U.S. Ponders Action If Allies Ignore Cease-Fire

Britain, France Determined to Take Suez

America Eyes Recall of U. N. If Troops Land at Canal

WASHINGTON (INS)—The United States today studied measures which may be taken if Israel, Britain and France ignore the U. N. resolution calling for a cease-fire in Egypt.

From London, Britain and France announced their determination to push on with occupation of the Suez Canal area despite the U. N. demand.

British Prime Minister Anthony Eden told the House of Commons emergency session that after the occupation, Anglo-French forces will be "pleased" to turn over enforcement of peace to some U. N. force.

While Eden spoke, the Foreign Ministry in Paris declared France is determined to go ahead in the "police action."

American officials said the United States most likely will ask immediately for another meeting of the U.N. General Assembly special session if British and French troops land on Egyptian soil.

If the Anglo-French forces stage landings in Egypt, officials said, this will demonstrate London and Paris do not intend to comply with the U.S.-sponsored resolution,

Passed by a 64 - 5 vote, the resolution calls for an immediate cease-fire, withdrawal of Israeli troops and a ban on shipment of military goods to the area.

U.S. officials said they are studying several steps which might be taken—either by the United States or by other nations—to enforce the resolution.

POSSIBLE ACTION

Informed sources said these include freezing economic aid, blocking funds, suspending economic cooperation and trade, and breaking off diplomatic relations.

American experts stressed that the United States, although considering these measures, will not make any move which would widen the gap between the Western Big Three.

U. S. sources also stressed America will never go along with any suggestions to send in a

General Motors Trucks for '57 Head for Nation's Highways

GMC Trucks Make '57 Debut

New GMC trucks for 1957, carrying an advanced look in styling and best-of-industry horsepower for light and medium-duty users, were introduced today by the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

A new 347 cubic inch V8 truck engine with 206 gross horsepower will be in 1957 GMC light and medium-duty trucks, giving them a performance edge that leads the list of many new model changes.

"With our new V-8 we have one of the most important power developments in GMC truck history," said Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division.

"Our 1957 V-8 trucks are so powerful that some models have one horsepower of pulling strength for each 15½ pounds of vehicle weight. This power resource means they are able to walk away with a load without sacrificing nimbleness, maneuverability or roadability."

EXTRA POWER

The extra power for the new GMC models also means an added safety factory as drivers will find a faster response in an emergency, Monaghan said.

New developments in GMC's heavy-duty trucks for 1957, which will include air suspension models, will be announced later, Monaghan said.

Models in the GMC 100-250 light and 300-370 medium weight brackets range from town-and-country pickups and Suburban station wagons to Dual-Purpose cross-country highway tractors combining in one vehicle the good features of cab-over engine and conventional vehicle designs.

Four-wheel-drive that can be converted to a two-wheel-drive for open highway use by the shift of a single lever is a factory-installed option in the light duty GMC truck line.

A new recessed multi-bar grille angled forward at the top retains the rakish GMC "leaning into the load" look. Two raised ribs on the hood, known as "wind splitters," strengthen and help streamline the front end. Exterior features also include safety locks on cabs and panel rear

Israel in Danger of Arab Attack From Jordan

Ships Warned to Avoid Sea Near Canal Zone; Hint Assault Near

LONDON (AP) — British and French warplanes today pummeled Egyptian tanks, truck convoys and military installations in the fourth day of an air bombardment in the Suez Canal area.

These attacks apparently were aimed at wiping out opposition to a landing of British - French ground forces.

Most indications pointed to an early jumpoff of the British-French assault on the Canal zone.

The threat of Arab-Israeli fighting on Israel's eastern border arose after Israeli forces pushed back some 20,000 Egyptian troops in the Sinai Peninsula on the west.

Israel previously implied she will take action to prevent bolstering of Jordanian forces by other Arab nations.

A dispatch from Beirut, Lebanon, said the British-controlled Cyprus radio warned all merchant ships to stay away from the eastern Mediterranean and the mouth of the Red Sea "until further notice"—an indication assault craft were headed toward the two ends of the important waterway.

In Baghdad, the government announced officially Iraqi troops have moved into Jordan.

The Israeli radio earlier reported fresh Arab forces, pledged to answer any call for aid from Egypt's President Nasser, were reported moving into Jordan from Iraq and Syria.

The broadcast said Jordan's King Hussein asked for the entry of Iraqi troops into his country.

BOMB TROOPS

A French military spokesman said the combined British and French air forces turned their sights on regrouping Egyptian army units and big military installations on the fourth day of their air bombardment of Egypt.

The primary target the first three days was Egyptian airfields.

After announcing last night that all was set for the landing, a French military spokesman said today there were "relatively" few French and British troops at the Cyprus staging area when the air assault began Wednesday. He said it required seven days to bring more troops by sea from England and four days from France. However, both countries massed large numbers of troops in the Mediterranean soon after Nasser an-

4 Dead, 7 Missing, Scores Stranded

Central Plains Whipped by High Winds and Snow

By International News Service

Four persons were known dead, at least seven persons missing and scores more stranded today as the worst blizzard since 1949 roared across the central plains states, leaving the area virtually paralyzed.

Snow, measuring as much as 15 inches, whipped high by hurricane-like winds up to 95 miles per hour, closed schools, snarled traffic, disrupted communications and stranded motorists throughout western Nebraska and Kansas; and eastern Wyoming and Colorado.

Several towns and cities in the area were isolated with all roads closed by huge drifts and telephone communications down.

Two of the deaths occurred in the Dakotas as the storm headed eastward.

Thomas W. Rowen, 63, of Minot, N.D., was injured fatally when he slipped while walking along U.S. 83 in Minot.

Herman Blumer, 68, of Hill City, S.D., was killed when he fell 25 feet onto rocks after his car skidded and crashed on ice near Rapid City, S.D.

Earlier, 29-year-old James Lee Belcher of Lamar, Colo., a lineman, was electrocuted when he touched a live wire while working on a storm-damaged line near Lamar.

Eight-year-old Jerry Seveland died last night of exposure, hours after losing his way to a rural school near Merriman, Neb. The boy had lain in the snow for seven hours before he was found.

Two persons were reported injured in an accident near Bayard Neb. The two men, Darrell Frakes of Bayard, and Arthur Carter of Bridgeport, Neb., were stranded with their rescuers at a farm near Bayard.

Rescue activity was intensified this morning in the belief the trucks may be out of gas, after the drivers kept the motors running to keep the heaters on.

Group Studies Incorporation

Waterford Committee to Discuss Problems of City Government

A "study committee", discussing Waterford Township incorporation will meet Thursday night in Waterford High School to present reports on its findings.

It is not yet known how far the group has progressed in its incorporation movement. Reports that petitions for an election are ready for circulation have been denied by officials of the committee.

Attorney David C. Hertler, chairman of the committee, said yesterday his subcommittees have been given pamphlets containing sample forms of the petitions.

"The committee now is studying the operation and financial setup of a home rule city. Reports on these studies will be given Thursday," Hertler said.

COST STUDIED

According to Mrs. Edmund L. Windeler, secretary of the group, the reports will include taxation studies, probable costs of a city government, structure and powers of a city government, and possible changes in the township's educational organization.

L. A. Has Its Smog, but Pontiac Has Fog

The weatherman predicts partly cloudy weather for tonight with more fog likely. A low of 50 to 54 is forecast.

Tomorrow is expected to be mostly cloudy with little temperature change. The high is expected to be around 60 to 65.

Last night in downtown Pontiac the low was 50. Today at 2 p.m. the thermometer reading was 57.

Ike, Adlai Wrapping Up Bids for Election

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson kept the war in Egypt in the forefront of campaign controversy today.

He came back to Illinois for what he hopes will be the biggest political rally of his career in Chicago Stadium tonight.

Stevenson's campaign reaches its climax at the big rally when his address—9 p.m. Pontiac time—will be carried across the nation on radio and TV.

However he will follow it up Monday with a breakfast rally in Minneapolis and a final get-out-the-vote appeal from Wagner at Libertyville Monday night.

In Washington, President Eisenhower stuck to his desk today, keeping his calendar clear for top-level conferences on the confused situations in Europe and the Middle East.

Though Eisenhower stood by his announced decision to make no more political talks, the White House continued to be a focal point in the campaign for his re-election.

The White House also has become a sounding board for a variety of "reports" to Eisenhower from cabinet officers, presenting their appraisal of the administration's performance in their fields.

Yesterday Secretary of Labor Mitchell sent Eisenhower a letter telling the President farm prices have risen 2.8 per cent during his term in office.

Dulles Hospitalized, Suspect Appendicitis

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles entered Walter Reed Army Hospital early today and a provisional diagnosis of appendicitis was made.

The State Department's statement in midmorning said the 68-year-old secretary "is resting comfortably" and has been carrying on some of his work by telephone from his hospital bed.

Press Officer Lincoln White said word on the possibility of an operation would have to await a final diagnosis.

Dulles was stricken in the midst of tense diplomatic maneuvering over two world crises—fighting in the Middle East and Russian intervention in the Hungarian revolt against communism.

Most U. S. Citizens Leave Middle East

WASHINGTON (INS) — The State Department has announced that evacuation of all Americans except essential personnel is virtually complete in the Middle East.

A total 2,857 U.S. citizens had left Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria yesterday. About 2,500 remained behind.

Department spokesman Lincoln White said the breakdown shows that the largest number of evacuees—1,421 of them—left Israel. Another 1,106 had been in Egypt.

Airline Service Sought Locally

Chamber of Commerce Asks Written Support From Pontiac Area

Letters—1,078 of them—are in the mail from the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce to Pontiac area business and professional men asking them to voice their support for airline service at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Chamber, hopes that his office will receive at least 300 letters by Dec. 1 so that they can be presented to the Civil Aeronautics Board.

In the Chamber letter, Hirlinger indicates that if commercial service is approved, it would include air freight, air express, and air mail.

The letter asks answers to the following questions:

(1) How frequently would you and your organization require passenger service?

(2) How frequently would you and your organization require air freight and air express service?

(3) From your knowledge of your own needs and those of the Pontiac community, what is your own opinion as to the need for such service?

CLUBS CONTACTED

Hirlinger added he has written to all local service clubs and planned to contact other local organizations.

"I also encourage John Q. Citizen to write the Chamber letters on how they feel on this subject," he said.

Help Hungary, Nagy Asks U. N.

New SOS Sent as Red Troops Thrust Deeper, Block Austrian Border

BUDAPEST (AP) — Embattled Hungary sought United Nations help today as Soviet armored forces thrust westward from Budapest in an apparent effort to close off her frontier with Austria.

Premier Imre Nagy sent his second appeal in two days to the U. N. urging action on his request the world body guarantee Hungarian independence.

Budapest radio announced today replacement of the former Hungarian government by an "inner cabinet" led by Premier Imre Nagy.

The Western powers strove to whip into shape a proposal supporting Hungary's demand for withdrawal of Soviet troops for presentation to a Security Council session this afternoon.

REDS BLOCK BORDER

Austria border points reported the Hungarian frontier had once more been sealed off. No travelers were allowed to cross from either side. The Russians held dozen of Americans and other foreigners in frontier villages as they tried to return to Vienna from Budapest.

Nagy has fired off three protests to the Soviet embassy complaining about troop movements in revolt-ravaged Hungary and charging that Russian troops had occupied rail installations and encircled Budapest.

When fresh Soviet forces were reported moving into Hungary three days ago, the Soviet ambassador told Nagy's government the movements were part of a regrouping in Hungary.

Butters Up Milk Herd

CHICAGO (INS)—The high-fidelity boom now has among its devotees a cow. A farmer decided recently nothing is too good for his cows. He bought recorded tapes and a playback machine and installed them in the barn. He claims the herd has been producing more milk ever since.

EXERCISE IN DEMOCRACY — Students at Pontiac High School line up at one of 14 closed booths to cast their votes in yesterday's mock election. The voters of tomorrow picked the team of Eisenhower and Nixon by a slight margin over Stevenson and Kefauver. The election was sponsored by the school's civic classes.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Elmer Jones

Yesterday's Press account of funeral service for Mrs. Elmer (Ina Alena) Jones, of 111 Omar St., incorrectly stated the time as 2:30 p.m. today. The correct time is 2:30 p.m. tomorrow and it will be from the First General Baptist Church.

Mary E. Stephison

Mary E. Stephison, 70, of 2241 Pine Lake Ave., died yesterday afternoon after an illness of several months.

She was born on May 1, 1886 in Canada and was the daughter of George Perry.

A member of the First Baptist Church of Pontiac, she has lived in and around Pontiac for the last 50 years.

Surviving her are two children, Gertrude M. Stephison of Keego Harbor and Roland of Pontiac, and a brother, Virgil Perry of Fla. Three grandchildren are also surviving.

Prayer service will be from the Farmer - Snover Funeral Home Monday at 1:30 p.m. Burial will be in Perry Mt. Park with the Rev. William E. Hakes of the First Baptist Church reading.

Hopes Fading for 113 as Rescuers Dig On

SPRINGHILL, Nova Scotia (AP)—Rescue workers dug through mounds of fallen coal early today seeking 113 trapped miners, but a mine official said there was "only the very slightest possibility" that any of the missing men were still alive.

The rescue teams worked deep within the pit of a mine where an explosion, fire and gas Thursday night killed 13 men and trapped the others.

Harold Gordon, coal chief of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corp. and director of rescue operations, told reporters "the probability is that the men are dead."

The miners were trapped in tunnels more than half a mile below the surface at the No. 4 pit of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Co.

Near the pit's entrance hundreds of friends and relatives of the men waited during the night in a cold drizzle.

Twin License Plates Go on Sale Nov. 14

LANSING (AP) — License plates will go on sale Nov. 14, Secretary of State James M. Hare announced today.

It will be the first time since 1944 that both front and rear plates will be issued.

Although law authorized the use of two plates, front plates were discontinued to save steel for war industries.

The Legislature this year appropriated enough money to return to the two-plate system at the urging of police and sheriffs, who said it would make identification easier.

The 1957 plates are white on maroon.

Half year commercial and trailer plates will go on sale Wednesday. They are good from Nov. 15 through May 14.

Driver Slightly Hurt in City Accident

A 29-year-old driver escaped with only a cut lip when his car struck a utility pole on North Perry street last night, Pontiac police said.

Frederick P. Marker, of 3990 Perkins St. was treated at Pontiac General Hospital. His car veered off the road north of Oak Hill street, police said.

Crimes and Punishment

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Juvenile Court Judge Dorothy Young sentenced a Tulsan, 16, with six traffic citations this year to spend three hours each Friday night visiting accident scenes with police investigators. She said the sentence was "for an indeterminate time."

Students Learn Mechanics of Politics

PHS Mock Vote Favors Ike and Williams

Eisenhower and Nixon beat Stevenson and Kefauver, 866-722 in voting yesterday at Pontiac High School.

Some 1,500 "registered voters" participating in a mock election gave Gov. G. Mennen Williams an overwhelming vote of confidence, with 1,075 votes to 511 for Republican Albert E. Cobo.

Sponsoring the mock election for the high school were the civics classes of the Social Studies department.

Students manned the polls, campaigned for their favorite candidates, over the school public address system, and followed the national election trends until yesterday.

REGULAR BALLOTS

Fourteen booths were set up in the auditorium. Student registration was checked. Ballots identical to official ones were used.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart also was re-elected over Republican Clarence A. Reid.

The other state offices went to Democratic candidates except for auditor general, where Republican Paul D. Bagwell got the nod.

The state representative post for District 2 went to Republican Robert C. Miller.

Republicans carried county offices except for register of deeds, which went to Democrat B. Jack Habel with 773 votes to Daniel T. Murphy's 765.

O'HARA AND EDWARDS

In the judicial vote, Michael D. O'Hara and George Edwards won.

Students voted "yes," 775-210, on the proposed amendment to the state constitution.

Planning the election project was H. Guy Bevington, social studies instructor. The project took the cooperation of 130 students, who planned and carried out the work.

In a report from Jefferson Junior High School, which also held a mock election yesterday, students gave Stevenson 204 votes to 113 for Eisenhower. Williams finished top in the gubernatorial race, 255-56, at Jefferson.

Breakin Blamed on Professionals

Clawson Drug Store Entered Through Roof; Safe Broken Open

Thieves last night broke through the roof of a Clawson drug store and expertly drilled the store's safe, walking away through the back door with $3,000, Clawson police said today.

Sidney Fogel, proprietor of Sid's Drugs, said he has not yet taken an inventory, but "it would appear" the thieves had not taken narcotics from the safe.

Police Sgt. Duard Miller said the thieves broke through the roof of the building, located at 14 Mile road and Main street.

He added they apparently left through the back door of the store, breaking the hasp of a padlock on an iron grill outside the door.

Miller said it was "definitely a professional job" of safecracking.

"It's possible, but I don't think we'll have anything concrete enough for a final decision," he said.

Car Rams Pole as Fog Blinds Pontiac Driver

A 17-year-old driver, who explained he was blinded by fog, rammed a Joslyn avenue utility pole last night, Pontiac police said.

Jimmy L. Swindell, of 101 S. Johnson Ave. was treated for minor cuts and bruises at Pontiac General Hospital. He stated he missed the intersection at North Perry street and struck the corner pole, according to police.

Detroit Welcome Spurs Dems

10,000 Cheer Stevenson

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan Democrats breathed easier today after their hardest hitting effort to win the state for their national ticket.

Adlai Stevenson's impressive Detroit showing last night spurred Democratic hopes for a White House-to-courthouse party sweep in the balloting Tuesday.

The cheering throng that packed into the Fox to hear Stevenson last night was estimated by theater manager Robert Bothwell at 8,000. Police Lt. Winckoski said at least 2,000 others listened to the speech outside the theater and almost mobbed the two-time presidential candidate when he tried to slip out the stage door.

The partisan yells that greeted Gov. G. Mennen William's introductory remarks at the regionally televised rally were as impressive as the cheers Stevenson received.

ASKS CLEAN SWEEP

Williams, seemingly confident of victory over his GOP opponent, Mayor Albert Cobo of Detroit, concentrated on urging a clean sweep for the Democrats—from local offices to the presidency.

His prepared urgings to "Make it emphatic, vote Democratic," drew prolonged response from the crowd that packed aisles as well as the theater's 5,500 seats.

Williams, seeking a fifth two-year term, put in a tough day of campaigning. He was not at the airport for Stevenson's arrival at 4 p.m., or his departure, preferring instead to concentrate on a 14-stop tour of the Detroit area.

The Stevenson party, including his sister and his two sons, was greeted at Wayne Major by Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (D-Mich) and other state party leaders.

Big Engines Power New GMC Trucks

doors, and a redesigned locking device on Model F350 and F370 accessibility doors.

A new deep center steering wheel on 100-250 models, with the center column and horn button well-recessed, gives the driver greater crash protection, Monaghan said.

3 ENGINES AVAILABLE

Two 6-cylinders and a V-8 engine power various models. Both 6-cylinders have 270 cubic-inch displacement, but through different carburetion, one develops 130 and the other 140 horsepower.

With its 347 cubic-inch displacement and its 206 gross horsepower, the V-8 makes GMC light-duty trucks the most powerful in the business, Monaghan pointed out. It tops last year's V-8 for comparable models by 26 horsepower.

Improved carburetion through the use of a downdraft carburetor boosts the power and economy of the 6-cylinder engine in package-delivery models PM150 and PM250 from 120 to 130 gross horsepower.

Basic engine advances and standardization on manual chokes have increased fuel economy throughout the entire light and medium-duty line.

Redesigned and strengthened transmissions, prop shafts, bearings and rear axles give users greater strength and durability, according to Monaghan.

The optional five-speed transmission in models 350-370 has new ratio characteristics which provide maximum highway tractor performance.

HYDRA-MATIC OPTIONAL

GMC Hydra-Matic transmissions are optional equuipment on all models.

Making its debut on some models is a new Hydra-Matic that has low-shift points which permit smoother shifts through all gears, thus assuring operation in fourth direct. This allows maximum performance and greater economy under operations in congested traffic, designers say.

Because it proved itself economical and durable in actual commercial operation, GMC's 3.07 economy rear axle becomes standard in the 100 series models. Tests on both the 270 engine and V-8 have shown the axle boosts fuel economy as much as 17 per cent, Monaghan said.

Other features of the new models include new shock absorber mountings, new engine supports on some models, an air-pak brake option on medium-duty units, cast or disc wheels in 370 series models, new power take-off gear box option for model 300s, tractor brake protective devices for 370 models, and negative ground electrical systems for all vehicles.

Dual stop and tail lights are now standard on panel and Suburban 100 and 250 models and larger 60 ampere-hour batteries are used in all V-8 models.

Other refinements include the new heavy-duty T-3 headlamps on all 300-370 models, and, on V-8 engines, a new inverted design distributor that permits the setting of points with the engine running.

RAF Clears Stage for Attack on Suez

nounced nationalization of the Suez Canal July 26.

The Syrian radio, substituting for the bombed-out Cairo station, claimed the Egyptians shot down five British bombers today, raising to 18 the number of British and French planes the Egyptians claim to have downed.

The French spokesman said French-British air raids dealt a heavy blow at the Egyptian artillery barracks at Al Mazo, near Cairo, and other military installations.

He said Egyptian ground forces appeared to be regrouping west of the Suez Canal after being pushed from the Sinai Peninsula by Israeli forces. The Israelis reported they had gained control of the immense and barren peninsula and that ground fighting died down today.

"We are now in the phase of technical operations which sooner or later will prepare the path to the occupation of the canal," the French spokesman said.

He said the Egyptians have sunk six vessels in the Suez Canal to sabotage the waterway and that the British-French command was making plans to clear the sunken ships as soon as its ground forces secured the canal zone. The Egyptians have charged the British and French bombers with sinking two ships in the canal, but the British-French command has denied it.

Tension Sweeps Jittery Poland

People Fear Russia May Call on Troops to Quell Incidents

BERLIN (INS) — Poland was reported on edge today because of fears Russia might intervene there as she has in Hungary.

Tension swept through the country on report of Soviet troops moving across Poland to East Germany.

The Communist Party's new leadership insisted in a proclamation published in newspapers that Soviet troops could not be withdrawn at the present time.

It was learned the government feared a "desperate group" of rebels might rise and throw Poland into civil war.

SOVIET TROOPS FEARED

Rumors claimed the Soviet Union might throw troops into action in answer to incidents and demonstrations reported in different places throughout the country.

Some of the apprehension undoubtedly was caused by the continual Warsaw Radio appeals for "responsibility" and "calmness" by the people.

Long lines of people were standing outside food stores to stock up "just in case." Warsaw citizens drew their money out of banks.

(The London Daily Telegraph reported that Polish leaders were meeting continuously to plan emergency measures to avert possible violence.)

HOLD FIRE, POLICE TOLD

It was learned police were ordered not to fire against crowds under any circumstances for fear some small incident could set the entire country aflame, and provide a pretext for Russian intervention before the national conference of the Polish Communist Party meeting Sunday in Warsaw.

Area Driver Hurt From Hitting Trees

A Sylvan Lake man is listed in fair condition today after suffering internal injuries when his car ran off W. Long Lake road in West Bloomfield Township last night, ramming two trees.

Leo Rissanen, 27, also suffered minor cuts and bruises, authorities at Pontiac General Hospital said.

Change Stolen at Station

An undetermined amount of small change from vending machines was stolen by burglars who broke into a gas station at 360 Orchard Lake Ave. Thursday night Pontiac Police said today. A side window was broken.

BIRMINGHAM — The coming week's events include a special Board of Education meeting, an art show, an AAUW breakfast for Mrs. Ruth Shain, a musicale, and Town Hall lectures, besides election-day activities.

Harland Elementary School construction bids will be received and other business discussed at the Board of Education session Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Hill School.

Charlotte and Bill Whitney are opening a month's showing of their pastels, crayons, drawings and other pictures at their studio at 308 Park St., tomorrow.

Tracing 15 years of artwork for Whitney, who specializes in hand-wrought jewelry and Mrs. Whitney, who teaches art at City and County School, is the display. They'll serve refreshments tomorrow afternoon and evening.

For a program of French music for Birmingham Musicale members Thursday at Community House, Mrs. Harold L. Walker has asked Dr. Helen Clapp Dudeck, cellist, Teruko Yamasake, pianist, Nioma Sherman and Beverly Stief, sopranos, and Lois Holmes, accompanist, to perform.

Dr. Dudek, who studied under George Miquelle, is a Detroit school teacher and plays with the Detroit String Trio. She was solo cellist with the Detroit Women's Symphony for four years.

Mrs. Yamasaki of Troy was a Julliard School of Music fellow. Mrs. Sherman, of Royal Oak, is soprano soloist at St. James Episcopal Church, and Mrs. Stief, of Clawson, sings in Our Shepherd Lutheran Church and is a member of the Detroit Opera Workshop. Mrs. Holmes, just back from Glenview, Ill., is a former accompanist for the Detroit Madrigal Club.

Mrs. Charles Shain's talk on Tuesday morning is for members of her own class on International Affairs and for members of the AAUW, and will deal with her recent trip abroad and attendance at the International Federation of University Women Paris Conference.

Class members are asked to join the AAUW for breakfast, after which they will hear the talk.

Mrs. Shain will continue her four-session series on the Middle East and Suez, begun last week, dwelling in part on it on Tuesday.

Lutheran Church of Bloomfield Township will have service at 11:15 a.m. with Sunday School at 10 a.m., so that Vicar Martin Renner may conduct an earlier service at the new Drayton Plains Church, opening tomorrow at 9:30 a.m.

Birmingham Child Study Club will meet Tuesday at Mrs. Doyle Lott's home, 835 Madison Ave., at 8 p.m. for a talk, "Inspirations for Christmas" by Mrs. C. R. Obermeyer of the Birmingham Garden Club.

The Birmingham OES will meet Wednesday.

The Young Adult Dinner Dance group of the First Congregational Church will have a spaghetti meal and dance at the church hall at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Exchange Clubsters will hear a talk on the "solar battery" at their Tuesday noon luncheon.

Mrs. Anna V. Evans

Rosary for Mrs. Anna V. Evans, 70, 1541 Balmoral Dr., Palmer Woods, who died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday morning after a brief illness, will be recited at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. at 8:30 p.m. Sunday, and requiem mass will be at Holy Name Church at 11 a.m. Monday.

She has been a Detroit resident for the past 40 years, and is the widow of Percy T. Evans, an S. S. Kresge Co. executive. Surviving are a son, Thomas K. Evans, of Birmingham, and three brothers.

