Tornadoes Strike 2nd Death Blow at Missouri

Union Postpones Teamster Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO today postponed indefinitely a meeting of its Ethical Practices Committee set for Friday to consider charges the Teamsters Union is corruptly dominated.

The action was viewed as reflecting a recognition by the federation of a move within the union to oust Teamsters President Dave Beck.

This took some of the urgency from the issue of action against the union itself.

The ouster movement against Beck was being led by 68-year-old John F. English, newly named as an AFL-CIO vice president, replacing Beck.

JOHN ENGLISH

English planned an informal strategy session today with other members of the Teamsters executive board who feel, as he does, that Beck must go in view of charges at Senate hearings that the 62-year-old Teamsters president played fast and loose with union funds.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee also announced postponement of a scheduled Saturday hearing on charges of corruption in the Bakery Workers Union.

The official reason given for postponing Friday's Teamsters hearing was that the committee wants to update its charges against the Teamsters with additional material, lately brought Pay Goes With Ouster!

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dave Beck, when and if ousted as Teamsters Union president, probably still will draw his $50,000 annual salary. John F. English said Beck is entitled to continue receiving that amount as a pension "and nothing can change that."

Livonia Electrician Killed by Live Wire

A 58-year-old Livonia electrician was killed yesterday at the General Motors Truck Plant when his head touched a wire carrying 4,800 volts.

The victim was Harry D. Burkholder, an employe of the Miller-Selden Electrical Contractors, 1930 McGraw St., Detroit.

A spokesman for the electrical company said Burkholder was changing primary circuit breakers in the administration garage during a remodeling project when the accident occurred.

Ike Urges U.S. to Open Way for Disarming

Mustn't Be Too Fussy in Arms Control Policy, He Tells Newsmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States must not adopt a recalcitrant or picayunish disarmament policy.

He said this country must make it possible for reasonable men to meet the United States halfway on an arms control program.

His words, spoken with emphasis at a news conference, appeared to align him more closely with Harold E. Stassen than with Adm. Arthur W. Radford in a heated argument now reportedly going on within the administration.

Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the President's top military advisers, said Sunday that Russia is not to be trusted on the disarmament issue — that it has broken too many agreements in the past.

Stassen, Eisenhower's disarmament adviser and chief negotiator in U. S. arms control talks at London, is reported to favor making clear to the Russians that the United States does give them some credit for good faith in their disarmament proposals.

In his discussion today, Eisenhower rejected an informal Russian suggestion that any aerial inspection of Russian and American territory should be based on a mile-for-mile exchange. Russia is much greater in extent than the United States.

REDS INTERESTED

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said a few days ago that an inspection zone system on a mile-for-mile formula was what Russia wanted. Eisenhower said he did not think it can possibly be done that way except perhaps for an insignificantly small area.

There has to be an inspection system fair to both sides which will provide a basis of confidence, the President said.

Eisenhower started a sentence saying he thinks Americans should not worry too much, but he broke off and said he would put it another way:

Americans must keep their minds open, he said, and must see if something can't be done. It just has to be done, he said, in the interest of the United States.

Asked for an exact statement of current American aims — whether they are directed toward global disarmament, freezing the arms race, reducing armed forces and defense budgets or what—Eisenhower said all such points come under the heading of disarmament.

★ ★ ★

He said the world tensions have got to be reduced as a contribution to disarmament and that disarmament itself will contribute to a reduction of tensions. The problem, he added, is to make a small start rather than seek agreement on a whole program because each side wants to test the confidence of the other.

Students Salvage Books After Tornado Hits

AP Wirephoto

IN KANSAS CITY SUBURB—A group of students from Ruskin Heights High School gather text books from wreckage of their school during salvage operations after tornado struck. The death toll from the Monday night twister in the Kansas City area is at least 37, with more than 150 still in hospitals.

Railroad Yard Gets City OK

Commissioners Approve Pact With Grand Trunk on Proposed Site

The City Commission okayed a long-delayed agreement with the Grand Trunk railroad last night for the proposed new switch yard south of Walton boulevard and west of Baldwin avenue.

The agreement stipulated the city and railroad will negotiate the final price of three acres owned by the city and sought by the railroad as part of the $700,000 project for increased service to the nearby Pontiac Motor Division plant.

It included 14 provisions by which the railroad agreed to minimize nuisance to the adjacent residential neighborhood.

Public opposition to the proposed yard, which has fluctuated since the city and railroad began negotiating the agreement nine months ago, failed to materialize last night.

The agreement was approved by a 4 to 2 vote, with Commissioners Floyd P. Miles and Gilbert W. Long dissenting.

Miles, in whose district the yard will be located, admitted City Manager Walter K. Willman and City Attorney William A. Ewart did "the best they could" during the negotiations.

HURT PEOPLE

"But I still maintain the yard will hurt the people of my district and shut off the north section of our city," Miles said.

Voting for the agreement were Mayor William W. Donaldson, and Commissioners John A. Dugan, Phillip E. Rowston and Dr. Roy V. Cooley.

The final price for the city property will be between $16,600 and $20,600, the agreement stated. The railroad already has purchased from the county the remaining 9.5 acres that will be included in the project.

Major points in the agreement are:

The city will forego any future

Bloomfield Area Banker Talks Way Out of Holdup

William Webb, of 137 Baldwin Ave., emerged from an attempted holdup at the Manufacturers National Bank Branch, 4077 W. Maple Rd. in Bloomfield Township, as a "fast talker" to say the least.

Yesterday a middle-aged man entered the bank and asked to speak to the manager. Webb, the assistant manager, informed him the manager would be out until about 1 p.m. and offered his services.

The man said he wanted to talk to him "in private" about a proposed real estate deal.

Webb took him to his office where the dark haired man said he wanted to cash a $22,000 check from a Toledo bank. Webb suggested he take such a large check to his bank in Toledo.

After talking the matter over for almost 10 minutes, the man handed Webb a note, telling him to read it carefully. The note read: "Give me $22,000 in $100 and $50 bills, and no one will get hurt. I have three men waiting in a car for me outside."

Webb assured him he didn't have that kind of cash in the vault, since they were only a branch. The man demanded "some money" anyway. He ordered Webb to walk with him out into the bank as though nothing were wrong.

After they were out of Webb's office, the man seemed to be frightened and fled, taking the note. Webb said he seemed to be sick, and had two fingers missing from his left hand.

Bloomfield Township Police, Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation are investigating the case.

Cohen Claims 'Belief in God' Inspired by Billy

NEW YORK (INS) — Retired gambler Mickey Cohen, who several times almost departed this life via assassination, says he has found "belief in God" through talks with crusading revivalist Billy Graham.

He disclosed his new views last night before attending a Graham meeting at New York's Madison Square Garden that also drew 17,000 other persons, third largest attendance of the New York crusade.

Mickey did not "go forward" but remarked to reporters, "I don't think Billy expects me to make any decision tonight."

Before rushing off to catch plane for Chicago, Cohen paid a brief after-meeting "social call" upon the revivalist.

Cohen said: "What I considered right in other days, today I look down upon. I just look at things differently."

He also said, "Billy has converted me to a better way of life outside Christianity. He has taught me how to live correctly."

Dem Raps Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex), on the possibilities of a tax cut said: "It's not the time for a tax cut in my opinion as much as I would like to see one."

Ask $25 Million Tornado Relief

Kansas City Counts Toll, Seeks Aid to Restore Public Services

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Disaster workers added up today this toll from the tornado which hacked across Kansas City's southern suburbs Monday night:

37 dead.

156 still in hospitals.

418 homes destroyed, 470 damaged.

44 business houses destroyed, 75 damaged.

Gov. James T. Blair asked for 25 million dollars in federal relief funds to clear away the wreckage and restore streets, highways, schools, water and sewer systems.

(See story on this page about last night's tornado in the St. Louis area.)

The Red Cross started a special campaign for disaster relief funds and estimated it would need a million dollars to help 1,000 families.

★ ★ ★

The last of the 37 bodies was identified last night after disaster crews had picked slowly through the wreckage all day long.

City Acts to Procure Sewer for Hospital

Progress towards completion of the Pontiac General Hospital new wing remained alive at the City Commission last night.

Despite Monday's public vote turning down a $1,500,000 bond issue to complete and equip the 200-bed addition, commissioners decided to go ahead with plans to bolster sanitary sewers in the hospital area.

The project was declared a public necessity to relieve present sewers when the hospital project is completed. It also will service whatever activities are moved into the incompleted addition when present funds run out.

14 More Killed as Twisters Hit Small Towns

New Disasters Come as Kansas City Rubble Gives Up 37 Dead

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Tornadoes struck a second death blow at Missouri yesterday in as many days by claiming 14 more lives for a total of 51 and 270 injured.

Small towns in southern and eastern Missouri were hit by a rash of tornadoes even as workmen still dug in the rubble of Kansas City suburbs where less than 24 hours before a tornado claimed 37 lives and injured 200 persons.

Six persons were killed in a twister which leveled Fremont, a town of 207 which only 10 days ago was hit by a flash flood.

One man was killed at nearby Van Buren and a hundred miles to the northeast seven more persons perished in and around Desloge, 60 miles south of St. Louis.

Some 70 persons were left injured in the wake of the deadly black funnels. Hundreds were homeless.

The rapid-fire chain of tornadoes, spawned by the same sultry weather disturbances that gave birth to the year's deadliest tornado in Kansas City's outskirts at sundown Monday, struck the most vicious blow at Fremont.

★ ★ ★

There a twister sheared the second floor from a two-story brick school and then roared on into town.

JET PLANE SOUND

"It sounded like a jet plane as it came in from the west," Alvin Bell, one of the survivors, related. He credited a tornado alert four hours earlier with saving at least 100 persons who took cover in storm cellars.

Only seven homes at Fremont were left intact. Six business buildings and 40 homes were flattened.

Thomas Hood and his son-in-law, Bill Harris, barely missed the twister at Fremont on their way home from an Arkansas fishing trip. They joined in the rescue work, unaware Hood's own home had been destroyed in another twister.

"When we reached Fremont it looked like a ghost town," Hood said. "People were walking around dazed. The town was so badly destroyed there was no one to take charge."

When Hood finally reached home, he learned his wife escaped the Desloge twister only by taking refuge in a cellar.

LUCKY TO ESCAPE

At Desloge, witnesses said residents were lucky to escape with only three dead as a twister cut a path of havoc six blocks wide.

Three other persons were killed at a family reunion at a farm home 15 miles northeast of there.

The twisters did many strange things. At Desloge one picked up Bobby Tiefenauer's two-story frame house and turned it about before setting it down 200 yards away.

Only an hour before the storm struck, some 400 students at the Desloge High School had completed classes and were dismissed.

Highlights of Ike's Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are highlights from President Eisenhower's appeal to the people last night for support of his $3,800,000,000 foreign aid program:

★ ★ ★

In my judgment these programs do more than any other—dollar for dollar—in securing the safety of our country and the peaceful lives of all of us.

They are the most misunderstood of any of the federal government's activities. Their nature, their purposes, their results are vitally important to all of us—but little known to many of us.

★ ★ ★

In the long term, the ending or the weakening of these programs would vastly increase the risk of future war. And—in the immediate dense—it would impose upon us additional defense expenditures many times greater than the total cost of mutual security today.

★ ★ ★

This is not a new policy nor a partisan policy.

This is a policy for America that began 10 years ago . . .

For our nation to try, completely alone, to counter the Communist military threat would be not only more hazardous strategy, it would also be far most costly.

It would demand many billions of dollars more in defense expenditures.

It would mean raising the draft calls throughout our land. It would mean more of our sons in uniform. It would mean longer service for them.

★ ★ ★

And even if we did all these things—and I do not hear the critics of mutual security publicly proposing such alternatives—even then we would finally provide a defense inferior in strength to the collective defense we share with our Allies today.

★ ★ ★

There are free countries in danger which—if thrown back completely on their own resources—would have to cut their armed forces.

They would at once become targets for renewed Communist pressures . . .

We must face these facts and act accordingly—or face, instead, ultimate disaster as a people.

We seek to help these people to help themselves.

We cannot export progress and security to them.

Essentially, they must achieve these for themselves.

★ ★ ★

These, then, are the kinds of help and action that make up our mutual security programs, for which I have asked the Congress to appropriate less than four billion dollars—one-twentieth of our national budget. This is not a mathematical guess or an arbitrary sum. It reflects economies already achieved in some aspects of military aid . . .

And, considering the issues at stake, it is a minimum figure.

To cripple our programs for mutual security in the false name of "economy" can mean nothing less than a weakening of our nation . . .

It is reckless . . .

I know that you would not wish your government to take such a reckless gamble.

I do not intend that your government take that gamble.

I am convinced of the necessity of these programs of mutual security—for the very safety of our nation.

Scores New York for Business Lies, Greed, Loose Morals

'You're Too Busy for God,' Graham Thunders

NEW YORK (AP)—Lies in business dealing . . . Double sex lives . . . Obsession with money making. These, Billy Graham says, are some of New York's moral ills.

"You're too busy," he told 17,500 people last night, and his arm swept the vast Madison Square Garden. "That's what's wrong with New York. You're too busy for God."

"But there is coming a day when you won't be too busy," he thundered.

"That is the day when you stand before the judgment of God, and He says, 'Depart from me you cursed, I never knew you. You had no time for me. Depart from me into outer darkness.'"

★ ★ ★

At the close of his sermon, Graham gripped the rail of the platform, half leaning across it, appealing to listeners to repent and "surrender your heart to Christ."

HARD DECISION

"It's hard," he said, fingers tight on the rail, eyes closed. "It's hard to bow your head and say, 'God I am a sinner'.

Led by a blind man tapping his white cane, 605 men and women and young folk came forward at Graham's plea, bringing the total of such decisions to 4,524 in seven nights.

In his sermon, the tall, handsome evangelist declared that lying has become a part of "business transactions every day."

"Lies! Lies! Lies!" he hammered the word. "They call it smart business. How much advertising is a lie! God calls it by its right name. To Him, there is no such thing as a white lie. They're all black."

BILLY GRAHAM

★ ★ ★

He said greed and lust for money have so immersed the economic scene that "many men are ready to go to hell to get a better job."

HITS TV, FILMS

Graham hit at what he said was the absorption of people in movies, television and other entertainment to the point that they have no time for church or prayer. He cited occasions when Jesus prayed all night, and said:

"How long since you have spent the night in prayer? How long since you've spent an hour in prayer . . . a half hour . . . 15 minutes?"

He called on Christians present to "redouble your prayers" — at home, on the subway, in offices, shops — "pray without ceasing that God will send a mighty spiritual stir to restore the moral soul of the city of New York."

Clouds, Rain Lurk on Weather Horizon

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts tonight will be partly cloudy and cool, with the low temperature around 51-55 degrees.

Thursday will be mostly cloudy with a chance of showers. The thermometer will reach a high of 64-68. Total precipitation for Thursday and Friday will total around ¾ of an inch.

In downtown Pontiac, the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 66 degrees. The mercury stood at 77 at 2 p.m.

The Weather Bureau in Detroit said today there are "no indications of conditions which might cause tornadoes" in Michigan.

The Detroit Bureau made the statement after the Toronto weather station issued a forecast of possible tornadoes for southwestern Ontario this afternoon.

Waterford Gets Sewer Deadline

Must Provide Service or Pontiac May Annex Valuable Property

Waterford Township was given another three months last night to either provide sewer service to the proposed $2.5 million shopping center area at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads or else allow the valuable property to be annexed to Pontiac.

The City Commission favorably heard that the owner of the first and only store erected in the center so far is not opposed to annexation.

The store has been using Pontiac sewer facilities, but the city wants to cut them off if the area is not annexed.

Township supervisor Elmer Johnson appealed for the additional time because the new township administration elected April 1 had not had enough time to study the question, he said.

NO EXTENSION

He promised that if a workable plan is not in the offing by Sept. 15, the township will not seek a further extension of the original nine-months agreement made last September. This agreement, allowing the temporary use of the sewer, was scheduled to expire June 15.

The store owner, Nathan Agree, indicated some progress had been made once towards township sewer facilities, but this plan had evaporated when the township board changed political hands in April.

He stated he is not opposed to annexation, if this seems to be the best solution.

The commission's position is that it will not provide services to outside areas unless they annex to the city.

Atom Test Postponed for 7th Straight Day

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—For the seventh straight day high winds have caused a postponement of the atomic explosion that will start a summer-long test series.

Turbulent activity in the upper air caused weather experts to put the explosion off until tomorrow morning at the earliest.

The forecasters said they expected the adverse conditions that have held the tests up for a week to start changing for the better tomorrow.

3 Groups Meet on B-I-E Day

Businesses, Industries Host 800 Educators for All-Day Program

Business, Industry, Education. These three elements in the community, often thought of as worlds apart, were brought a step closer yesterday as Pontiac observed B-I-E Day.

More than 800 public and parochial teachers were guests of 32 businesses and industries for an all-day program designed to reveal to the teachers the methods, problems and plans of the business community.

★ ★ ★

Each host firm, arranged its own program for its guests who ranged in number from three to 170. In the larger factories and businesses, guided tours were featured, while smaller firms gave more intensive demonstrations of their operations.

Teachers were given the opportunity to question their hosts at length during round-table discussions which followed the tours.

The B-I-E Day program began at 9 a.m. with an assembly in Pontiac High School for all the teachers and their hosts.

★ ★ ★

Howard O. Powers, chamber of commerce president, delivered the official welcome, and Elmer C. Rosenberg, chairman of the C. of C. education committee which arranged B-I-E Day, introduced the hosts.

For the guests, Louis H. Schimmel, president of the board of education, made the response. The Pontiac High School Band entertained.

The program concluded at 3:30 p.m. when the hosts returned the teachers to their cars. Each teacher was given program evaluation forms to fill out that will give their opinions of the day's activities to the chamber of commerce.

Commissioners OK Railroad Yard Site

attempts to extend Stanley avenue through the area. Hollywood avenue, however, may be extended through at grade and Columbia avenue, to the south, also may be extended at grade.

The railroad will erect fences on the north and south boundaries of the yard, with "greenbelts" of trees and concealing vines surrounding most of the area.

The railroad will keep switching on Sundays to a minimum, except in national emergencies and when failure to move freight would be in violation of state or federal laws.

BUILD OVERPASS

The city may in the future build a pedestrian overpass over the yard.

The railroad will use only diesel engines for switching and will treat the area with calcium chloride if dust becomes a nuisance.

Willman said he believed every request of the commission for the protection of citizens "has been met as capably and fully as possible."

SUIT MINIMIZED

Ewart minimized the effect a law suit brought Monday will have on the development of the yard.

Nine residents of the area are seeking an injunction blocking the yard on the grounds that it would be a nuisance and a violation of zoning.

"Zoning in that area does not specifically permit a switch yard," Ewart observed, "but neither does it prohibit one."

A Circuit Court hearing is scheduled for Monday.

Rush On in Legislature to Process Major Bills

LANSING (AP) — With three days left of the session, it remained today for conference committees to straighten out most of the major questions brought before the Legislature since January.

At the head of the list, of course, were the school aid and tax and spending issues.

It was possible, should deadlocks develop around the conference tables, that some final decisions might be put off beyond Friday until the lawmakers return June 27-28 for sine die adjournment.

In the hands of the six-man groups, three appointed from each chamber to adjust House-Senate differences, were all the important budget bills for 1957-58.

These included proposed general fund expenditures of close to 345 million dollars.

SCHOOL AID PROBLEM

The main unanswered question on taxation was wrapped up in the school aid bill, where on the face of it conferees were called on to chose between a cigarette-whisky or whisky-beer financing plan.

At least technically, it was possible that something altogther different might be recommended — and in the hectic and unpredictable mood of a Legislature closing days, adopted.

On the recommendations of the conference groups also hinged what, if anything, the state would get in the way of:

An admission fee for state parks, changes in the unemployment compensation law, revised highway construction financing, tightened motorboat regulation, increased hunting license fees, supplemental funds for airports, new obscenity controls and local bus line subsidies.

CONTROVERSIAL ISSUE

The proposed Employment Security Act changes were headed toward inter-House discussions yesterday when Senate Republicans pushed through a modified, House-approved bill over strenuous Democratic objections. The vote was 22 to 11.

One of the main provisions of the bill would permit employers of four to seven workers to become eligible for lower unemployment compensation tax rates after three, instead of four, years at the starting level of 2.7 per cent.

Numerous other proposed changes in the present law were embodied in the bill, which was praised as forward-looking and constructive by Republicans and denounced by one Democrat as "rotten."

Jobless pay benefits, Republicans asserted, would be raised $1 a week for some workers, but Democrats said the increase, based on 1956 experience, would average out at 23 cent a week — "not enough to buy a pack of cigarettes."

A 25 to 7 favorable Senate vote yesterday kept alive for conference talks a bill to abate state gasoline and weight taxes of financially distressed local bus companies to the extent profits fell below 6½ per cent when figured on the basis of operating revenues.

Headed toward another conference by a 22 to 6 Senate vote was a bill to raise bonding requirements for livestock auction operators, and to tighten regulation over receipts from sales.

STUDY AIRPORT BILL

The bill appropriating supplemental matching funds for airports was sent to a conference committee because the Senate would not go along with a House amendment tacking on $200,000 for the Detroit Wayne-Major Airport.

The Senate, in a contrary mood late yesterday, sent 10 House-amended bills to be argued over in conference committee. In addition to the major money bills, others concerned minor matters such as whether a person selling fruit and vegetables on a state highway right of way should be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Radar Valid as Evidence, Judge Rules in Test Case

The validity of radar as a traffic speed detector underwent what was believed to be its first Michigan Circuit Court testing yesterday.

Radar won.

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick ruled here that police testimony based on radar detection is admissable as evidence.

His ruling came during the first appeal of a radar-trapped speeding case.

The appeal was made by Douglas Yerkey, 37, a Grand Blanc auto dealer, who was arrested on U.S. 10 in Waterford Township by State Police last Dec. 24.

The police radar clocked Yerkey at 48 miles an hour in a 35-mile-an-hour zone. On the basis of this, Yerkey was fined $10 by Springfield Township Justice Emmett Leib.

Yerkey's appeal came up yesterday and State Police had gathered a barrage of expert testimony that radar was accurate within two miles an hour.

Judge Hartrick denied a motion by the driver's attorney, Philip Pratt, that the scientific evidence was inadmissable because it was not necessarily accurate.

Pratt argued that radar may be accurate in principle and under laboratory conditions, but this is not necessarily so on the road.

★ ★ ★

Judge Hartrick ruled, however, that a jury of eight women and four men could listen to the evidence "as a matter of fact."

The case continued today.

Union Postpones Teamster Hearing

out by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, concerning Beck.

The reason given for postponing the Saturday Bakery Workers hearing was that the 160,000-member union wants more time to prepare its defense.

The real reason in the case of the bakery workers was reported to be that the AFL-CIO committee wants to await the outcome of imminent Senate committee hearings on charges concerning the union's president, James G. Cross.

The ethical practices group said it would announce new dates later for hearings in the cases of the Teamsters and bakery workers.

The elevation of English, Teamsters Union general secretary-treasurer, to be an AFL-CIO vice president yesterday had been interpreted in any event as a move to keep the Teamsters Union in the AFL-CIO fold.

Apparently the federation chiefs have decided not to push the corruption domination charges against the union—for which the Teamsters could be ousted from the federation—pending efforts by English to conduct a union cleanup.

OUSTER IN DECEMBER

In any event, no Teamsters Union ouster from the federation could occur until the AFL-CIO convention in December, leaving plenty of time for the Teamsters to install reforms. The Teamsters have a convention of their own in the interval.

Monday's Twister Hits 2 State Families

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two members of a Michigan family were injured seriously in Monday's tornado in suburban Ruskin Heights. Another Michigan family escaped unhurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frechette of Munising were hurt when the twister demolished the home of the son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neil.

The O'Neils, awaiting the birth of a child, had left for a hospital an hour before the tornado struck. The Frechettes had remained behind.

The Michigan couple had gone to Ruskin Heights to be with their daughter at the birth of her child.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Tuttle, who had moved that day to Ruskin Heights from Royal Oak, Mich., were arranging the furniture in their new home when they heard a tornado warning and went to the basement.

The Day in Birmingham

Schone Indicates Chance of Widening Adams Road

BIRMINGHAM — City Manager Harold K. Schone has indicated to commissioners the possibility of a widening of Adams road at the northern city limits this year.

He said a recent communication from the city of Troy revealed they had provided for their share of the cost in their current budget. At a joint session of the two commissions, last February, Troy declined to make any commitment.

Schone said that in view of Troy's recent announcement he was requesting plans and estimates be readied as quickly as possible. If, he added, the Oakland County Road Commission will approve its share of the project, the work can be included in this year's construction program.

The girls will be introduced by Mrs. Gladys Musselman, group advisor. They will report on the entire program of discussion groups and plenary actions of the conference. Al Madsen, club president, will preside.

City Commissioner Harry Denyes recently brought up the question of alleys in the downtown business area. Denyes pointed out that with the street improvement program going on, the question of alley development should be considered at this time.

He said with the increased expected in commercial houses there is going to be a marked need for alleys in the not-too-distant future.

He expressed the fear that Birmingham may find itself in the position of having to rush the program through without adequate planning.

Her glasses were blown from her face as the house cracked and splintered. But she and her two were unhurt, and later she found her glasses under a table, unbroken.

The twisters bounced around on both sides on the Mississipi River below St. Louis and continued to strike long after dark. One was sighted near Fredericktown, Mo.

In rural southern Illinois it struck at scattered points, including the Alto Pass, Columbia, Claremont and Herrod areas.

★ ★ ★

In Missouri twisters were reported at Monticello in the northeastern part of the state; at Squires in the southern Ozark foothills; at Centerville, 40 miles north of Fremont, and at Kennett, a town of 10,000. The one at Kennett struck after midnight, eight hours after the first one raked Van Buren. No deaths or injuries were reported in those areas.

To Plug for Navy Cause

DETROIT (INS)—Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of U. S. Naval Operations and Navy member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will arrive in Detroit Saturday to take part in a campaign to raise funds for construction of a Navy and Marine stadium at Annapolis.

House Approves Home for Retarded Children

LANSING (AP) — Sympathy for the plight of mentally retarded children has loosened Republican pursestrings in the House again to the tune of $2,826,000.

Members of the lower chamber voted that amount yesterday for construction of a home and training school for mentally afflicted youngsters at Plymouth.

The action came as surprise at the end of a six-hour session in which thrift-minded Republicans held off a bipartisan assault proposing appropriations which would boost the GOP budget for 1957-58 by 12 million dollars.

