Ford, Chrysler Cut Price Hikes

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT — Chrysler Corp. today followed Ford's lead and called off a big chunk of a proposed increase in 1967 auto prices. The twin move was aimed at keeping them more competitive with General Motors prices.

Ford, first of the auto makers to announce a price increase which it said averaged $107 a car, chopped $41 from that amount last night just four days before its 1967 cars go on sale.

Chrysler, second to list prices and second to cut back on them, said its new car stickers will average $68 more than 1966 base prices. Originally Chrysler had announced increases which figured out to $103.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler said its revised 1967 prices "include a change from standard to optional on the outside remote control rear view mirror on all Chrysler cars except Imperial on which it will continue to be standard."

IT WAS OBVIOUS

The company gave no other explanation of its decision to roll back prices, but the explanation was obvious. Both Chrysler and Ford had been caught off balance when, after they had announced price increases for their forthcoming new models, General Motors—giant of the industry—came up with smaller increases.

That put the pressure on Chrysler and Ford and the price revision followed.

Ford made automotive history last night when it became the first major auto producer ever to roll back its prices after they had been announced publicly.

Ford, which figured its original price increases averaged $107 a car, cut $41 from that increase, leaving price tags on the new cars which go on sale Friday an average of $66 over those of a year ago.

The Ford move, and similar action from Chrysler, had been anticipated since General Motors announced that the increase on its 1967 sticker prices would be less than those announced by Ford and Chrysler.

American Motors, fourth largest of the auto firms, is to announce its prices a couple of days before its cars go on sale Oct. 6.

Ford, first of the auto companies to announce 1967 prices on Sept. 20, bore the brunt of criticism ranging from the White House to Solidarity House, home of the United Auto Workers.

LBJ to Attend Manila Talks on Viet War

Going to Philippines During October for 7-Nation Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson agreed today to attend next month's seven-nation conference of chiefs of state in Manila aimed at trying to end the Vietnamese war.

The conference was set up under the guidance of President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines for all the countries with military forces engaged in the conflict.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers told reporters: "President Johnson is glad to agree to this invitation and will be glad to join the meeting of the other chiefs of state or government, which are participating nations in the Philippines, on or after Oct. 18."

Moyers said the date still is tentative. As to whether Johnson would use the trip to Manila as a departure point for a major swing through other portions of Southeast Asia, to Australia and New Zealand, for example, Moyers said that at this point there is no schedule for an onward trip.

There have been numerous reports from the area that a Johnson visit is expected.

ACROSS PACIFIC

The journey across the Pacific will take Johnson out of the country in the heat of the political campaign.

It, in some aspects, was reminiscent of 1952, when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower scored toward the close of the Presidential campaign with a promise that were he elected, "I will go to Korea."

Marcos proposed the conference last night. He invited allied leaders to meet in Manila Oct. 18 to "review prospects for a peaceful settlement of the conflict" in Viet Nam.

Taubman Plan Hearing Tonight

The merits of a proposed solution to the long unanswered question of downtown Pontiac redevelopment will be aired tonight.

A public hearing on plans for a $40-million shopping center has been scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Pontiac Central High School auditorium.

Purpose of the hearing is to explain and answer questions from the public on the proposed contract between the city and Oak Park developer A. Alfred Taubman.

Subject of debate for nearly a month, the Taubman plan calls for construction of a shopping center on a 63-acre parcel south of Lawrence.

Although much of the proposed Taubman complex is spelled out only in tentative terms in the contract, some of the specific points provide:

- Taubman is to have up to one year to secure two major tenants of specified high caliber.

★ ★ ★

- Once the developer obtains the two tenants, he is to purchase the necessary land from the city for his buildings.

(The actual price of the land is to be determined by a reappraisal, which could change the tentative offer of $1.05 a square foot or $840,000. If the price exceeds this, Taubman can reconsider his offer.)

- A 40-year bond issue estimated at $8.9 million is to be sold to finance the parking lot to surround the center. The city is to acquire, build and operate the parking area.

★ ★ ★

- Taubman is to pay an annual rental of $450,000 for a lease on the parking area, providing the total cost reaches $8.9 million.

Essentially, the Taubman plan provides for the developer to build and operate the shopping center of about 80 stores. The city, meantime, is to provide the parking.

Objections to the Taubman proposal, most of which have come from proponents of a design for the total city by a University of Detroit study, have centered on two basic questions.

- What alternate traffic route is to be provided if the Auburn-Orchard Lake crossover is closed as first envisioned by the Taubman plan
- What is to be the city's financial contribution to the Taubman plan?

APPROVAL EXPECTED

Some of these questions likely will be answered at tonight's public hearing.

Airline Workers Plan to Strike Line Tomorrow

NEW YORK (AP)—The AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union overwhelmingly rejected an American Airlines contract offer today and TWU said its 12,000 nonoperating employes would strike the airline at 5:45 a.m. (Pontiac time) tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

A union spokesman here said the vote was 6,139 against acceptance of the company offer and 186 for acceptance.

He said this meant a "vote to strike" and that the strike action was thereupon approved by top union leaders.

American operates the nation's second largest air passenger service.

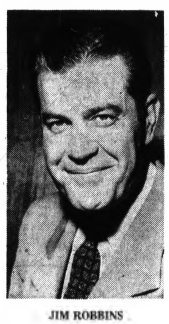
★ ★ ★

The company and union had continued informal talks despite expiration of a final cooling off period last midnight that marked the exhaustion of strike-blocking procedures under the Railway Labor Act.

Crash Kills Industrialist

An official investigation was under way today following a private jet-plane explosion which claimed the lives of Royal Oak industrialist James Robbins and four other persons yesterday.

Federal Aviation Agency officials were told the jet, believed piloted by Robbins, disintegrated in "a brilliant flash" shortly after takeoff from Robbins' Flying B Ranch north of Platte, S. D.



JIM ROBBINS

Killed in the crash besides Robbins were his former wife, Frances; their son, Leslie, 17; and two of Robbins' employes, Clair W. Curry, 60, and Geoffrey Scarrett, in his 30s.

The death plane was an Aero Commander similar to two jets whose takeoffs and landings from a private strip at 14 Mile and Stephenson in Troy were the center of a controversy among residents of the area last summer.

Robbins headed the Jim Robbins Seat Belt Co., which he recently moved to the South from Rochester, as well as a score of other plants, companies, and divisions throughout the American business world.

He started in business with a single Detroit area service station and became sole owner of 21 companies with total annual sales of more than $60 million.

He owned textile mills in this state and Florida, was on the executive committee of Freuhauf Corp., and a large stockholder in Chrysler Corp.

His career also included a tangle with the United Auto Workers Union, which struck his seat belt company in July. Robbins then transferred operations of the 200-employe firm to the South despite union protests.

He also was a hunting and auto racing enthusiast. He has had 29 cars entered in Indianapolis 500-mile races.

Robbins learned to fly at age 13 in Hot Springs, Ark. He owned three small jet planes and 17 other aircraft.

Robbins and his wife were divorced last year, but friends said they remained on good terms. Two other children, in Detroit, survive.

Bell Walkout Spreads Throughout County

The strike against Michigan Bell Telephone Co. spread throughout Oakland County today while the union president of the Communication Workers of America in Pontiac warned that workers will remain off the job until their demands are met.

"They are all determined to get what we've been asking for years," said Joseph A. Veresh, head of the Local 4012, whose 675 members walked out when the statewide contract with Michigan Bell expired at midnight Friday.

The Pontiac local was the first to picket the company, despite warnings of union and management officials that the strike was illegal.

Since then other locals in the area, and several others in the state have gone out on strike, according to Veresh.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, Local 4016 in Royal Oak with about 1,800 members followed Pontiac's lead, affecting facilities in Birmingham, Clawson and Southfield.

In Pontiac and other affected areas, Michigan Bell continued to use supervisory personnel in handling the work of operators and installers who stayed off the job, according to district Manager E. Eugene Russell.

Russell said that except for peak periods service is being provided as normal.

This may not continue, said Veresh, because the supervisory personnel transferred here during the initial stages of the strike are now being returned to their own offices to cope with problems.

★ ★ ★

In Pontiac, union members want Bell to reclassify the district from a Class 2 to a Class 1 area, which would increase their wages.

They also protest an 18-month contract proposed by the company. They want a three-year contract with a provision to open it yearly.

'Hoffa's Rights Not Violated'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department denied Monday that Teamster boss James R. Hoffa's constitutional rights had been violated in his 1964 trial for trying to bribe a jury.

The government said in a brief filed at the Supreme Court that the testimony of a government informant was not "unwanted intrusion by the government."

Welfare Chief Quits; Aide Is Successor

George H. Williams resigned today as director of the Oakland County Department of Social Welfare, effective Oct. 1.

★ ★ ★

He will be replaced by Douglas H. Hoard, who had served as assistant director under Williams.

The County Social Welfare Board, which accepted Williams' resignation this morning, set Hoard's salary at $16,500, the same as Williams had been paid.

Williams has been on leave of absence from the director's position since last June. While on leave from the county, he took a post as administrator of the Abbey Hospital in Warren.

★ ★ ★

Williams had indicated that he would not return to Oakland County since taking the Warren hospital position.

★ ★ ★

His leave of absence, as far as the Oakland County Retirement Commission was concerned, expired Sunday. The welfare board, however, had approved a leave extension until February 1967.

Strong Hurricane Nears Guadeloupe

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI) — Dangerous Hurricane Inez aimed 100-mile-an-hour winds at the verdant French island of Guadeloupe today and a hurricane watch went up in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

The weather bureau said the full force of westward-moving Inez would smash into Guadeloupe and its neighbors later today with hurricane force winds beginning around noon.

"Winds are already increasing and will become dangerous within a few hours" on the islands of Marie Galante, Desirade, Antigua and Montserrat, weathermen reported at 9 a.m. EST.

Soapy Blasts Sen. Griffin on Congress Vote Record

By the Associated Press

G. Mennen Williams let Sen. Robert P. Griffin have it with four barrels Monday, calling his Republican opponent for the U. S. Senate "anti-progress, anti-people, anti-city and anti-labor" in his voting record in Congress.

"I heard that he is afraid we will describe his record to make it look like he voted against widows and orphans and school kids and college students and farmers and city people and even the best interests of businessmen; and that he voted against cutting your income taxes; against surplus food for the hungry; against decent housing for the disadvantaged; against a living wage for the working man," Williams said.

"He actually did that and more. It's no distortion," he told the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) in Detroit.

* * *

Williams made it plain that he will attempt to make Griffin's five-term record in the House the main issue of the campaign.

ENDORSEMENT

COPE has already endorsed Williams.

Griffin was not invited to appear before the convention in Cobo Hall and blamed the snub on "the one-man, one-boss" rule of state AFL-CIO President August Scholle.

Scholle told the 800 delegates at the COPE convention that Griffin had a fair hearing when the group screened candidates last spring.

Taubman Plan to Be Aired

their views, a majority of the City Commission is expected to approve the Taubman contract after the hearing.

In an effort to resolve some of the differences between Taubman supporters and those favoring the U. of D. design, a summit-type meeting was called Sunday by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.

While refusing to specify actual details, Taylor said some modifications were discussed. He said full details of the changes would be given tonight.

PROPONENTS' VIEW

Meanwhile, U. of D. proponents have said Taubman's shopping center could be constructed within the university design with some changes.

Taubman's shopping center plan, viewed by city officials as the catalyst for further redevelopment, would take in an area from Lawrence south to the point where the east and west legs of Wide Track meet.

The actual shopping center is planned to straddle the crossover. In addition to the center, the developer has plans for four "satellite" buildings to be located outside of the main building.

Only three existing buildings would remain in the area. These would be the Pontiac Public Library, the new Community National Bank drive-in branch and the Pontiac State Bank building.

Crosstown traffic on the crossover, Pike, Water and Jackson would be eliminated under Taubman's plans.

Rhodesia-British Leaders End Talk

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith and British Commonwealth Secretary Herbert Bowden last night completed their discussion on the possibility of settling Rhodesia's break from British rule.

Asked today if he was happy at the outcome of his three meetings with Bowden, Smith said: "I think so." He then went to report to his Cabinet on the talks.

U.S. Rebuff Charged by Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China's premier and foreign minister were quoted today as insisting their country has wanted to settle differences with the United States but that Washington has not met Peking's proposals.

Premier Chou En-lai and Foreign Minister Chen Yi had long separate talks with a group of Liberal Democratic members of Japan's Parliament earlier this month, Japanese newspapers printed what they said were virtual transcripts of the statements by the Chinese leaders.

* * *

They gave this account:

Chou said Peking entered the Warsaw talks in 1955 because the Chinese people wanted to become friends with the American people by solving all pending problems between the two governments including Formosa.

Chou said Washington had rebuffed Peking's proposals, which included Communist occupation of Formosa. He indicated, however, that the Warsaw channel was still open.

Refugee Tab Is Going Up

Cubans to Cost U. S. $1 Million Weekly

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — a $1-million weekly tab lies ahead for U.S. taxpayers to look after an increased flow of refugees from a Cuban regime which reportedly costs the Soviet Union $1 million daily.

The Cuban Refugee Center, operated by the Health, Education and Welfare Department, said that expenditures have risen because of an airlift that brings 10 planeloads of Cubans here weekly.

A refugee budget of $51 million for fiscal 1967, which began July 1, has passed the House and received Senate committee approval after a hearing. It was reported headed for full Senate approval.

The budget is $8.4-million higher than the past year. The 1966 fiscal year budget began at $30 million and was fattened by $12.6 million on the strength of Castro's announcement just a year ago that he would let Cubans come here.

Since the airlift started Dec. 1, nearly 37,000 refugees have arrived. Nearly 4,000 and sometimes more than 4,000 arrive monthly, depending on plane capacity.

U.S. Studies Troubles of Space Walker

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Project Gemini, proving ground for the U.S. effort to land men on the moon, has been so successful, one official said, it "staggers our imagination." But he said it uncovered a problem—working in space is not as simple as once thought.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr., a man who tried working outside Gemini 11, said that no astronaut should be expected to do anything but "simple tasks" while outside a spaceship until he is equipped with some sort of body restraints to help him maintain position.

Gordon's advice, and the experience of other space walkers who have found trouble spots in space walking, has caused officials to step into a detailed study of plans for the last two-man mission, Gemini 12, before moving into the Apollo moon-landing program.

Gemini 12's exotic rendezvous and spacewalk flight currently calls for Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. to shoot through space with a jet-propelled pack on his back. Aldrin and Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. are to set out on the four-day mission Oct. 31.

Hopes Katzenbach Will Question Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield expressed hope today the State Department would find in Nicholas Katzenbach a new devil's advocate who would challenge — rather than just support — U.S. foreign policy decisions.

Mansfield suggested that's the only way President Johnson can "be assured what he's getting is not all one-sided."

* * *

Atty. Gen. Katzenbach has been nominated by Johnson to replace Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, who in the role of devil's advocate was often the questioning skeptic about policy decisions, especially on Viet Nam, and became known as the "dove of the State Department."

FULBRIGHT FAVORITE

Ball also became something of a favorite with Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and some other critics of U.S. Viet Nam policy.

Katzenbach goes before Fulbright and his committee today for a close examination of his credentials and views on war and peace.

Presumably anticipating a lengthy examination of Katzenbach, the committee delayed until later its hearings on two other State Department nominations — Eugene V. Rostow, former dean of the Yale Law School, as undersecretary for political affairs, and Foy D. Kohler, ambassador to Moscow, as deputy undersecretary.

Fulbright has been less than enthusiastic about the appointments and was surprised at the President's decision to nominate the attorney general to be Secretary of State Dean Rusk's second in command.

SURE OF APPROVAL

There was little doubt, however, that all three nominations would be approved by the Senate.

Mansfield voiced concern in an interview about some of the State Department's swift rejections of proposals floated by countries such as the Soviet Union and France.

UF Unit Kickoff Is Wednesday

The Advance Gifts division of the Pontiac Area United Fund will kick off its campaign to collect $108,930 with a breakfast tomorrow.

* * *

This first major divisional kickoff in this year's campaign will be at 8 a.m. in the Community National Bank's Club Overdraft.

The total 1966 UF goal is $1,042,000.

Howard H. Fitzgerald II, division chairman and president and publisher of The Pontiac Press, has appointed five chairmen to head special teams to solicit donations.

* * *

125 TO ATTEND

Some 125 solicitors will attend the breakfast sponsored by the Community National Bank.

They will receive assignments, materials, and instructions for calling on some 600 major contributors.

The Advance Gifts committee will seek to have every contributor increase his 1965 donation by 6 per cent.

Last year the division, lead by Bruce Annett of Annett Realty, raised $108,930.

Birmingham Area News

Ring Road Parking Is Problem

BIRMINGHAM — The city's ring road had city commissioners going in circles last night.

The confusion resulted while they were determining what parking regulations should be put into effect on two sections of the planned perimeter route.

Following an hour-long discussion it was agreed to follow Police Chief Ralph Moxley's recommendation to prohibit parking on the recently widened Chester section.

What to do with the parking on the Brown portion from Chester to Woodward was chiefly responsible for altering motions on a proposal to ban all parking on the street, withdrawing amendments and finally reconsidering the entire matter.

* * *

When the discussion was over the commission had voted to continue parking on Brown until the new parking structure on Woodward Avenue is completed and ready for occupancy.

It had been first decided to place the parking ban on Brown immediately, as recommended by Moxley.

A lack of parking for office tenants along the street was cited if this was carried out, and the commission, on the suggestion of Commissioner Ruth McNamee, agreed to the temporary solution until the municipal parking garage is finished.

It's expected that all-day parkers now using the spaces in the Brown area will take advantage of the new facility, thereby creating additional parking in the vicinity.

The board of education tonight is scheduled to discuss and explain to irate parents its policy of not providing school bus service for children who live within the city limits.

THEY GET LETTERS

Several letters from parents have been sent to the board protesting the policy and requesting a change.

They say it is unfair for children who live within the city limits to pay for their transportation while those outside receive free service if they live the required distance from school.

Schools Supt. Dr. John Blackhall Smith explains that the state does not reimburse boards of education for transporting children within the incorporated community.

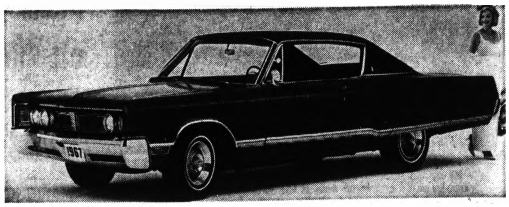
* * *

Outside of the city limits, secondary school pupils who live more than a mile and a half from school are bused as are elementary school children who live more than one mile from school.

* * *

To provide transportation for children in the city would require the purchase of 20 buses, said Dr. Smith, at a cost of about $120,000.

He said the annual operating costs would amount to about $68,400.



CHRYSLER TWO-DOOR — Semi-fastback roof styling is one of the new features on the 1967 Chrysler introduced yesterday by Chrysler Corp. The model shown above is one of three in the Newport Custom series added to the Chrysler line. The car is also available in hardtop and sedan four-doors. Chrysler goes on sale Thursday.

5 Feared Dead in Barge Blast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A gasoline barge, its hull ripped when it went aground in San Francisco Bay, exploded today, killing two men and leaving three others missing and presumed dead.

Another four men were injured, one critically, when the Standard Oil Co. barge No. 18 went aground near San Francisco Pier 64, while en route from Richmond on the other side of the bay.

* * *

The Police Department said Standard Oil tug No. 4 inexplicably lost control of the barge near Pier 62 while nearing its destination during early morning darkness.

Gasoline from a ruptured tank on the barge spilled over bay waters. A deckhand victim said an unexplained flame from the barge touched off the blast.

The Standard Oil employe on the barge and three on the tug all are either dead, missing or injured.

Agent to Tell About Liuzzo Killing Again

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP)— An FBI undercover agent was expected to tell for the fourth time today his eyewitness story of the slaying of Viola Liuzzo.

Before red-haired Gary Thomas Rowe Jr. takes the witness stand, however, state and defense attorneys must pick a jury of 12 men to try Ku Klux Klansman Eugene Thomas, 43, of Bessemer, Ala., for the killing of the Detroit, Mich., housewife and civil rights worker.

* * *

KEY WITNESS

Rowe, a former Birmingham bartender who said he joined the Klan to get information for the FBI, was expected once again to be the prosecution's key witness.

* * *

At three earlier trials, two in state court and one before a federal jury, Rowe testified he was in a car with Thomas and two other Klansmen—Collie LeRoy Wilkins and William Orville Eaton—when gunshots fired from the car killed Mrs. Liuzzo, 38.

LBJ, Erhard to End Talks and Visit Cape Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany conclude two days of talks today and fly to Cape Kennedy for a look at the American spaceport.

The four hours of flying also gives them an extra chance to try and resolve Germany's request for a moratorium of four or five years in fully living up to its agreement to purchase $1.35 billion worth of U.S. military goods by mid-1967.

* * *

At a state dinner Monday night, Johnson told Erhard he will do "my very best" to visit West Germany next spring "if my other responsibilities will permit." Erhard earlier invited him.

Johnson also said one of those responsibilities — U.S. efforts in Southeast Asia — "can never and will never diminish our concern for the security of Europe and the Atlantic."

KEEP COMMITMENTS

The President added, "We keep our commitments in Viet Nam and we keep them every place that we have them."

The dinner guests included the Gemini 11 astronauts, Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. and Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr., who were aboard America's most recent manned space shot from Cape Kennedy.

* * *

Johnson and Erhard are to visit Cape Kennedy as a follow-up to discussions about American-German cooperation in the peaceful exploration of space.

Johnson is making his first trip to the Cape since Sept. 15, 1964.

* * *

The two leaders are to first tour Cape Kennedy's "ICBM Row" — where Atlas and Titan rocket launch pads are located — then stop for a briefing at the Gemini-Titan 2 complex where all of America's two-man Gemini launches have begun. Standing on the pad is the Titan 2 rocket that will hoist the last two-man flight, Gemini 12, now scheduled to blast off about Oct. 31.

Suspect Linked to Illinois Case

A man identified to Pontiac police as Julian H. Moore when charged last week with the fatal shooting of a Pontiac barmaid is wanted by Chicago police on a murder warrant, authorities said today.

Pontiac Police Capt. Charles W. Gale said a warrant received from Chicago police identified the murder suspect held locally as "Herman Robinson."