Victim Slugged, Robbed in Garage

Thugs bound and gagged a city man in his garage last night, after slugging him as he returned home about 10:30. They escaped with the man's wallet and $82, Pontiac police said.

The victim, John Kelly, of 100 Lafayette St. said he had parked his car and was about to leave the garage when suddenly rendered semi-conscious by a blow to the right side of his head.

He was dragged by the neck to a work-bench and tied to a leg, he said. His wallet was taken, he said, and a dirty rag from the work-bench stuffed in his mouth to prevent an outcry.

Kelly said he regained full consciousness after the thugs left and was able to work himself loose in about half an hour.

He was unable to describe his assailants, police said.

Crash Victim Suffers Brain Concussion

A Royal Oak man was hospitalized with a brain concussion suffered in a three-car pileup blamed on thick fog in Troy early today.

Grover Settlemoir, 61, one of the drivers, is in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The other cars were driven by Mrs. Bernadette Gilmette, 33, of Birmingham, and Chester J. Kowala Jr., 16, of Ferndale.

The accident occured at Stephenson and East Maple Rds., Troy police said.

DONATE WAGES — These carpenters will donate four hours of work — and pay — to the Pontiac Area United Fund next week. They are members of Local 998, competing for the trophy in the center above. Next to the trophy are Oring Cummings, carpenter contractor, (left); Ward Ross, builder, (center); and Chester Jacobs Sr., local representative, (right). Other construction workers throughout the state are competing. Regardless who gets the trophy, the UF wins.

Aim to Put Pontiac Fund on Top

Building Trades Workers Vie for State UF Trophy

Construction workers here next week will turn whole-heartedly toward building a better community.

They've accepted a statewide challenge to give more to their united community fund drive than any other group of building tradesmen in Michigan.

Nominal prize will be a trophy, established by the Michigan United Fund. The real winners, though, will be united charity drives such as the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Pontiac area carpenters are spearheading the contest. Local 998 pledge four hours of work—half a day's labor—next Wednesday.

SET GROUP QUOTA

Construction workers are seeking to go over the top of their group quota of $11,283. So far, $3,373, of 30 per cent, has been pledged.

They have about two weeks to go before the big drive ends Nov. 16. The overall goal for Pontiac plus Waterford and Pontiac Townships is $612,202.

A little over half, $309,797, has been pledged.

Construction group chairman Fred J. Poole announced that two units are leading his group. These are general contractors and heating-roofing companies, which have made 112 and 176 per cent of quotas respectively.

However, solicitors of many other units have not yet made reports, Poole added.

The state-wide competition was launched Sept. 18. It is endorsed by Tom Borst, president of the Michigan Building Trades Conference.

U. S. Plots Action If Allies Push War

U. N. "police force" to stop the fighting.

Washington officials say they believe this idea is not only impractical but it would have a deteriorating effect on the situation.

The maintenance of as good relations as possible with our two European allies still rates top priority, the State Department said.

One step the U.S. took Friday is not expected to have much effect. Washington clamped a ban on shipments of military goods to Israel and Egypt. But Egypt wasn't receiving military equipment, and Israel has been receiving only small amounts of minor items.

Experts concede Britain and France can easily compensate for the stoppage of American munitions and spare parts to Israel.

They said the ban was made primarily "in the principle of the thing" rather than to cut down on Israel's fighting capabilities.

Nixon Hails U. N. Resolution

Vote Gives Eisenhower World Wide Backing on Policies, He Says

WITH NIXON IN OHIO (AP) — Vice President Nixon says the United Nations has given the Middle East policies of the Eisenhower administration "a world wide vote of confidence" by approving the United States cease-fire resolution 64-5.

Nixon, who ends his campaign tour today, told the nation last night the United Nations action had given "the lie" to what he termed a "preposterous" charge by Adlai Stevenson the United States "is standing alone in an unfriendly world."

The Vice President replied as an administration spokesman to a Thursday night radio and television address from Buffalo, N. Y., by the Democratic presidential candidate.

Nixon's speech, also carried nationally over radio and television, was made from a Republican rally at Hershey, Pa. Members of the White House staff and Secretary of State Dulles were said to have helped prepare the address.

INDEPENDENT POLICY

"The significance of what has happened in the last few days," said Nixon, "is this: For the first time in history we have shown independence of Anglo - French policies toward Asia and Africa which seemed to us to reflect the colonial tradition. That declaration of independence has had an electrifying effect throughout the world, and will continue to have."

He said that before this "declaration" nations in Asia and Africa "have always felt that we would, whenever the pressure was on, side with the policies of the British and French governments in relation to the once colonial areas."

It was Nixon's only nationally televised talk of the campaign. The rally was attended by a crowd of about 6,000 in an 8,500-seat arena. Nixon aides said they felt rainy weather was responsible for what they regarded as a disappointing turnout.

He winds up his schedule with a whistle-stop tour through Ohio, speaking at Marietta, Athens, Chillicothe, Gallon, Mansfield and Canton.

Extreme Cold Halts South Polar Base

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica, (AP)—South polar temperatures of 58 below zero prompted Adm. George Dufek to call a temporary halt today to attempts to set up a U.S. base at the bottom of the world.

Yesterday's landing at the pole enabled man to make the first accurate ground check of the temperature this early in the season.

Dufek was the first man to step on the south polar plateau since the ill-fated Scott expedition 44 years ago.

"The combination of the 10,000 foot altitude and the extreme cold are believed too hard on construction crews at this time," Dufek said.

Sue Singer Billy Williams

HACKENSACK, N. J. (AP)—Billy illiams, 40, leader of the singing quartet bearing his name, has been accused of deserting his wife and two children. Williams, whose real first name is Wilfred, was served with a divorce complaint yesterday as he arrived from Cleveland. Mrs. Lois T. Williams of Teaneck said they were married at Los Angeles in May 1946 and Williams left her October 1954.

Elect School Board in 12-District Vote

Retain Interim Group at Oxford

721 Turn Out; District Planning for New Area High School

OXFORD—Incumbents of the interim school board for Oxford Area Community Schools were all elected in yesterday's record vote here.

Of the 721 ballots, 496 were cast for Hiram Terry of Leonard and 460 for Gerda Houck of Oxford, assuring them of three-year terms.

Two-year terms went to Wayne McMeans of Oakwood, 501 votes, and Robert McWilliams of Lakeville, 542 votes. Carl Beuchler of Oxford received 562 votes for a one-year term.

Unsuccessful candidates were Mary Jenks, Ray Westphal, Donald Tripp, Louis Coryell, Ralph Curtis and Lawson Sheik.

After the merger of the 11 rural districts with Oxford, the school board group had been appointed by the Oakland County Board of Education to serve until the special election. They represent the area geographically and have all had experience on their local school boards and in the recent Oxford area community study.

At present board members are consulting with architects on plans for a new high school near Oxford. A forthcoming election will be called to confirm a bonding issue for the proposed high school.

The districts, Oxford, Leonard, Lakeville, National, Rock Valley, Thomas, East Travis and West Travis, Arnold Kingsbury, Whigville and Oakwood banded together following approval in a Sept. 1 election.

The new school district includes all or part of five townships located in north Oakland and south Lapeer counties.

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — At an annual banquet held in the Community Activities Building the Waterford Toastmasters Club recently installed its newly elected slate of officers.

Retiring President Gerald White, Pontiac attorney, presented the gavel to Elmer Lepp, of Drayton Plains, who introduced his team: Pearson Wood, educational vice president; Del Wright, administrative vice president; Rudy Schettling, secretary; Forrest Thompson, treasurer, and Clay Tibbals, sergeant at arms.

Serving as toastmaster for the evening, George Luenberger presented a sample of the club's weekly fomat for the wives and guests present.

Del Wright spoke on "The Nature Of The Brute"; Pearson Wood "The Big Brothers of Oakland County"; and Gerald White "The Law And You." Ed Chandler served as general evaluator of talks; Ed Kuhn as timer; and Rudy Schettling presented the table discussion topic.

Celebrating the 32nd birthday of Toastmasters, it was noted that there are now over 2,000 such clubs throughout the world.

Pontiac, having both a Pontiac Y Toastmasters club and a Pontiac Toastmistress club, assisted the formation of the new Waterford club just two years ago.

The Waterford Toastmasters Club meets each Thursday evening and invites men who are interested in self-development through better speech habits to contact Del Wright.

62 MILLION VOTED IN 1952

How Big Will Our Turnout Be November 6?

Whole World Watching to See if We Practice What We Preach

In the 1952 elections, Americans made a rather good showing.

More than 62 million of us voted—a record turnout for us.

But even with that record in numbers, only 63 per cent of Americans of voting age actually did vote—a smaller percentage than vote in Canada, England, Italy, France, Japan and many other democracies.

For a people who don't like to think that anybody else is better than we are—who feel a real let-down when we lose the Davis Cup or don't sweep the Olympic Games—we are behind our friends in other countries when it comes to voting.

What Will We Do Nov. 6?

If we slide off in voting in the elections this year—if fewer Americans vote — we will serve notice on our friends abroad that we are not as hot about democracy as we say we are.

By contrast, a man who votes shows the world that he believes in his form of government and its concept of freedom and liberty.

He demonstrates to all potential enemies that in a hot war, the enemy would face a united country that believes in itself.

Your Vote Counts for Peace

Your vote is a genuine deterrent to aggression.

If you don't vote, if fewer people go to the polls than in 1952, a potential enemy would be justified in construing this fact as a chink in our armor.

If you vote, you're doing what you can for peace.

If you sit this one out, you run the risk that you may contribute to blundering your country into war.

Your vote is the most effective letter you can write to your neighbors overseas—a vote of confidence to them that democracy can really work for peace in the world.

The Pontiac Press

Reflections

J. L. VOORHEES

VOTE NOV. 6th

If your neighbor asked, no matter how he dressed his remark, "Would you pay for my cement driveway?" Or if a merchant proposed, "Would you object to an admission charge for entering my store to buy my merchandise," would you indorse or reject them? Underneath ambigious phrase, picture words and those that act like a sedative we find propositions that affect us as vitally as the silly questions above. We will elect a President of the United States; our vote will be the seed for the harvest to come.

M. E. SIPLE

VOTE November 6th. Exercise your prerogative as all loyal citizens will. Don't allow explosive words to frighten you nor sedative words to lull you. Dig to the essence and vote as your better judgment dictates.

PETER'S WIFE

Peter Pumpkin Eater had a very pretty wife. She was a good housekeeper and she helped him to make pies. But she had one serious fault — she was always running away. If a stray dog wandered into the garden, she ran after it. She ran to the castle to visit her cousin, the cook. Whenever Peter came home he found his wife gone.

So when he had finished his pumpkin house he attached it to his bakery, where he could keep an eye on it. Then he caught his wife — just as she was running up the street — popped her in the house and shut the door.

Mrs. Pumpkin Eater did not mind at all. She liked the pumpkin house so much that she never wanted to run away again.

Color the lower half of the picture with your crayons, and then paste it down on cardboard and cut it out. The diagrams on the upper half show you how to set the pictures up.

Fold back the two end panels on the dotted lines, and put the figure directly behind yesterday's pumpkin house so that Mrs. Pumpkin Eater can look out of the upper half of the door and the two flower pots will appear in the window.

Experts Tell How to Be an Election Forecaster

If, when the returns begin rolling in November 6, you'd like to be your own election analyst, Congressional Quarterly experts tell you how.

Just watch two states, they say, Connecticut and Delaware!

There are two reasons for this. One, both have voting machines in every precinct and their returns come in early. Two, they have been on the winning side in 11 of the 14 Presidential elections since 1900.

A check back reveals that Connecticut and Delaware have failed as accurate barometers only every 16 years, in 1916, 1932 and 1948. On the basis of this record they are not due to miss again until 1964.

Thus, says CQ, the unbroken rule of 14 elections in this century is;

If Adlai E. Stevenson carries Connecticut and Delaware, he is elected.

If President Eisenhower carries them by 2,000 votes or more, he's in for another four years.

If the states split, or some other result occurs, you'll just have to make yourself comfortable and wait for the California returns to arrive.

Anniversary in Viet Nam

The people of Viet Nam these days are celebrating the first anniversary of their country's existence as a republic.

The celebration days also are important because they have been chosen for the promulgation of Viet Nam's new constitution. This national charter differs from our own in that it gives the executive branch of government more power than could be expected by that branch in our government.

The Vietnamese explain this difference by saying the country still is under heavy Chinese Communist pressure from the north and insist that strong executive powers are essential.

A modifying feature is that the executive can be overruled by a two-thirds vote of the legislative body. Furthermore, the legislature not only can initiate legislation but can veto it.

It is worth noting that in the last year Viet Nam has made great strides in combating Communism. Order has been restored and economic progress achieved.

Thus, a new democracy has joined the society of free nations. It has equipped itself with a constitution which indicates the intention of the Vietnamese to govern themselves only through democratic processes.

Not Cloudy All Day

For a precarious business we give you the rainmakers' job of seeding clouds with silver iodide to precipitate rain.

Because of the Southwest's billion dollar drought, the City of Dallas has withdrawn its four year old $35,000 a year cloud seeding contract with cloud seeder Dr. Irving Krick.

It hasn't been Krick's fault that things have been running dry. There haven't been any clouds to seed. That basic fact is responsible for driving Dr. Krick out of the business of rainmaking in Dallas.

In his behalf it can be said that he never had maintained that he could bring rain without clouds. But it does explain why his Dallas contract suddenly has been reduced to nothing more than a scrap of paper.

Despite contrary propaganda of her sons and daughters, it would appear Texas does have some drawbacks, rainless days among them.

Amendment No. 2

Objective of the second of two proposed amendments to Pontiac's charter, which will be on the November 6 ballots, is to make easier the work of the Pontiac Police Trial Board.

The amendment proposes increasing membership on the board from five to seven. Back of it is the difficulty the board has been having in obtaining a quorum at its meetings.

Another reason for it, City Manager Willman points out, is to get a more liberal distribution of appointees by districts. This amendment is in harmony with the trend of bringing more people on to such advisory boards.

The Press believes that Amendment No. 2 like No. 1 deserves voters' support. We urge "Yes" votes for both charter amendments.

"The typical pretty girl is much easier to look at than to listen to," says an author. Who listens?

The People's Business:

Dem Hopes High

Optimistic About Winning Majority of House Seats

LANSING (AP)—Democrats are nursing hopes of taking control of the Michigan House for the first time in 20 years in Tuesday's election, but Republicans say they are day-dreaming.

There is little argument that the Senate, more firmly in Republican hands, almost certainly will stay that way.

To gather the 56 votes needed to organize the 110-member House in January, the Democrats would have to hold the 51 they now have and pick up five more.

Success would give them the right to choose a speaker to succeed retiring Rep. Wade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo), and to pick standing committee chairmen.

To retain control, Republicans need only to keep what they've got, or even a little less, although their command has been shaky and they are working to build up their majority.

INDUSTRIAL AREAS

Democrats pin their hopes on gaining seats in such industrial areas as Bay, Calhoun, Ingham, Macomb and Oakland Counties, and in the upper peninsula districts represented by Republicans.

But most political observers believe that only a strong statewide Democratic political tide that will be felt in these places and others as well will be enough to turn the trick.

If, on the other hand, President Eisenhower runs like the wind, and the effect percolates down to district contests, the Republican advantage probably will widen.

Republican leaders see a chance of picking up two or three seats now held by Democrats in the Wayne County area, and possibly could pad their present margin in this way.

The real hinge of control in the House, where many Republicans from rural areas and Democrats from Detroit are elected with monotonous regularity, is a dozen or so "swing" districts.

SMALL PERCENTAGE

These are territories in which races were decided by between 2 and 3 per cent of the votes, or less, in 1954.

Republicans currently hold nine of these, Democrats six, and GOP strategists figure that they would capture a few more in an Eisenhower sweep.

One incentive for regular Republicans to increase their lead in the House is to deprive a small group of insurgents — the so-called "Young Turks" — of the ability to exercise a balance of power.

On a couple of crucial votes in 1955 and again this year, the "Young Turks" sided with the Democratic minority and gave it effective control.

Whatever the outcome of party duels for control, more than a score of new faces already are assured in the Legislature as the result of death, retirement and primary defeats.

Losses by incumbents would raise the total.

Ask Increased Church Attendance

BY DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Each November the national Committee of Religion in American Life sponsors a full month of concentrated promotion aimed at the increase of church attendance in America.

Under the leadership of the committee, American businessmen will make available without charge more than $6 million worth of national advertising facilities. Throughout the month every modern medium of communication—TV, radio, newspapers, magazines and billboards—will hold before American families the committee's slogan:

"Build a stronger, richer life Worship together every week" R.I.A.L., as the program is now called, is entirely a laymen's activity, not officially connected with any church or religious body. Its purpose is "to strengthen the place of religion in personal, community and national life," which the committee believes can best be accomplished "by urging every American to attend regularly the church or synagogue of his choice."

ROME'S GREATEST CHURCH

Friday, Nov. 9, Roman Catholics commemorate the dedication of their most important church, the Archbasilica of the Most Holy Savior, commonly known as St. John's Lateran, in Rome. This is the church where the Pope's throne is kept. It is to Roman Catholics, the cathedral of the world, senior in dignity even to St. Peter's. Carved on the facade of this church are the words "The mother and head of all churches of the city and the world." It is not surprising there should be special rejoicing on the dedication day of such an edifice.

* * *

A basilica is simply a church. Orginally the word applied to a certain type of secular building—an oblong hall, rounded at one end or both, where public assemblies were held.

NO CHURCHES

It is hard to imagine now, but the first two centuries of the Christian era there was no such thing as a church building. Services were held in people's homes.

By the beginning of the third century, however, they began to set special buildings apart for use as places of worship. In the early part of the fourth century the mansion of a wealthy Roman family named Laterani came into the hands of the Emperor Constantine, and he passed it on to the Christians. For a thousand years this palace served as the residence of popes.

But the important thing about the home of the Laterani family is that the great hall around which it was built became a church and that church, with a baptistry added and dedicated to St. John the Baptist, became the now famous St. John's Lateran, the number one church of Roman Catholicism.

DEVELOPMENT SYNAGOGUE

Just as the early Christians did not have churches, it is also true that the early Jews did not have synagogues. The development of places specifically set apart for public worship is apparently an evolutionary process in all religions.

In the primitive times when the Jews were wandering for 40 years in the wilderness, they carried with them a large tent, which they set up wherever they camped. In it there was an altar and the sacred Ark, in which were kept the two tablets of stone on which the Ten Commandments were written. It was a place of worship, but there was no permanence about it.

In this tent, too, the people used to meet for instructions, asking questions of Moses, their leader, and listening to his teachings about the law.

Walk to School Healthy

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week Dr. Brady replies to letters sent in by readers. Following are summaries of letters with suggestions for maintaining better health.

My six-year-old son is plagued with frequent colds. Do you think walking nearly a mile to and from school in wet or cold weather would be harmful to a child . . . (Mrs. A. K. O.)

Answer—I think it is unfortunate that many children do not get the benefit of walking to and from school every day, regardless of weather. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Call It CRI. To learn what CRI (pronounced kree) means is bound to better the health of the family.

Would appreciate any suggestion for relief from hot flashes. (Mrs. H. J.)

Received your pamphlet on The Menopause, and a million thanks. Haven't had one hot flash since I began using Calcium & D as you recommend. (Mrs. B. R. A.)

Answer—A good many readers have reported such relief. All I know is that what I recommend in the pamphlet can do no harm. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet The Menopause.

My day wouldn't be complete without . . . I'm delighted to be called "nannyhammer," etc., by one whose honesty, wise teachings and downright . . . (Mrs. P. G.)

Answer—Thank you, Ma'am. If you can prove I have ever called anybody ninnyhammer, poor geek, stupid, Yankee Wiseacre, or the like, I'll send you with my compliments the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health.

Bad case of arteriosclerosis in my legs . . . age 51, but there are days when I feel 91. You have given me good advice on several occasions . . . (Mrs. A. G.)

Answer — Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35 cents free from messy foreign matter, for volumette 2 of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, the booklet CVBD. It deals with heart and artery troubles.

Having tried everything the druggist has for arthritis, I am going to try your treatment . . . (M. M. C.)

Answer—If you really have arthritis, you had better consult a physician. If you have rheumatiz, the suggestions in the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz, the suggestions in the complaints seriously. I believe in hollering before I'm hurt.

Answer—Your kind words make me happy. Don't take my rheumatiz will no no harm. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet.

I am writing for my father, my sister, and myself. For years we have been reading and appreciating your articles in the paper, and we give you credit for our good health. Whenever you are indisposed in health we are concerned. Please keep well. You are important. (G. V. F.)

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Salesmanship Excellent Training

A three-months' internship in house-to-house sales work is better insurance for a topnotch clergyman than three years of Greek! For a good salesman never lets prospects doze. He keeps his eyes on the customer at all times and stresses the "Here and Now" formula. Older clergymen often grow lazy. As their oratory wanes, their stress on ritual waxes!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-312: William T. Barbre is a former clergyman in Indiana.

"Dr. Crane, since I have also done a great deal of community work," he began, "I am doubly interested in your cases dealing with salesmanship.

"I am an inveterate reader of your column and am sure other clergymen follow it closely.

"It has been my experience that the minister who understands salesmanship, is usually the best sermonizer, the best organizer and also the most successful in his personal contacts with people.

"Don't you think our theological schools should offer a special course on salesmanship for the benefit of seminary students?

"It seems to me that such a course would be doubly valuable to them."

CHURCH PSYCHOLOGY

The late Dr. Glenn Frank lauded salesmen as the sparkplugs of civilization.

And among salesmen he included not just the purveyors of insurance, stocks and bonds, automobiles and other tangible merchandise.

No, he considered teachers and clergymen and other leaders in that same category.

If I were president of a university, I'd veto any prospective teacher who hadn't spent a few months in house-to-house selling.

For that is probably the most rigorous type of salesmanship. But it pays dividends in all other fields.

A physician who has sold books or magazines during college vacations, is far more likely to succeed in modern medical practice. The same holds for a dentist, an attorney and all other private practitioners in the professions.

A clergyman who has served even a three-months' internship in sales work is not likely to put his parishioners to sleep with dull sermons.

WHAT MAKES DULLNESS

"And what makes a dull sermon?" you may logically inquire.

Well, any address that is full of five-syllable words; that lacks several human interest episodes, like these Case Records; that is devoid of any humor; that is laid in the distant past or remote parts of this world and thus fails to meet the needs of the people here and now."

"Here and now" should be the keynote of every sermon.

The secret of human interest is wrapped up in our epidermis. Every inch that a speaker gets away from our skin and every second that he leaves the present moment of time, causes a reduction in our curiosity.

Salesmen know that they must keep the attention of the customer on the "Here and Now."

So he lets the prospect sample the merchandise or push the vacuum sweeper over the rug. He also asks the customer's opinions and get him to answering queries with a "Yes." This "Yes" habit then comes in handy at the dotted line stage.

No salesman could make a living if he let his prospects doze. In fact, they'd slam the door in his face if he didn't capture their curiositiy in the first 3-minutes of his talk.

It is actually more productive of success in the pulpit for a theological student to know salesmanship, than to read Greek, though a lot of professors will have a fit at this supposedly radical view.

Salesmanship requires brains and much physical energy. Lazy salesmen can't imitate lazy clergymen and lean upon the "crutches" of stained glass windows, a paid choir and a great deal of responsive reading, the Gloria Patri and excessive genuflections.

As clergymen grow older, they often degenerate in their oratory. That is often why they subconsciously try to cover up such a deficiency by more ritual, acolytes, candles and other methods of trying to impress the emotions.

Christ never used any of those "crutches" to hold a crowd's interest!

Always Write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich., enclosing a self-addressed envelope and 10c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I see, according to the papers, Ike is slightly ahead. Everybody likes Ike, but when we look at the word "like," they don't all like him for the same thing.

Some liken him to that ex-warrior who went into the Garden 6000 years ago and made those happy children believe they needed a change. He made them believe there was a mess in the midst of that Garden that needed to be cleaned up.

Ike came out with the same slogan and got a vote of confidence. He went up to the White House on his popularity and turned the case over to the powerful profiteers. They picked to clean up the mess, a man who stirred up the worst odor ever generated in this country and threw a shadow over our great armies, challenged the intelligence of the American people and made them a laughing stock of the rest of the world. Our enemies are laughing up their sleeves at our calamities, and mocking at our fears.

We have a man running who is worthy and prepared to do the job that must be done to preserve life on earth. They can't pick a flaw in his reputation nor his character nor his God-given ability. With the help of our next best friend, they will make arrangements to take care of the situation.

The people won't fall for cartoons, fake programs and truckloads of monkeys anymore. The man who is slightly ahead now will have plenty of time to play golf in the next four years.

Hosea Mansfield

As the election gets closer the war clouds get darker, but that trouble is being pushed aside 'til after the election. Then if the Democrats are elected it will be thrown in their lap if a war comes. The blame will be laid on the Democrats and it looks the way the election in Maine went, the whole country might go that way.

Since the farmers' income has gone down and big business profits have gone up in the last three and a half years, it is time the farmer, small business and working man and all people in the small income bracket opened their eyes and looked together and voted for the men who will help them and give all people a chance.

I went to Missouri and stayed a week. I talked to some farmers, and they told me that four more years with the Republican party and they would be out of the farming. I also talked to one farmer who was a Democrat living between two Republicans. Both of them said they were through voting Republican. I think the Democrats not only have a chance to win, they will win if the working people have registered and will vote.

Thomas Thrower

During the past four years 13 million more people were covered by the Social Security Act and all people collecting their Social Security are getting more benefits than they did under the Democratic Administration.

Disabled veterans have had their compensation increased.

During Truman's administration, the cost of living went up over 48 per cent, meaning that people had 48 per cent less purchasing power. During the Republican Administration, the cost of living went up only three and one-half per cent, giving us a net increase in purchasing power of about 45 per cent as compared with Truman's Administration.

Do you want to go back to higher prices, higher taxes, lower wages, and a generally incompetent government? I don't! I'm voting for a better future—for Ike.

Thomas E. Walsh

Be a good neighbor. If everyone wants to make everyone else happy, go to the polls as early as possible to cast your vote Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Now more than ever it is vital that we retain Ike. The hot-headed Democrats would surely plunge us into the European and Middle East fracases.

