Three Draw Life Terms for Slaying in Ohio

It Wasn't Quite This Bad, but . . .

Pontiac Press Photo

A NEAR MIRAGE — To most people this morning a sight like this wouldn't have been surprising. It was all that was missing as a chilly 40-degree wave settled on the Pontiac area. Eight degrees lower and we could have had the snow. It wasn't a mirage in Canada just north of Lake Superior as a blanket of snow did fall in a June 1 rarity. The low for an 83-year period was 39 recorded in 1910 for this area.

Temperature Dips as Winter Chills Area

Windows slammed shut, furnaces clicked on, topcoats reappeared and tempers were on edge this morning as Pontiac area residents awoke to a disappointing 40 degree chill—one degree above an 83-year June 1 low of 39 recorded in 1910.

Calendars instead of clocks were checked the first thing as residents were experiencing a 30 degree drop in temperatures in a 24-hour period.

The unseasonable cold wave will continue tonight, the Weather Man said, to a low around 36 to 40 degrees accompanied by expected scattered frost.

Back to normal temperatures are expected to return over the weekend with a high around 70 predicted for tomorrow.

A sudden downpour yesterday afternoon plunged the mercury from 76 degrees at 4:15 to 66 at 4:45. The high was 80 degrees (it was a record high of 97 on June 1, 1934) at 1 p.m. after a early morning high of 70.

Last year it also wasn't exactly shirt-sleeve weather when work hours began. A low of 50 kicked off the first day of June but this climbed steadily to a high of 78 in the afternoon.

The coldest spot of the state last night was Houghton with a 36 temperature registered. Pellston recorded a 38-degree low.

The lowest temperature before 8 a.m. was 40 degrees while the thermometer reached a high of 46 at 2 p.m.

State Traffic Kills 8 Thursday

Higher Toll Than Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eight persons—three more than the number killed over the Memorial Day holiday—died in traffic accidents on Michigan roads yesterday.

• • •

The toll included two 12-year-old Macomb County boys who were killed when struck by cars while riding their bicycles.

And an Ann Arbor teenager was killed Thursday night while Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies sought him on a complaint that he had been racing with another youth an hour and a half before he crashed in his car.

He was Cecil D. Satterfield, 18. Witnesses said he apparently lost control of his car on a curve about 2½ miles west of Ann Arbor, veered for 270 feet along the sandy shoulder, snapped off a utility pole and smashed into a tree.

• • •

Deputies quoted witnesses as saying he was traveling at a high rate of speed. They said they had received a report earlier that two youths were racing their cars near Willow Run Village. One of the cars sped away as police went to investigate.

Charles Landers, 17, also of Ann Arbor and a cousin of Satterfield, was given a ticket for reckless driving. According to deputies, he admitted he had been racing and said the other car that sped away was driven by Satterfield.

Deputies traced Satterfield to a gas station in western Ann Arbor and were inquiring about him there when they received the radio flash that sent them to the accident scene.

Francis B. Butler, 18, and Robert L. Horcsik, 19, both of Detroit, were killed when their car and a truck collided during a heavy rain Thursday on Telegraph road (U.S. 24) seven miles north of Monroe. Police said Butler apparently was the driver. The truck driver, Andrew Allen of Flat Rock, suffered minor injuries.

Robert Duncan, 12, of East Detroit was injured fatally Thursday when hit by a car while riding his bicycle near his home. Witnesses told police the boy pedaled out suddenly in front of an oncoming car.

A similar accident took the life of Edward Reickel, 12, of Macomb County. He was on his way to caddy at a golf club when he was struck by a car. Police said the boy veered his bicycle in front of a car.

Mrs. Bertha Zimmerman, 80, of Detroit died Thursday night after being hit earlier by a car as she crossed a Detroit intersection. The woman, police said, stopped in front of an oncoming car.

Joseph Sedletski, 67, of Newberry, a retired lumberjack, was struck and killed Thursday night by a truck in Newberry. State Police said Sedletski was walking on M-117.

Vego Nelson, 75, of Greenville was killed Thursday night in a two-car collision on M91 three miles north of Greenville. His wife, Anna, was injured critically.

Pontiac's Ice Cream Law Coming Into Court Again

Another flareup of the city's controversial "ice cream ordinance" loomed yesterday afternoon with the filing in circuit court of a suit asking the court to rule on legality of the most recent version of the law.

Filed by Sol Greenwald, 36, of Detroit, a veteran who operates his vending truck in Pontiac and has repeatedly been ticketed for violating the ordinance, the suit also asks a temporary injunction restraining police from arresting him until the declaratory judgment has been issued.

Judge Frank L. Doty, who ruled an earlier version of the ordinance was unconstitutional last May, signed an order requiring Police Chief Herbert W. Straley to show cause next Monday why the temporary injunction shouldn't be issued.

The first version of the ordinance, passed in August, 1954, flatly outlawed selling ice cream "novelties" from any sort of vehicle. Judge Doty ruled this bill unconstitutional.

But the city meanwhile amended the ordinance to outlaw "making a noise of any kind" to attract customers, and required peddlers to maintain assistants to watch

Curbs on Arms to Korea Failing

State Department Says Iron-Clad Inspections Key to Disarmament

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials said today the breakdown of arms import curbs in Korea proves the need for an iron-clad inspection system in any global disarmament program.

The issue of inspection safeguards — to make certain that arms reduction pledges would not be secretly broken—has proved a major stumbling block in Russian-Western negotiations over arms control for years.

The United States and its Korean allies yesterday again accused the Communists in divided Korea of violating the armistice agreement which ended the Korean War three years ago.

The violations charge formed the basis for a demand that the Communists must withdraw their members of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission back into a neutral zone between North and South Korea in a week.

The Communists reportedly replied that the United States and its allies are trying to wreck the armistice.

The effect would be to halt operations in South Korea by commission members from Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia. The other two member nations, Sweden and Switzerland, have agreed with the United States and South Korea that Red violations and obstructions had rendered the commission useless.

Columbia River Threatens Dikes

Melting Snows Cause Flooding Situation in Lower Washington

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The mighty Columbia River, fed by melting snows, surged higher today and threatened dikes in populous southwestern Washington.

The outlook was eased somewhat by forecasts of cooler weather inland.

• • •

Here was the situation along the flooding Columbia and its tributaries:

At Trail, B. C., the Kootenai and the Columbia continued slow climbs but dike workers held their own.

The Kootenai was "holding steady" at Bonners Ferry, in northern Idaho, but was expected to rise nearly a foot today.

• • •

The Upper Snake River in southeastern Idaho has spread over 2,000 acres of farmland. More probably will be covered when the stream crests Saturday.

North of Vancouver, Wash., water was pouring over a crumbled dike into a farm area.

• • •

In 1948, the water rose to 30 feet and smashed the dike protecting the huge war-built Vanport housing project.

A dozen lives were lost when the homes of 18,000 were washed away in that flood. Vanport was not rebuilt and the site now is occupied by truck gardens.

Robbers Slay Detroit Editor in Gotham Club

Polish Newsman and New Yorker Killed by Masked Gunmen

NEW YORK (AP) — Two men, including the controversial editor of a Detroit Polish newspaper here on his honeymoon, were killed last night in a holdup by two masked gunmen in a lower East Side social club. A third man was wounded.

Killed were Thomas Dombrowski, 46, editor of the weekly Glos Ludowy (People's Voice), and Frank Grodzki, 45, New York City.

Dombrowski's newspaper was banned from street sale by the Detroit Common Council several years, the Council saying the paper was Communistic.

Dombrowski testified in April 1952 before the House Un-American Activities Committee in Washington. At that time he was described as "high in the hierarchy of the Communist party" by Charles Potter, then a representative from Michigan and now a U.S. senator.

Dombrowski was listed as chairman of the Communist party of Hamtramck in 1945, and ran for Congress on the Communist party ticket in 1946.

Despite the controversial nature of Dombrowski's work, police said, the fatal holdup attempt apparently was for purposes of robbery only.

Dombrowski was married in Detroit about a week ago to Stella Nowakowski, an employe of his paper.

Stanley Nowack, a former Michigan state senator, identified himself to police as among the group at the party.

Police gave this account:

The masked gunmen entered the second-floor quarters of the Polonia Club, a Polish-American social center at 219 2nd Ave. The thugs announced a holdup to some 30 guests and ordered them to line up against the walls.

A number of the guests lunged at the gunmen, who responded with a wild burst of gunfire and fled without any loot.

Dombrowski fell with a bullet

Iowa Bridge Is Falling Down

NARROW ESCAPE — The car above, driven by Henry John Theis, 65, who lives near Dyersville, Iowa, went out of control and apparently struck a diagonal support post on the bridge and collapsed it into a shallow creek, on Memorial Day. Theis, bleeding from cuts, was taken to his home by another motorist.

Waterford Teachers Veto Merit Award Program; Slate Study of Proposal

In a close vote last night, the Professional Problems Committee of Waterford Township teachers turned down a proposal for merit pay raises for township teachers.

Seventeen committee members representing some 320 teachers in 16 different schools voted 10 to 7 against the measure. But the committee plans to carry the measure over the summer, for a more thorough study in the fall.

Under a plan recommended by Superintendent of Schools William Shunck, awards between $800 and $1,000 would be made to outstanding teachers. Shunck suggested a three-year trial of the program.

The issue, long discussed by educators throughout the country, generally means giving financial awards to teachers chosen as outstanding. The idea was recommended by a Committee of the White House Conference on Education last year.

Shunck's merit pay proposal involved two separate groups, the Professional Problems Committee and an administrative council made up of principals of the various schools and the superintendent.

Each group, in the plan, would make up a list of teachers whom they considered outstanding. If a teacher's name was on both lists, the name would automatically go before the Board of Education Personnel Committee composed of the Superintendent and two members of the Board of Education.

The final recommended list to the Board of Education would result from a screening process by the Personnel Committee.

Shunck said that this particular plan was the only one of its kind in the state, to his knowledge. Merit plans are familiar to all educators, he added, but the degree of teacher participation in this one is unique.

Following the committee's vote, Shunck said, "I will not recommend the program to the Board of Education."

He complimented the group on the "highly professional basis" with which they handled the affair.

"I think this committee has had an experience which, though uncomfortable, has done more to mature and strengthen it than anything before."

Teacher objection to the proposal stemmed from such things as criteria which would be used to select the outstanding teachers to receive the awards; whether the Professional Problems Committee was the proper group to help in the selection; extra pressures added to the teachers job; and "uncomfortableness" among the teachers.

Shunck asked the committee in their study next year to make a survey of schools comparable to Waterford Township and to study merit plans these other towns use if any.

Trumans End Italian Tour

Salzburg, Austria Next Stop of European Trip; Pleased by Italians

VENICE (INS)—Harry S. Truman has wound up the Italian leg of his European tour with an admiring look at the medieval and Renaissance marvels of Vicenza and Padua.

The former president and his wife returned to Venice for a reception last night at the U.S. consulate. They were to go to Salzburg, Austria, today by train.

The Trumans almost got a traffic ticket when their driver, unfamiliar with Vicenza, went the wrong-way on a one-way street. The officer on duty blew his whistle, whipped out his summons pad, then suddenly recognized Truman, saluted and directed the car down the right street.

Much of the Truman's sightseeing was done on foot. The ex-president's injured ankle has healed so well that, as he put it, "I'm going to give these reporters following me a workout."

The Trumans paused long enough, however, to look at the Vicenza rotunda designed by Andrea Palladio in the 16th century, the model Thomas Jefferson followed in designing Monticello.

Truman was happy to find his daughter Margaret's name in the guestbook of the "Modern" (1579) Olympic Theater. He signed his name above hers.

In Padua, the Trumans were most impressed by Giotto's 14th century frescoes in the Scrovegni Chapel.

Wherever the Trumans appeared, they were greeted with cheers and applause. Truman said he was gratified by the cordiality with which the Italian people had received him.

Hazel Park Trio Escapes Chair With New Plea

First Degree Murder Charge Against Boys Is Reduced

Three Hazel Park youths were spared death in an Ohio electric chair for murder yesterday, receiving instead a sentence to life imprisonment at their arraignment in Wapakoneta.

Auglaize County Common Pleas Judge Jacob T. Koenig immediately passed sentence after hearing Bernard Harris and James Thornton, both 18, and Willie Thomas, 20, plead guilty to second-degree murder in the holdup-slaying of a bartender Jan. 24.

A charge of first-degree murder, carrying a mandatory death penalty under Ohio law, was reduced after a surprise move by defense attorneys, who conferred with Judge Koenig and Prosecuting Attorney George Monahan.

Several relatives were at the conference and sentencing.

When asked by Judge Koenig if they had anything to say, the youths replied, "No."

They had been indicted on the higher charge in the shooting of Charles Stolzenbach, 54, in his tavern near Wapakoneta.

The sentences will be served at the Mansfield, Ohio Reformatory. Judge Koenig said the trio will be eligible for parole after 10 years, "if they behave themselves."

Harris and Thomas had escaped briefly from jail in March while awaiting trial. A companion, Jerry Clouse, 18, of Muncie, Ind. pleaded guilty to auto theft last March 22 and was sentenced to 1-20 years in the Mansfield Reformatory.

The escapees had stolen a truck near the jail and abandoned it near the Indana border. They were not sentenced on that count yesterday.

Baby Elephant Almost Causes Circus Stampede

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A loud thunderclap frightened a baby elephant performing in the main ring of a circus last night, setting off a near stampede of other elephants that was ended quickly by their handlers, five of whom were injured.

The small elephant squealed and broke into a run and about a score of larger elephants started to follow his lead.

As thousands attending the Barnum & Bailey circus started to rise from their seats the handlers moved in quickly to divert the herd toward a corral.

But in the cramped confines of the corral the elephants became more excited and started pushing against each other. Several of the handlers were stepped on as they tethered the ponderous animals.

Five Surveys Now Prove Polio Vaccine Effective

CHICAGO (AP)—Evidence that Salk polio vaccine gives good protection to children of preschool age and to babies was shown in a Michigan study today.

The tests indicated, however, that these younger children require at least two inoculations and preferably three.

The researchers studied the responses of 135 infants and 116 preschool children. The response to the vaccine was checked by a virus neutralization test.

This measured the ability of antibodies in the patients' blood — when mixed with virus — to prevent infection of a tissue culture by the virus.

Three types of virus were used in the test.

The children and infants were divided into five age groups. Each group received vaccines, made by different companies, on different dosage schedules.

In two groups receiving three injections of different vaccines at monthly intervals, the majority of infants, including those under six months old, responded with increased antibodies to all three types of vaccine. In another group that received two injections, the response was not as good. A group of infants receiving only one injection did not respond at all.

A fifth group responded well to a booster shot, even though the original shots with weakened vaccine were ineffective.

Ice Cream Law to Go Into Court

traffic while children were buying their wares.

Detroit Attorney Paul W. Harty, acting for Greenwald, said today he asked a declaratory judgment on legality of the ordinance to forestall further appeals on ordinances which may be amended while the appeal is in process.

The temporary injunction, he said, would prevent police from "waiting until the weather is hot and business is good, and then arresting my client and holding him for several hours."

"Two or three" times last year, Harty said, Greenwald was arrested and held for "several hours" without being ticketed.

Harty said Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan, who agrees with Judge Doty the ordinance is unconstitutional, has dismissed numerous tickets against Greenwald and other ice cream vendors.

But Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum, he said, continues to enforce the ordinance. McCallum has said he feels obliged to enforce the measure, since the City Commission has passed it.

NEW YORK (INS)—A neighborhood character known at "Whitey" today was sought for a lead to the bandit team who killed two men, one a pro-Communist editor of a Detroit Polish weekly, Thomas Dombrowski, in a Manhattan social club.

Police said "Whitey" may know the identity of the gunmen who also critically wounded a third man during the thwarted holdup last night in the Club Polonia.

A police alarm described the holdup men as both apparently Puerto Rican and either 25 or 26.

The two-pistol thug was described as 5-foot-5, 140 pounds, with dark hair, heavy eyebrows and wearing a dark gray jacket.

Mickey Jelke Loses Reduced Term Bid

ALBANY (INS)—Convicted cafe society procurer Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke failed yesterday in his bid to win a reduction of sentence.

The court of appeals unanimously upheld the oleo heir's conviction for inducing Pat Ward to become a high-priced call girl. But the court threw out the April 1955 guilty finding in the case of Marguerite Cordova.

Jelke, who was sentenced to two concurrent three year terms, by the court's ruling, still has to serve the original three-year term even though one of the counts was voided.

He was convicted at a sensational trial at which a parade of $100 a visit call girls told of their night life, supposedly under the guidance of the 26-year-old heir.

Postal Department Official Will Dedicate New Office

Irving W. Thomas, U. S. administrative manager of post office real estate, is traveling from Washington, D. C., to dedicate the new Orchard Lake Post Office tomorrow.

The 3 p.m. ceremony will be held outdoors at the post office, 3735 Commerce Rd., if weather permits, according to Postmaster Mrs. Mary Hawkes. In case of rain, the dedication program will be held across the street in the hall of Our Lady of Refuge Church. The church grounds also will provide parking facilities.

Ralph Wills, special assistant with the Post Office Operations at Washington, D. C., will serve as master of ceremonies, and Detroit regional postal officials Emil Wilson and Elmer Wallen will give brief talks.

Local dignitaries who will participate in the program are Orchard Lake Village President Fred Walls, West Bloomfield Township Supervisor Hiland Thatcher and Keego Harbor Mayor Jack Loveland.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward Szumal, president of St. Cyril and Methodius Seminary and St. Mary College which leases the new post office to the government, will give an address and pronounce Benediction. Invocation will be by the Rev. Elmer Steenson, pastor of West Bloomfield Baptist Church.

Postmaster Mary Hawkes will introduce the guests.

A special flag, used in services for Lt. Edward A. Hawkes, son of the postmaster, will be employed for the flag-raising ritual. Lt. Hawkes was killed March 29 when the Navy jet plane he was piloting crashed in Texas. Chiefs J. Borer and A. D. Simonson of the Pontiac Navy Recruting Office will raise the flag.

Music will be by the nationally known Schola Cantorum of St. Cyril and Methodius Seminary and the West Bloomfield High School Band.

Following the dedication, a reception for local and visiting dignitaries will be held at Rotunda Inn.

Previously, Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield had indicated he would try to attend the dedication. However, pressure of business is expected to keep in him in Washington, Mrs. Hawkes said.

The new Orchard Lake Post Office is a 20x50 foot building. It has only two service windows, but starting tomorrow it will bring local mail delivery to 1,100 additional homes in Orchard Lake, Westacres and part of what formerly was Pontiac Rt. 3.

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — A former Michigan State University football player was held for investigation today in connection with the beating of a Western Michigan College athlete.

* * *

In critical condition in a Kalamazoo hospital is Fred Corbus, about 23, of Kalamazoo, who police said suffered a brain hemorrhage after a Memorial Day fight with Eugene E. Lekenta, 24, of Grand Rapids.

* * *

Officers said Lekenta, who earlier this year pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated assault on another youth, admitted being in a fight with Corbus but denied striking him. The two got into the scuffle in a restaurant where Corbus, his wife and three other couples, stopped on their way home from a holiday outing. Corbus was a center on the Western Michigan College basketball team.

* * *

Lekenta was the hero of Michigan State's 17-14 football victory over Oregon State in 1952.

A fullback, Lekenta kicked a last-minute field goal for the deciding points. He was suspended from MSU in 1954.

