State Rushes Overdue Pay Checks to Workers

Here's How New City Library Will Look

GOP Senators Vow to Push for Sales Tax Hike

2nd House Defeat in 6 Days Spurs Efforts of Legislators

LANSING (AP)—House defeat of the Republican use (sales) tax bill for the second time in six days spurred new vows from GOP senators today to push their fight for a sales tax increase.

They didn't lack for legislative weapons. A bill similar to the one beaten yesterday was ready for debate in the Senate and a third was introduced yesterday. Still another was hanging fire in the House Taxation Committee.

"We want to make clear to Gov. Williams and Democrats that we do not intend to be maneuvered or outmaneuvered into an income tax," said Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) after the House junked the Senate-approved tax bill, 50-54.

Against this backdrop of political fencing, Republican and Democratic leaders in the House opened preliminary talks aimed at mapping out a tax program acceptable to both parties.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski (D-Detroit), House Democratic leader, said a committee of Democrats would submit a tax program to a similar GOP group headed by House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan).

Kowalski would say only that it incorporated features of the GOP sales tax plan and the Democratic personal and corporation income tax package.

The long and bitter inter-party tax battle centered on these two plans for meeting the state's long-range need for new revenue.

YEAR-END CUTOFF

Rep. T. John Lesinski (D-Detroit) said Democrats might propose a use tax with a year-end cutoff date coupled with a permanent 2 per cent flat rate income tax.

A use tax combined with a corporation profits tax also was gaining favor among members of both parties.

Kowalski and Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), House GOP floor leader, agreed Senate Republicans should be invited to sit in on compromise talks if they make any headway.

"This is a legislative matter and the governor should stay out of it at this point," Green said. "We might make some headway if he does."

Delayed Wages Go by Airliner, Police Relay

But Another Payless Day Likely in Week as General Fund Melts

LANSING (AP)—State payroll checks delayed seven days were rushed today by special messenger, State Police relay and commercial airliner to 26,000 state employes in all parts of Michigan.

The distribution, after a false start yesterday, was signaled when Gov. Williams signed the Smeekens bill for unfreezing restricted funds in the state treasury.

The State Administrative Board then gave the formal go-ahead on releasing checks. All checks were to be delivered by 5 p.m. today.

The developments came as state general fund balances plunged toward zero, probably dooming the state to a second major payless payday a week from today.

The Ad Board ratified a proposal by Gov. Williams for draining the general fund dry and keeping it that way until a 35½ million dollar primary school interest fund payment is completed.

Institutions at Jackson, Ionia, Pontiac and Cassidy Lake made their own arrangements for a pickup at Lansing, where some 8,200 employes in the capitol area were expected to have their back pay by noon.

It was arranged to place paychecks bound for the Upper Peninsula aboard a North-Central airliner due in Escanaba at 2:27 p.m., with state relays speeding them from there to institutions and state offices at Hancock, Houghton, Newberry, Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie. It was snowing in the Upper Peninsula.

Those for the Detroit area were rushed by special courier to the Cadillac Square Building, with a stop-off en route at Howell, where department heads could take delivery.

$236 MILLION BALANCE

As formal approval came for cleaning out the general fund tomorrow to state the big primary school interest fund payment, the balance stood at $23,671,000 Gov. Williams reported.

"We might wind up Friday with $50,000 or with $17.35," he said last night, explaining that mechanics of the school payment would fix the level.

Blimp Crash Kills Navy Man

Six Other Crewmen Hurt as Craft Smacks Into Fog-Hid Hangar

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP)—One crewman was killed early today when a Navy blimp crashed into a hangar while attempting to land in a dense fog. Six crewmen were hospitalized, and several others of the 18-man crew suffered minor injuries.

Rescue workers clambered over the roof and removed the injured crewmen who had been trapped in the blimp's gondola.

The freak accident left the wreckage wedged near the top of the 150-foot high hangar. The whole rooftop was shrouded by the limp folds of the blimp's great gas bag.

LADDERS, TUNNELS

Rescuers had to reach the scene with aerial ladders and then tunnel beneath the deflated bag to reach the gondola car where the injured lay. It had rammed into the hangar roof and remained stuck fast.

The blimp was returning from a routine 21-hour submarine patrol early this morning. It was making a radar-controlled instrument approach through a swirling fog.

"They probably never saw the ground until after the hit," said Lt. Cmdr. Herman Spahr, administration officer of Squadron 3 to which the craft was attached.

"The fog was so bad we radioed the blimp to gain altitude and try to come in again," said Spahr. It was just picking up speed to 45 miles an hour when it hit.

The huge bag was ripped by the wreckage and its million cubic feet of helium whooshed out through its rent sides. The gas is not inflammable, and dispersed without harm.

Rescuers at first were unable to locate four officers and two men beneath the entangling sheets of the 343-foot long bag. The men were found in the fore part of the gondola.

The crew members in the rear of the car were unhurt and made their way down ladders to safety.

There were eight officers and 10 enlisted men aboard.

Spahr said the blimp was about two years old. It is made up of the sausage-shaped bag that holds the helium, and the gondola car that hangs below it. The blimp's two engines are attached to the gondola.

Renewal Plan Shapes Up

By PETE LOCHBILER

The scope of Pontiac's urban renewal project was beginning to take definite shape today.

Appraisers were set to move into the project area, initiating examinations that will lead ultimately to demolition of deteriorated buildings and clearance of blighted areas.

Almost 200 residents of the renewal area last night got their first glimpse at a map showing which areas the appraisers will examine.

According to the map, the urban renewal project will aim at:

Other rehabilitation on the west side of Saginaw between Auburn and Wessen and on the east side between Patterson and Judson.

CLEAR LOOP ZONE

Further clearance in the business district west of Saginaw, making way probably for new commercial buildings and municipal parking lots.

Clearance along the west side of Parke street, from Saginaw to the Civic Center, to make way for the eastern fork of the proposed loop highway.

Expansion of the civic center eastward towards Parkhurst and southward towards Auburn, to make way for future municipal buildings, such as a civic auditorium.

SPRUCE RESIDENTIAL AREA

Maintenance of the rest of the renewal area as a residential neighborhood, free of blight and deterioration.

Rundown residential sections that will be attacked are centered on such narrow streets as Willard, Orchard court, Alfred court and Cherry court.

The west side of Center street will be under examination, as well as Parkhurst, Chandler, Bliss and Hill streets in the Civic Center area.

Deteriorated buildings scattered throughout the renewal area will be eyed for possible demolition.

Behind some acquisition plans lies the desire of planners to widen some streets, close off others, develop parks and assemble small, crowded lots into larger plats for better homes.

In all, 379 parcels will be appraised within the next few weeks, said Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, for purposes of fitting the scope of the project within its $4 million budget.

"If it appears that our initial plans will cost too much, some acquisition plans may have to be dropped," he said.

Stierer, City Manager Walter K. Willman and Jacob Driker, a representative from the consulting firm of Geer Associates, spoke to the renewal area families last night, outlining the purpose of the upcoming appraisals.

Introduced were the five independent appraisers hired by the city to provide financial estimates required by the federal government before final approval of federal funds for the project.

Property that is definitely earmarked for acquisition by the project will be appraised a second time, probably early next year, to determine a purchase price based on fair market values, said Stierer.

POWER TO CONDEMN

The city is empowered to condemn land if a purchase price is not reached through negotiation, he reminded.

"The purpose of the project is to save the large majority of good dwellings in the area from blight," said Driker.

Stierer said that by September it will be known which properties are scheduled for acquisition and which are not.

On the basis of estimated cost of acquisition and plans for future use of cleared land, the federal government will be asked this fall to release $1,705,000 it has earmarked for the project, Stierer said.

Pontiac is scheduled to match this with about $853,000, to make

Free Berlin Elections Proposed by West

GENEVA (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter today offered the Soviet Union the Western powers' master plan for Germany including a new proposal to unite East and West Berlin without delay by free elections.

The Big Four foreign ministers met for two hours and 10 minutes today in their fourth session. They adjourned at 5:45 p.m. (11:45 a.m. EST).

The Western package provides also for the reunification of East and West Germany by slow stages.

Union of Berlin by free elections is envisaged as a first step toward a four-phase settlement of German and European security issues in the Western package plan unveiled today.

Informal sources said a parallel measure would be a Big Four declaration renouncing the use of force to settle disputes.

As a package the plan had no prospects of even serious consideration by the Soviet Union.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has already rejected it as a "tangle" of unrelated issues. But parts of it, especially the Berlin proposal, conceivably could lead to some bargaining.

Berlin, in the first phase of the package program, would be united by free elections under supervision of either the big powers or the United Nations.

A city council would be responsible for administering the whole city under the general supervision of the Big Four, but the powers could intervene in city affairs only by unanimous vote. How this arrangement would affect East Germany's capital in East Berlin was not stated.

The West made a compromise approach to the Soviet demand that East and West Germany must negotiate reunification directly between themselves.

It proposed in the second phase the creation of a mixed German committee of 25 West and 10 East Germans to make plans for increased contacts between the two Germanys and to draft an all-German electoral law.

The proposals provide for successive disarmament measures, including initial limits of 2½ million men in the armed forces of the United States and Soviet Union, and leading eventually to

Coupons Deluge Solons

Area Residents Rap Inflation

Pontiac area residents responded by the hundreds in expressing their views on inflation. This was revealed today by Sen. Philip A. Hart and Rep. William S. Broomfield from their Washington offices.

Broomfield reported over 500 coupons and Hart 375.

The Pontiac Press ran an editorial with coupons to be mailed on Saturday May 2, and followed with a full page display ad on Wednesday four days later.

The large number of Pontiac Press coupons received by both Hart and Broomfield voicing concern over federal spending is an indication that people are concerned about government spending.

Rep. Broomfield said, "I wish to thank the Pontiac Press for affording me the opportunity of hearing from my constituents back home. Knowing what the Oakland County voters want is a great help," he said.

Hart and Broomfield both expressed opinions that excessive government spending is a very hot issue on Capital Hill.

NEW YORK (AP) — Climbing costs forced 87 U.S. daily newspapers to boost their price to readers in the first four months of 1959, the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. reported today.

Some papers explained they "resisted such increases as long as economically possible," ANPA Gen. Mgr. Cranston Williams declared. One paper said the price hike was its first in 22 years.

Last year, 403 of the 1,477 daily newspapers in the U.S., Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico reporting to the ANPA raised prices in one or more circulation classes.

Joe E. Brown Robbed While Watching Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Joe E. Brown's enthusiasm for the Los Angeles Dodgers cost him $17,655 in money, jewelry and furs.

While the comedian was watching the Dodgers play the Phillies Tuesday night, thieves ransacked his home.

The evening wasn't a complete loss, Brown noted. The Dodgers won.

Key to Thefts Missing

GREENFIELD, Ind. (UPI) — Police solved a series of parking meter thefts, involving several hundred dollars in small change, but they weren't sure how permanent the solution was. Two teenaged boys admitted using keys a patrolman lost to rifle the meters. But they refused to say where the keys were.

Diplomat Satchmo Offers Services

'I'd Relax Them Cats in Geneva'

GENEVA (AP) — Trumpeter Louis Daniel (Satchmo) Armstrong blew into town and offered to relax the East-West foreign ministers with his red hot music.

"I don't know nothin' about politics," he said, "but if I could get them cats (the ministers) to sit still and listen, well then, daddy, maybe I can relax them a little."

"Get them cats to relax," he went on, "and Daddy, they'll just relax this tension in the world."

A reporter asked Satchmo if he thought Poland and Czechoslovakia should be allowed to sit in the foreign ministers meeting—a thing the Russians want.

"If it makes them happy and makes us happy," smiled the New Orleans-born jazzman, "then let 'em sit."

Pressed for more definite views, Armstrong replied:

"Daddy, you gettin' me in deep here, deep as a river. You better ask Ike about that."

He said he had faith in American presidents.

"That last one we had—he used to blow a lot of piano," guffawed Armstrong. "You know he tried to cut me one night before he was president."

In jazz talk, to cut means to try to outplay another jazzman. The cat who tried to cut him was a Missouri piano player name of Harry S. Truman.

He mopped his forehead again.

Asked earlier what he was doing in Geneva, Satchmo said: "Blowin', Daddy. I'm blowin' two concerts here.

He came here from Basel, where he said the Swiss cats were still jumping after his concert.

One reporter insisted on Armstrong telling him what he liked to be called.

"Call me anything you want to," he said, "just don't call me too late to eat."

Pilot Escapes as Jet Crashes

Bails Out at 6,000 Feet; Plane Hits in Michigan Near Barryton

Hugdahl radioed his base that he was at 40,000 feet above Green Bay on a navigational proficiency flight when he had engine trouble, coupled with a minor explosion.

He said he attempted to restart the engine, but failed as he glided back across Lake Michigan. When a crash became inevitable, Hugdahl said he hunted a sparsely populated area to bail out of the crippled plane.

He jumped at 6,000 feet.

The plane hit off M66 three miles north of Barryton in northeastern Mecosta County about 10:30 a.m.

Hugdahl is a 1956 graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy and was accompanied on today's flight by 1st. Lt. Jay Hess, flying another Delta. Hess stuck close to Hugdahl's plane until he bailed out.

Hugdahl has been stationed at Kinross since June, 1958, and has two children.

Hints New Arrests Planned in Lassiter Murder Probe

New arrests may be made in the investigation of Parvin (Bill) Lassiter's holdup-slaying April 6.

Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel H. Olson hinted at this yesterday after further questioning of three Chattanooga, Tenn., men held in the killing and robbery.

He said more arrests were possible, but did not elaborate.

Lassiter, owner of the Detroit Car Co., 2614 N. Woodward Ave., Royal Oak, was found shot through the head April 8 in a ditch off the Willow Run Expressway, seven miles from the Willow Run Airport.

Police say that Charles Nash, 42, a driver for Lassiter, and Richard Jones, 27, a Tennessee ex-convict, have accused each other of firing the fatal shot.

The third man, Roy C. Hicks, 36, former associate of Lassiter, told police he was too drunk to remember all that happened while the four men were together, although he recalled Nash had a gun.

2 SUSPECT HICKS

Nash and Jones, according to police, have said Hicks plotted the holdup and killing to avoid paying a debt he owed Lassiter. Hicks denies this.

Prosecutor Olsen said Hicks admitted taking $1,700 of Lassiter's money while the dealer was away on a business trip. He said Hicks called himself a friend of Lassiter, adding "I'm sorry about what happened but I'm not guilty."

Jones and Nash were taken to the scene of the crime to re-enact details, and their stories, according to police, tallied on almost all but one point:

Who fired the shot that killed Lassiter?

Olsen was to confer again with State Police today to determine what charges to bring against the three men.

Mrs. Broomfield Dies in Hospital

A resident of Royal Oak for the past 40 years, Mrs. Broomfield resided with her husband at 1120 S. Lafayette St. She was born at Lake Orion and attended Orion Township schools.

Mrs. Broomfield was a member of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. She also was a member of the Pythian Sisters and the Order of Eastern Star.

Surviving besides her husband, Dr. S. C. Broomfield, and Congressman Broomfield in Washington, D.C., are three other sons, Robert C. Broomfield of Southfield; Donald McLott of Royal Oak and Porter McLott of Clarkston, and two brothers, Walter Taylor of Lake Orion and Clarence Taylor of Cleveland.

Funeral service will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday from the C. F. Schnaidt Funeral Home, 1026 W. 11-Mile Rd., Royal Oak, with burial in White Chapel Cemetery, Troy.

Effort to Pry Out Jobless Bill Fails at Lansing

LANSING (AP)— A Democratic move to pry the House-approved jobless pay extension bill out of the Senate Labor Committee failed yesterday, attracting only 10 of the needed 18 votes.

Sen. Philip H. Rahol of Iron Mountain argued that while the bill remained deadlocked about 27,000 unemployed persons it would benefit have gone without unemployment compensation checks since April 1.

Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland), opposing Rahol's motion, said there was no point in bringing the bill out until the controversy is resolved that has held it up.

Majority Republicans have insisted the bill must include a clause to head off future applications of the Ford-Canton decision by the State Supreme Court in January.

Democrats contend the proposed GOP language goes too far. A panel of experts was named by Gov. Williams in February to devise wording that—in his view—would satisfactorily meet a proper goal in this area. It held its first hearing Monday.

Board Tonight Will Spell Out Policy on Band

The Board of Education will spell out its policy on the Pontiac Central High School Band at its meeting at 7:30 tonight at 40 Patterson St.

The Board has been under criticism by the Band Parents and Alumni Committee for reducing band practice time from two to one school period and for not allowing junior high musicians to join the senior high group.

In other business, the Board will consider establishing the position of special education director and discuss plans for the forthcoming Board of Education election June 8.

West Gives Soviets Plan to Unite Berlin

It would unify Germany in 30 months. United Germany would be free to elect membership in either the Atlantic Alliance or the Soviet bloc's Warsaw Pact, or choose a neutral policy.

In the third phase an all-German parliament or assembly would be elected at the end of the 30-month period. The free and secret elections would be supervised by East and West Germans plus either United Nations or Big Four representatives.

A summary released by the Western powers said the all-German assembly would complete the unification process by drafting a constitution and forming an "all-German government on the basis of the constitution with freedom of decision in internal and external affairs."

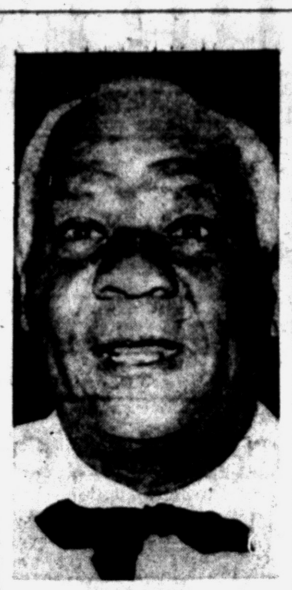

"The all-German government (would) be responsible for negotiating an all-German peace treaty," the summary said.

That would be the fourthphase.

Parallel with the stages of reunification, the Western nations provide for steps in security and disarmament. In making Berlin a "United City" the big powers would issue a declaration renouncing the aggressive use of force.

SIDNEY BECHET

Internationally Famous Jazzman Dies on 68th Birthday Near Paris

PARIS (AP) — Sidney Bechet, 68, famous jazz musician who came up from New Orleans to international prominence in the world of hot music, died today.

Death was caused by cancer. Bechet had been in failing health for some time and declined rapidly the past few days.

He died at his home in Garches, a Paris suburb.

The old-time Negro jazzman, who still played Dixieland style long after the younger musicians turned to other styles, died on his birthday of lung cancer.

Bechet started blowing clarinet in the old days of Storyville in New Orleans. He was a man with a lip. When he tucked it around a clarinet or his soprano saxophone, he made joyful sounds. He liked the soprano and it got to be his trademark.

MOST PALS GONE

Bechet brought his soprano saxophone and the clarinet to Paris after World War II. He caught on here and made money. Frenchmen bought more than a million of his records in 1956.

He played concerts and night club dates. He never had any trouble making money at home and led several small combos. But he liked it here.

"Paris is heaven with sidewalk cafes," he once said.

In 1951 Bechet took a white bride, Elizabeth Ziegler, an old friend. Then 43, she was a native of Germany and had been married once before to a Frenchman but later divorced.

Bechet, also once divorced, listed his age as 54 at that time but admitted he might have been closer to 60.

As soon as Fisher gets a passport, the couple will fly to Spain where they will board a honeymoon yacht.

The actress, 27, and the singer, 30, were married Tuesday in Las Vegas, Nev. They flew here Wednesday morning.

From the comingled total, the state will take about $4,100,000 to meet delayed payrolls. The remaining $7,600,000 will remain to finance the operations of the 14 restricted funds.

The Day in Birmingham

Mayors to Meet En Route to Exchange Day Program

BIRMINGHAM—When the mayor of Bloomfield Hills and the president of the village of Kinde exchange communities Monday, they will have their own brief meeting.

Mayor and Mrs. Lyman Craig Sr., along with City Manager Elmer Kephart and Mrs. Kephart will meet President John G. Wooster and his party en route, for a brief visit.

Participating in Michigan Mayors Exchange Day, Birmingham will send Mayor Harry Denyes to Saugatuck and entertain Richard Hoffman, president of that village, in return.

The program here includes a tour of the City Buildings for Hoffman and of the shopping area for Mrs. Hoffman. The party also will be shown through Derby Junior High School by Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, school superintendent.

In Bloomfield Hills guests there will be taken on a tour of the city, and to several of the area churches, Cranbrook Institute and the MacManus, John & Adams advertising agency.

Dinner at the Kingsley Inn will close the official visit.

Birmingham will have another special feature on Mayors Exchange Day. For the first time in history, the presiding officer at Monday's city commission meeting will be a woman.

Mayor Pro Tem Florence Willett will conduct the meeting in the mayor's absence.

According to Mrs. J. S. Moon, the annual Pet Parade and Plant Sale, sponsored in past years by the women of St. James Episcopal Church, is being replaced by a country auction to be held June 6 at the Lyle Bones home on North Adams road.

The auction will be under the sponsorship of the Men's Club, Ushers Guild and the churchwomen.

The auction will include toys, books, sporting equipment, antiques, glassware and furniture.

NORMAN O'BRIEN

Area Jaycees Elect President

O'Brien Picked Head of Pontiac Group for 1959-60 Term

A member of the Jaycee Board of Directors for two years, O'Brien has served as first, second and third vice president.

E. W. Watchpocket and Brent Jett were named state directors.

John Caples, William Dean Jr. and Richard Jorgenson were named to the Board of Directors, as were Weddle, Merkovitz, Huttenlocher and Jett.

Applications have been distributed through area high schools, the Community House and local stores for young drivers under 19 years of age.

The Jaycees said local winners will compete at the state level at Midland this summer. Winners from all 50 states will vie for the $4,500 in scholarships at Washington D. C. in August.

Registrations for the YMCA-sponsored Spring Campout of the Young Adults Club will close May 23. The group will visit Camp Ohlyesa on the Memorial Day weekend, May 30-31.

The Child Study Club of the Congregational Church will hold its final summer meeting and luncheon May 21 at the home of Mrs. Edward B. Chamberlain, 4539 Burnley Rd.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Fred C. Edwards.

The speaker will be Mrs. Richard Jesse, R. N. Her topic will be "The Christian Approach to Sex Education."

DAVID D. ACKERMAN

Service for David D. Ackerman, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine L. Ackerman of 1345 N. Bywood St., Clawson, will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery, Troy.

The child died yesterday in Detroit Osteopathic Hospital after a short illness.

Urban Renewal Plan Takes Definite Shape

up the estimated net cost of the project, $2,500,000.

But the federal government will allow the city to contribute its funds in the form of new streets sidewalks, sewers and other neighborhood improvements, Stierer said.

Final approval of the project is expected late this year or early next, Stierer said. Under urban renewal terms, the federal money will be available for five years.

"It's expected that we will have all our acquisition and clearance completed in five years, but new building in the area may proceed for as long as ten years," Stierer said.

All of the purchased land, with the exception of that acquired for such city purposes as the Civic Center, will be resold to private business for development, with some of it being replatted first, said Driker.

Late Checks Rushed to State Employes

Other officials guessed about 10 days.

For the duration, the governor said, major state universities, state employes and state suppliers could expect no money except comparatively trifling amounts in emergency circumstances.

Asked if sizable relief was in sight except through sale of veterans trust fund bonds, Williams said he could think of only one possible source—the state public school employes retirement fund which had 108 million dollars in assets last June 30.

"If they (the Legislature) are dastardly enough to steal the retirement fund, there's that. I suppose they could sell the Capitol and the Mackinac Bridge," he said bitterly.

The governor said dipping into the teachers retirement fund would be legal but "morally indefensible."

The veterans trust fund, which he favors borrowing, is tied up in the new tax-cash crisis stalemate.

While paying a net of $4,100,000 to state employes healed their pocketbooks, other effects of the payroll holdup were bound to linger long, including tarnishing of the state's credit across the country.

Checks totaling $100,000 missed April 30 were distributed to state lawmakers, judges and legislative staff members, but the governor said an equal amount due tomorrow will be withheld.

French Movie Queen Is Granted a Divorce

PARIS (UPI) — Shapely French movie queen Martine Carol was granted a divorce yesterday from the producer-husband she said she "never saw."

A French court concluded the 35-year-old blonde, who became famous for her movie nude scenes and husband Christian Jaque were guilty of "reciprocal wrong" in neglecting each other.

Turkish Government Harasses Opposition

Turkey's ISMET INONU succeeded strongman KEMAL ATATURK as president in 1938, and in 1950 he permitted democratic elections and lost. However, he still is the leader of the Republican People's party in opposition to Prime Minister MENDERES' Democrats.

Reports strongly indicate, however, that Turkey is now far off the democratic course. According to the International Press Institute editors, publishers and reporters are being jailed and otherwise persecuted on trumped up charges. Kasim Gulek, a Republican party leader and publisher, who would be prime minister if his party were in power, is under constant harassment. Many believe he lost the last election only through fraud.

In a nationally syndicated interview with a staff member of the Milwaukee Journal, Mr. GULEK again outlined his position and defended his point of view. As a result a committee on the grand national assembly has recommended that GULEK'S parliamentary immunity be revoked and that he stand trial on the ironic charge of "lowering the prestige of Turkey." If convicted GULEK could be jailed for a year with permanent loss of the right to participate in politics. This would remove MENDERES' most popular opponent.

A further indication of how far Turkey has retrogressed comes in the stoning by Democrat recruited mobs of much respected 74 year old former president Ismet Inonu. When he left Ankara on a speaking tour in opposition to the government, none of his supporters was allowed in the station. At railway stops his speeches were drowned out by engine whistles and audiences scattered by tear gas.

At Usak, where 37 years ago INONU had captured the Greek commander and shattered Greek armies, his way to the depot was blocked by "a solid wall of Democratic toughs" says Time magazine, who stoned and knocked him down while 250 gendarmes stood idly by. He was warned by the government that there would be more of the same if he persisted.

Americans are shocked at this sort of persecution. If patriots such as Inonu and Gulek can be silenced, how can the Menderes government call itself democratic and freedom loving and on those grounds ask for and get aid from the United States.

Reds Couldn't Face Tibet's Dalai Lama

As was to be expected, Peiping has refused Prime Minister NEHRU'S invitation to Red Chinese officials and their puppet, the Panchen Lama, to come to India and discuss the Tibetan affair. This was Mr. NEHRU'S answer to the official Peiping press which has been smearing and trying to intimidate him.

If the invitation had been accepted, the Communists would have had to listen to the Dalai Lama himself tell how Peiping violated its pledge to respect Tibetan autonomy, of the merciless suppression of his country and his flight to freedom. Red China would have none of that version.

According to Prime Minister CHOU EN-LAI, what happened was this: A reactionary clique of the "upper social strata" didn't want the people taking part in their government and, in collaboration with "imperialists" were constantly plotting. They wanted to restore "a backward dark, reactionary regime and cruel serfdom," with the help of CHIANG KAI-SHEK and "foreign reactionaries." India's "expansionist ambitions" were blamed for the "kidnaping and captivity" of the Dalai Lama in that country.

The whole world knows the Tibetans were led by patriots against Communist forces which denied them their every right to freedom. The Red Chinese goal is to control the Buddhist world and its head, the Dalai Lama, who has great prestige among Asian peoples. The gentle non-violent creed has millions of followers to whom the meaning of Communism now is unmistakably clear.

The Man About Town

Our Forefathers Inherited Many From Indians

Some of the cures handed down from the aborigines in the Pontiac area still persist with our older residents. This is brought to mind by a letter from of Beloit, Ill., formerly of Pontiac. He writes me for some dried bark of sassafras root, so he can make some tea with it. He says his grandfather drank it regularly, "and never was sick until he moved where he could not get it, and where he died at the age of 98." Some of the bark is in the mail on the way to Beloit.

Bradley Fells

reports having frequently seen a pair near his home at Pontiac Lake during the last few days. They are unlike mink or any other animal, eat fish, and correctly match pictures he has seen of otters.

of Birmingham to phone me that a few years ago damages were awarded in a local court for a similar action in a neighborhood feud.

The local army draft boards are asked to send 18 men as their June quota. The city board sends eight, its induction date being June 4, and the out-county board sends ten on June 3.

That exponent and participant in Pontiac's progress,

Miss Ella M. Green,

soon celebrates her 101st birthday at her home at 217 North Saginaw St., where she has lived for nearly three-quarters of a century.

"No foolin' the skies are droolin'."

could be elected mayor of Detroit,

Allan Rosencrans

of Rochester phones: "Yes, and if he keeps up this pace we'll make him Governor of Michigan, build him a new capitol, and cheer ourselves hoarse as he pulls the state out of bankruptcy."

of Drayton Plains the other day. The bird finally jerked it loose in her yard—with three toes in it.

Getting her first driver's license at 73 years of age,

Mrs. Ruth Dunning

We Need a Bigger Garage or a Smaller Car

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Should Get Tough on 'Summit'

GENEVA — There is an obvious weakness in the American strategy at the four-power conference here, and only President Eisenhower can remove it.

LAWRENCE

The Soviets have been repeatedly told by the press of the world that, no matter what happens at the Geneva conference, there will be a "summit" conference anyhow. Under such circumstances, the Soviets are saying to themselves, "What difference does it make if we turn down the 'package' plan and everything else?"

Here are four governments represented by their highest officials vested with the responsibility of conducting diplomatic relations with other countries, and yet, in effect, the world is being told that these men are mere figureheads and that what they do or say here doesn't make the slightest difference to the heads of their respective governments, for those four chief personalities must gather later this summer anyway.

