JFK Hands Congress Red-Ink Budget News

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy broke the bad budget news to Congress today — two years of red ink financing for an apparent combined deficit of $5 billion, sending the national debt to new records.

In a special budget message, Kennedy discarded as "over-optimistic" the January estimates of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower had forecast a slim $80-million surplus this year and a $1.5 billion surplus in fiscal 1962, starting July 1.

There is no surplus in the inherited Eisenhower budget for 1961, Kennedy advised Congress. It is "over $2 billion" out of balance," he said.

The actual estimate is $2.2 billion. It means the debt limit must be raised again, the President said.

The surplus heralded for fiscal 1962 has become a $1.8 billion deficit on the civilian side alone, Kennedy announced.

He said the Eisenhower administration, which never admitted there was a recession, based its revenue estimate on "a much rosier economy."

Officials said Kennedy's military program, plus revised estimates of the cost of defense programs, will send the total 1962 deficit beyond $3 billion and swell the public debt by mid-1962 to a record of about $290 billion.

Nowhere in this message was there the slightest indication of a possible temporary tax cut to combat the business slump.

As Eisenhower had done, Kennedy asked an $843-million postal rate increase to eliminate the Post Office deficit.

The President's defense program is due to reach Congress next week. Today's 6,000-word message dealt only with civilian matters.

Many paragraphs were devoted to documenting Kennedy's pledge —made in his State of the Union message — that his program would not unbalance the budget "of and by themselves."

"It is my determined purpose to be a prudent steward of the public funds—to obtain a dollar's worth of results for every dollar we spend," the President said.

His 1962 budget is precisely balanced at $83.2 billion of income and outgo, Kennedy said. If the Eisenhower estimate of defense spending and tax collections is accepted.

But a "more realistic" judgment of the impact of the business slump reduces receipts to $81.4 billion, he added.

The 1962 fiscal figures in brief: outgo, $83.2 billion; income, $81.4 billion. The totals compared with Eisenhower's proposed $80.9 billion of outlays and proposed $82.3 billion of revenues.

Embattled Nation Charges:

6 More Red Units Invade Laos

AP Photofax

DEMONSTRATES HIS POINT — President Kennedy talks to reporters at Thursday night's news conference. The Chief Executive, at the opening of the conference, discussed the Laos situation and used three different maps, picturing how pro-Communist rebels have gained ground in the last seven months in Laos.

U.S. and British Sound Warning to Khrushchev

Other Nations Pleased at President's Decision to Take Action

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will convene a meeting of Communist heads of state Tuesday to discuss the increasingly critical situation in Laos, diplomatic sources said today. Communist China will be represented by an observer.

From Our News Wires

President Kennedy's warning that Russia must stop the Soviet-backed rebellion in Laos or face possible intervention drew hearty support today from U.S. allies.

There was no immediate response from Moscow to the appeal for a cease-fire delivered to the Kremlin by the British Thursday.

A British foreign office spokesman said in London that Russia has promised to study "carefully and urgently" the British proposal.

The spokesman said this was the initial reaction of Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Firyubin when British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts handed him the three-point note on Laos.

British officials warmly welcomed Kennedy's call for a peaceful settlement.

"Neither Washington nor London considers intervention would settle anything," one official said.

West German officials gave Kennedy's statements a similar welcome, seeing neutrality for Laos a step toward easing the Cold War.

Will Headline GOP Show

Nixon in Detroit May 9

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in his first major political appearance since he was defeated for the presidency last November, will speak in Detroit May 9 at a Republican party fund-raising extravaganza.

The Pontiac Press learned that Nixon, now with a Los Angeles law firm, will come to headline a show of Hollywood stars at Olympia Stadium.

The show will be something new to Michigan Republicans. It takes the place of the annual spring $100-a-plate fund-raising dinners at which former President Eisenhower and Nixon used to be beamed into Detroit and other major cities by way of closed-circuit television.

Republicans might be taking somewhat of a clue from their counterparts who looked to an array of Hollywood talent to help erase a sizable debt accrued from helping President John F. Kennedy defeat Nixon, when they staged a preinaugural show in Washington. Both parties played heavily on a cast of screen, television and sport stars to plug for their presidential candidates during the campaign.

RICHARD M. NIXON

One of them working for the Republican cause, former screen actor George Murphy, is drawing up the list of stars for the May gathering. Names of those to appear are still indefinite.

Murphy visited Birmingham Oct. 26 to put in a plug for Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge, vice presidential candidate.

In order to make it possible for more Michigan Republicans to come and hear Nixon and his accompanying all-star line-up, the Tuesday night affair will have tickets scaled from around $3 to $50 to broaden the base of party giving.

Similar shows will probably be held in nearby cities like Flint and Grand Rapids, but Nixon is expected to appear only in Detroit.

15 U.S. Helicopters Fly to Thailand in Support of Aid Mission

By The Associated Press

The Laotian government charged today six new Communist North Vietnamese Battalions have invaded Laos.

The charge came on the heels of President Kennedy's appeal Thursday night to Premier Khrushchev for a peaceful solution of the crisis in the Southeast Asian kingdom where Communist-backed rebels are fighting Western-backed government forces.

The U.S. Embassy in Vientiane announced 15 helicopters from the U.S. 7th Fleet arrived in neighboring Thailand en route to the American Aid Mission supporting the royal Laotian army.

The Laotian government, battered without respite since March 7 by Soviet-supplied Pathet Lao rebels, charged that three Red

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower today expressed satisfaction with President Kennedy's policies in the Laos crisis. Eisenhower told newsmen Kennedy telephoned him this morning and they discussed the situation.

He said Kennedy asked if the Laos situation would come up in a news conference Eisenhower had set, and then outlined his position. "His idea seemed to conform exactly with what we had tried to do the last few years, so I went along with him," Eisenhower said.

North Vietnamese battalions have been thrown into an assault on Kam Keut in the narrow central section of Laos, about midway between Thailand and North Viet Nam.

Similar invasion charges have been made repeatedly in the past but the government has not offered conclusive proof and did not today.

NEW DELHI, India — Special U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman delivered to Prime Minister Nehru today a special message from President Kennedy on the Laos situation.

"I think it is a helpful message," Nehru told reporters later.

Harriman said Kennedy has asked Nehru "for his cooperation and the prime minister said he was glad to cooperate in any way he can."

Asked if he was prepared to convene the International Control Commission here in an effort to bring a Laotian cease-fire, Nehru said he was willing but "we cannot offhand do it."

At Bangkok, Thailand, SEATO's military experts denounced Communist intervention in Laos and said they had prepared new defense plans against Red expansion in Southeast Asia.

A communique issued at the end of a three-day meeting of the military men used round about terms but informed sources said they had mapped a master battle plan for use in Laos if the Communists reject a cease-fire offer.

The master plan will be presented to the foreign ministers of the eight nations of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization when they meet in Bangkok next week.

The communique emphasized the need for continued solidarity among the eight nations to safeguard the freedom of the peoples of the non-Communist states."

To Remove Charges Against Spy Suspect

CHICAGO (AP) — The Department of Justice today moved to dismiss spy indictments against Igor Y. Melekh, Russian employe of the United Nations, provided he leaves the United States by April 17.

U.S. District Court Judge Edwin M. Robson agreed to dismiss the charges after he was told that the motion was drawn by Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, after consultation with State Department officials to serve "national and foreign policy interests of the United States."

Albert F. Manion, first assistant U.S. attorney, said the government also planned to drop prosecution of Willie Hirsch, 52, German-born illustrator who was charged with conspiring with Melekh to obtain photographs of military installations in the Chicago area.

Melekh and Hirsch were scheduled to make a plea in arraignment before U.S. District Judge Edwin A. Robson today.

Instead, the court heard Robert Tieken, U.S. district attorney, and his assistant, Albert F. Manion, explain that they had received a communication from Kennedy on the case.

Kennedy, they said, acting after conferences with the State Department, said that the national foreign policies and the domestic situation would best be served if the court would grant the order dismissing.

STILL DISCRETIONARY

Robson said that although it was discretionary with the court to act, that since the request came before the plea in arraignment was made he would go along with it.

Kennedy suggested that Melekh, who had claimed diplomatic immunity because of his U.N. post, be required to leave the country by April 7, but Robson modified this to April 17.

Robson said that if Melekh made good his departure by that date, the charges against Hirsch would be dismissed.

Pontiac Municipal Court Judge Maurice E. Finnegan signed the warrant charging the furnishing of alcoholic beverages to a minor against Virgil Thompson, 501 Jordan Road.

Decisions Made on Laos Slow Until Reds Move

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., expressed the opinion today that what the United States does about the Laotian crisis "will be determined by what the Kremlin does in the next 48 hours." Wiley told a Senate Foreign Relations Committee that he hopes India will send troops to Laos.

Wiley threw out the remark during a Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearing on the nomination of Harvard economist J. Kenneth Galbraith to be ambassador to India.

The Wisconsin Republican noted that India is "playing a tremendous part down there in Africa," and said "she probably is sending troops to Laos. I don't know, but I hope so."

Reporters at first understood Wiley to be saying that the United States probably would send troops but it later turned out that he was referring to India.

Redstone and Dummy Off Okay

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Redstone missile carrying a dummy man in space capsule was launched successfully today in a test of the rocket's readiness to hurl aloft a human astronaut.

The success could help clear the way for an American to take a brief suborbital rocket ride into space within six weeks.

However, the manned launching must await at least one more test firing of a capsule from Wallops Island, Va.

The sleek 83-foot Redstone roared away from this space port at 12:30 p.m. Pontiac time, shooting flame and smoke from its big engine as it streaked across the sky.

WENT 115 MILES UP

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced 15 minutes later that the rocket had flown its prescribed course, reaching an altitude of 115 miles and landing in the Atlantic Ocean 311 miles down range.

The Redstone and capsule both sank as planned.

These figures are very close to the 100-mile altitude and 300-mile range intended for the flight.

An announcement said the rocket reached a maximum speed of 5,110 miles an hour on the 15-minute flight.

Professors Rule Out Walkout

Odds Against Strike at Auto Talks

UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — The odds are against a big strike in the auto industry this year, according to some labor relations specialists.

A survey of several economics professors at Michigan colleges disclosed most feel the United Auto Workers will reach contract settlements with the nation's car makers without a major walkout.

They believe the state of the economy will play a large part in determining the course of negotiations.

With the country in or just emerging from a recession, the professors feel this is not the time for establishing some new principle like the guaranteed annual wage. They look for moderate gains on existing benefits.

One of those betting against a strike was Prof. Jack Skeels of Wayne State University in Detroit, an expert on past UAW negotiations.

"I think the economy, as it is now, makes it extremely difficult for the UAW to have a forceful bargaining position," Skeels said.

LACK RESERVE

"Coupled to this is the fact that the auto workers won't have any real reserve for enduring any prolonged strike because of repeated layoffs. Under these conditions, there might not be much sympathy for a strike within the union.

"This probably isn't the year for gaining any new principle, and I would say it is fairly likely there won't be a strike."

Dr. Jack Stieber, director of Michigan State University's labor and industrial relations center, said that unlike the Eisenhower administration the Kennedy administration would "have no ideological objection to offering their good services in a labor dispute."

PRESSURE ON UAW

As for the chances of a strike, Stieber said that "Whenever you have skillful and sophisticated bargainers as in the UAW and the auto industry the chances of a peaceful settlement are always reasonably good."

Stieber said he believed the UAW would be under pressure to find a solution to the high unemployment in the industry.

But he said it was unlikely the union would gain a major breakthrough. "This is more of a year to keep what you have and try to make some modest gains in other areas," he said.

Add Areas to Jobless U.S. List

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that a record two-thirds of all the major industrial areas in the nation are now experiencing substantial unemployment.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said 25 more such areas have been added to the list of labor markets in which 6 per cent of the local work force is without jobs.

The additions include such large centers as Chicago, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Milwaukee, San Francisco-Oakland, Seattle, Syracuse, New Orleans, Miami and Boston.

At the same time the Labor Department's latest survey of job conditions in 150 major industrial areas showed that employers expect a hiring pickup from now to mid-May. The rise was forecast to be largely seasonal but to produce gains somewhat larger than in the corresponding months of the 1958 recession.

ONE BRIGHT SPOT

This was the one bright spot in the otherwise gloomy spring outlook. Employers in 9 out of 10 of the areas expect at least some job gains between March and May.

Shortly before the breakdown was released President Kennedy signed into law the first of his antirecession measures to get through Congress — a program that will begin channeling $1 billion extra unemployment compensation aid to jobless workers in two weeks.

The new law provides for additional payments up to one-half the duration of original benefits for those who exhaust their unemployment compensation in the two years beginning last July 1. The maximum extension will be 13 weeks, since the longest basic program in any of the states provides for 26 weeks.

Kennedy Signs Extension of Jobless Pay Benefits

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy today signed legislation providing additional unemployment insurance payments for as much as 13 weeks for jobless workers who have exhausted their benefits. Payments now can start in 15 days.

The measure had been tagged the No. 1 bill, for quickest action, of the Kennedy administration. It was the first specific antirecession measure enacted by the new Congress. Legislative action was completed March 22.

Thousands of unemployed workers are expected to draw benefits from two sources because of the new jobless pay bill just passed by Congress.

In many cases, the bill will mean another 13 weeks of supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) to laid-off members of the United Auto Workers Union.

The extra benefits will come because SUB plans are tied in with state unemployment compensation payments. If state jobless payments are extended, as in the case of the federal bill, SUB benefits also will be extended.

An upturn in both production and sales indicates the auto industry's slump has "bottomed out," Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

The statistical agency said production this week would be up 17.8 per cent over last week.

The outlook, Ward's said, is for production of nearly 1,180 million cars in the January-March quarter, which would be 59 per cent of the 1960 first quarter level.

Chrysler Corp. said improved retail sales of pasenger cars will enable it to boost April production 15,000 cars above original plans.

The Kennedy administration estimates the benefits may go to some three million persons and amount in all to nearly a billion dollars during the two-year authorized life of the new aid program.

Dems Patch Wage Bill to Win Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic leadership steered a patched-up minimum wage bill toward a vote today in a sharply divided House.

The compromise measure retains the two-step raise from $1-an-hour to $1.25 requested by President Kennedy but makes major concessions to the opposition in the field of new coverage.

It was put together Thursday in a dramatic last-minute huddle in the office of Speaker Sam Rayburn while the debate raged on the House floor.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and White House aide Lawrence O'Brien took part in the hastily called conference with Rayburn, Rep. Adam C. Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Labor Committee, and Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., floor leader for the bill.

HOLDS KEY

Also present was Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., who apparently holds the key to success of the compromise effort.

Southern Democrats and Republicans have lined up almost solidly against the administration's original bill. If Vinson supports the compromise the leadership hopes enough Southerners will follow him to put it over.

Vinson left the conference in Rayburn's office early and refused to disclose his stand. He asked for a copy of the compromise for further study.

Perhaps not more than 100 persons in the entire country knew that Kennedy had proclaimed, to the American people and the world, the growing concern over Communist military advances in Laos.

But Premier Prince Boun Oum, in a late breakfast interview with a reporter today, praised Kennedy for his tough stand.

Boun said his government would be grateful for increased U.S. military aid, especially longer-range weapons, and predicted his government would defeat the Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

Further Delay Asked in Trial

Attorney Asks for Stay in Lassiter Case to File Appeal on Motion

Attorneys for Mrs. Nelle Lassiter and Gordon Watson today filed a plea in the State Supreme Court for a further delay in the couple's murder trial.

They are accused of conspiracy and first-degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. Lassiter's husband, Parvin (Bill) Lassiter, wealthy Royal Oak auto dealer.

Joseph W. Louisell, Detroit attorney representing Mrs. Lassiter, asked the court for a stay of proceedings pending his filing of another appeal in the case.

The court last month rejected Louisell's request to have Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Joseph G. Rashid step out of the case. Louisell contended Rashid was prejudiced in the new trial.

DENIES REQUEST

The new trial date was set for April 10 after Rashid denied another request to quash charges against Mrs. Lassiter, 19690 Beverly Road, Beverly Hills, and Watson, Lassiter's former business associate.

The prosecution charges Mrs. Lassiter and Watson hired three Tennessee men to kill Lassiter in an effort to get his money and continue an illicit romance.

In Louisell's latest plea, the attorney said the defendants would "be deprived of their right to seek review of the trial court" decision if the Supreme Court did not grant the stay of proceedings.

A stay would delay the trial until Louisell filed his motion for leave to appeal Rashid's motion on the quash request.

The Day in Birmingham

Romney Main Speaker at Big Rally on Con-Con

BIRMINGHAM — George Romney, Citizens For Michigan chairman, speaking before a large crowd at Groves High School last night, charged opponents of the proposed constitutional convention with "manufacturing phony issues."

He also said that excessive preoccupation with the rights of minorities under Michigan's present Constitution has seriously infringed majority rights.

The mass rally on the con-con issue which is to appear on the April 3 ballot was sponsored by the Birmingham chapter of Citizens For Michigan.

Romney, who found CFM, said attempts to confuse voters with a "misapplication of principles, as well as misrepresentation of facts," are being made to induce them not to act on the proposal.

"We have heard those who are counting on a minority turnout at the polls to help them defeat a convention deplore the danger that a minority might decide," Romney added.

"And almost in the same breath they warn that reliance on a majority vote means the end of minority rights."

He went on to say the fundamental issue in the spring election is not whether the Constitution needs revision, "the issue is how."

Romney said the amendment process is designed to make individual changes, but when multiple changes are needed the amendment method is slow and costly.

Romney also pointed out what he feels are inequities in representation in Michigan by citing Oakland County's six state House representatives for an average of 115,000 each, compared with Huron County's one with 34,000.

Charles Damm, naturalist for the Huron - Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority will be the guest speaker Tuesday at the Hickory Grove Elementary School in Bloomfield Hills.

Students will hear a lecture entitled "Conservation, Birds and Wild Animals."

SITUATION GRAVE

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Democratic leader, said Kennedy indicated quite clearly in his news conference statement that the "situation which confronts us and our friends in Laos is extremely delicate, very grave and potentially dangerous.

"I am sure the American people will support the President in his efforts to reach an honorable settlement of the highly explosive situation."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican leader, said Kennedy gave "a good factual explanation of the situation in terms of opposing forces, leadership difficulties and aggression with outside direction."

"I noted that he said there had been progress since 1954 toward stability and independence — which means that the Eisenhower administration had to deal with the problem and that there had to be progress because we started from scratch," Dirksen said.

"We'll just have to let things jell until the secretary of state gets back from the SEATO meeting and we see whether a cease-fire can be consummated."

SEATO MEETING

SEATO's military advisers, meeting in Bangkok, Thailand, issued a communique charging that Communist support of the Pathet Lao rebels has created "a dangerous situation" and added:

"This . . . emphasized the need for continued solidarity among the eight (SEATO) nations to safeguard the freedom of the peoples of non-Communist states."

SEATO signatories have a treaty obligation for defense of Laos.

Kennedy expressed confidence Americans would back his decisions, made in concert with SEATO allies, to act if necessary.

"Every American will want his country to honor its obligations to the point that freedom and security of the free world and ourselves may be achieved," he said.

Kennedy's statement of a three-point U.S. policy on Laos gave Khrushchev a plain but soft-spoken warning that Soviet-backed military attacks "must end if peace is to be achieved in Southeast Asia."

The President emphasized the United States supports without reservation "a neutral and independent Laos" and that if the rebel attacks "do not stop, those who support a truly neutral Laos will have to consider their response."

Lawyer Sends Complaint to Sen. Hart Post-Haste

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "How much," an irate Michigan attorney wrote Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., "do the taxpayers get stuck for this junk?"

Seat Belts OK'd for State Cars if Desired

LANSING (AP)—Seat belts will be installed in state-owned cars for drivers who request them and will use them, Gov. Swainson has announced.

At the start, the program will be on a voluntary basis, the governor said. By the end of the year, he said, all the state's 2,400 cars will be equipped with seat belts.

They have been standard equipment on all state police cars for two years.

New Constitution Could Clear Up Taxes, Colleges and Legislature

By TOM SHAWVER

LANSING (AP)—Taxes and spending.

Local government problems.

Operation of state colleges and universities.

Apportionment of seats in the legislature.

Any arguments over the strengths and weaknesses of Michigan's Constitution is almost certain to turn to those four subjects.

All pose serious problems that many say would be much easier dealt with under a new, streamlined constitution geared to the complexities of government in the mid-20th century.

Those who oppose the idea argue that a brand new constitution might create as many problems as it would solve. Piecemeal amendment, they say, is the best way to tackle the shortcomings of the state's 53-year-old basic charter.

A statewide vote at the April 3 election will determine whether a constitutional convention will be assembled in October to write a new constitution for submission to the people.

Here's what a special committee of political scientists, appointed by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams and re-appointed by Gov. Swainson, has to say on four of the major issues:

TAXES AND SPENDING

Shall constitutional earmarking of funds, such as sales tax diversion for school aid and automatic assignment of gas taxes for the motor vehicle fund, be modified or eliminated?

PRO—Earmarking for specific purposes straps the legislature, prevents it from spending money where it is needed most when funds are short. The amount earmarked may be less or more than is actually needed.

CON—Earmarking assures that adequate operation of important programs will not depend on the whim of the legislature. Permits advance planning.

Should the state's $250,000 debt ceiling be increased or eliminated?

PRO—Rigid limitation discourages forward planning, places severe limitation on the legislature in providing governmental services, encourages evasion of constitutional ban, could lead to increased taxes.

CON—Debt limitation prevents abuse of borrowing powers by legislature, encourages "pay-as-you-go" financing, tends to insure investor confidence and reduced interest rates.

Should the Legislature be given a free hand in levying taxes?

PRO—Present restrictions hamstring legislature in providing sound and economically administered tax structure, which needs more leeway to meet increasing, changing needs of state and local governments. "Equal protection" clause of Federal Constitution is ample to protect taxpayers from unfair taxes.

CON—Public should be protected against legislative indiscretion in tax matters, domination of legislature by rural areas could endanger fiscal interests of urban areas without present restrictions, fiscal needs can be met by constitutional amendment.

Should 15-mill limitation on property taxes be revised or eliminated?

PRO—Would furnish a more flexible basis for adequate financing of certain local government costs, limitation not realistic in view of rising government costs, is barrier to solving problems of metropolitan growth.

CON—Limitation prevents excessive property taxes, tends to hold down government costs, encourages use of other revenue sources.

Shall there be one constitutional board of control for all colleges and universities?

PRO—A single board prevents a single, unified budget to the Legislature, provide more "rational planning for higher education.

CON—Too much centralization would discourage creativity; coordination can be achieved in other ways.

Shall the superintendent of public instruction and the State Board of Education, which control four state colleges and universities, be limited to supervision of elementary and secondary education?

PRO—The board is overburdened as it is, can't give adequate attention to colleges under its control.

CON—Growth in size and stature of colleges under its supervision show board is doing a good job.

Should apportionment system be revised?

PRO—Present unequal representation puts majority of population at mercy of a minority, urban areas don't get fair representation.

CON—Present representation protects minority interests, voters have rejected plan to use population as basis for representation in both House and Senate, geographical areas as well as individual citizens should be represented.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Shall home rule be granted to counties?

PRO—Thirteen states already do so; even with home rule, powers and duties of counties could still be determined by general law; constitution too closely restricts county form of government.

CON—Voters have previously rejected proposed home rule government for counties; legislature would do better to prepare optional charter forms.

Shall legislature be permitted to provide for metropolitan governments of the federated type?

PRO—Many metropolitan problems can be solved only by co-operation, and contractural agreements between existing units.

CON—Metropolitan district authorities already are permitted for ownership and operation of parks, or public utilities, and now can be created by law. There is no immediate demand for metropolitan super-governments of a federal character.

Do municipal home rule provisions need revision?

PRO—Present home rule provisions are not self-executing, leaving too much delineation of municipal powers to the legislature; cities need clarification of home rule power to levy non-property taxes. More constitutional home rule power would encourage more local action.

CON—Home rule provisions are "reasonably satisfactory and it is better to leave well enough alone." The legislature can authorize cities and villages by law to levy non-property taxes.

