White Minister Is Still Listed 'Very Critical'

Automatic Respirator Keeping Clergyman Alive as Hopes Fade

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) —University Hospital said today that a Boston white minister clubbed on the head after a racial demonstration in Selma remained in "extremely critical" condition.

While his wife waited anxiously, hospital attendants were keeping the Rev. James J. Reeb alive with an automatic respirator.

One doctor was quoted as saying the clergyman has no hope of survival. Reeb was still unconscious.

His wife, Marie, was with him at the hospital, pale and shaken by what had happened.

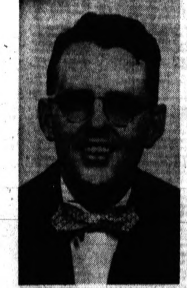

Mrs. Reeb said her husband considered the civil rights cause important enough to merit the beating he received at the hands of white men outside a Selma cafe.

Reeb was taken by ambulance the 90 miles to Birmingham for an operation at the University of Alabama Medical Center.

It was there his wife found him, still unconscious.

YELLOW ROSES

She received yellow roses and a special telegram from President Johnson, another message from Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and dozens of telegrams from all over the nation.

U.S. Is Expected to Send More Ground Units to Viet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is likely to send more ground force units to South Viet Nam to join the two Marine battalions just disembarked there, it was learned today.

This information coincides with a reported substantial buildup in North Vietnamese regular army battalions now fighting alongside Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

The expected new troop assignment was disclosed following these other developments in Washington on the Viet Nam situation:

- Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told Congress this year's bill for U.S. military aid in South Viet Nam had gone up an additional $50 million. He said President Johnson was transferring that amount to the military program for economic aid funds.
- The Pentagon reported that reconnaissance photographs taken after the 160-plane raid on two Communists bases in North Viet Nam nine days ago showed better than 70 per cent success was achieved in destroying or seriously damaging installations.

U.S. UNITS

The mission of additional U.S. units assigned to South Viet Nam, like that of the Marines now at Da Nang air base, would be guard duty and the freeing of more South Vietnamese army units for offensive operations.

New Viet Strategy Hinted After LBJ, Aides Confer

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — A presidential policy conference at Camp David indicates new decisions on the U.S. role in the Vietnamese war may be in the making.

One question believed to be under top level consideration is whether U. S. air attacks on military bases in North Viet Nam should be carried deeper into that country.

So far they have been restricted to the southern regions, well away from the capital, Hanoi.

Last night's conference at the presidential retreat in the mountains of western Maryland brought together President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and McGeorge Bundy and Bill D. Moyers, White House aides.

The topic for the meeting was not announced but it was understood that the major subject, at least, was Viet Nam and that Camp David was chosen by the President because it afforded a relaxed atmosphere in which he and his chief advisers could talk out the whole complex of problems associated with the Southeast Asian conflict.

These include the efforts by many other countries, including Britain, France and the Soviet Union, to initiate peace talks; political and military conditions inside South Viet Nam, which U.S. officials are said to consider difficult and disappointing but not hopeless, and the Johnson administration's desire for support from other countries in the struggle in Viet Nam.

CENTRAL PROBLEM

The central problem constantly before Johnson and his chief diplomatic and military advisers, however, is how to bring enough pressure on Communist North Viet Nam to persuade the leaders in Hanoi to halt the infiltration of troops and arms into the South to reinforce the Viet Cong guerrilla fighters trying to take over the country.

U.S. combat planes began attacking the North Feb. 7. The raids were described initially as retaliation for Communist guerrilla attacks on U.S. installations in the South and on South Vietnamese troops.

The strategy behind the air strikes, however, was to make North Viet Nam feel the destructive force of U.S. military power in Southeast Asia.

Implicit in the operations from the beginning was the possibility that if the North Vietnamese leaders did not abandon what the United States has called their aggression against the South they faced increasing destruction in their own country.

It is now more than a month since the air strikes were first undertaken and U.S. officials say that if and when any new decisions are made for expanded U.S. operations against the North they will very likely be made known not by advance announcement but as result of action in the field.

Snow, Flurries Are Forecast for Pontiac, Area

Old Man Winter still has 1½ weeks to go and he's going to let us know it.

First, he's planned light snow or snow flurries for tonight with the low in the 20s.

Tomorrow, he'll exchange flurries for partly cloudy skies and give us a high in the range of 27 to 35.

It's back to cloudy skies and snow again for Saturday, however.

Today in Pontiac and surrounding area, winds are variable at 6 to 12 miles an hour.

The low temperature recorded for the day was just 16. By 2 p.m. the mercury had scampered up to 34 in downtown Pontiac.

Court Action Shifts Spotlight to Montgomery

Negroes' Petition for Right-to-Protest Order Still to Be Considered

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) —Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. told a federal judge today he led a massive street march in Selma three days ago after a government spokesman assured him, "everything will be all right."

King testified in a hearing before U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., who had before him a petition by civil rights leaders for a right-to-march order.

The court action shifted the spotlight of Alabama's spreading Negro voter drive to the capital.

The stocky, slow-talking King, who led a march by 2,500 Negroes and white clergymen in Selma but turned back when faced by police, testified that he did not intend to defy an order of the judge.

★ ★ ★

Johnson had directed civil rights leaders to suspend their planned march from Selma to Montgomery until he could decide the legal issues.

QUESTIONED CLOSELY

King was questioned closely by the lean, sharp-featured judge.

King said he conferred at length with LeRoy Collins, director of the federal Community Relations Council, before starting Tuesday's march.

He testified that Collins first asked him to drop the march because of "an explosive situation."

★ ★ ★

He said he told Collins: "Instead of advising us not to march, he should urge the troopers not to be brutal. He sympathized with my position after we discussed it at length."

REJECTS MOTION

Earlier, Judge Johnson rejected a motion by Sheriff James G. Clark of Dallas County that Dr. King be held in contempt for leading the street march.

Attorneys for the sheriff asked Johnson to hold King in contempt for leading the march.

Johnson denied the motion.

"Any contempt or order to show cause is a matter between this court and the alleged contemptor," Johnson said in his clipped voice.

★ ★ ★

There were these other developments on the Alabama racial scene:

- Selma's public safety director, Wilson Baker, announced the arrest of three white men on charges of beating three white Unitarian ministers who came to Selma to participate in the civil rights drive.

Baker identified those arrested as Willam Stanley Hoggle, 36, R. B. Kelly, 30, and Elmer Cook, 41. Baker said a warrant has been issued for a fourth man.

- About 350 civil rights demonstrators slept in the streets of Selma in 40-degree weather in a vigil for one of the beaten ministers, the Rev. James Reeb, 38, of Boston,

320 Civic Leaders at C. of C. Banquet

Area business, industrial and civic leaders — 320 strong—gathered last night at the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake, for the annual Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce banquet.

T. Austin Saunders, president of General Telephone Co. of Michigan, was keynote speaker. He is also president of the State Chamber of Commerce.

New local chamber officers were introduced by the 1965 president, Charles F. Brown, district manager of Consumers Power Company.

Brown introduced Kenneth Miller, first vice president; William G. Dickinson, second vice president; Gaylord L. Herrington, secretary, and Harold Cousins, treasurer.

Outgoing chamber president T.B. Bloom, director of personnel, Pontiac Motor Division, was honored for his services during the past year. He received a portable television.

★ ★ ★

Bloom cited the projected Michigan Osteopathic College, slated to be built here, as the biggest accomplishment of 1964.

WILL FEEL BENEFITS

"We will feel the benefits before too long," promised Bloom.

Brown said the economic prospects are bright for 1965. He said all indicators point to increased activity and prosperity during the year.

★ ★ ★

Saunders, the keynote speaker, said that the face of Pontiac has changed and "it is obvious Pontiac is on the grow."

Saunders added that business and industrial leaders should become as effective and articulate in the political arena as they are in the market place. He said everyone respects those who have the courage to stand up for what they believe.

The state chamber president sounded a call for businessmen to be more active in public affairs, stating that economics and political action were simply two sides of the same coin.

NEW OFFICERS

The annual banquet marks the beginning of the reign of the chamber's new slate of officers.

★ ★ ★

Chamber manager Max T. Adams acted as toastmaster for the dinner. Also on the program was comedian Karrell Fox.

Water Level Rises in County

Three-Foot Increase Shown in Test Well

Reporting that recent precipitation brought water levels up in most areas of the state, the U.S. Geological Survey has singled out its Oakland County test well as recording one of the sharpest climbs in Michigan.

The well at the Cranbrook Institute of Science in Bloomfield Hills, which was near the record low level in January, has risen three feet, the survey reported.

The last measurement of the test well indicated that the water level was 14.9 feet below the ground surface. Location of the well is 788 feet above sea level.

This rise in the test well level reflects the general water level gain in Oakland County lakes.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the drain commission office said that lake levels presently are about the same as last year at this time. Just a few months ago the levels were down considerably.

LESS RAINFALL

Less rainfall than the normal annual accumulation of between 30 and 31 inches has contributed to the falling levels of the county's some 400 lakes since 1960.

★ ★ ★

Increased use of ground water has also caused a lowering of the underground water table which indirectly affects lake levels.

Auto Accidents Kill 3 in Area

Two Die as Car Hits Tree in White Lake

Three persons were killed in two Oakland County traffic accidents last night.

Dead are Wayne Bellent, 15, of 7490 Hatchery, Waterford Township; Randolph R. Rothrock, 24, of 1433 Del Monte, Wolverine Lake; and John F. Nevarez, 7, of 9160 Julia, White Lake Township.

Toll in '65 Highway Oakland 31 Last Year to Date 40

A single-car accident in White Lake Township took the lives of Rothrock and the Nevarez boy shortly after 10 p.m.

Rothrock, driver of the car which crashed into a tree beside Union Lake Road, was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

It took officers an hour and a half to remove the boy's body from the wreckage. John, the son of Mrs. Faith Nevarez, was dead at the scene.

LOST CONTROL

White Lake Township police said Rothrock apparently lost control of his northbound car when it dropped off the shoulder of the road.

The vehicle veered across the pavement and slammed into a tree, they said.

The accident occurred just north of Erin Drive.

★ ★ ★

Bellent, a student at John D. Pierce Junior High School, was killed in Waterford Township when struck by a car at 8:02 p.m. while riding his bike on Williams Lake Road north of M59.

RIDING SOUTH

Police said the boy was riding south when he was struck by a southbound car driven by Robert R. Paschke, 40, of 2132 Paulsen, Waterford Township.

Paschke told police he didn't see the boy, who was dressed in dark clothing.

Circumstances of the accident are still being investigated, according to police. Paschke was not held.

State Income, Outgo

LANSING (AP) — State Treasury income during the past week was $38 million and outgo was $39.7 million. The Treasury balance at the end of the week was $213.4 million.

City Officers Star in Capital

Pontiac Police Detective Thomas Mitchell and Sgt. John DePauw were a big attraction in East Lansing yesterday where they attended a meeting of law enforcers and bank officials.

As the Pontiac officers drove up Michigan Avenue they spotted a grocery store clerk chasing a man down the street.

The detectives joined the chase and captured Gary Bakos, 20, of Lansing as he attempted to hide under a car in a nearby car lot.

DuPauw also assisted two clerks in subduing a second man clerks said attempted to shoplift some items from the store.

According to Mitchell, Bakos admitted trying to write a bad check.

TURNED OVER

DePauw and Mitchell turned their suspects over to the Lansing police and went from the store to their meeting a few doors away.

The meeting is a monthly conference on how to spot bad checks and catch persons who write them.

DePauw and Mitchell were the hit of this month's meeting.

Rights Sit-In at White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — About a dozen civil rights advocates staged a sit-in demonstration in the White House today.

The demonstrators, whites and Negroes, entered the executive mansion with the regular flow of tourists and, once they got into the ground-floor hallway, sat on the floor and began chanting, "We shall not be moved."

Maj. Ralph Stover, chief of the White House police force, went to the scene and asked the demonstrators to leave. They made no move.

The demonstration — nothing like it ever happened before at the White House — began sometime before noon.

STILL ON FLOOR

At the noon hour, the people still were sitting on the corridor floor, adjacent to the diplomatic reception room and the White House library.

This is on the floor below the mansion's most familiar rooms — the East, Blue, Red and Green rooms, and the state dining room.

★ ★ ★

It was understood that President Johnson was in the mansion — not in his office — when the demonstration began.

At least one police patrol wagon was sent to the east wing of the White House after the sit-in began.

OPEN TO PUBLIC

White House tours, open to the public on a come-one-come-all basis, were ordered canceled after the demonstration began. Tourists attempting to enter the White House at 11:15 a.m. were told the mansion was closed.

The normal tour hours are from 10 a.m. until noon, except on Sundays and Monday.

Reporters asked permission to go to the scene of the demonstration, but Press Secretary George E. Reedy, after consulting with other officials, rejected the request.

The sit-in apparently began about an hour before reporters learned of it.

★ ★ ★

The President's living quarters are two floors directly above the corridor in which the demonstrators sat down. His office is several hundred yards away in the west wing of the White House, which is connected to the living portion of the mansion by a covered walkway.

In order to get from the living quarters to the office, the President normally would descend in a private elevator to the corridor in which the demonstrators were sitting.

Reds Pounded by U.S. Jets

B57 Lost in Secret Raid Against Cong

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Air Force jet bombers and fighter-bombers carried out secret bombing missions against the Communists today.

One B57 twin-jet was lost while dropping napalm on Viet Cong troops 390 miles northeast of Saigon in another attack.

South Vietnamese fighter-bombers and the B57s hit Communist targets inside South Viet Nam while a force of between 15 and 20 F100 fighter-bombers roared off from Da Nang to hit unannounced targets, believed to be Communist supply lines in Laos.

The pilot and copilot of the downed B57 apparently parachuted to safety but were not found.

★ ★ ★

It was the first B57 lost in action against the Communists. Five other B57 pilots on the same raid said there was no ground fire in the area.

FLARES DROPPED

Transport planes dropped parachute flares over the crash scene tonight to light up the scene for searchers.

Fighter-bombers and U.S. helicopters bristling with rockets and machineguns protected search parties which reached the wreckage.

Although today's was the first B57 lost in combat one crashed when they were sent to Viet Nam last August during the Tonkin crisis and several were damaged in a Communist mortar attack on Da Nang — where the F100s took off today on their mystery raid.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Air Force officials declined to disclose the target. Raids from Da Nang have been directed against Communist North Viet Nam, Communist supply routes in Laos, and Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam.

Vote on Health Plan Language

House OK Predicted in About Two Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee begins voting today on the language of a comprehensive health care bill for the aged. House passage in about two weeks is predicted.

★ ★ ★

The forecast of passage was made Wednesday by Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who said he hopes the committee can make its essential decisions by Friday.

★ ★ ★

This would permit House action during the week of March 22, Mills told members of the Senior Citizens Golden Ring Council.

Mills withheld details of the draft legislation but confirmed in general terms reports of a multifaceted bill on which a majority of the committee had agreed informally.

CONVINCED

"I am thoroughly convinced that what the committee will report in the next few days and the House will pass a few days thereafter will provide a more complete solution of the problems people face — not exclusively those over 65 — than any other program suggested to us," he said.

★ ★ ★

Mills said the draft bill includes the basic administration proposal, a hospitalization plan financed by a payroll tax, also an additional plan for further health expenses, an increase in the Social Security old-age payments, and a broadening of the existing state-federal programs for health care of indigent and low-income persons.

The reference to benefits for some under 65 apparently referred to this part of the package, which could include health care of dependent children.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson sent Wednesday's meeting a message that "the long debate is drawing to a close. There is going to be a program of health insurance for older people in this country."

World Travel Program to Feature Persia Riches

BIRMINGHAM — The rich treasures of ancient Persia as preserved in the modern state of Iran will be viewed by persons attending the world travel program at the Community House this week.

"Splendors of Modern Persia" is the color film to be narrated by Cliff Kamen at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday.

Persia was once the most powerful empire on earth. Today the country again is on the threshold of becoming a strategically important nation.

Kamen started his journey in modern Tehran, where he visited the University of Tehran and a wealthy Iranian family.

Moving along the Caspian Sea coast, he reached the Elburz Mountains and witnessed tribal life at the Russian border and operation of the caviar industry.

Historical references of both an artistic and cultural nature dot his film.

Preceding the film, the Community House will serve an authentic Persian dinner as well as an American bill of fare. Reservations for the 6 p.m. dinner are required by 5 p.m. today.

Alfred J. Peters, assistant superintendent of Utica Community Schools, has been appointed director of finance for the Birmingham School System.

Peters, whose appointment will take effect April 12, replaces Lloyd Van Buskirk Jr., who resigned to become director of campus planning for Oakland Community College.

Assistant superintendent for business administration in Utica, Peters has worked there four years. He had taught in Grosse Pointe public schools and been superintendent of the kindergarten through eighth grade for the Chesterfield Township School District.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Peters received his master's degree and an advanced certificate from Wayne State University.

Stage Protests in Michigan

By The Associated Press

Four hundred persons marched in Ann Arbor Wednesday, expressing a prayerful reaction to violence surrounding the racial demonstrations at Selma, Ala.

In Kalamazoo, Mayor Raymond Hightower led 50 persons in a sympathy march. Demonstrators carried placards and sang a civil rights theme song, "We Shall Overcome."

★ ★ ★

At Pontiac, some 40 Oakland University students demonstrated in front of the city's federal building Wednesday to protest the treatment of Negroes in Selma.

Ann Arbor Mayor Cecil O. Creal and other city officials walked four blocks with the procession to the Washtenaw County Building where Protestant, Catholic and Jewish clergymen joined in a "litany of grace and race."

ASKS SUPPORT

Speaking before an audience of University of Michigan students, secretary Lafayette Surney of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, called for help and moral support of the Selma demonstrators.

He spoke in place of SNCC national chairman John Lewis who was severely beaten in Sunday's march in Selma.

GOP Is Drafting Bill to Match Rights Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders move today toward translating into legislation their call for federal action to assure Negroes the right to register and vote.

The new Republican coordinating committee said in its initial statement yesterday it was outraged at the denial "by force and fraud" of Negro voting rights.

It set a goal of assuring every citizen his constitutional rights in this field before the 1966 elections.

The coordinating group is composed of congressional leaders, governors, former presidential candidates and national committee members.

★ ★ ★

It announced its support for President Johnson's course in South Viet Nam.

DISRUPTIVE VOICES

It denounced Democratic "disruptive voices of appeasement," which it said, "undercut the President."

But it added: "Our task force on foreign policy shall have as one of its major objectives the examination of some of the most massive failures in foreign policy in recent American history."

The committee went on to cite the consolidation of the Communist beachhead in Cuba, the expansion of Communist influence and control in Africa and the Near East, the deterioration of the Atlantic alliance."

★ ★ ★

A task force on human rights also is to be named but Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen and House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan indicated they think the GOP civil rights position will be established firmly before it can get into operation.

PROPOSED DRAFTS

Dirksen said in an interview he expects to meet with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to go over proposed drafts of voting rights legislation.

He forecast introduction of a Republican bill by next Tuesday.

Ford said a House task force expects to reach agreement on a bill soon, working with Dirksen on its terms.

Although former Vice President Richard M. Nixon told a news conference yesterday the Johnson administration "has dragged its feet on voting rights legislation," Dirksen said he could not agree.

Noting that he was trying to cooperate with the administration in this field, Dirksen said: "I'd rather not throw stones."

The GOP leaders had some varying ideas about whether their stand in favor of federal voting rights legislation would bring Negroes back into the party fold and how it would be received by Southern Republicans.

"One statement of policy is not going to change the party's image," Nixon said.

★ ★ ★

"It will be the party's course of action that counts. Republicans must be interested in the Negro not because of his vote but because of concern for his problems."

who lay near death in a Birmingham hospital.

It was the first nighttime demonstration in Selma in the almost eight weeks since the right to vote campaign began in this rich farm soil area known as the Black Belt.

The vigil grew out of a night march which along with an earlier one was halted by Mayor Joe Smitherman and State Police.

● A cold rain brought an abrupt end to a demonstration in Montgomery by about 125 civil rights marchers before the capitol building.

Earlier, about 1,000 demonstrators tried to get into the capitol to see Wallace, but were kept out by police.

A homemade fire bomb was thrown onto a Negro house but was extinguished with little damage.

OUT ON BOND

Baker said Hoggle and Cook were released from city jail on bond of $7,500 each on charges of assault with intent to murder.

They were taken immediately into custody by FBI agents on federal warrants charging conspiracy to violate the ministers' civil rights.

Taken before U.S. Commissioner Marian House for an after-midnight arraignment, the men again were released, but this time on $5,000 bonds.

Agree on Return to Free Press After Stoppage

DETROIT (AP) — The morning Detroit Free Press, blaming a dispute with a pressmen's union, failed to publish today's editions.

However, following negotiations during the night, the pressmen agreed to return to their jobs on schedule today and tonight. A spokesman said the grievance will be the subject of further discussions with Free Press management.

The stoppage involved the firing of a pressman Tuesday night by Free Press management for what the newspaper termed "neglect of duty." Two grievance sessions and urging by Pressmen's Local 13 President Freeman Frazee for the men to return to their jobs failed to end the dispute Wednesday.

Queen Ends Her Boycott of Duchess

LONDON (AP) — After 29 years, Queen Elizabeth II is ending the British royal boycott of the Duchess of Windsor.

★ ★ ★

As the duke — her uncle — lay ill in London with the sight of one eye in danger, the queen let it be known she intends to visit him and meet the American-born divorcee for whom he gave up the British throne in 1936.

No previous meeting between the queen and the duchess is on record. The general belief in London is that they have never met.

The queen intended the meeting to take place today. But the duke, lying immobile and with his eyes bandaged after his fourth major operation in three months, was said by his physicians to be too ill to receive visitors.

The queen is expected to visit her uncle when his doctors decide he is well enough.

"This is not a casual meeting," said a spokesman for Buckingham Palace. "It has been arranged that when the queen goes to visit the duke, the duchess will be with him."

VISIT BRITAIN

Over the years the duke and duchess have lived mostly in France and the United States but customarily have visited Britain before Christmas each year.

★ ★ ★

On these visits the duke usually called on members of his family, but the duchess never was received by them. Some newspapers, notably the Daily Express, frequently urged that their exile should end and their last years be spent in Britain.

The queen's intention to meet the duchess made the main headlines in most London newspapers.

Pep Pill Bill Moves Toward Enactment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Legislation to clamp stiff federal controls on "pep pills" and "goof balls" — the stimulant, depressant and hallucinatory drugs blamed for juvenile crime —appeared today to be headed toward speedy enactment.

The bill was approved yesterday by the House on a 420 to 0 vote. In the Senate, a move was being made to bring it to the floor without the usual committee hearings.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., sponsor of the Senate version of the measure, said hearings may not be necessary because a similar measure was approved unanimously by the Senate last year.

Yesterday's House action came after a number of congressmen told of the effects the prescription drugs had on young persons who obtained them illegally.

★ ★ ★

One incident involved a girl who wandered the streets almost nude after a pep pill and whisky party. Another told of a Harvard student who thought he was only 6 inches tall for 24 hours after taking a hallucinatory drug.

CLOSE WATCH

Sponsored by Rep. Oren F. Harris, D-Ark., the House-passed proposal would set up regulatory machinery to keep a close watch on the drugs from the time they are manufactured until they reach the consumer. It also would provide stiffer penalties for pill bootleggers.

President Johnson urged in his special crime message to Congress this week that controls be tightened on the drugs.

He said they had been responsible for many senseless crimes by teen-agers who had taken them in search of thrills.

★ ★ ★

Before finally approving their bill yesterday, representatives adopted two changes not provided in the Dodd bill.

One would insure that the measure would not invalidate any state laws regarding the drugs. The other would raise the juvenile age definition from 18 to 21 years to aid enforcement of college campuses.

Art Critic Succumbs

LONDON (AP) — Eric Newton, 71,, distinguished art critic and historian, died Wednesday. Newton was art critic of the Manchester Guardian and of the Sunday Times.

There are about 100 volcanoes in the area of Iceland.

Say Moon Eroded by Meteoroids

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force reports that a continuous barrage of meteoroids from space apparently is eroding away the moon and slowly adding to the weight of the earth.

"Scientists see no cause for alarm on either count, however," the Air Force Office of Aerospace Research said in a news release.

★ ★ ★

"Even at the present rate of 'shrinkage' — up to 600 tons a day — it would take some 40,000 billion years for the moon to lose just one-tenth of its present mass."

By comparison, the earth is adding only about 10,000 pounds of meteoroid weight a day.

HIGH-VELOCITY

Even so, the Air Force research agency said it is concerned about high-velocity meteoroids and wants to determine exactly how they affect the earth and the moon.

A study of the meteoroidal impact rate on the moon was headed by Capt. Vern G. Smalley of the Cambridge Research Laboratories, Bedford, Mass.

★ ★ ★

The agency said the study shows that for every ton of meteoroid swept up by the moon as it orbits the earth, up to four tons of lunar topsoil are blasted back into space by the high-speed impacts.

"Using these figures and some reasonable assumptions, Air Force researchers can now estimate the volume of meteoroids slamming into the earth," the research agency said.

EARTH ABSORBS

The study group has concluded that the earth absorbs about four times as many impacts as the moon, at an average velocity.

"While results of the impacts differ on the two bodies because of atmosphere and gravity variations, it is likely that more debris escapes from the nonatmospheric moon than from the earth," they said.

★ ★ ★

"Consequently, while the moon loses much material through hailing meteoroids, the earth — with its strong magnetic gravity — retains much of the wayward material striking it."

State Fugitive Captured Quietly in Idaho Cafe

OSBURN, Idaho (AP) — The second of two fugitives from a Michigan State Prison farm was captured quietly in a cafe here Wednesday.

William Lincoln, 28, watched in the cafe from across the street while officers searched a stolen truck he had been driving, then offered no resistance when arrested. Lincoln was not armed and admitted his identity.

★ ★ ★

Lincoln and Robert McClain, 42, used a knife to overpower a guard at the Camp Porcupine, Mich., prison farm March 2 and escaped in the guard's pickup truck.

McClain was captured by two policemen in a Spokane, Wash., tavern Monday night.

Growing Problem of Alcohol and Youth Discussed by Panel of Pontiac Teen-Agers

By DON PEMBER

There are nearly 75 million persons under 20 years old in America today. In 50 years it is estimated there will be nearly three times that many.

★ ★ ★

As the number of young persons multiply in this country, so do their problems. Or so they say.

Currently, a relatively large number of young people have taken to picking up a bottle to put down their problems.

This week, during a panel discussion sponsored by the Citizens Committee on Youth and the Pontiac Committee on Alcoholism, seven local high school students told an audience of civic, church and youth leaders that teen-age drinking in Pontiac is a harsh reality.

★ ★ ★

George Cardonis, executive director of the Citizens Committee on Youth, moderated the discussion.

WANT TO DRINK

"Teen-agers drink because they want to drink—and they enjoy it," one student said.

Another said high school students drink because of pressure from their peers (other students who drink) or because of tensions in their lives.

Still another said the young people wanted to try something new, that they had been sold a bill of goods by advertising.

★ ★ ★

One of the seven panel members, who were all student leaders in their respective schools, said he personally knew of a home where the parents bought and served liquor and beer at parties for high school students.

SALE PROHIBITED

Michigan, and nearly all the states in this country, prohibit the sale of liquor or beer to persons under 21 years of age.

Today this law seems to present little opposition to a minor intent on making a purchase.

Panel members described how students pick up adult hitchhikers and ask them to buy beer.

Another panel member said six boys told her that all they had to do was walk into a store and ask for what they wanted—they were seldom turned down.

FAVOR LAW

The students on the panel agreed that the drinking law was a good one. No one favored lowering the drinking age to 18.

However, they did feel that the law was not being enforced to the full extent and this was a big problem.

The mobility which teen-agers enjoy today by having their own cars at an early age has given the youths more freedom—and more privacy.

★ ★ ★

The automobile has become a "traveling tavern" for teen-agers; a "breeding ground for alcoholism," according to panel members.

TRUNK STORAGE

Youths not only drink in cars, they use locked trunks as storage space for beer and whisky, they said.

Although the panel members were quite certain that drinking was real and was a problem, they were less sure what to do about it.

They blamed their parents and adults in general for their complacency, but they blamed themselves, too.

They said that many students were being fooled by "pseudo imagery" passed on by peers, grown-ups and the communication media—primarily through advertising.

TEENS TRICKED

Panel members indicated that many teen-agers were being tricked into believing it was "in" to drink, and "out" to abstain.

Students see drinking at adult parties, on television and in the movies, or among peer groups.

"What is right; what is wrong? This is just more confusion in what is already an age of confusion for persons my age," one youth said.

Pontiac schools do conduct a program on the dangers of consumption of alcoholic beverages. Panel members thought that this was helpful and should be continued.

ONLY SO FAR

Although the teen-agers said they want help in curbing the drinking problem, they indicated that they would be willing to go only so far.

The question was asked, "If you saw a fellow student buying beer in a store, would you tell on him?"

To this query, most panel members replied no.

"Anyone who tells would be looked down upon. Nobody wants to be a squealer," one student replied.

SQUARE WORLD

Today we no longer live in what moderator Cardonis called a "square world."

Teen-agers complain of having "an insecure feeling as to what is right and what is wrong."

★ ★ ★

And herein lies the confusion of the adolescent age and perhaps the crux of the problem—for both teen-agers and adults.

ARE CONTACT LENSES SAFE?

Three years of diligent research have produced a new antiseptic contact lens which has tested out to be chemically safe, according to Kindy Optical Company, 13 N. Saginaw St.

The safety features of the new lens have been confirmed by a leading Midwestern Medical School and a nationally recognized research laboratory. Tests prove that the new lens arrests the growth of germs, thereby preventing or retarding possible infections caused by carelessness of the wearer or by dust particles.

Although all contact lenses are considered safe with proper fitting and proper wearing habits, Kindy presents the additional safety margin of the new lens.

Autocratic Governor a Disgrace to Alabama

During the past few days the Country has witnessed the revolting spectacle of a body of Americans being denied rights of citizenship and subjected to police brutality in the process. But even surpassing it is the alarming display of dictatorial power and defiance of constitutional law exercised by the chief executive of a state.

WALLACE

The racial violence that centered in Selma, Ala., is but another episode in the script of hate and bigotry authored by Gov. GEORGE WALLACE.

★ ★ ★

In this latest phase of southern Negroes' program of implementation of civil rights guarantees — equal prerogative of voter registration — Wallace was from the start foredoomed to defeat.

The so-called Louisiana registration rule—by which Alabama election officials exercised discriminatory power in registering voters — was declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court. Moreover, it is almost certain that a federal court in a hearing scheduled for today will vacate an original injunction forbidding the Negroes the right to march in protest against obstruction of their attempts to register.

★ ★ ★

In pursuing his course of blind defiance of the moral and legal tide rising on behalf of ethnic equality, WALLACE's voice is becoming more and more a solitary one crying out in the wilderness of racial intolerance and persecution.

The governor can, however, point to one achievement of considerable consequence. He has succeeded in rallying a significant part of America against him.

One-House Legislature Reflected in New Light

Since the year-old U.S. Supreme Court decree that both houses of state legislatures be apportioned on the "one-man, one-vote" basis, Nebraska's one-house (unicameral) legislature has been eyed with new and increased interest by students of government.

The Cornhusker legislature, initiated in 1937, is the only one of its kind in the country. Conceived in 1934 by then-Sen. GEORGE W. NORRIS, it is a nonpartisan body of 49 members. Before it went into effect, the State's two-house body had 133 lawmakers.

★ ★ ★

Among many advantages cited by proponents of the one-house concept are:

- Lower costs, as a result of fewer legislators on the payroll and reduction in related costs.
- Avoidance of duplicated effort, with bills going through only one house instead of two.
- The smaller size of the body gives voters a better choice and results in a generally higher-caliber legislature.

Why hasn't the streamlined legislature caught on so far?

Well, one good reason is that no legislator wants to legislate himself out of a job. Another is that neither Republican nor Democratic organizations like its nonpartisan feature.

★ ★ ★

But significantly, an initiative effort to restore partisanship through a constitutional amendment last year failed for lack of petitionary signatures.

A 1961 survey of 68 present and former legislators turned up only four who favored a return to the two-house system.

Nebraska Gov. Frank Morrison's epitome of the functional superiority of the one-house legislature over the two is: "Why run the milk through the separator twice?"

★ ★ ★

It could well be that the Supreme Court's usurpation of the States' right of self-apportionment may lead indirectly to an unenvisioned legislative revolution.

Alabama Picture Is Getting Fuzzy

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — It's a mixed-up picture now in Alabama, legally, philosophically and even strategically.

The longer the struggle by Dr. Martin L. King Jr. and other Negro leaders to break down Alabama's barriers to voting, the more complex it gets.

MARLOW

In Alabama, where Negroes are kept from voting about as thoroughly as anywhere, King and his aides have been demonstrating to get more Negroes registered. Then he hit on a spectacular idea.

He would lead a 50-mile march of Negroes from Selma to the Alabama capital, Montgomery, to petition Gov. George C. Wallace to remove obstacles to Negro voting.

Sunday, Wallace ordered the state police to use whatever means necessary to stop them. The police used tear gas and billy clubs, beating many of the marchers and injuring about 40. In all this, three problems were mixed up.

★ ★ ★

The 50-mile march would take at least three days. With about 450 marchers on the highway, traffic would become a shambles. Wallace has a responsibility to see that motorists can use the highways.

A GUARANTEED RIGHT

But under the Constitution's first amendment, citizens have a guaranteed right to "peaceably assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

Question: Which comes first, the right of motorists to use the highway or the Negroes to assemble peacefully on the highway and use it for their journey with their petition?

On Tuesday, Federal Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. issued an order against resuming the march. President Johnson wanted King to obey it.

★ ★ ★

Instead, King, who repeatedly has relied on the federal government and the federal courts in his civil rights battle, decided to defy the court order and ignore the President's wishes. He called for a new march and led it.

DIDN'T GO FAR

It didn't go far. Wallace's state troopers this time without beatings, ordered King and his followers to turn back. They did. But King called this "the greatest demonstration for freedom, the greatest confrontation we ever had in the South."

But what it accomplished, if anything, isn't clear. King said the short march had to be made as a matter of conscience to "stand up to the troopers."

★ ★ ★

King, who wants court orders enforced against segregationists, was asked about his defiance of the court order against his march. He said, "it doesn't mean we have lost confidence in federal courts." But he also called the injunction unjust.

David Lawrence Says:

Some 'Rights' Abuses Ignored

WASHINGTON — "Civil rights" is today a much misunderstood, if not abused, phrase.

There is a furor currently about literacy tests and other obstacles being placed in the way of Negroes who wish to exercise their constitutional right to vote. But there is no public debate on whether persons, either white or colored, should be allowed to sell their votes to the highest bidder.

LAWRENCE

Yet it is well known that all sorts of bribes and material considerations are being offered in political campaigns in order to get votes. Scandals occur not only in local elections but in federal elections.

Another abuse of "civil rights" is in the field of religion. The First Amendment to the Constitution says that no law shall be passed which in any way prohibits "the free exercise" of religion by a citizen.

★ ★ ★

Only this week, the Supreme Court of the United States ruled that a person can be excused from military service as a conscientious objector even when his religious belief against participation in war is unorthodox.

NEWS REPORT

But a few days earlier there was a news report which says, in effect, that a man who objects on religious grounds to joining a labor union can be dismissed from his job upon the demand of the union representing other employes in the same plant.

Three men, members of the Christadelphian faith, cited Corinthians II, 6:14 as the reason for not joining a union.

The Supreme Court has ruled that compulsory unionization can be carried on by agreement between the employer and the majority of the employes of a company, and that this is based upon the commerce clause of the Constitution.

★ ★ ★

The court, however, has also ruled that compulsory membership in a union must not impair freedom of expression.

AGAINST WILL

This was decided in 1961, when the high court held that the authorization of a union shop by railroad workers does not permit the union — against the will of an employe — to use a member's dues to support political causes which he opposes, and that to do so violates the First Amendment.

The court has not yet had a case requiring it to rule on whether religious beliefs are on a par with political beliefs in labor-union practices.

Many states have felt that it was necessary to pass "right to work" laws forbidding compulsory unionization, and 19 states have such laws on their books today. But the labor unions have always conducted a crusade against this legislation.

The existing federal statute permits any state to forbid compulsory unionization.

IN POSITION

All states which do not prohibit it are in the position of accepting compulsory unionization, because federal law allowing the practice has been upheld by the Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

Now, however, labor unions are demanding that the provision of the federal statute which allows the states discretionary power shall be repealed, and that no state in the union shall be permitted to pass any law prohibiting compulsory unionization. President Johnson has recommended such a step to Congress.

★ ★ ★

So the clock is moving toward more and more compulsion to join a union and the abolition of the "civil rights" of the individual so far as his right to work is concerned.

Bob Considine Says:

Viet War No Exception in Inhibition Department

HONOLULU — There are inhibitions in just about every war. The war in Viet Nam is no exception, one learns at military "briefings" here.

For the present, we will not use napalm against targets in North Viet Nam. But we will use it against enemy pockets in South Viet Nam.

CONSIDINE

There is, of course, no desire to use tactical or any other kind of nuclear weapons in either place. The enemy operates confidently, as a result.

The question of just which kind of weapon does him in for eternity, must be depressingly academic to the victim of the ultimate thrust.

This is a thought that has gnawed at me since I was a kid around Washington at the time of the big naval conference there in 1923 when the prime debate was whether our battleships and those of our friends and potential enemies should carry 14-inch guns or 16-inch guns.

DIDN'T MATTER

The projectiles each of these guns could lob for 15 or 20 miles each weighed about as much as the shanties we lived in, in the Swampoodle section of the capital. It didn't seem to matter much which size conked us. As long as we were conked.

The succumbing soul in Viet Nam, north or south, could hardly wish to (or have much time to) do much soul-searching over the relative emotions of being launched into eternity by an H-bomb or a 32-caliber bullet.

In the early portions of the war in Viet Nam there were such weapons as nails standing upright in wooden blocks along grass trails, sharply whittled-down bamboo shoots sunk in portions of rice paddies bordering on the "strategic hamlets."

★ ★ ★

Now the weapons the enemy use are fairly sophisticated Chinese arms. There will be more lethal sophistication as time goes on. And less nicety.

