

Yalta Revelations Add Fuel to Political Dispute

News Question About Papers Ruffles Dulles

Secretary Stalks Off
When Asked Why He Released Yalta Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles angrily refused to answer a reporter asked why he released the controversial Yalta papers at this time.

Earlier he had told newsmen he expected the controversy over Yalta "will go on through the ages."

This was in response to a question whether he thought publication of the voluminous record of the wartime Big Three meeting would quiet the partisan political furor about what took place at the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting in the Soviet Crimea in February 1945.

The incident occurred at the Military Air Transport Service terminal as Dulles was about to board a plane for Ottawa and his first state visit to Canada.

With Canadian Ambassador Arnold Heeney, Dulles took up a position before microphones and cameras. The first question, from CBS reporter Pete Clapper, was: "Mr. Secretary, why did you release the Yalta papers at this time?"

Dulles flushed, took a couple of steps toward Clapper and thrust out his jaw.

"I am not going to stand here at this time and make a statement about Canada and have a question like that asked at me."

With that, he stalked away toward his waiting plane.

An official who declined to permit the use of his name said last night that the documents were released at that time because at least one newspaper already had obtained a copy. There also were reports of heavy pressure from Republican members of Congress. Dulles' own plan, for the time being, had been to make them available to certain key members and committees of Congress on a confidential basis.

All those about the secretary today, including the ambassador, newsmen and State Department aides, stood by speechless during the incident.

By the time Dulles reached his plane he was in a calmer mood. He looked about and, finding the Canadian ambassador, warmly shook hands with him. Then he got into the plane and taxied away.

Clapper, meanwhile, lit a cigarette and, between nervous puffs, told his colleagues:

"Well, that's the story. That's why I asked him (about timing of the Yalta Papers)."

Before the incident, Dulles told reporters as he chatted with them he was looking forward to his Canadian visit.

Today's the Day for Erin's Sons to Go on Parade

NEW YORK (AP)—Today's the day and 5th Avenue's the place for the nation's No. 1 salute to St. Patrick. The day dawned clear and brisk for the annual St. Patrick's Day parade.

The route for the colorful procession, starting at noon, was from 4th Street to 90th Street. The parade was expected to last five hours.

There was a reviewing stand at 64th Street for Gov. Averell Harriman, Mayor Robert F. Wagner and other officials.

The steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral at 50th Street were the spot for Francis Cardinal Spellman and other Roman Catholic dignitaries to review the Irish and the Irish-for-a-day.

3,352 Entries Received in First Bonanzagram

More than 3,350 entries were received in the Press' first Bonanzagram puzzle contest. The deadline was Tuesday night. The answer to this puzzle will be published Friday. Persons turning in correct answers must turn in their duplicate "claim checks" at the Press office not later than 5 p. m. next Monday to receive a prize.

And remember to send in your entry for Bonanzagram No. 2 before next Tuesday's deadline. Another $100 prize is being offered in this second contest.

Japanese Newsmen Get Yalta Papers

834 PAGE DOCUMENT — Miss Maggie Halder, of the State Department press office at Washington, distributes copies of the long-suppressed Yalta papers to three accredited Japanese newsmen after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' decision to make the records of the historic Big Three conference public. The report is an 834 page document. The newsmen are, from left, Kuranosuke Yamamoto, Toshio Tsubokawa and Isami Suzuki.

3 Years for Contempt

Matusow in Jail Overnight; Lawyer Scrapes Up Bond

EL PASO, Tex. (UP)—Ex-Communist Harvey Matusow, sentenced to three years in prison for criminal contempt of court, spent last night in the county jail and may have to spend about four more there while his attorney tries to raise $10,000 appeal bond.

For Matusow, 28-year-old government witness, author, poet and "stringless" Yo-Yo inventor, jail was a new experience.

U. S. District Judge R. E. Thomason cited Matusow for contempt on the ground he had "schemed to defeat justice" and "deliberately shown contempt for this court."

He gave Matusow a hearing yesterday, then found him guilty and sentenced him to three years. Matusow's attorney, Joe Calamia, appealed.

The judge set bond at $10,000 and sent Matusow to jail immediately when he revealed he had only $1.75 in his pocket.

Matusow, whose trouble began when he recanted testimony he had given in several anti-Communist trials and admitted he lied in the trial of labor leader Clinton J. Jenkins in El Paso in January 1954, was confident he could raise the $10,000 appeal bond.

But he spent last night in jail and Calamia said his client might be there four more nights. "Due to legal proceedings, it appears we won't be able to free Matusow on bond until Monday morning," he said.

Matusow, who served as a government witness against Communist groups, said he had never been in jail before.

Judge Thomason's action, following Matusow's testimony at a hearing on application for a new trial for Jenkins, was the first legal action against the former Communist.

Hope It's Large Lake

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP)—The Kenosha County Board was split on renaming Paschen Lake. Some members wanted to call it Benet Lake and others, Lake Shangri-la. The board finally settled by ordering the lake cut in half, the northern part to be known as Lake Shangri-la, and the southern part as Benet Lake.

Snow, Sunshine Alternate Here on Wednesday

No damage was reported in the area yesterday as winds of near-gale velocity blew into Pontiac during a day of freakish weather conditions.

Early morning clouds were followed by bright sunshine later in the day. Shortly after noon, clouds had again appeared and blinding blizzards of snow were carried in on 35 mile-an-hour winds. Lasting only a few minutes, the snow was followed by more high winds and sunshine.

Although the high winds made the snow appear heavy, only a trace was recorded. Temperatures ranged from 19 to 20 degrees.

Sunshine appeared again today, but the U. S. Weather Bureau says tonight will bring snow or rain, changing to snow flurries tomorrow.

Tonight will be a little warmer with a low expected to be from 23 to 32, rising to a high near 40 tomorrow. It will be mostly cloudy with occasional snow flurries and cold tomorrow night, low 20-24.

Today at 8 a. m. the mercury stood at 17 degrees, rising to 29 by 2 p. m.

Pontiac Continues High Sales Record

Pontiac Motor Division added another sales record to its books during the first ten days of March by delivering 15,825 new Pontiacs. R. M. Critchfield, general manager, announced today.

It was the highest sales figure ever recorded by Pontiac dealers for this March period.

Compared to the same period last year, when Pontiac dealers delivered 9,463 new cars, sales were up 67 per cent.

The previous high sales for the first ten days of March was set in 1941 when 12,486 new Pontiacs were delivered. The 1941 high was nearly equaled in 1950 when 12,104 new units were sold by Pontiac dealers during the same March period.

Retail sales of General Motors Corp. cars totaled 110,401 during the first 10 days of March, a record for that period. Harlow H. Curtice, president, announced today.

Sales were 37 per cent more than the previous record for March 1-10, set in 1950, Curtice said.

Reds Mum on Yalta

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press and radio up to 4 p. m. today have made no mention of the U. S. State Department's publication of the Yalta documents. It is entirely possible they will issue their own version later, after study.

Senator Notes Army Confusion in Peress Case

However, Mundt Finds
Nothing Yet to Support
McCarthy Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today the Senate's new investigation shows "an unconscionable state of confusion" marked Army handling of the Irving Peress case.

Mundt said he has heard nothing yet to support the contention of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that some Communist "mastermind" at the Pentagon was pulling strings to help Peress.

He added in an interview, however, that he is listening hopefully for evidence that someone has straightened out the twisted trail of Red tape of which Army witnesses told yesterday.

Peress is a former Army dentist who got a promotion and honorable discharge after refusing to tell the Army whether he was a Communist.

It took the Army almost 10 months to discharge him after 1st Army Intelligence (G-2) first recommended his separation.

Lt. Col. James D. Anders testified yesterday before the Senate Investigations subcommittee that about a month of the delay was attributable to McCarthy's investigation of alleged security risks at the Army's Ft. Monmouth, N. J., radar laboratories.

Anders said his G-2 policy unit at the Pentagon devoted "almost 100 per cent" of its time for a month to digging up facts in connection with that Red hunt, and that this was "one reason" for the delay.

Tragedy Hits Three Homes

13 Die in House Fires in Oklahoma, New York and Tennessee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Home fires caused the deaths of at least 13 persons today and last night.

In each of two of the tragedies, a mother and three children lost their lives and only the husband and father survived.

An early morning fire at McAlester, Okla., killed Mrs. Kitty Galbraith, her two small sons and a daughter.

The only survivor of the family was Dr. Ben T. Galbraith, a prominent physician who was away from home attending a convention.

A mother and her three children perished in a Bridgeport, N. Y., fire that officials believed started in a kerosene heater. The husband and father, Bernard Brockway, 42, was rescued, badly burned.

Five persons, four of them members of the same family, died in a Nashville, Tenn., fire. The dead were Robert Moore, 27; his wife; their two small sons; and an unidentified woman visitor.

Shades of St. Patrick

All Michigan Wearin' the Green

DETROIT (UP)—There never was a greener St. Patrick's Day in Michigan.

Old Erin itself would turn shamrock green with envy to see the way its sons in Michigan are sporting the green.

The new color fad in men's clothes has turned green as well as pink. Bright Kelly green shirts are filling counters in stores. They come in nice green stripes as well as plain colors.

The beautiful green ties are enough to make the Irish hearts glad, but in Michigan they also come in green and white polka-dot bow ties, and especially around the governor's office.

There still is green beer around—in color. And this year refrigerators, stoves and other appliances are making their debut in nice green enamel.

The tile on the floor in houses has turned green in many cases. And a new grass seed—green grass seed—with the protective coating designed to make the lawn sprout up finer has taken on an Irish hue.

Faith and Begorrah!

SHAMROCKS FROM ERIN — Mrs. Margaret McCallum, of 28715 Case St. in Southfield Township, looks at a bunch of shamrocks she received today by air from her sister, Nellie Murray, in Dublin, Ireland. Mrs. McCallum, who was born in Dublin, moved here from California seven months ago. She has a box of shamrocks flown to her from Ireland every St. Patrick's Day.

Dem Tax Cut Campaign Settles Into Waiting Game

WASHINGTON (AP)—The congressional battle over a Democratic tax-cutting drive settled today into a nervous waiting game.

The issue rested for the time being with a Senate-House conference committee not scheduled to meet until next week.

Meanwhile, both sides fired new verbal blasts. Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) said Democratic insistence on an income tax cut year could bring an "unconscionable windfall" to the liquor industry.

The dispute is delaying action on a bill which would extend present corporation and excise tax rates now due to expire April 1. Unless the extension is voted, liquor taxes would drop from $10.50 to $9 a proof gallon, and Reed said that would give the liquor industry a "windfall" of 132 million dollars.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Rep. Boggs (D-La.) discounted any such possibility. They said agreement would be reached by April 1.

The conference committee was appointed yesterday to iron out the sharp dispute involved in tax bills passed by the House and Senate.

The Senate bill provides only a one-year extension of the corporation and excise taxes. The House bill, in addition, would cut taxes $20 a year for each taxpayer and each dependent, starting next Jan. 1.

Adams Is Mentioned for State Position

The governor's office indicated yesterday that former Supreme Court Justice Clark J. Adams, of Pontiac, can gain appointment to the State Corrections Commission if he wants it.

Describing Adams as a "natural," Lawrence J. Farrell, Gov. Williams' executive secretary, said the appointment had been discussed several times with Adams, but no decision had been made.

Adams could not be reached today for comment. The vacancy has existed on the commission, which governs the Michigan prison system, since January when Talbot Smith, of Ann Arbor, was appointed to the Supreme Court.

More Lose Eyesight

NEW YORK (AP)—More Americans lost their sight in 1954 than in any previous year, the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness was told by its president, Mason H. Bigelow. He said 27,000 persons became blind last year, bringing the total in this country to 319,000.

Records Show How Stalin Got Concessions

Dulles Releases Secret
Documents From Big 3
Meeting in 1945

WASHINGTON (AP)—Publication of long-secret Yalta papers failed today to still the controversy that has raged for a decade over the wartime Big Three meeting.

The half-million-word American record of the historic session was made public last night by the State Department, reportedly over the objection of Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Secretary of State Dulles had said only Tuesday that the 834 pages of documents would not be made public now.

The papers disclosed that Premier Joseph Stalin had made a veiled threat of "difficulties" in taking Russia into the war against Japan unless President Roosevelt agreed to sweeping concessions.

Roosevelt did agree, giving Russia new strategic positions in the northwest Pacific and a powerful hand in Manchuria.

The record disclosed also that Roosevelt told Stalin and Churchill it was "very embarrassing" to him to yield to another Russian demand for Ukrainian and White Russian membership in the United Nations—giving Russia three votes in the General Assembly.

And they disclosed long arguments by Roosevelt and Churchill with Stalin over their demands for creation of two governments in postwar Poland and other liberated Eastern European countries.

Stalin agreed to a declaration and procedures for setting up democratic regimes. But within a few years the Soviets solidified Communist rule from the Baltic to the Black Sea.

The Big Three conference was held at Yalta in the Russian Crimea in February 1945. Roosevelt, Stalin and Churchill had met some months earlier at Tehran, mainly on coordinating military strategy against Nazi Germany.

At Yalta they grappled with great political issues, including the future of Germany. The record shows they agreed on "disarmament" of Germany in principle but not on how it should be carried out.

But the overriding problem was Russia's prospective entry into the war against Japan. Russia agreed to come in once Germany was defeated. The war in Europe ended May 7, 1945.

Russia entered the conflict with Japan on Aug. 9, 1945, three days after the United States dropped an atomic bomb on Hiroshima. Japan surrendered Aug. 14, 1945.

The agreement between Roosevelt and Stalin on Russian entry into the Pacific war has produced years of political controversy in the United States.

Many Republican senators and others denounced Roosevelt's concessions as an unnecessary grant of position and power to Stalin. Roosevelt's defenders have replied it was the price he had to pay to assure Russian military action against Japan.

State Department officials are understood to have hoped that publication of the record would bring

Revolt of MMPA Rocks Meeting

Bid by Romeo Group to Grab Leadership Soundly Defeated

EAST LANSING (U.S.)—A membership revolt against the administration of the Michigan Milk Producers Association failed yesterday at the annual meeting of Detroit market area delegates at Michigan State College.

An attempt by a Romeo delegation to capture chairmanship of the MMPA meeting from President Ivan K. Maystead of Osseo was defeated by a 217-41 vote.

Robert Klein Schmidt of Webberville led the revolt by nominating Harold Fritz of Romeo to replace Maystead as chairman for the annual meeting.

MMPA members said the revolt was caused by complaints from members that association leaders had failed to obtain better milk prices for farmers.

Fritz read a list of amendments to the MMPA bylaws which he said would be proposed at the annual association meeting next fall.

The amendments would permit greater membership control through altered majority vote rules and a recall provision for members of the board of directors. They also would shorten the term of office of directors.

Fritz regained the floor before the meeting ended to charge that there is no surplus of milk in Michigan and therefore no good reason for low prices.

He charged that most dairy products marketed in Michigan, including ice cream and butter, are imported from outside the state. Vigorous new leadership in the association, he said, would bring farmers a better price for their milk.

March Sends Coldest Blasts Across Nation

By UNITED PRESS
March sent its coldest weather of the year across the nation today to the accompaniment of rippling winds which killed four persons in New York City and dropped the Detroit River 6 inches.

The cold wave brought winter back in full force to the northern Midwest, where the temperature nose-dived to 14 below zero at International Falls, Minn., and 10 below at Bemidji, Minn.

Early today the Arctic mass kept temperatures below freezing as far south as Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and northern Tennessee.

At New York March ushered in its new blast last yesterday with winds of occasional gale force after 15 hours of dense fog had disrupted sea and air communications in the metropolis.

The winds caused the tug Justine McAllister to founder in Narrows Channel opposite Brooklyn and three men drowned. Three other men were saved, but were in a state of shock today.

In Manhattan, a wooden scaffolding fell more than 20 stories from the roof of the Pindilly Hotel, killing a chauffeur who sat in a Rolls Royce limousine outside the Booth Theater.

The limousine was owned by Mrs. O. O. McIntyre, widow of the nationally syndicated newspaper columnist.

On New York's Battery, the winds were clocked as high as 55 miles per hour, while at Detroit, they reached 51-mile-per-hour gusts.

The Coast Guard reported that the wind's force dropped the level of the Detroit River 6 inches and waves created the impression that the stream had reversed its course.

Windows were blown in in the Motor City, including a plate glass window in the building of the Detroit Free Press.

Scandinavians to Unify Trade

Norway, Sweden and Denmark to Establish Economic Accord

WASHINGTON — Norway, Sweden and Denmark are taking steps to form an economic union along the lines of the Benelux accord among Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Trade ministers of the Scandinavian cabinets have been appointed to a joint committee to study means for setting up a customs-free home market and promoting sales of Scandinavian products abroad.

The project brings together in a new way countries that have much in common historically, culturally and geographically, says the National Geographic Society.

All three are monarchies with strong democratic leanings. For long periods in the past, two and sometimes three of them have been united under one sovereign.

Visiting Norwegians, Swedes and Danes have little difficulty in understanding one another's languages. And all this northern region owes much to the warming influence of the Gulf Stream.

Individual differences among the Scandinavian nations are no less striking. Each has its own typical scenery: Norway's fjords and snow-topped mountains; Sweden's lakes and forests; Denmark's grazing meadows.

Sweden and Norway are a little larger, respectively, than California and New Mexico. Denmark is about half the size of Indiana. Population ranges from Norway's 3½ million people to Denmark's 4½ million and Sweden's 7 million.

In world markets, the Scandinavians are noted for such specialties as Danish ham and eggs, Norwegian fish and metals, Swedish steel and wood products.

Contemporary designs for furniture and the decorative arts have won Scandinavia a place in world exhibits. Practical and beautiful Swedish glass, Danish silver and the brilliantly colored Norwegian enamel are now found in many American and European homes.

As buyers, Norway, Denmark and Sweden need coal, petroleum products, motor vehicles, machinery, fruit, spices and coffee.

Porpoise Coach Hard to Come by, Aquarium Finds

MIAMI, Fla. (UP) —After four weeks in which a "help wanted" advertisement in a theatrical publication failed to disclose a single job applicant, the Marine Studios of Marineland, Florida, sadly announced that the rarest thing in the United States is an unemployed porpoise trainer.

Several years ago the Florida "oceanarium" decided that its show should include an act in hoops, ring bells, raise flags and go through other routines previously reserved for seals and monkeys.

Through trial and error, a trainer finally was successful in teaching the aquatic mammals to become performers.

However, the extensive rehearsals required, plus five shows a day seven days a week, proved too much of a task for one man. A decision was reached to hire an assistant to share the training load.

The Marine Studios guarantee an assistant porpoise trainer plenty of fresh air and sunshine, as well as quite a few fish each week.

Southern Illinois Student Can Live on $798 a Year

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP) —Southern Illinois University makes the boast that one of its students can get room, board and education for $798 a school year.

SIU officials gave this breakdown of a student's annual expense: tuition, fees, books and activities $78; room and board $576; miscellaneous, including supplies, shows, dates and snacks, $144.

The university admits these are dormitory rates, and all dorms are filled long before a school year begins. But it said almost the same rate will be paid by students who rent private rooms and eat in the university cafeteria.

Treed Tot Stumps Folks

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP) —Thirty searchers scoured the countryside in suburban Dewitt yesterday for Charlie Vogel, 4, whose parents had reported him missing. Charlie was found two hours later—perched in an apple tree in the front yard.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Deane's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 10 years. It's amazing how many times Deane's gives happy relief from these discomforts—help the 12 million kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. War Vet Dentist of Jap Ancestry Can't Buy House

SAN LEANDRO, Calif. (UP) — An American war veteran of Japanese ancestry said today he has been trying unsuccessfully for three months to buy a home near his dentist office in San Leandro, a booming suburb of Oakland.

"It really hurts when they push you around," said Dr. Satoru Larry Aikawa, 31, a dentist, born in Stockton, Calif. "They call you up when it is time to serve your country in the armed forces."

Dr. Aikawa protested after his attempt to buy a $15,750 home fell through because of neighborhood complaints.

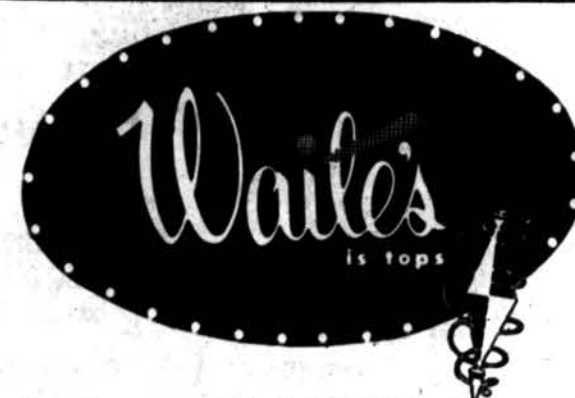

Earl H. Lacount said he was ready to sell his home when an anonymous phone call from a woman warned:

"If you sell to Orientals you will not live to sign the deed."

Lacount said he then talked to his neighbors, found they were opposed, and called off the deal.

Dr. Aikawa said his family—wife and three sons—outgrew the war housing project in which they live.

About 340,000 square miles, or about 11 per cent of the total area of the U. S., is underlain with coal.

Beautiful Trucks Mean Steady Work in Pontiac

GMC Truck & Coach Division has put glamor into the trucking industry. The 1955 models brought out this week by the big GM Division on South Boulevard are commercial vehicles of beauty as well as power. They strike a new high in attractive lines and coloring.

As a result, prospects are bright for steady and even increasing employment in Pontiac during 1955.

Buyers of small trucks have become style conscious. They see the beautiful passenger cars of today and they see no reason why their commercial vehicles should not have much the same appeal in color and styling as well as in comfort, utility and power.

And now, thanks to the bold thinking and efficient building of PHILIP J. MONAGHAN and his GMC Truck & Coach team, their 1955 trucks have eye appeal that is setting a terrific pace for the industry.

The new models have filled the dealers with enthusiasm. Seventeen thousand orders have flooded in. This is a good two months start on the one hundred thousand unit sales that form the tentative goal set by General Manager Monaghan.

All of which is good news for Pontiac and the whole country round about.

It calls for nothing less than a twenty-one gun salute to the men whose creative thinking has made possible this tremendous improvement in design, and equal honors to the thousands of others whose skill and ingenuity are turning out the finished product.

Elks' Enlarged Home Will Be Ready in Fall

One of the year's most important construction projects is that announced by Elks Lodge 810 for its Orchard Lake Avenue site.

Plans call for a total expenditure of $400,000 to be financed by an existing building fund of $100,000 and the sale to members of $300,000 in interest bearing building bonds.

By Fall the Lodge expects to have one of the finest structures of its kind ready for use. The old section of the present building will be razed and the new structure will be integrated with the newer section.

Among outstanding features will be 12 bowling alleys in the basement and a modern kitchen capable of serving the new dining room which will have space for 1,000 guests. This room will have disappearing partitions so it can be divided into as many as four sections.

The Elks are to be congratulated on their plans for the new building which will provide the largest banquet facilities in the downtown area.

White Pine Is State Tree

The action of our Legislature in designating the white pine Michigan's official tree has given rise to an appropriate Arbor Day suggestion.

It is that on that day, April 29, schools, churches and civic groups plant white pines on public property such as school grounds, courthouse squares and parks.

Michigan State College, now celebrating its centennial, is offering 18 inch white pines to such groups free of charge. Already some 1,500 organizations have taken advantage of this offer.

According to Dr. PAUL A. HERBERT, director of conservation at MSC who has charge of the distribution, the white pine will grow on more types of soil than any other tree.

Our hope is that MSC's offer will be accepted on a scale that will remind Michigan residents of the important economic role played by the white pine in the State's earlier history.

Time was when these magnificent forest giants were the backbone of our vast multimillion dollar lumbering industry.

Burton P. Daugherty

Pontiac and Oakland County have lost a well known attorney and former public servant in the sudden death of BURTON P. DAUGHERTY.

Though he was born in Avery, Ohio, Mr. DAUGHERTY grew up in Holly where he was named to his first public office, that of Postmaster.

A graduate of Holly High School, he attended MSC when it was known as Michigan Agricultural College. In 1924 he was elected County Clerk and moved to Pontiac, serving with distinction until 1932. He was admitted to the bar in 1927.

A veteran of the U. S. Navy and a member of the Presbyterian Church, his fraternal interests were centered in Masonic and Elks Lodges and he was a member of Pine Lake Country Club.

BURTON DAUGHERTY was a quiet, friendly man who always had a warm and sunny greeting for everyone. He will be missed by hundreds of friends and acquaintances in all parts of the county.

The Man About Town

St. Patrick's Day

His Pontiac Disciples Are Folks of Whom We're Proud

Husband: Like a garment—if his wife attempts too many alterations she'll have nothing but scraps.

Pontiac has reason in bountiful plenty for celebrating St. Patrick's Day, both for the great number of its citizens who bear allegiance to him and also for their generous contribution in making this a better place to live. In the city directory the "Mc's" fill 30 columns, with an average of about 50 to the column, or around 1500 adult names. Then there are the "O's" with a good number, and several thousand more with Irish names that do not have either of these prefixes. Half Irish himself, and "proud of all the Irish blood that's in me," MAT salutes the sons and daughters of the shamrock.

Immediately after the Baseball Contest was announced, the members of the fair sex again began reaching for that $250 prize. The entry of of 86 Murphy St. was the first to be received.

An Easter cactus with over 50 buds about to break into bloom is reported by

of 1581 Richmond St.

A happy note comes from Harold F. Jeffries, editor of the Lowell Ledger, stating that fluoridation of the village water was approved by a vote of 349 to 141 in Monday's election.

Another boy who phones that he has worked out all of the "Junior Editors" series in the Pontiac Press, and has them on display, is of Rochester, eight years old. He says "it is more fun than the funnies."

The local muskrats are coming down town, a pair of them often being seen in Pontiac Creek between West Huron and Carter Sts.

David L. Brown

of 23 Thorpe St. was quite impressed with a big sign in that city, which says, "In New Orleans Pontiac outcalls all cars except two in the low price field."

Announcing that a great many Pontiac residents got their college education in Big Rapids, chairman of that city's centennial plans, urges them to spend at least one day between July 17 and 23 with the happy throng.

James Bowker,

The Old Man of the Sea Reappears

Intolerance of Dissension Results in Bevan's Ouster

WASHINGTON—Europeans, particularly some of our British cousins, have a way of looking down their noses at American congressional customs, but nothing quite so drastic has ever been voted by either party in the Senate or the House as the punishment meted out by the British Labor Party this week in expelling Aneurin Bevan from that party in the House of Commons.

The British press has been filled in recent months with tirades against the American Congress for failing to expel Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin, though not one word has ever been uttered advocating the elimination from the Republican Party of Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, who also broke with his party leaders.

Every member of Congress in this country can, if he wishes, change his political affiliation—as did Senator Morse recently when he announced that henceforth he would be a Democrat, even though he was elected to his present term after winning the Republican nomination in a party primary.

There is a great deal of tolerance in the United States, and loyalty to party has not been made the basis for censure or expulsion from the party. The 1952 Democratic National Convention rejected an attempt in that direction.

In this case, the British Labor Party has withdrawn the party label from Bevan because of his speeches. He has been attacking the party leader—former Prime Minister Clement Attlee. Because such speeches are regarded as disloyal to the party, the Labor members of the Parliament voted 141 to 112 to expel him from the party.