* * *

Gale said fingerprints sent by Pontiac police to the Federal Bureau of Investigation following Moore's arrest were termed "identical" by Chicago police to those of "Robinson."

Missing Area Girl Found in Ferndale

A handicapped Waterford Township girl, reported missing by her family last Friday, was found yesterday in Ferndale.

Sue Collins, 17, apparently was looking for the house of a girlfriend when she was seen sitting under a tree by the friend's father, Douglas R. Gobie of 931 Emill.

* * *

The missing girl, who is deaf and also has a speech impediment, was returned to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Collins of 3058 LaBrosse.

During the past decade there has been an average drop from 51 to 41 per cent in the total tax collections which states earmark by law for financing specific functions.

Stalled Relief for Indians Facing Further Problems

SISOGUICHI, Mexico (AP) — The Rev. Jose Alberto Llaguno, head of the Jesuit mission in this area of Chihuahua State, said today that the primitive Tarahumara Indians are suffering from severe malnutrition but a relief program will be extremely difficult to organize.

Even if the Mexican government admits carloads of relief supplies waiting at the U.S. border, their distribution to the Indians will be a major problem, the Jesuit priest said.

* * *

He explained that the Indians fled before the Spanish invasion centuries ago to escape exploitation and slave labor and holed up in the rugged, almost inaccessible Barranca del Cobre canyons of the Sierra Madre mountains near Sisoguichi.

The Tarahumaras still want little or nothing to do with the "chabochi" the bearded ones, Father Llaguno said.

SCATTERED GROUPS

An estimated 50,000 Indians, existing in smoke-blackened limestone caves, live in scattered groups of half a dozen or more over an area of 11,000 square miles in which canyon walls tower up to 3,000 feet. Most of the remote canyons have never been visited by the Jesuits or government officials.

Planes are the only modern mode of transport in the area, and the Jesuits have 75 to 80 landing strips in the region. There are more than a dozen missions spread through the area and linked by radio communications.

* * *

The Mexican government denied reports that hundreds of the Tarahumaras were dying daily of starvation. It refused permission for a mercy train, now on a siding in El Paso, Tex., to cross the border with food, medicine and other supplies for the Indians.

Mexican residents and Jesuit priests who have established missions in the region say the Indians' lands are virtually farmed out and the game is gone. Malnutrition is endemic, meaning that many starve even in the best of years.

REPORTS TRICKLE OUT

This year reports of starvation and food shortages trickled out to the missions from Indians who emerged from the canyon recesses to sell peaches to buy corn.

Father Llaguno said the Jesuit missions and the Mexican government are in touch with less than half the Indians who live in the area so that the full extent of their plight is unknown.

The windows are constructed entirely of rigid vinyl and aluminum. A satin-like anodized protective coating keeps the aluminum finish bright and new looking for years.

Complete fiberglas insulation all around the window, as well as complete full weatherstripping, seals out cold, dust, dirt, drafts, and air.

Arrows point both to the north and the south, and it's easy to see the birds haven't been practicing long. They're headed north, and would do well to heed the accompanying stop sign.

More School Additions Due

Low Bid Prices Aid Utica Building Plan

UTICA — Because of low bid prices on construction of Utica's new senior high school, the board of education last night was able to order the construction of an additional eight classrooms plus additions to the journalism, language lab and business education rooms.

Bids on the new Adlai Stevenson High School, now under construction, were close to $5 a square foot lower than estimated prices.

Architects reported that the Morgan and Schwarzkoff Schools will be ready for occupancy on Oct. 10.

Two new community school directors were appointed. They will supplement the program offered last year by Joseph Rivard from the Senior High School and Eppler Junior High School.

* * *

Dick Bone will conduct the program from Sterling Junior High and Bob Gilling from Shelby Junior High Schools. The program is under sponsorship of the Mott Foundation.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the board officially approved the appointment of William Nuse as district director of the Western Macomb Planning Grant. Utica and five other school districts are currently engaged in planning for an urban conservation project under which they could receive $500,000.

The board also ratified an agreement with the secretarial staff.

Approval was given for the purchase of 34 acres at $5,000 an acre for a school site on Dodge and Plumbrook roads.

* * *

A new salary schedule was approved for a nurse and for the head bookkeeper. Three new positions in relation to the high school cooperative program were created.

2 Proposals Turned Down

Tax Hike Rejected in Milford

MILFORD — Village voters yesterday decisively turned down two proposals which would have increased their taxes by 25 per cent.

In a 50 per cent turnout voters defeated a proposition which would have provided funds to build a plant to remove iron from the water supply by a 524 to 148 margin.

A second proposal, seeking authority to borrow money to renovate two bridges and a viaduct, was turned down 455 to 217.

Village Manager Joseph S. Brophy said he is "at a loss" to understand the defeat because a recent survey taken among the residents indicated a majority of them favored the iron removal plant.

"The people have spoken," he said. "I don't know where we'll go from here."

3-MILL INCREASE

If both proposals had been approved, village taxes would have been increased by 3 mills over the present levy of 13.75 mills or $13.75 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Taxes would have been increased by 2 mills or $2 per $1,000 of assessed valuation for 10 years to pay for the iron removal plant.

Approval of the proposition would have given the village authority to borrow $200,000 and issue general obligation bonds to pay for the plant.

* * *

Brophy said the plant would have removed the iron from the water supply and eliminated the cause of the "rusty, odorous" water.

SECOND PROPOSAL

The second proposal meant a 1-mill tax increase for 10 years. It granted authority to borrow $90,000 to improve the Mont Eagle and Huron Street bridges and to make pavement corrections under the Main Street viaduct.

Plans were to widen the Huron Street bridge to two lanes and install sidewalks at a cost of $48,200.

Brophy said the bridge is not adequate to carry a heavy traffic load. It also carries a lot of pedestrian traffic, he said, and without sidewalks there is no safe place to walk.

Repairs amounting to $8,050 were also planned for the Mont Eagle Street bridge which is presently closed to traffic.

BRIDGE CLOSED

Brophy said the bridge will have to remain closed for now.

The clearance under the Main Street viaduct was to be increased by lowering the pavement under it by 2½ feet.

Several truck accidents have occurred because of the low clearance.

* * *

Clearance is posted at 12 feet 5 inches but road resurfacing over the years has lowered this to about 11 feet.

Cost to lower the pavement was estimated at $31,172.

The village council will meet tomorrow to canvass the votes.

News of the Area

Company Will Start Oxford Production

OXFORD — The Shell Chemical Co. building, situated on 14 acres at Drahner and M24, has been leased by the Opal Foundry and Machining Co. of Lake Orion.

The operation — the production of castings by the lost wax process — is expected to employ between 150 and 200 people in the Oxford area, according to Henry Lamphere, executive vice president and general manager of Opal Foundry.

Lamphere says Opal's customers include all types of manufacturers, including automotive, food processing, aircraft, military and machine tool shops.

The building, containing 60,000 square feet, has never been occupied since it was constructed a year and a half ago.

Last month it was sold to Floyd Foren, Ferndale Chevrolet dealer, who has in turn leased to the Opal company.

Production is expected to get under way the first of the year.

Annual Bazaar for Retarded Set

LAPEER — The 17th annual Fall Festival Bazaar, sponsored by the Lapeer Parents Association for Retarded Children, will be held from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday at the St. Cecilia Athletic Building, Detroit.

Imlay City Votes 'No'

3 School Mergers OK'd

Three school district mergers and two district millage proposals found favor with voters in four separate Lapeer County School elections yesterday.

* * *

The only district to produce a negative vote was Imlay City where for the second time this year voters refused to take on an additional two mills for a three-year period.

They also said "no" to a proposed merger with the three primary districts of Folsom, Flansburg and Shepherd.

The vote was 552 to 399 against merger. The millage question was defeated by a vote of 515 to 347.

* * *

Superintendent of the Lapeer Intermediate School District, Dale Abke, said the vote was marked this time with a greater turnout and a higher percentage of "yes" voters, even in those primary districts where merger almost automatically means an increase in school taxes.

Final tabulations showed the mergers approved as follows:

Lapeer-Metamora — 489, yes; 291, no.

Almont-Retherford-Gould—312 yes; 165, no.

Dryden-Dryden Center — 122, yes; 49, no.

* * *

In the Metamora primary district, electors cast 58 yes votes and 71 no votes on the merger. In the combined total of the Lapeer and Metamora District totals ran 489 in favor and 291 against.

MILLS LEVIED

Metamora has levied 8.1 mills as compared with Lapeer levying 22.6 mills.

In Almont the total vote for merger was 312 in favor and 165 opposed. Once again the primary districts were overruled; Retherford voting 18 to eight and Gould 25 to 10 against merger.

Two millage proposals, one a five-mill increase for three years and the second a two-mill increase for two years, carried by the votes of 286 to 132 and 269 to 149, respectively.

* * *

In Dryden and Dryden Center the vote was 122 to 49 in favor of merger. A 2½-mill levy for one year passed with a vote of 77 to 56.

FAR BELOW

Millage in the primary districts has been far below that of the districts with which they've merged.

A more equitable spread of school taxes is sure to result, according to Abke.

The administrators were divided into four groups for the purpose of granting increases. The average raise amounted to about $1,700 for each person.

* * *

Senior high school principals were given a new salary ranging from $10,534 to $15,144 after 10 years.

Greeks Alerted for Red Plot

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Greek Defense Ministry told today of a Communist plan for taking over Greece. It said a military order went out to Greek Forces six months ago alerting officers on countermeasures.

* * *

The ministry said it learned the Communists planned to seize or annihilate military officers in the event of insurrection. It made public a secret order, read to top officers last March 24, instructing all officers to be armed at all times.

Gen. Gregory Spantidakis, army chief of staff, signed the order. Its existence was made public after the general was accused by George Papandreou, Center Union party leader, of meddling in party politics.

Papandreou said the meddling consisted of a statement by Spantidakis that the Communist-front United Democratic Left party had supported the Center Union in organizing a huge rally last February to celebrate an election victory.

* * *

The Communist scare began in April 1965 when a leftist group called Aspida was dis- An investigation resulted in the arrest of 41 persons.

Ky Warns S. Viet Assembly of Many Trials Ahead

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky told the opening session of South Viet Nam's new Constitutional Assembly today it begins "an era of democracy, peace and prosperity for the nation."

But he warned that many trials still lie ahead.

The 117-member assembly, elected Sept. 11, is to draft a new constitution in the next months as the first step toward election of a civilian government next year. South Viet Nam has been without a constitution since the military overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem in November 1963.

Ky and Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu, both in bemedaled white dress uniforms, opened the session in the National Assembly building.

Thieu told the assemblymen to give Viet Nam's government "an adequate legal basis" and "respond to the confidence of the people who believe democracy is the best weapon to win over communism."

Nguyen Ba Luong, dean of the assembly, said he and his colleagues are "ready to receive constructive ideas from the government and from the people."

"We are determined to withstand all pressures which seek to control us or compel us to betray the national interest," he declared.

Luong said the new constitution "should engender a strong government entrusted with adequate prestige and capability to win over the Communists and restore order and peace."

The military government recorded a vote of more than 80 per cent of the registered voters in the election. Thieu said the assemblymen "were chosen and supported by the whole people," and Ky said the election results "speak of the determination to build a truly democratic nation."

* * *

He noted that though "the Communists have been defeated all over the battlefields the country still faces many trials and difficulties."

He said the assembly "derives from a national need and the people's aspirations."

The assembly is expected to take up proposals for the new constitution some time next week. It is believed it will provide a government headed by a strong executive rather than the parliamentary type because of the lack of strong political parties.

Divorce Laws Hit by Pickets

DETROIT (AP) — Four-year-old Kathy Evans marched outside Detroit's City-County Building Monday carrying a sign which read: "Act now. Make my marriage safe."

Kathy and her mother were among a group of 10 disgruntled divorcees and their families who picketed to dramatize what they feel are inhumane divorce laws.

The group's leader, John Tomasko, said the purpose of the organization is to "take the profit out of divorce." He charged that lawyers get exorbitant fees for handling proceedings.

"Solving marital problems should not cost money," he said.

Divorce Reform is urging the creation of a family arbitration center, independent of the court system and staffed by sociologists, psychiatrists and psychologists, to handle marital troubles.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

48 West Huron Street — Pontiac, Michigan 48056

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1966

HAROLD A. FITZGERALD, Chairman of the Board — HOWARD H. FITZGERALD, II, President and Publisher

HARRY J. REED, Managing Editor — RICHARD M. FITZGERALD, Treasurer and Finance Officer — O. MARSHALL JORDAN, Local Advertising Manager

LBJ 'Bond' Plan Fiscally Sound

President JOHNSON has revealed a plan to sell United States savings notes to the American people at a higher interest rate than is paid on Savings Bonds, the purpose being to help pay for the cost of the war in Viet Nam and to combat inflation. These would be marketed on the same patriotic basis as Liberty Bonds in World War I and War Savings Bonds in World War II—both of which, incidentally, turned out to be prime, if conservative, investments.

If the program is successful and generates new savings, it would reduce the excess purchasing power which right now is feeding inflation. The government in turn would have to borrow less money through normal investment and banking channels. One result might be to ameliorate the "tight money" situation and to cut back on the high interest rates now charged borrowers.

This is a far more effective way of dealing with inflation and the rising tide of government spending than to resort to large-scale deficit financing. Up to now, pretty much, the government has financed its deficits by selling bonds and expanding credit.

If the President's plan works out —and many details have yet to be revealed—we shall be paying for the war and the Great Society much more effectively. If, as seems probable, an income tax increase follows, the net result will be good for the dollar and good for America.

'Could I Interest You
In A Little Patriotic Appetizer?'

Consider Our Role in Rebuilding of Viet Nam

It seems reasonable to believe that rebuilding South Viet Nam is something we must be considering for the future. It could be soon, or it could be a long time in coming.

The fact that it has been properly suggested that we double our armed forces in Viet Nam, with the stated purpose of using a third to one-half of them in civilian roles for security during community development is not a bad idea.

It might be considered apparent from some recent actions that the military situation has somewhat stabilized to the point where eventual victory does seem possible. If this is the case, and it may or may not be true, there will still be hundreds of pockets of resistance that must be cleaned out.

The long range prospect is definitely one of assuring the civilian population against reprisals, permitting development of the economy, aiding public health, food production and education, and, above all, putting the proper image of the United States across.

This Country wants no land in Southeast Asia and no control over any internal government. The 12-year war in Malaya did not end until the civilians were satisfied that they had protection and could go about rebuilding their country.

The "strategic hamlet" concept, patterned in part from the British experience in Malaya, was tried in South Viet Nam too soon and with too much dependence upon the indigenous population.

The concept now is more feasible because of increased military strength. Many American fighting men, by units and as individuals, have earned friendship and gratitude from the Vietnamese by their voluntary work in aiding people who have known little but war for 25 years.

Soon the South Vietnamese can look ahead with hope to the future. It would seem that the help they will need could best come from our military forces, able, in effect, to lay down a plow and pick up a gun if necessary.

Early Electoral Skirmishing at Courthouse

Students of political science who want to see what it's all about might well spend their days at the Oakland County Courthouse between now and the Nov. 8 election.

Politics, in all its forms, seems to be the principal product there on Telegraph Road.

Oakland County Prosecutor JERRY BRONSON seems to be getting his lumps with amazing regularity.

A long delay in a burglar's trial was embarrassing.

His "special investigator" badges turned out to be a thorn in his side.

Now he is tangling with a judge on who signs what, where and when on criminal case documents.

All this, and we still have seven weeks to go before the election.

Who said vaudeville was dead?

3 Out of 10 Americans in School This Fall

A big factor in the Nation's continuing high level of employment is the fact that an increasingly high proportion of Americans are employed in education, on one side or the other of the teacher's desk.

The U. S. Office of Education estimates this week that some 56 million Americans will be enrolled in public and private schools and colleges this fall — about three out of every ten persons in the country.

★ ★ ★

Some of these will be only part-time students, and many will work while going to school, but the great majority will be dependent on the four out of ten Americans in regular jobs.

First Press' Grid Contest Cuts Field

The verdant hopes of 2,212 Press Football Contest entrants were kept green by Notre Dame, who lived up to its odds-on rating by clipping Purdue Saturday, 26-14.

The gloom of those who had crystal-balled a Boilermaker win was shared by the 86 who had predicted a tie.

It is worthy of note that the Press' pompous prognosticator, Major Amos Heopie, hit it practically on the nose when in Thursday's issue he handicapped the Purdue-Notre Dame game as a 22-15 victory for the South Benders.

The contest spotlight now shifts to tomorrow evening's pro game between Pontiac Arrows and the Flint Blue Devils.

Leading the Midwest Football League by half a game after a Saturday evening trimming of the Lansing All Stars, the Arrows are a decided favorite to make things blue for the Blue Devils.

That our contestants had done their homework well for this game is indicated by the way they lined up for it, with 1,875 seeing the Arrows scoring a bull's-eye and only 324 thinking the Devils would take the foremost. Thirteen, scorning superstition, predict a tie.

Interest in the 1966 contest has never been higher, judging by the avalanche of entries. With a sizable number eliminated by the Purdue loss, the slow countdown to the eventual winner and the $500 U.S. Savings Bond award is on.

David Lawrence Says:

Leadership Lacking on Inflation

WASHINGTON — Is inflation out of control, and will the present trend continue as the efforts to apply "restraints" turn out to be more theoretical than real?

Neither Congress nor the administration seems to be providing the answer.

About all that can be perceived here is a state of disorder in which the leadership of the President is not being asserted and the Democratic party, which has a two-thirds majority in both the Senate and the House, appears to have lost control of itself.

LAWRENCE

Almost everything that is controversial has had to get Republican support to secure passage.

The gravity of the situation is perhaps not as apparent to the country at large, though the statements of administration spokesmen have portrayed the economy as in a dangerous condition.

★ ★ ★

It has been assumed heretofore that the President, as the leader of the majority party, would lay out a program of spending and insist that his party adhere to it. No such pressure, however, is being applied by the executive.

There are certain extenuating circumstances, of course, which affect the current maladjustment—such as the financial demands of the Viet Nam war.

Even when these costs, however, are subtracted from the budget, the non-military expenditures are higher than they ever have been in total amount.

Many are for worthy purposes, but the administration and Congress have not held back the spending spree for the "Great Society" and for the "pork barrel" measures that individual members of Congress support in order to win votes back home.

Yet if the purchasing power of the dollar shrinks further, the advantage of the new outlays by the government will be reduced and the financial crisis may get worse.

At present, the economic situation is related directly to the enormous flow of money provided by the government.

Talk of increasing income taxes and cutting down spending is being heard as efforts are made to give the impression that these remedial measures will be decisive.

But skepticism is growing and the administration is wobbling because of a fear that a painful deflation may be precipitated.

This dilemma has confronted the country before. Unfortunately, in the early 1930s everything the incumbent administration tried to do to stop the deterioration of the economic situation, though constructive, came too late to avert a serious loss of public confidence.

It is to avoid a repetition of this error that executive agencies as well as members of Congress are being exhorted by some businessmen to do less shifting about and adopt at the current session a firm program of restraint even if it involves wage-and-price control and higher income-tax rates.

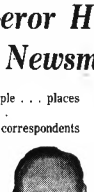
Bob Considine Says:

Emperor Has His Say and Newsmen Rejoice

TOKYO—People . . . places . . . things . . .

White House correspondents who complain that there isn't much action around 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue since LBJ took office, might like to trade places with members of the Imperial Household Agency press corps.



CONSIDINE

The emperor gave the reporters a rare audience the other day at his summer villa at Nasu, Tochigi prefecture, and they've been flipping with excitement ever since.

The big news of the day emerged from a question about earthquakes.

"The emperor said he hoped the earthquakes would end soon," the man from Kyodo wrote.

★ ★ ★

Can't beat that for straightforward candor.

LOTS OF LAUGHS

There were lots of laughs at the press conference. Sample:

When another reporter mentioned that there were many erroneous points in the recently published "Hirohito, Emperor of Japan," the emperor jokingly said that even if there were erroneous points, he would not say anything as it would infringe on the copyright.

"It is a matter to be settled by the publisher," he said.

There are all ways of putting over a message. Last Sunday in Tokyo an American visitor from Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii, Col. Reade Tilley, noticed a Japanese placidly flying a kite over a Soviet ship anchored in the harbor.

The kite was filled with Japanese lettering. Col. Tilley asked the man what he was advertising.

"Advertising nothing," the man said. "Words on my kite say, to Russians on ship, 'United States Air Force bases at Yokota and Tachikawa keep Japanese defenses strong.'"

Big, noisy cocktail party at the Hilton the other day in honor of the great Japanese banker, Furihata. Furihata couldn't make it. He died one year ago.

So solly.

Supports Johnson's Line in Conduct of Viet War

President Johnson is not to blame for the Viet Nam mess. Every Democratic administration from Roosevelt down has trusted this atheistic Communist belief.

★ ★ ★

Roosevelt once said "Some of my best friends are Communist." He later signed the Yalta and other agreements that sent communism on its way toward world domination. Truman once said "Uncle Joe Stalin is a good old man." He fired General MacArthur when he suggested bombing the Reds out of Korea to completely stop the invasion of Asia.

Kennedy demanded that Eisenhower apologize to Khrushchev for the U-2 incident and later failed to support the Bay of Pigs invasion to liberate Cuba. Now Bobby still wants to trust Communist China to try and bring about peace.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson is only trying to do what should have been done years ago. Let's get behind him 100 per cent and send Bobby back to touch football.

Hits Publicity on Shopping Center Plans

The tremendous publicity for the Taubman shopping center project is out of proportion with other worthwhile projects, e. g. the proposed housing project at Auburn and Opdyke, which would provide housing with adjacent shopping facilities, and also the proposed public housing project for the elderly.

All in all, these are just as necessary, or more so, than another pretentious concentrated shopping center.

Pierre's Opinion of Romney Sweet, Sticky

Pierre Salinger made the statement that Romney was a marshmallow, and that he thought Richard Nixon should run for President. Since when does a Democrat tell the Republicans who to run for President?

My guess is Pierre Salinger is afraid Mr. Romney will be our next President and a good one at that.

No Action on Violation of Keego Ordinance

What good is an ordinance in Keego Harbor? Residents on Willow Beach witnessed a family of seven moving into a condemned house. A City Councilman was notified immediately and through him, the police, but because it was Sunday, it was decided nothing could be done.

