Bronson: Won't Bring Charges in Hospital Case

Criminal charges will not be brought in connection with the three recent deaths at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said today.

At the same time, Bronson leveled harsh criticism at several members of the professional staff and the hospital administration.

Bronson's statements were part of a three-page report issued this morning following a week-and-a-half investigation, which began Nov. 22 after three surgery patients were accidentally given lethal injections of ether.

Bronson said the report did not direct attention to any one individual because it would be "unfair."

"We do not believe that one person is responsible, but that there is a cumulative responsibility," said Bronson.

S. JEROME BRONSON

A supplemental report reconstructing events at the hospital Nov. 17, 18 and 19, states, however, that Dr. Stanley E. Abrams, 42, 7127 Brookridge, West Bloomfield Township, was seen draining ether into a bottle, later discovered to have contained a small amount of Surital, another anesthetic.

LEFT ROOM

Included in the initial report are conclusions and six recommendations aimed at preventing recurrence of the tragedy.

"No criminal prosecution is warranted, although there is abundant evidence of inexcusable laxity and deplorable negligence in the use and control of anesthetic procedures as well as in other related hospital procedures," Bronson added.

'DERELICTIONS'

"The evidence reflects serious and reprehensible derelictions on the parts of several of the professional staff personnel as well as the hospital administration itself, which in its composite effect resulted in these tragic deaths."

Bronson said the negligence or omissions of duty by any individual does not display the degree of carelessness, recklessness or negligence to make any of them guilty of a crime.

"This office is keenly aware," said Bronson, "of the imperative need to correct all of the conditions which gave rise to these needless tragic deaths in order that there may never again be such a terrible recurrence."

He said that it is necessary to revise an "outmoded" coroner's system to handle the medical and scientific aspects of crime, which must include the employment of a qualified pathologist and staff.

Bronson said that the recommendations were made by his staff after consulting with a number of agencies involved in the investigation.

In listing these, Bronson said that the three deaths resulted primarily from failure to observe usual hospital rules.

"These rules are promulgated for the safety of the patients," Bronson said. "When the rules are not enforced, it is the patients who suffer. It is incumbent upon a hospital administrator to insure compliance with such safeguard procedures.

"The evidence of laxity, which we uncovered, seems indicative to us of an administrative weakness."

At no time should any substance be placed in a container with the wrong label, said Bronson.

Bronson said it was imperative that anyone administering a drug rely on his own personal knowledge as to the contents of the container and not assume that a solution prepared by another is what it seems to be.

Bronson charged a breakdown in communications between proper agencies may have resulted in the last two deaths.

"If the autopsy findings had

Plan for Viet Talks in Doubt

Soviets Appear Cool to Proposal by British

The hope was triggered yesterday when British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart proposed that his country and the Soviet Union take the initiative in setting up a conference aimed at achieving a cease-fire.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, fresh from a four-hour conference with President Johnson, then announced that the United States is prepared to attend almost any Southeast Asia peace conference.

This was the Johnson administration's direct response to the Stewart suggestion, voiced over live television in Moscow and thus interpreted as possibly indicative that the Soviets were interested.

But today, Stewart told a Moscow news conference that the Soviet viewpoint on Viet Nam "does not, at present, seem to open a door" toward settlement.

NO AUTHORITY

Asked if Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko reacted sympathetically to the suggestion, Stewart said: "No, I don't think he did. Wilson said "he simply insisted that the Soviet Union has no authority to negotiate."

There was no immediate U.S. reaction to the latest Stewart statement.

2 Deputies Shot by Bank Bandits in Benton Harbor

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Two suspects in the bloody holdup of a Michigan bank were captured today at a roadblock near here.

BENTON HARBOR (UPI) — Two armed bandits held up the Farmers and Merchants Exchange Bank here today and wounded two deputy sheriffs in a gunfight.

The gunmen's abandoned getaway car was found five miles north of here shortly after the shooting.

Wide Variety of Gifts for Men on Your List

By JEANNE NELSON

For the gentleman who is a serious TV fan, there is a new outfit this year called a TV lounger.

This two-piece set of 100 per cent cotton comes in black and is piped in red around collar and cuffs.

Bunny Boots will keep an ice fisherman's feet warm as toast on the coldest day. Made from felt, they are treated with a water-repellent finish and cost about $6.

HOP ON

An added feature of these is, when hubby leaves for the office you can hop on and do a little trimming yourself. Price range on this item is $14.95 to $99.95.

A watch, tested and guaranteed airtight and watertight, is a perfect gift for the skin diver.

It shows the elapsed time to the minute and comes with a waterproof strap. It costs from $30 to $40.

An antiquing kit at $4.98 might be just the thing for a do-it-yourselfer. It comes complete with all materials in a multitude of colors.

The high intensity lamp (this is available in several models) is just right for stamp collectors, crossword puzzle buffs and readers. It ranges in price from $10 to $20.

So what if the man in your life isn't a music lover. Come Christmas morning give him Beethoven's Fifth anyhow. This particular fifth isn't too lyrical but it does contain a lot of spirit.

'Paper Circulation to Jump 10 Million'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Daily newspaper circulation in the United States will reach more than 70 million by 1975 — 10 million more than last year's circulation, the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA) said yesterday.

The ANPA said a study shows that Sunday circulation should increase by seven million — by 1975. Newspaper advertising expenditures, $4.14 billion last year, should jump to $6.6 billion by that year—an increase of 59 per cent, according to the study.

Speaks at Luncheon

Roche: Future Bright for Pontiac, GM

"Pontiac and General Motors will grow together in the future just as surely as we have grown together in the past," General Motors President James M. Roche said yesterday.

Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press, introduced Roche at a luncheon sponsored by The Press.

Speaking to a capacity crowd of 700 community leaders and service club members at the Pontiac Elks Temple, Roche termed the present status of automobile and truck business as "excellent."

He said the industry's future appears bright, and documented why, but then cautioned that no company in the industry is guaranteed any certain share of that prosperity.

"In an industry where competition is as vigorous as ours, a company's success is determined by performance," Roche asserted.

"Providing quality and value is an ever-continuing challenge to us and to every manufacturer in the industry. It is something we work at constantly."

The GM President, making one of his rare public appearances since assuming the high corporate office last June, pointed out the mutual interests of the Pontiac Area and General Motors.

"This city has been a General Motors home town for a long time," Roche said.

"In fact, the association goes back to 1908, the year General Motors was founded."

He illustrated Pontiac's present status as a major automotive center by pointing out that it is the only community in the country with plants producing all three major types of vehicles — passenger cars, trucks and buses.

850,000 CARS

He said Pontiac Motor Division and the Fisher Body Plant will build and sell about 850,000 cars this year, exceeding last year's record sales by 150,000.

"Pontiac's position as third in the industry is solid," Roche asserted.

"And it has been an excellent year for GMC Truck and Coach Division," he added.

"Deliveries will total 135,000 units for this year and this is the highest total for any peacetime year."

1965 RECORD YEAR

Elaborating on his description of current business conditions, Roche said 1965 will be a record year for the industry with 9.3 million passenger car sales and 1.5 million truck sales.

He attributed this success in part to the general healthy state of the economy which, he said, has been forging ahead for nearly five years without interruption.

Roche also cited new record levels of gross national product, disposable income, total industrial production and employment.

"This progress has been achieved on a sound basis," he stated. "Price levels have been relatively stable and consumers appear to be using credit prudently."

Specified as factors in future expected high sale activity in the industry were population growth and the increased number of families needing two or more cars coupled with a rising level of replacement sales.

Roche said GM's confidence in the future is evidenced by a corporate expansion and improvement program of $2.6 billion this year and next.

"This is the largest amount General Motors has ever spent for plant and equipment during any two-year period," he said.

Roche noted that Pontiac has shared substantially in this pro-

Auto Makers Set 2 Records

Production, Sales Highest for November

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. auto makers built and sold more cars last month than in any previous November in automotive history.

Preliminary sales reports yesterday indicated General Motors, Ford and Chrysler all set November highs.

★ ★ ★

American Motors figures for November will not be available until today but are expected to show a loss of several thousand units over the 1964 pace.

This is the way the sales figures of the Big Three stacked up:

November	1965	1964
Gen. Motors	434,120	250,676
Chrysler	123,151	105,883
Ford	215,590	178,724
Big 3 total	772,861	535,374
First 11 Months
Gen. Motors	4,264,314	3,590,696
Chrysler	1,259,994	1,009,406
Ford	2,206,524	1,941,877
Big 3 total	7,730,832	6,541,979

The industry's hopes of making November the fifth month this year in which the 800,000 sales mark was reached in a month were pinned to AMC's anticipated report.

★ ★ ★

Backing up the strong sales reports were preliminary production reports for November which showed that the 900,000 car mark was passed for only the second time in automotive history.

The November output of 912,267 cars was second only to the industry high of 963,100 set in March of this year. No other month has seen the 900,000 mark reached.

Pontiac Tops Monthly Mark for Deliveries

Pontiac and Tempest retail deliveries for November were 75,448, establishing an all-time record for the month, it was announced today by John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

This was a 46 per cent increase over the 51,735 cars sold in the same month a year ago, DeLorean pointed out.

Retail deliveries by Pontiac dealers during the final 10 days of November were also the highest for any similar 10-day period, totaling 22,458 units.

The previous November record was set in 1963 when 61,533 cars were sold. The best previous November 21-30 record was established last year when 21,923 units were sold.

DeLorean said Pontiac's daily selling rate has never been higher for this time of the year and that dealers are reporting an unprecedented customer interest.

Showers Will End Tonight

Today's occasional showers will end tonight with temperatures turning colder, the low 26 to 32.

The weekend will be partly cloudy with the mercury registering highs of 38 to 44 tomorrow. Partly cloudy and mild is row and a few snow flurries. Partly cloudy and mild is Sunday's outlook.

Precipitation for the next five days will measure less than two-tenths of an inch in showers.

Thirty-one was today's low recording prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The thermometer reading at 2 p.m. was 41.

Affects Million in Two States and Mexico

Four Military Bases Fall Into Darkness, Use Auxiliary Power

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A power failure that momentarily blacked out four key military bases and plunged a million persons into darkness in New Mexico, Texas, and Mexico has brought a federal investigation on orders of President Johnson.

The power failure, triggered in El Paso, was a small-scale version of the blackout that left 30 million persons in the northeast United States and Canada without power for up to 10 hours Nov. 9.

All four military bases reported they switched almost immediately to auxiliary power. But many civilian population areas were without power for more than two hours.

Authorities of El Paso Electric Co. said the trouble was traced to failure of a device which regulated flow of natural gas to the two units of the company's Newman Plant near New Mexico's border with Mexico.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson sent J. R. Johnson, a Federal Power Commission engineer from Ft. Worth, Tex., to El Paso to determine what caused the device to fail and report to him.

GOT ASSURANCE

Joseph Laitin, acting press secretary, also said Johnson got assurances that all military bases in the area shifted almost immediately to emergency power supplies and that communications systems were not interrupted.

However, Laitin said Hollomon Air Force Base was without runway lights for some time.

Other bases affected in El Paso included Biggs Air Force Base, where Strategic Air Command bombers are on constant alert, and the Army's Ft. Bliss, which has an air defense school

Area Retail Stores Open Longer Hours

Most retail stores in the Pontiac area are providing additional hours for shoppers from now until Christmas.

Spokesmen for the downtown stores and those in the Miracle Mile, Tel-Huron and Pontiac Mall Shopping Centers report nearly all stores are now open until 9 or 9:30 p.m. six days a week.

Roche digressed from his prepared speech to comment on the consent decree that GM and the U.S. government entered into this week in a civil suit charging GM with violating antitrust laws in the manufacture and sale of buses.

He emphasized that nothing in the consent decree will prevent the corporation from continuing to compete to the best of its ability in the bus market.

He said also that the decree will have no effect on employment in Pontiac.

U. S. Fires Biggest Nuclear Test of '65

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States today conducted its biggest underground nuclear test announced this year.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the weapons-related test in Nevada, the 22nd announced in 1965, had an intermediate yield—equivalent to an explosive force of 200,000 to one million tons of TNT.

The 1963 nuclear test ban treaty with the Soviet Union permits underground tests but forbids those under water, in the air or in space.

37 Killed Last Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon reports that in the week ended last Monday night 37 U.S. servicemen were killed in action in Viet Nam, raising the total number of Americans killed in action since Jan. 1, 1961 to 1,356.

Weather Outlook Better for Gemini 7 Launching

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The weather outlook brightened today as Gemini 7 astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. made final preparations to start off Saturday on man's longest venture into space.

Space agency weathermen had been concerned about a fast-moving trough of rain moving across the southern United States toward Florida. But they said today it probably would pass out to sea before the scheduled 2:30 p.m EST blastoff time.

★ ★ ★

The weathermen predict cloudy weather in the launch area Saturday, but consider that conditions will be satisfactory, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said.

Otherwise all elements of the launching were reported in excellent condition.

DINES WITH FAMILY

Borman had dinner Thursday with his wife and two teen-age sons, who flew here from their Houston, Tex., home to observe the launching. Mrs. Lovell is expecting a baby, perhaps while her husband is whirling through his two weeks in orbit, and remained in Houston.

"The weather may not be as good as we've had it on some past shots," said Charles Mathews, Gemini program manager. "But we feel we have a good chance of going Saturday."

Borman, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Lovell, a Navy commander, are scheduled to circle the globe for a record 14 days.

RENDEZVOUS TRY

On the ninth day, Dec. 13, the Gemini 6 astronauts, Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford are to blast off from the same launch pad and attempt to rendezvous and fly in formation with Gemini 7.

★ ★ ★

The two space ships are to conduct a series of close-in maneuvers for about six hours, perhaps approaching to within inches of each other, with a remote possibility they may touch.

The launch team must prepare the Gemini 6 rocket and spacecraft for firing in a record nine days, a task which normally requires 29.

Pontiac Police to Demonstrate

Seek Longevity Pay and Hike in Wages

Plans are under way for a demonstration by Pontiac police in their wage dispute with the city.

This was the indication today after a brief meeting yesterday between City Manager Joseph A. Warren and representatives of the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA).

Guy White, a member of the PPOA wage committee, said a demonstration is planned for Tuesday's City Commission meeting.

Object of the demonstration will be to inform the City Commission of the PPOA wage demands.

Policemen seek longevity pay and a wage hike of $49 over the $351 per year offered in a salary and job reclassification plan recently adopted by the commission.

SUBMIT PROPOSITIONS

White said both propositions were submitted yesterday to Warren. The city manager indicated the city's position had not changed.

Previously, city officials told police and firemen that no more could be offered than the new wages contained in the salary and job reclassification plan.

Firemen are involved in mediation with the city.

Tuesday's demonstration will be the second staged by city employes in just over a year. In August 1964, city employes conducted a demonstration outside of City Hall.

Winner of the Pontiac title qualifies for the state contest at Pontiac Northern Jan. 28, 29 and 30.

Thirty local contest winners from throughout Michigan will be competing for the state title.

White Sands Missile Range in southern New Mexico, a missile development center, also was plunged into darkness.

"The mission capability of the Air Force Missile Development Center was maintained, and combat readiness was not affected," a Holloman spokesman said.

An area extending from El Paso to Socorro, N.M., 175 miles to the north, and to Van Horn, Tex., 120 miles to the east, was affected.

And most of the lights of Juarez, Mexico, a nightlife city of about 300,000 population just across the border from El Paso, also went out.

Much of the area affected, including Jaurez, is not serviced by El Paso Electric. Spokesmen said, however, that a sudden surge to these areas because of the trouble with El Paso knocked them out.

'No Charges in 3 Deaths'

been immediately and diligently followed up with proper communication with appropriate personnel there would not have been the needless loss of the two additional lives," he explained.

THREE DIE

Eight-year-old Kimberly Ann Bruneel of 2599 Ivanhoe, West Bloomfield Township, died Thursday, Nov. 18. Her death was followed the next day by those of William M. Ketchum, 12, of 250 W. Webster, Ferndale, and Mrs. Gerald Covington, 24, of 236 Roland.

Bronson said that in the event of a tragedy such as this an immediate and complete investigation is the best protection against repetition.

Bronson did not learn of the deaths until three days after they occurred.

Pontiac Osteopathic Administrator Harry H. Whitlow declined comment on Bronson's findings.

Whitlow said a special meeting of the hospital board of directors has been called for Monday afternoon "and we will have a statement at that time."

Investigating the tragedy were Pontiac Police Det. Sgt. John DePauw and August R. Martinez and Assistant Prosecutors Walter D. Schmier and Timothy Dinan.

Bronson said that serious consideration should be given to the need of legislation to provide for licensing of hospitals in order to achieve the highest degree of assurance that adequate facilities, personnel and standards exist and are constantly maintained.

He noted that barber shops, nursing homes and other public service institutions have such statutory requirements.

Bronson said all the information obtained through his office will be made available to the governor, the attorney general and the Food and Drug Administration.

"It is our feeling that the results of this investigation may have implications throughout the state and elsewhere," he concluded.

Swainson Topic: 'Christianity, Politics'

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Wayne County Circuit Judge and former governor John B. Swainson will be the guest speaker tonight at a meeting of the Northwest Lutheran Men's Group.

The event is the first quarterly meeting of the organization and will be held at 7 p.m. at Devon Gables.

An active Lutheran layman, Swainson will discuss "Christianity in Politics."

They are St. Andrew, Birmingham; Antioch, Farmington; St. Timothy, Oak Park; Calvary and Northwest Emmanuel in Southfield; and Advent, Atonement and St. Peter in Detroit.

Plans have been made to have leaders in industry and labor, education and the community speak at future meetings.

The organization was formed because of the inability of the eight churches to develop strong individual men's groups from among their own congregations.

Gas Fumes Kill Child; 7 Persons Hospitalized

DETROIT (UPI) — Five children and their parents were hospitalized today with carbon monoxide poisoning which killed a sixth child in the family.

The Macomb County coroner's office said the Clinton Township family of Dennis Kidder, 27, inhaled carbon monoxide from a gas range which they turned on to heat their home when their oil heater ran out of fuel.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A scholarship fund in tribute to a former teacher, the late Mrs. Jack Fleet, has been established at the City and Country School.

The child comes from a family of 10 children and was recommended by Mrs. Pearlina Butler, principal of Bagley Elementary School.

Mrs. Fleet taught at City and Country School for six years until she and her husband were killed in an auto accident Sept. 18.

The fund started by friends now totals $450.

BIRMINGHAM — the 100-voice choir of the First Presbyterian Church, 1669 W. Maple, will present the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah" at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Soloists will be Carolyn Grimes, soprano; Alice Dutcher, contralto; Kenneth Ish, tenor; and Amasa Tiffany, bass.

U.S., Viet Troops in 3rd Day of War Lull

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. and Vietnamese troops beat through the jungles of South Viet Nam today without bringing the Communists into major action for the third successive day. But American planes kept up their attacks on North and South Viet Nam with undiminished fury.

Communist snipers shot down a U.S. Marine helicopter carrying a crew of four Americans and nine Vietnamese troops south of the big U.S. air base at Da Nang, 380 miles north of Saigon. All aboard were presumed dead. The 'copter was in a flight of eight seeking out the Viet Cong.

* * *

U.S. spokesmen also reported that a propeller-driven Skyraider from the carrier Bon Homme Richard was hit Thursday over North Viet Nam and crashed into a peak 40 miles northwest of Dong Hoi, a railhead near the 17th Parallel frontier. The pilot was listed as missing.

* * *

The nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise sent up 118 planes on her second day of combat. The big E's planes dropped 102 tons of bombs on suspected Viet Cong troop concentrations and supply dumps in South Viet Nam. Spokesmen said 60 structures were destroyed and 65 damaged.

LULLS BEFORE

Of the pause in the ground action, a U.S. spokesman said: "We've had these lulls before. We're beating the bushes for the Viet Cong. When they want to start it up again, they can."

The only ground action reported was a minor clash involving patrolling U.S. Marines near Da Nang. Spokesmen said there were no Marine casualties.

* * *

Guam-based B52s roared over South Viet Nam again during the night, hitting three battle-scarred targets with their heavy bomb loads. Two of the sites were near the big abandoned French rubber plantation 45 miles northwest of Saigon where the Viet Cong nearly annihilated a Vietnamese regiment Saturday.

Another raid was on Chu Pong Mountains towering over the Ia Drang Valley of central Viet Nam, where U.S. air cavalrymen fought a savage nine-day battle two weeks ago.

* * *

Windows shook in Saigon as the eight-engine Strategic Air Command bombers dropped their explosives.

U.S. Air Force and Navy planes made 14 armed reconnaissance missions against targets in North Viet Nam, most of them in the mountains south of Hanoi, spokesmen said.

'Human Error' Costly for County in Florida

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Orange County authorities said yesterday that a "human error" in programming a computer had resulted in a $50-million miscalculation in determining tax assessments.

The error, caught after tax bills had been mailed out, will net the county $1,290,000 less than expected. We'll just have to live with it," said County Attorney James Robinson.

Clean-Shaven Inmates Favored by U. S. Court

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—The U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled yesterday that federal prisoners can legally be required to shave off beards.

The court said clean shaves provide for smarter appearance, better sanitation and frustrate any attempt to use a beard in an escape plot.

Planners Tentatively Approve Apartment Complex in Pontiac

Residential - 3 rezoning was sought for property bounded on the north and west by railroad tracks, on the east by Cherry-lawn and on the south by Ypsilanti.

The City Planning Commission gave its preliminary approval, pending completion of an agreement between the city and the developer on a proposed park and an exchange of land.

★ ★ ★

DENY REZONING

City planners voted to give a denial recommendation on residential - 1 rezoning for 1385, 1391 and 1401 Highwood.

The surrounding area is zoned manufacturing.

The rezoning had been sought to protect homes in the area.

Approval will be recommended to the City Commission on a request to rezone to residential-3 property at 63 Prall.

An apartment building is planned there.

A similar recommendation was passed for the vacating of Kennett, Joslyn to Glenwood, and a small triangular parcel along the northwest corner of Montcalm and Glenwood.

State Driver Killed

GIBSON CITY, Ill. (AP) — Floyd M. Smith, 66, of Mount Pleasant, Mich., was injured fatally Thursday when his car hit a tree on U. S. 54 southwest of Gibson City.

It took about 20,000 workman 17 years to build India's famed 17th Century Taj Mahal. The carved marble mausoleum at Arga was built for Emperor Shah Jahan in memory of his wife.

Poverty War a Failure, Will Be '66 Issue---Ford

DETROIT (AP)—House Minority Leader Gerald Ford said Thursday that Republicans will have an issue for the 1966 election campaign when a Congressional investigation exposes "shocking" failures in President Johnson's antipoverty program.

The Michigan Republican told newsmen the disclosures would make trouble for the Democrats, but would not comment further.

The investigating committee is headed by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y.

"Some things they have dug up will shock even those not ordinarily impressed," Ford said.

Ford also commented on a recent melee between Job Corps workers and Kalamazoo youths.

"I had a letter from the mother of a soldier last week," he said. "He was jailed after being involved in a fight of some sort, but the Army didn't bail him out.

★ ★ ★

"Last month a number of trainees at the Fort Custer Job Corps Center were arrested after a riot at a dance in Kalamazoo. They were bailed out with tax dollars."

Ford said the soldier "had to get help from his mother and she wanted to know how it happened that taxpayers posted bail for Job Corps people."

★ ★ ★

Job Corps spokesmen said at the time of the Kalamazoo incident that money used for bonds would be deducted from the corpsmen's salary.

Work-Out, Sleep-In Program for Model Prisoners Is Given Final Approval in State

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Corrections Commission Thursday gave a final vote of approval to a work-out, sleep-in program for model prisoners.

Work furloughs will be allowed to prisoners who meet a high standard of acceptibility. This will allow them to work outside the prison during the day and return at night to be locked up again.

"I'm sure we will find many inmates well-qualified for the program," said Commission Chairman Max Biber of Detroit. "The problem will be find the employers willing to accept them."

'ONLY THE CREAM'

"Only the cream of the prison population," Biber said, "will be allowed to participate in the program."

The work-out program will allow prisoners to build up a small "nest egg" to help them when they eventually are discharged and also will take wives and children off welfare rolls, it was explained.

State Corrections Director Gus Harrison said he could not estimate at this time how many men will be involved in the program.

"We will go as far as we can with it as long as we find out that it works," said Harrison.

DEPENDS ON REACTION

"A lot depends on the reaction from the local community where the men are placed. We want to stress that no sex deviates, bad risks or those who we think might cause trouble will be placed in this program."

★ ★ ★

The commission was cool to a proposal that the prison system find room for "some 200 or 300" juvenile delinquents from Detroit in some prison facility.

★ ★ ★

The youths involved would be those not sentenced by Circuit Court to prison but found by lower courts to need confinement.

New houses being constructed in the United States are about one-third larger than those built 15 years ago, the Homemakers Institute discloses.

LBJ Urges Students to Talk Not Drop Out

In implementing President JOHNSON'S Youth Opportunity campaign, aimed at keeping young people in school, a first step is that potential dropouts be given experienced counsel at this critical point in their lives.

Since all parents are not qualified to give it convincingly and it is a trait of youth, moreover, to look upon parental advice with skepticism, in many cases guidance from another source is more effective.

But such meeting of minds does not just happen. The student, troubled in mind and uncertain about his scholastic outlook, must necessarily take the initiative in seeking guidance that may vitally affect his future.

He will find many individuals or agencies able and eager to help. If not parents, then a respected teacher, a YMCA or YWCA youth adviser, the state employment office's youth counselor or a successful community figure may be approached with confidence. All will embrace the opportunity to help young Americans at the educational crossroads.

★ ★ ★

● Those who quit school likely face a life of intermittent unemployment or underemployment, and up to 50 per cent less in lifetime earning potential.

● The unemployment rate for 3.1 million young people 16 to 21 years old who had dropped out of school as of last fall was 16.6 per cent — almost four times that of the labor force as a whole.

● The number of unskilled jobs declines with each passing year, and newly created jobs almost all require a high school education.

Moreover, students now wavering in classrooms, to whom the future is an indefinite abstraction and the present of prime consideration, should know that getting back into the mainstream of education after once dropping out is far more difficult than completing an uninterrupted scholastic course.

Young people struggling in perplexity to resolve their educational dilemmas will find direction in the words of President JOHNSON: "Seeking guidance is nothing to be ashamed of. The decision you make will affect you for life. It deserves all the guidance you can get."

U.S. Economy Signs Flash Dollar Signs

Although worriers may find other things to worry about, the state of the national economy as it poises on the brink of 1966 is not one of them.

The economic upsurge that began in February 1961 and has now set a peacetime record for duration, shows no sign of letting up.

An advisory panel of 25 private economists in a report to the U.S. Treasury Dept. unanimously predicts that the expansion will continue through next year — though perhaps at a slightly reduced rate. The Gross National Product is expected to hit $710 billion for the year after a $40 billion rise from the current figure.

The consistently accurate Michigan Economic Forecast sees unemployment sliding from the current 4.2 per cent to 4 per cent of the labor force—the level that the President's Council of Economic Advisers considers full employment.

Importantly fueling the boom is the high-living U. S. consumer, currently spending 95 cents out of every dollar he earns.

The budget for fiscal 1966, reflecting increasing costs for our military involvement in Viet Nam, will for the first time top $100 billion — by $5 to $7 billion—and may end up as much as $8 billion in the red.

Yet few experts fear that the U. S. will experience the degree of inflation that marked the Korean War years. Then, in the early 1950s, defense spending doubled and then tripled, straining to the limit an economy whose G.N.P. was half what it is today.

All one need do to be devoutly thankful that he or she was fated to be an American is to cast an eye around the globe, where starvation, economic chaos, despotic or shifting government are common.

LBJ, Fulbright Remain at Odds

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — This place hasn't been the same since the fiery and colorful days of Harry S. Truman who knocked heads with Congress and anyone who got him mad enough.

MARLOW

Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy tried to play it cool — in public—no matter how overheated they got in private.

President Johnson is trying the same, with a twist of his own.

Ice, the poet Robert Frost said, can be as effective as fire. And Johnson has been using the ice treatment on Sen. J. W. Fulbright an Arkansas Democrat but one of the President's critics.

★ ★ ★

VIET WAR POLICY

When Fulbright, who has been at odds with Johnson over the Viet Nam war policy, suggested a suspension of the bombings, the President let his press secretary, Bill D. Moyers, answer for him. Moyers said it would do no good.

Some of Fulbright's fellow senators said he wrote Johnson a get-well note when the President was hospitalized last October and got, in a reply, a note from a staff member.

Then, early last month, Johnson approved a big fact-finding trip to Europe and Asia —including a Kremlin conference—by five senators headed by Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic leader.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield said he had discussed it with Johnson for months.

WAS SURPRISED

But it is known Fulbright was surprised by the news. And his committee had never authorized the trip. Fulbright, meanwhile, was to head a group of senators going to a minor conference in New Zealand.

Whereas Mansfield's team traveled by Air Force jet, Fulbright's was told it would have to get slower planes or commercial transportation.

Then followed a strange coincidence—if it can be called that.

★ ★ ★

On his way to New Zealand, Fulbright stopped off in Australia and was asked by newsmen if he thought enough Australians were fighting beside Americans in South Viet Nam.

WANTED NUMBER

He had to ask how many were there, although he heads the Foreign Relations Committee and has had things to say about the war.