Here, therefore, is a flagrant instance of punishment for views expressed. The American rule—at least prior to the "condemnation" of Senator McCarthy by Senate resolution—has been to permit members to enjoy freedom of speech in line with the spirit of the Constitution, which holds that members shall not be "questioned" for their speeches "in any other place."

This certainly means no punishment can be applied inside the Congress either, since otherwise there could be libel suits instituted by one member against another.

Bevan's views are unpalatable to Americans and to a large number of Britishers. He believes, for example, the United States is responsible for the crisis in the Far East. He impatiently brushes aside Red China's intervention in the Korean War and says it was justified because she was provoked by the non-recognition policy of the United States. He says America is more of a menace to world peace than the Russians. Generally speaking, he makes the same arguments that the Communists make, though nobody has ever accused him of being in any way tied up with the Communists.

Distasteful as are Bevan's views, he has a right to express them. When the British Labor Party says that only persons of a certain attitude toward public questions can be permitted inside the party, it is, in effect, urging conformity of thought and expressing intolerance toward those who hold a different view on public questions.

It is most unfortunate that Britain's parliamentary leaders on the socialist side have allowed themselves to become victims of the current hysteria toward conformity of thought. Party discipline may withhold any posts of authority from those who differ from the majority, but to expel a man from the party on whose ticket he ran for office is to endow the party caucus or conference with rights above those of the voters themselves.

Maybe the British need to introduce the party-primary system so that the people may say what they want the Laborites to stand for, and this, of course, can be determined by posing before the voters conflicting viewpoints between which the voters could choose.

From the standpoint of international relations, it may be thought expedient to discipline Bevan, but the leader, Attlee, also has been expressing severe

Voice of the People

George Hicks Praises Police Department for Its Honest, Efficient Group of Officers

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical to the nature.

So much lately has entered the paper concerning the squabble our policemen are having with their chief that I find it hard not to voice my convictions on the matter. Having been in contact with the officers, who protect our city, for many years, I feel impelled to speak in their behalf.

Our city is indeed fortunate to have the caliber of men who make up its police department. I know almost all of them and believe me you would find a long way before you would find a more efficient group of officers.

Considering the low wages and high responsibility of the position it's a wonder to me how the city was able to secure and hold the top grade of officers it has.

Not many cities can boast a record of fine police work, completely free of any graft or influence, which our department displays.

In a democracy, a man, regardless of his status in life, has the right to his own opinion. These officers have stated theirs in connection with Chief Staley's new system of leave days. They should not be punished for standing up for their convictions.

Keeling Argues Reds Might Poison America

If mass medication of water supplies can be forced upon the American people in any city or community against their wills by a small governing body, then the way is opened for socialized medicine (Soviet style) in which planners and plotters can "dose" the food and water at will in order to make the people amenable to dictatorship.

In addition thereto the mechanism for fluoridation of water supplies in any community would provide the perfect weapon for saboteurs. With large amounts of fluorides in storage the enemy could dump these into the water supplies and destroy all the people in the community.

It makes the health and lives of the people of a community dependent upon one or a few men, depending upon the size of the city. If the man who operated the fluoridation machines becomes drunk, goes berserk, is a Communist, or if some saboteur killed the operator and took over, it would be a simple matter to poison every citizen who took a drink of water, coffee or tea.

Think this over and if you still want fluoridated water you can now vote for it in the American way and if a majority of the people want it, the minority will have to

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin; but now they have no cloak for their sin.—John 15:22

Case Records of a Psychologist

Dieting, Quitting Smoking Can Benefit Your Church During Lenten Season

Mary wanted a project for her church women's society by which they could sacrifice for Lent, and also make money for the church. So I offered her a plan outlined below. They netted over $500, and the wives benefited indirectly by perking up their husbands' romantic ardor. During Lent this makes an ideal project for both men and women.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case N-376: Mary E., aged 33, is a vivacious housewife who is 30 pounds too plump.

"Dr. Crane, the women's society in my church would like to have a suitable project for Lent," she began with a smile.

"We want to do something that will involve sacrifice and also be of financial help to our church. So can you offer us any psychological suggestions?"

Yes, Mary, one of the very best Lenten projects to involve sacrifice, financial benefit to our church and wholesome competition, is a mutual dieting and non-smoking contest.

Plump wives like Mary can follow my diet plan by which they will shed 10 lbs. in 10 days. Their husbands can join them and quit tobacco. Each can then contribute the savings thereby to the church.

For example, every pound you shed by dieting, actually saves you $2.50 to $5.00 in grocer or restaurant charges.

And the average cigarette smoker burns up about $2 per week on the ends of his cigarettes.

It is also possible to have several simultaneous contests going on. For example, the women of the church group can compete among themselves.

Meanwhile, each wife and husband can have a combined dieting and non-smoking rivalry in their own home.

As you shed the excess upholstery from around your equator, you not only will lower your blood pressure and slow down your heart rate, but you also are in less danger of cancer, diabetes, and many other ailments linked with obesity.

But the most striking result is psychological. For you begin to look and feel much younger.

So your romantic allure seems rapidly in his adoration and pays more attention to you.

When he arrives home from work, he no longer slumps down in the living room easy chair with his newspaper. Instead, he comes right out to the kitchen and gives you a movie-type of kiss. So dieting pays rich dividends in romantic allure.

The secret of dieting successfully, consists of shrinking your stomach rapidly so it will register "Full!" on about half your previous quota of calories.

To do that easily, limit your total fluid intake to one 8 oz. glass the first day; 2 glasses the second day; and 3 total glasses for each succeeding day through the 10th day.

Remember, however, that glass of fluid involves your coffee or soup or milk or water. This plan dehydrates your body. Your mouth gets cottony and you think in terms of water.

Thus, our attention shifts from your stomach, so you can stay on 800 calories per day (for women) or 1,200 (men), and not feel hungry.

Be sure, however, to include 400 to 600 calories in protein foods, for the body does not store protein. It requires a fresh supply every day.

For further advice and the specific calorie values of various foods, send for my booklet, "How drink it or get their supply from some other source."

 Ralph T. Keeling
 RFD 4, Pontiac

"Only one per cent of the nation's water is now treated; thus the market potential has fluoride chemical makers goggle-eyed." So claims an article in "Chem. Week," July 7, 1951.

It also states, "Any apathy or opposition on the part of the public is made up for by the U.S. Public Health Service's zeal in drumming up the program."

It then adds, "Standing to benefit from the boom are chemical companies and equipment firms." And in its closing sentence, it says, "It adds up to a nice piece of business on all sides, and many firms are cheering the U.S.P.H.S. and similar groups on as they plumb for increasing adoption of fluoridation."

Believes Common Sense Lacking in Public Office

Gov. Williams has finally reached the conclusion that the State shouldn't underwrite the cost of railroad necessities and a major political squabble is likely to arise.

I have known that pertinent fact for years and common sense should govern any administration, but common sense has been too infrequently seen in public office.

Look at the postal workers. They are supposed to carry and dispatch mail, live decently and be a typical example of the American way. As it is they are poorly fed, lack medical and dental care and have to work two jobs to make ends meet while their elected cohorts in Congress double their own pay and tour the world at taxpayers' expense.

There is no justice, only in Heaven.

Former Pontiac Minister Differs on 'Space Ships'

Even away off here in California we still like to read our Pontiac Press. The "Space Ship's Beam" version of the New Testament verity certainly gave us more of a jolt than did some of our more recent quakes.

After all, Mr. Anderson of Roads 1. Holy, you may have been active in church work for 20 years, but that doesn't alter the New Testament declaration that there was a Star.

Let's leave the Star as the account states and leave the electronics and space ships for further development.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

(International News Service)

From this out England has no more worry than a lamb in a butcher shop.

For every H-wallopus dropped on London we have promised to deposit the same alphabetical egg on Moscow. Or a reasonable facsimile thereof.

Winsome Churchill can sit back and relax like a waiter with his shoes off. Winnie is in a beautiful spot to keep score.

We are not only going to retaliate biff for bopp but we'll bank the last.

Wimple started this himself with some double-chinned boasting that his Uncle Sam was tougher than Uncle Boris. So the Kremlin reminded Winnie that the hand-out is quicker than the eye-sore.

Also that London was as easy to get at as a pen in the post office.

And in case of a tie it wouldn't be an ascot.

Whereupon, our secretary of self-loading portfolios reimbursed Winnie's high-angle oratory. We assured him we wouldn't stand by loosely and see Ten Downing street made with two fives.

Wasserman Blood Test Might Have Saved Life

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

I began practice shortly before the close of the era of antiseptic surgery. It was my intention to hang out a neat sign, such as the big signs in the city used, announcing simply that Wm. Brady, M.D. could be consulted here.

The sign painter didn't like it. "You're a doctor, aren't you?" he asked. "Then, why not make it Dr. Wm. Brady?" But I was firm. Didn't the man know what M.D. meant? I called his attention to my diploma and my state license, documents certifying that I was qualified to practice as physician and surgeon.

He seemed reassured. "Oh, I see, well, that's all right then—you go on to the ballgame and we'll have the sign finished when you get back." So that's how I scared 'em away at the very outset—when I returned to the office there was the sign telling the world that Wm. Brady, M.D. was both "Surgeon and Physician."

Time passed. I never knew so much time to pass so quietly. No body seemed to want any surgery. Well, if I was a surgeon I might as well arrange the setting to suit. I persuaded a hopeful dealer to install an outfit of white enameled steel and plate glass surgical fittings. Then I waited another year or two.

Finally a debonair youth took a chance—perhaps he preferred to avoid the doctors he knew—and I took his history. I was unable to make a positive diagnosis at once—remember, it was before the discovery of Treponema pallidum (syphilis germ) or the dark-field microscopic test—but the young man, assuring me it could be nothing, for he moved only among the best people, agreed to return in forty-eight hours.

When he returned, there was no longer any doubt. I told him he had syphilis, and he fainted, cutting a gash in his head and smashing the plate glass top of my instrument table as he fell.

The patient followed my instructions well for a while. But as soon as the chancre (primary sore) had nearly faded he grew skeptical, and when no characteristic skin rash or sores in the mouth appeared in the next few weeks he discontinued treatment altogether, and there was nothing I could do about it.

The young man went away, and I heard or saw nothing more of him. Then, nearly two years later, came the sad denouncement. The young man confined in a hospital for the insane, committed suicide. Without any further medical information I assumed that the young man, neglecting treatment, developed syphilis of the brain, which caused his dementia.

Now I wonder what the outcome would have been if the Wasserman blood test had been available then—whether a positive test would have convinced the young man, who had some peculiar ideas of the wonderful remedial virtues of diet, exercise, etc., as prescribed by Barnard Macfadden, of the wisdom of continuing treatment.

That is one case. We told about the other five thousand cases the other day, remember?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be accepted by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

London Masses Cheer Princess

Lend Support to 'Meg' as Romance Rumors Gain Strength

LONDON (INS) — Impulsive shouts of "we're with you" greeted Princess Margaret on poverty-stricken Whitehall road in London's East End.

It was a spontaneous demonstration of public affection for the 24-year-old princess, who is believed torn between her love for Group Capt. Peter Townsend and her royal duty.

The princess, dressed in pink hat and fur coat, was on her way to the dedication service of a new church in the Plaistow district.

As her car moved slowly through the crowded streets, mothers, fathers and children gave her a tremendous welcome.

Cries of "We're with you, Margaret," and others indicating their support for the pretty and popular young woman were heard.

On other London street corners news dealers hawked copies of two leftwing newspapers which sustained the daily press comment on the reported romance between "Meg" and the divorced commoner.

The Labor Party paper, Daily Herald, called for a speedy statement from Buckingham Palace confirming or denying the rumors.

And the mass circulation Daily Mirror answered in its typically outspoken style the criticism from some quarters of the coverage given to the "romance."

The Herald's editorial said: "For something like two years the world press has been filled with speculation and now a series of statements by Group Capt. Townsend has given speculation verisimilitude."

"But this is not simply a private matter which can be left for him to talk about. It is clearly desirable there should be a statement from the palace with the least possible delay."

Some People Just Wait to Be Polled on Something

By MARGARET LATROBE

The surveys come, the public opinion samplers go—but here is a lament from a fellow who never gets questioned. No one ever asks his opinion for any poll.

Gallup missed him when the presidential race looked comfortably close between Dewey and Truman. He was slighted under Roosevelt's reign, when polls were whistling in the dark. He didn't even get a chance to say "boo" when the old Literary Digest was counting years and nays.

Kinsey ignored him when computing engrossing data about—what was it? Even the United States census takers rang the doorbell when he was in Des Moines on business, leaving him and his dear ones uncounted in 1930. And his income is so paltry the internal revenue investigators have never bothered to challenge a single tax return.

For a while he entertained hopes of being asked what TV program was tuned into his parlor. You know all about those ratings which cause people like Ed Sullivan, Arthur Godfrey and Pinky Lee to bite their cuticle? It seems that highly developed scientific techniques in polling yield the popularity ratio of one program as against another.

The minute a show is off the air—or even while it's still on for all I know—corps of inquisitive samplers phone up the fourth name from the top of the left-hand page of every fifth page of the telephone directory, with the query: "What show you watching, and why?"

(And why doesn't some smart publisher print some of the off record replies these pollsters get, or build a new comedy show around them?)

Anyway, no turn the wheels of progress. "Rating services" can immediately tell whether Berle has reached the boiling point, whether Gleason's diet is any good or if the nation's mothers don't think Lucy is pretty casual about babysitters for little Ricky. Sounds silly? It's big business.

But our neglected friend is happier, now that he heard of the census being taken on smoking habits of the nation. He figures they will knock at his door this time. He wasn't much of a smoker until word of this survey reached his waiting ear, but by diligent effort has increased his snipe-counting to three packs a day with an after-dinner pipe and a couple of cigars reserved for the "No Smoking" car.

When approached, he wants to provide statistics worth having that's all.

ALL AMERICA SALUTES AN ALL AMERICAN Happy Birthday! American Legion!

The American Legion will celebrate the 36th Anniversary of its birth March 15 to 17, 1955. All America joins in a salute to this "All American" team.

It's been a long, long trail from Paris, France, when on those March 15 to 17 dates, a handful of AEF veterans met to organize The American Legion.

The American Legion, the world's largest veterans' organization, has been dedicated always to the interests of America and the defenders of America—dedicated from its inception to continue serving "For God and Country!"

Another of its prime purposes has been to "inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation." The American Legion programs of Americanism, Child Welfare, National Security and Rehabilitation were founded on these basic principles.

We wish all American Legionnaires all over the world a Happy American Legion Birthday. Eligible veterans of World War I, World War II and the Korean War can help make it the greatest by joining The American Legion today.

Lions Choose Safety Slogan

'Slow Down and Live in Michigan' Car Tags to Sell at $1, Aid Blind

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — "Slow Down and Live in Michigan" is the current slogan the Waterford Township Lions Club has selected for a money-raising venture. Simulated license plates bearing the safety slogan are being sold by club members for $1 each, with proceeds for the club's sight conservation work of assisting the blind.

The pseudo-plate, in authentic green and white colors, is designed to fit on the unused license plate slot on the front bumpers of most cars.

"We hope to enhance safety as well as raising funds for our blind work," Lions publicity chairman Cecil E. Hummel stated.

Papers Exclude Statesmen's Notes

WASHINGTON — Editors who compiled the Yalta papers worked without benefit of notes taken at the meeting by the late Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius Jr.

The editors noted, in describing the sources of their material, that Stettinius' notes were not made available. Neither, they said, were the Yalta memoranda of James F. Byrnes.

Byrnes was at Yalta as a special assistant to President Roosevelt. He later became secretary of state and recently retired as governor of South Carolina.

Both Stettinius and Byrnes wrote books about what they heard and saw at Yalta.

Driver Outsmarts Self, Appears in Court Today

Because he tried to fool a pair of sharp-eyed Waterford Township police officers, Harold Fisher of Flint today appears in court for driving on a revoked license.

Patrolmen Charles Whitlock and Frank Randolph arrested Fisher after they spotted him trying to change places with a passenger while driving on Dixie Highway near Silver Lake road early today.

The officers said they wouldn't have stopped Fisher if he hadn't tried to make the switch.

Fisher was scheduled to appear before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy.

Ambulance Strikes, Kills Argyle Youth

SANDUSKY, Mich. — An undertaker's ambulance struck and killed a 19-year-old youth last night as he was crossing M46 about five miles west of Sandusky.

The victim, Floyd Guigar of Argyle, had just stepped from a car after a job-hunting trip to Flint with three companions.

The ambulance, driven by William Fuller, 32, of Flint was carrying a corpse from Carsonville to the Leo Groves Funeral Home in Flint. Fuller said he was driving at about 45 miles an hour.

Two of Guigar's friends, Clifford Ross, 19, and Calvin Hunt, 19, both of Tyre, said they had parked their car at an intersection and were driven to Flint by Kenneth Franzel of Sandusky.

On the return trip Franzel dropped off the three youths at the intersection and Guigar stepped into the path of the ambulance.

House Schedules Hush-Hush Talks on University TV

LANSING — The House Ways and Means Committee scheduled a hush-hush hearing today on television at the University of Michigan and Michigan State College.

The House meeting followed on the heels of a hearing held by the Senate Appropriations Committee. Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, testified at the Senate hearing.

Representatives of Michigan television stations were expected to attend the house hearing this afternoon. Committee members refused to discuss the hearing in advance.

Legislators say they are especially interested in the Michigan State College request to combine with private operators in a very high frequency (VHF) station to be located in the Parma-Onondaga area.

MSC now operates its own ultra high frequency (UHF) educational station at East Lansing.

Some members of the House say they would object to any arrangement that would result in expenditure of state money to support a station competing with private enterprise in commercial telecasts.

Child Returned to Own Mother

Court Is Tearful as Adoptive Parents Lose 3-Year-Old Girl

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (P) — Just about everybody in Superior Court wept yesterday when Mrs. Albert R. Welch, 31, surrendered Cathy Ruth Major, 3, to Cathy's own mother on court orders.

The little girl, dimpled and blonde, wept too at the end of the two-year custody fight that returned her to Mrs. Barbara Major, 27.

Judge F. Kenneth Dempsey praised the "love, care and affection" given to Cathy by Mrs. Welch and her husband, a furniture warehouse manager, but called them "victims of an unfortunate set of circumstances" in adopting her.

Judge Dempsey called Cathy's father, Stephen Major, 30, Chicago, "heartless" in arranging for her adoption by the Welches while Mrs. Major was spending two months in Arkansas on a visit in 1953. The Majors now are divorced.

Judge Dempsey declared there were "seeds of tragedy" in the Welches failure to let Mrs. Major visit Cathy.

Mrs. Major declared she had left Cathy and two older children in the care of her parents and a 21-year-old friend when she made the Arkansas visit.

A significant factor in the growth of Michigan as a center of the automobile industry was its one-time leadership in the production of marine engines and carriages.

The Life of Christ—10

Jesus Changes Water Into Wine

(Yesterday Bishop Sheen told of Satan's temptation of Christ in Christ's relation to the world. "I will give Thee command: The Devil said to Him, Satan was trying to tell Jesus that the World Kingdom could only be given Him if Christ worshipped Satan, but Jesus, knowing these Kingdoms could be won only by His suffering and death repudied. "Thou shalt worship the Lord Thy God and Him Alone shalt Thou serve." In other words, Jesus' goal was to conquer evil in the hearts of men. It profits men naught to win the whole world if they lose their immortal souls.)

By BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN

Satan asked for a sign that He was the Son of God, and the sign was that He turn the stones into bread. At the Marriage Feast of Cana, His Mother asked Him to change the water into wine. Why was it that He refused to do a kind of transubstantiation for Satan by changing stones into bread, and why, at the behest of His Mother, did He turn the water into wine?

The occasion was a Marriage Feast to which His Mother had been invited, as well as Himself. He also brought along some of His Disciples, which might have been the reason the wine gave out. In such a wine country, it was only natural that the wine steward appointed for the Feast should be the first to notice the shortage of wine. It happens, however, that the first one who did notice it was the Mother of Our Divine Lord, who went to Him. She uttered a very simple petitionary prayer: "They have no wine." Satan on the mountain top said almost the same thing: "They have no bread." The answer of Jesus to His Mother was: "Woman, what wouldst thou of me? My hour has not yet come."

The next time that He will call His Mother "Woman" will be from the Cross. Then the wine of Cana will be changed into the blood of Calvary. Here is some indication that her relationship with Him is changing. Up to this time, she has been known to the world as the Mother of Jesus; now she would begin to be known as the Mother of all that He would redeem. At the moment

Redemption would be completed on the Cross. He would address her again with the title of Universal Motherhood, or "Woman."

Our Blessed Lord never used the word "hour," except in relationship to His Passion and His Death. When Judas betrayed Him, He said: "This is your hour." The night He bade farewell to His Apostles before going into the Garden of Gethsemane, He said, "Father, the hour has come." The "hour" for Him is always an hour of glory through the Cross. He was now telling His Mother that His Hour for announcing His Passion, Death and Resurrection, was not yet at hand. This was a hard decision for any Mother to make, namely, to send a Son into a battlefield with the forces of evil, in the designs of Providence, the hour of His public manifestation had not yet come. And that was why He was hesitant about taking the initiative in the miracle.

She is practically asking Him to advance the Hour in His plan. She is so certain of her prayer, that she immediately tells the wine stewards to fill the water pots, and to bring them to the master of the feast. Our Blessed Lord walks over to them, and in the beautiful language of Richard Crashaw: "The unconscious waters saw their God and blushed." No wonder the guests said to the wine steward: "It is ever the good wine that men set out first, and the worse kind only when all have drunk deep;

then has kept the good wine till now." Our Blessed Lord never worked a miracle in order to satisfy His own need, and for that reason He refused to work a miracle to satisfy His own hunger. In every instance when He worked a miracle, it was always as a sign or manifestation of His mission. He would not even work a miracle to save Himself from the Cross. But this miracle is called the first of the signs and wonders that He worked. The world generally gives its best first, and afterwards all its dregs and bitterness, but Christ came to reverse the order and to give the feast after the fast, the Resurrection after a Crucifixion, and the Easter Sunday after a Good Friday.

He did at a marriage feast, what He would not do in a desert; He works in the full gaze of men, what He refused to do before Satan. Satan asked Him to turn stones into bread, in order that He might be an economic Messiah; His Mother asked Him to change water into wine that He might begin "His Hour" of Redemption. Satan tempted Him from death; Mary "tempted Him" to death. Satan would lead Him from the Cross; Mary sent Him on His way. Later on, He would take hold of the bread that Satan said men needed, and the wine which His Mother said the guests needed, and would change them both into the memorial of His Passion and His Death, then He would ask that men renew that memorial, even "unto the consummation of the world." The antiphon of His Life continues to ring: Everyone else came into the world to live; He came into the world to die.

Hard-Boiled BusinessHome Egg Machine Does Everything but Lay 'em

SHERWOOD, Mich. (U) — Because eggs can't be trusted to work by themselves, Sherwood Township farmer Vere Mowry has built a marvelous machine in his house.

It brings cartons of eggs up from the basement, saving steps for Mowry and his wife, delivers them to customers, collects money and makes change.

Mowry explains that he got tired of running up and down the cellar stairs whenever someone came to buy eggs at his 1,000-hen farm on M 78.

Mowry also wanted to cash in on some of the middlemen's profit in the egg business. So he built his machine out of odds and ends that included an old corn picker drive shaft and belt, wiring, an electric motor, a muffin tin, a tobacco can and conveyor belt.

Put to work, the machine delivers a carton of a dozen White Leghorn eggs at car-window height smoothly, safely and automatically.

The customer puts his money into the tobacco can, makes his own change out of the muffin tin, raises a plastic door and takes out a carton of eggs. The conveyor hoists another carton up from the basement and deposits it behind the door, ready for the next customer.

Mowry relies on the honesty of his customers to pay for the eggs without cheating. A sign on the customer's side of the machine says: "We have confidence in your arithmetic and integrity."

So far, Mowry figures he's only 15 cents off since the machine went into action a month ago. "Making the machine was fun," he says, "but the most fun is to stand in the kitchen window and watch a customer's face when the machine brings up another box."

There are about 3,000 farms in Rhode Island that average 74 acres each, far below the national average.

Even Cooking Experts Get Husband Criticism

WAYCROSS, Ga. (U) — Laurie Lee Sparrow of the Waycross Journal-Herald had just completed a cooking program over WAYX when the station phone rang for her and a man referred to one of the recipes she'd given which called for a "tablespoon of vanilla" and demanded: "What I want to know is, do you mean flavoring or extract? There's a difference, you know." The caller was her husband, Lansdale Sparrow, who's quite a cook, himself.

GE Tells How to Wire Sailboats for Lightning

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP) — Sailboats can be hit by lightning. To avoid damage, General Electric suggests this:

1. Run a No. 6 wire from the top of the guys to the top of the mast—and even a little farther.
2. Run another wire from the bottom of the guys into the water, or to a copper plate at the bottom of the hull.
That will give the lightning a safe metal path from top to bottom.

Ex-Wife Awarded $100 to Get the Lawn Mowed

CLEVELAND, O. (UP) — Somebody's going to get $100 for cutting Mrs. Wanda Cholewa's grass. Mrs. Cholewa won that amount from her husband in her divorce suit against him. Her settlement included a two-acre plot of grass surrounding her home—but no lawnmower. It seems Cholewa, 32, came back after he left his wife and took the power mower to sell. He refused to cut her grass. So the judge decided to provide means for it.

Midwinter Heat Wave

Land Down Under Victim of Topsy-Turvy Weather

SYDNEY (UP)—The weather in Australia this year has been highlighted by broken records, topsy-turvy season, and no small degree of human tragedy.

In the middle of February, the northeastern state of Queensland had some of the worst floods in its history, following a series of fierce cyclones. The floods entered the Tweed Valley, causing a loss of about 16 lives.

From August through October, the agricultural south coast of New South Wales had dry conditions bordering on a serious drought. Many people in towns without pipeline water were forced to buy their water. But in July the northern coast of the state had been flooded.

And in July, too, Queensland was pelted with unusually heavy rain, which generally falls in the summer months. Tropical cyclones came along with a great deal of damage from gales and high seas.

Perth, western Australia, had a reading of 99 degrees Fahrenheit Aug. 23-24, which is still "mid-winter" below the Equator. On those same dates, Sydney experienced the two hottest days for the time of the year in its history, indicating that the freak heat wave was nationwide.

Victoria experienced its lowest October temperature in nine years with severe frosts and light snow.

Rutgers University Has Course in Smog, Smaze

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UP)—Rutgers University is offering a unique course on the problem of smog and smaze.

The course, first of its kind in New Jersey, is titled "Principles of Air Pollution Control." Most of the "students" enrolled are professional men representing industrial firms and city health departments.

Instructors are recruited from the university's meteorology, civil engineering, plant pathology, biology and law departments under the direction of the school's department of sanitation, which has made a 30-year study of similar pollution problems.

The course deals generally with the effects of air pollution on man and his environment, principles of measurement and survey and latest methods of control.

Clear Truckers in Tax Evasion

Oregon Group Urges Mileage Payment Plan Be Adopted by State

SALEM, Ore.—(UP)—Persistent charges by long-haul truckers that there has been widespread evasion of mileage payments by trucking firms have been found to be without foundation, the legislative highway interim committee has reported to Gov. Paul L. Patterson.