Almost every newspaper has printed the facts that Egghead Adlai has been approved by the Communist party, the ADA, the Daily Worker and the National Guardian. Even Bulganin of Russia praised him for wanting to do away with H-bombs.

N. W.

Apparently there are some Democrats who don't read the facts when they are presented. A few facts are that under Truman's last three years the cost of living soared; under Eisenhower it has been held down by careful manipulation of a so-called "tight money" policy.

Under Eisenhower in three years personal income (per capita income after tax) has increased. This really amounts to more than a dollar by dollar increase because the cost of living has leveled off.

Under Eisenhower employment increased. The Democrats tried to use employment as a campaign argument until the Bureau of Statistics issued a statement of the facts.

The record for "verbal garbage" must go to a Democrat campaigner who informed the people that 30,000,000 people received incomes of less than $2,000 a year, but failed to mention that 27,000,000 of these are infants, children, hospitalized or jailed. You have been thus misinformed by Democrat speakers repeatedly and should learn to tells you what kind of business you can choose for your livelihood?

Do you know that corporation taxes have helped to balance the budget—that now yearly taxes from Ford, General Motors and Chrysler alone are enough to run the government for three months? This is Big Business which the Democrats seek to curb. Do you know that Illinois, under Gov. Stevenson, had the largest tax burden in its history, yet this same man "if elected" promises greater government spending?

There would be two answers to this financial genius . . . higher taxes for you and me, or increasing the national debt by further borrowing. This is bad business for the country.

A Distraught Taxpayer

Having served as Commissioner of Labor and Industry in Michigan under two administrations (Governors Fitzgerald and Kelly) I may be considered able to speak with knowledge regarding labor legislation in our State. The Republican Party has fathered most of it. One of the far reaching laws is the Workmen's Compensation Law, fathered by Gov. Chase S. Osborne, and passed by a Republican Legislature.

It gives protection to the family from the results of both injury or death arising out of employment from the head of the family to the widow and children. A review of the record will prove to any searcher for truth that the Republican Party is the real friend of the working man and woman.

There is a strong indication at this time that President Eisenhower, one of the greatest Presidents of all time, will be re-elected November 6. Also it looks like a Republican Congress. Let's make Michigan Republican again!

We have a strong and representative ticket, with Albert Cobo of Detroit heading it, for governor. In him we have a man of deeds, not just words, a man who has proved by deeds he is "of the people and for the people." Each of us will benefit through his work if we get out and elect him. Let's lend a hand, vote early ourselves and help someone else to get to the polls, where help is needed. This is the year!

I think that a thorough investigation of "our friend, Adlai's" dealings with the Commies or pro-Commies might not be a bad idea. It should be before he gets in (which I don't think he will) because afterwards it's too late.

He shoots off his big mouth about the things that Ike hasn't done, but what about the good things that he has done?

Irate

I am utterly amazed that the so-called intellectual Mr. Stevenson advocates abandoning H - bomb tests and the draft.

I am sure the people of the U. S. are not now nor ever will be willing to hand their freedom over to Russia on a silver platter. Pearl Harbor was caused by unpreparedness and Japan took advantage of that fact. Thousands of our boys died on foreign soil because they were not properly trained for combat.

Surely the mothers of our young men and young-men-to-be are unwilling to subject them to such folly again. What can be gained by such rashness? Additional men are always called to serve their country during a war. Must they be sacrificed again and again by someone's personal ambitions?

November 6 is election day. Get out and vote if you do nothing else all day and repudiate this party with its liberal leanings. There may be a day when we can be militarily unprepared but that time is not now.

Mrs. M. T. Dunn

I believe that Adlai should throw up the sponge. His campaign is so dull and starting to backfire from every angle.

So here's a big tip: Democrats, save your money on the Stevenson campaign; it's money lost.

Herb J.

---

Mr. Bulganin did not have to be reminded by any politician in this country in regard to the discontinuance of the H-bomb tests. He is well aware that Mr. Eisenhower is ready at all times to discuss any negotiation that might lead to the abolition of these tests to the satisfaction of all concerned. Yet Mr. Bulganin chose this opportunity at election time to cause as much dissension in our country as possible.

If Mr. Bulganin in all sincerity wants peace and is willing to prove to the world he means it, let him release the brainwashed prisoners that are jailed because they dare uphold their beliefs in religion, free speech and free people living their own lives as they wish and also to release those countries that are enslaved by cloak of Communism, where men walk in fear like so many animals, their souls not being their own.

Then and only then, will he prove to the world that he means peace with sincerity. In the meantime let America stay strong and be on guard at all times ever ready to talk peace and go all the way for look for the true facts by reading.

That is why Eisenhower insists on the truth in every Republican speech, because it has been twisted and distorted by others.

In July, 1936, I was cornered by nine Commies because of statements I made, and they told me plenty. As far as I am concerned there is only one man who is capable of holding up his guard and at the same time exploring for peace. His name is Ike.

I was pretty mad at the propaganda at the Nixon train against the best Vice President I have ever seen. I have belonged to six unions, including United Mine Workers, and I have never been subservient to any political or labor boss.

Left wing artists with their ballyhoo remind me of my uncle, some years ago. He preached socialism, was an atheist, advocated government ownership while he, as a building contractor, built homes, financed them through either of two banks, where he had considerable holdings. He also had considerable interest in an elevator.

I do not hesitate to say that I am and have been active in behalf of the ticket.

This is in answer to Mr. Hyde who said he agreed with my letter, then wrote just the opposite, which was misleading. I don't want anybody to think I agree with him, especially about Hoover. He said Hoover was the best businessman that ever sat in the White House. Hoover's record speaks for itself.

When Roosevelt took office, millions of willing, able workers were unemployed. He went into action, passed emergency measures to relieve suffering. Some were temporary and some will last as long as we, as a democracy, last.

While Hoover was president, several thousand banks failed. Depositors' money wasn't insured then, so gone were the life savings of many. Suicides reached an all time high in 1932. In that same year unemployed veterans marched on Washington. Compare Hoover's reception to the G. I. Bill of Rights. Hoover and Coolidge also vetoed the soldiers' bonus.

About six years ago Dr. Einstein warned that all life might be annihilated by atmospheric poisoning if H-bombs were used in warfare. In the last few days, other scientists have agreed. We as voters have never before had so great a part in so great a decision, the vast problem of survival.

Having listened to Stevenson's speeches, I am now convinced that Truman was right when he said we can't win with Stevenson. No decent Democrat could vote for a man who would blast a great man, regardless of politics, because of a recent heart attack when he should be thanking God for his own recovery from a kidney operation.

Stevenson is not a good Democrat, otherwise he would not be guilty of the following activities:

His advocacy of bleeding the American taxpayer to help support Communist countries by long term Federal aid.

His adherence to world government in which event America would become a Communist-controlled satellite state.

Destruction of America major defense by outlawing the H-bomb tests.

His veto in 1949 while Governor of Illinois of a bill passed by both house to outlaw the Communist Party in Illinois.

In view of these facts coupled with the fact that Kefauver in 1946 voted against an appropriation to investigate un-American activities. I cannot see how any true Democrat could trust them in the White House.

As a mother of two sons, one a Korean veteran with the Silver Star, and the other recently out of the Air Force, I am particularly interested in comparisons and promises. I remember a lad who managed to escape the unspeakable horror that was the Kasserine Pass. He told me of some of his nights and days there. He told of boys who were soon to die calling out in well-imitated accents, "None of ouah boys will evah fight on foreign shoahs"—and how the chorus of jeers would rise until silenced by some weary officer.

I prayed that my sons would never taste that bitter cup of betrayal. (In Korea the catch phrase was "You never had it so good." But you died just the same, retreating on order from some hill your pal had died to take, because you weren't supposed to win anyhow. It wasn't really a war. You never had it so good.)

For government to interfere in business, be it large or small, is to destroy the right of free enterprise. At what point must any man cease to work for the improvement and enlargement of his business? Do you believe that government can dictate your ambition and earning capacity? Do you want a government which it. And let not our politicians at home use the H-bomb for a political football. It won't work.

Remember the pledge of allegiance. Is there any justice when our hero of World War II has his crown cast to the ground before the whole world? You wouldn't be here if he hadn't performed his service for his country so well. Let's show the world we still have faith in him and love the truth.

Why is America the greatest nation in the world? Because it is founded on God and truth. And President Eisenhower is the symbol of God because he is one of His children who believes in his God. In fact, he is the chosen one, not the one who chooses to run through his own making.

Wake up America, and choose the truth. It shall make you free.

Sale of Candy Arranged

Pontiac Press Photos

Exchanging information gained in the instruction hour for Camp Fire leaders, held in the Civic Room of Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building Friday morning, were (left to right) Mrs. Courtland Colling of First avenue, Camp Fire leader at St. Paul Lutheran Church; Mrs. Charles Rymal of Opdyke road, leader at Willis School, and Mrs. Daniel McGeen of Lake Angelus road. The instruction period and coffee hour were held for area Camp Fire and Blue Bird leaders.

Attending the coffee hour held Friday for Camp Fire leaders were Mrs. Robert Edwards (left) of First avenue, Blue Bird leader at LeBaron School, and Mrs. Richard Kline of North East boulevard, Camp Fire leader at Linda Vista School. They are shown looking over new prizes offered for the Camp Fire Girls' forthcoming candy sale.

Camp Fire Starts Drive November 19

Leaders Gather to Discuss Plans for Citywide Project

Forty Camp Fire leaders and assistants gathered Friday morning in the Civic Room of Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building to receive instructions about the forthcoming citywide candy sale.

They were welcomed by Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson, candy sale chairman of the board of directors. Mary Ellen Wyngarden, executive director of Pontiac Camp Fire Council, outlined plans for the sale which will start Nov. 19 and continue for two weeks.

She explained that proceeds from the candy sale are applied on the mortgage for the organization's campsite one-half mile east of Clarkston. A rebate plan enlarges the treasuries of the individual groups.

Both Blue Birds, the junior organization of Camp Fire, and Camp Fire Girls will be selling the peanut butter crunch candy, and Camp Fire Girls will also sell boxed chocolates, individually wrapped and labeled.

Mrs. Doris Beck, field director, was in charge of registration of leaders.

The schedule of awards was announced by Mrs. William Wright, prize chairman. Every girl who sells 24 or more cans of candy will be eligible to attend a Saturday morning theater party.

Those selling 48 cans will have a choice of a $2 gift certificate for Camp Fire equipment, or a receipt for day camp fee.

For Camp Fire Girls, first prize will be a radio. Second prize is a travel alarm clock and third prize, a musical powder box.

For Blue Birds, the prizes are dolls. First is an 18-inch-tall imported Italian doll in native costume. The other two are an 18-inch teenage doll and an 18-inch pony-tail doll. The groups selling the most candy will be awarded Camp Fire flags.

A sample sales presentation, designed to show leaders how to explain sales techniques to their groups, was acted out by Mrs. Hoyal Ames, Mrs. Wayne Fugitt, Mrs. Keith Pawley and Mrs. Claude Harroun.

Refreshments were served by members of the board of directors of Camp Fire under the direction of Mrs. Ben Moshier, social chairman. Serving on the committee were Mrs. George Carpenter and Mrs. William Graves. Mrs. Graves is in charge of publicity for the candy sale.

Don't Let Neck Reveal Your Age

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women have "won by a neck"—in the battle for beauty, that is. This is one of the first spots to show signs of age. Even in young women we often see the beginning of a double chin or deep creases, and from middle age on a woman cannot give her neck too much care.

As I have said many times before, posture has a great effect on the neckline. Even though a woman is interested in posture she may hold her head incorrectly.

She may stick her chin forward. Don't do it! The chin should be parallel to the floor and you should push toward the ceiling with the top of your head.

Lubrication also is essential. Daily or nightly, it should be regular. Exercise is helpful.

Try this one: Stand or sit in an erect position. Let your head roll in a complete circle. If this makes you dizzy, as it does some people, roll your head first in one direction and then in the other. Continue.

OR TRY THIS ONE

Another: Same starting position. Lower your head back as far as comfortable. Raise your head and touch your chin to your chest. Continue. Do this slowly.

It is a good idea when doing either neck or facial exercises to apply an oily cream first. This is especially true of facial exercises. When you do some of the facial exercises you will make little wrinkles in your face. If the skin is pliable these will not last.

This principle of keeping the skin soft applies to daily skin care. Many women acquire lines which they would not otherwise have because their skin is so dry that every facial expression deepens the lines they make.

We would expect our riding boots to crack if we never oiled them. The same goes for our outer coating. Find time every day for lubrication of the neck and face. If you do not wish to sleep dunked in cream or oil, try to find an hour or so during the day when you can leave the cream on.

If you would like to have my exercises for the neck or my facial exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflets 18 and 9 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

In holding the head correctly, the chin should be parallel to the floor.

Ohio Rite Solemnized This Noon

Norma Hudson of Birmingham Weds Robert B. Feid

BIRMINGHAM — Norma Jeffery Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Hudson of Adams road, was married Saturday noon to Robert Byrnes Feid of Cincinnati in St. Edward Church, Granville, Ohio.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob T. Feid of Weehawken, N.J.

Both young people were graduated from Denison University in Granville in June.

A reception was given at the Granville Inn following the ceremony.

The bride wore a waltz-length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta which was distinguished by a wide taffeta girdle ending in a flat bow at the back. A small lace cap held Norma's waist-length veil, and she carried white fuji chrysanthemums.

ONLY ATTENDANT

Her matron of honor and only attendant was Mrs. Thomas Winans of Cincinnati who wore peacock blue taffeta and a hat of matching velvet. Her flowers were bronze, yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Walter S. McPhail of Birmingham was best man.

The bride's mother wore mink brown satin with a small champagne-colored hat. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Feid wore brown peau de soie with a hat of beige velvet and corsage of yellow roses.

After a wedding trip to Lexington, Ky., the couple will live in Cincinnati. For traveling the bride wore a Dior blue wool dress and matching hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson and their daughter went down to Ohio on Friday.

Only Wife Can Persuade Her Hubby to Slow Down

She Must Choose Whether She Wants Companionship or Life Insurance

By RUTH MILLETT

I've noticed that whenever a successful man in his late 40s or early 50s dies of a heart attack, the man who knew him say, with a stunned look, that is a shame and then hastily change the subject.

* * *

I think they are just plain scared. They are scared because they know they are leading the same kind of lives as the man whose heart couldn't take it any more.

As he was a little while ago, so they are. Here are the symptoms:

Working harder than they should. Worrying about bills and taxes. Being too easy with the wants of their wives and children.

Buying bigger cars than they need and buying new ones more often than is necessary. Building more expensive houses than they can afford.

Keeping up a social pace they don't really enjoy. Giving their children too much and expecting too little of them in return.

Looking into the future and seeing no real financial security. Then, being conscience-driven into buying more life insurance than they can afford. If they, too, join the men who are dying before their time their wives and children will be provided for.

ONLY SALVATION

No wonder they don't like to talk about Joe's heart attack or Jim's sudden death right after he had finished building his family's "dream house."

With each such event they feel more than sympathy for the man whose life has been cut short. They feel kinship and fear for themselves.

And yet they mustn't show the fear. They have to go on pretending that it can't happen to them as they work and worry and strive to give their families more and more.

Who can help these men who can't help themselves?

It is the wife who has to call a halt, who has to think more of her husband's need for rest than of her need to be seen at the country club dance. It's the wife who has to say "No" to the kids' unreasonable demands.

It is the wife who has to say, "Let's get this family in the black," instead of letting Papa worry about the bills and the installment payments.

It's the wife who has to choose whether or not she wants to have a husband in her old age—or live alone on his life insurance.

Jersey Ideal for Traveling

The ever popular jersey fabric is taking on a new "feel" in fall fashions. Dresses, skirts, suits, blouses, and the like are available in jersey that is softer than ever, light as a feather, yet warm and snug.

Ideal for travel, jersey takes up little suitcase room, and is crease resistant. Easy to wear, it won't snag or stretch out of shape. And most important is the minimum care jersey requires.

* * *

Because the new jersey is a blend or Orlon and wool, only simple laundering in soap or detergent suds is needed to keep garments fresh, clean, and new looking.

Glamorize Old Fur Coat

PARIS (INS) — With a little money and an idea from Paris you can give your fur coat an up-to-date romantic touch.

One simple way to achieve a modern silhouette is to wear your fur coat with a belt. Since experts such as Jacques Heim and Maggy-Rouff Mendel show fur coats with belts, you can do it, too, even if it may seem a bit bulky at first.

Heim has a straight-cut beaver coat worn with a two-inch-wide brown suede belt. The same idea can apply to seal. At Maggy-Rouff Mendel a beige broadtail tunic of three-quarter length is also shown belted in suede.

Another simple trick is to buy a taffeta scarf or wide taffeta ribbon in the shade of your fur coat. Pass it under the collar and knot it to a floppy bow at the throat. It gives a new and romantic touch even to an old coat.

If the collar looks worn, have it taken off and replaced by an inch-wide stripe of leather edging around the neck and down the front in cardigan style. But this must be done by a furrier.

Genevieve Fath has the charming and very feminine idea of showing a black seal coat with white lace over a Peter Pan-shaped fur collar.

If you own a black fur coat you can use this idea as original and dressy trimming for a special occasion.

Get Yourself a Schedule for Schooldays

URBANA, Ill. (INS) — Your youngsters are back at school now and they're not the only ones who should have a definite schedule.

Marguerite Briggs, child development specialist, urges the whole family to sit down and talk over duties and responsibilities.

"Time schedules, task assignments and responsibilities are the things to bring up for discussion in the family group," said Miss Briggs, "And all members should have a hand in the planning." She explained:

* * *

"When children share in the planning they are more willing to assume their responsibilities."

Posting a schedule of assignments and times in a conspicuous place and checking off completed tasks help reduce parents' nagging and children's quarreling, she advised.

Flattering Dress Solves Party Season Problems

The impending party season need offer no problem as to what to wear, especially when this Harvey Berin delight can be made up so easily.

The custom-cut pattern with exclusive designer sizing consists of only five pieces, but they are assembled with finesse flattery.

The gored skirt is darted from under the high bustline to the hip where it bells out. Shaped cap sleeves are just the right amount of cover up, and add a gentle width to the shoulders.

Choose faille, taffeta, brocade, peau de soie for winter nights, cottons, linen, shantung, silk prints for resort. From this chart select the one size best for you.

| Sizes | Bust | Waist | Hips Inches | Length From Nape of Neck to Waist |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 10 | 34 | 24 | 35 | 16⅛ |
| 12 | 35 | 25 | 36 | 16¾ |
| 14 | 36½ | 26½ | 37½ | 17 |
| 16 | 38 | 28 | 39 | 17⅛ |
| 18 | 40 | 30 | 41 | 17⅝ |

Size 12 requires 3⅛ yards of 39-inch material for dress.

French Stylist Leaves Hair Short, Long, Up!

NEW YORK (INS)—Guillaume, the French hair stylist who created the pae-boy bob, said today the fashionable woman of 1956 will wear her hair in the "'arc line'—short long and up!

"It's what you call the 'double-cut,'" the stylist explained. "Half of the hair is cut short and the other half is left long."

Either the underneath hair can be short and the long top hair draped gracefully over the head, or it can be the other way around—the top hair can be short and the long under tresses swept up over the short hair.

Guillaume said he designed the new hair style, called "La Belle Epoque," in order to give la femme fatale a better profile and a long-graceful neckline.

"This style is what you might call the new phase of the old pom-will definitely outmode the page-boy and the bouffant."

The Frenchman also has designed some intriguing evenig doo-dads for the new hair-do. These include tiny jeweled crowns and bits and pieces of velvet adorned with flashy ornaments.

Soften Hard Water

Hard water causes soap to form a scum which is hard to rinse out of a white nylon garment. When nylon clothes are washed in hard water, it's wise to use a synthetic detergent or a water softener.

A lucky man is one whose wife not only likes to cook, but knows how.

Old House Pays for Their Luxuries

By ANNE HEYWOOD

If you haven't enough to live on, there are obviously only two choices open to you: You can retrench and cut down on your expenditures or you can think up a way to make more income.

* * *

I personally favor the latter, because it's more fun to expand than retrench and, also, because there are many advantages to be had from a new activity, over and above financial aid.

Mr. nd Mrs. W. are an example of this.

When Mr. W. was retired at 65, they had barely enough to live on.

They owned their house, a big old-fashioned one in a city. Nearby were many housing developments; in fact, theirs was the last remaining big house.

THOUGHT OF SELLING

At first they thought of selling, but nobody wants a house that big and there wasn't enough ground for a builder to put up an apartment house.

* * *

To sell the house and take a tremendous loss didn't seem to make sense.

"Besides," Mrs. W. told me, "we love the old house.

"The children grew up here. Bob has his den and his woodworking shop and I have my sewing room.

"The drawing room is immense, so we hardly ever use it. But it is beautiful and has all the family's old Victorian furniture. It's really charming. We'd get so little from selling it and we'd lose so much."

NOT MUCH FUN

But the fact remained that money was very tight indeed for Mr. and Mrs. W. They cut down as much as they could, but it wasn't much fun.

Then, one day, one of those unexpected breaks came.

The W's had always had a lot of young friends, because they liked young people.

One of the young women called and told them that her husband, a photographer, had an order for a fashion series, to be taken in a Victorian background.

"Could we rent your drawing room?" she asked. "It's just perfect, and it would save us a lot of time and trouble. Bill insists on paying a good fee."

* * *

After that, Bill used the room again and again.

And then Mr. W. got a bright idea.

Why not rent their drawing room for weddings, parties, meetings of all kinds?

It was attractive and convenient. They put an ad in their local paper and sent notices to men's and woman's clubs throughout the city.

Today, Mr. and Mrs. W. average about 100 dollars a month for the use of their drawing room and business is increasing every month.

Now they can keep their house and still have a budget which includes luxuries.

Type of Hair, Area Decide Shampoo

The frequency with which you wash your hair depends both on your hair type and the area in which you live.

Oily hair may need shampooing every other day. And if you live in an industrial, sooty city, your hair will need washing at least twice a week.

The woman who associates femininity with "goo-goo prettiness" had best remember her age, her proportions and her type.

There's a great difference between the new softness in fashions and the cute ruffles of years ago. Suits have soft necklines, chiffon blouses, and softened, more wearable skirts. Dresses have soft gently draped lines.

Husbands and Wives Sit Apart

It's Not Correct to Place Them Side by Side at Table

By EMILY POST

"When I have guests in for dinner I always seat husbands and wives opposite each other. A friend of mine resents this very much and thinks that husbands should be seated beside their own wives. Will you please tell me if I am wrong about this?"

Answer: You are quite right. I have been told that it is customary in some communities to seat husbands and wives together. This is incorrect.

The pleasure of dining out is meeting and talking with others, not to sit next to your own husband or wife whom you talk with at every meal at home.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Shortly after my friend was married, her husband, who was in the service, was sent overseas. He is still there and his wife has been living with her mother.

"In this morning's mail I received an invitation from this friend's mother inviting me to a first anniversary party she is giving for her daughter. I was quite surprised to receive such an invitation and think an anniversary party under the circumstances is very strange. I would like to know what you think about this.

Answer: I agree with you. This is more than strange. There should not be an anniversary party until her husband comes home.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine recently married a doctor. I haven't met him as yet but will do so very soon. I would like to know if I should call him Dr. Jones when speaking to him, or would it be proper to call him John. I call her by her first name."

Answer: You will have to wait until you meet him. If he or his wife asks you to call him by his first name, you would; otherwise, you should call him Dr. Jones.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to shake hands with every member of a receiving line whether you know the person or not?"

Answer: Yes.

Cover Pincurls With Kerchief, Cap

A head bristling with bobby pins or metal clips should never be seen on the street.

If you absolutely must go out with your hair in curlers, cover your head with a kerchief tied cap or pirate but not peasant style.

Foreign Ministries of Britain, France Kept in Dark on Attack, U. S. Charges

WASHINGTON (INS)—U. S. Intelligence reports indicated today that top French and British leaders kept their own foreign ministries in the dark in planning military strikes against Egypt.

These reports also confirmed the presumption by American officials that Britain, France and Israel collaborated in originating the two-stage occupation of the Suez Canal area.

Washington circles concluded on the basis of these reports that only a few men in each nation took part in the anti-Egyptian strategy.

This would serve to explain why U. S. diplomatic reports did not agree with Military Intelligence information during the last two weeks.

While ambassadors in Paris and London were sending back to Washington reports that nothing was brewing, Military Intelligence was telling of troop concentrations at Middle Eastern bases.

REPORTS MISLEADING

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles ordered the American envoys to press for more information from the British and French governments, but authoritative sources say the reports received after that were totally misleading.

It is now believed that the British and French foreign ministry officials were honest with American diplomats but were completely ignorant of the plans being laid by the highest-level leaders in each country.

The discrepancy between the diplomatic and military reports became clear when it was learned France was sending 60 Mystere jet fighter planes to Israel but had told the embassy in Paris that only 15 were being shipped.

Diplomatic circles speculated that the secrecy of the planning may stir public opinion in Britain and France against the leaders who mapped the invasion behind closed doors. Strong Labor Party protests in England against the military moves tended to confirm this view.

One report from Europe said French Premier Guy Mollet told the French Cabinet last week that events would occur "before Christmas" which would oust—or at least discredit — Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

But Mollet, according to this confidential report, gave no further details to his cabinet.

American officials were also incensed over Israeli statements which turned out to be misleading.

U. S. PREDICTION RIGHT

One Israeli official told the Americans that Israel intended to attack Jordan. American Intelligence later predicted correctly that Israeli forces would invade the Sinai peninsula area of Egypt.

* * *

U. S. officials are studying ways to use strong economic sanctions to force Israeli troops back into their own country, and are counting on worldwide moral disapproval as reflected in the United Nations to convince Britain and France to alter their strategy.

U. S. Unfurls Flag at Pole

Deepfreeze Comdr. Flies Stars and Stripes in Antarctic

(Editor's Note—This account of an American landing at the South pole has been cabled by AP staff writer Don Guy, who is with the U.S. Deepfreeze expedition of the Antarctic.)

By DON GUY

OVER THE SOUTH POLE (Delayed) (AP)—I saw the flag of the United States raised over the South Pole Wednesday for the first time in history.

A Navy pilot from North Carolina with a Confederate flag in his pocket made the world's first landing on the frigid bottom of the earth. Lt. Cmdr. Conrad S. Shinn, from Spray, N.C., brought his 25-ton C47 down on the rough, wind-blown snow to a safe landing on aluminum skis.

