Get U.S. Off Formosa, Russia Tells U.N. Helpful Partner Proposals Sent to Lawmakers

Soviets Demand Chiang Give Up Offshore Islands

Security Council Given Resolution Denouncing American Action

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Soviet Russia confronted the U. N. Security Council today with a demand that United States withdraw its armed forces immediately from the Formosa area and that Chiang Kai-shek surrender the coastal Chinese islands to the Communists.

The demand was included in a draft resolution circulated to delegations as the Council gathered to discuss how to halt hostilities in the Formosa Strait and how to prevent a major conflict from developing.

There was speculation here that Russia might spell out its demand for evacuation of all islands and "other territories belonging to China" to include Nationalist China's surrender not only of the Tachens, Matsu and Quemoy but of Formosa itself and the Pescadore Islands, which United States has pledged to protect.

The United States called the Soviet demand a propaganda move designed to confuse and divert serious efforts to halt the fighting, which included new Communist shelling of the Tachens yesterday. More than four years ago the Security Council defeated an almost identical resolution.

A dispute over including the Soviet resolution on the agenda under its title "Aggression Against the Chinese People's Republic in the Taiwan (Formosa) Area and Other Islands of China" threatened to delay the Council in its majority aid of getting off an invitation to Red (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Supreme Court Back at Work This Week

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Supreme Court, with a backlog of more than 80 cases, resumes a full work schedule today following a recess of several weeks.

The high court meets for decisions (noon EST) and then starts hearing oral arguments on cases it will rule on later this term.

The only major case which could be decided today involves the status of boxing under anti-trust laws. The government is attempting to break up an alleged monopoly of the International Boxing Club.

The justices had postponed arguments in hopes that the Senate would have acted by now on the nomination of Judge John Marshall Harlan to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson last October.

But the Senate will not be able to vote on Harlan for at least several weeks. The Senate Judiciary Committee has not yet held hearings on the nomination but planned to announce a date today.

16 Perish in State Traffic for Worst Weekend in '55

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four teenagers whose automobile skidded on ice and collided with a roaring train were among 16 to die in Michigan's weekend traffic.

It was the highest weekend death toll on the state's streets and highways in the new year.

A brother and two sisters were among the four: battered to death in the auto-train crash near North Bradley, a community 13 miles west of Midland.

Besides the traffic toll of 16, Michigan counted three dead in miscellaneous accidents. A baby suffocated in its crib. A boy burned to death when flames suddenly enveloped his father's car. A Detroit slipper on an egg and fell, fatally injuring himself.

Flint Second Largest City in Michigan Now

FLINT (INS)—A University of Michigan survey disclosed today that Flint, with a population of 190,000, now rates as Michigan's second largest city.

The survey, conducted by Dr. Basil C. Zimmer, resident director of the university's social science research project, showed the city's population increased 27,000 since 1950.

City Registers Second Fatality

Mrs. Max W. Wells Dies of Injuries After Car Hits Tree

Mrs. Eleanor Wells, 49-year-old wife of Pontiac's assistant fire chief, became the city's second traffic fatality Saturday when her auto crashed into a tree off Mt. Clemens street, near the east city limits.

Mrs. Wells, of 5885 Williams Lake Rd., Drayton Plains, was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

An autopsy, held to determine whether she died before or after the impact, disclosed she died afterwards of internal injuries.

No other autos were involved in the mishap.

Police, who said there were no skids marks at the scene, quoted two witnesses as saying Mrs. Wells apparently made no attempt to avoid striking the tree. Police theorized she might have blacked out before the accident.

Mrs. Wells, according to police had been considered a "good and careful driver." She and her husband once made a motorcycle tour of the United States.

Her death was the second traffic fatality in Pontiac this year. Andrew F. Chumovich, 59, of 675 Cortwright St., was killed three days earlier when he was struck by a car at an intersection.

Last year, when the city experienced five traffic deaths, the first traffic fatality was recorded Feb. 7 and the second April 26.

Surviving besides her husband, Max W. Wells, are three daughters and an son, Mrs. Maxine Berry, of Muskegon, Mrs. Barbara Vanderlind and Mrs. Lenore Vahl, both of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Robert, of Pontiac; two brothers and a sister, Howard L. Smith, of Auburn Heights, and Clarence E. Smith and Miss Vera Smith of Pontiac, and 10 grandchildren.

Firemen will act as pallbearers Tuesday when she will be buried in a Pontiac cemetery which will be named later. Funeral service will be held from Donelson-Johns Funeral Home Tuesday at 3 p. m., with Dr. Milton H. Bank officiating.

Red Guns Miss Tachen Islands in Big Barrage

U. S. Fleet Standing by for Possible Evacuation Order, Quemoy Quiet

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Communist guns on recently-captured Yikiangshan belched in the direction of the tense Tachens tonight but the Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry reported all the shells landed in the sea.

The combat-ready U. S. 7th Fleet stood by for possible orders to evacuate the Tachen Islands, 200 miles north of Formosa and eight miles south of Yikiangshan, but the U. S. Navy boss in the Pacific said Sunday such orders had not yet been given.

The Tachens were fire-bombed by Red bombers Sunday. Tonight Communist guns hurled 22 shells toward the two offshore islands within 10 minutes.

The Defense Ministry reported all was quiet farther south in the Quemoy area.

The 7th Fleet needed only a "go ahead" to begin an evacuation of the Tachens.

However, Adm. Felix B. Stump, commander of the U. S. Pacific Fleet, said on a quick visit to this Chinese Nationalist capital yesterday that an evacuation had not been ordered.

Unconfirmed Chinese press reports said the garrison of 15,000 men was under Defense Ministry orders to prepare for a bitter stand if the Communists should attack before the evacuation takes place, as many observers here expect them to do.