When told the figure was 1,000, he said that number was very small when compared with the 165,000 Americans in South Viet Nam.

Some Australians interpreted his remark as belittling their war effort.

This week, Fulbright called off a news conference. The next day, Johnson sent a message to the Australians, praising their efforts in South Viet Nam.

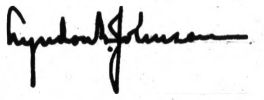
THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

To the young people who are today asking themselves about the wisdom of continuing their education or training and who are faced with making a decision on it, I want to say, search first for advice and counsel. Your parents, the teacher you like, the adult you respect most, a social worker, a YMCA or YWCA youth advisor, your school's guidance counselor, your State employment office's youth advisor and many others want to help and may be able to help. There are many ways in which we can assist you in preparing yourself for the responsibilities you'll hold tomorrow, but only you can make the choice. I would like you to keep one thing in mind. Seeking guidance is nothing to be ashamed of. The decision you make will affect you for life. It deserves all the guidance you can get.



David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Record as Prophet Dulled

WASHINGTON — President Johnson likes to make rosy forecasts about business conditions, but his record as a prophet is a bit tarnished by his prediction last January that federal budget spending would not go beyond $100 billion.

LAWRENCE

Now, with only five months gone by in the current fiscal year, the White House is admitting that budget spending will rise to between $105 and $107 billion, and that the deficit will run somewhere between $7 and $8 billion and might go as high as $10 billion.

But this is not the only thing about the economic situation that is causing worry. Here are some of the other developments that are producing uneasiness:

● The law of supply and demand has been seriously interfered with by the action of the President. The federal government has intervened to keep prices down in certain industries, but not all along the line.

● Interest rates naturally ought to go up in order to restrain the excesses in lending. But the administration has put its foot down on this proposal and has thereby interfered again with the law of supply and demand.

● The increase in tax receipts is still $8 billion below what is needed to balance the budget. Meanwhile, state and local tax rates have been pushed upward.

● The expected advantages in removing excise taxes are not materializing. Many companies have added the excise tax to the price of their products, and many of the fraternal clubs and organizations around the country have merely increased dues by the amount of the excise tax.

In the case of automobiles, equipment that was previously optional has been made mandatory so that the auto companies get approximately the same amount of money they received before, and the government gets much less.

SOMETHING HAPPENED

● Something has happened to the building boom. Housing starts have fallen to the lowest level in 33 months. Many of the home builders perhaps were overly impressed by the talk of "prosperity," but the demand for housing now is not what they anticipated it would be.

● Job creation through government stimulus is helping to decrease some of the unemployment but the total is still large.

There are as many as four million persons out of work at any given time, while many persons are unemployed at one time but not at another. The over-all jobless rate for teen-agers is more than 13 per cent, and for Negroes more than 8 per cent.

● The cost-of-living index rose to a new record high in October — two points above September. The increase boosted the cost of living about 1.8 per cent above the level of a year ago, which is far above the 1.2 per cent level which the President's economic advisers have been describing as noninflationary.

The net result is that it cost $11.04 to buy the same goods and services in October 1965 that were purchased for $10 in the base period of 1957 to 1959.

★ ★ ★

The administration is plainly worried about some of these signs on the horizon, but the policy seems to be to keep on talking optimistically in the hope that the people in due course will pay less and less attention to the danger signals.

Bob Considine Says:

Miracles of Telemetry Keep Space in Our Grasp

CONSIDINE

Very soon the incredible Babel of tongues will be joined, for the first time in history, by the voices of four human beings simultaneously adrift in the cosmos.

These, of course, will be the astronauts who make up the crews of Gemini 7 and Gemini 6, to be lifted aloft from here in that order next Saturday and nine or 10 days later.

Even if all four men should be asleep simultaneously during the two days they will cruise in formation, the world below will know whatever is essential to know about where they are, how they fare, when they'll come back to earth — thanks to absolute miracles of telemetry, communications and the astonishing reports from magic black boxes that would have stupefied Merlin.

And yet we are still in the Stone Age of this progress. We have just come across the utilization of fire and the handiness of the wheel, so far as space and intimate communication are concerned.

Before many years pass, you'll be able to pick up your phone and be in almost instant communication with any part of the world.

Your voice will be shot up 22,300 miles into space, amplified by a second-generation Early Bird and bounced back to some land across the Atlantic in 3-10ths of a second.

Or streaked from one satellite across the world to another, like a good football back's lateral pass from N.Y. to Tokyo or Melbourne (at the speed of light).

The connection will be clearer than most routine earthbound radio programs, because it will not have to penetrate steel-ribbed buildings, mountains, ore deposits, nor nearly as much of the pale fudge in which we wallow — our atmosphere.

Opinions on Appointment of New Deputy Treasurer

I was shocked to learn of the recent appointment of the Deputy Treasurer for Oakland County by the new Treasurer. I cannot imagine any legitimate justification for naming a 23-year-old factory worker, apparently with no previous office experience or supervisory background to such a post. The appointee may be a very nice young man and it is commendable that he is a high school graduate and a veteran, but I hardly consider these assets as qualifying him for the third highest position in our Treasurer's office in the second largest County in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

As a taxpayer I resent the expenditures of $8,500 to $9,400 per year with so little potential return for the money. What possible assistance will this man be to the Treasurer? I review with chagrin the fact that the new deputy just happens to be the son of our Clerk-Register of Deeds, who in turn just happens to be one of the three men responsible for appointing our Treasurer. How obvious can you get?

★ ★ ★

I consider this action to be an abuse of administrative discretion on the part of a public official. It does seem that of 800,000 people in this County we could buy better service with our money. I might add that I am not a disgruntled Treasurer's office employe.

CONCERNED

Is Mr. Seeterlin gaining as much support as he may be losing by some moves he has made since his appointment as County Treasurer? Will the favors to co-workers offset the displeasure the voting public may feel? It would seem that many County employes who earn far less than $8,000 per year, and who had to qualify for their jobs either by education or experience, would find it hard to accept that an inexperienced, untrained individual is given a job making $8,000. It is hard for me to accept that my tax dollars are supporting these moves.

MILDRED McCARRICK
WATERFORD TOWNSHIP

With the advent of our first Democrats in the County offices of Clerk-Register and County Treasurer, we witness the marked contrast between the sober and responsible appointments to public office by the Republican administrators that we learned to take for granted, and the means of selection used by our Democratic officeholders. It is easy to see how important the public interest is to our recently appointed County Treasurer when we witness the qualifications he requires for the appointment of the third-ranking man in our County Treasurer's office.

★ ★ ★

Other than the primary qualification of the recently appointed Deputy Treasurer, Shane F. Murphy, that he is the son of John D. Murphy, the Democratic Clerk-Register of Deeds, who was one of the County officials who selected James E. Seeterlin as our new County Treasurer, I am sure we are all impressed that as a high school graduate with one year of experience on the assembly line of a metal products firm and the wisdom of a boy 23 years of age, he is eminently qualified.

★ ★ ★

We are also very pleased that our new deputy will only have to live on an $8,000 salary until January 1, 1966, when he will be raised to $8,500. After all, nothing is too good for Oakland County taxpayers.

Never in History . . .

The National Review

After surveying the Great Society in action all year, Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., has concluded: "Never in the history of America has it been proposed to take away so much from so many to do so little for so few."

Bold Suggestion

The Holland Evening Sentinel

There have been few programs that have drawn as much criticism as the farm subsidy program. The criticism has come as much from the farmer as from the consumer of farm products. And more recently the farm lobby, which once was strong and vocal, has been losing much of its power.

★ ★ ★

It is in this situation that a suggestion by Rep. John C. Mackie makes some sense. Rep. Mackie has suggested that we begin a massive program of assistance to those nations who are on the borderline of famine conditions. He is quite right in his statement that this situation exists in many parts of the world. Only a few days ago the press carried a story from India that rationing would soon be instituted.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Mackie is well aware that the present program of restricting farm production is costing us approximately five billion dollars a year. In many instances holders of extensive acreage are being paid large sums for simply withholding their land from production. Since we must pay out this money, why not get back to a free market, and use the surplus to help those nations that are short of food? The cost according to Rep. Mackie would be considerably less than the five billion we are spending at the present, and the possibilities both within the country and outside are enormous.

★ ★ ★

Said Mackie: "Our farmers would, with full farm production, buy more machinery, more fertilizer, more gasoline, and many other items from American industry. Transportation systems would increase their income."

★ ★ ★

There is something about Rep. Mackie's program that may be the best of American tradition. It could be better for our own people, and it would give us a chance to develop some moral fiber.

Tragedy's Lesson

The New York World Telegram

In the clarity of hindsight, it seems entirely probable that the disaster of the Yarmouth Castle could have been prevented if Congress had acted last summer on a bill subjecting foreign-flag cruise ships to the same rigid safety standards required of ships flying the U.S. flag.

★ ★ ★

The legislation was sidetracked after a bout of legalistic wrangling and a spate of protests from foreign countries. Thus was the Yarmouth Castle, described at last summer's hearings as a "floating firetrap," able to keep sailing until the accuracy of the epithet was clear beyond doubt, and beyond help.

★ ★ ★

Salad, Snow Just Dreams in Viet Nam

★ ★ ★

Some three weeks ago, Mickie Gill of Port Huron received a letter from her husband, Marine S. Sgt. John H. Gill Jr. It was written in a humid, hot tent at Plei Me.

'SEND SEEDS'

"Send me some seeds so that I can plant them," Gill wrote. "We want fresh vegetables to make a salad. Green onions, carrots, head lettuce, radishes, anything that will grow."

Mrs. Gill tried to buy seeds at local stores, but in winter it's hard to buy seeds of any kind.

★ ★ ★

A reporter of the Port Huron Times Herald heard of her plight, wrote about it and the Port Huron Junior Chamber of Commerce picked up the ball.

Mrs. Gill said the response from people who wanted to help was overwhelming.

THEY CAME

"They came to the door, all kinds of pople, friends and relatives, and people I didn't know," she said.

★ ★ ★

"I've sent four boxes of just about everything that anybody would give us, from onion to sweet corn and even Portuguese watermelon," she added.

Mrs. Gill said her husband — "he has a green thumb" — has planted several things, but she didn't know exactly what.

There were other things Gill wrote home about.

FIRST SNOW

"My darling, I want a picture of the first snow, just so I'll know that somewhere in the world there's a place without steam, mud, slush and stink.

"It's only 9:45 a.m., and the temperature is already 104 degrees. The humidity is 97 per cent. I've lost 22 pounds. We sweat 24 hours a day."

★

"This jungle, there's no end to it. There's so much I want to talk about. Things have to get better, darling. They can't get worse."

Mrs. Gill believes things will get very much better when her husband comes back because he will bring with him an adopted Vietnamese boy.

Mrs. Gill doesn't know very much about the child except that he was three days old when her husband found him in a Vietnamese orphanage. The Gills have no children of their own.

Wrote Gill: "I'm one step ahead of you. I've already started adoption procedures for our Vietnamese boy.

"We'll call him John III.

Pet lovers profess to see brooding mystery in a cat's eyes. Actually, their eyes are merely blank. Cats don't think, because they don't have much to think with. How much brains does it take to outwit a mouse? When a cat isn't asleep, it has only one problem on its mind—finding something to stalk.

Dominican Drift to the Left Seen as Stabilizing Factor

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Subtle but significant changes in the Dominican Revolutionary party — PRD — the country's largest, have been underlined by a conflict between two of its founders.

There's a swing toward a more pronounced left-wing nationalism that may create immediate problems within the ranks but which, in the end, could help stabilize the party.

★ ★ ★

This is a consensus among political observers studying the possible future effects of the expulsion from the party of Angel Miolan who, with ex-President Juan Bosch, founded it in 1939.

Bosch and the party, with Miolan as party president, won the 1962 presidential elections by a near landslide.

RADICALLY LEFT

What political observers regard as significant in the wake of the two-year-old dispute is the readily apparent drift of the revolutionary party away from its left-of-center beginnings to a more fiercely nationalistic and radically left position.

This is expected to give the party more ideological depth and therefore more appeal to the exploding ranks of young nationalists, created by the April revolution, who believe the new look gives it truer identity with the country's real objectives.

There is a belief, however, the party's more conservative elements may be alienated by fears the new leftists orientation, nourished by anti-U.S. nationalism, could spill into extremism.

A phlegmatic workhorse, Miolan moved into Santo Domingo soon after dictator Rafael Leonidas Trujillo was slain in May 1961, and began to organize the party throughout the country.

BOSCH LEADER

There was never, however, any real question as to who the leader of the party was once Bosch arrived on the scene. His control was never in doubt.

It's believed, however, that Miolan still has the support of some of the traditionalists and party machine chiefs.

★ ★ ★

One question is: Where will Miolan go with his backers? He is not considered to have the stature nor following to be a presidential candidate himself. He may still be considered too much of a leftist for Dominican conservatives and far rightists.

As revolutionaries go, Bosch, 58, is well past the age. He may decide to stay out of it, as he has privately said he would. Some of his followers are convinced he should if only because they feel that even if he ran and won, the Dominican army — and the United States — would never let him take power.

Talks Continue on Stationing of Troops

British RAF Planes Begin Landing in Zambia

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — British Royal Air Force planes began landing today in Zambia as negotiations continued on the stationing of British ground troops in rebellious Rhodesia's northern neighbor.

A Britannia transport carrying equipment arrived this morning in Lusaka, the Zambian capital, and several Argosy freight carriers followed. Lusaka is 85 miles from the Rhodesia border.

* * *

A squadron of Royal Air Force Javelin jet fighters, waiting in Kenya since Wednesday, was scheduled to land later in the day at Ndola, one of the main towns in Zambia's rich copper belt. Ndola is 300 miles north of Rhodesia.

Under an arrangement accepted Thursday by President Kenneth Kaunda, Britain will send additional four-engine transports to Ndola to beef up Zambia's air defenses.

* * *

Informed sources said the RAF planes and Zambia's airports would be under British control. They declined to say how many men of the RAF regiment would accompany the planes.

In London, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson told the House of Commons: "The presence of the Royal Air Force will be a very important factor in helping cool down the situation." Their official mission is to provide air defense for Zambia — so that other African nations won't send planes in.

* * *

Commonwealth Secretary Arthur Bottomley was winding up talks in Lusaka with Kaunda and his ministers over conditions for the stationing in Zambia of British ground troops which Kaunda wants to protect the Kariba Dam. The dam, on the border between Rhodesia and Zambia, is operated by the Rhodesians and furnishes power for the Zambian copper belt.

Informed sources reported Kaunda still is insisting that British troops seize the dam's vital electric power plant, which is on the Rhodesian side of the border. Britain refuses to invade Rhodesia, although Wilson said British troops would act if Rhodesia cut the power from the dam.

MAY AGREE

A diplomatic source said Kaunda may agree to have the troops positioned in the hills overlooking the dam, where they would be ready to go into action if Rhodesia cut off the power supply to Zambia.

The white minority regime in Rhodesia, which defiantly declared independence from Britain Nov. 11, has repeatedly said it does not intend to cut off the power.

* * *

The British were reported insisting that they control all ground forces in Zambia — even any troops which might be sent by other African nations. Kaunda has been pressured by the Organization of African Unity to accept forces from Ghana, Tanzania and possibly the United Arab Republic.

OAU delegates arrived in Addis Abbaba, Ethiopia, for an emergency conference on the Rhodesian crisis.

* * *

The OAU sessions, beginning today, were to be secret. But a spokesman for the organization said the delegates would implement resolutions adopted by the OAU heads of state in Ghana in October calling for "every means, including force," to combat the Rhodesian government's unilateral declaration of independence.

Weather Watch Is Geared for Advance Forecasting

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Weather forecasts two weeks in advance are within man's reach, as is the ability to determine whether or not large-scale weather modification and control is possible.

Realization of these goals awaits the full development of a World Weather Watch and the achievement of more complete understanding of how the entire ocean of air surrounding earth moves and interacts.

Reliable weather predictions two weeks or more in the future would be one of the "most significant achievements of modern science and technology," the National Citizen's Commission Committee on Meteorology reported to the White House Conference on International Cooperation here.

Such forecasts would benefit the agriculture, commerce and industry of all nations of the world. They would permit more accurate and timely warnings of severe storms and other weather hazards for the protection of life and property.

Even more significant, however, would be the benefits to the peoples of the world if weather could be modified or controlled on a large scale.

VIOLENT STORMS

Violent storms and other weather calamities could be prevented, and a wholly new economic way of life created in many parts of the world.

The committee found that the largest single obstacle to long-range weather predictions, as well as to determining the feasibility of large-scale weather modification, is the lack of weather information over the entire globe.

To overcome this obstacle, the United States was urged to take the leadership in development of the World Weather Watch, now being planned by the World Meteorological Organization and its 126 member nations.

The World Weather Watch will be an international system to bring the atmosphere of the entire planet under complete surveillance, using the most modern tools available, including satellites, giant computers and high-speed communications.

Essentially, the same conclusions were reached by a special panel of the National Academy of Sciences that investigated the feasibility of global observations.

The World Weather Watch will consist of "two broad, continuous and parallel streams of action," the International Cooperation Committee reported.

The first involves the introduction of proved technology into the existing international weather system.

The second stream is to simultaneously pursue the work of research and development on new technology. This second prong is essential to reduce the cost of the World Weather Watch.

The committee called the new technology "truly exciting." One observation method now being developed and scheduled for an operational test soon in the southern hemisphere is the horizontal sounding balloon.

Korean War Ghost

Fears of Brainwashing Return

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Once again, American troops are fighting an Asian Communist enemy and once again the danger of Communist "brainwashing" is feared. In this dispatch, UPI correspondent Robert Kaylor examines the Reds' methods of turning a man into a propaganda tool and U.S. efforts to meet the danger.)

By ROBERT KAYLOR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The statements of two American prisoners released by the Viet Cong have brought back a ghost from Korean War days—the possibility they have been "brainwashed" by their Communist captors into turning their backs on their country.

Following their release last weekend Sgt. George E. Smith and Spec.5 Claude McClure told a news conference in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, they wanted to leave the Army and campaign against U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Their statements prompted speculation they had yielded to Communist brainwashing techniques. Marine Corps Commandant Gen. Wallace M. Greene said the two men would be used as examples of "what can happen" to prisoners.

Exactly how Smith and McClure fared during their two years of captivity will not become known until U.S. interrogators have a chance to talk to them. Even then the true facts of how they reacted to their captors may still be obscured.

* * *

But whether or not they were victims of the highly - refined Communist methods of turning a man into a propaganda tool, the incident once again raises the question of how well a prisoner can be expected to resist the enemy.

CONTROVERSIAL SUBJECT

Brainwashing first became a controversial subject at the close of the Korean War, when 22 out of the 3,597 American prisoners offered for repatriation by the Communists decided not to come home.

It was generally believed that the defection of these servicemen, most of whom have since returned to the United States, was the result of brainwashing.

These techniques as developed by Communist regimes over the years can take various forms.

* * *

Its wholesale use by the Chinese on prisoners in the Korean War has been described as "the studied application of systemized starvation, mental torture in the form of death threats and other hazards, filthy living conditions and a generally degrading treatment of the individual."

The shock of the Korean War defectors caused a great deal of soul searching among Americans and provoked a heated controversy.

Some persons argued that the performance of American POWs as a group had been a blot on the record of American patriotism.

They said the behavior of GIs in prison camps had shown a high incidence of "collaboration," a word which took on vague connotations of treasonable behavior.

* * *

Others took the view that American POWs had been subjected to new and terrible experiences unparalleled in U. S. military history and that there had been no proper guidelines for their behavior.

The discussion was muddied by the lack of any clear definition of what constituted "collaboration."

A government research group looking into the question after the war said that if the contribution of one item such as a radio broadcast or a petition of propaganda value to the enemy were "collaboration," almost three - fourths of American POWs were guilty. Included among these were many who were later decorated for resisting the Communists in prison camps.

The researchers also found that ideological considerations apparently played a minor role in POW behavior. They reported that 88 per cent of the returning prisoners showed no indication of having accepted any Communist propaganda at all.

Sixty per cent more wood is being grown in American forests than is harvested or destroyed by natural causes, the U. S. Forest Service reports.

'Pictures May Curb Drinkers'

By Science Service

PHILADELPHIA —Alcoholics who claim they cannot remember their behavior while on a binge can be helped to see themselves as others saw them by pictures taken during their period of intoxication.

The idea is to shame them into better behavior.

Although this technique was presented here by Dr. Alfonso Paredes, a psychiatrist who used motion pictures of intoxicated patients, any wife or husband could have a flash bulb ready for home use. Dr. Paredes reported work done at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia.

This was one of several suggestions for treatment made at the American Medical Association clinical meeting, ranging from the drug antabuse to LSD and hypnosis.

LSD, or lysergic acid, seems to make alcoholics more willing to undertake the total program necessary for recovery, Dr. Ruth Fox, medical director of the National Council on Alcoholism, New York, found after treating 20 patients.

"By breaking down the barriers between the conscious and the unconscious mind and the uncovering of early traumatic events in their lives," said Dr. Fox, "LSD seems to help alcoholics give up their rigid defenses against treatment."

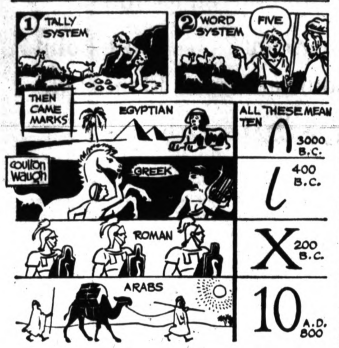
Junior Editors Quiz on NUMBERS



QUESTION: Where did numbers come from?

ANSWER: It is probably that numbers came from the tally system (1) which is thought to have been used by prehistoric men to keep track of their possessions.

If such a man had five sheep, he might pick out five stones to represent them! if a lamb was born, he would add another stone.

A big step was to use a word instead of the group of stones (2). Gradually a collecting of "counting words" was formed.

As language and writing developed, it was natural for men to search for marks or symbols to write down or note their counting words.

Such symbols became known as "numerals," and we show how they appeared in different civilizations in regard to the number 10. You will notice that Arabians had the same two symbols for 10 which we use today.

The other nine symbols also were the same as ours. It is not known exactly how the Arabs arrived at their counting system, which has been one of the most important contributions to human progress in all history.

These symbols for the digits, as well as the important use of the zero, probably originated in India and were then adopted by the Arabs.

The great value of this system was in the placement of single numbers so that those to the left would have a higher value, such as by 10 time or a 100 times.

FOR YOU TO DO: Take a sheet of paper and a pencil. Now pretend you're living in the world before the Arabs brought in their system. Make your own symbol for the number one and write it nine hundred times—wait, that's too much of a chore. Just write down the Arabic numerals for nine hundred—don't you see how much easier that is?

Permit Requirement for Nursing Homes

LANSING (AP) — Nursing homes with three beds or less must obtain a state permit by Jan. 1, 1966, the Department of Public Health reminded operators Thursday. Victor Jonak, administrator of the nursing home licensure program, said applications for permits are being mailed to all known nursing homes. Permits may also be secured from health or welfare departments.

Second Exchange Student Coming to PNH in January

By ALICE TURNER

Excitement for Pontiac Northern's International Club is at it's peak as the arrival of a second exchange student was announced.

During her stay in the United States, Adele will be residing at the home of the Benjamin Schweitzers of East Walton. Their daughter, Kathy, is a senior at Northern.

Another student is also expected, however, information concerning her arrival is not available as yet.

★ ★ ★

The International Club's penny drive also began this week.

Each Monday through December, the club members will gather extra pennies, nickels and dimes on rolls of masking tape to help provide funds to send PN students abroad this summer.

The student collecting the most money will be awarded a $5 prize.

The International Club was also presented with $150 recently by PN's Varsity Club. The money was collected during the "Ugliest Athlete" contest. Nick Ochoa, PN's Homecoming King, came in first place in the contest.

★ ★ ★

Second, third, fourth and fifth places were taken by Gary Hamilton, Christ Giles, Keith Deaton and Bill Curtis respectively.

TO DECORATE DOORS

The doors will be judged for originality and a prize will be given to the winning homeroom.

Decorations will be on display from Dec. 13 through 17. They'll be judged the final day.

★ ★ ★

STUDENT LIFE

Student life and juniors will be handled by Sharon Weber and Lynn Batten.

Organization will be handled by Pam Classon and Barbara Wightman.

Invite Parents of Sophomores

To Discuss Projects, Problems at WTHS

By JEAN PRIESTLEY

Parents of Waterford Township High School sophomores are invited to hear counselors and administrators discuss their children's projects and problems next Wednesday night at 8.

Mrs. E. I. Carter will speak on student activities of the school as a whole. Patricia Hott will explain the high school testing program—"What We Know About Your Youngsters."

Mrs. Edwina Isaacson will tell "Our Expectations of High School Students" and Richard Powell will make introductions.

Byron Merritt, co-assistant principal and half-time counselor, will discuss guidance services.

Forty-two area families are being "adopted" as Christmas projects by WTHS homerooms this year.

Each homeroom will be assigned a family and given the number of children and their ages.

Donations of non-perishable foods, toys, clothing and money to buy a turkey, milk, bread and eggs will be collected until Dec. 22.

SELL GOODIES

Seniors Terry Grant and Steve Sage were high salesmen.

The money is used to buy necessary items not furnished by the Board of Education.

Business law students will have an opportunity to watch actual legal proceedings when they visit Oakland County Circuit Court Tuesday.

They'll see the jury sworn in and have an opportunity to ask the attorneys questions in addition to hearing several cases.

Two inquiring WTHS journalists met the press accidentally last week when a routine assignment took them to see S Jerome Bronson, Oakland County prosecutor.

By HELEN COLLIAS

The opening of the Pontiac Central High School basketball season was highlighted by the cermonial dance performed by this year's chief, Ronald Lewis.

It will be the job of the chief, princess and court to instill enthusiasm and continue the victorious school spirit through the basketball season.

The pep band, under direction of faculty member Richard Morse, will lead the students in the fight song.

For the first time, Pontiac Central plans to hold after-game stag dances. The Student Council will hold the first dance next Friday after the second home game.

★ ★ ★

Casual and informal clothes will be proper attire for the dance. Popular records will be submitted by students on the record committee for the entertainment.

FIRST DANCE

The success and popularity of this first dance will determine the outcome of future dances.

Providing fun and entertainment and enabling students to socialize with friends after the game is the major purpose of the dances.

Tickets must be purchased prior to the dance.

The dances will be held in the boys' gym from 9:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m.

SLATE CONCERT

Central's orchestra, conducted by faculty member Robert Peterson, is presenting a pre-Christmas area concert. It will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Central's auditorium.

Central's high school orchestra will be host to sixth grade and local junior high bands who will also perform.

At Kettering

Gifts-to-GIs Project Over

By JAMIE SCHUTT

Anxious to contribute to the American fighting men in South Viet Nam, the Waterford Kettering student body completed a special Christmas project this week, holiday boxes for servicemen.

Coordinated by the Student Council, a group of volunteers stayed after school yesterday to help with the final preparations. They checked the boxes to guarantee they were tightly packaged, before wrapping and addressing them.

The Youth For Understanding foreign exchange program is starting to make plans for the summer of 1966.

Club members will ski at Mt. Holly each Wednesday night.

A ski club identification card will be distributed to all members, and they must show the card to take advantage of the student low rates.

NEW VARSITY SPORT

Ski team, which this year will be a varsity sport, has also started to organize. Newcomer to the Waterford Kettering staff, George Perry, will coach the team.

★ ★ ★

Ten boys and ten girls are allowed to be on the team. They will participate in a schedule of interscholastic slalom race meets at Mt. Holly.

Wrestling and basketball seasons began this week.

Response to Salute Is Favorable

By MIKE THORNBERRY

The annual Salute to Youth program, sponsored by the Pontiac Citizens Committee on Youth, received a favorable response from the student body.

Senior slave sale today brought in a good profit for the class. The seniors hope to leave a gift which will match those of preceding classes.

★ ★ ★

CUPCAKE SALE

Future Nurses will have a cupcake sale every Wednesday to raise funds to purchase presents for neglected patients at the hospitals.

Jane Heitjan, representing the cheerleaders, is presently organizing a pep club at St. Michael's.

OLL Holding Stamp Drive

By CECELIA PARKER

Our Lady of the Lakes High School is rapidly getting into the swing of the Christmas season.

At present, a trading stamp drive is being run in the school and the books obtained will be used to redeem Christmas toys for underprivileged children.

The school goal is set at 1000 books.

The seniors are now sponsoring their annual candy sale. Profits from the sale will go toward the purchase of a senior class gift.

News Highlights From Schools in Area

Dominican

By DEBBIE Van NATTER

Dominican Academy's Debate Club has proven itself well-trained, enthusiastic, and victorious.

★ ★ ★

Troy

By RICK SHAVER

Troy High School opens its basketball season tonight at Avondale. Coach Peyton Goodwin picked the varsity candidates last week.

Returning lettermen are co-captains, Bruce Baas and Randy Haley. Other letter winners are Gary Derrigan, Dennis Hoemke and Ed Manderfield.

★ ★ ★

New members of the squad are Mick Holder, Phil Keelin, Dave Humphrey, John Popovich, Dan Ishimaru, Dave Evans, Jim Beach, Barry Buckland, John Schultz and Gary Tarr.

West Bloomfield

MARGIT MISANGYI

This week West Bloomfield High School has a busy schedule for its students.