Delegation of County Dems Attending Weekend Convention in Grand Rapids

In a caucus tonight in Grand Rapids' Pantlind Hotel, Oakland County's 86-man delegation to this weekend's Democratic state convention will pick four half-vote delegates to the party's national convention and two full-vote alternates.

Action also might be taken tonight by the delegation on voting support for a candidate for National Committee membership.

Under the county delegation's unit rule, adopted at the county convention, support for a candidate or measure by more than half the delegation requires the whole group to vote as a unit.

* * *

The county delegation also is expected to support a strongly-worded civil rights resolution, part of the "bold new program" called for by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Preliminary platform issues will be discussed at a meeting this afternoon, when the so-called "Michigan declaration" will be couched in formal language.

Proposed as a statement of basic principles by nothern Democratic liberals, the declaration is intended for wide circulation in other northern states before the Chicago national convention in August.

Opponents of the move fear that widespread northern support of the declaration, including the civil rights passage, may trigger a repetition of the 1948 Dixiecrat walkout at the national convention.

The 1,200 delegates and 300 convention visitors are expected to give enthusiastic support to Governor Williams as a "favorite son" candidate for president, but both Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver will be represented. Oakland County's delegation will support Williams.

Main business of the convention is to pick 88 delegates, with a half-vote each, and 52 alternates to the Chicago convention.

In other business, delegates are expected to act on a change in the party's vignette heading their ballot slates this fall.

The new trademark will combine the pictures of Governor Williams and the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Republicans now have an Eisenhower-Lincoln combination.

Delegates picked to attend the national convention will caucus Sunday afternoon to organize and elect a delegation chairman.

Telegraph Company Resumes Pay Talks

Wage contract talks between the Western Union Telegraph Co. and some 34,000 employes resumed today with most workers still on the job despite a strike threat last midnight.

Officials of the Commercial Telegraphers Union have declined specific comment but some observers state that at least an informal contract extension has been arranged with Western Union management.

J. F. Slattery, manager of the firm's Pontiac office, said this morning that the 23 local employes who would be affected by a company-wide strike reported for work on schedule.

The CTU is seeking an hourly wage increase of 15 cents for all employes and is demanding other job classification and fringe benefits averaging 12 cents an hour. Average hourly wage is currently $1.88.

To Conduct Autopsy in Automobile Death

Pathologist Dr. John Marra plans to conduct an autopsy today to determine the cause of death of a Farmington Township man who was found slumped over the seat of his car in Novi Township yesterday afternoon.

The body of John E. McKenzie, 54, was discovered in the vehicle parked off the road at Grand River east of Meadowbrook road by a passerby. His family told investigators the man had gone to the location that morning to pick up some black dirt.

Deputy Gordon D. Misenar of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department said McKenzie appeared to have died of natural causes.

Knowland Says Visit to Russia Is Reciprocal

OMAHA (INS)—Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) said the decision to send Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, to Russia would obligate this country to invite Russian leaders here.

The Senate minority leader made his remarks in Omaha where he was scheduled to address a $25-a-plate GOP fund-raising dinner.

* * *

He said international protocol would demand that a reciprocal invitation to visit this country be extended to highly placed Russians and that such a visit would be detrimental to efforts by persons behind the Iron Curtain to gain their freedom.

Educators See Preview of Valley Woods School

BIRMINGHAM—First details in plans for Valley Woods School, to stand at 14 Mile and Lahser Rds., were presented by Eberle Smith, Inc., architectural firm, at a building committee meeting of the board of education yesterday morning.

Valley Woods is among four elementary schools expected to have their first use in the fall of 1957. Enrollment areas are not established yet, but Valley Woods may serve students south of 14 Mile and possibly Westchester Village.

The others being planned are Midvale, Harlan and Greenfield schools.

Amount alloted for Valley Woods is $675,000, which is to include furniture, and architects' fees, as well as construction costs.

The four board members, who form the building committee, and school officials looked at color samples for interior colors for Derby Junior High School, but asked for further samples of slightly darker tones. The pastels were too light, they indicated.

Work Stoppages for '56 Establish Four-Year Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported yesterday that strike idleness was higher during the first four months of this year than for any comparable period since 1952.

About 7,700,000 man days of working time were lost from January through April, the Labor Department said. The comparable figure for last year was 5,410,000 man days, that for 1954 was 4,610,000 and that for 1953 was 6,400,000.

In January-April 1952, strike idleness amounted to 9,680,000 man days—the time of one man for one day.

The department said last month saw 450 strikes in effect, idling 21,000 workers for an aggregate of 1½ million man days. This compared with 350 stoppages involving 175,000 workers for two million lost man days in March.

Judge New Umpire for GM Dealer Plan

William C. Coleman, retired chief judge of the U.S. District Court for Maryland, has been appointed impartial dealer umpire for the General Motors Corp., President Harlow H. Curtice announced today.

Judge Coleman will supersede the GM Dealer Relations Board in adjudicating appeals by dealers from decisions of General Motors divisions. Curtice hailed the move as a "step in putting into effect the quality-dealer program which I outlined to dealers last month."

The new umpire retired today after serving 28 years on the Federal Bench. He was appointed a Maryland District judge in 1927 by President Calvin Coolidge and was named chief judge of the district in 1948.

Folsom Endorses Social Security Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Folsom today described as "essentially sound" the Social Security bill approved last week by the Senate Finance Committee.

The Senate committee approved lowering the retirement benefit age for widows from 65 to 62 years and extending coverage to some 200,000 additional people, including lawyers and dentists.

It rejected House-passed provisions which would have increased the Social Security tax by about $1,700,000,000 annually; provided retirement benefits to all women at age of 62; and given cash payments at 50 instead of 65 to covered persons who become totally and permanently disabled.

Scrolls Reveal Treasure Hoard

Authenticity of Writings Dug Up in Caves Along Dead Sea Doubted

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Ancient documents telling of nearly 200 tons of buried gold and silver may touch off a vast treasure hunt in the Holy Land. But an expert was quick to throw cold water on any hopes that might be raised.

• • •

The Jordan government announced today that two 2,000-year-old "Dead Sea Scrolls" examined at Manchester University tell of a fabulous hoard of gold and silver buried in 60 caches along the Israel-Jordan border west of the Dead Sea.

"It was the first ancient document of its kind—a guide to treasure trove—ever to be found," said Dr. Gerald Lankester Harding, Jordan's director of antiquities.

Harding warned that the huge amount of riches listed in the documents was "obviously a fantastic figure."

DOUBTS AUTHENTICITY

That, he said, "coupled with the depth at which some of the hoards are alleged to lie—16 to 18 feet—makes one doubt the authenticity of the stories."

Harding added that the locality of the treasure, if any, would be hard to identify because the terrain must have changed a lot in 2,000 years.

• • •

But the directions contained in the scrolls were specific enough to fire the imagination of most treasure hunters. They gave such clues as:

"In the cistern which is below the rampart of the east side in a place hollowed out of the rock, 600 bars of silver. . . .

"Close by, below the south corner of the portico at Zadok's tomb, and underneath the pilaster in the exedras (forum), a vessel of incense in pinewood and a vessel of incense in cassia wood.

"In the pit nearby toward the north, near the graves, in a hole opening to the north, there is a copy of this book, with explanations, measurements and all details."

The scrolls were among other relics found in Dead Sea caves over the past nine years. They have helped archaeologists and historians piece out a new history of the Holy Land in the century before Christ's birth.

Neighbor's Howls Rouse All Except Dog Owner

ROSEVILLE, Calif. (AP)—The dog howled. The neighbor tossed and turned sleeplessly. This went on for two years.

The other night the neighbor went next door and crouched under the bedroom window—and barked and howled, louder than any dog in town. The noise brought the police, who said almost everyone in the neighborhood was awakened—everyone except the dog owner.

Pokey Residents Found Drunk —in Jailhouse

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Friend of yours in the cooler?

If so here's a helpful jailhouse tip.

• • •

Put a straw in a half-pint of whisky. Your friend can use the straw to swizzle spirits through the bars.

Handy? Ask two dissatisfied users. Delmar Wells, 32, and Norman Simpson, 28, tried it with incarcerated friend James Thomas.

Unimaginative jailer William Knauf saw them.

Their recipe produces effect sufficient for two servings of disorderly conduct and being drunk, says Knauf.

Arab States Uniting Forces Against Israel

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Arab states have forged another link in their growing military chain around Israel.

Syria and Jordan announced last night that they have agreed on unification of military policy against the "Israeli threat."

The agreement calls for "practical unification of the military activities of both armies by means of a permanent war council and joint operational committee," the announcement said.

I FIRST LEARNED ABOUT O-JIB-WA BITTERS THROUGH A TRUE TESTIMONIAL SUCH AS YOU ARE NOW READING

Miss E. Adams

"My sister in Grand Rapids knew so many people that O-JIB-WA helped, that she sent me a newspaper clipping about it, and urged me to give it a trial. For two years I suffered from rheumatism and arthritis in my arms and legs, with lots of pain, so I was anxious to try it. Well, I purchased the large bottle and followed the directions carefully. By the time the bottle was half gone, I had received grand results. Just a short time later, I was better, and could walk and get around good again. Another way O-JIB-WA BITTERS helped me was as a tonic. I was awfully rundown, and it helped my stomach, liver and kidneys so much, that I wouldn't be without it now. My nerves too are much better, so I personally feel that this is the best medicine made. Among the many people I know who your medicine has helped, is a relative who can walk again thanks to O-JIB-WA. My druggist also told me about a lady he knew, who was flat on her back with arthritis, and then successfully overcome it with your medicine. Is it any wonder that I praise and recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS every opportunity I get?"

Sen. Fulbright's Amendment Adds New Coals to Highway Bill Fire

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—"You did it when we weren't looking."

That is the complaint some senators made against the rest of the Senate for inserting—in the new superhighway program — a few sentences which, if they stand, may cause confusion for years.

It is true some weren't looking. Some weren't listening either. And some weren't there.

* * *

The Senate debated Monday, and 14 hours Tuesday, before approving a bill to create over the next 13 years a 40,000-mile network of superhighways costing the federal government about 25 billion dollars and the states about 2½ bilions.

Since the federal government will pay most of the bill, Sen. Chavez (D-NM) proposed the government should decide the wage rates for men who build the network. He said the secretary of labor should do the deciding.

'31 LAW APPLIED

This wasn't unusual. Under a law passed in 1931 the labor secretary decides wage rates for workers on projects paid for by the government. This applies to contracts for direct federal construction as well as to contracts for schools, hospitals, housing, airports and other facilities built with federal-aid funds.

* * *

The secretary decides what the prevailing rate is in the area for the same kind of work—in this case it would be roadbuilding—and says that should be the wage rate for the highway builder.

There were a lot of objections, particularly from Southern Democrats, including Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark).

Their arguments, boiled down, ran like this: What area would the secretary select as a yardstick? An area close to where a strip of highway is to be built or some city 100 miles away where wages might be higher? What would happen to the economy of a rural area if the secretary fixed wage rates for roadbuilders out of line with wages paid nearby farmhands? Would they quit the farms to work on the roads?

* * *

Besides, so the arguments went, the labor secretary shouldn't have final say. The states—this was the states' rights argument — should have a voice in deciding rates.

* * *

Fulbright suggested it might be well to let anyone who disagreed with the labor secretary appeal to the courts. Opponents argued this might foul up the whole highway program, get it snarled in court fights all over the United States for years.

CHAVEZ'S IDEA PASSED

The Senate finally approved Chavez's idea: The labor secretary should decide the rates. But it was a day of confusion on the floor. And just about dinner time Fulbright got up again, proposing as an amendment to Chavez's proposal that anyone disagreeing with the secretary's wage rates could appeal to the courts.

The Senate quickly voted for this. Sometime later Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), an opponent of Fulbright's amendment, realized what had happened. He asked the Senate to reconsider.

He hadn't heard the amendment read, he said, because there was too much disorder on the floor at the time.

He said he doubted many senators knew what they were voting for. Sen. Morse (D-Ore) said he didn't know about it because he was out to dinner. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said he didn't realize it either. His back was turned at the time, he said.

* * *

The Senate let the Fulbright amendment stand. But the Senate bill differs from a similar measure passed by the House which said the labor secretary should decide wage rates but didn't provide for any appeal to the courts.

There can be no highway law until both houses iron out their differences. The Senate may bow to the House and agree to drop the Fulbright amendment.

Soviets Making Diplomatic Issue of 'Wire' Tunnel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has renewed — this time through formal diplomatic channels — its efforts to pin down responsibility to what it calls an American wiretap tunnel between East and West Berlin.

* * *

The Russians have made wide propaganda use of their claims that "American authorities" had the 600-yard tunnel dug under East Berlin and equipped it with elaborate listening and recording devices to tap cables used by Russian military forces.

Russians announced discovery of the tunnel April 23.

* * *

American military officials have neither confirmed nor denied the charges, saying only the case had been reported to Washington.

The State Department said last night, "The U.S. government has regarded this as a local matter, and is surprised that the Soviet government has now raised it through diplomatic channels."

That was the department's reaction to a Russian announcement that a formal note had been delivered to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow Tuesday night.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said the note called on the U.S. government "to take the necessary measures to pin down responsibility within the American authorities . . . so that those will be punished and to guarantee that such activity will not be permitted again."

Red China's Propaganda Disproved by Educators

A pamphlet issued by the Institute of International Education does a good job of discounting Red China's charges that Chinese students were forcibly detained in this country.

For some years Peiping has been making such charges. At Geneva in 1954 the United States was accused of refusing 5,000 Chinese students permission to return to their homeland. The facts differ greatly from the Reds' version.

In 1948, after the fall of China, our Government became aware of the serious financial plight of Chinese students in this country. They, as well as some scholars and professors, were suffering because they had been cut off from funds from home.

Immediately a fund of $8,000 was provided to help in a few of the neediest cases. Later between 1949 and mid 1955 this aid was increased to more than $10,500,000 from funds originally allocated to Nationalist China.

★ ★ ★

In 1951 alone almost 2,900 Chinese students got U. S. aid to continue their education. Between 1948 and 1955 more than 3,600 were aided in this manner. Worth noting is the fact that of 1,300 Chinese students who left this country — not all for China — 930 had their travel expenses paid in whole or in part by our Government.

★ ★ ★

Only 150 Chinese students were refused exit visas because it was felt they had acquired skills here that would increase Red China's war potential. When these detention orders were lifted last year, only 39 returned to China.

Thus the pamphlet shows that instead of being a ruthless tyranny, as implied by Red China, our Government was warmhearted and generous in its treatment of these students.

Pontiac Vicinity Is Not Favorable to Mosquitoes

The cool spring has delayed the mosquito breeding.

But they now are arriving in large and voracious quantities where the breeding grounds are good.

This is on low, marshy ground where there is plenty of stagnant water.

Although the Pontiac area has a great number of lakes, they are not the incubating spots for mosquitoes like other areas which do not have lakes, but teem with the lowlands they like.

They do not breed in pure fresh water, with which our lakes are filled, with comparatively little marshy land around their shores.

The lake home development has made our lakes quite free from these pests.

Other areas where mosquitoes abound jealously point to our lakes as favorable to them, but we know such is not the case.

A resident of this area may be pestered a little by mosquitoes, but he should visit some of the top breeding grounds in order to make him appreciate how much worse they are there.

This is especially true of Northern Michigan resorts. No mosquito hatched there needs an appetizer. They're born hungry—and it never is satiated.

★ ★ ★

They do not feel around for a good drilling spot when they land on you, and thus give you a chance for a brush off, as do Oakland County bred mosquitoes.

They strike with their drills, and you've provided a gusher before you can put up any defense. You haven't a chance. They're poor sports.

Up around Traverse City it even is claimed that the blood banks are failures after the mosquitoes arrive.

Riches in Inventions

Any young man who hasn't made up his mind yet as to what kind of a career he wants, should consider science and invention.

That certainly is the lesson taught by the success of 64 year old William F. Friedman, a U.S. Government cryptologist. His long time interest in invention finally paid off when Congress voted him $100,000 for all rights to coding machines he devised as a Government employe.

Born in Russia, Friedman was brought to this country at the age of two. A graduate of Cornell University, he served as an instructor in the Army Signal Corps during World War I. Except for three years after the war, he worked as a code expert for the Government until his retirement last July.

The machines Friedman has invented are top secret. No explanation as to how they work is available. Yet it is believed that they can scramble messages in such a way that the only means of unscrambling them is Friedman's decoding machine, which also is top secret.

★ ★ ★

Because of the secrecy surrounding his inventions, Friedman was unable to take out patents and realized nothing until Congress bought all rights from him.

The Man About Town

'Walk' and 'Wait'

Our Traffic Signals Seem to Be Somewhat Confusing

Troubles: What you should forget—there'll be more.

I am no end puzzled—and annoyed—at some of our traffic signs. On the pedestrian posts you see this:

WALK.

And then, when the traffic shifts and you are supposed to "stay put" I see them flash:

WAIT.

Now isn't that a bit silly?

Both of these words are four letters long and both start with "WA." Often the last part of the sign is concealed, so you can only see the "wa."

I beg of our smart, alert and industrious traffic department to dip into this and see that we get some relief. I blame the company that makes the signs, mainly. It isn't the fault of our men.

But I'm requesting help, along with a lot of other earnest, law-abiding citizens.

The "Fearful Foursome" are back alive—and thankful. Composed of they ever will cherish their intimate association with a big black bear at their camp near a Canadian lake. After being chased off in an evening visit, it returned for a night raid on their commissary tent, and liked it so well that several return visits were made. On its last retreat it was encouraged by a shot from Howard's .22, after which they broke camp, rather than spend another night in communion with a wild animal that might have engendered a spirit of revenge on what he thought were some overgrown Canadian bumblebees.

Ouster of 'Neutral' Armistice Team Rips Peaceful Coexistence Sincerity

WASHINGTON—The sham of "peaceful cooexistence" has been revealed.

The Korean armistice agreement has been torn to shreds by the Communists.

Yet Moscow, which supplied ammunition and aircraft to the Communist armies in North Korea, still hopes to deceive the free world with the idea that the Kremlin has only peaceful intentions toward the other members of the United Nations.

A formal announcement, made by the United Nations command at Panmunjom, has just been given out here at the Department of State. It says that, although the armistice agreement has been in effect for three years, there has been a "notable and persistent failure" of the armistice arrangements.

INSPECTIONS FUTILE

Specifically, the announcement, made on behalf of the 16 nations which fought the aggressions in Korea, states that inspectors have been frustrated and airfields have been built in North Korea in violation of the armistice. The statement says:

"The failure of your side to report introductions of combat aircraft is particularly conspicuous, since your side now maintains in North Korea between 400 and 500 such aircraft, more than half of which are jet fighters or bombers, whereas you had none in that area at the time the armistice agreement was signed."

This is but one of many infractions of the armistice. The whole spirit and letter of the agreement has been disregarded by the Communists because they do not allow the neutral inspection teams to operate in the north while the U.N. has permitted the Communist teams to go anywhere in South Korea.

* * *

The U.N. announcement deals unequivocally with a disturbing situation. The President has yielded to the pleas of some of the "peaceful cooexistence" advocates by letting Gen. Twining, chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force, go to Moscow for the air show there. The whole purpose on the part of the Soviets is to build respectability. It means a good deal internally when the gangster government in Moscow gets the benefits of American and British participation in high diplomatic and military conferences—the Russian people are led to believe America approves of the totalitarian regime.

UNDERGROUND SNUBBED

Meanwhile, the enslaved peoples, and particularly the underground organizations which are striving to keep burning the sparks that must ultimately be inflamed if revolt is to occur, are beginning to wonder if there is a deliberate plot afoot in Washington to discourage and frustrate their efforts.

