Donald Doster Dies, 3 Others Injured as Car Overtakes

Death put an end to the hunting trip of four Royal Oak youths Sunday morning when their auto overturned on Carey road three miles north of Commerce Road in Commerce Township.

Pronounced dead at the scene was Donald L. Doster, 17, of 829 Park St., who was pinned under the car after it struck loose sand, swerved out of control and hit an embankment before overturning.

Two others, Robert B. Cochran, 18, of 513 Baldwin, and Ray E. Gardner Jr., 20, of 927 E. Fifth, received minor injuries.

According to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Al DeConinck, Smith was rounding a curve when the right front wheel slipped off the road into loose sand, throwing the car out of control.

Barrel of Nails Yields $100 to Two Honest Pontiac Lads

By JOSEPH K. SFAIR

Hundred dollar bills don't grow on trees and there's probably a million-to-one chance of finding one during a lifetime.

And if a person does find one, the temptation to hang on to it is pretty strong.

Yet two 12-year-old boys, filled with dreams of Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn, found a $100 bill Saturday afternoon and without any "ands, ifs or buts," they promptly turned over their treasure to police.

The two Washington Jr. High eighth-graders, Warren Norlund of 142 Lincoln St., and Wayne Carmichael of 51 Spokane Dr., found the bill in a hardware store's bin of nails. They had gone into the store to buy a paint brush.

Suddenly, Warren called to his companion:

"Look, do you think it's real, it might be a stunt to make people buy more nails."

Air Force C47 With 21 Aboard Believed in Sea

Worker Reports Crash in Mediterranean Near Corsica Today

PARIS (AP)—A U. S. Air Force C47 carrying 21 air-men has vanished on a flight through stormy weather from Rome to Lyon, France, and—even as the search for it was under way—an unidentified plane was reported to have fallen into the Mediterranean off Corsica today.

A workman in Morsiglia, on the west coast of the French island, said he saw the two-engine plane fly at low altitude and crash the wind-whipped water a mile and a half offshore shortly after noon.

A few minutes later, the French News Agency reported wreckage of that plane had been spotted by U.S. and French pilots searching for the C47, missing since 5 p.m. Sunday.

Three ships of the U.S. 6th Fleet were dispatched to the area.

Meanwhile, U.S., French and Italian planes and helicopters still circled over the Mediterranean between Corsica and the French coast and over the French Alps seeking the C47, which was based at Manston, England.

In the Alps, the search centered over Mt. Mouriner, north of Nice. The throbbing of plane engines and a big explosion were heard in two villages at the foot of the mountain last night.

The plane which crashed today was first reported to be en route from Dijon to Rome. Reports from Morsiglia said, however, the plane came from the southeast and was heading westward.

The last report from the C47 Sunday was a message received by the Bastia control tower in Corsica. In the message the pilot said he had fuel for only six hours, ending at 11 p.m.

Search headquarters were established at the French city of Nice. An Air Force spokesman in Frankfurt, Capt. Donald Peterson of Dearborn, Mich., described the weather throughout the area as "stinking" with heavy wind and rain.

Police Quash Bingo 'Test' in New York

NEW YORK (INS) — Church-sponsored bingo—one of New York's hottest issues—appeared definitely ruled out today after police squashed another "test revival."

The game is illegal, but until a recent drive in Brooklyn it had been tolerated when held to raise money for charity.

The Rev. Denis Q. Blake, pastor of St. Martin of Tours Roman Catholic Church said word of a bingo game planned for last night was purposely circulated to "see if police would step in." They did and the crowd of some 200 persons were sent home.

Mendes Follows Pact With Plea

Urges France to Seek Closer Economic Ties With West Germany

PARIS (AP)—A determined French Premier Pierre Mendes-France pushed his program for far-reaching economic accords with West Germany today, moving quickly to follow up the Paris agreements for adding German strength to Western defense.

In a fireside radio chat last night the Premier told his countrymen: "France and Germany are two countries whose nearness to one another and whose resources and production require their close association together."

His talk came a day after the foreign ministers of 15 Western nations signed protocols to three treaties designed to make West Germany a free and equal partner in the Western alliance against the threat of Red aggression. The Paris agreements must be ratified by the national parliaments of the countries concerned. Western diplomats hoped this could be accomplished by mid-1955, but they looked for some rough going with the Soviet Union in the months ahead.

Russia moved within a few hours after the agreements were reached Saturday, calling for a Big Four conference in November on a German peace settlement.

McCarthy-Watkins Censure Rift Looms

WASHINGTON (INS) — A new scrap loomed today between Republican Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy and Arthur V. Watkins of Utah.

It centers on McCarthy's weekend "invitation" for Watkins to testify before McCarthy's investigations subcommittee prior to Nov. 8 about one of the two counts which Watkins' select committee cited as grounds for the Senate to censure McCarthy.

Watkins said Sunday through his Salt Lake City office he "will be glad to appear," but "until the Senate debate on his anti-McCarthy recommendation. The debate opens Nov. 8, two weeks from today."

McCarthy accompanied his invitation with a statement that he assumed Watkins would not require a subpoena to appear. Whether he would use the subpoena threat to force Watkins' appearance before Nov. 8 McCarthy has yet to say.

Cabinet Parley to Be Televised for Dulles Talk

Ike Honors Secretary With Airport Welcome; Report Slated Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today personally welcomed Secretary Dulles back from Paris, and arranged for the first nationally televised and broadcast Cabinet meeting in history to hear Dulles' report on the West European defense agreement. The session will be at 7 p. m.

Dramatizing the importance attached to the agreement, Eisenhower went to the airport and greeted Dulles who spoke of "a new era in Europe."

It was the first time Eisenhower has turned up at the airport to greet a returning Cabinet officer.

The first TV-radio broadcast of a U.S. Cabinet session ever made will be carried in this area at 7 p. m. tonight over WWJ-TV (channel 4) and WWJ, and radio WXYZ will carry a rebroadcast at 10:30 p. m.

even though President Truman nearly always welcomed Secretary of State Dean Acheson when Acheson returned from international conferences.

Dulles, in a brief airport statement, said: "I do feel I can bring back words of good tidings, not merely in terms of documents signed but in terms of the spirit which animated our discussions, which marked, I believe, the beginning of a new era for Europe."

Eisenhower vigorously shook Dulles' hand and patted him on the back after the secretary walked down the ramp of the special four-engine air force transport which flew him from Bermuda on the last leg of his journey from Paris.

As if to give the center of the stage to Dulles, the President then walked some 50 feet away and stood alone while Dulles spoke briefly into newsreel, radio and television microphones at the field and was photographed by some 50 photographers and cameramen.

Afterward, the President called over to Dulles: "You'd better come over here, Foster, you're missing another chance to get your picture taken."

Laughingly, Dulles hastened at the President's call over to where Eisenhower was standing. The President grabbed him by the arm, posed for a new round of pictures and then climbed into his waiting limousine with Dulles beside him.

Dulles said at the airport that he would give a "full report" on the Paris meeting to the Cabinet and the American people tonight.

All-Girl Family All Crossed Up as Boy Arrives

PITTSFIELD, Maine (AP)—Thirteen sisters gained a brother yesterday and lost their claim on being the nation's largest all-girl family.

Leslie Benjamin Brooks, 6 pounds, 8 ounces, crossed up some of the plans when he was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brooks at their Snake Root Rd. farmhouse. But he got a warm welcome nonetheless from the 39-year-old couple and the 13 Brooks daughters, aged 1 1/2 to 16.

"Now that I have a boy I hope it will be the end," said Brooks, a 50-a-week truck driver.

"We'll love him just as much as the girls," his wife declared. A blue blanket was found in which to swathe the newcomer but, as his surprised sister Eunice, 16, pointed out, "Oh, dear! All his clothes will be pink."

3 Crosby Sons Flee Nursemaid

Bandleader's Offspring Found Safe Following All-Night Search

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UP)—Three young sons of bandleader Bob Crosby were found on a mountainside early today after a night away from home and said, "We ran away from our nurse because she runs the house."

The trio's disappearance early Sunday night led to an all-night search in which more than 90 officers and friends of the family took part. Crosby himself had joined the searchers at dawn.

The boys, Chris, 12; Robert Jr., 10; and Stephen, 8, were found about a mile and a half in back of the Crosby Bel-Air home by Timmy Wellman, 15, son of movie director William Wellman. The Wellman boy was covering the rough terrain on horseback.

"We were running away from our nurse," said Chris. "She runs the house."

The Crosby father, while apparently happy and showing signs of relief that the boys were found, nevertheless took them to task sharply. He immediately marched them upstairs for a "woodshed session" and told them to get "cleaned up."

Would Juror 'Burn Sam'?

Sheppard Venue Change Again Denied by Judge

CLEVELAND (AP)—A tentative juror was asked today whether he once remarked he would "burn Sam Sheppard," and quickly denied it.

This development came shortly before Judge Edward Blythin again held in abeyance the motions of the defense to delay or move to another county the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

The young Bay Village osteopath is accused of bludgeoning his pretty wife Marilyn to death last July 4.

Defense Atty. William J. Corrigan renewed his motions for continuance and change of venue, citing "tremendous coverage" given the trial by news media, but the judge once again said "we can't control the publicity in this case."

That decision came just before the noon recess.

The prosecution and defense quizzed Thomas J. Solli, a railroad track foreman, about his attitude in the case.

Corrigan asked him: "Did you ever make the statement that if you got on the jury you would burn Sam Sheppard?"

Replied Solli, "Aw, no sir."

Corrigan said he and the wife of Defense Atty. Fred Garmon received telephone tips to that effect, from a woman who said her husband works at the "same place you do."

The juror replied, "I must have a lot of enemies."

Ex-FHA Head on Trial Today

Powell Contempt Case Being Heard Without Jury in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Clyde L. Powell, former assistant federal housing administrator, goes on trial today on a charge by a special grand jury that he is in criminal contempt for failing to answer its questions.

The grand jury presentment was filed last week with U. S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who hears the case today—without a jury.

The presentment—a kind of accusation or indictment—charges Powell with refusing to say whether he took official office diaries and desk memos with him when he left the Federal Housing Administration.

The verdict, and possible sentence, is up to the judge.

Powell resigned as head of FHA's rental housing division a few days before the White House announced last April it was launching a full-scale probe of alleged excessive profits made by some builders of FHA-backed apartment projects.

Powell's resignation, which had been accepted, was then held up and later he was formally fired.

Solons Find Reds Frantic Over Bonn Rearmament

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Rep. O. C. Fisher (D-Texas), returning from a 17-day visit to the Soviet Russia, said today there is no doubt the prospect of West German rearmament "is having a sobering and deterring effect" on the Kremlin.

And his companion on the trip, Rep. Laurie C. Battle (D-Ala.) said: "Moscow's controlled radio broadcasts and the newspapers contained, it seemed to us, a frantic tone over Germany's rearmament and her admission to NATO."

Fisher is a member of the House Armed Services Committee. Battle is a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee.

The two congressmen said in an airport interview they traveled 4,000 miles in the Soviet Union and were treated "with consideration and courtesy."

They said they went to Russia at their own expense.

Charges Against Hermann Field Called Baseless

Warsaw Radio Hints Kin of Ohio Architect Also May Be Free

LONDON (UP)—The Communist radio said today Hermann H. Field, Ohioan jailed five years ago in Red Poland, has been "released and rehabilitated" because the charges against him proved "baseless."

A Warsaw broadcast said other unidentified "persons accused without foundation have been released"—a possible reference to Field's brother Noel, his sister-in-law Herta and their foster daughter Erika, all of whom disappeared at about the time he was arrested.

The broadcast, based on dispatches of the official agency PAF, said Hermann Field will receive "full redress" and promised "necessary steps will be taken against persons found guilty of exercising insufficient supervision" in his case.

The whereabouts of the reportedly released prisoner, whose home is in Cleveland, could not be determined immediately. A spokesman for the U. S. embassy in Warsaw said he had no information beyond the Red broadcast.

"We are making every effort to get in touch with him..." the embassy spokesman said. "Naturally, we will do everything in our power to help him get home."

"As he is apparently a free man, I assume he will shortly walk into the embassy."

The radio report was "wonderful" news for Field's wife Kate, who is now in London.

"I am so happy I don't know what to say," she said. "Now at last I hope we'll see him for the first time since 1949. The boys and I are almost too happy for words."

The official report implied the United States was to blame for Field's ordeal, saying Josef Swiatlo—the former Communist secret police official who arrested him—was a "known American spy and agent provocateur."

"In the absence of sufficient controls, he (Swiatlo) was able to steal into the apparatus of the security police..." the broadcast said. "He succeeded in starting criminal actions with forged documents, and denounce a group of citizens... without any justification..."

"A completed investigation has proved the accusation by Swiatlo against Hermann Field was false. Field has been released and released."

Sunshine to Bow Out After a Week's Visit

After more than a week of bright, clear days, rain is again forecast for the Pontiac area by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

The weather outlook is for continued mild temperatures with a chance of scattered showers to-night. Tuesday will be mostly cloudy with showers, and a high of 68-72. Low tonight will be 44-48.

Wednesday is expected to end the rain in Lower Michigan and bring cooler weather.

Downtown temperatures Saturday ranged from 45 to 73. Sunday from 50 to 75. Today at 8 a.m., the mercury registered 46 degrees, rising to 69 by 2 p. m.

"We wanted to look around," Battle said.

Both said they were amazed at the Soviet reconstruction program. "There is a great deal of rebuilding in every city we visited," Fisher said. "Stalingrad, much destroyed during the war, has been pretty well rebuilt."

The Day in Birmingham

City Expected to Authorize Condemnation Proceedings

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM—The city commission is expected to expedite construction of what will be Birmingham's first municipal parking lot tonight, with passage of a resolution authorizing condemnation proceedings for properties at the corner of Pierce and Merrill streets.

Such action will be taken only if options for the property purchases cannot be secured. Acquisition of the land is necessary before a full bond issuance schedule and special assessment procedures can be determined.

Gone will be the penny parking meter, if commissioners approve city manager's recommendation calling for elimination of the use of pennies in the meters as of Dec. 1. Thirty-minute parking spaces would also be introduced at "strategic" locations.

Parking meters for the proposed municipal lot will be discussed, on the theory that the lot should include both one and two hour meters, with an area designated for all-day parking at an established rental fee.

With objections anticipated over last week's enlargement of the proposed special assessment district to finance the lot, the commission will receive its first such request from St. James Episcopal Church.

Application for a zoning map change so that parking can be provided will be presented by Albert Nelson, who plans construction of several stores at the northwest corner of 14 Mile and Southfield Rds. Bids for final surfacing of the Elton park tennis courts also will be received.