A band of Republicans joined with Democrats to push through the mental training school appropriation, which the House rejected last Friday. If approved by the Senate, it will represent the only major new construction project authorized by the legislature for the coming fiscal year.

ONE OF 3

The bill was one of three major appropriation measures returned to the Senate yesterday for consideration of House amendments. The others, dealing with mental health and higher education, underwent upward revision by the GOP-controlled House Ways and Means Committee.

As it stands, the Republican budget totals were more than 344 million dollars.

This is about 15 million dollars more than the original GOP spending program and 65 million dollars under the one offered by Gov. Williams.

Taken in another light, it amounts to nine million dollars more than the income the governor estimates the state will have at its disposal in 1957-58 and 19 million higher than the calculations of Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), chairman of the House Taxation Committee.

It could, however, be cut by some $5,600,000 should the lawmakers decide to go along with a Senate move to dip into the state highway treasury for state police law enforcement operations. That move would face strong likelihood of a veto by Gov. Williams.

Time, Inc., President to Address Students

Ray E. Larsen, president of Time, Inc., publishers of the weekly newsmagazine, will deliver the commencement address to the senior class of Cranbrook School June 8 in Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills.

Larsen's speech will follow the awarding of diplomas to 75 graduates by Cranbrook's headmaster Harry D. Hoey.

★ ★ ★

Besides publishing, Larsen has been active in education and holds honorary degrees from 10 colleges and universities throughout the country. He is chairman of the advisory board of the National Citizens Council for Better Schools and a member of the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School.

Four U.S. Naval Ships Enter Suez Waterway

PORT SAID, Egypt (INS)—Four U.S. naval ships entered the Suez Canal today at Port Said, the first such vessels to pass through the canal since it was reopened to traffic.

Tolls for two destroyers, McGowan and Sullivan, the transport, General Langfit, and a corvette, were paid in dollars to the Suez Canal Authority established by Egypt last July when it nationalized the former internationally-owned canal company.

The corvette was piloted in the canal by a German expert and the others by Egyptians.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Why is there usually a sea breeze on the beach by day and often a land breeze at night?

The delightful sea breeze enjoyed by so many at beaches is caused by the fact that land heats up faster than water. Thus, the sun heats the land along the seashore during daylight and heat radiation rises.

As warm air over the land area rises, cooler air, from above the water, moves in horizontally, to replace it. This sets up a breeze from the ocean and it usually continues throughout the day. At night, the land area cools quickly and often becomes cooler than the ocean.

★ ★ ★

As a result, the flow of air reverses itself, and a land breeze is often observed. The calm that so often accompanies dawn or late night at the beach in summer is explained by the fact that the land loses its great heat many hours after sunset, thereby reaching an equal temperature with the nearby water just before, or even at, dawn.

Start Recall Campaign

Hit Berkley Officials

BERKLEY — Residents organized as the Berkley Town Hall Committee voted Monday to circulate petitions to recall Mayor Donald N. McPherson and four of the city's six councilmen.

The dismissal of City Manager John W. Short of Berkley brought about the campaign against Mayor McPherson and the councilmen.

N. Jay Brentley, a member of the committee, said, "We have never disputed the council's right to dismiss the city manager, but we do dispute their right to keep their reasons a secret."

The council turned down petitions signed by 1,600 asking for a public hearing on the Short firing, last month.

Pick Anthony Renne for Township Post

NOVI TOWNSHIP — Appointment of Anthony Renne to the post of Novi Township attorney has been made by the township board.

Renne, a Pontiac attorney for 15 years, succeeds Archie Leonard, who was township attorney until his contract expired on April 1 of this year.

In other action, board members approved a resolution to purchase a new police car. Bids will be received from several automobile agencies.

★ ★ ★

The board also authorized the purchase of a tractor for maintenance of the Novi Township park on the south end of Walled Lake. The park, which embraces an area of about 26 acres, is a popular spot for the parking of house trailers during the summer months.

Mother, Son Banquet Set in Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The first mother and son banquet of the Cedar Chapter of DeMolay will be held at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the Clarkston Masonic Temple.

Jerry Snover will present a tribute to the mothers, and Mrs. Clark Easley of Drayton Plains will reply to the sons.

Larry Ruggles will present colored slides of his trip in western United States. He is the Chapter's Master Councilor.

Any mothers and sons who are interested in DeMolay have been invited to attend the banquet. Tickets may be obtained from any DeMolay member.

Michigan Hall-of-Fame Gets 3 Sports Figures

DETROIT (INS) — The Michigan-in-sports committee announced today the election of Mickey Cochrane, Gordie Howe and George Gipp to the state's sports hall of fame.

Committee chairman Nick Kerbawy, general manager of the Detroit Lions, disclosed the selections after a tabulation of ballots from the state's sports editors and broadcasters.

The sections are part of the Michigan Week celebration now in progress.

Driver Sent to Jail

Billy C. Coleman, 34, of 535 Emerson Ave. was sentenced to 30 days in the Oakland County Jail after failing to pay an $80 fine plus $20 costs for drunk driving. He was also given 15 days for driving without a valid license upon failing to pay the $25 fine plus $10 costs yesterday as he pleaded guilty to both charges before Sylvan Lake Justice Joseph J. Leavy.

Juvenile Schools Overcrowded, Claims Judge

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit juvenile Judge Nathan J. Kaufman warns that juvenile boys will have to be sent to jail like men unless the state provides adequate facilities.

He siad the crowding in the state's Vocational School for Boys in Lansing and in the Wayne County Juvenile Home has reached a critical stage. Judge Kaufman listed these three choices:

"Tell police to arrest no more juvenile offenders.

"Limit each community as to the number of juveniles it can refer.

"Lodge all "unsafe" youngsters from age 15 in the county jail, in separate quarters from adults, and possibly hardened offenders."

He added: "We are screening them as best we can. But if we are going to continue to fall behind I am going to have to send them to the county jail.

"That is the last thing I want to do. The kids don't belong there."

The first doctor of philosophy degree was awarded by Yale university in 1861. In 1892 women were admitted to Yale as doctor degree candidates in the field of the philosophies.

MacArthur II Must Prove It Again

He's Good at Diplomacy

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Douglas MacArthur II has proved his counseling ability, negotiating skills and diplomatic know-how, but now he is getting a dramatic chance to prove his overall diplomacy.

The 47-year-old MacArthur has been just three months in the difficult post of ambassador to Japan, the nation his famed uncle Gen. Douglas MacArthur ruled throughout the occupation.

He is faced with the touchy and emotion-filled dispute over whether Japanese civil or American military courts have the right to try Specialist 3-c William S. Girard on manslaughter charges.

Those who have known the diplomat during his 22 years in the foreign service believe that if there is a harmonious solution, MacArthur probably will find it.

CHOSE CAREER

He chose a diplomatic career when only 14 years old, after meeting "foreign service people" when his naval captain father took him on a special trip to Japan.

After Yale University, he married Laura Louise Barkley, daughter of the late Vice President Alben Barkley, and began his foreign service in Vancouver, later going to Naples and then to Paris. He followed the French government to Vichy, was arrested in 1942, later interned by the Germans and exchanged in 1944.

Those years in France made him invaluable at the time of the Normandy landings, and Gen. Eisenhower later made him an assistant political adviser to his headquarters.

★ ★ ★

He rose rapidly to the major post of counselor to the State Department in 1953, and from then on he was a familiar figure at all the great international conferences.

★ ★ ★

One of his colleagues said of his negotiating ability, "He can persuade other delegates to accept the U. S. position quicker than a man with a loaded shotgun."

MacArthur himself has spoken of the need for negotiators to understand each other's point of view. He said recently:

"Unless you strive to understand the other nation's point of view, solutions are hard to find."

Suez Problem Shelved in U.N.

Two-Day Debate Results in U. S. Asking Egypt to Amplify Rules

By WILLIAM OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Suez Canal issue was back on the shelf today after an inconclusive Security Council debate touched off by France's call for new negotiations on Egypt's unilateral operation of the waterway.

★ ★ ★

The two-day discussion achieved only one concrete result—a request by Council President Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States that Egypt amplify her rules for running the canal.

Egyptian delegate Omar Loutfi indicated he had little intention of making any such amplification.

★ ★ ★

Loutfi received quick support as usual from Russian Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev, who asserted Lodge's summary at the debate reflected the views of individual members and not the Council as a whole.

★ ★ ★

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, who came to New York to press demands for new attempts at a canal settlement more to the West's liking, told the Council the debate had cleared up "important questions."

Residents of the U. S., Italy and Great Britain have about the same per capita consumption of tabacco, according to recent trade estimates.

Individual Pet Projects Keep Budget Figure Up

One of the most clearly established facts in all the current discussions about reducing the Federal budget is this:

Apparently, everyone has an "iron in the fire" and wants his own personal proposition financed in full, while the Congress summarily whacks the daylights out of all the other proposals.

This is human nature.

Let's cut everyone but ourselves.

★ ★ ★

Of course, as long as this theme remains paramount, nothing will ever be accomplished. The only way to reduce the budget is by stern reductions. There are no short cuts. There can be no particular "exceptions." There are no mysterious ways whereby everything can be regarded as sacred and untouchable while the grand total happily shrinks down five or six billion dollars by itself.

★ ★ ★

Practically every item the President listed has a host of warm and even vociferous supporters who stand loyally behind the appropriation that finances their own pet interest.

THAT is important.

Other things can be slashed.

★ ★ ★

Hence, when Congress begins to unsheath the pruning knife for any item whatsoever, the loyal supporters interested in that one thing sound off and begin a war dance of great proportions. "Cut elsewhere, in fact anywhere, but not here."

That's the refrain,

It's nationwide.

★ ★ ★

Congress can either listen to all of these isms and end up by doing nothing, or Congress can ignore them all and do a man sized job all along the line.

Those are the choices.

Which would YOU make?

Most Vegetation Thrives Upon It

You probably didn't like the weather that has been foisted upon us during the last few weeks. But perhaps it has been worth more to you than the inconvenience it has caused.

★ ★ ★

You never saw all vegetation make better progress. After an early spring delay, the leaves have been climbing to maturity at a marvelous rate. If you are at all observant, you've noticed it.

The grasses and all forage crops thrive on cool and moist weather. They like it. And that has a bigger bearing on your every day living than you may think.

★ ★ ★

This also is true of the young wheat, which went through the winter with inadequate snow coverage, and needs a shot in the arm to bring it in line for the golden harvest in July.

All of them suffered some of the blistering, above normal temperatures of a few days last month. You probably thought they enjoyed it as much as you did. But it gave them an unseasonal start.

Our farmers need a spring of "full catholes," so the land can have a reserve to carry it through the drouths that are common later in the year.

★ ★ ★

The flour, wheat, milk, butter and cheese, which form the backbone of your good living, all are dependent on a satisfactory growth of these crops in the spring. This also is true of the fruits and berries.

Too much sunshine absorbs the moisture needed and vital to everything that grows, including us humans.

★ ★ ★

You've noticed that your lawn needs cutting much oftener (and is more beautiful) than when it is hot and dry. Perhaps that's another reason why you don't like this weather—if you push the mower,

Your garden hasn't suffered, has it? To be sure, the weeds also enjoy it. They haven't suffered either—have they? Consult your back — or ask your wife about hers.

So don't grumble at the weather. It's healthier than you think. A top coat looks better on you than a shroud. Don't let an oxygen tent replace your umbrella. Wet feet never killed as many as hot feet—or cold feet.

Professional grumblers always are looking for a victim. After they've worn out the income tax on April 15, we've noticed that the weather usually is the goat.

If you've hoping for better things, hurry and get in your answer on our June temperature contest, and that $100 bond should help appease you.

Oakland County Well Meets the Given Specifications

Michigan Week: When Oakland County's many good features are only emphasized.

Published in national magazines, the publicity of the

in plugging for more vacationists to come here from other states reads as if it was prepared especially for the Pontiac area. None other among our state's 83 counties so compietely fills its wording, as follows:

"Name your vacation thrill, and Michigan has it, with a bonus of beauty in the background. It offers you more lovely lakes to swim, sail and fish—more miles of sandy, sun-swept beaches to turn your tan—more gorgeous woodland acres to explore on foot or horseback—more enchanting places for your favorite sport, and they're all nearby. Michigan is for you—studded with historic spots, dotted with dynamic cities. And Michigan's accommodations will fit any budget—from rustic cottage to luxurious resort hotel."

Going, Going—

David Lawrence Says:

President Can Veto Poor Budget

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has the chance that comes once in a lifetime of public service, not only to win his fight for a sound budget but to put on a better basis than ever before the whole process of enacting budget appropriations. The trump card is the use of the veto power.

LAWRENCE

If a President considers that in an appropriation bill some items are too high and others are inadequate, he has the right under the Constitution to veto the entire measure. Then it has to be acted on again by its proponents, and they must mobilize a two-thirds vote of both Houses to override the veto.

MUST GO ON RECORD

This means that members of Congress who may have been able to hide behind a voice vote on the original bill must go on record in a formal roll call when voting to sustain or to override a presidential veto.

This, of course, gives the people back home the necessary information as to where their representatives stood on the issue.

The over-all veto, which is the only leverage upon Congress a President possesses on money items, has seldom been used in connection with appropriation bills. With all the talk of the decline of a President's power in his second term, there is nothing which could so promptly restore it to full vigor as a judicious use of the veto. If it's wrong for Congress to enact one section of a bill, it is right for the President to say so and to decline to sign the whole thing.

If Congress, despite the objections raised, wishes to re-enact the measure over the veto, it is free to do so but the dispute is thereby dramatized and the country can decide at the polls—as, for instance, in the November 1958 congressional elections — whether the President or the members of Congress who voted against him is right.

FUNDS NEEDED

The President can argue that, since he is by the Constitution vested with the obligation to conduct foreign relations, adequate funds must be appropriated for national defense, for mutual security and for an international information program. He could request more or less for individual items, but Congress would have to bear the responsibility for the final action taken, either by sustaining the veto and enacting a new bill or by overriding the veto and enacting the same bill into law. This would naturally mean compromises and readjustments so as to win presidential approval.

The need for use of the veto was stressed by Woodrow Wilson in his book on "Constitutional Government," published in 1908. He wrote that, since a President of the United States "is the representative of no constituency but of the whole people," he has the duty to use the veto power.

Wilson said of the powers of a President:

"His is the vital place of action in the system, whether he accept it as such or not, and the office is the measure of the man—of his wisdom as well as of his force. His veto abundantly equips him to stay the hand of Congress when he will. It is seldom possible to pass a measure over his veto, and no President has hesitated to use the veto when his own judgment of the public good was seriously at issue with that of the Houses."

Two television addresses on the budget by President Eisenhower may or may not have aroused a favorable response by the country, because there is no way to measure immediately whether the chief executive has public opinion with him. A veto, however, of each appropriation bill that seems to the President inadequate can soon indicate—when the roll call to sustain or override is taken — what the congressmen at least sense public opinion to be.

There has been a movement in recent years urging the adoption of a constitutional amendment that would give Presidents the right to veto individual items in appropriation bills. Senator Byrd, Democrat, of Virginia has been one of the champions of the proposed reform. But the same result can be accomplished without a constitutional amendment if Congress would put in the preamble of every appropriation bill a formal declaration that each numbered item or paragraph is to be considered as a separate piece of legislation and subject to presidential veto, just the same as in any other action of Congress whereby bills are approved jointly by both houses.

Dr. William Brady Says:

5 Ways to Vital Slimness Don't Include Crash Diet

"It is just not fair. I rush around like mad doing for four people and myself in a 7-room house. I give 12 piano lessons a week and play several hours a week for a vocalist, besides practicing for my own recitals.

"Why can't I be slim and pretty without starving? I have five children of my own (all born at home).

DR. BRADY

"I have 13 healthy, active grandchildren that bounce in on gran'ma whenever they feel she might be a little bored. I'd be happy working like a horse at 57 but for the fact that I'm 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 160 pounds. I want to lose 40 pounds. Is there any hope for me?" (Michiganite).

Forty pounds! You might possibly lose 8 or 10 pounds in the course of the year, not faster; but it would ruin your health, good looks, and happiness if you were to reduce even 20 pounds.

A woman of your height and age is loveliest and happiest at 148 to 153 pounds—provided she doesn't succumb to Hollywood hokum.

★ ★ ★

Muscle weighs more than fat, so the body measurements may be normal or perfect although body weight is not.

DEVELOP MUSCLES

Muscle takes up less room than fat. So a lot of people seeking a quick and easy way to reduce—which is always dangerous to health and likely to spoil good looks—might better undertake a sane and wholesome revision of their habits, along these lines:

1. Less riding, more walking.
2. Less sitting, more playing, rolling, tumbling, dancing, skating, swimming, hiking, or other general exercise every day.
3. Fruit, not fruit juice, as first and last food every day.
4. No dessert.
5. Build your own regular diet on the reduction diet outlined on p. 43 of The 7 Keys to Vite.

Send 35c and stamped, self addressed envelope for booklet The 7 Keys to Vite. If this seems too steep, keep a tight grip on your money and take it with you to an early grave.

DIET INCLUDED

The basic health diet tailored to your special requirements is one of the seven keys. And, as described on p. 6 of the booklet, vite means preservation of the characteristics of youth . . . pep . . . etc.

Michiganite's letter suggests to me that she has vite. My advice is that she carry on just as she is—and the heck with Hollywood.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Enters Debate on Governor

The writer who signs himself "Ex-Republican" is rather provincial in his thought. He should do some reading on a national scale where he would find that the name of Mennen Williams just gets a laugh.

Another thing, each of our presidents has had his own characteristics, no two alike, and no two alike voted into office. Williams is just a childlike copy of FDR.

'Is This Reason for Socialism?'

Why is socialism creeping up on us? Is it because capitalism is failing or is it because five per cent of the people in this country takes in 95 per cent of the income? Is it because some are rolling in wealth while most can't buy back what they produce?

We're living in the richest country in the world and I'm working for the richest company, yet they can't provide full employment. We've been getting from four to seven hours a day, four days a week. I'm helping produce something I can't buy. These cars sell for from three to four thousand dollars. Last year I made only four thousand. Is this why socialism is creeping up on us?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Commends Crusading Journalists

Harriet Toner believes a newspaper should be a "steerer" instead of a "mirror" of its environment. Such journalists are thus artists instead of photographers. And they are akin to statesmen, who differ from crass politicians by also trying to steer civilization higher, instead of simply trying to mirror the latest poll of their constituents.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-387: Harriet W. Toner, aged about 65, ranks with other famous women as outstanding American newspaper publishers.

CRANE

For Mrs. Toner is a crusading publisher in Indiana.

"Dr. Crane, I don't believe a newspaper should simply mirror the events of its age," she told me recently when Mrs. Crane and I were visiting her.

"No, a good newspaper should help direct the thinking of its readers to higher and better levels. Don't you agree?"

And I certainly agree! A top-notch newspaper should be a "steerer" instead of just a "mirror" of contemporary life.

★ ★ ★

Every editor and publisher who runs this column on clinical psychology believes in that same educational viewpoint, too.

For many readers will come up to me after a lecture in their newspaper area, and smilingly state:

"Dr. Crane, I read your column regularly, but I don't always agree with what you say."

To which I gratefully reply:

"That is splendid! For you may recall the wise adage that William Wrigley Jr. once uttered when he said: 'When two men in a business ALWAYS agree, one of them is unnecessary.'"

★ ★ ★

And so it is in life. If teachers and clergymen and editors told us only the things we already know and agree to, then there'd be no progress.

The hope of civilization is to stir up friendly dissension and provoke debates so that we can thresh out the truth. Our best newspapers are constantly trying to do this, so they help steer public opinion to higher levels, instead of simply being a mirror in print of everyday events.

★ ★ ★

"Mrs. Toner, you belong to that large class of people who are artists instead of photographers," I explained.

"For a camera photographs everything that is within range of its lens.

"But an artist 'highlights' specific aspects of his environment to bring out a certain viewpoint.

"A crusading editor thus tries to make this world better. Like the school teacher and clergyman, he is committed to the goal of steering civilization onward and upward."

CONGRESSMEN, N. B.

Congressmen, nota bene! Your job, too, is not to mirror the latest Gallup poll among your constituents.

For if that is all you do, we might as well employ pollsters and let their latest findings be codified into law, thereby saving the money and emotional turmoil of Congressional elections.

A politician just reflects polls of the home folks. He mirrors his followers.

But a statesman uses his greater access to data, as acquired from his membership on Congressional committees, to vote for what is best for us folks back home.

Ultimately, what is best will usually be shown to us by our newspapers and thus win our support, too.

But sometimes what is best is not most popular at the moment, so a true statesman should stick to what is right instead of what is expedient and popular.

A crusading newspaper thus unearths crookedness in local and national affairs, but likewise hires columnists to expose fallacies and obsolete concepts in psychology, religion, medicine and many other fields.

So, more power to crusading leaders in all fields, but especially journalism!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Big Jim Elkins, the racketeer who started the Portland vice investigation by deciding to talk last year, today faces a 20-month, $2,000 penalty.

★ ★ ★

He was sentenced yesterday by U. S. Dist. Judge William East to 20 months in prison and fined $2,000 for wiretapping. Elkins, 56, asked a new trial.

His employe, Raymond Clark, 34, convicted on the same counts, was sentenced to 6 months and fined $500. A hearing on Elkins' motion for a new trial is scheduled for June 17. Meanwhile, the two are out on bond.

Elkins is expected to be the principal witness against others indicted in the year-long vice investigation. He also faces several othet indictments, including charges of bootlegging and of accepting a prostitutes earnings.

Flo-master FELT TIP PEN
NO MUSS! NO FUSS!

This "miracle" pen writes on any surface — paper, metal, wood, glass, cloth, even blackboard — makes the preparation of flash cards, maps, charts, posters and scores of other visual aids a quick, simple job.

It handles like a fountain pen — avoids the mess and bother of brushes, paints, crayons and pastels. 5 interchangeable felt tips give lines up to ¾" wide, and automatic valve control assures smooth ink flow without evaporation.

Choose from two Flo-master inks to suit your every need — the Transparent — instant-drying and waterproof; or the brilliant new Brite-line inks for use on light colored papers and poster board — both available in 8 colors including black.

New Orleans Owes Voodoo and Tulane to Maniacs

Never Belittle Power of Madwomen

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW ORLEANS (INS) — New Orleans people who know their history have a new way of stating an old slogan. They say: "Never underestimate the power of a looney woman."

These words are reeled off with awed respect, too, especially when the moon is full and the spirits (reincarnated variety) are high.

For upon two 19th Century women, both of them power-mad, rests the credit and blame for two great New Orleans traditions — voodoo, the ancient religio-superstitious cult that began in Africa and is still painfully dying out in Louisiana; and Tulane University, the efficient modern college that was dedicated to an insane woman.

Marie Le Veau is the name of the beautiful gal who staged the last public voodoo ceremony in New Orleans.

★ ★ ★

Under a perfect sphere of January moon, the amber-skinned Miss Le Veau, gowned in a short skirt of fig leaves, gathered most of the wide-eyed Negroes in town to her presence by wrapping herself in a live, 9-foot African python.

AIR OF SERENITY

Her dainty feet (the story goes) marked with fresh red crosses, rested on the back of an alligator, and all about her open-air throne were a variety of less impressive domestic snakes and an air of serenity.

While the drums beat, Marie asked for tokens of faith to the great zombie whom she was representing, and a thousand or more people — with hate in their hearts for white tyranny, and love for this woman who defied snakes and whites alike — gave her gifts.

Sides of meat, sacks of corn, vegetables, fowl, candy, and other delicacies such as money, they heaped at her feet.

Marie was deeply inspired. It was her most successful, and lootful, orgy to date.

Unfortunately for Miss LeVeau, her voodoo rites were reported by a sneaky non-believer to the general of the white army stationed in New Orleans at the time. He ordered her activities outlawed, and confiscated the gifts of goodies from her fans.

MAD WITH RAGE

Marie went mad with rage, died less than a year after her last ceremoney, Jan. 27, 1862.

★ ★ ★

What remains of her and of voodoo in the South are evidenced in St. Louis' II Cemetery, where her tomb still is occasionally

And every now and then, on a still night, a candle is lit beside her resting place.

The other woman — a white beauty named Madame Lalaurie, French by marriage, New Orleander by romantic inclination — was the beloved of young Paul Tulane, a poor New Jeresey boy who went to New Orleans in the early 1800s to seek his fortune.

Tulane met and admired the pirate Jean La Fitte, who was, at the time, "going straight" by operating a blacksmith shop. So taken was Tulane with the heroic personage of the pirate that he asked to be an apprentice in iron-working.

La Fitte, who was not happy long on land, left him 2,000 hard-fought-for dollars and turned him over to another blacksmith for tutelage.

RICH AND POWERFUL

The young man began to grow rich and powerful, putting his money into a mercantile company instead of keeping his nose to the forge.

★ ★ ★

About the time he controlled a godly share of New Orleans, Tulane met one Madame LaLaurie — rumored to be the most heartless woman in town. The story was that she cruelly beat her mulatto Negroes. But our boy was too impassioned to care.

One night the Negroes got back at his enamorata and burned down her mansion. Overcome with fear, she confessed that the tales of her cruelty were true—and Tulane was forced to sneak her out of the city to save her life.

The city limits were not far enough. To protect her from an enraged throng, he had to secure passage for Madame Lalaurie back to France. For 24 years thereafter, Tulane waited in New Orleans for her promised return and, in 1858, learned that she had died in Paris, a raving maniac.

★ ★ ★

With a broken heart, he gave most of his money toward the foundation of an institution he hoped would bear her name.

New Jersey Parkway Outdoor Maternity Ward

RED BANK, N. J. (AP)—The Garden State Parkway, stretching 164 miles across New Jersey, considers itself the nation's leading outdoor maternity ward.

In less than two years the stork has run out of gas on the toll road seven times. Deliveries along the busy road have been made by state police patrols and first aid personnel.

There are about 4,500 tree farms in 36 states, including about 29 million acres of land, according to the Southern Pine Association headquarters.

Re-elect Curtis Patton as Insurance Official

Curtis E. Patton, of 314 S. Tilden St., has been re-elected vice president of the Michigan State Association of Life Underwriters. Also newly elected to one of the four vice president positions is Coy G. Eklund, of Birmingham.

Patton, district organizer for the Great-West Life Assurance Co., and Eklund, manager of one of Detroit's two Equitable Life Assurance Agencies, were elected at the Association's annual meeting in Detroit.

Cadillac

Friendly Welcome For a Total Stranger!

He's a "stranger in these parts"—just passing through on his way to some distant destination.