Adm. Stump, meanwhile, was flying back to his Pearl Harbor headquarters after a quick trip to Taipei and an unheralded conference with top American commanders in Tokyo.

While here he told a news conference that "any time American forces are attacked anywhere they will defend themselves."

"I came here to see that my commanders have everything they need if the job is ordered. We have a plan to assist in the evacuation if it is ordered. It hasn't been ordered."

Nationalist army headquarters reported today 16 civilians and two soldiers were killed in yesterday's fire bomb raid on Lower Tachen Island. The army said 23 civilians and two soldiers were wounded.

Midwest Seen Getting Warmer

Temperature Will Rise More; Snow Forecast Later This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The bitter cold that blanketed much of the nation east of the Rocky Mountains for nearly a week has begun moderating, and light snows moved eastward into the Midwest.

Temperature rises of 3 to 20 degrees were recorded yesterday in many of the below-zero sections. Continued warming was forecast for today.

Only in the east was the sharp chill unbroken. Temperatures were as much as 7 degrees lower yesterday than the day before from New England southward to North Carolina, and freezing readings extended as far south as northern Florida.

Zero temperatures were still prevalent in the upper Ohio Valley and northern New England.

Precipitation moving in from the west was predicted to take the form of rain or mixed snow and rain in southern and central portions of Illinois and Indiana. Flurries yesterday were extremely light except for a 1-inch fall recorded at Redwood Falls, Minn.

The Pacific Coast had light rains yesterday. There were showers and snow flurries in the mountains inland.

Stevens Demands Force of Combat-Ready Reserves

WASHINGTON (INS)—Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens said today the nation's reserve forces must be brought quickly to combat readiness to answer any emergency.

Only then, Stevens declared in a statement prepared for delivery before the House Armed Services Committee, can the U. S. offset the time-advantage that he said is "a built-in military feature of the totalitarian state."

Army Chief of Staff Matthew B. Ridgway was to appear later in the day amid speculation that he will openly oppose the planned cut of 291,000 men from the Army's fighting force.

Committee chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) said the "hard-hitting four-star general will be given an opportunity to 'speak his mind.'"

When it was suggested to Vinson that Ridgway is known to oppose the cut, the congressman remarked: "Well, if he is, he'll get a chance to say so."

Stevens, without specifically mentioning the administration's reserve proposal, urged the committee to approve legislation "which will help assure the highest of active participation by the young men of this country in reserve training activities."

He said: "We can no longer afford to defer the achievement of a combat ready reserve force until after it has been mobilized. Our reserves must be as nearly combat-ready before mobilization as practicable."

The Army secretary said "An alert, capable, versatile and mobile ground army" is needed to guard against small wars, subversion and creeping Red expansion.

These, he warned, may become (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

President Steers Clear of Socialized Medicine in Subsidy Request

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower sent to Congress today a "helpful partner" health program designed to provide better health and medical care for millions of Americans while steering clear of socialized medicine.

The President renewed his controversial proposal of last year for a federal reinsurance service to encourage expansion of low-cost health insurance by private organizations.

He left to Congress the size of the federal fund which would have to be set up, asserting only that it should be a "reasonable" amount. Last year he requested 25 million dollars to get the reinsurance program started.

The President also recommended increased federal aid to provide improved medical care for the aged, the blind, dependent children, and the disabled.

Here are some of the other recommendations included in the special health message sent to Capitol Hill:

Hospitals—The President proposed government-insurance loans to make it easier for local communities to build hospitals and other health facilities.

Juvenile Delinquency—Eisenhower recommended greater federal aid to state and local agencies to deal with this problem, including new grants to the states.

Nurses—Taking note of the acute shortage of nurses, he recommended a five-year program of grants to state agencies to help train more nurses. He also proposed expansion of Public Health Service operations to establish traineeships for graduate nurses in specialized fields.

Smog—He recommended an increased Public Health Service appropriation for research on air pollution, which has become a major problem in Los Angeles and other industrial centers.

Water—The President proposed greater federal assistance to the states for water pollution control programs.

Eisenhower emphasized that all of his proposals recognize the primary responsibility of local and state governments for the health of the community.

He declared: "These recommendations to the Congress represent a broad and coordinated offensive against many of the problems which must be solved if we are to have better health for a stronger America..."

"With the cooperation of the states and the medical profession, they can form the basis for better health for all."

Seek 'Woman in Brown' in Rubinstein Murder Case

From Our Wire Services

NEW YORK—An unknown "woman in brown" added a new note of mystery today to the strange slaying of Serge Rubinstein.

Police said they were searching for the slender young woman who was seen wandering about Rubinstein's five-story mansion shortly before the killer strangled the draft-dodging-playboy financier.

It was also made known for the first time that a small bone in Rubinstein's thick neck was broken by the slayer. This discovery was considered minor and the cause of death remained strangulation.

These developments came as plans were being completed for funeral service for the 46-year-old Russian immigrant.

Rubinstein's mother and aged aunt told police they saw a young woman dressed in brown in the mansion but were not concerned at the time because many women had access to the building.

At the same time, a woman who said she was a "dear friend" of Rubinstein's said he told her three weeks ago he was worried about death threats he had received.

The woman, former restaurateur Anna Borsuch, said Rubinstein had told her then that two (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Stores to Test New Space Kits

Replace Horror Comics With Scientific Data for City's Children

When the Wrigley Supermarkets decided to purge their bookshelves of horror comic books, they found themselves involved in space travel with their Pontiac stores designated as a "take-off area."

It all started when a group of the young executives of this grocery chain declared that they would not let their own children read some of the comic books in their stores—hence they could not honestly merchandise them for their customers' children.

Challenged by top executives to produce something better, they looked to "space" for the answer.