COULD CHANGE

The Viet Cong could destroy many commercial installations in South Viet Nam which now go unharmed because their owners bribe them, pay for "protection" that could change.

We could knock out North Viet Nam totally, but do not. That could change, too.

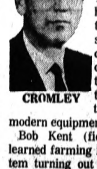

But, for the time, we play it by the book. And so do they.

Jobs Vacant as Many Seek Work

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Tom Tibbins (fictitious name) was trained in printing in the public schools and sent to a job.

CROMLEY

The print shop needed a man badly. But it couldn't use Tom because he'd been trained on obsolescent machines. The owners couldn't take the chance that he'd ruin their expensive modern equipment.

Bob Kent (fictitious name) learned farming in a school system turning out 12,000 farmers annually in a state which can use but 1,000 new farmers a year.

This state, probably no better or worse than most, is producing 2,500 technicians, craftsmen and machine operatives a year in its apprentice and classroom programs. The estimated need is 10,000 annually in manufacturing alone.

XYZ Garage (fictitious name) says a good chunk of its repair shop time is occupied redoing jobs done poorly in its own shop by insufficiently trained mechanics.

★ ★ ★

The unhappy garage owner would help supply teachers if schools in his city would put in up-to-date training courses on engines, transmissions and other repair skills.

These examples illustrate three problems in the drive to cut poverty through job training for the unemployed.

★ ★ ★

Many young people are now being trained inadequately, frequently on obsolescent equipment and often for the wrong jobs.

So jobs are going begging while unemployment stays high.

★ ★ ★

Some American furniture manufacturers are turning to Europe for skilled help. An auto mechanics union official in one major city reports his local can't supply enough body and fender men.

★ ★ ★

In another large city, 320 designers, draftsmen and commercial artists are needed a year; local public and private schools turn out less than 100. In one city and another there are cries for nurserymen, dental technicians, typewriter repairmen, cartographers, plumbers and a host of other craftsmen.

Says one business machine agency man, "I'd give an arm and a leg for a good adding machine repairman. I wouldn't care if he were 63."

But these are odds-and-ends of information.

Private research groups have turned up evidence the government is rushing into its training-to-cure-unemployment-and-poverty program without knowing what's needed.

Officials have little information on what job openings there are or what skills they require. (Government data may include only three out of 100 openings in a particular field in a city.) There's little data on what jobs will be opening up.

So officials have no clear picture of what to train the unemployed for, what skills to train them in or what machines to train them on for the jobs they do know about.

Yet some private schools, by keeping in close touch with the business market, are able to guarantee a job to every graduate. There's a lesson here somewhere.

Michigan Needs Tax Cut Rather Than Increase

Our Nation is on a direct collision course with disaster which will stem from the action by lawmakers to extract more money from taxpayers to nourish the fast-growing monster "government."

★ ★ ★

When reward for daily work is chiseled away by the ever-increasing burden of taxation, incentive is lost and the stage is set for attack by socialism.

★ ★ ★

My desire is that taxation on sales, income, real estate, etc., be drastically reduced, not constantly increased as Romney plans for our State. The wealth of the State is rapidly increasing through industries and population growth. This should be sufficient.

'Hard to Explain Death of Child's Puppy'

Last week my son's poodle puppy was killed on Dundee Drive. The driver of the car later stated she was aware of the dog in the street and honked the horn twice, but did not stop to let it get out of her way.

What reason could anyone have for not even stopping after the accident to let us know our dog had been killed? This was hard to explain to my four-year-old son.

MRS. JAMES H. CURD

'Why Can't Michigan Have Dog Racing?'

I don't think it should be up to the churches to decide whether Michigan should have dog racing or if whisky should be sold on Sunday. Beer and wine are available and whisky can be consumed in the home on Sunday.

Other states have dog racing and bingo, but not Michigan because of the gambling. They tax you for everything, but anything that offers enjoyment, Michigan can't have even though the State would get a large portion of it.

INTERESTED IN KNOWING WHY

'Support Statewide Tax Reform Package'

I would like to point out a fallacy in the thinking of those who justify the taxing of nonresidents because "they use our streets, water, sewers, lights, police and fire protection and so forth, when they come to Pontiac." If a Pontiac resident wishes to go to one of the neighboring townships or villages should he expect, because he is benefiting from the facilities and services of another community, to pay a special tax? If a person wishes to travel through a number of communities, should he pay a small fee in each?

★ ★ ★

Instead of supporting such a program, let's support a system of statewide tax reform which would have a lower cost collection rate and be equitable to all people. This should encourage business by eliminating the business activities tax and reducing the corporation franchise tax. It should reduce property taxes (much more than three mills), especially on retired peoples' homes, and cut the sales tax rate or take the sales tax off food and medicine. The tax cuts would, if we are to provide the same level of services per capita, have to be offset by some other tax.

★ ★ ★

I urge you to support a statewide corporate and personal income tax. Write your state representative, senator and governor and let him know that you will stand behind him if he supports a statewide tax reform package.

BLUE? — There's no change in expression — usually blue — in this basset hound by Walter Chandoha. An exhibition of Chandoha's outstanding animal photos will be a feature of the International Photographic Exposition in New York's Coliseum from May 1 to 9.

New Film Is Due in May

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Jottings from a photo columnist's notebook:

A complete change is coming in the 8mm movie system according to an announcement from Kodak.

The company is introducing a Super 8mm film format early in May. It will give approximately 50 per cent more projection image area than present 8mm movie film.

New cameras and new projectors will also be introduced to go with the new film format because the change entails a different placement of the sprocket holes.

★ ★ ★

An improved Kodachrome II film will be the first film to make its appearance in the new Super 8 format. It will be supplied in 50-foot lengths, 8mm in width, in easy-load cartridges.

NO STOPS

This means that movie makers will no longer shoot 25 feet of film then stop to reload or reverse the roll of film.

Kodak also announces a major change in flashbulb recommendation to simplify flash shooting by amateur photographers.

Use blue flashbulbs, it says, with Kodacolor-X film and all other Kodak still camera films not intended for professional use or specifically balanced for tungsten light.

★ ★ ★

There is no change in any of the film emulsions. The speed of Kodacolor-X remains at ASA 64, daylight. However there will be a change in the way color prints are made.

This change in color printing still permits the use of electronic flash indoors without a filter.

Other news on the home movie front:

For those readers who feel they've accomplished something outstanding in amateur filming and who are looking for an expanded audience: enter your efforts in the "Movie on a Shoestring" annual film festival.

★ ★ ★

There are no prizes but certificates of merit are awarded to those whose films are accepted.

FILM FESTIVAL

"Movies on a Shoestring" has become an international amateur film festival since it was started six years ago in Rochester, N. Y.

Deadline for film entries is April 20. Entry forms from: F. R. Reinking, 436 Seneca Parkway, Rochester, N. Y. 14613.

On the viewing front, there are two items:

★ ★ ★

1. The editors of Popular Photography magazine have come out with a hi-fi record of background music and sound effects particularly suited for home movie films and slide shows.

SOUND FOR PICTURES

Entitled "Sound for a Picture Evening," it contains 40 minutes of selections suitable for film openings and closings, other popular picture subjects and a series of realistic sound effects.

2. In the 8mm home movie field, fans may now have the inspirational story of Winston Churchill for their own film library. The film is entitled "Finest Hours."

County Poison Center Is Proving Useful

Oakland County's only Poison Information and Control Center handles an average of 33 new poison cases per week.

The center is located at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and its director is Dr. Robert J. Mason, 618 N. Woodward, Birmingham.

Established in 1957, the poison center responded to 1,728 emergencies last year, mostly children under the age of five years.

The 3,000-member Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association has renewed its campaign on poison control, designating March 14-20 as National Poison Prevention Week.

The county's poison center treated 540 individuals including 59 cases involving persons who took poison deliberately.

However, 97 per cent of the poisonings were accidental with very young children the usual victims.

Headache pills and cold tablets are the most common agents taken by children.

Youngsters have been known to sample nearly every type of household substance, no matter how bad tasting or noxious.

Adults sometimes consume poison through mistaking the contents of containers or failing to read the label.

SIMILAR LABELS

Poisonous and nonpoisonous preparations can be purchased in identical containers with similar labels.

St. Joseph's poison center is on call 24 hours a day.

Fastidiously - maintained files provide information for treatment of any of thousands of possible poisons.

University Officials Get Support

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The resignations of University of California President Clark Kerr and Martin Meyerson, acting chancellor of the Berkeley campus, rallied support today for the top administrators of the restless college community.

Kerr, 53, head of the university's nine campuses, indicated Wednesday he had taken the "dramatic step" in response to recent "obscenity" rallies that he said perverted freedom into "license for hard-core pornography."

The rallies on campus have been outdoor sessions in which a handful of students shouted obscene phrases and four-letter words and displayed obscene words on placards.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said, "The four-letter word was the last word in causing the resignations." But neither administrator has given a clear explanation of his action.

The emergency executive committee of Berkeley's academic senate, a faculty group, said Tuesday night the administrators' resignations came at a time when the campus was "establishing sound and workable policies in the area of political expression."

"We are convinced," the statement added, "President Kerr and Chancellor Meyerson should be asked to continue in office."

★ ★ ★

The students' legislative body unanimously urged Meyerson to stay on and by a 13-6 vote asked the same of Kerr.

CIRCULATE PETITIONS

At UCLA the student legislative council urged Kerr to remain on the job and individual students began circulating petitions to the same end.

Bonn Won't Recognize Israel Due to Demands—Tunisia Chief

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia said today he had information that West Germany would not recognize Israel because Bonn "is not ready to accept Israel's conditions."

Bourguiba said Israel demanded a resumption of arms shipments to Israel and postponement of the effective date of the statute of limitations on Nazi war murderers.

The Tunisian president, speaking at a news conference, did not reveal the source of his information and gave no further details.

"Israel has set too many conditions for the establishment of diplomatic relations with West Germany," Bourguiba said, "and, thank God, I have received information that Germany will not accept these conditions."

★ ★ ★

A report from Jerusalem yesterday said the Israeli government is ready to open full relations with West Germany if arrangements can be made to supply it the $16 million worth of arms the Bonn government withheld.

The report made no mention of the statute of limitations on Nazi war murderes, which takes effect on May 8.

The Bundestag, the lower house of the West German Parliament, debated extension of the deadline yesterday, and a majority emerged in favor of the extension. The Bundestag's legal committee now is to try to find a legal way to accomplish it.

West Germany brushed aside a threat by President Gamal Abdel Nasser to cripple West German trade if the Bonn government establishes diplomatic relations with Israel.

Nasser said in a speech yesterday that "30 per cent of West Germany's trade is with the Arab world and if we boycott her economically we will deprive her of 30 per cent of her trade."

A spokesman for the West German economics ministry replied that his country's trade with the Arab countries in 1964 amounted to less than 4 per cent of its total imports and exports.

Communist Cheers Turn to Jeers

Florence, Italy has a new mayor today and if the face is familiar there's a reason: Lelio Lagorio is the man who was elected Feb. 15, resigned March 3 and was elected again last night.

With a record like that, Lagorio clearly was the favorite for the job. Only his backing had changed. That and the adjectives the Communists used for him.

When the Communists were backing Lagorio, a Socialist, last month, they spoke of him as "the people's choice" and a "true Democratic representative."

Last night, the Communists made such a din he had to forego his speech as they screamed words like "Judas," "traitor," "buffoon" and "Fascist."

System of Rescuing Downed Pilots Perfected Between Korea, Viet Wars

(EDITOR'S NOTE—George McArthur, now the AP bureau chief in Manila, had for his first overseas assignment coverage of the Korean War. Now he is assigned temporarily to the Saigon staff to help cover the Vietnamese hostilities. In the following story, he makes some comparisons based on his experience.)

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

BIEN HOA Airbase, South Viet Nam (AP) — A dozen years ago on Korea's bloody mountains the rescue of a downed pilot was frequently a chaotic spectacle.

While the fallen flier's mates shot up the area with whatever hardware was available, a lumbering helicopter groped its way to the scene. With luck, it snatched the pilot away — if he was still alive and if he could be located.

* * *

Frequently the mission failed. The technique was new and few chopper crews were experienced. But the hope of rescue was an unrivaled morale-booster for combat pilots.

In the intervening years, the Air Force has brought the technique to almost amazing perfection. It is paying off handsomely in Viet Nam, where fliers have little faith in the uncertain mercy of the Communist Viet Cong.

RECENT RAIDS

During recent American and South Vietnamese air raids on the Communist North, the air-sea rescue teams gave a daring display of their new versatility.

Of six pilots shot down, five were snatched to safety in a matter of hours — three from the sea and two from the ground.

* * *

Finding the downed pilot no longer is a hit or miss question. Fliers are equipped with small homing radios. Unless the radio is shot or the pilot badly hurt, the system can bring the rescue men in almost unerringly.

The twin-rotor "Husky" helicopters used for rescue missions are armored against small-arms fire and packed with specialized equipment. One valuable item is a cable-hoist that can descend 217 feet and lift 600 pounds. It has proved itself already in Viet Nam's deep jungles, though the ride up is not recommended for the weak-hearted.

VALUABLE EQUIPMENT

The really valuable equipment is the manpower inside the Husky.

The crew chief and paramedic who ride the rescue cabin have perhaps more hard technical training than any such pint-sized military force in history.

In addition to normal flight training, marksmanship and such, the paramedic is a trained parachute jumper, a field medic, an underwater scuba expert and an expert in jungle survival. Along with the crew chief he also is a trained fire fighter — handling the 1,000-pound fire fighting pod, dangling beneath the chopper, which can spew forth a special foam powerful enough to quench a white hot fire.

* * *

"We can have these missions in the air in less than two minutes," says Maj. Archie R. Taylor of Phoenix, Ariz., and Orlando, Fla., commander of Detachment 4, Pacific Air Rescue Center, at Bien Hoa airbase.

The planes at Da Nang get most of the tricky missions.

Lt. Kemp Roedema of Garfield, N.J., is a case in point. The Skyriader pilot was shot down only 20 miles north of Saigon at about 9:30 one morning. He was back on the base at noon, having survived a brush with Viet Cong guerrillas almost within touching distance as he was snatched to safety.

* * *

"It beats walking," he beamed. "I wouldn't have wanted to be that paramedic who came down to get me."

The Husky crews also have two other missions which are less dashing but equally dangerous.

DO ANYTHING

"We will do almost anything to bring out the bodies of guys who crash out there," says Capt. John Boyles, DeLand, Fla., a father of four with 10 years experience as a helicopter pilot. "We also go out to destroy downed planes, particularly the guns."

The Communist Viet Cong are quick to pounce on downed aircraft and strip them of their machine guns or cannons.

4 Are Hurt as Copter Is Downed

DA NANG, Viet Nam (AP)— A U. S. Marine Corps helicopter crashed and burned today 30 miles south of Da Nang, injuring four crewmen aboard.

Details were lacking, but it was presumed Viet Cong gunfire downed the craft.

The chopper, from a company which had been in Viet Nam several weeks, was believed on a supply mission to Vietnamese troops operating against the Communists in a valley south of Da Nang.

A Marine officer said three of the injured men were taken to the field hospital at Nha Trang and the fourth was brought here for treatment. The latter's injuries were said to be less serious.

★ ★ ★

Viet Cong guerrillas last night lobbed a grenade or mortar shell into a Vietnamese position about eight miles northwest of the strategic Da Nang air base. One Vietnamese soldier was killed and two were wounded.

THREE MILES

The action took place about three miles from the northwest outer perimeter of the defense zone set up by U. S. Marines who landed this week to protect the air base.

In Saigon, the South Vietnamese interior ministry released the names of 385 persons it said had signed a recent resolution sponsored by a so-called "peace movement committee."

The names were published following a cabinet decision to curb the activities of such committees, which it termed pro-Communist movements to misguide and deceive the public.

★ ★ ★

The government said it would deport a number of persons involved to North Viet Nam.

HAS IMPROVED

A ranking U.S. military spokesman said he feels the military situation throughout South Viet Nam has improved considerably in the past few weeks, particularly in mountainous Binh Dinh province.

The Viet Cong had taken over most of the province in a series of large-scale actions, and Vietnamese and American military men considered the area critical.

"The situation in the hamlets may still be insecure up there," the spokesman said. "But from a military standpoint, there has been enormous improvement, largely because we have committed half of our general reserve to the province."

★ ★ ★

The Mekong Delta, south of Saigon, has been quiet for weeks after intense Viet Cong activity earlier in the winter.

"We haven't seen a hard core Viet Cong in weeks," said a U. S. Navy adviser attached to a fleet of Vietnamese gunboats.

MOVE NORTH

Some intelligence reports indicate the Red battalions have moved north to join in the Communist attempt to cut the country in two, from the Cambodian frontier to the South China Sea.

Other military men in the area believe the guerrillas are waiting until the rainy season next month makes conditions better for guerrilla warfare.

Weeks Of Back Pain Now Relieved

"After weeks of pain in my back and hips, I tried DeWitt's Pills—got wonderful relief," says Mrs. R. Gardner, Waterloo, Iowa.

People write in every day praising the remarkable relief they get with DeWitt's Pills.

DeWitt's Pills act fast with a proven analgesic to relieve pain of backache. Their mild diuretic action helps to eliminate retained fluids and flush out irritating bladder wastes that can cause physical distress. If pain persists, see your doctor. DeWitt's Pills often succeed where others fail—quickly relieve minor muscle aches and pains, too. Insist on the genuine DeWitt's Pills.

Over 14 million DeWitt's Pills are sold by druggists day after day after day, the world over—a tribute to their amazing action!

6,000 Marines Leave to Replace Troops Sent to Viet

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — A 6,000-man Marine brigade boarded ships Wednesday night, reportedly bound for Okinawa to replace 3,500 Marines sent to South Viet Nam early this week.

"The Marines are moving," said a spokesman for Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, Pacific military commander. There was no other official comment in Hawaii on the troop movement.

The 1st Marine Brigade members were moved from Hawaii's Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station to Pearl Harbor by truck convoy last month.

Original plans were for the Marines to take part in Operation Silver Lance, the military training maneuver off the California Coast.

But the first units of the brigade boarded ships Wednesday night for Okinawa, not California. About 1,000 brigade members are staying behind in Hawaii.

A report from Washington said the brigade includes helicopter units also bound for Okinawa, the main American military staging area in the Far Pacific.

It was not known whether the Hawaii brigade would send a battaliin to reinforce the Navy's 7th Fleet in the Pacific. The fleet lost its amphibious battalion when its men were ordered to Viet Nam with the other 3rd Marine Division troops that landed at Da Nang.

A Marine landing battalion is customarily attached to the 7th Fleet for quick action in emergencies.

The Hawaii brigade is reportedly carrying heavy gear — howitzers, mortars and tanks — to Okinawa. But Washington sources reported that the brigade's jet fighter planes would probably be left behind in Hawaii.

ONE COLOR

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

If You Itch, Be Sure to Scratch Properly

Itching is a type of pain that afflicts everyone at times and some people a great deal of the time.

It is said that Napoleon itched so much that at a critical moment of one battle he turned over the command to a subordinate, withdrew from the scene, took off all his clothes and rolled on a straw-covered floor while orderlies scratched his skin until it bled.

Even then he kept shouting at them to scratch harder.

Obviously, this is not the best way to treat an itching skin. Dr. Samuel Ayres Jr. of Los Angeles says that scratching is an art, and he recommends that everyone learn the proper technique.

★ ★ ★

You must first learn to differentiate between the point of maximum itching and the itchy skin that surrounds it.

INSECT BITE

The point of maximum intensity may be caused by an insect bite, an allergy (hives) or some other irritant.

If you scratch yourself at this point you release certain chemicals in the tissues that aggravate your problem, so you must learn to leave the central point alone and rub the surrounding area gently with your hand.

Even better results can be achieved by brushing this area with a medium-hard brush. I save my discarded toothbrushes for this and other purposes.

★ ★ ★

Scratching even with the best of techniques, however, gives only temporary relief.

GREAT VARIETY

A great variety of preparations are now available to soothe itching that threatens to drive you crazy. Some of these (water-dispersable bath oil and guanethidine) I have mentioned in the past. One of the newer preparations is betamethasone.

In a feverish effort to find new products, however, we often neglect such tried-and-true standbys as calamine lotion with phenol which is obtainable at your nearest pharmacy without a doctor's prescription.

Q—I get a rash every time I eat tomatoes. Is there anything I can take to prevent this?

A—If you are allergic to tomatoes the best treatment is to eliminate them from your diet. This means pizza, vegetable soup, ketchups and all other items that contain tomatoes in any form.

LBJ Inviting 50 Governors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is sending out invitations to the nation's 50 governors to meet with President Johnson March 22-23, it was learned yesterday.

Press secretary George E. Reedy said, however, "I have nothing on it yet."

★ ★ ★

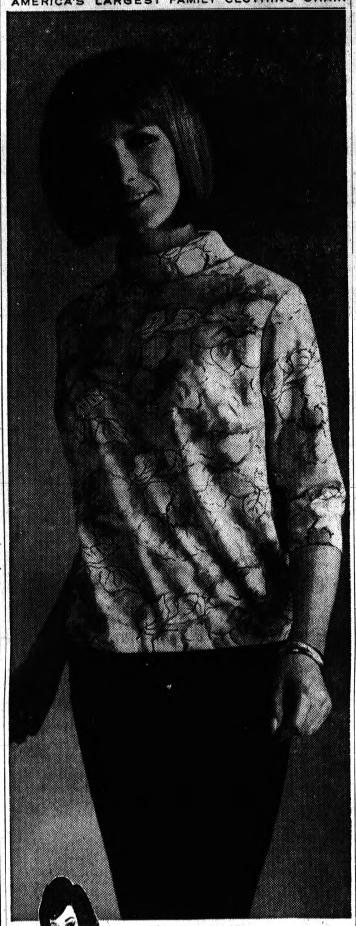

The White House normally does not announce dates for such meetings until after acceptances have come in.

Johnson said, on March 4, that he planned very shortly to have the governors come to Washington to talk to them about various problems.

The problems to be discussed, Johnson said, include those of the cities, transportation, pollution, crime, civil rights, how to maintain the economy at a high level, and international relations.

Bank Merger in NY Violated Trust Laws

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that the 1961 merger that made Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. of New York the nation's fourth largest bank violated antitrust laws.

District Judge Lloyd F. MacMahon in a ruling late Wednesday gave the bank and the Justice Department 10 days to submit proposals leading to what, in effect, would be a reversal of the merger of the former Manufacturers' Trust Co. and the Hanover Bank.

★ ★ ★

The order opened the door to a complex legal problem new this year to banking and law.

Only one similar ruling has been issued. That was by the Supreme Court in April involving the First Security National Bank and Trust Co., Lexington, Ky. Implementation of the ruling in that case is still pending.

In the Manufacturers Hanover case MacMahon ruled that "the merger of Manufacturers and Hanover is a combination in restraint of trade in commercial banking in the New York metropolitan area and in the United States, in violation of section one of the Sherman Antitrust Act."

A PROBABILITY

"There is reasonable probability that the merger may substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in commercial banking," he wrote.

At the end of 1964 Manufacturers Hanover had assets of $6.971 billion and deposits of $6.04 billion. The only larger institutions were the Bank of America, San Francisco, and New York's Chase Manhattan and First National City Banks.

★ ★ ★

Manufacturers Trust and Hanover merged Sept. 8, 1961, two days after the Federal Reserve Board of Governors approved. The Justice Department filed suit the same day to prevent the merger.

MacMahon said approval by the Federal Reserve of the merger "is not final and conclusive determination of its legality."

ARGUE METHODS

A U.S. district judge in Lexington March 18 will hear argument on methods to be used in demerging the two Lexington institutions that merged in 1961 — the First National Bank and Trust and the Security Trust Co.

In New York, Manufacturers Hanover said it would continue as it has pending a final court determination and declined additional comment.

★ ★ ★

Since 1961 the merged New York bank has grown substantially in all areas. The growth presents a problem in apportionment of increased assets in a demerger or division of branches. Manufacturers Hanover now has 136 branches, compared to 130 in 1961.

SEPARATION ENDS — Mrs. Betty Greer of Hamilton, Ohio, and her son, Pfc. Arnold Anderson, clutched each other in a tight embrace at the Cincinnati airport last night after not having seen each other since the son was a baby. They didn't know each other's whereabouts until recently when a letter by Arnold to Middletown, Ohio, police located Mrs. Greer. Arnold, who is home on leave from Korea, was taken by his father during divorce proceedings.

LBJ Chatty, Serious on Job Corps Tour

TURMONT, Md. (AP)—Probably no commanding officer has inspected an enlisted man's barracks the way President Johnson swept through the nation's Job Corps camp.

He wandered in and out of buildings, observed some physical training routines, poked into the mess hall to drink coffee with the boys, and bounced up and down on a dormitory bed.

★ ★ ★ ★

Hand outthrust, his tone chitchaty, the President asked for names, for home towns, inquired into progress and often played it for laughs.

"Any of you-all takin' photography? Plenty of jobs should be open," he remarked to riotous laughter as cameras recorded eagerly his coffee-drinking session.

SERIOUS STANCE

But the chief executive also struck a serious stance Wednesday, telling one youth after another: "A lot depends on how you fellows make out. If you make a good job of it, the Congress will go along and make a lot of training available to other fellows."

The Job Corps camp, six miles up the Catoctin Mountains from here, is the first of 77 proposed conservation centers in 33 states. It is not far from Camp David, a rustic retreat used by every president since Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Johnson drew on his own experiences — drifting from job to job until he decided to enroll in college — when he grabbed one young man by the arm, marched him along by his side, and proferred some paternal advice.

★ ★ ★

"Write home because when I was in California as a boy, my mother was always after me to write," he said.

To James Blackmon, 19, a New Haven, Conn., youth who is learning how to drive heavy equipment, the President said: "If you get onto that good, you'll have to come down home and help me do some bulldozin'."

Blackmon, a big fellow who sports a pearl in the pierced lobe of his right ear, beamed and replied: "Don't worry, I'll take care of you."

Report on Spending by Newspapers

NEW YORK (AP) — Daily newspapers in the United States and Canada spent $108 million last year to modernize and expand plants and plan to spend another $121 million this year, the American Newspaper Publishers Association reports.

The association's annual survey of daily newspaper capital investments was released Wednesday. It showed that 739 U.S. dailies invested $98,558,928 in plant expansions in 1964 while 31 publications spent $10,059,685 in Canada.

★ ★ ★

The report said 711 newspapers, including dailies in the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and the Vest Indies, have plans to spend $121 million this year.

Sierra Leone Solons Given Year in Jail

FREETON, Sierra Leone (AP) — Four opposition members of parliament were sentenced to a year in jail today on charges of riotous assembly and damage to property during an election campaign.

★ ★ ★

Defense attorneys filed notice they would appeal to the privy council. But meanwhile the four forfeited their seats in parliament. The four men, all members of the All Peoples' Congress, are S. I. Koroma, Bangali Mansaray, A. B. Janneh and M. F. Turay. Koroma is also an alderman in Freetown.

'Burger-Eating King Can't Match Brother

FALLS CITY, Neb. (UPI) — Phil Leafty, 25, reigned today as the hamburger-eating champion of Falls City, but you should see his brother.

Leafty downed 17 king-sized hamburgers, garnished with pickle and catsup, in 90 minutes. "If my brother, Leland, was in town, I'd never have come up," Leafty said. "He's really a big eater."

Author a Veteran Inmate

Prison Play Came Firsthand

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Lots of college freshmen try their hands at play writing, but few can write a one-act drama about prison life from personal experience.

Lester Franklin can.

At 29, he has spent half his life behind bars, first as a truant sent to reform school, then as a burglar and most recently as a parole violator

His play, "The Promise," was begun in prison. It will be presented for the first time tonight by his fellow students at Towson State College.

Wednesday night the stocky, full-bearded Franklin talked about the play and himself.

In prison, he said, "there is constant conflict among the inmates. Many of them are wrapped up in their own petty concerns. The tension is unbelievable.

"You can never fully express yourself, either to the prison administration, or to your fellow inmates.

"Inmates don't reveal their honest feelings even to their own buddies because most of them have a tremendous sense of inadequacy and put on an act of some kind to compensate for it.

★ ★ ★

"But it's the tension — and the waiting — that I try to show in 'The Promise.' Everyone in prison is waiting for something, and they're not always sure just what it is.

"We are all bored to death and everything we do is a reaction to this boredom."

Franklin says he started the play last year partly to overcome the boredom and partly to indulge a passion for writing.

He showed the play to Robert Levin, a Towson State drama instructor who gives a weekly course at the State Penitentiary. Levin in turn showed it to Dr. C. Richard Gillespie, head of the Towson drama department. Gillespie wanted to produce it.

Out of this exchange came Franklin's application to enroll at the college. The self-taught prisoner — he had only seven years of formal education — scored in the 98th percentile on his entrance exams. Only 2 per cent of those taking the test scored higher.

He was released from the penitentiary last December and started school in February.

Franklin says the old life has gone.

"When your aim is just to take something from life, you evade the real question of living. You try to fill up your life with every extraneous bit of trash you can find."

Bowman Raps 'Darling of White Suburbia' Tag

LANSING (UPI) — The State Sentate's clash with the Michigan Civil Rights Commission rang anew yesterday when Sen. John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, angrily blasted a newspaper editorial which branded him the "darling of white suburbia."

★ ★ ★

Bowman is chairman of the Senate Business Committee which last week brought up the question of whether the year-old commission "is educating the people in the field of civil rights or it if is functioning as a quasi-Gestapo group concerned mainly with entrapment."

Bowman said the statement, posed as a question during an interview of Commissioner Kenneth Robinson, "has been blown way out of proportion."

However, he did admit to asking Robinson if any questionable methods of testing public accommodations in the field were being used.

★ ★ ★

The Civil Rights Commission, since the incident, defended itself as an educational and conciliatory body.

The Roseville Democrat, 11 years in the legislature, spoke loudly against the editorial inferences that he was trying to maintain "an image as the darling of white suburbia."

In a 10 minute speech, Bowman said, "The inference is that every suburbanite is a racist. My district is not all white — I represent both white and colored.

"John Bowman will stand on his record of civil rights in the last 11 years," he said.

"I voted for the first fair employment practice commission bill when it passed the House in 1955. I was cosponsor of a civil rights bill five years ago.

"This thing has gotten to the point where a member of the Senate can't in good faith question a member of a commission. . ."

State agencies are not, Bowman said, "so sanctimonious or pure that we can't ask them if something is true."

Bowman said he supports the motives and goals of the commission in Michigan, "but I may not agree quite seriously with bad methods if they are using them."

At the committee meeting, Bowman questioned Robinson on whether he had heard of the commission sending racially mixed couples to "test" public accommodations section of the civil rights law, which it is charged with enforcing.

The commission subsequently denied the practice.

Jury Deciding Fate of Former Illinois Chief

CHICAGO (UPI) — A federal court jury resumes deliberations today on whether former Gov. William G. Stratton is guilty of evading payment of income tax.

The jury of six men and six women must decide the fate of the one-time "Golden Boy" of Illinois Republican politics who is charged with failing to pay more than $46,000 in income taxes. They deliberated five hours last night without reaching a verdict.

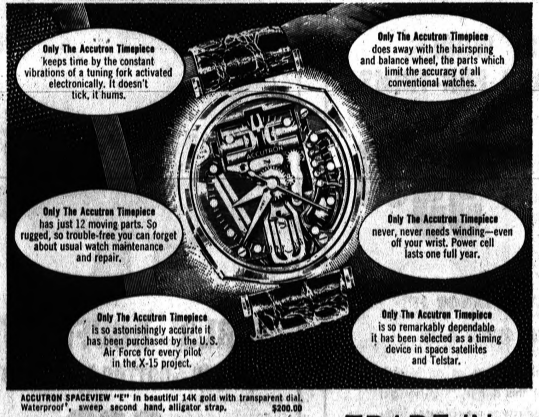

Some jurors went home for the night after they failed to agree on a verdict by 10 p.m. Both the defense and the prosecution had agreed they would not insist upon the jury being quarantined.

U. S. District Court Judge Hubert L. Will gave the case to the jury at 4:13 p.m. yesterday after closing arguments on both sides were completed quickly. A 45-minute lunch period was the only break in the deliberations.

Stratton was charged with evading payment of $46,676 in taxes from 1956 through 1960, during his second and last four-year period.

If convicted on all four counts of the indictment, Stratton would face a possible maximum penalty of 20 years imprisonment and a $40,000 fine.

'Capitalist' No Longer Nasty Word in Economically Hurt India

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's finance minister stood in Parliament recently, said a few kind words about capitalists and quietly resumed his seat without drawing much more than murmured protests from the leftist opposition.

Not long ago, his words would have been heresy — on both sides of the aisle — and his political career would have burned at the stake.

★ ★ ★

But nothing happened, for it no longer is political suicide in socialistic India to say a kind word or two about Indian and foreign capitalists. In fact, both are being wooed in these days of economic crisis.

The leading wooer is the finance minister, T. T. Krishnamachari, 66, a self-made millionaire businessman generally recognized as one of the soundest economic planners in India today.

WILD ABANDON

Compared with other Indian politicians, "TTK," as he is called, praises capitalism with wild abandon.

"We have recognized for a long time," he told Parliament, "that private foreign investment has a role to play not only as an essential supplement to assistance from friendly foreign governments and international institutions but also as a catalyst for the development of technical skills and enterprise among our own people."

TTK didn't stop there.

★ ★ ★

"Our general policies," he said, "whether in regard to taxation, industrial licensing or price controls, must be consistent with our desire to harness every possible source of dynamism and enterprise, whether domestic or foreign, public or private, to the task of rapid economic growth."

Indian capitalists are being given tax concessions and other incentives in hopes they will invigorate India's lagging economy. The foreigner is being welcomed, along with his dollars, pounds, francs or marks.

OBJECTIVE

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told Parliament March 3 that socialism is still the objective of his government, but he made it clear how important he feels it is to step up industrial production through all available means.

India in the future, he said, will permit foreign investors under some circumstances to hold majority control in some Indian enterprises they finance. This is a concession never before given foreign capitalists.

To many Indians, "capitalism" is a nasty word, one that conjures up images of greedy men who would steal milk from babies to make a profit. Indian capitalists, the honest as well as the dishonest, have long labored under this image.

★ ★ ★

But increasingly, capitalists and what they can do to help build a modern society are getting good marks.

What appears to be developing is an awareness that the present mixed economy of heavily protected state-owned industries and restricted private business is not living up to expectations.

MORE STRAINED

The Indian economy is increasingly strained to keep up with the population increase of 2.5 per cent or more annually, and the nation's treasury has only a slim reserve of foreign exchange left.

The governing Congress party, however, is a strong barrier to any rapid change.

★ ★ ★

An entire generation of Congress leaders, personified by the leftist former defense minister, V. K. Krishna Menon, became strongly enamored with socialism decades ago. To them, socialism is the key to a brighter tomorrow for India's masses.

Solons Seek Larger Scholarship Fund

LANSING (AP)—Two Detroit-area Democrats want the legislature to appropriate $2.5 million to provide college scholarships next year for as many as 5,000 graduating high school seniors.

★ ★ ★

"As a result of last year's inadequate appropriation, only 1,277 scholarships were awarded and 2,100 applications from students who demonstrated high academic ability and financial need went unfulfilled," said Rep. Thomas White, D-Detroit.

Last year's appropriation was $500,000 and Gov. George Romney's budget recommends doubling that to $1 million this year.

Teens Rebelling Against Slow Rights Progress

By REX THOMAS

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and other adult civil rights leaders are finding it increasingly hard to control the restless teen-agers in their ranks.

It has been apparent in recent days in Selma that many of the Negro students who have joined in right-to-vote demonstrations were becoming dissatisfied with the progress of the struggle.

★ ★ ★

There were muttered complaints from spokesmen from the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee after King had led about 2,000 Negroes across the Alabama River bridge on the road to Montgomery and then turned back quietly after state troopers had halted them.

★ ★ ★

There was little doubt that a compromise had been worked out by federal mediators and that the players in the civil rights drama had stuck closely to the script.

TRIED HARDER

Students thought King should have tried harder to push on past the waiting lines of heavily armed troopers and made little effort to disguise their discontent.

They kept it in the family for a time, but Wednesday the simmering animosity broke through the surface, and student leaders began talking about it publicly.

The once-subdued protests grew still louder after another attempted march, to the courthouse in Selma, ended in a peaceful encounter with state troopers and city police only a few yards from the church where it began.

Hundreds of impatient youngsters determined to put on a demonstration at the courthouse made a break for the opposite end of the street near the church. Fast-moving troopers cut them off while white and Negro clergymen linked arms together to form a wall between the surging teen-agers and the state police.

NOT THE WAY

"We are not supposed to act like this," cried adult leaders. "Go back to the church. This is no way to do things. It will only cause trouble."

The youths retreated, but when members of King's staff invited them to speak their grievances later at a mass meeting at the church they grabbed at the chance.

★ ★ ★

Charles Mauldin, 17, spoke first. He told the cheering students and the restrained adult listeners massed inside the church that "whether you like it or not, the movement is dying down because we've been stopped too often. It is time we moved. Tomorrow don't do."

"We've got to face the posse (Sheriff James G. Clark's force of special deputies) no matter what happens," Mauldin continued. "And there's no use waiting."

Some of the teen-agers talked of trying to force their way through the human barricade of helmeted deputies and state troopers, but no one actually tried that.

The Rev. L. L. Anderson, a leader in the Dallas County Voters League, an affiliate of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, sought to quiet the student uprising.

★ ★ ★

Another young Negro concurred in Mauldin's expression of discontent. That brought the Rev. Andrew Young to the lectern with the admonition that "this is not the way to achieve our purpose." Young is one of King's top lieutenants.

From time to time some of the more militant students have sneered at King behind his back or challenged newsmen who suggested that the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner was the unquestioned leader of the civil rights campaign.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday's rebellion subsided, momentarily at least, after King agreed to a new kind of demonstration — confronting the troopers and sheriff's deputies in an all-night vigil in the street. The teen-agers loved it.

March on Washington Eyed

Protests Over Selma Held Across U.S.

News Analysis

NEW YORK (AP) — More protest demonstrations were held in cities across the nation over the situation in Selma, Ala., with increasing demands for federal intervention.