A Workers Conference for teachers and volunteers of all departments is scheduled for 7:45 tonight at First Methodist Church.

"Planning a Lesson," will be the theme. Leaders will moderate discussion groups of adult, youth and children's workers. Departmental meetings will follow the conference.

Ellen Davey Group of First Methodist Church will sew for their forthcoming bazaar when members meet at the home of Mrs. Edward Crona, 3309 Sheridan Dr., at 8 tonight.

Although Birmingham Fire Department answered 46 calls during last month and buildings and property endangered by fire were estimated at worth almost a half-million dollars, only $70 actual fire loss occurred, according to the September report of Fire Chief V. W. Griffith.

Of the calls made, one was a general alarm, 7 were miscellaneous, 6 were for first aid, and the remaining 36 were alarms for fire and fire investigations.

In addition the department made 267 inspections, 8 of which were

Police have recovered watches, sweaters, skirts, records, and jewelry.

Det. Lt. Merin Holmquist said the department had previous information that a gang of girls was working together in the shop lifting spree, which ended last Friday when the Women's Division of the Detroit Police Department located two of the girls in Detroit. When questioned about watches both were wearing, they admitted they had stolen them.

habilitated. Accusations by a group of Polish citizens, which proved unfounded, also were withdrawn.

The official statement did not specify the charges on which Field was seized.

(Swiatlo "chose freedom" last year. He told a press conference in Washington a month ago that he arrested Field at the Warsaw airport Aug. 22, 1949, and expressed belief the American almost certainly would be executed.)

Field, an architect employed by Western Reserve University, went to Red Poland in 1947 on a survey tour and returned with glowing reports of the "creativity" and "democratic vitality" of Polish architecture.

He returned behind the Iron Curtain with his sister-in-law Herta early in August, 1949, to look for Noel Field, his brother and Herta's husband, who disappeared in Red Czechoslovakia that May.

Herman Field flew to Warsaw Aug. 15, and was arrested the following week. Airline records were falsified to make it appear he had left the Polish capital for Red Prague, where Herta was waiting.

Herta Field disappeared four days after her brother-in-law was arrested. Her foster daughter, Erika Wallach, disappeared in Soviet Berlin exactly one year later. Swiatlo said all four were arrested on trumped-up "spy" charges, but until today there had been no official confirmation that they were in Communist custody.

A 12-year-old Birmingham youth, shot in the chin Sunday by a hunting companion who "thought his gun was unloaded," is reported in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Richard C. Acton, son of Cicero Acton of 2709 Cattermole, Birmingham, was wounded by Victor Ison, 13, of 10140 M15 while the two boys were hunting with Ison's brother, Bill, 11, on the Ison farm.

According to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Al DeConinck, Ison, playfully pointing the 20-gauge gun, fired from the hip. He said he thought it was unloaded.

Acton, who lost a quantity of blood from the wound, ran one-quarter mile to the Ison home and was rushed to the hospital.

Boat Mishap Kills 13

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina — A river launch capsized and sank near the big river port of Rosario yesterday and the latest official report said 13 passengers perished.

The launch operator said the passengers, on the regular run from Rosario to Victoria across the Parana River, all congregated at one rail.

Board of Supervisors Set

Unemployment Big Factor in East Coast Campaign

Editor's Note—This is the first of a series of summing-up stories by roving Associated Press reporters who are analyzing the campaign in various sections of the country.

By REILMAN MORIN
NEW YORK (AP)—A vague but widespread feeling of uneasiness—mainly over jobs and economic security—appears to be the big political factor on the Atlantic Seaboard today in the last week before the elections.

Democrats are counting heavily on it to give them what they call a "junior landslide" Nov. 2. Republicans, recognizing the feeling, argue that the economic situation was even worse before the Korean War. They are pleading with the voters to "Give Ike more time" and say conditions are steadily improving. And President Eisenhower himself has jumped into the campaign.

Nine states in the region are electing 7 governors, 6 senators and 90 representatives. A majority of the offices are now held by Republicans. The state-by-state lineup appears like this today:

New York—Straw-vote figures baffle most political analysts at the moment. Ives, the GOP candidate for governor, piled up a record plurality in 1952, even running ahead of Eisenhower. Harri-man is making his first try for elective office. As a campaigner, he is neither colorful nor exciting. Yet the polls show him leading Ives.

New Jersey—the main race here is for a Senate seat and most observers believe Rep. Charles Howell, Democrat, will defeat former Rep. Clifford Case. The Republican candidate is beset by opposition within his own party.

Massachusetts—Two Republicans, Gov. Christian A. Herter and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, are in tight races for re-election. They appear to be leading in this final week before the election. Herter's challenger is Robert F. Murphy, Democratic veteran of the State Legislature. Former Rep. Foster Furcolo, Democrat, is running against Saltonstall. Democrats conceded that Furcolo was "hurt" when Democratic Sen. John Kennedy did not publicly back him in the race.

Connecticut—Gov. John Lodge's Democratic challenger is former Rep. Abraham A. Ribicoff and at the moment the race looks neck and neck.

Vermont—New Hampshire—Democrats generally concede defeat in these two Republican strongholds. In Vermont, however, a 63-year-old dairy farmer, E. Frank Branon, is putting up a strong fight for the governor's office.

New Hampshire is electing a governor, two senators and two representatives. Democrats say they have a good chance to win one House seat, due to a GOP factional fight in that district. They are given little hope in the other races.

Rhode Island—This is a Democratic stronghold. While it gave President Eisenhower a slim plurality in 1952, it elected all Democrats on the rest of the ticket.

Maryland—The segregation issue has been brought into the elections here and the effects are hard to gauge. Harry C. Byrd, Democratic candidate for governor, noting that the state has practiced segregation for many years, recently said, "I believe it would be unwise to end that system immediately." Gov. Theodore McKeldin has said he would enforce the law.

Delaware—Here, too, the segregation question has arisen, although candidates of both parties have avoided taking a stand on it. Nevertheless, because the state has a Republican administration, Republicans feel that the controversy is hurting them.

Man Shoots Self in Barroom Brawl

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Charles Curry, 28-year-old East St. Louis man, was killed by his own bullet in a fight yesterday.

East St. Louis police gave this account of the shooting:

Curry and Warren E. Jones, 25, another East St. Louis man, began an argument in a club. Curry grabbed a .38-caliber automatic pistol from the pocket of another man at the scene after Jones was handed a toy pistol.

Aeronaut's Son Downed When Balloon Tears

WOODBURY, N. J. (AP)—An aerial balloon piloted by Donald L. Piccard, 28, son of famed balloonist and stratosphere explorer Dr. Jean Piccard, made a forced landing near here yesterday after its bag was torn in flight.

Piccard and his four companions were shaken, but none were injured seriously when the balloon, after a hasty descent, jostled along the ground before it could be brought under control.

Curry, standing in front of Jones with his arms around him, shot Jones in the back during a scuffle. The bullet penetrated Jones' body and fatally wounded Curry.

Jones was hospitalized with a gunshot wound in the chest.

Man-Eating Fish Goes on Display at Bronx Zoo

NEW YORK (AP)—A rare black piranha, an 11-inch man-eating fish that can bite a finger off with one snap, is on exhibition in the aquarium of the Bronx Zoo. Two more are being studied in tanks in the Zoo's laboratory. Although other species of piranhas are common, these are the first black piranhas to be exhibited in any aquarium, zoo officials say. It is impossible to keep more than one in a tank because they bite huge chunks out of each other. A naturalist once described the piranha as "probably the wickedest fish that swims; by the side of him a shark is a perfect gentleman."

A vast rain-forest encircles the earth between the tropics. It extends across northern South America, central Africa, parts of India and the Malay peninsula, the East Indies and northern Australia. Half the continent of South America is covered by this forest belt.

WHEW!—William C. Burns is safe enough now, looking in from the outside, but things were different when the 20-foot pole snapped off an on-coming truck in Cleveland, Ohio, and pierced the windshield of his truck. The pole plunged between his right arm and body.

Plan to Name Hurricanes as Boys Brings Protests

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
NEW YORK (INS)—Now really, who could ever settle for Hector after we've had Hazel? Or for Horatio, Horace, or just plain Henry?

Women may be wild about Harry, but what gets lots of us even wilder is the growing conspiracy to name hurricanes after men and "stop insulting" the girls and women, the mothers and grandmothers of the nation. Insulting? My aunt!

Secretly we women and girls absolutely love the association of ideas that links us to huge dangerous natural forces—and by George, we're going to fight off any and every attempt on the part of men to hog the glory for themselves.

Way back in early September, just after Carol to be exact, all this windy nonsense about insults to the fair sex roared up to a 70 mile an hour force, but by the time we'd had Dolly, Edna, Florence, Gilda and her ungracious majesty Hazel, that little old 70 miles an hour seemed like a mild spring zephyr. Editorial writers (mostly male) all over the U. S. turned into such gallant fellows about not equating femininity with aggression, destruction and danger that seeds of feminine readers started looking around for velvet cloaks over mud puddles of their purple prose.

The official announcements that any future hurricanes in 1954 would be known as Irene, Jill, Katherine, Lucy, Mabel and so on down through Wallis merely started new floods raging in the chivalry department.

All the while, the better adjusted females of the country merely smiled and waited for the big dust-up to blow itself out, privately wondering perhaps if their menfolk hadn't got the wind up just a bit.

But now all of a sudden, brand new storm warnings are up—and even the calmest feminine pulse must speed up to meet the menace.

For believe it or not, the latest news from Washington and an official spokesman is that in January the "Joint Hurricane Conference will debate whether to keep on with girls' names or switch to boys'.

So batten down the hatches, ladies! We may be in for a real blow this time—all to the snide tune of not wanting to hurt our feelings. It may be a real mean blow, too, but never let it be said later on that we wuz robbed because we didn't have sense enough to come in out of the rain.

As if every girl or woman in her right mind didn't realize there's more glamor in being linked to danger and tempestuousness than to anything all meek and mild!

As if we don't realize full well that it was the bad and violent dames that made the world always sit up and take notice—the Lucretia Borgia's, the Lady Macbeths, the Lizzie Borden—even the barefoot contessas!

So just let any group of weather experts try stripping away the girls' names from any future hurricanes and taking up with Amos, Bertie, Charlie, Dudley, Egbert and the like.

They'll just find themselves blown apart, that's all. This is fair warning, storm signals all in plain view.

However, before we defeat this hot air plot, compromise may be needed, and I'm ready with my own contribution to peace between the isobars:

If some change is inevitable how's for naming all Pacific typhoons with boys' names and all Atlantic hurricanes with girls'?

But if we do, then we'd better remember that "never the twain shall meet"—because if ever the stormy twain did meet, the rest of us sure would blow our tops at the results.

Bar Association Orders
Study of Problem in Chicago; Two Cases Up

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bar Assn. has ordered a study of artificial insemination with a view to recommending a law to the 1955 Legislature.

Illinois presently has no law covering rights of persons involved in "test tube baby" cases. There are two such cases pending in Superior Court.

Samuel A. Rinella, chairman of the association's Matrimonial Law Committee, yesterday appointed a two-member subcommittee to be hearing Wednesday. Rinella said a recent report by a Chicago physician that he performed between 200 and 300 such inseminations indicated an immediate need for such a law.

Judge Gibson E. Gorman has been asked to rule Nov. 15 in one case involving a 5-year-old boy. The 36-year-old mother, who is suing her 48-year-old machinist husband for divorce, contends the boy was born of artificial insemination and that her husband is not the father.

The mother asks the court to rule artificial insemination is not contrary to public policy, does not constitute adultery, that the child is legitimate and that the husband has no right or interest in the child.

Whether the child was born of artificial insemination is the issue in a second case. The husband, 32, petitioned for custody of a 3-year-old boy and an injunction restraining the 30-year-old mother from calling the boy a "test tube baby." Results of blood tests are to be made known in court Nov. 4.

Ohio Foes Neck and Neck in Battle for Senate Seat

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—Ohio has not elected a Democratic senator in 20 years but now the two big parties are in a neck-and-neck battle to the wire for the seat once held by "Mr. Republican"—the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

It is a battle the Republicans cannot afford to lose. It may mean the decisive vote in their stand to hold GOP control of the Senate of President Eisenhower.

The President carried Ohio in 1952 by more than 500,000 votes. Taft won in his last race by 430,000.

But Rep. George H. Bender and Democratic incumbent Sen. Thomas A. Burke are in one of the closest congressional races across the nation.

Burke, former mayor of Cleveland, was appointed senator by Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche when Taft died with two years of his term still to run.

Bender has served six straight terms as a congressman from Ohio. He is running on a "stick with Ike" program.

The two candidates have conducted an unusual campaign—featuring a number of face-to-face debates from the same platform. It has been a rough exchange.

Burke tells the audiences that Ohio Republican leaders were "shotgunned" into supporting Bender. He frequently mentions the attacks that Republican speaker William Saxbe of the state House of Representatives made on Bender during the May primary.

He recalls that Saxbe described Bender as "the ward heeling type of machine politician the Republican party has been trying to get rid of for years." Saxbe also described Bender as the "bell-ringing voice of doom" during the GOP National Convention in Chicago. This refers to the fact Bender rang a cow-bell when Taft's name was placed in nomination for the presidency.

Bender tells his audience that a congressional subcommittee he heads found evidence of labor union racketeering, bombings and extortion in Cleveland during Burke's four terms as mayor. He asks why Burke and the police did not act.

On the affirmative side, Bender plugs three main themes.

He credits the Eisenhower Administration with bringing the Korean War to an end. He says the Republican record against subversives in government is far better than the Democrats.

He says the Republicans have shown in 21 months the country can have prosperity without war. This is Bender's 12th statewide race and the first for Burke.

Democrats hope that any handicap Burke suffers downstate because he was little known outside Cleveland will be offset by the majority they expect to roll up in the state's biggest city.

Man Dies at Funeral

DETROIT (UP)—Arthur Miesel, 65, suffered a fatal heart attack Sunday while visiting the bier of his brother at a funeral home.

The average coffee tree, during its 10-year span of productivity, produces about 30,000 "cherries" the equivalent of only 15 pounds of roasted coffee.

Courthouse

While the General Hospital amendment rides along with no concerted opposition, this isn't true of the courthouse.

There are two sides—or eight.

Well, that's what makes a republic and a democracy. The people can all speak and declare themselves freely. And in the case of the courthouse, many of them are, on both sides.

The Board of Supervisors has studied the problem the longest and in the greatest detail. It favors the site on Telegraph. These reasons have been listed: an easier place for the county in general to reach; much better parking; making the current location down town available for some other activities; financial saving to the tax payers.

Pontiac attorneys prefer the convenient down town location. Attorneys around the county probably prefer the more convenient location away from the center of the city.