Most important is the beginning of the basketball season, Friday at 7 p.m. in the gym.

There will be an after - game dance sponsored by the junior class. The theme will be "Oldies but Goodies."

The junior class also has its candy to be sold in the coming weeks. This money will be used to pay for the prom and the junior-senior banquet.

Walled Lake

By RON MOORHEAD

The event, following the basketball game, is sponsored by the journalism class.

The Student Council is sponsoring the dance and has agreed to let the journalism class charge a small fee in addition to the general admission fee to the dance.

All proceeds from the race will go to the Goodfellow organization to provide Christmas gifts for the children of needy area families.

4 TURTLES

The race will consist of four turtles: one turtle from each class and one representing the faculty.

The turtles will be placed in center of a large circle on the gym floor.

The winning turtle will be the one that takes the first step out of the circle's boundary.

Clarkston

By CATHY RICHARDSON

Called the Whoopee Wolves Den, the store will sell paper and pencils, shirts and parkas with the school emblem on them, and other student needs.

★ ★ ★

Singer gave a lecture on espionage and sabotage. He was from the Antirm Bureau in Glenside, Pa.

Tuesday, Lt. Don Kratt of the Oakland County Sheriff's Patrol will show a movie and speak to the senior, junior, sophomore and freshmen classes individually.

St. Fred's

By ERNESTINE MOORE

Students of St. Frederick School assisted our pastor, Rev. Father Arthur Francis Oldani, in celebrating his feastday today.

A special assembly consisting of two skits, one by the grade school, and one by the high school and the presentation of a gift to the pastor from the entire school was held this afternoon.

Mark Brasch was presented the Optimist award for outstanding athletic, scholastic and citizenship traits at a luncheon yesterday.

Bloomfield Hills

By LINDA McNEILL

Newly-elected officers for the National Honor Society at Bloomfield Hills High School are Mike Kelso, president; Bob Erdman, vice president; Priscilla Read, secretary; and Ed Perlman, treasurer.

Projects planned are a Christmas food basket to the needy, a Christmas caroling program at different hospitals, and a trip to the Metropolitan Opera in Detroit.

Among its student services are tutoring in various classes including math, science, and foreign languages.

NHS meetings are held once a month, either third or fifth hour of the school day.

Brandon

By ROSE THERIOT

Basketball season is now upon us and it is sure to bring honors for Brandon High this year. According to the team, "This will be Brandon's best season by far!"

Future homemakers of America has been organized by Mrs. Scott French, home economics teacher, for all girls from grades 7-12.

★ ★ ★

At the last meeting the officers for the coming year were elected. They are Virginia Harrell, president; Jenifer Cobb, vice president; Rose Theriot, secretary; and Linda Morgan, treasurer.

Holly Exchange Student Has Turkey on First U.S. Holiday

By LINDA LONGSTRETH

Esther is Holly High School's foreign exchange student from Stasa, Switzerland. Stasa is a town about the same size as Holly.

Esther attends school in Zurich, which is about twenty miles from her home town. She commutes by train to Zurich, which is the largest city in Switzerland.

Esther found several differences between American and Switzerland schools.

In Switzerland, the high schools are set up like our colleges and they are not coeducational. Esther prefers the American coeducational schools.

★ ★ ★

Students in Switzerland must attend high school for five years, so Esther will still have classes to finish when she returns this summer.

Attendance requirements are also different.

In Switzerland, students can drop out of school when they have completed the ninth grade.

If students decide to continue their schooling, they must maintain a B-average or they will be dropped from school.

Also in Switzerland, there are three foreign languages required, French, Italian, and English.

★ ★ ★

Her extracurricular activities also keep her busy. She is a member of Student Council and vice president of the Ski Club.

★ ★ ★

Monday, will be the second Senior Day for Holly. All seniors are asked to wear their class colors of pink and cranberry.

Holly's occupation class made its first field trip last week, a bus ride to Selfridge Air Force Base.

At Rochester High

Postgame Dance Set Jan. 7

By KATHY MORGAN

The "John and the Four Fifths" band has been signed by the senior class of Rochester High School to play at its first post basketball game dance Jan. 7.

Practicing twice a week, the combo has built a repertoire of over 120 songs.

★ ★ ★

The group has played at several dances, winning a "battle of the bands" against a rival group recently.

Treble and Concert Choirs of Rochester High School are practicing for the Christmas concert, "Sacred Sounds of Christmas," to be presented Dec. 19.

Frank Irish, vocal music instructor, will direct each choir in a long composition. The combined choirs sing a medley of middle English carols, accompanied on the harp by Mrs. Lloyd Buss.

The Concert Choir will sing the Latin version of "Gloria" by Vivaldi.

The Treble Choir is practicing "Ceremony of Carols." Joining, the two choirs will perform "Gloria" from the Twelfth Mass of Mozart.

Avondale AFS Is Selling Pens

By CHERYL BECKER

American Field Service is selling school pens this week. The pens are in the school colors, purple and gold, and are engraved with the Avondale Yellow Jackets symbol.

The profit will go into a fund for the Student Exchange Program.

Athletic Club officers were elected recently. Elected were Doug Joyner, president; Allen Pelletier, vice president; Greg Rice, secretary-treasurer.

Seniors Harold Bartkowiak and Dennis Jacobs were selected to organize a committee for the initiation of future "A" Club members.

On Dec. 11 at 8 p.m. the faculty of Avondale High School will challenge the Harlem Diplomats to a basketball game in the high school gym.

Three Michigan Christian College students will speak at a "Pizza Powwow" on Dec. 14.

The students, two from Africa and one from Europe, will speak on the United Nations Foreign Exchange Program.

The powwow will be held at the high school from 6 to 8 p.m.

Oakland University Scholarship Test will be given to seniors Dec. 11.

Leaders View Rights Plan

A proposal to form a joint city-township civil rights commission was explored by 23 Farmington area civic leaders last night.

The group, which met at Farmington High School, included the city's mayor, Wilbur V. Brotherton; two of its councilmen, John Allen and Ralph Yoder; Farmington Township Treasurer Mrs. Elise Avery; and a representative of the Farmington Board of Education, Mrs. Wendell Brown.

AREA NEWS

But the purpose for which the meeting was called — the creation of a quasi-official human relations commission — apparently remains a distant goal.

As envisioned by its sponsors, the commission would serve as a counseling, conciliation and mediation board to deal with civil rights complaints; an educational facility in racial matters; and catalyst for the encouragement of equal opportunities in housing and employment.

EXPRESS FAVOR

Brotherton, Allen and Yoder expressed favor for the idea, although they said they had reservations about details.

They stressed, however, that they had come unofficially.

Mrs. Avery said she represented only herself.

★ ★ ★

She was noncommittal about her personal opinion of the proposed commission, but invited its advocates to attend a Township Board meeting.

BIGGEST HURDLE

Mrs. Avery read a statement prepared by township attorney Joseph T. Brennan, who said townships do not have the authority to establish such a commission.

"Even were such a power found," Brennan said, "it would be improper for a township to delegate authority to a group, the majority of whose members would be appointed by outside bodies or organizations and over which the township would have no control."

★ ★ ★

Brennan's opinion runs counter to that expressed earlier by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, according to human relations council spokesmen.

SEEK NO 'POWERS'

Robert Leidlein, council chairman, and John Millhone, past chairman, gave assurances last night that they seek no "powers" for the commission.

It would act only at the discretion of the governmental authorities over it, they said.

Both Mrs. Avery and Brotherton said there was fear in the community that human relations councils encourage Negroes to move into all-white communities.

Leidlein denied this.

He said all the councils were attempting to do was create an atmosphere in which integration could come with dignity and without violence.

Rotary International, an organization of professional and businessmen, was founded in Chicago in 1905 by Paul Percy Harris.

Area Woman Writes Book

ROMEO — A story which Mrs. Paul Goetcheus used several years ago to lull her children to sleep has just been published in book form.

It is the first book for Mrs. Goetcheus, 65305 Wolcott, who writes under the pen name of Carol Lynn.

The trip is conducted by a wise old elf named Ophadus Q. Chippendale Thum, a name Mrs. Goetcheus gave to one of her dolls when she was a child.

★ ★ ★

She said she conceived of the story as a means of overcoming the problem of "bedtime wibblies" or children's insomnia.

OUGHT TO BE SHARED

"I've been telling the story for years with no thought of publication," said Mrs. Goetcheus, "but some friends saw it and thought it ought to be shared with other children."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Goetcheus now is working on another children's book about the alphabet.

In addition to writing, the author flies her own plane, likes to sail and in 1959 designed the house in which she and her husband live.

By Goodfellows

Paper Sale Slated

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — The annual Goodfellow paper sale, which helps make Christmas brighter for needy families and underprivileged children in the township, will be held tomorrow.

The sale is sponsored by Metropolitan Club Spirit No. 60, Pontiac Township firemen from the Auburn Heights, Opdyke and Joslyn stations and Auburn Heights area Jaycees.

Starting at 1 p.m., men will be selling papers at the main intersections throughout the township. The goal of the drive is $1,000.

Proceeds will be used for Christmas gifts for needy families and for parties for township children in the three fire halls.

Dates of the parties will be determined later.

In 1647, the Massachusetts general court ordered every town with 50 or more families to "maintain reading, writing and religion schools."

Yule Tree Grows Into Scholarship for Area Girl, 17

WASHINGTON — Seventeen-year-old Carolyn Reed has turned a family Christmas tree-raising project into a $500 scholarship.

Carolyn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Reed, 19255 29 Mile, received the scholarship this week at the 44th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. It was donated by the American Forest Products Industries, Inc.

Carolyn and her brothers, Jack and Gary, began planting pine seedlings in 1956. The 8,000 trees she and her family have planted have financed four years of college for her two brothers.

Carolyn is the second in her family to receive a scholarship. Last year, her brother Jack won one of the forestry scholarships offered by the American Forest Products Industries, Inc.

Hearings Set on Farm Labor

Final Sessions of '65 on Michigan Situation

The Michigan Farm Labor Panel established by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz will hold its last two hearings of 1965 next week.

★ ★ ★

The sessions will be held at the Saginaw County Courthouse, Saginaw, Thursday and the Muskegon County Building, Muskegon, Friday.

During the mornings, the panel will hear testimony from representatives of farmers, processors, groups working with migrant workers and government officials.

★ ★ ★

Those unable to appear can submit observations, information and evidence in writing to panel chairman Charles C. Killingsworth, university professor of labor and industrial relations, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

TO SUBMIT REPORT

After weighing testimony received next week with that obtained at earlier hearings, the panel will submit its report for 1965 and recommendations for 1966 to Wirtz.

★ ★ ★

The five - member panel was established in May to advise Wirtz "with respect to certifications at the request of the Attorney General pursuant to the Immigration and Nationality Act, relating to the admission of nonimmigrant aliens to perform temporary labor or services in the United States."

★ ★ ★

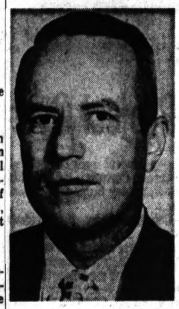
It also was directed to make further recommendations for "serving fully all agricultural labor needs."

Farmers to Hear Talk on Role of Machines

The place of men and machines on the farms of tomorrow will be pondered by Oakland County dairymen Tuesday at their annual banquet.

Speaker for the event will be Lawrence E. Creasy, agricultural sales manager of the Ford Tractor and Implement Operation.

The dairy banquet is scheduled for 7 p.m. at the First Congregational Church of Pontiac.



L. E. CREASY

The program will include recognition of the "Dairyman of the Year" by The Pontiac Press.

Presenting the award to the top dairy farmer will be Howard Heidenbrand, Pontiac Press editorial writer.

Creasy's topic will be "Agribusiness — the Nation's Business."

A graduate agricultural engineer, he will look into the future to predict the types of machines farmers will be using and the extent to which automation will replace human labor.

Creasy, 2550 Pineview, West Bloomfield Township, has been associated with Ford in the U.S. and Great Britain since 1955.

Prior to joining Ford, he worked for E. I. DuPont De Nemours and Co. and Louisiana State University.

In addition to honoring the "Dairyman of the Year," county dairy farmers Tuesday will receive the annual summaries of their herds' production prepared by the Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

★ ★ ★

Milk Production Mark Set

Michigan farmers reporting to the Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) this year established a new high in milk production.

The record set by 1965 production was an average of 12,528 pounds of milk and 469 pounds of butterfat.

Five years ago, Michigan DHIA herds averaged 31.6 cows.

Amount of grain fed per cow averaged 4,470 pounds in the state and 4,300 in the county.

Manning Viet Supply Ship Rugged Job

ABOARD THE USS VESUVIUS (AP) — Like many Americans involved in the Viet Nam War, the sailors of the Vesuvius have a dangerous yet monotonous job.

The old ship — commissioned in World War II — lugs 500,000 tons of ammunition around the South China Sea and the Gulf of Tonkin to arm her more glamorous sister ships, the carriers, the cruisers and the destroyers.

* * *

The ordnance in the holds ranges from machine-gun bullets to 2,000-pound bombs. Although the big bombs and their TNT are not likely to explode on their own, the detonators that set them off are. And the Vesuvius has a detonator for each bomb.

* * *

It would seem that the crew would live in constant dread of being atomized by their cargo, but it isn't so.

They are a well-functioning group of skilled professional seamen. Says the Vesuvius' executive officer, Lt. Cmdr. Robert K. Karcher: "Occasionally, we get a man aboard who is too nervous for this sort of duty. We see to it that he gets a transfer."

* * *

The Vesuvius accomplishes its mission of transferring ordnance to warships while both vessels are under way. This maneuver is called "unrepping," which means under way resupply.

* * *

A carrier, for instance, slides alongside. Both ships, at a steady 15 knots and 200 feet apart, set up transfer lines.

Muscular, sweating Vesuvius sailors wrestle the bombs and shells into cargo nets and these are swung over to the warship. They can transfer 70 tons in one hour.

Lt. Robert Potter, Coronado, Calif., the man who directs all "unrep" operations, likes the work of the USS Ranger.

'REAL PROS'

"Now there's a bunch of real pros," he said. "They dash up alongside and hook up quickly. Their band comes out and plays music that seems to help the men work quickly. When they're done taking the stuff aboard, they unhook fast and go scooting off — the band playing the William Tell Overture — and there goes the old Lone Ranger."

29 Youth Corps Projects Okayed by Labor Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department Thursday announced approval of 29 new neighborhood Youth Corps projects in 12 states.

* * *

Total cost of the projects is $4,605,218, of which the federal share will be 90 per cent.

* * *

The projects will provide jobs for 4,968 youths in public-service employment to enable them to finance their continued education or gain experience for future jobs.

* * *

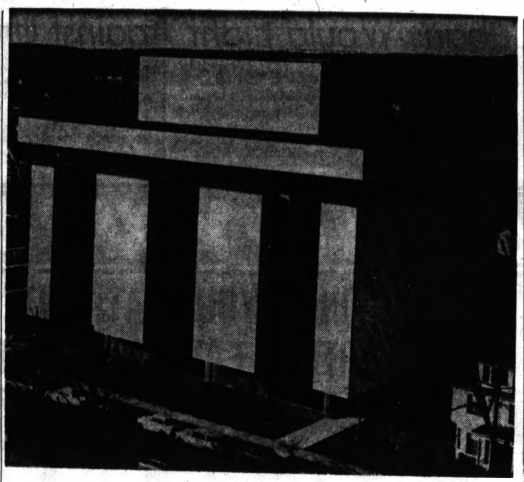
Federal Loan OK'd for Michigan College

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Approval of a $930,000 federal loan for Northwestern Michigan College in Traverse City was announced Thursday by Sens. Patrick McNamara and Philip Hart, D-Mich. The Department of Housing and Urban Renewal funds will help finance a college building project which includes new dormitory facilities for 120 male students and a similar number of coeds.



CAMPUS ADDITION — This distinctive-looking structure on the University of Michigan campus at Ann Arbor is the new Institute for Social Research building which went into use yesterday. Formal dedication of the $2 million structure is tentatively set for around the 1st of April. AP Photofax

The biggest class in public schools last year was the first grade. More than 4 million were enrolled in grade one. There were over 3.7 million second graders.

A Civic-Minded Delay

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A dirty car and wilted shrubbery have been the signs of a civic-minded citizen in this western Kentucky town for the past three months. But two inches of rain last week ended a drought in the area and also lifted a ban on washing cars and watering shrubbery.

Give him Osmun's for Christmas

But it doesn't have to be just another gift shirt. That's why we do our best to give the shirt you give something extra. Like a free gift box. Or a little bigger selection of sizes. Or some friendly advice on why Uncle Leroy would look better with a little shorter collar.

So if it's just a shirt you're after, why settle for just a shirt? Give him more than a shirt. Give him Osmun's.

VANOPRESS SHIRT
by Van Heusen

VANOPRESS SHIRT: $6.95

Castro Says Many Cubans Would Fight Against United States in South Viet Nam

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro said today many Cubans would be willing to fight against the United States in Viet Nam.

"There are many in this country who would gladly enlist to fight there against the criminal soldiers of Yankee imperialism," Castro said. "That day volunteers are asked, there will be thousands — millions from all parts of the world."

Castro's statement in a speech to a teachers' graduating class seemed no more an indication that he intends to send men to Viet Nam than similar previous declarations.

Castro also said that Ernesto Guevara "is alive and well" but shed no new light on the disappearance of the former minister of industries who was one of the chief architects of Castro's revolution.

* * *

"Our enemies have gotten the idea that he is dead," Castro said, "for the frustration of our enemies, we can say with infinite satisfaction he is alive."

Guevara, an Argentine-born guerrilla expert, dropped out of sight early this year. There has been persistent speculation that he is dead.

Castro said in a speech in October that Guevara had left Cuba in April to carry on revolutionary activities elsewhere.

Castro also ridiculed Secretary of State Dean Rusk's role at the Organization of American States conference in Rio de Janeiro and said Cuba "is proud not to belong to the OAS."

Seek to Block a Transit Strike

NY Official Points to Union Contract, Law

NEW YORK (AP) — The Transit Authority today planned action to prevent the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union from striking the municipal subway and bus system Dec. 15—16 days before the union's contract with the authority expires.

Daniel T. Scannell, one of the three members of the authority, said it would contact Theodore W. Kheel, permanent arbitrator for the transit industry, and demand that the union abide by the no-strike contract clause.

* * *

Scannell said Thusday that the authority expected the TWU and its president, Michael J. Quill, "to live up to their contractual obligations."

"Apart from that," Scannell said "there is a prohibition both by the state and by common law which forbids strikes by public employes. That's considered anarchy."

INJUNCTION EYED

Scannell's statement raised the possibility that the authority would seek an antistrike injunction under the state's Condon-Wadlin law prohibiting strikes by public employes.

"Let them call out the militia, let them call out the Army," said Quill.

* * *

Before his Dec. 15 strike threat, Quill had said that 33,000 TWU members would strike at 5 a.m. Jan. 1 if a new two-year contract wasn't agreed on.

Quill, in his second day of name-calling anger at Mayor-elect John V. Lindsay, threatened to call a strike at 5 a.m. Dec. 15 — "just in time for the Christmas buying rush."

REPEATS DECLARATION

Lindsay, who takes office Jan. 1, Thursday night repeated his declaration that "there can be no strike."

Quill has been seething at Lindsay since the mayor-elect told him in a telegram Wednesday that he would do all in his power to aid in reaching a contract settlement "when it is evident that both parties are prepared to engage in good-faith collective bargaining."

Quill said the telegram accused the TWU of "not bargaining in good faith" and was "tantamount to a charge of a criminal act against us."

State Worker Overtime Pay Hike Viewed

LANSING (AP) — Time-and-one-half pay for state employes' overtime is under consideration by the Civil Service Commission.

State Personnel Director Franklin DeWald said Thursday the federal government, four of 21 states surveyed and 25 Michigan cities now pay time-and-one-half for overtime.

* * *

The state offers straight time or compensating time off for employes who work more than 40 hours a week.

Last year such straight time overtime cost $2.4 million and compensating time was valued at $1.5 million. Time-and-one-half for the same number of hours would have cost $5.8 million, said DeWald.

LONG SOUGHT

Employe organizations long have sought time-and-one-half overtime pay.

The commission will consider this and over-all pay levels Tuesday, following a public hearing Monday afternoon.

The commission staff has recommended a $13.5 million pay hike averaging 6 per cent. The staff did not recommend time-and-one-half.

Police Pay Hearing

LANSING (AP) — A special Senate committee studying police wage rates will hold an open meeting Dec. 18 to collect testimony, Sen. Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac, committee chairman, has announced. The meeting will be at the McGregor Memorial Center of Wayne State University.

Proposed Pact Puzzles Scandinavians

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Almost at the top of the world, in the land of the Laps and the midnight sun, Norway's boundary runs across Finland and then dips sharply downward for a distance of perhaps 25 miles to form a common border with the Soviet Union.

NEWSOM

Norway's iron ore port of Kirkenes lies about six miles from the Soviet border. On the Soviet side lies the town of Boris Gleb and the remains of a 16th century monastery. Nearby is a community of Greek Orthodox Laplanders.

Americans learned of Boris Gleb recently from a young U. S. citizen named Newcomb Mott who reached it illegally from Kirkenes and was rewarded with an 18-month sentence to a Soviet labor camp.

Finnish President Urho Kekkonen dealt with the same area this week when he came up with an anti-cold war proposal which both surprised and puzzled his Scandinavian neighbors.

* * *

Kekkonen proposed that Finland and Norway agree by treaty that their joint northern border be neutralized, banning an attack from either direction in case of an East-West conflict involving the Soviet Union on the one side and NATO forces on the other.

A SWITCH

The Scandinavians were surprised because Kekkonen disclosed his plan in a major foreign speech rather than through diplomatic channels.

They were surprised further because Norway already is a member of NATO which is pledged to Western defense, and has given no sign she wishes to withdraw.

They were puzzled because recent tensions along the joint borders have been at a minimum. On the other hand, the venerable Kekkonen has been able to preserve his country's neutrality in part, at least, because of his ability to get along with the Russians.

Therefore, they wondered if his proposal possibly could have been a Soviet initiative.

The last real flap involving the Soviet Union and the Scandinavian states came in late October and early November, 1961.

BIG BOMB

In other one-two-three order, the Soviet Union denounced Norway and Denmark for aiding the military buildup of West Germany and endangering the peace of the Baltic, Sweden for underestimating the danger of a rearmed West Germany, summoned Kekkonen to a conference to consider the possibility of an attack by West Germany and the "Allied States" and exploded its biggest nuclear test bomb to date.

* * *

At about this same time also, Norway and the others were rejecting a Finnish proposal that the Baltic be declared a nuclear-free area.

Norway has refused either to permit storage of nuclear weapons or establishment of NATO bases on its soil. It was among the first to reject U.S. proposals for a multilateral nuclear force within NATO.

O'Hara's story is about a family of money-makers who have a fatally false hope of making a little dynasty in their own valley.

The scene is Swedish Haven, a small town in eastern Pennsylvania which the author writes about so often; it is near the county seat of Gibbsville, which O'Hara has created for many of his tales.

Four generations of Lockwood men are depicted.

Mostly this is the story of George, an investment banker who becomes a local millionaire and is almost respectable, not quite gentleman, not quite a first-rate scoundrel.

* * *

O'Hara's portrait of George Lockwood is a devastating picture of small cunning, small greed, small ambition. He shows you that George is a despicable character; but he has the narrator's skill to show you that George is to be pitied for his human blindness.

GOING TO MEET THE MAN. By James Baldwin. Dial. $4.95.

Baldwin as a novelist and playwright specializes in a high voltage prose tension which is designed to stir strong emotions often with race and sex as prominent themes of the narrative.

The same is true of this collection of eight short stories, three of which have not appeared before.

The title story contains the tortured night thoughts of a deputy sheriff in a Southern town, a beleaguered man who is breaking down under the persistence of the Civil Rights movement.

"Rockpile" is a brief scene in Harlem, demonstrating how the grinding environment of the ghetto can shatter the personal life of a Negro family.

There is no doubt but what Baldwin's talent for words is a major factor in the power of his stories. He creates words at high voltage because his theme is suffering; perhaps on a lesser theme the voltage would be lower.

He is a pragmatist in the world of combat, believing firmly in the idea that a professional soldier's duty is to follow orders and get to the target firstest with the mostest — and bestest.

LeMay is best known in these latter years as the acknowledged genius of the Strategic Air Command, who shipped that force into a world protectorate, and then as a Chief of Staff who fought to establish the principle that manned aircraft systems must be a part of our missile age.

As an account of a fighter's life, this is a prodigious, inspiring chronicle of a selfmade commander, a man of decision.

4.8 Million Increase in Japan Population

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government says that Japan's population reached 98,281,955 on Oct. 1, an increase of 4,860,000 or 5.2 per cent over 1960. It said there was an average 266 persons per one square kilometer.

What do two ballerinas speak of when they get together? Why "The Dance" of course. A reception-luncheon in the Birmingham Athletic Club following her talk at Birmingham's Town Hall Thursday, gave Dame Alicia Markova (right) and Mrs. Sixten Ehrling of Grosse Pointe a chance to shop-talk for awhile. Mrs. Ehrling was the prima ballerina of Sweden's Royal Ballet in Stockholm before coming to America.

Yule Mart Will Offer Gift Items

Birmingham branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will present a Christmas Greens Mart, Dec. 10 in the Birmingham Masonic Temple on Woodward Avenue.

* * *

Proceeds from the event which replaces the annual Christmas greens show, will aid the scholarship fund.

* * *

Mrs. P. N. Askounes is chairman for the affair which will have driftwood, cones, fresh greens, three sizes of wreaths, tree lights and package wrappings.

POMANDERS

The entrance will feature a tree trimmed with pomander balls which Mrs. James Hunter will sell.

* * *

With Mrs. Herbert Carr, many groups have made unusual plaques, decorative Christmas tree balls, card holders, candles, match cases, patio ash trays, linen cases and art objects.

* * *

Mrs. Maurice Smith and Mrs. Clayton Patterson will staff the Farm Kitchen where jellies, candy, cookies, baked goods and pecan nuts will be available.

* * *

In the white elephant booth will be found a member's complete collection of fine flower containers.

* * *

Heading other committees with Mrs. John Doerfner Jr. are Mrs. Charles Mason, Mrs. Richard Kaltz, Mrs. Richard Baird, Mrs. Clifford Ross and Mrs. Ralph Scheel.

* * *

Coffee will be served during the event which will open at 10 a.m. and close at 5 p.m.

To Show Movies

Mrs. Harry Ault, a Fashionette Club member, will show movies on Spain, Mexico and Cuba when the group meets Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Adah Shelly Library.

* * *

Mrs. Charles Brown will lead the discussion period.

Pontiac Press Photo

Mrs. J. P. McConkie (left) and Mrs. James Hunter, both of Birmingham, decide it isn't easy to price the unusual articles to be sold at the Christmas Greens Mart, Dec. 10, in the new Birmingham Masonic Temple. Proceeds from the event, a departure from the annual Christmas Greens show, sponsored by Birmingham branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, will aid the scholarship fund.

Women's

Famous Dancer Is Town Hall Speaker

By JEANNE NELSON

Dame Alicia Markova, director of the Metropolitan Opera Ballet Company stood before a packed audience Thursday at Birmingham Town Hall and talked of the years she has spent in ballet.

Chic in a severe black sheer wool tunic dress, the artist moved with such grace that her talk seemed almost to be a part of "The Dance."

* * *

In her charming British accent, the artist told of the glamour, excitement, laboriousness and frustrations involved in a ballet career.

Recalling how she started at the age of 14 with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, she related tales of the stringent rehearsals and lessons under the famed Diaghilev.

DIFFERENT NOW

Slim and elegant, Dame Alicia wondered aloud at the young people of today who are more interested in the job than the art.

"As in the other arts, music, writing, etc., one must make it a way of life rather than just an occupation," said the noted ballerina.

* * *

Her amusing descriptions of modern-day rehearsals at the Met brought appreciative laughter from her audience. In these days of unions, coffee breaks and portal-to-portal pay, working hours can become complicated.

"But it's never dull, of that you can be sure," laughs the former prima ballerina.

One year, her company was asked to perform for the Thanksgiving parade in New York. The only rehearsal time was the evening before and outside in the street!

A strange array of fur coats, boots and funny-looking hats didn't hamper this practice which lasted until the morning hours.

WHERE'S HOME?

She remarked that the serious study of ballet should begin at about age eight or nine and that the teacher, not the parents, should judge whether the child has the potential talent for such a career.

* * *

Following her talk in the Birmingham Theater, the speaker was whisked away to the Birmingham Athletic Club for a luncheon.

* * *

Career Gals Set Holiday Pace Early

Mrs. Gertrude Harned's narration of colored slides of her trip to the Holy Land brought vivid realization of the meaning of Christmas.

* * *

TELLS COMMITTEES

Mrs. Roland Zilka directed a Christmas carol sing. Each member brought a gift to be taken to the Pontiac State Hospital.

Churchwomen Set Their Holiday Tea

Mrs. John D. Eldon Jr. of South Boulevard will host the traditional Christmas Tea for the Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Stephen's Church.

* * *

* * *

Mrs. Melvin Newton introduced Mrs. George Morrow who told the story, "A Chaparral Christmas" by O. Henry and read the poem, "Ex Ore Infantium" by Francis Thompson.

Wilma Webb was the cohostess.

