Pontiac Airport Faces 5-Year Deficit, Audit Indicates

A private audit today indicated Pontiac Municipal Airport would operate at a $172,000 deficit over the next five years if no improvements are made to present facilities.

Based on results of the audit, Oakland County will renew its offer to pay the city one dollar for the airport.

The door to further negotiations, however, was not entirely closed if the offer is rejected.

The decision to renew the $1 offer, which previously has been rejected by the city, came at a meeting today of a special committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Headed by chairman David Levinson, the committee had retained the Detroit firm of Touche, Ross, Bailey and Smart to prepare the $7,300 audit as a guideline for future airport negotiations.

TO MAKE OFFER

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Auditors, was instructed by the committee to make the offer to the city.

Levinson said he didn't feel it was justified for the county to offer more than the token $1 in view of the $172,000 projected loss.

If facilities are improved according to the 1963 airport master plan, the report predicts the net loss to reach $1,064,274 during the same period due to heavy expenditures which will not bring in revenue for several years.

★ ★ ★

Besides the anticipated losses, which Murphy said the city should feel duty-bound to spell out to its taxpayers, another argument will accompany the $1 offer.

AGENCY LETTER

A letter from the Federal Aviation Agency to the auditing firm indicated that airports transferred from one governmental unit to another generally do not involve "substantial consideration."

The letter was not a part of the audit report.

Despite the new findings, committee members were not unanimous in feeling the token offer would be accepted.

John L. Carey, supervisor from Springfield Township, and Edward A. Maier, supervisor from Pontiac, both expressed doubts.

U Thant's Peace Try Fails

Pakistan Asks Johnson to Act as Peacemaker

Yank Civilians Are Evacuated From War Zone; Battle at Lull

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri declared today U. N. Secretary-General U Thant had failed to bring peace to the subcontinent and the war must be pressed against Pakistan.

"It should be clear to all that the defensive operations in which our armed forces are engaged must continue with unabated vigor," the government radio quoted him as saying.

Informed sources had said only yesterday Shastri was giving serious consideration to a cessation of hostilities. Now it was President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan who was talking of peace.

Ayub told a news conference in the capital at Rawalpindi, President Johnson should be the peacemaker because "The United States can play a very definite role by telling India and Pakistan she will not stand for this struggle."

A White House statement in Washington said Johnson in reply appealed to both sides to cease fighting, but still pinned his hopes on Thant's peace mission.

'Betsy Left Over Billion in Damages'

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Gov. John J. McKeithen says Hurricane Betsy probably left more than a billion dollars damage in Louisiana and he fears the death toll will jump.

★ ★ ★

"There is no question but that we will find more bodies after floodwaters recede," the governor said yesterday after a boat and helicopter survey of the Mississippi River delta lands to the south.

The certified death toll had reached 74 — 62 in Louisiana, 7 in Florida, 4 in Arkansas, 1 in Mississippi.

"Louisiana has suffered a disaster comparable to an earthquake," said McKeithen.

★ ★ ★

The search for a sunken barge loaded with 600 tons of deadly chlorine was renewed at Baton Rouge, 85 miles upstream.

SHIPPED IN TANKS

The chlorine, a common industrial chemical, was shipped in four big tanks aboard the barge. A ruptured tank would allow the chemical, released from pressure, to form a lethal gas which could bubble out of the water and, like a low hanging mist, move with the winds, killing anything in its path.

Officials emphasized that the odds against the tanks rupturing are great and that they expect no emergency.

The big danger was that a vessel on the busy river could plow into the sunken barge. To avoid this, a 37-mile stretch of the river has been closed to traffic.

★ ★ ★

River traffic was backing up for miles with no end to the search in sight. Coast Guard Capt. Russell Waesche said dredging begins today to see if a safe shipping channel can be opened.

$1 Million Damage by Midwest Storms

By The Associated Press

The severe weather that hurled tornadoes, heavy rain and damaging winds at the Midwest during the night diminished today, but only after causing $1 million in property damage and leaving 30 injured in central Illinois alone.

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois flew to Peoria today to inspect damage.

One inch of snow fell at Cut Bank and Helena in Montana. Temperatures across the northern border states from Washington to Minnesota hovered in the 30s and 40s. Cut Bank had a morning low of 30 degrees and Havre, Mont., had 32.

In the South, where record-breaking 100-degree-plus temperatures were common Tuesday, readings today were in the upper 70s and lower 80s.

★ ★ ★

Rainfalls of one to two inches dampened the Ohio Valley. An overnight downpour of 1.86 inches gave Louisville, Ky., a record rainfall for September —7.29 inches. The old mark of 5.90 inches was set in 1884. Dayton, Ohio, measured 1.02 inches and Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, Ohio, had 1.61 inches.

Peoria was hardest hit by Tuesday night's storm.

The severe storms battered sections of central and northeastern Illinois, northern and central Indiana and parts of Iowa, Missouri and lower Michigan.

The storm described by the Peoria Weather Bureau as a "possible tornado," virtually destroyed the Norword Elementary School near Peoria, a city of more than 100,000.

Forty-three persons, including 25 pupils, huddled in the basement as the storm struck. No one was hurt. Damage was estimated at $500,000.

The storm flattened the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. plant, caused an estimated $250,000 damage to the Union Stockyards and heavy damage to a Hiram Walker plant.

OU Fund Bill Is Blocked by Senate GOP

A $1.2 million contingency-fund bill which would have helped budget-bound Oakland University with its increased enrollment problem lost out yesterday in the Michigan Senate.

★ ★ ★

In an attempt to override Gov. Romney's veto, the Senate failed on a 21-13 count of party-line votes.

★ ★ ★

"Though we are not sure of our total enrollment as yet," said Troy Crowder, PO's director of public relations, "we would have qualified for some of the money had the measure passed."

★ ★ ★

It is estimated that the loss to OU is between $100,000 and $200,000.

★ ★ ★

Romney said the college fund was unnecessary because a supplemental appropriation later could solve any problems that might arise.

Says Advice to LBJ Poor During Dominican Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., characterized U.S. policy in the Dominican crisis as a failure, and said today the principal reason was "faulty advice given to the President by his representatives in the Dominican Republic at the time."

He said President Johnson, on the basis of the information and counsel he received, could hardly have acted other than he did.

But, he declared, "it is very difficult to understand why so much unsound advice was given to him."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, set out his views in a lengthy statement and incorporated much of this in a later address to the Senate.

The U.S. ambassador in the Dominican Republic when the crisis developed, and still at his post there, is W. Tapley Bennett Jr., a career diplomat. He became ambassador to Santo Domingo early in 1964.

Fulbright said U.S. policy was marked by "overtimidity" in the beginning and "overaction" in the end of the crisis.

He said there were no easy choices.

WISE DECISIONS

"Nonetheless, it is the task of diplomacy to make wise decisions when they need to be made and U.S. diplomacy failed to do so in the Dominican crisis," he said.

He said that while it could not be assumed that the United States could have changed the course of events, the administration did not take advantage of several opportunities in which it had a chance to do so.

Fulbright, who has differed with Johnson over policy in the Dominican Republic and in Viet Nam, did not mention the President by name. He directed his criticisms at diplomatic officials.

Light Damage Reported

High Winds Lash County

High winds roaring through Oakland County last night toppled trees and downed utility wires cutting off power to several hundred homes. Damage was relatively small compared to other parts of the state and nation.

Four tenths of an inch in rain fell on Pontiac but no wind damage was reported.

With scattered reports of wires down, the Detroit Edison Co. had 16 crews working this morning.

There were three areas of concentrated power failure.

Power was off in about 300 homes in the Square Lake-Squirrel Road area of Bloomfield Township from 12:15 to 5:30 a.m.

Shorter failures affected some 200 homes north of Cedar Island Lake in White Lake Township and 150 customers near 15 Mile Road and Middle Belt in Farmington Township.

Trees were reported down in these areas as well as in Addison, Waterford, Pontiac and Milford townships and Novi and Walled Lake.

Storms left skies mostly fair and temperatures a little cooler, the low tonight is expected to register 48 to 55.

RAIN POSSIBLE

Partly cloudy and cool with a chance of showers returning is tomorrow's forecast. Highs will climb into the high 60s.

Scattered showers or thundershowers with mild temperatures is the outlook for Friday.

Sixty-four was the low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the mercury recorded 75.

No Major Fighting in Joint Operation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thousands of U.S. paratroopers and Vietnamese soldiers fanned out today in Viet Cong territory about 30 miles north of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said.

Elements of the U.S. Army's 173rd Brigade are taking part in the joint operation launched Tuesday in an effort to establish a base for U.S. forces in an area long under guerrilla control.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said no major contact had been made but that the allied forces drew sporadic sniper fire. He reported no U.S. casualties but said Australian and New Zealand troops on the operation took light losses.

The area being cleared was near the district town of Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon in Binh Duong Province.

CHUTISTS DROP

U.S. advisers parachuted Tuesday with 1,100 Vietnamese just northeast of Ben Cat in one phase of the operation. In another part, U.S. paratroopers and New Zealand and Australian contingents reached Ben Cat by convoy along Highway 13 on which the Viet Cong have pulled many bloody ambushes.

One truck in the convoy blew up after striking a mine and inflicted the casualties on the New Zealanders.

The parachute jump was made in driving rain and was the first by Vietnamese paratroopers since last year.

In the air war, another flight of B52 bombers from Guam hit a suspected Viet Cong installation in Zone D 30 miles northeast of Saigon in Bien Hoa Province. It was the 24th announced raid by the big planes of the U.S. Strategic Air Command.

Hospital Gets GM's $75,000

Contribution Slated for Rochester Unit

General Motors Corp. is contributing $75,000 to the Crittenton General Hospital Building Fund to establish a new $6-million hospital in Rochester.

★ ★ ★

The contribution was jointly announced today by Thomas F. Wiethorn, manager of the Pontiac Fisher Body plant and chairman of the Pontiac GM Plant City Committee, and Elmer Bailey, director of the GM Technical Center Service Section, and chairman of the Warren GM Plant City Subcommittee.

In presenting the corporate gift on behalf of its Pontiac and Warren operations, the GM officials said, "We are happy to report this contribution to the Crittenton Hospital Fund.

"We recognize the importance and need of this facility to GM employes and other residents of the communities within Macomb and Oakland Counties who will be served by the new hospital."

When completed, the new six-story, 207-bed hospital will be the first major hospital in this region to have a combined staff of medical and osteopathic physicians.

★ ★ ★

There will be medical, surgical, obstetrical and emergency services with the latest in equipment, procedures and techniques available.

'Firms to Aid Safety Study'

LANSING (UPI) — Secretary of State James M. Hare reports that the big four auto makers have agreed to help in any way they can to improve traffic safety in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

In a report to the State Safety Commission Tuesday, Hare said he found representatives of American Motors, Chrysler, Ford and General Motors "sympathetic" to his proposal for an industry-sponsored safety study.

He said such a study could make Michigan "the national showcase for traffic safety."

Thant's Peace Try Fails

mistic statement, Thant left New Delhi for U.N. headquarters in New York saying he felt there was a desire on both sides "to stop the fighting and find a peaceful solution."

KEEP TRYING

"I would like to say here that there is no reason for cessation even if any end to the fighting has not yet been achieved, of efforts to all men of good will to achieve it," Thant said in a statement.

As the fighting threatened to break out again after a women and children, from the two-day lull, seven C130 U.S. Air Force transport planes ferried 606 Americans, mostly war zone of Lahore in Pakistan to Tehran, Iran.

While an Indian Defense Ministry spokesman told reporters all military objectives had been achieved, it appeared that fighting might break out again on the Lahore sector in North Pakistan and 90 miles to the north around Sialkot, a Pakistani city menaced by an Indian thrust.

There was no indication, however, whether India intends trying to push deeper into Pakistan with land and air strikes, which it says were designed to prevent a Pakistani attack on India.

WON'T TELL

Newsmen asked Foreign Minister Swaran Singh to elaborate on India's intentions but he would say only: "It is not for the aggressor to pick the point where he wants to fight."

The defense spokesman said Indian troops now have complete control of the 18-mile long Sialkot-Pasrur Railway, which he described as an important link in Pakistani operations in that entire area and in southwest Kashmir.

Easy Victory for Cavanagh

Gets 60 Pct. of Total Detroit Primary Vote

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh amassed more than 60 per cent of the total vote in yesterday's municipal primary to easily win renomination as a candidate for a second term as chief of the nation's fifth-largest city.

The 37-year-old incumbent ran up a margin of greater than four to one over his nearest rival, printing firm executive Walter C. Shamie, according to unofficial returns.

Unofficial returns gave Cavanagh 163,152 votes to Shamie's 40,138. James N. Heaney, an attorney and real estate broker, was third with 33,521.

Twelve candidates were on the nonpartisan primary ballot. The top two vote-getters face each other in a Nov. 2 runoff for a four-year term.

★ ★ ★

STORM THREAT

Some 257,000 voters turned out despite late-afternoon showers and threats of severe weather and possible tornadoes during the last two hours of voting.

Incumbent City Council President Ed Carey led the slate of 60 council aspirants with 124,029. Runner-up was former mayor Louis C. Miriani with 114,656, followed by Mary V. Beck with 114,390 and Mel Ravitz with 105,052. The top 18 were nominated.

In an early-morning victory statement, Cavanagh said he was "extremely gratified that so many citizens voted for me in the primary."

Thief Shooting Ruled Justified

The fatal shooting of a holdup man by Charles Law, son of Rep. Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, was ruled justifiable homicide by Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson today.

Bronson said he made his finding after a review of police reports and the testimony of witnesses.

The younger Law, 25, shot and killed exconvict Raymond Lee Scott, 33, of 283 S. Jessie, during an attempted robbery Saturday night.

The shooting occurred in a grocery store owned by the legislator and operated by his son at 200 Earlmoor.

Bronson said that there would be no coroner's inquest into the shooting.

Coed Killing Suspect Sane; Trial Slated

A 26-year-old Lum man was declared sane today and ordered to stand trial on a charge of killing an Oxford Township coed.

Cooke is charged with first degree murder in the slaying of Barbara K. Hodges, 22, of 545 Second, on June 23.

She was beaten and shot to death on Dunlap Road, about two miles north of Oxford Village. She was a junior at Central Michigan University.

★ ★ ★

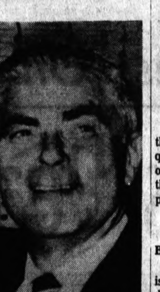
They are doctors Abraham Tauber of Pontiac and William E. Gordon of Detroit.

Cooke's trial is scheduled to begin Sept. 22 before Ziem.

JOHN V. LINDSAY



ABRAHAM D. BEAME

Comptroller Easy Victor at NY Polls

NEW YORK (AP) — Abraham D. Beame, an easy victor in a race he wasn't expected to win, launched his Democratic campaign for mayor today with a call for a crusade against Republican-Liberal John V. Lindsay.

Beame, 59-year-old city comptroller, rolled past three opponents in a primary election Tuesday that seriously damaged the gubernatorial ambitions of his one-time ally, retiring Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

He collected nearly 59,000 votes more than his closest rival, City Council President Paul R. Screvane, who ran with Wagner's backing.

Beame quickly labeled himself an underdog in the battle against Rep. Lindsay, then took off in the predawn hours for a hand-shaking tour of the Fulton fish market.

RECORD VOTE

A record 738,720 Democrats voted in the primary election.

Other candidates for mayor were Rep. William F. Ryan and Councilman Paul O'Dwyer.

Unofficial figures showed Beame got 327,934 votes, Screvane 268,991, Ryan 113,182, and O'Dwyer 28,613.

The most powerful vote-getter in the primary was Queens District Atty. Frank D. O'Connor, Beame's running mate for City Council president. He got 350,462 votes, nearly half of the ballots cast.

O'Connor's showing catapulted him into next year's race for the Democratic nomination for governor. He has made no secret of the fact that he would like to run against Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

DEALT A BLOW

Wagner's chances of getting the nomination for governor were dealt a serious blow by his backing of the losing Screvane.

Lakes Carrier Is in Trouble

ISLE ROYALE (AP) — The Great Lakes ore carrier Peter A. B. Widener was reported in trouble todav on gale-sweep waters some 25 miles south of this western Lake Superior island.

Coast Guard spokesmen at Sault Ste. Marie said the 601-foot Widener, owned by Pittsburgh Division of U.S. Steel Corp., reported a broken steering gear and possible damage to its steering mechanism and screw.

★ ★ ★

Winds estimated at 45 m.p.h. and 10-foot seas were reported in the area.

Isle Royale is located some 48 miles northwest of Copper Harbor at the western end of the Keweenaw Peninsula.

Coast Guard records show the Widener carries a crew of 35 men. The vessel's captain is listed as R. A. Phillips.

The Coast Guard Cutter Woodrush was reported heading toward the stricken vessel from Duluth. Also headed for the Widener were the Coast Guard vessel Naugatuck and several Pittsburgh Division vessels in the area.

Commissioners Ballot on Zoning Amendment

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Commissioners cast their votes on the proposed amendment to the city's zoning ordinance last night, making official their long-known stands on the controversial issue.

The results of the 3-2 vote were less clear-cut, with the future of multiple-residence requirements still a community question mark.

Success or failure of the measure depends on interpretation of a state statute which would, if it applied to Bloomfield Hills, require four of the five commissioners to support a change in order for it to take effect.

The law stipulates that a three-quarters majority is required to override the objections of the owners of 20 per cent of the front footage involved in a proposed zoning change.

★ ★ ★

Such a protest has been filed.

BELIEVES STATUTE APPLIES

City Attorney David C. Pence is of the opinion that the statute does apply to Bloomfield Hills, Mayor Robert S. Frye revealed last night.

"But, I've still got some checking to do," Frye said.

Pence's opinion, submitted last month, had been confidential.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys representing the six protesting property owners had asked to be notified of the commission's interpretation of the statute before a decision was reached.

TELL RESULTS

"Inform them of the results of the voting — nothing more," Frye told City Clerk Robert Stadler last night.

The proposed changes would reduce from 4½ to three the number of families allowed per acre in a multiple-residence zone.

They also would delete references to three-story town houses in the zoning ordinance which was adopted 17 months ago.

With years of controversy and a recent public hearing behind them, commissioners discussed the issue for about 20 minutes before the vote.

VOTES RECORDED

The ayes: Frye, E. R. Davies and Manton M. Cummins.

The nays: Louis J. Colombo Jr. and James A. Beresford.

Each reiterated that he was doing what he thought was best for the city.

Colombo noted that several persons at the public hearing last month asked for the results of studies or recommendations of experts.

★ ★ ★

"There has been no traffic study, no report from a planning consultant and no recommendation from the planning commission," he said. "None of these things was done to show any change in the circumstances from the time the ordinance was passed."

Father Gives Kidney

2 Are Satisfactory After Transplant

An Avon Township mother who underwent a kidney transplant operation yesterday and her father, who donated the healthy kidney, were both reported in satisfactory condition today.

★ ★ ★

Spokesmen at the Cleveland Clinic where the operation was performed, said Mrs. Patricia Shontz "got a little rest last night" and that her father, Frank L. Farrell of St. Clair Shores, "had a very good night."

Mrs. Shontz' one remaining kidney was removed in another operation three weeks ago.

Since that time, her blood has been purified by a kidney machine.

★ ★ ★

The young mother, of 1895 Tamm, lost her first kidney when she was 10 years old as the result of a childhood fall.

FAILING STEADILY

The other one had been failing gradually since the birth two years ago of her son James.

After extensive examinations, her father was chosen as the donor of the kidney.

The chance of a successful transplant is better than 50-50, according to a hospital spokesman.

Mrs. Shontz' father pointed out several weeks ago that the actual operation is usually successful but the problem is getting the body to accept the new kidney.

Mrs. Shontz was reported in excellent spirits prior to the operation.

She talked to her son, James, Monday night, and was said to have told her father that she was looking forward to Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Her husband, James, is an apprentice at the Ford Motor Co. Sterling Township plant.

The Shontz' two-year-old son has been staying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shontz in Royal Oak.

Scientist Smithson Would Like His Institution

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The nation's capital is set to celebrate the 200th anniversary of James Smithson, the English scientist who made the bequest from which the Smithsonian Institution sprang. In this story, AP newsman Raymond J. Crowley writes about Smithson's life and the mystery which still surrounds his $508,000 bequest.)

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists and scholars from around the globe are gathering to celebrate the birth 200 years ago of James Smithson who grew up to:

1. Become a plunger in science and at the gambling tables;

* * *

2. Make a mysterious bequest of $508,000 to the United States, a country he never saw.

If Smithson were alive today, his thirst for knowledge and his pronounced ego would be immensely gratified. For his gift was the seed from which sprang a tremendous tree.

FABULOUS PLACE

The tree is the fabulous Smithsonian Institution, with its network of museums and art galleries, its far-flung researches and explorations.

Big, brightly colored tents have been pitched on the Mall outside the "Red Castle," the original Smithsonian building. There on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, ceremonies will be held, attended by learned men from 90 countries, including Communists.

* * *

Chief Justice Earl Warren will speak. Seminars will range from physics to changing trends in art.

Born as an illegitimate baby, James Smithson was the son of Hugh Smithson, an English gentleman who became the first Duke of Northumberland, and Elizabeth Macie, wealthy widow descended from kings.

BIRTHDAY UNKNOWN

On discovering that she was pregnant, the mother discreetly retired from fashionable Bath to Paris, where the boy was born in 1765, exact date unknown.

He grew up to be a geologist-chemist, a man of insatiable curiosity, a fellow of the Royal Society at the age of 22. He discovered a mineral now called smithsonite; he invented a method of brewing coffee akin to the modern vacuum-drip system.

* * *

Once, when he saw a young lady weeping, his science overcame his sympathy. He collected the tears in a vial, analyzed them, and announced they contained four salts.

In his latter years, he alternated between collecting meteorites and bucking the gaming tables of Montmarte.

WASN'T BROKE

Though his friends worried, he was far from broke when he died at Genoa on June 27, 1829. His will left his fortune to a nephew, with the proviso that if the latter died childless (which he did), the money was to go to America to found an "establishment for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men."

Thus it was that in 1838, the clipper Mediator put in at Philadelphia, carrying in its hold gold sovereigns worth $508,000.

* * *

The mystery is: Why did Smithson make such a will?

Was it because the British Parliament, granting him citizenship at the age of 10, gave him the back of its hand? It decreed that he never could be an officer in army or navy, sit in Parliament, or enjoy crown grants.

ADMIRED AMERICANS

Was it because of his admiration for Franklin, Jefferson and democracy? He called kings an "encumbrance."

Or was it the "grand style" gesture of a plunger?

* * *

Nobody knows.

For 11 years Congress debated what, if anything, to do with this gift from a Britisher. Men still alive could remember the Revolution and, of course, the War of 1812. John C. Calhoun wanted to reject the bequest, as beneath the nation's dignity. But John Quincy Adams, arguing for Smithson's goal, carried the day.

* * *

Hence the Smithsonian, magnet for many other gifts and congressional appropriations down the years.

Its collections, ranging from the Hope diamond to every species of clam known to man, have a book value of a billion dollars.

CROWN JEWEL

The National Gallery of Art, product of the generosity of Andrew Mellon and others, is the "jewel in the Smithsonian's crown." Another is the Freer Gallery, containing Whistler's "Peacock Room."

Dinosaur fanciers dote on the Smithsonian. There also, one can study radioactive dust on film, or the last dulcimer made in North Carolina.

The industrial revolution repeats itself as sightseers turn cranks or push buttons to work machines. They wonder how the Wright brothers ever dared to fly that flimsy aeroplane.

The sightseers gaze, usually in silence, at the Star-Spangled Banner which flew over Ft. McHenry at Baltimore during the British bombardment of Sept. 13 and 14, 1814 — 151 years ago this week.

WHITE TIGER

Visitors to the zoo in Rock Creek Park may see the only white tiger in the United States, and momodo dragons, large lizards.

Traveling exhibits traverse the United States. Smithsonian archeologists dig in Egypt and Israel.

Gravel Mining Decision Again Delayed by Board

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — The Township Board last night again postponed a decision on whether gravel mining will be allowed in the area.

After a three-hour meeting, which was moved from the town hall to Baldwin Elementary school to accommodate the large crowd, the Township Board said it needed more time to study the facts.

Cooper Supply Co., a subsidiary of Texas Industries is seeking a zoning change in the northeast sector of the township to allow sand and gravel mining.

Township residents are opposing the change.

* * *

At last night's meeting, three representatives of Cooper Supply, including the president John Cooper, failed to convince the crowd that gravel mining will not harm the area.

SLIDES SHOWN

Even slides showing reclaimed land from other mining operations met with skepticism. An informal vote at the close of the meeting showed that only one person in the crowd of nearly 100 favored the gravel operation.

Township residents, who have formed the Oakland Township Association to fight the change, claim the mining will not only destroy the value and beauty of the land, but will also present a danger, particularly to the children who play and travel to school in the area.

Cooper claims a greenbelt will hide the pits and that there will be no truck traffic through the township. It also says it will net the township about $15,000 a year in taxes.

* * *

Spokesmen for the company also claim that after 15 or 20 years the outfit will move out and completely restore the land.

REFUTED CLAIM

A letter read last night from an interested resident who is also an attorney refuted Coopers' claims. Another resident pointed out that "there are nothing but dumps" now where gravel mining operations have moved out.

Donald Oselette, chairman of the citizens group, said a meeting on the issue will be held in two weeks.

The next Township Board meeting is Oct. 12.

Sewage Disposal Plans Postponed

HOLLY — Presentation of plans for improving the village's sewage disposal plant has been delayed at least a week.

Councilmen had expected a preliminary engineering report last night.

However, Raymond J. Smit of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May, Ann Arbor, said he misunderstood council action of a week ago and thought he had not been directed to present the plans.

Study of the project, expected to cost $11,000 to $13,000, should take six or eight days, he said.

* * *

When it is completed, a special meeting of the village water and sewer committee will be called.

ARE INVESTIGATING

Councilmen are investigating the recirculator as a means of increasing the plant's capacity to serve the equivalent of another 1,000 people. It currently is operating at capacity, serving 2,300.

New Group to Hear Talk

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The newly formed Union Lake Shores Association will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keith Elementary School, 2800 Keith.

Lt. Donald Kratt of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department will speak on water pollution.

All residents whose property fronts on Union Lake, or who have easement privileges, are invited to attend.

Bond Issue Approved for Troy School District

TROY — The State Municipal Finance Commission has approved a $4-million bond issue for the school district.

The money will be used for a new junior high school, four elementary schools, a school addition and a central warehouse.

From an Expert Carpenter

At Last: Lessons in Home Buying

BY PAT McCARTY

A new house isn't only a picture window with a view, a spacious kitchen and a family room at last.

Why is that window all steamed up?

What about the tarnished hardware on the kitchen cupboards?

Why don't the scuff marks come off the tile floor?

* * *

It's a little late to be wondering if you're already five years into a 30-year mortgage.

KNOW FIRST

The thing to do is to know what you're buying before you sign on the dotted line.

This is precisely what Walter Martynow has in mind, and why he's set out to help couples buying homes in the area.

Martynow's course entitled "Buyers' Guide for Home Construction" will be included in the adult education programs of three area school districts this fall.

* * *

He will be in Southfield Mondays, Clarenceville Tuesdays and Farmington Wednesdays.

REGISTRATION

Registration for the Farmington course, the earliest to start, will be taken between 6:30 and 9 tonight and tomorrow at Farmington High School.

Martynow, a Livonia carpenter, has been in the construction business for 19 years.

During that time, he has talked to scores of prospective home owners, many of whom seemed strangely unaware of what was going up around them.

* * *

"The questions they were asking really seemed a little ridiculous," he commented.

BASIC KNOWLEDGE

Not just esoteric, the questions concerned what should have been basic knowledge to the person planning a home for his family.

"Most people don't have any idea of how a house is framed, of why it is built one way and not another," Martynow said. "They know very little of the materials that go into a house."

A former independent contractor, Martynow has two pet peeves, both involving the inspection of houses under construction.

"Buyers have great faith in their municipal building department, which is a fallacy," he said. "And they have great faith in the FHA, which has the lowest minimum standards."

DO-IT-YOURSELF

Persons having homes built for them should do some inspecting for themselves, he maintains.

But first they must know what to look for.

Martynow hopes to instill in his students the ability to spot cheap materials, as well as those which are better (and therefore more expensive) than would be required.

* * *

His course will include some information on legal descriptions, zoning ordinances and building codes.

* * *

He noted that many people really don't know where they live.

They read a legal notice in the newspaper that sewer lines will run through Section 18 of a certain township and they don't realize that means their property until their back yard is being excavated.

Moving in next to a wide-open field, they may not realize what could be built there until it's under construction.

* * *

BUILDING BASICS

"We'll talk about the framing of floors — why a certain type of lumber is used — framing of walls, how the windows are framed and cornices, so they'll know the different types," he said.

"That's where a buyer can make a big mistake. If he calls the builder and says, 'I don't like the way the front looks up there,' the builder is on the defensive because he doesn't know how much the buyer knows.

"If the buyer knows the name of the parts, he's one step ahead."

* * *

Martynow listed other items to be covered: ceilings, roofing, brick, wood and aluminum windows, insulation, plaster board, trim, paint, fireplaces and hardware, to mention a few.

INTERIOR PIPES

He will discuss electrical and plumbing work, which he said are fairly standard because of state and national codes.

"The problem is that people generally do not get a set of specifications for homes. If they do, it's sadly lacking," he said. "If it's vague, there's quite a bit of horse trading that can go on.

"Oral contracts are something else that need to be explained," he said. "People just don't realize they're making them and that they are binding."

* * *

He told of a couple building a house which was to cost $29,000.

CHANGES COSTLY

"The wife keeps going out there and making changes. The last time I heard, it was up to $32,500."

Another family started with plans for a $75,000 house and added some $14,000 in extras as it was being constructed.

"By the time it was finished, they couldn't raise the $89,000 and the builder was stuck with it," he said.

* * *

Martynow noted his course is backed by the local United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, of which he is a member.

WANTS IMPROVEMENT

"I'm not trying to make the builders look bad, but I would like to see improvement in certain areas," he said. "Nowadays builders are trying to give a lot and keep the cost down."

* * *

Martynow noted that a family plans a new house for years and then takes another year or two shopping for one.

"They talk to so many and see so much and they get so confused," he said.

"No one ever will get a perfect house. There'll always be some little thing that will be wrong when they move in."

TEACHER, SUBJECT — Walter Martynow, a Livonia carpenter, wants to give area residents an idea of what to look for as they watch their new homes being built, the fiberglas insulation he holds being one example. He will teach a course dealing with these points in the adult education programs of the Farmington, Clarenceville and Southfield school districts.

Hopes to Raise Sunken Liner

DETROIT (UPI) — A salvage expert has announced plans to attempt to float the sunken luxury liner Andrea Doria — a $60-million prize to anyone who can raise her from the depths of the Atlantic.

Capt. Don Henry said yesterday he has formed a salvage corporation which expects within 60 days to raise the sunken vessel by pumping its hull full of a bouyant plastic foam.

The 29,000-ton Italian liner sank in 225 feet of water off Nantucket Island on July 26, 1956 after colliding with the Swedish liner Stockholm. Fifty persons died in the crash.

Henry, 43, a diver and Marine salvager for 11 years, said the Italian line has legally abandoned the vessel and all claims resulting from the mishap have been settled.

★ ★ ★

Anyone who can raise the ship can have her, he said. And the 697-foot hull alone is worth $15 million.

BONDS, JEWELS

Other millions of dollars in bonds, jewels and cash were in the ship's safe. The ship's lavish decorations included valuable paintings, among them Rembrandts which would not be harmed by salt water.

Henry said cargo aboard the vessel included a $200,000 experimental car built by Ghia of Italy, and the Chrysler Corp. "would like very much" to have it.

The proposed flotation technique would involve pumping of the liquid foam into the ship's hold where it would harden. The bouyant material would be capable of floating 10 times its weight.

The 400-foot freighter Tritonica which sank in the Gulf of St. Lawrence was salvaged by this method, Henry said. The veteran diver said he has been on the deck of the sunken ship and was confident the technique would work.