Circling overhead in a Globemaster, I saw Rear Adm. George Dufek, Operation Deepfreeze commander, step out in his fur-hooded parka, walk away from the plane's slipstream and plant the U.S. flag in the snow.

Not since Robert Falcon Scott of Great Britain and his four companions struggled here man-hauling their sledges on Jan. 17, 1912, has human foot been placed on the polar surface. All five died on the return trip. Roald Amundsen of Norway had reached the spot a few weeks earlier than they.

The C47 took off with a blaze of fire from 15 jet-assisted take-off bottles and raised a long plume of snow after the party had spent an hour making observations.

The temperature here is 58 degrees below zero. Vapor trails from our four engines have traced a madman's painting in the still air of the polar plateau. Now we have turned away for the first time, having heard all is well from the admiral's plane.

$35 Million Contract

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Army has awarded a 35 million dollar contract to the Raytheon Manufacturing Company of Waltham, Mass., for the production of electronic equipment, presumably for guided missiles.

An announcement yesterday, indicating that the contract involves a still-secret project just getting into large scale production, said approximately six million dollars of the total will be used for "plant preparation and tooling up."

Humility Necessary for a Person to Show His Sincerity

Confident Living

Feeling of Superiority Can Be Fatal to Most

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A few years ago, I was in Hollywood helping to make a motion picture called "One Foot in Heaven." As the technical adviser for this film I had a fine opportunity to meet a good many Hollywood people. One of them was a famous old character actor. I came to know him well.

DR. PEALE

He said to me once, "You and I are in the same business. We both serve the public. And, sometimes, anyone who appears publicly will get into slumps. Do you know how to get out of a slump?"

"How?" I asked, for I have experienced the problem of the slump, and that isn't limited to those who appear publicly either.

"Well, first," he explained, "you must keep humble. Don't ever get to thinking you are too good, because the minute you get to thinking you are too good, you are no good. The minute you get to thinking too well of yourself, people will sense your lack of humility and they will stop thinking well of you. Besides you have to keep on learning, and only humble people learn.

"Now take me," he continued. "I had a successful career. But I got to thinking so well of myself that, when I walked on stage, I was mentally congratulating people because they had the privilege of seeing me. I felt they should be paying $10.50 instead of $4.50. I got so that I was looking them over coldly, indifferently, from an upper level of superiority, and I knew so much that no one could tell me anything.

"Then, presently, I began to notice that people weren't as interested in me as they had been. Producers noticed it too. They stopped offering me big parts. Things got tough and then I began hating my unenthusiastic audiences.

"Then it came to me that the fault might be in myself. I started praying, asking the Lord to tell me why things were going badly. And He did. It came to me that I was too self-centered, too interested in myself and without love for other people.

"But one night, on stage, I came to myself. My part that night didn't amount to much. I looked out at the audience from the wings as I waited to go on. There happened to be a dejected and tired looking fellow in a front row. He looked like a business man with a lot of worries who had come to the theater to get away from himself for an evening. Seated beside him was a woman with a lovely but unhappy face; I felt they both should have been happy, and I studied them. All of a sudden I realized that I was feeling interest in these people. Suddenly I wanted to help them. And all I could do was to put everything I had into the part I was playing. I saw the man laugh a happy laugh, and when he did that his wife brightened up. They were happy, and I was happy.

"That was how I was able to make my comeback, by forgetting myself and by liking people."

When I knew him, he had indeed made his comeback. He was a great actor and, more important, he was a great person because he loved people and had the spirit of humility.

You and I can learn from the experience of that actor. Anyone, in any line of work is likely to go into a slump. That condition can be caused by becoming tense. And a basic cause of tension is too much concern about how you are doing, or a hectic sense of competition with others. A calm effort to do the best you can and to compete primarily with yourself is the corrective. As a well known baseball player told me once, "When I get tense and self-conscious and go into a slump, I just pray to get my thinking straightened out. That is my cure for a slump."

And it's a good cure for any of us.

Show Strength in Religion

News Spotlight on Youth

NEW YORK, (AP)—Youth figured significantly in this week's religious news:

National Catholic Youth Organization Week got under way. Two young Americans prepared for a 12-nation tour to study youth's role in the church. And Methodist leaders were told that the "relatively young" Protestant denominations are leading the fight against use of alcoholic beverages.

CYO Week, Oct. 28-Nov. 4, is national in scope. At least seven million children and young adults are participating in special Masses, holy hours and other observances. With the theme "Trust in Youth," the week sets forth several aims and purposes, including "To inspire the confidence of adults in youth by showing that youth are earning that trust."

The youth tour of Latin and South America will be held between Nov. 24 and Feb. 27 and is sponsored by the World Council of Christian Education and the Youth Department of the World Council of Churches.

The two Americans participating in the five-nation team are: Ethel Shellenberger, Philadelphia, and George A. Williams, Cleveland, Ohio. Canada, Europe and Asia also will be represented. Leading the team is the Rev. Dr. Bengt-Thure Molander, Geneva, Switzerland, who heads the World Council's Youth Department.

About the "young" Protestant denominations, the Rev. Mr. Caradine R. Hooton, Washington, D.C., general secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance, said in Buck Hill Falls, Pa.:

"One cannot escape the fact that denominations whose philosophies have been formulated within the last 300 to 400 years are unanimously of the conviction that total abstinence is the wiser and more nearly Christian way for moderns."

He went on to tell the opening session of a four-day school of alcohol studies for the denomination's Northeastern jurisdiction:

"Only those denominations whose theological interpretations and ethical principles were established in the first three or four centuries still hold to the idea of moderation as a solution to the problems of drinking. It is of great significance that even within these older churches there are definite movements for total abstinence."

With Snickers, Laughs

Prayer Well Punctuated

The Rev. Benjamin P. Browne, executive director, Board of Education and Publication, American Baptist Convention, tells this story on himself.

"Returning from a strenuous series of field appointments, I squared away at my desk to reduce a huge pile of mail. When I arrived two hours late at the dinner table, my head was still whirling on the track of office dictation.

"As the head of the house, however, I solemnly bowed my head to offer the blessing over the evening meal. Soon after I began my prayer I heard a suppressed snicker from my daughter.

"A little farther along, I thought I heard the suggestion of a repressed laugh. I hastily brought my blessing to an end just as the family burst into an uncontrolled laughter.

"What is going on here?" I asked indignantly. "Why can't you listen in reverence to a blessing at the table?"

"Well" my good wife retorted, "don't you think the Lord knows how to punctuate a prayer and where to put the paragraphs?"

"What do you mean?" I demanded.

"Well," she said, "do you realize that in your prayer, after the first two sentences, you said 'Quote, new paragraph, unquote.' Then you said, 'Period.' But when you said, 'With heartiest good wishes,' we just couldn't control ourselves any longer."

Oakland Church to Offer Thanks

Special Service Sunday to Have Missionary From Haiti in Pulpit

The Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church is holding its annual Thank-Offering at 10 a.m. Sunday.

Ruth Moffett, a member of the Broad Street United Presbyterian Church and a missionary in Haiti for four years will be speaker.

The morning program will be in charge of the Women's Missionary Group. Participating in the program will be Mrs. Eldon Powley, Mrs. William Coffing, Mrs. Walter Napersky, Mrs. Clyde Clark and Mrs. Richard Kelley.

Mrs. Gerald Shafer and Mrs. Gerald Schultz will provide music.

Ushers taking part in the service include Karen Marien, Marilyn Coffing, Gail Marien, Irleane Wilson, Mrs. Donald Wilson, Mrs. Guy Caswell, Mrs. Donald Upton, Mrs. Claude Lessel, Mrs. Walter Messer, Mrs. Carl Buckneer, Mrs. Howard Webb, Mrs. Leon Verway, Mrs. Robert McCormick, and Mrs. Gerhart Bernhart.

Church Slates 3-Day Session

Jehovah's Witnesses to Attend Mt. Clemens Bible Training Meet

Pontiac congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses are making preliminary plans to attend a three-day training session in Mt. Clemens Dec. 28 - 30.

W. P. Strong, presiding minister of the North Congregation, said, "The object of the program is to equip every one of the preaching fellowship of Jehovah's Witnesses in the practical use of the Bible as a help in fortifying the spiritual morale of people of our community."

The announcement of the training session came as a climax to the weekly ministry-development programs held at the local Kingdom Halls, 600 E. Pike St. and 440 W. Walton Blvd.

The leader said that Jehovah's Witnesses are enrolled in ministerial training of at last five classes weekly. "We maintain," he said, "that if a religion is worth believing, it is worth putting into practice. For that reason, the Watch Tower Society is sponsoring the three-day Mt. Clemens refresher program."

About 400 from Pontiac are expected to attend the meetings slated at Mt. Clemens High School.

A. J. Kizer is presiding minister of the East Congregation and E. C. Thornton, of the West Congregation. These two groups hold services at the Pike Street Kingdom Hall.

Halloween Collection to Buy 6 Tons Food

Junior and Senior High Youth Fellowships of Oakland Park Methodist Church received enough contributions in the trick - and - treat campaign for Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) to send six tons of surplus food to needy areas over seas.

The program was sponsored in this area by the Michigan Counsel of Churches.

The church young people gave up their own Halloween begging to collect for the national relief program.

Alaska College Backed

Religious Freedom Bill Pending in Italy

ROME — A new law on religious freedom has been proposed in Italy's House of Deputies.

The proposal is a result of a decision handed down by Italy's constitutional court last June which declared unconstitutional Article 1 of the Italian constitution.

The article required police permission for the posting of signs in public places or for distributing printed matter or the use of public loudspeakers without authorization.

The new bill is scheduled for consideration some time next month. It contains a provision for setting up a special commission to establish permanent contact between government authorities and various religious denominations.

Church Favors Merger Move

The 12th biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church meeting last week in Harrisburg, Pa., expressed its desire to merge with "all or any" Lutheran groups in this country.

It then implemented its declaration by authorizing a special commission to meet with representatives of other bodies to draft a constitution and devise organization procedures to effect union.

In another action it endorsed steps towards an all-inclusive merger which already have been taken by unity commissions of the UCLA and seven other bodies associated with it in the Augustana Lutheran Church.

Involved in the invitation are 16 Lutheran groups representing about 7,250,000 baptized members in the United States.

Officials indicated the commission meeting will probably be convened in Chicago before the end of the year. Representatives of three other groups now considering merger will also be present.

The groups are the American Lutheran Church with 900,000 members; the Evangelical Lutheran Church with 1,000,000 and the United Evangelical Lutheran Church with 60,000. Absent from the session will be the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod, second largest of all Lutheran groups with more than 2,000,000 members. Officials declined the invitation on the grounds that they could not discuss organic union before doctrinal agreement has been reached.

REV. C. A. EPPERSON

Church to Hold Nightly Services

Evangelistic meetings will begin Sunday night in the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, 178 Green St., with the Rev. C. A. Epperson of Louisville, Ky., in charge of the sessions.

The Rev. Mr. Epperson has been pastor of the Louisville Alliance Church for more than seven years.

He is a well known speaker at conventions, conferences, youth and evangelisitic meetings, the Rev. G. J. Bersche, pastor of the local church, revealed.

Meetings will be held nightly at 7:30 except Saturday. The Sunday schedule is Sunday School at 9:45 a.m.; morning worship at 11; Alliance Youth Fellowship at 6:45 p.m. and the evangelistic service at 7:30 p.m.

2 Methodist Secretaries at Puerto Rico Parley

Dr. W. Vernon Middleton and Dr. B. P. Murphy, executive secretaries of the Division of National Missions of the Methodist Board of Missions, spent the month of October in Puerto Rico for a special session of the Puerto Rico Provisional Annual Conference.

Baptist Church to Honor Pastor Rev. Wm. H. Bell

In honor of the Rev. William H. Bell's 13th anniverssary as pastor of the New Bethel Baptist Church, the Rev. Richard R. Dilon of Trinity Baptist Church will speak at a service at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Choir and congregation of the Trinity Baptist Church will be guests for the occasion with the Trinity choir furnishing music.

The public has been invited.

The Protestant Reformation was one of the world's greatest steps in the direction of democracy.

The Protestant Reformers chose to express themselves, rather than to be subdued by the error which had crept into the church organization of their day. In so doing they brought about a break with the totalitarian practices of church government which had gained control in the affairs of the state. The Bible teaching that "the just shall live by faith" was rediscovered. (Romans 1:17)

Ever since the days of the Reformation, Protestantism has been the cornerstone of democracy. Protestants recognize differences of opinion. Yet Bible-believing Protestants are united in their recognition of the Bible as the supreme authority in spiritual matters.

American history has developed side by side with Protestant ideals of democracy. A look at world geography today reveals that it is Protestant countries which are not plagued with dictatorships.

The freedom which is known in democracy can be traced directly to the life of Jesus Christ. Jesus stressed the value of the individual soul and its responsibility directly to God. To carry out that responsibility the individual must be free. Jesus emphasized the equality of men in the sight of God. Also, it was through the death of Jesus that freedom from the tyranny of sin was purchased. The Bible, speaking of Jesus, says, "If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." (John 8: 36)

Jesus Christ died on Calvary to purchase freedom—freedom from sin and its consequences. Bible-believing Protestants are united in their recognition of this fact. They are also united in their belief that the functions of the Church and the functions of the State were meant to be separate. Jesus said, "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which be Caesar's, and unto God the things which be God's." (Luke 20: 25)

Perhaps you would like to know more about this question of true freedom, salvation through Jesus Christ, and about Protestantism's doctrine of "Separation of Church and State." If so, send for a FREE pamphlet on the subject by simply filling in and mailing the following:

Poll Clergymen on Candidates

Random Check Shows Ministers Favor Ike by Big Majority

A poll by Christianity Today of representative Protestant clergymen from all sections of the United States revealed a strong preference for Eisenhower over Stevenson in the Tuesday election for the Presidency.

Tabulations of 1,474 cards from ministers, selected at random among all denominations, showed the following results:

Eisenhower—85 per cent.
Stevenson—11 per cent.
Undecided—4 per cent.

The Eisenhower-Nixon ticket was marked on 1,248 cards, with Stevenson-Kefauver favored on 160. Those undecided numbered 61. Only five ministers expressed their preference for a Prohibition candidate.

CITE REASONS

In marking their cards, the clergymen were asked to show "why" by checking any or all of seven reasons. The count came out as follows:

1. Personal stature of the candidates. Eisenhower, 1,017; Stevenson, 75.

2. Nominee of my political party. Eisenhower, 158; Stevenson, 34.

3. Party platform. Eisenhower, 201; Stevenson, 55.

4. Religious views of candidates. Eisenhower, 555; Stevenson, 13.

5. Attitude toward corruption in government. Eisenhower, 432; Stevenson, 24.

6. Moral and spiritual emphasis. Eisenhower, 854; Stevenson, 22.

7. Stand on racial desegregation. Eisenhower, 230; Stevenson, 19.

The poll total showed that 1,117 of those preferring Eisenhower this year also voted for him in 1952. He was favored by 105 who did not vote in 1952 and 28 announced they would switch their 1952 vote from Stevenson to Eisenhower.

Stevenson's total showed 97 of his 160 voted for him in 1952, with 41 planning to switch from Eisenhower. The other 22 did not vote in 1952.

In the undecided group of 66, a total of 36 voted for Eisenhower in 1952 and 14 for Stevenson. The remaining 16 did not vote.

Michigan ministers voted 61 to 1 for Eisenhower.

49 Presbyteries Vote for Church Merger

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Forty-nine of its presbyteries have voted for a merger with the United Presbyterian Church, the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. has announced. The other 210 presbyteries have not yet replied to the church poll.

The plan of union, supported by leaders of both churches, is to be submitted to their respective general assemblies next spring. If the merger is approved, the general assemblies would meet in joint session in Pittsburgh in May, 1958, and proceed to carry out the merger as the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

The proposed church would have 3 million members, 9,200 churches, a $200,000,000 annual budget, foreign missionary work in 39 countries, and 1,400 overseas missionaries and fraternal work.

BREAK GROUND FOR NEW SCHOOL — Some 1,000 persons attended ground-breaking ceremonies Sunday at Waterford for the new Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic School. Turning the first spadefuls of earth are (left to right) Thomas Foley of 6761 Williams Lake Rd., a member of Our Lady of the Lakes Church Building Committee, and the Rev. Frederick J. Delaney, pastor of the church. At the far right is the Rev. Joseph Janiga of Orchard Lake, assistant priest. Looking on are members of the church's building committee, altar boys who assisted at the dedication ceremony, and, in the background, one of the Dominican Sisters of Oxford who will teach in the new school. The $210,000 first unit of the school will include classrooms for grades five through eight, offices and a library. Completion is expected by next June. Junior and senior high classrooms will be added each year, and eventually the school also will include the lower grades, the pastor said.

Break Ground for Lady of Lakes School

Ground-breaking ceremonies for a new Catholic school in Waterford were conducted Sunday at Our Lady of the Lakes Church, 5495 Dixie Hwy.

Notice of the 10 a. m. ground-breaking came as a surprise announcement at the morning Masses, due to a delay in securing approvals and letting contracts for the $210,000 building. Construction started Monday at the site, adjacent to the church.

Sunny skies and fair weather attended the 1,000 parishioners and Sunday School children who stood by as the Rev. Frederick J. Delaney, pastor of the church, pronounced the solemn blessing:

"Sanctify, we implore Thee, this property, meant for the education of youth . . ."

Attending the ceremony, their white robes billowing in the wind, were four of the Dominican Sisters of Oxford who will teach in the new school.

Others present to assist Fr. Delaney in turning the first spadefuls of earth, were the Rev. Joseph Janiga, assistant priest at the church; and members of the church building committee.

First unit of the new school will include eight classrooms, a library and offices, the pastor revealed. The building will be of brick or stone construtcion and will have one wall almost entirely of glass.

Completion is expected by next June, and the unit will be opened for the fall semester to students in grades five through eight.

Additional units will be added to take care of one more grade each year, working up from 9th grade through 12th to provide an intermediate and senior high school by 1960, Fr. Delaney said.

Plans eventually call for the addition of the first four grades also, he added, but not until the high school is built.

A $100,000 building fund expansion drive exceeded its goal by some $25,000, providing initial funds for the school. Architect for the structure is Arthur DesRosiers of Detroit, and general contractor is Ernest Hollick, also of Detroit.

Warn Against Optimism in Religious Revival

America's current "boom" in religion is a cause for national rejoicing, according to a group of top religious and civic leaders polled in a survey by the National Council of Churches.

Clergymen and laymen warn, however, against too much optimism. Whether the religious "revival" is having any profound effect on individuals, improving the moral tone of the nation or fostering America's influence in world affairs—these questions met with answers ranging from 'yes' to 'no' with shadings of both in between by the group.

Pre-Fab Synagogues Seen as Answer to Problem

ATLANTIC CITY (INS) — Pre-fabricated synagogues may well solve the acute problem caused by the exodus of large numbers of Jewish people from urban centers to suburban communities.

This opinion was expressed by S. David Liebowitt, of New York, at the recent national biennial convention of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America here.

The speaker, chairman of the group's Community Activities Division, said the first prefabricated synagogue in Jewish history will be constructed in Cincinnati next month. It will cost about $36,000.

Since the initial announcement of the project, Leibowtt reported, hundreds of communities have hundreds of communities have made inquiries and many are at present negotiating for the ready-made synagogues.

Dr. Joseph Kaminetsky of Brooklyn, director of Torah Umesorah, national society of Hebrew day schools, said a record 45,000 pupils are receiving both religious and secular instruction in 220 day schools in 73 cities throughout the United States.

South Asia Methodists Mark Centennial Year

Festivities marking the 100th anniversary of the Methodist Church in Southern Asia (India and Pakistan) ended today at the Lucknow Christian College, Lucknow, India.

The celebration included pageants, exhibits, hymn sings and addresses by bishops and other churchmen.

Stress Religious Cards

The general rise in religious thought which has been evident in the United States since the end of World War II, will be broadly reflected in this year's Christmas card offerings. Of the two billion Yule greetings which Americans will exchange this season, every fourth card will bear a reverent motif. As recently as 15 years ago, only five per cent of the total Christmas cards sold had religion as their theme.

Newsmen See Red Crematory

Vast Wire-Tap System Falls Into Hands of Hungary Rebels

GYOER, Hungary (AP)—Western newsmen have seen a secret crematory, said by anti-Communist rebels to have been used by the state police for victims who did not survive their interrogation methods.

The crematory was discovered by insurgents after Gyoer, capital of this western province, had fallen into the hands of the rebels. It was set up behind the central heating installations of the state police headquarters in the city's most modern building and was equipped with technical facilities Hitler's gestapo would have admired.

Besides a shortwave transmitter, the building housed listening installations which enabled the state police to overhear any phone call in West Hungary and to record conversations.

In the cellar of the building newsmen were shown tiny cells—three steps long and two steps wide—where prisoners apparently had been held before their bodies were carried to the crematory. Rebel officials had no estimate of the number of persons that may have disappeared here, but the smoke-black walls of the room indicated its use.

Plea for Rural Churches

Strong pleas that U.S. rural churches be "revitalized" instead of closed down because of population shifts were sounded before sessions of the National Convocation of the Church in Town and Country, held in St. Louis, Mo., under the direction of the National Council of Churches.

Mission School Opens

ROME — A school that will give special instruction in missiology was opened here. Operated by the members of the Order of Hospitallers of St. John of God, the school will give specialized medical training to the students.

Pope Stresses Need to Lift Health Norms

VATICAN CITY—Improving people's health is one of the most important factors in raising their standard of living, Pope Pius XII told members of the committee for public health of the Union for Western Europe.

Even atomic science has made a contribution to this important work by using atomic material in the fight against cancer, he said.

Modern science has found uses for radioactive isotopes and instruments of radiotherapy in the preservation of good health.

All governments, the Pope observed, have tried to do what they could to improve their people's health.

All this is progress, he added, which lends itself to the establishment of greater international concord and harmony.

Southern Baptists Form 5 New District Groups

Southern Baptists in Michigan recently organized five new district associations, representing about 40 churches throughout the lower peninsula, it has been announced by Fred Hubbs, superintendent of missions.

They are: Detroit Baptist Assn., Huron River Baptist Assn., Clinton River Baptist Assn., Genessee District Assn., and Western Assn., of Baptists.

Moderators are: Marvin Byrn, pastor, Antioch Baptist Church, Detroit; H. T. Starkey, pastor, Merriman Road Baptist Church, Garden City; Hubert Keefer, pastor, First Baptist Church, St. Clair Shores; Bill Nail, pastor, Providence Baptist Church, Flint, and B. J. Ferguson, pastor, Immanuel Baptist Church, Lansing.

Named Bishop in Africa

The Rev. Dr. Ralph E. Dodge, Ridgewood, N. J., for seven years secretary for Africa and Europe of the Methodist Board of Missions, has been elected a bishop of the Methodist Church for Central and Southern Africa, the Board of Missions, Methodist Church, has been advised by cable.

Nepal Mission Grows

The United Christian Medical Mission to Nepal, with its three Methodist doctors, has set up four headquarters since moving into the mountainous little country north of India, and has been given "the best hospital in Nepal" for their work.

Magazine Rates Books, Movies

Also Evaluates Radio, Records, TV on Basis of Morality, Quality

The appearance of a new magazine, "The Catholic Preview of Entertainment," fills a need of long standing in the publishing industry, according to church officials of many faiths.

For the first time, there is a publication devoted solely to the task of evaluating entertainment on a moral and qualitative basis, pastors said. The magazine is designed as a guide for the family in the selection of good, wholesome entertainment.

With the close cooperation of the Legion of Decency, the National Association for Better Radio and Television and other groups, a staff of carefully selected professional reviewers evaluates movies, radio and television programs, books, records and magazines.

* * *

The approach of The Catholic Preview will be a positive one, says it editors. The aim is not to censor modern entertainment, but to stress those programs which combine good taste with a high level of creativity and quality.

EDUCATORS, MEDICS HELP

Towards this end, the publishers of The Catholic Preview have enlisted the aid of priests, educators and psychologists in formulating intelligent standards of criticism.

The result is evident: a magazine which is an informative guide and a thoroughly entertaining publication for Catholic families everywhere, as well as for concerned persons of any faith.

'Dared to Strike in God's Cause'

Prelate, Freed After Red Torture, Asks Powers to Help Heroic Nation

Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, the primate of largely Roman Catholic Hungary, was freed from Communist imprisonment in his native land only four days ago. Now back in his official residence in Budapest —with protective guards instead of jailers at his door—he calls for the great powers of the world to aid struggling Hungary in a special statement to the American people.

BY KATHARINE CLARK

BUDAPEST (INS)—Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, the communist-tortured primate of Hungary, called on the "big powers" of the world today to help his bleeding country.

Cardinal Mindszenty, freed only four days ago from communist house arrest by Hungarian patriots, made his plea in a special statement to International News Service for the American People.

The 64-year-old leader of Hungary's Roman Catholics declared his homeland "has so far received only bad treatment from the world, especially from the big powers."

He stated the hope that now that Hungary has rocked the world with its anti-communist revolution "things will be handled another way."

The hollow-cheeked churchman said:

"The thing which no one in the world—not even the big powers—dared do was done by small, forlorn Hungary. They started the fight for their faith in their country.

JOB FOR BIG POWERS

"The Hungarian people are waiting for the world, especially the big powers—whose business it should have been to handle this affair—to stand up in action."

Cardinal Mindszenty, stating the cause of his homeland from his tank-and-soldier-guarded official residence in Budapest, declared:

"Hungary has so far received only bad treatment from the world, especially from the big powers. Proof of this is the cruel peace conventions of 1918 and 1945. We hope from now on things will be handled in another way.

"The final end must be justice to Hungary."

Since his triumphal return to Budapest Wednesday, the Cardinal has received a steady stream of visitors.

The churchman and patriot languished in communist prisons nearly seven years after the "brainwashing" and "mock trial" of 1949 which condemned him to life imprisonment for alleged treason, espionage and violations of the currency regulations.

Last year, he was released from prison and put under well-guarded "house arrest." That ended when Hungarian patriots freed him Tuesday.

'Miracle' Bricks Answer Need of Jungle Missioner

RIBERALTA, Bolivia — "Like finding a camel in Times Square," is the way a young missioner describes his obtaining 3,000 bricks to build a permanent mission here in the "Green Hell" area of Bolivia.