Absence of Moscow Censor Gratifying

Correspondent Savors New Freedom

(Editor's Note—Henry Shapiro, who has been in the Soviet Union since 1934, is the dean of foreign correspondents in Moscow.)

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI) — This dispatch was written at midnight from the comfort of my apartment, home of United Press correspondents for almost three decades.

I am free to pick up the receiver and phone my story to London or New York without an invisible censor looking over my shoulder.

Or I can send it down to the Central Telegraph Office where a friendly, cheerful girl receptionist inserts it into a pneumatic tube to an upper-floor operator for immediate transmission.

By force of habit, my worried wife—who because of the peculiarities of local working conditions has not known normal existence for more than 20 years—asks if I will disappear for a night-long vigil to the "sweat-shop," as the foreign correspondents call the Central Telegraph.

It seems too good to be true that what comes out of this typewriter will reach the outside world almost as fast as I punch the keys—and without a single deletion.

UPI headquarters, one of the few foreign residences outside the so-called diplomatic ghetto, is no longer a graveyard of untold stories.

To some extent we still shall be compelled to make bricks without straw unless the Soviet authorities relax their monopoly of the sources of information.

But henceforth, we are free to report the sounds, sights, smells, facts and views subject only to standards of objectivity, accuracy, good taste and judgment.

JFK Charges Aid 'Wasted'

Wants to Be Allowed to Draw Foreign Funds Direct From Treasury

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy has made a new plea to Congress to permit the administration to draw foreign aid funds directly from the treasury for the next five years.

Kennedy said at his news conference Thursday night that the five-year borrowing provisions of the aid message he sent to Congress Wednesday would provide "a far more effective use" of foreign aid funds.

The message asked for administration authority to commit up to $7.3 billion in development aid over five years without need of annual appropriations, to permit longer-range planning.

The measure has already brought opposition from some congressmen who claim it would deny Congress control over funds.

Kennedy said foreign aid funds have been "wasted" in the past because they could not be committed more than 12 months ahead and this ruled out planning ahead.

Fires Increase, Damage Declines in Waterford

There were four more fires in Waterford Township in February than the previous month, but the damage was only a third as great, according to Fire Chief Elmer Fangboner.

Seven fires in automobiles were extinguished, there were 17 fires in buildings, and the department answered 43 calls as compared to 37 in January. A year ago February total calls answered numbered 80, according to the report.

There was an estimated $1,535 in fire damage for February as compared to $4,880 in January. Fire damage for February 1960 was $7,940.

Only one grass fire was reported last month, but firemen are bracing themselves for the anticipated rash of careless rubbish burning so prevalent during the spring time.

Chief Fangboner again warns township residents that they must obtain a fire-burning permit which is free, before setting fire to any type of debris or grass. "Wire trash burners are our worst enemies," he concluded.

Girl Suffers Burns in Lighting Furnace

A 13-year-old Waterford Township girl was burned about the arms, back and neck while lighting the furnace in her home, 7366 Hatchery Road, last night.

In satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital, Karen Holgerson was injured when a piece of burning paper was blown out the furnace door, igniting her jacket and setting fire to some nearby rubbish.

Her sister, Mrs. Robert Tearalt, extinguished the burning clothing with her own jacket. Township firemen estimated damage at $500.

Miss LaVelle Succumbs at 83

Was Outpatient Clinic's Emergency Room Chief at St. Joseph Hospital

Miss Margaret LaVelle, director of outpatient clinics and the emergency room at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for 26 years, died at the hospital this morning after an illness of two years. She was 83.

A graduate of St. Vincent Hospital, New York City, Miss LaVelle came to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in 1928 a year after its completion as supervisor of the emergency room.

When the outpatient clinic was established a year later, she became supervisor of that department as well.

She was selected Oakland County's "Nurse of the Week" by a committee composed of the directors of nursing services at all county hospitals and public health agencies in October 1954. The award made in connection with the first National Nurse Week was made on the basis of "her outstanding contribution to nursing and the community."

Miss LaVelle was a member of St. Michael Catholic Church and the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Women's Auxiliary.

After her retirement in 1955 she made her home in Harrison with a sister, Mrs. Agnes Judd.

Other survivors include sisters Miss Mary LaVelle and Mrs. Catherine Hickey, both of Saginaw; and two brothers, Manus of Saginaw and Harry in California.

Miss LaVelle's body is at the Donelson - Johns Funeral Home.

Drop Charge Based on Old Ordinance

Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum has dismissed a charge against a 17-year-old Pontiac youth, the first person to be charged in many years under an 1876 city ordinance.

City officials invoked the old law to aid in the fight to preserve the lawn at Pontiac Northern High School.

David L. Cooper, 62 Hudson St., had pleaded guilty to driving his car across the water-soaked lawn near the school gymnasium the evening of a basketball game earlier this month.

Police arrested Cooper as he was driving out after the game. An off-duty officer said Cooper's car got stuck in the water-logged earth but only after deep tire tracks had been created.

Cooper this week asked to be allowed to withdraw his earlier plea of guilty, and McCallum granted the request.

The judge then dismissed the charge.

"Justice is better served by not finding the defendant guilty when many others have parked in the same area," the judge said.

"If he is guilty, so are all the rest."

McCallum said that anyone found guilty of violating the 1876 ordinance, apparently the only one on the books concerning preservation of city property, would, in the future, be fined $100.

Sampling Store's Food Is Same as Stealing

As far as juvenile stealing is concerned some adults do not set a very good example. For instance, we recently saw an adult standing by a fruit counter in a supermarket having a feed on grapes.

If a child saw that incident he could readily be excused for doing the same thing. Putting those grapes in his stomach was just as much stealing as putting them in his pocket.

We have also seen shoppers help themselves to candies, and even swipe a few for the kids. What can we expect from the kids when they get out on their own?

Congress Must Review Many Needless Bills

If you ever wonder just what takes Congress so long to get certain legislation up for a vote just consider what's involved at the present time when approximately 5,000 bills are in the hopper.

The red tape alone could be endless. Many of the bills are silly, yet at the same time they will take up the Congressmen's time. Only the important bills even get so far as to reach the public's attention.

Looking over the partial list below published in the Christian Science Monitor recently it is possible to understand why Capitol Hill is snowed under with details.

"In the Senate are bills to establish rules of interpretation governing questions on the effect of acts of Congress on state laws; to create Padre Island National Seashore; to give relief to Mrs. TAKIMI YAMADA; to provide grants to states to help them educate school children on the harmful effects of tobacco and alcohol; to expand and extend the saline water conversion program; for the relief of OK NYU CHOI; to create the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park.

"Senate joint resolutions introduced included those to designate the American marigold the nation's floral emblem; to designate the week of Whitsunday each year as Hernando De Soto Week; to amend the Constitution to let 18-year-olds vote; etc.

"On the House side, bills have been introduced to create a national science academy; to issue a stamp in honor of WILLIAM HOLMES MCGUFFEY; to establish a Cape Code National Park; to prohibit the importation of work and agricultural commodities from the Soviet Union, Poland, and other Communist countries.

"House joint resolutions included those to create a university of the Americas; to make the rose the national flower; to designate October 31 each year as Youth Honor Day; to make February National History Month; to make the second week in October National Poison Prevention Week; to make the corn tassel the national floral emblem; to set up an American commission to assist in the unification of Ireland; to abolish the death penalty in the United States."

It is quite obvious that most of these bills will never get off the floor, although they still must be waded through along with the other needed legislation.

Does President Include Family in Censorship?

President JOHN F. KENNEDY is curbing his administrative officials from accepting money for speeches, books or articles. Instead he has asked that they give it to charity.

The Defense Department is following his edict and will begin enforcing rigidly its frequently waived rule barring military officers from selling stories about their service experiences.

The same censorship is also in effect with White House employes. They have been asked to sign a pledge not to write or lecture about the President's family while they are in service or after they leave.

This all seems fine to us, but we can't help wondering if the same rules hold true for all members of the KENNEDY family. Recently in the Chicago Tribune there appears an article, "My Brother, the President," by EUNICE KENNEDY SHRIVER.

The Man About Town

Baseball Contest

Gets Under Way Today; Prize Is $250 in Bonds

Baseball: A disease that becomes an epidemic about this time every year.

U.S. Savings Bonds of $250 is the prize in our annual baseball contest which opens today. Your chance to win it is as good as that of anybody else.

It goes for the best answer to:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Thursday, May 11, and what will be his batting average.

It costs nothing to participate in the contest. Only one entry is allowed for each person, but every member of your family can compete. Each entry must be on a separate piece of paper.

You only write down the name of your favorite player, and estimate what his batting average will be. Then sign your name and address and send to The Pontiac Press.

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by noon on Friday, April 7.

During the past 13 years the ladies have far outnumbered the men in capturing the $3,250 awarded in our baseball contests. Last year it was divided among of 170 North Opdyke Road, Pontiac;

Carolyn Ann Mersino

of 1239 Wooley Road, Oxford;

Ray Shelton of 135 South St., Rochester, and

of 9562 Round Lake Blvd., Milford.

Two years ago it was divided between

Warren Roberts

of 851 Robinwood Ave., Pontiac, and

Virgil E. Newton

of 1350 Fieldway Drive, Bloomfield Hills.

The 1958 prize went to

Mrs. Virginia M. Laurian

of 145 Wet Fairmount Ave. In 1957 it was copped by

James J. Mersino

of Oxford, and the winner in 1956 was

Mrs. Willard Boardman

of 275 Starr Ave.

The bonds in 1955 went to

of 224 West Longfellow Ave., and in 1954 it was divided between

Robert I. McCormick

of 76½ Newberry St., and

Mrs. Bernice G. Joswick

of Drayton Plains.

The winner in 1953 was

Miss Betty Whitson

of 495 Harper Ave. In 1952 it went to

of 129 Osceola Drive, and in 1951 to

Mrs. Loretta Stricklin

of 2500 Silver Drive.

The contest of 1950 was won by

Mrs. E. J. Peterman

of 38 Murphy Ave. In 1949

Donald Jo Lovse

of 142 Cadillac St. got the bonds, and in 1948

Mrs. Marie Eggert

of 437 North Saginaw St., was the winner.

Bordering our own Oakland County, the Village of Fenton has turned down a proposition to become a city. In the same election it selected for his 29th year as president, which looks like a record.

And They Said It Couldn't Be Done!

David Lawrence Says:

Laos Another Test From Moscow

WASHINGTON — It's the same old story: The Moscow regime is testing the United States government to see if it stands firm in Laos or will acquiesce in further encroachments in Southeast Asia by Soviet - controlled forces.

LAWRENCE

Laos is just a proving ground—an opportunity to find out whether the United States under the Kennedy administration is less courageous than it was under the Eisenhower administration. Oddly enough, the situation today is almost parallel to what it was just seven years ago, when a major crisis arose in Southeast Asia as Communist forces launched an all-out attack against the French in Indo-China.

A four-power conference subsequently was held at Geneva to settle the dispute by drawing a line between the northern and southern sections of Viet Nam, giving a large territory to the Communists and "neutralizing" neighboring Laos and Cambodia.

Shortly before the conference, when Vice President Nixon made a speech hinting at military action by the United States, he was promptly assailed by the Democrats, including Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Here is a paraphrase of what Mr. Nixon said in an off-the-record talk to the American Society of Newspaper Editors on April 16, 1954, as published at the time:

"The United States as a leader of the free world cannot afford further retreat in Asia. It is hoped the United States will not have to send troops there, but if this government cannot avoid it, the administration must face up to the situation and dispatch forces."

RED SUBVERSION

Mr. Kennedy, as a presidential candidate, said to the American Legion convention at Miami on Oct. 18, 1960, that the Soviets were moving in to take control of various countries by subversion, "and we sit back—that is my dispute with this administration." He declared:

"And without a soldier crossing into those countries, without a shot being fired, by the change of mind of a paratroop commander in Laos . . . a country where we spent $300 million, where we have been paying the army for the last 2 years, they are about to seize control of Laos, and not a Communist soldier or a Russian soldier has crossed the boundary of Laos . . . They could, by 1970, control great sections of the earth without ever advancing their armies beyond their present frontiers.

"So we have to concern ourselves with building up our military power because their military power is behind their expansion, but that is not enough, if we are going to stop the Communist advance in the 1960s . . .

"I want to make it very clear to Mr. Khrushchev and to anyone else who wonders, I will not cut our present commitments to the cause of freedom if I am elected president of the United States anywhere in the world — the Formosa Straits, Latin America, Africa, Asia — I support our present effort to build strength, not merely to hold the line but to expand freedom all around the globe."

Mr. Kennedy, as president of the United States, now is face to face with a situation similar to that which confronted his predecessor. He bears the responsibility now.

As the Soviet government makes the test in Laos, Americans, irrespective of party, will today support the President if his pledge of last October is fulfilled.

But to avoid military action and to go into an international conference is one thing, and to prevent such an international conference from dividing up another independent country — which, like North Viet Nam in Indo-China, can be used as another Communist base for infiltration and guerrilla warfare against "neutral" neighbors—is something else again.

Yet this is the clue to the effectiveness of the policy on Laos announced by President Kennedy at his press conference this week.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Cold? It Ain't the Heat, It's the Lack of Humidity

A temperature of even 70 or 72 degrees F. in a house where artificial heat is necessary would feel a bit chilly to most persons, especially the elderly and infirm, if there were no provision to maintain a fair degree of humidity — water vapor in the atmosphere.

DR. BRADY

Outdoor air in cold weather may have a fair degree of relative humidity, but when heated by furnace, stove or other means the air is excessively dried out and hence the indoor atmosphere of house, office or shop is generally as dry as the driest desert air.

This accounts for the damage to book bindings, musical instruments, growing plants, furniture, the skin or complexion of occupants and the linings of the nasal passages, sinuses, throat, larynx, trachea (windpipe), bronchial tubes and lungs.

Relative humidity is the amount of moisture vapor in the atmosphere expressed in percentage of what the air might contain if saturated with moisture.

Outdoor air in winter with temperature at zero F. and relative humidity of 50 per cent, when heated to 70 degrees will have a relative humidity of only 3 per cent — drier than the driest climate.

In the driest month of the year the air in Death Valley has an average relative humidity of 23 per cent. In many homes misguided occupants keep the temperature even higher than 70 degrees (it doesn't matter what method of heating is used).

The overheated, excessively dried out air of house, shop or office gives a sense of chilliness owing to excessive evaporation of moisture from the skin and the mucous membrane lining the breathing tract.

The sense of chilliness makes stupid people clamor for more heat, when what they really need is a thermostat to keep the temperature below 70 and an efficient means of humidification.

The next best thing, if one hasn't the gumption to condition the air, would be to get out and walk at least twice a day.

A simple suggestion for conditioning the air of bedroom, workroom, shop, schoolroom, office: Use window screens of unbleached muslin. Even one muslin window screen in a small bedroom admits considerable fresh air and moisture, yet excludes excessive cold, snow, rain, dust, wind, insects.

Another suggestion for protecting skin, mucous membranes, furniture, musical instruments, growing plants in the home, office, schoolroom or workroom: Set the thermostat at 68, or watch the thermometer and keep the room temperature always below 70.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"Some great ideas have never been discovered because of folks who've said, 'My mind's made up.'"

Voice of the People:

'People Must Pay Price for Sweden's Benefits'

How many people would like to live in Sweden with the government running the show? I did for more than half of my life, and I'm glad I'm here — taxes and all.

There is an annual cash benefit of 87 cents per child. Free school, lunches, college tuition; free hospitalization, including treatment in state hospitals for alcoholics; payment of 75 per cent of doctor's fees and 50 per cent of all costs for medicine above 60 cents; special loans up to $600 to newly married couples (or to unwed mothers) for home furnishings; holiday homes for fatigued wives; and a lot more.

The Swedish worker is covered by a system guaranteed him at the age of 67, two-thirds of his average income over his best years of earnings.

In 1980 the pension will be $4,000 per worker while his average earnings are $2,400.

With all this goody-goody what has it done to the human spirit? Car thefts have quadrupled since 1950. There has been an increase in neurosis, and suicide has increased 35 per cent.

Those are built-in penalties for prosperity.

I like the benefits but I don't want to pay the price. I don't like to have the government tell me where to go for my vacation, when to go and for how long.

School Aid Editorial Brings Comments

The parochial schools render a service to the community. Therefore, their public nature makes them eligible for public help the same as any other service necessary for the good of the nation.

You mentioned that "some Catholic Bishops" have raised the issue. The National Council speaks for all Bishops and certainly they have a right to ask for aid. The Supreme Court rules on the constitutionality of this petition, not the newspapers.

If we can't get enough money now to run our public schools, you don't solve the problem of our dumping six million children on the public schools by saying, "Well, we'll just have to take care of them." Your paper has already been criticizing the state because of its tax climates.

The Pontiac Press can open a school any time it wants, as long as it meets the standard set by the state and could also ask the government for help in running this school.

The state's responsibility is to help educate children. The law says the parents have a right to choose whatever school they want. Therefore, it's the duty of the state to help all parents as long as the school of their choice meets a certain standard.

Separation of church and state is a nice expression when you want to overwhelm the opposition. Many famous lawyers on constitutional law, say that there is nothing in the Constitution which would ban aid to parochial schools. According to your interpretation of separation of church and state, tax money must not be spent to aid religious schools. Does that mean that we should have our own police department, our own fire department?

Let the law be passed and if it's unconstitutional then the schools will not get the aid.

Congratulations on the editorial on federal aid to education. It was the most logical and sensible I have read.

However, you are fighting a losing battle.

John F. Kennedy introduced this bill to open up the discussion of aid to the Catholic Church and eventually and protestingly to gain that end.

The Pontiac Press is one of the finest papers that I have read anywhere in the United States. The print is clear and the news is fresh and varied. May we always have a free press.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Tells More About Sea Brine

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE H-441: Dr. Z., is a prominent Pennsylvania physician.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I wish you'd debunk the fallacious arguments appearing nowadays against the possible value of sea salt and ocean water.

DR. CRANE

"I have been using sea brine for four months, during which time my arthritis has improved remarkably, and I'm sure it is not due to imagination or psychosomatic factors.

"For I also have been a victim of psoriasis for 30 years and have never had a single remission? But after the first 3 months on sea brine, my skin cleared up completely!

"Maybe this is just a happenstance, for psoriasis often comes and goes. But isn't it odd that I never was free of it in 30 years until I used the sea brine?

"Yet Dr. Alvarez, in his newspaper column of Feb. 1, 1961, says there is absolutely 'no sense' to this idea that sea salt or ocean water may be beneficial in arthritis !

"Please give us some more facts, for I have several medical colleagues on our hospital staff now using it on patients."

FALLICIOUS REASONING

A recent newspaper article said that claims for sea salt "were debunked by the American Medical Association."

Malarky! Here are the actual facts: Just one man (and he is not a medic), in the Jan. 21, 1961, issue of the J.A.M.A., page 265, made the rash statement that:

"The average mixed American diet contains adequate amounts of vitamins and minerals . . . (and) except for iodine and iron it is not possible to demonstrate a deficiency."

You don't need to be an M.D. or biochemist to riddle that unproved statement. Just use your own "horse sense."

(1) Ask that writer why farmers are spending millions of dollars on varied chemical fertilizers if our soils contain all 44 of the water soluble chemicals?

Are the farmers just "suckers" and the fertilizer firms making dupes out of them?

(2) A current catalogue sent to us medics by a leading pharmaceutical firm also lists a popular vitamin - mineral capsule with ten minerals in it. The ocean has those 10, plus 34 more!

Why should we medics prescribe even those 10 minerals if the American diet is adequate?

(3) Look at his statement that iodine and iron are the only demonstrated deficiencies.

Didn't that author ever hear about the proof by modern scientific dentistry that fluoride is a vital antidote for decayed teeth? Where has he been all these years!

Furthermore, we medics do not know the cause of cancer, diabetes, psoriasis, Parkinson's disease and scores of others, now called "deficiency" ailments, so how can he possibly know that the 44 water soluble chemicals in ocean water or sea salt are not helpful?

Doctors who say sea salt or sea water has "no sense" and is not helpful are out on a limb! They have made a dangerous positive statement, unsupported by facts.

In my case, I have stated only that those 44 ocean chemicals may be helpful!

Loose thinkers have then charged me with saying they are helpful, but I know my English grammar! There's a whale of a scientific difference between the verb "may be" and "are." Wise up!

Respected reasearchers have also shown that there are many chemical deficiencies in our soil, as well as in vegetables grown thereon.

So send for my booklet on the "Ocean's 44 Trace Chemicals," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents and get the true facts.

Then make the opposition either "put up or shut up."

ence" and makes it purely the business of the "Catholic parent." Then what right has the federal government to violate the Constitution by financially penalizing the Catholic parent who follows his conscience?

One of the big reasons why people left England was so they might attend religious services and send their children to schools of their choice without paying heavy fines for not conforming to the established church of England.

What is to become of the innate right of a father and mother to shape personally the education of their offspring? Does not a state which arbitrarily dictates to parents by lavishly subsidizing a purely secularistic form of education and refuses to subsidize at all the type of schooling parents prefer, to that same extent, violate parental right? Is not this more the Soviet or Nazi pattern than the American way? Is it not a way of saying to the Catholic parent, "Yes, you can have religious liberty. But you'll have to pay double for your children's education if you choose to exercise it"?

Your editorial states "Some ranking officials in the Catholic Church now suggest that federal aid to education should embrace Catholic schools."

Before you write another editorial you should get all the facts.

I find nowhere that the church wants aid in the way of a federal grant. They speak of aid either for parents or long term loans to help build classrooms, etc.

I find nothing in the first amendment to the Constitution that bars this.

You stated that President Kennedy would not approve federal aid for parochial schools. President Kennedy only signs the bill or vetoes it.

I am not in favor of federal aid to education in any form, but if it comes I can't understand why the six million children that attend Catholic schools should go without. They are trying to tell me that if I am to enjoy my right under the law I can send my children to a Catholic school out of my own pocket and pay state and federal tax on top of it.

There are groups that hope through federal aid to education that they can control the schools and do away with state and local school boards, and force all children into public schools and do away with religious training.

I hope that day never arrives.

Many thanks for your fine editorial on federal aid and the religious schools. Your position took courage and some very straight thinking. It would be a shame to change one of the cornerstones responsible for making this country the wonderful place it is. Democracy requires freedom. I hope we can keep it and continue to grow into an even greater nation than we now are.

Much is said about religion in public schools. We have constantly fought to keep church and state separate. We should not abandon our efforts now. There are some things the state can do that would help without getting into the religious field.

It could weave into its educational structure, the high "moral" standards that go to make up the basic structure of our government.

When Rome fell it was the disintegration of its moral structure. May God prevent it happening to the United States. I quite agree with the position taken by our President. I believe it is up to the people maintaining separate schools to decide if they want to make the sacrifice.

We cannot afford to let denominationalism come into our public schools.

'Which Way Best for Taxpayers?'

I read with a great deal of interest the news item you published in last Saturday's edition dealing with the man who owed some $14,000 in back support for his children.

It appears this would be an example case to perhaps expose all factors involved—and especially an accounting to the taxpayers as to why a man is sentenced to one year in jail and then is told he can be released for $250. Wouldn't it be cheaper for the taxpayers to pay the $250 rather than pay $1,461 which it cost the taxpayers to pay his board at the Oakland County jail?

'Shop Carefully at Reliable Stores'

Your paper had a story about a lot of people who picketed Lansing to call attention to the fact that they had been gypped. They want legislation passed to protect them from unscrupulous sales agents.

In our community we have many reliable merchants where I have traded for years. They sell quality merchandise and back it up with a guarantee. They have been in businesss for years and have a reputation to protect.

My advice to people buying any commodity is to go to a reliable store in the community and they will always receive their money's worth. Then they won't have to go to Lansing and picket because they have been hooked.

Board Takes No Action on Teachers' Salaries

No action was taken last night by the Pontiac Board of Education on teacher pay schedules for the 1961-62 school year.

The board has been aiming for an early decision to aid in recruiting teachers for next year and had expected to set the pay rates at last night's meeting.

