a real test of Israeli statesmanship. Will the Israelis willingly give up all territorial gains? Not without extracting some ironclad guarantees, they won't.

You get to do that and more when you're in the catbird seat as Israel is.

Area Residents Voice 'Yeas' and 'Nays' on Change to DST

"It's going to be an inconvenience to many thousands," he said, "Why should they be penalized because railways, airlines and politicians want to make their timetables all the same?

LIKE WATER

"Our representatives from the industry have been in Lansing fighting for months and months and months, but the interests like the airlines have spent money like water to get this thing through," he continued.

"I don't care what it is, if it's going to affect the people it should be voted on, Schneider said.

Schneider cited the problem of teen-agers who are on the streets after dark. Drive-ins, he stated, are an aid to police who try to keep teen-agers in hand in the evening.

With Daylight Saving Time, he contends, young people will spend their time on the street rather than patronizing the theaters which may have to begin their features as late as 10 p.m. in midsummer.

20 — 22 PCT. LOSS

The Miracle Mile, one of the largest grossers in Michigan is expected to sustain a 20 to 22 per cent loss in June, July and August, according to Schneider's estimate.

Wayne C. Smith, manager of the Huron Theater, stated: "Outdoor theaters will be hurt drastically. And although indoor theaters, where I have a financial interest, should theoretically be helped, I feel the law is the most assinine thing that has ever come along."

"While it will help me," he said, I'm still declaring it very unfair and improper."

Gunther Schramm, manager of the Eagle Theater, noted that the switch to Daylight Saving Time would help his business. "I personally like it," he commented.

LAW SUIT

Michigan Theater Owners reportedly met with president Milton London today to decide whether a law suit contesting the decision should be started, according to John Taylor.

Residents have varying reactions to the time change.

Mrs. Russell Nicholson of 46 Charlotte, a waitress at Riker's Fountain, said "I don't care one way or the other. I don't mind getting up an hour earlier or later."

Robert Hukka of 714 E. Beverley, commented "I'm all for it because I play golf and hate drive-ins. I'll have the extra hour to play golf."

LONGER EVENINGS

Mrs. David Stewart said "I'm for it. I like longer evenings."

Tom McDonald, who owns the newstand at Huron and Saginaw, stated: "Don't care one way or the other. I don't see how it will affect my business."

Clarence Cue of 2912 Buick, Waterford Township, commented "No. I don't want it. We're already on an early time from years ago. I get up at 3:15 now. And the kids will get to play an hour later."

Mrs. Norma Shrum of 21 Newport said "I don't want it. The present time is more convenient for us."

MOMS DIVIDED

Mothers with small children are divided in their reactions to the day's extra hour as provided with Daylight Saving Time.

Mrs. Clifton King, 1130 Bald Mountain, Orion Township, says, "Getting the kids to bed before dark will be a problem." She has four children, the eldest 5 years.

She looks at the brighter aspects though as providing her husband with an extra hour in which to cut the grass after "He's had to use up weekend time for that job until now," she said.

Mrs. James T. Monaghan, 397 Winry, Rochester, said, "I always knew it (the Daylight Saving Time) would go through. Now that school is out for the summer, it won't make much difference with the youngsters."

4 CHILDREN

She is the mother of four, the endest 12-year-old Steve.

Mrs. Milton Francis, 245 Minnetonka, Oxford, says the whole thing is "wonderful as far as I'm concerned. I don't foresee any problems. My children go to bed by the clock, not the sun."

The Francises have three children, the eldest 8 years.

Mrs. Michael Salzaon, 8220 Reese, Independence Township, doesn't see that the extra hour will make much difference this summer.

MIDNIGHT BEDTIMES

"I play golf, but not after dinner. I'm wondering though about next fall and if the kids will go to school in the dark. I also don't like the idea of them going to bed at midnight," she said in reference to the late setting of the sun.

The Salzanos have four children, of whom Kim, 14, is the eldest.

Sheriff Frank Irons, Waterford Township Police Chief William Stokes and Capt. Harry Nye of the Pontiac Police Department concurred in their belief that the change won't create any problems.

NO INFLUENCE

"We can't see where it would have any influence on our business," said Stokes.

Nye summed it up nicley when he said, "We're open 24 hours a day no matter which way they turn the clock."

Representatives of area golf courses spoke in favor of the time change and most said they expected it would have a significant effect on their business.

Ken Wilson, pro and manager of Bald Mountain Golf Course, Oakland Township, praised the change as "one of the greatest things that has happened to golf. We've been waiting 20 years for this."

MORE CAN PLAY

"The people are going to be happier," he added. "More of them will be able to play, especially in the spring and fall."

Waterford Hill Country Club manager Robert Chmude said, "We anticipate a definite increase in business."

Ed Morey, owner of Morey's Golf and Country Club, Union Lake said, "as a golf course owner, he was in favor of it and expected golf business to increase.

He said, however, the restaurant and bar business at the club would probably suffer.

'WAIT AND SEE'

Taking a "wait-and-see" attitude is Gene Bone, pro at Bay Pointe Golf Club in West Bloomfield Township.

"It's hard to say. Right now I don't know what will happen but we don't anticipate any significant increase in business," he said.

Men spending an extra hour on the course may make some wives angry, he said. He noted also that people may use the time for fishing, boating and other recreational activities.

The bowling proprietors of the area opposed the extra daylight hours. Mrs. Lester Howe of Howe's Lanes, 6696 Dixie, Independence Township explained why.

TOOK AN HOUR

"It's bad for bowling. They took away an hour from our sport and gave it to others — golf courses, boating and swimming.

"As long as it's daylight people will stay outside," she said.

Mrs. Shirley Bointer, manager of the Huron Bowl, 2525 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township, agreed with her and said "Our open bowling business is bound to be hurt."

However, Gary Crake, coowner of the Three Hundred Bowl, 100 S. Cass Lake, Pontiac was more optimistic. "If they feel like bowling, they're going to bowl."

SUMMER LEAGUES

He pointed out that summer leagues had already started and the change in hours would have little effect on that.

"Daylight Saving Time will not effect our schedule of evening performances," Jim Hicks, manager of Oakland University's Meadow Brook Festival, said.

"It will take away a particular glory of illuminated performances for some of our nightly 6,000 spectators, but it will mean more daylight for lawn picnicking before performances.

"Personally, I greet the switchover with mixed emotions."

Quick-Dip Suntan Oil: Boon or Bane?

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — If you go to the beach this summer you will undoubtedly expend vast amounts of time, money and effort in anointing thyself with oil.

WEST

This basting process, preparatory to barbecuing the epidermis, is an essential part of the seashore vacation.

Now let's suppose that a way could be found to avoid the laying on of oily hands.

Let's suppose, for example, that you could acquire a heavy coat of lubricant simply by leaping into the surf.

A happy thought, is it not? One quick dip and the body is ready for french frying.

No tubes, jars and bottles to spill in the bottom of the beach bag or turn over on the beach blanket.

IMPENDING EVENT

Nobody can say with any certainty when this convenient greasing service for sunbathers will be available. But if Rep. William C. Cramer, R-Fla., is correct in his appraisal, it could come about at almost any time.

Cramer held a news conference at which he reported that, according to a Navy survey, no less than 103 sunken oil tankers are submerged off the U.S. coasts.

He theorized that these vessels, which were sent to the bottom during World War II, may still have thousands of gallons of oil in their tanks.

And he further speculated that as shifting sands, currents and corrosion cause the ships to break apart, the oil will wash ashore.

Sunburn immunity will arrive with the incoming tide. But this, I hasten to add, is not an unmixed blessing.

I got the impression that Cramer, whose constituency includes a lengthy stretch of shoreline on the Gulf Coast of Florida, was less than overjoyed by the prospect. In fact, he called it "alarming."

Cramer seemed to feel the disadvantages of having a petroleum coated beach would far outweigh the benefits of free suntan oil. He may have a point there.

Nevertheless, if we insist on looking upon the bright side, we can still find a cheery outlook in the situation.

It shines forth in Cramer's request to the Interior Department to study the possibility of removing the oil from the sunken tankers before it has a chance to escape.

ROTOR CRAFT — The reentry vehicle for future astronauts returning to earth from space could resemble this model rotor craft now undergoing wind-tunnel tests at the National Aeronautics and Space Agency's Ames Research Center, Mountain View, Calif. Once in the atmosphere, the craft would extend rotors fully, as shown on the model, for descent to earth much as a conventional helicopter makes an unpowered landing.

Lucky GI Wins Fight to Stay Alive

Sgt. David Tygret, 25, Sunnyvale, Calif., saw the guerrilla raise his weapon. He dropped to one knee for better cover.

The bullet hit a hand grenade Tygret was carrying in a belt pouch. It set the explosive on fire but missed the fuse which contained the blasting cap. The grenade did not go off.

In an instant, the bullet ricocheted off a nearby rock and slammed back into Tygret's right leg.

THROWS GRENADE

Tygret grabbed the flaming grenade, tossed it as far away as he could, and rolled into a prone position. He fired with his M16 rifle at the guerrilla who had wounded him.

Tygret saw the guerrilla jerk back away from his gun, indicating he was hit. But other guerrillas apparently carried him away, for his body was not found when Americans swept the area later. Only his weapon lay there. It turned out to be a U.S.-made Browning automatic rifle.

Tygret crawled back 80 feet to an American defensive perimeter on Hill 500, defended by 50 men. The rest of Tygret's squad pushed ahead.

At the top of the hill, two men grabbed Tygret underneath the arms and took him to the command post.

A medic dressed his wounds as he told the company commander, Jim Joiner, 30, Tampa, Fla., what was happening up ahead.

Joiner had his radio operator call for a helicopter to remove Tygret. Asked how his leg felt, the sergeant said: "It smarts just a little."

Then he had another close shave. American artillery was supporting the paratroopers; some shells fell near the command post. A piece of shrapnel smashed the front of Tygret's helmet, chopping off part of the helmet liner. Tygret escaped with only a scratch on the forehead.

Thirty minutes after the call for a helicopter for Tygret, it arrived and hovered 70 feet above an open spot in the trees.

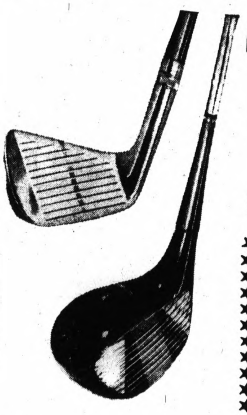

Crewmen tossed a jacket with straps which crisscross the shoulders and legs. This was placed on Tygret and the straps secured. On the back of the jacket was a ring. A cable hanging from the hovering helicopter was secured to the ring. A winch pulled Tygret into the helicopter.

He had it made.

Egypt Loss May End Yemen Civil War

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — One by-product of Israel's blitz victory over the Egyptians may be an end to the civil war in Yemen—either through a quick and bloody Royalist victory or by a peace agreement.

The destruction of much of Egypt's air force and army raises the question of whether President Gamal Abdel Nasser, with his economy teetering on the edge of ruin, can afford the men, money and material which are the mainstay of the Yemeni Republican regime. The fighting in Yemen, largely forgotten in the crisis with Israel, began in 1962 when rebel army officers threw Imam Mohammed el Badr off his 11-century-old throne and set up a republic in the Red Sea kingdom in the southwest corner of Arabia.

The Imam rallied loyal tribesmen for war and Nasser sent more than 70,000 troops to shore up the rebel regime led by bearded, sullen Col. Abdullah al-Sallal.

Alarmed by the presence of the Egyptian Army on its border, Saudi Arabia threw its support behind the Royalists.

DEATH TOLL

Princely commanders of the Royalist forces claim the death toll in Yemen goes into the hundreds of thousands. They say some 80,000 Egyptian soldiers have been killed or wounded in the fighting.

Egypt gives no statistics on the war, and there is no way of checking the Royalist figures, but signs of massive death and destruction abound in Yemen.

Egyptian air raids have shattered hillside villages. Hundreds of villagers have died from Egyptian poison gas, the use of which was confirmed this month by the International Red Cross.

The Imam's tribesmen have slaughtered entire Egyptian units in isolated outposts and strewn parts of the country with wrecked tanks and trucks. In the early days of the war, Royalist guerrillas defeated tanks by stuffing their turbans up the exhaust pipes to stall the engines and then beheading the crews as they emerged.

JEDDAH PACT

Nasser and King Faisal of Saudi Arabia agreed to end the war with the Jeddah Pact of August 1965, which called for a halt in Saudi aid to the Royalists and the withdrawal of Egyptian forces. Nasser charged Faisal with violating the agreement and refused to pull out his army. The war went on.

Later Nasser made clear that Egyptian forces would stay in Yemen until neighboring South Arabia gets independence from Britain in 1968, raising fears of an Egyptian take-over there.

The Egyptian army now is withdrawn into a triangle cornered by the major cities of San'a, Hodeidah and Ta'izz, while the Royalists roam the outlying areas almost to the mud walls of San'a.

The Egyptian strength in Yemen is now said to be approximately 40,000 men and the fighting has become sporadic except for continued bombing by Nasser's jets.

BLOODY END

Nasser has not yet announced his new plans with regard to Yemen or South Arabia, but an Egyptian withdrawal from the Arabian Peninsula would probably mean a bloody but quick end to the civil war and a Royalist victory as well as relief to the South Arabian Federation.

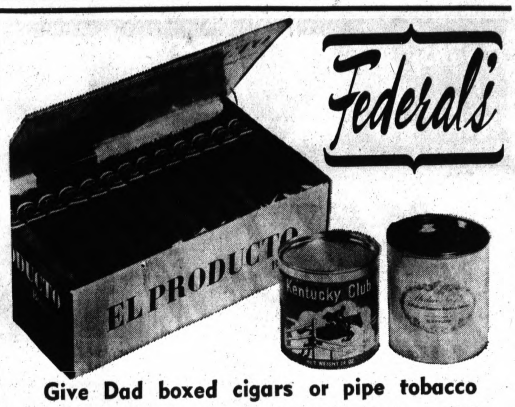

Another peace agreement between Nasser and Faisal—whose own country has frequently been bombed by the Egyptian air force—could also end the war. This is a more likely prospect than a unilateral Egyptian retreat.

In offering his resignation as president last week, Nasser made a passionate appeal for Arab unity and praised his former rivals in the Arab world. Saudi Arabia was the only Arab country he did not mention specifically, but his appeal and his gratitude, Nasser declared, applied to "all Arabs."

The current need for cooperation among the Arab states could finish the feud between Nasser and Faisal and end the war in Yemen.

Move your living room outdoors for the summer and with this furniture not even a sudden rainstorm can spoil the effect. All fabrics are water and weather resistant. A wide range of fabric colors and textures is available. It will make you regret winter. Lee L. Woodard Sons, Inc. Line available locally.

Women's Section

Airy wrought iron can move indoors as easily as outdoors. This set featured a glass-topped pedestal table to help the dining room or kitchen take on a summery look. Wrought iron settings indoors are now becoming highly fashionable.

Back Yard Picnics for Summer Fun

Summertime is eating out time. And you can take the kids — it won't matter if they spill things.

Thanks to new and improved bug repellents, easy care lawn furniture, paper plates (minus center fold) and charcoal lighter, it's fun. Picnicking no longer rivals being lost in the Everglades.

The new lawn furniture doesn't snap shut when you sit on the wrong thing. It's airy, elegant wrought iron with generous padding. (It gleefully replaces the kind in which the only padding was your own.)

WATERPROOF

Even rain won't cause a panic. The new cushions are weather proof with water sealed seams.

Much of the furniture can move indoors to serve kitchen areas, dining rooms and recreation areas. They give glassy indoor nooks an airy summer feel that lasts the year round. Lots of green growing things and textured floor coverings add to the new look.

Carpeting has been introduced lately that wears well at the poolside, on the boat decks and, no kidding — on the patio. It is made especially for outdoor use; of man-made fibers that won't mat down or mildew.

EASY-CLEAN

One of outdoor carpeting's most novel features is that you can just hose it down to clean it.

You can even get carpeting that simulates nice green grass, in case you have a poison thumb.

WNFGA to Produce Satire

How NOT to stage and judge a flower show will be demonstrated fictionally in a one-act satire, entitled "Sweet Pea Corners 10th Annual Flower Show."

This original work will be produced and has been written by members of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association of Graduate Judges and Teachers.

The presentation will take place at 1 p.m. Tuesday, at the Birmingham Community House following the annual meeting of the WNFGA Association of Graduate Judges and Teachers.

The closed meeting will begin at 10 a.m.

Luncheon will be served at noon, for which reservations must be made by Friday through Mrs. James L. Morrison of Trenton.

Mrs. J. Paul McConkie will direct the satire and Mrs. Fred Stefansky will act as moderator.

Actresses will be graduate judges, Mesdames: Fred Trickey, Robert Pokorny, Newton Skillman Jr., H. Rollin Allen, Hobart D. Andreae, Arthur Stiller, and Robert Weeks.

Mrs. C. E. Nickel will assist as properties chairman.

WNFGA judges, branch members and friends are invited to the play at no charge.

Belgian Court Says Italian Countess May Wed Negro

LIEGE, Belgium (UPI) — The Liege appeals court today ruled that runaway Italian Countess Giovanna Agusta can marry Brazilian negro soccer player Jose Germano.

The court thus upheld a similar verdict by a Liege Civil Court last month, which had overruled parental opposition to Giovanna's wedding.

IS EFFECTIVE

The original civil court verdict was only to become effective after appeals court proceedings.

The court was told during its hearings in the case last week that Giovanna's father, millionaire Count Domenico Agusta, had decided to withdraw his opposition to the marriage.

The count's attorneys had first claimed there were irregularities in the procedure for publishing the wedding banns.

The wedding ceremony can now be performed as soon as the court's decision has been officially conveyed to the registrar's office.

Should Bride Change Plans in This Case?

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter's future mother-in-law is a sick woman who lives in a suburb of a large city. My daughter wishes the wedding to be held in a city hotel.

The lady gets about in her own apartment, but never leaves it. It would take about 30 minutes to get her to the hotel and five minutes to get to a caterer's in the neighborhood. I feel the bride should have the choice, but should she hold the wedding in the suburb to keep peace among the families? — Molly F.

Dear Mrs. F.: Since the suburb where your daughter's future nother-in-law lives is close enough to the city so that friends could get to the wedding fairly easily, your daughter should go along with her wishes and have the wedding near her house.

Dear Mrs. Post: What kind of birthday party would you suggest for a girl who is going to be 15-years-old in June? She is going to be a sophomore in high school next year.

Should she invite boys to her dance, or should the girls that she invites ask their own special boy friends? — Pat S.

Dear Pat: Your friend should invite both boys and girls to her dance. If some wish to bring a date who had not been invited, they'll undoubtedly call to ask if it is all right.

But by asking girls and boys there should be more general dancing and cutting in than if every girl has her own date.

Next Time---Could Be Girls

Husband's 'Out With the Boys'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a wife, married nine years, who takes the children to visit her mother in another state for two months every summer?

ABBY

She arranges her trip so that the last two weeks fall when her husband gets his summer vacation. Then he has to drive to her mother's, spend his "vacation" there, and drive her and the kids back home.

Then when the husband tells her that while he was alone he went out a few times and had a couple of beers with the boys, she blows her top. How about this, Abby?

THE HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: The husband should register his complaints with his wife. And if she continues to leave him, he can't be blamed for relieving his loneliness and boredom with "the boys."

If the wife is smart, she'll change her routine because there is always a chance that the next time it could be with "the girls."

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law of 20 years standing has a friend who will soon celebrate her 25th wedding anniversary. This friend is having a party at her newly-built home.

Well, my sister-in-law asked me if I wanted to earn a little extra money by serving at this party. Abby, I have a very good secretarial job, own my own home, my own car, have no debts, and I am not in the slightest hard up for "extra money." I have never done waitress work in my life!

I know the anniversary couple socially, having been invited to the homes of mutual friends. In fact, the anniversary couple have been guests in my home.

I was very much insulted and I let my sister-in-law know it. I haven't heard from her since. Was I wrong in feeling insulted?

NO WAITRESS

DEAR NO: If you honestly believe your sister-in-law wanted to insult you, then you had every right to feel insulted. You know your sister-in-law better than I do, so you'll have to be the judge of her motives.

DEAR ABBY: I've been going with Jimmy for two years. Jimmy's brother, Tom, is getting married tomorrow and Jimmy will be an usher in the wedding. I am very upset because I wasn't invited.

I know the family sort of well, and I always thought they liked me. Maybe I am all upset over nothing. If I am, please tell me. Do you think I should have received an invitation? Who does the inviting anyway?

Please answer soon as this has left me sleepless.

LEFT OUT

DEAR LEFT OUT: The bride and her family "does the inviting." But the groom and his family are allowed a certain number of guests also. If Jimmy had asked that you be sent an invitation, you probably would have received one.

There is always the possibility that the number of guests had to be limited, or that the ushers had to "escort" the bridesmaids, so perhaps Jimmy had a "duty" date. Ask him.

Dirt Gardeners Name Leaders

An election of officers highlighted the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Dirt Gardeners Club in the home of Mrs. Andrew Kulich of Merry Road.

Heading the list of officials is Mrs. Robert Playter, president.

Mrs. James Weaver, vice president; Mrs. Vivian Tubbs and Mrs. George Lasley, secretaries; Mrs. Donald Gilchrist, treasurer and Mrs. George Quine, historian, will assist her.

The group received an award certificate for its participation in the Civic Beautification Program, recently sponsored by the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan and Sears Roebuck and Company.

Hostesses at the meeting where Mrs. Angus McDonald and Mrs. Robert Goebel were guests, included Mrs. Playter and Mrs. Ted Toppa.

Couple Reveals Plans

The Ray W. Dotys of Semloh Avenue, Orion Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Alyse Carolyn, to Pvt. William G. Sudbury, USA, son of the Horace L. Sudburys of West Rutgers Street.

Pvt. Sudbury, who is stationed at the NIKE Base in Tolchester, Md., and his bride-elect will wed Aug. 11.

In a full length gown of organza and Chantilly lace in a tiered bouffant fashion, Brenda Corrine Knake exchanged vows Saturday with Sp/4 Fergie Wallace Wood. Parents of the couple wed in the Dixie Baptist Church are Mrs. Russell Lane of Springfield Township, Julius Knake of Fairborn, Ohio and the Burl Woods of Independence Township. Mrs. Larry Rowe was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bruce Lane, Linda Lane, Diane and Beryl Wood. Larry Rowe was best man. Ushers were Bruce and Russell Lane, Allan Knake and Ronald McAfee. A reception in Springfield Township Hall followed the rite. The couple will reside in Fort Campbell, Ky., where the bridegroom is stationed with the USA.

Case No. C-528

Gals More Concerned

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE C-528: John Sterling invited me to participate on his top-rated 3-hour radio show at Baltimore.

DR. CRANE

Its format is becoming very popular all over America, for it lets the listeners telephone their questions right during the program.

Their names aren't revealed but their own queries go right over the TV or radio, and I would then try to answer them.

During this lengthy three-hour program, we must have received at least 50 telephone questions dealing with sex and marriage problems.

"Dr. Crane," one lady angrily demanded, "why do you always pick on women and show up our faults?

"Why don't you criticize your own sex for a change, or do you have the egotistical view that men are 100 per cent perfect?"

Well, I have participated on these live TV and radio shows from coast to coast for many years.

So I normally expect about one query out of twenty to show this "suffragette" defense of the fair sex.

And I freely admit that I give more advice to women than to men, for that is usually true of clergymen and marriage counsellors, nationwide.

For women are generally the ones who come to us for help.

Women thus show more concern about salvaging their homes and rearing their children properly.

It may shock the male sex, but women are actually more scientific if you regard an open mind as an evidence of the true scientific spirit.

It is men who are such supreme egotists that they often disdain advice on how to become better husbands and fathers.

"I'm perfect already!" is the usual male attitude.

"So why should I read Dr. Crane's column or consult my clergyman?"

ALWAYS LOOKING

On the contrary, women are always eager for new ideas by which to improve their looks, their cooking and their success in rearing their children.

Even if a woman is a stunning beauty contest queen, she still will devour information about new cosmetics, hair styles, etc.

She may be the best cook in the county, yet she will still clip out recipes from the newspaper and try to improve.

Not so the average man!

Many of the present husband population weren't fit prospects at the outset.

But since you wives are married to them and tearfully ask for advice on how to salvage such marriages, especially for the sake of your children, then don't complain if I advise the "stoop to conquer" strategy.

The Norval A. Parkers of Lochaven Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Lynn, to Gary Lee Hornbacher. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Hornbacher of Rogers City. The marriage will take place in December.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Navarre of Long Lake Boulevard, Orion Township, announce the engagement and forthcoming Aug. 12 marriage of their daughter, Carol Marie. Her fiance is James Wayne Weiler whose parents are the Joseph Weilers of Cameron Street.

Teen-Agers Get Credit for Flight

NEW YORK (UPI) — Thousands of teen-agers are getting high school credit for being flighty.

In Crescent City, Calif., school board officials approved purchase of a training plane for the high-flying youths.

In Chanute, Kans., another place where aviation training occurs for credit, 15 students meet one hour daily for 18 weeks of classroom aviation study. They earn a credit in science.

At the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, flight training is a part of the course training young missionaries for service in remote areas of the world.

Ingenue magazine, reporting on the trend, says 13,000 teenagers hold pilot licenses. In Arizona, California Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, Michigan, Texas and Wyoming, teen-agers are sprouting wings in the classroom.

The publication says that educators hold varing opinions on the value of aviation training but agree on one point: by its very nature, aviation requires that students get their facts straight.

A Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) official feels that the training teaches discipline, and in some cases, where students are bored with school, the challenge of aviation training stimulates improvement in the overall school performance.

Dear Betty Furness---Please Rescue Us

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

An Open Letter to Betty Furness:

When you candidly confessed you'd like to hear what's on the consumer's mind, you started women sharpening their pencils. The letters from the ladies will flow in, all right.

MARY FEELEY

And you'll soon be briefed on more consumer affairs than you probably thought consumers could invent.

That's why I'm taking my turn early — to talk to you in your new post as Special Assistant to the President for consumer affairs.

While a lot of nice things have happened to us consumers since you used to open refrigerator doors on TV, women from all over write me that there are still some left-over frustrations which, they feel, deserve the attention of The Woman Who Cares (that's you). So I'm passing along a few.

We're happy, for instance, with the snap-on lids on cans, the cordless appliances, the safe plastic bottles for bleaches, the lighter vacuum cleaners, and the new see-through containers for meats so we don't have to guess what's snuggled down there on the bottom of those cardboard containers.

But you can help us out with some of these miscellaneous matters when you get time.

● Could you encourage supermarkets to hang up a few big, well-labeled meat charts naming the specific cuts of meats available in the meat department—so shoppers can see where the Kiddie steaks really come from, and what part of the anatomy constitutes a California steak or a Sandwich steak? Women might be more amiable customers if they knew what to expect for their meat money.

● Will you try to inspire the committee working on the Truth in Lending Bill to take the gobbledygook out of the terminology? All we consumers want to know is what it's going to cost us to borrow somebody else's money.

● Then get somebody to tell us why there must be such a long delay in delivery when furniture is ordered. If there's no help for it, at least the young couple setting up housekeeping could plan better.

● Any way to persuade appliance manufacturers to extend the cut-off date for parts for an old model?

● This one's a real challenge: try to synchronize the computer systems with some human attention to the consumer. It's the customer's inalienable right to demand to see the Manager. Pity the poor man who kept getting requests for payment of his bill — which the computer clearly stated at $00.00. After vain attempts to straighten things out, he surrendered and sent the computer a check for $00.00.

● Do you think there might be one day in the year — say Convenience Day — when a department store would put all its blouses in the Blouse Department instead of hiding them all over the store in boutiques?

● Would you try to give the "little" inventor a hand by cheering on the Patent Reform Act supporters? Maybe we'd get the best ideas on the market sooner.

● A forlorn hope, I know — but could supermarkets be persuaded to get together on what goes next to the rice rack, and whether pet foods will be neighbor to beverages?

The consumer who's urged to "shop around" for comparative values needs many hours and a different navigator in every big supermarket signs guide her to only a few items). Lacking this Utopian solution, how about illustrated road maps stacked at each entrance?

'Coco' Chanel Denounces Male Fashion Designers

By ANDREW SALWYN

PARIS (UPI) — When Chanel speaks, the rest of the fashion world listens . . . and often argues.

Gabrielle (Coco) Chanel, a fashion influence world-wide for more than half a century, sounds off to reporters about so-called "high fashion" — in other words, fashion that the rest of the industry follows.

Miss Chanel, at 83, charges that high fashion in France is on the way out . . . the male designers are at fault.

"High fashion is in the hands of men who do not like women and only dream of making them look ridiculous," says the woman who is one of the all-time great influences on feminine fashions.

ATTACK

Miss Chanel attacks among other current modes the miniskirt. She says that once upon a time women "once they reached the age of 40 . . . traded youth for grace and mystery. This was an evolution that left them intact.

"Now, they try to stand up to the young, using ridiculous weapons. They only need a bow in their hair and a school satchel on their back."

The sting of the attack, carried prominently in all French newspapers, was felt at the very foundations of Parisian haute couture.

"Miss Chanel is an admirable woman," said couturier Marc Bohan, of the house of Dior. "We have the deepest respect for her. But she is a bit older than most of us and naturally she reacts differently. . . .

"Why should one be against the mini-skirt if the mini-skirt is pretty and worn well?"

Said Pierre Cardin: "In the world of fashion, each couturier has his own ideas. Miss Chanel charges that couturiers are inspring themselves from architecture, and she is not altogether wrong. But this does not prevent women from remaining feminine. Personally I abhor women wearing trousers.

"A mini-skirt can look very pretty when worn with pretty stockings, but I find it hideous when worn on bare legs."

As if the controversy she launched were not enough, Miss Chanel did not stop at the mini-skirt.

"Men are getting dressed like women and women like men," she said, "and this is leading to a destruction of love."

DISSATISFIED

"Now no one is satisfied with what one's got. Before the war I had never heard of complexes and depressions," she added.

"Then," she said in one interview, "we were sentimental. It was perhaps stupid but it filled life and it was much better.

"In those days a woman was compared to a flower or perhaps to a sausage but now I would be called a 'locomotive' because I am not "ye ye" and I don't feel like doing the jerk at Regine's. This just makes me feel sick."

To give the new generation an idea of what life was like in her days, Coco Chanel has agreed to let her life be portrayed on the stage and screen American producer Frederick Brisson, says that a musical called "Coco," written by Alan Jay Lerner, will open on Broadway in the fall.

Shower Gift of Bath Items

For an unusual shower gift for the summer bride, the makers of Dial soap suggest a supply of the products she'll need for the bath in her new home — anti-bacterial soap, facial and bathroom tissues, cleansers and cleaners.

Wrap the package in a bathmat or towel, with a hand or nail brush tucked in the ribbon bow.

Abstracts Meld With Any Decor

Don't be afraid to hang an abstract painting in an Early American setting, suggests the Picture and Frame Institute. Let the frame and mat provide the transitional element that will tie the picture to the decorative scheme.

There is no magic in the proper selection of pictures for your home. The framed pictures you hang should be those you like.

"You Must Be Satisfied — This We Guarantee"

It's fun and easy to make your own food covers for outdoor living. These colorful covers for the table and serving bar are practical eye-catchers; not to mention bug-stoppers. Flies and other disease-carrying insects can't get to the food, and the rust-proof, sturdy aluminum screening is washable, enabling the food covers to be used over and over again.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

In the costume room of our local store I was appalled at the cost of some cotton dresses. These seem to have painted designs on the cotton. Some are rather stiff, and yet there is absolutely nothing to them. But, they are frightfully expensive.

I wanted to ask about the hem tape. Instead of hem tape, they have used lace. The clothes aren't supposed to be dry cleaned, but washed instead. How will this lace hold up, and what is the purpose of it?

Sue M.

Dear Sue M.:

I am familiar with the designer who manufactures these hand-screened cottons. They are very unique and unusual and appeal to the gal who "simply can't stand wearing cottons that can't be washed." These cottons become more beautiful with repeated washings. If you make one, be sure to shrink your lining fabric.

They are usually devoid of detail; the beauty is in the fabric. One easy way to copy trim they use is self-fabric bias tubing. Make it about ½ inch wide when finished, and don't leave the cord inside. Make yards and yards of this. Braid it in a flat braid and tack it carefully a few inches below the neckline and again a few inches above the hem. It's darling and different!

As to the lace for the hem, this again is a unique and feminine touch with no value except to the eye of the beholder. It's best to use a synthetic lace that will hold up well. On the other hand, unless you use cotton lace, you must use special care not to use an iron that is too hot.

