

CHRISTMAS is a time for remembering the miracle of our Saviour's birth...a time for rejoicing anew in the bright and shining promise of the glorious message of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men."

Upon a midnight clear, as herald angels sang and shepherds rejoiced in their field, Christ was born in the little town of Bethlehem 1960 years ago. Today as then, the spirit of Christmas enters the hearts of people everywhere, renewing their brightest hopes, fortifying their courage, reaffirming their faith. Today as then, its transcendent glory undimmed and undiminished by the passage of the centuries, the miracle of our Saviour's birth is the inspiration of man's deepest aspirations, the Divine promise of their joyous fulfillment.

Santa Toys With Reporter, Then Gives Some Clauses

By MAX E. SIMON
(Special to The Pontiac Press)

NORTH POLE — There was no one busier than Santa Claus here today.

"Tis the night before Christmas..." he hummed as he reached for a map on an ice shelf of his igloo.

A newspaper reporter came in to get details of Santa's trip.

"Ever hear that?" Santa asked.

"Twas the Night Before Christmas," the reporter corrected.

"Oh well, I know it went something like that," Santa said. "I simply can't keep all the songs straight that they're writing about me."

"Ho! Ho! Ho!" Santa's laughter shook the room.

"What's so funny?" the reporter asked.

"When I stroke my beard, it tickles," Santa said. "It's real, you know."

EVEN A CLAUSE, SANTA.

The reporter asked for an interview.

"I'm sorry, can't spare the time until Christmas is over. It's the busy season."

"But talk to the little boys and girls. They're my press agents, you see, the best in the world."

"Munich, Madison Heights, Marquette, Milford, Moscow..." Santa stopped reading. He put a checkmark alongside Moscow.

"I've got to remember it's Moscow, Mich., where I slip. The Russians don't want me to visit their Moscow this year—something or other about my being a capitalist."

"It seems they should know I'm running a nonprofit firm. That is unless you consider the happy smiles on children's faces as profit."

"They've never loved me in the Kremlin, but because of Rudolph they tolerated me until now."

CAREFUL, DEER!

Santa went out to check on his reindeer.

They were doing calisthenics on the roof.

"Good work," Santa said approvingly. "It'll go easier tonight if you're all in top-notch condition."

"But remember, now, no speeding!" he cautioned. "We've got to steer clear of all those satellites they're sending up these days."

The reindeer looked at him in astonishment.

"Oops! I forgot," Santa apologized. "I don't have to worry about horsepower with you."

"But keep the reindeerpower low, too," he added as an afterthought.

He spotted a new name. John F. Kennedy Jr., on the list. He was puzzled.

In a minute he'd cleared up the mystery—thanks to a scribbled note from one of his elves appended to the list.

"Deliver presents to Palm Beach, Fla., in 1961. From Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D.C."

"That lawn is good not only for touch football and golf," Santa recalled. "It makes a good landing field for reindeer, too."

As he was about to leave, the reporter returned.

"Just a few questions," he pleaded.

"I finished earlier than I thought," Santa said. "Russia's out this year, you see. Fire away!"

"Why the new igloo?" the reporter asked.

"We're expanding," Santa replied. "Every year we get more letters and bigger orders. The economy looks great to me. I don't anticipate any disasters in the future."

"Any unusual requests?" the reporter asked.

"There was a little girl in Rochester, Mich., who wanted a baby brother for Christmas," Santa said. "It wasn't the usual request."

"I called her parents long-distance and told them about it. We worked it out together. She received her baby brother. A couple days' early, at that."

"She's one of my strongest believers now. She'll tell anyone what everybody should know and believe."

"There is a Santa Claus."

Area Girl Badly Burned as Clothes Catch Fire

For a 13-year-old Oakland Township girl, Christmas vacation began with a night of terror.

Barbara Vallencourt lies in poor condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today with second- and third-degree burns over approximately 15 per cent of her body.

Mystery Death Tests to Last Week More

Waterford Township police investigating the mysterious deaths of 24-year-old Mrs. Robert Denham and her 3-year-old son. Ramond were informed yesterday it will be at least another full week before state toxicologists at Lansing will be able to complete tests on samples from their bodies.

Police are hoping the laboratory tests will reveal causes of the deaths, and perhaps clear up the mystery which has been plaguing them since last week.

The boy was found dead in the Denham home at 149 Emerson Road Dec. 18. The mother was unconscious next to her son's body.

She died two days later at Pontiac General Hospital, never having regained consciousness.

Surviving are her husband and their 4-week-old daughter.

Warming Trend Moves In

Fresh Christmas Snow Due

Cold Air Heads Into Northeast

By The Associated Press

A bitter cold wave that plunged temperatures to record lows Friday gave way to more seasonable snow for broad areas of the Midwest eastward into the Northeast.

The frigid temperatures moderated gradually during the night as the cold wave moved into the Northeast. The mercury dipped to 15 below zero at Phillipsburg, Pa., at midnight but climbed to 10 below in the next hour.

Buffalo reported 7 below in the wake of a crippling snowstorm that blew in off the lake Friday, dumping up to a foot of snow on the area and virtually isolating the metropolitan section.

The warm front and accompanying cloud cover responsible for the rising temperatures behind the cold wave also brought snow to Kentucky and Tennessee northward into the Great Lakes region and northwest to Minnesota and the Dakotas.

INCH IS MAXIMUM

About an inch of snow was added to the cover in sections of Indiana and Illinois, but amounts elsewhere were generally light.

The snow changed to rain in western Tennessee. Rain also fell along the Washington coast, with freezing drizzle and snow flurries in the Northeast interior.

The freezing line early today extended from eastern Montana across the Dakotas, down to Kansas and from Iowa all the way into Georgia and extreme northern Florida.

COASTS RECOVER

Temperatures climbed to the 40s and 50s in southern Texas and southern Florida, while 20s and 30s in the western interior gave way to the 30s and 40s and a few readings in the mid 30s along the California coast.

Fair weather was on tap for the Western third of the country during the day except for some cloudiness in the Northwest. Increasing cloudiness was forecast for most of the Eastern two-thirds with more snow or snow flurries from Minnesota eastward through the Great Lakes, the Ohio Valley and to the Appalachians.

Liquor Sales to Stop From 9 p.m. to Monday

LANSING (U.P.) — The State Liquor Commission has announced liquor sales will stop at 9 tonight (Christmas Eve) and resume at 1 a.m. Monday.

The state law covers package sales as well as those in bars and taverns, the commission said.

Bars and taverns will have the usual 2 a.m. closing time on New Year's Eve, the commission said.

Nepolese Bears Gifts

LONDON (UPI)—Khunjo Chumbi, Nepalese guardian of Sir Edmund Hillary's "abominable snowman" scalp, called at Buckingham Palace today with Christmas gifts for Queen Elizabeth II — a fly whisk made of yak hair, some yak butter and some tea.

He spotted a new name. John F. Kennedy Jr., on the list. He was puzzled.

In a minute he'd cleared up the mystery—thanks to a scribbled note from one of his elves appended to the list.

"Deliver presents to Palm Beach, Fla., in 1961. From Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D.C."

"That lawn is good not only for touch football and golf," Santa recalled. "It makes a good landing field for reindeer, too."

As he was about to leave, the reporter returned.

"Just a few questions," he pleaded.

"I finished earlier than I thought," Santa said. "Russia's out this year, you see. Fire away!"

Luckier Than Some

INJURED SEAMAN CHATS — When the American tanker Pine Ridge passed a Wednesday, Everett Bell of Jacksonville, Fla., (right) was the most seriously injured crewman. He suffered severe arm lacerations. Seven others were less fortunate. They were lost in the mist. Bell was taken by ambulance to a hospital at Norfolk Naval Base Friday. Talking with him is F. G. Sullen of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association.

Witnesses said there was a second explosion which tore down the brick building occupied by the Purdy Sugar Cane Co.

Most of the small stores in the neighborhood had not been open for about a half-hour when the first blast occurred.

World Awaits Christmas

Festive parties and religious observance marked Christmas Eve from the newest nations of Africa to Europe, America and Asia.

African carol singers in flowered costumes paraded the streets of Lagos, Nigeria, in 31-degree temperatures and 90-degree humidity, celebrating their first Christmas Eve as an independent nation. Churches were expected to be crowded for the traditional services in all except the Moslem north. Stores sold gifts and Christmas puddings.

Near-zero temperatures, hand with blizzards, gripped the Northeastern United States from the Upper Mississippi Valley to the seaboard.

President Eisenhower, lighting the nation's Christmas tree in Washington Friday night, expressed gratefulness "for all the material comforts with which we have been blessed."

But he urged the nation to look seriously at its imperfections — racial prejudices and apathy toward violations of law and standards of public and private integrity.

Pilgrims from far corners of the world in unprecedented numbers made the devout trek to the manger scene in Bethlehem.

About 1,000 of them passed through Jerusalem's Mandelbaum Gate and the no man's land between Israel and Jordan.

As usual the Christmas season was one of many contrasts.

Most European countries closed out one of the most prosperous Christmas seasons in history. Britain reported Christmas sales up 35 per cent over last year. Shopkeepers in Italy said they were running out of cable, milk and chickens.

Paris night club reservations were sold out. Record British poultry sales for the Christmas dinner totaled $20 million.

But in the Congo, the head of the U.N. mission, Rajawh Dayal of India, planned to spend Christmas Day at Bakwanga in Kasai Province where some 200 refugee Baluba tribesmen are reported dying of starvation every day.

Family Robbed of Gifts While Out Aiding Needy

The meanest burglar in Oakland County stole all of the Christmas presents from under the tree of the James Vincent family in Waterford Township last night while they were at church packing baskets for the poor.

In their rush to get to the Baldwin Evangelical Church in Pontiac yesterday evening to perform their goodwill mission, the Vincents apparently forgot to lock the front door of their home at 3103 Schoolhouse Road.

When they returned home at 11 p.m., they found the door ajar and a light left on in the family room. There the Christmas tree stood bare of the many gifts left beneath it earlier.

Mrs. Vincent estimated the loss at about $150.

Mercury Rising After Another Subzero Night

Temperature Plunges to Minus 4, Will Climb Up to 26 Sunday

Pontiac residents won't have to dream of a white Christmas. They'll get it, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Light snow is forecast for most of the state today. Only the western portion of the Upper Peninsula is exempt from the snow forecast.

The snow is expected to continue tomorrow throughout the Lower Peninsula and there's a chance more will fall on the Upper Peninsula as well.

Temperatures far below zero were recorded again in parts of Michigan during the night. A warming trend was evident by morning.

From 5 above at 4 p.m., the mercury dropped to zero in two hours. By 8 p.m. it was 2 below.

LOW POINT AT 10 P.M.

Two hours later, it was a chilling 4 below, lowest of the night.

At midnight the thermometer again registered zero. It never fell below the zero level again, and had warmed up to 5 above by 3 a.m.

Today's expected high is 22, with a low of 13 tonight. For Christmas, a high of 25 is expected. Winds are southerly 10 to 15 miles per hour.

Light snow fell throughout the southern portion of the state in the area bounded roughly by Jackson on the east and Muskegon on the north—early today.

Some 2 inches of snow fell on the Upper Peninsula through the night and morning.

500, GLADWIN GET IT.

Lowest temperatures in the state early today were at Sauli, Ste. Marie and Gladwin which had early morning readings of 12 below.

The cold continued to plague Michigan motorists. For the second straight day yesterday, the December record for "Can't start" calls was broken, according to estimates of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Nearly 100,000 drivers in the state needed assistance in getting started, some 45,000 in the Detroit area.

Robert Nisbet, road service manager for the Auto Club, said the figure was 20 per cent higher than Thursday.

He urged motorists to keep gas tanks filled, drive their cars at least one mile every 12 hours, and use the electrical system sparingly.