The mission of Fr. Richard McMonigal, Maryknoller from St. Paul, Minn., is 1,000 miles from the nearest large city.

To construct a lasting mission, able to withstand the jungle climate the padre decided to attempt all-brick construction. He ordered a brick-making machine from the United States, but it will take months to arrive.

Then on a trip up the Madre Dios river he came across a large pile of bricks he was able to purchase.

Faiths Unite to Halt Sex Book, Movie

SALEM, Mass. — Protests by Catholic and Protestant clergymen led to the arrest of a motion picture agent and the seizure of some 200 copies of an "immoral" book at the nearby Middleton drive-in theater.

Joseph Solomon of Bryn Mawr, Pa., was ordered held under $1,000 bail by District Judge George B. Sears. Solomon pleaded not guilty of charges in the showing of the movie, "The Birth of a Baby" and the distribution of the "Cyclopedia of Sex Life" at the Middleton theater.

Pastors Name Sermon Topics

Relation of Religion to Patriotism, Freedom Is Presbyterian Subject

"Where Christianity and Patriotism Meet," will be the sermon subject of Dr. William H. Marbach at First Presbyterian Church at the 9:30 a.m. service Sunday.

The Rev. Edward D. Auchard will preach at 11 a.m. on the topic "Biblical Roots of American Freedom."

The second section of the church school, which meets at 11 a.m., will be expanded to include a class for juniors.

These children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be taught by Mrs. William Godfrey.

The film, "Hot Rod" will be presented to the young people of the church on Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

The pastors of First Presbyterian Church will attend the Presbytery of Detroit Tuesday, at Woodward Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Alcoholism Topic for MSU Meet

Presbyterian Parley Set

EAST LANSING—"The Church's Role in Alcohol Education" will be a major topic at the annual Presbyterian Social Education and Action Conference, Nov. 16-17 at Michigan State University.

Ralph W. Daniel, executive director of the State Board of Alcoholism, will explore this subject at one of three seminars at Kellogg Center.

Racial and cultural relations will be discussed by Dr. Wilbur Brookover of the MSU Department of Sociology. Dr. H. Paul Sweaney of the MSU Department of Vocational Education will deal with the relationships between the church and education.

More than 50 members of Michigan Presbyterian social education and action committees are expected at Kellogg Center for the event, co-sponsored by the Michigan Synod of Presbyterian Churches and the MSU Committee on Church Related Prgrams.

Buddhist Temple Using Catholic Mission Bell

KYOTO, Japan — A Catholic mission bell bearing the inscription "IHS" and the date "1577" was discovered there by a Maryknoll missioner in a Buddhist temple.

Fr. Anthony J. Kariovecius of Chicago found it in a visit to the Miyoshinji temple.

A Buddhist monk explained to the priest that during the persecution in Japan a Catholic family buried the bell near the temple. It was uncovered 100 years ago and hung in the temple.

The Chicago priest is seeking to buy the bell from the temple.

Planning Near East Sunday School Aid

Mrs. Alice Goddard, New York, children's work director of the National Council of Churches, is planning to leave next month for Egypt and the Near East to work with church leaders there in development of the country's first original Christian education program.

Even though located in "the cradle of Christianity," the Protestant churches in the Bible lands and Egypt have never had their own Sunday School curriculum. They have used instead adaptations of curricula developed for U. S. work.

This has been something like teaching American boys and girls Biblical lore as written, for example, by Argentinians, using Argentine setting and expressions, and then translated into English.

Mrs. Goddard expects to spend eight to nine weeks visiting Sunday schools of Turkey, the Near East and Egypt, preliminary to a two-week conference of 30 key Protestant leaders of the area at Alexandria next January, where the new curricula will be developed.

Operation to Separate Siamese Twins Fails

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An operation to separate Siamese twin girls has failed.

The UCLA medical center reported that Laura Lee Currier died during the operation yesterday. Nancy Diane died several hours later.

The girls, born 12 days ago, were joined from neck to abdomen, the medical center said.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Currier of Simi, Calif., have an 18-month-old daughter.

Steal 50 Bushels Apples in Rose Township

Fifty bushels of apples were stolen from a Rose Township orchard sometime this week, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department learned today.

The theft reportedly occurred on Pickering road where the apples had been left for transportation to market. The orchard is owned by Elvin Beebe, of 11055 Milford Rd., Rose Township.

Congregational Church Slates Organ Recital

The Music Board of the First Congregational Church will present Charles A. Wilson, organist, in a recital at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Mr. Wilson, minister of music of the church, will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Harrison, soprano. The Chancel Choir and the Youth Group of the church will present the opening worship service.

Mr. Wilson is a graduate of the University of Kansas, where he received the degree of Master of Music, and was a student at the Westminster Choir College. His organ studies have been with Laurel Everette Anderson, Carl Weinrich and Joseph Bonnet.

Mrs. Harrison, who is the wife of the Congregational minister at Oxford, is a graduate of Beaver College and has had additional training in Washington D. C. and Florida.

The Vesper is open to the public and will be followed by a coffee hour in the church parlors.

The service will include selections from Mendelssohn and Bach, and several Negro spirituals.

Wild Driving a Sin, Cardinal Warns

CHICAGO — Reckless driving, speeding and disobeying traffic regulations are "sins" Samuel Cardinal Stritch, archbishop of Chicago, declared in a pastoral letter.

He told pastors of the archdiocese they had a duty to instruct their flocks on the "important moral obligation" of safe driving.

He noted that Pope Pius XII "recently found it necessary to enlighten all men on the important moral responsibility of motorists."

Liberty Baptist Youth Recital Planned Sunday

The young people of Liberty Baptist Church are sponsoring a recital at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at 250 Fisher Ave.

The recital will feature solo singers and mixed voices. Leader is Mrs. Maggie Baldry, assisted by Emma J. Kincade. Mrs. Pauline Houston is music director.

Plan Human Rights Day

Looking toward the eighth anniversary of Human Rights Day (Dec. 10), the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church is asking its almost 2,000,000 members throughout the United States to "take stock" of the progress made in local churches and communities "in the basic rights which ought to be comparatively easy to apply" locally.

Even if You Should Move
TO THE OTHER END OF THE COUNTRY

It would be worth your while to "Find Your Place in Sunday School" the very week you arrived, for there is no place that can meet the need of your life like the Sunday School. Sunday School is the place to study and learn God's Word. As you are grounded on the Bible, the storms of life will not be able to harm, for your foundation will be One that cannot fail.

There's a place for you in Sunday School. There you may find forgiveness for the past; peace for the present; and security for the future as you come to know Christ, the Living Word. Meet with us this coming Sunday morning. We look forward to having you at our church.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

SYNOPSIS

Connie Barton's suspicions were aroused by her husband's clumsy excuses for his regular Wednesday night absences. She trailed Steve to a private dance studio and then realized he was taking dancing lessons as a pleasant surprise for her. Keeping herself unnoticed, Connie watched the door of the studio till Steve left, and went in for a private word with his teacher. She found the instructor, Anita Farrell sprawled on the floor—shot dead. In the corpse's hand was a paper silhouette of herself. Confused, Connie's first thought was to cover up for Steve. She grabbed the silhouette and the appointment book at the unattended reception desk outside and went home to confront Steve. She had to believe his assertion of his innocence.

Police promptly got the names of all Miss Farrell's pupils and began checking to identify the 7 p.m. Wednesday waltzer. When Lieut. Bolling asked Steve his lesson time, Steve said 3 o'clock Saturday. From the stolen appointment book Steve took the lesson time of a Ralph Tolley, whom Bolling hasn't contacted—yet.

Using the name Hester Frost, and with a plan in mind to save Steve, Connie gets an interview with Oliver Bell, the proprietor of the dance school. She lands a teaching job.

Chapter 8

"I don't actually remember this Waltzer," said Mr. Bell. "But when I interviewed him I accepted him as a normal human being who sincerely wished to improve his dancing, not as a monster who was using my school to meet attractive youung women. Being an attractive young lady yourself, I'm sure you appreciate my desire to protect my teachers."

"Oh, I do, Mr. Bell." I wondered if the monster was still asleep or if he had started worrying about me. "Are the police getting close to him?"

"Unfortunately, he had the cunning to steal our engagement book and none of the staff can remember at the moment who Miss Farrell's seven o'clock pupil was. But the police are working on our bookkeeping records and by a system of elimination, they will soon figure out who it is."

"I hope so," I said, but unfervently.

"This tragedy has naturally thrown us into turmoil. But the police expect to cause us very little inconvenience. They know who the killer is, and it is simply a matter of finding him. They are anxious to have us go on here as if nothing had happened. Now, Hester . . ."

"Yes, Mr. Bell?"

"I hope I have put your mind at ease, because I am going to ask you to do something at which a person of less character might balk."

"I'll try not to balk."

"I am anxious that our usual schedule be interrupted as little as possible. I want all my teachers to take their regular pupils. Therefore I am asking you to take Miss Farrell's place."

"Oh," I said. I tried not to sound pleased that I had accomplished my mission. So I said it again, working in just a touch of distaste.

"Oh," I said.

"Does that upset you, my dear? I believe that I can assure you that the Waltzer will not return to the scene of his crime."

"I'm not upset," I said.

We then discussed terms. That is, Mr. Bell told me what my pay was to be. He gave me some fatherly advice, some professional tips, and a rather timid pat on the back. He pressed a button on his desk and in a moment the door swung open. The receptionist said, "Yes, Mr. Bell?"

"Leone, this is Hester Frost. Hester, Miss Leone Webb."

"How do you do, pleased to meet you," we girls said to each other.

"Leone," Bell said, "will you help Hester to become acclimated? She is one of us now. She's taking Anita Farrell's place. Show her to Studio K and explain . . . well, everything, please."

I saw the receptionist's shoulders stiffen and her head move in protest, but Mr. Bell was already attacking a stack of correspondence. We had been dismissed. Leone Webb looked silently at him for a moment, then beckoned to me. I followed her.

She led me to the locker room and assigned me to a locker. She was no small-talker; she was brisk and efficient. She took me through the reception room and down the hall that led to the door marked Studio K. She pushed it open.

I closed my eyes for a second. Yesterday these mirrored walls shown a thousand figures crumpled on the shining floor, had shown a thousand figures growing crimson.

Now they mirrored nothing but more mirrored walls. The room was bare, cold and impersonal.

I was suddenly cold, too, with a seeping wave of fright. Perhaps I had been wrong to do this. Perhaps I should have told Steve my plan, so he wouldn't have let me do it.

Leone said, "Is something wrong?"

"No, it's nothing. I'm a little nervous, about teaching."

"The first day is tough. After that, you'll enjoy it, I'm sure."

She stepped past me through the doorway and moved quickly across the studio. She stopped before a row of small black dials. Above them was a black grilled loud speaker, below them, in a niche, a telephone.

"The music is piped in here," she said. "This dial is for foxtrot, this for rhumba, this for waltz, this is for samba." She touched another dial. "You control the volume here. You understand?"

"Yes," I said.

"The telephone is an inside one . . . it's connected to my desk. If you should need any help, if there's anything you want to know about, call me. Don't hesitate, it's my job to help you. All right now?"

"All right," I said, "and thanks."

She started for the door, then turned back. "One more thing, and please don't be offended. If I were you, I'd tone down my lipstick a little. You look a bit too provocative."

I doubted that, so I didn't waste any time taking her advice. I barely waited for her to close the door before I started my inspection of the studio. I looked first for a concealed door, a camouflaged window. Then I searched for a crevice large enough for an arm to reach through, then for a hole large enough for a bullet to enter.

Foot by foot, inch by inch, I went over the gleaming walls. There was nothing. There was no way for a murderer to enter this place except through the studio's only door.

Once again I had proved conclusively to myself that only Steve could have murdered Anita Farrell.

Yet my new career began: I was a teacher of the dance. But I didn't let that interfere with my mission at the school. While I waltzed and fox-trotted, rhumbaed and sambaed, I delved into the life of the late Anita Farrell.

Each of her ex-students was, of course, full and overflowing with the killing. They talked readily about Anita, but it was just a kind of macabre ode to the departed.

". . . what a girl, too bad."

". . . that Waltzer, I'd sure like to get my hands on him."

". . . beautiful, exciting young lady, remarkable person."

". . . brother, she had something."

None of the gentlemen seemed really to know anything about her. Apparently Anita hadn't discussed her private life during business hours. None of these students had got to know her well but, for academic acquaintances, they certainly were a fan club.

During my rest and lunch hour, I neither lunched nor rested. I tried to locate Steve by phone. He wasn't at home. He had been in and out of the office several times, but nobody knew where he was at the moment. Hoping he wasn't too worried about me, I went back to the grind.

By late afternoon I was on the ropes. At two I had had a two hundred and fifty pound fox-trotter who was dancing to reduce. It was I who did the reducing. Then, in succession, I had two young athletes who thought that dancing was something you did to win. I lost. Rapidly I was becoming a stretcher case.

Then while I was working on my final pupil of the afternoon session, an enthusiastic, cube-shaped pixie named Ed, I saw something that might turn out to be my first break.

Ed was so short that the top of his pointed little head tickled me under the chin. He held me so tight that my head was forced up and back, so that I was looking at the ceiling. It was uncomfortable, it was painful . . . then suddenly, it was fine. It was, perhaps, the answer to my prayer.

In the center of the ceiling was a three-foot square of grillwork. It was evidently the ventilator for this windowless room. I couldn't see through the grill. I couldn't see if there was space enough above it for a person to crouch, to aim a revolver, to shoot a dancing teacher who stood below.

But it might be possible; it had to be possible.

Vera Believes Hitchcock Scores With 'Quiet Sex'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — One of his pretty protegees says Alfred Hitchcock, famed as a director of spine-chilling films, merits another distinction — as the leading purveyor of quiet sex in films.

Lovely Vera Miles is his latest heroine, and she followed a distinguished line of actresses with an un-noisy but very definite sex appeal. We discussed the Hitchcockian theories over lunch as she was preparing for her latest film with him, "From Amongst the Dead" (that title must go) with James Stewart.

"I guess you would call it quiet sex," Vera said analytically. "It appears that nearly all of his leading ladies have had it. This goes back to his earlier days in England when he directed Madeleine Carroll. He continued in Hollywood with stars like Ingrid Bergman and Joan Fontaine."

Perhaps the greatest portrayer of quiet sex, she said, was Grace Kelly, with whom Vera is frequently compared.

We discussed Hitchcock scenes in which quiet sex exploded with memorable results: the kissing match between Cary Grant and Bergman in "Notorious"; the fireworks scene with Grant and Kelly in "To Catch a Thief"; the visit of Kelly to Jimmy Stewart's apartment in "Rear Window." All of these produced more voltage than love scenes with the more obvious of film sirens.

"I think there is a misconception in Hollywood," she observed. "Some people think sex is a matter of measurements. I don't think that is the case."

She cited the example of one of sions are on the incredible side. At a recent industry function, the gal walked across the floor, attracting all eyes. But the initial reaction was followed by snickers.

Elvis' Motorcycle Has Producers Wiggling Now

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The teenagers' rock 'n' roll idol took his Hollywood lady fair out for a fast whirl on a motorcycle recently.

Elvis (The Pelvis) Presley, dapper in tight jeans, leather jacket and peaked cap, roared out of his driveway, past a small cluster of fans, and sped away with screen star Natalie Wood clinging behind him on the seat.

Natalie, the rising young actress who starred in "Rebel Without a Cause" with the late James Dean, and "Johnny Concho" with Frank Sinatra, was whooping with glee. She too wore jeans.

But what's fun for Natalie and Elvis is a headache for Hollywood producers, who cringe every time a valuable property gets aboard a motorcycle. They think it's dangerous.

The motorcycle is Presley's pet. His manager's urgent requests that he lay it by, at least until he makes a pile, gets small heed.

Presley also rates the lovely Miss Wood highly. He calls her his "favorite actress." They dated frequently when he was in Hollywood recently making a picture.

Natalie arrived Wednesday night to spend a couple of days at the home of Presley's parents.

"My studio doesn't know I'm here," she said. "But I guess they will find out."

Natalie's studio did.

"She's on vacation," said a spokesman for Warner Bros. last night, "and can do what she wants to."

Egyptians Down 5 British Bombers

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The Syrian radio said today Egyptian forces shot down five British bombers over the Nile delta this morning.

This brings to 18 the number of British and French planes the Egyptians claim to have downed in the fighting in the Suez area.

The British-French command on Cyprus said today one British fighter plane had failed to report from a dawn mission and added it was the first loss by the two nations in the Suez operation.

Peiping Chinese Protest British Action on Egypt

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of Chinese demonstrated last night in front of the office of the British charge d'affaires in Peiping against the British - French attacks on Egypt, Peiping radio said.

The Communist radio broadcast said "angry citizens handed over hundreds upon hundreds of protest statements and letters at the gate."

HURRICANE GROUNDED — University of Miami's Ed Oliver gets grounded by Florida State University's Bill Musselman after a punt return in their game at Miami last night. The Hurricanes won the game in the Orange Bowl, 20-7. Miami is unbeaten in six games, having played a 7-7 tie with Georgia two weeks ago.

Bears Breathing Heavy Behind Lions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Lions, only undefeated team in the National Football League, put their five-game winning streak on the line Sunday against the San Francisco 49ers as the professional circuit concludes the first half of the 1956 games.

Four other games are listed. The Chicago Bears face the Los Angeles Rams in the Coliseum, the Cleveland Browns move to Milwaukee to play Green Bay, the New York Giants travel to Pittsburgh to meet the Steelers and the Chicago Cardinals take on the Philadelphia Eagles at Comiskey Park..

The 49ers figure to put up stiffer opposition against the Lions than their record of one victory in five games would seem to indicate. It took a fourth period field goal by Bobby Layne to give the Lions a 20-17 triumph in their first meeting with San Francisco in Detroit. The teams were tied at 17-17 when the Lions' quarterback made his successful kick. The 49ers will have the advantage of their home field this time.

The Bears, trailing the Lions by one game in the Western Conference, will be after their fifth straight victory and their fourth in a row against the Rams. Since losing to Baltimore in the opening game, the Bears have beaten everybody in sight by convincing margins. They lead the league in offense, having gained 2,064 yards running and passing. They also lead in scoring with 185 points in percentage of completed passes with 61.3 per cent.

The results of the Cardinals-Eagles and Steelers-Giants clashes may settle the first place battle in the Eastern Conference. The Cards, beaten for the first time when they lost to Washington 17-14 last week, are tied with the Giants. Both are 4-1.

The Eagles will be seeking revenge for the 20-6 defeat they suffered at the hands of the Cardinals in Philadelphia several weeks ago. They are tied with Pittsburgh for third place, only two games out of first place with two victories and three defeats.

The Giants, on a three-game winning streak, tackle the Steelers for the second time within two weeks. They trashed Pittsburgh 38-10 at Yankee Stadium in their first meeting. Pittsburgh bounced back from that defeat by beating the Browns last week.

The Cleveland-Green Bay contest will mark only the second time the two teams have met since the Browns joined the league. Cleveland won the other game, in Cleveland, back in 1953. The defending champion Browns have won only one of their five games and are last in the Eastern Conference. The Packers have won only two of their five games but are tied for third with Baltimore in the Western Conference.

* * *

Baltimore and Washington will enjoy an off day on Sunday because of the Navy-Notre Dame game in Baltimore's Municipal Stadium. Navy's contract with Baltimore forbids a game being played the day after the Middies use the Stadium so the Redskins-Colts game was postponed until Dec. 23.

Cranes in Pitt for Grid Game

Cranbrook, trying to avoid the cellar of the Inter-State League, is meeting Shady Side Academy at Pittsburgh today.

The games have an overall 1-5 record for the season and 0-3 in the I-S loop.

Shady Side likewise is without victory in the league, so a loss will mean the cellar for either team.

The strong Crane soccer team, unbeaten this year, boes for its 7th win against the Pittsburgh booters also today.

Mexican Tournament in Semifinal Stage

MEXICO CITY (AP) — William Campbell, 1955 U. S. Walker Cup captain from Huntington, W. Va found a 20-year old Mexican barring his way in the semifinals of the Mexican National Amateur Golf Tournament today.

The tall West Virginia insurance executive faced Juan Antonio Estrada while Joe LeBlanc of Canada squared off against upsetminded Robert Davies of Pasadena, Calif., in the other semifinal match.

Major Powers Can't Afford Slip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The one-mistake-and-you're-out season started today in college football. Most of the major conference races across the country entered the stage where the leaders can't afford one slip.

Even some of the top independents have arrived at a point where their hopes for a post-season bowl invitation are riding on every block.

The big exception, as usual, is Oklahoma. The mighty Sooners, No. 1 in this week's Associated Press poll, had a date with Colorado at Boulder.

But in the Pacific Coast Conference and Big Ten, where the leaders are fighting for Rose Bowl spots, there could be uprisings.

Stanford, which escaped the wrath of the PCC overlords who penalized a handful of teams for overzealous favors to football players, is riding along in first place, but will be challenged by UCLA.

The Palo Alto Indians are 12-point favorites, mainly on the strength of John Brodie's passing.

With the championship of the East hanging in the balance and—more important—a probable bid to the Cotton Bowl going to the winner, Penn State and Syracuse, two more top independents, clash at Syracuse.

There are a sprinkling of top teams that, on the surface at least, appear to have opponents that can't cause undue trouble.

Georgia Tech, rated No. 2, faces Duke, which has been having a sub-par year. Tennessee, No. 3, and Tech's most feared rival for the Southeastern Conference title, should experience no difficulty with Jim Tatum's North Carolina outfit.

Clemson, which is out front in the Atlantic Coast Conference race and the Orange Bowl plum that goes to the winner, faces Virginia Tech, in a non-league warmup for more important problems to come.

In the Ivy League feature, Princeton, the only undefeated team in the East, plays Brown, usually an easy mark.

Dodger Rookie Liked by Jap Baseball Fans

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Rookie Jim Gentile's knack for breaking up games with a home run has made him the darling of Japanese baseball fans who had looked forward to seeing some real power hitting from Brooklyn's visiting Dodgers.

Sports writers and fans voiced disappointment after the Dodgers' early games because Duke Snider, Roy Campanella and other Brooklyn sluggers weren't producing as expected.

But at that point young Jim Gentile stepped forward and as far as thousands of Japanese fans are concerned he's the hero of the visiting Bums, even though he spent last year in the Texas League.

In 12 games Gentile has connected for seven home runs and enough singles, doubles and triples to give him an unofficial batting average of more than .600.

He hit two homers in yesterday's game with the Japan All-Stars and while he hit no circuit blows today the big Gentile bat scored Duke Snider in the first inning and Bert Hamric in the eighth. Gentile tallied himself in the eighth on Herb Olson's home run.

The big rookie, who hit 40 home runs and batted .296 for Fort Worth last season, says Japanese pitchers are good, but Dodger batters are getting used to them now and should win their remaining eight games.

67 Russian Tourists Cancelled

No Word of Soviet Athletes

SYDNEY, Australia (INS)—The Soviet Union cancelled today a visit to Australia for the Olympic games by 67 Russian tourists.

At the same time, unexplained delays kept Russian Olympic athletes and equipment from arriving in Australia on schedule.

The tourist cancellations were announced in Sydney by the manager of the travel service which arranged for the Russian visitors' stay in Australia.

Peter Cochlan, or Orbit Travel Services, received a cable from the Soviet government tourist agency Intourist which said "deeply regret journey to Australia cancelled."

Cochlan said the cancellations would cost the tourist the $8,400 deposit made five months ago.

Cochlan said:

"I can only think that world conditions changed matters."

Meanwhile, Soviet officials traveling with 64 Russian Olympic athletes who have stopped in Rangoon asked Pan-American airlines to postpone for 24 hours arrival of a chartered airliner that was to take the Russians to Australia.

Also there was no word from the Soviet ship Gruzia which was scheduled to berth at Melbourne yesterday with 11,000 tons of sports equipment for the Russian competitors in the Olympic games.

The Gruzia failed to answer radio calls, but a games official said that as far as he knows the ship still is coming.

Shipping agents said they were not worried.

A party of Yugoslav water polo players and a female swimmer arrived today and settled at the Olympic Village at Heidelberg.

Nineteen nations and 383 athletes and officials are now represented at the village and at Ballarat, the rowing site 70 miles from Melbourne.

The Yugoslavs were grim faced when told the latest reports of Soviet action in Hungary.

"It is very unfortunate that this should happen," was the reaction of one official who seemed to voice the general sentiments of the squad.

Play at Macklin

MSU Against Badgers

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State, badly crippled but mighty mad, takes on Wisconsin in a Big Ten football test today in Macklin Stadium.

The Spartans are smarting because their win streak of 12 games was stopped last week in a 20-13 upset by Illinois.

They are hurting because five regulars won't be in the starting lineup.

The missing men will include Clarence Peaks, senior left half and the workhorse of the MSU running attack the past three seasons.

Tackles Pat Burke and Joel Jones, end Dave Kaiser and right half Walt Kowlaczyk also have been hurt by injuries—all of the leg type.

Kowalczyk will be running in a relief role, however, and Kaiser also is expected to get into the game—his first appearance since he was hurt the second game of the season.

Dennis (the Menace) Mendyk will start at left half and Art Johnson, a speedy but inexperienced sophomore, at right.

Wisconsin, with a win, a tie and three losses, also will be trying to snap back after a defeat—a 21-0 shutout by Ohio State.

14 Boats Race Today in 6th Annual Meet

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Freedom, 83-foot Naval Academy schooner, was scratch boat for the 100-mile 6th annual Skipper Invitational Race which was to begin at mid-morning.

The schooner will give away time handicaps to the other 13 yachts in the Chesapeake Bay race, sponsored by Skipper Magazine. The last boats won't finish until tomorrow.

ON WAY TO MARK — Hal Connolly of Boston, who only last Saturday broke the world's hammer throw record by 13 feet, unleashes another record-smashing throw of 224 feet 10½ inches in the final tuneup for the Olympic Games yesterday at Los Angeles. The hammer was found to be three-eighths ounce overweight. The accepted world record is held by a Russian at 211 feet 8⅛ inches.

Hawkeyes Seeking Rarity, Hoping to Beat Michigan

IOWA CITY, Ia. (INS — Iowa's all-winning Hawkeyes, boasting five straight victories, risk their "perfect" status today against formidable big ten rival Michigan at Iowa City.

Michigan reports injuries to some of its star backs, including elusive ball carrier Terry Barr.