As thousands marched in sympathy with the drive by Alabama Negroes for voting rights, governors, senators and church groups spoke out yesterday.

There were demands for stronger law enforcement protection, in the wake of the attack in Selma on three white ministers.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, threatened a massive march on Washington.

★ ★ ★

The march will be organized, Farmer said, unless President Johnson endorses new voting rights legislation and sends federal officers into Alabama by Sunday to arrest "civil rights violators."

NOT FORCEFUL ENOUGH

Soon after returning from Selma, Farmer told a New York news conference: "I am certainly charging that President Johnson has not been forceful enough."

The latest demonstrations were held in San Francisco, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Cambridge, Mass.; Madison, Wis.; Buffalo, N.Y.; Joliet, Ill., and in front of the White House.

The National Council of Churches called a meeting for tomorrow of religious leaders from across the country. The gathering will be at the Lutheran Church of the Reformation in Washington.

★ ★ ★

Demonstrations at the Federal Building in Los Angeles resulted in 98 arrests, including 29 persons who were charged with obstruction of U.S. mail after they lay down in front of mail trucks and were forcibly removed. The building was closed early.

NOT THE WAY

Leslie N. Shaw, postmaster of Los Angeles, criticized the demonstrations.

★ ★ ★

"I don't think this proves a point," he said. "We ought to stop the brutality in Alabama, but this isn't the way to do it. You hurt the cause this way by violating the law."

★ ★ ★

Harry Bridges, West Coast Longshoremen's union leader, told 1,500 persons at a San Francisco rally that his 65,000 union members would "refuse to handle any goods or merchandise from Alabama . . . until the rights of all the people of Alabama are recognized and fully protected."

Mother's Tears Greet Man Thought Dead

'Dead Man' Welcomed Home

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—His loved ones and his friends today were welcoming Bobby Martin home, as it were, from the dead.

They had come to bury him.

But when the body arrived here yesterday from Louisiana, a friend of Bobby's who works in a funeral home saw it was not Bobby Wade Martin Jr., 22.

Bobby was supposed to have been shot to death in a store burglary in Tallulah, La.

★ ★ ★

The friend called Bobby's dad and he called Bobby at his job in Houston, Tex.

INCREDIBLE MOMENTS

Neither remembers exactly what was said in those incredible moments on the phone. The best they recall, part of it went like this:

"Is it you?" Martin Sr. asked when he heard the familiar voice. "It it you?"

"Y-yes sir."

"You don't know anything about what's going on here, do you?"

"No."

★ ★ ★

When his father told him the story, Bobby said he decided to quit his job and head home "as soon as I hung up the phone."

STOLEN ITEMS

Bobby's wallet and some of his clothes had been stolen from him several weeks earlier. His wallet was found on the shooting victim, later identified as an 18-year-old Houston youth.

Last night, Bobby got a VIP's welcome home at Woodrum Airport here. A crowd of about 100—mostly relatives and friends—pressed against a chain as his plane came in.

They cheered and the kids screamed.

★ ★ ★

His mother, grandmother, sister and a cousin were all crying as Bobby came down the ramp wearing a black and red sweater, a white shirt and a black tie.

HARD TO BELIEVE

They seemed unable to believe he was alive.

They had mourned him for two days. His parents said at first they couldn't believe he was dead, then they couldn't believe he was alive.

"We did everything but open the grave," his mother said.

Relatives from several states who were coming for the funeral are now coming for what will be a joyful family reunion.

Bobby's brother, Billy Wayne Martin, is coming home on emergency leave from his station with the Air Force in Scotland.

Farm Income Is Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average net income per Michigan farm was $2,583, up 15 per cent over 1963, government figures showed Wednesday.

On Canceled, Refused Policies

Urges Car Insurance Firms File Reports

LANSING (AP) — Automobile insurance companies should be required to report their cancellations and refusals to renew policies, State Insurance Commissioner Allen Mayerson said yesterday.

The State Insurance Department also proposes to "prohibit companies from asking the insured, on the application for insurance, whether or not his coverage has been declined or canceled, or whether renewal has been refused by another insurance company," Mayerson said in a report to Gov. George Romney.

★ ★ ★

These were among a list of recommendations based on findings of a Feb. 16-17 hearing on auto insurance in Detroit.

The second proposal, Mayerson said, will force the companies to check the records and base their decision to insure or not on facts rather than on "the judgment of another underwriter."

NEWS CONFERENCE

Mayerson said in a news conference that the prohibition could be carried out by an administrative order from his department.

He said investigation showed that "few, if any, companies cancel or refuse renewal solely because of age" — despite a large number of complaints that persons over 65 cannot renew their insurance.

★ ★ ★

The combination of advancing age and a worsening driving record, however, indicates to an insurance company that the insured may be heading for an accident, and makes them cautious, he said.

"We will continue to watch this problem, and the companies were made conscious of concern in this area at the hearing," he said.

Mayerson sided with several Michigan insurers against Secretary of State James Hare on the best method of protecting innocent drivers from uninsured motorists.

Hare is pushing a bill now in the legislature to set up an unsatisfied judgment fund to protect other drivers in extreme losses caused by uninsured, indigent motorists.

Election Fever Grips France

New Law Heats Up Municipal Votes

PARIS (AP) — Election fever again is gripping France after a two-year truce on partisan political activity. Balloting starts Sunday for new members of municipal councils, but already the politicians are looking forward to the presidential vote in December, and possible new legislative elections next year.

The municipal elections have stirred up more activity and more animosity than at any time in 20 years.

* * *

One reason is a new electoral law instituted by President Charles de Gaulle's government in the hope it would help to beat down the old multiparty system in favor of a simplified two-party alignment. The first result has been even more confusion than ever.

The battle of Socialist Gaston Defferre to hold his job as mayor of Marseille also has put spice into the normally humdrum municipal elections. Defferre has publicly announced he will be a candidate for president in December.

NEW LAW

The new electoral law and the Defferre struggle are parts of the determined effort by De Gaulle and his political lieutenants to gain complete control of the nation's political machinery.

The Gaullists, through the Union for the New Republic party, got control of the National Assembly in the 1962 legislative elections. They need help from a small bloc of independent Republicans for an absolute majority, but this alliance has been solid.

* * *

The municipal councils have been under the control of the old-line parties. De Gaulle despises the old parties and their leaders, and one of his aims is to crush them.

The municipal elections will be held in two rounds, as is customary in France, this Sunday and the next. Any list of candidates getting a majority in the first round is elected. If no list gets a first-round majority, a plurality is enough to win on the second round.

FIRST ROUND

In the past, each party usually presented its list in the first round. Then, deals were made for the weakest groups to withdraw before the second round. In many cases lists were merged before the second round.

But the government put through a new election law for larger cities which forbids any changes in the lists between the two rounds.

* * *

The result of the new law has been to force the parties to do their political horse-trading before the voting starts.

Land Charge Summary Is Near for Guard Generals

LANSING (AP) — After a three-week recess in Gov. George Romney's National Guard hearings, attorneys planned to finish presenting the first of three charges against two suspended generals today.

Romney heard 16 hours of testimony in three days in mid-February. Then he recessed the hearings because of commitments of his own and because of a military duty assignment of one of the defense attorneys.

Testimony thus far has been on a charge that Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald and Brig Gen. Carson Neifert failed to give the State Military Board details on land transactions which accusers contend were illegal.

The two other charges involve bookkeeping procedures which, the charges say, concealed the true nature of some expenditures.

'GROSS NEGLECT'

In each case, the two generals are accused of "gross neglect of duty, misfeasance and malfeasance."

Assistant Atty. Gen. Russell Searl said he would complete his case on the Camp Grayling land transactions by calling Robert Hovey, a state agency auditor, and John Alef, president of the Grayling State Bank, to the stand.

Then, Searl said, he plans to call disbursing officers from five or six armories to testify on the second charge.

He contends supplemental allowances to some armories actually were used for capital construction at Camp Grayling.

The hearings were to move today to a larger room than the 45-seat chamber in which they opened.

The size of the room was the subject of repated objections by McDonald's attorney, Thomas McAllister.

As the hearings recessed in February, McAllister also complained that the generals had not been paid since Oct. 8, when they first were relieved of duty.

"In a federal court-martial, a soldier gets his pay until the day he is hung," he said.

During the recess, though, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled that the two generals were entitled to pay from Oct. 8 to Nov. 6 but cannot be paid for time after that until their cases are decided.

Romney dismissed the generals Oct. 8, but, advised by Kelley that he did not have this power, reinstated them Nov. 6. They immediately were suspended by Maj. Gen. Cecil Simmons, chief of staff of the state military establishment.

Simmons and Beamon J. Potter, director of the State Audit division, signed the charges against the generals.

* * *

Kelley said that for the period after Nov. 6, regulations concerning military pay during court-martial proceedings are not applicable because Romney's hearings are civil proceedings.

In previous sessions, Romney showed a sharp interest in a 1958 advisory letter from an assistant attorney general, informing McDonald that transactions similar to the Camp Grayling deals were not authorized.

The governor himself took over questioning of some witnesses to develop information on what attention was paid to the letter in the quartermaster general's office.

Boy Blamed in Fire That Killed 2 Girls

NEW YORK (UPI)—An 11-year-old boy was blamed today for setting off a Brooklyn apartment house fire last night that took the lives of two little girls and injured their brother and sister.

A fire department spokesman said Robert Lucas, a tenant on the first floor, became angry when sent on an errand.

He tossed a lighted book of matches under an old couch in the hallway and the flames quickly spread.

The four victims were trapped in their third-floor apartment in Brooklyn's Bushwick section. Two other children in the family and the mother escaped unhurt.

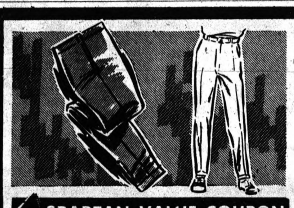

Lucas was charged as a juvenile delinquent.

The dead were Cathelean Billups, 6, and her sister, Deborah, 3. Arlene, 8, suffered smoke inhalation and Robert, 10, minor burns.

Bill to Put Limits on Credit Checkups

LANSING (AP) — A bill designed to protect people from the financial mistakes of their youth was introduced in the House Wednesday.

Rep. Vincent Petitpren, D-Wayne, introduced a bill to make it unlawful for a credit bureau to report the credit rating of an individual or business more than five years in the past.

Drug Reaction Killed Ex-Con

Police Say Snowball Didn't Cause Death

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Walter Lee Yow, who claimed he was caught up in a huge student snowball fight near the University of Tennessee campus Feb. 1, died from abnormal reaction to drugs given him for a head injury, according to an autopsy released here.

Police said they have definitely established that Yow, 55-year-old ex-convict from Albemarle, N.C., was definitely not hit by a snowball in the campus area at or near the time a university freshman was shot to death.

Yow died just outside the office of a local doctor to whom he had gone for treatment after telling police he was struck in the ear by a snowball while going to the aid of a trucker who shot the student after the trucker was pelted with snowballs.

Dr. Ira S. Pierce, Knox County coroner, said the report showed that Yow was suffering from coronary artery disease, degenerative liver disease, pulmonary emphysema, chronic kidney disease and an asthmatic condition.

★ ★ ★

Pierce said Yow's death "was due to a hyper-reactive state." He said this meant the "patient reacted abnormally to the drugs due to these many diseases."

NO EXPLANATION

There was no explanation of how Yow received the head injury for which he was treated.

Police said Yow came to Knoxville from Chattanooga by bus on the day of the snowball fight and spent the night in the Salvation Army here.

"We have definitely established that Yow was not hit by a snowball in the U-T area at or near the time of the shooting," city Homicide Captain Robert Lane said.

Heart Attack Fatal

'SUB-PLANE' CONSIDERED — This drawing by the Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. shows how a proposed combination seaplane-submarine would appear underwater. The company has a Navy contract to study the feasibility of such a craft. The craft would be submerged by flooding wing, tail and hull compartments. It would travel 5 miles per hour underwater, powered by batteries or fuel cells. Flight engines would be sealed underwater.

Malaysia-Indonesia Peace Bid Fails

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The Malaysian foreign ministry announced today that quiet efforts by Thailand to bring Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman and Indonesian President Sukarno to the conference table have fallen through.

★ ★ ★

"No plausible reason has been given," the ministry said, "and so it can only be assumed that Indonesia is not prepared to stop her acts of aggression against Malaysia."

★ ★ ★

Singapore police continued their investigation of the explosion in a nine-story commercial building Wednesday in which two women were killed and 35 other persons injured. The police said they believed Indonesian saboteurs planted a 25-pound charge on a staircase in the building.

LONDON (AP) — A government housing committee said today about 190,000 London families are in urgent need of new and better living quarters.

★ ★ ★

The committee set up by the previous Conservative government told of one case in which 85 persons live in a building originally constructed as six apartments. Nearly every room was occupied by a family.

The three-month survey said most landlords "treat their tenants with complete fairness and propriety."

But it told of landlords who bullied tenants into leaving by putting snakes in the bathroom, itching powder in bedding and dead rats on the floor.

The government is studying the recommendations.

Junior Editors Quiz on ABACUS

QUESTION: How does an abacus work?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: An abacus is a device for adding and subtracting numbers. It was used in the old days of Greece and Rome and still is the companion of the Chinese bookkeeper.

There are several kinds: the one we show is composed of buttons strung on wires. Each button below the bar at the extreme right represents 1.

The button above the bar stands for 5. The values of the other buttons are shown.

Notice, in (1), that the 5 button has been pushed down and a single 1 button has been pushed up below the bar, so that the abacus is giving the total number of 6.

Suppose you wish to add 6 and 2. You push two more 1 buttons up as shown in (2). Now look at (3) and see what number the abacus gives as an answer.

The 5 button is toward the bar and so are the 1 buttons, making 8, which is the answer. To subtract 1 from 4, you would move four of the 1 buttons up to the cross-bar to represent the first part of the problem.

Then push one of these down. This leaves the abacus giving the answer, 3. Other wires give higher numbers. To put 127 on the abacus, push one of the 100 buttons up, two of the 10's, push down the 5 and push up two of the 1 buttons.

FOR YOU TO DO: There may be an abacus at your school, or one of your friends may have one. Try to locate one and work it as we have shown. You might make one of wires and buttons.

Ferency Hits Dem's Bills

LANSING (AP)— Democratic State Chairman Zolten Ferency spoke out Wednesday against proposed legislation that would bare political party finances and give legislators greater voice in developing party policy.

He testified at a House Election Committee hearing on bills introduced by freshman Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit.

One bill would in effect give Democratic legislators a majority of seats on an expanded state central committee. Another pair of alternative bills would require audit and reporting of party financial books either by the auditor general or a private auditing firm.

★ ★ ★

Montgomery told the committee such financial disclosures are necessary to build public confidence in the parties.

Ferency said he favored stricter controls and reporting on expenses strictly related of party expenses for continuing activities.

"If you get involved in this you should go all the way and check political expenses of groups like the League of Women Voters, AFL-CIO, temperance groups and the Council of Churches," Ferency declared.

3,500 Traffic Toll Set January Mark

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council reported today that the 3,500 traffic fatalities in the first month of 1965 were the most in any January. The total was a gain of 9 per cent over the toll for January 1964.

★ ★ ★

Moreover, the council said, January was the 37th month in the last 38 to show an increase in deaths on the highways. The council said auto accidents in January caused disabling injuries to 125,000 persons and an equal number suffered lesser injuries.

An average of 500,000 recruits will be required this year for the nation to maintain a military force of approximately 2.7 million.

(3) "Corporation" means a corporation or a joint stock association organized under the laws of the United States, this state, or any other state, territory or foreign country or dependency.

Sec. 4. "Gross business" means the conduct of any activity with the object of gain or benefit, except that it does not include:

(a) The solicitation of orders by a person or his representative in the city in the name of or for the benefit of a prospective customer of a person, if orders by such customer to such person to enable the customer to fill orders resulting from solicitation are orders described in paragraph (b).

(c) The mere storage of personal property in the city for another when neither owned nor leased by the taxpayer.

Sec. 6. (1) "Employee" means a person from whom an employer is required to withhold or has withheld income or federal social security taxes.

(2) "Employer" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, non-profit organization, governmental body or unit or agency, or any other entity whether or not a person, required by ordinance, that employs 1 or more persons as a salary, bonus, commission or other basis, whether or not the employer is in business.

(3) "Federal internal revenue code" means the internal revenue code of the United States in effect for the last day of the taxpayer's tax year.

(4) "Financial institution" means bank, industrial bank, trust company, building and loan or savings and loan association, mortgage broker, small collateral deposit company, regulated investment company as defined in section 851 and 852 following sections of the federal internal revenue code, under whatever name organized, and any other association, joint stock company or corporation at least 90% of whose assets consist of mortgages upon real property and at least 90% of whose gross income consists of interest or interest or other charges resulting from the use of money or credit.

Sec. 7. (1) "Fiscal year" means an accounting period of 12 months ending on any day other than December 31. Only fiscal years established by the internal revenue service for federal income tax purposes may be used for city tax purposes.

(2) "Net profits" means the net gain from the operation of a business, profession or enterprise, after provision for all costs and expenses incurred in the conduct thereof, determined on either a cash or accrual method, on the same basis as provided for in the federal internal revenue code for federal income tax purposes, excluding therefrom exempted under this ordinance, but without deduction of federal and city taxes based on income, and without deduction of net operating loss carry-over or capital loss carry-over sustained prior to the effective date of this tax.

Sec. 8. (1) "Nonresident" means an individual domiciled outside the city.

(2) "Person" means a natural person, partnership, association, corporation or other entity. When used in any provision imposing a criminal penalty, "person" shall include the member or members of a partnership or members thereof, and as applied to a corporation, the officers thereof.

(3) "Predominant place of employment" means that city imposing a tax under a uniform city income tax ordinance other than the city of residence, in which the employee performs his work will earn the greatest percentage of his compensation from the employer, which percentage is 25% or more.

Sec. 9. (1) "Resident" means an individual domiciled in the city. "Domicile" means a place where a person has his true, fixed and permanent home and principal establishment, to which, whenever absent therefrom, he intends to return. A person may continue to have another permanent establishment is established in fact and he intends to return. A person may continue to have another permanent establishment is established in fact and he intends to return. A person may have separate domiciles for income in each status.

(2) "Taxable income" means the calendar year, or the fiscal year, used as the basis on which net profits and other income subject to tax under this ordinance are to be computed, and in case of a fiscal year, the period for which the return is required to be made.

(3) "Taxpayer" means a person required under this ordinance to file a return or pay a tax.

Sec. 11. Subject to the exclusions, adjustments, exemptions and deductions herein provided, and subject to the rules of interpretations and resident individuals and of all net profits earned or received by them as net profits and of all other income received by them as an excise on income earned and received or may be the effective date of this ordinance.

Sec. 12. (1) Each tax shall apply on the following types of income of a resident individual to the same extent and on the same basis that the income of the individual is subject to taxation under the federal internal revenue code:

(a) On a salary, bonus, wage, commission and other compensation for services rendered as an employee for which a deduction is allowable under the city Vacation pay, holiday pay, sick pay and a bonus paid by the employer are determined to be a taxable item of income as the work assignment or work location and on the basis of the amount earned or on the normal earnings of the employee for work actually done or services actually performed.

(b) On a distributive share of the net profits of any unincorporated business, profession, enterprise, undertaking or other activity, whether owned solely or privately owned or other business activities conducted or engaged in.

(c) On capital gains less capital losses from sales of, and on the net profits from rentals of, real and tangible personal property, if such arise from property located in the city.

Sec. 14. The tax shall apply on the taxable net profits of a corporation doing business in the city, being levied upon such part of the taxable net profits as is earned by activities conducted in the city of work done, services rendered and other business activities conducted in the city as determined in accordance with this ordinance. "Taxable net profits of a corporation" means the net profits which become as defined in section 63 of the federal internal revenue code, but not limited into consideration all exclusions and adjustments provided in this ordinance. Deductions shall be allowed for:

(a) Net operating losses and net capital losses sustained prior to the effective date of this tax.

(b) The city income tax imposed by this ordinance.

(c) A corporation may deduct income, war profits and excess profits taxes, imposed by the authority or jurisdiction of the United States, allocable to income included in taxable net income, any part of which is refunded or credited as a deduction in determining federal taxable income, the application of provisions of the federal internal revenue code.

Sec. 15. An unincorporated business, profession or other activity conducted by a person partly within and partly without the city shall not be taxable as such. The persons carrying on the unincorporated business, profession or other activity are liable for income taxes on their separate and individual capacities and on their shares.

(a) A resident proprietor or partner is taxable upon his entire distributive share of the net profits of the activity regardless of where the activity is conducted.

(b) A nonresident proprietor or partner is taxable only upon his distributive share of the portion of the net profits earned or attributable to business activity in the city under the allocation methods provided by ordinance.

(c) In the hands of a proprietor or partner of an unincorporated activity, the taxable portion of an income taxable under this ordinance is determined as follows: There shall be added to the individual proprietor or partner directly from the activity, whether or not realized by the individual proprietor or partner, his distributive share of the net profits of the unincorporated business, profession or other activity.

If the unincorporated business, profession or other activity elects under this section to be taxed on the basis of the tax on behalf of its owners, the election shall be deemed to meet the requirements of this ordinance for the filing of a return for each owner who has no other income taxable in the city. However, a return is required from any owner who has other income taxable under other than his distributive share of the net profits of the entity, in such case the entire distributive share of the owner is included in the return and credit taken thereon for the tax filed in his behalf by the unincorporated activity.

If the unincorporated business, profession or other activity elects to pay the tax on behalf of the owners, then the unincorporated business, profession or other activity shall withhold the tax for each taxpayer and is liable to interest and penalty if same is not made by the due date, in accordance with the calendar or fiscal year used by the unincorporated business, profession or other activity.

Sec. 18. When the entire net profit of a business subject to the tax is not derived from business activities exclusively within the city, the portion of the entire net profit, earned as a result of work done, services performed or rendered, business activity conducted in the city, shall be determined at the election of the taxpayer either by separate accounting or by the use of one of the following sections 20 to 24, or section 25.

Sec. 19. (1) Separate accounting method shall be used if such taxpayer regularly keeps its books and records in such manner that a proper and equitable accounting to the portion of its net profits attributable to the work done, services performed or rendered, and business or other activity conducted within the city, and such portion shall be the portion subject to the tax. If such method is used the taxpayer shall submit with its statement, explaining the manner in which the apportionment is made, in sufficient detail to determine whether the net profits attributable to the city have been properly determined.

Sec. 20. The business allocation percentage method shall be used if such taxpayer does not elect to use the separate accounting method of allocation. The entire net profits of the taxpayer earned as a result of work done, services rendered or other activity conducted in the city shall be ascertained by determining the total "in-city" percentage of property, payroll and sales. The "in-city" percentage of property, payrolls and sales shall be determined in the manner determined in accordance with sections 21 to 24.

Sec. 21. First, the taxpayer shall ascertain the percentage which the average annual book value, of the tangible personal property, including real property, including leasehold improvements, owned or used by the entire business and situated within the city during the taxable year is of the average net book value of all of such property wherever situated, including leasehold improvements, owned or used by the taxpayer during the same period wherever situated. The value of property rented by the taxpayer rented or leased by the taxpayer and the value of such property shall be determined by multiplying the annual rental thereon. "Gross rental or real property" means the total amount of money or other consideration payable, directly or indirectly, by the taxpayer for the use and possession of property and includes but is not limited to:

(a) Or possession of real property or any part thereof, whether designated as a fixed sum of money or as a percentage of sales, profits or otherwise.

(b) Any amount paid as additional rent or in lieu of rent such as interest, taxes, insurance, repairs or other amount required to be paid by the terms of a lease or other arrangement.

Sec. 22. Second, the taxpayer shall ascertain the percentage which the total compensation paid to employees for work done and services performed or rendered in the city is of the total compensation paid by the taxpayer for such purposes, both within and without the city during the period covered by the return. For allocation purposes, compensation shall be computed on the cash or accrual basis in accordance with the method used in computing the entire net income of the taxpayer.

Sec. 23. If any employee performs services within and without the city, the following exclusive but may serve as a guide for determining the amount to be treated as compensation for services performed within the city:

(a) In the case of an employee compensated on a time basis, the proportion which his working time within the city is of his total working time;

(b) In the case of an employee compensated directly on the volume of business transacted, such as a salesman or a commission agent, the proportion received by him for business attributable to his efforts within the city;

(c) In the case of an employee compensated on other results achieved, the proportion which the compensation received which the value of his services performed in the city bears to the value of all his services.

Sec. 24. Third, the taxpayer shall ascertain the percentage which the gross revenue of the taxpayer derived from sales made and services rendered in the city is of the total gross revenue from sales and services wherever made during the period covered by the return.

(1) For the purposes of this section, sales made by the city are all sales where the goods, merchandise or property sold are delivered by the city to the purchaser, or a person or firm designated by the purchaser. In the case of delivery of goods by common carrier or by means of transportation other than those owned or privately controlled by the taxpayer, delivery has been completed is considered as delivered to the purchaser.

The following examples are not all inclusive and are to be used as a guide for determining sales made in the city:

(a) Sales to a customer in the city with shipments to a destination within or without the city from a warehouse or out-of-city location are sales made in the city.

(b) Sales to a customer in the city with shipments to a destination within or without the city from the taxpayer's in-city supplier or out-of-city supplier are considered sales made in the city.

(c) Sales to a customer in the city with shipments directly to the customer at his request from out-of-city located out-of-city location are considered sales in the city.

(d) Sales to an out-of-city customer with shipments or deliveries to the customer's location within the city are considered sales made in the city.

(e) Sales to an out-of-city customer with shipments to an out-of-city destination are considered sales in the city.

(2) In the case of public utilities, or business furnishing transportation, services, "gross revenue" as used in this section may be measured by the number of customers, number of telephones, telephone calls, revenue miles, passenger miles, ton miles, kilowatt hours, or other method as shall reasonably measure the business activity or enterprise obtained in the city by such business.

(3) In case the business of the taxpayer involves activities in addition to activities other than sales of goods, and such activities are not susceptible of direct allocation shall be employed as shall reasonably reflect the fair proportion of gross revenue obtained in the city by such activities.

Sec. 25. Fourth, the taxpayer shall add the percentages ascertained in accordance with sections 21, 22 and 23 and divide the total by 3, and the result so obtained is the business allocation percentage. In determining this percentage, if the sales factor is more than 50%, the computation only when the factor does not fairly represent the extent of the business activity in the city, the taxpayer's business operation is concerned and, in such case, the total of the percentages shall be divided by the number of factors actually used. The business allocation percentage shall be applied to the net profits, wherever derived, of taxpayers subject to the tax to determine the basis of profits attributable to the city.

(a) An alternative method of accounting shall be used if the taxpayer regularly keeps its books and records in such manner that a proper and equitable accounting of the net profits of the taxpayer's allocable to the city cannot be justly and equitably determined under the foregoing methods. Any method or the business allocation percentage method or the separate accounting method which in the opinion of the taxpayer would result from correct allocation of profits to the city, by reason of the taxpayer's manner of operations and methods of accounting, in such case the administrator, upon application of the taxpayer or upon his own initiative, may approve or prescribe such other method of determination as will effect a just, nondiscriminatory allocation to the city. Application to the administrator to substitute other factors in the formula or to use a different method for allocating net profits shall be made in writing and shall fully explain and describe the exact nature and extent of the proposed substitution of factors or use of a different method is requested and relief sought. No specific form need be followed in making the application. Once a taxpayer has been granted permission to use a substitute method, he shall continue so to file until given permission to change by the administrator.

Sec. 26. (1) Capital gains and capital losses from other than sales of securities issued by the government of the United States, shall be included in income only to the extent of that portion of the gains or losses which occur after the effective date of this ordinance. In determining the amount of gain or loss, the taxpayer may use the fair market value as of the effective date of the ordinance. The fair market value of property shall be determined by an appraisal or similar reliable evidence. The fair market value of a security shall be the last quoted price on the day before the first business day prior to the effective date. For a security traded over the counter, the last quoted price shall be the last sale price on the first business day prior to the effective date. The taxpayer may determine the gain or loss on a transaction in the same manner as provided for federal income tax purposes taking into account the period of time property was held before the effective date. The portion of capital gain or loss included in computing taxable income will be the same proportion of the total gain or loss as the entire number of months in the year held after the effective date of the ordinance bears to the total number of months held. In any city adopting this ordinance which is also a home rule income tax ordinance in effect on January 1, 1964, capital gains and losses shall be included to the extent of the portion of such gains or losses which occur after the first day of the first fiscal year of the original city income tax ordinance.

(2) If capital losses exceed capital gains in a taxable year, the unused portion may be utilized to the same extent and on the same basis as provided in the federal internal revenue code.

Sec. 27. An estate or trust is not subject to tax under this ordinance, except that it shall be treated as a nonresident individual for purposes of section 11 of this ordinance to the extent income of the estate or trust described in section 12 is not includible in the return of a resident individual. The provisions of "estates and trusts." A resident individual shall include "income from estates and trusts" in his taxable income subject to tax under this ordinance without regard to the status of the estate or trust. For this purpose, an "estate" means the estate of a deceased person during the period of administration or settlement and a "trust" means an inter vivos or testamentary trust created by a will (except for the benefit of) or more persons.

Sec. 28. (1) "Income from estates" means "income" as defined in section 641 (b) of the federal internal revenue code, property paid, credited or distributed but not in excess of the resident individual's share of distributable net income of the estate decreased by the amount of depreciation allowed to and followed the resident individual as a deduction under section 642 of the federal internal revenue code. The exceptions hereinafter are applicable in respect to trusts are also applicable to income from estates. "Income from trusts" means the amount of "income" as defined in section 643 (b) of the federal internal revenue code, decreased by the amount of depreciation or depletion allowed the resident individual as a deduction by section 642 of the federal internal revenue code, with the following exceptions:

(a) Dividends on stock of state and national banks and trust companies.

(b) Interest from obligations of the United States, the states or subdivisions or agencies of government of the states.

(2) Income received by a resident individual from a fiduciary shall retain the character, as to the source, held by the fiduciary. With respect to trusts and estates, income from the sale of capital assets, or some other person under subpart E of subchapter J of chapter 1 of the federal revenue code, the grantor or other person shall include in his return all items of income, gain, loss and deduction entering into the computation of the federal internal revenue code.

(a) Amounts received by charitable, religious, educational or other non-profit organizations which are exempt from taxation under the federal internal revenue code.

(c) Amounts received by supplemental unemployment benefit trusts or pension, profit sharing and stock bonus plans which are exempt from tax under the federal internal revenue code.

(d) Interest from obligations of the United States, the states or subordinate units of government of the states or the gains or losses on the sales of obligations of the United States.

(e) Dividends of financial institutions and insurance companies.

(f) Dividends received from national and state bank stock.

(3) Amounts paid to an employee as reimbursement for expenses necessarily and actually incurred by him in the ordinary performance of his services and deductible as such by the employer.

(4) Compensation received by a person in the armed forces of the United States.

Sec. 29. Ordinary necessary, reasonable and unreimbursed expenses paid or incurred by an individual in connection with the performance of his duties as an employee may be deducted from his income in arriving at the taxable income subject to the tax. The expenses are limited to the following:

(a) Expenses of travel, meals and lodging while away from home.

(b) Expenses of an outside salesman, away from his employer's place of business.

(c) Expenses of transportation.

(d) Expenses under a reimbursement or other expense allowance arrangement with his employer, where the reimbursement or allowance is treated as additional compensation reported.

Sec. 41. A person having a tax liability under this ordinance in any year shall file a return with the city on or before the last day of the fourth month for the same calendar year, fiscal year or other accounting period, if the taxpayer keeps books on the basis of the internal revenue service purposes and reports his income to the taxpayer. An individual taxpayer who is not compelled to file a federal return is not required to file a return unless the amount of tax due under this ordinance does not exceed the amount withheld from an employer's compensation by or upon behalf of the taxpayer. A husband and wife may file a joint return and, in such case, the tax liability is joint and several.

Sec. 42. The annual return shall set forth:

(a) The number of exemptions, place of residence, place of employment and other pertinent information as shall be required.

(b) The aggregate amount of compensation, dividends, interest, net profit from business, rentals, fees or other net profits subject to the tax.

(c) The total amount of the tax imposed by this ordinance.

(d) The amount of the tax previously withheld or paid.

(e) Credits provided in this ordinance.

(f) The balance of the tax due or to be refunded.

Sec. 43. Any balance of the tax which is due the city at the time the return is required to be filed or any additional tax found to be due as a result of the audit, if the annual return reflects an overpayment of the tax, the declaration thereof on the return constitutes a claim for refund and the overpayment shall be applied against any indebtedness of the taxpayer to the city. If the taxpayer has no indebtedness to the city, the overpayment or any part thereof may be refunded.

Sec. 44. Where total income, total deductions, net profits, other figures are derived from the taxpayer's federal income tax return, any item of income or deduction subject to different treatment under this ordinance or any unallowable deductions shall be eliminated or added back, as the case may be, for the purpose of arriving at the taxpayer's taxable income. The fact that a taxpayer is not required to file a federal income tax return does not relieve him from filing a city tax return.

Sec. 45. (1) The method of determining net profits allocable to the city under section 20 shall be used unless the taxpayer elect to file a consolidated return including subsidiaries where voting stock is owned to the extent of 80% by the taxpayer, if such return will more properly reflect the net profits allocable to the city. The city may require that the taxpayer in the city. The city may require that the taxpayer file a consolidated return if necessary to properly determine net profits of the taxpayer allocable to the city.

(2) The return of a taxpayer shall be filed, on a form obtainable from the city, showing the information the city may require to enable it to ascertain whether returns have been made in accordance with the requirements or limitations contained in this ordinance. Within 90 days after the final determination of the federal tax liability which also effects the city tax liability, the taxpayer shall file an amended city income tax return showing income subject to the city tax based upon the final determination of federal income tax liability, and pay an additional tax shown due thereon or make claim for refund of an overpayment. A taxpayer may not change the method of accounting or computation of net profits after the due date for filing the original return, or any extensions thereof.

Sec. 51. (1) An employer doing business or maintaining an establishment within the city shall withhold from each payday the income tax imposed by this ordinance on the employee subject to the effective date of this ordinance the tax applicable to his compensation for the pay period after giving effect to exemptions, as follows:

(a) Residents.

(1) At a rate equal to 1% of all compensation paid by the employer to one who is a resident of the city, if he is not employed within the city or any other city levying the tax.

(2) At a rate equal to ½ of 1% of all compensation paid to the employee who is a resident of the city, from whom the employer shall withhold ½ of 1% of such compensation earned in another city.

(b) Nonresidents. At a rate equal to ½ of 1% of the compensation paid by the employer to one who is employed within the city, for services performed in the city designated by the employee as his principal place of employment. The withholding rate shall be applied to the entire amount of the employee's total compensation equal to the employee's estimated percentage of work done or services performed in the city for such employer, but no withholding is required if the estimated percentage of work is less than 25%.

(2) An employer withholding the tax is deemed to hold such tax as a trustee for the city.

(3) An employer who is required to withhold who fails to withhold the tax and withheld is liable for the payment of the amount required to be withheld. The liability shall be in addition to the payment of the tax by the employee but shall be secondary thereto and the penalties and interest provided in this ordinance shall not apply if the employee pays the tax.

(1) An employee with compensation subject to tax shall file with his employer, on or before the commencement of employment, a statement showing the number of exemptions claimed, the city of residence, the city of dominant place of employment, and the percentage of work done or services performed in the city designated by the employer. The percentage shall be expressed as "0%", "25%", "50%", "75%", "100%". The employer shall retain the form and rely on the information therein for withholding purposes unless otherwise notified by the employee or unless the tax is withheld on another basis. If information submitted by the employee to the employer changes, a new form shall be completed.

(2) An employee shall file with his employer a revised form within 10 days after the date when the number of exemptions increases. An employee shall file a revised form within 10 days after the date when the dominant place of employment changes or the percentage of work done or services to be rendered in the city will increase or decrease by 25% or more. Withholding certificates shall not be backdated for more than 10 days.

Sec. 56. If an employee refuses to furnish a statement with respect to withholding at the request of his employer, the employer shall withhold 1% of the employee's total compensation paid for the pay period without withholding on the basis of the best information available to the employer. If the employee fails to furnish a statement completed, the city shall be so advised.

Sec. 57. (1) An employee shall file with his employer a revised form within 10 days after the date when the number of exemptions decreases or he changes his residence from or to a taxing city. The employee shall file a revised form when the dominant place of employment changes or the percentage of work done or services to be rendered in the city will increase or decrease by 25% or more. Withholding certificates shall not be backdated for more than 10 days.

Sec. 57. (1) The city shall provide withholding tables establishing the amounts to be withheld for various tax rates, wage brackets, exemptions and withholding periods. An employer who uses the tables fully is not liable to withhold. An employer may elect not to use the tables and withhold in such manner as will fully discharge his duty to withhold he shall withhold the applicable per cent of taxable compensation under withholding certificates.

(2) The first compensation paid an employee on or after the effective date of the tax by a taxpayer shall be subject to withholding on either of the following bases at the option of the employer:

(a) On the proportion of compensation paid.

(b) On the proportion of compensation paid for work done or services performed on or after the effective date of the tax.

Sec. 58. If an employer withholds more than the apparent tax liability of an employee, he shall not refund the excess withheld but may claim credit for the excess in the employee's return. If the employee has no tax liability, the employer shall refund the amount withheld.

Sec. 59. (1) Each employer doing business or maintaining an establishment within the city shall withhold from each payday the income tax imposed by this ordinance on the employee subject to the effective date of this ordinance the tax applicable to his compensation for the pay period after giving effect to exemptions, as follows:

(a) Residents.

(1) At a rate equal to 1% of all compensation paid by the employer to one who is a resident of the city, if he is not employed within the city or any other city levying the tax.

(2) At a rate equal to ½ of 1% of all compensation paid to the employee who is a resident of the city, from whom the employer shall withhold ½ of 1% of such compensation earned in another city.

(b) Nonresidents. At a rate equal to ½ of 1% of the compensation paid by the employer to one who is employed within the city, for services performed in the city designated by the employee as his principal place of employment. The withholding rate shall be applied to the entire amount of the employee's total compensation equal to the employee's estimated percentage of work done or services performed in the city for such employer, but no withholding is required if the estimated percentage of work is less than 25%.