This same designer makes darling dresses for tiny tots as well. This is a real joy to be able to wash any children's clothes.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Pearl Underly, St. Petersburg, Fla. is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following suggestion.

If you have an accordion-pleated skirt that is too long to wear and sort of out of date, use it for making one of the newest tent dresses. Add a small yoke out of lace, contrasting color or whatever, and attach this pleated skirt to the yoke. You'll have one of those graceful, young-looking tent dresses. (Be sure to accurately measure the exact length you will need, you would want to use the present hem for your finished hem and cut any excess from the top.)

Dear Eunice Farmer,

Please tell us what to expect from the shrinkage of fabrics. Some fabrics say they shrink a maximum of two per cent others don't mention shrinking at all. I've had some bad experiences in the past. I would like to avoid this problem since my time is too valuable to make clothes I can't wear after they have been washed.

Mrs. E. F.

Dear Mrs. E. F.:

I have found that the safest thing to do with any fabric, this includes linings and underlinings if you intend washing the garment, is to preshrink your fabric first. I know that this is a chore and you hate to wet your new fabric, but it will more than pay off in the end.

Just place it in fairly hot water for a few minutes and if it's a colored print, you might add salt or a little vinegar to set the color. Then dry your fabric in the dryer and press. It's amazing how distorted your garment can become if it only shrinks two per cent.

A two piece Empire waisted sheath gown of organza and lace was worn by Iva Kay Tear for vows repeated with Dennis Roy Bennett. Matron of honor for the couple wed in Donelson Baptist Church are the Lawrence G. Tears of Lakeview Street and the Frederick E. Bennetts of Bald Mountain Road, Orion Township. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jimmy A. Lane and Kristine Bennett, sisters of the bridal couple. Lee Ann Payne was flower girl and John Warner ring bearer. Roger Miracle was best man. Ushers were Ernest Humphreys and Steven Fater. A reception in the church parlors followed the wedding.

Extend Shrimp With Pasta for Quantity Salad Recipe

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

On these hot days, a hearty salad is often the answer to "What's for dinner?"

Such a salad is Mrs. Arthur F. Hoban's Shrimp Macaroni Salad.

SHRIMP MACARONI SALAD

By Mrs. Arthur F. Hoban

2½ cups uncooked elbow macaroni
2 cups celery
8 hard cooked eggs
¼ cup half and half
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups cooked shrimp
½ cup cut green pepper
1 cup salad dressing
½ teaspoon sugar

Cook macaroni in salted boiling water. Drain.

Cut celery fine, including the young tender leaves.

Mix together the salad dressing, half and half, sugar and salt. Add rest of ingredients and chill.

Serve on lettuce. Makes 28-30 servings.

Tuna may be substituted for the shrimp. Rinse off oil with hot water and drain well. Use two 6½ oz. cans.

Jackie and Children Vacation in Ireland

WATERFORD, Ireland (AP) — Twenty-five Irish policewomen will work in three shifts to protect Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her children around the clock from curious Irishmen and newsmen during her vacation here.

Waterford's County Council has begun putting up 30 no-parking signs around the 241 acres of woods and lawns surrounding Woodston House, the 40-room Regency mansion where the Kennedys will stay.

The house overlooks Waterford harbor.

NEW GATES

Two new iron gates have been set up at the main entrance.

"The emphasis of the whole vacation is a vacation to be spent quietly," said Mrs. Kennedy's secretary, Nancy Tuckerman, at a news conference in Dublin Tuesday.

Mrs. Kennedy with 9-year-old Caroline and 6-year-old John is to arrive at Shannon Airport on Irish Airlines Thursday morning.

They will travel the 85 miles from Shannon to Waterford by car.

From Woodston House on clear nights the Kennedys should be able to see New Ross, the County Wexford town from which President Kennedy's ancestors emigrated to America.

New Ross is 15 miles north, up the River Barrow, from the mansion.

NOW FOUR

Miss Tuckerman said "although a six-week vacation was originally planned, as of tonight it's four weeks."

During her stay Mrs. Kennedy is expected to accept an invitation to visit Irish President Eamon de Valera.

The two children of Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, will probably join the Kennedys at Woodston House, Miss Tuckerman said.

They live in London and their mother is making her stage debut in Chicago this week.

The Kennedys will spend much of their time horseback riding and swimming, the secretary said.

Seventy - one reporters, photographers, radio and television personnel are already at Waterford's Tower Hotel.

Capt. Obert Claims Bride in Arizona

Williams Air Force Base chapel in Arizona was the setting for the recent wedding of Diane McElroy daughter of Mrs. Paul McElroy and the late Mr. McElroy of Percival, Iowa, to Capt. William E. Obert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Obert of Pelham Street.

The bride was gowned in blush pink lappet with simple sculptured bodice and floral lace appliques around waist and sleeves. Her chapel train draped simply from a bow at the scooped neckline. A bubble veil of pink net petals was accented with a cluster of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of rosebuds and Stephanotis.

ATTENDANTS

Honor attendants for the couple were Gretchen Bottom of Mesa, Ariz. and Capt. Randall Skinner of Williams Air Force Base.

Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. James McCurry of Marquette Street will be hosts Saturday afternoon for a family reunion.

Special guests will be their son and his family, Dr. and Mrs. William McCurry. Medical missionaries in the Philippines for the past three and a half years, they are home for a year's furlough.

For summer, Anne Fogarty revives the paper-doll silhouette that launched her career almost two decades ago. The look, still distinctively her own and typically American, is seen here in pique, its whiteness protected with "Zepel" stain repeller. Contrasting ribbon beading encircles the full-blown skirt and is repeated on the sleeves.

Black flocking on white cotton batiste is featured by this box pleated dress. The yoke and hem are finished in white pique. Two free cherry appliques dangle from green stems.

Spray Sizing Cuts Down Ironing Time

While ironing will always remain a chore, especially in the summer, there are ways to size up the situation and cut down time spent at the board.

One of the most recent time-savers is spray sizing, which is designed to reduce ironing time and effort, and which, unlike starch, can be used safely on all types of fabrics.

Since spray sizings have only recently appeared on grocers' shelves, many people are not aware of the differences between spray sizing and spray starch.

Sizing is a combination of new chemical compounds while starch is a vegetable mixture. While spray starches generally tend to be milky white in color, spray sizing is a much clearer liquid.

Rather than acting on the surface only, spray sizing also permeates the entire fabric, to restore the body and "like-new" feeling to blouses, dresses, sheets, everything in the ironing basket.

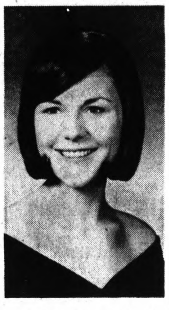

Sizing gives a body, crispness and just-bought look to clothing, not a starchy stiffness.

In addition to cotton you can "size up" linen, wool, silk, dacron, nylon, orlon, rayon — or any combination of natural or synthetic fibers so often used in men's sport shirts, women's blouses and little girls' dresses.

Spray sizing is also perfect to restore the new look to permanent press garments, which sometimes lose body after repeated washings. At the same time you'll be giving the garments the touch-up needed for the finished look.

Use spray sizing as a sprinkling agent on either damp or dry clothes. Set your iron temperature control one notch below that indicated for the fabric you are ironing.

Skinned Knees? Soap Well!

In these warmer spring days, youngsters will be clamoring to play outdoors. Soon they will be out of sight, running, jumping, climbing, and skipping around the neighborhood.

All winter, leggings or tights protected little girls' knees and snowsuits or long pants took care of the boys.

But when the weather is warm and legs are bare, they can get scratched, nicked, skinned, cut, and generally mistreated during an active youngster's day.

Even if you could watch your youngsters all the time, it's not likely you could prevent all the cuts and scratches that seem to go with growing up.

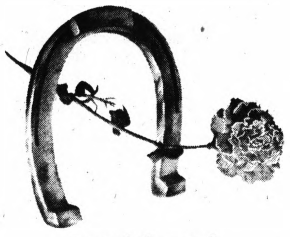

But you can guard against infections by bathing with antibacterial soap. Regular bathing with a mild soap with hexachlorophene reduces infection-causing bacteria on the skin to a small, fixed level, and with continued use inhibits further bacterial growth.

What could be more important? The cuts and scratches may not be too serious in themselves, but youngsters are often unaware of minor skin abrasions and will keep right on playing.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Q. My hair looks very nice from the front, but the back is too fluffy and my neck disappears. You can't see any of it, but I don't look well with my hair very short.

A. You didn't say how long you wear your hair, but you could compromise by wearing it a little shorter and having it thinned out a little or tapered at the back of the neck. You can also have the collars or necklines of your suits and dresses lowered in the back. Lots of women who have short necks do this.

Q. I am in my middle 40s, and my eyebrows are thinning very rapidly. This has just begun recently. What can I do to stop this?

A. The tendency is for the brows to thin as one grows older although some people have very heavy brows all of their lives. Since this has happened suddenly perhaps there is some systemic reason. Have a physical checkup. For instance, thyroid deficiency can cause this. Hormones may also play a part.

Q. Does nursing a baby necessarily ruin one's bustline?

A. No. I have seen many women who nursed their baby and had beautiful busts. It will ruin your bustline though, if you do not take preventive measures. Always lie down when nursing your child and wear brassieres during pregnancy and nursing period which are designed especially to support the increased weight.

Q. How long must a woman exercise each day to have a nice figure?

A. Fifteen minutes, if done correctly and regularly will make a difference. A half hour, counting rest periods is best. However, you should work up to that gradually.

Q. Should a woman who is five months pregnant take exercises to reduce her hips? Is it safe?

A. Women differ, but you surely should not take them without your doctor's permission. In most cases walking is the best and safest exercise for this time. Take your figure molding exercises after your baby arrives.

Mount Clemens Street Name Change Okayed

City commissioners last night approved changing the name of Mount Clemens Street to University Drive following a public hearing.

Two persons attending the hearing spoke on the name change. James Howlett, an attorney representing Oakland University, spoke in favor of the change.

A businessman who has commercial interests on Mount Clemens spoke against it.

District 5 Commissioner John A. Dugan, speaking in favor, said he had expected more opposition.

The name change was originally requested by Oakland University Chancellor D. B. Varner, who said the new name would make the university easier to find.

Outside the city, Mount Clemens becomes Pontiac Road. The Oakland County Road Commission has indicated it is agreeable to changing that name to University Drive.

Tentative plans call for phasing out the Mount Clemens designation over a two-year period.

Commissioners last night agreed that University Street, located in the north end, would have to undergo a name change to avoid duplication and confusion.

In other business last night, commissioners voted to adopt an ordinance to license and control scrap iron and metal processors.

FENCES CALLED FOR

The ordinance calls for dealers to erect metal, wire, or wood opaque fences around the yards and requires that they be painted every two years.

Existing dealers must conform to the ordinance in one year, new dealers immediately.

In answer to District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin's question as to how far the city could go in regulating dealers, Director of Law Shirwin M. Birnkrant said: "Fifteen years ago we couldn't legislate pleasant surroundings . . . beautification" because it didn't fall in the province of health, safety and welfare.

Judicial interpretation of legislative power has come to the point where this type of legislation is recognized as an allowable legislative function, he said.

RECEIVED NOTIFICATION

Commissioners also received notification that the federal grant for the Urban Renewal Project R-20 had been increased by $38,235 to provide for rehabilitation of structures within the project.

The city now has been granted a total of $6,046,097.

5th Fire Brigade Meet at GMC Truck Thursday

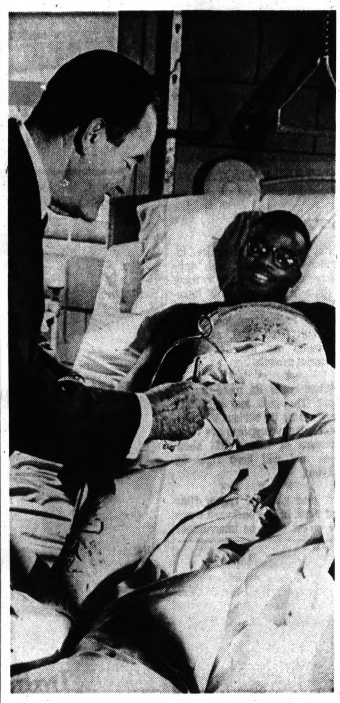

The fifth annual GMC Truck and Coach Division Fire Brigade meet is 2 p.m. tomorrow at the athletic field on the north side of Opdyke on division grounds.

Some 18 fire brigade teams will compete in seven events for a gold cup. Teams will be judged for the timing and quality of equipment they select to extinguish a series of mock fires.

"The competition gives the men a chance to work with the fire apparatus kept in the plants for use against fires," said a company spokesman.

The teams are composed of volunteer fire fighting units who are continually prepared to combat possible fires in the plants.

The mock fires will be of the types which could possibly start in a plant.

$41,350 for Improvements to Parking Lot Authorized

City Affairs

City commissioners last night approved spending $41,350 to light, landscape and improve the city-owned parking lot at West Huron and Saginaw.

Joseph E. Neipling, director of public works and service, told the commission it was possible to spend the money because of the income derived from the lot.

He said the city is taking in about $3,500 per month while expenses are about $1,100 per month.

Plans call for a full-time attendant who would supervise the lot and collect parking fees.

District 4 Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson said the lot's operation has justified action taken by the commission to transfer the city airport to the county in exchange for the parking lot and the Masonic Temple building at 18½ E. Lawrence.

Neipling also said the city could attain 60 feet of right-of-way along Featherstone owned by the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit for construction of the Galloway Creek Sanitary Sewer if it waived future road assessments.

Although there was some hesitancy on the part of commissioners to do so, they agreed not to levy assessments for street surfacing or widening as long as the property was owned by the diocese.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said it appears that the property will be acquired in the near future by the Pontiac School District.

The commission also held hearings on the necessity of curbing, paving and providing sewers for Central from the Grand Trunk Western Railway tracks to Irwin, for Merriman and North Merrimac.

The commission denied a petition to rezone to commercial two lots west of 205 W. New York and ordered public hearings July 11 for three other rezoning petitions.

A CUB CROSSING — Charles Prasse, the police chief of Lake Placid, N.Y., directed traffic on Route 86 Sunday near the Adirondack resort village to assure a smooth flow of traffic that included these two black bear cubs. The black bear is native to the Adirondacks. The cubs later were taken to a game farm near Lake Placid.

Bet Lives Over North Vietnam

Fliers Play Daily Game of Chance

WITH U.S. NAVY OFF NORTH VIETNAM (UPI)—The gamblers come daily to this carrier's green-walled "ready" room to bet their young lives for the privilege of living another day.

The odds become progressively prohibitive with each day's play.

The payoff is a bombed bridge, a strafed truck convoy, destruction of a power plant, and a few more hours of membership in one of the world's most exclusive clubs:

The U.S. Navy carrier squadrons attacking North Vietnam.

The players who lose die, — or, at best, face long months as captives of the North Vietnamese.

Like many casinos, the house here occasionally permits standoffs where the players lose but continue to play after having been downed, rescued and returned.

SPECIAL CLIENTELE

The clientele that gathers at least once a day in this steel-walled room differs radically from the gamblers trying their luck at Reno, Las Vegas or Monte Carlo.

Each has been carefully screened for membership, has presented the best possible credentials of youth, health, vigor and stamina.

There is no membership fee in this club, no discrimination because of race, color or religion.

The clubroom aboard this carrier is identical with the other club branches: Some on this ship, others on carriers just over the horizon.

VETERAN GAMBLER

A senior player stands with one foot resting on the leg of the podium from which he outlines today's play. In Reno he'd be known as a fugitive from the law of averages.

He was lucky to get a standoff last month after spending 12 hours in the South China Sea. He has taken off and landed a plane from a carrier more than 800 times.

Often he has come back with holes in the plane that weren't there when he left, but still he plays.

He reads casually from notes. "Today we take off at 1800, and recover at 1945. You all know your target areas and objectives."

He nods towards a fellow player sprawled in a front seat.

"If I go down," he continues, "Jones has the hope."

The senior's voice drawls on in a rather bored tone, giving weather information, ordinance data and weight figures.

In the background, soft dinner music comes over the intercom, blending in with the constant whirl of a hidden generator somewhere within the ship.

Simplified TV Tube Patented

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — A color television tube that uses only one electron gun instead of the standard three has been patented by Dr. Edwin H. Land. His discoveries in color perception upset conventional theories; the invention based on them may well upset conventional television technology.

Conventional theory holds that each color is associated with a particular wavelength of light, and the eye sees a color when its wavelength is present.

Dr. Land discovered that the eye could see a color even though its wavelength isn't present. He made black-and-white transparencies shot through red and green filters.

Projecting the films through almost any combination of colored filters, even red and orange, he produced images that looked like full color, even though no wavelengths of the blue end of the spectrum were present.

Present-day color TV uses conventional color theory. Three images are taken, through red, green and blue filters. The three pictures are transmitted, received in the home set, and shot out of three electron guns toward the screen.

A complicated pattern of red, green and blue phosphors receives the appropriate electrons and reproduces the color picture.

Dr. Land's system uses the same red-green-blue input signal, but it has only one electron gun. The signals are separated, not by position, but by how fast they go. In one form, for example, the blue signal electrons go fastest, the green slower and the red slowest.

The target screen is in three layers, each responding to a different color. The fastest-moving electrons go through all three layers, the intermediate two and the slowest one.

In terms of wavelength, the three-layer electrons put out white light, the two-layer ones put out yellow, and the single-layer red.

But in line with Dr. Land's theory, the eye should see red, green and blue, just as they were transmitted.

IT'S DONE WITH MAGNETS — Snapshots can be arranged and changed easily by moving the magnetic strips in these "Magnetic Fotoshow" display frames. They have decorator styled moldings and a choice of colored backgrounds to show off the pictures.

Camera Angles

Stage Own 'Fotoshow'

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

They've come out with a "Magnetic Fotoshow" which can be hung up like a picture frame or stood up like an easel in 12 by 9-inch or 10x12-inch size.

It has a choice of decorative moldings and a variety of colorful backgrounds to set off the pictures.

The snapshots themselves are arranged, rearranged and changed easily as they are held in place by movable magnetic strips.

HOME EXHIBITION

The larger size will display about 21 standard-size prints while the smaller one holds up to 10 snapshots.

It's a convenient way to display your most recent photo efforts in a home exhibtion.

A new Leica, the M4, is now available. It has added a simple and fast-film-loading feature and some other innovations to the best features of time-tested M3 and M2 models but its price tag will be the same as the previous models.

There is no change in the basic M-Leica camera body with detachable baseplate and swing-open back panel.

However, the conventional take-up spool has been replaced by a three-pronged, non-removable take-up spool.

In loading now, the film leader is extended between any two of the three prongs and the back is closed.

AUTOMATIC

The new M4 viewfinder provides illuminated built-in frames for 35, 50, 90 and 135mm focal length lenses.

Parallax compensation for these four focal length lenses is automatic.

Other Leitz lenses, from 21mm through 560mm are accepted on the M4 along with the Visoflex III which converts it into a reflex camera with groundglass focusing and instant-return mirror.

Lens converters give budget-conscious photographers a means of doubling or tripling the focal length of their present lenses, by adding a comparatively inexpensive accessory instead of another lens.

Now lens converters have a new unique ability . . . they can zoom!

The first one I've seen announced is the Komura Telemore Zoom Converter which offers a range of magnification between 2x and 3x.

As an example, if this were mounted on a camera with a normal 50mm lens, it would be equivalent to having a choice of focal lengths between 100mm and 150mm.

PIN-WORMS
1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist.

Tale of Cong Shot by GI Has Surprise End-ing

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

TAY NINH, Vietnam—With the sound of the single gunshot still ringing in his ears, Pfc. Dick Magnuson inched backwards through the tunnel and scrambled out into the daylight.

He took a gulp of surface air and tried to slap away the dirt which smudged his trousers and muddied the sweat of his skin.

"What happened?" an officer asked him.
"I shot one, sir," Magnuson replied.

"You kill him?"
"I think so."
"You sure?"
"I hit him right in the rear end, sir."

NODDED ASSENT

"Want me to pull him out sir?"
The officer nodded.
"It'll only take a minute."
"Be careful."
"Yessir."

After another gasp of pure air, Magnuson lowered himself back into the tunnel entrance. He squatted down on all fours, bent his ruddy-colored head and began to crawl into the darkness.

The tunnel was typical. Roughly cylindrical, sturdy dirt walls, about two to three feet in diameter. Magnuson had discovered it while his unit swept through a small deserted hamlet.

It was built with patience and obviously used as an escape route for area Vietcong. The main entrance was located inside a thatched living quarters and a second was situated in the center of the hamlet, neatly hidden in the shaft of an unused well.

The tunnel ran in a zigzag pattern to the edge of the village and there emptied out into the thick cover of jungle vegetation.

Magnuson moved carefully. His flashlight, which was wrapped tightly in his left hand, bounced a beam off the cavern walls as he picked his way forward . . . a hand's length, a knee, the other hand, and the other knee.

He was perhaps three feet underground and the temperature was comfortably cool, but he began to sweat anew, the perspiration melting into his slitted eyes with annoying irritation.

The air was heavy and hard to breath. Small insects fell on the crawling soldier and scurried under his clothing. His knees began to ache from contact with the rocky ground.

Magnuson shuddered involuntarily. It was quiet as death and the young GI was unashamedly frightened. But he continued on.

Then, abruptly, he stopped.

He had reached the spot where he had earlier fired a shot at a foggy dark figure. He brought his light up to eye level and followed its dust-filled ray around the interior of the tunnel.

There. There it was.
Magnuson held his breath.
He trembled.

He moved towards the dark, motionless shadow. He touched it lightly and felt a pair of silk trousers, the kind the VC always wear.

NO REACTION

Magnuson prodded the object with the barrel end of his pistol and received no counter reaction. Then he flashed his lamp full on the pair of dorman trousers.

"Oh, no!" he said gruffly.

The soldier frowned and slumped back against the tunnel wall. Then he smiled slightly, then grinned, then even chuckled aloud.

His shot and been true enough.
"Right in the rear end," Magnuson chuckled.
But all he had "killed" was a large bundle of dirty VC laundry.

Judge Weighs Ruling on Boy

Accused Sex Slayer Temporarily Insane?

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Juvenile Court Judge James H. Lincoln is considering whether a 15-year-old boy accused of sexually assaulting and slaying two Westland sisters was temporarily insane from sniffing airplane glue.

Lincoln said Tuesday he wanted more time to determine whether or not the youth was insane.

But Lincoln said that on the basis of testimony and evidence "it is very clear to the court that, were it not for the fact that the boy was intoxicated from sniffing glue, neither the sex assaults nor the slayings would have occurred."

The boy "testified in detail" and admitted sexually assaulting and strangling Deborah Crowther, 8, and her sister Kimberly, 6, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crowther of Westland, in a field near their home April 28, Lincoln said.

The youth, who lived less than a mile from the murder scene, was arrested later that day.

Lincoln said he has taken testimony from 18 persons during a four-day hearing on whether the boy should be found guilty of murder.

Under Michigan law, juveniles are tried not for a specific charge but for the general charge of delinquency. The maximum sentence is confinement until the 19th birthday.

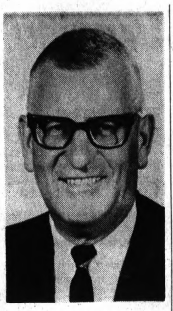

Lincoln said he had not decided whether the boy should be declared a delinquent as a result of the slayings but "regardless of the court's ruling on the murder charges, the boy is going to the Boys' Training School."

During the hearing, it was established that the boy attacked the sisters after a long session of sniffing model airplane glue. His attorney contended that the boy was temporarily insane as a result of the intoxicating effect of the glue fumes.

Lincoln said he would not release the youth even if he was judged temporarily insane.

"The boy is shocked and stunned by his actions and can no more understand what he has done than anyone else in the community.

"But he knows he needs long-term institutional treatment and that he is going to receive it," Lincoln said.

The City Commission voted Monday night to raise the tax by five cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation. The new rate will be $19.47 per $1,000.

S. Viets Ill, Used Engine Oil on Salads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some South Vietnamese civilians have been flavoring their vegetable dishes with aircraft jet engine oil.

As a result, it was learned Tuesday, at least 28 South Vietnamese have fallen ill. Some reports said they are paralyzed. No deaths have been reported so far.

The Pentagon said that "considerable efforts are being made to end the practice" of using jet engine oil as salad oil.

It was unclear how the South Vietnamese came into possession of the engine oil.

NO THEFTS

The Defense Department said the U.S. military assistance command in Saigon "has investigated this matter fully and can find no service reports of any thefts or black market sales of jet engine oil."

The Pentagon said the American civilian officials in South Vietnam checked with the South Vietnamese government on thefts or black market sales but this check "yielded negative results also."

However, the Pentagon said, U.S. Air Force sources report the surgeon general of the Vietnamese air force expressed concern about the problem.

Such misuse of the engine oil appears limited to the Saigon area, sources said.

The Pentagon listed these measures being taken to cure the situation:

—Experimentation to develop a color and taste additive that would prevent the misuse of the engine oil as a food.

—Containers in which jet oil shipped to Southeast Asia from now on will carry warning labels.

—The South Vietnamese government has issued warnings through provincial chiefs, hospitals and its sanitation service.

—The U.S. Air Force is disposing of used oil by either burning it or using it to surface roads.

Jackson Meeting

JACKSON (AP)—Members of the Jackson Area Industrial Development Corp., a group formed recently to promote industry in Jackson, held a meeting Monday to discuss means of luring industry to the area. The group discussed the possibility of a unified metropolitan government and of an areawide sewage system.

Escapee Caught

JACKSON (AP)—A prisoner who escaped from Southern Michigan Prison Tuesday morning was recaptured a few hours later. Clinton Taylor was captured by State Police after a citizen reported seeing Taylor walking along a nearby road.

Pinball Machines Can Bridge Educational Gap

By Science Service

NEW YORK — A pinball machine can and has been used to teach mathematics painlessly to young slum dwellers.

Painless education, or rather educational fun, is what delinquent slum children need to bridge the gaps between themselves and middle class society — at least in the view of Bertram M. Beck, director of New York's Mobilization for Youth, Inc.

Until now, recreation has existed for its own sake, and has amounted to "importing wood lore, cookie sales and basketball to the slums," as part of social workers' efforts to pass on middle class values.

But what the child too often needs is basic intellectual repair, help in mastering concepts middle class children learn when they are still playing with dolls and trucks.

Many slum youngsters lack a grasp of time, health and training as ideas; they don't understand duty, responsibility, or even self-betterment, says Beck. Their level of abstraction is insufficient to allow them to function successfully in society.

Reds Winning Goal of Nordic Neutrality

HELSINKI (UPI)—The Kremlin drive to dominate the Middle East may have suffered a severe setback in the Arab-Israeli war. But Russia's efforts to secure its northern flank continue to be an almost unqualified success.

Through an intensive diplomatic and propaganda campaign the Soviet Union is attempting, with considerable effect, to neutralize all of Europe north of Germany.

Finland and Sweden already are neutral. Though Sweden's relatively large and well-trained forces—particularly its air force—would be a factor to reckon with in any conventional war, the Swedes possess no nuclear weapons.

Finland, its standing forces restricted to 41,000 by treaty and bound to Moscow by a mutual assistance pact, is at Soviet mercy.

Norway and Denmark, both NATO members, offer the only western bases in the north.

Both have consistently refused to allow nuclear weapons to be stationed on their soil. And there are growing indications both may reconsider their relationship with NATO when their treaty obligations expire in 1969.

WINNING GOAL

So, some circles believe, Russia is gradually winning through sweet reasonableness a goal she has failed to win through war.

Strategic concepts have changed radically with the advent of nuclear weapons and ballistic missiles. But the Russians continue to devote considerable time and energy to neutralizing the north.

The approach has been different for each of the four Nordic countries.

Finland lost its last two wars with Russia and, since 1944, the Kremlin policy has been to tie the Finns close to the Soviet Union without unduly arousing the suspicions of other Scandinavians.

ADMIRE NEUTRALITY

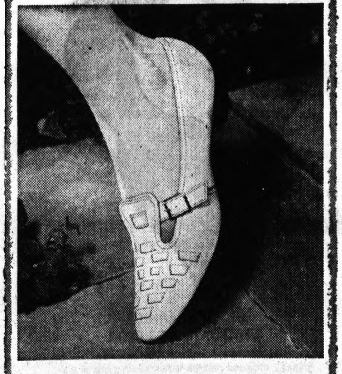

The Soviets have tried to convince a suspicious Stockholm that they genuinely admire Swedish neutrality and have no desire to tamper with the affairs of their neighbors.

Soviet policy toward the Norwegians and Danes for years was based mainly on rocket-rattling induced by frustration.

The reaction was particularly violent when it became apparent that U.S. spy planes were using Bodoe, Norway, as one terminus for flights over the Soviet Union.

But lately the program has been a soft-sell of supposedly peaceful Soviet aims and talks about "reducing tensions."

Palmer Favored in U.S. Open Tourney

Casper, Boros Highly Rated; 150 to Start

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP) — Te 67th United States Open Golf Championship begins Thursday with commuting Arnold Palmer the favorite and — for the first time in a decade — Ben Hogan something more than a sentimental choice.

The possibility of a future players strike was the only disturbing note as the field of 150 of the world's best golfers — 135 pros and 15 amateurs put the finishing touches on their preparations today.

Palmer, golf's all-time leading money winner was a 6-1 choice to tame the plush, 7,022 yard Baltusrol Golf Club course that carries a demanding par 70.

The muscular millionaire was relaxed, cheerful and joking after commuting by private jet to his home in Ligonier, Pa. for the first two days' of practice.

He said that the course "is so good, so fair, that any one of a number of players could win it. Maybe 30. Maybe even 50."

The odds-makers, however, listed defending champion Billy Casper and two-time former champion Julius Boros the second most likely to succeed at 8-1.

DOWN LIST

Grouped at 10-1 were Jack Nicklaus, who is trying to work his way out of a slump; Gary Player, the little South African who won in 1965, and Frank Beard, a young, Louisville, Ky. pro who has won two tournaments this year and is one of the hottest players on the tour.

Hogan, the 54-year-old marvel of another golfing age who has won four U. S. Opens, is listed at 12-1 with Masters Champion Gay Brewer and colorful Doug Sanders.

"I think I can win it. I really think I can," said Hogan, who has played more — and better — this year than he has in many seasons. He has finished third in two tournaments and was among the top 10 at the Masters.

"If he wins here," said Palmer, "he's going to have to do some putting. The greens are big and fast. The tournament will be won by a man who can do some putting and who has patience.

"Sure, I want to win it. That business last year may have given me some incentive, maybe. I want to prove that I can win it."

The reference was to Palmer's collapse in last year's Open at San Francisco when Arnold led by seven strokes with nine holes to play. He blew the lead, fell into a tie and eventually lost a playoff to Casper — one of three Open playoff losses he has suffered in the last five years.

The field will be cut to the low 60 and ties after Friday's second round. The final two rounds are scheduled for national television coverage. ABC-TV will screen the tourney 5-6:30 p.m., EST, Saturday and 5-7 p.m., Sunday.

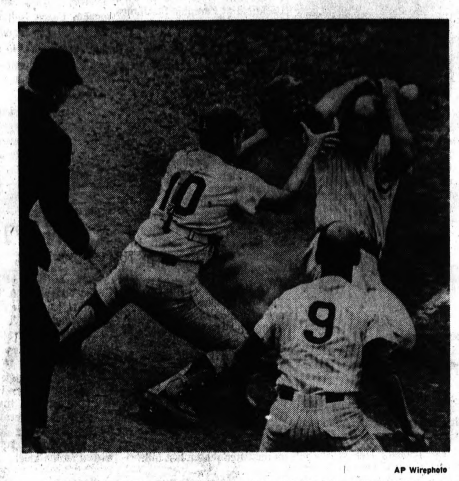

Should a playoff be necessary, it will be over 18 holes Monday.

The distant rumble of a possible player strike sounded again Tuesday, with PGA President Max Elbin standing firm.

"It all boils down to a seven letter word-control," said Elbin.

"On this I'm adamant. We the PGA Executive Committee will not yield control."

The players have threatened to boycott the PGA Championship in Denver in late July if the PGA officers do not meet their demands for greater control of the tour.

White Sox Southpaw Has Tonic for Weary Mates

By United Press International

Tommy John's left arm was like a sedative for the Chicago Whie Sox Tuesday night.

John not only lept the White Sox in first place in the American League, he got them to sleep early.

It took John just two hours and 28 minutes to set down the Washington Senators, 6-0, on a three-hitter as the White Sox maintained their one-game lead over Detroit.