The committee said it would recommend to the 1955 Oregon legislature that the weight-mile tax, which was created in Oregon, be continued without change.

Other states, including New York, have adopted the weight-mile tax, and the interim highway committee said an impartial study had shown evasion amounted to only about four per cent, instead of the 40 or 50 per cent evasion some had estimated.

The committee engaged the Stanford Research Institute to make an impartial study of the effectiveness of the weight-mile tax in Oregon, and that organization said it found evasion at about four per cent.

The committee also recommended to the 1955 legislature that legislation be enacted to make the gasoline tax the exclusive right of the state and not permit its use by counties or other local levels of government.

Oregon also originated the gasoline tax, which many other states have since adopted. The state tax here is six cents a gallon, plus two cents federal tax.

Glamorized Potatoes Outsell Ordinary Spuds

ITHACA, N. Y., (AP)—Prof. F. M. Isenberg of Cornell University's vegetable crops department says potatoes are in declining demand, but would sell better if attractively packaged.

Isenberg said a recent test in Maine showed that potatoes washed and displayed in transparent wrappers outsold unwashed spuds by more than five to one. He said growers were enthusiastic over the experiment.

Fears Outbreak of Yellow Fever

Doctor Claims Disease Is Creeping Northward From South America

WASHINGTON (INS)—A top-ranking American medical official has warned that the United States especially the southern states, is threatened with an outbreak of yellow fever.

Dr. Calvin B. Spencer, chief of the division of foreign quarantine in the public health service, said yellow fever has been progressing steadily northward since 1948 from the jungles of South America.

He told a House appropriations subcommittee, which made his testimony public today, that yellow fever has spread from Columbia, across the Panama Canal, and into northern Honduras, where a case occurred last year.

Dr. Spencer warned: "It is estimated that in a short while, with conditions obtaining as they are in that general area, yellow fever will occur in southern Mexico, where it will be a real threat to us, as there we have favorable conditions existing, and the movement of people in large numbers."

He pointed out that there are approximately one and a half million persons coming to the United States annually from the interior of Mexico. This number includes Mexicans, Americans and other nationals, but is exclusive of Mexican migrant labor.

The medical expert emphasized that the mosquito capable of transmitting yellow fever, the Aedes Aegypti mosquito, "still exists in our south Atlantic and Gulf states in sufficient numbers to render many localities receptive should the infection be re-introduced."

He added that there was no human case of yellow fever in the United States in the 1954 fiscal year which ended last June 30.

Dr. Spencer said it will be necessary to take additional precautionary measures "to assure ourselves that traffic does not bring over any infected case or infected mosquito into the South."

The measures, he continued, must include "intensified controls of the mosquito vector (carrier) at airports of entry and the immediate pier areas in our ports."

Dr. Spencer noted that yellow fever's "eastern prong" has reached into Trinidad in the British West Indies. He said the recent epidemic there resulted in five known deaths and probably more.

Oldest Polish-American in America Dies at 108

ALPENA (UP)—Mrs. Francis Przewlowski, 108, believed to be the oldest Polish-American immigrant in the United States, died in her sleep yesterday.

Mrs. Przewlowski was born in Poland on Sept. 18, 1846. She was flown to Detroit two years ago and honored in connection with the naming of US-112 as Pulaski Memorial Highway.

Superintendent Fired by School

Ousted Educator Makes Protest Over Charges of Bus Discount

MILLINGTON (U)—Stephen M. Glaza has been fired as superintendent of Millington's consolidated school and has protested to the Michigan Education Assn.

The Millington school board said the dismissal was "for the best interests of the school" and to "clarify community relations."

Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, said Glaza had accepted "gifts" for the school's so-called "internal fund" from a school bus seller, instead of taking a customary 10 per cent.

"No one got any of the money personally," Taylor said. "I don't know of anything illegal that was done, although it was irregular."

Athletic equipment, stamps and other items for which regular school funds are not available are purchased from the "internal fund." Petty bills are paid from it, too.

The state pays one-seventh of the cost of a school bus. On the theory that the "gift" amounted to a discount, the state is attempting to recover a part of the sum it paid.

Glaza came to Millington after graduation from Michigan State College in 1936 and has served as teacher, coach, principal and superintendent. The school has grown from 350 students to 1,600—an enrollment equal to the town's population.

The growth is attributable to a consolidation of adjoining school districts with the Millington district.

Residents say there has been "resentment" around Millington over the "expansion policy," which Glaza has promoted.

Oversized Food Trays Pose Problem for Jail

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (U)—The County Jail got a new shipment of food trays made by inmates of the state penitentiary at Joliet. That was good.

But the trays for feeding prisoners were too big for special openings shaped for passing them through barred jail doors. That was bad.

Organ, Now Over 100, Still Playing Strong

NEW BERN, N. C. (UP)—An organ, which became 100 years old recently, is still playing strong and clear for the congregation of the Negro First Baptist Church here.

The old organ was bought for $800 in 1854. For 62 years it was used by the First Presbyterian church but in 1916 it was struck by lightning. It was delivered ruined, but the congregation which now owns it bought it for $125 and repaired it.

Marked Turtle Travels Only 1 Mile in 44 Years

NORTH CHATHAM, N.Y. (UP)—This is the story of a racing turtle that didn't get very far—just one mile in 44 years.

George B. Woodward and Louis B. Woodward carved their initials on the back of a turtle they were keeping for racing purposes. Some how the turtle got away.

John Q. Adams recently saw a turtle with initials on its back and began making inquiries. He found the turtle had been the property of the Woodward brothers when they were youngsters.

The turtle was only a mile from their home.

ACTIVITY IN ANTARCTICA — With mission accomplished, the U. S. S. Atka has left the Antarctic continent and is en route home to Boston. The Navy expedition's purpose was to find and survey the most suitable base for future exploration. They found the old base, Little America (1) destroyed by ice breakup. The new base (2) was named in honor of Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, USN. A British expedition from the Falkland Islands is surveying a base site on the Palmer Peninsula (3), and under consideration is a daring plan for two English-Australian-New Zealand parties to cross the trackless wastes of the South Pole by land vehicles. The Australia-New Zealand party would strike out from a base on McMurdo Sound (4) and aim to link up with the English expedition traveling from Vahsel Bay on the Weddell Sea (5).

New Findings Cut Down Cost of Medical Care

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A hospital administrator says that as medical knowledge increases medical costs are getting progressively lower. John Zugish, assistant director of University of Michigan Hospital, says that when penicillin was new, it cost $22 a dose. Today a prescription usually is under $2. The common middle ear infection in small children which required minor surgery 10 years ago now can be cured by medications which cost about one-tenth as much, he says. "We hear a lot about the rising cost of medical care," Zugish says, "but medicine and pharmacy have virtually wiped the slate clean of all our old remedies."

The principality of Liechtenstein, one of Europe's six smallest nations, has been a sovereign state since 1342. Poised in the Alps between Switzerland and Austria, Liechtenstein covers 61 square miles — about the size of the District of Columbia.

Tomatoes First With Americans

Corn Holds 2nd Place Among U.S. Vegetable Preferences

NEW YORK (UP) — America's favorite vegetable is the tomato. Tomato consumption in 1953 was enough to provide each man, woman and child in the United States with 53 pounds of the vegetable, according to an analysis of government statistics by the American Can Co.

This average included about 40 pounds of canned tomatoes and a little more than 13 pounds straight off the vine. Corn is second in national preference. The average American in 1953 consumed 13 pounds of canned corn and 10 pounds of the on-the-cob and frozen varieties.

Third among the vegetable favorites was cabbage, with slightly more than 15 pounds per capita. Nutrition specialists for the company, which makes containers for more than 500 food items, estimated that about 13½ pounds of cabbage was used in slaws and salads and the balance consumed as sauerkraut.

Peas ranked next, with a per capita consumption of more than 13 pounds a year. Company experts said this figure included about 8 pounds of canned peas and 4 pounds of the fresh and frozen variety.

Next in order of American preference were cucumbers and snap beans, with the average American consuming about 7 pounds each. Asparagus, lima beans and spinach averaged about 3 pounds each per capita.

Detroit's baseline superhighway, Eight Mile Road, is the base from which all Michigan Surveys were originally made and from which all state land descriptions are now given. It forms the south border of Oakland County.

NOMINEE?—George W. Perkins is scheduled to be nominated as permanent U. S. member of the Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. He was formerly an assistant secretary of state.

Mechanical 'Mole' Used to Build Dam

PIERRE, S. D. (UP) — A $300,000 mechanical "mole" is digging outlet tunnels in the huge Oahe Dam across the Missouri River near here.

The rig digs tunnels four to 10 times faster than any other machine yet devised. It was built for the Nittry Construction Co., Los Angeles, Calif., contractor for the tunnel portion of the dam project. The rig is a locomotive-like device, with drills and vertical augers on its face which cut the shale and rock to the exact size of the tunnels. The cuttings are carried out from the tunnel face on a conveyor belt. The self-powered rig runs on tracks which are put in place as the boring advances.

Rules of today provide that the body color of a true Palomino horse must not be more than three shades lighter or darker than a newly-minted gold coin. The mane and tail must be white.

They will divide preaching and ceremonies and draw equal salaries.

Girl, 7, Is 4th Victim of Rampaging Auto

BUFFALO, N.Y. — Seven-year-old Iris Ascanazy died last night, the fourth victim of a rampaging automobile that jumped a curb and struck down a group of young girls strolling home from school.

Three of the children were killed Monday as the car served wildly on its two-block path of destruction before smashing into a grocery store.

Iris died without regaining consciousness. Still in critical condition is a fifth girl, Betty Scheuer, 11.

The driver, Emil Decina, 33, pleaded innocent yesterday to charge of criminal negligence.

Money Rattles in Odd Shapes the World Over

WASHINGTON — Money—"what the other man takes for the things you want"—has rattled in strange shapes in curious transactions.

Cowrie shells, dog, pig and sperm-whale teeth have served as money. Fishhooks, hounds, snail shells and stone coins 12 feet in diameter have passed as francs and dollars do today.

Of all odd currencies, the cowrie, white and straw-colored inch-long product of the Indian Ocean has perhaps served more people than any other non-metallic tender, the National Geographic Society says.

In Uganda a thousand cowries bought a 60-pound ivory tusk; 2,300 bought a cow; a bride was sold for two cowries. Sometimes a surplus of cowries brought inflation. Then tribal leaders hoarded quantities of the shells in an effort to control their value.

Dog teeth found favor among distantly separated Solomon Islanders of the Pacific and Shoshone and Bannock Indians of North America.

In 1890 the Indians valued a tooth at 25 cents. The islanders, trading among themselves, paid for canoes with teeth. When selling to outsiders, however, the islanders scrutinized the teeth, for traders a half-century ago shook the economy with imports of porcelain counterfeits.

Yap, the Pacific Island, and Paraguay, the South American country, once stood at extremes in weight of currencies. The famed stone money of Yap weighed hundreds of pounds. With circulation nearly impossible, the enormous stones stood before the rich man's dwelling, bespeaking his resources.

In Paraguay natives cut snail shells to shirt button size as money. A hundred buttons bought a sheep, while in Nicaragua the same number of cocoa beans bought a slave. Colored Amazon River stones resembling fish served the Caribs in Guiana as a medium of exchange.

The sperm whale's elusiveness, like gold, raised its teeth to enormous value in the Fiji Islands. Generally owned by chieftains and hand-polished, a tooth bought a bride or a culprit's way out of trouble.

Report Navy Flying Boat Down in Sea Off Athens

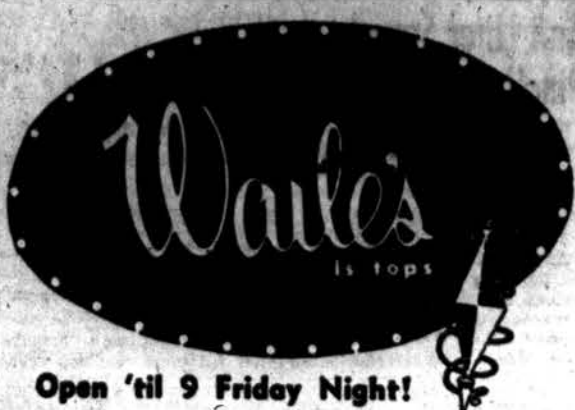

ATHENS, Greece — A U.S. Navy plane, tentatively identified as a PBM flying boat, fell into the sea shortly after taking off from Athens Airport today, U.S. Embassy sources said.

Early reports said the tail of the aircraft could be seen in the water, about 12 miles from Athens but no survivors or life rafts were spotted. A Navy source said this type of plane normally carries a crew of four.

U.S. Doubts North Korea Will Hit South

SEOUL, W.—North Korea's Red army today is larger and better equipped than when it struck South Korea five years ago.

U.S. sources, however, privately discount the probability of another invasion from the north. So do South Korean officials, despite their publicly pronounced fears.

Intelligence reports, gathered by the allies in the past year, indicate the North Korean army, badly shattered at the time of the armistice, has been thoroughly overhauled.

Tanks, guns, jet fighters and medium bombers have been brought in since the armistice. The introduction of planes is a violation of the truce. It forbids the introduction of additional weapons although old weapons may be replaced. North Korea had no jet planes at the time of the armistice.

Gen. Lee Hyung Keun, chairman of South Korea's Joint Chiefs of Staff, said last August North Korea had received 200 Russian-made tanks, 300 pieces of heavy artillery, 250 jet fighters and 42 medium jet bombers.

The United Nations Command mentioned only the illegal introduction of 150 jet fighters in its protest to the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission. Conceivably, the artillery and tanks could be replacement of equipment the Chinese Reds took with them when they left.

At least 40 new jet airfields have been built. The North Koreans have dug in deep all across the 155-mile front. But they lack one important thing—full Chinese Communist support.

Communist China reported last September the withdrawal of seven divisions from North Korea. But there is conclusive evidence that up to 11 divisions—about 110,000 men—have been pulled out. The withdrawal still may be going on.

Chinese Nationalist intelligence reports these withdrawn troops are now opposite Formosa in the Amoy-Foochow area.

With increased Communist concentration on Formosa and South-east Asia, there appears to be little Red Chinese enthusiasm for renewed adventures in Korea.

Without the Chinese, Communists to bail them out, the North Korean army could well meet the same fate that befell it at Inchon. The armies were broken and most of their heavy equipment was captured.

South Korea has developed one of the largest standing armies in the world. This is far different from that day in 1950 when a poorly armed constabulary force met the first North Korean onslaught. South Korea has 20 divisions on active duty. Another 10 reserve divisions will be filled out by June. The South Korean air force has been promised 75 Sabre Jets by the end of the year.

The reinforcement of the South Korean army has been accompanied by a withdrawal of U.S. forces in compliance with armistice terms.

With the Russians and Red Chinese beefing up North Korea, and the United States bolstering the South Korean army, the entire peninsula once more is an armed camp.

Thus, South Korea probably could not—as has been speculated—send volunteer forces to help the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

Anti-Litter Squads Pinch 832 in Gotham

James Marlow Looks at Yalta—10 Years Later

Russia Broke Promises but U.S. Can't Repudiate Agreement Now

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (U)—What happens now that the Yalta papers have finally been made public? More talk. That's all. There's not much new in them. The main points in the Yalta agreements have been known for years.

Politicians, Democrats and Republicans, will argue about Yalta, as they have for a decade. The papers may have an influence on the 1956 elections. But that's doubtful simply because the main points have been long known and discussed.

Russia broke agreements made at Yalta among President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin. That was 10 years ago. The United States can't undo the damage done by Russia except by going to war. For example: Russia agreed to let the East Europeans have free governments but then enslaved them; it agreed to deal with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese but let the Red Chinese capture Japanese weapons to conquer China.

Without fighting Russia, the United States can't liberate Eastern Europe. Without fighting Red China, it can't restore Chiang. Since the United States has no intention of doing either, there's nothing left but talk.

The Eisenhower administration could try to repudiate the Yalta agreements. But there are two good reasons to think twice before doing it:

Such a repudiation, since it couldn't mend the broken agreements, would be a gesture only; and if Roosevelt's agreements were repudiated now, how could any nation ever expect any agreement by a future president to stand?

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles probably had both thoughts in mind when they took office in 1953. They didn't recommend repudiation. They simply asked Congress to condemn Russia for bad faith.

The Republican-run Congress then did nothing. Even if Eisenhower now asked for repudiation, the present Congress, run by Democrats, would certainly turn him down. To do otherwise would be to repudiate a Democratic president, Roosevelt.

There were three main agreements at the wartime Yalta conference: (1) cooperation among the Big Three in crushing Germany; (2) cooperation in creating free governments in Eastern Europe; and (3) Russia's promise, after getting concessions in Asia, to get into the war against Japan. Roosevelt had the advice of his military leaders in wanting Russia to help end the Japanese war fast.

Russia did get in, only five days before Japan quit. Ever since, Republicans have criticized Roosevelt for acting, as their 1952 platform said, "without the knowledge or consent of Congress or of the American people."

The Democrats have argued he did what he thought was best and that the agreements were good, if the Russians had lived up to them. Roosevelt certainly did not reveal the whole story when he returned from Yalta.

In a report to Congress in March 1945, he mentioned only the agreements on Germany, the United Nations and Eastern Europe. It was understandable, for wartime reasons, that he did not speak of agreements on Asia and the Pacific war.

But he went far beyond, telling Congress: "Quite naturally the Crimea (Yalta) conference concerned itself only with the European war and with the political problems of Europe—and not with the Pacific war."

Future World Cooperation Was Goal at Yalta

Big 3 Leaders Met in Crimea

Russians Kept Promise to Fight Japan but Reneged on Others

By JOHN H. MARTIN
Foreign Editor

The big three—U.S. President Roosevelt, Russian Premier Stalin and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill—met in the Russian Crimea near the resort city of Yalta on the Black Sea from February 4 to 11, 1945.

Sessions were held in the summer palace of the former Czar Nicholas near the southern tip of the Crimean Peninsula that juts into the sea from its northern shore.

President Roosevelt died that spring and the sphinx-like Stalin died two years ago. Only the 80-year-old Churchill survives.

The initiative for the meeting came from Roosevelt and Churchill, in November, 1944.

Roosevelt was eager to arrange such a big three conference as soon as possible after his re-election for a fourth term as president.

There were three main aims at the conference:

An agreed big three leadership over a collapsing Germany; joint leadership over East European nations over-run by the Red Army on a huge line from the Baltic to the Black Sea; the terms for Soviet Russia's entry into the Far Eastern War after the end of World War II in Europe.

The only previous big three meeting was at Tehran in December, 1943. That session dealt with immediate military operations. Yalta was to chart a future of world cooperation at a time when Nazi Germany was dying.

Roosevelt said when he returned to Washington that "we have learned to be citizens of the world. We have learned the simple truth as Emerson said: 'The only way to have a friend is to be one.'"

Stalin entered the conference, in the Black Sea Riviera among the palaces of the former czarist nobility recently destroyed by Nazi invaders, on his home soil and at a time when his Red legions held all Eastern Europe.

Stalin already was looking to the East. On the bargain counter at Yalta was: what Russia would do to shorten the war against Japan.

Russia agreed to hit Japan three months after the war with Germany ended. Moscow carried that pledge out to the exact date and rolled into Manchuria in an August offensive just before Japan sued for peace.

Moscow signed a mutual assistance treaty with Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

But in the view of Chiang and the Western Allies the Soviets violated that treaty flagrantly by looting Manchuria, holding the Nationalists off and equipping the Chinese Reds with a vast store of surrendered Japanese arms and ammunition.

No far-reaching decisions were arrived at on the Germany problem. The only vital decision was that France should occupy part of the occupation zones in Germany. This was done at British insistence and over strong Russian objections.

Control of Germany on a four-power basis soon collapsed after the war. Both sides wooed the nation. Russia was accused of violating the Potsdam contract arranged later by President Truman.

The Soviets even tried a big squeeze play against the Western allies—the blockade of Berlin which failed to force the United States, Britain and France into giving up their hold on the west part of the city.

But Russia definitely split Berlin by creating a Communist East Berlin government, without elections on the "free" basis pledged at Yalta. The same process was carried out in installing an East German government.

Poland was a tragic offspring of the Black Sea conference. Russia said that "free elections" would be held in Poland and other nations over-run by the Red Army. These were never held. The Western Allies accused the Russians of PAPERS ON THEIR TALK MADE PUBLIC — The long-suppressed papers on the meeting of Prime Minister Winston Churchill, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the late Joseph Stalin, left to right, at Yalta, Crimea, in 1945, were made public by the State Department Wednesday night. Copies of the papers — two volumes containing a total of 834 pages — were distributed to newsmen at Washington with a stipulated release for publication at 9 p. m.

Yalta Disclosures Infuriate Britons; F.D.R. Now Regarded as Schemer

LONDON (U)—Britons were shocked and angered today by disclosures in the Yalta papers, especially Roosevelt's suggestion that Hong Kong be turned over to China.

The Foreign Office and British press generally considered Washington's publication of the records a diplomatic blunder. The man in the street was hopping mad on learning some of the inside maneuvers at the conference.

Talk on the morning commuter trains coming into London was more concerned with Yalta than with the weather.

2 GOP Solons 'Raised Cain' to Get Papers

WASHINGTON (INS)—Strong pressure from Republican leaders induced Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to release the hitherto secret Yalta papers over the objections of the British government.

A source reported that GOP Sens. William F. Knowland, Calif., and Styles Bridges, N. H., visited the secretary and "raised Cain" with him because they believed the material had been "leaked" to some newsmen.

Earlier in the week the department made copies of the papers available to a few committees in the House and Senate and to Democratic and Republican floor leaders for their confidential use.

stacking the deck and juggling the ballot returns when so-called free elections were held.

The "fight to the west" of Eastern Europeans began quickly in Poland and became an established pattern through the post-war years. With Red troops in control and Moscow-trained Communists installed without benefit of truly free elections, the Poles, Czechs, Rumanians, Bulgars, Hungarians, and Balts along the Baltic Sea coast never had a chance.

It is estimated that millions perished, either through execution or banishment to Soviet Siberia.

It was agreed at Yalta that a meeting should be held in San Francisco the following April to draw up a charter for the United Nations. That was done but many to this day dislike the provisions of that charter.

even the current split in the British Labor party over rebel Aneurin Bevan.

Critical references to the late President Roosevelt as a political schemer could be heard from Britons who heretofore have almost universally revered him as a great statesman.

The average Briton's pride appeared hurt particularly by two Roosevelt suggestions—to turn over Hong Kong to China and to exclude the British from the postwar administration of Korea.

Hong Kong, a British crown colony for 114 years, has been built up into the largest banking center in the Far East.

One Englishman in a black bowler hat—the trademark of London's Wall Street known as "The City"—was heard to say in a loud voice on one train:

"Roosevelt was mad if he thought we'd ever give Hong Kong to the Chinese. Why, it's one of the most valuable places left in the old empire. And it certainly sounds odd compared with the Americans now crying about giving the Chinese a few barren islands right in China's backyard."

Another remarked: "It's also nice to know Roosevelt tried to leave us out of Korea. I wish the British soldiers who died fighting there could have known about it."

As for the prospect of Big Three talks, the tenor of the curbsome debate was "Who can trust anyone on diplomatic secrets?"

The U.S. disclosures immediately aroused British fears that they would raise a bar to another Big Three meeting at the top level. The Conservative Daily Mail commented that the publication "could help to discourage the Russians" from joining in such a conference.

Both Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden advocate "open covenants secretly arrived at," contending that the Russians use public meetings only for propaganda platforms. When Churchill first proposed a top-level parley two years ago, he stressed that it should be confined to a few persons meeting in "privacy and seclusion."

The rest of Europe was slow in reacting. Up to noon Moscow radio had made no mention of the Washington announcement.

Skates Out of Her Life

MINEOLA, N. Y. (UP)—Mrs. Janet Nieto, 25, told the judge during a hearing on her separation suit yesterday that the only word she has heard from her husband since he disappeared two months ago was when he sent a friend around to pick up his roller skates.

General Bares Soviet Warning

Chief of War II Mission to Russia Says He Told of Red Treachery in '44

WASHINGTON (INS)—Maj. Gen. John R. Deane, head of the World War II U.S. military mission to the Soviet Union, warned in 1944 that the Russians took as much as they could get from us and gave as little as possible in return.

Deane wrote Gen. George C. Marshall that Soviet leaders looked upon America as "either a shrewd trader . . . or a sucker."

In a secret report to his chief, dated Dec. 2, 1944, the head of the military mission said that he had become "gradually nauseated by Russian food, vodka, and protestations of friendship."

But the individual Russian, Deane said, "is a likeable person." He added that "their racial characteristics are similar to ours (and) individually I think they would be friendly if they dared to be . . ."

On Soviet officials, he reported: "Each person high in public life proposes a toast a little sweeter than the preceding one on Soviet-British-American friendship. It is amazing how these toasts go down past the tongues in the cheeks."

"After the banquets we send the Soviets another thousand airplanes, and they approve a visa that has been hanging fire for months. We then scratch our heads to see what other gifts we can send, and they scratch theirs to see what else they can ask for."

Deane continued: "The truth is that they want to have as little to do with foreigners, Americans included, as possible. We never made a request or proposal to the Soviets that is not viewed with suspicion."

"They simply cannot understand giving without taking, and as a result even our giving is viewed with suspicion."

"Gratitude cannot be banked in the Soviet Union. Each transaction is complete in itself without regard to past favors. The party of the second part is either a shrewd trader to be admired or a sucker to be despised."

The general added: "... We are in the position of being at the same time the givers and the supplicants. This is neither dignified nor healthy for U.S. prestige."

Knowland Eyes Red Violations

McCarthy Wants U.S. to Renounce Yalta

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) indicated today the administration is seeking ways to denounce Russian violations of the Yalta agreement without giving the Soviets any legal advantages.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) called on President Eisenhower in the Senate yesterday to "announce the support of his administration for formal congressional action repudiating the Yalta agreements."

Knowland, Republican floor leader, did not comment on McCarthy's demand. But he said in an interview that as far as he is concerned, any action will have to await "full study" of the 1945 conference record made public last night by the State Department.

"There may be ways to denounce or repudiate these agreements, in view of the Soviet failure to comply with them, which would not put the Russians in the position of being able to reap some benefits," Knowland said.

"Before we reach any final decision, it would be well to study the facts as they are disclosed in the conference record."

McCarthy told the Senate yesterday Republicans had failed to live up to a 1952 platform pledge to repudiate the Yalta agreements. He said he is "not optimistic" about GOP chances in 1956 "if we come before the American people with a series of broken campaign promises."

He blamed Eisenhower's brother Milton and "holdovers from the Roosevelt regime" for swaying the President from a policy aimed at "liberation" of the Iron Curtain countries to one of "coexistence" with communism.

"I merely mention Milton Eisenhower because he is typical of the palace guard of New Dealers which lead like around without his knowing exactly where they are taking him," McCarthy said.

The White House had no comment. Efforts to reach Milton Eisenhower were unsuccessful. President of Penn State University, he has sometimes acted as adviser to the President on Latin American affairs.

Chiang Official Comments Upon Yalta Papers

TAIPEI (INS)—Nationalist China's Foreign Minister George Yeh declared today that publication of the Yalta papers will enable the free world to "better assess the far-reaching consequences" of the agreement made secretly by Soviet and American leaders.

Yeh issued his statement after details of the Yalta agreements were published in Taipei newspapers.