Presenting their problem to James Sayre Pickering, noted astronomer-educator and director of the Hayden Planetarium, the result was a space kit as contemporary in space travel data as anything known today.

Space travel, they discovered was just beyond the horizon, and science knew much about it that should be included in education for boys and girls.

Included in the kit is a factual book on space travel, an interplanetary map, space calendars, space speed charts, course finders, a space log and other paraphernalia that adults know little about.

Pontiac was selected as the testing area for the distribution of these kits which will appear in the local Wrigley stores for the first time Tuesday. Wrigley executives state they will distribute these kits to local area elementary teachers to aid them in teaching about this new mode of travel.

Falls 1,000 Feet Into Snow Bank; All Bones Intact

ELMENDORF AIR FORCE BASE, Alaska (AP)—Pvt. Stanley Melczak's parachute failed to open and he fell 1,000 feet without breaking a bone.

He landed hard on his back in deep snow.

The 30-year-old paratrooper with the 11th Airborne Division was reported recovering at the Ft. Richardson hospital today.

Melczak, of Pittsburgh, Pa., jumped with other paratroopers over Taiketa during the Operation Snowbird maneuver Saturday. From his hospital bed, he said today he didn't realize his main chute had failed to open until he was too close to the ground.

He yanked open his reserve chute but said it began to unfold only a "breath" before he hit in 38 inches of snow.

Doctors found no broken bones but said Melczak apparently suffered internal injuries.

Thieves Picnic at Expense of Bar, Cleaners

Thieves feasted on hotdogs and pop early Sunday morning in the boiler room of a cleaning establishment after taking the food from a nearby tavern entered earlier, Pontiac Police said today.

Detective Sgt. John A. DePauw, investigating the break-in at Ogg Cleaners, 379 E. Pike St., said the thieves forced a padlock on the boiler room door and consumed a quantity of the refreshments believed taken previously from the J&K Tavern at 369 E. Pike. DePauw said, "Hotdogs, buns and orange pop were found in the boiler room. Some of it had been eaten."

Nothing has been determined stolen from the cleaning firm, but police said the thieves took an undetermined amount of money from vending machines and made an unsuccessful attempt to enter the safe at the tavern where they gained entry by removing an exhaust fan in the rear of the building.

Ike Sends Health Plan to Congress

that Congress authorize federal matching of state and local funds spent on medical care for the nearly five million Americans receiving public assistance.

No price tag for the program was set in today's message. But Eisenhower's budget estimated a 100 million dollar cost including 25 millions in the first year, of the reinsurance program plus 37 millions for the other health proposals.

The President declared that many Americans cannot afford to pay the cost of medical care and yet are not protected by adequate health insurance.

He said the federal reinsurance service would encourage private insurance firms to provide better protection, particularly against expensive illness.

Under the plan, the government would in effect underwrite part of the risk for insurance companies in the low-cost health insurance field, without actually getting into the insurance business.

TB Sanatoriums Face Budget Cut

Legislator Says Funds Asked by Williams Not Justified by Need

LANSING (INS)—The State Appropriations Committee cocked its pruning shears at the state's tuberculosis hospitals today as the 1955 legislative session went into its fourth week.

Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blairstown), the committee chairman, said he was aghast at the number of empty beds in the institutions and the fact that Gov. Williams' budget was proposing funds for more occupants and more employees.

Porter said the four state TB hospitals have space for 833 patients but that only 484 beds are filled. The governor has asked for funds for 595 occupants for next year, Porter said, despite the fact that the four have steadily declined in use during the past year.

The four institutions have 457 employees — "almost one for every patient," Porter said, but the governor has asked for 508 employees in the next budget.

"I hesitate to advocate that we close out one of these institutions," Porter said, "but we've got to do something. This situation is especially serious when you consider there are 12,660 acceptable beds available in county institutions for the tubercular and that 2,771 of them were vacant in December."

Porter cited the Howell, Gaylord, Hancock and Kalamazoo sanatoriums.

Attempts to Halt St. Clair Fill-Ins

State to Ask Injunctions in Effort to End Alleged Land-Grabbing

LANSING (INS)—Eight temporary injunctions will be sought this week to halt so-called land-grabbers along the shores of Lake St. Clair.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Nicholas V. Olds refused to reveal the names of those affected until the documents are filed. He said he was acting on orders issued by Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Olds said the restraining orders are being sought in the state's battle against trespassers who have been building swank homes and business establishments on state-owned lake frontage which has been filled in violation of a 56-year-old state law.

The law, passed in 1899, sets aside all submerged lands along the shores of Lake Erie, Huron, Michigan, Superior and St. Clair for Conservation Department use as fish and wildlife preserves and for public recreation areas.

Conservation officials said natural breeding grounds for fish and game were being destroyed by the filling in of lake shore lands.

So far, the officials said, the state's sporadic attempts to halt such fill-ins have proved ineffective.

Woman in Brown Sought in Murder

threatening notes had been tied to rocks and thrown through his window. Police confirmed that one note said "You have your warning. Next time you won't walk away. Pay your debts."

Rubinstein's 84-year-old aunt Eugenia Forrester told police she was awakened at what she thought was about 1 a.m. when a light was turned on in her room. She said she looked up to see a fully-clad woman, "dressed in brown" standing by the light switch.

Apparently seeing she was in the wrong room, the woman turned off the light and disappeared, Mrs. Forrester said.

Rubinstein's 78-year-old mother Stella, said she also saw the woman in brown, walking down the stairway to the third floor, where Rubinstein slept. She said she saw the girl about the same time she heard angry men's voices coming from her son's suite.

Mrs. Rubinstein also was quoted as saying the mysterious woman "didn't look like the kind who belonged there." There was no indication what she meant by that but it apparently was not uncommon for young women to be wandering around the Rubinstein mansion at all hours.