Clergyman's Reasons

He Has Right to Refuse

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We took our daughter and her boyfriend to our minister's and asked him to marry them right away.

Our daughter is 16 and this kid is 17. It was a "have - to" case, but that's beside the point. The minister talked to the kids separately and then he came out and told us that he wouldn't marry them.

ABBY

Now this man calls himself an EPISCOPALIAN minister! His excuse was that he didn't think such a marriage would last!

Well, we got another minister to marry those kids, but I want to know if it isn't the DUTY of a clergyman to perform a marriage ceremony when he's asked to?

Since when is HIS opinion on how long the marriage will last important?

MOTHER OF THE GIRL

DEAR MOTHER: I don't know where "duty" ends and conscience begins in a case of this kind.

But if a clergyman feels that the marriage is doomed to failure, or both parties are not equally willing, I should think it is his privilege to refuse the blessings of the church to such a union.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Was I wrong to tell my mother-in-law that she shouldn't wear so many charm bracelets all at once?

She has six charm bracelets loaded with huge charms, and she wears them constantly. They make so much noise, it is very embarrassing.

Even though the charms are beautiful, individually, they look so showy and overdone when they're all worn together. She became very angry with me when I mentioned this to her.

Was I wrong? I assure you I did it with the best of intentions in a very respectful way.

IN THE DOGHOUSE

DEAR IN: I happen to agree with you. Moderation is essential to good taste in everything. But there is no "respectful" way to volunteer criticism of this kind. (Restraint also has its charm.)

Christmas of the Past Recreated in Museum

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Just as the worst of Victorian furniture was overelaborate, so were their Christmas decorations. People in that period seem to have had a horror of an uncovered or uncluttered space.

But sometimes the effect can be delightful as is the case with the Christmas show at Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

* * *

Opening today, and continuing through Jan. 2, the special exhibit displays the type of decorations our forefathers used — from the simple Colonial days up through the end of the 19th century.

Earlier this year, the Museum had sponsored a series of lectures on "Living with Antiques" and had set up period rooms as examples. The staff, using these same rooms, decorated each in its appropriate manner.

DESIGN IN GREEN

Cedar roping was used in great profusion in Victorian days, according to Godey's Lady's Book and Harper's Magazine, two of the authorities used in the research.

Remember that houses at that time did not have central heat and these greens would not have dried out to become a fire hazard.

* * *

It is an effective means of decorating and could be easily adapted to outdoor use. A mammoth star of cedar roping would look splendid on a white brick wall. And if you fireproof your greens, you could use a small amount like this indoors.

In addition to the rooms, there are displays of early Christmas cards, antique ornaments and recipes for Christmas sweets of a bygone era.

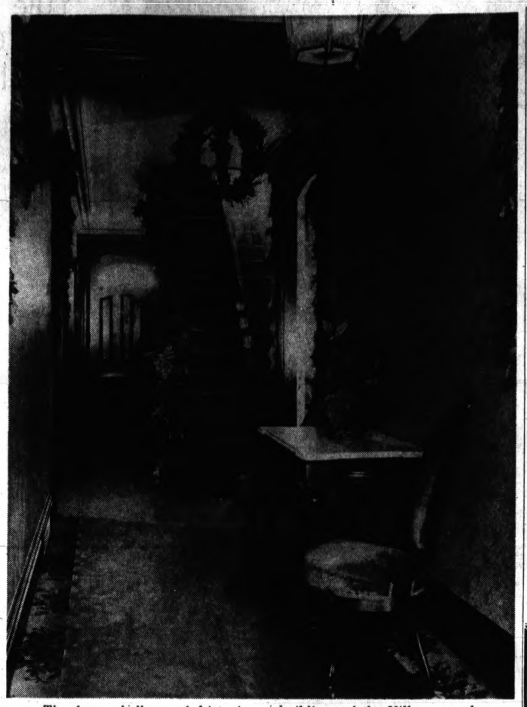
RIP VAN WINKLE

During the week of Dec. 27, the Village Repertory Company will present nightly performances of "Rip Van Winkle" in the Henry Ford Museum theater.

This is the famous Joseph Jefferson adaptation which he starred in from 1865 to 1895.

* * *

The Museum and Village are open the year around (except Christmas Day). Winter visiting hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily for the Village; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and to 6 p.m. on weekends for the Museum.



The lower hallway of historic Webster House at Greenfield Village has been decorated in authentic late 19th century style with cedar roping and poinsettias. Several of the historic homes and buildings of the Village are decorated in accord with their period during the Christmas at Greenfield Village program, today through Jan. 2.

First Ph.D. Gives Talk

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — The first woman to receive a Ph.D. from the University of South Carolina has scored another first here.

Dr. Dera Dry Parkinson of Albermarle, N.C., returned to the campus as the first woman ever invited to address the USC chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at its annual banquet.

Holder of five college degrees, Dr. Parkinson received her doctorate in psychology here in 1927. She is widely known as an educator, lecturer, author, parliamentarian, scholar and researcher.

Marble Game Is Mama's Helper

To amuse the youngsters on a bad weather day, cut a large circle of cardboard. Draw stars around it about two inches from the edge, making five stars to the circle. Then put one star in the center.

Number each star, 5, 10, 15 and so on. Let the youngsters shoot marbles at the stars. The first to get 100 points is the winner.

Attract the Kids

Revamp the Comics

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

At the last meeting of the newspaper publishers in New York, he warned that the comic pages need to be revamped.

At the present time, he said, 72 per cent of all comic strip readers are adults.

That is bad news for newspapers!

They relish this new accomplishment.

* * *

"Mommy," asked a 7-year-old recently, "What can I read?"

It was late afternoon and the paper boy had just tossed the evening paper on the front porch.

Alas, there wasn't a single comic strip on the entire page that was slanted to grade schoolers.

"But, Dr. Crane," some of you may protest, "don't we have several good child comics today?"

That all depends on how you employ that word "child."

SEVERAL

True enough, there are several humorous comics that contain child characters.

Children below the teens don't enjoy the wisecracking comics that make adults laugh.

For example, puns and other twists of words leave them cold, though Mamma may laugh and Daddy may chuckle.

But the comic page is the "one and only" avenue by which grade school youngsters will enter upon regular newspaper reading.

This vital role of helping change America into a reading nation, is one of the major obligations of newspapers.

But it is a 2-way problem, for the editors can revamp the comic pages but you parents should then encourage your youngsters to read these comics.

'Fantasticks' Plays Again

"The Fantasticks" will be shown for the second time tonight and again on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre of Oakland University.

Presented by the Meadow Brook Theatre Guild, the play is a variation of the boy-meets-girl theme. It is done with a minimum of scenery and an effective use of lighting.

Polly's Pointers

Useful Tree Stand

DEAR POLLY—I have a good idea for making one's own Christmas tree stand. Take an old agitator from a worn-out washing machine, cut it down about two inches and drill three holes in the stem for the screws to hold the tree.

* * *

DEAR POLLY — To give new life to dark kid gloves, rub them with a little stiffly beaten egg white. Apply with a soft cloth and let dry before wearing. — ANITA

DEAR POLLY —I am a new knitter and when I did my first sweater everything went smoothly until I started to sew the knitted pieces together. The edges would roll away from each other and the pieces were hard to hold. I decided to "baste" the edges together with the knitting needle I had used to make the ribbing.

I ran a needle through both knitted pieces as they were to be sewn together, about ¼-to-½-inch from the edges, and I had something firm to hold on to while I stitched the pieces together.

This did not damage the stitches in the pieces but I was careful not to snag them. This worked beautifully and I finished assembling my sweater in record time.—JAN

DEAR POLLY — I made attractive stamp and evelope moisteners for the desks in our office by inserting circles cut from sponges into the attractively colored caps from hair spray cans and then added water as needed. Have your friends save the caps for you and sponges can be purchased in many colors to match or contrast with the caps. These are nice for small gifts or bazaar items. —MRS. C. H. F.

Food Preparation for Holidays

Sex and College Student—3

An Interchange Between Generations

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Inaugurating a campus forum to raise and discuss the new moral questions facing today's college students was the first act performed by D.R. Edward J. Blaustein, new president of Bennington College. Declaring that college authorities had confused discussing moral values on them, he said:

* * *

"The result has been the creation of a moral vacuum on college campuses. The need is not for moral dogma but for moral dialogue between students and faculties."

That's a real grownup talking. And I hope that the parents of Bennington students are properly grateful that their daughters are now in communication with one.

The other day, by declaring that college students should be required to make their own sex decisions, I raised this question. With their inexperience, how can they make wise sex decisions? The answer is Dr. Blaustein's answer — the campus forum, if there is open dialogue between the young people and the older people of the campus.

There should be questions, argument, information—a passionate and real interchange between the generations. And not only on the new problems of sex morality posed by contraceptives' removal of the old threat of unwanted pregnancy but on all those moral problems arising out of the collapse of our grandparents' morality under the pressures of change.

There is that older morality's change—reservations, for example, toward Negro civil rights, it's dependence on war to resolve quarrels with other nations, its antique conviction that any little boy, no matter how deprived, can become the president of the United Sataes if he tries hard enough.

Some of the old moral notions just don't work any more. Illiterate children cannot become presidents, no matter how hard they try. Negroes are headed for first-class citizenship, And as thermo-nuclear weapons make idiotic the old morality's acceptance of war as solution to international quarrels, so do contraceptives make idiotic the old threat of unwanted pregnancy to get intelligent sex behavior from children.

New reasons are needed to make sex responsibility and all other forms of it sensible to young people. I trust that other college authorities still asleep to this truth will follow the brilliantly wide-awake lead of Dr. Blaustein.

As it is now, no moral dialogue exists between us and the youngsters, either at home or at college. As a result, we parents are Old Fogies to them and their teachers "dehumanized" cogs in education machinery.

* * *

How could it be otherwise? Why should they give a hoot about our rules and regulations, permitting them as we do to regard us as a bunch of runaway Rip Van Winkles snoring through dreams of the past while the world around us changes? Thank God Dr. Blaustein has refused to permit any such misinterpretation of himself.

Job Is Old but Name's Modernized

"In the old days it was called 'junkdealer' but now you have to get fancy," says Mrs. Sachs, who has been in the business for 10 years.

* * *

With her two brothers, she helps run the business started by their father more than 40 years ago. Her work consists mainly of weighing the merchandise as it comes in.

She had to learn to recognize different metals in order to grade and buy them. Right now she is combining her job with a new hobby—junk yard sculpture.

She has learned to weld, braise and solder, and one of her works was exhibited at an art show here.

Special Sauce Is Secret of This Dish

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

This is a busy season for homemakers. They not only have their usual duties, but all the added preparation for Christmas. It's fun, but time consuming.

Any dish that can go in the oven is welcome and stuffed peppers fall in that category.

Making the sauce should not take too long because it can simmer while you're doing other things.

Don't, says our cook, Mrs. Earl Oltesvig, "get lazy and put catsup on top as I did once, as it just isn't the same."

Mrs. Oltesvig is active in church and civic affairs.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS
By Mrs. Earl Oltesvig

Wash six green sweet peppers; cut large ones in half lengthwise. Remove a slice from stem end of small ones. Remove seeds and cut away seed parts, leaving a clean shell.

Place in boiling salted water and boil five to eight minutes, or until almost tender. Drain.

Stuff each pepper or half as directed. Place in shallow baking dish and bake 25 to 30 minutes in 375-degree oven.

Stuffing

1 pound ground beef
1 tablespoon grated onion
⅓ cup finely chopped celery
1½ cups cooked rice
Salt and pepper
Creole sauce*

Brown beef slightly, stirring to keep meat in separate particles. If meat is lean, add a little fat. Add onion and celery and cook until vegetables are soft. Add rice and season to taste.

Creole Sauce

3 tablespoons fat
½ cup finely chopped green pepper
½ cup finely chopped onion
1 clove garlic, finely chopped
1½ cups canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon sugar
⅛ teaspoon ground cloves
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Heat fat in a heavy skillet. Add green pepper, onion and garlic. Simmer until vegetables are soft, but not brown. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 40-50 minutes, or until thick.

Her Card File Is Unusual

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—It all started 27 years ago when Mrs. Virgil Basnett picked up some picture postcards of mountains when she made her first trip to Colorado. Now it takes a special room in her house to hold her collection of close to 100,000 postcards.

* * *

Boxes stacked to the ceiling and 93 scrapbooks contain cards from every state and most foreign countries. Her California cards number over 2,600, and she has 2,376 from her native state of Kansas.

FILED BY STATE

To keep her vast collection in order, Mrs. Basnett has carefully filed the cards by state, then by city. All are logged in an immense book so she has no trouble finding one particular card.

She recently added over 850 postcards to her collection after a tour which included New York City and the World's Fair.

Cluster Puzzles Use New Twist

A Chicago firm has come up with a twist on the familiar jigsaw puzzle. One puzzle in a series, for example, is made up of 34 animal shapes. The trick is to fit the animals, by their shapes alone, into the one and only interlocking arrangement.

Don't expect the shape of the puzzle when completed to be rectangular like a regular jigsaw puzzle. You'll have a complete, recognizable picture, but it will be cluster-shaped.

Poverty War Progress—5

Project Head Start Wins Public Favor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a five-part series.)

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One phase of the war against poverty has won ardent public approval.

It's called "Project Head Start." Its purpose is to give a fighting chance to children who otherwise would start school under hopeless handicaps.

UPI reporters, conducting a nationwide survey of achievements and failures in the year-old poverty war, heard high praise for Head Start in nearly every section of the country.

The only exceptions were some areas of the deep South, where the project has been involved in controversy stemming from the nonsegregation policies enforced by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

About 560,000 children were enrolled during the past summer in 10,000 Head Start centers across the nation.

Most of them came from homes so blighted by poverty that they had never colored with crayons, listened to a story, visited a zoo or enjoyed any of the other preschool learning experiences which middle-class children take for granted.

In some instances, the growth of their minds had been so stunted by deprivation and neglect that they had speaking vocabularies of less than 100 words.

For eight weeks, they received attention rarely accorded to children of poverty.

Doctors checked their health and gave them immunization shots. Dentists examined their teeth. Other specialists tested their sight and hearing. Specially trained teachers led them gently into a strange new world of books and classroom activity.

NOURISHING LUNCH

Each day, they got a nourishing lunch — itself a novel experience for many of them.

Even the strongest boosters of Head Start do not contend that eight weeks of intensive help could enable these youngsters to begin kindergarten or first grade on a par with children who had four or five years of tender loving care.

The most expected was that Head Start classes would reduce the gap a little bit — and give the poor kids an uphill chance to make the grade in school.

Philadelphia — "A tremendous success."

St. Louis — "This program was very favorably received and parents whose children took part in it were very happy with the results."

Ohio — 21,000 children were enrolled in 94 communities throughout the state. Reaction was very favorable.

★ ★ ★

Vermont — "Extremely successful . . . has persuaded many small communiteis to start kindergartens and day-care centers year-round."

From Mobile, Ala., however, came the report that "the project has left hard feelings among both whites and Negroes."

★ ★ ★

OEO held up funds for the Mobile project on grounds that local officials had not tried hard enough to desegregate the teaching staff.

Head Start projects in Baton Rouge, La., and Gainesville, Fla., were canceled on similar grounds, with similar local repercussions.

Mississippi was the scene of the sharpest controversy. Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., charged that an organization called the Child Development Group, which conducted 75 Head Start centers from a headquarters at Mt. Beulah, Miss., was a "front" for militant civil rgihts groups.

He said Head Start funds were used to pay bail for demonstrators and otherwise underwrite desegregation activities.

Shriver acknowledged, after an OEO investigation, that some funds had been "misused." But he added:

MISSISSIPPI CHILDREN

"Because of this program, 5,280 Mississippi children received education, medical care, social welfare services and in some cases clothing, the like of which they had never before enjoyed."

At his behest OEO will expand the program during the current fiscal year to include some 900,000 to one million children. About half of them will be "repeats" from last summer getting another eight weeks of help. At least 300,000 will be new enrollees for eight-week summer courses.

And about 100,000 will be enrolled in year-round programs, rather than for just eight weeks in the summer.

Ultimately, the President hopes all children enrolled for Head Start will get a full year of preschool assistance.

Another OEO program for which UPI reporters heard much praise is the domestic version of the Peace Corps known as "Volunteers in Service to America" or "VISTA."

VISTA volunteers go into urban slums and backwoods communities to perform the same kinds of service that Peace Corpsmen do in undeveloped countries abroad.

★ ★ ★

And like members of the Peace Corps, they live at the same level of subsistence as the people they're working among.

No VISTA volunteer commutes from a comfortable suburb to put in eight hours of "good works" in a poverty stricken neighborhood. He lives there 24 hours a day.

The only complaint UPI reporters heard about VISTA volunteers is that there aren't enough of them. Communities all across the country are asking for more of these self-denying people.

VISTA had originally hoped to have 5,000 volunteers in the field by this time. But it has so far managed to enroll and train only about 2,000. It is now shooting for a strength of 4,000 by next June.

OTHER PROGRAMS

There are several other anti-poverty programs which have not yet progressed to the point where they are having any noticeable impact or stirring up much reaction, pro or con.

In this category is the new program of free legal services for the poor, dispensed through neighborhood law offices; the "Foster Grandparents Program" under which men and women 60 years of age or older are hired to work in hospitals, orphanages, receiving homes and other institutions where children are apt to be deprived of parental love and companionship; the work-study program under which college students are helped to work their way through school; and "Project Upward Bound" under which 17 colleges are experimenting with a variety of approaches to the problem of stimulating poor youths to finish high school and go on to college.

The UPI survey was deliberately focused on the grass roots. It was not designed to find out what's being said for or against the poverty program in Washington.

For that reason, neither the OEO on one hand nor its critics in Congress on the other were invited to comment on the findings in advance of publication.

To summarize what has been reported in this five-part series: Newsmen in all parts of the country took an objective look at the war against poverty as it is actually being waged in the field.

They found that in this war, as in all others, there are heroes and villains; victories and defeats; sparkling success stories and smelly scandals.

A large number, perhaps the majority, of American communities, are not yet ready to render an over-all judgment on this $1.5 billion a year national undertaking.

They're still waiting to see how it goes when the make-ready period is past, talk becomes action and the battle against poverty is joined in earnest.

Say Weather Affected by the Rockies

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — If the Rocky Mountains were removed from earth's surface, the world's weather would be affected.

★ ★ ★

How wiping the Rockies off the map would change the weather, however, is not known. This vivid illustration of how little is understood about the way mountains or oceans affect worldwide climate was reported to the White House Conference on International Cooperation here.

It shows the need for a "big experiment," Asst. Sec. of Commerce Dr. Herbert Hollomon said. He noted that meteorologists are now at the point where their mathematical models of the world's weather could include computer calculations on the effect of eliminating the Rocky Mountains.

This is the reason the "big experiment" of discovering exactly how earth's atmosphere behaves so that future weather can be accurately predicted is necessary now.

★ ★ ★

The world's weather picture must be taken on a global scale for at least several months to complete such an experiment, now being planned as the World Weather Watch.

Urge Industry Build Shelters for Disasters

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Private industry should work with the U.S. government to develop lightweight, compact, prepackaged emergency shelters and hospitals to help disaster - stricken areas all over the world.

★ ★

Manufacturers were also urged to develop weather-resistant packages and lightweight shipping containers for relief supplies, the Disaster Relief Committee reported at the White House Conference on International Cooperation.

In 1964, the U.S. provided $22.5 million in assistance to people in 41 nations who suffered from 62 natural or man-made disasters. A total of 7,922,345 people were victims of these disasters, of which 11,428 persons died.

Increasing population and concentration of people in cities and industrial sites have placed more and more people in the path of natural catastrophes such as floods, droughts, fires, hurricanes and earthquakes and man-made disasters such as violence, riots, fires and epidemics.

Federal Building Loses Power for Three Hours

DETROIT (AP) — Electric power was knocked out at the Federal Building for three hours Thursday when a workman, drilling a hole for an air conditioning unit, struck a water main line. Water leaked into the transformer room, and federal officials ordered the power shut off to avoid permanent damage to the power unit. Service was restored by late afternoon.

Hunt Leads to 3rd Murder

British Clerk Accused in Strange Episode

Brady is now accused of the slayings of three young people —Edward Evans, 17, Lesley Ann Downey, 10, and John Kilbride, 12.

Two of the victims — the Downey girl and Kilbride — were found buried in shallow graves on a remote mountainside, since labeled "the murder moor."

Hundreds of police and volunteers on foot, with Royal Air Force planes flying reconnaissance for any signs of recent digging, covered hundreds of square miles of the hugh area before snow and cold forced postponement of the search.

* * *

Police would not say whether they had any specific idea of what they were looking for, but searchers were believed to be working from photographs of the moor found during their inquiry into the fate of a number of children missing from the Manchester area.

ALSO ACCUSED

Brady's girlfriend, Myra Hindley, 23, previously charged with the murder of the Downey girl, also was accused of the Evans slaying when they were arraigned yesterday.

She is charged additionally with harboring Brady while knowing that he had killed Kilbride.

Police said the couple had denied the charges.

The couple is scheduled to appear in court again Monday for a hearing on one or more of the charges against them.

* * *

Kilbride, the subject of yesterday's arraignment, disappeared in November 1963, while on his way home from a movie. His body was unearthed on Oct. 21 a few hours after Brady and Miss Hindley had been charged with murdering Miss Downey whose naked body had been found in a nearby grave five days earlier.

The body of Evans was found in the closet of a locked bedroom in a house in this town on Oct. 7.

Adult Classes Sign Up Next Week at PCH

Registration for the winter term of Pontiac adult education classes will begin Monday and continue through Thursday at Pontiac Central High School, 250 W. Huron.

Roy M. Gallipo, supervisor of the Adult Education Office, said registration hours will be from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. and again from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

"It is advisable to register during the set times," Gallipo said, "so that it can be determined if enough interest is shown for the class or classes desired."

The supervisor said any group of 12 or more may request the office to organize a particular course.

Classes will begin the week of Jan. 3, 1965, with the exception of driver education for persons over 18, which begins at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Mother Charged With Murder of 5

HONOLULU (AP) — The Oahu grand jury returned a first degree murder indictment Thursday against Margaret Young, 38, accused of drowning her five children Nov. 22.

* * *

Life imprisonment is the maximum penalty for first degree murder in Hawaii.

Mrs. Young is the wife of Air Force Capt. James Young, a native of San Antonio, Tex. Police say she drowned their five children in the bathtub of their home in Aiea, Hawaii. She is being held without bail.

French Women Get No Special Vote Treatment Despite Numerical Edge

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — More than half the French voters are women, but the candidates haven't given them any special recognition in the campaign for Sunday's presidential election.

The women digest the same political arguments cooked up for the men — the economic situation, a united Europe, the atomic bomb. And the candidates' wifes have been pretty much in the background.

* * *

In their eyes, he represents stability and security. He ended the war in Algeria, bringing peace to France for the first time since 1939. He speaks with authority, and French women like to be reassured.

LEADING RIVAL

Jean Lecanuet, 45, the handsome senator who is a leading rival, has observed: "I don't want to make any Gaullist propaganda but I must recognize that women love de Gaulle. They are touched by his presence, and the uniform helps."

* * *

Lecanuet, occasionally billed as the "French Kennedy," is sometimes accompanied on trips by his wife and daughter, Francoise, 19. Mrs. Lecanuet often meets with women's groups, but says "I don't do any politicking on my own."

His headquarters had a survey made of what interested women most, and found heading the list were housing, schools, hospitals and nurseries for working women's children. But he has made no great effort to stress these points to appeal for women's votes.

Francois Mitterrand, supported by Communists and Socialists, created a one-day stir early in the campaign with an offhand remark that he favored birth control.

Two other candidates quickly announced they favored it too. Raymond Marcellin, de Gaulle's minister of health, said the government has been considering it. Lecanuet, who formerly was president of the Catholic Popular Republican Movement, went only so far as to say it should be discussed.

De Gaulle is not stepping outside the Elysee Palace for the campaign, and even if he did Mrs. de Gaulle would not go with him. During his earlier tours of the French provinces, she often went along but kept in the background. She stayed inside the automobile, or slipped in the side door of government buildings where they were to spend the night.

In his first campaign speech Tuesday night, de Gaulle mentioned that he had given women the right to vote for the first time in 1945, and claimed to have instituted social security and the family allocation system. Other candidates say social security, under another name, dates back to 1933.

* * *

Mrs. Mitterrand says, "I don't like politics, but I force myself into it." She attended one leftist meeting for women in Paris, but does not accompany her husband on tour.

About 54 per cent of the 82 million voters are women.

No Handicap for New Driver

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Johnny Kemp, 16, overcame the obstacle of his driver's test just as he has overcome all the other problems inherent to a person with no arms or legs.

"He worked hard and followed instructions carefully," said his driving teacher.

Johnny, the 1960 Easter Seal poster boy, was born without arms or legs and has learned to drive with artificial limbs.

He scored 96 out of a possible 100 points on his test Wednesday.

His driving instructor, Kenneth Sparrow, said young Kemp learned quickly. "He is one of the best students I've ever had in the several hundred I've taught to drive," Sparrow said.

Cancer Claims NASA Deputy

Space Chief, Veep Pay High Tributes

"I hope," he wrote recently, "that I may have the good fortune to witness the first landing of men on the moon within a few years."

★ ★ ★

The wish will go unfulfilled.

Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration died Thursday night of cancer. He was 67.

'TRULY GREAT MAN'

Dryden's boss, NASA Administrator James E. Webb, said "scientific, engineering and administrative competence and his qualities of humanity and leadership mark him as one of the truly great men" in the conquest of air and space.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who heads the National Aeronautics and Space Council, said: "So much of what this nation has been able to do in aeronautics and space over the past 40 years we owe to the creative science and the confidence, skillful leadership of this great public servant."

★ ★ ★

Dryden was NASA's first deputy administrator, taking the post when the civilian agency was formed in 1958. He previously had been director of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics and associate director of the Bureau of Standards which he joined in 1918.

He was also an ordained Methodist minister, and preached in Washington's Calvary Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

Dryden made some of this country's earliest studies on airfoil characteristics near the speed of sound and his interest remained in this field.

"The airplane and I grew up together," he once said.

5 From Area to Perform in Yule Concert

Five Pontiac area residents will take part in a performance of Handel's "Messiah," in Detroit's Masonic Temple Auditorium at 8 p.m. Dec. 12.

Can Extend Duty in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland has the authority to extend tours of duty for U.S. servicemen in Viet Nam "for any length of time if he requires it for combat necessity," the Defense Department said today.

But, a spokesman added, the commander of U.S. forces has said that "his policy is not to exceed 30 days" of added duty in Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

The question arose out of reports by some parents of Army personnel that their sons had written that they had been ordered to stay on for three extra months.

The usual tour in Viet Nam for combat personnel is one year, but some voluntarily extend their service beyond that time.

The Navy and Marine Corps earlier this year ordered four months' extension of active duty for personnel scheduled to retire, but this did not mean expansion of duty in Viet Nam.

30 Pieces of Silver

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A woman's will filed in Superior Court includes a bequest reading, "to my husband I bequeath 30 pieces of silver in the form of 30 United States dimes." The man will not collect the bequest. He died before his wife.

BIG STICK — Ens. Theodore Roosevelt IV carries a big stick as part of his training at Navy's Underwater Demolition Team school in California. He is a great-grandson of President Theodore Roosevelt.

'Phantom' Chopping Getting to Be Habit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state claims stealthy midnight woodsmen, using power saws that make Paul Bunyan seem a piker, are felling the trees lining Southern California's freeways — usually leaving clear, unobstructed views of billboards.

And the state has an ax to grind with the phantom woodcutters.

★ ★ ★

"We used to have only one case of this a year. Lately we've been getting a rash — an epidemic," he said Thursday.

COMPANY BENEFIT

Telford said that four out of five times, "the obvious beneficiary was a billboard company."

The billboard companies, however, disagree.

Retorted one executive: "We have never cut down any trees. Occasionally, with permission, we have topped some trees. We feel the trees have been cut with the intent to cause problems for us."

Asked whom he had in mind, he replied: "Individuals who absolutely hate us, a minority with a lot of idiosyncracies who will do anything to create a disturbance and have the papers come out and blast the billboard companies."

'DO-GOODERS'

Telford said the tree-cutting epidemic started last May 17.

He gave these examples:

Sept. 24 — Four 20-year-old Pepper trees along the Ventura freeway were felled, benefitting signs for a housing development.

Oct. 15 — A 25-foot elm tree was felled near the Long Beach freeway, benefitting an automobile sales sign.

BETTER EXPOSURE

Nov. 9 — Birch and elm trees were felled near the Santa Ana freeway, again giving a billboard better exposure.

The severed trees are left at the scene, the engineer said.

"We're not quite sure what to do," he said. "Obviously we can't stake out crews at night to try to catch these gremlins. They ought to be ashamed of this."

CMU Investigation to Move to Lansing

LANSING (AP) — The final hearing of a Senate committee investigating Central Michigan University was announced Thursday for Dec. 10 in Lansing. Principal witness will be CMU President Judson Foust. The committee, headed by Sen. Edward Robinson, D-Dearborn, is looking into faculty-administration relationships.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Age, Pressure Cause Digestive Illness

Q—What causes diverticulosis, —or is it diverticulitis? Is there any treatment besides operation?

BRANDSTADT

They are very common in the large bowel of persons who are over 40 and their number increases with age.