The person was not arrested for removing the "condemned" sign and bragged that he would live there as is.

Who is responsible for seeing that these laws are not broken? We cannot clean up the city this way and we sure get disgusted about trying to improve our neighborhood when things like this can happen.

Question and Answer

Unsolicited, some unknown person sent me the pamphlet "The Communist Attack on the John Birch Society" by W. Cleon Skouson with this typed message stapled to it: "This pamphlet was received from J. Edgar Hoover." The author isn't a Birch member and the report seems factual, but the sender's anonymity gives it a sinister note. Did Mr. Hoover really have something to do with it?

REPLY

Mr. Hoover sends this reply: "The pamphlet . . . was neither prepared nor distributed by me or any representative of the FBI."

Wallace Thumping All 'Comers'

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (NEA) —Gov. George C. Wallace is using the 1966 Alabama governorship race as a warmup exercise for his nearly certain entry into the 1968 presidential contest.

BIOSSAT

Hardly the faintest lip service is paid any more to the fact that not he but his wife, Lurleen, is the official Democratic nominee in the battle against the Republican contender, Rep. James Martin.

At a county fair in northern Alabama, nobody bothered to correct a local figure when he introduced Lurleen as not only the present first lady but also "the next first lady" of Alabama.

★ ★ ★

The governor takes a handsome Wallace victory almost for granted, though the attractive, aggressive Martin—one of GOP's bright new hopes for the South—is struggling valiantly.

Democratic leaders say their random polls, taken in widely scattered sectors, show Wallace ahead by an average 2-1 margin. This is said to be so even in the Birmingham area (Jefferson County) where Wallace heretofore has not been strong.

Jim Martin's claims that he is closing an admittedly wide gap are not accepted by independent appraisers. There is some feeling the Wallace lead may be widening.

★ ★ ★

Obviously convinced of this, the governor is thinking ahead.

At every platform opportunity, he verbally annihilates all Democrats and Republicans (except California's Ronald Reagan) who might conceivably gain major party presidential nomination in 1968. Not even Richard Nixon, supposedly the new darling of the South, escapes his fire.

Wallace already has defined Alabama's and the South's presidential needs so narrowly that they fit no one but himself. He is spoiling for big combat, coast to coast.

"We're not going to win this battle talking to ourselves in Alabama," he tells listeners at a rally. "We've got to do it in New York and California and Indiana and Wisconsin."

Top Alabama Democrats insist that he is "not playing this thing just for laughs," that he would love not only to exceed Barry Goldwater's five-state victory in the South but to pick off some key northern states as well.

One leader even says Wallace thinks he can take the White House. Whether or not Wallace does think so, Arkansas' Gov. Orval Faubus, speaking at the Southern Governors' Conference, thought Wallace could.

Others argue that the bantamweight Alabama segregationist is too realistic to imagine he can achieve so much. But there is no doubt he is bent on wounding his powerful northern adversaries as much as possible. Says the governor often:

"They say if I run I'll hurt the major parties. Well, I want to hurt them. If we hurt them enough, maybe they'll give us a candidate we can take."

This summer's Negro riots, plus pressure for open housing, seem to have strengthened Wallace's hand materially. Thousands of northern whites who see him as "Mr. Backlash" are pouring mail into his office at Montgomery. Encouraged, he is taking more militant positions than ever—as with his legislative assault upon HEW's school desegregation guidelines.

One politician says that, given existing state election laws, it would be surprising if Wallace, as an independent, could get on presidential ballots in more than 15 states. Even if this is so, he is unmistakenly a hard fact of life for presidential 1968.

Powell Faces Contempt Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N. Y., stripped last week of many of his powers as a House committee chairman, now faces trial on criminal contempt charges growing out of a libel judgment he lost more than three years ago.

The Appellate Division of State Supreme Court ruled Monday that the Harlem congressman must stand trial for evading court orders in connection with the defamation of character action.

An attorney for Powell said he would attempt to block the ruling and head off the trial scheduled for Wednsday.

Powell, whose control over the Education and Labor Committee was limited by a vote of his colleagues last week, was judged to have defamed Esther James, a 68-year-old Harlem widow, on a television program in 1960. He had called her a "bag woman" or graft collector for corrupt policemen.

After various adjustments, the courts ordered Powell to pay Mrs. James $160,000 in $800-a-week installments. The contempt charges, involving five separate specifications, developed from his failures to answer subpoenas during litigation.

Acting under a law which provides penalties of up to 30 days in ignoring the subpoenas.

★

The congressman's attorneys sought a writ of prohibition that would have prevented his contempt trial, but the Appellate Division turned down the motion.

Henry R. Williams, one of Powell's attorneys, said he would try to block the trial by insisting the State Supreme Court does not have the authority to hold it.

A civil order for Powell's arrest was issued two years ago after he had been held in civil contempt of court. That order has never been enforced because of the congressman's congressional immunity.

During periods when Congress is out of session and his immunity no longer in effect, Powell avoids New York. When he does come to the city, he appears on Sunday, a day when civil actions cannot be executed.

★ ★ ★

Powell is not required to be present Wednesday when State Supreme Court Justice William C. Hecht is expected to assign the matter to a trial justice.

Cancer Claims Singer of 20s

NEW YORK (AP) — Helen Kane, whose gay little girl's voice made the phrase "boop-boop-a-doop" a part of the legend of the Roaring 20's, died Monday at 62 after a 10-year battle with cancer.

She succumbed at her home in Jackson Heights, Queens, only hours after watching a television revival of "Three Little Words" a movie in which she sang "I want to be loved by you" — her biggest hit.

★ ★ ★

Dan Healy, her husband, said, "She got a great kick out of hearing her voice coming out loud and clear."

The "boop-boop-a-doop" refrain that Miss Kane made a part of most of her songs had its birth in 1928 when she was appearing at New York's Paramount Theater. She inserted the line at a rehearsal and it was a hit as soon as the public heard it.

AF to Take Look at Mysterious Object off Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force plans to take a look today at a rocket object found in 40 feet of water off the coast.

Martin Meylach of Miami, an amateur treasure hunter discovered the object four miles offshore while looking for sunken Spanish gold with a metal-detection device Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Officials at Homestead Air Force Base said they had no idea where the mechanism came from and discounted theories that it was a missile dropped there by craft from a nearby base.

But they were interested enough to schedule a mission to recover it and bring it ashore for investigation.

Meylach described the rocket as five feet in length and a foot and a half in diameter.

The Fat American—2

Calorie Is a Friendly Enemy

(Editor's Note — This is the second of three articles on weight control.)

By HARRY FERGUSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON — The calorie is our friendly enemy. We cannot live without them, but if we live with them too much we get fat and risk the diseases that flow from obesity.

Nutrition experts are appalled by widespread ignorance in the United States about calories.

Many persons confuse calories with vitamins, and a woman moving through a Washington supermarket recently insisted the price of a box of cookies be reduced because the label read "Low Calorie."

The U. S. Public Health Service defines calories like this:

"The units by which energy is measured. The amount of energy — or fuel — supplied by the diet is indicated in terms of calories. The number of calories varies daily with body size, physical activity and other factors."

* * *

On the average, the man who works at a desk needs 2,500 calories a day. If he is moderately active, he needs 3,000.

HEAVY LABOR

If he is doing heavy labor he needs 4,500. Inactive women need 2,000. Moderately active women, 2,400. Very active, 3,000.

The trick, then, seems simple. Find out the calorie contents of foods and liquids. Then eat and drink the things that will give you the calories you need and no more.

But it only seems simple because it does not take into account the whims and contradictions of human nature.

* * *

A teen-age girl is getting along fine on a reducing diet and then one day she and a friend wander into a soda fountain. The desire is irresistible.

She orders a royal banana split. Bang! She has taken on in one swoop about 1,100 calories — more than half of her quota for the entire day.

But let us not discriminate against teen-agers because wisdom does not always follow age down the years.

By the time an adult has downed two three-ounce Manhattan cocktails he has had about 500 calories.

The stenographer who caps off lunch with a nickle candy bar weighing two ounces has knocked off about 250 calories on top of everything else she has eaten.

It's a matter of will power, then, and in "The Overweight Society" author Peter Wyden gets to the heart of the matter:

"Those who embark on diets do not distinguish themselves by steadfastness. The average American diet has been charted to last between 60 and 90 days, but the dieter is off the diet during roughly half the time.

"He goes on an average of 1.25 diets a year, and his idea of cutting down calories often involves little more than using saccharine instead of sugar.

"Dieting is a seasonal endeavor. Sales of diet products climb in January and February when dieters suffer post-Christmas guilt and in May and June when they strain to attain respectable bathing suit figures.

* * *

"Dieting varies with geography. It is more popular on either coast than in the Great Lakes area, and sales of diet products in Los Angeles are double the national average.

"There also is statistical evidence that dieting is particularly cherished by upper income people."

Some experts define obesity as being 10 pounds over normal weight and others up to as high as 20 pounds.

So what is 'normal weight'? It is impossible to make a generalization about it and it is difficult even to set up a fool-proof statistical chart.

Much depends on whether your frame is small, medium or large and, of course, height is a factor.

Most physicians and nutritionists have charts showing what you should weigh. For persons of medium frames, here are some desirable weighs chosen at random:

Women: 5 feet tall, 101-113 pounds; 5 feet, five inches, 116-130 pounds; 5 feet, seven inches, 124-139 pounds.

Men: 5 feet, six inches, 130-143 pounds; 5 feet, 10 inches, 146-160 pounds; 6 feet, one inch, 158-175 pounds.

But the real conspirators against our trim waist lines are the French. As long as the middle 18th century, they began whipping up sauces and fattening dishes that swept the world.

Americans, like most people, are unable to resist them and that is why the menus in so many expensive restaurants in this country are printed in French.

Food is more than a way of life in France. It almost is a religious cult.

There is a story that chef Vatel was called in one day by the Prince de Conde and informed that the King was coming for dinner that night.

The chef went to work. But an hour before dinner was to be served, the fish that had been ordered had failed to arrive. Vatel committed suicide.

Can't Gain Real Happiness by Hurting Innocent Ones

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I need some advice and fast. I am a married woman with six children. The oldest is seven. I am in love with a married man with five children. This may seem silly, but I think I need him more than his wife. I am willing to give up everything for him, including my children, although I am a very good mother.

ABBY

I have a steady, devoted husband, but I don't really love him. He will buy me anything, this other man can give me nothing, but I don't care. I love him.

Should I call his wife, tell her I love her husband, and ask her to set him free? He says he loves me, but he still loves his wife in a way. (Is this possible?) I don't want my name used, so sign me,

TORN APART

DEAR TORN: What you feel for this "other man" is a strong physical attraction — the kind most girls experience in high school, but get over as they grow up. I suggest you concentrate on being the "good" mother you claim to be, and appreciate the "steady, devoted" husband you say is yours.

The other man is probably similarly infatuated with you, but the lives of 11 children and 2 adults depend upon you straightening up and living right. How about it?

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and my mother won't let me go in a car with a boy unless she knows him. That means he has to come to the house and talk to her a little while first.

Well, this one real cute boy I met had to pass the "chat-with-mother" test, but once they started talking, mother took up my whole evening. We never did get to the movie.

Finally when it was too late to go anywhere mother suggested we all get into his car and she'd buy us ice cream cones like we were five years old or something. Mother did all the talking and she had a great time.

Of course I never heard from the boy again. Do you think it was fair for my mother to act that way and spoil my chances?

LOST HIM

DEAR LOST HIM: No, although I'm sure your mother was only trying to entertain the young man for your sake. Too bad some grown-ups who are always telling kids to act their age, don't act theirs.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Last week we entertained some lifetime friends in our home for several days. As they were leaving, they offered us some money, which we of course did not accept.

Is it considered proper to offer a host and hostess money? And would it be a breach of etiquette for the host and hostess to accept it?

I. M. WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: A guest should NEVER offer his host money in return for hospitality. And if offered, the host should politely refuse it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A cousin of mine who lives in another town is being married and I received an invitation to her wedding. This cousin told me I could bring my boyfriend. I asked him and he said he wouldn't go unless he received a mailed invitation.

Abby, my cousin has only seen him once or twice, and she hardly knows him. I doubt if she even knows his last name.

I think my boyfriend is being very stubborn and silly to insist on a mailed invitation under these circumstances! What should I do?

A COUSIN

DEAR COUSIN: In less time than it took you to write to me, you could have written your cousin a postcard, telling her your boyfriend's name and address, and requesting that she send him an invitation.

If you want your boyfriend to accompany you, do it. (P. S. He sounds pretty square to be so "formal.")

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO JEANNIE IN THE VALLEY: When your husband comes home looped, don't lie like a rock on your half of the bed, pretending to be asleep.

Put your arms around him and tell him he deserves the hangover he's going to have, that you love him anyway, but you'd love him more sober, and then kiss him goodnight.

Troubled? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bit of Michigan for Boston

By JANET ODELL
The Pontiac Press
Women's Editor

BOSTON — Michigan as a fruit-growing state stood out in two of Monday's meetings at the food editors' conference. Apples and blueberries were on the agenda. Coincidentally, Monday was the 192 anniversary of the birth of Johnny Appleseed and the National Apple Institute, Inc. took advantage of the date.

Rev. John Chapman, Congregational minister in the Boston area and the great - great-grand nephew of Johnny Appleseed (his real name was John Chapman), gave the invocation.

★ ★ ★

The United States Post Office has issued a commemorative stamp honoring Johnny Appleseed and Monday was the first day of issue. We were all given first day covers and two of the stamps.

Michigan apples were on all the tables. On a long display table were varieties of apples dating from the 1600's. Both at the beginning of the display and at the end the names were unfamiliar. Some new hybrid varieties, as yet unnamed, were shown.

It was a typical New England farm breakfast. There was apple juice, of course, then cold pot roast, fried potatoes, biscuits, apple jelly and apple butter and finally, apple pie.

MEAT CUTTING

In the past I have seen many meat cutting demonstrations. They can be boring or fascinating and Monday's was the latter. Forequarters of lamb were cut up and the making of "Jetnet" —leg and shoulder roasts demonstrated. These solid meat roasts contain between 20 and 25 per cent more meat than a bone-in roast so that a higher price is reasonable.

The new roasts are in the Detroit markets, watch for them in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Lunch was with Kimberly-Clark and their "Wonderful World of Paper." New paper products were displayed including the new paper towels with a red and green cherry design along the edges.

For the first time the food editors had a session with the North American Blueberry Council. Jack Johnson of South Haven, Mich., head of the Michigan Blueberry Growers and a member of the National Council sat at our table at the apple breakfast and spoke at the afternoon meeting of his group.

His father, a professor at Michigan State University, started the cultivated blueberry industry in Michigan.

He told us about a new pack of frozen blueberries soon to be on the market. It will be a 10-oz. plastic container.

Michigan growers have harvested over a million and a half pounds of berries this year, despite the cold spring. Half of these are processed in canned or frozen form with most of them — fresh or processed — ending in pie.

Scientists are working on blueberry pellets made from blueberry puree. These could be used like chocolate bits.

Yesterday's story did not have a full account of the dinner given by Standard Brands Sunday evening.

★ ★ ★

We were guests in Boston's old, staid and exclusive Algonquin Club. Normally, women must use the side door, but tradition was broken when we were allowed in through the front door. The club may never be the same again.

It is a building with high ceilings, dark polished woodwork and oriental rugs. Not elegantly furnished, it looks like a place where a man could relax in comfort.

But what made it outstanding for the dinner besides the excellent food, was roses.

★ ★ ★

By actual count there were over 500 roses used in the table centerpieces. This did not count the enormous bouquets on the mantels, on occasional tables and on the buffet. There must have been over a thousand Happiness roses in the Algonquin Club.

Standard Brands has some new no-bake deserts which we sampled. They are quick and easy and lend themselves well to variations. The entire dinner was low in fat calories.

Recent Dinner Opens Session

Four guests and 17 members attended the recent dinner and opening session of the Waterford - Clarkston Business and Professional Women's Club.

This unit will be one of the cohostesses at the B.P.W. District No. 10 workshop scheduled for Oct. 2 at Oakland University.

Mrs. Clifford West Home Following Tour

Mrs. Clifford B. West and her son Justin returned last week from Europe after seven weeks of traveling with Mr. West in the Scandinavian countries, Austria, and Switzerland, and a short pause in Paris.

Mr. West remained in Europe as he was invited to present his film covering sculptor Donatello's work for members of the International Congress commemorating the 500th anniversary of Donatello's death. This takes place in Florence, Italy this week.

* * *

The last day, the international committee will meet in Padova, Italy, where Donatello's biggest altar stands in their Duomo, on the closing day. Scholars from various parts of the world are attending the congress including several from U.S.A.

While in Florence, Mr. West will see his friend from Cranbrook, Tex Schiewitz who has his sculptor studio there.

It was the Wests' first visit to the Scandinavian countries. In Stockholm, particularly, the days were crowded with activities.

Mr. West presented to Millesgarden his film "Milles fountains." Ann Hedmark, hostess for Millesgarden, had arranged a delightful dinner honoring the Wests.

The late Carl Milles' nephew, Rolf Milles, accepted the film in behalf of the board of trustees of Millesgarden and spoke fondly of the close ties between Carl Milles and Bud West during the years Carl Milles resided at Cranbrook and Bud West came there as a young student.

Red Chinese Population Control Plan

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Birth control behind the Bamboo Curtain is being carried out through some unusual methods, reports Dr. Tien-Hsi Cheng, professor of zoology at the Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Cheng recently returned from a trip to the Far East to collect additional material for his research into methods and new developments in science on mainland China. He said the Red Chinese government is controlling the ages at which its people marry. Couples often are separated to keep the birth rate low.

Late marriage is an unwritten law, Dr. Cheng added. The government will issue marriage licenses only to men at 30 years of age and women at age 25. In many cases, Cheng said, the husband is placed in south China while his wife lives and works in the northern region.

The scientist, born in China, said the people have been thoroughly indoctrinated into "doing what is best for the state."

He reports that while official figures place the population of mainland China at 650 million, the actual number exceeds 700 million.

Soap Is Still Best Cure

Germ-conscious homemakers can take comfort from Dr. E. C. Prather, chief epidemiologist of the Florida State Board of Health, who says: "soap and water are still the best anti-germ agents."

Germs abound in everything we touch, Dr. Prather points out. That is why frequent handwashing with a liberal use of soap is an important step in preventing infection.

Clothes Are a Visible Tag

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI) — Don't blame your teen-agers for seeming to care too much about clothes.

Prof. Mary Ryan, who spoke here at a New York State College of Home Economics panel, says that almost everyone worries about clothes but teen-agers worry more than most. Adolescents, she says, want to be accepted by their friends and dressing like their friends helps them gain acceptance.

* * *

"Clothes are tangible and visible," she says. "It is easy to see what others are wearing and what the group likes."

What You Are, Can Be

You're Actually Two

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-472: Dr. Roy E. Hoke is one of America's world famous Applied Psychologists.

DR. CRANE

He has over 500 students per year at King's College in Charlotte, North Carolina.

And he believes thoroughly in the fact that we human beings can have success unlimited.

"Every man," says Prof. Hoke, "is really TWO men!

"The first is the man he now is.

"But the second is the man HE COULD BE!"

You are probably aware that we use only about 25 per cent of the brain cells which God Almighty placed in our skulls.

So we don't need fret about burning out a brain cell from too much study or work!

Set your sights on a laudable distant goal.

Then study and work and struggle toward that peak of your climb throughout this life down here on earth.

"Not failure," said Lowell, "but low aim is crime."

That means thatmost people sell out their lieves for every second-rate goals.

Like Biblical Esau, we miss our destiny because of a mess of pottage!

And far too many folks are diverted, like children, by gaudy things that flash and glitter.

Thus, they forget their moral destinations and laudable ambitions to buy a new automobile or "ritz" their associates with a new house or dishwasher or mink stole!

Horace Mann, the father of our public school system, urged:

"Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity!"

A new automobile doesn't fit into the Horace Mann philosophy.

Nor do the many other trivial forms of merchandise that are the ambition of millions who fail to aim high enough.

God didn't place us in this school laboratory called the planet Earth, just to eat groceries, wear flashy clothes and mark time for 70 years!

Abraham Lincoln realized the same goal in life which Horace Mann did, for Lincoln said he hoped his biographers could say of him that he had planted roses where thistles grew before!

All of us can do that if we heed Dr. Hoke's wise counsel and look upon ourselves as TWO PERSONS.

One may be the flesh-and-blood consumer of groceries and idler who sits passively enjoying life via TV or spectator roles.

The other and more divine "twin" ties-in with eternal verities and tries to plant at least one rose in place of a previous thistle.

So aim higher. And work harder.

Quit coasting through life, nurse-maided by a benevolent Uncle Sam.

* * *

"Life is real and life is earnest," and at the grave we shall be sifted as wheat from the chaff.

And don't be deluded by society's estimates, for a lot of chaff belong to ritzy Country Clubs!

Tight Money Affects Home Buyers

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

In the good old days — like a few months ago — the family who wanted to buy a home was more concerned with finding the right piece of property than finding the money to buy it.

MARY FEELEY

But not anymore. And I wonder if the would-be home buyers who write me in every mail are really aware of the new problems they face.

Today "tight money" is the hitch. The money-lender's mood has changed because the amount of money he can put out has dwindled. Interest rates on mortgage money have gone up, and you're lucky if you can get any even at the higher price.

The home-buying public got used to mortgage loans that were more or less tailored to fit their needs. But all of a sudden — or so it seems — it's the applicant who must wonder whether he's tailored to fit the loan.

Bankers admit that regular customers with good credit establishment at their banks will find it easier to arrange for a mortgage. But even then, in some areas the down payment required may be 25 per cent or more of the purchase price, rather than the 10 per cent that could be expected in past years. In some localities, and in some cases, the payoff period may be shortened to 20 rather than 25 years.

Also, in some parts of the country you can expect interest rates on mortgage loans to range from 6¼ per cent to 6½ per cent — and in some communities it's even higher.

The importance of a substantial down payment is a factor Mrs. D. A. of Chicago, should put her mind to before she goes house-hunting. Her letter says:

* * *

"We would like to buy a house a little over $20,000 in a nice neighborhood. It must have at least three bedrooms as we have four children. We have $3,000 in our savings account."

She may well find that the $3,000 will need fattening up before she can call it a "substantial down payment" in today's evaulation.