(2) An employer withholding the tax is deemed to hold such tax as a trustee for the city.

(3) An employer who is required to withhold who fails to withhold the tax and withheld is liable for the payment of the amount required to be withheld. The liability shall be in addition to the payment of the tax by the employee but shall be secondary thereto and the penalties and interest provided in this ordinance shall not apply if the employee pays the tax.

Sec. 52. Employers shall not withhold any tax from the following payments:

(a) Compensation paid to domestic help.

(b) Compensation paid to a person who is not an employee, including an independent contractor.

(c) An amount allowed and paid to employees as reimbursement for expenses incurred for the benefit of the employer by him in the actual performance of his services, and deductible by the employee.

Sec. 53. If the tax is not withheld, an employee shall make, and file with his return and paying the tax on his compensation. If the tax is withheld but an employer fails to pay it to the city, the employee is not liable for the tax so withheld.

Sec. 54. (1) An employee with compensation subject to tax shall file with his employer, on or before the commencement of employment, a statement showing the number of exemptions claimed, the city of residence, the city of dominant place of employment, and the percentage of work done or services performed in the city designated by the employer. The percentage shall be expressed as "0%", "25%", "50%", "75%", "100%". The employer shall retain the form and rely on the information therein for withholding purposes unless otherwise notified by the employee or unless the tax is withheld on another basis. If information submitted by the employee to the employer changes, a new form shall be completed.

(2) An employee shall file with his employer a revised form within 10 days after the date when the number of exemptions increases. An employee shall file a revised form within 10 days after the date when the dominant place of employment changes or the percentage of work done or services to be rendered in the city will increase or decrease by 25% or more. Withholding certificates shall not be backdated for more than 10 days.

Sec. 56. If an employee refuses to furnish a statement with respect to withholding at the request of his employer, the employer shall withhold 1% of the employee's total compensation paid for the pay period without withholding on the basis of the best information available to the employer. If the employee fails to furnish a statement completed, the city shall be so advised.

The employee shall file a revised form when the dominant place of employment changes or the percentage of work done or services to be rendered in the city will increase or decrease by 25% or more. Withholding certificates shall not be backdated for more than 10 days.

Sec. 57. (1) The city shall provide withholding tables establishing the amounts to be withheld for various tax rates, wage brackets, exemptions and withholding periods. An employer who uses the tables fully is not liable to withhold. An employer may elect not to use the tables and withhold in such manner as will fully discharge his duty to withhold he shall withhold the applicable per cent of taxable compensation under withholding certificates.

(2) The first compensation paid an employee on or after the effective date of the tax by a taxpayer shall be subject to withholding on either of the following bases at the option of the employer:

(a) On the proportion of compensation paid.

(b) On the proportion of compensation paid for work done or services performed on or after the effective date of the tax.

Sec. 58. If an employer withholds more than the apparent tax liability of an employee, he shall not refund the excess withheld but may claim credit for the excess in the employee's return. If the employee has no tax liability, the employer shall refund the amount withheld.

Sec. 59. (1) Each employer doing business or maintaining an establishment within the city shall withhold from each payday the income tax imposed by this ordinance on the employee subject to the effective date of this ordinance the tax applicable to his compensation for the pay period after giving effect to exemptions, as follows:

(a) Residents.

(1) At a rate equal to 1% of all compensation paid by the employer to one who is a resident of the city, if he is not employed within the city or any other city levying the tax.

(2) At a rate equal to ½ of 1% of all compensation paid to the employee who is a resident of the city, from whom the employer shall withhold ½ of 1% of such compensation earned in another city.

(b) Nonresidents. At a rate equal to ½ of 1% of the compensation paid by the employer to one who is employed within the city, for services performed in the city designated by the employee as his principal place of employment. The withholding rate shall be applied to the entire amount of the employee's total compensation equal to the employee's estimated percentage of work done or services performed in the city for such employer, but no withholding is required if the estimated percentage of work is less than 25%.

Asks Equal Shooting Rights

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas women are on the "equal rights" warpath again — and this time they're aiming to cut off a man's defense of justifiable homicide if he kills his wife's lover.

A woman doesn't have the same privilege in this state. If she catches her spouse in adultery and shoots the other woman, she is charged with murder.

State Rep. Bob Bass of De Kalb thought he had a remedy. In a bill introduced early in the session, he advocated giving men and women the same shooting privileges.

He admitted yesterday to the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee, however, that he guessed in a sense the bill "was legalizing murder." He asked approval of a substitute which would take the justifiable homicide excuse away from men entirely. The bills went to a subcommittee.

Hermine Tobolowsky, a frequent spokesman for the women, said, "We consider killing a serious matter at any time. Any civilized country should take a long, hard look at letting any killer go scot-free, except in self-defense."

PROTECTS VOTING RECORD — Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., arrived yesterday at the Capitol to protect a voting record. Bennett, who has been a patient at Walter Reed Hospital since he broke his leg in a fall Saturday, was permitted to attend the House session to protect a perfect roll call vote record which goes back to 1951. Greeting him is Speaker John McCormack (left).

Inspect Pacts on Farm Surplus—LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson, with an eye on the nation's balance of payments problems, has ordered "an intensive reexamination" of agreements under which U.S. farm surpluses are sold abroad for foreign currencies.

The President announced his action in an exchange of letters with Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the Senate Finance Committee.

In letters to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Treasury Secretary D. Douglas Dillon, Byrd suggested that all treaties and arrangements which generate foreign currency be reviewed "with a view to renegotiation for more constructive use under current circumstances."

In his reply, Johnson said he had "personally ordered an intensive reexamination of the agreements" under which the government administers the farm surplus transactions, the source of most of the money.

"I am determined that we shall make the best use of these funds," the President said. He added that "some progress" has already been made in making good use of the money obtained under the farm surplus program.

Johnson said agreements under the law negotiated in the past year generally provide a larger share of currencies for use by the United States.

Since 1960 the annual U. S. expenditure of local currency has risen by $100 million to an annual rate of $333 million, the President said.

LBJ Arms Control Unit Bid Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to cut in half President Johnson's request for a four-year, $55-million authority for the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

It adopted 50 to 38 Wednesday an amendment to a House-passed bill to reduce the new authority two years and $20 million over protests by the agency's supporters. Led by Sens. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and John O. Pastore, D-R.I., they pleaded with the Senate to "uphold the President."

★ ★ ★

But Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., floor manager for the bill, said it would provide more than was available for the past two years and would keep the agency "thriving and healthy" for two years more.

The measure now goes back to the House for action on the Senate change. The House previously voted a three-year, $40-million extension.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington accused French President Charles de Gaulle today of using "the crowbar and the hammer to destroy the hopes of Western civilization."

The Missouri Democrat, in a statement prepared for delivery on the Senate floor, said he has been an admirer of the general.

★ ★ ★

But, Symington said, de Gaulle's greatness "is being tarnished by his efforts, at the expense of his friends and allies, to attain world power for his nation."

Symington said, "Gen. de Gaulle has carried his nationalism to the point where he is destroying the shield of NATO, fragmenting Western Europe, participating in the disintegration of the United Nations, and destroying confidence in the world's monetary system."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thomas S. Power, a retired Air Force general who once headed the Strategic Air Command, says a few SAC bombers could end the war in Viet Nam successfully in a few days by dropping heavy loads of conventional bombs on major military targets in North Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Power makes this statement in his newly published book "Design for Survival." Writing of the principle of "persuasive deterrence," which he says could bring limited wars to a swift conclusion with a minimum loss to the United States of men and material.

Boy Accidentally Killed by Friend, 5

COLOMA (AP) — A 5-year-old boy accidentally shot and killed his 8-year-old companion Wednesday with a 22-caliber rifle with which the boys were playing.

State Police identified the victim as Ronald Fairbanks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fairbanks of rural Coloma. He died of a gunshot wound in the head.

★ ★ ★

Police would not identify the boy who fired the gun but said the shooting was accidental.

FIRE ENGINE FROLIC — The Rochester Village Council has designated Saturday as "Red Stocking Day," in preparation for the upcoming Red Stocking Revue sponsored by the Rochester Junior Woman's Club March 26-27. Members of the club, shown on a fire engine which they will ride through town Saturday to advertise the variety show, are (from left) Mrs. Arthur Tobiassen, Mrs. Harold Alexander, Mrs. Wayne Andrews, Mrs. Robert Allen and Mrs. Nelson Parsons.

For Red Stocking Revue

Rochester 'Revs Up'

ROCHESTER — Preparations are in full swing for the March 26-27 presentation of the Red Stocking Revue, sponsored by the Rochester Junior Woman's Club.

Saturday has been designated "Red Stocking Day" by the Village Council, and another step toward the biennial event will be taken Monday evening when the club holds a "talent party" and auditions.

Members of the women's club will ride through town at 10 Saturday morning on a fire truck bedecked with signs advertising the variety show.

The Revue talent committee will spend Saturday morning at Mitzelfeld's in their red berets and lorgnettes, searching for talent prospects.

Between 1 and 2 p.m., other members in costume will pass out helium-filled balloons to the youngsters in the business district.

SANDWICH SIGNS

Several "Juniors" will parade up and down in front of restaurants and stores sporting sandwich signs publicizing the Revue, which will be held at Central Junior High School at 8:30 p.m. both nights.

Monday's talent party coincides with the arrival of the show's director, obtained from Jerome H. Cargill Productions of New York.

It will be held at 8 p.m. in Avon Park pavilion. Those interested in auditioning for the show can contact talent cochairmen Mrs. Nelson Parsons or Mrs. Arthur Tobiassen.

★ ★ ★

Comedy skits and a few numbers by a local rock 'n' roll group will precede the auditions with John Burns as master of ceremonies.

Tickets for the Revue can be obtained from any member of the Junior Woman's Club.

Funds from the two-night production will go toward the $10,000 pledge made by the club for the planned Rochester branch of Crittenton General Hospital, and the Rochester YMCA building fund.

Two Rezoning Bids Approved

Motel, Subdivision OK'd for Orion Twp.

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has approved rezoning of 21¼ acres at the northwest corner of Baldwin Avenue and I-75 to allow construction of a motel, gas station and restaurant on the property.

The board also approved another rezoning request to open the Warren Smith property on Indianwood Road to subdivision development.

The property at Baldwin and I-75 lies in both Orion and Pontiac townships, but plans for the motel, gas station and restaurant would place them all in the Orion Township portion.

Rezoning changed the classification of the land from single-family residential to business.

★ ★★

The Warren Smith property, now owned by Land Improvement Co. of Walled Lake, is reclaimed gravel pit land, with a man-made lake on it.

SPECIAL LAND

The board changed its classification from special land use for gravel pits to the highest type of single-family residential.

★ ★ ★

In other action, the board passed a resolution supporting Oxford Township's opposition to plans to use gravel pits north of Oxford for a land fill operation for Detroit metropolitan area garbage.

Parking Lot Operators May Pay State Fee

LANSING (AP) —Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, thinks parking lot operators should pay the state $10 per parking space each year.

He included the fee as part of a bill introduced Wednesday to regulate and license parking operations of more than 10 spaces.

News of the Area

Novi Board to Air Budget

NOVI — A $449,000 operating budget for Novi schools in 1965-66 was proposed last night by Supt. Thomas Culbert.

The expenditure total is $24,000 above this year's figure but is $4,000 less than the district's anticipated revenue.

Board of education members scheduled a special meeting for March 31 to study Culbert's recommendations and to review teacher contracts.

Largest single chunk of the additional sum requested would be used to cover the raises teachers will get as they move up on the district's salary schedule, which will not be altered for next year.

★ ★ ★

The schedule was improved last year to provide a starting salary of $5,000 for the holder of a bachelor's degree, with the maximum in this category set at $7,025 after nine years.

MASTER'S DEGREE

A teacher with a master's degree starts at $5,200 and can earn $7,450 after nine years.

Culbert expects the payroll for the 34 teachers in the district to total $212,500 next year, compared to $205,000 this year.

The budget allotment for operation and maintenance is expected to jump some $5,000 because the new Novi Secondary School will be open during the entire school year.

★ ★ ★

Although classes started there at the beginning of this school year, the whole facility was not in operation until November, Culbert noted.

TUITION BILL

"The tuition bill also will reflect an increase," he said. Novi sends its 10th, 11th and 12th graders to Northville High School.

★ ★ ★

Some $5,000 will be needed to cover the senior high enrollment increase, according to Culbert. He also has recommended that nonteaching staff members be given raises.

★ ★ ★

Estimated revenues for next year include $246,000 from property taxes, $197,000 in state aid and $8,500 from other accounts, Culbert said.

New Program Is PTA Topic

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—A new reading program the Walled Lake school system is experimenting with this year will be discussed at the Monday night meeting of Keith Elementary School PTA.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Harry T. Hahn, director of instruction for Oakland Schools, will be speaker at the 8 p.m. program.

Also on the agenda is election of officers for the coming year.

Reading Consultant Will Speak to PTA

AVON TOWNSHIP — Grace Sayers, reading consultant for the Avondale School District, will discuss reading at the monthly meeting of the Elmwood Elementary School PTA next Thursday.

The public is invited to attend the 7:30 p.m. meeting at the school, 2751 Auburn.

Diplomacy Is Supper Topic in Rochester

ROCHESTER — "Person-to-person diplomacy" will be the theme of a potluck supper at 6:30 this evening at the First Congregational Church, 1315 N. Pine.

The affair will highlight the project of the Mission and Social Action Committee by means of a panel discussion.

Taking part on the panel will be Theodore Panaretos, community relations director at Pontiac State Hospital; Frederick Campbell, director of community relations at Lapeer State Hospital; and Mrs. Lillian Wickman, supervisor of Oakland County Children's Center.

Entertainment for children will begin at 7:30 in the Fellowship Hall.

★ ★ ★

The "person-to-person diplomacy" project is aimed at interesting adults, retirees and anyone with spare time in helping to meet the needs of the "forgotten, lonely and despairing."

Chief Recalls Death Threat at Beer Exec's Murder Trial

Brewery executive Wells S. Herrington threatened the life of Dr. John R. Foster five months before he shot and killed the Birmingham dentist last September, Farmington Police Chief Maurice Foltz testified in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday.

Herrington, 45, of 32777 Grand River, Farmington, is standing trial on a first degree murder charge before Judge Stanton G. Dondero. The trial is in its third day.

The threat was made on April 21, 1964, during a conversation between Herrington and Foltz at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia, according to Foltz.

Foltz was there investigating a suicide attempt by Herrington's estranged wife, Betty, he added.

★ ★ ★

"He told me that she had attempted suicide because of Foster."

QUOTES THREAT

Foltz quoted Herrington as saying, "If she dies or Foster comes to our home, I will kill him."

Foster was shot to death Sept. 17 as he forced his way into Herrington's apartment, where he and his wife were attempting a reconciliation.

Mrs. Herrington had been dating Foster since March, when she had filed divorce proceedings against her husband, wholesale sales manager for Stroh's Brewery.

★ ★ ★

Foltz said he told Herrington at the hospital that killing Foster "wasn't the answer to his problems and to think of the children because he would probably end up in prison." The Herringtons have five children.

WAS POLICEMAN

"He told me he knew what the law was and that he was a policeman at one time," Foltz said.

According to Foltz he informed the Birmingham Police Department of Herrington's threat and told them that if anything further developed he would request a stakeout on the doctor's home.

Foltz said he gave Birmingham police an address of 200 E. Brown, but later learned that this was Foster's office and not his residence. Foster lived at 3130 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

Herrington was not kept under surveillance, according to Foltz.

FIRST MEETING

A month before the threat, Foltz said he met Foster for the first time when he came to the Farmington police station and asked police to go to Herrington's home.

"He said Herrington had a gun and was going to kill his wife," said Foltz.

"We met the Herringtons in the driveway," said Foltz, "but they asked us to go away because there was nothing wrong."

★ ★ ★

Foltz said that he did not see Foster after that until he was called to Herrington's apartment on the shooting.

DAUGHTER TESTIFIES

One of the Herringtons' daughters, Danielle, 18, has testified that Foster had forcibly taken keys to the apartment from her when he met her in the parking lot outside the building.

He used the key to let himself in the apartment.

As he entered the apartment, he was shot twice by Herrington, in the leg and chest, with a 38-caliber revolver. Herrington later admitted the shooting to police.

Vote Drive Is Nearing Final Phase

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Clarenceville School Board members will hit the campaign trail next week in their final attempt to contact voters before the March 29 bond and millage election.

★ ★ ★

At stake is a proposed $3.5-million building program and four - mill operating fund increase, neither of which is expected to raise the tax rate.

Trustees will discuss the election Monday at Westbrook Elementary School.

Tuesday, the junior and senior high school PTA will meet with board of education members in the high school cafeteria.

★ ★ ★

Similar meetings are scheduled for March 19 at Botsford Elementary School and March 23 at Edgewood Elementary School.

8 P.M. SESSIONS

All of the sessions will be held at 8 p.m.

School officials estimate that present facilities will be filled to capacity by the 1965-66 school year.

There will be at least 175 additional students the following year, they predict, leaving the district short seven classrooms.

★ ★ ★

The deficit is expected to double by 1967-68 with enrollment totaling 4,025 compared to the present 3,673.

PLANNED CONSTRUCTION

Heading the list of planned construction are additions at Edgewood Elementary School, the high school and junior high school.

This package, carrying a $1.25 - million cost estimate, would be completed by the fall of 1966.

In requesting the funds for the program, the school board said the bonds would be sold over a four- or five-year period as the need arose and as they could be financed without increasing the tax levy.

★ ★ ★

The operating millage increase is aimed at expansion of the district's educational program at its present rate.

The board expects a two-mill cut in its operational allocation from the county and would cover the other two mills by extending the district's present bonds and reducing the levy for bonded indebtedness.

Not Seeking to Return to County Board Post

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — Frank F. Webber, 1783 Brewer, has asked Oakland County Board of Supervisors Chairman Delos Hamlin not to consider him for reappointment as chairman pro tem of the board.

Webber, who has served 10 years on the board, two years as chairman pro tem, suffered a heart attack early in December. He is doing well after several weeks of convalescence.

Tuscola Seeks Action

Loss of Bridge Cripples Community

TUSCOLA (AP) — For want of a bridge, life in this southeast Michigan community of some 200 is "being strangled."

The bridge over the Cass River in the farming community was hit by a truck and damaged. It collapsed last August.

County, state and federal agencies joined forces to rebuild it. The foundation was laid; abutments and piers were set and the promise of one-lane traffic by Jan. 1 made by the contract appeared possible.

★ ★ ★

Then work stopped. Nothing has been done for nearly two months. With spring planting weeks away, things are becoming desperate.

Floyd Hoover, owner of the Cass River Lumber Co., said "We want our bridge back. Without it we are being strangled.

EXCUSES AND RUMORS

"All we are getting are excuses and rumors.

"First there was the rumor that the Michigan State Highway Department had lost the specifications," Hoover said. "Then came the rumor that the decking beams had been used on other jobs. Now we're getting the song and dance about the beams being too heavy for the recently enforced road restrictions."

★ ★ ★

Hoover said several farmers own property on both sides of the river. "Some haven't even been able to get a manure spreader over the river," he said.

He said the Tuscola Truck Co. has gone out of business, "our own business is off nearly 30 per cent, Pauley's grocery is about ready to close up, and the Tuscola Tavern is just hanging on."

SCHOOL BUSES

Wilbur Hoover, president of the Vassar School District, said "we have to use two school buses instead of one to transport kids and church attendance is down almost 40 per cent. People have to go 12 miles to travel a distance of two blocks. It's ridiculous."

January thaws and ice floes knocked out a foot bridge made of planks.

★ ★ ★

Letters were sent to State Rep. Harry E. Rohlfs, Michigan U.S. 8th District Rep. James Harvey and Gov. George Romney.

Rohlfs' answer said prestressed beams were very much in demand and that the state asks that they be cured longer in the winter; Harvey, through the U.S. Department of Commerce, said the contractor was having difficulty completing the beams; Romney did not answer.

The contractor, Raff and Dexter of Lansing, Mich., could not be reached for comment.

Wilbur Hoover said he remembered during World War II he went to sleep one night and by morning the U.S. Army Engineers had built a sturdy bridge over the Rhine River, one quarter of a mile.

★ ★ ★

"This is not wartime," he said, "but we're getting desperate enough to declare one. Maybe that would get some action."

AP Photofax

END OF THE ROAD — A bridge over the Cass River at Tuscola is half-finished, leaving the community strangled by lack of communications. The original bridge was destroyed last August. To replace the bridge, authorities built abutments and piers, but work stopped about two months ago. Now spring planting is weeks away and residents are demanding action.

Hungry Millions—4

'Protein Gap' Claiming Lives of Many Undernourished Children Around the Globe

(EDITOR'S NOTE — For centuries, man has ravaged the planet on which he lives. Now, the experts agree, the time of reckoning is at hand. the following fourth of five articles tells of the hunger which prebails throughout much of the world and which may lead to famine, pestilence, and even war.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Relatively few Americans ever heard of kwashiorkor.

In central Africa, the term means "the sickness the old baby gets when the new baby comes."

In the Congo they call it "m'buaki." In Jamaica, it's "sugar baby," in South Africa "infant pellagra," in India "neutritional distrophy."

It's a disease which attacks children who lack protein. The belly distends and swells out of proportion. Arms and legs become spindly. The child's hair turns gray. The skin cracks. Death comes in agony.

DIE OF HUNGER

In the poor two-thirds of the world, children die of hunger because of what economists call "the protein gap." Proteins are essential to the growth and maintenance of the body. The readiest source is meat. Proteins are costly, and in the poor world, vast numbers are undernourished for lack of them.

What happens when a human being is undernourished? The result is listlessness, disease, deformed children, blind people. Those who have enough energy to do so, view the misery around them and react in anger. Hunger historically has led to violence, revolution and even major war.

* * *

Man has ravaged his planet for centuries, destroyed land and water resources. Now, multiplying at an alarming rate, he faces the reckoning. Is there an answer which can exorcise the specters of pestilence and war which haunt much of the world?

Two generations ago, economists might not have dared say the whole world could be fed adequately. But today, most experts say the knowhow, the technology and the resources exist to meet the problem if — and it is a big if — nations can learn to cooperate, learn that enormously expensive military defenses might not be enough to prevent the war that hunger might spark.

TECHNICAL KNOWLEDGE

In theory, humanity could feed itself indefinitely. In practice, it does not and is falling steadily behind. In theory, technical knowledge can produce new resources, new storage methods, new products, better distribution, better land use. Practically, many areas most needing reforms do little about it.

The U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization says the poor world urgently needs economic development to produce higher incomes. Others agree such development is vital, but there are other problems. Productive capacities of hungry populations are impaired by inadequate diet. They are unable to help themselves, to say nothing of earning foreign exchange to permit import of essential goods.

* * *

In one way or another, say Paul and William Paddock in a new book, "Hungry Nations," Americans give some form of supplementary food at a current rate of 100 million persons every day. It is not enough to overtake population increases. About a third of the total U.S. farm export goes to feeding the hungry, but programs still fall short of sustaining health.

* * *

Major problems in the way of self-help include illiteracy and lack of public health facilities. In India, 80 of 100 persons still cannot read or write. About three of every four persons in India are engaged in agriculture, yet India produces only enough to provide 2,250 calories daily per person, of which an average of only 1,685 is consumed because of vast problems in the way. The United States, by contrast, has only one person in eight on farms, yet produces enough for 10,800 calories daily per person, of which Americans themselves consume 3,090 per person daily.

Japan, through intense, modern cultivation methods, uses what little land it has to produce 13,200 calories per acre to India's 2,500. If India could do what Japan does, there would be far less hunger there. But it will take many years to produce notable improvement.

Even now, at the low rate at which Indians eat, the country will need 20 million additional tons of food every year just to meet population increases alone. She needs more additional grain than the entire U.S. backlog, an amount, economists report, which would require 2,300 trips by 10,000-ton freights. She does not have the means of distribution to handle such an influx in any event.

* * *

The rich Atlantic world — possibly even America alone with its advanced techniques — probably could produce enough to feed everybody adequately.

* * *

But there are big obstacles — distribution, lack of road and port facilities in many countries, the danger of stifling local incentive, need to protect local farm markets, protection of exporters' markets, local taboos and prejudices, interference from local politics, cold war considerations and many other problems.

The future is not all bleak. Modern technology is beginning to open wide vistas for the future. The means are available to meet the problem and ease the world crisis — if willingness to tackle it and sufficient international cooperation are forthcoming.

SALMON LOAF — Wheat germ salmon loaf with hot tartar sauce will bring rave notices from the whole family, when served as a meatless main course during Lent.

Step Up the Nutrition of Regular Salmon Loaf

If you're building a file of meatless main dishes for Lent, we can recommend highly this brand new recipe for wheat germ salmon loaf with hot tartar sauce.

While the loaf itself, except for the nutritional boost of wheat germ, is more or less standard, the hot tartar sauce served on top of each slice adds a gourmet appeal.

It's real easy to shop for, too. The salmon, wheat germ, celery and parsley can be bought several days ahead of time and the other ingredients are usually on hand, day in and day out.

You'll like the wheat germ as an extender, knowing, too, that the heart of the wheat is a good source of the B vitamins, iron, protein, vitamin E and other nutrients.

Wheat Germ Salmon Loaf

1 can (1 lb.) salmon
½ cup chopped celery
¾ cup chopped onion
⅓ cup butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
4 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup wheat germ
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Prepare salmon; drain and save liquid; remove skin and bones and separate layers with fork. Saute celery and onion in butter until onion is tender; remove celery and onion and set aside.

Blend flour, salt and pepper into melted butter until smooth. Add milk all at once. Cook over medium heat until mixture thickens, stirring constantly.

Reserve 1 cup of sauce for Hot Tartar Sauce (below). Combine remaining sauce with salmon, salmon liquid, celery, onion, and remaining ingredients. Mix well.

★ ★ ★

Pour into greased, aluminum foil-lined, 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes, or until firm. Let stand in pan 10 minutes.

Invert pan onto serving plate. Slice and serve with Hot Tartar Sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

Hot Tartar Sauce

1 cup sauce (above)
¼ cup salad dressing
¼ cup pickle relish
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Combine all ingredients, mixing well. Heat slowly over medium heat, stirring frequently.

Add Wheat Germ to Coffee Eggnog

For a real pep drink add wheat germ to your favorite eggnog. Or try this recipe for two servings: two tablespoons wheat germ, 1 egg, dash salt, 4 teaspoons instant coffee, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 cups cold milk, ⅛ teaspoon vanilla extract. Beat in blender; serve cold.

The wheat germ ups the B vitamins, iron, and other essential nutrients. The instant coffee is high in niacin.

Different Way to Fill Cabbage

Adapted from Middle East cookery, "Cabbage Roll-Ups Almondine" may be most excitingly different new dish to come your way in a long time.

Steamed cabbage leaves are stuffed with a flavorsome mixture of cracked wheat, chopped tomato, almonds, onion and celery, consomme and thyme, then baked for this exotic entree.

If you like, you might garnish each serving with toasted slivered almonds or roasted diced almonds.

Cabbage Roll-Ups Almondine

½ cup almonds
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped celery
1 cup cracked wheat (bulgur)
1 cup consomme
Water
1 cup chopped canned or fresh tomato
¼ teaspoon thyme
12 medium-size cabbage leaves

Finely chop almonds. Melt butter in skillet; add onion and celery and saute.

Stir in cracked wheat and almonds; add consomme, 1 cup water, tomato and thyme. Cover and cook over medium heat 10 minutes.

Steam cabbage leaves in ¼ cup hot water just until wilted. Drain; spoon about 2 tablespoons cracked wheat mixture onto center of each leaf.

Roll up and place in baking dish; add ¼ cup water and cover. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 20 minutes.

Makes 6 servings.

Mix Cabbage With Apples for Delicious Dish

For a pork roast, or grilled chops, or any other meat dish — or roast duck or goose — this new combination of apples and red cabbage is a savory, delicious dish. Buy large tart apples and make it today.

Red Cabbage and Apples

1 large red cabbage (about 3 pounds)
3 tablespoons bacon fat
½ cup firmly-packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon cloves
Boiling water
3 large tart apples
½ cup cider vinegar

★ ★ ★

Remove core from cabbage; shred fine. Combine bacon fat, brown sugar, salt, pepper and spices in Dutch oven or enamel kettle. Add cabbage; add boiling water to cover.

Pare, core and slice apples; add; simmer 1 hour. Add vinegar; simmer 1 hour longer.

Serve hot, as an accompaniment to pork. Makes 6 servings.

Add Raisin Toast Cubes to Scrambled Eggs

Eggs 'n' Raisin Bread Scramble makes for happy breakfasting and tastes good for supper, too. Cube 8 slices toasted buttered raisin bread.

Cook mixture of 5 eggs beaten with ½ cup half and half and 1 teaspoon seasoned salt in 2 tablespoons butter until creamy and slightly thick. Stir in crisp raisin bread cubes and cook just until set. Makes 6 servings.

Barbecue a Pork Roast With Dressing

The flavor of barbecued pork is ever popular. For many it's a treat enjoyed only in the summer months when outdoor cooking is possible. Here's a savory barbecue pork loin sure to please anytime of the year, even indoors on cold wintry days.

A barbecue sauce with a superb, spicy flavor is brushed over the pork loin several times while it's being roasted in the oven. This produces a roast that looks and tastes like the barbecued pork loin cooked outdoors over glowing coals.

So enjoy the family's favorite food often while waiting for outdoor cooking season to return.

Pork roasts are bigger and better than ever. Improved breeds of hogs turn out larger and heavier loins with a greater proportion of lean to bone and fat. More lean means more value for your money.

The more-lean-less-fat of today's pork is designed to meet the preferences and needs of the modern family, providing more of the essential protein, vitamins and minerals. Pork makes a good investment in nutrition as well as fine eating.

A pork loin roast is easy to prepare perfectly. Just place the roast on a rack in a shallow, uncovered roasting pan in a slow oven (325 degrees) until meat is well done. See timetable given below for exact cooking time.

Timetable for roasting pork loin—use slow oven (325°F).

Cut	Approximate Weight of Roast	Roasting Time— minutes per pound	Meat Thermometer Reading
Center Loin	3 to 5 lbs.	2¾ to 3¼	185°F
Half	4 to 6 lbs.	3 to 3½	185°F
Ends	3 to 4 lbs.	2¾ to 3	185°F

★ ★ ★

Bacon dressing is delicious served with barbecued pork loin. Here are recipes for the barbecue sauce and a bacon dressing.

Savory Barbecue Pork Loin

4 to 5 lb. pork loin roast
½ cup chopped onion
3 tablespoons fat
¾ cup water
¾ cup catsup
½ cup cider vinegar
3 tablespoons brown sugar
4 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
¾ teaspoon oregano
¾ teaspoon paprika
¾ teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
⅛ teaspoon ground cloves

★ ★ ★

Place pork loin on a rack in a shallow roasting pan. Roast in slow oven (325 degrees) until thoroughly done.

Meanwhile, make barbecue sauce. Saute onion in hot fat until tender. Add remaining ingredients; mix. Simmer to blend flavors, about 15 minutes.

Baste meat with sauce several times during last 30 minutes roasting time. Serve remaining sauce with meat.

Bacon Dressing

6 slices bacon
1½ cups sliced celery
½ cup chopped onion
6 cups ½-inch bread cubes
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons hot water
2 tablespoons barbecue sauce, (recipe above)

Fry bacon until crisp; drain and crumble into bits. Save ⅓ cup bacon drippings; add celery and onion; saute until onion is tender. Add to remaining ingredients and toss lightly.

Place in 2 quart baking dish and cover tightly. Bake with meat during last 30 minutes roasting time. Yield: About 8 servings.

SAVORY BARBECUE FORK LOIN — Savory barbecue pork loin with bacon dressing is a summer cooking favorite easily made indoors. This juicy meat rates high with most people.

Almond Sauce

Pour 2 cups cold milk into a mixing bowl. Add 1 package (3¾ oz.) vanilla instant pudding. Beat slowly with rotary beater just until blended — 1 to 2 minutes. Let stand to set — about 5 minutes. Stir before serving. Top with ¼ cup toasted slivered almonds.

Meat Loaf Dotted With Canned Corn

Ground beef takes on a new look in this recipe for Best Ever Meat Loaf. It's laced with golden nuggets of corn canned with bits of sweet pepper.

The corn keeps the meat loaf extra moist and tasty right to the end.

To prepare this juicy, tender loaf, lightly but thoroughly combine 1½ pounds lean ground beef with one well-drained 12 oz. can golden whole kernel corn with sweet peppers.

Blend in ⅔ cup fine cracker crumbs, 1 cup catsup, 2 well-beaten eggs and 2 teaspoons onion salt. Pack lightly into a 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) about 50 minutes. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Bacon Is Sold in Many Forms

This is the season to use bacon often suggests the Consumer Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Pork supplies will begin to decrease after March and prices will start to rise.

Did you know that bacon is available in at least five forms?

- Thin sliced bacon with the rind removed is wrapped in half-pound, one-pound, two-pound packages.
- Thick sliced bacon with the rind removed is usually packed in one-pound and two-pound wraps.
- Slab bacon with the rind is sold in the whole slab or by the chunk. It usually costs less than sliced bacon.
- Pieces and ends are uneven ragged edges of the slab from which slices have been packed. These are an economical buy for casseroles, sauces, etc.
- Bacon squares are the least expensive form of bacon. These come from the cheek or jowl rather than from the sides and belly from which other cuts of bacon are processed.

Smart shoppers buy just enough bacon for the week, for it may lose flavor and darken if kept too long.

The brining or dry cure, plus the smoking process, hastens rancidity of the bacon fat. Store bacon in its original tight wrap and keep it refrigerated.

To cook bacon, place slices in a cold pan. Cook over low heat and separate slices as they heat. Turn often. Keep temperature low for bacon burns easily. When evenly browned, drain on absorbent paper.

Keep the fat drippings to add to muffins, pancakes, bread, or for seasoning vegetables.

Fish Sauce Made With Blue Cheese

As the season of meatless days approaches, it is a good idea to keep your eyes open for new recipes to vary the family diet. Try this unusual sauce as a new treat atop your favorite fish.

The hearty flavor of the American Blue cheese will accent the mild flavor of almost any fish but is is exceptionally good on cold, boiled shrimp, prawns or lobster.

Sauce Supreme

2 tablespoons crumbled American blue cheese
1 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 small jar caviar (2 tablespoons)

Whip American blue cheese and mayonnaise together until smooth. Stir in chili sauce. Fold in caviar. Serve on hot or cold fish. Makes 1¼ cups.

LEPRECHAUN SEASON — Celebrate St. Patrick's Day with delectable, velvety Leprechaun Mold, made with whipped cream, creme de menth, and unflavored gelatin.

Oven Fried Codfish Cakes

There are as many recipes for codfish as there are cooks in New England, for every Yankee homemaker has her favorite.

The traditional version calls for equal quantities of mashed potatoes and cooked shredded codfish, seasoned with a dash of ginger. Southerners are apt to add minced onion.

But afficionados agree on one point: Serving codfish cakes with tomato sauce is barbaric. If you must have sauce, make it a bechamel, or cream sauce, or perhaps an egg sauce.

Here is the National Fisheries Institute's favorite recipe for Codfish Cakes—oven-fried for ease of preparation.

Oven-fried Codfish Cakes

Combine 2 cups cooked flaked cod* with 2 cups small soft bread cubes (lightly packed), 1 beaten egg, ¼ cup milk, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon dried crushed thyme, 1 tablespoon minced fresh parsley (or 1 teaspoon dried parsley), ¼ cup minced celery, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine.

Shape into cakes, using ½ cup of the mixture for each cake.

Coat cakes with ½ cup dry bread crumbs and place on greased baking sheet. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine.

Place in very hot oven (475 degrees) for 10 minutes or until hot and golden brown. Makes 8 fish cakes.

*To prepare flaked cod, poach 1 pound fresh or frozen cod steaks in 1 quart boiling water to which 1 teaspoon salt has been added. Keep the water at a gentle simmer; cook 8 to 10 minutes or until fish flakes easily with a fork. Drain, remove center bone and skin and flake cod gently with a fork. One pound cod steaks makes about 2 cups flaked cod.

Fig Custard Is Perfect Finale

Encourage your family to enjoy California Dried Figs just as they come from the package — the queen of confections. And use them generously for exotic flavor and substance, in hot breads, salads, desserts.

Baked Rice Custard

2 cups milk
2 eggs, beaten
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
1½ cups cooked rice
¾ cup chopped dried figs
1 teaspoon vanilla
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
Nutmeg

Scald milk. Place eggs in mixing bowl; stir in salt and sugar. Gradually add hot milk. Add to cooked rice. Stir in figs, vanilla and cinnamon.

Pour into individual baking dishes; sprinkle tops with nutmeg. Place baking dishes in shallow pan filled with 1 inch of water.

Bake at 325 degrees for about 1 hour or until firm. Makes 6 to 8 custards.

Whole-wheat bread crumbs are particularly good to use in the dressing for a baked fish.

St. Patrick's Day Rates a Special Dessert

A leprechaun, 'tis said, is a tiny creature who can lead you to hidden treasure. But first you must catch your leprechaun and they are, alas, elusive. On St. Patrick's Day, March 17th, mark the occasion with a Leprechaun Mold — itself a treasure.

★ ★ ★

On this holiday, dear to the hearts of the Irish and other convivial souls as well, you may eat the green as well as wear the green.

★ ★ ★

Leprechaun Mold is an elegant, fluffy dessert that derives its appropriate color from creme de menthe.

And because it is made with reliable unflavored gelatine, little cooking is involved — just the few minutes required to dissolve the gelatine in liquid.

While the ingredients are easy to make, some novice cooks may shy away from molded desserts because of some uncertainty about how to unmold them. Nothing could be simpler.

★ ★ ★

Dip the mold in a bowl of warm water to the depth of its contents and run a small sharp paring knife around the rim of the mold.

Place a serving dish on top of the mold, invert, and shake gently. If the contents do not slip out readily, repeat the procedure.

Keep in mind that you can turn this same mixture into a bowl or individual dessert dishes, too, for family service — the dessert is just too delicious to be limited to the leprechaun season.

