GM Net Profits to Pass Billion in Current Year

Earnings for 9 Months Up From $2.19 to $3.31 on New Common Stock

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp., the world's largest industrial firm, apparently will show net profits of over one billion dollars for 1955—a record figure never before reached by any business enterprise.

GM's net income for the first nine months of this year reached $913,000,000, exceeding the record $834,000,000 earned in the full year of 1950.

GM President Harlow H. Curtice and Chairman Alfred P. Sloan, Jr. said that "the automobile industry is experiencing the best year in its history."

GM factories in the United States and Canada sold more cars—3,622,000—in the first nine months this year than in all of 1954.

Total dollar sales of all GM products set a new nine-month record of $9,544,000,000. This nearly equaled the big automaker's total sales for all of last year. Sales in the first nine months of 1954 were $7,219,000,000.

Earnings for the nine months shattered all prior records. After setting aside a whopping $1,063,000,000 for U. S. and foreign income taxes, GM had a net profit of $913,000,000.

This compared with $885,000,000 in the first nine months of last year after taxes of $614,000,000. Net profits for the third quarter came to $252,000,000 against $160,000,000 a year ago.

The report pointed out that GM's per share earnings are now computed on the basis of a three-for-one split of the common stock. On Sept. 30 each share of GM Common was split into three new shares. Figured on that basis, earnings for the first nine months were equal to $3.31 a share, compared to $2.19 a share for the like year-ago period.

Earnings for the third quarter were equal to 90 cents a share vs. 59 cents a year earlier.

Sales of all General Motors products—ranging from ball bearings and kitchen appliances to aircraft engines and diesel locomotives—totalled $3,031,000,000 in the July-August-September period of 1955. This compared with $2,153,000,000 in the third quarter of last year.

Automobile sales paced the rise. GM sold nearly 6 per cent more cars and trucks from its U. S. and Canadian plants during the third quarter of this year (1,184,961) than in the similar '54 period. Nine-month sales of 3,622,000 cars and trucks topped the year-ago period by 1,000,000 and exceeded all of 1954 by 173,000.

4 in Family Die in Saginaw Fire

Tenement Blaze Claims Youngsters Sleeping in Basement Apartment

SAGINAW (AP)—Four children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGlothlin, all under six, died last night in a fire which raced through their basement apartment in a Saginaw tenement district.

Coroner Harold Cederberg said the children were asphyxiated as they lay in bed.

The victims were Shirley Ann, 5, Willie Earle, 3; Billie Ray, 2, and Debra, 14 months.

Their mother, Mrs. Estelle McGlothlin, 25, said she had put the children to bed in one large bed and sent her two other children, Gloria Jean, 8, and Robert Jr., 7, to the store.

She said she went to meet the older children and returned to find flames and smoke pouring from the basement. Smoke was so thick she was unable to enter.

Cederberg said the cause of the fire could not be determined immediately. The apartment contained both a gas heater and an oil stove.

McGlothlin, 31, a foundry worker, was not at home.

Baldwin School Pupils Earn Donations for UF

NINE POUNDS PLUS—Baldwin School pupils contributed more than nine pounds of pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters totaling $26.10 to the Pontiac Area United Fund Drive. The youngsters lined up and moved past the table to make their donations. Here, second grader Leola Lyon gives an assist to Robert Bedford, grade six, in turning money over to UF volunteer Mrs. Frank Sloan. Many of the students earned their contributions by raking leaves, washing dishes, dusting and doing other household jobs.

Auto Accidents Claim 2 Lives

Collision Near Howell Kills Milford Resident; Child Crushed by Car

An 11-month-old boy died under the wheels of his mother's car and a Milford man was killed in a crash with a cement truck as area accidents claimed two lives yesterday.

The victims were Highland Township infant Ernest Lemon III and Paul Williams, 33, of 211 Peters Rd.

Mrs. Ernest Lemon, of 3315 White Lake Rd., told police she had been visiting a friend, Mrs. Carl Nelson, at 5165 N. Milford Rd., yesterday afternoon. When she left, she said, she put Ernest and his seven-year-old brother, Larry, into the car, checking to make sure the door was shut.

As she backed the car to turn, she heard the door open and stopped the car. Both boys had fallen out and a wheel had passed over Ernest's chest.

A passing motorist, Charles J. Copley of Davisburg, took Mrs. Lemon and Ernest to Holy police, who drove the boy to Dr. K. W. Saunders.

Dr. Saunders pronounced him dead on arrival at 5:10 p.m.

Williams, a sales representative for a Detroit firm, apparently lost control of his car immediately after crossing a bridge over the Shiawassee River on Mason Road, 1 1/2 miles south of Howell.

Driving a 1956 Cadillac he purchased Tuesday, he struck the cement truck head on.

Oh! Oh! 3 O's Missing

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Someone took the three O's from the sign "Book Store" at the Michigan State University Student Union yesterday. Union Manager Mike Dmochowski said, "I can understand someone taking his initials to hang on a bulletin board or door, but how many people around here have names like Orville Oswald Olson?"

Goblins, Spooks and Witches Prepared by Big Night

Parties, Mystery Contest Planned for Halloween

This is the season when goblins, spooks, witches and other nocturnal prowlers are abroad, and Monday is their big night. It's Halloween.

Activities for small fry and young folk have been planned by the city's Parks and Recreation Department. They include the Meet and Treat Hour, school parties and the city-wide mystery treat contest, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The evening will get under way at 6 p.m. when costume-bedecked youngsters begin their annual rounds seeking goodies from neighbors.

Many Area Communities Lack Water, Report Says

Some 37 communities in the metropolitan area say they are not equipped to meet current water needs, while 100 others report they have no municipal water systems at all.

This was revealed during a survey by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission made for the Supervisors Inter-County Committee.

A water supply adequate to meet present needs was reported by 58 units.

Pontiac got through last summer with little trouble after completing a program of overhauling old wells and adding several new ones. But City Manager Walter K. Willman has said the long-range solution lies in getting water from one of the Great Lakes.

All 205 cities, villages and townships in Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Monroe, Washtenaw and St. Clair Counties were polled by the commission. Only 10 failed to answer the queries.

T. Ledyard Blakeman, director of the Commission, refused to give names of communities reporting inadequate water supply "because we don't want to put them on the spot and lose their cooperation."

Results were presented to the six-county supervisors' committee meeting near Mt. Clemens at noon today. The committee hopes to launch a more comprehensive study of area needs.

Moving to Lansing about 1904, Hudson became superintendent of the state branch of the Anti-Saloon League prior to his election to Congress.

Hudson served in Congress from the old sixth Michigan district, when he lived in Lansing and Oakland County was a part of that district.

He was in the insurance business at Lansing until about eight years ago when he retired because of age and poor health.

The former congressman is survived by two daughters, Helen Hudson of Duluth, Minn., and Mrs. Ruth Birdsell of Beloit, Wis., and four sons, Richard of Houston, Tex.; Duncan of Birmingham; Grant Jr. of San Francisco; and Dr. Winthrop, professor of divinity at Rochester, N. Y.

The body was taken to a Lansing funeral home. The funeral will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Julius Fischbach officiating.

NEW YORK (AP)—National newspaper advertising lineage hit an all-time high in the first nine months this year, it was reported today by Media Records Inc. and the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

Sparked by record September gains, total newspaper advertising revenue for all of 1955 should climb to three billion dollars, "by far the greatest sum ever invested in any advertising medium," the ANPA said.

Automotive advertising paced the upturn. For September it showed a whopping gain of 64.5 per cent over a year ago; for the first nine months up 29.9 per cent.

Parties, Mystery Contest Planned for Halloween

Music will be furnished by the department and prizes will be awarded for the best costumes.

Topping off the evening will be the city-wide Mystery Treat contest, co-sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the school board.

The contest has three divisions, grade school, junior high school and senior high school. Here's the way it works:

Grade school youngsters must be home by 9 o'clock. If they are home by that hour and receive a telephone call from contest headquarters, they will win prizes. First prize for the elementary school crowd will be a bicycle, second, a radio and third, five silver dollars.

Junior high schoolers must be waiting for the phone to ring by 10:30 p.m. First prize winner will receive a wrist watch. Second prize is a pen and pencil set and the third, five silver dollars.

The telephone will start ringing in some lucky high school student's home at 11 p.m.

If he or she is home, a wrist watch will be the reward. A pen

Big 4 Diplomats Open Historic Geneva Meeting

Strategy of Russians Threatens Hot War in Middle East

By OUR WIRE SERVICES

GENEVA—The Big Four foreign ministers opened their historic session today on the key issue of ending the cold war in Europe, but with a Soviet diplomatic offensive threatening hot war in the Middle East.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay smiled under a bright Geneva sun as they arrived at the Palace of Nations conference site.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who may demand a general security pact in the oil-rich Middle East, arrived yesterday under escort of two carloads of bodyguards.

This contrasted with the "spirit of Geneva" last July when Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and other top Soviet officials rode around in open cars and without escorts.

The conference got under way under the chairmanship of Pinay after a 10-minute period to allow cameramen to snap pictures inside the council room.

The Big Three foreign ministers held a final strategy meeting this morning to discuss their "common front" in tackling key European security issues and the new dangers in the Middle East.

The Western Powers had decided to offer firm security guarantees for Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia against any future German aggression.

(See stories on pages 18 and 56.)

The twin issues of European security and German unification top the problems up for action in the Big Four foreign ministers conference opening here today.

But looming before the foreign ministers—although not taken into account in preconference planning—was the fear that Middle East tensions would flare into full-scale shooting war.

New frontier clashes between Israel and Egypt have heightened these fears, as did recent shipments of Communist arms to Egypt from Czechoslovakia.

Officials in Washington today described the Middle East as the most critical theater in the cold war. State Department spokesmen said they had new information that Soviet bloc sources have made several approaches to Israel for supplying arms to Israeli forces.

DETROIT (INS)—The Automobile Manufacturers Association has announced motor vehicle factory sales in the first three quarters of 1955 reached 6,908,079.

The figure exceeds the full 12-month total of all but two previous years—1950 and 1953.

35-Year-Old Actress Faints in Detroit Hotel; Is Now Better

DETROIT (AP)—Veronica Lake, stage and screen actress, collapsed in the lobby of a Detroit hotel today and was rushed to a hospital.

At first it was feared she had suffered a heart attack, but a cardiogram taken at Receiving Hospital did not confirm the original diagnosis of possible coronary occlusion.

Dr. Norman Goldstein described her condition as "good" several hours after her collapse, and the 35-year-old actress was taken to Henry Ford Hospital for additional tests.

Miss Lake, who made the "peekaboo" hair-do famous in the 1930s, has been appearing in the stage play, "The Little Hut," at Detroit's Shubert Theater. The company manager said he would not know until later today whether she would be able to appear in the play tonight.

She was stricken at 1:30 a.m., having stopped at a restaurant for dinner after last night's performance. As she entered the lobby of the Barium Hotel, where she was staying, she fainted.

Carried to a sofa, she recovered consciousness quickly, but complained of severe chest pains. Miss Lake told physicians she had been working hard and felt recently that she was "nearing exhaustion."

She registered as Mrs. J. A. McCarthy of New York City. She and Joseph A. McCarthy, New York music publisher, were married in Traverse City, Mich., two months ago while Miss Lake was appearing in a summer theatre production there.

Turf Club Plea for Delay Fails to Get Approval

Hearings Will Continue in Detroit Office of Racing Commissioner

DETROIT—Racing Commissioner James H. Inglis today refused to postpone hearings on the proposed race track in Troy Township.

Inglis' refusal came after attorneys for the Mich. Thoroughbred Turf Club asked that hearings be discontinued because of the "cloud which now has arisen with respect to the approval granted by the Troy Township Board of Supervisors."

The request came at a hearing here. One of the attorneys, Joseph J. Marshall, left the meeting despite Inglis' statement that the hearing would continue.

A second attorney, Henry C. Murray, who was also secretary of the Turf club, remained at the meeting.

The "cloud" referred to was a revelation Monday that two Troy officials were part of a three-man corporation which obtained options on 200 acres of land proposed as the site of the new track.

David Lehenbom, an investigator for the racing commission, testified today that the corporation stood to make a profit of $169,000 by selling the land to the Turf club.

Both officials were present at the hearing. They are Fred W. Hildebrandt, treasurer, and Malcolm M. Heber, township attorney.

The "cloud," Inglis said, "arises from the fact that Mr. Hildebrandt is a member of the board (which voted rezoning to permit use of the proposed site for a race track), and the vote of approval was 4-3, his vote being cast in favor."

Judge Will Rule on Sewer Suit

Concluding Arguments in City, Township Case Delivered Yesterday

Visiting Circuit Judge Eugene Black, of Port Huron, yesterday said he will rule soon on a suit by Pontiac attempting to stop Waterford Township from hooking a sewer line to the city's Elizabeth Lake Road sewer.

Concluding arguments were heard by Judge Black in a special courtroom set up on the fifth floor of the Oakland County Office Building.

The judge is expected to submit a written opinion in the near future.

Pontiac contends the eight-inch line from a planned shopping center at northwest corner of Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Rds. cannot be linked with the city system without City Commission approval.

Such approval is necessary, it alleges, under a 1935 agreement between the two units allowing the section of Waterford containing the shopping center site to use city sewerage facilities.

The hassle hinges on interpretation of the contract which allows connections to be made without city approval, but not enlargements.

If the judge rules the line is a connection, Waterford could proceed. If an enlargement, city approval would be needed.

In either case, the losing side is expected to appeal to the State Supreme Court.

The city asserts sewage from the shopping center would place a serious burden on its already heavily-taxed system.

Sylvan Passes Water Ruling

Law Becomes Effective Saturday, Governs Use, Sale, Installing Fees

At a special meeting last night the Sylvan Lake City Council passed an ordinance governing operation of the new municipal water system.

Effective this Saturday, the ordinance regulates the use and sale of water, rules for making connections, plus installing meters and hydrants. City Manager Ernest Ethier said.

It provides for the city's taking a lien on property served when charges are unpaid and grants the council authority to limit the water under certain circumstances.

The fee for connecting a normal house meter on streets other than hard surfaced will be $35. When the tearing up of pavement is involved, the home owner will also have to pay for restoring the street.

The council also approved purchasing $7,000 worth of the bonds issued to finance the water system from paid special assessment funds. The bonds will be bought for $8,538.11, saving the city $141.89.

A similar $21,000 purchase of bonds last August resulted in an $823.50 saving.

Committees Delay Plans on Toll Road

LANSING (AP)—Two legislative committees have delayed their plans for a show-down meeting in the feud over construction of Michigan's first toll road.

The committees said they would wait until the State Supreme Court has passed on a suit brought to challenge the legality of the toll road law.

The committees previously had scheduled a session Monday with State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler and George N. Higgins, chairman of the State Turnpike Authority, in an attempt to settle the dispute between the two officials over the proposed toll road from Saginaw to Flat Rock.

Higgins has charged Ziegler with trying to block the toll road by constructing a competing freeway. He said this would prevent the sale of the toll road construction bonds.

Ziegler has replied that he has been committed to the freeway for five years, that he already has spent money on parts of it and that the toll road authority knew this when it made its plans.

Deny Postponement in Track Hearing

Township attorney, have been accused of failing to reveal their position with Zerk, a corporation which is composed of the two and Heber's law partner, Harry N. Dell.

The corporation secured options to purchase the 200 acres at John R and 14 Mile Road, and stand to make a $100,000 profit by selling their rights to the Turf Club, if a racing license is granted.

The township officials admitted taking up the options but insisted they wanted the racetrack primarily for the sake of the township.

Willow Run Manager Sure of Airline Move

YPSILANTI (INS)—The man who operates the Willow Run Airport today challenged statements about the terminal by Leroy C. Smith, Wayne County road engineer.

Smith said yesterday that American Airlines "definitely is going to move" to Detroit-Wayne major airport, adding that the other airlines "won't do so well stuck way out in the country."

Floyd C. Wakefield, supervisor of Willow Run for the University of Michigan, which owns the airport, said Smith's remarks were "antagonizing."

the list is another famous Detroit name—Henry Ford II.

Still hopeful of keeping the Briggs name on the site stadium is W. O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., Walter's only son. But his efforts appear wrapped in legal red tape.

The ownership change to the trust fund was one of many legal technicalities surrounding the baseball franchise. The Briggs Commercial and Development Co., which held the baseball stock, was dissolved effective today under the terms of the Briggs will. And the stock went into the trust fund. However, there is a difference of legal opinion as to whether a trust can properly own such a precarious property as a baseball team.

Another legal question is whether Spike Briggs can be a proper bidder for the club since he not only is a beneficiary of the trust, he is one of three executors of it.

Briggs, now on the Pacific coast on a trip, says he hopes to make another bid. He organized a syndicate and offered the development company three million dollars for the club six weeks ago but was turned down.

Foreign Ministers Open Geneva Talks

milan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay were expected to protest to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov about the arms being sent to Egypt since they deem the Russian government responsible.

Israel Premier Moshe Sharett headed here from Paris to make his own protest to Molotov and to press for Western arms and protection for Israel. He conferred in Paris yesterday with Dulles and Macmillan.

These two and Pinay were reported to have decided against rushing arms to Israel or formally guaranteeing its security at this time. They evidently hoped to redress the situation by other means.

Meanwhile, at the United Nations in New York, the U.N. Assembly failed today for the third time to break the deadlock between the U.S.-backed Philippines and Communist Yugoslavia for a 1956-57 seat on the Security Council.

After taking three secret ballots, the Assembly approved by 21 to 18 votes a British motion to postpone further voting on the deadlock for 10 days.

Benson Faces 'New Blasts; Drops Europe Farm Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson, came under fresh fire today as he abandoned plans for a European tour in order to work on farm program recommendations to Congress next year.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), picturing Benson as unpopular with farmers throughout the country, said he thinks the Eisenhower administration will dismiss Benson as agriculture secretary next year in an effort "to save face" with the farmers.

"I haven't found one farmer in South Carolina who is for Benson," the senator said in an interview. A member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, he has long criticized Benson and the administration's flexible price support program for farm goods.

Johnston said that even if it cost five billion dollars a year, it would be better to return to the Democratic-sponsored high price support system than let farmers "go under" as he said is happening to them now.

Benson announced after a White House conference yesterday that he will remain in Washington next month "to direct the continuing preparation of recommendations to Congress designed to strengthen, improve and refine the present agricultural program."

Vice President Nixon was understood to have been at the White House at the same time as Benson, leading to speculation that Nixon had a hand in Benson's change of plans. Benson had said less than two weeks ago he still expected to go on a European tour next month in an effort to promote U. S. farm exports.

Highway Bond Issue Sold to Syndicate

The largest turnpike revenue bond issue ever offered to investors — $415,000,000 — was sold yesterday by the Illinois Toll Highway Commission to a 565-member syndicate headed by Wall Street investment bankers.

There was a wide institutional demand for the bonds, a spokesman said. The money will finance a 322-mile toll road in Illinois.

The Day in Birmingham Torch Campaign Nears Halfway Mark of Goal

BIRMINGHAM — No one has her gaze fixed more intently on the northwest corner of Maple and Woodward these days than Mrs. Lenore Quinn, who reports that the torch erected there now shows a total of $95,230 collected during the first eight days of the 1955 Detroit Torch Fund campaign.

With 16 more days to go, this means that volunteers in the Birmingham-Bloomfield-Franklin vicinity have collected 47.3 per cent of the $200,485 quota. Mrs. Quinn, who is campaign director, said today.

She said even the children are finding it rewarding to do something for others, in noting that teachers and parents alike have commented on the money earned this past week through raking leaves, washing dishes, or running errands. Schools have been successfully urging the car-year contribution method.

Highlighting the local recognition paid this week to the United Nations in celebration of its tenth anniversary, will be a civic meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow with the Hon. Paul Martin as guest speaker. He heads the Canadian delegation to the U.N.

Speaking at the Community House, he will appraise the ten years and discuss what the world body can and cannot do. Opening the public meeting will be Mayor Charles Renfrew, with Mrs. Eleanor Gaffill, chairman of the city's first municipal parking lot with brief ribbon-cutting ceremonies at 7 o'clock. Charles Mortenson, chamber manager, said Mayor Charles Renfrew will snip the ribbon to make the 223 parking spaces official.

"And we'll furnish the parking meter tickets to all comers up until 5 p.m.," he added. City Manager Donald C. Egbert will be among other city officials in attendance; along with the off-street parking committee and officers of the chamber.

Following tonight's dinner meeting at Devon Gables, the Soroptimist International Club of Birmingham and its guests will hear Mrs. Eleanor Gaffill speak on the United Nations. A student of the U.N. since its inception, Mrs. Gaffill will conduct a discussion on the organization and its facets, with opportunity for questions following her talk.

Two industrial accidents occurred on the same property but in different buildings exactly 60 minutes apart yesterday, with a man injured in each case. Both were taken to William Beaumont Hospital, both admitted today.

At 3:02 p.m. yesterday, police received a call that Martin L. Hamby, 35, of 150 Wall St., Pontiac, injured himself when he fell out of a box car at Restrict Lumber Co., 425 S. Elton Rd. He suffered a fractured right heel.

First State Guards Start Six Months of Training

LANSING 26—The first Michigan National Guardsmen to take part in the six-months training under the new Reserve Forces Act will report for active duty at Ft. Leonard Wood Saturday.

Maj. Gen. George C. Moran, state adjutant general, said five guardsmen from Detroit and three from Ypsilanti will undergo six months' basic training at the Missouri camp.

Under the new law, Guardsmen can shorten their military obligation to eight years by taking the training.

Previously, they were not de-ferrred from the draft until they were 28 years old.

Nearly 40,000,000 television receivers have been manufactured in the United States since 1946 and it is estimated that some 35,000,000 of them are in use today.

Lansing Optometrist Suspended by Board

LANSING 28 — The State Board of Examiners in Optometry today suspended for one year the license of Dr. Edwin L. Sanchick, Lansing optometrist who was a figure in the Ritholtz bribery case.

The board found Sanchick guilty of "capping and steering" customers to the King Optical Co., Chicago lens manufacturers with offices in eight Michigan cities.

Benjamin D. Ritholtz, president of the King Optical Co., has been charged with bribing the board to get it to drop charges against Sanchick.

Karl G. Braun, board investigator, said Sanchick's office was next door to the King Optical Co. in Lansing.

Customers of the King Optical Co. were "steered" to Sanchick for eye examinations, Braun said. In return, Sanchick would send customers to the King Co. for glasses, he said.

Michigan Only State to Cut Turkey Crop

LANSING 28 — Michigan is the only important turkey-producing state planning to cut its production of heavy breed hens next year, the federal-state crop reporting service said today.

The survey covered turkey-growers in 15 states with 80 per cent of the breeder hens in the country. The overall average showed the 15 states intended a 13 per cent increase. Michigan intends a 13 per cent cut, however, the service said.

Michigan growers also said they intended to cut production of lighter breeds to 45 per cent of last year, the most drastic reduction among the 15 states.

The recent establishment of schools for primitive African Pygmy tribes has shown that they learn rapidly, one 23-year-old pupil having learned several languages and become a business office clerk.

Park Attendance Up 25 Per Cent for '55

Park attendance was up 25 per cent this season, Park Supervisor William Aho reported today.

Aho said some 125,000 persons made use of the city's recreation areas during the season, which officially ended last week end.

Parks and Recreation Dept. crews have already collected the equipment and carted it to maintenance shops for refurbishing for next spring's opening.

Aho said there will be more equipment available next year in three new recreation areas opened this year—Jaycee, Rotary and Optimist parks.

Picnic tables may be available at the Jaycee Park next year, he said.

Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals went 330 chances without an error in 1950, tops for a second baseman.

30 Jets Purchased by United Air Lines

CHICAGO 28—Thirty 350-mile-an-hour jet airliners costing 175 million dollars have been ordered by United Air Lines from the Douglas Aircraft Co.

Delivery is scheduled to start in May 1959, UAL President W. A. Patterson said yesterday. He said they will begin flying between principal American cities and Hawaii by November 1959.

United is the first domestic airline to order jet transports and the contract is the largest jet airliner order yet placed with a single aircraft manufacturer.

The UAL planes, Douglas DC8s, will carry 112 first-class passengers or 140 tourist passengers at cruising speed of 550 to 575 miles per hour.

The airline expects to cut its schedules from Los Angeles to New York from the present 7-2-3 hours to 4½ hours with jets.

There are no precise descriptions of the Mayflower, the ship which brought the first Pilgrims to America.

No Room for Letdown in United Fund Drive

Pontiac's United Fund campaign is moving along very well.

But with the November 11 deadline rapidly approaching there is no room for a letdown on the part of either donors or canvassers.

Campaign Manager Robert M. CRITCHFIELD spoke to the point when he said the total already contributed lacked nearly $200,000 of the $562,175 goal.

In other words, despite valiant work by the canvassers and considerably larger gifts by many business firms and their employees, only about 67 per cent of this all important job has been completed.

One of the pressing needs of the campaign is more prompt reporting of donations. This is emphasized by leaders of the Commercial and Residential sections. All workers in these divisions are urged to make complete reports before Friday.

Pontiac needs the 55 agencies which share in the proceeds of this campaign. Never has the City failed to reach its objectives in the six previous United Fund drives. We must not fail now.

GM's Record Payrolls Index to Prosperity

A reliable index to current prosperity can be found in General Motors' all time record high 1955 employment and payrolls.

Figures for the third quarter and the year's first nine months have just been released by GM President CURTICE and Board Chairman SLOAN. These tell an interesting story of the expanded operations of the world's largest industrial corporation.

During the first nine months the figures show that an average of 621,958 were employed by GM and they were paid $2,321 billion. For the same period last year the figures were 577,069 employed and $1,930 billion paid in wages.

For the third quarter the figures are 615,966 employed and $758,000,000 paid them in wages. In last year's third quarter the figures were 538,619 employed and $601,000,000 paid in wages.

One of the most revealing figures shows that the average work week during the third quarter in the corporation's U. S. plants was 42.7 hours, compared to 39.9 a year ago. In the same period average weekly earnings rose to $102.21 from $89.85 in 1954.

These figures make it easier to understand how the prosperity they reflect is shared by every city in which General Motors operates.

Nobel Prize in Medicine Awarded to Bio-Chemist

To a well known Stockholm research scientist, Dr. HUGO THEORELL has gone the 1955 Nobel Prize in Medicine.

Dr. THEORELL is a bio-chemist who was forced by polio to abandon the practice of medicine. He long has been recognized as an authority in the field of blood, oxidation, lipids, enzymes and related subjects. In his own opinion his most important discovery was the production, in pure crystalline form, of the yellow oxidation or breathing enzyme.

Modest about his new honor, Dr. THEORELL declares himself indebted to fellow scientists including the Americans, Dr. LANUS PAULING and Prof. BRITTON CHANCE.

In his leisure time Dr. THEORELL plays the violin, manages the Stockholm

Philharmonic Orchestra and designs puzzles. The fact that his research achievements came after illness had driven him out of medical practice makes them all the more remarkable.

Dividing Your Tax Dollar

The average taxpayer knows that Government costs are high, that they have increased steadily for years and that there is little prospect of any great reduction soon.

What many taxpayers don't know, however, when they consider the Federal budget of $62 billion is how their tax dollar is split to meet various Federal expenses. Below is a breakdown showing the use made of your tax dollar:

Military expenditures	67c
Interest on public debt	10c
Veterans' benefits	7c
Social services	5c
Government housekeeping	4c
Construction, other assets	4c
Public assistance	2c
Foreign economic, technical aid	1c

From this it is clear that there is little or no hope of reducing the 84 cents of the tax dollar devoted to military expenses, interest on the national debt and veterans' benefits. To cut military expenses further would be unsafe, national debt interest impossible and veterans' benefits politically disastrous.

These are facts worth remembering when the candidates sound off about how they could reduce Federal expenditures.

Airport Argument

Proposed Change of Interest to People of Pontiac Area

Squirrel: An animal whose thrift reminds us of the too often human lack of it.

The Detroit airport squabble has an interest for Pontiac people who travel by air, most of whom now go to Willow Run. That drive involves the hazards of one of the most congested areas of highway travel. But a change to the Detroit-Wayne airport would only make the matter worse. Many from here already are starting their flights at the Bishop airport near Flint. This is nearer than either of the other two, and involves far less traffic hazards. In fact, there is only one turn, that being to the left, off the Dixie Highway south of Flint, into Bristol Road on which the airport is located.

2 Ex-Secretaries of State Throw Fuel on Yalta Conference, Retaliation Policy

WASHINGTON — Two former secretaries of state in previous Democratic administrations have just come out with magazine articles that are bound to add fuel to the flames of controversy—one with respect to the Yalta conference, and the other as to what really was meant by the policy of "instant retaliation" against a potential enemy as announced in January 1954 by Secretary of State Dulles.