Pontiac attorneys have not united on a single plan. One wants a 100 per cent county building where the courthouse is now. Another wants an office and county building combined. Others want it on the old jail site with the courthouse location sold. Some suggest the Masonic Temple. Across from the jail on Wayne Street has been favored by others. And so it goes.

The Supervisors agree. They've picked a location. They're prepared to move and yet until the comparatively recent days, the opposition has been firing in several directions.

We hope Mr. GLENN C. GILLESPIE can unite the local group. It will simplify the problem. He asks what location will "best serve the public interest." If Mr. GILLESPIE means the Pontiac attorneys, the answer is "a down town location." If he means the 400,000 residents of Oakland County, we suggest the site the supervisors have selected.

Transportation is mentioned, but we never saw a steady demand for transportation that went unfilled long. Automobiles probably convey the bulk of the courthouse people to the current building just as they could to Telegraph road.

The Supervisors have given the matter the most study. They're the experts. The Press trails along with them.

Extending the Seaway

Senator FERGUSON has turned his attention to getting maximum possible benefits for Michigan from the St. Lawrence waterway.

To that end he said in Lansing that early next year he would push for appropriations to finance widening and deepening of channels in the Detroit and St. Clair rivers. His objective is a Congressional appropriation sufficient to finance work that will permit vessels with a loaded draft of 25.5 feet to reach Great Lakes ports.

The importance of these improvements stems from the fact that the seaway work on which Canada and the U. S. now have embarked, goes no farther than Lake Erie. It is emphasized in figures quoted at a Sault Ste. Marie meeting of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

JOHN BRUKEMA of Muskegon, president of the Great Lakes Harbors Association, predicted a vast increase in foreign trade on the lakes after the seaway opens in 1959.

Last year that trade totaled 552,000 tons. By 1959, it is estimated the volume will have grown to 37,500,000. Six years after that, by 1965, Mr. BRUKEMA said, the total would be 47,500,000 tons.

The seaway promises Michigan the greatest economic stimulus it has felt since the automobile became big business. For that reason every Michigan interest should support the legislative program announced by Sen. Ferguson.

Without widening and deepening of these river channels use of ships larger than those now plying between Europe and our lake ports, would be impossible. Nothing should be allowed to delay the start of this essential work.

Envoy of Understanding

This newspaper is proud to call readers' attention to a series of articles by SPYROS P. SELLINAS of Greece.

Foreign news editor of the Athens daily Vradyni, Mr. SELLINAS is here for three months under auspices of the State Department. He is one of 20 foreign journalists participating in this year's exchange program. So far under it 30 newspapers in this country have been hosts to newsmen from 17 Nations.

As his first articles indicate, our visiting colleague is well qualified to interpret international events and the attitude of his countrymen toward the United States.

In truth, his choice of words in doing that makes us believe that while here, as well as after his return, he will prove to be an able ambassador of international understanding.

Good Food Needed Found to Be Top Adjunct in Treatment of Disease

Allice: What no two people are—and both are glad of it.

The event was attended by dietitians at other county institutions, and held to pass on the foods to be used by them during the coming year.

Contestants numbering 122 continue in the MAT football contest. The 140 who picked Tulsa to win over Detroit in Friday evening's game and the 9 who predicted a tie are eliminated. The 122 divide their predictions on next Saturday's game: Michigan, 97; Indiana, 25; tie game, none.

A straw vote taken in that county by

Michigan Inviting Gambling Racketeers If 'Charity Bingo' Passes, Says Reader

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Advertising to the effect that everyone will want to vote for so-called "charity bingo" prompts me to write this. This is not really a "charitable bingo" proposal at all. If it passes, the legislature can permit all types of gambling, just so charity gets a cut, however small!

This is an invitation to the Frank Costello and all gambling to operate. When gambling for charitable purposes becomes legal, the racketeers move in fast.

Guy H. Jenkins, Lansing correspondent, says, "There will be plenty of dynamite in the initiated proposal to authorize gambling for charity. The people will hear a booming defense of bingo as a harmless amusement for the old folks. But that is not the case. Nowhere in the amendment is there mention of bingo, nor chances on automobiles for policemen's field days."

"The legislature has unlimited authority to legalize any kind of gambling as long as charity comes in for a cut of the proceeds. You can depend on hearing the devotees of the gambling racket defend church and lodge bingo games." Who sponsors that radio advertising? All well-informed voters will vote No on Proposal Number 4.

'Politics Is Funny,' Says Jas. W. Clapp

It has been said that politics is funny. No truer statement has ever been made. Go back with me, if you please, to another era in our country's history. When Democrats and slavery was in flower.

When we had a Supreme Court, hand-picked as to party and slavery with a bench made up of pro-slavery parties, who along with Chief Justice, Democrat Taney, rendered the infamous Dred Scott decision, classing Negro slaves along with livestock and other chattels, to be bought and sold.

There was the start of the Republican Party, a party formed with the sole idea of freeing the slaves. Two leaders of Democracy standing up for the Taney decision were John C. Calhoun and Jefferson Davis.

Democrat Buchanan allowed these friends of slavery to take over the government to the extent that Cass, Michigan's Democratic Secretary of War, resigned, rather than see his beloved U.S. turned over to traitors.

Then Republican Lincoln, with the help of recruits from all parties, freed the slaves. Then the descendants of those slaves came north, to the home of those "dirty, bloated capitalists" to make a decent living and vote for the party of Taney, Davis, Calhoun, et al, who would still have them in bondage were it not for the Republican party.

And don't forget that it was Republican Chief Justice Warren who rendered another decision, which will go down in American history for the colored race as Taney's decision was against.

Says Dog Vivisection May Harm Children

While I am in complete agreement with the humane officials that the person or persons who cut up little dogs for a pastime are fiends, I do not think conviction in court or a jail sentence would be the proper solution.

I believe that anyone, regardless of age, sex or status as to money and education, who would harm any animal in this way, is, beyond any doubt, suffering from insanity. The Pontiac State Hospital is the proper place for them when they are apprehended.

If they will do this sort of thing to a small harmless dog today, isn't it logical to assume that they may do this very thing to some small and equally harmless child tomorrow, perhaps your child and not just another poor dog?

If you have information, why not call the humane society and tell them about it.

Use 'Giving Campaign' to Raise Hospital Funds

Recently you have had some articles about the over crowding at Pontiac General Hospital and the need for enlargement. The people of Pontiac are soon to vote whether they will have their taxes raised to meet that need.

Pontiac people are not the only ones who use Pontiac General. A great part of Oakland County uses it too. Why should Pontiac people pay for all the enlargement for the benefit of a county? There must not be a provision for taxation of the county people for this cause or surely it would have been used already.

Anyway people hate to be taxed but love to give freely. Why can't you, the paper and hospital authorities, set up a "giving campaign?" You could run personal interest stories and pictures to arouse public interest.

Inexpensive collection boxes could be placed by the cash registers in stores where they would be convenient when change is made.

I'm a housewife with three children. Like all women from average income families, I find it difficult to make ends meet. But I could give quite a little over a period of time if given a chance to give a little at a time. Why not give the former patients a chance to help at least a little?

Show Pride in City With New Courthouse

Perhaps the opposition to a new courthouse comes from those people who vision a new building with a lot of useless ornaments such as we now see but the times are past for old eye-catchers like that.

If an office building of 12 stories were put up with an efficiency comparable to a bank or industrial plant, then the cost would not be more than our dignity as a county seat would bear.

We must not forget that we have two of the largest factories in the United States and many visitors to view them. Here is a way to show our pride in the Pontiac car, General Motors Truck and the other enterprises of Oakland County.

Our present courthouse is a shabby contrast to the modern city hall we can be justly proud of.

Says Keep Boys Home by Voting Republican

I see there are but a few days more before election. I have read where there has been quite a lot of criticism about our present administration. Voters, stop and consider, isn't it better now than to have our boys fighting in a foreign country? Many do not come home and many are maimed. Vote Republican and keep our boys at home.

Patient's Wish Determines If Anesthetic Will Be Used During Natural Childbirth

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
 We are convinced that a woman's sense of security is enhanced by not being alone when she is in active labor.

So say Dr. Herbert Thoms, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, of the School of Medicine, and Ernestine Wiedenbach, R. N., Division of Obstetric Nursing of the School of Nursing, Yale University. (J. A. M. A. 9, 4, '54.)

I admire and applaud this resolute advance into the 20th century, but I warn Dr. Thoms and Nurse Wiedenbach that it is lone some around here. I have been virtually an outcast ever since I began telling the world that a man remains with his wife at the supreme moment of their life, but a rather runs away.

Nineteenth-century lying-in institutions, their staffs, and their parasites unanimously loathe me for this, but then, they never loved me much anyway. These institutions go to considerable trouble and expense to maintain a monkey cage where nincompoops may be confined, with room to pace the floor

David Lawrence Says:

Lattimore Perjury Judge Should Heed Bias Charge

WASHINGTON — Owen Lattimore, Far East expert and the man who has been accused of master-minding the policies of the State Department under the Truman Administration which, it is claimed, brought about the loss of China to the free world, is under indictment charged with lying before a congressional committee when he denied he had been promoting Communist causes.

The same committee came to a unanimous conclusion that Lattimore was "the conscious, articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy in the United States."

Now the U. S. Attorney, Leo A. Rover, filed recently an affidavit charging that Judge Youngdahl, before whom the case is to be tried next Jan. 10, is biased. He relates that charge to comments made by the judge in his formal opinion ruling on some indictments a year ago. The judge now answers that affidavit and denies he is biased.

Usually even if there is only the slightest appearance of bias in a case, and even if the judge in question doesn't himself accept at all the reasoning of a protesting attorney that the man on the bench is alleged to be biased, he nevertheless disqualifies himself to sit in the proceedings when either party in the case offers a plausible argument asking for another judge to try the case.

If Judge Youngdahl didn't furnish convincing evidence of his bias when he wrote the first opinion a year ago commenting on indictments he was dismissing and expressing a disparaging opinion on the merits of other indictments yet to be tried, a close reading of the statement just issued will doubtless furnish a basis for more charges of apparent bias.

This Judge Youngdahl characterizes as "scandalous" the action of the U. S. attorney in filing an affidavit of bias. Yet it was presented in accordance with provisions of a federal law which says specifically that either party may challenge a judge for "personal bias or prejudice either against him or in favor of any adverse party."

Since when has it become "scandalous" to avail oneself of a right granted by a specific statute in a criminal case?

Judge Youngdahl courteously conceded that Rover filed the affidavit of prejudice "in good faith" but nevertheless "acted irresponsibly and recklessly." The judge then went on to contradict his concession of "good faith" by declaring that Rover sought to "intimidate" the court.

This is as grave a charge as can be made against any law officer of the government. It was the language used by the defendant's attorney, but it comes as a shock to have Judge Youngdahl appropriate it as his own.

The most conspicuous flaw in the judge's new statement is his contention that the U. S. attorney had chided him for quoting from congressional testimony, and he proceeds to show how Rover, too, had offered some excerpts from congressional hearings in his affidavit.

But Judge Youngdahl showed a surprising indifference to Rover's main point, which was that if the judge was going to quote from congressional hearings he shouldn't cite the findings of the Tydings Committee alone and disregard totally the findings of the McCarran-Jenner Committee, which went over the same ground a couple of years later and finally asked that Lattimore be indicted for perjury. Rover had said in his affidavit:

"Certainly if the judge improperly assigned any materiality to what the Tydings Committee found, he at least should have noted that the McCarran Committee—before which the defendant was alleged to have committed the perjury involved herein—found that the defendant was 'from some time in the 1930's a conscious, articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy.'"

"Again the judge wrote: 'Apparently the McCarran Committee could discover no evidence from its investigation or the testimony of various witnesses that defendant lied in denying that he was a Communist, a member of the Communist party, a Soviet spy, or a fellow-traveler.'"

Now the question of what the McCarran Committee did or did not find as evidence to support its findings is a matter for presentation at a trial, and not something to be ruled upon by Judge Youngdahl in analyzing the phraseology of the accusation or indictment itself. It is something to be threshed out at the trial when witnesses for both sides are called.

As the U. S. attorney said in his affidavit, Judge Youngdahl practically passed on the question of Lattimore's innocence. Rover said:

"If a prospective juror in a criminal trial stated that he had a 'serious doubt' regarding the guilt or innocence of a defendant and that evidence would be required to overcome such doubt, there can be no question that any judge would disqualify the juror from sitting in judgment at the trial of the defendant."

The Supreme Court, moreover, has held that a judge's ruling in the lower courts as well as what he throws in by way of "dicta" or expressions of personal opinion—are pertinent in considering whether he should be disqualified.

Maybe Judge Youngdahl was merely giving vent to a natural indignation in his tart statement about the U. S. attorney's affidavit. Maybe the judge will yet disqualify himself voluntarily. Other judges, after formally answering for the record any charges of bias, have then removed themselves from the case and suggested the appointment of another judge.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
 (International News Service)
 This column has failed in its efforts to get Stevenson and Nixon speaking on the same topic on the same platform on the same day.

We feel that Adlai's rebukes are one-sided. And that Nixon's opinions are slanted like roofers' ladders.

We would let them pick their subject and avoid it. Nixon is the conservative type of shill. Stevenson throws it around like a cat with spasms.

They have only one week left to wrap it up. Next Tuesday we go to the polls with the wild light of victory in our eyes, the wreath of laurel in our hair and the unknown quantity "X" in a circle.

Next Tuesday marks the early autumn exams for GOP policies. The Republicans have had two years for their term—tested theories, Stevenson says they have flopped like a fish on a wharf.

Adlai says the Democrats will take over next Tuesday sure as pigs in the mud. He says the GOP claimed it could balance the budget with one hand behind its back. Adlai says that's the hand they tried to do it with.

Don't make any mistake about him, Stevenson is as cute as a mouse's ear. When you ask a modern politician if he ever read the Ten Commandments he answers like a hepcat, "what's on the other side?"

LONDON (AP)—Britain's waterfront strike, which has idled 44,000 of 76,000 cargo handlers in this maritime nation, entered its fourth week today with no settlement in sight.

Pickets appeared at the cargo-choked docks today for the first time since the work stoppage began.

Prime Minister Churchill scheduled another Cabinet meeting tonight to deal with the situation.

The National Federation of wholesale grocers warned that stocks of imported bacon, cheese, butter, eggs and tinned fruits were running low and said the situation would become serious if the work stoppage continues until next week-end.