Both teams are strong defensively and the game may develop into a throwing session involving Iowa's Ken Ploen and Randy Duncan and Michigan's Jim Maddock and Bob Ptacek.

A sellout crowd of 58,000 will see the Hawkeyes bid for their longest winning streak since 1928.

It will be the 18th meeting between Iowa and Michigan and the Hawkeyes have won only two of those games and tied another.

Lone wins came in 1900 and 1924 with a tie in 1929.

Former Wolverine, Forest Evashevski, has dropped three close ones to Michigan since taking the reins at Iowa.

In 1953 and 1954 both games favored Michigan 14-13 and last year it was 33-21 with a wild scoring spree in the final minutes.

Michigan was installed a 3-point favorite today.

Massed Bands Provide Gala Touch to Game

Appearance of the city school's junior high bands, along with the big Pontiac High organization, provided a gala touch for last night's Chiefs - Trojans grid battle at Wisner Stadium.

The white-shirted, black-trousered juniors went on the damp field at the start of the intermission, gave a colorful and highly enjoyable set of numbers that included a "Hello, Alumni" piece. The act was planned originally as a homecoming feature earlier in season, but did not materialize. It was designed to show the public where future PHS bandsmen come from. Their appearance will be a future annual event.

Eastern, Jefferson, Lincoln, Madison and Washington bands were represented in the 270-piece group.

The big PHS band offered a timely feature "Vote for Election" and wound up with the inspiring PHS "Fight Song."

Director Dale Harris announced this morning that the band will accompany the Chiefs to Atwood Stadium, Flint for next Friday's season-end tilt with Northern.

Braves Add Ex-Cub

MILWAUKEE (INS)—Wid Matthews, who resigned under fire as player personnel director of the Chicago Cubs, will serve as a liason representative for scouts for the Milwaukee Braves next season.

LO Squeaks by Roseville

A last period touchdown pass from Nick Merritt at midfield to Jay Recknagel last night pulled a victory out of the fire for Lake Orion's high school football Dragons 19-18.

Orion was trailing Roseville 18-13 with only about five minutes to go. Recknagel took the heave on the 22, raced all the way for the TD. Try for point failed, but the one-point was enough.

Roseville's Tony Nardone made the 1st tally, in the opener on an 8-yard run. Ben Harris scored in the 2nd on a 2-yard dive. Orion's Doug Storey started the Dragon scoring in the 2nd with a 3-yard plunge, and after Nardone got his 2nd counter in the 3rd, went over again from the four and added what proved later to be the winning point.

Victory leaves Dragons with a 3-3 Oakland B League mark.

Sooners in Blizzard

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Clear and brisk weather was forecast today for the region's No. 1 football show of the year—Colorado vs. mighty Oklahoma.

A five-inch blanket of snow was swept off Folsom Field after a blizzard moved eastward yesterday.

Falcons Trounce Fraser, 48-12

Weaver, Peters, Eldred Pace Rochester to Easy Win in Home Contest

A high-powered backfield, which had been silenced in recent weeks, broke out in full fury again last night as Rochester romped over Fraser 48-12.

The victors romped to a 27-6 1st half advantage and coasted the rest of the way before a happy home crowd as backs Dave Peters and Fred Weaver combined for five touchdowns.

Weaver tallied three six-pointers, two of them on runs of 40 and 39 yards, while Peters went over twice and passed for one. His scores were on scampers totaling 91 and 70 yards.

End Doug Falls, who caught a 19-yard Peters' pass, and Dave Eldred completed the scoring. Eldred tallied a touchdown on a pass from Dick Eberline and booted five extra points.

Fraser scored its touchdowns in the 2nd and 4th quarters. Jim Mennino plunged over from the one and Glenn Burgett dashed to paydirt from the six.

Javelin Berth for Olympics Is Filled

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The case of the javelin event was a closed one with the United States Olympic selections Committee today unless the key man in the matter, Benny Garcia, elects to reopen it.

As matters stand, Garcia has given no indication that he will withdraw from the American track and field team.

Head Coach Jim Kelly reiterated the policy he instituted last June to the effect that if an athlete displays the approximate ability he showed in winning a place on the team in the final trials last June, he remains on the team.

The 23-year-old Garcia, in Kelly's opinion, has done that in the practice meets held this fall. With the exception of the final tuneup three days ago, Garcia has thrown the javelin about the same distance which won him a place on the team in June, 234 feet 5 inches. In the Thursday meet his best was 206-5½.

Unless the ex-star from Arizona State at Tempe volunteers to drop out, the alternate on the team and holder of the world record, the Rev. Franklin "Bud" Held, does not go to Melbourne Monday.

Held, whose hometown of San Diego is the same as Garcia's, had 263-1 in the last drill. He has consistently out-thrown Cy Young, the 1952 Olympic champion, Phil Conley and Garcia in all the practice meets. But he lost a place on the team by one inch when the chips were down in June.

Held admitted that he sympathized with Garcia and would feel the same way, perhaps, if he were in the younger man's shoes. But he thinks the rule was unwise and that the best man in the fall, just before the games, should make the team.

The first of a succession of Pan American Airways chartered planes carrying the Olympic athletes leaves Los Angeles Monday. Aboard will be Olympic officials, their wives, newspapermen and members of the canoe and wrestling teams.

Some 375 athletes will make the trip which is routed by way of Honolulu and the Fiji Islands. The last flight leaves Nov. 11.

Today the Olympic team attended the Stanford-UCLA football game in its last official public appearance before departure. Last night the team attended a homecoming rally, dance and general celebration at UCLA. Earlier about 250 members visited 20th Century-Fox Studios.

300,000 to See Big Ten Teams

Top Crowds Expected for Top Conference Grid Games

CHICAGO, (AP)—Big Ten football teams will play before some 300,000 fans today with three homecoming attractions getting feature billing.

Undefeated Iowa, seeking its sixth straight victory, is host to Michigan before a record crowd of 58,400 at Iowa City. The Hamkeyes, off to their best start since 1928, will become a favorite Rose Bowl representative if they can turn back the Wolverines in this homecoming contest.

Ohio State, aiming for its 16th straight Big Ten triumph which would be an all-time record, is the homecoming opponent for Northwestern before 42,000 customers.

Upwards of 45,000 will turn out at Purdue's homecoming with Illinois, a regionally televised game. The Boilermakers will be trying for their first Big Ten victory after losing to Iowa and Minnesota and battling Wisconsin to a 6-6 deadlock.

Minnesota, whose Rose Bowl hopes blossomed with a 20-7 victory over Michigan, gets a conference reprieve against dangerous Pittsburgh. The game at Minneapolis will draw 63,000.

Handicap Gets TV Time

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mrs. Jan Burke's Dedicate will go after another major stakes prize today when he meets a dozen rivals in the $75,000-added Gallant Fox Handicap at Jamaica.

The Gallant Fox, a tough mile and five eighths grind, is the top thoroughbred attraction of the afternoon, and is the TV-CBS Network — attraction with a 4:08 p.m., EST, post time.

In his last start Oct. 13, Dedicate defeated Summer Tan in the $129,850 Hawthorne Gold Cup in Fox opposition will be much tougher.

In addition to Summer Tan, owned by Mrs. John W. Galbreath, Dedicate meets twt formidable 3-year-olds, the Greentree Stable's Riley and C. T. Chenery's Third Brother, both recent stakes winners.

Waldorf Disciplines Tackle by Suspension

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Tackle Proverb Jacobs was suspended indefinitely from the University of California football team last night on the eve of the Bears' Pacific Coast Conference game with Oregon, Coach Pappy Waldorf revealed.

The 245-pound junior, starting right tackle in four of Cal's six games, was dropped for "disciplinary reasons," said Waldorf.

Trojans Bow to Chiefs 21-7

By H. GUY MOATS

Taking a halftime edge of 14-0 and adding another 7 points in the final period, Pontiac High's football team last night in Wisner Stadium defeated Saginaw's Trojans for its 1st conference victory, 21-7. Saginaw has now lost 4 in a row, and appears doomed to wind up in the SVC cellar.

Pontiac recovered a Trojan fumble on the 23 midway the opening period, drove to the seven in as many plays. Charley Robinson barrelled over for the 1st TD. Marv Cagle booted the conversion, and the Chiefs were on their way.

Robinson, the night's busiest Chief in the ball-carrying department, carded the 2nd tally at 4:41 of the 2nd period on a short drive after Trojans had made their way to the PHS 20, only to lose the ball. The ensuing march of 80 yards was climaxed with Dick Whitmer's pass to Bob Baxter, moving from the 37 to the 14. Lon Humphrey ran to the 7 from where Robinson went over.

Chiefs were blanked in the 3rd, never getting inside the visitors' territory. Herb Korf had fired up the Trojans during intermission and they put on a terrific mid-period battle that produced a 85 yard drive ending in Deb Blondin's TD from the one. Dale Crampton kicked the point.

Only one play elapsed after Ed Graybiel's club got the ball in the finale, before Chiefs applied the clincher. PHS took over on the Saginaw 37. Robinson galloped to the 33. Then Art Poe faded back to his left, rifled a long high one that speeding Lorry Beamer grabbed on the goal line just before being forced outside by Joe Moore. Whitmer sneaked for the extra point and that was it.

Top running jobs were those by Robinson and Lon Humphrey for the Chiefs and Blondin and Ty Bryant for Saginaw. Outstanding defensive play was that by Poe, backing up the line and figuring in a majority of the tackles.

Poe's punting was the best seen on the Wisner turf in many a day. Art booted them high and far, averaging better than 33 yards to the try for his five kicks. Three set the Trojans back almost on their goal line.

Bob Holloway, Joe Hill, Cagle, George Palian, Bob Kelly, many others also showed up well for the home club, big tackle Bob Yauck and guard Jim Lazzaro were effective on the Trojan's front line.

Despite the chill, it was one of the best nights in the long series between the teams, with a sizeable audience watching the successful windup of the at-home season. Chiefs season's record is now 3-4-1.

Only Flint Northern remains, and there was an air about the hilarious PHS dressing room that indicated a desire to try for what could be the year's biggest upset in state prep circles—to hang a defeat on the Vikings.

Southfield Romps Over Redford Union

Skippers Win Over Milford, 28-14

Waterford rebounded from last week's setback at Walled Lake with a second half surge to defeat Milford, 28-14, on the Redskin grid iron last night.

Both teams scored in the first period with Stan Jones going 92 yards to give the Skippers a 6-0 lead. Clayton Roth converted.

Milford came right back with Pat Kelly passing to Bill Kelly on the 1-yard line from where Pat scored and Bill converted.

In the second period Bob Kauppi went 12 yards and Bill Kelly again converted to give the Redskins a 14-7 halftime margin.

Lyndie Salathiel tallied twice in the 3rd stanza on 28 and 40-yard dashes, after he had set up both scores with 28 and 73-yard runs. One drive was stopped on the six-yard line.

The final period score covered 22 yards on a pass from Warren Miksch to Roth.

Roth's conversions gave him 20 out of 23 attempts this year. In yardage Salathiel netted 178 and Jones 113.

In other Inter-Lakes action Southfield ripped through Redford Union 38-6 as Ron Brewer scored thrice on 12, 7, and 4 yarders. He also had an extra point.

Other Southfield scores came on a 65-yard run by Fred Rankin, a pass from Benson to Len Lamb and an 8-yard buck by Jim Stoia.

In non-league play Van Dyke was trimmed by Hazel Park, 13-10, and Farmington fell to Livonia Bentley, 41-6.

Soviets Cancel Entries

AMSTERDAM (AP) — A Soviet team of four checker players cancelled their entry in the world championship tournament, beginning here next Monday.

The Soviet Checkers' Federation cabled that "due to unexpected circumstances" their players could not come.

Hutch to Stay With St. Louis, Busch Reports

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 3 (AP)—August A. Busch Jr., president of the St. Louis Cardinals, says "there is absolutely no thought of Fred Hutchinson leaving" the club.

Busch's statement was made yesterday after the Globe-Democrat reported it learned from a reliable source that Marty Marion, dropped as manager of the Chicago White Sox, might come back to manage the Cards with Hutch moving to the vacant spot with the Cleveland Indians.

"I want to say as plainly as possible," Busch said, "that there is absolutely no thought of Fred Hutchinson leaving the Cardinals.

Oxford Falls, 33-14

By BILL CORNWELL

After being held to an almost complete standstill for nearly two quarters, heavily favored Clawson caught fire and handed Oxford's keyed-up football squad a 33-14 drubbing Friday night at Oxford.

The upstart Wildcats gave the Oakland B League champions a 1st half scare before bowing to superior manpower and diversity of attack. Oxford startled the confident Trojans by scoring the 1st two touchdowns and holding a 14-7 advantage at intermission.

Clawson fumbled twice in the 1st quarter and both were costly. The 1st bobble was recovered by Dave Morrow on the Trojan 38 to set up Oxford's opening tally. The 2nd fumble, spotted by Bill Noles, halted a Clawson drive on the Wildcat six.

Speedy halfback Les Beardslee swept 38 yards around right end for Oxford's 1st TD in the 1st quarter. Early in the 2nd period Leonard Haremza, a tackle running from the fullback slot, ripped 42 yards through the middle of the line for Oxford's final six-pointer. Bob Harrison booted both extra points.

The Wildcats could never get near the Clawson goal again. Clawson came to life, marching 53 yards in nine plays with Tom Kollin sneaking across from one yard out.

Clawson really turned on the steam in the 2nd half, scoring twice in each quarter. Lee Strittmater pounced on a Wildcat fumble to set up one TD and linebacker Pat Haley blocked a punt to account for another.

John Volk opened Clawson's 3rd period scoring with a 22-yard jaunt and Kollin's placekick tied the count. Haley blocked Harrison's punt, scooped up the loose ball and ran 10 yards into the end zone for TD No. 3.

Fullback Lowell Acton chalked up both touchdowns in the last period, bulling his way through Oxford's tiring line for runs of 10 and 8 yards.

It was the final game of the 1956 season for the Trojans and gave them an overall record of 6-1-1.

Troy finished its season with a 12-7 victory over Madison. The win climaxed a successful comeback for the Colts and secured 2nd place in the Oakland B League.

Jack Fifield picked up a fumble by Madison's Jack Tompkins and went 38 yards for Troy's 1st touchdown while Dick Kelly lumbered 42 yards for the other. Tompkins scored the Eagles' lone TD on a four-yard plunge.

Lang Races 95-Yards

Clarkston Nips Holly, 12-6

By CHUCK ABAIR

A brilliant 95-yard runback of a punt for a 2nd period touchdown by stellar halfback George Lang was the difference as the Clarkston Wolves rose up to trip favored Holly 12-6 in the final Wayne-Oakland League contest for both schools at Clarkston last night.

Playing in top form again after being hindered by injuries all year, the hard-working Lang also came up with the clutch defensive play of the night when he intercepted a long TD-labeled Bronco pass on his own four-yard stripe to halt a final Red and White threat with less than two minutes to play. All the scoring was in the first half.

The victory was the second in seven games for the Wolves. Despite the loss, Coach Reese Protz' Holly eleven remained 2nd in the loop standings with 3rd place West Bloomfield still having one more league contest to play.

Lang's gallop was one of the two long touchdown jaunts of the evening. The other was by Bronco Don Rounds. He went 62 yards on a double reverse play for the visitors' only tally. The other six-pointer was scored by Clarkston's Don Alexander on a one-yard plunge.

A fumble recovery set up Alexander's score in the 1st period with the Wolves going 23 yards to paydirt. Lang clinched the verdict with his remarkable piece of broken field running aided considerably by a key block from Glenn Ostrom who flattened the last Holly defender. Lang caught the punt on his own five, appeared hemmed in by a horde of Broncos at the 10, but got away and reversed his field setting sail for six-point land.

Holly, which had entered the tilt with a 3-3 season record, dominated the statistics all evening.

St. James Foe of Rams Sunday

St. Mike Bids for 2nd at Hazel Park; Eaglets Meet St. Benedict

St. Frederick's football team, sadly lacking in offensive punch this season, will make another attempt to muster striking power Sunday afternoon when St. James of Ferndale invades Pontiac's Wisner Stadium for a Suburban Catholic League game.

The Ram's attack has netted only 26 points in seven games while their defense has yielded 170. St. Fred has an overall record of 0-6-1.

Despite an unimpressive 2-5 mark, the Dales will be favored to win when the encounter gets under way at 2:30 p.m. St. James is a rugged, bruising aggregation which has enjoyed occasional flashes of brilliance.

St. Michael's Shamrocks, who have also had moments of greatness, will need to leave all shoddy performances behind in tomorrow's engagement with St. Rita at Hazel Park.

The Mikes, St. Rita and St. Benedict are tied for 2nd place in the SCL with 4-2 records. A victory over the Vikings combined with a St. Ben defeat at the hands of Orchard Lake St. Mary would give the Shamrocks the runner-up berth.

The powerful Eaglets have already won their 2nd consecutive SCL title. They will be gunning for their 20th victory in a row and 7th this season Sunday afternoon against the visiting Highland Park Ravens.

Barons Down Ortonville

Bloomfield Hills bounced back from deadlocked first half to post a 21-13 victory over Ortonville last night.

Jim Kearney's 14 points on touchdowns in the first and last periods and two extra points paced the victors to their 5th triumph against two setbacks.

The other Bloomfield score came on a 82-yard run on an end-around play by Dave Drury just after Drury had intercepted an OHS aerial.

Ortonville could not overcome a 14-point deficit in the final quarter. A 23-yard touchdown run by Al Dickerson and Jim Graves' perfect placement had tied the score at 7-7 at halftime.

In the final stanza the losers battled back to reach paydirt as Graves passed 17 yards to Dave Fallin.

It was the final game of the season for Ortonville. The Blackhawks finished with a 5-3 record.

Blomberg Gets Five TD's in Avondale Win

Avondale and Fitzgerald to what looked like a basketball score, with the Jackets taking a 44-26 decision on the Avon grid field last night.

Sven Blomberg, 170 pound senior, scored five touchdowns for Avondale and passed for another to lead the free scoring game.

The Jackets led 14-13 at halftime and 32-19 after three periods. Blomberg's scores came on 81, 18, 10, 1 yard runs and a 17 yard pass from Dick Gronski. He passed to Dwight Moulton 25 yards for another and Fred Hyten passed to Jim Greenless covering 52 yards for the final.

There was only one punt in the game, that by Avnoelad,taoirdnl game, that by Avondale, and Blomberg has now 72 points for the season.

Little Chiefs Suffer First Loss of Season

Unable to get going against a strong Saginaw High junior varsity eleven, at Saginaw, Thursday afternoon, Pontiac's Little Chiefs suffered their 1st defeat of the year, 19-0. Loss leaves the PHS jayvees with a 5-1 mark, with only Northern juniors ahead, at Wisner field, next Thursday.

Jim Schrall scored three of Little Trojans' TDs, with Bob McClelland making the final tally. Trojans gained 273 yards, 80 of which was on end sweeps.

5 Ride Perfect at Horse Show

NEW YORK (INS) — The coveted West Point Challenge Trophy was won last night by Lt. Bill Ringrose of Ireland as five riders turned in perfect performances in the National Horse Show event at Madison Square Garden.

Lt. Ringrose's time of 32.4 seconds was best for the 11-jump course. He was closely followed by Canada's Douglas Cudney and Tom Gayford with respective times of 34.8 and 35.7 seconds.

* * *

Romeo in 8th Straight Win

The Romeo Bulldogs, ranked ninth in state Class B circles, turned in their eighth straight victory last night by blasting North Branch 45-12.

John Fowler scored on runs of 69, 60, and 56 yards to spearhead the winning offensive. Other six-pointers were rung up by Benny Mayer, Butch Dallwitz, Bob Proper, and Fran Schapman for the victors.

The contest was never close, as Romeo scored two TDs in each of the first three quarters before North Branch broke into the scoring column on scores by Bob Morse and Clem Lockwood in the 4th period.

The Bulldogs can finish the season unbeaten by getting by Utica in a home tilt next week.

Dryden, Almont Win

Co-Champs in S. Thumb

Action in the Southern Thumb League ended yesterday with Almont taking the co-championship with New Haven by trimming Memphis, 33-0, while Dryden was humbling Armanda, 18-0.

Alex Aloncaie hit pay dirt three times on a 50-yard punt return, and 20 and 25-yard dashes. Earl Chesie scored from the five, and Larr Kersten scored on a 30-yard pass play.

Iloncale now has 18 touchdowns for the season. Griffin added the three points.

Dryden took 4th place in the loop by shutting out Armada with Herb Sawgle scoring twice on 4 and 5 yarders and Bob Burnett taking a pass from Sawgle for 25 yards.

Dryden ended the year with a 5-3 mark.

Lakers in Deadlock With Clarenceville

A field goal attempt in the final 15 seconds, which was the 2nd try of the period by Clarenceville, fell far short and the battle with West Bloomfield ended in a 0-0 deadlock.

The Lakers moved within scoring distance several times but penalties which totaled 95 yards thwarted their chances.

Three times in the 2nd half West Bloomfield got within the 20 on Larry Hollister's running, but infractions ended the threats.

Two 15-yard penalties moved the Lakers back from the six-yard line in the opening period.

The Lakers are now 2-2-1 in league play with the finale against leading Northville next week.

Velkoffs Live on Cheltingham Drive

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Excited barks from a black Cocker greeted us at the door of the tree-shaded house on Cheltingham in Sylvan Lake City. Zsa Zsa was ready to make friends after she let us know she was protecting her home.

Twenty - one - months - old Missy (short for Michelle) was alternately shy and affectionate. Cuddled in her mother's arm, she posed willingly.

Although Barbara and Stephen Velkoff have lived in Sylvan Village for six years, they moved into their present home early in 1956. Mr. Velkoff teaches at Bloomfield High School; Mrs. Velkoff is a former teacher in the Pontiac schools.

Their home, built by Sam Warwick, is set on a lot about 100x175 feet. The builder left a number of trees in both back and front yards. The house itself is a one-story brick with white trim. In front there is an attached double garage.

The dividing wall between living room and kitchen is made of the same red brick as the exterior of the house. At the open end of this wall the furnace is located in a closet. This arrangement allows the use of one chimney and gives easy access to the heating unit.

Both mantel and hearth are slab stone. A wood storage section has been built right into the wall. For decoration Mrs. Velkoff has placed a small piece of driftwood and a colored bottle on the mantel, two brass plates above.

At one end of the room there are built-in bookcases, with a paneled wall beneath them. The floor is ranch style pegged oak. Walls throughout the three main rooms are painted a soft green. The white ceiling is studio height and beamed.

In front of the picture window is a low bench. This bears marks of one small girl's feet and her canine friend. It's a wonderful lookout place.

Two Windsor chairs, one upholstered chair and one small love seat are all Willett maple. The upholstered sofa is rust colored. Cushions on the love seat and one chair are yellow quilted chintz.

Combining a variety of autumn colors, the large oval rug is braided. Draperies in living room and dining room are white floor-length Fortisan.

One of the most interesting pieces of furniture in this living room is an antique oak chest of drawers. Decorative panels on each drawer are walnut.

This chest was bought by Mrs. Velkoff's parents shortly after their marriage as college students. When the Velkoffs married during their college days, they acquired this same chest. Maybe some day Missy . . .

Dining room furniture is also maple. It includes a drop leaf table and rush bottom ladder back chairs. There is a round braided rug in this room.

L-shaped kitchen work units leave room for a breakfast table against the brick wall. In addition to the wall oven there are shelves recessed in the brick above the table.

The beige asphalt tile floor extends into the utility-family room beyond it. Counter tops are dark green. On either side of the window over the sink there are glass shelves. Cupboards are white metal.

The family room is large and bright. Walls are yellow and the windows are alive with geraniums. Window sills are marble. The dark green curtains have a gay farm market print on them.

This room holds the washer and dryer as well as Missy's toys and her own little rocker. There's a large green leather lounge chair for father to watch television. Placed nearby for playing children to use is the adjoining lavatory. There's a convenient door to the back yard.

Missy's room is pink and blue. Her mother says it is about to be redecorated. Since Michelle is growing out of the baby stage, and a brother or sister is expected soon, her room can now be done over for a little girl. The guest room will be the nursery.

The master bedroom is painted rose. Barbara painted a wallful of chests and cupboards to match. Above them hang a gallery of family portraits.

White colonial spreads cover the twin beds. The carpet is brown and beige in a leafy design. There are spotlight lamps for reading. Chintz curtains in pink, blue and lavender are short and full. They have a delicate design of butterflies and flowers.

The Velkoffs have a house that will take care of their growing family for some time. It is located in an area where children have lots of room to play safely. They are pleased with their choice.

Painters Use Swabs to Clean Spatter Marks

When painting the walls and ceiling of a room, even the most careful craftsman may drop specks of paint on floors or woodwork. Large sections may be discolored if the specks are not cleaned off carefully.

Professional painters use the cotton swabs found in the medicine cabinets in most homes. They dip the swabs in turpentine and rub the affected spot carefully. The swabs make it possible to concentrate on the affected area without discoloring the surrounding sec-

PEGGED FLOORS — Floors throughout the main rooms are oak in the pegged ranch style. Mrs. Velkoff uses a circular braided rug under the drop leaf table in the dining room. The lower end of the exposed ceiling beams shows in this picture. At the left can be seen the small oak chest that is a family piece. Its present owner refinished it. White floor-length draperies are pleasing against the green walls.

STORY TIME — Michelle, or Missy as she is more often called, posed willingly in the security of her mother's arms. This pleasant living room is done in autumn shades. Walls are green. The sofa is rust colored. The maple furniture blends well in this setting. The pictures above the sofa are covers from scientific magazines, matted and framed. Lamps are brass based with white shades.

IT LOOKS BIGGER — Painting the storage chests and cupboard the same rose color as the walls makes this bedroom look bigger than it really is. The rug is brown and beige, the curtains are printed in pink, blue and lavender. Reproductions of colonial spreads are used on the beds.

OPEN KITCHEN — The kitchen is just across the counter to the right in this dining room. Counter tops are dark green in harmony with the green walls. Here also the ceiling is beamed. The wall at the right is the back of the fireplace wall. Beyond the kitchen can be seen the utility-family room.

Save Housewife's Time With Efficient Kitchen

Housewives, do you want to get a modern kitchen in a hurry?

Take an architect's advice. Ask your husband to pay you by the hour for a while.