The Korean armistice episode comes, therefore, as a timely warning to those who have begun to fall for the deceptive propaganda of the Soviets.

Reuben Robertson, deputy secretary of defense, who has just returned here from a 25-day inspection trip to the Far East and who visited Korea recently, says:

"The build-up of weapons and air strips by the Communists in Northern Korea is very disturbing. It is in violation of the armistice. There is need for a different situation than now exists. It must be solved within the next year."

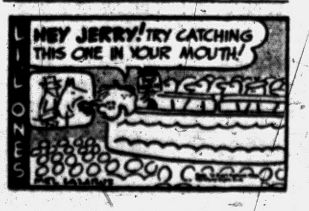

DELICATE SITUATION

American troops stand guard in Korea. They can be attacked at any moment if the Communists choose to provoke an engagement and blame it on the other side. It is a delicate situation that will not be solved by further appeasement of the Communists, either in Peking or in Moscow.

The net effect now of the announcement by the U.N. is a suspension of inspection privileges hitherto given in South Korean territory to the so-called "neutral" teams—those of the Communist stooges, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

But on the world stage, broadly speaking, how can the Soviet Union continue to talk of "peace" when it aids an aggressor to violate a signed military agreement? Small wonder that "peaceful coexistence" is losing its appeal as a slogan of sincerity. For it is rapidly proving to be a sample of insincerity.

Granny Scorns 'Pig Feed,' Suffers From Rheumatiz

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

"Some time ago you said you'd like to hear from a wheat-raising farmer who has enough good sense to eat wheat as a staple in the everyday diet.

"As long as I can remember, my husband's family have done so. Or some of the members of the family do so. Grandma, for instance, compromises only to the extent of putting a little home-ground, wheat with the white flour at each baking. But grandpa eats his wheat daily, cooked as a cereal.

"Grandma won't have any — 'Look at it!' she says, 'Pig feed, I call it!' "

"Grandpa, age 82, looks much younger, works around the farm every day, and he is able to run a tractor all day. He is in possession of all his faculties.

"Grandma, age 76, is deeply wrinkled, with rheumatiz so bad in her knees that it is very difficult for her to walk a few yards. She seems to be withering or shrinking.

"Grandma will not drink milk. Grandpa drinks lots of milk." (B. H.)

Grandma's vagaries might not matter if they concerned less important foods than wheat and milk.

Now take mashed potato. If you want to turn my gizzard inside out just drop a gob of it on my plate when I'm not on guard.

It's not that I don't like potato. I go eagerly for shoestrings, and on occasion I have encountered good French fries and I'm always happy to trade the inside of my baked potato for the skin of yours. I like hashed brown potato, escalloped potato, and potato salad.

It makes little difference in my nutritional condition whether I eat potato and tomato or do without. It makes a great deal of difference whether a person consumes good daily rations of milk and wheat or tries to worry along to a wizened, premature old age without such essential foods.

Milk is the best food source of calcium and almost the best food source of vitamin D, which, as my readers ought to know by now, is essential for the normal metabolism or use of calcium.

Calcium deficiency through the years is, in my opinion, the chief cause of the physical degeneration that I call rheumatiz (and I don't mean "arthritis").

So it seems reasonable to say that Grandma owes her joint disability to her irrational notions about food.

Milk or skim milk or separator milk or buttermilk is also the best source of riboviavin, and riboflavin deficiency commonly accounts for dull lifeless prematurely wrinkled skin—it is the vitamin which Prof. McCollum said "preserves the characteristics of youth" — one characteristic being a good complexion.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Voice of the People

Pastor Urges Scheduling Committee for City Events

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I want to be among the first to congratulate the leaders of the Pontiac Symphoney Orchestra for changing the dates of their next year's concert from Wednesday to Tuesday evenings. This will give the people of the churches, who also are greatly interested in the continued growth and development of this musical organization, an opportunity to support this fine civic movement. Churches in the Pontiac area have traditionally kept Wednesday evening for all-church affairs. We here at Bethany follow this established pattern.

While I am writing on this subject, let us face the fact that we need a greater Pontiac committee for planning events, so that vital and important events which concern all of us do not happen on the same night. Let those interested in a total planned civic program for greater Pontiac get together and schedule their dates without conflict.

All right thinking citizens want to support the churches; we want to support the public schools, good music, cultural lectures sponsored by our luncheon clubs and fraternal organizations. But when we continue to schedule events for the public without regard for all others, that results in poor attendance for any one event.

Let us have an over-all schedule for greater Pontiac. This ancient system does not make for unity in a great growing area.

Exile Brings Loneliness to Archbishop Makarios

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Cypriot nationalist leader, is leading a very lonely life far from his revolt-torn island homeland.

* * *

A London newspaper has reported that a British adventurer, Eric Hnut, and 17 other persons were shipwrecked and drowned while trying to execute an "international plot" to rescue Makarios from exile.

The British Colonial Office has professed disbelief in this story while Makarios himself has ruled out any idea of escape or rescue from Mahe Island in the Seychelles.

Makarios' own views were revealed by the acting Ethnarch Bishop Anthimos in Cyprus, who received a letter from Makarios.

* * *

"Mahe," said the exiled leader, "is a very suitable place for exiles for there's no possible chance for contact with the outside world."

FAMOUS RESIDENT

Makarios is probably the most celebrated, or the only celebrated, resident ever lodged in the Seychelles, which are a group of rather picturesque islands in the Indian Ocean mid-way between India and Africa.

* * *

A reporter for the London News Chronicle in Mahe says that the Greek Cypriot leader's presence has caused very little stir in the remote island group.

Makarios, who was exiled in March, was seen for a few seconds when he first stepped ashore on Mahe, then was whisked away into the obscurity of a mountain retreat "whimsically known as Sans Souci."

"Only once has he reappeared," the report said, "when he was driven across the island to the lovely beach at Beau Vallon by his guardian, Major Le Geyt, with whom he split a beer."

* * *

COUNTRY COTTAGE

The villa of Sans Souci is only a small country cottage, with three bedrooms and a lounge-dining room with a porch open to an enormous ocean view over miles of coconut trees.

* * *

This is not very much space for an archbishop, another bishop in exile, a priest and the bishop's secretary, but the Seychelles authorities could find nothing better at short notice.

A wire fence surrounds the place of exile, and a policeman guards the gate and keeps the curious away. The archbishop and his fellow exiles, who occasionally putter in the garden, remain more legend than reality because only a few officials, policemen and house servants ever see them.

Ninety per cent of the Seychelles population is of black or mixed blood, usually with a low living standard and scant education.

* * *

World politics mean nothing to them and it is likely that very few of the natives ever heard of Makarios and the Cypriot struggle.

Case Records of a Psychologist

You Can Add a Lot of Spark to Your Life by Making Prize Contesting Family Fun

Dr. Arthur decided to enter prize contests as a family hobby. He and his wife have had a lot of fun. They won a $1,000 first prize. However, you don't need even a high school diploma to win, so consider contesting as a hobby. It is ideal for shut-ins and semi-invalids, too, as well as those past 65.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-37.: Dr. Arthur, aged 45, is a successful dentist.

"Dr. Crane, some years ago I read your advice about entering prize contests," he informed me when I was addressing his dental society.

"So I decided to try contesting as an interesting diversion. My wife and I made it our mutual hobby.

"It has been a great deal of fun and we have also won several cash prizes, including one for $1,000.

"I certainly can recommend it as a very stimulating family project to tie husband and wife more closely together in their interests."

PRIZE CONTESTING

Mrs. Crane and I became contest addicts during our first year of marriage. We sent entries into dozens of contests.

Some were of the limerick variety. Others asked for the solution of simple crossword puzzles.

In the latter case, a 50-word or maybe 100-word letter was also required.

And we became fairly proficient. By that, I mean we averaged possibly maybe one prize out of every 8 to 10 entries.

Oh, many of our prizes were of small value, such as $2 or $5 or $10, but we did rate two first prizes of $1,000 each in nationwide contests.

And to this day we still have a great urge to go back to contesting but we lack the time.

* * *

"When we retire," says Mrs. Crane, "then we can get back into contesting."

And I certainly hope so, for prize contests are mentally stimulating. They teach you to look up items in dictionaries and history books and to delve into the encyclopedia.

Such mental exercise is well worth the effort, even if you never win a prize.

CONVERSATION STARTERS

And when you get your relatives or friends into the hobby, you always have plenty to talk about. Conversation never lags.

So start being a contest fan. Enter many contests, however, so you are not too downhearted when you find you failed to win anything on last month's entry.

"Well, I have 27 more entries in other contests to be announced later," you can then bolster your morale.

Contests are fairly judged, so don't worry on that score. But write very plainly or type your entries.

Try to use practical, "horse sense" examples. Don't parrot back the trite advertising phrases of the product. Present your story in your own words.

* * *

And stay within the published word limit! If the rules list a maximum of 50 words, you can't possibly win if you have 51 words.

And please remember that many people come up with the same riming word so try to be unique.

"Nobody will ever think of this idea," Mrs. Crane and I have often decided about our entry, yet we have seen dozens exactly like it when we visited the newspaper offices where the entries were being judged.

If you are past 65 or semi-invalided, contesting is a boon to a healthy mental outlook. It peps up your appetite. And it can offer at least some occasional cash awards.

Send for my booklet, "How to Write Salable Copy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents in coin.

It includes a section on "Prize Contesting". Thousands of you readers have reported winning prizes after using its suggestions, so more power to all of you.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

WALKIE GIRL

You can make this little girl puppet walk.

Color the picture brightly with your crayons, and paste it down on stiff paper. Cut the parts out carefully. Fold down the tab at the top of the apron, B, and paste it firmly behind the top of the skirt, C.

Paste the indicated part at the girl's waist to the skirt and fold up at the dotted line. Then slip two rubber bands over the tab — marked A — and paste tab A securely behind figure. The rubber bands will be held inside.

Carefully slip your two middle fingers through the rubber bands, and push them down so they show below the skirt. Then you can "walk" them around. A pair of doll slippers on the ends of your fingers, or the finger ends of a pair of old gloves will help to give the look of "feet."

The little diagram shows you how the little "walkie" works.

(This idea comes from B. Bedell, Flint, Mich. Maybe you have an idea for a Junior Editors panel. If so send it in care of this newspaper and it may be worth $10 to you. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Maternity Ward Greets Robins' Lofty Triplets

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Triplets—not the human kind—caused quite a stir in Mercy Hospital's maternity ward.

* * *

A pair of robins, obviously birds with foresight, had prepared for the event on a window ledge outside the hospital's labor room. There the triplets were born.

* * *

Nurses, attending the mother and her young, reported the birds were "chipper."

Free Breakfasts

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—A half mile of breakfast will be served as a feature of the Kellogg Co.'s 50th anniversary celebration June 28. Some 222 tables extending a half mile will be set up in the business district to serve Kellogg cereals to all comers.

Animals Force Trooping Couple to Detour 500-Mi.

ROTHBURY (INS)—A Michigan couple en route to Oregon on horseback has been forced to make a 500-mile detour because a car-ferry won't carry their mounts and dog across Lake Michigan.

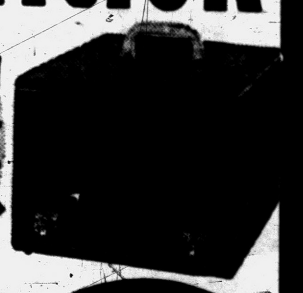

The ruling against livestock was made by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, which operates the ferry. It scuttled the plans of Kenneth King, 30, and his wife, Joanne, 29, to cross the Lake at Ludington, and proceed overland from Wisconsin.

The Kings, of Temperance, now must ride to the Straits of Mackinac, at the tip of Michigan's Lower Peninsula, where the state ferry will carry the animals for a slight additional fee.

The couple left their home nine days ago and hope to reach Pendleton, Ore., in about five months.

Versatile Machines Menace Wife's Realm

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—A Kansas City executive came to New York this week bearing ominous news—and evidence—that the housewife of today may be replaced soon by a battery of hard, efficient machines.

* * *

Robert Wagstaff, vice president of a vending machine outfit, did not say it in so many words, of course, for he is himself a married man subject to the raving tongue and rolling pin.

But there was a too-bright gleam in his eye as he described the wonders of hot meals, clean clothes and small comforts of home that will soon be available to man, merely by dropping a small coin into a slot.

* * *

Presumably, the only thing a man will not be able to take home from a Vendo machine in the next 10 years will be a slice of love or a ramekin of companionship.

"But even those are within the realm of possibility," the gentleman hinted, "if we can get them packaged."

HEALTH, HAPPINESS?

It was a balmy noontide in New York when a hungry section of the local press turned up at the Waldorf to see just how far vending machines can go toward providing health and happiness for the man with anywhere from a dime to a quarter in his pocket.

They found Wagstaff and a crew of other venders standing under the crystal chandeliers alongside a row of jazzy-colored culinary slot machines, sipping Scotch (which was not from a machine, only because of state liquor laws). They were also freely handing out coins.

"Now you take this," one advised, handing over 50 cents in dimes and nickles, "and just see if you can't get a better meal than you'd spend an hour cooking at home."

We accepted the challenge and approached the newest monsters in packaged foodstuffs. Selecting carefully from the hot foods, we took chicken soup and Beef Tidbits a la Madagascar (15 cents for soup, 25 for Madagasoar), and still had enough left for coffee-flavored milk.

* * *

"Ah, you didn't get a good selection," said Wagstaff, pressing more money upon our greedy palm. "Try the shrimp curry on rice and fruit salad. And then"—he threw caution and change to the winds, "wind up with an ice cream drumstick and seven varieties of nuts."

PRAYEREFUL LOOK

The man to the left at the Waldorf-decorated banquet table, was opening a 25-cent paper carton of potato salad. He appeared to be praying, as he glanced furtively at the Florentine murals on the ceiling above him.

* * *

"I don't want to knock the vending business," he whispered, "but I feel like I'm drinking beer in the Sistine Chapel."

The luncheon went off well, and the vending machine items were tasty. This could be partly because the machines, for this press occasion, were "catered" by the Waldorf.

The Chicken a la King, for example, which costs 25 cents in the Vendo, cost the Vendo Company $3.65 a portion.

* * *

After everyone had eaten, supped and partaken of seven varieties of nuts, Wagstaff stood and gave out with the sinister prediction:

"Our next step is to provide machines that will turn out a full dinner. We will have machines that provide all the little comforts of home."

Socks, shirts, books, conservative neckties—all these will come cheap through automation.

And guaranteed—no nagging.

Learned His Job Well as Dynamiter in Prison

ANDERSON, S.C. (AP) — Andrew Wood, 36, pleaded guilty here to a charge of malicious mischief growing out of the explosion of two sticks of dynamite at a political meeting.

* * *

Nobody was hurt.

He paid a $100 fine after saying:

"I did it just to liven up the meeting. I can't even vote because I've been convicted of grand larceny."

* * *

He said he learned to use dynamite while working with a road crew as a prisoner.

A Long, Long Smoke

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—When Henry A. Stetson relaxes to smoke a pipeful of tobacco, he's relaxed for a good long time. His 80-year-old pipe, a Meerschaum bought for his uncle back in the 19th Century, holds 14½ ounces—nearly a full can of tobacco.

Over 500,000 students of both sexes will graduate from Russia's 4,000 secondary technical schools in 1956, Moscow reports — 80,000 more than in 1955.

Stevenson After 'Old Folks' Vote

Charges GOP Failing to Care for Needs of Senior Citizens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Adlai Stevenson has gone after the "old folks" vote in California, charging the Eisenhower administration with neglecting the needs of the nation's senior citizens and defending his own record on pensions.

* * *

And Sen. Estes Kefauver has thrown Stevenson's "mud - slinging" accusation back at him, saying that Stevenson—his rival for the Democratic presidential nomination — "has been making personal and unfounded attacks on me" for months.

As he has done before, Kefauver criticized Stevenson's role as a defense lawyer for the Radio Corp. of America in an antitrust suit brought by the Zenith Radio Corp.

* * *

Both Kefauver and Stevenson are hopeful of winning support from California's politically significant population of retired persons. The two men are battling to win the state's 68 Democratic National Convention nominating votes in a primary next Tuesday.

Formosan Student Wins UCLA Award

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A student from Formosa has won the $1,000 Samuel Goldwyn Award for creative writing at UCLA.

* * *

Goldwyn, motion picture producer, presented Miss Lee Hwa Ya with the award yesterday and told her that "it is a wonderful thing for your country and wonderful for UCLA that you won this contest . . . Your story is beautiful. I know that someday you will be a great author."

* * *

Miss Lee, clutching the plaque to her breast, turned her head from the audience and burst into tears.

Her story, "The Sorrow at the End of the Yangtze River," was selected from 80 plays, stories and scripts.

* * *

When she came to this country in 1953 as an exchange student from Taiwan University, she spoke no English.

Heart Victims May Be Saved

Surgeons Base Views on Past Cases Revived by Resuscitation Teams

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP)—A group of Cleveland surgeons contended today that many persons who die from acute heart attacks in the home, office or while at play might be saved by properly equipped resuscitation teams.

* * *

They based their view on the growing number of cases in which heartbeat has been restored by hand massage and electrical shock in persons who—by clinical standards — die on the operating table.

Lately, they said, three patients have been revived by emergency measures when cessation of heartbeat occurred outside the operating room.

* * *

The suggestion that trained resuscitation teams—possibly made up of laymen—be taught to take over "when a patient dies from an acute heart attack" was made by Doctors Claude S. Beck, Elden C. Weckesser and Frank M. Barry. All are in the department of surgery of Western Reserve University and University Hospitals, Cleveland.

Tall persons are said to require more food nourishment because of larger skin surfaces and body heat radiation.

$78,000 This Season, Audrey May Get More

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Happy bride Audrey Meadows, who got $2,000 a film for making "The Honeymooners"—$78,000 for this TV season—has her eye on even a bigger loot next year . . . or the year after.

★ ★ ★

When Audrey and bridegroom Randy Rouse return from their honeymoon, she'll talk to boss Jackie Gleason about her holdover exclusive contract to do "The Honeymooners" another year.

Possibly she'll ask to make outside TV appearances—at $6,000 to $10,000 a crack—since "The Honeymooners" won't be done weekly next season. Her manager Val Irving says, "She's happy to be back with Jackie"—but somewhere beyond lies more gold for the minister's daughter.

Her friends meanwhile teased her about its being unsporting to honeymoon with a man whose arm is in a cast—"somebody," as one friend said, "who can't hit back!"

★ ★ ★

Publisher Bob Harrison boasted how a story about his scandal mag, "The Confidential Story," by Dennis O'Keefe, will be filmed by Columbia.

"It's going to be shot right in my office," announced Harrison.

Whereupon Jack Goldstein cracked, "And that's not the only thing that's going to be shot in your office!"

Two nice guys, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, don't seem to get along; so it looks like they'll break up the brother act again after "Stage Show" . . . Jayne Mansfield switched affections from muscle-man Mickey Hargitay to Hollywood director Nick Ray the other day after dating Pilot Robbie Robertson Saturday. After a highly satisfactory date with Nick Ray, she sighed, "You've got to be true to your heart."

The Newport society set—through Louis Lorrilard—says it'll enjoin Grace Kelly's "High Society" from opening 'cause she, Bing and Frankie snicker about Newport being dead. Also "the Newport Jazz Festival" is mentioned. MGM chorties, "Sue! It'll be good publicity.

Thirty football-playing youngsters from anywhere in the United States and Canada, will have a chance to compete in the National Milk Bowl in December.