Why should the President of the United States permit such a farce to go on? If the United States means what it says—and certainly the television speech last week by Secretary of State Herter, approved by the President, expressed courageously the American viewpoint—why should there not be serious negotiations here and agreements reached that could be formally ratified later by the heads of state?

But the way matters look now, this "conference" is to be a perfunctory affair, with a good deal of wrangling on details and with a final communique confessing to the world that the four foreign ministers have failed in their duty.

Presumably then only the four heads of state can straighten it all out. This may be the Communist conception of the whole "negotiation," but it hardly seems plausible that the Western governments would be parties to such a brazen artifice.

It is true that President Eisenhower has said several times that there would be a "summit" conference only if the results at the foreign ministers conference here "justify" it.

But newspaper writers generally and, indeed, the diplomats in London have discounted that statement to such an extent that the feeling is rather widespread about the certainty of a "summit" meeting no matter whether anything substantial is achieved at the current conference.

It ought to be clear to everybody that a "summit" conference can hardly be a long-drawn-out affair and that a week devoted to such an occasion would be a lot of time for the President to be away from the United States.

It would be impracticable to undertake any lengthly negotiations at a "summit" conference. So, unless the major part of the agreements to be reached are completed here, it would appear to be futile for the President to go to any conference.

If Eisenhower announced now that he has not made up his mind to go to a "summit" conference unless a specific solution is reached on the Berlin problem, for example, it would serve notice on the foreign ministers here that they must accomplish something tangible. And it would put an end to the trivialities.

Dr. William Brady Says:

U.S. Physical Education Shamefully Neglected

Some deformities are congenital, that is to say, present at birth. Some are caused by injuries of the head, long bones or nerve plexuses in the course of difficult or prolonged delivery.

DR. BRADY

But most deformities are acquired after birth, especially in the late years of childhood and the early years of youth—the years when the education of growing children is so shamefully neglected or slighted by our elementary schools—both public and private.

I do not mean to imply that all acquired deformities can be charged to poor education. But many of them are due to faulty education and may be prevented by good education. This is not just my contention but the consensus of medical and orthopedic authorities.

Educate, says Webster, means to bring up, train, develop a child physically, mentally, morally. The elementary schools make a mockery of physical education and cover up the deficiency by encouraging football hysteria.

This farce, re-run year after year, is bad enough for the handful of overgrown children who are chosen to participate. It is worse for all the rest of the pupils, who are permitted only to cheer on signal or go through their pretty chorus girl drills between halves.

The aggressive relatives or precocious, show-off pupils, backed by the "sports" writers, take charge, while the parents of the rest of the pupils (90 per cent of the student body) meekly do what they are told—it's all for the school spirit, alma mater and of course to appease the loud mouths in the community.

CAN'T FIND ROOM

Educators formerly disregarded physical development of the child and scarcely recognized that it is or should be a serious part of the everyday business of the public school.

We heard much talk about introducing physical education into the public schools at the time of World War I, a lot more at the time of World War II, and today some of our leaders, including the President himself, from time to time express concern about the increasing softness and unfitness of American youth.

But the educators just can't find room for physical training without curtailing such essential things as basket weaving, music appreciation and Sir Roger de Coverly.

Several times I have referred (I don't know whether it was printed) to the significant observations of Hans Kraus, M.D., and Bonnie Prudden, that European school children are physically fit and American children are not.

For instance more than one-third of American children flunk simple tests of physical strength which less than two per cent of European children flunk. The American way of life makes softies, mollycoddles. The Eruopean way of life is still more natural and favors normal physical development.

European youngsters walk and run to and from school, while American youngsters ride; European youngsters go out and play, while American youngsters sit at the radio, TV, the movies, baligame or studying the comics.

Going out to play was one of the advantages of being brought up in a small town or village, and I hope it still is. Our playgrounds were the street, the schoolyard and the vacant lots not far from home.

In cities today playgrounds are few and generally too far from home. We must provide physical education in school or else raise a generation of namby-pambies to run the push-button world.

'Put Delinquents Into the Marines'

I have a good plan for the juvenile burglars and thugs. Instead of sending them to jail, give them five years in the U. S. Marines. Society would be free of them for a period of time and they would be good boys or else. The Marines know just how to handle the bums and hoods. We might better have some third rate Marines than some first rate punks. In five years they would learn an awful lot about minding.

Mothers Could Cure Molesters

I think about the best punishment for these men who go around molesting children would be to turn about five mothers loose on one man at a time.

I bet, when we got through with them, they wouldn't want to look at a female the rest of their lives.

Does Punishment Fit Crime or Not?

Mr. Samuel, Oakland County Probation officer, left the door wide open when he stated that citizens should know more about a case before they "open their big mouths." This statutory rape case is a good place to start and seeing as you're an employe of the taxpayer, you're elected.

According to our laws, can a 15 year old girl give legal consent? Is it your position that if you kill someone who is ill already, that makes your crime less condemning? Maybe as you insinuated, some of these 15-year-old maidens could tell us old folks a plenty and maybe we should hang our heads in shame.

I'm sure, Mr. Samuel that you are aware that a psychiatrist hired by the defendant attended the entire trial and, according to his testimony, it was his opinion that this girl was very ill and needed psychiatric treatment.

The defendant, in this case, is a man with all the material things that make life worth living.

This man was financially able to appeal the verdict, as I understand it, but dropped it when probation was the decision of the court.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Do You Qualify as a Litterbug?

Consider Arthur's protest today. For many people who are adults in years, still act juvenile in their social behavior. Test yourself by the questions below and see if you are thoughtless or thoughtful. Then send for the longer test mentioned below, for a lot of 40-year-old men and women rate juvenile in emotional maturity.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B-434: Arthur J., aged 27, is a high school math teacher.

"Dr. Crane, what makes people so thoughtless?" he asked.

"Some of the kids from the better class homes will toss papers on the sidewalk and litter up our beautiful streets.

DR. CRANE

"I notice that some states now have signs along the main motor highways warning litterbugs that they are subject to a $100 fine for discarding beer cans and other refuse thereon.

"Are such careless, dirty habits carried over into other fields of a person's life?"

CASE IN MORALITY

Arthur is correct in saying that many people from supposedly better homes are very careless.

To be thoughtful, however instead of thoughtless, usually requires specific training in definite acts.

For example, many a person who subscribes to the Golden Rule as a general ethical principle, hasn't had it broken down to fit the casual everyday situations.

Yesterday I sat on a bench in Chicago waiting for a train. A cultured looking woman was next to me. She had a head cold, so used some paper tissue as a handkerchief.

Then she casually dropped the paper on the floor. It blew down the street.

Would she have dropped it on the parlor rug at home? Probably not, but she apparently had no qualms about littering the street, probably because her case had not been spotlighted and thus called to her attention.

Another woman, less cultured looking, sat on my right. She slipped the last cigarette out of a package, then dropped the empty paper container on the floor.

At that station there was a metal drum to hold such discarded items. Why didn't these adult women either hold their dicards till they got home or else walk over to this metal drum and drop them therein?

This specific "case method" is long overdue in teaching children morality and social conduct.

Highlight such evidences of thoughtlessness. Ask your school pupils to submit all the instances that have come to their attention.

Then copy them on the blackboard. For whenever we have our attention called to these casual errors, we are more likely to eliminate them in the future.

The art of changing a thoughtless person into a thoughtful one, is largely accomplished by the specific "case method" technique.

How many people still spit on the sidewalk? How many women stroll along the street or drive a car with a cigarette drooping from the corner of their mouths?

How many women persist in smoking in department stores, despite posted warnings to the contrary by city fire ordinances?

How many people in a restaurant light up a cigarette and blow second hand germs and soot across the food of the patron at the next chair?

How many burn garbage or waste paper when the neighbor is hanging out freshly laundered clothes? How many school or college youth play a radio or TV loudly after 10 p. m. and keep tomorrow's working folks awake, who need sleep at that hour?

How many fail to wipe toothpaste flecks off the mirror after brushing their teeth? How many drape a wet towel over the tub instead of hanging it up?

For further specific items, send for my "Behavior Test for Teen-Agers," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It will show you adults whether you are still emotionally juvenile, too!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Chileans Gird for Ski Slopes

Winter Sport Fast Becoming Most Popular With Mountain Nation

WASHINGTON—Winter is coming to Chile, and some of the world's most avid winter sports fans have shaken their ski pants out of mothballs. While residents of the Northern Hemisphere look to the beaches, Chileans wax their boards and eagerly watch snow deepen on the Andes.

As in other Latin American countries, 'futbol' still holds first place among the sports minded in Chile, but skiing threatens to avalanche football's popularity in the next few years, reports Kip Ross of the National Geographic Magazine staff. He lists two reasons for the change:

"The Chilean love for sports is famous, but spectator games such as 'futbol' are not enough for these vigorous people. They have to participate. Since its introduction in 1931, skiing has become the second most popular sport in Chile.

"The second reason for the shift to skis is the geography of the country," Mr. Ross said. "Snow-covered slopes extend for nearly 2,000 miles of Chile's 3,000-mile length. The Andes offer a constant invitation.

The nation is so narrow that Chileans can always see the mountains, even when they are swimming in the Pacific. The skiing season lasts from March through October."

According to Hans Nolb, Austrian designer of ski lifts and runs, the slopes of the Chilean resort of Chillan are equaled only by those of Davos, Switzerland, an all-time international favorite. Though Chillan is 230 miles south of Santiago, it has its own airfield. The Chillan boasts an added attraction, hot springs, in which a skier can soak after a day on the snow.

Chile, which is by far the most ski conscious of Latin American countries, hopes that jet transport will fill its superb snow fields with Northern Hemisphere visitors.

Chileans point out that their ski resorts lie only a few hours by air from Miami's tropical attractions and the Midwest's warm summers.

Machine Replaces Wife, Tells When You're Tipsy

Now occupying the place of honor alongside the juke box, the slot machine and the cigarette vender in five local taverns are "blood-test" devices.

'TAKE A TAXI'

If the dial slides past the 1.5 pro mille critical point, the advice is to "take a taxi or wait a while with a cup of coffee."

The 1.5 pro mille mark has just been introduced into German law. Anyone with more than 1.5 cubic centimeters of alcohol to each 1,000 cubic centimeters of blood in his body is, in the eyes of the law, intoxicated and unfit to drive.

And drunken drivers receive notoriously heavy penalties in Germany. Loss of driving license for five years is the least one can expect. With the help of the new machine, however, no one need drive while drunk, even if he doesn't feel as though he's under the influence.

The machine is called "Alcolex," and it works this way:

Before putting 50 pfennigs in the slot, three levers have to be adjusted.

One of them is for registering just how many tankards have been tipped. The chart for this lever has markings for a variety of spirits, beer and cider.

Once this has been figured and set correctly, lever number two is adjusted to the time in which said liquid was consumed.

CAN'T SET DIALS

After all this—the taverns report there have been cases where the person hasn't been up to setting the dials—the coin is dropped in the slot and, before you have time to take another gulp, you know if you're intoxicated or not.

Besides telling you if you're legally drunk, the machine also works out just how long it will be before you're sober again.

On the front of the machine is the inscription:

"Be careful. Don't risk your driving license, your personal freedom, your insurance protection, your health, your life and that of others. Test your condition before you steer your auto."

Bar Teacher Says Women Better Tenders

NEW YORK (UPI)—Women are better students of bartending than men because they are "neater, more adept with their hands, have better memories and don't gossip."

The authority for this statement is John Boning, who has operated the Bartenders School in New York for more than 25 years. More than 12,000 students have completed the school's five-week course and about one-fourth of them were women.

Boning said: "Women make better bartender students, as a rule, because they're more careful about their own appearance and the appearance of their bars. They are better with their hands than men and can make drinks with a minimum of shadow boxing.

"Give a woman a drink recipe and she'll never forget it. And another thing—they mind their own business."

At school, the students work with artificial devices: colored water for whisky and wine, sand instead of sugar and marbles for olives and cherries.

"Off campus," oBning added, the men students prefer scotch and martinis while the co-eds go in for "something chic, such as cognac and French champagne."

'Hobbies for All Ages'

Junk Serves Charitable Purpose

NEW YORK (UPI) — Make a cash donation to a charity called "Hobbies for All Ages" and it will be returned to you.

Send old clothes or remodeled games and they, too, will be returned.

"We accept only waste and surplus materials," said George Silberberg, the retired engineer who heads the off-beat charity on behalf of the Grand Street Boys, a New York do-good organization.

More than 6,000 tiny and giant industries have contributed more than one million dollars' worth of "waste" to "Hobbies" during the last four years.

The materials detoured from the scrap heap may look like so much junk. Silberberg turns the inventive cogs in his brain to figure out ways the aged, teenagers, prison inmates and the sick can use the oddments in their hobbies.

He'll take a couple of miles of worn out electric wire, pull off the insulation and fashion a cigarette case from some of the copper inside. He'll take a carton of old-fashioned shoulder pads and sew them together, making a quilt or a bed jacket — to prove that there is good in waste.

The hobbies he thus dreams up are blue-printed and passed out to more than 700 homes and centers for the aged, hospitals, settlement houses, mental hygiene agencies, clubs, camps, and Veterans Administration hospitals across the nation.

When Silberberg sends out a request to a firm, he explains that the contributions of material are tax deductible.

He asks for fabrics, party hats, clay, beads, buttons, belting, yarn, plastic, art supplies, shoes, marbles, unsold records, burlap, batting, encyclopedias, stamps, wood, book covers, books, notions, wallpaper, shoulder pads.

To keep costs down, Silberberg runs the charity like a penny-pinching miser. Once a week, he dons tattered clothes and climbs behind the wheel of a five-ton truck to make pick-ups — himself.

REQUESTS INVESTIGATED

When Silberberg gets a "please help us" letter from a social worker or recreation leader, he looks up the organization involved. If it's legitimate, he puts together a carton — or a couple dozen — of the waste materials.

Keeping the overhead low is a prime problem in organized charity, according to Silberberg. Volunteers run the office and handle correspondence. One of these is Mrs. Silberberg.

Silberberg assisted by his brother, Mac, donates his time and storage and office space in the Bronx. Ordinarily, the quarters would rent for $350 a month.

The retired engineer would like to see the "hobbies out of waste" idea catch on across the country, but he doesn't want "Hobbies" to become a national organization because "the overhead would get too high."

Nor is Silberberg worried about competition if groups similar to his sprout up elsewhere.

"There's enough waste to go around," he said confidently.

Skunk Came Down From Mars? Why Not?

Sherman Paterson of nearby East Pembroke reported the skunk was roaming his backyard with its head stuck in a bottle, looking something like a creature from outer space.

Kentucky Farmer Licks Utility Bill Problem

To Display Whitney Art

LONDON (AP) — Londoners are promised a public view of U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney's art collection in the fall of 1960. The Tate Gallery trustees said they have accepted an offer by Whitney to loan his collection of Impressionist and post-Impressionist paintings.

Flight Is Interrupted When Man Cuts Himself

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Edward Costley, 33, of Glencoe, Ill., forced an Eastern Air Lines plane to make an emergency landing here yesterday when he cut his arm twice with a razor.

Costley was founnd in the rest room of the plane, en route from New Orleans to Newark, N.J., by the plane's engineer.

The plane, flight 302, made an emergency landing and Costley was rushed by ambulance to St. Margaret's Hospital where he was given emergency treatment. He was questioned at police headquarters before being released.

No reason for the incident was given.

Cancer Quacks Love Fear

(This is the second in a three part series exposing cancer quacks)

By HELENA FROST
American Cancer Society

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "Step right up, ladies and gentlemen, and get your bottle of snake oil . . . smuggled right out of a sacred tomb of ancient Egypt . . . just one bottle will cure boils and bunions, fevers and fits, gout and gas . . . step right up and get your elixir of life!"

But listen to this, circa mid-century of enlightenment:

"I can show you how to live 180 years, free from mankind's most dread diseases . . . cancer cases that the medical profession have given up have come to me . . . and in 30 days they begin to heal . . . in 90 days they are well again!"

Yes, the spiel of the medicine man is heard in the land.

The medical quacks of our scientific century are legion. And among them are the cancer quacks who sell "cures" that can kill the patient with early cancer; for taking the "cure" postpones surgery or radiation, the only methods of saving life from cancer today.

The swindlers are wearing new disguises. But their psychology is the same as that of the pitch-man in the top hat. Only their target is different.

The few "honest" do-gooders, and the small-time charlatans who peddle in the back alleys of life are dangerous.

But most dangerous are the big-time operators. They are rich and shrewd. They have social and political influence. They are totally ruthless. And they are out after you and millions like you.

That's why Commissioner George P. Larrick of the Drug and Food Administration has joined with the American Medical Association and the American Cancer Society in a campaign of public education.

As the Commissioner says: "It takes two to make a swindle—the swindler and the victim."

With an enlightened public, potential victims would dwindle, and so would the swindle.

The motive of the big-time quacks is simple—greed.

But what is ours? Why are we ready to buy their "cures" which often have the ring of absurdity?

Because we are afraid. And because we don't know, or refuse to believe.

Because we're afraid of the very word cancer, mankind's fear of the ancient enemy. We don't believe one out of every two patients can be cured if the cancer is properly treated in time. Yet it's a fact.

Harry M. Hoxsey knows those fears — and has capitalized on them. He has been called America's No. 1 cancer quack. You can take his word for it, because it is frankly printed on the jacket of his own book, "You Don't Have to Die."

Hoxsey is a frank man. About his Dallas clinic he once said for publication: "Hell, this is my hobby. Oil is my business."

Here is the man in thumbnail: Finished school with eighth grade. Veterinarian father "cured" cancer as a sideline and bequeather "recipts" to Harry who used them to launch treatment in 1924. Convicted three times in Illinois for practicing without license, and once in Ohio, permanently enjoined from practicing in Iowa, arrested while practicing in Detroit—to mention a few tangles with the courts over a period of 30 years.

In 1936, Hoxsey opened his first clinic in Dallas. His "hobby" prospered and earned him an estimated million dollars a year.

In April, 1956, the Food and Drug Administration issued a warning which began: "PUBLIC

THEY ALL WENT QUACK — All three of these "cure that kill" devices have been proved worthless. Left, a cure-all colored light projector which the FDA calls one of the most fantastic swindles of our times. Top right, a plastic dumb bell, claimed to have "atomic healing powers," which proved to be filled with common tap water. Bottom right, a magic cure-all "spike" priced at $306, worth less than a penny.

BEWARE . . . Those afflicted with cancer are warned not to be misled by the false promise that the Hoxsey treatment will cure or alleviate their condition . . ."

In September 1957, the FDA brought an injunction against a second Hoxsey Clinic in Portage, Pa. In November 1958, it closed.

In May 1957, the state of Texas enjoined Hoxsey from practicing medicine and using the licenses of other physicians. The state also suspended several osteopathic physicians and one doctor of medicine on his payroll. Hoxsey replied by leasing the Dallas clinic to an osteopath from a small Texas town.

But latest developments report a split between the two men and and the Hoxsey treatment is no longer administered at the Dallas clinic.

Summing up, Commissioner Larrick said "The Government's warning was certainly effective. It was widely published by the press—and so were Mr. Hoxsey's protests! But in the first 30 weeks after our warning was posted at least 3,000 people were dissuaded from being taken in by the false promise of a quick and painless cure for cancer."

Those who are fighting quackery with inadequate legal weapons are gratified—and wait.

For Hoxsey has attempted to establish himself in three different places in California, Pennsylvania and Nevada.

As a result, Pulver continued, many small producers are unable to make a living and have become public welfare charges.

Adams said that as an old Upper Peninsula man he was keenly aware of their plight and would pursue the matter on all fronts.

The producers also complained that:

1. They are not covered by unemployment compensation insurance.

2. Most are uncovered by workmen's compensation insurance because they cannot afford the high rates stemming from the the dangerous nature of their work.

A spokesman for the State Employment Security Commission promised to investigate the possibility of extending jobless pay coverage.

Adams said he would ask the state insurance commissioner to review workmen's compensation rates.

The producers also protested that, in some cases, they are adversely affected by private sale of state timber rather than competitive bidding.

Use of 'Narcotic Gun' Urged to Quell Rioters

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — The co-inventor of a "narcotic gun," used to painlessly quiet ferocious animals, suggested today rioting prisoners be subdued with the gun.

"Instead of using bullets, the gun or pistol could fire a harmless but effective narcotic or a violent emetic and could be just as useful in 'de-activating' the persons to be captured," said Dr. Seldon Fuert, University of Tennessee Pharmacy School dean.

Gen. Taylor to Speak

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, will be main speaker at the annual Armed Forces Day banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Saturday night, it has been announced.

State Department Sets Up 122 Trips for Solons, Staffs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department arranged 122 overseas trips for members of Congress and their staffs last year, it is disclosed.

Testimony released by a House appropriations subcommittee showed William B. Macomber, assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, testifying that his office "gets reservations" and "helps work out itineraries" for junketing congressmen.

His office also arranges speakers from the State Department for a "congressman who has some kind of a public meeting back in his district," he said.

Congressmen usually use government-owned foreign currencies to finance travels abroad on official duties. The testimony did not show how much the 122 trips cost the government.

Repairmen Find Books Hidden Under TV Set

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP)—Two TV repairmen thought Bob Ditmore's TV set was heavy when they started carrying it out of the house.

'Most Wanted' Man Taken in Pajamas

Kervan had been sought in connection with the holdup of the East Norwalk, Conn., branch of the Merchants Bank and Trust Co. last Feb. 5. A gunman robbed the bank of $29,445. Kervan had $921 in cash and a bank book showing $750 in a savings account when he was arrested.

The tall, gray-haired Kervan was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Henry Clifton and locked in the El Paso County jail pending extradition to Connecticut.

FBI Agent Francis Crosby said Kervan apparently arrived in El Paso late in February and lived in hotels before renting the garage apartment late in March.

Rise in Infant Deaths Alarms N.Y. Officials

NEW YORK (AP)—A sharp rise—6 per cent—in the death rate among newborn babies has alarmed the City Health Department.

All nurses and doctors have been asked to help check on the causes. The winter influenza epidemic and a large number of premature births are blamed for the increase but the department is not satisfied this is the whole story. Investigators will look into the possibility that drug-resisting staphylococcal infections also killed some babies.

So far this year among 55,537 births, 1,613 babies died, two-thirds of them less than a month old. This is a rate of 29.1 per thousand, compared to 26.4 for 1958.

The greatest number of deaths has been among the poor, notably Puerto Ricans and Negroes whose influx here has caused birth rates in their groups to double in the last nine years. Premature births, which also predominate among these groups, account for one-third of the infant deaths. Lack of prenatal care is one of the causes of the too early births, the department said.

Believe Ruins Near Rome Go Back to Aeneas

ROME (AP)—Ruins believed to be that of ancient Lavinium, the town founded by Aeneas, have been unearthed near Rome.

Two Italian archeologists, who have been working on the excavations for more than two years, are convinced that the ruins date to the Trojan hero, who fled to the Italian peninsula after the destruction of Troy.

The ruins have been unearthed at Pratica di Mare, near an air force base 18 miles southwest of Rome.

Prof. Ferdinando Castagnoli and Lucos Cozza of the Pontifical Roman Academy of Archeology are certain that what they have thus far discovered are ruins of the cemetery of the pre-Rome town Aeneas is supposed to have founded and named for his wife.

The first important discovery two years ago was an altar. Last spring and summer, three more altars were found.

"We realized then," said Castagnoli, "that we had found the necropolis (burial) area of Lavinium."

In a few months they unearthed another nine altars. The archeologists said that the altars were named after Aeneas' wife and dated to a period between the 6th and 1st centuries before Christ.

Near the altars, terra cotta heads and votive tablets were found. The tablets are believed to have been offerings to the gods.

Reds to See MSU on Film as Typical

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Pictures of Michigan State University will be used to show Russians what a typical American university is like during a six-week exhibition in Moscow this summer, officials said.

MSU was chosen by the U.S. Information Agency to depict higher learning in a display which will also include examples of elementary and secondary schools and educational television.

The exhibit begins June 25 in Sokolniki Park, officials said.

Other universities will be shown in films, particularly one on American architecture, but MSU will be the only one to get extensive pictorial treatment, officials said.

President Harding was the first to use the radio. President Truman was the first to be seen on television.

Summit Outlook for 'Frisco Good

GENEVA (AP) — San Francisco appeared today to have an inside track for a summit meeting.

And the opening date for the meeting of heads of government being mentioned by officials here is Saturday or Monday, Aug. 1 or 3.

San Francisco heads the list of sites prepared by the Big Four diplomats here for the foreign ministers conference. Geneva is second. Vienna and Quebec City seemed to be slowly dropping out.

The foreign ministers will have to agree on the time, place and work schedule for a summit meeting, provided one is held. A summit conference still hinges on a reasonable promise of some success as shown by the progress of the foreign ministers' talks.

British Prime Minister Macmillan is said to favor San Francisco for a summit meeting and it is known Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would like to visit the United States.

The United States appears reconciled to having Khrushchev as a guest and could avoid a special visit by having the summit conference at San Francisco.

President Charles de Gaulle of France wants the meeting in Geneva but would not turn down an American meeting place, it is believed here.

Erin's Andrews Has All Britain on His Line

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Eight years ago Eamonn Andrews was a clean-cut young chap from Ireland who decided to "have a go" at finding work in London. He went, all right. Now he has changed from clean-cut to filthy rich.

Mr. Andrews is the Ralph Edwards—John Daly—Shari Lewis—Mel Allen of Britain. He emcees BBC TV's "This Is Your Life," moderates "What's My Line," conducts its two top kiddie shows and broadcasts sports. He also writes a newspaper column, but that is just for cabbie fare to the studios.

"I would say," he said today, "that our show 'What's My Line?' is the same as yours in one major respect. Every year the station says, 'Well we'll be rid of this next year.' And if never is. It has an affectionate audience, bless them.

"And we know it is still successful (after 8 years) because the churches in England still adjust their hours of Sunday evening services so as not to conflict with 'What's My Line?'

PUBS AFFECTED

The British pubs, also, are affected. Their hours, on Sundays, are 7 to 10 p.m., and no matter what time Andrews' program is scheduled in any given season, they have slow business for that half hour.

They could put TV sets behind the bar, as in the U.S., but they refuse. "In England," Eamonn explains, "drinking is a serious business, not to be diluted with television."

There is no money involved in challenging the British panel. Men and women with curious occupations receive, if they stump the experts, a citation. "It is a great honor, and what is $50 compared with honor?"

The odd ones (career-wise) fight to get on the show. "It's quite remarkable," Eamonn says, "that 'What's My Line?' has made more reputations on TV than any other program. A brewery barrel-sniffer, or a chicken-sexer or a cockle-washer — these people can go on to big things in the entertainment business after one appearance.

REAL STUMPER

"Our stumpingest challenger was a sagger maker's bottom-knocker. Incredible business. There is a piece of pottery called a 'sagger.' Well, this man assisted the sagger maker by knocking the bottom of the mold to get out the sagger, you see what I mean?

"The audience talked about that for days, and the bottom-knocker became famous overnight. This is the chief difference between our show and yours. Our fans don't care so much about the panel as about the guests.

"Your fans say 'Wasn't Arlene or Dorothy smart last night?'

"Our fans say 'That was a corking good nappy servicer they had on last night!'

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip are among WML's ardent watchers, and Princess Margaret has dropped in to see the show.

It long has been a dream of Andrews to have Margaret as a "Mystery Guest" but "these things are quite impossible in England. When we heard that John (Daly) had Jim Hagerty as a mystery guest we were amazed. How much closer is the White House than Buckingham Palace!"

Urges Anti-Red Brain Trust

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department wants to set up a "brain trust" whose sole duty would be to master-mind global political and economic warfare against the Communists.

The plan was disclosed today when a House appropriations subcommittee made public testimony given last February by State Department officials.

Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon, Deputy Undersecretary Loy W. Henderson and others warned that the Communist offensive had picked up to such an extent that the United States had to move fast to counteract it.

They urged that Congress provide enough money to create a special staff that would devote full time to analyzing the Red moves and how to combat them.

4 in 10 Choose Income Levy

Poll Shows 6 in 10 Prefer Sales Tax Hike for State

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit News said today a survey has disclosed that 6 out of 10 people interviewed in Michigan's lower Peninsula favored a higher sales tax to any form of income tax.

And, the News said, the survey showed most of those favoring an income tax thought it should be paid only by persons earning more than $6,000 a year.

The survey was made by Market Opinion Research Co. The News described the survey as comprehensive and scientific, and said previous studies made by the firm proved accurate. The number of persons interviewed was not disclosed.

This was the question used by interviewers:

"The State of Michigan needs additional income. To supply this need, would you prefer to pay:

(A) Increased sales tax?

(B) Graduated rate income tax?

(C) Flat rate income tax?"

Those preferring either kind of income tax were asked whether the levy should apply to everybody's entire income, or only to income in excess of $3,000 a year, or only to income of more than $6,000 a year.

These were the results reported today in a copyrighted story by the News:

Of the total 59.5 per cent (almost 6 out of 10) preferred an increased sales tax, and 39.7 per cent (almost 4 out of 10) preferred some form of income tax.

In the 39.7 income tax group, 29.5 per cent thought it should be graduated and 10.2 per cent thought it should be flat-rate.

A further breakdown of the income tax advocates showed 25.8 per cent thought is should apply only to those earning more than $6,000 a year and 7.4 thought it should apply to those earning more than $3,000, while 6.4 thought it should apply to everybody's entire income.

The majority sentiment favoring a sales tax increase was the same in Detroit as in outstate areas, the News said, although the margin of difference varied substantially.

License Plates Must Be Kept Clean, Readable

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's against the law to allow your license plates to become so dirty they can't be read. They shouldn't be allowed to hang by one bolt either.