Dean Acheson, Truman's secretary of state, writing in "Harper's Magazine," criticizes Dulles for daring to say, in effect, that the United States would retaliate instantly if Soviet Russia attacked our side. Acheson quotes the Dulles speech accurately but then proceeds to give it his own meaning.

DULLES QUOTED

Dulles in a public speech had said that "so long as our basic concepts were unclear, our military leaders could not be selective in building our military power" and that, "if an enemy could pick his time and place and method of warfare," then we could be committed to fight all over the world in local wars with old and new weapons. Instead, Dulles revealed that the President and the National Security Council had made some "basic policy decisions." He added:

"The basic decision was to depend primarily on a great capacity to retaliate, instantly, by means and at places of our choosing. Now the Department of Defense and the Joint Chiefs of Staff can shape our military establishment to fit what is our policy, instead of having to try to be ready to meet the enemy's many choices."

The key words are "capacity" to retaliate and "our" policy. Acheson mistakenly assumes that the word "our" meant action by America alone and that the military men of the United States wouldn't consult Allied military commands on retaliation. He says our Allies were "stunned" by this. Yet Truman, when president, made it clear that the United States could never pledge itself to forego instant retaliation if America were directly attacked and that consultations would be engaged in if they were practical.

Just what purpose Acheson expects to serve by implying that the Democratic Party, for which he endeavors to speak, would, if entrusted with power next time, repudiate the policy of "instant retaliation" is not clear. The voters will be much interested during the 1956 campaign to learn from the lips of the Democratic presidential nominee, whoever he is, whether "instant retaliation" is to be discarded when an atom bomb is dropped on American territory or on the territory of its Allies and a long parliamentary debate or discussion is to ensue while more bombs are dropped and our cities are destroyed. It doesn't sound practical.

As for former Secretary of State Byrnes, his article in "Collier's" states that, while he doesn't know the extent of the influence by Alger Hiss on Secretary of State Stettinius or on Harry Hopkins, aide to President Roosevelt, "It is only fair to say that the mistakes of Yalta... were made on issues and on considerations in which Hiss could hardly have been a decisive or dominant figure."

But that is a mere guess. Stettinius himself, in a book published in November 1949—when Hiss already had become a controversial figure but before his conviction on a perjury charge at a second trial—has this to say:

HISS LAUDED

"Hiss performed brilliantly throughout the Dumbarton Oaks conversations, the Yalta conference, and the first meeting of the United Nations Assembly in London. I always had reason to believe that Hiss acted honorably and patriotically in the performance of his duties at these conferences. The following pages of this book reveal his contribution at the Yalta conference."

A glance at the index shows sixteen separate references to Hiss. An examination of the work done by Hiss as referred to in the Stettinius book gives an impression of influence.

Also, the main sins of Yalta, which Hiss didn't mention in his own article in "Pocket Book Magazine" this week, are the secret agreements which were not made public when the praise of Yalta to which he refers swept the press. Nor did Byrnes know of the concessions made in the Far East. Indeed Stettinius concedes that this secret was even kept from him.

Byrnes' thesis in his magazine article was not so much to argue the merits of the Hiss case—for, he says, the verdict of the jury was in his judgment right—but to point out that the whole Department of State was often blamed by critics for the misconduct of Hiss.

No group or institution should ever be condemned because of the misconduct of the few but when, as has happened, certain Foreign Service officers have been dropped for indiscretions of a serious nature, the tendency has been to cover up and to denounce congressional inquiries as superfluous or irrelevant. Because of this, efforts at exposure often went to extremes, but the net effect was to do more in the long run to promote security than evidently has been accomplished in Britain. There the scandals of a MacLean and a Burgess are only now being discovered, where before naïveté, if not indifference, prevailed. (Copyright 1955, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Don't Attempt to Run Lives of Children, Oldsters Told

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

That game, or active hobby you are learning and enjoying (which you should have learned way back in high school), that fun which takes you out in the open air with your friends, can also allow you to return to the home of your children, feeling self-confident, relaxed, and comfortable enough to let them live their own lives.

Perhaps the angriest howls of young folks directed against old folks are aimed at this strange insistence of the old folks upon running the lives of their young ones. (The second-loudest howls are caused by the time and service demanded by the old folks. And next time we'll speak of this necessary evil.)

You came by your wisdom through living, not through your parents' interference. Your children must follow the same path. You cannot save them from learning. You would not, if you could. So why try? If they are not idiots, they can read, listen, watch, grow.

You will not save them the pitfalls you fell into, nor the agonies you're so well aware of, by telling them what to do. You can only postpone their education. So stand by, ready with the first-aid crew and the oxygen-tent, and suffer them to bat their heads against the same old stone walls you found. No matter what warnings or threats you bring forth, they'll have to bat it out for themselves, if not now, then later, when you're not around to offer succor.

HIDE HEARTACHE

One great theologian said to his parishioners, when they asked for guidance in spiritual matters or rather, family matters, "I don't think I can advise you at this time, for I don't yet know what you've planned to do."

Smile gently, hide your heartache, and get out to your game, sport, garden, bowling-green. Cross your fingers and know that when you return you will be welcomed as a friend, an understanding sympathizer, who leaves their lives to them.

A man who calls himself a Local Laborer complains about the "backward city" of Pontiac. No doubt there is a lot in what he says.

Although many have become rich in our city, not one has ever stepped forward with any sizeable contribution to its beautification and development.

In spite of this, though, we do have a great deal to be proud of in Pontiac. Just a few years ago our city was burdened with debt. Now we are debt-free. And don't forget that beautiful new City Hall of ours. It was dedicated a few months ago, one of the most beautiful in the country, and free of debt.

Hal Boyle Says:

Milton Eisenhower Mum on Presidential Questions

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — How would you feel if your well-loved older brother suddenly were stricken ill, and people began to suggest that maybe you were the man to take over his job eventually?

This is the spot that President Milton Eisenhower of Pennsylvania State University finds himself in today. It is an embarrassing spot, and not at all to his liking.

With President Ike presumed by many to be out of the picture as a candidate in 1956, a quiet boom has developed in support of his younger brother for the White House post.

"Why not Milton?" is the question being asked by a number of high officials as well as ordinary party workers.

To all such questions Milton Eisenhower has responded with a frigid, "no comment."

"What else could he say?" a friend asked, plaintively. "If he said anything else — no matter what it was — it would be misconstrued."

His friends here seem to feel that any talk of his becoming a political candidate next year is at the worst in poor taste and at the best ill-timed.

Although Milton Eisenhower has a record of government service perhaps unmatched in its variety, he has never run for an elective office. He has never shown a desire to. He isn't showing one now.

He is a man of deep personal and family loyalties. Those near him say he has been very lonely since the death last year of his wife, Helen Eakin Eisenhower, in whose memory friends are now erecting a campus chapel here.

The heart attack suffered by his idolized older brother, whom he has served as a close adviser, has brought him fresh concern.

Ties of mutual admiration knit the two men together as much as the mere accident of kinship. President Ike once called Milton the smartest of the Eisenhower brothers. In 1953 he told a congressman:

"You needn't tell Milton to me. I think he's the greatest man in the United States. If it wasn't for his name, he would be in a high government position."

It is the magic of the Eisenhower name, of course, that partly explains why some politicians are now looking yearningly Milton's way.

But he has more than his name to recommend him. Like Ike he has the gift of creating a happy team few years ago? Now all the main ones are well paved and the gutting of the side streets is moving rapidly. And don't forget our convenient parking lots that have really been a break for the shopper.

Our school building program is placing us in a better position than most school districts in the country. Our hospitals will soon be enlarged to care for the increasing number of patients.

Yes, let's be proud of what we have done and are doing. But let's not forget the many other things that can be provided through the gifts of public-minded citizens who remember and are thankful for what Pontiac has done for them. If Mr. Local Laborer wants to do something, let him join the others who are supporting the Pontiac Foundation for the improvement of our city.

William Coulson

Hal Boyle Says:

Milton Eisenhower Mum on Presidential Questions

Those posts have qualified him as an expert in fields ranging from soil conservation to labor-management disputes, psychological warfare to government reorganization, refugee work to international diplomacy.

Among other things he is a director of two business firms. "He doesn't just hold an office," someone once remarked. "He absorbs it."

What does such a man do for fun? A work day that sometimes runs to 18 hours a day does not leave him much time for hobbies, but Milton likes to relax by fishing, reading detective stories, gardening and playing the piano.

Milton Eisenhower is 56 years old, a highly eligible age for a presidential candidate.

If President Ike voluntarily steps out of the political picture, would Milton heed the pleas of his new "discoverers" and step in?

The question is premature. But the presidential political lightning has struck twice in the same family several times before in American history. It conceivably could again.

Those near Milton Eisenhower feel sure of one thing. He would never consider taking a political step without at least the tacit consent of his older brother.

U. S. Supreme Court Moves Cautiously in Ruling on State Screen Censorship

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court—in ruling on movie censorship by the states, just as in ruling on racial segregation by the states—has moved cautiously. It has not given a final decision on either issue.

So far the court has ruled on only pieces of both issues. So questions involving movie censorship and segregation no doubt will be thrown into the courts for years to come.

For example: While the court has ruled public school segregation and segregation on buses crossing state lines is unconstitutional, it has never ruled that segregation of all kinds is unconstitutional.

Someday, in some future case, the court might rule that way. Before then, because of successive decisions of the court against various phases of segregation, segregation may have withered away.

Although the court has shaken its foundations the whole concept of segregation by its ruling against public school segregation. It cannot be said to have done the same to the principle of state censorship of movies.

It has given New York and Kansas setbacks in the way they attempted to carry out censorship. But it has not ruled that they, or any other state, has no right to censor movies.

Nevertheless, by its rulings in these two cases the court has pushed all states into a position of being both more specific and legally correct in their laws and reasons for attempting bans on motion pictures.

In 1952 New York state's censorship board banned a movie, "The Miracle," on the grounds it was sacrilegious. The court ruled against the state in this case, saying "sacrilegious" was too broad a reason for censorship since it is a word which means different things to different people.

In 1953 a Kansas censorship board banned a movie, "The Moon Is Blue," on several grounds under that state's laws, including a finding that the picture was obscene.

A state judge, Harry G. Miller of Wyandotte County, said the law and the board were constitutional since the Constitution guarantees freedom of press, speech and religion. Besides, he said, the board's use of the word "obscene" was so broad and vague as to make it unconstitutional as a basis for censorship.

The State Supreme Court reversed the judge's position, and the distributor of the film, United Artists Corp., appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court which gave its opinion last Monday.

The opinion was given in a minimum number of words. It said simply: "Judgment reversed." This meant the U. S. Supreme Court decided the Supreme Court of Kansas was wrong in overruling Judge Miller and upholding the ban on "The Moon Is Blue."

But the federal court did not say a state censorship board can't ban a film in the future. Nor did it say no state board can ever ban a film on the grounds of being obscene.

It was asked by United Artists Corporation to rule on whether a state may ever censor a picture "under a clearly drawn statute designed and applied to prevent showing obscene films."

By its scantily worded opinion the court avoided a direct answer to the broad question posed by United Artists. This is not unusual practice for the court.

The nine justices traditionally try to avoid sweeping opinions on broad principles and to limit themselves as narrowly as possible to the particular issue in the particular case before them.

As a result at this moment United Artists Corporation, according to one of its lawyers, does not know whether "The Moon Is Blue" can now be shown in Kansas. The corporation's lawyers are trying to find out in Kansas.

Washington Associates of Eisenhower Map Plans for 'Welcome Home' Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of President Eisenhower's friends and neighbors hereabouts are considering a welcome home celebration when the President returns to the capital next month.

It's all very tentative, though. Eisenhower's well-wishers want to make sure first that Eisenhower and his doctors have no objection.

The Washington Post and Times-Herald first proposed a "public welcome," noting in an editorial that such tributes have been a local custom since 1800 — when crowds turned out to welcome President John Adams home from an out-of-town visit.

"These occasions," the news paper said, "demonstrate more than Washington's affection for the nation's chief executive. They demonstrate an aspect of American public life that divests it of much of its bitterness, rancor and rivalry."

"There is something about the return of President Eisenhower that inspires an added warmth. He is coming home from an illness and confinement that every citizen, regardless of party, has watched with anxiety and, latterly, with relief. He is not just the President; he is our neighbor, whose ordeals we have witnessed with anguish and distress."

District of Columbia officials, who would have charge of any such welcome, showed immediate interest in the idea but withheld plans until they had checked with the White House.

"We certainly would welcome an opportunity to let the President know we're glad to have him back," one official said, "but of course we would never dream of putting any physical or emotional strain on him. We'll see what the President's advisers have to say."

Everybody concerned agreed there should be no formal program in which the President would be expected to take part.

The Post and Times-Herald said plans for the occasion "should involve no task on the President's part, other than that of hearing from his Washington neighbors a warm 'welcome home.'"

Tentative arrangements call for the President to return from Denver during the week Nov. 5-12 and to spend a couple of days before going on to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm to continue his convalescence.

Military Will Benefit by Steel Conversion

NEW YORK (INS) — Another military tradition has fallen in this age of modern warfare.

After nearly a century of using brass in the mass production of cartridge cases, the Armed Forces have made an almost complete conversion to steel.

The job took 12 years, but the benefits will be substantial for artillerymen and taxpayers alike, according to Steelways, magazine of American Iron and Steel Institute. Army and Navy Ordnance concluded as early as 1947, says the magazine, that cartridge brass could never again be produced in America in quantities large enough for another major war. Steel costs about half as much as brass and the sturdier, steel-cased shells can take more of a roughing up in shipping and storing.

In the field, supply troops and gun crews can move more of the new ammunition with less effort. Nine 75 mm. steel-cased shells, for instance, weigh roughly only as much as six made of brass.

Natives Moving to New Island in South Pacific

SYDNEY, Aus.—Migration the modern way has been arranged for 120 natives of the overcrowded Gilbert Islands, on the equator, to Gizo, one of the Western Solomons in the South Pacific.

The first wave of 30 adult Gilbertese, mostly men, will establish gardens and temporary houses about the end of the year.

Nine months later, 48 settlers will arrive and nine months after them the remainder of the 120 to make "a balanced community of men, women and children." A British Government statement says Gizo was chosen "after full consideration."

Village sites have adequate water supplies and are comparatively free from mosquitoes. The settlers will be given prophylactic doses of anti-malaria drugs.

New coconut groves have been planted, fish are plentiful and "casual and regular employment are available."

Latex Used in Fabrics

COVINGTON, Ky. — A Kentucky textile firm is using a latex compound on many of its upholstery fabrics to make them lie flatter in the cutting room, ravel less after cutting, and to give them more stability after they have been made up. The latex solution is a synthetic material supplied in a 35 per cent concentration. A gum is the only other ingredient in the coating.

Special Detectives Patrol Washington Government Buildings to Thwart Thefts

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A man in working clothes carrying a small black bag strolled into the office of a government building not long ago. Several attorneys were in the room.

One of them asked him what he wanted. The man replied he had come to repair typewriters and in a professional manner promptly began to check the machines for serial numbers.

Shortly after, two secretaries came back from a coffee break and noticed their purses were missing from the desk compartments beside their typewriters. Also missing was the repair man.

The thief is still at large and pulling the same brazen stunt in the vast array of government buildings where thousands of secretaries are easy prey for a clever criminal.

HOUSE DICKS WORK

This case is now being worked on by the investigative staff of the General Services Administration, composed of six men and a woman from the Office of Compliance and Security under the direction of Baron I. Shacklette.

They are the U. S. Government's house detectives. Their job is to investigate crimes and irregularities in all federal buildings under the protection of the GSA in and around Washington.

Their day to day duties confront them with every type of crime from pocketbook thefts to immoral conduct. As William Aud, special agent supervisor of the Office of Compliance and Security, puts it, "we cover the waterfront."

SHUN PUBLICITY

All of them have had at least 15 years of police or investigating experience. They shun publicity and operate behind the scenes in a quiet, fast and efficient manner. Cases they tackle range from the serious to the ridiculous and sometimes are a combination of both.

Take the recent case of the stolen eggs. Checking out a report that food was being looted from a department's cafeteria, a GSA investigator apprehended a man with 30 eggs. When the culprit was searched, it was also discovered he possessed a bundle of numbers slips.

Gambling is illegal on federal property, and it's one of the GSA detectives' biggest headaches. At least one person a month is caught doing business in numbers with government employees. Often numbers men are nabbed in telephone booths relaying information to outside sources.

Poker games are also busted up by investigators. Sometimes this is not easy when the players get together in secret places or seldom-used rooms.

NOTHING WORKED

Thefts of all sorts are always occurring within government buildings. One of the toughest cases the GSA has had along this line lasted three years. During this time fountain pens, clothes, stamps, petty cash and other personal property kept disappearing from one building.

No precautions or protective devices seemed to work. Finally, however, a hidden camera caught a perfect picture of a charwoman in the act of a theft. Later, a vast quantity of stolen goods was found in her home including a set of china and 500 rolls of toilet paper.

In this case and others the GSA turns all information over to the U. S. Attorney and the appropriate agency or department.

A great deal of time is taken looking into small complaints. There is the case of the radio tube reported stolen by an employee who brought his radio to work to hear the newscasts. Turned out his co-workers were annoyed by the noise and thought the most diplomatic procedure was to take out the tube.

STRANGEST CASE

The strangest case of all concerns the man who stole five dictionaries from an agency. When caught, he explained he needed them to give to his Sunday school students so they could look up the meaning of words in the Bible.

Huge government parking lots are always a temptation for criminals. A rash of car thefts took place last winter on the Pentagon's massive lots.

One GSA detective broke the case, however. Earlier he had taken down the tag number of a car he had observed driving through the parking lot lanes for no apparent reason. A day later a complaint was made of an attempted theft along with the license of the suspected car. The two numbers happened to jibe, and as a result the criminal was tracked down with the help of local police.

The one woman on the detective staff handles all cases where it is embarrassing or impossible to investigate affairs concerning women. At times she also helps the men by acting as a decoy.

One Day They'll Get a Black Budgie Bird

PRETORIA, S. Africa — One day there will be a black budgie, in the opinion of R. Margolis, judge of the budgerigar class at the recent bird show here.

"Breeders have not succeeded in producing a pink budgerigar or a black one," he said, "but I see no reason why a black one should not be bred eventually. The birds have black in their wings and it only needs long, careful selective breeding to produce 'the wonder of the bird world.'"

Unusual colors were shown by Danish pied or tricolor budgies—yellow, black and green—but the rarest of all was the yellow-faced cinnamon-winged opaline sky-blue budgie—a symphony in six colors.

Bats are the only mammals capable of sustained flight.

Health Spending Up

CHICAGO — Some 2½ billion dollars was spent by the states on

Britishers Using 2 Hornblowers for Late Tooting

LONDON, Eng. — Hornblowers not being the rugged men they once were, London will have two instead of one, each receiving $145 a year.

Every night the official hornblower blows the curfew horn in the Market Place and again at the mayor's house—seven days a week in all weather.

Now two men will take monthly turns as it was felt this is too much to expect of one. The custom survives from the days when the town's Wakenman sounded the horn at nine o'clock each evening to show he would be on the job while householders slept.

He was paid by the householders but had to make good any loss if a house were robbed — a condition that no longer applies. Chief requisite for applicants is that they can blow a good sustained blast.

Jumping Porpoises

In the Gulf of Aden schools of porpoises reach vast proportions, says the National Geographic Society. Some schools number thousands of these mammals that can leap 20 feet out of the water.

New Twist

Ancient Pretzel Makes Breakfast Table Debut

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the year 610, a monk in southern France wished to reward some youngsters for their piety. So he took a thin strip of dough, twisted it to show arms folded in prayer, and put it in the oven to bake.

This anonymous benefactor of mankind didn't realize it, but he had invented the pretzel.

"One of the world's finest foods," the pretzel king, Alex V. Tisdale, said today. "Here, have one."

Tisdale has been in town for the pretzel bakers' annual convention. A retired pretzel baker, he now is executive secretary and chief gospel spreader for the industry.

"This is the day of the snack," Tisdale said, munching away. "Do you realize that here the pretzel is ideal? It has only 110 calories for each ounce, and in this respect is far ahead of popcorn, cheese tidbits, nuts or potato chips."

"It's no wonder that since 1939 the production of pretzels has increased 13 times over, and that the demand is still greater than the supply."

To Tisdale, the uses of pretzels are unending and wonderful.

"Pretzels make an excellent breakfast food," he said. "Crumble 'em in a bowl and add a little sugar and cream. Excellent. Try it some time."

"Or try a pie crust. Mrs. Tisdale breaks them up and makes a crust that is delightful. There's not much moisture in pretzels, you know, so they don't get soggy."

"In Philadelphia, pretzels are broken up and sprinkled over ice cream. It's called a Philadelphia Sundae and it is delicious."

Cheered by this enterprise on the part of Philadelphia, we celebrated with another pretzel.

Whenever Tisdale is at a convention, Mrs. T. infected with her husband's enthusiasm, lies to the library to dig up historical nuggets on the pretzels.

She was delighted when Carl Carmer, the author, reported that probably the first pretzel baker in America was a man named Wesels, who in 1632 set up shop in Beaverwick, N. Y., near Albany.

The Indians became extremely fond of pretzels and Wesels soon had a thriving business, so thriving that the white settlers claimed he was using poor flour in the items he baked for them.

"The best flour," Tisdale said, approvingly, "was going into the pretzels. They put the poor fellow in jail. Fortunately, he soon was released, but the case was important enough to bring Peter Stuyvesant up from New York."

Tisdale hopes that no one still looks on pretzels as primarily an adult food.

Supermarket Uses Television to Catch Thieves

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (INS)—Satisfied customers—not foiled bandits—is the chief advantage of closed circuit television in supermarkets.

That is the view of Milton F.
Humphrey, Evansville market operator who installed one of the first closed circuit TV systems to be placed in a Midwest grocery.

Humphrey said that in the East, merchants who have used the TV systems have found it discourage holdups. He agreed that "if a holdup man knew that someone he could not see was observing him, he would hardly take a chance at holding up one of our cashiers."

But he added that he has found the chief advantage is prevention of long and irritating waits for customers at the check-out aisles.

He can divert other employees to aid any cashier who can't keep up with her line or break other bottlenecks he sights from his office viewing screen.

Treat Cancer, TB, Heart

City of Hope - 43rd Year of Helping 'Hopeless' Ills

DUARTE, CALIF., (INS)—The City of Hope recently entered its 43rd year of smoothing the tortured path of illness for thousands of victims of cancer, tuberculosis, leukemia and heart disease.

During the last half century, the medical center has grown from a collection of wooden bungalows to a world-recognized facility, and not one person, of the thousands who have been given treatment, has ever received a bill.

The unique, non-sectarian facility operates on a day-to-day basis to gather its $10,000 operating budget.

Some contributions come in through the mail, others are donated by grateful patients, while the majority of the money "just seems to materialize," according to hospital directors.

Now affiliated with the center are more than 300 auxiliaries, scattered from Los Angeles to New York.

They are formed by humanitarian-minded persons who have observed the work of the City of Hope and want to do their part to support the financial burden.

NO BOTHER

The money situation, however, doesn't seem to bother the directors of the facility, some of whom remember when it was first organized with little more than "hope" as its chief asset.

With $150 and a prayer, two young Los Angeles business men in 1912 traveled to what was then the isolated region of Duarte to find a dry climate where the study of tuberculosis, then the principal killer of its day, could be carried on.

Boris Flattie and Bernard Cohen, then both in their mid-twenties, enlisted the aid of their friends to clear a few acres of sagebrush and cactus and erect some wooden bungalows, which provided housing for the center's first 30 patients.

Cohen was the first president of the Foundation's board of directors and Flattie was its secretary-treasurer.

During the 1920s and depression-plagued 1930s, the two men guided the destiny of the center which often saw the patients eating "borrowed" food and the doctors and technicians going without their pay.

Then finally when it seemed like the Second World War would force abandonment, a generous public response sent the facility on its way to becoming one of the world's outstanding research centers.

Cohen died many years ago, but Flattie still takes a keen, if inactive interest in the center.

An elected board of directors from the Los Angeles area now directs the operation of the sprawling facility, with Victor M. Carter, hardware executive, as president.

The executive director of the institution is Ben Horowitz, 52, a native of New York who has held the job for ten years. The dean of the operation, however, is 63-year-old executive vice-president Sam Golter, who has been with City of Hope for 25 years.

Dr. Alfred Goldman, 45, is medical chief of the facility.

The City of Hope has undergone its greatest change during the past decade. With the threat of tuberculosis diminishing, the center has opened the nation's first free specialized cancer hospital built and supported by voluntary donations.

Another recent addition is the children's wing dedicated to youngsters suffering from leukemia. For this project, a special research institute of its own, a team of leading scientists from around the world has been assembled to delve into the mysteries of the disease.

The expanded research program

Airline Union Head Refutes 'Collusion'

CHICAGO (AP)—Clarence L. Sayen, president of the AFL Air Line Pilots Assn., today said he plans to appear before the AFL Executive Council to answer charges that the pilots union is in "collusion" with United Air Lines to break a strike.

George Meany, AFL president, made the collusion charge in New York Tuesday in reference to the pilots' actions during a strike of the AFL Flight Engineers International Assn. Sayen replied that the charge was "ridiculous, half-cocked and uninformed."

The flight engineers struck against United Air Lines Sunday in protest against a company rule requiring all newly hired engineers to be qualified pilots. Pilots have crossed flight engineers' picket lines and have been flying United planes since the strike started.

Meany said he had learned that pilots were taking the place of striking engineers, "in clear violation of all trade union principles." Sayen said no date has been set for his appearance before the council.

Elderly Nurse Criticizes Forced Retirement Plan

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—There should be no such thing as an arbitrary retirement date, says an active nurse who already has worked 16 years longer than most.

Miss Lulu Cudney, who will be 82 next Jan. 31, is still going strong and has no intention of retiring.

"It's a terrible thing to say to a man, 'You're done for' just because he has reached 65," Miss Cudney said while attending the Michigan State Nurses Assn. Convention.

"I don't believe you should set a date. People should continue work if they wish. They should do what they are able to do, but not be driven."

Martian Expert Explains Planet

New Area Vindicates Theory of Existing Life in Outer Space

WASHINGTON — A new blue-green area on the red face of Mars, almost the size of Texas and believed to be living vegetation, has produced the greatest change in Martian geography since the planet was first mapped 125 years ago.

The discovery is announced by the National Geographic Society by Dr. E. C. Sliker, a distinguished astronomer and leader of the 1954 National Geographic-Lowell Observatory Mars Expedition to photograph the planet from South Africa.

The new dark marking, covering approximately 300,000 square miles near the great Thoth Canal, was totally unexpected. Never before has such a new dark spot appeared except as an increase of an existing dark area.

The remarkable transformation, Dr. Sliker reports, indicates that the division between Martian desert and dark areas is not necessarily fixed or permanent; one may change to the other at any time. It helps support the conclusion that Mars is not a dead world, that the darkening is due to the growth of plant life.

Because Mars is only half earth's size and thus has only feeble gravity, its atmosphere is thinner than that at the top of Mount Everest. Very little, if indeed any, free oxygen remains, and little water vapor. Yet brilliant blue-white clouds were seen, as well as gleaming polar caps and great "yellow clouds" of blowing dust.

With filters capable of piercing the violet haze of the Martian atmosphere, Dr. Sliker watched spring turn to summer on the red and green planet. The visible south polar cap warmed and slowly shrank. Green fringes formed along the edge of the retreating sheet of ice or hoarfrost.

The great blue-green areas began to mark the orange-red desert surface—the so-called "wave of darkness" that is the strongest evidence that Mars is still a living planet.

'Grand Coulee II'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The daughter of a minister here, when provoked beyond reason, cries "Grand Coulee!" Because Grand Coulee, she says, is the biggest dam in the world.

Will the Russians Concede Points?

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

The long-awaited Geneva Conference of the Big Four Foreign Ministers begins today. There was a rush of last-minute preparations for the meeting which is expected to show whether the Geneva smile is honest or just a cold war mask.

This is the situation on the first day of the conference.

President Eisenhower has called on Russia to match what he called genuine Western efforts to promote lasting peace through conciliation. In a statement issued from his hospital room in Denver, the convalescing Chief Executive said that if the Soviet Union responds in a similar spirit much progress can be made at the conference.

Eisenhower said the reunification of Germany within the framework of European security is the foremost problem to be solved by the Foreign Ministers. He also said the Western nations will offer proposals designed to promote a peace of justice with increased security and well-being for all.