In contrast, Mrs. E. P. Bronx, N.Y., is planning to buy a house in the $25,000 bracket and says: "We intend to put $10,000 down." Other things being in line, Mrs. P. would seem to have a good chance of getting the nod from a money-lender, even though she may have to pay an uncomfortably high interest rate on the balance of the mortgage.

Of course, it's not only the buyer who is affected by tight money. The seller is equally concerned. A property owner in an East Coast city who wants to sell her house so she can buy in another state gets a headache coming and going.

Since she has no mortgage on it, she has to worry first over whether a prospect can arrange for a mortgage — and then do some fancy shopping around to try and find mortgage money herself for the new purchase.

However, when all's said and done, who wants to give up a dream? Home-ownership is an unquenchable desire in the American family's planning. So even the frustrating situation in the mortgage money market simply says: Be patient.

If now's not your time to buy, at least it's the time to concentrate on building up cash savings. The bright side is that bank savings are now earning higher interest than ever before. So when money eases up, you'll need to borrow less for that new home because you'll be able to put more cash down.

Report Praises Fledgling School

OCC Tradition: Meeting Challenges

By PAT McCARTY

Young Oakland Community College rapidly is establishing at least one tradition — that of meeting its challenges head-on with a remarkable degree of success.

The institution's vigor recently was hailed by an educational expert of national prominence, Dr. B. Lamar Johnson of the University of California, Los Angeles.

Soon after the college was established two years ago, Johnson was assigned as its educational consultant by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Accreditation by the association opens doors for a college's students across the nation.

* * *

Considered vital to an educational institution, association membership does not come easily but is based on a series of intensive studies.

GAVE REPORT

Johnson recently urged that OCC apply immediately for candidacy for membership — and he prepared a nine-page report dealing chiefly with the reasons for his decision.

His comments also include some problems he observed during a three-day visit here last month, his third since January 1965.

One of the facets of OCC's attitude which impressed Johnson most was the emphasis on the use of "feedback." — the evaluation of opinion from throughout the college.

* * *

"If there is anything that characterizes Oakland Community College, it is the desire by the staff to assemble evidence regarding the effectiveness of what you are doing," he told the college.

STAFF ATTITUDE

"Feedback is obviously not only a characteristic of the method of instruction used at Oakland Community College, but also a characteristic of the attitude of the staff regarding all aspects of program planning, development and operation."

Also praised by Johnson was "the notably high quality of college personnel," including trustees, administrators, faculty and staff members.

Johnson dealt at some length with the college's unique systems approach to instruction.

* * *

Now beginning its second year of operation, OCC is building on its commitment to the approach in remarkable fashion, Johnson said.

WIDE ACCEPTANCE

"To an unusual degree, the college has achieved a consistent approach to teaching and learning — one that is understood and apparently widely accepted by staff and students alike," he noted.

Johnson commented that OCC's program is "deservedly attracting nationwide attention" and already has caused several junior colleges to take another look at their instructional methods.

However, far from being mechanized, OCC's program has led to a greater degree of personalized attention for students, Johnson said.

* * *

"Teachers are released from teaching activities that can be mechanized so they can devote major time to that for which they are best qualified, including personal work with the students," he observed.

STUDENT OPINION

Again referring to feedback, Johnson noted that student opinion is sought not only in individual classes but also through collegewide studies.

Once obtained, the opinions of students and staff members are put to work to improve the college, he said.

Johnson described as "most impressive" OCC's development of learning resource centers, which include a wide variety of "educational hardware" and some 28,000 books.

* * *

Also listed among the college's assets were development of vocational offerings appropriate to the needs of the community, a highly organized student personnel program, continuing in-service faculty education, a student activities program and exploratory studies of varied means of learning.

TELLS OF PROBLEMS

Although pleased with the college's construction plans, Johnson mentioned problems arising from the physical facilities now available.

He made special note of the difficulties involved in the separation of the Auburn Hills Campus into two parts and "the really inadequate facilities" for art, music and automotive technology at the Highland Lakes Campus.

However, he said he thought the faculty "is doing notably well in an environment which falls short of measuring up to the high ideals of the college."

* * *

Johnson also warned of the problems arising from the college's "open door" policy of admitting students with low ability and achievement.

REVOLVING DOOR

If an institution accepts these students, it must adapt programs to them or become a "revolving door college," he said.

Administrative problems listed by Johnson include the need to establish clear relationships between the central office and the separate campuses and the need to encourage faculty initiative and creativity.

Johnson emphasized that his observations do not consitute a survey of the college.

While showing favorable progress, OCC stands at least 16 months away from North Central Association accreditation.

* * *

"It can be achieved only after an institution has been in operation long enough to present evidence regarding the nature and effectiveness of its program, and only after a rigorous self-study followed by examination of the institution by a team representing the association," Johnson said.

College Officials Are Pleased by Report

The pleasure of receiving confirmation for what they've suspected all along has been afforded Oakland Community College officials.

"The college looks very good to me — but it's nice to have an outsider take a look at it and tell you that it's going well," OCC Board Chairman George R. Mosher said.

He was commenting on the report of Dr. B. Lamar Johnson, educational expert who recently prepared a report generally praising the young institution.

Likewise happy about the report was OCC President Dr. John E. Tirrell.

* * *

"It is most satisfying, since it is in general quite laudatory, although it does point out areas where we must make improvements," Tirrell said.

COLLEGE ATTITUDE

The comment was charateristic of the attitude of the college which has developed under Tirrell's guidance.

Tirrell, college trustees and staff members have been quick to recognize their accomplishments and shortcomings, assess them rapidly and proceed on their course.

This rapid-fire approach to decision making has been a major factor in determining the college's position today, less than 2½ years after it was established by voters.

* * *

STIMULUS FOR GROWTH

OCC's first classes were opened just 11 months after Tirrell was hired.

Far from hindering college officials, the need to act fast has provided a stimulus for college growth, according to both Mosher and Tirrell.

"If we had had two years, we probably would have been busy for two years," Tirrell said.

Mosher put it another way.

'UNDER PRESSURE'

"A lot of the best decisions are made under pressure," he said. "Often when you have time to think about a problem, you never get around to it. You just spend time thinking up new problems."

Mosher, who has been chairman of the board since its inception, noted that various circumstances had contributed to the college's initial success.

"We were exceptionally lucky in our major decisions about sites, the instructional system and key personnel," he said.

* * *

Tirrell commented that hurdles have been kept to a minimum because of the size of the undertaking, "the rapidity with which the board has been willing to move and the competency of the staff."

* * *

He added to the list "a lot of hard work" and commented that there still is much to be done.

"We're making progress," Mosher said. "But it seems like it's been years and years and years."

Apparent Low Bidder on Project Revealed

A Manchester firm submitted the apparent low bid of $40,103 for construction of sewers in Jeffrey Manor Subdivision at last night's meeting of the Waterford Township Board.

Outbidding nine other companies and undercutting the $41,621 construction estimate for the project was Douglas Higgins, Inc.

The bid was $5,542 less than the next lowest offer. Bids ranged as high as $103,347.

Bids were referred to Township Consulting Engineers Johnson and Anderson, Inc., and Township Utilities Manager Kenneth M. Squiers for analysis and a subsequent report.

* * *

Then a hearing date will be set.

$9,574 CHARGE

The special assessment district project, which will benefit 40 property owners on the west side of Scott Lake Road and three Elizabeth Lake Road residents, also includes a $9,574 charge for engineering and contingencies.

The project consists of construction of about 3,250 feet of lateral sewers and 675 feet of pipe leads to residences.

Cost to each property owner had been previously estimated at $1,190.

* * *

The sewers will be connected to the nearby Lorraine Manor system at Herbell and Fernbarry. Sewage will be processed in a treatment plant located on Lorberta.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business last night, the board called Township Attorney Paul M. Mandel into the North Oakland Library Contract System (NOLCS) controversy.

Mandel was directed to meet with the NOLCS advisory committee in an effort to protect the interests of the township in the system, following a request by Roger Rapelje of the township's library advisory board.

Contract negotiations between the City of Pontiac, which controls the system, and member communities are at an impasse, according to Rapelje, who noted that an Oct. 1 deadline has been set for members to submit a notice of intent to withdraw from the system.

* * *

Waterford and eight other communities — the townships of Brandon, Independence, Highland, Orion and Oxford, the villages of Milford and Holly and the city of Walled Lake — contend they have no voice in governing NOLCS.

'LACK OF SERVICES'

Another point of contention the past few months is an alleged lack of services provided by the city library.

With the Pontiac facility the core library, the system is designed as a cooperative effort by member communities in the purchase and circulation of library books.

Rapelje said he felt it would be beneficial for Waterford to continue in the system because of the increased availability of federal and state funds.

* * *

The township has invested more than $36,000 in NOLCS since becoming a member in 1963, according to Rapelje.

HEARING DATE

Oct. 17 was established as the hearing date for a proposed special assessment district street lighting project for the south end of Lansdowne Street.

Eighty-two per cent of the affected home owners have signed petitions favoring the project, according to Supervisor Dorothy W. Olson.

Based on 95½ assessments, property owners would be assessed an annual service charge of $5.83.

* * *

Total yearly cost would be $618, with residents paying $556 and the township chipping in the remaining 10 per cent.

WATER ORDINANCE

Also last night, the board took steps to amend two sections of the township water ordinance.

Introduced was an amendment which authorizes the water department to use polyethylene plastic tubing for connections from households to trunklines.

One of the four types of piping allowed by the State Department of Health, polyethylene plastic will decrease by about 33 per cent the material cost of tubing.

* * *

The other revision states that no new water connections can be authorized until approval is given by the township plumbing inspector.

STARTING DATE

Also last night, the Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters Association requested a starting date be established for negotiating a 1967 contract for firemen.

The firemen's contract recommendations were referred to Mandel for an opinion.

The board tentatively agreed to set a date at next Monday's meeting.

In still other business, the board okayed Delmar Norman's request for a lot split in Newberry Little Farms Subdivision.

3-YEAR TERM

The board learned last night that Township Director of Inspections E. R. Lawson was named to a three-year term on the board of directors of the Building Officials Conference of Michigan at a recent meeting in East Lansing.

* * *

Also approved last night was that Township Director of Inspections E. R. Lawson was named to a three-year term on the board of directors of the Building Officials Conference of Michigan at a recent meeting in East Lansing.

Zoning Cases Are Handled; Notices Read

The Waterford Township Board last night approved two rezoning requests, denied a third and read first notices on five other zoning change proposals.

By unanimous vote, the board rezoned from single family residential to multiple dwelling residential, property on the northeast corner of Elizabeth Lake Road and Williams Lake Road for a 26-acre multiple complex development.

Some 115 apartment units will be built on the land. A sewer system and treatment plant also will be constructed.

Thirty-two residents — mostly from Williams Lake Road — had signed petitions in opposition to the rezoning.

* * *

Also approved last night was rezoning of a parcel at Tilden and Boston from single family residential to local business to make a beauty shop operation a conforming use.

REQUEST DENIED

Denied by the board last night was a request to rezone from extensive business and single family residential to multiple dwelling residential property off M59 near Elizabeth Lake Road for a 124-unit apartment development.

Forty-three residents had signed petitions against rezoning the property. The Township Planning Committee and Oakland County Coordinating, Planning and Zoning Comittee had previously made negative recommendations.

Slated for board action at next Monday's meeting are rezoning requests to change:

- From local business to general business property on M59 just west of Williams Lake Road for establishment of a plumbing business.
- From single family residential to local business property at Island Park Drive and Sashabaw for a gas station.
- From single family residential to multiple dwelling residential property on the southwest corner of Tubbs and Crescent Lake Road for apartments.

Viet Escalation ---in Phone Bill

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Mrs. Kathleen Hunt, a student at the University of Arizona, received six collect telephone calls from her soldier-husband in Viet Nam last month.

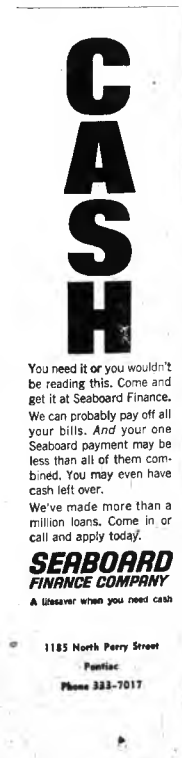
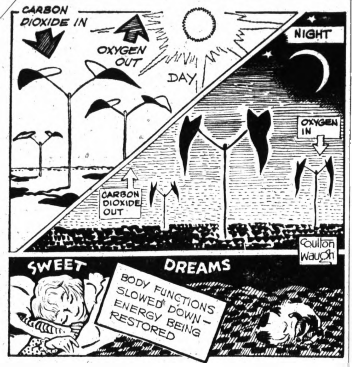
"We would lose all track of time when we were on the telephone," she said.

The telephone company kept perfect track, however, and sent Mrs. Hunt a bill for $1,084.



Junior Editors Quiz on PLANTS



QUESTION: Do plants sleep?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: We think of sleep as the human state (lower picture) where our body functions, such as heart rate and blood pressure as well as our conscious thought, slow down.

This gives us a chance to rest and awake refreshed. Judging by this standards, plants do not sleep, for they have no hearts or blood systems or conscious thought resembling ours to slow down.

Yet plants can be said to sleep in the sense that, at night, they cease many activities they carry on by day.

Certain plants, such as bean sprouts and clover, let their leaves droop at night, and there is even a special name for this: "nyctitropism."

You may call this sleep, but it is different from our sleep since it is not a restorative period, but simply a time of inactivity.

During the day, plants are very busy making plant food with their leaves. At this time, they absorb carbon dioxide and throw off oxygen.

This ceases at night, but a breathing process goes on (as it had during the day) in which oxygen is taken in and carbon dioxide given off.

FOR YOU TO DO: Go into your garden at night and see if you can find any examples of plant-sleeping, or nyctitropism.

Red Dye Will Aid Missouri River Pollution Study

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Fluorescent red dye to study water pollution will be injected next week at 10 points along an 800-mile section of the Missouri River.

"This study could give us the reason for a large fish kill in the Missouri River above Kansas City in 1964," said Anthony Homyk, hydrologist-engineer with the U.S. Geological Survey in Rolla, Mo. Homyk is the project coordinator.

★ ★ ★

State agencies in Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota, as well as the U.S. Geological Survey, Weather Bureau and Corps of Engineers are taking part in the experiment.

★ ★ ★

Homyk said the purpose of the red dye will be to determine how long it takes for pollutants to dilute and the time-of-travel of contaminants down the river.

★ ★ ★

Homyk said that as far as he knew this would be the first time that a red dye river study had ever been attempted "on this large a scale."

"If time-of-travel information had been available when chlorine was accidentally dumped into the lower Mississippi River a few years ago," said Homyk, "we could have been more definite in warnings to cities downstream that used the river for a water supply."

E. European Reds Back Soviet Stand

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev found full support for Russia's hard-line Viet Nam policy and tough stand against Communist China during a week of diplomatic meetings in Eastern Europe.

The party general secretary flew back to Moscow last night after a series of talks with Bulgarian party chief Todor Zhivkov, Yugoslav President Tito and Hungarian party leader Janos Kadar.

Bulgaria and Hungary now are Moscow's most loyal East European allies, while Yugoslavia is probably the Kremlin's most understanding friend of the Chinese problem.

Brezhnev found unanimous support for Russia's unchanging opposition to U.S. Viet Nam policy and declarations of "readiness to continue to provide all-round assistance" for the Communist struggle against U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

There was also support — although less vocal — on the problem of Peking's dividing tactics within the world Communist movement and so-called "cultural revolution" which has been sweeping China in an effort to root out all foreign — Communist as well as non-Communist — ideological influence.

INTERNAL UNHEAVAL

All three countries which Brezhnev visited have voiced condemnation of China's internal upheaval and its attacks on "revisionists," Peking's name for any Communists who fail to agree with the Chinese brand of communism.

Russia fired a counterbarrage of anti-Peking propaganda in the last two weeks which brought Sino-Soviet relations to a near breaking point.

Yugoslavia, although formally a "nonaligned" nation, had been the original "revisionist" target of Peking's unrestricted political warfare against those who question the infallibility of Mao Tse-tung's thought.

Mickey Stanley Paces Tigers' 2-1 Victory

McLain Gains 20th Triumph in California

Young Outfielder Hits Double, Triple — Gets Both Runs

ANAHEIM (AP) — There was talk this spring that someday Mickey Stanley might replace Al Kaline in the Detroit Tigers outfield.

★ ★ ★

It would appear, however, that there is room for both of them in the Tiger line-up. Both played Monday night in the opener of a three-game series against the California Angels.

★ ★ ★

And although Kaline was held hitless, Stanley doubled, tripled and scored both runs as the Tigers beat the Angels, 2-1, to capture the 20th victory for 22-year-old Dennis McLain.

"I don't see how you can keep Stanley out of the center field," said interim Tiger Manager Frank Skaff.

DEFENSIVE ACE

"He could be the best defensive center fielder in the league. He has had a fine apprenticeship this season."

Detroit's outfield has consisted of Willie Horton in left, Kaline in center and Jim Northrup in right for most of the season.

★ ★ ★

Stanley has filled in for both Kaline and Northrup, hitting .288 to rank second to Kaline on the squad.

"The new manager—whoever it is—will have a difficult time keeping Stanley out," Skaff said.

HOME RUN

McLain gave up a second-inning homer to Jose Cardenal and then patiently waited for the Tigers to score the two runs necessary to win his 20th.

Cardenal's home run was his 15th.

★ ★ ★

Rookie Jorge Rubio started for the Angels and had the Tigers shut out until Stanley doubled with one out in the seventh, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Bill Freehan's single.

★ ★ ★

The winning run scored in the ninth off loser Bob Lee, 5-3, when Stanley tripled and came across on a single by Gates Brown.

Pontiac Car Preview at Grid Contest

Numerous guests and celebrities from press, radio and TV circles in Michigan, along with players from the Detroit Lions and men associated with the Pontiac car, will be in attendance in the "Pontiac Preview" showing and football game at Wisner Stadium Wednesday night.

A parade led by the Pontiac Northern band and Land O'Lakes Majorette flag bearers with many of the new 1967 Pontiac models will begin at 6:30 marching from Mt. Clemens street, down Mill to Pike, up Pike to Saginaw and north toward the stadium.

The halftime show will feature the 1967 Pontiacs. Dealers cooperating in the program are Pontiac Retail, Haupt Pontiac, Russ Johnson Pontiac, Shelton Pontiac, Homer Hight Pontiac and Audette Pontiac, all local Wide Track car dealers.

DOES EVERYTHING — Jim Johnson, halfback from Tecumseh has become Mr. Everything for the Pontiac Arrows. Johnson, who scored on 17-yard and 90-yard pass-run touchdowns last Saturday night against Lansing, is one of the top ball carriers in the MFL. Here he is shown getting by a couple of huge Ypsilanti tacklers in their recent game at Wisner. He will start against Flint Wednesday night.

Mention the Pontiac Arrows and the Flint Blue Devils 'Sharpen' up on the football field.

The Flint player in mention is former Michigan State halfback and an All-Stater at Flint Northern a few years back, John Sharp, who is now one of the leading pass receivers for the Blue Devils.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday in an evening program designated as "Pontiac Preview" with the first public showing of the 1967 Pontiac cars, the two Midwest Football League rivals will battle at Wisner Stadium.

Three weeks ago, Flint put the only blemish on the Pontiac season thus far by holding the Arrows to a 6-6 deadlock and it was Sharp who took a 30-yard pass from Luke Waters for the tying score.

Fortunately for the Arrows, Flint missed the extra point on a bad snap from center and thus Pontiac is still in first place, if only by a half game.

One star in Pontiac's 47-28 triumph over a strong Lansing team last Saturday was Jim Johnson, a 180-pound halfback from Tecumseh.

Johnson, who wanted a trial with the Detroit Lions in training camp last summer, has been the "jack-of-all-trades" for the Arrows.

DOES EVERYTHING

He is one of the leading runners on the team, has done some of the punting and is also one of the top pass receivers.

Last Saturday night he made two beautiful fingertip catches for 17-yard and 90-yard touchdowns, one from quarterback Tom Myers and another from Ron Bishop. He was on the receiving end of three other passes.

Johnson's desire to play football is obvious from the fact he travels the 90 miles from Tecumseh four times a week to work out with the Arrows.

Coach Bob Suci of Flint, who was a Fenton All-Stater and later starred at Michigan State and for four years as a defensive back in the American Football League, offers a little incentive to bring Flint "up" for Pontiac.

"The boys just seem to play their best against Pontiac; I guess there's a lot of rivalry that goes back to the Saginaw Valley days," said Suci.

Last year is was Flint which upset Pontiac 19-14 and nearly cost the Arrows the MFL title. But a week later the Blue Devils tied Dayton 7-7 to give Pontiac the championship by a half game.

The tie this year could be disastrous because Pontiac must go on the road for the last four games and should Dayton continue its winning ways, the tie game could cost Pontiac its crown.

Game time Wednesday is 7:45 p.m. and tickets are on sale in advance at Osmun's, Griff's, Bob-Ken's, Frayer's and VFW Post No. 1370.

Key Blows Add Game to Lead

Big Hits Aid Dodger Pennant Bid

By the Associated Press

Ron Fairly made a big hit in his official Busch Memorial Stadium debut, and John Briggs did the same in his latest performance at Connie Mack Stadium.

Reviewing both, the Pittsburgh Pirates thought highly of neither.

★ ★ ★

Fairly hit a two-run homer his first time up, then added two singles as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated St. Louis 6-3 Monday night. Briggs, meanwhile, singled home the winning run in Philadelphia's 11-inning 5-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

★ ★ ★

The combination increased Los Angeles' National League lead to a commanding 2½ games over Pittsburgh and left the Dodgers in such a position that if they split in their last six games the Pirates would have to win all five of theirs for a tie.

It isn't far from being over, though, and the Pirates have Fairly and Briggs to blame.

RIB INJURY

When Fairly homered in the first inning, it marked his first official time at bat in the Cardinals' new park. In his only previous appearance, he walked. He didn't play the rest of the time the Dodgers were there because of torn cartilage in the left side of his rib cage.

★ ★ ★

The Dodger right fielder didn't stop with the homer, though. He added two singles, drove in another one and scored one more.

Briggs didn't make his entrance at Connie Mack Stadium until the sixth inning when he beat out an infield single as a pinch hitter and eventually scored the run that gave the Phillies a 4-3 lead.