A good idea is to give the plates a solid waxing as you wax your car. The wax acts as a cover for the plates and makes them much easier to keep clean. It also cuts down on rust.

What Is Juvenile Delinquency Today? Who--When--Why, Experts Say

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

Foul language is shocking in a classroom, but passes unnoticed in a street corner gang.

To steal for kicks is outright crime, to steal because you're hungry and don't know where your next meal is coming from is crime tempered by the instinct to survive.

Even adults can't always make up their minds about what's right and what's wrong. Some communities permit bingo games, others rule them illegal. Some churches use it as a source of income for charitable work.

A panel of six experts, who have just concluded a nine-month study of juvenile delinquency for the National Education Assn., says a delinquent act can only be judged in relation to the forces that caused it. The specialists represent the fields of cultural anthropology, pediatrics, psychiatry, psychology, criminology and sociology.

Truancy, or skipping school, is a form of juvenile misbehavior. But what is it?

It may be the healthy rebellion of a normal adolescent who only rarely breaks the rules. It may be conformance to the standards of a gang that hates school. It may be a brief emotional recess from a confining and unfriendly classroom. It may be a serious conflict with overly demanding parents who are pressuring a child to succeed. And it may be a symptom of a child's inability to cope with the realities of his daily life.

There's a big difference in the way adults and youngsters look at things. To the average adult, a misbehaving teenager may be maladjusted. But to the teenager, what he does is purely adjustive, he's just trying to adapt himself to his family life, his neighborhood, his friends.

Nearly everyone considers himself an expert on juvenile delinquency, and has firm ideas about its causes and cures. But, say the experts, it's not that simple, or delinquency would long since have ceased to be a major topic of national concern.

Over the years, says the NEA study, a great deal of fable and folklore has grown up around the problems of the adolescent. Myths, half-truths and misconceptions are accepted as fact.

Many people, for instance, point to working mothers as a major cause of delinquency. According to the experts, however, the effect of a working mother varies from family to family, neighborhood to neighborhood. More research is needed, they say, before this theory can be accepted.

Broken homes often are blamed. But it may be only because the youngster with two parents to back him gets a better break in court. The youngster from a broken home runs a bigger risk of being sent off to a state institution — and he's the one who gets mentioned in the newspapers.

The proposition that delinquents aren't really bright is a common assumption with little or no scientific support, according to the report.

Another popular idea knocked by the experts is that "a community with many playgrounds is a community with little delinquency." Carefully planned recreation programs can help, they say, if coordinated with other efforts, but their research indicates no direct relationship between such programs and delinquency rates.

Bad companions, heredity, poor physical health and slum neighborhoods also were cited by the experts as oft-quoted causes of delinquency which really aren't.

"Juvenile delinquency is not a 24-hour malady," says the report. "It does not develop overnight. Serious and persistent trouble with the law on the part of youngsters can be traced back to a long sequence of cause and effect."

Even the term juvenile delinquency has become "corroded, overworked and useless, except as a dirty word used to strike back at the kids," says Dr. William C. Kvaraceus, director of the NEA project.

"There has been such frequent and indiscriminate use of the words in recent years that they don't really mean anything now."

The current report offers no pat solution for the juvenile delinquency problem because, the experts say, there just isn't any.

The report did make these points, however:

There is a desperate need for more and better research than ever has been attempted in the field.

Community efforts that have proven effective must be expanded, and useless practices discarded.

More and better efforts must be made to identify the delinquency bound youngster before he gets there.

Primarily, it said, "in seeking a cure for delinquency, the neighborhood, not the child, must be the patient."

BIGGER, HEAVIER, FARTHER — As plans go forward for launching the first manned earth satellite, Project Mercury, the contract for an even more advanced vehicle has been awarded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. This is Vega, a three-stage rocket. It may be used to carry the first exploratory instruments to Venus in 1961. Comparison sketch above shows Mercury and Vega (Vega is 10 stories tall), toegther with two other huge rocket combinations in planning.

Press Visits the Zoo

BABIES, HANDLE WITH CARE — They look cute but take note — the trainer handling these two-month-old lion cubs has plenty of protection on his hands. The three haven't grown big teeth yet, but those claws are king-sized and razor sharp. Almost squeezed out, that fellow in the middle seems to be pawing his way to the forefront while muttering a few unkind words to his brothers.

AURORA AND BOREALIS — Probably the outstanding additions to the Detroit Zoo this year are these two twin polar bear cubs, Aurora and Borealis. They were born last December to Olga, who is looking over their shoulders. The Detroit Zoo has been the only American zoo successful in raising polar bear cubs.

There's Lots to See That's New This Year Down at the Detroit Zoo

By DICK SAUNDERS

Two simian hipsters were overheard yesterday discussing a press preview show at Detroit Zoological Park in Royal Oak.

His buddy turned and intoned coolly, "I'm hip. That chick's the most with maracas and Jazbo flips when Julius swings on a high note."

The Detroit Zoological Park Commission can't promise talking monkeys on exhibition this summer, but beginning today they'll offer just about every other animal attraction possible.

ALTERNATE RINGMASTERS

If you're wondering who Julius and Jazbo are, they are the stars of the Chimpanzee Show, acting as alternate simian ringmasters.

Our two friends were passing critical judgment of a chimp band, part of the show, with instrumentation ranging from saxophone and piano to the wild maraca playing (and dancing) of a chimp daintily dressed in a blue dress.

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderworp

Julius and Jazbo combine with Albert, Danny, Louise, Chico, Sammy and a host of younger chimps to perform admirably as aerialists, clowns, strong men and the Keystone Cops.

Their trainers, Ernie Soderberg, Bill Polovich and their assistant George Theure, have put together an outstanding animal act which will be the highlight of any trip to the zoo.

TWO PREVIEWS

With McInnis at the helm, a train of press, radio and television reporters got the first peek at the zoo this year. Then, following a luncheon, McInnis was off again to present an afternoon preview for Detroit city officials and members of the Detroit Zoological Society.

Today, at 10 a.m., the zoo officially opened its gates to the public. This is its 32nd season.

Included in the afternoon was a "girlie" show. Dancing for the crowd were Mary, Mona, Ruth and Susie—four of the cutest elephants in captivity.

They range in age from Susie, 10, to Mary, 18, and perform equally well as clowns, gymnasts or fashion models. Their trainer is Steve Leko, and his assistant is Jack Bruckman.

8 WEEKS OLD

Dane, a lioness at the zoo, gave birth to the three balls of fur about eight weeks ago. The cubs look as cuddly as house kittens, but veteran keepers handle them with kid gloves, heavily reinforced with thick leather and padding.

Probably the most outstanding new additions from both the "cute" angle and that of accomplishment for the staff are Aurora and Borealis, twin polar bears born to Olga last December.

The roly poly twins are the latest in a string of accomplishments of zoo personnel in the polar bear department. In recent years, the Detroit Zoo has been the only American zoo successful at raising polar bear cubs.

Other notable births include the arrival of two puma cubs, a pair of Eland calves, four Dorcas gazelles, many tiny baboons and Rhesus monkeys, Aoudads and Llamas.

A big attraction pleasing both adults and youngsters will be the zoo's four new kangaroos, in and out of pouch.

The zoo offers two new reindeer recently arrived from Norway and the first of their kind to be exhibited here.

FORMOSAN DEER

The two adult caribou are especially difficult to maintain in captivity since they are not used to the parasites of this region of the earth.

Formosan deer also are being shown for the first time. For bird fans, the park has added more than 100 birds to its collection since last season.

A trip to the Detroit Zoo, located on W. 10-Mile road, will be a new experience this year in many ways even to "veteran" patrons.

DOUBLY MEAN? — Could this be the meanest creature on earth? A Rhino with a head at both ends? It appears that way, one head looking out for trouble while the other eats. But the camera angle only makes it seem that these two rhinos at the Detroit Zoo are one.

Kensington Park's Island Queen Batters All Barriers to Sail Again

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Today's "second" launching of the riverboat Island Queen has definitely guaranteed smooth sailing for summer passengers at Kensington Park, assured superintendent Dave Laidlaw.

Constructed completely by hand in a big red barn in Saugatuck by Dick Hoffman, the 60-foot replica of an early riverboat weighs ten tons, has two opera decks, cost the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority $13,500 and has more than paid for itself in money and pleasure, according to Laidlaw.

It has been an eventful spring for the little boat that last year hauled some 20,000 spectators around 13 miles of scenic shorelines in beautiful Kensington Park, at a leisurely, 8 miles per hour.

WATER LOWERED

Each fall the boat is floated over a big cement ramp in a small cove, the water in the lake is lowered and the Island Queen is bedded down for the winter.

In the spring after all danger of flash floods has passed, the water is then raised by a level control in the Huron River dam near Grand River avenue.

This year the Island Queen was rudely awakened from her long winter's nap by fast-rising water slushing around her hull long before the boat was ready to float into another season.

The reason for this premature launching was that four dam floodgates, controlling nearby Milford ponds, were thrown open, sending thousands of tons of water into Kent lake. Park officials soon brought the water level under control and returned the Island Queen to her berth on shore.

Workmen began the task of painting and cleaning and overhauling the boat's 27-horsepower Diesel engine.

Everything was set until officials attempted to get the Queen's license last week.

It seems that a new federal law was passed last summer, placing any water craft with more than a ten-horsepower motor under the jurisdiction of the United States Coast Guard.

Tuesday, Coast Guard inspectors combined "common sense with rigid regulations," and after a few minor changes, put the stamp of approval on the riverboat, making possible her first official trip May 23.

Only one problem remains before the boat goes into full-time operation June 15. That is to hire three Coast Guard-approved operators.

They must have had one year's boat operator experience on a licensed Coast Guard-approved vessel. Laidlaw said applicants are now being considered.

As the shining white Queen paddled away from the loading dock today, she seemed to kick up more spray than usual in a first-season test run, violently defying any element that might deter her course — that of showing off nature in all her glory at Kensington.

17 French Works of Art Bring Record $1,166,400

NEW YORK (UPI)—Seventeen French art works sold like gold-plated hot cakes last night — bringing a record total of $1,166,400 at a celebrity-studded auction.

The top bid — $255,000 for a Renoir—was made by auto heir Walter P. Chrysler Jr. The paintings, pastels and drawings of French impressionists were from the estate of Chrysler's late sister, Thelma Chrysler Foy, who died in 1957.

The Renoir was a 32 by 25 and ¾ inch portrait of the two daughters of Durand-Ruel, Renoir's Paris art dealer. Charles Durand-Ruel of Paris, nephew of the daughters, failed to match Chrysler's bid at the Parke-Bernet Galleries.

The interior scene of a secondary painter, Vuillard, went for $27,500. Dance studio owner Arthur Murray paid $16,000 for a Renoir nude.

With such a star-studded collection and a celebrity-packed audience, auctioneer Louis Marion wasted no time in low-rate bidding. He began the bidding for some items at $100,000, an unprecedented figure.

The celebrities on hand included movie stars Henry Fonda and Paulette Goddard, cosmetic queen Helena Rubinstein, jewlers Claude Cartier and Louis Arpels, Cuban sugar king Julio Lobo, Philadelphia Inquirer publisher Walter H. Annenberg and socialite Anthony Drexel Biddle.

U.S. May Purchase State Shore Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government would buy up to three shore areas for public use under a proposal submitted to Congress yesterday.

The Interior Department asked that 15 million dollars be authorized for the purpose. The Secretary of the Interior would select not more than three areas with outstanding natural, public recreation, scenic or other public value. They would be called national shore areas.

Among the sites being given most serious consideration in the event the authority is granted are:

Teen Bandstand to Feature Pair of Recording Acts

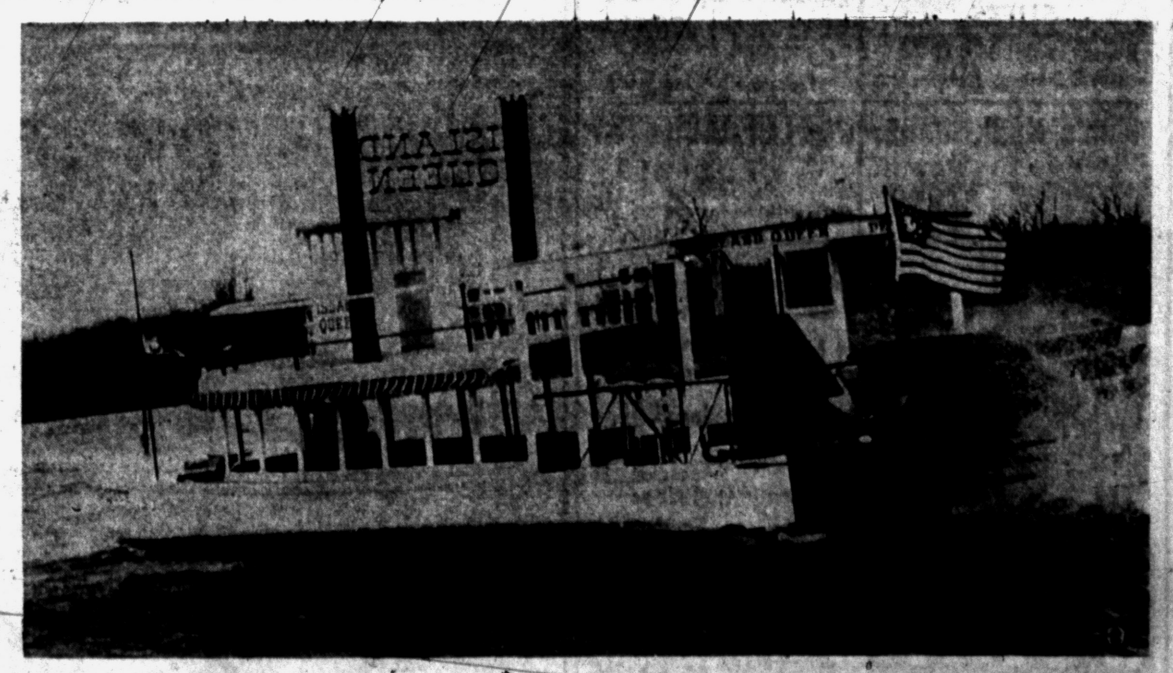

Pontiac teenagers have a special attraction awaiting them at the Pontiac Bandstand Dance tomorrow night in the National Guard Armory.

Entertaining will be The Ferros and the Jaguars, two local groups which became nationwide recording artists this week.

The Ferros, a vocal quartet made up of Harold Reynolds, 18, of Pontiac Central High, Bob Carrol, 17, and Jerry Wells, 17, both students at Pontiac Northern High, and Gus Ferro, 17, of Eastern Junior High School, will be there to sing their new disc of "Tough Cat" and "Come Home, My Love."

Backing them up as on the record are the Jaguars, a Pontiac teenage instrumental group. The rock 'n' roll stars are known throughout Oakland County and the Detroit area. Their record was released for national distribution on the Hi-Q label Monday.

The dance will begin at 8 and last until midnight. It is sponsored by the Pontiac Teen Club.

LAUNCH ISLAND QUEEN — In spite of threatening legal shoals, the pleasure craft, Island Queen, was successfully launched today for another season of plying over the smooth waters of Kent Lake at Kensington Park.

Peru Airliner With 8 Vanishes in Jungle

LIMA, Peru (UPI)—A Peruvian airliner with eight persons aboard, including an American and a Canadian, was missing today in the dense jungles of eastern Peru.

The plane carried a crew of two, including Paul Dixon, its American pilot. Among the six passengers was Cornelius Sans, identified as a Canadian geophysicist.

Call for Action Opens Floodgates

Ike's Plea May Unbalance Budget

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower may have put not only the Democratic Congress but himself on a political spot with his demand for speedy action on highway, housing and wheat legislation.

Eisenhower caught the Democrats by surprise Wednesday with a special message outlining the damage to the economy that may result in these three politically potent fields if Congress dawdles.

There seemed little doubt that Democrats will answer the President's request for emergency action with passage of a series of bills calling for government spending far beyond the limits Eisenhower hassaid he is willing to accept.

Because he emphasized the critical nature of the problems, Democrats think the President has put himself in a position where he may find it difficult to veto such measures.

Beyond that, the opposition party believes it can use the President's own words — such as his statement there is an "impending disaster in wheat" — to build up strength for attempts to override any vetoes that may be forthcoming.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, acting Senate Democratic leader, made it clear his party has no intention of yielding to Eisenhower's views on important aspects of highway, housing and wheat legislation. A similar reaction came from House Democratic leaders.

Mansfield said, for instance, there is no possibility that Congress will even consider increasing the gasoline tax from 3 to 4½ cents a gallon. Eisenhower had asked the increase to finance additional grants to the states for construction of interstate highways.

There is no dispute in Congress over Eisenhower's request for additional loan insurance authority for the Federal Housing Administration. But both the Senate and a House committee have included this in general housing bills which contain features to which Eisenhower objects. Mansfield said the housing bills will not be pared down to the limits the President wants.

The House Agriculture Committee answered Eisenhower's plea for lower wheat supports by voting Wednesday to maintain these price props at 90 per cent of parity for the next two years, instead of the 75 per cent supports now in effect. The House committee did approve a 30 per cent reduction in wheat acreage allotments.

Ministers Discuss N-Ban

GENEVA (AP) — The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union took time out from the problems of Berlin and Germany today to discuss ways of speeding up a ban on nuclear weapon tests.

Some hope was expressed in Washington that the Western powers will be able to reach an accord with the Soviets. But there are still a lot of big problems to be solved. They deal mainly with enforcing a test ban.

France, which has not yet joined the atomic club, did not take part in today's meeting of U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. It was held several hours before the daily session of the Big Four conference on Germany.

The three atomic powers have been discussing a treaty to ban nuclear weapon tests for the past six months here in Geneva.

The talks have been recessed until June 8 to avoid conflicting with the conference on Germany. Herter and Lloyd invited Gromyko to sit down with them and review progress to date.

Both sides have moved cautiously toward the idea of 180 control posts around the world, manned with mixed staffs of nationals and foreigners, to check against violations of an agreement to end tests. The West wants a majority of foreigners in each station. The Soviet Union insists the majority must be citizens of the country where the post is located.

The Soviets have proposed limiting the number of on-site inspections of suspected explosions. Expressing interest, the Western powers are trying to find out the number of inspections Moscow has in mind and whether they could be carried out free from interference by the host nation.

The United States and Britain have suggested phased suspension of tests — first halting explosions up to an altitude of 30 miles and under water. The Soviets called these halfway measures and impractical.

U.S. officials in Washington, while holding out some hope for an accord, aren't counting on clearing the obstacles ahead in time to sign a pact at a summer summit conference.

President Eisenhower told a White House news conference Wednesday that he isn't yet able to say what the prospects are for an agreement.

Alleged Red Given Award by College

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Clinton Jencks, 40-year-old former mine union official once accused of being a Communist, has been awarded a fellowship at the University of California.

The university said Wednesday he had been accorded the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation Award and plans to start work next fall on a master's degree in economics.

Jencks' Mine, Mill and Smelters Workers Union card was taken away by the CIO 10 years ago after it labelled him a Communist. He was sentenced to a five-year term on perjury charges six years ago, but was granted a new trial by the U.S. Supreme Court. The government decided against a retrial.

Foundation officials said they had found no evidence Jencks is a Communist or ever was one.

OKs $1.2 Billion in Construction

Senate Armed Services Committee Approves a Bill for Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has approved a bill authorizing $1,227,882,000 of spending for military construction in the United States and abroad for the year starting July 1.

This is about 25 million dollars under the $1,252,608,000 allowed by the House, and nearly 130 million dollars less than asked by the administration. The construction consists mainly of public works and housing at Army, Navy, Air Force and reserve bases.

None of the work can be started, however, until Congress approves separate legislation appropriating the money.

Chairman Richard Russell (D-Ga) said the committee deleted $17,332,000 from the $22,413,000 requested by the Defense Department for extension and improvement of the Nike-Hercules missiles defense system.

Russell said the committee amended the House-passed bill to specify that after Dec. 31, 1959 the Defense Department could not spend any funds for procurement of aircraft or missiles unless appropriations for specific programs were first authorized by legislation.

Russell said the Defense Department has allocated about nine billion dollars for the year starting July 1 on aircraft and missiles programs.

Questions Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department may be spending too much on homes for attaches and deputy chiefs, Rep. John J. Rooney (D-NY) says. He questioned construction of $50,000 residences because "maybe these sorts of things have something to do with our deteriorating relationships all over the world."

British Push Their Ghostly Business

Tourists Offered English Shroud Route

The British Travel Association is pushing tours of ghostly places, along with stately homes, pubs and literary landmarks, for the record 360,000 American visitors expected in Britain in 1959.

The association promises a wide assortment of spooks for the tourist who has seen everything else.

A lucky ghost seeker may see Anne Boleyn's apparition riding around London in a coach some eerie midnight with her head in her lap, a red-haired spook shrieking through Macbeth's old digs at Glamis (pronounced Glahms) Castle in Scotland, or a friendly but entirely invisible fellow who breathes down the necks of visitors roaming a stately old home near Robin Hood's Sherwood Forest.

Edmund Antrobus, a leading authority on shrouds, haunts and various other scary phenomena, including billows of smoke and wall tappings, outlined what he thought would make a delightfully spine-tingling tour of Britain.

ENGLAND GHOSTLY

"England is more ghostly than anywhere else," he said. "It lends itself rather nicely to the subject."

He recommends the haunt enthusiast should warm up to the subject by visiting a few good ghostly places in London.

There is what he calls a warm, friendly ghost of an unidentified 18th century actor haunting the balcony of the Drury Lane Theater and kibitizing the performers.

Kensington Palace, on Hyde Park, boasts "a good reliable ghost," identified by ectoplastic experts as the shroud of William III's wife, Mary, who died of the pox.

Hampton Court Palace, on the River Thames, 10 miles from London has a trio of raucous female ghosts — two of them wives of Henry VIII and ane a nurse.

Other places along Antrobus' shrouded route include:

HORSES GALLOP

At the Ferry Boat Inn, Holwell, Huntingdonshire, where the ghost of Juliet Tewslie, who hanged herself 550 years ago, turns up periodically as a white-clad lady.

Antrobus said that Scotland and Cornwall are especially hospitable to apparitions, probably because of their spooky moors. The Ghost of Bodmin Moor, in Cornwall, is an outstanding shroud of this ilk, he said.

"At twilight," he continued, "there is an odd presence that causes walkers to have an urge to look over their shoulders to see if anyone is following them. The ghost of wicked steward John Tregeagle also gads about. He is chased by hounds across the moor every night."

Mount Pleasant Oil Capital of State

(This is the 18th in a series of articles on Michigan's industrial and cultural achievements written by Michigan newsmen as an introduction to Michigan Week, May 17-23.)

By WALLACE TOWN
Staff Writer,
Mount Pleasant Daily Times-News

MOUNT PLEASANT — Centrally located in Michigan at the crossroads of two of the state's major highways, U.S. 27 and M20, is the growing and progressive Mount Pleasant, Michigan's long-time oil capital and the home of expanding Central Michigan University and the Mount Pleasant State Home and Training School.

Industry in Mount Pleasant is tied to the oil and automobile business. Leonard Refineries, Inc., has become a leader in the production of high quality petroleum products, and the local division was an early leader in forward-looking petroleum processing.

The presence of the refinery is a natural outgrowth of the fact that Mount Pleasant has long been known as Michigan's oil capital. Local producers using methods learned here are now helping develop new oil fields elsewhere in the state.

The oil business provides an annual million-dollar payroll for the approximately 1,500 men and women affiliated with it here. About 170 companies associated with the oil and gas industry in production, transportation and services have offices here.

Crude oil and natural gas are produced from the wells in Isabella County, and pipe lines extend from Mount Pleasant to all the other major oil producing areas of the state. About 90 per cent of the state's total oil production comes from fields within a radius of 70 miles of Mount Pleasant.

Mount Pleasant Metal Products was the original name of the branch plant of the Ferro Stamping Co. which opened in June 1939, and has grown since then. The plant produces automotive hardware, such as door locks, window regulators and deck hinges.

Other companies with plants in Mount Pleasant include Borden Co., Valley Chemical Co. and Harris Milling Co.

The town's two biggest employers are Central Michigan University and the State Home and Training School. Both are growing by leaps and bounds.

Central Michigan's new designation as a university—authorized by the Legislature this year—reflects its expanding curriculum, recently broadened to include graduate courses. The institution was founded by local residents in 1892 as the Central Michigan Normal School and Business Institute. In 1895, it was taken over by the state. Today it has an enrollment of more than 4,000 full-time students.

The State Home and Training School for the mentally retarded, one of the major institutions of its kind in the state, is now completing a 250-bed addition which will give it facilities to accommodate a total of 900 patients.

The State Home was formerly an Indian school founded by the federal government to teach the many Indian children in the area. From 1892 until 1934, more than 10,000 Indian children received training at the school.

The Indians of the Isabella Territory maintain a 560-acre reservation four miles east of the city, and approximately 1,000 Americans of Indian descent live in the county. Basket weaving and their annual pageants offer colorful opportunities for tourists to observe ancient Indian lore.

The city's downtown business district is scheduled to get a complete revamping at the hands of the city planning commission, with the assistance of the local Chamber of Commerce and the City Commission. The city is also actively seeking new industry.

The city is close to the southern fringe of Michigan's northland, giving the community a pleasant assortment of outdoor recreational attractions, both summer and winter.

Proud of its public school system, the city has five elementary schools, one junior high school and a senior high school completed in 1957. Mount Pleasant also has a Catholic parochial grade and high school.

Mount Pleasant's residents think their town is aptly named. They like to say it's a pleasant place to work and live and play.

TOWERS OF PROSPERITY—Mount Pleasant has long been known as Michigan's Oil Capital. The Leonard Refineries, Inc., plant has become a leader in the production of high quality petroleum products, illustrated by these modern special cracking towers.

Admiral Is Unhappy With Antisub Force

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The commander of the First Pacific Fleet says America's defense against missile-launching submarines "is not as good as I would like to see it."

Russian subs probably are deployed along the Pacific coast, Vice Admiral Ruthven E. Libby told a news conference Wednesday. But he would not confirm reports the subs have been sighted near the Channel Islands off the Southern California coast.

"Our needs to combat this threat are more efficiency and more ships," he added. "We are getting fewer ships, and the ones we have are 14 years old and wearing out."

CHEVY GIVES YOU 7 BIG BESTS!

Take it, not from us, but from the published opinions of outside, independent experts and from on-the-record facts and figures: Chevrolet gives you these 7 big bests over any other car in its field!

BEST BRAKES

In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not: Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research

BEST ENGINE

Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price."

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably '59 in every modern line.

BEST STYLE

BEST ECONOMY

No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car.

Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.7 inches wider than competitive cars.

BEST ROOM

BEST TRADE-IN Check the figures in any official N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

†National Automobile Dealers Association

BEST RIDE

You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But MOTOR TREND magazine expresses it this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

PLUS THESE TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

Who'd want to do without Chevrolet's extra luxuries? Like Safety Plate Glass in every window, the protection of full wraparound bumpers, crank-operated ventipanes, the convenience of single-key locking, a real overhead curved windshield, oil-hushed hydraulic valve lifters in every standard engine for quieter running, a bigger luggage compartment with side wall lining . . . and the boon of automatic choke in every model!

No wonder more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car!

Visit your local authorized Chevrolet dealer and see how much more Chevy has to offer!

Materiel Failure Felt Unlikely as Cause of Northville Mishap

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Air National Guard will convene an inquiry board tomorrow to find out what caused an RF84F Thunderflash to crash in a residential area of nearby Northville last Friday.

Maj. John A. Johnston, director of operations for the 127th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing, said parts of the jet plane sent to the Mobile air Materiel Area in Alabama "show no positive indication of materiel failure although we were not able to test all parts because of impact damage."

Johnston said planes of similar design which were grounded following the accident "will resume flying later this week when operational checks of control systems and general inspection of aircraft are completed."

Five children were playing in a backyard sandpile when the jet plane crashed. Two were hospitalized with serious burns from flaming fuel oil.

The pilot, Maj. John L. Moutier, 30, of Belleville, bailed out safely. He was preparing to land at Detroit Metropolitan Airport 15 miles away. He said the controls locked and he was unable to maneuver the plane.

The inquiry board will be attended by representatives of the Air Force Flight Safety Research Center at San Bernardino, Calif., the Mobile Air Materiel Area, the Republic Aircraft Corp., the U.S. Air Force and the Michigan Air National Guard.

Theme: 'We're Proud of Michigan'

State Week to Counter Bad Publicity

LANSING (AP)—"We're Proud of Michigan" is the theme of the sixth annual Michigan Week opening Sunday.

Promoters are going ahead with the celebration as if they never heard of payless paydays and the state's cash crisis.

Symbol of Michigan Week is a chesty robin pointing to the state's position on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Backers are making this observance a crusade. They hope to overcome some of the unfavorable nationwide publicity of recent months.

"Too much has been said about our problems and not enough about the many good things in the state," declared Howard J. Stoddard, president of the Michigan National Bank. "Let's get busy and extol our virtues."

"We should take a positive approach," said Paul Carnahan, board chairman of Great Lakes Steep Corp. and Michigan Week general chairman. "Every citizen should sell Michigan."

More than one million pieces of promotional literature have been distributed.

Making the trip will be Dairy Princess Judy Damman of Fowlerville, Bean Queen Kay Havens of Perrinton, Apple Queen Suzanne Davis of Belding and Cherry Queen Marcia Wamsley of Traverse City.

Miss Michigan, Patricia Patience of Detroit, will make similar appearances.

Many newspapers plan special sections on the theme. Radio and television programs will carry word of the week.

Tours of industry, displays of industrial products, open house programs, school assemblies, art and photo shows, essay contests, lectures, films, parades and pageants are planned to reach as many people as possible.