The team selected, small-fry version of an all-star team, will compete against a stellar Texas team in San Antonio's Alamo Stadium.

The game, referred to by Red Grange as "the world series of small-fry football, will be broadcast and televised nationally.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Gina Lollobrigida's current movie bosses, the Hakims, are trying to insure her NY visit (for "The Trapeze" premiere) with Lloyds for up to $12,000,000.

Bernard Baruch will visit Churchill in June . . . Danny Kaye'll do open-air shows in Washington starting June named "Queen of the Motorboat 20 . . . Pretty Penney Spencer was Fleet" at Scaroon Manor.

It's doubtful Phil Silvers will wed Evelyn Patrick in Las Vegas; he sent a round trip ticket, N.Y. to Vegas—and return.

Louis Armstrong returned from his African trip . . . Duo: Singers Jill Corey and Merv Griffin . . . Myron Cohen, who's already signed his Christmas contract at Miami Beach, will get 50 G's for 42 appearances.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "No man is master in his own house if his bedroom is painted pink."—Al Newman.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Accidents will happen," philosophizes Bob Bernstein. "That's why there are so many kinds of salads."

"My TV set's getting old," claims Alan Dale. "It just showed a movie made after the set was." That's earl, brother.

Openings for 75 Still Available at Scout Camp

A slight lag is reported in registrations for the Clinton Valley Council Boy Scout camp near Lake Orion.

About 75 more scouts can still be accepted for attendance at week-long sessions at Camp Agawam, located on Tommy's Lake, according to Van Braidwood, Pontiac District executive.

Some 1,000 boys already are registered, Braidwood said

The camp will be open June 24 through Aug. 11, accommodating about 160 boys plus staff leaders, Gerald Black of Utica is camp director.

Van Braidwood said the boys may be registered for any number of weeks, at a cost of $17.50 a week. Each session begins Sunday afternoon, he said, and concludes the following Saturday morning.

Manager Conferring on Disaster Warning

Pontiac City Manager W. K. Willman is in Lansing today meeting with federal, state, and municipal civil defense officials in an attempt to establish a uniform state warning system for natural disasters.

He said a plan has been under study for several months by the officials which will set up legislative powers to regulate warning systems in case of enemy air attack or in case of a more recent threat—tornadoes.

Future Building Dips

DETROIT (AP)—Future construction contracts awarded in Detroit in April totaled $60,991,000 or 25 per cent of the same month a year ago, according to Dodge reports. The total for the first four months of the year was $247,633,000, one per cent over the same period in 1955.

Naval Officers Hear Radford

Admiral Stresses Unity of the Armed Forces to Annapolis Grads

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Adm. Arthur W. Radford told Naval Academy graduates today the armed forces "Must think as a team, work as a team, and when necessary fight as a team."

* * *

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff made no reference in his prepared address to the renewed rivalry among the armed forces over their roles and missions. Radford himself was at one time a vigorous partisan of the Navy cause in the Navy-Air Force controversy over the relative merits of carriers and long-range, land-based bombers.

674 COMMISSIONED

Three of the four services will share this year's class of academy graduates. Of 674 receiving commissions, 454 were headed for the Navy, 169 for the Air Force and 51 for the Marine Corps.

* * *

Welcoming the graduates as "part of the armed forces team," Radford said:

"Cherish your pride in your own chosen arm of service, but acquire a complete understanding of the character and contribution of the other arms. Have in mind the thought that someday if you are successful, you may be called upon to lead and coordinate joint operations."

French Machineguns En Route to Damascus

PARIS (INS)—Thirteen crates containing 100 French light machineguns were sent to Syria yesterday by plane.

The plane left after an orderly demonstration at Orly Airport by about 100 followers of anti-tax leader Pierre Poujade.

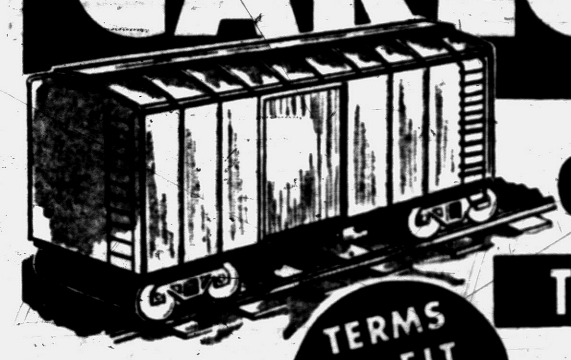

Agence France Presse said the crates had been ready for shipment from Orly a few weeks ago, but two foreign airlines refused to fly them to Damascus.

Security Chief Contends Japan Faces New Subtle Threat From Commies

TOKYO (INS) — The chief of Japan's equivalent of the FBI said today the nation is facing a new and "incomparably more subtle" danger from Japanese Communists, who operate legally in this country.

He said recent shifts in the Kremlin and in Communist party policies in Japan are responsible for this.

Ichiro Takahashi, deputy director of the Public Security Agency, warned that the Communists' new line of "peace and non-violence" might result in "slackened vigilance" against the Red menace in Japan.

In an exclusive interview, Takahashi estimated present Japanese Communists party strength at around 60,000 members, with an additional 200,000 sympathizers.

He said that a "few thousand" former Communists had returned to the organization in recent months but added that over-all Communist strength in Japan was "remaining constant."

LESS DANGEROUS

The security official declared that, for the moment, Japanese Communists were "less dangerous" than before, because they had discarded violent action as a policy.

Takahashi said that since Stalin's denunciation, followers of the Japanese Communist party had become "more critical" of Communist doctrine.

However, the party itself accepted the new Moscow line unquestioningly, he said, because Japanese Communists already felt that Stalin's policies were "unsuitable" and had failed where they were attempted in Japan.

"One of the biggest problems now facing the Japanese Communist party," Takahashi said, "is formulating a policy for agricultural reform."

FARM POLICY UPSET

He said that the redistribution of farm lands under the American occupation had caused confusion in the party "because capitalism now includes land reform."

Prior to the war, Japan had a feudalistic agricultural system with most of the farm acreage under the control of weathy landowners. Occupation directives parceled out this land to individual farmers in one of the most drastic post-war reforms.

Takahashi described most Japanese Communists as either college students or "young intellectuals" who wanted to build a "bright new world."

"Communist ideology, rather than its practices, attracts these people," he said.

He declared that most of the young adherents to Communism lose their interest once they start work in industrial firms or "after they get married."

Russian Trade Methods Vary

International Barter System Proves Effective in Middle East

LONDON (INS)—The Communists are using good economics, bad economics and Marxist economics in their attempt to lick the West at its own game: Trade:

* * *

By offering loans at very low interest, by selling goods at a loss and by engaging in huge barter deals the Russians and their allies have mounted a successful commercial offensive.

A Western official described in one word today the reaction of the free world's leaders to this Communist gambit—"Alarm."

He said trade experts are concerned because the West does not seem to see clearly enough that the bustling Red commercial campaign is being conducted in ways unfamiliar to the West and, even more significant, in ways in which the West may be unable to compete.

Dr. Ludwig Erhard, West German minister of economics, says the next steps in the Soviet trade drive are "going to amaze us."

* * *

He believes it was to assist this effort that the Kremlin announced this month that 1,200,000 men will be discharged from the Russian armed forces by next May.

REDS PREFER BARTER

Reports to Erhard from two economic missions to Asia confirm his apprehensions.

* * *

The Russians, the Bonn traders found, are making 20-year loans at two-and-one-half per cent interest, a "political" rate far below any commercial rate the West could offer.

The Soviets prefer barter—that is, balanced exchanges of goods of similar value (such as Soviet arms for Egyptian cotton)—which is very acceptable to many Asian and Middle Eastern countries, where hard currencies are hard to come by.

The Communist states also have at least a surface advantage on the free enterprise West in pricing. Since the Reds are not bound by the cost or profit considerations which concern free world exporters, they can and do charge what they believe to be economically feasible and politically desirable.

ONE EXAMPLE

An example of this tactic was reported by a Times of London correspondent who talked such matters over with Red Chinese officials.

The Chinese admitted, for example, they were selling bicycles in Malaya at a price far below that in China itself. They said they had to because they were competing with international market prices in this export trade.

The reporter cited several similar examples. But the threat of China trade is insignificant compared to that of Russia and some of her satellites.

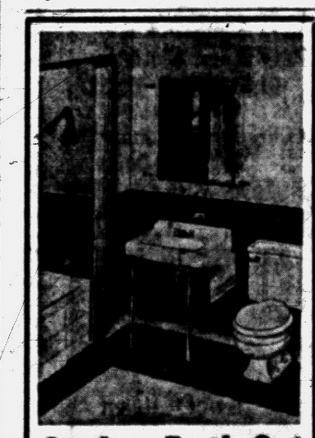

World War I Veterans Eligible for New Medal

LANSING (AP) — World War One veterans who took part in the storming and capture of Hill 204, near Chateau-Thierry, France, have been notified they are eligible for a medal.

The 119th Field Artillery and other elements of the Red Arrow division took part in the attack.

Gov. Williams said he has been notified that a medal has been struck memorializing the attack and can be received by making application direct to the mayor of Chateau-Thierry.

During their eight months of open navigation, the Great Lakes carry nearly two-thirds as much shipping tonnage as the total annual offshore trade through all United States salt-water seaports, the National Geographic Society says.

Western Nations Fearing Soviet-India Trade Pacts

PARIS (INS) — Big strides made by the Soviet Union and her satellites in a joint drive to increase trade with India is causing apprehension among Western economic experts.

This uneasiness is caused less by fear that the Communists may win a large part of the colossal Indian market than by indications that the Soviet bloc trade drive is inspired more by politics than economics.

The ultimate aim of the Communists, in the view of qualified experts, is to bring about in India a state monopoly to handle all international commerce.

* * *

Such a monopoly, the experts believe, could be so manipulated by the Reds that India would turn Communist from economic rather than political pressure.

REDS GAIN VICTORY

Observers in close touch with the Indian economic scene believe the Communists already have scored a major success by compelling the Indian government to set up a state trading organization to handle commercial relations with the Soviet bloc.

* * *

The experts point out that once such a national commercial agency is in operation, it would be easy to extend its scope of activity to a point where all private trading with India would come to an end.

Reports reaching Paris say that a substantial number of foreign businessmen in India are being officially informed that they no longer are welcome. Most of these traders deal in luxury imported goods and some manufactured commodities competing with Indian products.

The ouster notices were served soon after the ministry of industry and commerce announced that India's foreign trade would increase from 30 to 40 per cent above current levels once the second five-year development plan was put into effect.

Russia and her east European satellites presently account for about 1 per cent of India's foreign trade but the percentage is expected to rise sharply this year following the recent visit of Russia's "super-salesman," Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

Bursting Steam Pipe Kills Two Workmen

DETROIT (AP) — Steam shooting out from a burst pipe killed two men yesterday when they were trapped in a tunnel.

The victims were Frank Brown, 51, and Michael Miller, 63, both of Detroit.

The men were repairing a steam line in a tunnel from the Chrysler plant on Outer Drive to a power house on Eight Mile road when the pipe burst.

More Babies See Light at 5 A.M., Says Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—A doctor reported today what many mothers know — more babies are born at 5 a.m. than at any other hour.

* * *

Dr. Peter D. King of the Warren, Pa., State Hospital wrote in the magazine Science that a study of 33,215 births at five hospitals showed 48 per cent more were born at 5 a.m. than at 7 p.m., the low hour.

* * *

Of the 33,215 births, he said, 1,682 occurred at 5 a.m., 1,590 at 3 a.m., 1,588 at 8 a.m.—the three most common hours — and only 1,103 at 7 p.m.

The chronically ill occupy three of every four U.S. hospital beds.

Farmington Area Community Buzzes With Civic Activity

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS — Karl Liewert congratulates Jim Wager (left) on his having been selected as Outstanding Senior Citizen at Waterford Township High School's ninth annual honors convocation this week. Karl, who was named Outstanding Senior Journalist, is holding the journalism plaque. Jean Liimatta, who was awarded the $500 Junior Chamber of Commerce scholarship, admires the Andrew Mieeli trophy which will have Jerry Kruskie's name engraved thereon as Outstanding Senior Athlete. Jim and Jerry will keep their small cups but the large trophies and the plaques will be inscribed and placed in the high school display case. The senior class gift was a public announcement system for the football field. This class also won the talent assembly award shown on the table. Some 275 students were given special recognition at this assembly.

From Cornfield to Community

Kendallwood Subdivision Springs Up in Two Years

By MARY CELINSKE
Farmington Correspondent

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — From cornfield to community in less than 2 years is the incredible story of Kendallwood, a carefully planned 160-acre subdivision at the northwest corner of Farmington and 12 Mile Rds. in Farmington Township.

Kendallwood is believed to be the first development of its kind, where a group of builders joined with land developers and real estate sales organizations to offer a subdivision of variety and versification. It has been copied throughout the country.

There are 311 homes in Kendallwood—most of them completed, all of them sold and more than half of them already occupied. By July or August of this year, when all the homes are expected to be occupied, the subdivision will boast a population of more than 1,000 persons.

The project has been so successful that other subdivisions like it will almost surround the present one. Within the next few years it is expected that there will be 800 homes in the Kendallwood area.

To serve these residents, a large modern shopping center, including a medical clinic, will be erected at 12 Mile and Farmington Rds.

The Catholic Church has purchased 10 acres of land in Kendallwood. The Farmington School District also owns land there, where it is proposed to build both an elementary and new junior high school. A fire station is to be erected, and space for playgrounds has also been included in the land set aside for the center.

Unlike most other suburban subdivisions, Kendallwood has its own water and sewage disposal plants.

Kendallwood residents are young, energetic, and progressive, as well as civic minded. They have already begun to form civic associations in their subdivision, and to take an active part in the affairs of the township.

Kendallwood Groups to Merge in June

The Kendallwood Newcomers, who for lack of space, have been meeting each month in three separate groups, hope to meet and consolidate in June. At that meeting they expect to elect their officers. Ten women have served as temporary officers of the tri-section club.

* * *

"Our problem has been finding a place to accommodate 90 to 100 women," said Mrs. G. T. Bird, one of the members. "Few of us can accommodate so many in our homes. At our June meeting we will try to correct this."

Subdivision Men Form Assn.

Meet at Bond School; Organize and Elect Kendallwood Officers

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Kendallwood men's civic group met at Bond School earlier this week to formally become The Kendallwood Assn., to adopt a constitution, and elect a board of directors.

* * *

Charles Lorion, one of the founders of the organization, was unanimously elected president by the 100 men present. Edward Carlson became vice-president, Robert Mock, secretary, and William McNeill, treasurer. The 5 directors, representing the five sections of the subdivision, were elected by members living in each section.

They are William Burkart, Pat Beuerle, Harry Curtner, and Stanley Kouras, Roy Rystrand and Roger Belanger, equally popular with the group, received the same number of votes, and their election will be decided at a future meeting.

* * *

George Shamie Jr., chairman, James Thomas and John Betts were elected to the auditing committee.

Robert Nelson, declining to be nominated for treasurer, offered his services as an accountant to the board in helping to set the accounting systems for the treasurer and auditing committee. His offer was enthusiastically accepted.

Township Clerk Registers 150 at Kendallwood

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Kendallwood residents stood in line at the Gordon-Williamson Sales Office on 12 Mile road last night to register for the coming school board election. Final tally was 150 new registrants.

* * *

Floyd Cairns, Township Clerk, was persuaded to accept registrations there by Kendallwood's new Civic Assn. leaders. Wives of association members served coffee to persons in the long line-up. Ordinarily, registrations are taken only at the township hall.

Vacation Bible School to Open at Marlette

MARLETTE — The Presbyterian and Methodist Union Daily Vacation Bible School will convene Monday morning and run through June 13 with the kindergarten and primary classes meeting in the Methodist Church and the junior and junior high at the Presbyterian Church.

Hours will be from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

ILENE J. DEARING

Hal Boyle Says:

Broadway Gives Boost to December Love

NEW YORK (AP)—All men who have given up hope of success in love because they are middle-aged, paunchy and bald can take heart from Robert Weede.

* * *

Weede, Broadway's newest matinee idol, is neither young nor tall nor dark nor handsome.

PLUMP AND BALD

He is stocky and plump-featured, he is admittedly middle-aged, and he has freckles on an indisputably bald head.

* * *

Far from being defects, these assets — plus a beguiling smile and a fine voice — won him overnight one of the year's greatest successes in the theater.

Weede, one of America's best baritones, was a Broadway unknown when he opened a few weeks ago in Frank Loesser's "The Most Happy Fella," hailed by critics as America's finest folk opera since "Porgy and Bess."

* * *

He played the role of Tony, an aging bachelor winegrower who woos a pretty waitress by correspondence. She is at first taken aback by Tony's appearance, but she marries him anyway, discovers he has a heart of gold and falls truly and deeply in love with him.

The fact she is bearing a child by another man bothers Tony only briefly. He decides that at his age it is better to have a pretty chick with a child than no chick at all.

TEARFUL GAFFERS

Well, sir, the old gaffers in the audience, many of whom presumably had courted fair young maids with less happy results, darn near flooded the theater with tears at the sight of Tony's victory.

* * *

Soon Weede was measuring his fan mail with buckets, and most of the letters were in feminine handwriting. Tony had stirred the sentimental ladies, too.

I asked Weede what he himself thought, off stage, about May-and-November romances, and he replied stoutly:

"I have the same philosophy Tony did. Honest love can make up for a lot of differences between people — differences in age or shape or background."

'WHO'S WEEDE?'

When "The Most Happy Fella" became an immediate hit, the word went out:

"Who is this guy, Weede? Where did he learn to act?"

* * *

This rather mystified Weede, who asked mildly:

"What did they think I've been doing all these years in opera?"

Weede, a concert star for two decades, has sung with every major opera company in America, including the Metropolitan.

* * *

He is still puzzled that his appearance in a single Broadway show has brought him more national attention than two decades of singing operatic arias. But Weede is a mellow, cheerful artist quite content to take fame and fortune as they come.

HELPING HAND

He is a gentle optimist and a strong believer in the doctrine of "the helping hand."

* * *

Weede, left fatherless at 15, raised and sold vegetables to pay part of his tuition, but says that a helpful sister, who later became an educator herself, was "the mainspring of my career.

"We're all such self-made people today," he added, "and actually I don't think any of us are self-made.

* * *

"We all have a hard time, but there are always people who want to help us. I can't even count all the people who helped me along the way.

SOME BAD LUCK

"Many people, of course, do have bad luck. But there are others, who, if they made a harder effort to improve their own gifts, would find it easier to go ahead.

* * *

"You must, first of all, prepare yourself and be ready for the helping hand when it comes. Otherwise, no one can help you."

If Weede sounds a bit like a teacher, well — that's what he is. In recent years he has aided a number of young singers to launch their careers by giving them voice lessons.

He believes that, once you accept a helping hand, your greatest privilege in life — as soon as you are able — is to extend one of your own to others.

Rainier's Dad Plans Marriage With American

PARIS (INS) — Wedding bells may soon again for a Monegasque prince and his American bride.

* * *

Friends of Prince Pierre of Monaco expect him to announce soon that the way has been cleared for his marriage to Mrs. Audrey Emery, formerly of Palm Beach, Fla.

Prince Pierre, a decendant of the French Polignac family, is the father of reigning Prince Rainier of Monaco, who married screen star Grace Kelly last April.

Prince Pierre, a Catholic, has applied to the Holy See for an annulment of his marriage to Princess Charlotte, of Monaco, and visited Rome in March to press his plea. They have been estranged for several years.