That was quite a contrast to Monday night when the White Sox lost the longest night game in baseball history — struggling for six hours and 38 minutes before dropping a 6-5, 22-inning contest to the Senators that ended at 2:43 a.m. EDT Tuesday.

Since the White Sox had started a doubleheader Sunday at 1 p.m. in New York, the leagu-leaders had played 40 innings in apspan of 38 hours besides making the trip from New York to Washington.

But they were able to relax with John on the mound Tuesday night as he struck out nine and walked just one batter, for his fifth win against three losses.

The only Washington batter to get beyond first base was Ken McMullen, who doubled in the seventh but was stranded there.

Ron Hansen led the White Sox with a three-run homer in the sixth.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit clubbed Minnesota 15-10, New York topped Boston 5-3, Kansas City blanked Baltimore 1-0 and the California Angels swept a doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians by 8-3 and 5-3 margins.

FOUR-HIT VICTORY

Bert Campaneris doubled home Mike Hershberger in the second and Jim Hunter pitched a four-hitter to give Kansas City its victory over Baltimore.

Tom Tresh, hitting .170 going into the game, paced a 12-hit attack against Jim Lonborg by driving in a pair of runs to lead New York to the victory over Boston.

Trailing 2-0 on back-to-back homers by Joe Foy and Tony Conigliaro in the second, the Yanks scored two in the fourth to tie it and added two more in the fifth to clinch it.

A key rally in each game carried the Angels to the sweep of the Indians. The Angels scored five runs in the seventh inning of the opener and three in the fifth of the nightcap.

Winning pitcher George Brunet singled to start the five-run rally that featured a two-run double by Don Mincher and a two-run pinch-hit single by Bubba Morton.

Rick Reinchardt started the three-run rally in the nightcap with a single and then doubled in the final run in the fifth.

Harvard-Yale Posts Triumph

LONDON (AP) — Royce Shaw, 19-year-old Harvard freshman, set a record for his university Tuesday night by running the mile in 4:03.4 and helped a combined Harvard and Yale team to a 11-5 victory over Oxford and Cambridge in a track and field meet at London's White City Stadium.

Shaw clipped three seconds off the Harvard record, four seconds off his own personal best and 5.4 seconds off the record of the series between the universities.

The American, who celebrated his birthday Monday, allowed John Godding of Oxford to set the pace for the first three laps in 3:03.7.

Shaw made his big effort 300 yards from home and unleashed an impressive sprint to win by 30 yards. Yale's Steve Bittner was second.

Former Finnish Star Is Looking Forward to Meeting Ryun

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Paavo Nurmi, the great Finnish middle distance runner of three decades ago, says that "Jim Ryun of Kansas must be a great athlete and I am looking forward to meeting him in Los Angeles" on June 24.

Nurmi, who held at least 12 world records during his running career, spoke on the Finnish radio Tuesday on his 70th birthday. One of the most reticent of men, he joined in the broadcast only when he learned that President Urho Kekkonen of Finland would be the interviewer.

President Kekkonen was president of the Finnish Track and Field Association for 19 years and manager of the Finnish team in the 1932 Olympic Games at Los Angeles. Nurmi was a member of the team but was disqualified for professionalism as the games started.

Ryun, Kansas sophomore, holds the present world record for the mile at 3:51.3. Nurmi lowered the world mark to 4:10.4 on Aug. 23, 1923.

Revolt Continues

Arnie, Boros Sign

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Julius Boros added their names today to the protesting petition and a player tournament committeeman said all name golfers were ready to revolt unless their demands were met by the Professional Golfers Association.

"We now have every known player on the petition except Bill Casper and Doug Sanders," said Doug Ford. "Both of them have told us privately that they are in sympathy with our stand. We are now ready for a showdown."

Ford, a member of the four-man players tournament committee, said Palmer, the game's leading all-time money-winner, and Boros, two-time National Open champion, had affixed their names to the petition.

In a seven-part petition the players are demanding that the PGA Executive Committee be deprived of an arbitrary veto and that the players be given a right to schedule their own tournaments and hire the men who run the show.

If these requests are not granted by June 15, the players' petition said, the touring pros will boycott the PGA National Championship, scheduled at Denver, Colo., July 20-23.

The PGA, which has built and promoted the tour into a $4.5 million enterprise, insists it will not yield.

"We have scheduled a meeting in Cleveland next Tuesday," said Max Elbin, Washington, D. C. president of the PGA and teaching pro of the famed Burning Tree Course where Presidents play.

"The issue is simple," Elbin continued, "What they want is control. We cannot sit still for that."

'Singles-Fest' Won by Tigers

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Al Kaline had just collected three hits, yet he sat glumly in front of his locker and said, "It was one of the worst games I've ever played in."

Detroit Manager Mayo Smith shook his head. "I sat right there and saw it, and I don't believe it."

And new Minnesota Manager Cal Ermer called it a game "like we used to play in Denver."

These were reactions to the Tigers' 15-10 victory over the Twins Tuesday night, a weird kind of "singles-fest" in which the two clubs scored 15 runs between them in the sixth inning without an extra base hit. The Tigers got 10 of the runs, but still had to sweat it out.

The victory left Detroit still trailing Chicago by one game in the American League race as the White Sox defeated Washington 6-0 Tuesday night.

The two teams scored 15 runs on 10 singles, five walks, one hit batsman, three errors, two wild pitches and one passed ball. Between them, they paraded 23 batters to the plate in the inning,

As if that were not enough, the Tigers sent another eight men to bat in the seventh inning — making the total 31 batters to accomplish nine outs. Over that span, 18 runs scored.

SEVERAL TIMES

Kaline collected two hits in the sixth—as did teammate Willie Horton. He said he has done that several times in his career, yet he said he still "can't remember an inning like that."

The Tigers sent 14 men to bat in the top of the sixth, and the first 11 reached base safely. They bombed loser Dean Chance for five runs on four singles and two walks, then continued the barrage against three relievers.

Jim Grant got in long enough to be raked for three straight hits. Key blows were two-run singles by Jim Price and Don Wert.

The Tigers will face the Twins again tonight sending Earl Wilson to the mound, 8-5, against Jim Kaat, 2-7.

Braves' Aaron at Bat Plateau

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hank Aaron joined the select club of players to reach 2,500 hits but neither he nor the Atlanta Braves discovered the fact until some 24 hours after the slugging outfielder reached the coveted plateau.

The 6-foot, 180-pound Aaron collected a home run and single Monday night against the Philadelphia Phillies to join the 2,500-hit select circle, occupied by only 41 other batters.

"I didn't know how many I had," said Aaron when asked why he didn't mention it Monday night.

Aaron accepted the latest honor of his 13-year career in the same stoic manner he reacts to all of his slugging accomplishments — 10 years a better than .300 hitter, five times a 40 or more home run producer.

Someone asked Hank if he was as quick with the bat as he was five years ago. The 32-year-old Aaron said he was a little slower, but a lot smarter. He mentioned a rookie pitcher who fanned him in the first inning of a recent game on a fast ball.

"I knew he'd try it again, and he did. I hit it in the seats and we won."

Big Man Destroys Big Myths

NEW YORK (NEA) — Carlton Kammerer is a big man who enjoys destroying big myths.

For example: "How about that one that baseball is the national pastime?" the Washington Redskins' defensive end says. "All you have to do is look at the football attendance statistics to prove which is which now."

And the one about all football players being violent, blood-letting types who spend the off-season pulling trees out of the ground or bending railroad tracks into horseshoes.

The myth, however, that really disturbs young Mr. Kammerer is totally unrelated to football: that smoking is not going to harm an individual.

"Everyone," Carl said, "feels it (cancer) won't happen to them."

If anyone can destroy myths two and three it is Carl Kammerer, a blond, 6-3, 245-pound graduate of Pacific University. Carl holds a master's degree in education, which led him to his present off-season job with the Howard County, Md., cancer crusade. Carl is vice chairman for special activities.

TALKS TO KIDS

It is his job to speak before youth groups, alerting them to the dangers of cancer. A film about the relationship between smoking and cancer is part of the program.

"We're not evangelistic or anything like that," Carl said. "We just try to present the kids with the facts. This has nothing to do with my being an athlete. The government has already shown that smoking is dangerous.

"We know we're not going to reach the older people. They're already set in their ways. But we do want to get through to the younger ones."

Carl, 29, has played in the National Football League for six seasons, first with San Francisco, then with Washington. He is a defensive end. He became interested in cancer education when he was teaching school during the off-season in California.

"I was appalled to see how cancer education was taught," he said. "They saved it for rainy days when the physical education class couldn't be held outside.

GOOD WAY

"I've always been interested in helping kids and I figured this was as good a way as any."

The fact that he is one of the more popular Redskins' players has helped, too.

"The kids seem to identify with me," he said. "I'm accepted by them. I don't have to talk to them as a stranger.

"This past season I made up my mind to do something unique during the off-season. My wife is a teacher, too, and she thought it was a good idea."

NAMED DIRECTOR — Tom Nesbitt, 25, Pontiac and former Olivet College athlete, has been named director of sports for the Dearborn recreation department. He was head football and baseball coach at Detroit St. Thomas.

Gridiron Career Ends for Hills' Tunnicliff

An Oakland County football career that blossomed in the backfield at Ferndale St. James High School was nurtured at the University of Michigan and then reached full bloom in the coaching ranks at Bloomfield Hills Andover High School is finished.

Bill Tunnicliff has resigned his head coaching position at the school in order to study law and teach social studies. He will continue his teaching at the school while studying at the Detroit College of Law.

Replacing him will be an assistant coach, Bob Kefgen. The 32-year-old line mentor will be taking his first varsity head coaching role. He has a big void to fill.

Tunnicliff, noted for his spirited leadership and hard nosed approach to the game, built Hills' Barons into one of Southeast Michigan's smoothest working grid machines in three seasons.

They won 18 and lost 6 during that span, winning the Wayne-Oakland League title the past two falls. Tunnicliff climaxed his efforts by guiding Hills to an unbeaten season last fall.

CANADIAN

Kefgen is a graduate of Assumption High School and College in Windsor, Ont., plus has a Masters Degree in education from Eastern Michigan University. He spent seven seasons as an assistant at Harper Woods Notre Dame HS before moving to Bloomfield Hills two seasons ago.

He is married. His wife Dolores and he live at 332 Kendry in Bloomfield Hills. They have four children: Kurt, 6; Keith, 5; Shelly, 4; and Scott, 2.

Athletic director Don Hoff also revealed two additions to the coaching staff. Andover faculty members Dennis Furman and Bill Kieger will become assistants on the football field next fall.

Hoff announced the appointment of Russ Beck as Andover's soccer coach, replacing Chet Schultz who has transferred to the new Bloomfield Hills Lahser staff. Assistant basketball coach Bill Waun now is on the Lahser faculty, too.

Jim Wolf will be the new Andover varsity snow skiing mentor. Coach Neil Celley and the Andover ice hockey squad will compete in the newly formed third division on the International High School Hockey League.

Hoff, who has led the Barons to five track titles in the last seven springs, is relinquishing those reins.

The list of unfilled coaching spots at Andover now includes track, junior varsity basketball, swimming and wrestling. The latter two sports are being added this fall to the Andover program.

10 Repeaters on Diamond

Cite All-County Team

Reversing the trend of previous springs, the 1967 All-County Baseball Team is filled by seniors at all positions except one second team pitching berth.

Repeaters mark this year's selections, with 10 of the 22 honored players having been chosen previously on either the first or second squad.

Leading the list, naturally, is Southfield catcher Ted Simmons who is the No. 1 receiver for the third straight season.

Clarkston's Tom Allen is the runner-up at second base for the third straight campaign. Claiming their first team berths again are Kettering hurler Jack McCloud and Royal Oak Kimball outfielder Tom Scott.

Moving up to the primary squad are shortstop Mike Rafferty, Birmingham Groves; third baseman Dick Miceli and outfielder Jerry Harkey of Kettering, and pitcher Dan Fife of Clarkston — all of whom were on the second team last spring.

Returning to the runner-up list in addition to Allen are outfielder Kim Kezlarian, Bloomfield Hills; and pitcher Jim Burton, Rochester. Mike Bowen of Birmingham Brother Rice slipped back to the second team outfield.

Rounding out the initial squad as first-time selections are first sacker Bob Calhoun, Bloomfield Hills, second baseman Kurt Ritter and his cousin, pitcher John Ritter, of Kimball.

PRO PICKS

Seven of the players chosen (including all three first-team hurlers) have had their talents confirmed by being chosen in the major league free agent draft last week.

Simmons was grabbed quickly by the St. Louis Cardinals — choosing the switch-hitting receiver as the 10th player in the first round.

Chicago picked the lanky Rafferty, also in an early round; while Houston tapped the pitching Ritter. Detroit's Tigers have the bargaining rights to hurlers Fife and McCloud.

Second-team picks Burton and Swiss are on the Bengals' list too.

Simmons dominated the county hitting parade. He ripped opposing moundsmen at a .476 clip, pounded seven home runs and drove in 19 runs.

Harkey was the only other .407 average, hitting three homers and scoring 23 times.

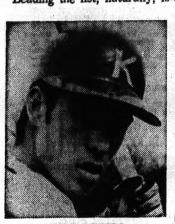

Outfielders Hinds and Scott were plus-.350 hitters and displayed excellent defensive instincts. First baseman Calhoun and shortstop Rafferty also carried similar averages.

Kurt Ritter at second base drove in 21 runs, having four homers in his .333 plate tempo; while Miceli at third was sure-handed, scored 17 times, had 15 rbi's and four circuit clouts on a .313 average.

McCloud (9-1) and Fife (10-3) both averaged two strikeouts per frame while toiling 80 innings and allowing six and five earned runs, respectively. They yielded hits on the average of one per inning.

John Ritter, slowed by arm trouble, worked 48 innings, posting a 7-0 mark and relinquishing only three earned runs.

The pitching logs of Burton, Burkert and Chiesa on the second team were similarly impressive. Burkert led all the hurlers with an 11-0 mark.

Lawn Tennis Group Softens Open Stand

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States Lawn Tennis Association, long a foe of open tennis tournaments, has softened its stand—but are the professionals interested?

That is the big question as the USLTA directed its two voting delegates at the International Lawn Tennis Federation meeting in Luxembourg July 12 that they were free to vote as they wished on the touchy subject.

But sources close to the touring pro tennis players said they probably would not be interested in competing against amateurs unless the prizes were worthwhile.

Pros and amateurs regularly compete in open golf tournaments, such as the United States Open, which starts Thursday at Baltusrol in New Jersey, or the Masters in Augusta, Ga.

The USLTA held a special meeting here and voted by a substantial majority that Robert J. Kelleher, Beverly Hills, Calif., the president, and Lawrence Baker, New York, were to go "uninstructed" to Luxembourg.

ONLY WHEN

"I have always been characterized as being for open tennis," said Kelleher. "I have always felt it would come some day. It was not a question of whether but of when."

England has already asked the ILTF for permission to stage one open tournament as an experiment and Australia has asked the ILTF to grant each member nation permission to stage one tournament.

Many tennis experts believe open tennis tournaments at famous arenas such as Forest Hills and Wimbledon would give the sport a tremendous shot in the arm, boosting attendance and world wide interest.

As in golf, prizes would go only to the professionals with the amateurs receiving trophies in event of victory.

Favor Frazier Over Chuvalo

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Joe Frazier was made an early line 8-5 favorite over George Chuvalo today for their significant 12-round heavyweight fight at Madison Square Garden July 19.

The matchup of the heavyweight contenders figures to be a war as long as it lasts. It pits a young puncher in the 23-year-old Frazier against an iron-jawed, body banger in the 29-year-old Canadian champion from Toronto.

Frazier, the 1964 Olympic champion from Philadelphia, has a 16-0 record as a pro, including 14 knockouts. Chuvalo, never stopped or floored, has a 46-13-2 record, including 39 knockouts.

Baseball's Rarest Play Rates 50,000 to 1 Odds

NEW YORK (NEA) — The rarest play in baseball is the unassisted triple play and, if you don't believe it, the odds are 50,000-1 that you'll see one.

It was not Jimmy-the-Greek who came up with the odds. It was former United Press sportswriter Carl Lundquist, one of the all-time great "figure-filberts" of baseball.

The last unassisted triple play came on May 31, 1927, in a game between the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians in Detroit. Johnny Neun, the Tiger first baseman was the hero in that one.

Neun's unassisted triple-play came a day after shortstop Jimmy Cooney of the Chicago Cubs executed one against the Pittsburg Pirates in Pittsburgh.

So on May 30-31, 1927, there were back-to-back unassisted triple plays. There have been none since. Lundquist estimates that 50,000 games have been played since May 31, 1927.

MADE PLAY

Cooney's tripple play came in the morning game of a Memorial Day doubleheader.

Wright lined to Cooney who touched second, doubling Waner. Cooney then tagged Grantham who was on his way to second base. The triple play enable the Cubs to win, 7-6, and the victory broke an 11-game Pirate winning streak.

Neun's play came in the ninth inning against the Indians, who were threatening to break open a runless game.

Glenn Myatt had walked for the Indians and went to second when Charlie Jamieson bunted for a hit. Homer Summa then lined to Neun "who," the New Times reports, "took the ball standing still, ran over and tagged Jamieson between first and second and continued to second base, landing there before Myatt could return." Detroit went on to win, 1-0.

Just as a reminder how long it has been since there has been an unassisted triple play, the Times front page that day read:

"King of England Decorates Lindbergh"

Takes 6-5 Decision

Retains 1st Place in City Softball

Town & Country Lounge rebounded from its first loss to post a big 6-5 conquest of Ron's Roost last night and retain first place in the city's American League Softball race.

Bob Overcashier snapped a 5-5 tie with a game-ending two-bagger that scored Chuck Nichols in the last of the seventh.

In another AL outing, Local No. 594 extended Orchard Lanes' losing skid with a 5-4, 10-inning decision on a two-out, bases-loaded walk to Paul Orsick.

In National League play, J.A. Fredman stayed right on the heels of Timberlanes-II in the first-place duel with an 11-1 rout of L&S Standard Service.

Timberlanes-I whipped Huron Bowl, 14-9, to climb into third place.

Nichols doubled, walked three times and scored three runs as T&C upped its record to 7-1. Bill Buck had a perfect night for Ron's with a single, double and two walks.

Jim Fisk ripped two doubles for two rbi's, and scattered seven hits by Orchard Lanes as Local 594 evened its record. The loss was the bowlers' third straight.

Ivan Martinez homered and singled to pace Fredman's attack, while John Stoddard connected for L&S. Don Krelack had two singles and a triple, and Gene Coons singled three times as Timberlanes outlasted Huron Bowl, who had five batters collect doubles.

Braves' Hurler, Mays Sparkle in 6-2 Victory

By the Associated Press

Willie Mays, usually a starter, surprised no one by turning out to be quite a relief hitter, but relief pitcher Phil Miekro stunned everyone by proving himself no slouch as a starter.

"I'm still pinching myself," said Niekro, whose knuckleball fluttered Atlanta by Philadelphia 1-0 Tuesday night in his first start after 24 relief appearances.

Mays, who entered the game in the sixth inning, took his success as a substitute more nonchalantly, as usual, after hitting a grand slam in the 10th inning to boost San Francisco over Houston 6-2.

"Grand slams don't make any difference to me," he said. "Winning ball games does."

Elsewhere, the Cincinnati Reds, and New York Mets were still pinching themselves over rookies Gary Nolan and Tom Seaver.

REDS HALTED

Nolan blanked the Mets 6-0 on six hits before Seaver halted the Reds 7-3 in a twi-night doubleheader.

Another rookie, Dick Hughes, held off Pittsburgh as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pirates 7-4, and Ron Santo's home run shoved the Chicago Cubs by Los Angeles 3-2.

Bradley, Luisetti Join Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Bradley, former Princeton star, and Hank Luisetti, one-time Stanford great, were named Wednesday to Madison Square Garden's Basketball Hall of Fame.

Tom Gola of LaSalle, Bob Kurland of Oklahoma A&M and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State also were named to the Hall of Fame's college section. A player had to appear in the Garden in order to be considered.

Five professionals earlier were named. They were Wilt Chamberlain, Bill Russell, Bob Cousy, Elgin Baylor and Oscar Robertson.

The 10 will be enshrined when the new Garden is completed next fall.

Clyde's 9 Trims Clarkston, 6-1, in Softball Action

Clyde's Frame and Wheel upped its record to 7-4, by defeating Clarkston Appliance 6-1. in Waterford softball last night.

Bob Frasier pitched a three-hitter for the winners and was backed by teammates Ken Young and Ray Jergovich who had two hits a piece. Clarkston Appliance is now 4-6.

In the second game, Day's Sanitary (10-1) rolled past the Waterford Merchants (0-10) by a score of 14-4. Day's had 13 hits but also scored six unearned runs in the second inning to aid its victory.

Dick Cooper, Jim Attard, Tom Studt each had two hits for Day's.

Directs Young K. C. Staff

Pitching Coach Feels Like Scoutmaster

KANSAS CITY (NEA) — At various times during the season, Ellis (Cotton) Deal feels more like a scoutmaster than a pitching coach for the Kansas City A's.

Cot has in his charge a group of young pitchers who could develop into one of the greatest staffs in the history of baseball.

"But," says Deal, "it will be up to them. There are no miracle workers in baseball, no geniuses. They have the potential, they must apply it. All I can do is counsel them, teach them and help them over the rough spots.

"The Kansas City pitching staff has a potential that has not been attained yet. A pitcher does not reach maturity until he is 25 or 26."

A warning maybe . . . but not a prediction. Cot does not make predictions. He is a quiet gentleman, very factual, very precise, not kiven to exaggeration.

BIG CLASS

His class includes Jim Nash, 22, who was 12-1 as a rookie last year; "Catfish" Hunter, 21, who already is in his third major league season; Blue Moon Odom, 21, 5-5 in half of a big-league season; and Chuck Dobson, 23, who has recovered from a sore arm.

Those are the kids. The older guys are Lew Krausse, 24; Paul Lindblad, 25; and Jack Aker, 26, the American League's leading relief pitcher in 1966.

"They all have the physical equipment to be winning major league pitchers," Deal said. "But there is no guarantee that any will be a Whitey Ford. To be a Ford or a Sandy Koufax they'll have to develop a mechanical precision. The stuff on the ball isn't that important. It's the application."

This season, Deal said, Lindblad has been the A's best pitcher. "Last year," he added, "Nash was 12-1. A great year, but he had a lot of good fortune. This season, he hasn't been getting as many breaks.

"Krausse is the same. He's losing awfully tough games. This doesn't mean he's going downhill or anything like that.

'ONE OF BEST'

"Hunter, I believe, is one of the outstanding pitchers in the league."

Deal has a precocious group which has been weaned at the major league level. Whether or not Mickey Mantle is the proper teething ring for a youngster is another question.

"The times dictate this," Deal said. "Baseball's present structure has brought it about because the minor league systems aren't as big now as they were before.

"This force-feeding can be good and it can be bad. I think it's hard on a young pitcher to be in the majors and take beating after beating because he does not have the proper experience.

"But every time an athlete — or anybody overcomes something, the person is better for it. He becomes stronger after he survives it."

It is that way with the A's pitchers. Hunter and Krausse started their careers in the majors. Odom had a half year in the minors, Dobson one, Lindblad two and Nash three.

When they came up, their theme song was "We Shall Overcome."

Now they have.

Russian Posts Tennis Upset

U. S.'s Miss Casals Grass Court Loser

The 18-year-old San Francisco girl went out 6-0, 4-6, 2-6 in the second round of the women's singles on Tuesday.

Most of the competitors here are getting the feel of grass after months of hard courts play. They have two weeks to get tuned up for the Wimbledon Tournament.

In those circumstances the Kent usually produces upset results. But Miss Casals had earlier defeated Mimi Henreid, of Los Angeles 6-2, 8-6 in the first round and looked in good form.

She started off well enough against the Russian and didn't drop a game in winning the first set. But Miss Dmitriova, firing from the baseline, tightened up her game and her accuracy forced the American girl into errors.

The reigning Wimbledon queen — Mrs. Billie Jean King, of Long Beach, Calif. — went into the third round with a 8-6-3 victory over Mrs. Joyce Williams of Scotland, but she had to fight hard to get there.

High-Flying Nines in NCAA Showdown

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Arizona State's talented 50-game winners will challenge No. 1-rated Stanford tonight in a showdown of unbeaten teams in the 21st College Baseball World Series. It's far more than Arizona State Coach Bobby Winkles expected before this season.

"Back in March, I didn't think we'd get this far, but I thought Stanford might," said Winkles, who lost five players from his 1966 club to $165,000 in pro bonuses.

The winner of this big one at 8:30 p.m., CDT, will have the inside track to the NCAA crown and ASU's No. 3 pitcher looks a little better than Stanford's third man.

Winkles will use left-hander Jeff Pentland, who owns a good curve ball, a 14-5 record and a 1.88 earned run mark. Stanford will start Don Rose a sophomore right-hander 5-1 and 2.57.

In the other third-round games, Houston will start Carroll Moore, 3-1, against Boston College's Bill O'Brien, 7-4, at 2 and Auburn will send George Simmons, 1-0, against Rider's Larry Mischik 7-2 and 1.47, at 6. The losers will be eliminated.

Rose will be the third consecutive outstanding sophomore starter for Dutch Fehring's 35-4 Stanford team in the tourney. But the key man so far is an almost forgotten senior, Daro Quiring, who stopped an Auburn rally in the sixth and saved Sandy Vance's 11th victory, 6-3. Mark Marquess belted a triple and two singles for Stanford.

MOVED UP

Arizona State moved up with a three-hour 8-1 romp over Boston College as Tom Burgess pitched a four hitter and batted in three.

Burgess has relied on his effective slider in compiling a 15-3 record. He labored through eight walks and 13 strikeouts in this one and Winkles is worried this may hurt him later here.

Rider and Houston are alive largely because of two hot hitters, one ignored in the pro draft, the other a prime target for scouts here.

Houston's big Tom Paciorek has a homer, triple, double and single in two games. But the Houston singles hitters fueled a three-run ninth which eliminated Ohio State's defending champs 7-6. Ken Hebert tied it, beating out a grounder with the bases loaded, then G. J. Cantu's single won it.

Rider's Ron Mohr, 5-for-8 in two games, beat Oklahoma State 3-1 with a triple and double and threw a runner out at home. John Merten held the Big Eight champs to just four singles, making his record 9-1.

"I think Ron is trying harder because nobody drafted him," said Rider Coach Tom Poetroff.

Michigan State Holds Testimonial for Coach

EAST LANSING (AP)— More than four decades of Michigan State sports history was given sentimental review Tuesday night at a testimonial for John H. Kobs, Spartan baseball coach for 39 years.

Kobs, 68, is retiring July 1 after 43 years with MSU which also included stints as head baseball and hockey coach and an assistant football coach.

Kobs admitted he could hardly believe the growth he had seen at Michigan State. He recalled how he came to the small campus by rickety streetcar when it really was a "cow college."

"We had indoor workouts in the cow barns then," he related, "and you had to step kind of careful and be sure you were sliding into the real third base."

Kobs told of the dedication of the then new football stadium in 1924 with borrowed bleachers swelling a normal capacity of 14,000 to an unprecedented 20,000 spectators.

"Michigan agreed to honor us by coming. We were playing for a tie—like Notre Dame—but then a pass beat us 7-0."

Kobs was reluctant to name the best baseball player he ever coached.

"Pitcher Robin Roberts was the most successful," he declared. "I was the one who switched him from first base to a pitcher. But we produced other fine major leaguers like Dick Radatz, Ron Perranoski and Al Lublow."

Athletic director Biggie Munn recited Kobs' won-loss record of 557-364—better than 60 per cent. Munn praised him as "A man who dedicated his life to youth."

Friends recalled that Kobs never noted as an umpire baiter, was thrown out of only one game in his 39 years of coaching.

"But he told me he was wrong only once in his life—that's when he thought he was wrong and he wasn't," interjected football coach Duffy Daugherty, toastmaster.

Class A Nine Suffers Upset

The Lake Orion Cardinals pulled the surprise of the young city Class A Baseball season Tuesday night by knocking M. G. Collision out of first place in the opener of a Jaycee Park twin bill.

M. G. had gained a share of the top spot by unseating defending city champion Teamsters 614 Sunday night, but the repairmen blew a 6-1 lead and suffered a 7-6 loss to Lake Orion last night.

Cranbrook edged Oakland University, 3-1 in the nightcap. Bob Taggert bested Doug Hart in a battle of three-hitters and unearned runs.

The win kept Cranbrook in sixth place at 3-2, while Oakland (2-5) fell to ninth place and saw its two-game win skein ended.

M.G. (3-1) built its five-run lead as Ron Kind, Earl Robinson and Bob Tuck delivered rbi-singles, and Chuck Kirken cracked a two-run homer.

But two walks and a hit batter loaded the bases for the Cardinals in the last of the sixth inning. But a dropped fly ball, winning pitcher John Warner's two-run safety and a rbi-single by Erik Eriksen cut the lead to 6-5.

Two infield erros then allowed the tying and winning runs to score. Warner gained his first victory with an 11-strikeout effort. Lake Orion moved into sixth place at 3-4.

Tonight's double-header at Jaycee Park has Cranbrook meeting U.A.W. No. 653 at 6 o'clock, and M. G. dueling C.I.O. No. 594 at 8:30

Welterweight World Title Bout Reset for July

DALLAS (AP) — Promoters of the postponed world welterweight championship bout said today they were "going to put this fight on if we lose another $43,000."

The fight between champion Curtis Cokes of Dallas and undefeated Gypsy Joe Harris of Philadelphia was scheduled for June 27 at Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

Kenneth Hayles and Tommy Bullock said Tuesday the fight was postponed to July 24 after RKO canceled plans to televise it.

Last month the two Dallas promoters lost an estimated $40,000 in staging the Cokes-Francois Pavilla championship bout here.

TARTAR LEADER — Roy Chapman of Madison Heights has been named a co-captain of Wayne State's swimming team for the 1967-68 season. He will be a senior.

Double Honors in Golf League

Bobbie Cruickshank posted the low gross of 47 in the Tuesday Silver Lake ladies golf league.

She also tied for low net honors of 35 in the championship flight with Bea Spaven. Low net flight winners were Gloria Hoyt, 40 in the first; Bea Mobey, 40 in the second; and Marilyn Carlisle, 45 in the third. Louise Wright's 13 putts were the fewest taken for nine holes.

WTHS Celebrates Winning Season

Waterford Township High School's Spring Sports Awards Night was a winning affair Monday.

The Skippers celebrated Inter-Lakes League championships in baseball, golf and tennis plus recognized the track team for its Waterford Relays triumph. WTHS also regained possession of the All-Sports Trophy sponsored by The Press for the Skippers' annual competition with Kettering.

Cassius Dedicates New Poem

DETROIT (UPI)—Undefeated heavyweight Cassius Clay, dethroned as world champion by a World Boxing Association decision, had a few words Tuesday about his upcoming exhibition fight.

Clay, who prefers his Muslim name Muhammad Ali, is scheduled to fight six rounds Thursday night, three each against two relative unknowns. One is Alvin "Blue" Lewis, a 216-pound Detroit heavyweight with a 10-0 record, all against minor opponents.

The other is Orville Qualls of Chicago, who has six wins, one loss and a draw.

Clay, created a poem Tuesday about his bout with Lewis: It went like this:

"Ali comes out to meet Blue,
But Blue starts to retreat;
If Blue goes back any farther,
He'll wind up in the ringside seats.

Ali swings with a left,
Ali swings with a right;
Look at Ali carry the fight.
Blue keeps backing, but there's not enough room;

It's a matter of time, there,
Ali lowers the boom.

Ali lands with a terrific right, what a beautiful swing;

Blue is still rising and the referee wears a frown,

But our radar stations have picked him up, he's over the Atlantic.

Who'd have thought when they came to the fight,

That they would have witnessed the launching of a colored satellite.

Shiawassee Goose Hunting Area Will Open in Fall

Rule Proposal to Be Studied by Commission

Preliminary Reports on Deer Due; Final Action in July

A new goose hunting area will be opened to state hunters this fall.

Oakland County hunters will be among those who will benefit if the Conservation Commission approves proposed regulations during its monthly meeting Thursday and Friday in Lansing.

A resident goose population has been increasing in size over the last three years at the Shiawassee River state game area near St. Charles in Saginaw County. Better known as the Federal Shiawassee Flats Refuge this area has been in a state of continuous development Conservation Department.

The area is being managed primarily for waterfowl. Thousands of geese have moved off Saginaw Bay over to the game area and flats the last two falls — just before the season opened.