The Michigan Historical Commission will dedicate markers at Kalamazoo, Petoskey and Charlotte.

Six members will be named to the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame.

All-Michigan menus will be served at diners and in restaurants.

MANCHESTER, N. H. (UPI)—Commenting editorially on plans for a centennial celebration of the Civil War, the Manchester Union-Leader said:

Charged With Cruelty

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A deputy dog warden is awaiting trial here on a charge of cruelty to animals. Carl Slack, 33, is accused of striking a dog with a chain attached to a collar he was attempting to pass around its neck. Slack said he feared the snarling animal would bite him.

'Bard of the Yukon' Leaves $297,874

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Robert W. Service, the bard of the Yukon during gold rush days, left a net estate of $297,874, it was disclosed Wednesday when his will was filed for probate.

Service, who died in Monte Carlo last Sept. 11 at the age of 85, had established before his death a trust fund of $100,000 for his two grandchildren, Anne and Armelle Davies, both of Monte Carlo.

Under Monacan law, Service's daughter, Mrs. Iris Davies, also of Monte Carlo, takes half of the estate. His will directed that the remaining half be shared equally by Mrs. Davies and his widow, Mrs. Germaine Service.

Walking Exercise Relaxes, Reduces

Sometimes it isn't practical to get out and walk around the block. However, it is wise to use walking as a limbering-up, relaxing exercise. So, learn to walk in one spot.

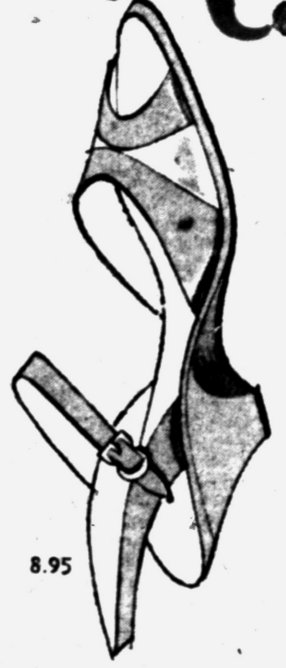

Stand with good posture and move one foot out and forward from the hip. Do this with the other foot. Keep knees straight and move only the hips. This is good for circulation and reduces hip measurements.

Fiancee Was Right to Refuse Gift

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son has been in the hospital for the past month. He is engaged to a very nice girl. She spends a good deal of time at our house and is like one of the family. She had a birthday recently and as my son has not been earning any money for some time, he asked me to buy her a gift. I selected a very pretty nightgown and put both his name and mine on the card.

"She refused to accept it. This hurt my feelings terribly and I can't feel toward her as I did before. She knew I selected the gift and also paid for it. Under the circumstances don't you think she was very rude not to accept it?"

Answer: A nightgown was not a very proper choice for a gift from your son even though you selected it, and the girl was, strictly speaking, right in not accepting it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married shortly at a rather large wedding. I would like very much to wear a long dress. However, the mother of the bride prefers a short dress and I have been told that if she doesn't wear a long dress, it would be wrong for me to wear one as it is improper for the bridegroom's mother to be more elaborately dressed than the bride's mother. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Answer: It is true that the bride's mother has the more important role at the wedding, but if a long dress is more becoming to you, I do not think she will mind if you wear one that is not too elaborate.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct way to inscribe a book which I am giving as a present to the wife of a friend. Should it be, 'To Mary Brown' or 'To Mrs. John Brown'?"

Answer: If you call her Mary, you write "To Mary Brown." If you call her Mrs. Brown, you write "To Mrs. John Brown."

"Dear Mrs. Post: My mother-in-law is very ill and not expected to live. In the event of death, would it be in bad taste to wear navy blue instead of black? My wardrobe does not include a black dress and I never wear that color."

Answer: If you can possibly do so, you should certainly wear black at the funeral — even if it means borrowing a dress. In other words, to wear any color on that one occasion would seem very disrespectful to your husband's family.

What Young People Think

Teens, Collegiates Differ in Rating of Sin

By EUGENE GILBERT

The American teenager appears more in awe of moral law than the law of man, quicker to condemn immorality than crime.

In this he differs from many of his older brothers and sisters attending college. Though the two groups are near enough in age, they seem far apart in their opinion of right and wrong.

We took the 15 things the students listed as the worst offenses and asked 643 teenagers across the country to rate them according to degree of "wrongness."

The three things the teenagers condemned most are frequently not punished effectively by law. They concern war and sexual promiscdity.

By contrast, the college students gave their severest condemnation to kidnaping, hit-and-run driving and perjury.

More than 25 per cent of the teeners said the worst possible offense is the use of poison gas against non-combatants in wartime.

'THAT'S MURDER'

Most of the comments on use of poison gas in warfare were akin to this one by 17-year-old Nancy Huser of Sac City, Iowa: "To me this far exceeds any of the other crimes in 'wrongness' because it affects so many innocent people who can do nothing about their situation."

The second worst offense in the moral judgment of the teenagers is a man's desertion of a girl whom he has made pregnant. Two out of 10 of the boys and girls condemned him.

Carole Dwinn, 16, of College Point, N. Y., gave good expression to the viewpoint of the girls. "I feel that the man has no right to abuse a woman, and that if he does he should stay and face the responsibility," says Carole. "Heaven knows the girl will always be paying for it."

VIEWS ON ADULTERY

In third place, the teeners placed adultery.

The adulterer "may be ruining two marriages, quite a loss to society," says 18-year-old Peggy Cruikshank of Duluth, Minn.

It is interesting to note that while 18 per cent of the teenagers rated illicit sex relations after marriage as the worst offense on the list, 19 per cent went to the opposite extreme and placed it last on the list of wrongs.

The college students listed adultery in fifth place and desertion of a pregnant woman in ninth.

Fourth on the teenagers' list was the issue rated in first place by the college students; kidnaping and holding a child for ransom.

Another big vote-getter with the teenagers was perjury, which placed fifth. Testifying falsely under oath was also rated high—in third place—by the college students.

Two more misdeeds more immoral in nature than illegal were placed in sixth and seventh positions by the teeners. These are: A prosperous industry paying workers less than a living wage, and an industry maintaining working conditions for its workers known to be bad for their health.

The college crowd placed the former in 14th position and the latter in 13th.

Children Will Give Just What's Expected

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to parents:

You usually don't get one bit more from your children than you expect of them.

If you expect them to be so careless that they can't be trusted to remember anything important without half a dozen reminders from you, they'll let you do their remembering for them.

If you give and give and give and ask for nothing in return, nothing is just about what you'll get.

If you think passing grades are good enough even though conscientious study habits could produce "A's" you'll be lucky if the grades are always passing.

If you think it is only natural for young people to be thoughtless and inconsiderate, you aren't likely to get the telephone call that keeps you from worrying nor the help with the housework when you are tired.

If you don't expect any thanks for the many things you do for your children, they will all be taken for granted.

If you don't expect your children to tell the truth, chances are they won't when it is easier not to.

If you don't expect your children to do their share of the family chores, you can't have much hope that they'll get the idea of taking responsibility all by themselves.

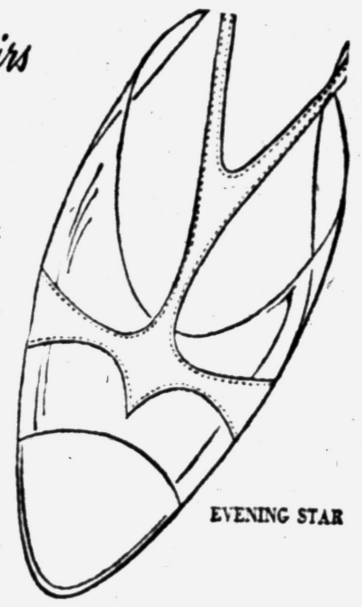

Children are perceptive. They easily sense what is expected of them and they are human enough to try to get by with doing less than is expected rather than more.

After market research studies indicated favorable response to the diet line, Pfaelzer Brothers set about to develop special meat trimming techniques. They have applied the techniques to one selected cut each of beef, lamb and veal.

Learn Two Types of Wash-Wears

When shopping for wash-and-wear apparel, remember that there are two basic types. One type attributes its wash-wear qualities to synthetic fiber content—such as orlon and nylon. The other type relies on a special finish applied to a natural fiber, such as cotton.

Both types love soap or detergent suds. Just read the manufacturer's tag or label, and follow the laundering instructions.

WHO Said That

Now it's WHO — the World Health Organization — that strongly recommends washing with plenty of soap and water as the first step in treating any animal bite. The second step is to see a doctor immediately for an anti-rabies shot.

Even Steel Can Melt—Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 years old and have been going steady with this particular boy for over a year. This summer my steady and his aunt and uncle are planning a trip to Mexico. They invited me to go along. His aunt, who is about 30, has agreed to chaperone us on this trip. When I asked my mother if I could go, she flatly refused me. When I asked her for a reason, she said the answer was NO and she didn't want to talk any more about it! Now I feel like she doesn't trust me. Do you see anything wrong with going on this trip with my boy friend and an adult chaperone?

ABBY

NOT TRUSTED

DEAR NOT: I agree with your mother, but she should have given you the reasons for her answer. Of course she trusts you, but she doesn't want you complicating your young life with unnecessary temptations. Even steel melts when subjected to enough heat.

DEAR ABBY: Will you do a couple of thousand homesick guys a great big favor: Ask the people back home to write to us soldier boys stuck out here in Korea. Honestly, Abby, most of the guys are kids 18 and 19 years old who have never been away from home before, and you should see the tears in their eyes when day after day they get nothing at mail call. Tell your readers if they have a friend or relative or neighbor who has somebody serving overseas to please call up his parents and get his address and write to him. Homesickness is the worst sickness in the world, and being forgotten on top of it is enough to kill a guy.

(TAEJON, KOREA)

DEAR ABBY: I live in a sorority house. It is located in back of a fraternity annex which gives the boys a view of our bedrooms. Realizing this, the boys have invested in more binoculars than a field division in Germany. My problem is my roommate. She doesn't care whether the blinds are closed or open. I close the blinds right after dinner and she opens them, saying she likes fresh air. I remind her that the boys can see and she says, "What's the difference?" Please give me a solution, Abby. At first it was funny, but now it's a problem.

WELL KNOWN

DEAR WELL: What's the difference? If she doesn't know the difference, maybe she should get HERSELF a pair of binoculars. If you can't convince your fresh-air friend that modesty is the best policy—talk to your house mother.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a wonderful man. Maybe I'm silly but after 19 years of marriage he still has everything in his mother's name. She is his beneficiary on his insurance, bonds and everything he owns. When I spoke to him regarding this about 10 years ago he said he wanted to be "sure" our marriage would last. I have no intentions of leaving him, and if I ever did I certainly wouldn't want to take anything that didn't belong to me. We have three children and if something should happen to him I wouldn't have a quarter. His mother has a husband to support her. Should I bring this up again and risk ill feelings?"

NO SECURITY

DEAR NO: You have let this very important matter go far too long. Bring it up immediately and insist on the protection that a wife and her children are entitled to.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and my boy friend is 16. We have been going together for a year and four months. Last year we went to the Frosh Prom. It was formal and my boy friend didn't bring me a corsage. I felt hurt but let it go by. He is not poor, he just didn't know better. This year I wonder if I should hint around and tell him the color of my formal? My mother says she thinks she'll call up his mother and play safe. My father says to quit worrying about it and he'll buy me one. What is the best solution? NO CORSAGE

DEAR NO: After going together a year and four months you should know him well enough to say, "Look, Jack, I don't need an expensive corsage—a single gardenia will do."

Carol A. Reiter Becomes Bride of Joseph I. Miller

Carol A. Reiter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reiter of Fieldview street, Orchard Lake, became the bride of Joseph I. Miller Saturday morning at Our Lady of Refuge Catholic Church. Over 200 guests witnessed the ceremony performed by the Rev. Giles Bartol.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Miller of Breaker street, Drayton Plains.

A floor-length gown of French crepe over satin was worn by the bride. Her tiara of sequins and seed pearls secured a fingertip veil, and she held a cascade arrangement of white carnations and lilies-of-the-valley.

Attendants Mrs. Ronald Aird and Kaye Smithson wore similar gowns in pink with matching headpieces. All carried colonial bouquets of carnations and lilies-of-the-valley.

Brides Can't Cook

Nutrition Know-How Low

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Maybe good cooks are just born that way but it does seem absurd that the art of cooking is not considered an essential part of the training of a prospective bride. Many young women enter marriage without knowing the first thing about the culinary art.

It is true that anybody with normal intelligence can follow a good cookbook and do fairly well, and that a really wonderful natural cook cannot tell you how she does it — BUT, there are all sorts of techniques and little tricks which would be such a help to a new wife.

Of even more concern is the fact that many brides haven't the slightest idea of what a well-balanced diet consists. They do not know what foods are essential to best health and yet the health of their husbands, and later on their children is in their hands.

Any man who is poorly nourished is apt to be hard to live with. His energy will be at low ebb and he will be more susceptible to many physical ailments. Meals which provide the elements necessary for health, which are served attractively and in a pleasant atmosphere, go a long way toward building a successful marriage.

It is particularly sad that so many young wives do not study nutrition because so much more is known about it today than in the past; and more is being learned every day. If the young couple would put into effect what is known now, they might have a chance to sidestep some of the diseases which kill from middle age on. They certainly have the opportunity to remain youthful for much longer than their parents' generation.

If your husband has bad habits in the selection of food, try to change his tastes gradually. Perhaps you can add one of the health building items every once in a while rather than asking him to change his food habits abruptly.

U.S. Must Expand Influence in Africa to Counter Commie Inroads

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — American interest in expanding the United States role in African affairs is heightened by the desire to promote its development along free, democratic lines and to check the growth of communism in the Dark Continent.

"FASTEST GUN IN THE WEST" — The U. S. Air Force in Europe is due to be reinforced this fall with a potent new weapon, the F-105 Thunderchief. Above, Tactical Air Command crewmen load ammunition into one of the sharp-nosed craft. It has a six-gun and can really travel — 1,300 m.p.h. Its 20-mm. cannon with six revolving barrels can fire 6,000 rounds a minute, four times as fast as any other airborne gun. The 25-ton jet also packs atomic weapons, guided missiles, rockets, fire bombs and ordinary blockbusters, can fly long ranges.

The United States has a considerable lead in this race against the Reds so far. For American relations with Africa began first and the American stake is much larger.

Slave traders brought the first Africans to American shores 340 years ago. One result is that roughly 10 per cent of the U. S. population is of African extraction.

This fact is frequently mentioned by orators as giving the United States a great advantage in developing friendly ties with the emerging African nations. But the simple truth is that this potential is undeveloped almost as much as Africa itself is underdeveloped economically.

In 1821, President Monroe launched the movement to resettle slaves in Africa. This led to the establishment of the free African Republic of Liberia six years later. But Liberia has had such a difficult time keeping its own head above water that it has done little to promote the growth of the American example in Africa.

Until after World War II, Soviet Russia limited its efforts to communize Africa. African students in Europe were recruited in numbers and sent to Moscow for training. These agents were then returned to their native lands. They did considerable work and damage in organizing African labor unions and in promoting nationalist uprisings.

Active Communist penetration of Africa really began with the organization of the Afro-Asian Peoples' Solidarity Conference at Cairo in 1958, after Russia's previous aims and aid agreements with President Nasser's Egypt.

Today Russia has established full diplomatic relations with Ethiopia, Libya and Morocco. Trade agreements have been signed with Tunisia and Guinea. The Czechs, Poles, Hungarians and East Germans are also moving into Africa. But in South Africa, Communists were thrown out for mixed racial activities.

The Communist objective in Africa is obviously to liquidate European and particularly U. S. influence and to bring the new nations under Communist imperialism.

The measure of U. S. influence in Africa today is sizable but still small in relation to its potential.

U. S. trade with Africa is growing rapidly. Since 1941, U. S. exports to Africa have increased six times, from 161 to 681 million dollars. U. S. imports from Africa — mostly raw materials—have increased fourfold, from 131 to 585 million in the same 18 years.

U. S. foreign aid programs of 116 million dollars are planned for 11 African countries in 1960. This does not include aid for Egypt and Sudan, which are counted as part of the Near East. For comparison, European countries supply their African dependencies with 700 million dollar equivalent assistance, annually.

The U. S. aid includes seven million dollars in military assistance to Tunisia, Ethiopia and Libya. Some small arms are purchased separately by Liberia. Cost of U. S. bases in North Africa are separate.

U. S. special economic assistance to Africa has been increased from 62 to 88 million dollars, 1958 through planned 1960. Technical assistance (Point Four) is being stepped up from 11 to 21 million a year. Estimates have been made that this aid will increase 40 per cent in the next decade — maybe more — if Congress approves.

American technicians in Africa have been doubled in the last few years. Last year they numbered 432. The number of African technicians trained in the United States is being stepped up to 1,500 next year. About 250 will be technicians receiving U. S. government aid, the other 1,250 will be privately financed.

U. S. private investment in Africa is still small — 626 million dollars. Firestone in Liberia is of course the big operator. Olin Mathieson has half interest in Guinea alumina production. Kaiser has just signed a contract to develop the Volta River in Ghana.

American oil companies have concessions to explore in several African countries. And the United States buys uranium ore from the Belgian Congo in amounts that are kept secret.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas was first exploder in 1519 by Alonzo Alvarez de Pineda, who named the river "Rio de las Palmas" after a grove of palm trees which still stands near its mouth.

New Sylvan Budget Shows Slight Rise

The Sylvan Lake City Council last night approved a 1959-60 budget of $109,485 proposed by City Manager David E. Firestone.

The new budget, which will go into effect July 1, shows an increase of $1,190 over the present budget of $108,294.

The increase is due mainly, Firestone said, to Sylvan Lake's proposed sewage treatment agreement with Pontiac. Under the new setup Pontiac will charge Sylvan Lake a flat metered rate, rather than bill home owners individually.

The new system will cost residents about a third to a half more than they are now paying, or a total estimated increase of $6,100, Firestone said.

"We have been plagued in recent years by a largely residential tax base and a decline in revenues has combined with a rise in costs," he said.

The current budget shows signs of a possibility that it may be the first in several years to be balanced.

Under such a program, the city could realize $2,500 more to build a minimum of new storm sewers, $1,000 more for blacktopping some intersections and other high maintenance cost areas, and $500 more to build a better breakwall on Sylvan Lake, Firestone said.

At present there are no funds available for these projects.

Under the new budget, revenue from general property taxes will decrease from $51,481 to $51,069. Garbage disposal revenue will increase somewhat from the present budget figure of $4,013.25 to $4,086.00.

Remaining revenues will provide $54,330 while they are contributing only $52,800 now, according to the city manager.

Administrative costs will be cut from $27,336 to $22,680, while public works expenditures will go up from $47,187 to $47,620, he said.

Under the budget, the judicial department will receive $1,940 as compared to the present outlay of $2,401.

Police and fire department costs increase from $28,530 to $29,485.

Sylvan Lake residents have protested to the Council the addition of another man to the present three-man force.

In other business at last night's meeting, the Council approved transfer of $2,000 from the water receiving fund to the operation and maintenance fund.

Councilmen also approved the request of Lawrence Reuter of 2310 Orchard Lake Rd. to add his son, Roger, as partner on his SDM Michigan Liquor Control Commission license.

Appointed President of Central Michigan

Foust, 57, was informally appointed to the post yesterday by the State Board of Education. Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction and an ex-officio board member, said the appointment will be formally confirmed at the May 27 board meeting.

Dr. Anspach will retire June 30 after 20 years as Central Michigan president. The institution will move up to university status June 1.

Junior High Head to Resign

Nagley Gets New Post as School Principal in Birmingham District

A letter of resignation from Kenneth F. Nagley as principal of Washington Junior High School is expected to be presented to the Pontiac Board of Education tonight.

Nagley, who has been an administrator in the Pontiac school system since 1955, said today he was resigning to take the principalship of the new junior-senior high school now under construction on W. 13-Mile road near Evergreen road in the Birmingham School District. The school is expected to open in September.

The 34-year-old educator came to Pontiac in 1955 to succeed Francis Staley, principal of Pontiac Central High School, as principal of Eastern Junior High School. In September 1958 he was made principal of Washington Junior High.

He was graduated from Wilmington College, Wilmington, Ohio, where he received an A.B. degree. Nagley also holds a masters degree from Ohio State University in school administration. He has studied at the graduate level at Wayne State University and Miami University of Oxford, Ohio.

Nagley served with the Air Force during World War II as bombardier and has been a field executive for the Boy Scouts of America. He is a former teacher of history and geography at Wilmington High School and was principal of Urbana Junior High School in Ohio for three years.

Ether was first used as an anaesthetic in surgery in a Boston hospital and the date was Oct. 15, 1846.

Twining's Lung Was Cancerous

But Surgeons Removed Diseased Area and He Should Be Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cancer was found in the exploratory operation on Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, it was announced today.

A bulletin issued at the Pentagon today said cancer was found and added:

"The entire diseased portion of the lung was removed at surgery and there was no evidence of involvement in other areas of the chest."

Brig. Gen. James H. Forsee, acting commandant of the Army hospital, informed the Defense Department that Twining should be able to leave the hospital within three or four weeks and should be able to return to his duties in about two weeks after he is dismissed from the hospital.

Twining has served two years as head of the top military planning board and was recently nominated by President Eisenhower for a second two-year term.

The Coast Guard is always one of the armed forces, but for peace of the armed forces, but for peacetime police purposes it is a unit of the Treasury Department. In partment.

GOP, Williams Drag Bible Into Squabbles

LANSING (AP) — A Republican senator said yesterday Gov. Williams would find fault with the Ten Commandments. Williams replied that he doubted if Democrats could get the GOP to agree on five of the Divine precepts.

The exchange came after several hours wrangling on a bill to unfreeze restricted funds in the State Treasury in order to release paychecks due state employes last Thursday.

The bill finally cleared after the Senate agreed to a technical amendment Williams said was necessary to make the bill workable.

"I believe that if we sent the Ten Commandments to the governor today, he would persist in his determination to find some flaws in them."

Williams later told newsmen: "If we sat down with Republicans to get agreement on this religious text, we would only get agreement on five of them. And I'm not sure which five."

Rainier and Princess on Second Honeymoon

MADRID (UPI)—Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco motored through the countryside north of here yesterday on a second honeymoon. They visited El Escorial, traditional burial place of Spanish royalty, and toured ancient castles.

The royal couple will be on hand for Madrid's annual San Isidro festival which begins Friday.

Berlin Quiet Forecast During Geneva Parley

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay (Ret), former U.S. Military Governor in Germany, said Wednesday night he does not believe there will be any trouble in Berlin as long as the Soviet Union and the Western powers continue negotiations in Geneva.

Clay arrived by plane after participating Tuesday in West Berlin in the 10th Anniversary of the ending of the Berlin airlift.

He said he was impressed by the way West Berlin has been "cleaned up" in the nine years since he last visited the city.

Merchants Told of Rejuvenating

Grand Rapids Program for Redevelopment of Downtown Described

Grand Rapids formed a corporate council to bring about re-development of its downtown area, a group of Pontiac businessmen were told yesterday.

The Downtown Council of Grand Rapids is turning out to be a success because it has wide community support, a founder of the Council told a luncheon sponsored by The Pontiac Press.

Speaking was Bert Martens, presidential assistant of one of three large, independent department stores in downtown Grand Rapids.

Among those attending the luncheon were members of the Downtown Merchants Assn., which has the future of downtown Pontiac as one of its main concerns.

Pontiac is ahead of Grand Rapids as far as urban renewal and downtown traffic plans are concerned, said Martens, referring to the downtown loop highway and proposed clearance of downtown Saginaw street blight conditions.

But downtown business and professional men appear better organized in Grand Rapids than here, he indicated.

The Council immediately won Grand Rapids' respect because the heads of the major department stores were among the incorporators, Martens explained.

"Top men became actively engaged in the Council. This lent it prestige," said Martens.

Since its incorporation last year, the Grand Rapids Council has gone on to hire an executive secretary to help handle internal affairs and an advertising agency for external purposes, Martens said.

Among the objectives of the Grand Rapids group is the rebuilding of deteriorated areas near downtown by private enterprise.

Martens said the Council is also concerned with better public transportation, improved traffic circulation and beautification of the downtown shopping district.

TVA Plans to Purchase an Expensive Boiler

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The Tennessee Valley Authority announced yesterday it will buy a boiler for a British-made steam plant generator that will cost almost as much as the generator itself.

TVA said it will buy the $10,500,000 boiler from Babcock and Wilcox Co. of Atlanta. The generator, made by Parsons and Co., Ltd., of New Castle, England, cost $12,095,800.

Pontiac City Affairs

Northsiders Win Storage Lot Squabble

A northside neighborhood has won its fight to block construction of an auto-haulaway storage lot.

On motion of Commissioner John A. Dugan, a proposal to rezone 26 vacant lots on both sides of Second avenue, Highwood to Laurel, from residential to manufacturing to make way for the lot was permanently shelved.

For the third straight week, a representative for the owner of the lots failed to appear to explain the proposal.

"I'm tired of seeing all these residents show up to oppose the lot every week and not have this matter come to a head," said Dugan, who already had announced his opposition to the storage lot.

15 RESIDENTS APPEAR

Fifteen residents were on hand Tuesday night to protest the change in their neighborhood.

Commissioners unanimously supported Dugan's move to shelve the original proposal.

"That means that a brand new proposal will have to be submitted to us if the matter is to be considered again," Dugan told the residents.

In other business, Commissioner Robert A Landry filled out the Civic Improvement Advisory Committee to a full membership of 70.

Landry named to the committee Phillip Yapo, 98 Wall St.; James Dembo, 573 S. Sanford Ave.; and William Butler, 509 S. Jessie St.

The other six commissioners had each named 10 persons to the committee last week, but Landry had only seven of his ten choices then.

The committee's first job will be study of Pontiac's inadequate sewage treatment facilities.

A protest petition killed plans to install curbs and gutters on S. Jessie street, Prospect to Raeburn. The plan was opposed by 83 per cent of the residents.

6 OTHER PROJECTS

"This street is one of the few in District 7 that is not paved," said Landry, reluctantly moving that the project be dropped this year.

Hearings were set for May 19 on assessment rolls for six other curb and gutter projects, including Ivy street, Montcalm to Kennett; Jefferson avenue, Blaine to Summit; W. New York avenue, Baldwin to Walton; Tasmania avenue, Maines to Riverside; Tennyson avenue, Hollywood to Bonnie Briar Bush subdivision; and Victory drive, Mt. Clemens to Mt. Vernon.

Adjourned one week because of a new protest petition was a public hearing on intention to recap Raeburn street, Paddock to Sanford.

No objections were heard at hearings on recapping five other streets, including Cass avenue, Pike to Orchard Lake; E. Huron street, Saginaw to Perry; Sanderson avenue, Oakland to Cass; Prall street, Huron to Washington; and Judson street, Saginaw to Parke.

Other hearings were on assessment rolls covering blacktopping of Kinney road, Oakland to Stanley; a sanitary sewer on Court drive, from Mt. Clemens north; and curbs and gutters on Court, Mt. Clemens to Grandview; Dellwood avenue, Earlmoor to Howland; and Myra avenue, Voorheis to Sylvan.

Action on a petition for a sanitary cewer on Crittenden, Hollister to Kenney, was delayed one week to discuss engineering especially the connection to a trunkline a block away.

ARMY ENDS LEASE

City Manager Walter K. Willman announced the Army had terminated its lease on the city-owned building at 35-37 W. Lawrence St., where Army Reserve headquarters had been for many years.

Reserve activities are now centered in temporary headquarters on Walnut street.

Approval was given an agreement with Buckeye Pipe Line Co. to lay a buried, eight-inch line across the western Pontiac Municipal Airport. The line will carry jet fuel to Detroit area airports.

Willman said the pipe line company had agreed to pay $606, or $10 a rod, for the right of way.

Waterford Boy Bruised When Struck by Auto

A six-year-old Waterford Township boy was released this morning from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after treatment for minor bruises suffered when he was hit by a car in front of his home, a few hours earlier.

Township police said the boy, Larry Deitz, 449 Lakeside St., was struck by a car driven by Gerald Frye, 32, of 339 Avery St.

Scout-O-Rama Set May 23, 24

Ottawa District Boys to Camp on Grounds of Vast Ivory Estate

Ottawa District of the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council announced today that its sixth annual Scout-O-Rama will be held May 23 and 24 on the grounds of the John F. Ivory Estate in White Lake Township.

Between 40,000 and 60,000 persons are expected to attend, according to Earl Gruber, director of the event.

He said 35 scout units will camp out for the weekend on the 165-acre estate which is located at 9990 Cooley Lake Rd.

CHANGE TO OUTDOORS

In previous years, the Scout-O-Rama has been primarily an indoor event with booths and a stage show. For 1959, the Ottawa District is combining the exhibition with its annual weekend camping activity to provide a spectacle of 300 tents, action displays and entertainment.

OTHERS HELP

Others, too, are helping the 3,500 Scouts and leaders in producing the Scout-O-Rama.

Oakland County Red Cross will have its mobile hospital unit on hand. Pontiac automotive manufacturers are providing an ambulance, cars, trucks and drivers.