Orville L. Larsen, 39, of Grand Rapids, became the fifth Michigan victim of the severe cold wave which has plunged temperatures below zero the past three days.

Larsen collapsed of a heart attack while shoveling snow at his home yesterday.

The patience to live in peace with our fellow

Second: Overseas Deals

Jack Facing Problems;
First, to Handle Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The early moves of President-Elect John F. Kennedy's new administration probably will revolve more around his shrewdness in handling Congress than on what he proposes to do about problems at home.

Overseas he'll have his hands full. Judging from the starting program he intends to lay before Congress, where his Democrats far outnumber the Republicans, he will neither suggest nor try anything startling.

The proposals he talks about were all part of the campaign promises he made. They didn't get through Congress last year. For instance, medical care for the aged tied to Social Security, so he'll try again as he is pledged to.

It Southern Democrats and Republicans band together, they can mess him up. Some Republicans talk of such a coalition.

But it seems unlikely the Democratic-run House—there the Democrats outnumber the Republicans 290 to 177—will start off trying to frustrate Kennedy. It would be a sorry reception for their party's new leader.

In the Senate, where the Democrats are still in charge with a majority of 65 to 35 Republicans, Kennedy will have some real pros working a his chief lieutenants: Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana.

It is important to both Johnson and Mansfield, who succeeds him as Democratic leader, to see the Kennedy administration get off to a good start. A defeat for Kennedy would be a personal defeat for them.

But it's in the foreign field that Kennedy and his administrators and advisors probably will feel they're walking through a dark jungle.

Besides trying to deal with the Russians and Premier Khrushchev, Kennedy must find some way to keep the people of Southeast Asia and Latin America on the U.S. side.

In Africa, both the people and their new nations are literally just coming alive as an active force in a world where for centuries they were kept in second-class citizen status as colonialists. That continent will be explosive for years.

The Kennedy administration somehow must find a way to convince the millions of Africans that their future will be better with the West.

Any critical showdown with the Soviet Union during Kennedy's administration may come first in Africa.

And even with American allies in Europe, Kennedy must keep the alliance not only alive but cooperative.

On top of all this, and yet critically related to it, Kennedy must subdue the flow of American gold overseas, keep trade healthy, and at the same time build American defenses to a point discouraging to Soviet ambitions.

Kennedy is a young man. What he faces is enough to make an old man of him.

Santa Answers
Blind Boy

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A letter to Santa Claus—in braille—resulted in an early Christmas for David Ray Glover, 8-year-old student in the Texas School for the Blind.

David, in his letter three weeks ago, said: "I'm sure you can read braille, Santa, because you were so good to me last year."

The Austin American-Statesman printed the letter and it was read by toy salesman Henry L. Klein in Miami, Fla. Klein sent, via Austin police, all the things David had asked—a flashlight, thermometer, an airplane with blinking lights and a battery-run toy car.

was the night before Christmas

When all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there,

The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads,
And mamma in her 'kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap,

When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from the bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.

The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow,
Gave the lustré of mid-day to objects below,
When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny reindeer,

With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name

Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On! Comet, on! Cupid, on! Dunder and Blitzen!
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away! dash away all!"

As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So up to the house-top the coursers they flew,
With the sleigh full of toys, and St. Nicholas too

And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head, and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.

He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot,
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And looked like a peddler just opening his pack,

His eyes how they twinkled! his dimples how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard of his chin was as white as the snow.

He stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath,
He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook when he laughed like a bowlful of jelly.

He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself,
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head,
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread;

He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose;

He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle.
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight,
MERRY CHRISTMAS to all and to all a good night.

Commends Action Taken to Clean-Up Movie Ads

It is obvious that movie ads appearing in your paper are being sharply edited for exclusion of objectionable material.

This action certainly merits strong commendation from all who are honestly concerned about the moral and spiritual welfare of our nation.

Those who are aware of the ideological considerations involved in the current worldwide struggle for the minds (and souls) of men will appreciate this example which proves there are still some who have the courage to take hold of an issue and make a choice on the basis of what is right, regardless of possible monetary loss.

'Too Little Prayer at Christmas Time'

Children of today think more of the cost of a gift at Christmas than the suffering of the Lord Jesus. Today instead of leading the children to church, parents hurry them downtown to visit Santa Claus. Instead of giving prayers for what they have, they pray for more. Christmas is a time for all people to celebrate the Holy Day.

Crane Discusses Future Messiah of the expected event, for Isaiah's prophecy was undoubtedly fulfilled in the person of Jesus Christ.

During World War II, Dr. Caver reports a convocation of Christians and Jews among the soldiers at an Army camp.

At the conclusion of the mass meeting, a thoughtful Jewish asked the Rabbi in the foyer: "Is this Jesus they've been talking about, our expected Messiah, or must we look for another?"

The Rabbi replied that Christ was a great man but not the predicted Messiah.

Then the Jewish soldier asked this provocative query: "Rabbi, what would our exalted Messiah say on Jesus? So what are we waiting for?"

JESUS EXAMINED
"Read the four Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John," I thus suggested to Sam, "and see what you think."

"You are an educated man. So if you can suggest even one credit case, a future Messiah should possess that hasn't already been demonstrated in the portrayal of Jesus by the four Gospel writers."

"Or try to find a fault attributed to Christ. Is there anything he did or said that fell into the concept of a Messiah?"

As a Sunday school project, I pass this idea along to all of you readers of this column.

"What would any future Messiah have to do?" I asked. "Is it a very logical and pertinent question?"

Don't you want your Messiah to abhor prejudice or bias, as Jesus was notably demonstrated and taught?

Don't you wish your Messiah to heal the sick, feed the hungry, give hope to the downcast, and preach the unselfishness of the Golden Rule?

Don't you want a Messiah who extorts religion by urging that we do as he does? And who has thus launched a mass of our hospitals and colleges, the YMCA, CYO, Red Cross, Salvation Army, etc.?"

Don't you want your Messiah to attract children and glorify womanhood and true peace, instead of atom warfare?

"By their fruits ye shall know them," said Jesus, so look at the "fruits" of Christ's appearance here on earth. Don't they bear the Son of God?

Has Confucius or Buddha or the Shinto religion, Zoroastrianism or any other cult ever remotely compared with the special benefits of Christianity?

You be the jury; See if you can write a character sketch of any future Messiah who would be an improvement on Jesus.

The True Spirit of Christmas Is Reflected in Life of Christ

In keeping with our policy of running quiet editorials from time to time, our Christmas Day message has been written by the Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, Pastor, First Congregational Church.

By REV. MALCOLM K. BURTON
We try to associate Christmas with idyllic scenes of shepherds watching their flocks at night, of angels singing, and of the fabulous gifts of kings from far away. "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

Something else in our natures, however, would ask, "Why speak of peace and good will when there is no peace?" We want to be realists, we say, and we see no sense in pretending that things are better than they are.

Do we forget that the Christ child himself was quickly hustled out of his native country on a flight to Egypt? Did not Christ in his ministry meet with hostility from men in religious authority? Was not Jesus aware of the scheming of those who would put him "out of the way"? Did not his life, for all its intrinsic sweetness and peaceableness, end on a cross? Yet was Christ, any less a realist than we, fain would be?

Jesus' life and ministry stand out in a cruel world as a great new light. The gift of the Christ child was the gift of a new life to make all things new. A "new Adam," St. Paul called Jesus — the progenitor, as it were, of a new and higher race of man.

Despite all the failures in life, there is sweetness and there is light in Christ's way. "Peace on earth, good will to men" is an abiding message of Christmas ever ringing plaintively

New Orleanians Move to Comply With Law

Reluctantly New Orleans has started to move in the right direction. A group of 100 business and professional leaders has inserted a notice in a local newspaper asking the community to accept school integration and obey the country's laws. The statement was endorsed by 319 faculty members of Tulane University.

These community leaders, who said they personally favored segregation, nevertheless pointed out that "there is a price for a durable, workable democracy." They urged an immediate halt to threats, defamation and resistance to those who administer our laws and appealed for an end to school demonstrations.

In a television interview a few days ago an official of New Orleans admitted that the city had not been prepared for such an outbreak and had no organization ready to deal with the disorders. He supported those who urged that education not be interrupted and that dignity be restored to the community.

Unfortunately the appeal to reason comes a bit late. The damage has been done. Counter action won't make the headlines. Shameful mob scenes that greeted integration of two formerly all white schools have been shown all over the world. To make matters worse Louisiana's legislature passed a series of obstructionist laws which were promptly declared illegal by the U.S. Supreme Court.

It's good news that a saner group is making itself heard. It recognizes the fact that the school desegregation order of 1955 does not mean endless delays through new laws and new lawsuits, but gradual integration under the law of the land.

in our ears and calling us to that higher nobility that was in Christ.

We are not trying to run away from the facts of life when we seek "sweetness and light" at Christmas time, or at any other time. We merely set up against the evil things, in vivid contrast, the deep and abiding message of Christ's more noble, more satisfying way. Jesus had as much reason for cynicism as we. But his life and message speak of great and good things that endure. They speak of a life on a new and higher level. We need not falter or fluctuate in our quest for this true spirit and purpose of Christmas.

Days of All Faiths:

Martyrdom Made Becket a Saint

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Christmas, Easter and Pentecost are the greatest Christian festivals, and any day that falls in the same week with any of them is likely to get crowded out of the picture.

This year we want to tell something about St. Thomas Becket, whose day is the 29th, so let's take for granted that everyone knows that Christmas is the commemoration of the Lord's birth, and use our space for this important saint.

THOMAS BECKET

It was on Dec. 29, 1170, that Thomas Becket, Archbishop of Canterbury, was murdered in his cathedral by knights who thought they were carrying out an order of the King. And perhaps they were. King Henry II had said something like, "Will no one rid me of this pestilent priest?" and historians have never fully agreed as to exactly what he meant by this. Was it an order, permission or was it just a cry of despair?

At any rate, they murdered him, and so made him a saint and a literary figure down through the ages. It is not likely Thomas would have been a saint if he had died a natural death.

Certainly he would not have appeared in so much poetry and drama. In Chaucer's Canterbury Tales it is Becket's shrine to which the pilgrims are being made. Tennyson wrote about him. He is the hero of T. S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral," which first appeared in 1935 and is still enjoying off-Broadway revivals this year. And on Broadway Sir Laurence Olivier is portraying him in the successful play titled simply "Becket."

St. Thomas gives the writers rich material, set off by the most dramatic of all possible conclusions: a martyr's death before the altar.

Actually, though, it is his life that provides the theme they write about, for in it there is that struggle that every age faces in its own form: the conflict between conscience and outside authority. The story of St. Thomas and Henry II puts this problem into perfect focus for the dramatist.

Thomas and the King were friends for years before Thomas became Archbishop at the age of 35. An old document says he was "blithe of countenance, winning and loveable in conversation, so keen of discernment that he could always make difficult questions plain after a wise manner." This is the kind of young man kings like to have around. When he was only 36 Henry picked him as his Chancellor.

At this stage Thomas was a clergyman, not only a deacon, and certainly his life was not very religious. He lived the luxurious life of a powerful government official, and even had an army of his own, with which he fought by the King's side, winning battles but scandalizing the other clergy.

Nevertheless, such was the King's affection for Thomas that when the highest ecclesiastical position in the country fell vacant in 1161, it was Becket he appointed Archbishop of Canterbury. Thomas had warned him, "The affection with which you honor me will soon be turned to hatred." But Henry appointed him anyway, and Thomas was ordained priest and bishop.

And then the trouble began. Becket, after years of high living, became an ascetic, clad in hair shirt and black cassock.

Small conflicts, with the King trying to interfere in church affairs and Thomas uncompromisingly resisting, accumulated until the Archbishop's prophecy came true, the affection turned to hatred, and the fatal sentence was spoken that resulted in "Murder in the Cathedral."