Age and undue pressure in the digestive tract are the only known causative factors.

* * *

By increasing the pressure in the bowel, strong purgatives and irritating (soap suds) enemas will aggravate this condition.

BECOME INFLAMED

When the outpouchings, or diverticulae, become inflamed the condition is called diverticulitis.

When they are not inflamed they usually cause no symptoms and may be discovered as an incidental finding when X rays of the colon are made.

In the treatment of diverticulitis, which is often mistaken for appendicitis, bed rest, a bland diet and, in some cases, antibiotics are the first line of defense.

* * *

BLAND DIET

The bland diet recommended, unlike that for ulcerative colitis which should contain no vegetables or fruit, should contain a large amount of cooked vegetables and fruit but no bran, corn or tough skins, such as those of apples and tomatoes.

If the condition becomes chronic it may be necessary to remove the lower segment of the colon (sigmoid) as this is the area in which the greatest involvement usually occurs.

Q — What is fibrosis of the bone? Is there a cure for it?

IFRST NOTICEABLE

It is usually first recognized when a person is between 8 and 20.

This, too, usually produces no symptoms but there may be slight pain on pressure over the tumor.

If X ray shows that, at the tumor site, the bone is weakened and in danger of breaking under a moderate strain, it is best to have the tumor scraped out and replaced with bone chips, which will reinforce the weakened bone.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Sukarno Policy Reappraisal Appears in Works

Indonesian Split With Peking Has Widened

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The split between Indonesia and Communist China has widened, and President Sukarno appears to be seriously reappraising his Peking-oriented foreign policy.

Antagonism between the two countries developed after the attempted coup Oct. 1, which the Indonesian army's leaders say was planned and directed by the pro-Peking Indonesian Communist party, the PKI.

* * *

For weeks Sukarno stubbornly resisted demands from the army and anti-Communist organizations to reshape his foreign policy. Now it seems that Sukarno has conceded.

This was indicated Thursday by first Deputy Premier Subandrio, the foreign minister, who usually speaks for Sukarno, in an interview with the army newspaper Berita Yuda.

HAD BEEN INFLUENCED

He said that because of pressure from the PKI, Indonesia's foreign policy had been influenced by the Chinese position in Peking's dispute with Moscow.

Now that the PKI has been practically eliminated from the scene, Subandrio continued, he is free to carry out a foreign policy based on "realism."

He said: "In the past, in the struggle against necolim (neo-colonialism, colonialism and imperialism), our foreign policy was influenced by the existence of ideological conflicts of one Communist party with the other. At present we are free from that.

"I obviously have the freedom now not to be entangled with the conflicts of Communist countries, whereas previously our PKI was affected by that.

THEIR OWN BUSINESS

"Their conflict is their own business. I will not participate in it."

Diplomatic observers were stunned at the change in Subandrio's approach to foreign policy. Until Oct. 1 both he and Sukarno were full of admiration for Communist China and the PKI.

* * *

Subandrio said he and Sukarno tried hard to avoid a crisis with China. He blamed Peking for the deterioration of relations.

DOMESTIC AFFAIR

"We (Indonesians) may have differences," he said, "but this is Indonesia's domestic affair, and outsiders should not interfere and should not take sides. We do not permit the People's Republic of China to do so."

Subandrio said that Indonesia with or without China will continue and even increase its anti-Necolim policy. He said it would even carry it out better now that it is not committed to Peking.

* * *

However, political observers expressed doubt that Indonesia could do this unless it mends its differences with other African and Asian countries, notably those belonging to the non-aligned bloc.

Sukarno had rejected non-alignment and committed Indonesia to Peking's hard line opposing the peaceful coexistence advocated by the non-aligned countries and the Soviet Union.

* * *

Political observers say now that Indonesia has parted with Peking, it is isolated in the world of international politics and will have to look for new friends.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: An air wave.

NEEDED: Cardboard tube, paper, glue, a candle flame, and two blocks of wood.

DO THIS: Make a cone from the paper and glue it on the cardboard tube as shown. Place the piece of paper over the other end of the tube and hold it with a rubber band. (Tissue paper is good for this experiment.)

Point the cone toward the candle flame and clap the boards together at the other end of the tube.

The air wave created as the boards come together will come through the tube and may be seen to move the candle flame at the other end.

HERE'S WHY: If we do not cover the back end of the tube a stream of air created by the blocks as they come together will travel through the tube and blow out the candle flame.

We do not want the stream; we simply want a wave. The wave here is very similar to a sound wave and travels at the speed of sound through the tube.

NEXT WEEK: The Rising Bubble.

A collection of the "Science For You" experiments is in book form under the name "Science Circus." It is on sale in book stores, or may be ordered from Bob Brown, the author, care of The Pontiac Press.

State Tells Ohio Not to Try Repeat of 1835 Land Deal

LOST PENSINULA (AP) — Michigan officials with long memories warned the State of Ohio Thursday that it can't get away with a repeat of its performance of 1835.

It was about that time that "Toledo was wrongfully wrested from Michigan, then a voiceless territory, by a strong, established state," said Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

★ ★ ★

The so-called "Toledo War" of 1835 resulted in Michigan's loss of the "Toledo Strip"—a 400-square-mile piece of land stretching from the Indiana border to Lake Erie. As a consolation prize, Michigan got much of the Upper Peninsula.

NORTH OF TOLEDO

The Lost Peninsula juts north from the city limits of Toledo into Lake Erie. About a square mile at the northern end of the finger of land belongs to Michigan. It's cut off from the rest of its home state and the only way a Michigan resident can get there on an overland route is to drive south into Ohio, around a bay and back north into Michigan.

Toledo, searching for recreational facilities, has cast covetous eyes at the Michigan township in recent months.

"So far as my office is concerned," Kelley said, "not an inch of this peninsula will be ceded to any other state, or to any municipality—of another state."

Toledo officials have been thinking of buying a partially completed marina on the Michigan side of the line as a recreational facility.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION

Kelley, however, said he did not think it would be possible without a vote of the people, legislative action or congressional approval—"or possibly all three."

"This peninsula has never been 'lost' to our state...it is an integral part of Michigan," he added.

Kelley produced a letter from the State Department of Education saying the loss of the isolated township would reduce the equalized valuation of the Mason Consolidated School District by $346,302.

The letter from Roger Boline, consultant for administrative services to the department, also said the loss would reduce the bonding power of Monroe Community College District by some $4,000 and "might cause difficulty in the legality of (a pending) bond issue."

State Attorney Nicholas Olds steered the conversation to a border dispute that has never been settled: where in Lake Erie do Michigan waters begin and Ohio waters end?

★ ★ ★

"Not only do we have the possibility of disputes over mineral and oil rights, but also a question of jurisdiction over fishermen and law violations or accidents on the lake," he said.

★

Kelley said he intended to discuss the problem with Ohio Atty. Gen. William Saxby at a regional conference of attorneys general in Detroit next week.

★

He and Ohio Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., D-Toledo, agreed that both states probably could settle the dispute peacefully through boundary commissions.

LINES OPEN

They agreed to "keep lines of communication open.

Involved are some 195 square miles of Lake Erie, Olds said. He cited two Ohio surveys that show the boundary angling at 45 degrees and 66 degrees to the northeast from the east-west land boundary.

★ ★ ★

There also is legal evidence indicating the border might continue the land boundary in a straight line until it meets the Canadian border in the lake.

The committee is headed by Rep. Raymond Kehres, D-Monroe.

Romney, Staebler Will Get Awards

LANSING (AP)—First annual political leadership awards will be presented to Gov. George Romney and Democratic National Committeeman Neil Staebler Monday in Detroit by the Michigan Center for Education in Politics.

★ ★ ★

The awards by the center located at Western Michigan University are for "outstanding contributions" through their political parties. Selections were made by a committee of college and university political scientists.

Berlin Wall Death Toll Is Put at 54, May Be Higher

BERLIN (AP) — Year after year Germans have been shooting Germans along the borders of their former capital and at the wall that cuts it in two.

The gunplay has been in deadly earnest ever since the East German Communists more than four years ago built the wall to stop a flow of refugees that was bleeding their Soviet-backed state of badly needed manpower.

The four-year toll at the 10-mile wall and along 90 miles of fence separating West Berlin from East Germany is 54 officially confirmed deaths.

"We know the death toll to be at least three times that figure," Ernst Lemmer, former minister for refugee affairs, has said. Many more than that have been injured.

FOLLOW ORDERS

Some say it is the nature of the German to do blindly what he is ordered to do and thus keep up this kind of killing.

West Berlin police, however, say the East Germans do much more shooting to the side or in the air than shooting to kill.

Capt. Heinz Hackbarth, a political specialist for the West Berlin police, comments:

"If the East German border guards always aimed to kill or maim every time they see, hear or suspect a refugee, there would be a bloodbath far worse than we have had."

Since August 1961, when the wall was built, about 3,500 persons have managed to make it across into West Berlin. Some have spectacular escape adventures, but most of the estimated 6 to 15 who daily attempt to come across take advantage as best they can of darkness, fog or what little natural cover the Reds have left standing.

SOME DON'T MAKE IT

Many never make it past the 300-yard "death strip" that the Communists have thrown around West Berlin.

★ ★ ★

West Berlin police list more than 2,000 persons known to have been arrested on the Communist side of the wall and 1,000 more captured along the East German zonal frontier. Those caught average a year in jail.

Many others simply turned back to forget it or maybe try again another day.

To stop escapes the East Germans have three Volksarmee (People's Army) brigades around West Berlin. These total 14,000 men, with 3,600 always on guard.

USE DOGS

They have 197 watch towers to aid them, plus spotlights, floodlights, flares and 211 dog stations. There are three companies of boat troops equipped with fast patrol craft.

According to West Berlin police, light machine guns mounted in the towers are intended to cover lateral gaps between the towers. For close work near the boundary itself, foot patrols have shorter-range submachine guns, tear gas grenades and antitank bazookas.

★ ★ ★

They are backed by motorcycle and truck patrols behind the "death strip." In some critical areas armored cars are brought up, especially at night.

Despite all Communist precautions, at least 435 uniformed guards have taken advantage of their posts near West Berlin to cross over.

MUST SHOOT

Hackbarth says the Reds try to make sure their men do not defect — and that they shoot when they are supposed to.

"At least 80 per cent of the guards are married or have other people in East Germany who depend on them," he said. "Most of them, usually draftees serving 18 months in the army, are not Berliners.

★ ★ ★

"They are always paired and whenever possible never in the same pairs two days in a row so they do not become friendly.

"Then there is fear of punishment and betrayal through a network of secret police agents within their ranks."

USE TEAR GAS

About 400 West Berlin police are posted along the border each day. They, too, are armed with submachine guns and have tear gas grenades.

There have been 13 occasions when West Berlin police opened fire to cover a refugee in danger of getting killed. One East German guard was killed in such exchange and three others are known to have been killed by fire from their own comrades.

★ ★ ★

Probably the saddest effect of the prolonged situation is the attitudes of the children who live directly along the border.

Children play at what they see, and in Berlin they have added some original games to that of cowboys and Indians.

★ ★ ★

Wandering in and out among armed police and soldiers, border small fry, carrying toy guns, play "West Berliner-East Berliner" or "Vopo-Fluech-tling" (Communist guard-refugee).

Michigan Traffic Is Fatal to 156 in November

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police report 156 traffic deaths in Michigan during November, 22 fewer than the 178 deaths during the same month a year ago.

The five-year average has been 158 deaths for the month. The record was 219 killed in 1941 and the low for the month was 87 deaths in 1942.

Delayed death reports are expected to add to the total.

Caution Deer Hunters

ALLEGAN (AP) — Deer hunters were cautioned Wednesday that a Michigan National Guard group from Holland is scheduled for military field exercises Saturday and Sunday in the Allegan area.

The bank of America in San Francisco had assets of about $16 billion this year, more than any other bank in the world.

The payroll of cities in the nation in 1964 for more than 1.6 million employes was $761 million.

Presidential Disability Amendment Likely to Be Ratified in '67

WASHINGTON (AP) — It probably will be 1967 before constitutional changes proposed to deal with the problems of presidential disability or death can go into effect.

However, there is still a chance that the amendment submitted by Congress to the states could be ratified next year.

* * *

Twelve of the necessary 38 states already have approved the proposed 25th Amendment, and the Delaware Legislature is now considering it.

It would set up procedures under which the vice president could take over presidential duties if the president became incapacitated and would provide for selection of a new vice president when that officer stepped up permanently to the presidency because of death of the chief executive. Now the office stays vacant until the next presidential election.

New Jersey this week became the 12th state to ratify the amendment.

American Bar Association officials, who strongly backed the change as a repair for a gap in U.S. constitutional arrangements, said the amendment's fate in 1966 would be determined by how many state legislatures hold special sessions and how many of these consider the amendment.

The ratification got off to a slower start than anticipated this year because of differences between proposals in the U.S. House and Senate.

By the time the two chambers had agreed and given the requisite two-thirds vote to the proposed amendment, it was July 6, too late for state action in many of the 1965 regular sessions. And 1966 is a year when comparatively few state lawmaking bodies regularly meet.

MEETING IN '66

Among those which do are the legislatures of Alaska, Colorado, Delaware, Georgia, Hawaii, Kansas, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Minnesota, New York, Nevada, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia. None of these states has ratified the amendment, but it has been introduced at a special session in Delaware.

Beside these 16 regular sessions, special sessions already either have been definitly called for 1966 or discussed in six other states — Connecticut, Maine, North Carolina, Tennessee, Utah and Vermont — which have not acted on the amendment.

However, even if all the regular sessions and special sessions now in sight result in ratification by the respective states, the total at the end of 1966 would be 34 ratifications, still four short of the constitutional requirement.

So, unless even more states convene special sessions which act favorably, the amendment could not be written into the Constitution earlier than 1967.

The 12 states which have acted favorably are Arizona, Arkansas, California, Indiana, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nebraska, New Jersey, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

TESTED IN VIET — Two U.S. Air Force F5 Freedom Fighters, which are among a dozen of the needle-nosed fighters being tested in Viet Nam, are shown circling the Black Virgin Mountain near the Cambodian border in a strike against the enemy. A provisional squadron is carrying out an exhaustive 120-day test of these planes, weighing assets against some obvious drawbacks. Containers under bellies of the planes are fuel tanks.

Forces New Supply Policy

N. Viet: 'Air Raids Hurt'

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist North Viet Nam admitted today that American air raids have hurt its economy and caused a cutback in industrial development.

The admission was contained in a brief report by the official Communist Chinese New China News Agency on a top - level meeting in Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital.

The report quoted North Vietnamese Vice Premier Le Thanh Nghi as saying the American air attacks made it necessary to "carry out an on-the-spot supply policy making full use of local materials and ensuring local production and consumption."

The New China News Agency said the Hanoi meeting involved "the development of local industry for 1966-67."

Vice Premier Nghi was quoted as saying that North Vietnamese people were "in a people's war against piratic U.S. air attacks."

TO MEET NEEDS

"To meet the war and economic needs in each locality better, all provincial and industrial establishments must be built on a medium- and small - sized scale, mainly on a small scale," Nghi said.

North Viet Nam admitted last spring that the government was having difficulty in distributing goods and supplies.

The mention of an "on-the-spot supply policy" indicates that American air strikes had been at least partially successful in knocking out transportation routes.

In a related development, the official North Vietnamese newspaper Nhan Dan claimed that Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam scored "resounding victories" in October and November.

The Hanoi newspaper warned that the U.S. military buildup meant that the Communists faced a "protracted and arduous" fight.

"The victories in the last month have shown that the Vietnamese people have enough strength to defeat the U.S. aggressors no matter how many more troops they may send to South Viet Nam and whatever means of war they may employ there," Nhan Dan said.

Communist China today again accused the United States of "war blackmail" by offering to stop bombing North Viet Nam as a step toward peace.

The New China News Agency said the offer was "a painstaking effort to present the U.S. aggressors as angels of peace."

F5, Tagged 'Skoshi Tiger,' Being Tested in Viet War

Maj. Alfred Hopkins, Killeen, Tex., reports another nickname is the Skoshi Tiger. Skoshi is Japanese for little.

Hopkins is operations officer for a provisional squadron carrying out an exhaustive 120-day test of a dozen of the needle-nosed F5s, weighing assets against some obvious drawbacks.

The F5 has a wing span of 26 feet, 7 inches and a maximum take off weight of 19,000 pounds. It can carry only about one-third of the bomb load of McDonnell's F4 Phantom, a standard weapon of both the U.S. Air Force and Navy that has a maximum take off weight of more than 40,000 pounds.

TOP SPEED

Top speed of the F5 is Mach 1.4, or about 1,000 miles an hour However, its normal operating range is short.

The F5 has been sold to some allies of the United States, but still lacks an Air Force contract.

In its present form, the F5 appears to be a far cry from the perfect answer to problems of the air war against the Communist guerrillas.

The ideal would be a subsonic jet with a high bomb-carrying capability and fairly long range. The plane which probably most nearly approximates this is the A6 Navy attack plane, which is not carrying out air assaults in South Viet Nam at present.

STREAK OFF RUNWAY

Three of the F5s, dressed in their dull brown and green camouflage paint and each carrying two 750-pound bombs, streaked off the runway at Bien Hoa air base last Saturday for an attack against a Viet Cong stronghold.

* * *

In flight, the planes were diverted to help a Vietnamese regiment which was being destroyed by a Viet Cong assault force only 45 miles northwest of Saigon.

The planes were delayed once when Guam-based B52s began unloading bombs near the fighting zone. Then they were told: "Get out of the way. We have artillery going in here."

Nervously watching his fuel gauges, the flight leader finally radioed: "We have to strike now or never. Give us a target."

PILOTS CLEARED

The pilots were cleared to make their runs ahead of other aircraft and dropped all their bombs on the first pass instead of laying them in normally, one at a time.

They didn't have time to make strafing runs with their 20mm cannons, but their bombs were right on target.

Completing a 30-mile flight back to Bien Hoa, the F5 pilots asked for and got priority over other aircraft waiting to land.

Range limitations—pilots call such planes short-legged—probably can be overcome by adding larger auxiliary fuel tanks. But the payload maximum of four bombs probably cannot be increased.

French End Presidential Campaign

President Charles de Gaulle is expected to defeat five opponents in voting Sunday.

Final, eight-minute campaign speeches were prerecorded for radio and television broadcast tonight.

Then they were put under lock and key to prevent last-minute skullduggery. If one candidate knew in advance what the other was going to say, it would give him an advantage in the presidential sweepstakes.

France has about 28.8 million registered voters. But Sunday will be the first time since 1848 the country as a whole has elected its chief executive in the American style.

GRAND ELECTORS

Up to now, Parliament or a limited college of "grand electors" has decided who will be president.

The Ministry of Interior said its public opinion polls give de Gaulle about 49 per cent of the vote, with nearly a third of the voters still undecided.

Department officials said they expect de Gaulle to garner about a third of this undecided vote on Sunday to push his final total to a comfortable 55 to 57 per cent.

Prominent Gaullist strategists earlier in the week were alarmed at indications that de Gaulle had slumped below 50 per cent, but now predict a final tally of between 54 and 58 per cent.

OPPONENTS

De Gaulle's opponents in the race are Jean-Louis Tixier-Vignancourt, an extreme rightist; leftist Francois Mitterand; Marcel Barbu, considered a "man-in-the-street" candidate; liberal Senator Pierre Marcilhacy, and finally the "golden boy" candidate, Jean Lecanuet, a Catholic Centrist.

The 50 per cent figure will be a critical point Sunday. Under the French system, a candidate must get a majority of the ballots to win outright. If no one gets more than 50 per cent of the votes, a runoff election between the two top candidates will be held later this month.

Church Slates Three Services

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — The Drayton Heights Free Methodist Church, Maybee and Winell roads, will hold special Advent services tonight through Sunday.

Speaker at the 7:30 p.m. services will be Rev. Lyal Howison, superintendent of the Flint-Port Huron district of the Free Methodist Church.

He is a former pastor of the Pontiac Free Methodist Church and was instrumental in starting the Drayton Heights church.

Mother Wins Over Army

DENVER (UPI) — Robert Schnabel, a 19-year-old draftee whose mother challenged the U.S. Army and won, will spend Christmas at home instead of in the drab olive surroundings of an Army base.

* * *

"Bob thinks people are going to call him a slacker," Mrs. Norma Riedel said of her son. "Well, he isn't. I want him to serve, but I would like him home for Christmas."

Mrs. Riedel, 41, got mad when she learned Wednesday her son was to be inducted into the Army at 7 a.m. Dec. 23. She protested to President Johnson and the Army.

In identical telegrams sent to Johnson and the 5th Army headquarters in Chicago, Mrs. Riedel said:

* * *

"One of America's mothers would like to know if our war position is so crucial that we have to draft our sons during a holy week. Or are we just taking the Christ out of Christmas?"

Mrs. Riedel won her battle last night. A Pentagon spokesman in Washington said it was Army policy not to call inductees between Dec. 23 and Dec. 26.

The Army official said draftees who cannot report to reception staions before Dec. 23, will not have to leave home before Dec. 26 — the day after Christmas.

"I'm pleased to the high heavens," the Denver mother said. "Thank God. Thank God. I want my son to serve. It's his duty. But I don't want him on the road with a bunch of strangers on Christmas Eve."

"There's no use crying about it," he said. "I'm against my mom for making the fuss. It's really embarrassing."

WINS HER BATTLE — Mrs. Norma Riedel of Denver and her son, Robert Schnabel, 19, talk with reporters about her angry telegram to President Johnson. Mrs. Riedel was upset by the Dec. 23 date set for her son's drafting into the Army. She said she wants her son to serve but would like him home for Christmas. She won her battle last night when the Pentagon said inductees would not be called between Dec. 23 and 26.

This was a new Cary Grant, a man seemingly in awe at discovering it is never too late to found a family. He looks like the old Cary Grant, which, as everyone knows, is not bad at all. He will be 62 next month, and his hair is iron-gray. But he walks with the spring of a high jumper.

* * *

The evergreen actor is making his 62nd starring film, "Walk, Don't Run." Between scenes he seemed not at all disenchanted by the flood of comments and gags that followed the news that his wife, Dyan Cannon, is expecting a baby.

* * *

"How could I be tired of it?" he inquired. "It's such a completely fresh and exciting experience for me. Everyone has been wonderful in offering their congratulations.

STREAM OF LIFE

"You know, it's intriguing to be entering the stream of life. It's nice, too, to be able to sit back and watch it go by. But when you become a father, you become a participant once more. I'm enjoying it."

* * *

His immediate problem is where to house his family. "Both Dyan and I have bachelor houses; if only we could get the two houses together, we would solve the situation," he said.

* * *

Failing that, the Grants have been shopping for a larger place. They thought they had found one in Benedict Canyon, but it turned out to be the estate where the Beatles, Rolling Stones and other favorites fend off their clamorous fans during visits here. That didn't fit into the Grants' pattern of life.

LIVE QUIETLY

"Dyan likes to live quietly, and so do I," said he.

The arrival date has been reported to be May, but Grant isn't sure such things can be calculated with any exactitude.

* * *

One thing seems fairly certain: The birth won't be multiple. Neither Cary nor his wife has a history of twins in their families. He added that he had no preferences to boy or girl. "Whatever comes will be fine."

While Grant continues to display youth in his prviate life, he aims to act his age on the screen. He holds to the theory, which may be contested by millions of women, that he is too advanced in years to play romance in films.

* * *

"We're playing to a young audience in theaters today," he argued, "and they don't want to see me making love. I solve that in this picture by getting the two young people (Samantha Eggar and Jim Hutton) together. It works out very well."

JFK-Film Earnings May Hit $1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Information Agency's film of the life of the late President John F. Kennedy may earn more than $1 million for the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts when it is released commercially, a spokesman for the center said Thursday.

* * *

Philip J. Mullin, administrative officer of the center, made the estimate in announcing that nationwide commercial distribution would begin in about 90 days. The center paid USIA $122,000 for the film, entitled "Years of Lightning, Day of Drums."

Eye Influence of Women on Car of Future

EAST LANSING (AP)—Women drivers will outnumber the men on American highways within a few years—influencing auto makers to stress safety, dependability and ease of handling, say two business specialists.

"Women are more practical-minded about cars, drive less aggressively than men, and have an over-all better accident record," say Dr. Daniel D. Gage of Sacramento State College and Dr. Anne C. Garrison of Michigan State University.

* * *

Their report on the history and some future prospects of the auto industry was published by MSU's Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

* * *

They predict development of a different type of engine to replace present gasoline combustion engines. They say present engines dissipate 85 per cent of their power.

* * *

New possibilities include steam, electricity, gas turbine, free piston and rotary piston engines, they report.

Senile cataracts account for 17.2 per cent of blindness among persons over 20 in the U.S., according to figures of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

OEO Aid to Boston Is Frozen

BOSTON (UPI) — More than $5.5 million in federal funds earmarked for Boston's antipoverty program have been frozen pending an investigation into charges of "wrongdoing and mismanagement."

The Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) announced yesterday in Washington it would not "make any new grants or renew previous grants to Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD) pending the outcome of investigations and audits being undertaken."

The OEO's action in cutting off antipoverty funds followed by one day a similar step by the Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC), a branch of the Department of Labor.

James Kelleher, information director for the OEO, said last night that "recent allegations of wrongdoing and mismanagement" in connection with the Boston NYC program made the OEO's action necessary.

* * *

Kelleher said his agency shut off new funds to the ABCD pending an investigation because it felt the alleged abuses in the NYC program might be "indicative rather than isolated."

PENDING FUNDS

The Boston program has pending some $4 million in community action fund applications and $1.5 million in NYC projects.

The Boston Traveler has charged that ineligible youths have been employed in the NYC program here and that funds have been stolen in a payroll swindle.

The OEO and Labor Department are conducting a joint investigation of the charges, and Kelleher said every effort would be made "to expedite completion of the studies."

* * *

Arthur J. Gartland, newly named president of ABCD, said last night the directors of the agency had been expecting the OEO action.

WELCOME MOVE

"It gives the OEO time to check out our operation here and we welcome such an investigation," he said. He said the directors of ABCD were carrying out an investigation of their own and would "get rid of anyone and everyone who may be interrupting a worthwhile program.

"If it means firing, firing will be done," Gartland said. He said he was confident the situation would be resolved within the month.

* * *

"We mean to do everything in our power to restore morale and public confidence, if that is lacking, in ABCD," he said. "We will do everything we can to see that this program will NOT be interrupted.

Says Goldberg

'U. N. Job Hardest of My Life'

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

NEW YORK — Relaxing in a Kennedy-type rocker in his office across the street from the United Nations, U. S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg told six women reporters from Washington that the job of representing the United States at the United Nations is "the hardest job of my life," taking never less than 11 hours a day.

* * *

Yet, he's adding a new time-consuming dimension by putting new emphasis of the second half of his mission, which he described as "interpreting the United States to the United Nations and the United Nations to the people of the United States."

I suppose our invitation is an example. In Washington, we used to call him Mr. Secretary when he served in President Kennedy's cabinet as Secretary of Labor and later as Mr. Justice when President Johnson tapped him for the Supreme Court.

Today we called him Mr. Ambassador . . . (when we remembered) . . . on this visit with him, which was followed by a luncheon given by Mrs. Goldberg in the official residence atop the Waldorf Towers apartments.

* * *

Surprised that even many members of Congress had never been to the United Nations, he already has started inviting groups of 25 or so to talk with him and other members of the United States delegation, to be briefed on current issues before the assembly, and to be entertained.

PICKETS MARCH

Outside the United States Mission building, Viet Nam pickets marched but this didn't disturb the ambassador. "Neither does it delude the people representing 117 countries in the United Nations" said the ambassador, and added, "They know our Viet Nam policy is supported by the great majority of the American people."

* * *

With some emotion, he said "That such demonstrations can exist in our free country is a source of strength not weakness." Then with a smile, added "I am going to ask them in to talk with me one of these days."

Landlocked Mongolia Serving as Prized Pawn Between Soviet Union, Red China

ULAN BATOR, Mongolia (AP) — Mongolia, a landlocked country sandwiched between the Soviet Union and China, is trying desperately to catch up with a world which once trembled at the feet of its most famous son, Genghis Khan.

★ ★ ★

Not long ago it was a feudal realm of lamas and princes, loosely tied to China. Today, 44 years after communism took over, it is caught in the middle of the struggle between Red China and the U.S.S.R.

★ ★ ★

Where once the two giants appeared to cooperate in Mongolia, they now compete for influence. At the moment, the Soviet Union appears far ahead, but some in Mongolia are not happy about the satellite status this has imposed on their country. And the Chinese have not altogether vacated the arena.

The present government of the Mongolian People's Republic — commonly known as Outer Mongolia — under Umzhagin Tsedenbal, the premier and first Communist party secretary, has gone down the line with Moscow. Domestically, it has allowed Soviet economic and cultural influences to flourish while apparently merely tolerating a limited amount of Chinese influence.

NOT POPULAR

This policy is by no means universally popular. Many Mongolians, including some in high places, are disturbed that the government has been burning its bridges.

★ ★ ★

At a tense, noisy meeting of the party's Central Committee last December, a number of speakers attacked government policies and demanded Tsedenbal's resignation. He put down the revolt and three officials regarded as promising candidates for future high office were expelled from the party.