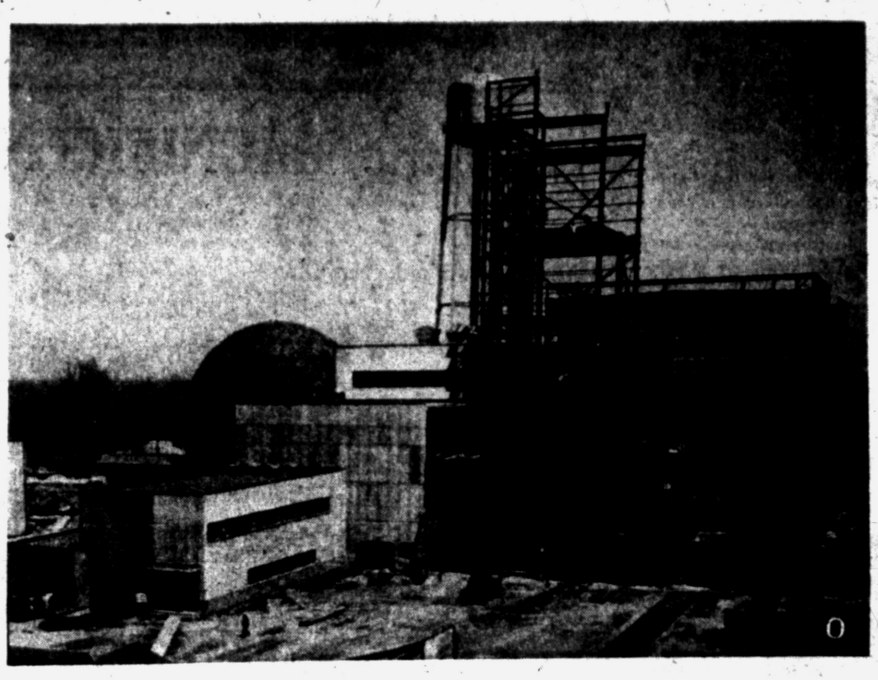

An automotive division is sending a mobile generator to produce electric power for lighting the camping, exhibition and show area.

Oakland County's mounted posse will be on hand to perform, for patrol duty and to advise Scout leaders on traffic control. Commerce Fire Dept. will provide fire equipment.

Steals $1.40 in 2 Tries

DEARBORN (AP)—A thief broke into Dan LaBoda's barber shop yesterday and stole $1.40. The dollar, first one LaBoda ever earned, was in a frame hanging on a wall. The 40 cents was in a toy bank.

ATOMIC POWER PLANT — The Detroit Edison Co.'s exhibit at the Industrial Fair Wednesday in Rochester Community High School will be a model of Michigan's first atomic-electric generating station now under construction near Monroe. The nuclear energy exhibit will explain the operation of the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant which is scheduled for completion in 1960.

Rochester to Honor Industries

ROCHESTER — "Industry Day" will be celebrated in Rochester Wednesday with an elaborate display by 25 large and small local industries in the gymnasium of the new Rochester Community High School, chairman R. Elliott Jose announced today.

The show, presented as a part of the Rochester Michigan Week celebration, will be open to school children from noon to 3:30 p.m. and to the general public from 6 to 9 p.m.

Cloth-draped booths will be set up for each exhibitor, and Morris Music Co. of Pontiac will furnish the organ to be played during the show by Edward Smith and Mrs. Walter De Baene.

"The purpose of the show is to better acquaint the Rochester area populace with the great variety of products manufactured in the community and its environs," Jose said.

In addition to local councilmen who will be present to greet visitors in the evening, Avon and Oakland Township officials also will be on hand to welcome guests.

One of the many outstanding displays to be presented will be the Detroit Edison Co.'s model of its new Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant now under construction near Monroe. This will be the world's largest breeder-reactor plant and the first in Michigan.

All exhibitors have planned special displays of the products they manufacture. Some will even demonstrate the processes they use to turn out their particular products.

Other large firms that will have exhibits include Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Parke, Davis and Co., National Twist Drill and Tool Co., Winter Brothers Co., Rochester Paper Co., Detroit Broach and Oakland Foundry and Machine Co.

Davisburg Mothers to Hold Bake Sale

DAVISBURG — The fifth grade mothers of Davisburg Elementary School will sponsor a bake sale beginning at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the Polka Dot Dairy Bar. Proceeds from the sale will be added to the fund for school curtain rods and drapes.

Farmington Tax Hike Seen

FARMINGTON—A tax increase for city residents here appears inevitable, according to City Clerk Trena Quinn.

"We have tried to pare the city budget, but the places where we can cut we shouldn't," Mrs. Quinn said yesterday.

The city's proposed budget will be reviewed by the City Council when it meets tomorrow night at 7.

After repeated meetings, both public and private, council members feel that one more should be held before the budget is finally approved.

State law sets Monday, May 18, as final date for adoption of budgets.

As proposed now, the budget would increase tax rates to 12.5 mills for a 25 per cent boost. Two years ago the tax rate stood at 20 mills—the maximum rate of levy according to the city charter. This was cut in half last year following a reappraisal of the city.

"Apparently, we cut the rate too much," said Mrs. Quinn. "It shouldn't have been allowed to drop more than 12.5 per cent at that time."

The council's next regular meeting will be held Monday at 7 p.m.

Chief Happy Safety Director Has Quit Post

Chief of Police Irving Yakes, however, was not so reticent. "We didn't get along," Yakes said. "Besides it is illegal for a township to have a public safety director. He (Owen) just saved the board some embarrassment by resigning."

Yakes said Owen's job was to act as liaison between police and fire departments and the township board. "As long as he did that, everything worked out fine," Yakes commented.

"Then he (Owen) started to tell us how many tickets we had to issue every day. And, every time I gave my men an order, he'd write a letter countermanding it. I'm just glad he's out," Yakes concluded.

Gets 10 Years in Jail

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Setting off firecrackers may lose some of its appeal for 17-year-old Aaron E. Smith of Kalamazoo over the next 10 years. That's how long he got in jail for two firings to which he pleaded guilty in municipal court. One shot blew a neighbor's mailbox apart.

End Clarkston Film Season

'Walk the Proud Land' to Be Shown Saturday by Richards Circle

CLARKSTON—Climaxing one of the most successful projects of Clarkston civic groups will be the Saturday night presentation of "Walk the Proud Land," starring Audie Murphy, in the Methodist Church here.

Because of the lack of a public theater in town, women of the Margaret Richards Circle have carefully selected a current, popular movie each month, and cleared their church of all religious equipment, so that people of all faiths could attend the movie.

With a minimum fee to cover the cost of the film only, teenagers have been especially receptive to the project as evidenced by the large number attending every presentation.

Results of the women's efforts have been almost overwhelming according to officials.

The auditorium has been filled to capacity and a bigger program is planned for next season—starting in the fall—as a result of this year's success, they said.

'HAWAIIAN' HIGH-STEPPERS — These five Troy High School seniors will be featured entertainers in the talent show portion of a program to be presented by Rochester Chapter 165, OES, Saturday evening at North Hill Elementary School. They are, from left, Mary Moose, Loraine Smith, Carol Chatfield, Jo Gac and Ruth Willcock. The program, which will include a card party, will start at 8 p. m.

Rochester OES to Present Stage Show, Card Party

ROCHESTER — A gala stage show and card party will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday in North Hill Elementary School by Chapter 165, Order of the Eastern Star.

The show will follow the third annual card party, offering a variety of area talent from youthful dancers to a barber shop quartet.

The opening scene will be set in a typical French cafe and will feature a vocal solo by Mrs. William J. Rodney of Rochester. Maxine Ross, also of Rochester, will appear next in a comedy-pantomime act.

Members of the barber shop quartet called "The Knights of Note" are Clarence McBride, bass, and Dan Davey, baritone, both of Utica; Douglas Ferguson, tenor, of Troy; and Dean Evason, lead, of Rochester. They will pantomime the popular novelty number "Alvin and his Harmonica."

FEATURES 7 GIRLS

Seven girls will be featured in a Hawaiian dance number, and Elva and Inez Reeser will entertain with a Hawaiian guitar act.

Other vocalists will be Roy Boyle, Mrs. Rodney, who will appear again, and Duane Eutch.

Appearing from Royal Oak will be Vicki Lynn Stevens and Kay Carlton, both 9 years old, who will do Irish and can-can dances.

Master of ceremonies will be William Toussaint.

REFRESHMENTS FOLLOW

On the committee in charge of the event are Mr. and Mrs. Allison Toussaint, Mrs. Raynale Kline and Thomas Case. They said refreshments will be served after the program.

Tickets are available at the D. J. Healy Shop, Webber Cleaners or at the door Saturday evening.

Stiles PTA to Give 'May Festival' Fair

AVON TOWNSHIP—"May Festival" is the name given to the Spring Fair to be sponsored by the Stiles School PTA from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday at the school.

A special attraction of the fair will be "The Sterlings," a man and wife team which will be featured in two shows doing juggling, magic tricks and a puppet act.

Students in every room will display room science projects as part of a schoolwide science exhibit. A missile procured from Chrysler Corp. also will be on exhibit.

The midway will feature all kinds of games, and specialty booths will be set up in many rooms. These will include white elephants, baked goods and candies, potted plants, silhouettes, cake walks and fortune tellers.

Refreshments will be served at the snack bar throughout the day-long event.

Ancient Cake Brought Up to Date

Celebrated each year in France on May 16, the saint's feast is triumphantly concluded with the serving of "gateau Saint-Honore," so named in his memory. St. Honore Cake is a gourmet's delight — a thin pastry round edged with a cream puff rim and topped with a cream filling and miniature cream puffs, each holding a tiny lighted candle.

The bishop of Amiens (in 660) would certainly be glad to know that Cream Puff Mix has come to the aid of the homemaker. With this easy-to-prepare and guaranteed foolproof mix, St. Honore Cake is no problem at all.

To make all the cream puffs you need, follow the directions on the package. For easy shaping of the cream puff rim on the pastry round, use a pastry tube with a large hole or a cooky press with a large star disc.

On May 16, honor Saint-Honore by making his favorite cake as developed by gourmet specialists in a famous test kitchen.

St. Honore Cake

⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ cup cornstarch
2½ cups milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 stick Pie Crust Mix
1 stick Cream Puff Mix
1 square unsweetened chocolate (1 oz.)
1 teaspoon butter
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 to 2 tablespoons toasted slivered almonds

Combine sugar, salt, and cornstarch in saucepan. Slowly blend in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring until it boils; boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir a little over half of this mixture into beaten eggs. Blend into hot mixture; bring just to boil, stirring constantly. Add vanilla. Chill about 3 hours.

Heat oven to 425 degrees (hot). Prepare Cream Puff Mix as directed on pkg. Make 16 miniature puffs using a ½ tsp. measure. Bake 15 to 20 minutes. Lower oven temperature to 375 degrees (quick moderate). Meanwhile, prepare Pie Crust Mix as directed on pkg. Roll into 9" round.

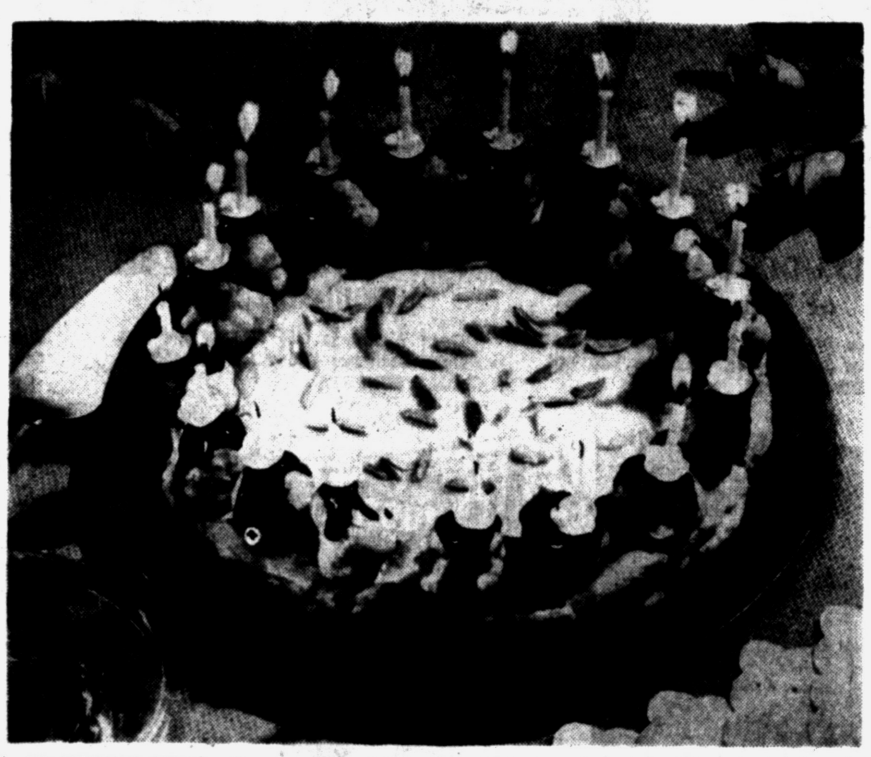

Place on baking sheet and prick well. Spoon leftover cream puff batter around edge of pastry round. Use a wet spatula or knife to make a smooth 1" wide rim. Bake 40 to 45 minutes. Cool.

To serve. Split and fill tiny puffs with custard. Fill center of cream puff and pastry base with remaining custard, spreading it up over part of the cream puff rim, if necessary. Leave a 1" border of the rim uncovered so that miniature puffs may be placed on it.

Make a thin chocolate glaze by melting chocolate with butter over hot water. Remove and blend in confectioner's sugar and 2 to 3 tbsp. boiling water. Beat until smooth. Fasten filled puffs to cream puff rim with dabs of glaze.

Spoon remaining glaze over tiny puffs, letting it drip onto cream puff rim. Sprinkle with toasted slivered almonds. 8 to 10 servings.

Variation: Use 2 packages cooled, prepared vanilla pudding mix in place of custard, if desired.

ST. HONORE CAKE — Borrow a dessert idea from the French and serve a St. Honore Cake on May 16. It's the feast day of St. Honore, patron saint of pastry makers and bakers. He wouldn't have known anything about mixes for making pie crust and cream puffs. But he would approve of the final result. This might serve as a birthday cake, albeit an unusual one.

Peanuts Take Place of Icing

If spice cake ranks high with your family, they'll be excited about these Peanut-Topped Dessert Squares. The spicy flavor is tops, and the crunchy peanuts are an added bonus.

Molasses, cloves, nutmeg and cinnamon team up to give remarkable goodness. Sprinkle chopped peanuts over the batter before baking—no frosting is needed. Both youngsters and grown-ups will claim these as a favorite.

Peanut-Topped Dessert Squares

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup shortening
½ cup brown sugar
2 eggs
½ cup molasses
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ cup chopped peanuts

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat eggs and add molasses, mixing thoroughly. Add to creamed mixture.

Combine milk and vanilla extract. Add flour and milk alternately to creamed mixture. Mix to a smooth batter.

Turn into greased 7x11-inch baking pan. Sprinkle peanuts over batter. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 40 to 45 minutes. Cut into squares. Makes about one dozen squares.

Three Canned Soups Are Top American Favorites

Americans are eating more canned soup than ever before reports the Marketing Information Agent. The most popular soups are tomato, chicken noodle and vegetable.

Read the label when buying soup. The ingredients are listed in decreasing order according to the amount of each present in the can.

If you use larger amounts of costly ingredients, home-made soup will likely be more expensive than commercially prepared soup. If there is left-over meat and a variety of vegetables on hand, home-made soup may be a way of using food that might have been discarded.

Adapt your frosting to the cake by considering richness and texture as well as flavor and color.

To Grate Chocolate

Making the most of what you have saves time and money in the kitchen. Recipes calling for chocolate, for instance, bring out the potato peeler. Use this to shred the chocolate. It's fast, safe and easier to wash than a grater.

Summer Calls for Food Care

But basic food protection is as essential at the outdoor grill as in the kitchen, sanitation officials reminded.

More important, from a health standpoint, than the piquancy of the barbecue sauce is whether the food is properly preserved, the department said.

Here are some rules the department says apply to both backyard and picnic grounds.

Keep cold foods preserved at a temperature of 50 degrees or lower.

Hot foods should be kept hot until served.

Meat and meat products should always be kept cold until immediately prior to preparation or serving.

Flies should be kept away from food outdoors. Careless handling with fingers and coughs and sneezes occur more often outdoors than in the kitchen. Food should be protected from them.

Outdoor chefs will help protect themselves and their families from food infection by following these rules, the department said.

Layered Salad Pleases Weight Watchers

You'll make a big hit with folks watching their weight when you serve Lemony-Chicken and Tomato Salad for luncheon. It's very low on the calories, but looks as enticing and as delicious as it tastes.

Try Out Dry Milk for Favorite Brand

Nonfat dry milk tastes much like fresh skim milk, but you might like to shop until you find the brand of nonfat dry milk that tastes best to you, suggests the MSU Marketing Agent.

Regular spray-dry nonfat dry milk is fine and powdery. This dissolves easily when sprinkled on the surface of warm water and gently stirred with a slotted spoon, fork or whip. Regular spray-dry nonfat dry milk usually costs less than instant milk of the same quality.

Instant nonfat dry milk crystals vary in size and shape with different brands, but you can be sure instant nonfat dry milk will dissolve quickly.

Oats Add B Vitamins to Little Ham Loaves

Individual Ham-Oatmeal Loaves with pineapple and cranberry garnish are a new variation of the ever favorite ham loaf. Rolled oats, in addition to improving the flavor and texture, add protein, valuable B-complex vitamins, minerals, and food energy at low cost.

This recipe is ideal for entertaining because it can be prepared ahead of time and frozen in either the cooked or uncooked state. If cooked before freezing, simple reheat by wrapping the loaves in foil and heating in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). If cooked unfrozen, use within the week. Allow 25 minutes extra cooking time if started from the frozen state.

Individual Ham-Oatmeal Loaves

2 eggs, beaten
1 cup rolled oats, uncooked
1½ pounds ground smoked ham
½ pound ground fresh pork
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon liquid smoke (optional)
¼ cup chopped onion
1⅓ cups water
1 No. 2 can sliced pineapple, drained
Cranberry sauce

Thoroughly mix all ingredients except the last two. Grease 8 5-ounce baking cups. Fit a pineapple slice into bottom of each cup, cutting a small wedge from each slice to make it fit into bottom of the cup. Place pineapple wedge removed in center hole. Fill cup with ham mix, pressing it down firmly into cup. Arrange cups on large flat baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour.

Remove meat from cups and arrange on serving platter. Drizzle cranberry sauce over ham loaves just before serving. If desired, loaves may be served atop an additional heated pineapple slice. If this is done use slices from a No. 2½ size can. Yield: 8 servings.

INDIVIDUAL MEAT LOAVES — Individual Ham-Oatmeal Loaves make an attractive entree when garnished with pineapple slices and cranberry sauce. Rolled oats improve the flavor, texture, and food value of this ham loaf recipe.

FOR WANT OF A NAIL—

For want of a nail, the shoe was lost. And because the shoe was lost, the horse was lost . . . and the soldier was lost and, the story goes, the battle was lost.

Sometimes it is that way when the battle is a community's struggle to gain new industry. Sometimes the battle is lost for want of something it would seem every community should possess.

A community's attitude — how all of us feel about our town and the industry in our town — is one of the most important elements considered by an industrial prospect.

Our attitude must be good if we are going to win. It is everyone's responsibility. The attitude of everyone toward our present industry can be our biggest asset or our biggest liability in the community's effort to get new industry.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community grow and prosper.

ORIENTAL DRESSING — Early spring vegetables are even better when served with Oriental Salad Dressing and onion-seasoned crisp rye crackers. Chutney and curry are the surprise ingredients.

Dress Spring Vegetables With Oriental Topping

We've taken more than one note from the Orient for our easy-to-do spring luncheon. The vegetables have been cooked until just tender but still slightly crunchy and chilled quickly. They're prettier, tastier and more nutritious that way. Select the very choicest and most reasonable variety when you go to market and then let your guests choose their favorites at the buffet table.

We settled for snowy white cauliflower, tiny ruby beets and the most irresistible of all spring vegetables—slim young asparagus. Nippy yellow and white deviled eggs supply the proper flavor and color contrast.

Your guests will marvel at the beautiful Oriental Dressing, that is really nothing more complicated than your favorite salad dressing flavored with chutney and curry powder. Chutney is a pickled condiment from India that is available in this country.

With beautiful big slices of ham or rare roast beef and the chilled vegetables, serve Vary Krisps made of crisp rye crackers spread with butter and spirnkled with instant minced onion or grated cheese and heated. The flavors are mild and subtle but are just right for the gay and unusual salad. We'll come back home for dessert and serve—what else for springtime in America — strawberry shortcake.

Oriental Dressing

1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
3 tablespoons chopped chutney
¾ teaspoon curry powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon celery seed

Vary Krisps

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
12 crisp rye crackers
Instant minced onion
Or

Heat oven to moderate (350 degrees.) Spread crackers with softened butter. Sprinkle with onion or cheese. Bake on cookie sheet 5 minutes. Serve hot or cold. Yield: 4 servings.

Let Kiddies Help Make These Cookies

Child-Proof Cookies

¼ pound (½ cup) butter or margarine
2 cups sugar-honey wheat germ
½ cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup nuts (chopped)
1 teaspoon vanilla

Put all the ingredients in a mixing bowl; mix well with fingers; shape into balls, each about the size of a walnut. Place on ungreased cookie sheets a couple of inches apart; flatten slightly with hands or the bottom of a glass moistened in cold water.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 10 minutes. Allow to cool on cookie sheet before removing with wide spatula. Cool on wire racks. Makes about 2½ dozen.

Note: Clean hands and "no finger-licking" should be the rule when small fry make these!

Strawberries Move North, Local Asparagus Starts

Have you noticed the increasing supply of fresh fruits and vegetables? Points south and west are providing most of the fresh produce with Michigan's asparagus season just getting under way. If you are checking prices, you'll find that a dollar today will buy more produce, pork, eggs and dairy products than it did during May of 1958. Lower prices this spring are related to larger quantities available than a year ago.

PRODUCE TRENDS — The strawberry season moves further north with Kentucky starting to ship. Some strawberries have been quite immature, not full red-ripe. What to do about it? Clean, drain, decap, cut berries in half and crush some. Then add plenty of finely ground sugar and let stand until dessert time.

California asparagus is about finished with the New Jersey season in full swing. You may find small amounts of home-grown asparagus. You can judge how much of the stalk will snap off as waste by checking the amount of the stalk that is white or light green in color. You might weight the amount left from the pound or two you buy, just to see what you are paying per pound for the edible part.

Supplies of oranges and grapefruit during the first part of the month will be considerably larger than a year ago. Grapefruit supplies will decrease slightly by the end of the month.

You can find quality McIntosh and Jonathan apples from controlled atmosphere storages. McIntosh apples have soft white flesh that means easy eating for children at snack time. Jonathan apples have a firmer flesh and are good for all-purpose use.

Practically all the potatoes harvested last fall have been used. Supplies of Florida Sebago and California long whites are increasing.

Cabbage, lettuce, carrots and radishes are in good supply. All are priced to help you balance the food allowance and your menus with crisp spring salads.

PROTEIN SUPPLIES — Yes, that time has come . . . the time when pork supplies start getting gradually smaller, and prices start increasing slightly.

If a warm day invites you to barbecue outdoors, there are several pork cuts you might try. Of course there is the standby, spareribs. Because these have little meat in proportion to bone, you'll need to buy about a pound per person to satisfy outdoor appetites. You might use a rib-end roast cut as "country-style ribs."

The rib-end roast would serve two people per pound and cost less per serving than spareribs. Or you might have the butcher cut a Boston butt into steaks about three-fourths of an inch thick. These would make about two servings a pound.

Beef continues at about the same prices with exception of specials you may find. Beef is being fed to heavy weights which require a lot of time and feed, and which result in higher grades and top prices. When you find beef cuts of the same grade differing as much as 10 to 20 cents a pound, it may worth your while to investigate. Maybe you'll want to freeze a few extra steaks for summer use.

Customers demand fewer beef chuck roasts during warmer weather, and retailers sometimes lower prices on these cuts. Besides serving as a hot roast, chuck might be used sliced or ground for sandwiches. Have you ever cooked a chuck roast fork tender, then added a barbecue sauce in the oven or at the grill?

Take your poultry pick. You can find fryers, stewers, roasters and turkeys in the 20 to 25 cent per serving range this week.

It's easy to figure the best fresh perch value. The fillets will serve three persons per pound. Dressed perch will serve two people per pound. Divide cost per pound by these figures. Although the peak supply period has passed, there's plenty of dressed smelt at 23 to 25 cents per pound. Trout are scarce and prices are correspondingly high.

An extra dozen of large eggs will add much nutrition value for little cost compared to other protein foods. At 39 to 43 cents a dozen, they are as much as 10 to 14 cents less than a year ago.

Let Guests Have Choice of Pie

Pies are so pretty—so easy to serve, so convenient since most pies can be made ahead of time and forgotten until it's time to eat them! And pies come in such great variety—there's at least one for every letter in the alphabet: apple, berry, coconut . . . but let's stop there and consider the many varieties of coconut pie!

There's custard, cream, chiffon, ambrosia, cranberry, meringue—and now there's delicious Coconut Macaroon Pie! There's even variety here—as you can see by the recipes on this page. same texture, but a different in flavor, in appearance, in decoration.

It all goes to show you that there's no excuse at all for being humdrum . . . for using the same old recipes and menus, all the time.

So—for your very next company dinner, serve pies! And if you serve at least two . . . then your guests can "pick a pie."

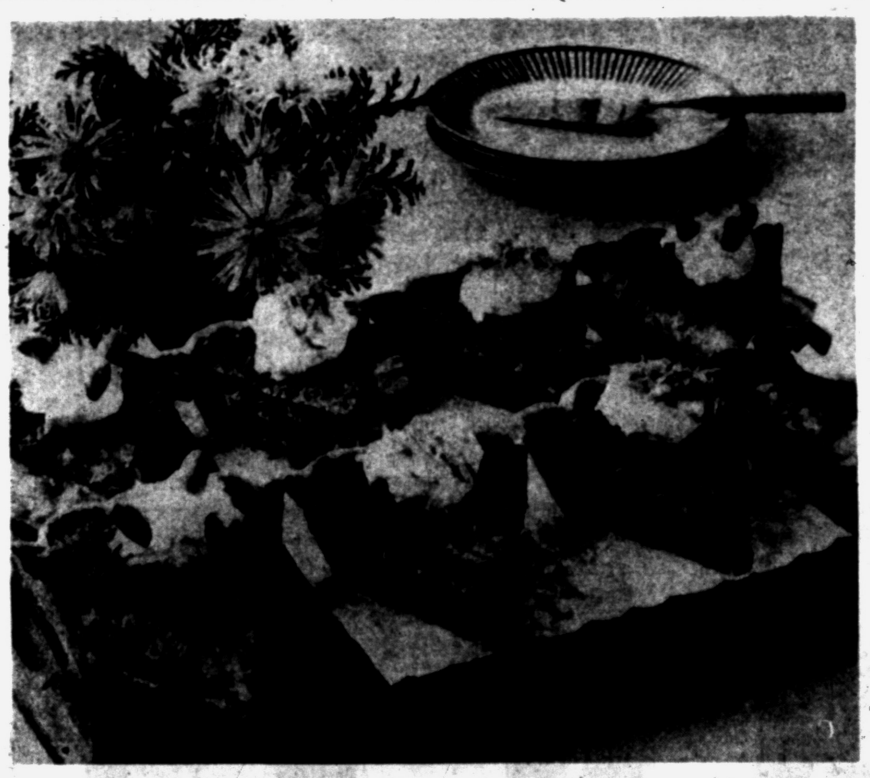

Macaroon Pie

3 egg yolks
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons butter, melted
2 teaspoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1⅓ cups flaked coconut
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell

Combine egg yolks and salt and beat until thick and light-colored. Add sugar, 3 tablespoons at a time, beating well after each addition. Add milk, butter, lemon juice, and almond extract. Blend well. Fold in coconut and egg whites. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes, or until knife inserted comes out clean.

Coffee Macaroon Pie

Use recipe for Macaroon Pie, but increase sugar to 1 cup and add 2 tablespoons instant coffee with the milk, butter, and flavorings.

TWO MACAROON PIES — Give your guests a chance to choose dessert . . . this time from two wonderful coconut macaroon pies. One is flavored with almond extract and lemon juice; the other is a delectable coffee variation.

Let's Have a Party Because It's Spring

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Let's have a party. It's springtime and everything looks fresh and new. Take some time off from spring housecleaning (horrible thought) and invite your favorite people to come to a party.

The menu we are suggesting is a little heavy for a luncheon in these days of calorie-conscious guests. We think, however, that men will like the food so that you can have your party a buffet one in the evening. Everything can be served by the guests themselves.

Maryland Imperial Tuna
Mushroom Muffins
Molded Cucumber Salad
Gala Chocolate Sponge
Coffee and Tea

Tuna is one food that is cheaper today than it was before 1940. This recipe will serve 4 to 6 so perhaps you will want to double it. It still will not be expensive.

Maryland Imperial Tuna

2 regular size cans tuna
1 raw egg
1 hard cooked egg, mashed to a paste
1½ slices finely crumbled white bread (stale)
4 teaspoons minced pimiento
4 teaspoons minced green pepper, parboiled for 3 to 4 minutes
1 tablespoon minced parsley
4 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons extra mayonnaise thinned with 2 tablespoons cream for top of tuna
Paprika for garnish

Carefully pick over tuna meat. Save some of the largest chunks (about ¼ the meat) for the top. Combine eggs, bread crumbs, pimiento, green pepper, parsley, Worcestershire sauce, mayonnaise, salt, pepper and butter. Add tuna and mix very lightly with a fork.

Fill greased shells or ovenproof custard cups with the tuna. Slightly flatten top of tuna mixture and press in lumps of tuna.