"We have been criticized for the past two years for waiting until our income was known (about June 1) before approving teachers' salaries," said Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent.

He held a meeting Wednesday with representatives of the two bargaining teachers groups, the Pontiac Federation of Teachers and Pontiac Education Association, in an effort to make the early deadline.

"We were unable to get an agreement," he explained.

Whitmer said the PEA "wants to postpone the decision until next month" and the PFT "wants another hearing before the board."

Both groups appeared before the board to present their proposals last week.

Both teachers groups feel that more millage should be levied for teachers' salaries and that the public would not object to an increase.

The board takes an opposite view, feeling that a tax increase would not be favorable in the current economic climate.

Board members reluctantly voted to wait until their next regular meeting, early in April, to decide the issue.

The teachers are asking pay hikes totaling more than $250,000. The board maintains the pay hike cannot be over $175,000 without either decreasing other services or raising the tax rate.

Pontiac High to Get Electric Face Lifted

Architects for the current rehabilitation program at Jefferson Junior High, Eberle M. Smith Associates, of Detroit, also will handle the designing for an electrical rehabilitation project at Pontiac Central High School.

The firm was approved for the job by the board of education last night. Consumers Power Company estimated the summer project will cost $50,000.

The program has been included in proposed 1961-62 operating budget appropriations.

Soviets Say Won't Pay for Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union today challenged the legal authority of the U.N. General Assembly to appropriate funds to finance the U.N. operations in the Congo.

The challenge was made by Soviet Delegate A. A. Roshchin as the Assembly's 99-nation budgetary committee began considering a request by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold for $135 million to pay for the Congo operation in 1961.

The Soviet delegate launched a new attack on the secretary general. He also said the Soviet Union would not contribute to assembly appropriations as valid and reiterated that the Soviet Union would nota contribute to keeping the peace force in the Congo.

The U.N.'s Political Committee shelved its African aid debate until next Tuesday while African nations try to work out a plan that may win support and financial aid from the United States.

Karel Kurka of Czechoslovakia, acting chairman, decided on the recess after announcing he had no speakers listed to carry on the debate which opened Thursday on the United States help-Africa proposal.

Ex-Senator Succumbs

Personal Leave to Get a Trial

Pontiac School Board to Allow Teachers Two Days for Business

The Pontiac Board of Education has approved a plan, on a trial basis, that will allow regular teachers and administrators two personal leave days during the 1961-62 school year.

The personal leave day proposal, recommended by the Certified Personnel Committee, was approved at last night's school board meeting. It will only be in effect next year.

The plan states that days used for personal leave reasons shall be deducted from accumulated sick leave and shall not be cumulative.

Such leave days may be granted for one of six reasons.

Among those are registration for on-campus college courses when such registration cannot be accomplished at a time when schools are not in session, transacting legal business and emergencies.

Personal leave days may also be granted for military reserve and National Guard duty, religious holidays and funerals.

The committee first began study on leave days for personal business some four years ago.

Reflector-Plate Action Urged From Legislature

LANSING (UPI) — The legislature was given its second nudge in as many weeks Thursday to do something about the confusion over reflectorized license plates.

In a letter to the legislature, Secretary of State James M. Hare said officials who supervise the manufacture of vehicle license plates need to start work April 1 if they are to have ample plates on hand for the beginning of sales Nov. 1.

Several bills were in committees and Wednesday the House Republican caucus took the matter under consideration.

"We asked the committee not to let the matter hang too much longer," said caucus leader Rep. Allison Green, R-Kingston.

The people go to their jobs early in the morning. Factories run normally. Ethiopian military police of the U.N. Command patrol in pairs, armed only with pistols.

There are about 600 Belgians in Stanleyville. They seem more relaxed than the Belgians living in the hinterlands, and most of those appeared unworried.

"Oriental Province is more peaceful than the other Congolese provinces, especially Lepoldville and Katanga," said a Congolese. To an outsider, the atmosphere of calm is a surprise.

IN KHARTOUM

At Khartoum's Grand Hotel in Sudan, a Sudanese newsman just back from Oriental asked if I was married and had children. I replied I was a bachelor.

"Still do not go. It's blood and tears, famine and chaos," he said.

From Khartoum, accompanied by another Sudanese newsman I flew to Juba in the southern Sudan. From there at dawn, we headed for the Congolese frontier village of Aba overland.

At a roadblock on Aba's outskirts, two Congolese soldiers emerged and, to our surprise, smilingly shook hands. They registered the number of our car and told us to proceed.

In Aba we met with similar friendliness. The garrison commander even supplied an escort to accompany us. Out of 75 Belgians, nine are still at Aba. Most are officials of a transport company. They seemed worried but said they were not bothered.

From Aba we travelled 130 miles by road through dense jungle to Dungu, a village where we stopped at a motel owned by a Greek, Costi Cassalis. He said he had bought it last September from a departing Belgian. He reported the two Belgians and eight Greeks in Dungu had no difficulties with the Congolese.

From Dungu we motored to Paulis, capital of the Haut Uele district which has the richest coffee, cotton and palm oil plantations in the Congo.

There were about 1,000 Belgians there but only 250 remain. Most own plantations and a few run bars and hotels. They sit together in bars, frequently fraternize with the Congolese officials and people and do not seem worried. But most of them, as in Aba and Dungu, are uncertain about the future. Some said they were arrested for a day or two and then released.

The Haut Uele commissioner, Albert Charles Bushiri, 30, a stocky Congolese, seemed confident about order in his area.

"The next plane is scheduled to come tomorrow," he said. "But the smallest incident will make them (Belgian pilots) cancel it. I cannot understand who they are afraid of."

Bushiri said the Belgians who left his territory are welcome to return.

"We're not making any difficulties for them," he said. "Its Belgium's bad propaganda which is picturing terrorism in our province. You have seen for yourselves how peaceful it is."

Come In Like Leopards; Go Like Lambs

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (UPI) — Leopardmen who came into the Kasongo area of Kivu Province like leopards are going out like lambs, the United Nations said today.

A U.N. spokesman said a joint Congolese-Malayan patrol had made contact with leaders of the cult which last week was threatening to kill Europeans in the Kasongo area. They were described as wearing leopard-skin bands around their heads.

But the U.N. spokesman said the leopard men told the Malayans they didn't want trouble. And the Malayans found they hadn't killed anybody, despite their threats.

Discovers New Drug to Make Men Sterile

CHICAGO (UPI)—A professor of anatomy reports he has discovered a birth-control drug for men.

John MacLeod, associate professor of anatomy at Cornell University, school of medicine, N.Y., said the pill has to be taken orally for about two months to make the male sterile. It will not make him impotent, MacLeod said.

After the two-month period, MacLeod told delegates to the American Association of Anatomists, infrequent booster doses are necessary.

However, he said, it was possible that only three or four would be needed for an entire year.

Library Asks Half-Mill Hike

Independence Voters to Decide on Increase in April Election

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—Township residents will be asked to vote on a half-mill tax increase in the April 3 election to permit the continued operation of the library.

For the past six years, the library, located next to the township hall, has been operated and supported by the Clarkston Community Women's Club and the township.

However, the two units can no longer guarantee financial support due to the large increase in card registrations, according to Mrs. Jack Frost, president of the women's club.

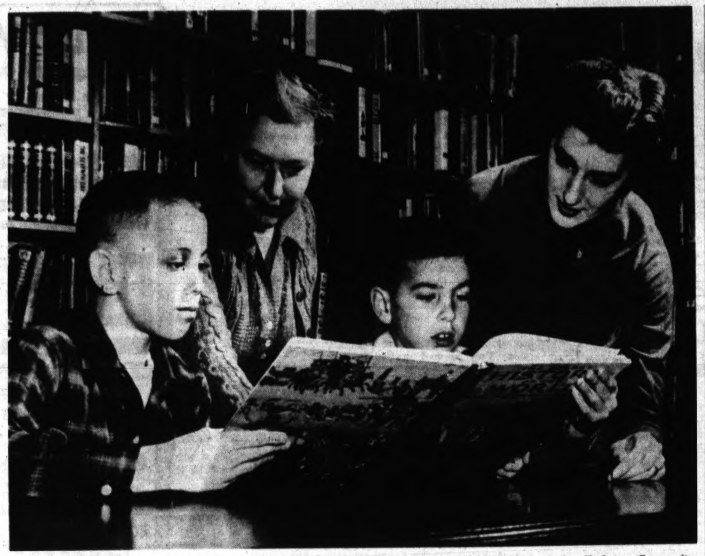
"As a private institution with limited financial support, the library has managed to exist but can no longer keep pace with the advancing needs of the township," she said.

Despite limited funds, the library currently serves 1,500 card holders who borrow books at the rate of 50 a day. Township residents may select from a stock of more than 5,000 or order from a stockpile of several thousand books through the library's affiliation with the North Oakland Library Co-operative.

The library building at 88 N. Main St., was donated by the township, and is open to the public 24 hours each week under the supervision of volunteer librarians.

The proposed half-mill tax amounts to less than $2 per family annually, and if approved would provide an expanded book stock.

A full-time librarian would be hired, providing a 40-hour week service, and the library would be operated as a public institution, according to club and township officials.



OPEN NEW HORIZONS — That's what books do, Mrs. Philip R. Smith, volunteer librarian at the Independence Township Library in Clarkston, tells Jack Frost, 12, and his brother Gary, 7, as they scan a world history book. The boys' mother, Mrs. Jack C. Frost, (right) president of the Clarkston Community Women's Club, founder and main benefactor of the library, is an interested onlooker. The fate of the library is up to the township voters April 3.

Slate Growers' Show

Commercial vegetable growers of Michigan will again have an opportunity to attend a big trade show at Detroit Eastern Market on Monday.

This is a repeat of the 1960 show at the same place in which 75 commercial companies displayed the supplies and equipment which are used in Michigan's vegetable production business.

At least four of America's leading seed distributors will be represented. Factory representatives will be on hand to discuss growers' needs and problems.

The show is designed primarily as a "come and see" event, with no speeches, meetings or banquets. However, several authorities in the vegetable prodduction field will be on hand for consultation, and to answer questions concerning spray residues, used containers, spray schedules and new varieties.

There also will be exhibits of materials needed by fruit growers, nurserymen, greenhouse operators and florists.

The second supply and equipment show is a one-day, no admission charge event, to be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Detroit Bureau of Markets and Cooperative Extension Service agents of the area are arranging the displays and exhibits.

Thieves Steal Safe With $1,000 in Contents

A small safe with contents valued at more than $1,000 was carted away by thieves last night from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sinclair of 264 Charlevoix St., Clawson.

Clawson police said the robbery occurred between 7:45 p.m. and shortly after midnight when the Sinclairs returned home.

Sinclair told police that the safe, which was in a hallway closet, contained several hundred dollars in cash, two 32-caliber pistols and eight rings, six of them with diamonds.

To Hold Annual Election

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Community Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will hold its annual election of officers at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the home economics room of Rochester High School.

The original inhabitants of the Delaware Valley were Indians calling themselves "Lenni Lenape" or "true men."

Probe Blast at Oak Park Bakery Shop

OAK PARK — The explosion of a gas-fired boiler which blew out windows in a bakery and adjoining meat market on Coolidge Highway last night was being investigated today by state and local officials.

Oak Park Fire Marshal Edward Nowak said three bakers and a salesgirl were in the Star Bakery at 26031 Coolidge Highway when the blast rocked the building last night.

One of the bakers, Harry Kogan, 50, of 18011 Ashton St., suffered cuts from flying glass. He was released after treatment at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

BAKERS NEAR BLAST

Kogan and the two other bakers were in the room where the boiler was located when it exploded shortly after 8:30 p.m. The ceiling and stoves in the room were damaged.

The other occupants of the bakery were not injured although the concussion from the blast blew out windows in Cohen and Son Meat Market, located at 26035 Coolidge Highway next to the bakery.

The Oak Park fire marshal said the ceiling in the meat market also appeared to be buckled, indicating that the blast moved a wall in the store.

An estimate of damages and cause of the mishap were still unknown this morning, according to Nowak. He said the state boiler inspector, Consumers Power Co. officials and state police were to meet with him today to investigate the accident.

Catholics Plan Dedication of Church at Farmington

FARMINGTON — Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church will be dedicated tomorrow with a 10 a.m. Solemn High Mass celebrated by the Most Rev. John F. Dearden, archbishop of Detroit.

Assisting Archbishop Dearden will be the Rev. Donald L. Walker, deacon, and the Rev. John F. Dunn, subdeacon. Father Walker is the only ordained priest to date from Our Lady Of Sorrows and Father Dunn is a former assistant at the church.

The Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Beahan, pastor of Our Lady Of Sorrows, will serve as an assistant priest at the service.

The new contemporary-styled church building, built atop a hill at the intersection of Shiawassee and Powers roads, has a seating capacity of 1,260 on the main floor.

Because of its hill-top location it was possible to design a two-level building and instead of a basement the lower floor opens out at grade level in the rear.

ON LOWER LEVEL

The lower level of the $525,000 building has two large meeting rooms with a total seating capacity for 800 persons.

Designed by Charles D. Hannan, AIA of Farmington the shape of the church seems to suggest a sea shell. The church instead of being long and narrow is wide and shallow.

The pews are not straight but rather on a curve. The last pew is only 64 feet from the sanctuary, allowing everyone a clear view of the altar.

The lines of the ceiling and roof help lead the eye to the altar. The sides are flat but as they meet in the center the ceiling starts to rise with a gentle slope over the balcony until it reaches the sanctuary.

The rise of the sanctuary roof is terminated by a slender 13-foot metal cross, the tip of which is 100 feet above the valley.

A 52-foot cross, designed by sculptor Marshall Fredericks, has been placed at the entrance of the church in a triangular shaped patio. The patio is enclosed by tall stone columns.

ARCHBISHOP DEARDEN

Connected by the church is a recently completed rectory, built at a cost of $145,000.

The new facilities will serve approximately 2,200 families in the area.

Troy Concert to Feature Pair of Guest Artists

TROY—Two guest artists will be featured in the annual concert by the Troy High School Symphony Band to be presented at 8 a.m. today in the high school auditorium.

Edith Venticinque, pianist, will play George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue." Miss Venticinque is a Detroit school teacher and a student of Boris Maximovich.

The other guest will be Frederick Johnson, conductor of the Rochester High School Band. He will direct the Troy band in Frescobaldi's "Toccata" and Yoder's "Relax Rhumba."

Mental Patients Said Neglected

'More Than Half Those in State Hospitals Get No Active Treatment'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressional commission reported today that present facilities for the treatment of mental illnesses are so inadequate that more than half the patients in state mental hospitals "receive no active treatment of any kind."

Reporting on a five-year study of the nation's number one health problem, the commission challenged the United States to become the first society in human history to provide truly humane and healing care for the mentally ill.

And, in a 100,000-word report to Congress and state governors, the Joint Commission on Mental Illness and Health offered a detailed blueprint for the sweeping reforms it called necessary to achieve this goal.

But it warned that the nation must be prepared to spend vastly increased sums to bring treatment of mental illness into the 20th Century.

It said expenditures, now close to $1 billion a year, should be tripled within the next 10 years, with the federal government assuming most of the additional cost.

Jackie Returns to White House From NY Stay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The First Lady was back in the White House today, sorting out the results of a four-day shopping holiday in New York.

Mrs. Kennedy, her face stern, got off an airliner at national airport Thursday night, accompanied by White House secretary Ann Lincoln and two secret service agents.

She looked straight ahead and ignored a reporter's questions as she stepped into the White House limousine.

The reporter shouted a question through the car window, but Mrs. Kennedy smiled to the chauffeur to drive on without answering.

The most solemn week in Christendom begins March 26 — Palm Sunday — with the traditional distribution of palm and olive branches. It will end April 2 — Easter Sunday — with the joyous celebrations marking the resurrection.

Pope John XXIII will personally lead the millions of Roman Catholics throughout the world in thanksgiving with an Easter message, ending with the Papal blessing "Urbi et Orbi," to the city and the world.

Rare Work at All Saints on Sunday

A rarely presented choral work, the "De Profundis" of Michael Richard de LaLande will be presented at 5 p.m. Sunday at All Saints Episcopal Church. The public is invited.

Soloists Mary Louise Lindquist, Rebecca Gould, Victor Lindquist and William Vander Ven will be joined by soprano Doralene McNelly from Kirk in the Hills. Miss McNelly has toured and recorded with the Roger Wagner Chorale.

Edgar Billups, organist and choirmaster at All Saints will conduct and accompany the choir.

The Palm Sunday presentation marks a revival of 18th century French religious music. LaLande's work, though rarely heard today, was greatly admired by Handel. The motets in "De Profundis" are considered his finest. Psalm 130 is the setting for the work.

Chaperon Makes Trip Very Proper

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I am 18 years old, a freshman in college. A young man I have been dating for some time has invited me to go with his church group to an important church affair in another state.

I know many of the members of the group quite well, and the young people will be chaperoned by two married couples.

However, since this will involve spending the night at a motel my father says I can't go as my reputation would be endangered. Please give me your opinion?

A: The church group and two married couples should be chaperons enough to allay your father's fears, and will secure your good reputation against any attack.

Q: Our son's engagement is to be announced in a city too far away from here for us to be present at the dinner her parents are giving. Is there some special way we might show our happiness without being there, and what would you suggest?

A: Send a telegram to be read at the dinner, expressing your happiness in welcoming your daughter-to-be, and your disappointment in not being able to be present. End the message by sending your love and good wishes to them both.

Q: I am secretary to a man who travels a good deal. I often have to write to him while he is away. I have been signing these letters Anne. I have been told recently that this signature is incorrect and much too familiar when writing to my employer. Will you please give me your opinion?

A: If Anne is what he always calls you, then it is quite all right to sign your name in this way. But if he calls you Miss Jones, then you should sign your name Anne Jones.

Abby Says: Paar Wasn't There

It Must Be Coincidence

DEAR ABBY: I have heard of cases where, if an expectant mother goes strawberry picking, her baby is born with a strawberry birthmark somewhere on its body. Or if she's frightened by a mouse, her baby could be marked with a little furry patch.

ABBY

Well, we have a boy who will be three in September, and everyone tells us he is the image of Jack Paar.

They say he looks like Jack Paar, smiles like him, and even acts like him. I can see it myself. My husband looks nothing like Jack Paar.

When I was pregnant, I watched Jack Paar every night to help me fall asleep. Could this actually be the reason?

MOTHER OF LITTLE "JACKIE"

DEAR MOTHER: Put it down as "coincidence." You are lucky you weren't watching Frankenstein.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do with a 16-year-old girl who sucks her thumb and drags a dirty old blanket around with her all the time? She is in her first year of high school and tells me she is failing all her subjects.

Her mother can't see anything wrong with her, but then her mother isn't too bright herself. She is a partial invalid and lives on a widow's pension. I am worried sick that something will happen to this girl.

She is a mature young woman but could be talked into anything. She has no supervision and hangs around the men who are laying the sewers in our neighborhood. I feel it is my duty to tell somebody, but I don't know whom to tell except you.

NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: Visit the home and find out if they have any relatives who are brighter than they are. If they have, advise them of the situation. If they have no relatives, notify the juvenile authorities.

DEAR ABBY: In the four years that I was married, I caught my wife with so many different men I quit counting them. I finally got sick of "giving her one more chance" and divorced her on the grounds of infidelity.

When I asked her what made her act like that she told me it was no fault of mine, she just couldn't help it.

Now I would like to build a new life for myself, but it is not as easy as you think. When I meet a nice young woman and tell her that I have been married and divorced, she tells me to get lost. Why should I, the innocent party, have to suffer for the misdeeds of my former wife?

THE INNOCENT PARTY

DEAR INNOCENT: You shouldn't. And you won't — when the right girl comes along. Keep looking and meet her half-way.

Brown is majoring in engineering physics and Davis in mechanical engineering.

BIRMINGHAM — Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ballantyne and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Mason are working out details for the next dance of the 200 club which will be given April 8 at the Birmingham Country Club.

This time the affair will be a Resort Party which gives guests a leeway in choice of costumes.

Former Birmingham residents Mr. and Mrs. A. Bud Atmen are coming over from their new home in Chagrin Falls, Ohio. They will be house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Finch over that weekend.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Els will entertain their pot-luck supper group in their home on Brookdale Drive.

Mrs. Charles H. Getz and her small son Charles III, came Tuesday to spend a week with Mrs. Getz' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Whiting Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Scott have returned from a winter cruise to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Wagner, formerly of Birmingham, have announced the engagement of their daughter Grace Cheryl to James A. Birney, son of Mrs. John T. Birney of Birmingham, and the late Mr. Birney.

The bride-elect attended Michigan State University. Her fiance is completing a course in Notre Dame University's Business School.

Off to Florida last week went Dr. and Mrs. George P. Raynale, the John E. Eckenrodes, Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Magon and Mrs. Alan W. Joslyn.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Mrs. Ray Molilela, the former Judy Wood, and her eight-month-old son Mathew came Monday from their home in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., to visit her mother, Mrs. John G. Wood of Lone Pine Hill Drive.

Stresses Value of Budgeting

The Junior Child Study Group met with Mrs. James Clarkson of St. Jude Drive, Waterford Township.

Mrs. G. R. Sayers, cohostess, was assisted by Mrs. Curtis E. Patton, Mrs. Carl Donelson, Mrs. Victor Schramm and Mrs. Ralph D. Wigent.

Mrs. Mary Hardy, home demonstration agent, Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service, who spoke on "Home Management," stressed the importance of budgeting time, money and energy in addition to the manual work of running a household. "Development of a sense of self-worth is of vital importance to the homemaker," she said.

The Question Box

Here's a Special Exercise

Every woman is interested in improving the appearance of her bust. This is a good exercise: Push the elbows toward one another with a jerky motion. Resist with the hands.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "I am a college girl. I have such a flat bust that I could die of embarrassment and always dread the swim season. I know you have a booklet which would help me and I would gladly send the 10 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope it costs, but I do not want it to come to the house.

I don't want my mother to know that this problem disturbs me so much. Will you please print at least one good exercise in the paper? I won't mind working on it for months."

A. I wonder why you do not want your mother to know that this disturbs you. I'm sure she would be sympathetic. Here is one of the best exercises. Stand or sit facing a mirror.

Bend your elbows and lift your arms forward. Grasp the lower left arm with the right hand and left hand. Elbows are almost at shoulder height. Push the elbows toward one another with a jerky motion. Resist with the hands. Relax. Continue. If any of my readers would like to have my new booklet, "Your Bust," which gives you directions for preserving and improving bust contour and exercises for increasing the bust measurements, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to me in care of The Pontiac Press.

Q. "I am 20 years old and have a baby. I am 5 feet 8 inches tall and weigh 148 pounds. I have a large build. My problem is wide shoulders. If I lose weight, would this help? If so, how much should I lose? Is there any way I can dress to help?"

A. You are not overweight. I do not think a loss of weight would make any difference anyway. The width of the shoulders is dictated by the bony structure. Don't let this worry you.

You would look strange with your height and build and narrow shoulders. Naturally, you will not want any of your clothes padded on the shoulders. The sloping cut over the shoulder, which is popular now, would be flattering.

Q. "I am 60 years old and have lost a lot of weight in a hurry on a no salt diet, on doctor's orders. I must lose more but not so fast now. My question is, can I do anything about my upper arms which have gotten very flabby? Can I have them nice looking for summer dresses?"

A. You can firm them up with exercise. I gave some of these very recently in my column.

If you, or any of my readers, would like to have my leaflet, "Armfuls of Beauty", send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 11. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Don't Salve Old Wounds With Daughter

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

My daughter is shy with boys but goes with a girl who is popular with them. It breaks my heart to see her listening to this other girl's stories about her dates and good times when she ought to be having them herself.

But when I try to encourage her to give a party or invite boys to the house I only upset her. . .

ANSWER: When she's ready to date boys, she will. In the meantime don't interfere. Rid yourself of this impatience that may drive her deeper into the very shyness you're trying to overcome.

Often the drive behind our impatience for a child's social success are the hurts done us by our own social failures.

As youngsters or adolescents, our pride prevented us from really registering the hurt caused us by our feeling of clumsiness at parties, our resentful envy of girls who seemed more desirable than we were.