MOLOTOV SMILES

And in Geneva itself, there was an optimistic statement from Russia's V. M. Molotov who was the first of the foreign ministers to arrive in the conference city. Displaying a toothy smile, Molotov said Russia expects that the conference participants will expend all efforts to solve what he called questions that worry all of us. He added that an end should be sought to the cold war and that confidence should be re-established between the nations.

The three Western diplomats met in Paris yesterday to put the finishing touches to a nine-page memorandum aimed at

Feature Eyeglasses That Resist Impact

CHICAGO — One type of impact-resistant eyeglass lens is hardened by heating and chilling with an air blast under rigid temperature controls. This lens must not break in a test in which a 1/8th-inch-diameter steel ball is dropped from a height of 50 inches on its front surface.

Another type is heated and cooled under special stress; it must remain intact when a 1/8th-inch-diameter steel ball falls on it from a height of 50 inches. It's five times as resistant to breakage as the average lens when dropped. A third kind is laminated like the glass in a car windshield.

forcing the Soviets to join in—or accept blame for blocking—a solution to the German unification issue. The memorandum was drawn up with the support of the 12 other nations in the North Atlantic Alliance.

It presents a choice of two European security plans in exchange for Russian agreement to a free and united Germany.

One plan would mean a U. S., British and French treaty guarantee to Russia against future attack by a reunified Germany. The other would bring about a collective European security pact which would include NATO members and the Soviet Union.

Hovering on the fringes of a Big Four conference is a threat of a war in the Middle East between the Arab states and Israel. And to make certain that the Big Four ministers don't overlook that dangerous problem, Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett is on the scene.

He met with Dulles to plead for arms and a security pact with the U. S., but Dulles was understood to be planning no decisive reply until after Sharett sees Molotov here in Geneva and asks the Communists to stop supplying the Arab states with arms.

While Sharett was meeting with Dulles in Paris, Israeli officials in Jerusalem reported new attacks on their borders by Egyptian and Syrian forces. A spokesman for the Israeli government called the situation one of the utmost gravity.

And at the United Nations, urgent talks on the Middle East problem are scheduled between Palestine Truce Chief Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns and U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Hammarskjöld is described by informed U. N. sources as increasingly concerned that the Middle East situation may develop into open conflict between Israel and her Arab neighbors.

New Guinea Seeking to Revive Turf Club

PORT MORESBY—A Red Cross race meeting held here in New Guinea on the Queen's Birthday, was so successful that there's a move afoot to revive the Papua Turf Club there.

The Red Cross meeting attracted some 2,000 Europeans and 3,000 natives. Most of the horses were brought in from rubber plantations and many of them looked as if they were due for retirement, experts said, but the races were interesting.

The move to revive the turf club, which held its last meeting 25 years ago, got a lift when it was learned that the club still has money in the bank. Its president is a rubber planter, P. J. McDonald.

Seven U. S. states were never organized as territories.

State Republicans Propose Traffic Safety Program

LANSING (AP)—Six prominent Republican legislators announced a nine-point traffic safety program which they will recommend to the Nov. 1 special legislative session. Their program:

1—An unspecified increase in the state police.

2—A state speed limit of 65 miles an hour on two and three lane highways and on four or more lane highways where posted and the adoption of a 60-mile-an-hour limit at night.

3—Transfer of the central violations and license files from the secretary of state to the state police.

4—Special state police training for local law enforcement officials who issue driver licenses and the use of uniform procedures and standards.

5—The requirement that had drivers go to special drivers training schools to be financed by the state under a committee composed of the state police, local sheriffs and prosecutors.

BACK IN THE AIR — First German-made aircraft since the end of World War II is exhibited at the Fifth Annual German Airport Day at Bremen. Called the "Motor-Raub," it's a glider-type plane powered by a Volkswagen engine. It flies for five hours on five gallons of gas.

Justices of the Peace would be allowed to use probation or suspended sentences to force drivers into the schools.

6—Establishment of an accident research bureau within the state police.

7—A requirement for special examinations for school bus drivers.

8—A study of the possible formation of a Bureau of Motor Vehicles to include the state police, central files, the research bureau, automobile registrations and all other traffic controls and safety functions.

9—Doubling the present $1.00 driver license fee for three years to finance the program.

The program was announced by Sens. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), the Republican caucus chairman; Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), majority floor leader; Speaker of the House Wade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo) and Reps. Andrew Bolt (R-Grand Rapids), speaker pro tem of the House; Allison Green (R-Kingston), Republican floor leader and Thomas J. Whinery (R-Grand Rapids), judiciary committee chairman.

AFL-CIO Merger in 'Final Stage,' Say Union Chiefs

NEW YORK (AP)—Preparations for merging the AFL and the CIO into one big labor organization are practically completed, report labor leaders George Meany and Walter Reuther.

Meany, now president of the AFL, and slated to head the new organization, said its constitution is in the "final stages."

Reuther, president of the CIO, reported "real progress" has been made. The main outlines of the new organization are firmly drawn, he added, and he could foresee "no changes in substance" between now and the joint merger convention here Dec. 5.

DER MAXIE IS 50 — Max Schmeling, ex-heavyweight boxing champion, helps wife, former actress Anny Ondra, bake cake for his 50th birthday on farm near Hamburg, Germany.

Troops Brace in Hint of New Piston Riots

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP)—A National Guard riot squad was on patrol here today as the result of rumors of a possible strike demonstration at the Perfect Circle Corp. foundry.

The 25 guardsmen on duty were all that were left of 1,000 who moved three weeks ago into three cities where Perfect Circle plants are located.

They were called up after eight persons were wounded in an exchange of gunfire between strike sympathizers outside the plant and non-strikers inside.

The CIO United Auto Workers went on strike at the New Castle, Hagerstown and Richmond plants of Perfect Circle in a contract dispute July 25.

Capt. William Scott, acting deputy adjutant general, said the small contingent of troops has enough tear gas and ammunition "to handle anything that might come up."

To Print Poetry Book

IONIA (AP)—The poetry society of Michigan plans to publish a book of poetry on Michigan for the dedication of the Straits of Mackinac Bridge. The society met recently to name new officers. They are: Elizabeth Hurst of Flint, president; Mary McClellan of Lansing, first vice president; Nordica Norum of Flint, secretary-treasurer. Joseph Cherwinski of Lansing continues as editor of the society's publication.

ROME (AP)—A hand grenade hurled early today into the headquarters of the Communist-dominated Italian General Confederation of Labor shattered all windows of the building. One person was slightly injured.

Citizen Throws Brick; Crashes Sheriff's Window

NORWALK, Calif. (AP)—"I feel better now," said William J. Pivar, 39, after throwing a heavy ash-tray through a large plate glass window at the Norwalk sheriff's station.

Deputies who scattered on the floor to avoid spraying glass didn't feel the same way. Pivar was immediately collared and booked on suspicion of malicious mischief. "I just had an urge to break a window," Pivar told Deputy Roy Kuntz.

Gloria Vanderbilt to Act With Frankie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Frank Sinatra says Gloria Vanderbilt will make her movie debut opposite him in a Western.

The picture, "Johnny Concho," will be produced by Sinatra's Kent Productions for a United Artists release. Miss Vanderbilt, estranged wife of Leopold Stokowski, has been linked romantically with Sinatra. She has done stage and television work. Sinatra said she will appear in other films made by his company.

Father of 12 Will Pay Fine in Installments

DETROIT (INS)—A 40-year-old father of 12 children was fined $150 for reckless driving after his automobile crashed into the rear of a Detroit police accident prevention car.

Edwin A. Tank was sentenced by Traffic Judge George T. Murphy, who granted him time to pay the fine on the installment plan.

Railroad Agent Pens New Western Stories

DECATUR, Mich. (U) — Ezra Planck, village councilman and New York Central Railroad agent, likes western stories—to read and write.

His first, "Not for Wages," will appear in a December western magazine.

Planck says he's been writing in his spare time for more than four years, but only recently "started trying hard to make the market." He says writing for publication "frankly, is a tough thing to break into."

Planck, a native of Michigan, gets material for his yarns from his own travels and various sources. He recently returned from a western trip into Montana and Washington.

Can't Park Jaguar?

NEW YORK (INS) — Bunny O'Connell was fined $1,900 in New York traffic court for 3 overtime parking tickets. The 21-year-old platinum blonde said her fiancé was "too kind" and gave her a Jaguar automobile which she couldn't afford to park in a garage.

Husband to Keep Pin-Up Pictures as Rent Payment

LONDON (INS)—Prince Neptune has 500 "cheese-cake" pictures and—despite his wife's objection—he cannot get rid of them.

Neptune, a London boarding house keeper, and his wife went to church recently. On their return they found one of their boarders had decamped.

Instead of paying his bill he left behind the pin-ups.

Neptune went to the police with the pictures under his arm and was told although most of the pin-ups were "near the line," they were not indecent so the police could do nothing.

They told Neptune, however, he could not dispose of them as they were the boarder's property and he must keep them until they were claimed.

He and his wife are unanimous, however, on one thing.

"My wife objects to them," said Mr. Neptune.

"Not the kind of thing I like my husband to have," was his wife's comment.

Barnett's Store Came of Age With City

Sixty Birthdays Have Occurred Since Founding

Increase in Business Matched by Expansion in Family

Horses clippity-clopped down Saginaw street in the fall of 1895. Then they clippity-clopped up Saginaw street.

For even in 1895, there were parking problems.

Pontiac's way of life has changed from that of a bustling little buggy-manufacturing town to an industrial city, in the past 60 years but the parking problem remains steadfast.

And remaining with it is a downtown business institution which has weathered those same 60 years.

It was in 1895 that Joseph H. Barnett, just moved from New York City with his wife and four children, opened a small men's clothing shop on cobble-stoned North Saginaw street.

By 1900, Joe's family had increased to six. To meet the rising needs of his expanding brood, he moved into a larger store across the street.

Business increased, but so did his family. Within the next 12 years, the Barnett family had expanded to 15, counting Joe and his wife, Rachel.

Before long, his four sons, Archie, Sidney, Maurice and Marvin, joined their father in the business. Despite competition, wars and depression, the store continued to grow and thrive.

In 1932, Maurice and Marvin decided the women's apparel business might be more to their liking, and the Barnett's established Peggy's apparel shop.

The next year, Joe Barnett died. But his sons carried on. In 1937, they moved into their present, larger quarters at 19 N. Saginaw St.

Three years ago, the brothers purchased the Bloomfield Fashion Shop on Telegraph road, another women's apparel shop.

Now, Archie, 57, and Sidney, 55, operate the original Barnett's, while Maurice, 47, manages the Bloomfield shop and Marvin, 45, directs Peggy's.

Looking back over the years, Archie commented: "Stores have come and gone, but we're still here."

To what do they attribute their continued success?

"A good, honest policy of merchandising," said Archie.

"An aggressive policy coupled with dependability," added Sidney.

"Maintaining fair prices," said Archie.

"Keeping up with modern ways of doing things," asserted Sidney.

On the same basis, the brothers look forward to many more years of success.

"Too bad it's not our 64th anniversary," chuckled Sidney. "Then we could say we'll try for 123."

MARK 60 YEARS — The four sons of Joseph Barnett, who was a pioneer downtown Pontiac merchant, examine a newspaper ad in conjunction with the clothing firm's 60th anniversary. They are (l-r) Marvin, Archie, Sidney and Maurice. The Barnetts have been consistent users of newspaper advertising in their business ventures.

Geneva Soviets Bring Their Own Vodka Supply

GENEVA (U)—The barman at the Hotel Metropole, headquarters of the Soviet delegation, confesses he has stocked no vodka for the Geneva conference opening today.

"Twice I've filled my shelves with it," said barman Claude, "and twice it's sat there as unwanted as another cold wave in Siberia. I've learned my lesson."

The Russians drink plenty of their national firewater at Geneva conferences—but they don't drink vodka supplied by Swiss bartenders at Swiss prices.

"They bring their own," he said, "by airplane and by the crate loads."

"Do the Russians visit the bar?"

"Oh, yes, but not to drink vodka. They do that in their rooms."

"What do Russians drink at the bar?"

"Scotch and soda. They call it Shetlandsky viski. Shetlandsky for Scotch, and viski for whiskey. Get it?"

As this is Claude's third Geneva conference, he considers himself one of the West's outstanding authorities on Russian drinking habits.

"They're strange," he said. "They'll start out with a cognac, order two or three Shetlandsky viskis and then finish off the evening with a dry Martini."

Revenue Service Examines 'Tax-Free Organizations'

WASHINGTON (U)—The Internal Revenue Service is examining "at least the more controversial" cases among more than 32,000 organizations it lists as tax-free.

This was learned today from an informed source in contact with revenue service headquarters. Revenue service officials and their Treasury superiors said they could not discuss the matter at this time.

However, it was learned tax officials are giving increasing consideration to the question of what yardstick to apply to an organization with possible political interests when it asks for tax-exempt status.

Whether this will result in wholesale review of all past exemptions is not yet decided, according to available information.

Meanwhile, it also was reported that the Justice Department has told the Treasury it should get authority from Congress before carrying out a long-rumored plan to open to public inspection documents filed by organizations to which revenue service grants tax exemption.

The federal government accords tax-free status to religious, educational and charitable organizations. A person familiar with the plan said removing the secrecy curtain from tax exemption applications and tax returns of such organizations would show their aims, backers and details of their finances.

The Internal Revenue Service recently revoked tax-free privileges involving two controversial organizations—the American Institute of Pacific Relations and For America.

The IPR was investigated by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in 1951-1952. Afterward, the Senate group said in a report the IPR had been infiltrated by Communists and that its activities had adversely affected the interests of the United States.

This was denied by officials of the IPR, who describe their organization as a nonpartisan institution for scholarly research and discussion of Far Eastern problems.

The service also recently denied contributors to For America the right to deduct such contributions for income tax purposes. For America describes itself as a non-profit, nonpolitical and non-partisan organization dedicated to alerting public opinion to what it considers dangers to this country.

It is headed by Clarence Manion, former dean of the Notre Dame Law School, and by Gen. Robert E. Wood of Chicago.

For America lists among its purposes work for states rights and "enlightened nationalism" and opposition to communism and "super-internationalism."

Prices received for farm products dropped about five per cent more on the national average this year," he said. "It is feared they may drop as much as another five per cent again next year."

Farm prices will do well to average 80 per cent of parity, compared to about 85 per cent this year, Williams told the group.

The governor said he had taken steps to find out how much better the several state farm agencies could operate if they were fused into a single group.

Meanwhile, he said, farmers "are not to be treated as though they were some kind of inhuman mass, a troublesome sore of some kind on the body politic."

He said they should not be regarded as merely producers of livestock, grain, fruit and potatoes but "great and rugged individuals, the traditional stabilizers of the life we so much have enjoyed."

Peron Rests Nearby

ASUNCION, Paraguay (U)—Argentina's ex-dictator Juan D. Peron says he expects to remain "many months" in Paraguay. He declined to elaborate on his remark made last night to a reporter who visited his home. There have been rumors about Peron seeking residence in other countries.

Williams Wants Parity Increase

Governor Tells Grange
State Farm Purchasing Power Has Dropped

LUDINGTON (U)—Gov. Williams called for 90 per cent parity price supports to help bolster sagging farm income.

In a speech to the Michigan State Grange, Williams said the 90 per cent program should be re-adopted and extended until an "optimum" program can be developed.

Williams also reiterated an earlier suggestion that direct payments be made to farmers on an experimental basis, with special attention to the dairy industry.

He said a report of his farm advisors recommended extension of the state farm marketing program and a national plan under which the government would pay farmers for land removed from production.

Attacking the Eisenhower Administration for suggesting there are "too many farmers," Williams said it is "not in our Michigan philosophy to regard our farmers as pawns on some kind of statewide chessboard, the chessmen of least value who can be sacrificed without compunction."

While Michigan farmers are not reaping the rewards of the current economic boom they are better off than their colleagues in other states, he said.

The farmer in 1950, he said, had an average weekly buying power of $42.10, but by 1954 it had dropped to $39.52.

PRICES DROPPED

"Prices received for farm products dropped about five per cent more on the national average this year," he said. "It is feared they may drop as much as another five per cent again next year."

Farm prices will do well to average 80 per cent of parity, compared to about 85 per cent this year, Williams told the group.

The governor said he had taken steps to find out how much better the several state farm agencies could operate if they were fused into a single group.

Meanwhile, he said, farmers "are not to be treated as though they were some kind of inhuman mass, a troublesome sore of some kind on the body politic."

He said they should not be regarded as merely producers of livestock, grain, fruit and potatoes but "great and rugged individuals, the traditional stabilizers of the life we so much have enjoyed."

Peron Rests Nearby

ASUNCION, Paraguay (U)—Argentina's ex-dictator Juan D. Peron says he expects to remain "many months" in Paraguay. He declined to elaborate on his remark made last night to a reporter who visited his home. There have been rumors about Peron seeking residence in other countries.

Lonardi Discloses 'Gloomy Analysis' of Economic Situation in the Argentine

BUENOS AIRES (U)—A policy of "austerity, work and sacrifice" with no promise of "pie in the sky" was before the Argentine people today as the new government called for a stringent program of economic rebuilding.

Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi said last night Argentina is confronted with the "most disastrous situation in our economic history." He put the blame squarely on ousted President Juan D. Peron, saying the "irresponsible and corrupt" 10-year rule of the fallen dictator had left economic chaos.

HEAVY FOREIGN DEBT

Making a detailed report over a nationwide radio hookup, Lonardi said the nation's gold and dollar reserves totaled $1,680,000 at the end of World War II. Now, he said, Argentina has an internal debt of five billion dollars, a foreign debt of 757 million dollars and reserves are down to 450 million dollars.

Argentina piled up vast reserves during World War II by selling wheat and meat to the Allied powers. When Peron came to power at the end of the war, Argentina was at its highest pinnacle of wealth from wartime profits.

"The system of hiding the truth has ended," Lonardi said. "Ten years of irresponsibility and corruption have led us to the most disastrous situation in our economic history."

GRAVEST ERROR

"I do not come to hand out cajolery nor to promise pie in the sky. I address the nation not to give but to ask efforts of abstinence and sacrifice."

Continuing his gloomy—but expected—economic analysis, the hero of the revolt which overthrew Peron said:

"Argentina no longer is the great exporting nation of before. . . . There are no exports with which to pay for a single machine or single piece of equipment for industry or transportation, but we will take urgent measures to remedy this situation."

If Argentina tightens its belt, he continued, gives the country's farmers and ranchers a new lease on life, fosters a revived private enterprise, beckons foreign aid and slashes a top-heavy bureaucracy, it can march to a new greatness in the family of nations.

Peron's "gravest error," Lonardi asserted, was trying to industrialize the nation at the expense of agricultural production.

The new government head said there are at least 150,000 government employees who are unnecessary.

He accused Peron of negotiating a "tremendous concession" for Argentine oil.

Although he mentioned no names, his statement was an obvious reference to a contract with Standard Oil of California, giving the U.S. firm exclusive operating rights in southern Argentina. Lonardi's government left the contract lapse without final approval.

Lonardi said, "It is not true that Argentines lack the ability to produce oil by their own effort." The nation can double its oil production within a relatively short time, he added.

Detection—First Step in Battle Against Cancer

Microscopic Study of Tissues Spot Offending Cells

TISSUE SAMPLES HOLD ANSWER—Positive recognition of cancer can be made by study under a microscope of tissue samples from organs of the body. Above, Dr. Richard E. Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, displays some tissue cuttings made in cancer tests.

Many cancers can be cured... IF... (and this may be a life-or-death IF). If the condition is discovered early enough. The far-flung fight against one of man's most tragic afflictions moves forward on two broad fronts:

X-RAY INVALUABLE AID—Hidden cancer in the body frequently can be spotted by X-ray photographs. Plate above reveals an obstruction in a large intestine (portion enclosed by brackets). This portion of the intestine in which cancerous cells had caused the block was removed by surgery and the patient has an excellent chance for permanent cure.

1.—Thousands of scientists throughout the world search for the causes of cancer and better ways to halt the fierce growth of human body cells that have become diseased;

2.—And the phase of the battle in which you and everyone can take part: Earliest possible discovery of the disease. Like a raging forest fire, cancer frequently can be put out at the start, when it is small; later, success becomes more difficult.

Dr. Richard E. Olsen, pathologist, and president of the North Oakland County unit of the American Cancer Society, in discussing cancer treatment this week stressed the importance of early discovery, and the part that must be played by the individual and the private physician.

He listed four major steps usually followed in determining whether or not a physical ailment really is caused by cancer. They are:

- 1.—Recognition of any of the major danger signals (see list elsewhere on this page) and prompt report to your physician;
- 2.—X-ray examination for most suspicious symptoms;
- 3.—Biopsy—the removal of a tiny piece of tissue from the suspected area for microscopic examination.
- 4.—Examination by a pathologist of the tissue sample to verify or disprove the presence of cancer.

Encouraging to many who fear cancer is Dr. Olsen's estimate that only about one in three such tests actually reveal cancer; and only about one in 10 who report to their physicians that they recognize possible cancer symptoms are actually referred for the final tests.

Positive determination of cancer must be made by a scientist with specialized training and Dr. Olsen reports that there is a great shortage of pathologists now in practice.

Oakland County has but three: Dr. Olsen, who does his work at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital; Dr. John P. Marra, at Pontiac General Hospital, and Dr. Herman J. Lynn, at Beaumont Hospital.

Two chief methods of detecting cancer are the biopsy, or examination of living tissue; and the Papanicolaou method (named for its developer) of examining slides made from smear samples taken from cancer suspects. Both methods have value, according to Dr. Olsen, but the former is still believed to be the most reliable.

Most important, however, is the fact that trained pathologists are needed for either method and there is an acute shortage of men and women with such specialized training.

One of the many phases of the American Cancer Society's work is the endowment of scholarships for training of additional pathologists.

As the Cancer Society obtains a portion of its operating money from the United Fund, contributions to the Fund help in this program of training needed specialists.

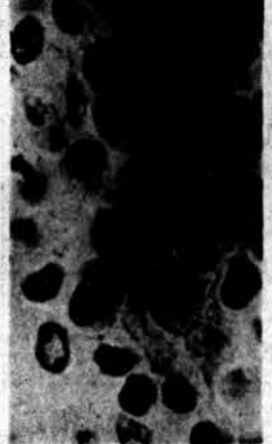

TECHNICIANS HELP—First screening of slides in cancer tests are made by laboratory technicians, but only experienced pathologists or others specially trained in cancer research can make final diagnosis. Above is Mrs. Leandra Brackett, technician in the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital laboratory.

This is only one of the many services offered by the American Cancer Society. The local office, under the directorship of Miss Barbara Amundson, is located at 66 West Lawrence St., Pontiac.

Dr. Olsen points out that a worthwhile career awaits young men and women who wish to become either fully trained pathologists, or laboratory technicians. Many more of both will be needed to win the cancer battle.

Constant improvement in methods of treating known cancer follows new knowledge from research laboratories and medical LEUKEMIA—Cancer appears in many forms. One that attacks the blood is leukemia. Above is a greatly enlarged microscopic view of blood cells of a person suffering from this affliction, enabling the trained pathologist or physician to make positive diagnosis.

7 Danger Signals

- 1.—ANY SORE THAT DOES NOT HEAL
- 2.—A LUMP OR THICKENING IN THE BREAST OR BLADDER
- 3.—UNUSUAL BLEEDING OR DISCHARGE
- 4.—ANY CHANGE IN A WART OR MOLE
- 5.—PERSISTENT INDIGESTION OR DIFFICULTY IN SWALLOWING
- 6.—PERSISTENT HOARSENESS OR COUGH
- 7.—ANY CHANGE IN NORMAL BOWEL HABITS

centers devoted entirely to cancer treatment. But the first big step in the individual's fight against cancer is discovery... early discovery... of its existence.

Jersey Shipbuilders Get Aircraft Contract

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy has announced award of a contract to the New York Shipbuilding Corp., Camden, N. J., to build the fifth Forrestal-class aircraft carrier for $119,841,034.

Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas announced the award and said the price includes cost of preparing working plans.

Invitations were issued to three private shipyards and bids were received from the successful concern and from the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., Newport News, Va.

Thomas said the New York Shipbuilding bid was the lowest "by a substantial margin."

Additional facilities required for the construction job, including a new graving dock, will be provided by the construction firm at no cost to the Navy, he said.

Ike's Recovery Best Gift for 105-Year-Old Woman

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Mrs. Susan Graham, celebrating her 105th birthday anniversary, said her best gift would be to hear that President Eisenhower was "ready to walk out of the hospital, all well and strong again."

Mrs. Graham, believed to be the oldest resident in Philadelphia, is in good health mentally and physically. Her sole complaint is a "prick" in her back which prevents her from doing household chores.

Early Date Requested

ALLEGAN (INS)—A board of supervisors committee has requested an early meeting with Probate Judge Harold Weston to discuss plans for a juvenile detention home. Tentative plans show a family type home, estimated at $45,000, with facilities for six children and resident directors.

Alimony Legal Tax Deduction, Court Decides

NEW YORK (INS)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, overruling a Tax Court decision, has declared that alimony is deductible on income tax returns even if such payments are not required by terms of the divorce.

The court made the ruling in the case of Harold Holt and Margaret K. Holt, of Albany, whose alimony arrangements were contained in a separation agreement reached before their divorce in Florida in January, 1948.

The separation agreement was not written into the divorce but Holt kept up payments anyway.

The court declared it is "immaterial whether the husband and the wife or either of them intend that the agreement shall be 'incident to the divorce.' She must pay the taxes. He is entitled to deduction claims."

Teachers to Meet

KALAMAZOO (INS)—More than 3,500 teachers in a five-county southwestern Michigan area will dismiss classes Oct. 27-28 for the annual Michigan Education Assn. regional conference at Kalamazoo.

Texan Gets Life After Widow Asks Court to Be Kind

HOUSTON, Tex. (INS)—Jimmie Lee Baker was convicted of murdering a minister's wife and sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday after the sister of the dead woman told the court, "Two wrongs never made a right."

Mrs. Clyde Forster asked that Baker be spared from the electric chair.

The slain woman was Mrs. Lucille Quarles, 50, beaten to death in her home Feb. 14.

Witnesses quoted Baker as saying he and a sister, Mrs. Evelyn Watson, had planned to kidnap Mrs. Quarles for money but later decided to rob her. Baker led officers to the spot where he had buried the small loot he obtained.

Both Baker and his sister were charged but only the brother indicted.

The defendant was described by his own attorneys as a moron and by prosecutors as a man of low intelligence.

Mrs. Forster, of Signal Mountain, Tenn., told the court:

"My sister was shown no mercy but two wrongs never made a right. I've faced many tragedies in my life but this was my greatest tragedy."

"As a mother and as a sister who reared this sister of mine who was killed in cold-blooded murder, I ask you to give this man life imprisonment and may God have mercy on his soul."

Three Gunmen Hold Up Gotham Polish Company

Big Decrease Noted in Measles, Mumps

Recent outbreaks of measles and mumps showed a big drop last week, according to reports from city and county health departments.

Measles decreased to seven cases, as against 26 the previous week. Mumps dropped to two, a decrease of 16 over the previous week.

Two cases of polio, one in Birmingham and the other in Southfield Township, were both of the non-paralytic variety.

Following is a breakdown of the reports, released by Dr. John D.

Monroe, city and county health director.

Cubans are expected to consume more than 176,000,000 pounds of lard during 1955, an increase of 5,000,000 pounds over 1954 and 31,000,000 pounds above 1953. Lower prices are encouraging larger domestic sales.

Actress, 17, Forced to Put 10 Pct. of Wages in Bonds

HOLLYWOOD — Natalie Wood, at 17 a veteran of 11 years as a screen actress, walked into Superior Court with her French poodle Fifi yesterday and had her new Warner Bros. contract approved.

The approval order by Judge John Gee Clark calls for compulsory investment of 10 per cent of the actress' earnings in savings bonds. Miss Wood earns $400 a week now and if all option are picked up she will earn $1,750 in seven years.

Pork Program Not Price Aid

Figy Explains Authority for Buying Meat Excess Rests With Secretary

LUDINGTON — Charles Figy, assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, emphasizes that the government's new $85,000,000 pork products purchase program is not a price support program.

Figy, former state director of agriculture, is attending the 82nd annual convention of the Michigan State Grange, meeting at Ludington. He said he is ready to act as a "resource person" for the Grange's committee on agricultural resolutions.

He also said he wished to clear up apparent misunderstandings about the government's new pork buying program, announced last Monday in Washington.