"China was not represented at the Yalta Conference. Nor was she consulted before or during the conference on any of the understandings reached between the participating powers."

"Publication today of these secret documents will enable the free peoples of the world to better assess the far-reaching consequences of the agreements in the light of events that have since taken place."

Knowland indicated repudiation of the Yalta agreements might counteract American claims that the Soviets failed to hold the free elections they had pledged for what are now Iron Curtain satellites. Repudiation also might wash out the basis under which the Big Four now control Berlin.

There was little immediate comment on the 500,000-word Yalta record. A number of Congress members said they had not had time to study it.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), however, said it showed the late President Roosevelt had made "an almost unpardonable error" in granting concessions to the "Russians, but he added: "In all fairness, he was a sick man."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said publication of the documents was "a very dangerous step . . . to satisfy the more vitriolic elements of the Republican party." He named no names. As for the papers themselves, he said, they Hiss Claims He Opposed Extra Red Votes in U. N.

NEW YORK (U)—Alger Hiss said last night that he unsuccessfully opposed Russian proposals at the Yalta conference to admit extra Soviet republics as independent members of the United Nations.

Asked about the Yalta documents, made public by the State Department, Hiss said he has considered that "my position at all times was pro-American" rather than anti-Soviet.

Hiss, whose role at the Yalta conference has been a controversial issue for years, clarified some cryptic notes published by the State Department as part of the Yalta documents.

Hiss' notes, written in an amateur shorthand, concerned the agreement at the 1945 Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin conference to allow Russia three votes in the General Assembly of the United Nations, then being launched. Russia got votes for White Russia and the Ukraine as well as for itself.

Hiss was interviewed at his apartment after the State Department issued the Yalta papers. He was recently freed from prison after serving a term for perjury for denying before a federal grand jury that he passed State Department secrets to a prewar Russian spy ring.

Hiss, a State Department official, was assigned at the Yalta conference to keep records and advise his superiors on matters dealing with the U.N.

According to the documents issued by the State Department, President Roosevelt told Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin that the matter of allowing Russia two extra votes was "very embarrassing to me."

Hiss said in the interview that he believes Roosevelt's embarrassment concerned publication of the decision at that time.

The decision was not made pub-

'Baby' A-Bomb Early Objective

Yalta Papers Reveal Wartime Work Toward This Goal

WASHINGTON (U)—The Yalta papers' publication disclosed that nuclear physicists were working toward development of a "baby" atomic bomb at the very outset.

Among the documents made public last night was a memorandum from Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, chief of the wartime Manhattan District which developed the first bombs, to Gen. George C. Marshall, then Army chief of staff. Dated Dec. 30, 1944, it was stamped "top secret."

Along with other disclosures, this memorandum showed that:

1. It was hoped that by the spring of 1945 there could be developed a nuclear fission bomb "which would be equivalent to about 500 tons of TNT." (The bombs finally perfected for the first wartime use in Japan in August 1945 had an energy release equivalent to that of 20,000 tons of TNT.)

2. Trouble perfecting a trigger device and the component parts of the weapon prevented this.

3. Using a different triggering method, the first trial bomb was expected to produce energy equaling 10,000 tons of TNT and to be ready by Aug. 1, 1945.

The first bomb was tested at Alamogordo, N.M., on July 16. The first combat bomb was dropped on Hiroshima Aug. 6.

For years after that, nuclear physicists believed any atomic bomb must have a minimum force of 20,000 tons because the "critical masses" of fissionable material could not be made to produce an explosion, when brought suddenly together, of less than that explosive force.

The trigger device used in the first bombs, and for a number thereafter was a "gun type," mentioned in the document made public last night. This gadget fired two spheres of fissionable material together at high speed, producing instantly the contact of the critical mass.

Banished to Garage to Enjoy Favorite Vice

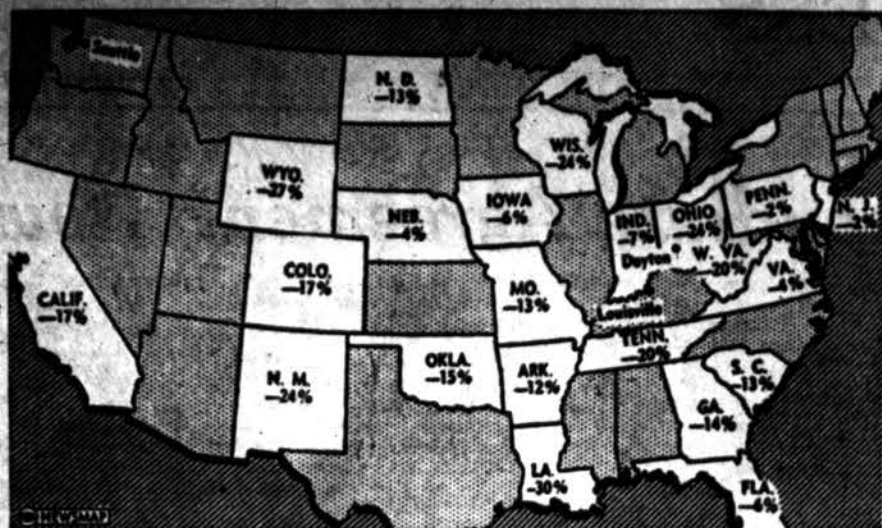

Grand Rapids (UP)—Police investigating reports of a mysterious glow in a darkened garage found a 66-year-old man sitting in his automobile smoking a pipe.

The man explained that his wife wouldn't allow him to smoke "that smelly thing" in the house.

WORLD LEADERS — Although a bitter enemy of Communism, Winston Churchill, Britain's war-time leader, welcomed an alliance with Russia against Germany, and later Japan, with the remark, "To save England I'd pact with the devil." He is shown above (right) with Stalin during one of their war-time meetings.

CITY DRIVERS IMPROVING—Twenty-two states reported fewer traffic deaths in January than in the same period a year ago. But the National Safety Council said this could have been improved if motorists had stayed in the cities, because an increase in rural traffic deaths canceled a 7 per cent urban improvement. The nation's traffic toll for the month was 2,900, which was no better and no worse than a year ago. Newspaper, which indicates those states reporting decreases, also spots the three largest of 368 cities reporting perfect records—Seattle, Wash.; Louisville, Ky.; and Dayton, Ohio.

Next-Door Homes Burn Separately

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho—Mrs. John Rigoulot glanced out her window at the next-door home of her brother-in-law. It was on fire. Knowing there was no one at home, she called the fire department.

Then she ran to a neighbor's to seek help. But on the way she saw that her own house was ablaze too.

Firemen said a faulty oil furnace may have caused the fire in Mrs. Rigoulot's home. They blamed either defective wiring or spontaneous combustion for the separate fire in the home of her brother-in-law William Rigoulot. Damage to both homes was listed as extensive.

Medical Panel Talk Is Held at St. Joseph

A panel discussion report of the 6th Obstetrics-Gynecology Congress held at Chicago in December was presented Tuesday night at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The panel was entitled "Current Trends in Obstetrics."

Co-sponsored by the Oakland County Medical Society and the Oakland County District Nurses Association, the program was moderated by Dr. William Green. Discussing premarital counseling were Dr. William Heitsh and Kathryn Robeson, R. N. Prenatal care was discussed by Dr. Green and Frances Jewell, R. N. Dr. Charles Sempere and Dr. James Gill talked about diabetes of pregnancy. The discussion of Erythroblastosis was handled by Dr. Green, Dr. Gill and Frances Jewell.

Thwarted Driver Burns Husband's Car, Truck

WICHITA FALLS, Tex.—A woman set fire to her husband's late-model car and pickup truck last night because, she said, he wouldn't let her drive them.

For good measure, she bashed the windshield out of the truck with a baseball bat.

Well-Fed Cats Take Rap for Thriving Rat Colony

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—An official of the City Sanitation Department blames cats for the presence of rats around the Dexter Asylum, the city's home for the homeless poor.

Dr. Edwin Knights said some asylum patients have pet cats. They feed them too well and the cats leave bits of food around, attracting rats.

The fat cats, he said, are generally fast asleep when you would expect them to be chasing the rats.

Maine is one of the nation's leading potato producers.

Boom in Lollipops Seen if Salk Polio Shots Work

HUNTINGTON, W. Va.—If an analysis of the Salk polio vaccine—used in last summer's nationwide tests—proves successful, all Cabell County schoolchildren in grades one through four will be offered the shots next month.

Tuesday, Dr. Bruce H. Pollock, city-county health officer, issued a call for lollipops to ease the anguish of the children.

As of last night, donations stood at 20,000 pieces. The candy came mostly from parent-teacher groups, which also pledged $40 for additional purchases.

Car Too Well-Tired

OMAHA—City Atty. Edward F. Fogarty said that when he found his car missing yesterday he was sure he knew the reason. He had purchased a new set of tires March 4. Sheriff's deputies found the car in a field minus wheels and tires.

Mental Study Group Proposed

A resolution to set up a joint legislative committee to study problems of the 140,000 mentally deficient persons in Michigan is slated for introduction in Lansing today by Pontiac's State Rep. Leslie H. Hudson (D).

If approved, the committee would be composed of three representatives and two senators, said Hudson.

"Need for revamping the program is illustrated by the fact there are about 14,000 persons in the state who need institutional care, but facilities are only available for 6,700," the representative stated.

"The four institutions at Lapeer, Coldwater, Mount Pleasant and Newberry have 783 persons seeking admission. Some have waited for six years."

The committee would function between legislative sessions. It would investigate points including:

Determination of those who can be trained and those who are beyond assistance.

The extent of present care and training facilities supplied by the state and local communities, plus recommending additional needed facilities.

What educational aids are provided mentally retarded youth in school systems and how these might be expanded.

To investigate and recommend training so deficient persons can be adapted as useful citizens.

To set up a clear policy for the courts in handling the financial burden of custodial care for such individuals.

How counseling service could be provided to families of mentally retarded children.

"We've got to get moving and come up with a solution to this problem which is becoming more critical every day," said Hudson.

Strike Silences Brooklyn Eagle

Publisher of Old Paper Calls It Quits as Guild Walkout Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—The publisher of the 114-year-old Brooklyn Eagle says the newspaper's presses have been "silenced forever."

Publisher Frank D. Schroth announced yesterday that the Eagle, struck last Jan. 29 by the CIO American Newspaper Guild over a wage dispute, would never publish again.

But a Guild spokesman said the union intended to maintain picket lines on the basis that the strike was still on. And a federal mediator said he would seek to set up a fresh mediation conference today.

When the 315 ANG members, editorial and business employees, went out, an equal number of employees belonging to 8 of 10 craft unions refused to cross picket lines.

Until last January the paper never missed an edition since it was established in 1841 by Isaac Van Anden.

He hired Walt Whitman as editor in 1846. In 1848, Whitman was fired for his uncompromising opposition to the extension of slavery.

The Eagle is credited with promoting many of the civic improvements undertaken in Brooklyn during the past century.

Airline Files Suit for $2 Million in Plane Collision

DETROIT (INS)—Trans World Airlines has started federal suit in Detroit seeking $2 million from sportsman and millionaire Frederick Van Lennep as a result of an air crash near Cincinnati Jan. 12 which took 15 lives.

Named as defendant was Castleton, Inc., Van Lennep's horse breeding firm which is incorporated in Kentucky with offices in Detroit.

The Castleton DC-3 collided with a TWA Skyliner two minutes after the liner took off in a drizzle for Dayton. The crash killed 10 passengers and three crewmen aboard the TWA plane and the pilot and co-pilot of the DC-3.

Van Lennep and his wife, the former Frances Dodge, heiress to the Dodge millions, were waiting for their plane in Lexington, Ky., at the time of the crash.

The TWA suit charged the crash was the result of "careless, reckless and negligent operation of the DC-3" which, it was charged, was being flown "at improper altitude and in dangerous proximity to the airport" without authorization.

Scotland Yard Solves Housing

Colorful Plans Drawn to Suit Needs of 20,000 Police in London

LONDON (AP)—Housing 20,000 members of the metropolitan police department offers a challenge to Scotland Yard. It has its own architects dealing with the problem.

Policemen work irregular hours. They need extra space in which to hang uniforms and, in London, park bicycles.

The architects have begun by designing quarters in which the main bedroom is in a quiet part of the house or apartment. They make it soundproof, if possible, to help the cop who works at night and sleeps by day.

Realizing that a policeman's work is often dull, the planners are insisting on materials to brighten up the rooms, even to the point of having bright-colored floors.

Presently 3,700 police quarters are occupied. A thousand more are under construction and still more are in the planning stage. Policemen pay a nominal rent for the quarters.

Coffee Consumption Falls as Cost Rises

WASHINGTON (INS)—Coffee consumption in the United States dropped 2.2 pounds per person last year, and the Commerce Department said today it was a case of "resistance to the high coffee prices."

Civilian use came to 14.7 pounds per capita compared with the 1953 consumption of 16.9 pounds per person.

The department did not say what liquid replaced coffee on U.S. menus but it was not tea, which increased only from .67 to .68 pounds per capita.

Average number of persons per family in the U. S. decreased from 3.77 in 1940 to 3.60 in 1950.

Many Scientific Groups Back Fluoridation of City Water Supply

5,000 Research Projects Noted

Method Is Called Safe, Effective Way to Cut Rate of Tooth Decay

"No one will argue the right of citizens to have an opportunity to vote on any matter which requires such action," says Mrs. George E. Wyman, active member of Pontiac's Parent-Teacher Association and one of the leaders in the group which is urging fluoridation of the city's municipal water supply.

"It has been traditional in America, however," she continues, "to delegate certain responsibilities requiring technical skill and professional knowledge to elected representatives of the citizens. Despite the fact that the Pontiac City Commission has voted unanimously for the fluoridation of the water supply, opponents of the plan have placed the issue on the ballot.

"Therefore the heavy responsibility involving a considerable amount of time and money is placed on civic and professional groups to provide for an adequate public information program through which all citizens will be scientifically and accurately informed.

"Every national health body in the U.S. that speaks with authority on the benefits and safety of fluoridation has adopted policies favorable to the measure.

"These groups include the American Medical Assn., the American Dental Assn., the American Public Health Assn., the American Society of Dentistry for Children, the American Assn. of Public Health Dentists, the commission on chronic illness, the State and Territorial Dental Health Directors, the National Research Council, the American Hospital Assn., the American Nurses Assn., the American Water Works Assn., the U.S. Public Health Service and many other interested national groups such as the national P.T.A.

"There has been no other public health measure which has had such exhaustive research before being recommended for public use or has had so much supportive evidence to bear out its conclusions. The heads of the Department of Preventive Medicine in almost every university in the U.S. has endorsed fluoridation as a means of preventing caries.

"No department of Preventive Medicine, the physicians, dentists, public health groups, research scientists and every group that has actually made studies on the subject has given an unqualified endorsement to the adding of one part of fluoride to a million parts of water as a safe, effective dental health measure.

"For the citizens of Pontiac to get this protection one must vote 'No' against the ordinance which will deprive our people of the benefits of this program."

Our own Dr. John D. Monroe, health officer of Pontiac, says: "There is no question in my mind about the value and safety of fluoridation of our public water supply. Over five thousand research studies have been conducted by experts in the field. These studies have shown that one part of fluoride added to a million parts of water is a harmless, painless and effective procedure that will prevent the high incidence of dental caries.

"There are thousands of people in this country who would be in better health today had they had the opportunity as children to drink from a fluoridated water supply."

The surface of Lakes Huron and Michigan is 21 to 25 feet lower than that of Lake Superior.

"J. Earl Smith, M.D., Health Commissioner, City of St. Louis, Mo., states, 'It is my considered opinion that fluoridation of water supplies is one of the truly great public health procedures of our time. The accumulated scientific evidence indicates that anti-caries effect once obtained through infancy and childhood is a permanent one and lasts throughout life.'

"The following resolution was passed by the Health League of Canada in Toronto, June 15, 1954: 'Resolved that in view of the overwhelming mass of evidence received by our committee on fluoridation from all over North America emphasizing the importance of fluoridation of communal water supplies for the prevention of caries and also of overwhelming evidence to the effect that fluoridation in approved quantities does no harm to the human organism, this association on receiving the report of its Fluoridation Committee immediately goes on record as endorsing, without qualification, the fluoridation of communal water supplies in quantities recommended by official departments of health.'

"The physicians, dentists, public health groups, research scientists and every group that has actually made studies on the subject has given an unqualified endorsement to the adding of one part of fluoride to a million parts of water as a safe, effective dental health measure."

Medicine conceded that fluoridation would not prevent caries and no department expressed an opinion that fluoridation in the proper quantities would harm the human organism.

"Here are some opinions on the subject:

"Ernest L. Stebbins, head of John Hopkins University says: 'In my opinion the value of fluoridation in the prevention of dental caries has been adequately established. There is no evidence that fluoridation of water supply as recommended for the prevention of dental caries, produces any adverse physiological or pathological effect.'

"Robert D. Wright, M.D. University of Virginia says, 'More than four million Americans drank fluoridated water for years before anyone was interested in the problem. According to the U.S. Public Health Service, those people showed no unusual mortality or morbidity.'

"No one has yet established any danger factor in the consumption of water containing sodium fluoride in a concentration of one or two parts per million. On the other hand the U.S. Public Health Service studies have demonstrated a definitely beneficial effect—decreased dental caries. When we can improve our health at such little cost and at no hazard, it seems folly not to do it."

"J. Earl Smith, M.D., Health Commissioner, City of St. Louis, Mo., states, 'It is my considered opinion that fluoridation of water supplies is one of the truly great public health procedures of our time. The accumulated scientific evidence indicates that anti-caries effect once obtained through infancy and childhood is a permanent one and lasts throughout life.'

"The following resolution was passed by the Health League of Canada in Toronto, June 15, 1954: 'Resolved that in view of the overwhelming mass of evidence received by our committee on fluoridation from all over North America emphasizing the importance of fluoridation of communal water supplies for the prevention of caries and also of overwhelming evidence to the effect that fluoridation in approved quantities does no harm to the human organism, this association on receiving the report of its Fluoridation Committee immediately goes on record as endorsing, without qualification, the fluoridation of communal water supplies in quantities recommended by official departments of health.'

"The physicians, dentists, public health groups, research scientists and every group that has actually made studies on the subject has given an unqualified endorsement to the adding of one part of fluoride to a million parts of water as a safe, effective dental health measure."

Judge Moore Slated to Address Lawyers

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore will talk on important procedures in probate practice Monday at a meeting of lawyers from 14 counties sponsored by the Saginaw County Bar Assn.

Moore's address will open the session at 2 p.m. in the Bancroft Hotel, Saginaw.

Presiding Circuit Judge Ira W. Jayne, of Detroit, will conduct a speakers will be State Bar President Henry L. Woolfenden, of Detroit, and Circuit Judge Eugene F. Black, of Port Huron.

State Police Chief Urges Uniform 60 MPH Limit

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A uniform speed limit of 60 miles an hour on Michigan highways was urged yesterday by State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs before the Michigan highway conference here.

Opposing this, Harold G. Bauerle, of the planning and traffic staff of the state highway department, said it would slow traffic movement.

Childs claimed a uniform speed limit would mean better traffic law enforcement. Bauerle said only danger zones should be posted with speed limits.

Vote to Alter By-Laws Slated by Red Cross

Oakland County Chapter of American Red Cross will vote on proposed revisions in the chapter by-laws at the annual dinner-meeting May 25 at Devon Gables.

The meeting is open to the public and all persons interested in Red Cross are invited to attend.

Mrs. Alfred T. Barnes of Royal Oak, revisions committee chairman, says that the proposal is the first major change since the adoption of the by-laws in 1942. Amendments were made in 1945 and 1950.

If the new laws are adopted board membership will be not less than 35 and not more than 45. Chapter officers and 15-member executive committee will be elected from among board members.

Models for dies which are used in making machinery often are made of mahogany.

Senate Again Beats Bill to Aid Slayers

LANSING (AP)—For the second time, the Senate has defeated legislation to free first-degree murderers after they have served 17 years in prison.

They now serve mandatory life sentences unless the governor commutes their sentences or pardons them.

The measure, defeated 16-15 a few days ago, was suddenly taken from the table yesterday and defeated again 17-15. Eighteen votes are needed to pass.

Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing), the sponsor, obviously thought he had the votes when he took the bill off the table for its second run. But Sen. Don Vander Werp (R-Fremont), who beat it the first time, gave it the second and final death blow.

No Reason to Hurry

MANCHESTER, Conn. (UP)—State police arrested Joseph Curtin Jr., of Hartford, on a speeding charge. Curtin was accused of doing 70 in a 50-mile-an-hour zone. He was driving a hearse.

Bell to Honor Employee for Rescuing Child, 3

DETROIT (AP)—Robert E. Berkey, a Mount Clemens telephone repairman, was to receive the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.'s Vail Medal today for saving a 3-year-old boy from drowning.

William M. Day, Michigan Bell president and general manager, was to present the medal and a $100 check to Berkey at a luncheon in the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. building. The medal is emblematic of distinguished service in the industry.

Invited to the luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Cook of Detroit, whose son, Donnie, was rescued by Berkey after he tumbled into the Detroit River. Berkey pulled the youngster from the river and then revived him.

Michigan Weathermen to Flash Tornado Warnings

DETROIT (UP) — Weather bureau throughout Michigan will give advance tornado warnings possible throughout the coming tornado "season," W. W. Oak, head of the Detroit bureau, said today.

"All weather stations have been ordered to issue warnings to newspapers, radio and television stations and to news wire services whenever conditions exist in which a tornado might be spawned," the weatherman said.

He said that about this time of year Michigan residents start "shaking in their boots" and jamming the weather bureau switchboard for information when the day is warm and a thunder cloud moves across the sun.

Although past experience has caused the Michigan public to have a "bad psychological reaction" to dark clouds, Oak said that "99.9 per cent" of such fears are unfounded.

There are indelible memories of past tornadoes in the state. On June 8 just two years ago a twister leveled dozens of new homes and took 118 lives just north of Flint. A month earlier a twister hit Swartz Creek, wrecking homes and farm buildings, and then skipped to Port Huron, where it leveled several homes on the south side of that city before touching ground again at Sarnia, Ont.

Most tornadoes in Michigan come from the southwest, and high winds and turbulence often give enough advance warning for persons to seek shelter. The tornado "season" in Michigan runs anytime from March through September.

"The basic rule to remember, if you think a tornado is going to hit your area, is to open all the windows and doors in the house," Oak warned.

"It's the high pressure inside the house being drawn to the low pressure that accompanies all tornadoes that causes a house to explode," he said.

The weatherman advised persons learning of a tornado's path or seeing it coming to seek shelter in the southwest corner of a building—preferably in the basement. Debris picked up by the twisters is usually carried from the southwest to the northeast.

"If you happen to be in a large building, it is wise not to congregate in auditoriums or gym-

Sharp Rise Noted in Diseases Here

Sharp rises in the number of new cases of measles, mumps and scarlet fever were reported for last week by the Pontiac and Oakland County health departments.

Breakdown of the reports, issued today by Dr. John D. Monroe, health director for both agencies, follows:

Pontiac
	Past Week	Prev. Week	Year Ago
Chicken pox	24	18	9
Measles	8	1	4
Mumps	6	4	8
Pneumonia	2	1	0
Scarlet fever	10	6	1
Tuberculosis	0	2	2
Whooping cough	1	0	1

Oakland County
	Past Week	Prev. Week	Year Ago
Chicken pox	215	311	95
Measles	47	35	218
Scarlet fever	50	18	58
Tuberculosis	4	2	4
Whooping cough	6	3	14
Mumps	188	144	82
Impetigo	3	4	1
Rubella	1	6	1

nadoes where the roof may fall in," Oak said.

Tornadoes are usually produced in the spring when moist, warm air pushes up from the Gulf of Mexico and collides with cold, dry air masses moving down from the polar regions.

In Michigan, such twisters usually bear winds moving in a spiraling motion at speeds up to 500 miles an hour. The funnel moves forward at about 15 to 40 miles an hour.

"If you suspect that a tornado may hit your area, just try your best not to become a victim of panic," Oak advised.

"Get into the safest place possible and resist the temptation to call the weather bureau. Your best source of information is your newspapers, radio and TV stations."

High Price for Lying

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UP) — Philip Santamaria, 31, brought into court for driving without a license, said it wasn't his third offense, as police claimed, but only the second. Judge Luigi DePasquale told officers to check the record and said to Santamaria: "If it is the third time, I'll send you to jail for telling me differently." It was, and he did—for 10 days.

58,000 Families Aided

BERLIN (UP) — Assistance under President Eisenhower's flood aid program has been given to more than 58,000 East German families, a Red Cross official said.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR JUNIOR EDITORS

MR. SQUIRREL GOES MARKETING

Mr. Squirrel has been out in his own market—the forest—to get some food. He has found many tasty acorns, filled his little basket with them, and now has hurried home to his tree apartment house. When he opens the door, there is Mrs. Squirrel waiting for him so she can start cooking the dinner.

You can color the squirrels dark brown, if you wish. Paste the picture on stiff paper, brown-colored if you can, and then cut out both parts carefully along the outside dark lines. Also cut around the three sides of the door along the dark lines and fold it forward along the dotted line.

Paste Mrs. Squirrel behind the open door so she will be all ready to greet her husband when you open the door. To hang up the picture, punch holes in the two upper corners and pull a string through them. Tomorrow: Tommy has a visitor.

LOST 22 POUNDS Flint Lady Praises Rennel

"About a year ago I went to my doctor for an examination. I thought I had a tumor. The doctor informed me that it was just plain fat and asked me to take off 35 lbs. My niece advised me to try Rennel Concentrate since it had done so much for her," writes Mrs. Lily Couture, 911 Waldman Ave. "I am proud to report that I have already lost 22 pounds. I am so pleased with the results Rennel is giving me. It is mild, yet so effective. If this letter will help some one else solve a weight handicap and lead to better health then I shall be happy for having written it."

Results like these are pleasing and necessary to both men and women. Make Rennel work for you. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Priced at $1.00. Insist on and be sure to get Rennel.

U. N. Truce Chief Ready to Blame Israel for Battle

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Palestine truce chief was reported today to place full blame today on Israel for the recent Gaza battle in which 38 Egyptians and eight Israelis were killed. Informed sources said the head of the truce supervisory organization, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, also would call on the U. N. to strengthen his group's machinery for its watch on the tense Arab-Israeli borders.

Burns was scheduled to give his personal report on the Gaza incident and his recommendations at a meeting late today of the 11-nation Security Council. The general arrived in New York

Tuesday after making a personal investigation of the Feb. 28 clash at Gaza, on the Egyptian-Israeli frontier. He brought with him a resolution adopted by the Egyptian-Israeli Mixed Armistice Commission holding Israel responsible.

Top Western diplomats also have been working on a resolution which reportedly would condemn Israel and call for stronger border patrolling.

Israeli Delegate Abba Eban was prepared to deny the accusations against his country and to counter with a charge that Egypt started the clash by sending a military unit across the border.

Says Psychologists Forgetting People

NEW YORK, N. Y. (UP)—Henry T. Moore, president of Skidmore College, is afraid psychologists have forgotten about people. Moore, in a speech here, said social scientists are trying too hard to be scientific, and have found it "easy to substitute graphs and statistics for individual human beings."

Instead of worrying about people, he said, they worry about condition reflexes, animal behavior, and intelligence quotients. They threaten "to take the psyche out of psychology."