Possible A-Smasher Sites Narrowed to 85 by AEC

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The fierce competition for a proposed $300 million atom-smasher narrowed today with word that the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) had pared down its list of possible sites.

United Press International learned last night that the AEC had taken the first tentative step in the politically sensitive selection of a location for the project.

The AEC lopped 41 sites off a list of 126 it received from 46 states. Included in the rejected sites were all those from North and South Dakota and Wyoming.

The 85 sites remaining were sent to the National Academy of Sciences for further pruning to a half-dozen or less. The final selection presumably will then be made by the AEC.

★ ★ ★

The AEC originally planned to make its final site decision by the end of 1965.

NEED MORE TIME

But, in view of the large number of applications and the added information volunteered and requested by the commission and the National Academy, the AEC believes it may not be possible to meet that deadline.

There is heated competition for the project since it will employ more than 2,000 high-salaried scientists and technologists.

Towns and cities — ranging from metropolitan Chicago to Point Pleasant, W. Va., — from all but four of the 50 states bid for the site.

★ ★ ★

The atom-smasher itself is a 200-billion-volt electron accelerator more than a mile in diameter. The AEC said it would be the most powerful in the world and estimated it would take eight years to build and $80 million a year to operate.

OTHER BENEFITS

In addition to the immediate economic impact on the community getting the atom-smasher, there are long-range benefits. As the site of such a gargantuan scientific enterprise, it could expect to attract other such industries and research centers.

Some of those bidding obviously cannot meet the AEC's basic requirements.

The commission wants the installation reasonably close to a commercial and industrial center which includes research and development activities and offers adequate housing, cultural facilities and schools.

★ ★ ★

It must be close to a major airport and equally accessible to surface transportation.

LAND NEEDED

The AEC's criteria also specifies that 3,000 acres of land will be needed, owned by or reasonably available to the federal government.

The site also must be capable of delivering a firm electric power load of several hundred megawatts, and at least 2,000 gallons per minute of high quality water.

The sites still in the running will be visited by special teams from the National Academy at some future date.

★ ★ ★

The AEC has stamped one of its tightest secrecy classifications on activities concerning selection of the site for the accelerator.

LOTS OF CALLS

AEC spokesmen say they have been getting more calls from congressmen on the subject than any in years.

The AEC has denied any White House pressure even though it received proposals from nine Texas communities.

It trimmed the Port of Mansfield and Sweetwater from the Texas sites it asked the National Academy to evaluate, still leaving seven for the Lone Star state.

This was second in number to eight Florida sites that survived the first cut.

Chamber of Commerce Gains New Members

By proclamation of Mayor WILLIAM H. TAYLOR JR., Monday ushered in Chamber of Commerce Week.

It climaxes a year-long drive for new members—"125 for '65"—with the objective three-fifths realized.

★ ★ ★

No civic organization has better served the community than the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce. Its steady gain in new members—250 over the past three years—raised the Chamber's membership to 1,000, and is evidence of the high regard in which it is held.

But the quest for new support for its manifold programs for area betterment is never-ending. Compared with communities with comparable population and resources, the local organization should have double the membership if it is fully to meet civic responsibilities and objectives.

We commend the spirit and efforts of the Chamber members who have accounted for the 1965 membership growth. Since every resident has a stake in the area's progress and development, in which the Chamber of Commerce so well leads the way, it is the civic duty of all to support the organization to the full extent of their circumstances.

Merits of Metric Plan Being Fully Weighed

For generations there has been an ebb and flow of debate on changing from our system of weights and measures, which is based on the inch, pound and gallon, to the metric system, which rests on the meter, gram and liter. Nothing at all conclusive has so far resulted.

But now, due largely to the increase in trade between nations, interest in the matter is intense. Indeed, a thorough study is in the works designed to appraise "the desirability, practicability, and cost of a general conversion to the metric system of weights and measures in the United States."

Our system of measures came to us from the English — who in turn got it from the Egyptians, Romans and others — and now the English have announced plans to convert to the metric over the next 10 years.

The British-American system grew in haphazard fashion. It goes back to man's attempt to use his own body as a reference point. For example, the original inch was the distance of three barleycorns placed end to end, and the yard was the distance from the tip of the nose to the end of the thumb. By way of contrast, the metric system was rationally developed, the result being that the units of length, mass and fluid are computed in units of ten, or on the decimal basis.

The big problem is the cost that would be involved in a changeover. Estimates vary widely, but it is certain that the bill would be enormous.

It is said, for example, that just to make the necessary changes in the drawings used by the machine tool industry alone would cost $18 million. The head of the engineering staff of a major auto company has said "we would dissipate nearly one-fifth of the total value of the company in the conversion to the metric system, and we would have accomplished nothing at the end by it."

It is argued that adoption of the system would offer great advantages to our producers in increasing world trade, inasmuch as most of the other advanced nations use it. But this is disputed. Some think that the economic advantages would accrue mainly to European producers, who now use the system and have lower labor costs, instead of us.

★ ★ ★

In any event, much more, it seems certain, will be heard of this matter in the relatively near future, as the cases for and against are developed. As of now, we are a long way from anything resembling general agreement.

An Act of Goodwill Gives Motorist Lift

At a time when the printed word has dealt extensively with the dereliction of youth, a note of commendation is in order for two anonymous teen-agers.

A friend of ours found the following message printed on a paper napkin beneath the windshield wiper of his car parked at a meter: "Dear folks—Rescued you from a parking ticket—put a penny in as the cop walked up. You see, not all teens are bad!! (Signed) 2 Teens from B'ham."

We render an admiring salute to the thoughtful young people, and offer their deed as a fine example of the spirit of comradeship that has regrettably become more conspicuous in the breach than the observance.

Votes Blocked; and Now War

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — In two different places there was talk about letting the people vote on the kind of government they wanted. But that was long ago, and it never happened. And now there is war in the two places.

MARLOW

Maybe there would have been these wars anyway, for they had other roots, too, in deep antagonisms and ambitions. And it doesn't make much difference now that the two leaders who said no to the people are both dead.

Their successors, in India and Viet Nam, have the same attitude.

When the Communist-led Vietnamese crushed the French in 1954, an agreement was worked out at Geneva with Britain, France, The Soviet Union, Red China, North Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia taking part.

But by 1956, according to the agreement which set down some other conditions also, all the people of the two Viet Nams were to be allowed to vote on the kind of single government they wanted for the whole country.

Meanwhile, in 1955 in South Viet Nam, a republic was created with Ngo Dinh Diem president. When the time came for that nationwide vote in 1956, he said no.

India's Prime Minister Nehru, who died last year, had a problem similar to President Diem's. India, while Britain held it, was made up mostly of Hindus and Moslems, with the Hindus far outnumbering the Moslems.

When India got independence in 1947, the minority Moslems didn't want to be totally dominated by Hindus. In the fuss that followed, a couple of chunks of India were broken off to become the independent state of Pakistan.

But one of the loveliest places in the world, Kashmir, became one of the sorest.

NATIONS DEADLOCK

The United Nations suggested that all the people of Kashmir be allowed to vote to decide whether they wanted to join India or Pakistan. Nehru agreed, provided Pakistan pull out its troops first. Pakistan wouldn't withdraw unless the Indians got out.

Then Nehru refused to permit a vote at all. The picking and pecking continued and now there's a war.

Will Miracles Never Cease?

David Lawrence Says:

Dr. King's Diplomacy Confusing

WASHINGTON — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., one of the Negro leaders of the "civil rights" movement, has enveloped himself in a mystery that is puzzling many people inside and outside of Congress.

LAWRENCE

Just why should he announce, after a conference with U.N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg, a four-point program which urges the United States government to consider halting its bombing raids on North Viet Nam and also to reverse its policy and favor the seating of Red China in the United Nations?

This is a view considered by many persons here to be favorable to the Communist side, and certain senators, in statements inserted in the "Congressional Record," ask why Dr. King was accompanied to his meeting with Ambassador Goldberg by Bayard Rustin, his special consultant, who is accused of having been a member of the Young Communist League.

Senator Thomas J. Dodd, Democrat, of Connecticut, said:

"When Dr. King takes advantage of his pulpit as the prime leader of the civil rights movement in this country, to call for the admission of Red China to the United Nations; to demand that the United States commit itself to negotiate with the Viet Cong; and to advocate that the U. S. reorient its foreign policy along the lines of accommodation with communism, then I can only regret that the leader of the civil rights movement, by his intemperate alignment with the forces of appeasement in foreign policy, has alienated much of the support which he previously enjoyed in Congress.

★ ★ ★

"The enemies of the civil rights movement have repeatedly made the charge that Dr. King is under Communist influence. I have myself defended Dr. King against this charge.

★ ★ ★

"But by the stand he has now taken on the whole series of vital foreign policy issues, I gravely fear that Dr. King has provided his own enemies and the enemies of the movements he heads with ammunition that they will know only too well how to use."

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., not only criticized Dr. King severely, but called it "a disgrace to the country that Ambassador Goldberg would officially receive such persons as King and Bayard Rustin, and thereby lend credence to an appearance of official respectability of these two troublemakers.

"It is indeed a sad commentary that even the existence of such persons is acknowledged to the extent of an audience with a high official of the government."

★ ★ ★

Dr. King has since announced that he will write letters within the next 10 days to the president of North Viet Nam, the government of South Viet Nam, and the leaders of the governments of Communist China and the Soviet Union.

COUNTER TO ACT

If Dr. King carries on a correspondence with foreign governments, it could run counter to the provisions of the Logan Act, a federal statute which says:

"Any citizen of the United States, who . . . carries on any correspondence or intercourse with any foreign government or any officer or agent thereof, with intent to influence the measures or conduct of any foreign government or of any officer or agent thereof, in relation to any disputes or controversies with the United States, or to defeat the measures of the United States, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than three years, or both."

Humane Animal Show Is Big Hit at World's Fair

NEW YORK — People . . . places . . . postage . . .

When Cleveland Amory, dog's best friend, closes his "Animal Kingdom" at the N.Y. World's Fair Sept. 26 he will post a gentle announcement reading "Our animals have to go back to school."

CONSIDINE

Amory's humane exhibit of animals so often mistreated in this country by cruel owners and thoughtless laboratory technicians proved to be one of the hits of the fair this season.

★ ★ ★

More than two million people have visited the exhibition during the one summer of its existence, a greater number than appeared at several of the multi-million-dollar commercial exhibits, and perhaps a million more people than perhaps have ever before heard of its sponsor — the Humane Society of the United States.

The other day a big fellow in a western hat was made indignant at the exhibit after scanning Amory's printed quote "Rules and Regulations of the Hunt the Hunters Hunt Club."

Sample: "After you have taken your hunter, do not drape him over your automobile or mount him when you get home. Merely the cap or jacket will suffice.

★ ★ ★

"Finally, there have been some complaints to members of the Hunt the Hunters Hunt Club that hunters are tough. This we can state unequivocally is simply not true. If you shoot them in season, and season them properly, they can be quite tasty."

IMPISH ANSWER

"Stupid thinking!," the man roared to no one in particular. Amory happened to be passing by and couldn't resist an impish surge of pride of authorship.

★ ★ ★

"Pardon me sir," he said politely, "what part do you find stupid? Is it the shooting of them, or the eating? Because, if it is the eating, many of our members would agree with you. Many of them, you know, are vegetarians."

The war in Kashmir isn't exactly new, nor are the contenders. In the 1300's the Hindu ruler of the region, Udiana Deva, was bumped off by his secretary of state, Amir Shah, a Mohammedan.

★ ★ ★

Amir Shah took the throne. His successor, Sikander, became known as the "idol breaker" when he ordered every Hindu temple in Kashmir destroyed.

They've been at it ever since.

Press Report of Meeting Supported by Readers

The recent hearing on the possibilities of water and sewers in White Lake Township was exactly as the advanced public notice said it would be — a hearing. It was held to get the opinions of interested persons and to answer any misunderstandings which naturally occur. I learned a lot and enjoyed the opportunity to have my questions answered. I also read the newspaper article and recommend it for those who couldn't attend. I feel it was very accurate.

It looks as though Mr. Glen Colby and Mr. William Stiles got caught in one of their practical stunts when they indicated the article which appeared in The Pontiac Press on the White Lake Township water and sewer program was misleading. They evidently didn't know that the reporter was in attendance to cover the meeting, and the article couldn't have been more accurate. Shame on the other five people who signed their names to something they didn't even bother to find out was true.

Civil Rights

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat

In a recent article, Edward W. O'Brien, chief of the Globe-Democrat's Washington Bureau, recounts some interesting remarks made on the civil rights problems by a vice chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action, the left-flankerbacks of the "Great Society" team.

★ ★ ★

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., speaking for ADA, suggests:

- That a special civil rights investigative agency be set up to replace the Federal Bureau of Investigation in this area.
- That the FBI is preoccupied with "fighting the Communist party."
- That the FBI is "hostile" to the civil rights movement.

★ ★ ★

All of these charges are patently ridiculous, as Mr. O'Brien's article points out. We suggest that there is a growing gray area in the civil rights movement where many Communist infiltration groups overlap.

It is in this area that the FBI is the most effective weapon the United States has for preventing civil disorder and heading off another Los Angeles riot — which bordered on insurrection.

Look at the record of the FBI as Director J. Edgar Hoover has recited it to committees of Congress. The FBI's penetration of the Ku Klux Klan did much to bring sanity to elements in the South which were bent on disrupting any peaceful solution to the government's civil rights program.

On the basis of past performance, it would be reasonable to assume that Director Hoover's organization is not unaware of the increasing number of Communist groups stirring up "civil rights" disturbances where none should exist.

★ ★ ★

The Americans for Democratic Action again is running true to form in its long campaign to discredit J. Edgar Hoover, and to sweep under the rug any implication that there just could possibly be such a thing as a little bit of Communist agitation among some of the groups striving for a better tomorrow for the Negro. Isn't it about time that Lyndon B. Johnson's vice president, H. H. Humphrey, a former ADA loudmouth, questions some of the reckless statements of the members and officers of an organization which he helped pioneer—and which he has never criticized — even though its policies have been opposed to the best interest and the expressed interests of the United States?

Russians Will Renew Drilling Try

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union will renew its attempt to drill through the earth's crust next year, reports the Soviet Embassy here.

Projected depth is nine miles at a site in the Murmansk region of Russia's northern Kola Peninsula. Murmansk is bounded by Finland and the Arctic Ocean.

Last year, Soviet scientists scratched a similar attempt to reach the earth's mantle with a drill near the Caspian Sea. Reported economic and technical difficulties halted the project.

This new tack will put the Soviet Union back into the running with the United States, whose deep-drilling Mohole Project is still "just getting under way."

The National Science Foundation said today a contract will probably be awarded next month for a floating platform from which U. S. scientists will drill 35,000 feet or 6.6 miles into the ocean floor. Actual drilling will not start for another three years.

★ ★ ★

Scientists here are skeptical about Soviet ability to drill as deep as nine miles. "I think they're dreaming," commented Max C. McLean, assistant to the Mohole Project director. "They think they can do it, but the present state of art says it can't be done."

THREE STAGES

Mr. McLean, an oceanographer, learned of the Soviet project at an international congress in Monaco last spring. He was told by Dr. N. S. Timofeev, head of the USSR's All-Union Research Institute on Deep Drilling Technology, that the Murmansk drill will be accomplished in three stages.

First, conventional equipment will be used to bore a hole some four miles deep. This will take two or three years. By then, Soviet technicians expect new machinery to be completed that will enable them to go down another five miles.

Mr. McLean received the impression that this new equipment will be no more than "beefed-up (bigger, more massive)" conventional tools. He does not believe the Soviets have made any "astounding developments" in drilling technology.

According to Soviet reports, a second hole will be drilled later in the Kura Basin of the Azerbaijan region adjoining Iran.

U.N. to Admit New Members

3 Young Countries Due In Next Week

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations, which lost a member six months ago, will more than make up for that soon by gaining three new ones.

Gambia, the Maldive Islands and Singapore are expected to be admitted to the organization by the General Assembly when it starts its 20th annual session next week. That will boost the membership to 117.

★ ★ ★

Admitting a new member takes a recommendation from the Security Council and a two-thirds vote in the assembly. The council recommended Gambia last March. It is likely to meet late this week to do the same for the Maldives and Singapore, which applied only last month soon after getting independence.

All three prospective members once were British-ruled.

WEST AFRICA

Gambia is a sliver of West Africa surrounded by Senegal. Singapore is a big-city island off the Malay peninsula. The Maldives are 2,000 islands in the Indian Ocean, 420 miles southwest of Ceylon.

The United Nations' present membership is 114. Indonesia quit at the end of last February in protest at the election of Malaysia to the Security Council. Indonesia is fighting Malaysia.

Harassing Tactics Used by Miami Police to Discourage KKK

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Ku Klux Klan has been virtually inactive in Miami for nearly 20 years, and authorities say they are determined to keep it that way. An AP newsman gives an on-the-spot report of how they go about it.)

By REID MILLER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "We are here," the plainclothesman said, "to keep the peace."

He said it with a smile. He didn't mean it.

* * *

Joe Fernandez, a sheriff's detective, was explaining why he, his partner and four uniformed deputies were outside a frame house on a quiet street in West Miami Tuesday night.

"We know the Ku Klux Klan plans a membership meeting here tonight," the stocky young officer said. "Our job is just to see that there is no trouble."

SMILES AGAIN

Again he smiled.

Fernandez swung the spotlight of his car over the house, set just off the street, and into the vacant lot next door, heavily grown with shrubs and trees.

* * *

There was no one in the house.

"Let's get down at that end of the street and stop all cars," Fernandez said to a uniformed officer. "We'll pull a little traffic safety check — inspection stickers, drivers licenses, everything."

BEFORE MEETING

The meeting, Fernandez said, was to have begun at 8 p.m. The officers arrived five minutes earlier. The lights of the two squad cars, the rumbling of two motorcycles and the shouting of the officers attracted a small crowd of curious neighbors.

Twenty minutes later a short, graying man appeared at the door of the little white house, empty except for a table and four chairs in the dining room. On the table lay a gavel.

* * *

The man, who had entered the house unnoticed through a rear door, came down the steps and walked over to Fernandez.

"Howdy," he said pleasantly. "What's going on?"

"Don't you know?" asked Fernandez. "Aren't you having a Ku Klux Klan meeting here tonight?"

* * *

"I don't know anything about the Ku Klux Klan," said the man, who identified himself as Joe Siddons. "I'm not saying if I am or if I'm not. God knows I'm not a Communist or a subversive. I'll tell you what. If I become an imperial wizard, I'll call you fellows and tell you all about it. I'll be proud to do it."

SHOOTS QUESTION

"Do you belong to any other organizations, Joe?" asked Sgt. Ray Harr, a tall, blond detective working with Fernandez.

"Yeah. I belong to the Citizens Council, the Federation for Constitutional Government and the States Rights party," replied Siddons.

* * *

Two cars carrying seven men drove up through the roadblock at the end of the street. One man was wearing a khaki uniform with white helmet and red scarf.

* * *

"That," said Fernandez, "is the uniform of the Klan security guards."

SEVEN ENTER

The seven trooped into the house, talked briefly with Siddons while the officers stood outside, stopping an occasional car.

* * *

The seven came back out, got into their cars and drove off. A motorcycle officer followed one car, reporting back by radio that it was leading him on a long, winding route.

Fernandez and the other officers waited an hour.

"Well," the detective said finally, "I guess they aren't going to hold their meeting. We might as well pull off the tail and get out of here.

* * *

"I think we've done what we came to do."

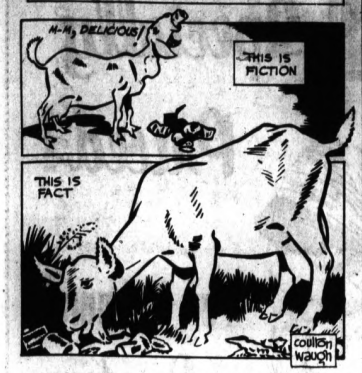
Junior Editors Quiz on GOATS



QUESTION: Do goats really like to eat tin cans?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Goats are particularly hardy, sturdy animals. They give excellent milk, more easily digested than that of a dairy cow.

They are widely used in many parts of the world, especially in places where pasturage would not be heavy enough to raise cows.

Four goats are said to give as much milk as one cow. A flock of goats is often kept to supply the milk used by one family.

Goats do not eat tin cans. This incorrect idea undoubtedly comes from the habit of the hardy industrious goat rummaging around in all kinds of places, including rubbish piles.

While they don't actually swallow tin cans, they do like to lick and chew them, apparently because they like the taste of mineral material or the mucilage the paper labels are stuck on with.

These animals are relatives of cattle and sheep, all being ruminants, with a special stomach arrangement, enabling them to swallow grass quickly when they find it, then bring it into the mouth later, to be thoroughly chewed as a cud.

Originating in Southwest Asia, there are three main kinds of goats, the Swiss, with pointed ears; the Nubians, in which the ears are drooping, and the long-haired goats, whose wool is used in making mohair rugs and for clothing.

FOR YOU TO DO: Some goats look very much like sheep. Watch to see a goat and notice two points which will identify them: the short tail turning up, and the fact that they generally have a beard under the chin.

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR

So Be Careful, Son

Too Young to Be a Grampa

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — You might think with all the dictionaries that have been published there would be a word to fit any situation or condition that might arise. But there isn't.

WEST

I have just spend a good bit of time searching the lexicons at my disposal for a certain type of phobia. In the process, I ran across some real dillies.

I found "dorphobia," which apparently is the fear of girls named Dora; "sitiophobia," which must be the fear of sitting down on a sharp object, and even "phobiaphobia," which is the fear of fear itself.

But nowhere could I find the phobia that has been gripping me lately, which is the fear of becoming a grandfather.

I'm amazed that the dictionaries don't include it, for it may be the worst phobia of all.

* * *

"Grampaphobia," as I shall call it in lieu of technical terminology, first hit me last month after I had attended the wedding of a young man who had previously been my oldest, established male tax deduction.

NO THOUGHT

In all of the confusion and excitement that attends such events, I did not at the time give any thought to the potential consequences.

But about a week later I awoke one night in a cold sweat. Somewhere in the depths of my subconscious a tiny alarm had been ringing. A strong sense of foreboding pressed down upon me.

There in the darkness, I suddenly realized that I was in dire peril of being grandfatherized. And me so young!

* * *

In panic, I rushed to the telephone and called the newlyweds.

* * *

"Listen," I said, "you kids aren't planning to do anything desperate are you?"

"Like what?" came the puzzled reply.

"Something extreme. Like having a baby."

"Well, not right away anyhow."

* * *

"Okay," I said, "but be careful."

DANGER WARNING

The next day I mailed them all of the material I could find on the dangers of the population explosion.

Despite their reassurances, however, I can't escape the terrors of grampaphobia. I am at the mercy of forces beyond my control.

* * *

Always with me is the shocking fact that at any given moment I am only nine months away from being married to a grandmother.

The Door to Higher Education—3

Year's Wait Before Entering College Could Prove Beneficial

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third article in a nine-part series designed to help those planning on attending college. The series is written by John C. Hoy, dean of admissions at Wesleyan University in Connecticut.)

By JOHN C. HOY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If the average shoe size in the United States is 9, this does not mean that every person has a size 9 foot.

Neither does the fact that the average age of a college freshman is 17 or 18 mean that every youngster is ready for college immediately following high school.

Actually, a good number of young people who take a job for a year or so after high school do better beginning college later than they would have otherwise.

These usually are young people who need further experience with the "real world" before they can gain a better sense of why they are planning a college education.

Colleges and universities are very much interested in students who have the kind of foresight such a move demonstrates.

There should be no embarrassment to a parent whose son or daughter takes a working intermission between high school and college.

More and more colleges are encouraging their enrolled students to take a year off for just this purpose—often without regard to academic difficulty.

There are students who attend college because they have "nothing better to do." Not surprisingly, students of this sort often bog down in the "sophomore slump"—and drop out of college altogether.

From our experience, we believe that many youngsters have the right instinct about whether they are ready for college. All too often, it is the parents who force them into mistakes.

DISREGARD RECORD

Parents, understandably, have a tendency to believe that their child will do well in college if only given the chance. This, in spite of a record of poor performance in high school.

But logic, no matter how one tries to stretch it, does not indicate that the student who did not like high school and did not do well there will enjoy college and get what he should out of it.

An unusually high percentage of parents who push this kind of a child often discover the term "late bloomer." They claim that their child, one who has "not achieved" in high school, is really a species of genius who has not yet shown his bud.

Colleges are constantly dealing with young people. They are particularly well adept at recognizing the wide variety of "late bloomers" who apply for admission.

PRESSURE ON

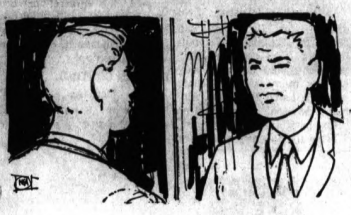
Putting pressure on underachievers to go to college is merely increasing the chance that these youths will drop out. The majority of college dropouts in the United States are youngsters who have been under this pressure.

Occasionally, an applicant appears who does not present all the "proper" credentials, but clearly shows a particular dimension of independence or creativity which caused him to buck the "system" in high school.

As a result, this student did not gain the particular rewards —namely grades—given by the secondary school.

* * *

Such a student may, on the other hand, be a voracious reader. This student may possess a curiosity and diligence which leads into worlds of learning that actually may be unmeasurable by the standards of traditional achievement.



TIME TO DUCK

Parents would do well to allow their son's or daughter's guidance counselor and admission officer to determine how "truly unusual" the candidate's case may be. When a parent says, "I have a truly unusual son, but . . ." the college admissions officer feels it's time to duck.

This kind of information is best presented by the candidate personally. He will have ample opportunity to do so on the application form or during the interview.

In general, colleges are quite suspicious of the candidate or parent who comes into the admissions office and uses the term "late bloomer" as an excuse for a poor high school record.

* * *

Actually, students who truly belong in this category are much too interested and involved in lively concerns to describe themselves in such a fashion.

In short, one of the real tests of whether a young man or young lady is ready to enter college is his or her ability to make an objective appraisal of themselves.

(Next: The parent is not the candidate.)

Nixon Predicts Substantial GOP House Gains in 1966 Election

AP Photofax

RETURNS TO THE HILL — Former Vice President Richard Nixon chats with Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., Senate minority leader, at the Capitol yesterday. Nixon attended a luncheon with the Senate Republican policy committee and held a news conference later.

WASHINGTON (AP) — GOP leaders today backed optimistic estimates by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon that Republicans will bounce back with substantial gains in the House in next year's elections.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he believes his party not only will gain the 40 seats in the House, two in the Senate and two governors' posts in 1966 that Nixon predicted but will give a good account of itself in 1968.

★ ★ ★

Victor A. Johnston, field director for the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said in a separate interview he thinks the GOP may gain as many as four Senate seats. He listed Tennessee, Alabama, Montana and Oregon as prime possibilities.

Nixon told a news conference Tuesday he believes Republicans will regain more than the 38 House seats they lost in 1964 because the quarrel between conservatives and liberals which he said had caused their landslide defeat will be substantially patched up.

DEMS IN CONTROL

Such increases in GOP strength as he forecast would leave the Democrats in control of both houses.

"But if we can win back 40 seats, we can regain a position of effective position in Congress," Nixon said.

★ ★ ★

The former vice president said that if President Johnson doesn't stub his toe in some international encounter and doesn't run into economic difficulties at home, he may be even stronger politically in 1968 than he is now.

Declining to discuss the possibility that he might bid for the Republican presidential nomination again three years from now, Nixon insisted that Johnson hasn't really been tested in any international disaster, despite the eruption in the Dominican Republic and the fighting in Viet Nam.

"He hasn't been tested by disaster abroad or by economic disaster at home," he said.

Dirksen said the question of American world prestige may become a prime issue in 1968.

And Children's Lives

Hope Lids Save Grief

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The post office hopes Mrs. Harry Knarr's saucepan lid is going to save mail truck drivers a lot of grief, not to mention sparing the lives of some children.

★ ★ ★

The department said it is installing convex, stainless steel mirrors on all postal vehicles in an attempt to cut down on the number of children hurt or killed by post office trucks.

The number of deaths of children killed by post office trucks has run as high as 16 a year. Seven died in such accidents last year.

Knarr, superintendent of vehicle maintenance at Sarasota, Fla., was helping his wife with the dishes several years ago. He noticed the broad area reflected by a shiny saucepan lid and an idea hit him.

★ ★ ★

Knarr submitted an idea for such a mirror to the post office department, and the devices proved successful. He got a $3,000 suggestion award, and the mirrors were ordered put into large-scale use.

Last year 13,809 commercial, financial or business firms went out of business in the United States.

Preventative Policy Is Advised by Educator

MIDLAND (AP) — Thomas Brennan, president of the State Board of Education, told the annual conference of the Michigan Rehabilitation Association Tuesday that the board must concentrate on preventative educational policies, rather than remedial.

He said educational policies must be developed in Michigan that will help prevent "mental diseases, to reduce the number of dropouts and delinquents."

TAILOR RETIRES — John Adams, 81-year-old Waterford Township resident, has decided to retire after nearly 70 years in the tailoring profession. The native of Greece and his wife, who was born in Nova Scotia, plan to remain living in Waterford Township where they have resided the past 11 years.

81-Year-Old Tailor Closing Shop in Waterford Twp.

John Adams, 81-year-old Waterford Township tailor, has decided to retire following a career which has taken him halfway around the world.

Born in the Greek mountain hamlet of Divry — near historic Olympia—young Joannis Adamopoulos went to Athens almost 70 years ago to launch his apprenticeship in the tailoring trade.

After six years of seasoning in the profession, Adamopoulos embarked for places abroad.

First, he went to Cairo, Egypt; then Naples, Italy; and finally to the United States in 1910.

ATTRACTS CUSTOMERS

In Waterford Township where he has maintained a shop for 11 years at 4567 W. Walton, the diminutive Greek has attracted customers from several points in Oakland County.

In the process of closing shop, Adams has had to turn down customers for the first time from Lake Orion, Orionville, Birmingham, Oxford, Independence Township, Pontiac and Waterford Township.

The extensiveness of his trade, despite the modest appearance of the building's exterior, is a tribute to the old tailor's masterful work — bolstered by almost 70 years experience.

* * *

"They like his tailoring . . . they tell me he does wonderful work," said his proud wife.

RECEIVE SOCIAL SECURITY

Adams and his wife receive Social Security and have whatever little they have managed to save.

They hope to either rent or sell the small shop for additional income.

If they are able to rent, they will probably remain living on the premises. Otherwise, they'll move out.

* * *

Either way, they are determined to remain residents of Waterford Township whose refreshing lakes lured them from Detroit 11 years ago.

PICK UP DEADLINE SEPT. 30

Adams, who sent out customers' dry cleaning and pressed clothes himself in addition to alteration and repair work, is giving customers until Sept. 30 to pick up their clothes.

One suit has been on his racks for a year, he noted.

Adams reminisced on his career and related some of his experiences with the English language for which he admittedly has no great love.

* * *

While in New York, his employer doubled his salary from $1.50 to $3 a day because he appreciated his work and wanted to retain him.

He was fluent in his native Greek tongue, Arabic, Italian and French, but became discouraged with English because of the inconsistent letter pronunciations that characterize the language.

At night school in New York, he told the professor he didn't think it proper that the "I" in Italian and "I" in Italy should be pronounced differently.

After two weeks he'd had enough.

* * *

Upon leaving the school the night he quit, he recalls thinking, "I feel sorry for the American people . . . they adopted the worst language in the world."

SPEAKS SOME ENGLISH

Nevertheless, Adams speaks well enough to converse with his customers and is able to comprehend what he reads in newspapers.

Adams estimates that he has made 3,000 to 4,000 suits since coming to this country.

"In the beginning when I came to this country, I worked on Fifth Avenue," he recalled, adding that he made suits for wealthy people for $150.

When he first came to Detroit, he made suits which sold for $35.

"Right here, in Waterford Township, I couldn't make any new suits because of lack of help," said Adams.

However, he did convert double-breasted coats into single-breasted coats when they went out of style.