CAN USE FUNDS

"In the pork buying program, the Secretary will be operating under the same authority that enabled him to offer to buy cherries and take bids here in Michigan," he declared.

The Secretary of Agriculture, by law, has the use of certain funds—such as for school lunch and others—to buy stocks of surplus foods for "relieving the market through diversion to channels outside the normal trade," Figy said.

He added these purchases may strengthen the hog market by siphoning off some of the surplus pork and lard. They should not be looked upon as a government attempt to set a price floor under these products as generally established through price support programs conducted by the commodity credit corp., Figy said.

Bob Considine Says:

U. N. Prayer Campaign Recalls Old Story

NEW YORK (INS)—A fine, God-fearing woman who lives in Freeport, N.Y., and heads her letters with "Dorothea Terwilliger—private citizen" is the latest crusader (as far as I know) to attempt to get U.N. sessions started with a prayer.

On the occasion of the 10th anniversary of the global organization, Mrs. Terwilliger commenced a campaign directed at having at least the American delegation show some sign that it represents a country whose coins carry the legend, "In God We Trust."

She feels that if the Americans lead the way, maybe some of the others will have the courage to follow. Nobody, she points out, would think of starting a session of the Senate or the House of Representatives without a prayer.

Religion has been a touchy question around U.N. since the club came into existence. During the San Francisco period of gestation a nice lady with a light in her eye occasionally got past the guards and shouted, "Why don't you mention God?" at such delegates as might be within earshot. She was thrown out on her earshot.

TOO MANY GODS

It was explained at the time that there were so many sects involved, and, indeed, so many Gods and gods presumably worshipped by the member nations that a prayer of any sort, however pious, might offend as many as it comforted or inspired.

It was further explained that the Russians wanted no part of any prayer, so why disturb our brave allies?

Well, in time the Sperry people asked the peace club to move out of its building at Lake Success, N.Y., because the space was needed for building bomb-sights.

All the briefcases, striped pants and throat lozengers were moved to the beautiful new permanent headquarters on our East River, now, not incidentally, the most popular tourist attraction in all the great city.

They took along their differences but none presented more of a problem than the closed-door debate over a room of worship which was to be installed in the headquarters.

The architects and decorators were given a massive problem: The room must reflect a religious air but it could not assume a shape common to houses or rooms of worship, nor could it have stained glass, candles, crosses, stars, crescents, effigies, or legends in Latin, Greek, Hebrew, Arabic. (You should drop in to see the result. It's pure capon . . . but better than none.)

WHAT'S IN A NAME

The name of the room was a problem. Trygve Lie, then secretary general, struggled manfully to find a name that would fit the desymbolized place.

Lie was a man of few words, though he was inclined to repeat them quite frequently at times. He thumbed about his limited English vocabulary and announced quite solemnly that he had found the best name for the room.

"We will call it the Rest Room," he ruled. And it took

High Blood Pressure Medicine Also Helps in Digestive Ailments

CHICAGO (U)—A drug that has been useful in treating high blood pressure, abnormal mental states and some skin diseases is described as an effective treatment for some digestive disorders.

The drug is serasil, an alkaloid derived from rauwolfia serpentina, a snake-like root that grows in India.

Dr. Henry A. Monat, Washington specialist in stomach and intestinal diseases, said he had "gratifying" results with the drug in treating 200 cases of digestive disorders.

In a prepared address to the second annual convention of the American College of Gastroenterology he said that many persons who suffer from mucus colitis, chronic diarrhea or constipation are emotionally disturbed.

It appears, he added, that the drug acts as a sedative, easing nervous tension. This removes what was regarded as one of the causative factors in these digestive upsets.

Comparing the drug with psychiatric treatment for such disorders, he commented:

"In serasil we have an ideal tranquilizer which judiciously and selectively used will relegate horsehair couches to oblivion."

MRS. G. HARTMAN, Washington, D.C., says: "St. Joseph Aspirin For Children is so easy to give. My child likes the orange flavor. I'm sure of accurate dosage."

some persuasion to talk him out of it. It became the Meditation Room. Mrs. Terwilliger urges that all who visit U. N. drop in and make a show of their faith, whatever it is, as well as sign the book.

An old story worries me . . . the story of the immigrants who became rich and powerful and moved in a body out of their old neighborhood, leaving behind an old Negro who had helped to raise them.

When they built their splendid new church he showed up for services and was told firmly to stay away . . . to go back to the old church where he belonged. "You go back there and ask God and He'll tell you we're right," said the spokesman.

The old boy went back and did ask God. God appeared instantly and allowed as how He didn't really know what to say about the old fellow's dilemma.

"I thought You knew everything!" the old man said, astonished.

God shook His head. "No," He said. "I can't tell you whether to go to the new church or stay away. You see I haven't been there yet."

Fijians Adopt Novel Hospital Pay Ruling

FJI ISLANDS—Pas-as-you-enter is the new rule for patients at the Colonial War Memorial Hospital of Suva, Fiji. If no deposit is forthcoming the patient goes to the non-paying general ward. Reason for the change is that the hospital's accommodations are being taxed to the limit and the cost of medical services is soaring. Heretofore, Europeans have been the only ones who had to pay and it is claimed that many well-to-do Indians, as well as Fijians, have "had a free ride at the expense of the public."

Fijians originally gave the land for the hospital and claim they should get free treatment, but Indians, who now outnumber the natives there, say this would be "racial discrimination." The new entrance fees range from $5.50 to $11.

At present yearly consumption of fresh water per person in the United States averages 1,500 tons.

Strobel Denies 'Tie-In' Charge

Buildings Administrator Says He Did Not Accept Job for Private Gain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peter A. Strobel, manager of the government's billion-dollar public buildings operation, has strongly denied to House investigators that his New York engineering consultant firm ever profited from his influential official position.

Strobel was recalled for further testimony tomorrow, however, by a House judiciary subcommittee investigating possible conflict of interest between his public role and his 90 per cent partnership in the firm of Strobel & Salzman.

The subcommittee also summoned Joseph B. Moody, counsel for the Public Buildings Service which Strobel heads as $14,800-a-year commissioner in General Services Administration, the government's housekeeping agency.

NO PRIVATE GAIN

The Public Buildings Service directs all federal building management activities and does such things as selecting architects and contractors for new buildings, negotiating contracts for government lease-purchase of privately built buildings, and supervising federal real estate.

Strobel told the subcommittee yesterday he "did not come to Washington for private gain," and that he severed his management connections with his firm when he was appointed public buildings commissioner in July 1954.

He also said he never made any secret that he retained a 90 per cent profit interest in his firm, which he declared "is about all I have."

He said he had cleared that arrangement with Edmund F. Mansure, GSA administrator.

Oil Well Blows Out Near End of Drilling

KAPLAN, La. (AP) — An oil well drilled to 11,188 feet blew out yesterday, burst into flames and created a hazard to a nearby large tank filled with butane gas. The well, about 10 miles southeast of here, was near completion; only a few hours of work remained. Drillers said tests indicated it had a large showing of oil. The derrick and other equipment were destroyed by the blaze. Fire-fighting experts were called to put out the fire.

Ford to Expand Near Ypsilanti

New Plant Will Close Milford Unit; Workers to Be Transferred

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. announced today plans for construction of a parts manufacturing plant near Ypsilanti.

The new plant, containing 600,000 square feet, will be known as the Rawsonville plant. It will occupy a 90-acre site at Textile and McKean roads in Ypsilanti Township.

John S. French, general manager of the Parts and Manufacturing Division, said the plant will be completed by the summer of 1957.

French said production will be halted at the Milford and Manchester plants and their activities will be transferred to Rawsonville.

The 850 employees of the Milford and Manchester plants will be transferred if they so desire, French said.

The Rawsonville plant will employ 1,500 persons by Mid-1957 and by the end of 1958 that number will be increased to 3,000.

Americans are now spending about eight billion dollars a year on advertising.

Auto Union to Spend Funds for Primary

DETROIT (AP) — Officers of the big CIO United Auto Workers Ford local 600 have been authorized to spend union money in the 15th district special primary election Nov. 8.

The local has asked its members to support John D. Dingell Jr., a Detroit Democrat.

The local's executive council, it was disclosed yesterday, authorized political expenditures by the union despite pending federal prosecution of the UAW International Union.

A government indictment accuses the UAW of spending money in political campaigns in violation of Federal Corrupt Practices Act. No trial date has been set.

The UAW has defended what it says is its right to make political expenditures.

2 Russian Airliners Land in Indian Capital

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Two Russian airliners have landed in India's capital on an unannounced trail blazing flight from the Soviet Union.

The planes, which are a modification of the twin-engine Russian Ilyushin 14 and similar to the U.S. Convair transport, arrived two days ago after a 900-mile nonstop flight from Tashkent in southern Russia.

It is understood the flight was made to survey a proposed Russia-India air route linking New Delhi with Moscow.

Alvin Bentley Visits Republicans of Area

U.S. Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Owosso), who has been mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for governor next year, was in Pontiac yesterday.

Auditors Reveal Tax Breakdown

$6,097,242 Is Expected From 4.37 Mill Rate to Support Agencies

The Oakland County Board of Auditors has prepared a breakdown of how 1935 county tax dollars will be used to support next year's governmental operations.

The 4.37 mill tax rate this year—$4.37 per $1,000 of property valuation—will bring in $6,097,242.

Percentage-wise, this will be split up among various agencies and services in the following way:

Institutional health and welfare, 32.10 per cent; health and welfare services not requiring use of an institution, 13; law enforcement and correction, 8.62; court services, 8.57; education and recreation, 7.40; legislative and administrative services, 6.46 and health conservation, 6.43.

Percentages other classifications will receive include, operation of county buildings, 5.78; employees' benefits, 3.70; public works, 3.14; capital improvements, 2.26; veterans' affairs 1.10 and miscellaneous, 1.37.

Atomic Plant Soldiers Told to Shoot Intruders

CAMP HANFORD, Wash. (U.S.)—Orders of "shoot to kill" have been issued to soldiers guarding the Hanford Atomic Works from an elusive enemy that has been nibbling at the roots of the super-secret installation.

One man in each battery of the anti-aircraft group was issued a .22 caliber rifle and told to keep shooting until the enemy is destroyed.

The highly mobile intruder is the hungry jackrabbit—in fact, hundreds of jackrabbits. The bunnies have nibbled the posts 100,000 rose bushes down to 10,000 and chewed away most of Hanford's grass and shrubs.

Judge Watts Returning to Bench Next Tuesday

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit Traffic Judge John D. Watts is reported planning to return to work next Tuesday.

The judge, who underwent two operations and was hospitalized for approximately six weeks this summer, will resume a partial case load.

Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman will start hearing some traffic cases starting Tuesday in order to keep the traffic court docket up to date. He will replace Recorder's Judge John F. Scallen who has been sitting in Traffic Court the past two months.

All Except the Captain

ST. LOUIS (U.S.)—Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.) says a recent plea he received from a young Army man "was a new twist" for such cases.

"He said he liked everyone in his company," the senator said. "He liked Army life. Everything was wonderful except for one thing—his captain."

Did he want to be transferred? Not this one.

"The boy suggested that perhaps I could get the captain a new duty station," Hennings said.

been in the department for 13 years, and has been fire marshal for two years. DeWitt Clinton, 40, a member of the force for 18 years, is now captain at No. 2 station, and Homer Young, 42, (right) with 13 years experience, has been promoted to lieutenant.

British Editors Replacing Meg With Pot, Pan News

LONDON (U.S.)—Money ousted Cupid from the spotlight in Britain today.

Instead, the newspapers went in for such headlines as "Butler Raids the Kitchen."

R. A. Butler, chancellor of the exchequer, yesterday hiked by 20 per cent the retail tax on everything from pots and pans to toothpaste and automobiles.

What's a royal heart pang compared with the sharp ache in your personal pocketbook?

The editors plainly were happy to have something to talk about other than the royal romance, in which there were few developments visible to the naked eye.

These were limited to:

1. The 25-year-old princess, along with the rest of the royal family, was a dinner guest at the residence of the Portuguese ambassador. She left half an hour after midnight, smiling.

2. Townsend, the 40-year-old RAF group captain whose divorce is the obstacle, in the eyes of the Church of England, to a wedding.

3. Buckingham Palace disclosed, in response to an inquiry, that Margaret will pass up the annual royal film performance next Monday night. It will be the first time in nine years she has missed it. No reason was given.

4. The first joke about the romance was cracked on a program of the state-sponsored British Broadcasting Corp.

Comedian Bill Kerr, pretending to read a newspaper bulletin, said, "Britain facing another crisis—they had tea together again today."

No Free Passes Today

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (U.S.)—The gal in the ticket cage at the Rialto Theater called the cops. She said a young ruffian had threatened her with a knife and called her names when she wouldn't give him free admission. Patrolman Arlie Robinson said the six-year-old offender would be turned over to juvenile authorities.

AF Completes Wedding March

Rescues 2 Couples and 2 Others Marooned on Alaska Beach

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (U.S.)—The Air Force finished the 100-mile wedding "march" of two Bethel couples yesterday, rescuing them and two other persons from the stormy beach upon which they have been marooned for a week. The two couples were identified in meager dispatches from Bethel, 450 miles west of here, as Owen Beaver, David O. David, Patti Snow and Marguerite Strauss. They started out Oct. 19 in boats for Kwillingok, a village 100 miles upstream from Bethel at the mouth of the Kuskokwim River, to be married.

Sixty miles northwest of Bethel, wind-whipped snow and rain forced them ashore on the ice-locked rivermouth bank. Two other persons also were forced ashore at the same point and it is believed they were in the wedding party. Since going on the beach, the six have huddled about fires built from an ample stock of driftwood. Food and sleeping bags were dropped to them but the rescue had to await repair of a disabled helicopter which finally reached them on the eighth day.

Named Youngest at 39

CHICAGO (U.S.)—Robert Sargent Shriver, 39, is the new president of the Chicago Board of Education, the second youngest man ever to head the nation's second largest school system. The youngest was the late H. Wallace Caldwell, who was 32 when he held the post in 1928.

Japanese Families Favor Birth Control

TOKYO (U.S.)—Birth control programs in three Japanese test villages have reduced birth rates there by 50 per cent and have proved that Japanese families want planned parenthood, a Japanese doctor said today.

Dr. Yoshio Koya told the fifth International Conference on Planned Parenthood that results of the five-year test indicate all-out government support of birth control programs will solve Asia's overpopulation problem.

Firehouse Visitor Joins Ranks, His House Burning

UNION, S.C. (U.S.)—Magistrate J. Lee Gregory was watching television at the fire station when an alarm came in.

"I'll just sit here and answer the phone until you fellows get back," said the judge to the departing firemen.

"You'd better get on this truck. It's your house," yelled the driver. Firemen found a badly burned roast in the judge's oven and a badly scorched pot of beans on the stove.

Named Fund Custodian

BELLAIRE (U.S.)—Richard Redfern has been appointed custodian of the Chain-of-Lakes River Fund, a civic project for clearing a pleasure boat waterway in lower Antrim County from US 31 at Elk Rapids to Warner Bridge at Bellaire. The $10,000 project—with $4,000 pledged—already has started. The work will clear sections of the Elk River, the Narrows, Torch River, Clam River, Grass River and Intermediate River. It is scheduled for completion next June.

Length of the U. S. Mexican boundary is 2,013 miles.

Greek Lecturer Predicts Withdrawal From NATO

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (INS)—Greek lecturer Andre Michalopoulos said today his country does not want to pull out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization but "may have to."

The writer and scholar said in Montgomery that the Greek people are "disillusioned and angry" over Turkish violence against the Greeks last month. He said:

"The friendship we thought existed between the two countries was destroyed by the Turkish savagery."

Eighty of the 85 Greek churches in Turkey were destroyed by demonstrations that broke out on Sept. 6, about 4,000 Greek shops were smashed and looted and 2,000 Greek homes were raided. Greek tombs were rifled and the remains of the dead strewn about. Michalopoulos said:

WE DON'T WANT TO

"We feel that NATO should be preserved, but for the moment the Greeks have withdrawn their forces from NATO exercises. We don't want to withdraw from NATO, but we may have to."

"No Greek government can stand unless it demands material and moral restitution from the Turks."

The material restitution would involve payment for the estimated $300 million dollars damage to Greek property during the wave of violence. Moral restitution, the lecturer said, would involve a Turkish delegation saluting the Greek flag at NATO headquarters at Izmir (Smyrna).

Michalopoulos said the Turkish prime minister's expressions of regret are not enough, adding, "It must be a spectacular act of apology."

He said Greece believes the British put the Turks up to the demonstrations without realizing they would turn into violence. The demonstrations began the same day as did a conference on the fate of the island of Cyprus.

Greece wants a referendum of the people of that island to permit them to decide whether to unite with Greece. The British oppose that. Michalopoulos said the Greeks wanted a private conference with the British over the problem, but "suddenly we found the Turks there." He said:

"I think the British invited them there to quarrel with the Greeks in order to emerge from the position of 'defendants' to that of 'arbiters.' That is a sly trick."

Student Riot on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (INS)—British troops and police wielding batons and hurling tear gas eventually suppressed an anti-British riot yesterday by 500 students in Famagusta.

The students were campaigning for union of the British crown colony of Cyprus with Greece.

Latin Countries' Need to Develop Oil Fields

BOGOTA, Colombia—Twenty Latin American republics must spend an estimated total of four and a quarter billion dollars to develop their known petroleum resources in the next 10 years.

This was the finding, announced at a meeting in Bogota, Colombia, by the U. N. Economic Commission for Latin America. The U. N. survey showed that Argentina and Mexico must spend a billion dollars each and Argentina $1.6 billion, with lesser sums necessary for other oil producing nations such as Cuba, Peru, Bolivia, Ecuador and Venezuela.

With rapid industrialization now under way, the demand for oil is growing faster than the Latin American economies themselves, the commission pointed out. Brazil must increase production 100 times in 10 years to meet demands.

Reading Tests Show Italics Slow Reader

CHICAGO—Readability tests show that italic type is 2.7 per cent more difficult to read than Roman type, capital letters are 11.8 per cent harder to read than lower-case letters, and bold-face and regular type can be read with practically the same speed, but most persons prefer regular.

From 10-point to 12-point type is best; below and above this range, reading speed is retarded.

Won't Review Trial

PANAMA—The Supreme Court by a 4-1 decision ruled last night it lacks jurisdiction to review the trial of ex-President

Jose Ramon Guizado, serving six years and eight months on charges of being an accessory to the assassination of President Jose Antonio Remon.

Sen. Kilgore Stricken

MADRID (INS)—Sen. Harley M. Kilgore (D-W. Va.), was stricken yesterday with a "severe attack of pleurisy" and was taken to the American Military Hospital on the outskirts of Madrid. Kilgore has been touring Europe and the Near East for six weeks.

The American Bowling Congress recognizes the 826 three-game series rolled by Ted Scudder of Milwaukee as the highest for the 1954-55 season.

Rooster Fights Alert Busy Irish Policemen

DUBLIN, Eire — Police have been alerted by a flurry of recent rumors of pre-dawn cock-fights, some of which over 2,000 Irishmen are said to have attended and thousands of dollars in bets changed hands.

The secrecy and odd hours are due to the fact that cock-fighting is illegal. Breeding of fighting cocks is not against the law, however, and they are being raised in seven counties of Eire and three of Northern Ireland.

The birds' diet includes whiskey, eggs, rice and oats and the big event of the year is the north-versus-south contest held secretly each summer.

Attention Badge No. 49

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — If somebody flashes Jacksonville Police badge No. 49 at you, call a cop. The badge was stolen from Patrolman Solomon Weston's car while it was parked in front of his home.

Feminine Wear Displays Shock Indian Women

NEW DELHI, India — Indian women shrink from having articles of feminine apparel displayed in show windows and a women's organization here, the Adarsh Mahila Sabha, is taking action to stop it.

Groups of women are visiting stores appealing to businessmen "not to disgrace their womenfolk by such cheap methods." A resolution adopted at a recent meeting of the organization also demands that steps be taken to stop the advertisement of commercial articles featuring women.

Insurance Benefits Up

NEW YORK — During the first half of 1955 the nation's life-insurance companies paid out $84,405,000 in accident and sickness insurance benefits — nearly 20 per cent above the total paid out for such claims in the like period of 1954.

Device Keeps Auto's Speed Rate Constant

GOWANDA, N.Y. — A device for passenger cars that permits a driver to set his speed and maintain it on the highway without keeping his foot on the accelerator has been developed by a Gowanda company.

The device works by pushing a button on the dashboard when the car is traveling at the desired speed, taking the foot off the gas pedal, and releasing the button. The control can be disengaged by a slight pressure on the accelerator pedal or by tapping the horn rim, the company says.

14,000 GIs Enrolled

WASHINGTON — Nearly 14,000 soldiers are taking advantage of the Army's information and education program to complete their grammar-school education. Some 87,000 GIs are taking high-school courses and another 60,000 are enrolled in college and postgraduate programs.

Argentine Government Studies Social Action Agency

BUENOS AIRES (U)—Argentina's new leaders face a 178-million-dollar question—what to do with the huge foundation through which Juan and Eva Peron funneled well-publicized help to the poor.

The semi-official Eva Peron Foundation, rooted in "Peronism," grew to vast proportions. It is now virtually an institution in this nation.

The provisional government quickly gave the foundation a new name, the National Institute of Social Action, and put it under the direction of a retired vice admiral, Walter Von Rentzell.

Beyond that, the foundation's future—and it's still the Eva Peron Foundation to thousands—is a question mark.

FORCED DONATIONS

Mrs. Peron created it in 1948.
Fed by forced contributions from every worker, the organization flourished. Right now, says Von Rentzell, its assets total 2½ billion pesos ($178,571,428) and it has 18, 000 employees.

Argentina's "descamisados"
(shirtless ones) worshiped Eva Peron, and one reason was that she doled out millions of pesos through her foundation. Congress gave her power to handle its activities without having to account for income or expenses.

The agency did not confine itself to helping the destitute who came asking succor. It acquired and began operating hotels, hospitals, grocery stores and even summer resorts—all ostensibly for the benefit of laboring classes.
It set up nurseries for working mothers. It turned a downtown Buenos Aires building into a swanky furnished home for working girls.

PERON GOT CREDIT

The idea was to offer these services at cut-rate prices to people who otherwise could not afford them. Although millions of pesos poured in by the nation's citizens financed these services, propada made it appear the Perons out-of the goodness of their hearts were doing all these things for their people.

Every worker had to give two day's pay a year to the foundation.
In addition, it received untold millions in contributions from labor unions and business firms. Government taxes on race tracks and Mar del Plata's gambling casino also fed its coffers.

After Eva Peron died in 1952, her husband, aided by an eight-member board representing the General Confederation of Labor and the Labor Ministry, took over the agency.

Today Von Rentzell says its traditional activities are going right on—such as helping out in the port town of Ensenada, damaged by fighting in September's revolt.

"But at the present time we cannot talk of the future," the admiral declares.

The Lonardi government has ended the required workers' contributions.

Has Von Rentzell uncovered evidence of graft in the organization?
"We are investigating and gathering information of this subject," he says.

PLANNED SCHOOL.—This eight-classroom, two-kindergarten elementary school is planned for construction on Walton Boulevard in Pontiac Township by the Pontiac Board of Education. Estimated cost is $429,980, excluding equipment and price of the ten-acre site. Bids will be taken in January and the building is expected to be ready for use by September next year. It will include a multi-purpose room and be of brick and block construction. Architects are Schley and Ward, of

Public Favors Speed Limits

Poll in Genesee County
Endorses Restrictions on Drivers and Autos

LANSING (U)—Sec. of State
James M. Hare said that a sampling of public opinion showed that 83 per cent of motorists favored a maximum speed limit.

Hare reported on a poll taken of approximately 1,000 names in the Genesee County area from the drivers license files. He said 26 per cent of the persons queried returned their questionnaires.

Of those favoring a speed limit,
Hare said, 83 per cent endorsed a 65 mile per hour daytime and 55 mile per hour nighttime limit.
Sixty-nine per cent favored a 60-60 mile limit and 43 per cent favored a 70-60 mile limit.

The results of other questions:
Ninety-three per cent favored compulsory inspection of motor vehicles.

STOP BAD DRIVERS

Seventy-two per cent favored a state system of license examiners.

Ninety-one per cent favored an expansion of the central violations file to stop bad drivers.

Ninety-six per cent favored driver training in high schools, with 65 per cent of those favoring state financing and supervision of the courses.

Eighty-eight per cent favored the employment of 200 more state troopers, 63 per cent state purchases of radar equipment to catch speeders and 91 per cent continued use of the National Guard for holiday weekend traffic control.

DRUNK TESTS
Eighty-four per cent favored legalization of compulsory chemical tests for drunkenness.

Seventy-six per cent endorsed a ban on highway advertising signs which confuse drivers and 94 per cent a law regulating roadside businesses.

Eighty-five per cent approved expansion of the State Safety Commission.

Hare said that 94 per cent answered "yes" to a question asking whether they would be willing to pay about 75 cents a year in additional taxes to support the highway safety program Gov. Williams will present to the Legislature
Nov. 1.

stitute of Local Government said today it will hold its ninth conference for township officers at Ferris Institute in Big Rapids Nov. 3.

The conference will be attended by supervisors, township clerks, township treasurers and trustees from Oceana, Newaygo, Mecosta,

Grand Rapids Woman Killed in Auto Mishap

BIG RAPIDS (U)—Mrs. Rita Halstedt, 24, of Grand Rapids, was killed early today in an auto accident three miles north of Big Rapids on U. S. 131.

Her mother, Mrs. Edith Van Buskirk, 57, of Jennings, was injured critically.

They were passengers in a car driven by Mrs. Halstedt's husband,

road and struck a concrete abutment. Halstedt was injured, but not seriously.

Mrs. Van Buskirk had been involved in an accident in another car last evening near Reed City but had escaped injury.

A new bicycle comes equipped with a radio that can bring in stations 100 miles away. The radio is resistant to shock and rain. The bike has a gearshift and white-sidewall tires.

Policyholders Ordered to Pay Debts of Company

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—More than 15,000 people who bought policies from an insurance firm which went broke have been ordered to help pay off the $485,148 of debts.

Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts ordered the assessments against former policy holders of Pioneer Western Mutual Insurance Co.,

Japanese Girl, 12, Possible A-Victim

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—A 12-year-old girl who as a baby was only a mile from the center of the Hiroshima atom bomb blast died yesterday of lymphatic leukemia which a U. S. doctor said may have been "a late effect of radiation."

Really, He Doesn't Mean It — It Was Just Coincidence

CHICAGO (INS)—It wasn't a black cat, but it sure brought animal lover Walter Swigart of Chicago a mess of bad luck.

Swigart's tale of woe began when he found a gray and brown spotted kitten on his doorstep and decided to keep it until he could find time to take it to an animal shelter.

Then Swigart's wife phoned him at his print shop to tell him the cat had accidentally hanged itself by wedging its head between the garage wall and an overhead door track.

Unfortunately the printer left his press running while he talked to his wife and her story was interrupted by a bang and a clatter.

A stack of paper had fallen into the press. It was flung about like autumn leaves while the ink rollers shot out of the machine in all directions.

CLEANED UP MESS
Swigart cleaned up the mess and went home to bury the cat.

During the after-dark interment, his spade struck and smashed a portable electric lamp.

He next got a hand lantern to finish the job, but that fell off a ledge and broke.

When the animal was finally placed in its last resting place, Swigart returned the spade to the basement and found the cat-picked bones of several of his pet angel fish strewn beside his aquarium.

Complaints are pouring in to the management, but despite that, the rarely performed play is proving the season's biggest boxoffice winner.

Sir Laurence Olivier and his wife Vivien Leigh play the leads. At one point, Olivier, as Titus, a Roman general, appears to cut off his hand to secure his son's release from captivity. A realistic crunching of bones off stage brings moans from the audience.

EATS A PIE

At another point in the play, Maxime Audley, as Tamora, eats a pie in which the bodies of her two sons have been cooked. Miss Leigh, as Lavinia, Titus' daughter, has her tongue sliced out and her hands chopped off — all off stage, however. She says it's a most pleasant part, giving her lots of time on stage to think what she will do since she can't talk.

In the end, Titus, Lavinia and another player are killed in succession.

Extra ambulance men have been called in to deal with the fainting cases and the theater bar reports record business.

"On stage, we often hear moans from the audience," Olivier said. Theater lore says Shakespeare wrote the play — about the revenge of a Roman general for atrocities committed against his family — after a particularly unhappy love affair.

Dr. Robert Holmes, director of the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission, said records showed that Teiko Sasaki "was exposed at a distance of 1,635 meters (1,793 yards) and was shielded (from radiation effects of the bomb) only by a wooden frame building."