The Pirates tied it, however, and Briggs had to come through with a two-out, run-scoring single in the 11th.

★ ★ ★

In the only other National League game, third-place San Francisco remained four games out by whipping Atlanta 8-2. Rain washed out New York at Cincinnati.

In the American League, Detroit edged California 2-1 and Boston blanked Washington 5-0 before bowing 3-2.

Juan Marichal pitched a six-hitter for his 24th victory against six defeats. One of the hits was Felipe Alou's 31st homer for Atlanta. The Giants easily offset that blow, however, as Willie McCovey unloaded his 35th homer, a two-run blow, in the first inning, and Tom Haller connected with two on in the fourth.

Reds Confirm Bristol Boss

CINCINNATI (AP) — "The only way you're going to make it to the major leagues is by managing," Dave Bristol, a former high school history teacher, said to himself a few years ago.

★ ★ ★

When he made his thoughts known, he was told: "Forget it. You don't have a chance. You never played in the big leagues."

★ ★ ★

But Bristol attained his goal Monday when he was named manager of the Cincinnati Reds for 1967. At 33, he's the youngest pilot in the majors today.

He actually took over the ball club as interim manager when Don Heffner was fired July 13, and the "who's he" tag was immediately applied to the young, serious student of base ball.

Bristol is a little awed at his own fast rise. The highest he reached as a player in organized baseball was Class B, and he had never sat in a major league dugout before this season.

★ ★ ★

"I had seen only 25 major league games before this year," he said. "Last year when I was assigned to scout the Minnesota Twins for the Reds, who then were fighting for the pennant, I never had seen as many as three big league games in a row."

Baltimore Covers 3 Potential Stops

LOS ANGELES (AP) —When the Baltimore Orioles left Anaheim Sunday, many Southern Californians wondered, "will they be back this year?"

For the wondering, here's good news:

Before pulling up stakes after a round with the California Angels, the American League-leading Orioles made reservations at a Los Angeles hotel.

Naturally, if the Dodgers sew up the National League pennant, the Orioles will be back.

But, there's more to the story:

The Orioles have also made reservations in San Francisco and Pittsburgh— in case.

Lions Begin Seeking Looney Landing Site

DETROIT (AP) — Rebellious running back Joe Don Looney was placed on the trading block by the Detroit Lions Monday. But there were no immediate takers.

"We're exploring, talking to quite a few clubs," a spokesman for the National Football League team said Monday. "Right now, nothing has changed. He's still suspended and no longer practicing with the team."

★ ★ ★

Looney was suspended indefinitely by the Lions Sunday when he refused to carry a play to quarterback Milt Plum. The Lions defeated Atlanta 28-10.

Gilmer met briefly with Looney Monday but refused to comment on the talk. However, Looney told newsmen that Gilmer said: "I guess I'll have to trade you."

"I want to play somewhere," Looney said afterwards. "I can help some team. That was the trouble here—I wasn't playing."

RED WELT

Looney said he refused to reenter Sunday's game because he had suffered a back injury. He displayed a large, red welt to newsmen Monday, but later admitted Dr. Richard A. Thompson, Lions team physician, had pronounced him fit.

Gilmer said nothing of the injury when the suspension was announced after the game.

★ ★ ★

"I told Gilmer I was hurt," said Looney. "But he wanted to send me back in with a message for Plum.

"I didn't want to risk getting hurt worse. I told him if he wanted a messenger, he should call Western Union."

The 24-year-old halfback has had a long career of difficulties in football. He played at four universities and was booted off the Oklahoma varsity by then Coach Bud Wilkinson for slugging an assistant coach.

Looney was the No. 1 draft choice of the New York Giants in 1963 but failed to last the training season, being traded to Baltimore. He was in off-the-field trouble in Baltimore and later in Detroit after the Colts traded the moody 224-pound back to the Lions. He sat out most of last season because of a head injury.

List Swift's Condition as Poor Today

DETROIT (AP) — Bob Swift, twice pulled from the coaching ranks to take over the Detroit Tigers in the last two years, was reported in poor condition at Grace Hospital Tuesday.

The 51-year-old former major league catcher is suffering from cancer. Swift fell into a coma over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

Complaining of food poisoning, Swift entered the hospital shortly after the All-Star game in July. A malignant tumor was discovered during the examination.

He underwent cobalt treatments for several weeks as an outpatient. But three weeks ago, he reentered the hospital when his condition worsened.

Swift was named interim manager of the Tigers for the second time May 16 when the late Charlie Dressen suffered his second heart attack. Dressen died Aug. 10, less than a month after another Tigers coach, Frank Skaff, was named to replace Swift.

Benefit Golf Event Set at Pontiac CC

A benefit golf tournament will be held Wednesday at Pontiac Country Club with all proceeds going to the Bill Harding fund.

Harding, son of outstanding local golfer Glen Harding, lost his leg in an accident this past June and is still under hospital care.

Bill, 21, was an all-sports star at St. Mikes.

Entry fee, which includes prizes, food and refreshments is $10. Entries can be made starting at 9 a.m. at the course tomorrow.

Large Double Paid to 21

BOSTON (AP) — Twenty-one ticket holders were $2,711.20 richer today after collecting on the largest daily double of the New England racing season Monday at Suffolk Downs.

Beau Creek set up the big payoff by taking the first race and paying $213.20. Spanish Countess, $17.60, completed the double by winning the second race.

11 Straight Wins

Area Player Leads Ivy Champion

Special to The Press

HANOVER, N. H. — A senior end from Bloomfield Hills is leading Dartmouth College's quest for a second straight perfect football season and Ivy League championship.

Bill Calhoun made his debut as 1966 captain of the Indians Saturday when Dartmouth extended its winning streak to 11 games by taking the measure of Massachusetts, 17-7, in a non-league game.

A 1963 graduate of Bloomfield Hills High School, Calhoun was a regular end last season when Dartmouth defeated nine foes and was awarded the Lambert Trophy for being the best team in the East.

The 6-2, 215-pound Calhoun caught 16 passes for 345 yards and three touchdowns to top the Indians in this department. He was on the receiving end of a 79-yard scoring pass play from quarterback Mickey Beard in the finale against Princeton.

This play broke a school record for passing that had stood for 29 years and helped the Big Green to a 28-14 win and the Ivy championship.

During his sophomore season, the 21-year-old Calhoun played 104 minutes. Last fall he saw duty for 253 minutes.

The fastest end on the squad, Calhoun opened against Massachusetts on the right wing. Senior Bob MacLeod was at left end.

"I wouldn't trade them for any other pair of ends in the country," said coach Bob Blackman.

"I've never coached a more conscientious, hard-working football player than Bill. He hustles every second and has the type of physique to play any of six positions for us.

"Before last season opened, we regarded Bill as a top candidate for defensive end, but eventually, we needed him most on offense. He did a wonderful job there."

Calhoun is the third end in four years to captain the Indians. He also was leader of the 1964 freshmen team.

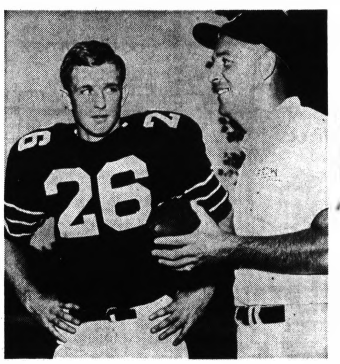
While in high school, he played both end and tackle and was named to the Wayne-Oakland team. He also played basketball and baseball.

The son of W. B. Calhoun Jr., a former Wisconsin swimmer, Bill ranked 12th in a Hills' graduating class of 258. He is majoring in government at Dartmouth.

Don Hoff, Bloomfield Hills athletic director who coached the Barons in football when Calhoun was a prep, said:

"The other kids had lots of confidence in Bill. He is smart and easy to coach and doesn't make the same mistake twice."

Bill and his brother, Bob, spent the summer playing catch. Bob was the thrower and now is first string quarterback on the Bloomfield Hills team that has won two straight.



PLAYS FOR BROWN — Fullback Steve Daniels, a graduate of Pontiac Northern High, is shown talking with Brown University coach John McLaughry. Expected to see considerable action for the Ivy League school this fall, Daniels missed Saturday's opening win over Rhode Island because of a hand injury. A junior, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Daniels, 3581 Perry Lake Road, Brandon Township.

U. S. Boxers Score Heavily in Series

LONDON (AP) — Robert Lee Green Jr., Ron Miller, and Ron Harris scored knockouts as the U.S. amateur boxing team won seven of 10 matches from Britain Monday.

The victory was the first for the Americans after a 7-3 loss to Italy in Naples and a 5-5 draw against West Germany in Berlin last week on their European tour. It also avenged a 10-0 trouncing given them by Britain in the last meeting between the two countries five years ago.

Pro-Am Begins Canadian Open

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Forty-four professionals and amateurs 'qualified Monday, bringing to 144 the number of golfers who will be shooting for $100,000 prize money in the Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

The four-day tournament, preceded by Wednesday's pro-am, begins Thursday.

* * *

Most of the top money winners on the Professional Golfers' Association circuit have arrived.

The golfers with the long shot off the tee will have a decided advantage on the 6,907-yard, par 71 layout at the Shaughnessy Golf and Country Club.

Twelve of the 18 holes on the gently rolling course are over 400 yards long with two of these in the 550-yard neighborhood. The course is located alongside the Fraser River in Vancouver's fashionable south end.

Monday was reserved for practice by many of the touring pros, including Billy Casper, top money winner on the golf trail this year with more than $111,000 lining his pockets.

Others passed up practice in favor of salmon fishing or sightseeing.

Today's menu called for more of the same, with the course reserved for practice.

* * *

Dapper Doug Sanders, winner of three tournaments this year, apparently thought his iron work needed repair and headed for the practice fairway where he uncovered a foot - square patch of brown earth with several hours of practice shots.

He carried on a running conversation with another pro — Chi Chi Rodriguez, who was having trouble straightening out his wood shots.

BOB RABAJA
Baseball's Most Valuable

MVP Awards Made in City

By JERE CRAIG

Pontiac Press awards have been added to what already is becoming one of the brighter years for three men active in Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department programs.

Most Valuable Player trophies have been presented Bob Rabaja for Class A baseball and Chuck Schneider for Class A softball.

In addition, a new award for continued outstanding service in local athletics was given to Paul Parks — a longtime booster, promoter and active participant in Pontiac sports.

* * *

This is the second MVP prize for the popular Rabaja, a versatile, talented infielder who was a vital cog in the city and regional baseball titles won by Teamsters Local 614.

He also earned the award in 1960, the summer he graduated from Pontiac Central High School, as a shortstop on the Knights of Columbus.

Ironically, the speedy 23-year-old Hillsdale College alumnus (where he played four years of varsity basketball and baseball) won the city batting title two years ago with a .450 average but won his two MVP awards with season in the high .200s.

MOVED AROUND

A computer programmer in the reliability department at Pontiac Motor, Rabaja was the Teamsters' regular second baseman but filled in behind the plate during one stretch and even hurled two innings and gained the victory in a big game late in the campaign.

Making it a very important year, Rabaja has announced his engagement to Arlene Manning of Caledonia.

Schneider, in winning his first MVP trophy, was a bright moment in a dull season for Francis Fuel and Oil's softball squad.

The team only won three games, but the 32-year-old pitcher-first baseman was a key man on the mound and at the plate.

The Highland Park High School grad has been playing softball about 20 years, but only joined the Francis team the past two years. He rapped two home runs, batted around the .300 mark as the cleanup hitter and was credited with one of the three mound victories.

He reveals one of his big thrills in softball was burling a no-hitter a couple seasons ago in a Detroit league.

Schneider and his brother Bill are adding to this year's happy moments by opening a Pontiac Lake Road lock and key shop in Waterford Township.

CHAMPIONSHIPS

The veteran sports booster Parks has guided numerous men's league baseball teams to city and regional titles after becoming a manager in the mid-1930s.

His first winner was the Avon Inn team, and since that one has produced titles for General Motors Truck & Coach, Shaw's Jewelers, VFW Post 1370, Bemis-Olsen Amvets Post 113, Huron-Airway and the Teamsters.

In addition, during World War II he coached a championship girls' basketball team.

Parks, 58, and manager of the VFW post 1370 in Pontiac, has sometimes been outspoken in criticizing the city recreation department's programs, but he realizes its budgetary proglems.

"I am staying in it (recreation baseball) to help the kids who're coming up," he says, while at the same time noting the lack of desire and determination to play on the part of too many youngsters now.

* * *

He is in a good position to observe this, being president of the Pontiac Football Company as well as a scout for the Baltimore Orioles — both of whom are having very successful seasons.

Santana is scheduled to play Corky Meinhardt of Walnut Creek, Calif., while second seeded Roy Emerson of Australia meets Butch Krikorian of San Jose.

* * *

In the women's division Monday, top seeded Maria Bueno of Brazil trounced Linda Vandermeer of Oakland, Calif., 6-1, 6-1. Miss Bueno is not scheduled to play today. Third seeded Rosemary Casals of San Francisco will meet Darby Auerbach.

N.Y. Jets Lead Statistics in Five AFL Categories

NEW YORK (AP) — Weeb Ewbank, boss of the unbeaten New York Jets, is enjoying the best of all possible worlds for a football coach.

American Football League statistics released today show the Jets leading five of the six team categories in offense and defense. Ewbank couldn't ask for much more than that.

Joe Namath's strong right arm has given New York an average of 232.3 yards per game in the air, 15 more than Houston has averaged on the passing of veteran George Blanda.

Boston, paced by burly Jim Nance, leads the rushing offense with 139.7 yards gained per game along the ground. San Diego is second with 136.

The Jets' total offense shows an average of 357.3 yards per game with Kansas City's 334 good for second place.

On defense, the Jets lead in all categories. New York has allowed just 66 yards per game along the ground and 100.7 through the air. Houston is second in rushing defense with 92 yards allowed per game and Oakland is second in passing defense with 128.3 allowed through the air.

New York leads in total defense with 166.7 yards allowed per game and Oakland is second with 237.8.

New Class B Leader in Prep Grid Ratings

By The Associated Press

Buchanan, a 58-7 victor over Berrien Springs last Friday, took over the No. 1 spot in Class B in the weekly Michigan high school football poll conducted by The Associated Press this week.

The move was the only major one in this week's poll which saw a general shakeup in Class B and some changing around in the other two categories.

Bay City Central, the defending Class A king retained its slim lead over Battle Creek Central while Frankenmuth withstood a stiff challenge by Middleville in Class C-D to hold on to its top ranking there.

The AP's statewide panel of sports writers and sportscasters again voted Muskegon the third best team in Class A but promoted Royal Oak Dondero to fourth, dropping Ann Arbor to fifth.

Ferndale St. James fell to 11th place in Class C despite winning its 20th game in a row.

The voting, with points based on 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for a second, etc. through 1 point for a 10th place vote:

'Third Victory for Pistons in Exhibition

HUNTINGTON, N. Y. (AP)—Ray Scott's tipin with 32 seconds to play gave the rallying Detroit Pistons a 107-105 National Basketball Association exhibition victory over the New York Knicks and Cazzie Russell Monday night.

Player - Coach Dave DeBusschere powered a fourth quarter rally, scoring 15 of the Pistons' 34 points. At one point, Detroit trailed by as much as 19 points.

* * *

The victory was Detroit's third in four exhibition games.

DeBusschere led all scorers with 20 points and added 18 rebounds. Scott had 14 points.

Walt Bellamy topped New York with 18 points.

BRIEF DUEL

The expected duel between Russell, the Michigan All-America who was New York's No. 1 draft choice, and Dave Bing of Syracuse, Detroit's first choice in the draft, failed to materialize.

Both played briefly, with Bing scoring nine points to Russell's four.

The two teams meet again tonight at Roselle, N.J.

'M' Coaches Happy by Defensive Play

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan football coaches said Monday they were pleased with the Wolverine defensive line in the 17-7 victory over California Saturday.

Coach Bump Elliott, viewing game films in preparation for this week's encounter with North Carolina, praised the work of defensive tackles Dave Porter and Bob Mielke.

* * *

But, added Elliott, the Michigan offensive line needs more work on blocking.

The Wolverines worked out in sweat clothes Monday. Elliott said there were no serious injuries reported.

Lineup Changes

KINGSTON, Ont. (AP) — Rod Gilbert will take Bob Nevin's place at right wing on a line with Phil Goyette and Don Marshall in Wednesday night's National Hockey League exhibition game against Toronto, it was announced today. Nevin will be sidelined for about three weeks with torn left knee ligaments.

Pro Leagues Hold Lead at 'Halftime'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's two major professional football leagues lead at halftime in their bid to gain congressional approval of their proposed merger.

* * *

But the second half should be as tough as any played by one of their teams on a Sunday afternoon.

The Senate approved Monday a bill that would sanction the combining of the National and American football leagues. The bill was sent to the House, where it will be given to the Judiciary Committee, chaired by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y.

Celler, long a foe of granting special exemptions to antitrust laws, served notice Monday that the bill would not get by the House as easily as it did the Senate.

* * *

The sports bill was passed by the Senate Judiciary Committee last week without any hearings and by the full Senate without discussion.

The bill exempts action already taken by the leagues but does not grant them complete future exemption from antitrust action.

NO ACTION

"I can't accept a bill as important as that without holding any hearings," said Celler. He refused to act three weeks ago on a Senate-passed measure to completely exempt the merger from antitrust laws. "I can't buy a pig in the poke."

"I feel the Senate acted precipitously in passing the bill without holding any hearings on it and without any discussion on the floor."

* * *

Celler declined to say when he would schedule hearings on the legislation but said, "I would have to have hearings to see if the public interest will be served by the merger.

"The public interest may be better served with two leagues," he said. "I don't know. But it is a matter that must be explored and it hasn't been."

Expect Howe Out for Week

DETROIT (AP) — Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings, who suffered a sprained left knee in an intrasquad game Sunday, will be sidelined for about a week and is expected to miss the team's first three exhibition games, the team announced Monday.

A Red Wings official said it had been thought Howe would be able to return to action in two to three days. A closer examination prompted doctors to advise Howe to stay off the leg for a longer period, the official said.

The Red Wings open the exhibition campaign against the Boston Bruins in Hamilton, Ont., Saturday.

Duffy Has Secret 'Hula' Signs

EAST LANSING (AP) — Besides being coach of the nation's No. 1 ranked football team, Duffy Daugherty also does a lovely hula dance which, he claims, is all part of his football strategy.

The writers who follow his Michigan State team wanted to know the secret behind some of the sideline wig-waggings which appear aimed at quarterback Jimmy Raye.

* * *

"Well," Daugherty confided quietly, "This means run..."

He started into a running motion.

"And this (a throwing motion) means pass..."

Then the short, stocky coach started swaying his hips and making hula motions with his hands off to the left.

"And this means Apisa around end."

Bob Apisa, a bullish, fast-starting fullback who averages 7.1 yards a carry, is part of MSU's notorious "Hawaiian punch," along with barefooted place kicker Dick Kenney and reserve quarterback Charlie Wedemeyer.

ANOTHER ONE

That's not all, Daugherty revealed. The freshman team, which started practice Monday, has an Hawaiian end, a 6-foot-4, 196-pounder named Jon Mahanani.

The Spartan coach turned serious when talk turned to next Saturday and MSU's Big Ten opener against Illinois.

* * *

MSU has beaten North Carolina State 28-10 and Penn State 42-8 while Illinois has lost twice, 26-7 to Southern Methodist and 21-14 to Missouri. There was talk of whether MSU would be "up" for the Illini.

"If we have trouble getting up for them, we'll be in real trouble," Daugherty said.

"Everyone would have you feel we're great because we've got Clint Jones, George Webster, Bubba Smith and four or five fellows like that," he said. "We've had outstanding players before.

"The thing that makes these fellows look so great is that the whole team plays with so much enthusiasm," said Daugherty.

"We tell our squad this is the secret of any success we have.

"George Webster and Bubba Smith (top defenders) are not going to look good if we stop playing with this tremendous drive and desire," he declared.

"I tell the team," he added, "It's no disgrace to lose, but it is a disgrace to be outhustled."

Yankees Fire 'Red' Barber

NEW YORK (AP) — Red Barber, a member of the New York Yankees' broadcasting team for the last 13 years, and a nationally known sportscaster has been released from his contract.

Barber, 58, said Monday that he was told at a breakfast meeting with Michael Burke, the new head of the Yankees, that his contract would not be renewed for the 1967 season.

It was the first move announced by Burke since he took control of the club last week after the resignation of Dan Topping.

Californian in Lead of Senior Event

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — George F. Kerigan, who calls himself a hacker, carried a three-stroke lead into today's final qualifying round of the USGA Seniors Golf Tournament.

Kerrigan of Fairfax, Calif., fired a four-under-par 68 in Monday's opening round over the 6,585-yard Tucson National Golf Club course, which drew complaints for damp greens. P.J. Boatwright, a tournament director, blamed a heavy rain a week earlier for the wetness.

After today's 18-hole round, the 32 low scorers will begin match play on Wednesday.

Only Kerrigan and his three closest rivals — George C. Beechler of Prineville, Ore.; Marcel J. Bellande of Biloxi, Miss., and Dick Chapman of Osterville, Mass. — managed to break par in the 120-golfer field.

THREE BIRDS

Kerrigan, who claims he didn't start playing golf until he was 30, birdied three holes on each side and got his bogeys back to back on the ninth and 10th holes.

Robert Kiersky of Winnetka, Ill., the 1965 seniors champion playing this year out of Delray Beach, Fla., was six strokes off Kerrigan's pace with a 74.

It is the first appearance in the national tournament for Kerrigan, who is 58.

The competitors all must be 50 and older.

Report Houk Turns Down Tiger Offer

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Free Press said in today's edition that Ralph Houk, manager of the New York Yankees, has turned down "a fabulous deal" to manage the Detroit Tigers.

"No specific offer was made but Houk was told he could write his own ticket in Detroit, meaning a long-term salary up to $100,000 a year," said the story by Joe Falls, sports editor of the Free Press.

"He turned it down over the weekend," Falls' story said.

"According to the Free Press source, Houk was told that contract tenure or money was no object in the Tiger job. He could name his own conditions," the story said.

The paper quoted its source as saying: "He (Houk) thought about it but finally decided against it. He felt that leaving the Yankees at a time like this would be like deserting a sinking ship."