Leprechaun Mold

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup cold water
½ cup sugar, divided
⅛ teaspoon salt
3 eggs, separated
¼ cup green creme de menthe
¼ cup white creme de cacao
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

★ ★ ★

Sprinkle gelatine over water in medium saucepan. Add ¼ cup of the sugar, salt, and egg yolks; stir until thoroughly blended. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatine dissolves and mixture thickens slightly, about 5 minutes.

Remove from heat; stir in creme de menthe and creme de cacao. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Gradually add remaining ¼ cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold in gelatine mixture. Fold in whipped cream.

★ ★ ★

Turn into 6-cup mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Make your thinnest pancakes and spread them with strawberry preserves; roll up and serve with sour cream.

Egg and Cream for Dessert Sauce

Beat up a creamy sauce that's just right with steamed pudding.

Fluffy Sauce

1 large egg, separated
½ teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup confectioners sugar
¾ cup cream

★ ★ ★

Beat the egg white until it forms soft peaks; gradually beat in the sugar. Without washing the egg beater, beat egg yolk and vanilla until thickened and lemon color; add to egg white mixture and beat gently to blend.

★ ★ ★

With the clean beater, beat cream until stiff; fold in gently but quickly. Serve at once. Makes about 2 cups.

Police Probe Shooting; Teen Victim Is 'Fair'

Pontiac police are investigating the apparent accidental shooting of an 18-year-old youth last night at Franklin and Crystal Lake Roads.

John Wesley Hardin of 132 Prospect is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a gunshot wound in the back.

* * *

Hardin told police Theodoric Hindmon, 20, of 433 Franklin was showing him a small pistol prior to the shooting.

The victim said when he turned and walked away he heard a noise and felt something strike his back.

Man Is Sentenced in Burning of Home

Thomas Miles, 29, of 19 W. Wilson was sentenced yesterday to one-year probation with the first 60 days in the county jail for preparing to burn his home.

Originally charged with arson, Miles was permitted to plead guilty Feb. 4 to the lesser count. He was sentenced by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Miles was arrested Nov. 17 by Pontiac police. They accused him of setting fire to the house when one of the other tenants refused to come downstairs to his apartment and see him.

Two Cadets Behind AF Cheat Ring

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Air Force Secretary Eugene Zuckert says the Air Force Academy cheating ring was headed by two cadets who acted as brains behind a six-man profit-making operation for at least a year.

Some details of the pay-and-cheat scandal were made public yesterday in a letter from Zuckert to Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y. Stratton, a member of the House armed services committee, asked last month for information on the scandal.

Zuckert said cheating had gone undetected at the academy for "at least a year" before the scandal broke into the open last December when several cadets informed that other cadets were cheating.

The secretary said 119 cadets were interviewed, and 105 admitted involvement in the cheating and tendered resignations. The other 14 were cleared of cheating.

* * *

Zuckert said the two ringleaders employed four other cadets to act as contact men to sell the examinations. The other 99 cadets either bought or used the quizzes, he said.

The activities of the six-man group "expanded rapidly in the fall of 1964," Zuckert said.

TOOK EXAMS

"In early December, a series of examinations were stolen by two individuals who gained entry into the academic building where examinations were stored. Entry was gained at night after the faculty staff had departed or early in the morning prior to business hours.

* * *

He said that "a device on the elevator designed to preclude its stopping on the particular floor was circumvented to gain access thereto."

U-M Gets $191,000

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan said Wednesday it received $191,000 during January from the U.S. Public Health Service. It said the money was used for research in such areas as psychology, zoology and communication.

FOUND MISSING MAN — Mrs. Hans Brucker of Aspen, Colo., identified a man she saw at a Colorado ski resort as a man who disappeared in 1960 after skin diving near Troy, N.Y. The man, Clayton Hollister, was identified as Norman Briggs. His former wife remarried after she believed him dead.

Home Rule Bill Change Asked

The County Home Rule Study Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday termed the so-called Wayne County Home Rule Bill pending in the state legislature too restrictive and called for a broader bill.

The home rule committee will ask the legislative committee of the board of supervisors to take appropriate action to effect such legislation.

Chief objections to the pending bill, introduced last month with the backing of 14 Senate Democrats, was that it provides for a partisan charter commission election.

Home rule study committee members felt that counties should, at their discretion, be permitted to decide on whether the charter election should be partisan or bi-partisan.

Another objection is the bill's restriction that offices of drain commissioner and registrar of deeds be elective.

* * *

Counties should have the option of either making these offices elective or appointive, according to the study committee.

CD Citation Is Given to Oak Park Woman

The Civil Defense Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday presented a citation to an Oak Park woman who recently utilized knowledge from the CD medical emergency course to save a life.

* * *

Honored was Mrs. Margaret Bartkowski of 14136 Victoria, who received the certificate from Delos Hamlin, chairman of the board of supervisors.

Mrs. Bartkowski was cited for her assistance to a neighbor who suffered an apparent heart attack.

She administered mouth to mouth resuscitation to the victim while awaiting the arrival of an ambulance.

* * *

The patient, who had stopped breathing after the attack, later was reported in good condition at the hospital.

ANOTHER AWARD

Another award presented at yesterday's meeting of the Civil Defense Committee went to Harold C. Bird of 114 Hickory.

Bird was given the community service button in recognition of his selection as Volunteer of the Week of the Central Bureau of the United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit.

A letter of appreciation accompanied the gold button presented to Bird by Alex Solley, chairman of the Civil Defense Committee.

In other business at the meeting, a letter from Acting Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger was read commending Civil Defense Director Wallace Crane and Assistant Director Thomas Jackson for their efforts in aiding distressed persons during the Feb. 25 snowstorm.

* * *

Hanger said the pair was responsible for making cots and blankets available for use in the emergency shelter in the National Guard Armory and in the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. building.

Explosions Rip Flint Gas Firm as Plant Burns

FLINT (UPI) — A series of explosions rocked Flint's east side last night when a fire destroyed a building belonging to the Fuelgas Co.

* * *

The fire demolished the 60-by-40-foot concrete block building used as a warehouse and loading dock. Fire officials said a number of empty acetylene gas cylinders were inside the building at the time of the fire.

* * *

The 140-pound tanks were empty, but vapors had accumulated inside of them, causing them to go off like rockets when the flames reached them. A number of windows in the area were shattered, but no injuries were reported.

Attend Course on Elm Disease

Two Pontiac men, Kenneth Harris, city forester, and George Andrews, forestry foreman, attended a one-day course on dutch elm disease at Michigan State University yesterday.

The two forestry experts were to learn a new technique in control of the tree disease, which killed 260 elms in Pontiac last year.

The city spent $10,000 in 1964 in an effort to combat dutch elm disease.

A new injection method has been devised that helps control the insect carrier, but it does not cure a tree once the fungus disease has set in.

As soon as the new injection material — bidrin systemic insecticide — is available, the forestry division of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department will put it to use in an experimental program.

Spring Hats Came Out to Town Hall Luncheon

A light cocoa straw with upturned brim was the choice of Mrs. Elmer Boch of Orchard Lake. It highlighted a brown suit with brown and white striped blouse.

White flowers resembling Stephanotis completely covered the hat worn by Mrs. Joseph P. McManus of Lahser Road. Her silk costume suit was deep royal blue.

The smile is worth a picture, even without the hat of navy straw. Mrs. Russell Boushell, Masefield Drive, paired the hat with its red and white band to a navy suit.

Shaped like an English bobby's hat is this silky white straw worn by Mrs. Albert Stanker of Green Lake. Her suit is nubby blue wool.

Mrs. Mark Van Wagoner of Oxford was gay as a daffodil in her yellow flowered hat. She wore it with a bright yellow basket weave wool dress.

Takes Mystery From Art

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

"Art is one means of communication between the artist and the viewer."

And if you don't see anything but ugliness in a painting, said Normah Garbo, Wednesday's Town Hall speaker, the artist has failed, not YOU.

Garbo endeared herself to a large segment of his audience when he described abstract art as something that "amuses, angers, annoys and nauseates" him.

"When it is good, it is fine design. When it is bad, it is a complete fraud and ugly."

JUST EXCUSES

He dismisses the explanation that much abstract art is a reflection of the times and the despair about the atom bomb. To him, it is just an excuse for bad painting and pure nonsense.

He thinks the world of art is slowly coming around from the emphasis on abstraction.

* * *

What is popular runs in cycles. Museum basements are full of paintings that were once considered great.

He is saddened by the fact that many famous painters of the past received almost nothing for their work which now sells for thousands, even millions of dollars.

"No painting in the world is worth two and a half million," Garbo stated flatly, referring to the recent acquisition of a Rembrandt by the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

DON'T GAMBLE

As for buying art to make money: "Buy AT&T or General Motors for a better chance of appreciating your dollars."

Garbo was busy painting a landscape in oils all the time he was talking.

* * *

Looking like a successful business man and speaking with a humorous twist, the lecturer had decisive things to say about painting.

Unfortunately, he said the word "amateur" has come to mean a person who does something badly. It should mean one who is not a professional.

* * *

Painting is easy and one doesn't need a detailed course in drawing first. You learn techniques and apply them.

This has nothing to do with the critics who study pictures and then attempt to interpret what the artist meant.

"Art critics have an adverb complex." They frighten away thousands of painters.

FEELING COUNTS

You must feel inside what you put on canvas.

"I am probably the only advocate of the pit-of-the-stomach school of pictorial composition," said Garbo.

"If it feels right, it is right.

"An artist must believe in what he does. To be uncertain artistically is to be dead."

VERSATILE

Garbo is a portrait painter, an author (one syndicated column, one book on art, one novel in the works); a playwright (play will be presented this summer); and a family man.

"I put in a 94-hour week."

Mrs. George Bain, Ella Mae Street, Oakland Township, was a hostess at the Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall luncheon Wednesday. With her watermelon pink suit, she wore a shiny straw in an off-white shade.

Report Mail Immediately to Your Local Postmaster

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our problem is this: Our teen-age son has been receiving filthy literature in the mail.

ABBY

We were very much disturbed about this and talked to him about it.

He says he has no idea who is sending it to him. And we believe him.

This is the first time this junk has ever been in our home and we don't want it.

Can you tell us how to keep this stuff out of our mailbox?

NO NAME

DEAR NO: Take it to your local postmaster. Be sure you have the original envelope in which the "literature" was mailed.

The postmark is an important clue.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I hope you can help me with a problem which is rather unusual. I was born without that part of an arm just below the elbow.

Having been born that way, I find it awkward to explain to people why I have only one arm. Try as I do, it always ends up with the same question, "but why?"

My little nephew is now at the stage where he asks a lot of questions, and he is so perplexed about this. Believe it or not, I have had many hurts from playmates whose mothers used me as an "example" to make their children behave.

Mothers will tell their children that I have only one arm because I was a bad boy and God "punished" me like that — and if they are not good, it could happen to them.

There must be others who have a similar problem, and I shall be watching your column for some kind of answer that will satisfy the curious small fry.

WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Explain that from the mysteries of human reproduction, unexplainable things happen now and then, and that your incomplete arm is one of them; that you do not feel handicapped and have learned to live with the loss.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: One day last week a very good friend of ours invited my husband and me to join her and her husband for a drive to a nearby resort to spend the day and have dinner in the evening. We accepted.

Later she called back and said they owed another couple a dinner and asked what I thought about asking them to join us?

It so happens that I do not like the other couple. Being around them leaves me low in spirits, so I told her that I didn't think much of the idea. Well, she didn't invite them.

Now my husband is ashamed of me. He said I should have agreed to let the other couple join us and suffered through the day and evening.

If he is right, tell me why.

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: I think your husband is wrong. Since you were ASKED by your hostess whether you wanted the other couple to join you, there was no reason for you to have been hypocritical.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Klix of Rochester announce the engagement of their daughter, Dianne Carol to John Stewart Nordberg, son of the Milo C. Nordbergs of Mullet Lake. She is an alumna of Eastern Michigan University.

Chapter Trio Held Talks

Three diversified programs highlighted a meeting of Xi Beta Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, Tuesday in the home of Alice Jackson on Salmer Street.

Mrs. William Killen spoke on the "House and Home"; Mrs. Don Griffin on service activities which covered the Michigan Heart Association. Mrs. Park Buckner's subject was "Grooming."

* * *

Coming events discussed were the March 24 card party sponsored by City Council in the CAI Building also the Founders' Day banquet for all chapters, April 28, in Pine Knob Resort.

James LaVerne on Styling

Guest speaker was James LeVerne at the recent meeting of the Pontiac unit of the National Hairdressers Association in the Pontiac Mall Community Room.

He was chosen winner in the permanent wave category at the North American Beauty and Fashion show held in Detroit this year.

Performance at OU

Symphonette Program

The Hope College Symphonette of Holland, Mich. will present a program of orchestral music, Friday, at 8:15 p.m., in the Oakland University Little Theatre.

Dr. Morrette Rider will direct the 30-piece symphonette which will perform under the sponsorship of the OU Concert Lecture Series.

* * *

Organized in 1955, the group is selected from the membership of the 75-piece symphony orchestra.

It has played more than 200 concerts in 34 states. This year's spring tour includes concerts in Michigan, Ontario, New York, New Hampshire and New Jersey.

PROGRAM

The program Friday night will include the "Ballet Suite" by Andre Gretry, the Concerto No. 4 in E Major and K495 for Horn and Orchestra by W. A. Mozart.

Other numbers will be the Prelude from "Pelleas et Melisande," Opus 80, by Gabriel Faure, and the Symphony No. 5 in B Major by Franz Schubert.

* * *

According to Dr. David Di Chiera, director of the OU series, tickets will be available at the door. Students are admitted without charge.

Zonta Election

Members of the Zonta Club of Pontiac will gather for dinner and election of officers this evening at 6:30 in the Birmingham home of Mrs. Melvin Correll.

Scenes From Operas to Be Repeated Here

Opera devotees will get another chance to see "Overture to Opera IV" next Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in the Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

Under the sponsorship of the Detroit Grand Opera Association and Oakland University, Overture IV is being repeated in this area because hundreds of people were turned away from a February performance at OU.

Tickets for $1 will be available at the door.

Holders of Community Arts Council-OU Concert series tickets may use their Feb. 14 tickets.

A prelude to the operas to be performed in Detroit in May by the Metropolitan Opera Company, it previews scenes from five operas.

FIVE OPERAS

Included will be excerpts from Puccini's "Tosca," Saint-Saens' "Samson and Delilah," Verdi's "Otello" and "Rigoletto" and the contemporary "Susannah" by Carlisle Floyd.

Dr. David DiChiera, OU assistant professor of music, is the producer-director of Overture IV.

* * *

Students will hear the music from three of the operas, "Rigoletto," "Tosca" and "Samson and Delilah" at the Wednesday afternoon performance.

* * *

Secondary vocal music teachers in the Pontiac School System are preparing selected groups and familiarizing their classes with the stories and backgrounds.

Pontiac Press Photo

Members of the Pontiac committee for the Metropolitan Opera's visit to Detroit are elated that two performances of "Overture to Opera" will be presented at Pontiac Northern High School next week. The students will be in the audience Wednesday morning and the general public at 8:15 p.m. Thursday. From the left are Mrs. Arnold Brown, Erie Drive; Mrs. James T. Howlett, East Iroquois Road; and George Putnam, supervisor of secondary vocal and instrumental music in Pontiac schools.

Mrs. Lawson McKenzie of Wingcroft Court, president of the Detroit Chapter of Ikebana International, looks on as her former teacher, Mrs. Frank A. Allen of Washington, D.C., demonstrates the Japanese method of floral design. Mrs. Allen, founder of the parent society, presented the Detroit chapter with its charter yesterday.

Mrs. Allen Is Star at Ikebana Workshop

By JODY HEADLEE
Pontiac Press Garden Editor

Spring came early to the Village Woman's Club as members of the newly-formed Detroit Chapter of Ikebana International gathered at a Japanese flower arranging workshop led by Mrs. Frank A. Allen of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Allen, founder of Ikebana International in 1956, earned her teacher's certificate from Houn Ohara, headmaster of the famous Japanese Ohara School of floral arrangement.

She has a certificate in informal arrangements from Koshi Tsujii.

★ ★ ★

Her interest in ikebana, the art of Japanese floral arrangements, began when she spent two years in Japan while her husband, Major General Frank A. Allen, was assistant commanding officer of the 1st Cavalry Division in Korea.

STUDY NATURE

Introduced by Mrs. Lawson McKenzie of Wingcroft Court, Bloomfield Township, president and founder of the Detroit branch, Mrs. Allen advised her students to study nature.

"Let the flowers and branches tell you how to arrange them," she said.

★ ★ ★

Inverting a moribana container, the shallow rectangular dish so popular with arrangers, Mrs. Allen said, "You begin with the shin or subject line."

In the standard upright arrangement, the shin must total the diameter and depth of the container plus one-half more.

SECONDARY LINE

The soe or secondary line measures two-thirds of shin line. And the tai or subject line equals one half of the shin.

From these three lines or planes, the arranger can create a multitude of patterns.

In placing the fundamental lines in the kensan, the needlepoint holder, the shin is inserted at a 10 to 15 degree angle, the soe 45 degree and the position of the tai is exaggerated at a 60 degree angle.

To create a "heavenly" arrangement, an extra-length shin is accentuated by having the soe one-half the shin's length and the tai one third. The degree angles to the kensan remain constant.

Mrs. Allen warned arrangers not to use more than three different materials in any one arrangement and to be sure all flowers were turned up toward the sun.

Encouraging the expansion of the ikebana movement, Mrs. Allen presented the charter to the Detroit branch yesterday. It is the 85th chapter to join Ikebana International.

The society has a worldwide membership of 6,000, 4,000 in the United States.

Language Study Abroad Is Presented by MSU

Students and faculty interested in language study in Europe this summer are invited to a meeting on the Oakland University campus on Friday.

Dr. Sheldon Cherney, director of the Michigan State University American Language and Educational Center, will speak at 12:30 p.m. in Room 163, South Foundation Hall.

The meeting was arranged by Dr. Frances P. Tafoya, head of the OU Department of Foreign Languages.

The MSU program offers nine-credit language courses in Paris, France; Cologne, Germany, and Madrid, Spain; Lausanne and Neuchatel, Switzerland, and Florence, Italy.

Features of the program are modest cost and the opportunity for frequent use of the language through family housing arrangements.

Both the credit and non-credit courses are scheduled from July 5 to Aug. 20.

Wilson to Speak

Fashion Your Figure Club of Pontiac, members will hear Bruce Wilson, attorney, speak at the Thursday meeting in the Adah Shelley Library at 7:30 p.m.

Subject matter discussed will be the "Importance of Wills."

Mr. and Mrs. Suddeth Watkins of Devondale Street, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Frances to Harwood A. Gladding, son of Mrs. Justin Hancock of Crooks Road, Avon Township, and the late Harwood A. Gladding.

A June 12 altar date has been set by Diane Carolyn Crook, and Ronald Duane Cockrum, son of Mrs. Kenneth Cockrum of West Ann Arbor Avenue and the late Mr. Cockrum. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Maurice H. Crook of Kohler Street and the late Mr. Crook.

Date Is Changed

Covert, Leggett, and Sandburg PTAs will not meet this week as reported in Wednesday's paper, but will hold a joint meeting on March 18 in the Leggett school at 7:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Clay Lafferty, consultant for Waterford Schools will speak.

Diet for Twosome

Romance Ignores Fatties

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE V-422: Della is a fat wife who grieved at the lack of romance in her husband.

She and Harry had been married 20 years.

But Harry weighed 165 and she only 115 on their wedding day.

Alas, now they tip the scales at 215 and 147, respectively.

Cupid's arrows usually bounce off such fat targets, so get hep!

So I urged them to start on that dehydration diet by which they could shed 10 pounds in the first 10 days.

Obviously, part of this is fluid, but dieters need a quick weight loss of 10 pounds to bolster their morale.

EASIER FOR TWO

Besides, two people can diet more easily than one!

* * *

In dieting, please remember that protein is an essential for your muscles, but the body does not store protein.

You have plenty of fat and sugars, even if you are slender, so you don't need to fret unduly about cutting down on them.

* * *

In your diet menu, rely heavily on cottage cheese, for it counts 200 calories for a full 8 ounch cup.

Add a teaspoonful of jam or honey and a few lettuce leaves so you will have an appetizing and rather filling lunch.

The honey, sugar or jam will count an extra 25 calories per spoonful, but those 225 calories will give you the feeling of a fairly adequate meal!

Eggs are also good, especially boiled or poached, for they count about 75 calories. If fried, they run to 100 calories.

SLOW ON SALT

Go slow on salt, for it holds 70 times its weight of water in the tissues.

An average hot dog, potato, apple, banana, or meat in a hamburger patty — all count about 100 calories apiece.

Head lettuce, celery and green beans are very low in calories.

So I put Harry on 1,200 calories per day and Della on 800.

The first day they were to limit their entire liquid intake to just 8 ounces (one full glass or cup).

Next day, they could move up to TWO glasses of fluids and THREE on the 3rd through the 10th days.

If it is hot weather and you are doing heavy farm or muscular work, you may need more liquid, but the average clerk or stenographer or housewife can get along O.K. on that low fluid intake.

And it pays off well, for you'll be down about 3 pounds the first day!

DISSOLVE ASPIRIN

If you get a headache, use an aspirin tablet (but always dissolve aspirin in water BEFORE you swallow it).

Otherwise, the tablet may stick on the wall of your stomach and erode an ulcer there.

Many perforated ulcer patients had swallowed undissolved, dry aspirin tablets just prior to such perforation, so dissolve apsirin!

Mr. and Mrs. John Kinaites Jr. of Adams Road, Oakland Township, announce the engagement of her daughter, Kathleen Roxanna Blakley to Gunner's Mate Technician 3. C. Leo Gordon Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Nichols of Royal Oak. Her fiance is stationed at the Clarksville, Tenn. Naval Base.

Two Faces for Table

Give your table two faces. One set of sterling, plus a change of accessories, turns the trick. One day, use traditional pastel damask cloth with matching napkins, your nicest glassware, and a formal floral arrangement for a centerpiece.

The next time your entertain, try a brightly - colored linen cloth with wildly contrasting napkins, and an informal centerpiece such as a heaping bowl of real citrus fruits.

* * *

Sterling goes with anything, so you can be traditional one time; contemporary the next, with some quick changes and a little imagination.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:

I can hardly believe my eyes when I see the new sport clothes with the huge zippers completely uncovered. Is this a fad??
Mrs. F. B.

Dear Mrs. F. B.:

It's new, different and definitely a fad to have the large wide zippers completely uncovered in the new spring and summer sport clothes.

Rather than having to give in and admit my age, I'll have to go along with this latest fashion idea, but personally, I have never seen anything attractive about a zipper.

The following instructions should make it easy for you to insert if you are lucky enough to find these very heavy, wide-teeth zippers.

Measure the width of the metal teeth, (usually about ⅝ inch wide). Reinforce your garment fabric by machine stitching (small length stitch) across the lower edge where zipper will end, plus ½ inch up each side a little wider than the actual zipper.

Cut the fabric down the center and clip at an angle to each corner. Turn and press the long cut edge and lower end leaving a neat finished opening the exact size of the metal portion of the zipper.

Pin the folded edge over the zipper tape and machine stitch close to the teeth with the zipper foot.

These instructions apply only to the new exposed zippers on sport clothes and do not apply to the standard zipper applications.

★ ★ ★

Dear Miss Farmer:

I have difficulty with patterns fitting me too high in the neck. What is the best way to trim this out without cutting away too much?
Mrs. A. B.

Dear Mrs. A. B.:

After stitching the neck facing to your dress, clip the seam allowance clear down to the machine stitching. This clipping should be done every inch or so.

Now you will be able to baste the neck edge in place and fit it on.

If it is too tight, restitch the neck a little deeper, usually beginning at the shoulder and gradually curving down at the center front. Again clip and baste for checking.

It is not necessary to rip your previous stitching since you are stitching a deeper seam. This is the safest way of checking; it is often fatal to trim without knowing the exact amount.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

A help for beginners to apply bias binding or braid trim, is rounding off the peaks and points of collars, lapels and front closings at the bottom of a jacket and even pockets. It is much easier to get perfect results without trying to miter those corners, and it also adds less bulk.

It also presents a softer and more feminine look than the sharp pointed details.

Mrs. M. Fuelling, St. Louis, Mo., is this week's winner of a Tailor Trix pressing board for this suggestion.

Designer Advises Women

ROME (AP) — Ladies, here's some strong fashion advice from one of the top Italian designers: Never dress for a man—and admit your age.

That's the judgment of Gilles.

He insists that "the average man doesn't know anything about fashion" and that women should reassess themselves with a cold and clinical eye every 10 years.

MEN DON'T KNOW

"Never ask a man's advice about fashion," said Gilles (he used just one name) in an interview. "Any woman who dresses for a man is wrong. And some women even change their style with their men. "When the average man sees something nice, he says 'That's nice.' But never ask him first."

Seated in the black and white striped salon of Barocco, the successful new Rome fashion house he opened this season with Italian designer Rocco, Swiss-born Gilles declared:

"By now women should be mature enough and secure enough to dress as they want without thinking about what men think."

Any woman who is elegant admits her age, says Gilles, at least to herself.

While expressing belief that a woman should express her own personality, he also thinks she often needs to find a new personality — about once every 10 years.

He sets the fashion milestones at 25-35-45, with each mid-decade time for a cold, hard look in the mirror.

AFTER 50

And at 50, he says, it's time for a woman to change everything. Be merciless about eliminating fussy detail, strip off anything cute, and adopt a style that is beautifully tailored, almost severe.

"I have seen women who after 45 or 50 had the courage to change completely, and become truly fascinating for the first time in their lives," he said.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

The way your lipstick is applied can make a dramatic difference in your appearance. I have often written this and so have many other beauty editors. I think it is sometimes misunderstood by readers.

The statement is absolutely true. If you have very thin lips, you can greatly improve their attractiveness by drawing the line of color out a bit. Just a slight change can make a big difference.

If your lips are too full, of course draw the color line in a bit.

★ ★ ★

The older woman will usually profit by the technique of making the lower lip fairly full and not taking the color quite all the way to the very corners of the mouth.

This gives the lips an upswing look which minimizes any tendency toward a drooping mouth.

However, be sure to look carefully at the natural shape of your mouth. Perhaps it is more appealing and lovely than any shape you could devise.

I know at least one woman who was emphasizing and enlarging the shape of her upper lip into almost a rosebud, or pouting effect until her sister asked why in the world she didn't follow the natural lines of her mouth.

NATURAL MOUTH

This woman's mouth was a real asset because it was unusually beautiful, but she had just never thought of it that way and was trying to improve it. When she took her sister's advice she realized that she was much better looking with her own natural mouth.

It is sometimes difficult to see ourselves objectively as others see us.

So, if you are going to improve on nature, first decide whether you will look best by outlining the natural contour of your lips or whether nature needs a little assist. If the latter is true help her subtly.

★ ★ ★

Otherwise you may end with a rosebud, a pout or a sneer on your mouth.

TO POWDER OR NOT

Some makeup experts advise that powder or a foundation be applied to the lips before the lipstick. Others believe that the lips should be absolutely clean.

I think that lipstick goes on much more smoothly if the lips are clean.

Bride-Elect Is Feted at Showers

Parties continue for Penny Ann Galbraith of Westacres Drive who will wed George Thomas Acree Jr., March 20, in the Orchard Lake Community Church Presbyterian.

Mrs. Kenneth W. Thompson of Bloomfield Village and Mrs. Fred Rosevear Jr. of Locklin Lane, West Bloomfield Township, were cohostesses at a shower on Tuesday in the latter's home.

★ ★ ★

Sharing hostess honors with Marilyn Sherby at a buffet luncheon-shower Sunday in her Rochester home were Kathy Tooey, Barbara Kast, Carole Schroeder, Susan Brown and Sharon Bacon.

Mrs. Norman MacDonald served dessert preceding a recent shower in her Royal Oak home. Ellen and Gail Acree were cohostesses.

The senior Acrees will host the rehearsal dinner for their son and his fiancee, daughter of the Morrell Galbraiths, in their home in Huntington Woods.

Each One Makes His Own Credit Rating

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

You know by now, of course, that you're a walking, living, breathing, tax - paying Number.

MARY FEELEY

You've got your social security number, your zip code number, your auto license number, your charge account number (in some stores), and the chances are your telephone number is getting longer and more complicated by the year.

But don't forget that you're also a Letter. If you ever asked for, and received, credit anywhere in the U.S.A., you're an AA, an A, a Ba, or a C. Or, you may be an S or an L.

Dear Miss Feeley: I would like some information regarding a good credit rating. How do the various companies determine whether or not a person has a good credit rating or a poor credit rating?

How do you go about improving your rating? I know that in order to have a good record you should pay your bills on time and not over-extend yourself. But I would like more specific information on the subject. Mrs. B. H., New York City

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. H.: I think it would be a very good idea if more credit - customers had more specific information on the subject. So I will tell you what I can in this limited space.

There are broad classifications that describe people's paying habits — and credit bureaus around the country collect these facts through a detailed, elaborate system.

There's a local credit bureau in the community where you apply for credit, whether it's a small charge account in a retail store or a sizable loan from a lending institution. This bureau has access to your record established by other credit bureaus where you have lived before.

There are over 2,600 of these agencies, which originally were set up by merchants and other businessmen. There are, in addition, private investigating companies.

The facts on how good a credit risk you may be can also come from banks, court and police records, directories and newspaper reports.

If you have applied for credit and received it within the last few years, you have probably earned your letter.

★ ★ ★

What the man who risks his money — or his merchandise — wants to know about you is whether you'll justify his confidence, and how long it will take. So the classifications for credit reports can include these letters:

AA (stands for paid "As Agreed"); A (prompt payment); B (paid in 60 to 90 days); C (paid in 120 days). Then there's "Satisfactory," "Late," and on down the line, including slow and poor.

It is very heartening to discover — as I did in talking to credit bureau officials — that they are unwilling to down-grade their reports on a man's credit without knowing why and how he got into financial difficulties.

If there was a suit that had not been resolved between the creditor and the debtor, this is taken into consideration.

★ ★ ★

What a lot of people forget is the fact that — as one Credit Association Manager puts it — "Credit is a privilege, not a right."

AMOUNT IMPORTANT

As to how much detail and trouble a businessman will go in order to find out your credit-history, a lot depends on how much you want to buy or borrow.

He may want an estimate of your bank account and regular checking account practices, your stability as an employer or employe, your residence address, and general stability as a person.

If an institution is considering lending you a large amount of money for a long period of time, a more detailed financial picture and personal background information will be required.

Federal Housing Administration in insuring home mortgages on maximum terms, puts high value on a record of prompt payments on store charge accounts and other unsecured credit.

They feel that the manner in which a borrower meets these obligations is highly significant in forecasting his responsibility with monthly mortgage payments.

As for improving a poor credit rating, face the fact that it may take some time.

If you explain the situation to your creditors, if you get off to a fresh start by paying rent or mortgage commitments promptly, if you keep up to the minute with small household accounts by the week or the month, this will help.

Even regular cash purchases at a community store are an indication of a certain stability, a regularity in your manner of living.

Establishing a checking account and savings account, after you've paid up, or making use of credit union services, are other ways of putting your credit record on a better basis.

★ ★ ★

As soon as you reasonably can, ask for credit again on a limited basis from a local merchant.

Bottom comes out on top . . . the bottom of an old fashioned wicker chair forms the brim of this hat introduced in London March 8 by Madame Vernier, celebrating her 25th anniversary in the hat business. London fashion circles say the hat, modeled by Hannerle Dehn, is one of the year's smartest. Experts may be off their rockers, but it looks tip-top from here.

Remove Stains

Remove temporary stains from glassware by adding a teaspoon of household bleach to the detergent water in which you are washing the glassware.

Newcomers Men's Night

The Pontiac Newcomers Club will hold its annual Men's Night Saturday at the Portland Court home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Berry.

Assisting Mrs. Berry will be Mrs. A. W. Bickley and Mrs. Howard Droeser as cohostesses. Others on the committee are Mrs. Paul Thams and Mrs. Dennis Lowes.

Read Directions Before Using

With the trend toward ever-larger automatic washer capacity, you may need to update your ideas and practices regarding what makes an efficient load — and also what is the correct amount of soap or detergent to use.

Follow directions in booklets and on packages.

Seek Trained Help for Adopted Child

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Our lovely and talented daughter of 20 reaches for stars when it comes to men.

She gets "crushes" on older ones who are either married or uninterested in her while she ignores the fine boys she could have. She's through with a date as soon as he shows interest in her.

I should tell you that she took the news that she is our adopted child quite hard; and so I have begun to wonder if this attitude is normal young confusion or a sign of deeper trouble . . .

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: You sound like such a devoted mother that I want you to honor this uneasiness you feel—and ask a psychiatrist for guidance.

You see, like you, I have no way of knowing whether your daughter is seriously troubled or whether she isn't.

But I'm pretty sure of this: when a child's adolescence throws the mating drive into high gear, his feelings toward the mating which produced him can get mixed up in it.

So this beautiful child of yours may now be struggling with all the feelings associated with her knowledge of her parents' abandonment, not only of her, but of each other.

And not unnaturally be expressing themselves in fear of any sexual commitment for herself—in "crushes" on partners she cannot have and in avoidance of relationships she could have which might really involve her.

Such a situation would be, of course, way out of our control.

There would be very little we could do about it because the child's appreciation of us would make her preoccupation with her natural parents' treatment of each other to subsurface, too sensitive to become aware of, much less to discuss with us.

We are fools to be ashamed of seeking professional guidance in a situation like this—as foolish as we'd be not to ask a physician for antibiotics for an infection we could not control.

Use Toasted Peanuts for Southern Pie

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Not long ago, we gave you several recipes for peanut butter pie. Today, it's a recipe for peanut pie, one similar to pecan pie.

Mrs. C. H. Williams who lives in the Rochester area is our cook. She says this recipe comes from North Carolina.

TOASTED PEANUT PIE
By Mrs. C. H. Williams

1 cup dark corn syrup
3 eggs, unbeaten
3 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons melted butter
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup whole toasted peanuts, unsalted
1 8-inch unbaked pie shell

Combine syrup, eggs, flour, butter and salt in mixing bowl. Beat with rotary beater 60 turns only.

Spread toasted peanuts in bottom of unbaked pie shell. Pour liquid mixture over top. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

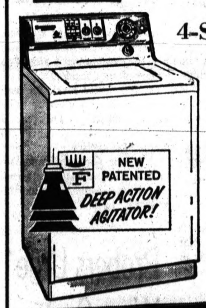

To toast peanuts: Place shelled nuts in shallow pan in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 10 minutes, or until nuts are slightly brown.

Best Advance of Week

Autos Spark Stock Mart Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — A rally by autos helped spur a early market advance early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

After two sessions of irregular decline, the list began to pull itself together for the best upward movement of the week.

The market was only irregularly higher at the opening. Autos began to advance in mid morning. Credited for some of the strength was a published report that the auto industry is moving from one record to another.

Steels edged higher on balance. Traders returned to the airlines, some of which showed gains exceeding a point. Chemicals and electrical equipments also were higher.

RETAIL SALES

A rise in retail sales in February to a record for the third straight month was another encouraging factor.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .9 at 335.0 with industrials up 1.7, rails up .1 and utilities up .4.

* * *

As autos came to life, Chrysler tacked on a point and a half while General Motors and Ford climbed nearly a point each. American Motors' gain of about a point was a big percentage gain for this lower-priced issue. Studebaker edged higher.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE

Prices were higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Technical Operations was up about 2.

* * *

Corporate bonds were mostly steady in light trading. U.S. Government bonds edged higher.

China Closer to H-Bomb?

Expect 2nd N-Blast to Utilize Plutonium

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Scientific sources speculated today that Red China's second nuclear test weapon may be a plutonium bomb dropped from an airplane.

This would be evidence, one expert said, that the Chinese possess "real atomic sophistication." It also would suggest ability to develop the H-bomb.

Both the U.S. and British governments have forecast another Chinese atomic test but have not said what they think the device will be.

Plutonium is a man-made fissionable material usable in A-bombs and as triggers in H-bombs.

* * *

According to unofficial reports heard here, the Red Chinese have five nuclear reactors capable of producing small amounts of plutonium. They are said to have in operation a plant for recovering plutonium from reactor fuel cores and processing it for weapons.

This plant, according to the reports, is near Paotow, north of the Great Wall in Inner Mongolia.

FIRST TEST

China's first test weapon, exploded Oct. 16, 1964, was made of Uranium-235. U-235 is a natural fissionable material produced by separating it from the far more plentiful Uranium-238. U-238 is not readily fissionable.

Experts had believed the first Chinese bomb would be made of plutonium which is somewhat easier to produce, especially in nations not intensively industrialized.

$50 Billion by Business

Spending Plans Hiked

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Business executives are celebrating the start of the fifth year of economic growth by raising their spending plans. They now expect to cross the $50-billion mark for the first time in their outlays for new plants and equipment.

DAWSON

And they intend to spend the most in the second half of 1965, a period that many have feared might see a setback.

* * * *

At the same time that government officials were announcing the upgrading in capital spending plans, they were revising upward once again their earlier estimates of retail sales in December and January and preparing first guesses on consumer spending in February.

December retail sales are now put at $22.8 billion, January at $22.9 billion and February is around $22.7 billion, seasonally adjusted. All figures are well above comparable ones in the 12-month-earlier periods.

BIGGEST SOURCE

Consumer pocketbooks, the economy's biggest source of strength, were obviously open, and are remaining so.

Government spending, especially at state and local levels, is rising this year.

* * *

And now the third big prop to the economy, capital outlays by business, seems set for its fifth straight year of increases.

A survey of business capital spending plans three months ago put 1965's outlays 8 per cent higher than 1964's record $44.9 billion.

NEW SURVEY

A new survey, just made public, calls for a 12 per cent rise to $50.2 billion, with the spending in the second half of the year running at an annual rate of $50.9 billion.

The surveys are made at regular intervals jointly by the Commerce Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission. They measure business confidence in long-range market growth as well as the spending intentions for the periods just ahead.

* * * *

While the $50 billion outlay, if it materializes as now expected, will give the economy a nice boost, some observers point out that the rate of increase is slowing. The gain over 1964 of 12 per cent compares with a 14 per cent rise in 1964 from the previous year.

And, while each quarter will see a rise from the previous one, this rate of growth also may be slackening.