1942 Deserter Caught

FORT KNOX, Ky. (AP)—After 13 years, the Army finally caught up with 40-year-old Ted D. Jackson, father of seven children. Military police picked up Jackson, a used car lot mechanic, at this Louisville home Monday night. He had been carried on Army records as a deserter since Feb. 23, 1942. "I'm glad it's over," police quoted Jackson as saying.

Per capita consumption of tea, coffee, and cocoa has risen 23 per cent since the late 1920's.

'Money From Heaven' Builds School

FORT WORTH, Tex. (NEA)—Zilda Silva, a 100-pound, five-foot human dynamo from Mantena, Minas Gerais, Brazil, is imbued with the kind of faith that moves mountains, and also men.

She's parlayed one of Uncle Sam's copper pennies into a year's education for 16 young Brazilians, and has built a school and dispensary in the little town of Mantena, 100 miles from the nearest railroad.

The fantastic events in the life of this miniature Brazilian began at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1947. One day as she stood in line at the school's cafeteria, a friend, Charles Jones, tapped her on the shoulder and asked, "Zilda, when is your birthday?"

Zilda looked around at him with her grayish-brown eyes sparkling and a wide smile on her face, and replied, "Why, just any day you want to give me something."

Charles selected a penny from his change and presented it to her. "Here," he said, "now you can never say I didn't give you a present on your birthday."

THIS LITTLE PENNY
Zilda took the coin and a thoughtful, far-away look came into her eyes as she examined the little piece of money. "You know what, Charles," she said after a moment, "this penny is going to send some Brazilian youngster to school."

She turned happily to other students in the line and, holding out her hand, said, "This little penny is crying out for other pennies to join him so he can send one of my young countrymen to school." Seconds later, Zilda held 15 pennies in her hand, and she was jumping with excitement.

The word about the penny spread.

By 1949, when Zilda returned home, it had grown to $1,600. With the money she provided educational opportunities for 16 young people in her native land for one year.

Before she left for her homeland, Zilda had prayed for word of where she would serve.

"It wasn't long after this prayer," Zilda recalled later, "that God revealed to me the plan for educational and social work. He wanted me to execute. I didn't choose the place—He pointed it out to me very clearly. He led me to Mantena, a small town of 4,000 people in the interior of the state of Minas Gerais."

80 ENROLLED

She arrived in the little back-country town without financial backing or money. She needed a house for the school and dispensary, and a place to live. One of the town's bankers financed the down payment, and, a month after her arrival, in March, 1950, she opened her school.

During the first year, 80 students were enrolled, and three girls from nearby towns had been called in to teach. By the end of 1953 there were 100 pupils in the school, and there would have been more except for the intervention of some secular and religious leaders of the town.

Running out of room, Zilda decided to construct a new building to care for the primary grades. She had no money, but she started construction anyway. Each week when it came time to pay the workers, she went to her banker friends and other sympathizers and she always met her payroll. Half through, a storm demolished the walls.

"My adversaries," says Zilda, "back in Fort Worth for a visit, 'they laughed and they shouted: 'Now she has lost everything; now she will quit and go away.' But I explained to my people that we had lost nothing because we had spent nothing. The loss was a blessing from God because none of the children were in the building, and no one was hurt. You watch; we shall build a bigger and better building."

TOO SMALL NOW

Out of the rubble there rose not only a building to care for the primary grades, but one almost large enough to provide facilities for the enrollment through the high school level.

Completed in December, 1954, and built to care for 100 students, the building is now too small for the 300 pupils enrolled.

"At the moment we need three things," Zilda says. "Money to build another building on a piece of land the school has acquired, $350 a month to pay the salaries of teachers we must have, and $1,000 to pay off the building just completed."

But the little lady with the Eddie Cantor eyes isn't worried about the money. "God sent me to Mantena," she declares. "He caused a little copper penny to grow into thousands of dollars to provide what we now have, so why should I worry?"

THEY SAY IT'S REAL—This painting of "Madonna and Child," purchased last year in a New York antique shop for $450, has been identified by experts in Europe as a one-million-dollar Leonardo da Vinci original. It was bought by Hanns R. Teichert, an art dealer. Dr. Maurice H. Goldblatt, art director of the University of Notre Dame, told of the experts' decision after he personally took the painting to Europe. The painting is shown here in Chicago with Teichert's daughter, Gloria.

Probate Court Approves College Assistance Will

OTTAWA, Ill. (U)—Probate Judge Walter Dixon yesterday upheld a Rockford woman's will leaving $16,000 to Rockford College to be used for books reflecting "the American way of life" before the Franklin D. Roosevelt era.

The bequest and stipulation, were contained in the will disposing of the $64,000 estate of Mrs. Mabel H. Herrick, who died March 20, 1954.

World Meat Trade Up

WASHINGTON — The Agricultural Department reports that international trade in meat exceeded five billion pounds on a carcass-weight basis in 1954 compared with 4.6 billion pounds in 1953, 4.1 billion in 1952, and a 1946-50 average of 4.5 billion. Exports were made by 44 countries. About 70 per cent of the meat exports came from Denmark, Argentina, New Zealand, and Australia, ranking in that order.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

HALLOWEEN—1

If you go out on Halloween all dressed up in funny clothes, you may be sure you're doing just as your ancestors did hundreds of years ago. When the Romans conquered England they took along the Festival of Pomona, goddess of fruits and trees. Little Roman boys and girls bobbed for apples and counted the seeds to learn their fortunes.

In Christian times the first of November was "All Hallows," a religious festival. The night before was Hallow Evening or Halloween, a night for ghosts and goblins. Everybody was busy trying to keep the bad spirits away.

For your little Romans bobbing for apples, paste this page down on cereal box cardboard. It shows Quintus, holding his apples, and Tullia about to bob for hers.

Color with crayons. The big water container is copper. The young Romans wear light colored tunics and brown leather sandals.

Cut out the parts carefully. Cut the slit in the water. Join the two parts of Tullia at her waist with a brass fastener or a bent pin, as shown in the diagram. Then Tullia will bend over and dip her face in the water.

TOMORROW: Old legends

Tourists Invading Privacy of Coptic Recluse Monks

CAIRO (P)—Tourists are disturbing the solitude of monasteries where the Christian monastic movement began in the fourth century.

The government Bureau of Tourism has published a "map of Christian Egypt" showing all monasteries and Christian sites in the country. This is a new thing here. In the past, emphasis was on ancient Egyptian sites (pyramids, solar boat, Sphinx), Moslem sites (mosques, Al Azhar University), or relics of the reign of King Farouk.

Now the tourist department reports with pride that the Christian monastic movement began in Egypt. It invites tourists to monasteries dating back 1,700 years.

MONKS WELCOME ALL

Most monks welcome tourist visits but hermit monks object.

"What's the use of trying to be a hermit, if all these tourists come out here?" growls Abdul Messih, who lives alone in a limestone cave.

Abdul Messih walked 3,000 miles down the Nile Valley from his native Ethiopia to begin life far from contact with any other human being. Once a week he walks six miles to Deir el Baramous, the nearest monastery, rings a bell and places a few straw mats in a basket lowered from the wall. These mats, which he has made during the week, pay for food given him by the monastery.

Abdul Messih and a few others are the last of the Christian hermit tradition. Most Egyptian monks long ago adopted the practice of living with other monks in monasteries. Four of the oldest monasteries are spread over the desert of Wadi Natrun between Cairo and Alexandria. In the fourth century they were far off the beaten path. Today, good roads bring the mud-walled monasteries within a couple of hours of tourists.

Monks of the Coptic monasteries generally rise at 3 a.m. to pray together till 10. The rest of the day is filled with work and study, including copying of ancient manuscripts by hand. The monks still use the Coptic language inherited from ancient Egyptians; most modern Egyptians speak Arabic.

About 46 per cent of the total U. S. wheat crop is milled into flour. Some is lost in milling, some is exported, and some used for feed purposes.

Sheriff in Texas Enforces Ban on Barroom Pianos

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—The tinkling of a piano in a Texas tavern may be just the thing for a western movie, but Sheriff Weldon Bailey doesn't allow any piano playing around here. In taverns, that is.

He says piano music attracts dope addicts and other undesirable.

Bailey, a rangy six-footer with sandy hair and a springy step, admits there's no law against piano playing in a tavern.

That may account for the fact some taverns were slow to respond when the sheriff passed along the word recently that there were to be no more pianos.

One beer hall operator complained to the sheriff's department that he had no place to put his piano. He just thought he would leave it in his place of business. After all, there was no law against it.

Hearing this, Bailey sent around a couple of deputies about his size. "One of them," the tavern operator related, "told me that if I wanted to keep the piano they would send over a deputy with two big pistols to watch it for me."

The tavern keeper, figuring a big deputy with two big pistols would discourage business, took out his piano.

use of live music in Wichita Falls use a live music in Wichita Falls taverns," said Bailey. "In the past, when some of these places did have live music, we had to take dope addicts right off the piano stool."

One tavern, popular with men from Sheppard Air Force Base here, still had its piano tinkling away last night. But the owner was uneasy. His customers were, too.

Eleven deputies visited this tavern last Saturday. The manager complained his "customers were kept uneasy by officers demanding to see identification cards and by officers shining flashlights around."

Asked about this, Bailey said he was sure sorry but "most of these places are so dark you have to use a flashlight to see an identification card."

He indicated his men will be back, with their flashlights.

Vote of Confidence?

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—The employees at a department store here worked like beavers and piled up a sales record that won a 10-day trip to Bermuda for Manager J. B. Hickman. Relatively simple, said Hickman. He just told the employees they could get rid of him for 10 days by winning the contest.

Pie Captures Halloween Spirit

Pumpkin Face Cut Into Crust

Apple, Raisin, Coconut Blended Together for Luscious Filling

Desserts can be fun to look at as well as good to eat. Like this grinning pumpkin face. It's made like a huge tart, stuffed with a delicious apple, raisin and coconut mixture, then baked on a cookie sheet.

An easy to make dessert, it gets right into the spirit of Halloween. Serve it with little cheese pumpkins made by rolling soft cheddar cheese into a ball, scoring for the pumpkin lines and using a clove for the stem.

Make the flaky pastry first. Here's a recipe that never fails even in unpracticed hands.

Flaky Pastry

2 1/4 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup vegetable shortening
5 tablespoons water

Start heating oven to 425 degrees. In bowl, mix flour and salt. With pastry blender or two knives, cut in shortening until pieces are size of small peas. Mix one-third cup of this mixture with water. Add to remaining shortening-flour mixture.

Mix and shape dough into ball; divide into two parts and roll into two 12-inch circles. Cut the circles free hand, or invert a 12-inch plate over the pastry and cut around it. Place one circle on cookie sheet.

Filling

2 cups finely diced pared apples
1 cup snipped shredded coconut

1/4 cup light or dark raisins
1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
1/2 cup granulated sugar
Grated rind and juice of 1 lemon
1 egg
2 tablespoons shortening
Light cream

Combine apples, coconut, raisins, sugars, lemon rind and juice. With fork, beat egg; beat in shortening; stir into apple mixture. Spread pastry circle on cookie sheet with apple mixture, keeping it away from pan edges.

Lay other pastry circle on top. Seal two edges together, then press with fork.

Make pumpkin face, cutting out two rounds for eyes, triangle for nose, and half moon for mouth. Brush with cream. Bake 45 minutes or until golden.

Add Vanilla to Cake

Next time you make a packaged angel food cake add one-half teaspoon pure vanilla extract for that real homemade flavor. You'll be surprised at the difference it makes.

Dice avocado in small pieces and add to curried cream of chicken soup. Nice for company.

Vinegar Removes Film

After washing your hair, rinse it well with water containing several tablespoons of vinegar. This will remove the soapy film from your hair and leave it clean and fluffy.

Instant Cream Puddings Now Boast Fruit Flavors

Two brand new answers to the ever recurring question of "What's for dessert?" are making their appearance on grocery shelves this week—Instant fruit cream puddings.

One is a fine banana cream pudding, an instant pudding that's wonderful by itself, wonderful in pies and in a host of other desserts. The other is a coral-pink strawberry cream pudding, bright and particularly appealing to small fry. Both are useful to homemakers looking for healthful, inexpensive and, above all, quick desserts.

Instant fruit cream puddings open up a whole new field of desserts. Although banana pudding is an old-time favorite, few women have ever known how to make a good strawberry pudding.

The new instant fruit cream puddings are made by beating the pudding with 2 cups of milk. Takes only a minute for the mixing, ready to eat in five minutes.

With instant fruit cream puddings on hand, along with the regular instant puddings, there's no reason to serve a dull dessert. Try mixing banana and chocolate, for example, for a pudding or pie.

Make a parfait with a layer of strawberry and a layer of coconut cream. Make tiny strawberry tarts with bright red berries poking up. Or a strawberry shortcake—rich short biscuits and strawberry pudding. And now the quickest banana pudding ever—with a few slices of banana, if you like.

What's for dessert? Something different every night.

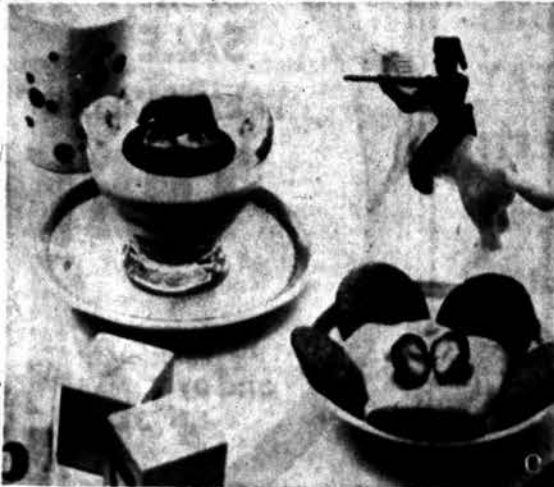

For the Davy Dessert, pour banana cream pudding into a serving dish, adding two or three chocolate wafers in layers. Top with a chocolate wafer and an animal cracker attached with a bit of confectioners' sugar frosting.

For the Strawberry Patch Dessert, pour strawberry cream pudding into a dessert dish. Surround pudding with vanilla wafers and top with a perky red strawberry.

Stuff, Slice Cucumbers

Scoop out a cucumber and fill with a well-seasoned cream cheese mixture. Chill, then at serving time cut into one-quarter-inch-thick slices. Serve with lots of paper napkins! A plimeto cream cheese mixture looks particularly attractive in these cucumber rings.

Cherry preserves, cream cheese and thin, crisp crackers make a fine ending to a meal.

DESSERT FOR THE KIDS — Please the children by making a dessert especially for them. Use the new instant banana cream pudding to make a Davy Dessert. For the Strawberry Patch Dessert you'll want the luscious pink strawberry cream pudding.

'Faces' Top Off Tarts

For fall dessert fun, make Mince Pie Faces. Cut rounds of pastry to fit individual tart pans. Line pans with pastry rounds. With a sharp knife cut jack-o-lantern faces from remaining rounds. Fill tart shells with mincemeat and moisten edges of pastry. Place "faces" over mincemeat and flute edges. Bake as your mince tart recipe indicates.

Brush Away Crumbs Before Frosting Cake

Brush away all crumbs when you are ready to frost a layer cake. Then place one cake layer upside down on your serving plate. Spread the layer with the filling or frosting and let stand until set.

Place the second cake layer right side up on top of the filling. Now frost the side and top of the cake, using a spatula. Don't flatten the frosting; small swirls in the frosting make the cake look pretty.

Treat Goblins to Cookie Tarts

Trick-or-treat time for the children is coming and it behooves all grownups who want to keep on the right side of the hobgoblins to lay in a supply of goodies for the youngsters who come visiting on Halloween.

Mince-meat cookie tarts are ideal for treats, not only for the children on Halloween but for the whole family then or at any other time.

They are easy to make, too, with a 9-ounce package of condensed mince-meat or with some of the ready-to-use kind in the big 28-ounce jar. This mince-meat, in either form, is a convenience to keep on hand for pies, too.

These cookies are a variation of the old-fashioned thimble tart—two rounds of pastry put together with a filling that shows through a hole in the top round.

Instead of making one hole, which our great-grandmothers made with their gold or silver thimbles before fancy little cutters were available—cut three triangular ones for eyes and mouth of a jack-o-lantern.

The luscious mince-meat showing through these holes adds eye-appealing, appetite-satisfying goodness to the trick-or-treat cookie tarts.

Halloween Cookie Tarts

2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 egg, unbeaten
1/2 cup mince-meat

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening until fluffy. Add sugar gradually, beating until well blended. Stir in vanilla. Beat in eggs. Add sifted dry ingredients in two portions, beating until smooth after each addition.

Chill about one hour in refrigerator. Roll out dough, one-fourth at a time, on a lightly floured board to one-eighth-inch thickness.

Cut dough with 2-inch cookie cutter, cutting two rounds for each filled cookie. Cut three triangles in tops of cookies for jack-o-lantern eyes and mouth.

Place the bottoms 2 inches apart on well-greased cookie sheet. Place 2 rounded teaspoonsful of mince-meat in center of each cookie. Cover with tops, pressing edges firmly together.

Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) until tops are light brown and bottoms are golden brown, about seven minutes. Cool. Store in tightly covered container.

To prepare condensed mince-meat, break 9-ounce package into pieces and put in saucepan. Add three-fourths cup water. Place over heat and stir until all lumps are thoroughly broken. Boil briskly for one minute. Cool.

HALLOWEEN COOKIE TARTS—Cookie tarts with Halloween faces revealing tempting mince-meat fillings are sure to be welcome trick-or-treat refreshments. The children will be amused by the funny faces on the cookies.

Potato Prices Are Lower; Serve Often This Fall

Pontiac Press Home Editor

It's a pleasure to be able to tell you occasionally that some foods are lower in price. Potatoes are an excellent buy this fall, with prices about half what they were three months ago, and quality tops.

You've seen bags of potatoes marked "US Grade 1." What does this mean to you? It means potatoes at least 1 1/2 inches in diameter and fairly well shaped.

There must be not over ten per cent of the potatoes with sprouts over 1/4 inch long. The potatoes must be fairly free from bruises, cracks, stains, cuts and surface discoloration. In other words, they must be excellent potatoes.

Size has nothing to do with good eating quality. Choose your potatoes according to what you want to do with them. You'll need larger ones for baking, but small ones are just as good for boiling, frying, or mashing.

If you're dieting, don't worry about the calories in a potato. One potato contains a hundred calories and can easily be fitted into a day's menu.

If you have a choice between a slice of bread and a potato, choose the latter for the larger amounts of vitamins and minerals it will give you.

From the Marketing and Consumer Information Agents in Detroit, Mrs. Marjorie Gibbs and Mrs. Josephine Lawler, we have two new potato recipes for you.

Romanian Potato Cakes

4 or 5 large raw potatoes
4 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup all purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup fine, uncooked cereal
1/2 cup dry bread or cracker crumbs
1/2 cup fat

Grate potatoes. Add eggs, mixing well. Mix dry ingredients, cereal, and bread crumbs. Add to potato mixture. Melt fat and add. Pour into greased utility pan (6" x 10") and bake in 350 degrees oven for 1 hour.

Cut into squares and serve with creamed meat, chicken, or eggs. Serves 8.

Golden Potatoes

4 medium-sized potatoes
2 tablespoons melted table fat
1/2 cup crushed dry breakfast cereal
1/2 teaspoon salt

Boil potatoes in jackets 20 to 30 minutes, or until almost done. Coat each potato with melted fat and roll in cereal mixed with salt. Place on greased baking sheet and bake at 350 degrees about 30 minutes. Serves 4.

Pumpkin, Pecans Featured in Sauce

Pumpkin Pecan Sundae

1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup maple syrup
1 cup chopped pecans
2 tablespoons melted butter

Blend pumpkin, sugar and seasonings in saucepan. Stir in maple syrup. Cook until smooth and thickened, about eight minutes. Remove from heat.

Saute pecans in butter over medium heat for five minutes, stirring constantly. Fold into sauce.

Serve as sundae sauce over ice cream. Makes topping for 24 sundaes. Keeps well in refrigerator.

Cherry Chips Ideal for Snacks

Every youngster looks forward to an after-school snack. It's mother's job to see that this snack stays a snack and doesn't become a meal which will ruin the child's appetite for dinner later.

For a bite which will be just the right size, try serving these gay maraschino cherry cookies with cocoa and fruit.

Cherry Marmalade Chips

1 cup shortening
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 cup sugar
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries, drained (about 20 cherries)
Orange marmalade
Maraschino cherry halves, drained

Cream shortening and cream cheese together. Gradually add sugar and beat well. Add flour and salt and mix well. Add chopped cherries and mix well. Shape into rolls two inches in diameter; wrap in waxed paper and chill.

Cut in one-eighth slices and place on greased baking sheets. Top each cookie with about one-quarter orange marmalade and one cherry half.

Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) until lightly browned, 5 to 8 minutes. Makes about four dozen cookies.

Scrambled Sandwiches

Cook minced onion, green pepper and mushrooms in a little butter in a skillet; add beaten eggs and scramble with the onion mixture. Serve as a sandwich filling between halves of toasted buttered soft buns. Pass the chili sauce!

Hamburg, Ground Beef Are Favorites in U.S.

Hamburger and other types of ground beef are estimated to be taking some 2,270,000,000 pounds of the total beef produced in 1955. That's almost 14 pounds per capita. It also is about 92 million pounds higher than last year, or 4.2 per cent, and is the newest advance for a meat food which made its biggest popularity gain during World War II.

During the war and under price controls the housewife could get much more meat as ground beef with fewer ration stamps than she could have otherwise. Currently, some stores report that more than 60 per cent of their entire beef sales are in the ground category.

Egg whites whip best if beaten after standing a while at room temperature.

Sardine Sandwiches Satisfy Hungry Kids

After school, when hungry mouths are homeward bound in search of more than higher education, declare a recess and make the grade with this elementary sardine suggestion.

To one-half cup sardines, mashed, add 1 large dill pickle, chopped fine. Spread thin slices of toasted rye bread with a layer of mustard butter (cream one-fourth cup butter with 2 tablespoons rich brown prepared mustard,) then with a generous layer of sardine mixture.

Quick Macaroni Dish

Quick dish: Turn a can of macaroni with cheese sauce into a pie plate. Top with slices of tomatoes sprinkled with salt, pepper and minced fresh or crushed dried basil. Heat under the broiler or in the oven.

Delicate Orchid Source of Fine Vanilla Flavor

By JANET ODELL,
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Some weeks ago I received a little round plastic tube containing a long, slim brown object . . . a vanilla bean. Our grandmothers used vanilla beans for flavoring. Some old recipes call for vanilla sugar which was sugar flavored with cut-up vanilla beans.

It is just over a hundred years ago that a brilliant young pharmacist, one Joseph Burnett, perfected a pure vanilla extract in his apothecary shop in Boston.

Prior to that time all good cooks kept a supply of the dried vanilla beans on hand. They chopped them up, put them in a linen bag and used them much in the way a tea bag is used today. Needless to say, the strength of the flavoring varied from day to day.

Vanilla comes from the fruit of an orchid that bears a rare and lovely pale yellow-green blossom. It is one of the New World's gifts to the Old World. When Cortes defeated the Aztecs and conquered Mexico in 1519-21, the vanilla bean of the Aztec imperial court was part of the booty he took back to Spain.

For more than 300 years after Cortes, no one was able to grow the vanilla plant successfully outside of Mexico. Superstitious people wondered if a curse had been put on it.

Finally, in 1836, a Belgian grower discovered that a tiny bee fertilized the plant; it is the only insect in the world that can do the job. Artificial pollination was tried, and the culture of vanilla spread to many countries. Even in Mexico there is some artificial pollination used now.

Experts consider Mexican vanilla beans still the best because of their delicate flavor. However, much of the world's supply comes from the island of Madagascar.

Producing good vanilla extract may be compared to producing a fine quality wine. Much depends upon the proper growing and harvesting of the beans. Blending, extracting and aging are also important and take time.

It is interesting to know that Mexican natives who harvest vanilla beans still preserve an old Aztec religious belief that half of what is taken from the earth must be returned. They insist on being paid in silver, half of which they proceed to bury.

Vanilla should be kept at room temperature in a bottle that is tightly corked. Because of the high alcoholic content of vanilla extract, some of the flavor is dissipated in cooking or freezing. That is the reason why large amounts of vanilla are called for in ice cream recipes. In most baking recipes the average amount used is one teaspoonful.

Pure vanilla is always made from the dried vanilla bean. Imitation vanilla is one of the by-products of the wood pulp industry and contains artificial coloring and flavor. Read the labels on the bottle to see what you are getting. You need so little vanilla in any one recipe that it scarcely pays to use anything but the genuine flavoring.

Here are a couple of recipes using vanilla as an ingredient. The first one is for a chocolate syrup; chocolate and vanilla are always good companions.

Chocolate Syrup
4 squares unsweetened chocolate
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

Melt chocolate over hot water. Blend in sugar and salt. Stir in boiling water. Boil until slightly thickened (about 10 minutes), stirring frequently. Cool. Add pure vanilla extract. Store in a covered jar in refrigerator. Use as needed for chocolate beverages, or as a sauce over ice cream or cake. Yield: 2 1/2 cups.

Magic Rolled Cookies
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter
6 cups (1/2 can) sweetened condensed milk
1/2 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 teaspoon lemon extract

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter; gradually blend in sweetened condensed milk. Stir in sugar and egg. Mix in vanilla and lemon extracts. Add dry ingredients, blending thoroughly. Wrap dough in waxed paper and chill thoroughly in refrigerator for about 1 hour.

Divide cookie dough into thirds; roll each portion on a lightly floured board about 1/4-inch thick. Cut with floured cookie cutter. Place on greased baking sheet, about 1 inch apart. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) until edges are lightly browned, about 10 minutes. Remove quickly from baking sheet.

Ravo Makes Popcorn Better!

The secret of lighter, more delicious popcorn is to pop it fast at a high temperature. RAVO won't smoke or burn at temperatures far higher than you need for correct popping. It's pure peanut oil . . . with butter flavor and color added. Enjoy fluffy, tasty popcorn often . . . with RAVO, finest popcorn oil you can buy.

Flaked Coconut Glorifies Salads

A brand-new style of coconut—flaked in thin, thin bits, tender and fresh—is ready for holiday treats. Try new angel flake coconut to glamorize frosted cakes, in a crunchy coconut pie shell.

Coconut Fig Salad
3 tablespoons cream cheese
1/4 teaspoon cream
1/4 teaspoon finely cut candied ginger
12 drained canned apricot halves
8 drained canned Kadota figs
1/4 cup new flaked coconut

Combine cream cheese and cream, then add candied ginger. Arrange apricot halves, cut side up, on crisp lettuce, using three halves for each serving. Cut figs in half and place a fig half, cut side up, on each apricot half.

Top with about 1 teaspoon cream cheese mixture, then sprinkle with coconut. Serve with mayonnaise. Makes four servings.

Coconut Peach Salad
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
Dash of salt
2 tablespoons canned peach juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
8 canned peach halves
1/4 cup new flaked coconut

Mash cream cheese with a fork until softened. Add salt. Stir in fruit juices gradually; then beat until cheese is light and fluffy.

Fill center of each peach half with 1 tablespoon cream mixture. Then sprinkle with coconut. Serve on crisp lettuce. Makes four servings.

Note: An equal amount of milk may be substituted for the fruit juices, if desired. Coconut may be increased to three-fourths cup. Fold half of coconut into cream cheese mixture. Sprinkle remaining coconut on top, as directed.

Light cream, called for in some recipes, means cream that contains 18 to 30 per cent butterfat.

Try Raw Yams and Nippy Dips as Appetizers

For something new and delicious in the appetizer line, serve raw Louisiana yams cut into sticks or rounds with a tangy horseradish dip. The crispness in texture and sweet mellow flavor of yams make them an ideal accompaniment for dunks as before-dinner snack food.

Include raw yams in your next relish assortment . . . they add flavor, color, nutrients and texture.

Yam Sticks With Horseradish Dip
1/2 cup chili sauce
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon grated onion
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
4 medium-sized yams, peeled and cut in thin strips

Combine chili sauce, mayonnaise, onion and horseradish; mix well and chill. Serve as a dip for yam sticks. Makes about 1 cup.

Chive Dip and Yams
3 6-ounce packages chive cream cheese
2 tablespoons milk
4 medium-sized yams, peeled and thinly sliced

Combine cheese and milk; blend. Serve as dip for yams. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Quick Vanilla Pudding Adopts Coffee Flavor

Like coffee flavor? Add a tablespoon of instant coffee powder to a package of vanilla pudding-and-pie mix when you are adding the liquid called for in the package directions.