Police said Rubinstein gave house keys to a number of young girls so they could enter whenever they were summoned.

When Rubinstein became tired of his current group of girl friends, Police said, he had the lock changed on the door and issued new keys to those he still wanted.

Detectives said it is highly possible that one particular girl saw her days of favor were close to an end and gave or sold her key to the killers.

The New York Journal-American said today that Rubinstein's mother and his two daughters are the principal beneficiaries of his estate estimated at close to ten million dollars.

Ignored in the slain financier's will, the paper said, were the scores of beautiful women who paraded through his life.

Under the terms of the will Serge's mother, Mrs. Stella Rubinstein, will get a lifetime income from a trust fund which at her death will revert to his daughters, along with the principal.

At Interchurch Fellowship

Faith in God Is Stressed for Spiritual Security

"The thought I will endeavor to leave with you tonight is simply that our security is in God," Dr. John W. Claxton said at the evening worship service of Interchurch Fellowship Sunday evening.

The service was preceded by the Bible exposition led by the Rev. Herbert C. Wolf and the hour of fellowship. First Presbyterian Church was host for this week's fellowship.

Dr. Claxton is pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church in Lansing and the Rev. Mr. Wolf is pastor of College Lutheran Church and also connected with Michigan State College at East Lansing.

Dr. Claxton cited the calling of Andrew and Peter as told in the 18th chapter of Mark to illustrate his talk.

He said that if Andrew and Peter had not answered the call of Jesus Christ to become fishers of men, their most thrilling experiences of life would have been an extra large catch of fish or match-

The Day in Birmingham City to Apportion Costs for Paving Triangle Area

BIRMINGHAM—A preview of tonight's City Commission activities finds lawmakers dealing with parking problems, but also with a cost split for paving to serve the triangular parcel bounded by Adams road, the Grand Trunk Western Railroad and the northern city limits.

A comparative traffic survey of Quorton Lake Estates subdivision will be submitted, and further discussion will follow in the proposed alley behind West Maple property between Bates and Henrietta.

A kickoff dinner will start volunteers on their way in a mythical boat race at 7 tonight, spurring workers on in the YMCA's annual membership drive. The Y this year is seeking 2,000 new and renewed memberships.

A report on "What Europe Did With 28 Billions," a recent magazine article, will be discussed at tomorrow's 10 a. m. meeting of the Ruth Shain Class in International Affairs at the Community House, by Mrs. Earl May. China to send representatives here for the Formosa debate.

The U.N. Charter requires both sides in a dispute be invited to be represented. If Red China does send spokesmen, it will not have a vote.

Sir Leslie Munro, New Zealand ambassador and Security Council president for January—Perry's Victor A. Belandue takes over tomorrow in alphabetical succession—prepared today's agenda containing only the item agreed on by the Western powers.

It was entitled "Question of Hostilities in the Area of Certain Islands off the Coast of the Mainland of China."

Sir Leslie told reporters it was intended to stop fighting in the islands from the Tachens to and including Quemoy but did not deal with Formosa and the Pescadores. They were not included, he said, because the hostilities were in the other islands.

Russia's Arkady Sobolev was expected to demand not only that his item be placed on the agenda but that it have priority.

New Zealand, Britain, France and United States kept in close consultation over the weekend on the developing situation.

Peiping radio called cease-fire moves here "a war of aggression against China under the United Nations flag" and attacked—as did the Soviet resolution—utterances of U.S. political leaders defending the joint Congress resolution which gives President Eisenhower wide powers for the defense of Formosa.

President Eisenhower twice called for U.N. steps for a cease-fire last week but said on signing the resolution that the United States would defend any area from an attack threatening the United States and world security.

Adm. Felix B. Stump, U.S. Pacific Fleet commander, said in Taipei "anytime American forces are attacked anywhere they will defend themselves," as he awaited orders to give the Tachens evacuation the protective umbrella promised by the United States.

Strong Reserve Asked by Stevens

"The latter day alternatives to stalemates caused by large-scale capabilities that have become mutually deterring"—in other words to an atomic stalemate between the free and Communist worlds.

As for the Army's part in an integrated defense system, Stevens said demands change with the world situation. He said: "Accordingly, it is difficult to predict what the composition of our total force or our individual service forces should be at any particular future time."

Stevens put the Army squarely behind the administration policy of planning the nation's security for a "long pull." But he added that this means a continuing need for keeping a "sizeable" part of the Army overseas as well as creating stronger reserves at home.

The military manpower program personally approved by President Eisenhower calls for a reduction of 350,000 men in the armed services, including 291,000 in the Army, by June 30, 1956. The rest of the cut would be taken by the Navy, with Air Force personnel to be slightly increased.

House Majority Leader John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) has urged the administration reconsider its plan to cut back Army strength "in the light of what's happened in the last few days."

Admits Theft of Car

In Circuit Court today, Norman Smith, 18, of 3530 Maybee St., pleaded guilty to auto theft and was remanded to Oakland County Jail by Judge Frank L. Doty pending sentence Feb. 7.

"considering" an investigation to determine whether negligence was responsible for the collision of a train and fuel oil truck which spilled 3,600 gallons of oil over the ground on Saturday, Fire Chief Vernon W. Griffith said today.

Police said the Grand Trunk Western Railroad locomotive, driven by Earl H. Knapp, 33, of Durand, was backing south near Torrence Oil Co., 2205 Holland, when it struck a rear wheel of the east bound trailer-truck.

The trailer, driven by John T. McCullough, 49, of River Rouge, tipped over and then snapped off a utility pole, which fell onto a parked car, causing an estimated $200 damage, police said.