But you wouldn't know it to look at the wonderful welcome he receives as he brings his car to a silken stop and his day's travels to an end.

For high on the hood of his motor car rides the beautiful crest of Cadillac—and hospitality just seems to follow a new Cadillac wherever it goes.

No man, you see, is ever without standing when he sits in the "car of cars".

For it is a recognized fact that Cadillac owners—representing though they do such varying fields of endeavor—also have a great deal in common.

Invariably they are people of marked personal achievement—who have won for themselves a considerable measure of respect and recognition in their chosen work.

In brief, the driver's seat of the Cadillac car is the traditional dwelling place of the world's leading citizens. And people everywhere have found it safe to assume that whomsoever they behold at the wheel is a worthy member of this great and distinguished company.

Of course, this is but one of the satisfactions of Cadillac ownership . . . in addition to inspiring beauty, luxurious Fleetwood coachcraft, superlative performance and extraordinary value.

Have you as yet taken the wheel of a new 1957 Cadillac? If not, then you should visit your Cadillac dealer soon and spend an hour on the highway.

He'll be waiting for you with a "friendly welcome" of his own!

Says Nation Pinched for Good Mechanics

BOSTON (INS)—The 33rd annual convention of the National Standard Parts Association today was warned of a growing shortage of trained automobile mechanics.

Martin W. Bazner of Chicago, an automobile parts manufacturer, said there was one mechanic for every 73 vehicles of all types in 1950, and one in every 82 in 1955.

By 1965, he predicted, there will be one mechanic for every 108 vehicles. Bazner added:

"For a nation whose economy depends, so to speak, on wheels, this shortage of trained mechanics presents a serious threat to our economy and could be disastrous in case of a national emergency.

"The motorist who buys one of today's cars is becoming increasingly aware of the fact that with the ever-increasing number of new cars being placed into service today, with their new and highly intricate power plant, the need for highly skilled and trained mechanics is even greater."

Baggage Nosedives but Plane Lands OK

NEW YORK (AP)— A baggage door of a Capital Airlines plane flipped open in flight Tuesday, damaging a propeller, but the plane returned here and landed safely with 38 persons.

The freak accident occurred about 15 minutes after the plane, a four-engine Viscount, took off from La Guardia field for Pittsburgh.

★ ★ ★

The door and about a dozen pieces of baggage fell from the craft.

★ ★ ★

The plane was between 12,000 and 13,000 feet, over Branchville, N. J., when the door and baggage flew out.

The pilot was Capt. J. J. Marten of Pittsburgh, and the copilot T. E. Griffith.

The plane was en route to Knoxville, Chattanooga and Memphis.

Big Runway Opened

TAIPEI (AP)—From today, the world's largest aircraft can land on Formosa on a new concrete runway just opened on the outskirts of Taipei. The new strip is 7,500 feet long, 200 feet wide and with an overrun of 750 feet at each end.

To move an army infantry division requires 48 passenger trains and an average of 20 freight trains.

Bombay, India, will have a government-sponsored TV unit completed by 1958.

Britain Plans 'Cage' to Channel H-Power

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Atomic Energy Authority disclosed last night it is building a giant glass cage in which it hopes to channel the power of the hydrogen bomb into the generation of electricity.

The cage is being built at Harwell, the main government center for nuclear research. It is expected to be ready for experiments by the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

The News Chronicle said the apparatus in essence would be a huge bottle containing the fusionable materials and surrounded by electro-magnets.

The magnets will create electrical fields which will keep the intensely hot gases from touching the sides of the bottle and melting it.

★ ★ ★

The temperature at which the H-bomb fusion process begins is believed to be in the region of 212 million degrees fahrenheit. The News Chronicle said a research team headed by Dr. P. C. Thoneman has succeeded in producing temperatures of more than 2 million degrees in small models.

Says Welfare Plight Should Be Publicized

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A University of Michigan sociology professor says the plight of the nation's welfare services needs to be dramatized.

"Public welfare needs a Postmaster Summerfield who will dramatize the fact that closing down welfare services is false economy like closing down the postal service," Prof. Wilbur J. Cohen said last night.

★ ★ ★

Summerfield shut down a Saturday mail service last month when Congress balked at filling his appropriations request.

Cohen told the national conference on social welfare that "the bright hopes of 1956 for improving welfare services to our needy citizens seem to be fading away under the pressure of economy."

He said social security amendments approved last year are on the verge of being curtailed even before they go into effect.

Canal Crisis Is Receding, but Dangers Still Remain

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The Suez Canal crisis is receding as quickly as it emerged nearly 10 months ago.

★ ★ ★

But there will be lots more shouting. There also is inherent danger so long as the Arab-Israeli conflict lasts. The Israelis in fact still are threatening to make a test run of the canal to challenge the Egyptian blockade.

Prime Minister Harold MacMillan reluctantly has told British shipowners to use the canal if they wish. Payment of tolls to Egypt will be made in a special account out of British-blocked Egyptian funds.

The British tried many threats, and finally force, to try to unseat Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, or at least make him agree to international control of the canal. Combined American and Soviet pressure saved Nasser.

HUMILIATING TURN

This is a humiliating turn for Britain. Some Conservative members of Parliament have resigned from the party because of the MacMillan government retreat.

★ ★ ★

The Prime Minister's green light to shipowners is a far cry from the days last July when the government, then under Sir Anthony Eden, said it never would agree to leave the canal in the unfettered control of a single power.

The United States failed to gain any significant concessions from Nasser. But the Suez Canal Users Association members also failed to exert any strong boycott of the waterway.

With members so eager to resume sailing through the canal — in tacit if not public agreement to Egyptian terms — Britain was in no position to hold out.

★ ★ ★

Nasser faces long-term dangers, however, despite this moment of victory. Unless the major nations using the canal can get more binding assurances from Egypt, they are bound to look for alternatives to the canal.

PIPELINES, TANKERS

Uncertainty about smooth passage through Suez, with political discrimination by Egypt, already is spurring the building of pipelines and huge tankers.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of major oil companies have met in London to discuss projects for a new, improved pipeline network that would tap Middle Eastern oilfields and move the cargoes to the Mediterranean across Iraq and Turkey, thus by-passing Suez.

Nasser, in a fit of anger, nationalized the old Suez Canal Company when the U.S. withdrew its offer to help finance his pet dream of a huge dam at Aswan on the upper Nile River.

He said he would use proceeds from the canal to finance the dam. But even if the Egyptian leader solved the Suez dispute to the satisfaction of the Western allied powers it would take many years before the canal tolls could pay for the Aswan Dam.

Violinist Won't Compete With Chirping Cricket

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Violinist Isaac Stern suddenly interrupted his playing of a Brahms concerto to announce he couldn't compete with a cricket.

The most powerful gasoline any car can use

Super Shell with TCP

- a new grade of gasoline—the successor to Shell Premium
- higher than high test
- more aromatics—the power ingredients of aviation fuel
- instantly and automatically supplies any engine with the full octane value needed under every driving condition

High-compression engines in today's automobiles are designed to deliver power undreamed of just a few years ago.

Yet, many of these engines are not delivering all the power their owners paid for, even on premium-grade gasolines.

To meet this critical need for a new, higher grade of gasoline, the Shell Oil Company introduces the most powerful gasoline any car can use—Super Shell with TCP*. It's the successor to Shell Premium.

Higher than any of today's "high-test" gasolines, Super Shell not only satisfies the needs of the highest compression cars but it also enables motorists who have been using premium-grade gasolines to enjoy more power than they ever thought possible from their automobiles.

Super Shell's tremendous energy is made possible by a built-in "power pack" of aviation fuel power ingredients. These are benzene, xylene, and toluene, the most precious power ingredients that can be used in making gasoline.

It is toluene especially, that enables Super Shell to supply, instantly and automatically, the full octane value required for knock-free power under every driving condition.

This means you get all the octane you need for quick getaway from a standing start . . . and instant full power for safe passing on the highway. And when you're cruising along, Super Shell's greater energy converts to extra mileage.

Stop at the new white Super Shell pump at your Shell Dealer's for the most powerful gasoline any car can use.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research.

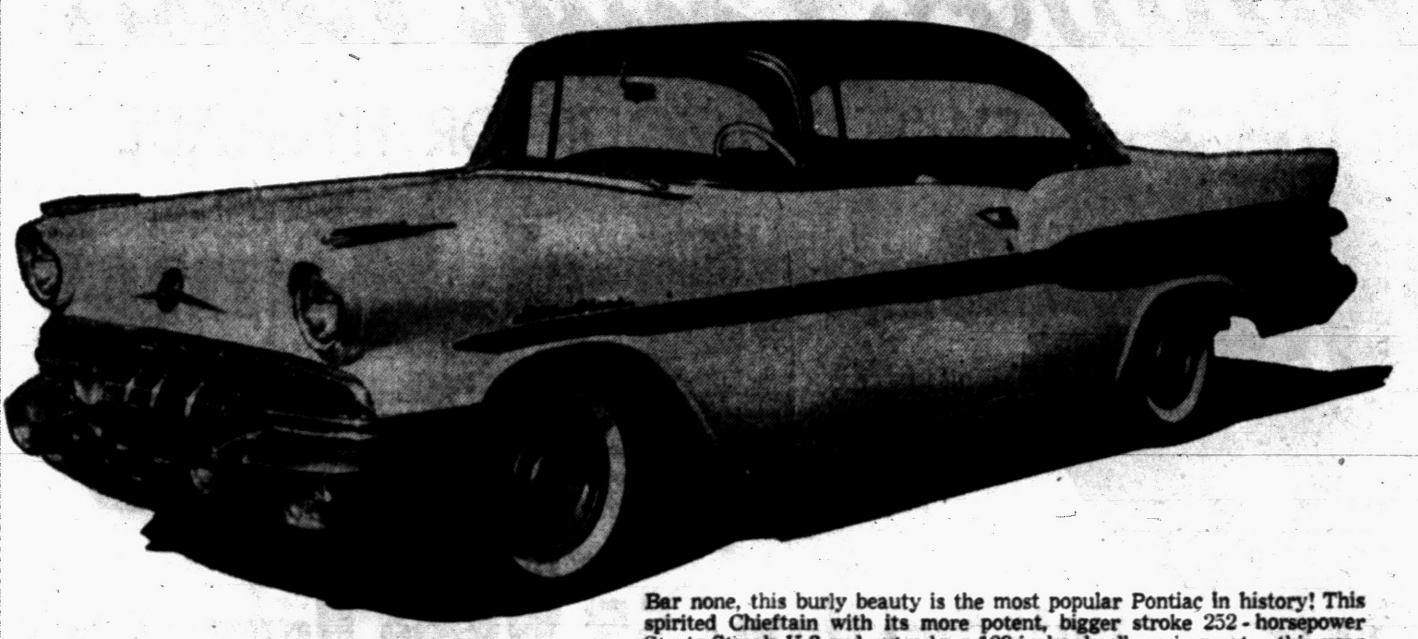

Get Super Shell at your Shell Dealer's Today!

Bob Considine Says:

Beck's Rival Faces Roughest Fight

CHICAGO (INS) — Dave Beck, cast out as vice president of the AFL-CIO, says he'll be a candidate for re-election as president of the Teamsters Union at its Miami convention in September and will win.

He'll be tough to beat, at that. Through the years he loaded the 1,400,000-member union's top echelons with his own creatures. But now one of them may destroy him fully in the end.

He is John T. "Sandy" O'Brien, now an avowed candidate for Beck's job. O'Brien has been in Teamsters work and the union movement around Chicago for better than 40 years.

Under Beck, the big, strapping widower, who as a boy had worked as a barrel-roller for a horse-drawn beer wagon, advanced to fourth vice president. Before that Beck placed him in command of tens of thousands of Teamsters in Wisconsin and Indiana.

★ ★ ★

Now, because of his fine reputation among the disgruntled rank-and-file, O'Brien is certain to head up the still powerful Beck-Hoffa faction. In the wake of Beck's expulsion from the board of the AFL-CIO, O'Brien won pledges of support from any points.

He has the promise, right now, that all 300 Chicago delegates to the Miami convention will stand by him. But he knows it won't be easy to hold them all in line.

★ ★ ★

Beck's assertion, "I'll be a candidate and win" can't be taken lightly by any man who runs against him. If former amateur boxer O'Brien wins, he'll know he's been through his roughest fight.

Nothing much doing around Adlai Stevenson's campaign headquarters at the Conrad Hilton. The suites on the 23rd floor were occupied today by exhibits and people of the Pennsylvania Electric Co., here for the Radio Parts and Electronic Equipment Convention.

They're interested in other kinds of buttons. No old "All the Way with Adlai" buttons around.

★ ★ ★

The man from nearby Libertyville is deep in the alien corn. In Paris yesterday he told International News Service, "I have absolutely no political aspirations of any kind. But," he added, "I am always ready to serve my country and my party."

All hopefuls for the Democratic nomination or victory three years hence are invited to parse Stevenson's last sentence.

Awoke at the Palmer House to find Arlene Francis and Bernard Gimbel in my room—on the television screen. They were talking animatedly in behalf of the New York City Summer Festival, as did many others who followed them.

It was raining, but the muscular merchant prince smiled like a sun throughout—and he was in an open car for the "Home" show telecast.

The New York Convention Bureau has lined up some impressive people to champion its cause, including the two mentioned above. But I agree with Bob and Ray, two research experts I know, that it's hard to pin down the specific reasons why New York should suddenly be as civic-minded and tourist-conscious as, say, Silver Spring, Fla.

★ ★ ★

Everybody knows what New York has: The great buildings, hotels, theaters, museums and that we have only recently lost our parks to hoodlum bands. Maybe Gimbel used one word in his vigorous pitch which the Convention Bureau should stress hereafter.

"We're a friendly town," he said.

That we are. That we are. People who find that hard to believe may flock here in droves to see.

★ ★ ★

Made a little talk here to a convention and mentioned the case of Benny Hooper, the boy in the well, and how it emotionally affected so many of us in the New York area.

After the talk a delegate came up with this follow-up: "The word that the boy was alive came to 50 of us in a way we won't forget," he said.

"I was in a plane flying here from the coast. All of a sudden the pilot's voice came on the loudspeaker. He said, 'That boy in the well has been pulled out—alive.'

"The silent passengers clapped their hands, and 50 of us who had been silent strangers were now talkative friends."

U.S., Russia Join Fight Against Cancer

GENEVA (INS) — Russia and the U. S. are joining hands against a common enemy — cancer.

The two nations, plus Britain, France, Australia and The Netherlands, have submitted to the World Health Organization a resolution calling for increased international cooperation in the fight against cancer.

German Laboratory Befriends Kingdom of Beasts

Scents Created to Control Animals

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
(For Hal Boyle)

KASSEL, Germany (AP)—A small small sixth - floor chemical laboratory here has won a reputation with animal lovers in three continents. It turns out one of the world's strangest commercial products: animal-repellent scents.

★ ★ ★

It took many years of research for Dr. Hubert Hildebrandt to build up his present stock of more than 150 synthetic and natural scents, ranging from the sweet fragrance of a cherry blossom to "lion 4" — extra strong.

"As a psychologist, I learned that scents influence the animal's mental life more than anything else," Hildebrandt says.

But it took 50 testing stations all over West Germany to find out the exact reaction of an animal to different scents. Today, Hildebrandt supplies scents to buyers in Africa, America and Europe.

★ ★ ★

"Lion 4" is one of Hildebrandt's latest productions. It was developed shortly before he received a desperate call from game ranger Ian Player, Mtubatuba, South Africa, that marauding hippos were causing widespread damage to his farm in Zululand.

Hildebrandt sent an assistant to the Berlin zoo to find out what smell the hippos disliked most.

The assistant reported: "Basic anthropine — synthetic human perspiration — did not shy them away. They were unimpressed by tiger scent, too. Finally, I tried lion 4. They took to their heels immediately."

An elephant - repelling scent is now being tested in the national park of Kenya, British East Africa. Testers have informed Dr. Hildebrandt that lion's scent was a total failure. Good results were achieved with human smell but the best repellent was found to be a special blossom fragrance.

A special unidentified scent was used to check the porcupines harassing the farm of Dr. Gernot Zillig, of Scotch Village, in Nova Scotia.

A U. S. firm has inquired about protecting cable insulations with repellent smell because they are often damaged by squirrels. In Germany, a firm wants its glass wool prepared to repel mice frequently making their home in it.

★ ★ ★

Human smell helped to cope with a problem a state-employed Yugoslav forester had to face near Zagreb.

"How can we stop the stags in Croatia from damaging crops without shooting them?" a forester asked. A few bottles of anthropine scared them away.

★ ★ ★

A similar request has been received from Communist Czechoslovakia. Swedish elks also are being restrained with anthropine.

★ ★ ★

Near Altoetting, Germany, anthropine will soon help to eliminate a major source of danger for deer. Numerous deer drown in a canal. Anthropine-soaked sponges dangling over the water keep the animals away.

Workers Snub Salaries

LAHORE, W. Pakistan—Nearly 500 employes of the West Pakistan Secretariat in Lahore have refused to draw their salaries for the most recent month. They are protesting against the failure of the authorities to accede to their demands for special facilities, it is explained.

Farmers Furrow Brows, but That's All

Rains Halt Field Planting in State

LANSING (AP) — Cool and wet weather slowed field activity on Michigan farms during the past week, the federal-state crop reporting service said today.

Nearly all sections of the state now have sufficient rainfall and some sections are over-wet, the service reported.

Rain was so heavy and continuous in the central portions of the state that farmers accomplished practically no field work during the week. Good drying weather was needed to let work continue.

In a few southern counties and portions of northern Michigan, some progress was made in getting crops into the ground.

NEARLY COMPLETED

Oat and barley plantings were nine-tenths completed by the end of the week and one-third of the prospective potato acreage was planted. Sugar beet planting was about four-fifths completed.

Some progress was made in the preparation of ground for corn and about one-fifth of the acreage was in by the end of the week.

Hay, crops and pastures had sufficient moisture and were expected to make good growth with the help of some sunshine.

The state's wheat acreage looked good but also needed some warm and clearing weather.

OATS ARE UP

Early planted oats were up and growing well except in some southeastern heavy-soil areas hurt by excessive rainfall.

Most fruit trees, including apples, were in the petal fall stage in southern lower Michigan. Apple trees were in full bloom in central and northwestern areas.

Some frost damage was reported but it was scattered and winds prevented heavy damage.

Scattered frost damage also was reported to strawberries but southern areas were in full bloom and a good crop was in prospect.

Rolled Own (Rag) Weed

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Police smelled clothes burning in the station house and hurriedly made an investigation. They found a prisoner in the jail block, who hand no tobacco, rolling his own—with rolled up rags.

LOST 16 lbs. reduce

Rennel

"Rennel Concentrate has been a wonderful product for me. I am the type of person who finds it hard to reduce," writes Mrs. Anna Hrivnak, R. No. 2, Emmett, Mich. "With the help of Rennel I lost 16 lbs. easily and that brought my blood pressure down to almost normal. My blood pressure was my concern and the weight loss was just a pleasant extra dividend. Again my skin is smooth and firm and I lost four inches at the waist line. Thanks to Rennel, I feel a lot better."

You too can regain your pride, health and your natural figure. If you are value minded and Rennel wise you will ask your druggist for liquid Rennel. Ask for free booklet. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for refund. Price $1.40.

Township Plans for Emergency

Two New Groups Meet to Get More Information on Disaster Procedure

Two new organizations in Waterford Township have combined forces in an attempt to have a stronger program in case of an emergency.

At a meeting last night, civil defense officials and top organizers of the Waterford Township Blood Bank met at the Community Activities, Inc. building to learn more about disaster procedure.

Police Chef Frank Van Atta, Fire Chief Edward Smith and representatives from various parts of the township were present at the round table discussion.

The blood bank is sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Supervisor Elmer Johnson will held the civil defense group temporarily and Lloyd Gidley is assistant director. The civil defense headquarters will be at Waterford Township Hall.

"Right now, the civil defense program needs volunteer leaders to take courses in learning how to train other volunteers," Gidley said.

A captain for each district has been assigned various sectors in the township. These people are now distributing information card to be filled individually when the group again meets June 5.

A special Red Cross training program will be set up in the CAI building in the near future, Gidley said.

Police Release Youth Pending Further Probe

Marlin Joseph Doran Jr., 21, of 16 Euclid St., was released from the Oakland County Jail Monday pending further investigation of the beating of two men early Saturday morning.

Doran was arrested for investigation of assault to do great bodily harm about 4 a.m. Saturday after police found he was the owner of an auto identified as being at the scene of the beating.

North Carolina roads are maintained without a property tax.

Tells Philippines to Use Alcohol in Gas Tanks

MANILA—An American scientist suggests that Filipino motorists should use alcohol-blended gasoline to conserve the country's dollars.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. government scientist, Dr. Richard Wiebe, said utilization of alcohol as motor fuel in the Philippines would save the island republic millions of dollars which annually go for the purchase of gasoline.

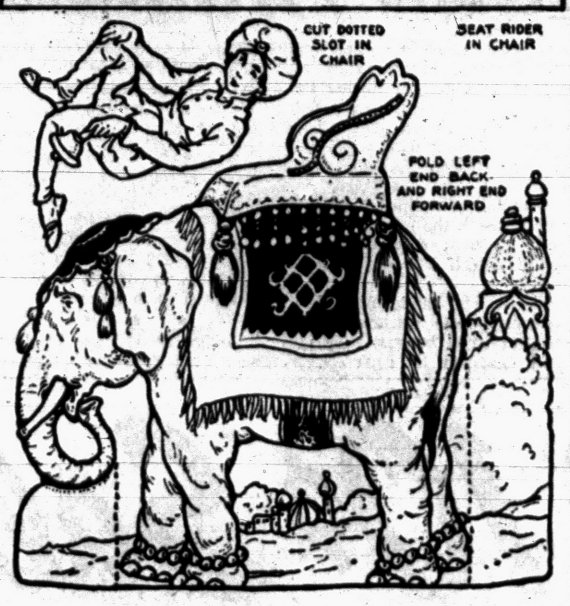

Wiebe, who is chief of the physical chemistry division of the U S. Department of Agriculture, pointed out that Australia, Indian, Pakistan, South Africa, Spain and Sweden are a few of the countries which use a gasoline-alcohol blend as motor fuel without any difficulty.

The American authority on power alcohol also emphaiszed the fact that the Philippines has a tremendous source of alcohol from sugar cane.

Inkster Man Convicted

DETROIT (AP) — Esker Lee Triplet, 34, of Inkster was convicted of armed robbery Tuesday before Circuit Court Judge Victor Targonski. He was accused of robbing George Nauhan of $1,300 Dec. 15. Assistant Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen said that Triplet has two previous felony convictions and that police still are questioning him in the Christmas slaying of St. Clair County agricultural agent Laverene Wegener at Willow Run Airport.

JUNIOR EDITORS — ANIMAL QUIZ

QUESTION: Does an elephant ever forget?

ANSWER: You sometimes hear a story about an elephant attacking a man who, as a boy years before, had teased that same elephant.

Animal trainers do not put much stock in such stories. Jumbo, P. T. Barnum's famous elephant, was ridden by thousands of American children and always managed to forget when any of them were mean to him.

Elephants have been serving man for thousands of years and are still used as beasts of burden in parts of Asia and Africa. King Porus of India used them in fighting against Alexander the Great. Hannibal, the famous general, took 37 elephants across the rugged Alps to battle the Romans.

In spite of its bulk, an elephant can travel as fast as a runner, is a powerful swimmer and a good climber, but cannot jump or even lift all four feet of the ground at once. Tame elephants can do enormous amounts of work, lift and toss a ton's weight with their long trunks, sometimes carry tourists or hunters on trips.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Paste this picture of an Indian bo yand his elephant down on cardboard, color it with your crayons, cut out as directed and save for your animal collection.

(Don Dickson, Pueblo, Colo., won $10 for suggesting this Junior Editors idea. Send yours in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures.)

Denies Failing to Yield to Funeral Procession

James T. Crump, 36, of 251 Earlmoore St., was freed on a personal bond yesterday after he pleaded innocent to the charge of failing to yield to a funeral procession and causing a five car accident May 13.

Crump was arraigned before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum and trial was set for June 6.

Two persons, a passenger and a driver, received minor injuries in the five car collision at Huron street and Cass avenue.

Highway signs reading Pietermartizberg were so long that they were a prey to strong winds—so the South African city now is officially called just Maritzburg.

Second Lakes Route Termed Essential

LANSING — A second Great Lakes-overseas trade route to the Caribbean has been declared essential to the commerce of the United States by the Maritime Administration. The designation insures regularly scheduled and continuous service by U. S. flag lines to Great Lakes ports. Previously declared essential was a route to northern Europe.

As a result of a series of conferences held over a period of two years, the U. S. Coast Guard is ready to submit legislation that would require foreign vessels to employ some sort of Great Lakes pilot while on the Lakes. Foreign ships now generally employ a pilot familiar with the Lakes, but are not required to do so.

Contractors Gulled

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — When metal-framed windows in a new apartment project leaked, contractors applied new caulking compound. It helped only temporarily. Then a sharpeyed resident spotted the cause of the trouble. Seagulls, apparently hard-pressed for food in the off-season, were pecking away the caulking.

Builds His Home on State Line, Has Troubles

TOLEDO, Ohio, (AP)—When William Fleitz started building his new house, he put it on the Ohio-Michigan line for a novelty. He's had nothing but headaches ever since.

The back two-thirds of the house is in Michigan. The front third is in Ohio, a factor which Fleitz figured would entitle him to a Toledo address and Toledo services.

So far, he's had to take out two building permits for the $34,000 house and is currently in a battle with the city of Toledo and the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. to get water and gas.

The utilities claim it would be a violation of Interstate Commerce Commission dules to extend service to the house. Toledo Edison Co. agreed to provide electricity after Fleitz put a meter on the Ohio side of his house and installed his own "across-the-border" lines.

A future headache will be paying taxes in two states.

Comeback Bid Fails for Fine

Former Governor of Pennsylvania Gets No Support in Primary

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former Gov. John S. Fine met voter rejection in yesterday's Pennsylvania primary as he sought unsuccessfully to make a political comeback in Luzerne County where he had been Republican boss for nearly 30 years.

★ ★ ★

Fine's defeat in his first bid for public office since his voluntary retirement in 1955 was the high spot of an election that attracted barely a million of the Keystone State's 5,247,925 registered voters.

There was no statewide contest.

Organization slates of both Democrat and Republican parties won everywhere.

Expert on Criminology Falls Victim to Thief

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—One of the nation's leading authorities on criminology and penology, Dr. Negley K. Teeters of Temple University, was unable to meet one of his recent classes at the university.