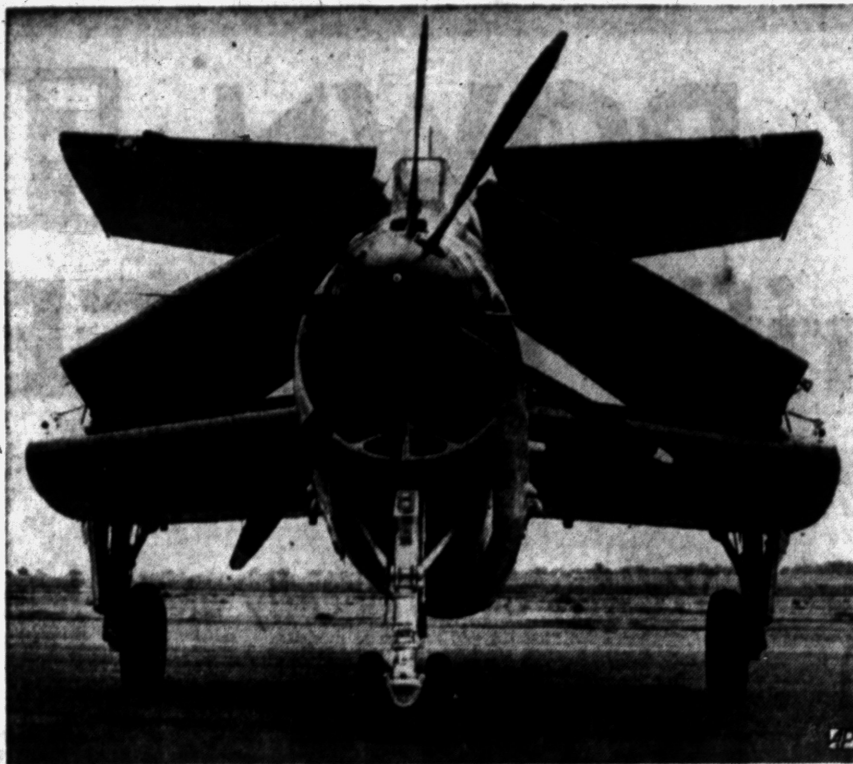

The strike has paralyzed the big port of London and crippled operations at six other important ports, including the key freight-handling cities of Liverpool and Hull. More than 300 ships are idle in the ports. Cargoes worth an estimated 120 million pounds ($36 million dollars) are being held up.

A committee of government ministers which has been keeping an eye on essential imports scheduled another meeting for today. It was expected the group would recommend the use of troops as stewards if the strike continues beyond Wednesday.

The dockers walked off their jobs in support of a demand for the right to refuse overtime work.

Than Proverbial Shoulder

MOSCOW (INS)—Muscovites still look forward to another month of what the natives call "autumn" weather before exchanging their cloth caps and fedoras for the "shapka," the Russian fur hat.

But foreigners in Moscow have long since shaken out their longies in preparation for the six-month Moscow winter, which has already started as far as they are concerned.

Foreigners go on an old rule-of-thumb that Moscow has two regular seasons, winter and summer, and two all its own—"before the heat is turned on" and "after the heat is turned off."

Winter was turned on Oct. 15 when city hall ordered the central heating plants of Moscow to stoke up. Winter ends officially when the heat goes off April 15.

Unfortunately, in the view of foreign residents of the capital, city hall works by the calendar, not by the thermometer.

Chill rains during the first half of October kept the daytime temperatures in the low 40s and upper 30s. Night time lows averaged 38 degrees.

Here are some other signs that winter is on its way:

"Pravda" has scolded collective farmers who have been slow about making preparations for sheltering livestock.

Lines of customers form quickly when the word gets around that a shoe shop has received a supply of "valinsky," the traditional Russian matted-felt boots.

Summer birds have fled south, leaving the crannies of the Kremlin and the onion-domed church steeples to the crows, starlings, pigeons and sparrows.

Meanwhile, each day is five minutes shorter than the day before. Moscow will have only 9 1/2 hours of daylight on Halloween, an hour less than New York.

Moscow Protest in U. N.
Disarmament Session

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Assembly Political Committee entered the final phase of its disarmament debates today with a wary eye on Russia's Andrei Vishinsky.

Last Friday Vishinsky agreed to join the Western Big Three and Canada in a resolution calling for new five-power closed-door talks on disarmament. Vishinsky agreed with other delegates that the road to real agreement was a rough one but he said there might be light ahead.

Agreements were signed in Paris Saturday designed to bring West Germany into the Western defense alliance. Moscow countered immediately by calling for a new four-power meeting on German unity, adding:

"It is impossible to propose a general reduction of armaments and at the same time carry out remilitarization of Western Germany."

One delegate remarked: "It is certain that what Moscow said Saturday, Mr. Vishinsky will say here Monday."

It has been estimated that it would take 2,000 years to spend a billion dollars at the rate of one dollar per minute.

Women Felons May Find Judge Napping

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (UP)—An economy effort may result in police court judges here losing some sleep.

A proposal before the city council would make it possible to rout the judges out of bed at any hour of the night to arraign women charged with criminal offenses after regular court hours.

The city would like to avoid hiring two additional matrons for the women's detention section of the jail as ordered recently by the state correction commission. Immediate disposal of cases would result in the detained women being sent to the Broome County jail.

The Ivory-billed woodpecker is said to be the rarest bird in North America.

Check Cashers' Photos Helping to Break Racket

PASADENA, Calif. (UP) — Worry among market operators over the increasing multi-million-dollar check-forging racket no longer bothers James S. Smart and Charles F. Goldworthy, owners of a small market in East Pasadena. Smart and Goldworthy cash checks without qualms because of a compact metal box 27 inches high that takes a picture. The photographs offer undeniable identification of each person cashing a check at the store. They show a clear and accurate image of the person's signature and classifiable finger prints of all 10 fingers.

"We've found most people are pleased with our 'new system,'" Smart said. "They don't have to hesitate about asking to cash a check, and we don't have to worry about identification."

The check protection machine is one of the first being produced on a large scale by plants in nearby Rosemead and Alhambra.

Police Solve Mystery of Auto in Graveyard

TROY, N. Y. (UP)—Police recently wondered how a car got into the Oakwood Ave. Cemetery here when the gate was shut and there was no entrance—or nor was there any hole in the fence.

William Wondisford of Waterford, provided the answer. He said his car swerved off the road, struck the fence with such force that the fence was pushed into the air and the car slid under and into the cemetery. The fence bounced back into place with hardly a mark to show.

Martin vs. Targonski

Two Attorneys Seeking Auditor Post

(Editor's Note: This is the seventh in a series of articles designed to acquaint readers with leading candidates for state offices in the November elections.)

LANSING (AP)—A Grand Rapids attorney is pitted against a Wyandotte attorney for the office of auditor general in Michigan's general election Nov. 2.

The Grand Rapids attorney is the Republican incumbent, Aud. Gen. John B. Martin. The Wyandotte attorney is Victor Targonski, the Democratic nominee.

Targonski, 40, is the youngest man on the state ticket. A graduate of the University of Detroit, he was an assistant Wayne County prosecuting attorney, has served as an arbiter in several labor disputes and was employed in various executive jobs by the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Martin entered politics by winning election to the State Senate in 1946. During World War II he helped organize and served as head for a time of the federal Office of Civil Defense.

Later he was commissioned in the Navy and assigned to intelligence work in Europe. He was on the staff of prosecutors at the Axis war criminal trials in Nuremberg.

He is a graduate of Dartmouth and the University of Michigan Law School and attended Oxford University in England as a Rhodes scholar.

Targonski is serving his third term as a president of the Polish Roman Catholic Union. He has been active in Junior Chamber of Commerce activities.

A SERIOUS TALK TO PEOPLE WHO ARE DEAD TIRED!

You may be dangerously taxing your entire system when you allow fatigue, nervousness, poor appetite and sleepless nights to drag you down BECAUSE YOUR BODY IS VITAMIN AND IRON STARVED.***

Do You Know These Facts?

When you lack strong red blood—when your system is vitamin starved you must feel listless—nervous—irritable. This is because weak blood is circulating through your system, taxing your heart—putting a burden on every vein—capillary and artery in your body. This means that vital organs—your kidneys—liver—lungs—and your digestive system are feeling the strain. It is an effort for them to function as nature intended. That's why you get chilled easily—you are too tired to make decisions—too tired to think clearly even about the most simple problem. You are just too tired to enjoy life, and become a drag on your family and friends. If you allow yourself to suffer from iron and vitamin starvation for a prolonged period—think of the damage you may have done to your general health.

Bexel Special Formula is especially important if you are over 40.

As you grow older, be sure you are getting the essential vitamins and iron to keep your strength up, your body functioning properly! With BEXEL Special Formula, the high-potency capsule, you get the blood building and strength-giving factors you may need after 40.

Why you can depend on high-potency Bexel to help build rich red blood FAST!

Each high-potency BEXEL Special Formula capsule gives you 5 times the daily minimum requirements of iron; more than the daily minimum requirements of all the B-vitamins that doctors will tell you are essential for proper nutrition; plus Vitamin B<sub>12</sub> and trace minerals. These wonderfully strengthening capsules are recommended for mothers-to-be, when a sufficiency of iron and vitamins is vitally important to their health.

Feel Better—Look Better—Work Better OR YOUR MONEY BACK!

More GIs Face Courts-Martial

Expect Army to Issue New Series of Charges Against Ex-POWs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army probably will issue this week a new series of court-martial charges against soldiers accused of collaborating with their Communist captors or informing on their fellows while war prisoners in Korea.

The expected additional court-martial charges are among 40 cases still being investigated by the Army. All will involve men still in service.

An Army spokesman said announcements of charges could be expected "very soon." The court-martial will be conducted at various Army areas where the men are now stationed.

It appeared that these new cases will be predicated, like previous ones, on alleged offenses committed by American soldiers while in enemy prison camps.

The Defense Department, it was disclosed in material which became available today, is making detailed disclaimer of any idea that there was "repudiation" of promises of immunity from prosecution given prisoners before they returned if they were found to have committed illegal acts.

Church Fund Helped by Engagement Ring

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP) — Her dead aunt's engagement ring was all one woman said she could give toward a fund being raised for improvements at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Charles B. Hart was reluctant to accept the gift feeling it represented too great a sacrifice. Then the Waterbury Republican mentioned the incident.

A day or so later, Hart received a telephone call from a person "who doesn't belong to our church," offering to donate the value of the ring to the improvement fund.

The check which followed was for $350.

But, says Hart, the ring donor insisted that the church keep it. It will be set into a cross which will be installed above the Communion table in the sanctuary.

PAUL SUTTON

GEORGE A. DONDERO

Know Your Candidates

Dondero, Sutton Opposed in Race for U.S. Congress

This is the last in a series of articles on political candidates in Oakland County. Republican Rep. George A. Dondero is opposed by Democrat Paul Sutton in the race for the U. S. House of Representatives from the county's 18th district. Short biographies on the two men and their statements follow.

Paul Sutton
Nominated by the Democratic Party for the U. S. Congressional seat from the 18th District is Paul Sutton, 44, of 509 Hawthorne St., Royal Oak.

Born in Albuquerque, N. M., and educated in California, Sutton moved to Michigan in 1944. A radio actor, he is a World War II veteran.

He is past chairman of the Royal Oak Democratic Committee and a former commander of the American Legion. Sutton is married and has two children.

His statement:
"I stand for:
"Immediate strengthening of national defense.

"Passage of a fair and equitable labor act.

"Restoration of a bi-partisan foreign policy.

"Immediate federal aid in the construction of public schools.

"A public housing program not controlled by real estate lobbies.

"An overall federal public works project to bring water direct from Lake Huron and a series of inter-connected covered drains to stop pollution of Oakland County's lakes.

"Immediate introduction of a bill in the 84th Congress to bring the St. Lawrence Seaway to Michigan by restoring the provision for the improvements in the Detroit River and the St. Mary's River which were knocked out of the St. Lawrence Seaway Bill before it was enacted. As the act now stands, Michigan has no part of the project."

George A. Dondero
Now serving his 11th term as a U. S. representative, George A. Dondero, 71, is seeking re-election as congressman from the 18th District.

Dondero was born in Royal Oak and served as its first village clerk and mayor. He attended the city's public schools and graduated from the Detroit College of Law.

He resides at 426 E. Seventh St. and is a member of the Masonic Lodge and Kiwanis International. Dondero is chairman of the House Public Works Committee.

His first ten congressional terms were served representing the old 17th District. He is married and has three children.

His statement:
"I will continue my long record of making every effort to relieve the people of unnecessary, burdensome taxes, and the excessive cost of government; of restoring and preserving American principles and ideas against socialistic ownership and control by the Federal government; of defending private enterprise, which built America, and keeping the government from entering into competition with its own citizens. The business of government is not government in business."

"I will continue to work for peace among all nations. I believe the postal workers are entitled to a reasonable increase in pay and will urge that if he considered directly by the 84th Congress.

"I will continue my fight to clean up lakes and streams by strengthening anti-pollution laws. I ob-

Most People Just Waste Good Time

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Many, many women who must stay at home with small children take up writing because, "It can be done just anywhere."

If they truly like to write, and have done a good deal in school, it can be an interesting hobby, and one that offers possibilities for personal and intellectual development—but not if they expect to make them rich and famous overnight, as too many of them do. In that case it becomes a tragic, time-wasting and energy-draining affair.

Of course, the occasional woman does sell a novel, or short stories, or plays or television scripts, but this is usually because she is highly talented, has worked long, hard and consistently, and most important of all, considered it a craft to be worked at, not a magic method of making a fast dollar.

Recently, with the increased popularity of television, a good many of my readers have been asking for advice on how to sell television scripts—and less frequently, how to write them in the first place!

Almost everyone who looks at a television play can see all kinds of improvements that could be made, and many decide that they could do as well or better. If they take it up as a hobby, it can be great fun, and they can learn a lot about writing about people and about dramatic principles which will add to their enjoyment and appreciation, and enrich their lives.

With this warning, so to speak, I would like to tell you, if this is an interest of yours, about an excellent new book in the field. Titled "Writing for Television," by Gilbert Seldes, it is comprehensive and practical.

Mr. Seldes has produced, written and directed for television, and has handled every known type of show. He covers the general forms, the series, the serial, murder and mystery scripts and the full-length film, commercial, and do a O. play. He discusses comedy, juveniles, commercials, and does a wonderful job of showing how to do dialogue successfully. Moreover, it is all handled in so intelligent and philosophical manner that you will find your understanding increased, and your enjoyment of all dramatic writing vastly enlarged.

Manufacturers Produce Easily Washed Sheets

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

Everybody helps with the housework today, especially the manufacturer who comes up with new easy-to-care-for products. One new idea is the sleek and wrinkleless nylon tricort sheets that are just arriving in the stores.