Pour a little of the thinned mayonnaise over each tuna shell, letting it run down sides of the heaped up tuna filling. Sprinkle with a little paprika and bake at 375 degrees F. until light brown. Makes 4-6 servings.

Mushrooms in muffins was a new idea to us but it sounds intriguing. These muffins also have a bit of sharp cheese in them. If you are afraid some of your guests will shy at this kind of hot bread, make up a batch of plain muffins to serve with them. A dish of jelly will be welcome for the latter.

Mushroom Muffins

½ lb. fresh mushrooms (chopped) or 4-oz. can stems and pieces
1 tablespoon butter or shortening
2 cups (less 2 tablespoons) sifted, all-purpose flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
2 eggs
¾ cup milk
1 cup American cheese (sharp), grated
3 tablespoons melted shortening or cooking oil

Preheat oven to 375-400 degrees. Saute mushrooms with tablespoon butter or shortening in pan for few minutes or till lightly browned. Sift dry ingredients into mixing bowl.

In separate bowl, beat eggs, and add milk, cheese, mushrooms and 2 tablespoons melted shortening. To dry ingredients, add liquid mixture, stirring lightly till well blended. Do not over-beat.

Spoon into muffin tins greased thoroughly with extra shortening and bake approximately 25 minutes. Yield: 8 muffins. Serve hot with butter.

Muffins are also delicious warmed over or split and toasted. (You may also add sauted mushrooms to your favorite muffin mix. With either recipe the muffins will be more attractive if you top them with a mushroom slice before baking.)

This salad is one you will probably use all summer. It should be delightful on a simmering hot day. Be sure to use a sprig or two of parsley or watercress to garnish each serving. Put the mayonnaise in a separate bowl.

Molded Cucumber Salad

Soften 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin in ½ cup fresh lemon juice. Dissolve over hot water. Add 1 cup cold water, ½ cup sugar, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon black pepper, ⅛ teaspoon garlic powder, 2 teaspoons grated onion, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 teaspoon horseradish sauce, 3 cups shredded cucumbers, 1/3 cup chopped green peppers, and ½ cup diced celery and mix well. Chill until mixture begins to thicken.

Rinse a 9x5x3-inch pan with cold water. Arrange a garnish of thin cucumber slices and green or red pepper strips over bottom. Pour in gelatin mixture, being careful not to disturb the design. Chill until firm.

Unmold onto salad plate. Garnish with crisp lettuce or watercress.

Some readers may question the advisability of having two molded dishes in one meal. But we think that the salad and the dessert are so entirely different in taste and texture that it will not matter.

If you don't want to try this sherry-flavored chocolate mold, serve fresh pineapple for dessert. Cut it into fingers and serve with little mounds of powdered sugar. Garnish with a fresh strawberry.

Incidentally, the dessert is not so rich as it sounds. Evaporated milk has fewer calories in it than whipping cream.

Gala Chocolate Sponge

1 square unsweetened chocolate
1¾ cups evaporated milk
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) gelatin
¼ cup cold water
½ to ⅔ cup sugar
Dash of salt
2 tablespoons sherry
½ cup chopped nuts

Add chocolate to milk and heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, beat with egg beater until blended. Combine gelatin and cold water in mixing bowl; mix well. Add hot chocolate mixture, sugar, and salt; stir until gelatin and sugar are dissolved. Add sherry. Chill until slightly thickened.

Place in bowl of ice and water and whip with egg beater until light and foamy throughout. Fold in nuts. Spoon into 1-quart mold and chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with whipped cream and pecan halves, if desired. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

Keep Sweets for Dessert

Appeties can be stimulated or dulled by the food you serve first for dinner, say foods and nutrition extension specialists at Michigan State University. Highly-seasoned soups or tart fruits encourage you to eat. Sweet foods tend to dull the appetite and are best for the last course.

Prepare Chicken Livers in the Spanish Way

Excellent for either hot hors d'oeuvres or as an entree are chicken livers prepared in the Spanish manner, especially when served with glasses of chilled Spanish sherry. Melt 4 tablespoons butter in chafing dish or skillet, brown 1 pound of chicken livers in the butter, sprinkling with ½ teaspoon salt.

When livers are browned on both sides, add 1 cup seedless white grapes, fresh or canned (drained), simmer about 3 minutes. Then add ½ cup fino or amontillado sherry and simmer 3 minutes longer. Makes about 20 hors d'oeuvres servings or 4 entree servings. As an entree, serve in a ring of rice.

Save Giblets, Livers for Sandwiches

Thrifty Chicken Sandwiches

1 cup firmly-packed ground cooked chicken giblets and neck meat
6 cooked chicken livers (ground)
⅓ cup mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon onion salt,
Salt, pepper

Mix together well the ground chicken and livers, mayonnaise and onion salt; add salt and pepper to taste. Makes 1½ cups. Use as a sandwich spread.

Note: Cook chicken livers in 1 teaspoon butter or margarine in a 6-inch skillet, browning lightly on both sides.

When you are making thin French pancakes, the trick is to use a small skillet. Then after pouring a little of the batter into the well-buttered pan, tilt the skillet so the batter covers the bottom.

Toll Far Worse Than Polio's

Use Juniors to Curb Fires

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fire will kill more children under the age of 10 this year than polio did in its worst epidemics before the Salk vaccine, according to the National Fire Protection Assn., which adds these grim statistics:

—At least 290 to 300 youngsters will die each month in fires that could have been prevented.

—Another 700 Americans will perish every 30 days in blazes which need never have occurred.

—Some 11,500 U. S. citizens can be expected to lose their lives in all fires this year.

One program aimed at helping to reduce this terrible loss of life enlists the organized aid of 8-to-10-year-old grade-school youngsters who are learning fire prevention and safety at an age when it is most meaningful.

Four million of these "Junior Fire Marshals" took part this spring in a clean-up drive in towns, villages and cities throughout the country.

The campaign was part of a year-long public service program sponsored by an insurance firm (Hartford Fire Insurance Co.) in cooperation with local schools.

Youngsters taking part—third, fourth and fifth-graders—opened their safety drive by attaching broom-shaped tags to doorknobs in their communities.

5 PREVENTION RULES

The tags, prepared by the boys and girls themselves, give these five rules for springtime fire prevention:

—Rake up dry leaves and weeds around the house.

—Burn trash only when the wind is not blowing. Keep a hose handy.

—Put lids on paint cans when the day's painting is finished.

But perhaps even more important than distributing these tags, the "Junior Fire Marshals" made sure that the advice printed on them was followed in their very own homes.

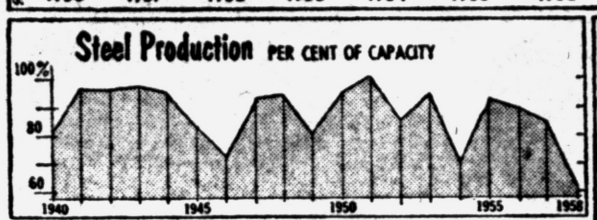

B. F. Goodrich Plant at Cadillac Closes

The plant, which made rubber products mostly for the automotive industry and once employed 600 people, is expected to have 24 on its payroll by the end of this week.

Spearhead Battle of Bargaining Table

Steelworkers — Labor's Shock Troops

By RAY SHAW
AP Feature Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The American steelworker proudly regards himself as the champion of the blue-collar labor force—the a of the hourly wage earners.

Part of his title was won at the bargaining table. The remainder comes from his place in the nation's economy.

The steelworker's paycheck generally influences the size of those in other industries. And economists say his productive output is the biggest single push behind the nation's economy.

The United Steelworkers Union, representing 90 per cent of the nation's steel employes, is negotiating here with the 12 major steel companies for a contract to replace the one that expires June 30.

There is more interest than usual this year in the always important contract talks. President Eisenhower has called for steelworkers and management to come up with an agreement to end what he terms an inflationary "wage-price" spiral.

The steelworker's hourly wage has increased 75 per cent since 1950, while the price of steel has gone up 61 per cent during the same period.

IKE COMMENTS

Eisenhower says the government will not stand idly by while wages and prices continued to spiral, but he has not spelled out what action, if any, the government would take.

The steelworkers president, David McDonald, contends any increase in steelworkers' wages can be absorbed by the companies, thus stopping the spiral.

But the steel industry says it cannot be expected to absorb the wage increases—that when costs of producing steel go up, the price of the product must follow.

In 1937, the steelworker earned 18½ cents an hour more than workers in all other manufacturing jobs. In 1947 the spread was 20 cents. It reached 49 cents in 1955 and in January of this year the difference was 84 cents an hour.

The steelworker's 84-cent-an-hour wage in 1940 had the buying power of $1.41 in 1947-49 dollars; his present wage gives him a buying power of $2.41 in 1947-49 dollars, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The biggest question surrounding the present negotiations is: Will there be a strike?

Any strike in the steel industry affects the nation's general economy. Supplies to dozens of other industries are cut off. Unless there is a stockpile of steel on hand, layoffs follow.

Since 1946 the steel industry has been shut down 162 days because of strikes, the longest being 55 days in the summer of 1952. The last general steel strike was a 34-day one in July and August of 1956.

State Buys New High in Road Right of Ways

LANSING (AP)—Right of way purchases for road building hit a new high for the fiscal year in April, the State Highway Department reported. Options were acquired on 400 parcels of land at a cost of $1,883,000.

Right of way acquisitions for the first 10 months of the fiscal year total $13,600,000 compared to $13,100,000 for the entire previous fiscal year, the department said. Options were obtained on 2,673 parcels of land.

Set Higher Precedent

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Four years before the Supreme Court ordered an end to racial segregation in public schools, it held that it was illegal for the state of Texas to require Negroes to attend a segregated law school.

Test Reliable Jupiter on 1,500-Mile Run

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP)—A Powerful Jupiter, the Army's reliable intermediate range war rocket, rumbled aloft early today on the start of a 1,500-mile flight test.

The Jupiter, which soon may carry another monkey passenger to the fringes of space, roared off at 12:52 a.m. (EST).

The 60-foot missile was fired on its 17th development test to check reliability and accuracy before it is assigned for troop use.

The Jupiter, which has provided the first stage power for two Army space probes, is expected to be deployed in Italy as part of the NATO defense force.

Pontiac DAV Unit Elects First Woman Commander

Pontiac Chapter 16 of the Disabled American Veterans made history last night when it elected a woman as its commander.

Mrs. Rembert (Cleta J.) Parker, 29, of 22 Oneida Rd. became the first woman to be named commander since the post was organized in 1930. She will lead a roster of seven other officers, all of whom are men.

The mother of three children, she served in the Women's Army Corps (WAC) from 1949 to 1952 and was in the 7774th Signal Battalion stationed in Heidelberg, Germany. She was a corporal.

The new commander is one of seven women disabled veterans who belong to the 305-member organization. She has been post adjutant and chaplain of the chapter.

Other officers elected at the chapter house at 199 Auburn ave. were Jack Second of Pontiac, senior vice commander; Raymond Quick of Pontiac, junior vice commander; Herman Byrd of Pontiac, treasurer; Robert Rotramel of Drayton Plains, adjutant; Maynard Paulson of Clarkston, chaplain; Robert Copeman of Clarkston, executive committeeman, and Charles Brewin of Pontiac, alternate executive committeeman.

The chapter's auxiliary also elected officers last night. Mrs. Ray Jewell of 4692 Rockcroft St., Waterford was named commander for the third time.

Other auxiliary officers elected were Mrs. Tina Robinson of Birmingham, senior vice commander; Mrs. Joe Hicks of Pontiac, junior vice president; Mrs. Loretta Stockwell of Pontiac, chaplain; Mrs. Luther Keys of Pontiac, treasurer; Mrs. Lisle Smith of Pontiac, executive committeewoman; and Mrs. Edna Olmstead of Pontiac, alternate executive committeewoman.

A joint installation of officers of the two groups will be held at 8 p.m. May 23 at the chapter house. They will be installed by a state officer.

Ike Dedicates Cultural Center

Hails New York Project as Mighty Influence for World Peace

NEW YORK (UP)—President Eisenhower broke ground today for a 75-million-dollar cultural center and predicted it will be a mighty influence for world peace.

The President took part in Manhattan ceremonies marking the start of the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. He flew from Washington for the occasion.

The site of the center, an area of three and a half blocks on 64th street west of Broadway, was cleared of run-down dwellings and other buildings for the huge construction project to be completed in 1963.

Eisenhower said the center symbolizes not only an increasing interest in America in cultural matters, but also is "a stimulating approach to one of the nation's pressing problems: "urban blight."

After the ground breaking ceremony Eisenhower goes to the New York Coliseum to look over displays in the international show of export goods from 63 countries.

Among the rare gifts he is receiving are:

Congress, Ike Far Apart on Wheat Surplus Control

WASHINGTON (UP)—Congress and President Eisenhower appeared over the ways to stem the flood completely at loggerheads today of surplus wheat production costing the taxpayers billions of dollars.

Eisenhower yesterday prodded Congress to do something about revising the price support and control program lest it "crash of its own weight" and destroy the whole federal farm program.

By 1960, he said, the government will have on its hands 3½ billion dollars of surplus wheat for which it has no use.

But even as he sent his message to Capitol Hill, the House Agriculture Committee approved a bill pretty much flouting the administration's ideas.

VOTE ACREAGE CUT

Instead of relaxing controls and reducing support prices, as Eisenhower has asked, the House committee voted to cut wheat acreage another 30 per cent and raise support prices from the present 75 per cent to 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a price determined under farm law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs. It is based generally on the situation existing in 1910-1914.

The administration has proposed abandoning parity and basing price supports instead on the average of actual market prices of the preceding three years. A similar program was approved for corn last year.

Details of the administration plan were given by Secretary of Agriculture Eza Taft Benson in testimony just released by the House Appropriations Committee.

Under it, farmers now limited to a total of 55 million acres of wheat would be allowed to grow half again as much during 1960, 1961 and 1962. After 1962, planting allotments and marketing quotas would be eliminated entirely.

Please Brace Yourself, Here Comes 2nd Rooney

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Can show business take another Rooney? Apparently it will have to, because young Teddy's career is booming in a manner that recalls his famous father, Mickey.

Teddy started late. He was all of 8 before he made his acting debut. His old man started by crawling onstage during his parents' vaudeville act.

"I've had fun," he mused. "The best part is that when I work, I only have three hours of school work. When I don't work, I have to go six hours a day! That's terrible."

See what I mean about the resemblance to his pa?

Teddy's mother, actress Martha Vickers says "Teddy is very much like his father in the way he does things. He throws his whole heart and soul into it, whether he's playing a role or second base for the Little League. There is nothing half-way about him."

Indeed there isn't. Yet he is a well-mannered young man, not the smart-aleck type you often meet among movie children. The physical resemblance to Mickey is sometimes amazing, especially in profile.

How did Teddy get started as an actor?

"It was an accident," explained Martha, now married to Manuel Rojas and mother of a 3-year-old girl. "My agents heard that Screen Gems was looking for a boy to play Dennis the Menace in a TV series. They knew Teddy and wanted to take him for an audition. I agreed.

"He was considered too old for the part, but then I got a role in a Playhouse 90 film Screen Gems was making. There was also the part of my son, and Teddy was suggested for it."

After he did the part, Mickey was looking for a boy to play his son in "Andy Hardy Goes Home." Teddy was the obvious choice. Then he was tabbed to play Doris Day's son in "It Happened to Jane."

Teddy's latest venture is a dream assignment. He plays the sole patron at an amusement pier in a sequence for a CBS spectacular to air next Monday. He spent three days spinning on the thrill rides and playing with the trained whales — "and I got paid for it!"

Now he's up for a TV series called "The Baby Sitter." But his biggest thrill is a record contract with Imperial Records. Why? Because the same firm releases Rickey Nelson, Teddy's idol.

"Sure. But only until I'm 17. Then I want to be a fireman."

Tornado Control Hope of Science

WASHINGTON — Weather Bureau scientists are increasingly hopeful that man will some day conquer the tornado, the rotary storm that kills scores of people and causes millions of dollars worth of damage each year.

In 1958, 66 persons died in 636 twisters.

A tornado may begin when a cool, dry air mass moves over warm, moist surface air. An unstable build-up of energy is created, because cold air weighs more than warm air. If there is a narrow band of strong winds at intermediate levels, a whirling exchange of air may develop.

So far, science has devised no real defense against the vicious spinning winds, except to get out of the way. But new tools and techniques are providing better warnings and advancing knowledge, the National Geographic Society says.

One valuable instrument forces potential tornadoes to flash their own alarm. Known as a "pressure-jump indicator," it records and signals the ominous rise in pressure that often means the birth of a tornado.

Radar can spot tornadoes. The first widespread network of storm-warning radar was established in Texas in 1954. Since then the Weather Bureau has installed radar at strategic stations in many parts of the United States. The units serve the dual purpose of tracking hurricanes as well as tornadoes.

A tornado's color varies from gray to black. Its normal sound is the roar of hundreds of airplanes. In its swath of destruction, trees are ripped up by the roots, chickens plucked naked, and streams sucked dry. It can toss a locomotive about like a child's toy.

Not the least of a tornado's terror is its electrical display. Forked lightning—vividly outlined with yellow, green, blue, and purple—often dances against the dull glow of continuous sheet lightning.

Tornadoes can and do strike the same place more than once. Codell, a town in western Kansas, was hit three years in succession on the same date, May 20.

The worst tornado in United States history bulldozed a path across Missouri, Illinois, and Indiana in 1925, killing 689 persons and injuring 1,980 others.

Family Bible Survives 2 World Wars, Tornado

STARKVILLE, Miss. (UPI) — When Payl H. Dunn was five years old, his father gave him a New Testament.

That was 60 years ago. Dunn, now a geology professor at Mississippi State University, carried the Testament through two world wars and a tornado attack and still has it.

The Testament is part of a collection of Bibles that include those carried by Dunn's grandfathers through the Civil War.

Actor Sir Alec Guinness started as a copywriter in an advertising agency.

Security for You

Will Pay on Son, Daughter

By RAY HENRY

Ederly parents may sometimes collect social security based on the social security record of a deceased son or daughter.

But, just as for collecting all social security payments, certain specific requirements must be met.

They are:

1. Before death, the deceased son or daughter must have been providing at least half the parent's support and had worked in a job covered by social security for a certain length of time.

(The amount of time required depends on when the son or daughter died. To collect payments now, the required time is 50 months, but as time passes it will eventually be a maximum of 10 years.)

2. A parent can't collect payments based on both his Social Security record and that of a son or daughter. He can only collect from which record would give him the highest payment.

For example: If a father is now collecting $45 a month on the basis of his own record, he can only collect from his son's record if he were entitled to more than $45. But, he can't receive a combination of both payments.

3. The payments may only go to a father who's 65 or older or a mother 62 or over.

The size of the payments a parent can collect depends on (a) how many other survivors—that is, a widow and children of the son or daughter—are eligible to social security based on the same record, and (b) the average monthly earnings on which the son or daughter paid social security tax before he or she died.

These general statements can be made about the size of payments:

The higher the average monthly earnings of the son or daughter, the higher the parent's payments. The more survivors eligible for payments the smaller the payments to a parent.

If no widow or child is or ever will be eligible for payments based on the deceased son's or daughter's social security record, a parent's payments may range from $33 to $95.30 a month.

If a widow and a parent are both eligible, the payments will be within the same range.

But, if a widow, one or more children and a parent are eligible, the range in payments will probably be affected. Chances are the parent's payments will be smaller because so many survivors are drawing them.

SPACE STEWARDESS—Pamela Jayson, a registered nurse with a master's degree in psychology, is the first candidate to be a space stewardess. She was selected after interviews and tests in Los Angeles.

Divers Seek Bodies of Three Jet Pilots

Maj. Gen. Daniel W. Jenkins, deputy commander of the 9th Air Force, will head an investigation into the crash yesterday of the three F100 Super Sabre Jets. They were part of a night navigation and refueling mission.

Other members of the formation said the three ships suddenly fell from the formation and hit the water one by one. All exploded. No parachutes were seen.

The Air Force said no foul play was suspected.

Capricious Kim Captures Cannes

By ROBERT MUSEL

CANNES, France (UPI)—Kim Novak stood the Cannes Film Festival on its sunburned ear today with a demonstration of how Hollywood stars used to act in the days when everything was forgiven if they had beauty and some talent.

Since the big Chicago blonde filled both requirements she won a personal and professional success last night at the world premiere of her new Columbia film, "Middle of the Night," one of the two official American festival entries.

Miss Novak has been criticized for one thing and another since her arrival here Tuesday. But as any movie historian could have predicted, the complaints turned to cheers the moment she made her first public appearance last night.

A clinging, revealing gown of white and sapphire jersey helped. The crowd outside the festival theater gasped and applauded as she stepped out of her car, and Miss Novak with a smile of acknowledgment swept to her seat in the grand manner of her Hollywood predecessor, Jean Harlow.

The premiere gave the festival a welcome moment of glamour, for there have been few international stars this year to offset the imitation Brigitte Bardots and fading screen names who gather here annually looking for a break or a comeback.

In a brief 48-hour period she:

—Ordered her chauffeur to outrun the press motorcade and disappointed hundreds of autograph fans by dodging away to the villa of Prince Aly Khan instead of the suite prepared for her at the Carlton Hotel.

—Announced when her hideout was discovered that she was going to bed but instead slipped out to a nearby village to dine and dance till dawn with Cary Grant.

—Bluntly canceled all television and press interviews.

— Arranged a party on Ali Khan's yacht for Cary Grant and others.

Since Prince Aly gave her the use of both his house and yacht and since she has been constantly in Grant's company, rumors started that one or both were favored boyfriends.

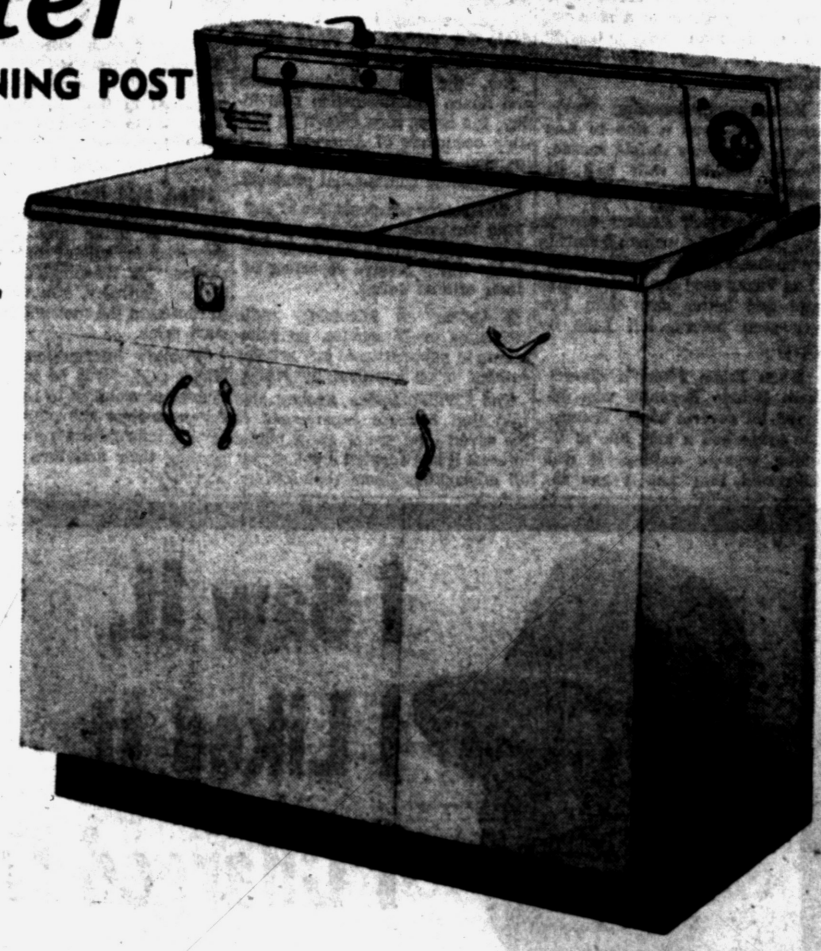

Miss Novak took care of those reports by telephoning other boyfriends in California and Italy.

She was the guest of honor at a middle-of-the-night party thrown by Columbia and the Motion Picture Association at luxurious Eden Roc. The room glittered with diamonds, bubbled with champagne while fireworks exploded over the lawns outside.

Divorce Machine So Eddie Need Not Wait

LAS VEGAS — The hotels in Las Vegas charge you room rent for the privilege of losing it.

A third dice fell out of a player's sleeve here the other night, just as he rolled the regular pair. The manager, a very tough fellow, came over to the unhappy shooter, impounded the renegade cube, handed him back the original two and said: "Shoot, your number's 13."

I consider it an affront if somebody at the table throws a chip on "any craps" just when I'm cranking up trying to make my point. They always look well-to-do, curiously enough.

A man looks effeminate playing roulette.

There is nothing sadder than the sudden hush that lasts throughout that split second between the time the dice come to a stop and the stick man says, briskly, "Seven the loser. New shooter coming out."

Horse-racing, booming everywhere else, was a flop in Las Vegas for a very simple reason. People wouldn't wait half an hour for a win-or-lose decision.

When Eddie Fisher's divorce from Debbie Reynolds was delayed for several hours, because the judge had a long line of divorce seekers waiting, it was suggested that Las Vegas install divorce machines—like 25-cent airline insurance.

The jackpot would be a handsome one. You'd get all of Tommy Manville's ex-wives.

No town in the world comes close to this one for night entertainment. An act-shopper, browsing along the Strip (a word that has taken on special meaning in Vegas in recent years), can take his pick this week of such headliners as Marlene Dietrich, Harry Belafonte, Ray Bolger, Danny Thomas, Jimmy Durante, Vic Damone, the tremendous show from the Lido in Paris, Teresa Brewer, Joe E. Lewis (who fondly calls her Teresa Brewery) and—hold it, folks — Jane Mansfield and Mickey Hargitay.

The hotel public relations people are a strange mixture of Broadway and Los Alamos. In between hustling items about Maisie Detrop, named Miss Knocknee 1959, the boys ponder ways and means of persuading Khrushchev and Eisenhower to resume testing atomic bombs.

The bomb has been almost as much of a boon to Las Vegas as the development of the hard eight. Tests at nearby Yucca Flats brought thousands of bomb buffs to the city, most of whom like to relax at the tables or the shows after the radioactive dust settled.

There's only one place in town where you can dance—in the Skyroom of Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn. So who came to dance?

A cry of "fire!" couldn't empty a room faster than the big dining rooms are cleared the moment the floor show ends. Beaters, who apparently got their training under tiger-hunting maharajahs, push the diners back to the tables so fast so soon after dinner that they make sloshing sounds as they trot along.

They're still calling nearby Hoover Dam by its wrong name, Boulder Dam. There was a move on years ago to make the name Hoover Dam stick. The use of the term Boulder Dam has been encouraged by New Dealers as a slight to the former President.

But it was discovered that so many road signs, postcards and pennants bore the legend that somebody suggested that it would be a great deal simpler if he changed his name to Herbert Boulder.

Crazy, wonderful town, Las Vegas. The temperatures have been around 90 lately but no air cooling is needed. The dice take care of that.

NASA Lists Some Restrictions

To Allow U. S. Astronauts to Peddle Personal Stories

WASHINGTON (AP) — The seven prospective spacemen — Mercury Astronauts—may make their own deals for stories or plays about their personal life.

But, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said today, the seven men chosen as possible occupants of America's first manned satellite may not:

1. Endorse commercial products.

2. Receive compensation of any kind for radio, television or motion picture appearances or articles which involve reporting of their official duties.

3. Appear on television, radio programs or in movies, or collaborate in publication of any articles without prior approval by NASA.

The Civilian Space Agency also said that because experiences of the seven men are of great public interest it has adopted a policy that all information about their official activities will be made public promptly.

"During such interviews, the Mercury Astronauts will be directed to disclose all information acquired in the course of their activities in Project Mercury, except information classified to protect the national security."

NASA said the Mercury Astronauts are free, as individuals or a group, to make any agreement they wish for sale of their personal stories. A Washington attorney, C. Leo de Orsey, has volunteered to represent the men without fee in such sales.

"Public information media," NASA said, "will be granted frequent accessibility to the Mercury Astronauts for the purpose of obtaining information from them concerning their activities in Project Mercury . . .

Weather Saves Tigers From--You Know Who!

Killebrew Can't Blast Detroit When It Rains

Bengals Peddle Larry Doby Back to Chicago White Sox

Rain, which saved the Tigers from several impending losses last year by falling before the fifth inning, saved them from facing Harmon Killebrew again last night.

It caused postponement of the Tigers' game with the Washington Senators. The Nats had defeated Detroit four times, with Killebrew belting two homers in each of the last three.

Killebrew gets another crack at his favorite pitching staff tonight. The Tigers conclude their abbreviated series with the Senators by sending Don Mossi or Jim Bunning to the mound. Hal Griggs is scheduled to work for Washington.

The Tigers used the rainy day to sell veteran outfielder Larry Doby to the Chicago White Sox. They received more than the $20,000 waiver price for Doby, who seems to have lost his hitting skills.

Doby quickly was shunted to a corner of the bench after Jimmie Dykes took over as manager last week. The veteran's batting average had sagged to .218.

The night off gave Dykes a chance to reassess the wonders he has wrought since displacing Bill Norman.

He found the Tigers have made an amazing turnabout under his guidance. Dykes' first message to his team was to stop pressing, to relax.

The Tigers went out and won the first seven of nine games with Dykes at the helm. They had won two and lost 15 under Norman. That stacks up as a .778 percentage for Dykes and a .118 percentage for Norman.

Detroit has won all the close ones under new management. The Tigers' two losses were by nine and three runs. They won two one-run decisions for Dykes. Under Norman, Detroit was involved in five one-run contests and lost all five.