Being much closer to Oakland County than the Fennville unit and High Banks in Allegan County, the Shiawassee area should eventually become a favored location of area goose hunters.

The goose hunting has declined considerably in the Allegan area the last two years, mainly because most of the geese are now using the big Horicon Marsh in Wisconsin.

REGULATIONS

The proposed regulations for Shiawassee would provide for a managed hunting unit in the area, patterned after the Todd Farm near Fennville and the High Banks.

Daily permits would be issued for that part of the game area to hunters ample room. In short, hunting will be permitted around the refuge. Shotgun gauge limitations, size of shot and number of shells per hunter may be regulated.

Another important item on the commission's agenda is the preliminary deer hunting report by department game specialists and the citizens advisory groups.

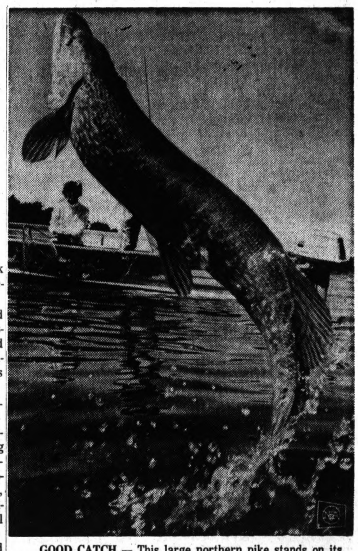

These recommendations by both groups will be subject to refinement before the commission makes its final decision on the 1967 regulations in July.

It is not known whether the reports of the department specialists and the eight citizens groups compare closely or there is a wide difference.

WHAT'S FOR LUNCH — This scene is being repeated often in Michigan these days. Mrs. Robin prepares to serve lunch. Which of the four will be the lucky one? When the young are newly hatched, the feeding chore goes on almost continuously during daylight and none are overlooked.

AP Wirephoto

GOOD CATCH — This large northern pike stands on its tail in a bid to shake the hook. It was caught in the 1,000 Islands are of the St. Lawrence River between New York State and Ontario.

Hot Weather Slows Fishing

Hot and humid weather has slowed fishing on area lakes.

Pressure was heavy on certain waters early last Saturday and Sunday, but quickly diminished as the sun and mercury moved higher.

Good catches of bluegills continue to be made in shallow water on poppers and spiders early and late in the day. Bass action remains good during the same time periods, but the pike have slowed.

Trout fishing in the county is of an undetermined quality because of extremely light pressure.

No additional entries have been received during the past week in The Press Big Fish Derby. The leaders are a 7-pound, 2-ounce large-mouth and an 8-pound walleye (pike division).

All residents of Oakland County are eligible. The fish must be caught in county waters and brought to The Press sports department between 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday for weighing.

Weight is the only determining factor and $50 savings bonds will be awarded for the top black bass entered (either large or smallmouth) and for the pike division (walleyes, nothern pike or muskies).

One of the better bluegill lakes in the area has been Davison, on the Oakland-Lapeer county line east of Hadley. Another hot spot is Elizabeth Lake.

LIMIT CATCHES

Van Norman and Green lakes near Waterford Hill have been producing limit catches of bluegills, but only a few anglers are taking advantage of these waters.

Woodhull, Square and Sugden are good for perch. Wigglers are the best bait, but minnows have been productive, too.

Silver (off Walton) has been producing good catches of bluegills and is fair for bass. Pontiac and Orchard are top bass spots. Orchard is particularly good for small mouths off Apple Island from dawn to 6 a.m. (EST).

Several muskies in the 15 to 20-pound range were taken at Lake St. Clair during the weekend. Bass season opens on Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River Saturday.

Walleyes are slow and small on the St. Clair River.

Dick Pryor is the new conservation in southwestern Oakland County. He is transferring from Cadillac and replaces Dick Peterson who has moved to Arenac County.

Work on the much modified Conservation Department district headquarters at Gale and Williams Lake roads in the Pontiac Lake recreation area is progressing.

The basement and air conditioning have been eliminated.

Department architects and engineers in Lansing took so long to prepare plans for the building after the Legislature appropriated the necessary funds, that the construction costs increased well above the initial department estimates.

When the lawmakers refused to come up with more money, the basement and air conditioning were taken out of the plans.

Oncorhynchus Tschawtscha

Legal Size: One Foot

LANSING (AP) — If you catch a Oncorhynchus Tshawtscha out of the Great Lakes, make sure it's a foot long.

The long, long name is the scientific designation of the newest exotic fish to be introduced in Michigan—the Chinook salmon.

The State Conservation Department already is thinking of setting up fishing regulations on the salmon—although they will not be of catchable size until 1969.

As is the case with Coho salmon, there will be sport fishing only for the Chinooks.

This might be changed in the distant future if the salmon multiply enough to make commercial fishing practical.

The Fish Division has already had a scare from commercial fishermen, however— Indiana fishermen were hauling Cohos in by the ton until the neighboring state made the neighborly gesture of stopping them.

Some 850,000 young Chinook were planted last month for the first time in Michigan. Initial plantings were in the Muskegon River, Newaygo County; the Little Manistee River, Manistee County, and the Big Horn River, Baraga County.

Looking early to the future, the Conservation Commission will take up Chinook salmon fishing regulations this week.

The 12-inch size would apply in the Great Lakes. When the fish become legal in streams, size limits would be the same as those for trout and Coho salmon.

The recommended daily possession limit in lakes, including the Great Lakes, would be five fish, not exceeding 10 pounds plus on fish.

In rivers and streams, the existing trout and Coho limit of 10 fish or 10 pounds plus one fish would be extended to cover Chinook.

The proposed Chinook inland season is from Aug. 1 through Sept. 10 on all waters not otherwise closed to fishing. There would be an additional season of from Sept. 11 through Nov. 30 in waters especially designated as open to extended fall fishing for Coho Salmon, Rainbow and Brown trout.

Hook and line fishing only would be allowed for the Chinooks.

More Liberal Great Lakes Motor Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department has announced some minor liberalization of migratory bird hunting regulations.

The changes, recommended by the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, mainly concern waterfowl in the Great Lakes region, and mourning doves.

And the Great Lakes region, under the new regulations, is excluded from the rule requiring that a motor can be attached to a boat while hunting only when the craft is anchored, beached or tied to hunting blind.

The new regulation permits such motors — since the Great Lakes and its waterways required large boats and powerful, heavy motors — provided the motor has been shut off when occupants are shooting.

In its announcement the department said mourning doves now are excluded from the requirement that one fully feathered wing be left on all migratory game birds while being transported from a hunting area, unless it's taken out of the country.

Deer-Auto Mishaps Show May Increase

May was a poor month for deer crossing Oakland County roads and highways.

District game biologist Howard Greene reports that 16 deer — three of them bucks — were killed by autos last month. This brings the 1967 total to 27 known deer fatalities in the county. Five were bucks.

Greene said that several other deer may have been killed or fatally injured by cars and either not reported or not recovered.

The Lakeville and Holly areas are where most of the deer-car mishaps take place with I-696 another danger spot.

State Park Gets Grant

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Department of the Interior has awarded a $77,902 grant to Michigan for the expansion of Silver Lake State Park near Hart.

Thompson Set Sylvan Pace

Power Boats Moving to Loon

Many of the approximately 80 power boat drivers who raced at Sylvan Lake last weekend are expected to take to the Loon Lake course Sunday for that annual regatta.

Southfield's Chuck Thompson Jr., well known in Michigan power boat racing, captured two first places last Sunday in the 51st annual Oakland County Boat Club competition.

He took the top berth in the 225-cubic inch race with his Cobalt, then gained first place in the 280-cubic inch Chuck Wagon.

Thompson, son of the famed late Gold Cup driver, also is a regular entrant in the Loon Lake inboard hydroplane regatta.

Another familiar face is Trenton's Ed Morgan, who was second to Thompson in the 225 class at Sylvan.

Winning the big seven litre event was Gene Burgin of Fort Mitchell, Ky. He drove His Lordship.

Running in the same five-mile heat but winning different classes were Thompson in Cobalt and Ohioan Mike Wiener in Bally Hoo (266 cubic inch class).

Other winners at Sylvan were Richard Boyer, Germantown, Ohio, in Sheet Music (who won on elapsed time over Ypsilanti's Harrison Quirk's Honk in the 48 class); Dean Chenowith from Xenia, Ohio, in Chuck's Joy; and Detroiter Ray Weber in Mom's Worry (150 class).

This Sunday's racing at Loon will begin at noon and is sponsored by the Marine Prop Riders Association.

Federal Grant for Michigan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal aid totaling $20.6 million to states for fish and wildlife restoration will be available July 1, Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall announced today.

With an increase of $2.3 million over last year, $16.5 million is for wildlife work and $4.1 million is for sport fishery projects.

Michigan will receive $141,386 for sport fishery projects and $647,498 for wildlife work.

The funds will enable states with small reserve funds to finance their restoration program from July 1 until the final appointment in the fall, Udall said. The restoration funds come from federal excise taxes on hunting and fishing equipment.

Under federal aid to wildlife programs, states are reimbursed for up to 75 per cent of the cost of approved projects.

Johnson Unchanged on Mideast Nations' Land, Political Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says his pledge to back territorial and political integrity of all Middle East nations—issued before Israel's rout of its Arab foes—remains unchanged.

But he told a White House news conference Tuesday that how this policy will be effectuated "will depend a good deal upon the nations themselves, what they have to say and what their views are, what their proposals are."

Some observers saw in Johnson's remarks a hint that the United States would not oppose any changes in boundaries worked out between Israel and her Arab neighbors, Egypt, Syria and Jordan—some of whose territory Israel occupies.

With most of the news conference dwelling on the Middle East, Johnson also challenged suggestions his government failed to realize the seriousness of the Israeli-Arab crisis before war broke out.

He was asked specifically about a Baltimore Sun story which he was told quoted a U.S. Embassy official in Cairo as saying the administration was not as sensitive to the crisis as it should have been.

"I do not believe anyone very high in the administration would feel that way about it," said Johnson, adding the Middle East "has occupied a good deal of our thoughts, our attention, and the time of some of our ablest leaders in our government ever since I came into the executive branch in 1961.

"It still does."

The President reiterated the United States played no part in the Arab-Israeli war. Egypt, Jordan and Syria have charged U.S. airplanes participated in Israeli attacks on Arab targets.

Responding to other questions, Johnson:

—Said "the best thing for us to do is let things clear up" before pressing for resumption of diplomatic relations severed by numerous Arab nations during the Middle East crisis.

—Acknowledged a U.S. review of aid to the Middle East was in the works.

—Played down the Importance of U.S.-Soviet use of the Washington-Moscow "hot line" during the crisis except to say it did save time.

—Said he looks forward to meeting here with West German Chancellor Kurt-Georg Kiesinger July 7-8.

—Expressed confidence Congress will come up with an acceptable compromise to the administration's bill to hike the national debt ceiling, rejected last week by the House.

Arabs Divided on Sanctions Against West

LONDON (UPI) — Arab governments were reported today split on applying all-out sanctions against the United States and Britain for fear they will boomerang.

Diplomatic reports said economic considerations of the "haves" among the Arabs appear to conflict with the call for revenge at all cost from the "have-nots," led by Gamal Abdel Nasser's Egypt.

Differences are reflected in the projected delay of the Arab summit conference amid indications that some Arab leaders are dragging their feet to gain time for a more reliable assessment of the aftermath of the Israeli-Arab war.

The Arabs' dilemma is to show a united front of resistence against Israel and at the same time safeguard vital economic interests.

Current authoritative Western moves to provide for alternative oil sources to Midest oil may be playing an important part in these considerations, the reports said.

BOYCOTT OFFICE

Strongest and most vociferous pressure for sanctions has come so far from the Arab league central boycott office in Damascus and more especially from its fiery chief, Mohammed Magoub.

Informed reports reaching here said oil-supplying Arab governments, if forced into a policy of sanctions, would leave the door open for shipping oil to the West by roundabout ways, such as in tankers flying flags other than British and American.

40 City Boys to Visit Expo

A group of 40 Pontiac Boys' Club menbers will leave Friday for Expo 67. They will travel in the club's bus.

Costs are being split by the boys and money donated to the club.

The boys have sold hot dogs, cut grass and organized fund-raising events for money to go," said Cressy Larson, club director.

The boys are going as guests of the Boys' Club of Canada. They will be staying at a Boy Scout camp near the exposition grounds.

This is an award trip for boys in the club who have earned a special trip because of their activities during the year, according to Larson.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED

Reno Davis, an ex-pugilist and would-be writer, was hired as a bouncer in a discotheque in Paris. The first night there he aided a dark-haired woman, a stranger to him, who wanted to make a phone call, and things began happening.

Within the week a man, Max Marchat, pressed Davis' employer and his landlady with inquiries about Davis. Afterward, when Davis learned of Marchat's approaches to his friend, Louis le Buc, they went to Marchat's business address and they discovered Marchat had been dead for a month.

CHAPTER 3

ROME had been my nesting ground when I first met Louis le Buc, but the meeting took place in the prizefight arena at Milan. After a bout I had there, Louis had hunted me out in the dressing room to shake my hand and remark what a pleasure it was to meet a fighter who could obviously fell a horse with one blow.

"I didn't know they made heavyweights like you any more," he said. "Today, it's all dancing around and shadow-boxing. It's enough to make a man cry, watching those cream-puffs. Come on, let's have a drink, and I'll make you an offer you can't afford to turn down."

He was a bright-eyed, big-beaked little gamecock of a man in threadbare clothes and an oversized beret, a would-be cynic whose acid manner could not conceal an immense good nature.

His offer was to take him on as manager and return to Paris with him.

For a while things went well in Paris, although Louis' innocence of our business proved a constant problem.

But, all in all, we did pretty well for a while, making fair money, spending it only a little faster than we made it. In the end, it was Louis who forced me to throw the towel in on my career.

"You've had it, kid," he said. "Maybe you can take more of this, but I can't. Now is the time to quit and start writing those books you always wanted to write, while you're still in one piece and I'm not a complete emotional wreck. And if you don't make a big success out of writing books, we'll still get along somehow."

When Louis' latest, a redhead who worked as typist in the Ministry of Commerce and who was an avid reader of mysteries, heard about the Marchat affair, she told me eagerly that it would be no trouble at all for her to get me a dossier on the late Max Marchat. I accepted Veronique's offer with thanks.

Veronique brought the dossier with her, and she and Louis and I went through it carefully, line by line. It offered not the slightest clue as to why anyone would want to adopt Max Marchat's identity and undertake an investigation of me.

The record was straightforward and respectable. Marchat had attended a good school, practiced law in Paris, headed an investigating commission in Algeria during the troubles of 1960 for which service he had been decorated by the government, and then had re-entered the practice of law in Paris, where he had died at the age of sixty as the result of a fall down the stairway of his offices.

"This business of dying from a fall down a stairway," hopefully said Veronique, the mystery addict. "Couldn't that mean something?"

"Did he fall or was he pushed?" Louis said. "No, my darling, for someone to kill Marchat so he could then pretend to be Marchat for the benefit of a man who never even knew Marchat — that would be the absolute height of lunacy."

"Yes, it would," Veronique promptly agreed. "Maybe that's the answer. Some crackpot wants to torment Reno."

We were still on the subject when my girl, Elaine Tissou, finally arrived, full of apologies for being late. She had had to work overtime at her office again, but that was life in the Compagnie des Gants during the season.

Madame's voice resounded from below. "The telephone, Monsieur Reno! Monsieur, the telephone, if you please!"

"Don't answer it," Louis advised. "I've got a feeling it's Castabert telling you there's trouble at the club and you are now about to lose your night off."

"I know," I said. "I've got the same feeling."

But since I urgently needed my job, such as it was, I resentfully trotted downstairs to the phone in the hallway of the ground floor. When I picked up the phone it was the deep, well-modulated voice of a total stranger.

"Monsieur Davis," he said, "we've never met, but my name is de Gonde—Claude de Gonde —and I'm calling about a matter of great importance to you. That is, if you regard the offer of an excellent and well-paid position as important?"

"One moment," I said sharply. "Are you by any chance familiar with the name Max Marchat?"

"Yes. I'll explain that when we meet."

"Why not explain right now?"

"Because I'm only an agent in this matter, a third party. I'd prefer we all meet together before making any explanations. But really, none of this is as baffling as you make it sound. It concerns a job that will pay you a great deal more than the Club Barouf for much pleasanter work. Honest work, too."

"I'll take your word for it. What are you asking me to do?"

De Gonde hesitated. "Well, I didn't intend to go into details just yet, but apparently I must. My client wants you to undertake the instruction of her child in some not-too-difficult school subjects. He's a little boy of nine, and, I may say, a very nice one. Does that allay your suspicions?"

"Monsieur de Gonde, tutoring isn't my line of work. You must have some other Davis in mind. Probably someone attached to the University."

"I have not. As for your qualifications, I've investigated them thoroughly and find them satisfactory."

"Just how much does this job pay?"

"Three thousand francs a month." Then he asked with bright malice, "Do you think that would be satisfactory?"

"Three thousand a month?" I said, just to make sure.

"Yes."

"All right, I'll take it."

"I thought you would. But are you sure you don't want to meet my client and her child before making your decision? As I've said, the boy is really a charming little fellow, if a little difficult at times. His mother can be very difficult."

"Aren't all mothers?"

"What? Oh, yes, but this one —well, it's not necessary to go into that now. I'll just take for granted you'll be able to solve any problems as they arise."

"Fair enough."

"Then all that remains is to settle your affairs with the Club Barouf. I'll attend to it promptly. Tomorrow morning I'll send my car for you at nine so that you can enter on your new duties at once. Is that satisfactory?"

"Yes."

"Tomorrow, then."

I went upstairs, two stairs at a time, and somewhat incoherently broke the great news to my friends. Only one of them failed to respond with enthusiasm. Louis shook his head glumly and said he didn't like the smell of the whole thing.

"Who is he?" Louis demanded. He glowered at me. "Admit it. It's just too much money for any such job. And look how the arrangements were made. Whoever heard of such intrigue when it comes to hiring a tutor for a kid?"

House Shows Viet Support on Biggest Money Bill Ever

WASHINGTON (AP) — History's biggest appropriation bill, a $70.3-billion Defense Department measure, went to the Senate today described as a House expression of all-out support for the U.S. military effort in Vietnam.

It cleared the House late Tuesday 407 to 1 after predictions the $20.3 billion it earmarked for the Vietnam war wouldn't be enough and amid demands for stepped-up Vietnam military operations.

The money, added to $43.7 billion available from previous bills, would finance Defense Department activities for the fiscal year starting July 1.

It was the largest money bill ever brought before Congress.

SEVERAL BILLS

At the height of World War II, defense appropriations totaled $86.4 billion, but were provided in several bills.

Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee, joined other committee members in predicting more money would be needed next year to finance the war. The estimates ranged as high as an extra $10 billion.

There was no effort to change a committee directive to the Pentagon not to reorganize the National Guard or Reserve without congressional approval. The Defense Department recently announced plans for a sweeping reorganization of the Guard and Reserve.

Mahon described the bill as notice to friend and foe that the House firmly backs the Vietnam War effort.

Rep. George E. Brown, D-Calif., cast the only dissenting vote.

Wisconsin Act May Add Reagan, Percy to Primary

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Senate has approved 28-5 an expanded persidential primary that may add California Gov. Ronald Reagan and Illinois Sen. Charles Percy to an already-brewing Romney-Nixon showdown in Wisconsin.

The approved primary system, now in force only in Oregon and Kansas, would list all national contenders in each party on the primary ballot unless a person regarded as a candidate swore he had no interest in the nomination.

The measure, passed by the Senate Tuesday, now needs Assembly approval. It would make Wisconsin the first meaningful primary in the nation," said Sen. Robert P. Knowles, R-New Richmond.

"In 1968, the national spotlight will be focused on Wisconsin," he said, noting that only the New Hampshire contest precedes Wisconsin's.

Michigan Gov. George W. Romney and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon are believed moving toward a duel in the state's April 2 Republican primary.

Knowles predicted the measure would bring Reagan and perhaps Percy into the GOP battle.

4 State Police Officers Retire

LANSING (AP) — Michigan State Police Tuesday announced the retirement of four officers, promotion and transfer of four men and straight transfer of three others.

Retiring after 25 or more years of service are Sgt. Peter J. Bugni, commander of the Iron Mountain Post, effective June 9; Cpl. Harold G. Snyder, Traverse City Post, June 26; Lt. Robert S. Hallada, assistant commander of the operations and communications division, East Lansing Headquarters, July 7; Cpl. John T. Strable, Manistique Post, July 6.

Cpl. James W. Arndt of the East Lansing Post is promoted to sergeant with the safety and traffic division at the Bay City District Headquarters.

Transfers include: Sgt. James F. Fries of the safety and traffic division, Bay City District Headquarters, to commander of the Iron Mountain Post; Detective Sgt. Leo J. Heatley, from the narcotics unit of the detective division to its wagering unit at East Lansing; Detective Sgt. George C. Kerr, Detroit District Headquarters, to the narcotics unit, detective division, East Lansing.

Promotions and transfers are effective June 25.

Court Reverses Death Benefits Decision

LANSING (AP) — The State Appeals Court Tuesday reversed a decision of the Workmen's Compensation Appeal Board awarding full death benefits to the widow of a foundry worker who died of silicosis, a lung disorder.

The court rescinded an award by the appeal board of $10,500 plus funeral and medical expenses. Funeral and medical expenses of the last illness were allowed, but the lump sum payment was deleted.

The Riverside Foundry and Galvanizing Co. and the Michigan Mutual Liability Co. appealed the compensation appeal board award to the appeals court.

The court said Chester Tidey suffered a back injury in the foundry and received total disability payments from 1948 through 1963. He was seeking total disability benefits for silicosis when he died. The cause of death was given as silicosis and resulting complications.

The attending pathologist, who attested the cause of death, testified dust breathed in the foundry might have been the cause of the silicosis.

The court held that the second payment should not be made, declaring: "No matter how many injuries are sustained, a single employe can lose but one wage in the same line of work due to total and permanent disability."

Marshall Expected to Join High Court Liberals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The liberal instincts of the Supreme Court almost certainly will be reinforced when Thurgood Marshall takes his place on the bench next fall.

This is likely to be most evident in civil rights, the area in which the court's decided liberalism has shown signs of receding.

"I am not attached to any legal school of thought," Marshall has been quoted as saying, "but I am also not a conservative."

* * *

Though past performance is not always a sure guide, Marshall's lifetime commitment to civil rights and civil liberties is too deep to reasonably expect a wholesale change of heart.

VICTORIES

In 25 years as a lawyer for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, he piled up a mass of significant victories, including the 1954 Supreme Court ruling that cracked school segregation.

Others brought down the so-called white primary election in the South, broke exclusion of Negroes from juries and struck at forced confessions.

His work for the NAACP and later as a judge on the U.S. Circuit Court in New York City and as U.S. solicitor general suggests Marshall will find himself comfortably at home in the high court's liberal wing.

* * *

It was Marshall's decision to have the government back an appeal by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and seven other Negro leaders convicted of contempt for holding civil rights parades in Birmingham, Ala., in defiance of a state court injunction.

RIGHT TO TEST

The government argued they had a right to test the injunction because it reached into "the sensitive area" of free speech and assembly rights.

The convictions were upheld Monday by the high court. The vote was 5 to 4. Significantly, Tom C. Clark, the justice Marshall is succeeding, voted with the majority.

The average life expectancy of new born babies in Holland is 73 years, in India it is only 32.

Pottery Glaze Dust Called Mania Check

By Science Service

BETHESDA, Md. — A white powder used in glazing ceramic pots apparently controls a serious mental disease — manic-depressive psychosis.

The therapeutic effects of lithium carbonate were outlined here by a scientist at the National Institute of Mental Health.

Dr. William E. Bunney said the inexpensive powder checks intense manic excitement, but its role in depressive episodes is still questionable.

Manic-depressive psychosis is one of two major mental illnesses. It plays an important role in the 25,000 yearly U.S. suicides. The other is schizophrenia.

European scientists have been experimenting with lithium carbonate in the psychosis for about 15 years. Despite evidence the powder was effective, interest in the United States lagged until a couple of years ago when Dr. Bunney began his research.

WITHIN 24 HOURS

He reported that within 24 hours after a patient is taken off the powder, mania returns. If work on the depressive phase bears out European research, lithium will become an important weapon against the disease, he said.

He cautioned, however, that the drug must be used with care. An overdose may have serious side effects. But in normal doses, lithium is apparently free of side effects.

Lithium also promises to aid in mapping the biochemistry underlying manic-depression.

4 State Men Killed in Vietnam Fighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department Tuesday released the names of 19 men killed in action in Vietnam. Four were from Michigan.

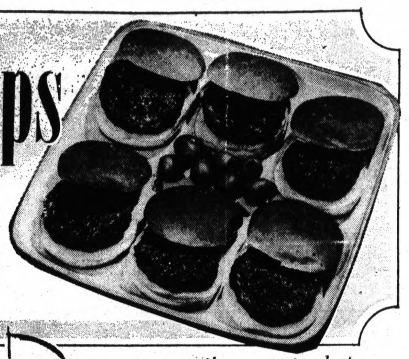

They were Army Cpl. Joseph L. Parks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Parks of Saginaw; Army Pfc. Edward J. Colston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Colston of Detroit; Army Pfc. James M. Loso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Loso of Pinckney; and Marine Lance Cpl. Gregory C. Coin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coin Jr., of Detroit.

The Defense Department said the death of Army Pvt. William A. Parks, husband of Mrs. Charlotte Parks of Detroit, was not due to hostile causes.

Learn-to-Swim Sign-Up Still On

Registrations still are being accepted for the learn-to-swim program sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

Final scheduled registration period is from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4:30 p.m. next Wednesday at the recreation office in the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5640 Williams Lake.

Open to children 7 to 18 years old, the classes will begin the week of June 25 at the following lakes: Lotus, Maceday, Huntoon, Oakland, Silver, Williams, Watkins, Loon and Pontiac State Park.

An adult learn-to-swim class will be held from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Thursdays at Pontiac State Park.

School Proposed

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Delegates to the 71st annual convention of the Michigan Optometric Association Tuesday unanimously approved a resolution calling for the creation of a school of optometry in Michigan. The resolution specified no location. Dr. Robert Britton, of Howell, said a college of optometry will be needed in Michigan within the next 15 to 20 years.

WHERE SHIP CRASHED — Damage to U.S. 839 near Stella, Wash., occurred earlier this week when the submarine tender USS Sperry crashed into the highway. The steering failed on the ship as it cruised out of the Columbia River after taking part in the Portland, Ore., Rose Festival. Unlike the highway, the ship was not visibly damaged.

Actor Finds His Roles as Villain Ironic

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is an adventure in irony, and this is particularly true in the case of Werner Klemperer, the actor.

BOYLE

Werner, son of Otto Klemperer, the famed symphony conductor, and his family fled their native Germany in 1933 because of the rise of Hitlerism.

Now Werner, who later served three years as a corporal in the American Army, makes a tidy dollar playing a bumbling Nazi officer, Col. Wilhelm Klink, on the CBS television comedy program, "Hogan's Heroes."

Although he has had a lifelong hatred of war and violence, nobody since the late Eric von Stronheim has come along who can play a foreign military villain with quite the heel-clicking authenticity of Klemperer.

Werner finds it hard to define just why he can do this so well. "Acting is largely a matter of accurate observation," he said.

"I suppose I must have seen many German officers when I was a boy in Berlin, but" — he added wryly — "I don't remember ever shaking hands with one.

"I don't find it a particular psychological hurdle to play Nazi officers, so long as I can be very sure that I can give them the kind of dimension I feel they deserve.

"But I don't want ever to play a good Nazi, and I don't want to act in Germany. No, not now."

MANY VILLAINS

Something of a specialist in unsympathetic roles, Werner has also played Bulgarian villains, Dutch villains and Russian villains, but his big desire is to play an Oriental villain.

"With my bald head and a little makeup, I think I'd be interesting," he said.

After fleeing Germany, the Klemperers spent two years in Switzerland, then came to California where the father became conductor of the Los Angeles Symphony.

Werner, then 13, learned enough English in three months to enter high school. He appeared headed for a career as a pianist, but gave it up.

NO DESIRE

"I didn't have the desire," he said. "Desire and talent usually go hand in hand. If the desire isn't there, chances are that the talent isn't there either."

Werner chose the theater after wartime work with an Army Special Service unit led by actor Maurice Evans.

Klemperer earned a meager living here as an usher, waiter and art gallery guide, before landing Broadway roles with Tallulah Bankhead, Charles Laughton and Jose Ferrer. He has also appeared in 15 films and scores of television plays. By and large, he is now one of the most solvent villains and character actors in show business.

Urbane and sophisticated, Werner at 45 feels he has carved himself a comfortable niche and says he has no desire to be either rich or famous.

'M' Dean to Speak at PCH Graduation

Dr. Floyd Bond, dean of business education at the University of Michigan, will deliver the commencement address to 483 graduates of Pontiac Central High School tomorrow.

Bond, a PCH graduate who was valedictorian of his class, has entitled his talk "This Is Your Life." The exercises will be at 8 p.m. in Wisner Stadium.

Ceremonies will be held in the school's boys' gymnasium in case of bad weather.

Ex-Official Dies

NILES (AP) — Former City Attorney Keith Ball died Tuesday at Pauwating Hospital after a lingering illness. He was 49. Ball served as city attorney in 1952-53 and again in 1966 until he resigned in April because of ill health. Funeral services are scheduled Friday.

Amputees Walk in No Time

WARSAW (UPI)—The portly, middle-aged man struggled along parallel bars at a hospital for amputees near Warsaw.

"When were your legs amputated?" the visitor asked.

"Yesterday," the man answered with a weak smile, and began again his hesitant walking up and down.

His answer is not unusual at the Konstancin Rehabilitation Center in a forest near Warsaw, and the person who makes the answer possible is Dr. Marion Weiss.

His medical technique is spreading throughout the world. French, British, American and Yugoslav agencies and centers are collaborating in various parts of his program.

In most amputations of legs—that is his specialty—Dr. Weiss and his colleagues try to amputate below the knee, to give patients maximum mobility after recovery.

After removal of the limb, muscle tissue is attached to the bone to supply an anchor for the muscle to work against. Nerves are crushed to reduce pain to the stump and the skin is sutured.

Immediately, while the patient is still unconscious, an elastic sock is fitted over the dressed stump, a plaster support is applied and a rough, preliminary leg fitted in place.

The following day the patient takes his first, unaided steps using crutches and his new leg.

For the next 12 days the patient takes exercises to keep his muscles in tone.

Then the incision is examined and, if in good condition, the old plaster support is removed and a second, temporary plastic leg is molded to the stump.

The patient then begins intensive training in how to cope with his new situation—learning to fall, to walk up and down stairs and over various ground surfaces.

Finally, a new, permanent leg is prepared and fitted. This will be his permanent leg, and after an average of 40 days in the hospital the patient is ready to go home and back to work or school.

House OKs Free Ammo for Rifle Club

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has okayed for another year the program under which the military gives free ammunition to the National Rifle Association—strongest of the groups trying to influence gun-control legislation.

A defense appropriations bill approved by the House Tuesday included $1.9 million to cover the cost of ammunition given by the Army's Division of Civilian Marksmanship—DCM—to 5,800 shooting clubs around the country.

These clubs all are affiliated with the NRA. An Army regulation permits only NRA members to get the ammunition.

NRA affiliates also are the only groups eligible for another DCM program under which military weapons are lent to civilian shooting clubs for practice and familiarization.

MEMBERSHIP

How much of NRA's membership of 823,000 can be attributed to the link with DCM no one can say but NRA mentions the arrangement frequently in its advertisements for new members.

The free ammunition and the lending of the guns are all part of long-standing Army policy. Men who learn about guns as civilians, the theory goes, make good marksmen when they go into uniform.

"These weapons and ammunition are used only for prescribed military courses of fire," NRA's public affairs director, John Hess, said. Every bullet fired is accounted for by NRA, he said.

The advisory body that guides the DCM program, the National Board for Promotion of Rifle Practice, also has a strong NRA flavor. Its members include the president, executive vice president and four advisory council members of the NRA.

HOLD LOOSENED

But the embrace is being loosened. An attempt is being made by Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor to get a broader range of viewpoints on the board.

And the NRA's authority to be the only source nominating civilians to the board ended last year and these nominations now can come from a variety of sources, said the board's executive officer, Lt. Col. Joseph B. Berry.

Because of its strong opposition to some gun control bills Congress is considering, NRA is often accused of being the dominant force in a powerful national gun lobby.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., author of one of the strictest gun control bills and a principal target for those opposed to strict controls, says the opposition is powerful but not centrally directed.