Editors See New Elastic Stockings

NEW YORK (INS) — There's a new fashion note for the 8,000,000 American women who have to wear elastic stockings at one time or another — elastic nylons that look like nylons!

Fashion editors have just been shown samples of a new elastic hosiery that looks elegant and still provides necessary surgical support. It seems to be the first all-nylon, full-fashioned, fullfooted and stocking colored surgical hosiery.

Up to now, most surgical stockings have been bandage-like affairs without toes that needed nylons over them to look decent. The new hosiery is a combination of Helanca stretch nylon and nylon covered rubber which looks exactly like ordinary service weights at a distance of eight or ten feet.

Even close up, it looks pretty good — and certainly better than the normal elastic stocking.

The makers of the new hosiery admit frankly their elastic stockings aren't 66-gauge sheers. But the concern feels its elastic hosiery is the first real fashion news for varicose vein sufferers.

The new hose will cost $12.95 a pair and an extra added attraction for women who only need one elastic stocking has been added. They'll match it with twin-colored ordinary nylon in service weight.

'Slink' Shape Featured by Designers

LONDON (INS)—A new "slink" shape in fashions and the classic "shirt" dress were featured by English dress designers when London stylists showed off their spring, 1955 collections.

The "slink" is an even narrower version of the high-busted "H" line that Christian Dior started last year. As shown by John Cavanagh, the "slink" is a completely unbelted, tight-fitted bodice over narrow skirts. Cavanagh, like Dior, puts the bosom higher but gives it minimum attention. His waistlines are loose and slither right into a snug hipline.

The famous House of Worth also showed "slink" fashions, but they called it "the moulded line."

It was the same long unbelted bodice dropped right to the hip bone. Worth skirts, however, were full and swirling.

Dresses that didn't "slink" stuck to the classic shirtwaist silhouette. Charles Creed particularly emphasized the shirt dress cut in one piece like a man's shirt, showing it in wool for daytime and in black satin for evening wear.

Creed also showed one unexpected variation of the long bodice "slink." This designer made his waistlines natural and tight to the ribs whenever possible, even accentuating them with detachable corselet belts.

Meet to Discuss Gilliland Appeal

Review Case at Lapeer
Today Pending Action
by Supreme Court

LAPEER—A factual condensation of the December 1953 trial of Clayton C. Gilliland, 58, of Detroit on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice was the aim of a meeting today between Gilliland's attorney, Lapeer County Circuit Court Judge Timothy C. Quinn and the county prosecutor's office.

This would pave the way for the State Supreme Court's decision on whether they will take up an appeal of the conviction which sentenced Gilliland to 4½ to 5 years in prison. Gilliland was sentenced for his part in the long legal and often physical fight of area farmers and the defunct Lapeer Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Assn.

Gilliland, found guilty Dec. 24, 1953, has been out on $5,000 bond pending first an appeal for a retrial, which was denied, and then an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Judge Quinn warned Gilliland's attorney, Leo Hoffman, that a delay in the meeting which he asked several weeks ago, would be the last extension made.

Indiana Motorist Mistaken, Leaves Wife at Station

An Indiana motorist who had stopped in a Waterford Township filling station for gasoline early today was halted later about 30 miles away by Utica police who informed the startled gentleman that he forgot his wife at the gas station.

Here's what happened, according to Trooper Stanley Sitkowski of Pontiac State Police Post.

Al Harting driving his 1952 sedan with Indiana license plates stopped for a gas refill at the station located on M50 and Elizabeth Lake Road. His wife, Lila, was sleeping in the rear seat.

While the attendant filled the car, Harting went to the men's lavatory. Meanwhile, his wife woke up, exited from the car and went to the ladies lavatory.

Described as a "chipper sort of guy," Harting paid the attendant, hopped in the car and whizzed away.

Sitkowski put the report on the radio: "Stop a car with license number . . . he forgot his wife at the gas station."

Utica police stopped Harting on Auburn avenue en route to Canada.

"Where's your wife," asked the officer.

"In the back seat," replied Harting.

Harting was escorted back to the station for his wife, where the Hartings and the officers busted out in a big laugh.

Collection Office Open

Minor Violations

HOLLY—Today witnesses a new era in the Holly Police Department, with the incorporation of a new and completely independent traffic violation bureau.

In the past many of the minor traffic violations, mainly moving violation, were settled in justice court. This caused inconvenience for all involved in instances where the violation was only a minor one.

Provision for the violation bureau and a traffic referee to be on duty during the police department's administrative hour, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., was made in the bi-monthly village council meeting Jan. 11.

Chief of Police James Parker stated, "The bureau will not be a court as many think, but a more complete medium of collection of fines for minor traffic violations." "It must be remembered though, that all major violators will be summoned into justice court," he added.

Village lawmakers also rewrote the fine schedule, affecting mainly moving violations.

Pontiac High Runners Collect 4th and 5th in Prep Events

ANN ARBOR 28—With the unofficial team title in the Michigan AAU relays tucked safely away, Michigan trackmen looked forward today to the dual match season.

A date with Kansas at Ann Arbor Saturday gets the sessions underway.

Michigan State College, closest to the Wolverines in Saturday's results, meets Michigan Normal the same day. The two events give the Wolverines and Spartans a chance to tune up for Big 10 competition to follow.

What happened Saturday made it evident that both schools will have to depend heavily on imported talent. Some of that talent, however, won't be available for varsity competition until next season.

Michigan scored six firsts in Saturday's meet—four in relays and two others in the pole vault and broad jump. And the Wolverines shared the high jump title with Michigan State which took two undisputed firsts.

Included in the firsts was Michigan's Eeles Landstrom of Finland who set a new state AAU pole vault record by hitting 14 feet, 2 inches.