★ ★ ★

A little more than a month after the rebellion, a Soviet delegation headed by a party Presidium member, Alexander N. Shelepin, came to Mongolia. It is believed Shelepin told the premier the Kremlin expected him to act decisively against any challenge to Moscow's position here.

Close collaboration with Moscow undoubtedly yielded division worth of aid from Moscow, a remarkable amount for a country of only a million.

dends. In the next five-year plan, it is estimated Mongolia will receive more than $700 mil-

This traditionally has been a land of nomadic herdsmen. Its livestock — sheep, goats, cattle, horses, camels — outnumber its people 23-1. But while much of the nation's limited resources go into rural development, even more is being plowed now into industry.

Probably less than 30 per cent of the Mongolians are urban dwellers. Most of these live in Ulan Bator, a city of 200,000 whose name means "Red Hero."

About 60 per cent of the capital's people still live in yurts, tent-like dwellings similar to those of the herdsmen. These are scattered throughout the city in pockets, often surrounded by fences which seem intended to banish the thought that the yurts are there at all.

BELTED ROBES

On the streets, ill-dressed young men and women walk briskly past sage-like figures in the belted robes of the ancient Mongols. Soviet cars and trucks have the wide streets almost to themselves. Soviet movies flood in. Russian books are everywhere in bookstores. Russian and East European magazines are sold on newsstands.

Outside the capital is a different world. Within a few miles, you see bush-tailed horses galloping across rolling plains, ridden by men with wide, crimson faces and high cheekbones. They look as though they had just returned from a campaign with the ancient warrior-conqueror Genghis Khan.

Except for a single hard-surface route running north and south from the capital for 95 miles, few roads are worthy of the name. Overland transport is by primitive tracks which bend and twist around the mountain slopes or across river beds, disappearing in open fields.

★ ★ ★

About 80 per cent of Mongolia's foreign trade is with the Soviet Union. While submitting to massive Soviet economic and cultural penetration, Mongolia is making an obvious effort to contain Chinese influence. One reason is the country's wholehearted commitment to Moscow in the Soviet-Chinese quarrel.

"There isn't a Mongolian who doesn't fear China for historical reasons," says an informed Western observer.

While pursuing pro-Soviet policies, however, Mongolia shows increasing interest in developing relations with the outside world. Mongolia has diplomatic relations with about 30 countries but except for the Communist nations, only one has established a diplomatic mission here — Britain.

Branch Rickey, one of the great men of baseball who has been fighting death for more than two weeks, just as he fought for principles in life and for the sport, has one of his most loyal proteges in Pontiac rooting for him.

Goodloe Rogers, often called the city's first major league baseball player, now one of Pontiac's most noted attorneys, was a student of Rickey's in the fabulous 'teens of the century.

★ ★ ★

WORLDWIDE ATTENTION

Sisler continued on to greatness and even though Rogers returned eventually to play with the Pontiac semi-pro team in the Southern Michigan League, he received international attention as the catcher who made the unassisted triple play.

★ ★ ★

The play was brought to the front again this week when a sportswriter from the Honolulu Advertiser, trying answer the question challenged him by a reader, wrote here asking for details of the play.

It happened in the summer of 1921 and this was Rogers' story:

"The bases were loaded, and of course there was no one out. I happened to catch the signal from the third base coach to the batter for a squeeze play. Immediately, I called for a pitch out. With the pitch, all runners started to move. The ball came in wide and I threw to third.

"When the ball came back to me from the third baseman, I bluffed another throw back and then caught the runner near the bag. Meanwhile, the runner from second neared third and when he saw me with the ball, he started back for second. Again I bluffed a throw and when he reversed toward me, I tagged him.

The runner from first was at second, but seeing that second base was about to be occupied by the returning runner, he darted back toward first. But when he saw the second base runner get tagged between second and third he headed back for second and started his slide. I beat him to the bag for the tag and the third out."

What happened to the batter while this was going on?

★ ★ ★

He probably stood dazed by it all wondering how all this could happen without his even touching the ball.

Rogers was considered very fast for a catcher.

"I guess I've lost a lot of speed since then. I don't know if I could make a single put-out today let alone three," he jested.

Rickey, still fighting for his life after his heart attack, Nov. 14th, was kown once to say jestingly, "I always taught my catchers to be triple-play catchers."

One of Pontiac's most ardent sports boosters, Rogers has always been a three-ply asset to local sports.

Remaining Spots to Be Completed by Sunday

Bowlers Fill Pontiac Open Tourney Squads

More than 500 bowlers, with the possibility of near 700, are expected to jam Huron Bowl and 300 Bowl Sunday in the second qualifying day of the Pontiac City Open championship.

Several mid-afternoon squad time have been closed due to the number of available lanes being filled at Huron Bowl, however ABC confirmation received this morning will permit added entries on two instances:

Bowlers will be permitted to fill the available spots at the given times denoted, and extension squads with a limited number of bowlers will be permitted on Monday.

The total count of bowlers and the available spots has been recorded as of 8:00 p.m. last night. Since the original deadline was until midnight, many of those spots have already been filled.

"We can handle about 502 bowlers on Sunday," said Huron Bowl proprietor Joe Bonfiglio, "and as of this morning this leaves about 48 spots available. As soon as these are filled we will be at capacity for Sunday."

Three Hundred Bowl has spots available on all squads, how-

Wings Pound Boston, 10-2

Norm Ullman Nets 3 Goals, MacGregor 2

Detroit One Point Out of Fourth Place After Easy Conquest

DETROIT (AP) — Boston may be displaying some improvement against the other National Hockey League clubs, but the Detroit Red Wings are treating the Bruins like the same old last-place team.

Norm Ullman scored the three goal hat trick and assisted on three others, and Bruce MacGregor added a pair of goals, in Detroit's 10-2 pasting of the Bruins Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

It was the only game on the NHL schedule and the victory enabled the Red Wings to take over sole possession of fifth place, a point behind New York.

The Red Wings have won but five games in 17 starts this season and four of the triumphs have come over the Bruins.

Half of the Red Wings' 54 goals this season have been scored against Boston. The Bruins have held the other four teams in the league to an average of three goals a game.

PRIVATE BOX

Detroit Manager-Coach Sid Abel viewed the game from the team's private box in the stands and turned the coaching duties over to ailing defenseman Bill Gadsby.

★ ★ ★

Gadsby was scheduled to undergo surgery today for removal of a cyst in back of his knee. He is expected to be sidelined for at least a month.

"The game looks a lot better from up there," Abel said. "But any game like this one would look pretty good no matter where I sat."

★ ★ ★

The Bruins were not at full strength for the contest and were further hampered by a hand injury to goalie Bernie Parent.

The young netminder suffered the injury in Chicago Wednesday night and gave way to Gerry Cheevers after the first period against the Wings.

Four Boston regulars are sidelined with assorted injuries and the Bruins played the game with only 14 players, excluding the goalies, two under the league limit.

Ullman missed tying a club record for points in a single game by one. The last Detroiter to score seven points was Billy Taylor, who had seven assists in a game against Chicago in 1947.

Ullman scored a goal and an

Jet Rookie Helps FBI; Bribe Fails

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Schweickert of the New York Jets hasn't caught a pass as a pro football player, but he helped the FBI catch an Army recruiting sergeant accused of soliciting a $200 bribe to help Schweickert beat the draft.

The sergeant, arrested Thursday, was identified by the FBI as Staff Sgt. Winfred Lewis, an 18-year veteran who won three battle stars and a Purple Heart in Korea.

John F. Malone, assistant director of the New York office of the FBI, said agents arrested Lewis outside a recruiting station in Queens after Schweickert handed him the money.

Schwickert, 22, former star Virginia Tech quarterback who signed for a reported $100,000 bonus and has been turned into a receiver, reported for his Army (preinduction) physical about two weeks ago, according to the Jets.

WAITING LIST

The FBI said Lewis had solicited a sum of money from the player to see that his name would be placed at the top of the waiting list to join the National Guard, enabling Schweickert to serve six months of active duty instead of two years if he were drafted.

"Bob told us immediately about the matter," said Jets' Coach Weeb Ewbank in San Diego where the team meets the Chargers in an American Football League game Saturday.

★ ★ ★

"He told us, 'I want to play football and fulfill my military obligation. But I certainly don't want to be part of anything illegal'."

Cinci Slugger Offered

Reds' Robinson Trade Bait

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Cincinnati is trying to swap off its big gun, slugging outfielder Frank Robinson, for players the Reds think might help them win the 1966 National League pennant.

"This is the biggest news of the week at the baseball meetings, in my opinion," said Bobby Bragan, manager of the Atlanta Braves. "I didn't think the Reds would be willing to let Robinson go."

Bragan was involved in a major deal of his own that would give the Braves a relief pitcher they are seeking. The Braves and the Kansas City Athletics are near agreement on a deal that would send relief ace John Wyatt of Kansas City to Atlanta for outfielder Rico Carty.

Both the A's and the Braves decided at 1:30 A.M., EST, Friday "to sleep on the deal" before making a final decision.

Baltimore and Houston are the known clubs with which Cincinnati has tried to work out deals for Robinson, but both rejected proposals by the Reds.

Trades made, however, at the major league meetings Thursday sent Chicago Cub reliever Lindy McDaniel to San Francisco in a four-player swap, and Baltimore first baseman Norm Siebern to the California Angels for 22-year-old rookie outfielder Dick Simpson.

Cincinnati wanted veteran pitcher Milt Pappas and a flashy rookie outfielder, Curt Blefary, from Baltimore, but the Orioles refused to give them up. Houston declined to send pitcher Larry Dierker and outfielder Jim Wynn to Cincinnati for the Reds' outfielder.

Reports that Robinson might be traded came in the wake of a deal that sent McDaniel and outfielder Don Landrum to San Francisco. The Giants got the two veterans for a pair of youngsters, pitcher Bill Hands and catcher Randy Hundley.

Leo Durocher, making his first trade after becoming manager of the Cubs in October, said Chicago needed a catcher "that can keep everybody from running on us."

Detroit Own Cage District In Post-Season Tourney

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Public School League's chance of an all-Detroit final in the Michigan High School Class A basketball tournament was dealt a death blow Thursday.

The Representative Council of the Michigan High School Athletic Association recommended that Detroit's 21 public high schools be placed in their own district and regional tournaments to be played in the afternoon.

This would mean only one Detroit school would survive regional play and advance to the quarterfinals. Previously, Detroit schools were placed in district and regional tournaments with suburban schools, making it possible for two Detroit teams to reach the finals at Lansing.

The recommendation is a result of the near riot following the Highland Park - Detroit Northwestern regional game last March at which nine Highland Park partisans were stabbed.

★ ★ ★

As a result, the Detroit Board of Education ordered all future Public League games, including tournament play, to be played in the afternoon.

MSU 5 in Home Debut

EAST LANSING (UPI) — — Michigan State's basketball team, which lost a coach after a 5-18 season last year, starts a new campaign Saturday night against Western Michigan in the home debut of new coach John Benington.

Benington, former St. Louis University coach, has changed the Spartan offense to a more deliberate style than the pressure offense used by his predecessor Forddy Anderson.

He hopes his set play patterns will be the winning formula to boost State up the conference ladder. The Spartans finished at the bottom of the Big Ten with a 1-13 record in 1964.

The Spartans Saturday face a once defeated Western Michigan team which lost Wednesday night, 76-73 to Central Michigan.

MSU will rely heavily on regulars Stan Washington and Bill Curtis. Washington averaged 21 points per game last season, while Curtis scored at a 19-point-per-game clip.

Benington also plans to start two junior college transfers, 6-7 center Matthew Aitch and guard John Bailey. Bailey will alternate at the guard positions with Shannon Reading and Steve Rymal.

Pontiac Rec Quintets Have Jefferson Card

The Roy White Unbeatables and Amigos Club of the city men's recreation basketball league will have an exhibition contest at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Jefferson Junior High School.

Both teams are comprised of former Pontiac Central performers. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

PNH in Tilt at Cobo Hall

Pontiac Northern's basketball squad will take on Highland Park in the first half of a prep-pro doubleheader next Wednesday at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

The PNH - Highland Park game is slated to get under way at 6 p.m., followed by the Detroit Pistons-San Francisco Warriors contest.

Northern coach Dick Hall said that a limited tickets for the doubleheader, $1, are on sale at the high school.

GOALIE BOWS — Boston Bruins' goalie Bernie Parent (30) kneels bowed in the crease of the net as the puck bounces in on a shot by Red Wings' Ron Murphy in the first period of their game last night at the Olympia. The Wings ripped the Bruins 10-2 with three goals against Parent and seven against another rookie Gerry Cheevers.

PCH Starts Bid for Valley Crown

UCLA Cage Rating to Get Initial Test

By The Associated Press

Maybe the UCLA Bruins won't win an unprecedented third straight national collegiate basketball championship after all.

The Bruins, ranked No. 1 in the preseason Associated Press poll, open their season at home against Ohio State tonight and Coach Johnny Wooden is concerned, especially since the UCLA frosh beat the varsity 75-60 in an exhibition last Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

"I wasn't particularly surprised," Wooden said after Lew Alcindor, the 7-foot-1 frosh star, had paced the yearlings over the varsity. "But I was disappointed in the play of the varsity, especially at their apparent loss of poise. It makes me concerned."

Wooden said, "We had quite a setback when we lost Freddie Goss because of a stomach ailment a couple of weeks ago. We are not as far along as we'd like to be, not as quick and our outside shooting has suffered. It showed up particularly against the freshmen."

Ohio State opened its season Wednesday night with a 76-74 road victory over Missouri and Wooden declared "from all reports the Buckeyes must be on the way again this year."

"Of course they may be rated too high, as I think we are."

In any event, UCLA's future opponents will be watching the Bruins' performance tonight to get a line on them.

In the top games, Virginia Tech beat Purdue 94-88 in overtime, Villanova downed Scranton 93-55, Iowa romped over Pepperdine 111-50, Colorado took Tulsa 79-72, Oklahoma City defeated Southern Methodist 97-90, Auburn licked Rice 91-74, Utah State crushed Montana State 121-71 and Temple-whacked Rider 88-62.

Central State of Ohio, which compiled a 30-0 record in winning the NAIA championship last year, went three overtimes to defeat Anderson 82-76 for its 32nd straight victory.

Flu Flattens Royal Big 'O'

San Francisco Wins 125-119 Game

By The Associated Press

As the Big O goes, so go the Cincinnati Royals. And Oscar Robertson wasn't going anywhere Thursday night.

Consequently, the Royals lost 125-119 to the San Francisco Warriors at Oakland Auditorium in the night's only National Basketball Association game.

Robertson was a big zero because of a sudden attack of the intestinal flu. He sat on the bench wearing street clothes.

If the 4,862 fans were disappointed at first, their dismay was soon forgotten. Even without Robertson, the Royals made it close and interesting. The game was tied 16 times and the lead changed hands 22 times.

TIE BREAKER

But big Nate Thurmond broke a 103-103 tie with a field goal with 6 minutes remaining and the Warriors ripped off 16 points to Cincinnati's two in the next three minutes.

Guy Rodgers scored 21 points for the winners, mainly on running shots, and triggered the Warriors' fast break with 16 assists. He also stole the ball 10 times.

Chiefs, PNH Play in Flint

W-O League Cagers Have Full Slate

The Saginaw Valley Conference schedule during the next three weeks brings the four top teams together in a clear the title picture somewhat before the teams retire for the Christmas holidays.

The four top-ranked teams in the conference — Pontiac Central, Saginaw, Saginaw Arthur Hill and Bay City Central — get their first taste of league action tonight.

Pontiac Central's young Chiefs, fresh from a convincing 81-59 victory over Waterford, journey to Flint to take on Central's Indians; Arthur Hill entertains Bay City Handy; Saginaw visits Bay City Central; and Flint Northern has a date at Midland.

After tonight's contest, PCH will entertain Bay City Central and take on Arthur Hill before the holiday break. Saginaw takes on Arthur Hill and Midland while BC Central will have to contend with Arthur Hill and PCH.

★ ★ ★

PNH AT FLINT

Pontiac Northern will also make the trip to Flint this evening to take on Flint Southwestern in the season opener for both teams.

★ ★ ★

Locally, Bloomfield Hills will start defense of its Wayne-Oakland League in a game at West Bloomfield.

Milford entertains Clarenceville, Holly visits Northville and Clarkston has a date at Brighton.

★ ★ ★

In the Oakland A, Avondale plays host to Troy, Rochester journeys to Warren Cousino, Fitzgerald travels to Lake Orion and Clawson entertains Madison.

In Birmingham, Brother Rice plays host to Harper Woods Notre Dame and Groves entertains Cranbrook.

DOWN IN 13th — Salvatore Burrruni of Italy is pushed aside by referee Harold Valan after Burruni knocked challenger Rocket Gattelari of Australia to his knees in the 13th round of the world flyweight championship at Sydney, Australia last night. The challenger was dropped three times and it was his first loss in 17 fights.

Kandahar Ski Group Planning Open House

Some 200 families took over Summit ski resort last season and converted it into a private club. Kandahar formerly was at Pontiac Lake Recreation Area until the switch.

The club now hopes to expand its membership by about one half to provide more extensive facilities through added manpower and financial resources.

The club this year has increased the usefulness of its lodge and is building a junior ski jump. Plans call for the training of young jumpers rather than much competitive jumping.

The regular skiing facilities available are eight electric rope tows, seven slopes and trails. The club can make snow and has its own ski school and ski patrol. A club manager and staff are on duty during the winter season.

The runs are open Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays (morning to night) during the season. T-bars will be added next season if enough new memberships are obtained.

Kandahar is located on Foley, approximately two miles east of U.S. 23. The open house will be 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Additional information is available from president Ed Benda (541-6103) or treasurer Barbara McIntosh (674-1900).

Walled Lake, Waterford High Matmen Triumph

Waterford's opening match resulted in a 31-15 victory at Utica despite three pins by the home team. Skipper sophomore Joe Alsup beat Brock Pemberton, Utica captain, at 127 pounds in his debut.

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows dropped a 36-17 start to East Detroit. The Lancers John Abowd (95 pounds), Tony Tucker (103) and Cliff LaFond (154) posted pins, but injuries forced FOLS to forfeit two key matches.

RO Relays Next for Natators

Prep swimming teams move into first gear this weekend with dual meets and relay events dominating the scene.

The 7th annual Royal Oak Relays highlight the natatorium scene with 15 teams ready to start splashing Saturday morning in the Kimball pool. Defending champion Birmingham Seaholm is again the favorite, however host Kimball and Fitzgerald, are expected to push the Maples in their bid for the crown.

At Flint Central's pool, Lansing Everett is back to defend its title in the Vehicle City Relays which will have Pontiac Northern as an entry.

The Huskies will be making their first competitive appearance of the season hopeful of repeating their impressive 12-3 mark of last season.

★ ★ ★

In dual meet competition, Utica begins its season hosting St. Paul of Grosse Pointe tonight.

Among the local teams in the Royal Oak Relays are Seaholm, Groves, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Fitzgerald, Dondero and Kimball.

Preliminary events will begin at 2:00 p.m. with the finaals scheduled for 8:00 p.m.

Tag Bouts Featured Tonight at Armory

Two of the biggest men in wrestling, The Student at 295 and Crusher Cortez at 290, will go against Canadian Gino Brito and Gary Mayberg.

In the other matches Tiny Tim Hampton faces Zeles Amara, The Turk and Wild Bill Norris meets Dick Williams.

The bouts start at 8:30 p.m.

Waterford Cage Call

All Waterford Township boys in grades 9-12 interested in playing recreation basketball are requested to meet at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the WTHS gym.

All coaches and managers should also attend the meeting which will develop plans for practice and organize the league.

Final Keg Qualifying This Weekend

ever the late afternoon times are limited to restricted lanes due to league bowling. Both sites will take phone reservations to fill the available spots.

Monday's extension squads will be at the following times and limits:

HURON BOWL—
2:00 p.m. — 20 Bowlers
4:00 p.m. — 20 Bowlers
9:00 p.m. — 18 Bowlers

300 BOWL—
2:00 p.m. — 20 Bowlers
4:00 p.m. — 20 Bowlers
9:00 p.m. — 36 Bowlers

The magic acore for qualifying is "601" total and this will move the bowlers into the semi-final round, Sunday morning, December 12th.

Last week, 86 bowlers, or 36 per cent of the first week qualifiers, hit or surpassed the 601 total score to reach the mid-point of the tournament.

A large number of returning deer hunters are expected to fill many of the available spots, and many have indicated they want times reserved on the Monday squads.

Bowling averages ranging from 112 to 207 are among the entries, and according to Huron Bowl's lady pro, Shirley Pointer, "the 601 figure makes qualifying easier than a percentage cutoff, and this has stimulated great interest in the tournament."

A huge cash purse starting with $800, $500, $300 and down the line, along with trophy awards and the honor of being the First Pontiac City Open Champion has caught fancy of high and low average bowlers alike.

These are the squad times with available openings indicated: (Bowlers not listed should check the establishment for their squad time. This includes only those entered up to 8:00 p.m. last night).

Video 11s to Run 'Split-TV' Pattern

By The Associated Press

There are only a few college football games scheduled around the country this weekend but one of them, Penn State at Maryland, offers staggering possibilities to armchair quarterbacks.

Say Penn State's punter drops back to kick. There's the snap from center and the kick sails high and far . . . right into orbit with America's Gemini 7 astronauts.

* * *

Or, there's a handoff in the Maryland backfield. The runner hits the Penn State line and runs smack into . . . a space capsule.

It just happens that television commitments for the Penn State-Maryland game coincide with this country's most ambitious space venture.

The National Broadcasting Company is solving the problem with a split screen and simultaneous national coverage of both the football game and the Gemini launch.

So, television viewers will be able to watch space rockets and passing pockets at the same time but for bombs, all the action will be at Memphis, Tenn., where UCLA's quarterback flash, sophomore Gary Beban, leads the fifth-ranked Uclans against Tennssee.

* * *

Both teams are bowlbound with UCLA taking on Michigan State in the Rose Bowl and Tennessee heading for a Bluebonnet Bowl date against Tulsa.

* * *

Beban led UCLA into the Pasadena classic with a couple of long touchdown passes that beat Southern California two weeks ago. He gained 1,206 yards on his 117 passes this season, an amazing average of 10.3 yards gained every time he threw a pass.

The stingy Volunteer defense, which has allowed an average of less than seven points per game, could put Beban to a stern test.

Tennessee is ranked seventh in the nation and its fleet secondary hasn't surrendered a bomb-type touchdown pass this season. Of the nine touchdown passes Beban has completed, eight have been on bombs between 34 and 89 yards.

* * *

Saturday's other games send Oklahoma against Oklahoma State and Morgan State against Florida A&M. The latter is the annual Orange Blossom Classic and will be played in the Orange Bowl Saturday night.

assist in each period. He scored his final goal — to complete the eighth hat trick of his career — early in the final period.

Doug Barkley and Ron Murphy scored the other first period goals for the Red Wings with Val Fonteyne, Alex Delvecchio and MacGregor joining Ullman in the second period.

BRUINS SCORE

Floyd Smith scored 37 seconds into the third period with MacGregor and Ullman adding theirs later.

Both Boston goals, by John Bucyk and Murray Oliver, came in the third period.

Gordie Howe was presented a floral horseshoe in honor of his 600th goal before the game. He was sidelined later when struck on the instep by the puck. X-rays of the injury were negative and he is expected to play Saturday at Toronto.

BEST-EARNING PRO — St. Louisan Dick Weber won only $300 last week in the Professional Bowlers' Association National Championships at Roseville, but the slender strikemaster still finished the No. 1 money winner among the pros this year. Weber won officially $47,675, but fell short of Don Carter's record $49,972.50. Billy Hardwick was No. 2 this year with $34,517.50.

By JERE CRAIG

This is about two bowlers: one is a promising young bowler working toward a college degree; the other is a teen-ager struggling for some fun in life.

Art Pearson is a junior psychology major at Oakland University who spends his spare time challenging local bowling lanes. Last Sunday he tore up the West Side Lanes' No. 3 and 4 pair for a 704 series.

The final game was a 299, the best of the season locally. Pearson was stopped by a seven-pin that didn't budge despite a solid delivery in the pocket.

★ ★ ★

Although missing perfection by one pin, the 21-year-old Southfield resident carried the North Hill Lanes team to a tight win over the host West Side squad in the Oakland County Traveling Classic League. He also won a $50 check from the house.

★ ★ ★

Pearson's bowling future is bright. He has been at it eight years and has progressed into the better classic leagues locally. Last year his top average was 208 in the North Hill Classic and he is hitting 199, 194, 193 in three leagues presently.

TEEN-AGER

The teen-age bowler is named Bill. He doesn't league bowl, although he started in a junior loop when he was several years younger.

But the game and music still are foremost in his mind.

Bill has cataracts on his eyes and, as his mother says, "can hardly see where he's walking." When he bowls, he almost slings the ball from the hip. A good bowler would cringe watching Bill's crude delivery.

Nonetheless, the boys' face lights up when he hears the ball hit the pins. Just a little encouragement from his usually nearby mother or other onlookers excites him.

Bill's future isn't nearly as bright as Art Pearson's. But he is getting every bit as much fun from the game of bowling.

SPARE PINS

The Chapter 31 membership of the 700 Clubs of America let the local participation slide a couple years ago despite this being a hotbed of high scores.

BOWLING

Art Pearson's 299 made most of the news in last weekend's Traveling Classic League, but Ray Brancheau managed to draw a little attention by matching Pearson's 704 series.

Brancheau helped the Sylvan Lanes team gain a first-place tie with the North Hill Lanes squad led by Pearson. Brancheau had 215-235-254 and teammate Don Young 234-225—670.

The top scorers in last week's Huron Bowl Classic action were Bill Smith of Herk's Auto Supply and Joe Roerink of the Moose Lodge No. 182. Smith hit 246—695 and Roerink 245—695.

Paul George posted 265—683 for Oxford Mattress. Smith helped the Herk's team to a 3092 series and an eight-point sweep of the mattressmen. Jim's Standard also blanked its opponent as Lloyd Pearsall recorded a 658. The Moose team leads the race by 10 points over Greendale Screw Products.

★ ★ ★

In Monday's West Side Lanes Classic, Gorman Golf and the Huron andl North Hills' teams whitewashed their foes. Huron stretched its lead to four points over Calbi Music.

By JACOBY & SON

Harry Harkavy and Cliff Russell of Miami Beach have been one of the most successful pairs in this country for several years. A large part of their success is complete partnership confidence. Defending against two spades, Harkavy opened the king of hearts and continued with the ace in spite of Cliff signaling stop with the four spot.

Declarer ruffed and led a club which Harry won with his ace. A third heart was won in dummy and the ace of spades played.

At this point Cliff came up with a tremendous defensive play. He dropped his king of spades on the ace. There are plenty of occasions when you should unblock with a king, but very few when it is the king of trumps.

This was one of them. If he had hung on to the king he would have been thrown in with it and forced to lead a diamond or club toward dummy.

A combination of a diamond lead combined with a nine-spot play by West would have beaten the hand but the trump unblock was more certain.

Declarer continued with a second trump won by Harry's queen. From then on, Harry led hearts at every opportunity and all South could make were two diamonds and his last two trumps, which, added to the three tricks he already had, left him one trick short.

Q—The bidding has been:

What do you do?

A—Bid five spades. Your suits are strong enough so that you can afford to invite a slam at this point. Note that your partner intended to get to four spades all the time.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of rebidding three diamonds, your partner has jumped to four hearts over your two hearts. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Arguing with one in authority not constructive course. You gain most through diplomacy. Be receptive, illustrate points. Take initiative . . . but avoid abrasive statements.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Indirect approach accomplishes most now. Means avoid confrontations. Plant seeds for future growth, opportunity. Fine for writing, visiting, having quiet talk with loved one.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): Good lunar aspect highlights friends, social activity in evening. Don't over-spend. You gain most through sincerity and simplicity. Give attention to mate or partner.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Study ARIES message. Be aware of limitations. Stick to letter of law. Disputes could flare due to misunderstanding. MAKE PEACE GESTURE . . . then others admire you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Accent harmony at home. Don't put too much stock in rumors. People who perform services for you deserve recognition. Highlight diplomacy, understanding. Catch up on correspondence.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Pay heed to calls, messages. One of them could result in EXTRA PROFITS. Be ready to act. Give attention to accounts, policies, business documents.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Recent important decision can now be effected. Be confident. Added responsibility results in greater reward. Plant seeds for future. Go ahead!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Oct. 21): Avoid excess speed, utilize common sense. Direction of your goal could change abruptly. Complete projects. Don't jump at first offer. Best to do more listening than talking.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Excitement in air for you. Avoid excessive, extravagant action. Period features change, travel, variety. Rely upon individual with experience . . . stick with tried-and-true.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Break from routine strongly indicated. News you have been awaiting could come through—with a rush. You are in public eye. Be ready for surprise request. Key is BEING PREPARED.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 20): Don't stray too far from home base. There may be unfinished business. Check various sources. Be sure of facts. Letter received now may contain significant information.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): You are able to make gains based on past experience, contacts. Aggressive friend may not be knowledgeable. Trust your own hunch. Proceed only when all facts are studied.

★ ★ ★

Federal Employes Increase in October

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of federal employes climbed 11,810 from September to October, the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures reported today in its monthly statement.

Civilian agencies increased their payrolls by 5,306 and military agencies by 6,506 in October, the committee said. The total federal employment of 2,528,696, however, was nearly 24,000 less than the 2,542,590 on the payroll at the beginning of the fiscal year last July 1.