REVIVES MEMORIES

When our own child seems to be heading for the same kinds of failure, she revives memories of ours. We become so re-involved with them that we start pushing our daughter as we wanted to push ourselves.

We want her to defeat her popular friend as we wanted to defeat the girls who got more admiration than we did.

Under these circumstances, we don't see our daughter at all. Her unreadiness for social competition doesn't matter to us.

It actually irritates us. It denies us another chance. It refuses us satisfaction for our old envies and humiliations. It balks our ambition to justify ourselves.

If we can get on to this pressure that is actually making the drive behind our impatience, the impatience dissolves.

We see what we're doing. We disconnect from the child. We see that we are using her to fight battles of injured pride that have nothing to do with her at all.

Then love has a chance to operate. We can let our daughter be what she is instead of trying to make her what we wanted to be.

We can see that her shyness is expressing its wish for social success in her admiration of her popular friend.

We can be grateful for it. And wait until the envious wish is openly spoken. Then we can offer to help her realize those parties and invitations.

The Frank L. Milmines of Portage Street announce the engagement of their daughter Janet Marie to Robert A. Penilo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Penilo of East Rundell Street.

Have You Tried This?

Rich Pastry Crust Holds Salmon Potato Mixture

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Do you remember the unusual meat pie recipe we gave you a few months ago? That was a French Canadian recipe, as is the one today. It may be made with fresh or leftover mashed potatoes.

Mrs. Sidney Gregory, our cook today, got this recipe from her grandmother. In addition to caring for three preschool daughters, Mrs. Gregory likes to garden.

SALMON PIE
By Mrs. Sidney Gregory

1 recipe for rich pie crust, for double crusts
1 pound can salmon, drained
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
3½ to 4 cups mashed potatoes
Salt and pepper to taste

Line pie tin with pastry. Mix rest of ingredients together thoroughly and fill crust. If you use leftover mashed potatoes, moisten them with some salmon juice first.

Roll out remaining pastry and top pie. Cut out a hole the size of a silver dollar in center of crust. Put in 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. Flute edges.

Bake at 350 degrees about 40 minutes. Serves 4-5.

Easter Egg Hunt Is Set for April 1 – No Foolin'

There'll be no tricks played during the seventh annual Pontiac Easter egg hunt, even though it does fall on April 1.

The eggs will be there, 4,000 of them, well hidden in four city parks in hiding places near to the ground and within reach of youngsters under 11 years of age.

Again cooperating with the Parks & Recreation Department are the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Northside Kiwanis Club and the Community Organizations of Pontiac.

Jaycees will help stage the hunt at Jaycee and Murphy Parks; Kiwanians at Oakland Park; and the Community Organizations members at Beaudette Park.

The groups provide the eggs, some 60 prizes and some of the supervision.

The hunt will begin at 2 p.m., rain or shine. Youngsters should go to the parks nearest their homes.

Assistants Get Extra Medic Office Course

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — St. Joseph's Hospital here is trying to ease the nurse shortage by teaching office girls how to take temperatures, read blood pressure and administer hypodermics.

A spokesman explained that many registered nurses are leaving hospital staffs to work in doctor's offices as assistants.

The idea of St. Joseph's three-month course is to give young women with secretarial training an education in elementary medical procedures so they can replace these nurses, keeping them available for hospital staffs.

Waterford Drama Club to Stage 'Ah! Wilderness'

WORKING ON 'WILDERNESS'—With final dress rehearsals behind them, the Waterford Township High School Dramatics Club is ready to raise the curtain on their first performance of "Ah! Wilderness" tonight at 8. The play will also be staged tomorrow night at the same hour. Putting the final touches on a scene from the show are (from left) Bert Walton, Larry Rogers and John Odneal. Walton has one of the three leading roles in the production. The comedy drama will take place in the high school gymnasium under the direction of Patty Looman, speech instructor.

Patty Looman Directs Comedy of Small Town Family in Connecticut

By BARB SECAN

The home of an ordinary family in a small town in Connecticut will be the setting for the Waterford Township High School Dramatics Club production of "Ah! Wilderness" tonight.

Under the direction of speech instructor Patty Looman, the production will be staged in the high school gymnasium at 8.

A final performance will be held Saturday night at 8.

This is the story of average folk, typical in their vexations and humors, with average problems and normally, the strength to solve them. However, the situation that arises is hardly normal.

The family suddenly develops a deep concern for their young son, Richard, a senior in high school and a rebel. This potential anarchist hates capital and a number of other things, but he does have one weakness — he is passionately in love with a neighbor girl.

His plans to marry the girl are shattered when her father objects to his sending her Swinburne poems and forces them to break off relations.

To spite her, Richard runs out in a frenzy and takes up with a strange lady. At this point the boy's parents are sure the world has ended. What happens to Richard and how his parents face up to their dilemma proves to be a very humorous experience.

Leads in the play are portrayed by Mike Mansour as Richard, Mary MacDermid as his mother, and Bert Walton as his father.

GIRLS PLAY BALL

A variety of events have been sponsored by the Girls Athletic Association during this two-week period. Last Saturday the girls participated in an all day "play day" in the high school gymnasium.

Along with members of the G. A. A. from Clarkston, Pontiac Northern, and Bloomfield Hills, the girls played volleyball, basketball, and prepared their lunch in the homemaking rooms.

A pot-luck dinner, a guest speaker, and games were but a part of the G.A.A. Mom's Night, last Wednesday. Each of the girls brought her mom and a dish for the dinner.

The mothers and their daughters also participated in games and in a sing-song.

Monday night the G. A. A. Letter Club members will challenge the women faculty members to a basketball game. Game time is 8 in the Waterford gymnasium. Tickets will be available at the door.

Compelled by the carelessness of their fellow classmates, student council members held a work-bee last Saturday to scrub desk tops.

The entire second floor was cleaned and tomorrow morning another session will be held to remove pencil and ink marks from the desks on the first floor.

Next Wednesday marks the end of school and the beginning of Easter vacation.

TOP SCHOLARS — Scholastic honors have been awarded at Walled Lake High School and these three girls rank at the top where brainwork and all round school activities are concerned. The "big three" of the class of 1961 are (from left) Lynne Ashby, Dorothy Duckwitz and Ute Mayer. Lynne was named class salutatorian and Dorothy class valedictorian. Ute, an exchange student, was named honorary class valedictorian. The girls all live only a few blocks from each other.

To Join Seniors in Fall

Northern Will Get European AFS Student

By BILL RAMSEY

It is now official. Next year among the new faces at Pontiac Northern will be one from Europe.

At a recent meeting of the junior class it was explained that as soon as a home is found, the American Field Service will assign a foreign exchange student to Northern.

The Pontiac Optimist Club is donating $650 to defray the student's traveling expenses from his home to our city.

In addition, all his medical and dental expenses incurred while in the United States, plus monthly spending money will be paid by the American Field Service.

The exchange student may also be claimed as a dependent on the income tax return of whoever he lives with while in Pontiac.

The juniors are particularly interested because next year their visitor will be a member of their class. Plans are going ahead to insure the stay will be mutually profitable.

Rehearsals started this week for the Northern Players' spring production, "Hedda Gabler," by the Norwegian playwright, Henrik Ibman of the publicity committee is Bonnie Plummer.

The Pontiac Northern A Capella Choir traveled to Ferndale Saturday for the district high school choir festival. Factors considered in judging include tone quality, pitch, technique, balance, interpretation, diction, and fluency.

The Northern rendition of "Bow Down Thine Ear, Oh Lord", by Hayden Morgan, and "Tenebrae Factae Sunt", by Palestrina, brought a rating of 1, or "superior".

Under the direction of Melvin Larimer, vocal music instructor, the choir is now preparing for a spring concert.

Four Northern seniors who took the Michigan State University scholarship test earlier this month, gave a good account of themselves.

Beatrice Stephens, Barbara Everett, Jean Isbell, and Bill Ramsey have received notice that they will be awarded scholarships to MSU.

Clarkston Hosts Speech Contest

Prepare for District Forensic Meet at New High, School Tomorrow

By JANET TISCH

Clarkston High's Forensic team has been vigorously practicing for the District contest to be held tomorrow in the new high school.

This is the first time in many years that a district contest has been held at a Clarkston school.

Members of the team are Earl Pearson, Gary Baker, Guy Hoffman, Joan Payne, Sally Moore, Alida Lawrence, Carolyn Ruggles, Linda Chapman, Betty Raby and Janet Tisch.

They have been coached by dramatics instructor, Lorna Wildon. Miss Wildon has played roles in such Broadway musicals as "The King and I" and has been able to teach the participants better and more effective ways of public speaking.

Contest starting time will be at 9:30 a.m. in the speech room. Here, members of the declamation team will compete for first and second place honors with Clarenceville, West Bloomfield, and Bloomfield Hills.

Drawing for places will take place in the Little Theater at 9:15.

Big Concert Tonight at Bloomfield Hills

By DICK NETTKE

The music department of Bloomfield Hills High School is presenting its annual Spring Music Festival tonight at 7:30 in the school gym.

The evening will be centered around the efforts of the music students of BHHS under the leadership of Clarance Luchtmann, directing the vocal ensembles, and Wayne Tilton, directing the band.

Also featured will be "The Jills," an 8-girl vocal group well known throughout the Oakland County Area. A pleasant evening of good music is in store for all who attend.

Junior-Senior Banquet Slated at St. Frederick

By MARY ELLEN DETMER

The 1961 Junior-Senior Banquet at St. Frederick High School will bear the name of "Soiree en Paris" and convey a French theme.

This annual semi-formal affair is presented to the seniors by the juniors as a farewell get-together. This year it will take place on the evening of April 5th.

The juniors have put a lot of time and planning into "Evening in Paris." The decorations will include the French sidewalk cafe; a French poodle and the Eiffle Tower. Entertainment will be by stereo.

The most promising attraction seems to be the menu which includes ham, mashed potatoes, green beans, sweet potatoes, a jello salad, and strawberry shortcake for dessert.

Teen-Ager Turns Back on Tradition, Wins Bet

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.
Press Political Writer

Carol Chappell, first chairman of the newly-organized Oakland County Teen Dems, is a courageous gal with a mind of her own.

Her parents are both Republicans.

Carol, a 16-year-old Pontiac Central High School sophomore, belies the hackneyed belief that children always follow in mother and dad's footsteps when it comes to politics. Not so with the smiling blue-eyed Carol, who someday might want to run for office.

With odds against her at the family dinner table at 297 Starr Ave., Carol pours forth all her political vigor to defend President John F. Kennedy and the Democratic record from verbal attacks from her mother and father.

She has some help from younger sister Mickey, 14, recording secretary of the new club.

The county now boasts the senior county committee, Oakland County Young Dems, and the recent addition, sponsored by James M. McNeely, a member of the county executive committee and former state representative nominee.

Carol took an immediate liking to then presidential candidate Kennedy during the primaries, although she admits privately that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was "pretty cute."

"He's vigorous," Carol said of the President. "He says he's going to do something and he does it. He doesn't fool around."

Republicans, on the other hand, are slow in getting things done and not as liberal, she said.

Carol is hopeful that maybe someday she can solicit some more help from her two brothers, ages 10 and 12, and her 4-year-old sister. Her father is district field manager for a bottled gas company and her housewife mother a nurse one day a week at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

"My dad doesn't approve of the Democratic legislation," she said, "and he's trying to convince me I'm wrong and I'm doing the same about him."

Carol, however, has 50 cents to prove she was right once and that father doesn't always know best.

SWEET VICTORY — Her father said it couldn't be done, but Carol Chappell, 16-year-old chairman of the newly-organized Oakland County Teen Dems, holds up a copy of the Nov. 9 Pontiac Press to prove it could. She bet on President Kennedy while her father — needless to say a Republican — bet his daughter 50 cents former Vice President Richard M. Nixon would win last fall.

All Live in Westacres

Walled Lake Names Top Seniors

By SHARON MURDY

The valedictorian and salutatorian of the class of 1961 at Walled Lake High School have been announced.

Named class valedictorian was Dodie Dickwitz. The class salutatorian is Lynn Ashby.

In addition, Ute Mayer, a visiting exchange student from Germany, has been named honorary valedictorian.

Walled Lake High is proud of these students, but even more proud is the small community of Westacres, in West Bloomfield Township.

All three girls are Westacres residents, living but a few blocks from each other.

Dodie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Duckwitz of 7468 Sweetbriar Road. Lynn's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John L. Ashby of 3213 N. Elder Road.

During her stay in America, Ute has been living with Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Welch of 7267 Arrowwood Drive.

RIGID PREP COURSE

As valedictorian, Dodie Duckwitz has maintained a 3.37 scholastic average in high school.

Some of the subjects from her rigid college prep course have been accelerated English and mathematics; three years of French; independant research in American history, government, economics, and world problems; and accelerated general science, biology, chemistry. She is also a National Merit Scholarship finalist.

As well as keeping up with the demands of such courses, Dodie has managed to maintain an active pace in extra-curricular activities.

She is a member of the National Honor Society; program chairman of The Globetrotters, the exchange student club; a member of The Echo and Viking staffs; program chairman of the science club; treasurer of F. T. A.; and historian of the Political Science Club.

In addition Dodie has been a school and district winner in Forensics for three years. She has debated for two years and has played the flute in the band.

This year she has been in the chorus and participated in all of its activities, including the role of Tuptim in "The King and I."

Last year she toured South America with the Michigan Chorale and this year is a member of the Alumni Chorale which toured Michigan giving concerts.

Dodie was also honored by being selected as DAR Good Citizen at Walled Lake this year. At the state meeting honoring Michigan's 337 Good Citizens, Dodie received an honorable mention as one of the top 25 girls in the state.

She was also recently invited to enter the Honors College at the University of Michigan next fall.

ON STUDENT COUNCIL

Lynn Ashby captured the honor of salutatorian with a course of study and activities much the same as Dodie's. She has been on the student council for three years, and has played in the band for three years.

She is a member of the science club and also contributed to our earning the ski trophy as a member of the ski team. She toured South America this past summer and is a member of the Alumni Chorale.

Lynn, is taking accelerated English and math this year. Her other subjects are physics, Latin, government, and economics.

Ute Mayer was named honorary valedictorian because she received all A's for her first semester in an American high school.

Her schedule of courses include English, government, history, chemistry, and biology. She is a member of the Globetrotters, the photo club, and the ski club.

As a member of the ski team, she played a key role in bringing back the trophy for Walled Lake as the winning girls ski team in the Inter-Lakes schools.

Student Assistants Help Staff at PCH

By BARB GRIFFIN

Many Pontiac Central High School students give their time and energy each day as assistants in the school offices and classrooms.

The aim of this program is to give experience and knowledge to the students as well as assistance to the teachers.

A staff of 23 students helps librarian Doris Haynes keep the library running smoothly. Library assistants shelve books, keystone magazines, type new books and repair worn books. They also work at the check-out desk and prepare library admittance slips.

Students who have worked three semesters as a library assistant are eligible for a service pin.

Library assistants include Sharon Armstrong, Linda Pickering, Sheila Filipin, Viola Morris, Mildred Pearson, Conita McAllister, Paul Kern, Leon LeDuff, Arlene Knowles, Olivia Williams, and Sharon Jackson.

Others are Martha Lawrence, Deborah Boone, Thommye Bessent, Paula Knowles, Wilhelmina Bessent, Virginia Glazier, Mike Colpus, Minnie Churchwell, Allie Hawkins, Marie d'Argy, Patsy Stephens, and Kathleen Loop.

COLLECT SLIPS

Many girls work in the attendance office during their free hour. They help Harold Smead and Marjorie Lowry keep track of the daily absentees, collect absence slips from classrooms, and sign blue slips for students.

Retailing students have the opportunity, while giving valuable service to the school, to gain experience in this field by working in the bookstore.

Waiting on the student body, handling stock, receiving deposits, and counting money are the chief duties of bookstore assistants.

The duties of the 14 people who aid in the main office include handling the switchboard, filing, sorting mail, and giving help at the counter.

Office assistants are Sharon Drew, Joann Davis, Sheila Smith, Mary Sue Smallwood, Janet Cunningham, Char Herzog, Linda Bolin, Marlene Beale, Janice Huff, Linda Pickering, Vicki Woods, Kim Fink, Joann Elkins, and Carole Dudley.

Many students assist in the biology and chemistry classes. To attain a position as a lab assistant, a B average and a recommendation by two teachers is necessary. Students assist with the many demonstrations given in the classroom, distribute supplies and clean up.

HELP GYM TEACHERS

The girls gym teachers also have many assistants to help them in their classes assisting in teaching skills, taking roll, and passing out equipment.

Annual Science Fair Held Monday; Staged by Ninth Grade Pupils

By KATHY McKEE

Emmanuel Christian High School's ninth grade has again sponsored the school's annual Science Fair, as the ninth grade has every year since 1958. The event took place this week.

Randy Leach, supervisor of the fair, along with the cooperation of his five coworkers has done a wonderful job under the guidance of Charles Joss, ninth grade science teacher.

Jackie Harned was in charge of the awards committee. Don Ewert's committee took care of writing the rules and distributing them, collecting the entry blanks and entry fees as well.

John Landon was in charge of publicity while Jim Gillespie did a very good job handling all the last minute details that can be expected by the chairman of the set-up committee.

Winners of the science fair will be asked to enter the Detroit Metropolitan Science Fair in April.

There were many outstanding and excellent exhibits. First place was taken by Carolyn Lingle with a project on photosynthesis. First prize was $5.

The Second place prize of $3 was won by James Edwards. He exhibited a cloud chamber as his project.

The exhibits were on display Monday and Tuesday. They were viewed by P.T.F. members Tuesday night. Judging took place Monday night.

Michaelites Busy With New Class, Quarterly Tests

By PAT BURNS

Students at St. Michael's High School have been kept busy this week preparing for quarter exams. The result of their endeavors will be evident next Tuesday when report cards will be distributed.

Several seniors have taken the opportunity to enroll in a new voluntary advanced math class.

Through the efforts of the math instructor, Donald Guertin, members of the class will be taught more advanced principles of mathematics, including calculus, which will aid them when taking college courses.

The math classes are scheduled to be held twice a week, on Monday and Thursday.

SEC, Chrysler Land on Dann

Make Charges Today Against Detroit Attorney Fighting Auto Firm

DETROIT (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission today charged Detroit attorney Sol A. Dann has violated SEC regulations in soliciting proxies for Chrysler Corp.'s annual meeting April 18.

And Chrysler, in a separate action, accused Dann of pursuing "a studied scheme . . . for publicizing and disseminating false, misleading and unfounded charges aimed at a tearing down, destroying and damaging the good name and credit of Chrysler Corp. and the reputation for honesty and integrity of a large number of its executives and suppliers . . ."

The Chrysler statement was part of an answer filed to Dann's pending suit which asks U.S. District Court to postpone the auto company's stockholders' meeting for six months. Oral arguments on this case are due Monday.

Keep Eye Out for Vandalism at Northern High

Pontiac police will be keeping an eye on Pontiac Northern High School on weekends in the future.

Dr. Otto F. Hufziger, assistant superintendent, told the Pontiac School Board last night that a rise in use of the school's facilities had resulted in a rise in reports of vandalism at Northern.

"Most of the trouble results from misuse of automobiles," he said. "People have driven over lawns and newly seeded areas.

"Others drive around chain barriers onto the cinder track and have drag races," he explained.

Hufziger said he had discussed the matter with police and they agreed to increase weekend patroling of the Northern school grounds.

TV Rating Methods Studded With Error

WASHINGTON (AP)—The methods to determine the ratings ascribed to television programs are studded with errors, a group of statistical experts has reported to Congress.

But despite the errors, the methods used by the survey firms are more accurate than fail or other types of surveys, the group said.

The conclusions were released by Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, which asked for the study of the ratings.

Fire Badly Damages Historic French Building

PARIS (AP)—A flash fire started by an apparently accidental explosion today badly damaged rooms in the historic Palais Bourbon, the sprawling French National Assembly building on the left bank of the Seine.

Firemen and police said their preliminary investigation indicated the explosion in the assembly restaurant was touched off by a gas leak and an electrical short circuit or a careless smoker.

Can't Land, Mackinac Fogbound

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—The Coast Guard watched for a break in the fog today so it could send a helicopter on a mercy mission to this isolated, weather-bound resort island.

Residents were out of bread, milk and produce and Dr. Joseph Solomon, the only physician on the island, said an elderly woman patient, Ella Chambers, 76, should be in a mainland hospital.

Fog has shrouded the island for three days. A helicopter sent out from the Traverse City Coast Guard Station early today ran into peasoup fog en route to the island and was forced to land at mainland Pellston and await a break in the weather.

Rusk to Withdraw Order on Secrecy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department told House investigators today that Secretary of State Dean Rusk would withdraw his controversial order denying information to Congress on cases of foreign-aid mishandling.

The announcement was made by Rep. Porter Hardy Jr., D-Va., who had called the order "the most arrogant instruction" ever given to government witnesses before a congressional committee.

British Sure Secrets Safe

Confident Red Spies Failed to Jeopardize Nuclear Information

LONDON (UPI) — The British government is confident that the wealth of nuclear information developed in the United States has not been jeopardized by the activities of a Communist spy ring here.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan reassured the nation and the Western alliance on that point Thursday in a statement to the House of Commons.

But his government is under heavy fire from the opposition labor party, and he has instructed the admiralty to set up a committee to investigate security weaknesses at the Portland Naval Base.

Five persons, including an American couple, were convicted earlier this week of violating the British Official Secrets Act by stealing information from Portland and funneling them to Moscow.

Hugh Gaitskell, Labor party leader, demanded in Commons that Macmillan's government meet the security threat head-on.

Feeding Azaleas

Azaleas planted close together in beds should be fed one-half to three pounds of plant food for acid-loving plants, spread thinly over each 100 square feet of space. For single plants, a feeding consists of one-quarter to one pound of plant food, depending on the size of the plant. The fertilizer should be applied under the mulch and watered well without disturbing the roots.

Equipment Show All Day Monday

Commercial vegetable growers of Michigan will again have an opportunity to attend a trade show at Detroit Eastern Market on Monday, Mar. 27. This is a repeat of the 1960 show at the same place in which 75 commercial companies displayed the supplies and equipment which is used in Michigan's vegetable production business.

Those attending will see the latest in such items as sprayers and dusters, irrigation equipment, fertilizers, packaging materials, field implements, tractors, trucks and bodies, shop tools, washers and graders, conveyors, welders, transplanters, small tools and gadgets and many other items. At least four of America's leading seed distributors will be represented. Factory representatives will be on hand to discuss growers' needs and problems.

Several authorities in the vegetable production field will be on hand for consultation, and answers to questions concerning spray residues, used containers, spray schedules, new varieties. A special feature concerning material handling in the industry will be shown.

The second supply and equipment show is a one-day, no admission charge, 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. event. It is designed especially for the full-time commercial growers, and is being held in the center of their marketing area. Fruit growers, nurserymen, greenhouse operators and florists should also be able to see the equipment and supplies they need for their business.

The Detroit Bureau of Markets and Cooperative Extension Service agents of the area are arranging the event.

FRAGRANT FLOWER — Fancy edged petals, contrasting color zones, numbers of flowers in a cluster, and heavenly fragrance combine to make Sweet Wivelsfield a flower worth having.

Plant Dianthus for Looks and Spicy Fragrance

How much beauty lies in fragrance? This subtle, sweet attack on our senses influences us more than we know, and makes us see charm in such unlovely flowers as mignonette when we are actually being led by the invisible lure of scent.

Combine fragrance with attractive form and color (as any woman knows), and you have a well-night irresistible combination. Among the flowers you can grow from seed is a family called dianthus which offers this combination in various degrees, and which can bring the extra lure of scent to your flower border.

Of course, the best known member of the family and one of the most fragrant is the carnation. While you won't be able to produce carnations in your garden that match the florist's greenhouse beauties, you can have plenty of flowers from these willing perennials, and no shortage of spicy fragrance.

The main draw-back here is the fact that unless you start the plants very early indoors you won't have any flowers the first year. But there's an answer to this hurry-up feeling, and it's called Sweet Wivelsfield.