Asian in Visit Learns U.S. Politics

A young Malaysian mother, visiting the United States to learn about the political system, is gaining first-hand knowledge by working in the Washington office of Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-Royal Oak.

The visitor, Mrs. Salmiah Monong, is not, however, unfamiliar with the ins and outs of politics.

In her own country, she is the executive secretary of the Alliance party, which is now in power.

She said she is most impressed with the way political parties in this country keep detailed records of voters, party workers, financial backers and volunteers

* * *

She will obtain further insight into American politics when she goes to New York for the mayoral election and then to New Haven, Conn., to observe another municipal election under the sponsorship of the League of Women Voters.

HOME POLITICS

About her own country, she agrees with the Malaysian ambassador to the United States Dato Ong Yoke Lin, that the breaking away of Singapore from Malaysia "will eventually work out to the advantage of both countries."

Mrs. Monong, mother of a 3-year-old son, said she is glad to be on the staff of Broomfield, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee who has visited her country.

Her trip to the United States is financed by a leadership grant from the Asian Foundation.

POINTS TO HOMELAND — Mrs. Salmiah Monong of Malaysia pinpoints her country for her temporary boss, Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-Royal Oak. She is working in Broomfield's Washington office while studying U.S. politics.

Area Pollution to Be Studied

Pollution problems of Pontiac area rivers and lakes will be reviewed at a meeting Monday in Lansing of the Water Resources Commission.

Attending the conference will be representatives of Pontiac, Waterford Township and the County Drain Commissioner.

The 1 p.m. meeting results from studies made of Pontiac area waters by the Water Resources Commission. These studies were prompted by State Sen. Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, and local complaints of pollution.

O'Brien will also sit in on Monday's discussion.

Pontiac will be represented by City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling and Wayne Morrison of the city's engineering department.

OTHER AREAS

According to Neipling, pollution problems in Crystal Lake, the Clinton River, the west end drain and Osmun, Terry and Harris Lakes will be discussed.

Industrial pollution may also be a topic, said Neipling.

* * *

Sen. O'Brien said that he anticipated a program involving local and state agencies being developed from the studies by the Water Resources Commission.

Pontiac Police Honor 23

Twenty-two Pontiac police officers and an employe of the Community National Bank were presented citations today by the Pontiac Police Department.

The bank employe was F. Bruce Ritchie, instrumental in cracking a statewide check forgery operation.

After discovery of the forged checks, the bank auditor, on his own initiative, alerted city police and merchants. This tip-off provided police with the break needed to trap gang members.

Lt. Raymond E. Meggitt was awarded a citation for conscientious effort in the apprehension of four juveniles implicated in two burglaries.

* * *

Detectives Sgt. John DePauw and detectives Thomas Mitchell and Orville Johnston were cited for perseverence and dedication in solving the murder of Mrs. Maurice Crook, which took place last December.

APPREHEND FOSTER

After 30 hours of continuous investigation, the three were able to apprehend the killer, Carl Foster.

Patrolmen R. Kenneth Davidson, Dallas J. Flesher, Harold E. Kunkle, Jerry L. Pointer, Bruce D. Jarvis and David Schroeder were all cited for their work in apprehending an armed robber.

Within 30 minutes of a robbery at the West Side Lanes, 207 Orchard Lake, the officers had apprehended the thief, who was engaged in the act of committing a burglary in an effort to escape.

* * *

Detective William G. Davis and patrolmen Richard L. Adams, Richard T. Stokes and Charles A. Lindeberg were cited for their alertness and observation in making three arrests which solved 35 larcenies.

RASH OF THEFTS

Continued investigation by the officers resulted in five more arrests and stopped a rash of thefts at the Pontiac Motor Division parking lot.

Patrolmen Gay White and Charles Chancy were cited for alertness and attention to duty.

The pair observed a man loitering near Pontiac Central High School. Investigation revealed that a burglary was in progress in the building and three suspects were arrested.

* * *

Patrolmen Jerry L. Pointer and William D. Bookie discovered a breaking and entering at the Webb Fuel Company, 351 S. Paddock.

TWO ARRESTED

The pair was cited for efficient work and diligence which resulted in apprehension of two juveniles and the clearance of 17 felony complaints.

Patrolman Harold R. Martin was cited for his police work which resulted in the solving of three downtown area burglaries.

Patrolman Thomas Gracey was presented a citation for his resourcefulness in apprehending four runaway juveniles responsible for the theft of five autos in five states.

* * *

A citation was presented to Patrolman Norman R. Kilmer for diligence and attention to duty which led to an arrest which cleared up 10 burglary complaints and several armed robberies.

FOUR JUVENILES

Patrolman Robert Brown was cited for aggressiveness which resulted in the arrest of four juveniles responsible for 33 offenses.

Police cadet Albert M. Munson was presented a citation for keen observation and alertness which brought about the arrest of three persons involved in a vicious armed robbery.

House Ponders Agenda for Fall

Group Sent to Confab on Foreign Relations

LANSING (AP) — The House of Representatives is delaying a decision on what to consider in the fall session. But some members are asking at least some deliberation of U.S. foreign policy, the child adoption policies of the children's aid society, automobile insurance and "Slattery's people."

Bills cannot be introduced for the fall session which opened Tuesday until both chambers agree on an agenda. But House members took advantage of their return to Lansing to introduce a series of resolutions.

Rep. Albert Kramer, D-Oak Park, introduced a resolution to form a special committee to attend the Sept. 22 Regional Foreign Policy Conference in Flint. The conference is sponsored by the Mott Adult Education Series and the U.S. Department of State.

The rults were suspended and the resolution was passed immediately, naming a five-man special committee. Members are Kramer and Democratic Reps. Albert Sheridan of Taylor, Bobby Crim of Davison, Edward Suski of Flint and Raymond Flavin of Swartz Creek.

BE INFORMED

"Because of the increasing complexities of our foreign relations, it is imperative that the Michigan Legislature be informed as to the latest developments in this field," Kramer's resolution said.

Conference participants, Kramer said, will include U.S. Ambassador-at-large W. Averill Harriman and Franklin Williams, U.S. representative to the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

Minority leader Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, objected to the use of state money to allow legislators to attend. Committee members will be reimbursed for their actual expenses.

The insurance resolution, introduced by Rep. Edward Suski, D-Flint, accused some companies writing auto insurance policies in Michigan of "causing undue hardships and...discriminating without any justification whatsoever against thousands of Michigan motorists."

CANCEL POLICIES

These are the firms, he said, that refuse to write policies and cancel policies "without giving any reasons."

It calls for the establishment of a five-member committee to "study motor vehicle policy cancellations and other practices of insurance companies."

The committee would be empowered to subpoena witnesses.

Rep. Thomas White, D-Detroit, called for the investigation of the Children's Aid Society adoption policy, following reports of difficulties, experienced by a Nankin Township couple in adopting a part-Negro child.

HAD DIFFICULTY

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Evans of the Detroit suburb reportedly have been unable to adopt a 2-year-old girl, Tina. They have been her foster parents for nearly two years. They are white; she is part Negro.

"While the Children's Aid Society may have had grounds other than race for refusing adoption in this case, conflicting statements lead me to believe that policy on race is left unclear and is perhaps inconsistent with public policy in our state."

★ ★ ★

The "Slattery resolution," scheduled for introduction today, commends the network television series whose main character is the minority leader in a state house of representatives.

"It will commend the network for showing legislative leaders with sufficient office space and staff," said Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit. "It will commend Slattery for teaching freshman legislators the tactics of the legislative process and for sticking to a set of high ideals."

Montgomery said he hoped to have it introduced jointly by the entire freshman "caucus."

State Senate Dems Back Graduated Income Tax; Delays Bog Down Plans

LANSING (AP) — Senate Democrats proposed a graduated income tax constitutional amendment Tuesday but the question of what the Legislature will consider at its autumn session—including taxes—bogged down in delays.

Both parties planned caucuses today, where the controversial tax package backed by Gov. George Romney and some legislators was expected to be discussed.

The fall session opened Tuesday with these developments:

—Senate Democrats approved 20 items for consideration but delayed discussion of taxes.

—Thanks to Democratic absenteeism, Senate Republicans won delay in considering the 20-item agenda, which also must be approved by the House before it becomes final.

—House Democrats delayed until today their caucus which had been planned for Tuesday.

—The Legislature invited Romney to deliver a sort of supplementary state-of-the-state speech Thursday at 10:30 a.m. and he accepted.

Republican Romney wants to discuss in detail the tax package he supports. It includes a 3 per cent personal income tax, 4 per cent corporate levy, relief in sales and property taxes and repeal of the business activities tax.

One Democratic leader, meanwhile, indicated there might be even less support for the bipartisan tax plan than was expressed at the last meeting of Romney and a specially designated group of legislators.

"Some of the support at that meeting carried reservations with it, and some people are having second thoughts about it now," he said.

Majority Democrats in the Senate pulled somewhat of a surprise when they recommended consideration of the constitutional amendment which would permit a graduated income tax.

The constitution presently limits any income tax to a flat rate levy—that is, each taxpayer pays the same percentage of his taxable income. A graduated tax would levy a higher percentage on persons with high income than those with low income.

Majority leader Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, denied that the amendment was designed to tell Republicans in effect to support it or lose any hope of getting Democratic support for the Romney-backed tax plan.

The amendment would require a two-thirds favorable vote in each chamber before it could be submitted to a public vote. Democrats are three votes short of a two-thirds edge in the Senate.

Senate Minority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, said he could support a graduated tax amendment if it included a percentage limit on the tax rate and were tied to enactment of an interim flat rate tax.

Lockwood said, however, that he does "not think we'll pass an income tax" this fall. He said Republicans, though outnumbered 23-15, probably could furnish twice as many votes for an income tax as could Democrats.

Want U.S. General to Seize Initiative

WASHINGTON (AP) — High U.S. military officials are looking for Gen. William C. Westmoreland to seize the initiative from the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

There are two main factors in top-level hopes for an increasing offensive:

1. A buildup of U.S. fighting forces in Viet Nam shortly will reach about 127,000 men, with more American troops expected to follow.

2. The dry season is approaching. It will permit all-out air operations after a months-long rainy period that hampered such operations.

MANEUVERABILITY

Arrival of the 16,000-man 1st Cavalry Division, with its fleet of 428 helicopters, gives Westmoreland greatly increased resources for maneuver. He is the top U.S. commander in Viet Nam.

With the heavily strengthened combat forces available to him, "Westmoreland can now act rather than react," one high ranking officer said.

He mentioned a big Marine operation in the Chu Lai area last month and added: "You can expect that type of thing to increase."

At Chu Lai, officials said, the Marines beat the Viet Cong to the draw and averted an impending Communist attack in force.

The announced body count of Viet Cong dead topped 600. But U.S. military officials now believe that perhaps twice that many of the enemy were killed at Chu Lai. Many Viet Cong apparently were sealed up by explosions in tunnels and caves, authorities said.

Top military officials clarified U.S. strategy in Viet Nam.

DESTROY UNITS

Chiefly, they said it calls for American fighting units to strike out from secure bases and coastal enclaves to fix and destroy Communist units wherever they can be found. Vital to such far-ranging operations is improving intelligence information.

The gradual pacification of widening areas is regarded as a by-product of efforts to insure security of U.S. bases by sending patrols farther and farther beyond base perimeters.

As the Viet Cong are cleared from such areas, it is hoped, the Vietnamese army can handle the job of pacification.

In the delta, where the Communists have suffered some significant reverses recently, the South Vietnamese troops will continue to carry the brunt of the fighting.

BETTER LEADERS

U.S. military authorities credit the gains in the delta in part to what they say is outstanding leadership and aggressiveness shown by South Vietnamese officers in that theater which used to be a Viet Cong happy hunting ground.

There is no intention to send U.S. combat units into the delta, but U.S. planners aim to intensify air strikes there in support of the Vietnamese.

Concern over possible command friction between U.S. and Vietnamese officers in the field apparently has subsided.

U.S. officers still command U.S. forces in any joint operation, and Vietnamese commanders lead their own men. But officials here report a number of instances in which Vietnamese commanders voluntarily have placed themselves under U.S. direction.

Mediator Attempts to End State Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Mediation Director William E. Simkin intervened Tuesday in an attempt to settle a four-month strike against the Wyandotte Chemical Corp., Wyandotte Mich.

★ ★ ★

He called Wyandotte's president, Robert B. Semple, and A. J. Grospiron, president of the AFL-CIO Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, to a meeting here Sept. 22.

Driver Forfeits His License

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) —After 53 years of accident - free driving, George A. Tompkins has turned in his operators' license to keep his personal record unblemished.

"While I regret to some extent giving up this privilege," he said Tuesday to Police Supt. William Johnson, "I feel that at my age I should not try to continue driving."

Tompkins observed his 76th birthday Monday. He retired in 1956 as chief inspector for the city's bureau of electricity.

Yanks Cheered in Cong Town

BEN CAT, South Viet Nam (AP) — People lined the road and cheered as American troops passed through Ben Cat. It was not the kind of reception expected in this long-time Communist strongpoint.

Elsewhere along the road from Bien Hoat the people had turned away from the convoy with an air of hostility.

This area about 30 miles north of Saigon long has been one of the strongest Viet Cong centers in the country.

The surrounding countryside is considered "all Viet Cong." The region was the target of the first B52 strike. Command planes from Guam pounded the area again Tuesday.

The present ground operation was designed to wrest control from the Viet Cong and to lay a base for government and U.S. forces to operate.

Taking part in the operation were the U.S. Army's 173rd Airborne Brigade, battalions of Vietnamese government troops and men of the Australian and New Zealand contingents serving here.

The first convoy set out from Bien Hoa early Tuesday. It was made up of 173rd troopers in armored personnel carriers, trucks and armed scout Jeeps. By dawn it had reached Thu Dau Mot without incident. There it turned north up Route 13 for Ben Cat.

There had been no sign of the Viet Cong but reports were received that about two battalions of Communist troops had hit a nearby government post during the night. Heavy rains had melted away some of the earth road blocks, permitting the convoy to move straight along the roadway.

As the vehicles rolled along, the first B52 strike began. The jet bombers could be seen passing west of Ben Cat, dumping their loads of explosives into the region known as the "Iron Triangle."

Confab on Viet Opens at U-M

Say War Is Immoral, Lacks Justification

ANN ARBOR (AP) — An international conference on "Alternative Perspectives on Viet Nam" opened at the University of Michigan Tuesday with the assertion by a speaker the Viet Nam conflict is immoral.

Herbert C. Kelman, a psychology professor at U-M said in a keynote speech the war in the southeast Asian country "lacks the kind of apparent moral justification that other wars have had."

Assembled at the opening session were some 50 intellectuals from 10 countries, including American playwright Arthur Miller, and Benedictine and Buddhist monks.

The delegates will meet in sessions barred to the public and newsmen during the five-day conference.

Their findings will be presented Friday.

"We are bombing, killing and destroying the homes and livelihoods of the very people whom we are supposedly protecting.... We are supporting acts of cruelty and torture, of which innocent civilians often are the victims," Kelman said.

Good News for the Kids: Daily Bath Not Needed

NEW YORK (AP) — Rub-a-dub-dub, you don't have to spend all that time in the tub.

For the harried mother who sometimes finds that cleanliness is next to impossible and for the child herded daily into the tub, a New Orleans pediatrician says, "Most of us are bathed too much."

Such a statement ought to make Dr. Ralph V. Platou man of the year with the wet set, but a random sampling around the country drew mixed reaction.

"I love baths," said Thomas Aronson, 9, of Albany, N.Y. "I especially like to take them before I go to bed because I like to be clean."

★ ★ ★

"I don't like to take baths—unless mommy lets me take a bubble bath," said Beth Hall, 7, of Atlanta, Ga.

HARMFUL MAYBE

Dr. Platou, chairman of the Department of Pediatrics at Tulane Medical School, said in Memphis, Tenn., Tuesday that a bath a day is not only unnecessary, but often harmful.

"Today's strong soaps can remove many of the natural skin secretions which are beneficial. We should be bathed where we are dirty and only when needed," he said. "Otherwise, our skin should be left alone."

Lisa King, 11, of Miami, Fla., said she has been taking a bath every day for as long as she can remember. Lisa, a sixth grader, said she isn't that crazy about baths, but "you can't stay dirty all the time."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Huber of Daly City, Calif., said, "I don't think they need a bath every day. She has three children and "of course I see that they wash their hands and faces."

MOM AGREES

Switching roles in the traditional parent-child view of daily baths are Mary Rigsby and her daughter, Laurie, 12, of Louisville, Ky.

Mrs. Rigsby said she agrees with Dr. Platou regarding children. Laurie said, "I don't know. I think you should bathe once a day when necessary or at least every other day."

Emmett Corrigan, a Louisville father of six, is inclined to scoff at the suggestion. "I know a couple of kids around here that would really go for that. He must work for those people who make deodorants."

★

Timothy J. Burns, 15, a high school junior at Waltham, Mass., said, "A bath a day isn't necessary but waiting till we're dirty could cramp our social life."

★ ★ ★

Kathy Dobbin, 8, of Seattle, Wash., said she wants to take baths all the time and showers in between. Mrs. Dobbin said her pediatrician told her not to bathe the children for the first six months. "But I couldn't stand that," she said. "I bathed them anyway."

U.S.-Soviet Conflict Seen Over Moon Landing Site

By WILLIAM J. EATON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A possible Soviet - American conflict over a landing site on the moon was foreseen today by a participant at the conference on World Peace through Law.

Ivan A. Vlasic, law professor at McGill University in Montreal, called for an agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union to prevent any disputes over moon exploration.

Vlasic said in a paper submitted to a conference workshop that the "moon race" may lead to a clash in space by 1970 between Russia and the United States.

"The intense technological competition and military rivalry between these two countries, compounded by profound ideological differences, provide a ready-made scene for conflict unless reasonably clear policies are agreed upon prior to the first landing," he said.

* * *

Vlasic said the relatively small size of the moon, its rugged terrain and 30,000 craters may trigger a dispute over the few available landing sites.

FORESIGHT UNNECESSARY

"No great foresight is required to predict the potential consequences of such unfriendly confrontation," he said.

"They might range from mere claims to exclusive authority in certain domains to violence about all," Vlasic said. He urged a careful study of proposals for creation of an independent international agency to operate space programs on behalf of all nations.

The legal problems of space exploration and satellite communication were matters of keen interest at the conference, a gathering of 3,000 lawyers and jurists from 120 countries.

The meeting is designed to promote greater world reliance on law to settle disputes.

John A. Johnson, vice president of the Communications Satellite Corp. (COMSAT), told the conference yesterday that earth-orbiting satellites may be able to carry intercontinental television broadcasts directly into the homes of viewers within a few years.

This will pose "radically new problems of national or international control" of communications, he said.

Johnson said the space segment of satellite systems capable of serving the world through ground relay stations would be ready in less than three years.

And during the 1970s, he said, global telecasting into homes without any earth relays is quite possible.

Latin General Hits Expulsion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin says a U.S. Army lieutenant held a bayonet at his back when he was expelled from the Dominican Republic last week.

The lieutenant would not let him go to his home to pick up clothes and see his family, said the general, who led government troops against insurgents in Santo Domingo.

* * *

"The American official who ordered my expulsion in such a humiliating way has given the coup de grace to the fight for democracy in Latin America," Wessin y Wessin said.

He made the accusations in a six-page letter to the provisional president of the Dominican Republic, Hector Garcia-Godoy, who booted him out last week and hastily announced that he was being appointed consul general in Miami.

SENSE OF HUMOR

"An elemental sense of military honor prevents me from accepting the appointment of general consul in Miami from a government that has used foreign troops to send me to exile by force," said the letter, dated Sept. 10.

That was the day Wessin y Wessin landed in Miami after a trip from Santo Domingo via Panama in a U.S. Air Force plane.

"I could never imagine that a military man of my rank could be taken to the airport and expelled with a bayonet at his back," he said.

"I arrived with no passport, no money and with a suit that was given to me by the military commander in Panama."

Conscription Never Popular in U.S.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a series of three articles.)

By MYORN FEINSILBER
United Press International

Compulsion has been used since the days of Moses to put men into war. Some men have gone gladly but millions more have had to be drafted.

One of the most shameful moments in America's history occurred because men would not gladly follow the colors.

For four days in July 1863, mobs raged across Manhattan Island, battling police with stones and firearms, lynching Negro men and raping their wives, setting the mansions of the rich afire, pillaging and plundering.

In contrast with the August rioting in Los Angeles, which killed 37, this riot killed 1,200.

★ ★ ★

Its cause was the draft. Unwilling to participate in what they called "a rich man's war but a poor man's fight," the immigrant poor of New York's tenements rose to insurrection to oppose Mr. Lincoln's reluctant decree that the North would conscript an army.

NEVER POPULAR

From the draft riots of 1863 to the summer of 1965, when the Congress found it prudent to make it a federal offense to destroy draft cards, conscription has never been popular in America.

Its history precedes America's. Indeed, some find in the Bible evidence of an early draft.

The 46th Verse of the First Chapter of Number tells how Moses and Aaron registered "all "from twenty years old and upward, every man able to go forth to war in Israel — their whole number was six hundred and three thousand five hundred and fifty."

★ ★ ★

Napoleon conquered Europe with conscripts. Between 1800 and 1813, he drafted 2.6 million men. In colonial America, every man, even the weak-bodied, had a duty to keep himself armed to protect the community.

LAWS ON CONSCRIPTION

More than 650 colonial laws dealt with conscription. The Virginia General Assembly during its 1623-24 session gave commanders authority to "levy a parti of men of the inhabitants . . . see that many as well be spared without too much weakening of the plantations and to imploy these men against the Indians, when they shall assault us neere unto our inhabitantions."

George Washington — as a desperate general and later a prudent President—asked Congress several times for a draft law. Wary of the too-powerful central government, Congress each time refused.

But the Civil War, the World's first mechanical war in which millions were combatants, made a draft necessary—North and South. Northern volunteers, enlisting for durations of from three to nine months, laid down their arms, sometimes in the midst of major battle, and went home when their enlistments ended. Compulsion became necessary.

★ ★ ★

"The story of the draft during the war between the states," says the Selective Service System," "Is a story of bungling, mismanagement, graft and bloodshed, characterized by almost every conceivable kind of mistake. . ."

BLANKET EXEMPTIONS

In the South, blanket exemptions were granted men who owned 20 or more slaves and teachers, druggists and newspapermen. As a result, men who chose not to serve founded schools without pupils, drugstores without customers and newspapers without readers.

Because men of wealth could send substitute soldiers by paying their wages, Southern volunteers were paid less than the substitutes and resented them.

In the North, a man of wealth could either buy exemption from the draft for $300 (half a year's pay for an immigrant with steady 12-hours-a-day work) or hire a substitute at whatever bargain the two reached.

Men became rich as professional substitutes, collecting their bounties only to desert and sell their services again. Rich districts sent substitutes; poor districts sent conscripts. It was a poor man's draft and, the poor said, an army raised by "the rich man's money and the poor man's blood."

★ ★ ★

To New York's Irish immigrants the war was a far-off affair; to them, the Negro was an economic threat who, once freed, was likely to take their jobs for lower wages.

CROWD GATHERS

A crowd gathered for the first drawing on July 11, 1863, of 1,200 names from a barrel at district draft headquarters. Three days later, the riots erupted.

A mob sacked draft headquarters. It swaggered through the city and thousands of men streamed from the workbenches to join it.

It broke into arms stores, fought bloody battles with the police (fights that pitted Irishmen against Irishmen), stoned to death any Negro likely to come within the mob's sight, set ablaze a home for 233 Negro orphans whose lives were saved by fireman holding off the mob with axes.

Finally regiments badly needed by Meade's army to pursue Lee after Gettysburg, were dispatched to New York to put down the riot.

KILL REGISTRARS

The next month 10,000 troops were sent to New York and the draft resumed. It was so unpopular throughout the North that 98 federal registrars were killed during its first four months.

In all, 1.2 million Northerners were said to have been drafted; but only 42,000 draftees were actually inducted.

By the time America reluctantly entered World War I "to make the world safe for democracy" it had learned how to draft efficiently and bloodlessly. It registered 24 million men, drafting 2,810,296 of them.

★ ★ ★

Resistance came only from Oklahoma; there tenant farmers, Negroes and Indians staged the "Green Corn Rebellion." It was a brief, ineffective and short-lived affair.

WAR SYSTEMIZED

By then war had become systemized. Europe had learned from Napoleon. When Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated, France, Russia, Germany and Austria-Hungary, all with peacetime drafts, quickly put millions of men into the field.

America could do no less, despite the protest of Speaker of the House Champ Clark, who declared: "In the estimation of Missourians, there is precious little difference between a conscript and a convict."

By then, war had made all men its prisoners.

See What the Well Dressed Man Will Wear

How to lead a double life. All it takes is this unique and versatile blazer suit tailored for the first time this fall by Hart Schaffner & Marx. The jacket is tailored of an easy-going hopsack fabric and styled with trim natural shoulder Racquet Club lines. It has a British paisley foulard lining and smoked pearl buttons.

There's great joy in collecting—both in currency (for the numismatist) or in sports jackets (for the individualist). Coventry creates a masterpiece for the latter in real smooth all-American double-knit wool. The style is a V-neckliner, double-breasted, bordered with meticulous tailoring and side-vents.

For the well dressed young man this knicker with matching hat and jacket by Bo-Peep in Crompton's wide wale corduroy is a must. The jacket is smartly tailored with a double-breasted closing and side tabs at the waistline. Not available locally.

New for the fall season and previewed in Stockholm, Moscow and Copenhagen on Petrocelli's 5th Annual Fashion Flight, this velvet-collared coat is tailored by Harry Irwin of 100% vicuna with very new L-shaped lapels and angled flap pockets. Such luxury deserves the hand-finished edging, the Chesterfield breast pocket and the neatly cuffed sleeves.

Stripes are once again expected to lead in pattern popularity among fashionable shirted men this season. Traditionally styled button-down model, shown above, features bold red and black vertical motif on ground of white. Fabric is an oxford weave of 65 per cent "Dacron" polyester and 35 per cent cotton. Shirt, by Arrow.

Four-way hunting jacket offers first innovation in this sport style in over a century, from the fall collection of Woolrich Woolen Mill. It can be worn as a outer shell jacket alone, or with the lining. The reversible water-repellent nylon and insulated quilted Dacron lining comes out to double as a two-way jacket which can be worn without the outer woolen shell.

Suede's in and Dobbs has it in a pinch front, center-dent style with all-over stitched brim. New color too—covert—the hit of the season! Avanti by Dobbs. All men's fashions available locally.

Insecurity Plus Distrust

Jealousy Is a Sickness

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About the engaged girl who signed herself "Second Thoughts": I agree with your advice to give the matter a third, fourth, fifth and even more thoughts before tying herself up with a jealous, possessive man.

ABBY

My older sister married such a man. She was "flattered" by his jealousy. After they married he made her stop seeing everyone, including members of her own family.

★ ★ ★

She wasn't even allowed to talk to any of us on the phone. Today she has no friends because of his jealous attitude. We hardly recognize the person my sister has become.

When we accidentally meet on the street she is too nervous to stand and talk a minute. We love her deeply, but there is no commuting the sentence she has chosen to serve.

FORSAKEN ONES

DEAR FORSAKEN: The man your sister married is sick. And no really healthy woman would bend to his pathological demands. Anyone who regards jealousy as a "compliment," doesn't know what jealousy is.

It's insecurity plus distrust dressed up in fancy language.

DEAR ABBY: I cannot bear to go into a five and ten cent store and see how the caged birds are treated. The poor things have no water, no seed and nothing green to pick on. And they are confined in such cramped quarters it is pathetic to witness their frustration.

Why is this? Who wants to buy a bird that has been pecked half-naked by 20 or 30 other birds who just needed something to pick or or taste?

I wish these stores would hire people who like pets and know something about caring for birds. Can't something be done about this?

LOVES BIRDS

DEAR LOVES: Speak to the manager of the store. He's obviously "for the birds" and knows nothing about how to care for them.

★ ★ ★

If he is not willing to improve the situation, report him to the Society For The Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. They'll clip his wings.

Couple Weds in Toledo

Sharon Lee Thompson recently became the bride of Laurence Dale Braden at a ceremony performed by Rev. Evart E. Turner in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Toledo.

Miss Thompson chose a Chantilly lace gown and held her illusion veil in place with a band of white satin roses. She carried white Sweetheart roses and chrysanthemums.

Carol Andrews was maid of honor along with best man, John Parvu.

Parents of the couple are the Fred Thompsons of Wanda Street, Wolverine Lake, and Mrs. Louis Emery of Calvert Street and Howard Braden of Midland.

A reception for immediate families took place at the Thompson home.

Host Asks His Guest for Dance

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: When giving a dinner party at a restaurant where there is dancing, does the host dance first with his wife before asking the other ladies in the party to dance?

A: It would be very rude to the other ladies in the party for the host to dance with his wife first.

He invites the woman guest who is seated on his right for the first dance, then he dances with the other ladies and finally with his wife.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Q: Our mother and father will soon be celebrating their golden wedding anniversary and we would like to give a party in their honor.

Will you please tell us how the invitations should be worded?

A: The invitations would be worded:

In honour of the Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary of their sons and daughters

As Clear as Crystal

DEAR POLLY — When I found that the crystal on my watch was missing, I improvised a temporary crystal by opening the watch and covering the empty space with a small piece of clear plastic wrap. — EVELYN

GIRLS — This would be a good way to protect the hands of a watch until one could get it to the jewelers to have the missing crystal replaced. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I save the toast crumbs that I shake out of my toaster each morning before cleaning it. They are put into a tight container and are excellent to use in recipes calling for small amounts of dry bread crumbs. These crumbs are ready, clean, dry and smaller than one could tear or cut bread that had to be prepared for such use. — MRS. D. A. K.

DEAR POLLY — I installed a new white cement patio. The awning over the patio leaked and made rust spots on the cement. Can someone please tell me how to remove rust stains from cement? — PAUL

DEAR POLLY — I use the shovel as a dust pan when cleaning out the garage. This saves time and trouble. — MRS. J. K.

DEAR POLLY — A shoe box is a wonderful size for a recipe box. I have transferred all of my recipe cards and title cards from the file box, which was too small, to my new file.

It is shallow enough to stand in a kitchen drawer and all I have to do is slip open the drawer, thumb through the cards and find the desired recipe without even removing the box from the drawer.—BETTY

* * *

GIRLS — If you use small file cards, take the box top and cut through it to make a form to fill in the extra space along one side of the box interior. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — My daughter-in-law finds that a hand brush, with a straight-edge top makes a useful soap dish. In both her kitchen and bathroom she keeps a bar of soap sitting on top of a hand brush that is turned with the bristles up.

Her little boys have learned to clean their dirty hands with soap and the hand brush and then put them back as described. Try it and see how well it works. — MRS. C. E. H.

The Daniel Edward Wagners (Janell Kay Ash) are in Niagara for a honeymoon following their vows and reception Saturday in the Waterford Community Church. The bride's white satin gown was styled with French lace bodice, softly-pleated skirt and chapel train. The newlyweds' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ash of Clarkston and the Dan Wagners of Snowapple Drive. Attending the couple were the Hugh Coventrys, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Ash, the Ronald Cockrums, Janeen Ash and Ronald Crites.

Rev. Lewis Ellis of St. Patrick's Church performed the recent rites that united the Douglas Dean Harks (Jacqueline Lee Stamats). White lace over taffeta was chosen by the bride along with a crown of seed pearls that held an illusion veil. Her flowers were white Sweetheart roses. Mrs. Gerald Bretz was her sister's matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul Knopp, Marilyn Bower and Rosemary Liska. Barry D. Hark was best man with ushers Paul Knopp, Frank Cooper III and Ronald Chatterson. The couple, whose parents are the Robert Stamats and the Lawrence Harks, all of Highland Township, left for a Mackinac Island honeymoon after an evening reception in the American Legion Hall in Milford.

is unusual Accuracy and unusual Value!

Self-winding, calendar-dial Constellation chronometer, $195. Other Constellations, $175 to $1000

Powered by gravity, the Omega Constellation winds itself as you wear it. Without hand-winding, or power-cells which frequently need replacing, it will run for years and years, as long as you wear it. Calendar-dial models tell the exact date as well as the precise time...automatically. The Constellation is one of the world's finest watches. Ask for free Omega style brochure.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice:

Will you please tell me how to determine the direction of the thread entering the needle of the sewing machine? What is meant by the last thread guide?