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag

By WILLIAM BRADY

"Dear Dr. Brady: Three years ago when we lived in Chicago our physician decided to move back to his home town. I told a friend I'd like to have Dr. Wm. A. Brady our physician as we enjoyed his articles so much, but I could not find his address."

"My friend asked her doctor, and he told her Dr. Wm. A. Brady is a fake. There is no such person. He had looked everywhere and no Dr. Wm. A. Brady is listed in the medical directory."

"I couldn't believe it, so I wrote Dr. Wm. A. Brady, in care of the paper, asking for a pamphlet. The pamphlet came from Beverly Hills, Calif., so my faith in your assistance was vindicated."

"I just thought this was too good to keep to myself."

Sincerely Mrs. —

No middle initial in my name. Just plain Wm. Brady, MD. Dr. Wm. Brady, 265 E. Camino, Beverly Hills, California, is listed in the American Medical Directory, and in Who's Who in America. I say I'm listed in the medical directory. Perhaps I should say I was listed — I haven't seen the latest edition of the directory.

If you knew how much you help folks I'm sure you'd never stop writing. In our household—(W.J.V.) (G.A.K.)

"What would any future Messiah have to do?" I asked. "Is it a very logical and pertinent question?"

Don't you want your Messiah to abhor prejudice or bias, as Jesus was notably demonstrated and taught?

Don't you wish your Messiah to heal the sick, feed the hungry, give hope to the downcast, and preach the unselfishness of the Golden Rule?

Dr. Crane, I am a Jew," he announced after my Bible class recently.

"We happen to live near this church and I saw on the bulletin board that you are the teacher."

"Since I follow your column regularly in the Chicago Daily News, I wanted to hear you in person."

"My wife and I are both Jews. And we don't go to church regularly anywhere."

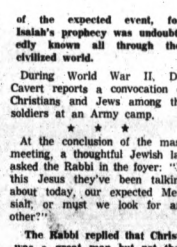

"I like the way you teach a Bible class, so what would you suggest I read to gain a better understanding of the Christian religion?"

SOURCE OF RELIGION
Please remember that Christianity is a Jewish religion. It was launched by the King of the Jews, namely Christ.

And all 11 of his Apostles were Jews. Even to this day, many of the best Christian leaders, Sunday school teachers and clergymen are Jews.

Remember, too, that Isaiah predicted with remarkable accuracy the crucifixion of Jesus over 700 years before it happened.

That may be why the Three Wise Men were so well informed

DR. CRANE

"The Rabbi replied that Christ was a great man but not the predicted Messiah."

Then the Jewish soldier asked this provocative query: "Rabbi, what would our exalted Messiah say on Jesus? So what are we waiting for?"

JESUS EXAMINED
"Read the four Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John," I thus suggested to Sam, "and see what you think."

"You are an educated man. So if you can suggest even one credit case, a future Messiah should possess that hasn't already been demonstrated in the portrayal of Jesus by the four Gospel writers."

"Or try to find a fault attributed to Christ. Is there anything he did or said that fell into the concept of a Messiah?"

As a Sunday school project, I pass this idea along to all of you readers of this column.

"What would any future Messiah have to do?" I asked. "Is it a very logical and pertinent question?"

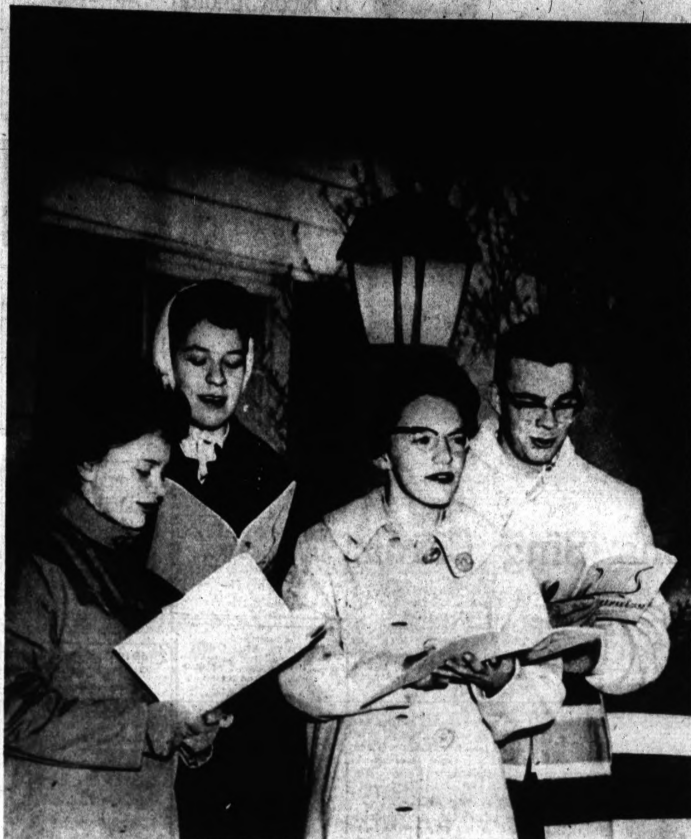

Don't you want your Messiah to abhor prejudice or bias, as Jesus was notably demonstrated and taught?

Don't you wish your Messiah to heal the sick, feed the hungry, give hope to the downcast, and preach the unselfishness of the Golden Rule?

'Glory to God in the Highest,' Song of the Angel Choir

SILENT NIGHT — Young people of Christ Lutheran Church are caroling this week to the sick and shut-ins. Singing "Silent Night" by the light post at the home of Mrs. Anna Gersch of 396 Airport Rd., a member of Christ Lutheran, are Paula Flewer of 5290 Williams Lake Road, (from left) Julia Cobb of 1720 Eason St., Anne Crebassa of 3325 Whitfield St. and Leonard Nyberg of 5821 Rowley St. The group is active in Sunday School and youth work of the church.

Strains of Music Reach Many

Birth of Christ Inspires Men in All Occupations to Write Carols

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying:

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

The strains of the Gloria Chorus proclaiming the birth of the Saviour is believed to be the first Christmas carol. It rang out over the fields of Bethlehem to the shepherds announcing Christ's birth. Down through the centuries it has whispered in the ear of composers and warmed the hearts of men.

George Frederick Handel, a poor barber's son who wanted all his life to write great music, heard it in the loneliness of his London flat in the year 1741.

"I did think I did see all Heaven before me, and the Great God Himself," was the description of his inspiration.

Handkerchief, broken in health and spirit, he locked himself indoors with his dream for 22 days, seldom eating or sleeping, and emerged with his greatest oratorio, "The Messiah," clutched in his paralyzed left hand.

Charles Wesley of early Methodism heard it on his way to church on Christmas morning in 1739.

The joyful ringing of the bells seemed to him like silver tongues of angels singing a welcome to the Christ Child. His "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," written almost on the spot, remains to this day one of the most popular of Christmas hymns.

The Rev. Joseph Mohr heard it one Christmas Eve in the Austrian Tyrol while returning from a sick call. He was a newly ordained priest assigned to St. Nicholas Church, Oberndorf.

Pausing to rest on his way down a mountain, Father Mohr was struck by the beauty of the snow-covered peaks, soft blue in the star light but glowing here and there with the torches carried by his parishioners on the way to Midnight Mass.

"Silent Night, holy night, all is dark save the light."

The words rushed to his mind. Hurrying to the home of a friend Franz Gruber, the local schoolmaster, and church organist, the priest begged a melody to fit his simple words.

In less than an hour, Gruber scored the exquisite poem for guitar and two voices. "We will die, you and I," Gruber told his wife, "but this song will never die."

That Christmas morning in 1818, with Father Mohr playing the guitar and singing tenor to Franz Gruber's rich bass, "Silent Night" was first sung to the world.

Down through the ages men of all walks of life have added their voices to the angel chorus. Carols have been written by Sir John Browning, young editor of the Westminster Review interested in social and political reform.

Writer of "Watchman Tell Us of the Night" he later became a distinguished member of Parliament, and governor of Hong Kong. Others were Martin Luther, Oliver Wendell Holmes and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The Christmas Story
THE TEXT
For unto you is born this day in the city of David a savior, which is Christ the Lord. —Is. 9:1
THINGS TO CONSIDER ABOUT THE TEXT
Much attention is being given to the scriptural narrative recorded in Matthew, chapter 2 and in Luke, chapter 2. Much emphasis is being placed upon the birth of Jesus, and the fact that he was born in a manger. Many persons have written in eloquent style about the unprecedented occurrences which the infant Jesus underwent at his birth. It is not surprising that the Christmas story has become so popular. It is a story of the birth of a new era, and it is a story of the birth of a new world. It is a story of the birth of a new hope, and it is a story of the birth of a new faith. It is a story of the birth of a new life, and it is a story of the birth of a new love. It is a story of the birth of a new peace, and it is a story of the birth of a new joy. It is a story of the birth of a new world, and it is a story of the birth of a new hope. It is a story of the birth of a new faith, and it is a story of the birth of a new life, and it is a story of the birth of a new love, and it is a story of the birth of a new peace, and it is a story of the birth of a new joy. It is a story of the birth of a new world, and it is a story of the birth of a new hope. It is a story of the birth of a new faith, and it is a story of the birth of a new life, and it is a story of the birth of a new love, and it is a story of the birth of a new peace, and it is a story of the birth of a new joy.
To exhibit concern regarding eternal things "only" at specific intervals during the year is to lay stumbling blocks in the path of CHRISTIAN PROGRESS. It is this way the gospel writers were careful not to mention any specific days and dates regarding the matters some consider most important. Could it be that some are so greatly manifesting that they did NEVER INTERESTEDLY BE MARRIED? Could it be that God was not especially interested in man knowing WHEN CHRISTIANITY OCCURRED BUT SIMPLY THAT HE OCCURRED? The Christian Bible Encyclopedia is stated, "There is no certainty as to the month or day of the birth of Jesus. The Christian era began with the birth of Jesus in the year of the Lord. The birth of Jesus was a great event in the history of the world. It is a story of the birth of a new era, and it is a story of the birth of a new world. It is a story of the birth of a new hope, and it is a story of the birth of a new faith. It is a story of the birth of a new life, and it is a story of the birth of a new love. It is a story of the birth of a new peace, and it is a story of the birth of a new joy. It is a story of the birth of a new world, and it is a story of the birth of a new hope. It is a story of the birth of a new faith, and it is a story of the birth of a new life, and it is a story of the birth of a new love, and it is a story of the birth of a new peace, and it is a story of the birth of a new joy.

We Want Lots of Victories, Pennants and Championships

Dear Santa: Would You Please Fill This Christmas List?

MERRY
christmas

DEAR SANTA:

I'm an old codger. That big stocking you left last year was full of holes and all the pennants, titles and championships you had intended for our Michigan athletic teams were picked up by New York, Pittsburgh, Montreal, Philadelphia, Green Bay, Boston and St. Louis.

Before you leave that igloo of yours tonight how about getting Mrs. Clause to patch up those big holes in the toes so that the 1961 American League pennant, the NFL Title the Stanley Cup, the NBA crown, the Rose Bowl and NCAA game championship doesn't get lost again because of one of your moth-eaten stockings.

Whatever you do Nick, when you come into Michigan don't forget your "any deer" permit or Rudolph may wind up without his doe.

Maybe your bucks could hold a council and give the Michigan Conservation department a solution to their doe problems.

While you're filling the stocking, leave something conservative for Cyril Adams, Howard Johnson, Harold Stoll and Ev Beresford.

Leave a limited supply of geese for Ducks Unlimited and some doors for Michigan Out-of-Doors.

Leave OCSC a most successful calendar for 1961 and for the county fishermen more fish, for the flycatchers more flies, for the trapshooters more traps and for the hunters a lot of bucks.