Instead, he allowed his students to use one of his tape-recorded discussions for the hour session.

The next day Prof. Teeters found that his tape recording on criminology had been stolen.

Teller Cages of Bank Keep Bills for Bandits

BOSTON (AP) — The National Shawmut Bank keeps a stack of bills at each teller's cage structly for robbers.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel O'Connell disclosed that information in Superior Court during trial of Joseph W. Ross, 35, of Boston, on charges he participated in a $9,824 Shawmut Bank robbery last Sept. 17.

O'Connell said the bank keeps a stack of decoy $2 bills at tellers' cages with all serial numbers recorded.

FBI agent Paul Rico said he found two such bills in Ross' home.

Defense Contends Jury Drank Trial 'Evidence'

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) — When the jury found Jack H. Burke guilty of selling whisky on Sunday, defense lawyers announced they would seek a new trial.

The lawyers, Ignatius Keane and Joseph A. Depaul, told Judge John B. Gray that the bottle of 86 proof evidence which the jury examined during deliberations was not as full afterward.

Keane added: "Consumption of intoxicating beverages is grounds for a mistrial."

Blackbird Feathers Nest With Bill From Bottle

CENTEREACH, N. Y. (AP)—A blackbird dipped his beak into a milk bottle and flew off with a $5 bill to feather his nest.

That touched off an argument between Mrs. John Walsh and her milkman. She knew she had left the money in the bottle. He knew the bottle was empty when he arrived.

While they were arguing, the bill floated to earth. It had slipped out of the bird's beak when he tried to add it to his nest on Mrs. Walsh's roof.

Got a job for this giant killer?

Here's proof of the reserve strength in GMC's 370 that pays off in any operation.

DEEP in the pine woods, this 2½-ton GMC, with locally added trailing axle, wades into a pile of forest giants, using its power take-off to flip 1,000-pound logs onto its back. In ten minutes it has a staggering load—and practically no road to haul it over.

You may never need to subject your trucks to such grueling service, but experience like this is your assurance of stamina and reserve strength far beyond normal requirements.

This go-anywhere, do-anything GMC is rated at 19,500 GVW. With an optional heavy-duty front axle, you boost that to 22,000.

Pick either the 140-hp Six, or the 206-hp V8, and you're economically powered for almost any kind of job.

You can get a conventional cab of 108" b.b.c.—or a cab-over model of 89". Options* that practically give you a custom-built truck for your needs, such as: five-speed transmissions—two-speed rear axles—heavy-duty Hydra-Matic Drive with a wide-range one-shift rear axle—4-wheel drive and frame reinforcements.

And get this: the GMC 370 can be yours for hundreds of dollars less than comparable competitive trucks. Just check with your GMC dealer.

*At modest extra cost.

HUB-DEEP RUTS, soft ground, down and up ravines, it totes a Herculean payload day in and day out in the timberlands of North Carolina. Five trips a day, six days a week the year around—and it stays a stranger to the repair shop!

Hits 'Rivalry' of 3 Military Branches

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rivalry among the three branches of the armed services, the House Appropriations Committee said today, "is becoming so serious as to jeopardize and delay the rate of build-up of our military power."

The committee called on heads of the services to "substitute real unification for the present loose federation."

Its criticism of the rivalry was contained in a report accompanying the 1958 appropriation bill for the Defense Department.

"It all seems to have begun," the committee said, "with the desire on the part of each service to control the 'ultimate weapon,' the ballistic missile."

Tops Physics Students

SOCORRO, N. M. (AP)— Martin Patterson Kellogg got the highest grade of 809 New Mexico students who took a recent statewide physics exam. Right behind him was classmate Bill Joe Shaler. Both are from Los Alamos, where the atomic and hydrogen bombs were developed.

Archdeacon Told to Wear Gaiters Until He's Dead

HALIFAX, England (AP) — The Archdeacon of Halifax took issue today with a group of parishioners who hinted, in rhyme, that he is insufficiently gaitered.

The archdeacon, the venerable Eric Treacy, declared in an open letter to his flock that he wears his gaiters about 30 times a year. This, he said, should be often enough for anybody, considering how much the things cost and the fact that "they are extremely uncomfortable to wear and, in hot weather, intolerable."

★ ★ ★

Gaiters are the black silk tights extending from the knee to the ankle, which Anglican churchmen wear with knee-britches.

★ ★ ★

Recently the archdeacon received a critical note signed "The Heathens," which went:

"There was an archdeacon who said,
"'May I take off my gaiters in bed?'
"But the bishop said, 'no,
" 'Wherever you go,
" 'You must wear them until you are dead.' "

Office Building Faces 2nd Vote

Members of the House to Answer Roll Call on Measure Today

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House temporarily shoved aside the 33½ billion dollar military budget today to vote on whether to spend 7½ million on a third office building.

★ ★ ★

The lawmakers heartily approved the idea of more office space for their members yesterday by a 132 to 73 standing vote.

But Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) insisted that members answer as their names are called on a roll call today.

The House was expected to approve continuing work on the new 64 million dollar building, designed to allow each congressman three rooms instead of two in each office suite.

The $7,500,000 is part of a $78,370,285 appropriation bill carrying funds to operate the House, Library of Congress, Government Printing Office and Botanic Gardens in the coming fiscal year.

ALREADY SPENT

The chief argument used by House leaders for voting the money is that 15 million dollars has already been spent in buying and clearing land for the building. House Speaker Sam Rayburn said abandoning construction now would leave a "tremendous ugly hole over there."

★ ★ ★

House leaders plan to begin debate on the huge military budget Friday with a final vote scheduled by a week from today.

Republican leaders said they still have not made up their minds whether to try to give the Pentagon more than the $33,541,000,000 voted yesterday by the House Appropriations Committee. The committee cut more than 2½ billion dollars off the administration request.

Assistant Minority Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana and GOP Whip Leslie Arends of Illinois said they had not yet studied the committee report to see whether increases would be justified.

★ ★ ★

They said they had been told that much of the 2½ billion dollar committee deduction looked "fictitious" and "more fiction than fact."

Two Fishermen Recover Stolen Cash Register

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A cash register stolen from a service station was recovered—by fishermen. Dave Cloyd and his son, Travis, were fishing when one line became entangled with an object in three feet of water.

Travis waded in to recover his hook and fell into the water. He thought the ribbon from the register was a snake and jumped back to avoid it.

Demands Ministers Get Good Education

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Dr. Harlie L. Smith, president of the Board of Higher Education of the Disciples of Christ (Christian Church) says it's "imperative" that ministers have an adequate educational background.

Speaking to the recent Middlers' Conference of the Disciples of Christ, Dr. Smith listed seven years of college preparation, four years of undergraduate training and three years of graduate seminary study as the minimum requirement.

He also said that too many young people who choose the ministry drop out of training. Of 400, he said, 200 get to college, 100 graduate still in a church vocation, 60 go on to seminary and 54 graduate into the ministry.

Tulane U. Dean Raps Liberal Arts Schools' Failures

FORT WORTH, Tex.—The Dean of University College at Tulane University, has charged liberal arts colleges with failing to communicate the meaning of a liberal education.

Dr. John P. Dyer told members of the Association of Texas Colleges meeting in Fort Worth that "it would be difficult to find a time in our history when so much intellectual intimidation existed in our country."

Dr. Dyer stated that the idea of conformity being essential to national well being is becoming an accepted half truth in the country.

"Our great fear," he added, "is being different."

"We are living in a time," says Dr. Dyer, "when the bland lead the bland. Intelligent dissent has almost disappeared from our national life."

Dyer singled out the segregation issue, and said: "Many people continue to oppose integration through fear of what their neighbors will think."

On the other hand, Dr. Dyer said the NAACP is laying down a straight pattern of thought for Negros.

His solution for intellectual blandness is "an extra dimension in education—the liberal education of adults."

"Adult education," explained Dyer, "is needed for those who already have their degrees and are ready to begin their education."

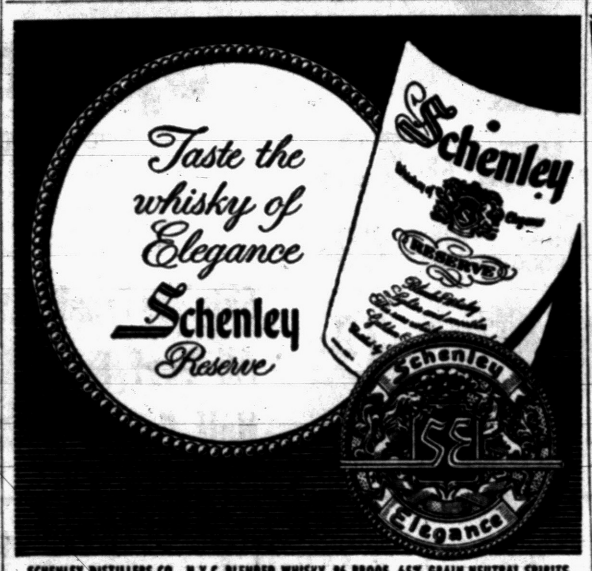

Authors Raise Funds to Stage Their Plays

NEW YORK (AP) — Four young playwrights have started a new trend in show-producing by raising funds to put their dramas on stage.

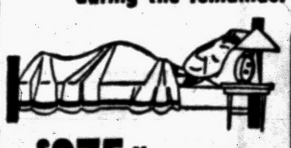

John Duff Stradley started it by co-producing his script "Wayside" at an off-Broadway theater recently. It had a short run, but Stradley received $37,500 for film rights.

After that James P. Davis, a newspaperman, rounded up friends to finance his "Run Thief Run"; Sidney S. Antebi found funds for a production of "The Pigeon," and Peter DiLeo did likewise for his "Beautiful Jailer."

Nixon, Knight May Throw Roadblock at Knowland

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — A top politico disclosed today that California Gov. Goodwin (Goody) Knight "has reason to believe" Vice President Nixon will throw his support to Knight to "stop Knowland" in the red-hot gubernatorial race next year.

The source said the purpose of the deal, if made, would be to prevent retiring Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland from controlling the California delegation to the GOP presidential convention in 1960.

It is an open secret that both Nixon and Knowland hope to capture the presidential nomination that year.

Knowland's intimates insist that the reason for his surprise decision to withdraw from the Senate in '58 is to win the California governorship as a springboard to the presidency two years hence.

GETS VOTES

"Even though Bill Knowland is the greatest vote-getter in the history of the state," a close friend said, "he knows that you can't run the state delegation from 3,000 miles away. As a consequence, Bill feels that his only chance to win the presidential nomination is to go home, mend fences among the political pros and win the governorship. Then he would automatically control the state delegation."

Since California is second only to New York State in the size of its delegation, Nixon's hopes of the presidency would be seriously —perhaps critically damaged—if his own state deserted him in the balloting.

By the same token, Knowland as California's "favorite son" at the '60 convention would have an impressive bloc of votes in his pocket for a starter.

SUCCEEDS WARREN

Knight, as a popular governor who succeeded Chief Justice Earl Warren and then won election on his own, obviously holds the balance of power between the Nixon and Knowland factions.

Any pooling of forces with Nixon would be a marriage of expediency, however, since the two men have feuded bitterly in the past. The deal would of necessity be two-pronged: Nixon to help Knight stop Knowland in '58, and Knight to return the favor for Nixon in '60.

Knight is known to want another term as governor. Unless, however, Nixon can swing sufficient influence to him, Goody will probably have to run for Knowland's vacated Senate seat next year to avoid a head-on collision with the powerful vote-getter.

Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) has been bringing pressure to bear on California Attorney General Pat Brown, as the Democrat's best vote-getter, to run for the Senate.

However, Chairman George Smathers of the Senate Democratic Campaign Committee believes that if Knowland runs for governor, Brown "will probably have to run against him." This situation could make Knight a shoo-in for the Senate, provided he decides to bow gracefully to Knowland's gubernatorial ambitions instead of splitting the party wide open.

The gamble for Knight is how much influence Nixon could bring to bear on California delegates, if he elects to buck Knowland. As vice president a continent removed from home base, Nixon is in no position to campaign actively for Knight.

LITTLE SUPPORT

Except for a crop of youthful GOP congressmen, Nixon has little real support among the professional politicians in California. The old guard is impressively for Knowland, and representatives of the Taft faction in other sections of the country have let it be known that money will flow in his behalf if he runs for the governorship.

This is the conservative group that hopes to nominate Knowland for the presidency two years later.

A top source pointed out that Nixon has, however, one obvious ace in the hole.

"Don't forget," he cautioned, "that Nixon is only one heart-beat removed from the presidency. With three years to go, California politicians may think twice before they alienate Nixon—just in case he should suddenly have the No. 1 job."

Jamaicans Lose Jobs

LONDON—Thousands of Jamaicans who sold their homes and went to Britain last year are writing "don't come" letters to friends in the West Indies, Kingston learns. Their dreams of a "golden future in the welfare state" have faded and hundreds have lost their jobs. Many employers are telling them, "You must go; jobs are for English workers first." Some 1,200 of Britain's 78,000 Jamaicans have gone home.

They held the watchman at gunpoint, burgled the safe and got $840. Then they tied the watchman to a pillar in the foyer, where his faint cries were not heard until morning.

Police Piecework?

LAKE WALES, Fla. — Donald E. Jones is getting his stolen motor scooter back piece by piece. It was taken several months ago by two youngsters who dismantled it and sold the parts. Every now and then the sheriff's office finds another piece of it and returns it to Jones.

An average railway passenger's journey in the U. S. is about 72 miles, according to current rail travel estimates.

One Stolen Motorcycle Should Be Easy to Spot

DALLAS (AP) — Houston police have asked their Dallas counterparts to be on the lookout for three juveniles believed vacationing here.

The trio, all 14 to 15 years old, stole three high-speed motorcycles. They should be easily recognized. One motorcycle is painted white and is equipped with red lights, siren, and a two-way Houston police radio.

RAIN OR SHINE SOCIAL — Regardless of the weather, members of the Donelson school P. T. A., Waterford Township, will have an ice cream social beginning at 4 p. m. Saturday, on the grounds, and inside if it rains. An outdoor "rehearsal" included Roger Earl, Marilynn Ott, Carol Hefferon and Sandra Newman. Mrs. Max Keller, one of the chairmen served chocolate cake to the youngsters at the preview. The 40-piece Isaac Crary Junior high band will play under the direction of Kenneth Preston during the evening.

Adlai Says U.S., Britain Mishandled Suez Issue

LONDON (INS)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today that "if I had been president I think the British would not have attacked Suez" last fall.

The Democratic party leader told newsmen that the Suez crisis was "mishandled by both" the U. S. and Britain. He added that "loss of confidence in one another was the most grievous consequence of Suez."

Stevenson, who is making an extended tour of Europe and Africa, came to Britain to receive an honorary degree from Oxford University. In a news conference he said of the degree:

"I don't merit it on scholarship. Therefore, I assume there is some other reason."

Girl's Legs Crushed Under Bus Wheels

DETROIT (AP) — A 16-year-old school girl crushed both her legs yesterday when she fell under the wheels of a city bus.

Loraine Tymczak was taken in critical condition to Highland Park General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The girl was on her way home from school when the accident occurred. She had gotten off one bus and had run to catch another. Witnesses said the girl reached the second bus only after the driver, George A. Pillen, 42, had closed the door. She yelled at the driver and pounded on the door but Pillen apparently failed to hear her.

He started up, the girl stepped back, tripped over the curb and fell on her back, her legs going beneath the wheels of the bus.

★ ★ ★

Pillen told police he did not notice the girl and didn't stop the bus until he heard the cries of other persons at the stop. He was not held.

Japanese Stepping Up Car and Truck Output

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese auto factories produced more cars and trucks in April than in any month since World War II.

The Japan Automobile Industry Association said 16,055 vehicles rolled off assembly lines, 978 more than in March.

Of the total, 11,149 were trucks, the first time since the war that monthly production has topped 10,000; 720 were buses and 4,186 were passenger cars.

Waterford Township Accidents Decrease

During the month of April, there were 47 accidents in Waterford Township, Police Chief Frank Van Atta disclosed today.

In a recent report to the township board, he said there were 365 less traffic tickets issued during April. The figure was 493 in March, before the police force was cut in an economy measure. Tickets issued in April totaled 128.

Van Atta said it would be hard to compare the number of accidents on Dixie highway before and after the cut in the police force.

"There are three separate departments covering Dixie Highway," he said, "We divert many of our Dixie highway accident calls to the State Police and Sheriff's departments since the cutback in our personnel."

During April, there were 47 accidents throughout the township, compared to 61 for April, 1956.

Telephone Service Out

DETOUR (AP) — Nearby Rudyard township was without telephone service early today. A transport truck snapped an aerial cable 18 feet above the ground cutting off service to some 250 subscribers of the Pickford Telephone Co. The company hoped to have restored service by noon.

Right Answers Bring You $900 in Pot-O-Gold

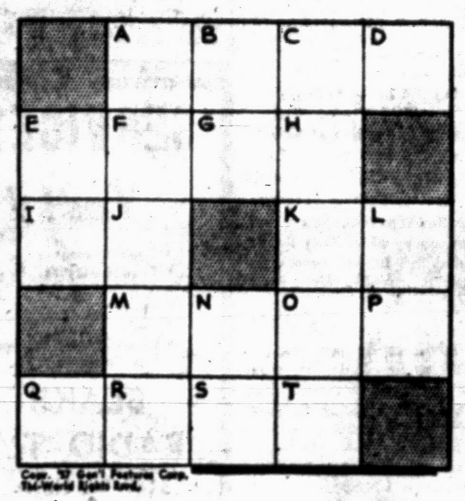

Nine hundred dollars makes quite a bulge in anyone's pocket, and if you'd like yours to bulge a little more, get to work on this week's Pot-O-Gold contest. Where else can you spend your time having so much fun and make money at the same time? That's providing you arrive at the right solution, of course. Read the rules carefully to increase your possibilities of winning.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No 51 must bear a Tuesday, May 28, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Truman Urges Continued Aid

Calls Granting of Funds Deterrent to Aggression by Communists

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman demanded last night that the U.S. continue its military and economic aid programs for free nations as a deterrent to Communist aggression.

★ ★ ★

"We must insist on the continuance of our defense programs and our programs to strengthen the power of the free nations to resist aggression," he said in a speech to a Democratic party fund raising dinner here.

★ ★ ★

Truman spoke at about the same time President Eisenhower said in a nationwide television and radio speech that a reduction of foreign aid spending would be a "reckless gamble" which could lead to war.

★ ★ ★

Truman charged recent world events "have brought about a lack of confidence in our influence abroad."

Truman said if the "country doesn't go bust" under the Republican administration, "maybe the Democrats can bring the government back to the people in 1958 and 1960."

Lee Isn't Interested

Who Will Succeed Beck? Sandy O'Brien Wants Job

CHICAGO (AP) — With pressure strong in the International Brotherhood of Teamsters for 63-year-old Dave Beck to step down as president, the question of his most likely successor appears unsettled.

But one high Teamster official has announced he would like to take over Beck's job. He is John T. (Sandy) O'Brien of Chicago, fourth vice president of the International Union.

A few months ago, few men in the upper councils would have considered O'Brien, secretary-treasurer of Local 710, Meat and Highway Drivers Union, as a contender.

Then, most would have agreed the man most likely to succeed Beck was James Hoffa of Detroit, vice president who, some said, packed more real power than Beck.

Now, it is considered unlikely that Hoffa will seek the presidency because he is under federal indictment charged with seeking to bribe a Senate investigator.

But Hoffa has built up a strong political following among regional and local leaders through his willing availability to serve as trouble shooter in union crises anywhere in the country.

There is some speculation that Hoffa may favor O'Brien with whom he has worked closely in affairs of the Central States Drivers Council, bargaining agency for over-the-road truckers in midwest states.

There was some wondering, also, whether Hoffa might have known beforehand that O'Brien would make a scathing denouncement of Beck last week at a meeting of the Chicago Area Council, and announce his availability.

O'Brien, who is 60, is known as pretty much of a trade union introvert, in contrast with such labor executives as Walter Reuther, the United Auto Workers' president, or Beck's fellow Teamster vice president, William A. Lee of Chicago, who has a record of work in community and civic affairs.

Lee, 61-year-old president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, has declared he does not want the presidency. Observers who have watched him fend off moves by Hoffa to dominate the Chicago Drivers Council, say he might have a tough time getting the presidency anyway, even with an active fight.

Communication Firm Seized by Egypt

CAIRO (AP)—The Marconi radio-telegraph and cable organization in Egypt — chiefly British-owned — has been taken over by the Egyptian government.

★ ★ ★

Communications Minister Mustapha Khalil announced yesterday the firm was being "Egyptianized" and now is the Foreign Communications Department of the Ministry of Communications. He said the Marconi concession to operate in Egypt expired last January.

★ ★ ★

The organization handles telegraphed communications in and out of Egypt, including the transmission of news dispatches. It had been sequestered since the British-French attack on Egypt last fall.

Urges Keeping Troops in All Trouble Spots

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nuclear weapons may be effective in deterring global war, but Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army Chief of Staff, said yesterday at Town Hall that the United States should keep strong fighting forces in all parts of the world where American and Soviet interests are in conflict.

"It is quite obvious," he said, "that in addition to deterring general atomic war we must design a military program which will deter aggressions short of general war, or suppress them quickly if deterrence fails."

Schools See Financial Aid in Bill's Passage

SOS at Walled Lake Telegraphs State Men

WALLED LAKE—Since the Save Our Schools (SOS) Committee of the Walled Lake Consolidated School District sent recent telegrams to Gov. Williams and other state officials, explaining its position, the school picture has changed.

The almost certain passage of a new House bill will enable the state to pay nearly all of the $190 formerly anticipated by school authorities.

SOS Action was prompted by the extensive publicity given to economy-minded housewives who marched on Lansing in protest against higher taxes.

SOS was organized in 1953 to promote passage of a $1,300,000 bond issue to build the present Walled Lake high school and an additional elementary school.

In its telegram SOS outlined the part it has played in various school elections and pointed out that it is completely free of affiliation with the school administration, PTA, or any other organization.

Following is a portion of the telegram:

"We are Republicans and Democrats and object to all efforts to make school financing a partisan issue. Our members and supporters have cast the majority of the ballots in every school election since our activity began.

"Every school district has its share of residents who prefer to spend their time and money convincing others that they should not spend any time or money to maintain their schools and other community services, and we have ours. But fortunately, the majority of the voters in most every school district in Oakland County are more willing to accept their responsibilities. Our major school districts have all voted for greatly increased taxes on their own property over the objection of similar opposition groups.

"Our school enrollments are increasing too fast, and the continued taxing of local real estate is an insufficient source of revenue."

The committee also mentioned in the telegram that it would be pleased to send a representative committee to discuss certain matters with the Governor or with interested legislators.

SOS specifically requested the state legislature to find a way to pay out all or most of its state aid appropriation, and to approve passage of House Bill 371.

At the time the telegram was sent, Walled Lake School District was in a precarious financial position because of an apparent loss of $101,680 in state aid.

This situation has now changed because of the passage of House Bill 399 which will enable the state to pay $187 of its promised $190 per child. The bill, which allocates state funds by a bookkeeping maneuver, now awaits the Governor's signature.

Clifford Smart, superintendent of Walled Lake Schools, last night felt confident that the bill would become official. This act will alleviate the financial crisis that faced the Board of Education of that district.

Troy Service Set by Mothers

Eighth Memorial Event to Be at City Hall on Sunday

TROY—The eighth annual Memorial Day services of Troy Chapter No. 37 of the Blue Star Mothers will be held on the lawn of Troy City Hall at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Services are to center around the memorial marker for those who died in the armed services. A donation of Troy Township Board, business people and citizens of the area and Blue Star Mothers, the stone was dedicated July 4, 1949.

Troy Chapter of the Blue Star Mothers of America was founded and granted its charter in September, 1942. During World War II there were approximately 130 members.

The Mothers, strictly a non-profit organization, obtain all funds through sponsorship of public events, using profits to benefit those in the service now or in the past.

Throughout the years of the group's existence no area serviceman, regardless of where stationed in the world, has been forgotten at Christmastime, reports their spokesman, Mrs. Harry L. Schultz.

UNION LAKE—Mr. and Mrs. George J. Lupear Jr. of 8125 Marshalsea, Union Lake, have announced the recent marriage of their daughter, Jean, to Robert Harris of Union Lake. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Janet Hunt of 264 Farnsworth, Union Lake and A. A. Harris of Lake Orion.

★ ★ ★

Following the marriage rites, the couple left for a northern honeymoon. They will make their home at Walled Lake.

Coty Consults Political Leaders

France Seeks Premier

PARIS (INS) — President Rene Coty today began consultations with political leaders in an effort to find a new French government to succeed that of Premier Guy Mollet.

★ ★ ★

The resignation of the Socialist Premier last night, following a decisive defeat in the National Assembly, led to fears among American sources that there would be an indefinite delay in efforts to strengthen Western Europe through unity.

The first party leader Coty saw was Jacques Duclos, boss of the French Communists. There was no possibility that a Communist-led cabinet would be formed but the Reds are the largest party in the assembly.

By tradition, the President sees party leaders in the order of their parliamentary voting strength.

★ ★ ★

The Coty-Duclos meeting followed conferences between the President and Andre Le Troquer, speaker of the Assembly; Gaston Monneville, president of the Council of the Republic; Albert Sarraut, president of the French Union Assembly; and Emile Roche, president of the Economic Council.

Women Voters Elect Officials for New Year

LAPEER—Announcement of officers and committee chairmen of the League of Women Voters was announced at a recent meeting as follows: Margaret Caffall, president; Mrs. Ethelbert Thomas, secretary; Mrs. Howard Kurtz, treasurer. Mrs. B. A. Stone heads the nominating committee for 1958.

Also elected were Mrs. Richard J. Bahls, first vice president, and Mrs. Donald D. Kay, second vice president.

Woman Finds Rattler Lounging in Her Back Yard

Although the recent "cold spell" has left most of the area's residents longing for sunshine and balmy breezes, Mrs. Kathrine M. Ellibee, of 6556 Northview Dr., Clarkston, is one human who will never again begrudge the weather man his frequent "May chills."

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, as she was running a lawnmower around the corner of her front porch, she bent down to grab a clump of long grass the mower couldn't reach. There in the grass, only inches from her hand, lay a rattlesnake, coiled for action.

Luckily, all the action that occurred was Mrs. Ellibee's hasty retreat. The reptile, while eyeing her and flicking its tongue, neither emitted a rattle nor did it strike. In warmer weather it most likely would have done both, but chilly weather acts to slow rattlesnakes down.