ANNUAL RATE

In the final three months of 1964 the seasonally adjusted annual rate of spending has been revised upward to $48.8 billion. In the first three months of 1965 outlays are estimated to be $1.1 billion higher at an annual rate.

In the April-June quarter the gain is expected to be $800 million over the current quarter. The rate should rise by $650 million more in the July-September period, and by another $650 million in the final three months to hit an annual rate of around $51 billion.

* * *

But any such slowdown in the growth rate doesn't keep this record outlay by business from adding to the boost which government spending is sure to give, and to that which consumers show every sign of making.

If spending will do it, the year will be another banner one, and the fifth in a row of expansion.

Historial Societies in 'Grave' Dispute

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) — The question before the court is: Who's in charge at Mary Washington's grave?

"We have taken possession," says Mrs. Earle Ware Sr., head of the Mary Washington Monument Association of Fredericksburg.

"They just took it," retorts Mrs. Jules James of Washington, D.C., head of the National Mary Washington Memorial Association.

The national association has filed suit for repossession — plus $5,000 damages — in U.S. District Court at Richmond.

ADDING STATUS

Adding status to the suit are the names of President Johnson, Chief Justice Earl Warren, and Virginia Gov. Albertis S. Harrison Jr. unwittingly, all three have become members of the cast of characters.

The grave of George Washington's mother, dead these 176 years, lies in a two-acre plot, shaded by stately trees, shadowed by a handsome monument, off downtown Fredericksburg.

For 10 cents, payable at a lodge on the premises, you can get a close-up look at the lodge, grass, trees, tomb, and monument.

For 73 years — since a now-disputed property deed of 1891 — Mrs. James' national association controlled the gravesite. Then, last summer, Mrs. Ware's folks moved in.

GO TO RUIN

"They were letting the place go to rack and ruin," says Mrs. Ware. "They let undergrowth and poison ivy spring up. They let the lodge fall into disrepair. The roof leaked and the plaster was falling from the walls."

* * *

Not so, says Mrs. James — "We had a very wonderful record. We put up fences, we planted memorial trees, we erected the monument."

Tit for tat, the national association's suit accuses the local group of doing "irreparable damage" to the property, of "numerous acts of waste." Namely, it removed ivy and shrubs and altered the inside of the lodge. It also began collecting the dimes.

What's more, the suit says, the Fredericksburg association took over in a most underhanded, reprehensible manner, obtaining a key to the lodge from a temporary custodian — and then changing all the locks.

TOOK POSSESSION

Mrs. Ware says that when the lodge custodian died last year, his daughter turned over the key "and right there, we took possession." Mrs. Ware named a new custodian.

And how did President Johnson, Chief Justice Warren, and Gov. Harrison get mixed up in it?

They are trustees of the National Mary Washington Memorial Association and, as such, hold title to the Mary Washington burial plot.

They are not, however, named as parties to the suit. And this fact, says the defense, is grounds for throwing the case out of court, for how could they be bound by any decision?

By OSWALD JACOBY

Here is another bridge discussion by the Jacobys. Father starts off:

JACOBY

O. J.: "South won the club lead with his ace and played three rounds of trumps to wind up in dummy. Then he led dummy's three of spades and played the king after East followed with the deuce. West took his ace and played a second club, South won in dummy, entered his hand with a second spade and played out his last two trumps. Two diamonds were discarded from dummy while West, who had let a diamond go on the third trump lead, had to jettison his last two diamonds.

"Then South led a diamond to dummy's ace and West was forced to unguard his ten of spades to retain his club stopper and South romped off with the slam. Do you think that West should have been smart enough to foresee the squeeze and break it up by ducking two rounds of spades?"

J. J.: "Yes, I do! It is much harder to make such fine plays at the table but West had heard the bidding and should have noted that South had bid spades after opening with a five card heart suit. Hence, South would hold four spades and East two and West would have nothing to lose by holding off.

"By the way, dad, do you think that East might have doubled North's three diamond bid? In that case West would have opened a diamond and the squeeze could never have materialized."

O. J.: "Yes! There was practically no chance that North and South actually were finding a diamond fit and East certainly wanted a diamond lead. What do you think of the bidding?"

J. J.: "Very good. The slam would be layed down with a reasonable break in spades."

Worries About Being Unloved

One Fear Dims Olivia de Havilland's Star

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — In the heart of every star there is a dark place where it doesn't twinkle.

BOYLE

You wouldn't think that is true of Olivia de Havilland, but it is, according to her own testimony.

Throughout her life whatever Livvy wanted, Livvy got. She was a standout student in school; she was still in her teens when she first won stage acclaim in Max Reinhardt's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Through a 30-year screen career she has been signally honored. She is one of the few actresses who have won two Oscars, and three other times she has been nominated for Academy Awards.

KEY WORRY

What could bother her now after such long success?

"I have a fear of being unloved," she said, "or of believing I'm loved and finding out that I'm not. Isn't that odd?"

* * *

Miss de Havilland attributes the feeling to the breakup of her parents' marriage — her father was an international patent attorney in Tokyo — during her childhood.

* * *

"I never knew my father after the age of 3," she remarked, "and I never even saw him for 10 years. I felt abandoned.

"It has profoundly affected both my life and that of my sister, Joan Fontaine. A thing like that leaves you jittery inside ever after."

DETERMINED

She is determined that her own two children, Benjamin, 15, and Gisele, 10, won't grow up with that feeling.

"I think the biggest duty of a parent is to have comprehension," she said. "To love them is not enough. Love without comprehension has no value."

"In adolescence children need this help most. They have strong feelings, then they don't understand themselves."

* * *

At 48 Livvy, married to a French magazine editor, retains the same haunting beauty she had when she played Melanie in "Gone With the Wind" in 1939. Her hair is a color she describes as pale mink. Her reddish brown eyes glow when she talks.

She is vivacious, keenly intelligent, bubbling over with many interests.

POSSIBILITY

"The world is full of infinite possibility," she said. "That's a thing so hard for many of us to remember, so easy to forget.

* * *

"Self-discouragement defeats too many people. By that I don't mean merely lack of energy. I mean negative attitudes.

"In every negative experience there is the seed of some immediately positive experience — if you can just find and develop it. Then you can't be defeated, because you won't let yourself be."

* * *

Livy likes:

"All colors, particularly blues, greens, and curious reds; the feel of soft wool and silk; early morning, because then I can have the world to myself and feel like I'm in paradise; painting in my little Japanese garden in Paris; Italian coffee; the cheerful songs of brown birds in winter; the smell of cigars, sometimes; rooms furnished in an order that implies harmony but not rigidity; the sound of lawn mowers in summer."

DISLIKES

And her dislikes?

"I don't like seeing a woman wearing ill-chosen accessories that destroy rather than enhance her costume. I don't like selfishness. And I don't like lying myself or being lied to.

* * *

"But a Frenchman once told me, 'Madam, you are wrong. You should tell the truth only to him who is qualified to hear it.'"

Methodists Urge Catholics to Act on Birth Control

LONDON (UPI) — A Methodist publication today urged the Roman Catholic Church to engage in a "dialogue" with all Christians over the birth control problem.

* * *

"The Roman Catholic Church has not a lot of time to make up its mind on this issue," an editorial in the Methodist Recorder said.

* * *

The Recorder said the present population explosion demands immediate discussion.

* * *

"The situation is one of those where, in the utmost Christian charity, Christians of every communion must ask the Romans to engage in a deeply concerned dialogue with them on the subject in order that the fullest Christian insights may be applied," the publication said.

Amazing New Diamond Crystal REDOUT* nuggets recharge water softeners, clean out iron deposits permanently, if used regularly

All water softeners must be kept clean. The softening resin is porous and becomes clogged with iron, silt, bacteria and other contaminants. Normal salting and backwashing is not enough. The clogging may extend to the control valve, brine valve, and other working parts of the softener. A service call is usually necessary.

New REDOUT nuggets, used regularly, will remove these contaminants completely from all parts of your water softener. REDOUT nuggets contain Pepti-fer, the revolutionary new additive that gives REDOUT its unusual rejuvenating power.

Without REDOUT
Resin beads are iron-coated and unable to attract calcium, magnesium and other hardness minerals.

With REDOUT
REDOUT removes the iron coating on the resin beads and restores your unit to peak efficiency.

Easy to use. Simply add REDOUT nuggets to your softener in the same manner and amount as you have done with regular salt, and REDOUT will begin thoroughly cleaning your conditioner. When its work is completed, the special cleansing agent is flushed away in the brine. While performing this important job, REDOUT nuggets will sanitize the tank, resin, and controls.

REDOUT preserves the chlorine effectiveness in your water supply. Unlike other iron-removing agents, REDOUT does not neutralize chlorine. The chlorine in your water is permitted to continue its sanitizing process with 100% efficiency.

Ordinary salt cannot remove iron deposits from your conditioner. If iron is not removed, the results are unsightly and costly. Iron will stain sinks and bowls, and will cause red stains in your laundry. Iron spoils the taste of tea and coffee, and certainly does not help your complexion.

Now you can remove iron and other contaminants as simply as adding salt to your water conditioner. If you have a new water conditioning unit, start using REDOUT nuggets today and enjoy extra years of trouble-free performance. If you have an older unit, let REDOUT bring it back to peak performance and keep it that way.

Howe, Ullman Hit Twice at Toronto

Wings Lead NHL by 2 Games

From Our Wire Services

The Detroit Red Wings are closing in on their first National Hockey League championship since 1956-57 — and it's no coincidence that goalie Roger Crozier is closing in on the Vezina Trophy award.

★ ★ ★

The 23-year-old rookie netminder starred in the nets Wednesday night when the Red Wings defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs 4-2 and increased their NHL lead to two points.

At the same time, Crozier increased his margin over the Toronto combination of Terry Sawchuk and Johnny Bower to four goals in the race for the Vezina Trophy.

Gordie Howe and Norm Ullman each slapped home two goals to pace the victory.

Howe put the Wings out in front within the first two minutes of play. He scored at 1:50 on an assist by Alex Delvecchio.

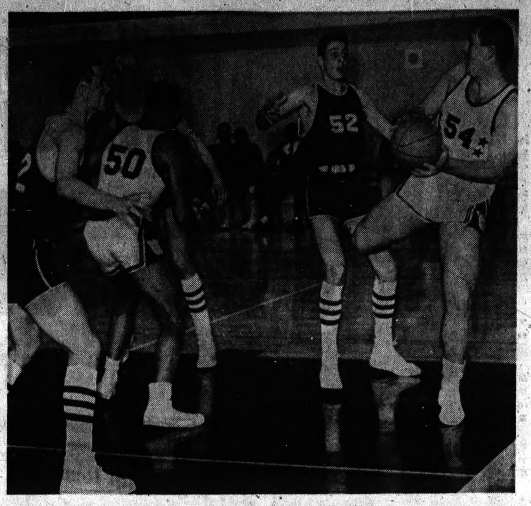

Ullman followed within two minutes with his first goal on assists by Howe and Delvecchio and the Leafs never caught up.

SECOND GOAL

Ron Stewart scored for the Leafs at 9:20 of the opening period, but Howe's second goal at 8:13 of the second period restored Detroit's two-goal margin.

Red Kelly put the Leafs back in contention with a goal at 10:05, but within 34 seconds Ullman's second goal on assists by Floyd Smith and Ron Murphy restored the Wings' early margin.

There was no scoring in the third period.

Walled Lake 5 Beats Captains in Regional

Defense, Big Spurt in Fourth Quarter Produce 48-37 Win

By FLETCHER SPEARS

LIVONIA—Walled Lake's basketball team may not make it to the state Class A finals at East Lansing, but odds are that one member of the squad will find his way to the Michigan State University campus.

★ ★ ★

The Walled Lake quintet, mixing a little offense with a generous amount of defense, stirred up a 48-37 victory over Waterford Kettering last night in a regional clash at Livonia Franklin.

Among the some 2,000 fans was Hugh 'Duffy' Daughterty, head football coach at MSU, who had his eye on one member of the Viking squad—Roger Ruminski, a reserve pivotman.

Duffy is trying to lure the 265-pound Ruminski to MSU to try on a Spartan uniform. Ruminski was an All-State tackle selection last fall.

★ ★ ★

With the victory, the Vikings earned a shot at Ypsilanti for the regional title at 8 p. m. tomorrow on the same floor.

BORROWED TIME

Last night's game was a duel between two schools playing on 'borrowed time.'

Neither was expected to make it beyond the district phase of the tournament.

But Walled Lake displayed a stiff defense in winning the district at Farmington and coach Bob Bolton employed similar strategy against Kettering to pull out the victory.

The only offensive showing of the game was in the fourth quarter by the Vikings, who pushed in 23 points after collecting only 25 in the first three stanzas.

★ ★ ★

Kettering was still ahead, 32-28, with 5:40 remaining in the game, but in the following three minutes, the winners pushed in 13 points in a row to open up a 41-32 lead.

Most of the points in the spurt came on driving layups by guards Rick Hughes and Pat Godfrey.

Hughes, leading all scorers with 15 points, collected nine of them in the fourth quarter and Godfrey came up with three baskets in the finale. Jim Grant tossed in 11 to assist in the scoring department.

★ ★ ★

Coach Joe Duby had three sophomores in the Kettering lineup — Bob VonBargen, Dick Miceli and Dave Cox.

INEXPERIENCE HURTS

Inexperience hindered the Kettering offense in the first half; and although the squad shot well, it lost the ball numerous times on floor violations and managed to get away only 37 shots.

The Captains hit on 16 of 37 for 43 per cent while the Vikings connected on 19 of 53 for 35 per cent.

Southfield Gunnery Blasts Hazel Park

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Southfield put on its own version of "Have Gun Hope to Travel" in whipping Hazel Park, 77-65, in the opening of regional basketball play at Seaholm High School last night.

The Blue Jays fired 29 shots in the first half and hit the target 20 times for a fantastic 69 per cent. In the second half they cooled off with 10 of 23 to finish with 57 per cent for the night.

With such gunnery the Jays could hope to travel a long way in the state tournament, but the honest test of their accuracy will come Saturday night when they must face either Hamtramck or Pontiac Central in the regional finals.

From the start there was no doubt as to the final outcome as Southfield hit six straight buckets and 11 of 16 for the period.

Rick Coleman, a 5-10 senior guard who learned much of his basketball in the state of Indiana and Rich Smigielski were the early deadeyes.

DEADLY

Coleman hit seven times in his first nine tries from the field and Smigielski scored six buckets in six attempts in the first half.

In the second quarter, sophomore guard Ted Simmons found the range and he scored seven baskets in nine tries to help the Jays to a 42-24 half-time margin.

★ ★ ★

Hazel Park didn't allow as much freedom to shoot in the second half and John Canine, the 6-1 junior forward put on a shooting display of his own.

Canine brought Hazel Park to within six points three times hitting a total of 15 field goals in 24 attempts and finishing the game with 35 points.

Both Southfield and Hazel Park entered regional play with mediocre records but the display of shooting from the floor by the Blue Jays was uncanny.

★ ★ ★

It is unlikely that they can repeat the performance against either PCH or Hamtramck whichever wins tonight.

The Jays have height and the shooters and the surprising thing last night was the fact that their leading scorer Ray Schlaff, with 22 ppg for the season, had only seven points but pulled down 15 rebounds, while three others hit in double figures.

The Jays now have two days to reload their guns for the finale Saturday night at Seaholm.

Hebert Brothers Feature Pro-Am in Doral Golf

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Brothers Jay and Lionel Hebert had the Doral Pro-Celebrity Golf Tournament tied up Wednesday.

Jay Hebert, former Doral pro from Lafayette, La., carded a six-under-par 66 to tie the course record and win $500.

Meantime, brother Lionel shot a 73 which helped guide the top pro-am team in with a best ball of 55 for $400.

★ ★ ★

Jay, now playing out of Tubac Valley, Ariz., was the Doral playing pro in 1962 and used his experience on the course to advantage. "My whole game was going well, but my putting was outstanding," said the elder of the two golf pros.

Dave Hill and Mason Rudolph tied for second money, $400, at 68.

The team of Gary Player, Frank Strafaci, television personality Ed Sullivan and Abe Lipsey was third at 58 in the pro-am group.

Illini Choose Freeman

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Don Freeman, a junior from Madison, Ill., was elected captain of Illinois' 1965-66 basketball team at the annual Illini banquet Wednesday night.

Overtime Tilt Decides Title in Rec Play

Foul line proficiency carried West Bloomfield Heating to its second straight Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department adult basketball championship Wednesday night at Pontiac Central.

★ ★ ★

The defending titlist survived a gallant comeback effort by regular season leader Roy White's Unbeatables to capture the Class A title, 85-80, in overtime.

The Heating quintet finished fourth during the season but knocked the Unbeatables into the loser's bracket of the double elimination playoffs in the early going.

The latter, however, fought back to reach the final round and forced the title showdown with a double-overtime triumph Monday.

★ ★ ★

Both teams hit 32 field goals last night but the champions converted 21 of 31 foul shots while the Unbeatables missed 12 of 28.

In a Class D contest, K-Town Five surprised New Hope Baptist, 73-64.

Slugging Steals Spotlight

Rookie Pleases Angels

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The most impressive young slugger in the camp of the Los Angeles Angels is not Rick Reichardt nor Tom Egan, who received about $300,000 between them for signing contracts.

Jack Warner, 21-year-old outfielder who hit 37 home runs for Tri-Cities last year, has merited the role.

Warner gave a demonstration in batting practice Wednesday—that was about all the Angels did—when he hit the longest drive seen at the camp this spring.

The blow cleared the center field scoreboard, a distance of approximately 450 feet.

SURPRISE

Manager Bill Rigney calls Warner the most pleasant surprise in the Angel fold.

Rigney announced that Dean Chance will start against the Cleveland Indians in the first exhibition game of the spring here Saturday.

The Indians plan to start southpaw Sam McDowell.

Chance will work three innings, followed by Bob Radovich and Bob Lee.

The Angels also revealed that veteran third baseman Felix Torres has reconsidered his retirement plans and will report this weekend.

PCH, Cosmos Clash Tonight

Pontiac Central's Chiefs will have an opportunity to settle an old account when they meet Hamtramck at 8 o'clock tonight at Birmingham Seaholm in a Class A regional tournament battle.

★ ★ ★

For one, it'll be the end of the 1964-65 season. For the other, the game means a shot at Southfield 8 p. m. Saturday for the regional crown and continued life on the tournament trail.

The old account the Chiefs want to settle with Hamtramck was put in the record books in the 1959 state tournament.

Central breezed through regional and quarter-final foes and drew Hamtramck for the semifinal game at Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

The Hamtramck won the game, 53-40, and then lost to Lansing Sexton, 80-79, in the finals.

Central, with a 14-3 record over-all, will be bidding for its 16th regional title since the regional play was organized in 1926.

NEVER CHAMPION

The Chiefs have never won a state basketball title, but if they move by the Cosmos this evening, they would be over one of the biggest hurdles in their path to a state crown.

Hamtramck, ranked third in the state in the AP poll and paced by John Brisker (6-4) and Rudy Tomjanovich (6-6), has racked up a 19-1 record. The list of victims includes Ferndale and Royal Oak Kimball.

Central is expected to go with Jesse Evans (6-2) and John Hooper (6-3) at the forward positions and Willie Adams (6-2) at center.

Carl Arnold, the Chiefs 5-8 playmaker and leading scorer, will start at one of the guard posts. The other guard assignment is expected to go to Jim McClendon or Jeff Lane.

A sophomore who is certain to see a lot of action is Clifford Benson (6-3), who coach Fred Zittel may need to offset some of the Cosmos' height.

★ ★ ★

More than 3,000 persons are expected to be on hand for the game. Tickets go on sale at 6:30 at the door.

Three Pros Share Role of Favorite

DORADO, Puerto Rico (AP) — The Puerto Rico Open, last stop on the Caribbean tour, opens today with Art Wall Jr., Wes Ellis Jr. and Al Besselink favored to battle it out for the championship as well as for the Seagram trophy.

★ ★ ★

Wall, of Pocono Manor, Pa., is leading in the race for the trophy with a total of 96½ points as a result of victories in the Panama Open and the Maracaibo Open.

Ellis, of West Caldwell, N.J., is second with 93½ and Besselink, of Grossinger, N.Y., third at 90½. The winner of a tourney gets 30 points, the runner-up 24 and third place 23.

★ ★ ★

Wall is the defending Caribbean tour champion having won the trophy last year with a margin of 25 points. He is the only player in the eight-year history of the Caribbean circuit to win a championship at every stop.

Troy 5 Wins Without Starter

A disciplinary decision may be costly for Troy's basketball team which is engaged in regional tournament action at Ferndale.

One of the team's starting guards, senior Ken Holder, was cut from the squad yesterday morning by coach Peyton Goodwin for what Goodwin termed "a breach of our athletic code."

Without the speedy Holder, who was an All-Oakland County football selection last fall, they managed to rout Clintondale in the Class B semifinal game, 70-57.

The Oakland A champion will take on the winner of tonight's Servite-Lutheran East game for the regional title Saturday at 8 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Goodwin refused to say what specific rule Holder broke in announcing the dismissal. "I had no choice," said Goodwin, who is also the school's athletic director.

SPORTS BAR

The decision bars Holder from school athletics for the remainder of the season.

★ ★ ★

Troy fell behind Clintondale, 30-28, at half-time, but came up with 42 points in the second half to sew up the decision.

Junior forward Bruce Baas turned in his finest performance of the season with a 31-point output and teammate Chris Beacham added 19. Marcus Harris put in 18 for the losers.

In other area tournament games, Saginaw, ranked eighth in the Class A poll, routed Flint Beecher, 81-61, on the Flint IMA floor; Fenton, No. 2 in the Class B poll, whipped Okemos, 66-55, at Northville; Detroit Pershing ousted Roseville, 80-59, at East Detroit.

HINTON STARS

Roy Hinton, Saginaw's 6-8 center, paced the Trojans to victory with a 28-point performance. Flint Southwestern and Bay City Central play tonight at the IMA with the winner meeting Saginaw for the title Saturday.

In a Class C thriller, Leroy Koehn's basket at the buzzer gave Harbor Beach a 60-58 triumph over Frankenmuth at Bay City.

Fenton ran its record to 20-0 with the win over Okemos. The team will meet the winner of tonight's Orchard Lake St. Mary-Holt game for the title on Saturday at 8 p.m.

Favorite's Rider Doesn't Agree With Bookmakers

LONDON (AP) — American jockey Tommy Smith doesn't agree with the bookies who have made Jay Trump co-favorite to win the Grand National Steeplechase March 27. But he is hopeful.

"I don't think his chances are as good as the bookies think," said Smith, an amateur jockey from Middleburg, Va., who will ride Jay Trump.

★ ★ ★

The bookies rate Jay Trump, owned by Mrs. Mary C. Stephenson of Cincinnati, as a 12-1 joint favorite with Freddie.

The Grand National, over four miles and 856 yards of the Aintree circuit, is regarded as the toughest steeplechase in the world.

Horses have to negotiate 30 hazardous obstacles, some sharp turns and the ups and downs of the irregular course.

The National has been run at Aintree since 1837. This year's race may be the last over the famous circuit.

The owners of the course want to sell it for a housing development.

Jay Trump was one of 76 horses named Wednesday for the race. Many of them will be scratched and the field is expected to number about 30.

Jay Trump, an 8-year-old, is scheduled to carry 159 pounds. The top weight is Pappageno's Cottage with 168 pounds.

The horses included at Wednesday's acceptance stage were:

Pappageno's Cottage, Caduvai, Freddie, Rough Tweed, Rondetto, Jay Trump, The Rip, Mr. Jones, Willow King, Vultrix, Forgotten Dreams, Loving Record, Peacetown, Honey End, Kaperno, Some Slipper, Threepwood, Ayats, Barleycroft, Lizawake, Brown Diamond, The Count, Tant Pis, Popham Down, Hewa's Song, What a Myth, Time, Thebu, Dark Venetian, Dorimont, Red Tide, Ruby Glen, Big George, Colway Star, Packed Home, Rain Battle, Scottish Final, King's Nickel, Cheyenne, Jacaloche, Pontin-Go, L'Empereur, Copper Lodge, Culleenhouse, Leadsby, My Baby, Ronald's Boy, April Rose, Ballygowan, Son of Tam, Bold Bird, Aussie, Reproduction, Sizz Le-On, Merganser, Leslie, Thatlldo, Regal Splendour, Sword Flash, Vulcan, Bob-A-Job, Perspex, Groomsman, Wilmslow Boy, Moyrath, Quintin Bay, Solonace, Fearless Cavalier, Blonde Warrior, Cutlelle, Burton Tan, Nesmar, Mr. McTaffy, Black Spot, Corbeg, French Cottage.

NCAA Indoor Meet Attracts Stars

Track Classic 2-Day Affair

Leading Cindermen to Vie at Cobo Hall

DETROIT (AP) — A large group of the nation's collegiate track stars will compete in the first NCAA indoor championships this weekend.

More than 360 athletes from 84 schools have entered the two-day meet which opens Friday on Cobo Arena's brand-new $30,000 board track.

★ ★ ★

Oregon State's Tracy Smith and Notre Dame's Bill Clark are expected to lead a field of the fastest distance runners in the country in the two-mile event. Five of the two-mile entries have cracked the nine-minute mark, while two others have bettered 9:02.

POLE VAULTER

John Uelses of LaSalle, the world's first 16-foot pole vaulter, is the odds-on favorite to win that event. Washington's Phil Shinnick, who has gone 26 feet, will face stiff competition in the broad jump from Maryland's Mike Cole, Purdue's Jim Moore and Michigan State's Jim Garrett.

★ ★ ★

In the high jump, the field includes four men who have cleared seven feet — Frank Costello of Maryland, John Rambo of Long Beach State, Otis Burrell of Nevada and Richard Ross of Southern University.

The shot-put title is expected to go to Randy Matson, a 6-foot-6 Texas A&M sophomore who weighs 255 pounds. He won a silver medal in the Tokyo Olympics with an effort of 66 feet, 3¼ inches.

★ ★ ★

A head-on duel in the mile is expected between Robin Lingle of Missouri and Chris Johnson of Southern California. Lingle has posted a 4:08.9 in his best run to date, and Johnson has one even better with a 4:06.6.

Competitors will come from conferences and independent colleges all around the country.

In Swim Meet

Seaholm After Title

Birmingham Seaholm may win its third straight Class A state high school swimming championship this weekend at East Lansing, but it is not expected to be a runaway as in the past two years for the Maples.

Royal Oak Kimball, a team which has lost twice in dual competition and a league meet to Seaholm, along with Battle Creek Central figure to give Seaholm a close battle for the crown.

In 1963, the Maples piled up a record total of 98 points finishing 54 points ahead of runnerup Grosse Pointe. Last year the Maples scored 92 points and Kimball was second with 73 points.

This year however, Seaholm won't have the 18 and 20 qualifiers competing as in the past two championships. The Maples have 13 swimmers, and Kimball has qualified 12.

Top individual swimmers around the state including Battle Creek Central's powerful sprinting freestylers, plus individual swimmers from Trenton, Saginaw, Arthur Hill and Flint Southwestern could push into top positions to prevent Seaholm from piling up points.

Kimball is almost certain to take two firsts with its junior Doug Webster. Webster holds the best 400 freestyle time in the country in 3:54.9. He won the event in 3:56.8 last year.

Coach Dick Heller at Kimball hasn't indicated what two events Webster will try for points, but the backstroke and 400 appear to be most likely. He has the top time of 1:50.9 in the 200 freestyle this year.

Seaholm's Tom Lawton with a 49.2 in the 100 freestyle is one of the top times in the state and he could be the Maples best choice for an individual title.

Pontiac Northern will have five swimmers in the state meet led by sophomore ace Steve Yedlin.

The preliminaries in Michigan State pool will be held Friday night in the 400 and diving.

Other prelims are slated for Saturday morning and afternoon with the finals set Saturday night.

Piston Hopes Limited to Tie

Coach Russell Paces Celtics to Victory

DETROIT (AP) — Bill Russell doubled as player and coach Wednesday night to pace the Boston Celtics to a 124-106 National Basketball Association victory over the Detroit Pistons.

Standing in for Celtic Coach Red Auerbach, who was on a scouting mission in the East, Russell scored 25 points, grabbed 18 rebounds, made five assists and blocked seven shots.

★ ★ ★

The victory was the 59th of the season for Boston, moving the team within one of the NBA record of 60 set by the Celtics in 1961 - 62. With five games remaining, the Celtics are an odds-on favorite to set a new mark this season.

Boston's victory also assured the idle Baltimore Bullets of at least a share of third place in the Western Division standings.

Forfeit Decides Crown in Township Playoffs

Waterford Township's playoffs were decided last night with Spencer Floor covering taking the "A" laurels by forfeit from Lakeland Pharmacy.

The high school regional basketball playoffs depleted the latter's lineup after it had won the regular season championship.

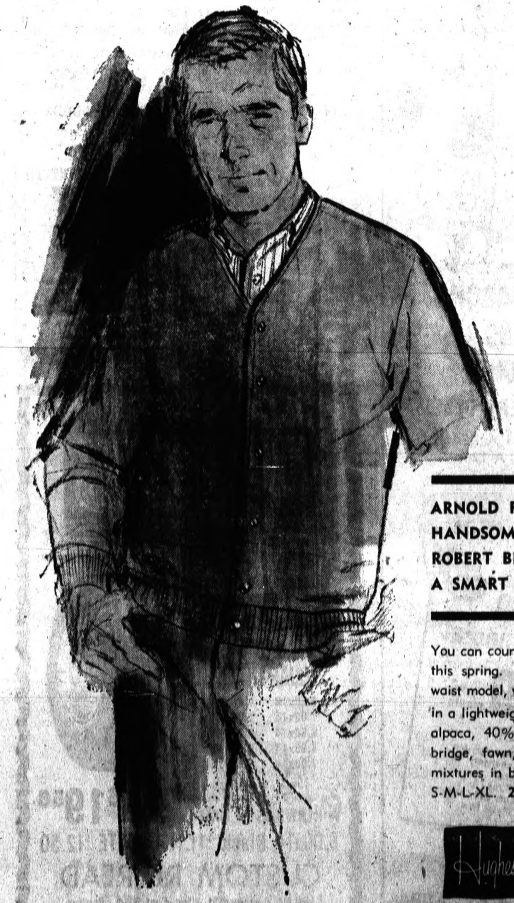

Gancia-Cote won the Class B playoff from Dunstan's Floral, 48-47. Bob Smith paced the winners with 24. Jerry Paul and Al Tunney had 16 each for Dunstan's which led, 23-22, at halftime.

Eaglets Meet Holt

St. Mary Starts Regional Play

Orchard Lake St. Mary's Eaglets are only five games away from a Class B state basketball championship.

★ ★ ★

But those five games are big ones, and the first comes tonight when the Eaglets take on Holt at Northville in a regional semifinal outing.

A victory tonight would put the OLSM squad into the regional finals against unbeaten Fenton Saturday at 8 p.m.

After Fenton comes the quarter-final game, the semifinal and the final.

★ ★ ★

A victory in the regional would put the Eaglets into the quarter-finals for the first time since 1946.

RANKED FIFTH

In meeting Holt, the Eaglets will be battling a team ranked fifth in the final AP prep poll last week.

★ ★ ★

And after Holt comes Fenton (20-0), the No. 2 team.

Holt has racked up a 20-1 record this season. The team has a lot of balance and is built around forward Terry Faught (6-1).

OLSM will have a height advantage with center John Stolnicki (6-5) and forward John Stepien (6-3) in the lineup, along with forward Don Dzagulones (6-1) and guards Ralph Kibilloski (5-10) and Conrad Krogulecki (5-10).

★ ★ ★

Krogulecki, a junior, averaged slightly over 10 points a game during the regular season, but in the team's two district tournament games, he collected 24 each time.

HITS OUTSIDE

Krogulecki hits well from the outside, and his drives up the middle often produce passes to Stepien and Stolnicki that result in baskets.

★ ★ ★

Stolnicki, a senior, has compiled a scoring average of 19.7 in pacing the Eaglets to a 15-4 record.

Stepien, the other junior on the squad, is the No. 2 scorer on the team with a mark of 15.9.

If coach Father John Rakoczy can keep the first five in the contest, he could create a lot of problems for Holt.

For reserve strength, the Eaglets can count on junior Joe Wojtys, a 6-4 junior center, who has spelled both Stolnicki and Stepien.

Soviet Skaters Stay Unbeaten, Meet Americans

TAMPERE, Finland (AP) — The Soviet Union, surviving a shaky first period, rallied to defeat Sweden 5-3 in the World Amateur Hockey Tournament Wednesday night. The victory enabled the defending titleholder to remain in a first-place tie with Canada and Czechoslovakia.

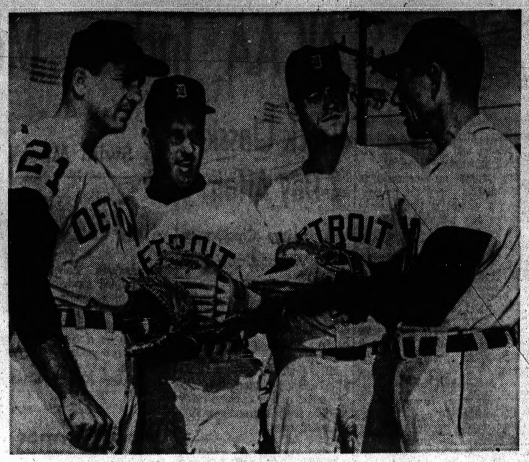

Canada routed East Germany 8-1 and Czechoslovakia beat Finland 5-2 in other Group A games. The Russians, Canadians and Czechs have eight points on 4-0 record.

The United States team, which has lost all four games it has played, was not scheduled. The Americans meet the Russians Thursday.

Tigers Prepare for Exhibition Play

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers were scheduled to play another squad game today in a final tune-up for the opening of the Grapefruit League season Saturday.

Interim manager Bob Swift named Joe Sparma, Denny McLain and Bill Faul to hurl against Syracuse farmhands.

Larry Sherry is expected to pitch at least the first four innings when the Tigers open against Minnesota at Orlando Saturday.

Swift, filling in for ailing Manager Charlie Dressen, asked the players Wednesday to give him the same degree of effort they would put forth for Dressen.

Then the team took the field for a long, spirited workout.

Swift, who filled in for Harry Craft when the Kansas City manager was hospitalized a few years back, said that while he had his own ideas on running a club, "they don't vary too much from Charlie's."

Swift said Al Kaline, Bill Freehan and Dom Demeter would be among the front-line players who can be expected to see action Saturday.

He said Dressen had arranged to have them play before he left for California where he eventually wound up in a Santa Monica hospital for what was described as a minor heart attack.

"But I have some ideas on the batting order and things like that," Swift said.

General Manager James Campbell said Swift knew how Dressen wanted to run the club and was the logical choice to replace him.

"He's got experience," Campbell said. "The real decisions in the next month are on our pitching staff. Bob and his coaches can handle this with (Vice President) Rick Ferrell and myself."

Gophers Pick Captain

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Archie Clark of Ecorse, Mich., was elected by his teammates Wednesday as the University of Minnesota basketball captain for the 1965-66 season. Clark, a junior guard who averaged 14.3 points per game this season, is the first Negro to be elected a varsity sports captain at Minnesota.

Chuck Dressen Satisfactory

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Manager Charlie Dressen of the Detroit Tigers was in good spirits Wednesday and his condition was satisfactory in St. John's Hospital following a heart attack.

A spokesman said Dressen, 66, is still in the intensive care unit and it was not known how long he will remain there.

★ ★ ★

Dressen was stricken with severe chest pains at the Tigers' Lakeland, Fla., training camp Sunday night and flew to his Los Angeles home Monday.

Dressen is expected to be in the hospital several weeks and cannot return to active managership for several months.

Navy Rated Contender

NEW YORK (AP) — Navy, the defending Eastern champion, NYU and Columbia are expected to be leading contenders for top honors in the 68th annual Intercollegiate Fencing Association Championships opening Friday.

Star Prep Cager Dies

WESTBROOK, Maine (AP) — Gary Randall, a top performer for the Westbrook High School basketball team, collapsed and died Wednesday during a practice session at the school gym.

The cause of his death and circumstances surrounding it were not immediately available.

NIT Tourney Gets Started Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Cousy and his Boston College basketball players would like to hold a farewell party for Joe Lapchick tonight. The only problem is they're not certain Lapchick will be a willing guest.

Boston College takes on Lapchick's St. John's team in the second game of the opening doubleheader of the National Invitation Tournament. Manhattan plays Texas Western in the first game.

Lapchick is retiring this year after 20 seasons at St. John's. His final game will be in this NIT — his 12th — and conceivably could come tonight against a hustling, high-scoring Boston College quintet.

In 11 previous tournament appearances Lapchick's teams have won three titles, the most for any school except defending champion Bradley which also has won three times.

St. John's is the only team ever to have won championships back-to-back, those coming in 1943 and 1944.

DOUBLE WIN

That double victory came in Lapchick's first tenure with the Redmen. He left after the 1946-47 season, returning to the New York school in 1956. The Redmen gained the crown again in 1959 with a 76-71 overtime victory over Bradley.

This appearance for St. John's is its 17th over-all while Boston College is making its initial showing.

The Eagles, in their second season under Cousy, have won 21 against six defeats and are on a 13-game winning streak.

Another of the four New York teams in the tournament, Manhattan, helps get basketball's longest post-season affair under way against Texas Western, a tough team to score against.

★ ★ ★

The Miners, 18-8, have allowed their opponents only .56 points a game. The only consolation for Manhattan, 12-8, is the Miners haven't scored too much themselves, holding a 66-point a game average.

Doubleheaders Saturday afternoon — Fordham vs. Western Kentucky and St. Louis vs. Army — and Saturday night — Detroit-LaSalle and Bradley-New York U. — will complete first round play. Villanova and New Mexico, the top seeded teams, get into action in Monday night's quarter-finals.

After 15 Seasons

Purdue Coach Quits

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Ray Eddy resigned as basketball coach at Purdue University Wednesday, two days after closing out his 15th season.

The former Boilermaker star will take an associate professorship in physical education which become vacant in June.

"I have been considering for several years a decision to end my coaching career," Eddy said in a written statement.