Moore, who once edited the Journal of Abnormal and Social Psychology, said that "the very idea of personal responsibility has been put through some severe strains in our time."

"Mass production in business and mass slaughter in war have accustomed us to counting people in large numbers," he added, charging that psychologists are falling into the same bad habit.

To Auction Ore Lands

Rhee Is Eager to Attack as Soon as U.S. Lifts Ban

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee today said "the sooner the better" in commenting on Secretary of State Dulles' statement that the United States might lift the ban preventing South Korea and Nationalist China from attacking the Reds.

"When we were ready to attack and go north, we were stopped," Rhee said. "Difficulties, humiliating retreats and suffering were the result."

"The sooner we are able to attack, the better for Korea, Nationalist China, the United States and the rest of the free world."

Number of horses on U.S. farms was reduced from about 25 million in 1910 to only about 5.5 million in 1953.

Old Prof Not Tardy, Judge Sorry to See

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite admitted he was disappointed when Laurence H. Eldredge appeared right at the appointed time in court.

During a recess, the judge explained that Eldredge had been his first professor at the University of Pennsylvania law school. On opening day, Judge Satterthwaite recalled, his train was late and he came in 30 minutes after class started.

"And you," the judge reminded Eldredge, "stopped your lecture and dressed me down something awful. You said a lawyer had to learn to be on time. Yes, you gave me quite a ride."

And, continued Judge Satterthwaite, "when I heard you were coming here today, I was waiting to see what time you came in. If you had been late . . ."

Northern Irish Premier Hits at Outlawed Army

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Prime Minister Lord Brookeborough of Northern Ireland said on this St. Patrick's Day that Ulstermen would never be frightened by terrorism into meeting "unjustifiable political demands."

Without mentioning it directly by name, Brookeborough lashed out at the outlawed Irish Republic Army, which preaches the use of force to unite the six northern counties with the independent Irish Republic. The six counties are part of the British United Kingdom.

250 Gallons of Fuel Oil 'Spilled' Into Playroom

CICAGO (AP)—The order read: "Fill 'er up" at 6211 N. Bernard St., the home of the Norman Bernmans. Albert Berg, fuel deliveryman, removed the outside cap for the oil storage tank and delivered 250 gallons of fuel oil. He knew the place; he had delivered oil there before. It was just routine.

He realized he was at the Joseph Slonim home, a block away, at 6111 N. Bernard St., too late to prevent damage to a basement playroom.

The Slonims recently converted to gas heat and had removed their storage tank but left undisturbed the outside hose connection.

State Man Tells of Ordeal in Pacific, Drifting Three Days on Leaky Raft

IRON MOUNTAIN (U) — Ever wonder what it would be like to ditch an airplane over shark-infested waters and drift aimlessly for three days with your finger plugging a hole in a leaky raft? William C. Pavey, 32, of Iron Mountain was a crew member aboard a twin-engine Navy amphibian plane which was forced down Jan. 19 in the central Pacific. In a recent letter home to his parents, Pavey gave a startling account of his ordeal. He wrote, in part:

"One of our engines cut out and the crew began throwing out all heavy equipment to lighten the load. We still were forced to jettison 200 gallons of gas out of the left wing tank and later 200 gallons from the right tank.

"Later, the good engine began to beat up, and with gas still pouring out we decided to ditch. After a safe landing, we all got into one raft and put two miles between us and the plane quick as gas was still draining from the tanks. "Within the first hour five of us were violently seasick, including myself. Later we inflated a balloon with hydrogen and connected it to the radio antenna and then began to send out distress signals on our 'Gibson Girl' emergency portable transmitter. We cranked until dark.

"Shortly after dark, we heard a bubbling noise and found a leak in the raft. We began the ordeal of keeping our fingers pushed into the hole to keep the air in and prevent the leak from enlarging. Three of us took turns for about 45-minute shifts each. "As time passed, the hole enlarged and we had to use two fingers to fill the gap.

"During the second day we spotted a plane about 10 miles northeast, but we were unable to attract its attention. Two hours later another plane came out of a cloud right over us, but this plane, too, continued without noticing us.

"Then a collection of sharks began swimming around the raft. They became vicious when they got the scent of blood. Knowing this, we kept our hands out of the water if they had any cuts or bruises. The sharks would continually ram the bottom of the raft with their dorsal fins, or noses.

"We rode out the second night pretty well done in with exhaustion and exposure. The following day we inflated the remaining balloons, sent it aloft and began grinding out distress signals once more.

"At about 11:30 a.m. the third day, I spotted this Navy Privateer plane sent out to search for us. I let out a warwhoop and we sent

Attorney Nominated as AEC Member

WASHINGTON (U) — President Eisenhower has nominated Allen Whitefield, a Des Moines attorney, to be a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. Whitefield, a Republican, would serve out the term of former Commissioner Joseph Campbell, expiring next June 30. Campbell, who resigned, has been nominated to be comptroller general.

Whitefield, 51, is a native of Ruthven, Iowa. He is an army veteran of World War II and is trustee of Ames College and Simpson College, both in Iowa.

The President also nominated Ellis O. Briggs, now ambassador to the Republic of Korea, to be ambassador to Peru. He will succeed Harold Tittman Jr., who is returning to this country for re-assignment.

Briggs' legal residence is in Topsham, Maine.

To succeed Briggs in Korea, the President nominated William S. B. Lacy of Leesburg, Va., who has been deputy chief of mission in Manila since 1952. Prior to that Lacy was director of the office of Philippine and Southeast Asian affairs in the State Department.

Blind Man Unworried at Prospect of Prison

ADEN (U) — A blind man, Mohamed Abdillahi was convicted for the murder of his two brothers-in-law.

"If the court sentences me to prison, I don't care, because I am already a prisoner," he said. "God put me in prison by making me blind."

Candy in Drug Stores Isn't New Fad at All

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — Some adults still long for the "good old days" when the corner drug store sold only medications—not ice cream, candy and other toothsome concoctions. But the pharmacists' entry to the confectionery field dates back much farther than most people realize, according to researchers of the Arner Co., pharmaceutical manufacturers. As far back as the 16th Century, for example, Paris laws gave pharmacists a monopoly on the sale of gingerbreads. At the same time, other European druggists were mixing honey and sugar confections as well as pills.

2-Way Stretch Thief

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (U) — Detectives said the thief who broke into a downtown store was either (1) a man on the prowl for a gift for his girl friend, (2) a fat man or (3) a woman. The loot consisted of two corsets.

Irish Diplomat Presents Ike With Shamrocks

WASHINGTON (U) — A cut glass bowl of shamrocks tied with a gold, green and white ribbon was given to President Eisenhower today by Joseph D. Brennan, counselor of the Irish Embassy. The President told Brennan, as he posed for cameramen receiving the shamrocks, that he would let them remain all day on his desk today, St. Patrick's Day.

Brennan said the shamrocks were flown here from Waterford Island and that the cut glass bowl also came from that town. He also commented that Waterford is the home town of ambassador of Ireland to the United States, John J. Hearne.

Candy Man Retires

TAYLOR, Tex. (U) — "Candy" Jim Athas has retired after 36 years of selling candy, soda water and popcorn. He enjoyed local fame for his "sauerkraut candy," a form of caramel and coconut.

Handled Like Eggs

IRVING, Tex. (U) — When fire broke out at the Johnson Poultry Co., workmen carted out 800 dozen eggs and didn't scramble a one.

Hal Boyle Says:

All Irishmen Descended From Kings

NEW YORK (U)—Every Irishman feels like a king on St. Patrick's Day.

And if he acts like a king today—well, he is entitled to. He is descended from kings. Every Irishman is.

This causes the Irish more trouble than almost anything. They know they come from kings. But when they point this out, not boastful mind you but as a matter of historical truth, what happens? If the scene is a bar, some surly taproom serf is sure to express doubt or jeer. "So who cares?"

Now is this a way to talk to royalty? The poor Irishman, reduced to verbal frustration by this slight on his ancestry, has been known to resort to fistful eloquence: Bam! Bam! Bam! Bam! Bam! Bam!

Naturally no one is ever going to argue with an Irishman on St. Patrick's day even if he claims he's Emperor of Timbaktu—and he may, if he feels like. For there are some 25 million Americans of Irish descent, and on this day most of them feel like they're playing football for Notre Dame.

Personally, you don't have to take my word for it that I'm descended from a king. I can prove it. I've got a green card that says so.

So have a number of my royal Irish distant kinsmen. Like Cousin Joe McCarthy, the senator from Wisconsin; Cousin Jack Dempsey, the former heavyweight boxing king; and Cousin Jim Farley, who now sells soft drinks but used to sell the nation's stamps when the Democrats ran the White House.

Yes, we all can prove the pure green of Erin's mystic kings flows in our veins, thanks to research work by an Irish sportsman, the Hon. Francis de Moleyns.

(Editor's note: This guy's an Irishman?)

(Boyle's note: Yep. His folks used to spell it Mullins. But once, while they were in the Irish Sea, they got lost in a fog that blew over from London. By mistake they landed in France. When the fog finally lifted again, some 400 years ago, they sailed right back to County Kerry. Naturally during their long stay in France they had forgotten how to spell, and they've been De Moleyns ever since.)

Anyway, perhaps because of the disaster to his own name, De Moleyns became interested in Irish history. He backtracked some 1,700 well known Irish names.

As the Irish in Ireland are already where they came from, they don't offer much of a market for this information. But for the American Irish, De Moleyns has opened a shop off Park avenue where for from $5 to $12.50 they can buy a necktie or scarf emblazoned with their family crest and get a green card that bears some of the more printable facts about their heredity.

Well, sir, I forked out my fiver for the tie and card. And guess who I am? It seems there was once upon a time an Irishman called Niall Mor, who as practically everybody knows was the 126th monarch of Ireland, and ancestor of Chief O'Boaghill.

This is Gaelic for O'Boghill, which I gather means we sprang from a high place in a swamp. The English, who came to Ireland for a brief visit and stayed on for several centuries, lured my innocent ancestors into changing the name from O'Boaghill to Boghill, then Boylough and then Boyle.

My free-wheeling clansmen once ran the Barony of Boylough, but somebody sure must have foreclosed a lot of mortgages on them. For Grandfather Boyle, who emigrated here in the last century, spent most of his life digging coal in a Missouri pit he never owned.

Surely you're aching to know about my family crest? Well, it is a red heart, a cross and a battle axe triumphant over what looks like a fallen barber pole.

"Does this mean that somewhere along the line we quelled a barber single-handed?" I asked the lady in the shop.

"Oh, no," she said, "the red and white stripes simply are the colors of a lady fair, which one of your ancestors wore in knightly combat. He had the crest fixed on his helmet so that in battle the other warriors could say, 'There goes Boyle!'"

(Editor's note: Which way was he going—forward or backward?) (Boyle's note: Forward, of course. This was my ancestor—not yours.)

Jim Farley's crest is the head of an antelope with an arrow through its neck. (My, how history does repeat itself.) The crest of Jack Dempsey is a rampant lion swinging a short powerful sword. Sen. McCarthy's crest shows a big hand squeezing a groggy lizard. The reptile is green, not red.

When I proudly showed my crest and green card pedigree to my wife, Francis, she merely said:

"Listen Rover,—or Royal O'Boghill or Son of Swampcliff, or whatever you call yourself, you still have to carry the kitchen garbage out to the incinerator, and I mean right now."

There is one place in America where it is simply impossible for an Irishman to really feel like the descendant of kings. This is the place called—home.

Recall 77 Years of Married Life

Ithaca Husband, 96, and Wife, 95, Tell Formula for Happy Teamwork

ITHACA (U)—Combine work, "a few fights," a lot of love, and 77 years of marriage don't seem too hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Elson I. Brodebeck have found that formula worked for them. It's made them possibly the longest-married couple in Michigan as well as in the nation.

Brodebeck, now 96, and his gentle wife, 95, even now recall the details of their wedding, on a sunny spring day in 1878.

He had been courting her for three years, ever since the 14-year-old Lois Peet moved to Gratiot County from Ohio with her family in a group that made the trip in covered wagons.

Wilson traveled often to the Peet farm seven miles east of Ithaca. Because no road had been cut through, he drove a horse as far as possible and walked the rest of the way.

On their wedding day the pair walked a mile, leaving from dry spot to dry spot, from her house to the nearest road where his horse and buggy waited to carry them to the Methodist Church in Ithaca.

Although Brodebeck's sight and hearing are failing now, he recalls:

"She wore her everyday shoes and was careful to keep her skirts clean. I carried her good shoes and helped her along."

Since then, 924 months—more than 4,600 weeks or 28,000 days together—have spanned plenty of hard work for the Brodebecks.

Their married life began on a Lafayette Township farm for which they cleared the land. In 1911 they moved to their present home, a 32-acre farm east of Ithaca now operated by a grandson, Jerry.

In President Cleveland's time a depression forced them to start over on 26 acres owned by Mrs. Brodebeck's family. For four winters they labored in lumber camps with their team to make ends meet, farming during the summer.

"Mama cooked for 62 men," Brodebeck says. "Me and the team and Mama got $11 a month each."

You Never Had It as Good as These Pampered Rats

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (U)—Pampered rats are an industry in Springfield. Their handlers speak softly and decorously to them. Their food is sterile. Their air is rigorously policed for hostile organisms. Temperature and humidity are kept at constant levels. Antiseptic rats, produced by John M. Rolfsmeier, are used as living test tubes by scientists.

"A rat in three weeks completes the cycle which takes a human an entire year," Rolfsmeier says. "Their reaction to many foods and drugs are similar to those in man."

Visitors to Rolfsmeier's rat ranch doff their coats and dip their shoes in antiseptic water before entering. These measures will be tightened after he enlarges the building to increase his 1,000-rat herd 15-fold. Then workers will bathe and don sterilized clothing before entering.

Attendants speak softly to the colony rats because a loud or raspy voice might excite rats into killing their young.

A human eye blink takes from 1/10 to 1/4 of a second.

Early Madonna, Child Is All Irish

NEW YORK (INS)—Pat O'Brien, on his last trip to Ireland, ran across an early Madonna and Child by an unknown Irish painter. As is the custom through many lands, the painter envisioned Mary as one of his own. In his portrait of her, she's Irish through and through, and so is the child.

Pat copied down the legend under the painting, and it is Irish too. It read:

I am the Mother of God
This is Himself I am holding —the lad you will all be asking for at the end.

Having a TV or comic book or movie problem, with the kids? Then a 25 cent pamphlet put out by the Public Affairs Committee, 22 E. 38th Street, N.Y.C., a non-profit organization, might help. The writer is Josette Frank, educational associate on the staff of the Child Study Association of America. In the course of much other interesting material she suggests nine steps by which parents can help meet the problems created by these media:

(1)—Try to understand the interests and needs of your children; (2) Know what your children are reading, seeing, hearing. See and hear with them their preferred programs and chosen films. Invite them to share some of your own choices and others you think they will enjoy; (3) Discuss their programs, comics, movies with them, without censure or condemnation, and thus help them develop critical judgment.

Also, (4) respect their rights and feelings. Don't arbitrarily tear up a comic they are reading, interrupt a program, or drag them out of a movie in the middle. They will accept the forbidding of undesirable ones more

Mixed Up Salesman Has Poor Luck in New York

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP)—Stamp clerk William Ryan in the post-office said a salesman "really looked crushed" after asking for help in finding an address.

"I don't think you'll find this in the Syracuse phone book," Ryan told the salesman. "It's in Utica."

"Good heavens! Isn't this Utica?" Ryan replied.

"I've lived here for 35 years."

The man was so unhappy at the news that he practically crawled away from the window, said Ryan, who realized afterward that he was due for an even greater shock.

He was looking for the Utica Knitting Mills, and that plant is no longer in Utica. It was moved to the South.

The defense department buys about 24 million pounds of salt a year for consumption by the army and the air force.

readily if you are also considerate; (5) Say a firm "No" to certain comics, programs, or movies that seem to upset them. Sit with a child through some exciting programs he seems to want.

And (6) help them budget their time for the things that must be done, allowing for their favorite entertainments within reason; (7) If comics, movies, radio or TV absorb a child to the exclusion of other interests and activities, talk over with him and work out together a sensible plan for cutting down or selecting more wisely.

(8) See that they have other interests, friendships, hobbies, responsibilities, varied experiences, and help them discover how to use the library; (9) Take part in your community's efforts to safeguard children from vicious horror and crime comics, programs, and movies.

Dr. W. Kenneth Davis, of the Atomic Energy Commission, on the birth of controlled atomic energy at the University of Chicago:

"Shortly after 10 a.m. (Dec. 2, 1942) the late Enrico Fermi, an Italian, ordered the emergency rod pulled. Dr. W. Zinn, a Canadian by birth, pulled out the rod. George Weil, an American, started withdrawing the regulating rod. Associated with Dr. Fermi in this experiment were the Hungarians Saliard and Wigner, and the Canadians Christie, Freeman and Siotis. The Russian Gregory Breit and the German James Frank also contributed much to the success of the venture together with a score of others both from this country and abroad.

"Behind this achievement there was Hahn and Strassman of Germany with their discovery of fission, Neils Bohr of Denmark with his work on the structure of the atom, Einstein of Germany, Cockcroft of England, the Curies of England and Poland—even back to Democritus in Greece."

All of which noble thoughts on the brotherhood of science lead to a startling handout just received from the Malayan Tin Bureau. The first sentence reads:

"How would the tin can and its contents fare in atomic warfare?" In case this puzzle worries you, the answer will be known sometime next month when 25,000 cans of things, including beans, will be exposed to a blast at Yucca Flat, Nev.

Panel Discusses Discipline and Guidance at Webster

"Perry," a perky little parakeet donated to Pontiac State Hospital, today is helping unbelievably in brightening the lives of patients there. In fact, the little budgie has been so helpful in getting patients interested in living that he has been joined by five other parakeets, procured for the hospital by Harry E. Smithson of "We the Handicapped, Inc.," of Detroit. Pictured above are, from left, Richard Arthaud of the hospital's Social Service Department, Mrs. Ben Pearson, ward supervisor, of Devonshire road, and seated, a patient, holding "Perry."

'Mr. Barry's Etchings' Scores a Hit

By CORENNA MORTON
When the curtain opened on the Pontiac High spring play Tuesday evening, it revealed a colorful and beautifully-constructed set, predicting the gaiety to come. In the setting of a deep brown and tangerine art studio, complete with fireplace and skylight, "Mr. Barry's Etchings" proved to be an evening of fun. Presented by the Speech Department, the play was under the direction of Mary Parish.

At home in the role of Judson Barry, Burton Belant portrayed a carefree artist whose hobby of etching plates of $50 bills soon led him into trouble. The perfect copies, except for a smile on Grant's face, were discovered by a counterfeit ring.

Ringleaders were "Fifty" Ferris, a beautiful, hip-swiveling moll played to the hilt by Marlene Crocker, and her sidekick, "Sawbuck" Sam (Don North).

When Barry decided to give the phony bills to town charities, including electing the mayor, things really broke loose. Ken Lenigan played Mayor Sam Jordan.

A straight-faced walk and comical expressions did justice to Carolyn Hawn's role of the likeable old bat, Carrie Stanwick.

Her main goal was to save the town from the clutches of the undertaker and his wife, Mrs. Griswold. For this part, Elaine Miller produced a convincing characterization with an excellent make-up job, a cackling voice and a death-bent stance.

Mrs. Taylor, Barry's nagging but well-meaning sister was the role taken by Esther Diem, a familiar name to PHS playgoers.

A triangle developed in the romance of Barry's niece (Leah Mae MacNutt) and her banker boyfriend (Don Hegeman) when a secret service man, played by Jim North, came to investigate the counterfeit money.

Rosalie Richards added even more humor with her Brooklyn accent for the role of reporter, Daisy.

A prison sentence was in view when the neighbor boy who started it all (Darryl Mahan) came to bid Barry farewell. However, things worked out for all concerned when a pink-spatted movie producer (Dick Hartman) saved the day.

With the help of a good back stage crew, the entire production went smoothly down to the smallest detail. Leaves were even removed from the tree outside the window as the season moved from September to November.

A double cast was used for the show, and the second group of performers will be seen tonight. The first cast will appear again tomorrow night.

Five Local Authorities Give Views

Election Is Held at PTA Meeting Wednesday

New president of Webster PTA is Mrs. Thomas Hollis. Election was held Wednesday evening.

Other officers elected were Robinson Broncoel, Mrs. Alger Conner and Arthur Bell, vice presidents; Mrs. Donald Bos, recording secretary; Mrs. Allen Hawke, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Robert Tricker, treasurer.

Mrs. James Rosenthal is historian and Mrs. Paul Gorman, parliamentarian. Council delegates are Mrs. Irving Gordon, Mrs. William Wright and Ralph Dawe.

Funds were voted for the purchase of books for the school library. Money has been contributed to the education of the community relative to the fluoridation of city water.

A panel discussion on discipline and guidance was held, moderated by Dr. Arnold Meier of Wayne University.

Serving on the panel were Dr. Jerome Fink, Rabbi Sanford Saperstein, Dr. Edith Snyder, Arthur Bell, Mrs. Fern Ferris and Mrs. Florence Cleary of Wayne University.

Dr. Meier drew a comparison of methods of discipline between 1890, 1920, 1950 and 1955.

He said that the important thing is not the methods used, but the fact that the parent is concerned with the behavior of his child and that he is trying to build a better citizen.

Dr. Fink pointed out some of the dangers of delayed discipline. He also said that a child can understand a situation where a parent inflicts physical punishment in a moment of anger.

It was generally agreed that discipline is a serious problem in most families. Discipline is not a matter of authority. True discipline is something which comes from within as a result of an understanding of the proper sense of moral and spiritual values. Physical punishment is necessary sometimes, panel members agreed.

Serving during the social hour were Mrs. Howard Powers, Mrs. Thomas Hollis and Mrs. Alger Conner.

Dr. Sam Chafets Talks to PTA

Dr. Sam Chafets spoke on fluoridation of city water at a recent meeting of Wilson School PTA. New officers were elected.

Mrs. Burtis Crowe is president; Mrs. Raymond Ellsworth, vice president and Mr. Ellsworth, father vice president.

Mrs. David Schese is teacher vice president, Mrs. John Potter, secretary and Mrs. Wallace Lacy, treasurer.

Club Entertained by Mrs. Sapelak
Mrs. Steve Sapelak entertained members of the Lucky 13 Club recently in her Westbrook avenue home. A gift and appropriately decorated cake were presented to the hostess on the occasion of her birthday.

Mission Bells Hear Mrs. J. C. Covert

The Mission Bells of St. John Lutheran Church met Tuesday evening in the church parlors. Devotions were given by Mrs. Helen Dove. Mrs. J. C. Covert was guest speaker, and hostesses were Mrs.

Herman Holmquist and Mrs. Gene Erickson. Guests of the group were Mrs. Fred Larson, Mrs. John Robinson and Mrs. Charles Huttala.

Dr. Housman to Address Society

Conference Begins
Thursday

Waterford Township Parents' Group is producing the play "Random Target" at the 18th annual conference of the Michigan Society for Mental Health Friday at Hotel Sheraton Cadillac.

Produced by the Donelson School PTA and directed by Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, the play describes a young "bully" and what his parents found out about him and themselves.

The production will be the main item at the evening meeting of the conference open without charge to the public. General discussion by the audience is scheduled after the performance.

Earlier in the conference Dr. Harold Housman, chief psychologist at the Pontiac State Hospital will address the Thursday morning session. His topic is "Some Observations about Menopausal Depression in Women."

Birmingham Community House has been chosen as setting for a spring sale sponsored by the North Suburban Chapter of Alpha Phi Alumnae. Proceeds from the April 2 affair will benefit the National Cardiac Aid Foundation and a new local organization of Disabled Children of Oakland County. Checking merchandise for the sale are (left to right) Mrs. Hugh T. Barber, Mrs. Don R. Borgeason and Mrs. Robert J. Coughlin Jr., all of Birmingham.

Sophie Williams, Mrs. Watson Are Honored

Indianwood Country Club was the setting Tuesday evening for a dinner honoring Sophie Williams and Mrs. Connie Watson.

Sophie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Williams of Cherokee road, will become the bride of Nick G. Thomas on April 24.

Mrs. Watson, who resides on South Squirrel road, will be leaving soon for a six month tour of Europe.

Guests who gathered to honor the two women were Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Watson's daughter, Mrs. Harry Johnson. Others were Mrs. Clinton Dishrow, Mrs. Arthur Jeffers, Mrs. Clayton Gildes, Marjorie Richards, Mrs. Fred Schultz, Rosemarie Johnson and Mrs. Ervin Richards.

Still others were Mrs. Donna Hudson, Mrs. Michael Lynch, Mrs. H. C. Brooks, Shirley Pantel, Mrs. John Mitchell, Mrs. Keith Colling, Mrs. Claire Campbell and Mrs. Al Pirtle.

Fellowship Class Has Dinner Meeting

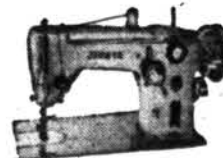

Mrs. T. N. Slosson was chairman for the dinner committee when Fellowship Bible Class of First Baptist Church met Tuesday evening at the church.

On the program were devotions by Mrs. Murray Deighton and musical selections by Mrs. Slosson and Mrs. Alvin Goodwin. Enno Prince is a new teacher for the class.

McBride Subs for Etiquette Authority on Subject of TV at Visiting Time

Doesn't Like Program Interference by Friends Who Didn't Phone First

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

"Won't you please say something in your column about people who persist in leaving their television sets on when they have company?" begs a Los Angeles reader. "I'm at the point where if I've got to look at television I'd rather stay home and pick my own program."

"My husband and I have traveled as much as 300 miles to see friends and talk over old times, and have had to go home disappointed because the TV set wasn't turned off any of the time we were there."

"The parents were absolute putty in their children's hands and let the brain keep the machine going night and day. You couldn't even hear yourself think above the never-ending din."

"I do believe one could leave a typical television home and never be missed until hours later."

I really should give Mrs. Johnson's letter to the etiquette authority to answer but since I've suffered, too, in this way, I'm going to have my say first, to wit: I agree that it is the height of bad manners to force unwilling guests to watch television when they have come for a social call, but I'm bound to add that the visitor also has an obligation. If he arrives unannounced, then he only gets what he deserves.

This is a very personal decision. I have a few radio and television programs that I particularly enjoy. I've let my friends know that I want to reserve these times. So if anybody I know well telephones, I feel justified in saying, "My favorite program's just going on. Will you call back?"

If he asks permission to call, I fix an hour that doesn't interfere with my listening or looking. And if some brave soul takes a chance and comes cold, I think I have the right to say, "Will you join me, or would you rather wait in the other room until this is over?"

To barge in without warning on the evening Father has all week been planning to devote to the fights is inconsiderate. Common courtesy should make the prospective visitor telephone in advance to find out if his coming will be welcome.

But forewarning doesn't always serve, either. "They know darned well I glue myself to the television set Thursday night," a friend fumes about some neighbors, "and yet invariably that's the night they decide to drop in for a chat. They'd hate me if I started returning their visits on Sunday, which is their pet TV day."

All the same, I must repeat that if Mrs. Johnson and her husband check in advance about the convenience of their visit, and then have to compete with television, they are encountering atrocious manners. And if they travel 300 miles on invitation to see friends and end up seeing Hopalong Cassidy, they have a right to be annoyed.