Kevan Gosper, MSC's Australian ace, turned in a 1:11.5 to clip one and two-tenths seconds from the old Yost Fieldhouse record in the 600-yard. Four other meet records were toppled in the competition.

Pontiac High collected a 4th and 5th in the two high school relays. Chiefs won their mile-relay heat easily, defeating Lansing Eastern by 30 yards, but placed 4th behind Hamilton Secondary of Ontario, Cleveland East Tech and Flint Northern in comparative times.

PHS team ran a 1:38 half-mile relay to place 5th. The Ontario school won the event in a record one minute 32 seconds. Running for Pontiac were Norris Jackson, Alex Barge, Bill Douglas and Charles Robinson.

Spartans Meet Purdue After Victory Over DePaul Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Michigan and Michigan State go back to Big Ten basketball battling tonight on fronts far apart.

Michigan (3-3), breaking a two-week layoff during exams, goes to Northwestern for a fight which will probably cost the loser a place in the 1st division of the standings. Northwestern has a 3-3 record.

Michigan State, an 88-72 revenge winner over De Paul Saturday night in Chicago, plays host to Purdue at East Lansing. The Spartans (3-3) are favored to win this one, too.

The Spartans did it up brown in taking De Paul to avenge an early season one-point loss. It was De Paul's 1st defeat of the season on its own floor.

With Julius McCray scoring 25 points the Spartans got a 40-36 halftime lead and kept building on it for a convincing victory.

Mortie Dutra Wins PGA Senior Tourney

DUNEDIN, Fla. 28—Mortie Dutra ran into trouble at the start of the final round but regained his putting touch and went Sunday on to win the annual PGA Senior golf tournament.

The 55-year-old pro from Los Angeles was tied for the lead going into the final 18 of the 54-hole event. He shot a 72 for 213 total.

Determine Given Victory on Miz Clementine's Foul

ARCADIA, Calif. 28—Racing has another of those questions that can be argued indefinitely—would Miz Clementine have beaten Determine if she hadn't bumped him in the stretch of the $183,360 Santa Anita Maternity?

The Calumet gal, easily the most unlucky speedster of the current meeting, went on after the jarring bump to beat the 1954 leading money winner and Kentucky Derby champion to the wire Saturday by a neck.

Stewards immediately flashed the inquiry sign, watched movies of the race and declared the little grey the winner because of the foul. Despite the bump and his top weight of 126 pounds Deter-

Light Action for Preps

Action will be very light on the Oakland County prep basketball front Tuesday night as high school teams prepare for the home stretch of pre-tournament play.

Feature game on a 17-game area schedule sends Lake Orion to Rochester. Oxford, Walled Lake and the city parochials are the only other Pontiac area teams in action.

Rochester will defend a modest 3-game winning streak against the Dragons, who have played good ball at times, but currently are carrying a 4-game losing string.

Since checking a 3-game losing streak, Gene Kenley's Falcons have beaten Keego Harbor, Cranbrook and Romeo. In that order. Veteran Earl Kitchan has been assisted by Pat Nunn and a trio of underclassmen, Ron LeBarre, Bill Dean and Dave Peters.

In Hal Carlin's Orion team, Rochester meets a good rebounding team led by Lynn Hazlett and Rod Wiley, each 6-foot-2, and Dick Johnson. Freshman Nick Neira, 5 foot 7, adds speed.

In other games, Oxford ends a seige of five road games to meet North Branch on the home court. The Wildcats hold a 16-point decision over the same team earlier this season.

Berkley and Southfield of the Inter-Lakes will take winning streaks into non-league competition Tuesday. Southfield has taken four in a row to move into 2nd place behind the league leading Bears.

Berkley's streak has reached five games, including an 82-55 shellacking of Farmington Friday.

In that game, Dick Radatz finished his prep career with 25 points. However, the 6 foot 5 pivotman has not been playing regularly of late and his graduation is not expected to hurt the Bears' title hopes measurably.

Berkley will be at Hazel Park, while Southfield is at home to Redford Union. Another Inter-Lakes club, Walled Lake, plays at home with Plymouth, to whom the Vikings lost a 1-point overtime nod in December.

Elsewhere, Shrine bids for its 9th win in 10 games at St. Gregory. Unbeaten Utica (8-0) plays at Lake Shore, and Inlay City (9-2) goes to Capac.

The schedule:
Lake Orion at Rochester; North Branch at Oxford; Plymouth at Walled Lake; Clarendonville at Farmington; Berkley at Hazel Park; Redford Union at Southfield; Roseville at MC St. Mary; Royal Oak at Ferndale; Inlay City at Capac; Shrine at St. Gregory; Utica at Lake Shore; Warren at Eastland; South Lake at Center Line; Lakewood at Country Day; St. James at St. Paul's; RO St. Mary at St. Benedict; OL St. Mary at St. Rita.

Says 4-Minute Time Possible on Board Track

Kansan Finishes 30 Yards Ahead of Dane in Boston Event

BOSTON 28—Wes Santee, holder of the new world indoor mile record of 4:03.8, has changed the outlook for a 4-minute mile on banked boards and may alter his running strategy as a result of the performance.

Santee, who feels "at sea" running indoors, said after smashing Gil Dodds' mark of 4:05.3 in the Boston AA games Saturday night: "The 4-minute mile is possible indoors, but I'm not going to get it."

For a guy who maintains "I don't feel qualified to say much about running indoors because I haven't done it enough," Santee did all right.

Willoway Wes measured pacemaker Dick Olsen, ICA indoor and outdoor mile king, as the Northeastern student pushed to a stalling 56.7 quarter and 2:00 half mile. Then the 22-year-old Kansan opened the throttle and finished a good 30 yards ahead of Denmark's Gunnar Nielsen.

Santee had split two previous meetings with Nielsen by holding back to match fast kick finishes with the Copenhagen pressman.