Mrs. T. S.

Dear Mrs. T. S.:

Most every sewing machine has a little hook or guide just above the needle. The direction of the hook, in other words the side it appears on, is usually a sure way to know which way the machine should be threaded.

The sewing machine needle must also be placed in properly.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. H. J. Murphy, Alma, Mich., is this week's winner of a Tailor Trix pressing board for this suggestion.

"I have found that when making any type of garment out of knitted fabric or stretch fabric, if I make the sleeve and back lining on the bias, there is more give and the garment is much more comfortable."

(Thanks for this tip, I have already tried it and it really does work, it's definitely more comfortable.)

The rounded part of the needle (which also has a very fine groove at the center) must be placed on the correct side or the thread will break as you stitch. The rounded side of the needle must be on the side where you will thread the machine. The little groove is actually a guide for the thread to follow as the machine is stitching.

Dear Eunice:

Will you please tell me the correct side to place the buttonholes in the back of little girls' blouses. I have seen a difference between the patterns and the ready-made blouse.

Mrs. M. B.

Dear Mrs. M. B.:

Apparently it really doesn't matter which side you place the buttons. After your letter, I checked with ready-made clothes and patterns for children and adults and I have seen either side used. If the buttons are in the front, the right front buttons over the left front of women's clothes. As I've said many times before, rules are made to be broken. At a recent fashion show of expensive, high-fashion clothes, a designer coat was actually buttoned from left to right, the same as in men's fashions. So you see, even if you make a mistake, you can always say you decided to do it the way an expensive garment was made. Who'll know you didn't do it on purpose?

Football Stars Tackle Cooking as Experiment

DARTMOUTH, Nova Scotia (AP) — Ask a football player at Prince Andrew High School here what's cooking and he's likely to mention anything from rolls to desserts.

* * *

Several members of the team are tackling the school's experimental home economics course in cooking fundamentals.

The boys, who applied for enrollment, have only one complaint. They want more advanced training, and this might be provided in future classes.

CHEF CAREER

The experimental program was designed to provide a testing ground for young men who think they might be interested in becoming chefs. The city's school authorities now are deciding how far it should be extended.

* * *

Mrs. Raymond Stewart, teacher of the class, says it's the first class of boys she has ever instructed in home economics. The boys are so keenly interested they have asked for more difficult cooking problems to tackle.

Draftees Should Buy Insurance Now

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Would you please remind the young men of draft age of the importance of purchasing insurance policies now — before they will be unable to.

Soon the insurance companies are going to put "war clauses" into policies, which will prevent them or their beneficiaries from getting anything more than what they have put into the policies. Also, the government is not giving or offering the servicemen insurance policies.

Many young men still believe otherwise. Will you please set them straight?

Mrs. M. R., Jersey City, N.J.

Dear Mrs. R.: You've said all there is to say Young men, please listen

Dear Miss Feeley: Our daughter has just entered college and our 15-year-old son will be entering in three years. I was wondering if we have enough insurance while the children are in school.

My husband earns $18,000 a year, and has a retirement plan with death benefits, at present worth $28,000. This goes up as his salary increases, with cash benefits of $42,821.40 when he is 65.

We also have a $5,000 life insurance policy and $2,000 invested in company stock. Our savings account is now at $7,000. Our $22,000 home is paid for, and we have no bills except normal living expenses.

We would, of course, like to see the children finish their education, and would like your advice on how best to arrange for this.

Mrs. S. P., Salem, Oregon

Dear Mrs. P.: One way to safeguard the children's college expenses would be to buy term insurance now — say $20,000 on a five-year basis, or more if you can afford it.

Actually whether this amount could be counted on to see both children through a four-year course would depend on how expensive their tuition is. But it should protect your daughter through four years, and your son through two years.

At the end of the five-year period, this term insurance, which is most reasonable, might be renewed, converted to ordinary life, or dropped if need be.

As of today, if the assets you mention had to suddenly be converted into cash, you'd have only about $42,000 — which certainly would not be sufficient to educate the children and provide you, as a widow, with a lifetime livelihood.

* * *

Dear Mary Feeley: I am the owner of stocks and I want to have a friend as a survivor or in joint ownership. Could you please advise me on the procedure for doing this. E. U., New York City

Dear E. U.: Have an attorney set up a trust agreement, stating that the stocks are solely yours during your lifetime, and that after your death they would be the property of the friend you name as beneficiary.

A stockbroker of a large New York company points out that there isn't any simple way for a stockbroker to handle such a transaction, as he is not permitted by the Stock Exchange to make a formal trust arrangement.

Nothing to Do but Hold Walls, How Very Dull

Consider the walls in your living room. There they stand with nothing to do but keep the ceiling in place and the pictures from falling down. What a dull routine. Each one of the four walls surrounding you is probably bored stiff. Why not light up their lives and yours as well.

* * *

The design possibilities of luminous wall lighting are endless—your walls when lighted internally could become the focal point of the room. Restaurants, reception rooms, and other commercial dwellings have been taking advantage of bright decorative walls for years. And with a little ingenuity you can create a luminous wall in your home which goes beyond the rather conventional public designs.

THE LATEST

Electrical Construction and Maintenance says that luminous walls are the new trend in lighting. The choice of decorative materials for lighted surfaces has greatly increased as more and more people have discovered that walls can be more to a room than just a place to keep furniture against!

Refrigerators? Chilly Response

NEW YORK (UPI) — Colleges now are being pressured to put refrigerators in rooms of students, according to a report in "College and University Business," a journal.

* * *

The move would prevent students from storing food on window sills. But it also would bring new problems: overloads on electrical systems, convenience in storing beer. And once the refrigerator is in the room, the report noted, what's to stop students from moving in a hotplate?

Distraught Girl, Is Guarded in Custody Battle

PETOSKEY (AP) — An around-the-clock guard was placed at the hospital door of 5-year-old Gerri Lynn Ernst Friday.

The guard was ordered by the Emmet county sheriff's department as protective custody for the child.

* * *

Gerri Lynn was admitted to the hospital Thursday for what was described as emotional upset. This came at the climax of a series of court orders on custody transfer of Gerri from her maternal grandparents to her father.

The girl has lived with her grandparents since her mother died in 1960.

Women Don Warbonnets

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (AP)—Indian-type warbonnets are a distinctive part of the uniform worn by the Petticoat Warriors, a precision horseback riding club for women. The group started out with six members, who vowed to learn to ride as well as their husbands because they were tired of sitting in the stands.

Sometimes known as The Ladies of the Horsemen, the group has grown to 15 members who perform regularly during the Horseman's Saturday night rodeos. The Petticoat Warriors go through dozens of intricate maneuvers while their husbands watch.

Early Dental Care Keeps Teeth Sound

TORONTO (AP) — One reason to start taking children to the dentist while they are still preschoolers is that it is a good way to prevent crooked teeth.

* * *

Not only is the child's appearance at stake, but malocclusion (improper positioning of the teeth) can also cause damage that will lead to difficulties in later life.

TERRIFIC PRESSURE

"Your bite has about 200 pounds pressure," says Dr. S. A. MacGregor, professor and head of children's dentistry at the University of Toronto. "If you don't believe me, try putting your finger in a child's mouth.

* * *

"If your teeth don't come together properly, you can eventually break the bone and you'll lose your teeth."

* * *

Several things can cause malocclusion, including neglect of baby teeth, disease, such bad habits as thumbsucking, and the size of the jaws and teeth.

CROWDED

"A great big man picks out a little wife and the poor kids wind up with his big teeth and her little jaw. They may have 28 teeth in a space where there should be 24.

* * *

"The genetic problem will show up when the lower permanent teeth start to come through. Two teeth will come in to occupy the space of three baby teeth.

* * *

"Treatment should begin right away. Timed extraction — removing some of the baby teeth and two or four of the permanent teeth — can shorten the time a child will have to wear bands."

What Mother Should Tell You If You're Getting Married

Don't risk disappointment by having a friend attempt to photograph your wedding. Photographs can't be taken over again. In years to come your wedding picture story will recall the happy moments. Don't trust it to an amateur.

Professional portraits are not as expensive as most brides think. Per picture cost is about the same as paying for your own film, flash bulbs and having prints made.

Visit two studios before you decide on a photographer—compare quality and price but don't be talked into black and white. It's obsolete. Look into a mirror. Much of your beauty is color.

If your wedding is within 6 months make your appointment soon as professionals take only one wedding a day and most are already booked for months. Kendale Studios, who have been photographing weddings for 36 years, has a complete b/w four extras—5x7 newspaper glossy, car wedding sign, album and information sheet for newspaper.

SPACE RESCUE — This is a Martin Co. artist's concept of a crewman leaving a rescue spacecraft, going to help a stranded cosmonaut vehicle. Dominican Fight Didn't Halt Peace Corps Volunteers

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (NEA) — During a revolution, when all hell breaks loose, nothing is ever very stable. Latin Americans, who know more about revolutions than anybody else, would be the first to agree.

Yet, in the Dominican Republic, which has suffered through a special kind of hell for more than three months, one small element — a foreign one at that — never lost its equilibrium: the U.S. Peace Corps.

There were tense moments, of course, when the bullets splattered into homes and people and Santo Domingo braced for another bloodbath.

Several Peace Corps volunteers were shipped home and others were ordered out of sight for awhile, but the work went on in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Elmore, fresh out of the Peace Corps training camp in Puerto Rico, first set foot in Santo Domingo in early June and were greeted with bullets, barbed wire and armed and uniformed men.

* * *

"My stomach turned," Roma Elmore said, "but we were here and we had work to do."

A HARDY LOT

Peace Corps volunteers are a hardy lot. They are dedicated, intelligent, vigorous and young. The Elmores are all of these and they are both 70 years old, too — reportedly the oldest couple in the Corps.

Luther Elmore was a World War I doughboy, worked a truck farm in Washington state and spent more than 30 years in the Bremerton, Wash. post office before reaching mandatory retirement age.

"I didn't think I was ready for the rocking chair," Elmore said, "and neither was Roma, so when she talked about the Peace Corps, I brought the application papers home the same day."

* * *

Was the Peace Corps training, said to wear out 20-year-olds, rigorous? "We were extended, but not overextended," Mrs. Elmore said.

SWIM AND HIKE

"I didn't do the more physical exercises, but I did swim and take a few hikes. Luther took a four-day hike with the other boys."

The Elmores operate a camp, in conjunction with Canadian priests, for young Dominicans in the village of Padre las Casas, about 80 miles west of Santo Domingo, an agricultural region.

"We don't really run the camp," Roma Elmore explained. "We're in the background. We want the people to run the programs and, generally, they do."

* * *

Though they work essentially with children, the Elmores are in close touch with parents who are members of various committees and support the camp by contributing their time and money.

LEARN DEMOCRACY

"We've shown them how to run meetings, complete with parliamentary procedure," Elmore said. "And I'm sure they get a good idea of democracy this way."

This charming couple, she with silky white hair, he with a bristly mustache, think nothing of driving an ancient Jeep over rocky roads for hours at a stretch.

They live in a modest home, not unlike those of their simple Dominican neighbors. And they find life exhilarating.

The Peace Corps has about 70 volunteers working on various projects throughout the country. In Santo Domingo, only three are presently at work.

RECENT GRADUATE

One of them is Peter Corey, a New Yorker and recent graduate of the University of Colorado who has lived with the revolution in a poverty-stricken section of the city called La Fuente.

Pete Corey's job is to advise a group of Dominican teenagers who have formed a cooperative to make and sell handmade seed jewelry and other interesting bricabrac.

"Advise" is the key word here. The boys, who elect officers, make the decisions. Business, despite the revolution, has been good, Corey says.

The young people in the cooperative obviously adore Corey. "I am by no means a patron," he says. "I want to be one of them, work with them, talk with them about things which they know or want to know.

Several Peace Corps volunteers asked to leave the country when the revolution started. Pete Corey thinks this was wrong. "We were needed then," he says. "And I think we're needed now."

Mental Ills Talk Hopeful, Impatient

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

WASHINGTON — Congressman Billie S. Farnum, D-Waterford Township, said before he left Washington for his usual weekend back in his congressional district that his talk at the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce Seminar on the topic "Mental Health and Mental Retardation" would "reflect a mixture of hope and impatience."

It does. Hope is seen in the progressive legislation approved during the last few sessions of the Congress and impatience at the delay in the full implementation of the new laws. "The people expected to benefit cannot wait" said the Democrat.

The states have been slow to use the $150 million in federal funds authorized and the $85 million already appropriated for President Kennedy's "bold new approach" to mental health by providing local centers where preventive, as well as therapeutic, treatment could be given people so that they would not become wards in the old, crowded state mental hospitals.

The legislation, stresses Farnum, "calls for the states to develop orderly plans for their mental health programs before they could get construction grants for community centers. So far only six states have had their plans for centers approved and only one actual construction grant has been awarded. (Michigan submits its plan this month).

Nearly all of the mentally retarded can be helped to some degree the congressman reports, after carefully checking with the National Institute of Mental Health. "It has been shown that two out of three schizophrenics . . . our largest category of mentally ill . . . can be treated and released within six months, the congressman said, adding, "Under conditions which too often prevail today the average stay for schizophrenics is 11 years."

DELAY REASONS

Some of the reasons for delay were outlined:

- a state could not apply for matching funds until statewide plan approved.
- some state officials wedded to outdated theories.
- some officials unsure of funds to pay additional staff.
- apathy and hostility to change.
- proper treatment is costly. ("Far less costly in long run than mere custodial care and far more likely to succeed.")

* * *

As to delay caused by the initial burden of staffing new local centers, President Johnson recommended in his health message to the Congress that legislation be authorized for a 5-year program of grants for the initial costs of personnel to man community health centers. Congress complied.

OTHER LEGISLATION

The congressman brought into the discussion other legislation which bear on mental illness and retardation.

Listed with brief explanation: Economic Opportunities Act, which includes Operation Head Start important to mental retardation in children; Medicare, which provides prepaid insurance for the aged mentally ill. Older people constitute almost one-third of Michigan's mental hospital population; Education legislation provides special education for disadvantaged, often mental; hospital improvement program appropriations for improving treatment of mentally ill.

Negro Leader Says Congress Is the New Battleground for Civil Rights Movement

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief architect of the 1963 march on Washington said today Congress has emerged as the battleground for the nation's civil rights movement.

"There is not a major city in the country that has the resources, finances and the will to integrate schools or to bring about employment for Negroes or to destroy slums," Bayard Rustin said in an interview.

* * *

"The Negro has finally realized that to accomplish this will require votes, planning and billions of dollars from Congress," he added.

This realization, Rustin said, is the most significant aspect of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party's unsuccessful attempt to unseat the state's five congressmen.

The Freedom Democratic party's battle has been endorsed by every major civil rights group in the nation, Rustin said, and has taught them all that "Congress now must become a focal point for the advancement of the struggle."

"Even if we lose this battle," he said, "it will act as a spur to increase the concentration on Congress."

* * *

Rustin, who has been described by many civil rights leaders as the visionary in the movement, now heads the A. Phillip Randolph Institution which is fundamentally concerned with the eradication of economic barriers to the Negro. The institution is located in New York.

Rustin said that the new-found unanimity among civil rights groups "serves notice on Congress of a beginning of a great political movement in the country for the solution of social and economic problems that are American problems and that, when solved, will benefit more whites than Negroes.

NEW PERIOD

"The unanimity is an indication of the emergency of a new period in the civil rights movement, the realization that most of the big problems must be solved through moral and financial aid from Congress."

What is required now, the civil rights leader said, is the emergence of vast national economic programs to eradicate economic barriers to the Negro.

* * *

"We're dealing now with brutality and voting in the South and jobs, housing and quality education in the North," Rustin said. "They all require a congressional response, a response that has been lacking before.

"What I would tell Congress is that what has happened in Atlanta, Louisville and Memphis indicates that the voting rights bill has put them (Southern congressmen) on the defensive. Negroes are now on the threshold of attaining political power."

POLITICAL POWER

"What I would tell the average Negro," Rustin added, "is that the most sacred responsibility he has is to register and to vote and to organize at the local level to utilize his political power."

With his new political power, Rustin said, comes added responsibility.

"The Negro must resist tendencies to isolate himself from other progressive elements in black-bloc voting.

"He must join his political power with that of other progressive groups such as trade unions, intellectuals and enlightened businessmen to work for concrete and common objectives."

Rochester Women Join the Ranks of Cookbook Publishers With Apple Recipes

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Cookbooks are coming to my desk so fast that I can't even get one thoroughly read before there's a new one there.

This week a slim little red and white volume arrived from Rochester.

In connection with the Art 'N' Apples Festival this week the Confraternity of Christian Mothers of St. Andrew Parish has published an apple cookbook.

You may purchase this cookbook at the festival in the Garden of Eden booth where the Confraternity will serve coffee and a different dessert (taken from the book) each day.

In case you can't get to the festival, we'll let you try a recipe at home. Here's one submitted by Mrs. George Hildebrandt.

APPLE TORTE

1 cup chopped apples
1 cup flour
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon soda

Mix all together well and spread in greased 8x8x2 pan. Sprinkle top of mixture with one-half cup brown sugar and one-half cup nutmeats.

Bake 20 minutes at 375 degrees. Cut into squares and serve warm or cold with whipped cream. Makes 9 servings.

While I was on vacation a book of meatless recipes arrived. Called "Graymoor's Treasury of Meatless Recipes", it's published by Graymoor Press, Peekskill, N.Y., but I can't find a price on it.

The recipes which sound good include, cheese, eggs, fish and vegetables.

One of the most prolific publishers of cookbooks is Favorite Recipes Press, Inc. P.O. Box 3369, Montgomery, Alabama., 36109.

In the past month I've had three new books from them: "Recipes on Parade — Desserts"; "Favorite Recipes of Home Economics Teachers—Casseroles"; and "Favorite Recipes of Michigan—Meats." The first two are $3.45 each, the third one $1.25

Sister M. Dorothy, IHM, a teacher at Marian High School in Birmingham, submitted a cheese and ham casserole recipe for the casserole book.

Why don't you try it when you have some leftover ham?

GOURMET CHEESE AND HAM CASSEROLE

½ cup celery sliced
¼ cup green pepper, chopped
½ cup boiling water
1 cup milk
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon garlic salt
½ cup Parmesan cheese, shredded
2 cups cooked ham, diced
½ pound medium noodles

Cook and drain noodles. Cook celery and green pepper in boiling water for 5 minutes; drain.

Gradually add milk to cream cheese, blending until smooth. Place over low heat and stir until heated. Add seasoning, half of cheese, ham, celery and green pepper. Mix well.

Pour sauce over noodles; toss lightly. Place in buttered 1-½ quart casserole. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Cover. Bake 30-35 minutes at 350 degrees. Makes 8 servings.

Allowing pie dough to "rest," often helps to make a pastry tender.

Serve Kohlrabi in a Sauce

First find your kohlrabi, then cook it this delicious way.

Kohlrabi With Cheese Sauce

2 bunches (12) small young kohlrabi
1 cup boiling water
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon each butter and flour
½ cup milk
¼ cup grated cheddar cheese

Trim stems and leaves from kohlrabi; pare thinly, cut into thin crosswise slices — there should be 1½ cups.

In a 1-quart saucepan, bring the kohlrabi, boiling water and salt to a boil; cover and boil until tender — about 10 minutes; drain.

In clean saucepan, over low heat, melt the butter; stir in flour, then milk; cook and stir constantly until thickened; off heat stir in the cheese.

Add kohlrabi and gently reheat. Makes 3 servings.

Hearty Sandwich Starts Day

A good breakfast is recommended to start a good day.

Just what is a good breakfast? It is one that supplies from ¼ to ⅓ of the day's total nutritional requirements and includes a fruit (preferably citrus), a protein food (milk, eggs, meat or cheese), and a carbohydrate food such as cereal or enriched or whole grain breads. And, a good breakfast also means eating foods you like.

People who don't enjoy the more traditional breakfast foods can easily fit unusual choices into the pattern of a good breakfast. A sandwich for breakfast provides part of the daily requirements for protein and carbohydrate.

Accompaniments such as kabobs, made from fresh or canned fruits, and milk shakes, made from milk and ice cream, provide part of the daily requirements for fruit and additional protein.

If someone at your house would prefer a sandwich for breakfast, by all means serve it, along with other foods to complete the good breakfast pattern. An unusual breakfast that provides its share of the day's total nutritional requirements is far better than no breakfast at all.

Colorful Salad Will Make Hit

If color is a persuasive factor in your family's acceptance of new recipes — as it assuredly is in the case of many persons' food tastes—then "Red and Amber Salad" can't miss being a mealtime hit.

Red and Amber Salad

¾ cup California dates
1 medium-size head red cabbage
½ cup chopped onion
⅓ cup salad oil
¼ cup vinegar
2 tablespoons barbecue sauce
2 teaspoons Worchestershire
½ teaspoon salt
1 can (8 oz.) pineapple chunks, drained
½ cup chopped celery

Cut dates into large pieces. Remove outer leaves of cabbage and chill. Cut enough of remaining cabbage into julienne strips to measure 1 quart; combine in bowl with dates, onions, oil, vinegar, barbecue sauce, Worchestershire and salt.

Chill at least 2 hours, tossing occasionally. Mix in pineapple and celery.

Arrange reserved cabbage leaves in salad bowl; spoon cabbage-date mixture into center. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Sesame for Crunch

Grease the cups of your muffin tins well, then sprinkle with sesame seeds before adding the dough of your drop biscuits for baking. The biscuits will be crunchier.

Broil Pineapple

When you want to serve pineapple rings with broiled chicken, you can add the pineapple to the broiling pan about 5 minutes before the chicken finishes cooking.

Beef Tongue Salad Is Different

It may look like a long recipe, this "Western Marinated Tongue Salad," but it's actually quite easy to fix and the flavor results are most commendable. What it boils down to is that cooked strips of beef tongue are chilled in a spicy marinade, then tossed with bite-size bits of western iceberg lettuce and cubed cucumber.

Marinated Tongue Salad

1 head western iceberg lettuce
1 fresh beef tongue
Salt
2 tablespoons pickling spice
1 lemon, sliced
Water
½ cup dry white dinner wine or strained tongue broth
⅓ cup salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 clove garlic, minced
1 cucumber, pared and cubed
Seasoned pepper

Core, rinse and drain lettuce. Place in plastic bag or wrap in saran; chill.

Wash tongue in warm water; combine with 2 teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon spice, lemon and water to cover in kettle or large saucepan. Cover and bring to boil; simmer 3 hours or until tender.

Drain; place tongue in cold water until cool enough to handle. Remove skin and cut away roots; cool. Cut into strips about 1½ inches long to make 1½ cups. Chill remaining tongue and slice later for sandwiches.

Bring wine and remaining spice to boil in small saucepan; remove from heat and cool. strain. Mix wine, oil, vinegar, mustard and garlic in bowl; add tongue strips and chill at least 1 hour.

Cut lettuce lengthwise into halves; place cut-sides down on board and cut 5 cups bite-size pieces. Refrigerate remaining lettuce in plastic bag or saran for use another time.

Combine bite-size lettuce, cucumber and tongue mixture in salad bowl; sprinkle with salt and seasoned pepper to taste and toss lightly. Makes 6 servings.

A Different Taste From an Old Friend

Want hamburgers with a little different flavor to cook indoors or on the patio grill? Here's a recipe you might like to try.

Chili Burgers

1 large egg
1 pound ground chuck beef
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
1-16 teaspoon garlic powder
Butter or salad oil

In a medium mixing bowl, beat the egg enough to combine the yolk and white. Add beef; sprinkle with salt, chili powder and garlic powder; mix thoroughly.

Shape into 4 patties. If cooking indoors, heat a tablespoon or two of butter or salad oil in a medium skillet; add patties and brown rapidly on both sides; reduce heat and cook to desired doneness.

If cooking outdoors, brush patties with melted butter or salad oil before grilling. Makes 4 servings. Double recipe if desired.

Lady Bird's Recipe Starts With Navy Beans

Her friends and family agree that Lady Bird Johnson is an excellent cook even though today she has little leisure to devote to this skill. Always a busy woman who successfully managed homemaking with her many other interests, she is delighted to share one of her favorite recipes.

This one from the White House is a flavorful combination of delicious beans with meat balls often enjoyed at the Texas ranch. A simple-to-prepare casserole, it's a dish easy to reheat if there are leftovers, which isn't likely!

Beans and Meat Balls

2 cups navy beans
½ pound breakfast bacon
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon ginger
½ cup honey

Wash beans, cover with water and soak overnight. Cook slowly till tender. Drain, but reserve liquid. Place half of bacon in rectangular casserole. Add beans. Add remaining ingredients combined with 1½ cups of bean liquid.

Make and press small meat balls (see recipe below) down into beans. Lay remaining bacon on top. Bake in 300 degree oven 1½ to 2 hours. Serves 6.

Meat Balls

½ pound ground lean beef
½ pound ground smoked ham
3 tablespoons chili sauce
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon soy sauce
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 slices white bread
¼ cup hot milk
1 beaten egg

Pour hot milk over bread and mix thoroughly. Add remaining ingredients. Shape into small meat balls.

Grill Cookery More Versatile With New Recipes

Regal Note to Broiled Bass

Bass, that deep-swimming, hearty fish that combines happily with herb seasoning, is a most versatile main dish. Served chilled with lemon or mayonnaise, or hot with fresh dill stuffing, bass lends a regal note to any meal.

Dill seems to activate the flavor of bass, and the following recipe from the shores of Marseilles is one used for generations by fishermen who savor the delicate taste of bass.

Broiled Bass With Fresh Dill

1 4-pound dressed bass (pike, perch, trout, or red snapper might be substituted)
3 stalks fresh dill (3 tablespoons dried dill)
2 or 3 strips lean bacon
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 clove crushed garlic
Salt and pepper

Wash fish thoroughly. Liberally salt and pepper inside of bass and place fresh dill into cavity. Brush entire exterior with butter and garlic and then lay bacon strips over fish and place in greased baking pan. Broil four inches from heat for twenty-five or thirty minutes at which time the bass should flake easily with fork-testing.

Baste with remaining butter and serve piping hot with crusty French or Italian bread and white wine.

Special Relish Is Companion for Grilled Meat

Instead of the usual mustard or catsup, make up this tasty relish to serve with hamburgers or frankfurters. It will keep in the refrigerator.

Burger Bait Relish

1 12 ounce can tomatoes
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1¼ teaspoons salt
1 ¼ teaspoons ground ginger
¾ teaspoon ground cloves
½ teaspoon mustard seed
1¼ cups water
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 cups finely shredded onion
2 cups finely shredded cabbage
1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
2 to 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice

Drain tomatoes, reserving juice; chop tomatoes in small pieces. Combine tomatoes with drained juice in saucepan. Add brown sugar, salt, ginger, cloves and mustard seed. Bring to boil; reduce heat and simmer for 10 minutes.

Blend water with cornstarch; stir into tomatoes, mixing well. Bring to boil. Stir in shredded onion and cabbage. Cook only until vegetables are crispy tender, about 2 to 3 minutes. Add grated lemon peel and lemon juice, blending well.

Cool. Serve with hamburgers or frankfurters. Makes 3½ cups.

Apricot Fizz Is Cool Will Tempt Teens

Give the teen-agers in your family a treat. Turn your kitchen into the most popular soda bar in town.

One specialty of the house might be Apricot Fizz made by dividing apricot nectar into 4 tall glasses. Fill each glass two-thirds full with ginger ale and stir. Add a scoop of vanilla ice cream to each glass and fill to the top with ginger ale.

Pretty and good — pale green honeydew balls molded with diced yellow peaches in clear lemon gelatin.

If desired, a whole bologna may be roasted on the rotisserie unit of the out-of-doors grill. Make certain the casing is removed first.

Insert the rotisserie rod through the center of the bologna. Brush with barbecue sauce.

Roast over coals which have been allowed to burn down to a fine gray ash. This will give a moderate temperature (350 degrees).

A 7 to 9 pound bologna will be heated through in approximately 45 minutes. 30 servings.

To serve, slice bologna in pieces of the desired thickness. Place on warm or toasted buns. Serve with additional barbecue sauce, if desired.

It will take about ½ cup barbecue sauce for brushing-on.

This meat can be virtually ignored, once you get it on the coals.

Barbecued Chuck Roast

3 pounds beef chuck roast
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup barbecue sauce (tomato base)
6 small onions, peeled
6 medium carrots, pared
6 medium-small potatoes, peeled

Sprinkle roast with salt; place on two large sheets of heavy foil. Pour barbecue sauce over meat.

Place onions and carrots on top of roast and potatoes around edges. Wrap securely using double folds.

Place on grill, meat side down; roast over hot coals 1¼ hours. Replenish coals if necessary.

Turn package over and cook 45 minutes or until meat is tender and vegetables cooked through. Makes 6 servings.

Note: This recipe was tested with a new barbecue sauce that comes in 1 pound and 3 ounce bottles in three styles — mild, hot, or smoky hot. The preferred style may be used in the above recipe.

Versatile Danish Blue Cheese has the unique gift of acting as a kind of catalyst in barbecue cookery. Try it with fish.

Grill Fish Steaks, Danish Blue

4 fish steaks about 8 oz. each
¼ cup salad oil
black pepper
lemon juice
4 oz. Danish Blue cheese (1 cup crumbled)

Brush steaks with oil. Sprinkle with pepper and lemon juice. Cover grill with foil; lay fish on foil.

Grill 3 inches from coals 10 minutes. Turn steaks.

Sprinkle grilled side with crumbled cheese. Cook 10 minutes longer. Makes 4 servings.

Vegetable Medley

A medley of cooked vegetables — tomatoes, green peppers, green onions, zucchini — makes a delicious accompaniment to a charcoal-broiled or a roast meat.

Salmon Dip Is Convenient

Canned salmon is a convenient food for making all kinds of quick summer dishes. It's easy to store and always ready to come to the aid of the homemaker.

Next time your neighbor drops in for a chat, serve this salmon dip with a bowl of potato chips, crackers or some crisp raw vegetables.

Salmon Dillydip

Drain and flake a 7¾-ounce can salmon. Mix with juice of ½ lemon, 1 tablespoon minced onion, ½ cup minced cucumber, ¼ teaspoon ground pepper, 1 teaspoon dry dill weed or 1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill and from ½ to 2 cups sour cream, depending on consistency desired.

"PEANUTTY" BROWNIES — This new cookie, "Peanutty" Brownies, merits a regular place in your baking repertoire — good as a dessert, snack or lunch box treat.

Peanut Bar Cookies Have Taste Plus Nutrition in 'Em

Here's a new bar cookie that's sure to be a hit with everybody — from school-agers to older folks and "in-betweens," too. "Peanutty" Brownies are double-rich in peanut flavor — both peanut butter and crunchy chopped nuts.

They're so good it's hard to stop reaching for more. And they're moist and chewy, excellent lunch box "packables."

Like almost all bar cookies, "Peanutty" Brownies are double-quick to fix — so easy that older children can make them. Just blend together sugar, peanut butter and honey, then beat in eggs.

Stir in a mixture of enriched flour and baking powder, then the chopped peanuts. Spread in a pan and bake.

The enriched flour in these flavorful cookies provides valuable nutrients in addition to those in the peanuts themselves. The B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin, and the mineral, iron, are added during the enrichment process.

Like most foods at your bakery counter, "Peanutty" Brownies are enriched for your better health.

"Peanutty Brownies

1 cup sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¾ cup sugar
½ cup creamy peanut butter
¼ cup honey
2 eggs
1 cup chopped salted peanuts

Grease 7x11-inch pan. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Sift together flour and baking powder. In mixing bowl blend together sugar, peanut butter and honey until smooth. Beat in eggs, one at a time, then blend in flour; stir in peanuts.

Spread in pan and bake 20 to 25 minutes, or until brownies begin to shrink from sides of pan. Cool 15 minutes on wire rack. Cut into squares.

Cool completely before removing from pan. Store in cookie jar or tightly covered container. Makes 18 large or 32 small squares.