AWAITS PAPAL NOD

He is reportedly awaiting a decision of the ecclesiastical tribunal before making a formal announcement of his intenion to marry Mrs. Emery.

A widow of the Grand Duke Dimitri Pavlovich of Russia, Mrs. Emery arrived in France last May 1, after disposing of her Palm Beach property.

She told friends she intends to settle in Europe.

Prince Pierre and Mrs. Emery have been seen together in the company of mutual friends on the Riviera recently.

* * *

However, they have declined to comment publicly on their reported matrimonial intentions.

Pontiac Organizations to Pay Tribute to Mrs. J. J. Panter at Shelly Library

By MARGARET COLE

On Sunday afternoon members and guests of the women's clubs and organizations in the city will gather at the Adah Shelly Library to pay honor to Mrs. Joseph J. Panter for her club work.

* * *

Mrs. Panter is most humble of her abilities and in her own quiet and unassuming way offers a great deal to the many clubs in the community, particularly when questions concerning parliamentary procedure arise.

In 1924 Mrs. Panter began her career as a clubwoman when she became a member of the Pontiac Women's Club.

She has served as president of that organization and is presently parliamentarian emeritus, a position which she also holds for the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs, whose membership totals 24 clubs in the community.

* * *

Another organization which Mrs. Panter serves faithfully is the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association, of which she is a past president and current member of the board of directors.

She also is a member of the board of directors of the Oakland County Historical Society, a member of the National Association of Parliamentarians, and an honorary member of Child Study Club Group Three.

ORGANIZED GROUP

Feeling the great need for proper parliamentary procedure in organizations, Mrs. Panter was instrumental in organizing the Parliamentary Study Club of Pontiac in 1924. She is still an active member of the organization.

* * *

In spite of her many activities and keen interest in club work, Mrs. Panter has also proved her ability as a devoted mother and efficient homekeeper and has always found time for her activities at St. Michael Church, of which she is a member.

During the years that her daughter, Betty (now Mrs. Charles Way) was in school, Mrs. Panter was an active member of the Parent Teacher Association, serving at one time as president of the Wisner School PTA.

In paying tribute to Mrs. Panter, the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs will entertain Sunday afternoon at a 3 until 5 o'clock tea and program to which the public is invited.

Mrs. Paul Gorman is serving as general chairman of the affair and will be assisted by Mrs. Leo Heenan, program; Mrs. Donald Fillmore, invitations; Mrs. Russell French, guest book; Mrs. Charles Crawford, appointments; Mrs. Robert Nelson and Mrs. Harry Vernon, refreshments, and Mrs. Forrest Brown, reception.

* * *

Past presidents of the federation will preside at the tea table during the afternoon. Music will be provided by the Boy's Quartet of Pontiac High School composed of Alex Sekles, Jack Hemming, Darryl Mahan and Leon Frayer.

Shower Honors Ethel Turner

Mrs. Sam G. Warwick entertained at a shower in her home on Island court Tuesday evening honoring bride-elect Ethel Turner.

* * *

Guests enjoyed an evening of games. Refreshments were served from a buffet table centered with a bride doll under a canopy of green and white streamers.

* * *

Attending were Mrs. Thomas Curren, Daisy Baker, Mrs. Bess Lamson, Mrs. Neil Lamson, Mrs. J. H. Roeper, Mrs. C. G. Turner, Mrs. Robert Waugh, Mrs. Dale Lamson, Mrs. Wayne Yager and Mrs. Steve Dorrough.

Musicale Workshop Concludes Season

The final meeting of the Tuesday Musicale Workshop was held Tuesday at the Union Lake home of Mrs. E. D. Foley where the group gathered for luncheon.

The program consisted of solos by Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks accompanied by Mrs. Addison Oakley. Mrs. John Nicolls and Mrs. George Putnam sang excerpts from "The Medium" by Menotti with intervening parts being read. Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer accompanied the opera.

Teenager Frets Without Reason

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I am worried; I think I am too large. I am 15 years old, 5 feet 2½ inches tall and weigh 119 pounds. My bust measures 32, waist 24½ and hips 36 inches. Please put your answer in the question box."

A. No, you are not overweight If it would make you happier you might lose three or four pounds. Take exercises to increase your bust measurement. If you or or other readers would like to have that leaflet send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7.

Q. "I am a 19-year-old girl and do not wish to appear vain but I have many lines around my mouth and at the corners, like those I notice in older women. I massage cream into them every night but they seem to be getting deeper. I would be thankful if you would let me know if there is any way I could have them removed painlessly and inexpensively."

A. Even at the age of 19 it is wise to take an interest in personal appearance, but it is hard for me to believe that the condition is as bad as you think at your age. Aren't you exaggerating without meaning to?

If you are extremely underweight that could do it or if you habitually indulge in facial expressions which pull down the corners of your mouth it might have this effect. My guess is that you are underweight and are too critical of yourself.

This exercise, alternately pushing one hand against the other, will increase your bust measurement.

Q. "I have a receptionist job and sit all day long. As a result I have added inches to my hips and thighs. I have also gained seven pounds. My weight is now 120 and I am 5 feet 4 inches tall. My measurements are bust 34, waist 24 and hips 35½ inches. What can I do to remedy these embarrassing bulges? My bone structure is rather large."

A. You are certainly not overweight and your measurements are within the allowable for a good figure. Evidently you were underweight before.

I imagine that what you notice most is a spread in the thighs. Do these exercises: Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor at your sides; palms toward the floor.

Bend both knees and place the feet close to the hips. Lift the heels, keeping the toes on the floor. Roll from side to side, slapping the thigh on the floor at the end of each roll.

Take the same starting position. Make large circles with the right leg. After a while make large circles with the left leg. Keep the knees stiff.

Also do deep knee bends. Be sure to keep the back straight even if you have to place a hand on the wall for balance.

But Those Gold Cars Must Go!

Lady Docker Set to Fight as Hubby Loses His Job

LONDON (INS) — Lady Docker wept in her champagne—and with good reason.

Her husband had just been fired from his job and that meant she would have to give up her three gold-plated limousines.

But the flamboyant lady, who is marbles champion of Britain and possessor of one of the Empire's most feared barbed wits, is facing up to the situation with a determination that would do a pioneer's wife proud.

She declared she would stick with her husband through thick and thin and fight as hard as she can.

* * *

Lady Docker's travail was caused by the board of directors of the 70-million-dollar Birmingham Small Arms Co., which yesterday announced that her husband, Sir Bernard Docker, was no longer chairman and managing director.

GETS THE SACK

Docker told newsmen:

"They've given me the sack. A bare majority of the directors have been ganging up on me. But I didn't think they would do this."

There was much speculation in London that the millionaire industrialist had been sacked because of complaints that his wife had charged some of her fantastic expenses against the company.

After the firing announcement, Lady Docker faced newsmen in her lush Mayfair home with tears in her eyes and a glass of champagne in her hand.

She said:

"It's not the three gold-plated cars I must now lose that makes me feel like this, though they have been great fun . . . it's the lovely party I wanted to throw for 25,000 BSA (Birmingham Small Arms) workers to celebrate the 50th birthday June 23."

* * *

Lady Docker explained how recently she had bought a golden gown and a mink cape and hat costing $14,000 so that she would be dressed properly when the company launched a new showroom in Paris for Daimler cars.

OUT OF POCKET

She said she charged the $14,000 as expenses but the income tax authorities would allow it so Sir Bernard paid for the clothes out of his own pocket.

* * *

Because of little things like that in the past, she said, she owed it to her husband to stick with him in his fight. She added:

"I've cried my eyes out all day. I'm boiling over with fury and am going to fight as hard as I can."

Then turning to Sir Bernard, she said:

"I love you, darling. We'll stick together through thick and thin."

* * *

Said Sir Bernard:

"We shall fight!"

Mrs. Robert Henry of Commerce is today's cook. The mother of eight children, she has little time for many outside activities. She does like making articles to use around the house and enjoys textile painting.

Bob Considine Says:

Gypsy Rose Plays Hostess to Kid Pianists

NEW YORK (INS)—Miss Gypsy Rose Lee, author and patron of the arts, threw open her town house the other day to the young piano pupils of Clara Chichester, a first-rate teacher with the miraculous knack of persuading children to practice without nailing them to the stool.

* * *

Not one of the town's music critics showed up — a stuffy lot, with a trace of goldbricking in there somewhere.

But parents and other nervous people present in Miss Lee's salon will not soon forget this lively assault on Mozart, Haydn, Beethoven, Bach and Chopin — by some of the most determined moppets since the draft call went out for the Children's Crusade.

The masters were left bleeding all over the battlefield of Miss Lee's Steinway, but may recover. They've done it before.

* * *

The recital got off to an unusual start. Miss Chichester, a handsome woman, announced, "There has been a change in the program. We will not hear Clementi's Sonatina, as played by Buffy Barlow. Buffy has the measles."

DEFIANCE, DERISION

First prodigy to be pushed toward the forbidding black and white rack was a young man named Cris Barlow. He punched out Weybright's "Round and Round" with a wonderful mixture of defiance and derision, and when finished made a short curtain speech.

* * *

He said "Phew!" Howard Taubman never heard a sincerer statement from the lips of an artist.

Next batter was Barton Kogan, an inch or two higher off the floor than Barlow — who was last seen bolting through a wall. Young Kogan, a fine looking lad, was down on the program as being ready to commit "High on a Hilltop." He'd have none of it.

He reached the piano bench, looked out over the little pool of gray faces, and said, "I'm playing 'The Tarantula.'" There being no dissenting voices, he plunged into it manfully. When he finished he gave his parents a fighter's over-the-head handclasp as he walked off.

* * *

Efrem Zimbalist played next. Really. He's a small lad with a crew cut and short pants. He played Corbman's "The Harp," and very nicely for a small boy. His grandfather (nor his grandmother Alma Gluck) never acknowledged applause with a more radiant grin.

'MISS CLINKER'

After Linda Frank had done very well by Rolseth's "Ballet Dancer," a child named Debbie, bucking for "Miss Clinker, 1956," stepped up, groped under the piano for a pedal (she chose the one on the left), punched down on it and sailed into McLachlan's "Yellow Butterfly."

People around our hutch have had a bit of "Yellow Butterfly" these past few months.

Indeed, if McLachlan is still on Gene Buck's ASCAP list, he must be making more than Berlin, Rodgers and Hammerstein, J. Fred Coots and Nick Kenny combined. Certainly, no number has been played more often, including "Poor People of Paris."

Debbie got halfway through her piece at slightly under the speed of sound, then seemed to reconsider the whole damned thing. A small furrow dug itself into her beautiful brow. Then she went on as if nothing had happened.

"It's nice to have people who aren't relatives when you're recitaling," she philosophized on the way home. "They don't know when you make a mistake."

The most rapt members of the audience during the last half of the program were those who had performed earlier and had stabbed the wrong ivory fang here and there.

They had to listen hard to catch any consoling mistakes from Eric Kirkland, Gypsy's fine lad, Terry Boyton, Anne Wightman, Phoebe Russell, Nancy Zimbalist, Pilar Canevaro, Michael Rothenthal, (a rare gum-chewing renderer of Bach) and finally a brilliant little girl named Sylvia Helen Pefka, who cannot help becoming a fine artist.

* * *

It was a great day that made the old folks hanker to get back to the hearthside for the martinis.

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Oakland Second in State

Payments to Area's Aged Triple in Six-Year Span

Oakland County residents who receive old-age benefits under the Federal Social Security Program comprise the second-largest county group in Michigan, according to Wesley Dorr, district manager of the Social Security Administration.

The officials disclosed that at the end of 1955 a total of 19,292 benefici aries were paid a total of $1,135,251 a month for an average of $72.20. Payments were topped in Michigan only by Wayne County.

The figures represent a gain of 340 per cent in paymenfs and 240 per cent in the number of beneficiaries since 1950. Average payments to individuals was 48.70 in 1950.

Dorr pointed out that 8,451 persons were paid $333,887 six years ago. Part of the increase was attributed to 1950, 1952 and 1954 amendments to the Social Security Act.

Retired workers, totaling 9,662, were paid $697,760 a month to comprise the largest single group of beneficiaries. Other groups:

Wives or dependent husbands, 3060 for $117,753; widows or dependent widowers, 2,095 for $111,072; mothers with children, 751 for $42,050; children, 3,687 for $164,558; and dependent parents, 37 for $2,058.

Payments made monthly to Oakland residents compare with a state average of $67.20 and a national average of $61.90.

Dreams Drift at Senior Dance

By VICKY MICU

A mystical dream-like atmosphere will engulf Pontiac High School tomorrow night when seniors dance from 9 to 12 p.m. "Drifting in Dreams," theme of the year's senior prom has been the top news at PHS this week.

Decorations featuring castles, a multitude of stars, platforms creating pleasant illusions, and a starry gate were worked and sweated over by committee members throughout the week.

Next week seniors will don traditional caps and gowns and make plans for baccalaureate to be held next Sunday and Commencement June 14.

Class day occupies another highlight for forthcoming senior activities.

Announcements and name cards will be distributed next week by committee chairman, Marcia Thomas.

Practices for Commencement exercises are also forthcoming and will be twofold—for exercises will be held at Wisner Stadium except in case of rain—then they will be held in the boys' gym at the high school.

Yearbooks were the big news for all students, as the Quiver arrived at PHS. Inkpens will be flashing next week as the best of everyone is all to be written in these special school day reminders.

Summer school will be held at PHS June 18 to July 27 for students in and around Pontiac. Payment for this semester's courses should be paid after June 1.

The annual art show at Pontiac High last Saturday and Sunday attracted some 83 students and 200 entries for the four divisions of Sculpture, Design, Pencil and Painting.

First place winners in the four groups were Tom Bank, Carol Duford, and Rozel Scott, who won two. Rozel also took an award for the Best in Show division.

Next semester officers have been named by a number of clubs: For the Future Nurses Club Frances Kamachos was elected president; Carolyn Leacher, vice president; Delores Gustafson, recording secretary; Edwina Palmer, corresponding secretary; and Myrla Henry, treasurer.

Y-Teens named Patricia Zielke president for next semester with Karen Beam as vice president. Margaret Christenson is secretary; treasurer is Sharon Wolf; and sergeants-at-arms are Barbara Berg, Sandra Sommerville, and Janet Wilson.

Commencement Plans in Full Swing in Schools

The week was filled with activity in area schools in spite of the one day holiday. Exams, commencement plans, and elections of new club officers comprised the main activities of the week.

AT AVONDALE

Avondale seniors returned from their trip to Mackinac Island and Sault Ste. Marie this afternoon and are anxiously looking forward to tomorrow night's prom.

"Till We Meet Again" is the theme of this year's prom. Time is from 9-12 p.m.

Baccalaureate is Sunday at 8 p.m. Rev. Cummings from the Auburn Heights Free Methodist Church will deliver the address with the Rev. McCann of the Presbyterian Church assisting in the service.

Commencement practice will start Monday, with the big day due Thursday.

Underclassmen at Avondale finished their reviewing today and will take their finals Monday and Tuesday.

Earlier in the week juniors Mary Lou Ehrmann and Marge Gingrich were selected to go to Girls' State this summer while junior Ken Sheehy was chosen to go to Boys' State.

Avondale' greatest honor, "citizens of the year," was bestowed on seniors Mae Han and Lynn Wright.

AT LAKE ORION

Exams begin next week Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and Friday results will be in.

Cheerleaders for next year, who passed rigid tests when four groups voted on their character, enthusiasm, scholarship, etc., are Rosemarie Foster and Judy Harry for varsity; Penny Christopher, Mary Lynn Shoup, Marlyn McKenzie, Beth Woodward, Karen Green, Ellen England, Karen Craven and Carol Lumbardo for junior varsity;

Substitutes are Mary Jo Padker, Sue Weitschat and Sharon Johnson.

The annual awards assembly was yesterday. These awards include the senior scholarships as well as letters for track, basketball, and cheerleaders, and pins for those with above B averages.

Senior Class Night on June 5 is a big event in the senior's life, for they present the program for their parents and friends that includes class history, philosophy and giftatory.

Katie Baber is the general chairman.

The program will be presented at 8 p.m. in the high school gym. Plans for parties are taking shape.

Baccalaureate will be held this Sunday, in the high school gym at 8 p.m. The Rev. Walter C. Ballagh of the First Baptist Church will deliver the sermon while Dr. Mont C. Oliver of the Methodist Church will give the scripture and prayers.

The Girls' Glee Club will sing the anthems, under the direction of Louise Bartlett.

AT CLARKSTON

The following girls were chosen as varsity cheerleaders for next year: Judy Weaver, Dixie Parks, Hazel Miller, Janice Farrell, Sharon Glennie and Barbara Walker.

The elections for student council were held last Tuesday. Ira Pence and Jerry Urick were running for president.

Barbara Lounsbury and Russell Sofferdine were running for vice president. Alice Lounsbury was running for secretary. Dixie Parks and Judy Weaver were running for treasurer. There is a considerable amount of confusion in the hall at the lunch time due to the fact that the yearbooks have arrived and are now on sale. The yearbook was dedicated to the senior sponsor, Mr. Mauti. Today an assembly was held for those students who won awards in various activities.

By JANET ENGLISH

Now that seniors are thinking of final exams only as past accomplishments, underclassmen are uneasily awaiting their days of reckoning which will be Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The entire high school participated in the election which was held on Friday. The results disclosed on Monday show that Patricia Martin Mary Raymond, and Alace Adams are the students' choices for the offices.

The May Crowning, an annual affair took place Wednesday evening. Students from the fourth to twelfth grades took part in this tribute to Mary, Queen of the May.

Mary Hubarth did the crowning. BY ANN SCHACHERN

Senior class members of St. Frederick High spent the week cramming for their final exams which were over with today. Now with their long awaited graduation day only four days away, they are seeking summer jobs and rushing home to see if their college acceptances have arrived.

Formal-Type Hedges Need Constant Clipping

Well-sheared, formal hedges can only be made from plants that will stand more or less constant clipping, says the American Association of Nurserymen.

Very fine informal hedges are more numerous. The latter will stand occasional clipping and are widely used for privacy on the home grounds.

Check Weeds in Your Grass

Investment in Lawn Is Something Worth Protecting

An ounce of prevention is worth many hours of back breaking weeding in your lawn. A small amount of continuous effort will provide that ounce of prevention and let you enjoy your yard.

If you have, followed the steps for a quality lawn — made a soil analysis, picked a high quality mixture of permanent grasses, prepared a seedbed, fertilized and filled in sink spots—you have an investment well worth protecting.

There are many good weed killers on the market and most of them are both easy and safe to apply. Science has worked well for the lawn owner and produced not only weed killers which prevent weeds from coming in, but also weed killers selective enough to work without harming Kentucky bluegrass, bents and fine fescues.

The first great discoveries were in the post-emergence group, still the most used. The classic example is 2-4, D, the selective broadleaf killer. More recently the scientists have come up with phenyl mercuric acetate and potassium cyanate for crabgrass.

PMA, available dry or in spray, and more effective early in the season will eliminated crabgrass if applied in three treatments, one a week, as crabgrass starts, usually about May first and thereafter.

Potassium cyanate contributes some potash fertility, but may scorch good grasses easier. Butyl ureas and methyl arsonates are additional annual weed killers, showing promise but not yet widely proven.