Both a bottom and a top sheet are fitted to make bedmaking a simple matter, and the advantages of washability are really special. Nylon tricort sheets whisk through suds in a laundry, dry in no time, and need never be ironed.

Because it's so easy to wash them and return them to the bed, they save weight in the laundry and also the necessity of owning so many sheets and finding a place to store them.

Nylon tricort sheets come in pretty colors as well as white, and there are pillow cases to match. One manufacturer also makes nylon tricort crib sheets for baby. (Hamilton Textile Mills.)

Youngsters Parents Are Deaf to Plea

They Must Realize Life Is More Than Dances, Parties

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

• You break a leg and it hurts. Much as they'd like to, parents can't suffer the pain for you. You laugh your head off at something you think is excruciatingly funny—but try as they may they can't be amused. You fall in love—but they can't see the charms, the glamor, the desirability of your beloved. They can't feel your feelings or churn with your thoughts.

This inability to put yourself completely in someone else's shoes is what causes lots of ruckuses in families. Here's a boy who is turning a deaf ear to his parents who have already turned a deaf ear to him. But he writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: My girl friend and I are both 16 and we are very much in love. We like to do the same things like roller skating and dancing."

Our parents want us to break up and go to college, but we know what we want out of life and can't stand to listen to anything our parents tell us which might cause us to break up. We want to get married—and we need your help in getting our parents' consent. Please help us."

You're feeling frustrated because your parents won't recognize the violence and seriousness of your emotions. You're feeling helpless because they won't consider marriage the perfect solution. You get furious every time they suggest a plan that might keep you from getting your own way. Your romance is overwhelmingly important to you. And it has dulled your ability to look at it as your parents do.

Frankly, I suspect they consider you as a mere child. They may have to look up to you physically—but what they see is innocent of experience, short on knowledge, sadly lacking in information about the ways of the world. They think you've just started to grow up—you're not nearly through your education. They dismiss thoughts of your getting married with an airy wave of the hand as being something ridiculous and out of the question.

Marriage, to your Dad, means all the nice things plus work, bills, taxes, responsibilities. To your Mother it means nice things plus housework, bills, children, responsibilities. It's not roller skating and dancing.

You have a bit of distance to go yet before it's time to settle down. First, education in preparation for getting a job on which you can support a family. Second, a spell of military service. Then there's getting a foot on the rung of the old ladder.

Your parents have been through all of this—they see it ahead for you. Soft-peddling your romance without extinguishing it completely would be my suggestion. Let it decorate your life now while you get to work against the day when you're responsible enough to give it real attention.

Old Political Libels Really Die Hard

By MARY MARGARET MCBRIDE

With political campaigns at a peak I'm curious to see whether either party is observing at the pledge made by the respective national chairmen to keep to standards of decency, honesty and fair play.

I haven't been too hopeful since I overheard the acceptance speech of one aspirant in which, with a fine show of regret, he compared the rival party's operations to the not much to my surprise, I found tactics of the communists. Then, that the other party was conducting a whispering campaign about the opposing candidate's drinking habits.

Meanwhile, I keep thinking wistfully of the righteous, forthright statement signed by Republican Leonard Hall and Democrat Stephen Mitchell condemning "the use of personal vilification, character defamation, whispering campaigns, libel, slander or scurrilous attacks on any candidate or his personal or family life."

But alas, whispering campaigns won't ever be scotched by pledges. A friend who knows his way around party headquarters helped to disillusion me about this by laughing sarcastically the other day at my up-to-then hopeful attitude.

"Listen," he said, speaking kindly as if to a child, "It isn't the candidates who start the whispering campaigns about their opponents. In fact, it's important that the candidate be kept innocent and uninformed. Then, if he's accused, he can say with truth and anger that he deprecates such stories. Even without a pledge, it would be bad public relations for a candidate to seem sneaky enough to circulate gossip."

This iconoclast went to explain that whispering campaigns are always inaugurated by a person or persons unknown to the principles, often experts who probably between times spend their leisure making up filthy jokes to be whispered around at stag dinners.

One of the odd things to me about the rumors that get started is that they show so little variety through the years. Every presidential candidate, from Washington through Eisenhower, has had the treatment.

Did her father's death leave that childhood home of hers very desolate and bleak?

If so, perhaps she is trying to make a perfect home. Sometimes, if we have suffered an intense deprivation as a child, we made a resolution, secret even to ourselves. We decide we will in no way ever duplicate the past.

If our home was poor, we want a rich one. If it was sad, we want one of perfect happiness. And not knowing how our past still influences us, we make demands upon ourselves and others that are neither reasonable nor productive.

Could this be Mrs. F.'s problem? Could not her overanxiety to insure a perfect relationship between Dick and his father be just her old rebellion at her incomplete home?

Mrs. F. knows the answer. I do not. If my suggestion means anything to her, will she think about it? Rebellion, full or unresolved anger as it is, is not a trustworthy controller of our action.

In the atmosphere of tension it creates, peace eludes us—and the little boy we want to express spontaneous trust can become rebellious, too.

Even the most amiable little boys of Dick's age are not always eager to kiss their fathers. Mother is still the Important Person and bedtime is surrender of her to Daddy, the Interferer.

If occasionally at bedtime, Daddy can discard his role as Interferer to officiate in Mother's place, it can reassure little sons enormously. It can begin to speed up the process of learning to regard Daddy as the Important Person.

And then good-night kisses do not have to be compelled. Personally, I don't think much of the custom of compelling children to kiss anyone, even parents. Unless we know that a little child welcomes this form of intimacy from us, it is best not to press it upon them. They are fast to offer it themselves when it has been earned.

Routine behind-the-hand stories include the report that the candidate is a libertine (this was even said of George Washington) and a disgusting drunkard—at least one teetotaler was so accused. Often the traditional tales are souped up a little by combining them with implications of financial dishonesty or even treasonable behavior.

Candidates are prepared for these canards and the American people naively continue to accept them, spread them and, no matter how preposterous, remember them.

The trouble with vilification is that, like poison gas, there's always a chance the wind may shift and blow some of the disagreeable stuff back on those who started spreading it.

Make Cake Now: Store for Future

Mrs. Williams Uses Pound of Dates in Fruit, Nut Loaf

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Candied fruits are appearing in the stores and women are digging out their cherished fruit cake recipes. We offer one today from Mrs. Melville Williams for a Date Cake that will keep like other fruit cakes.

Mrs. Williams' roster of clubs includes the Maple Leaf Club, a church guild and the Pythian Sisters; in this latter group she is a member of the Past Chiefs Club. With 6 grandchildren, some of whom live nearby, Mrs. Williams spends many hours sewing toys and clothes for them.

DATE CAKE
By Mrs. Melville Williams

1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup butter
2 well beaten eggs
1 teaspoon soda dissolved in 1/2 cup warm water
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 pound chopped dates
1 cup broken walnuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter and sugar. Add rest of ingredients. Bake in a 350-degree oven one hour in round greased tins. Mrs. Williams suggests using number 2 cans, such as those in which peas or beans are packed.

Mendes' Policies Bolster West in Spite of IndochinaBy CHARLES McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Five months ago, the thought that Pierre Mendes-France might become the 20th postwar French premier gave high Western diplomats the shivers.

It was known that he regarded France's position in the Indochina war as hopeless.

It was accepted, though he denied it, that he was opposed to the ratification of the European Defense Community Treaty under which Western Germany was to be rearm.

Mendes-France was confirmed as premier on June 18, and there was speculation that the "agonizing reappraisal" of foreign policy of which Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had spoken six months before might be imminent.

Well, there has been a sweeping general reappraisal of Western policy since then. There have been some agonizing moments incident to it. But the West has merged stronger.

First, it turned out that the French position in Indochina really was hopeless short of United States intervention, which would have meant an open clash with the Chinese Communists.

Mendes-France pledged himself to get peace in Indochina by July 20. He did it. The Allies accepted a defeat. But from the defeat has emerged the Southeast Asia Security Treaty aimed at preventing the further encroachment of communism in that area.

Secondly, the French Parliament did kill the European Defense Community pact after a weak sponsorship of it by Mendes-France.

But now the Allies have agreed to rearm Western Germany and to give it sovereignty under a new set-up which is stronger than the EDC.

Further, as part of the new set-up, Mendes-France and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany have signed an agreement on the status of the Saar coal region. The Saar had been a trouble spot in French-German relations ever since the end of World War II.

Now President Eisenhower has invited Mendes-France to visit Washington next month.

There still are hurdles ahead for Mendes-France — the French economic situation, the nationalist movements in North Africa.

But the 47-year-old "bright young man" of French politics, the son of a wealthy Jewish clothing manufacturer, is recognized as his country's strongest leader since the war. France no longer is the "sick man of Europe" as it was called six months ago.

Frenchmen call Mendes-France a "fireball" and a "dynamo." He has been brilliant since his boyhood, when he joined the middle-of-the-road radical socialist party at 16. He became France's youngest lawyer when he was admitted to the bar at 21. He became the youngest member of Parliament at 25. It is no exaggeration to call him a remarkable man.

Army's Information Program Pro-Red

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) said last night the Army's information and education program in World War II "was heavily loaded with pro-Soviet propaganda and staffed in many instances by men with Communist records."

In a statement issued in connection with the publication of testimony about the program taken by his Internal Security subcommittee last summer, Jenner declared: "The writing was done and the troops instructed, in many cases, by men who later used the Fifth Amendment as a protection against self-incrimination to avoid revealing their Communist records."

The Basic Idea Behind the All-New 1955 PONTIAC

On Display Next Friday and Saturday

ABOUT 30 years ago the General Motors Corporation presented to America a new passenger car called Pontiac. This new car was the result of a very specific idea.

The idea was this: to create a car which took its style, its engineering principles and its features from the very best and most expensive in America—and to build these into a car priced just above the very lowest!

Naturally, such an idea produced a wonderful and highly popular car—a car which millions of owners have driven with pride and pleasure.

Now, nearly three decades later, an entirely new Pontiac has been created for 1955—a car completely new from the ground up!

One thing, however, about the 1955 Pontiac remains unchanged—its basic idea—to offer the American public the very finest automobile that can possibly be built to sell at a price within easy reach of any new-car buyer.

When you see the new Pontiac next Friday or Saturday—Oct. 29 or 30—you will be immediately impressed by its remarkable new styling. No other car in the world looks like this new Pontiac!

When you drive it you will be astonished at its performance. For the 1955 Pontiac introduces the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8, a completely new engine that has already been proved in more than 3 million miles of testing!

When you price the new Pontiac you will come face to face with the basic Pontiac idea—you will be agreeably surprised that so much car, so much sparkling newness, so much luxury, so much downright goodness can be priced so near the lowest.

We urge you to come in next Friday or Saturday and see for yourself what a superb new General Motors masterpiece has been created to carry the wonderful name "Pontiac".

Politicians Keep Big Guns Booming as Election Nears

Urges Yes Vote

Howard K. Kelley Approves New Courthouse Proposal

Howard K. Kelley, a Royal Oak attorney, today lashed out at "loose statements by merchants, businessmen and public officials around the City of Pontiac" about the proposed new county building.

While "there appears to be no argument that there is need for a new building," Kelley said, "There does seem to be a trend of thought that would have voters believe that these merchants, professional men and politicians have some sort of 'property right' in the present location of the county building."

Kelley continued:

"Undoubtedly its present location is beneficial to them from a business standpoint. But it is certainly not beneficial to the majority of the people either in Pontiac or Oakland County."

"The new location (on Telegraph road) is beneficial to the people of Pontiac in that it will continue the service in their area and return to the tax rolls a corner with the highest tax potential in the city, from which they now derive no revenue."

Swinging over to a recently published statement by Mayor William W. Donaldson of Pontiac, Kelley said:

"Five questions were raised by the mayor of Pontiac regarding the new site, each of which was examined previously by a competent committee before it made its recommendations."

"In fact, raising the questions now amounts to no more than an attempt to create stumbling blocks and mislead voters."

"Supervisors from Pontiac have long known the committee's report and recommendations without raising these questions."

"Sincere opponents to the change of location should suggest to the public where county services could be housed in Pontiac if the present building were to be torn down and rebuilt. What would be the cost to the public for temporary quarters?"

"No attempt has been made to make constructive suggestions, merely attempts to discredit work already done."

"Even with municipal parking lots proposed there would not be adequate parking for good service."

"I have been under the impression that the county building is for the convenience of all of the people of the county, not for a few who might benefit by its location."

"A savings of $1.5 million should be some incentive for providing adequate service to all the county."

"I would sincerely urge all the voters of the county and particularly those of Pontiac who have the most to gain to vote 'yes' on the half-mill county building tax."

UF Funds Help Finance Area Boy Scout Programs

The character development and physical well-being brought about through Boy Scout work has been enjoyed by some 8,000 youths in the Clinton Valley Council during the past year.

About 40 per cent of these boys come from Pontiac, Waterford Township and Pontiac Township, the area covered by the Pontiac Area United Fund Drive.

A gift to the present UF drive means you are helping continue and expand the scout program.

A part of scouting expense is absorbed at the family level with boys buying their own uniform and other individual equipment, but UF money backs special activities, such as the "Camporees."

Seven camporees have been held so far this year, according to Scout Executive Edward H. Leland, with 2,400 scouts attending.

UF funds also help support the annual summer camp at Tommy's Lake near Lake Orion. This past summer 950 boys enjoyed 1,200 camper weeks learning to live together in the healthful camp atmosphere.

Such necessary activities as leadership training, office services for volunteer leaders and the organization of new units are also supported by the United Fund, said Leland.

"Most of our work is done without cost of volunteer workers who find the enjoyment of working with boys reward enough," Leland stated. "The United Fund helps supply the comparatively small amount of money we do need."

Current activities include training 600 volunteer leaders. Troops meet weekly for outdoor and indoor programs including arts and crafts, woodsmanship, first aid and developing skills necessary to win advancement.

"Our program puts boys in touch with carefully selected leaders, men who like to work with boys," said Leland.

"Character isn't taught so much as it is caught. The boys aren't just entertained. They have to get in and take part. There's a premium on developing physical and mental skills, particularly the ability to get along with other boys."

"Through United Fund support our services are available to everyone."

the building. At upper left is the new grit and screening removal section. With the new equipment, the plant now has a capacity of 15,000,000 gallons of sewage a day, said Floyd L. Vermette, plant superintendent. When established just after World War I, its capacity was 4,000,000 gallons.

Teachers to Mull Retirement Plan

What is the future of teacher retirement in Michigan?

The question of whether teachers should be under social security or a combination of retirement and the security law will be discussed Oct. 28 at the fall meeting of the Pontiac Education Association at Hotel Pontiac.