Sweet Wivelsfield, particularly when started early, will give you plenty of bloom during late summer and fall, and it certainly is sweet. The flowers are carried in large clusters, and present a most attractive series of zoned and edged blooms in white, pink, rose, scarlet, crimson, maroon, flesh and salmon.

Then, too, there is another member of the family you known as Sweet William. Ordinarily, Sweet William is a biennial, which means that you start the seed this year and get your blooms in early summer next year. But there is also an annual version of this same flower, and the annual type is always plainly identified as such on seed packets.

Sweet William is also very fragrant, and has flower clusters even larger than the Sweet Wivelsfield. You have your choice of single or double flowered types, both in mixtures showing a wide range of rich colors.

Send for Folder on Using Chlordane

Help is on the way for harressed gardeners who have been stymied by problems on insect control. The new chlordane "insect-free living" folder has the answers to the most difficult questions on this subject. It has been prepared for the person who has purchased an insecticide and wants to know more about how to use it, and for the person who is ready to buy but wants all the facts before making a choice. In the course of the season, it can save hours of conversation with dealers and sales clerks.

The folder describes insecticide formulations, and gives the comparative advantages of each type. It shows application equipment, and describes application methods. Inside of the folder is a large chart that shows all of the most common insect pests of lawn, vegetables, fruit trees, shade trees, shrubs, evergreens, ornamentals, berries, and homes.

Special sections of the chart are devoted to control of ants, termites, pests of dogs, and crabgrass.

Copies of the folder may be obtained free by writing Velsicol Chemical Corporation, 330 East Grand Avenue, Chicago 11, Illinois. Request form No. 501-30.

Don't be fooled by any early spring thaw. If something comes up in your garden and the inevitable late freeze doesn't kill it, it'll be weeds. — Burton

Plant New Rose at White House

There will be a new rose—as well as a new President—in the White House this Spring.

The new rose variety will be planted by President Kennedy all at the insistence of a five year old girl.

Last October as Jack Kennedy barnstormed through New York State's Nassau County, Mindy Naud, 5, presented the presidential candidates with the rose Duet, All-America Rose award winner for 1961. As she handed the Senator the rose plant, Mindy, daughter of TV producer Thomas Naud and Mrs. Naud, got a promise from the candidate that he'd plant the rose in the White House gardens.

Duet, the new White House rose plant, is the same beautiful Hybrid Tea that will be adding glorious color to hundreds of thousands of American gardens for the first time this Spring. The distinguished AARS winner is a unique bi-colored rose that blends two rich, warm hues. Soft salmon-pink colors the inner surface of the petal, while rosy crimson is the contrasting tone on the outer side of the petal.

The new President and his wife, Mindy learned, are enthusiastic rose growers. Their Georgetown home garden contains numerous varieties. Mrs. Kennedy is especially fond of using rose arrangements throughout her home.

The donation of Mindy's rose to the White House gardens gave speculation to the thought that the rose may someday finally become the national flower.

A group of rose enthusiasts in Congress, headed by Senator Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, has been urging passage of a joint resolution designating the country's most popular flower—the rose—as the floral symbol of the United States.

A Good Lawn This Year Calls for Fertilizer

By W. H. GARMAN
Chief Agriculturist
National Plant Food Institute

Most lawns suffer because of lack of plant food. If you seeded and fertilized your lawn last fall, it will begin to grow early this spring. Keep it mowed to a height of an inch and one-half. Fertilize at first cutting with 20 to 30 pounds per 1,000 square feet of lawn area with a good lawn fertilizer. This will be in March or April, depending upon your locality and climatic conditions. Fertilization at this time encourages rapid root development and early establishment of the young plants.

In case you did not seed or fertilize last fall, it may pay you to apply a good lawn seed mixture at two to three pounds per 1,000 square feet in March or April. Keep in mind that spring lawn seedings fail more often than do fall seedings.

Be sure to buy a good lawn seed mixture, and to follow the seeding directions on the container. Keep the lawn surface moist until the new plants have been established. Often spring rains will do this, but if the surface becomes dry, be sure to apply a light sprinkler irrigation.

Moisten with a fine mist about midday, and if temperatures are unusually high, moisten again about four or five o'clock in the afternoon. Never apply too much water at a time because excessive moisture can bring about a disease known as "damping-off" which kills the young seedlings.

In case you did not fertilize your lawn last fall, then plan to feed it twice this spring. Give it an immediate application of a good lawn fertilizer at about 20 to 30 pounds per 1,000 square feet. Then, in order to build up fertility, a similar application should be made about June first.

Because fertilizers vary in weight and plant food content, always read and follow the directions on the package. Your fertilizer may call for more or less than the above amounts. Also, always sprinkle your lawn immediately after fertilizing it. And never spread fertilizer when grass is the least bit damp from dew or rain.

You can have a good lawn even though your soil may be shallow, or sandy, or your lawn may be sloping. A little attention given to your lawn area will bring greater pride and joy than an equivalent amount of energy devoted to almost any other enterprise. With a little extra care you may become the pride of the neighborhood in just one short season.

Be sure to buy a good quality lawn fertilizer. Good quality fertilizers are produced by reputable firms and are for sale through fertilizer dealers, garden supply houses, hardware stores, etc.

NEW PRUNERS — A new, rugged lifetime pruning shear that will trim anything from a rosebush to a tree limb up to ¾ inches in diameter has been developed by a leading manufacturer of shears for industry. The new Klenk KDC-8 Pruning Shear, made of finest alloy steel, gives 20% greater cutting power through double sliding cam action and greater opening of jaws, lesser opening of handles. Specially designed hand-contoured, easy-grip, spring-back handles eliminate tiring from constant use. A safety clip holds blades in closed position when shear is not in service. Removable bolt and nut fastening permits fast, easy replacement of all parts.

Car Exhaust May Harm Close Shrubs

If some of the shrubs beside your driveway don't show signs of life this spring, your automobile exhaust may be responsible.

Have you been idling your motor in the open doorway of the garage to warm up the engine before taking off for work? While this is good for your car, it can be the death of your evergreen and other shrubs. Exhaust fumes may do harm in two ways:

1. The heat may interrupt the plant dormancy. A subsequent quick drop in the temperature then could bring killing injury.

2. The fumes have a poisonous effect on needles of evergreens. Both evergreen and deciduous (leafy) plants absorb fumes through tiny breathing pores in the bark.

You can avoid such damage by parking the car a few feet from the shrubs.

Honey bees carry water as well as honey. Special carriers bring it to the hive, dole it out, seal it in cells or even act as storage tanks themselves until the water is needed.

The Agricultural Extension Service was established in 1914 by passage of the Smith-Lever Act.

Gardeners to Get Better Seeds Now

Home gardeners, florists, suburbanites and others who buy flower, vegetable or agricultural seeds are going to get stronger protection in New York State, which this year pioneered in new rules and regulations setting seed standards.

Other states are expected to follow suit before long.

New York State also has been the first to establish rigid controls over the so-called "flower mats" of pre-planted seed, state agriculture department officials say. Many of these have been found unsatisfactory in the past.

Herb seeds, including dill and sage, also have been added to the list of vegetable seeds, giving buyers further protection.

Seed packets now must bear the notation "below standard" if the germination qualities do not meet requirements.

Large Patios Are Best

The size of your patio depends both on the uses which you plan for it and on the money you can invest. Better Homes & Gardens 1961 Garden Ideas Annual advises a twelve-foot width as a minimum for your patio. A good yardstick to follow is to plan an area at least the size of your living room.

Only Bargain Is a Good Tree

Don't take a flyer on the cheap growth stock—tree stock.

The bargain picked up from the itinerant tree peddler is a gamble — a real long shot in paying landscape dividends. Quality trees — those that will survive and thrive after transplanting — reflect long labors on the part of the nurseryman ranging anywhere from two to eight years.

Blue chip nursery stocks represent survival of the fittest. They are carefully selected and cultivated to assure home owners a sound healthy specimen. Many nursery trees are reproduced asexually, meaning by grafting or budding. This assures stock of uniform quality and predictable growing habits. Other trees grown from seed are carefully selected for superior characteristics.

These trees are regularly cultivated, fertilized, sprayed and pruned during their nursery sojourn. And they will be transplanted several times to assure fibrous, compact root systems. When ready for marketing, tree roots and branches will be carefully wrapped for transit. This mimizes moisture loss.

Tree peddlers offering "bargain material" frequently ignore these growing niceties. The stocks offered may look good for trunk size and branch spread, but chances are the root system is either inadequate or dried out.

Even with young stock carefully propagated and tended, selective care is still required if it is to conform to individual landscape requirements. If location calls for a tree with tall, clean trunk branching well above adjacent roof lines, it will be necessary to pick stock already in character. The same applies to horizontal branching.

Louisiana State University scientists have developed a way of using bacteria to locate oil deposits. The bacteria thrive in areas where gasses containing hydrocarbons rise from the underground oil.

600 TONS OF TEXTBOOKS — A reporter looks over some of nearly 600 tons of discarded California state textbooks — some in nearly new condition — which spilled out of a Los Angeles warehouse following a fire at the building this week. Officials say the books, which are headed for a dump, are either obsolete or damaged. Usually old books are sold for scrap at $1.50 per ton.

Will Celebrate 70th Wedding Anniversary

EVART (AP) — Seventy years ago today Jesse Bartholomew and Grace Osmer got married. A circuit preacher walked five miles and rowed across the Muskegon river to officiate.

Today, Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew will stand in the same corner of the same living room where they were married. They'll be greeting guests at an open house.

Also on hand will be their son and daughter, five grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Jesse, 93, said the years seemed to have slipped by in a hurry. Looking at his 87-year-old wife, he remarked: "I guess it's because I married the right girl."

Phone Strike All Over

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A telephone strike that blacked out all service in Mexico for nine hours ended Thursday with about 6,500 workers returning to their jobs. Workers had charged contract violations.

Calls Voting Method for Judges 'Silly'

DETROIT (AP)—The nonpartisan method of electing State Supreme Court members Thursday was described as "completely unrealistic" and "kind of silly" by John R. Dethmers, chief justice of the state's highest court.

Dethmers told the Republican Women's Club in Huntington Woods that "The purpose of the courts would be better served by the Missouri system, under which judges are appointed on the advice of a bipartisan panel and then stand for election unopposed."

"Under our present method, the incumbent justice must attend a political convention and be nominated by the party.

"Then as soon as he leaves the convention floor, he must divest himself of his party ties and assume the pose of a nonpartisan," Dethmers said.

Florida has more lakes than any other state. The number is estimated at 30,000. They range in size from tiny ponds to Lake Okeechobee, which has an area of about 733 square miles.

Man in Space

Amateurs Speed Astronauts' Orbit

By LAWRENCE R. WERNER

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — "Moonwatchers" and other amateur astronomers are busy helping to hasten the day when the United States will send a man into orbit around the earth.

Thousands of volunteer astronomers—members of the Astronomical League—are supplying the Smithsonian Institution with valuable data used in satellite orbit computation.

Mrs. Wilma Cherup of Pittsburgh, the Astronomy League's executive secretary, reported recently that "moonwatch observers are constantly providing science with mounting knowledge of the upper atmosphere's density—particularly at altitudes of 150 miles."

"This information will be extremely valuable," she said, "when our scientists prepare to launch a man into space."

Moonwatchers first proved their worth after Russia orbited Sputniks 1 and 11. The zealous amateurs manned stations across the country and helped track the Sputniks long after the satellites ceased to transmit radio signals back to earth.

During the early days of space exploration, moonwatch teams established direct contact with professionals at Smithsonian by telephone.

NEED AMATEURS

"Without these amateurs," Mrs. Cherup insists," it would have been practically impossible for the professionals to obtain the vast amount of tracking information which was accomplished by the formation of moonwatch teams."

"The professionals are too busy with other work to spend their time observing the way the amateurs do," she pointed out. "Besides," Mrs. Cherup added, " the cost of locating so many professionals at stations throughout the country would be prohibitive."

The astronomical league has other important functions besides moonwatch teams which play a part in the future of the space program. Two of the most active groups are the American Association for Variable Star Observers and the Association for Lunar and Planetary Observations.

These groups render many services to the professionals. "For instance, AAVSC members keep watch over assigned areas of the sky for any changes such as the appearance of Nova, or new star," said Mrs. Cherup. Data turned in by these skilled amateurs is applied to new theories on space by the professionals.

More and more Americans are taking up the challenge of the skies. "Since its inception in 1947," said Mrs. Cherup, "the league has mushroomed into 137 societies with a total membership of 8,500 persons, exclusive of affiliates and supporting members in other countries."

Moonwatch teams vary in size from 12 persons to 20 or more. Tracking stations are equipped with wide-angle telescopes, many of them built by league members, and tape recorders with a radio attachment for receiving signals.

Mrs. Cherup said one of the most satisfying results of participating in the league's activities, apart from aiding the government in the space program, is watching young students take an active interest in astronomy and science.

Although professionals have taken up much of the slack since 1957, moonwatch teams are still of considerable use in the present space program.

"It would be impossible to calculate the contributions of the league in terms of money or time savings," said Mrs. Cherup. "The professionals relied on the "moonwatchers" for a good while before they could take over themselves, and they still need their information."

She concluded, "You have to crawl before you can walk."

Swim Classes Planned to Start Week of April 10

Although the popular nighttime swimming sessions end at Pontiac Central High School next week, a new eight-week series is scheduled to begin the week of April 10.

Leonard T. Buzz, city recreation supervisor, said the Parks & Recreation Department once again will offer two open swimming sessions, beginning at 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Tuesday nights.

Beginning swimming classes are scheduled at 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Monday nights and advance swimming at 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Wednesday nights.

Registration fees for the classes are $2 for eight weeks, payable upon registration at City Hall. The open swimming fee is 50 cents a night for adults and 25 cents for youngsters under 18 years of age.

All beginning swimmers must be at least four feet tall for safety's sake, the department said.

Clergyman, Executive to Lead Fund Drive

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A prominent Muskegon clergyman and a Grand Rapids industrial representative Thursday were named by Bishop Allen J. Babcock to lead the 1961 Grand Rapids Catholic Diocese Development fund drive. The campaign is set for May 14-21.

Guidepost: Congressman's Courage Brings Defeat

BROOKS HAYS
Ex-Congressman, Little Rock, Ark.

Most of my life has been spent in politics, which means that I have made lots of speeches. Quite a few of these talks have been at college commencements, where I have urged countless young people to buckle on the armor of a strong religious faith because — I always said — they would need it, sooner or later, to meet the crises of life.

HAYS

But I never knew how true my words were until I came face to face with the great crisis of my own life, several years ago, a defeat at the polls, after 16 years in Congress, that seemed to spell the end of my political career.

After a summer of mounting tension and bitterness in Little Rock over the school integration question, I was instrumental in arranging a meeting between President Eisenhower and Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas.

My hope was that some middle ground could be found, some way to avert the disaster that was threatening all of us. I believed in the necessity and inevitability of change, but I hoped the change could be brought about on a basis of local consent, not external force.

THE TROOPS CAME

In September of 1957, paratroops were ordered to Little Rock. In November of 1958, I was defeated in my bid for re-election to Congress.

The race was close — I polled 49 per cent of the vote. But the blow was a stunning one because it was so unexpected.

Perhaps I was a bit complacent. Be that as it may, I was defeated — except for one thing — I still had my religious faith to support and strengthen me.

By this I do not mean that I prayed for victory in the election, or ultimate vindication. As a lifelong Baptist, I don't think God intervenes in the affairs of men to grant favors of this kind. What I do think is that with each personal crisis, God offers us an opportunity to display patience, forbearance, humility and dignity — Christian virtues all.

CLEAR CONSCIENCE

In the days following my defeat, many Bible phrases crossed my mind. I think perhaps the one that comforted me most was from the First Epistle of Peter: "For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? But if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God."

Here the man who had been one of the most intimate friends of Jesus seemed to be telling me that if my conscience was clear, if I had done the best I could, then there was nothing to fear.

And gradually the truth of this remarkable assertion began to be apparent. Messages flooded in from every state in the Union with words of sympathy and encouragement. Much of the mail came from southern states, nearly all of it favorable to the views I had expressed.

Some people since have said it was courageous of me to express my views on the racial situation in such explosive circumstances. I'd like to claim credit for courage, but I cannot, for I simply acted the way I had been trained from childhood to act.

SELF-SACRIFICE

I think that any nation that aspires to greatness must be able to call on and count on people who, somewhere along the road of life, have acquired the habit of self-sacrifice. And the only way I know for people to acquire this habit is through belief in and practice of the principles of religion.

If a man has acquired these principles, and does his best to live by them, then his political label becomes secondary. I have been termed a moderate, but I hope that I am not moderate in all the areas of my life.

I do not want to be moderately moral in my relations to my fellowman. I do not want to be moderately sensitive to wrong. I want to be so completely sensitized, as a Christian, that I will work harder to eliminate racial discrimination or any other form of injustice that I may encounter.

I think, perhaps, the words that helped me most during those first difficult days after my defeat came in the form of a telegram that arrived from my friend William Bolton of the New Orleans Baptist Seminary.

This is what it said: "Jesus pressed home the point that men get by giving. They win by losing. They live by dying. Congratulations on your victory."

SATURDAY — C. B. Snead, Jr., Georgia minister, tells of a strange experience he had with a convicted murderer in a Georgia prison and how it brought another criminal to God.

Mackie Must Face Ghost of Old Issue in Campaign

The ghost of the controversial extension of Northwestern Highway in Oakland County might be flaunted in the face of State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie during his re-election bid.

Making political hay over why the $37 million project was shelved when he was first elected in 1957 is Mackie's Republican challenger for the post April 3, Charles R. Bedwell, an employe of the Ford Motor Tractor and Implement Division in Birmingham.

Residents of nine western Oakland County townships destrous of "getting moving on Northwestern Highway" have called a rally for tonight at the Union Lake Elementary School at Union Lake and Commerce roads.

Time is 8 p.m.

Richard O. Paschke, Union Lake businessman, said the rally not only will be to "get the ball rolling" on the long-delayed project, but also to kickoff a postcard campaign for Bedwell.

Bedwell has revived the highway building issue and made it one of the major themes of his campaign to unseat Mackie.

In Farmington recently, Bedwell charged the incumbent commissioner, a Democrat, with "a four-year plan of bungling" on the project and promised "the earliest possible action" on the new route if he is elected.

The focus of all this activity is the 37-mile extension of Northwestern Highway from its present terminus at 14 Mile Rd. to U.S. 23 near Fenton.

Plans for the extension were mapped in 1956, with actual construction to begin in the spring of 1957. Cost of the project was estimated at $37 million. Early in 1957, a $25 million bond issue was sold to help finance the new route, with the remaining $12 million to come from federal and state highway funds. Oakland County's share of the bond issue was $1.8 million.

But after Mackie took office he postponed the Northwestern extension, declaring that it would involve "financial madness." He said that traffic volumes indicated that new road construction was more urgently needed in other areas of Oakland County.

Horace Greeley did not originate the phrase "Go west, young man." It first appeared in an editorial by John B. L. Soule in the Terre Haute, Ind., Express in 1851. Greeley reprinted the editorial in his New York Tribune.

Could Become Another Korea

Little Laos in Tug-of-War Spot

By the Associated Press

Little Laos, whose people hate war, is in the middle of the East-West Cold War because it has one thing both sides want—strategic geographical position.

The Communists see Laos as the avenue for a deep penetration into Southeast Asia.

The West values the little jungle kingdom as the key to defense of Burma, Thailand, Cambodia and South Viet Nam.

These four nations border on Laos, as do Red China and Communist North Viet Nam.

The two Red nations have taken advantage of the mutual border to spur arms and "advisers" into the pro-Communist rebel armies now battling the royal government in North-Central Laos.

Pro-Western Premier Boun Oum blames this aid for repeated successes reported by the rebels since the current offensive opened March 7.

But Western military experts point out there are other reasons:

A hard core of 2,000 to 2,500 rebel troops have been Communist-indoctrinated and are impervious to the peaceful tenets of Budhism.

Government troops, on the other hand, have shown a definite reluctance to fight. Their officers and political leaders frequently have said it is wrong for Lao to kill Lao.

Western experts consider the government troops poorly trained, saying perhaps only one in five has grasped even the rudiments of combat. Their officers also leave much to be desired, the experts feel.

The United States has poured in arms worth millions in an effort to bolster the 29,000-man government army. In addition, civilian-dressed military men are training government troops to use their new U.S. arms.

Full-scale U.S. intervention to keep Laos' 2½ million persons out of the Red bloc would meet many difficulties.

Much of Laos' 91,400 square miles is rugged jungle terrain. U.S. armor or supply convoys would have difficulty matching the mobility of rebel guerrillas. U.S. troops and supplies would have to be airlifted in from great distances —Okinawa or Japan.

Some military experts say Laos could be another Korea — only worse.

GEOGRAPHY OF LAOS CRISIS — At No. 1, Hong Kong, U. S. carrier and two destroyers steamed out Thursday. At 2, in Laos, pro-Communist rebels were at Vang Vieng, near Vientiane, the capital. Circuit Pastor Objects to Dropping Old Songs

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK — Comes now a voice from the hinterland to protest the moves by church music specialists to eliminate the old gospel songs from the hymnbooks.

The process has been going on for some time now, in various denominations.

With a commission now working to revise the Methodist hymnbook, the Rev. Roy Delamotte, a circuit pastor in Kentucky and Tennessee, has unleashed a plea for preserving the "simple gospel numbers.

"While music may be a matter of principle with the classes, it's a matter of taste with the masses," he writes in the current issue of the church magazine, Christian Advocate.

REPLACED BY CHORALES

Most denominational hymnbooks already have dropped many gospel songs, such as "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Bringing in the Sheaves," and substituted more classical hymns, many based on medieval chants and chorales.

The Rev. Mr. Delamotte, a young minister who holds a Ph.D. from Yale, maintains that while gospel songs may not be musically the best, ordinary people sing them with relish, and that's better than "a resentful silence."

"If a devout Methodist gets a bang out of belting out, 'In the Sweet Bye and Bye,' I for one shall not insist that he sing instead that good, old-fashioned hymn of A. D. 1336 'Alla Trinita Beauta,'" he adds.

V6 Engines Score for GMC

Heavy Demand Shown by 1960 Truck Buyers Help Swell Sales

A survey by Ward's Automotive Reports, weekly trade publication, showed heavy demand for six-cylinder engines in 1960 truck production.

Ward's reported that GMC Truck & Coach Division, in introducing its line of V6 engines in late 1959 and in 1960, scored the strongest sales gain of any volume manufacturer.

"Of the 1,180,500 trucks included in the survey, a percentage of 98.4, there were 6.5 per cent or 76,430 units four cylinder engines, 823,181 or 69.7 six-cylinder, and 281,889 or 23.8 per cent eight-cylinder," Ward's reported.

The survey did not include approximately 1,000 12-cylinder models.

GMC's truck output last year by engine type included 99,000 six-cylinder engines and 200 eight-cylinder engines.

This included, in round figures, an estimated 200 V8 diesel, 95,000 V6 plus 4,000 inline six-cylinder engines.

There were also some 1,000 V12 engines among the division's trucks last year.

THINK: That's What Seminary Student Did

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A seminary instructor asked the class to suggest new names to replace the title Southern Baptist Convention.

One student offered this one: The Solar Baptist Convention. He explained: "This name would allow the Baptists to expand throughout the solar system. It would certainly indicate to earthlings that the Baptists are thinking ahead."

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—College student Martin Rowland is easily spotted when he drives around town. He uses a 1947 hearse equipped with two couches, a coffee table, typewriter and a radio, as a "study hall" between classes.

Bruton Drops Fly, Tigers Lose, 6-5

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Bob Scheffing can see now why the Detroit Tigers have a habit of losing close games and why they have finished in the second division most of the time in recent seasons.

"This club has better pitching and better catching than any of my Chicago teams," Scheffing said yesterday after Detroit dropped a 6-5 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals. "But I can see we don't have enough real good ball players.