When the pudding has cooled, pour it into sherbet glasses and chill; serve with whipped cream beaten with confectioner's sugar and cocoa.

Here's the Way to Roast Ducks

By MARY A. NIXON
Oakland County Home Demonstration Agent

Hunters and trappers take approximately 7,000 tons of dressed meat each year in Michigan. Much of it is eaten, but a large quantity never reaches the table. If you are lucky enough to get some ducks this season, here's a good way to prepare them: First, clean the duck and wash it thoroughly.

Fill the duck with about 2 cups of peeled, quartered apples, then sew it up and tie in shape. Next, rub with an onion slice, salt and pepper.

Roast the prepared duck uncovered at 325 degrees, allowing 20 to 30 minutes per pound. Strips of bacon may be placed on the breast to keep the bird from becoming dry, or you can baste the duck every 10 minutes with a cup of orange juice.

You will find this recipe and many others for a variety of small game including rabbit, squirrel, opossum, raccoon, muskrat and beaver, as well as recipes for cooking pheasant, wild goose, grouse and duck in the bulletin "Good Eating From Woods and Fields."

This bulletin also tells how to dress game soon after killing and how to cook it. Recipes were tested by the Foods and Nutrition Department at Michigan State University.

Here's the Way to Roast Ducks

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Pork Boston butt.

Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. This is the upper half of the pork shoulder and contains part of the blade bone.

Q. How is it prepared?
A. By roasting. Place the Boston butt with the fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. Insert a roast meat thermometer into center of the thickest section, but not on bone or in fat. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast at 350 degrees, allowing 45 to 50 minutes per pound or until the roast meat thermometer registers 185 degrees.

Vanilla Pops Up Yams
To make a real Southern sweet potato casserole, try adding a teaspoon of pure vanilla extract along with the usual flavorings. It's a tasty addition to a traditional recipe.

"Good Eating From Woods and Fields," drop a card to the Oakland County Extension Office, 1260 West Blvd., Pontiac.

Delicious dessert any time: Vanilla ice cream served with maple syrup and salted pecans or almonds.

Team Corn, Franks
Take creamed corn and add it to chopped pan-fried bacon and lightly browned sliced frankfurters. Heat and season to taste. With this, serve carrot sticks, olives (ripe and stuffed) and buttered rolls.

Chive-Flavored Clam Mixture Tops Spaghetti

Mixed clams blended with chive cream cheese make a delicious sauce for spaghetti. Serve the sauce in a separate bowl set in the center of the platter for a new and attractive arrangement.

A tossed salad and breadsticks complement this year-round supper suggestion.

Spaghetti With Clam Chive Sauce

1 tablespoon salt
2 cups boiling water
2 ounces spaghetti
1 16-ounce can minced clams
1 8-ounce package chive cream cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon oregano

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally until tender. Drain in colander.

Drain clams; reserve 1 cup liquor. Combine clams, liquor, cheese, one-half teaspoon salt, pepper and oregano.

Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thoroughly heated. Serve sauce with spaghetti. Makes four to six servings.

Pumpkin Tarts Reflect Autumn

The friendly jack-o-lantern is always the symbol of Halloween festivities—and be sure to include pumpkin as part of the refreshments.

Canned pumpkin, which is available all year 'round, is always ready to be put to use in holiday foods.

Pumpkin chiffon filling makes delicious, nutritious Halloween tarts. They are prepared ahead of time except for the topping, so serving will be simple.

The spicy whipped cream topping lends a special autumn touch to these Pumpkin Chiffon Tarts.

Pumpkin Chiffon Tarts

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 egg yolk
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 can (1 pound) pumpkin
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon allspice
2 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
4 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar
12 baked tart shells

Topping

1/2 cup whipping cream
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon allspice

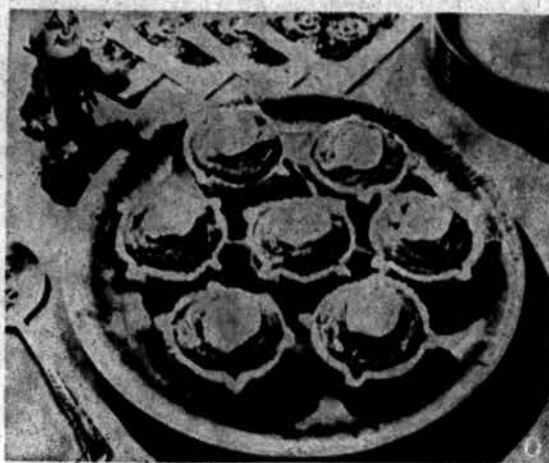

Blend gelatin and cold water. Mix egg yolks, brown sugar, pumpkin, milk, salt and spices together in saucepan. Cook over low heat stirring until it boils. Boil one minute.

Remove from heat and stir in softened gelatin. Cool. When partially set, beat until smooth.

Carefully fold this pumpkin mixture into a meringue made by beating the egg whites until frothy and gradually beating in sugar until smooth and glossy. Spoon into tart shells. Chill until set.

Whip cream. Fold in sugar and allspice. Spoon onto top of each that makes 12 servings.

Chicken that is going to be spit-roasted on an electric rotisserie does not need to be rubbed with fat beforehand.

PUMPKIN CHIFFON TARTS—Appealing little bits of pastry filled with a smooth pumpkin filling make an excellent way of celebrating fall. Bake the tart shells over muffin tins, pinching together the excess pastry to fit the pans.

Upside-Down Cake Stars Both Apricot, Pineapple

What disappears faster than dew before the morning sun? Silly question. Apricot-Pineapple Upside-Down Cake, of course.

Maybe it's the name. Maybe it's the combination of fragrances in the baking. Whatever the secret, there's no mystery about the popularity.

Usually calorie counting is charged off to the ladies, who allegedly dine with a fearful eye on the scales. However the eager girls who were invited to taste-test this new upside-down delight left nary a crumb for the male group that had been alerted as a second sitting.

Better plan at least two cakes for the party or Sunday supper. Everyone will pass the plate for more.

Apricot-Pineapple Upside-Down Cake

1/2 cup shortening

1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup strained apricots with farina
8 canned pineapple rings

Cream shortening; add sugar gradually. Add egg; beat well. Sift dry ingredients together; add alternately with milk to creamed mixture, beating well after each addition.

Melt butter or margarine in pan or dish that will be used for baking. Stir in brown sugar. Add apricots with farina. Blend thoroughly.

Arrange pineapple rings in sugar mixture. (Place maraschino cherries in center of each pineapple ring, if desired.)

Here's Recipe for Pot Roast That's Perfect

Reba Staggs, well-known meat expert, gives these steps to follow for preparing the perfect pot-roast:

1. Brown meat thoroughly on both sides in 2 or 3 tablespoons of lard or drippings. (Dredge with seasoned flour first if desired.)
2. Add one-third to one-half cup liquid.
3. Cover meat tightly and cook slowly. Let meat simmer, never boil!
4. Cook a 3 to 5-pound pot roast from three to four hours.
5. Make gravy in pan in which meat is cooked. Thicken the cooking liquid with flour and boil for two to three minutes, stirring constantly.

Let Son Enter His Dad's Business

By ANNE HEYWOOD
Should a child enter his father's business, automatically, whether he wants to or not? Does he owe it to his father? Or has he a right to leave a family company in a lurch?

For some years now, the trend has been to encourage young people to suit themselves in the matter of choosing careers.

It was a natural reaction to the custom of the 19th Century, when a youngster willy-nilly did what daddy had done. But sometimes, it seems to me, we are going too far in the opposite direction.

Take this letter from Mrs. B.
"My husband is a very successful cabinetmaker, with his own shop and a good income. Our son, Bill, is finishing college this year and my husband insists that Bill go into the business with him.

"Bill seems to like the idea all right. He has puttered around his father's shop since he was little and worked there every summer.

"But I don't think it's fair! Bill has a right to live his own life and maybe enter one of the professions. He shouldn't be forced into cabinetmaking."

This woman, it seems to me, is making a mistake. If her husband's shop is a good one, and a successful one, and if the boy has gravitated to it since he was little, there is no earthly reason why he shouldn't make it his lifework.

ENJOYS THE WORK

After all, he could have taken any kind of summer job—and you can tell that his mother probably encouraged him to do so—and yet he enjoyed putting around with cabinetmaking.

It sounds to me as though this were indeed his lifework. Certainly, at college he has had an opportunity to broaden his horizons and learn about many other fields; but if he still wants to work with his father, his decision is surely a valid one.

Perhaps Mrs. B., like too many mothers, is unduly ambitious for her son and feels that he should have a "classier" occupation than his father had. The fact that she suggests a profession would indicate this.

But my advice is that she leave well enough alone and let Bill go in with his father. If he loves it, he will have the added advantage of tradition.

A family firm which is carried on from father to son is a source of affection and pride.

If, on the other hand, he should turn out not to love it, he will have had good experience and can easily enter some other field. (Copyright 1955)

PTA Membership Grows

The 9,409,282 total membership of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers makes it one of the largest organizations of any kind in the United States, and by the end of October, "PTA Membership Month," the number is expected to top 10 million.

Figures reported by its national headquarters show that membership has grown from about 6 million in 1950, an average increase of more than a half-million a year.

Interest of PTA parents in rearing their children in the best way possible is evident from the report that 12,142 units have committees to organize study groups, and 313,218 members are enrolled in them.

They are studying such subjects as emotional growth of the child, family life, teenage problems, and other fields leading to better understanding and guidance of their children.

First Visit to Neighbors Discussed

Courtesy Calls Are Unusual in Large Apartment Houses

By EMILY POST

"I was brought up in a community where it was customary for the older residents to call on newcomers in the neighborhood, and I have always followed this practice. Several years ago I moved to a big city and now live in a large apartment house.

"Very soon the apartment across the hall from ours will be vacated and new tenants will move in. Shall I call on these new neighbors after they are settled, or doesn't the rule of calling on new neighbors apply to a communal dwelling? I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: It is always courteous for older residents to call on new arrivals. It is really important because it is considered improper for the new arrivals to make the first gesture.

It is, however, true that in large apartment houses, especially where the tenants change frequently, this custom has practically disappeared.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are going to a large formal dance in the near future and it is important that I be dressed correctly. I have a very pretty evening dress but it does not have a long skirt.

"My husband does not think it will be proper because of its shorter-length skirt. He seems to think that an evening dress must be long.

"Will you please tell me if the length of the skirt has anything to do with the formality of the dress. Would this shorter-length evening dress be proper to wear to a formal dance?"

Answer: An ankle-length skirt is proper—shorter than that is questionable.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered better manners for a man to carry a corsage to the house with him when he calls to take a girl to a dance, or to have it sent earlier from the florist?"

Answer: Send it from the florist. It might make a difference what dress she'll wear.

Workshop Conducted by Musicale

Members of Tuesday Musicale Workshop met at the Drayton Plains home of Mrs. Martin J. Wager Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting marked the beginning of the year's study of "Contemporary Music." Mrs. Wager's theme was the "History of Recording." She gave an outline of the development of recording from early Edison days to our present high-fidelity era.

Mrs. Wager explained the slow procedure of making a record in the first experiments and noted the progress made in 50 years.

Plans for the Men's Night program to be given in February were described by Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer.

The program adhered to the contemporary theme. Mrs. Willis LeFurgy played a piano solo, Prelude II by Gershwin, Mrs. William Furlong played "My Heart Stood Still," a paraphrase for piano by M. C. Whitney, and Mrs. Wager performed "White Peacock" by Griffes.

Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. George Putnam sang solos accompanied by Mrs. Gaensbauer and Eida Sutter.

Assisting Mrs. Wager as hostesses were Mrs. Jack Wignall and Mrs. John Wiley. Mrs. Addison K. Oakley presided at the tea table.

Miss Steward Shows Pictures to UM Alumnae

Movies and slides of her recent trip to Argentina and Chile were shown by Margaret Steward Tuesday evening when 36 members of the University of Michigan Alumnae Club of Pontiac met.

Mrs. Carroll C. Braid opened her home on Rosewood drive for the cooperative dinner and meeting, at which Mrs. W. O. Roesser presided.

Mrs. William Gordon, senior counselor, reported on the meeting of the alumnae council in Ann Arbor Saturday.

Chairman of the social committee was Mrs. Frances Larkin, assisted by Mrs. Martin Wager, Mrs. George Roberts, Mrs. Frank Allen and Iva Price.

Mrs. T. E. Wiersma has invited the group to her home on West Iroquois road for the Christmas meeting Dec. 6.

Traditional Wedding Time Fading From U. S. Scene

Of all the bridal customs that have come down to us from earliest times probably the only one that has changed radically is the date of the marriage ceremony.

The August and September bride is catching up with her June sister. According to government figures, marriages occur the year-round with less than a 5 per cent variation between any two months. Last year's figures for June were 11.5 per cent and for August 11.4 per cent.

In all other respects today's bride follows tradition with a slight nod to progress. Even the word "wedding" is an out-growth of the ancient custom of marriage by purchase. The groom-to-be gave a

"wed" of money or cattle as the purchase price of his future bride.

All ages and countries have contributed to today's ceremony. According to Mme. Jacques Bollinger, who heads the French champagne firm of that name, France initiated the throwing of the bridal bouquet but it was first a garter.

The 15th century French bride flung her garter as an omen of luck to whoever caught it. As time wore on, one enterprising bride decided to throw her bouquet and then as now, the lucky girl who catches it is supposed to be the next bride.

Another French custom gives us the loving cup from which both the bride and groom drink and plight their troth before the toasts are drunk in their honor. This was originally the "coupe de mariage," which resembled a small silver porridge bowl.

According to Mme. Bollinger, champagne so long associated with wedding receptions, has been the traditional toast to the bride since the 17th century, when a French monk discovered how to imprison the miraculous "sparkle" in still white wine. Before that time, white or red wine was served at weddings.

The bride wore red in medieval times. It is said that Anne of Brittany was the first bride to wear white when she married Louis XII. Egypt gave us the old shoe custom. In ancient times the father of the Egyptian bride handed his daughter's sandal to her groom as the mark of authority in transferring the bride to the new husband's care for the rest of her life.

In early times in England, it was customary on the wedding day for the new husband to wait upon his bride at the table and since such a servitor was known as the groom, hence the word "bridegroom".

Italy of the Middle Ages initiated the "ring bearer" custom. Small boys bearing the ring on a satin pillow was the outward symbol of a life-long union when pages were part of the ceremony.

Time on your hands . . . a fashion-right double feature involving a smart town bag and a beautiful Swiss timepiece which can be worn as a wrist watch, too. The bag is available in two sizes in fine calfskin in a variety of colors. For the fashion-conscious this purse will complete any daytime ensemble.

The deepened handbag, an essential accessory for the easy, distinguished new look of fashion. The bow-trimmed band stars the chic, very practical gate frame. Black, brown or navy suede or black, brown or navy cashmere. Smart for evening wear in sophisticated black.

This concertina style blends the new simplicity with great elegance and adds roominess to the important slim, elongated silhouette through adroit use of concertina gussets. The burnished calf comes in fall-autumn colors. The style is appropriate for business or daytime dress affairs.

A comparison of life's activities before and after the addition of highways was given by Mrs. Howard Wheatley in her talk, "Trailways Unlimited."

The invocation was given by Helen Lapsch, and Mrs. Robert Bunce presented the table topic, "Provoking Situations."

Mrs. Arthur Vernon conducted the parliamentary drill at the Tuesday meeting and Mrs. Clayton Rule served as toastmistress for the theme of the evening.

Critics were Mrs. Gerald McLeod, Helen Turek, Mrs. Bunce and Mrs. J. R. Shaffer.

Tail-twister at the meeting was Mrs. McLeod. Mrs. Orben Wilkins was chief evaluator. Miss Lapsch was timekeeper and Lauretta Paul was grammarian. Mrs. Green won the Oscar.

Reassure Lad by Letting Jealousy Show

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

It's easy enough to be completely detached and indifferent about some boy you don't like particularly. What he chooses to do and does not cut a speck of ice with you. He can't embarrass you, hurt your feelings, or excite you either. He's just none of your personal business.

But it's different with a boy you really like a lot. What he says matters terribly. What he does can thrill you to death, cut you to ribbons, or fill you with a quiet glow.

Your own interest in him makes you take him very personally indeed. So you can't help being just a touch possessive about him. You just can't be indifferent.

Indifference (mostly pretended).

I suspect) is causing this girl plenty of grief. If she'd only go riotously jealous just once! But here's what she writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: Every one says I treat him terribly. And I guess I really do. But I just can't be sure he likes me, even though he says he does.

"He tries to make me jealous by talking about letting other girls sit on his lap. I tell him that if he really wants to do that, he can. Then he always comes back with 'You know I don't'.

"Now, why does he talk like that if he doesn't mean it? Is it possible he wants me to show signs of jealousy? I don't want to do that, because I don't own him.

"What he does is up to himself. But if he really liked me he wouldn't do such things, would he?"

Answer: The boy is teasing you. He's trying to get under your skin. He's trying to goad you into showing that you like him. A tiny bit of jealousy would convince him that you care.

But you're afraid to let your affection for him show, aren't you?

You hold yourself in and act crisply cool toward him. You don't dare let yourself go. And why?

Because you aren't sure he really cares for you. You take his teasing very seriously. You interpret it as a sure sign that he's interested in other girls. And it chills you into being utterly detached with him.

But he's just trying to find out how he rates with you. He's hoping to break through your very matter-of-fact exterior and discover if you have any feelings at all.

So why not, just once, drop your defenses, and act jealous? You wouldn't be hurt if he played around with other girls, so why not admit it—just once?

One brilliant display of jealous fireworks is all it would take to convince your boy friend he's not going with an icicle.

Internal Rules for Blemishes Skin Sufferers

Skin blemishes arise from excessive oiliness, which is characteristic of teen age. Oil clogs the pores, leads to pimples and blackheads.

Treatment of blemished skins must be external and internal. Externally, effective cleansing is most important.

Internal rules for blemished complexions: Avoid fried or spicy foods, chocolates, nuts and peanut butter. Eat lean meats, fresh fruits and vegetables, drink lots of water between meals, get a good night's rest and take moderate exercise.

Now is the moment to start a teen-age skin care program. It will soon be second nature, and girls and boys both will be well on the road to the joy and peace of mind of a good complexion.

Potatoes are much easier to peel if they are left overnight in the refrigerator.

Chemicals Will Keep Mildew Off Clothes

Keep things aired and dry if you'd prevent mildew. Chemicals available in department or drug store may be used to absorb moisture from the air.

Silica gel, activated alumina or calcium chloride are used for this purpose according to agriculture experts.

Silica gel is not harmful to fabrics and can be used over and over. Calcium chloride should not be put in direct contact with garments, these experts advise.

'Mummy Wrap' Replacing Old Babushka Wear

NEW YORK (INS)—The "mummy wrap" is replacing the babushka as an ear-warmer for the student set.

The new chilly weather motif calls for a wrap that covers the head and neck from forehead to shoulder, or — as scarf designer Vera puts it — "the wrapped-like-a-mummy look."

Vera says the effect is a cross between an Ekimo parka and the top of a turtle neck sweater. She thinks it's more flattering than the babushka because it doesn't flap out in back or tie under the chin.

This "mummy wrap" can be achieved two ways—either with a long scarf wrapped both around head and neck and tucked under a coat, or with a specially designed scarf.

The special designs resemble stocking caps sawed off at both ends and are actually wool hersey tubes. The tube can be worn loose on the neck—like a turtle neck top; pulled up on the head like a turban; or pulled over both neck and head for the "mummy" effect.

The main idea is that the head-wrap should look as if it was designed to be a head-wrap, or at least part of the complete clothing outfit. Vera, who calls her tube scarves "huggies," makes them in many colors of wool jersey so that they can be mixed or matched to dresses and coats.

Sweater Variations

One versatile sweater may be worn with a matching skirt to look like a dress, with Bermuda shorts for the country or lounge wear, with its turtle-neck dickey for office wear, without the dickey for a low-necked dressy look.

Chic Goat Hair Coats Sparking Weather Wear

PARIS (INS)—This autumn and winter smart women in Paris will have something in common with shepherds from the Austrian Alps. Loden, the fabric made of goat-hair and waterproofed by nature, was originally used for shepherds' cloaks in Austria. In Paris top fashion designers now use it for all-weather outfits.

Originally of a brownish "goat-color," modern technique has transformed loden into an elegant material in any modish shade while still retaining its original qualities.

When Christian Dior uses loden, its goat-kinship seems far removed. The Paris fashion maestro likes it in a beige camel-hair color and has worked it into a comfortable sports skirt with horizontal, cut-in pockets, worn with a beige sweater. A matching loden coat, on which a low half-belt gathers the full back, completes the practical and chic outfit.

A firm specializing in rain-wear uses loden as a "natural" for a rain-coat. The smartest model is in duck-blue, man-styled and entirely lined in brown fur-fabric that resembles beaver.

Loden also is used in Paris for country clothes, golf outfits and over-blouses for skiing. Since it is hard wearing, it is just right for school children.

Dyed black, loden can become the material for an around-the-clock city coat. It will look elegant worn with a plaid scarf in white fur or a satin scarf after dark.

Sorority Hears About Student's Visit in Germany

Members and friends of Alpha Sigma Nu sorority met at the home of Mrs. Lamar Pepple on Cherokee road Monday evening.

Entertainment was provided by Bill Duckwitz, a senior from Walled Lake High School, who spent the summer in Germany as a member of "Youth for Understanding," sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches and Rotary Club.

The speaker made the flight with 30 other members and lived in Peine, a small town in north-eastern Germany, as the foster son of Frau Dr. Gretel Crusius. His colored slides included factories and industrial sites in Hannover, track events at Frankfurt, a trip down the Rhine River showing many old castles, the cathedral at Cologne and Beethoven's home.

Assisting the hostess during the evening were Mrs. Albert Kohn, Mrs. Lloyd Moseby and Margaret Waters.

"Clever gal, my Carol!"

I'm tickled pink with the smart way my Carol handles her housework. Take wood floors for instance. Most gals complain about all that scrubbing and waxing. But not my Carol! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. It takes her half the time and a lot less elbow grease. And we've yet to have a guest who hasn't commented on our beautiful wood floors. My Carol and her Bruce Cleaning Wax really make easy work of a hard job. I'm mighty pleased with both of them.

P.S. For lighter waxing on linoleum and wood, Carol uses Bruce Floor Cleaner.

Miss Fielding was graduated from Kingswood School Cranbrook and will graduate from Stanford University in June.

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Mitchell, is a graduate of Stanford University. They are planning to be married in August.

IF long versus short-haired fur—

It takes a long, lean figure to wear so much fur. For the shorter ones, collar and facings of seal skin.

The new look of bulk above slenderness—big collar and broad facings was accomplished by Patou. Lanvin's overflowing red fox is the sort of fashion that takes some carrying off even by the tall, sleek sophisticate.

Area Dairymen Act to Gain New MMPA Leaders

Romeo Is Activity Hub Before Election Nov. 3 at East Lansing

ROMEO—Representatives of the Michigan Milk Producers locals from 14 counties met in Romeo last night to discuss current developments in the milk marketing picture, before the annual meeting to be held Nov. 3.

Included in items under consideration, were the petitions being circulated throughout the state asking for a new board of directors in the MMPA.

The petitions also protest certain governing bylaws as being strictly undemocratic.

Harold Fritz, head of the Romeo local, whose group instigated the current move for new leadership, said today "we want members to control our own organization—how can members instruct delegates when all local meetings have been held before the slate of officers and resolutions have been made public?"

Fritz added, "There is no earthly way for members to instruct delegates on how to vote before the annual meeting."

"They (the management of MMPA) have violated the federal law. They vote for themselves, not the members," he indicated.

"For 26 years," the Romeo dairyman explained, "meetings have been conducted on the delegate system, without a vote from the membership at large."

QUOTES LAW

"Federal law," he stated, stipulates that "either two thirds or three quarters of the members shall vote on the Federal Milk Marketing program. No provision has been made for delegates to act for the membership."

He pointed out that it is not uncommon for only five or six dairymen to attend the meeting of their local to elect officers with the same slate serving year after year. "The reason," according to Fritz, "for the lack of interest in the manipulation of business by the MMPA management, which discourages the farmer to such an extent that he never attends his local meetings."

Fritz himself has been asked to speak at a number of meetings throughout the state but the MMPA management told the locals "they would provide the speakers or would underwrite expense of providing refreshments for the meetings."

To date an "adequate number" of signatures appear on petitions which, according to state law, will give members the right to vote at the annual meeting in East Lansing next week. It is expected that more will be turned in to the secretary of the Romeo local before the Nov. 3 deadline.

HEARING NOV. 29

The revelation that a Federal grand jury hearing on Detroit area milk prices will be held Nov. 29, "is one of the important outgrowths of action taken by protesting locals," according to Fritz.

In January of this year, dairy farmers in the Romeo area demanded a federal investigation of the milk prices.

Edward M. Feeney, chief of the Anti-Trust Division offices in Detroit would not state this week, whether this complaint was a direct cause of the current inquiry.

'The Heiress,' Nov. 4-5

First Production Slated by Avon Theater Group

ROCHESTER—The Avon Players, Rochester's theater group, is planning its first production of the '55-56 season. Slated is "The Heiress," a two-act play by Ruth and Augustus Goetz, which was first presented in New York in 1947.

The setting takes place in 1850 and will be in full authentic costume of the period.

On stage, in "The Heiress," will be Donald and Lynette Brown, of Royal Oak, who have had several years experience in summer stock theater.

Also in the play will be Bob Wagner; Dorothy Baldwin; Ben Purdy; Betty Schaffner, last seen in "Kind Lady"; Kay Jerome; and George and Sally Ross who took part in "Pirates of Penzance" and "Curious Savage."

"The Heiress" is a story of Catherine Sloper, a doctor's daughter, who, in spite of intelligence, suffers a complete lack of self-confidence. This is due to her father's constant comparison of her to his deceased wife. Catherine is continually stifled by his appointment in the girl for not being an exact image of her mother, Morris Townsend, for a time, represents Catherine's only hope for happiness; but to her dismay turns out to be more interested in her inheritance than anything else.

The Avon Players is a theater group composed of people of many of the surrounding communities, including Rochester, Royal Oak, Birmingham, Pontiac, Troy and Lake Orion. Membership is over 200 in number and is open to all regardless of experience.

Meetings are held once a month at the Avon Pavilion in Rochester, and usually consist of a potluck dinner and entertainment in the way of a one-act play or talks by theatrical experts.

Three plays are presented annually—"The Heiress" being the first this season which will be seen at 8:30 p.m. on Nov. 4 and 5 at the Rochester High School Auditorium. Tickets are available at the door or from cast members.

Toronto Hotel Residents

TORONTO (U)—A young man shot up a hotel room in downtown Toronto early today and then ended his life with a single blast in the stomach from a 12 gauge shotgun.

The shotgun barrage sent terror through the Ford Hotel. The gunman was identified by police as Zarano Borg, 22-year-old Toronto laborer. Nobody else was hurt. There was no apparent reason for the shooting.

The youth was found dead in a room littered with empty shell casings. Police had set off a tear gas bomb that filled his fourth-floor room and hallways in the crowded hotel.

For nearly an hour Borg pumped shots into the walls of his room, through the door and into the ceiling. Guests in nearby rooms fled in night clothes as charge after charge was fired. Estimates on the number of shots ranged from 12 to 25.

Borg's room was in the east wing of the 150-room, 11-story hotel overlooking busy Dundas street. He didn't fire any shots through his window. The shooting started shortly before midnight as many of the 600 patrons of the hotel were preparing for bed.

John Laxton, night manager of the hotel, said Borg apparently broke down the gun and carried it in a suitcase.

"He checked in early in the evening," Laxton said. "He couldn't have been carrying it openly because the clerk would have seen it and called police."

Area Dairymen Act to Gain New MMPA Leaders

Romeo Is Activity Hub Before Election Nov. 3 at East Lansing

ROMEO—Representatives of the Michigan Milk Producers' locals from 14 counties met in Romeo last night to discuss current developments in the milk marketing picture, before the annual meeting to be held Nov. 3.

Included in items under consideration, were the petitions being circulated throughout the state asking for a new board of directors in the MMPA.

The petitions also protest certain governing bylaws as being strictly undemocratic.

Harold Fritz, head of the Romeo local, whose group instigated the current move for new leadership, said today "we want members to control our own organization—how can members instruct delegates when all local meetings have been held before the slate of officers and resolutions have been made public?"

Fritz added, "There is no earthly way for members to instruct delegates on how to vote before the annual meeting."