Houk has three years left on a four-year contract with the Yankees, owned by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

BIG THREE

"The top three candidates for the job now are: 1, Bill Rigney, 2. Billy Hitchcock, 3. Mayo Smith," the paper said.

Rigney, manager of the California Angels, is on a year-to-year contract.

The newspaper said Rigney was scheduled to meet with Angels officials later today to talk over his 1967 contract.

Hitchcock, a former Tiger infielder, is managing the Atlanta Braves on an interim basis. Smith is a scout for the Yankees.

JACOBY

It is rather easy for declarer to look over dummy and decide on a line of play that will bring home his contract. It is much harder for a defender to do the same thing and work out a play to defeat the contract.

The reason lies in that the declarer is looking at 26 cards that he can play as a unit while a defender looks at 13 of his cards and another 13 belonging to an opponent.

Playing today's hand East wins the first trick with the ace of hearts and looks the dummy over carefully. He has one trick in hearts but that isn't going to bring in anything more. He also expects nothing in trumps. That leaves the minor suits in which to find three tricks, if he expects to keep the rubber going.

He tries to count declarer's distribution and marks him with five spades, two hearts and six cards in the minor suits. It also appears to him that his partner will hold one or two honors in diamonds.

If he holds two honors and exactly three diamonds, West will be sure to collect one diamond trick but after that South will be able to discard two clubs on dummy's fourth and fifth diamonds. This will leave South with only one club and ten tricks.

Then East goes a step further and sees that if West does hold two diamond honors, a small diamond and the queen of clubs there is a way to beat declarer. He leads his four of clubs. West's queen forces dummy's king. Later, West gets in with a diamond and gives his partner two club tricks.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
			1♠
Pass	1 N.T.	Pass	2♥
Pass	2♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold: ♠J8765 ♥AKQ64 ♦K2 ♣3. What do you do now?

A—Pass. Your partner has not raised spades—he has merely gone from hearts back to your first bid suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two spades your partner raises you to three hearts. What do you do now?

Ray Milland Works Hard at Profession He Claims to Hate

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — For a man who professes to hate acting, Ray Milland works hard at it.

THOMAS

Right now he is playing nightly at the Huntington Hartford theater in a strenuous courtroom drama, "Hostile Witness," which marks the first time he has appeared on the stage in his longtime—(30 years)—adopted home town. The play enjoyed success last season in New York, where Milland made another debut.

"Actually this marks the full circle: my return to the stage," he observes. "I started in England in 1931 when a friend of mine convinced me to take a part in the third company of an American play, 'The Woman in Room 13.' I was fired the first night."

SARDONIC VIEW

Milland's conversation is full of such wry observations. He has always taken a sardonic view of his life and occupation; it may have something to do with his being Welsh—he was born Reginald Truscott-Jones at Neath. Even though acting has rewarded him with wealth and honors—the Oscar for "The Lost Weekend" in 1945—he has long proclaimed his dislike for acting.

"But what else can I do?" he shrugs.

Milland appeared for lunch at the Brown Derby before the matinee across the street at the Hartford. He had been fighting a cold since the Denver engagement and he gulped down a pair of antibiotic pills.

* * *

At 58, Milland remains dourly handsome, though the hairline has marched relentlessly to the back of his head. His return to the stage, he claimed, was the result of a gay evening with Hollywood buddies.

"We were having a dinner party at my house one night," he recalled, "and Jimmy Stewart, Hank Fonda and Howard Keel were there. I was telling about how some producer in the East had been hounding me to tour in 'My Fair Lady,' but I kept turning him down.

MAKES CALL

"Well, we were all a little half-crocked anyway, and the three of them jumped on me and kept saying how great it was to play before a live audience again.

"The next morning I woke up and my wife said, 'Isn't it nice how the four of you called that producer and told him you'd do "My Fair Lady"?' I said, 'I did what?!'"

The actor endured 16 weeks of "My Fair Lady" then agreed to take on the Broadway run of the London hit, "Hostile Witness." His assessment of the New York experience: the audiences were great; the city was miserable.

"New York is a dreadful place to live," he said.

Percy Campaign Worker Elects to Take Lie Test

KENILWORTH, Ill. (AP)—A 28-year-old campaign worker for Republican U.S. senatorial candidate Charles Percy and a friend of Percy's slain daughter, Valerie, is to undergo a lie detector test today at his own request.

Police Chief Robert M. Daley said Calvin Fentress III was to have taken the test Friday but he was "too nervous" at the time.

* * *

Daley said another Percy worker, Tully Friedman, 24, had taken a lie detector test at his own request and passed it.

Daley emphasized that neither men are suspects in the Sept. 18 slaying of the 21-year-old woman.

YOUNG MAN SOUGHT

Daley called for a bushy-haired young man seen with Valerie and her twin sister, Sharon, on a train some 30 hours before the slaying to identify himself.

Daley said if the young man does not come forward, Sharon will be asked to help artists create a drawing of him.

* * *

Daley also disclosed at a news conference Monday night that another person on the train knew the Percy twins, but Sharon did not know the person's name. Daley would not say whether the person was a man or woman.

TO QUESTION 150

Plans to question perhaps 150 more persons about the slaying also were revealed.

To accommodate the expanded force, the command post for the investigation was shifted from the small Kenilworth village hall to the larger police station in adjoining Winnetka.

* * *

Daley said that questioning of more than 100 persons so far has turned up "no promising leads."

Percy and other members of his family have been in seclusion at an undisclosed location since last week.

Labor Hosts Big Debate Tonight

DETROIT (UPI)—Gov. Romney ventures into alien territory tonight when he faces his Democratic gubernatorial opponent, Zolton Ferency, in a debate before the Michigan AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

Romney has recently come under heavy attack from Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle for his veto of a bill which would have abolished the one-week waiting period for workers wishing to collect unemployment compensation.

Scholle said yesterday Romney's claim the bill would have turned the unemployment compensation system into a welfare plan did not make sense because "the better an unemployment compensation system we have, the fewer the jobless workers who will need to supplement their income by asking for welfare aid."

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz was also scheduled to address the 800 delegates to the convention this morning following a panel discussion on labor legislation.

* * *

G. Mennen Williams, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, told the opening session of the three-day convention yesterday that the voting record of his Republican opponent, Sen. Robert Griffin, was "antilabor, antiprogress, antipeople."

Quiz Delayed for 13 Alleged Crime Chiefs

NEW YORK (AP)—A grand jury has put over until Friday its questioning of 13 alleged Cosa Nostra chieftains while it receives an extensive background briefing from law enforcement officials.

Seven of the 13 seized last week at a "Little Apalachin" conference were told to return Friday and the other six next Monday. They were allowed to go home after a bomb scare disrupted Monday's proceedings.

The crime syndicate executives were dismissed without testifying after a 90-minute police search of the Queens County Criminal Courts Building failed to turn up any explosives. The 13 are free on $100,000 bail each as material witnesses in the inquiry.

Dist. Atty. Nat H. Hentel said the jury would hear background testimony for the rest of the week from federal, state and city experts on the Cosa Nostra.

He gave no indication if immunity would be granted to the 13 against possible self-incrimination.

"If they balk and refuse to answer," Hentel said. "We'll force them to answer." He did not elaborate.

LONG-DISTANCE REUNION — J. W. McCarter (facing camera) talked with his father for the first time in 42 years yesterday. McCarter of Memphis, Tenn., found his father in Baltimore via a telephone company demonstration at the Mid-South Fair in Memphis.

Telephone Call Reunites Dad, Son Apart 42 Years

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Fairs are for fun, but J. M. McCarter was crying. So were bystanders who stood and watched the tears stream down his face as he clutched the telephone.

For McCarter, a 47-year-old Firestone employe here, that telephone conversation was the first time he had talked with his father in 42 years.

"I thought he was dead," McCarter recalled today. "My parents separated when I was about 5. Mother died a few years later, and I hadn't seen my father since then. I didn't think I had any relatives."

The trail to finding his father actually began last week when another patient in a doctor's waiting room told McCarter he knew several families of that name in Jackson and Henderson, Tenn. A few days later McCarter received a call from an uncle in Henderson.

* * *

From that McCarter learned his father was alive and living somewhere in Baltimore, and there matters rested until the Mid-South Fair opened here Friday.

DIRECT DISTANCE DIALING

McCarter was watching a telephone company representative explain direct distance dialing when a telephone employe asked him who he'd like to call. He said his father in Baltimore.

Baltimore information had only a George McCarter listed. That number was called, and it turned out to be McCarter's half-brother he didn't even know about. The elder McCarter lived next door, and soon was on the phone.

"I'm going to see him Oct. 10," McCarter said of his father. "He's very sick, and can't travel . . .

* * *

"He talked to me like I was a baby — the last time I saw him I was 5 years old. 'Hon,' he said, 'come and see me as quick as possible'."

Arabs to Snub Mayor's Dance

NEW YORK (AP) — Delegates of 12 Arab nations have decided to return Mayor John V. Lindsay's snub of King Faisal of Saudi Arabia. They will boycott the mayor's dinner-dance honoring chiefs of the 118 United Nations delegations next Monday.

Lindsay canceled a dinner for the king last June after Faisal said friends of Israel were enemies of his nation.

* * *

"The boycott of the dinner dance," said Dr. Burhan Hammad of Jordan, "is in consequence of the decision by Mayor Lindsay regarding the cancellation of the dinner for King Faisal. We expect, however, that our policy will be continued toward other events unless the circumstances that caused this precedent are changed."

Diggs May Be Sued in Detroit Row

DETROIT (UPI) — A Michigan congressman today faces a possible suit for jimmying a utility door lock so electrical service could be restored to 23 families in an embattled apartment building.

* * *

A lawyer for caretaker Curtis Wright of the dilapidated four-story building planned to file suit against Democrat Charles C. Diggs, a Negro undertaker and veteran congressman, while police continued to search for the apartment owner, Russell Y. Harrison.

Harrison vanished before Circuit Court Judge John B. Swainson, a former governor, issued a warrant for his arrest yesterday for ignoring a court order to turn on the building's electricity.

Harrison had turned off the utilities when his tenants ignored eviction notices issued by him last week.

The 23 families, with a total of 50 children, had no gas service since Thursday and no electricity until Diggs stepped in Sunday night.

PRIED OFF

The congressman used an auto jack handle to pry the padlocks off the utility closet in the dark basement of the building, which has been cited by officials for 205 health and construction violations.

Diggs charged the building was "a symbol of how absentee landlords are thieving off the ghetto."

Harrison earlier said he switched off the utilities to force the tenants out so he could correct the violations.

He refused, however, to move the families into vacant apartments in the same building while making the repairs.

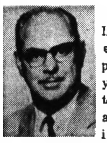
Who Got Sack? That Is Question

SACRAMENTO Calif. (AP)—An armored car driver arrived at Valley Motor Lines Monday to make his weekly pickup of the firm's money sack. But the money wasn't there.

Neither was the other "armored car driver" who, dressed like the real article, got there first, took charge of the sack and strolled away with $6,000.

Hard of Hearing?

Remarkable new invention helps restore your ability to hear more clearly



If you have a hearing problem, you'll want to know all about an important new device developed by a Texas inventor.

This new idea is not only surprisingly uncomplicated — it is amazingly inexpensive. Yet it is so remarkable, a patent has been applied for.

It may do much more than merely help you hear. It may help you hear more clearly — even in crowded noisy rooms or out in the open.

Called NORMEAR (Pat. pending) this scientific invention is now being offered exclusively in combination with the Beltone Andante hearing aid. You'll be thrilled with Andante's small size — amazed it's so inconspicuous.

Free hearing test, even if you've been told a hearing aid won't help . . . or that efficient hearing aids must be large and bulky to give you the help you need . . . you owe it to yourself to investigate NORMEAR and the Beltone Andante.

Bring in this ad, or call today. Have a free electronic hearing test, using the precision Beltone audiometer.

You may have your free test in our office, or in the privacy of your own home. No cost. Naturally no obligation.

Trade Pace Fastest of Week

Lively Rally by Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market mounted a lively rally with trading at the fastest pace in about a week early this afternoon.

The volatile glamor stocks posted gains running to 2 or 3 points while key stocks along a broad front advanced from fractions to about a point.

* * *

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 5.62 at 798.42.

This would have been considerably better except for a 4½-point reaction by du Pont.

Big Three autos were all fractional gainers despite the decision by Ford and Chrysler to roll back part of their auto price increases to bring them more in line with General Motors.

TECHNICAL REASONS

The stock market rise was ascribed mainly to technical reasons by analysts who said the list's ability to hold above a recent support level instead of sinking down to the Aug. 29 lows laid the groundwork for what could be a sharp, temporary rally.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.9 at 287.5 with industrials up 2.7, rails up 1.1 and utilities up .8.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Up a couple of points were Campbell Machine and Xtra Inc.

Space Could Upset Man's Daily Rhythm

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — A question plaguing space scientists is, what will happen to man's daily rhythum of rest and activity when he travels outside the earth's sphere.

Will he maintain the normal clocks that tell his body when to slow down and speed up — that control fluctuations in heart rate, respiration, temperature, endocrine and liver activity? Or will he lose this rhythum altogether?

The jet age has shown all too well that these clocks, or the circadian rhythm, can be thrown off temporarily as people travel rapidly to new time zones. Yet something always resets the clocks. What is the timer?

A partial answer comes from work done at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., by Dr. Frank A. Brown, who has evidence that living creatures possess an exact 24-hour clock for rest and activity.

The clock is "extraordinarily" stable, he said, and seems to be responding to the earth's environment.

SAME CYCLE

Physicists have established that the earth has a 24-hour cycle, he said. Background radiation, geo-magnetism and the electrical field all fluctuate periodically.

It is now clear, said Dr. Brown, that living organisms, including plants and animals, are sensitive to these elements. If they are responding or oscillating in rhythm to the earth's cycle, this could be what paces the biological clocks.

Gets Amnesty

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said Monday he has approved commutation of the life sentence of Benjamin Johnson, 51. Johnson, now in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson, was sentenced at Detroit in 1941 for a slaying in connection with an attempted robbery.

Red Space Shot Seen as Incentive

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — A Soviet space spectacular now would be the best possible spur to the U.S. space program, which has no defined aim after the Apollo moon landings are achieved.

Such a Russian space feat might make possible a budget of six billion dollars a year for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, instead of the five billion currently anticipated.

The U.S. public does not want the Soviet Union to do "everything in space," Congressman Joseph E. Karth, D-Minn., said here.

He outlined his views on what the United States should undertake as space activities during the next four years to an Aviation and Space Writers Association meeting here.

Karth called for a major emphasis on manned missions near earth, leaving establishment of lunar bases and manned exploration of neighboring planets for the late 1970s.

IMPORTANT VOICE

As chairman of the space sciences subcommittee of the House Science and Astronautics Committee, Karth has an important voice in establishing the goals of future U.S. space programs. NASA has called for a national debate on post-Apollo space aims.

Turning to unmanned vehicles, Karth said that meteorological, navigation, communications and geodetic satellites have already brought "substantial economic, scientific, national security and prestige payoffs."

He called for somewhat higher budget expenditures for exploiting further the payoffs possible from such orbiting satellites.

* * *

Karth said that he was not opposed to future manned space flight programs, but was in favor of a good balance between manned and unmanned flights.

SPACE GOAL

He believes the space program is now sufficiently "grown up" so that there is no need to race quickly toward manned missions to the planets as the next space goal.

Certain technical problems, such as how long exposure to zero gravity affects man and how serious is the calcium loss when experienced for many months, must be solved before man can make the lengthy voyages to Venus or Mars, Karth noted.

Refuse Plans Will Be Eyed

3 Supervisor Units to Discuss Disposal

Methods of meeting Oakland County's refuse disposal needs were slated for discussion today in a joint meeting of three committees of the County Board of Supervisors.

Initiation of a countywide study on a refuse disposal plan was recommended yesterday by the supervisors' miscellaneous committee.

This proposed study as well as the county agency that should be designated to administer a refuse disposal plan will be discussed by the miscellaneous and drain committees and the County Board of Public Works.

A motion by the drain committee that the County Drain Commissioner be agent for developing a refuse disposal system was rejected last week by the board of supervisors.

* * *

Members of the board indicated that further research was needed before the county agent for refuse disposal could be designated.

The Slower They Go, the Cleaner

NEW YORK (AP) — Speed has a direct bearing on the accumulation of litter on the country's roadways, according to a survey.

Professional and voluntary litter fighters from all 50 states overwhelmingly agreed that the slower-traveled secondary highways, country roads and city streets are suffering most at the hands of the litterbug.

Heavy accumulation of litter on the faster-traveled limited access thruways and turnpikes was reported by only 3 per cent of those responding to the survey.

Allen H. Seed Jr., executive vice president of Keep America Beautiful, Inc., which conducted the survey, noted that refuse thrown from a car is a safety hazard in addition to being unsightly.

He said the fact that motorists appear to be more conscious of the safety element when traveling at higher speeds accounts for the lower incidence of "toss-out" on the high-speed routes.

"But even the slow-moving litterbug can be eliminated by installation and use of auto litterbags," he added.

Postmen, Dogs Can Be Friends

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Postmen and dogs, the saying goes, are mortal enemies. Postman Tom Davis and his dogs don't show it.

For the last 20 years Davis has provided a home for stray dogs that attached themselves to him on his various rounds. Right now four are living with him.

"I've been carrying mail for 19 years and I've been bitten only once," Davis said, "and that was accidentally.

"An old dog, nearly blind and cranky, mistook my leg for that of another dog following me. It wasn't his fault."

Rail Installation

LANSING (AP) — The Highway Department Monday announced awarding a $145,190 contract to the Detroit Terminal Railroad Co. for construction of track and signal installation at the grade separation carrying I-75 over the Detroit Terminal Railroad in Detroit.

Area Church Hit by Burglars

Burglars escaped with $115 and several checks — one written for $400 — during a break-in reported yesterday at Central Methodist Church, 3882 M59, Waterford Township.

Township police said entry was gained by forcing open a rear door with a bar. The money and checks were taken from the secretary's office.

Loot taken in the breaking and enterings was estimated at $5,651.

Value of items stolen in larcenies was estimated at $9,384, but $1,192 was recovered.

Man Is Charged in Shooting Case

An Orion Township man who allegedly fired a gun at his wife in an argument is free on $1,500 bond following his arraignment yesterday on a charge of felonious assault.

* * *

Clifton D. Prall, 37, demanded preliminary examination at his appearance before Orion Township Justice Helmar Stanaback. Stanaback set the hearing for Oct. 18.

* * *

Prall of 3761 Bald Mountain was arrested Saturday by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies after his wife testified Prall had discharged two rounds from a 357-caliber revolver at her.

Both shots missed, deputies said.

City Shooting Suspect Freed

A Pontiac man accused in the gunshot wounding of another man over a gambling debt was released late yesterday by Pontiac police pending further investigation into the incident.

Detective Dallas J. Flesher said an order for a warrant had been obtained for 31-year-old John Dickens Jr. of 330 Franklin Road on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum, however, asked police to investigate further the circumstances of the shooting before a warrant would be issued.

Robert Goldsmith, 31, of 280 Fisher, victim of the shooting, remains in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

He Won't Worry About the Draft

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Dr. Benjamin J. Ersland was notified by mail that he had only five days in which to register with his local draft board.

But he didn't appear worried. He has 12 great grandchildren and was even too old for the draft in World War I. He is 81.

Boomin' Nester

PRYOR, Okla. (AP) — A scissor-tailed flycatcher picked a construction crane as a likely site to construct its own nest, occupying the home even though the crane is at work every day and its cables pass within a few inches of the nest. The nest rests on an angle iron near the tip of the 85-foot boom on the huge crane.

Injuries Are Fatal

ROSEVILLE (AP) — Keith Kurcz, 3, died yesterday of injuries suffered Sept. 23 when he was struck by a car in front of his home.

Buried Possum Rises From 'Dead'

BURRTON, Kan. (AP) — Pete Base found out the dog he had trained to hunt rabbits didn't know how to treat an opossum.

The dog caught a 'possum and began giving it the same treatment he gives rabbits. The 'possum soon played dead.

* * *

After the dog was through shaking it, Base said the dog buried his catch.

As the dog trotted off, Base said, the 'possum wriggled out of his shallow grave and walked away.

'Needy' Perle Mesta Aided in El Morocco Reopening

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Dear LBJ: Your anti-poverty drive is really working.

One winner of a Maximilan fur at El Morocco's big reopening was needy Perle Mesta.

Another poverty case winner was beautiful Mrs. Maurice Uchitel. She got a Valentino gown. Her husband, one of the new owners of El Morocco, has just spent $300,000 refurbishing it. He spent $6,000 on palm trees, at $250 a tree. When I asked him what the palm trees were made of, he replied, "Cover charges."

WILSON

Yes, "The Big Rich" season is on, millionaire time is here.

* * *

Money wasn't tight among the white-tie set at this benefit for Guidepost for Children . . . Some women buckled under their diamonds . . . Patrice Munsel sat in the back room listening to Hugh Shannon's piano playing asking me not to mention that she wore a hat of egret. It's illegal or something.

Magda Gabor, long ill, looked healthy with her husband Tony Galluci . . . Sloan Simpson was with Charles Addams. Buzzy Warburton with Minnie Cushing, Zsa Zsa's ex, Herbert Hutner, seemed happy single-o . . . Lanny Ross had on a white tie and told me he's playing "How to Succeed" in Greenville, N.C.

* * *

"Come over here, Earl," Lanny said to me. "There's a woman fan of yours over here dying to meet you" . . . I went with him very proudly and when he pronounced my name to her, she quite distinctly said, "Earl WHO?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The Friars' luncheon for Mayor Lindsay was postponed . . . Paulette Goddard flew in from Switzerland, flew right back when she heard her husband had had a heart attack . . . George Jessel said he'll be in Rome Oct. 5, will have an audience with the Pope.

Louis Armstrong drove up to the Metropole in his new Caddy; he calls it his "Jonesmobile" because he bought it with his salary from Jones Beach . . . N.Y.'s getting its first female drama critic in years — pretty Allison Steele of WNEW-FM.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Pic Larmour tells of the woman with a houseful of screaming children, who told a salesman: "Could you come back later — when the kids are in college?"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Bob Orben has a friend who likes to annoy people: "He wrote the Encyclopaedia Britannica people and asked when it's coming out in paperback."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "As a general rule, a man is about as big as the things that make him mad."