"Now with the opening of a teaching position which I can fill . . . I feel that this is the exact time to go into full-time teaching, an area with which I have already maintained active contact."

Fredrick L. Hovde, Purdue's president, said he was accepting Eddy's resignation "with great regret" and authorizing Athletic Director Guy (Red) Mackey to search for a new coach.

★ ★ ★

The university's statement said consideration will be given to Eddy's assistants, Joe Sexson, a former Purdue star, and Bob King, who played basketball and football at South Carolina, Toledo and Butler.

REPORTS HEARD

There were reports Purdue alumni had been talking to Vic Bubas of Duke and Lefty Driesell of Davidson.

Purdue had a disappointing 12-12 over-all record this season and finished 5-9 in the Big Ten, but Dave Schellhase won the conference scoring championship and stood No. 4 in the nation.

★ ★ ★

Eddy, a star of two Purdue Big Ten champions, played on Boilermaker teams that won 46 games and lost nine in three seasons and claimed the national collegiate title in 1932.

Graduated in 1934, he coached high school basketball five years at Tell City, Ind., and 11 years at Madison, Ind.

★ ★ ★

Eddy came to Purdue in the fall in 1950 when Purdue basketball fortunes had hit rock bottom. It was a slow buildup but his teams have finished in the first division of the Big Ten for even of the last 10 years. His over-all mark at Purdue was 176-163.

Eddy is the latest on a growing list of veterans who have left the college basketball coaching ranks recently. Included on the list is Branch McCracken of Indiana, Purdue's traditional rival.

COACH RESIGNS — Ray Eddy (above) resigned yesterday as basketball coach at Purdue University after winding up his 15th season. He will take an associate professorship in physical education with the university.

Goalies Feature NHL Tilt

Rangers Tie Hawks, 1-1

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks and the New York Rangers battled to a 1-1 tie Wednesday night that kept the Hawks in the thick of a three-way struggle for first place in the National Hockey League.

The tie gave Chicago 74 points with six games to play.

Both goals came inside of one-half minute late in the second period with New York's Bob Nevin scoring first and Chicago's Pil Esposito tying it.

Goalies Marcel Paille of the Rangers and Glen Hall of the Black Hawks had dominated play until New York's Billy Hicke was penalized for hooking with 6½ minutes left in the second period.

With Nevin and Donnie Marshall killing the penalty, Paille cleared a Chicago shot to the right boards where Marshall picked it up and fed it to Nevin ahead of the field. Nevin skated two-thirds of the ice, faked Hall twice and then scored. The goal came at 14:06.

Twenty-six seconds later, with Hicke still in the box, Esposito picked up the puck out of a scramble in front of Paille and scored his 23rd goal. Stan Mikita, the league's leading scorer and Chico Maki assisted on the goal.

After that, the goalies took over again with neither team coming close in the third period.

Hall, who made 16 saves in the first period, picked up only 10 the rest of the way for a total of 26. Paille turned away 21 Black Hawk shots.

New York, Hawks Post Cage Wins

By The Associated Press

In Wednesday's National Basketball Association action, New York ripped Philadelphia 134-123 and St. Louis thumped Cincinnati 137-113.

The Knicks won their second straight over the 76ers, scoring 40 points in each of the middle two quarters and overcoming an early Philadelphia bulge.

The Hawks won their fifth straight with five men over 16 points led by Len Wilkens' 23. Jerry Lucas had 25 for the Royals.

Balking Hurler Signs

Boss Finds Sore Spot

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Bud Daley, Cleveland Indian southpaw pitcher, has ended his 11-day holdout "to prove that Birdie Tebbetts is wrong," he said Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

The 31-year-old relief pitcher, acquired from the Yankees at the end of last season, accepted a salary cut estimated at $5,000 and plans to report late Thursday.

He earned a reported $21,000 in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Daley said he agreed to terms after being informed of Tebbetts' charges that his reluctance to sign represented a concession that he no longer could pitch effectively.

CHANGED MIND

Tebbetts also said the southpaw was being "dishonorable" because he allegedly agreed to terms verbally when the Yankee first offered him to the Tribe, then changed his mind and demanded more money.

Daley admitted that the Tribe manager's remarks "motivated" him to sign and prove that his arm is not dead.

His signing leaves only one Indian missing — infielder-outfielder Chico Salmon, who is completing a six-month term of duty in the Army reserves. Salmon is expected any day.

Background's OK for Wife of Coach

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — She wanted to be a lawyer or in politics but gave up those goals for marriage. Her husband's job forced him to travel extensively, and she shouldered many of the problems involved in raising seven children.

★ ★ ★

But Mrs. Forest Evashevski says she considers herself very fortunate to have shared in the life of one of the nation's best-known football coaches who now is athletic director at the University of Iowa.

"As the wife of a football coach, I have been very lucky. Evy has been successful, and I have never had to go through the things that often happen to the family of an unsuccessful coach," she said.

GRID STAR

Evashevski, a college star at Michigan, coached the Iowa football team to three Big Ten titles and two Rose Bowl victories in nine years before he quit to become athletic director in 1960.

His success has made him one of Iowa's best-known men. But few of even the most ardent Hawkeye football fans know that his wife's name is Ruth.

Mrs. Evashevski rarely traveled with her husband when he was coaching.

"Once I went on a road trip with him and the team, and he found out it wasn't much fun for him. He was happier to have me home with the children," she explained.

In recent years, Evashevski has become interested in politics, which has fascinated Mrs. Evashevski since she lived in Washington with her father, longtime Michigan Sen. Prentiss Brown.

Evashevski was active in the campaign for Democratic Gov. Harold Hughes last fall, and there has been speculation that he might run for governor or the U.S. Senate soon.

"Whenever politics comes up in talks with our friends," Mrs. Evashevski said, "Evy always says that I am going to be the politician in the family."

She says she has no political ambitions now, but indicated that she would like to see her husband run for office.

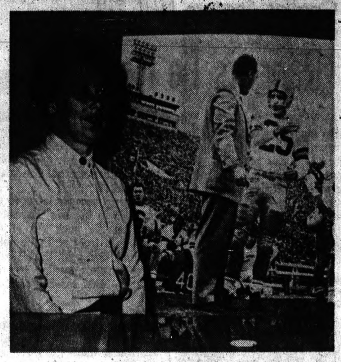

Mrs. Evashevski may return to school to study law when her children are grown — but that will be several years in the future.

The youngest, Kassie, is 2. Also at home are John, 14, Tom, 11, and Bill, 7.

★ ★ ★

The three oldest, Frosty, 22, Jim, 20, and Marion, 18, are students at the University of Michigan, where their father won football fame as a blocking back.

Frosty was a reserve quarterback on the Wolverines' Rose Bowl champions this year and a noted golfer. Jim has wrestled and played golf for Michigan.

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Fort Wayne's Komets ran away from Toledo Wednesday night for a 9-2 International Hockey League triumph that put the home team into a tie with idle Port Huron for the league lead.

Rookie-of-Year Honor to Pontiac 5 Player

One Pontiac National made the first North American Basketball League All-Star team and another was voted Rookie of the Year in announcements made today.

Slender Willie Merriweather, 6-4 forward-guard out if Purdue and currently coach at Detroit Eastern, was the National who won a first team forecourt berth along with four other stars who finished among the top seven scorers.

First-year center Dick Dzik, 6-6 and 225 pounds from the University of Detroit, was almost a unanimous selection as the top rookie in the poll of NABL sportswriters.

Benton Harbor's freshman coach Bob Wilkinson was named the Coach of the Year. The Twin City Sailors finished second, falling from a first-place tie with champion Grand Rapids on the final night of the season.

★ ★ ★

The other first team All-Stars included: Chicago's 6-1 Porter Merriweather, and 6-3 Nick Mantis of Grand Rapids, the guards; 6-7 Ed Burton, Muskegon, center; and 6-6 forward Larry Comley, Benton Harbor.

COUSINS

Chicago's Merriweather is a cousin to the Pontiac star. He won the loop scoring championship with a 28.1 average, which included a NABL record 22 three-point field goals (baskets from beyond the 25-foot stripe).

Willie Merriweather was second at 26.4.

Schollander Honored

Swimmer Top Athlete

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Schollander, 18-year-old winner of four Olympic gold medals in swimming, was selected Thursday night for the first annual "Grand Award of Sports."

The presentation of a 15-inch bronze and gold figure to the lad from Lake Oswego, Ore., was made by Col. John Glenn, the former astronaut, in a national television show by ABC.

Schollander, who was selected in January as the "Male Athlete of the Year" for 1964, in the Associated Press' 34th annual poll, was chosen in the final Grand Award voting over Jimmy Brown, of the Cleveland Browns, who had 66 points; Olympic running champion Peter Snell of New Zealand, 20; Bill Bradley, Princeton's All-America basketballer, 14, and Notre Dame quarterback John Huarte, 7.

★ ★ ★

The category winners:

Baseball — Brooks Robinson, Baltimore Orioles.

Rookie of Year Balks at Offers by Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Richie Allen, who won National League Rookie of the Year honors for the Philadelphia Phillies last season, says he thinks he is "being fair" in his salary request for the 1965 season and will not report to spring training without a contract.

★ ★ ★

"I'm asking for less than $25,000 a year and I think I'm worth it," he said in an interview Wednesday night. "I think I'm being fair about it, and I definitely won't go to Florida without a contract."

Allen denied reports that Phillies' General Manager John Quinn has increased the club's salary offer, reportedly about $17,000.

Winnipeg Bomber 11 Signs Ex-Brown Rainey

WINNIPEG (AP) — The Winnipeg Blue Bombers have signed Dave Rainey, 24, who played defensive halfback last season for the Cleveland Browns, champions of the National Football League.

The 190-pound back was placed on waivers by the Browns at the end of the season.

New Snowfall Covers Course

International Racers Prime on Vail Slopes

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — French, Austrian and U.S. skiers speeded training Thursday for their International Alpine races this weekend over Vail's lofty courses, draped with 10 inches of new snow.

Clearing weather prompted fast runs for the competitors, hampered Wednesday by the fresh snowfall. Mechanized graders shoved aside or packed much of the new snow to leave a solid base of more than 75 inches on the two-mile long downhill course.

Coach Bob Beattie of the United States faced the task Thursday of cutting his 28-member American team down to six men and four women, the same size as the foreign entries.

The other 18 Americans also will race each day after the official teams but their performances will not count in team standings.

Vermont Skier Scores Victory at NY Pro Race

WINDHAM, N. Y. (AP) — Hias Lietner of Stratton Mountain, Vt., made the best combined time Wednesday in the second event of the American Pro Ski League series of races at Windham Mountain.

Leitner had a total time of 4 minutes, 29.43 seconds for two giant slalom races over a 3,600-foot course in the morning and two 2,200-foot slalom races in the afternoon. He took top prize of $2,000.

★ ★ ★

Anderl Molterer of Aspen, Colo., took the $1,000 second prize with a combined time of 4:29.55. Ernst Hinterseer of Stratton Mountain was third with 4:30.22, winning $750.

The first of three pro competitions was held March 5-6 at Boyne Mountain, Mich., with Adrien Duvillard of Windham winning. The third is scheduled at Stratton, Vt., March 26.

Top Ten List of PGA Minus Palmer, Player

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus is the only one of the Big Three in professional golf to get into the top ten PGA money-winners' list.

His $6,000 for second place in the Pensacola Open gave him a total of $8,075 and ninth place in the list.

Arnold Palmer and Gary Player are not among the top ten.

★ ★ ★

Doug Sanders, who won $10,000 at Pensacola by whipping Nicklaus in a playoff, is the leading money-winner with $16,332.78. He made it by playing in six tournaments and finishing in the top five twice.

Billy Casper is second with $15,557.50, and Bob Charles is third with $14,406.25.

Others in order are, Paul Harney, $12,000; Rod Funseth, $11,565; George Knudson, $10,825; Don January, $9,752; George Archer, $8,500 and Bert Yancey, $7,653.34.

Birmingham Sailor Tops Snipe Fleet

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Gerry Jenkins of Birmingham, Mich., whistled up enough air Wednesday to win the second race of the 28th annual mid-winter snipe championships and take an over-all lead.

Jenkins' victory gave 3,121 points. Gonzolo Diaz of Clearwater finished third in Wednesday's race, sailed over a six-mile course in the Gulf of Mexico, and took second place in over-all standings with 3,044 points.

Harry Levinson of Indianapolis ranks third in point standings with 2,890. Four more races are scheduled.

Spring Brings Woes for Michigan Skiers

By The Associated Press

Spring began cutting heavily into skiing in Southern Lower Michigan this week.

Those willing to head further north, however, still could find some good skiing.

The forecasts for the weekend held out a little more hope for skiers. No unusually warm weather was forecast and there is a chance of snow flurries over most of Michigan during the weekend.

Entire Laurel Estate Left to His Widow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Stan Laurel left all of his estate holdings to his widow, Ida, under a will signed Nov. 3, 1947.

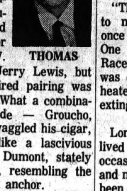

The comedian died last Feb. 23 at the age of 74. His will, filed for probate in Superior Court yesterday, was hilarious, but I told him, 'This is no laughing matter; he has ruined my dress.' Mr. Harris said not to worry, he would buy me another one."

Foil for Marx' Wit Was 'Grande Dame'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Margaret Dumont, self-styled "greatest of grande dames," has succumbed at 75, just a week after a sentimental reunion with her most famous adversary Groucho Marx.

THOMAS

The formidable Miss Dumont had played foil for comics from W. C. Fields to Jerry Lewis, but her most inspired pairing was with Groucho. What a combination they made — Groucho, leering as he waggled his cigar, loping about like a lascivious leopard; Miss Dumont, stately and imperious, resembling the Queen Mary at anchor.

★ ★ ★

The pair reunited for the first time in 16 years to appear on a "Hollywood Palace" show that will air on ABC April 17. They performed the routine revered by Marx Bros. fans — "Hurray For Capt. Spaulding" from "Animal Crackers." Afterward they reminisced separately about their long association.

"You'd be surprised how many people think I'm married to Dumont," commented Groucho, adding informatively, "I'm not."

TOTAL FILMS

The comedian was sketchy about how many films they had done together, but he did recall that their last one was "Love Happy," the final vehicle with his late brothers, Harpo and Chico.

"I had actually quit pictures," Groucho said. "Harpo and Chico were going to make a picture together, but the bankers wouldn't put up the money unless the three of us were in it. So I agreed to work a couple of weeks rather than let them down."

Once again he tangled with grande dame Dumont with the usual hilarious results.

★ ★ ★

"She is the perfect foil," said Groucho. "You want to know why? Because she doesn't understand the jokes. Everything goes right over her head."

In truth, nothing Groucho said seemed to faze Miss Dumont.

FULL OF FUN

"He's a darling, always full of fun," she said indulgently. "Oh, he's always trying to make me blush. But I try not to let it bother me."

She was more specific about dates and figures. They first worked together in 1926 when the Marxes were playing "Coconuts" on Broadway.

"I had been a dramatic and musical actress, although I had some experience in comedy when I played stock," said Miss Dumont. "Sam Harris was producing 'Coconuts,' and he thought I could play Mrs. Potter.

★ ★ ★

"I almost didn't stay in the role. I had very beautiful clothes, including a lovely gown of flowing chiffon. The first thing I knew, Harpo was sticking his foot in my sleeve!

"Mr. Harris thought it was

Landing Craft Has Retractable Skis

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Lockheed-California Co. is developing a troop landing craft that skims the water at 48 miles an hour on retractable skis.

The 25-foot boat, called Hydro-Ski, was described yesterday at the marine systems and anti-submarines warfare conference.

The flat-bottomed craft has a pair of skis which retract into the hull.

When they are extended at high speed, the boat rises clear out of the water to reduce wave impact.

★ ★ ★

The skis are retracted again before the boat hits the beach.

Had Strange 'Gear' for Driving Test

RAHWAY, N. Y. (AP)—Alexander Bell showed up for a driving examination yesterday equipped with a toy pistol, six real pistol bullets, a cartridge belt, pair of handcuffs, whistle, gold badge, and blackjack, officials said.

No one noticed the regalia, which included a blue uniform with sergeant's stripes, while Bell took the test because he was wearing a topcoat.

However, a motor vehicle inspector heard Bell's name mentioned as he was leaving the building and arrested Bell, who was being sought by the state motor vehicle division for allegedly impersonating a motor vehicle inspector.

Bell, 29, an unemployed private security guard, was charged with carrying a concealed weapon — the blackjack.

★ ★ ★

The division is continuing its investigation of the alleged impersonation.

Injured in Ship Blast, Man Termed Improved

OSHAWA, Ont. (AP) — The condition of Patrick McGann, 22-year-old maintenance worker injured in an explosion on board the Sandsucker SS Niagara at nearby Whitby Feb. 28, has been improving, hospital officials said Wednesday night.

Two other men were killed in the explosion of the 165-foot vessel, undergoing drydock repairs. The men were working with propane torches in the ballast hold, thawing dirt and sands so it could be removed.

Extra Campaign Funds May Go for Tuition

DETROIT (AP) — Backers of former Gov. John B. Swainson, faced with too much money in their campaign fund, plan to establish a tuition scholarship program at Olivet College.

The money was raised last Thursday at a $25-a-plate testimonial, which was scheduled before it was known that Swainson would be unopposed in the April 5 election for Wayne County circuit judge.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

It's 'Goodby' to Broadway but 'Hello' to the Road

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Carol Channing is getting ready for a long tour in "Hello, Dolly!" because she loves the show, she loves the road—and because she feels she must.

"I feel obligated to play it in as many major cities as possible," Carol told me at the Rainbow Grill while she was giving a birthday party for E. William Henry, chairman of the FCC.

She'll begin the tour on Sept. 13, in Los Angeles, and will end it in June '67. It's "not definite" whether she'll return to the "Dolly" company on Broadway during that period.

Mary Martin's 20-week "Hello, Dolly!" tour (April 17-Sept. 4) will be mostly to cities in the northwest, and may include international showings later.

WILSON

Eli Wallach told a Texan visiting him backstage at "Luv" that he once attended the University of Texas with Gov. Connally. "That was during the depression," Wallach said, "when the tuition was $30 a year." Wallach has a new diversion: changing the names of Broadway shows, such as "Any Tuesday," "Goodbye, Dolly," "Guitarist on the Roof," and "Love."

Hy Uchitel, owner of the "Vosin" restaurant, surely carried out the meaning of the word Voisin (neighbor). The other night Hy insisted that a customer take his chauffeured limousine for the rest of the evening. The customer agreed!

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

At Jackie Gleason's Pro-Am golf tournament at the Doral Country Club at Hollywood, Fla., they swear they'll unload Jackie at the first tee from a Goodyear blimp, which seems fitting . . . Glenn McCarthy is sponsoring a new bourbon whisky from Kentucky, called "Wildcatter." The joke in Houston is that he's trying to prove that oil and whisky do mix . . . Gene Tierney looked beautiful on the streets of Houston recently, leading the private life of a wife (she's Mrs. Howard Lee). Debra Paget is also residing quietly in Houston, the wife of L. C. Kung, Chinese oil man.

Frank Sinatra asked Joi Lansing to rush back to L.A.—her role in his "Marriage on the Rocks" movie was expanded . . . Marilyn Monroe's stand-in, Evelyn Moriarty, has the same job with Ann-Margret on the "Cincinnati Kid" set . Director Robert Wise is talking to Tony Newley about a dramatic role in his "Sand Pebbles" film.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "My wife's been using a dishwashing detergent that's really softening," writes Shelby Friedman. "In fact, we're now eating out of bent dishes."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: There's nothing some people won't do for a friend—as long as they don't have to prove it.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The world is full of willing people—some willing to work, the rest willing to let them."—Robert Lee Frost.

EARL'S PEARLS: The age of chivalry isn't dead. If a teenage girl drops one of her books, almost any boy in the class will kick it back to her.

Remember when that little voice in your ear was your conscience and not a transistor radio? . . . That's earl, brother.

Argentines, With Eye on Peso Value, Spending and Living Fast

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentines are spending pesos as fast as they get them, fearful their floundering currency may follow the Brazilian cruzeiro into fiscal oblivion.

★ ★ ★

During the Mardi Gras weekend, patrons wagered $3.3 million on the gambling tables at Mar del Plata Casino. Several millions more bet on horse races in Buenos Aires.

★ ★ ★

Streams of new cars speed over the highways carrying pleasure seekers to beach and mountain resorts. Trains to vacation spots are crowded during the summer months now drawing to a close and airline flights are booked solid.

Many put their pesos into hedges against inflation, automobiles, real estate, black market dollars and other tangibles.

VARIED SPREES

Others, figuring that a peso in the bank is slowly dying, indulge in long-deferred vacations, shopping sprees and binges.

The peso, now worth only seven-tenths of a cent, is just one of the ills plaguing Argentines in the 10th year since a military revolution ousted Dictator Juan D. Peron.

Once one of the most prosperous countries anywhere, Argentina has fallen heavily in debt. Public and private foreign obligations are nudging the $3-billion figure.

★ ★ ★

Since Peron's fall the country has known little internal peace. Upheavals and violence marked the immediate post-Peron period. Amid high hopes for a return to order, Arturo Frondizi assumed the presidency in 1958. But 37 crises later he was booted out by the army, in 1962.

★ ★ ★

The 17 months of President Arturo Illia's government are regarded as the longest continuous period of political peace in the decade.

STEADY DRAIN

One result has been a steady drain on the country's skilled human resources.

A Buenos Aires weekly financial publication, the Economist, said 12,600 Argentine engineers and scientists are presently employed in the United States. Thousands more, it said, were working in Spain, France, England, West Germany, Brazil and Venezuela.

A prime reason for the exodus was low pay. Up to a year ago, National Atomic Energy Commission technicians were paid 6,000 to 8,000 pesos monthly, about $43 to $56. Full-time university professors earned about $250 a month.

★ ★ ★

All this is occurring in a country whose interior is begging for development.

Seventy per cent of Argentina's 21 million peoples are clustered in a semi-circular belt extending 500 miles from Buenos Aires. Here two-thirds of the nation's railroads and paved highways are located.

Serious transportation problems are believed developing in this industrialized sector.

Against this bleak background, Illia's government seeks a vote of confidence in congressional elections Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The results will determine the fate of a government recovery program based chiefly on consolidation of democratic processes trampled by successive governments and the armed forces for the past 33 years.

China Closer to H-Bomb?

Expect 2nd N-Blast to Utilize Plutonium

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Scientific sources speculated today that Red China's second nuclear test weapon may be a plutonium bomb dropped from an airplane.

This would be evidence, one expert said, that the Chinese possess "real atomic sophistication." It also would suggest ability to develop the H-bomb.

Both the U.S. and British governments have forecast another Chinese atomic test but have not said what they think the device will be.

Plutonium is a man-made fissionable material usable in A-bombs and as triggers in H-bombs.

★ ★ ★

According to unofficial reports heard here, the Red Chinese have five nuclear reactors capable of producing small amounts of plutonium. They are said to have in operation a plant for recovering plutonium from reactor fuel cores and processing it for weapons.

This plant, according to the reports, is near Paotow, north of the Great Wall in Inner Mongolia.

FIRST TEST

China's first test weapon, exploded Oct. 16, 1964, was made of Uranium-235. U-235 is a natural fissionable material produced by separating it from the far more plentiful Uranium-238. U-238 is not readily fissionable.

Experts had believed the first Chinese bomb would be made of plutonium which is somewhat easier to produce, especially in nations not intensively industrialized.

State Income, Outgo

LANSING (AP) — State Treasury income during the past week was $38 million and outgo was $39.7 million. The Treasury balance at the end of the week was $213.4 million.

320 Civic Leaders at C. of C. Banquet

Area business, industrial and civic leaders — 320 strong—gathered last night at the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake, for the annual Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce banquet.

T. Austin Saunders, president of General Telephone Co. of Michigan, was keynote speaker. He is also president of the State Chamber of Commerce.

New local chamber officers were introduced by the 1965 president, Charles F. Brown, district manager of Consumers Power Company.

Brown introduced Kenneth Miller, first vice president; William G. Dickinson, second vice president; Gaylord L. Herrington, secretary, and Harold Cousins, treasurer.

Outgoing chamber president T. B. Bloom, director of personnel, Pontiac Motor Division, was honored for his services during the past year. He received a portable television.

★ ★ ★

Bloom cited the projected Michigan Osteopathic College slated to be built here, as the biggest accomplishment of 1964.

WILL FEEL BENEFITS

"We will feel the benefits before too long," promised Bloom.

Brown said the economic prospects are bright for 1965. He said all indicators point to increased activity and prosperity during the year.

Saunders, the keynote speaker, said that the face of Pontiac has changed and "it is obvious Pontiac is on the grow."

★ ★ ★

The state chamber president sounded a call for businessmen to be more active in public affairs, stating that economics and political action were simply two sides of the same coin.

NEW OFFICERS

The annual banquet marks the beginning of the reign of the chamber's new slate of officers.

★ ★ ★

Chamber manager Max T. Adams acted as toastmaster for the dinner. Also on the program was comedian Karrell Fox.

Probers Urge West Ouster

LANSING (AP)—A House committee, charging "deliberate, long-continued fraud," recommended yesterday that Rep.-elect Daniel West, D-Detroit, be denied his seat in the legislature.

The House was to vote, possibly today, on the five-man committee's unanimous recommendation.

But in Detroit, West's residence was contacted by the Associated Press and a man identifying himself as West said:

"I shall run again and I will be reelected. There is nothing to stop or prevent me from running.

"I have been made a martyr and the people of my district shall vindicate me.

56 TO 60 PER CENT

"I will get about 56 to 60 per cent of the votes when a special election is called.

"I rest my case with the people of the 24th District."

The person who said he was West added he has no indication when such a special election would be held.

The committee report charged West with "a clear, deliberate, intentional, long-continued pattern of grossly fraudulent representations . . . concerning his background."

3 Are Killed in Two County Road Mishaps

White Lake Accident Is Fatal to 2; Youth Struck by Car, Dies

Three persons were killed in two Oakland County traffic accidents last night.

Dead are Wayne Bellent, 15, of 7490 Hatchery, Waterford Township; Randolph R. Rothrock, 24, of 1433 Del Monte, Wolverine Lake; and John F. Nevarez, 7, of 9160 Julia White Lake Township.

Toll in '65 Highway Oakland 31 Last Year to Date 40

A single-car accident in White Lake Township, took the lives of Rothrock and the Nevarez boy shortly after 10 p.m.

Rothrock, driver of the car which crashed into a tree beside Union Lake Road, was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

It took officers an hour and a half to remove the boy's body from the wreckage. John, the son of Mrs. Faith Nevarez, was dead at the scene.

LOST CONTROL

White Lake Township police said Rothrock apparently lost control of his northbound car when it dropped off the shoulder of the road.

The vehicle veered across the pavement and slammed into a tree, they said.

The accident occurred just north of Erin Drive.

Bellent, a student at John D. Pierce Junior High School, was killed in Waterford Township when struck by a car at 8:02 p.m. while riding his bike on Williams Lake Road north of M59.

RIDING SOUTH

Police said the boy was riding south when he was struck by a southbound car driven by Robert R. Paschke, 40, of 2132 Paulsen, Waterford Township.

Paschke told police he didn't see the boy, who was dressed in dark clothing.

Circumstances of the accident are still being investigated, according to police. Paschke was not held.

The fatalities brought to five the total number of lives lost on Oakland County roads since Monday.

City Officers Star in Capital

Pontiac Police Detective Thomas Mitchell and Sgt. John DePauw were a big attraction in East Lansing yesterday where they attended a meeting of law enforcers and bank officials.

As the Pontiac officers drove up Michigan Avenue they spotted a grocery store clerk chasing a man down the street.

The detectives joined the chase and captured Gary Bakos, 20, of Lansing as he attempted to hide under a car in a nearby car lot.

DuPauw also assisted two clerks in subduing a second man clerks said attempted to shoplift some items from the store.

According to Mitchell, Bakos admitted trying to write a bad check.

TURNED OVER

DePauw and Mitchell turned their suspects over to the Lansing police and went from the store to their meeting a few doors away.

The meeting is a monthly conference on how to spot bad checks and catch persons who write them.

DePauw and Mitchell were the hit of this month's meeting.

NAACP Suit Seeks an End to Interference

Arrest 3 on Charges of Beating Ministers; Fourth Man Sought

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The spotlight on Alabama's racial strife switches today to this capital city where a federal judge considers whether state officials may interfere with peaceful demonstrations on behalf of Negro rights.

The main question before U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. is a suit filed by attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) —A federal judge rejected today a motion by Sheriff James G. Clark of Dallas County that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. be held in contempt for leading a street march at Selma.

The suit asks Johnson to halt Gov. George C. Wallace, Al Lingo, Alabama public safety director, and Dallas County Sheriff James G. Clark from interfering with a planned march by Negro demonstrators from Selma to Montgomery to plead for Negro voting rights.

However, the Justice Department has asked Johnson to consider the broader question of forbidding Wallace and other officials from interfering with any peaceful demonstrations.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach intervened in the suit yesterday.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the civl rights drive, faces a possible contempt of court charge at the hearing.

He defied an order by Johnson Tuesday banning further

New Viet Strategy Hinted After LBJ, Aides Confer

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — A presidential policy conference at Camp David indicates new decisions on the U.S. role in the Vietnamese war may be in the making.

One question believed to be under top level consideration is whether U. S. air attacks on military bases in North Viet Nam should be carried deeper into that country.

So far they have been restricted to the southern regions, well away from the capital, Hanoi.

Last night's conference at the presidential retreat in the mountains of western Maryland brought together President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and McGeorge Bundy and Bill D. Moyers, White House aides.

The topic for the meeting was not announced but it was understood that the major subject, at least, was Viet Nam and that Camp David was chosen by the President because it afforded a relaxed atmosphere in which he and his chief advisers could talk out the whole complex of problems associated with the Southeast Asian conflict.

These include the efforts by many other countries, including Britain, France and the Soviet Union, to initiate peace talks; political and military conditions inside South Viet Nam, which U.S. officials are said to consider difficult and disappointing but not hopeless, and the Johnson administration's desire for support from other countries in the struggle in Viet Nam.

CENTRAL PROBLEM

The central problem constantly before Johnson and his chief diplomatic and military advisers, however, is how to bring enough pressure on Communist North Viet Nam to persuade the leaders in Hanoi to halt the infiltration of troops and arms into the South to reinforce the Viet Cong guerrilla fighters trying to take over the country.

U.S. combat planes began attacking the North Feb. 7. The raids were described initially as retaliation for Communist guerrilla attacks on U.S. installations in the South and on South Vietnamese troops.

The strategy behind the air strikes, however, was to make North Viet Nam feel the destructive force of U.S. military power in Southeast Asia.

Implicit in the operations from the beginning was the possibility that if the North Vietnamese leaders did not abandon what the United States has called their aggression against the South they faced increasing destruction in their own country.

It is now more than a month since the air strikes were first undertaken and U.S. officials say that if and when any new decisions are made for expanded U.S. operations against the North they will very likely be made known not by advance announcement but as result of action in the field.

Queen to End Long Boycott of Duchess

LONDON (AP) — After 29 years, Queen Elizabeth II is ending the British royal boycott of the Duchess of Windsor.

As the duke — her uncle — lay ill in London with the sight of one eye in danger, the queen let it be known she intends to visit him and meet the American-born divorcee for whom he gave up the British throne in 1936.

No previous meeting between the queen and the duchess is on record. The general belief in London is that they have never met.

The queen intended the meeting to take place today. But the duke, lying immobile and with his eyes bandaged after his fourth major operation in three months, was said by his physicians to be too ill to receive visitors.

★ ★ ★

The queen is expected to visit her uncle when his doctors decide he is well enough.

"This is not a casual meeting," said a spokesman for Buckingham Palace. "It has been arranged that when the queen goes to visit the duke, the duchess will be with him."

Water Level in Test Well Up 3 Feet

Reporting that recent precipitation brought water levels up in most areas of the state, the U.S. Geological Survey has singled out its Oakland County test well as recording one of the sharpest climbs in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The well at the Cranbrook Institute of Science in Bloomfield Hills, which was near the record low level in January, has risen three feet, the survey reported.

The last measurement of the test well indicated that the water level was 14.9 feet below the ground surface. Location of the well is 788 feet above sea level.

This rise in the test well level reflects the general water level gain in Oakland County lakes.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the drain commission office said that lake levels presently are about the same as last year at this time. Just a few months ago the levels were down considerably.

LESS RAINFALL

Less rainfall than the normal annual accumulation of between 30 and 31 inches has contributed to the falling levels of the county's some 400 lakes since 1960.

★ ★ ★

Increased use of ground water has also caused a lowering of the underground water table which indirectly affects lake levels.

Still Unconscious

Minister Near Death

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A white minister, victim of a Selma beating, was near death today in a hospital, his anxious wife near his side.

Rev. James J. Reeb, 38, of Boston still was unconscious from a clubbing he received Tuesday night in Selma as the aftermath of a civil rights march there.

His wife, Marie, was with him at the hospital, pale and shaken by what had happened.

Mrs. Reeb said her husband considered the civil rights cause important enough to merit the beating he received at the hands of white men outside a Selma cafe.

Reeb was taken by ambulance the 90 miles to Birmingham for an operation at the University of Alabama Medical Center.

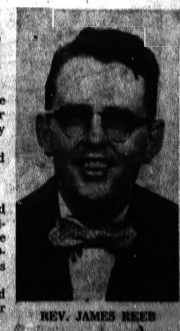

It was there his wife found him, still unconscious.

YELLOW ROSES

She received yellow roses and a special telegram from President Johnson, another message from Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and dozens of telegrams from all over the nation.

Mrs. Reeb said she informed their four children their father had been hurt.

"The three younger children didn't understand," she said, "but the older boy, 13, was quite upset."

Snow, Flurries Are Forecast for Pontiac, Area

Old Man Winter still has 1½ weeks to go and he's going to let us know it.

★ ★ ★

First, he's planned light snow or snow flurries for tonight with the low around 16 to 24.

Tomorrow, he'll exchange flurries for partly cloudy skies and give us a high in the range of 30 to 35.

It's back to cloudy skies and snow again for Saturday, however.

★ ★ ★

Today in Pontiac and surrounding area, winds are variable at 6 to 12 miles an hour.

The low temperature recorded for the day was just 16. By 1 p.m. the mercury had scampered up to 31 in downtown Pontiac.

Jets Hit Reds in Secret Raids

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Air Force jet bombers and fighter-bombers carried out secret bombing missions against the Communists today.

One B57 twin-jet was lost while dropping napalm on Viet Cong troops 390 miles northeast of Saigon in another attack.

South Vietnamese fighter-bombers and the B57s hit Communist targets inside South Viet Nam while a force of between 15 and 20 F100 fighter-bombers roared off from Da Nang to hit unannounced targets, believed to be Communist supply lines in Laos.

The pilot and copilot of the downed B57 apparently parachuted to safety but were not found.

★ ★ ★

It was the first B57 lost in action against the Communists. Five other B57 pilots on the same raid said there was no ground fire in the area.

FLARES DROPPED

Transport planes dropped parachute flares over the crash scene tonight to light up the scene for searchers.

Fighter-bombers and U.S. helicopters bristling with rockets and machineguns protected search parties which reached the wreckage.

Although today's was the first B57 lost in combat one crashed when they were sent to Viet Nam last August during the Tonkin crisis and several were damaged in a Communist mortar attack on Da Nang — where the F100s took off today on their mystery raid.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Air Force officials declined to disclose the target. Raids from Da Nang have been directed against Communist North Viet Nam, Communist supply routes in Laos, and Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam.

JETS RETURN

The F100 Supersabre jets roared off the Da Nang runways in midmorning and returned about noon.

Vietnamese air force officials said five Vietnamese Skyraider fighter-bombers made a strike from Da Nang today against two guerrilla battalions in South Viet Nam.

A spokesman said the Skyraiders rained antipersonnel bombs against Viet Cong positions in a raid described as "effective." He said it was too early to give precise estimates of damage and losses.

★ ★ ★

In Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said six American-piloted B57 bombers pounded Communist positions north of the Kannack Special Forces camp in Binh Dinh province, scene of a bloody Communist defeat Monday.

★ ★ ★

No details of the B57 strike were announced.

U.S. Viet Aid Up $50 Million

McNamara Refers to Sharply Rising Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told Congress today that this year's bill for U.S. military aid in South Viet Nam had gone up an additional $50 million.

★ ★ ★

McNamara said that President Johnson was transferring $50 million previously earmarked for economic aid to the military program because of sharply rising costs of the Viet Nam war.

This step, McNamara said, will allow progress of "some high priority requirements" that the administration otherwise might have been forced to delay. Such a delay, he said, would have been at the expense of U.S. national interest.

American aid to South Viet Nam for the fiscal year ending June 30 mounts to about $700 million. It is divided about evenly between economic aid, military aid, and money spent on U.S. forces there.

★ ★ ★

McNamara testified before the House foreign affairs committee on President Johnson's request for a $3.4 billion foreign aid program.

The figures for proposed aid to South Viet Nam for next year have not been made public. But McNamara testified that the administration was requesting $170 million "for the special combat needs in Viet Nam and Laos" above the normal amount scheduled to go to those countries.

CONSERVATIVE

McNamara said that the $170 million may be a "conservative estimate," since it is based upon possible developments "over which we do not have full control."

DISCUSS POLICY — Republican policy leaders are shown during a meeting of the party's new coordinating committee. Stage Protests in Michigan

By The Associated Press

Four hundred persons marched in Ann Arbor Wednesday, expressing a prayerful reaction to violence surrounding the racial demonstrations at Selma, Ala.

In Kalamazoo, Mayor Raymond Hightower led 50 persons in a sympathy march. Demonstrators carried placards and sang a civil rights theme song, "We Shall Overcome."

★ ★ ★

At Pontiac, some 40 Oakland University students demonstrated in front of the city's federal building Wednesday to protest the treatment of Negroes in Selma.

Ann Arbor Mayor Cecil O. Creal and other city officials walked four blocks with the procession to the Washtenaw County Building where Protestant, Catholic and Jewish clergymen joined in a "litany of grace and race."

ASKS SUPPORT

Speaking before an audience of University of Michigan students, secretary Lafayette Surney of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, called for help and moral support of the Selma demonstrators.