Family Man Surprised Looting Coin Machine

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP) — A burglar fired at by a night watchman while he was looting a coin machine in a garage shouted:

"Don't shoot. I'm married and have two kids."

Watchman James Goodwin, 72, said the man surrendered but broke away and escaped while he was taking him to a telephone to call police.

Bird Snubs Fire Laws in Picking Site for Nest

BELMONT, N. H. (UP) — Authorities here are looking for a bird that disregarded fire laws and failed to obtain a building permit. The bird built a nest on top of a street lamp and the twigs kindled after the power was turned on.

Robert Leroux, an off-duty fireman, was first to spot the smoke. He knew flames might damage wires, but he didn't have a ladder handy. Leroux called his station and an alarm was sounded. However, before apparatus arrived, a neighbor came out with a ladder and the blaze was extinguished. The bird fled.

It's usually the people who don't know whether they are coming or going who are in the biggest hurry to get there.

Be Correct Over Phone, Identify Self

Don't Ask Person You Call "Hello, Who Is This?"

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "Often when I answer the telephone the person on the other end will say, 'Hello, who is this?' It infuriates me and, furthermore, I do not like giving my name until I have some idea who is at the other end. Please, Mrs. Post, won't you instruct people on the correct way to answer the telephone?"

Answer: I agree that one who is not sure of your voice should ask, "Is that you, Mrs. Smith?" or "Is that you, Mary?" Someone calling another member of the family should say, "This is Betty Green, may I talk to Sally?"

On business matters, the person calling should explain: "Miss Jones of Fine Linens would like to speak to Mrs. Smith."

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been brought up by and am still living with my grandparents. My mother is alive but has remarried and lives not too far from here.

I see her often and am very fond of her although my grandparents will give me my wedding. The question has come up as to who should be the last one seated at the church. I do not want to slight either one. Would it be permissible, under the circumstances, for an usher to escort both my mother and grandmother up the aisle at the same time (one on each arm) and be seated together in the front pew. My stepfather will also be present. Where should he be seated?

Answer: I'm sorry but one usher walking between two women would not be correct. However, both could be taken up the aisle at the same time; your mother first on the arm of an usher and your grandmother following a short distance behind on the arm of another usher.

Your stepfather would be seated next to your mother either in the front pew, or she may prefer to sit on the aisle in the second pew. At any rate, your grandparents who are giving you your wedding should be seated in the front pew.

Dear Mrs. Post: I sent a wedding present with our Mr. and Mrs. card enclosed. Later I alone received a thank-you note with no mention of my husband. I think such a note should be written to both, don't you?

Answer: Both certainly should be thanked. This is done either by sending a note to Mr. and Mrs. or by including the husband in the message addressed to Mrs. alone.

Fashion blooms at the neckline with this pull-through of pastel taffeta, spattered with miniature blossoms and accented with one large matching taffeta flower. It's a versatile tie that can be worn high or low to fill the neckline. It comes in solid colors too as well as stripes and polka dots.

Don't Write, Phone Him for Results

Nothing in Letter Could Be Good as Casual Party Date

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

You want to see him again. It's been ages since he last stopped around your way. There are rumors that he's interested in you, but he does nothing to prove the point. Perhaps a slight nudge from you would get things started.

So you start figuring nudges. And you come up with the brilliant idea that you'll write him a note. You can take your time over it, do it on your best writing paper and in our best handwriting.

You'll be calm and collected. Yes, a letter would be the thing. He'll have to answer it one way or the other. You'll get results.

But what are you going to say in the letter? Will you have to start by reminding him who you are? And wind up with the plea that he come over to see you sometime?

Well, that's just the sort of letter you shouldn't write. It's a permanent record of your eagerness. It's proof of the chase. It's far safer to phone. As in this girl's case.

"Dear Miss Woodward: He's not the cutest guy in the world but he has personality plus, and I haven't seen him for a long time."

I used to go driving around with him a lot. He's from a nearby town, and one of the boys from here says he still wants to go with me but is afraid to ask 'cause he thinks I won't go. The boy from here says I should write! Should I?

Answer: No, I wouldn't write. There's nothing to say in a letter that wouldn't sound like an open bid for his attention. But you could phone him with a definite invitation that would attract him over to your house. No vague "come over sometime" about this, make it a bid for an evening at your house on a certain date at a certain time.

Include a couple more couples so you can have a "rock and roll" session, watch television, eat and chatter. Show him by your friendly interest that evening that you enjoy his company. Then make his fears vanish and he'll come back into our life.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Some time ago Pat asked me to go with him but I was going with another boy. I've broken up with him and would now like to go with Pat."

I see, him once in a while and my friends tell me he's not going with anyone. Would it be okay to write him a friendly letter so I can let him know I'd like to go with him and find out if he's still interested in me?

Answer: Such a letter would be throwing discretion to the winds. It would be safer to call him up and invite him to something—either to go to a party with you or to come to a party at your house. You'll then be able to tell by his attitude whether he'll still be interested in you. Which is what you'd better find out before letting him know that you'd like to go with him!

When you go to the door of your home with a departing guest don't close the door until he is well on his way. Shutting a door on a guest before he can get down the front steps seems as if you are glad to see him go.

Even if a guest has overstuffed, take your time in seeing him out the door.

Mobile Grocery Store Is Run by Retired Couple

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. retired to the country when they were in their mid-fifties.

They had dreamed of doing it all their lives "and yet," as Mrs. J. L. told me, "we hadn't been there for even a year before Jerry got terribly restless, and anxious to get to work at something."

"Before he retired, he was manager of a successful chain of grocery stores in the city, and he loved the work."

"But at fifty-five he thought the pace was too fast, as indeed it was, so we settled in a small village, in the heart of beautiful farming country. We have four acres, and Jerry was sure he could keep busy gardening and so forth. But he was fed up with it in no time at all.

"We thought and thought, about what we could go into that would be fun and yet not too strenuous," she continued. "And then one day, when we were visiting some farmer friends down in the valley, we got a good idea from taking with them."

"They said that they thought a mobile grocery store would do well in their part of the country, a truck which made deliveries of groceries, cleaning supplies, and so forth."

"Jerry and I investigated it, and it works out like a dream. We use our barn, which we made over, as our warehouse, and Jerry stocks it. He knows how to do this from his years in the grocery business."

"We have a small truck, with a refrigerator in it, and we have a regular route, serving many farmers throughout the country. We operate five days a week, and cover a set route each week."

"It's such fun," she went on. "I go with Jerry, and we drive through beautiful countryside, and all our customers are becoming our friends, and sometimes we stop for a chat with them."

We take it easy, because we don't want to work ourselves to death, and yet it brings in a nice income. It's healthy work, and is bringing us all kinds of new friends and contacts, and making us feel very useful."

If you are considering retirement, and if you like your job, see if you can't make some alteration in it, and cut it down to size for a retirement occupation.

There's Difference

Chief difference between the new silhouette and the flat silhouette of the Twenties is that new clothes are cut and boned to fit.

Handsome Officer Wins Pat on Back for Force

RED BANK, N. J. (UP) — A young woman driver wrote the Garden State Parkway's state police headquarters here to thank the trooper who helped when her car got a flat tire on the highway.

"I have no idea what his name is," she wrote, "but he was dark, young and very handsome."

A spokesman said the description was not much help in locating the man because it applied to "most New Jersey troopers."

Spring Look Told

The new fashion proportion for spring is the long torso, slim waistline, higher bosom and low-placed skirt fullness.

Hadassah Elects Officers at Meeting

Mrs. Jerome Weiss directed the puppet show for the program given at the Tuesday meeting of Pontiac Chapter of Hadassah held at Congregation B'Nai Israel. The show was presented to a group of children called the "Young Judeans." Officers elected at this meeting were Mrs. David Utley, president; Mrs. Harry Ackerman, vice president; Mrs. Leon Sirlin, recording secretary; Mrs. Philip Marlow, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Irving Paul, financial secretary and Mrs. Reuben Berzon, treasurer. Opening prayer was read by Mrs. Donald Bronston and Mrs. Irving Steinman read the closing prayer.

A. W. Dickinson Ill

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Dickinson of Birmingham have flown to West Palm Beach, Fla., where A. W. Dickinson is a patient in Good Samaritan Hospital. The elder Mr. Dickinson suffered a heart attack Monday.

WANDA GRAY

Mrs. Forrest White of Emerson street and Alex Gray of Collier road announce the engagement of their daughter, Wanda to Robert Orr, son of the Albert Orrs of Emerson street. A June wedding is planned.

Sisterhood Hears Talk on Peace

Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob held its annual open meeting at the temple.

Mrs. Sanford Saperstein gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Herman Dickstein introduced Julian Levine who brought greetings to the sisterhood in behalf of the temple.

Cora Bailey PTA Plans Supper

Mrs. Roy Measel and Mrs. Dallas Dillingham are co-chairmen of a ham and tuna supper to be sponsored Friday from 5:30 until 7 p.m. by the Cora Bailey PTA.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dillingham are finance chairmen and Mrs. George Broadwater is publicity chairman.

Those who attend the dinner in the school will also enjoy spaghetti with meat sauce, scalloped potatoes, baked beans and dessert. Movies will be shown following the dinner and homemade candy will be sold.

Dr. Irving Gordon spoke for the temple men's club and Arthur Kollin represented the temple's young married couple's club.

Betty Weideman consultant to the International Executive Committee for the International League for Peace and Freedom was speaker.

She spoke on world affairs and what can be done to brighten the world's future. She pointed out the effort made by the United States to assist other countries in defense.

Pros and cons of various countries' foreign policies were given. The individual's duty to exercise freedom of minority rights was mentioned as an aid to understanding and helping other people through the United Nations.

Mrs. Weideman told of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. This league believes in universal disarmament. She related several possible plans for such a movement.

After the Tuesday meeting a birthday ceremony was held commemorating the 80th birthday of Reform Judaism founded by Isaac Mayer Wise. The birthday of Stephen S. Weiss, founder of the Jewish Institute of Religion was also commemorated.

The season-spanning suit that gives longer wear is a favorite with women now. It's a good traveler, too.

Girl Scouts Receive Gifts

Two donations have been made to Northern Oakland County council of Girl Scouts.

Pontiac Kiwanis Club has given three aluminum canoes and E. D. Merry of Pontiac has provided funds to help build additional roads at Camp Sherwood near Lapeer.

Mr. Merry and the late Mrs. Merry served on the original camp committee 26 years ago. Mrs. Merry's family established a memorial fund which was used to build the "Rainy Day Cabin" at the camp.

The building is used by campers during inclement weather and for troop camping in off-season months.

Announcement of these contributions was made at a recent meeting of the Council board.

A number of leaders will take training instructions to be given under the auspices of the national board in East Lansing in the spring.

Taking the training will be Mrs. T. D. Ritchie, Mrs. Paul Gorman, Mrs. Warren Allen, Mrs. Jay Bendall, Mrs. Francis Murphy, and Mrs. Raymond Ruggles. Three other leaders have been selected and approved for training as day camp directors.

Three basic training courses have been scheduled for April in Milford, Davisburg and Oxford.

Women's Chorus Holds Program

Husbands of Pontiac Women's Chorus members were invited to the group's Tuesday evening banquet held at First Congregational Church.

Mrs. Howard McIntyre was mistress of ceremonies for the program which included chorus members and community singing. Allen Copley spoke on European travel and showed movies of youth hostellers. The David Ewatts, the Charles Huttons and the Paul McKibbens were special guests.

New members of the group are Mrs. Kenneth McBroom, Mrs. Eleanor Clark, Mrs. Fred Bohlen, Mrs. Harry Tom, Mrs. F. E. Kulkaw, Mrs. Harold Menzies, Mrs. Mason Thompson, Mrs. John Shaw, Mrs. John Stoughton, Mrs. Clare Agnew, Janice McBroom, Emmalee Riggs and Laura Mahan.

Eugene Wilsons Hosts to Dance

The Eugene Wilsons assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reeves were hosts at the St. Patrick dance held by Square Set Club Wednesday evening at Wever School. Mr. Reeves is the new club president.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hash, the C. W. Norbergs, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hargraves, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wogan and Mr. and Mrs. Al Peters.

Other officers elected at a recent meeting were Charles Hoyer, vice president; Mrs. Pere Secord, treasurer; Mrs. Marvin McAnnally, secretary. Mr. Hoyer and Russell Williams will serve on the board of governors.

Priscilla Group Has Election of Officers

Mrs. Edward Hummel was hostess at the election meeting of Priscilla Group of Oakland Park Methodist Church Tuesday evening in her Osage circle home.

Mrs. Aldred Ostrander was elected chairman; Mrs. Eugene Chisholm, vice chairman; Mrs. Ruth Ridley, secretary and Mrs. Leslie Langford, treasurer.

Mrs. Courtney Clara and Mrs. Walter Dempsey will serve on the ways and means committee.

Actual photographs of transparent automatic washers prove:

No thick-suds detergent can wash so clean yet rinse as free as all

Washing hampered by useless suds

all with "controlled suds" gets out the dirt

How can clothes possibly move around freely in all these thick suds? Thick suds smother free washing action so necessary to get clothes clean. Clothes can't slosh through water the way they should. And these suds can overflow, ruining expensive parts.

Now see how all with "controlled suds" permit free, easy movement of clothes through wash water. all has no thick, soapy suds to slow down either the washing or rinsing action. That's why all, the original "controlled suds" detergent, was actually asked for by the makers of automatics.

all with "controlled suds" rinses out completely

Wash water's been drained off... but look what remains! Thick, sticky suds are clinging stubbornly to freshly washed clothes. That's what happens with thick-suds detergents. That's why colored clothes can turn out so disappointingly dull and white clothes so grey.

But look at the difference with all! Again, wash water has been drained out of the tub. But no all remains to dull your freshly washed clothes. all with "controlled suds" just won't stick to fabrics. That means your automatic washer can rinse your clothes completely, scrupulously clean.

That's why automatic washer makers prescribe all with "controlled suds"

Yes... all was developed at the request of washer makers because the harsh thick-suds detergents cannot possibly wash so clean yet rinse as free as all.

Automatic washer makers agree that all has a gentle, thorough washing action that leaves dresses, towels, shirts and sheets so delicately soft and sweet. They know that harsh detergents can cause fabric damage. They know all with "controlled suds" is unbelievably gentle to everything you wash. That's why most front-loading and top-loading automatic washers contain a box of all when they leave the factory.

Your grocer carries all in just the right size for your family, including handy, money-saving 25-lb. packages and pails.

Shamrock Tarts Starred Today

Magic Desserts Are Bit of Erin

Set the Stage for Happy Lime-Flavored Treats St. Patrick's Day

Since it is customary for everyone to look at the world through green-tinted glasses on March 17, it is only fitting that the festive fare for that day be in the same lovely hue.

Shamrock tarts are magically easy to make with sweetened condensed milk since the filling does not require any cooking at all.

Just blend a 15-ounce can of sweetened condensed milk with lime juice, lime rind and egg yolks until the mixture thickens. That's all there is to it and the results are always failure-proof because the condensed milk blends so perfectly with the other ingredients.

For a gay Gaelic touch, add a bit of green vegetable coloring. Top with meringue or outline a shamrock on each with frosting or whipped cream squeezed through a pastry tube.

Magic Shamrock Tarts
1 15-ounce can whole kernel corn
1 15-ounce can sweetened condensed milk
1/2 cup lime juice
1 egg yolk
1/2 teaspoon green food coloring
1/2 cup meringue
1/2 cup whipped cream

Stir sweetened condensed milk, lime juice, lime rind and egg yolks until well blended and mixture thickens. Beat egg whites until almost stiff enough to hold a peak. Add sugar gradually, beating until stiff and glossy.

Reserve one-third meringue for garnish. Fold rest into lime mixture. Fill tarts. Top each with dab of meringue. Makes eight medium-size tarts.

Stuff Roasting Duck With Apricot Rice

Here's a new version of a favorite stuffing for roast duck.

Apricot Rice Stuffing
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup apricots (minced)
1/2 cup rice (uncooked)
1/2 cup chicken stock
1/2 cup raisins (optional)
1/2 cup dried apricots (optional)
1/2 cup poultry seasoning
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup ground cloves
1/2 cup ground pepper
1/2 cup ground nutmeg

Melt butter in large skillet; add onion and cook until lightly browned. Stir in parsley, rice, apricots, olives, salt, poultry seasoning, thyme, cloves and pepper; mix well.

Gradually stir in liquefied non-fat dry milk. Cool slightly before using as stuffing for a 5 to 6-pound duck that is to be roasted.

MAGIC SHAMROCK TARTS — A shamrock-be-decked tart is an appealing way to say "Happy St. Patrick's Day." These lime-flavored tarts are made with a filling that needs no cooking because they feature sweetened condensed milk as the main ingredient.

MSC Helping Marketing Co-Op Grade Potatoes

LEVERING—Want to buy potatoes you know are best for baking or mashing, or best for boiling and salad making?

You may be able to do it soon. Spuds can be sorted easily into those divisions.

Michigan State College researchers are helping the Emmet County Marketing Cooperative at Levering place potatoes on the market in just that way. It's a part of the MSC marketing research program.

Agricultural Engineer Irving J. Flinn built a gravity potato sorter that's used here. The sorter is filled with a salt solution which allows the good baking and mashing potatoes to sink. Those best for boiling stay on top.

Donald Isleib, a farm crops researcher also working on the project, points out that such a sorter is necessary to grade potatoes that way. Potatoes in any field—in fact in any hill—differ when they're cooked. That's because of different amounts of dry matter in the tubers.

What's the idea behind this research? The MSC men believe families will use more potatoes when spuds are sold for different uses, and the housewife will get a better quality product.

Follow Regular Order in Adding Ingredients

Next time you mix a cake or biscuits, and are interrupted by telephone, doorbell or the youngsters, you can tell at a glance where you stopped mixing if you follow this hint:

Before you begin, place all ingredients to the right of the mixing bowl. Then, each time you add one, place the container to the left of the bowl. This way, you will never forget the salt or add the sugar twice.

Orange Sauce Glorifies Chops

Here is a delicious recipe for pork chops... we think it is a real taste thrill and want you to try it.

Make company of your family one night soon and regale them with these delicately flavored chops. It is an easy recipe to prepare... all top stove and short cooking time.

Braised Pork Chops With Orange Sauce
4 medium thick pork chops, about 1 1/2 pounds
1/2 cup condensed frozen orange juice
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt

Brush pork chops with kitchen bouquet on both sides. Place in 9-inch frying pan over moderate heat and brown lightly on both sides.

Meanwhile, combine orange juice, water, lemon juice, cornstarch, sugar and salt in small saucepan. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat.

When chops are brown, drain off excess fat and pour the hot orange sauce over them. Cover and cook over low heat until chops are tender, about 30 minutes.

Serve immediately. Yield: Four servings.

Variety of Greens Always Available

Salads used to be just cabbage slaw, all winter long, but today there are all kinds of bright salad greens available in midwinter to freshen the day's meals.

According to marketing and consumer information agents, produce counters are abundant with lettuce, cabbage, celery, endive, spinach, shallots and other salad greens to liven the menu.

Quality greens are fresh, young, tender, bright green in color and free from insect damage or wilt. To be an artist in serving them, they should be served clean, crisp and dry, with just enough dressing to coat each leaf. Add the appropriate dressing to the greens just before serving, or they will wilt.

Festive, Easy Dessert

Place three ladyfingers in tall sherbet glasses. Fill two-thirds full with fresh orange slices. Pour soft custard over all. Garnish with grated orange rind.

Hot Spiced Cider Beats March Winds

Just the snack to serve when March weather is blustery!

Hot Spiced Cider
1 quart sweet apple cider
1/2 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
1 stick cinnamon (about 3 inches long)
1 1/2 teaspoons whole cloves
1 1/2 teaspoons whole allspice

Put apple cider, brown sugar, cinnamon, cloves and allspice in a 1 1/2 or 2-quart saucepan; heat, stirring until sugar dissolves.

Simmer (do not boil) 10 minutes. Strain into mugs at once and serve hot. Makes four servings.

Casserole of Chicken Both Quick, Flavorful

This quick casserole is tops in flavor. Combine a can of condensed chicken gumbo soup with two cans of boned chicken and a fourth cup of top milk or thin cream.

Put a layer of crushed cornflakes in the bottom of a buttered casserole. Pour the chicken mixture over the cornflakes, and top with another layer of cornflakes. Bake in a moderate oven about 30 minutes, until heated through.

Team Up Corn and Mushrooms

Here's a new idea for rounding out a late breakfast or brunch by adding a savory vegetable dish. In this case it's savory corn and mushrooms served with scrambled eggs and browned potatoes.

Just set out hot rolls with butter and steaming cups of coffee and you have a quick-to-fix hot meal for the family or company.

Savory Corn and Mushrooms
1 1/2 cups can whole kernel corn
1/2 cup can sliced mushrooms, drained
1/2 teaspoon rosemary
1/2 teaspoon marjoram
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt

Combine corn and remaining ingredients in saucepan. Simmer five minutes or until heated through. Makes four generous servings.

Like clams? Drain a small can of them and add them to softened cream cheese for a sandwich spread. Watercress makes a good green for this sandwich.

Variety Meats Extra Nutritious

You know how valuable the variety meats are in your family's diet, how much vitamin A they add to the day's supply.

Fortunately, these same meats are very reasonable in price. Beef and lamb liver are only a third as expensive as calves liver and contain more vitamin A.

Try these recipes as suggested by the Marketing and Consumer Information Agents Marjorie Gibbs and Josephine Lawyer.

Liver Loaf

1 1/2 pound liver
1 tablespoon parsley, chopped
1 onion, chopped
1 small clove garlic
1 green pepper, chopped
1/2 cup wheat germ or bread crumbs
2 eggs
1/2 cup stock
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons fat
1 1/2 teaspoon celery salt
Dash pepper, nutmeg, thyme and sage

Wipe liver, cut into slices, then run through a chopper together with vegetables. Add wheat germ or bread crumbs moistened in the beaten egg and liquid, fat and seasonings.

Beat together well, pour mixture into a well-greased baking dish or mold and set in a pan of hot water. Bake 1 1/2 hours (325 to 350).

Beef Heart With Rice Stuffing

1 beef heart
Salt and pepper
1 1/2 cups rice
1/2 cup chopped onions
1/2 cup seedling raisins
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 eggs
1/2 cup ham drippings
1 No. 2 1/2 can tomatoes
1 bay leaf
1 clove
1/2 cup boiling water

Prepare the heart and season inside and out with salt and pepper. Wash the rice in cold water and cook in boiling salted water for 15 minutes, or until half done. Par-boil the raisins until plump and drain well.

Mix the rice, raisins, onions, poultry seasoning, parsley, egg, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Stuff the heart lightly with part of the stuffing. Sew the edges of the heart together.

Heat the drippings in a Dutch oven and brown the heart well on all sides. Add the tomatoes, bay leaf, cloves and boiling water. Cover and simmer gently for three hours.

Add the remaining stuffing mixture to the sauce and continue cooking for 25 to 30 minutes longer. Slice the heart and serve with the sauce. Serves six.

Diced Potatoes Are Delicious in Cheese Sauce

Diced cooked potatoes in a cheese sauce make a hearty and flavorful dish.

Potatoes in Cheese Sauce
1 pound new-crop potatoes
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon prepared yellow mustard
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 pound cheddar cheese (grated)

Boil potatoes in their skins in a small amount of salted water. Drain, remove skins and dice; there should be about 2 1/2 cups.

Melt butter in 2-quart saucepan over low heat; blend in flour and mustard. Add milk, salt and pepper. Stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly; if mustard lumps use whisk or fork for part of stirring.

Add cheese and stir over very low heat until melted. Fold in diced potatoes.

Turn into heat-resistant glass pie plate (8 1/2 by 1 1/2 inches) and place in moderate (350 degrees) oven until bubbly around sides and top is flecked with brown—about 15 minutes.

If dish is prepared ahead and refrigerated it will need about five minutes longer for reheating in oven. Makes six servings.

Tasty Skillet Dish

Stars Ground Pork

Ask your meat man to grind some pork shoulder for you to use in this tasty pork skillet dish.

Pork and Noodle Skillet Dish
1 pound ground pork
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups uncooked noodles
1 can tomato sauce
1/2 cup water

Lightly brown pork and onion in a little hot fat. Add seasonings. Cook noodles in slightly salted water for 10 minutes. Drain and add to pork with tomato sauce and water.

Cook over low heat for 15 minutes and season to taste. Add more water if mixture is dry.

A TOUCH OF THE IRISH—If you're a colleen and Irish hat-shaped cookies, Irish soda bread, as with a touch of Eire in your heart, you'll bring a Gaelic as St. Paddy himself, completes the picture.

Sure and 'Tis an Irish Tea to Celebrate St. Pat's Day

Sure and a little bit of heaven fell... 'tis an Irish tea, begorra! For that day of "wearing" of the green" you'll be wanting to serve something a wee bit different.

Make poppy seed Irish hats and filled shamrock cookies the theme for March 17. A wedge of freshly baked Irish soda bread, a bit of jam, and of course, a hot cup of tea will be exactly the right authentic touch.

Everything will disappear so quickly you'll think leprechauns have been there.

Poppy Seed Irish Hats
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1/2 cup poppy seed
1 egg, unbeaten
1 tablespoon white (distilled) vinegar

Sift flour, baking soda and salt together. Cream butter or margarine, sugar, lemon extract and poppy seed. Beat in egg. Stir in vinegar. Blend in dry ingredients.

Cover dough and chill in refrigerator. Roll out dough one-eighth inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut in hat shapes* or with 1 1/2-inch cookie cutter.

Bake on greased baking sheets in a 400 degree (hot) oven 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool on cake rack. Makes 4 dozen.

Filled Shamrock Cookies
1 1/2 cups rolled oats
1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 egg, unbeaten
1 tablespoon vinegar
1-3 cup orange marmalade

Spread oats on baking sheet and toast in a 375 degree (moderate) oven, about 10 minutes, or until lightly browned. Sift flour, baking soda and salt together.

Cream butter or margarine, sugar and vanilla extract until creamy. Beat in egg. Blend rolled oats and dry ingredients with creamed mixture. Blend in the vinegar.

Cover dough and chill in refrigerator. Roll out dough one-eighth inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut with 1 1/2-inch shamrock cookie cutter.

Place half of the cookies on greased baking sheets. Place one-half teaspoon orange marmalade in center of each cookie. Top each cookie with a second cookie. Press edges of cookie together with fork tines.

Bake in a 375 degree (moderate) oven 12 to 14 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cool on cake rack. Makes 24-28 cookies.

Irish Soda Bread
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup white (distilled) vinegar
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons currants

Sift flour, baking soda, salt and sugar into mixing bowl. Cut in butter or margarine until mixture is fine. Combine vinegar and milk. Add half of liquid to dry ingredients. Blend quickly, adding and blending remaining liquid as dough thickens.

Turn dough out onto floured board. Sprinkle with currants.

Team Pancakes and Plum Sauce

Be daring! Be different! Serve plum sauce with pancakes for a delicious taste treat. You might even try the plum sauce on waffles too.

(We'll share a secret with you: We use the same rich batter for both pancakes and waffles at our house. The Six-Year-Old prefers pancakes "without the holes in them, please, Mommy.")