"I could see it today — the failure to move runners along when we should have, the little things a player should do, the moves the really good player makes when you're in a tight game that can go either way."

"We didn't do those extra things and it doesn't seem we make those extra moves that win."

Scheffing noted the Tigers made 11 hits against the Cardinals and that seven of them came with two outs.

"You have to get your hits early, before you are two-thirds of the way out of an inning," he said.

Scheffing noted, too, that there is a great difference in the Tigers when Al Kaline is out of the lineup. Kaline still is nursing pulled leg muscles and it likely will be the weekend before he returns to action.

By that time, Scheffing will have announced his first squad cut. It is almost certain that pitchers Wyman Carey, Pat Dobson, Dick Egan, Allan Koch and Bob Paffel will be sent out. So will infielder Dick McAuliffe and outfielder, Andy Kosco.

The Detroit pitching is encouraging to Scheffing. Even though Frank Lary was touched for four runs and six hits in six innings against St. Louis, Scheffing said "he was throwing well and I'm sure he's in good shape. We expect a fine year out of Frank."

The score was 4-4 when Lary left, but in the eighth inning centerfielder Billy Bruton dropped a fly ball and let two runners score.

3 FOR THE ROCK — Rocky Colavito, Detroit Tiger outfielder, slides into third base with a triple in the third inning against the St. Louis Cardinals in Lakeland yesterday. Ken Boyer, Card third baseman, takes the throw but too late to make the tag as umpire Al Barlick watches the play. The Tigers lost, 6-5.

Hawks' Coach Labels Mikita as Key to Win

Cup Semis Even at 1-1 Following 4-3 Canadien Loss in Montreal

MONTREAL (AP)— "This was a big one. . .one we had to win," exclaimed Coach Rudy Pilous after his Chicago Black Hawks defeated the Montreal Canadiens 4-3 Thursday night, squaring their National Hockey League Stanley Cup best-of-7 semifinals at 1-1.

"I'd say the return of Stan Mikita was the big difference," said Pilous. "Here's a guy who was all bandaged up, plays in spots and gets that all important first goal. Stan gave us the necessary lift."

Mikita, a sophomore center, had been a doubtful starter because of a wrenched knee.

Coach Toe Blake of the Canadiens thought his team played well but "we got very few breaks."

"The puck wasn't bouncing our way," he said. "What can you do when it's not. But if we can't win on the road then we don't deserve to win the Cup," he added. "That's the way I look at it."

The teams now move to Chicago for the third and fourth games of the series Sunday and Tuesday nights. Montreal won the opener 6-2 last Tuesday night.

Eddie Litzenberger, a lanky winger who formerly played for the Canadiens, produced the winning goal for the Hawks with three minutes to play. Big Litz scored from a scramble in front of the net, slapping the disc past Montreal goalie Jacques Plante.

Litzenberger said he felt "great . . .just great" in the dressing room. "I trapped (Eric) Nesterenko's pass in mid-air and just shot. It feels great to have won this game. It's now a best-of-5 affair."

The Canadiens, who had won 11 straight Stanley Cup games over three seasons, twice overcame deficits. Mikita and Ken Wharram put Chicago in front 2-0 in the second period before Boom Boom Geoffrion and Henri Richard got the Flying Frenchmen even by the end of the stanza.

Bobby Hull gave the Hawks a 3-2 advantage in the third period, but Phil Goyette of the Habs tied it again midway in the stanza.

The Detroit Red Wings and the Toronto Maple Leafs resume their semifinal series in Toronto Saturday night with the Leafs holding a 1-0 edge after nipping the Wings 3-2 in two overtimes Wednesday night.

PLANTE ICED — Stan Mikita (21) scores the 3rd goal for the Chicago Black Hawks against the Canadiens Thursday night in the Forum at Montreal. Canadien defensemen Tom Johnson (10) and Bob Turner (11) watch as goalie Jacques Plante lies on the ice. The Hawks won, 4-3, to tie the series with one victory apiece.

Coke Five Takes West Side Lead; Striber Hits 660

Bob Striber led the West Side Classic this week when he fashioned a 660 series helping Hazelton Lettering to a three-game win over league-leading West Side Mobil dumping the Mobilmen to second.

Close on Striber's heels were his teammates Al Carline at 642 and Chuck Beach at 633. Other high scorers were Bob Gormong at 633, Joe Foster 629 and Buck McDonald at 628. High games of the night were rolled by Carline and Foster at 246 each. Others included Beach 245, Lyle Hook 241, McDonald 236, Al Pietz 236, Gormong 234 and Striber 225-224.

High team scoring was done by the Hazelton boys when they fashioned a new season series for the League on games of 1070, 1058, 1006 and a 3134 series. West Side Lanes rolled 1008 in a 2897 series while Calbi Music had 2871, Oakland Coin 2863, Slaters 2831 and Coca Cola 2823 series.

By winning three games from Pizutti's Lounge, the Coca Cola boys went into a three point lead over West Side Mobil while West Side Lanes was sweeping three from Tony's Rental to complete the sweeps.

Keg Tourneys Close Here Sunday

The wrapup weekend for two big bowling tournaments on local alleys comes up Saturday and Sunday.

Elks State competition will come to a close after nine weeks at Lodge 810 and Huron Bowl while the month-long City Women's contest rings down the curtain at Sylvan Lanes.

The Milford doubles event at Fairgrounds will be swinging into its second round.

Keglers from Pontiac, Muskegon, Niles, Flint, Mt. Clemens and Manistee will be trying to break a stranglehold on the leads maintained since early in the tournament.

The handicap scores to beat are 3131 in team, 1368 for doubles and 785 in singles. Bob Trachet and Jack Buckley are the only area leaders. The Pontiac men head the doubles standings.

Prize money totals $15,924 for the 41st annual men's battle. The top handicap and actual performers will earn cash awards and trophies.

The winners of $3,627 and trophies will be known by late Sunday afternoon when the women conclude their 28th annual.

Leads have constantly changed hands in the three weeks of action making it one of the most interesting tourneys in history.

Final round action will start Saturday night. Bowlers from Pontiac, Rochester, Drayton Plains, Utica, Oxbow Lake, Orchard Lake, Keego Harbor, Union Lake, Royal Oak, Waterford, Mt. Clemens, Milford, Clarkston and Highland are scheduled on the last two days.

Barbara Liskey's Poole Lumber team of Pontiac heads that division with 3136, Mary Jackson and Faye Johnson of Milford lead the way in doubles with 1328 and Juanita Allen of Pontiac is first in singles with 726 and all events handicap at 1958. Oxford's Hazel Clark has high in all events actual at 1651.

Lakeland Wins Waterford 'A'

Lakeland Pharmacy, regular season champion, won the Waterford Class A recreation basketball playoff crown last night by downing Spencer's Floor Covering, 45-51.

Dick Rohe was high scorer for the winners with 14 points. Ralph Springfield scored the same number for Spencer's.

In a Class B lower division semifinal game, Drayton Drugs ousted R & R Motors, 53-51. Phil Felice dropped in 21 for the motor team. Rodney Lyons hit 14 for the winners.

Drayton takes on Front Top for the division championship next Tuesday at 7 p.m. on the Prairie school court. Ron's Sunoco meets Johnson & Anderson at 8:30 for the Class B upper division championship.

By CHUCK ABAIR

A 190-pin victory for a West Side team over a group of Huron Bowl stars and a 300 for Mort Friedman in the Farmington Classic were among the highlights in recent bowling activities.

Dick Carmichael fired 631, Joe Foster 621 and John Nickell 595 to pace West Side to a 2920-2730 triumph in one of the features of the grand opening at Collier's Lanes in Oxford. Mike Godoshian added 547 and Bob Richards 526 for the victors.

Don Martell's 592 was high for Huron. Jim Walker hit 560, Joe Bonfiglio 539, "Mo" Moore 522 and Mike Samardzija 517.

Nickell, current state all-events leader, had two of his team's five games of 200 or better. Huron had two over 200. Foster's 233 headed both teams.

Proprietor Sam Perna of West Side hopes to arrange a match for his team with a strong Lapeer quintet.

Friedman fired his perfect effort at Nor-West Recreation and finished with 646. It was the 2nd in the league this season and his 2nd in as many years. The southpaw rolled one at Highland Park before.

Gary Cousens left the 10-pin 1st time out and then struck out for 290 and the top series of 693 in the Farmington league. Howie Zaske had 237-679, Sam Kendall 259-673, Jack Treaior 269-657, Les Rothbarth 238-667 and Bruce Cummings 248-663. Cameo Jewelry, now ahead by 7 games, put together 1090-3129. Friedman paced Hank Gniewick's to 1075-3147, Paulson's Bar had 1097-3109.

Several good scores reported from B & M House loop. Playtime Recreation had 3184 with Jim Walker at 736 and Paul George 712 to beat Old Milwaukee's 3008. John Lorang hit 628 for losers. Art Grissom sparked Art's Five with 728.

Paul Settle of Pontiac gained tie for state Moose singles lead with 666. City men Lloyd LaBarge and Bill Burnette are 3rd in doubles and Whitney Murphy 3rd in all events. Rube Wideman chalked up 703 with low of 215 in House league at Elks.

Classic Has New Leader

DETROIT (UPI) — Buzz Fazio, another of bowling's great stars, found scoring far from classic at the American Bowling Congress Tournament last night.

Fazio and his Bowling Shoppe team of Detroit opened its classic division play with a 2607 series. Sponsor Fazio bowled a 548 series, 14 pins behind his son Joe and 33 pins less than Matt Furgan, team leader with 581.

There was one change in the top 10 classic standings as the Doraty Motors of Cleveland moved into seventh with a 3741 six-game total. Doraty bowled 2899 last night after opening with 2842 Wednesday.

Albert Thompson of the Doraty's took the classic singles lead yesterday afternoon with 682, but bowled a 560 in the team event last night.

Once again a regular division team outscored the professionals. Modern Lamp and Shade of Akron, Ohio, rolled 2964 to take eighth place in regular team standings. Charles Demniskey led the Ohio team with 661.

Paul Breudigam, 43-year-old Cleveland bowler, fired a 278 last night for the top single game in team competition at this year's ABC thus far. Breudigam bowled 181-278-194 for a 653.

Another classic team was off to a rough start as the Ripley Pin Club of St. Louis opened with 2674.

Pizzuti Keglers in Sweep

Pizzuti's Lounge was the only 4-point winner this week in the West Side Ladies Classic outscoring Spartan Air Conditioning 2489-2406.

Motor Inn Rec. won 3 out of 4 over Lawyers Collision with Vi Cargal taking individual honors on 209-574. Other 3-point winners included West Side Lanes over Collier 2422-2275 and Team No. 5 over Michigan Babe Ruth 2491-2445 sparked by Rose Stratton's 543 for Team No. 5.

High single games rolled were by Pat Donner 212, Margaret Walker 203 and Anna Welmer, 200.

State Tourney Has 8 Contests Slated Tonight

Highland Park Clashes With Catholic Central in Top Game

EAST LANSING (UP) — Sixteen championship hopefuls — many veterans in the tournament battle for survival—reach the stepping-stone to high school basketball glory tonight.

They're the remnants of almost three weeks of tournament in fighting, the last survivors of the 722 teams that started tournament play with the hopes of making the coveted trip here for tonight's semifinals.

Only four will be successful, the teams crowned 1961 champions after tomorrow's finals. The 57th annual championship games will be played in morning, afternoon and evening sessions at Michigan State's Jenison fieldhouse.

The only class in which there appears to be a clear cut favorite is Class B. River Rouge, seeking a fourth title in eight years, looks to be an overpowering standout among the fourth Class B semi-finalists.

Comparable records rule out any one team serving as a favorite in Class A, Class C or Class D.

Many of the semifinalists — known as the sweet sixteen — are in familiar surroundings. Seven are former champions, the highest number to make the semifinals in several years. A few of the others have made it to the semifinals in the past before being ousted.

Two doubleheaders and four single games make up the semifinal schedule.

The big Class A schools take the spotlight at Jenison fieldhouse for a twin bill. Highland Park (18-2), moving ahead at a high clip, takes on a tough nut in Detroit Catholic Central (19-1) in the opener (7 p.m.) Catholic Central's only loss was to Detroit Eastern by three ponts in the Detroit city championship game.

Providence to Battle St. Louis for NIT Cage Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Providence, a go-go-go basketball team, and St. Louis, which cuts 'em off at the pass like the hero of a TV Western, will meet Saturday afternoon in the final of the 24th National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

It should be an interesting contrast of styles. They took opposite routes from nowhere into the last round and they'll be meeting for the third straight year in this oldest of all postseason basketball jamborees.

Providence won the first two—75-72 in two overtime periods in 1959 and 64-53 last year. But that hasn't proved anything about the way they play. The two coaches and many neutral observers agree on that point.

"It was a typical game for us. We seem to lose our control when we have a late lead," said Providence Coach Joe Mullaney after his Friars blew a seven-point lead in the last two minutes of regulation time then came back to gain a 90-83 overtime decision over scrappy Holy Cross in Thursday night's semifinals.

"We have to make them play our game. That's the only way we win," said Coach John Benington of the deliberate St. Louis Billikens, whose 67-60 victory over Dayton was their highest score in three tournament games.

Leading 35-23 at half time, the Billikens had their lead trimmed to four points a couple of times, but they always were in command with a defense that limited Dayton's best shooter, Garry Roggenburk, to three field goals on 19 shots.

Providence never was far enough ahead to have any feeling of security, though an eight-point margin with less than two minutes to go might look good to another team.

Providence was leading 72-64 less than two minutes before the buzzer. Jack (the Shot) Foley, who rang up 31 points for Holy Cross, connected a couple of times, Tim Shea added a few points and George Blaney hit a field goal to make it 75-75 with seconds to go.

Just as time ran out, Providence's Vinnie Ernst, a skinny 5-8 sophomore who has become the team's "take charge" player, was fouled but missed his free throw. He made up for that error in overtime when he drove in for two quick field goals and gave the Friars a lead that Holy Cross never could overcome.

Records Fall in NCAA Swim Meet

SEATTLE (AP)—A famous Australian and an unsung Canadian won two United States collegiate swimming titles Thursday and knocked off a pair of American records in the process.

Only two finals were contested in the opening day of the 1961 NCAA meet.

Murray Rose, Australia's Olympic star swimming for Southern California—Olympic gold medalist off the three-meter board—was sixth on the list.

The Canadian is John Kelso who swims for Denver University, defeated favored Lance Larson of Southern California and broke his American and NCAA records for the 200-yard individual medley of 2:03.2. Kelso was timed in 2:02.9. Larson was timed in 2:03.4.

Preliminaries in the one-meter springboard diving event also were completed, with neither of two Olympic gold medalists leading the eight qualifiers. Curt Genders of Florida State, enters tonight's finals as top man with Louis Vitucci of Ohio State, ranking second. Robert Webster of Michigan, gold medalist off the Olympic tower, qualified in third place and Gary Tobian of Southern Cal-

Mart Cautious Awaiting Laos

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was cautious today as uncertainty prevailed over the Laos crisis. Trading slowed.

Small gains and losses were the general rule for most key stocks, only a few going as much as a point either way. A few specially-situated issues, responding to news or gossip moved more widely.

The list was irregular from the start, showing a slight downside trend but comparative steadiness in the wake of Thursday's sharp correction.

The imminence of the weekend with the market closed and the possibility of dramatic developments concerning Laos caused traders to even up their commitments.

The restrained mood was shown by the ticker tape whose lag was only brief at the opening, although it entered another period of lateness. Volume for the first two hours was only 1.72 million shares compared with 2.08 Thursday and continued the declining trend since Tuesday.

Bound Over for Trial on Kidnap Charge

An ex-convict accused of kidnaping and attempting to criminally assault a 19-year-old Holly mother of three has been bound over to Circuit Court.

The accused, Keith D. Francisco, 36, of 160½ Oakland Ave. faced examination before Justice of the Peace Emmett J. Leib in Springfield Township yesterday.

Judge Leib continued bond at $5,000 and remanded Francisco to the county jail pending his appearance in Circuit Court at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

On parole after serving five years in Jackson Prison for armed robbery, Francisco on March 16 allegedly forced his victim to accompany him in a car to a deserted area in the township where he attempted to rape her.

3 More Roadside Parks Planned for Michigan

LANSING (AP)— The State Highway Department says it plans to add three new roadside parks this year.

They will be on M33, north of Atlanta in Montmorency County; U.S. 45 between Bruce Crossing and Ontonagon in Ontonagon County, and M115 west of Mesick in Wexford County.

These will add to the 112 roadside parks and nearly 50 rest areas now in Michigan, the department said.

Demand Moderate for Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP)—A moderate demand for light offerings added a little more firmness to the grain futures market today in initial transactions on the board of trade.

Old crop soybeans again led the advance with gains of around two cents a bushel during the first few minutes but appeared to lack the force of the past few days. During that time the old crop months moved up about 12 cents a bushel. Dealers said there seemed to be more hesitancy about expending long positions at current levels.

Texan Roots for Texas While Visiting Rome

By EARL WILSON

ROME — It's pleasant to be back here sitting in the sun and eating doughnuts at Doney's . . . Riding in a horse-drawn carriage back from St. Peter's . . . throwing three coins in the fountain like all the other tourists . . . and overhearing a woman say, "I don't care what they say: Texas has many things that Rome hasn't!"

WILSON

Anita Ekberg is due in the U.S. shortly to discuss a movie with Billy Wilder. She's made five films in the last year, which doesn't give her much time for her true love, actor Franco Silva . . . Maurice Chevalier did an impersonation of singers impersonating Maurice Chevalier, and was so good that columnist Sam Steinman asked him how he does it. "Because," he said, "when I learned to sing, I learned to sing not with my throat, but with my heart."

We saw Mary Pickford—false eyelashes and all—at Rome's Luau (operated by Jerry Chierchio of New Iberia, La.). . . . Henry Ringling North, the Ringling Circus' "vice president in charge of Italy," says he's amused by his brother John Ringling North's practice of carrying his own can of de-caffeined coffee to restaurants and preparing it himself. It's not that John's afraid coffee'll keep him awake—because he usually goes to bed about 9 a.m.

Beautiful actress Dawn Addams, who's in an annulment dispute with Prince Vittorio Massimo, trying to get custody of her son Stefano, 7, has solved it—temporarily—by moving to Rome for six months a year—and living next door to her son and husband.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN NEW YORK . . .

Frank Sinatra'll be the guest of the president of Mexico, in Mexico City April 25 . . . Jean Seberg wants to skip filming "Sail a Crooked Ship" with Robert Wagner, hopes to star on the Paris stage in "Miracle Worker." . . . Gloria Grahame, an Academy Award winner, is attending Actors Studio.

GLORIA

"Candid Camera" plans a sequence with Julius LaRosa and Dorothy Collins playing an engaged couple who battle at the marriage license window.

A biography of Liz Taylor is being rushed into print . . .

EARL'S PEARLS: Someone described a very wealthy ticket broker: "He hasn't spent his 'South Pacific' money yet."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Phyllis Diller explains why she smiles so often: "My teeth are all I've got that don't have wrinkles."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Colleges will be so crowded this fall that even football players may have a tough time getting in. . . . That's earl, brother.

Dub Centennial Show 'The Pontiac Story'

It's "The Pontiac Story."

This is the title picked for the Wisner Stadium centennial spectacle in June.

The choice was made by the Spectacle Division's scenario and title committee, headed by Mrs. Chad Mellinger.

Featuring an Oakland County cast of 1,000, the huge pageant portraying the history of the Pontiac area from Indian times to the present day promises to be the main feature of the June 17-24 celebration.

It is scheduled to run six nights, beginning June 18, preceded each night by a brief program highlighting various centennial themes and followed by fireworks displays.

The script of the spectacle will be prepared by the John B. Rogers Producing Co. with the help of the scenario and title committee, which has been busy since early this year gathering historical information upon which the extravaganza will be based.

Serving on the committee are Mrs. J. Wendell Green, Mrs. Ann H. Hepler, Clara Nusbaumer, Alice D. Serrell, Adah Shelly, John E. Linabury and L. Harvey Lodge.

The Sepctacle Division, headed by Robert W. Emerick, public relations director of Pontiac Motor Division, is one of the biggest within the vast framework of the Greater Pontiac Area centennial organization.

Other committee chairmen appointed by Emerick:

Mrs. John B. Nicolls Jr., cast; Arley J. Lowe, properties; Earl Ross and Palmer Bundy, construction; Cloyd Houts, grounds; Mrs. Fritzi Stoddard, costumes and make-up; Ledger Criger, sound system; and Elton Samuels, fireworks.

OK Resignation of Principal

School Board Takes Action on Dr. Galbraith After 5-Month Study

After nearly five months of study and consideration, the Pontiac Board of Education has accepted the resignation of Dr. Ann Galbraith, principal of Will Rogers Elementary School.

She has been a teacher and principal in the Pontiac School District for 21 years.

Final action was taken at last night's school board meeting. The resignation will be effective at the end of the current school year.

Dr. Galbraith first submitted her letter of resignation to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, school superintendent, last October, indicating she intended to finish the school year.

Differences of opinion between parents of pupils and Dr. Galbraith arose last fall concerning the substitution of individual parent-teacher conferences for report cards.

On Nov. 10, Dr. Galbraith quit, charging parental interference and a lack of backing from administrators.

After a conference with Whitmer and parents the next day she withdrew her resignation temporarily.

Since then, she has had four conferences with Whitmer but last week indicated she still planned to resign in June, although many problems have been solved by parent study and advisory committees.

Cardinal Wins Praise

VATICAN CITY (AP)—L'Osservatore Romano Thursday praised the firm stand taken by Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski against recent accusation by Poland's Communist leaders.

Osservatore said Poland's government has imposed vexing fiscal burdens against the church, threatened feminine religious institutions with extinction and is suppressing religious education in the schools.

Standard Oil Cuts Prices 2nd Time

DETROIT (UPI) — Standard Oil cut its gasoline prices for the second time this week and complained today about the recent price-cutting wave in Southeastern Michigan.

Milo Hector, regional manager for Standard Oil, said there was "no rhyme or reason" to the recent wave of price cutting."

The latest cut was expected to slash retail prices to 27.9 cents a gallon for regular and 31.9 cents a gallon for premium gasoline at many stations.

Players to Audition for 'The Bad Seed'

The Lakeland Players will audition Waterford Township residents for their next production, "The Bad Seed," from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday at the Community Center.

The cast calls for seven men and four women. The part of a child star was cast at the time the play was chosen. Edwina Delbridge was selected.

Mrs. William Aebersold and Verne Vackaro will direct the play, and Jim Starnes will be the producer.

The play will be presented May 19 and 20 at the Community Center, and all interested residents have been urged to attend the tryouts, whether they are members of the club or not.

Nurse Beaten in Parking Lot

Pontiac Question Man in Connection With Assault at Hospital

A nurse beaten with a trowel in the Pontiac General Hospital parking lot last night was in satisfactory condition in the hospital today.

Police were questioning 21-year-old John E. Stinson, 21, 550 Nebraska St., in connection with the beating today.

Mrs. Myrtie Lou Galardi, 32, of 4810 Ross Drive, Waterford Township, told Pontiac police she was reporting for work shortly after 10:30 p.m. when a man came up to her car, pushed her inside, then beat her on the face with a trowel and his fists.

Mrs. Galardi told officers she was finally able to break free and run into the hospital.

An orderly, James Martin, 24, 4411 W. Walton Blvd., was also hit with the trowel by the attacker when the nurse's screams brought him to the scene.

He obtained the license number of the car in which the attacker fled.

Mrs. Galardi was admitted for treatment of scalp lacerations and bruises, while Martin was treated for minor cuts and released.

Nab 3 Accused of Stealing Gas From Automobile

Fast work on the part of Waterford Township patrolmen resulted in the arrest of three 19-year-old youths accused of stealing gasoline from an automobile early yesterday.

Held are Ronald Sutton, 2324 Jones St., Waterford Township; William E. Cook, 24 W. Cornell St., Pontiac; and Gary E. Burling, 730 First St., Pontiac.

When Robert Mitchell, 2345 Jones St. arrived home from work yesterday he saw three men he believed were stealing gas from his car. Mitchell hurriedly telephoned police from a neighbor's home.