Put a few growls in the Detroit Tiger's roar and leave a half dozen 300 average bats at Briggs Stadium.

While you're there leave a few farms for Ed Katalinas, a sellout sign for Bill Loll, a Tiger den for cub Bob Scheffing, a banquet circuit for Doc Fennell and plenty of publicity releases for new publicist Hal Middeworth.

Oh, yes, there's another den just for Lions also at Briggs Stadium. Drop off a 12 game streak for George Wilson; more yard line seats for Maurice Schubert to sell; a press box heater for Bud Erickson and another gadget for Ed Anderson's Swiss yodler's hat. Leave Aldo Forte a box on "How to Cha Cha in one easy lesson."

When you leave Briggs Stadium stop over at the Olympia and sharpen the skates of all the Red Wings and give all the Pistons dunkin' shoes.

Jack Adams would like a Canadian formula for winning; Elliott Trumbull wants a new slogan for '61, something like "1961 National Hockey League Champions"; and for Gordie Howe leave another five year certificate of completion.

Give Nick Kerbawy a two-way radio so he can talk to his friend in Stuttgart, Germany, about the lack of available tickets for the Piston games; and Fran Smith wants a scoreboard that registers only 139 points, no less.

Up Livernois Ave., drop off an NCAA invitation to Bob Callahan, Dave DeBuschere and company; 3,000 yards of tape for Jerry Gross to pass for next season; a win over Army or Navy for Jim Miller; a membership to the Hall of Fame for Lloyd Brant, and 9,300 full seats for Frank Metzger, and pitcher for pouring coffee for Walt Daugherty.

Drive your sleigh out the expressway and leave Dave Strack at Ann Arbor a 7-foot center; a 9-second breakaway back for Bump Elliott; a new joke for Wally Weber; 100,000 seats for Frits Crisler and a 9-0 football season for Les Eiter to talk about next year.

Don't forget to take the Maize and Blue blankets off your reindeer and change to Green and White as you go up Grand River to East Lansing.

Say hi to Fred Stabley and Nick Vista and cheer them up with the thoughts of football 1961; leave Duff Daugherty a California vase for some roses; give Fordy Anderson a couple sets of twins named McCoy and Green; build another athletic building for Biggie Munn and saddle up one of your deer and leave it with But Smith for his travels.

C'mon over to Oakland County and be kind to all our coaching friends, sports fans and Monday morning quarter-backs.

Paul Dellerba would like some glue for his ends and a quarterback who throws for 25 touchdowns next fall; Art Van Wykin wants an apocryphal of a game with Lansing Sexton in the state finals; Gene Norris another couple years of eligibility for swimmers Norrell and Donaldson and a SVC sweep for Chief Pontiac.

Ed Houtkins wants a scale made only for 200 pound line-men; Dick Hall to make it 20 straight in the Inter-Lakes basketball league; faster splashes for Ed Daww and Elden Johnson wants a gentlemen's agreement from Ed Graybiel to give up the All-Sports trophy sometime in the next five years.

Give Frank Kownack another season like 1960 but add an extra point to the Fitzgerald game; Frank Crowell wants more touchdowns; Don Hoff wants a 200 average line from end to end; Carl Lemle wants a forecast picking him for the cellar so he can surprise everyone when he wins the EMU title; Art Faddy wants 6-8 ends who can also play forward in basketball; Dave Kennedy wants to settle for nine victories, all by one point, in 1961; Ron Horwath wants a bigger roster at Northville; Tom Kennedy asks for a few pass receivers and a few victories; Jim Niebauer wants 25 returning letters; Pin Ryan a win over Royal Oak Dondoro; Monte Charles wants a good start and good finish in 1961; Jack Hayes requests a fumble-catching basket; Tom Taylor, Gene Koneley, Jerry Gansel, Ed Tallman, Wal Braun, Ed Battani, Dave Smith, and all the other, grid coaches just want the right bounces next season.

Don Pence wants another trip for Holly to the state B cage finals this season and ditto for Wally and Troy; coaches Jim Herwin and Peyton Goodwin. This is the year Gene Wright wants the SCL game title; Don Mausi wants less whistle tooting and no more games with 71 personal fouls; and Hal Carlin, Dick Bye, Roy Burkhardt, Lew Parry, Ted Garry, Bud Brobeck, Bill Steinke, Bob Minewasser, Gerry Wallace, Harvey Fletcher and the rest of our fine basketball coaches of the county area want gift certificates for 50 per cent shooting nights.

Haal in some season-long snow clouds for Mt. Holly, Summit, Gramplan Mt., Mt. Christie, Dryden, Alpine and Teeple Hill; give a lot of skis for gifts to fill the local slopes and a good start for Joe Kosk at Alpine.

Trim two inches off the waist for Jim Templeton at the YMCA, and all 9-point dives for Jay LaMonte. Mickey King wants all 10-point dives and a trip to the '64 Olympics.

Put Lloyd Syren on the comeback trail in golf, he's too young to retire from the state amateur; leave another publicist for Mike Anderson and more publicity for members of the Iceberg; give Al Watrous the most successful National Open next June at Oakland Hills; let Gene Bone shoot four rounds of 67 in the Open; promise Wally Burkeme the PGA title in 1961; and leave sub-par golf cards for Bob Gajda, Bill Graham, Ray Maguire, Tommy Shannon, Elmer Priekson, Frank Wilson, Bill Uscak, and Warren Orlik.

Leave one-putt putters for Charley Barber, Neal Mansfield, Glenn Harding; and 300-yard drivers for Dick Robertson, Wally Smith, Ed Wasik; and birdies for Jack Reynolds, Stan Savage, Paul Bada and Butler Cooper and nothing over 72 for all local linksters.

A "300" game certificate would be welcomed by all local bowlers; a few extra pins in Bowlerma qualifying for Joe Foster; more success for Bowlerma champ Ken Leese; 1,000 entries in the Bowlerama next year; 700 entries in the ABC for Monroe Moore, Paul George, Bill Bull, Jay Levett, Joe Bonfiglio and the other top actual boys; and a shiny new establishment for Lou Koprince.

Leave a stuffed Badger for Charley Irish; and brighten up Wisner Stadium with some lights; add some light standards for the city league teams; let a full midget race with the Quarter-Midgits; promise Joe Fair the Sandusky stock car championship; give Bill Periard all new aqua lungs and clear waters; give Tony Mitchell another state water ski title; enlist more first boys for the Pontiac, Auburn Heights and West Bloomfield Boys' Clubs; let Hayes Jones win the Olympic hurdles crown in '64; and another national trophy for Tolland skaters.

Don't forget the Pontiac Table Tennis League, the city Recreation Department, the Pontiac Yacht Club, the county Boat Club; Harry Wenzel for a most successful tennis tourney next summer; Tom Belton for the tennis doubles title, and re-member Frank Syren, Ed Morey, Ralph Norrell, Hy Peskin, Ken Wilson, Chuck Oertel, Chuck Davey, Bert Anselmy, Peg Bender, Paul Smarks, Fred DeLano, Al Nagler, Paul Pentecost, Bob Jackson, Bill Kukulski, Bill Blower, Len Buzz, John Streit, Dave Farrell, Heile Lepile, Mark and Leo Howe, Father Rakoczy, Dwight Thompson, Cash Bond, and Howard Shalley.

To all the names we have missed we extend our apologies and best wishes.

Be good to all our athletes, sports fans, sports page readers and friends.

To each and everyone of them we say MERRY CHRISTMAS, and good scoring.

Best Wishes,

BRUNO L. KEARNS

Bradley After MVC Title

PEORIA, Ill., 24 — At long last, Southern California's John R. Bradley, the nation's No. 2 team, downed the featured other major contender in the Missouri Valley league program.

Bradley, 43-19, won 27 on free throws, as substitute DePaul battled to its fifth straight, 81-78 in overtime over tough Marquette. The Blue Demons were outshot from the field, 22 to 29, but cashed in 27 of 44 free throw attempts while Marquette hit only 12 of 21.

Rudometkin set a Trojan single game record of 40 points in Southern Cal's 91-69 rout of Harvard. Neal Edwards added 24 points as the Trojans won their sixth straight game.

Xavier of Ohio, with Frank Pinchback scoring 24 points, handed touring Gonzaga its fifth straight loss, 87-82 despite a 36-20 points while Chet Walker averaged 28.7 points in the first seven games — was employed as an outside shooter and got 13 three long shots in overtime by 1 point.

Some prolific scoring by DePaul's 5-foot-9 Howie Carl and over Idaho State.

Ex-Packer Coach Picks Green Bay Over Eagles for Title

Lambeau Sees
7th Crown for
His Old Team

Championship of NFL
at Stake Monday in Philadelphia

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The coach who directed the Green Bay Packers to six National Football League championships expects the team to win its seventh title when it meets the Eagles at Philadelphia Monday.

Earl (Curly) Lambeau, the Packers' first coach and boss of the team for more than 25 years, said Friday he thought Green Bay is tougher than Philadelphia "and I don't think the Eagles can stop the (Packers) running attack."

"Any off track condition, such as the weather, will favor the Packers," Curly said.

Lambeau retired from professional football several years ago but still is deeply interested in the club he founded in 1921 when it frequently was necessary to pass the bat to top equipment and managers for the players. He coached the team to successive titles in 1929, 1930 and 1931 and again in 1936, 1939 and 1944 when it won NFL championships. He now has a television sports show on a Green Bay station.

The Packers planned to leave by chartered plane today for Philadelphia and hold a brief workout there Sunday before the title game at Franklin Field.

"They have worked out all week on frozen turf at Green Bay and, according to Coach Vince Lombardi, are 'up' for the game. The team is in good condition, he added. A few of his top men have been bothered with minor bruises and injuries but all are expected to be in shape to play.

Several players who were on Lambeau's 1941 championship team agreed with him that the Packers would win.

Don Hutson, who held the NFL scoring record until Packer Paul Hornung broke it this year, said: "I think the Packers have built up a momentum the Eagles do not have. The Packers had to play their season to the end to win while the Eagles clinched their title early. Once you lose that head of steam, it's hard to build it up again."

NFL to Hold Player Drafts Tuesday

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The new Minnesota Vikings will have first pick in Tuesday's National Football League draft.

The 14-club league is to select 260 players in 20 rounds. With the exception of course of the Vikings, teams will choose in reverse order of the final 1960 standings.

After Minnesota come Dallas, Washington, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh and Chicago (tied), Baltimore, St. Louis, Detroit and San Francisco (tied) and New York.

The final three positions depend on the results of the Philadelphia-Green Bay championship game.

on the result of the Philadelphia-Green Bay championship game.

If Green Bay wins it will select 14th under the league policy the champion draws last. In that event, Cleveland would be 12th and Philadelphia 13th. If however, the Eagles win the title game, Green Bay would be 12th, Cleveland 13th and the Eagles last. This would be because Cleveland's 8-51 second place finish in the East is a higher percentage than Green Bay's Western title winning 8-4 record.

With Minnesota making the first choice it is difficult to predict which of the 1960 collegians will be tapped as the No. 1 draft choice. The Vikings need everything. They thought a quarterback would be a natural first grab for a new pro team was dilly by a report Minneapolis already had received or been promised George Shaw of the New York Giants.

Top college quarterbacks available include Mississippi's Jake Gibbs, Georgia's Frank Parkinson, Bill Kilmer of UCLA, Norm Snead of Wake Forest, Bob Schorlman of Stanford, Gibbs is considered by many the best around, but he's baseball-bound, to the New York Yankees for a sizeable bonus they say.

Unless Minnesota already knows the players to be made available for purchase by the other clubs, General Manager Bert Rose's task will be even more difficult. The syndicate's speed will be a factor in a stock of dynamite today two days before the Davis Cup challenge match between Italy and Australia.

The organizers of the world's biggest tennis show braced for a possible explosion.