He gets it from all directions —from the NRA, other members of Congress, gun magazines, manufacturers, weapons importers and gun owners everywhere.

"I think it's a loose thing," Dodd said of the opposition. "I think they're acting independently of one another."

* * *

An aide to Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., sponsor of a bill less stringent than Dodd's, sees the people fighting the various legislative proposals as large in numbers but hardly a unified force.

"Compared with organized labor and the AMA," he said, "these people aren't even in the same league."

CHARGED WITH MURDER — Ronald T. Koonce, 23, is shown after he was charged with murder of two Stroud, Okla., sisters last weekend. Koonce, also from Stroud, is a twice-married father of two. He is accused of the stabbing and beating deaths of Mrs. Betty McCullough, 24, and Mary Valliquette, 16. Three teen-agers were charged as accessories.

School Board to Award Pacts

The Waterford Township Board of Education tomorrow night is slated to award contracts for additions and alterations to seven elementary schools.

Bids for the projects at Grayson, Covert, McVittie, Monteith, Cooley, Haviland and Leggett schools were opened at the board's June 1 meeting.

Apparent low base proposals totaled $1,575,129. However, this didn't include alternate bids for optional additional construction.

Estimated cost of the projects was $1.6 million.

In other business, the board will open bids for projects at Crary and Pierce junior high schools and Pontiac Lake Elementary School.

Warren Mob Perils Home of Biracial Pair

WARREN, Mich. (AP) — A mob of more than 80 persons hurled stones and shouted threats outside a $25,000 ranch home into which a racially mixed married couple moved a week ago.

Police maintained a guard today around the house, in which a picture window was shattered by stones. No one was reported injured in the Monday night trouble.

Acting Police Commissioner Charles Groesbeck said the mob milled around the street and sidewalk in front of the new home for more than three hours before it finally dispersed.

At the height of the demonstration, Groesbeck said, a 14-man riot squad was standing by in cars three blocks away. They were equipped with sawed-off shotguns and tear gas bombs. But, he said, there was no need to call on them.

NEIGHBORS

The crowd was made up of men and women who live near the home, he said.

The new home is being purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Corado Bailey. He is a Negro and his wife, Ruby, is white. They have a 6-year-old daughter and Mrs. Bailey also has an 18-year-old son from a previous marriage.

Bailey was at his job as a skilled tradesman at a General Motors plant during the disturbance, and the children also were elsewhere.

Mrs. Bailey was alone in the house with a woman friend, and Groesbeck escorted the two women to an undisclosed destination after the crowd left.

Body Recovered

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Skin divers from the Warren State Police Post and from Selfridge Air Force Base recovered the body of William Mitchell, 18, of Mount Clemens Tuesday. Mitchell drowned Monday in an abandoned gravel pit in nearby Chesterfield Township.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Person With TB Shouldn't Kiss or Cook

Q—A boy I date has a mild case of tuberculosis. How can I avoid contracting it without refusing to see him?

A—If your friend's disease is still communicable, he should be in a sanitarium.

BRANDSTADT

The disease is spread chiefly through sputum that has dried, is carried in the air on dust particles and is then inhaled by a susceptible person.

It may also be transmitted through the use of common utensils, especially forks, spoons and drinking glasses.

Nearly everyone is susceptible to this infection but susceptibility is greatly increased by being undernourished, generally run-down, chronically tired or by having such diseases as diabetes or any type of lung ailment.

Until your friend has been certified as being completely cured, kissing should be avoided.

If he is the type that loves to cook, tell him gently but firmly that you will do the cooking or eat out.

Q—How can it be determined whether a person has tuberculosis of the kidney?

What are the symptoms? Would any restriction in the diet be required?

A—A person with this disease may or may not also have tuberculosis of the lungs. The diagnosis is made by finding blood and tubercle bacilli in the the urine.

X-ray films of the kidneys, taken after a dye has been injected, may show the outline of typical lesions in the kidneys.

Urination may be painful.

As with tuberculosis in a part of the body, a nourishing diet to build the victim up rather than a restrictive diet is prescribed.

Q—What are the symptoms of tuberculosis of the adrenals? Is there any treatment beside hydrocortisone?

A—Any disease of the adrenals will cause weakness, easy fatigability, nausea and loss of weight.

Drugs of the cortisone group are given to combat the adrenal deficiency but for the tuberculosis streptomycin, isoniazid and para-amino salicylic acid are prescribed.

THE PONTIAC MALL Elizabeth at Telegraph Rd.

the Mall

our tradition of service-

IS AN OLD FASHIONED PRINCIPLE THAT HAS WEATHERED THE TESTS OF CHANGING TIMES!

Back at the turn of the century, before horses were put 'under the hood,' you could watch Thomas Economy Furniture's shiny delivery rigs go by. But time changes many things. The clippety-clop of 'Ole Dobbin' has been replaced with a sparkling fleet of modern service trucks. We've streamlined our methods to keep pace with modern merchandising needs. We even shortened our name to just plain 'Thomas Furniture.' And we've grown! Today our home is two modern stores displaying the very finest in furniture and furnishings to make your home more beautiful. The only thing that time hasn't changed is the policy of dependability and service laid down by our founder and carried on today by a young progressive-minded third generation. As long as there are customers to serve, Thomas Furniture will continue this dedication to service. After all, it's a habit that's nearly seventy years old!

Root Beer Puts Flavor in Confection

Root beer, the popular soft drink favorite, now finds its way into exciting new recipes for summertime.

Root Beer Cereal-Nut Crunch makes the perfect munch on a summer picnic or beach party. Make lots of Crunch — eat it by the handfull — with big foaming mugs of ice cold root beer.

"Last one in the pool" has probably scooped up the last bit of this sunny confection!

Root Beer Cereal-Nut Crunch

*2 12-ounce containers root beer
6 cups ready-to-eat puffed oat cereal
1 cup salted peanuts
1 cup sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon salt

Measure cereal and peanuts in buttered bowl. Combine root beer (slowly), sugar, syrup, butter or margarine and salt in saucepan, mix gently and well.

Bring to a boil slowly, stirring until sugar melts. Cook to hard crack stage (when a drop in very cold water separates into brittle threads).

Pour syrup in fine stream over cereal and peanuts; stir gently until cereal is evenly coated with syrup. Spread onto buttered baking sheet and with fork separate cereal into bite-size pieces; cool. Yield: About 12 cups confection.

*Artificially sweetened (diet) root beer may be substitute if desired.

IT'S THE CRUNCHIEST! — Root Beer Cereal-Nut Crunch made with root beer and served up to a crowd at snack time. Great for pool-side munching and perfect for picnics! Served with a frosty root beer cooler, this candied-crunch will be a favorite all through the summer months.

Add Rolled Oats to Hamburgers

For juicier, flavorful hamburgers, thoroughly combine 1½ pounds of ground beef, ¾ cup of rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked), ½ cup of milk, ¼ cup of chopped onion, 1½ teaspoons of salt, ¼ teaspoon of pepper, 1 teaspoon of dry mustard and 2 tablespoons of catsup. Divide into 6 patties.

Broil or pan-fry 7 minutes. Turn and continue cooking 4 to 5 minutes for medium doneness.

Bake a Cool Rise Loaf of Bread

There's no need to stop baking just because the weatherman says it's summertime. In fact, it's a great time to get the whole family into the kitchen.

And there's nothing like the of Honey Lemon Whole Wheat Bread to excite beginning bakers and please eager appetites.

Thanks to the CoolRise method of yeast baking you can bake yeast breads in the summer and keep cool while you're at it.

The dough is mixed, kneaded and shaped in less than an hour — any cool hour of the day. Then, the shaped dough is refrigerated.

Now you're free to enjoy the summer sunshine. Bake the bread whenever the summer heat subsides — anytime from two to 24 hours later.

Your baking brigade will insist they've canned a loaf for lunch, but you'll want to save one for later.

Wrapped in moisture-vapor proof saran food wrap, it will keep in your freezer for as long as three months.

HONEY LEMON WHOLE WHEAT BREAD
(CoolRise Method)

3-4 cups flour
(Regular or Instant blending)
2 cups stone ground whole wheat flour
2 pkgs. or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
½ cup warm water (105 degrees)
1 — ¾ cups warm milk (105 degrees-115 degrees)
cup honey
1 tablespoon salt
3 tablspoon margarine or shortening
1 tablespoon grated leomon rind
Cooking oil

Spoon or pour all purpose flour into dry measuring cup. Level off and pour measured flour onto wax paper. Repeat measuring procedure for whole wheat flour.

Sprinkle or crumble yeast into ½ cup warm water in large, warm bowl. Stir until dissolved. Add warm milk, honey, salt, margarine and 1 cup all-purpose flour.

Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer at low speed until smooth (about 1 minute). Add 2 cups whole wheat flour. Beat vigorously with wooden spoon. (150 strokes) or electric mixer a medium speed (2-3 minutes) until thick and elastic. Scrape side of bowl occasionally.

Stir in lemon rind with wooden spoon. Then add remaining flour gradually. Use just enough flour to make a soft dough which leaves sides of bowl, adding more if necessary.

Turn out onto floured board. Round up into a ball.

Knead 5-10 minutes or until dough is smooth, elastic and no longer sticky. Cover with saran food wrap then a towel. Let rest for 20 minutes on board.

Punch down. Divide into 2 equal portions. Round up each portion.

ROLLED DOUGH

Shape into loaves. Roll each portion into an 8x12-inch rectangle. Roll up tightly into loaves beginning with 8-inch edge. Seal final seam and ends well. Place in greased 8½" x 4½" x 2⅝" bread pans.

Correct pan size is important for best results.

Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours at moderately cold setting. When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator. Uncover. Let stand for 10 minutes while preheating oven.

Puncture any surface bubbles with an oiled toothpick just before baking.

Bake at 400 degrees for 30-40 minutes or until done. Bake on a lower oven rack position for best results. Remove from pans immediately. Brush top crust with margarine if desired. Cool on racks. Yield: 2 loaves.

Maple Mixture Tops a Cake

Maple-topped coffee cake can be made from a mix.

Prepare a 10½-ounce package of coffee cake mix as directed on package, adding 3 tablespoons of the topping to the mix along with the egg and milk. Bake as directed.

While cake is baking, combine remaining topping mix and 3 tablespoons of maple-blended syrup. Spread over cake as soon as it comes out of the oven.

Sprinkle with ¼ cup of chopped pecans. Serve warm. Makes 8 servings.

HONEY AND LEMON—The whole family will enjoy baking Honey Lemon Whole Wheat Bread the cool and easy CoolRise way. Serve the bakers a loaf at lunch and freeze the other in moisture-vapor proof saran food wrap.

Olive Oil Needed for Spanish Potatoes

There are certain culinary tricks that are basic to each national cuisine.

In French sauces, the "roux" is important: the way butter and flour are cooked and stirred together until deftly blended.

In Chinese cooking, it's the stir-fry method of quickly sauteeing minced vegetables to the tender-crisp state.

In making East Indian curries, the trick is to add the spices (or curry powder) direct to the fat when meat is being sauteed.

In German cooking, what are called "soup herbs" (carrot, onion, parsley and celery) are added to virtually all stews and pot roasts as well as soups and stocks.

A word found again and again in Spanish cookbooks is "sofrito." This refers to minced vegetables or herbs (onion, garlic, parsley and tomato usually) cooked in olive oil until very soft and tender. A "sofrito" is used in nearly all Spanish entrees made with a sauce; it is also the first step called for in making most Spanish sauces and soups.

In the German or French kitchen, these herbs or vegetables are usually dropped into boiling broth.

Potaotes a la Mancha

2 large onions, sliced
1 garlic clove, minced
⅓ cup Spanish olive oil
5 to 6 medium potatoes, cubed
2 large carrots, scraped, diced
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
*2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¾ to 1 cup water

Gently cook onion and garlic in olive oil in large heavy pot until soft and yellow. Add remaining vegetables, parsley, salt and pepper. Brown lightly then add water; simmer, covered for 30 to 40 minutes or until vegetables are very tender, shaking pan several times.

Serve vegetables with the sauce, to accompany cold meat or fried eggs. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Momentum May Be Slowing

Active Market Inches Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved lower on average early today even while gains continued to outnumber losses.

Weakness in blue chips dragged down the industrial average but run-of-mill issues still showed a preponderance of plus signs.

The action came after six straight days of advance.

Down about 2 points were du Pont, Pennsylvania Railroad, Eastern Airlines and United Air Lines.

New York Central dropped 3, United Aircraft and American Smelting a point or so.

Gains of about a point were held by Chrysler, Rexall and Owens-Illinois Glass.

The rise in auto industry sales in early June was an encouraging factor and there was no particular bearish news at the moment, analysts said. They remarked, however, that the six sessions of advance, most of it on the inspiration of Israeli victory, had made the market vulnerable to correction, short-term or otherwise.

Opening blocks included: Kroger, off ⅜ at 22½ on 23,200 shares; American Telephone, off ¼ at 56 on 7,000; General Motors, up ⅛ at 80 on 4,800, and Swift, up ¼ at 26 on 4,200.

The trend was higher on the American Stock Exchange.

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

A visitor to the zoo took a look at an elephant and remarked, "There ain't no such animal."

JACOBY

If you think that "there ain't no such bidding" as that by North and South, be assured it actually took place and was most successful.

For some time most expert pairs have been trying to discover how to get to minor suit slams after no-trump openings. Today's bidding was by Mrs. Sewall (Midge) Cutler and Mrs. James (Kay) Nicholaisen of Dallas using the Jacoby transfer methods.

In the Jacoby transfer the two spade response shows a minor suit hand of any strength, but guarantees at least 5-4 in the minor suits. Midge, sitting South, rebid three diamonds. This shows better diamonds than clubs. With equal minor suit strength Midge would have said three clubs.

Kay's three spade call served notice of her good hand. With a bad hand she would have passed. Midge's four clubs showed that she held both minors.

Kay went to four diamonds to mark time. Her three spade call had been a force to game so there was no need to crowd the bidding.

Midge held a minimum no-trump opening or maybe a trifle less but it looked as if all her cards were going to be working so she bid four hearts to show the ace. Kay might have jumped right to the grand slam but she wanted to suggest seven no-trump possibilities.

The game was match point duplicate and no-trump counts more than clubs or diamonds. Midge's four no-trump was a signoff. She had bid her 15 points to the limit and Kay's seven club call ended the bidding.

It was the right place to stop. Playing at clubs Midge took her ace of hearts, ruffed her small heart, drew trumps and eventually discarded one of her spades on the long diamond.

At no-trump or diamonds this could not happen and the limit at both those spots was 12 tricks.

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♣	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	4 N.T.
Pass	5 ♥	Pass	?

You, South, hold: ♠A Q 10 5 4 ♥K 6 2 ♦2 ♣A Q 8 7

What do you do?

A—Bid seven clubs. At worst the slam will depend on a finesse.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of rebidding three clubs your partner raises you to three spades. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Chips down where's work, promises, assignments are concerned. Finish what you start. Help others to help themselves. Don't cast first stone at one who confesses error. Head health warning.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Stress ability to respond under pressure. Don't be upset by "temper tantrum" — you get apology later. Know this — respond accordingly. Be especially considerate of children.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Changes due in home conditions. Not so good for considering real estate deals. People change — so does situation. Day features upsets, surprising statements, claims.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): You succeed if not carried away by extreme goals. Know when to start — where to stop. Be careful with messages, calls, written material. Watch yourself during any learning.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Accent on money, income, possessions. Be alert to genuine bargains. Be wary of get-rich-quick scheme. Important to be aware of fine print. Study various implications.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Be ready for changes, surprises. What you expect does not occur. What is unexpected takes the spotlight. Be sure communications line are clear. Get story straight from source.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): What appeared buried in past is apt to make reappearance. Best to place cards face up. If you hide, duck or evade, others see through you. Stick to principles. State beliefs.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Some of your hopes, wishes are due for revision. You make new discoveries. Outlook is changed. Ride with the tide. Don't force issues. Friend appears pugnacious.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Upsets due among higher-ups. Remain neutral. Those in authority may argue about your abilities. State case with clarity. Avoid editorial comment. Justice will prevail.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Perceive meanings. Look deep for hints, indications and trends. Not so wise to travel unless really necessary. You may hear news from a distance. Analyze it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): New view of finances, contracts, special agreements may be required. Interest is awakened in hidden or occult subjects. Money affairs of mate or partner require your attention.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Response to your statements, opinions may appear abrupt. Take philosophical view. Realize string of logic is pulled taut. Do plenty of listening, observing. You'll win.

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have abundance of charm, ability to make a house a home. You are loyal to loved ones. Current cycle points to more responsibility, added income.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for VIRGO, LIBRA, SCORPIO. Special word to ARIES: Be practical. Don't veer too far from familiar course.

Israelis Predict Tourism Spurt in Winning Holy Sites

The Israelis took almost all of the Christian holy sites from Jordan in the war last week. The Old City of Jerusalem and Bethlehem were their biggest prizes. Israeli officials expect tourist revenue to increase at least $20 million a year as a result.

"Jerusalem should be like Rome. We have Christian, Moslem and Jewish sites," said one banker.

"This should give a sizable fillup to the ecumenical movement," said Pinchas E. Lapide, a Jerusalem city official. "We'll use the holy sites to attract meetings in all religious groups, and that most emphatically means even Moslems if they'll come."

SEA AND SUN

Christians outnumbered Jewish tourists to Israel last year for the first time since independence. Many came from Northern Europe for the sea and sun, but they usually took a bus trip to the Holy Land, too.

This is expected to be a bumper year for Jewish tourists visiting relatives celebrating victory and praying at the wall of Solomon's Second Temple — which Christians know as the Wailing Wall — Judaism's holiest shrine which the Jordanians had denied the Israelis since 1948.

In the long run, the number of Jewish tourists is expected to decline since many have been older Jews who came for a single visit to see Eretz Yisrael — the land of Israel. The Israelis know they must concentrate on attracting Christians, and in the past year they have not done as well as they would have liked.

In 1965 and 1966, an average of 300,000 tourists a year came to Israel and left $60 million in foreign currency. But prices have climbed far above those of Spain and other sun spots. While every other major Mediterranean tourist spot was bringing in more tourists, the tourism figure in Israel was down 7 per cent this year even before the war crisis.

KOSHER FOODS

The reasons are numerous. They include insistence on kosher food and dietary laws in many hotels — you can't get cream in your coffee or butter on your bread if you've had meat with the meal. But the major reason is a lack of cheap charter flights.

El Al, the Israeli airline, has only seven planes, not enough to handle charters. If Israel allowed other lines to fly in charters, El Al would show a loss. Tourist Minister Moshe Kol had been fighting the state airline on this point before the war. The ban on charters did not extend to pilgrims, but there weren't very many before. Now the whole issue is wide open again, but this time Kol has a stronger argument on his side.

During the fighting Israeli soldiers treated the holy sites with scrupulous care, and none was seriously damaged except 20th century church in Israeli territory which the Jordanians shelled.

Graduation Tonight for WTHS Seniors

Some 440 Waterford Township High School seniors are slated to receive diplomas at commencement exercises at 8 tonight.

F. W. Bennetts, assistant director of public relations at Oldsmobile Corp. in Lansing, will address the graduates.

Kinkajou Safe in LA Shelter

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Somebody's lost his kinkajou, but it is safe and sound.

The furry, 10-pound animal that resembles a raccoon was found wandering in the Brentwood area Tuesday. William Reppe, control officer at the animal shelter, said it obviously is a pet.

The kinkajou, pronounced king-kuh-joo, has a bear-like face and a tail like a monkey.

OCC Trustees Meet Thursday

Oakland Community College's Board of Trustees will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in room 131 of the Instructional Building on the Highland Lakes campus, Waterford Township.

The meetings are normally held the third Thursday of the month at the George A. Bee Administrative Center in Bloomfield Hills but are occasionally held on the campuses.

Governments at all levels will collect a record $203 billion in taxes from the American people during the current fiscal year of 1967.

Bank Robbery Suspects Caught After State Chase

THREE RIVERS (AP)—Two suspected bank robbers, captured in their bullet - punctured auto after a high - speed chase on Michigan roads, today awaited extradition to Indiana.

Police pulled the pair and "a big bundle of cash" from their wrecked car in Three Rivers Tuesday about an hour after a $40,000 bank robbery in South Bend.

One man, William Carey Edwards, 47, of Garden City, was being held in the St. Joseph County Jail.

The other, Donald Broadhead, 22, of Pritchard, Ala., was hospitalized under police guard after he suffered a bullet wound in the wrist during the chase.

The FBI said Edwards is already wanted on a fugitive warrant for another bank robbery May 26 near the Indianapolis Airport in which $17,000 was taken.

The pair swerved around a blockade by Three Rivers and St. Joseph County Police on U.S. 131 at the west edge of the city. More than a dozen shots were exchanged in a high-speed chase before the fleeing car mowed down a row of signs and crashed into a utility pole and a tree.

The sheriff's staff began counting a large quantity of currency and checks taken from the car and reported an incomplete total of $30,000. Noel Knutson, assistant manager of the bank, set the total at $40,000 in cash and checks.

The robbery was the next-to-biggest in Indiana this year, second only to a $59,000 holdup May 17. Three other men had been arrested in that case.

The South Bend holdup, 16th of an Indiana financial institution this year, came only 20 minutes after the bank opened for the day.

Two men, both wearing black gloves but no masks, ordered employes and customers to lie on the floor back of the counter, then methodically cleaned out the tellers' cages. They carried off the money in two attache cases.

Arson Is Eyed in Barn Blaze

Addison Township Fire Department officials suspect arson is involved in the burning last night of an abandoned barn on Rochester Road, north of Howard Lake Road.

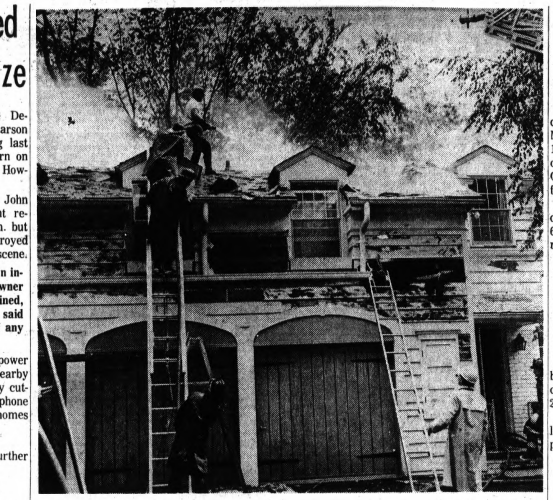

Township Fire Chief John Hock said the department received the alarm at 7 p. m. but that the barn was destroyed before they arrived at the scene.

The barn was not near an inhabited building. Its owner has not yet been determined, according to Hock. He said there were no contents of any apparent value.

The fire burned through power lines connecting to a nearby telephone pole, temporarily cutting off electrical and telephone service to a number of homes in the area.

The department plans further investigation.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS FIRE — Flames and smoke spring from the roof of the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Mills of 780 Vaughn, Bloomfield Hills, yesterday. The roof of a portion of the west wing was destroyed and some smoke and water damage occurred in the wing of the large home. Mills is Ford Motor Co. vice president for purchasing. Firemen said the blaze apparently started while workmen were burning off old paint with a torch. No one was injured.

Romney Plans to Visit Middle East This Year

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Gov. George Romney says he will visit the Middle East before the year is out and suggests a Marshall Plan type aid program for that part of the world.

Romney said Tuesday he will go to the Middle East "to check on certain things I'm concerned about."

He aired his comments on a WKZO-TV interview.

He said the Arab-Israeli conflict should be settled by a joint confrontation of the Middle Eastern countries.

DISCUSSION

"Israel and the Arab nations should get together and talk over problems, though there is considerable doubt at this point whether this will happen," said Romney.

"The unnannounced potential Republican presidential candidate also commented on his hiring recently of Ned Pruitt, a Negro public relations consultant. Romney said he was hiring men like Pruitt "to help me decide whether to be a candidate."

Romney said the racial issue will continue to be a problem in the future.

"In the last several years we've built up hopes for quick elimination of discrimination and human injustice," Romney said, adding that laws haven't improved the racial situation fast enough so Negroes are frustrated.

MILITANT LEADERS

"In addition, people have tended to turn away from responsible leadership to more militant leadership. This has created a much more difficult situation that was previously the case," Romney said.

Boys' State Draws Seven Area Youths

They include Dennis McLauchlin, 33 Court, sponsored by the Legion Post; Dana Coin, 400 Broadway, sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Police; and Michael Giroux 2776 Dixie, Waterford Township, and William Green, 652 Second, both sponsored by the Fisher Body Local 596.

Also Thomas Lacourse, 794 Melrose, sponsored by the post's bowling league; John Willson of 661 Second, sponsored by the post's drill team; and John Baldwin of 3778 Gainesborough, Orion Township, sponsored by the post.

The boys will hear speeches by state legislators and will create a mock government with officials they elected from within their group during the week-long conference.

"The program's purpose is to develop the responsibility of leadership, to provide the advantages of citizenship and to promote the art of clean sportsmanship," said local program chairman, Merle Laurain of 145 W. Fairmount.

Comedian Jack Benny, a serious violinist, will be honored tonight for the benefit concerts he has played to raise funds for U.S. symphony orchestras.

BENNY

The American Symphony Orchestra League will give Benny a special citation at a ceremony concluding the league's four-day meeting in Los Angeles.

Met Chorus Member Ends 57-Year Stint

After 57 years in the Metropolitan Opera chorus, Marguerite Belleri has retired. She called it quits yesterday in New York after a career that began at 16.

Guests at her farewell party included her sister Lilli, a chorus member for 33 years. Lilli's husband, William Fischer, sang with the chorus for 23 years and, before he died, Mrs. Belleri's husband, Lamberto, was a member for 10 years—a total of 123 years of service.

4-Month Legal Battle Over; Wedding, OK'd

Giovanna Augusta, daughter of a wealthy Milan manufacturer, has won a four-month legal battle in Belgium and the right to wed Brazilian Negro soccer star Jose Germano.

The Liege Court of Appeals ruled yesterday there was no obstacle to the wedding.

Germano, 24, plays for a top Belgian soccer team in Liege. Giovanna, whom he met in Milan four years ago, came to Liege in February.

The family of Count Domenica Agusta, a motorcycle and helicopter tycoon, followed her to Liege and pleaded with the girl to give up Germano.

They threatened to deprive her of an inheritance and finally took the matter to court.

Composer Buys Back Own Musical Score

Composer Igor Stravinsky, who lives in Los Angeles, paid $896 in London yesterday for one of his own music scores.

He bid through an agent for his first edition of the arrangement of Le Sacre du Printemps—Rite of Spring—which belonged to ballet dancer Anton Dolin.

A spokesman at Sotheby's, the arts auctioneers, said the sale of ballet materials which included costumes, music scores and bronze and porcelain figures, brought about $84,000.

The highest amount was $2,940 for a water color by Leon Bakst called "Design for the Decor of Act I of 'Daphnis et Chloe'." It went to a private collector.

Waterford Votes Are Certified by Canvassers Unit

The Board of Canvassers of the Waterford Township School District last night confirmed the election of Donald W. Porter and Lewis W. Long to four-year terms and Michael G. Patterson to a three-year term on the board of education.

Porter, Long and Patterson were unofficially elected to office in Monday's annual election in the school district.

Only minor changes were made by the board of canvassers. Porter gained five votes in the third precinct to increase his total from 567 to 572. Patterson lost two votes in the fifth precinct as his total dropped from 626 to 624.

City Cyclist Hurt When Hit by Car

A 29-year-old motorcyclist was injured yesterday when his vehicle collided with a car at Baldwin and Columbia.

Ronald Wolf of 101 Dwight is in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital, according to a hospital spokesman.

Pontiac police said Wolfe was traveling north on Baldwin when he collided with an oncoming car driven by William G. Robinette, 35, of Los Angeles, as Robinette attempted a left turn.

West Bloomfield Cyclist Is Injured

A West Bloomfield Township man is in satisfactory condition in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital with injuries received in a motorcycle accident last night.

Township police said that Harry L. Carrier, 30, of 2038 Swaranne fell from his motorcycle and was knocked unconscious as he was riding on Swaranne near Sarona at about 10:15 last night.

Scouts to Do 'Good Turn' in Kentucky

Operation Good Turn — Appalachia members leave for Paintsville, Ky., Saturday. The group of some 40 Scouts will spend the week repairing an orphanage housing 22 children which is run by two women.

The scouts will camp near the orphanage and work everyday except Wednesday when they will tour the area.

The group, composed of senior and adult scouters, will supervise and build a garden fence around the truck garden recondition the house and repair the facilities.

Supplies such as barbed wire, wire staples, and roofing are needed for the project, according to Charles Brucker, chairman of the Catholic Committee on Scouting, which is planning the trip.

Most of the boys have been earning the $25 for expenses by themselves, according to Brucker.

Frost, Winds Retard Crops

LANSING (AP) — Snap bean and green pea planting has been held up by bad weather, but the tomatoes are in and 28.9 million pounds of strawberries are predicted for Michigan.

The 28.9-million pounds estimate for strawberries is five per cent below 1966.

On the bright side, the Michigan asparagus production forecast of 186,000 hundredweight is 11 per cent above 1966, the Michigan Crop Reporting Service says.

The first production forecast for the Michigan lettuce crop is 262,000 hundredweight, six per cent below 1966.

FROST CITED

Frost in early May and wind have retarded the lettuce, asparagus and strawberry crops.

Air Guardsmen Plan No Shortcut

DETROIT (AP) — Pilots of the Michigan Air National Guard will fly 1,600 miles from their home base at Metropolitan Airport to their summer training base at Alpena—a distance of 200 miles as the jets fly.

The jets of the 127th and 191st Tactical Reconnaissance Groups will fly west and south of navigational training missions, including aerial refueling flights, before landing at Phelps Collins Air National Guard Base in Alpena for two weeks of summer training.

Gets 3-15 Years

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Mrs. Irene Ogg, 29, convicted of involuntary manslaughter in the death of her two sons in a house fire last November, Tuesday was sentenced to three to 15 years in the Detroit House of Correction. Mrs. Ogg's sons, William, 5, and Phillip, 4, were found dead in a closet bedroom.

Many Signs Tipped Preston to 'Surprise' Awaiting Him

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Robert Preston was given a surprise party on his 49th birthday at Sardi's after "I Do! I Do!"—but Bob confessed there were "certain little signs and hints" that tipped him there was to be a party.

"For example, the cleaning women sent me birthday wishes, and I wondered how they knew. Then Tony (the doorman) seeing me arrive from the 46th St. Theater said 'Take the elevator upstairs, Mr. Preston.' "

WILSON

But Bob felt that a stronger sign was his leading lady Mary Martin's failure to say her usual good night to him when he left the theater. Preston immediately felt that Mary didn't say good night because she was going to see him later—which she did, at the party, in one of her very unusual after-theater appearances this year.

Kirk Douglas always has a radio up at his ear out at the Pratt Estate, Glen Cove, while relaxing from scenes in his film, "A Lovely Way To Die"—and the gorgeous actresses such as Sylva Koscina and Sharon Farrell and others in the picture keep hearing that he may round out his movie career by becoming eventually envoy to the new enlarged Israel. "Ambassador Douglas," perhaps?

A long, long time ago, Dorothy Parker asked me, during an interview, about college. I told her I'd attended Heidelberg at Tiffin, O., for a couple of years, and that it was part of the ministerial educational system of one of the Reformed churches. After a moment, Miss Parker said, "I've heard about that—and what do they call the branch that isn't reformed—'the Hog Wild Church'?"

Patent Given to a Miniauto

Air-Cooled Engine and Watertight Body

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — A cheap three-or-four passenger vehicle that is roadworthy at highway speeds but can travel off-road as well was patented recently by W. S. Eggert Jr., who assigned rights to the Budd Co.

The rear-engine buggy weighs less than 800 pounds, according to the patent. Two people can lift either end of it. It has an air-cooled engine, a watertight body and high ground clearance. Low sides allow passengers to step into the car, which has no doors.

A Budd Co. spokesman said the design was practical for underdeveloped countries as well as for general use here and abroad. The patent is No. 3,323,608.

A device that converts a frequency - modulated light signal into an amplitude - modulated signal—an essential part of an FM laser communications system—has been patented.

The converter, invented by Stephen E. Harris of Palo Alto, Calif., uses a double-refrecting crystal of calcite to change from FM to AM. An incoming beam of light that has a varying frequency passes through the crystal and hits a phototube.

FREQUENCY

The amount of light that gets through the crystal—the amplitude—depends on the frequency of the incoming light. This means that variations in frequency are converted to variations in amplitude.

Invention Harris assigned rights to the patent, No. 3,324,-295, to Research Corp. of New York.