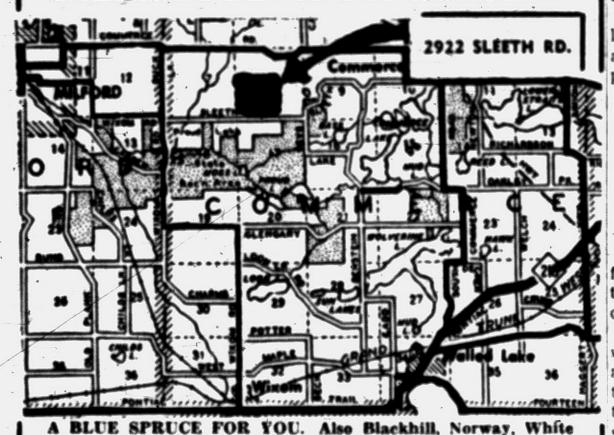

While lead arsenate is poisonous, if it is mixed at high rates in certain soils, it will not only inhibit crabgrass germination, but will also grub-proof the lawn for years.

Prepare Soil Well for Annual Seedlings

In transplanting annual seedlings to their permanent spots in the garden, give them all the help you can. Make certain the soil is well prepared . . . fertile aerated and free of rocks.

Single stemmed plants, like cosmos, may be set rather deep in the ground, an inch or so deeper than their previous position, which will make a good root system.

Be careful, though, about those plants which bear their leaves in clusters, making certain the crowns are above the ground. If the crowns are buried, the plant will smother.

DOGWOOD OLDSTERS — Mrs. Walter Dill stands in front of two of the oldest dogwood trees in Michigan in woods near her home on Charms road near Milford. The trees stand about 25 feet tall and are estimated to be over 100 years old. The pair has never produced any offspring, according to Mrs. Dill.

Branches Loaded With Fragrant Buds

Oldest Dogwood Trees in Full Bloom

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

Two of Michigan's oldest dogwood trees are in full bloom again in the woods belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dill, Charms Road, near Milford.

Expert nurserymen estimate the trees to be well over 100 years old. They stand 25 feet high, and every branch is loaded with fragrant blooms from the very top to the branches that lay on the ground.

According to the experts, an average dogwood tree grows to the height of a small apple tree, and the flowers are spaced sparingly throughout the limbs.

Professors and students from Michigan State University have made field trips to the Dill farm to examine and study this unusual phenomenon of nature.

The pair of trees has never produced any offspring. Year after year they just burst forth in full bloom, regardless of the weather conditions, then in the fall their foliage takes on brilliant scarlet lines and the close clusters of berries are even redder.

* * *

Because they grow in a thickly wooded area, the Dills have never trimmed or cultivated the trees, however, the trees have acquired a perfect symmetrical shape of their own, and their heart-shaped petals make a snowy bank of blooms that is a sight to behold.

Mrs. Dill, who is an elementary school teacher at Walled Lake explained that the name of the American dogwood tree was borrowed from a small European tree, closely related to it.

A healing wash for dogs was extracted from the bark of the foreign tree, hence the name Dogwood, Mrs. Dill says.

Tardy Spring No Handicap

Home Planting to Hit Highest Volume for Month of June

The late spring season this year is no handicap to the enthusiastic home gardener.

According to the American Association of Nurserymen, home planting and landscaping during the month of June this year is expected to reach the highest volume for that month ever experienced in the history of the industry.

Most home owners are simply extending their normal planting time from three to six weeks. Actually, says the nursery association, the weather has little effect on trees and shrubs planted around the home.

They will thrive just as well when planted in June as in April or May. They of course must be watered properly, with more watering later than if planted real early.

Many scientific advances have been made in the handling of nursery stock in recent years, which largely offsets advantages of planting ont month or another.

Planting by many nurseries occurs all through the summer months. The practice of growing and selling plants in containers, adopted by many nurseries in recent years also overcomes former seasonal planting difficulties of weather.

Such plants are easily transferred from the containers to the home property without disturbing their roots, or interrupting growth.

Shrubs and Trees Decide Songbirds

MADISON, Wis. (INS)—If you want songbirds to visit your back yard, they'll know it by the shrubs and trees you plant there.

In fact, a University of Wisconsin landscape specialist says you can attract the birds by your choice of plantings.

G. W. Longenecker cited these examples: Catbirds like to nest in lilacs, wild plums or other bushes. Brown thrashers like a thick bushy cover where they can nest on the ground and still be protected from animals.

Bluebirds and house wrens prefer clearings and sunlight, and like to nest in holes in trees or posts or in nest boxes.

Longenecker said that plants with good foliage and fruits and attractive flowers not only improve the appearance of the yard but they make birds feel at home. He said:

* * *

"Serviceberries and Juneberries are attractive and bear a lot of fruit. More than 80 species of birds eat fruit from the silky dogwood and the Hawthorn. Fruits of the Cockspur and Spike Hawthorn stay on the tree all winter long."

Aho Reveals Planting Tips

Put Smaller Blooms in Front of Larger for Best Effect

By WILLIAM AHO
Parks Supervisor
Parks and Recreation Department

To make any landscape plan complete, flowers should be included to give continual bloom from spring until fall. There are an endless amount of varieties on the market the home gardener may choose from. It is always wise to purchase your flowers early for the best selection.

Ordering flowers by the flat is far the cheapest, which amounts to approximately 80 plants per flat. As a suggestion, families or neighbors can go in together on flower purchases to cut down on expenses.

Flowers not only give a beautiful color to the home, but they also tie in the grass area to the shrubbery.

In planting, remember to place the smaller flowers in front of the larger ones for the best effect. Another factor to remember is that flowers require good soil and proper care after they are planted.

One may purchase annual and perennial flowers for edging plants, low and medium plants for beds and borders, tall border plants, plants for shade, cut flowers and carpet bedding. Americans don't like to use carpet bedding to break up a mass of green lawn as its practiced in Europe.

Edging plants are used on the edges of the taller plants to give the bed a natural and pleasing look.

Some of the edging plants one may use are the Ageratums, Dusty Miller, Lobelia and Rose Moss.

Low plants for beds and borders may consist of Dwarf Hardy Mums, Petunias, Impatiens, Marigolds, Dwarf Sweet Peas and Dwarf Vinca.

If your area of flower planting is shaded, your selection may be Coleus, Salvia, Sweet Alyssum, Pansy or Begonias. The latter must have shade for survival. Celosia, Larkspur, Tall Marigolds, Snapdragons, Zennias, Gladiolus and Dahlias may be grown for cut flowers.

Remember that flowers are very susceptible to diseases and insects. It would be wise for the home gardener to have some insecticide and fungicide on hand to keep flowers in a healthy growing condition.

Pretty Pillar Roses Claim Versatility

Trailing, climbing and pillar roses, trained to grow on buildings, arbors, pergolas, fences, walls and rocky slopes, can lay claim to versatility as well as to beauty.

Just remember that roses do not take kindly to drastic changes in temperatures. They dislike metal surfaces and to a lesser extent stone or brick. Wood is best.

Flowers should be fastened to supports set away from the wall so that there is a space between the wall and foliage for air.

From the Garden Editor

Confessions of a glad planter!

Planted some of my glad bulbs this week. I soaked them this year in a disinfectant for about three hours. Directions say this will ward off disease.

Just to refresh your memories, plant the bulbs normally about six inches deep in light sandy soil or about four inches in heavy soil. The bulbs should be from four to six inches apart.

Lots of water and weekly dusting with DDT are necessary to keep glads above par. We glad lovers are now anxious for the pretty flower to come up.

Word from Mrs. Edna Hawley of 407 S. Paddock this week says her orchid cactus is in bloom. Huge red-orange blossoms are opening all over the plant which originally came from her mother.

Don Wharff, 2454 Middlebelt, called us about a red tulip in his garden with three blooms on one stem.

* * *

Checking up on this, Don, we found that though uncommon several years back, a fairly new strain of tulips called Multiple Red Giants is becoming fairly common and has several blooms on one stem.

Weeds Survive Grueling Tests by MSU Men

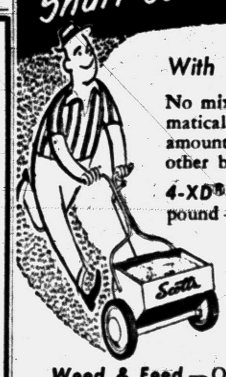

Weed seeds are hardy things.

Two Michigan State University researchers were more impressed with the fact than they were before one of their recent experiments.

J. B. Liljedahl and W. M. Carleton used a test machine to sterilize a narrow strip of soil ahead of a sugar beet planter. The soil was thrown against the steel plate at speeds of over 200 miles per hour. Were the seeds injured?

No, just as many weeds grew from the treated soil as from the untreated ground.

The researchers found that they could control weeds in the lab with heat and utrasonic energy. But the method is not practical in the field, just too expensive and complicated.

Blonde Mink

By DAMON RUNYON

I'm sitting in Mindy's restaurant listening to Julie the Starker give out with the lowdown on how our mutual pal Slats Slavin is shivering in his grave up in Woodlawn on account of this blonde mink. Seems Julie visits the grave and Slats talks to him asking he should lock up Miss Beatrice Gee and find out what's holding up the stone what she promised Slats would keep off the snow. Now Julie also says he was there when Slats shuffled off the coil and he repeats that Bea glommed onto Slats' 23 thou promising the stone.

Now Bea, who is the frosty type, lets the lodge pay the funeral and never mentions the 23 thou. She also seems to forget about the stone. Julie says he looks up this babe and finds her enshrouded with this blonde mink which costs exactly 23 thousand asks her how come she forgets the stone she promised Slats.

Bea answers that she don't want to hear no more about the stone on account of Julie would have it hard explaining what happened to the 23 thou in that he was there also when Slats kicked off. (Julie is known far and away for picking up money what belongs to other gents). Then Julie shoves off for Woodlawn to make a report to Slats when in walks Johnny Brannigan, the plain clothes copper, and pulls up a chair ordering some Danish and a cup of Java . . .

(PART FIVE)
By DAMON RUNYON

"Oh, hello," he says. "How well do you know Miss Beatrice Gee who is formerly the fiancee of the late Slats Slavin? I mean how well do you know her history and most especially do you know any knocks against her?"

* * *

"Why?" I say.

"Well," Johnny says, "it is strictly an unofficial question. There is hell up Ninth Street over her. A family out in Denver that must have more weight than Pike's Peak gets the Denver police department to ask our department very quietly about her, and our department requests me to make a few inquiries."

* * *

"Of course it is not an official police matter. It is an exchange of courtesies.

"It seems," Johnny says, "that Miss Beatrice Gee is going to marry a member of this family who is under twenty-one years of age and his papa and mamma are doing handstands about it, though personally," Johnny says, "I believe in letting love take its course. But," he says, "my theory has nothing to do with the fact that I promise to make a return of some kind on this blintz."

"Well, Johnny," I say, "I do not know anything whatever about her but you just miss a guy who can probably give you a complete run-down on her. You just miss Julie the Starker. However," I say, "I am pretty sure to run into him tomorrow and will tell him to contact you."

DIDYA SEE THE BLATS?

But I do not see Julie the next day or for several days after that and I am greatly disappointed as I not only wish to tell him to get in touch wtih Johnny but I am anxious to learn if Slats sends me any info on the horses. For that matter I do not see Johnny Brannigan either until late one afternoon I run into him on Broadway and he says to me like this:

"Say," he says, "you are just the guy I am looking for. Do you see the late editions of the blats?"

"No," I say, "why?"

"Well," Johnny says, "they are carrying big stories about the finding of Miss Beatrice Gee in her apartment in East 57th Street as dead as a doornail.

OFF HER COCO

"It looks as if the young guy from Denver she is going to marry bounces a big bronze lamp off her coco in what the scribes will undoubtedly call a fit of jealous rage because he has a big row with her early in the evening in the Canary Club when he finds a Marine captain from the Pacific teaching her how the island natives in those parts rub noses when they greet each other, although the young guy claims he walks away from her then and does not see her again because he is too busy loading himself up with champagne.

"But," Johnny says, "he is found unconscious from the champagne in his hotel room today and admits he does not remember when or where or what or why. My goodness," Johnny says, "the champagne they sell nowadays is worse than an anaesthetic."

Naturally this news about Miss Beatrice Gee is quite distressing to me if only because of her former association with the late Slats the young guy's plight, too, even Slavin and I am sorry to hear of though. I do not know him. I am always sorry to hear of young guys in trouble and especially rich young guys but of course if they wish to mix bronze lamps with champagne they must take the consequences and I so state to Johnny Brannigan.

MISSING BLONDE MINK

"Well," Johnny says, "he does not seem to be the bronze-lamp type, and yet who else has a motive to commit this deed? You must always consider the question of motive in crimes of this nature."

"What about robbery?" I say.

"No," Johnny says. "All her jewellry and other belongings are found in the apartment. The only thing missing as far as her maid and acquaintances can tell seems to be a new fur coat which she probably leaves some place in her wanderings during the evening. But now I remember why I am looking for you.

"I am still collecting data on Miss Beatrice Gee's background though this time officially and I recall you tell me that maybe Julie the Starker can give me some information and I wish to know where I am apt to find Julie."

"A new fur coat, Johnny?" I say. "Well," I say, "as a rule I am not in favour of aiding and abetting coppers but this matter seems different and if you will take a ride with me I think I may be able to lead you to Julie."

Homemade Scaler Solves Fish Chore

ESCANABA (AP) — "I love to catch fish but boy, do I hate to clean 'em."

That familiar lament is a thing of the past at the Karl Kanerva home in nearby Rock. Kanerva has fixed up an automatic fish scaler.

With an attachment on his electric drill, Kanerva can buzz the scales off 50 or more medium sized perch in 15 minutes. Cleaning that many fish by hand ordinarily takes a couple of hours.

The Kanerva fish scaler is a round piece of wood about 1½ inches in diameter and two inches long. It is covered with a sheet of galvanized metal punched full of nail holes with the rough side outside.

A bolt through the center of the wood attaches the gadget to any hand electric drill. The rough surface revolves at high speed, whacking off fish scales in short order.

Mitzi Green Considered for Role of Fannie Brice

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — I had never thought of Mitzi Green as Fannie Brice, but she'd be very good. Director Joe Pevney says that as soon as he finishes "Tammy" at Universal-International, he is going into a huddle with Ray Stark, who controls the rights to the Fannie Brice story.

Joe wants to tie up the property for his wife, Mitzi, who is noted for her impressions of Fannie. Pevney says he has already had talks with Jeff Chandler about playing the top male role, and he's hopeful of setting up the deal with Jeff's independent company.

The Australian beauty Victoria Shaw, who plays the second Mrs. Eddy Duchin, will be introduced to the American public by Bob Hope, who discovered her in Australia.

Bob will make a five-minute trailer which will be directed by George Sidney, who directed "The Story of Eddy Duchin," and this will be shown around at all the theaters with the picture.

Bob is flying in from Palm Springs to report at Columbia early next week. Columbia has great plans for Victoria, who is one of the prettiest girls to come to our town in many a day.

Dear me, 1957 is now just six months away. I was thinking of that when I started to write that Jules Verne's "Journey to the Center of the Earth" will be put on the screen by William Dozier in 1957, and he hopes with Gary Cooper.

He's been in touch with Gary, who some free time, and both Dozier and Stanley Rubin, the producer, will hold up production until Gary is free.

Walt Disney's "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," another Verne story, did very well from the box office point of view.

Ginger Rogers said she had the fright of her life when word came to her in Italy that California was calling.

She and Jacques Bergerac were on a yacht anchored at Ischia, a tiny island not far from Capri, when she was told she was wanted on the telephone for what was said to be an urgent message. She could only think that something serious had happened at home.

But she was told that she was wanted at 20th Century-Fox for "Our Teenage Daughters," originally titled "A Roomful of Roses." She and Jacques returned to Rome immediately, but she didn't get to Hollywood until Monday, and Tuesday she was at the studio for wardrobe tests.

An armadillo burrow in Texas was found to be home for the armadillo, a rattlesnake, and a rabbit, says the National Geographic Society.

Arabs Refuse British Mideast Peace Plan

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain refused today to rewrite its proposal for further peacemaking in the Middle East despite an Arab warning that in its present form it would be self-defeating.

* * *

The U.N. Security Council scheduled further debate today on the British resolution, which asked that Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold "continue his good offices" to prevent war between Israel and her Arab neighbors.

* * *

The term "good offices" was the stumbling block. The Arabs want it qualified to prevent Hammarskjold from working for the final peace settlement which the Arabs have refused to reach with Israel. The Arabs are willing for Hammaskjold to work only for enforcement of the military provisions of the 1949 armistice.

CONGRATULATING THE VICTOR — Joe Conrad (left) of San Antonio, Tex., defending champion of the British Amateur Golf Tournament at Troon, Scotland, conrgatulates Reid Jack after Jack won their 36-hole quarter-final match yesterday. Conrad was the last American eliminated from the tournament. Jack won the amateur title of Scotland last year.

Yankees Lead AL by 6 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell and the St. Louis Cardinals finally are getting together—the Cards are giving the big ploughboy some runs and he's delivering complete games. It could be a whale of a combination in the National League pennant race.

The Cards have produced 25 runs for the drawling, 6-3 lefthander in his last three starts. He's won 'em all and all were complete games. He got his fifth victory in seven decisions this season by flashing his stuff past potent Cincinnati for a 9-3 breeze last night. The victory lifted St. Louis back into second place, a game behind the Milwaukee Braves, who kept up their home run hammering in a 15-8 frolic against the Chicago Cubs. The Redlegs tumbled to fourth and the Pittsburgh Pirates moved into third with a 3-0 job on the New York Giants. Brooklyn and Philadelphia were idle.

In the American, the New York Yankees made it three straight over Washington, winning 9-6 on five unearned runs as Mickey Mantle went hitless in four trips. The Yanks now lead idle Chicago and Cleveland by 6½ games — their largest spread since last July 3. Boston beat Baltimore 4-1 on Bob Porterfield's four-hitter in the only other AL game scheduled.

Mizell, a 25-year-old service returnee, never had it so good with the Cards. As a sophomore in 1953 he had a 13-11 record—but seven of his defeats were by no more than two runs. In three others, the Cards were shut out.

It looked like more of the same at season's start for the kid from Vinegard Bend, Ala. His two defeats were by 4-2 and 5-4 scores. His first two victories were 4-2 and 5-3.

The Cards gave him plenty of working room last night, piling up an 8-0 lead in two frames off starter-loser Art Fowler and Hal Jeffcoat. Wilmer breezed through on a two-hitter for eight innings. Then in the ninth Gus Bell, Ted Kluszewski and Frank Robinson hit consecutive home runs, matching a much-tied major league record.

* * *

Stan Musial and rookie Don Blasingame each had four hits in the Cards' 15-hit attack. Musial was 4-for 4. He upped his average to .307, and drove in two runs. So did Hank Sauer and Ken Boyer.

Ron Kline starved the Giants on four singles and walked none while Gene Freese poked a three-run double in the fifth to beat Jim Hearn. The game was halted by rain with the Pirates batting in the eighth.

The Yankees got their gift runs in the sixth, breaking a 4-all tie with the help of two Senator errors and three hits. Each club had 12 hits—with the Washingtons whacking four triples, a double and homers by Lyle Luttrell and Roy Sievers. Hank Baur homered for the Yanks. Tom Morgan won in relief with Chuck Stobbs the loser.

Ted Williams drove in two Boston runs at Baltimore as the Red Sox scored all four off starter Bill Wight. Porterfield gave a run in the first, then allowed only two singles the rest of the way for his second victory.

Lary Tries for Third Win Over Yankees Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—The Detroit Tigers own two victories this season in five games against the New York Yankee. Both of them belong to righthander Frank Lary.

The strong-armed sophomore will try to continue his mastery of the American League champions tonight as the Bengals open a 4-game series in huge Yankee Stadium.