EARL'S PEARLS: A friend of Errol Garner's recalled a poverty-stricken childhood: "We ate off paper plates — and that was on special occasions."

The leader of a noisy rock 'n' roll group boasted they got $2,000 a week when they played out of New York. "Who pays you," asked Norby Walters. "—New Yorkers?" . . . That's earl, brother.

Barbers Get Snippy; Cut Troop Service

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — Balking at hospital-style uniforms, crew-cut wages and Beatle-type hours, barbers at Ft. Campbell laid down their combs Monday and set up picket lines at gates to this huge base.

* * *

Their contract expired Monday.

* * *

C. C. Sanders, barbers' union representative, said a meeting of union members, Army officials and representatives of a private contractor lasted "about 30 minutes and accomplished little."

Mexican Leader Welcomes Execs of U.S. Papers

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz yesterday wished S.S. newspapermen every success in bringing "better service to the people and to truth, the goal of any good journalist."

The Mexican president welcomed more than 300 U.S. newspaper executives to the seventh annual UPI Editors and Publishers Conference.

John W. Fitzgerald, editor of The Pontiac Press is attending the conference.

* * *

Phil Newsom, United Press International foreign news analyst, told the editors and publishers today that American military leaders in Saigon believe the turning point of the war is in sight. He said the allies will soon be able to kill Communist troops faster than the North Vietnamese can infiltrate them

Arab Inoculation for Cholera Urged

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Health officials of five Arab countries recommended today that their government inoculate their entire populations — an estimated 15 million persons — against the threat of cholera from Iraq.

* * *

The representatives of Syria, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Jordan and Lebanon met in Chtaura, a Lebanese resort. Iraq boycotted the conference to protest her neighbors' restrictions on Iraqi travelers and exports since cholera broke out in Iraq last month.

* * *

Reports from Iraq say the number of cholera sufferers is small so far but seven more cases and one more death were announced Monday.

Writer Honored

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—David C. Smith, business editor of the Detroit Free Press, was named Monday as winner of a certificate of outstanding merit for business writing in a competiton conducted by the University of Missouri School of Journalism. The award will be presented here Oct. 19.

Flag Change for Red China?

HONG KONG (UPI) — The Communist Bank of China here hung out a huge red flag bearing a picture of Mao Tse-tung today and touched off speculation the Peking government has decided to replace the traditional five-star standard it has used since its founding in 1949.

The flag showed up today in preparation for the Oct. 1 celebration of Red China's National Day.

At the same time the new flag appeared, the traditional flags —a big yellow star in the center of a red field with four smaller yellow stars in the upper left hand corner — were withdrawn from all other spots where they customarily fly.

Peking has no announcement of plans for a new flag. But the current cultural revolution under way in China has carried the cult of Maoism to new heights and such a move would be a fitting symbol of China's "cultural revolution."

2 Break-Ins at Schools

Break-ins at two Waterford Township elementary schools were reported yesterday to township police.

Taken from Stringham School, 4350 Elizabeth Lake, were imported statuettes and figurines of undetermined value.

In a break-in at Four Towns Community School, 6370 Cooley Lake, a gray cash box containing 50 cents was taken.

Dog to Get 'Seeing Eyes'

He'll Have a Fit for Contact Lenses

CHICAGO (UPI) — A nearsighted dog named Fritz and his far-sighted master had a date at the doctor's office today. Fritz is going to get a pair of contact lenses.

Howard Goodrich, who considers the 11-year-old dachshund "part of the family," hopes the contact lenses will help set Fritz' tail wagging again.

"He used to run to meet the car, but now he doesn't even know we're there until we're standing right in front of him," said Goodrich, 37.

Goodrich plans to take Fritz to the suburban Chicago Heights office of Dr. M. D. Abrams, a contact lens specialist, for the fitting.

* * *

Fritz and Dr. Abrams have already met — for an eye examination. The dog was tested with various instruments, and even tried on a sample pair of lenses. "He just wore them around the office," Goodrich said.

BEST FRIEND

"We think a lot of him or we wouldn't go through the bother," said Goodrich.

"I loved working on him," said Abrams. "He was a good patient, small and gentle."

Motorcycle-Car Wreck Injures Waterford Youth

Injuries received when his motorcycle collided with an automobile near a Pontiac intersection yesterday have hospitalized a Waterford Township youth.

Michael L. Hamm, 17, of 2127 W. Walton is listed in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

* * *

Pontiac police said Hamm's motorcycle collided near Arlene and First streets with a car driven by 17-year-old Janet Hunnicutt of 1606 Meadowlawn.

The girl told police she was making a left turn into the Pontiac Northern High School parking lot and failed to see the motorcycle just prior to the accident.

$75 Is Taken at Gas Station

A man who held his hand in a pocket and may have had a gun robbed a Pontiac service station of $75 last night, Pontiac police were told.

* * *

Robert Lawrence, 21, an attendant at the Tulsa Gas Station, 701 S. Saginaw, said the man came into the station shortly before midnight, gestured threateningly and took the money from the attendant.

* * *

Lawrence said the robber fled with another man in a car parked across the street from the station.

Students Hit MSU Mark

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The second wave of a record 37,000 to 38,000 students queued up today for fall class registration at Michigan State University.

Registration began yesterday and continues through tomorrow. Classes start Thursday.

The enrollment, largest of any Michigan college or university, is up from 35,451 last year, the previous record high.

Bone Damage, Shock Linked

By Science Service

NEW YORK — A person suffering electrical shock may survive without apparent harm, while the intense heat has actually caused permanent tissue and bone damage.

A patient who had received a 2,500-volt shock for about 20 seconds when he picked up "hot" metallic objects in each hand seemed to suffer no ill effects other than a swelling of the shoulders and upper arms.

But 18 months later, after he had noticed movement limited in his shoulders, X-rays revealed deformed upper arms, a shortened right arm and fractures in the arm bones.

Drs. Louis B. Brinn and John E. Moseley of Mount Sinai Hospital here discovered in this patient a thinning of bone covering and a widening of the marrow cavity — conditions apparently never reported before from electrical injuries.

Little has been published in U.S. medical literature on such injuries, which have been kept to a minimum in the United States because of industrial safety measures.

In Germany, Russia and Italy, however, the occurrence is much more common.

Doctor's Funeral

DETROIT (AP)—Services for Dr. Charles S. Kennedy, 78, former chief of staff at Grace Hospital and a prominent area physician, will be held Wednesday at St. Paul's Cathedral here. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery. Dr. Kennedy died Sunday.

Island Braces for Hurricane

Expect Guadeloupe to Get Brunt of Inez

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Inez, churning the warm Atlantic into a fury with top winds of 90 miles an hour, howled toward the picturesque French West Indian island of Guadeloupe today.

Inez was expected to vent her full wrath on the sugar-producing isle, and residents were warned to do a quick job of boarding up homes and offices.

* * *

The nearby vacation islands of Mariegalante, Desirade, Antigua, and Montserrat also can expect to feel Inez' might, weathermen said.

EXPECT WINDS

Gale-force winds of up to 60 miles an hour were expected to lash the British island of Dominica.

"Guadeloupe should be prepared for heavy rains, high seas and hurricane winds before the day is out," a Weather Bureau spokesman said.

* * *

At 3 a.m., EDT the U.S. Weather Bureau at San Juan, Puerto Rico, said the storm's center was about 160 miles east of Guadeloupe and 490 miles east southeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico. Miami, the nearest U.S. point, was about 1,500 miles to the northwest.

New Name for Lake Is Urged

The name of one of Oakland County's lakes may be changed if county officials can ascertain that Holly Township has two bodies of water called Green Lake.

A letter from Harding Mott Jr. of Grand Blanc, asking for a name change, was received yesterday by the miscellaneous committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

Mott, in his letter, asked that Green Lake in Section 17 of the township be renamed Hollyshire Lake. He owns the lake and surrounding property.

Mott alleged that the township has another Green Lake and called for the name change to avoid duplication.

* * *

Committee members voted to recommend the change to the board of supervisors providing an investigation of the township's lakes reveals a name duplication.

* * *

Holly Township Treasurer Mrs. Elmer Lockwood said that the Green Lake Mott owns is the only one shown on township maps.

Ford, Chrysler Cut Hikes

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT — Chrysler Corp. today followed Ford's lead and called off a big chunk of a proposed increase in 1967 auto prices. The twin move was aimed at keeping them more competitive with General Motors prices.

Ford, first of the auto makers to announce a price increase which it said averaged $107 a car, chopped $41 from that amount last night just four days before its 1967 cars go on sale.

Chrysler, second to list prices and second to cut back on them, said its new car stickers will average $68 more than 1966 base prices. Originally Chrysler had announced increases which figured out to $103.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler said its revised 1967 prices "include a change from standard to optional on the outside remote control rear view mirror on all Chrysler cars except Imperial on which it will continue to be standard."

IT WAS OBVIOUS

The company gave no other explanation of its decision to roll back prices, but the explanation was obvious. Both Chrysler and Ford had been caught off balance when, after they had announced price increases for their forthcoming new models, General Motors—giant of the industry—came up with smaller increases.

That put the pressure on Chrysler and Ford and the price revision followed.

Ford made automotive history last night when it became the first major auto producer ever to roll back its prices after they had been announced publicly.

Ford, which figured its original price increases averaged $107 a car, cut $41 from that increase, leaving price tags on the new cars which go on sale Friday an average of $66 over those of a year ago.

The Ford move, and similar action from Chrysler, had been anticipated since General Motors announced that the increase on its 1967 sticker prices would be less than those announced by Ford and Chrysler.

American Motors, fourth largest of the auto firms, is to announce its prices a couple of days before its cars go on sale Oct. 6.

Ford, first of the auto companies to announce 1967 prices on Sept. 20, bore the brunt of criticism ranging from the White House to Solidarity House, home of the United Auto Workers.

LBJ to Attend Manila Talks on Viet War

Going to Philippines During October for 7-Nation Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson agreed today to attend next month's seven-nation conference of chiefs of state in Manila aimed at trying to end the Vietnamese war.

The conference was set up under the guidance of President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines for all the countries with military forces engaged in the conflict.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers told reporters: "President Johnson is glad to agree to this invitation and will be glad to join the meeting of the other chiefs of state or government, which are participating nations in the Philippines, on or after Oct. 18."

Moyers said the date still is tentative. As to whether Johnson would use the trip to Manila as a departure point for a major swing through other portions of Southeast Asia, to Australia and New Zealand, for example, Moyers said that at this point there is no schedule for an onward trip.

There have been numerous reports from the area that a Johnson visit is expected.

ACROSS PACIFIC

The journey across the Pacific will take Johnson out of the country in the heat of the political campaign.

It, in some aspects, was reminiscent of 1952, when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower scored toward the close of the Presidential campaign with a promise that were he elected, "I will go to Korea."

Debris Of Tragic Jet Crash Covers A Quarter-Mile

Plane Crash Kills Industrialist

An official investigation was under way today following a private jet-plane explosion which claimed the lives of Royal Oak industrialist James Robbins and four other persons yesterday.

Federal Aviation Agency officials were told the jet, believed piloted by Robbins, disintegrated in "a brilliant flash" shortly after takeoff from Robbins' Flying B Ranch north of Platte, S. D.

Killed in the crash besides Robbins were his former wife, Frances; their son, Leslie, 17; and two of Robbins' employes, Clair W. Curry, 60, and Geoffrey Scarrett, in his 30s.

The death plane was an Aero Commander similar to two jets whose takeoffs and landings from a private strip at 14 Mile and Stephenson in Troy were the center of a controversy among residents of the area last summer.

Robbins headed the Jim Robbins Seat Belt Co., which he recently moved to the South from Rochester as well as a score of other plants, companies, and divisions throughout the American business world.

He started in business with a single Detroit area service station and became sole owner of 21 companies with total annual sales of more than $60 million.

He owned textile mills in this state and Florida, was on the executive committee of Freuhauf Corp., and a large stockholder in Chrysler Corp.

His career also included a tangle with the United Auto Workers Union, which struck his seat belt company in July. Robbins then transferred operations of the 200-employe firm to the South despite union protests.

He also was a hunting and auto racing enthusiast. He has had 29 cars entered in Indianapolis 500-mile races.

Robbins learned to fly at age 13 in Hot Springs, Ark. He owned three small jet planes and 17 other aircraft.

Robbins and his wife were divorced last year, but friends said they remained on good terms. Two other children, in Detroit, survive.

Taubman Plan Hearing Tonight

The merits of a proposed solution to the long unanswered question of downtown Pontiac redevelopment will be aired tonight.

A public hearing on plans for a $40-million shopping center has been scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Pontiac Central High School auditorium.

Purpose of the hearing is to explain and answer questions from the public on the proposed contract between the city and Oak Park developer A. Alfred Taubman.

Subject of debate for nearly a month, the Taubman plan calls for construction of a shopping center on a 63-acre parcel south of Lawrence.

Although much of the proposed Taubman complex is spelled out only in tentative terms in the contract, some of the specific points provide:

- Taubman is to have up to one year to secure two major tenants of specified high caliber.
- Once the developer obtains the two tenants, he is to purchase the necessary land from the city for his buildings.

(The actual price of the land is to be determined by a reappraisal, which could change the tentative offer of $1.05 a square foot or $840,000. If the price exceeds this, Taubman can reconsider his offer.)

- A 40-year bond issue estimated at $8.9 million is to be sold to finance the parking lot to surround the center. The city is to acquire, build and operate the parking area.
- Taubman is to pay an annual rental of $450,000 for a lease on the parking area, providing the total cost reaches $8.9 million.

Essentially, the Taubman plan provides for the developer to build and operate the shopping center of about 80 stores. The city, meantime, is to provide the parking.

Bell Walkout Grows in Area

The strike against Michigan Bell Telephone Co. spread throughout Oakland County today while the union president of the Communication Workers of America in Pontiac warned that workers will remain off the job until their demands are met.

"They are all determined to get what we've been asking for years," said Joseph A. Veresh, head of the Local 4012, whose 675 members walked out when the statewide contract with Michigan Bell expired at midnight Friday.

The Pontiac local was the first to picket the company, despite warnings of union and management officials that the strike was illegal.

Since then other locals in the agea, and several others in the state have gone out on strike, according to Veresh.

Maine Town Saw the Light; LBJ Gets Bill

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — President Johnson saved money by turning off the White House lights, but now he's getting a $784.77 bill for a well-illuminated 25-minute speech in Lewiston.

The finance board of Lewiston, a Democratic stronghold in Maine, voted last night to send the bill to the White House.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Robert L. Couturier, a Democrat, told the board a member of the presidential advance party had requested extra lights for Johnson's Aug. 30 speech at the City Park.

The bill for installing lights at the bandstand and in trees and hooking up power cables was submitted to the city by the Kerr Electrical Co. of Auburn, which did the work.

U.S. Studies Troubles of Space Walker

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Project Gemini, proving ground for the U.S. effort to land men on the moon, has been so successful, one official said, it "staggers our imagination." But he said it uncovered a problem—working in space is not as simple as once thought.

★ ★ ★

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr., a man who tried working outside Gemini 11, said that no astronaut should be expected to do anything but "simple tasks" while outside a spaceship until he is equipped with some sort of body restraints to help him maintain position.

★ ★ ★

Gordon's advice, and the experience of other space walkers who have found trouble spots in space walking, has caused officials to step into a detailed study of plans for the last two-man mission, Gemini 12, before moving into the Apollo moon-landing program.

★ ★ ★

Soapy Blasts GOP on Congress Vote Record

By the Associated Press

G. Mennen Williams let Sen. Robert P. Griffin have it with four barrels Monday, calling his Republican opponent for the U. S. Senate "anti-progress, anti-people, anti-city and anti-labor" in his voting record in Congress.

"I heard that he is afraid we will describe his record to make it look like he voted against widows and orphans and school kids and college students and farmers and city people and even the best interests of businessmen; and that he voted against cutting your income taxes; against surplus food for the hungry; against decent housing for the disadvantaged; against a living wage for the working man," Williams said.

"He actually did that and more. It's no distortion," he told the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Williams made it plain that he will attempt to make Griffin's five-term record in the House the main issue of the campaign.

ENDORSEMENT

COPE has already endorsed Williams.

Griffin was not invited to appear before the convention in Cobo Hall and blamed the snub on "the one-man, one-boss" rule of state AFL-CIO President August Scholle.

Scholle told the 800 delegates at the COPE convention that Griffin had a fair hearing when the group screened candidates last spring.

sign for the total city by a University of Detroit study, have centered on two basic questions.

- What alternate traffic route is to be provided if the Auburn-Orchard Lake crossover is closed as first envisioned by the Taubman plan
- What is to be the city's financial contribution to the Taubman plan?

APPROVAL EXPECTED

Some of these questions likely will be answered at tonight's public hearing.

Unless there is a change in their views, a majority of the City Commission is expected to approve the Taubman contract after the hearing.

In an effort to resolve some of the differences between Taubman supporters and those favoring the U. of D. design, a summit-type meeting was called Sunday by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.

★ ★ ★

While refusing to specify actual details, Taylor said some modifications were discussed. He said full details of the changes would be given tonight.

PROPONENTS' VIEW

Meanwhile, U. of D. proponents have said Taubman's shopping center could be constructed within the university design with some changes.

Taubman's shopping center plan, viewed by city officials as the catalyst for further redevelopment, would take in an area from Lawrence south to the point where the east and west legs of Wide Track meet.

The actual shopping center is planned to straddle the crossover. In addition to the center, the developer has plans for four "satellite" buildings to be located outside of the main building.

★ ★ ★

Only three existing buildings would remain in the area. These would be the Pontiac Public Library, the new Community National Bank drive-in branch and the Pontiac State Bank building.

Crosstown traffic on the crossover, Pike, Water and Jackson would be eliminated under Taubman's plans.

U.S. Rebuff Charged by Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China's premier and foreign minister were quoted today as insisting their country has wanted to settle differences with the United States but that Washington has not met Peking's proposals.

Premier Chou En-lai and Foreign Minister Chen Yi had long separate talks with a group of Liberal Democratic members of Japan's Parliament earlier this month. Japanese newspapers printed what they said were virtual transcripts of the statements by the Chinese leaders.

★ ★ ★

They gave this account:

Chou said Peking entered the Warsaw talks in 1955 because the Chinese people wanted to become friends with the American people by solving all pending problems between the two governments including Formosa.

Chou said Washington had rebuffed Peking's proposals, which included Communist occupation of Formosa. He indicated, however, that the Warsaw channel was still open.

Refugee Tab Is Going Up

Cubans to Cost U. S. $1 Million Weekly

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — a $1-million weekly tab lies ahead for U.S. taxpayers to look after an increased flow of refugees from a Cuban regime which reportedly costs the Soviet Union $1 million daily.

The Cuban Refugee Center, operated by the Health, Education and Welfare Department, said that expenditures have risen because of an airlift that brings 10 planeloads of Cubans here weekly.

A refugee budget of $51 million for fiscal 1967, which began July 1, has passed the House and received Senate committee approval after a hearing. It was reported headed for full Senate approval.

The budget is $8.4-million higher than the past year. The 1966 fiscal year budget began at $30 million and was fattened by $12.6 million on the strength of Castro's announcement just a year ago that he would let Cubans come here.

Since the airlift started Dec. 1, nearly 37,000 refugees have arrived. Nearly 4,000 and sometimes more than 4,000 arrive monthly, depending on plane capacity.

★ ★ ★

The budget increase comes in the face of a sharp decrease in U.S. welfare benefits to Cubans. The increase lies in costs of bringing them here and starting them on a new life. The refugee center reported that only 11,000 persons, mostly aged and infirm, remain on U.S. relief rolls, as against a 65,000 peak in 1962 and 1963.

Bell Walkout Is Spreading

areas, Michigan Bell continued to use supervisory personnel in handling the work of operators and installers who stayed off the job, according to district Manager E. Eugene Russell.

Russell said that except for peak periods service is being provided as normal.

This may not continue, said Veresh, because the supervisory personnel transferred here during the initial stages of the strike are now being returned to their own offices to cope with problems.

In Pontiac, union members want Bell to reclassify the district from a Class 2 to a Class 1 area, which would increase their wages.

They also protest an 18-month contract proposed by the company. They want a three-year contract with a provision to open it yearly.

Hopes Katzenbach Will Question Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield expressed hope today the State Department would find in Nicholas Katzenbach a new devil's advocate who would challenge — rather than just support — U.S. foreign policy decisions.

Mansfield suggested that's the only way President Johnson can "be assured what he's getting is not all one-sided."

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. Katzenbach has been nominated by Johnson to replace Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, who in the role of devil's advocate was often the questioning skeptic about policy decisions, especially on Viet Nam, and became known as the "dove of the State Department."

FULBRIGHT FAVORITE

Ball also became something of a favorite with Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and some other critics of U.S. Viet Nam policy.

Katzenbach goes before Fulbright and his committee today for a close examination of his credentials and views on war and peace.

Presumably anticipating a lengthy examination of Katzenbach, the committee delayed until later its hearings on two other State Department nominations — Eugene V. Rostow, former dean of the Yale Law School, as undersecretary for political affairs, and Foy D. Kohler, ambassador to Moscow, as deputy undersecretary.

Fulbright has been less than enthusiastic about the appointments and was surprised at the President's decision to nominate the attorney general to be Secretary of State Dean Rusk's second in command.

SURE OF APPROVAL

There was little doubt, however, that all three nominations would be approved by the Senate.

Mansfield voiced concern in an interview about some of the State Department's swift rejections of proposals floated by countries such as the Soviet Union and France.

Some 125 solicitors will attend the breakfast sponsored by the Community National Bank.

They will receive assignments, materials, and instructions for calling on some 600 major contributors.

The Advance Gifts committee will seek to have every contributor increase his 1965 donation by 6 per cent.

Last year the division, lead by Bruce Annett of Annett Realty, raised $108,930.

Birmingham Area News

Ring Road Parking Is Problem

BIRMINGHAM — The city's ring road had city commissioners going in circles last night.

The confusion resulted while they were determining what parking regulations should be put into effect on two sections of the planned perimeter route.

Following an hour-long discussion it was agreed to follow Police Chief Ralph Moxley's recommendation to prohibit parking on the recently widened Chester section.

What to do with the parking on the Brown portion from Chester to Woodward was chiefly responsible for altering motions on a proposal to ban all parking on the street withdrawing amendments and finally reconsidering the entire matter.