As the patrol car came into sight, the three jumped into a waiting car and speeded from the scene. They were caught after a high-speed chase.

Pleading guilty to larceny charges yesterday, Burling and Sutton were jailed for 15 days by Patrick K. Daly, justice of the peace, in lieu of $25 fines. Cook, pleading innocent, was held under $200 bond until trial March 29.

GOP to Form Liaison Unit

County Leaders Seek Closer Contact With Doings in Lansing

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Republican county leaders at home want to keep closer tabs on their "voices" in Lansing, so they'll form a legislative liaison committee to bridge any gap between the capitol and here.

County Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. was scheduled to meet today with State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, and some state representatives from the county and other party leaders to bring the county's legislative body in closer contact with the county committee.

The 5 p.m. meeting at Roberts' Keego Harbor law office comes at a time when there are reports of discontent between members of the committee, particularly Elliott, with some legislative measures introduced by Roberts and Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township.

Elliott strongly denied any discontent existed.

But informed of the meeting today, GOP Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr. of Bloomfield Township said, "I understand they're going to tell us how to vote, too."

Elliott was reportedly disturbed because more county office holders and legislators didn't turn out at a Feb. 28 executive committee. He wants to ward off any post-election indifference, it was said.

10-2 Male Jury May Be Able to Reach Verdict

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Are men more decisive than women?

Those who say yes were betting today that there will be a definite verdict in the third murder trial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff, where the jury resumes deliberations this morning for the second day.

In the first trial, there were seven women and five men on the jury. In the second, there were 11 women and 1 man.

But here in the third, the count is 10 to 2 in favor of the men. It had been 9 to 3, but a male alternate replaced an ill woman juror on Wednesday.

Teachers' Pay Schedule Tops School Board List

Heading the agenda for tonight's Pontiac Board of Education meeting will be the teachers' pay schedule for the 1961-62 school year.

Administrators and teacher representatives have been negotiating for several weeks on the matter of teachers' salaries for the coming school year.

At a special meeting last Thursday, the Pontiac Federation of Teachers outlined proposals asking for raises totaling some $293,000.

The Pontiac Education Association proposed pay hikes totaling some $258,000. Administrators and the board are attempting to hold the total pay hike to less than $150,000 in order to avoid the need for a higher school tax rate next year.

Final action is expected to take place tonight.

In other business, the board will announce a proposed legal settlement with Dr. Andrew Schott, a private consultant in mathematics education who was employed by the Pontiac School District from 1957-59.

Schott promoted the use of his copyrighted teacher's guide and workbooks for students. Last summer first and second grade arithmetic guides by Mrs. Mary Green and Mrs. Irma Johnson, Pontiac helping teachers, were distributed for use in city schools.

Schott charged that the guides infringed on his copyright and subsequently threatened a suit against the school district.

A settlement was tentatively agreed upon by both sides in a March 15 meeting. It will be announced tonight and the board asked to approve it.

Oral reports are also slated on recent cases of vandalism at Pontiac Northern High School, and progress made in a drainage problem at Whitfield School.

Rider Avoids Death as Driver Is Killed

A traffic accident which claimed the life of a 24-year-old Hazel Park man early today resulted in only minor injuries to his companion when their car struck a railroad abutment in Ferndale.

Ferndale police said Reese was driving eastbound on Eight Mile Road at 3 a.m. when the car spun out of control and hit a pillar on the Grand Trunk Railroad overpass about a half-mile east of Woodward.

Dismisses Vice-Raid Charges

Charges against 10 persons arrested in a vice raid by Pontiac police March 11 were dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

McCallum said the charges were dismissed because of the failure of a complaining witness to appear at the trial.

William Nash, 27, 479 Nebraska St., had been accused of operating an illegal liquor place at his home.

Nine others who had been charged with loitering in an illegal liquor establishment included Leona Jones, 40, 478 Nevada St.; Pletto Causey, 21, 535 Nevada St.; Lucille Stovall, 38, 460 Nebraska St.; and John Coward, 31, 160 W. South Blvd.

Others were Johnnie Wright, 26, 565 Wyoming St.; Jessie Johnson, 22, 521 Branch St.; Freddie Haynes, 21, 497 S. Paddock St.; and N. C. Williamson, 50, 218 Earlmore St.

Form Committee to Secure Float for Centennial

A four-member committee to arrange for a float in the June 17 centennial parade was named last night by Leslie H. Hudson, president of the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne-Alcott Community Club.

Committee members are Kenneth Gidley, Lester Stanley, George Gray and Floyd P. Miles.

Members of other committees include William J. Emerson, Fred Harroun and Jasper Price, ways and means; Mrs. George Gray and Warren Dubay, membership; Mrs. Ford Drumm and Mrs. Merle Parent, publicity; Mrs. Norman Bolton, Mrs. Earl Oltesvig and Mrs. Charles Dugas, hospitality; Mrs. Cordie Hereim, refreshments; and Miles, Mrs. Arnold Simson and Gray, program.

The committees were formed at the monthly meeting of the board of directors.

Banker Predicts 'Full Prosperity'

Claims It's Time for Durable Goods to Start National Climb

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—An executive of the Chase Manhattan Bank today said prospects were excellent for a vigorous recovery which will carry the national economy to a level of "full prosperity" in 1962.

William F. Butler, vice president for economics research at the New York bank, told the 412th meeting of the National Industrial Conference board that markets for most major private durable goods "have been going through a basic adjustment process" for the past five years.

"The potential exists for a good rate of expansion in markets for private durable goods—business plant and equipment, housing, automobiles, appliances and other consumer durable goods," he said.

"By developing this potential the nation can achieve prosperity and accelerate economic growth above that achieved in recent years," he continued. "Experience shows that, as durable goods go, so goes prosperity."

JFK Hands Congress Red-Ink Budget

MAKE OVER PAGES News

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy broke the bad budget news to Congress today — two years of red ink financing for an apparent combined deficit of $5 billion, sending the national debt to new records.

In a special budget message, Kennedy discarded as "over-optimistic" the January estimates of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower had forecast a slim $80-million surplus this year and a $1.5 billion surplus in fiscal 1962, starting July 1.

There is no surplus in the inherited Eisenhower budget for 1961, Kennedy advised Congress. It is "over $2 billion" out of balance," he said.

The actual estimate is $2.2 billion. It means the debt limit must be raised again, the President said.

The surplus heralded for fiscal 1962 has become a $1.8 billion deficit on the civilian side alone, Kennedy announced.

He said the Eisenhower administration, which never admitted there was a recession, based its revenue estimate on "a much rosier economy."

Officials said Kennedy's military program, plus revised estimates of the cost of defense programs, will send the total 1962 deficit beyond $3 billion and swell the public debt by mid-1962 to a record of about $290 billion.

Nowhere in this message was there the slightest indication of a possible temporary tax cut to combat the business slump.

As Eisenhower had done, Kennedy asked an $843-million postal rate increase to eliminate the Post Office deficit.

The President's defense program is due to reach Congress next week. Today's 6,000-word message dealt only with civilian matters.

Many paragraphs were devoted to documenting Kennedy's pledge —made in his State of the Union message — that his program would not unbalance the budget "of and by themselves."

"It is my determined purpose to be a prudent steward of the public funds—to obtain a dollar's worth of results for every dollar we spend," the President said.

His 1962 budget is precisely balanced at $83.2 billion of income and outgo, Kennedy said, if the Eisenhower estimate of defense spending and tax collections is accepted.

But a "more realistic" judgment of the impact of the business slump reduces receipts to $81.4 billion, he added.

The 1962 fiscal figures in brief: outgo, $83.2 billion; income, $81.4 billion. The totals compared with Eisenhower's proposed $80.9 billion of outlays and proposed $82.3 billion of revenues.

More Red Battalions Invading Laos

Nixon in Detroit May 9

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in his first major political appearance since he was defeated for the presidency last November, will speak in Detroit May 9 at a Republican party fund-raising extravaganza.

The Pontiac Press learned that Nixon, now with a Los Angeles law firm, will come to headline a show of Hollywood stars at Olympia Stadium.

The show will be something new to Michigan Republicans. It takes the place of the annual spring $100-a-plate fund-raising dinners at which former President Eisenhower and Nixon used to be beamed into Detroit and other major cities by way of closed-circuit television.

Republicans might be taking somewhat of a clue from their counterparts who looked to an array of Hollywood talent to help erase a sizable debt accrued from helping President John F. Kennedy defeat Nixon, when they staged a preinaugural show in Washington. Both parties played heavily on a cast of screen, television and sport stars to plug for their presidential candidates during the campaign.

RICHARD M. NIXON

One of them working for the Republican cause, former screen actor George Murphy, is drawing up the list of stars for the May gathering. Names of those to appear are still indefinite.

Murphy visited Birmingham Oct. 26 to put in a plug for Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge, vice presidential candidates.

In order to make it possible for more Michigan Republicans to come and hear Nixon and his accompanying all-star line-up, the Tuesday night affair will have tickets scaled from around $3 to $50 to broaden the base of party giving.

Similar shows will probably be held in nearby cities like Flint and Grand Rapids, but Nixon is expected to appear only in Detroit.

U.S. and British Sound Warning to Khrushchev

From Our News Wires

President Kennedy's warning that Russia must stop the Soviet-backed rebellion in Laos or face possible intervention drew hearty support today from U.S. allies.

There was no immediate response from Moscow to the appeal for a cease-fire delivered to the Kremlin by the British Thursday.

A British foreign office spokesman said in London that Russia has promised to study "carefully and urgently" the British proposal.

The spokesman said this was the initial reaction of Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Firyubin when British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts handed him the three-point note on Laos.

U. S. WITH BRITISH

Kennedy said the United States supports the British proposals, for a prompt end to the fighting, to be followed by international negotiations "which can help Laos back to the pathway of independent and genuine neutrality."

Except for bare mention by Tass, the Soviet press ignored Kennedy's statement and there was no reaction from Khrushchev, who is back in Moscow after a tour of Siberian and Central Asian agricultural areas.

British officials warmly welcomed Kennedy's call for a peaceful settlement.

"Neither Washington nor London considers intervention would settle anything," one official said.

West German officials gave Kennedy's statements a similar welcome, seeing neutrality for Laos

U.S. Helicopters Fly in to Thailand as SEATO Treaty Is Honored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., declared today that the United States "will probably be sending troops to Laos" in the current crisis. He added, "I don't know, but I hope so."

By The Associated Press

The Laotian government charged today six new Communist North Vietnamese Battalions have invaded Laos.

The charge came on the heels of President Kennedy's appeal Thursday night to Premier Khrushchev for a peaceful solution of the crisis in the Southeast Asian kingdom where Communist - backed rebels are fighting Western - backed government forces.

The U.S. Embassy in Vientiane announced 15 helicopters from the U.S. 7th Fleet arrived in neighboring Thailand en route to the American Aid Mission supporting the royal Laotian army.

The Laotian government, battered without respite since March 7 by Soviet-supplied Pathet Lao rebels, charged that three Red North Vietnamese battalions have been thrown into an assault on Kam Keut in the narrow central section of Laos, about mid-way between Tailand and North Viet Nam.

Similar invasion charges have been made repeatedly in the past but the government has not offered conclusive proof and did not today.

Kennedy warned at his news conference that the United States has obligations under the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) to deal with aggression in Laos "and no one should doubt our resolution on this point."

Charge He Got Teens Liquor

Pontiac Man Accused of Purchasing Alcohol Before Fatal Stabbing

A warrant has been issued against a 21-year-old unemployed Pontiac man accused of buying liquor and beer for some teenagers, one of whom later was fatally stabbed at a card game.

Pontiac Municipal Court Judge Maurice E. Finnegan signed the warrant charging the furnishing of alcoholic beverages to a minor against Virgil Thompson, 501 Jordan Road.

Detectives were seeking his arrest.

The prosecutor's office said the identity of Thompson developed at a hearing in Juvenile Court at which Robert L. Draker, 16, of 683 Melrose Ave., was bound over to Circuit Court charged with second-degree murder.

Draker has admitted stabbing Jerry A. Chestnut, 15, of 893 Melrose Ave., during a four-handed poker game at a neighborhood home Feb. 25.

GIVES MAN MONEY

Assistant Prosecutor J. Robert Sterling said as some of Draker's friends were waiting for Draker, a stockboy, to quit work around 9 p.m. that night, one of the boys, Duane Johnson, 17, 661 Robinwood Ave., gave Thompson $7 to purchase a case of beer and a pint of whisky.

This, Sterling said, was at Poponea's Market, 904 Mt. Clemens St., where Thompson had gone to purchase soft drinks for his brother-in-law and his family, with them he lives.

Sterling said he was "satisfied that the store made a legitimate sale."

Sterling said Johnson had known Thompson previously as "Virgil."

After the purchase, the prosecutor said the boys gave Thompson a ride home from the store. They allowed him to keep the 15 cents change, Sterling said.

Dub Centennial Show 'The Pontiac Story'

It's "The Pontiac Story."

This is the title picked for the Wisner Stadium centennial spectacle in June.

The choice was made by the Spectacle Division's scenario and title committee, headed by Mrs. Chad Mellinger.

Featuring an Oakland County cast of 1,000, the huge pageant portraying the history of the Pontiac area from Indian times to the present day promises to be the main feature of the June 17-24 celebration.

It is scheduled to run six nights, beginning June 18, preceded each night by a brief program highlighting various centennial themes and followed by fireworks displays.

The script of the spectacle will be prepared by the John B. Rogers Producing Co. with the help of the scenario and title committee, which has been busy since early this year gathering historical information upon which the extravaganza will be based.

Serving on the committee are Mrs. J. Wendell Green, Mrs. Ann H. Hepler, Ciara Nusbaumer, Alice D. Serrell, Adah Shelly, John E. Linabury and L. Harvey Lodge.

The Sepetacle Division, headed by Robert W. Emerick, public relations director of Pontiac Motor Division, is one of the biggest within the vast framework of the Greater Pontiac Area centennial organization.

Other committee chairmen appointed by Emerick:

Asks Nehru's Aid on Laos

From Our News Wires

NEW DELHI, India — Special U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman delivered to Prime Minister Nehru today a special message from President Kennedy on the Laos situation.

"I think it is a helpful message," Nehru told reporters later.

Harriman said Kennedy has asked Nehru "for his cooperation and the prime minister said he was glad to cooperate in any way he can."

Asked if he was prepared to convene the International Control Commission here in an effort to bring a Laotian cease-fire, Nehru said he was willing but "we cannot offhand do it."

At Bangkok, Thailand, SEATO's military experts denounced Communist intervention in Laos and said they had prepared new defense plans against Red expansion in Southeast Asia.

A communique issued at the end of a three-day meeting of the military men used "round about terms but informed sources said they had mapped a master battle plan for use in Laos if the Communists reject a cease-fire offer.

The master plan will be presented to the foreign ministers of the eight nations of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization when they meet in Bangkok next week.

The communique emphasized the "need for continued solidarity among the eight nations to safeguard the freedom of the peoples of the non - Communist states."

Can Drop Paratroopers in Laos Within Hours

HONOLULU (AP) — Gen. I. D. White, commander in chief of the Army's Pacific forces said Thursday the United States can drop 1,500 paratroopers into Red-threatened Laos within hours. White made the statement in an interview. A few hours later a lid of secrecy was clamped on military operations. Military spokesmen answered questions with a terse—"We are constantly on a 24-hour alert readiness."

White said the Airborne Battle Group on Okinawa is ready to move out on two hours notice.

"The rest of the 25th Division, most of it stationed in Hawaii, is ready to roll in 12 hours," he added.

White said there are nearly 400,000 servicemen — Army, Navy and Air Force — on call in the Pacific, with 3,400 planes and 400 ships.

White was interviewed just a few hours before President Kennedy warned Communist forces to stop their aggression in Laos.

If the President should decide on military intervention in the tiny Southeast Asian kingdom, White said, one of the first units sent in would be the guerrilla-trained special forces. Three hundred of these are in constant readiness on Okinawa.

There had been reports the U.S. army might hesitate to use its two divisions stationed in Korea because of the large number of Korean troops in the ranks.

MERELY AUGMENTATION

White said this was not true — that the divisions are at full strength with U.S. soldiers and the Koreans in the divisions are merely augmentation troops.

There have been reports of leaves canceled in Hawaii and long convoys of trucks carrying ammunition and other material have been seen headed toward the harbor.

Claim Dann Broke SEC Regulations

DETROIT (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission today charged Detroit attorney Sol A. Dann with soliciting proxies for Chrysler Corp.'s annual meeting in violation of SEC regulations.

General counsel Walter P. North of the SEC asked U.S. District Court for an order restraining Dann from:

1. Soliciting proxies and from communicating with Chrysler stockholders in connection with proposed proxies unless all material has previously been filed with the SEC.

2. Mailing or otherwise transmitting material in a letter which Dann has prepared for Chrysler stockholders who oppose the auto company's present management unless a formal proxy statement is filed by Dann.

3. Voting any proxies obtained from stockholders who have received the letter.

A hearing was set for later today.

In its complaint the SEC said Dann had failed to inform stockholders of the names of all persons connected with him who were interested in a proxy fight, how much he was spending, the identity of persons who would pay for it and the names of those he intended to nominate as Chrysler directors.

Professors Rule Out Walkout

Odds Against Strike at Auto Talks

UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — The odds are against a big strike in the auto industry this year, according to some labor relations specialists.

A survey of several economics professors at Michigan colleges disclosed most feel the United Auto Workers will reach contract settlements with the nation's car makers without a major walkout.

They believe the state of the economy will play a large part in determining the course of negotiations.

With the country in or just emerging from a recession, the professors feel this is not the time for establishing some new principle like the guaranteed annual wage. They look for moderate gains on existing benefits.

One of those betting against a strike was Prof. Jack Skeels of Wayne State University in Detroit, an expert on past UAW negotiations.

"I think the economy, as it is now, makes it extremely difficult for the UAW to have a forceful bargaining position," Skeels said.

LACK RESERVE

"Coupled to this is the fact that the auto workers won't have any real reserve for enduring any prolonged strike because of repeated layoffs. Under these conditions, there might not be much sympathy for a strike within the union.

"This probably isn't the year for gaining any new principle, and I would say it is fairly likely there won't be a strike."

Dr. Jack Stieber, director of Michigan State University's labor and industrial relations center, said that unlike the Eisenhower administration the Kennedy administration would "have no ideological objection to offering their good services in a labor dispute."

PRESSURE ON UAW

As for the chances of a strike, Stieber said that "Whenever you have skillful and sophisticated bargainers as in the UAW and the auto industry the chances of a peaceful settlement are always reasonably good."

Stieber said he believed the UAW would be under pressure to find a solution to the high unemployment in the industry.

But he said it was unlikely the union would gain a major breakthrough. "This is more of a year to keep what you have and try to make some modest gains in other areas," he said.

Jobless Pay Bill to Help Workers From 2 Sources

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that a record two-thirds of all the major industrial areas in the nation are now experiencing substantial unemployment.

DETROIT (UPI) — Thousands of unemployed workers are expected to draw benefits from two sources because of the new jobless pay bill just passed by Congress.

The federal legislation itself provides up to 13 weeks of extra state unemployment compensation benefits to jobless workers who have exhausted their regular benefits.

In many cases, the bill will mean another 13 weeks of supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) to laid-off members of the United Auto Workers Union.

The extra benefits will come because SUB plans are tied in with state unemployment compensation payments. If state jobless payments are extended, as in the case of the federal bill, SUB benefits also will be extended.

Under present UAW contracts, laid-off workers received a total of 65 per cent of their take-home pay for a duration of 26 weeks. State compensation pays part of the 65 per cent, with the remainder coming from SUB.

The UAW contracts state that wherever state unemployment compensation provides more than 26 weeks benefits, workers will have a like number of weeks of SUB benefits up to 39 weeks.

In Michigan, a laid-off auto worker can receive up to 26 weeks unemployment compensation and SUB benefits. With the new federal bill, they will be increased to 39 weeks.

Dems Patch Wage Bill to Win Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic leadership steered a patched-up minimum wage bill toward a vote today in a sharply divided House.

The compromise measure retains the two-step raise from $1-an-hour to $1.25 requested by President Kennedy but makes major concessions to the opposition in the field of new coverage.

It was put together Thursday in a dramatic last-minute huddle in the office of Speaker Sam Rayburn while the debate raged on the House floor.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and White House aide Lawrence O'Brien took part in the hastily called conference with Rayburn; Rep. Adam C. Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Labor Committee, and Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., floor leader for the bill.

HOLDS KEY

Also present was Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., who apparently holds the key to success of the compromise effort.

Southern Democrats and Republicans have lined up almost solidly against the administration's original bill. If Vinson supports the compromise the leadership hopes enough Southerners will follow him to put it over.

Vinson left the conference in Rayburn's office early and refused to disclose his stand. He asked for a copy of the compromise for further study.

Big Increase in Jobless Areas Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is expected to announce today a big jump in the number of major industrial areas suffering from substantial unemployment.

President Kennedy prepared to sign into law the first of his economic recovery proposals approved by Congress—a measure providing an extra $1 billion for unemployment insurance payments to idle workers.

As soon as Kennedy's signature is on the bill, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg plans to be ready to sign agreements with representatives of various states to act as administering agents and paymasters to the unemployed.

TO REVEAL SURVEY

Goldberg was ready, too, to make public a new March survey of the unemployment situation in the nation's top 150 industrial areas. There were 76 of these areas reported in January as having a rate of unemployment running 6 per cent or more of their local work force.

Officials said in advance that since unemployment rose by 320,000 in February to a nationwide total of 5,705,000, a considerable increase in the number of hard-hit areas could be anticipated.

The new survey provides a community breakdown of the worsened unemployment situation already reported nationally for February.

Actually, administration officials have been reporting some signs of improvement. But Kennedy said at his news conference Thursday night the question is whether the usual spring upturn will be strong enough to reduce unemployment to "an acceptable level" and restore production more nearly to capacity, both on a sustained basis.

"It is impossible," Kennedy said, "to make any judgment at this time in March on these factors with any precision."

a step toward easing the Cold War.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan left London by air for a 19-day visit to the United States, Canada and the West Indies.

Macmillan said he has "much to talk about" with Kennedy. But aides said despite the urgency of the Laotian crisis, Macmillan will adhere to his original schedule, which calls for a visit first to the West Indies and then a meeting with Kennedy April 5-6.

The prime minister boarded his airplane just a few hours after an emergency midnight cabinet meeting on the crisis, and Kennedy's statements. It was the second cabinet meeting in seven hours.

New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake announced he agreed with Kennedy that "a more determined and firmer attitude must be taken" in Laos.

Britain and New Zealand are members of the eight-nation Southeastern Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), which Kennedy said he was sure would honor its obligation to protect Laos.

* * *

Japanese Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka said in Tokyo that he welcomed Kennedy's statement that the United States would resist any take-over of Laos by Soviet-backed rebels.

VIENTIANE QUIET

In Vientiane, residents of the capital of Laos slept off a night of celebrating today, mostly unaware of Kennedy's warning that the Communist menace to their country is critical.

Thursday was a day of parades, foot racing, dancing, movies and moonlight swimming in celebration of the 11th birthday of the royal Laotian army.

Perhaps not more than 100 persons in the entire country knew that Kennedy had proclaimed, to the American people and the world, the growing concern over Communist military advances in Laos.

But Premier Prince Boun Oum, in a late breakfast interview with a reporter today, praised Kennedy for his tough stand.

Boun said his government would be grateful for increased U.S. military aid, especially longer-range weapons, and predicted his government would defeat the Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

Retirement of Henry M. Hogan, vice president and general counsel of General Motors Corp., was announced today.

The Birmingham attorney, who has been GM's general counsel since 1947, ends 41 years with the firm at the end of the month.

His successor has not been named.

Hogan, 444 Arlington Dr., joined the GM legal department in 1920 when the corporation was just 12 years old. Seventeen years later he was named assistant general counsel and in 1941 was elected a vice president.