Water Heater, Gas Blamed in 14 Deaths

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP) — Wilbur Johnson, Iowa fire marshal, says that a water heater apparently ignited a mass accumulation of gas that exploded in the National Guard Armory here Nov. 24, causing 14 deaths.

★ ★ ★

In a statement Thursday Johnson did not say where the gas came from but said investigators believed the blast was "triggered by a hot water heating unit in the northeast corner of the rifle range."

★ ★ ★

Of the more than 60 persons attending a Thanksgiving eve square dance, 21 are still in hospitals with critical or serious burns.

The fatality toll rose to 14 Thursday with the death of Ray Beckett, 51, of Argyle. Beckett's wife died earlier of burns suffered in the blast.

Mart Irregularly Higher

Big 3 Auto Stocks Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — Big Three motors rose and airlines fell in an irregularly higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

The pace, while reasonably busy, was slower than yesterday's nine-million-share session and Wednesday's ten-million-share day.

★ ★ ★

STEEP LOSSES

Some of the aerospace issues also were down to steep losses, for no apparent reason other than profit taking.

Steels, rails, oils, tobaccos and other major groups showed little pronounced trend but there was a slightly higher balance among the blue chips.

★ ★ ★

The gains on average were slight. The cross currents in the market were about the same as they have been al week, as December tax-loss selling and switching combined with speculative and investment demand.

Prices were mostly higher in active trading on the American they have been all week, as Devices gained 5 and Rowland Products more than 2.

Klansmen Jury Is Deadlocked

Try Again to Reach Verdict, Judge Orders

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A jury trying three Ku Klux Klansmen on charges of civil rights conspiracy growing out of the killing of Viola Gregg Liuzzo reported at 10 a.m. today it was "hopelessly deadlocked." But the judge ordered them to keep trying for a verdict.

★ ★ ★

U. S. District Court Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. reminded the 12 white men on the jury that they had heard testimony from 40 to 50 witnesses and had approximately 50 exhibits which went into evidence.

Then he said, "You haven't commenced to deliberate long enough to reach the conclusion that you are hopelessly deadlocked."

★ ★ ★

The three defendants — Collie Leroy Wilkins, 22, Fairfield, Ala., and Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala. — sat at a table with their attorney.

DEFENSE OBJECTS

Defense attorney Arthur J. Hanes, a former mayor of Birmingham, objected to the judge's remarks to the jury. "I think they are prejudicial to the defendants," he said.

Johnson, himself a former U.S. attorney at Birmingham, told the jurors: "This is an important case. The trial was long and expensive. It was expensive as far as the government was concerned and it was expensive as far as the defendants were concerned."

"You should consider," the judge went on, "that some time this case must be decided. Another jury would be chosen in the same manner and from the same type of people as you 12 men. There's no reason to assume that another 12 men would be more competent to decide than you are."

Alabama White Gets 10 Years for Murder of Negro

ANNISTON, Ala. (UPI)—Hubert Damon Strange, the first white man in modern Southern history to be convicted of murder in a racial slaying, was formally sentenced today to 10 years in prison.

Strange, 25, stood emotionless as Circuit Court Judge Robert Parker imposed the 10-year sentence handed down yesterday by an all-white jury.

Two other white men, Lewis Blevins, 26, and Johnny Ira Defries, 25, are to be tried later.

★ ★ ★

A $10,000 appeals bond was set by Parker and Stoner had 30 days in which to file for an appeal.

Workers Raised $200 for Children's Village

Employes of the Buick Warehouse division of Pontiac Motor yesterday contributed $200 to the Children's Village of Oakland County. They raised the money through the sale of soft drinks and coffee.

It was incorrectly reported yesterday that the money had been raised by UAW Local 653, to which the employes belong.

Rising Costs Feed Fears

Inflation, War Linked

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In citing Viet Nam war needs as a reason for businessmen to hold the price line against inflation, President Johnson linked the two things that the executives have closely tied in their own minds of late.

DAWSON

For many business leaders have feared the Viet Nam military buildup was the spark that could set an orderly but highly expended economy into a boom.

★ ★ ★

And this worry in recent weeks has built up fear of a new inflationary surge.

The rising cost of living and higher wholesale and materials prices have fed such fears. So, too, in its own way has the debate on the merits or perils of rising interest rates.

JOHNSON'S PLEA

President Johnson's plea to hold the wage-price line was addressed to the business council, a group of top executives of American industry, meeting in Washington. He said the line could be held and all of the Viet Nam war needs met, if government and business and labor cooperate.

The spending on the war, now estimated to add perhaps $5 billion more to government outlays next year, could be taken in stride by today's giant-sized economy. Businessmen admit that. What they've worried about is that even without this stimulant, the economy shows every sign of growing to the point of full employment and full use of production capacity. Government spending in other fields than the Viet Nam war also is rising, and seems likely to go higher. This would be a stimulant in itself to the economy.

It's the possibility of an economy working at capacity — with labor shortages developing here and there and with no idle factory facilities to draw on — that arouses the fears of overheating. That is, at some point added upward pressure could set off a boom.

And booms historically have meant inflation, with wages and prices chasing each other uphill. Also historically, there has been a sudden end to the joyride — almost everyone injured in the spill.

CAN BE AVOIDED

The President's view is that this can be avoided. He rejects the idea of conservative monetary authorities that a brake should be put on economic expansion by letting interest rates rise, as demand for loans to finance expansion rise. He thinks this is more likely to crimp prosperity than to provide a safe medicine to ward off inflation.

The President does urge businessmen to resist the temptation to raise prices. They have been pleading that their raw materials and production costs have been going up faster than mechanization can provide a counterbalance. Also some are tempted because competition in their industry has slackened as buying demand grows and idle facilities are put to work.

★ ★ ★

The government also urges labor unions to hold down wage demands, so as not to push up production costs enough to make price rises inevitable.

PREVENT INFLATION

These guidelines, he says, would prevent inflation. And he thinks the Viet Nam war expansion needn't be either the excuse or the cause of overheating the already bubbling economy.

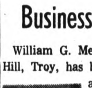
Business Notes

William G. Meese, 2775 Pine Hill, Troy, has been appointed assistant manager of operations by Detroit Edison Co.



MEESE

Meese, a registered engineer, has been general superintendent of the electrical system department of the Edison Co. since 1963.

The November issues of the engineering magazine Metal Progress carries an article by Ralph M. Williams, Pontiac Motor Division's assistant superintendent of plating.

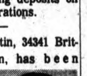
Ronald C. Martin, 34341 Brittany, Farmington, has been named manager of modeling and fabrication, for the Centaur engineering group, recently formed by the Marbon Chemical Division, Borg-Warner Corp.



MARTIN

Martin has been associated with Ford, Chrysler, and American Motors.

Andrew E. Addley of 109 Edgelake, Waterford Township, has announced the recent opening of a physical therapist clinic at 5217 Dixie.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I recently bought some King's Department Stores, which you mentioned in your column some time back. The stock has not been doing anything and I would like your advice as to whether I should hold. I also bought American Hospital Supply, about which I am very much pleased. I am 31-years-old and would like gradually to increase my holdings for future growth." R. Z.

A. When I mentioned King's Department Stores last summer, I said that it had not yet had time to build a solid record of growth and that the shares should be regarded as a growth speculation. I have been disappointed at the stock's failure to move, but I continue to regard the company as well-managed and believe earnings this fiscal year will reach at least $2.40 a share. At this level the stock sells for nine times earnings,a relatively low multiple.

King's has entered its period of probably greatest profits, the holiday season. I advise you to hold your shares for now, since they may increase in value as Christmas buying accelerates. If you should switch, I suggest Pacific Gas & Electric.

Factually speaking there's a lot more to this home than the beautiful evergreens and hardwood trees that grace the acre of ground on which it is nestled. To simply state that the master bedroom is 18x12 or that the luxurious kitchen is 18x12 cannot reflect the feeling of desirability that comes with this big ranch home. But if you are looking for a 3-bedroom home complete with full basement, 2½ baths, separate dining room away from the hustle of the city then we believe an appointment will prove we can give you an excellent investment in good living at $38,000.

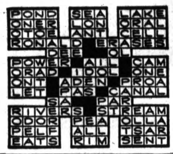
Answer to Previous Puzzle



He's Seeing Scenic Sights on Puerto Rican Beaches

By EARL WILSON

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — In a bamboo hut under the palm trees at the Hotel Americana, there's an afternoon discotheque a-thumping and a-throbbing . . . and you can hear the wild beat of the drums up in your room.

WILSON

There are girls from New York strolling in from the beach and the pool in bikinis cut lower and higher than the Puerto Ricans approve.

But there are red and white Christmas decorations hanging over the main streets in the burning midday sun.

You are inclined, when you're a northerner most of your life, to get all mixed up about what time of year it is.

But it's a good time of year any time down here . . . the fact is, the winter vacation season is on, perhaps a little ahead of time this year, and very, very boomingly.

My biggest excitement was a talk with Billy Daniels, who's singing here at the Americana, fresh from the New York Copacabana and from Sammy Davis' "Golden Boy."

I was walking in the vicinity of the bar near the pool when Billy came up with a half-frown on his face. I had always thought we were friends. I doubt if anybody's written more frequently of his talents.

"Earl," he began, hesitatingly, "you wrote in your column when I was at the Copacabana that I had reformed . . . that I had quit drinking, quit gambling, quit playing around, and that I had gone back to my wife and family and was being a dutiful husband.

"You," continued Billy, severely, "have loused me up all over the country.

"Every time I start whispering sweet nonsense to some girl, she says, 'Get away from me, you've reformed. I read it in Earl Wilson's column.'

"Earl," Billy said, "I very seldom ask for a retraction, but . . ."

Kin of Viet GIs Thank Romney

LANSING (UPI) — "Thank you again Governor Romney for giving the people of Michigan this wonderful opportunity of letting our boys know we care."

This is just one of the hundreds of thank-you notes Gov. Romney has received from mothers, brothers, wives, friends and other relatives for organizing a drive to send Christmas gifts to Michigan servicemen fighting in Viet Nam.

More than 6,000 names of Michigan soldiers and sailors in Viet Nam were sent to Romney at the State Capitol.

An estimated 4,000 Christmas packages probably will be sent to the Michigan servicemen.

PACKAGING

Packaging will be done next week in Detroit by college students.

Excerpts taken from many of the handwritten and typed notes and letters to Romney all expressed their "deep gratitude" to the governor and his staff for organizing "Operation Michigan Christmas in Viet Nam."

A widow receiving a Navy allotment sent in her son's name and asked that a Christmas package be sent to him because she was unable to mail one.

OFF ON HIGHWAY STROLL — President Johnson, accompanied by the first lady, steps off a fast pace on a Texas highway near the LBJ Ranch for a bit of exercise. The President, recuperating from his Oct. 8 major surgery, has been relaxing at his ranch for almost six weeks with just one brief trip to Washington.

About one third of the world supply of bauxite, the ore from which aluminum is obtained, is in the Republic of Guinea.

The aerospace industry in Tulsa, Okla., provides employment for 12,000 persons and brings an $85 million payroll to the area.

Rights Forces Hail Victory in Boycott

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — A Negro boycott which brought the downtown shopping area to the verge of "economic stagnation" was near an end today with civil rights forces claiming a victory.

The three-month boycott brought from both merchants and the city government what the NAACP called a settlement of major racial differences.

★ ★ ★

Charles Evers, state field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the full agreement would be outlined today in a news conference, with Mayor John Nosser sitting in.

Archie Jones, acting head of the Adams County NAACP chapter, said 21 stores which met Negro demands would be taken off the boycott list.

MOST COMPLY

"That's most of them in that Main and Franklin Street area," he said. "Those that refused to comply will stay on the list."

Jones said the 21 merchants opened more job opportunities to Negroes and agreed that bills mailed to Negro customers would bear the courtesy titles of Mr., Mrs. or Miss.

★ ★ ★

Jones said the Negro agreement was not unanimous. The Freedom Democratic party faction, he said, would not go along with the NAACP.

"They don't ever agree to anything," he said. "I don't think they can do much."

IN PROTEST

Secilia Brown, chairman of the party in Adams county, said the group would protest ending the boycott without winning additional concessions. She said she didn't know what form the protest would take.

Evers said the effectiveness of the Negro boycott, which caused an uneasy stir in merchant circles over the South, proved the NAACP argument that the boycott is a powerful civil rights weapon.

The boycott was established after a booby-trap bomb exploded in a Negro leader's car, leaving him severely injured.

Boycott workers harassed or upbraided any Negro shopper who showed up in the downtown area. The economic squeeze became the most effective ever mounted by civil rights forces in the South.

★ ★ ★

Individual merchants said their loss was roughly equal to the amount of Negro trade they had counted on before the boycott. In some cases, it was more than 50 per cent; in many cases about 35 per cent.

'No Charges in 3 Deaths'

Criminal charges will not be brought in connection with the three deaths at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said today.

At the same time, Bronson leveled harsh criticism at several members of the professional staff and the hospital administration.

S. JEROME BRONSON

The prosecutor said he did not disclose any names because there was accumulative responsibility.

Bronson's statements were part of a three-page report issued this morning following a week-and-a-half investigation, which began Nov. 22 after three surgery patients were accidentally given lethal injections of ether.

Included in the report are conclusions and six recommendations aimed at preventing recurrence of the tragedy.

"No criminal prosecution is warranted, although there is abundant evidence of inexcusable laxity and deplorable negligence in the use and control of anesthetic procedures as well as in other related hospital procedures," Bronson added.

"The evidence reflects serious and reprehensible derelictions on the parts of several of the professional staff personnel as well as the hospital administration itself, which in its composite effect resulted in these tragic deaths."

Bronson said the negligence or omissions of duty by any individual does not display the degree of carelessness, recklessness or negligence to make any of them guilty of a crime.

"This office is keenly aware," said Bronson, "of the imperative need to correct all of the conditions which gave rise to these needless tragic deaths in order that there may never again be such a terrible recurrence."

He said that it is necessary to revise an "outmoded" coro-

Weather Lone Gemini Threat

All Else Tabbed OK for Tomorrow's Shot

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Weather, the bugaboo which has plagued many U.S. man in space shots, remained the only question mark today as Gemini 7 astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. made final preparations to start off tomorrow on man's long space venture.

Weatherman E. A. Amman of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported last night he was concerned about a fast-moving trough of rainy weather going across the southern United States toward Florida.

Amman said he hoped the trough would pass through before tomorrow's scheduled 2:30 p.m. (EST) blastoff of the Titan 2 rocket and the Gemini spacecraft.

"The weather may not be as good as we've had it on some past shots," said Charles Mathews, Gemini program manager. "But we feel we have a good chance of going Saturday."

Area Retail Stores Open Longer Hours

Most retail stores in the Pontiac area are providing additional hours for shoppers from now until Christmas.

Spokesmen for the downtown stores and those in the Miracle Mile, Tel-Huron and Pontiac Mall Shopping Centers report nearly all stores are now open until 9 or 9:30 p.m. six days a week.

Britain's Plan for Viet Peace Talks in Doubt

Soviets Appear Cool to Multination Effort Aimed at Cease-Fire

The hope was triggered yesterday when British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart proposed that his country and the Soviet Union take the initiative in setting up a conference aimed at achieving a cease-fire.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, fresh from a four-hour conference with President Johnson, then announced that the United States is prepared to attend almost any Southeast Asia peace conference.

This was the Johnson administration's direct response to the Stewart suggestion, voiced over live television in Moscow and thus interpreted as possibly indicative that the Soviets were interested.

★ ★ ★

But today, Stewart told a Moscow news conference that the Soviet viewpoint on Viet Nam "does not, at present, seem to open a door" toward settlement.

NO AUTHORITY

Asked if Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko reacted sympathetically to the suggestion, Stewart said: "No, I don't think he did. Wilson said "he simply insisted that the Soviet Union has no authority to negotiate."

There was no immediate U.S. reaction to the latest Stewart statement.

The earlier glimmer of hope for peace talks followed by scant hours Johnson's own first significant pronouncement on Viet Nam since his Oct. 8 surgery.

LBJ Orders U.S. Inquiry in Power Failure

Four Military Bases, Million Affected in Two States, Mexico

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A power failure that momentarily blacked out four key military bases and plunged a million persons into darkness in New Mexico, Texas, and Mexico has brought a federal investigation on orders of President Johnson.

The power failure, triggered in El Paso, was a small-scale version of the blackout that left 30 million persons in the northeast United States and Canada without power for up to 10 hours Nov. 9.

All four military bases reported they switched almost immediately to auxiliary power. But many civilian population areas were without power for more than two hours.

Authorities of El Paso Electric Co. said the trouble was traced to failure of a device which regulated flow of natural gas to the two units of the company's Newman Plant near New Mexico's border with Mexico.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson sent J. R. Johnson, a Federal Power Commission engineer from Ft. Worth, Tex., to El Paso to determine what caused the device to fail and report to him.

GOT ASSURANCE

Joseph Laitin, acting press secretary, also said Johnson got assurances that all military bases in the area shifted almost immediately to emergency power supplies and that communications systems were not interrupted.

However, Laitin said Holloman Air Force Base was without runway lights for some time.

Other bases affected in El Paso included Biggs Air Force Base, where Strategic Air Command bombers are on constant alert, and the Army's Ft. Bliss, which has an air defense school

Convict White in Negro Death

Verdict Is First of Kind in Modern Alabama

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP) — For the first time in recent Alabama history, a white man has been convicted of murder in the slaying of a Negro.

Hubert Damon Strange, 25, was convicted yesterday of second degree murder by a white male jury which set his penalty at 10 years in prison.

Judge Robert M. Parker set sentencing for today.

The conviction of Strange for the murder of Negro foundry worker Willie Brewster, 38, followed two recent acquittals of white men in Alabama civil rights slayings.

★ ★ ★

MANSLAUGHTER CASES

There have been at least two manslaughter convictions of whites in modern Southern history for the slaying of Negroes in cases linked to recent racial tension.

The conviction of Strange came as a shock to those in the Calhoun County Courthouse, especially to J. B. Stoner, defense attorney, who had confidently predicted acquittal or, at worst, a mistrial.

Stoner asked quickly that the jury be polled. Each juror told the judge that was his verdict. Stoner said he would appeal.

Strange, a service station attendant, stood with his hands on his hips as the verdict as read. Then he frowned and shrugged his shoulders before he was led away.

For Pontiac, General Motors

Roche: Future Bright

"Pontiac and General Motors will grow together in the future just as surely as we have grown together in the past," General Motors President James M. Roche said yesterday.

Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press, introduced Roche at a luncheon sponsored by The Press.

Speaking to a capacity crowd of 700 community leaders and service club members at the Pontiac Elks Temple, Roche termed the present status of automobile and truck business as "excellent."

He said the industry's future appears bright, and documented why, but then cautioned that no company in the industry is guaranteed any certain share of that prosperity.

"In an industry where competition is as vigorous as ours, a company's success is determined by performance," Roche asserted.

"Providing quality and value is an ever-continuing challenge to us and to every manufacturer in the industry. It is something we work at constantly."

The GM President, making one of his rare public appearances since assuming the high corporate office last June, pointed out the mutual interests of the Pontiac Area and General Motors.

"This city has been a General Motors home town for a long time," Roche said.

★ ★ ★

He illustrated Pontiac's present status as a major automotive center by pointing out that it is the only community in the country with plants producing all three major types of vehicles — passenger cars, trucks and buses.

850,000 CARS

He said Pontiac Motor Division and the Fisher Body Plant will build and sell about 850,000 cars this year, exceeding last year's record sales by 150,000.

"Pontiac's position as third in the industry is solid," Roche asserted.

"And it has been an excellent

Pontiac Police to Demonstrate

Seek Longevity Pay and Hike in Wages

Plans are under way for a demonstration by Pontiac police in their wage dispute with the city.

This was the indication today after a brief meeting yesterday between City Manager Joseph A. Warren and representatives of the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA).

Guy White, a member of the PPOA wage committee, said a demonstration is planned for Tuesday's City Commission meeting.

Object of the demonstration will be to inform the City Commission of the PPOA wage demands.

Policemen seek longevity pay and a wage hike of $49 over the $351 per year offered in a recent salary and job reclassification plan recently adopted by the commission.

SUBMIT PROPOSITIONS

White said both propositions were submitted yesterday to Warren. The city manager indicated the city's position had not changed.

Previously, city officials told police and firemen that no more could be offered than the new wages contained in the salary and job reclassification plan.

Tuesday's demonstration will be the second staged by city employes in just over a year. In Aubust 1964, city employes conducted a demonstration outside of City Hall.

Showers Will End Tonight

Today's occasional showers will end tonight with temperatures turning colder, the low 26 to 32.

The weekend will be partly cloudy with the mercury registering highs of 38 to 44 tomorrow. Partly cloudy and mild is Sunday's outlook.

Precipitation for the next five days will measure less than two-tenths of an inch in showers Monday and snow flurries Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thirty-one was today's low recording prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The thermometer reading at 1 p.m. was 40.

Sales, Output

Car Makers Set Record

DETROIT (AP) — U. S. auto makers built and sold more cars last month than in any previous November in automotive history.

Preliminary sales reports yesterday indicated General Motors, Ford and Chrysler all set November highs.

American Motors figures for November will not be available until today but are expected to show a loss of several thousand units over the 1964 pace.

This is the way the sales figures of the Big Three stacked up:

November	1965	1964
Gen. Motors	434,120	250,676
Chrysler	123,151	105,883
Ford	215,590	178,724
Big 3 total	772,861	535,374
First 11 Months
Gen. Motors	4,264,314	3,590,696
Chrysler	1,259,994	1,009,406
Ford	2,206,524	1,941,877
Big 3 total	7,730,832	6,541,979

The industry's hopes of making November the fifth month this year in which the 800,000 sales mark was reached in a month were pinned to AMC's anticipated report.

Backing up the strong sales reports were preliminary production reports for November which showed that the 900,000 car mark was passed for only the second time in automotive history.

The November output of 912,267 cars was second only to the industry high of 963,100 set in March of this year. No other month has seen the 900,000 mark reached.

Pontiac and Tempest retail deliveries for November were 75,448, establishing an all-time record for the month, it was announced today by John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

This was a 46 per cent increase over the 51,735 cars sold in the same month a year ago, DeLorean pointed out.

Retail deliveries by Pontiac dealers during the final 10 days of November were also the highest for any similar 10-day period, totaling 22,458 units.

The previous November record was set in 1963 when 61,533 cars were sold. The best previous November 21-30 record was established last year when 21,923 units were sold.

★ ★ ★

DeLorean said Pontiac's daily selling rate has never been higher for this time of the year and that dealers are reporting an unprecedented customer interest.

'Paper Circulation to Jump 10 Million'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Daily newspaper circulation in the United States will reach more than 70 million by 1975 — 10 million more than last year's circulation, the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA) said yesterday.

The ANPA said a study shows that Sunday circulation should increase by seven million — by 1975. Newspaper advertising expenditures, $4.14 billion last year, should jump to $6.6 billion by that year—an increase of 59 per cent, according to the study.

Wide Variety of Gifts for Men on Your List

For the gentleman who is a serious TV fan, there is a new outfit this year called a TV lounger.

This two-piece set of 100 per cent cotton comes in black and is piped in red around collar and cuffs.

Bunny Boots will keep an ice fisherman's feet warm as toast on the coldest day. Made from felt, they are treated with a water-repellent finish and cost about $6.

★ ★ ★

HOP ON

An added feature of these is, when hubby leaves for the office you can hop on and do a little trimming yourself. Price range on this item is $14.95 to $99.95.

A watch, tested and guaranteed airtight and watertight, is a perfect gift for the skin diver.

It shows the elapsed time to the minute and comes with a waterproof strap. It costs from $30 to $40.

★ ★ ★

An antiquing kit at $4.98 might be just the thing for a do-it-yourselfer. It comes complete with all materials in a multitude of colors.

The high intensity lamp (This is available in several models) is just right for stamp collectors, crossword puzzle buffs and readers. It ranges in price from $10 to $20.

So what if the man in your life isn't a music lover. Come Christmas morning give him Beethoven's Fifth anyhow. This particular fifth isn't too lyrical but it does contain a lot of spirit.

LARGE CROWD—Nearly 700 persons attended the luncheon yesterday at which GM President James M. Roche spoke on the present and future outlook of the automotive business. Approximately 100 more persons entered the dining area at the Pontiac Elks Temple following the meal to hear Roche speak.

Birmingham Area News

Swainson Topic: 'Christianity, Politics'

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Wayne County Circuit Judge and former governor John B. Swainson will be the guest speaker tonight at a meeting of the Northwest Lutheran Men's Group.

The event is the first quarterly meeting of the organization and will be held at 7 p.m. at Devon Gables.

An active Lutheran layman, Swainson will discuss "Christianity in Politics."

The group is composed of members of five Oakland County and three northwest Detroit churches.

★ ★ ★

They are St. Andrew, Birmingham; Antioch, Farmington; St. Timothy, Oak Park; Calvary and Northwest Emmanuel in Southfield; and Advent, Atonement and St. Peter in Detroit.

Plans have been made to have leaders in industry and labor, education and the community speak at future meetings.

The organization was formed because of the inability of the eight churches to develop strong individual men's groups from among their own congregations.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A scholarship fund in tribute to a former teacher, the late Mrs. Jack Fleet, has been established at the City and Country School.

The child comes from a family of 10 children and was recommended by Mrs. Pearlina Butler, principal of Bagley Elementary School.

Mrs. Fleet taught at City and Country School for six years until she and her husband were killed in an auto accident Sept. 18.

The fund started by friends now totals $450.

BIRMINGHAM — the 100-voice choir of the First Presbyterian Church, 1669 W. Maple, will present the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah" at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Soloists will be Carolyn Grimes, soprano; Alice Dutcher, contralto; Kenneth Ish, tenor; and Amasa Tiffany, bass.

Gas Fumes Kill Child; 7 Persons Hospitalized

DETROIT (UPI) — Five children and their parents were hospitalized today with carbon monoxide poisoning which killed a sixth child in the family.

White Sands Missile Range in southern New Mexico, a missile development center, also was plunged into darkness.

"The mission capability of the Air Force Missile Development Center was maintained, and combat readiness was not affected," a Holloman spokesman said.

An area extending from El Paso to Socorro, N.M., 175 miles to the north, and to Van Horn, Tex., 120 miles to the east, was affected.

And most of the lights of Juarez, Mexico, a nightlife city of about 300,000 population just across the border from El Paso, also went out.

Much of the area affected, including Juarez, is not serviced by El Paso Electric. Spokesmen said, however, that a sudden surge to these areas because of the trouble with El Paso knocked them out.

A spokesman for the Public Service Co. of New Mexico in Albuquerque said the company was feeding up to 113,000 kilowatts of power to the south at one point.

The U. S. Bureau of Reclamation began speeding water through Elephant Butte Dam near Truth Or Consequences, N. M., to increase power production.

year for GMC Truck and Coach Division," he added.

"Deliveries will total 135,000 units for this year and this is the highest total for any peacetime year."

1965 RECORD YEAR

Elaborating on his description of current business conditions, Roche said 1965 will be a record year for the industry with 9.3 million passenger car sales and 1.5 million truck sales.

He attributed this success in part to the general healthy state of the economy which, he said, has been forging ahead for nearly five years without interruption.

Roche also cited new record levels of gross national product, disposable income, total industrial production and employment.

"This progress has been achieved on a sound basis," he stated. "Price levels have been relatively stable and consumers appear to be using credit prudently."

TWO-CAR FAMILIES

Specified as factors in future expected high sale activity in the industry were population growth and the increased number of families needing two or more cars coupled with a rising level of replacement sales.

Roche said GM's confidence in the future is evidenced by a corporate expansion and improvement program of $2.6 billion this year and next.

Roche noted that Pontiac has shared substantially in this program and that $300 million has been spent for improvement of local facilities since 1954.

Roche digressed from his prepared speech to comment on the consent decree that GM and the U.S. government entered into this week in a civil suit charging GM with violating antitrust laws in the manufacture and sale of buses.

He emphasized that nothing in the consent decree will prevent the corporation from continuing to compete to the best of its ability in the bus market.

He said also that the decree will have no effect on employment in Pontiac.

No Charges in Hospital Fatalities

ner's system to handle the medical and scientific aspects of crime, which must include the employment of a qualified pathologist and staff.

Bronson said that the recommendations were made by his staff after consulting with a number of agencies involved in the investigation.

In listing these, Bronson said that the three deaths resulted primarily from failure to observe usual hospital rules.

"These rules are promulgated for the safety of the patients," Bronson said. "When the rules are not enforced, it is the patients who suffer. It is incumbent upon a hospital administrator to insure compliance with such safeguard procedures.

"The evidence of laxity, which we uncovered, seems indicative to us of an administrative weakness."

At no time should any substance be placed in a container with the wrong label, said Bronson.

Bronson said it was imperative that anyone administering a drug rely on his own personal knowledge as to the contents of the container and not assume that a solution prepared by another is what it seems to be.

Bronson charged a breakdown in communications between proper agencies may have resulted in the last two deaths.

"If the autopsy findings had been immediately and diligently followed up with proper communication with appropriate personnel there would not have been the needless loss of the two additional lives," he explained.