If you don't sift and in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a one-cup dry measure, level off, then remove two level tablespoonfuls, according to USDA recommendations.

NOTE: If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder.

Build Wee Pizzas on English Muffins

It is believed that pizza was first made in Naples during the eighteenth century from leftover scraps of bread dough. Its popularity spread quickly, and today many types of pizza are made to suit American tastes. One version for individual sausage pizzas:

Little Italian Pizzas

1 pound pork sausages, cooked
1 can (6 oz.) tomato paste
1 teaspoon oregano
⅛ teaspoon garlic salt
½ pound Mozzarella cheese, cut in thin strips
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
6 English muffins, split and toasted

Cut sausage links into thirds. Mix tomato paste and seasonings. Spread over muffin halves. Dot with meat. Lay cheese strips over meat and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Wrap each pizza in foil. Grill 15 to 20 minutes.

Lobster Tails Like Invitations to Your Cookouts

For that end of the week outdoor supper serve lobster.

Barbecued Lobster Tails

8 frozen lobster tails (4 to 5 ounces each), thawed
1 cup butter, melted
½ cup lime juice
¾ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons curry powder
1½ teaspoons vegetable bouquet sauce
¼ teaspoon sugar

Clip underneath each side of lobster tails and remove membranes. Slit flesh about halfway through down middle of tails; bend shells out toward back to crack in order to prevent curling.

Brush flesh with marinade made of remaining ingredients; refrigerate about 1 hour. Place on grill, shell-side down; broil over moderate heat about 12 minutes.

Brush generously with marinade; turn and cook 4 to 5 minutes longer. Turn again; brush again and serve with remaining marinade for dipping. Makes 4 servings — 2 tails per portion.

Outdoor Cooking of Fish Is Subject of New Cookbook

The Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries has published a new recipe booklet containing tested recipes and suggestions for preparing fish and shellfish "over the coals."

Developed especially for those who enjoy cooking outdoors, the new booklet contains recipes for lobster tails, whitefish in foil, flounder with crab stuffing, rainbow trout, charcoal-broiled scallops, and many other tasty seafood delicacies.

Bureau home economists tested and approved nearly 40 new recipes and serving ideas which are illustrated in color in the 24-page booklet. It also contains helpful suggestions for buying fish for quality and quantity, and tips on starting and maintaining the charcoal fire.

"Fish and Shellfish Over the Coals," (Test Kitchen Series No. 14) is available for 40 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Donald L. McKernan, Director of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, said the new publication is part of the continuing consumer education program being conducted in cooperation with the fishing industries of the United States.

"Publication of 'Fish and Shellfish Over the Coals' will help many more consumers realize the economy and nutritive value of fish as an everyday food," Director McKernan said.

Release First

The top edge of a molded gelatin salad, dessert or other dish may stick when you try to unmold it. As insurance against this, run a small spatula around the edge of the mold to release the gelatin mixture before dipping the outside of the mold in hot water.

Czech President Fails in Calling for Red Confab on Economics

MOSCOW (AP) — Czech President Antonin Novotny left Moscow today after reportedly failing in a bid for a Soviet-bloc summit meeting on long-range economic planning.

Informed sources said Novotny had called for a summit meeting to coordinate the forthcoming five-year plans of the Soviet Union and its East European allies.

The sources said the Russians turned down the idea, preferring separate meetings with European Communist leaders.

The Soviets face pressure from the Czechs and the East Germans for more economic coordination and from the Romanians for less.

★ ★ ★

In a speech Tuesday, Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev said economic cooperation must proceed cautiously and should not be artificially created.

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China declared today that Britain's Labor government was in danger of immediate collapse because of its "policy of subservience to the United States."

"What makes the Wilson government particularly discredited is its toeing of the U.S. policy of aggression in Viet Nam. The broad masses of the British people strongly oppose the U.S. aggression in Viet Nam," the New China News Agency said.

LONDON (AP) — British scientists say they have developed a machine that uses a laser beam to measure accurately to a few million millionths—trillionths—of an inch.

★ ★ ★

The National Physical Laboratory at Teddington near London, where the laser machine was built, said it will be used to check movement standards in machine and automatic tools.

★ ★ ★

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — North Korea charged today that a United Nations Command transport plane violated the Communist air space over the west central front Sept. 5.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. Park Chung-kook, Red delegate, told the Joint Military Armistice Commission that a twin-engine C47 flew across the demilitarized zone into North Korean air space about two miles north of the zone before flying back to the south.

Conferees OK Bill to Hike U.S. Curbing of Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees have reached agreement on a water pollution control bill that broadens the federal government's role.

If states do not establish water quality standards on interstate waterways in two years, Washington — under terms of the bill worked out Tuesday — would establish the standards for them.

Federal grants to help build sewage plants would be doubled — the present ceiling of $600,000 for a single project and $2.4 million for a joint project would be raised to $1.2 million and $4.8 million respectively.

Also, the present ceiling on total U.S. grants would be raised from the current $100 million to $150 million a year.

Other provisions of the bill would set up a federal water pollution control administration in the Welfare Department to administer the program, provide for a new assistant secretary to supervise it, authorize research and demonstration grants on new methods to deal with combined sanitary and storm water sewers, and require pollution abatement measures in commercial fishing waters.

After a final run through the House and Senate, the bill will be sent to President Johnson.

The bill had been deadlocked for 4½ months.

Says Michigan's Lack of Lottery Helpful to Crime

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Paul A. Fino, R-N.Y., said Tuesday Michigan has become a feeding trough for organized crime and gambling because it has no state-operated lottery.

In another of a series of statements urging approval of a national lottery, Fino estimated illegal gambling in Michigan at around $5 billion annually.

★ ★ ★

He contends the state and federal governments are partners in crime and vice because they have not legalized gambling through lotteries.

If Michigan would face up to the moral facts of life, it would cease to be a feeding trough for organized crime and gambling," Fino said.

Senate to Take Up Road Beautification

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate takes up today a bill to promote highway beautification, a pet project of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and a priority item on President Johnson's legislative list.

Along with federal funds to improve the looks of the nation's principal roads, the measure would provide federal controls on billboards and junk yards along their routes.

* * *

The program would cost the federal government $320 million from tax revenues over the next two years to reimburse states for the beautification work and to compensate businessmen affected by the regulations. The cost for later years is still to be estimated.

* * *

Despite strong opposition, the Senate is expected to pass the bill after a day or two of debate.

The measure has been revised considerably from Johnson's original recommendations.

The administration and the bill's supporters agreed Tuesday night on two further changes. One would increase the federal share of payments to owners of billboards and junk yards. The other would give the secretary of commerce, rather than the states, the final say on which areas should be exempt from billboard controls.

In order to continue to receive U.S. highway aid, states would have to agree to control billboards and junk yards by Jan. 1, 1968.

Signs would be banned after July 1, 1970, within 660 feet of the primary and interstate roads except in areas zoned or used primarily for industrial or commercial purposes.

The junk yards section calls for removal or screening, also by 1970, except in industrial areas. The area of control would be 1,000 feet from the highway. If the operator elected to screen his yard, he would have to pay the first $1,500 of cost, and would get compensation for the rest.

Small Party May Be Big in German Vote

BONN, Germany (AP) — A small political party may block the way to power for Willy Brandt's Social Democrats even if they emerge the most popular group in Sunday's election in West Germany.

The Free Democratic party chairman, Erich Mende, has pledged to see that the Socialists do not occupy the Palais Schaumburg, Bonn's Rhineside chancellory.

* * *

All professional pollsters predict a close outcome in the race between the two top parties, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democrats and Brandt's Socialists. Thus, the men around Mende are likely to have a say again when it comes to forming a new government.

Their party is the junior partner of the Christian Democrats in the present administration.

DISTRUSTS SOCIALISTS

Mende, 48, a former army officer, has a deeply rooted distrust of everything Socialist. He has publicly ruled out any idea of allying himself with the Socialists in case they need the Free Democratic votes for control of the new Bundestag.

Critics quip that it has "more wings than members," but quite a few feel that the many-faced picture of Mende's group is one of its main assets. It includes former Hitler Youth leaders who pursue a strongly nationalist line. It also has some bitter anti-Nazis imprisoned during the Third Reich. There is no handy label in characterizing the party except perhaps that it stands strictly for free enterprise.

* * *

Mende is a native of Silesia, now Polish-controlled. No rival in his grouping can match him in popularity.

In 1961, for the first time under Mende's leadership, the Free Democrats polled 12.8 per cent of the national vote. Much of their success was ascribed to a campaign pledge to end the regime of Konrad Adenauer. The promise was realized two years later when Erhard took over.

CONFIDENT OF 10 PER CENT

Although experts suspect the party is now past its peak, Mende is confident of polling at least 10 per cent, enough to keep his party's foot in the door.

Much of its hopes are based on his record as vice chancellor and minister for all-German affairs in the incumbent government. He claims credit for improved contacts with East Germany, specifically for obtaining the government's green light in the Berlin pass agreement on visits behind the wall.

In his campaign, Mende has spoken for full diplomatic relations with Germany's Communist neighbors — a proposal that goes even beyond the official Socialist program. When one low-level party expert presented a study envisaging Germany's pullout from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, he was quickly called to order by Mende.

FAVORITE TOPICS

Improvement of educational standards and a demand for increased economy in state spending are favorite subjects with Mende.

The Free Democrats traditionally draw their strength from professional men, independent middle-class business people and some farming sections.

Says Mende: "We are the salt in the often dull soup of Bonn democracy."

Bats hunt by echo-location emitting ultrasonic chirps and flying toward echoes from their prey.

The shortest place names in the world are the French village of Y in the Somme, and the Norwegian village of A.

Noctuid moths, hearing the chirps of an approaching bat, either fold their wings and dive or begin zigzagging.

CROWDED ROSTRUM — Traffic became heavy at the rostrum during yesterday's discussion at the Southern Governors' Conference over a proposal to revamp the U. S. Army Reserve and the National Guard. Gov. Robert McNair of South Carolina (left) appears to be trying to get away from a brisk exchange between Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance (center) and Rep. Edward F. Hebert, D-La. In background is Gov. John Connally of Texas.

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the principal pillar of world peace is the integrity of U. S. commitments around the globe.

"If the other side ever believed that commitment was not worthwhile, then we have not begun to see the dangers," he told the 31st annual Southern Governors Conference Tuesday night.

* * *

Rusk has an off-the-record breakfast with the 14 governors today and then visits his birthplace in Cherokee County, 30 miles north of Atlanta.

In his address, he repeated that the United States is ready to talk peace in Viet Nam but said Communist leaders have not shown a willingness to do so.

WON'T TALK PEACE

"Hanoi and Peking will not come to the conference table and they villify those who would," Rusk said.

Rusk called on Americans to continue to support President Johnson's efforts toward peace everywhere. but, he said, there must be no reckless attempts to hurl ourselves over a cliff and into a major war.

* * *

"We have commitments to defend countries; not to flail out with maximum violence," he said.

* * *

Rusk recalled the numbers of Americans who died for freedom in Greece shortly after World War II, in the Berlin airlift, the pilot killed in a photo flight over Cuba and those who are dying in Viet Nam.

'ANYTHING LESS'

"No one of them fought anything less than a world war where he was concerned," Rusk said.

He envisioned the numbers of libraries, schools, medical and other facilities which could have been built with the dollars he said countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization have spent on defense efforts to maintain the peace since 1947.

* * *

"What could we not do for our own and other people if we could find a way to peace?" he said.

"There are dangers," he said. "But we should not be discouraged because there are conflicts not yet resolved.

VIET MORALE

"Those men in Viet Nam have no doubt about it," he said. "Their morale is high."

The India-Pakistan conflict has been "a grievous disappointment to us" and the prospects of peace there are "very grim indeed," he said.

* * *

In Africa, Rusk said, there is a growing strength of moderate voices rejecting communism.

In Europe, he saw "some of our relations still tentative, but NATO stands firm against any threat from the outside."

FAILS TO SPREAD

People of this hemisphere have not backed away from our nation's effort to insure a free government in the Dominican Republic, and Cuba has failed to spread its communism in Latin America, he said.

Earlier, Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance said draftees are being called for duty in Viet Nam ahead of reserve units because it likely will be a long, drawn-out conflict.

In a question-and-answer session, Vance labeled the reserves as "perishable assets," usually called to active duty for only one year. Draftees serve two years.

However, Vance said regular army units are first to go to Viet Nam and recruits are not sent into battle action without sufficient training. He said new units would not be sent to Viet Nam unless the situation demands it, but draftees as individual replacements could go after four months training.

MISUNDERSTANDING

In Washington, the Pentagon took note of what it called misunderstanding of Vance's remarks in some published reports.

The Pentagon issued this statement:

"Deputy Secretary Vance's remarks today on draftees in Viet Nam have been misunderstood. A news story quotes Secretary Vance as saying . . . that draftees will not be used in Viet Nam unless the situation 'turns for the worse.'

"Secretary Vance was addressing himself solely to the additional temporary Army units being organized as a result to Viet Nam.

* * *

"In discussing these new units, Secretary Vance said he hoped it would not be necessary to send them to Viet Nam. He did not say that no draftee would be sent to Viet Nam. Draftees are serving in Viet Nam today and will continue to serve there in the future. There has been no change in this policy.

"The law requires that no member of the armed forces may be assigned to active duty on land outside the United States until he has had four months of basic training or its equivalent," the statement said.

Killing 2 as Looters Is Ruled Justifiable by LA Coroner Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An inquest jury, launching the coroner's probe of last month's disastrous Negro riots, has ruled justifiable homicide in the shooting of two looting suspects by peace officers.

* * *

While a governor's commission and state and city bodies continued separate investigations of the Aug. 11-15 holocaust, stage-setting testimony by detectives at the inquest depicted a frightful five days:

Thirty-four persons dead. More than 860 persons injured. Police arrests of 3,345 persons, 91.6 per cent of them adults, 75 per cent with prior criminal records.

An "uncountable" number of emergency calls. Property damage of $45 million from fires, violence and looting. Seven thousand rioting and looting at the riots' peak. Nearly 13,000 National Guardsmen supplementing police and deputies.

OTHER DEATHS

Two other deaths — one from a heart attack, the other in a car crash — had been believed at the time to be riot-caused. But the coroner, in announcing his list of deaths to be investigated at inquests, limited the total to 34.

The inquests — to determine how each victim met death — will continue, two a day, through Oct. 19.

Tuesday's first inquest was enlivened when an American Civil Liberties Union attorney, Hugh Manes, was ejected after declaring: "This seems to be a platform for whitewashing rather than an inquiry into the truth."

He had been denied permission to cross-examine witnesses.

FIRST FINDING

The nine-member jury, including two Negro men and three white women, first found justifiable the police shooting of Homer Ellis, 45, a Negro.

The verdict said he died from a bullet in the heart while acutely intoxicated and committing a felony, burglary. Ellis, a native of Arkansas, had lived here eight years and worked as an automative brake bonder.

A police lieutenant testified Ellis was convicted of disturbing the peace in St. Louis, Mo., in 1955 and later in Los Angeles of petty theft and three times of drunken driving.

The night of Aug. 13, police testified, Ellis was among a dozen or more looters who smashed a liquor store window at 22th St. and Central Ave. and were carrying cases of whisky to a double-parked car.

Ellis' widow, Lucille, 37, told newsmen of the verdict: "I think it was a one-sided story. He (the deputy coroner) could have let the attorney (Manes) cross-examine the officers."

The widow said she has seven children, six of them by Ellis.

Gemini 5 Astronauts Off Tonight on Goodwill Trip

AP Photofax

CAPITOL VISIT — Astronauts Gordon Cooper Jr. (right) and his fellow space traveler, Charles Conrad Jr., sits with Vice President Hubert Humphrey yesterday as they leave the U.S. Capitol Building in Washington after a visit there. The astronauts set out tonight on a goodwill tour of the Middle East and Africa.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's accolades received, astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. set out tonight on a goodwill tour of the Middle East and Africa.

Because it is a goodwill mission and because Washington wants to accent the peaceful aspects of space exploration, the Gemini 5 astronauts will be traveling in civilian clothing — although both are military officers.

★ ★ ★

In fact, one of the highlights of their day in the Washington limelight Tuesday was word from President Johnson that they are being nominated for promotion.

For Cooper, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, this means promotion to colonel; for Conrad, a Navy lieutenant commander, this means a step-up to commander.

TAKEN IN STRIDE

In Washington, the astronauts were pretty much taken in stride. A White House reception lasted only 10 minutes. Spectators along the Constitution Avenue parade route were outnumbered by police. In the Senate, the heroes had to wait for a final vote on the farm bill before they were free to address the assembled senators.

Still, it was a cheerful day, and a pleasant summery one. At Johnson's desk, Conrad's four sons, the oldest 10 and the youngest 4, frolicked about, taking the play from the ceremony at which Cooper and Conrad received space agency medals for "outstanding contributions to the technology of manned space flights."

One of the Conrad boys tried out Johnson's chair. Another played with the telephones on the President's desk.

After the ceremony, the fliers were honored at a luncheon at the National Academy of Sciences, then rode with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in a motorcade to the Capitol. There they talked with Speaker John W. McCormack, who presented them with American flags that had flown over the Capitol during the eight-day flight last month.

House members gave the spacemen a standing ovation — and one loud "yahoo" was heard above the clapping as Conrad said: "I've had a good night's sleep, 11 days to debrief the flight and I'm ready to go again."

★ ★ ★

Tonight, he and Cooper head for the Congress of the International Astronautical Federation at Athens, Greece; then to Izmir and Ankara, Turkey; Addis Ababa, Ethiopia; Tananarive, Malagasy Republic; Nairobi, Kenya; and Lagos and Kano, Nigeria.

Camera Angles

Suggests Equipment for Foreign Trip

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Having recently returned from a 21-day escorted bus tour of Europe, some thoughts on cameras and equipment might be helpful to others planning a foreign trip.

Those who already own a camera which is in good condition have one less problem. The camera they are familiar with is the camera they should use.

Others, however, consider such a special vacation trip warrants a new camera.

Today, there are so many to choose from that it is wise to deal with a reliable store in your locality and to handle the cameras yourself to determine which features are best for you.

★ ★ ★

Some "feel" better than others: the viewfinder looks clearer, the focusing is surer, film loading is easier or complete automation leaves you free to think only of picture taking.

CHECK CAMERA

Any camera you take should be checked or tested before you leave. With an old, familiar camera, open the back and look through it as you press the button at all the speeds. It will at least verify that the shutter works.

A new camera should be tested with live film and with as much variety in subject and exposure as possible.

Just clicking the button a dozen times is not enough. Shoot a brick building or a billboard sign from a great distance and from as close as you can get; shoot in the sun, in shade and in front and backlight.

★ ★ ★

Try a portrait with a small lens opening and a fast action shot with the lens wide open. Keep exposure notes and check the results.

DECIDE ON KIND

A major consideration for any trip is the kind of pictures you want . . . movies, stills or instant pictures? If still pictures, do you want black and white, color slides or color prints?

There's less of a problem for travelers who specialize in only one medium.

The results are apt to be better too, for when you concentrate solely on either movies or color slides, you deal with one type of film and one camera and don't have to "shift mental gears."

★ ★ ★

Then there are people, like myself, who want every type of picture. I brought four cameras (it used to be six) and persuaded my wife to act as model, assistant pack horse and No. 2 camera crew.

SAFETY FACTOR

Extra cameras are a safety factor in case anything happens to the No. 1 camera . . . as does happen. Also, if you run out of film when something interesting is going on, another camera can continue the shooting with another type of film.

I settled on two older, faithful cameras for dependability — one for black and white and one for color prints — and two new automatic cameras which my wife could handle easily.

The latter included a super-8mm movie camera and an instant-loading cartridge camera which took the new flashcubes for indoor and night flash shooting. The results were fine in each case.

★ ★ ★

As for film, I underestimated all around. Most tourists shoot generously at the start when their supply looks big, then begin to scrimp toward the end of a trip.

MORE COSTLY ABROAD

We found color film was more expensive abroad and, in the case of super 8 movie film, not yet available. So my advice is: Be generous in your estimate, then add one-third more than you figure.

POPULAR LION—The Lion of Lucerne is a never-failing target for photo fans. Columnist's wife (center) does her job of carrying equipment in the tour bag and holding spectators' attention so they don't become camera-conscious.

Some spare batteries were taken along for our automatic cameras and sure enough, they came in handy . . . not for our cameras but for other members of the group who were not so well prepared.

Valuable camera equipment should always be insured but many camera fans neglect to take this precaution. They can protect themselves for a trip, however, with an inexpensive short-term floater policy.

"Tourists forget things all the time although we issue daily warnings," reported Miss Ellen Michaelis, tour manager of our Gateway Holidays group. "One of the most likely items they leave behind is a camera.

"Because it is so universal and desirable, the temptation to keep it is very strong whereas a coat or sweater is likely to be turned in.

"Last year with our bus groups," she recalled from her eight years' experience with travelers, "I telephoned back 14 times for cameras left behind in hotels and restaurants.

"Fortunately, most were forgotten in just-vacated hotel rooms. They were retrieved but the few left in lobbies and washrooms were lost."

Finally, a point of custom — the U.S. Customs. Register your foreign cameras at your point of departure.

American-made cameras need not be registered. The document is needed on reentry to this country to prove the foreign cameras were not purchased while you were abroad.

10-Month Strike Ends; Union Heads Suspended

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — The 10-months-long strike at the Gardner-Denver Corp. division here was announced as settled Tuesday while, at the same time, the striking union was taken over by its international.

All officers were reported suspended from Local 1503 of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers which went on strike in November 1964.

★ ★ ★

Settlement terms were not made public. The local's 350 members had walked out in a demand for a closed shop. Wages were not an issue.

Sporadic violence marked the first months of the strike at the pneumatic tool manufacturing plant, Grand Haven's largest employer. The walkout had been peaceful in recent months.

JOINT SETTLEMENT

The settlement announcement came in a brief, joint statement by Cedric Rieman, Gardner-Denver president of Quincy, Ill., and P. L. Siemiller, union international president.

The statement, which made no mention of the terms, said strikers would be called back to work as quickly as possible.

★ ★

Union members leaving a meeting hall at which the settlement was announced said no vote had been taken.

One union source said the settlement was the same as one which was rejected in April. The one reportedly contained an agency shop provision.

SHOP RULES

Under a closed shop all employes must be union members. An agency shop does not require union membership but nonmember employes must pay the equivalent of dues to the union.

Gardner - Denver has stated publicly its opposition to a closed shop. Management said it felt employes must be given "freedom of choice" whether to belong to a union.

★ ★ ★

The stubborn strike resisted earlier efforts at settlement by federal and state labor mediators. A fact-finding group was named by Gov. George Romney to investigate.

The division here employed 535 persons before the strike was called. Production was maintained during the months of the strike with the aid of supervisory workers and others.

DECLARATION READ

The international's declaration that it was taking over Local 1503 was read at a meeting of the rank and file membership by W. Bruce Wilson, representing Floyd Smith, international vice president of Cleveland.

PCH Plays at Arthur Hill Friday

Chiefs Hope to Use Foe's Field as 'Launching Pad'

By JERE CRAIG

The Saginaw Arthur Hill football field was used as a landing strip earlier this week; Pontiac Centrals' Chiefs hope it will be a launching pad Friday night.

★ ★ ★

A small private plane was forced to land on the chalk striped open ground behind Arthur Hill High School Sunday by engine trouble.

PCH wants to create "injun" trouble for the defending champion Lumberjacks in the season and Saginaw Valley Conference opener for both teams at 8 p.m. Friday.

Not since the mid-1940s has Pontiac Central won a SVC football championship, and it has been 21 years since the orange-and-black clad Chiefs have had winning mark in the circuit.

Coach Paul Dellerba went with numerous sophomore starters two years ago and now the learning period is near an end. League observers are expecting a good PCH season.

16 RETURNEES

Out of 36 letter winners from the 1964 team that won four of its final five games (including three over loop foes), 16 will be in uniform Friday.

Many of the 16 held either offensive of defensive starting berths sometime during the past two seasons. Leroy Jackson, Ken Seay, Karl Williams and Art Wiggins have gone both ways for parts of each campaign.

Tackle Tom Jenkins and end Tom Howard will fall into that category beginning this week. Howard will play a corner back spot on defense.

Dellerba has announced an offensive line of Howard and junior Bob Boyce at ends, Jenkins and junior Keith Dextrom at tackles, Jackson and Sylvester Robinson (two-year starters) at guards, and Marv Quince at center.

The latter is a 205-pound, 6-1 senior center who gained 20 pounds after lettering last season.

In the backfield attack, the Chiefs will go with two-year starter Jerry Murphy, and running backs Karl Williams, Art Wiggins and Ken Seay. All are seniors.

★ ★ ★

Behind Murphy are Don Lavalais (who also doubles as a halfback and defensive safetyman) and Senior Art Jefferson, a spirited field leader with only junior varsity experience.

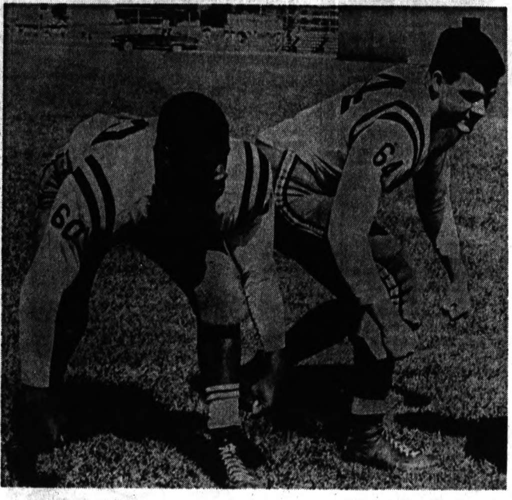
Junior fullback Ben Williams will likely have his 210-pound frame in a lot of offensive action, also.

Murphy is expected to boot the extra points, Boyce and Howard are vying for the punting job and Bill White is doing the kickoff chores.

Defensive specialists in the opening game will include ends Rick Fox and Jim Shorters who is recovering from a broken nose, tackle Mark Post, guard Ken Vollmer and linebacker Dan Irwin.

Arthur Hill has only nine monogram bearers back from its championship team, and end Roger Hayman was the only starter among that crew.

But coach Hi Becker has a background of building winning teams in a short time at Bay City Handy and at Saginaw AH. The Lumberjacks may sabotage any PCH launchings rather quickly.



Pontiac Press Photo

LINEBACKING TWOSOME — Much of Pontiac Central's success in the 1965 football season will depend on how well linebackers Leroy Jackson (left) and Dan Irwin perform. The two have seen a lot of action at the linebacking posts and they'll be in the lineup when the Chiefs meet Saginaw Arthur Hill Friday night.

Mailmen Caught in World Series Rush

Twins' Magic Number Now Stands at 7

Minnesota Downs Kansas City, 4-3, to Pad Lead

By The Associated Press

The American League pennant may spell bread and butter to the Minnesota Twins but to the Minneapolis post office it spells jam.

The Twins whipped Kansas City 4-3 Tuesday night, lengthening their American League lead to 10 games, reducing their magic pennant-clinching number to seven and sending thousands of fans out into the streets for a midnight march on the main post office.

★ ★ ★

"I never saw anything like it," said one post office employee. "It's worse than income tax time."

But it was just World Series ticket time. The Twins began accepting ticket orders dated today and thousands of people began to ring the post office Tuesday night to get the advantage of an early post mark.

TRAFFIC JAM

The crush of people created a mammoth traffic jam, and postal workers were ordered to fan out up to two blocks from the main building, lugging big sacks to collect letters from the motorists stuck in their cars.

The Twins' victory over the Athletics, coupled with Baltimore's split against Detroit, left them with a chance to clinch their first American League pennant by the end of the week. Any combination of Minnesota victories and Baltimore defeats totaling seven will bring the Twins the AL flag.

The Chicago White Sox also fell 10 games back after a 7-1 loss ot California. Boston edged Cleveland 5-4 in 13 innings and the New York Yankees downed Washington 3-1.

The Twins cracked a 2-2 tie in the seventh after loading the bases on a single by Zoilo Versalles, a double by Rich Rollins and an intentional walk to Tony Oliva. Jimmie Hall then stroked his 10th hit in his last 22 trips to the plate, a single up the middle that produced two runs and Jim Kaat's 16th victory against 10 losses.

OUT OF REACH

The Angels put the game out of reach with a five-run explosion against the White Sox in the eighth inning but the big run came in the third inning when Paul Schaal singled, moved to second on a wild pitch, took third on an infield out and scored the tie-breaking run on another wild pitch by Juan Pizarro.

Rookies Bobby Murcer and Rick Beck played key roles for the Yankees. Murcer hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning for his first major league hit and Beck, making his first major league start, got the victory. Murcer's homer was only the second hit off Senators' starter Jim Duckworth.

★ ★ ★

The Red Sox pulled into a tie in the ninth when Tony Horton hit a bases-empty homer, then won in the 10th when Carl Yastrzemski led off with a homer. Yastrzemski went 1-for-4 and maintained his five-point lead over Minnesota's Oliva in the race for the AL batting championship.

Norm Cash Hits 2, but Bengals Split

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Detroit Tigers stood stock still Tuesday night insofar as improving their won-lost record in the American League was concerned.

Needing every victory they can get in the waning season's fight for second place, the Tigers split a doubleheader with the Baltimore Orioles.

Norm Cash, hitting his 24th and 25th homers in the two games, knocked in five runs, but Detroit needed a five-hit pitching job by Dave Wickersham to take the nightcap, 7-1, after dropping the opener, 5-3.

Young George Smith and Mickey Stanley helped secure the second game with homers of their own. Smith's was his first. It was the third one for Stanley.

The teams meet again tonight. Denny McLain will be seeking his 13th victory for Detroit against five defeats.

THREE BLASTS

Cash's two-run homer in the first game was overmatched by three circuit blasts by the Orioles, including Boog Powell's two-run, game-winning pinch homer in the eighth inning. Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowens hit the others.

Powell slugged his off reliefer Orlando Pena. Pena took over for starter Hank Aguirre in the seventh and was charged with the defeat.

Wickersham, striking out six men and walking only one, beat the Orioles for the second time in a week. Last Wednesday he shut out Baltimore on three hits.

The only run off him Tuesday night was scored on a single and two infield outs in the second inning.

WALK HOME

The Tigers got four runs in the sixth on Baltimore pitching generosity, including two bases-full walks. The Cash, Smith and Stanley homers earlier had provided a 3-1 Detroit lead.

★ ★ ★

Rookie Jim Palmer walked four men to force in one run, and rookie reliefer Ed Barnowski walked another for a second run. Cash then hit a two-run double.

All the Detroit second game homers were off starter Milt Pappas, who left in the fifth.

San Francisco Pulling Away in NL Race

Mays Hits Key Homer in Win Over Astros; Cubs Beat Koufax

By The Associated Press

Willie Mays did it again. Sandy Koufax didn't.

Mays, who hit his 500th career homer just 24 hours earlier, made it 501 Tuesday night, sparking the National League-leading San Francisco Giants to a 10-inning, 7-5 triumph over Houston.

★ ★ ★

Koufax, however, found only the number of his losses increased in his first start since pitching a perfect game against Chicago last Thursday. The Cubs beat Koufax and Los Angeles 2-1.

The Giants were losing 5-2 going into the ninth inning. But Jesus Alou singled home a run and was on first with two out when Mays came to bat.

TIED SCORE

He worked the count to 3-2, then fouled off four pitches from Claude Raymond before he drove the ball into the left field seats for his 48th homer and a 5-5 tie.

San Francisco went on to win it in the 10th on Jim Davenport's two-run single, and the Giants had a 12-game winning streak, tying the longest in the majors this season, and a 3½-game lead, biggest in the NL since July 21.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, fell into a tie for second place with Cincinnati as Koufax suffered his eighth defeat against 22 victories and his fourth in his last five decisions. Actually, the perfect game is the only victory Koufax has posted in the past month.

The Los Angeles left-hander didn't get very far into his attempt at a fifth no-hitter and second in a row. He struck out leadoff batter Don Young in the first inning, but Glenn Beckert followed with a double into right field.