C. A. Gordon, program chairman, will moderate a panel on this important subject for teachers.

Members of the panel are: Gus Christie, director of the Detroit School Employees Retirement System; Don O'Hara, director of the Michigan State Employees Retirement System; Rex Attwood, director manager of the Social Security Administration.

Also serving on the resource panel will be Russell J. Buller, Pontiac high school and Richard Adams, field representative for the Michigan Education Association.

Reservations for the dinner meeting may be made with Arthur Bell of Webster School by Tuesday

Adenauer Says German Sovereignty Will Discourage Russian Aggression

By HUGH BAILLIE

NEW YORK (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said in a cable interview today that the 15-nation Paris agreement restoring German sovereignty and a German army has increased the chances of uniting East and West Germany because the Russians have shown they will respect only a Western World that is "united and strong."

He hopes for ratification of the Paris agreement by the parliaments of the 15 nations within the next few months. Within two and a half years, Adenauer added, a 500,000-man German army will be ready to stand shoulder to shoulder with the Western Allies against the threat of Russian aggression.

Adenauer's replies to a series of questions I cabled to him at the West German capital of Bonn arrived here shortly before the chancellor's departure Tuesday for an official visit to the United States.

It was the first authoritative statement of West Germany's position since Saturday's historic agreement at Paris. It came at a time when West Germany is preparing to re-enter the family of nations for the first time since Adolf Hitler's armies began to march toward their own destruction in 1939.

The general tone of Adenauer's replies to my questions was optimistic.

He seemed to believe that the position of the Western Allies was considerably stronger than it was when I last interviewed him in 1950 at his white villa at Bonn on the banks of the Rhine. At that time he spoke thoughtfully and gravely about Russia's over-all objective which he believed to be the capture of all Europe, including an unarmed West Germany. But today, he made the flat statement that "the West German population is absolutely immune to the Communist danger" from within.

I asked him for his estimate of the chances for ratification of the 15 governments involved at the Paris agreements, including restoration of sovereignty to West Germany and establishment of a German army. He replied:

"I hope all the agreements will go into force within a few months."

About establishing the 500,000-man German army under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Brussels Pact, he said:

"The planned German divisions will take about two and a half years" to form.

But even after the German army is raised and German sovereignty restored he wants American troops to continue in Germany.

"The great majority of the West German people today already regards the American troops on German soil not as an occupation army but as allies," he said.

He said "reunion in peace and freedom" with Soviet-occupied East Germany continues "the main concern of the West German people."

Michigan's Population Now Over 7 Million

DETROIT (U)—Michigan's population has increased 10 per cent since the last full census in 1950, compared with a 6.3 per cent rise in population throughout the country.

The latest figures issued by the census bureau in Washington show Michigan has a population of 7,010,000, an increase of 650,000 over 1950.

The nation's population has hit 159,084,000, the report said, compared with 149,634,000 in 1950.

man population without distinction of party affiliation." However, he said, the reunion "must be brought about only by peaceful means."

His continuing distrust of Russia was revealed in reply to my question whether there was any foreseeable chance Russia will agree to give up East Germany.

"Unfortunately," he said, "we have no indications of that at the moment. After the agreements concluded at Paris go into effect the prospects will improve because it has been proved that Russia will only make concessions if the West is united and strong."

Nixon to Speak on U. S. Security Again Tonight

SALT LAKE CITY (U)—Vice President Nixon, who has been devoting many of his speeches to the issue of communism, said he would touch on the security question again tonight in a talk at Pocatello, Idaho.

Pocatello is the home town of former Sen. Glen Taylor, Democrat, who is opposing Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho).

The speech comes in the midst of a hot campaign fight between Taylor and Dworshak's senatorial colleague Sen. Herman Welker (R-Idaho).

Welker is accusing Taylor, the Progressive party's 1948 vice presidential candidate, of having knowingly accepted support of Communists.

Party Leaders Visit Michigan

Summerfield Rips Dems in Ionia; Rivals Bring Mitchell to Detroit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Politicians kept their big guns in action today to start the critical final eight days of the vote drive in Michigan.

After a week end highlighted by Republican Postmaster General Summerfield's charge of "criminal inefficiency" and a "downright crookedness" against the Democrats, the rival party brought in Stephen A. Mitchell for help.

The Democrats banked on Mitchell, their national chairman for aid in Industrial Wayne County.

Fights for congress seats in the 13th, 14th and 17th districts in Wayne have been warm.

Also, it was Democratic intent to pull out as much as possible of the traditional Democratic vote of Wayne in order to offset out-state Republicanism.

Summerfield's charge against the Democrats — in relation to FHA "windfall profit" scandals which he described as "the most monumental and vicious this country has ever known" — spearheaded a GOP weekend drive.

On television, Donald S. Leonard Sunday repeated his "irresponsibility" charge against Governor Williams.

In an appeal for the teachers' vote, the Republican candidate for governor promised to call a statewide conference of educators to tackle Michigan's school problems if he is elected.

Williams, the Democratic incumbent, told a CIO Ford Local 600 dinner that Republicans were "anti-labor" and have been trying to "drive a wedge between workers and their union leaders."

He said Leonard was "publicly pledged" to take that sort of policy.

The omission from Summerfield speech of a "goose" reference to Governor Williams caused a momentary confusion in the reporting of his talk. Summerfield spoke at Ionia.

The cabinet member took it out of the prepared text of his speech, which had been issued to newsmen prior to the talk.

"The time is long past," this part of the original text said, "when we can afford to continue in office a governor who tries to play the goose to every Michigander."

After distribution of the text, the GOP National Committee asked newspapers and wire services to cut that part out.

With respect to Williams the text also said "there is no place for a man who persists in the belief that the befitting costume of a governor is the cap and bells of the court jester."

SCOUT CAMPOREE—Shown above is a recent "Camporee" held by the Clinton Valley Council Boy Scouts in the Proud Lake Recreation Area. The troops bring their own food, tents and other equipment for a three-day competition in camp lore with other troops. United Fund money helps finance the camporees and other scout activities.

PARACHUTING BEAR GROUND—Rocky, a 16-month-old, 120-pound Hokkaido bear, who won fame as a parachuting mascot of the 187th Regimental Combat Team in Korea, is turned over to Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo Director Marlin Perkins, rear, by Sgt. Gene Castle, 30, of Paintville, Ky. Rocky, who is a lady bear, was raised by Castle. He said he was donating the mascot to the zoo because most of the men of the 187th are midwesterners and would be able to visit Rocky occasionally.

Man Arrested for Larceny of Fire Engine

TOWNSEND, Mass. (U)—Thomas Walker, 21, today was accused of larceny—the larceny of a 14-ton, bright red fire engine.

The town's only engine was taken yesterday, its bells clanging and siren screaming, from the fire station.

Fire Chief Daniel Ormsby heard the engine and called police when he learned it wasn't headed to a fire.

After a four-hour search police found the fire engine deep in woods in nearby Ashby.

Walker was arrested in a house not far away.

5 More Face Death in Iranian Spy Plot

TEHRAN, Iran. (U)—An army court sentenced five army and air force officers to death today on charges of participating in a Soviet spy network.

The sentences brought to 21 the number of condemned officers who will face firing squads soon unless an appeal court or the Shah intervenes.

Ten men were executed last week.

An estimated 650 await trial. All were arrested in a recent anti-Red cleanup and charged with passing U.S. and Iranian military secrets to the Russians and subversive acts against the Iranian government.

Russians Capture Two Japanese Fishing Boats

TOKYO (U)—Two Japanese shark-fishing boats were seized by Soviet patrol ships yesterday about five miles off Russian-occupied Kunashiro Island, the Maritime Safety Board said today.

Kunashiro is the first large island in the Kurile chain which stretches northward from Hokkaido to the Kamchatka Peninsula.

The board said the Russians have seized 57 boats and 463 crewmen thus far this year, of which 46 boats and 385 crewmen have been released.

Connecticut, in 1911, was the first state to enact legislation on aviation.

Bob Considine Says:

Heroic Korean Racehorse Leaves for Camp in U.S.

NEW YORK (INS) — Reckless, the pride of the Marines, is coming to America. Maybe you read about the combat-savvy Korean race horse who packed ammo for beleaguered marines during that war.

Col. Andy Geer of San Francisco, author and hero of that war, wrote about her in a national magazine, and now, through the colonel's intercession, the little sorrel is headed for Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., and retirement.

Reckless, whose unpronounceable Korean name meant "flame of the morning," is the first Marine horse since the Peking Horse Marines were disbanded. She drew her new name from the weapon she served in Korea, the recoilless 75 mm cannon called "reckless rifles."

She cost $250 and was bought by 2nd Lt. Eric Pedersen, reckless rifle commander with the 5th Marine Regiment. Site of the purchase was the old race track at Seoul, whose little backstretch President-elect Eisenhower was to use eventually for his light-plane trips to and from the front.

Pedersen didn't care about the fact that the Marines stopped using horses after the Boxer Rebellion. He and a lot of other Marines had been wounded and many killed at a place named Un-Gok Hill because no men—not even Marines—could pack 75 mm shells up the steep incline in sufficient numbers.

to keep the guns firing. On his first breathing spell he climbed in his jeep, drove three hours south to Seoul, found and bought Reckless.

The rest is Marine history. She helped win the violent battle for Vegas, which many Marines will tell you was the hottest battle of its kind in history. Enemy artillery and mortar shells were estimated as 500 rounds a minute.

Dog Company, 2nd battalion, lost all but 16 men in two hours. Through that hell of fire, Reckless, sweating like everybody else, packed her shells and carried them 1,800 yards through heavy fire, to and from the lines and the dump.

After the fourth or fifth trip she needed no guidance. She walked and ran the bloody gauntlet 31 times.

The remarkable animal became as much a part of the Marine Corps after that as a mottled helmet. When it rained she'd crawl into a tent and sleep with the boys. She ate regular Marine rations; learned to seek cover during a shelling.

Once, when she couldn't find a hole deep enough to hide her, Marines ripped off their flak jackets and covered her. But all things end, and so did the Korean War. Pedersen was rotated. Col. Geer, going home, promised he'd get her to Pendleton—stateside home of the 1st Marine Division.

It hasn't been easy. The Marine brass was sympathetic but couldn't see its way clear to spend public funds to transport a horse across the Pacific. Reckless doesn't belong to the government. She is the property of scores of Marines who bought her from Pedersen when he went home.

Geer went to his friend Stan Coppel, a good soul, agreed to supply the ship if Andy supplied the stall and the feed.

Reckless went aboard ship Friday. The Marines who sadly bid her farewell did so with the understanding that she'd always remain with the 75 mm recoilless rifle platoon; anti-tank company, 5th Marine Regiment; that she'll stay at Pendleton until the 1st Marine Division returns there; and that any TV dough she earns will go to the families of deceased members of the platoon.

At dockside the day Reckless arrives in San Francisco will be Pedersen, now stationed at Pendleton; Pfc. Monroe Coleman, who put Reckless through "hoof camp" in Korea and handled her during the battle of Vegas, and a

Sgt. Lively, who was in the thick of the Vegas fight, loves Reckless, and is now working on his father's ranch at Loa, Utah. There are sure to be tears shared in by Reckless herself.

It would take just a fiftieth of a second to glance at my secret, smuggled pictures of the new Chevrolet!

Beware of impostors, brash photographers and idle predictions.

The new Motoramic Chevrolets will be seen by everybody at the same time—bright and early, Thursday, October 28.

Fred Allen Confesses Admiration for Benny

My EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Fred Allen's witty recollections of 18 years in radio—in a handsome book, "Treadmill to Oblivion"—sneaked into town this week... and I enjoyed most the confessions of his "feud" with Jack Benny.

Few will recall that he and Jack had "physical battle" on Mar. 14, 1937, at the Hotel Pierre, on a radio show. "The feud started accidentally," admits the Boston humorist. He told a boy violinist that Benny was "an ancient and rancid violinist" who should return the horsehair of his violin bow to the rump of the horse from which he'd taken them.

"Benny is anemic," he said. "When a mosquito lands on Benny all he gets is practice."

"Now, listen here, Allen, I'll give you just one more minute to apologize," Benny said.

"Apologize?" sneered Fred. "Why, I'll knock you flatter than the first 8 minutes of your program!"

Fred then confesses that Jack "is my favorite comedian and I hope to be his friend until he is 40. That will be forever."

Fred's blunt, as always. Constantly battling with ad agency executives, he mentions one who'd been a famous quarterback. "Whenever he met one of the other players, he could never recognize the fellow until he'd asked him to bend over," Fred says.

Fred takes us back to Allen's Alley, Senator Claghorn, Mrs. Nussbaum, Titus Moody, Ajax Cassidy. He remembers congratulating the soundman for the wonderful flizzing sound he got for a Sal Hepatica commercial and asked how he got the perfect effect.

"Sal Hepatica didn't flizz loud enough, so I used Bromo Seltzer," the sound man chuckled.

Fred's book also reminds us that we had a mayor named La Guardia who was little over 5 feet tall and that Titus Moody once said, "He'd be a good man on a farm, Bub—he's the only man I know that can milk a cow standin' up..."

Yul Brynner Will Play King in Fox Musical

By LUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — This I'd call perfect casting: Yul Brynner, who made a big name for himself on the stage in "The King and I," has been signed by 20th Century-Fox to play the same role for the screen musical.

Darryl Zanuck tells me he has Yul on a five-year deal. The beautiful score of Rodgers and Hammerstein will, of course, be used.

Deborah Kerr is still hot for the school teacher role, providing it's possible to dub in a singing voice that matches her personality.

P. S. Deborah, my Baltimore friends are waiting to give you a royal welcome when you open there in "Tea and Sympathy."

The "Tarzan" films have been so popular over a long period of years that Sol Lesser is going to spend more money than ever on the new series.

He feels that Gordon Scott is one of the best Tarzans he's ever had. This time he's omitting Tarzan's mate, Jane, and will concentrate on action instead.

Terence Maples, an authority on Africa, is working on the first screenplay of the new series, which is called "Lord of the Jungle."

At the rehearsal for the Peter Potter "Juke Box Jury" TV show, Vera Ellen was proudly displaying her new engagement ring, which is a large square cut diamond.

She and Victor Rothschild had planned to be married Dec. 15, but now they've decided to put the marriage ahead so they'll be married Dec. 2, and they'll honeymoon on his brother's yacht in Acapulco.

If Marilyn Monroe was unhappy when she and Joe DiMaggio parted, she's all over it now. She's as gay as a bird on the set of "Seven Year Itch." In fact, she feels so good that after she gets her divorce decree Wednesday morning she'll work that afternoon. She told Director William Wilder that she doesn't want to hold the picture up any longer.

Marilyn is in such a good mood that her set is open to the press for the first time and she is her old vivacious self.