THREE DIE

Eight-year-old Kimberly Ann Bruneel of 2599 Ivanhoe, West Bloomfield Township, died Thursday, Nov. 18. Her death was followed the next day by those of William M. Ketchum, 12, of 250 W. Webster, Ferndale, and Mrs. Gerald Covington, 24, of 236 Roland.

Bronson said that in the event of a tragedy such as this an immediate and complete investigation is the best protection against repetition.

Bronson did not learn of the deaths until three days after they occurred.

Investigating the tragedy were Pontiac Police Det. Sgt. John DePauw and August R. Martinez and Assistant Prosecutors Walter D. Schmier and Timothy Dinan.

He said that serious consideration should be given to the need of legislation to provide for licensing of hospitals in order to achieve the highest degree of assurance that adequate facilities, personnel and standards exist and are constantly maintained.

He noted that barber shops, nursing homes and other public service institutions have such statutory requirements.

Bronson said all the information obtained through his office will be made available to the governor, the attorney general and the Food and Drug Administration.

"It is our feeling that the results of this investigation may have implications throughout the state and elsewhere," he concluded.

Another Soviet Attempt for Soft Lunar Landing

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched today another probe in an effort to make a soft landing on the moon with an unmanned spacecraft.

The 2,540-pound probe, Luna 8, was the fourth Soviet attempt this year to make a soft landing. Two earlier attempts crashed on the moon and a third missed it.

U. S. Fires Biggest Nuclear Test of '65

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States today conducted its biggest underground nuclear test announced this year.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the weapons-related test in Nevada, the 22nd announced in 1965, had an intermediate yield—equivalent to an explosive force of 200,000 to one million tons of TNT.

The 1963 nuclear test ban treaty with the Soviet Union permits underground tests but forbids those under water, in the air or in space.

'64 Junior Miss Movie Is Being Shown in Pontiac

Winner of the Pontiac title qualifies for the state contest at Pontiac Northern Jan. 28, 29 and 30.

37 GIs in Viet Nam Killed Last Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon reports that in the week ended last Monday night 37 U.S. servicemen were killed in action in Viet Nam, raising the total number of Americans killed in action since Jan. 1, 1961 to 1,356.

The number of wounded in that week increased by 178 to 6,225 and four more men were listed as missing in action, bringing the total since 1961 to 114.

What do two ballerinas speak of when they get together? Why "The Dance" of course. A reception-luncheon in the Birmingham Athletic Club following her talk at Birmingham's Town Hall Thursday, gave Dame Alicia Markova (right) and Mrs. Sixten Ehrling of Grosse Pointe a chance to shop-talk for awhile. Mrs. Ehrling was the prima ballerina of Sweden's Royal Ballet in Stockholm before coming to America.

Women

Famous Dancer Is Town Hall Speaker

By JEANNE NELSON

Dame Alicia Markova, director of the Metropolitan Opera Ballet Company stood before a packed audience Thursday at Birmingham Town Hall and talked of the years she has spent in ballet.

Chic in a severe black sheer wool tunic dress, the artist moved with such grace that her talk seemed almost to be a part of "The Dance."

In her charming British accent, the artist told of the glamour, excitement, laboriousness and frustrations involved in a ballet career.

Recalling how she started at the age of 14 with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, she related tales of the stringent rehearsals and lessons under the famed Diaghilev.

DIFFERENT NOW

"As in the other arts, music, writing, etc., one must make it a way of life rather than just an occupation," said the noted ballerina.

★ ★ ★

Her amusing descriptions of modern-day rehearsals at the Met brought appreciative laughter from her audience. In these days of unions, coffee breaks and portal-to-portal pay, working hours can become complicated.

"But it's never dull, of that you can be sure," laughs the former prima ballerina.

One year, her company was asked to perform for the Thanksgiving parade in New York. The only rehearsal time was the evening before and outside in the street!

A strange array of fur coats, boots and funny-looking hats didn't hamper this practice which lasted until the morning hours.

WHERE'S HOME?

She remarked that the serious study of ballet should begin at about age eight or nine and that the teacher, not the parents, should judge whether the child has the potential talent for such a career.

★ ★ ★

Following her talk in the Birmingham Theater, the speaker was whisked away to the Birmingham Athletic Club for a luncheon.

★ ★ ★

Career Gals Set Holiday Pace Early

Mrs. Gertrude Harned's narration of colored slides of her trip to the Holy Land brought vivid realization of the meaning of Christmas.

★ ★ ★

TELLS COMMITTEES

Churchwomen Set Their Holiday Tea

Will Play Concert

Two of Detroit's most distinguished musicians, Mischa Kottler, pianist and Mischa Mischakoff, violinist, will appear in recital tonight at 8:30 p.m. in Oakland University's Gold Room.

Sorority Has Yule Party

Members of Rho chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa sorority gathered Thursday in the Schoolhouse Road home of Mrs. Walter Sheffield for a Christmas party.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Melvin Newton introduced Mrs. George Morrow who told the story, "A Chaparral Christmas" by O. Henry and read the poem, "Ex Ore Infanticum" by Francis Thompson.

Wilma Webb was the cohostess.

Clergyman's Reasons

He Has Right to Refuse

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We took our daughter and her boyfriend to our minister's and asked him to marry them right away.

Our daughter is 16 and this kid is 17. It was a "have - to" case, but that's beside the point. The minister talked to the kids separately and then he came out and told us that he wouldn't marry them.

ABBY

Now this man calls himself an EPISCOPALIAN minister! His excuse was that he didn't think such a marriage would last!

Well, we got another minister to marry those kids, but I want to know if it isn't the DUTY of a clergyman to perform a marriage ceremony when he's asked to?

Since when is HIS opinion on how long the marriage will last important?

MOTHER OF THE GIRL

DEAR MOTHER: I don't know where "duty" ends and conscience begins in a case of this kind.

But if a clergyman feels that the marriage is doomed to failure, or both parties are not equally willing, I should think it is his privilege to refuse the blessings of the church to such a union.

DEAR ABBY: Was I wrong to tell my mother-in-law that she shouldn't wear so many charm bracelets all at once?

She has six charm bracelets loaded with huge charms, and she wears them constantly. They make so much noise, it is very embarrassing.

Even though the charms are beautiful, individually, they look so showy and overdone when they're all worn together. She became very angry with me when I mentioned this to her.

Was I wrong? I assure you I did it with the best of intentions in a very respectful way.

IN THE DOGHOUSE

DEAR IN: I happen to agree with you. Moderation is essential to good taste in everything. But there is no "respectful" way to volunteer criticism of this kind. (Restraint also has its charm.)

Christmas of the Past Recreated in Museum

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Just as the worst of Victorian furniture was overelaborate, so were their Christmas decorations. People in that period seem to have had a horror of an uncovered or uncluttered space.

But sometimes the effect can be delightful as is the case with the Christmas show at Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

Opening today, and continuing through Jan. 2, the special exhibit displays the type of decorations our forefathers used — from the simple Colonial days up through the end of the 19th century.

Earlier this year, the Museum had sponsored a series of lectures on "Living with Antiques" and had set up period rooms as examples. The staff, using these same rooms, decorated each in its appropriate manner.

DESIGN IN GREEN

Cedar roping was used in great profusion in Victorian days, according to Godey's Lady's Book and Harper's Magazine, two of the authorities used in the research.

Remember that houses at that time did not have central heat and these greens would not have dried out to become a fire hazard.

★ ★ ★

It is an effective means of decorating and could be easily adapted to outdoor use. A mammoth star of cedar roping would look splendid on a white brick wall. And if you fireproof your greens, you could use a small amount like this indoors.

In addition to the rooms, there are displays of early Christmas cards, antique ornaments and recipes for Christmas sweets of a bygone era.

RIP VAN WINKLE

During the week of Dec. 27, the Village Repertory Company will present nightly performances of "Rip Van Winkle" in the Henry Ford Museum theater.

This is the famous Joseph Jefferson adaptation which he starred in from 1865 to 1895.

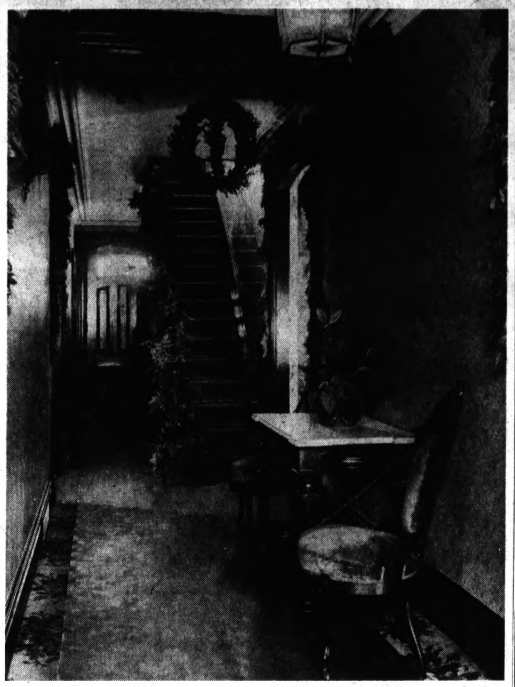
The Museum and Village are open the year around (except Christmas Day). Winter visiting hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily for the Village; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and to 6 p.m. on weekends for the Museum.



The lower hallway of historic Webster House at Greenfield Village has been decorated in authentic late 19th century style with cedar roping and poinsettias. Several of the historic homes and buildings of the Village are decorated in accord with their period during the Christmas at Greenfield Village program, today through Jan. 2.

First Ph.D. Gives Talk

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — The first woman to receive a Ph.D. from the University of South Carolina has scored another first here.

Dr. Dera Dry Parkinson of Albermarle, N.C., returned to the campus as the first woman ever invited to address the USC chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at its annual banquet.

Holder of five college degrees, Dr. Parkinson received her doctorate in psychology here in 1927. She is widely known as an educator, lecturer, author, parliamentarian, scholar and researcher.

Marble Game Is Mama's Helper

To amuse the youngsters on a bad weather day, cut a large circle of cardboard. Draw stars around it about two inches from the edge, making five stars to the circle. Then put one star in the center.

Number each star, 5, 10, 15 and so on. Let the youngsters shoot marbles at the stars. The first to get 100 points is the winner.

Revamp the Comics

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

At the last meeting of the newspaper publishers in New York, he warned that the comic pages need to be revamped.

At the present time, he said, 72 per cent of all comic strip readers are adults.

That is bad news for newspapers!

And you parents should help cultivate the newspaper reading habit in your youngsters.

★ ★ ★

"Mommy," asked a 7-year-old recently, "What can I read?"

It was late afternoon and the paper boy had just tossed the evening paper on the front porch.

Alas, there wasn't a single comic strip on the entire page that was slanted to grade schoolers.

"But, Dr. Crane," some of you may protest, "don't we have several good child comics today?"

That all depends on how you employ that word "child."

SEVERAL

True enough, there are several humorous comics that contain child characters.

Yet it is the youngsters in the early grades who should be converted into ardent fans for newspapers!

Children below the teens don't enjoy the wisecracking comics that make adults laugh.

For example, puns and other twists of words leave them cold, though Mamma may laugh and Daddy may chuckle.

But the comic page is the "one and only" avenue by which grade school youngsters will enter upon regular newspaper reading.

This vital role of helping change America into a reading nation, is one of the major obligations of newspapers.

But it is a 2-way problem, for the editors can revamp the comic pages but you parents should then encourage your youngsters to read these comics.

Dr. Edward Brandstadt Says:

Age, Pressure Cause Digestive Illness

Q—What causes diverticulosis—or is it diverticulitis? Is there any treatment besides operation?

They are very common in the large bowel of persons who are over 40 and their number increases with age.

BRANDSTADT

Age and undue pressure in the digestive tract are the only known causative factors.

★ ★

By increasing the pressure in the bowel, strong purgatives and irritating (soap suds) enemas will aggravate this condition.

BECOME INFLAMED

When the outpouchings, or diverticulae, become inflamed the condition is called diverticulitis.

When they are not inflamed they usually cause no symptoms and may be discovered as an incidental finding when X rays of the colon are made.

In the treatment of diverticulitis, which is often mistaken for appendicitis, bed rest, a bland diet and, in some cases, antibiotics are the first line of defense.

★ ★ ★

BLAND DIET

The bland diet recommended, unlike that for ulcerative colitis which should contain no vegetables and fruit but no bran, corn or tough skins, such as those of large amount of cooked vegetables or fruit, should contain apples and tomatoes.

AP Photofax

If the condition becomes chronic it may be necessary to remove the lower segment of the colon (sigmoid) as this is the area in which the greatest involvement usually occurs.

Q — What is fibrosis of the bone? Is there a cure for it?

IFRST NOTICEABLE

It is usually first recognized when a person is between 8 and 20.

This, too, usually produces no symptoms but there may be slight pain on pressure over the tumor.

If X ray shows that, at the tumor site, the bone is weakened and in danger of breaking under a moderate strain, it is best to have the tumor scraped out and replaced with bone chips, which will reinforce the weakened bone.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: An air wave.

NEEDED: Cardboard tube, paper, glue, a candle flame, and two blocks of wood.

DO THIS: Make a cone from the paper and glue it on the cardboard tube as shown. Place the piece of paper over the other end of the tube and hold it with a rubber band. (Tissue paper is good for this experiment.)

Point the cone toward the candle flame and clap the boards together at the other end of the tube.

The air wave created as the boards come together will come through the tube and may be seen to move the candle flame at the other end.

HERE'S WHY: If we do not cover the back end of the tube a stream of air created by the blocks as they come together will travel through the tube and blow out the candle flame.

We do not want the stream; we simply want a wave. The wave here is very similar to a sound wave and travels at the speed of sound through the tube.

NEXT WEEK: The Rising Bubble.

A collection of the "Science For You" experiments is in book form under the name "Science Circus." It is on sale in book stores, or may be ordered from Bob Brown, the author, care of The Pontiac Press.

State Tells Ohio Not to Try Repeat of 1835 Land Deal

LOST PENSINULA (AP) — Michigan officials with long memories warned the State of Ohio Thursday that it can't get away with a repeat of its performance of 1835.

It was about that time that "Toledo was wrongfully wrested from Michigan, then a voiceless territory, by a strong, established state," said Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

★ ★ ★

The so-called "Toledo War" of 1835 resulted in Michigan's loss of the "Toledo Strip"—a 400-square-mile piece of land stretching from the Indiana border to Lake Erie. As a consolation prize, Michigan got much of the Upper Peninsula.

NORTH OF TOLEDO

The Lost Peninsula juts north from the city limits of Toledo into Lake Erie. About a square mile at the northern end of the finger of land belongs to Michigan. It's cut off from the rest of its home state and the only way a Michigan resident can get there on an overland route is to drive south into Ohio, around a bay and back north into Michigan.

Toledo, searching for recreational facilities, has cast covetous eyes at the Michigan township in recent months.

★ ★

"So far as my office is concerned," Kelley said, "not an inch of this peninsula will be ceded to any other state, or to any municipality of another state."

Toledo officials have been thinking of buying a partially completed marina on the Michigan side of the line as a recreational facility.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION

Kelley, however, said he did not think it would be possible without a vote of the people, legislative action or congressional approval—"or possibly all three."

"This peninsula has never been 'lost' to our state...it is an integral part of Michigan," he added.

Kelley produced a letter from the State Department of Education saying the loss of the isolated township would reduce the equalized valuation of the Mason Consolidated School District by $346,392.

The letter from Roger Boline, consultant for administrative services to the department, also said the loss would reduce the bonding power of Monroe Community College District by some $4,000 and "might cause difficulty in the legality of (a pending) bond issue."

State Attorney Nicholas Olds steered the conversation to a border dispute that has never been settled: where in Lake Erie do Michigan waters begin and Ohio waters end?

★ ★

"Not only do we have the possibility of disputes over mineral and oil rights, but also a question of jurisdiction over fishermen and law violations or accidents on the lake," he said.

★ ★ ★

Kelley said he intended to discuss the problem with Ohio Atty. Gen. William Saxby at a regional conference of attorneys general in Detroit next week.

★ ★ ★

He and Ohio Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., D-Toledo, agreed that both states probably could settle the dispute peacefully through boundary commissions.

LINES OPEN

They agreed to "keep lines of communication open.

Involved are some 195 square miles of Lake Erie, Olds said. He cited two Ohio surveys that show the boundary angling at 45 degrees and 66 degrees to the northeast from the east-west land boundary.

★ ★ ★

There also is legal evidence indicating the border might continue the land boundary in a straight line until it meets the Canadian border in the lake.

Romney, Staebler Will Get Awards

LANSING (AP)—First annual political leadership awards will be presented to Gov. George Romney and Democratic National Committeeman Neil Staebler Monday in Detroit by the Michigan Center for Education in Politics.

★ ★ ★

The awards by the center located at Western Michigan University are for "outstanding contributions" through their political parties. Selections were made by a committee of college and university political scientists.

Mother Wins Over Army

DENVER (UPI) — Robert Schnabel, a 19-year-old draftee whose mother challenged the U.S. Army and won, will spend Christmas at home instead of in the drab olive surroundings of an Army base.

★ ★ ★

"Bob thinks people are going to call him a slacker," Mrs. Norma Riedel said of her son. "Well, he isn't. I want him to serve, but I would like him home for Christmas."

Mrs. Riedel, 41, got mad when she learned Wednesday her son was to be inducted into the Army at 7 a.m. Dec. 23. She protested to President Johnson and the Army.

In identical telegrams sent to Johnson and the 5th Army headquarters in Chicago, Mrs. Riedel said:

★ ★ ★

"One of America's mothers would like to know if our war position is so crucial that we have to draft our sons during a holy week. Or are we just taking the Christ out of Christmas?"

Mrs. Riedel won her battle last night. A Pentagon spokesman in Washington said it was Army policy not to call inductees between Dec. 23 and Dec. 26.

The Army official said draftees who cannot report to reception staions before Dec. 23, will not have to leave home before Dec. 26 — the day after Christmas.

"I'm pleased to the high heavens," the Denver mother said. "Thank God. Thank God. I want my son to serve. It's his duty. But I don't want him on the road with a bunch of strangers on Christmas Eve."

"There's no use crying about it," he said. "I'm against my mom for making the fuss. It's really embarrassing."

Welfare in Reverse

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Esther Laier, who died Oct. 8, is the first known person to leave money to the Erie County Welfare Department. Miss Laier, who had never received welfare aid, left her $25,000 estate for welfare recipients.

WINS HER BATTLE — Mrs. Norma Riedel of Denver and her son, Robert Schnabel, 19, talk with reporters about her angry telegram to President Johnson. Mrs. Riedel was upset by the Dec. 23 date set for her son's drafting into the Army. She said she wants her son to serve but would like him home for Christmas. She won her battle last night when the Pentagon said inductees would not be called between Dec. 23 and 26.

Italian Film Output Up

ROME (AP) — The Italian Movie Producers Association reports 221 films completed in the first 11 months of 1965, 21 more than in the same period last year. In this year's batch, 77 were financed by foreign capital entirely and 64 in part.

'Exciting Experience'

Grant Anticipates Fatherhood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "The nicest thing about it so far," said Cary Grant of his impending fatherhood, "is the way people tell me: 'You come up and are about to have a totally new and rather wonderful experience, like something you have never known before.'

THOMAS

★ ★ ★

This was a new Cary Grant, a man seemingly in awe at discovering it is never too late to found a family. He looks like the old Cary Grant, which, as everyone knows, is not bad at all. He will be 62 next month, and his hair is iron-gray. But he walks with the spring of a high jumper.

★ ★ ★

The evergreen actor is making his 62nd starring film, "Walk, Don't Run." Between scenes he seemed not at all disenchanted by the flood of comments and gags that followed the news that his wife, Dyan Cannon, is expecting a baby.

★ ★ ★

"How could I be tired of it?" he inquired. "It's such a completely fresh and exciting experience for me. Everyone has been wonderful in offering their congratulations.

STREAM OF LIFE

"You know, it's intriguing to be entering the stream of life. It's nice, too, to be able to sit back and watch it go by. But when you become a father, you become a participant once more. I'm enjoying it."

★ ★ ★

His immediate problem is where to house his family. "Both Dyan and I have bachelor houses; if only we could get the two houses together, we would solve the situation," he said.

★ ★ ★

Failing that, the Grants have been shopping for a larger place. They thought they had found one in Benedict Canyon, but it turned out to be the estate where the Beatles, Rolling Stones and other favorites fend off their clamorous fans during visits here. That didn't fit into the Grants' pattern of life.

LIVE QUIETLY

"Dyan likes to live quietly, and so do I," said he.

The arrival date has been reported to be May, but Grant isn't sure such things can be calculated with any exactitude.

★ ★ ★

One thing seems fairly certain: The birth won't be multiple. Neither Cary nor his wife has a history of twins in their families. He added that he had no preferences to boy or girl. "Whatever comes will be fine."

While Grant continues to display youth in his prviate life, he aims to act his age on the screen. He holds to the theory, which may be contested by millions of women, that he is too advanced in years to play romance in films.

★ ★ ★

"We're playing to a young audience in theaters today," he argued, "and they don't want to see me making love. I solve that in this picture by getting the two young people (Samantha Eggar and Jim Hutton) together. It works out very well."

JFK-Film Earnings May Hit $1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Information Agency's film of the life of the late President John F. Kennedy may earn more than $1 million for the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts when it is released commercially, a spokesman for the center said Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Philip J. Mullin, administrative officer of the center, made the estimate in announcing that nationwide commercial distribution would begin in about 90 days. The center paid USIA $122,000 for the film, entitled "Years of Lightning, Day of Drums."

Jury Is Still Out in Liuzzo Case

3 Klansmen Charged With Rights Violation

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A federal jury is deliberating the fate of three Alabama Ku Klux Klansmen on conspiracy charges stemming from the death of a white civil rights worker, Viola Gregg Lizzo.

U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. locked up the white male jurors for the night late Thursday after they failed to reach a decision during more than seven hours of deliberation.

★ ★ ★

Collie LeRoy Wilkins Jr., 22, of Fairfield, Ala.; William Orville Eaton, 41, and Eugene Thomas, 42, both of Bessemer, Ala., are charged with conspiring to violate the civil rights of Americans.

The indictment against the trio makes no mention of Mrs. Liuzzo, mother of five and wife of Detroit Teamsters Union official Anthony Liuzzo, but the testimony centered around her death.

FATALLY SHOT

She was fatally shot March 25 as she ferried demonstrators back to Selma following the historic march on Montgomery.

The jury got the case at 10:04 a.m. Thursday after an hour charge by Judge Johnson.

★ ★ ★

Johnson told the jurors, "I as the judge and you as the jury are not concerned with furthering or impeding any political or sociological cause" such as those advocated by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference or the Ku Klux Klan.

The judge also said that although the defendants were being tried together, "they stand guilty or innocent separately from each other."

Rising Costs Feed Fears

Inflation, War Linked

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In citing Viet Nam war needs as a reason for businessmen to hold the price line against inflation, President Johnson linked the two things that the executives have closely tied in their own minds of late.

DAWSON

For many business leaders have feared the Viet Nam military buildup was the spark that could set an orderly but highly expended economy into a boom.

★ ★ ★

And this worry in recent weeks has built up fear of a new inflationary surge.

The rising cost of living and higher wholesale and materials prices have fed such fears. So, too, in its own way has the debate on the merits or perils of rising interest rates.

JOHNSON'S PLEA

President Johnson's plea to hold the wage-price line was addressed to the business council, a group of top executives of American industry, meeting in Washington. He said the line could be held and all of the Viet Nam war needs met, if government and business and labor cooperate.

The spending on the war, now estimated to add perhaps $5 billion more to government outlays next year, could be taken in stride by today's giant-sized economy. Businessmen admit that. What they've worried about is that even without this stimulant, the economy shows every sign of growing to the point of full employment and full use of production capacity. Government spending in other fields than the Viet Nam war also is rising, and seems likely to go higher. This would be a stimulant in itself to the economy.

It's the possibility of an economy working at capacity — with labor shortages developing here and there and with no idle factory facilities to draw on — that arouses the fears of overheating. That is, at some point added upward pressure could set off a boom.

And booms historically have meant inflation, with wages and prices chasing each other uphill. Also historically, there has been a sudden end to the joyride — almost everyone injured in the spill.

CAN BE AVOIDED

The President's view is that this can be avoided. He rejects the idea of conservative monetary authorities that a brake should be put on economic expansion by letting interest rates rise, as demand for loans to finance expansion rise. He thinks this is more likely to crimp prosperity than to provide a safe medicine to ward off inflation.

The President does urge businessmen to resist the temptation to raise prices. They have been pleading that their raw materials and production costs have been going up faster than mechanization can provide a counterbalance. Also some are tempted because competition in their industry has slackened as buying demand grows and idle facilities are put to work.

★ ★ ★

The government also urges labor unions to hold down wage demands, so as not to push up production costs enough to make price rises inevitable.

PREVENT INFLATION

These guidelines, he says, would prevent inflation. And he thinks the Viet Nam war expansion needn't be either the excuse or the cause of overheating the already bubbling economy.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I recently bought some King's Department Stores, which you mentioned in your column some time back. The stock has not been doing anything and I would like your advice as to whether I should hold. I also bought American Hospital Supply, about which I am very much pleased. I am 31-years-old and would like gradually to increase my holdings for future growth." R. Z.

A. When I mentioned King's Department Stores last summer, I said that it had not yet had time to build a solid record of growth and that the shares should be regarded as a growth speculation. I have been disappointed at the stock's failure to move, but I continue to regard the company as well-managed and believe earnings this fiscal year will reach at least $2.40 a share. At this level the stock sells for nine times earnings, a relatively low multiple.

King's has entered its period of probably greatest profits, the holiday season. I advise you to hold your shares for now, since they may increase in value as Christmas buying accelerates. If you should switch, I suggest Pacific Gas & Electric.

Q. "How are over-the-counter purchases handled?" E. L.

A. OTC purchases are made just like any other, as far as you personally are concerned. They are handled differently by your dealer, who acquires stock by negotiation rather than by auction on the floor of an exchange, as in the case with listed stocks.

If your investment house acts as a broker, it will buy shares for your account and bill you as agent, charging about the same commission as you would have to pay for a listed stock. If it acts as a dealer, it will bill you as principal at a net price which includes the normal profit.

Jury Deliberates for 3rd Day on Kansan's Fate

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Tension mounted today as the Federal Court jury deciding the fate of Kansas farm boy Duane Pope entered its third day of deliberations. Pope is charged with shooting three persons to death in a bank robbery.

★ ★ ★

Because the jury of 10 men and two women retired early yesterday for the second time, there was speculation that a verdict would be returned sometime today.

Rev. Charles Wretling, minister of the Methodist church which the 22-year-old college graduate attended in his hometown of Roxbury, Kan., comforted the defendant during the long hours of waiting.

Yesterday he read Pope's favorite passage of scripture and said "He seemed to respond."

★ ★ ★

"We are hoping and praying for the best," said Mrs. Earl J. Pope, the defendant's mother. "That is all we can do. We are sure Duane was sick."

Kin of Viet GIs Thank Romney

LANSING (UPI) — "Thank you again Governor Romney for giving the people of Michigan this wonderful opportunity of letting our boys know we care."

This is just one of the hundreds of thank-you notes Gov. Romney has received from mothers, brothers, wives, friends and other relatives for organizing a drive to send Christmas gifts to Michigan servicemen fighting in Viet Nam.

More than 6,000 names of Michigan soldiers and sailors in Viet Nam were sent to Romney at the State Capitol.

★ ★ ★

An estimated 4,000 Christmas packages probably will be sent to the Michigan servicemen.

PACKAGING

Packaging will be done next week in Detroit by college students.

Excerpts taken from many of the handwritten and typed notes and letters to Romney all expressed their "deep gratitude" to the governor and his staff for organizing "Operation Michigan Christmas in Viet Nam."

A widow receiving a Navy allotment sent in her son's name and asked that a Christmas package be sent to him because she was unable to mail one.

Rights Forces Hail Victory in Boycott

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — A Negro boycott which brought the downtown shopping area to the verge of "economic stagnation" was near an end today with civil rights forces claiming a victory.

The three-month boycott brought from both merchants and the city government what the NAACP called a settlement of major racial differences.

★ ★ ★

Charles Evers, state field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the full agreement would be outlined today in a news conference, with Mayor John Nosser sitting in.

MOST COMPLY

"That's most of them in that Main and Franklin Street area," he said. "Those that refused to comply will stay on the list."

Jones said the 21 merchants opened more job opportunities to Negroes and agreed that bills mailed to Negro customers would bear the courtesy titles of Mr., Mrs. or Miss.

★ ★ ★

Jones said the Negro agreement was not unanimous. The Freedom Democratic party faction, he said, would not go along with the NAACP.

"They don't ever agree to anything," he said. "I don't think they can do much."

IN PROTEST

Secilia Brown, chairman of the party in Adams county, said the group would protest ending the boycott without winning additional concessions. She said she didn't know what form the protest would take.

Evers said the effectiveness of the Negro boycott, which caused an uneasy stir in merchant circles over the South, proved the NAACP argument that the boycott is a powerful civil rights weapon.

The boycott was established after a booby-trap bomb exploded in a Negro leader's car, leaving him severely injured.

Boycott workers harassed or upbraided any Negro shopper who showed up in the downtown area. The economic squeeze became the most effective ever mounted by civil rights forces in the South.

Individual merchants said their loss was roughly equal to the amount of Negro trade they had counted on before the boycott. In some cases, it was more than 50 per cent; in many cases about 35 per cent.