During 20 years in GM's New York offices and 21 years in Detroit, Hogan has engaged in legal activities covering such varied fields as finance and insurance, overseas operations, taxation, labor, product manufacture and distribution, mineral rights, freight rates and national defense.

In addition, he was considered an expert on aviation questions and served as a director of Transcontinental and Western Air, Eastern Airlines and Western Airlines.

He became a director of North American Aviation, Inc., in 1934 and was board chairman from 1942 to 1948.

GOP to Form Liaison Unit

County Leaders Seek Closer Contact With Doings in Lansing

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Republican county leaders at home want to keep closer tabs on their "voices" in Lansing, so they'll form a legislative liaison committee to bridge any gap between the capitol and here.

County Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. was scheduled to meet today with State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, and some state representatives from the county and other party leaders to bring the county's legislative body in closer contact with the county committee.

The 5 p.m. meeting at Roberts' Keego Harbor law office comes at a time when there are reports of discontent between members of the committee, particularly Elliott, with some legislative measures introduced by Roberts and Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township.

Elliott strongly denied any discontent existed.

But informed of the meeting today, GOP Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr. of Bloomfield Township said, "I understand they're going to tell us how to vote, too."

Elliott was reportedly disturbed because more county office holders and legislators didn't turn out at a Feb. 28 executive committee. He wants to ward off any post-election indifference, it was said.

The Day in Birmingham

Romney Main Speaker at Big Rally on Con-Con

BIRMINGHAM — George Romney, Citizens For Michigan chairman, speaking before a large crowd at Groves High School last night, charged opponents of the proposed constitutional convention with "manufacturing phony issues."

He also said that excessive preoccupation with the rights of minorities under Michigan's present Constitution has seriously infringed majority rights.

The mass rally on the con-con issue which is to appear on the April 3 ballot was sponsored by the Birmingham chapter of Citizens For Michigan.

Romney, who found CFM, said attempts to confuse voters with a "misapplication of principles, as well as misrepresentation of facts," are being made to induce them not to act on the proposal.

"We have heard those who are counting on a minority turnout at the polls to help them defeat a convention deplore the danger that a minority might decide," Romney added.

"And almost in the same breath they warn that reliance on a majority vote means the end of minority rights."

He went on to say the fundamental issue in the spring election is not whether the Constitution needs revision, "the issue is how."

Romney said the amendment process is designed to make individual changes, but when multiple changes are needed the amendment method is slow and costly.

Romney also pointed out what he feels are inequities in representation in Michigan by citing Oakland County's six state House representatives for an average of 115,000 each, compared with Huron County's one with 34,000.

Charles Damm, naturalist for the Huron - Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority will be the guest speaker Tuesday at the Hickory Grove Elementary School in Bloomfield Hills.

Students will hear a lecture entitled "Conservation, Birds and Wild Animals."

SITUATION GRAVE

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Democratic leader, said Kennedy indicated quite clearly in his news conference statement that the "situation which confronts us and our friends in Laos is extremely delicate, very grave and potentially dangerous.

"I am sure the American people will support the President in his efforts to reach an honorable settlement of the highly explosive situation."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican leader, said Kennedy gave "a good factual explanation of the situation in terms of opposing forces, leadership difficulties and aggression with outside direction."

"I noted that he said there had been progress since 1954 toward stability and independence — which means that the Eisenhower administration had to deal with the problem and that there had to be progress because we started from scratch," Dirksen said.

* * *

"We'll just have to let things jell until the secretary of state gets back from the SEATO meeting and we see whether a cease-fire can be consummated."

SEATO MEETING

SEATO's military advisers, meeting in Bangkok, Thailand, issued a communique charging that Communist support of the Pathet Lao rebels has created "a dangerous situation" and added:

"This . . . emphasized the need for continued solidarity among the eight (SEATO) nations to safeguard the freedom of the peoples of non-Communist states."

SEATO signatories have a treaty obligation for defense of Laos.

Kennedy expressed confidence Americans would back his decisions, made in concert with SEATO allies, to act if necessary.

"Every American will want his country to honor its obligations to the point that freedom and security of the free world and ourselves may be achieved," he said.

Kennedy's statement of a three-point U.S. policy on Laos gave Khrushchev a plain but soft-spoken warning that Soviet-backed military attacks "must end if peace is to be achieved in Southeast Asia."

The President emphasized the United States supports without reservation "a neutral and independent Laos" and that if the rebel attacks "do not stop, those who support a truly neutral Laos will have to consider their response."

Mental Patients Said Neglected

'More Than Half Those in State Hospitals Get No Active Treatment'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressional commission reported today that present facilities for the treatment of mental illnesses are so inadequate that more than half the patients in state mental hospitals "receive no active treatment of any kind."

Reporting on a five-year study of the nation's number one health problem, the commission challenged the United States to become the first society in human history to provide truly humane and healing care for the mentally ill.

And, in a 100,000-word report to Congress and state governors, the Joint Commission on Mental Illness and Health offered a detailed blueprint for the sweeping reforms it called necessary to achieve this goal.

But it warned that the nation must be prepared to spend vastly increased sums to bring treatment of mental illness into the 20th Century.

It said expenditures, now close to $1 billion a year, should be tripled within the next 10 years, with the federal government assuming most of the additional cost.

The most solemn week in Christendom begins March 26 — Palm Sunday — with the traditional distribution of palm and olive branches. It will end April 2 — Easter Sunday — with the joyous celebrations marking the resurrection.

Pope John XXIII will personally lead the millions of Roman Catholics throughout the world in thanksgiving with an Easter message, ending with the Papal blessing "Urbi et Orbi," to the city and the world.

JFK Like Young Professor

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Without the comfortable theater seats, it might have been a college lecture hall with a young professor explaining with maps to a graduate class in geopolitics just why the situation in Laos was so difficult.

Such was the atmosphere of President Kennedy's news conference Thursday night.

He was trying to get across to a vast nationwide television audience the grim possibility of the United States doing more than talk about stopping the Communist grab in Southeast Asia.

The auditorium in the new State Department Building held the largest crowd on record for a presidential news conference—426 reporters and photographers, higher than the 418 persons at his first meeting with reporters after the inauguration.

Laos is a hard story to explain to many Americans and to make the President's statement more visual, government artists prepared a three-sided map stand.

The maps, each six by eight feet, were displayed to the President's right. The first map showed the relatively minor Communist-held areas on Laos along the border of North Vietnam last Aug. 7.

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, slowly turned the triangular map platform as the President went on to refer to the widening, Red-marked area held by the Communist rebels on Dec. 20, 1960, and then a map showing the positions of March 22.

The Red influence had spread like a widening ink blot across the face of Laos.

"My fellow Americans, Laos is far away from America, but the world is small," Kennedy said earnestly, talking quite frankly to the American public for the moment and not to the reporters.

There were repeated efforts to pull the President into other avenues of discussion, but he seemed to prefer sticking to Laos. Eventually, however, he discussed several ramifications of the domestic economy and his feelings about racial segregation.

Defends GM's Bus Business

Lawyer Says Vehicle's Sales 'Trifling Part' of Company's Business

DETROIT (UPI)—A General Motors Corp. attorney asserted in U.S. District Court here Thursday that the city and intercity bus market "will support only one manufacturer" and that this business represents only a trifling part of GM's business.

But a government attorney, who is prosecuting GM on a civil charge of monopolizing the bus market, countered it makes no difference how thin the market, "The test is whether there is a monopoly of the existing market, be it fat or lean."

Bruce Bromley, GM's trial lawyer, argued U.S. District Court Judge Theodore Levin that "this market will support only one manufacturer," and then added:

"We are lucky to be in a pretty good position if this is a market in our specialty."

SMALL PERCENTAGE

Presumably anticipating rejoinder from Walter D. Murphy of the U.S. Department of Justice, Bromley quickly added:

"Sure, I know what he's going to say, that this involves $100 million a year, but that's only eighttenth of 1 per cent of GM's business."

Bromley also argued that the intercity and city transit business is a dying industry. Murphy denied this contention, "If you eliminate comparisons with immediate post-war years."

Judge Levin's job in the phase immediately before him in the five-year-old antitrust suit is to decide whether buses should be intermingled in determining whether any manufacturer has a monopoly, or whether so-called heavy-duty city and intercity buses should be considered separately.

British Sure Secrets Safe

Confident Red Spies Failed to Jeopardize Nuclear Information

LONDON (UPI) — The British government is confident that the wealth of nuclear information developed in the United States has not been jeopardized by the activities of a Communist spy ring here.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan reassured the nation and the Western alliance on that point Thursday in a statement to the House of Commons.

But his government is under heavy fire from the opposition labor party, and he has instructed the admiralty to set up a committee to investigate security weaknesses at the Portland Naval Base.

Five persons, including an American couple, were convicted earlier this week of violating the British Official Secrets Act by stealing information from Portland and funneling them to Moscow.

Hugh Gaitskell, Labor party leader, demanded in Commons that Macmillan's government meet the security threat head-on.

No Talk About Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov conferred with Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles Thursday. He said afterward that the discussion was not in connection with Laos.

White potatoes were once believed to be poisonous.

Kills crabgrass as it sprouts

The seed from last year's crabgrass is in your lawn—just waiting for warm weather to sprout. In half an hour this weekend you can make sure it will never come up. Just fill the accurate Scotts Spreader with HALTS®, set the dial, and take a walk. HALTS creates an invisible barrier over the entire lawn, lies in wait, then strikes when crabgrass sprouts. A Good Lawn This Year Calls for Fertilizer

By W. H. GARMAN
Chief Agriculturist
National Plant Food Institute

Most lawns suffer because of lack of plant food. If you seeded and fertilized your lawn last fall, it will begin to grow early this spring. Keep it mowed to a height of an inch and one-half. Fertilize at first cutting with 20 to 30 pounds per 1,000 square feet of lawn area with a good lawn fertilizer. This will be in March or April, depending upon your locality and climatic conditions. Fertilization at this time encourages rapid root development and early establishment of the young plants.

In case you did not seed or fertilize last fall, it may pay you to apply a good lawn seed mixture at two to three pounds per 1,000 square feet in March or April. Keep in mind that spring lawn seedings fail more often than do fall seedings.

Be sure to buy a good lawn seed mixture, and to follow the seeding directions on the container. Keep the lawn surface moist until the new plants have been established. Often spring rains will do this, but if the surface becomes dry, be sure to apply a light sprinkler irrigation.

Moisten with a fine mist about midday, and if temperatures are unusually high, moisten again about four or five o'clock in the afternoon. Never apply too much water at a time because excessive moisture can bring about a disease known as "damping-off" which kills the young seedlings.

In case you did not fertilize your lawn last fall, then plan to feed it twice this spring. Give it an immediate application of a good lawn fertilizer at about 20 to 30 pounds per 1,000 square feet. Then, in order to build up fertility, a similar application should be made about June first.

Because fertilizers vary in weight and plant food content, always read and follow the directions on the package. Your fertilizer may call for more or less than the above amounts. Also, always sprinkle your lawn immediately after fertilizing it. And never spread fertilizer when grass is the least bit damp from dew or rain.

You can have a good lawn even though your soil may be shallow, or sandy, or your lawn may be sloping. A little attention given to your lawn area will bring greater pride and joy than an equivalent amount of energy devoted to almost any other enterprise. With a little extra care you may become the pride of the neighborhood in just one short season.

Be sure to buy a good quality lawn fertilizer. Good quality fertilizers are produced by reputable firms and are for sale through fertilizer dealers, garden supply houses, hardware stores, etc.

NEW PRUNERS — A new, rugged lifetime pruning shear that will trim anything from a rosebush to a tree limb up to ¾ inches in diameter has been developed by a leading manufacturer of shears for industry. The new Klenk KDC-8 Pruning Shear, made of finest alloy steel, gives 20% greater cutting power through double sliding cam action and greater opening of jaws, lesser opening of handles. Specially designed hand-contoured, easy-grip, spring-back handles eliminate tiring from constant use. A safety clip holds blades in closed position when shear is not in service. Removable bolt and nut fastening permits fast, easy replacement of all parts.

Car Exhaust May Harm Close Shrubs

If some of the shrubs beside your driveway don't show signs of life this spring, your automobile exhaust may be responsible.

Have you been idling your motor in the open doorway of the garage to warm up the engine before taking off for work? While this is good for your car, it can be the death of your evergreen and other shrubs. Exhaust fumes may do harm in two ways:

1. The heat may interrupt the plant dormancy. A subsequent quick drop in the temperature then could bring killing injury.

2. The fumes have a poisonous effect on needles of evergreens. Both evergreen and deciduous (leafy) plants absorb fumes through tiny breathing pores in the bark.

You can avoid such damage by parking the car a few feet from the shrubs.

Honey bees carry water as well as honey. Special carriers bring it to the hive, dole it out, seal it in cells or even act as storage tanks themselves until the water is needed.

The Agricultural Extension Service was established in 1914 by passage of the Smith-Lever Act.

A Pontiac woman was fined $50 yesterday by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum after being found guilty of possession of bet slips.

Martha Campbell, 50, 440 S. Saginaw St., was arrested March 7 by police vice-squad officers who found a numbers bet book in her car which she had stopped in the center of a Pontiac street.

Officers also turned up numerous bet slips after obtaining a warrant to search her home.

Bride-Elect Is Upset by Patrick Henry

CLEVELAND, OHIO (UPI)—Audrey Wendt was flabbergasted when she asked a postal clerk for "unusual" stamps to place on wedding invitations.

The stamps, dedicated to Patrick Henry, quoted his words: "Give me liberty or give me death."

Caution Marks Stock Activity

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was mixed in active trading early today. A few aircrafts and electronics were in demand.

The session opened with a burst of heavy trading and some large blocks.

The ticker tape was late but after the first concentrated activity it caught abreast of transactions, an unusual occurrence lately.

Uncertainty over the Laotion crisis still prevailed and this was compounded by typical preweekend caution.

Gains and losses of key stocks were mostly from fractions to about a point. The drift was slightly lower among motors, steels, rubbers and airlines. Oils and electrical equipments had a slithly higher tone. Chemicals, utilities, tobaccos and electronics were mixed.

Lockheed, whose big military plane contract fits in with the possibilities in the Laos crisis, rose ¼ to 43½ on an opening block of 10,000 shares and widened the gain to a point in later trades.

Raytheon, Thursday's most active stock, continued in demand, adding ⅛ at 42 in another 10,000-share block, and increasing the advance slightly.

Ling-Temco was up more than a point after rising ¾ to 33 on an opener of 12,000 shares.

Fractional losses were shown by General Motors, U.S. Steel, Ford, Chrysler, Union Carbide, American Tobacco, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and U.S. Rubber. Goodrich, Johns-Manville and United Aircraft were off about a point each.

Bound Over for Trial on Kidnap Charge

An ex-convict accused of kidnaping and attempting to criminally assault a 19-year-old Holly mother of three has been bound over to Circuit Court.

The accused, Keith D. Francisco, 36, of 160½ Oakland Ave. faced examination before Justice of the Peace Emmett J. Leib in Springfield Township yesterday.

Judge Leib continued bond at $5,000 and remanded Francisco to the county jail pending his appearance in Circuit Court at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

On parole after serving five years in Jackson Prison for armed robbery, Francisco on March 16 allegedly forced his victim to accompany him in a car to a deserted area in the township where he attempted to rape her.

Cardinal Wins Praise

VATICAN CITY (AP)—L'Osservatore Romano Thursday praised the firm stand taken by Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski against recent accusation by Poland's Communist leaders.

Osservatore said Poland's government has imposed vexing fiscal burdens against the church, threatened feminine religious institutions with extinction and is suppressing religious education in the schools.

WINS CONTEST—Fifteen-year-old Carter McIlquham, 157 N. Astor St., a Pontiac Boys Club member, took second place honors in the intermediate craftsman division of the recent Ford Motor Co. product display contest. Co-sponsored by the Ford Co., and the Boys Club of Michigan Association, the contest in Detroit involved constructing a three-dimensional background displaying a model of a company vehicle to its best advantage. There were 6 entries in Carter's division (ages 13 through 15). Looking over the prize-winning exhibit is Frank Cashman, assistant executive director of the Pontiac Boys Club.

West Waits Word on Its Plan

Soviets Lag on Test Reply

GENEVA (AP)—The marathon three-power nuclear test ban talks are expected to carry on another week before the Soviets give any official response to the new Western plan to break the stalemate.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin so far has showed a distinct coolness to the joint U.S.-British compromise proposals but he said he would hear them out without saying an official word.

Tsarapkin was chairman of today's session—the 277th since the negotiations began 2½ years ago.

U.S. delegate Arthur H. Dean has taken the initiative since resumption of the talks Monday after a three-month recess. Each day he discussed in detail another point in the program.

Western sources say it will take Dean at least eight more days to spell out the new Western proposals for a treaty banning testing of nuclear weapons.

Talking with newsmen outside the wood-paneled conference room of the Palace of Nations, Tsarapkin said he detected "a slight advance" in some aspects of the Western proposals. But he asserted that they contained "too many conditions, too many ifs."

The general belief is that the Soviet delegate is waiting for word from Moscow before taking a definite stand, leaving Premier Khrushchev room to maneuver on the Soviet position until the last minute.

Eaton Workers Ignore Pay-Cut Ultimatum

MASSILLION, Ohio (AP) — Despite a threat by the Eaton Manufacturing Co. to move if workers refuse to take a 16-cent hourly pay cut, members of the Allied Industrial Workers Locals 28 and 306 have voted overwhelmingly to reject the company's proposal.

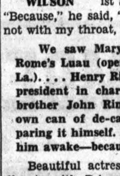
The firm employs about 700 in two plants here.

The two locals have 550 members, and 33 attended the meeting; 303 were reported as voting to reject the proposal. It was a standing vote.

Texan Roots for Texas While Visiting Rome

By EARL WILSON

ROME — It's pleasant to be back here sitting in the sun and eating doughnuts at Doney's . . . Riding in a horse-drawn carriage back from St. Peter's . . . throwing three coins in the fountain like all the other tourists . . . and overhearing a woman say, "I don't care what they say: Texas has many things that Rome hasn't!"



WILSON

Anita Ekberg is due in the U.S. shortly to discuss a movie with Billy Wilder. She's made five films in the last year, which doesn't give her much time for her true love, actor Franco Silva . . . Maurice Chevalier did an impersonation of singers impersonating Maurice Chevalier, and was so good that columnist Sam Steinman asked him how he does it. "Because," he said, "when I learned to sing, I learned to sing not with my throat, but with my heart."

We saw Mary Pickford—false eyelashes and all—at Rome's Luau (operated by Jerry Chierchio of New Iberia, La.). . . . Henry Ringling North, the Ringling Circus' "vice president in charge of Italy," says he's amused by his brother John Ringling North's practice of carrying his own can of de-caffeined coffee to restaurants and preparing it himself. It's not that John's afraid coffee'll keep him awake—because he usually goes to bed about 9 a.m.

Beautiful actress Dawn Addams, who's in an annulment dispute with Prince Vittorio Massimo, trying to get custody of her son Stefano, 7, has solved it—temporarily—by moving to Rome for six months a year—and living next door to her son and husband.

JFK After Hotel Rooms for Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has pledged action toward providing Negroes with equal accommodations when they attend any Civil War Centennial Commission function in the South.

Kennedy told his news conference Thursday night that the commission's decision that it cannot require Southern hotel keepers to provide rooms for Negro representatives can't go unchallenged.

The President said the Civil War group is an official body of the government, sustained by federal funds and its membership filled in part by federal appointments.

TO CONTRACT GRANT

"It is my strong belief that any program of this kind in which the United States is engaged should provide facilities and meeting places which do not discriminate on the ground of race or color," Kennedy said.

He said he is getting in touch with Gen. U. S. Grant III, head of the commission, to see if something cannot be worked out that supports this principle, "because we cannot leave the situation as it is today."

Kennedy gave no hint of what action he might take. But Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. D-N. C., said in an interview that short of persuading the centennial group not to hold meetings in the South, he doesn't know what the President can do.

The cast calls for seven men and four women. The part of a child star was cast at the time the play was chosen. Edwina Delbridge was selected.

Mrs. William Aebersold and Verne Vackaro will direct the play, and Jim Starnes will be the producer.

The play will be presented May 19 and 20 at the Community Center, and all interested residents have been urged to attend the tryouts, whether they are members of the club or not.

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Former Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell says another ex-officeholder, Dwight D. Eisenhower, has endorsed his candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in New Jersey.

Mitchell flew here Thursday for a meeting with the former President at his vacation home. Eisenhower's secretary said there wouldn't be any public report of their discussion.

Italians Have Become Video's Unmentionables

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — The brush-fire skirmish between Jack Paar and Ed Sullivan hasn't caused me to lose sight of the season's most crucial battle.

The battle, of course, involves ABC-TV's "The Untouchables" and the National Italian - American League to Combat Defamation. The NIALCD wants to eliminate a specific ethnic image from the TV series.

Last night, I revisited the battleground and watched an episode titled "Murder Under Glass." It was a fine-feathered, eagle-sharp production, and the implausible script was overwhelmed by a vitality in the staging that remains unique on TV.

Still, despite these well-advertised characteristics, the series is in a slick rut and has nothing more to offer. I don't think we'll lose much when it vanishes from the airwaves.

Since it has become an issue, I must report that last night's characters bore such names as Emile Bouchard, Pete Konitz, Gill Haller and Hugger Davis. But there also was the unmistakeable presence of Frank Nitti, Al Capone's heir.

The series, you see, is still in its transitional phase. By the time it reaches its announced goal as, "The Acceptables," it will be all but unbearable.

The transition was ordered last week when Producer Desi Arnaz met with NIALCD officials and agreed to stop tagging his heavies with Italian names. Detective Nick Rossi, played by Nicholas Giorgiade, also will get a bigger share of the lines.

Now that Arnaz has agreed to tamper with success, "The Untouchables" is doomed. Frankly, I'm envious. I found the series objectionable for reasons other than nationality issue, but nothing happened.

The show kept rolling up bigger ratings. I was ignored. Then along came S. Samuel Di Falco, national chairman of the NIALCD and president, the show became a potential "Hawaiian Eye." Di Falco not only got them to redo the whole shooting gallery he also had them fatten one actor's part.

TV Rating Methods Studded With Error

WASHINGTON (AP)—The methods to determine the ratings ascribed to television programs are studded with errors, a group of statistical experts has reported to Congress.

But despite the errors, the methods used by the survey firms are more accurate than fall or other types of surveys, the group said.

The conclusions were released by Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, which asked for the study of the ratings.

Set More Shots for 'Little Joe'

Success of Launchings Could Clear Way for Astronaut Flight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Space Agency, anxious to avoid further delay in its Mercury astronaut program, announced Thursday it will conduct another Little Joe space vehicle test at Wallops Island, Va., "within the next few weeks."

This announcement came shortly after the disclosure that a Redstone missile is being prepared at Cape Canaveral, Fla., for another test launching — possibly this week — of a dummy Mercury capsule.

If both the shots are successful, they may clear the way for the long-awaited manned Mercury test flight — a Redstone rocket ride to an altitude of 115 miles and a range of about 200 miles.

If either is unsuccessful, the first astronaut flight may have to be further delayed. Space officials have scheduled the initial attempt for April or early May.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the forthcoming little Joe VII shot at Wallops Island will use the same Mercury capsule that was launched there in an unsuccessful test last Saturday.

The capsule has been flown to the St. Louis, Mo., plant of its manufacturer, McDonnell Aircraft Co., for reconditioning.

Banker Predicts 'Full Prosperity'

Claims It's Time for Durable Goods to Start National Climb

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—An executive of the Chase Manhattan Bank today said prospects were excellent for a vigorous recovery which will carry the national economy to a level of "full prosperity" in 1962.

William F. Butler, vice president for economics research at the New York bank, told the 412th meeting of the National Industrial Conference board that markets for most major private durable goods "have been going through a basic adjustment process" for the past five years.

"The potential exists for a good rate of expansion in markets for private durable goods—business plant and equipment, housing, automobiles, appliances and other consumer durable goods," he said.

"By developing this potential the nation can achieve prosperity and accelerate economic growth above that achieved in recent years," he continued. "Experience shows that, as durable goods go, so goes prosperity."