Observers now feel that Santee, who needs no help in the open air (he's run outdoors in 4:00.8), will realize he can run away from an indoor field from the start.

Santee plans to campaign indoors in five major indoor meets in New York starting with the Wanamaker Mile in Madison Square Garden Saturday. Olsen and Fred Dwyer, who ran three quarters in a fraction over 3:03 two weeks ago, also will be on hand.

Asked if Olsen helped or hindered him with a fast pace, Santee said: "I think it helped. It helps me to relax. I meant to make it fast but I wasn't thinking of a record, though I knew I could do it. I'm glad Olsen is going to run in the Wanamaker Mile. I'm quite sure I can do better. The conditions must be right as they were Saturday. I may not break it this week but I sure am going to try."

Santee settled the issue of records on different types of indoor tracks by surpassing them all including Glenn Cunningham's 4:04.4 on Dartmouth's 6 1/2 lap track in 1938 and his own 4:04.9 last year on Michigan State's eight-lap dirt track.

Brooklyn Celebrates 'Daddy Vance Day'

BROOKLYN 28—It's Daddy Vance day today in Brooklyn in honor of the former Dodger pitching great's election to baseball's Hall of Fame last week.

Borough President John Cashmore made it Vance day in an official proclamation, hoping the 1955 Dodgers can produce a winner to match Vance's 28 victories in 1924.

UD Cagers Defeat Wayne, Now Play at Wichita U.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
University of Detroit basketball team returns to conference play Tuesday night after a two-week layoff from league action but helpful business elsewhere.

Titans flexed their muscles for a Tuesday Missouri Valley Conference meeting with Wichita University by posting a 69-44 victory over Wayne Saturday night. This gave Detroit its 13th triumph in 15 starts.

Wayne, down to a 5-10 record, meets Michigan Tech at Houghton Wednesday night. Tech is fresh from an 81-77 victory over Northland of Wisconsin.

Guy Sparrow and Dan Halling led the Titans with 16 and 11 points respectively.

Mays Tells How He Came Up to New York Giants; Steals Show at Baseball Writers' Annual Fete

NEW YORK 28—Willie Mays was telling how he came up to the New York Giants from Minneapolis in 1951.

"I'm in Sioux City, Iowa," he said. (Minneapolis was playing an exhibition game there.) "I'm sitting in the movies, watching a western when they flashed on the screen 'Willie Mays, report to the hotel.'"

"I don't know nobody at the hotel so I don't know what's going on. When I get to the hotel they tell me 'you're going to the majors.' I didn't want to go to no majors. I wanted to stay where I was and see the rest of that western."

"Next day I'm in Philadelphia and I'm playing center field for the Giants," he continued. "You know one thing? Robin Roberts was pitching that night. It didn't mean a thing to me. I didn't know and I didn't care. But it was five times up, five times down. After

Wings Unleash Biggest Scoring Spree to Crush League-Leading Canadiens, 7-1

DETROIT 28—The Detroit Red Wings unleashed their biggest scoring spree of the season last night and trounced the Montreal Canadiens 7-1 before a capacity crowd of 14,938 in Olympia Stadium.

Striking with startling swiftness, the Red Wings poured in all of their goals in the first 32 minutes of play—with five of them coming in a 9-minute burst in the 2nd period.

Resounding victory pulled the Wings to within one point of the league-leading Canadiens, who suffered their most humiliating defeat of this season.

Glen Skov and Marcel Bonin led Detroit's surge with two goals apiece. Gordie Howe, Johnny Wilson and Marty Pavelich each scored once.

Maurice Richard tallied Montreal's only goal in the 1st period but it was the Rocket, strangely enough, who was primarily responsible for the Canadiens' downfall. In the 2nd period, Richard high-sticked Vic Stasiuk and was given a 5-minute penalty for drawing blood.

While he was off the ice, the Red Wings scored twice and turned a close 3-1 game into a rout.

Going into the 2nd period, Detroit held a slim 2-1 lead on goals by Pavelich and Skov. It was, at that time, anybody's game.

But things quickly changed. At 3:14 of the 2nd period, Skov pounced on a loose puck and drilled in his 2nd goal of the game.

Benham's Ban Fails to Stop Record Runs

Sled Racer, Suspended From International Tests, Sets 2 Marks

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. 28—Controversy clouds the immediate future of former world champion Stanley Benham in international bobsled competition, but there's no question of his present status—he's still breaking records.

The 40-year-old manager of the Olympic arena here smashed two more records Sunday while winning the Adirondack AAU two-man championship. He set four records Saturday while winning the four-man title.

The performance came less than 24 hours after the International Bobsled Federation suspended Benham from international competition—including the 1956 winter Olympics—for three years. Benham's withdrawal from the world four-man championships in 1954 and "improper letters addressed to the press and the president of the FIAT," led to the suspension.

Then Richard drew his critical penalty, and the floodgates were opened.

While the Wings were pressing in front of the cage, Montreal defenseman Doug Harvey accidentally knocked the puck into the net and Bonin was credited with a goal. That made it 4-1.

In rapid order, Wilson scored at 7:22, Bonin at 10:05, and Howe at 11:36. Wings never came close to another goal after that. But they had more than enough.

Despite the one-sidedness of the score the game was closely played and referee Red Storey handed out 19 penalties.

In the dressing room, coach Jimmy Skinner of the Wings said he was "pleased" with the victory but added:

"This is the type of game which can make a team overconfident. I'm satisfied with beating the Canadiens. But now I'm worried about the Boston game, Thursday night."

Skinner, a realistic man, wasn't being overly pessimistic. He warned against a similar letdown earlier this month as the Red Wings proceeded to lose three straight games. Once is enough for Skinner.