He spoke in place of SNCC national chairman John Lewis who was severely beaten in Sunday's march in Selma.

He, She? Let's Get It Right!

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Spencer Furr is all man, but legal records say he is a woman.

★ ★ ★

Furr has been married 13 years, served in the Army, drives for Queen City Trailways and chews on a fat black cigar. He was born Feb. 15, 1922 in Stanly County, N. C.

Or was he?

When he went into the Army in the early 1940s, he discovered that according to records he was a girl, born in 1923.

★ ★ ★

Furr believes the mistake was made by the doctor who delivered him in 1922. The doctor, reasons Furr, probably forgot to send in the certificate for almost a year. When he did, he forgot whether he had delivered a boy or a girl.

COMPILED EVIDENCE

He has compiled evidence of his masculinity and age — his mother's word, an old family Bible, school records indicating he started to school in 1928, and a census report stating he was an 8-year-old boy.

Furr said the mistake has been corrected in Albemarle records but not by the state, though he has a stack of letters several inches thick showing his efforts to straighten things out.

"I guess I'll write some more letters," Furr sighed. "Honestly, sometimes I feel like dropping the whole thing it's such a mess.

★ ★ ★

"But I do feel everybody needs a correct birth certificate. And I want mine," he said.

★ ★ ★

He laughed when he recalled his Army tour.

"In the Army," he said, "I had a woman's job anyway. I was a cook."

GOP Is Drafting Bill to Match Rights Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders move today toward translating into legislation their call for federal action to assure Negroes the right to register and vote.

The new Republican coordinating committee said in its initial statement yesterday it was outraged at the denial "by force and fraud" of Negro voting rights.

It set a goal of assuring every citizen his constitutional rights in this field before the 1966 elections.

The coordinating group is composed of congressional leaders, governors, former presidential candidates and national committee members.

★ ★ ★

It announced its support for President Johnson's course in South Viet Nam.

DISRUPTIVE VOICES

It denounced Democratic "disruptive voices of appeasement," which it said, "undercut the President."

But it added: "Our task force on foreign policy shall have as one of its major objectives the examination of some of the most massive failures in foreign policy in recent American history."

The committee went on to cite the consolidation of the Communist beachhead in Cuba, the expansion of Communist influence and control in Africa and the Near East, the deterioration of the Atlantic alliance."

★ ★ ★

A task force on human rights also is to be named but Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen and House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan indicated they think the GOP civil rights position will be established firmly before it can get into operation.

PROPOSED DRAFTS

Dirksen said in an interview he expects to meet with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to go over proposed drafts of voting rights legislation.

He forecast introduction of a Republican bill by next Tuesday.

Ford said a House task force expects to reach agreement on a bill soon, working with Dirksen on its terms.

Although former Vice President Richard M. Nixon told a news conference yesterday the Johnson administration "has dragged its feet on voting rights legislation," Dirksen said he could not agree.

Noting that he was trying to cooperate with the administration in this field, Dirksen said: "I'd rather not throw stones."

The GOP leaders had some varying ideas about whether their stand in favor of federal voting rights legislation would bring Negroes back into the party fold and how it would be received by Southern Republicans.

"One statement of policy is not going to change the party's image," Nixon said.

"It will be the party's course of action that counts. Republicans must be interested in the Negro not because of his vote but because of concern for his problems."

Await Ruling on Marches

attempted marches by leading a march later in the day in which about 2,000 demonstrators, including many ministers, turned back after meeting state police.

King was here today for the hearing.

★ ★ ★

There were these other developments on the Alabama racial scene:

● Selma's public safety director, Wilson Baker, announced the arrest of three white men on charges of beating three white Unitarian ministers who came to Selma to participate in the civl rights drive.

Baker identifed those arrested as Willam Stanley Hoggle, 36, R.B. Kelly, 30, and Elmer Cook, 41. Baker said a warrant has been issued for a fourth man.

● About 350 civil rights demonstrators slept in the streets of Selma in 40-degree weather in a vigil for one of the beaten ministers, the Rev. James Reeb, 38, of Boston, who lay near death in a Birmingham hospital.

It was the first nighttime demonstration in Selma in the almost eight weeks since the right to vote campaign began in this rich farm soil area known as the Black Belt.

The vigil grew out of a night march which along with an earlier one was halted by Mayor Joe Smitherman and State Police.

Vote on Health Plan Language

House OK Predicted in About Two Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee begins voting today on the language of a comprehensive health care bill for the aged. House passage in about two weeks is predicted.

★ ★ ★

The forecast of passage was made Wednesday by Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who said he hopes the committee can make its essential decisions by Friday.

★ ★ ★

This would permit House action during the week of March 22, Mills told members of the Senior Citizens Golden Ring Council.

Mills withheld details of the draft legislation but confirmed in general terms reports of a multifaceted bill on which a majority of the committee had agreed informally.

CONVINCED

"I am thoroughly convinced that what the committee will report in the next few days and the House will pass a few days thereafter will provide a more complete solution of the problems people face — not exclusively those over 65 — than any other program suggested to us," he said.

★ ★ ★

Mills said the draft bill includes the basic administration proposal, a hospitalization plan financed by a payroll tax, also an additional plan for further health expenses, an increase in the Social Security old-age payments, and a broadening of the existing state-federal programs for health care of indigent and low-income persons.

The reference to benefits for some under 65 apparently referred to this part of the package, which could include health care of dependent children.

★

President Johnson sent Wednesday's meeting a message that "the long debate is drawing to a close. There is going to be a program of health insurance for older people in this country."

Agree on Return to Free Press After Stoppage

DETROIT (AP) — The morning Detroit Free Press, blaming a dispute with a pressmen's union, failed to publish today's editions.

However, following negotiations during the night, the pressmen agreed to return to their jobs on schedule today and tonight. A spokesman said the grievance will be the subject of further discussions with Free Press management.

The stoppage involved the firing of a pressman Tuesday night by Free Press management for what the newspaper termed "neglect of duty." Two grievance sessions and urging by Pressmen's Local 13 President Freeman Frazee for the men to return to their jobs failed to end the dispute Wednesday.

World Travel Program to Feature Persia Riches

BIRMINGHAM — The rich treasures of ancient Persia as preserved in the modern state of Iran will be viewed by persons attending the world travel program at the Community House this week.

"Splendors of Modern Persia" is the color film to be narrated by Cliff Kamen at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday.

Persia was once the most powerful empire on earth. Today the country again is on the threshold of becoming a strategically important nation.

Kamen started his journey in modern Tehran, where he visited the University of Tehran and a wealthy Iranian family.

Moving along the Caspian Sea coast, he reached the Elburz Mountains and witnessed tribal life at the Russian border and operation of the caviar industry.

Historical references of both an artistic and cultural nature dot his film.

Preceding the film, the Community House will serve an authentic Persian dinner as well as an American bill of fare. Reservations for the 6 p.m. dinner are required by 5 p.m. today.

Alfred J. Peters, assistant superintendent of Utica Community Schools, has been appointed director of finance for the Birmingham School System.

Peters, whose appointment will take effect April 12, replaces Lloyd Van Buskirk Jr., who resigned to become director of campus planning for Oakland Community College.

Assistant superintendent for business administration in Utica, Peters has worked there four years. He had taught in Grosse Pointe public schools and been superintendent of the kindergarten through eighth grade for the Chesterfield Township School District.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Peters received his master's degree and an advanced certificate from Wayne State University.

He, his wife and their two sons live in Warren.

System of Rescuing Downed Pilots Perfected Between Korea, Viet Wars

(EDITOR'S NOTE—George McArthur, now the AP bureau chief in Manila, had for his first overseas assignment coverage of the Korean War. Now he is assigned temporarily to the Saigon staff to help cover the Vietnamese hostilities. In the following story, he makes some comparisons based on his experience.)

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

BIEN HOA Airbase, South Viet Nam (AP) — A dozen years ago on Korea's bloody mountains the rescue of a downed pilot was frequently a chaotic spectacle.

While the fallen flier's mates shot up the area with whatever hardware was available, a lumbering helicopter groped its way to the scene. With luck, it snatched the pilot away — if he was still alive and if he could be located.

★ ★ ★

Frequently the mission failed. The technique was new and few chopper crews were experienced. But the hope of rescue was an unrivaled morale-booster for combat pilots.

★ ★ ★

In the intervening years, the Air Force has brought the technique to almost amazing perfection. It is paying off handsomely in Viet Nam, where fliers have little faith in the uncertain mercy of the Communist Viet Cong.

RECENT RAIDS

During recent American and South Vietnamese air raids on the Communist North, the air-sea rescue teams gave a daring display of their new versatility.

Of six pilots shot down, five were snatched to safety in a matter of hours — three from the sea and two from the ground.

★ ★ ★

Finding the downed pilot no longer is a hit or miss question. Fliers are equipped with small homing radios. Unless the radio is shot or the pilot badly hurt, the system can bring the rescue men in almost unerringly.

★ ★ ★

The twin-rotor "Husky" helicopters used for rescue missions are armored against small-arms fire and packed with specialized equipment. One valuable item is a cable-hoist that can descend 217 feet and lift 600 pounds. It has proved itself already in Viet Nam's deep jungles, though the ride up is not recommended for the weak-hearted.

VALUABLE EQUIPMENT

The really valuable equipment is the manpower inside the Husky.

The crew chief and paramedic who ride the rescue cabin have perhaps more hard technical training than any such pint-sized military force in history.

★ ★ ★

In addition to normal flight training, marksmanship and such, the paramedic is a trained parachute jumper, a field medic, an underwater scuba expert and an expert in jungle survival. Along with the crew chief he also is a trained fire fighter — handling the 1,000-pound fire fighting pod, dangling beneath the chopper, which can spew forth a special foam powerful enough to quench a white hot fire.

"We can have these missions in the air in less than two minutes," says Maj. Archie R. Taylor of Phoenix, Ariz., and Orlando, Fla., commander of Detachment 4, Pacific Air Rescue Center, at Bien Hoa airbase.

The planes at Da Nang get most of the tricky missions.

Lt. Kemp Roedema of Garfield, N.J., is a case in point. The Skyriader pilot was shot down only 20 miles north of Saigon at about 9:30 one morning. He was back on the base at noon, having survived a brush with Viet Cong guerrillas almost within touching distance as he was snatched to safety.

★ ★ ★

"It beats walking," he beamed. "I wouldn't have wanted to be that paramedic who came down to get me."

The Husky crews also have two other missions which are less dashing but equally dangerous.

DO ANYTHING

"We will do almost anything to bring out the bodies of guys who crash out there," says Capt. John Boyles, DeLand, Fla., a father of four with 10 years experience as a helicopter pilot. "We also go out to destroy downed planes, particularly the guns."

The Communist Viet Cong are quick to pounce on downed aircraft and strip them of their machine guns or cannons.

A crucial stage in the development of alcoholism occurs when a person learns to prefer solitary drinking to social drinking.

ARE CONTACT LENSES SAFE?

Three years of diligent research have produced a new antiseptic contact lens which has tested out to be chemically safe, according to Kindy Optical Company, 13 N. Saginaw St.

The safety features of the new lens have been confirmed by a leading Midwestern Medical School and a nationally recognized research laboratory. Tests prove that the new lens arrests the growth of germs, thereby preventing or retarding possible infections caused by carelessness of the wearer or by dust particles.

Although all contact lenses are considered safe with proper fitting and proper wearing habits, Kindy presents the additional safety margin of the new lens.

Complete information and literature may be obtained without obligation at Kindy Optical Company, 13 N. Saginaw St., Pontiac.

Autocratic Governor a Disgrace to Alabama

During the past few days the Country has witnessed the revolting spectacle of a body of Americans being denied rights of citizenship and subjected to police brutality in the process. But even surpassing it is the alarming display of dictatorial power and defiance of constitutional law exercised by the chief executive of a state.

WALLACE

The racial violence that centered in Selma, Ala., is but another episode in the script of hate and bigotry authored by Gov. George Wallace.

★ ★ ★

In this latest phase of southern Negroes' program of implementation of civil rights guarantees — equal prerogative of voter registration — Wallace was from the start foredoomed to defeat.

The so-called Louisiana registration rule—by which Alabama election officials exercised discriminatory power in registering voters — was declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court. Moreover, it is almost certain that a federal court in a hearing scheduled for today will vacate an original injunction forbidding the Negroes the right to march in protest against obstruction of their attempts to register.

★ ★ ★

In pursuing his course of blind defiance of the moral and legal tide rising on behalf of ethnic equality, Wallace's voice is becoming more and more a solitary one crying out in the wilderness of racial intolerance and persecution.

The governor can, however, point to one achievement of considerable consequence. He has succeeded in rallying a significant part of America against him.

One-House Legislature Reflected in New Light

Since the year-old U.S. Supreme Court decree that both houses of state legislatures be apportioned on the "one-man, one-vote" basis, Nebraska's one-house (unicameral) legislature has been eyed with new and increased interest by students of government.

The Cornhusker legislature, initiated in 1937, is the only one of its kind in the country. Conceived in 1934 by then-Sen. George W. Norris, it is a nonpartisan body of 49 members. Before it went into effect, the State's two-house body had 133 lawmakers.

★ ★ ★

Among many advantages cited by proponents of the one-house concept are:

- Lower costs, as a result of fewer legislators on the payroll and reduction in related costs.
- Avoidance of duplicated effort, with bills going through only one house instead of two.
- The smaller size of the body gives voters a better choice and results in a generally higher-caliber legislature.

Why hasn't the streamlined legislature caught on so far?

Well, one good reason is that no legislator wants to legislate himself out of a job. Another is that neither Republican nor Democratic organizations like its nonpartisan feature.

★ ★ ★

But significantly, an initiative effort to restore partisanship through a constitutional amendment last year failed for lack of petitionary signatures.

A 1961 survey of 68 present and former legislators turned up only four who favored a return to the two-house system.

Nebraska Gov. Frank Morrison's epitome of the functional superiority of the one-house legislature over the two is: "Why run the milk through the separator twice?"

★ ★ ★

It could well be that the Supreme Court's usurpation of the States' right of self-apportionment may lead indirectly to an unenvisioned legislative revolution.

Alabama Picture Is Getting Fuzzy

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — It's a mixed-up picture now in Alabama, legally, philosophically and even strategically.

The longer the struggle by Dr. Martin L. King Jr. and other Negro leaders to break down Alabama's barriers to voting, the more complex it gets.

MARLOW

In Alabama, where Negroes are kept from voting about as thoroughly as anywhere, King and his aides have been demonstrating to get more Negroes registered. Then he hit on a spectacular idea.

He would lead a 50-mile march of Negroes from Selma to the Alabama capital, Montgomery, to petition Gov. George C. Wallace to remove obstacles to Negro voting.

Sunday, Wallace ordered the state police to use whatever means necessary to stop them. The police used tear gas and billy clubs, beating many of the marchers and injuring about 40. In all this, three problems were mixed up.

★ ★ ★

The 50-mile march would take at least three days. With about 450 marchers on the highway, traffic would become a shambles. Wallace has a responsibility to see that motorists can use the highways.

A GUARANTEED RIGHT

But under the Constitution's first amendment, citizens have a guaranteed right to "peaceably assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

Question: Which comes first, the right of motorists to use the highway or the Negroes to assemble peacefully on the highway and use it for their journey with their petition?

On Tuesday, Federal Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. issued an order against resuming the march. President Johnson wanted King to obey it.

★ ★ ★

Instead, King, who repeatedly has relied on the federal government and the federal courts in his civil rights battle, decided to defy the court order and ignore the President's wishes. He called for a new march and led it.

DIDN'T GO FAR

It didn't go far. Wallace's state troopers this time without beatings, ordered King and his followers to turn back. They did. But King called this "the greatest demonstration for freedom, the greatest confrontation we ever had in the South."

But what it accomplished, if anything, isn't clear. King said the short march had to be made as a matter of conscience to "stand up to the troopers."

★ ★ ★

King, who wants court orders enforced against segregationists, was asked about his defiance of the court order against his march. He said, "it doesn't mean we have lost confidence in federal courts." But he also called the injunction unjust.

David Lawrence Says:

Some 'Rights' Abuses Ignored

WASHINGTON — "Civil rights" is today a much misunderstood, if not abused, phrase.

There is a furor currently about literacy tests and other obstacles being placed in the way of Negroes who wish to exercise their constitutional right to vote. But there is no public debate on whether persons, either white or colored, should be allowed to sell their votes to the highest bidder.

LAWRENCE

Yet it is well known that all sorts of bribes and material considerations are being offered in political campaigns in order to get votes. Scandals occur not only in local elections but in federal elections.

Another abuse of "civil rights" is in the field of religion. The First Amendment to the Constitution says that no law shall be passed which in any way prohibits "the free exercise" of religion by a citizen.

★ ★ ★

Only this week, the Supreme Court of the United States ruled that a person can be excused from military service as a conscientious objector even when his religious belief against participation in war is unorthodox.

NEWS REPORT

But a few days earlier there was a news report which says, in effect, that a man who objects on religious grounds to joining a labor union can be dismissed from his job upon the demand of the union representing other employes in the same plant.

Three men, members of the Christadelphian faith, cited Corinthians II, 6:14 as the reason for not joining a union.

The Supreme Court has ruled that compulsory unionization can be carried on by agreement between the employer and the majority of the employes of a company, and that this is based upon the commerce clause of the Constitution.

★ ★ ★

The court, however, has also ruled that compulsory membership in a union must not impair freedom of expression.

AGAINST WILL

This was decided in 1961, when the high court held that the authorization of a union shop by railroad workers does not permit the union — against the will of an employe — to use a member's dues to support political causes which he opposes, and that to do so violates the First Amendment.

The court has not yet had a case requiring it to rule on whether religious beliefs are on a par with political beliefs in labor-union practices.

Many states have felt that it was necessary to pass "right to work" laws forbidding compulsory unionization, and 19 states have such laws on their books today. But the labor unions have always conducted a crusade against this legislation.

The existing federal statute permits any state to forbid compulsory unionization.

IN POSITION

All states which do not prohibit it are in the position of accepting compulsory unionization, because federal law allowing the practice has been upheld by the Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

Now, however, labor unions are demanding that the provision of the federal statute which allows the states discretionary power shall be repealed, and that no state in the union shall be permitted to pass any law prohibiting compulsory unionization. President Johnson has recommended such a step to Congress.

★ ★ ★

So the clock is moving toward more and more compulsion to join a union and the abolition of the "civil rights" of the individual so far as his right to work is concerned.

Bob Considine Says:

Viet War No Exception in Inhibition Department

HONOLULU — There are inhibitions in just about every war. The war in Viet Nam is no exception, one learns at military "briefings" here.

For the present, we will not use napalm against targets in North Viet Nam. But we will use it against enemy pockets in South Viet Nam.

CONSIDINE

There is, of course, no desire to use tactical or any other kind of nuclear weapons in either place. The enemy operates confidently, as a result.

The question of just which kind of weapon does him in for eternity, must be depressingly academic to the victim of the ultimate thrust.

This is a thought that has gnawed at me since I was a kid around Washington at the time of the big naval conference there in 1923 when the prime debate was whether our battleships and those of our friends and potential enemies should carry 14-inch guns or 16-inch guns.

DIDN'T MATTER

The projectiles each of these guns could lob for 15 or 20 miles each weighed about as much as the shanties we lived in, in the Swampoodle section of the capital. It didn't seem to matter much which size conked us. As long as we were conked.

The succumbing soul in Viet Nam, north or south, could hardly wish to (or have much time to) do much soul-searching over the relative emotions of being launched into eternity by an H-bomb or a 32-caliber bullet.

In the early portions of the war in Viet Nam there were such weapons as nails standing upright in wooden blocks along grass trails, sharply whittled-down bamboo shoots sunk in portions of rice paddies bordering on the "strategic hamlets."

★ ★ ★

Now the weapons the enemy use are fairly sophisticated Chinese arms. There will be more lethal sophistication as time goes on. And less nicety.

COULD CHANGE

The Viet Cong could destroy many commercial installations in South Viet Nam which now go unharmed because their owners bribe them, pay for "protection" that could change.

We could knock out North Viet Nam totally, but do not. That could change, too.

But, for the time, we play it by the book. And so do they.

In Washington:

Jobs Vacant as Many Seek Work

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Tom Tibbins (fictitious name) was trained in printing in the public schools and sent to a job.

CROMLEY

The print shop needed a man badly. But it couldn't use Tom because he'd been trained on obsolescent machines. The owners couldn't take the chance that he'd ruin their expensive modern equipment.

Bob Kent (fictitious name) learned farming in a school system turning out 12,000 farmers annually in a state which can use but 1,000 new farmers a year.

This state, probably no better or worse than most, is producing 2,500 technicians, craftsmen and machine operatives a year in its apprentice and classroom programs. The estimated need is 10,000 annually in manufacturing alone.

XYZ Garage (fictitious name) says a good chunk of its repair shop time is occupied redoing jobs done poorly in its own shop by insufficiently trained mechanics.

★ ★ ★

The unhappy garage owner would help supply teachers if schools in his city would put in up-to-date training courses on engines, transmissions and other repair skills.

These examples illustrate three problems in the drive to cut poverty through job training for the unemployed.

★ ★ ★

Many young people are now being trained inadequately, frequently on obsolescent equipment and often for the wrong jobs.

So jobs are going begging while unemployment stays high.

★ ★ ★

Some American furniture manufacturers are turning to Europe for skilled help. An auto mechanics union official in one major city reports his local can't supply enough body and fender men.

★ ★ ★

In another large city, 320 designers, draftsmen and commercial artists are needed a year; local public and private schools turn out less than 100. In one city and another there are cries for nurserymen, dental technicians, typewriter repairmen, cartographers, plumbers and a host of other craftsmen.

Says one business machine agency man, "I'd give an arm and a leg for a good adding machine repairman. I wouldn't care if he were 63."

But these are odds-and-ends of information.

Private research groups have turned up evidence the government is rushing into its training-to - cure - unemployment - and-poverty program without knowing what's needed.

Officials have little information on what job openings there are or what skills they require. (Government data may include only three out of 100 openings in a particular field in a city.) There's little data on what jobs will be opening up.

So officials have no clear picture of what to train the unemployed for, what skills to train them in or what machines to train them on for the jobs they do know about.

Yet some private schools, by keeping in close touch with the business market, are able to guarantee a job to every graduate. There's a lesson here somewhere.

Voice of the People:

Michigan Needs Tax Cut Rather Than Increase

Our Nation is on a direct collision course with disaster which will stem from the action by lawmakers to extract more money from taxpayers to nourish the fast-growing monster "government."

★ ★ ★

When reward for daily work is chiseled away by the ever-increasing burden of taxation, incentive is lost and the stage is set for attack by socialism.

★ ★ ★

My desire is that taxation on sales, income, real estate, etc., be drastically reduced, not constantly increased at Romney plans for our State. The wealth of the State is rapidly increasing through industries and population growth. This should be sufficient.

A WEST BLOOMFIELD PATRIOT

'Hard to Explain Death of Child's Puppy'

Last week my son's poodle puppy was killed on Dundee Drive. The driver of the car later stated she was aware of the dog in the street and honked the horn twice, but did not stop to let it get out of her way.

★ ★ ★

What reason could anyone have for not even stopping after the accident to let us know our dog had been killed? This was hard to explain to my four-year-old son.

MRS. JAMES H. CURD
WATERFORD TOWNSHIP

'Why Can't Michigan Have Dog Racing?'

I don't think it should be up to the churches to decide whether Michigan should have dog racing or if whisky should be sold on Sunday. Beer and wine are available and whisky can be consumed in the home on Sunday.

Other states have dog racing and bingo, but not Michigan because of the gambling. They tax you for everything, but anything that offers enjoyment to Michigan can't have even though the State would get a large portion of it.

INTERESTED IN KNOWING WHY

'Support Statewide Tax Reform Package'

I would like to point out a fallacy in the thinking of those who justify the taxing of nonresidents because "they use our streets, water, sewers, lights, police and fire protection and so forth, when they come to Pontiac." If a Pontiac resident wishes to go to one of the neighboring townships or villages should he expect, because he is benefiting from the facilities and services of another community, to pay a special tax? If a person wishes to travel through a number of communities, should he pay a small fee in each?

★ ★ ★

Instead of supporting such a program, let's support a system of statewide tax reform which would have a lower cost collection rate and be equitable to all people. This should encourage business by eliminating the business activities tax and reducing the corporation franchise tax. It should reduce property taxes (much more than three mills), especially on retired peoples' homes, and cut the sales tax rate or take the sales tax off food and medicine. The tax cuts would, if we are to provide the same level of services per capita, have to be offset by some other tax.

★ ★ ★

I urge you to support a statewide corporate and personal income tax. Write your state representative, senator and governor and let him know that you will stand behind him if he supports a statewide tax reform package.

Bank Merger in NY Violated Trust Laws

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that the 1961 merger that made Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. of New York the nation's fourth largest bank violated antitrust laws.

District Judge Lloyd F. MacMahon in a ruling late Wednesday gave the bank and the Justice Department 10 days to submit proposals leading to what, in effect, would be a reversal of the merger of the former Manufacturers Trust Co. and the Hanover Bank.

★ ★ ★

The order opened the door to a complex legal problem new this year to banking and law.

Only one similar ruling has been issued. That was by the Supreme Court in April involving the First Security National Bank and Trust Co., Lexington, Ky. Implementation of the ruling in that case is still pending.

In the Manufacturers Hanover case MacMahon ruled that "the merger of Manufacturers and Hanover is a combination in restraint of trade in commercial banking in the New York metropolitan area and in the United States, in violation of section one of the Sherman Antitrust Act."

A PROBABILITY

"There is reasonable probability that the merger may substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in commercial banking," he wrote.

At the end of 1964 Manufacturers Hanover had assets of $6.971 billion and deposits of $6.04 billion. The only larger institutions were the Bank of America, San Francisco, and New York's Chase Manhattan and First National City Banks.

★ ★ ★

Manufacturers Trust and Hanover merged Sept. 8, 1961, two days after the Federal Reserve Board of Governors approved. The Justice Department filed suit the same day to prevent the merger.

MacMahon said approval by the Federal Reserve of the merger "is not final and conclusive determination of its legality."

ARGUE METHODS

A U.S. district judge in Lexington March 18 will hear argument on methods to be used in demerging the two Lexington institutions that merged in 1961 — the First National Bank and Trust and the Security Trust Co.

In New York, Manufacturers Hanover said it would continue as it has pending a final court determination and declined additional comment.

★ ★ ★

Since 1961 the merged New York bank has grown substantially in all areas. The growth presents a problem in apportionment of increased assets in a demerger or division of branches. Manufacturers Hanover now has 136 branches, compared to 130 in 1961.

SEPARATION ENDS — Mrs. Betty Greer of Hamilton, Ohio, and her son, Pfc. Arnold Anderson, clutched each other in a tight embrace at the Cincinnati airport last night after not having seen each other since the son was a baby. They didn't know each other's whereabouts until recently when a letter by Arnold to Middletown, Ohio, police located Mrs. Greer. Arnold, who is home on leave from Korea, was taken by his father during divorce proceedings.

LANDMARK TO RUBBLE—David Pabst (left), operator of Pabst Farms, and George Goetsch, dynamiter, look over the remains of twin silos which were razed by explosives yesterday. The silos were 94 feet high and among the tallest in the country. They were destroyed because leaking water tanks at the top made them unsafe.

LBJ Chatty, Serious on Job Corps Tour

TURMONT, Md. (AP)—Probably no commanding officer has inspected an enlisted man's barracks the way President Johnson swept through the nation's Job Corps camp.

He wandered in and out of buildings, observed some physical training routines, poked into the mess hall to drink coffee with the boys, and bounced up and down on a dormitory bed.

★ ★ ★

Hand outthrust, his tone chitchaty, the President asked for names, for home towns, inquired into progress and often played it for laughs.

"Any of you-all takin' photography? Plenty of jobs should be open," he remarked to riotous laughter as cameras recorded eagerly his coffee-drinking session.

SERIOUS STANCE

But the chief executive also struck a serious stance Wednesday, telling one youth after another: "A lot depends on how you fellows make out. If you make a good job of it, the Congress will go along and make a lot of training available to other fellows."

The Job Corps camp, six miles up the Catoctin Mountains from here, is the first of 77 proposed conservation centers in 33 states. It is not far from Camp David, a rustic retreat used by every president since Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Johnson drew on his own experiences — drifting from job to job until he decided to enroll in college — when he grabbed one young man by the arm, marched him along by his side, and proferred some paternal advice.

★ ★ ★

"Write home because when I was in California as a boy, my mother was always after me to write," he said.

To James Blackmon, 19, a New Haven, Conn., youth who is learning how to drive heavy equipment, the President said: "If you get onto that good, you'll have to come down home and help me do some bulldozin'."

Blackmon, a big fellow who sports a pearl in the pierced lobe of his right ear, beamed and replied: "Don't worry. I'll take care of you."

Report on Spending by Newspapers

NEW YORK (AP) — Daily newspapers in the United States and Canada spent $108 million last year to modernize and expand plants and plan to spend another $121 million this year, the American Newspaper Publishers Association reports.

The association's annual survey of daily newspaper capital investments was released Wednesday. It showed that 739 U.S. dailies invested $98,558,928 in plant expansions in 1964 while 31 publications spent $10,059,685 in Canada.

★ ★ ★

The report said 711 newspapers, including dailies in the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and the West Indies, have plans to spend $121 million this year.

Sierra Leone Solons Given Year in Jail

FREETON, Sierra Leone (AP) — Four opposition members of parliament were sentenced to a year in jail today on charges of riotous assembly and damage to property during an election campaign.

★ ★ ★

Defense attorneys filed notice they would appeal to the privy council. But meanwhile the four forfeited their seats in parliament. The four men, all members of the All Peoples' Congress, are S. I. Koroma, Bangali Mansaray, A. B. Janneh and M. F. Turay. Koroma is also an alderman in Freetown.

Prison Play Came Firsthand

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Lots of college freshmen try their hands at play writing, but few can write a one-act drama about prison life from personal experience.

Lester Franklin can.

At 29, he has spent half his life behind bars, first as a truant sent to reform school, then as a burglar and most recently as a parole violator

His play, "The Promise," was begun in prison. It will be presented for the first time tonight by his fellow students at Towson State College.

Wednesday night the stocky, full-bearded Franklin talked about the play and himself.

In prison, he said, "there is constant conflict among the inmates. Many of them are wrapped up in their own petty concerns. The tension is unbelievable.

"You can never fully express yourself, either to the prison administration, or to your fellow inmates.

"Inmates don't reveal their honest feelings even to their own buddies because most of them have a tremendous sense of inadequacy and put on an act of some kind to compensate for it.

★ ★ ★

"But it's the tension — and the waiting — that I try to show in 'The Promise.' Everyone in prison is waiting for something, and they're not always sure just what it is.

"We are all bored to death and everything we do is a reaction to this boredom."

Franklin says he started the play last year partly to overcome the boredom and partly to indulge a passion for writing.

He showed the play to Robert Levin, a Towson State drama instructor who gives a weekly course at the State Penitentiary. Levin in turn showed it to Dr. C. Richard Gillespie, head of the Towson drama department. Gillespie wanted to produce it.

Out of this exchange came Franklin's application to enroll at the college. The self-taught prisoner — he had only seven years of formal education — scored in the 98th percentile on his entrance exams. Only 2 per cent of those taking the test scored higher.

He was released from the penitentiary last December and started school in February.

Franklin says the old life has gone.

"When your aim is just to take something from life, you evade the real question of living. You try to fill up your life with every extraneous bit of trash you can find."

Bowman Raps 'Darling of White Suburbia' Tag

LANSING (UPI) — The State Sentate's clash with the Michigan Civil Rights Commission rang anew yesterday when Sen. John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, angrily blasted a newspaper editorial which branded him the "darling of white suburbia."

★ ★ ★

Bowman is chairman of the Senate Business Committee which last week brought up the question of whether the year-old commission "is educating the people in the field of civil rights or it if is functioning as a quasi-Gestapo group concerned mainly with entrapment."

Bowman said the statement, posed as a question during an interview of Commissioner Kenneth Robinson, "has been blown way out of proportion."

However, he did admit to asking Robinson if any questionable methods of testing public accommodations in the field were being used.

★ ★ ★

The Civil Rights Commission, since the incident, defended itself as an educational and conciliatory body.

The Roseville Democrat, 11 years in the legislature, spoke loudly against the editorial inferences that he was trying to maintain "an image as the darling of white suburbia."

In a 10 minute speech, Bowman said, "The inference is that every suburbanite is a racist. My district is not all white — I represent both white and colored.

"John Bowman will stand on his record of civil rights in the last 11 years," he said.

"I voted for the first fair employment practice commission bill when it passed the House in 1955. I was cosponsor of a civil rights bill five years ago.

"This thing has gotten to the point where a member of the Senate can't in good faith question a member of a commission. . ."

State agencies are not, Bowman said, "so sanctimonious or pure that we can't ask them if something is true."

Bowman said he supports the motives and goals of the commission in Michigan, "but I may not agree quite seriously with bad methods if they are using them."

At the committee meeting, Bowman questioned Robinson on whether he had heard of the commission sending racially mixed couples to "test" public accommodations section of the civil rights law, which it is charged with enforcing.

The commission subsequently denied the practice.

Jury Deciding Fate of Former Illinois Chief

CHICAGO (UPI)—A federal court jury resumes deliberations today on whether former Gov. William G. Stratton is guilty of evading payment of income tax.

The jury of six men and six women must decide the fate of the one-time "Golden Boy" of Illinois Republican politics who is charged with failing to pay more than $46,000 in income taxes. They deliberated five hours last night without reaching a verdict.

Some jurors went home for the night after they failed to agree on a verdict by 10 p.m. Both the defense and the prosecution had agreed they would not insist upon the jury being quarantined.

U. S. District Court Judge Hubert L. Will gave the case to the jury at 4:13 p.m. yesterday after closing arguments on both sides were completed quickly. A 45-minute lunch period was the only break in the deliberations.

Stratton was charged with evading payment of $46,676 in taxes from 1956 through 1960, during his second and last four-year period.

If convicted on all four counts of the indictment, Stratton would face a possible maximum penalty of 20 years imprisonment and a $40,000 fine.

'Capitalist' No Longer Nasty Word in Economically Hurt India

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's finance minister stood in Parliament recently, said a few kind words about capitalists and quietly resumed his seat without drawing much more than murmured protests from the leftist opposition.

Not long ago, his words would have been heresy — on both sides of the aisle — and his political career would have burned at the stake.

* * *

But nothing happened, for it no longer is political suicide in socialistic India to say a kind word or two about Indian and foreign capitalists. In fact, both are being wooed in these days of economic crisis.

The leading wooer is the finance minister, T. T. Krishnamachari, 66, a self-made millionaire businessman generally recognized as one of the soundest economic planners in India today.

WILD ABANDON

Compared with other Indian politicians, "TTK," as he is called, praises capitalism with wild abandon.

"We have recognized for a long time," he told Parliament, "that private foreign investment has a role to play not only as an essential supplement to assistance from friendly foreign governments and international institutions but also as a catalyst for the development of technical skills and enterprise among our own people."

TTK didn't stop there.

* * *

"Our general policies," he said, "whether in regard to taxation, industrial licensing or price controls, must be consistent with our desire to harness every possible source of dynamism and enterprise, whether domestic or foreign, public or private, to the task of rapid economic growth."

Indian capitalists are being given tax concessions and other incentives in hopes they will invigorate India's lagging economy. The foreigner is being welcomed, along with his dollars, pounds, francs or marks.

OBJECTIVE

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told Parliament March 3 that socialism is still the objective of his government, but he made it clear how important he feels it is to step up industrial production through all available means.

India in the future, he said, will permit foreign investors under some circumstances to hold majority control in some Indian enterprises they finance. This is a concession never before given foreign capitalists.

To many Indians, "capitalism" is a nasty word, one that conjures up images of greedy men who would steal milk from babies to make a profit. Indian capitalists, the honest as well as the dishonest, have long labored under this image.

* * *

But increasingly, capitalists and what they can do to help build a modern society are getting good marks.

What appears to be developing is an awareness that the present mixed economy of heavily protected state-owned industries and restricted private business is not living up to expectations.

MORE STRAINED

The Indian economy is increasingly strained to keep up with the population increase of 2.5 per cent or more annually, and the nation's treasury has only a slim reserve of foreign exchange left.

The governing Congress party, however, is a strong barrier to any rapid change.

* * *

An entire generation of Congress leaders, personified by the leftist former defense minister, V. K. Krishna Menon, became strongly enamored with socialism decades ago. To them, socialism is the key to a brighter tomorrow for India's masses.

Solons Seek Larger Scholarship Fund

LANSING (AP)—Two Detroit-area Democrats want the legislature to appropriate $2.5 million to provide college scholarships next year for as many as 5,000 graduating high school seniors.

* * *

"As a result of last year's inadequate appropriation, only 1,277 scholarships were awarded and 2,100 applications from students who demonstrated high academic ability and financial need went unfulfilled," said Rep. Thomas White, D-Detroit.

Last year's appropriation was $500,000 and Gov. George Romney's budget recommends doubling that to $1 million this year.

Unevenly Higher

Market Trading Fairly Active

NEW YORK (AP)—After two sessions of irregular decline, the stock market moved unevenly higher early today. Trading was fairly active.

Gains of fractions to a point among key stocks outnumbered losers.

Some of the blue chip chemicals beefed up the list. Du Pont and Union Carbide each tacked on about a point.

NO CHANGE

The major steelmakers showed virtually no change.

Big Three motors were all ahead by the narrowest of margins.

★ ★ ★

Continental Copper, the latest of the low-priced speculative issues to come to the fore, rose ⅛ to 9¾ on a block of 15,000 shares. Allied Chemical and Reynolds Metals also sold at little or no change on blocks of 15,000 and Colgate-Palmolive dipped ¼ to 54 on 10,300 shares.

KLM Airlines rose a fraction to a new high but little action was shown by other airline stocks.

Opening blocks included: General Motors, up ¼ at 98¼ on 5,400 shares; American Telephone, unchanged at 66½ on 4,600; and Standard Oil (New Jersey), up ⅛ at 77⅞ on 4,000.

★ ★

Wednesday, The Associated Press Average of 60 stocks dipped .5 to 334.1.

A generally higher trend prevailed on the American Stock Exchange.