A large number of materials change color when heated. For some, the change is abrupt and startling—at a particular temperature the material changes suddenly to a color that contrasts sharply from its cooler hue.

Using this principle, two engineers at Texas Instruments, Inc. have designed a figure display system that works without lighting up patterns of lamps—the method commonly used to display fast-changing information.

The new system has two advantages over the bulb-lighting method. It takes up much less space, and can be read easily when there is a lot of background light.

Meteor Impact Is Detectable

By Science Service

NEW YORK — Locating the impact points of meteors has always been a highly inexact business, depending on chance sightings by untrained observers and, with luck, discovery of an impact crater.

Now, two Coast and Geodetic Survey seismologists report, meteor impact points can be fixed within a few miles by analysis of data from microbarographs and seismographs.

This was impossible even a few years ago, they say, because the instruments just weren't sensitive enough to pick up pressure waves from the impacts at any distance.

Seismic recording devices are at least 1,000 times as sensitive today as they were a decade ago.

The two scientists are James N. Jordan, chief of the survey's Special Seismological Analysis Branch, and Kenneth C. Bayer.

They described their analytical system at a meeting of the Acoustical Society of America here.

Senior-Citizen Projects Funded

LANSING (AP) — The State Aging Commission has awarded $66,447 to finance four separate projects for service to elderly citizens.

The awards include: $31,850 to Senior Center, Inc., of Detroit, for service to nursing home residents; $20,200 to the Detroit Parks and Recreation Department, for programs for older persons; $11,809 to Arenac County Senior Citizens, Inc., for a center at Au Gres; $2,588 to the United Fund of Saginaw County, for a study of aging.

Junior Editors Quiz on DRIFTWOOD

QUESTION: What is driftwood?

ANSWER: When pieces of wood fall into water, such as ponds, lakes, streams, rivers or the ocean, they float and are often carried away by currents. Such pieces may be from dead or living trees, from wrecked boats, from wooden boxes or other objects.

Because it drifts, this is called driftwood, a name by which it is still known when it washes up on some beach or shoreline. Picnickers often gather such pieces to make cheerful fires on which to roast wieners or marshmallows.

But driftwood has other possibilities. After being battered around in the water, it becomes very interesting to look at. The surface becomes a soft satiny gray. Soft parts rot away, leaving the hard grain showing, often in beautiful patterns.

In our upper picture, Mary and Jack have discovered bits of gnarled driftwood which suggest that by putting pieces together, amusing figures can be made, such as the sea king.

Later, Jack connected the pieces by boring holes and putting in wooden pins or dowels. Good material may also be found in the woods (lower right).

Scientists Study Earth's Wake in Space

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Earth leaves a wake in space 3.5-million miles long.

The cigar-shaped wake results when the solar wind strikes the earth's magnetic field, dividing and flowing around the magnetically shielded planet.

The solar wind is a continuous stream of charged particles streaming out from the sun at some million miles an hour. The shield provided by earth's magnetosphere protects earth life from the high energy particles contained in the solar wind, and is believed to have allowed evolution of higher forms of life on earth.

Satallites have measured the distance from the earth's surface to this magnetic boundary on the sun side as about 40,000 miles.

MAGNETOSPHERE ENDS

Information gathered by Pioneer-7 shows that the magnetosphere ends at about 3.5 million miles from earth in the direction away from the sun.

This new distance for the lee-side magnetosphere was reported to the American Geophysical Union meeting here by Drs. Norman F. Ness and Leonard F. Burlaga of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md.

The path of Pioneer 7, launched last August, was tailored to try to locate the downwind magnetosphere. Measurements made from other satellites have shown that the "cigar" has a diameter of some 160,000 miles at the distance of the moon.

Dr. John H. Wolfe of NASA's Ames Research Center, Mountain View, Calif., reported to the same meeting that Pioneer 7 evidently passed through not the true magnetosphere, but turbulence occuring at the very tip end. The extent of this turbulent section is not known.

The path of the next Pioneer, schedule for launch late this year, may be planned to come inside the 3.5-million miles in order to help pin down the exact extent of earth's magnetosphere in the anti-sun direction, before the turbulence begins.

It's Fresh Strawberry Time Again

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES IN DANISH PANCAKES

STRAWBERRY SURPRISE

STRAWBERRIES AND CREAM

Store Up Goodness for Later

Preserves for Pancakes

Preserves are made from whole strawberries; jam is made from crushed berries. That's about the only difference between the two, but they're miles apart in elegance.

Strawberry preserves are especially well suited for desserts and sweet omelets in which their beauty can be appreciated. Jam makes an excellent spread for toast, muffins, and biscuits.

Serve some of your beauties with cardamom-scented Danish Pancakes. Give some for gifts; above all add to your jam cupboard while the strawberry crop is at peak of season.

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES

5 cups whole strawberries (about 1½ qt. full ripe small to medium strawberries)
7 cups (3 lb.) sugar
¼ cup lemon juice (2 lemons)
½ bottle liquid fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Measure 5 cups whole berries (firmly packed without crushing) into a large saucepan. Add sugar.

Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring carefully to keep fruit whole. Remove from heat and let stand at room temperature 4 to 5 hours.

Then make the preserves. Squeeze the juice from 2 lemons; measure ¼ cup into a saucepan with fruit. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 2 minutes, stirring carefully.

Remove from heat and at once stir in fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim for 8 to 10 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit.

Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin. Makes about 9 medium glasses.

DANISH PANCAKES

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cardamom*
4 eggs, well beaten
1⅔ cups milk, at room temperature
½ cup butter, melted

*Or use ¼ teaspoon nutmeg.

Sift flour with sugar, salt, and cardamom. Combine eggs, milk, and butter. Add to flour mixture gradually, beating until smooth.

Bake on hot ungreased griddle, fold in half, and then in half again to form a triangle.

Arrange on wire rack and place in 300-degree oven to keep hot until ready to serve.

Use 3 or 4 pancakes for each serving. Serve hot with Strawberry Preserves. Makes about 2 dozen pancakes.

Use, Don't Store

However you plan to use strawberries remember they are fragile. Buy only as many as you will use or process in two or three days. Store covered in the refrigerator and wash just before using. Remove the caps after the berries have been washed and dried.

Fold Berries Into a Mixture of Marshmallows and Cream

Strawberry Surprise makes an elegant dessert when heaped in stemmed sherbets, garnished with whole red berries and slivered almonds. Or, use it as a salad against a bed of crisp greens.

STRAWBERRY SURPRISE

½ cup milk
1½ cups miniature marshmallows
1 cup whipping cream
½ cup sliced almonds
2½ cups fresh strawberries, cut in half

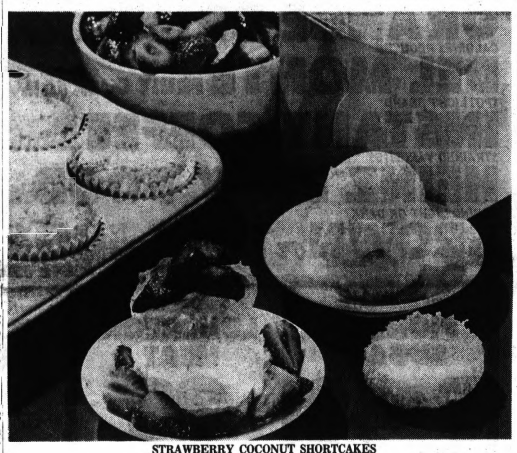

Heat milk to boiling, add marshmallows and stir at medium heat until marshmallows melt. Remove from heat and allow to cool thoroughly.

Whip cream; fold berries and whipped cream into cooled marshmallow mixture. Pour into sherbet dishes and chill several hours.

When ready to serve sprinkle sliced almonds on top or garnish with fresh mint leaves. Serves 6.

Can be used as a salad by pouring mixture into large bowl to chill. When ready to serve place a spoonful of strawberry mixture on a lettuce leaf and garnish with 1 or 2 whole strawberries.

Hold back 6-12 whole berries for garnish.

STRAWBERRY COCONUT SHORTCAKES

Crimson Fruit Fills Meringue

Picture plump, crimson, Michigan strawberries, plucked at their flavor peak atop a snowy white mound of meringue.

A garnish of green leaves and strawberry halves turned cut side up to show their juicy succulence, completes this light, "Company Time" dessert.

MERINGUE WITH STRAWBERRIES

½ egg whites
⅛ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon cream tartar

Beat egg whites, cream of tartar and salt until frothy. Gradually add sugar and beat until stiff peaks form.

Draw a 10" circle on a piece of paper (i.e. shelf paper or clean paper bag) — a 10" pie plate is a good guide. Spread meringue on paper shaping side higher (about 2½" high) than the center.

Bake at 275 degrees for 1 hour turn off heat and leave in oven for several more hours to dry.

Fresh Strawberry Filling

1 quart strawberries, washed and hulled plus
1 cup crushed strawberries
2 tablespoons cornstarch
A few drops red coloring
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup cold water

Place crushed strawberries, salt and water and coloring in saucepan. Mix together cornstarch and sugar, stir into strawberry mixture.

Cook on medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and thickens. Remove from heat and allow to cool for ½ to 1 hours.

When thickened sauce is cool, place whole strawberries in meringue shell and pour sauce over them (saving several for garnish).

At serving time, cut meringue in pie shaped pieces and garnish with whipped cream. Serves 8.

MERINGUE WITH STRAWBERRIES

Berries Top Little Cakes, Ice Cream

Here's a magic trick that means good eating for your family. It's an intriguing way to transform simple cupcakes into a festive strawberry shortcake served in individual portions.

Kids will like this dessert because it includes three of their favorite foods, ice cream, cake and strawberries and mothers will like it because it's so simple to make.

Strawberry Coconut Cupcakes would be perfect fare for a party during June or any time strawberries are available. They make a delightful family dessert, too, one that's easy to do.

Bake the cakes early in the day before the weather gets hot, and assemble the individual shortcakes just before serving.

STRAWBERRY COCONUT CUPCAKES

3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
⅔ cup sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract
6 tablespoons regular all-purpose flour
1 can (3½ oz.) flaked coconut
2 pints strawberries, sliced and sweetened
Vanilla ice cream

Line 2½-inch muffin cups with paper liners; set aside.

In a small mixing bowl beat together egg whites and cream of tartar until frothy. Gradually add sugar, continue to beat until stiff peaks form and sugar is dissolved. Add almond extract.

Add flour, sprinkling a little at a time on mergingue beating at low speed only until blended. Fold in coconut. Fill paper liners full.

Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven 25-30 minutes, or until golden brown. Cool.

To serve: Remove paper from cupcakes; break in half horizontally. On serving plate place bottom half of cupcake. Place scoop of vanilla ice cream on this and top with remaining cupcake half.

Spoon sweetened strawberries and juice over all. Serve immediately.

State Berries Freeze Whole or in Sugar

Although the season is short, from early June through July, Michigan strawberries can be enjoyed all year 'round from the home freezer. To maintain the best color and flavor of this succulent fruit, pack strawberries for freezing in either sugar or syrup.

All varieties of Michigan strawberries can be frozen, made into jam, eaten fresh or combined in salads or desserts.

Select bright red, firm berries without bruises for freezing. Wash carefully, dry and then hull.

Fill the freezer container ½ to 1 inch from the top and add a cold 50 percent syrup (4 cups of sugar to 4 cups of water) or combine 1 cup of sugar with 4 cups of fruit.

Freeze promptly. Frozen berries keep from 8 to 12 months. For garnishes, freeze whole strawberries with their bright green caps in place.

After washing and drying berries, spread them on a flat sheet so that they are not touching. Freeze until hard enough on the outside not to stick together. Put into a freezer bag and store.

For best results, use these whole berries while still slightly frozen.

Whipped, Sour or Pour

Dip Whole Berries in Cream

Come to our creamery . . . where the whitewashed walls are clean and cool, where the milk is hung in silvery pails, where the cream is poured . . . heavy and gold . . . into old stone crocks, where a yellow-eyed cat sits upon a pillow of patched silk, and where we have piled up fresh strawberries from floor to ceiling . . . come to our creamery and dream of a strawberry-and-cream summer come true.

We show them here just as God made them . . . to be dipped into sugar and then into a variety of flavored whipped or sour creams. They may also be sliced up and chilled in sugar to serve with a variety of pour creams, as we suggest below.

Start with two pints fresh California strawberries for six to eight servings and prepare as follows:

Leave strawberries whole and unhulled for dipping into . . .

A CHOICE OF WHIPPED CREAMS:

Spanish Cream

Beat 1 cup (½ pint) heavy heavy cream with 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar until stiff. Fold in 1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened, and ¼ cup Seville orange marmalade (this is bitter orange). Chill until needed.

Viennese Cream

Beat 1 cup (½ pint) heavy cream with 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar until stiff. Fold in dash salt, ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon and ½ cup ground toasted filberts (use mouli grater or electric blender).

A CHOICE OF SOUR CREAMS

Sour Cream With Almonds and Brown Sugar

Blend together: 1 pint sour cream, 2 tablespoons light brown sugar, ½ teaspoon almond extract and ½ cup toasted water and cooled.

Sour Cream and Jelly

Blend together: 1 pint sour cream, 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla and ½ cup red current jelly melted with 2 tablespoons water and colled.

FRESH STRAWBERRIES WITH POUR CREAMS

Slice strawberries and chill in ¼ cup confectioners' sugar about 15 minutes. Serve with:

A Choice of Pour Creams:

Eggnog Cream

Blend 2 cups (1 pint) heavy cream with 1 cup bottled or canned eggnog and ⅓ cup brandy (or ¼ cup each: brandy and rum). Add a dash of nutmeg. Chill until needed. Serve with freshly grated nutmeg. This may be made without liquor if preferred.

Double Cream

Blend 2 cups (1 pint) heavy cream with 1½ cups cream soda. Chill until needed.

Hot Peach Sauce Top for Cereal

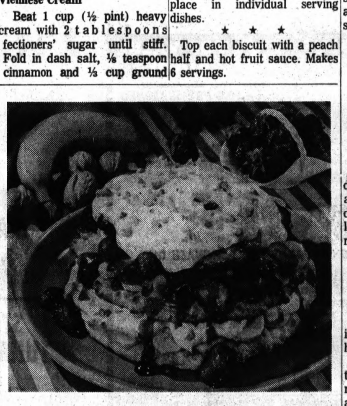

Looking for a novel breakfast idea? Combine a 1-pound can of cling peach halves packed in heavy syrup, ¼ cup of firmly-packed brown sugar and 1 tablespoon of lemon juice in saucepan. Bring to a boil.

Brush 6 round shredded wheat biscuits with melted butter; place in individual serving dishes.

Top each biscuit with a peach half and hot fruit sauce. Makes 6 servings.

BANANA SPLIT BERRY SHORTCAKE — With a fork, mix two cups biscuit mix, two tablespoons sugar and ¾ cup cream or ¼ cup melted butter plus ½ cup milk. Beat 20 strokes. Divide dough in half. Gently spread each half in an eight-inch circle on greased baking sheet at opposite corners. Bake 10 minutes. Whip one cup heavy cream with ¼ cup sifted confectioner's sugar. Place one shortcake layer on serving plate. Slice one banana and arrange half over cake. Spread with half the whipped cream and sprinkle with ⅓ cup chopped nuts. Top with second layer, remaining banana slices and sweetened fresh strawberries. Top with whipped cream and more nuts. Serve immediately. Makes 6-8 servings.

Strawberries Are Deep Fried

How old-fashioned cooks loved fritters! Pick up one of their cookbooks and the chances are you'll find recipes for these delicacies.

Clam, corn, oyster and tomato fritters were favorites for the main course of a meal. But dessert fritters — apple, banana, orange and strawberry — were also served.

The strawberry fritters are probably the most unusual of all.

Each of these strawberry fritters is a delightful mouthful of surprise: the berry sweet, fresh and still cool, the coating slightly crunchy.

STRAWBERRY FRITTERS

1 pint medium or large strawberries (about 30)
½ cup light corn syrup
1 cup finely chopped blanched almonds
2 eggs, slightly beaten
¾ cup graham cracker crumbs

Wash and hull strawberries; drain. Insert the sharp tines of a fork into the top of a berry; dip into the corn syrup and allow excess syrup to drip off; roll in almonds.

Holding berry on fork again, dip into egg and allow excess egg to drip off; roll in graham cracker crumbs.

Repeat process with remaining berries. Chill for 2 or 3 hours.

Fill a heavy saucepan one-third full of corn oil; heat over medium heat to 375 degrees on a candy or fat thermometer, or until a 1-inch cube of bread turns brown in 40 seconds.

Fry batches of berries, without crowding, until lightly browned — about 30 seconds. If you like, you may fry the berries in a basket, but do not crowd.

Serve at once with any favorite pudding sauce. Makes 6 servings — 5 berries per portion.

A&P

say Dad... ever wonder how Mom got the money

Come Sunday morning, will you be one of the millions of fathers who are forever amazed?

Will you look at your new fishing reel or power tool or camera... and wonder:
"How did Mom get the money?"

You'll know she didn't rob a bank... and she didn't sell the car.

Maybe, just maybe,
we can give you a hint.

Is Mom an A&P shopper?
Could it be that the savings
she makes each week of the year
add up to so much?

Why not ask her?

Before you do though, better take a quick look in the garage
to make sure the car's still there.

Chicken and Fruit Fill Thin Pancakes

Filling but not heavy, these meal-in-one roll-ups are perfect for bridge luncheons, brunches or Sunday evening suppers. A tangy fruit mixture not only adds a piquant flavor but extends a mere cup of cooked chicken to serve four.

The sauce is easily and quickly made from canned fruit cocktail, sparked with a little lemon juice and thickened with cornstarch.

Canned or leftover diced chicken is added to part of the sauce and the mixture rolled up snugly inside feathery pancakes. The remaining fruit sauce adds a colorful topping.

The pancakes are speedily made from a prepared mix. A slightly lumpy batter makes the lightest pancakes so remember not to overmix them.

To avoid last-minute rush make the filling ahead of time and refrigerate it. While the pancakes bake, reheat the filling. Assembling the roll-ups takes just moments.

CHICKEN FRUIT ROLL-UPS

Pancakes

1 cup pancake mix
1 cup milk
1 egg
1 tablespoon melted or liquid shortening

Sauce

One 1-lb. can fruit cocktail
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt

1 cup chopped cooked chicken

For sauce, drain fruit cocktail, reserving juice. Add lemon juice and enough water to make 1 cup liquid. Combine cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Gradually add fruit cocktail liquid.

Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened and clear. Add fruit cocktail. Heat thoroughly.

Place chicken in saucepan. Add half of fruit cocktail mixture to chicken. Heat thoroughly. Heat remaining fruit cocktail sauce, too.

For pancakes, place mix, milk, egg and shortening in bowl. Stir until batter is fairly smooth. Using ¼ cup batter per pancake, pour batter onto hot, lightly greased griddle to make 8 pancakes.

Turn pancakes when tops are covered with bubbles and edges look cooked. Turn only once.

To serve, place 1 heaping tablespoonful of chicken mixture across center of each pancake; roll up. Top with hot fruit cocktail sauce. Makes 4 servings.

HOT CHICKEN FRUIT ROLL-UPS—These filled pancakes are glamorous enough in taste and appearance to be gourmet fare, give an unexpected lift to tired budgets.

Mr. Peanut Is Star of Booklet

Mr. Peanut has been the symbol for peanuts and peanut products for nearly half a century. The gentleman in the top hat, monocle and cane has marched in parades, lighted up giant signs in Times Square and appeared at public gatherings from coast to coast.

But did you know that Mr. Peanut started with a schoolboy's sketch submitted in a contest?

Now at last, the whole story of Mr. Peanut—his creation and rise to fame—is told in a 32-page booklet, "The Complete World of Mr. Peanut."

Published by Planters Peanuts, a division of Standard Brands Incorporated, the new booklet traces the growth of Mr. Peanut's world from the peanut itself to related products that have become part of the American way of life: peanut butter, peanut oil, peanut confections and other nut products.

"The Complete World of Mr. Peanut" is divided into two parts.

The first includes illustrated historical information, production highlights and nutritional facts about peanuts, peanut butter, peanut oil and other nut products.

Following this is a recipe section showing the use of Mr. Peanut's products in the kitchen.

More than 2 dozen recipes include main dishes and entrees, breads, desserts and confections as well as background information on the use of peanuts, peanut butter and peanut oil in the world's great cuisines.

For your free copy write to "The Complete World of Mr. Peanut," Standard Brands Educational Service, P. O. Box 2695, Grand Central Station, New York, N. Y. 10017.

Whipped Cream Gives Potatoes Light Texture

If your family is tired of the "same old potatoes"every night for dinner, why don't you perk up their menu by sailing in a fleet of "featherbed" potatoes in their own little individual aluminum foil potato boats?

"Featherbed" potatoes are attractive, delicious and simple to make.

To prepare enough for six servings, you'll need: 4 to 5 medium potatoes, 1 egg, hot milk, 6 tablespoons of grated cheddar cheese and ½ cup heavy cream, whipped.

Cook the potatoes in boiling salted water until they are tender. Then drain and mash. Add the egg and sufficient milk to whip light.

Pile the mixture into greased or buttered potato boats. Add the cheese to the whipped cream, blend, and spread over the potatoes.

Then bake the potatoes in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 15 minutes or until lightly browned.

To De-Salt Food

When food has been salted too much, stretch a fairly wet cloth tightly over the top of the cooking pan containing the food. Sprinkle a small quantity of white flour over the cloth.

Let this stand for a few minutes, and it will remove the excess salt.

Lamb Shish Kebab

Marinate cubes of lamb (from shoulder with all fat removed) in a mixture of red wine, olive oil and seasonings. Thread on skewers with squares of green pepper and broil.

CHILDREN'S PARTY CAKE — Bake any flavor layer cake mix in two round eight or nine-inch pans. Cool on racks. Prepare a package of creamy white frosting mix, according to directions; fill and frost cake. Make balloons with thin round pastel mint wafers, placing them in a cluster at one side of the cake. For strings, use long licorice strings or cut single color gumdrops into thin strips. Radiate "strings" downward from the mints so that their ends come to a point.

Chocolate Sauce Is Not Too Sweet

Chocolate Sauce

1 cup sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
¾ cup water
3 envelopes no-melt chocolate
One 6-ounce can (⅔ cup) evaporated milk, undiluted.

In a 1-quart saucepan over low heat, stir together the sugar, corn syrup and water until sugar dissolves; boil, without stirring, to soft-ball stage (235 degrees on candy thermometer).

Remove from heat; with a spoon or fork, thoroughly beat in chocolate and milk. Sauce will thicken as it cools; serve warm or at room temperature. Makes about 1 pint.

Curry Butter Tops Apples

There's no sticky pan to clean when you make curried fresh apple rings to serve with ham, pork, lamb or poultry. Wash, core and cut 3 large baking apples into ½-inch thick rings; place them on foil used as liner for broiler rack.

Blend 1½ teaspoons of curry powder into 2 tablespoons of butter or margarine, melted.

Brush apples with curry butter; broil 4 to 5 minutes; turn rings, brush with curry butter and sprinkle with mixture of 1 tablespoon of brown sugar and ⅛ teaspoon of salt.

Broil 3 minutes more or until apples are tender and lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

Easy Dessert

Mix well - drained, chilled crushed pineapple with that left-over cooked rice. Fold in plenty of sweetened whipped cream. Garnish with cherries or finely chopped pecans.

Fair Set to Repeat Success

A repeat performance of last year's impressive show and then some is in store for spectators of the 1967 North Oakland County Fair.

Tomorrow is opening day at the fair which will continue through Sunday at the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5640 Williams Lake, Waterford Township.

Last year, when an estimated 65,000 to 75,000 persons showed up, the fair was held for three days.

Fair officials, consequently, are optimistic that attendance again will be astronomical and even greater with the added day. Attendance is expected to be in the 75,000 to 100,000 range.

About 11 acres of land will be used for parking facilities. Dean Salley, fair chairman, estimates there will be room for 2,000 cars. "We have completed the leveling off of eight acres," said Salley.

FORMER NAME

Prior to last year's extravaganza, the event had been known as the CAI Fair. The name was changed to the North Oakland County Fair last year and that wasn't the only revision.

The fair was greatly expanded with many events added to make it more attractive to the public.

There is no admission charge. A 25-cent fee is required for parking.

This, the 23rd annual fair, will be highlighted by the appearance of the U.S. Army Parachute Team — the Golden Knights from Ft. Bragg, N.C.

2ND APPEARANCE

It will mark the second appearance of the precision paratroopers at the fair. Last year, during the team's lone performance at the fair, an estimated 25,000 to 30,000 persons watched.

The paratroopers will stage their usual eye-catching performance, marked by free-falling from more than two miles.

The average team member has to his credit more than 900 jumps and has free-fallen (with closed parachute) in excess of 1,800 miles, according to Salley.

The team reportedly holds more than 70 per cent of the world's free-falling records. The paratroopers will perform at 4:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

BIGGER SHOW

More rides, more displays, more entertainment, more of everything make this year's fair bigger than the 1966 show, said Salley.

A large 6,000-square-foot tent will be used to exhibit merchants' displays. Another even larger tent, which will seat 1,000 persons, will be used for seven shows, featuring television personalities Wes Harison and Milky the Clown.

Other features of the fair include several military displays, including a six-story missile; a tug-of-war match featuring four local 10-man teams; helicopter rides; and the fair queen contest.

Lung capacity testing for emphysema; displays by the Oakland County Dental Association, Waterford Township Police, Michigan State Police and Oakland County Sheriff's Department and other exhibits also will be featured.

OTHER EXHIBITS

Also scheduled to have exhibit booths at the fair are the Waterford Township Gem and Mineral Club, the Family Lapidary Club and several area merchants.

The Ravens drill team will perform at the fair, rides will be available through Happyland Shows and fireworks will be featured Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The tug-of-war semifinals will take place at 3 p.m. Saturday. The winning teams will return for the final at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Defending champion is the Waterford Township Police Department. Also entered are the Pontiac Police Department, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and The Pontiac Press.

The midway will be 500 feet long, according to fair officials.

Top prize this year is a brand new 1967 Pontiac Firebird Sprint.

Team of Chutists to Include a Former Resident of Area

The appearance of a former area resident with the U.S. Army parachute team, the Golden Knights, once again will add spice to the North Oakland County Fair.

Slated to perform at the fair for the second straight year is Sgt. 1.C. Charles J. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Harris of 1525 W. Hamlin, Avon Township.

Fair officials said they received word from Ft. Bragg, N. C., that Harris will perform here with the team.

Harris, 30, attended Almont High School before enlisting in the Army in 1954. Typical of his teammates, he is a volunter, a qualified military parachutist and a career soldier.

The U.S. Army parachute team has performed before more than 44 million spectators in 47 states and 15 foreign countries.

With five officers and 34 enlisted men on its roster, the team has made 4,065 static-line and 22,259 free-fall jumps.

Organized in 1959, the team holds more than 70 per cent of the world's free-fall records.

Team members free-fall at a rate of 174 feet per second, or 110 miles per hour, dropping from a height of 13,500 feet to 1,800 feet in 60 to 70 seconds.

They then open the black and gold canopy of their "Paracommander" chute to slow to a speed of 10 to 13 feet per second, or about six miles per hour, as they descend on target.

Their performances at the fair are scheduled for 4:30 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday. Eleven members are expected to perform.

Also slated to perform at the fair is a U.S. Army demolition team.

In addition, a large cannon, a six-story missile and three military vehicles will be on display at the fair.

The 8-inch howitzer cannon to be displayed is 52 feet long and weighs 32,550 pounds. The total length of the rig is 70 feet.

10 TIRES

The rig is equipped with 10 tires and three axles, according to fair officials. The structure is 108 inches high and 98 inches wide.

The vehicles will be provided by the Army Tank Automotive Command in Warren.

Included among the vehicle exhibits will be a jeep and an armored commando car which is used to escort convoys and for riot control.

Test Is Offered for Emphysema

Nurses to Measure Capacity of the Lungs

Lung capacity testing for emphysema will be provided by the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association at the North Oakland County Fair, tomorrow through Sunday at the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5640 Williams Lake.

New equipment called the pulmonor waterless spirometer will be used to detect the disease which is frequently fatal because of the abnormal accumulation of air in the lungs reducing breathing capacity.

Registered nurses provided by the association will be on hand to take readings from the machine.

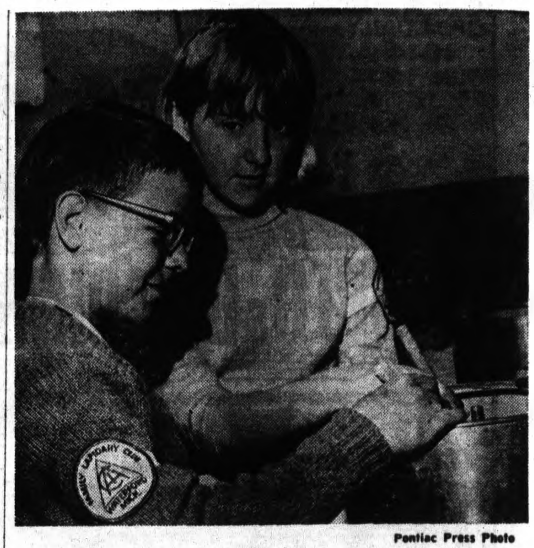

Persons being tested are asked to pinch their nostrils and blow into the apparatus to check pulmonary functioning.

The readings are then sent with the association's recommendations to the family doctor who reports results to the individual tested.

SCREEN DEVICE

According to Ronald Clair, director of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association, the equipment is essentially a screening device to see if there is any lung damage.

LAPIDARY CLUB EXHIBITION — Randy LeClair, 10, of 6628 Lanman and Russ A. Preston, 11, of 6575 Lanman, both of Waterford Township, and other members of the Family Lapidary Club will be staging a stone polishing and grinding demonstration at the fair.

CAI Building Program at Stake

If sufficient funds are raised in this year's North Oakland County Fair, the proposed building program for the Community Activities, Inc., Building may get under way in the near future.

The estimated cost of the proposed 6,800-square-foot addition, which will more than double the size of the existing structure, is $175,000.

The addition will provide CAI with a small bore rifle and pistol range, shower facilities, additional restrooms, a full-size stage and understage area, meeting rooms and an enlarged gymnasium.

The existing building, which accommodates numerous activities, was completed nearly three decades ago.

Satellites Seen as Traveler Aids

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The navigation satellite of today is the seafarer's guiding star. Those of the future also may become the friend of aviators and the saviour of travelers in distress.

To Eugene Ehrlich, chief of navigation and traffic control programs for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), the possibilities for such satellites in the 1970s and the 1980s are almost unlimited.

The U. S. Navy orbited the first navigation moonlet seven years ago and now has a global network designed to provide submarines and other ships of the fleet with highly accurate position fixes without exposing their location.

"The job is done superbly," Erhlich said in a recently prepared paper outlining the future potential of navigation satellites.

But for the world's civilian travelers, Erhlich said navigation satellites offer much more to make travel safer, more economical and more comfortable.

ACCURATE LOCATIONS

First of all, he said future navigation spacecraft must be capable of providing highly accurate locations to ships, airplanes and any other type of earth-based vehicles as quickly as they need them — anywhere from one minute for supersonic jetliners to one every three or four hours for conventional ships.

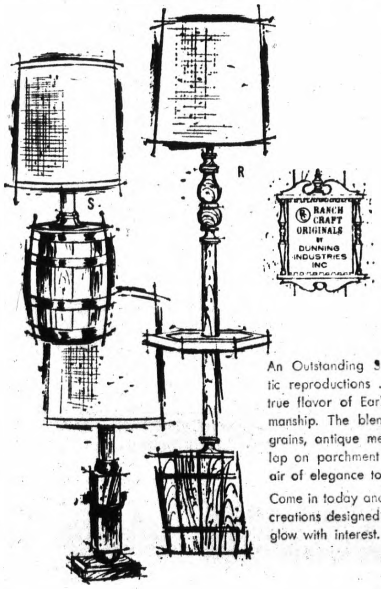

He said such satellites, positioned in stationary orbits 22,300 miles high, also could be equipped with communications equipment to relay radio messages between aircraft or ships and ground stations around the world.

One use proposed for such a combination satellite would enable ground stations to continuously monitor specific systems aboard an airplane in flight. If signs of an impending problem were detected by specially trained engineers using computers, the ground station could warn the pilot in time to prevent serious trouble.

"This potential use of satellite technology to aid in the detection of in-flight malfunctions has application to the prevention of midair disasters," Erhlich said.

Doctor Issues Aspirin Warning

By Science Service

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — The vast majority of people who enter hospitals with massive gastric bleeding have taken aspirin within the previous 24 hours.