FANNED THREE

Koufax also didn't travel much further along the road to breaking Bob Feller's all-time season strikeout record of 348. He fanned three in the six innings he worked, raising his total to 335.

Elsewhere in the NL, Cincinnati clobbered New York 13-6, Philadelphia trimmed Milwaukee 2-0 and St. Louis edged Pittsburgh 3-2.

Billy Williams sent Koufax down to defeat, slamming his 31st homer after Jim Lefebvre booted Young's grounder in the sixth. Bob Hendley, who pitched a one-hitter in Koufax' perfect performance, held the Dodgers to four hits, including Don Drysdale's pinch-hit, run-scoring single.

Frank Robinson drove in five runs with a pair of homers as the Reds handed the Mets their 101st loss. Vada Pinson knocked in three runs with two singles while Bill McCool saved Jim O'Toole's third victory of the season.

Amateur Golf Rule Changed

Medal Play Will Decide Title

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — The Natinoal Amateur Golf Tournament opened today with a new set of rules, but with the same plot—youth versus age.

The field of 150 disagreed sharply over who should be favored.

★ ★ ★

Some thought the 100-degree-plus temperatures that harried practice would aid the youngsters, while others predicted the 6,917-yard Southern Hills Country Club course would demand the exacting touch of the veterans over the 72-hole route.

This year, for the first time since the tournament started in 1895, the title will be decided by medal play instead of the traditional match play format.

Two-time champion Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., who at 27 qualifies for both the youth and experience classifications, was the compromise favorite of many golfers.

★ ★ ★

Among the "old men" who were mentioned were two-time winners Charles Coe of Oklahoma City and Harvie Ward Jr., of San Francisco; Walker Cuppers, Dale Morey of High Point, N.C., and Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., and former Cup player William Hyndman III. They range in age from 39 to 49.

MSU Sets Offense; Foe Studied by 'M'

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty set his starting offensive lineup Tuesday for Saturday's football opener against UCLA.

Daugherty put Jim Proebstle and Gene Washington at end, Jerry West and Joe Przybycki at tackle, Norm Jenkins and John Karpinski at guard, Boris Dimitroff at center, Steve Juday at quarterback, Dwight Lee at left half, Clinton Jones at right half and Eddie Cotton at fullback.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan put both minds and muscles of its football players to work Tuesday against North Carolina tactics they expect to encounter Saturday.

Coach Bump Elliott sent the defensive unit into a scrimmage with a simulated North Carolina offensive team at the end of the day's regular practice.

Defensive coach Bob Hollway told the offensive players they would encounter a North Carolina "box defense" similar to professional football patterns.

Lions Select Joe Schmidt

The Detroit Lions Tuesday named linebacker Joe Schmidt captain for the ninth straight year.

Quarterback Milt Plum was selected the alternate and will be the captain of the offensive unit. Six other players were named by coach Harry Gilmer to the team's "executive committee."

They are tackle Roger Brown, linebacker Wayne Walker, defensive back Dick LeBeau, end Jim Gibbons and running back Joe Don Looney.

Las Vegas Probable Fight Site

Clay, Floyd Iron Out Details

NEW YORK (AP) — A few hitches have developed but the heavyweight title fight between champion Cassius Clay and Floyd Patterson still appears headed for Las Vegas on Nov. 22.

Patterson was named the opponent, Inter-Continental Sports, Inc., as the promoter, and SportsVision as the organization to handle the closed circuit television. This was announced at a hectic press conference Tuesday but the site and date were left open to negotiation.

* * *

Sources involved in the promotion had told several newsmen previously that Nov. 22 and Las Vegas were set. After the press conference, where a lot of people had a turn at trying to explain what had happened and was going to happen, these same sources said it still looked like Nov. 22 and Las Vegas.

What apparently upset the works at a covered press conference was an earlier announcement from Reno, Nev., that the Nevada Athletic Commission had approved the Nov. 22 date for Las Vegas but that the fight would not be recognized as a title fight.

TWO VIEWS

Bud Traynor, chairman of the commission, said that Nevada was a member of the World Boxing Association and the WBA does not recognize Clay as champion. Later, after he had been told of a statement by Jim Deskin, Traynor changed his position and said Nevada would permit it to be billed as a title fight if the WBA gave its approval.

Deskin, executive-secretary of the Nevada Commission and the new president of the WBA, was in New York for the press conference and said Traynor's statement must have been "a mistake or a misunderstanding.

"My understanding was that the Clay-Patterson and a Terrell-Chuvalo fight would have double billing as championship nights," said Deskin.

The promoters still hope to put on that doubleheader despite announcements from Toronto that a title fight between Ernie Terrell, the WBA champion from Chicago, and George Chuvalo, the Canadian champion, will be held in Toronto this fall.

Gridders Learn to Dance NFL's Shuffle Steps

Guard Dess Travels to Redskins; Tom Tracy Dropped

You don't need a partner and musical accompaniment is strictly optional. Just clutch a suitcase tightly in each hand and commit the latest plane schedules to the other 13 National Football League cities to memory. You're ready to do the NFL shuffle.

Darrell Dess, one of the league's top offensive guards, who spent six years playing in New York, is the newest expert of the fad that fed on NFL cutdowns Tuesday.

* * *

Dess, traded by the Giants to Detroit just two weeks ago in the Earl Morrall deal, was changing uniforms again today after being swapped by the Lions to Washington for quarterback George Izo and offensive guard Ted Karras.

The Lions also threw in future draft choice.

Karras had been traded to the Skins by Chicago last week but had refused to report to Washington and asked to be dealt to Detroit where his brother, Alex, is a top defensive tackle.

* * *

Another shuffler is Billy Lothbridge, the former Georgia Tech quarterback and punter who was traded by Dallas to Baltimore two weeks ago for Ralph Neely.

KNOWS STEPS

The Colts trimmed Lothbridge and two other players, defensive tackle John Diehl and defensive end Roosevelt Davis, to reach the 40-man limit Tuesday.

Don Thompson, a defensive end, knows all the shuffle steps, too. Dealt by Philadelphia to Dallas just two weeks ago, Thompson was also cut Tuesday as the Cowboys trimmed their roster. The Cowboys also dropped rookie defensive back Ernie Kellerman.

* * *

Washington, in addition to sending Izo and Karras to Detroit, dropped veteran running back Tom Tracy and offensive tackle Steve Barnett.

Mike Bundra, a defensive tackle who has made stops at Detroit, Minnesota and Cleveland, was dealt by the Browns to New York for a draft choice. To make room for Bundra, the Giants cut 270-pound defensive tackle Jim Moran.

Minnesota dropped three players, defensive back Dale Hackbart, defensive end Bob Taylor and fullback Darrel Lester.

FREE AGENT

Hackbart, a star at Wisconsin, had been cut by Washington and was trying out as a free agent with the Vikings. Taylor came in a summer trade with New York and Lester was a ninth round draft choice in 1964.

San Francisco released Vern Burke, onetime star end from Oregon State; Los Angeles dropped defensive back Herman Johnson from Michigan State, guard Roger Davis from Syracuse and linebacker Ed Holler from South Carolina, and Green Bay sliced tackle Eli Strand of Iowa State.

* * *

Philadelphia asked waivers on defensive back Bob Shann and offensive end Bill Cronin; St. Louis cut tight ends Tax Anderson and Ray Ogden and guard Frank Roy; and Pittsburgh dropped five players, tackles Bob Toniff and Frank Mallick, linebackers Bob Harrison and Bob Schmitz, and back Pat Batten.

Bobby Layne, who quit as a Pittsburgh assistant coach when head man Buddy Parker resigned last week, has signed with the St. Louis Cardinals as a backfield coach.

The longest football rivalry on Pontiac Central's schedule is Flint Central, having played the Indians 49 times since 1910.

DIVISION WINNER — John R. Walker, 5335 Drayton, Independence Township, holds the five-pound, 13-ounce largemouth bass that took top honors in The Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby's black bass division. He caught the fish at Lake Oakland.

Lake Oakland, Holly Pond Produce

Lake Oakland and the Holly mill pond have been added to the list of waters yielding big winners in The Pontiac Press' annual Big Fish Derby.

John R. Walker, 5335 Drayton, Independence Township, caught the black bass winner — a five-pound 13-ounce largemouth — July 26 at Lake Oakland.

* * *

The pike division winner weighed 12 pounds, 12 ounces and was caught June 6. Franklin J. Shuck, 306 Hadley, Holly, took the northern from the mill pond. The Derby ended Sept. 7.

Both anglers will receive $50 savings bonds.

Although the winning weights were below the average of top entries for 29 previous Derbies, the bass division showed a big jump in overall quality for 1956.

No fewer than 19 large and smallmouths five pounds or better were reported to The Press. And a 7½-pounder was taken from Sylvan Lake.

This fish, however, was not eligible for the contest because it was caught by an angler who lived outside of the county.

PIKE DOWN

Pike fishing was poor around the county this summer and this probably is the reason why the winning fish was lighter than normal.

Several 10 and 11-pounders were reported in early June, but results were practically nil, with few anglers trying for pike, as the summer progressed.

Now that the dog days of August have passed, the fishing has started its annual autumn upswing.

Lakeville, Orion, Oxbow, Orchard, Union, Cass, Otter and Tipsico lakes have been yielding good catches of bass during the last week. Activity has increased on Lake St. Clair off Masonic Blvd., 11 Mile, the Middle Channel and Strawberry Island bar.

Major Field Trial Scheduled

The German Shorthair Pointer Club of Michigan has scheduled a major field trial Sept. 25-26 at the Highland recreation area.

Between 75,100 pointing dogs are expected to be entered.

* * *

The deadline for entering is Sept. 20. Additional information is available from Thomas Thompson, 2140 Garfield, Ferndale. The puppy and derby classes will be limited to shorthair pointers.

All pointing breeds are eligible for the open gun dog and all-age stakes.

Dog Training Classes Set by SMOTC

A dog training demonstration will be held Friday at 7:15 p.m. in The Mall.

The exercise will be conducted by members of the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club. The organization has scheduled a series of canine training classes at five sites in Oakland County this fall.

An SMOTC member will be at The Mall from 1 p.m. Friday to take advance registrations and answer questions.

First night demonstrations have been scheduled at the class sites. Interested persons are requested to leave their dogs home on these nights, according to SMOTC president Reg Armstrong, as no training will take place until the second session.

Len Schell, SMOTC training director, will have charge of the Walled Lake Junior High beginners class which begins Sept. 21, and an open class for advanced dogs at Barton Junior High in Royal Oak, scheduled to start Sept. 30.

Armstrong will direct beginners classes at Whitfield School in Pontiac starting Sept. 23 and Bloomfield Hills High School Sept. 27. Tom Rutherford will have charge of beginners at the Waterford CAI starting Sept. 22.

Additional information is available from Armstrong (FE 2-7749), Schell (624-1314), the Waterford Recreation Department and Bloomfield Hills High School office.

Aussie Sculler in Ivy

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University, apparently noting Harvard's success with sculler Harry Parker as coach, has named Stuart MacKenzie, Australia's great sculler, head rowing coach. The appointment of the 29-year-old MacKenzie, a six-time winner of the Diamond Sculls, was announced Tuesday.

TIRE TALK

One of the really commonplace problems of tubeless tires is the flat—the rainy night, after midnight, a-mile-from-nowhere flat. Apart from its frustrating inconvenience, it presents a repair problem which too often by its very simplicity can cause trouble—big trouble.

Some tire users, in their haste to get the flat fixed, permit the repairman to simply shove a rubber plug through the point of penetration from the outside and block the leak. The error in this procedure is the lack of a careful inspection on the inside of the tire. Flats many times look innocent enough on the outside but hide massive damage to the tire cord body inside.

Always insist on repairs from the inside of the tire. This requires inspection and is only a common-sense safety procedure.

If an inconvenient flat forces you to accept a plug repair, at your first opportunity have a careful inside inspection of your tire done and a proper repair made.

OLIVE AND BUTTER SAUCE — If artful persuasion fails to arouse much interest in vegetables at your house, try this easy-to-make Olive and Butter Sauce on carrots, green beans, onions, and broccoli, and watch them disappear. Its unusual flavor comes from sliced stuffed olives plus butter or margarine, onion, tomato, and Worcestershire sauce.

Scour the Freezer

Getting ready to use that hand-cranked ice cream freezer? Be sure to rinse the can with boiling water if the freezer has been in storage during the winter. Then rinse again with cold water and dry.

Add a Bit of Cream

When you are serving mashed sweet potatoes to company, you can make them taste extra good by folding a little whipped cream into them and dusting with freshly-ground nutmeg.

To Freshen Bread

Is bread that goes stale a problem in your house? You can make a stale loaf of bread taste bakery-fresh by dipping it in cold water for just a second — then heating it in a moderate oven for 10 or 15 minutes.

Pep Vegetable With a Sauce

Almost anyone can broil a good steak, but it takes a bit of artistry to make vegetables popular with most families. Here's a new recipe — with a new flavor — that just may do it.

Olive and Butter Sauce combines the good taste of such familiar foods as butter or margarine, onion, celery, tomatoes, and Worcestershire sauce, then adds a new flavor ingredient—sliced green olives.

The sauce mixes together easily and transforms such common garden vegetables as carrots, green beans, onions, and broccoli, into gourmet foods.

It's one of the tricks of really good cooks — to take familiar foods and enhance them with an unusual sauce.

Olive and Butter Sauce for Vegetables

¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup coarsely chopped onion
½ cup sliced celery
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon sugar
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, undrained
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup sliced stuffed olives
Hot cooked vegetables, carrots, green beans, onions, broccoli, etc.

Melt butter or margarine; add onion and celery and cook until onion is tender. Blend in flour, sugar, and pepper. Add tomatoes and Worcestershire sauce; cook until thickened. Add olives; heat. Serve over desired hot cooked vegetables. Yield: 2¾ cups sauce.

Heat Treatment

When you want to remove a frozen dessert from a mold, invert the mold on a serving dish and cover for about a minute with a cloth wrung out of hot water. If the mold does not lift off easily, repeat the treatment for about 30 seconds.

Slice of Bread Rolled Inside Meat Sandwich

Fresh fruits are plentiful now and particularly good at this time of year for luncheon salads. Instead of the usual sandwiches to accompany the salad, a test kitchen has developed a novel idea — an inside-out sandwich. These tasty ham rolls have a surprise twist — the bread and cheese are on the inside.

Arrange the inside-out sandwiches on a large platter with berries, seedless white grapes and sliced pineapple. Serve the fruit salad with your favorite creamy salad dressing made with cream cheese.

Inside-Out Sandwiches

2 tablespoons butter
4 slices white bread
4 slices boiled ham
1 (6-oz.) package Swiss, Gruyere or Vera-Sharp cheese slices
4 teaspoons pickle relish

Spread butter on bread slices; ham on cutting board; arrange 2 slices of cheese to cover each slice of ham. Spread each with 1 teaspoon pickle relish. Top with one slice of bread. Roll up jelly-roll fashion.

Serve as is or place under the broiler 1 minute or until cheese melts. Makes 4 rolls.

Crunchy Topping Goes on Everything

On the list of magic chip mixes is a sweet concoction that is simply wonderful on pudding, custards, cookies, ice cream, apple pie, hot cereal and bran flakes.

Magic Chip Mix

1 cup very fine potato chips
¾ cup Brownulated sugar
½ cup sesame seeds
1 teaspoon dried orange rind

Mix well. This makes about 1⅓ cups. Should be stored in wax paper and cardboard box. No refrigeration is necessary. Experiment with this mix — its use is unlimited. It's delicious.

There's Still Time to Make Spicy Chutney for Winter

Instead of serving crushed pickled fresh mint jelly with a leg of lamb, serve fresh peach chutney for a delicious change.

Now is the time to make it while peaches are still in their prime.

Fresh Peach Chutney

3 lbs. (7 cups) sliced peaches
2 tablespoons salt
1 quart cold water
¼ cup water
3 cups sugar
11 cups cider vinegar
2 large cloves garlic
1 cup chopped fresh onions
1 teaspoon ground ginger
¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper
¾ cup fresh lime juice
½ cup light raisins
½ cup dark raisins
½ cup chopped candied or preserved ginger

Wash, pare and slice peaches about one fourth inch thick. Measure. Combine salt and the 1-quart water, and pour over peaches. Let stand 24 hours.

When ready to make chutney, drain peaches well. Mix the one fourth cup water, sugar, vinegar and garlic. Bring to boiling point. Add peaches and cook slowly until peaches are clear (as in preserves), 45 minutes.

Remove peaches from syrup. Add onions and spices. Cook until onions are soft and the mixture has thickened, 12 to 15 minutes. Return peaches to syrup along with preserved ginger.

Bring to boiling point and ladle into sterilized hot jars. Seal at once. Makes 6 jars.

Salmon Highlight of Sandwich Filling

When sandwiches are the order of the day, you might like to try this just-right filling.

Prue's Salmon Sandwiches

1 can (1 pound) salmon
3 large ribs celery with leaves finely chopped
½ small onion, minced
4 sweet gherkins, chopped
½ cup mayonnaise-type salad dressing
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
12 thin slices bread

Drain salmon and remove skin; flake salmon and mash bones. Turn the celery, onion and gherkins over the salmon. Mix together the salad dressing, lemon juice, salt and paprika; add to other ingredients and mix lightly but well.

Make sandwiches of the salmon filling with the bread, adding lettuce if desired.

Quick Skillet Dish Is Protein-Rich

The hectic pace of summer activities calls for protein-rich main course, like this quick 'n' easy skillet dish. Combine 1 pound ground beef, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ¼ teaspoon salt, and dash pepper; shape into 16 meatballs. In skillet, brown meatballs in 1 tablespoon shortening; pour off fat.

Add 1 can (10¾ ounces) beef gravy; cook over low heat 15 minutes or until done. Stir now and then. Makes 4 servings.

Dessert Melon

Purchase a m a l l cantaloupes and the number needed for serving. Cut the top off; remove the seeds. Cut around the rind like a grapefruit. Put a scoop of vanilla ice cream in the cavity. Pour a grapefruit juice beverage over the top. For a party, decorate with the petite oriental parasols.

BELVEDERE: LONGER, LOWER — Curved-glass windows and new body lines are credited by Chrysler Motors Corp., with giving the Plymouth Belvedere a longer, lower look for 1966. The Satellite model shown also offers new shell-type bucket seats.

Plymouth Introduces Its Belvedere Models

Looking lower and longer and given a power boost with a new engine option, the Plymouth Belvedere was introduced to the public today by Chrysler Motors Corp.

One of Plymouth's four entries in the low-price field, the Belvedere is available in six body styles, including hardtop, convertible and station wagon.

It goes on sale Sept. 30 at the following area dealers:

Bill Spence, Inc., 6673 Dixie, Waterford Township; Patterson of Rochester, 1001 N. Main, Rochester; Bird Sales and Service, 209 S. Main, Milford; and Oakland Chrysler, 724 Oakland.

Credited by Chrysler officials with the car's new look is the introduction of curved glass windows and body lines slimmed down from the 1965 Belvedere.

POWER OPTION

The new power option is a 426 cubic-inch dicplacement V8, available with a manual four-speed transmission by mid-November and in automatic transmission cars in January.

The new engine is described as a modification of the competition model used by Plymouth in drag and circuit racing.

Offered as new equipment for the series are a heating and ventilating system utilizing the car's forward motion, a new air-conditioning system and redesigned power window lifts.

Chief safety feature new for 1966 is an inside door handle shaped like the buckle of a safety belt.

FITTED HANDLE

The handle is fitted into the arm rest and lies flat on the door panel.

The Satellite, top-line name in the Belvedere series, offers new, larger shell-type design bucket seats.

Sailing Youth at Sea Again

HONOLULU (AP)—Lee Graham, 16, who sailed 2,400 miles from Los Angeles to Honolulu in a 24-foot sailboat, is out to sea again.

The Honolulu youth, who plans to sail around the world in two years, left yesterday for the Phoenix Islands on the second leg of his journey.

With him in his fiberglass boat, the Dove, were two kittens, Suzette and Jolietta. The kittens also made the 25-day trip last month from California. The present trip will take 10 days, Graham estimated.

The youth is making the journey with the blessing of his parents. He has a supply of books and intends to spend the long hours keeping up with his school work.

Lee's father taught him navigation, and helped outfit the sail boat.

It has a self-steering device to allow him to sleep.

Fewer Visitors at Area Park

Recreation Centers Give August Report

August attendance at Stony Creek Metropolitan Park northeast of Rochester took a nosedive, compared to figures for the same month a year ago.

A slight increase for the month was recorded, however, at Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford.

According to figures released yesterday by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, Stony Creek was visited by 152,900 persons last month, compared to over 185,000 the same month a year ago.

Over 1,427,400 persons have visited the 3,500-acre park since it opened in July 1964. Attendance through last month totaled 798,900.

* * *

Kensington led the four major parks in the Clinton-Huron chain in August attendance with a total of 304,000 persons, compared to 300,000 in August 1964.

RECORD ATTENDANCE

The record for August attendance at the 4,200-acre park is 360,000 set in 1959, two years after it opened.

Metropolitan Beach along Lake St. Clair set a new August record this year with 254,900 visitors, while Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville had the lowest August attendance in six years, 189,600.

Authority officials blamed unseasonably low temperatures for the erratic attendance at the parks during the month.

* * *

Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, director of the regional park agency, said there was a trend toward a decrease in swimming but an increase in picnicking and use of general recreation facilities during the month.

Rocket Ship X15 Obtains Data in Test Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—The rocket ship X15 attained a top speed of 3,545 miles an hour and an altitude of 240,000 feet yesterday in a 10-minute test flight.

"It was a beautiful flight," said John McKay, National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) pilot.

Officials said the test flight of the No. 3 X15 was aimed at obtaining boundary layer noise measurements at supersonic speeds.

The test also was to study near-visual earth background reflected solar intensity at high altitudes.

The X15 was dropped from a B52 "mother plane" over Nevada.

Ford Opens Curtain on Mustang for '66

The 1966 Mustang was unveiled by Ford Motor Co. today.

Slim horizontal bars on a newly designed grille and restyled side ornamentation are key changes for this year.

The styling introductions are the first for Mustang in its 17-month history.

Vice president, Ford Division, Donald N. Frey, also revealed new luxury items — including a stereo tape player integrated into the instrument panel with the radio.

Mustang's three-model lineup goes on sale at the following area dealers:

Harold Turner Ford, 462 S. Woodward, Birmingham; Beattie Ford Sales, 5806 Dixie, Waterford Township; John McAulliffe Ford, 630 Oakland; Jerome-Ferguson, Inc., 215 Main, Rochester; Skalnek Ford Sales, 941 S. Lapeer, Lake Orion; Shuman Ford Sales, Inc., 209 E. Walled Lake, Walled Lake; and Tom Bohr, Inc., 120 S. Main, Milford.

TAPE PLAYER

The tape player — which can be combined with the AM radio for newscasts and "live" entertainment — is operated with small cartridges inserted in a slot above the radio dial.

Basic features of the car remain unchanged.

Mustang continues with three series: Hardtop, convertible and 2-plus-2 fastback.

Among the safety options new for 1966 are seat belts with retractors and a warning light that blinks off automatically some 30 seconds after the ignition is switched on.

More Suomi Students

HANCOCK (AP)—Suomi College enrollment jumped 20 per cent over last year as 381 students signed up for classes. Officials said enrollment could surpass 400, with a number of applications still on file.

Hawkers, Peddlers Abolished No More

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania General Assembly completed legislation Tuesday abolishing a bill passed in 1847 outlawing "hawkers and itinerant peddlers" in Carbon County.

At least 15 other counties were named in similar bills in the 19th century and the legislators decided to see if any were still covered. Carbon County was.

Wayne State Record?

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne State University expects a record 29,000 students for fall classes starting Sept. 23, university officials said Tuesday.

MUSTANG DEBUT — A new grille and side scoop ornamentation are Mustang's first style changes since its introduction 17 months ago. Ford Motor Co. disclosed details today of the car's 1966 three-model lineup.

Writers Applaud Stravinsky's Return

LONDON (AP) — Igor Stravinsky's return to the Festival Hall rostrum won a welcome from the London critics today as warm as the standing ovation which the packed audience gave the composer last night.

* * *

Robert Craft, his young protege, conducted the New Philharmonia orchestra in "The Rite of Spring" and Stravinsky's recent "Variations in Memory of Aldous Huxley."

Stravinsky, 83, conducting without a baton, took the rostrum for two early works, "Fireworks" and the "Firebird Suite."

Of these two, the Times said: "Characteristically enough, they did not sound old or out of date, though their world is that of Rimsky-Korsakov. The pointillistic scoring and airborne speed of fireworks are remarkable still and emerged strongly."

* * *

Of the variations, here given their first European performance, the Times said:

"These polyphonic complexes are extremely difficult to hear . . . in time the variation treatment will become clearer, and this should be soon, since the variations are brilliantly scored for an orchestra of artists."

DAILY TELEGRAPH

Martin Cooper, Daily Telegraph, said:

"It was Stravinsky's own part in the concert that inspired the finest playing. His own manifest involvement in this early music, now over half a century old, communicated itself unmistakably not only to the performers but to the whole house."

Poverty War Grant to Law School at U-D

WASHINGTON (AP)—Award of a $242,579 War on Poverty grant to the University of Detroit Law School to finance a special legal services program was announced Tuesday by Sen. Patrick McNamara and Rep. John Conyers, Michigan Democrats. The law school will establish a pilot program to provide guidelines for improving legal services for the poor in Detroit.

Next Gemini Won't Face Problem of 'Housekeeping'

By Science Service

HOUSTON, Texas — The next Gemini flight will not face what astronaut L. Gordon Cooper called the "biggest problem" of his recent eight-day ride aboard Gemini 5 — housekeeping.

With millions of dollars worth of elaborate equipment working almost perfectly both in space and on the ground, the biggest headache for Col. Cooper and his copilot, Cmdr. Charles Conrad, was where to put everything.

"Housekeeping will be the number one problem" for future long-duration missions, said Col. Cooper at the astronauts' first official news conference since their flight.

Gemini 6, however, will only last a few hours, just long enough for crewmen Walter M. Schirra and Thomas P. Stafford to try coupling with an Agena target vehicle that will have been launched separately, about 90 minutes after the spacecraft.

The GT-5 astronauts stowed gear in every available nook and cranny during their flight, including the already-cramped foot wells. Equipment was kept in storage lockers, plastic bags, and even sticking to the walls on strips of Velcro, a nylon material containing thousands of tiny, almost invisible hooks which stick like burrs to similar hooks in another piece of the same material.

* * *

When the spacecraft landed, it was "clean, dry and neat," said Col. Cooper, but "it took us several hours to get it that way."

STOWAGE PROBLEM

He referred to the stowage problem many times during the conference. Once during the flight, while Col. Cooper was repairing a piece of equipment, Cmdr. Conrad was feeding him nuts and bolts from one of the tiny storage boxes.

"I'd have given my right arm for a ten-cent magnet," Cmdr. Conrad said, speaking of his problem in getting things out of the box.

The biggest test of the astronauts housekeeping ability will come on the flight after next, GT-7, which is scheduled to be in orbit for 11 days. This is the last long Gemini flight, and round-trip time to the moon in an Apollo spacecraft will only be about a week.

* * *

In about three years, however, perhaps before the Apollo moon landing, the U.S. Air Force's Manned Orbiting Laboratory (MOL) will be in orbit for a month. Though the astronauts will probably have nothing to fear from marauding Martians, space-litterbugs could become a problem.

Create Synod to Help Pope

Bishops to Comprise World Organization

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI issued an official document today setting up a worldwide synod of bishops and spelling out how it will help him govern the Roman Catholic Church.

The document, a "Motu Proprio" signed by the pontiff, was read by Paolo Cardinal Marella to the approximately 2,500 prelates in St. Peter's at their first working meeting of the fourth and final session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

★ ★ ★

The Pope announced Tuesday that he would create the synod, and he came into the basilica this morning to hear the document read by the archpriest of St. Peter's.

The document began by stating that the synod answers the Pope's need for a central organization to bring him into closer contact with bishops around the world.

OFFICIAL NAME

The official name of the body will be "Synod of the Bishops." It will meet in ordinary, extraordinary, or special meetings wherever and whenever the Pope sees fit.

Most of the members—the total number was not specified—will be bishops actively in charge of dioceses and archdioceses.

★ ★ ★

One bishop will be chosen from each national bishops conference that has 25 members on fewer; two from each conference with 50 or under; three from each conference with 100 or under; four from each conference with more than 100 bishops.

The United States, Italy, Brazil and nearly a dozen other countries have more than 100 bishops and will thus have four members on the synod.

OWN INITIATIVE

The Motu Proprio, a document drawn up on the Pope's own initiative, says that the synod's functions would be to teach and give advice, with deliberative or full authoritative powers as decided and when authorized by the Pope.

★ ★ ★

After the reading of the papal document, bishops of the council began debate on the religious liberty document which has caused one of the widest controversies in the council.

The religious liberty topic says every man has a right to follow his conscience in religious belief and cannot be hindered from doing so.

Compromise Is Predicted on Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate managers of the Johnson administration's farm bill predicted today that a final compromise on the two versions of the legislation will be worked out satisfactorily.

The Senate cleared the four-year measure Tuesday by a 72-22 vote after revising it in four days of floor debate to conform more closely to the administration's views.

★ ★ ★

The final version won support of 56 Democrats and 16 Republicans while 14 Republicans and 8 Democrats voted against it.

The bill had cleared the House 221 to 172 on Aug. 19.

SPECIFIC COSTS

Opponents and backers of the Senate and House bills have never agreed on specific costs of the multibillion-dollar measures.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., and Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., who will lead the respective Senate and House delegations in the conference measure, said they were confident the differences could be settled without great difficulty.

★ ★ ★

The wheat provisions lead the list of major differences in the two versions. There also are significant variances on cotton, dairy and rice sections.

Steel Industry Sets Vast Modernization

By PHILIP J. KEUPER

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's steel industry, faced with higher labor costs and pricing problems, today is stepping up vast modernization program.

The outlay for new plants and equipment in this huge industry may top $2 billion for the first time in 1966, observers say. Many believe that the 2.2 per cent wage increase won this month by the United Steelworkers Union may have broadened steel company modernization plans.

★ ★ ★

The American Iron and Steel Institute estimates steel companies will spend a record $1.9 billion this year on projects designed to melt and roll steel more efficiently. Not since 1957 has the industry spent comparable sums on modernization. But with profits now at a seven-year peak and production at record levels, steel mills are showing a new face.

Fast-working oxygen furnaces are replacing conventional open hearths. There are computer-run mills and streamlined shapes for the thousands of products that contain steel.

FACING UP

"The industry has been facing up to getting its plants and equipment into more competitive shape," said a major steel company spokesman.

Critics of the industry say the modernization program was long overdue — that it should have been launched on a vast scale in the years after World War II. Partly because of greater efficiency, the steel industry's payroll costs per ton of steel shipped dropped from $65.50 in 1961 to $55.25 in the first six months of 1965.

★ ★ ★

Higher steel prices have been a touchy prospect for the industry since 1962 when the late President John F. Kennedy rolled back steel price boosts in a bitter government-industry battle. The same year, the industry put out $911 million for capital projects, increased it to $1.04 billion in 1963, then to an estimated $1.6 billion in 1964.

Competition from foreign steel, which made inroads during the industry's costly 116-day strike in 1959, also has speeded the industry's modernization pace.

ENORMOUS PROJECTS

Some steel plant projects are enormous. Bethlehem Steel Corp. claims its $400-million steel-rolling mill at Burns Harbor, Ind., is the world's largest private construction project in progress.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's No. 1 steelmaker, announced that it will spend $600 million a year for the next three years on plants and equipment. This represents a capital expenditure for 1966 that approaches the total of 1963 and 1964 combined.

★ ★ ★

Steelmaking advances include continuous casting of molten steel into semifinished shapes, a European process that does away with some costly steps in the traditional steelmaking process.

New rolling mills to form semifinished steel into finished shapes are being built — some equipped with computers to control the process. Computers already are running two strip steel mills and a dozen more computer-controlled mills are being installed or built.

BIGGEST ADVANCE

Probably the biggest advance has been the installation of oxygen furnaces, which melt raw steel much faster and more cheaply than the traditional open hearth furnaces. Steel producers already have put in 26 million tons of oxygen furnace capacity.