After calling for her daughter, Judith, 15, to confirm her belief that it was a rattler, they called over their next door neighbor, Ted Moore, who killed it with a hoe. The snake carried seven rattles.

★ ★ ★

So far, the Ellibees, in their one-and one-half years at this residence have averaged one rattler per year. Last spring, husband Keith killed one in their back yard with a shotgun.

Draw Up Limits on Aerial Warfare

LUZERN, Switzerland (AP) — Experts in Geneva have drawn up new international rules to limit effects of aerial warfare, Prof. Leopold Boissier, president of the International Red Cross Committee, told Rotarians today.

★ ★ ★

He told the convention of Rotary International the rules, to be submitted to all governments and national Red Cross associations at a conference next fall, had three main aims.

★ ★ ★

As one aim, aerial warfare must be restricted to certain limits imposed by the needs of mankind. Belligerent nations must restrict their operations to destruction of the enemy's military power and leave the civilian population out of range.

Destroying Stack Costs More Than Building It

MOBERLY, Mo.(AP)—The Missouri Power & Light Co. built a smokestack at its plant here in 1921, but the stack no longer is in use and the company decided to dismantle it.

★ ★ ★

Cost of building the stack was $8,740. The cost of tearing it down is $13,470.

Defends Defense Costs

NEW YORK (INS)—Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Nathan F. Twining, speaking on defense costs, said: "Ten per cent of our gross national product does not seem an excessive price for the security of the other 90 per cent, not to mention American lives."

TV Quiz Program Decides It Made Boner on $73,500

NEW YORK (INS) — Television quiz program "Twenty-One" has decided it made a $73,500 boner and contestant Jim Snodgrass—who lost a chance at that amount with a "wrong" answer—was right after all.

Snodgrass was declared wrong Monday night in his answer to a biology question and was ruled defeated on the quiz program, and given a $3,500 consolation award.

★ ★ ★

Told of the reverse decision this morning, the lanky artist who likes to paint "luscious" nudes said:

"Well, what do you know . . .

"This means I probably won't get to work now for a couple of weeks. Last night I was rather relieved to be off the program."

Dna Enright of the show's producers, Barry and Enright, said that the shows' authority, the Encyclopedia Britannica, had ruled Snodgrass right in his answer.

★ ★ ★

Shooting for 21 points at $3,500 a point, Snodgrass had been asked to name the five groups of bones in the spinal column.

He replied first "sacrum," and was stopped by M.C. Jack Barry who ruled the answer incorrect. He said it should have been "sacral."

Medical researcher Hank Bloomgarden, who already had won $52,500, then was asked the same question and his answers—cervical, thoracic, lumbar, sacral and coccyx—were ruled correct and he was declared the winner, to put his total winnings at $126,000.

The show's producers were meeting with NBC officials to decide what should be done to correct the mistake.

Two Ferndale Youths Plead Guilty to Charge

FERNDALE—Two youths Melvin Roy Randall, 20 and Thomas Matthew, 19, both of Ferndale, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Balogh in Miami Beach, Florida, Feb. 6.

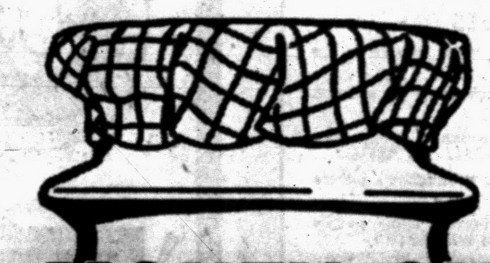

The two herded Mrs. Balogh and two children into the bathroom, holding Balogh at bay while they ransacked the house.

Pontiac Press Photos by Tom Gerla

General Motors Girls' Club members entertained their bosses at the annual dinner meeting held last night at Devon Gables. From Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors Corporation were (standing, left) R. L. Norris of Bloomfield Hills and (right) J. H. Shimmick of Berkley. Mrs. Harry Dernberger of LeBaron avenue, W. M. Wagner of Birmingham and Mrs. Frank Jalosky of Drayton Plains were photographed (seated, left to right).

GM Girls Turn Tables, Give Orders to Bosses

One-hundred and eighty members of the General Motors Girls' Club and their bosses gathered at Devon Gables Tuesday evening for the annual Bosses' Night dinner.

★ ★ ★

General chairman of the event was Shirley Taylor, assisted by Mrs. Robert Terry and Arlene Newcombe.

Invitations were handled by Margaret Mitchell and Miss Newcombe, and Mrs. Harry Dernberger was in charge of decorations. Programs were arranged by Betty Lou DeGroot, and Mrs. Terry purchased prizes.

New officers announced were Margaret Francis, president; Arlene Newcombe, vice president; Norma Kirchmeyer, secretary, and Mrs. George Wilmot, treasurer.

Retiring President Laura Bowmaster was presented with a gift from the group.

Speaker was Kenneth E. Commons, assistant special agent in charge of the United States Department of Justice, Detroit Bureau. Mr. Commons told the group that investigative work is divided into two classifications — federal criminal law and security law (defense of country).

★ ★ ★

Although this department is concerned with who committed the crime, Mr. Commons said that it is impossible to deal with this kind of thing without forming some observations and ideas which generally apply to all individuals who seek to make their living at crime.

Common traits he said are aversion to honest labor and no sense of moral responsibility.

He pointed out that there is the "elite" criminal, the confidence-man type whose idea is to outsmart. This type considers using guns and weapons a lowly form of crime, a criminal without "wits."

★ ★ ★

Their stories and the stories of their victims are the most interesting in the annals of crime, the speaker noted. He also pointed out that the victim usually is in it to gain something—has a little larceny in mind at the time.

COST OF CRIME

The crime bill in the United States in one year alone is 20 billion dollars, the speaker pointed out, and he said this amounts to $400 per year for each American home.

★ ★ ★

Concluding, Mr. Commons said that many fugitives have been apprehended through the help of private citizens.

The invocation was sung by Barbara Peters accompanied by Mrs. Paul Colton.

Fisher Body Division of General Motors Corporation was represented by J. M. Forrest of Detroit (who just could not resist a little piano playing before dinner), Ralph Dawe of Osceola drive and Shirley Taylor of Drayton Plains. Miss Taylor was general chairman of the event.

Thick Skin Is Needed in Politics

Mrs. Lee Advises Women to Accept Defeat Gracefully

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Dorothy McCullough Lee, chairman of the Subversive Activities Control Board, commands a salary of $20,000 a year and is the highest paid woman member of the Eisenhower administration. She advises women running for public office: "Keep your femininity."

★ ★ ★

"But develop immunity to personal criticism," she warns. "Don't take defeat at the polls as a personal failure. Men don't."

Out in Oregon, where her 28 years of public service began with a law practice in Portland and where she served 15 years in the State Legislature and later as Portland's first woman mayor, she explained:

"If a man loses a race, he says the people of Oregon don't know what a splendid opportunity they lost by not electing him."

★ ★ ★

"Frankly," she added, "I approve of the man's point of view in this matter."

CHANCES MISSED

She would like to see more women run for public office, American women, she thinks, are not using their opportunities to the fullest in a great many cases.

★ ★ ★

Women's failure to advance in many fields, she says, is primarily due to the fact they "have allowed themselves to become victims of a fear that their sensitive feelings might be bruised if they pushed out into less conventional fields."

Mrs. Lee, accompanied by her husband, an oil company executive, W. Scott Lee, and her two adopted children, David Scott Lee and Priscilla, came to Washington in 1953 when she was appointed to the U.S. Board of Parole.

She joined the Subversive Activities Control Board in September 1956.

★ ★ ★

You don't always spot the big shots at their government posts or on the party circuit.

Gen. Alfred Gruenther, head of the American Red Cross; Cambodia's agile little ambassador, Nong Kimny; handsome Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla); Mrs. Paul Douglas, wife of the Democratic senator from Illinois, and Col. Bill Thompson, USMC, are just a few.

Oakland Hills Plans Saturday Festivities

Oakland Hills Country Club announces a Memorial Day dinner-dance Saturday at the club, with dinner being served from 8 p.m. and dancing from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Memorial Day activities will include the opening of the pool, a tennis program and special golf events. The regular Friday dinner-dance is scheduled for May 31.

Floyd Bosserdet of Oriole road finds the tables turned—the office secretaries gave the orders Tuesday night. Bosses were commanded to appear for dinner and hear how GM girls contribute to civic interests. Photographed with him were Mrs. George Wilmot (left) of East Beverly avenue and Laura Bowmaster of East boulevard, employes of Plant 4, General Motors Truck and Coach Divisin.

Woman's Club Chooses New Officers

Mrs. Clarence W. Myers was elected president of Pontiac Woman's Club at the annual meeting and election of officers held Tuesday at Rotunda Inn.

★ ★ ★

Serving with Mrs. Myers are Mrs. Harry G. Stowell, first vice president; Mrs. Erving Zuehlk, second vice president; Mrs. Earl Hoskins, recording secretary; Mrs. George Crisman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ray Haertter, financial secretary; Mrs. C. A. Coons, treasurer, aand Mrs. Leon Vogel, auditor.

Also serving are Mrs. C. W. Mossey, reporter; Mrs. Turris McCully, alternate; Mrs. Joseph Panter, parliamentarian; Mrs. Myers, delegate to state convention; Mrs. Harry G. Stowell, alternate; Mrs. Myers, delegate to southeastern district, and Mrs. Stowell, alternate.

Mrs. Robert Bogg of the Story Tellers League entertained with several stories during the program portion of the meeting. Among the stories told were "Whip It Up," a humorous type, "The Madonna," a serious type, and "Silvers," a true story.

★ ★ ★

A gift was presented to Mrs. I. M. Lewis, retiring president.

Cochairmen for the meeting were Mrs. Frank Kuhn and Mrs. Charles Lloyd.

Serving on the committee were Mrs. James Gilchrist, Mrs. E. E. Johnston, Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Arthur Nicholie, Mrs. Erving Zuehlke and Mrs. William Mustard.

Journalist Talks at TBI Meeting

Denis Hawker, visiting journalist from Hobart, Tasmania, Australia, spoke at the Saturday meeting of the TBI Club. Mrs. Ross Boyd opened her home on North Perry street for the meeting. Mrs. Boyd was presented with a gift on her retirement as a teacher at the Pontiac Business Institute.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Hawker told of the similarity between the governments of Australia and the United States and told how women hold high offices as mayors of cities and as members of the Cabinet in Australia.

★ ★ ★

Guests were Mildred Gingell, Mrs. Robert Hargiss, Mrs. Robert Niendstedt and Mrs. John Lessiter.

Bridal Shower Honors Jane Flynn

Jane Flynn was the honoree at a kitchen shower Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Donald Barker of Menominee road. Mrs. Stanley Barker and Mrs. Earl Barker assisted the hostess.

★ ★ ★

Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Flynn of West Walton boulevard, is the bride-elect of Donald T. Porter, son of Mrs. Mary Earle of North Saginaw street and Thomas Porter of Willard street. The couple will exchange vows July 13 at Central Methodist Church.

Decorations in the Barker home followed a springtime theme with bouquets of spring flowers on the refreshment table.

Wear Orlon Suits, Can Be Damp-Dried

Unlined summer wash and wear suits of orlon, dacron or blends may be damp-dried in your automatic dryer. Follow manufacturer's instructions for heat setting and drying time.

Place several dry turkish towels with the suit to absorb excess moisture. Don't overdry. This sets wrinkles.

Metropolitan Units Gather for Dinner

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Metropolitan Club Spirit Six sponsored a cooperative dinner for several adjoining auxiliaries at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building. Guests attended from Birmingham, Avondale and Waterford auxiliaries.

Mrs. Ann Southworth, a teacher, and Ruth Ricker, a worker at the Penrickton Nursery, showed pictures and explained the work of the nursery.

Arranging the recent joint dinner were Mrs. Merrill Petrie, Mrs. John Schroeder, Mrs. Omer Winton and Mrs. Park Nique.

Golden Age Has Picnic in Franklin

Mrs. Donald Hogue opened her Franklin home Tuesday to members of the YWCA Golden Age Group, who gathered for a picnic. Mrs. Jean Strong was a guest and Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh was welcomed as a new member.

Special tribute was paid to members who celebrated birthdays since the last meeting.

Honored were Mrs. A. H. Austin, Mrs. H. S. Griswold, Mrs. G. E. Haviland, Mrs. H. M. Learned, Mrs. Leroy Shafer, Mrs. William Todd, Mrs. I. A. Woodard, Mrs. Lola Burrell, Mrs. Laurette Gierhart, Mrs. Gilman A. Green, Mrs. Carrie Heath, Mrs. Lizzie Rich, Mrs. H. J. Sampson, Mrs. Nellie Williams and Mrs. Lillie Caldwell.

A corsage was presented to Mrs. Griswold, one of the older members of the group.

During the afternoon program an original poem was recited by Mrs. Viola Chapel. Other poems were read by Mrs. Schafer and Mrs. Nettie Carr. Members participated in a community sing.

Mary Joann Whisnant and David Ray Stewart exchanged vows Saturday in All Saints Episcopal Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Whisnant of Gerdon avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton R. Stewart of Davison are David's parents.

MR. and MRS. DAVID R. STEWART

Mary Whisnant Marries

All Saints Episcopal Church was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Mary Joann Whisnant and David Ray Stewart. Two hundred guests heard the Rev. C. George Widdifield read the 7 o'clock ceremony.

Mary Joann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Whisnant of Gerdon avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton R. Stewart of Davison are David's parents.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white taffeta fashioned with lace applique at the bodice. The princess lines of the skirt were accented by a bustle effect at the back that extended into a cathedral-length train.

A shell cap of lace secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion, and she carried a white orchid and stephanotis on her prayerbook.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Winford Bottom attended the bride as matron of honor. Virginia Hurd and Diane Madsen were the other attendants.

Their identical gowns were of aqua and white nylon chiffon. Large aqua bows accented their white lace hats. Each carried a cascade arrangement of shattered carnations.

FLOWER GIRL

Preceding the bride to the altar was Janis Bottom who served as flower girl. Her white frock was trimmed in aqua. Rickey Bottom performed the duties of ringbearer.

Lt. (j.g.) Gerald L. Atkinson of Oceana, Va., served as best man. Seating the guests were Roderick Slater and Winfred Bottom.

Mrs. Whisnant was wearing a gray lace gown over pink taffeta as she greeted her guests at the reception held in the Rose Kneale Room following the ceremony. Pink accessories and a corsage of carnations completed her costume.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Stewart chose a dress of navy blue silk with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

★ ★ ★

For traveling the bride changed to a navy blue suit with navy blue and white accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will reside on Tubbs road.

MR. and MRS. W. E. GALLADAY

Married Saturday were Nila Jean LeMonde and William Edward Galladay. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Niles LeMonde of Mount Clemens street and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Galladay of Lake Orion.

Nila J. LeMonde Speaks Vows in Double-Ring Rite

In a double-ring ceremony performed Saturday afternoon at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Nila Jean LeMonde became the bride of William Edward Galladay. The Rev. George Mahder officiated.

★ ★ ★

The bridal gown was of satin and lace with a fitted bodice fashioned with a Sabrina neckline. The hand-tapered sleeves were trimmed with iridescent sequins and the floor-length skirt of tulle had an overskirt of lace.

A fingertip veil fell from the bride's cap of lace accented with iridescent sequins. A white orchid, stephanotis and white roses comprised the bridal bouquet.

Nila, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Niles LeMonde of Mount Clemens street, asked Patricia Schultz to serve as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Judy Perry and Sue Wightman.

★ ★ ★

The attendants wore gowns of dotted nylon with taffeta collars in blue, pink and maize, respectively. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of carnations, pompons and roses.

Clarence Baker served as William's best man. William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Galladay of Lake Orion.

Ushers were David Galladay and Morton LeMonde.

For the reception held in the church parlors, the bride's mother chose a beige and brown ensemble with a corsage of green cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Galladay wore an orchid-colored dress with white accessories and a corsage of cream-colored cymbidum orchids.

Following the reception, the couple left for a honeymoon in northern Michigan and Canada.

Leaders Installed by Beta Sigma Phi

Zeta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority installed officers at the recent mother and daughter cooperative dinner held at the East Pike street home of Mrs. Thomas Mosley.

Mrs. C. M. Shelton is president of the group, Mrs. Burt Rockwell, vice president; Mrs. Thomas Bickley, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard L. Smith, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Clyle Haskill, treasurer.

Attending mothers received baskets of flowers from their daughters.

Phyllis Coon's Becomes Bride in Baptist Service

Phyllis Irene Coons became the bride of Rodney Frederick Attwater Saturday evening at Marlmont Baptist Church. Phyllis is the daughter of Mrs. Frank I. Coons of North Telegraph road and the late Mr. Coons. Rodney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Attwater of Inverness avenue.

★ ★ ★

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white tulle over satin with a full skirt accented with side panels of lace. The bodice was of lace and the skirt extended into a chapel train.

A pill-box type headpiece of pearls and rhinestones secured her fingertip veil. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid and lilies-of-the-valley. Phyllis' uncle, J. Arthur Brockie, gave her in marriage.

Mrs. James Winn of Chicago wore a gown of green crystalette with a light green trim. Nancy Attwater, sister of the bridegroom, and Naoma Hergert of Jonesville, cousin of the bride, wore light green crystalette with a deeper green trim.

★ ★ ★

Russell Attwater was his brother's best man, and ushers were James Winn of Chicago, Raymond Attwater, William Devine of Holly and Ethan Rodgers Jr.

For the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. Coons chose a blue cupioni silk dress with pink accessories. Mrs. Attwater wore a beige linen and lace dress with pink accessories.

The bride changed to a biege linen sheath with a cocoa-colored coat for traveling.

Joyce Mary Eiter became the bride of Anthony Joseph Pfeiffer Saturday. The bride is the daughter of Henry O. Eiter of Murphy avenue and the late Mrs. Eiter. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph L. Pfeiffer of Garden court are his parents.

MR. and MRS. ANTHONY PFEIFFER

Joyce M. Eiter Repeats Vows in St. Michael Rite

The Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly celebrated the Solemn High Mass at the Saturday wedding of Joyce Mary Eiter and Anthony Joseph Pfeifferin St. Michael Church.

★ ★ ★

Joyce is the daughter of Henry O. Eiter of Murphy avenue and the late Mrs. Eiter. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph L. Pfeiffer of Garden court are Anthony's parents.

For her wedding Joyce wore a floor-length gown of gossamer nylon tulle over taffeta. The bodice and long sleeves were accented with flowerettes of Venice lace scattered with iridescents.

A shell cap of nylon bows secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion, and she carried an arrangement of orchids, carnations and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was matching pearl earrings and necklace.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Norman R. Ream served her sister as matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Leonard D. Ward, sister of the bride; Mrs. Marvin E. Holler, sister of the bridegroom, and Darleen M. Farrell, Geraldine Pfeiffer, sister of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid.

ORCHID AND GREEN

The attendants wore ballerina-length gowns of white nylon eyelet over taffeta. The honor attendant's gown was of orchid taffeta while the other attendants wore mint green. Matching sashes gave a butterfly effect to the back of the gowns.

★ ★ ★

White floral headpieces and white gloves completed their costumes. Each attendant carried bouquets of carnations in shades matching her gown.

Kathleen Pfeiffer, sister of the bridegroom, wore a gown identical to the honor attendant's for her duties as flower girl.

Ringbearers were R. Paul Pfeiffer and Daniel L. Ward.

★ ★ ★

Peter A. Pfeiffer, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Seating the guests were Marvin E. Holler, Frank H. Pfeiffer and Lewis E. Hyde.

GOWNED IN BLUE

For her son's wedding Mrs. Pfeiffer chose a blue print dress with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

A breakfast for members of the wedding party and their families was served at Rotunda Inn immediately following the ceremony. An evening reception was held at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

For the wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the bride changed to a two-piece green ensemble with black and white accessories. She wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

On returning the newlyweds will reside in Waterford.

Imagination Can Be Curse or Boon

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Most personality characteristics are two-edged swords. If they are used productively, they can make you enormously successful and happy; used unproductively, they can keep you an unhappy failure.

★ ★ ★

This is truest of all, it seems to me, when it comes to the quality known as imagination.

Theresa is an example that I will never forget. I first met Theresa a couple of years ago, when she was an unhappy secretary, living in a kind of borderland between reality and unreality.

Theresa's trouble, to put it mildly, was that she daydreamed all the time.

"I can't help it," she told me, when we were discussing a career change. "I hate my job, and it bores me, but I haven't any qualifications for advancing. I haven't many friends and I have already done everything you can do to fix up a furnished room.

"So I just sit by the hour, knitting and listening to music on the radio, and daydreaming about the day I'll be married, or have a fabulous career, be wealthy and famous."

WASTING ENERGY

Here was a girl letting her imagination drain her energy, so that she was unable to make a single step toward getting a better job, a better social life or both.

★ ★ ★

I suggested that she try to train her imagination to be her friend instead of her enemy. I tried to get her to get out more often.

I suggested that she think about making some kind of knitted product that she could sell.

After all, if she was going to spend all that time knitting, anyway, she might as well make some money at it.

It wasn't easy, but she did begin to go out and browse around the knit shops and the art needlework departments of her local stores.

She became quite interested in it, as a matter of fact, and one day announced that she could do every bit as well as a lot of them. Still, of course, the habit of daydreaming was a hard one to break.

DREAMS UP IDEAS

"But now," she told me, "I try to switch my mind. When I find myself up to the old tricks, I try to pull my mind back to my knitting and train my imagination to dream up some accessory."

★ ★ ★

Eventually, Theresa came up with a cute toy, which a shop in her town is selling.

She is still in her boring job, but she is spending her evenings and weekends with her toy-production and making nice extra money.

Eventually she'll be able to have a little home business of her own and then, perhaps, some of her dreams can come true. But her imagination was allowed to run wild for so long, that getting it trained will take time.

GLAMOUR

The word glamour has been tossed around since the beginning of time. Cleopatra had it, every woman wants it, but few have a clear idea of what it is.

We believe that glamour becomes a part of the woman who has confidence in herself. Self confidence is a many sided attribute and cannot be completely obtained by outward adornments. When a woman realizes that she looks her best she feels lovely . . . and this gives her a certain sparkle. She radiates warmth and friendliness to those around her . . . and presto, she is glamorous.

In this marvelous age, experts are solving practically all our problems. Glamour begins in your life when you look at yourself realistically and decide to improve. The first step is a check up by your doctor, find out for sure the condition of your health and do what is necessary to improve it. A new hair do, now, will perk you up and help you start on that self-improvement program. We would like to help you.

Take Weekend Jaunt for Variety

How About Restful Home Vacation?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If you feel you cannot afford the expense of a long trip this summer, or if you need rest rather than travel, perhaps a vacation at home is your very best bet. The results will be much more satisfactory than huffing and puffing and straining against adverse financial and physical odds.

★ ★ ★

You may find that you prefer to spend a smaller amount of money for a wading or splashing pool or sprinklers and bright beach umbrellas for your backyard, or an air conditioner for a room in your house.

Maybe nothing seems so appealing as not having to do anything or go anywhere. A vacation is not restful when one must meet deadlines or feel under pressure of any sort.

The woman in the picture probably would enjoy this, too, if she had more household help than usual. She would find it a restful experience to have someone cook dinner and care for the children during her husband's time away from the office. That way both could enjoy a vacation at home together.

★ ★ ★

You do not have to go thousands of miles away from home for a change of pace or a change of scenery. A weekend trip to a nearby city or resort (without the children) will cause you to discover one another as individuals, the more or less carefree sort you were before you married.

TIME ALONE

No matter how much parents love their children they owe it to themselves to have some time alone. Your children are only leased to you. Before you know it they will be gone and must be free to lead their own lives. You do them a favor as well as yourselves when you keep in sight the picture of you as a couple.

★ ★ ★

There are undoubtedly parks, rivers, lakes, brooks, or woods nearby you, even if you do not live close to the sea or the mountains. Take advantage of the outdoors even if you remain at home this hot season.

Remember, too, that you can get as good a suntan at home in your own backyard as you can 5,000 miles away.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Tricks in Camping" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 69 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Peg-Top Skirts Have Softer Look

Slim skirts, softened with pegged tops derived from the Dutch-boy skirt, or with side draping, are important both for daytime and after-five. Well shaped, darted skirts with fullness restricted, but rounded over the hipline, follow the peg-line treatment with subtle and highly wearable effect.

Panels, pleats and gathered manipulation of fabric, overskirts and tunics are among the various "softening effects" given dress skirts.

Swags, harem hemlines, tunic flounces or "aprons" over slim sheaths, back fullness and panels have high fashion appeal in late day and evening styles.

Parfait Pie Is Creamy and Smooth

Mrs. Allen Adds Pint of Ice Cream to Gelatin Mix

By JANET ODELL

Strawberry Parfait Pie makes a wonderful dessert for informal entertaining. You can make it in the morning and serve it in the evening. Lay in a supply of frozen strawberries now and make this pie often in the coming months.

Today's cook is Mrs. Lynn Allen. The mother of one small daughter, Mrs. Allen's main outside interest is in the state and county Optometric Auxiliaries. She is a charter member of the newly formed county group.

In any spare time that Mrs. Allen has she likes to knit and to work on her hooked rugs.