It all started when two umpires watching practice said Italy's Orlando Sirola was guilty of a foot fault almost every time he served. They warned penalties would be called unless the violation was rectified before Monday's match.

Sirola and his captain, Vanni Canepile, insisted the motion was legal and would not be changed. At the same time, Canepile hinted that Harry Hopman, captain of the Australian forces, was behind the distracting maneuver in what newspapers have termed a "war of nerves."

Assuming the Vikings do have a quarterback, they might look for a hard-to-find linebacker as first choice. Most pro scouts feel Texas Tech's E. J. Holub best fills this bill. Other linebackers available include Harry Baldwin of UCLA, Greg Larson of Minnesota, LSU's Bill Strangle and Rip Hawkins of North Carolina.

Actually, of the 14 team pickings, only 11 will get a first-round choice. The New York Giants' initial 1960 right was traded to Baltimore and Rip Hawkins of North Carolina.

Fullbacks-Syracuse's Al Baker, Ed Dwyer of Auburn, Tom Wiesner of Wisconsin, Oklahoma's Ron Hartline and Illinois' Bill Brown.

Offensive centers-Ron Lokes of Wichita, Tom Goodie of Mississippi and Syracuse's Al Bemiller.

Defensive halfbacks-Mike Stock of Northwestern, Max Webb of Rice, and Bob Majors of Tennessee.

Only players whose original college class has graduated are eligible for the draft. Some of the prominent stars of 1960 taken last year under this rule include Minnesota's Tom Brown by the Colts, Jerry Benbow of Purdue by the Steelers, Pervis Atkins of New Mexico State by Los Angeles, Texas' Monte Lee by Philadelphia, and New Mexico State's Charley Johnson by the Cardinals.

Bob Lilly of TCU, Joe Rutgers of Illinois, George Tice's Bill Shaw and Jim Tyrer of Ohio State.

Guards-Dan Ficca of Southern California, Myron Pottos of Notre Dame, Washington's Bill Kinnane, Dick Price of Mississippi and Yale's Ben Balme.

MacKay-Bartzen Ranked 1-2 in Tennis for '60

NEW YORK (AP)—Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz, both of whom signed pro contracts Wednesday, were ranked No. 1 and No. 3 by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association Saturday for their play during 1960.

Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., and Karen Hantze of San Diego, were placed in the first and second berths in the women's division. The rankings must be approved at the USLTA Convention in New Orleans on Feb. 4 to become official.

MacKay moved up from No. 3 a year ago, while Buchholz, at No. 2, the youngest player ever to turn pro was No. 6. MacKay is from Dayton, Ohio, and Buchholz from St. Louis.

Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, the Dallas southpaw, was ranked No. 2, the same slot he occupied a year ago when Alex Olmedo topped the list.

Others in the top ten of the men's group, in order are Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo.; Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif.; Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif.; Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn; Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif.; Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md.; and Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif.

The year of 1960 was one of the poorest in history for U.S. tennis. The men's singles crown again went overseas, although Miss Hard regained the women's honor.

Only other bright spots in addition to Miss Hard were MacKay's triumph in the National Clay Court Championships and Ralston's victory with a Mexican partner in the doubles at Wimbledon.

Buchholz and McKinley were rated the top team in their division while Miss Hantze and Miss Hoppo won that distinction in women's tandem play.

Basketball Taking Some Crazy Bounces

By DON VOGEL

It has been said that a football takes crazy bounces. Substitute the word "basketball" for "football" in the saying and the result can be applied to several pre-season favorites in college leagues with members from Oakland County and the surrounding area.

Only four of nine area loops have early season choices at or near the top. Two of the leagues have teams predicted to finish last currently holding first place. In the remaining circuits, the favorites are still very much in contention.

One thing must be remembered; March 1 is a long way off and anything can happen before then. It probably will be a couple of leagues.

Saginaw and Pontiac Central were the early picks to dominate the Saginaw Valley. Arthur Hill upset the Chiefs and has moved into a tie for first with Saginaw. Central can't be counted out of the race. George Fed is fast rounding into shape after missing the first two games. But the Chiefs will have to hustle, particularly on the road.

Pontiac Northern appears to be the class of the Lake-Lakes League. This was forecasted. Flint Central, despite the loss to Pontiac, has an outside chance. Flint Northern doesn't appear strong enough and Bay City Central will be fortunate to win a Valley game.

Farmington seems to have an early edge in the battle for second place but must beat back strong challenges by Walpole Lake and Berkley. Waterford and Southfield, both winless, look destined to battle for the cellar.

Dan Matson has been turning in good performances for Farmington. The top scorer for Walpole Lake has been John Marago. Ferndale has played only one game in the Eastern Michigan League, and won it. The Eagles' a half game behind Port Huron. The triumph over Grosse Pointe stamps unbeaten Ferndale as a strong choice for honours.

Clarkston, rated next to Holly, must overcome defeat at the hands of Northville and West Bloomfield. Milford has indicated that it will be a contender for runner-up honours. Northville or Brighton could sneak into second should others falter.

Rochester, expected to be the doormat of the Tri-County, is holding first place by a half game over favored Roseville. Roseville appears set in last place.

Injuries haven't seemed to bother Otterville. The Black Hawks' two key players to football injuries and this left Milington and Imlay City as the top teams in the South Central. But Milington has faltered and it now looks like the Spartans and Otterville will settle the championship.

Royal Oak St. Mary has been a surprise in the Suburban Catholic. But St. Frederick, a preseason selection with Orchard Lake St. Mary, if second. The Eagles are having trouble getting started. St. Michael could be a threat before the season is over.

West Side Mob hit a new team high game of 1102 in the West Side Classic; this week topped by Joe Foster at 258, Annis 248, Bob Smith 245, Jay Lovett 206 and Frank Spadafora 145. Good games in Huron Classic included Max Hantz 237, Bill Smith and Ron Rothbarth 235, Walt Honnell 233, Odie Miller 231, Bill Landry 227, Gene Shell 226, Walt Rubeleman 225, Walter 224, Wes Collier, Dave Eby, Lee Putt and Ken Willard 223, Ray Keith 222 and Bill 220.

Several of the bowlers who either failed to finish in the big money or didn't even make the finals of The Press-Bowlerama have had some booming scores since—all too late.

Bill Johns is the greatest example. He rolled a 770 practice series at Hilltop in Rochester recently which would have been far ahead of everyone in the tournament.

He finished with the hour's 1st 300 of any kind in history after hitting 243-227. Witnesses included Dr. E. E. Ludwig, a Bowlerama finalist.

Jim Warner is another example. He turned in a 689 at the West Side Classic. There have been others.

Champ Ken Leece's 276 was the top single of the entire meet, ranked next with 275. There was a total of 319 games of 200 or more in the three Sundays of competition. The 800 actual series totaled 43. Tom Shara headed the latter group at 678. Paul George's 674, which won the actual invitational, was 2nd.

George, Bill Bull and Lou Koppenhe, the top three in the actual, will be teammates in the Michigan Elks tournament to be held in Pontiac this year. Their entry was filed a month ago. George and Koppenhe combined for national doubles honors a few years ago.

Checks are in the mail for those prize winners who were not at hand for the awards session at 300 Lounge.

Leece is going to invest some of his $335 in a dinner for the other members of his Pat Lilly House of Color team of the Ivy League at Lakewood Lakes.

The three men who were alternates from Sylvan Lakes missed the boat by not appearing for the finals. One of them could have been in the money just by being there since the only handicapped bowler failing to compete was a Sylvan qualifier.

Several of the bowlers who either failed to finish in the big money or didn't even make the finals of The Press-Bowlerama have had some booming scores since—all too late.

Bill Johns is the greatest example. He rolled a 770 practice series at Hilltop in Rochester recently which would have been far ahead of everyone in the tournament.

He finished with the hour's 1st 300 of any kind in history after hitting 243-227. Witnesses included Dr. E. E. Ludwig, a Bowlerama finalist.

Jim Warner is another example. He turned in a 689 at the West Side Classic. There have been others.

Champ Ken Leece's 276 was the top single of the entire meet, ranked next with 275. There was a total of 319 games of 200 or more in the three Sundays of competition. The 800 actual series totaled 43. Tom Shara headed the latter group at 678. Paul George's 674, which won the actual invitational, was 2nd.

George, Bill Bull and Lou Koppenhe, the top three in the actual, will be teammates in the Michigan Elks tournament to be held in Pontiac this year. Their entry was filed a month ago. George and Koppenhe combined for national doubles honors a few years ago.

Checks are in the mail for those prize winners who were not at hand for the awards session at 300 Lounge.

Leece is going to invest some of his $335 in a dinner for the other members of his Pat Lilly House of Color team of the Ivy League at Lakewood Lakes.

The three men who were alternates from Sylvan Lakes missed the boat by not appearing for the finals. One of them could have been in the money just by being there since the only handicapped bowler failing to compete was a Sylvan qualifier.

Kim's Dog 'Warlock' Leads Quite the Life

By EARL WILSON

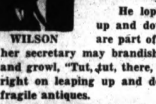

NEW YORK — Kim Novak's bachelor-girl life in a luxurious East Side duplex apartment is complicated by the fact that she owns a Great Dane which is slightly smaller than a horse and which is also a coward.

WILSON

When Kim walks this mastiff at night, she has little trouble with human-type wolves. "Warlock doesn't like men—and he gets nervous very easily," Kim's likely to warn them.

"Warlock"—the word means male witch—is a problem in other ways to Kim and her secretary and companion, Barbara Melton.

WILSON

He looms around like a deer leaping up and down on fragile antiques, which are part of the subtle furniture. Kim and her secretary may brandish a threatening finger at him and growl, "Tut, tut, there, Warlock," after which he goes right on leaping up and down some more, on the same fragile antiques.

But "Warlock" can hardly be blamed for a crisis which Kim had last New Year's—which she trusts isn't repeated this one.

Director Dick Quine, then her fiancé, brought in some chill in a leaky container. Only he didn't know it was leaky.

He was wearing a smart camel's hair coat.

After Kim embraced him (and the leaky container of chill which he was holding against the camel's hair coat), the coat didn't look so smart any more.

That was also the night the pipes burst and there was a flood in the apartment—and you couldn't get any plumbers to go plumbing on New Year's.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

DON'T PRINT THAT! Joe Pasternak reports that his picture, "Where the Boys Are," all about Florida at Easter vacation time, is doing so good it's a junior "Ben-Hur" . . . George Raft, here making a picture, confessed he had 600s stashed—and gave it to a dame. (Cherchez la dame!) . . . Meyer Davis, musical director of the two inaugural balls, who'll need two or three orchestras beside his own, has already had applications from about 113.

TOMMY SANDS dyed his hair blond for "Love in a Goldfish Bowl" . . . Dick Haymes and wife Fran Jeffries, were signed by Ed Sullivan for two TV spots, which should help the treasury . . . Billy Edwina hit another oil gusher, his sixth.

Some fan letters addressed to "Peter Pan, Never Never Land," got to Mary Martin, care of NBC . . .

EARL'S PEARLS: Some women are disappointed to find they didn't marry big spenders—and some men are disappointed to find they did.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Alexander Graham Bell was pleased when he invented the first phone, but his wife probably wasn't happy till another woman had one . . . That's earl, brother.

Michigan Counts 92,000 Pairs of Surplus Socks

LANSING (UPI)—If Santa Claus decides to visit Michigan this year, he will find state government ready for him.

Controller Ira Polley said today the state has 92,000 pairs of U.S. government surplus socks it can hang up.

Polley said the socks, part of the $6 million worth of surplus the state has received this year, would be given to mental hospitals, and other institutions where they will be distributed for use.

The socks cost the state 3 cents a pair, and would normally cost about 30 cents a pair, Polley said.

N.Y. Air Crash Insurance Expected to Hit Record

NEW YORK (AP)—Insurance claims arising out of last week's air disaster over New York will hit a new high mark, industry sources said.