What impact modernization will have on the number of workers employed by the steel mills is a question steel executives are hesitant to tackle. They say that because of the record demand for steel, the industry's payroll has been climbing. In July it stood at 631,000 workers, compared with 554,000 five years before.

Location Not Set

Chrysler Move Confirmed

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. President Lynn Townsend today confirmed the firm will move its suburban Highland Park machine plant operations, but said no decision on a new location has been made.

Townsend's remarks were contained in a telegram to Gov. George Romney who had asked for an explanation on reports that Chrysler planned to move the 4,000-job facility to Ohio.

★ ★ ★

"This is to confirm our arrangement to discuss plans for Highland Park," the telegram said. "As we repeated in the press again this morning, we have not made a final decision concerning the location of the operations which will be moved to make room for our expanded requirements at our Highland Park headquarters."

Romney and Townsend earlier had agreed to meet to discuss the proposed move.

ROMNEY CRITICAL

Romney was critical of reports from Maumee, Ohio, near Toledo, that Chrysler representatives are purchasing land for a new facility to open about 1967.

Meanwhile, Highland Park Mayor Michael M. Glusac said today Chrysler is one of several firms interested in purchasing portions of a 43-acre urban renewal site adjacent to the Chrysler Highland Park facilities.

Q) "A few years ago I was very ill advised. I bought stocks which have since gone down in value. These are Star Industries at 36; Bethlehem Steel at 43; 200 Horizon Land which I am told is worthless. Should I hold these or sell?"

A) I am sorry that you got into stocks which have not performed well in a long rising market. Star Industries is a wholesale liquor distributor and it holds substantial stock interests in Paddington Corp. and Carrillon Importers. There has been excellent growth in Star and a relatively good yield. Unfortunately, you bought near the all-time high for the shares, and I would retain for price recovery.

Bethlehem is a strong and well-managed company in an industry where costs of labor don't seem limited, but steel prices indirectly have been. If you need growth, I would switch into Corn Products. Horizon Land is not worthless but its bid of 1¾ is so low that I would hold.

Q) "I bought Studebaker-Packard when it was much higher. This was my first purchase of a stock and I wanted to make some money. A friend said it was going up and now I have a big loss. Should I hold? Perhaps I'd better sell and put the money in the bank." G. A.

A) Perhaps so — or if you will allow me to say so — perhaps you've learned a bit of a lesson from your Studebaker purchase. Studebaker may ultimately make good and I certainly hope so. For the untrained investor, however, the shares seem to me to be entirely too risky, as you have found to your sorrow. It is hard to differentiate between speculation and investment, and in my long experience, I have seen a great deal of money lost in a stock because a friend said it was going up.

I suggest you switch your Studebaker into Pacific Gas & Electric — a sound dividend-payer with good yield and growth prospects.

Reports said more than 43,000 homes were flooded by the rains which have struck areas in central western Honshu hardest.

Weathermen said that two typhoons churning in the west Pacific Wednesday were still liable to veer from their present course and roll towards the Japanese islands.

Bronson Wants to Keep 1-Man System for Juries

Joining Rep. Joseph P. Swallow, R-Alpena, in opposing a bill to kill the one-man jury system, Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said today such a move would be "a devastating body blow to law enforcement in the state."

Bronson's remark was made in a letter to Swallow.

The prosecutor added that one-man grand jury was "an important and effective weapon in fighting crime and corruption."

Swallow has asked the House to reconsider its action last May in passing a bill 62-30 to repeal the system.

One-man grand jurors are currently investigating Royal Oak Township affairs and an alleged ticket fixing operating in Wayne County.

Teaching Becomes Good Learning Tool

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

"I learned more teaching the subject than I did taking it!"

Over the years, this statement has been made by hundreds of young teachers.

Until recently, educators had overlooked the possibility of using teaching as a learning tool. Now, programs in which college students act as tutors for underprivileged children have brought the idea into the limelight.

As schools get more crowded and classes are larger, there is increasing need for experiences of this type.

* * *

Student teachers get the necessary practice in formulating precise thoughts in order to communicate ideas to a younger student. The pupil, in turn, has an opportunity to respond immediately to every idea presented — not just to take his turn among 30 others.

Unless they are forced to express new ideas to another individual in their own words, students are prone to be satisfied with an incomplete grasp or even a fuzzy notion of what they are reading.

Unfortunately, the knowledge does not become theirs unless they think it out in their own words!

To teach another, a student must be able to think out the ideas — and express them — in his own words. The student should not have a purely selfish motive in mind, however. The joy of helping another and the training it gives for citizenship is as valuable as the learning that takes place.

* * *

In addition, helping another gives a feeling of being needed. This is something that is often missed in our automated households.

SIMILAR CHANGES

Paralleling changes in home life, there have been similar changes in school life.

In the one-room school, some pupils were always in the process of helping other pupils. It was the only procedure through which eight grades could be taught by a single teacher.

As schools became larger and pupils were separated into single rooms by grades, there was less opportunity for one student to help another. Not only did pupils lose some of the feeling of being part of the program, but there was less learning through teaching.

* * *

The new programs, both national and local, are not the only sources of opportunity for learning through teaching. Students and even adults needing help in the learning processes are in abundant supply.

TRY TO HELP OTHERS

Teachers and parents should encourage and help students to search out opportunities to help others and thus to learn through teaching. This would have a bonus effect. As more students find satisfaction in these endeavors they will be attracted to teaching as a life work.

Our future supply of teachers can thus be assured.

Oswald Jacoby starts the family conversation with more reminiscing but Jim brings it right up to date.

JACOBY

Oswald: "I guess that over the years I have had more really good results because of an opponent's mistaken attempt to be brilliant than from any one cause."

Jim: "The same applies to my own experience. Just the other day an opponent was brilliant enough to hand me an impossible contract on a silver platter. Of course, the contract was a good one to start with. It was unfortunate when I played the queen of spades from dummy at trick one East had the king to cover it.

"At this point I could be sure of six diamonds and two aces and little or no expectation of being able to make my ninth trick anywhere. Then East started to think and I started to hope. He could only be thinking of one thing which would be whether or not he should unblock the spade suit. Sure enough after the wheels had gone round and round he put the jack of spades on the table and my ten of spades had become my ninth trick.

"The play also gave me a chance to try for ten, but West showed up with both the ace and queen of hearts so I had to settle for my contract without anything extra."

Oswald: "Not a bad settlement at all. You can't complain when you bring home an impossible contract."

Jim: "As a matter of fact East was rather unlucky. Had I held the queen of hearts and not the ten of spades East's unblocking would have been the play to set me."

Oswald: "Yes, he was unlucky, but I think that he went out of his way to manufacture his own bad luck and that the odds favored the conservative play."

New Badges Will Identify Jurors

Oakland County Circuit Court jurors have been made easily identifiable under a plan initiated by Presiding Judge James S. Thorburn.

Starting yesterday with the new jury term, jurors began wearing plastic-covered badges with their name and juror number written on them.

The chief purpose of the badge is to insure fair trials, according to Thorburn.

"Anyone recognizing the badge will know not to discuss pending cases in front of the wearer," added Thorburn.

"This should eliminate mistrials that occur because jurors have heard cases being discussed outside the courtroom."

* * *

This is the first time such badges have been used in the state, Thorburn said.

Launch Drive on 'Eyesores'

Members of GWCC to Contact Owners

The Greater Waterford Community Council (GWCC) last night announced its intentions to launch an all-out campaign to combat alleged eyesores in Waterford Township.

GWCC members will contact owners of ramshackle buildings, car junk yards and dumps on an individual basis, according to a spokesman of the organization, in an effort to upgrade these properties.

Photographs depicting township "eyesores" were displayed at the meeting in the Pierce Junior High School cafeteria and eight speakers were heard.

Speakers were realtors Donald White and August Kampsen; insurance man James Boaz, mortgage-loan man Robert Peck, Township Fire Marshal Russell See; Township Police Sgt. David Putnam; Clerk Elmer Fangboner and Trustee Loren Anderson.

* * *

They emphasized the increased insurance rates and declining property valuation of holdings located near these fire-hazardous buildings.

LANSING (AP)—Employes of the Michigan Civil Service Commission saved Michigan taxpayers more than $100,000 through their suggestions last year, Chairman Mrs. Dorothy Judd said Tuesday.

The commission operated a pilot suggestion program among its 184 employes for the past year, and says it will extend the plan to some 32,000 state classified workers because of its success.

The commission said it will pay 10 per cent of the first year's net savings for money-saving suggestions — for payments of up to $1,000.

Police said the pair could be connected with eight other larcenies in Redford Township, Farmington and Union Lake.

Police found a water pump, stop watch, camera and several books of money orders in the Johnson car.

The couple is being held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of breaking and entering.

You Are Hereby Notified that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has caused to be filed in this Court a Complaint praying for the establishment by this Court of the normal height and level of Van Norman Lake, said lake being located in Sections 32 and 33 of Independence Township and Sections 4 and 5 of Waterford Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

You Are Further Notified that a hearing on the matter will be held in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland, at the Oakland County Court House Tower, 1200 North Telegraph Road, Pontiac, Michigan, on Friday, the 15th day of October, A.D., 1965, at the opening of Court on that day at 9 a.m., before the Honorable James S. Thorburn, Circuit Judge, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard.

You Are Further Notified that on said date the Complainant intends to ask this Court to establish the normal height and level of said lake at 966.70 feet above sea level and if you desire to oppose the establishment of the level at 966.70 feet above sea level you should then and there appear and show cause, if any you have, why:

(a) The normal height and level of said lake should not be established;
(b) Why 966.70 feet above sea level should not be the level fixed as the normal height and level of said lake;
(c) Why such other and further relief as to the Court seems fitting and proper should not be granted the Complainant.

SUNSHINE ON A RAINY DAY — Deborah Bryant, our new Miss America, doesn't appear to mind the rain a bit. Partially protected by an umbrella, she has a big smile as she gazes at New York from the roof of the Barclay Hotel yesterday. The 19-year-old Kansas beauty held a press conference at which she stated that her reaction to winning the pageant was one of disbelief.

Barbara's Watching Cattle; Costars Drum Up Publicity

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "Well, somebody had to stay home and see that the cattle got fed," commented Barbara Stanwyck as she gazed about the "Big Valley" and found all her costars gone.

Where had they disappeared to?

The four of them — Richard THOMAS Long, Peter Breck, Linda Evans and Lee Majors — had been sent to the four corners of the United States to drum up attention for the hour-long color Western, which debuts tonight on ABC. Personal appearances are a ritual for television stars; the Hollywood Reporter counted 100 of them on the road during this crucial premiere week of the 1965-66 season.

* * *

"Does it do any good?" mused Stanwyck. "I guess so. Anything that attracts attention to a new series can be of help. Good reviews might help, too, but not much. Bad reviews don't hurt, either.

ALREADY SEEN IT

"By the time the review appears in print, the viewer has seen the show already. He is just as liable to be defensive about a rap, figuring, 'That show wasn't as bad as all that.'

"In the end, it's the viewers themselves who decide whether a show is a hit or not. They don't need any help to make up their minds."

This week marks Barbara's second debut with a television series. Five years ago she starred in her own anthology show which brought her both an Emmy and cancellation after one season.

What happened?

GREAT STARS

"We started off great, then the next week we were preempted by the Nixon-Kennedy debate," she explained. "Five weeks later we were again preempted by a debate. I met someone in the Market in Beverly Hills who said, 'Too bad your show was canceled.'

"It wasn't, but lots of people thought so. Unless you can hook them in the first six-eight weeks, you're dead."

While her youthful co-stars were touring the country, Stanwyck was putting in her 16-hour-plus day on "The Big Valley." She is the pro's pro among film actors, always on time with her lines learned. She almost springs onto the set when called, and was even saying "sir" to her director, Paul Henreid.

* * *

But even the Stanwyck energy is not boundless, she confessed.

"I'm up at 4:30 in the morning to be in the studio for makeup and hairdressing at 6:30," she said.

LONG TIME

"We start shooting at 8, and if we're lucky we finish at 7 or 8 in the evening. But if we're on the sixth and last day of a show and still haven't finished, the shooting may extend to midnight.

"I keep arguing that it would be better to shoot a seventh day, but I don't seem to be getting my point across."

Besides the long hours, she is subject to the rigors of horse operas. On the current show she was playing an earthquake scene in a church when a prop rock landed on her head.

"The doctor said if I didn't have this wig on, I could have had my head split open," she said. "As it was, I got a lump the size of a goose egg.

LOOK GOOD

"About this time a French farce would look awfully good to me."

Ask Congress Showdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the nation's civil rights movement have called for a showdown on the floor of the House in the battle to unseat Mississippi's five congressmen.

A House Elections subcommittee voted Tuesday to recommend dismissal of the election challenges by the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party.

* * *

The subcommittee's report now goes to the full House Administration Committee, and then to the House floor for a vote, expected Friday.

In a meeting hours later, the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights issued a statement denouncing the subcommittee's action.

More than 40 organizations endorsed the statement, described later by Dr. Martin Luther King of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference as an indication that "we are determined to go all out."

King scheduled a speech to the Freedom Democratic party today.

* * *

The statement said in part:

"We deplore the haste with which dismissal is being proposed.

"Only two subcommittee hearings have been held, both geared to the dismissal and to no other aspect of the issue. No public hearings have been held. Copies of the evidence on which the challenge is based have not been made available to House members."

COPIES SENT

A spokesman for the conference said copies of the statement had been sent to the House leadership and all members.

"I hope Congress listens attentively to the fact that the whole movement is behind this," said Dr. Robert W. Spike, head of the Commission on Religion and Race for the National Council of Churches.

* * *

The Mississippi congressmen were seated last January pending the outcome of the challenge. The Freedom Democratic party contended Negroes had been denied the right to vote.

Ex-Instructor Termed Alien, Found Guilty

TOLEDO (AP) — A jury deliberated 50 minutes Tuesday before returning a verdict of guilty against Dr. Nydia Barker Luthy Meyers, 53, former Findlay College chemistry department head, accused of illegal entry into the United States.

U.S. District Judge Don J. Young said he would defer sentencing pending receipt of a report on the case. She will remain free on bond.

Dr. Meyers had pleaded innocent to a federal grand jury indictment charging she entered the United States illegally in 1960. John G. Mattimoe, assistant U.S. attorney, submitted documents he said proved Dr. Meyers is an alien; that she was arrested and deported in 1951 from the United States, and that she had no permission to reenter the country in 1960.

Dr. Meyers was born in the Ukraine. Her residence is Tecumseh, Mich.

Bills Were Too High
---Fault of Automation

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Alabama Power Co. had some explaining to do when several thousand Mobile County customers received bills double or triple the usual rates this month.

The error was in the computer billing machine, officials said.

Bottle-Scarred Comedian Jokes to World in Turmoil

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The 1965-66 Broadway season is off to a whooping start regardless of Viet Nam, Pakistan and such distant places . . . Comedian Joe E. Lewis, bottle-scarred veteran of the saloons, has opened for the 25th year at the Copacabana . . . one is staggered by the thought that he opened in that gilded basement in 1940 just when the Nazis were most fiercely bombing Britain, and has been cracking jokes on that same floor for a quarter of a century.

WILSON

Joe E. had a huge celebrity turnout. The beautiful bustaceous Joi Lansing who sings there is a wondrous curtain-raiser for Joe E. who calls himself "the pickled Plato."

Sinatra, incidentally, while taping a Sammy Davis ABC TV show, enlivened a lull by calling out: "Anybody wanta buy a good used boat?"

Rosemary Clooney opened beautifully, too, at the Americana Royal Box — with Edie Adams and husband Marty Mills, and Vivian Blaine and Ted Steele among the celebs. Comedian Dave Astor, a wild man, preceding her, remarked that "Everybody's using speed reading now and it's a wonderful thing. It saves you many wasted hours before you get to the dirty part."

The old home town: A reader in Charleston, S.C. ("Don't use my name!") mourns not only the passing of the party line —where the eavesdropping was easy — but the real live, quick-to-help telephone operators we used to have before area codes. Once during World War II, a cousin of hers broke a front tooth while eating an apple and had trouble getting a dentist. The suffering cousin called home — 30 miles away — to ask what she should do. Before her father could say anything, Ethel, the phone operator, and therefore an important and influential member of the community, broke in: "Mr. B., do you want me to ring Dr. Legare for an appointment?" Ethel the operator made the appointment—and the cousin continued her pleasant conversation with her parents.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Jack Benny came to NY really to do the UN Staff party for U Thant — who wasn't here to attend it . . . Morgana King subbed for the late Dorothy Dandridge at Basin St. East . . . George Raft, having tax troubles, was surrounded by photographers outside the L.A. courtroom, sighed: "I didn't see so many cameras when I was going big."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: People seldom think alike — until it comes to buying wedding presents.

In Greenwich Village an invitation to an "informal party" means you have to wear shoes. If it's announced as formal, the shoes have to match. . . . That's earl brother.

Life Is Pleasant in Land of Swat

Emeralds Plentiful but Firewood Scarce

WASHINGTON—In the peaceful, prosperous land of Swat the big problems are firewood, jaywalking and stocking trout streams. Swat's surplus of emeralds is no problem at all.

The little Himalayan state in West Pakistan is ruled by the hereditary Wali of Swat. Pakistan, however handles its foreign affairs, defense, and communications, the National Geographic Society says.

Maj. Gen. Miangul Abdul Haq Jahan Zeb, the present Wali of Swat, is a progressive ruler.

He conducts much official business over the telephone, calling village chiefs every morning. Nearly every village has electricity.

The Wali has built free schools, a college, half a dozen hospitals, and a modern road network.

PROUD OF ROADS

The Wali is proud of his highways and frowns on jaywalkers. Offenders are forced to run along the road at top speed until they drop from exhaustion.

Swat encompasses 1,800 square miles of hills, mountains, and fertile valleys.

Most of Swat's 600,000 people are farmers who raise rice, wheat, corn, fruit, watermelons, and vegetables on irrigated and terraced land. The mild lowland climate permits two crops a year.

* * *

The precious land has been cultivated so long and so lovingly that weeds have largely been eliminated from fields.

Grazing cattle and goats keep meadows closely cropped. Buildings are kept in good repair; trash does not accumulate in farmyards or roadsides. The result is a tidy, parklike landscape.

FUEL SCARCE

Every fallen leaf and twig is picked up — not for the sake of neatness but for use as firewood.

Though strict laws permit only the waste portions of trees to be used as fuel, lumbering is second to agriculture as a source of revenue in Swat.

Another substantial source of income is the annual auction of emeralds from an ancient mine near Mingora. The sale brings in more than $200,000 every year.

* * *

The Wali hopes to earn additional revenue from tourists. The mountainous scenery of Swat is spectacular, a ski resort is planned, and the hunting and fishing are good.

Friends Help Actor Conway

VENICE, Calif. (UPI) — Actor Tom Conway, destitute despite lifetime earnings of $900,000, celebrated his 61st birthday today by preparing to move out of his $2-a-night hotel room.

"I have nothing to grumble about, really," said Conway, the brother of actor George Sanders. "It's just a temporary setback and one has to adjust, to weather the storm for a little while."

Conway, who played "The Falcon" in movies, "The Saint" on radio and "Inspector Mark Sabre" on television, had faced ejection from his hotel room this weekend.

His plight was revealed in a newspaper article.

* * *

"Sunday, I'll be living in West Hollywood with friends who will turn over a section of their home to me," said the still-dapper actor.

Shortly after his financial circumstances were disclosed by the hotel owner, Conway received scores of telephone calls and messages.

Bean Standards Urged by Massachusetts Aide

BOSTON (AP) —Dr. George A. Michael, state director of food and drugs, says that Massachusetts, the home of the baked bean, has no legal standards for baked beans.

Some boiled beans, he said Tuesday, are being sold as baked beans. The State Public Health Council has called for a public hearing to set standards. No hearing date was set.

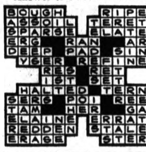
Answer to Previous Puzzle



Attorney Gives Board Details on Ordinance

If the Waterford Township Board adopts an ordinance in compliance with the recently amended Michigan Housing Law, it would only apply to that portion of the township lying within 1¼ miles from Pontiac's city limit.

The ordinance would give the township jurisdiction over certain unkept and unoccupied dwellings.

Asked by the board to review the new section of the law, Township Attorney Paul M. Mandel asserted that the remaining portions of the township outside the 1¼-mile radius would not be affected.

Mandel, however, emphasized that the affected area would be increased to a radius of 2½ miles from city limits whenever Pontiac reaches the 100,000 population bracket.

* * *

In effect, the ordinance would license the township to intervene if an unkempt and unoccupied dwelling was not corrected within 90 days after the owner had been judged in violation.

PROPERTY LIEN

If the dwelling had not been lived in for six months, the township board could remove the house and place a lien on the property.

Mandel advised against adoption of such an ordinance since two separate standards of housing conditions and law enforcement polices in the township "would lead only to great difficulty in enforcement."

Mandel was asked to make the study when board members remarked on the dilapidated condition of certain buildings in the township and asked what could be done to remedy the situation.

Issue Backed by Committee

Seek More Meetings for Institutions Board

A proposed amendment to allow the Oakland County Board of Institutions up to 36 meetings yearly, yesterday won the support of the institutions committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

Presently, the board of institutions, which administers the Oakland County Sanatorium, is limited by state law to 14 meetings annually with pay.

The institutions committee is the liaison group between the board of institutions and the board of supervisors.

By its action, it concurred with a prior resolution passed by the board of institutions calling for an amendment to state law.

The amendment request also has been referred to the legislative committee of the board of supervisors with a request for speedy action in behalf of the proposed law change.

Compensation Case Backlog Being Cut

LANSING (AP) — The backlog of workmen's compensation cases has been trimmed substantially in the past 16 months, but may rise again because of Michigan's new compensation law, Weldon Yeager, director of the Compensation Department said Tuesday.

Revised administrative procedures and six new referees reduced the backlog of unheard disputes from 9,000 on May 1, 1964—when he took office — to 7,000 on Sept. 1 of this year—the day the new workmen's compensation law went into effect

The new law covers some 60,000 additional workers, Yeager said.

The more than 7,500 freshmen start arriving Sept. 25 for final orientation sessions. Enrollment on the East Lansing campus also will include about 2,000 transfer students and nearly 2,000 new graduate students.

* * *

MSU's college-within-a-college, the Justin Morrill College, lege, the Justin Morrill College, will begin operations with 400 freshmen. The college will offer a broad liberal education and will have its own dormitories, faculty and curriculum.

A new $6.8 million dormitory, Holmes Halls, will open its doors to 1,276 students, bringing the capacity of MSU's residence hall system to about 18,000.

Modified Filibuster Lurks in House Shadows as Republicans Strive for Equal Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The filibuster, a waning institution in the Senate, seemed likely today to get a new lease on life in the House — but in modified form.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said Republican members of the House have an obscure but important point to win — and they are prepared to fight for it again with tactics like those that tied the House into knots until early Tuesday morning.

★ ★ ★

Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference, said the point at issue is equal time for speakers on the minority side of motions to have the House bypass its Rules Committee in taking up legislation.

A new rule designed to prevent pigeonholing of legislation permits the House to consider bringing a bill direct to the floor if the Rules Committee has delayed it for more than 21 days.

OBSTACLE RACE

Whether a demand for equal time was their motive or not, most Republicans and enough Democrats worked together Monday to make the first use of the new 21-day rule an agonizing 12½-hour obstacle race impeded by 22 procedural roll calls — a House record.

This is about as close as the House can come to a filibuster. Its rules do not allow unlimited debate — as do the Senate's.

★ ★ ★

"It will be the same thing every time they use the 21-day rule — unless they agree to give us time," Laird said. "If there's an agreement on time — no ball game, no problem."

Democrats, however, were prompt to contend that the long-drawn-out opposition Monday night was not chiefly for the sake of parliamentary fairness, but because of the nature of some of the bills involved.

CHARGES, DENIALS

Also involved were charges — and denials — that the House leadership tried to bring out seven bills in one session in an effort to block a bill proposing to return most of the District of Columbia to Maryland. That bill was offered by opponents of home rule for the District.

Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., said the near-filibuster does not destroy the value of the 21-day rule. Thompson is chairman of the Democratic study group, an organization of House Democrats who class themselves as liberals and moderates. The group was the main backer of the rules change.

★ ★

Laird complained that the procedure does not guarantee a hearing for the minority and that the Democratic leadership, both before and after Monday's near-filibuster, refused to give assurances on this score.

"But I predict we'll get it, one way or another," Laird said.

Laird said the Republican leadership as such did not make the decision to force the issue Monday, although leaders joined in after the effort was started.

SNARED SUPPORT

The Rules Committee chairman, Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., marshalled a number of Southern Democrats in support of the delaying effort. He said there was no planning in advance with the Republicans "that I know of."

As to who won, Smith said, "I guess it was a deadfall. But we had some fun."

U. S. Is Invited by Ayub Khan to Stop Fight

U Thant Thwarted in Cease-Fire Try; Battles Continuing

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — President Mohammed Ayub Khan invited President Johnson today to bring the power of the United States to bear in halting the war between India and Pakistan.

"The United States can play a very definite role by telling India and Pakistan she will not stand for this struggle," he told reporters. "She could have brought it (a solution) about in 1962 and could have brought it about today."

In New Delhi, Foreign Minister Swaran Singh said U.N. Secretary General U Thant had been unable to achieve "even temporary peace" and Indian "defensive operations must continue with unabated vigor."

Singh spoke at a news conference shortly after Thant left New Delhi expressing belief the desire of both sides "to stop the fighting and find a peaceful solution has become stronger."

★ ★ ★

Thant headed back to New York by plane to report to the U.N. Security Council on his attempt to halt the fighting.

TRY FRUSTRATED

Singh said statements today by Ayub and Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto "clearly show that the secretary-general's efforts to obtain an immediate cease-fire have been completely thwarted and frustrated."

He referred to Pakistan's uncompromising stand on Kashmir, where the fighting began Sept. 6. Pakistan insists on a plebiscite in that divided Himalayan state to determine whether the people want Indian or Pakistani rule but Ayub said he was willing to negotiate conditions for the vote. India rejects a plebiscite.

606 Yanks Taken Out of Pakistan

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — U.S. Air Force transport planes arrived today carrying 606 Americans, mostly women and children, from the war zone of Lahore, Pakistan.

U.S. Ambassador Henry H. Mayer and his wife and scores of officials welcomed the Americans. The evacuees will move in with the 404 American families in Tehran.

In the reception committee were 100 doctors and nurses to care for the pregnant mothers and their children.

Seven C130 transport planes brought the Americans to Iran. The planes left Tehran shortly after midnight after waiting five days for clearance by Pakistani authorities.

★ ★ ★

A Pakistani Embassy source said the reason for the delay was a lack of Pakistani escort planes. Finally the planes went in without escort and brought out the dependents without any trouble.

'Betsy Left Over Billion in Damages'

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Gov. John J. McKeithen says Hurricane Betsy probably left more than a billion dollars damage in Louisiana and he fears the death toll will jump.

"There is no question but that we will find more bodies after floodwaters recede," the governor said yesterday after a boat and helicopter survey of the Mississippi River delta lands to the south.

The certified death toll had reached 74 — 62 in Louisiana, 7 in Florida, 4 in Arkansas, 1 in Mississippi.

"Louisiana has suffered a disaster comparable to an earthquake," said McKeithen.

SHIPPED IN TANKS

The chlorine, a common industrial chemical, was shipped in four big tanks aboard the barge. A ruptured tank would allow the chemical, released from pressure, to form a lethal gas which could bubble out of the water and, like a low hanging mist, move with the winds, killing anything in its path.

Officials emphasized that the odds against the tanks rupturing are great and that they expect no emergency.

The big danger was that a vessel on the busy river could plow into the sunken barge. To avoid this, a 37-mile stretch of the river has been closed to traffic.

River traffic was backing up for miles with no end to the search in sight. Coast Guard Capt. Russell Waesche said dredging begins today to see if a safe shipping channel can be opened.

DIVERS HELP

The search was directed by the Navy destroyer Hyman. The effort included divers, who must work by feel in the muddy water, planes and elaborate underwater detection devices.

The chlorine barge was among scores of barges ripped from moorings and sunk or beached by the hurricane last Friday.

Twisters, Rain Pelt Middle West Area

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes and severe thunderstorms hammered wide areas in the nation's midsection last night, with violent weather in Peoria, Ill., injuring at least 28 persons and causing property damage estimated at $1 million.

The severe storms battered sections of central and northeastern Illinois, northern and central Indiana and parts of Iowa, Missouri and lower Michigan.

The storm described by the Peoria Weather Bureau as a "possible tornado," virtually destroyed the Norwood Elementary School near Peoria, a city of more than 100,000.

Forty-three persons, including 25 pupils, huddled in the basement as the storm struck. No one was hurt. Damage was estimated at $500,000.

★ ★ ★

The storm flattened the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. plant, caused an estimated $250,000 damage to the Union Stockyards and heavy damage to a Hiram Walker plant. Several homes were damaged, trees were uprooted and power and telephone service was disrupted.

60 EVACUATED

At Bellevue, near Peoria, the damaging winds unroofed the Bellevue Nursing Home and 60 persons were evacuated. Two persons were injured near Watseka, Ill.

In Indiana tornadoes were reported at Tippecanoe, Boone, Clinton, Howard and Johnson counties. No injuries were reported and property damage was light. Gusty winds and heavy rain struck Lafayette and one person suffered a severe electrical shock when he walked into the flooded basement of his home.

Several intersections were flooded to a depth of four feet. More than 4½ inches of rain drenched the city in six hours.

★ ★ ★

Severe wind storms also swept the Battle Creek, Mich., area and in central and southwestern Missouri.

HEAT RECORDS

Record breaking heat marks were reported Tuesday in parts of Oklahoma and Texas, with 107 at Wichita Falls, Tex., 103 at Tulsa and 102 at Oklahoma City, Okla.

★ ★ ★

Snow fell early today at Cut Bank, Mont., as the mercury dropped to freezing. The cold air extended across northern border states. The early morning high reading was 90 at Thermal, in the California desert.

High Winds Buffet County

High winds roaring through Oakland County last night toppled trees and downed utility wires cutting off power to several hundred homes. Damage was relatively small compared to other parts of the state and nation.

Four tenths of an inch in rain fell on Pontiac but no wind damage was reported.

With scattered reports of wires down, the Detroit Edison Co. had 16 crews working this morning.

There were three areas of concentrated power failure.

Power was off in about 300 homes in the Square Lake-Squirrel Road area of Bloomfield Township from 12:15 to 5:30 a.m.

Shorter failures affected some 200 homes north of Cedar Island Lake in White Lake Township and 150 customers near 14 Mile Road and Middle Belt in Farmington Township.

Sixty-four was the low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the mercury recorded 75.

Cavanagh Wins Easily in Primary

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh amassed more than 60 per cent of the total vote in yesterday's municipal primary to easily win renomination as a candidate for a second term as chief of the nation's fifth-largest city.

The 37-year-old incumbent ran up a margin of greater than four to one over his nearest rival, printing firm executive Walter C. Shamie, according to unofficial returns.

Unofficial returns gave Cavanagh 163,152 votes to Shamie's 40,138. James N. Heaney, an attorney and real estate broker, was third with 33,521.

Twelve candidates were on the nonpartisan primary ballot. The top two vote-getters face each other in a Nov. 2 runoff for a four-year term.

Though Detroit municipal offices are nonpartisan, Cavanagh is generally regarded as a Democrat; Heaney once sought unsuccessfully a Republican Congressional nomination. Shamie's political affiliation was not known.

STORM THREAT

Some 257,000 voters turned out despite late-afternoon showers and threats of severe weather and possible tornadoes during the last two hours of voting.

Incumbent City Council President Ed Cary led the slate of 60 council aspirants with 124,029. Runnerup was former mayor Louis C. Miriani with 114,656, followed by Mary V. Beck with 114,390 and Mel Ravitz with 105,052. The top 18 were nominated.

In an early-morning victory statement, Cavanagh said he was "extremely gratified that so many citizens voted for me in the primary."