Lary's lifetime record against the Bombers is 4-1. In two starts against them this year, Lary has been at his best.

On the Tigers' first eastern swing, Lary dealt out only three hits and the Tigers won it, 7-1. Although he permitted seven hits in his next outing against the Yankee in Briggs Stadium 10 days ago, Lary's performance was even more spectacular.

Casey Stengel's wrecking crew had him on the ropes at the outset. Four hits and a walk in the first inning gave New York two runs. But after that, the 25-year-old Alabaman, who won 14 games and lost 15 in his first year in the Major League, gave up only three singles.

The Tigers go into the Yankee series with a 3-game win streak and five successes in their last six contests.

Stengel will send lefthander Tommy Byrne against the Tigers in tonight's game. Byrne has been bothered off and on this spring by a sore arm.

The one-time fireballer, who badpitched his way out of the Majors and learned how to pitch all over again in the Pacific Coast League, last faced Detroit May 23.

He pitched the final five innings, shutting out the Bengals on three singles. Byrne got credit for the Yankees' 13-5 victory.

New York is 6½ games ahead of Chicago and Cleveland and has won 13 of its last 16 games. The lead equals the Yankees' longest lead during all of 1955.

Bill Hoeft will start Saturday's game. The two clubs wind up their series with a doubleheader Sunday.

Stadium Nine Gains 1-0 Win

An unearned run in the 1st inning handed Stadium Inn a 1-0 victory over GMC in last night's outstanding City Softball League attraction at North Side Park.

Walks to Ken Willhite and Don Wilson and a costly error by shortstop Alan Dennis, permitting Willhite to score, gave Stadium's Verle Sheldon a hard-earned decision over Doug Hall of GMC in a brilliant pitching battle. Hall was touched for only three hits while Sheldon yielded four.

Elks No. 810 banged out 10 hits and Ed Miller hurled six-hit ball to post a 6-3 decision over Bicmar Inn on the North Side diamond.

Walt Saddler twirled a two-hitter to lead Lunsford Market's 8-2 conquest of Richard's Tavern and Franklin Products outscored Drive-In Cleaners, 9-6, in games at Beaudette.

Roseville Divides Crown, Wolves Defeat Brighton

Roseville wrapped up a share of the Oakland B title and Clarkston nailed down 2nd place in the Wayne-Oakland circuit with victories in league baseball games Thursday.

Tom Hency pitched a two-hit shutout as Roseville defeated Lake Orion, 4-0, on the Orion diamond. The win brought Roseville a co-championship with Clawson on a 5-1 record.

Two errors gave Roseville a run in the 5th and three hits and another miscue in the 6th tallied three more. Orion's Chuck Melchert struck out nine in a losing cause.

Clarkston downed Brighton, 7-3, in a W-O game at Brighton. It was the Wolves' 8th league triumph in 12 starts, good for runner-up spot, and gave them an overall season mark of 10-4.

Dave Gaddis, who relieved starter Gary Nelson in the 2nd inning, hurled scoreless ball the rest of the way to receive credit for the win. Gaddis fanned 11 batters. Leroy Parks made two hits and drove in one run for Clarkston.

Bratton Is Committed to Illinois Mental Hospital

CHICAGO (INS) — Johnny Bratton, former NBA welterweight champion, has been committed to the Illinois State Hospital at Manteno for treatment of a mental condition.

Bratton, 29, was described by close friends as "broke and depressed," despite the fact that he is reputed to have earned close to $400,000 in a 12-year ring career.

The onetime "golden boy" of the ring was ordered committed yesterday by Judge Walter J. Stevens in Chicago psychopathic court.

Last week, on his mother's request, Bratton was examined by psychiatrists who suggested hospital treatment.

* * *

An old friend of the once star boxer, Howard Frazier, said Bratton's wife is working as a telephone operator in Detroit to support their six-year-old son.

Bratton won the National Boxing Association title in 1951 in a 15-round bout with Charlie Fusari.

Later, he lost two bouts with Kid Gavilan—the last in 1953, when he took a terrific beating. Close friends believe he never recovered from the effects.

Ex-Track Star Sees 9.2 Mark for Dave Sime

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — More record - shattering performances were predicted today for Duke's bullet - legged sprinter Dave Sime as he warmed up for his first California outing tomorrow night.

* * *

Red Lewis, Duke's business manager for athletics and a former track man himself, had this to say:

* * *

"I think that the boy—and of course you realize I'm prejudiced and awfully high on him—is definitely capable under proper conditions of running 100 yards in 9.2 seconds. He has run 14 times this season and his lowest time was 9.6.

Ring's 'Boy Wonder' Risks New Reputation

NEW YORK (AP)— Larry Boardman, the latest "boy wonder" of the lightweight division, risks his brand new reputation tonight against rangy Frankie Ryff of New York in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

* * *

The nation's boxing fans have been curious about the Marlborough, Conn., fighter since he upset both lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith and featherweight ruler Sandy Saddler in non-title fights in Boston early this year. They'll get a chance to see the 20-year-old in action via the Coast to Coast telecast (NBC-TV, radio, 9 p.m., EST).

Forced-In Run Defeats Chiefs

Third Inning Lapse Is Big Factor as Vikings Take 2-1 Victory

A 3rd-inning forced-in run, yesterday afternoon, cost Pontiac High School its last regularly scheduled Saginaw Valley Conference baseball game for the season.

Chiefs dropped a 2-1 pitchers' battle between Jim Jones and Flint Northern's Bob Shaw. It was a defection by Jones that provided what amounted to the winning tally. He issued three walks in that frame with the final one forcing in Rodenbaugh. Three Chief errors also helped move the runner around.

Vikings' 2nd tally came in the 6th with a single, hit batsman, passed ball and another single sending in Moore.

Pontiac scored in the finale, Bob Murphy making the circuit on three errors.

Jones had a no-hitter going until the sixth when Moore and Vickers got singles for Northern's only safeties. Pontiac got three.

Yesterday's loss leaves Chiefs with a 4-5-1 Valley record. The one tie was with Bay City which yesterday was to have played Saginaw High, game was delayed by rain.

Northern also ended its regular season yesterday with a 7-3 SVC mark. No date has yet been set for the PHS-Bay City playoff.

Only one game remains (besides the Bay City playoff), Chiefs and Waterford's Skippers, at Waterford on Monday June 4.

Pontiac's Junior Varsity lost to Viking Jayvees 14-6 in another game at Flint, yesterday.

It will take two men to fill the post now held by Paul Thompson when the "Admiral" of Cranbrook leaves the Bloomfield Hills school Saturday, June 9th to retire to his New England farm.

Fred Campbell, present football and baseball coach, will assume the duties of athletic director and Don McEwen will take over as head coach of the Cranbrook track team.

McEwen himself realizes he will be stepping into a pair of shoes which for 27 years have become a respected tradition at Cranbrook and also in area sports.

DON McEWEN

But the former University of Michigan great has only to point to the Wolverine record books to show his qualifications for becoming a track coach.

When McEwen left Ann Arbor upon graduation in 1952 he put his Business Administration studies to work in the industrial field.

"I wasn't happy pinned to an office," he said, "and I honestly feel I could do a better job in teaching and coaching youngsters."

He became a member of the Cranbrook school faculty last September, teaching mathematics and assisting Thompson with the track team.

★ ★ ★

Only recently the Crane trackmen won the Inter-State League title for the first time since joining the league in 1939 causing Thompson to remark, "I guess McEwen was the answer, he sure knows how to handle these boys."

Born in Montreal, Canada, McEwen became interested in track at Ottawa High School where the sport was actually not too active. When he started his college days at Ann Arbor he wasted no time in pushing aside long standing records, most of which are still intact.

The NCAA track and field guide book has McEwen's name listed among many of the top collegiate record holders, but yet it was an event in Chicago in 1949 which he keeps utmost in his mind. And it wasn't just a record.

★ ★ ★

He was a sophomore running for Michigan in the annual Big 10 cross country meet.

There was little doubt in anyone's mind that Wisconsin's Don Gehrmann would be all alone when he came to the finish line.

"I remember when I came out of the woods the shock on everyone's face when they saw it wasn't Gehrmann in the lead," said McEwen.

"Of course everyone thought Gerhmann and his famous kick would give him the lead, but it didn't happen that way," he added.

★ ★ ★

"I felt like a nobody beating a somebody, but it was a wonderful feeling."

McEwen won the race by nearly 300 yards, so one can easily see why he felt so good.

Among his more prominent records, McEwen holds the American and National Collegiate mark in the two-mile run at 9:01.9. He won the event in 1950 and in 1951 as well.

★ ★ ★

His indoor two-mile mark is an American and World's record at 9:04.6 and his 4:09 in 1951 for the mile is still the Big Ten's best.

At Cranbrook, McEwen has been working with a miler for whom he predicts big things. He is Dave Martin, a senior from Flint who ran the mile in the league meet last week in 4:32.6, which is one of best prep marks in lower Michigan.

"By the time he is a sophomore in college he will hit 4:16," said McEwen.

★ ★ ★

Of course Martin gets some competition. He races against McEwen quite often on the Crane Stadium track.

Young British Golfer Praised by Joe Conrad

Eliminated American Sees 17-Year-Old Lad Walker Cup Prospect

TROON, Scotland (AP) — Those fathers of British golf who decided recently they'd better look more to performance than to prestige in picking their future Walker Cup teams are readying themselves for a hearty pat on the back today.

* * *

The way John Beharrell, an 18-year-old English schoolboy, has played in the tradition-draped British Amateur golf championship has strengthened the belief that there are top-notch young golfers to be found in Great Britain — providing the Walker Cup Selection Committee will go beyond the social register and the ultra clubs in looking for them.

* * *

At the moment, Beharrell isn't assured of a place on the British team that will oppose the United States. But if he should happen to go on to win the Amateur title, and ousted defending champion Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., predicts he will, then Beharrell ought to be in line for selection.

Beharrell met Scottish champion Reid Jack today in one of two 36-hole semifinal matches over the Troon championship links. The other semifinal matched two other Scots, George Henderson and Leslie Taylor.

* * *

Conrad, the last of a 26-man American contingent that bid for the title, was upset by Jack, 1-up, in yesterday's semifinals. But afterward, he spent more time discussing young Beharrell's golf game than his own misfortune against Jack.

PCC Scandals Still Continue

California Now Accused of 'Phony Job Racket' by UCLA Alumnus

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Charges continue in the Pacific Coast Conference football scandal with the University of California the latest target, accused of a "phony job racket."

Making the accusation against Coach Lynn O. Waldorf and his assistants yesterday was J. Miller Leavy, the same UCLA alumnus who leveled proselyting charges against the University of Southern California last week.

California officials said they learned more than three years ago that some athletes were getting jobs with pay and little work and had taken steps at that time to cut it out.

Waldorf denied he knew of any phony jobs.

Toy Manufacturer Draws Top Attention in Meet

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tim Holland, a toy manufacturer who clobbers a golf ball for fun, drew the gallery's attention today as he squared off against Jack Parnell, a Nashville youngster, in the Western Amateur quarter-finals.

Holland, from Rockville Centre, N.Y., defeated Robert Tinney of Columbia, S.C., 9 and 8, in his first match yesterday and continued his amazing streak of sub-par golf.

Flaherty Totals $93,819

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Pat Flaherty drove home to Chicago in the 500-mile race pace car today after splitting a record $93,819 for winning the long race Memorial Day.

How driver Flaherty and race car owner John Zink of Tulsa, Okla., divided the money was a matter of private contract between them. The driver's cut of the winnings usually is about 40 per cent.

* * *

Besides his split of the cash and the (DeSoto) pace car, Flaherty won lot of trophies, a $1,000 wardrobe, a year's meal ticket, arc welders' tools, plaques, rings and athletic goods.

* * *

The total purse for the race was $282,050, also a record. Previous highs were last year's $270,050 total purse and the late Bill Vukovich's winning total of $89,496.96 in 1953.

* * *

Flaherty picked up $49,000 first money; $894 entry fee prize; $1,500 as the fastest qualifier; $19,050 in lap prizes at $150 for each lap he led, and $23,375 from automotive accessory firms whose products he used in the race.

Sam Hanks of Pacific Palisades, Calif., drew $32,919 for finishing second. Third place was worth $20,419 to Don Freeland of Los Angeles. Johnnie Parsons of Van Nuys, Calif., got $15,769 for fourth, and Dick Rathmann of Trenton, N.J., $10,744 for fifth.

There was something for every starter. Troy Ruttman of Lyn-Calif., who placed 31st, had the low total of $2,384.

The 2½ mile track will look different next year. Speedway owner Anton Hulman Jr. said the entire pit area and the infield arrangement along the entire main straightaway will be redesigned as a safety measure.

Anderson Defends AAU Weights Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National AAU weight lifting championships and Olympic trials get underway today in Penn's Palestra with 362-pound Paul Anderson on hand to defend his heavyweight title.

Today's weight lifting will be in the 123, 148, 181 and heavyweight classes. Competition will be held in the other classes tomorrow.

Being held in conjunction with the meet is a "Mr. America" contest. Some dozen bodies beautiful are expected to be on hand from California's Muscle Beach with other entrants in this beauty show coming from Panama, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Canada and Hawaii.

Grid Cardinals Sign Hogland to Contract

CHICAGO (AP) — Doug Hogland, 247-pound tackle - guard who played for the San Francisco 49ers three years, has been signed by the Chicago Cardinals, managing director Walter Wolfner announced today.

The Cards recently obtained Hogland from the 49ers for an undisclosed draft choice. He formerly starred at Oregon State.

Pirate Hurler Aiming for 15

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ronnie Kline, 24-year-old fireballing right-hander of the Pittsburgh Pirates, says he thinks he can win at least 15 games.

* * *

"And with the kind of a ball club we have, I think we have as good a chance to finish in the first division as any club in the National League," Kline said last night after getting his second shutout of the season. The 3-0 victory over New York put the Pirates in third place 1½ games behind the pace-setting Milwaukee Braves, with whom they open a series tonight at Milwaukee.

New Eastern Loop Reported Forming

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Post reports today that a seven-team organization of independent schools in the East are organizing a conference for football competition and will begin a league schedule in 1959.

* * *

The Post story said that Boston College, Boston University, Colgate, Holy Cross, Penn State, Pittsburgh and Syracuse are involved.

* * *

For some time it has been known that Eastern independents were feeling the pinch because of the increasing tendency in recent years of schools to join conferences for survival. The squeeze has been felt more sharply now that the Ivy League is beginning a round-robin schedule this fall.

City Junior Olympics Ready

The 1956 Pontiac Junior Olympics will follow a markedly different format from previous years when the annual city-wide track and field meet is held next Wednesday, June 6, at Wisner Field.

Several changes have been instituted for this year's program, sponsored by the Board of Education in cooperation with the Kiwanis Club.

The most significant change is the elimination of junior high schools. Since only elementary schools will compete, this year's meet is limited to one day, instead of two as in the past.

* * *

A one-day meet will provide an opportunity for more boys to compete, athletic director Tom Dodson believes, since both the field and running events will be held on the same day.

Some of the rule changes also encourage greater participation, Dodson says. A contestant may enter only two events and he must not be more than 12½ years old at the time of the meeting.

Another change prohibits student spectators. Only participants will be excused from school for the Olympic trials.

* * *

The Junior Olympic program is open to all elementary school boys in Pontiac city schools. Age, height and weight determine a boy's classification, not his grade in school. Competition will be held in classes A, B and C.

A parade at 1 p.m. will officially open the meet and events will begin at 1:30. Welcome addresses will be given by Mayor William W. Donaldson, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Superintendent of Schools, and John Niggeman, Kiwanis Club president.

Wally Schloerke, PHS track coach, is the chief judge and Ray Lowry, his assistant, will serve as starter. Ralph Norvell of the Kiwanis Club will handle the announcing. Dodson is the chairman.

* * *

Nineteen elementary schools, arranged in groups 1 and 2 for scheduling purposes, will vie for honors in five events—the 50-yard dash, broad jump, high jump, football throw and the 200-yard shuttle relay.

Schools in Class 1 include Bagley, Baldwin, Crofoot, Longfellow, McConnell, Webster, Whitfield, Whittier, Wisner and Wilson. Class 2 schools are Central, Linda Vista, Hawthorne, LeBaron, Malkim, McCarroll, Owen, Wever and Willis.

Three Pontiac athletes who were prominent in high school sports this year currently hold Junior Olympic records. Alex Barge, high jumping ace at Pontiac High, owns the broad jump record in Class A; Willie DeWalt, PHS basketball star, claims the 50-yard dash mark in Class A; and Dan Dropps, St. Michael's versatile athlete, holds the Class B football throw record.

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—Holders of five world records in track and field, including Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark and Roger Moens of Belgium, go into action tonight in the annual Compton Invitational Meet.

Nielsen, who holds the 1,500-meter record of 3:40.8, runs in the flat mile against such rivals as Bob Seaman of UCLA: Ron Delany, Villanova University's runner from Dublin, Fred Dwyer of New York and others.

* * *

Moens, owner of the 800-meter mark of 1:45.7, steps a few yards farther to race in the 880-yard event. He competes against Lon Spurrier of San Francisco, holder of the world record of 1:47.5 for 880 yards, as well as Olympic champion Mal Whitfield of Los Angeles, Lang Stanley of San Jose Calif., State College and others.

* * *

Parry O'Brien of shot-put fame, with a best of 61 feet 1 inch this year, bettering his accepted world standard of 60 feet 10 inches, will be on deck, along with Fortune Gordien, the discus title holder at 194 feet.

Burke's 4-Under Wasted

Storms Cancel 1st Round at Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Knocked out by wind, rain and lightning in its first attempt, the $70,000 Texas International Golf Tournament started all over again today.

There was no change in the favorites—Sam Snead, the smooth-swinging West Virginian, still was considered the man to beat and fellows like Doug Ford, Ben Hogan and Jimmie Demaret were figured capable of doing it.

* * *

Ford was among those having a fine round cancelled yesterday when the tournament had to be halted with only 27 of the field of 156 able to post 18-hole scores. The National PGA champion from Mahopac, N.Y., was five under par for 12 holes and was ready to make it six under when he was called off the 6,216-yard Preston Hollow Country Club course because of the dangerous elements.

* * *

Jackie Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., the Masters champion, also regretted that the round had to be cancelled. He was four under par through 16.

The tournament will run through Monday instead of winding up Sunday as originally scheduled. For a time it appeared they might have to double up the last two rounds Sunday but the USGA finally agreed to postpone its sectional qualifying for the National Open from Monday to Tuesday so that the touring pros could play in the tournament and also post qualifying scores.

* * *

This, however, worked against some of the golfers. The most notable was Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, the year's leading money winner. Finsterwald is scheduled to qualify in his own section Monday and it could not be changed.

* * *

He said he planned to play in Texas International for possibly three rounds and then, if he's in good position to win some of the top money here, finish out and pass up the Open qualifying.

Washington, Jeffs Capture 'Double Dual' Track Test

In a "double dual" track and field meet, shortened by rain, Washington and Jefferson Junior High Schools yesterday afternoon were returned easy winners. Jeffs, particularly, used many of their junior varsity athletes, but still rolled up a 47-30 count over dual opponent, Lincoln Junior High.

Washington swept firsts in all running events, picked up enough points in others to swamp Eastern 49-28 in the other half of the meet.

Because of rain the pole vault and broad jump were cut off. Eastern took all three places in the vault, when it stopped at 8 feet. Points were divided in the broad jump.

Afternoon's best performance was the 49 seconds flat time turne in by Washington's 440 yard relay team. This was called the best time of the season in the event. Runners were Jimmy Watkins, Wade and Isaac Jones and Robert Tiggs.