They agreed an accurate estimate was not yet possible. However, guesses ranged as high as $20 million dollars, counting life, accident, property and all liability coverages.

Declare Boy Shot Friend Intentionally

DETROIT (AP)—Juvenile authorities said today the fatal shooting Thursday of a 9-year-old boy apparently was intentional by an emotionally-disturbed playmate.

The death of Robert Murray previously had been called an accident.

Juvenile Court Judge James H. Lincoln said a psychiatrist's examination of the playmate revealed he is "a frightened and highly disturbed boy" who shot his friend because he was "mad at the world."

Lincoln said the boy, also nine, shot Robert in the face at close range and then attempted to kill the victim's brother, Ollie, 13.

The shooting occurred at the playmate's home after the Murray brothers went there to borrow Christmas decorations. Police first were told a .32-caliber pistol fired accidentally as the boy twisted it "Western style."

The boy will undergo psychiatric treatment, Judge Lincoln said.

City Folks Tell Wishes for Pontiac

The Pontiac Press Women's Department asked several local people who are active in a cross-section of community affairs what they would ask for as a Christmas wish for the community. These are their replies:

Richard C. Poole, retail hardware executive, active in Oakland County Crippled Children's Society, Oakland County Historical Foundation, Pontiac Symphony Orchestra and other civic endeavors, says: "I would wish that each of Pontiac's citizens would give the very best they could offer of themselves. If we, each in our jobs and community responsibilities, do this, all the material and social objectives we might desire could be achieved."

Rosamond Haebler, president Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club, vocal music teacher at LeBaron School, wishes for things of the mind and spirit. "I would wish for happiness for the people, joy and laughter for the children. I would want the spirit of kindness to prevail in all transactions."

Mrs. Paul A. Korn, president of Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall, Inc., has an urgent material wish for the community: "The recent Oakland Theater fire left Pontiac without adequate housing for large audiences such as those attracted by the highly successful Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall morning series and its extra Shakespeare production."

"The need for a civic auditorium gives rise to my Christmas wish that we all might join forces in a constructive effort to build an auditorium that would bring greater attractions and more important events to our city."

Mrs. Fay R. Stewart, public relations director at Pontiac General Hospital, says, "My one Christmas wish for this community is that the good will of the holiday season might become so real that it would continue from Christmas to Christmas and that the peoples of the entire world might live together in harmony and understanding."

Frank W. Irons, Oakland County Sheriff, has us all in mind when he says, "My hope would be that above all we would have a safe holiday on the roads and on the lakes."

H. Russell Holland, Oakland County Circuit Judge, says, "My wish at Christmas for Pontiac is that all individuals and groups may develop in the year ahead a greater degree of mutual respect, sympathy and tolerance toward each other's hopes, ambitions and needs."

"Too often we struggle with major problems that must be met and solved on a national level. Rather, we should think and work for peace and understanding and good will among our friends and neighbors at home."

Mrs. William J. Dean, active in Catholic Social Services of Oakland County, the City Federation of Women's Clubs, her church and the Pontiac General Hospital Auxiliary, says, "There are many things I would like to give our community. To pick just one is (Continued on Page 15)"

Greatest Gift? It's You

By MARJORIE EICHER
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

Do you ponder on Christmas Eve when the last child has been tucked away, the last gift placed lovingly under the tree, the special treasure stuffed in the toe of each stocking?

Do you quest for the meaning beneath all the frantic last-minute bustle that is so prevalent in preparation for the greatest feast day in the Christian calendar? Do you wonder at modern woman's role in building peace on earth, good will to men?

Look far outside at the snow-sweet soil. Lift your eyes to the stars and the moon-washed sky. On a night such as this the search for the age-old grail—the perfect gift—began.

What gift can you offer in a world tumbling from crisis to crisis? What mark of meaning can your gift bear in the muck of a mechanical age, burdened with overpopulation and hunger? Look deep inside your charmed heart and recognize the gifts you have to offer. Women have it in their power to give the intangibles—comfort, the attentive ear, humor that is heart-based, imagination, love that is undemanding and resilience to defeat the relentless pressures that assail young and old alike.

You are the repository of memories—wife, daughter, mother—the creator of traditions in a world that is rapidly shedding tradition. You have riches unmeasurable.

Like the little child in the carol, you may give yourself—over and over again. For the more you give, the more there is to give. And giving of self replenishes the supply in astronomical proportion.

So rejoice in your role as a woman. Welcome its changing aspects; accepting the change for challenge and the unchanging as the tie that binds you to all women through all time—even to a Mother and her Babe in a lowly manger, refugees of long ago in the Middle East.

But What Shall I Give Him . . .

At the upper left 4-year-old Jeffrey Broom, son of the Erwin Brooms of Steinbaugh Court, views the creche at Orchard Lake Community Church. He gazes at the lamb cuddled by 17-year-old Cathy Drury of Farmington Township. Envisioning himself as a wise man, he joins 5-year-old Eric Singleton of West South Boulevard and 9-year-old Kenneth Turner (above) of Bloomfield Hills in bringing gifts to the Child. At right he clasps "the perfect gift," symbolizing his heart, with all the love and wonder a child finds in the joy of giving.

Citizens Tell Wishes for Pontiac

(Continued from Page 13) quite a problem. Having but one choice, I would give a great spirit to every citizen. A feeling that we are living in the greatest community on God's earth. And I would wish for all the ability to do one's share to keep it always on the top list of great communities."

Dr. William H. Marbach, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, wishes for "the cultivation and increase of good will among neighbors, which of course leads to peace. I think of the ideal community as one in which there is a spirit of good will among the people and the organizations."

Julie O'Brien, business woman of the year for Tipacan Chapter of the American Business Women's Association and long active in General Motors Girls Club affairs is definite: "My Christmas wish for the city would be to have funds available to build Pontiac's proposed civic center and auditorium. And while I'm wishing — wouldn't it be wonderful if it could be dedicated during our centennial!"

Janice Antona, library aide, conductor of citizenship classes and president of the New Citizens League, wants two things: "respect, one intangible. She says, 'How nice it would be, in keeping with the City Hall and Public Safety Building and our beautiful new Library, if we could attain the civic auditorium we have dreamed about. Culturally Pontiac has grown, and we need this addition to our Civic Center.' She would, in the second place, like to see a return to the 'warmth, sincerity and simplicity of Christmas with simple gift giving and loved ones visiting. We have lost much through our commercializing of this lovely season.'"

The Rev. L. R. Miner, pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church has a twofold wish, "that the spirit of Christmas will charge present moments with the enchantment and delight of meaningful friendships, fruitful giving and receiving, and that the spirit of home will prevail to cushion us."

against the shock that tomorrow may bring."

Mrs. Edmund L. Windeler, mother of 6 newspaperwomen, president of Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women, member of MSUO Foundation committee and one of the founders of Waterford Civic Music Association, wishes for many specific needs for her rapidly growing township: "In 1961 I would like to see township-wide efforts made for the benefit of the whole community. In Waterford we need to promote a youth center, a library, safety council, scholarships and hospital. We need to be concerned with the conservation of the area's physical beauties during its rapid expansion. Most urgently needed for Pontiac and the township is a council representing all organizations, churches and schools to coordinate and accomplish our parallel goals. By-product of such a council might be a coordinated community calendar of events."

Mrs. J. W. Weaver, Salvation Army Captain has been unusually busy distributing food baskets to the needy for the Army. She found time to wish... that love might reign in the hearts of all. Then bitterness, wrath, anger, clamor, evil speaking and malice would be done away; and in its place would come kindness, peace, tender-heartedness and the spirit of forgiving one another even as God for Christ's sake has forgiven us."

And to each wish made by the citizens above was appended the unanimous sentiment, "A Merry Christmas to all."

1959 Income Taxes Highest on Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—More tax payers paid more income taxes on more 1959 earnings than ever before, the Internal Revenue Service reports. IRS gave these preliminary figures Thursday for individual 1960 income tax returns: The number of returns went up to 60.5 million, from 58.1 million in 1959. Reported gross income increased to $305.8 billion from $281.2 billion. Taxes paid went to $38.9 billion from $34.3 billion. The average income was reported as $5,070, but not everyone filing a return had a large enough income to be taxed. Of the 47.5 million returns liable to tax, the average payment was $820. There were 1,224 railroads operating in the United States at the turn of the century. Now there are about 40.

Gov. Williams, Swainson Plan Family Holiday

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Gov.-Elect John B. Swainson will celebrate Christmas with their families like millions of others across the state and nation. Williams said he would spend Christmas Eve at his home here where it is a tradition for the children to open their gifts after dinner. The "children" are Gery, 20, Nancy, 17, and Wendy, 14. The family plans to attend midnight services at St. Paul's Episcopal Church tonight, Williams said. Sunday, the first family will go to Grosse Pointe to the governor's mother's home where the "family tree" will be lit. Other Christmas dinner guests will be the governor's brother Richard and his family. Swainson spent Friday in his Detroit office and was to remain in the metropolitan area throughout the weekend. The Swainsons will have Christmas dinner at their Plymouth home.

LUXURIOUSLY LARGE—There are more than 3,000 sq. ft. of living space on three levels of this large split level, but the size pays off in luxuriously comfortable rooms. There are nine of them, not counting big foyer, and with three baths.

FLOOR PLAN—An angled wall across one side of foyer lends distinction to this three bedroom split level. Note the long kitchen with its splendidly spacious counters.

Living on Luxury Level Planned in Large Home

RANCH LOOK
Architect Herman H. York has given the design a ranch look through the use of hipped roofs. Cedar wood shingles are the principal siding material but brick veneer was added at the front entrance to make this area a focal point of interest.

The bedrooms level is up eight steps from the wide welcoming foyer. The master bedroom bath also has a special feature, an oversize shower with a base area of 16 sq. ft.

The extra counters jutting out in convenient locations from the kitchen wall counters were placed to establish "collection spots" for serving both dining room and dinette space. In addition, extra areas have been provided for freezer and dishwasher. The kitchen serves the breezeway, which can be used for outside dining. Breezeway is held private at the front by use of a wood louvered screen. Sliding glass doors from this area to the dining room open these areas for indoor-outdoor living and dining.

The living room, with sloped ceiling and exposed beams, is a grand 15 by 27 feet. Beyond this is a dining room with bay window.

Kitchen and dinette space, which together extend more than 28 feet, are in front of the house. Spectacularly long kitchen counters make it easy to serve either dinette or dining room.

The master bedroom is 15½ by 17 feet, and has dressing room, walk-in closet and private bath. In addition to the two other bedrooms in the sleeping section, there's a maid's room, recreation room and children's playroom downstairs.

This kind of living doesn't come in a crackbox, and B-44 in the House of the Week series has 2,168 sq. ft. of living space on its upper and middle levels. The lower level has 1,058 sq. ft.

A wide breezeway, with louvered wall across the front, connects the house with the two-car garage.

Buy Your Tree Early
Big trucks of Christmas trees are moving. But did you know that the best time to select a Christmas tree is when they first appear for sale? You can select the size, shape and kind of tree you want before it dries out from exposure to sun and air suggests the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Sawyer.

Once the tree is home, give it a cold shower to remove the dust. Then make a fresh cut about an inch or two from the butt end of the tree. The original cut is always too gummed to permit water to pass through. Then split the butt end crosswise with a sharp hatchet, making the splits one to two inches long. This will allow more water absorption. Set the tree in a container of water and store in a cool shaded place until ready to decorate.

Candy Bars Get Bigger So Cost Figures Less

WASHINGTON — One interesting price change in November, as revealed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics Friday, involved candy bars.

Because manufacturers increased the size of their bars without boosting prices, candy costs were figured as down 5 percent for the month in the cost of living index.

With heavy cocoa bean production coming on the market, the trend to bigger candy bars may continue.