STRAWBERRY PARFAIT PIE
By Mrs. Lynn Allen

1 prepared pie shell
1 small package frozen strawberries, drained
1 pint vanilla or strawberry ice cream
1 package strawberry gelatin
1½ cups berry juice or water (heat to boiling)

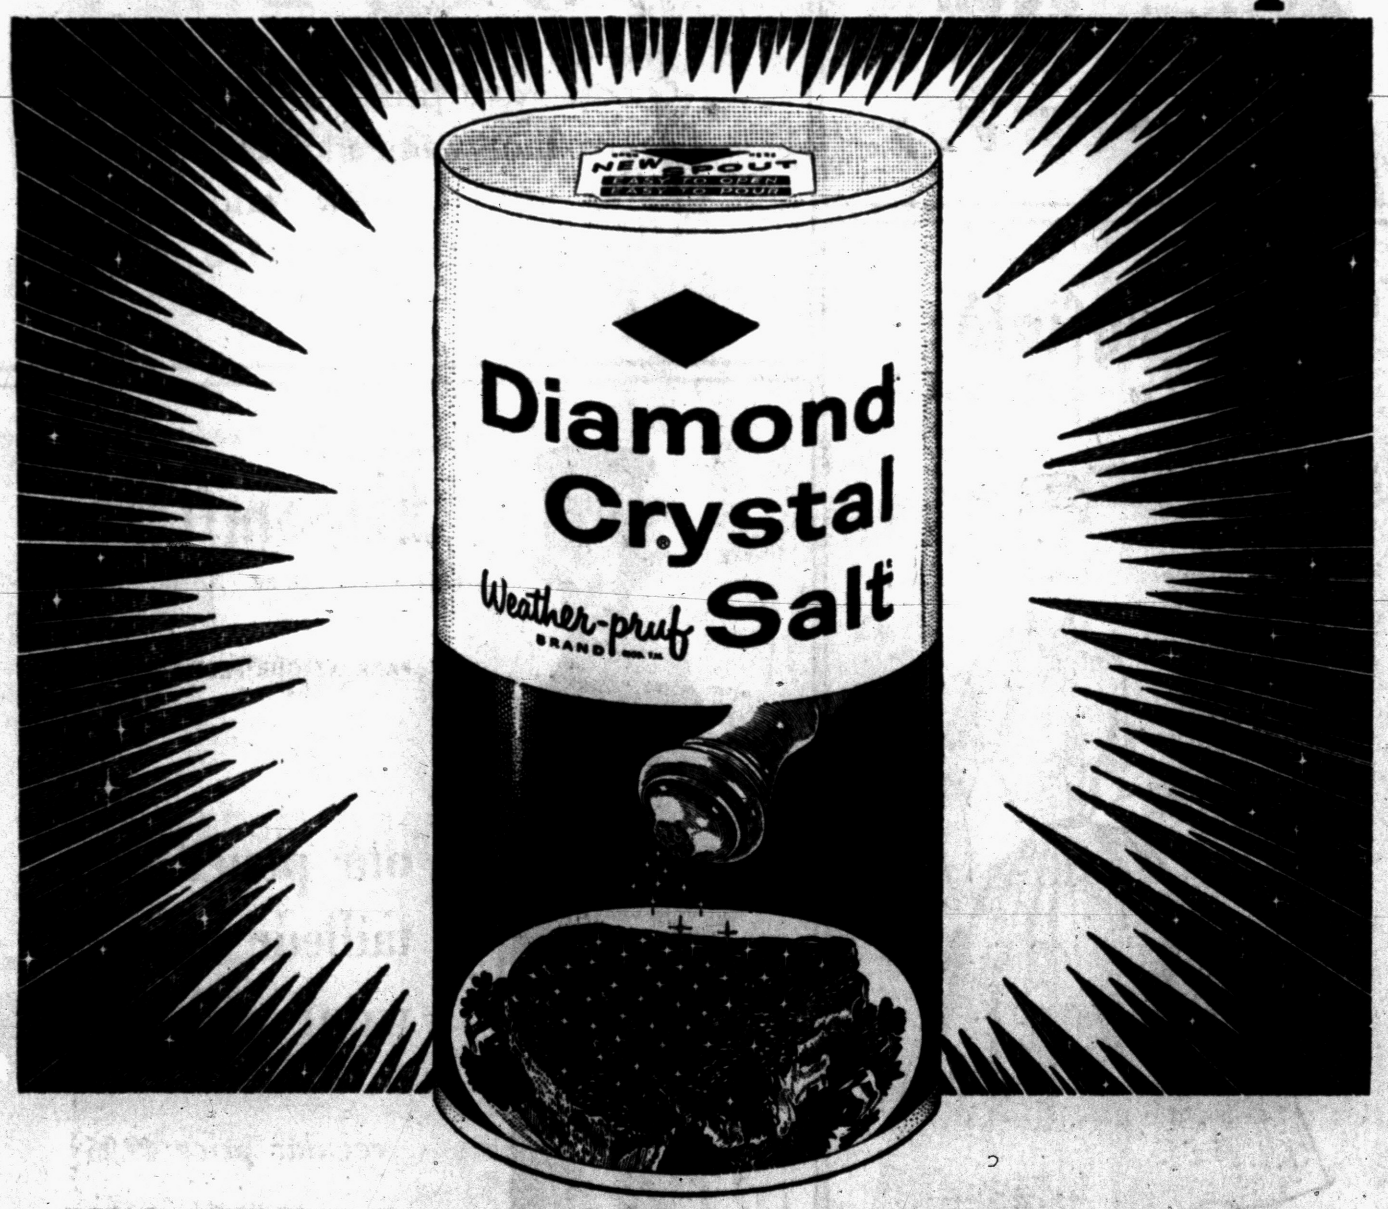

Dissolve gelatin in boiling liquid. Add ice cream and stir to melt. Chill until syrupy. Add drained berries. Pour into prepared crust and chill.

Wear Rubber Gloves

Hands that look like red lobsters embarrass the owner. Perhaps there has been too frequent exposure to overhot water. If you must work with water of very high temperatures, wear protective gloves.

Paul's Dad Phones, Consoles Trooper

DETROIT (UP) — A distraught father yesterday called the State Police trooper who shot and killed his 16-year-old son and told the officer "he shouldn't feel bad about it because he was only doing his duty."

The trooper, Norman Lee, 30, shot Paul R. Michalski Saturday while chasing the boy and a friend who were speeding away in a stolen car.

Paul's father, Chester, 43, called Lee "after I read that he was taking Paul's death very hard. I said he probably shouldn't have shot but he had no choice."

"I thought it was a very fine gesture on his part," Lee said. "He wanted to ease my burden. I really appreciated that because I knew how much heavier his burden was than mine."

Paul was buried yesterday in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Fijian villagers are becoming money-conscious for the first time, Suva reports.

Hollywood Headlines

MGM to Spend Millions Making 'Ben Hur' Movie

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The best proof I know that MGM is going all out for motion picture production again is the heartening news that "Ben Hur" will be made in a lavish production this summer in Rome with William Wyler replacing Sidney Franklin as producer-director.

What is more, I hear very subrosa that Burt Lancaster has been offered the lead, which means a participation deal. While Burt is making up his mind, Wyler will continue the tests to fill the other roles as soon as he returns from the Cannes Film Festival.

I have a hunch that if Burt accepts the Ben Hur role Tony Curtis will play Marcellus, and, of course, this expensive cast, plus Willie Wyler, means millions will be spent on the picture.

Ironic that in Cantinflas' own country, Mexico, "Around the World in 80 Days" has not been shown and won't be unless there is a change in the law.

One of the promises that helped get President Adolpho Cortines into office was that all theater admissions would be limited to four pesos, which amount to 32 cents in our money.

And, it's impossible to show as expensive a picture as "Around the World" at this price. An effort is being made by Cantinflas to change this law, and, of course, he has great standing in his country.

'DEMPSEY' SOUGHT

Some lucky unknown will play former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey in his life story, according to a letter Jack just wrote me. He said that he and Sam Wiesenthal have made a deal with Don R. Grimes' 6,000 food stores to install ballot boxes to nominate this unknown.

The winner must be between the ages of 19 and 25, weigh 185 pounds and stand 6 feet 1 inch. Says Jack in a postscript: "I'll have nothing to do with the final choice. The selection will be made by a specially appointed board."

I hope this search will bear fruit, because too often a search for an unknown fails dismally.

"If I'm good in 'Kiss Them for Me' with Cary Grant," Suzy Parker told me, "Buddy Adler is going to give me a very good role in '10 North Frederick' with Spencer Tracy." I was amused when she said, "if I'm good."

"Haven't they seen your rushes?" I wanted to know.

"Yes," she said, "but I didn't do my really big scene until yesterday and everyone is waiting for that."

I have a feeling she'll be very good because she has an alive, expressive face, and is so eager to make good. Suzy has a lot of people pulling for her, including the Harper's Bazaar staff and Vogue.

Some years ago in New York, Ted Peckham, a blond, slick-looking youth, rated headlines with his escort service, which provided dates for dateless femmes.

He did a flourishing business temporarily, then Anita Loos met him, discovered he could write, and Ted brought out two books, "Gentlemen for Rent" and "Grandma Rolled Her Own."

He is now in Hollywood conferring with Mary Anita Loos and Richard Sale about making either a motion picture or a TV show of the first book. Mary Anita said, "We want Cesar Romero for the lead."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Mitzi Gaynor, suddenly achieving real poise, was at the Buddy Adler soiree for the Josh Logans. The Coopers, the Gables and about 40 others welcomed the "South Pacific" producer.

Porfirio Rubirosa yearns to sing! He has informed Las Vegas that he has an act ready.

Alfred Vanderbilt, whom I've known for years, introduced me to his attractive bride of two months at La Rue, where they were having a dinner for two. I wonder how he keeps so young.

They're bringing out an album of Al Jolson duets with big stars. I believe I have the last recording he made from Korea when he did an interview on my radio show,

Regime in Haiti Facing Strike

Port au Prince Stoppage Threatening to Spread to Rest of Republic

By LARRY ALLEN

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UP)—Haiti's new military regime today faced a general strike in Port au Prince and the threat that the work stoppage might spread to the rest of the urbulent Negro republic.

An Army spokesman said troops would be used only if disorders developed.

It remained to be seen whether Haiti's politicians whose rivaly for the presidency has kept the country in turmoil for six months, could again paralyze the country.

Business establishments and the post office closed down in Port au Prince yesterday shortly after the army chief, Brig. Gen. Leon Cantave, 46, dissolved the Executive Council which had incurred growing opposition ever since leading presidential candidates chose it April 5 to rule the country.

★ ★ ★

Acting with the solid support of his army officers, Cantave declared the military was taking control to prevent anarchy and economic ruin. He pledged that the army would step out as soon as a provisional president is selected.

Cantave said a convention of leaders from all provinces will be called quickly to pick a provisional chief executive, the fourth temporary president since early December.

★ ★ ★

It appeared likely the presidential elections, first scheduled for April and now set for June 16, would be postponed again.

Prices Continue to Rise

Tax Cut Hope Flickers, Higher Spending Forecast

WASHINGTON (UP)—Hopes of a tax cut flickered today in the light of forecasts that higher government spending will cut a billion dollars off expected budget surluses in the next two years.

A staff report by House tax experts yesterday estimated government spending at 73 billion dollars for the year starting July 1 instead of the $71,800,000,000 President Eisenhower's January budget mentioned.

★ ★ ★

Despite Congress' current budget-cutting efforts, the report said price rises—which it indicated probably will continue—will "necessitate increases" in spending, especially for defense purposes.

★ ★ ★

Government income also will rise, the Ways and Means Committee staff predicted, but at a slower rate. As a result it estimated budget surpluses as of June 30 this year and the same date in 1958 at 500 million dollars each year below Eisenhower's January estimates.

These additional tax indicators also entered the picture:

1. Some top administration officials were represented by congressional sources as believing the 1957 Treasury surplus may be even smaller than estimated by the predicted $1,200,000,000 surplus some administration officials were said to look for a figure nearer one billion dollars—or 700 millions below January budget estimates.

★ ★ ★

2. A forthcoming report of the Senate-House economic committee is epected to stress the upward effect of inflationary pressures on future government spending despite budget cuts.

★ ★ ★

Key members of the House Ways and Means Committee, which initiates all tax legislation, were saying little but paying close attention to the estimates of their staff specialists.

The saff said appropriation cuts now being made by Congress undoubtedly will reduce 1958 spending below what it would be otherwise.

But it added that this year's appropriation cuts will not show up in spending to any great extent before 1959 "and later years."

Nonetheless, Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) said he sill looked for an individual tax cut effective next Jan. 1.

Thief Returns Money With Note of Apology

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UP) — Somebody robbed the cash register of a downtown dry cleaning establishment last Saturday. Later owner Paul Divers received a note of apology. The note said:

"Ever since Saturday I've been a nervous wreck. I'm sorry for what happened. I hope you will forgive me."

With the note Divers received $28 in cash. He said the cash register checked out $27.80 short after the robbery.

The Dominican Republic now requires import permits for air-conditioning units.

Bunning Goes 13 Innings, Tigers Win in 16th, 2-1

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jim Bunning has convinced manager Jack Tighe of one thing — the Detroit Tiger boss need never fear his 25-year-old righthander hasn't the stamina to last a full game.

The 185-pound, 6-foot-3 Bunning went 13 innings in a pitchers' duel against veteran Ray Moore of the Baltimore Orioles last night and gave up only 10 hits and a single run before Reno Bertoia was hauled from his hip pads and linament rubs to pinch hit in the fourteenth inning.

The ailing Reno, who was out of the lineup with a strained shoulder tendon, struck out the first time up but came around in the sixteenth inning and singled home Paul Foytack with the winning run as the Tigers edged the Orioles, 2-1, in the near 4½ hour contest.

Bunning's performance proved his showing against Boston last week was no fluke when he allowed only fivehits and fanned Ted Williams three times.

The veteran Moore, with a 7-1 lifetime record against the Tigers, gave up eight hits in 15 innings and walked home a Detroit run in the sixth inning.

Bunning, who has been bounced from starter to reliefer and back to starter, was elevated from the bull pen last week because of the failure of rookie Don Lee to come through as hoped and because of the time it was taking for Billy Hoeft's arm to heal.

Back in the days when Tighe figured to use the Kentucky-born Bunning only in relief he had said, "I just don't think Jim is strong enough to go nine innings."

Tighe was singing another tune today. "There's no doubt in my mind now," he declared. "Bunning showed he has the stuff to hold up."

It was Paul Foytack who went in for Detroit in the 14th inning, however, who was credited with the victory. He gave up only one hit in the three innings he pitched — a double to Jim Brideweser in the fifteenth.

And it was Foytack who came in with the winning run after singling to right off reliefer Mike Forniels, who took the loss.

Tighe later explained he went to Foytack last night because he "figures my starters are young enough to go a few innings besides their regular turns."

★ ★ ★

The marathon contest was Detroit's longest of this season. It marked the setting of a new Major League record by Baltimore second baseman Bill Gardner who had 12 putouts. A number of players including Detroit's Charlie Gehringer, shared the old record at 11.

Moore accounted for Baltimore's sole run in the tird inning when he homered into the leftfield stand. Moore, who has hit three homers for Baltimore this year, also slammed out a single in the 10th inning.

Detroit scored its only run during regulation time when Moore walked Earl Torgeson with the bases loaded. The Tigers had set it up when with one out, Charlie Maxwell walked, Al Kaline doubled and Frank House was passed intentionally.

Hoeft, who won his first game of the season last week after being sidelined with a sore arm, faces Art Ceccarelli when Detroit meets Baltimore tonight.

Three-Way Battle

Northern Wins Undergraduate Meet

In the final track and field action of 1957 for Pontiac High School's state champions, on Tuesday, the Chiefs were delegated to 3rd place, back of Flint Northern and Flint Central. Event was the annual Saginaw Valley undergraduate meet, held on Central's field.

Vikings emerged victors in a hot, three-way battle between the eventual winners, Indians and Chiefs. Northern clinches the win with first place in the last four events. Pontiac was shut out of all four but the 880-yard relay. They were 4th in this event.

Northern captured seven firsts, shared in another. They were especially strong in the dashes and hurdles, in the shot and relays (Vikings won both relays). Central and Pontiac each had three firsts, but Indians took their edge with seconds in the relays.

The scoring:

Northern, 58½, Central 47½, Pontiac 43½, Saginaw 25, Bay City Central 17½ and Arthur Hill 9.

Roger Coats, Larry Beamer and Fred Brooks accounted for the PHS wins, in the mile, half-mile and high jump, respectively. John Phlegm chased Northern's Gillard closely in the two hurdle tests, while Charley Barge and Dave Payne had seconds in the high jump and broad jump respectively. Jim Keller was 3rd, Beamer 5th in the broad jump. Keller was also 5th in the 100 and Jim Hawkins was 3rd in low hurdles. Arzo Carson and Robinson shared a 4th place tie in the high jump. Mike McClusky shared in a 3-way 4th place tie in the pole vault.

Summaries:

120 low hurdles—won by Gillard (N); 2nd Phlegm (P); 3rd Thompson (Bag); 4th Lindell (Bag.); 5th Dukes (Bag.) Time 15.45.

PCC Holds Up Code Changes

Still Studying Report on Violations; May Have Conclusion Today

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Still holding off on discussion of changes in its athletic code, the Pacific Coast Conference was winding up a study of violations of its present rules today and promised a report "when the study is complete."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Glenn Seaborg, of California, conference spokesman, described this spring session as "harmonious" and promised there would be "nothing startling" in the violations reports, which may come today.

Individual schools can be fined or reprimanded for unauthorized proselyting of athletes.

★ ★ ★

But the main business of the spring meeting—now half gone—is the consideration of changes in the code which now permits the schools to provide free tution for athletes and give them campus jobs paying up to $100 a month.

★ ★ ★

Several of the schools are seeking a switch to the "full ride," under which an athlete would be given books, tuition, board, room and perhaps a little spending money. With a number of members strongly opposed to the idea, a deadlock is in prospect.

Central Blanks Chief Nine 3-0

Although Pontiac High nine had runners on the basepaths several times in yesterday's SVC game at Wisner Field, they couldn't get them home, and thereby lost a 3-0 tilt to Flint Central.

Indians' hurler, Waldron, let Pontiac down with only three hits, Johnson's 1st inning double, Griffith's single in the 5th and Hayward's safety in the 6th. Central got seven off Zellhart and Kendall, including two by Maynie.

Indians collected their tallies in the first (two) and the sixth. All were unearned, errors being responsible in each case. PHS committed five bobbles, Central only one.

Lopez Makes Good as Prophet

Sizzling Hose Keep Rolling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago White Sox, with an eight-game winning streak, a two-game lead in the American League race and their first triumph of the season over the New York Yankees, are making Manager Al Lopez look like a first class prophet.

★ ★ ★

In spring training interviews Lopez steadfastly disagreed with those who saw nothing but a Yankee runaway. He listed as serious contenders not only his White Sox but Cleveland, Detroit and Boston. He felt his team had the best chance to dethrone the Yankees because of its speed and pitching, headed by Billy Pierce, his personal nominee to win 20 again this year.

★ ★ ★

Last May 5 after the Yankees had swept a three-game series in Chicago to wrest first place from the White Sox, Lopez vowed his team would start another winning streak and regain first place. Before last night's game at Yankee Stadium, the smiling senor, in an impromptu press interview, declared:

"The Yankees can be beaten and we're one of four teams that can do it. I think we have the pitching, speed, defense and sufficient hitting to win."

★ ★ ★

It's a long way to October but Lopez has nothing to apologize for today. His Whitet Sox are three games in front of the Yankees, whom they whipped 3-1 last night and dumped into third place, a game behind Cleveland. The Indians broke their second place tie with New York, defeating the Boston Red Sox 8-2 in an afternoon game.

★ ★ ★

Pierce, ace White Sox southpaw, handcuffed the Yankees with four hits last night and struck out eight to post his sixth victory against two defeats. Billy did not permit a hit after the fourth inning, when the Yanks scored their lone run, and retired the last 16 Yankees.

Early Wynn's seven-hit pitching and Chico Carrasquel's grand slam homer highlighted Cleveland's victory in Boston. The Red Sox helped the Tribe with five errors, four in one inning, three of them by shortstop Billy Klaus.

★ ★ ★

It was a wretched afternoon for Klaus, who not only banged into a double play with the bases loaded, but was forced to leave the game in the seventh when he was hit under the right eye by Al Smith's grounder. Dave Sisler was the loser. The win was No. 5 for Early.

Tennis Tips by Rosewall

Get the Ball in Play on Easy Serve

(This is the second of four stories written especially for AP Newsfeatures by Ken Rosewall, National singles tennis champion.)

By KEN ROSEWALL
AP Newsfeatures

The big man has the advantage in tennis because he can get more arc and more speed on his service. But don't let that stop you from becoming a tennis player.

People have said my service looks unnatural compared to the serves of Pancho Gonzales, Jack Kramer, Frank Sedgman and Lew Hoad. That's because I lack the height and that puts me at a bit of a disadvantage.

What I've done is concentrate on a good medium serve.

The first thing to do in serving is to concentrate on getting the ball into play. After that the idea is to get forward body movement into your serve. Just as you learn to crawl before you walk, learn to get the ball over the net and into the court before you do anything else.

SERVE starts with ball held waist high and left side of body facing the net, says Ken Rosewall.

The left foot must be forward when serving and it must remain steady on the court when you come in contact with the ball. After practicing the serve you will naturally find good arm rhythm that will provide a good follow through.

★ ★ ★

Use the grip that feels most comfortable. Don't throw the racket at the ball but try to take a full backswing and a long follow through.

Be sideways to the net. This will help your follow through and you can get better body control this way.

Every tennis player hopes to be able to know about where his shot will land on the court. However, this is attainable only by practicing until footwork and body motion become second nature.

TOMORROW: Forehand and Backhand.

Male Sanctuary

Boston Writers Deny Press Box to Woman

BOSTON (AP) —Ladies, take heed. The baseball press box will remain a male sanctuary — in Boston, at least.

A vote of the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers Assn., yesterday denied Doris O'Donnell of the Cleveland News admission to the Fenway Park press box to cover the Indians-Boston Red Sox game.

Instead, the attractive brunette sat in a rooftop box seat on the left field side of home plate.

Miss O'Donnell is not the first woman sports writer by a long shot. But she holds some kind of distinction because she is traveling as a member of the Cleveland press on the team's current road trip.

★ ★ ★

"Why should things be any different just because this is baseball?," Miss O'Donnell asked.

"I've tested tanks for the Army. I've ridden an elephant in the circus. I've driven cabs. Last year, I went to Russia for the paper.

"And let me tell you it was easier to get inside the Kremlin than it is to get into a baseball press box.

"I sat in the press box in Baltimore and Washington," she said but admitted she couldn't crash the writer's roost at New York's Yankee Stadium.

★ ★ ★

"But I almost got in the dugout," she added. "I had (umpire-in-chief) Cal Hubbard's permission, but then I lost out."

Cleveland Manager Kerby Farrell has vetoed Miss O'Donnell's visit to the bench.

"It's no place for a lady," Farrell explained. "Somebody might let a few words slip. I know I've even picked up a few new ones since I've been managing this club."

★ ★ ★

Does she have any trouble with interviews?

"The ball players were standoffish at first," she admitted. "But they're accepting me. I got a box of candy from one of them."

Fluke Single Ruins Keith's No-Hit Bid

A fluke single in the 4th inning ruined a bid for a no-hitter by Harlan (Fat) Keith as Emmanuel Baptist trimmed Weldon-Thrifty, 6-1, in a Waterford League softball game Tuesday night at Drayton Plains.

Rival pitcher Wayne Jenks hit base-runner Dearborn with a ground ball for an automatic safety and Weldon-Thrifty's only hit. Keith struck out 16.

Holman made four hits in four trips to the plate and he and Springer each drove in two runs for the Baptist club.

Brooks Beat Redlegs to Gain Tie for 2nd

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Brooklyn Dodgers whipped Cincinnati 6-1 to tie Milwaukee for second place in the National League, a game and a half behind the front-running Redlegs.

Rain ended the Braves-Philadelphia game with the score tied at 1-1 after 5½ innings. The entire game will be replayed at a future date.

Home runs by Pee Wee Reese and Sandy Amoros and the eight-hit pitching of Johnny Podres, earned the Dodgers their fifth consecutive victory.

The Redlegs avoided a shutout when catcher Ed Bailey poked his third homer of the season in the second. Hal Jeffcoat was the loser.

★ ★ ★

Milwaukee's Gene Conley and Philadelphia's Don Cardwell went all the way in their abbreviated tie. Conley's single in the fifth drove in the tying run after Philadelphia had taken a 1-0 lead in the fourth.

Cal Neeman's pop single with two out in the ninth gave the Cubs their first Wrigley Field victory of the year. Two infield errors, a walk and Jack Littrell's single had tied the score before Neeman's game-winning hit.

Willie Mays accounted for two New York runs with his fifth homer and a steal of home. The loser was Stu Miller who permitted only three hits in 8 2-3 innings. Turk Lown, who relieved starter Dick Drott in the ninth, was the winner.

Day I Remember Most

(Another in a series of articles written especially for The Associated Press and the Press by Detroit Tiger players.)

By HARVEY KUENN

DETROIT (AP) — It was late September in 1954, my second full year in the major league, when I experienced my most memorable day in baseball.

There have been many thrills — like playing my first major league game, getting my first base hit, my first home run, and so forth. But that day near the end of the 1954 season was one peak I can't forget.

I was trying to reach the 200-hit circle for the second straight year and there were only two or three games left, as I recall. I needed one big day at the plate to do it.

Mike Garcia was pitching for the Cleveland Indians and I went into the game with 195 base hits. That day I went five-for-five off big Mike and reached the magic number of 200.

I had a little letdown after that, for I remember that on the final day of the season in Cleveland, we faced Garcia again — and I got only one hit in seven times at bat to finish with 201 hits.

Big 10 Opens Talks on Aid to Athletes

Athletic Bosses Want Revisions in Present Plan

Proposed Changes Will Be Offered to Faculty Heads This Weekend

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Big Ten athletic directors today open preliminary discussions on proposed modifications of the conference's new financial aid to athletes plan.

The proposals will be placed before faculty representatives who meet Friday and Saturday.

Unanimous approval is predicted for an amendment that would provide awards of board, room, books, tuition and fees — regardless of proven need of an athlete — to graduates in the upper quarter of their high school classes.

They would have to maintain a "B" average throughout college to remain eligible for such a grant.

★ ★ ★

Other proposed modifications include:

1. Make transfer students from junior colleges and perhaps even other colleges and universities immediately eligible for aid. Presently, transfer students can receive no aid during their first year of residence at a Big Ten school.

2. Remove some present restrictions on a coach's off-campus contacts with a prospective athlete after an athlete has declared his intention to enroll and accepted an offer of financial aid. A Big Ten coach currently is not permitted to have any off-campus contact before an athlete enrolls.

3. Equalize the differentials in college expenses at Big Ten schools without regard to need or scholarship requirements.

Football coaches yesterday postponed until the conference meetings in December the mapping of 1961-1962 football schedules.

GM Golfer Gets Ace at Twin Lakes Club

Third hole-in-one of the spring golfing season was fired yesterday afternoon at Twin Lakes course, west of Pontiac. Playing in the GMC Executive League, James Grimshaw banged a 5-iron shot into the cup on the 165-yard No. 4 green. Ace was Grimshaw's first.

Playing with the lucky shotmaker were Glenn O'Berry, Wilbur Summers and M. L. Hulla. Hole-in-one was the first at Twin Lakes this year.

Moore of UCLA Goes to Celtics

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Assn. have signed Johnny Moore, formerly a UCLA guard, to a contract for the 1957-58 season.

Moore was drafted by the Celtics in 1955. His signing was announced yesterday by Walter Brown, president of the world champions.