"They (the management of MMPA) have violated the federal law. They vote for themselves, not the members," he indicated.

"For 25 years," the Romeo dairyman explained, "meetings have been conducted on the delegate system, without a vote from the membership at large."

QUOTES LAW
"Federal law," he stated, stipulates that "either two thirds or three quarters of the members shall vote on the Federal Milk Marketing program. No provision has been made for delegates to act for the membership."

He pointed out that it is not uncommon for only five or six dairymen to attend the meeting of their local to elect officers with the same slate serving year after year. "The reason," according to Fritz, "for the lack of interest is the manipulation of business by the MMPA management, which discourages the farmer to such an extent that he never attends his local meetings."

Fritz himself has been asked to speak at a number of meetings throughout the state but the MMPA management told the locals "they would provide the speakers or would underwrite expense of providing refreshments for the meetings."

To date an "adequate number" of signatures appear on petitions which, according to state law, will give members the right to vote at the annual meeting in East Lansing next week. It is expected that more will be turned in to the secretary of the Romeo local before the Nov. 3 deadline.

HEARING NOV. 29

The revelation that a Federal grand jury hearing on Detroit area milk prices will be held Nov. 29, "is one of the important outgrowths of action taken by protesting locals," according to Fritz.

In January of this year, dairy farmers in the Romeo area demanded a federal investigation of the milk prices.

Edward M. Feeney, chief of the Anti-Trust Division offices in Detroit would not state this week, whether this complaint was a direct cause of the current inquiry.

'The Heiress,' Nov. 4-5

First Production Slated by Avon Theater Group

ROCHESTER—The Avon Players, Rochester's theater group, is planning its first production of the '55-56 season. Slated is "The Heiress," a two-act play by Ruth and Augustus Goetz, which was first presented in New York in 1947.

The setting takes place in 1850 and will be in full authentic costume of the period.

On stage, in "The Heiress," will be Donald and Lynette Brown, of Royal Oak, who have had several years experience in summer stock theater.

Also in the play will be Bob Wagner, Dorothy Baldwin, Bess Purdy, Betty Schaffner, last seen in "Kind Lady"; Kay Jerome; and George and Sally Ross who took part in "Pirates of Penzance" and "Curious Savage."

"The Heiress" is a story of Catherine Sloper, a doctor's daughter, who, in spite of intelligence, suffers a complete lack of self-confidence. This is due to her father's constant comparison of her to his deceased wife. Catherine is continually stifled by his disappointment in the girl for not being an exact image of her mother. Morris Townsend, for a time, represents Catherine's only hope for happiness; but to her dismay turns out to be more interested in her inheritance than anything else.

The Avon Players is a theater group composed of people of many of the surrounding communities, including Rochester, Royal Oak, Birmingham, Pontiac, Troy and Lake Orion. Membership is over 200 in number and is open to all regardless of experience. Meetings are held once a month at the Avon Pavilion in Rochester, and usually consist of a potluck dinner and entertainment in the way of a one-act play or talks by theatrical experts.

Three plays are presented annually—"The Heiress" being the first this season which will be seen at 8:30 p.m. on Nov. 4 and 5 at the Rochester High School Auditorium. Tickets are available at the door or from cast members.

Trouble Brewing in Middle East Countries

By ERIC JOHNSTON
WASHINGTON (DPS)—Trouble is brewing in the Middle East. Communist Russia has set its expansionist sights on the ancient lands linking Europe and Asia. Soviet offers of arms, economic aid, technical assistance and other tantalizing inducements are only the beginning of a concentrated campaign to undermine Arab friendship for the West and open the door to Communist political penetration of the Arab world.

With cynical disregard of the delicate balance between peace and war in the Near East, Soviet diplomats are playing heavily upon fears and antagonisms which could easily erupt into conflict and plunge the region into chaos. Arab bitterness against Israel is being exploited to the hilt with overt assurances of arms and covert hints that well-trained "volunteers" from Communist countries might be available to swell Arab armies in a war against Israel.

Against this background the U.S. sponsored a plan for dividing the international waters of the Jordan River between three Arab nations and Israel has become more important than ever. Quite aside from the economic lift it will give to the states concerned, the plan stands as a symbol of constructive western policy in contrast to the destructive policy of mischief-making now being pursued in the region by Communist Russia.

CAN BE SOLVED

In the Jordan Valley Plan, the West has made clear its belief that the explosive problems of the area can be solved in a rational and orderly way with resulting social and economic progress for all concerned.

The waters of the Jordan River, rising in and flowing through three Arab states and Israel, are a vital natural resource in an area where water means life for crops and men. Already, they have been the subject of bitter dispute between the Arab countries and Israel; they could be the cause of open conflict.

Captured and stored, these waters can become the source of new wealth from irrigated lands, new opportunities for thousands of families, higher standards of living, new industrial potentials arising from the generation of electric power. But to make the best use of them for the benefit of the most people, the waters of the Jordan and its tributaries must be treated as a whole.

This requires the agreement of all four states to an arrangement under which the total water supply would be divided, stored, and distributed to irrigable lands throughout the entire valley.

The Jordan Valley Plan, now very near fruition, is the product of two years effort to evolve such an arrangement. Engineers and water experts of the Arab countries and Israel have accepted it as the fairest, most workable, and most economic way to put the waters of the Jordan to use for human betterment. Formal acceptance by the governments of the four interested countries is all that is needed now to bring the plan into being. There is reason to believe that this political acceptance may be forthcoming in the near future.

Considering the fact that the three Arab states of the Jordan Valley are technically at war with Israel, our ability to work out a mutually satisfactory program for development of the valley is a strong argument in support of the United States' approach to the problem of the region. It indicates that there are solutions short of war if we have the patience and the will to help the peoples of the Middle East to find them.

The issue is clearly joined between the policy of the west, calculated to help the states of the Near East to remain free nations in the free world, and the policy of the east, designed to add them eventually to the galaxy of Russian Communist satellites.

Kavanaugh Cites Treaty Breach

Attorney General Says Canada Violates Pact by Sewage Laxity

DETROIT (AP)—Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanaugh today accused Canada of violating a 1907 treaty with the United States on water pollution control.

Kavanaugh said Michigan may ask the State Department to press for compliance on the part of Canada.

The Attorney General's accusation was included in a letter read Wednesday at a meeting of the Michigan Resources Commission.

Kavanaugh said it was brought out at international joint commission conferences in Ottawa earlier this month that Ontario has not appropriated any money for sewage disposal plants for cities bordering Michigan.

As a result, he said, Canadian cities continue to pollute streams and lakes, while border Michigan cities have carried out extensive disposal control programs.

Delegates from Sault Ste. Marie said they were building their plant "with the full knowledge that it will be of no value," because Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., across the narrow St. Marys River, dumps sewage and industrial waste into the stream. They also

If Public Wants It

Rocky Offers to Fight 2nd Bout With Moore

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano is perfectly willing to fight Archie Moore again, provided the public wants a rematch and Archie "wins a couple of fights in the next few months."

So said the champ here today, adding (1) that Jersey Joe Walcott hit him much harder than did venerable Archie, and (2) Moore really got under his skin with his campaign for a title fight.

"Sure I was sore," said Rocky. "He even sent me personal letters, daring me to fight him."

Due to the government's healthy bite out of his ring earnings, Rocky confided, it isn't profitable to fight more than twice a year. He figures the next defense of the crown will be in June.

Yes, he added, the winner of the coming rematch between Nino Valdes and Hurricane Jackson "would move into contention."

Marciano flew here from the East for only one reason. A close friend, Irving Berman, is retiring from the retail men's clothing business and Rocky figured he could help ballyhoo Berman's "I quit" closing out sale.

Normally such an enterprise would be worth big money to the champ.

What about Al Weill, his manager, the man who handles all of his affairs when it comes to anything from one to one million dollars?

Rocky smiled. It was left for his friend and traveling buddy, wealthy Jack West, Dayton, Ohio, gem tycoon, to explain the situation.

"Let us just say," said West, "that Rocky got a month off from Weill."

Absent Player and Coed Wife Show in Tucson

Kentucky Students Elop October 12; Truant to Return

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Bob Cravens, an 18-year-old University of Kentucky football player missing since he and his coed sweetheart eloped Oct. 12, has turned up here and disclosed he'd like to get back in school.

Cravens and his 17-year-old bride, the former Jane Ayer, telephoned their parents in Owensboro, Ky., from Tucson last night. They had not been heard from since they left the campus and married the same day at Shawneetown, Ill.

Both were freshmen at Kentucky. They became the object of a search after Cravens' father became concerned.

Braves Trample Wever 11, 27-0

Washington Wins Easy Junior Loop Decision for 18th Straight

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP)—The Washington Redskins trampled the New York Giants 27-0 in a National Football League game Wednesday night at the Lincoln Financial Field.

Scoring almost at will, the Washington Junior High School football team hung up an easy 27-0 victory over Wever in a Pontiac Junior High League game Wednesday afternoon at Winder Stadium.

Coach Ed Gilmann used 44 players during the rout as the Braves scored two touchdowns in each of the 1st and 3rd quarters to extend to 15 their string of games without defeat. One tie contest dots the record.

Right halfback Richard Moss tallied Washington's 3rd touchdown to open the 3rd-quarter scoring. Moss raced 11 yards on a reverse for the six-pointer.

Title on the Line

Maples Have Plenty of Incentive to Go All Out Against Big Reds, on Home Lot

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Carl Lemle, head football coach at Birmingham High School, will not be forced to think up ways and means of inspiring his griders for Friday night's important clash with Port Huron's Big Reds.

Lemle's undefeated Maples will have all the incentive they need when they face the invaders from Lake Huron. Victory over Port Huron will hand Birmingham its 1st Eastern Michigan League football championship in the school's history.

Birmingham, boasting a perfect 6-0 record, has never won an EML crown. The Maples' strongest bid for a title was in 1951 when Al Starr Tom Tracy, later a collegiate star at Tennessee, carried on the gridiron for area fans. The Maples finished 2nd that year.

Lemle also has a personal interest in the impending struggle. The Birmingham mentor was formerly assistant coach at Port Huron under Bob Hayes, who still guides the Big Reds.

Ironically enough, tomorrow night's foe nosed out Birmingham for the 1951 title. Port Huron, long a dominant power in the Eastern loop and a recognized strength in state prep circles, has lost some of its luster this season.

U. of M. Scout Calls Iowa Best Team in Big Ten

ANN ARBOR (AP)—When Iowa meets Michigan in a nationally televised Big Ten football game Saturday, it will also decide which of two Michigan graduates makes the better spy.

For the past couple of weeks, Iowa's assistant coach Archie Kodros has been scouting unbeaten Michigan. At the same time, Michigan's Matt Patanelli has been scouting Iowa.

Oddly enough Patanelli played for Michigan in 1934-35, and Kodros played for the Wolverines in 1937-38.

Kodros is busy telling the Iowa team what he thinks of Michigan, but Patanelli has leveled a strong warning that Iowa "is the best team in the Big Ten."

"They may have lost to UCLA," Patanelli said, "but they pushed the Bruins all over the field in the process."

"That's right," said Michigan coach Bernie Osterman, "take a look at the Big Ten statistics if you want to see how good they are."

The Iowa Hawkeyes have won one, tied one and lost one in conference play. They have been hampered by injuries all season.

"But they should be in good shape when they meet us," Patanelli said. "They've been waiting for this one. Even their all-American guard Cal Jones should be ready. They held him out of the UCLA game."

"And that big end of theirs, Frank Gilliam, should be back, too."

What was reported as a broken leg at first was only a small broken bone in his foot.

Hawkeyes are the 3rd-rated offensive team in the Big Ten, despite the fact they have been bound by miles of adhesive tape like Michigan has.

"They've gained an average of 291 yards a game and racked up an average of 16 1st downs."

"They pass about 17 per cent of the time," Patanelli said. "Of course their 1st quarterback is Jerry Reichow and he can throw well, but he likes to run the option play, too—which makes him especially dangerous."

Reichow is the 9th-rated quarterback in the conference with 10 completions in 22 throws for 201 yards. Besides he has piled up the 4th highest total yardage by his passing and running 93 yards for a 7.1 yard average every time he's carried the ball.

Patanelli said the best Iowa passer is not Reichow however, but halfback Ken Pion, who led the Hawkeyes in passing last year.

In veteran Jim Freeman, Gilliam and sophomore Jim Gilliam, Reichow and Pion have ample receivers. Another Hawkeye threat, Patanelli said, is fullback Roger Weigmann, the 3rd leading rusher in the Big Ten with a net 151 yards.

Besides these Patanelli grimaces, Iowa coach Forest Evashevski can call on speedy halfbacks like Eddie Vincent and Earl Smith, both now rounding into good physical shape after injuries.

Acorns Given Slight Edge in Friday Night Grid Scrap

Sudden blows, let loose by injuries and illness among squad members, and the added wallop of ineptitude of the top ball handler have all but knocked Pontiac High School out of all hopes for a victory at Royal Oak, Friday night.

All that, coupled with the hospitalization of Coach Ed Graybiel doesn't give the gridiron Acorns a great deal of margin on which to work. Consequently, the Acorns, coached by Jim Manilla, are today rated favorites for the game at Royal Oak.

Assistant coach Dean Wilson, subbing for the absent Graybiel, said this morning his chief would probably stay in the hospital, at least through the weekend.

Two more injuries cropped up in last night's workout. Bill Kennedy, big end, reported with a lame back and was sent to the team doctor for examination. He may not be available Friday. Lon Humphrey, halfback, added to an ankle injury, but was expected to get some action, despite the handicap.

Big fullback Chasley Spann did not dress yesterday for practice, and Arnold Larson went in at the spot. Larson probably will

Right Cross Spoils Billy's Comeback Try in Heavyweight Go

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—John Holman, the strong but slow Chicago heavyweight, made Boardwalk Billy Smith's return to the ring was a painful one last night. He flattened the New Jersey jailer with a right cross in the seventh round.

Smith was trying a comeback ten months after Paul Andrews belted him into temporary oblivion in Miami. For five rounds, he did all right, but the plodding Holman caught him in the sixth with a powerful left hook that laid him under the ropes for a count of nine.

Smith went down again for a fourth count before the end of the sixth, although Holman's punch seemed to have little behind it, and he couldn't manage to pull his wits together during the rest period.

At 1:43 of the seventh, Holman pounded a right hook to the jaw that finished the nationally televised fight in the Miami Beach Auditorium.

Pontiac Cycle Club Plans Annual Acorn Run Sunday

Pontiac Motorcycle Club's annual 100-mile-long Acorn Run will be held Sunday. The race starts and ends at the Geringville Community Hall on Baldwin Avenue.

Club hopes to have 100 riders participating in the race, which

After "recapping" his list of "cripples" Wilson came up with the following probable starting roster:

Michigan Holds Top Conference Defensive Mark

Gives Foes Only 7.3 Points Per Game, for Three Tilt

CHICAGO (AP)—Unbeaten Michigan will take the Big Ten's best defensive record into its homecoming game against Iowa Saturday.

Offense honors are shared by Wisconsin, Ohio State and Purdue, according to official conference statistics today.

Michigan has limited three league opponents to 7.3 points per game and an average total yardage of 196.6. Wolverine foes have made only 34 yards per game through the air and 3.59 yards per play.

All of these defensive figures are the best in the conference. Only Purdue can cut in on some of Michigan's defensive laurels. The Boilermakers are tops in limiting foes to an average 99.3 rushing yards in three contests. Illinois, whose homecoming attraction is with Purdue Saturday, is 2nd with 335.3.

Ohio State, sharing the league lead with Michigan, is No. 1 in rushing with 303 average in two games. Purdue is ahead in passing with 135 and Wisconsin is tops in yards per play with 5.69.

Individual leaders include: Rushing—Harry Jefferson, Illinois, 42 carries, 242 yards, 5.7 average; passing—Len Dawson, Purdue, 70 attempts, 41 completions, 382 yards, 3 touchdowns; total offense—Dawson, minus 25 yards rushing, 382 passing, 357 total.

Pontiac Cycle Club Plans Annual Acorn Run Sunday

Pontiac Motorcycle Club's annual 100-mile-long Acorn Run will be held Sunday. The race starts and ends at the Geringville Community Hall on Baldwin Avenue.

Club hopes to have 100 riders participating in the race, which covers back roads, trails, and swamps in northern Oakland County. Riders will compete in three classes.

All drivers will start with 1,000 points, losing one point for each minute late at a check station and dropping two points for each minute early. Oakland County Road Club will be stationed at various check spots to report via radio the points lost by each rider during the run.

First rider is scheduled to leave the starting post at 9 a.m., followed by another driver each minute thereafter. Winners will be determined by the highest overall score.

Thirteen trophies will be awarded, including a large traveling trophy. The rotating award must be won three times by a rider for permanent possession.

Geringville Women's Club will serve chicken dinner to the riders and their friends at the conclusion of the races.

Entry in the Acorn Run is open to any interested party. Spectators are welcome and well-marked vantage points will be provided.

British Women Win

LONDON (AP)—England routed the United States 6-0 Tuesday night in a women's international field hockey match, the first floodlit hockey match ever held in Britain.

'Bowl Fever' Hits Auburn

AUBURN, Ala. (AP)—The Auburn Tigers have clawed their way to the top of the Southeastern Conference and the altitude has caused a serious outbreak of gridiron bowl fever.

The Tigers haven't been defeated in 12 games and are ranked eighth in the nation. They have attracted the attention of the Sugar Bowl and Cotton Bowl.

Auburn has performed in the Gator Bowl for the past two years but the boys are shooting for bigger game this time. They whipped Baylor 33-13 New Year's Day to continue a winning streak that stretched to nine before Kentucky ruined it with a 14-14 tie.

Coach Ralph (Shug) Jordan says a "well rounded offense and a solid defensive game" have made Auburn the nation's 12th best team on offense.

Halfback Bob James, averaging 8 yards each time he carried the ball, has run up a total of 499 yards to rank fourth among the nation's leading ground gainers.

Jordan doesn't talk too much about bowl prospects since "we've got to get by Tulane and Mississippi State first." The Tigers meet Tulane at New Orleans Saturday and Mississippi State in a Homecoming game at Auburn the following week.

Much of the credit for the Tigers' new position, Jordan says, belongs to James, fullback Joe Childress, tackles Frank D'Agostino and M.L. Brackett, center-guard Bob Scarbrough, quarterback Howell Tubbs and ends Jimmy Phillips, Jerry Elliott and Jerry Sansom—in other words, just about the whole first team.

Childress, who wasn't even noticed as a high school player, is the No. 1 All-America candidate in the SEC. The conference selection board picked him this week as the one most likely to make it.

James, D'Agostino, Brackett and Phillips also were among 22 SEC players mentioned for All-America consideration. Phillips, a 6-foot-2 sophomore who weighs 205, is rated by some sports writers as better than Jim Pyburn, who left college to play baseball for Baltimore.

Until the 14-12 victory over Georgia Tech, Auburn hadn't shown a threatening pass combination. Catching the Engineers unprepared, Tubbs completed 7 of 9 aeriels for 118 yards, opening the way for both touchdowns.

TOPS IN SCORING — Jon Arnett of Southern California holds the lead in major college grid scoring with 76 points on 11 touchdowns and 10 conversions.

He scored three times last Saturday to move one point ahead of Jim Swink of Texas Christian.

Tenth Annual Pike Memorial Set for Nov. 1

Arrangements have been completed for the tenth anniversary of the Billy Pike Memorial award and dinner. The event, in memory of Billy Pike, former PHS and city baseball player, and a member of the team at the time of his death, has been held without a break since its inception.

Each year the group of fellow athletes and close friends of Pike has gathered for a dinner, and at these affairs a new member has been added yearly, as recipient of the Pike Memorial award, and to have his name engraved upon the handsome perpetual trophy.

This year, for the 1st time, wives of group members will be guests. Dinner takes place at Highland Manor.

Only two of the original group will be missing. Roy Clark, in Dallas, Tex., and Phil Haweli, in Anchorage Alaska, are unable to be here.

Social Outcast Alternate Entry

Vanderbilt Accepts Invitation for Nov. 11 International Race

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Alfred G. Vanderbilt today announced a qualified acceptance of an invitation to race Social Outcast in the Washington, D. C., International here Nov. 11.

Vanderbilt notified the American Selection Board he had accepted an invitation for Social Outcast to complete "as an alternate" to Traffic Judge and Duke's Lea.

He also said he is reserving the right to make a decision on Social Outcast's starting after his horse runs in the Trenton Handicap at Garden State Nov. 5.

The fifth running of the International will carry a $65,000 prize of which the winner gets $50,000.

At present, there are nine contenders in the field. They are Darius and Nucleus from England; Piccadilly and Mahan from France; Altair from Germany; Panadipper from Ireland and Prefect from Canada in addition to Traffic Judge and Duke's Lea.

Arnett Leads Swink in Scoring Battle

Southern California's Jon Arnett gained 116 yards by running against California last Saturday. The 16 were the ones that counted.

That's how far Arnett had to travel for the three touchdowns that put him ahead of Texas Christian's Jim Swink in their private duel for the major college football scoring lead.

Two of Arnett's scores came from six yards out, the other from four.

These two have almost outdistanced their rivals in the scoring race and latest NCAA Service Bureau statistics record 11 touchdowns and 10 extra points for a 76-point total for Arnett with Swink a point behind on 12 touchdowns and three conversions.

Pharmacist Who Refuses to Hunt Deer Bags Four

MIDDLEVILLE (AP)—Druggist V. V. Tabor, who never goes deer hunting because he "can't bear to shoot them," nevertheless has downed four without trying.

His 3rd and 4th deer, one a doe, recently jumped in front of his car about five miles from Fennville on M89. The previous two kills occurred separately in a like manner.

Tabor says repairs to his car have been costly every time.

After Being Outweighed in 5 Previous Games, Notre Dame Will Tip Scales Against Middies

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame's fighting Irish, outweighed in all five previous games, will turn the scales against unbeaten Navy in their big football battle Saturday at Notre Dame Stadium.

For what it may mean, and Notre Dame itself proved it doesn't mean too much to yield bulk to a foe, the Irish will outweigh the Middies, 201 to 197 pounds in the line and 190 to 172 in the starting backfield.

Notre Dame's lone defeat, a 21-7 reversal, came at the hands of a Michigan State team which prefers a lithe, streamlined lineup, but still outweighed the Irish.

Navy (168) and Paul Hornung of Notre Dame (205).

As befits his left, Hornung likes to crash the line which he does often on the option play. The frail-appearing Welsh cracks his split T whip with a deadly throwing arm.

Welsh isn't even listed as a ball carrier in Navy statistics, while Hornung is the third busiest Irish rusher with 31 thrusts for 247 yards and a 4.8 average.

But Welsh has completed 40 of 61 passes, mostly with a sudden ball, for 635 yards and 5 touchdowns.

While Welsh returns to action after resting as injured toe for two weeks, Hornung is nursing a bruised thigh. Navy is No. 4 in the AP poll this week. The Irish are in the No. 9 spot.

It would appear Navy has the better replacement at quarterback in Tom Forrestal, who was in charge of Navy's 33-0 win over Penn. No. 2 Irish quarterback is Larry Cooke, whose only pass of the season was intercepted and who has carried 8 times for a 2.1 average.

Biggest men in the two mobile, fast-charging rival lines are Gene Martell, 215, likely right guard starter in place of injured Bob Gaydos, for Notre Dame, and John Hopkins, 209-pound captain and left tackle, for Navy.

With the game dedicated to Knute Rockne, Irish coaching immortal, it will be "Old Notre Dame Coaches' Day." Appearing at halftime ceremonies will be Jess Harper, Hank Anderson, Elmer Loper, Frank Leahy and Ed McKewer, all ex-Irish head coaches.

'55 All-Star Staff Available for 1956

CHICAGO (INS)—The coaching staff which brought the 1955 college football All Stars to a 30-27 victory over the Cleveland Browns has been named to lead the collegians again in 1956.

Curley Lambeau, head coach, said yesterday he would be available to head the All-Star staff which also includes Harkley (Hunk) Anderson, Steve Owen and Hampton Pool.

Date of the annual classic was moved forward to Aug. 10 so that it would not conflict with the Democratic National convention which will be held later in the month.

Eagle Day, Mississippi quarterback, averaged 41.7 yards on 11 punts against Georgia and Kentucky this season.

MSU, Badger Tilt Looms as Bitter Fight

EAST LANSING (U)—Michigan State will run into a bitter bunch of Badgers at Madison Saturday. Wisconsin just isn't accustomed to being shoved around on the football field.

The Badgers now have lost two in a row to Southern California and Ohio State. Coach Ivy Williamson never has lost three running.

It's a "must" game for both teams, currently tied for 3rd. If they want to keep alive any long shot Big Ten championship hopes.

Since 1955, Wisconsin never has finished lower than 3rd in the conference. As recently as 1953, Badgers were the titlists and Rose Bowl winners. The year after they placed 3rd and last year were runners up to Ohio State.

Guy Sundt, well-liked Wisconsin athletic director, died suddenly this week and there is talk that this game will be dedicated to his memory.

It's the homecoming at Madison, too. So all this adds up to what looks like a rough afternoon for Michigan State.

Michigan State, with a 4-1 overall record, has to be the favorite, however, after convincing identical score 21-7 wins over Notre Dame and Illinois.

Quarterback Earl Morrill has developed into a headline-catching passer. The sophomores have been performing per early season promise with soph accounting for all three TDs against Illinois.

Clarence Peaks, in for only one play against Illinois, has been steadily recovering from his ankle sprain and will be ready for at least part-time service.

Michigan State also must win to go anywhere in the Big Ten this year and the young 1955 MSU squad likes the winning habit.

Last year, Wisconsin won 6-0 on a touchdown by Alan Ameche made when Michigan State had only 10 men on the field. The Spartans want to even up the modern-day series.

So Wisconsin should be in for a tough afternoon also, making it one of Saturday feature Big Ten ball games.

Terp 'Quarter' Ends 1st Year of Stardom

Tamburello Perhaps Top Maryland Pilot in School History

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (U)—Frank Tamburello celebrates his first anniversary on Saturday as Maryland's quarterback and perhaps its best ever.

It was on Oct. 30 last year against South Carolina, Saturday's foe, that Coach Jim Tatum turned to the sophomore Tamburello after Maryland had staggered through its first five games with two victories, two defeats and a tie quarterbacked by Charley Boxold.

Tamburello directed Maryland to a decisive 20-0 victory and kept on doing the same for the next four games. Maryland hasn't been beaten in 11 games since Tamburello took charge.

In fact, he takes charge so completely that deep down you have a feeling that while Coach Tatum admires it he isn't entirely sold on it.

"He's got a lot of imagination, he likes to do his own thinking," says Tatum. "He's naturally cocky and confident he can score anytime he wants."

Needles 'Sharp' for Stakes Run

Three Other Entries Doubtful Starters in Saturday's Race

CAMDEN, N.J. (U)—Needles, the early favorite in the Garden State Stakes at Garden State Park on Saturday, has been pronounced "sharp" by his trainer. But some of the other entries aren't in such good shape.

The Florida-bred Needles of the D & W Stables breezed five furlongs yesterday in 1:02 3/5, and his trainer said the horse was in fine fettle.

Three others, however, are doubtful starters in the race with a gross value of about $250,000. Trainer R. B. Carroll says he isn't sure Mrs. Natalie Lynch's Nan's Mink will be in the mile and a sixteenth event for 2-year-olds. Carroll will decide tomorrow.

Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' Singer is also an uncertainty because Trainer Oscar White isn't pleased with the horse's condition. On the very doubtful list is Eastgate of Calumet Farms. Eastgate just hasn't built up to the race properly and Calumet feels he might ruin his career with a bad race Saturday.

Bay City, Ann Arbor Keep Top Spots in Prep Roster

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
For the 2nd straight week, Bay City Central, Ann Arbor and Grand Rapids Catholic Central rank 1-2-3 in the Associated Press Class A high school football poll.

While there was no change among the three leaders, remainder of the top 10 underwent a thorough shakeup.

East Detroit, Saginaw and Benton Harbor all fell out of the select group, and were replaced by Muskegon, Saginaw Arthur Hill and Muskegon Heights.

So in the 5th week of the poll, the top 10 shaped up like this:
1. Bay City Central; 2. Ann Arbor; 3. Grand Rapids Catholic Central; 4. Battle Creek; 5. Birmingham; 6. Jackson; 7. Muskegon; 8. Flint Central; 9. The between Saginaw Arthur Hill and Muskegon Heights.

Second 10 consisted of East Detroit, Lincoln Park, Saginaw, Niles and Wyandotte, Kalamazoo, Dearborn Fordson, Grosse Pointe, Flint Northern, Grand Rapids South and Benton Harbor.