"I intend to wage a vigorous campaign from now until the general election in November," he added. "I have good faith in the voters of Detroit to know that they will reject the mouthings of demagogues and hucksters."

Cavanagh has said earlier the main issue was whether he had "moved the city forward in the last four years and who is best equipped to carry on this forward movement."

9 Aquanauts Relate Undersea Adventure

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—Living at the bottom of the ocean gives a man a high-pitched voice, a chill, ear trouble and something resembling diaper rash, say nine aquanauts who tried it.

But someday, they added, man may be able to roam under the seven seas in a mobile laboratory.

The aquanauts aired their conclusions yesterday after emerging from 15 days in Sealab 2, 205 feet below the Pacific Ocean surface.

They surfaced Sunday, spent 33 hours in a decompression chamber, then met newsmen aboard the staging vessel Berkone.

Aquanaut Jay D. Skidmore said the all-helium atmosphere they breathed gave them squeaky voices that sounded like a speeded-up phonograph record.

CREATED HILARITY

"It created a lot of hilarity at first," said Skidmore. "After a few days we got used to it and toward the last it seemed extremely normal."

Capt. George Bond, chief of the project, said the experiment pointed toward eventual development of completely mobile laboratory housing in which 35 men could go anywhere in the world, do any underwater job and return while decompressing on the way.

He said such mobility could best be obtained by modification of a nuclear submarine.

★ ★ ★

Bond said, however, that after three weeks underwater, the men's efficiency would begin to decrease.

LONGEST TIME

Aquanaut Bill Coffman said he and Skidmore spent the longest time in the water at any one time — 2 hours and 44 minutes. Coffman said it was cold, but that they could have stayed out longer.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Thomas A. Clarke, team biologist, said he, however, could take only about 30 to 40 minutes in the water, which averages 51 to 53 degrees Fahrenheit around Sealab 2.

★ ★ ★

Sealab physician Lt. Robert Sonnenburg praised underwater living, but added he was unable to cure an ear infection suffered by the aquanauts. He treated them to alleviate discomfort.

OU Fund Bill GOP Blocks

A $1.2 million contingency-fund bill which would have helped budget-bound Oakland University with its increased enrollment problem lost out yesterday in the Michigan Senate.

★ ★ ★

In an attempt to override Gov. Romney's veto, the Senate failed on a 21-13 count of party-line votes.

★ ★ ★

"Though we are not sure of our total enrollment as yet," said Troy Crowder, OP's director of public relations, "we would have qualified for some of the money had the measure passed."

★ ★ ★

Romney said the college fund was unnecessary because a supplemental appropriation later could solve any problems that might arise.

In presenting the corporate gift on behalf of its Pontiac and Warren operations, the GM officials said, "We are happy to report this contribution to the Crittenton Hospital Fund.

"We recognize the importance and need of this facility to GM employes and other residents of the communities within Macomb and Oakland Counties who will be served by the new hospital."

'Firms to Aid Safety Study'

LANSING (UPI) — Secretary of State James M. Hare reports that the big four auto makers have agreed to help in any way they can to improve traffic safety in Michigan.

He said such a study could make Michigan "the national showcase for traffic safety."

AIRLIFT INTO VIET TERRITORY — American and Australian troops move across the field toward the road at right as helicopters that lifted them into the area near Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon, leave the landing zone. Clearing Area for U.S. Base

No Major Fighting in Joint Operation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thousands of U.S. paratroopers and Vietnamese soldiers fanned out today in Viet Cong territory about 30 miles north of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said.

Elements of the U.S. Army's 173rd Brigade are taking part in the joint operation launched Tuesday in an effort to establish a base for U.S. forces in an area long under guerrilla control.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said no major contact had been made but that the allied forces drew sporadic sniper fire. He reported no U.S. casualties but said Australian and New Zealand troops on the operation took light losses.

The area being cleared was near the district town of Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon in Binh Duong Province.

CHUTISTS DROP

U.S. advisers parachuted Tuesday with 1,100 Vietnamese just northeast of Ben Cat in one phase of the operation. In another part, U.S. paratroopers and New Zealand and Australian contingents reached Ben Cat by convoy along Highway 13 on which the Viet Cong have pulled many bloody ambushes.

One truck in the convoy blew up after striking a mine and inflicted the casualties on the New Zealanders.

The parachute jump was made in driving rain and was the first by Vietnamese paratroopers since last year.

In the air war, another flight of B52 bombers from Guam hit a suspected Viet Cong installation in Zone D 30 miles northeast of Saigon in Bien Hoa Province. It was the 24th announced raid by the big planes of the U.S. Strategic Air Command.

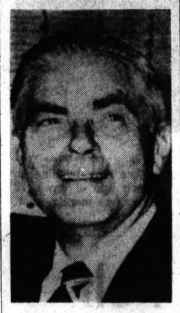
JOHN V. LINDSAY



ABRAHAM D. BEAME

Comptroller Easy Victor at NY Polls

NEW YORK (AP) — Abraham D. Beame, an easy victor in a race he wasn't expected to win, launched his Democratic campaign for mayor today with a call for a crusade against Republican-Liberal John V. Lindsay.

Beame, 59-year-old city comptroller, rolled past three opponents in a primary election Tuesday that seriously damaged the gubernatorial ambitions of his one-time ally, retiring Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

★ ★ ★

He collected nearly 59,000 votes more than his closest rival, City Council President Paul R. Screvane, who ran with Wagner's backing.

Beame quickly labeled himself an underdog in the battle against Rep. Lindsay, then took off in the predawn hours for a hand-shaking tour of the Fulton fish market.

RECORD VOTE

A record 738,720 Democrats voted in the primary election.

Other candidates for mayor were Rep. William F. Ryan and Councilman Paul O'Dwyer.

Unofficial figures showed Beame got 327,934 votes, Screvane 268,991, Ryan 113,182, and O'Dwyer 28,613.

The most powerful vote-getter in the primary was Queens District Atty. Frank D. O'Connor, Beame's running mate for City Council president. He got 350,462 votes, nearly half of the ballots cast.

O'Connor's showing catapulted him into next year's race for the Democratic nomination for governor. He has made no secret of the fact that he would like to run against Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

DEALT A BLOW

Wagner's chances of getting the nomination for governor were dealt a serious blow by his backing of the losing Screvane.

Senate Clears Measure

Farm Bill Solution Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate managers of the Johnson administration's farm bill predicted today that a final compromise on the two versions of the legislation will be worked out satisfactorily.

The Senate cleared the four-year measure Tuesday by a 72-22 vote after revising it in four days of floor debate to conform more closely to the administration's views.

★ ★ ★

The final version won support of 56 Democrats and 16 Republicans while 14 Republicans and 8 Democrats voted against it.

The bill had cleared the House 221 to 172 on Aug. 19.

SPECIFIC COSTS

Opponents and backers of the Senate and House bills have never agreed on specific costs of the multibillion-dollar measures.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., and Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., who will lead the respective Senate and House delegations in the conference measure, said they were confident the differences could be settled without great difficulty.

★ ★ ★

The wheat provisions lead the list of major differences in the two versions. There also are significant variances on cotton, dairy and rice sections.

Senate sponsors said they believe the bill as finally passed in boosting farmers' income and restricting production so that present surpluses can be cut back.

'FINEST PROGRAM'

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., called it the "finest farm program we have seen in years." He said the Senate bill "reverses the downward trend of net farm income and sets a new course toward parity," particularly on wheat.

Agriculture Department spokesmen said the Senate bill is close to administration thinking except that it is much too costly.

★ ★ ★

Indications were the administration would try to cut back on the cost of the wheat and cotton programs in the conference.

The Senate wheat provisions would give growers an over-all return of $1.90 a bushel compared with $1.81 in the House bill and $1.69 under the 1965 program.

This would cost $400 million a year more than the administration proposal.

KEY FEATURE

A key feature of the bill is the new cotton program, fixing price support loans at about the world market price of 21 cents a pound and boosting the income of the grower with direct subsidy payments amounting to 9 or more cents a pound.

The two versions are close together on this program.

★ ★ ★

However, Ellender got a last-minute amendment into the measure to boost income of cotton growers.

It would assure a grower a minimum of 65 per cent of parity on all of the allotment acres on his farm whether planted to cotton or not. Parity is the price level determined under farm law to be fair to the farmer in relation to his costs.

Experts estimated this could cost $50 million a year extra.

Thief Shooting Ruled Justified

The fatal shooting of a holdup man by Charles Law, son of Rep. Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, was ruled justifiable homicide by Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson today.

Bronson said he made his finding after a review of police reports and the testimony of witnesses.

The younger Law, 25, shot and killed exconvict Raymond Lee Scott, 33, of 283 S. Jessie, during an attempted robbery Saturday night.

The shooting occurred in a grocery store owned by the legislator and operated by his son at 200 Earlmoor.

★ ★ ★

Bronson said that there would be no coroner's inquest into the shooting.

Coed Killing Suspect Sane; Trial Slated

A 26-year-old Lum man was declared sane today and ordered to stand trial on a charge of killing an Oxford Township coed.

Cooke is charged with first degree murder in the slaying of Barbara K. Hodges, 22, of 545 Second, on June 23.

She was beaten and shot to death on Dunlap Road, about two miles north of Oxford Village. She was a junior at Central Michigan University.

★ ★ ★

Ziem made his decision following a half-hour sanity hearing. Testimony was taken from two psychiarists who examined Cooke.

They are doctors Abraham Tauber of Pontiac and William E. Gordon of Detroit.

Father Gives Kidney

2 Are Satisfactory After Transplant

An Avon Township mother who underwent a kidney transplant operation yesterday and her father, who donated the healthy kidney, were both reported in satisfactory condition today.

★ ★ ★

Spokesmen at the Cleveland Clinic where the operation was performed, said Mrs. Patricia Shontz "got a little rest last night" and that her father, Frank L. Farrell of St. Clair Shores, "had a very good night."

Mrs. Shontz' one remaining kidney was removed in another operation three weeks ago.

Since that time, her blood has been purified by a kidney machine.

The young mother, of 1895 Tamm, lost her first kidney when she was 10 years old as the result of a childhood fail.

FAILING STEADILY

The other one had been failing gradually since the birth two years ago of her son James.

After exhaustive examinations, her father was chosen as the donor of the kidney.

The chance of a successful transplant were better than 50-50, according to a hospital spokesman.

Mrs. Shontz' father pointed out several weeks ago that the actual operation is usually successful but the problem is getting the body to accept the new kidney.

TIME TO FUNCTION

Mrs. Shontz was reported in excellent spirits prior to the operation.

She talked to her son, James, Monday night, and was said to have told her father that she was looking forward to Christmas.

Her husband, James, is an apprentice at the Ford Motor Co. Sterling Township plant.

The Shontz' two-year-old son has been staying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shontz in Royal Oak.

Commissioners Ballot on Zoning Amendment

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Commissioners cast their votes on the proposed amendment to the city's zoning ordinance last night, making official their long-known stands on the controversial issue.

The results of the 3-2 vote were less clear-cut, with the future of multiple-residence requirements still a community question mark.

Success or failure of the measure depends on interpretation of a state statute which would, if it applied to Bloomfield Hills, require four of the five commissioners to support a change in order for it to take effect.

The law stipulates that a three-quarters majority is required to override the objections of the owners of 20 per cent of the front footage involved in a proposed zoning change.

Such a protest has been filed.

BELIEVES STATUTE APPLIES

City Attorney David C. Pence is of the opinion that the statute does apply to Bloomfield Hills, Mayor Robert S. Frye revealed last night.

"But, I've still got some checking to do," Frye said.

Pence's opinion, submitted last month, had been confidential.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys representing the six protesting property owners had asked to be notified of the commission's interpretation of the statute before a decision was reached.

TELL RESULTS

"Inform them of the results of the voting — nothing more," Frye told City Clerk Robert Stadler last night.

The proposed changes would reduce from 4½ to three the number of families allowed per acre in a multiple-residence zone.

They also would delete references to three-story town houses in the zoning ordinance which was adopted 17 months ago.

★ ★ ★

With years of controversy and a recent public hearing behind them, commissioners discussed the issue for about 20 minutes before the vote.

VOTES RECORDED

The ayes: Frye, E. R. Davies and Manton M. Cummins.

The nays: Louis J. Colombo Jr. and James A. Beresford.

Each reiterated that he was doing what he thought was best for the city.

Colombo noted that several persons at the public hearing last month asked for the results of studies or recommendations of experts.

★ ★ ★

"There has been no traffic study, no report from a planning consultant and no recommendation from the planning commission," he said. "None of these things was done to show any change in the circumstances from the time the ordinance was passed."

Create Synod to Help Pope

Bishops to Comprise World Organization

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI issued an official document today setting up a worldwide synod of bishops and spelling out how it will help him govern the Roman Catholic Church.

The document, a "Motu Proprio" signed by the pontiff, was read by Paolo Cardinal Marella to the approximately 2,500 prelates in St. Peter's at their first working meeting of the fourth and final session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

* * *

The Pope announced Tuesday that he would create the synod, and he came into the basilica this morning to hear the document read by the archpriest of St. Peter's.

The document began by stating that the synod answers the Pope's need for a central organization to bring him into closer contact with bishops around the world.

OFFICIAL NAME

The official name of the body will be "Synod of the Bishops." It will meet in ordinary, extraordinary, or special meetings wherever and whenever the Pope sees fit.

Most of the members—the total number was not specified—will be bishops actively in charge of dioceses and archdioceses.

* * *

One bishop will be chosen from each national bishops conference that has 25 members on fewer; two from each conference with 50 or under; three from each conference with 100 or under; four from each conference with more than 100 bishops.

The United States, Italy, Brazil and nearly a dozen other countries have more than 100 bishops and will thus have four members on the synod.

OWN INITIATIVE

The Motu Proprio, a document drawn up on the Pope's own initiative, says that the synod's functions would be to teach and give advice, with deliberative or full authoritative powers as decided and when authorized by the Pope.

After the reading of the papal document, bishops of the council began debate on the religious liberty document which has caused one of the widest controversies in the council.

The religious liberty topic says every man has a right to follow his conscience in religious belief and cannot be hindered from doing so.

Steel Industry Sets Vast Modernization

By PHILIP J. KEUPER

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's steel industry, faced with higher labor costs and pricing problems, today is stepping up vast modernization program.

The outlay for new plants and equipment in this huge industry may top $2 billion for the first time in 1966, observers say. Many believe that the 2.2 per cent wage increase won this month by the United Steelworkers Union may have broadened steel company modernization plans.

* * *

The American Iron and Steel Institute estimates steel companies will spend a record $1.9 billion this year on projects designed to melt and roll steel more efficiently. Not since 1957 has the industry spent comparable sums on modernization. But with profits now at a seven-year peak and production at record levels, steel mills are showing a new face.

Fast-working oxygen furnaces are replacing conventional open hearths. There are computer-run mills and streamlined shapes for the thousands of products that contain steel.

FACING UP

"The industry has been facing up to getting its plants and equipment into more competitive shape," said a major steel company spokesman.

Critics of the industry say the modernization program was long overdue — that it should have been launched on a vast scale in the years after World War II. Partly because of greater efficiency, the steel industry's payroll costs per ton of steel shipped dropped from $65.50 in 1961 to $55.25 in the first six months of 1965.

* * *

Higher steel prices have been a touchy prospect for the industry since 1962 when the late President John F. Kennedy rolled back steel price boosts in a bitter government-industry battle. The same year, the industry put out $911 million for capital projects, increased it to $1.04 billion in 1963, then to an estimated $1.6 billion in 1964.

Competition from foreign steel, which made inroads during the industry's costly 116-day strike in 1959, also has speeded the industry's modernization pace.

ENORMOUS PROJECTS

Some steel plant projects are enormous. Bethlehem Steel Corp. claims its $400-million steel-rolling mill at Burns Harbor, Ind., is the world's largest private construction project in progress.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's No. 1 steelmaker, announced that it will spend $600 million a year for the next three years on plants and equipment. This represents a capital expenditure for 1966 that approaches the total of 1963 and 1964 combined.

* * *

Steelmaking advances include continuous casting of molten steel into semifinished shapes, a European process that does away with some costly steps in the traditional steelmaking process.

New rolling mills to form semifinished steel into finished shapes are being built — some equipped with computers to control the process. Computers already are running two strip steel mills and a dozen more computer-controlled mills are being installed or built.

BIGGEST ADVANCE

Probably the biggest advance has been the installation of oxygen furnaces, which melt raw steel much faster and more cheaply than the traditional open hearth furnaces. Steel producers already have put in 26 million tons of oxygen furnace capacity.

What impact modernization will have on the number of workers employed by the steel mills is a question steel executives are hesitant to tackle. They say that because of the record demand for steel, the industry's payroll has been climbing. In July it stood at 631,000 workers, compared with 554,000 five years before.

Meet Tomorrow

Is Chrysler Move Set?

DETROIT (UPI) — Gov. George Romney was scheduled to meet tomorrow with Chrysler Corp. President Lynn A. Townsend in a fight to keep the company from moving some factory operations to Ohio. But there were indications the die might already be cast.

Official sources at Maumee, Ohio, reported yesterday that Chrysler is buying 350 acres of land there on which to build facilities to relocate its factory operations now located at Highland Park, a Detroit suburb.

This report touched off a telegram from Romney to Townsend demanding an explanation. "Has a decision been made or hasn't it," Romney asked in the telegram.

Townsend replied by claiming no "final" decision had yet been made, and confirming his Thursday date to confer with Romney.

* * *

The meeting between Townsend and the governor had been set up last week, after Romney had succeeded in delaying action by the Chrysler Board of Directors on selecting a site for removal of the Highland Park factory operations.

ANTICLIMACTIC

The word from Maumee, Ohio, yesterday made it appear that any meeting between Romney and Townsend would be anticlimactic. And it explained the terse question Romney asked the Chrysler executive.

Townsend's reply said in part: "We have not made a final decision concerning the location of the operations which will be moved to make room for our expanded office requirements at our Highland Park headquarters."

The factory is a machining plant and employs about 4,000 jobs.

* * *

Despite Townsend's denial that a "final" decision had been made, an official source in Maumee said Chrysler was exercising an option to buy 350 acres of land, and tentatively planned to start construction Oct. 1 on a factory to house the machining operations now located in Highland Park. The source said the firm planned to occupy the factory about Jan. 1, 1967.

Q) "A few years ago I was very ill advised. I bought stocks which have since gone down in value. These are Star Industries at 36; Bethlehem Steel at 43; 200 Horizon Land which I am told is worthless. Should I hold these or sell?"

A) I am sorry that you got into stocks which have not performed well in a long rising market. Star Industries is a wholesale liquor distributor and it holds substantial stock interests in Paddington Corp. and Carrillon Importers. There has been excellent growth in Star and a relatively good yield. Unfortunately, you bought near the all-time high for the shares, and I would retain for price recovery.

Bethlehem is a strong and well-managed company in an industry where costs of labor don't seem limited, but steel prices indirectly have been. If you need growth, I would switch into Corn Products. Horizon Land is not worthless but its bid of 1¾ is so low that I would hold.

* * *

Q) "I bought Studebaker-Packard when it was much higher. This was my first purchase of a stock and I wanted to make some money. A friend said it was going up and now I have a big loss. Should I hold? Perhaps I'd better sell and put the money in the bank." G. A.

A) Perhaps so — or if you will allow me to say so — perhaps you've learned a bit of a lesson from your Studebaker purchase. Studebaker may ultimately make good and I certainly hope so. For the untrained investor, however, the shares seem to me to be entirely too risky, as you have found to your sorrow. It is hard to differentiate between speculation and investment, and in my long experience, I have seen a great deal of money lost in a stock because a friend said it was going up.

I suggest you switch your Studebaker into Pacific Gas & Electric — a sound dividend-payer with good yield and growth prospects.

Labor Aide to Try to Halt Paper Strike

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner's labor trouble shooter, Theodore W. Kheel, has been summoned home from a European trip to seek an eleventh-hour halt of a planned strike by the Newspaper Guild of New York at the New York Times.

The Mayor also called both sides to a city hall meeting tonight.

A Wagner spokesman said Kheel, a noted labor attorney, was to arrive at Kennedy Airport from Copenhagen at 6 p.m. EDT today.

The Guild plans to strike the Times at 8 a.m. EDT tomorrow if a contract settlement cannot be reached. The chief stumbling block has been automation and job security. Salaries are not an issue.

If the Guild strikes at the Times, six other newspapers belonging to the New York Newspapers Publishers Association may shut down.

REPRESENTS DAILIES

The Publishers Association, which represents all major dailies except the New York Post, said publication of its member papers will be suspended if the Guild strikes the Times.

It would be the first large New York newspaper strike since a 114-day walkout in 1963 closed nine Association newspapers.

U.S.-Canada Auto Trading Bill Backed

By G. MILTON KELLY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two cabinet members Tuesday backed pending legislation to make effective the new U.S.-Canadian automotive trade pact.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, in prepared testimony, told the Senate Finance Committee the agreement "will benefit the workers, the firms and the consumers in both countries."

* * *

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor, in a prepared statement, predicted "its general effect should lead to expanded production and consumption of automotive products in North America to the benefit of both the U.S. and Canada."

But the United Auto Workers Union contends that the auto companies would save $50 million this year from the abolition of tariffs and should be required to pass the savings along in the form of lower prices to Canadian car buyers.

UNION WITNESS

Nat Weinberg, appearing for the union, said in prepared testimony also that workers who may lose their jobs should be "protected in full against any consequent financial loss."

The United States and Canada have agreed to suspend tariff duties on new cars and original-equipment auto parts crossing the border in either direction. A House-passed bill to make the agreement effective is now before the Senate committee.

Teaching Becomes Good Learning Tool

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

"I learned more teaching the subject than I did taking it!"

Over the years, this statement has been made by hundreds of young teachers.

Until recently, educators had overlooked the possibility of using teaching as a learning tool. Now, programs in which college students act as tutors for underprivileged children have brought the idea into the limelight.

As schools get more crowded and classes are larger, there is increasing need for experiences of this type.

* * *

Student teachers get the necessary practice in formulating precise thoughts in order to communicate ideas to a younger student. The pupil, in turn, has an opportunity to respond immediately to every idea presented — not just to take his turn among 30 others.

Unless they are forced to express new ideas to another individual in their own words, students are prone to be satisfied with an incomplete grasp or even a fuzzy notion of what they are reading.

Unfortunately, the knowledge does not become theirs unless they think it out in their own words!

To teach another, a student must be able to think out the ideas — and express them — in his own words. The student should not have a purely selfish motive in mind, however. The joy of helping another and the training it gives for citizenship is as valuable as the learning that takes place.

* * *

In addition, helping another gives a feeling of being needed. This is something that is often missed in our automated households.

SIMILAR CHANGES

Paralleling changes in home life, there have been similar changes in school life.

In the one-room school, some pupils were always in the process of helping other pupils. It was the only procedure through which eight grades could be taught by a single teacher.

As schools became larger and pupils were separated into single rooms by grades, there was less opportunity for one student to help another. Not only did pupils lose some of the feeling of being part of the program, but there was less learning through teaching.

* * *

The new programs, both national and local, are not the only sources of opportunity for learning through teaching. Students and even adults needing help in the learning processes are in abundant supply.

TRY TO HELP OTHERS

Teachers and parents should encourage and help students to search out opportunities to help others and thus to learn through teaching. This would have a bonus effect. As more students find satisfaction in these endeavors they will be attracted to teaching as a life work.

Our future supply of teachers can thus be assured.

Oswald Jacoby starts the family conversation with more reminiscing but Jim brings it right up to date.

JACOBY

Oswald: "I guess that over the years I have had more really good results because of an opponent's mistaken attempt to be brilliant than from any one cause."

Jim: "The same applies to my own experience. Just the other day an opponent was brilliant enough to hand me an impossible contract on a silver platter. Of course, the contract was a good one to start with. It was unfortunate when I played the queen of spades from dummy at trick one East had the king to cover it.

"At this point I could be sure of six diamonds and two aces and little or no expectation of being able to make my ninth trick anywhere. Then East started to think and I started to hope. He could only be thinking of one thing which would be whether or not he should unblock the spade suit. Sure enough after the wheels had gone round and round he put the jack of spades on the table and my ten of spades had become my ninth trick.

"The play also gave me a chance to try for ten, but West showed up with both the ace and queen of hearts so I had to settle for my contract without anything extra."

Oswald: "Not a bad settlement at all. You can't complain when you bring home an impossible contract."

Jim: "As a matter of fact East was rather unlucky. Had I held the queen of hearts and not the ten of spades East's unblocking would have been the play to set me."

Oswald: "Yes, he was unlucky, but I think that he went out of his way to manufacture his own bad luck and that the odds favored the conservative play."

Bottle-Scarred Comedian Jokes to World in Turmoil

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The 1965-66 Broadway season is off to a whooping start regardless of Viet Nam, Pakistan and such distant places . . . Comedian Joe E. Lewis, bottle-scarred veteran of the saloons, has opened for the 25th year at the Copacabana . . . one is staggered by the thought that he opened in that gilded basement in 1940 just when the Nazis were most fiercely bombing Britain, and has been cracking jokes on that same floor for a quarter of a century.

WILSON

Joe E. had a huge celebrity turnout. The beautiful bustaceous Joi Lansing who sings there is a wondrous curtain-raiser for Joe E. who calls himself "the pickled Plato."

Sinatra, incidentally, while taping a Sammy Davis ABC TV show, enlivened a lull by calling out: "Anybody wanta buy a good used boat?"

Rosemary Clooney opened beautifully, too, at the Americana Royal Box — with Edie Adams and husband Marty Mills, and Vivian Blaine and Ted Steele among the celebs. Comedian Dave Astor, a wild man, preceding her, remarked that "Everybody's using speed reading now and it's a wonderful thing. It saves you many wasted hours before you get to the dirty part."

The old home town: A reader in Charleston, S.C. ("Don't use my name!") mourns not only the passing of the party line —where the eavesdropping was easy — but the real live, quick-to-help telephone operators we used to have before area codes. Once during World War II, a cousin of hers broke a front tooth while eating an apple and had trouble getting a dentist. The suffering cousin called home — 30 miles away — to ask what she should do. Before her father could say anything, Ethel, the phone operator, and therefore an important and influential member of the community, broke in: "Mr. B., do you want me to ring Dr. Legare for an appointment?" Ethel the operator made the appointment—and the cousin continued her pleasant conversation with her parents.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Jack Benny came to NY really to do the UN Staff party for U Thant — who wasn't here to attend it . . . Morgana King subbed for the late Dorothy Dandridge at Basin St. East. . . . George Raft, having tax troubles, was surrounded by photographers outside the L.A. courtroom, sighed: "I didn't see so many cameras when I was going big."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: People seldom think alike — until it comes to buying wedding presents.

In Greenwich Village an invitation to an "informal party" means you have to wear shoes. If it's announced as formal, the shoes have to match. . . . That's earl brother.

Life Is Pleasant in Land of Swat

Emeralds Plentiful but Firewood Scarce

WASHINGTON—In the peaceful, prosperous land of Swat the big problems are firewood, jaywalking and stocking trout streams. Swat's surplus of emeralds is no problem at all.

The little Himalayan state in West Pakistan is ruled by the hereditary Wali of Swat. Pakistan, however handles its foreign affairs, defense, and communications, the National Geographic Society says.

Maj. Gen. Miangul Abdul Haq Jahan Zeb, the present Wali of Swat, is a progressive ruler.

He conducts much official business over the telephone, calling village chiefs every morning. Nearly every village has electricity.

The Wali has built free schools, a college, half a dozen hospitals, and a modern road network.

PROUD OF ROADS

The Wali is proud of his highways and frowns on jaywalkers. Offenders are forced to run along the road at top speed until they drop from exhaustion.

Swat encompasses 1,800 square miles of hills, mountains, and fertile valleys.

Most of Swat's 600,000 people are farmers who raise rice, wheat, corn, fruit, watermelons, and vegetables on irrigated and terraced land. The mild lowland climate permits two crops a year.

★ ★ ★

The precious land has been cultivated so long and so lovingly that weeds have largely been eliminated from fields.

Grazing cattle and goats keep meadows closely cropped. Buildings are kept in good repair; trash does not accumulate in farmyards or roadsides. The result is a tidy, parklike landscape.

FUEL SCARCE

Every fallen leaf and twig is picked up — not for the sake of neatness but for use as firewood.

Though strict laws permit only the waste portions of trees to be used as fuel, lumbering is second to agriculture as a source of revenue in Swat.

Another substantial source of income is the annual auction of emeralds from an ancient mine near Mingora. The sale brings in more than $200,000 every year.

★ ★ ★

The Wali hopes to earn additional revenue from tourists. The mountainous scenery of Swat is spectacular, a ski resort is planned, and the hunting and fishing are good.

Friends Help Actor Conway

VENICE, Calif. (UPI) — Actor Tom Conway, destitute despite lifetime earnings of $900,000, celebrated his 61st birthday today by preparing to move out of his $2-a-night hotel room.

"I have nothing to grumble about, really," said Conway, the brother of actor George Sanders. "It's just a temporary setback and one has to adjust, to weather the storm for a little while."

Conway, who played "The Falcon" in movies, "The Saint" on radio and "Inspector Mark Sabre" on television, had faced ejection from his hotel room this weekend.

His plight was revealed in a newspaper article.

★ ★ ★

"Sunday, I'll be living in West Hollywood with friends who will turn over a section of their home to me," said the still-dapper actor.

Shortly after his financial circumstances were disclosed by the hotel owner, Conway received scores of telephone calls and messages.

Bean Standards Urged by Massachusetts Aide

BOSTON (AP) —Dr. George A. Michael, state director of food and drugs, says that Massachusetts, the home of the baked bean, has no legal standards for baked beans.

Some boiled beans, he said Tuesday, are being sold as baked beans. The State Public Health Council has called for a public hearing to set standards. No hearing date was set.

Attorney Gives Board Details on Ordinance

If the Waterford Township Board adopts an ordinance in compliance with the recently amended Michigan Housing Law, it would only apply to that portion of the township lying within 1¼ miles from Pontiac's city limit.

The ordinance would give the township jurisdiction over certain unkept and unoccupied dwellings.

Asked by the board to review the new section of the law, Township Attorney Paul M. Mandel asserted that the remaining portions of the township outside the 1¼-mile radius would not be affected.

Mandel, however, emphasized that the affected area would be increased to a radius of 2½ miles from city limits whenever Pontiac reaches the 100,000 population bracket.

★ ★ ★

In effect, the ordinance would license the township to intervene if an unkempt and unoccupied dwelling was not corrected within 90 days after the owner had been judged in violation.

PROPERTY LIEN

If the dwelling had not been lived in for six months, the township board could remove the house and place a lien on the property.

Mandel advised against adoption of such an ordinance since two separate standards of housing conditions and law enforcement polices in the township "would lead only to great difficulty in enforcement."

Mandel was asked to make the study when board members remarked on the dilapidated condition of certain buildings in the township and asked what could be done to remedy the situation.

Issue Backed by Committee

Seek More Meetings for Institutions Board

A proposed amendment to allow the Oakland County Board of Institutions up to 36 meetings yearly, yesterday won the support of the institutions committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

Presently, the board of institutions, which administers the Oakland County Sanatorium, is limited by state law to 14 meetings annually with pay.

The institutions committee is the liaison group between the board of institutions and the board of supervisors.

By its action, it concurred with a prior resolution passed by the board of institutions calling for an amendment to state law.

The amendment request also has been referred to the legislative committee of the board of supervisors with a request for speedy action in behalf of the proposed law change.

Compensation Case Backlog Being Cut

LANSING (AP) — The backlog of workmen's compensation cases has been trimmed substantially in the past 16 months, but may rise again because of Michigan's new compensation law, Weldon Yeager, director of the Compensation Department said Tuesday.

Revised administrative procedures and six new referees reduced the backlog of unheard disputes from 9,000 on May 1, 1964—when he took office — to 7,000 on Sept. 1 of this year—the day the new workmen's compensation law went into effect

The new law covers some 60,000 additional workers, Yeager said.

★ ★ ★

A new $6.8 million dormitory, Holmes Halls, will open its doors to 1,276 students, bringing the capacity of MSU's residence hall system to about 18,000.