Pancakes With Plum Sauce

1 No. 2 1/2 can purple plums
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
2 eggs, separated
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Drain plums and reserve syrup. Pit plums. Combine syrup, one-half cup sugar and nutmeg; heat to boiling point. Combine lemon juice and cornstarch. Mix well and add to syrup mixture.

Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add plums.

Sift flour, salt, 2 tablespoons sugar and baking powder together. Combine egg yolks, milk and butter or margarine. Beat well and add to dry ingredients. Mix only until blended.

Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold into batter. Drop by spoonfuls onto hot, lightly greased griddle.

Bake until browned on both sides. Serve with hot plum sauce. Makes four-six servings.

Farmers comprise only about 12 per cent of the total U.S. population, but not many years ago they accounted for almost 40 per cent of the people.

Almost 90 per cent of the prescriptions written by doctors today could not have been filled as recently as 20 years ago because the drugs they called for did not exist then. Ever add a little powdered thyme to hamburger meat? It's good!

SOUP FOR BREAKFAST—Soup for breakfast is the cheery answer to breakfast on the run, because it's quick to fix, quick to eat and so nourishing. It always looks good and somehow a dish of soup doesn't look like too much food. So, soup of the morning to you!

Start the Day in New Way With Quick, Cheery Soup

Breakfast on the run... why do we eat this way, when it is obvious that we're short-changing our health and morale? Years of surveys are beginning to turn up the reasons, as scientists get closer to the bottom of the shrinking breakfast story.

A recent survey of 10,000 junior high school students conducted by the California Home Economic Association shows that:

Many students say they have no time for breakfast. Breakfast isn't prepared for them, so they don't bother with it. Routine breakfast foods become boring and lose appeal. People dislike eating alone. Others say they don't eat because they are not hungry, a false sensation since they usually have not eaten for 12 or 14 hours.

Breakfast-skippers who supplement the early "fuel" by stuffing at luncheon and dinner frequently reward themselves with a dividend of fat.

The answer, of course, is to reorganize the family's morning meal habits with something quick; something that takes little or no preparation; something that has variety and flavor appeal to discourage breakfast food boredom. Try experimenting with new foods such as soup for breakfast.

Soup for breakfast is a good answer because it's quick to fix, quick to eat and so nourishing. It can be a real morning friend, passing on an early sense of well-being. It always looks good, which is cheering, and somehow a dish of soup doesn't look like too much food.

Serve it forth in jumbo coffee cups or mugs with muffins or cornbread sticks... then watch sleepy heads open their eyes. Goodbye to irritability, tiredness and lack of concentration... and soup of the morning to you!

Here are a few menus to show just how well soup becomes the morning meal.

Green of mushroom soup with ham bits (combined with milk) Marmalade Toast strips

Boiled egg Tangerine or grapes Coffee, tea, milk

Chicken with rice soup Toasted rounds of jelly pie Plum jelly Bacon waffles Coffee, tea, milk

Sunday Breakfast Tomato soup combined with milk Shredded ham and eggs Baked bananas Raisin muffins Coffee, tea, milk

Barbecue Chops for Different Taste Looking for a little different way to prepare your dinner pork chops? Then barbecue them this quick and easy way—they're mighty good!

Barbecued Pork Chops 4 pork chops Salt and pepper 4 slices onion (1/4 inch thick) 1 tablespoon brown sugar 1/2 cup catsup 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Brown chops in a little hot fat; drain off fat. Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper and top each with a slice of onion. Sprinkle with brown sugar.

Combine catsup and lemon juice and pour over chops; add a little water to cover bottom of skillet. Cover and cook over low heat until tender, about one hour, adding a little water if needed to prevent sticking. Four servings.

Freeze Sardine Dip for Unexpected Guests Is yours a "drop-in" house? Here's a delicious Maine sardine dip that you can keep stocked in the deep freeze to serve those unexpected guests.

Mash two cans sardines with two packages of cream cheese, a clove of minced garlic, salt, Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice and garnish with pimiento strips.

Mackerel Vanishing Act Still Puzzles Fishermen

An age-old mystery of the sea—the riddle of the vanishing mackerel—is a problem that confronts Atlantic coastal fishermen who supply a large share of the nation's fish dinners each year.

Scientific investigators, as well as experienced fishermen, are baffled by the annual mystery of the disappearing mackerel. The fish appear off the Virginia Capes in April each year and remain in plentiful supply while the schools move northward.

Upon reaching Nova Scotia waters in September, the fish then start a return migration until they arrive off Cape Cod in November. Then they vanish.

In the days before modern facilities of processing and freezing fish were developed, only salt mackerel was available for the Lenten season when consumer demand for fish and seafoods reaches its peak. Since quick-freezing was developed, ample supplies have been retained from earlier catches to supply the demand.

Annual production of mackerel is very erratic and consequently commercial fishing for this type is a great gamble. In the 1930s, the catch of mackerel varied from 80 to 100 million pounds yearly with the biggest haul of 179 million pounds being landed in 1934.

Supplies nowadays are considerably smaller, averaging about 50 million pounds a year with only one-half that amount landed as recently as 1931.

Many theories have been advanced by fishermen as to the reasons for disappearance of the schools that provide such highly prized fish dinners. One theory has it that after summering off the Gulf of Maine and Nova Scotia the fish return to a small area called "No Man's Land," 10 miles off Newfoundland, where they bury themselves in the mud.

Supporters of the latter theory offer evidence of the mud in the mackerel's eyes in the spring to substantiate their claim. Further, they said, mackerel has two coats of skin, with a layer of oil in between, permitting them to spend the winter slumbering on the ocean bottom.

Others believe the mackerel disappear into the warmer waters of the Gulf Stream and remain in virtual seclusion until the time comes for them to make their reappearance. They substantiate this theory with the fact that mackerel are surface-feeding fish and could not survive at the bottom of the sea.

This possibility is further supported by the fact that in recent years winter fishing for mackerel has been conducted off the South Atlantic coast with moderate success.

Regardless of what happens to mackerel in the intervening months between their appearance in the spring and their disappearance in the fall, there are ample supplies of mackerel and many other varieties of fish available to both coastal and inland consumers for the present Lenten season.

Modern processing and distribution make more than 190 varieties of fish available to bring the nation's total consumption of fish and other seafoods to 1,736,000,000 pounds, or about 18.5 pounds per capita.

America Rates High in Production of Rice

Did you know that the rice you find on your grocer's shelf is an American—not an Oriental product? America produces not only the rice consumed domestically, but exports large quantities on the world market.

This abundance is due to the fact that rice is the most highly mechanized crop in this machine-minded country, a far cry from the primitive rice paddies still seen in the Orient today.

Colgate's New Detergent with JUST-RIGHT SUDS will

OUTWASH ANY OTHER PRODUCT IN YOUR AUTOMATIC WASHER!

it's Colgate's AD with JUST-RIGHT SUDS guaranteed to wash clothes cleaner and whiter than any other product... protect your machine—or your money back!

Here is the greatest detergent yet produced by science for automatic washing machines!

It's Colgate's amazing new detergent AD—with just-right suds. Cup-for-cup, AD's cleaning and whitening ingredients combine to outwash any other product in your automatic washer.

AD is guaranteed to wash clothes cleaner and whiter than any other detergent known. And it lets your machine work better and last longer, too!

Here's why: AD gives you just the right amount of suds. Not too few. Not too many. But just-right suds for your machine and for perfect washing results.

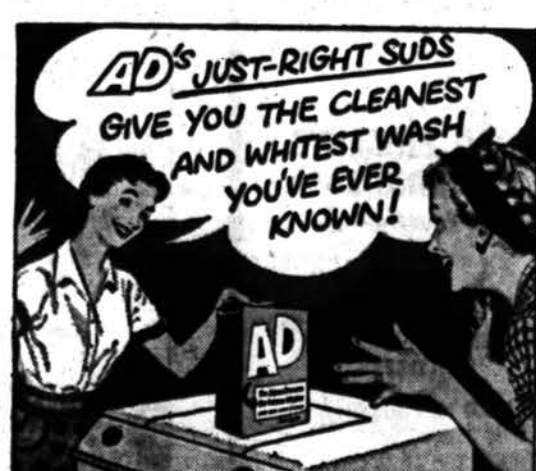

So add AD to your life today. It upsets all previous recommendations for automatic washers. And it's guaranteed to outwash any low-suds or regular detergent known. If you don't agree that AD outwashes any other detergent in any automatic machine, Colgate-Palmolive Co. will refund your money. Mail boxtop to: Colgate-Palmolive Co., Dept. APD, Jersey City 2, N. J.

Non-sudsing detergents fail to show proper amount of detergent to use. Insufficient suds may leave clothes looking grey and streaky, many housewives feel. AD, with just-right suds, gives you the cleanest and whitest wash you've ever known!

Regular detergents produce so many suds they may cause "suds lock"... clog your machine... strain its motor... run up extra power and repair bills for you. AD, with just-right suds, lets your machine work smoothly and properly.

AD—with just-right suds—gives you the cleanest wash possible and the whitest wash you've ever seen. And AD lets your machine work freely and easily... without stress or strain. For your wash and your washer, try AD. It's better—automatically!

SALMON SHORTCAKE — Here's a tasty plateful of good eating! Flavorful Salmon Shortcake is easy to prepare and tastes delicious spooned over hot biscuits. Buttered canned or frozen asparagus completes the plate.

Serve Salmon Shortcake-Style

Lenten fare need not be dull. Plan your meals with an eye for color and watch the family "pitch in".

The pink and white of the Salmon Shortcake contrasts nicely with the delicate green of the asparagus. Lettuce and tomato salad repeats the same colors.

Salmon Shortcake
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 can (1 pound) salmon, drained and coarsely flaked
1/2 cup drained, canned peas
1/2 cup toasted, chopped walnuts
Hot baked biscuits, split

Melt butter or margarine in medium-sized saucepan; blend in flour and milk; cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils one minute.

Add salmon and peas; heat thoroughly, stirring carefully. Just before serving, stir in walnuts. Spoon salmon mixture over hot biscuits.

To toast walnuts: Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a small frying pan; add one half cup chopped walnuts and saute five minutes, stirring often.

Pancakes, we love you! Especially when you're topped with plenty of butter or margarine and hot, cinnamon-flavored canned applesauce!

Country-Fried Steak Calls for Round Cut

Like country-style fried steak? Choose round steak that is cut about one-half inch thick and tenderize it by pounding it on both sides with the handle of a heavy knife. Be careful not to break through the meat! Toward the last of the pounding, beat in a little flour seasoned with salt and pepper.

Brown the steak quickly in a little fat and serve with mashed potatoes and gravy made from the steak-pan drippings.

Whole kernel and cream-style canned corn run just about neck and neck in the market popularity contest, with whole kernel slightly ahead in 1954.

You'll Love Eating This Humble Pie

When you suddenly feel that nothing but pie will do for dessert, and on the other hand you don't feel like dashing downtown through the chill autumn air for a long list of special ingredients—make our Humble Pie, which is not only a delicious dessert, but a lesson in thrift.

It's made just from sugar and spice and everything nice you have lying around on the pantry shelf, and it comes popping out of the oven looking like a million dollars! The secret? All-American know-how, of course!

Humble Pie
1 9-inch unbaked pie shell
2/3 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup light molasses
1/2 cup hot water
2 eggs, beaten
1 1/2 cups fine bread crumbs
1/2 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 cup soft butter

Line a 9-inch pie pan with pastry. Sprinkle the bottom with raisins. Combine sugar, molasses, water and eggs. Pour into pie shell. Combine bread crumbs, flour, spices and butter and work like pastry. Sprinkle this mixture over filling.

Bake at 450 degrees (hot oven) for 10 minutes; reduce heat to 325 and bake 30 minutes longer.

Spread Boasts Three Cheeses, Pimientos, Wine

Pimientos plus cheese (cheddar, blue and cream) plus wine plus a little cream add up to a really elegant dessert spread.

Add toasted crackers and/or apples or pears and a glass of port for one of the simplest yet most sophisticated of meal endings.

This very special recipe, for Pimiento - Cheese - Port Dessert Spread was developed and tested especially to toast National Pimiento Week (Feb. 5-14).

Do try it during that time, and we'll wager thereafter you'll celebrate Pimiento Week more than once a year.

Pimiento - Cheese - Port Dessert Spread
1 can or jar (4 ounces) pimientos, chopped finely
2 cups shredded sharp American cheddar cheese
3 ounces blue cheese
1 (3 ounce) package cream cheese
2 tablespoons cream or evaporated milk
1/4 to 1/2 cup port wine

Melt the cheeses and the cream or milk over hot water in the top of a double boiler, stirring constantly. Add the chopped pimiento, blending it well with the other ingredients.

Mincemeat Ginger Pears Are Luscious, but Simple

"Look, Mom, NO HANDS!" No, it's not bike riding we're talking about but the most glamorous, yet easy-to-prepare dessert ever to hit your recipe file! It's as hearty as a mincemeat pie... as tempting as a bowl of buttered popcorn, yet so easy to make you can toss it together in less than 10 minutes.

Canned Bartlett pears are the basis for this amazing dessert, so if you haven't already acquired the habit of keeping several cans on hand always, start at once because this is the perfect answer to that 5 o'clock "Honey, I'm bringing the boss home to dinner" phone call.

Before we divulge the recipe for Mincemeat Gingered Pears... it might be well to think for a moment about canned pears. The perfect pears which you find when you open a can are the result of a long, painstaking process.

First the pears must be hand-picked at just the right degree of maturity. They must be carefully handled on the way to the canning plant so they'll not be bruised. Then they're peeled, halved, graded for size and finally processed.

Yet, despite the tender, loving care they receive, pears are expensive to serve and, though highly nutritious, have a surprisingly low calorie count. They adopt themselves to every meal and are delicious in salads, desserts, cocktails and appetizers.

But now for that magic recipe. Mincemeat Gingered Pears
4 canned Bartlett pear halves
1 1/2 cups crushed ginger snaps
2 tablespoons melted butter
1/2 cup mincemeat

Mix crushed ginger snaps with melted butter and press into bottom of two shallow refrigerator trays. Combine mincemeat and orange peel and spread on top of crumbs.

Arrange pear halves cut side up on top of mincemeat mixture and spoon juice from mincemeat over them. Place in freezer compartment and partially freeze or chill.

Serve Tangy Sandwich to Television Crowd

Here's an open-face sandwich that's tops in flavor and popularity, especially with the television crowd.

Spread deviled ham on white bread (one family-size can will cover six slices generously). Arrange thin tomato slices on ham layer and cover with sour cream. Sprinkle chopped chives or parsley over the cream. Broil for few minutes and serve hot with a side of cole slaw and apple salad. Be television rates second place!

GOLDEN CHEESE BREAD—Serve this delicious cheese bread to brighten a spaghetti or vegetable dinner, enjoy it toasted for breakfast, or make a deluxe ham sandwich with it. It boosts any meal because it is made with nutritious cheese and wheat germ.

Cheese and Wheat Germ Give Bread Added Appeal

In spite of food markets bursting with all kinds of wonderful foods, meals can fall into a rut. This is most likely to occur during the midwinter interval before fresh new crops appear to brighten menus. Now, it is up to homemakers to furnish the interest that perks up meals and whets appetites.

Try serving different kinds of homemade bread with meals that have become too routine. Your family will love it, and bread is such a good energy food for winter meals.

Bread can be enriched with wheat germ to furnish nutrients that give extra protection against winter ills. Wheat germ contains most of wheat's B vitamins and protein, plus iron and phosphorus. So it just naturally belongs in good, wholesome breads.

Many good cooks use wheat germ for its nutlike flavor as well as its nutritive value. It can be put in meat loaf and casseroles, like bread or cracker crumbs.

It blends well with peanut butter, cheese and other sandwich spreads for children's hearty lunches. Wheat germ can be adapted to many of your own favorite baking recipes by substituting it for about one-third of the flour.

Golden Cheese Bread
1 cup hot water
1/2 cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons warm (not hot) water
1 package active dry yeast or 1 cake fresh yeast
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup wheat germ
1 1/2 cups (6 ounces) grated American cheese
3/4 cups sifted flour

Combine hot water, sugar and salt in large bowl; stir until sugar dissolves; cool to lukewarm. Crumble yeast into warm water in small bowl; stir to dissolve and add to sugar-water mixture. Stir in egg, wheat germ, cheese and flour.

Turn out on lightly floured board; knead quickly and lightly until smooth and elastic. Place in a greased bowl; brush top with melted shortening; cover with clean towel and let rise in warm place until double in bulk (about 1 hour and 15 minutes).

Turn out on well-floured board; shape dough into loaf; place in greased 9x5x3 inch bread pan; cover with clean towel; let rise in warm place about 40 minutes, until double in bulk. Bake in moderate oven (350) about 40 minutes. Remove from pan, brush with melted shortening; cool on wire rack before slicing.

Oyster-Ham Dish Uses Frozen Soup

Prepare this delightful main dish quickly with one of the new frozen condensed soups.

Creamed Oysters and Ham
1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed oyster stew
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons water
1 cup cubed cooked ham
2 tablespoons diced pimiento
Hot buttered toast

Heat oyster stew over low heat until completely defrosted; stir often. Lift out oysters and reserve.

Stir flour and water together until smooth; stir into hot soup. Cook and stir constantly until soup thickens and bubbles.

Add reserved oysters, ham and pimiento; heat but do not boil. Pour over three slices toast; garnish plates with extra toast. Makes three servings.

Ever sweeten whipped cream with brown sugar? This combination makes a delectable topping for an apple pudding or baked pear.

Spaghetti Meal Is Timesaver

Even if you've had an extra busy morning and have only 10 minutes leeway, you needn't give a disappointing answer when the children come shouting hungrily home from school demanding, "What's for lunch, Mom?" Just call out "Spaghetti dinner!" And while they are scrambling to clean up, put the finishing touches on an easy, thrifty and satisfying meal.

The packaged spaghetti dinner that makes this kind of meal so easy to prepare is an Italian-style combination of quick-cooking spaghetti, flavoured sauce made with either meat or mushrooms and grated cheese to add just before serving.

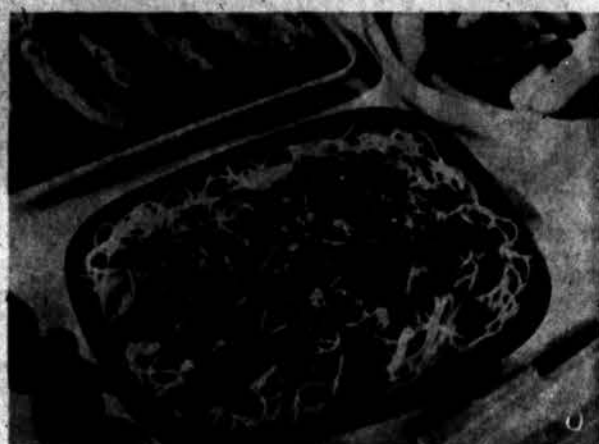

The spaghetti cooks in from 12 to 15 minutes, according to the degree of softness desired.

A fruit dessert after the spaghetti luncheon that everyone likes is cinnamon pears. Pour the juice from a can of pears in a saucepan and add a few cinnamon drops, those spicy little red candies that children love.

Add the pears — keep a few halves out for contrast — and simmer gently until they are pink, two or three minutes. Cool.

Your pink and white pears with the pink juice, and perhaps a maraschino cherry added to each, will be as pretty as the fruit steeped in wine that is so often served as dessert on Italian menus.

A kind of fruit bread called

PACKAGED SPAGHETTI DINNERS—A packaged spaghetti dinner, with quick-cooking spaghetti, a can of sauce and grated cheese to sprinkle over all, makes a substantial, easy lunch for hungry children. Stewed pears tinted pink and toasted raisin bread round out a satisfying meal.

panatone would wind up such a simple lunch very appetizingly. You can buy this bread in the Italian sections of some American cities.

Raisin bread, available at every corner grocery, is just as good, and the children will like it, toasted, instead of cake or cookies with the pears.

Glorify French Toast

Dress up French toast for Sunday brunch! Heat canned pineapple rings or peach slices in a little butter or margarine in a big skillet, sprinkling with brown sugar. Serve the hot fruit with the golden-brown French toast.

Farms in the U. S. own and operate about 4.5 million tractors.

Mushrooms, Wine Complement Beef

Red table wine and beef, whatever the cut, just seem to go together.

Mushroom Wine Sauce
1 (3-ounce) can sliced broiled-in butter mushrooms
1/2 cup water
1 beef bouillon cube
1/2 cup burgundy or other red table wine
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon kitchen bouquet

Place contents of can of mushrooms, water and beef bouillon cube in saucepan. Bring to boil over moderate heat and allow cube to dissolve. Combine and add wine and cornstarch, stirring constantly until sauce is thick and clear. Stir in kitchen bouquet.

Late Evening Fruit Salad Calls for Hot Biscuits

By JANET ODELL, Pontiac Press Food Editor

Just the other day a friend asked me what she could serve with fruit salad besides open-faced sandwiches. Challenged, I looked through numerous cookbooks and was able to offer her several different suggestions. Perhaps you would be interested in the same type of information.

Fruit salad is an ideal thing to serve for late-evening refreshments. It will please even the weight-watchers who can forego the dressing. Each season of the year has its own particular fruits to offer for such a salad. Out of season fruits may be supplied, if desired, by canned products.

But back to the accompaniments. . . . Tiny cream puff shells filled with fish or chicken salad are always enjoyed.

There are two ways to combine baking powder biscuits and deviled ham for a salad bread. Cut out biscuits with the smallest cutter you can find; I like the inside of the doughnut cutter. Put pairs of these biscuits together with a filling of deviled ham. Bake until brown and serve very hot. You may brush the tops of the "sandwiches" with butter or margarine before baking.

The second method is to stir the contents of a small can of deviled ham into the biscuit dough before rolling it out. Cut and bake the biscuits in the usual manner.

Cheese is always good with a fruit salad. You can buy an assortment of cheese crackers or you can make your own cheese sticks or cheese wafers.

Cheese Salad Wafers
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
Cold water for stiff dough
1/2 cup grated cheese
Paprika

Make a dough of the first 4 ingredients. Roll thin. Sprinkle with the cheese and paprika. Fold each end to the center and the sides to the center and roll again to 1/4-inch thickness. Roll as a jelly roll and slice thin. Bake in a hot oven on a greased baking sheet about 3 minutes. Makes about 1 dozen.

There is no shortening in these wafers, but they will be crisp and delicious.

This second cheese recipe calls for cooking in deep hot fat. These Cheese Puffs are unusual and wonderful eating.

Cheese Pastry Puffs
2 eggs whites
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley or chives
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash cayenne
1/2 cup fine bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon paprika
Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Mix cheese, parsley, flour, salt and cayenne. Carefully fold into the beaten egg whites. With 2 teaspoons form in small balls and roll in bread crumbs seasoned with paprika. Fry in deep fat heated to 375 degrees for 2-3 minutes or until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot. Makes about 14-16.

NOODLE-STUFFED CHICKEN—Straight out of the oven and ready to serve, this delicious roast chicken was cooked in aluminum foil and stuffed with a savory noodle and sausage dressing. Rosy crabapples and watercress are a colorful platter garnish.

Bread Stuffing Stretches Lamb

One definition for economy given in the dictionary is "the management or regulation of domestic or household affairs with special regard for costs." This is one of the main concerns for most housewives.

In many areas of household affairs this may mean depriving the family of luxuries. But in the kitchen, the woman who uses her imagination and ingenuity can be economical and still serve more interesting and delicious foods.

By culinary juggling, she can stretch expensive foods such as meat and at the same time add variety to the meals. One example is this shoulder of lamb which is enhanced with a tasty stuffing made with enriched yeast-raised bread.

Stuffed Shoulder of Lamb
1 lamb shoulder, boned
1 clove garlic
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 onion, cut and chopped mushrooms small onion, minced
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup finely chopped carrot
1/2 cup finely chopped parsley
1/2 cup finely chopped dill
1/2 cup finely chopped chives

Rub shoulder with cut clove of garlic. Combine bread crumbs, mushrooms, onion, parsley, egg and seasonings. Stuff shoulder with this mixture. Roll shoulder and tie with a string.

Place sliced onion and carrot in roasting pan; top with stuffed shoulder. Bake, uncovered, at 425 degrees (hot oven) about 30 minutes, turning roast occasionally to brown all sides.

Sprinkle flour over vegetables; add 1 cup hot water and cover pan. Reduce heat to 275 and cook about five hours, basting frequently. Add more water if it boils away.

Remove meat and vegetables to serving platter. Strain gravy and skim off fat. Serves six.

Salmon Loaf Ideal for Lenten Meals

Have you made a salmon loaf recently? This recipe will come in handy during Lent.

Salmon Loaf
1 1/2 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup (1 1/2 ounces each) salmon (drained)
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
1/2 cup finely chopped carrot
1/2 cup finely chopped parsley
1/2 cup finely chopped dill
1/2 cup finely chopped chives

Four liquefied nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler. Sprinkle flour and salt over surface. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Turn drained salmon into mixing bowl; remove bones and skin; flake. Add lemon juice, celery, chives, egg and bread crumbs to salmon; mix. Stir in white sauce.

Turn into greased loaf pan (8 1/2 by 5 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 30 minutes or until lightly browned.

Turn out of pan. Serve with lemon wedges. Makes six servings.

Famous Sauerbraten Now Easy to Prepare

International celebrity among foods is sharp-sweet beef sauerbraten. You can stir it up in your own kitchen with hardly any effort, thanks to today's handy grocery specialties.

Start with a can of rich, brown beef gravy and four-minute steaks (one package frozen steaks). Proceed like so: Brown steaks and a small sliced onion in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine until steaks can be easily pulled apart and onion is tender. Add 1 can of beef gravy (1 1/2 cups), 2 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar, 6 crumbled ginger snaps and one-fourth teaspoon salt.

Simmer together, stirring occasionally, until sauce is thickened. This makes four grand-tasting servings.

Here's How to Prepare Hashed Brown Spuds

Several readers have asked—just how do you do hashed brown potatoes? Here's the way we do them at our house, says Gaynor Maddox:

Hashed Brown Potatoes
Use either salt pork cut into cubes or one-half cup bacon fat. If salt pork is used, saute until brown and remove scraps. Add 4 cups of finely diced cooked potatoes, salt and pepper. Mix thoroughly with fat.

Cook until the underside is brown. Fold the way you do an omelette, turn onto a hot platter and sprinkle with minced parsley.

You won't have to do any heavy scrubbing of the broiler in your range if you line it with aluminum foil before using.

For Supper in Jiffy

Quick supper: Heat a can of chili con carne and one of drained white or red kidney beans together; turn into wide serving dish. Arrange canned tamales, that have been heated, spoke fashion over the chili and beans and sprinkle center with grated Parmesan cheese. Accompany with celery, pickles and olives and a tossed green salad.

Serve Individual Roasts, Noodles

Cut your meat before you pot roast it, for a change. These little individual pot roasts will appeal to the family or guests when you serve them on noodles cooked in beef bouillon for extra flavor.

Individual Pot Roasts with Noodles

Meat
2 pounds beef chuck
2 tablespoons fat
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon pepper

Gravy
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups tomato juice or water
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Noodles
4 ounces noodles
1 can beef bouillon

Melt the fat in a skillet. Season the meat. Dip each piece into flour, then brown on all sides in the hot fat. Add the onion and water. Cover tightly and simmer about 2 to 2 1/2 hours or until the meat is tender when pierced with a fork.