Haas, Souchak, Mayfield in Playoff at Thunderbird

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. 28—Three professional golfers, Freddie Haas Jr., Mike Souchak and Shelley Mayfield, went back to work today in a playoff for the $2,000 top money of the Thunderbird Invitational tournament.

The trio wound up even at the end of the regulation 72-hole distance Sunday—270 strokes and 18 blows under par.

Today's duel was set for 18 holes, and a sudden death engagement in event there was still a tie.

Haas, from New Orleans, at 39 the senior member of the threesome, put together rounds of 70-66-67-67 for his 270.

Mayfield, registered out of Chicago, Mass., had 63-70-68-69, and Souchak, 71, ex-football player from Duke, ended with 66-66-69-69.

Haas, who won the 1954 Thunderbird event with a 72-hole score of 268, probably merited the role of favorite in the playoff off his previous experience.

Of the three, Haas had the most right perhaps to groan over Sunday's climax and today's anti-climax at the Thunderbird Country Club, a course of 6,875 yards with par 36-36-72.

Fred came to the 18th green leading the field by one stroke on the par-five hole. But he found a trap to the left of the crowded green, and it took two strokes to get out. He still had a chance for par with a 5-foot putt and, as matters turned out, a clear decision. But he missed the putt by inches.

Johnny Palmer, Souchak and Mayfield started the final round one stroke ahead of Bob Rosburg, Wally Ulrich, Bo Winger and Holcher.

In the drive for home, Haas came on with Souchak, Mayfield held and Palmer, Holcher, Rosburg, and the rest drifted back.

Palmer finished at 271 and winner of 1953; Holcher and Rosburg at 272.

1-Platoon Idea Slows Up NFL's Roster Building

Pros Say 2-Way Play Shrugs Collegians' Natural Ability

NEW YORK 28—National Football League clubs, convinced things would be easier if the colleges returned to the two-platoon system, set out today to sign up the collegians they drafted during their annual business meeting which ended Saturday.

The NFL coaches feel they've been handicapped since the colleges shed the platoon system, which still is a pro standby. One-platoon play shrugs a player's natural ability, the pros argue, and that makes it all the tougher for them to spot the college stars who might fill their needs.

That problem was obvious during the draft, too, matter of business during the three-day NFL session. It took more than 16 hours for the pros to select 390 players.

Only a handful of top college stars—such as Oregon's George Shaw, Baltimore's "bonus" pick; Notre Dame's Ralph Guglielmi, Oklahoma's Max Boydston and Wisconsin's Alana Ameche—were on every club's list. Once past those standouts, it was pick a name and hope for the best.

Joe Stydahar, coach of the Washington Redskins, had a particularly grim look on the situation.

"This one platoon football is hard on a boy who wants to play pro football," he said. "It doesn't develop his ability . . . and after we sign a player it may take a couple of years to bring out his potentialities. It takes time to learn what he can do and to develop him."

In closing action, the pros voted to have the annual Chicago All-Star game played under their rules instead of the college system.

In other business, the NFL gave Commissioner Bert Bell a free hand to reach a no-raiding peace with Canadian football.

Soybeans Dip; Others Weak

CHICAGO (P) — Soybeans recorded losses running to a few cents and the rest of the grain market weakened on the Board of Trade today. Dealings proceeded at a moderately active pace.

Selling in soybeans followed issuance after the close last Friday of an Agriculture Department report on the amount of beans in all positions on January 1. The total set a new record high. Other grains declined on mild hedging pressure and lack of investment demand.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/2 to 1/4 lower, March $2.31; corn 1/4 to 1/8 lower, March $1.35; oats 1/4 to 1/8 lower, March $1.24; soybeans 1/4 to 1/8 lower, March $2.21; and land 3 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $12.85.

Romans Haggle Over Demolition

Italian Modernists Vie With Ancients on Plan for City Improvements

ROME (AP)—The fight is on between ancient and modern Rome. At stake is the future of the city of the Colosseum, tourists, cobbled streets and jammed traffic.

The City Council, the press and the volatile Roman public have split between the two sides. Half want to preserve the old central city in its unpainted, crowded confusion. Half want to see the old give way to a broad-streeted modern business center.

Defenders of the old Rome won one of the opening rounds. Yielding to public cries of protest, the City Council temporarily forbade any further demolition in the old sectors to make way for wider streets or newer buildings.

Modern traffic won the second—with an assist from rainstorm. "Irate artists set up their easels across both ends of Via Margutta to stop the increasing flow of traffic directed into the old art quarter by new traffic measures.

Police tried to shoo them away but failed. Then a downpour dampened their enthusiasm. Reluctantly they lugged their easels back into the studios lining the quaint, narrow street.

Rome's big, independent "Il Messaggero" has come out on the side of modernity.

No one on either side of the argument favors any menace to Rome's really ancient monuments—the Colosseum, the Forum, the Pantheon or other great relics of Imperial Rome.

1,756 Traffic Deaths New Low for State

LANSING (UP)—A record low of 1,756 deaths and 55,300 injuries in 182,830 traffic accidents were reported during 1952, State Police said today.

The figures were higher than earlier 1952 estimates because of a jump in December accidents, police said.

The December toll of 187 deaths and 5,460 injuries was the highest for that month since 1948.

"The estimated 1952 death rate of 6.6 per 100,000 miles of travel will be the lowest on record in Michigan despite an all-time high in motor vehicle registrations and travel," the police year-end reports said.

Crosses Ocean to Vote

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP)—Orazio Guilaro believes his may be the most expensive vote anywhere. Guilaro, who maintains a street address here, has lived in Italy since 1947, but each election he returns to cast his ballot. Guilaro estimated that the trips cost an average of $1,000. "It's worth it," he said.