* * *

Tom O'Brien, Lincoln "big boy", took the 100-yard dash at 11.3 and a 9 seconds flat 75 yard dash was won by teammate Roland Bateman.

* * *

Big windup of the season, the all-league meet, is set for next Thursday at Wisner field, where yesterday's events were run off.

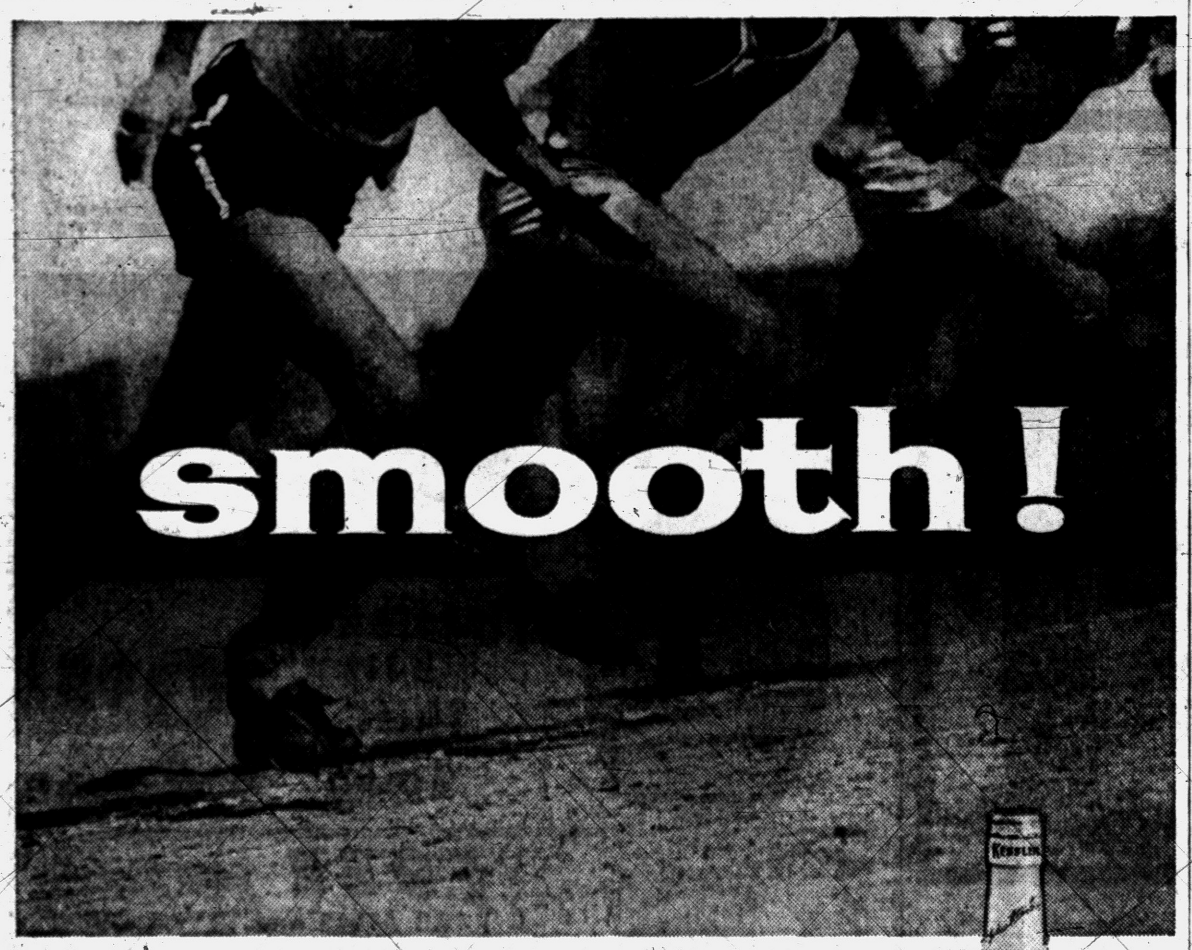

Pharmacy, Gidley Softball Winners

Lakeland Pharmacy and Gidley Electric squeezed out one-run decisions in Waterford League softball games Thursday night at Drayton Plains.

A fielder's choice and two errors in the 8th inning scored Jim Lesar from 2nd base and brought Gidley a 5-4 overtime verdict over Emmanuel Baptist. Three triples and a four-base error were other game highlights.

Lakeland outslugged the VFW, 9-8, in the opener. Troyer rapped a three-run homer for the winners in the 6th inning.

Chicago Prexy Predicts School's Football Return

CHICAGO (INS) — Chancellor Lawrence Kimpton of the University of Chicago predicts the once-mighty Maroons will return to the football wars in the near future.

Kimpton made the prediction last night in welcoming Walter L. Hass, new director of athletics, at the annual reunion dinner of the order of the "C" at the University. He said:

"The faculty has said 'no' to our re-entry upon the football scene. It is always difficult to interpret a faculty action. I make no bones about the fact that I differ with the decision."

Addressing Hass, Kimpton added:

"I believe that during your tenure of office there will be a resurgeance of interest on this campus in sports."

The Chancellor said the University will never "pursue" athletes, but declared:

"We have a very important job . . . to show that a great University can participate in all sports and maintain at the same time its dignity, its integrity and its standards."

T. Nelson Metcalf, who is stepping down as director of athletics, also was honored at the meeting.

Toronto Acquires Ex-Tiger Pitcher

TORONTO (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League have obtained former Detroit Tiger pitcher Pete Wojey from Charleston of the American Association in exchange for first baseman Lou Limmer.

Both players were transferred on a 24-hour option recall basis, the Leafs announced yesterday.

Wojey, a 12-6 winner with the Montreal Royals of the International League last season, was purchased by the Detroit Tigers last winter from the Royals' parent club, the Brooklyn Dodgers. Detroit sent him to their Charleston farm club.

Before-After Photos Given in Lanza Case

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The widow of a silent screen star has submitted before-and-after photographs in court to support her $40,461 suit against singer Mario Lanza for allegedly damaging her home.

Actress Kay English, widow of silent screen star Norman Kerry, is suing the temperamental tenor on the ground that he and his family damaged her $200,000 Beverly Hills home "beyond ordinary wear and tear" during the 28 months they leased it.

In showing the pictures in Superior Court yesterday, Miss English charged the Lanzas' damage to the home included liquor stains on rugs and furniture, cigaret burns, broken furniture and harm to the patio, terrace barbecue and lily pond.

She also argued that silver and glassware was missing from the house.

The Lanzas rented the place for $1,250 a month.

Business Notes

Appointment of W. L. VandeWater as executive assistant to the general manager in charge of dealer relations was announced yesterday by Philip J. Monaghan, general manager of the GMC Truck & Coach Division.

Vandewater

Formerly national fleet sales manager, VandeWater has been with the division for the past six years. The post was created to give GMC's 3,200 truck dealers a direct line to top management, Monaghan said.

The new executive assistant joined GMC in 1950 as truck sales promotion manager and later was named merchandising manager. He was also eastern regional sales manager in charge of the eastern half of the U. S. for two years.

H. E. Faulkner of the Cadillac Motor Car Division has been promoted to the post of assistant to the merchandising manager in charge of market analysis and special promotions, division officials said yesterday.

Faulkner joined General Motors in 1948 as a member of the field relations staff and at the time of his new appointment was supervisor of public relations for Cadilla.

He is a resident of Huntington Woods.

Benjamin H. Micou, of Bloomfield Hills, and Lincoln F. Parker, of Franklin, are currently attending the 25th anniversary of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co.'s Leaders Assn. in Sun Valley, Idaho.

Both are associated with the firm's Detroit-Pomeroy agency. The association is made up of leading life underwriters.

Dividends

Paper Company Cuts Newsprint Delivery

NEW YORK (AP)—Bowaters Paper Co. will cut June deliveries of newsprint to North American customers by 10 per cent, A. B Meyers, president, said today.

He said the reduction follows losses of over 3,000 tons of newsprint production after a fire in the power plant of the company's corner brook mill in Newfoundland.

The latest month-long cutback in deliveries comes on top of a 10 per cent reduction in newsprint quotas Bowaters had had in effect since last January

Detroiter's Bad Check Brings 90 Days in Jail

Pleading guilty to issuing a check without sufficient funds, Howard J. Spooner, 27, of Detroit, was sentenced to 90 days in Oakland County Jail yesterday.

Justice Allen C. Ingle handed down the term when Spooner failed to pay fine and costs totaling $50 in addition to an original 30-day sentence.

Inflation has shriveled actual wages in Chile despite pay increases placing salary payments at eight times the 1944 level, figures published in Santiago show.

Stocks Engage in Slow Session

NEW YORK (AP)—In one of the slowest sessions of the year, the stock market today held to a mixed course.

* * *

Price changes amounted to about a point in either direction, and many leading issues remained unchanged.

Trading hit a pace of around 1,500,000 or 1,600,000 shares for the session. That compares with 2,020,000 shares traded yesterday when the market also was quite mixed.

* * *

Motors displayed slightly higher tendencies, and some oils were higher. No single division was definitely lower. Others, like the steels, railroads and aircrafts, were mixed.

Among higher stocks were U.S. Steel, General Motors, Boeing, American Telephone, Anaconda Co., Allied Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, New York Central and Royal Dutch Petroleum.

* * *

Lower were Bethlehem Steel, Goodyear, Caterpillar Tractor, United Aircraft, RCA, Union Carbide, American Can and Canadian Pacific (which had a block of 3,000 shares off ⅝ at 31).

* * *

At noon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at $178.20. The industrial component was off a dime and the rail and utilities remained unchanged.

* * *

Yesterday's stock market was a mixed situation—a mixed start, an irregularly higher movement most of the session, and a late selloff. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks on the day lost 30 cents.

The two days of indecision followed Tuesday's buoyant market that pushed the AP average up for its greatest single day's gain in 17 years—$3.30. The strong rise resulted from a severely oversold condition in the market reached at the bottom of a steep three-week decline.

Milford Resident Begins 30-Day Jail Sentence

Fred E. Branham, 37, of Milford, began a 30-day sentence in the Oakland County Jail yesterday for driving without a valid Michigan operator's license.

He pleaded guilty to the charge when arraigned by Justice Elmer C. Dieterle of West Bloomfield Township. The original term was set at five days but was increased when Branham failed to pay a $10 fine and $10 costs.

Waterford Township Man Gets 90-Day Sentence

Pleading guilty to driving while under the influence of liquor, Raymond J. Wiltzus, 30, of Waterford Township, was jailed for 90 days Thursday.

A total of 80 days was added to his original sentence on failure to pay fine and costs totaling $125. He was arraigned by Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib.

This compared with $687,100, or 77 cents a common share, in the same period last year. Sales increased to $21,487,434 from $19,819,617 in the initial half of 1955.

Grains Mixed in Slow Deals

CHICAGO (AP)—Scattered gains and losses were posted in grains in relatively slow dealings on the Board of Trade today.

* * *

Most cereals were higher at the opening on a continuation of the advance which got under way late in the preceding session. Oats were an exception, starting out lower.

As trading progressed those cereals which had scored advances tended to give them up. This was particularly true in wheat, which dropped under the previous close. Oats firmed a bit from opening levels.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛-½ lower, July $2.02⅞; corn ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, July $1.49⅛; oats unchanged to ½ lower, July 65⅜; rye unchanged to ¼ higher, July $1.21; soybeans 1 cent lower to ¾ higher, July $3.06¼; lard unchanged to 10 cents a 100 pounds higher, July $12.00.

Laborites Chide Queen's Cousin

Duke of Kent Flayed for Recent Champagne 'Rain Shindig' in London

LONDON (AP)—A Socialist attack on the young Duke of Kent for making it rain champagne in Mayfair was indignantly rebuffed by a group of his debutante playmates today.

"Well, really!" cried the girls. "Isn't Parliament too, too boring!"

• • •

The Daily Express, bringing the weight of its four-million circulation to the side of the defense, declared the Queen's 20-year-old cousin actually deserves a pat on the back for living it up a little.

He may as well have his fun while he can, the Express concluded, for "his melancholy destiny is to be a third-string back in a royal team of foundation stone layers and after-dinner speech-makers."

The young duke crashed the front pages twice recently for having himself a ball at debutante parties.

LABORITES MUTTER

This led to muttering by Labor party members in the House of Commons. They said commoners have gone to jail for less.

One party took place aboard a luxurious motor vessel on the Thames River. Two guests — neither of them the duke—jumped overboard fully clothed. When a police river patrol came alongside to investigate, somebody turned a firehose on it.

Soon after that some citizens going their peaceful way along the sidewalks of Curzon Street, in the hoity-toity purlieus of Mayfair, felt drops of what they at first supposed to be gentle rain.

The moisture proved in fact to be excellent dry champagne of the splendid vintage year 1947. Gazing upward, the citizens discerned the duke and a number of friends pouring the bubbly stuff off an apartment house roof.

• • •

How about all this, Laborite George Thomson of Dundee demanded in the House of Commons. Why, he wanted to know, weren't these troublesome social butterflies popped into the pokey like anybody else?

A spokesman for the Home Office replied mildly that on neither occasion had police found any cause for action.

Youngsters Tie at Highest Level

Purse Will Be Divided if the Runoff Fails, but Who'll Be Champ?

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The essential part of a contest is a set of rules. But every once in a while the rules can be mighty perplexing—as The $64,000 Challenge (CBS-TV) discovered Sunday night.

• • •

Returning for the fifth time, Gloria Lockerman, 13, of Baltimore, and Andrew Douglass, 12, of Greenwich, Conn., tied at the $64,000 level in a spelling contest. Gloria is the defending champion speller as a result of her success on The $64,000 Question last August.

ANOTHER TRY

Now the two will return this Sunday to see if a decision can be reached on who's the champ and who gets the $64,000. But since both have reached that highest plateau, some people have asked why shouldn't both kids get $64,000 apiece?

• • •

In answer to that Steve Carlin, executive producer of the show, says "There's no understanding with contestants that they get the full $64,000 unless their position is absolutely uncontested — and both Andrew and Gloria are still contesting each other."

• • •

Suppose both tie again Sunday night?

Then they'll split the take at $32,000 apiece.

SPELLDOWN IDEA

"Our original idea," says Carlin, "was to follow the traditional spelldown. One winner and sudden death to the other. We planned to keep them coming back until there was one winner. But in the case of two swell youngsters like Gloria and Andrew it seemed cruel and quite unfair to keep them coming back. They're both good. The tension just isn't fair to them."

• • •

Others connected with the program say Gloria and Andrew are most satisfied with the decision to split the purse.

• • •

Well, if they split the take, who is the champ?

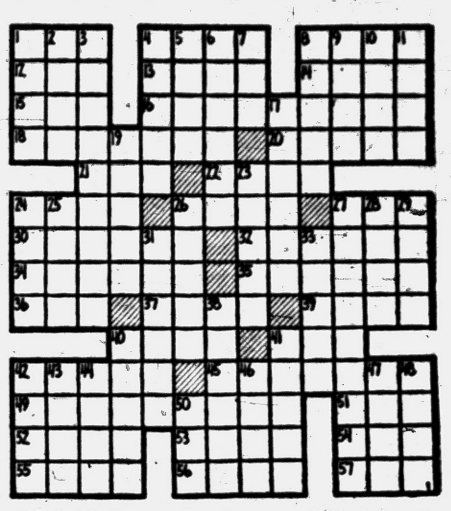

MONEYLESS BOUT

"That," says Carlin, "is a question we have to resolve before Sunday. Sometimes in a boxing bout when there's a draw the purse is split. That might be the decision in the event that Gloria and Andrew tie on Sunday. Gloria would remain the champ. Or again, with the tension of the money taken away, we might ask them to return on the following Sunday to decide only one question: Who is the champ?"

4 Airmen Killed in Plane Crash

Four Others Injured as B25 Bomber Burns Up After Denver Takeoff

DENVER (INS)—Four Air Force men were killed and four injured this morning when a B25 medium bomber crashed after takeoff and burned in an open area at the southeast city limits of Denver.

Air Force spokesmen said the crash was believed to be a result of an engine failure, the same cause of a similar B25 bomber crash near Lowry Air Force Base last month.

Of the four injured, one was described as critical while the others were in fair condition. All were removed to the Lowry Hospital for treatment.

The World War II vintage bomber was on a cross-country flight from McChord Air Force Base at Tacoma, Wash., to Tyndall Air Force Base at Panama City, Fla.

The ship crashed near a sparse residential area but the only damage to structures was a home blistered by the heat of the fire. The crash occurred about a mile and a half south of the Lowry runway.

Three Air Force officers were killed and a fourth seriously injured when a B25 crashed east of Lowry last May 17. The plane had engine trouble. The pilot attempted to return to the field and the other engine stalled. That plane also was on a routine training flight.

GI Talked Out of Suicide Try

Policewoman Helps in Rescue in Philadelphia of Michigan Airman

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— A pert blonde policewoman today helped save a young Air Force sergeant who sat on a ninth floor window sill of a mid-city building and threatened to jump to his death.

While policewoman Winnie Cook leaned on the window sill and talked with Donald Lee Seaman, Benton Harbor, Mich., Patrolman George Soltis crept close enough to grab the 25-year-old sergeant and pull him to safety.

Seaman was discovered sitting on the window ledge by Clarence Travis, 31, Philadelphia, who stopped on the corner below. Something fell clattering at his feet. It was a souvenir penknife. Travis looked up and saw Seaman on the ledge, his right leg dangling over. He hailed a police patrol car.

As a rescue force gathered on the street, Seaman dropped his wallet containing identification useful in the rescue attempt. Soltis and another patrolman, along with Miss Cook and a second policewoman, went to the ninth floor. As they entered, Seaman shouted:

"Don't come near me. If you do, I'll jump."

The rescue party stopped in the doorway. Then, addressing Miss Cook, Seaman said, "Please come over here. Talk to me. I'm all upset."

She leaned on the window sill beside him and talked for 30 minutes—from 1:10 a.m. (EDT) until 1:40 a.m. (EDT). She pleaded with him not to take his life. Finally, Soltis was able to grab Seaman.

The Library of Congress was twice destroyed by fire, the first time in 1814 and again in 1851.

More Tax Collectors

DETROIT (AP)—The government is going to hire 25 new tax collectors to aid collection of delinquent federal taxes in the Michigan District of the Internal Revenue Service. Successful applicants for the job will start a six-month training course in Detroit July 9.

Seeks Atom Academy

WASHINGTON (INS)—A member of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, Rep. James T. Patterson (R-Conn), declared today it is urgent that the U.S. establish a federal academy of nuclear sciences to keep ahead of the Soviet Union in this vital field.

Last Chance for Pot No. 1

POT-O-GOLD is an intriguing new kind of word game. Here, for the first time, The Pontiac Press offers this game of skill in contest form.

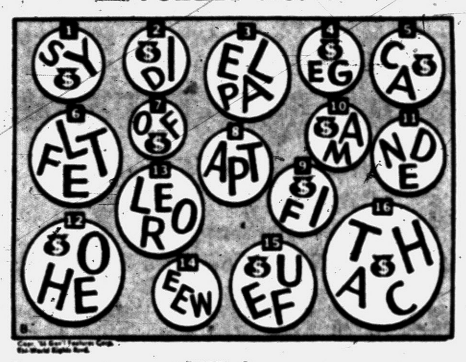

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then, would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conform to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

That's all there is to it. Good luck!

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry, the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. Entries for Puzzle No. 1 must bear a Tuesday, June 5, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end, Labor Day. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.