Glamor, according to Baron, of the London Graphic and the Queen's photographer, who is here to photograph some of our stars, is not a thing of curves, bosoms or toothy smiles. Glamor, he says, is a mysterious quality possessed by few women.

He tells me that he thinks Ethel Barrymore, Mae West, Garbo, Pier Angeli and Leslie Caron possess it.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: A dark horse contender for the male lead in "Giant," if Bill Holden can't get free to do it, is Sterling Hayden.

Nevada Grows as West Virginia Shows Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau says Nevada was the nation's fastest-growing state during the last four years while West Virginia showed the greatest population decline.

The bureau's annual estimate of population growth by states showed last night that all but 3 of the 48 states had civilian population gains from April 1, 1950, to July 1, 1954.

West Virginia's population dropped 2.9 per cent during that period while Nevada showed a 33.1 per cent gain. Other states with shrinking populations were Arkansas and New Hampshire. Gains of more than 20 per cent were registered for Arizona and Florida.

The bureau estimated the nation's civilian population — which excludes members of the armed forces — totaled 159,084,000 July 1. This was an increase of 6.3 per cent from the 149,634,000 counted in the last full census April 1, 1950.

Total population, including the armed forces, was estimated at 162,414,000 as of last July.

Hal Boyle Says:

Baby-Kissing Politicians Do So at Their Own Risk

NEW YORK — The poor man's philosopher looks at politics: Well, if you want your baby kissed by a politician this year, you'd better hurry—you've only a week to go.

After election, the winning candidate is too busy figuring how to pay his campaign debts to bother with babies. And it isn't safe to thrust a baby too close to the losing candidate. He is as likely to hop the child as to buss it.

What mother wants her baby kissed by an unsuccessful politician anyway? It might bring her infant bad luck.

Kissing babies long has been one of the occupational hazards of political campaigning, but the tradition has died out rapidly in recent years. Cautious candidates now try to avoid any situation in which they may have to kiss any baby under 18 years of age.

There are several reasons. For one thing, it's an awkward task. Politicians and babies are naturally allergic to one another. They share a wary, mutual distrust.

Even if the baby submits to the ordeal quietly, it is a clammy, sticky adventure to the politician. But many babies don't like to be nuzzled and pawed by strangers. They react violently to the approach of the politician's sticky smiling muzzle, sensing at once the falseness of his charm and that here is a guy trying to get something from them for nothing.

"You never can be sure what they'll do," said one old-timer. "Some scream and yell. Others kick and struggle, then hold their breath and turn blue."

"And some of them, even though they can't walk or talk, are natural born smart alecks. They just lie there, looking cute and cunning and innocent, until you bend over and you get your face in reach. Then they rear up and sink their nasty little fangs in your nose, or claw your cheek to ribbons with their fingernails."

"Everybody gets a big laugh out of this. But it isn't smart for a candidate to get his nose bitten off or his face scratched up during a campaign. Nobody believes you when you explain a baby did it, and your opposition is bound to start a whistling campaign that the wounds were inflicted on you by your wife after you struck her a low blow during a quarrel at home."

Many veteran observers (for some reason there are no non-veteran observers in politics) believe the practice of kissing babies costs more votes than it wins.

"If you say the baby is a pretty little girl and it happens to be a little boy," said one, "you make the parents mad and lose two votes right there."

"If you kiss the baby, and later it comes down with a cold, you lose the votes of the parents, the grandparents, the uncles, the aunts—the whole family and some of the neighbors. Everybody is sure you deliberately tried to give the child pneumonia."

"Actually, of course, it's the other way around—babies are a real danger to a politician. They look so clean and cuddly and harmless. But even the healthiest baby is chockfull of all kinds of germs, from his small rosy toes right up to his leering little eyeballs."

"A politician is risking his whole career every time he kisses a baby. He may come down with any disease from mumps and measles to athlete's foot or lockjaw. Imagine getting lockjaw two weeks before election!"

The safest thing to do when you are confronted with a baby is to keep it at arm's length, pat the little monster lightly on the head twice, then go and wash your hands as soon as the parents take it away."

So if you've got a baby and want to help your party win at the polls, don't take it to your own candidate to be kissed. Make the other party's candidate kiss it.

Anything can happen to him. Think how proud you'll be if your own little baby can swing a mighty election all by itself, 20 years before it is even old enough to vote.

DSR Drivers Pull Out of Martel's AFL Union

DETROIT — Division 26 of the AFL Streetcar and Bus Operators Union withdrew from the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor over the weekend.

In withdrawing, officers of the 4,000-member union criticized Frank X. Martel, federation president, saying under his leadership the federation had become "so small and ineffective it no longer represents the best interests of the AFL movement."

The AFL Teamsters, Building Trades Council, Hotel and Restaurant Employees and the Federation of Musicians, among others, previously withdrew from Martel's federation.

BALTIMORE —A 32-year-old junkman who told police he witnessed the slaying of a grocer early Saturday has been charged with committing the crime himself.

Alfonso Hill, a Negro, had told police he had seen two Negroes enter the grocery about the time of the killing. He furnished detailed descriptions of them.

The victim was Frank Leimkuhler, 62. A woman customer found him fatally wounded on the floor of his grocery. Another customer recalled seeing a junk wagon near the store about the time of the killing.

Hill, also charged with attempted robbery, was held without bail.

15,000 Catholics Escape Captors on Rafts, Junks

SAIGON, Indochina. — About 15,000 Vietnamese Roman Catholics escaped to freedom from Communist-dominated North Indochina today by heading to sea in a tattered fleet of small rafts and junks.

The mass break began yesterday from the tiny coastal fishing village of Van Ly, close to the Catholic center of Bul Chu and Phat Dien in the south of the Tonkin delta. The move was prompted by the appearance of a small fleet of French naval vessels outside the three-mile limit.

Detroit Lions Toppled From League Lead by 49ers

BY JOE RESCHLER

San Francisco's power-packed Forty-Niners owned a triple distinction today.

1. They are the only undefeated eleven in the National Football League.

2. They are in undisputed possession of first place in the Western division for the first time this season.

3. They are the only team to defeat the defending champion Detroit Lions in nearly a year.

Frisko accomplished all three in one fell swoop yesterday when they ground out a thrilling 37-31 victory that catapulted the Lions out of the lead into second place.

The 49ers, who took the game-opening kickoff, went 70 yards in slightly over a minute. Hugh McElhenny, raced 60 yards for a touchdown. The 49ers picked up a Detroit fumble on the Lions' 33 and Gordy Soltau kicked a field goal from the 20 for 10-0.

John Johnson climaxed a 67-yard scoring march for the 2nd touchdown of the game. Soltau again converted.

Bobby Layne threw an 8-yard touchdown pass to Jim Doran in the 1st minutes of the 2nd period. Doak Walker converted for 17-7.

Soon afterwards, the 49ers recovered a Detroit fumble on the Lions' 28 and scored after three plays. Y. A. Tittle connected with Billy Wilson and Soltau kicked the score up to 24-7.

Walker booted a 36-yard field goal for Detroit to make the tally 24-10 at the half.

Dubinski tossed to Doran from the 3 in the 3rd quarter. Walker's kick made the score 24-17.

The 49ers went into the end zone again after a 50-yard touch-down drive—a combination of passes and rushing by Johnson and Joe Perry.

Dubinski led the Lions to two quick touchdowns in the 4th after another 49er score. Bob Hoernschmeyer cracked the last two yards after a 54-yard drive. Walker converted for 37-24.

Short and long passes led to another Lions' touchdown, completed when Dubinski connected with Walker in the end zone. Walker's conversion made it 37-31.

It was a great afternoon for quarterbacks, especially for veterans Charlie Conerly, Otto Graham and George Blanda. Conerly, enjoying his best of seven professional seasons with New York, literally tossed the Giants into a three-way tie for first place in the Eastern Division.

Chuckin' Charlie passed for three touchdowns to lead the Giants to a 24-7 triumph over Washington's hapless Redskins.

Pittsburgh made the three-way tie possible Saturday night, defeating the Eagles 17-7 on the passing of Jim Finks and the running of Lynn Chandnois. The Eagles also lost the services of Bobb Walston for at least three weeks when the star end suffered a broken jaw. Otto Graham, Cleveland's great quarterback, passed to a touchdown and scored two more to lead the Browns to their 10th straight victory over the Chicago Cardinals, 35-3.

High powered running of Paul

Tank Younger and Dan Towler offset a tremendous one-man show by Chicago's Blanda and spearheaded the Rams to a free-scoring 42-38 victory over the Bears.

Blanda staged a brilliant passing attack, completing 28 aeriels for 328 yards and hurling four of Chicago's five touchdowns. He also kicked a 31-yard field goal that put his team temporarily in front, 24-21, early in the third period.

A recovered fumble in the third period set up a Green Bay touchdown that gave the Packers a 7-6 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles.

Bratton on Comeback Trail Against Varona on Video

By JACK HAND

The Associated Press

Johnny Bratton, who has been in drydock since he was suspended for a lackluster performance against Johnny Saxton at Philadelphia Feb. 24, gets back to work tonight at New York's St. Nicholas Arena against Chico Varona of Havana.

Bratton blames his Philadelphia trouble on Saxton, whom he describes as "the fightingest fighter I ever encountered," according to Willie Gilzenberg's press release. After watching Saxton win the title from Kid Gavilan last Wednesday, who can say Bratton is wrong?

For a short time, Bratton held the National Boxing Assn. version of the welter title. Now that Saxton has taken over, Bratton again has championship ambitions. It had been proved quite convincingly in Chicago last year that he had no chance of ever beating Gavilan.

Bratton takes a career record of 53-23-3 into the St. Nick's bout, to be televised by Du Mont in some parts of the country. Varona has a 35-16 record.

Carmelo Costa, unbeaten Brooklyn featherweight, tops the card at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway tonight against Rudy Garcia of Los Angeles.

The bout will be carried on ABC television.

Rangers Off to Best Start Since 1949-50 Campaign

By The Associated Press

The revitalized New York Rangers appear headed for their best National Hockey League season since they finished fourth in 1949-50 and earned a playoff berth.

Rated no better than last year's fifth-place club in the pre-season evaluations, the Rangers have been a big surprise around the league thus far.

The New Yorkers displayed their finest hockey of the campaign last night when they put on a third period scoring drive to upend the league-leading Montreal Canadiens 4-2. The victory was a complete about-face after Saturday night's game at Montreal which saw the Rangers trounced by the Canadiens 7-1.

The third-place Rangers, in racking up their fourth triumph in seven games, moved to within one point of runner-up Detroit and three points of Montreal. No other games were scheduled last night.

Paul Ronty's goal with less than four minutes remaining broke a 2-2 tie in the third period and Danny Lewicki sewed up the verdict with 20 seconds to go on a shot that found an empty Montreal net.

Johnny Saxton Offered $75,000 for LA Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Babe McCoy, Olympic Auditorium's matchmaker, said yesterday that he has offered welterweight champion Johnny Saxton a $75,000 guarantee for a Los Angeles fight.

He said Saxton's manager, Blinky Palermo, is interested.

Saxton won the title last week in a controversial fight with Kid Gavilan in Philadelphia. McCoy said

John Ashby of Royal Oak won both the 25-lap feature and trophy dash yesterday in old-model stock car racing at Lake Angelus Speedway.

Don McCubbin, also of Royal Oak, won the pursuit event, while Pontiac's Benny Howell and Ross Herschel won hard-top events.

Ken Pugh of Pontiac and Virgil Barb of Hazel Park rolled their cars, but neither was hurt.

'M', OSU Face Easy Contests

By JOE MOOSHL

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State and Michigan, current leaders in the Big 10, come up against "easy pickings" Saturday while Purdue, Wisconsin and Minnesota try to maintain their slim title hopes against the also-rans.

Ohio State climbed over the hump Saturday by belting Wisconsin, 31-14. Not only did the Buckeyes push aside the top contender but they also notched their 4th conference triumph without defeat.

This leaves Ohio State with only three Big 10 games and Northwestern, a team which hasn't won a conference game since 1932, is next.

Michigan defeated only by Army and 34-0 victor over Minnesota, is at Indiana. Hoosiers have but one victory this season and that was over College of Pacific.

Illinois is at Purdue, Wisconsin at Iowa and Michigan State at Minnesota, rounding out a full conference schedule.

While Ohio State and Michigan must wait until the final Saturday of the season for a showdown, assuming such is the case, Wisconsin, Purdue and Minnesota remain the only teams with a chance for the crown.

Wisconsin has an edge in that it plays a 7-game schedule, the same as Michigan and Ohio State, while Purdue and Minnesota have only six conference games listed.

Purdue, however, is the only one among the hopefuls which plays either of the leaders. Boiler-makers, upset victors over Notre Dame as well as Michigan State, host Ohio State two weeks from Saturday.

In addition to Indiana and Ohio State, Michigan also faces Illinois and arch-rival Michigan State.

Illinois finally won a game by swamping Syracuse 34-6, and could give pass-minded Purdue trouble.

Illinois' pass defense looked exceptionally sharp against Syracuse.

Wisconsin's highly-praised defense fell victim to Ohio State's determined attack and is in for another rough afternoon against Iowa.

Minnesota, ranked among the nation's top teams last week, hopes to regain some of its prestige against Michigan State. To do so, the Gophers will have to hand Michigan State its 5th defeat of the season.

Notre Dame returns to action against Navy after having a week off. Middies shook off their 21-19 upset by Pitt with a resounding 52-6 triumph over Penn.

Marquette tied Fordham, 14-14, and moves in against Detroit this week.

Mount's Injury Hurts Spanish Show Chances

HARRISBURG (AP)—International jumping resumes tonight at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show with the top-rated Spanish team suffering what could be a damaging loss.

It was disclosed today by Lt. Col. Valentine Boines, captain of the Spanish team, that Baden, regarded as the top Spanish mount, will be lost to the riders, probably for the length of the show which ends Saturday. The horse pulled up lame several days ago and has failed to respond to treatment.

Tonight's competition is the start of the three-phase low score event, top team prize of the show.

The first blue ribbon in international jumping competition went to Mexico Saturday when Capt. Jorguin D'Harcourt guided Cordoves to victory in an 11-minute jumpoff which included the entire Mexican team.

Ed Furgol Is Named to Top Golf Honor

CHICAGO (INS)—Ed Furgol, surprise winner of the U. S. Open title, has been named 1954's Golfer of the Year.

Furgol, whose left arm is shriveled as the result of a boyhood accident, topped a poll of 902 of the nation's top golfers, golf writers and officials conducted by the Professional Golfers Association of America.

USC's Winning TD Is Disputed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Should the University of Southern California's winning touchdown over California have been nullified last Saturday?