"Few persons realize that a housewife's time is worth money," says Herman H. York, Jamaica, N. Y., architect who specializes in new home designs. "If they did, they would provide her with equipment and a time-saving kitchen arrangement that would enable her to work efficiently."

Housewives spend up to 80 percent of a day's time in preparing food, laundering and supervising children at play, York says. The ideal in home-planning is to create a layout that enables her to do all those tasks from one location — an area he calls the "Woman's Workshop."

MOST LAUNDRIES INEFFICIENT

"Once you scatter these operations you run into inefficiency," he says. "Take the home laundry. Studies show that while laundering operations generally take a great deal of a house-wife's time, it is 'scattered' time.

She can't wait in the laundry for the washer to complete its cycle but has other work to do elsewhere. She spends half the day running to and from the laundry area, sometimes up and down a flight of stairs.

"If she were on a businessman's payroll and he saw her doing that, he would change that arrangement in an instant."

What's the ideal laundry location? Some women prefer laundry facilities in the kitchen. Others object, however, to sorting and washing clothes in the food-preparation center. This objection, York says, is especially strong in homes with children where, as one mother commented, "they are eating all day long."

IDEAL NEAR KITCHEN

"The ideal arrangement is to give the laundry a light, ground-level spot next to the kitchen and close to the outdoors so that it is an integral part of the Woman's Workshop, yet keeps the kitchen clear for food preparation and informal eating.

"This arrangement raises an obvious objection: Won't it cost too much?

"It is now becoming more generally recognized that adequate floor space need not be nearly so expensive as people have thought. Whether you have a tiny, inefficient kitchen-laundry cubicle or a large one, you must spend the same amount for plumbing, range, refrigerator, sink, fan, and appliances such as washer and dryer. The cost per square foot of a complete modern kitchen-laundry with adequate space therefore is considerably less than that of small, cramped quarters.

"Viewed even from a cold business point of view, an inefficient laundry set-up is false economy. Unless the laundry is located in a position where it is easy to reach from the kitchen and outdoors, as much as half an hour of a housewife's time may be wasted every day. Her time certainly is worth at least $1.50 an hour, so the waste amounts to 75 cents a day. A businessman would figure that this operation takes $200 out of his pocket a year.

CAN PAY FOR ITSELF

"In building a house, after you pay all the constant costs such as plumbing, kitchen appliances, electricity and so on, you can add floor space for less than $4. a square foot. An adequate, accessible laundry area therefore will pay for itself in about two years."

Interviewed at his Jamaica, N. Y., offices where he creates plans for many of New York's outstanding home developers, York said that the up-to-date Woman's Workshop should contain the usual equipment of range, sink and refrigerator, plus dishwasher, garbage disposal unit and electric exhaust fan.

Close by should be a substantial frozen food freezer — "standard equipment in the home of tomorrow," he predicts.

DINETTE FOR SIX

Separate eating space should be provided in the kitchen for at least six persons, he says. Distinctly removed from the food center, yet only a few steps away, should be the clothes washer, dryer and ironing space.

Among other factors to consider in planning your Woman's Workshop are: Accessibility from the garage. (Apart from convenience, an arrangement that facilitates unloading and carrying groceries and other goods destined for the kitchen has a value of as much as $100 a year in a housewife's time, he says.)

Accessibility to outdoors. (If a mother can view the garden and outdoor patio where the children play, while she works in the kitchen and laundry, she'll save many steps and much time during the day.)

Tiny Pilot Device Guards Gas Safety

The spreading use of natural gas for heating homes as well as for the operation of clothes dryers, incinerators, space heaters and kitchen ranges, has brought up a lot of new hazards when pilot flames fail. Small automatic devices called safety pilots and no bigger than a pocket cigarette lighter, have been developed to combat those hazards.

These gadgets, now in wide use, shut off the gas automatically any time a sudden gust of wind or a leak in a water heater puts out the gas flame.

Heat from the pilot flame is used to generate about one flea-power of electricity—enough to operate an electro magnet which holds open the gas flow. The pilot flame is the light that fails, then the magnet fails and the gas goes off.

Condiment Cabinets

Small steel kitchen condiment cabinets which are mounted under wall units are available with various door designs including glass or plastic panels and all steel doors.

One of the newer units has a door that rests level when pulled down, forming a convenient extra serving shelf of durable stainless steel. Another rolls up like an old-fashioned roll-top desk.

Cleaning Tile Is Easy If Right Method Used

Tile floors are the newest rage in home decor. They are found in every style house from cottage to mansion—in foyer, dining room and even living room. They are popular, too, in bedrooms, particularly where furnishing are in Italian, French or a combination of traditional and modern styles.

These floors are easy to care for whether asphalt, vinyl or rubber.

Rubber tiles are lovely, but many homemakers ruin their nice patina by improper care, such as scrubbing. They may be kept clean and shiny by observing these rules suggested by rubber flooring experts:

1. If the floor becomes very dirty or if something spills, clean with a dampened mop of cold water.
2. Give floors a thorough cleaning and waxing once or twice a year. For special cleaning use specially prepared solutions and rinse with a mop of clear water.
3. When dry, buff the floor to remove invisible film that may be left and apply a thin coat of water emulsion flooring wax. Buff it, applying a second coat of wax, and buff again.
4. If certain spots suffer from a good deal of traffic, simply clean and rewax worn areas, not the entire floor.
5. A little steel wool rubbed over burned spots in the tiles will renew them making them look good as ever.

For ordinary mopping of asphalt tiles warm water and mild soap are suggested. The tile is rinsed with clear water and should be dried at once. It is important to make sure to rinse the tiles, the experts say. Other don'ts are the use of caustic soaps, gasoline and mineral spirits.

Asphalt tiles are washed once a month with a water-emulsion wax. One coat is applied in the morning, the second in the afternoon. To keep asphalt floors looking their best wash and buff them between waxings. Wax should be completely removed once a year.

Vinyl tiles do not need waxing but frequent scrubbings will keep them attractive.

Window-Walls Maintain View

When a house is located in a picturesque setting, it's little short of a crime to block the view from inside with a blank wall.

That's what professional architects and builders are saying these days. And they're backing up their opinions by installing more and more walls of windows, both in new homes and in houses being modernized.

Walls of windows, besides bringing scenery into the house, also let more sunlight and air in and make the house look better from the outside.

Stock sash of ponderosa pine can be arranged into wide window areas in many ways. One of the most popular consists of two or three banks of fixed sash with awning or hopper windows here and there for ventilation.

Or, when maximum ventilation is desired, the entire "wall" can be made of awning or hopper windows.

Another method is to use casement or sliding windows side by side.

Generally, it's best to install factory-made sash rather than windows made by small local mills or by carpenters on the job.

Factory-made windows are made of lumber which is selected for freedom from defects, scientifically dried, and treated with a water-repellent, preservative chemical.

Non-Warping Cabinets Now Grace Kitchens

Because of the frequent lack of porch area and basement storage space in many new homes, an extra tall steel utility cabinet which matches other cabinets in today's steel kitchens has become almost a necessity.

The durable, non-warping supply cabinet is available in a variety of door and shelf arrangements. Depending upon shelf stylings, the unit accommodates brooms, mops, vacuum, cleaning cloths and similar household aids. A variation of the cabinet also features a door rack for storing small packages and bottles.

Remake Garage Into Playroom

Families who have outgrown their homes can solve their recreation area problem by turning the garage into a playroom for youngsters and adults.

A separate carport, simple to build, can be provided for the automobile, opening expansion possibilities for the garage. Any handyman can make it an attractive recreation room without excessive cost.

To increase the light, larger windows can be installed. Or screens may be fitted inside existing garage doors so one end of the room can be thrown open to the breezes in summer weather.

A widely-used material for playroom ceilings is paint grade plywood. Easy to apply, the four by eight foot sheets are fastened to the overhead joists with finishing nails, counter-sunk. Joints are smoothed with non-drying caulking compound and nail holes filled with plastic wood, sanded smooth. The ceiling is then painted in a light color or left in its natural finish.

The same material can be used on walls. For those preferring a textured surface, ripplewood, with natural wood grain and dimensional effects, makes a fine decoration. Joints do not show in this textured finish and walls may be painted any color. Many home owners give it a two-tone finish, first painting it a base color, and, when this is dry, a second contrasting color. The second coat is partially wiped off while still wet.

A picnic type sawbuck table with an electric plate to keep refreshments hot is a good item. Benches or chairs and an old sofa or studio couch can be refurbished for the new recreation room. Be sure the furniture is rugged, yet comfortable and inviting to relaxation.

You Can Now Prevent Sewer Pipe Clogging

A new once-a-year treatment to clear and prevent clogging of sewer pipes and septic tank-cesspool drainage fields caused by tree roots, and fungus growth, has recently been announced.

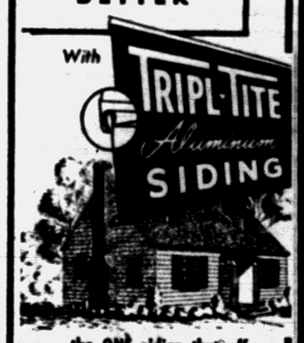

This new product, FX3, consists of a crystalline formulation that attacks only the "drinking" mechanism of the roots, completely destroying them without harming any other part of the tree, shrub, or even a single leaf. It will seal off the roots at that point and prevent all future growth.

Safe and easy to use, FX-3 is applied through the toilet bowl, and simply flushed to point of obstruction or penetration. This new product is non-casutic, non-acid, and harmless to clothing and skin. It will not harm plumbing fixtures, or necessary bacteria within a septic tank or cesspool disposal system.

MOTORCAR TRANSPORT COMPANY — The main garage for Motorcar Transport Company, the company that delivers Pontiac cars, has been completed at 1250 Joslyn road. A garage two hundred and twenty feet long and one hundred and twenty feet wide has been erected on a twenty-eight acre site. Between four hundred and fifty and five hundred trucks can be accommodated at once. Twenty-two tractors can be serviced at one time. The glass, steel and cement block building contains a complete machine shop. Employes have a complete kitchen near their locker room. Six months in the building, the garage was put up by H. F. Campbell Construction Company of Detroit.

New Paint Remover Is Nonflammable

Among problems of paint removers have been their high inflammability, the raising of the grain of wood when you wash off the remover, and the delay in waiting for the surface to dry before repainting.

Well you can get a non-flammable paint remover now that needs no washing off or neutralizing and you can go right ahead and repaint without waiting. You flow a liberal coat of this material on a painted surface, allow a little time for it to penetrate the old paint, scrape it off with a putty knife and clean the restored surface with steel wool and alcohol.

You'll need rubber gloves and plenty of ventilation, however, but you ought to take those precautions with any paint remover.

Paint Medicine Cabinet

If the medicine chest in your bathroom has become a little fatigued from so much use, rejuvenate it with a new coat of enamel to match the walls. Paint the inside to match the curtains, bath mat or other accessories.

A tourist hotel is planned on the Mexico City-Puebla road, 52 miles from the capital.

Take Time to Mothproof

This is a good time to give upholstered furniture a good mothproofing. Moths love warmth just as much as human being do, so the more comfortable the house the more necessary it is to be on guard.

First, vacuum clean sofa and chairs, being careful to get into seams and bindings and underneath loose cushions. Then apply a good insecticide, using either the vacuum cleaner sprayer or blower for the purpose.

If you are using slipcovers, vacumm clean them at the same time. Vacuum rugs and carpets thoroughly, using the crevice tool at the baseboards if you have wall-to-wall carpeting. Apply insecticide here as well. Do not overlook the space under heavy pieces of furniture.

While you are at the job, clean all closets and check clothing and everything else stored in the closets.

Hard Coal Is Gem

NEW YORK—The beauty of hard coal as a "semiprecious stone" is being displayed by a New York jewelry designer who has produced anthracite earrings and cuff links to show what can be done with the "black diamonds." Hard coal is more than 90 per cent pure carbon; white diamonds are 100 per cent pure carbon.

Paint Dries in 3 Days

Allow at least three days' drying time between exterior paint coats. Paint dries faster in summer and fall; slower in spring and winter.

Keeps Metal Shiny

Next time you use all that elbow grease to put a high shine on metal objects in your home, spray them with a thin, transparent coat of clear lacquer. It comes in a spray can and will preserve the lustre indefinitely.

The United States has six per cent of the World's population living on seven per cent of the world land area.

Powdered Ammonia Is Easy to Prepare

Have you heard about it yet—this completely revolutionary new kind of ammonia? A powdered ammonia—but a real ammonia—that does all the things liquid ammonia will do. What's more, it's non-poisonous, won't sting hands and gives off none of those choking fums!

It's wonderfully easy to prepare and use. Just add a spoonful to water and, instantly, it makes a sudsy solution of ammonia that produces better results in kitchen, laundry or bathroom. And for those cleaning-up tasks wherever food is prepared or stored, it's ideal. Perfect for cleaning ovens, broilers, stove tops, refrigerators and freezers.

It brightens kitchen and bathroom walls and floors. Makes mirrors gleam. Best thing in the world for windows—and most economical! Best of all, this powdered ammonia is safe for fabrics. Many housewives add it to every wash to brighten colors. It even restores original bright colors to rugs and carpets, and makes linoleum and tile floors gleam like new.

Babies Prefer Red

Babies can distinguish between colors, and almost always reach for red as their first choice. A survey shows that bright red is their first choice, with bright blue, white and bright green following in that order. This natural tendency is carefully considered by manufacturers in choosing paint colors for toys.

CONTINENTAL DESIGN of Ramseur's new Monaco line blends features from French and Italian Provincial in an 18-piece correlated grouping adapted to contemporary living. Concave drawer moldings and metal pulls resembling carved wood add a handcrafted look to the richly grained ash of these graceful pieces. Attuned to the new regal feeling prescribed by home fashion, this roomy triple chest fits with distinction into living room, bedroom or dining room.

Economical Is Word for Central Cooling

Years ago, homeowners wondered why they should give up separate room heaters for a central system. Today, a similar question arises with cooling. Once again increased comfort, convenience and economy are the answer.

Modern families desire comfort in every room. They want to sleep, eat, work, entertain and play comfortably with complete freedom . . . not be jailed in a single room. They insist on clean, filtered air throughout their entire home to eliminate dust and pollen . . . a condition possible only when all windows are shut. They realize that central cooling may cost as low as several room units, with the cost of a unit in every room being far out of reason.

Finally, they like the way central cooling equipment is out of view, out of hearing range. It's no wonder that any home without central cooling may very well be obsolete within five years.

Cigarette sales in West Germany have risen 40 per cent since a tax cut in 1955.

Vanity Shelf Practical

The installation of a vanity counter around a bathroom lavatory is a practical modernization project.

The installation of vanity lavatories in place of old fashioned mirrored dressers in bedrooms also relieves pressure on a family bathroom. A big advantage of this type of fixture is that it provides drawer space and linen storage space beneath.

NEW CINDRSEAL KEEPS BASEMENTS DRY
So Watertight It Makes Cement Block Float!

Miracle "Heavy Paint" Discovery Developed Exclusively To Protect Basement Walls

CINDRSEAL Only Ready Mixed Ready-to-use Basement Wall Paint

CINDRSEAL Covers Any Basement Wall Wet or Dry, Painted or Unpainted, In One Easily Applied Coat

Score another triumph for Science! Paint chemistry has converted a brand new "test tube miracle" into a practical commercial product eagerly awaited by thousands of home owners.

CIND-R-SEAL, amazing new "heavy paint" discovery, actually accomplishes what all previous "water resistant" and "moisture resistant" paints have never quite been able to: In one easily applied coat, without messy mixing, stirring or soaking, it fills and seals the pores in cinder block or concrete walls so tightly and thoroughly that no water can come through.

In fact, as the photograph above shows, a cement block that normally would sink to the bottom like a stone has actually been made to float . . . simply by painting it with CIND-R-SEAL below the water line, sealing the pores in the cement and making the block as buoyant as a ship's hull!

CIND-R-SEAL does not pretend to be a "cure-all" for use on any surface anywhere. It was developed exclusively for basement masonry walls . . . and for this purpose it has no equal. It is the ONLY ready-mixed oil base basement wall paint on the market.

And unlike many water-mix paints which cannot be used on painted surfaces, CIND-R-SEAL can be applied to ANY masonry surface—painted or unpainted—wet or dry—without special preparation. You simply open the can and start painting. For "Do It Yourself" decorators with asphalt-tiled basement floors, where soaking the walls is a problem, CIND-R-SEAL'S ease of application is a boon. It goes on as smoothly as butter—from brush or roller—right out of the can.

CINDRSEAL HAS NO EQUAL ANYWHERE
There is nothing else like it on the market!

Unretouched "Before and After" Photos Show CINDRSEAL Magic

In picture at left, note rough unsightly condition of wall, with some blocks wet and discolored due to seepage and lime burn. CIND-R-SEAL paint job (right) completely transforms basement . . . imparts a smooth lustrous finish that will keep its beauty for years.

Decorator Colors Bring Life To Basement Walls

Home decorators who have long despaired of achieving the warm glowing colors on basement walls they enjoy in upstairs rooms have a pleasant surprise coming from CIND-R-SEAL. The color chart for CIND-R-SEAL reads like a Painters' Field Day. It offers such mouth watering hues as Citron, Sandalwood, Straw, Aquamarine, Starlight, Mint, Carnation, and Sage—plus White, of course.

In less flowery language, these exotic shades are smart decorator pastels—delicate blues and greens, dusty pink, beige, sunshine yellow. They offer an infinite variety of decorative schemes for the basement . . . bring life and light where it is needed most. Now for the first time, you can give your imagination free rein . . . devise a decorative scheme for your recreation room walls to match the wonderful color selection available in tiled floors. And these glowing wall colors will not streak or fade.

CINDRSEAL Resists Mildew, Fungus, Alkali and Lime

Since basement walls are inherently damp and prone to mildew, the makers of CIND-R-SEAL have formulated an anti-fungus agent right into the paint. They have also made CIND-R-SEAL lime proof to resist the chemical action of the masonry wall. Thus CIND-R-SEAL'S beautiful colors will not fade or burn out as a result of lime seepage, salts or alkaline conditions. Moreover, the walls can be washed and scrubbed time after time without harming the paint in any way. Most water-mixed paints cannot.

"Do-It-Yourself" home decorators know that the cost of paint is only half the story. Labor is an important factor, too. And even though the non-professional's time is "free," any paint that saves work and man hours is worth a few cents more in price. Right here is where CIND-R-SEAL pays a double dividend. A POLY-RESINOL BASE CIND-R-SEAL PAINT JOB COSTS NO MORE THAN AN ORDINARY WATER-MIXED PAINT JOB. True, CIND-R-SEAL costs more per gallon, but only one coat is required instead of two coats of water-mixed paint. So coatwise there is little difference. But from the labor-saving standpoint, CIND-R-SEAL is miles ahead! It requires no messy stirring or mixing, no wetting down of basement walls before or after use. You can paint without wearing hip boots or a raincoat. CIND-R-SEAL goes on without lap marks. You can stop and start anytime.

Got A Scientific Mind? Read This!

The sensational new ingredient that sets CIND-R-SEAL apart in a class by itself is called POLY-PALE-PICCOLASTIC RESIN. It has a formulated base that is highly water repellant, plus characteristics that allow for elasticity without shrinkage. POLY-PALE-PICCOLASTIC RESIN is a magic ingredient found only in this ready-mixed basement wall paint. Its unique properties are what give CIND-R-SEAL the exclusive qualities we have mentioned above . . . and why there is nothing else remotely resembling CIND-R-SEAL on the market. One word of caution: CIND-R-SEAL is a specialized product developed exclusively for basement walls and nothing else. Don't expect it to be a "Jack-of-all-trades." It's the best product in the world for the job it is designed to do—KEEPING BASEMENTS DRY.

CINDRSEAL Truly A "Paint That Breathes"

Water Won't Collect Behind Paint Film To Cause Blisters, Chipping or Peeling

The best way to explain technical terms to a woman is to use comparisons she understands. CIND-R-SEAL compares with old-fashioned masonry paints the same way a modern girdle compares with an ancient corset. The corset had rigid steel stays with no "give." The modern girdle is a miracle of lightness and elasticity: it restrains bulges, but yields under stresses and allows breathing.

Old fashioned basement paints formed a rigid unyielding crust with no "give." Water collecting behind this crust had no place to go: It formed in "blisters" which burst and started the paint peeling. CIND-R-SEAL, however, has an elasticity which permits it to expand and contract with any expansion and contraction in the wall due to weather conditions. Because it "breathes," it cannot blister, chip or peel.

Cinder or cement blocks are porous. They soak up paint which is water-thin. Like a sponge, they will continue to soak it up. That is why CIND-R-SEAL has a special pumice ingredient to fill these pores and SEAL them. This fine pumice ingredient binds the paint to the masonry, yet stays in complete suspension in the paint, enabling the user to apply paint directly from the can without mixing. This is also why the paint is so heavy . . . because it requires a heavy substance to do an effective job of making the cement blocks watertight.

Know Wallboard Makeup Before Applying Wallpaper

Dry walls—the builder's term for interiors that are not finished with wet plaster—include everything from pine board paneling through hardwood veneers on plywood, fiber boards and gypsum wallboards, the latter of which are virtually prefabricated sheets of plaster.

All of these walls present some decorating problems. In cases of wood paneling, the proper handling of joints is important—to keep them just loose enough for natural movement, yet snug enough to seal crevices. Gypsum wallboard, on the other hand, when properly installed, can give you a completely flush surface concealing all joints.

Since gypsum wallboard is the most common form of dry wall construction, it is the cause of most of the complaints about decorating—especially when it has been covered with wallpayer in a hurry. After a year or two goes by, new homeowners often notice broad shadow lines and dollar spots in the coloring of their wallpaper.

This is a dead giveaway of shortcuts or plain ignorance in application of the wallpaper.

Facing the facts. You must admit that standard wallpaper is a quality product that presented no similar problems on other types of walls. Futhermore, gypsum wallboard has proved its mettle over many years, not only by being economical, but also by accepting immediate decoration without a waiting period for drying, and by not showing settlement cracks.

In addition, gypsum wallboard is coated with a sheet of paper. It seems reasonable that it should have an affinity to wallpaper. The trouble seems to be that it has too much of an affinity. The wallpaper sticks to the paper covering of the wallboard and virtually becomes part of it. Where special cements have been used to cover nailhead impressions and taped joints between panels, the wallpaper is sticking to another substance.

The difference between those two backings is what causes the change of color in the wallpaper. The only way to avoid it is to cover all drywalls and ceilings with paint or thorough sizing before applying wallpaper.

The Wallpaper Information Bureau in New York recommends any good quality sizing to seal wallboard. Your wallpaper dealer can suggest the right type and tell you how to mix it. If you cover walls thoroughly and let the sizing dry, you not only should have a uniform backing for your wallpaper, but also will have the privilege of removing the old paper when you want to redecorate.

Of course, you don't always have to take wallpaper off the walls when you want to hang new paper. If any paper is loose, you can peel it off and feather the edges of the remainder by careful sanding and spackling. But you can't do this forever. The time comes when you want to remove old layers and get a smooth wallpaper job.

If you move into a house knowing that it has dry wall construction, and the wallpaper shows dollar spots and bands of darker color, you can bet that you won't get that paper off by steaming or any other method without damaging the wallboard.

The sensible way out is to size the wall thoroughly, or paint them. If paint does not give you the soft decorative effect you are accustomed to, you can safely hang wallpaper over the paint and it always will be easily removable because the paint will have sealed the walls.

New Adhesive Can Be Spread With Paint Brush

A new adhesive which the Do-It-Yourselfer can spread with a paint brush instead of a trowel and needs no lining felt has now been announced. Previously adhesive had to be spread with a trowel. Lining felt was necessary over wood sub-floors.

The new adhesive is designed for vinyl-asbestos tile which may be installed in any room over wood or concrete floors—from the basement to the attic.

The new adhesive can be applied directly to a strong, smooth double wood floor if loose boards are renailed and high spots are planed down. Holes or cracks in concrete sub-floors should be filled with crack filler.

If the floor is very thin or in bad condition, it should be covered with underlayment or plywood before the adhesive is applied.

Because the new adhesive has permanent tackiness, a home mechanic can spread it on an entire section of a room without worrying about it drying out while he lays the individual tiles.

The new adhesive will not burn and has no harmful fumes.

Weather Stripping Tip

Don't paint over weather-stripping when you paint your window sash. The Weatherstrip Research Institute says paint on weatherstripping will cause windows to stick and bind. Use only a fine grade of steel wool to clean this running track. A little paraffin or a good grade of wax will keep it in working order.

Plan Counter Space

Don't forget, in addition to the space inside your refrigerator, you need space nearby the appliance too for receiving foods and storing other supplies. For a truly adequate refrigerator center, plan sufficient counter space and storage cabinets near the refrigerator, and if possible locate this important center near an outside door.

Diamond fields perhaps as rich as south Africa's have been found in Northern Siberia, Yakutsk reports.

Hardwood Plywood Tops for In-Home Modernizing

With the tang of fall in the air, home modernizing in many parts of the nation now becomes an "inside" story. Gardening, house-painting and fence-fixing are done for the year, and homeowners are turning their sights inward.

A major project favored in fall and winter months is finishing an incomplete attic or basement to expand the livability and dollar value of the home. Usually, these areas are too warm for summer work, but they are quite bearable in the fall, and in the winter, warmth can be introduced easier than coolness in the summer.

Hardwood plywood is a good choise for a material in finishing off either area for a number of reasons. First, of course, is the incomparable beauty of hardwood and its availability in strong plywood form at reasonable cost. These qualities tend to improve the value of a home more than the cost of the installation.

There is a work-saving bonus for the homemaker, too. Usually adding to the living area of a home means more housework, but hardwood plywood needs only an occasional wiping with a wax cloth to maintain its sparkling beauty.

An important feature is the creative outlets hardwood plywood offers for ingenuity and skills of the home handyman. For example, a typical way to finish an attic is to partition off two bedrooms, a bathroom and a hall area. Hardwood plywood wall paneling, ¼-inch-thick, can be used in the bedrooms, perhaps a different species in each room. The entire room can be paneled, or only one or two walls as accent walls. The closet doors can be sliding flush doors or hardwood plywood to save space.

The niches and odd areas created by attic dormers and knee walls provide good opportunities for imaginative built-ins — bookshelves desk, bureau, vanity, window seat, train table. These are usually made of ¾-inch-thick hardwood plywood, and the species can be chosen to match the wall paneling and furniture in the room.