Reds Promote Christmas but Not as We Know It

BERLIN (UPI) — The Communists are encouraging East German children to send Christmas letters to prisons instead of to the North Pole.

They're writing to imprisoned West German "peace fighters" instead of to Santa Claus.

The "Buchenwald Song" and "Praise for Communism" are being pushed to replace "Silent Night" and other Christmas carols.

The Communists recommend the dove, Communist "peace" symbol, as a Christmas tree decoration instead of angels. Sputniks, space ships and even rockets also are approved.

WARNED OF DANGERS

Teachers are told to enliven school Christmas celebrations with lectures on the dangers of Western militarism and to eliminate "hypocrisy" about Christ.

All this is part of what the Communists call a "Socialist peace Christmas," a "holiday with contemporary meaning in accord with our social order," stripped of all religious meaning.

It adds up to a Red Christmas instead of a white one.

The Communists for a long time frowned on Christmas as a hold-over from the past, but now they're trying to change its meaning and take it over.

Early snows usually bring a rash of auto accidents because drivers are off guard, remind Michigan State University safety specialists.

Car Sales Due to Stay Up in '61

Commerce Department Also Forecasts Output to Drop 13 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department Friday tried to take some of the sting out of its Tuesday forecast that automobile production will drop 13 percent in 1961.

In the face of sharp criticism from the industry, the department issued a new statement saying that while the output will drop, sales by dealers are expected to remain at about the 1960 level—4.5 million cars.

The department said Tuesday 1961 production will drop to 5.8 million autos compared with 6.7 million in 1960.

It emphasized that this would have a depressing effect on the entire economy.

In adding the sales forecast of 6.3 million autos, the department included expected sales of 400,000 imported cars. Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller authorized Friday's statement after industry spokesmen complained that the original forecast gave a misleading impression by making no mention of sales. The department said it wanted to clear up "public confusion."

Girdle Fumes Leave Girdles Looking Bad

LANSING — Girdles actually do absorb fat as well as enclose it, says the State Health Department.

The department reported it received a complaint from the owner of a women's store in Flint specializing in foundation garments. Girdles stocked in the store were turning yellow while the same brand of girdles in other outlets were not affected.

Inspectors checked, and found the girdles were yellowed by fumes of grease and cooking oils from a nearby restaurant.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.

Q. Glaucoma has been diagnosed in my five-year-old wire-haired fox terrier. What causes this condition and how can it be remedied? Do any veterinarians specialize in eye care and surgery? Joan Flatman, N. Y. C.

A. Glaucoma is caused by an increase in pressure within the eyeball. The amount of fluid entering the eyeball exceeds the amount which leaves it, causing a bulging of the eye and dullness of the cornea.

The condition can result from high blood pressure, kidney disease or internal disorder or disease within the eyeball itself. Though any breed can be affected, I see more of it in wire-haired cockers and poodles.

The condition can be relieved by removing the cause and treating the eyes symptomatically, but in most cases surgery is indicated sooner or later. Yes, there are veterinarians who specialize in eye surgery. If your own veterinarian cannot recommend a specialist, contact a nearby veterinary college.

U.S. Living Cost Up; Other Nations More

WASHINGTON (U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics displayed a new chart Friday comparing living cost changes here with those in seven other countries. The chart showed that average U.S. prices, up 11 per cent since 1953, had increased less than any of the other countries except Canada, where living costs were up 19 per cent.

France showed the biggest increase, 33 per cent, followed by the United Kingdom at 21 per cent. Other nations on the chart included Italy, West Germany, Japan and India.

Burma to Be Visited by 400 Red Chinese

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Burma is about to be invaded by a goodwill mission of 400 Red Chinese, the biggest mission of the kind it has ever seen.

Premier Chou En-lai is coming Jan. 2. He will be preceded by a 400-member mission, including singers, dancers, actors, acrobats, jugglers and a soccer team.

The occasion is the formal exchange of documents ratifying a Burma-China border treaty. The ceremony, on Jan. 4, Burma's independence day, will be one of the highlights of what the two countries call Burma-China friendship year.

Francois Runs Other Youngsters

Lumumbas Play at Winning

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI) — A childish bit of play-acting is portrayed every afternoon by the three children of ousted Congo-Lumumba Premier Patrice Lumumba and their schoolmates at the Lycée of Cairo in the fashionable quarter of Zamalek.

The Lumumba children were sent here last month by their father to go to school.

Shortly after tea time, the children, Francois, 9, Patrice, 7, and Juliana, 5, go into the playground at the boarding school and divide their school chums into two groups.

Those who go with Francois are his father's followers — Francois taking the part of the deposed premier. Those who join Patrice are supporters of Moïse Tshombe, premier of the secessionist Katanga Province. "Tshombe" (Patrice) selects two deputies named Kasavubu and Mobutu. The two sides "fight", and the result is always the same — "Lumumba" triumphs over "Tshombe" and is proclaimed king. Every one cheers.

The scene has been enacted daily for the past three weeks, and school officials say the children have not tired of it.

No one plays "United Nations." The kids ignore that facet of the turmoil in the Congo and concentrate on the half-hour fight against each other with toy pistols and space guns.

School matrons said the Lumumba children are normal and cause no trouble — although the eldest always is pensive and shy and rarely laughs.

Only after Francois is crowned "king" following the day's mock battle does he grin, happily and contentedly, they said.

Francois' brother, and sister respect Francois and appear to fear him, although he is never rough with them or the other children.

His word is command to Patrice and Juliana. When their classmates told them one day that their father had been arrested by strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu's forces, Patrice and Juliana broke down and cried.

Francois quickly told them "Asses" (That is enough), and they immediately stopped crying.

Later, in the privacy of his room, Francois himself cried, the matrons said.

Other bits of news, the children hear almost nothing about events in the Congo, but they ask about their father each morning.

Files Paternity Suit Against Gar Wood

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — A paternity suit against Gar Wood, 80, legendary figure in American poverty-stricken racing, was on file here today.

Doris Wood Stern, 29, asked Wayne County Circuit Court Friday to declare Wood the father of her son David A. Wood, 9. She also asked that Wood be ordered to pay for support of her son.

The woman testified that she lived with Wood as his common-law wife for two years in Detroit, Florida and the Bahamas. She said her son was born in Florida in 1951 and that Wood gave her $25,000 at the time but hasn't helped support him since 1955.

Mrs. Stern was married to Richard J. Stern, a Miami, Fla., radio announcer and salesman, in 1957.

SWINGING TWOSOME: — Juliet Prowse, shapely dancer who scored into the public's eye in "Can Can," is costarred with Elvis Presley in Paramount's romantic musical, "GI Blues." Elvis' first movie after his discharge from the Army is currently playing in Pontiac. The film boasts 10 new tunes, with Juliet and Elvis sharing musical chores.

The Army has adopted a new mouth-to-mouth respiration tube for use in drowning accidents. It will eventually be made available to the public.

Prowse Too Tall for Ballet

Juliet, Elvis Here in 'GI Blues'

One of the most-in-demand personalities in Hollywood today is the sensational, 103-galvanized, red-haired dancer, Juliet Prowse, who is costarred with Elvis Presley in "GI Blues," now showing in Pontiac.

In the Hall Willis Technicolor romantic comedy, Miss Prowse has her first substantial acting job as Presley's beloved, a cafe danseuse and has two spectacular modern numbers to do.

Juliet started out to become a ballet dancer and, perfecting that she is, became very good at it professionally.

But with the passing of time came disillusionment. At her height of 5 feet 7½ inches, Juliet learned sadly that she was too tall to be a ballet star, no matter how accomplished she might be.

So at 18 she was a washed-up ballet dancer. Undaunted, she switched to modern dancing.

"She soon was chosen one of the dancers for the movie, 'Gentlemen Prefer Brunettes' and became a popular dancer in the stage production of 'Kismet'."

Juliet recently received widespread publicity as Frank Sinatra's girl who also was being rushed by Elvis. This brought her the public attention that even all her talent alone might not have accomplished.

Walt Disney's "Kidnapped" makes its Oakland County debut on the same bill with "GI Blues."

Disney was determined to make authentically the keynote of his Technicolor version of Robert Louis Stevenson's story.

In the two previous films produced in 1938 and 1948 in Hollywood the screen heroes were many years younger than the kidnapped youth and in neither case was the Scottish background truly depicted.

Choosing as director a man who incidentally bears the same name as the author — Robert Stevenson — Disney first sent him to Scotland to steep himself in the atmosphere of the Highlands, with numerous lochs, rivers and small islands, often made it necessary to transport the troupe across in two ferries, one with a two-car cargo and the other able to accommodate four vehicles.

On mountainside locations at Ardara, often made it necessary to transport the troupe across in two ferries, one with a two-car cargo and the other able to accommodate four vehicles.

Further difficulties were encountered at Glen Nevis, where steep, rain and hail turned the valley into a bog, and to get to beautiful but remote Ochil Falls over a mile-and-a-half of track and four bridges had to be built.

Soupy Sales Gambling to Win Hollywood Fame

Leaves $150,000 a Year

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Detroit's loss is Hollywood's gain. Soupy Sales, the TV comedian, is leaving his home town for the big city.

Who or what is Soupy Sales? You won't ask if you have a TV set. Children or are an adult fond of slapstick comedy. He is the latter-day devotee of Mack Sennett who puts on a TV show—he calls it "a children's show for adults"—on ABC Saturdays.

The program is a wild one-man production in which he does stunts and skits involving 35 different characters. Soupy—real name: Milton Hines—was a longtime nickname of his; the Sales was added because it sounded euphonious.

For seven years he has also been doing 10 shows weekly on a local Detroit channel—five at night for the kiddies, five at night for their parents. He has left all that behind to sink or swim in the big pond of Hollywood.

Judging from a first meeting with Soupy, I'd say he'll swim. He's an enthusiastic man of 34 with a firm belief that people want to laugh and a confidence that he can make them do so.

Why did he leave Detroit? "Because I didn't want to stay there until I reached the age of 50 still wondering if I could make it in the big time," he said. "After all, Hollywood is the big time, the center of the entertainment industry. No matter how well your show is received, it doesn't get the same importance if it comes out of a place like Detroit, or Chicago. It's got to be Hollywood or New York."

$150,000 A YEAR

"I admit I'm taking a chance. For the past five years I've been making $150,000 a year in Detroit. I'm taking a big loss to give up those local shows. I may fall on my face here, but I've got to give it a try."

Soupy acknowledged that 11 shows a week was getting a bit too much—"I was on the go so much, the Auto Club called me to find out conditions on the expressway." He'll continue his Saturday

Malaya Is Sending 120 To Add to Its Congo Unit

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Malaya announced Friday it will send 120 infantrymen to reinforce its 615-man detachment in the United Nations Congo command.

While a half dozen nations are pulling out, the government said it is convinced peace can come to the Congo only if Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld is given wholehearted support.

Prudential President to Retire First of Year

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Carroll M. Shanks, who figured in a timorland controversy earlier this year, announced his retirement as president of Prudential Insurance Co. of America.

Shanks, 62, will leave office as head of the country's second largest life insurance firm on Jan. 10. Prudential directors are expected to pick a successor on that date.

The executive, who was appointed in 1946, said his personal dealings with the Georgia-Pacific Corp. had been "misrepresented and misunderstood" since they came to light last June.

DETROIT (AP)—Consumer's Power Co. for 12 months ended Nov. 30 reports net income of $37,277,150 compared to $36,233,621 in 1959. This is equal to $3.54 a

Prof. Is Jack's Top Economic Adviser

Backs Income Tax Switches

MINNEAPOLIS (U)—A University of Minnesota economics professor who has been an advocate of sweeping income tax law revision was named Friday by President-elect Kennedy to head his council of economic advisers.