Dr. Horace W. Davenport, chairman of the department of physiology of the University of Michigan here, warned against allergy to aspirin.

"Some people can eat handfuls of aspirin with no trouble, but others cannot tolerate the acidity unless there is more buffering than is present in the popular tablets," he said.

The majority of affected aspirin-takers probably bleed so little they scarcely notice it — perhaps only a cubic centimeter of blood — but others bleed heavily.

Dr. Davenport has studied the effectiveness of the gastric mucosal barrier in dogs, which are provided with a surgically prepared pouch of the acid-secreting area of the stomach. Dogs are like humans in their susceptibility to damage.

CAST-IRON STOMACHS

"One dog will bleed copiously and predictably after standard exposure to acetylsalicylic acid, but another will not," he pointed out. "I once had two dogs with the equivalent of a cast-iron stomach. When their pouches, after a control test, were irrigated for four successive 30-minute periods with salicylic acid in a very dilute solution of hydrochloric acid, minimal changes in permeability occurred. But in daily tests over a period of four months, their pouches never bled."

Party Real Brawl---uh, Bawl---uh, Ball

By DICK SAUNDERS

I don't know how many of you already know this, but the difference between a birthday party for a 10-year - old boy and one for a 6-year-old girl is a real shocker.

SAUNDERS

It's like moving from one world to another.

The birthdays around our house fall in close proximity. About 10 days apart. They've just concluded and we still have that eerie feeling that the outcome is in doubt.

My son's birthday came first. He turned 10. It was a Sunday afternoon — a day normally associated with peace and rest.

The first mistake I made was suggesting that everyone go out into the back yard so I could take a picture of them with their party favors.

The gifts had been opened. My son didn't want to pose. He wanted to play with his booty.

When I got the rest of them out back, two of his buddies decided they were going to decapitate each other. So, I have two photos of a bunch of kids in their party hats and mustaches, blowing noise-makers — with two combatants in the background fencing with croquet mallets.

Then came the ice cream and cake. After blowing out the candles three times because my flashbulbs wouldn't work, my son-in-double-figures became embroiled in a difference of opinion with one of his guests.

I'm still not too sure what it was all about because I had retreated to the front yard figuring it was safer there. But I think it had something to do with the refreshments.

Anyway, this guest threatened to leave and take back his gift. My son offered no resistance.

The next thing I knew, this kid came stomping out the front door with gift in hand, fixed me with a I'll-never-darken - your - door - again - at - least - until - the - next - party scowl, and made his exit.

To myself, quietly, I figured: "One down, eight to go."

Maybe it was a good thing the crowd had thinned because the next event was one that only my wife could concoct. I guess you could call it "Get the greased watermelon."

LEADERS FALL OUT

Anyway, she doused this watermelon with safflour oil and the kids proceeded to commit everything short of murder to see who can come home with the miserable melon.

The girls won because the two major leaders of the male contingent — my son and another guest — ended up fighting each other. My kid gets belted and came in crying.

He'd had it. He wasn't going back out there. The whole bit.

We ran the emotional gamut from A to Z, finally talking him into the fact he had to return to his guests because they needed him to carve the melon.

When he walked out the door with a butcher knife in one hand, the kid who hit him turned white as a sheet. Mother and I were tiring visibly.

I decided to lock myself in the garage and mix up a batch of worm bedding (I fish a lot).

It was a scene of peaceful domesticity, me and my worms, when suddenly a croquet ball came crashing through the window, hitting me and sending a fine shower of glass over my lovely nightcrawlers.

To top it off, this kid — the one who earlier clobbered my son in the watermelon caper — smiles at me through the hole in the window with: "Guess what Mr. Saunders? I just broke your window."

ANOTHER PARTY

So, my son attained the age of 10.

Just a few days ago we had a party for my daughter, who turned 6.

Everybody came, ate ice and left. It was totally lacking in violence . . . something akin to a bloodless coup or a Sunday School outing.

We stood in shocked disbelief.

I'm wondering if there's something WRONG with my daughter.

'Art Amusement Park' to Open

New Museum for Participation

By CHARLES-GENE McDANIEL
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO — Museum-goers may be in for a few surprises when Chicago's Museum of Contemporary Art opens in October.

Instead of pictures hanging on walls and pieces of sculpture standing around to be seen, the museum will feature works to be experienced — a sort of an amusement park of the fine arts.

This means that the works will not be labeled with the familiar interdiction DO NOT TOUCH, which is seen in most museums.

The title of the opening show is perhaps indicative of what can be expected from the museum. It is: "Pictures to be Read/Poetry to be Seen."

From the description of the show by the director of the museum, it will consist of just that.

BREAKDOWN OF BOUNDARIES

Jan van der Marck, 37, a native of the Netherlands, discussed in an interview the breakdown of boundaries between the arts and their growing interrelationship, which will be the focus of the museum.

One of the things already selected for the first exhibit is what Van der Marck describes as "an environmental assemblage resembling a big book," by Allyson Knowles.

Rather than standing at a distance to see the work, as in traditional art shows, the viewer will be invited to crawl inside the assemblage and move around.

Visually, there will be words, texts and notations inside to be read; but there also will be a tape recording of things to be heard.

PART OF BOOK

Each viewer also will become a part of the book because his own movements and observations will be recorded while he is inside.

The whole show will feature works to be picked up, played with, reshuffled or manipulated by the viewer, Van der Marck said.

"There is an increasing interrelationship between painters, sculptors, poets, playwrights, performers, technicians," Van der Marck explained, and this will be explored in the museum's exhibits.

"Artists are breaking down barriers," he says. "It is not just the total impression. The artist forces you to stick your nose in it — participate."

FERTILE GROUND

The new museum is being established on fertile ground. Chicago museums already attract crowds. The Art Institute alone attracts more visitors each year than the combined home games of the two Chicago baseball teams — the Cubs and the White Sox.

The Art Institute, while it does have shows featuring contemporary artists, is best known for its collections of earlier art works, particularly the works of the French Impressionists.

The group backing the new museum was formed two or three years ago.

The museum board is comprised of 30 members, a number of them important private art colectors. And they are not all Chicagoans. They range geographically from New York to Iowa.

NO FAVORITISM

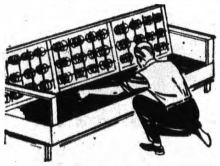

There will be no regional favoritism toward Chicago artists, either says Van der Marck.

Works to be exhibited will be selected for "quality and relevance" regardless of the home town of the artist, he says.

The directors had hoped to obtain the vacated Court of Appeals Building, on the Outer Drive, with its 58,000 square feet of space. But it was leveled to make way for a high rise glass-and-steel apartment building.

Instead, the museum will be opened in an office building, which has housed the offices of Playboy Clubs International, at 237 E. Ontario St., just off Michigan Avenue, in the midst of the chic shops and numerous private galleries.

This building, which will be remodeled, has 20,000 square feet, of which 11,000 will be used for exhibition space.

Drivers Pay for Courtesy

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—It doesn't always pay to yield the right of way.

Donald Robertson and Lloyd Pye courteously pulled off to the side of Roosevelt Boulevard to allow a truck to pass with its police escort.

The truck got past, but not its load, which was a house being moved. The house snagged Robertson's car and jammed it into Pye's truck. Total damage, $300.

The books to be sold were donated by residents.

The fair will be held tomorrow, Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the CAI building.

Controversial Center in East

Job Corps Wins Town Over

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — A year ago the New Bedford City Council voted unanimously to kick the Rodman Job Corps Center out of town. The council members said it was a nuisance and a threat to public safety.

Now the center has found acceptance in most of the city. But it took an intense community relations campaign, a new director and tougher rules.

The center brought the war on poverty to New Bedford's back yard in August 1965 with hope and high-sounding phrases. Its troubles began immediately.

Within nine months 57 corpsmen had been arrested in New Bedford, most of them on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

BRAWLED WITH POLICE

And in May, just before the council took action, scores of corpsmen brawled with police for about two hours outside Rodman's main gate. Reports indicate the boys were headed into town to settle an argument with local youths.

"We very effectively alienated a lot of people who were not hostile to us at first," said Frank Johnson, the center's director of community relations, "and a principal part of our failure was in community relations. The community did not understand us."

The community, however, thought it understood, and it was scared.

City Council member Ralph J. Saulnier said: "We're the battleground. When those 100 boys were fighting outside the gates, don't forget there were 500 more inside. They're the ones we were worried about, those 500."

MOVED QUICKLY

Rodman moved quickly, after the City Council action, to begin what it called an intensive community relations program and what its detractors called a high-powered public relations campaign.

"Friends of the Job Corps" buttons were manufactured and passed out in the city.

Corpsmen were sent out to clear underbrush from around a Roman Catholic convent and to help with the cooking and cleaning up at New Bedford's annual scallop festival. Discipline was tightened.

Arrests of corpsmen dropped sharply when a retired state police captain was hired to organize a student patrol. It roams downtown streets to spot corpsmen headed toward trouble and stops them before they get there.

TOUGH DIRECTOR

And Science Research Associates of Chicago, the company which runs the center with an $8.6-million government contract, brought in a new, tough director, Theodore E. Nelson.

"We call him Sundown Nelson," said a Rodman student, "because if you mess up here, he'll have you out by sundown."

The campaign—public relations or community relations—paid off. Tension in the community eased.

Last December, the City Council reconsidered its ejection notice and, while refusing to rescind it, gave Nelson a 9-2 vote of confidence. This spring, Rodman played host at a highly successful "Thank You Dinner" for 265 prominent New Bedford residents.

FOUND A WAY

Mayor Edward F. Harrington beamed: "We have found a way to seek a meaningful understanding of each other's wants and needs and problems."

For all its efforts and successes, Rodman has not won complete community acceptance or completely cleared its name. It can't. It's location won't let it.

The center, on the grounds of an old Army fort, is at the tip of a narrow peninsula which juts into bright, blue Apponagansett Bay south of New Bedford, a seacoast city of 100,000.

Where the center ends, New Bedford begins. There is no buffer zone. There is Rodman's chain-link fence, a street and then homes.

MAIN OBJECTION

Councilman Saulnier, 33, leader of the opposition, lives on that street, and he concedes: "My main objection to Rodman is the location."

"These kids come and go through our area," he says. "They use foul language. They raid our girls.

"We're sitting on a keg of dynamite ready to go off. What do you want to do, wait until it happens and then start fighting all over again?"

Rodman calls its location part of its training program.

Nelson says: "You have to get those young men into a normal community life as much as you are able. Our location helps us do that."

Isolated Bhutan Considers Pros, Cons of Joining U.N.

THIMBU, Bhutan (AP) — Bhutan, a remote Himalayan kingdom that once wanted no relations with the outside world, is seriously considering joining the United Nations and entering the arena of international politics.

"Sooner or later we definitely will apply for membership," says King Jigme Dorji Wangchuk.

The first step may come at this fall's General Assembly session. The king's 25-year-old brother, Namgyal Wangchyk, plans to attend as an observer "and see what obligations, especially financial, we would have."

"If we join, it will be for prestige reasons, to show that we are a sovereign, independent nation," he explains.

SOVEREIGNTY

Sovereignty is very important to Bhutan, which is tucked in the eastern Himalayas between India and Chinese-ruled Tibet.

As long as Bhutan's sovereignty is respected, the king and his aides believe, there is little likelihood the kingdom will be involved in any future conflict that might erupt between India and China.

Bhutanese proudly tell visitors that they have never been involved in any major international conflict, including the 1962 border war China and India fought in the neighboring Northeast Frontier Agency.

"Even when Indian soldiers would retreat into Bhutan to obtain sanctuary, the Chinese did not pursue them because they didn't want to cross our border," said Dasho Dawa Tsering, the secretary-general for development.

TIED TO INDIA

Bhutan, with an estimated population of 700,000, is tied to India by a treaty signed in 1949. Under its provisions, Bhutan agreed "to be guided by the advice of the government of India in regard to its foreign relations."

No test has ever been made to determine what would happen if Bhutan did not want to follow India's advice. If Bhutan joins the United Nations, it would determine its own foreign policy —but it does not intend to get involved in any major power politics.

"We will play a minor role in the United Nations," the king said. "We also wil have to remain neutral because of our location in the world."

Red Tape Spurs Project by Flint Congressman

By DAVE BURGIN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Once in a while somebody takes a whack at bureaucratic red tape and comes away with a big chunk of it.

Rep. Don Riegle, the 28-year-old Republican whiz from Flint, Mich., has done it.

"Well, not quite," Riegle said, "but it looks real good, anyway.

Riegle and his zealous, young staff tackled one of the most snarled, confused areas of the federal government—aid to education.

The Riegle staff has developed a new reference manual, listing all federal aid programs in the area of education.

"Doesn't sound like much, does it?" said staffer Helen Hall of Flint, who did most of the digging. "But you'd be amazed."

The project began when Riegle, trying to help out a constituent, requested a certain pamphlet on a certain kind of aid from a certain office in Health, Education and Welfare.

By the time he got the pamphlet he wanted, Riegle said he had contacted "a dozen agencies and I lost count of how many offices."

Administrative assistant Dave Brunell got into the act and wrote to half of Washington requesting federal aid to education pamphlets. "We got two bushel baskets full," Brunell said.

SPECIAL DICTIONARY

Many of the pamphlets were written in governmentese. "The average school principal would need a special governmentese dictionary to understand them," Riegel added.

Miss Hall set to work, pored over all the pamphlets and came up with the new reference book which clearly explains all but about 5 per cent of federal aid to education programs.

The only programs not listed are those which cover federally impacted areas (military bases, etc.) and depressed areas.

"We left out these two areas," Brunell said, "because they do not apply to our district (Michigan 7th). We'd have included them had we known our reference book would get the response it has."

LISTS PROGRAMS

The Riegel book simply lists all the programs by function—libraries, research, student loans, teacher training, etc.

It tells where to write, what's available in funds and manpower. "We tried to use logic," Brunell said wryly.

The Flint Board of Education was so impressed with the Riegle book it ran off 200 copies, which were snapped up quickly.

The National Education Association told Riegle's office of the book; "In its simplicity it's ingenuous."

But HEW, obviously upstaged, hasn't responded. Riegle sent a two-page letter to HEW Secretary John W. Gardner who, according to a HEW spokesman, "has the matter under advisement."

Good News!

For those who have been experiencing difficulty in obtaining automobile insurance . . . and, for those who recently cancelled out . . . whatever the reason. Granted, at the beginning, this type of insurance might call for a somewhat higher rate than usual . . . BUT, the policy carries provision, for yearly premium reduction merited by a good driving record which, eventually, would reduce the premium to normal.

On Fortune and Figures

When Irish Eyes Were Smilin'

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — As long ago as 1742, Irishmen saw themselves unexcelled as lovers.

This is made plain in a 225-year-old book to be exhibited, but not for sale, in London during the annual Book Collectors Fair.

"The Irish Register of 1742" gives a long list of eligible Englishwomen, and in a foreword an unnamed author of the Hibernian Society says:

"No nation carries a better face or makes so good a figure as we do.

'AFFLUENCE'

"Some struggling countrymen have, with a small stock of learning and vigorous constitution, crept into the arms of many a fine woman and affluent fortune."

This is followed by the marriage list for the Cork Casanovas and Limerick Lotharios.

Cited as eligible as wives for Irishmen are 11 duchesses, two marchionesses, 15 dowager countesses, 34 widows of barons and baronets, 27 widows of knights, 62 virgins with titles, 106 rich widows without title and 538 plain misses with money.

"We ought, by indefatigable tenderness and care of the English ladies of large fortunes, redress our (Ireland's) present calamities by cultivating the valuable talents which nature has kindly provided us with," the author wrote.

'GREAT FORTUNE'

"Hundreds of widows and maiden ladies of very great fortune lie unoccupied and neglected.

"For the number of deaths occasioned by the war has greatly enlarged the list of widows and the large body of troops gone abroad has made such a scarcity of gay fellows that I don't doubt if it continues you will have such a variety of things open to you as must unavoidably make our fortunes."

In 1739, England was fighting Spain, and after these battles, the War of Austrian Succession.

In his praise of Englishwomen, the author says:

"I, who have known women of almost all nations, can say that none ever produced such a variety of tempers in love."

AN ANSWER

The second part of this curious book — owned by a London collector who prefers not to be named — contains what is called "The English Register" and is supposed to be an answer to the "Irish Register."

Again the author is unnamed, but it gives a list of Englishmen and urges Englishwomen to turn to them rather than to Irishmen.

A preface begins:

"We cannot easily conceive on what pretense the Irish gentlemen found their presumption of engrossing all the English ladies of quality or fortune to themselves.

"Though it must be confessed that the shameful number of unmarried men which appears in the following list gives but too much ground for the imputation of your indifference at least to matrimony."

ANONYMOUS

The foreword makes it plain that "The English Register" was drawn up by anonymous Englishwomen.

The book says that two Irishmen living in London — Patrick McQuire and Owen O'Bourne — were paid two pennies for every woman's name which appeared in "The Irish Register" as a lady of quality.

For every titleless spinster, they were paid one penny.

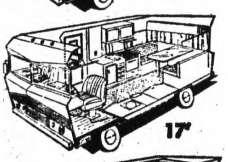

In 1965, 12,000 lives and $1.75 billion in property were lost in fires in the United States.

Into Australia's Outback

Doctors Making Flying Calls

By JACK GABRIEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

ALICE SPRINGS, Australia — Most doctors in North America rarely make house calls any more. But in Australia, anyone living in the rugged Outback area who needs medical attention can be visited by a member of the Royal Flying Doctor Service, known as RFDS.

Australia is roughly the size of continental United States and the Outback is the sparsely settled center of the country. It could be compared to the western desert states, only there is much more of it.

Until 1926, the Outback had no easy means of communications. The late Rev. John Flynn, then in charge of the Australian Inland Mission, decided that the vast territory could not wait for the benefits of civilization to come to it. He solved his problem by combining three elements for those who needed urgent medical attention — radio, aviation and medicine.

Women were widowed and children frequently left fatherless because medical aid was not available quickly enough, if at all. The development of planes helped Rev. Flynn, and the RFDS was created to bring health and healing to the Outback.

A message by radio to the nearest RFDS base, with a brief description of the illness or accident, sends medical help flying, sometimes in just a matter of a few minutes.

Today, the Flying Doctor Service Radio Network covers more than half of Australia, equivalent to an area of 1½-million square miles, with bases scattered throughout the Outback.

A diagnosis over the air is often successful as it is impossible for a doctor and a plane to travel perhaps hundreds of miles to examine every patient who may call in by radio, especially for someone who may call in for very little reason.

Special service is given in all emergencies, such as floods or bush fires, and dropping food by parachute to people isolated by either has become part of the activity.

The RFDS is a nonprofit organization which subsists in part on government grants, subscriptions, donations from patients and funds from events organized by local people, as well as charitable requests.

Several doctors and planes are involved and the latter flew more than 1-million miles in 1966 on medical work, transported almost 3,000 patients to hospitals, dealt with more than 50,000 medical consultations, and the number of over-the-air consultations were about 20,000.

Twisters Still Mystery to Weatherman

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Tornadoes such as those that killed some 50 people and left thousands homeless in eight Midwestern states earlier this spring are still mysteries to the weather forecaster.

Weathermen can now predict broad areas where tornadoes are likely, but pinpointing exact locations of future funnel clouds is now impossible, according to the director of the National Severe Storms Laboratory in Norman, Okla.

Thus, while the areas struck April 22 were under a "tornado watch" alert from the Weather Bureau, no one could have predicted the areas of greatest danger.

A tornado watch is issued when meteorologists identify the conditions in the atmosphere that mean a tornado is likely. It usually covers an area of about 125 miles on a side.

From then on, notes Dr. Edwin Kessler, the only way to tell if a tornado is forming is to watch the sky for the funnel cloud.

'TORNADO WARNING'

When one is spotted, either by an observer or by radar, the Bureau issues a "tornado warning."

The warning, spread by radio and television to the community, means that a twister is in the area and is the signal to take cover immediately.

Chicago was under a tornado watch when the storm struck, but it was not until 10 minutes after the first cloud had begun to demolish the houses of Oak Lawn that a tornado warning could be gotten out.

Even if a twister could be predicted, the chance of doing anything about it are small, indeed, the meteorologist added. "We don't exclude weather modification as an ultimate objective, but it's not around the corner."

Queen of the Fair

13 Girls Vying for Title

Thirteen girls, ranging in age from 14 to 18, are hopeful of succeeding Gloria Bereznicki as queen of this year's North Oakland County Fair, tomorrow through Sunday at the Community Activities, Inc., Building, 5640 Williams Lake, Waterford Township.

In ceremonies beginning at 6 p.m. Sunday, reigning Queen Gloria of 6268 Balmoral, Independence Township, will relinquish the crown she won last year.

The queen contest actually began May 4. The winner will be determined by penny votes which each contestant is collecting in canisters. Each penny counts as one vote.

Also slated to participate in the coronation ceremony is Mrs. James Shearer of 2930 Orangegrove, Waterford Township. Mrs. Shearer, who was the fair's first queen in 1952, is contest chairman.

Top prize for the new queen and a companion will be a one-week vacation at Gay El Rancho in Gaylord. Several other prizes will be awarded to the queen and runners-up.

This year's contestants include Linda Berry, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Berry, 4204 Lotus Drive, Waterford Township; Terry Bradford, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woigdka, 2912 Orangegrove, Waterford Township; Karen Burton, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Burton, 6956 Desmond, Waterford Township; and Penny Campbell, 14, daughter of Mr .and Mrs. J. R. Harris, 2239 Jones, Waterford Township.

Other contestants are Agnes Coppy 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Coppy, 2277 Grange Hall, Fenton; Linda Eads, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virtree Eads, 3805 Breaker, Waterford Township; and Judy Edwards, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Edwards, 26 Clive, Waterford Township.

Also entered are Debbie Henricks, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Henricks, 4030 Silverbirch, Waterford Township; Sandra Johnson, 15, daughter of Mrs. Marion Johnson, 5806 Dwight, Waterford Township; Linda McClune, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Prince, 2026 Kohler, Waterford Township; and Delores Moreno, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Moreno, 3838 Clintonville, Waterford Township.

Rounding out the list of candidates are Charlene Morris, 15, daughter of Mr.and Mrs. Mark Meyer, 2256 Williams Lake, Waterford Township; and Lynn Silvis, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Silvis, 3959 Embarcadero, Waterford Township.

Too Much Fat in Lamb's Tails

By Science Service

ANKARA, Turkey — If all the fat-tailed lambs of Cyprus came home yesterday with no tails to wag behind them, the island would be richer by half a million dollars a year.

This is the view of experts of the U.N. Food and Agricultural Organization, who say too much of the fat on the sheep of Cyprus and many parts of the Middle East, including Turkey, is going into the tail and not onto the platter.

Every year about 300,000 fat-tailed lambs are slaughtered on Cyprus before their tails swell.

The meat is of better quality because fat that would have gone into the tail is distributed throughout the meat, giving a "marbling" effect which improves taste.

Rats No. 1 Enemy in Saigon Slums

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

BUJPHAT, Vietnam (NEA) — The old man lives on the shallow side of the river channel, next to a reeking slit trench which is the public toilet. He is a hopeless cripple. Most of one leg is missing.

The war?, someone asks.

No, he says.

What then?

Con chuot, he says, "the rat."

Here in the slums of Saigon the government's political war is of secondary despair to the miserably impoverished. Their chief enemy is fourlegged. And with the winds of every evening the adversaries come, tails whipping the earth . . . thousands upon thousands of filthy brown rats.

The old man is one of countless victims. Rodents outpopulate people in this nation and, in recent years overcrowding and underdeveloping, they have caused more trouble than Vietcong guerrillas.

In the slums, the toll is ghastly. The old man was bitten while in bed, had no money for medicine or treatment, suffered until a rot set in, and then finally visited the surgeon for amputation.

Others have lost fingers, even ears. Children have been viciously mobbed while playing in infested alleyways. Women have been attacked in pregnancy. Immobile invalids have provided human feasts.

But brutality is not the rat's only weapon. Disease is another. Each creature is a potential transporter of the dreaded bubonic plague.

Figures make the point:

In 1961 there were eight plague victims.

In 1963 there were 119.

In 1965 there were nearly 4,500.

And in addition to plague, the nation's rodents — wallowing in the foulest filth—are the continuing carriers of such disorders as dysentery, infectious jaundice, rabies and tularemia.

In sum, the rodent has executed every vile form of animal provocation in Vietnam . . . and, sadly, he is a well-equipped aggressor.

Biologically, he is nature's ideal vandal. His teeth grow at the rate of four inches a year and thus require constant gnawing and honing. Add a stomach capable of any consumption and the rat will gorge on leather, tin, cement, plastic rubber . . . and even human bone.

Further, the rat is numerically superior to local slum families. He has strength of numbers which beggars the imagination. It is not uncommon to see 50-100 swarming over great mounds of open refuse.

Health officials are hamstrung. Now and then they launch control programs, only to wind up with a couple hundred dead rats and utter defeat.

Citizen cooperation is the roadblock. It is impossible for exterminators to get collaboration in the most needy areas — those inhabited by mental deficients who defecate the streets for convenience and treat neighborhood garbage piles like supermarkets.

Anyway, killing rats seems to serve little advantage. Some always survive. And, given ideal conditions, a single remaining female can bear 10 litters every year . . . for a total of nearly 100 young.

That, though, is plenty.

It exactly equals the nation's human population.

It is, in fact, statistically possible for one pair to produce as many as 350 million descendants every 36 months of their lives.

The figures, fortunately, are merely mathematic projections. Most rats are killed in infancy by predators. Thus their total population here remains a constant (and estimated) 15 million.

And if the one-to-one odds seem to favor the citizen, it must be understood that the rats are not spread out with the population, that they stay in the city slums . . . and, therefore, in a few dozen acres of a few thousand people, rats may exist in the millions.

Obviously, the situation is barely tolerable. Yet the people do tolerate it. As with most of their social miseries, the Saigon slum dwellers have accepted the brown rat as a part of everyday conflict.

Troy School Cutbacks Set in Wake of Millage Defeat

Pontiac Press Photo

WELL-DESERVED DIPLOMA—Eighteen-year-old Diane Schaefer graduated fourth in a class of 399 from Waterford Kettering High School last night even though she has been bedfast since being stricken with rheumatoid arthritis six years ago. Presenting Diane with her diploma is Mrs. Lempi Church, her home-bound teacher the past two years. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schaefer of 6695 Wellesley, Independence Township, Diane had a 3.83 average out of a possible 4.0 during her high school career.

By ED BLUNDEN

The Troy School District will not open a new junior high school and an elementary will be closed in wake of a millage election defeat, Alex Tunstall, board president, said today.

A 28-step plan announced prior to the election which will cut about 22 teachers and halt interscholastic athletics will also be put into efect, he said.

The moves were decided at last night's board meeting which followed Monday's election. The millage issue lost by a wide margin, 1,532 to 613.

In addition, the board's vice president, Gordon Sparks, a staunch supporter of the administration, was defeated by Harold Janes, an advocate of "fiscal responsibility."

Janes vowed "heads will roll" in the Troy school administration.

'ACTIVE PART'

He said he was angered over the election campaign in which he claims the administration took an active part, contrary to election laws.

The school board said it will not open a junior high recently completed at Donelson and Square Lake. This will mean two shifts at Baker Junior High with the ninth grade attending the high school.

Colerain Elementary is to be closed, but three new elementaries will open as planned, the board decided.

The board's 28-point austerity plan includes cutting all music teachers (10) and art teachers (4), plus five clerk-typists and several special education projects, in addition to a large portion of interscholastic sports.

$278,000 DEFICIT

The school administration said before the election it had attained a $278,000 deficit in the previous year and would face a similar deficit in the 1967-68 year.

This was blamed partly on an expanding program and also on the fact that a retroactive contract negotiated by the Troy Education Association put spending above anticipated figures.

On a platform of "fiscal responsibility" he beat Sparks, a radio executive, by a 1,281 to 697 margin.

Diplomas Awarded to 399 at 6th Kettering Graduation

Diplomas were awarded to 399 seniors last night at Waterford Kettering High School's sixth annual commencement program.

Commencement speaker Dr. Albert A. Canfield, vice president of curriculum, research and development at Oakland Community College, advised the graduates that they must continue to improve themselves and to adjust to a changing world in order to achieve success.

Canfield told the seniors they must worry about competing among themselves rather than with the older generation because that's where the competition lies.

List of Graduates, Page C-10

Valedictorian David Cox and Salutatorian Patricia Atkins also spoke. They were introduced by Kettering Principal James S. Fry.

HANDED OUT DIPLOMAS

Diplomas were awarded by Board of Education President Robert E. Field.

City Gives 1st OK to General Fund

City commissioners last night introduced and gave preliminary approval to the annual appropriation calling for a $8,290,331 general fund for 1967 and a tax levy of $18.02 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized for all city operations.

Final approval is scheduled to be given next Monday.

The tax levy for city operations is up 24 cents per $1,000 over 1966 to support a total budget of $12.3 million for the fiscal year, which began Jan. 1.

At the budget public hearing last night City Assessor James E. Kephart Jr. said tax bills — to be mailed next month — will reflect increases also in school taxes and taxes for Oakland Community College

Tax bills will show this year for the first time both assessed valuation and equalized valuation of property, he said.

Mariner Racing Toward Venus

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Mariner 5 spacecraft raced a heavier Soviet probe toward Venus today to penetrate with electronic fingers the plant's mysterious veil of clouds and help scientists see if Venus is a fit place to live.

The 540-pound Mariner 5, less than one-quarter the weight of the Soviet Union's Venus 4 craft launched two days earlier, rocketed from Cape Kennedy at 2:01 a.m. EDT today on the first U.S. venture to Venus since 1962 and this nation's first planetary probe in more than 2½ years.

Mariner's fiery Atlas-Agena booster rocket threaded an imaginary needle in space to send the windmill-shaped spacecraft toward its distant target 212 million miles away.

"We are going precisely where we expected to go," project officials reported after tracking the spacecraft for several hours. Mariner 5's flight path is well within the capability of an onboard motor to adjust its path later in the flight, they said.

House Extends Layoff Benefits

LANSING (AP) — A bill to give auto workers an extra week of unemployment benefits during model changeover layoffs passed the House yesterday with bipartisan support.

But earlier, Republicans beat down a Democratic attempt to amend the Senate-passed bill to provide that employees also pay laid-off workers an extra week's worth of supplemental unemployment benefits.

The measure also increases unemployment compensation payments by $3 to $4 a week.

Representatives faced the possible prospect of working until midnight tonight — the deadline for passing Senate bills which do not levy taxes or appropriate money.

Near the top of the calendar was another controversial labor law prohibiting fire and police employes from belonging to labor organizations which represent other types of employes.

The jobless benefits bill, sponsored by Sen. Oscar Bouwsma, R-Muskegon, would eliminate the provision that workers are not paid unemployment compensation for the first week of their layoff.

Although the worker, under Bouwsma's bill, would get an extra week's benefits, the measure is worded so that an employer would not be required to pay supplemental benefits for the week.

FAREWELL — Retiring Principal Mrs. Iva O'Dell of Donelson School, 1200 W. Huron, Waterford Township, bids farewell to several of her pupils as they head home for the summer. Today marked the last day of school for students of the Waterford Township and Pontiac districts. Mrs. O'Dell is retiring after serving as principal of the school nearly 40 years.

State Drowsy as Hour Is Lost

By The Associated Press

After months of debate in the Legislature, bills, amendments, court decisions, motions, appeals, referendum calls and other legal gobbledygook, Michigan today was an hour faster than the sun.

Michigan's eight million residents awoke with one hour less sleep, but perhaps refreshed by the fact that the great time controversy has been settled — at least for the time being.

The state was officially switched from Eastern Standard Time to Eastern Daylight Savings Time at 12:01 a.m. when the Board of State Canvassers met in Lansing.

Mrs. Zoe Burkholz of Benton Harbor, one of three board members present, moved that the board certify petitions calling for a vote of the people on the issue.

The motion was unanimously adopted, the work of the Legislature in exempting Michigan from the Federal Uniform Time Act was undone, and Robert M. Montgomery, board secretary, announced that it was 1:01 a.m. EDT. The meeting adjourned at 1:02 a.m. (EDT).

SOME CONFUSION

The abrupt time switch caused confusion at television stations, bus, rail and airline terminals and at businesses throughout the state.

General Motors, largest of the Big Three auto makers, announced that its plants would remain on Eastern Standard Time until 2 a.m. Sunday, since the change would cause less confusion then with a minimum of employes working.

In the Upper Peninsula, people were not happy nor quiet about the time change.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled yesterday that the action by the Board of Canvassers would put both the Upper and Lower Peninsulas on Eastern Daylight Time.