The pitching staff with Dykes as manager lived up to the prediction made by Norman in spring training. Norman said it was one of the best—if not the best—in the American League.

Norman got only two complete games out of his pitchers and one was in a lost cause two days before he was fired. Dykes' hurlers have turned in five winning route-going performances in nine games.

The home run also became a weapon of attack when Dykes arrived. The Tigers swatted only 12 in 17 games for Norman. They've belted 18 in nine game for Dykes. Charlie Maxwell, who was in Norman's doghouse, has hit five since the new manager took over.

STOPPED—It took the weatherman to do something the Detroit Tigers couldn't do — that was, to stop Harmon Killebrew, the Washington third baseman who has been belting Detroit pitching for home runs. Last night's game was called, but the big slugger will have a chance to continue his feast tonight.

Released Baxes May Quit Game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Although the Los Angeles Dodgers cut loose Jim Baxes, the big third baseman says he may not report to Spokane.

"I know I can still play big league baseball," he said. "I hope the Dodgers will reconsider and trade me to another major league team, but if they won't, I'm going to give serious thought to giving up the game."

It took Baxes 12 years to get to the majors, and although he was batting over .300, Los Angeles ordered him back to its Pacific Coast League farm club.

Small Turnout Sees Boston's 6-4 Win

DORTMUND, Germany (AP)—The Boston Bruins turned in a 6-4 victory over the New York Rangers Wednesday night as the two National Hockey League teams played before a small turnout of 300.

But the Bruins came back with three goals in the second period and two more in the third. Jerry Toppazzini tallied two of the second period goals and Bronco Horvath the other. Vic Stasiuk and John Hanna tallied in the third.

Eddie Shack also came through for the Rangers in the second period and Jim Bartlett added their fourth goal at the midway point of the final session.

Indians Irked as Yanks Put Off Make-Up Game

Casey, Lane Tangle Again

By The Associated Press

An intermittent rain fell and steady sarcasm flowed at New York's Yankee Stadium yesterday as Frank Lane and Casey Stengel tangled in the latest round of their verbal feud.

Lane, general manager of the American League leading Cleveland Indians, was miffed because the Yankees called off yesterday's game. Stengel, manager of the sixth-place world champions, shrugged and snubbed the loquacious Lane, just as he did two months ago in spring training.

"I told everybody this spring," said Lane, "that the Yankees weren't invincible. Now they're inaccessible. You can't find them to play them!"

"Maybe," said Case, when informed of Lane's remarks on the postponement, "somebody will talk too much some time."

The afternoon game, the finale of a two game series which opened with a 7-6 Cleveland victory Tuesday night, was called before noon. Both Lane and Indian Manager Joe Gordon expressed surprise that the game wasn't re-scheduled for today, an open date for both the Indians and the Yankees.

The Yankees, who explained they don't re-schedule games that quickly because they can't publicize the new date properly, said they had been informed that it would rain yesterday afternoon and today. For the record, there was no rain at game time at the Stadium, but it did rain later in the afternoon.

When a photographer suggested that Stengel pose with Lane at the Stadium, Casey replied "Let him gloat alone." That matched the cold shoulder Stengel gave Lane at St. Petersburg, Fla., when Lane held court with Yankee writers during spring training.

Gordon, an ex-Yankee, was quoted in the Cleveland News as saying the Yankees "must be afraid to play us. They want to wait and play us when they're going better."

Lane voiced similar thoughts about the Yankees, who are 0-3 against the Indians. "You can bet," said Lane, "that if they had beaten us Tuesday night, they'd have played.

"They're stalling," he added, "until Bill Skowron is all right again. The Yankee first baseman has a leg injury. The Yankee physician called this game off, not Stengel."

"Weather" or not, the Yankees should profit from the extra day of rest. Several players have been battling a virus, and Skowron may be able to play again Friday, when the Yankees meet the Chicago White Sox.

First Title Since '26

Albion MIAA Champion

By The Associated Press

Albion College holds its first Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. (MIAA) baseball championship in 33 years.

The Britons, who hadn't enjoyed the title since 1926 in this venerable Michigan college league, wrapped it up wednesday in a doubleheader sweep over Calvin, 10-6 and 6-3.

Alma had won the title the last eight years.

The sweep gave Albion the championship outright with a one-game margin over Hope. Albion finished the season with a record of 12 victories and two defeats as against Hope's 11 and three.

Pitcher Ron Banovic made sure of at least a share of the title for Albion by shutting out Calvin in Wednesday's opener on five hits.

Dick McNally of Albion drove in six runs in the first game on a homer and single.

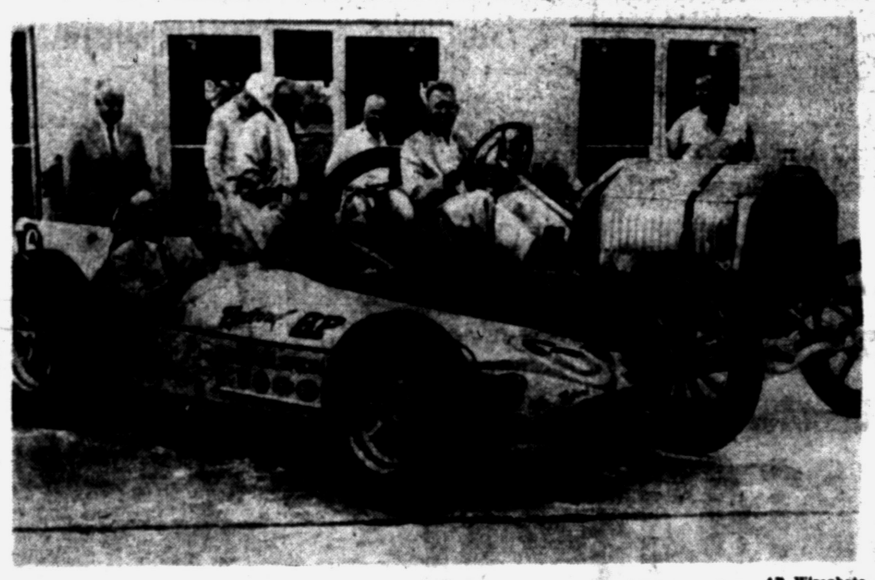

In another doubleheader concluding the MIAA 1959 season, Hillsdale beat Olivet twice, 7-1 and 6-0, to finish third with an 8-6 record. Jerry Taylor pitched a one-hitter in the second game.

Activity at '500' Is Slowed by Rain

THEN AND NOW — Old Number 10, the car which won the first feature 250-mile race at the Indianapolis Speedway in 1909, is displayed by the owner Lowell R. Whitla while George Salih, owner of the Belond Special drives alongside. The Belond has won the last two 500-mile races. Qualifying trials will start Saturday for the 1959 classic, May 30.

Racers Get Set for Saturday's Qualifying Laps

Compulsory for Drivers to Wear Long-Sleeved Treated Uniforms

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A morning rain, gusty winds and a thin fog slowed activity Wednesday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway as drivers tried to get in practice laps for Saturday's opening qualifications for the 500-mile race May 30.

Ray Crawford of Pasadena, Calif., one of the few drivers wealthy enough to own his own $40,000 race car, made his first appearance in a new horizontal engine car and immediately broke a connecting rod.

The supermarket chain owner's crew probably will have the car running again Thursday. Rookie Earl Motter of Fresno, Calif, threw a rod Tuesday and fast working mechanics had his car functioning again Wednesday.

Speedway officials announced it will be compulsory hereafter for drivers in U.S. Auto Club races to wear long-sleeved uniforms treated with a flame-retarding solution.

Officials also announced plans to try to smooth out the race start with a two-way radio system.

Fengler will be in telephone communication with eight observers around the track.

Jerry Unser of Lakewood, Calif. severely burned in a practice run wreck May 2, was reported slightly improved. He was wearing an untreated uniform.

Ralph Liguori of Tampa, Fla., a 10-year-racing veteran but new at the Speedway, completed the 120-mile-an-hour phase of his driver's test in the Italian El-Dorado Maserati. He has 125 and 130 to go.

Jim Packard of Indianapolis, who wrecked a car May 10 but escaped injury, and Bob Schroeder of Chester, Ill., who spun off the track May 11, were told to obtain more racing experience before returning to the Speedway.

Chisox Option Jackson to Make Room for Doby

BOSTON (UPI) — The second place Chicago White Sox have optioned first baseman Ron Jackson to Indianapolis of the American Association to make room for Larry Doby.

The move brought Chicago to the 25-player limit, including rookie outfielder Norm Cash who is carried on the National Defense Service act as a returning serviceman.

Jackson, former Western Michigan player, had batted only 10 times in six games this season collecting three hits. Veteran Earl Torgeson has been holding down the first base berth.

The White Sox purchased Doby from the Tigers.

SOLD — The Tigers sold outfielder Larry Doby to the Chicago White Sox in strictly a cash deal which was figured at $25,000. He had a batting average of .218 in 16 games for Detroit.

Class F Boys Tryout

Players are wanted to tryout for the Pontiac Fire-Fighters a class F team for boys 13 and under. Practice will be held Saturday from 10:00 to 1:00 p.m. at Columbia-Joslyn south diamond.

Americans Face Determined Irishman

British Walker Cup Hopes High

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — American Walker Cup golfers play this weekend against a man who is so devoted to the thoughts of beating them that he has hit 600 practice shots a day since October.

The man is Joe Carr, a 37-year-old Irishman who was born and raised on a golf course in Dublin and who has spent much of his time playing golf ever since.

Carr and Reid Jack, a 35-year-old Scottish insurance man, from the backbone of the British Walker Cup team which meets the Americans under Captain Charles Coe in Scotch foursomes tomorrow and in singles Saturday.

The matches will be over Muirfield's 6,806-yard seaside links lying on the beach and among the sand dunes of the gusty Firth of Forth.

British hopes of winning the Walker Cup for the first time since 1938 and for only the second time in history are higher this year than ever before because of four years of preparation and direction by the Royal and Ancient Club, a carefully selected and trained team, enthusiastic work by the players, and the total restyling of Joe Carr's swing and game.

"In golf I have changed everything from my grip to my stance to my putting stroke and to my putter," said Carr. "I don't feel quite yet like I've got everything straightened out, but I'm just around the corner.

All these changes have been made in the midst of a highly successful career — making the highly popular Carr one of the few, if not the only, international amateur ever to switch his game so much.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Consistency lacking.

DIAGNOSIS: Attention to important details also lacking.

TREATMENT: Swinging effectively at a golf ball calls for giving strong attention to details. One important detail—to which many golfers give almost no attention—is the waggle. (Waggle is the name given the little preliminary motions made just before going into the swing proper.)

Please believe me when I tell you the waggle is important. It is much more than a few incidental movements aimed at loosening the muscles — at least it should be.

Waggle the club straight back and forth along the intended line of flight—not aimlessly up, down and around. As you do so, picture the clubhead going back away from the ball on a straight line, coming into the ball along this same line, and going straight through the ball toward the target.

Think of the waggle as the swing in miniature. Remember that, to an important extent, a proper waggle will bring about a proper swing.

Warriors Land 'The Stilt'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Warriors have signed Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain to a one-year contract for more than $30,000, making him the highest paid player in the history of the National Basketball Assn.

Immediately after the signing yesterday, Warriors' owner Eddie Gottlieb predicted that Chamberlain would pack houses all over the circuit, bringing prosperity to the entire league. Gottlieb predicted a $100,000 increase in gate receipts for his Warriors alone.

The seven-foot plus Negro act took a cut from the $67,000 he earned with the Harlem Globetrotters last year. He said he wanted to give up the role of clown for a place in big league basketball and wanted to play with his hometown team.

Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics had been considered the highest payed NBA player, drawing a reported $25,000-plus salary.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Ex-Tiger manager Bill Norman had so much confidence in Larry Doby and so little use for Charley Maxwell he became bitter when anyone even questioned his reasons for playing the Tiger left field position as he did.

"Don't worry, he is going to be tattooing those bleachers," Norman said when asked why he was sticking with Doby even though he was hardly hitting his weight.

But Norman was determined Maxwell would not be his choice and he made that evident since the day he took over the helm from Jack Tighe last summer.

It was difficult to pin-point the reason for the ill-feeling between Norman and Maxwell except that Paw Paw was brash and frank with his thoughts.

He said what he thought and said it loudly. He was angry at the Tigers for attempting to cut his salary and he let it be known in print that he would put an end to Norman's moaning about the long ball by aiming for the fence on every pitch.

His competitor, Doby, who was supposed to shatter the fences, is now gone and Maxwell is getting back his confidence under Jimmy Dykes.

Now if Doby does any tattooing of the fences he will be doing it against the Tigers.

Besides, the Tigers were paying him $30,000 and it wasn't worth the risk for the dissension it was causing in view of the fact that Maxwell had to take a cut from this same figure.

It can be chalked up as another bad Tiger deal which has had many poor chapters in a thick volume of trades.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Why don't Pontiac area men bowlers get down to brass tacks in splitting with Detroit and forming their own association? They are accepting the relationship of being step-sons to the Detroit Association which has enough to handle with its own city bowlers.

The area men would do better in patterning the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association for convenient and autonomous organization.

Spahn Reaches Coveted 250 Mark in Victories

By United Press International

Warren Spahn, his 250th victory in the record book, may be the top-winning left-hander in National League history by the end of the season.

Spahn became the 25th pitcher ever to reach the 250-mark when he hurled the Milwaukee Braves to a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night. Carl Hubbell with 253 wins and Eppa Rixey with 266 are the only National League lefties ahead of him and above them are only American Leaguers Lefty Grove with 300 and Eddie Plank with 324.

At 38, Spahn has had a bit of trouble getting started this year but he picked on one of his favorite "cousins" Wednesday night. Spahn has scored two of his 1959 wins over the Cardinals and has a 53-29 lifetime edge over them.

The victory lifted the Braves back into first place when the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-4, on a two-run 8th-inning homer by Dick Stuart. The San Francisco Giants beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-0, and the Chicago Cubs whipped the Cincinnati Reds, 10-0, in the other National League games. The Chicago White Sox downed the Boston Red Sox, 4-0 in the only American League activity.

Spahn got the run he needed to beat Larry Jackson when Bill Bruton homered with two out in the eighth inning. Alex Grammas had nicked Spahn for a two-run double in the second inning but the Braves tied the score in the fourth on a walk, singles by Eddie Mathews and Wes Covington, an infield out and Del Crandall's sacrifice fly.

Mickey Vernon, who played right field in place of the ailing Hank Aaron, went 0-for-3 but walked during the Braves' two-run fourth. Early Wynn, with 253 wins, is the only active pitcher with more victories than Spahn.

Stuart's winning homer for Pittsburgh overcame a 4-3 Dodger lead which resulted from Don Demeter's eighth homer of the season. Elroy Face, the Pirates' brilliant, 155-pound reliever, took over in the seventh inning and gained credit for his fifth straight victory.

The loser was Don Drysdale, who yielded eight hits in seven innings. Smokey Burgess had three hits and started the game-winning rally with a single.

MILESTONE — Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves keeps the ball he used to win his 250th victory in the Majors when he defeated the Cardinals, 3-2, last night. This was another great milestone for the lefthander. He got help last night when Billy Bruton homered in the 8th inning.

Daily Double—$8.60

DETROIT (AP) — Marathon Hanover and Time-to-Pace turned in an $8.60 daily double last night, the smallest double pay off at Hazel Park Harness Raceway since last June 27.

Make Haste, owned by Brown Valley Farms of Detroit, won the feature trot with a strong run in the stretch. Make Haste, driven by Jack Ackerman, paid $8.60 to win.

Waterford breezed by Van Dyke 80 2/5 to 28 3/5 featuring Larry Warner's dash victories. The Skippers had all but three 1sts. Jack Newton scored 16¼ of West Bloomfield's 69 points in its 5th triangular success. Brighton had 48 and Northville 20.

Bloomfield Hills buried Holly by a 73½ to 25½ count with seven different Barons taking 1sts and another gaining a tie. Jim Schultz won both hurdles and was 2nd in the shot put, while John Leskie took the broad jump and tied a mate for high jump honors to lead the way.

No Reinstatement Until Both Sign Up, Says NBA

NEW YORK (AP)—The question of whether Sugar Ray Robinson will defend his middleweight boxing title against Carmen Basilio Sept. 21 at Philadelphia could be answered tomorrow when the New York State Athletic Commission holds its weekly meeting.

But, in light of all the maneuvering that has been going on since the New York commission and the National Boxing Assn. ordered Robinson to sign or face loss of his crown, it could be several more days before the scrap becomes official.

Friday is the deadline for Robinson to sign for a Basilio fight or lose his title in New York. The NBA already has stripped Sugar Ray of his crown and president Dr. Ward Wylie of Mullens, W. Va., says his body will not consider reinstatement until both names are on a contract.

Robinson signed a contract Tuesday with Samuel Rose, a Philadelphia city councilman, to meet Basilio in Philadelphia's 100,000-seat Municipal Stadium. But nobody bothered to ask Basilio if the site, date and money were acceptable to him until yesterday. Sugar Ray said the contract called for him to receive 45 percent of the gate and Basilio 20 and estimated the fight would draw a million dollars.

Basilio's answer, when informed that Robinson would like to put his title on the line against the one-time onion farmer from upstate New York, was that he would wait and see what action the New York commission takes before giving his answer.

Meantime, John DeJohn, one of Basilio's managers, said Carmen had received an offer from New Jersey promoter Willie Gilzenberg to meet Robinson in Newark of Jersey City this summer. The offer called for Robinson to receive 45 percent and Basilio 30 percent of the gate, DeJohn said.

3 More Blanks in City Softball

Hurlers Have Twirled Total of 8 Shutouts in 3 Nights

Shutout pitching continues at a merry clip in the City Softball League. Three more whitewashing jobs were turned in Wednesday night at Beaudette and Northside parks, making a total of eight in three nights.

UAW-CIO Local 594 defeated Deni's Corner, 1-0, as Al Santelle twirled a two-hitter to outpitch Chuck Long who yielded four. Ron Woodhull's 3rd-inning single delivered Bob Carter from 2nd base with the game's lone run.

Jerry Thomas of the Pontiac Merchants hurled a two-hitter to blank the Lakeside Royals, 2-0. Walt Travis allowed only five safeties, but two walks got him into trouble in the 2nd inning when the Merchants tallied twice.

Gerry Layton hurled the other shutout, a one-hitter, as Pontiac State Hospital drubbed Rogers Electric, 12-0. Hospital's 10-run explosion in the 6th stanza ended the game because of the league's 10-run rule.

Lloyd Harper, who hurled a no-hitter for Blue Star in Monday's opener, came back with a four-hit chore last night and the Drive-In team clubbed 15 safe blows for a 12-2 rout of Wright's Upholstery.

Tonight's games: At Beaudette—Autos of Europe vs. Buttercup Drive-In (National), 7 p.m., and Harrison's Grill vs. Moose 182 (National), 8:30 p.m. at Northside — Sport Shop vs. Langdon's Boat Livery (International), 7 p.m., and Drive-In Cleaners vs. Pontiac Retailers (International), 8:30 p.m.

Hydro Tests Set at Saginaw Bay

Lombardo and Partner Will Pilot American Record Challenger

NEW YORK (AP) — America's challenger for the world hydroplane record will undergo its first tests at Saginaw Bay, Mich., in August, and probably will shoot for the new mark late that month or in September, it was announced Wednesday.

The U.S. entry in the speed sweepstakes is a joint project of Guy Lombardo, orchestra leader and speedboat enthusiast; Les Staudacher, boat designer and church pew manufacturer, and an aluminum manufacturer.

Lombardo said he and Staudacher will pilot the aluminum-hulled, jet-powered craft in the trial, and that he will be at the helm for the record attempt.

The revolutionary boat, which will look like a rocket going backward, will be powered by an Allison J-35 turbojet developing a thrust of 5,600 pounds at 6,700 r. p. m. It will be 31½ feet long and 11½ feet wide, with the hull width 76 inches.

Staudacher said he expected it to be capable of a speed of 300 miles an hour. It will weigh between 6,000 and 7,000 pounds, compared with an approximate 4,800 pounds for the Bluebird, Campbell's record-setting boat.

Surgery May Finish Murchison's Career

CHICAGO (AP)—Ira J. Murchison, Olimpic sprinter, has undergone surgery that may mean the end of his track career.

The 26-year-old member of the 1956 U.S. olympic team was operated upon Tuesday in Veterans hospital to correct a diseased colon. Officials said his condition is satisfactory.

A hospital spokesman said he never has heard of a person running competitively after surgery such as performed on Murchison.

Murchison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murchison of Chicago, is an army veteran and senior at Western Michigan University. He and two other sprinters share the international amateur athletic federation's world record of 10:1 seconds for the 100-meter dash.

Hot Springs' Play Starts

The 102 entries include Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Tommy Bolt of Paradise, Fla., the Masters and the National Open champions, respectively.

And there are Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Hollywood, Fla., and Julius Boros of Mid-Pines, N.C., defending champion in the local event, among other veterans.

Wall and Middlecoff, who lost to Boros by only one stroke last year, were considered pre-tourney favorites.

But also there is Tommy Jacobs, the 24-year-old Denver resident, who flashed to third in the Fort Worth Colonial and repeated the performance in last week's Oklahoma City Open.

J. C. Goosie of Knoxville, Tenn., shot a seven-under-par 65 for the best score reported in Wednesday's practice rounds.

Stronger ROAD HAZARD Guarantee

Dayton Tires—and only Dayton Tires—can give you this sensational road hazard guarantee—stronger than ever before—more realistic than ever before. All tires carry a manufacturer's guarantee against factory defects in workmanship and material. But only one tire in a hundred fails because of a factory defect. The rest fail because of road hazards (glass cuts, spikes, curb breaks, rim bruises, etc.) But Dayton gives you a full road hazard guarantee based on tread wear, not on some arbitrary monthly basis—and on accounting prices, not on some phony inflated list price.

Ask your dealer point blank: "Is this tire guaranteed against road hazards in writing by the manufacturer? Is this road hazard on a monthly basis or on tread wear? Is this road hazard on list price or on the more accurate accounting price?"

Add 7 Qualifying Sections

NEW YORK (AP) — The last time the National Public Links championship was played at Denver's Wellshire Course, the tournament drew 3,586 entries — the largest ever for a U.S. Golf Assn. tournament. That was in 1946.

It returns there in July and the USGA today set up 146 sections—seven more than last year—for the sectional qualifying rounds between June 18 and June 28. The added rounds are at Boise, Des Moines, New Orleans, Kansas City, Omaha, Albuquerque, N.M., and Houston.

The qualifying rounds will reduce the field to 150 players for the tournament at Denver. Another 36-hole qualifying round there will cut it to 64 for match play and also decide the three-man sectional team championship. The championship then will be decided in four rounds of 18-hole matches and semifinals and finals at 36 holes.

The tournament July 13-18 is open to bona fide public course players who haven't had privileges of private clubs or any course from which the general public is excluded during the current year.

USGA amateur rules apply to this championship except that any player is permitted to accept transportation and $10 daily for living expenses from funds administered by sectional qualifying chairmen. The chairman set aside $3 of each $5 entry fee for this purpose.

4-to-1 Support for Rose Bowl by 'M' Pupils

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—The University of Michigan student body gave overwhelming 4-to-1 support to the athletic department in its drive to retain the Rose Bowl pact.

Of 2,7000 students that voted in the two-day referendum, 2,134 approved the Big Ten's agreement to play in Pasadena each New Year's Day.

And if the Rose Bowl is dropped by the Big Ten at its meeting May 21-23 in Ann Arbor, 2,478 students said that the U. of M. should take part in any post-season bowl.

Michigan's faculty representative already has indicated that he will vote for renewal of the Rose Bowl pact.

Local Schools Will Compete at Three Sites

Majority of Entries at Flint, Farmington; Finals May 23

High school golf teams from Pontiac and throughout Oakland County swing into state regional play at three area sites tomorrow seeking berths in the state finals at Port Huron next weekend.

The majority of area teams will be participating at either Flint Brookwood or Farmington Country Club while four schools will compete at Burroughs Golf Course in Brighton.

Pontiac Central, Pontiac Northern, Waterford, Rochester, Lapeer, Mt. Clemens and Port Huron will be among the 15 Class A contestants at Flint which will include all the Saginaw Valley schools.

Strong St. Frederick and St. Michael will be carrying Pontiac's colors in the C-D division as Clarkston and Holly take part in Class B there.

The list at Farmington will have Birmingham, Berkley, Southfield, Oak Park, Dondero and Kimball of Royal Oak and the host Falcons in Class A.

West Bloomfield, a good candidate for some honors this season, Bloomfield Hills, Troy, Clarenceville, Northville and Royal Oak Shrine will be all in Class B at Farmington.

The only local Class A entry at Brighton is Walled Lake. Milford and Brighton will be in Class B and Royal Oak St. Mary in the C-D group.

Action at each site will begin at 8:30 a.m. and continue through most of the day. The low 4 schools in Class A and low 2 in "B" and C-D will be eligible for the finals as will be the individual medalist in each class.

The finalists in Classes A, and C-D will play at the Black River Country Club while the B boys vie at the Port Huron Golf Club—all on May 23.

Iowa Golfer Orders Special Clubs, Then Shoots His Height

Although he has puttered around a golf course for some dozen years, he found that cut-down clubs didn't do much for his score or help his disposition toward the game.

Bob Fry, golf professional at the Fort Madison Country Club, helped Frank order a set of special pro-model clubs and then went to work on improving his swing.

9th Inning Homer Wins for Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP)—A three-run ninth inning gave Michigan State a 5-4 non-conference baseball win over Notre Dame here yesterday. The Spartans, also 5-4 in the Big Ten, now go into a tough weekend test against Purdue and Illinois.

Michigan State was trailing 4-2 going into the ninth when Al Luplow tied the score with a homer after Don Munce singled. Singles by John Fleser, Bill Shudlich and Bob Monezka added up to the winning run.

Mickey Sinks, in as a relief pitcher in the final inning, was credited with the win. Jim Hannan, the Notre Dame starter, was pulled in the ninth and tagged with the loss.

30 Canoes Race in 9th Annual Bear Lake Meet

WALLOON LAKE (UPI)—About 30 canoes from throughout Northern Michigan are expected to participate in the ninth annual Bear Lake-to-Petoskey canoe race Sunday.

The course of the 18-mile race, a highlight of the opening day of Michigan Week goes through Walloon Lake to a point where the canoes portage into Bear Lake for the run to Petoskey.

Cleveland Signs MSU Sophomore Outfielder

Walter (Hoot) Evers, Cleveland farm director, announced the signing here today. Evers declined to name the bonus paid, but said the Saginaw News estimated it was "well over $25,000."

Luplow, hitting above the .400 mark as MSU centerfielder, only a few hours earlier had helped the Spartans to a 5-4 victory over Notre Dame with a two-run ninth inning homer.

Snead Festival Starts Today

'Youngsters' vs. 'Old Guard'

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — The "youngsters" in golf will try to break through the "old guard" again in the Sam Snead Festival beginning today.

Only twice in the 12 years of the tournament staged on Snead's home grounds have so-called newcomers been able to outscore the veteran campaigners.

That was in 1949 when Cary Middlecoff took it at the age of 28 and Herman Scharlau in 1954 at the age of 33, but making his first professional tour.

The other winners are among the best known in golf—Henry Cotton, Ben Hogan, Dutch Harrison, Ed Oliver and Snead—four times.

Gary Player, not yet 23, made the latest challenge last year when he tied Snead at 264 strokes for the 72 holes. The youngster from South Africa bowed to Snead, however, on the fifth extra hole.

Player is among the 56 pros aiming at Snead for the tournament running through Sunday and so are Harrison and Oliver.

Snead, no matter how you slice it, will still be the one to beat although he will be 47 years old this month. His score last year was six strokes better than par.

The only player to go over par for the two courses used for the tourney and win was Scharlau. He had 274 and it was equalled by Snead who lost to Scharlau on the third overtime hole.

Snead's best tournament winning score was 263 in 1951. This was the year after Hogan set the record of 259, at that time also equalling the world's fewest number of strokes for 72 holes.

The lowest now is 257, scored in 1955 in Texas by Mike Souchak, another of the Snead Festival competitors.

Wolverines Win, 24-10

Baseball — Just Like 1859

DETROIT (AP) — This is the centennial of college baseball, and yesterday Michigan and Detroit set the game back 100 years.

It was a conventional 6-3 game until the eighth inning with the Titans leading. Then the Wolverines erupted for 21 runs in the final two innings and won 24-10.

Brown drove in seven of Michigan's 11 ninth-inning runs with a bases loaded triple and a grand slam homer. Mogk had a pair of triples and a homer. Detroit made 10 errors.

Could Be an Epidemic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jose Valdivielso, the Washington Senators' utility infielder, has mumps. He's expected to be out of the line-up for three weeks.

He is the second Washington player to come down with mumps. The first was catcher Clint Courtney. He got them several weeks ago.

Soccer Betting Hit in England

LONDON (AP)—A court ruled Wednesday that the British Soccer League's annual schedule is protected by copyright—a decision which could cost gambling pools millions each year.

The schedule is known as the "Fixtures List." Issued at the beginning of each soccer season, it sets forth all the games to be played by the 100 teams of the league's four divisions.

The pools firms—whose operations are entirely legal — base their betting coupons on the list, carrying the games in the same order as the official schedule. They have always denied that the list was or could be protected by the copyright law, although in 1946 they offered the league $280,000 for the unchallenged right to use it. The league turned down the offer.

Some 10 million Britons bet on the pools every Saturday, when all the teams play. The total risked runs around $200 million each 38-week season.