This question was raised after an Associated Press photo showed Trojan halfback Frank Clayton apparently guilty of holding while teammate Lindon Crow plunges over the goal line.

After seeing the picture, Frank McCormick, in charge of Pacific Coast Conference officials, said apparently the infraction was committed, but undoubtedly the officials did not see it.

A penalty was called against the Trojans on the play. But it was against a lineman and the officials ruled it was committed after the touchdown was made. Thus the penalty was assessed on the next lan in Philadelphia.

Was Disbarment Justified?

Legal Judgment Withheld in Fifth Amendment Case

Whether an attorney, who has sworn an oath to protect the American Constitution, should be disbarred for invoking the Fifth Amendment is a question to be debated at future meetings of the Michigan and Oakland County Bar Associations, the Pontiac Press learned today.

Maurice A. Merritt, state bar commissioner from the 18th District, and Gilbert H. Davis, president of the County Bar Association, both said the controversial matter has been brought up several times among their ranks.

Shirking a final yes or no on legal ethics, Davis said he would confront the local bar with the question probably at the Dec. 6 meeting in Hotel Waldron.

Merritt said the state bar is awaiting a report from the committee on ethics before further deliberation.

"We must face the question sooner or later," said Davis. "The public has the right to know how the bar stands on the issue."

Merritt, who placed the issue before the Michigan Bar at a recent meeting in Lansing, said he may recommend in the future to the Michigan group the formation of an investigating body to look into records of attorneys hiding behind the Fifth Amendment.

Both attorneys, however, criticized probes by some investigating groups whose questioning has resulted in little more than "character assassination."

They agreed that persons have had to take the stand when only confronted with inconclusive accusations, casting upon such individuals a doubt as to their loyalty.

Merritt said such cases should be followed by actual court hearings, either to confirm accusations or to dispel doubts altogether.

An attorney, Merritt explained, assumes an extraordinary responsibility upon taking an oath to uphold the Constitution. Whether or not this deprives him of the right to invoke the Fifth Amendment in behalf of his protection, is a highly intricate matter involving the bar's legal ethics to which an attorney also must remain loyal.

fee before action is taken by the board of commissioners, empowered to rule on the matter.

Both Davis and Merritt said they would reserve opinions on the disbarment of a Florida attorney Sept. 3 in Miami by Circuit Judge Vincent C. Giblin.

The hearing was based on disbarment charges filed by Ellis Rubin, another Miami attorney, and chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee of the Department of Florida.

He accused attorney Leo Sheiner of disloyalty to his oath and profession when he invoked the Fifth Amendment when questioned before a Senate internal security subcommittee probing Communist activities in New Orleans March 18.

In his oral opinion, Judge Giblin said: "It is inconceivable . . . that an American lawyer under obligation to support and protect the Constitution . . . when his loyalty to that Constitution and to the public is justifiably questioned will invoke as a shield the Fifth Amendment or any other amendment . . ."

"I concede his right as it is the right of any witness to refuse to testify under oath in response to a question when his answer may tend to incriminate him. He has that constitutional right, but he does not have the constitutional right to practice law."

Giblin's opinion, said Merritt, is the matter demanding further deliberation on ethics.

An attorney has the right to practice law, as granted by the bar's oath to "support and protect the Constitution." But is he denied the right to use the Constitution as an instrument of self-defense?

Engine-Caboose Radio Shortens Train Delays

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Two-way radio, linking locomotive with caboose, almost a necessity with trains more than a mile long, saves from 5 to 10 minutes every time a train stops, railroad men report.

The radio has a range of about eight miles, which enables contact with other trains so equipped. The Federal Communications Commission set aside a special broadcast band for the train radios.

Farm leaders Hear U. S. Aims

Aide Says Government
Seeks to Cut Marketing,
Price-Setting Activities

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top farm official said today the Eisenhower Administration hopes to "get the government out of the food business, or at least substantially to reduce governmental activities in that area."

Earl L. Butz, assistant secretary of agriculture, outlined this goal in a speech prepared for a conference of farm extension service leaders from all 48 states.

The conference aims at providing an outlook on economic, and agricultural conditions during the next year and will continue for five days. Speeches are scheduled by a number of administration and agriculture officials.

Butz said "the country hick" of a generation or two ago has almost disappeared from the American scene, and that the former "little guys" on family-sized farms now are "big business."

Butz said the average farm now is worth about $25,000 and that a good commercial corn belt in Indiana represents an investment of $85,000.

He said this means it costs about $50,000 to create one farm job while American industry invests only $12,000 to $15,000 to create one industrial job.

As a result, he said, the manager of a successful commercial farm "must make management decisions every week covering a much wider field than must the manager of a typical retail store in your county seat town."

He used this as an argument for, as he put it, getting the government out of the farm business.

"We need to return more decision making in agriculture to the individual farm manager on his own farm, and reduce the direct participation of government in price making and marketing," Butz said.

But this is almost impossible now, the assistant secretary said, because of the "mountain of food-stuffs held by the Commodity Credit Corp."

CCC is the department's price support agency, which now has about six billion dollars tied up in farm surpluses acquired in efforts to prop up prices.

Butz said the flexible price support act passed by Congress this year will move in the direction of decreasing governmental participation in price making and marketing.

Recover From '53 TV Scare

Look for Europeans; Change New Faces Into Big Names Fast

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — A wide-spread search for new film faces in the United States and Europe was underway today with Hollywood talent bloodhounds tracking down what they hope may be new Garbos, Hepburns and Dietrichs.

The worldwide search is indicative of the resurgence of motion pictures since the television-inspired doldrums of 1953.

Most major studios have jumped on the "new faces" bandwagon even though executives still insist the public pays to see "big names."

"Pictures cost so much you've gotta have big names," one executive stated.

"But," he added, "an unknown player can be turned into a big name faster today than at any time in history. It happened in the case of Marilyn Monroe and it can happen again."

Columbia Pictures, which boasts the biggest contract list in Hollywood, has added a number of new faces in the past three months.

These include blonde Adelle August, a former hooper on the Las Vegas nightclub strip; Lucy Marlow, who played the starlet role in "A Star Is Born"; and Dianna Foster, a redhead from Canada.

The same studio also has signed Kerwin Mathews, an ex-factory assistant at Beloit College, and Kathryn Grant, a former Hollywood dramatic student.

The star pupil so far is Kim Novak, who the studio calls "the fluorescent blonde." Kim has made two successful films and is beginning her third.

A brunette named Olive Sturges and a blonde named Dani Crayne are two young hopefuls at Universal-International.

Olive halls from Vancouver, British Columbia, and has had some TV experience. Dani, a dramatic novice, was a package wrapper in a department store until she was discovered for motion pictures.

Warner Brothers just signed strawberry blonde Pat Blake who was discovered on a magazine cover: 15-year-old Pat Wayne, son of John Wayne, and Irene Montwill, a brunette with a gamine-type Aubrey Hepburn face.

Fox films has its own worldwide search going on for continentalists like Gina Lollobrigida, who just arrived in this country, and Anna Magnani who is here to appear in "The Rose Tattoo" for Paramount.

"The American public wants more Europeans," a Fox spokesman said, "and we're going to see it get more of them."

Rockefeller Bomb Threat Investigated

NEW YORK (U)—City police and security officers of Rockefeller Center searched the area this morning after an anonymous telephone warning that a bomb would be exploded.

The search was first concentrated in Radio City Music Hall, then moved to the RCA building, the tallest building in Rockefeller Center, and to other structures.

The warning was received at the Associated Press switchboard in the AP Building, and police were immediately notified.

The caller said a bomb was "to go off at 9:30 in Radio City."

Prince's Toothy Smile Shows Choppers Intact

LONDON (INS)—Rumors that Britain's Prince Charles had lost that first precious tooth caused sympathetic sighs among women waiting to catch a glimpse of the young royal heir.

A toothy smile from the youngster when he said goodbye to his grandmother, the Queen Mother Elizabeth, on her trip to the U.S. reassured everyone that the royal "ivories" were intact.

His successor in the governor's race has not been selected.

The fiery lawyer, a staunch champion of states rights, broke with the Democratic party in 1948 after more than 20 years and registered as an Independent. He said the Democratic National Convention "abused and insulted Southern Democracy."

He joined the Republican party two years ago.

Island Hunting to Open

LELAND (U)—Deer hunting on North Manitow Island, 14 miles west of Leland in Lake Michigan, begins Oct. 28. The island, Michigan's only licensed deer farm, is not subject to Conservation Commission hunting control. Tracy Grosvenor says a fee is charged for hunting the estimated 1,000 head herd until about Jan. 1.

Sex Alteration, Marriage Battle Scotland Yard

LONDON (INS)—Scotland Yard officials are trying to figure out the legal status of "Vincent" Jones who claimed to have undergone a sex change operation and then married pretty Joan Lee.

Until a year and a half ago "Vincent" Jones was known as Violet Ellen Katherine Jones. But the 26-year-old postal worker said "he" was changed to a man and identified himself to church authorities—and to Joan Lee—as a member of the male sex.

Jones and Miss Lee, who worked at the same South London post office, were married a few days ago at St. Luke's Church in Bromley, Kent County.

The parishioner who married them later became suspicious and asked police to investigate. But the police were not sure what action, if any, should be taken.

Said Jones: "I am a man, there is no doubt about that. I have nothing to fear. I have not committed any crime. My wife has been wonderful during this affair."

There was no comment from Mrs. Jones.

All Quiet Now at Missouri Pen

One Convict Is Killed; Many Injured in Third Mass Riot This Month

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (U)—Officials maintained a tight disciplinary clamp over convicts at the Missouri State Penitentiary today after the third mass rebellion in a month.

In the latest outbreak — a food riot Saturday — one prisoner was killed and 37 injured.

Warden Ralph N. Eidson told reporters that "all is calm" now and the men seem relaxed, but he added, "Just one silly kid could set off a new rampage in the dining room."

The riot started in a dining room where 500 to 600 inmates were being fed. A guard reported one convict, apparently objecting to bologna sandwiches, yelled "Flat dog." Others took up the cry and began tossing their plates and food on the floor.

Guards fired on the convicts after they ran out into the prison yard.

All privileges have been taken from the 3,000 inmates. Radio, newspapers and magazines are banned. They also were without yard and recreational freedom yesterday.

Pakistan Chief Fires Cabinet

State of Emergency Is in Effect as Ali Names New Ministers

KARACHI, Pakistan (U)—Prime Minister Mohammed Ali headed a new and more powerful government today while a "state of emergency" was maintained to cope with Pakistan's disturbed political situation.

The Prime Minister named a new seven-man cabinet last night after Gov. Gen. Ghulam Mohammed dismissed all his previous ministers and dissolved the Constituent Assembly. This body had served as a national legislature during the seven years of Pakistan's independence.

Declaring a state of emergency, the governor general turned full administrative power over to the Cabinet. Demonstrations and meetings of more than five persons were prohibited, and censorship was clamped on the local press.

Ali had cut short a visit to the United States and arrived back in Karachi Saturday, just a few hours before the drastic measures were announced.

He told the nation in a broadcast that he accepted the governor general's mandate to form a new government because "it was my duty, which in this hour of crisis I owed to my country."

Chicago Police Hunt Cop-Killing Gunman

CHICAGO (U)—Thirteen squads are on an around-the-clock search for a slippery ex-convict who gunned down an officer Thursday and may have escaped a 30-squad car dragnet last night.

With shoot to kill orders, police maintained a tight watch on railroad, airport and bus terminals for Agostino (Gus) Amadio, 26-year-old tough who killed Detective Charles P. Amerino, 30, in a saloon gun battle.

Wife to Be Quizzed in Husband's Death

DETROIT (UP)—Police said they planned to recall for questioning today the attractive blonde wife of a truck driver whose body was found on the living room floor of their partially burned out home.

Robert Lahti, 37, was found dead early Saturday by a neighbor who saw smoke pouring from windows of the house. His wife, Joyce, 23, was picked up several hours later in a hotel where she was spending the night with her sister.

Although a suicide note was found beside Lahti's body, Detective St. John Ware said he had reason to believe the truck driver did not take his own life. He said there were "several puzzling aspects" to the death.

Blazes had broken out in a cardboard clothes closet in the basement and in a bedroom closet by the time police arrived. Detectives said evidence showed that Lahti apparently died of suffocation while making a desperate attempt to escape a fiery trap.

Selfridge Jet Pilot Rides Out Crash to Avoid Homes

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (U)—A Michigan fighter pilot escaped with a broken leg yesterday after he rode his flaming jet to the ground in a successful attempt to avoid a populated area.

Air Force officials said 24-year-old First Lt. B. R. Hart, of Selfridge Air Force Base, could have parachuted and let his plane crash into some houses.

Instead, they said, he stuck with the plane, which crashed in a huge vacant lot. The plane gouged a quarter-mile furrow, stopping about three blocks from the nearest building.

The Air Force attributed the crash to mechanical failure.

Hart was described as "not in serious condition." His wife, Nancy, lives at the Selfridge base.

WMF Convention Slated

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—The 30th biennial convention of the Women's Missionary Federation of the American Federation of Lutheran Churches opens here Tuesday. About 3,000 Lutheran church leaders from throughout the U. S., Canada, Mexico, India and New Guinea are expected to attend the four-day convention.

J. Tom Watson, 68, Succumbs in Florida

TAMPA, Fla. (U)—Death has removed J. Tom Watson, 68, from the stormy Florida political scene.

A former state attorney general who was running as the Republican candidate for governor after two unsuccessful attempts to gain the Democratic nomination, Watson succumbed to a complication of a heart condition yesterday.

His successor in the governor's race has not been selected.

The fiery lawyer, a staunch champion of states rights, broke with the Democratic party in 1948 after more than 20 years and registered as an Independent. He said the Democratic National Convention "abused and insulted Southern Democracy."

Alcoholism Treatment Pays, Company Learns

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—An official of a large manufacturing firm says his company's investment in treating its employees' alcoholism "does not cost the company money."

Henry A. Mielcarek, manager of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. personnel department, says almost 80 per cent of the firm's workers whose alcoholism has been treated have recovered completely. "The rehabilitation of alcoholic workers actually does not cost the company money," he said, "Instead it makes money through greater efficiency in production, a lowered accident rate and decreased absenteeism."

Engineers' Starting Pay Is Beginning to Level Off

CHICAGO (UP)—The average starting salaries of college engineering graduates are leveling off after pyramiding upwards for more than 10 years, according to a survey at the Illinois Institute of Technology. Engineering students who received bachelor's degrees last June are earning an average salary of $363 per month, only $1 more than the 1933 class.

Ten years ago engineering graduates started at $193 per month, while students graduating five years later started at an average of $282. By January, 1954, starting salaries hit a high of $373, $10 more than available to June graduates.