This would make the sunset in the Western UP about 9:40 p.m. (EDT).

At least a dozen counties in the UP have claimed they will stay on Central Daylight Time, which is the same as Eastern Standard Time.

"Anyone who does not go along with it," Kelley said, "will be in violation of the law."

Top Problems for OU: Funds and Books

"Reports of a dismaying financial cutback from the state and the problems of an inadequate library are the chief matters confronting Oakland University at the moment," said Chancellor D. B. Varner in his annual report last night to the Oakland University Foundation.

"It is rumored the Legislature may vote us about $50,000 in place of the $1,065,000 which constitutes an absolute minimum," the chancellor said.

"If this ever comes about, all growth will be abruptly halted when current funds are exhausted.

"Our enrollment now is 3,200 and we planned on 3,800 to 4,000 next fall.

"Obviously, this will fade immediately if we can't finance the faculty and necessities."

'CAN BE CRUCIAL'

"The next few days in Lansing can be crucial for Oakland's forward progress.

"Our plans are well-formulated, but a token appropriation would inflict a blow that would take years to overcome," said Varner.

"Our other big problem is books for the library. The Kresge Foundation provided us with this beautiful and serviceable building but the book problem is strictly ours. We need help from the neighborhood in the matter of books, cash, bequests, etc.

"We have 120,000 books now and the accreditating association says 300,000 is a minimum.

Plans were outlined for a slow rotation of the university foundation board and the Executive Committee so that a greater cross-section representation would result over the years.

Prisoner Switch OK'd

GENEVA (AP) — The International Red Cross announced today that Israel and Egypt have agreed to an initial exchange of 50 prisioners badly wounded in the Middle East war.

A Red Cross spokesman said it is hoped to make the exchange at Nicosia, Cyprus, tomorrow. A DC4 plane loaned by a Swiss Airline is standing by in Nicosia to make the exchange.

Pontiac Represented on Orchestra Board

Dr. Walter Collins of Oakland University and Mrs. Maxwell Shadley, Ottawa Drive, attended the recent board meeting of the Michigan Orchestra Association in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Shadley represents Pontiac Symphony Orchestra in the association which is composed of community orchestras.

Area DST Reactions Vary

Reaction locally to the change to "fast time" was varied but, as with a switch in the weather, nearly everyone had an opinion.

Comment on the expected effect of the time change, measured by an informal survey yesterday, generally depended on whether an individual did his business at night or during daylight hours.

There's to be more of the latter with "fast time," which finds favor with golf course operators but definitely not with outdoor theater owners.

Mothers, charged with the task of bedding down children, appeared in favor of the added sunshine, although it may mean a later bedtime.

Yesterday was a "touchy day" for local indoor and drive-in theater owners, according to John Taylor, operator of the Hills Theater in Rochester, as they met the approval of Daylight Saving Time with protest.

'WILL KILL US'

Taylor, who closed his theater last night, says "It's going to kill us for the first two or three months because people just aren't going to look at their watches. It's going to take them at least that long to adjust.

"Daylight Saving Time", he said, "is going to be not only murder to places like mine but definitely to drive-ins."

Harry Schneider, district manager for Redstone Drive-in Theaters and spokesman for the Blue Sky, Miracle Mile, Pontiac and Waterford drive-ins, said the industry tried to look at it from an unselfish standpoint.

Tampa Riot Quiets; Guard in Ohio Clear

By the Associated Press

Officials held National Guard troops and police reinforcements out of riot-torn areas of Tampa, Fla., Tuesday night despite an outbreak of arsonist fires.

But in Ohio, officials called in National Guardsmen to aid hard-pressed policemen trying to stem a second night of racial rioting which spread through Cincinnati and outlying areas with sporadic fires and stoning of cars.

The Tampa Fire Department reported 13 alarms after the troops were pulled out. "They are mostly fire bombs and building fires," the dispatcher said.

A Negro leader at a fire scene said he felt there would have been even more fire bombings if police had not withdrawn.

'BACK TO NORMAL'

Shortly after midnight, a Negro patrolman said things were "almost back to normal."

Cincinnati Mayor Walton S. Bachrach asked Gov. James A. Rhodes for National Guardsmen after violence spread over a wide area of his city. The Guardsmen, carrying the fixed bayonets and with machine guns mounted on Jeeps, moved into the riot areas early today.

Police said more than 20 persons had been arrested and at least 22 injured.

ALABAMA MARCH

Elsewhere on the racial scene, black power advocates Stokely Carmichael and Rap Brown appeared before the second march in two nights by young Montgomery, Ala., Negroes. Both were critical of action by white officials during a gun battle at nearby Prattville Sunday night.

The incident began when a group of about 25 whites gathered in Elton Park in the East New York section, armed themselves with sticks and bricks and marched to nearby Glenmore Avenue.

There they encountered the Negro group and the row ensued.

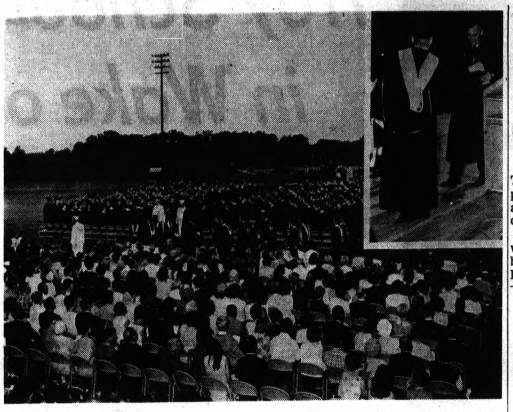

MIXED MARRIAGE

In Warren, Mich., police guarded the home of a racially mixed couple after a mob of more than 80 persons hurled stones at the house and shouted threats. A picture window was shattered by stones in the $25,000 house being purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Corado Bailey, but no injuries were reported. Bailey is a Negro and his wife, Ruby, is white.

Calm returned to the predominantly Negro Watts district of Los Angeles after a night in which 500 Negroes threw rocks and bottles at firemen fighting a $35,000 blaze.

At Helena, Ark., testimony began in U.S. District Court on a $150,000 civil rights suit filed by a Negro who claims he was pistol-whipped at the city jail after being arrested unjustly in 1965.

Dems Unify Tax Stand

LANSING (AP) — House Republican leaders, trying frantically to put together 56 votes for a revenue-raising tax program, are right back where they were five weeks ago.

They apparently face the unwelcome chore of formal negotiations with Democratic leaders rather than informal agreements with individual Democrats, in the search for needed support for their income tax package.

The Democratic caucus decided Tuesday that no member should agree to vote for the House tax program until bipartisan negotiations had molded it into shape more attractive to Democrats as a party.

The move clearly was made to head off Republican attempts to win the votes of individual Democratic members for the GOP-drafted program now before the House.

Speaker Robert Waldron and other House GOP leaders, along with Gov. George Romney, have been asking for support from a handful of Democrats, while trying to avoid more formal negotiations with Democratic leader William Ryan — whom they expect will demand more than they want to surrender.

Kosygin May Attend if U.N. Session Called

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union pressed today for an emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly to take action against Israel amid speculation that Premier Alexei N. Kosygin might attend.

The Security Council was scheduled to meet today on a Soviet resolution calling for Israel to withdraw immediately from the territory it seized in its blitz war against Egypt, Jordan and Syria. Council delegates believed the resolution would get only four of the nine votes needed for adoption, clearing the way for action on the Soviet request for the assembly to meet.

Following defeat of the Soviet resolution, Secretary General U. Thant would poll the 122 U.N. members by telegram, and the necessary majority of 62 countries was expected to agree to the emergency session. Thant then was likely to call the session on 24 hours' notice.

Speculation that the Soviet premier would attend stemmed from a letter from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to Thant Tuesday saying "leading statesmen of the Soviet Union" would attend.

Soviet and other Communist sources at the United Nations said they did not know to whom Gromyko was referring, and Soviet spokesmen in Moscow refused to comment on the speculation about Kosygin. The Soviets obtained a permit to land a special plane in New York about Thursday but postponed the flight, apparently awaiting the scheduling of the assembly session. The U.S. Embassy in Moscow said the Soviet government had not requested any visas for the flight.

Should Kosygin come to New York, many other heads of government and possibly even President Johnson were expected to attend the session.

The feeling was widespread among Arab delegations that the Russians were promoting the assembly session primarily to divert attention from their failure to help the Arabs in the war. In line with this, Saudi Arabian delegate Jamil M. Baroody commented that for the Arabs, the result of an assembly session would be "zero."

Gromyko's letter said that despite the Security Council's three cease-fire resolutions, Israel had "seized further territories" from Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

A house assessed at $5,300 will have a valuation as equalized of $6,678 and would be levied taxes of $256.23, up from $243.28 last year, he said.

The school tax levy rose from $26.85 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized to $28.42 per $1,000 because of an increase in the debt retirement levy, Kephart said.

The Oakland Community College levy rose from $1.27 per $1,000 to $1.90 and the total bill will go up from $45.90 to $48.34.

The city's share of the tax bill —after the commission adopts the necessary ordinances next week — will include a $12.71 levy per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized for general fund operations, $2.21 for sanitation and waste collection, $1.90 for capital improvement funds, 71 cents for retirement of sewage disposal bonds and 49 cents for retirement of hospital construction bonds.

The charter limits the tax levy for general fund operations to $10 per $1,000 of assessed valuation before equalization factors are applied.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said the general fund budget entails deficit spending of $502,539 during the fiscal year.

He said the city can manage a deficit budget this year because of a previous balance. "For all practical purposes there will be no surplus by January 1, 1968, and we will be in the position of facing a deficit budget without funds to meet it," he said.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. warned that unless new revenue is created there will be a "terrific layoff of employes" near the end of the year.

SANITATION FEE

The chief difference in the city budget this year and last year's is that the city will increase the levy for sanitation and waste collection from $1.91 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized to $2.21.

Appropriations for the sanitation fund are larger this year because of the 10 per cent employe salary increase granted early this year and because administrative costs which had previously come out of the general fund were transferred, Edward R. Gallagher, director of finance, explained.

"This is a clear mandate from the people," Janes said.

He claims the board, the administration and PTA groups in the city had formed a clique which had "lost touch with the people."

He vowed to work with the board, but said he would ask for the dismissal of some administrators who he claimed had taken an active part in the election.

Arson at Taxi Garage Is Charged to Teen

NEW YORK (AP) — A teenager was arrested today in the blast Tuesday night in which 19 persons were burned, seven critically, when a match was tossed at gasoline dripping from a taxicab in the Bronx.

The seven critical were all teen-agers and children.

Charged with arson in the resulting taxicab garage fire was Manuel Soltero, 18.

A fire department spokesman said Soltero's cousin, Ann, and her 4-year-old son, Paul, were injured in the fire.

'TERRIBLY SORRY'

Detectives quoted Soltero as saying, "I didn't think it would do that much damage. I'm terribly sorry."

Police said the young man came here from Puerto Rico only a few months ago.

Doctors performed at least four emergency skin graft operations.

The victims of the fire and explosion were playing outside a taxicab garage in the Bronx when driver James Paul said he saw a youth about 17 "deliberately throw a match" into gas spilling from the ruptured tank of a cab pulling into the garage.

'LIKE A FLASH'

Then, "like a flash," he said, the auto exploded.

"We were about 40 feet from the garage when I saw this wall of flame coming out of it and enveloping people," said Fire Lt. Salvatore Patrissi whose station is located in the next block. "Kids on fire were running in every direction."

Firemen and police chased the children as they ran aimlessly and with their hair aflame, to throw coats, blankets or whatever they could find on them to smother the flames.

Pontiac Sales Set June Period Record

Pontiac Motor Division reported today that its sales for the first 10 days of June were the highest for that period in the history of the division and were 6 per cent above a year ago.

Thomas L. King, Pontiac's general sales manager, said sales for the June 1-10 period totaled 26,027 units, surpassing the previous record of 25,064 set in 1965.

For the same period last year Pontiac dealers sold 24,469 new cars.

Area residents are cautioned to remain out of the water and to refrain from using lake water on lawns for a period of 10 days after their area has been treated.

Chemicals will be pumped into the weeds from a pontoon boat traveling around the lakes.

Seoul Violence in 3rd Day

SEOUL (AP) — More than 30,000 students defied a government ban today and waged violent demonstrations for the third day in Seoul charging that parliamentary elections last Thursday were rigged.

Twelve universities were closed in Seoul, Pusan and Taegu, but students from 31 universities and high schools in Seoul battled riot police for six hours, throwing rocks and chanting slogans as the police wielded clubs and fired tear gas.

The police said 49 of their men were injured, six of them seriously. About 50 students and five high school teachers were hurt by police clubs.

Police said 423 students and 14 adults were picked up for investigation.

NEAR MANSION

Two groups of about 500 demonstrators managed to reach the heavily guarded Capitol compound near the presidential mansion. About 400 students staged brief sitdowns in front of the headquarters of the ruling Democratic Republican party.

Dodd Denies Expense Fraud

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, opening his defense against proposed censure by his colleagues, hits hardest at the charge he bilked the government on travel expenses. But he says if he is judged a thief, he should be expelled from the Senate.

The white-haired Connecticut Democrat acknowledges that he used some campaign and testimonial funds for personal expenses—although not to the extent reported by the Senate Ethics Committee in recommending his censure.

In denying during Tuesday's opening of debate on the resolution that he deliberately billed the Senate for travel expenses collected from private groups, Dodd said, "I am telling you the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help me God."

The ethics committee, after a 14-month investigation, found Dodd billed both the Senate and private organizations for travel expenses on seven trips and also used political funds for his personal benefit.

DOUBLE BILLING

Dodd blamed the double-billing on bookkeeping errors and disclosed for the first time that he had sent a check for $1,763.96 to the Senate disbursing office "in full payment for the seven trips that were erroneously billed to the government."

Mount Clemens Street Name Change Okayed

City commissioners last night approved changing the name of Mount Clemens Street to University Drive following a public hearing.

Two persons attending the hearing spoke on the name change. James Howlett, an attorney representing Oakland University, spoke in favor of the change.

A businessman who has commercial interests on Mount Clemens spoke against it.

District 5 Commissioner John A. Dugan, speaking in favor, said he had expected more opposition.

The name change was originally requested by Oakland University Chancellor D. B. Varner, who said the new name would make the university easier to find.

Outside the city, Mount Clemens becomes Pontiac Road. The Oakland County Road Commission has indicated it is agreeable to changing that name to University Drive.

Tentative plans call for phasing out the Mount Clemens designation over a two-year period.

Commissioners last night agreed that University Street, located in the north end, would have to undergo a name change to avoid duplication and confusion.

In other business last night, commissioners voted to adopt an ordinance to license and control scrap iron and metal processors.

FENCES CALLED FOR

The ordinance calls for dealers to erect metal, wire, or wood opaque fences around the yards and requires that they be painted every two years.

Existing dealers must conform to the ordinance in one year, new dealers immediately.

In answer to District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin's question as to how far the city could go in regulating dealers, Director of Law Shirwin M. Birnkrant said: "Fifteen years ago we couldn't legislate pleasant surroundings . . . beautification" because it didn't fall in the province of health, safety and welfare.

Judicial interpretation of legislative power has come to the point where this type of legislation is recognized as an allowable legislative function, he said.

RECEIVED NOTIFICATION

Commissioners also received notification that the federal grant for the Urban Renewal Project R-20 had been increased by $38,235 to provide for rehabilitation of structures within the project.

The city now has been granted a total of $6,046,097.

5th Fire Brigade Meet at GMC Truck Thursday

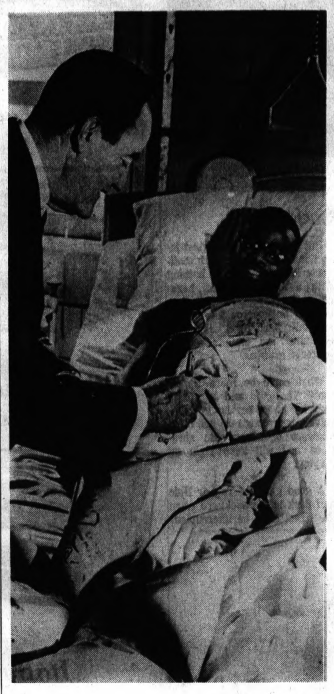

The fifth annual GMC Truck and Coach Division Fire Brigade meet is 2 p.m. tomorrow at the athletic field on the north side of Opdyke on division grounds.

Some 18 fire brigade teams will compete in seven events for a gold cup. Teams will be judged for the timing and quality of equipment they select to extinguish a series of mock fires.

"The competition gives the men a chance to work with the fire apparatus kept in the plants for use against fires," said a company spokesman.

The teams are composed of volunteer fire fighting units who are continually prepared to combat possible fires in the plants.

The mock fires will be of the types which could possibly start in a plant.

AN AUTOGRAPH FOR WOUNDED MARINE — Vice President Hubert Humphrey autographs the cast of Claude Gilliam, a 19-year-old Marine who was wounded in Vietnam, at Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital yesterday. Humphrey, who underwent minor surgery at the hospital, visited Gilliam and other wounded Vietnam veterans before leaving the hospital. Gilliam is from Weirton, W. Va.

$41,350 for Improvements to Parking Lot Authorized

City Affairs

City commissioners last night approved spending $41,350 to light, landscape and improve the city-owned parking lot at West Huron and Saginaw.

Joseph E. Neipling, director of public works and service, told the commission it was possible to spend the money because of the income derived from the lot.

He said the city is taking in about $3,500 per month while expenses are about $1,100 per month.

Plans call for a full-time attendant who would supervise the lot and collect parking fees.

District 4 Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson said the lot's operation has justified action taken by the commission to transfer the city airport to the county in exchange for the parking lot and the Masonic Temple building at 18½ E. Lawrence.

Neipling also said the city could attain 60 feet of right-of-way along Featherstone owned by the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit for construction of the Galloway Creek Sanitary Sewer if it waived future road assessments.

Although there was some hesitancy on the part of commissioners to do so, they agreed not to levy assessments for street surfacing or widening as long as the property was owned by the diocese.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said it appears that the property will be acquired in the near future by the Pontiac School District.

The commission also held hearings on the necessity of curbing, paving and providing sewers for Central from the Grand Trunk Western Railway tracks to Irwin, for Merriman and North Merrimac.

The commission denied a petition to rezone to commercial two lots west of 205 W. New York and ordered public hearings July 11 for three other rezoning petitions.

Root Beer Puts Flavor in Confection

Root beer, the popular soft drink favorite, now finds its way into exciting new recipes for summertime.

Root Beer Cereal-Nut Crunch makes the perfect munch on a summer picnic or beach party. Make lots of Crunch — eat it by the handfull — with big foaming mugs of ice cold root beer.

"Last one in the pool" has probably scooped up the last bit of this sunny confection!

Root Beer Cereal-Nut Crunch

*2 12-ounce containers root beer
6 cups ready-to-eat puffed oat cereal
1 cup salted peanuts
1 cup sugar
⅓ cup light corn syrup
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon salt

Measure cereal and peanuts in buttered bowl. Combine root beer (slowly), sugar, syrup, butter or margarine and salt in saucepan, mix gently and well.

Bring to a boil slowly, stirring until sugar melts. Cook to hard crack stage (when a drop in very cold water separates into brittle threads).

Pour syrup in fine stream over cereal and peanuts; stir gently until cereal is evenly coated with syrup. Spread onto buttered baking sheet and with fork separate cereal into bite-size pieces; cool. Yield: About 12 cups confection.

*Artificially sweetened (diet) root beer may be substitute if desired.

IT'S THE CRUNCHIEST! — Root Beer Cereal-Nut Crunch made with root beer and served up to a crowd at snack time. Great for pool-side munching and perfect for picnics! Served with a frosty root beer cooler, this candied-crunch will be a favorite all through the summer months.

Add Rolled Oats to Hamburgers

For juicier, flavorful hamburgers, thoroughly combine 1½ pounds of ground beef, ¾ cup of rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked), ½ cup of milk, ¼ cup of chopped onion, 1½ teaspoons of salt, ¼ teaspoon of pepper, 1 teaspoon of dry mustard and 2 tablespoons of catsup. Divide into 6 patties. Broil or pan-fry 7 minutes. Turn and continue cooking 4 to 5 minutes for medium doneness.

Bake a Cool Rise Loaf of Bread

There's no need to stop baking just because the weatherman says it's summertime. In fact, it's a great time to get the whole family into the kitchen.

* * *

And there's nothing like the of Honey Lemon Whole Wheat Bread to excite beginning bakers and please eager appetites.

Thanks to the CoolRise method of yeast baking you can bake yeast breads in the summer and keep cool while you're at it.

The dough is mixed, kneaded and shaped in less than an hour — any cool hour of the day. Then, the shaped dough is refrigerated.

Now you're free to enjoy the summer sunshine. Bake the bread whenever the summer heat subsides — anytime from two to 24 hours later.

Your baking brigade will insist they've earned a loaf for lunch, but you'll want to save one for later.

Wrapped in moisture-vapor proof saran food wrap, it will keep in your freezer for as long as three months.

HONEY LEMON WHOLE WHEAT BREAD
(CoolRise Method)

3-4 cups flour
(Regular or Instant blending)
2 cups stone ground whole wheat flour
2 pkgs. or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
½ cup warm water (105 degrees)
1 — ¾ cups warm milk (105 degrees-115 degrees)
cup honey
1 tablespoon salt
3 tablspoon margarine or shortening
1 tablespoon grated leomon rind
Cooking oil

Spoon or pour all purpose flour into dry measuring cup. Level off and pour measured flour onto wax paper. Repeat measuring procedure for whole wheat flour.

Sprinkle or crumble yeast into ½ cup warm water in large, warm bowl. Stir until dissolved. Add warm milk, honey, salt, margarine and 1 cup all-purpose flour.

Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer at low speed until smooth (about 1 minute). Add 2 cups whole wheat flour. Beat vigorously with wooden spoon. (150 strokes) or electric mixer a medium speed (2-3 minutes) until thick and elastic. Scrape side of bowl occasionally.

* * *

Stir in lemon rind with wooden spoon. Then add remaining flour gradually. Use just enough flour to make a soft dough which leaves sides of bowl, adding more if necessary.

Turn out onto floured board. Round up into a ball.

Knead 5-10 minutes or until dough is smooth, elastic and no longer sticky. Cover with saran food wrap then a towel. Let rest for 20 minutes on board.

Punch down. Divide into 2 equal portions. Round up each portion.

ROLLED DOUGH

Shape into loaves. Roll each portion into an 8x12-inch rectangle. Roll up tightly into loaves beginning with 8-inch edge. Seal final seam and ends well. Place in greased 8½" x 4½" x 2⅝" bread pans.

Correct pan size is important for best results.

Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours at moderately cold setting. When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator. Uncover. Let stand for 10 minutes while preheating oven.

Puncture any surface bubbles with an oiled toothpick just before baking.

Bake at 400 degrees for 30-40 minutes or until done. Bake on a lower oven rack position for best results. Remove from pans immediately. Brush top crust with margarine if desired. Cool on racks. Yield: 2 loaves.

Maple Mixture Tops a Cake

Prepare a 10½-ounce package of coffee cake mix as directed on package, adding 3 tablespoons of the topping to the mix along with the egg and milk. Bake as directed.

* * *

While cake is baking, combine remaining topping mix and 3 tablespoons of maple-blended syrup. Spread over cake as soon as it comes out of the oven.

Sprinkle with ¼ cup of chopped pecans. Serve warm. Makes 8 servings.

HONEY AND LEMON—The whole family will enjoy baking Honey Lemon Whole Wheat Bread the cool and easy CoolRise way. Serve the bakers a loaf at lunch and freeze the other in moisture-vapor proof saran food wrap.

Olive Oil Needed for Spanish Potatoes

There are certain culinary tricks that are basic to each national cuisine.

In French sauces, the "roux" is important: the way butter and flour are cooked and stirred together until deftly blended.

In Chinese cooking, it's the stir-fry method of quickly sauteeing minced vegetables to the tender-crisp state.

In making East Indian curries, the trick is to add the spices (or curry powder) direct to the fat when meat is being sauteed.

In German cooking, what are called "soup herbs" (carrot, onion, parsley and celery) are added to virtually all stews and pot roasts as well as soups and stocks.

A word found again and again in Spanish cookbooks is "sofrito." This refers to minced vegetables or herbs (onion, garlic, parsley and tomato usually) cooked in olive oil until very soft and tender. A "sofrito" is used in nearly all Spanish entrees made with a sauce; it is also the first step called for in making most Spanish sauces and soups.

* * *

In the German or French kitchen, these herbs or vegetables are usually dropped into boiling broth.

Potaotes a la Mancha

2 large onions, sliced
1 garlic clove,minced
½ cup Spanish olive oil
5 to 6 medium potatoes, cubed
2 large carrots, scraped, diced
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¾ to 1 cup water

Gently cook onion and garlic in olive oil in large heavy pot until soft and yellow. Add remaining vegetables, parsley, salt and pepper. Brown lightly then add water; simmer, covered for 30 to 40 minutes or until vegetables are very tender, shaking pan several times.

Serve vegetables with the sauce, to accompany cold meat or fried eggs. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Momentum May Be Slowing

Active Market Inches Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market inched ahead early today but showed signs that it was losing the momentum of its six - session advance. Trading was active.

Although gains outnumbered losers by a comfortable margin in the over - all list, the industrial average showed little change. This reflected an indifferent performance by blue chips which did well Tuesday.

Recent favorites in the airlines and rails were under selling pressure. United Airlines dropped 3 and Eastern Air Lines about 2½. New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad lost about 1½ each.

American Hoist & Derrick was a 3-point loser.

On the other hand, IBM ran up more than 9 points. Chrysler and Standard Kollsman were active and up more than a point each.

Sperry Rand, Tuesday's most active gainer, added another fraction.

The rise in auto industry sales in early June was an encouraging factor and there was no particular bearish news at the moment, analysts said. They remarked, however, that the six sessions of advance, most of it on the inspiration of Israeli victory, had made the market vulnerable to correction, short-term or otherwise.

Opening blocks included:

Kroger, off ⅝ at 22½ on 23,200 shares; American Telephone, off ¼ at 56 on 7,000; General Motors, up ⅛ at 80 on 4,800, and Swift, up ¼ at 26 on 4,200.

The trend was higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Arson Is Eyed in Barn Blaze

Addison Township Fire Department officials suspect arson is involved in the burning last night of an abandoned barn on Rochester Road, north of Howard Lake Road.

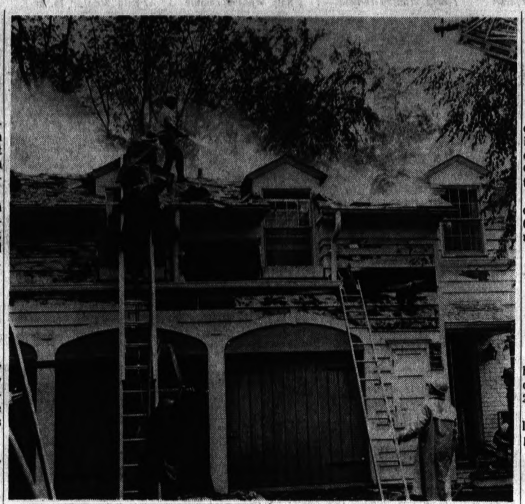

Township Fire Chief John Hock said the department received the alarm at 7 p. m. but that the barn was destroyed before they arrived at the scene.

The barn was not near an inhabited building. Its owner has not yet been determined, according to Hock. He said there were no contents of any apparent value.

The fire burned through power lines connecting to a nearby telephone pole, temporarily cutting off electrical and telephone service to a number of homes in the area.

The department plans further investigation.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS FIRE — Flames and smoke spring from the roof of the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Mills of 780 Vaughn, Bloomfield Hills, yesterday. The roof of a portion of the west wing was destroyed and some smoke and water damage occurred in the wing of the large home. Mills is Ford Motor Co. vice president for purchasing. Firemen said the blaze apparently started while workmen were burning off old paint with a torch. No one was injured.

Scouts' Book Is Available

The new "Fieldbook" published by the Boy Scouts of America is now available, a scout spokesman said today.

The book is a compact encyclopedia of outdoor information for all who enjoy outdoor living, with emphasis on skills and activities for family campers.

It contains chapters on camping gear, cooking, map and compass and safety and first aid.

* * *

Copies are available at the scout headquarters at 132 Franklin Blvd. The price for the book with a composition cover is $1.95. It is also available from various official Boy Scout distributors in the council area. A hard-cover edition will be published by McGraw-Hill Co. in August.

Mef Chorus Member Ends 57-Year Stint

After 57 years in the Metropolitan Opera chorus, Marguerite Belleri has retired. She called it quits yesterday in New York after a career that began at 16.

Guests at her farewell party included her sister Lilli, a chorus member for 33 years. Lilli's husband, William Fischer, sang with the chorus for 23 years and, before he died, Mrs. Belleri's husband, Lamberto, was a member for 10 years—a total of 123 years of service.

4-Month Legal Battle Over; Wedding OK'd

Giovanna Augusta, daughter of a wealthy Milan manufacturer, has won a four-month legal battle in Belgium and the right to wed Brazilian Negro soccer star Jose Germano.

The Liege Court of Appeals ruled yesterday there was no obstacle to the wedding.

Germano, 24, plays for a top Belgian soccer team in Liege. Giovanna, whom he met in Milan four years ago, came to Liege in February.

The family of Count Domenica Agusta, a motorcycle and helicopter tycoon, followed her to Liege and pleaded with the girl to give up Germano.

They threatened to deprive her of an inheritance and finally took the matter to court.

Composer Buys Back Own Musical Score

Composer Igor Stravinsky, who lives in Los Angeles, paid $896 in London yesterday for one of his own music scores.

He bid through an agent for his first edition of the arrangement of Le Sacre du Printemps—Rite of Spring—which belonged to ballet dancer Anton Dolin.

A spokesman at Sotheby's, the arts auctioneers, said the sale of ballet materials which included costumes, music scores and bronze and porcelain figures, brought about $84,000.

The highest amount was $2,940 for a water color by Leon Bakst called "Design for the Decor of Act I of 'Daphnis et Chloe'." It went to a private collector.

Romney Plans to Visit Middle East This Year

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Gov. George Romney says he will visit the Middle East before the year is out and suggests a Marshall Plan type aid program for that part of the world.

Romney said Tuesday he will go to the Middle East "to check on certain things I'm concerned about."

* * *

He aired his comments on a WKZO-TV interview.

He said the Arab-Israeli conflict should be settled by a joint confrontation of the Middle Eastern countries.

DISCUSSION

"Israel and the Arab nations should get together and talk over problems, though there is considerable doubt at this point whether this will happen," said Romney.

The unannounced potential Republican presidential candidate also commented on his hiring recently of Ned Pruitt, a Negro public relations consultant. Romney said he was hiring men like Pruitt "to help me decide whether to be a candidate."

Romney said the racial issue will continue to be a problem in the future.

"In the last several years we've built up hopes for quick elimination of discrimination and human injustice," Romney said, adding that laws haven't improved the racial situation fast enough so Negroes are frustrated.

MILITANT LEADERS

"In addition, people have tended to turn away from responsible leadership to more militant leadership. This has created a much more difficult situation that was previously the case," Romney said.

Boys' State Draws Seven Area Youths

They include Dennis McLaughlin, 33 Court, sponsored by the Legion Post; Dana Coin, 400 Broadway, sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Police; and Michael Giroux 2776 Dixie, Waterford Township, and William Green, 652 Second, both sponsored by the Fisher Body Local 596.

Also Thomas Lacourse, 794 Melrose, sponsored by the post's bowling league; John Willson of 661 Second, sponsored by the post's drill team; and John Baldwin of 3778 Gainesborough, Orion Township, sponsored by the post.

The boys will hear speeches by state legislators and will create a mock government with officials they elected from within their group during the week-long conference.

"The program's purpose is to develop the responsibility of leadership, to provide the advantages of citizenship and to promote the art of clean sportsmanship," said local program chairman, Merle Laurain of 145 W. Fairmount.

Scouts to Do 'Good Turn' in Kentucky

Operation Good Turn — Appalachia members leave for Paintsville, Ky., Saturday. The group of some 40 Scouts will spend the week repairing an orphanage housing 22 children which is run by two women.

The scouts will camp near the orphanage and work everyday except Wednesday when they will tour the area.

The group, composed of senior and adult scouters, will supervise and build a garden fence around the truck garden recondition the house and repair the facilities.

Supplies such as barbed wire, wire staples, and roofing are needed for the project, according to Charles Brucker, chairman of the Catholic Committee on Scouting, which is planning the trip.