Chief Thinclads Face Hot Title Test at Thurston

Area Preps in Six Regionals

Much of the top interest in Michigan High School track and field regional meets, Saturday, for eastern Michigan, will be focused on the new Class A-B championships at Thurston High.

Reason for the unusual interest in this particular event lies in the fact that four-time state champion Pontiac Central, Central Michigan College's outdoor relays champion Farmington, and strong Ferndale and Birmingham dominate a 10-team field.

Dean Wilson's U. of D. relays kings this spring, are rated a shaky favorite's spot. Farmington, led by brilliant hurdler Warren Cawley, and the Maples could be dangerous. A star-led Ferndale crew could be the "dark horse." Pontiac Central was a record-total champ, last year, at Ypsilanti, with 81 points. Only area teams at Ypsilanti Saturday will be Pontiac Northern and Walled Lake.

Wilson will take a full squad to Thurston, as will Birmingham and Farmington. Dick Marsh of PNH will send nine to Ypsilanti.

Thurston will install wind gauges, especially for the benefit of Cawley, who will try for a national prep mark in the high hurdles. Warren has been close to the mark several times, bettered it once. With good conditions, Saturday, he's expected to turn the trick.

Chiefs will again lean on the fine shotputters, Bill Pritchett, Charley Brown and Jerry Rush for some fast points. They will also be strong in the high jump, with Fred Brooks, Willie Robinson, Arzo Carson and Charley Kimbrell.

Regionals determine qualifiers for the big state tests at East Lansing (A-B) and Central Michigan (C-D). First three places, except for the 440, the 880 and relays will qualify for the state meet.

Study Prospective Shock From Nuclear Harbor Excavation

Two Americans Want Siberia Safe

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two scientists disclosed today they are taking steps to prevent reflected shock waves from breaking windows and causing other damage in Soviet Siberia when they use big nuclear bombs to create a new harbor in Alaska.

As planned by the U.S. government, five nuclear bombs will be set off, probably in 1961, to excavate a harbor in Kotzebue Sound, on the northwestern Alaska coast.

The site is only about 200 miles from Siberia. The researchers said they had learned that under certain conditions shock waves could carom off upper air layers and return to earth more than 300 miles away with damaging effect.

Blast waves from the bombs ride on air-ducting layers, said J. W. Reed and H. W. Church of the Sandia Corp. They addressed the second Plowshare Symposium on Industrial and Scientific Uses of Nuclear Explosions. The symposium is sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission and the University of California's Lawrence Radiation Laboratory. The Sandia Corp. is a privately owned organization which makes nuclear weapons for the government, operating at Los Alamos and Albuquerque, N.M., and at Livermore, Calif.

It was these air-ducting layers that caused shock waves from the Nevada atom bomb tests to leap frog over the immediately surrounding area and come down 70 miles or more away on Las Vegas and other inhabited places with window-busting effect, Reed and Church said.

There are three air-ducting layers, they added. One is about 6,000 feet up, another at around 35,000 feet, and a third at 100,000 to 150,000 feet.

About one-third of the time at Kotzebue a ducting layer will be present below 50,000 foot altitude. When a bomb produces a shock wave capable of instantly boosting atmospheric pressure momentarily by about 3 per cent, a duct can carry the shock 100 miles and break windows, the researchers said.

During the spring of 1961 the scientists plan to establish the air-ducting pattern around the Kotzebue area with conventional explosives. The idea will be to protect inhabited Alaska areas as Siberia.

The problem is to find out whether Siberia would be in the line of reflected shock waves during early fall or spring, the researchers said.

If it is found that excessive shock pressures will be carried to Siberia during certain periods the nuclear firing will be delayed until the duct pattern shifts.

Many Kurds Are Opposed to Pro-Commie Chieftain

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

There was sharp fighting in the frontier area as recently as four days ago, when about 5,000 Kurds crossed into Iran. Others of the tribe have fled into Turkey.

This information comes from Amir Aly Asheyara, the head khan (landlord) of a huge area occupied by Kurds of the Mamash tribe. He owns this village and about 150 other Kurdish villages in the southwestern part of Iran's Azerbaijan Province, only a few miles from the Iraqi border.

The Kurds, under a leader identified as Sheik Raschid, left 13 Barzani tribesmen dead after a fight with them and Iraqi gendarmerie. The khan said Raschid lost two dead and had two wounded.

The Barzanis are followers of Mullah Mustafa Barzani, who spent a dozen years in exile in the Soviet Union after an abortive attempt to establish a satellite Kurdistan in Iran, Iraq and Turkey.

The khan said Sheik Raschid's people lacked sufficient ammunition to continue the battle and had to flee. He said the 1,000 refugee families now live in tent settlements not far from here.

Apparently many Kurds preceded Raschid's people across the frontier in a migration which began soon after the Iraqi revolution last July. This country is so rugged, vast and underpopulated that it is easy for Kurds to lose temselves in it.

This village is not likely to appear on many maps, but its leader is an influential Kurd, ruling about 20,000 people. His home is a hilltop dominating the primitive mud hut village and overlooking a valley richly green with winter wheat. Towering snowcap mountains surround the fertile valley.

Amir Aly is fiercely anti-Communist and says all his people are too. Most Kurds are equally anti-Communist, he maintains. He says the Soviets have no chance to promote another Kurdish uprising as they did 13 years ago, when Barzani with Soviet backing tried to set up an independent Krdistan in northern Iraq and Iran.

Barzani's revolt was crushed, but he and thousands of his followers escaped to the Soviet Union. With the overthrow of the monarchy in Iraq last summer, Barzani returned to Iraq and has steadily gained influence in the regime of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

Nearly 1,000 Kurds who followed Barzani to the Soviet Union were shipped back to Iraq in April. Egyptian newspapers said they had been trained for partisan warfare. Moscow described them as refugees and said almost half were women and children.

Amir Aly, an educated, cultured man, remembers Barzani with bitterness and says the Mullah's followers murdered his brother, uncle and four nephews in a massacre of anti-Communist elements in Azerbaijan Province in 1946.

Coexistence with the Communists is impossible, he declared, "like the coexistence of fire and water."

"We are not afraid of the Russians," he commented grimly. "They won't put a foot in Iran unless they are ready for World War III."

Probers Say It'll Take Some Time Before They Can Answer Question

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—It will be weeks, possibly months, before the public knows the causes of two airliner accidents,— 300 miles and 38 minutes apart — that claimed 33 lives. Both involved Capital Airlines planes bound for Atlanta.

A mysterious explosion ripped apart a turboprop Viscount high over Maryland, hurling all 31 aboard to their deaths. The tragedy occurred at 5:18 p.m. Tuesday 15 miles east of Baltimore when the air was turbulent from a thundersquall.

Just 38 minutes earlier, a giant Constellation landing at Charleston, W.Va., toppled over the end of a runway and burst into flames, killing two of the 44 persons aboard.

The Viscount was en route from New York non-stop. The Constellation came from Buffalo, N.Y., via Pittsburgh.

Civil Aeronautics Board investigators converged on both locations but made it clear, after a full day's work, that it would take a long time to get any specific answers.

Was there a bomb on the Baltimore plane? This was the question everyone answer and it had no answer. CAB and Capital officials would not comment except to say they were examining every piece of evidence.

Benson Urged to Prop Egg and Poultry Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Agriculture Committee urged Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson yesterday to take action to prop up sagging poultry and eggs prices to prevent thousands of farmers from facing possible disaster.

Egg prices have dropped to their lowest level in 18 years. Farm prices for broiler chickens were also at record lows for this time of the year.

Although Uruguay is the smallest nation in South America, its per capita exports are second only to Venezuela's, according to the American Geographical Society.

Soybeans Lead Grain Advance

CHICAGO (AP)— The grain futures market worked toward strength in early Board of Trade transactions today with soybeans leading a general but limited advance.

Commission houses were understood to be heavy buyers of new crop soybeans. Two major firms alone bought well over a million bushels within the first few minutes.

Nearby corn eased a bit on an increase in cash grain receipts, the largest since Monday. The first offer to deliver corn on the May contract, a small one, was retendered.

After about an hour wheat was unchanged to ⅜ cent a bushel higher, May $1.09½; corn ⅜ lower to ¼ higher, May $1.25⅞; oats ⅛ to ¼ higher, May 68⅛; rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, May $1.36; soybeans ⅛ to ½ higher, May $2.30⅛.

Reuther Urges Import Penalty

Offers Plan to Equalize Price Margins Resulting From Lower Wages

DETROIT (AP) — Walter Reuther urges a penalty on imports, including cars, from foreign countries which pay lower wages.

The United Auto Workers president, home from his West Berlin visit, was critical of foreign wages at a press conference yesterday. He said they harm both the American market and worker. West Germany was cited as an example.

Discussing domestic affairs, Reuther promised his UAW would support the steel workers "organizationally, morally and financially" if they go out on strike.

He also said he will address the General Federation of Women's Clubs at its Los Angeles convention June 4 " as per my invitation." Some club members objected to Reuther as speaker.

The larger part of Reuther's talk with reporters concerned his observations on foreign wages.

He suggested for the future a system of international fair labor standards to equalize wages in all countries of the free world. He put forth an import penalty as an alternative.

Reuther said some German cars are underselling American cars, and German auto workers are paid only a third to a fourth as much as American auto workers. German technology is as efficient as that of the United States, he said.

Two countries competing for the same market should have some "reasonable relationship" in respect to wages, Reuther said.

"We don't want to equalize wages but want to try to reduce the differential so it will be manageable," he said.

Avon Man Is Injured as Tractor Flips Over

A retired Avon Township man, Albert Falchy, 70, of 2345 Crooks Rd., was injured this morning when a tractor overturned on him while he was working behind his house.

Falchy was pinned under the seat of the overturned tractor and was alive when found only because the ground underneath was soft, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

A wrecker was called to lift the tractor and Falchy was taken by ambulance to Pontiac General Hospital.

He was admitted with possible internal injuries of the chest, and numerous cuts and bruises.

Housing Bill Set for Action

Solons End Deadlock, Send Measure to Floor by 8 to 4 Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee reversed itself today and cleared for House action next week a multibillion dollar housing bill.

The vote sending the controversial measure to the House floor after a deadlock of more than a month was announced as 8-4. The four Republicans reportedly opposed the action.

Two Democrats who previously had voted with the four Republicans were reported to have changed their position today. They are Reps. Howard W. Smith of Virginia and William Colmer of Mississippi.

The $2,100,000,000 bill contains authority for 1½ billion dollars for slum elimination and urban renewal projects, 400 million dollars for college housing, 100 million dollars for housing for the elderly, lower FHA down payments, and 140,000 new units of low-rent public housing.

Oakland Twp. Housewife Injured in Auto Crash

ROCHESTER — An Oakland Township housewife suffered minor injuries yesterday when her foot slipped off the brake onto the accelerator causing her car to hit another vehicle parked at the curb and a tree, Rochester Police reported today.

Mrs. Kathryn Strickland, 47, of 1600 E. Gunn Rd., was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, where she was treated for cuts and lacerations of both knees and lower lip and released.

The accident happened on Walnut street near Third street.

Market Soars to Record Highs

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced further into record high ground early today. Trading was heavy. Leading issues rose from fractions to about a point.

Steels and motors were more active than other major groups. Chemicals continued to rise. Coppers performed better than they have recently.

Electronics and other glamour stocks did very little. Thiokol was up more than a point on the opening then backed away to a net loss of about 2. Zenith continued as a high-stepper, gaining more than 2.

The market was following through from its upsurge to an historic peak in yesterday's closing averages. It had further fuel for a rise in good corporate news figures showing a record annual raté for April housing starts and continued optimism on auto production.

Jones & Laughlin rose more than a point and Lukens Steel about 2. Republic Steel was up about a point following its report yesterday on a big expansion program.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler were fractionally higher but American Motors dropped a point to 38⅛ on 5,000 shares.

Gains of about a point were scored by U.S Rubber, Martin Co., Anaconda, Kennecott, Union Carbide and General Electric.

Judge Stops Recall Election

Rules Madison Heights Petitions 'Insufficient,' Evidence Lacking

MADISON HEIGHTS — Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams yesterday issued a restraining order preventing a recall election May 26 of Mayor George S. Horkey and five councilmen.

Judge Adams ruled the petitions filed asking for the election were "insufficient" and that he could find no violations of the Madison Heights city charter as regards petitioners' charges that favoritism was used in awarding contracts.

It was alleged that Horkey and five councilmen had pressured former city manager Jack P. Sweitzer to use favoritism in awarding contracts.

Besides Horkey, councilmen named were LeRoy M. Ainsley, Henry F. Pickering Jerome A., Nowacki, Floyd J. Nykanen and Dean W. Eggart.

The restraining order against the recall election was requested by Maurice A. Merritt, attorney for the six, who argued before Judge Adams Monday that charges against the men were "insufficient" to warrant the election.

Son of Flint Soldier Drowns in Alaskan Pit

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Gerald Clyde Covey, 3, son of an Army man stationed at Ft. Richardson, drowned yesterday when he fell into some water in a gravel pit.

The boy was the son of Specialist 4.C. and Mrs. Jack M. Covey, whose permanent address is Flint, Mich.

Police said the boy was playing with two older brothers, Michael, 5, and Martin, 4, in the gravel pit and refused to leave when the two older boys decided to play elsewhere.

Salvation Army to Hold Open House Here Sunday

Pontiac area residents will have an opportunity to see the Salvation Army at work and better acquaint themselves with the organization's many charitable facilities Sunday at the Pontiac Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center, 118 W. Lawrence St.

Major Ernest Alder, center manager, announced plans for an open house in observance of Salvation Army Week, May 17-24, throughout the nation.

The open house will be from 3 to 6 p.m. Arrangements are being made to accommodate 1,000 guests.

The program will include a tour of the building, the workshops where donated materials are reconditioned, baling room area, the main retail outlet, and the housing unit consisting of complete living facilities for 65 men.

Local service clubs will provide volunteers as hosts and guides.

Serving homeless and handicapped men of Pontiac and Oakland County, it has admitted more than 500 men through its doors since it opened.

Gobel to Return to TV This Fall

Will Keep in Shape With Club, English Video Appearances

NEW YORK (AP) — Lonesome George Gobel, low-key comedy, guitar and all, is off American TV until fall. Then he'll return to alternate weekly with Jack Benny.

Gobel's scrapbooks are full of critical raves about his supper club act. But he isn't kidding when he says he's worrying about how the Bitish are going to take his very special brand of comedy.

"Every place is different," he fumes. "Every audience is different. There's a lot of difference, for instance, between playing in a great big room with a big stage in Las Vegas and in a supper club in New York. There's a whoop-it-up spirit in Las Vegas—everyone out there is out for a good time. You get bigger laughs; you feel right away that people are going to laugh loud.

NEW YORK CHUCKLES

"In New York here, the laughs aren't so big — people chuckle. They're quieter, perhaps more appreciative, and it's a much easier place to set a ballad. I think I like an intimate room with a quieter crowd."

"The same type of material you use in a night club goes on television," Gobel continued earnestly. "Except that until you do it—until it's gone—you don't know whether it is any good or not, and then it's too late. In Las Vegas, for instance, you can work with your materials for a week or so and get everything all straightened out — the jokes and the timing. But on TV you only get one run with them."

"Those audiences change from week to week, too," he says. "But they are there to help the performers, not to cue the home audience that it's time to laugh. We'd never get anywhere if we were playing to a big vacuum. And you know right away whether you've got a good show or not."

Winters Just Needs to Rest, Says His Wife

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — His wife says there isn't anything wrong with nightclub and TV comedian Jonathan Winters except that he needs a rest.

She had him removed from San Francisco General Hospital Wednesday night to rest home. He was taken to the hospital by harbor police Tuesday after a ticket taker on a museum ship reported his behavior as unusual.

His agent, Martin Goodman, said the ticket taker "Didn't understand that the man is a comedian. He's sensitive. He's like a little boy. You have to expect those types to act differently than the ordinary person."

Dr. T. E. Albers, the hospital superintendent, said that Winters was "quite disturbed. He is definitely in need of further care."

Actor Faces Jail Term for Sale of Narcotics

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Jay Robinson, 29, will be sentenced June 5 on four counts involving sale and possession of narcotics.

He was arrested at his Bel Air home last Nov. 13. He denied testimony by actor Robert Rodney Lynn, 20, who claimed Robinson sold him drugs. Robinson testified the narcotics had been planted in his home.

Dale Robertson Plugs for Legal Horse Racing

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Television cowboy Dale Robertson turned up in Oklahoma's House of Representatives Wednesday to plug for legal horse racing and pari-mutual betting in his home state.

He said he saw nothing sinful about horse racing and noted that the Queen of England "and a lot of other prominent people", go to the races.

Yankus Family Leaves Friday

Dowagiac Farmer to Begin Long Journey to Australia

DOWAGIAC (UPI) — Stanley Yankus, who gained world-wide attention during his fight against government wheat controls, said yesterday he will leave Friday on the first leg of his trip to Australia where he plans to settle.

Yankus and his wife and their three children will take a train to Chicago at 11:20 a.m. Friday. They will change trains in the Windy City for the trip to San Francisco where they are scheduled to arrive Sunday afternoon.

Yankus said he and his family would board an Oriental-Pacific Lines ship Monday morning.

Meanwhile, Yankus said he is "90 per cent sure" that wheat rebel John Donaldson of New London, Ohio, will follow him to Australia within a month or two.

Yankus said that Donaldson, who originally planned to move to Canada, will leave the U.S. if Congress doesn't repeal the agricultural act of 1938. And, he added, it's very doubtful the law will be repealed.

Yankus said there are 100 other families in the Chicago area who are "fed up with socialism in the U.S." who also may move to Australia later.

The Dowagiac chicken farmer said a middle-aged man from Chicago and his attorney visited him last Sunday and told him about the 100 families who want to leave the U.S.

Yankus said they asked him to talk to Australian immigration officials when he reaches that country and to ask Australian officials to write the Chicago man a letter inviting the 100 families to go to that country.

Yankus said the man asked that his name not be revealed.

Pals Rib Uncle Miltie but He's Friend in Need

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Milton Berle did a gracious thing on my birthday a couple of years ago and now I'm going to be sweet to him. (Just see how sweet!)

His birthday (his 51st) isn't until July 12—but the telethon he's doing here gives me an excuse to remind you that he was recently on trial here, accused of assault with a deadly weapon—his mouth.

WILSON

It was a razzamonial given by the Television Academy and Steve Allen, one of the razzers, said Milton is the only triple-threat man in the music business.

"He writes the song—he sings the song—and he buys the only copy," claimed Steve, adding that Milton would be the only composer who'd live to be unknown.

The defense "lawyer" at the make-believe trial said Milton "knowns the secret of making people laugh," whereupon Arnold Stang retorted: "He sure knows how to keep a secret!"

Tallulah Bankhead was asked: "Have you ever found anything in common with Milton Berle?"

Tom Poston said Berle started a trend in TV—a trend of comedians being canceled.

But he DID start comedy on TV ten years ago?" persisted the "prosecutor."

"Yes," agreed Tom Poston, "and this year he finished it."

That's the brash, boisterous Berle we're always talking about . . . but Robert Cummings recently told me about another Berle. Few people remember that Cummings was Milton's straight man in Earl Carroll's Vanities away back in 1932, and then they went on tour.

"He'd yell at me . . . he'd beat my brains out if my timing was off . . . but he taught me a lot."

The tour ended. Cummings went to Hollywood, into radio and pictures. Ten years passed.

CUMMINGS

"In 1949," he recalled, "I was in trouble. I found myself being sued for $250,000 over a managerial dispute.

"A career can be ruined overnight. How Milton found out about it I don't know. But one night while I was sitting home I got a call. 'Hello, you silly so-and-so . . . This is Milton . . . Baby, I hear you're in trouble . . . Do you need any money? . . . Don't give me that, you silly so-and-so . . . DO YOU NEED $50,000?

"'Pay me back any time you want to . . . 20 years if you want to . . . but it's tax free and if you got it YOU DON'T NEED TO GET ON YOUR KNEES TO ANYBODY.'

"And," continued Cummings, "I hadn't talked to Milton Berle in 10 years. Well, I actually cried. Because I had the $50,000 in reach if I wanted it, I didn't need it. But after 10 years . . ."

And there are other stories similar to that about Uncle Milton. Happy Telethon!

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Jayne Meadows, ill with virus and exhaustion, was out of "Gazebo" . . . The Bolshoi Ballet, its pay-TV'er reported canceled, may wind up on the Ed Sullivan show . . . Connie Towers and Gene McGrath left for a Panama honeymoon . . . Frank Sinatra gave his "Hole in the Head" co-star, Eddie Hodges, an expensive set of electric trains.

Kim Novak's at the Sherry Netherlands with her parents . . . Anita Ekberg got her citizenship papers . . . George Gobel's wife Alice arrives May 29, will accompany him to England . . . Alec Guinness got $750 every day the filming of "Our Man in Havana" was held up by the Cuban revolt . . .

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "My ambition," says an off Broadway actor, "is to make a movie so interesting that even people in drive-in movies'll watch it."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The difference between wrestling and dancing is that some holds are barred in wrestling.

Steve Allen's head writer, Leonard Stern, shrugs off rumors he'll go to work for Perry Como: "Those stories never bother me—unless, of course, they're started by Steve Allen!" That's earl, brother.

TV News and Reviews

Using People Good Choice for 'Thunder Over Berlin'

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Last night's CBS-TV Armstrong Circle Theater entertainment, "Thunder Over Berlin," was a plus and minus offering.

The minus I might as well get out of the way. It was this: "Thunder Over Berlin," presented as a drama, wasn't a theater piece at all. It didn't build. It had no real climax.

It contained not a plot, but a sequence of news events beaded together. Its characterizations were extremely sketchy.

The immediate events of the exercise were so thin that padding had to be added—newsreel films, dramatized interviews with sideliners, explanatory talks by narrator Doug Edwards.

All this aside, it was a useful vehicle. Its material centered around the incident last February in which an American convoy of four trucks was halted at a Soviet checkpoint in East Germany for 54 hours.

"Thunder Over Berlin" used this incident as a pivot upon which to swing a study of the snappish Berlin situation.

A straight documentary of this sort might have proved painful to many viewers, but Circle Theater wisely pitched its story in terms of people—the bored GIs detained by the Russians, the elusive Soviet officials, the harassed American officials working semi-frantically to get the show back on the road.

SHORT SHOTS: NBC-TV's Wagon Train had some gripping and eerie moments in its opening half last night, but ran out of gas in its final section—nice performance by Ben Cooper . . . week after week NBC-TV's The Price Is Right somehow manages to round up the most irritating contestants on TV—I suspect the show's staff injects everybody with laughing gas.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: For Better or Worse, a series which will dramatize the problems of marriage, is under consideration as the replacement for CBS-TV's Jimmy Dean Show which folds in July . . . there's still a faint chance that Voice of Firestone may return to ABC-TV next season, despite reports that it has been knocked off for good.

Frogmen Still Search for Nile River Dead

CAIRO (UPI) — Frogmen carried on the search today for the bodies of persons still missing in a Nile River boat sinking last weekend.

State Liquor Sales Up

LANSING (AP) — The State Liquor Control Commission reported net sales at $45,322,040 for the first four months of the year, a 4.8 per cent increase over sales of $43,230,919 during the same period last year.

Super Carrier Plan Faltering

Report House Subunit Refuses $260 Million Request From Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's request for 260 million dollars to build a new super aircraft carrier reportedly has been turned down by a House Appropriation subcommittee.

Instead, the 17-man group has decided, the money should be spent to beef up antisubmarine and missile programs and to maintain stronger reserve and National Guard forces.

The subcommittee has agreed to almost the exact amount asked by the President — $40,800,000,000 — in new appropriations for the Defense Department for the year starting July 1.

"The amount of new money won't vary substantially from what the President requested," a member disclosed. "The only disagreement between us and the President is how it should be spent."

The subcommittee's recommendations are subject to review by the entire 50-member committee later this month.

The effect of the subcommittee's action as explained by members would be to provide small reductions in the size of the active armed forces and to prevent planned cuts in the strength of the National Guard and the reserve units.

The defense budget as tentatively approved provides funds for three more missile-toting Polaris submarines. Some committee members favored increasing this number.

The new aircraft carrier which the President wanted would not have been nuclear-powered but would have been equipped with the newest electronic devices and the medium-range Terrier missile system. Six similar carriers already have been approved, in addition to the nuclear-powered Enterprise. Three of them have joined the fleet and the other three are scheduled for duty during the next two years. The nuclear-powered Enterprise is due to join the fleet in December 1961.

Top Russian Officials Attend Israeli Affair

It was the largest group of high Russian officials to accept Israeli invitations in years and included the Soviet ministers of health, culture and higher education.

Gloria Charges Stokowski Is 'Grandmother'

Stokowski, who is listed in Who's Who as 72, and Gloria, now 35, were divorced in 1955. They had two sons, Stan, 9, and Christopher 7. Gloria is married to TV Director Sidney Lumet.

The divorce of the white-maned Stokowski and Gloria was a quiet one. There were no public recrimiations.

But now Stokowski, who has custody of the boys three months of the year, has petitioned for an extension so that he can travel with them outside this country. The conductor pictured his former wife as a woman who keeps late hours, gets up late in the morning, and sees her sons only at dinner.

Gloria stormed into State Supreme Court Wednesday and contended in papers filed there:

"His kind of love is against the best interests of the health and welfare of the boys. His practice is to create neurotic explosions over minutiae.

"Petitioner has an old world, 19th century folklore superstition that children, no matter how ill and no matter what their temperature is, should not stay in bed. He is convinced that this is damaging to their muscles, their nervous systems and their circulation.'

Gloria herself was embroiled in a custody suit between her mother and aunt when she was 9.

She said her former spouse is 85, not 72. Wearing his hair long himself, she said, he makes his sons wear theirs that way when they are with him. The mother seeks to cut down visiting privileges of the father from three months to two weeks.

In her marriage with Lumet, Gloria said, "we provide a home for the boys which affords them every opportunity to learn in every way to feel secure, to be free, to be disciplined without being overwhelmed."

Makers Pushed to Fill Orders

English Car Production Booming

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

LONDON (AP) — England, like many continental European countries, ranks its autos as the fastest growing dollar earner.

English car makers are increasing output and say this year's overseas orders are so good that production is their chief problem. Like optimism oozes from automen in Germany, France, and Italy.

U.S. auto exports have been falling and its auto imports rising, sometimes doubling from year to year. These European cars still constitute a minor share of the U.S. domestic market. But Detroit isn't happy about losing its overseas sales.

It has offset this to some extent by putting plants on this side of the Atlantic. These cater to the European taste in cars. They get the advantages of lower production costs in most cases. And they escape the heavy duty and sometimes import curbs which American made cars face. In some cases these American overseas plants ship their cars to America.

But the non-American made models have been cleaning up. British Motor Corp. officials predict they'll send 100,000 cars to North America this year, or twice last year's figure. Standard Motor's overseas sales so far are 50 per cent ahead of last year. Rootes autos says its U.S. sales are running 74 per cent ahead of 1958.

But the British are running into stiffer competition on the continent and their exports there are down.

The common market's shrinking trade barriers has put car makers there into keener competition with each other, also. When the tariffs were cut the first year, Fiat of Italy quickly cut its prices to compensate for any advantage the incoming German cars would gain.

French Simca, partly owned by Chrysler, expects its American partner to push sales in the United States this year.

Domestic markets in England, France, Italy and Germany are expected to grow this year because instalment buying is beginning to catch on after the pattern long common in America.

But the American made car is in danger of becoming a disappearing species on this side of the Atlantic.

Europeans give several reasons. The Detroit product is too big to handle in the narrow streets of many European cities; it is what some call ostentatious and others deem vulgar; it eats up more gas—and gas prices are terrific here with taxes exorbitant by American standards; most European governments levy an annual tax on autos based on horsepower, and American models have been upping their power steadily.

There are other reasons the Europeans tend to soft pedal; high and almost prhibitive duties and in some cases import quotas.

For example: England lets 658 American cars come in each year. The Treasury admits this is ridiculously low but says that in no year has the quota been filled.

There's where price comes in. Many Americans complain about the high price of cars at home. But over here, the American car must first pay an import duty of 30 per cent of its dollar value. (Continental cars must pay this, too, but their price is usually much lower, and the duty correspondingly so.)

Then there is a purchase tax (sales tax) of 50 per cent. All cars must pay this. But with the American price already high, the 30 per cent duty and the 50 per cent sales tax send the final price on the type of car that most American workers buy to a figure that only the rich here can afford.

By contrast the European car entering the United States pays 9½ per cent duty and sales tax of 3 per cent or so, varying among the states and cities. Its price is lower to start with and there are no quotas.

Cab Driver Murdered His First Day on Job

DETROIT (AP)—A young cab driver was wounded fatally today, his first day on the job. Police said a dishwasher captured at the scene admitted the slaying in a robbery attempt.

Police said Ernest Ford, 27, of Detroit admitted shooting Leitch twice in the head with a .38 cal. revolver when the cab driver refused to hand over his receipts.

The shooting was discovered by two police officers who were cruising near the scene on the East Side.

Officers Edward Ruppel and Edward Lalonde saw Ford backing out of the cab which was parked without lights. They found the revolver in his pocket and then discovered Leitch slumped over in the front seat.

Leitch died in Receiving Hospital about four hours after he was shot.

Daylight Time Mixup Can Mean Two Birthdays

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Someday the daughter of the Edward L. Fossetts may ask for birthday parties on both May 4 and 5.

The clock in a Lexington hospital showed 12:25 a.m. last Tuesday when the baby was born.

The reply: Lexington is on Daylight Saving Time but state law prohibits the official use of any other time than Standard. So the child was born Monday night—at least officially.