★ ★ ★

When the discussion was over, the commission had voted to continue parking on Brown until the new parking structure on Woodward Avenue is completed and ready for occupancy.

It had been first decided to place the parking ban on Brown immediately, as recommended by Moxley.

A lack of parking for office tenants along the street was cited if this was carried out, and the commission, on the suggestion of Commissioner Ruth McNamee, agreed to the temporary solution until the municipal parking garage is finished.

It's expected that all-day parkers now using the spaces in the Brown area will take advantage of the new facility, thereby creating additional parking in the vicinity.

★ ★ ★

The board of education tonight is scheduled to discuss and explain to irate parents its policy of not providing school bus service for children who live within the city limits.

THEY GET LETTERS

Several letters from parents have been sent to the board protesting the policy and requesting a change.

They say it is unfair for children who live within the city limits to pay for their transportation while those outside receive free service if they live the required distance from school.

Schools Supt. Dr. John Blackhall Smith explains that the state does not reimburse boards of education for transporting children within the incorporated community.

★ ★ ★

Outside of the city limits, secondary school pupils who live more than a mile and a half from school are bused as are elementary school children who live more than one mile from school.

★ ★ ★

To provide transportation for children in the city would require the purchase of 20 buses, said Dr. Smith, at a cost of about $120,000.

He said the annual operating costs would amount to about $68,400.

CHRYSLER TWO-DOOR — Semi-fastback roof styling is one of the new features on the 1967 Chrysler introduced yesterday by Chrysler Corp. The model shown above is one of three in the Newport Custom series added to the Chrysler line. The car is also available in hardtop and sedan four-doors. Chrysler goes on sale Thursday.

5 Feared Dead in Barge Blast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A gasoline barge, its hull ripped when it went aground in San Francisco Bay, exploded today, killing two men and leaving three others missing and presumed dead.

Another four men were injured, one critically, when the Standard Oil Co. barge No. 18 went aground near San Francisco Pier 64, while en route from Richmond on the other side of the bay.

★ ★ ★

The Police Department said Standard Oil tug No. 4 inexplicably lost control of the barge near Pier 62 while nearing its destination during early morning darkness.

Gasoline from a ruptured tank on the barge spilled over bay waters. A deckhand victim said an unexplained flame from the barge touched off the blast.

The Standard Oil employe on the barge and three on the tug all are either dead, missing or injured.

Agent to Tell About Liuzzo Killing Again

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP)— An FBI undercover agent was expected to tell for the fourth time today his eyewitness story of the slaying of Viola Liuzzo.

Before red-haired Gary Thomas Rowe Jr. takes the witness stand, however, state and defense attorneys must pick a jury of 12 men to try Ku Klux Klansman Eugene Thomas, 43, of Bessemer, Ala., for the killing of the Detroit, Mich., housewife and civil rights worker.

★ ★ ★

KEY WITNESS

Rowe, a former Birmingham bartender who said he joined the Klan to get information for the FBI, was expected once again to be the prosecution's key witness.

★ ★ ★

At three earlier trials, two in state court and one before a federal jury, Rowe testified he was in a car with Thomas and two other Klansmen—Collie LeRoy Wilkins and William Orville Eaton—when gunshots fired from the car killed Mrs. Liuzzo, 38.

LBJ, Erhard to End Talks and Visit Cape Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany conclude two days of talks today and fly to Cape Kennedy for a look at the American spaceport.

The four hours of flying also gives them an extra chance to try and resolve Germany's request for a moratorium of four or five years in fully living up to its agreement to purchase $1.35 billion worth of U.S. military goods by mid-1967.

★ ★ ★

At a state dinner Monday night, Johnson told Erhard he will do "my very best" to visit West Germany next spring "if my other responsibilities will permit." Erhard earlier invited him.

Johnson also said one of those responsibilities — U.S. efforts in Southeast Asia — "can never and will never diminish our concern for the security of Europe and the Atlantic."

KEEP COMMITMENTS

The President added, "We keep our commitments in Viet Nam and we keep them every place that we have them."

The dinner guests included the Gemini 11 astronauts, Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. and Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr., who were aboard America's most recent manned space shot from Cape Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Johnson and Erhard are to visit Cape Kennedy as a follow-up to discussions about American-German cooperation in the peaceful exploration of space.

Johnson is making his first trip to the Cape since Sept. 15, 1964.

★ ★ ★

The two leaders are to first tour Cape Kennedy's "ICBM Row" — where Atlas and Titan rocket launch pads are located — then stop for a briefing at the Gemini-Titan 2 complex where all of America's two-man Gemini launches have begun. Standing on the pad is the Titan 2 rocket that will hoist the last two-man flight, Gemini 12, now scheduled to blast off about Oct. 31.

Missing Area Girl Found in Ferndale

A handicapped Waterford Township girl, reported missing by her family last Friday, was found yesterday in Ferndale.

Sue Collins, 17, apparently was looking for the house of a girlfriend when she was seen sitting under a tree by the friend's father, Douglas R. Gobie of 931 Emill.

★ ★ ★

The missing girl, who is deaf and also has a speech impediment, was returned to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Collins of 3058 LaBrosse.

Suspect Linked to Illinois Case

A man identified to Pontiac police as Julian H. Moore when charged last week with the fatal shooting of a Pontiac barmaid is wanted by Chicago police on a murder warrant, authorities said today.

Pontiac Police Capt. Charles W. Gale said a warrant received from Chicago police identified the murder suspect held locally as "Herman Robinson."

★ ★ ★

Gale said fingerprints sent by Pontiac police to the Federal Bureau of Investigation following Moore's arrest were termed "identical" by Chicago police to those of "Robinson."

Moore, 21, of 319 E. Wilson is scheduled for preliminary examination tomorrow on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying Sept. 8 of 30-year-old Mrs. Roenehl L. Nash.

Can't Gain Real Happiness by Hurting Innocent Ones

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I need some advice ahd fast. I am a married woman with six children. The oldest is seven. I am in love with a married man with five children. This may seem silly, but I think I need him more than his wife. I am willing to give up everything for him, including my children, although I am a very good mother.

ABBY

I have a steady, devoted husband, but I don't really love him. He will buy me anything, this other man can give me nothing, but I don't care. I love him.

Should I call his wife, tell her I love her husband, and ask her to set him free? He says he loves me, but he still loves his wife in a way. (Is this possible?) I don't want my name used, so sign me,

TORN APART

DEAR TORN: What you feel for this "other man" is a strong physical attraction — the kind most girls experience in high school, but get over as they grow up. I suggest you concentrate on being the "good" mother you claim to be, and appreciate the "steady, devoted" husband you say is yours.

The other man is probably similarly infatuated with you, but the lives of 11 children and 2 adults depend upon you straightening up and living right. How about it?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and my mother won't let me go in a car with a boy unless she knows him. That means he has to come to the house and talk to her a little while first.

Well, this one real cute boy I met had to pass the "chat-with-mother" test, but once they started talking, mother took up my whole evening. We never did get to the movie.

Finally when it was too late to go anywhere mother suggested we all get into his car and she'd buy us ice cream cones like we were five years old or something. Mother did all the talking and she had a great time.

Of course I never heard from the boy again. Do you think it was fair for my mother to act that way and spoil my chances?

LOST HIM

DEAR LOST HIM: No, although I'm sure your mother was only trying to entertain the young man for your sake. Too bad some grown-ups who are always telling kids to act their age, don't act theirs.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Last week we entertained some lifetime friends in our home for several days. As they were leaving, they offered us some money, which we of course did not accept.

Is it considered proper to offer a host and hostess money? And would it be a breach of etiquette for the host and hostess to accept it?

I. M. WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: A guest should NEVER offer his host money in return for hospitality. And if offered, the host should politely refuse it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A cousin of mine who lives in another town is being married and I received an invitation to her wedding. This cousin told me I could bring my boyfriend. I asked him and he said he wouldn't go unless he received a mailed invitation.

Abby, my cousin has only seen him once or twice, and she hardly knows him. I doubt if she even knows his last name.

I think my boyfriend is being very stubborn and silly to insist on a mailed invitation under these circumstances! What should I do?

A COUSIN

DEAR COUSIN: In less time than it took you to write to me, you could have written your cousin a postcard, telling her your boyfriend's name and address, and requesting that she send him an invitation.

If you want your boyfriend to accompany you, do it. (P. S. He sounds pretty square to be so "formal.")

CONFIDENTIAL TO JEANNIE IN THE VALLEY: When your husband comes home looped, don't lie like a rock on your half of the bed, pretending to be asleep.

Put your arms around him and tell him he deserves the hangover he's going to have, that you love him anyway, but you'd love him more sober, and then kiss him goodnight.

Mrs. June L. Sears, extension home economist for Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb Counties, also, will present the lectures for the three sessions. Mrs. Sears is noted for her work in the area of Child Development and Family Relationships.

MRS. JUNE L. SEARS

She is a graduate of Wayne State University with a B.S. degree in Home Economics Education and a Master of Education degree in Family Living Education.

Mrs. Sears will discuss several areas of concern with starting families, as well as those of longer duration.

The Oct. 4 program is "ACHIEVING ADJUSTMENT IN MARRIAGE", a topic designed to discuss husband-wife relationships . . achieving adjustments, understanding, relieving marital tensions.

On Oct. 11 it will be "DEVELOPING RESPONSIBILITY IN CHILDREN". This topic will cover various concerns parents have in developing responsibility in their children toward responsible family life and citizenship as well as social relationships.

Then on Oct. 25 . . . "DISCIPLINING CHILDREN". will be the topic. An attempt to develop an understanding of the needs for discipline at various stages of a child's growth, from infancy to adolescence will be discussed.

The general public as well as organization representatives working with families are welcome to attend. There will be time for questions as well as audience discussion participation.

Apples, Berries at Food Conference

Bit of Michigan in Boston

By JANET ODELL
The Pontiac Press
Women's Editor

BOSTON — Michigan as a fruit-growing state stood out in two of Monday's meetings at the food editors' conference. Apples and blueberries were on the agenda. Coincidentally, Monday was the 192 anniversary of the birth of Johnny Appleseed and the National Apple Institute, Inc. took advantage of the date.

Rev. John Chapman, Congregational minister in the Boston area and the great - great-grand nephew of Johnny Appleseed (his real name was John Chapman), gave the invocation.

* * *

The United States Post Office has issued a commemorative stamp honoring Johnny Appleseed and Monday was the first day of issue. We were all given first day covers and two of the stamps.

Michigan apples were on all the tables. On a long display table were varieties of apples dating from the 1600's. Both at the beginning of the display and at the end the names were unfamiliar. Some new hybrid varieties, as yet unnamed, were shown.

It was a typical New England farm breakfast. There was apple juice, of course, then cold pot roast, fried potatoes, biscuits, apple jelly and apple butter and finally, apple pie.

MEAT CUTTING

In the past I have seen many meat cutting demonstrations. They can be boring or fascinating and Monday's was the latter. Forequarters of lamb were cut up and the making of "Jetnet" —leg and shoulder roasts demonstrated. These solid meat roasts contain between 20 and 25 per cent more meat than a bone-in roast so that a higher price is reasonable.

The new roasts are in the Detroit markets, watch for them in Pontiac.

* * *

Lunch was with Kimberly-Clark and their "Wonderful World of Paper." New paper products were displayed including the new paper towels with a red and green cherry design along the edges.

For the first time the food editors had a session with the North American Blueberry Council. Jack Johnson of South Haven, Mich., head of the Michigan Blueberry Growers and a member of the National Council sat at our table at the apple breakfast and spoke at the afternoon meeting of his group.

His father, a professor at Michigan State University, started the cultivated blueberry industry in Michigan.

* * *

He told us about a new pack of frozen blueberries soon to be on the market. It will be a 10-oz. plastic container.

Michigan growers have harvested over a million and a half pounds of berries this year, despite the cold spring. Half of these are processed in canned or frozen form with most of them — fresh or processed — ending in pie.

Scientists are working on blueberry pellets made from blueberry puree. These could be used like chocolate bits.

Yesterday's story did not have a full account of the dinner given by Standard Brands Sunday evening.

* * *

We were guests in Boston's old, staid and exclusive Algonquin Club. Normally, women must use the side door, but tradition was broken when we were allowed in through the front door. The club may never be the same again.

It is a building with high ceilings, dark polished woodwork and oriental rugs. Not elegantly furnished, it looks like a place where a man could relax in comfort.

But what made it outstanding for the dinner besides the excellent food, was roses.

* * *

By actual count there were over 500 roses used in the table centerpieces. This did not count the enormous bouquets on the mantels, on occasional tables and on the buffet. There must have been over a thousand Happiness roses in the Algonquin Club.

Standard Brands has some new no-bake deserts which we sampled. They are quick and easy and lend themselves well to variations. The entire dinner was low in fat calories.

This unit will be one of the cohostesses at the B.P.W. District No. 10 workshop scheduled for Oct. 2 at Oakland University.

Report Praises Fledgling School

OCC Tradition: Meeting Challenges

By PAT McCARTY

Young Oakland Community College rapidly is establishing at least one tradition — that of meeting its challenges head-on with a remarkable degree of success.

The institution's vigor recently was hailed by an educational expert of national prominence, Dr. B. Lamar Johnson of the University of California, Los Angeles.

Soon after the college was established two years ago, Johnson was assigned as its educational consultant by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Accreditation by the association opens doors for a college's students across the nation.

* * *

Considered vital to an educational institution, association membership does not come easily but is based on a series of intensive studies.

GAVE REPORT

Johnson recently urged that OCC apply immediately for candidacy for membership — and he prepared a nine-page report dealing chiefly with the reasons for his decision.

His comments also include some problems he observed during a three-day visit here last month, his third since January 1965.

One of the facets of OCC's attitude which impressed Johnson most was the emphasis on the use of "feedback." — the evaluation of opinion from throughout the college.

* * *

"If there is anything that characterizes Oakland Community College, it is the desire by the staff to assemble evidence regarding the effectiveness of what you are doing," he told the college.

STAFF ATTITUDE

"Feedback is obviously not only a characteristic of the method of instruction used at Oakland Community College, but also a characteristic of the attitude of the staff regarding all aspects of program planning, development and operation."

Also praised by Johnson was "the notably high quality of college personnel," including trustees, administrators, faculty and staff members.

Johnson dealt at some length with the college's unique systems approach to instruction.

* * *

Now beginning its second year of operation, OCC is building on its commitment to the approach in remarkable fashion, Johnson said.

WIDE ACCEPTANCE

"To an unusual degree, the college has achieved a consistent approach to teaching and learning — one that is understood and apparently widely accepted by staff and students alike," he noted.

Johnson commented that OCC's program is "deservedly attracting nationwide attention" and already has caused several junior colleges to take another look at their instructional methods.

However, far from being mechanized, OCC's program has led to a greater degree of personalized attention for students, Johnson said.

* * *

"Teachers are released from teaching activities that can be mechanized so they can devote major time to that for which they are best qualified, including personal work with the students," he observed.

STUDENT OPINION

Again referring to beedback, Johnson noted that student opinion is sought not only in individual classes but also through collegewide studies.

Once obtained, the opinions of students and staff members are put to work to improve the college, he said.

Johnson described as "most impressive" OCC's development of learning resource centers, which include a wide variety of "educational hardware" and some 28,000 books.

* * *

Also listed among the college's assets were development of vocational offerings appripriate to the needs of the community, a highly organized student personnel pragram, continuing in-service faculty education, a student activities program and exploratory studies of varied means of learning.

TELLS OF PROBLEMS

Although pleased with the college's construction plans, Johnson mentioned problems arising from the physical facilities now available.

He made special note of the difficulties involved in the separation of the Auburn Hills Campus into two parts and "the really inadequate facilities" for art, music and automotive technology at the Highland Lakes Campus.

However, he said he thought the faculty "is doing notably well in an environment which falls short of measuring up to the high ideals of the college."

* * *

Johnson also warned of the problems arising from the college's "open door" policy of admitting students with low ability and achievement.

REVOLVING DOOR

If an institution accepts these students, it must adapt programs to them or become a "revolving door college," he said.

Administrative problems listed by Johnson include the need to establish clear relationships between the central office and the separate campuses and the need to encourage faculty initiative and creativity.

Johnson emphasized that his observations do not consitute a survey of the college.

While showing favorable progress, OCC stands at least 16 months away from North Central Association accreditation.

* * *

"It can be achieved only after an institution has been in operation long enough to present evidence regarding the nature and effectiveness of its program and only after a rigorous self-study followed by examination of the institution by a team representing the association," Johnson said.

College Officials Are Pleased by Report

The pleasure of receiving confirmation for what they've suspected all along has been afforded Oakland Community College officials.

"The college looks very good to me — but it's nice to have an outsider take a look at it and tell you that it's going well," OCC Board Chairman George R. Mosher said.

He was commeating on the report of Dr. B. Lamar Johnson, educational expert who recently prepared a report generally praising the young institution.

Likewise happy about the report was OCC President Dr. John E. Tirrell.

* * *

"It is most satisfying, since it is in general quite laudatory, although it does point out areas where we must make improvements," Tirrell said.

COLLEGE ATTITUDE

The comment was charateristic of the attitude of the college which has developed under Tirrell's guidance.

Tirrell, college trustees and staff members have been quick to recognize their accomplishments and shortcomings, assess them rapidly and proceed on their course.

This rapid-fire approach to decision making has been a major factor in determining the college's position today, less than 2½ years after it was established by voters.

* * *

STIMULUS FOR GROWTH

OCC's first classes were opened just 11 months after Tirrell was hired.

Far from hindering college officials, the need to act fast has provided a stimulus for both Mosher and Tirrell.

"If we had had two years, we probably would have been busy for two years," Tirrell said.

* * *

'UNDER PRESSURE'

"A lot of the best decisions are made under pressure," he said. "Often when you have time to think about a problem, you never get around to it. You just spend time thinking up new problems."

Mosher, who has been chairman of the board since its inception, noted that various circumstances had contributed to the college's initial success.

"We were exceptionally lucky in our major decisions about sites, the instructional system and key personnel," he said.

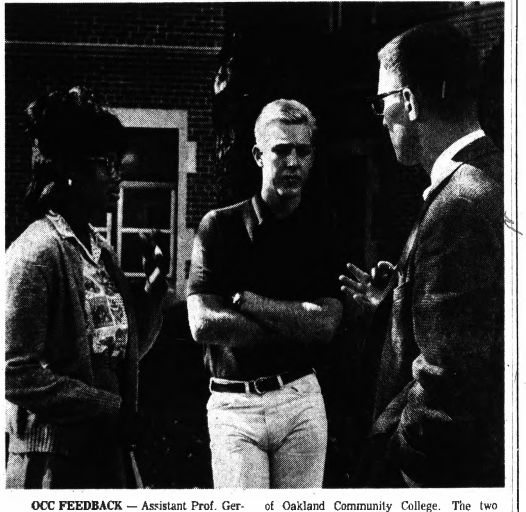
* * *

Tirrell commented that hurdles have been kept to a minimum because of the size of the undertaking, "the rapidity with which the board has been willing to move and the competency of the staff."

* * *

He added to the list "a lot of hard work" and commented that there still is much to be done.

"We're making progress," Mosher said. "But it seems like it's been years and years and years."



OCC FEEDBACK — Assistant Prof. Gerald E. Faye (right) and two of his students pause on the Highland Lakes Campus for some of the informal give-and-take which has been cited as a primary characteristic of Oakland Community College. The two freshmen students are Dorothy Sanders of 583 Southfield, Birmingham, and Peter Sykes of Berkley.

Refuse Plans Will Be Eyed

3 Supervisor Units to Discuss Disposal

Methods of meeting Oakland County's refuse disposal needs were slated for discussion today in a joint meeting of three committees of the County Board of Supervisors.

Initiation of a countywide study on a refuse disposal plan was recommended yesterday by the supervisors' miscellaneous committee.

This proposed study as well as the county agency that should be designated to administer a refuse disposal plan will be discussed by the miscellaneous and drain committees and the County Board of Public Works.

A motion by the drain committee that the County Drain Commissioner be agent for developing a refuse disposal system was rejected last week by the board of supervisors.

Members of the board indicated that further research was needed before the county agent for refuse disposal could be designated.

The Slower They Go, the Cleaner

NEW YORK (AP) — Speed has a direct bearing on the accumulation of litter on the country's roadways, according to a survey.

Professional and voluntary litter fighters from all 50 states overwhelmingly agreed that the slower-traveled secondary highways, country roads and city streets are suffering most at the hands of the litterbug.

Heavy accumulation of litter on the faster-traveled limited access thruways and turnpikes was reported by only 3 per cent of those responding to the survey.

Allen H. Seed Jr., executive vice president of Keep America Beautiful, Inc., which conducted the survey, noted that refuse thrown from a car is a safety hazard in addition to being unsightly.

* * *

He said the fact that motorists appear to be more conscious of the safety element when traveling at higher speeds accounts for the lower incidence of "toss-out" on the high-speed routes.

"But even the slow-moving litterbug can be eliminated by installation and use of auto litterbags," he added.

Postmen, Dogs Can Be Friends

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Postmen and dogs, the saying goes, are mortal enemies. Postman Tom Davis and his dogs don't show it.

* * *

For the last 20 years Davis has provided a home for stray dogs that attached themselves to him on his various rounds. Right now four are living with him.

* * *

"I've been carrying mail for 19 years and I've been bitten only once," Davis said, "and that was accidentally.

"An old dog, nearly blind and cranky, mistook my leg for that of another dog following me. It wasn't his fault."

Buried Possum Rises From 'Dead'

BURRTON, Kan. (AP) — Pete Base found out the dog he had trained to hunt rabbits didn't know how to treat an opossum.

The dog caught a 'possum and began giving it the same treatment he gives rabbits. The 'possum soon played dead.

* * *

After the dog was through shaking it, Base said the dog buried his catch.

As the dog trotted off, Base said, the 'possum wriggled out of his shallow grave and walked away.

He Won't Worry About the Draft

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Dr. Benjamin J. Ersland was notified by mail that he had only five days in which to register with his local draft board.

But he didn't appear worried. He has 12 great grandchildren and was even too old for the draft in World War I. He is 81.

Boomin' Nester

PRYOR, Okla. (AP) — A scissor-tailed flycatcher picked a construction crane as a likely site to construct its own nest, occupying the home even though the crane is at work every day and its cables pass within a few inches of the nest. The nest rests on an angle iron near the tip of the 85-foot boom on the huge crane.