Record Number Fish Permits on the Way

LANSING (U)—The State Conservation Department began today to distribute a record 1,800,000 fishing licenses to the state's 4,200 dealers.

Licenses and fishing regulations for 1956 will be available after Dec. 1.

License fees remain the same as last year: $1.50 for annual resident permits, $4 for annual non-resident permits and $3 for 15-day non-resident permits. Trout stamps will still cost $1.

New Station Wagon for American Motors

DETROIT (INS)—American Motors Corp. today announced a new Rambler station wagon incorporating the first four-door hardtop construction to be used in station wagons.

The new car, called the cross-country hardtop convertible, will be included in the 1956 line of Ramblers.

The auto eliminates center posts between the side windows and has a rear window which rolls down into the tail gate, doing away with the upper tail gate found on most station wagons.

AMC President Romney said the model will be added to the line in January.

Wholesale Food Prices Lowest Since June, 1950

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index dropped this week to its lowest level since the start of the Korean War.

At $6.05, the Dun & Bradstreet yardstick of wholesale food costs was down 9.5 per cent from a year ago and the lowest since June 27, 1950.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 basic food items. Last week it stood at $6.08 and a year ago at $6.71. It was $6.04 at the outbreak of the Korean fighting nearly five-and-a-half years ago.

Contributing to the decline this week were lower wholesale prices for wheat, corn, beef, lard, cottonseed oil, cocoa, eggs, steers and hogs.

Higher were flour, rye, oats, barley, bellies, butter and potatoes.

Agent Pays $15,000 for Two Yearlings

LEXINGTON, Ky. (U)—Agent Harris Robertson paid $15,000 each for two yearlings consigned by Starmount Stable last night, the day's highest prices at the Keeneland fall sales.

Robertson bought a chestnut colt by Billings-Fleet and a bay filly by Double Jay-Wave Crest. The night session saw 76 head average $3,135 to bring the sales' overall average to $2,498 on 324 head.

The $7,000 Mrs. Elizabeth Muckler paid for a bay colt by Michel-Hen Herade topped the afternoon session.

Pete Wright, sophomore Yale Center, was undefeated as a freshman wrestler last winter? He's 6 feet 1 and 200 pounds.

A Madison Eagle grid powerhouse, hungry for its 1st Oakland-B League title, will attempt to snap a five-year jinx Friday night at home against Roseville Wildcats as the Class B conference nears the season finale.

Eagles boast the only undefeated mark in the Oakland-B circuit and have been rated by many as the 3rd ranking Class B prep team in the state, behind Center Line and Trenton.

In six encounters Don Scott's boys not only rate the best overall record, but also hold the best defensive mark. They allowed opposition 21 points while chalking up 74.

Scott's team is seeking its 1st win over the invaders in five years. Eagles were blanked last season 18-0 by Roseville.

Scott attributes the team's successful climb to the top to team balance. "We don't rely on any one person to carry the attack. We have about six players that share in our scoring this year to prove the point," the mentor said.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY
CLOCK-WISE ACTION — Buddy Bomar's suggestion on shooting spares is unique and practical. The former world match champion uses the clock-hand system of angles. In making the No. 7, as sketch shows, the angle is from the right side of the alley. It's a "10 o'clock angle." The No. 10, on the right, shot from the left, is in line with the 2 o'clock hand. On intermediate pins, the Nos. 5, 8 and 9, the angles are 11, 12 and 1 o'clock.

In shooting spares the position of the hand in gripping the ball, more specifically the thumb position, is important. The thumb is at ball center in angling for pins on the left side, with the fingers on the outside of the ball, to the right, as sketch shows. The ball will hook. To shoot right side pins, move the palm of the hand behind and underneath the ball, with the thumb turned slightly to the right of ball center. The ball will back up, reverse, with a little left-to-right spin, easy to control.

Swing smoothly. No rush. No snap-release of the ball. Follow-through is the big factor.

BACK OF THE WEEK—Wheaton College (Ill.) halfback Kirk Hotholt of 779 Mae Street, Pontiac, was named Wheaton's "Back-of-the-Week" after averaging 35 yards punting and setting up the 1st touchdown in Wheaton's 14-0 victory over Illinois Wesleyan last Saturday. It was Kirk's 1st start in his college career for the sophomore grad of Pontiac High ('53).

Sooners Take to Airways to Build 24-Game Streak

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma's football team is famous for its devastating ground game, but this season the Sooners are cashing in on a deadly air attack which has proven a potent weapon in five victories.

Currently, the Sooners are getting a high return on their investment in this passing business. They have completed 24 of 43 aerials for 398 yards and a percentage of 55.8 while throwing an average of 8.6 passes per game.

The most significant point about their success through the air is that only one pass has been intercepted. That was by Corky Cost of Pittsburgh and he was nailed in his tracks after hauling in one of quarterback Jim Harris' throws.

Coach Bud Wilkinson says "it's the mistakes that beat you in football," so he should be pretty proud about the way the Sooners have avoided interceptions.

Halfback Tommy McDonald has been Oklahoma's best passer as well as its rushing leader and top scorer. He has completed 10 of 13 passes for 156 yards. His completion percentage is 76.9, probably the best in the nation.

The Sooners have scored only two touchdowns on passes and both of these were thrown by Billy Sturm of Muskogee, Okla., who runs the third team. However, they have taken to the zone to set up numerous touchdowns.

McDonald's passing record is considered all the more phenomenal because he uses the "running pass." It puts a lot of pressure on the defensive halfback. If he stays back, McDonald runs wide toward him. If he comes up, McDonald throws over him while on the run.

Dozen Teams in Class A, 11 in B; Chiefs Are Defending Titlists

Next to the last big cross-country test of the fall season is near at hand for Pontiac High School's unbeaten squad.

Coach Wally Schloerke will take his distance runners to Birmingham High School athletic field Saturday morning in quest of their 8th straight victory of the year. They will also defend the Michigan High School Athletic Association crown, won in the 1954 regionals.

There will be lots of tough competition. A field of 11 other Class A schools has entered teams, and many of these runners are capable of making a real battle of it. However, the Chiefs are odds-on favorites to collect another title.

The Maples' course will also be the scene of the regional Class B harrier race, with 11 schools in the field. Walled Lake's unbeaten squad is the favorite for this event, Franklin Whitney, Birmingham athletic director and meet manager, reports.

"Pontiac's overall strength will probably give the Chiefs an edge in Class A," says Whitney. "Walled Lake beat us this fall, and has some good boys. They should be regarded as the one to beat in Class B."

Class B race starts at 10:30. Class A run will go immediately after the course is cleared of the "B" runners.

Draws for positions will be made Saturday morning. Trophies for championship teams, plus individual medals to 1st place team, and medals to the 1st 15 finishers will be given in each class.

Schloerke's squad was hit a real blow yesterday afternoon. It may be only temporary, however. Perry Williams, No. 1 Chief, usually a pretty good student, slipped a bit and was benched by failure. Perry is already hard at work and is expected to be back in time for next week's state meet. Alex Barge also felt the "study axe."

The entries:
CLASS A—Pontiac, Birmingham, De LaSalle, Catholic Central, Detroit St. Joseph's, Northfield, Hamtramck, Hazel Park, Mt. Clemens, Waterford, Royal Oak, Detroit Redford Union, (list time in event).
CLASS B—Auburn Heights, Crosswell, Farmington, Livonia, Clawsonville, Milford, St. Clair, Van Dyke Lincoln, Walled Lake, Mt. Morris, Center Line.

Tennessee Gridiron Picture Brightening

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (P)—A Tennessee team that is showing signs of regaining its place among the football elite journeys to Chapel Hill Saturday to meet the North Carolina Tar Heels.

Minnesota's pleasant crop this year is said to be far above the average.

Dates for the 1956 Olympics have been set for Nov. 22 through Dec. 8.

Wake Forest baseball team scored more than eight runs a game in 25 games on the 1955 schedule.

The Volunteers, after early season losses to Mississippi State and Duke, have chalked up successive victories over Chattanooga, Alabama and Dayton.

Admittedly the opposition was not top drawer, but it was the manner in which Tennessee won that impressed opposing coaches, scouts and sportswriters.

Even Coach Bowden Wyatt, who said he expected his rebuilding program at Tennessee to take at least two years, concedes that the Vols are "improved all along the line."

"Our boys are not making as many mistakes as they did in the early games," Wyatt said. "We've got a lot of spirit and determination."

The Tar Heels have won only one game while dropping four.

Their lone victory was a 25-18 decision over North Carolina State. Losses were to Oklahoma, Georgia, Maryland and Wake Forest.

"They have a better team than their record indicates," Wyatt declared. "I look for them to find themselves against us."

The emergence of John (Drum) Majors, 165-pound junior, as a standout tailback has jelled the Vols into a well-knit, confident and cohesive gridiron machine.

"Johnny has taken charge of things on the field," Wyatt said. "Not only has that helped the team as a whole, but it has helped him individually. He's the boss on the field and he knows it."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Either Pacific Coast Conference football is getting better or the Big 10 brand is slipping, a check of the records showed today.

PCC teams have defeated Big 10 opponents four times in six games this season with one more to go—and Southern California is a near unanimous choice to make it five out of seven over Minnesota Saturday at Minneapolis.

The record is a complete switch from that compiled only one year ago. Western teams won only twice in six encounters during 1954 regular season play.

All-time PCC records, dating back to 1916, show member teams with a combined 33-39-3 slate against the Big 10 and a 179-131-16 mark against all other non-conference teams.

What about the Rose Bowl? PCC teams have won only twice in 11 games with Big 10 teams while posting a 14-10-3 mark against all other schools. The last Coast triumph in the Pasadena post-season classic was Southern California's 7-0 over Wisconsin in the 1953 game. The first was in 1921, when California whopped Ohio State, 21-0.

The Big 10 has won 8 of the 9 Rose Bowl games played between the two conferences since the present series started in 1947.

Trace Philly Bandits to Motor City Area

DETROIT (INS)—Search for three bandits sought in the $14,000 holdup of a suburban Philadelphia bank turned to Detroit yesterday.

An ex-convict confessed in Newark, N.J., that he drove the trio—two men and a woman—from the New Jersey city to Detroit for a promised $1,000 "cut" of the money stolen Oct. 10 from a branch bank in Radnor, a Philadelphia suburb.

Detective Frank Gudera of the Newark Police Department, said he would ask the Detroit FBI office to join the hunt.

Montreal Leads Hockey Circuit by Slim Margin

New York's Surprising Rangers Dump Detroit, Trail by One Point

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It begins to look as if the old order finally has changed in the National Hockey League.

How else are you going to explain the New York Rangers whipping the Detroit Red Wings 6-2 last night and climbing within a single point of league-leading Montreal?

The Rangers matched Montreal in victories with the astonishingly easy decision over the Red Wings. New York, long nothing more than an also-ran, battered the Wings, champs of the NHL for seven years, for a 5-3-0 record and 10 points. Montreal, losing to Toronto 2-1, has a 5-2-1 mark for 11 points.

Under the "rock-and-roll" methods of new Coach Phil Watson, the Rangers socked the Red Wings for the second time in two meetings this season, raising their goal-scoring lead to 31. The high-flying Canadiens, by comparison, have scored 34.

Ron Murphy, who scored only 14 goals in 60 games last season, took over the individual lead with two against the Wings for a total of eight. Dave Creighton, a Detroit cast off, shattered into the point-scoring lead with a goal and an assist for 12.

Ted Lindsay was the only "winner" for the Wings. His goal at 13:10 of the third period gave him a lifetime total of 270—tying the mark for left wingers set by Montreal's Aurel Joliat.

Rookie Dick Duff, a 19-year-old left-winger, brought Toronto home on top. He scored both lead goals—shooting the payoff score into the nets at 2:39 of the final period. The victory lifted Toronto out of the cellar and into a fifth place tie with the Red Wings, who had been unbeaten in four straight before losing at New York.

Blaik's 'Magic Touch' Keeps Army Team Going

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Nobody has ever called Earl (Red) Blaik a sleight of hand performer but he could well qualify for membership in the American Society of Magicians from the way he has moved his Army football players around this season.

It is not by choice that Blaik has had to dig deep into his bag of tricks to put a creditable team on the field Saturday after Saturday. Injuries forced the veteran coach to make shifts in a team that at the start of the pre-season drills figured to be one of the best in Blaik's 15-year tenure at the point.

First it was the backfield that had him shifting players like a chess master. The backfield still is a major problem as the twice-beaten Cadets prepare to meet once-whipped Colgate Saturday.

But at least Blaik will have the same starting backfield for the second straight Saturday with Don Hollender at quarter, Pete Lash and Mike Zeigler as halfbacks and Pat Uebel at full.

Blaik had no more than announced his starting backfield, with his fingers crossed since the Colgate game still is two days away, when a line problem turned up that forced him to perform another of his tricks.

This time he shifted Ralph Chesnauskas, one of the outstanding guards in the East last season and a starter at left tackle in all five Army games this fall, to right end. Chesnauskas, a native of Brockton, Mass., has never played a varsity game at end at West Point. However, he saw three years as a wingman in high school.

The injury flax which has courted the Army squad tenaciously since practice started early in September prompted the shuffle. The Cadets have gone through a total of five right ends. Dave Thomas, Don Satterfield, Bill Saunders and more recently Bill Melnik have been hobbled by knee injuries. Each was in the starting lineup at one time or the other this fall.

Saunders and Satterfield may be available for limited duty against Colgate. Melnik is out until possibly the Yale game Nov. 5.

Loren Reid, a 6-1 200-pound alternate tackle from Ft. Collins, Colo., will move into the tackle spot vacated by Chesnauskas.

Meantime, the backfield situation has brightened somewhat. Dick Murland, out for three weeks after the Penn State game with a chronic Charley horse, looked good in limited action against Columbia last Saturday but he'll now have to earn his job back.

Bob Kyasky, from whom big things had been expected, still has his left knee in a cast and there's a remote possibility he'll be ready for the Yale game. Blaik is not even planning on any help from speedy Joe Cygler. He has a broken ankle.

Blaik isn't even thinking of next year yet, but it's nice to know that men like Murland, Kyasky and Cygler have another year of eligibility.

Mexican Team Leads at Show

Bettors U. S., Irish and Canadian Teams in Eastern Event

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Mexican Army horse show team, still shaking off the effects of automobile accident injuries suffered last week, is once again dominating international competition at the Pennsylvania Horse Show.

The Mexican team captured its third event last night to match the total of wins by United States, Irish and Canadian teams. Each has one victory.

Lt. Roberto Vinals, a relative newcomer to the Mexican team, beat out the team captain, Brig. Gen. Humberto Mariles in a four-man jump-off to win last night's competition over an eight-jump course with two clean rides.

Behind Mariles were Lt. Patrick J. Kiernan of Ireland and Irish team captain Kevin Barry. It gave Mexico permanent possession of the Governor's Challenge Trophy.

Multi-Lakes Club Helps Out in School Camp Idea

Providing some of the financial needs required in operation of the community school camping plan has given Multi-Lakes Conservation association more than passing interest in the program, now in operation at Walled Lake and Milford school districts.

Two groups of Walled Lake youngsters will enjoy the camping facilities at the Proud Lake Recreation Area. They include children in the 7th grade. These groups of 20 children each, will go to camp during March.

Milford district plans to send three groups to the camp: in November, in February and in April of 1956. Each group consists of some 60 boys and girls, under careful supervision.

Other districts have been approached by the M-L group pushing the plan. They included Dublin, Farmington, West Bloomfield and Birmingham. There has been no response, so far, M-L men say.

Schools conduct the camping programs, provide the supervision and other personnel. M-L aids by absorbing some of the costs of operation.

Camping programs have been made available with the expansion of barracks and other facilities at the area. The club has been informed facilities will be doubled next year.

Resurgence of Spartans Attributed to Morrall

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's resurging football team is winning Morrall (pronounced Morol) instead of moral victories this year.

The difference is in quarterback Earl Morrall, 6-foot-1 senior from Muskegon, with the nickname of "Eyebrows."

Morrall made his first bid for national attention when he quarterbacked the MSU Spartans to a 21-7 defeat of Notre Dame before the national TV camera.

Last week, in leading Michigan State to identical 21-7 victory over Illinois, Morrall put on a one-man show. He threw two Michigan passing and a 30-yard completion set up the third score.

So far this season, he has 22 completions in 34 tries for 464 aerial yards and a .647 percentage.

Morrall has drawn rave notices for his ball-handling in the running of Michigan State's complicated multiple offense.

The MSU quarterback has shown novelty in calling his plays—first down passes are typical. He's been getting away some booming punts—like a 67-yarder against Illinois.

All this has helped add up to a 4-1 record for Michigan State and the No. 5 spot in the AP poll.

Westinghouse Renews Efforts

Work Stoppages Hurt Third Quarter Earnings of Electric Company

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp., its third-quarter sales and earnings hurt by work stoppages at its plants, today renewed efforts to end strikes by two big production workers' unions.

Determined stands by both unions and the company appeared to offer little hope of early settlement, however.

Westinghouse stated negotiations today with the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, and tentatively arranged a meeting with representatives of the independent United Electrical Workers tomorrow.

Since CIO-IUE has been on strike since Oct. 16, it is demanding a 15-cent hourly pay boost, limitations on company time studies, and a one-year contract.

The independent United Electrical Workers called out the remainder of its members yesterday.

Some 7,500 UE members have been on strike in suburban Philadelphia and Jersey City, N.J., since Oct. 14, making demands similar to those of the CIO-IUE.

The CIO-IUE has 44,000 members. The UE claims 17,000 but Westinghouse says its figure is closer to 10,500. The strike also has killed an added 10,000 supervisory employees.

Both unions rejected a proposal for a five-year agreement which the company said provided for 25% cents an hour in raises over that period. Production workers average about $2.10 an hour.

The Federation of Westinghouse Independent Salaried Unions and the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers also have rejected the proposal, but have not called a strike.

Westinghouse, in a third-quarter earnings report, said net income for the three months ended Sept. 30 was $14,422,000 or 84 cents a share, compared to $17,285,000 or $1.04 a share in the same period last year.

Gwilym A. Price, president and chairman of the board, said a six-week walkout at the East Pittsburgh plant, a three-day strike at 29 plants, and a decline in defense orders caused the drop in income.

No One Can Start Feud Between Jackie, Como

We're glad President Eisenhower took a step. It had seemed that more people were worrying whether he'd run again, than whether he'd walk again.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Howdy, Customers! Quiet your tattered nerves with these thoughts from "Outspan," the popular Johannesburg, South African, magazine: "The remarkable thing about college reunions is that your classmates have got so stout and bald they hardly recognize you."

Also: "Quiet people aren't the only ones who don't say much."

It's distressing—us reporters can't cook up a feud between Jackie Gleason and Perry Como, the Saturday night TV rivals.

"Perry's a fine man; we play cards together," says Jackie. And Como regrets being on opposite him 'cause he can't watch the Gleason show.

Gleason denies reports he might switch from filmed to "live" shows. "Our scripts are better than last year's and we're perfectly satisfied," Jackie told us. "Nobody's beaten us yet."

5 Los Angeles Cops Seized as Robbers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Five Los Angeles policemen are accused of burglarizing stores while on duty.

All resigned immediately from the force and then were booked into jail on suspicion of burglary. They later were freed on writs of habeas corpus returnable Tuesday.

Accused are Lester M. Friday, 34; Charles H. Farnell, 32; Charles F. Brock, 31; Elmer Bolsters, 30; and former vice squad officer Frank C. Grossman, 32.

Said Police Chief William H. Parker: "These men have got to know that one of the cardinal sins of this Police Department is the violation of the law they are sworn to uphold. If guilty, they will be prosecuted even more vigorously than others because of their sworn duty as upholders of the law."

Parker said items seized at some of the policemen's homes included movie projectors, cameras, auto tires, skin diving equipment, power tools and power lawn mowers. He added that Grossman and Farnell deny the charges but the other three admitted implication.

Teller Crashes Plane Into Bank

Pilot Dies in Smashup; Hired Small Craft After Being Fired From Job

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A private pilot was instantly killed when his light plane crashed through the window of a branch bank at International Airport, showering glass on the official who had fired him from a teller-trainee job only the day before.

Witnesses said Benjamin Fauth, 37, the bank's chief clerk, was in the bank of America branch. Diners in the flight deck restaurant on the second story of the building were jarred but no one was injured.

"I heard a boom and hit the floor. When I got up I saw the plane in the room," said Robert J. Workman, 37, the bank's chief clerk. He said he discharged Fauth because "his work was not serious enough." Workman suffered a cut cheek.

Fauth had rented the plane with a full tank of gas only an hour before at nearby Hawthorne Airport.

Police investigator A. L. Waggoner said Fauth apparently "was trying to get even with the bank for firing him and get rid of himself at the same time."

In Toppish, Wash., Fauth's father, E. Fauth, said he could not understand the crash.

Truman, Wallace, Barkley Argue Vice Presidency

NEW YORK (AP)—Three former Democratic vice presidents disagree on how best to nominate a man for that office.

Their thoughts on the matter were brought out last night in separate interviews on the Edward R. Murrow show "See It Now" over CBS.

Henry A. Wallace suggested no change from the present system of nomination by national conventions. However, he warned that a policy split between the President and vice president could be dangerous in "these troublesome times" and urged "an increasing sense of awareness on the part of both the general public and the delegates to the national conventions."

Sen. Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky.) said he favored direct nationwide primary elections to choose candidates for both the presidency and vice presidency.

Harry S. Truman said direct primaries were ideal, "but there isn't a man in the world with money enough to put on a direct primary for President and then run for president."

"It would require an immense amount of money in each one of the states," he added, "and I am not so sure that it would obtain the results that we think about."

Hollywood Headlines:

Yen for Lindbergh Role Dates to Stewart Boyhood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—James Stewart admits that the story of his yen to play Charles A. Lindbergh on the screen sounds amazing.

He is now playing the famed flier in the story of his Atlantic hop, "The Spirit of St. Louis." He has returned from filming locations in France, Ireland and Greenland and soon starts the Hollywood shooting. Relaxing at his spacious Beverly Hills home, he told about his long admiration of Lindbergh.

"I was a nut about flying, too," he recalled, speaking of his days as a lad in Indiana, Pa. "I had already had my first flight in an old Curtiss plane where you sat up in front."

"When Lindbergh made his flight, I happened to be out of school. I had scarlet fever, I think. Anyway, I'd hang around the family hardware store, looking for something to do."

"I was making window displays, so I got a piece of pasteboard and cut it out like part of a globe. At one side I put the Woolworth Building and at the other, the Eiffel Tower. Then I made a model of Lindbergh's plane."

"After he took off, I'd check with the local paper and move the plane as each report came in."

After Lindbergh landed safely, Jimmy kept a scrapbook of newspaper clippings about the flier. He picked it up when he passed through his home town returning from Europe. He also searched the family store for the model of the Spirit of St. Louis but couldn't find it.

Jimmy had wanted to play Lindbergh on the screen for years. He tried to buy the flier's book when it came out three years ago. But Lindbergh wouldn't sell. He finally succumbed to the wiles of producer Leland Hayward, himself an aviation enthusiast.

Hayward is a close friend of Stewart's, but he didn't tumble for Jimmy's broad hints that he'd like to play the part. The producer said he was looking for an unknown. Jimmy is convinced his dad got him the role.

"I was out to dinner a Chasen's with Leland and his wife, dad and his wife, and my wife, Gloria," he remembered. "We were talking about movies and things when dad suddenly got up and shouted, 'What the hell is this about your not giving my son the Lindbergh role?'"

"I was surprised and also embarrassed, because you could hear him all over Chasen's. But apparently it did the trick. Later Leland said I was going to do the part."

Births in the United States are holding to a rate of 4,000,000 a year, the highest in history.

Management and Unions Disagree Over Automation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Congressional committee trying to find out what automation will bring to America has called in two businessmen, a scientist and a labor leader to talk about it.

The session is the seventh in a series of hearings conducted by Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) for a special subcommittee of the Senate-House joint committee on the economic report.

On the list of witnesses were Ralph J. Cordiner, president of the General Electric Co.; W. P. Kennedy, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; Thomas J. Walsh, professor of chemical engineering at the Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland, Ohio; and Ralph E. Cross of the Cross Co., Detroit, Mich.

So far, businessmen, scientists and labor leaders have differed in testimony on whether automation will bring unemployment.

WILL MAKE NEW JOBS

Dr. Cledo Brunetti, director of engineering research and development for General Mills, Inc., told the committee he believed automation would add 15 million new jobs in the next 10 years and it was possible this country wouldn't have the working force to meet the demands for increased production.

J. A. Beltrac, president of the Communications Workers of America, on the other hand, predicted there would be 200,000 fewer employees by 1965 in the Bell Telephone System unless there are tremendous business increases to offset automation.

James J. Nance, president of the Studebaker-Packard Corp., also was scheduled to testify but sent word the company was so busy trying to meet its competition it could not spare the manpower. He begged to be excused.

Patman had the explanation put in the record, and with a smile, asked anybody in general: "Do you think there's a monopoly in the automobile business?"

Mailman Gets Swamped With Parakeet Fanciers

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Parakeets are more numerous than you think, says mailman Paul Duran. A parakeet took a fancy to Duran on his rounds and followed him home. He told newspapers he would return the parakeet to anyone who could identify it accurately.

He said his telephone rang all the next day as owners of missing birds sought to find if the parakeet was theirs.

Parents, You Can Win Out Over Dragnet!

By PHYLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK, (NS) — Parents: Unless your child is seriously working toward a career in organized crime, either as government man or gunman, it might be wise to study his playtime habits.

Chances are his activities are a little on the homicidal side. "It's all good fun at this stage of their lives," says Mrs. Rowena Shoemaker, referring to TV, movies and parlor sports dealing in murder and milder forms of vice. "But much as I try not to be stuffy about it, I don't think it's smart for a youngster to dwell on this kind of thing."

"A little slaughter goes a long way, don't you think?" We certainly thought so, and proceeded to ask Mrs. Shoemaker what should be done about the situation. Since she is assistant director of the Play Schools Association, an organization to establish leisure facilities and play schools throughout the country, she should know.

"It's the fault of parents, I'm afraid, because they don't take as active a part in the playing of games with their children as they used to."

Mr. and Mrs. Parent often look down their horrified noses at their little ones while they (the little ones) are watching crime shows, or playing manslaughter-type parlor games. Then frequently — without investigating either show or game — they simply say, "Now you'll stop doing (or playing) that."

CRIME ATTRACTIVE
"You know the kind of reaction that brings," says Mrs. Shoemaker. "The kids go next door to watch and play. And, like anything else you are deprived of, crime becomes almost instantly a most absorbing and attractive prospect."

A more practical approach to the problem than saying "no," flatly and without understanding, is to offer the youngsters other diversions — in which you, too, as a parent, take part.

First, the expert suggests, you might sit in on the parlor games or TV sessions and then say — as if you were bored, rather than disapproving — that you know something that's better.

Then introduce your healthier pastime.

The "danger age" for youngsters is between 4 and 8, when they're obsessed with curiosity. During this period the important thing, Mrs. Shoemaker believes, is to make them curious about the right things.

Give them a fling at old games like geography puzzles and "Who Am I?", and new games like "The World Around Us Lotto." Prepare their interest in the next stage of life ("teenspeak starts at 10") through packaged golf, baseball, football games.

TV Monitoring of Expressways Wins Approval

DETROIT (NS) — Nearly 100 road engineers took a look yesterday at Detroit's experiment with television monitoring of expressway traffic.

They approved it.

J. C. Young, design engineer of Sacramento, Calif., said, "The possibilities seem tremendous. California has been interested in something of the same kind but hasn't made quite as much progress. For one thing you don't have to contend with fog and smog in this area."

Young was among road engineers from 26 states touring Detroit expressways.

They studied the movement of expressway traffic over a television set in the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. auditorium. The system was set up for research and study.

Thomas Killeen, deputy in the Streets and Traffic Division, told the engineers the monitoring cuts several minutes from the time it takes to get police and wrecking equipment to a trouble spot.

anagrams and word games. James Brunot, "father of scrabble," insists a bright child can whip a mediocre adult at his game, which

When Gangbusters and the ring they're after become more real to Junior than his mother and pop — beware!

Sympathy for Victim

DETROIT (NS) — A nervous robber apologized to taxicab driver Edward Gryniewicz for taking his wrist watch and $8 in cash yesterday. For 30 minutes the robber told of his financial troubles. Then it was the cabbie's turn to talk. He would at least like to have the wrist watch back. It was a graduation present from his mother. He got it back plus 50 cents "for cigarettes and coffee because you look nervous and probably need it."