Dr. Walter W. Heller, 45, has urged what he calls income tax reform as a weapon to control inflation while stepping up the nation's productive capacity.

Heller has had varied experience in tax and government finance matters.

Testifying before the House Ways and Means Committee last year, Heller, a man who is outspoken and positive in statements regarding his field, maintained that tax concessions are a drain on the nation's economic growth.

BACKS PROGRESSIVE SETUP
In a later speech he said that by removing special tax concessions the Treasury could gain enough new revenue to pave the way for a reduction in personal income taxes.

While serving with the U.S.

DR. WALTER W. HELLER

Treasury Department in 1942, he helped install withholding in the collection of federal income taxes, and holds that progressive income tax is the most equitable method of raising government revenue.

As a tax adviser to Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota, named secretary of agriculture last week by Kennedy, Heller had a prominent hand in concluding a Minnesota agreement with the Federal Internal Revenue Service.

Through mutual inspection of federal and state returns this resulted in collection of nearly $1 million from state tax slackers in 1958.

Heller lives on the edge of the University of Minnesota golf course, like to golf, but finds little time for it.

An ardent canoeist, he and his wife, two sons and daughter have taken many trips to the Minnesota-Canadian border wilderness country.

Also a poker fan for small stakes, Heller is described by a close friend as cautious.

Heller has served as consultant to many state and federal agencies as well as federal and foreign governments. Last August Heller was a member of an advisory group to King Hussein of Jordan and the royal fiscal commission on tax and fiscal reforms.

Son of a civil engineer, Heller was born in Buffalo, N.Y., but raised in Milwaukee. He was graduated from Oberlin College where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in 1933, earned a master of arts degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1939 and a Ph.D. from Wisconsin in 1941.

His son Walter, 18, is a freshman at Oberlin College. Eric, 14, and Karen, 12, attend school in St. Paul. Mrs. Heller holds a doctor's degree in endocrinology.

Insurance Being Paid to Carrier Victims

NEW YORK (AP)—Payments expected to total $500,000 in federal group insurance benefits began today to relatives of workmen who perished in a fire aboard a U.S. Navy aircraft carrier.

The carrier Constellation was swept by fire Monday in Brooklyn Navy Yard as it was being readied for sea trials next spring. Forty-nine men died.

Insurance industry sources could give no estimate of combined benefits that might eventually be paid under the government group policy, the largest in the nation, plus private policies and in workmen's compensation awards.

Beyond these three areas of benefits to survivors, there was the possibility of recoveries under liability insurance in the event negligence should be proved in the disaster.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. was expediting processing of claims in behalf of the 180 insurance firms underwriting the $12.5 billion dollar contract with the government.

Checks were expected to average just over $13,000 per covered worker, the amount being figured on one year's salary multiplied by two under a double indemnity clause covering accidental death.

Metropolitan said checks were being issued upon positive identification of victims and Navy and FBI clearance. Formalities such as filing by beneficiaries of proof of death were being waived.

The big group policy covers 250,000 civilian employees of the federal government.

Natural dyes, like the plant derivative indigo, were used exclusively from ancient times, until the invention of artificial dyes in 1856.

Kin of Longfellow Sets Miami-Jet Record

NEW YORK (UPI)—The great grandson of poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow set an unofficial speed record flying a commercial jetliner from Miami to New York in 59 minutes and 30 seconds, Northeast Airlines said today.

Capt. Peter Dana, relative of the famous poet, set the record Thursday in a Boeing 707 jet. He clipped one minute and 10 seconds off the previous record.

FORESTERS' FIELD DAY — Friday wasn't much of a day for a picnic, but it was just right for the first annual Inter-City Field Day between parks and forestry department employees of Birmingham and Oak Park. There was plenty of hot competition to keep the participants warm. Competing for honors in the wood-

Woman's Death in Doctor's Office Is Ruled Natural

Redford state police have closed the case of a Farmington Township woman who died in her doctor's office Sept. 23.

"Based on our decision on results of laboratory tests conducted by the State Health Department at Lansing, we are convinced the death of Mrs. Ronald Craven was natural," Detective Sgt. Ray Whalen said today.

State toxicologists attributed the death to anesthesia. Dr. Richard E. Olson, Pontiac pathologist explained that it does happen sometimes that a patient will die under anesthesia, and for no other reason.

Mrs. Craven succumbed on a hospital bed in Dr. Ronald E. Clark's office at 3073 Grand River Avenue, while undergoing treatment. He listed the cause of death as acute coronary.

Assistant County Coroner Dr. Joseph H. Gadhaw said he was unconvinced, and had ordered the investigation.

Negro Ike Aide Runs Into Taboos

Outgoing White House Executive Hampered by Race in Search for Job

WASHINGTON (UPI)—E. Frederic Morrow, the first Negro to serve in an executive White House position, said today he had encountered a "jungle of racial barriers" in his search for a job in private industry.

The 31-year-old New Jersey attorney, who has been on President Eisenhower's staff the past five years, said the offers he had received "would confine me to working with the Negro community."

"When you spend a lifetime crossing the jungle of racial barriers and you achieve this kind of job, it's very depressing to have to go back to the jungle," he said.

Morrow said it was not just a question of money. He indicated at least one offer from a Wall Street brokerage firm promised a salary of nearly double his present $18,000 a year, but he hesitated.

"Having made this break of being a complete American doing a job that any American can do, I don't want to be in a position of restricted activity among a restricted segment of American people."

Morrow said his family has been in the thick of the fight for racial equality and that his sister was the first Negro schoolteacher in New Jersey.

"The only reason I tell you this story is not that I feel sorry for myself, but it is a story that should be told," he added.

"I'm a symbol of 20 million people. I'm thinking about what it will do to them as well as what it does to me."

Morrow said it still shocks a great many captains of industry when a Negro seeks a job on an executive level, "even though he is not some of them in connection with his White House assignments."

"They all say you have brains and ability and it is not for your color, there would not be any barriers for you in the business world," he said.

Morrow, who served as a major director of World War II, is the President's administrative officer for special projects. He is the brother of Dr. John H. Morrow, U. S. ambassador to Guinea.

Waikiki Feeling Worst Season in Many Years

HONOLULU (AP)—Waikiki, booming with tourists a year ago, is having one of its worst seasons. The larger hotels have been running about half full, compared to over 90 per cent occupancy a year ago.

But the smaller hotels are really starving. Hoteliers report the worst season in 10 years.

The 30-room Pacific Palisades recently reported one occupant for an entire month.

Thomas J. Morrissey, vice president of the Waikiki Hotel Association, said a lot of the smaller hotels have folded, sold out or been refinanced.

He blamed a lot of the business loss on last May's tidal wave at Hilo. He said also there was an impression on the mainland that Waikiki hotels were full.

Morrissey said there are a number of small hotels on the market, "real bargains for those who want them."

PROSPEROUS
ORCHARD LAKE
AT CASS AVE.
FE 8-0488

Twas the night before Christmas
When all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there.

The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads,
And mamma in her kerchief and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap.

When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from the bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.

The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow,
Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below,
When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny reindeer.

With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his couriers they came,
And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name

Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet, on! Cupid, on! Dunder and Blitzen!
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away! dash away all!

As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So up to the house-top the couriers they flew,
With the sleigh full of toys, and St. Nicholas too.

And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head, and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.

He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot,
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.

His eyes how they twinkled! his dimples how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard of his chin was as white as the snow.

The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath,
He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook when he laughed, like a bowlful of jelly.

He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself,
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head,
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread;

He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.

He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle,
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight,
MERRY CHRISTMAS to all and to all a good night.

AND HAPPY NEW YEAR

UNIVERSAL CO. FE 4-0000

CHRISTMAS is a time for remembering the miracle of our Saviour's birth...a time for rejoicing anew in the bright and shining promise of the glorious message of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men."

Upon a midnight clear, as herald angels sang and shepherds rejoiced in their field, Christ was born in the little town of Bethlehem 1960 years ago. Today as then, the spirit of Christmas enters the hearts of people everywhere, renewing their brightest hopes, fortifying their courage, reaffirming their faith. Today as then, its transcendent glory undimmed and undiminished by the passage of the centuries, the miracle of our Saviour's birth is the inspiration of man's deepest aspirations, the Divine promise of their joyous fulfillment.

by MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—
Kennedy is taking a cautious approach in deciding what the new administration will do about the business slump and unemployment.

He says there will be no drastic steps—such as raising taxes or steps as tax cuts and pump-priming public works spending until after he has taken office Jan. 20.

Kennedy's go-along policy on the problem was clear today when he postponed his work pace for the Christmas weekend and made ready to enjoy the holiday with his family at their ocean-front home.

Kennedy's only announced engagements during the day were his New Year's Eve dinner in
N. Y., and Purvian Sen. Juan
Pernardo.

Kennedy, headquarters said had no advance information as the purpose of the appointment. Pernardo is bringing a message from Perry's President—Mano Prada.

Ship Survivors Rejoin Families

29th Man Faces Bleak Christmas Riding Stern of Split Tanker

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Twenty-eight surviving members of the storm-wrecked tanker Pine Ridge were at home with their loved ones today or on their way.

Only 29th engineer John Richart, the 29th survivor, faced a not-so-merry Christmas as he remained aboard the stern section of the broken vessel at sea.

Seven of the Pine Ridge's crew were lost when the ship broke in two Wednesday night in heavy seas 100 miles east of Cape Hatteras. The other crewmen—Richard Richart—arrived here Friday aboard a destroyer.

On the stern section with Richart were four crewmen from the commercial tug Curb, which is towing the stern to Newport News, Va. Another tug, the Lamberton Point, and the Coast Guard cutter Cherokee remained alongside. The towing job is expected to take about 48 hours.

The Coast Guard said it knows of no special provisions being put aboard the stern section to help the five men celebrate Christmas. But the Pine Ridge's cabin is part of what's left of the ship, and there should be plenty of food aboard.

Richard, 36, of Wilmington, Del. by sticking to his ship, is protecting the salvage rights of the owners, Paco Tankers Inc., and the Keystone Shipping Co. of Philadelphia. A vessel abandoned on the high seas becomes the prize of the first to board her.

SOME COMPLAIN

Some of the surviving seamen have made some bitter comments concerning the Pine Ridge's seaworthiness.

James C. Lewis of Winston-Salem, N.C., and L.H. Hulsey, of Corpus Christi, Tex., applied such terms as "rust bucket" and "sea-sawer" to the tanker. Robert Gill of Monterey, Mexico, said the Pine Ridge had cracked her port side on a previous voyage and had been patched up with concrete.

A formal inquiry, beginning in Norfolk next Wednesday, will establish whether the wreck was due to any fault of the ship.

They see this as the likely result of a meeting here of Communist union leaders and agitators from 11 countries. Especially noted was the presence of de-

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The X15 rocket plane starts full-scale assaults on space in February and should hit 2,500 miles an hour in its first try.

So says the Civilian Space Agency in a progress report. The present world speed record is 2,196 miles per hour, set earlier this year by an X15. Eventually the sleek craft is expected to go 4,000 miles an hour and reach an altitude of 100 miles.

Capt. Peter Dana, relative of the famous poet, set the record Thursday in a Boeing 707 jet. He clipped one minute and 10 seconds off the previous record.

FORESTERS' FIELD DAY — Friday wasn't much of a day for a picnic, but it was just right for the first annual Inter-City Field Day between parks and forestry department employees of Birmingham and Oak Park. There was plenty of hot competition to keep the participants warm. Competing for honors in the wood-cutting contest are (from left, standing) Gene Archibald, William Neifert, Robert Janas, and Luke Parker, while Fred Baumgartner (center) holds the stopwatch. Archibald and Janas are the Ochs Park team, Neifert and Parker are from Birmingham. The event took place at Springdale Golf Course in Birmingham.

The complaint says Mrs. Kennedy paid the nurse $4,858.11