Similarly, a basement recreation room is ideal for genuine wood wall paneling because the wood provides a relaxed, attractive atmosphere, and is easy to maintain.

Make Do

Make your own bedboards. Frequently prescribed by doctors to ease backaches, they are easily cut to size in the home workshop. Just ask your lumber dealer for a panel of tempered pressed wood ¼-inch thick. Cut it to a 60-inch length for under the mattress of a double bed; 30 by 60 for twin beds; 24 by 60 for cot or day bed. Round the edges with a sandblock or file. This hardboard will not splinter, split or crack.

Booklets Explain Projects With Wood

As a companion gift—to go along with the many hand and power tools that will be presented at Christmas time this year—the lumber industry is offering two booklets, prepared especially with the do-it-yourselfer in mind. One of the publications, "71 Home Projects in Wood," explains in simple A-B-C style how to build a variety of useful home-and-garden items out of standard lumber grades and sizes available at any lumberyard.

The other booklet, "How to Build Wood Fences," contains easy-to-follow instructions for building seven basic types of wood fencing. All of the fence styles qualify as do-it-yourself projects, or the home owner may select one of the examples for his fencing contractor to follow. "Home Projects" may be ordered for 35 cents (coins, check or money order) from the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, Washington 6, D. C. The fence booklet is available from the same source for 25 cents.

Thirty United States cities of more than 100,000 population are not on navigable rivers and canals. Their total population is 5,920,000.

The number of displaced persons in India is about 8,390,000, of whom nearly 3,700,000 are from East Pakistan.

Let Expert Mover Ship Refrigerator for You Safely

If you are concerned about how your refrigerator, washer, television or other electric appliances will withstand a move to a new home, perhaps hundreds of miles away, rest assured that reliable moving concerns know just how to pack such household goods.

Because of the delicate mechanisms and movable parts in most kitchen and laundry equipment, movers take extra precautions in getting these items ready for a move. First of all, most moving companies require that you have your equipment serviced before you move as an extra precaution for your protection.

Here is an example of the way one leading moving concern which is well known for its safety in long-distance moving handles refrigerators:

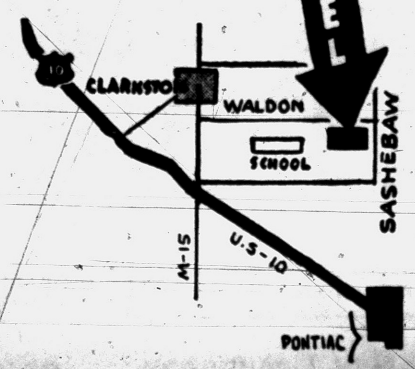

After the refrigerator is completely defrosted, the mover takes out all removable trays, crispers, and pans and packs them separately in corrugated paper or newsprint. Pads may be placed between doors on two-door refrigerators or between the door and bottom panel doors remain in allignment.

The refrigerator is stored on the van in such a way that the finish is completely protected from knicks or scratches by soft cushioning pads. It then is roped or fastened securely in an upright position so it rides safely, without vibrating or moving back and forth, throughout the trip.

Wood Won't Burn When You Want It

The fact that heavy timbers burn slowly—and sometimes not at all—is one of the most important advantages of heavy timber construction. This feature has been credited with saving many lives and millions of dollars in property. But wood's built-in fire safety has created probles too. For example:

The city of Vallejo, Calif., was stumped recently when it set out to apply the torch to a 65-year-old wood wharf that had outlived its usefulness. The deck and timbers of the wharf resisted repeated incendiary efforts. At last reports, city burning crews were still determined to set fire to the ancient pier—even if it requires saturating the wood with kerosene and other

Better to Prevent a Fire Than Try to Put One Out

Imagine coming home and finding your living room rug ablaze. What could you do about it in eight minutes?

A blaze can multiply itself 50 times minutes, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Unless you brought a flame under control immediately, your house could be gutted beforé the fire department arrived.

Thus the important consideration is to prevent the fire from getting started.

With fall here and winter approaching, there will be more use of fire around most homes. The living room rug might catch fire easily if you neglect to put a screen in front of the fireplace. You shouldn't have your rug too close by, and you'll be safer if you have a fireplace apron of some fireproof material such as ceramic tile.

Some other precautions to observe around the house, which may save your life:

Dispose of all rubbish from the basement, garage and attic. Large accumulations of combustible material and waste are one of the big causes of fire.

Replace all worn electrical cords. Neverd run cords under rugs or over hooks. Clean the furnace or oil burner before starting it this winter. Check the areas around the cooking stove, making certain no flammable materials are near it. You can protect the wall behind the stove by a fireproof material such as ceramic tile. Make sure there are enough ash trays around the house, since careless placing of cigarettes is another big cause of fire.

Don't put waste material near radiators (radiators are safe if covered by a fireproof material such as ceramic tile). Don't burn leaves on a windy day. When you do burn them, do a small bunch at a time. And just in case — know where the nearest fire alarm box is, learn the telephone number of your fire department.

Unsafe Materials Make Firetraps of Residences

Thousands of costly residential fires each year can be attributed to use of unsafe building materials in houses and to the spread of fire from adjacent buildings or other outside sources.

These conditions rank high as hazards along with such factors as faulty or obsolete electrical wiring, faulty heating systems, careless smoking, failure to keep matches out of children's reach, permitting accumulations of trash and use of flammable cleaning fluids.

Many building materials are treated to give them a degree of fire resistance. Others are inherently fire-safe.

The family of asbestos-cement building products, for example, will not ignite even under the direct flames of a blow torch. Composed of asbestos fibers and portland cement, both of which are incombustible, the materials contain nothing that will burn.

Asbestos-cement products are produced in the form of siding, rigid roofing shingles, flat board and sturdy corrugated sheets. Because of their built-in fire-safety, they are widely employed today not only for farm and city homes but also for farm service buildings and industrial and commercial structures.

Well Water Safe If Protected

Good Well Design Must Always Seal Off Contaminating Material

No matter how pure the underground water source tapped, it will be safe to drink only if the well has been properly constructed and protected from possible surface contamination, the National Water Well Association points out.

The materials that are part of the permanent well should be new and durable. The well should be so designed that it will seal off water-bearing formations that are, or may become, contaminated.

The well must be deep enough to tap a water-bearing level that will give ample supply all year round. The powerful rigs used by well drilling contractors can penetrate through any subsurface—even solid rock—and to virtually any depth necessary for reaching a satisfactory and abundant source of water.

At the bottom, where the water enters a well, there must be protection against inflowing sand or silt. This is provided by a well screen.

Good construction the full length of the well guards against collapse, cave-in, or leakage around the casing. A well must be sealed at the top to be safe.

If a well is located above any possible sources of contamination, such as a septic tank disposal field, cess-pool, or exposed manure pile, it should yield a safe source of drinking water. Generally speaking, the farther the well is from possible sources of pollution, the safer the water will be.

A corner table with a storage unit fits neatly into a corner between two sofa-beds, providing a handy place for storing linens and pillows. In a child's room, it makes a fine toy bin and play table.

This table can be constructed of 1x2 lumber for framing Masonite for the sides and white Marlite for the top, which opens on the diagonal. A free plan detailing the construction and listing the materials may be obtained by sending a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting drawing No. AP-8.

The attractive Marlite top provides a durable plastic surface that's resistant to scratches, burns and other abuse. It makes a good place for a lamp, ashtrays and books. An adhesive is used to fasten the top panel to its wooden framework.

In finishing the hardboard, apply first a primer and one or two coats of good grade paint or enamel. If a factory-primed hardboard is used, only one finish coat is needed. All the materials are available at lumber yards. Damp-wiping keeps the plastic-finished Marlite clean.

Store Uses Wall Color to Identify Departments

WASHINGTON, D. C. — A new idea in the use of paint is a big success in the newly opened Seven Corners Shopping Center in suburban Washington, D. C. One of the shops has departmentalized its interior by the use of different colors of paint in the different sections.

The customer is thus easily directed to the merchandise she wants —dusty rose for dresses and coats; peach and white candy stripe for lingerie; chartreuse for sportswear; aquamarine for children; and so on.

Beware of Moisture

Moisture in the air is necessary to sustain life. But excessive amounts of moisture can be costly and may ruin a building. Corrective steps are sometimes necessary, and expensive, when moisture gets the upper hand. Stand constant guard against it. Keeping your house well ventilated in all seasons is a major measure in combatting the moisture menace. tions.

Holes may be punched rather easily in spring steel without annealing by following the procedure outlined by Popular Mechanics. Center-punch the spring just hard enough to cause a bump at the point where the hole is wanted. Then grind off the protrusion. The operation must be repeated until the hole is the diameter desired. The method may be used on metal up to about 1-16" thick. Be careful, the magazine points out, not to strike the punch too hard. That might cause the steel to break or crack.

Some Windows Draw Moisture

The heat-conducting quality of materials used for window frames and sash is the reason some home owners are troubled with condensation on these surfaces and some aren't bothered at all.

For example, window frames and sash of ponderosa pine remain dry and warm in a heated room because wood is a natural insulator which does not readily conduct heat.

On the other hand, frames and sash made of some other materials have a high heat conducting quality. Consequently warmth from a heated room is quickly transmitted outside and the inside surfaces of the frame and sash stay cold.

As a result, moisture inside a room can form on these surfaces to such an extent that water runs down over interior wall surfaces, damaging paint, wallpaper, draperies and curtains.

Besides remaining moisture-free, the sash of windows of pine stay agreeably warm to thhe touch and can be painted or stained to match interior color schemes without fear of water damaging the finish.

Lay Asbestos Roofing During Dry Weather

Asbestos-cement roofing shingles should be laid in dry weather. They should never be put on over a wet or damp roof deck. While still packed in bundles, the shingles should be kept dry.

If it is necessary to pile them outdoors, they should be stacked on planks raised from the ground and covered with roofing felt, waterproof paper or a tarpaulin.

Slip Covers Add Warm Look

With the first gusty winds of Fall, you plan warm meals with hearty steaming dishes, wear heavier clothes and darker colors. But what about your upholstered furniture? Does it take on a new look for Fall? When the Summer slip covers are removed, does your furniture look shabby and worn?

You can bring a refreshing change of face to your furniture with interesting winter slip covers.

Slip covers have come into their own. They are no longer used merely as dust protectors. They play a very important part in the scheme of home decoration the year 'round. The permanent type cover—which closely resembles upholstering—has won a real place in the decorating sun.

Much of the success in making or choosing good looking slip covers is in the selection of the correct decorative fabric. The fabric should harmonize with the room in color, texture, and design. It must also be suitable for the purpose it is to serve. Wholly floral-patterned slip covers are a thing of the past. The fabric you choose should not be of a loose weave, since this type is more likely to "give" than a closely woven fabric. This type of fabric will stretch, even with little use, and a baggy slip cover will result. Then too, dust easily slips through the loose weave.

There are many fine decorative fabrics that you might select for slip covers. The fabrics may be patterned or they may be self-textured. Don't overlook the magnificent surface-interest woven fabrics that add dignity and wearability to your furniture. Be sure the fabric is pre-shrunk and sunfast.

To tie the room scheme together, one or more slip covers should be made of the same material as the draperies. It is most important in your planning that you strive for unity in the room. Don't allow your windows to stand off by themselves.

Plan fabrics that cut to the best advantage. The solid colors with woven textures or smooth faces can be most economically used. Next best is the allover design, particularly if there is no up-and-down to the fabric. Lengthwise grain of fabric should run up—up the back, up the side arms, and from front to back of the cushion—crosswise grain running across each section of the chair or sofa.

In using decorative fabrics with a large motif or large design repeat, be sure the motif is placed to best advantage in the center of the back, center of the seat, and on the arms and sides. Try the fabric on the piece to be slip covered. Lay the piece of material on the furniture so that you can see how the design will center.

Striped fabrics require matching, and here it is important that a stripe be placed at the exact center of the chair—back, front, and cushion. Locate stripes at given point of arm and side pieces and match the opposite side. These stripes might be printed or be self-stripes in pile or rough textures.

The entire appearance of a room may be changed with even a single slip cover. It can be transformed into a warm, friendly and charming place with a little planning, time, and a few yards of harmonizing decorative fabric.

Bricks Give Off White Deposit

No Cause for Concern; Condition Is Common in New Homes

A man who recently moved into a new brick home is pretty upset because of the appearance of a white crust on certain sections of the outside wall.

What our friend doesn't know is that this white substance is something called efflorescence and is quite common in fresh masonry. What happens is that the water used in the mortar brings to the surface the salts in the mortar and these salts are the white crust that forms on the surface.

There are several things that can be done about this situation. One is just to sit tight and do nothing. Chances are that the rains will, in a few months' time, wash these white deposits away.

If the rain fails to do the job or if you want to get rid of them in a hurry, try scrubbing the wall with some plain water and a stiff fiber brush.

In some cases you run into some very stubborn efflorescence and the thing you need here to soften it up is a little muriatic acid—one part acid to about 10 parts water.

Wet down the surface of the wall and then apply the acid solution taking precautions to keep it off your body and out of your eyes. Let the acid work for a few minutes, then rinse it off. Now you should be able to scrub off the softened efflorescence with a stiff wire brush.

After it's all gone, rinse the wall with several rinsings of fresh water to remove all traces of the acid.

When you find efflorescence in an old wall it's often due to a leak in the wall at some point and you'll want to inspect the wall carefully and fill up any cracks that might be allowing moisture to get to the mortar.

Paint Light Finish on Dark Furniture

With some of the new paints, all you need to know is how to hold a paint brush to give all your old dark wooden furniture elegant light finishes. You need no experience whatsoever to get rich grained effects. You don't sand, you don't scrape, you don't remove old finish.

You apply the base coat with brush, then the graining compound with cheesecloth, and finish with varnish. Your choice of walnut, maple, fruitwood, limed or light oak, and other light finishes.

Survey Farm Homes

A national survey discloses that 73 per cent of all farm homes are 15 years old or older. The vast majority are frame construction which lends itself easily to modernization and enlarging. At least one third of all farmers contacted said they planned some major remodelling projects to bring their well-built older homes up to present-day styles and conveniences.

Concrete Won't Harden With Sugar Mixed In

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—If you're mixing cement, keep it unsweetened or you'll run into trouble like that encountered by the R. E. Logan contracting firm in Pittsburgh. Installing ceramic tile walls in a bakery, the workmen were mystified when the cement would not harden sufficiently to hold the colorful tiles in place. Investigation showed that sugar from the bakery had found its way into the cement mix. Sugar is one ingredient that prevents cement mortar from setting.

Be Careful Splitting Vote, You Might Void the Ballot

LANSING (AP)—There is no way a voter can split his ticket to vote for a president of one party and a vice president of another, the State Elections Division said today.

The Elections Division said the reminder was made in response to numerous queries.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh ruled on four specific questions relating to the subject, asked by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

The questions and answers:

1) If the voter places an X in the square for the presidential condidate of one party and then draws a line through the name of the same party's vice presidential candidate, does this nullify the vote for the presidential candidate?

Kavanagh said it does since such markings nullify each other, making it impossible to ascertain the voter's true intent.

2) If a ballot is marked as in question one, does this nullify the vote other than the presidency and vice presidency?

Kavanagh ruled it would not since such a marking would not be a distinguishing mark. The balance of the ballot would be counted.

3) If a voter votes a straight party ticket for the first party and then strikes out the name of the vice presidential candidate and place an X in the box for the vice presidential candidate of the second party, should this ballot be recorded as a vote for both the presidential and vice presidential candidate of the second party?

Kavanagh ruled it would be recorded as a vote for the second party.

4) If an X is placed in the box underneath the political party name or in the box preceding the names of a particular candidate for President and vice president and one name is crossed out and another substituted, would this be counted as a vote for the presidential electors of that particular pary?

Kavanagh said it can not be counted because writing-in another name voids the ballot as to presidential electors.

Approve Curtiss to Run Packard

Vote to Deflate Stock From $10 to $1 a Share and Issue More

DETROIT (AP) — A management working agreement between Studebaker-Packard and Curtiss Wright had the approval of S-P stockholders today.

Curtiss Wright, an aircraft firm, has the final approval necessary to put into operation its recently signed two-year agreement with the S-P. Included in the approval is an option to buy a big chunk of unissued S-P stock.

S-P announced last night its stockholders voted more than 90 per cent of some five million shares represented at a Detroit stockholders meeting in favor of three management proposals included in the Curtiss-Wright agreement.

A favorable vote by more than two-thirds of S-P's 6,440,0000 outstanding common shares was necessary for adoption of a proposal to cut the par value of stock from $10 to $1 a share.

Two other proposals required only a simple majority. One gives Curtiss-Wright a two-year option to acquire five million shares of unissued S-P stock at $5 a share. The other establishes an incentive compensation plan for employes.

S-P executives said the vote paves the way for S-P to boost its fight for a larger share of the car market. It will introduce 1957 Studebakers Nov. 3 and new Packards in January.

Birthday Same as Ike's; Girl Gets Greeting

WALLED LAKE—If a 13-year-old could vote, Dorothy Jane Duckwitz would certainly cast her ballot for "Ike." Shortly before Oct. 14 she wrote the President a letter wishing him a happy birthday and explaining that she would be 13 on his birthday.

Recently she received an engraved card bearing the Presidential Seal thanking her for her good wishes and signed by the President.

When she took the card to school her teacher, W. D. Smith, used the opaque projector so that all her classmates might see the card without handling it.

Dodie, in the eighth grade at Walled Lake Junior High school, is a member of the Orchard Lake Community Church where she takes an active part in the Junior High Westminster Fellowship. Her hobby is music and in addition to singing in the choir she plays both the piano and flute.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William M. Duckwitz of Sweetbriar road. She was born at Fort Knox, Ky., while her father was serving under Gen. Eisenhower during World War II.

Russel Guild Sets Ceramic Show, Talk

Heading the dedication program is Dr. William J. Emerson, county superintendent of schools.

Presenting the building at the informal dedication will be Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools. Acceptance will be made by Louis H. Schimmel, president of the Pontiac Board of Education.

Also on the program, which precedes an open house and tour will be the Rev. James Deeg of Oakland Park Methodist Church, who will give the invocation; C. H. Haberkorn III, general manager of H. E. Beyster Associates, architects for the building, who will present a flag. William Wright, school principal, will accept the flag. The welcome will be given by Mrs. Arnold Thomas, president of the PTA at Linda Vista.

Three vocal selections by fifth and sixth graders directed by teacher Mrs. Betty Walsh, and the brass ensemble from the Pontiac High School Band also will be on the program.

Chrysler Profits Fall Off Sharply

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. has joined Ford and General Motors in reporting sharp, big drops in profits for the first nine months of 1956.

Chrysler reported yesterday net earnings dropped 91 per cent, compared with the first nine months of 1955, slipping to $6,272,352 from $70,637,012.

Directors, however, voted a 75-cent quarterly dividend payable Dec. 13 to shareholders of record Nov. 13.

President L. L. Colbert told stockholders Chrysler lost $12,399,000 in the three months ended Sept. 30, but made a profit of $18,671,000 in the year's first half.

Colbert reported new car retail sales by Chrysler dealers for the first nine months of 1956 totaled 16½ per cent of the U. S. total. This compares with 17½ per cent in the first nine months of last year and 17.1 per cent for all of 1955.

Chrysler's nine-month sales were $1,858,437,251, a declines of 24 per cent from sales of $2,466,251 in the similar 1955 period.

2 New Churches Advance

New church organizations, in the Walled Lake area and in the Drayton Plains and Waterford Area, are taking steps toward permanent establishments.

A new Lutheran Church of the Missouri Synod will begin holding services tomorrow in the Drayton-Waterford area.

Building of a United Mission-ary Church at Decker Road and Pontiac Trail is under way following recent ground-breaking ceremonies.

The New Lutheran church is conducting services at 9:30 a.m. with Sunday School following at 10:45 a.m., in the VFW Hall on Walton Boulevard, near Dixie Highway.

Under sponsorship of the Michigan District Mission Board, the Vicar Martin Renner is in charge of the church and can be reached by calling FE 2-2922.

The Walled Lake church marked the start of its building project this month, and until the building is complete, the congregation will continue to meet at Stonecrest.

Speakers at the recent ceremony were the Rev. J. E. Tuckzy, superintendent of home missions of Brown City, and the Rev. W. M. Burgess of Dakota Avenue United Missionary Church of Detroit.

Among others aiding were O. P. Eastman of Pontiac, and J. Randall Stringham, also of Pontiac and a missionary from Nigeria.

Minister of the local group is W. Calvin Roe.

Services are being held at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Sundays, with Sunday School at 10 a.m.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ELSIE C. Minton who was taken from us 12 years ago, November 4, 1944.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thoughts to reach.
Sadly missed by sisters and brothers.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FLORence Helen Hollingshead, who passed away Nov. 6, 1954.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
But in our hearts she will never be forgotten,
Sadly missed by husband and daughters.

GIEGLER—IN LOVING MEMORY of Dena Giegler, who passed away Nov. 4, 1949.
Memories are treasures no one can steal.
Death is a heartache nothing can heal.
Some may forget now that you're gone,
But we will remember, no matter how long.
Sadly missed by Fred Giegler and Family.

PINE — IN LOVING MEMORY OF our beloved mother, Rose E. Pine, who passed away Nov. 3, 1956.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
We miss you so much, Daughters, Violet and Olive, Grandchildren

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LOUIS Coppage, who passed away November 3, 1954.
Your gentle heart would grieve to know
How slowly time doeth heal.
The wound it dealt us with your death,
A pain we'll always feel.
Sadly missed by wife & children, Louis, Francis, Janet and James.

BRINKER—IN LOVING MEMORY of Sharron Lee Brinker who passed away 2 yrs. ago today.
The depths of sorrow
we can not tell,
Of the loss of one
We loved so well.
And while she sleeps
a peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep
Sadly missed by Mother, Father, Sisters and Brothers.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR beloved Mother, Mrs. Bessie Briggs, who passed away Nov. 1, 1953.
Gone is the face
we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice
we loved to hear.
Too far away
for sight or speech,
But not too far
for thought to reach.
Sadly missed by children, Blanche, Franklyn and Gertrude.

Cole Trio to Be Revived on Como's Show Tonight

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—If we were running the Perry Como Show we'd tie up perky little Brenda Lee for regular performances. Haven't heard so many talk about a performer since George Gobel's one-shot a few seasons ago . . .

The Nat King Cole trio will be revived tonight on the Como program, with Nat on piano, Perry on drums, Gisele MacKenzie on violin.

Bert Lahr will appear with Judy Garland's children at the start of "The Wizard of Oz" on TV tonight.

Yi! The letters arriving, screaming about the needless vulgarity of TV's "Born Yesterday" dirt! . . .

Robert Montgomery was off his show (John Newland said because of "circumstances beyond our control") because he was with Ike in Miami . . .

"Father Knows Best" sure does: Its Nielsen rating is 26.2 to Godfrey's 22.5, exactly reversing last year's ratings.

Nielsen says the World Series had the biggest October rating of all . . . "Lucy," second.

Both political parties are stumped by the small audiences holding still for TV speechifying . . .

"Omnibus" Sunday will star Eartha Kitt in a musicale of foreign folk songs she picked up on her last trip abroad . . .

Edgar Bergen's quiz will hang on if it can locate an alternate sponsor . . .

The voice of "Elsie the Cow" commercials is an old vocal Hereford named Peter Donald . . .

Jukebox execs and deejays are excited about "air Force Blues." Ralph Flanagan's record of it has a vocal on one side and a straight instrumental on the other . . .

Police Chief Straley Warns Motorists to Change Driving Habits for Winter

November is the month when some drivers never make the change over from summer to wintertime driving habits.

These are the drivers, officials say, who continue to speed although darkness falls earlier, who ignore fog as if it carries no lethal danger, who are unaware that wet leaves or the first frost will make pavements slippery.

Such drivers learn their lesson the hard way, the fatal way. But then it is too late to make the change over to reduced speeds, greater caution and wintertime safety.

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley warned today city traffic accidents and deaths increase in number as the days grow shorter and colder.

He especially urged care on the part of pedestrians. Dark winter clothing, he said, is a great deal less visible than light summer clothing on gloomy winter days or after nightfall.

The driver who misses hitting the pedestrian is the driver who can see the pedestrian in time, he pointed out.

GO SLOW IN WINTER

Children frolicking in the snow often forget the dangers of the nearby street. If a child suddenly darts into the street, Straley said, only the cautious, slow driver can avoid him.

Heavy dew combined with oil spots on the road surface can cause skidding on fall nights, he said, or a quick cold snap can cause icing, often before the motorist is aware of the danger.

Straley pointed out that early darkness and a longer twilight period in the evening extend the dangerson, after . work traffic rush.

With slower speeds and more caution, he said, more motorists will travel safely through the wintertime change-over period.

Unrest Grows in East Germany

Student Groups Meet, Object to Compulsory Russian Instruction

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany is bucking a wave of anti-Russian student unrest spreading from East Berlin to Dresden.

The official Communist party organ Neues Deutschland rejected student demands for abolition of compulsory Russian instruction in universities.

Education Minister Fritz Lange said, however, that "a number" of the country's newly organized high schools will drop compulsory Russian instruction and put emphasis on French and English.

By giving in partially, the regime apparently hoped to avoid student demonstrations similar to those which touched off the Hungarian revolution.

POLICE ALERTED

According to reports filtering into West Berlin, 500 East Berlin university medical students held a stormy session Tuesday night at which the regime was criticized. Several hundred Communist police and militiamen reportedly took up positions in university buildings around the meeting site.

The Communist party newspaper in Dresden revealed that student dissatisfaction is growing there also.

Gee Whiz, Ma, IT'S JUST SCANDALOUS

But I'm Here to SAVE THE DAY!

Just think how much laundry you have to do each week. Tiresome, isn't it? And now with those slushy wet days just around the corner it means a lot more laundry coming up. But I've been talking to Mr. Hampton out at Hampton Electric and now . . .

BE PENNY WISE
Would you entrust a fine watch to a neighborhood handyman for repairs? Chances are that you wouldn't even think of doing such a thing. Likewise, it's not advisable to allow a complex electronic device, your TV set, to receive that type of service. Why not have professional service? It may cost a few cents more, but most likely it will save you money. An honest, reliable repairman with the skill born of years of experience and an adequate supply of top quality replacement parts is the best combination for efficient and economical service. Call an Oakland County Electronics Association Member. Save time. Save money.