Moore is 6-5 and a native of Gary, Ind. he is the third newcomer to sign a contract following Sam Jones of North Carolina College and Maurice King of Kansas. Moore expects to complete his military service within the next month.

For the first time since 1952, Penn State will play 10 football games next fall.

Around the Prep Front

The Milford High School track team continues to dominate the Wayne-Oakland Conference.

Russ Gabier's Redskins conquered seven other league foes Tuesday under the lights at Milford to win their 3rd straight Wayne - Oakland track championship and their 4th in the last five years.

Milford won five events and piled up 63½ points to win the title handily. Northville compiled 36½ points for 2nd place, followed by Clarenceville with 29, Holly 26½, Clarkston 21, West Bloomfield 11, Bloomfield Hills 7½ and Brighton 4½.

Four new records were set in the annual league meet.

Bob Wagenschutz of Northville posted a new record in the 12-pound shot with a heave of 48 feet, 7 inches. His teammate, Bill Yahne, chalked up a new mark in the broad jump with a leap of 19 feet, 10½ inches.

Milford's Jerry Van Roessen pole-vaulted 11 feet, 3 inches for another record and Hawley of Holly set a mark in the half-mile run with a time of 2:08.3.

Del Munson and Bill Goan were other Milford winners and the Redskins also took both relays. Dick Biery and Yahne of Northville scored 13½ and 10½ points respectively.

Orchard Lake St. Mary's well-balanced track team defeated Servite yesterday 62⅔ to 46⅓. The Eaglet thinclads won seven events and slammed the shot put.

Pete Madelans was the Eaglets' top scorer with 10½ points. He won the high hurdles and tied the St. Mary school record in the sticks with a time of 15.9.

St. Mary concluded its dual meet season with a 5-3 record.

Berkley captured the Inter-Lakes golf crown for the 2nd year in a row yesterday at Pontiac Country Club. The Bears had a team score of 326.

Southfield, last year's co-champion, was 2nd with 341. Walled Lake scored 344, Waterford 367, Farmington 373 and Van Dyke 427. Barkley's Don Cochran was medalist with 73.

Waterford's baseball team erupted with four runs in the 6th inning to down Southfield, 4-2, in Inter-Lakes action. Chuck Gillis struck out 16 and allowed only four hits in pitching the distance for the Skippers.

Tom Estes hurled a six-hit shutout and scored the winning run himself on Fred Buesser's 6th-inning single as Birmingham nipped East Detroit, 1-0, in an Eastern Michigan League game.

Sigman Is Lost to Wolverines

Michigan Title Hopes Hurt as Slugger Is Ruled Ineligible

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan's Big Ten baseball title hopes suffered a setback yesterday with the loss of Wolverine slugger Al Sigman.

The 25-year-old senior was declared ineligible yesterday on the ground he signed a professional baseball contract seven years ago with Wisconsin Rapids of the Class D Wisconsin State League.

Prof. Marcus Plant, Michigan's Big Ten faculty representative, made the disclosure. Plant said games in which Sigman has played would not be affected by the ruling.

Michigan currently is leading the Big Ten race with a 7-3 record. But it must win its three games this weekend from Michigan State to remain in contention.

Northwestern, now in second place with a 4-2 record, can take the title with a sweep of their final three games.

Mt. Clemens Winner of Tennis Regional

Conclusion of the Class A doubles in the MHSAA A-B regional tennis tourney at Cranbrook, yesterday, gave Mt. Clemens the team title with a 11-point total. Birmingham was runnerup with 8¾. Class B. was settled first of the week with Cranbrook the winner.

Finalists in both divisions (singles and doubles) go to Kalamazoo May 31 for the state title meet.

Ken Grimes and Ed Brice defeated Maples' Tom Watson and Jeff Crawford in Class A pairs finals, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3. Both teams go to the title event, along with Bill Wiggins, (Bham), Bob Hader (MC), and the "B" finalists Orville Robinson (Fitz), Bob Kline (Cran), and doubles teams Ozzie Jacobson, Bruce McCaul and Pete King, Barry Smith (all Cranbrook).

Final "A" standings — besides the two top teams — Royal Oak 8, Berkley 7, East Detroit 5¼, Pontiac 3, Port Huron 2, Southfield 1¾.

MSU Held to 1 Hit in Loss to Titans

Michigan State used four pitchers but that wasn't enough to stop the University of Detroit from getting 11 hits and walking off with a 4-3 victory yesterday.

The Titans scored the winning marker in the last of the 9th when basketball star Mike Walsh fired a single to score John Oles from second base.

Pitcher John O'Donnell held the Spartans to only one hit.

WON "500" WITH "WASP" — Winner of the first Indianapolis Speedway 500-mile race back in 1911, Ray Harroun is still enthusiastic about the annual classic. Now 75 and still active as a research engineer in Saginaw, Harroun likes to look over the clippings of the past "500" races. "The Wasp" which he drove to victory at an average of 74.61 MPH is now in the Speedway office in Indianapolis. It was a six-cylinder car and the unusual thing about Harroun's victory in it was the rear-view mirror which he used for the first time in the race. He said the mirror was a big factor in his winning.

First '500' Winner Credits Rear View Mirror

SAGINAW (AP) — If they said Ray Harroun did it with mirrors, they'd almost be right.

Harroun, back in 1911, was the winner of the first Indianapolis Speedway "500"—the automobile race that has since grown into a memorial Day Classic.

Now 75, but still bright-eyed and enthusiastic, Harroun today is a Saginaw sales and research engineer.

His yellow and black six-cylinder Marmon, "The Wasp," in which Harroun buzzed to that initial victory, is enshrined in a museum near the speedway at Indianapolis. The Marmon sped around the 500-mile course in six hours, 42 minutes and eight seconds, an average of 74.61 M.P.H. to win the race.

Harroun's Wasp was unique in that day and age when horse and buggies were still commonplace. It was equipped with what is believed to be the first rear view mirror ever installed on a horseless carriage. Harroun is credited with being the mirror's inventor.

★ ★ ★

"It wasn't patentable," Harroun said, "because some buggies were equipped with them too. I got my idea from seeing one on a horse-drawn buggy. If I remember, it was attached to the buggy-whip socket."

The Wasp was unusual too in that it was a single-seater. The other cars in the first "500" had a place for a mechanic who served as a lookout. Harroun's mirror made a lookout unnecessary.

Although other drivers protested the gadget, track officials decided to allow Harroun to use it. He did and to good advantage.

Memories of the initial classic remain vivid in Harroun's mind.

"When I started driving that '500', I thought Ralph Mulford, driving a big white Lozier, would be the man to beat," Harroun recalled. "I just watched him in the mirror all the way and kept ahead of him. That's how I won.'

After the race, there was a controversy. Mulford claimed Harroun was actually one lap out of first place and his Lozier should have been declared winner.

★ ★ ★

"There was quite an argument about it," said Harroun. "But next morning track officials confirmed my victory. There wasn't any doubt about it in my mind because I watched Mulford all the way in my rear view mirror."

Harroun quit while he was a winner. He retired after the "500." In three years of active racing, he had conquered most of the sport's best drivers.

Since his retirement, Harroun has kept close to racing in his jobs with the automotive industry.

★ ★ ★

One of his knick-knacks helped Eddie Rickenbacker's Maxwell to victory in the 1914 "500." It was an oil-spewing device which made the Maxwell glide around turns while the tires of its pursuers were chewed and torn by friction.

★ ★ ★

Harroun rarely misses the speedway classic and expects to be there this year on May 30 for the 40th renewal of the race he won first.

Thoroughbreds to Start at Hazel Park Friday

Hazel Park is looking ahead to one of its most successful seasons when the 1957 meeting opens on Friday afternoon.

Approximately 1,025 horses are bedded down in the stabling area, a jockey colony of more than 40 journeymen and apprentice stars are on the grounds, there are 35 major handicaps and features on the agenda, and more than $1,300,000 in purse money dangling like a golden feather at the end of the home stretch.

The six and a half furlongs of the $5,000 Great Lakes Handicap will feature the opening day program, and is expected to draw such sprinting stars as Hangover, Roman Spy, Validon, Trip Lightly, Big Sweep, Hadareward and others which have been showing steady form around the nation.

Other early features of the season include the $5,000 Sophomore Mile on Saturday, May 25, the $10,000 Decoration Day Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth on May 30, the $5,000 June Handicap on June 1 and the $10,000 Hazel Park Mile on June 8. In all, 35 top features will be presented during the course of the season.

Athletes Feted by St. Michael

St. Michael High athletes and cheerleaders were honored Tuesday night at the school's annual spring all-sports banquet in St. Mike parish hall.

The Steve Griffin Memorial trophies, emblematic of the most outstanding senior boy and girl athletes at St. Mike during the school year, were awarded this time to Dan Dropps and Miss Mary Raymond.

Dan and Mary won the trophies by vote of their teammates. The awards are donated annually by Miss Rose Griffin in memory of her brother Steve.

Letters and other awards were presented to Shamrock athletes in football, baseball, basketball and track by coach Bob Mineweaser. Girl athletes and cheerleaders were also given awards.

Wally Fromhart, head football coach at the University of Detroit, was the principal speaker.

Ross (Lefty) Wilson, Detroit Red Wing trainer and spare goalie, was another honored guest. Films of the 1957 Stanley Cup playoffs were shown by Wilson to conclude the evening.

Young Wildlife Draws Visitors to Area Parks

Canada Geese Bring Off 'Families' at Kent Lake

Springtime is the "young-thing time" for wildlife, and the many visitors to the park areas of Oakland county are finding many interesting things to see along this line.

Canada geese are off their nests at Kent Lake in the Huron Clinton system and the many "families" of little yellow goslings, led by proud mothers and guarded from the rear by the watchful ganders, provide good photographic subjects along the shorelines naturalist Charles Damm reported today.

"There are many black ducks also in this (Huron-Clinton) area, and some have been observed nesting" Damm added.

Chief naturalist William F. Hopkins of the park system also commented on the rising tempo of spring wildlife. "We have many school groups come out here for guided tours of the area where wildlife can be observed at close hand," he explained. He took a large company to Metropolitan Beach, Tuesday, to observe a big colony of terns (shore birds). Colony was estimated to have at least 1,000 birds.

Many deer have been seen in the park area near Milford. Damm says the herd there is in fine condition, with many does nearing the time when they will drop their fawns (unually early in June).

Mrs. Howard Lewis, 966 Wyman, on Otter lake, a lover of the outdoors, says a family of Canada geese has shown up with 5 little goslings, near her island home. An inquisitive raccoon lives nearby, looks into the Lewis window at nghts she says. There's a blackbird, too, that responds to her call. It has been back for the 2nd year, she adds.

What about fishing?

Very slow, says conservation officer Howard Johnson, who mentioned, however, that some nice bass are being taken at Pontiac lake and that good 'bow fishing may be enjoyed in most county lakes.

Spring cleanups are underway at all state parks in the area, readying them for the big summer invasion due to start with arrival of good weather.

Multi-Lakers Plan Metropolitan Shoot

Second metropolitan archery shoot of the spring for Multi-Lakes bowmen is set for Sunday, May 26 at the Reed's lake range.

Registration takes place between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

First, second and third place winners will be rewarded with suitable trophies.

Range is located at 3860 Newton Road, Walled Lake.

Battle Par, Cold, Wind

Low temperatures, and a stiff wind were added handicaps in addition to par at Silver Lake Tuesday for the club's women's league. Mrs. Elbert Looney had low gross with 56.

PROFITABLE HUNTING — Jay Hunter, 1012 Grubb road, Milford, has made a profitable thing of his part time fox-hunting job this spring. Yesterday he collected $200 in bounties for 42 foxes. Sheriff Frank Irons is shown above ear-marking Hunter's latest catch, as the Milford man holds one of the animals.

Part-Time Trapper Helps Decrease Fox Population

By H. GUY MOATS

Fox hunting and trapping has been a profitable hobby for Milford's Jay Hunter. The appropriately named day-time worker at the Novi Equipment company at Novi has been a part-time fox hunter-trapper for many years, and does very well at it, if you please. Hunter resides at 1012 Grubb road.

Only yesterday he turned up at the Oakland County sheriff's headquarters with a carload of foxes, to be bountied by the state. Hunter collected $210 for 42 of the bushy-tails, whose ears were neatly punched to indicate they had been bountied. Each was worth five dollars to Hunter. The 42 represent 10 days hunting and trapping in the Highland Recreation Area. They also seem to indicate that the red fox population is certainly not on the downgrade in that section.

Last year Michigan bountied 28,476 foxes, causing an increase of some 13 percent in payments that amounted to more than $142,000.

Fox hunting in Oakland county has long been a favorite winter sport, but few of the "swingout hunts" in which large companies of shotgunners participate, produce more than a comparative few animals. Hunter does his job much more extensively. He has taken good bags most every year, getting 65 last year in only part of the season.

Hunter says he also hunts all other legal animals, birds in their seasons and is an ardent angler, too.

In the course of his fox trapping Hunter has run across a den of wild dogs. There are several pups, and three females, each with a pup he says.

Area conservation officer Howard Johnson knew about the dogs, he said today, and described them as being mongrels, "living off the land."

★ ★ ★

"I heard about these wild dogs, but we have not had any reports of damage, or attacks on humans" Johnson commented.

Ludington Plans Perch Festival

Final plans are now completed for Ludington's first annual perch festival scheduled for Friday and Saturday, May 24 and 25.

The event will open at a press luncheon May 24 at which sportswriters, radio and TV broadcasters, and dignitaries throughout Michigan will be represented. Thirty-five Perch Queen contestants will also be entertained at this luncheon.

★ ★ ★

Ceremonies for the opening of the festival at the north breakwater of Ludington's harbor will be highlighted by the presence of Edward J. Hekman of Grand Rapids who is chairman of the Sixth Michigan Week District along with other sports personalities.

Muskie Fishing Real Thrill

Big Ones Start to Move

ALL OUTDOORS (INS) — Ever try muskies?

Southern Michigan fishermen, most of whom don't even realize it, are very lucky. They live close to one of the most productive muskie fishing spots in the world—Lake St. Clair.

Well known muskie guides and fishermen such as Joe La Page and Homer Le Blanc from St. Clair Shores say it only takes one successful trip on the lake to turn a normal, happy, carefree angler into a "mad man for muskies."

By successful they explain this does not necessarily mean "catching" a fish, just seeing one or feeling one hit your lure.

Lake St. Clair's muskie record is held by Detroiter Percy Haver. His monster was 68½ pounds. The world's record hookline muskie is a 69¾ pounder taken from Northern Wisconsin waters.

A seven foot, four inch muskie weighing 110 pounds was netted by a commercial fisherman in Intermediate Lake, Antrim County, in 1919.

One fisherman caught a 30 pound muskie in 1949 and has been fishing for his second giant ever since. "The thrill was so great, I'll just keep trying," he says.

This is the time of year the big ones move into the lakes, says LeBlanc. Only males have been taken so far. Females coming in to spawn will show plenty of action.

Muskies are mean. They have been known to attack propellors on boats, bite at moving oars, attack swimmers, crush floating beer cans with their powerful jaws and gulp down small ducks with no strain.

Sylvia's on TV Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — Former national match game champion Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia will clash with Detroit's Edna Dalton tonight on "Bowling Champions."

The Philadelphia bowler, in two appearances on the televised series (10 p.m., WXYZ-TV), has defeated Marion Ladewig and Shirley Garms. The Detroit woman defeated Elvira Toepfer in her only appearance.

GOOD TASTE — Louis St. Laurent holds a fish caught near Victoria, B.C. The Canadian Prime Minister didn't hook the whopper, but wanted to see what he missed.

'Underwater Wonderland'

Gray Weather OK for Trout

By JACK PATTERSON

The sport that dreamed up Michigan's "Water Wonderland" nickname had his head on backward.

PATTERSON

In the interests of truth and accuracy he should have made it read "Underwater Wonderland." Take last weekend as a particularly horrid example. No safety outdoors for air-breathing creatures and indoor entertainment pretty much limited to matted-hair and liver-bile shorts on TV. Wonderland indeed.

If there be any fishermen left whose enthusiasm has not mildewed to the vanishing point we offer them one sunny ray of hope in an otherwise dank and mouldy world. This is uncommon fine weather to take large fish in the daytime, particularly large trout.

It doesn't much matter whether the fisherman is operating in Ontario where the next two or three weeks will see the top of the spring fishing, on local lakes or somewhere in between. If it's goodly fish in the daytime the angler's after, this gray cool excuse for weather is the ticket.

Lake fishing for trout is primarily a trolling proposition. In local rainbow lakes such as Oxbow, Union, Orchard, Maceday and Elizabeth the cowbell plus nightcrawler combination is so effective, IF it is put at the level where fish are, that there would seem to be little reason to use anything else if catching fish is the whole purpose of the outing.

Most-used Ontario lure for speckled (brook) trout trolling is a spinner and crawler combination. We have usually found a fairly small daredevle just as effective and it eliminates the bother of fiddling with worms. Almost nobody trolls Ontario lakes with streamer flies. Fishing in Maine and Quebec for the same fish, trolled streamers take the mostest and biggest (even in waters where other baits are allowed). This is a matter that needs exploration.

Aside from spawning rainbows, big fish in Michigan trout streams are bound to be brown trout. The bigger ones become almost strictly nocturnal feeders during the warm months with the exception that on cool, gray days they may feed during the day. It isn't going to get much cooler or grayer than it is now.

For big browns in the daytime then, given proper weather, which we've got, and a stream in which big fish are known to be, the angler should pick a day when there is little human activity on the stream. This means a midweek day. The bait fisherman has a choice of night-crawler or minnow, sometimes a crayfish or hellgramite or other large natural nymph.

★ ★ ★

The fly fisherman might as well stick to streamers, and a big white marabou, a black and white bucktail or black ghost will probably do as well as anything. For spinning for big browns we doubt if we'd bother with anything but a silver flatfish. Big browns seem to like a fast retrieve and quite a bit of action by artificials.

Campers to Pay Increased Fees

LANSING — Increased camping fees will be in effect June 1 at Michigan's state parks and recreation areas.

All camping permits issued on or after June 1 will require campers to pay 75 cents per day, plus 25 cents for electrical services, if used. Permits are issued at the individual parks.

The present camping rate is 50 cents daily, plus 20 cents for electricity.

All campers receiving permits during May will be charged at the old rate, even if the camping permit period extends into June. This will allow Memorial Day visitors to camp through the holiday weekend at the old rate, if they obtain a permit before June 1.

Process Pike, Muskie Eggs

300,000 at DP Hatchery

Approximately 150,000 muskellunge eggs and an equal number of northern pike eggs are being processed at Drayton Plains hatchery.

Conservation Department fisheries workers collected the eggs from wild northern muskellunge captured early this month in two western Upper Peninsula likes. The eggs were kept at Thompson hatchery near Manistique, until recently.

The northern pike eggs were taken from marshy areas in the central part of the Upper Peninsula.

But state workers have thus far been stymied in efforts to collect eggs of the Great Lakes muskie. Attempts have been made during the last three spring spawning seasons, but the big fish are elusive and egg collection is difficult.

One of the toughtest hatchery jobs is feeding these young predators after they hatch. Pike and muskie fry demand a constant supply of live food, otherwise they set about eating each other.

To date, state workers have collected more than 70 million sucker eggs; when hatched, these will provide live food which is essential for the growing muskies and pike.

When the young game fish are big enough to fend for themselves, conservation workers will plant them in public waters. Research on their progress is aimed at providing better angling for Michigan fisherman.

White Fox Reported

A white fox, possibly an albino, was reported seen recently a few miles north of Grayling in Crawford county.

Conservation department game biologists speculate that the animal is either an albino or a light phase of the "red" fox.

Solunar Tables

Anglers may plan their fishing expeditions around the county to take fullest advantage of the best times for their sport by scanning the following solunar tables. Prepared especially for this section by outdoorsman John Alden Knight, tables show major periods of activity to last an hour to an hour and a half, minor periods somewhat shorter.

	A.M.		P.M.
	Minor	Major	Minor	Major

Trash Shad Fish Moves Into Lakes

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — A trash fish, commonly called the shad, has joined the sea lamprey in threatening the existence of food and game fish in the Great Lakes.

Lloyd Mollhagen Jr., vice president of Michigan Fish Producers Assn., said today the shad, which first appeared in the Great Lakes about two years ago, was causing "a lot of distress" among commercial fishermen.

Mollhagen said the shad were appearing with increasing frequency in the fishermen's chub nets. He said the take in the chub nets now contained about half shad and half chub. The chub is a valuable food fish.

Lampreys Help Study of Diseases of Ear

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The sea lamprey, hated enemy of Michigan fishermen for its mass slaughter of game fish in the Great Lakes, is helping University of Michigan researchers solve the mysteries which cloak little known diseases of the human ear.

Dr. Merle Lawrence, professor of physiological acoustics at the university medical school, said that information about certain diseases of the inner ear could only be obtained by dissecting the inner ear of a living creature.

Humans and animals aren't suited for this purpose, Dr. Lawrence said, because the skull makes the inner ear difficult to get at, but the lamprey fits the role perfectly because of the easy accessibility of its inner ear.

Dr. Lawrence said that after the lamprey was aesthetized, its inner ear was dissected and electrical response readings taken of the ear's reaction to various stimuli. He said he hoped to find what diseases of the inner ear were responsible for affecting hearing.

Dr. Lawrence secures the lampreys used in his experiments at an a huge fish bowl until they have early age. He keeps the killers in grown to a large enough size for research purposes.

Free Fishing for Oldsters Is Tossed Out

LANSING (AP)—Elderly fishermen lost out and Great Lakes anglers won a round in amendments to a fish license bill approved by the house.

Members voted to go along with the senate version of the bill, which knocked out a house proposal to permit anglers 65 years old or more to fish without a license.

The senate also did away with a house plan to require persons fishing the Great Lakes and connecting waters to buy a license.

Lane Takes TV Bout Spotlight

Detroit Scene of Lightweight Scrap Tonight

Henry Brown Is Foe in 10-Rounder From Motor City

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP) — An unranked lightweight who hasn't fought in six months will be out tonight to puncture Kenny Lane's ambition of becoming the first southpaw champion in lightweight history.

Little-known Henry "Toothpick" Brown of Philadelphia takes on Kenny Lane, 25, in a 10-round match that will be televised nationally over ABC-TV, 9 p.m., EST.

★ ★ ★

This will be Brown's first appearance since he broke his right hand in dropping an eight-round knockout verdict to Paolo Rosi last November. But Brown, whose nickname stems from his habit of toothpick-chewing rather than from his physical appearance, has shown he can punch effectively with either hand. His 24 victories include 14 knockouts. He has lost four times and been involved in two draws.

★ ★ ★

Lane is on a 12-fight winning streak and has won 45 of his 50 professional bouts. He never has been off his feet.

Ranked No. 1 challenger to Joe Brown's title, Lane is a quick-fisted southpaw who relies more on speed and boxing skill than he does on powerful punches. Lane has stopped only seven foes. He knocked out Frankie Ryff and Danny Davis in his only two 1957 starts.

★ ★ ★

Each fighter is expected to weigh about 138. Brown will have a two-inch height advantage over Lane, who measures 5-feet-6.

Detroit promoters originally tried to arrange an "elimination bout" between Lane and Orlando Zulueta, the No. 3 challenger. But Zulueta demanded $10,000 and plans fell through.

As Hank Goes, So Goes Team

Aaron Leads Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP) — As Hank Aaron goes, so go the Milwaukee Braves.

This was never more apparent than it is today.

After a fast start in which Manager Fred Haney's crew won 9 of 11 games in April, they have slowed to a 9-8 pace so far in May.

Aaron, 23, has gone hitless in four of the Braves eight losses this month.

No one can say—or is saying, for that matter—that the National League's defending batting champion hasn't been just about the whole show for the Braves, offensively.

He is leading the league in batting with a .360 average and in home runs with 11 and is tied for the runs batted in leadership with Brooklyn's Carl Furillo with 29.

But, after Aaron, the Braves' averages tail off like a kite in a downdraft. Joe Adcock is the only other regular hitting above .300. He has a mark of .320. Then comes Billy Bruton, .280; Del Crandall, .275; Eddie Mathews, .273; Johnny Logan, .265; Danny O'Connell, .244 and Chuck Tanner, .205.

"He's carrying the club," said Mathews last night after the Braves and the Philadelphia Phillies played to a 1-1 tie in a rain-abbreviated 5½ inning game. "There's no doubt about it. I don't know where we'd be without him."

Bobby Bragan, Pittsburgh's ebulient manager, recently said, "The Braves would be in real trouble if anything happened to Aaron—he's worth a million dollars."

★ ★ ★

Furillo, Dodgers' rightfielder, put it this way, "They ought to worship the ground he walks on."

Lately there has been talk that a few pitchers around the league have discovered the carefree Aaron's "weakness."

Manager Bill Rigney of the New York Giants, whose pitchers have held Aaron to two hits in 13 tries for a .154 average, hinted the other day that they had Aaron's number.

What the "weakness" is — if that's what it is—Rigney wouldn't say.

Spartans Aim to Play Role of Spoilers

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State is aching to play the role of a spoiler in its three-game Big Big Ten baseball meeting with Michigan this weekend.

The Spartans, in eighth place with a 4-6 conference record, can only hope to hitch themselves a few notches higher in the standings.

Michigan leads the league with a 7-3 record but Northwestern (4-2) and Illinois (5-3) are panting close behind.

Little Change Is Expected in Olympic Setup

EVIAN, France (AP)—Organizers of the Olympic Games, torn between simultaneous efforts both to enlarge and to reduce the Olympic program, are expected to leave it virtually unchanged after a series of important meetings opening here June 3.

★ ★ ★

The executive commission of the International Olympic Committee, under the chairmanship of President Avery Brundage, is scheduled to meet with the national Olympic committees and the International Sports Federations in a six-day series of conferences on major Olympic problems.

★ ★ ★

Brundage is known to favor the elimination from the Olympic program of certain sports considered to be "tinged with professionalism," such as boxing, cycling and soccer.

Peters' Homer Does It

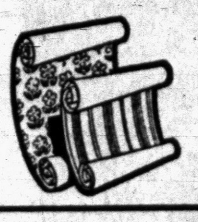

Dave Peters clouted a 5th inning grand slam home run to give Rochester an 8-6 victory over Lake Orion Tuesday. Sophomore Howard Hinkel, who relieved starter Larry Jones in the 3rd inning, was the winning pitcher. Peters hurled the 7th inning for the Falcons and struck out the side to preserve the win.

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves had the longest major league hitting streak in 1956, batting safely in 25 straight games.

ATLANTA — The 1956 Georgia Tech football team was hailed by Coach Bobby Dodd as "the greatest team I have ever coached."

Ralph Kiner hit four home runs in successive times at bat in 1947 and again in 1949. Five other players achieved the feat once.

Allowance for Loss of Ferry Jobs Urged

LANSING (AP) — The chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority says "a substantial separation allowance" should be paid to Straits of Mackinac ferry employes who will lose their jobs when the bridge is completed this fall.

★ ★ ★

Prentiss M. Brown suggested the 300 to 350 affected workers be paid with part of the money received by the state through sale of the ferry property, including the boats.

Brown offered his proposal yesterday in a letter to Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman), chairman of the Senate Municipalities Committee, which is considering plans for disposing of the property.

★ ★ ★

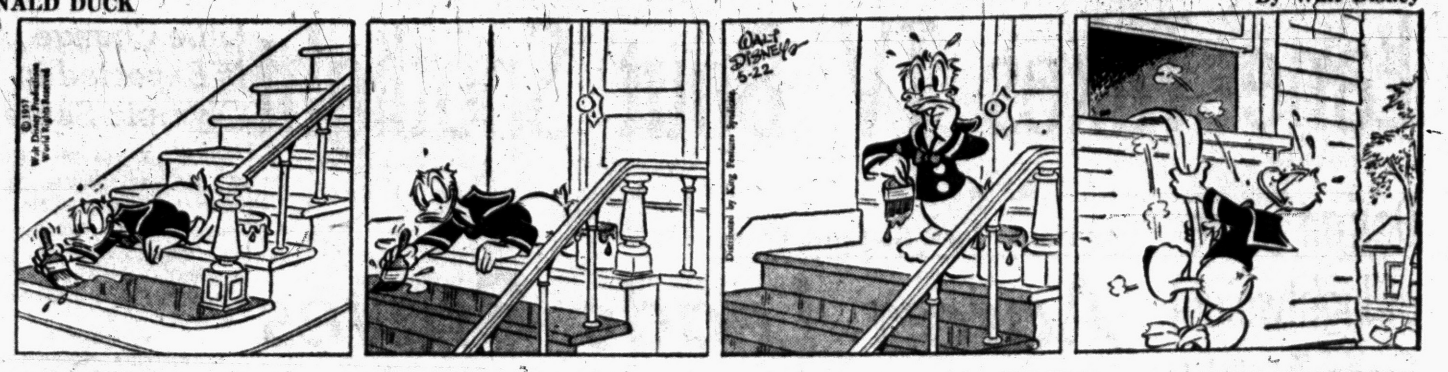

It is expected that about 40 ferry workers will be employed on the bridge, Brown said, but there will be no work for the others.

Auto Inventories Build Up but Dealers Not Worried

By DAVID J. WILKE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry has a substantial new car inventory on hand right now, but it does not appear to be worrying the car retailers.

Industry surveys indicate most retailers are in a happier state of mind than they were at this time last year. Many report better profits; few are complaining about pressure of factory shipments.

Indications are the industry will come to the end of the current month with a total car assembly volume for the five months of approximately 2,885,000 units. If retail sales do no better than match the totals for March and April the five months volume at the dealer level should come to about 2,500,000.

The current production rate, obviously, does not use all the industry's capacity, although several Ford and Chrysler divisions continue to schedule Saturday overtime. Nevertheless, the over-all industry outlook is better presently than it was at the comparable period a year ago.

Despite the 735,000 unit new car inventory there are some makes and models that are not immediately available to the car buyer. Cadillac's $13,000-plus Eldorado Brougham and Ford's retractable hardtop, are among them.

The Eldorado Brougham is distinctly a "limited production" model. Fewer than 100 units monthly are being built. And despite the demand for it, Cadillac has not indicated any intention of great increasing the rate of output.

Ford's schedule for the retractable hardtop calls for only 20,000 assemblies during its first year. Ford has no immediate plans for stepping up production of this newest model, company spokesmen say.

★ ★ ★

Another make not immediately available at dealerships is the German-built Volkswagen. Volkswagen dealers in the United States had waiting lists through most of 1956; surveys indicate that although shipments from the factories have increased sharply the dealers still have an accumulation of unfilled orders. Some Americans who planned to pick up a Volkswagen during European tours this summer have been notified of several weeks delay in scheduled delivery dates.

Surveys indicate several thousand Americans have placed orders for various foreign made cars to be delivered to them during visits abroad.

Demand for the Volkswagen in the U.S. market continues to mount. The most recent tabulation of new car registrations showed that during this year's first quarter 14,655 of the German-built cars were delivered in this country. The total compares with 10,987 deliveries in last year's January-March quarter.

★ ★ ★

Increases also are shown in the figures for several other makes, especially in the lower price group. Among these are the MG, the Renault, Metropolitan and the English Ford.

Industry gossip has it that Ford Motor Co's Ford division plans to substantially increase the over-all length of its Thunderbird model and give it a rear seat in 1958. Company spokesmen decline to comment on this report.

Grain Futures Drift Lower

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grain futures drifted lower in early board of trade dealings today, with corn and soybeans down more than a cent at times under general liquidation.

There was not much news to influence the market, but there appeared to be a growing feeling among traders that the excessive moisture which has been hampering wheat and corn may be due for a general let-up shortly.

There was general liquidation by commission houses in the soybean pit, apparently based partly on belief the price advance of the previous session was due to technical reasons only, because of closing out of the May contract. Professional selling helped push corn prices downward.

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, July $2.08⅜, new style wheat was ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, July $2.08⅞, corn was ½ lower to ⅜ higher, July $1.32¾, oats were ⅛ to ⅜ lower, July 66 ⅞, rye was 1 to 1½ lower, July $1.17¾, soybeans were ½ to ⅞ lower, July $2.34⅝, and lard was 3 to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.25.

Tax Exemption Killed by Senate

Votes Down Resolution to Aid State Residents Over 65

LANSING (AP)—A resolution proposing a property tax exemption for oldsters was killed by a 16-15 vote in the Senate yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The measure required a two-thirds favorable vote by both houses to put it on the November ballot in the form of a constitutional amendment.

Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson), sponsor of the resolution, tried to make the measure more acceptable with an amendment specifying that the exemption would apply only to persons over 65 actually making their home in a house assessed at $5,000 or less.

"We don't want a blanket exemption for everyone," Nichols said. "We just want to help those older folks who might have to sell their homes."

★ ★ ★

Let's go all the way," suggested Sen. George H. Steeh (D-Mount Clemens), one of the opponents. "Let's exempt the blind, the handicapped and young people with children too."

Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) objected that the bill would take too much property off the tax polls.

"The property owners already are screaming that too few of them are supporting the tax burden," Smeekens said.

Michigan Marks 'Livelihood Day'

DETROIT (INS)—"Our Livelihood Day" was honored today by the Michigan Week celebration.

★ ★ ★

Schools and civic organizations developed the theme around the question: "What does Michigan need in the next 10 years to improve the livelihood of its citizens."

In Buchanan, the Clark Equipment Co. planned to have the entire town visit the plant.

In Sturgis, the 50th anniversary of the Kirsch Co., a drapery hardware manufacturer, was observed.

K. T. Keller, former Chrysler board chairman and general chairman of Michigan Week, visited Sault Ste. Marie.

★ ★ ★

Robert C. Kline Jr., general counsel and director of the Edison Sault Electric Co., was in Detroit to address the Detroit Rotary Club luncheon on "The Upper Peninsula Looks at Detroit."

Products Replaced

DETROIT (INS) — Parke, Davis and Co., of Detroit said today it would replace "at its own expense" all company products damaged or destroyed by tornadoes or heavy rain in areas of Kansas and Texas recently.

Motorist Pays $100

Billy J. Benedict, 25, of 52 Norton Ave., pleaded guilty to reckless driving before Keego Harbor Justice James Southart and was fined $85 plus $15 costs yesterday.

Leading Stocks Show No Change

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were narrowly mixed in early trading today.

Leading issues showed minor changes. After a fairly active opening the pace slowed.

Oils once again seemed about the best of the major divisions but there was no great activity in any group.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) yesterday's most active stock, added around a point to its gain of 1⅛ yesterday. Its president, M. J. Rathbone, told the annual meeting that 1957 will be another good year.

★ ★ ★

Amerada was steady after its run-up of 4⅜ yesterday. Texas Co. and Sinclair made fractional gains.

Douglas Aircraft cut in half an early loss of a point. Boeing was off a major fraction.

★ ★ ★

Steels were narrowly mixed with Youngstown and Bethlehem slightly on the upside while U. S. Steel and Republic Steel were easy. General Motors dropped a fraction but other automotive issues did little. Rails showed scant change.

The average South African alcoholic today is between 25 and 30 years old—or 10 years younger than those of a few years ago—the National Council on Alcoholism reported in Pretoria.

Ike's Outlook Varies According to Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he will have varying degrees of enthusiasm for members of his own party who support him and those who don't.

Eisenhower told a news conference that when it comes to who he is for enthusiastically—and who he is just for—there is a very wide difference.

★ ★ ★

But specifically with reference to Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California, who has opposed the administration on various fronts including the size of the budget, Eisenhower said the differences do not mean Knowland is his enemy.

Eisenhower said further that it never has crossed his mind to ask for the resignation of anyone because that person fails to support him.

Ford Stockholders to Meet Near Utica

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. expects an attendance of between 2,500 and 3,000 at its second public annual stockholders meeting tomorrow.

The meeting will be held at the company's new proving ground in Macomb County near Utica. It will mark the opening of a three-day dedication program at the testing ground.

Fourteen directors will be elected at the stockholders meeting. Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the board, and Henry Ford II, president, will address stockholders.

Marketing Advisors Choose Officers

The first meeting of the Advisory Council for the Marketing Information Program for Consumers, was held at 8 p.m. yesterday at the County Board of Education Bldg.

Officers elected were: William Belaney, Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, chairman; Mrs. Frank A. Anderson, Pontiac Federation Women's Clubs, vice chairman; and Marie VanSickle, of the Royal Oak Tribune, secretary.

The council decided to meet three times a year—in October, January and April—to assist the Oakland County marketing information agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, with planning marketing programs.

Ford Reports Sales Exceed Other Periods

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. reported its Ford division retailers sold 895,405 new cars through the seven month period since the new 1957 model cars were introduced. This is 61,441 more units than were sold during the first seven full months of the 1956 model.

Ford also reported Ford car sales for the first 10 day period of May exceeded those of any similar May period in division history.

Antitrust Hearings Open for Second Time

DENVER (INS) — The second antitrust trial of three of the nation's largest minerals corporations opens today at Denver Federal District Court.

Vanadium Corp., of America, Union Carbide and Carbon Corp., and a Union Carbide subsidiary, Electro Metalurgical Sales Corp., are charged with conspiring to monopolize the sale and distribution of vanadium ore.

A previous trial in January ended in a hung jury. The three corporations requested a dismissal of the charges but the request was rejected by Judge Lee Knous.

IN GRATEFUL APPRECIATION for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the recent illness and bereavement the family of the late Henry Ozbun wishes to publicly thank all whose messages, cards and flowers and offers of assistance helped to lighten our sorrow.

WE WISH TO THANK ALL WHOSE kindness and sympathy offered comfort during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. We are especially grateful to those responsible for the many lovely floral tributes and the Pastor Nelson, Mrs. Hyden, Pallbearers, Police, Union, Neighbors, Friends, & Relatives. Also the men in Yellow Cab, Plant 2 Section, Pontiac General Hospital, doctors and nurses, Roosevelt Hotel, and Voorheis-Siple Funeral Home. Mrs. Fors & Daughter Mavis.

WE WISH TO THANK OUR friends, relatives, neighbors, Rev. Paul T. Hart, Pursley Funeral Home, Superior Steel, Edgewood Golf Course and White Chapel employes for their many acts of kindness during the recent bereavement of my husband Albert H. Stephens. His wife Mary & family.

WE WISH TO THANK OUR friends, neighbors and relatives for gifts & attendance at the wedding & reception of Eugene Ingram. Mrs. Violet Campbell.

There is a New Merchandising Method in Home Building and We Have It

$2,000 was saved by our customer on the first new home built under this new program.

It is our new BUILDER'S EXCHANGE PROGRAM

We have coupled this program with our tremendous buying power and directed it through NEW STREAMLINED BUYING SOURCES to bring you unbelievable savings in your custom built home.

To serve you better we have enlarged & redesigned the area's only authorized HOME PLANNERS CENTER.

1. We have added a new KING SIZE magnetic HOME PLANNER AND VISUALIZER. It will enable you to see how furnishings, cabinets, and other arrangements will be in the plan of your choice or help you re-arrange the plan to meet your requirements.

2. To help you we have vastly increased the number of our working blue prints & material lists to 600 in our 20 ft. long filing cases. These plans are by the world famous designer, Richard B. Pollman, with architects Palmquist & Wright, A.I.A. We will price any of these or your own special plan.

IF YOU ARE THINKING OF TRADING YOUR OLD HOUSE IN ON A NEW HOME

NATURALLY you would like to get as much as you can for your old house. There are several ways this can be done. Let's see which way is best suited to you and the old house you wish to convert to a new home. If needed, we'll help you with financing arrangements and a lot too.

Phone for an appointment today so that we may explain our new "BUILDERS EXCHANGE" program and save you $ $ $ too.

Lakefront Estate
Imagine if you can, a rambling white California ranch home 80 ft. in length. Nestled in the middle of a beautiful landscaped 1 acre site. From the front veranda you are only a few steps away from your own boat well & beach, 150 ft. of it. The view is perfect, too—because this is a huge sloping homesite that permits you a full view of the lake and the opposite shore line that is fringed with beautiful trees to add to the beauty of a sunset from your veranda or the many picture windows.
You are ready to say "yes," before we enter the spacious private living room with its massive Kentucky Briarstone fireplace—then we enter the large hallway which leads to 2 huge master bedrooms with lake front view. The large kitchen will amaze you also with all its cupboard space and brightness. French doors lead to the waterfront veranda from the kitchen and also to a large family sized dining room and from there to a panele:d Florida room.
For the lady of the home—even your laundry room with its many windows, has a lakefront view. For the man of the home—there is a good sized den. We could go on and on about such things as the hot water heating system, attached garage, circular driveway and outdoor barbecue, etc, etc.

GOING STRAIGHT — Bandleader-comedian Spike Jones, shown with his wife, singer Helen Grayco, doesn't depend entirely on novelty music in "The Spike Jones Show," which is telecast by CBS at 10:30 p. m. Mondays. Spike and his band have discovered that the public appreciates hearing some straight numbers along with the traditional musical madness.

Governor Signs Into Law Bill Making Misdemeanors Out of Many Felonies

LANSING (AP) — Under a bill signed by Gov. Williams, numerous criminal offenses heretofore punishable as a felony will be reclassified a misdemeanor.

The dividing line between the two categories of offenses will be raised from $50 to $100 in cases involving malicious destruction, embezzlement, larceny and certain other charges.

★ ★ ★

Legislative sponsors said the bill merely recognized the decrease in the value of the dollar in recent decades.

Among 25 other bills signed yesterday by the governor were those to:

Authorize state acquisition of the historic clerks' quarters on Mackinac Island for preservation as a state shrine.

Permit counties to regulate houseboats by ordinance.

Prohibit installation of television sets in automobiles within the sight of the driver, and repeal a requirement for state police approval before a TV set could be mounted in a car.

★ ★ ★

Make misuse of the union label a misdemeanor.

Extend from three to five years the period in which a loss can be insured under a group credit policy.

Reduce from 100 to 25 miles the radius in which existing building and loan and savings and loan assns. must be notified when a new Assn. applies for incorporation.

Authorize county health departments, with supervisor approval, to hire public health personnel other than nurses and physicians.

Empower utilities to condemn for gas storage facilities below the Marshall geologic formation, a stratum 1,400 to 1,500 feet below the surface.

Increase the time for appeal in justice courts of cities of more than 80,000 population from five to 10 days, and raise the juror's fee in such courts from four to six dollars a day.

Raise the maximum age for commitment to the Michigan Children's Institute from 14 to 17 years.

★ ★ ★

Authorize the Social Welfare Department to supervise boys and girls released from the boys and girls vocational schools under certain circumstnces.

Raise from $5,000 to $10,000 the allowable limit on life insurance under group life plans.

Raise the millage limitations for cities of the fourth class from 12½ to 15 mills.

★ ★ ★

Provide that all class C. liquor licenses, not just hotels and restaurants, can continue to operate when annexed to dry territory until the next election.

Tower of London Gold Awaits Treasure Spade

LONDON (INS)—Workmen digging for an ancient wall—and a legendary $2,000,000 treasure — at the historic Tower of London uncovered fragments of old bones yesterday on the first day of the search.

The workmen were looking for traces of an 11th Century pallisade known as Outer Bailey which at one time enclosed the tower.

But reputedly beneath the spot is the treasure buried by Sir John Barkstead, governor of the tower during Oliver Csomwell's Republican rule.

Sir John is said to have amassed a fortune extorted from royal prisoners. He fled abroad when the monarchy was restored but without his treasure. Upon repatriation he was executed in 1662.

The Ministry of Public Works decided to look for the old wall, and a spokesman said "happily the location of the present work coincides with the place where some people have been seeking permission to dig for treasure."

Jack Gardner and Charles Quarrel, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the Speleological Soriety, both believe the treasure is at the spot of the archeologists' digging.

"Tests made by a metal diviner and also electrical devices, said Quarrel, "have shown this spot is the most likely hiding place of the treasure."

He spoke excitedly of 40-pound urns filled with golden ducats.

Boy Who Took Shot at Neighbor Caught

SYDNEY (AP) — A 15-year-old armed boy led a sheriff's posse on a two-hour chase through a swampy woods yesterday after he took a shot at a woman neighbor.

The boy, L. J. Christianson, was found by his father, Leo, and turned over to sheriff's deputies for return to Traverse City State Hospital where he is a patient.

★ ★ ★

He had been home visiting his family.

Montcalm County Sheriff Elton Samson said the boy fired his .22 caliber rifle at Mrs. Betty Byington after she told him to get off her property. Mrs. Byington was not hit.

The boy fled with his rifle into a woods near this Montcalm County community.

★ ★ ★

Half a dozen sheriff's cars and a state police detail from the Rockford post joined in the search. Samson did not say whether charges would be filed against the boy.

Sydney is about eight miles northeast of Greenville.

Owns Westown Market Instead of West Side

Becuase of an error on the police blotter, the Press erroneously stated Monday that Paul Spadafore, fined for a short weight ham, was the owner of the West Side Market, 706 W. Huron St.,

★ ★ ★

Spadafore, who paid $15 in Municipal Court Friday for a ham short weight 13¼ ounces, is the owner of the Westown Market, 706 W. Huron St., formerly called the Spadafore Brothers Super Market.

New Guided Missile Goal of Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force apparently is aiming at development of a new design of guided missile for use with the supersonic bomber in attacking heavily protected enemy targets.

★ ★ ★

A House Appropriations Committee report on the Defense Department budget yesterday disclosed that an existing "air-to-ground" missile program had been cut back.

★ ★ ★

At the Pentagon, it was indicated today a new weapon, probably designed specifically for use with the Convair B58 supersonic bomber, would be undertaken.

★ ★ ★

The committee report said investigation by the committee's staff had indicated that a reduction in the Rascal air-to-ground missile program was justified and that the Defense Department agreed "that this particular missile is in the marginal area."

Pay-as-You-Drive Plan Offered in New Jersey

RED BANK, N. J. (AP)—Now the Garden State parkway offers pay-after-you-went travel.

The New Jersey Highway Authority, operator of the superhighway, today began placing stamped envelopes at its automatic toll booths so motorists who lack the proper change can pay by mail.

★ ★ ★

For some time the authority has used the honor system at several toll plazas where motorists pay their tolls in coin machines. So far about 20 per cent have failed to drop in their coins. With the new gimmick, the authority hopes the toll of tolls will be even higher.

Musical Maniac Varies Routine

But His TV Program Still Features Plenty of Comedy Songs

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Have you met the new Spike Jones?

The famed music depreciator hasn't thrown away his washboard, cowbells and six-shooter, but you'll notice a difference on his Monday night CBS-TV show. The band even does several numbers without an auto horn.

★ ★ ★

"I'd like to have guest stars like Isaac Stern and Jose Iturbi," said Spike. "We might have Iturbi play a rock 'n' roll number, but he'd also do a straight piece."

What's this—Spike going long-hair? No fear of that. But he is undergoing a transition.

★ ★ ★

"I felt the need for it when we were playing concerts," he remarked. "People were always asking why we didn't play some straight numbers. We did play straight behind Helen (Grayco, his singing wife) and the specialty acts, but the rest of the time we gagged it up.

"When you only have two and a half hours for a show, you have to give the people what they expect."

But Spike realized there was a perilous future in offering the public one kind of music. He started the transition last fall with an album of Christmas tunes. Included were standbys like "All I Want For Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth." But most of the songs were played straight.

★ ★ ★

This is Spike's second outing with a regular show. Four years ago, he was on Saturday nights and made a respectable showing against Jackie Gleason. But the show was erased by some network maneuvering.

"Maybe it was a good thing," Spike observed. "That was during the Berle-Gleason era of television when everyone thought you had to hit the audience over the head with entertainment. Since then, Dinah Shore and Perry Como have come along to prove you can entertain with an easy approach and good music.

"I think I'll last longer this way."

★ ★ ★

But don't worry about his losing the old Jones touch. He has a new album called "Dinner Music For People Who Aren't Very Hungry." Among the hi-fi effects: a violin pushed through a garbage disposal.

Dr. Adams Ordered Committed to Trial

EASTBOURNE, England (INS)—Dr. John Bodkin Adams, acquitted last month on a murder charge, today was ordered committed for trial on 15 lesser counts.

★ ★ ★

A magistrate's court on the third day of a hearing ruled that Adams must stand trial at Lewes Assizes in Sussex.

The ruling came after Adams sat smiling and shaking his head as Scotland Yard sleuth Herbert Hannam quoted the society physician as having said:

★ ★ ★

"I like cremations and burials to go smoothly."

Charges against him include several in which he signed death certificates attesting he did not profit from the estates of some of his patients whereas he knew he was profiting in their wills.

Weight's No Problem for This Happy Lass

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Television's fat girl, Muriel Landers—height five feet, weight 200 plus—feels sorry for you skinny women. And especially for bony fashion models.

★ ★ ★

"They have such a pained expression!" says Muriel, shaking with plumpish laughter. "They're miserable from hunger."

Muriel, whom you've seen with Ray Bolger, Jack Benny, Jimmy Durante, Jackie Gleason and other comedians, is a comic herself.

Muriel, a Chicagoan who started as a concert singer, was told when she arrived in New York hunting acting jobs, "They'll take one look at your figure and throw you out of the office."

★ ★ ★

"Now I'm afraid to diet too much because I'm doing so well," she says. "I took off 40 pounds, though.

"A lot of men like us heavy women," she rippled on. "I've never had any problem getting one."

MURIEL

"Most women in the audiences everywhere are more like me than they are like Marilyn Monroe," she says. "They say, 'She's got a glamour kind of job, so maybe there's a chance for me'."

"Do you have any plans for marriage?" I asked her.

"Yes, I do have some plans for marriage," she retorted, "and I hope it has some plans for me!"

Sid Caesar Enters Into Association

NEW YORK (AP)—TV comic Sid Caesar and former network executive Sylvester L. "Pat" Weaver announced yesterday they have entered into a business association.

The announcement said they plan first to make film comedies for presentation in theaters. Some of the pictures will star Caesar.

★ ★ ★

The comedian last Thursday ended his 10-year contract with the National Broadcasting Co. The contract had seven years to go.

Weaver, former president and chairman of NBC, launched the "Show of Shows" program starring Caesar in the early TV days.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

"SWELL" PALS — Five-year-old Mimi Ard, of Cheswick, Pa., and her French poodle Cliquot both got their lumps — via the mumps. Medical science says it's almost impossible for a dog to have mumps, but an incredulous veterinarian confirmed that Cliquot caught the ailment while playing with the child. So Mimi and her pet are lumped together in convalescence.

Kentucky Police Foil Robbery

2 Who Held Up Bank for $44,000 Nabbed by Waiting Officers

WICKLIFFE, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky police officers yesterday foiled a getaway attempt of two men who had robbed a Mounds, Ill., bank of $44,000.

The men fled across the Ohio River in a fast motorboat, but found police waiting on the Kentucky side. After waiving extradition, they were returned to Murphysboro, Ill., by federal officers.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said $36,819.50 was recovered from two paper sacks in their possession.

The gunmen, identified by state police as Arthur Kerner, 30, and Robert Ferrise, 34, both of St. Paul, Minn., staged a daylight holdup at the First State Bank of Mounds.

They fled in a $100 automobile they had purchased Monday in Cairo, Ill., and left it at the wharf where they had tied their boat.

They cleaned the bank's vault except for a lone dollar bill, then attempted to lock Rita Graddy and Adam Casper, assistant bank cashiers, in the vault. A time mechanism on the lock foiled that move.

Illinois authorities alerted Kentucky police by radio. They were apprehended about five miles downstream about an hour after the robbery.

Veterans Council Elects Post, Auxiliary Officers

The Oakland County Council of Veterans of Foreign Wars have elected and installed both post and auxiliary officers for the coming year.

Among those installed in major positions were: E. Gordon Seale, commander; Bob Wakefield, senior vice commander; and Tom Fulfer, junior vice commander.

The main auxiliary offices were filled by: Mrs. Mary A. Seale, president; Tacy Ray, senior vice president; Mary Mader, junior vice president; Martha LaMonde, secretary; and Alice Busche, treasurer.

Cement Plant Closes in Dispute on Contract

PETOSKEY (AP) — Some 240 United Stone and Allied Products Workers struck the Penn Dixie cement plant yesterday in a dispute over a new contract.

A union spokesman said the two sides were unable to agree on how to split a 10-cent hourly package increase. He said the union wanted more medical insurance than the company offered. Overtime pay for Sunday work also figured in the dispute, the spokesman said.

The union said the company had begun closing the plant last weekend in anticipation of the strike. Seven of the company's nine other plants in other states also are on strike.

Greenville Youth Dies in Boating Accident

GREENVILLE (AP) — Lee Harter, 17, of Greenville, drowned yesterday in a boating mishap on nearby Turk Lake.

Montcalm County Sheriff's officers said Harter was riding with Raymond Eastman Jr., 20, of Rt. 3, Greenville, in an outboard runabout which capsized when its steering cable broke near the lake's east shore.

Eastman, treated for shock at United Memorial Hospital, told deputies he tried to tow Harter ashore but the youth slipped from his grasp. Deputies recovered the body.

Dredging Detroit River