Add more water if necessary to avoid cooking dry but do not drown the meat with water. Remove the little pot roasts to a hot platter and keep them hot.

Stir 3 tablespoons flour into the drippings in skillet. (Use a slotted pancake turner for this.) Slowly add tomato juice, stirring and cooking until the gravy is thickened and smooth.

Add the celery salt and Worcestershire sauce. Taste the gravy and add more seasoning if necessary. Serve in a bowl to accompany the roasts.

Noodles: Boil noodles in beef bouillon diluted with one can of water about 10 minutes. Serve with the roasts.

Juice Rich in Vitamin
Frozen, canned, ready-squeezed and fresh orange juice are all an excellent source of vitamin C. What kind you buy should depend on your family's taste and your food budget.

Rarebit Features Shrimp and Tomato

Sea fresh shrimp, cheese and the faint suggestion of tomato flavor blend tastily in this new way to make rarebit.

Using canned tomato soup saves precious minutes and it doesn't take long to add the other ingredients. This rarebit is quick to prepare and unusual too! It's a perfect dish for your next buffet supper.

Shrimp Cheese Tomato Rarebit

1 cup uncooked white rice
1/2 cup water
1 1/2-cup can condensed tomato soup
1/2 cup salt
1 pound American cheese, grated
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon paprika
2 cups sliced, cleaned, cooked shrimp
Put the rice, 1/2 cup water and and water in a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover and leave over this low heat for 14 minutes.

Remove from heat, but leave lid on 10 minutes. While the rice is cooking, heat the soup and milk in a saucepan over a low heat. Add the cheese, salt, mustard, Worcestershire sauce, paprika and shrimp. Stir until the cheese melts.

Serve the shrimp-cheese mixture from a chafing dish or candle warmer. Serve the rice in a separate dish. Spoon servings of the shrimp-cheese mixture over servings of rice.

Or spread the hot rice over a hot platter and pour the hot shrimp-cheese mixture over the rice. Garnish with whole shrimp. Makes eight servings.

Savory Tidbits Are Made With Bite-Size Cereal

Try this new version of our favorite cereal snack.

Savory Tidbits
1 6-ounce package bite-size shredded rice bran cereal
1/2 cup (1/4 pound) margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
2 tablespoons freshly grated Parmesan cheese

1 cup mixed salad nuts
Dump the cereal 'out of the package onto a large sheet of paper. Measure 3 generous cupfuls of it onto another piece of paper; do not include any broken cereal shreds.

Over low heat, melt one-fourth cup (one-eighth pound) of the margarine in a 10-inch iron skillet; stir in one-fourth teaspoon of the salt and one-fourth teaspoon of the garlic powder well.

Add the 3 cups measured cereal; over moderately low heat, toast until lightly browned—about three minutes—stirring constantly. Remove from heat.

Sprinkle with 3 tablespoons of the cheese; mix well. Sprinkle well with paprika and mix. Dump cereal from pan onto paper. Wash and dry skillet and repeat process with remaining ingredients. Cool tidbits and mix with nuts; store in tightly covered container.

Note: The broken cereal shreds are not added because they absorb too much of the butter and seasonings; use them for a casserole topping if desired.

Fill sherbet glasses with fresh orange slices. Pour 1 tablespoon mint syrup over each.

Crown Tangy Slaw With Deviled Eggs

Stuffed eggs, with their pleasant bland flavor, taste delicious on savory slaw.

Deviled Eggs With Slaw

8 hard-boiled eggs
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Salt
Pepper
4 tablespoons olive oil
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup prepared mustard
2 cups (firmly packed) finely shredded green cabbage

Cut eggs in half lengthwise; remove yolks and mash fine with mayonnaise.

Add salt and pepper to taste to yolk mixture; spoon back into whites; flute stuffing with the tines of a fork and sprinkle with paprika.

Put olive oil, red wine vinegar and prepared mustard in a bowl; beat with a fork until combined. Add cabbage and mix; add salt and pepper to taste.

Arrange slaw on individual salad plates and top each portion with three stuffed egg halves. Serve at once. Makes four servings.

Fill sherbet glasses with sliced fresh oranges. Top each with a scoop of lemon or lime sherbet.

FRESH ORANGE SPONGE—Whole sections of oranges garnish this delicious sponge. It is a delightfully refreshing finish to a hearty meal. It is important to use the whole orange segments so that the pulp will be consumed. Serve oranges often when they are abundant and inexpensive.

Orange Sponge Dessert Provides Nutrition Bonus

Oranges should not be limited to the breakfast table. The whole orange is extremely valuable to us, nutritionally. The pulp of the orange and the delicate membrane surrounding the individual cells of the meat contain substances known as bioflavonoids.

These bioflavonoids work with and increase the effectiveness of ascorbic acid. As a result, when you eat the whole orange you get vitamin C content.

Fortunately, the orange is a very adaptable fruit. There are many ways the whole orange can be offered at lunch and dinner as well as breakfast and in between meals.

It is delicious in salads as its tart-sweet flavor and pleasant consistency blend well with head lettuce and other salad greens. In seafood salads it adds the zest and sparkle that is sometimes lacking in the bland flavors of fish.

As a flavoring in puddings, oranges are universally popular. When serving an orange pudding, be sure to garnish it with whole orange sections so that the pulp will be consumed. The same should be done with pies and cakes.

Fresh Orange Sponge

2 packages unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup fresh orange juice
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup fresh orange juice
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup diced fresh oranges
2 egg whites, beaten
8 fresh whole orange sections
Fresh mint leaves and red cherry for garnish

Sylvan Cook Sends Top Corn Recipe

What a grand lot of canned corn recipes came flooding into our office in response to the item we recently printed about the Canned Corn Recipe Contest! We wish to thank every one of you who sent in a recipe.

Mrs. Eva L. Doss, 2271 Garland Ave., Sylvan Lake, sent in the winning recipe for Corn Delight. We have forwarded it to New York and shall wait impatiently to learn its fate.

We should like to share some of the interesting ways of using canned corn and hope to use a number of the other recipes in the daily recipe column.

Thanks again to all you good cooks.

Food Price Index Lowest Since 1953

NEW YORK—Wholesale food prices as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet index dipped this week to the lowest level since November 1953.

The seventh successive weekly decline put the index at $6.53, down from $6.55 a week ago and $7.27 a year ago. The index last stood at $6.53 on Nov. 24, 1953.

Foods rising in price at wholesale this week included wheat, corn, rye, oats, coffee, peanuts and hogs. Lower were flour, barley, beef, lard, cottonseed oil, sugar, tea, cocoa, eggs, currants, steers and lambs.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Bluebirds Bake Birthday Cakes

Camp Fire Group Adds Fancy Touch With Bright Cutouts

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

This is the Camp Fire Girls' Birthday Week. Although 45 might be considered at least the beginning of middle age, no one can call Camp Fire Girls middle aged! They're youth at its best.

Everyone knows that the success of any birthday party depends upon the food. Birthday cake is a must. And young ladies who are 9 years old are perfectly capable of making their own cake.

We seem fated always to get in on previews. The Happy Bluebirds of LeBaron School were having a dress rehearsal recently on frosting cupcakes, in preparation for the March 17 celebration. We arrived in time to see the finished product and to get a picture.

The cupcakes are chocolate flavored. The frosting is pink. The decorations are paper bluebirds brightly colored.

DEVIL'S FOOD CUPCAKES

By Happy Bluebirds of LeBaron

3 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
2 eggs
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 squares baking chocolate, melted
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon hot water

Sift flour and resift three times with sugar and salt. Add shortening (at room temperature), eggs and one-half cup milk. Blend with a spoon. Beat two minutes by the clock, scraping the sides of the bowl twice during the beating.

Add combined vanilla, melted chocolate, soda, water and remaining milk. Beat two more minutes.

Pour into greased cupcake pans. Bake about 20 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Let cool slightly before turning out of the pans. Frost as desired.

Bread Important in Reducing Diets

What are the most important facts for reducers to remember when they cut back on calories? In a recent article published by the Biological Sciences Foundation, Ltd., some of these facts are considered.

One of the major points is this: On a calorie basis the concentration of nutrients should be higher in a reducing diet than in a normal diet. To achieve this concentration, most of the foods making up the low-calorie diet should be relatively high in one or more nutrients.

Because of its nutritional and dietetic values enriched yeast-raised bread certainly merits an important place in reducing diets. An average slice of bread provides only 65 calories.

As a change-off from rice, serve barley or buckwheat grits. Both grains are good steamed in chicken broth and seasoned with onion.

San Francisco Coach Shuns Favorite's Role for Dons; Says Colorado Underrated

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Coach Phil Woolpert doesn't like any part of the idea his San Francisco Dons will be a favorite in the National Collegiate (NCAA) basketball tournament semifinals tomorrow night. San Francisco (26-1), rated No. 1 nationally in regular season, will meet the Colorado Buffaloes (18-5) in the second game of the semifinals of the 17th NCAA-sponsored college meet. The opener will be between LaSalle (25-4) and Big Ten champion Iowa (19-5) beginning at 8:45 (EST).

The bookies have San Francisco by five points over Colorado and LaSalle a slight favorite over Iowa.

"Naturally we came here to win," Woolpert confided, "but we have a couple of real worries on our hands."

Woolpert, whose Dons will be after their 25th straight victory, listed his "worries" this way:

"First, we'll be going against a greatly underrated team in Colorado which had to be good to win the Big Seven and then the regional at Manhattan, Kan.," he said. "And we are concerned about the physical condition of Jerry Mullen."

ACE playmaker Mullen sprained his right ankle in the Dons' 57-56 victory over Oregon State in the first minute of the regional meet at Corvallis last Saturday.

Mullen took it easy in a lengthy workout by the Dons shortly after their arrival by plane last night. He was hustled off for an additional bit of therapy before being bedded down.

In the event Mullen isn't able to go at full speed, the Dons will have to depend more than ever upon the defensive ability of 6-10

Bill Russell who has been the key man in making San Francisco the best defensive team in the nation.

Mullen, 6-5 senior forward, has averaged 14.2 points in the Dons' 27 games this winter. He's been second only to Russell who has averaged 21.5.

Iowa arrived on the scene last night but didn't work out. Colorado was due in this morning.

It's a solid setout of about 10,000 for each night of the tournament.

By JACK SAYLOR
GRAND BLANC—East Lansing bound!

That's Troy High School's eagerness after joining the "sweet sixteen" of Michigan high school basketball Wednesday night with a thrilling 50-46 victory over Flushing in a Class B quarter-final game in Grand Blanc High School's packed gymnasium.

Only Oakland County quieted left in the running. Troy is one of four outstanding Class B fives that will converge on Michigan State College's Jenson Fieldhouse for semifinal games Friday night.

River Rouge, defending "B" champion, moved easily into the semifinal bracket at Birmingham with a 67-50 victory over St. Andrew of Detroit. Lansing St. Mary, which won the state title as a Class C school a year ago, was upset by Buchanan, 56-52.

Troy will face Buchanan on the Jenson court Friday at 6:30 p.m. River Rouge plays Negaunee at 5 o'clock. A darkhorse entry from the Upper Peninsula, Negaunee ousted Mt. Pleasant.

For the greater part of three quarters it appeared that Troy was reaching the end of the line, but the great work of Jack Acton and a plucky performance by Jimmy Murdock pulled the Colts through in the final quarter.

Peyton Goodwin's Colts had trouble with Flushing's rangy rebounders, but John Damm, 6-2 forward, fouled out with 5½ minutes to play, leaving the rebounding solely to center Jack Pora, 6-4.

In turn, Troy lost Floyd Bailey with 5 minutes left, leaving Acton and Rex Moore to work the boards alone. Bothered by the Raiders' 3-2 zone defense and some bad passing of their own, Colts lagged by 10 points early in the 2nd half.

Flushing held a 9-6 first quarter lead and led 35-21 at half-time. Troy began to creep up in the latter stages of the 2nd period. Trailing 35-28, Acton hit from close in. Moments later, he tapped in a rebound and completed the 3-point play as he was fouled on the shot.

Jack Pora scored for Flushing but Bailey came back with another 3-point play and the Colts had narrowed the margin to 34-31. At the close of three quarters, it was still Flushing, 38-35.

Murdock was a key figure in the tense 4th quarter. Playing despite a dose of shots for a strep throat attack, the dynamic 5-5 playmaker dropped in a long shot to make it 38-37. Acton tied the count with a foul shot and Murdock sank a pair from the charity line to give Troy a lead, which it wasn't to lose.

Misled foul shots kept the Colts in hot water, however, as they blew 15, including 8 in the last period.

Another basket by Acton had given Troy a 4-point lead going into the last 2 minutes. Murdock swished another pair giving the Colts what looked like a safe gap, but Jack Pora made 2 free throws with 1:16 remaining, and was fouled again just one second later.

This time the rangy Raider center missed a pair. Flushing sub Nelson Barber and Acton matched free throws, but Bob Morris hooped a jump shot and Troy's lead was just 2 points with a half-minute left.

Flushing pressed and George Burnard, Bailey's substitute, was fouled and missed both shots. The last chance for the Genesee County five was blown as an out-of-bounds pass went awry. Troy stalled away 19 of the remaining 14 seconds, then found Acton under the net and the Colt captain dumped in a basket as the game ended.

Acton amassed 24 points and Murdock tossed in 15 for the Colts. Jim Pora with 13, and twin brother Jack, with 12, led the hoons. It was Troy's 11th straight victory, including 6 in tournament play, since Jan. 28 loss to Roseville. The Colts' record stands at 17-5. It was only the 2nd defeat in 20 games for Flushing.

At Birmingham, River Rouge

Barber meets Flint Central. Benton Harbor was victor over Muskegon Heights and Central defeated Arthur Hill, a fellow member of the hot Saginaw Valley Conference.

Bathers, the "Cinderella" team of the Birmingham Regionals, who ousted the Chiefs in that tourney for their 1st regional title, jumped into an early lead over the Polar Bears, but faded when the Parkers broke a 14-14 tie with a 3-point scoring rush by Jerry Fields, Don Schwiter and Ron Zill. Bathers got some of it back again with

At the start of the 3rd period Wink tossed in Bob Wegert and the bespectacled lad promptly went to work with a bucket, first of a run of 13 straight points for the Bears. Schwiter got 3 baskets, later added another to help boost his final total to 25 points, tops for the game. Altogether, in that 3rd frame, Bears compiled a sensational 26 points, collecting 11 goals on 22 shots at the hoops. The total was only one less than three times the

First rush of the 3rd period left the count at 46-31. Then it climbed to 50-32 and closed out at 59-39.

But the Bathers weren't through yet. They fired away in the early minutes of the final, with Brice and scrappy Marv Ulman dunking several goals apiece to collect 18 points.

Parkers were putting on a stall, but the Bathers' inroads into the margin broke it up. Bears then opened the throttle for 7 points. They added 2 more to one for Bob Lockwood's five before time closed down.

Parkers displayed one of the best balanced quintets to appear on the Pontiac High hardwoods this season. Besides having plenty of "gun" power whenever it was needed, Parkers had an effective defense that stopped the usually hot-shooting Bathers away under their average of the last four games.

Effective rebounding by Schwiter and Fields, particularly, and by Wegert in the 3rd period, were important facets of the Bears' play. Schwiter's 25 points were practically all scored on close-in under-the-basket shots.

Dennis Schultz, who broke a school record with his 30 points against Berkley in the regional final at Birmingham, dropped in a mere 4 points—for him—with one lone basket and 5 free throws.

Wednesday's crowd was estimated at above 2,500, with every vantage point filled. Fans were standing along the rails of the galleries, every seat was occupied and a row of spectators lined the south margin of the playing floor. It was a vociferous audience, about equally divided in its backing between the two clubs. Both schools had corps of hardworking cheerleaders and at times the noise was terrific.

Wink was proud of his club. "This is a pretty good ball club. The boys all worked hard, and we're glad to be up here again," he said after the game. Bathers' Lockwood was high in his opinion of the Bears. "Like I said before, if you get up to the top you have to beat 'em all off. We ran into a fine, well-balanced team that had just too much."

Jewelers Face Mt. Clemens in MRA Cage Test

District Tournament to Begin Friday Night in PHS Gym

A very tall Mt. Clemens team will provide the first-round opposition for Shaw's Jewelers Friday night as the Michigan Recreation Association Class A district tournament starts at Pontiac High School's gymnasium.

Pontiac and Mt. Clemens play at 8 p.m. and the winner meets Port Huron Miller Brase for the district title Saturday night at 8 p.m. The district champion advances to state title play in Grand Rapids next week.

Pat Glynn's Jewelers will be seeking the title they won in 1952. The Pontiac champs were finalists in the 1953 event, and semi-finalists last year.

Leading performers of Will & Schwartzoff, the Mt. Clemens representative, are Lum Bleser, 6-4 center, and Harry Van Fleet, 6-3 former Mt. Clemens High School cager.

Other team members are Bob Doan, Armand coach, all former New Haven High stars, Dan and Dennis Dryer.

Glynn's probable starters for Shaw's include forwards Ken Tithen and Bob McManus, center Sam Minard and guard Garland Townes. The other starter at guard will come from Max Berry, Ron Horwath or Don Robertson.

Jewelers boast strong bench strength including Hal Carlin, Cecil Hanes, Stu Dell, Chuck Pokorny and John Morris.

Rose Bowl Will Aid Olympics

Prices for January 1 Classic Uppe; Extra Cash to Games

PASADENA (AP)—The Rose Bowl football game will help pay for sending United States teams to the Olympics games.

The Pasadena Tournament of Roses Assn., the Pacific Coast and the Western Collegiate Conference have agreed to advance the price of tickets for the next Rose Bowl game Jan. 1, 1956, and the 50 cents extra charge will be contributed from each ticket to the U.S. Olympic games committee.

Details of the plan were worked out by Dr. Alfred Gerrie, president of the Tournament of Roses; Victor Schmidt of the PCC and Kenneth (Tug) Wilson of the Big Ten, and Wilbur Johns of UCLA, chairman of the special events committee of the NCAA.

They said that since so many of the nation's athletes are developed in intercollegiate competition, it was considered appropriate that a college athletic event by the means of raising funds for the U.S. Olympic team, year by year.

Fain Slowly Working Self Into Shape for 9 Innings

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Ferry Fain, taking a slow, cautious approach to spring training, is confident he'll be fit for regular duty at first base for the Detroit Tigers, his third American League club.

There was deep gloom in the Tiger camp after the first workout when their new first baseman barely was able to flip around. Everybody was concerned, especially the pitchers who had been counting on a tighter defense with a flashy fielder at first.

The front office was alarmed for it had given up Walt Dropo, Bob Nieman and Ted Gray last winter to get Fain and two others who figured only for reserve duty. Fain was the key to Detroit's side of the swap.

American Nine Nears P-A Championship

MEXICO CITY (U. S. P. A.) — The U. S. today appeared to have the first round Pan American baseball tournament in the bag.

It would take a longshot upset to deprive the North Americans of first place in the round ending today. The U. S. takes on fourth place Venezuela and second place Dominican Republic meets the Caribbean Dutch West Indies.

The U. S. defeated the Dutch West Indies 12-7 yesterday and Mexico triumphed over Venezuela 5-3 moving into third place while Venezuela dropped to fourth.

Michigan State boxers John Trahan and Robert Boudreaux both are three-time Louisiana state high school champions.

Wings, Canucks Fight for Top; Richard on Shelf

MONTREAL (U. S. P. A.) — The tumultuous suspension of Maurice Richard, Montreal's scrappy high-scoring forward, figured to erupt into further fan outbursts tonight as the beleaguered Canadiens battle the Detroit Red Wings in a game that could pitch the National Hockey League title either way.

"L'Affaire Richard" exploded yesterday when NHL President Clarence Campbell banned Richard for the remaining games of the regular season and from the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Canadiens and Red Wings are tied for the NHL lead going into tonight's game as the result of Detroit's 5-4 victory over Boston last night. Montreal has two more games to play, at home to New York Saturday and at Detroit Sunday. The Montreal games are the only ones left for Detroit.

Richard's suspension, which benches the leading NHL scorer and most productive goal-maker in hockey history at a critical time, resulted from a wild night at Boston Sunday. In the melee, Richard, a rough and ready guy, laid his stick to Boston's Hal Laycoe and landed a chop to the eye of linesman Cliff Thompson.

Campbell, who's had run-ins with Richard and Montreal fans in the past, held his decision off until yesterday. Then in a 1,200-word statement, he lowered the boom on The Rocket.

The word spread and echoed back to Campbell's office in the form of threats on his life and pleading demands to reconsider. One telephone call warned the president's office would be blown up. Another: "When I find Campbell I will kill him."

Montreal club officials were unheard from, although they may enter an official protest today at the severity of the suspension.

Earl (Dutch) Reibel's 30-footer late in the third period boosted Detroit into the first place tie last night. Montreal, hoping to snap Detroit's seven-year grip on the NHL title, was idle.

Gordie Howe scored his 27th and 27th goals, making him the third highest scorer in NHL history, but it was Reibel's night. He had assisted on three earlier goals before scoring the clincher.

In the only other game last night, Chicago and New York tied 1-1 at St. Louis.

Souchak Fires 66 in St. Pete's Warmup

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (U. S. P. A.) — Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C., the ex-Duke University football player who's now making a pretty good living out of pro golf, is the man to be reckoned with in the St. Petersburg Open golf tournament starting today.

He turned in a practice 6-under-par 66 yesterday on the Lakewood Course, site of the 72-hole $12,500 tournament.

Sad Sam Jones Back Again, May Make Grade as Cub

MESA, Ariz. (INB) — When former pitcher Dizzy Dean predicted "big things" for Sad Sam Jones of the Cleveland Indians in 1952, only the greatest of pessimists would not believe it would come true.

After a successful winter season in 1954, however, the 6-foot, 4-inch Jones' arm went "dead." He spent the past two seasons with the Tribe's Indianapolis club in the American Association.

The righthander is back for another chance now and today wears the uniform of the Chicago Cubs. Sam was part of the deal which sent slugger Ralph Kiner to the Indians.

Manager Stan Hack is impressed with Jones' showing this spring. He said:

"Everything was said about this guy three years ago. They said he couldn't miss. But suddenly his arm went dead. Well, you'd never know it now. He looks terrific. He'll get every chance.

"I know Hank Greenberg was high on him and Hank wouldn't feel that way if the guy didn't have it."

Amateurs Are Gulfport Threats

Dale Morey Shoots 63 in Tune-Up for Tourney in Mississippi

GULFPORT, Miss. (U. S. P. A.) — Dale Morey of Indianapolis, Ind., and three other amateurs promised stiff resistance to professionals today as a field of more than 150 teed off in the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational golf tournament.

Last year, amateur Eddie Merrens of Meridian, Miss., won the tournament with a five-stroke buge over the nearest professional. His 72-hole card of 275 was nine strokes under par and set a record for the Great Southern Country Club course.

Morey showed signs of tantalizing his play-for-pay colleagues by tying the course record with a practice round 63.

Hillman Robbins of Memphis, National Intercollegiate ruler, and Morey's teammate on the U.S. Walker Cup team, is another amateur accorded high pre-tournament rating.

CASE—Proper Hand Turn.

Bowling and golf have a "point of explosion" just before the lowest point of the downswing is reached. In golf, the full accumulated force of the clubhead is applied about 12 inches before impact—before the ball is struck. In bowling, the explosion point, as sketch shows, is identical—as the ball enters its lowest arc.

Here the wrist has turned slightly, and naturally, so that the fingers are on the right and a little behind the ball. And

Americans Continue to Boost Pan-Am Games Total

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Wes Santee was here to run in the 1,500-meter qualifying heats today in the Pan-American Games.

More newsworthy was the point that the lanky lad from Kansas slipped into town most unobtrusively.

And 24 hours later Santee, who can talk himself into and out of everything but the 4-minute mile had not issued a statement regarding the games, the track, the 4-minute mile or Wes Santee.

Santee renewed acquaintance with at least two familiar rivals, Bob McMillen of the U.S. Army, and little Fred Dwyer, who wrestled him to a one-fall finish in the epic Millrose Mile in New York this winter.

The United States' lead for the unofficial championships of the games continued to bulge.

Paced by her powerful track and field team, and with the aid of winners in the lesser sports, the unofficial points today had the U.S.A. in front with 279.

The leading rivals were Argentina, the defending Pan-Am champion, 90½; Mexico and Brazil tied with 36½; Cuba 35, Chile 27, and Venezuela 26.

Uncle Sam's track and field men inflicted three more one-two scoring punches yesterday, but the most interesting result came in the hop, skip and jump.

This event seldom excites Yankee fans. But it had 30,000 or so fans in National University in an uproar, a few North Americans included, when Admar Da Silva of Brazil broke the world record with a great leap of 16.56 meters, or 54 feet, 4 inches.

This eclipsed the mark of 16.23 meters, or 53 feet, 2½ inches, set by Leonid Scherbakov of Russia in 1953, who in turn had taken the title set up in the 1952 Olympics by Da Silva.

Later, in Latin anti-climatic fashion, it became known that Arnoldo Devanish, Venezuela, had done 16.13 meters, or 52 feet, 11 inches, for second place. Hop, skip and jump historians say this is the only time two men executed the H-S-J beyond 16 meters in one meet.

The three gold medal winners for the U.S.A. were Lt. Rod Richard in the 200 meters, with a time of 20.7, one-tenth of a second over the best in the world; big Bob Backus of New York in the hammer throw, with 54.91 meters, or 180 feet, 1¼ inches; and Barbara Jones, Chicago, in the 100-meter dash in 11.5.

All marks were new meet records.

Placing second were Charley Thomas of Texas in the 200 meters; Martin Engel of New York in the hammer throw; and Mae Faggs, New York, in the 100.

In the 200-meters Richard, formerly of UCLA, had a time on a race around a curve second only to one turned in by Andy Stanfield in Los Angeles in 1952.

The U.S. weightlifting team made it six out of seven first places with a victory in the heavy-weight class by Norbert Schemansky, Detroit policeman. He raised 472½ kilograms, or 1,039½ pounds.

The unbeaten U.S. women's basketball team won its third straight, a 73-53 rout of Chile.

In baseball, the U.S. rapped out 13 hits to whip the Dutch West Indies 12-7.

Knicks, Celtics Even, Lakers 1 Up on Royals

New Yorkers Forced to Come From Behind for 102-95 NBA Victory

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New York Knickerbockers and Boston's Celtics were all square in one-half of the National Basketball Assn. first round playoffs today and the Minneapolis Lakers were one-up on the Rochester Royals in the other.

The Knicks squared their series at 1-1 last night with a 102-95 victory over the Celtics. The deciding game to provide the opponent for the Syracuse Nationals, Eastern Division champions, will be played at New York's Madison Square Garden Saturday afternoon.

The Lakers edged the Royals 82-78 in their first encounter to decide the opponent for the Fort Wayne Pistons, Western Division titlists, in the semifinal best-of-five series. They'll resume their rivalry at Rochester Friday with the third game, if necessary, slated for St. Paul Saturday.

In whipping the Celtics last night, the Knicks were forced to come off a 59-48 deficit with a great display of basketball in the last half. Ray Felix was the difference. The 6-11 center scored only four points but he was the chief reason the Knicks kept possession of the ball in the second half. Nat Clifton led the New York scoring parade with 25 points, one less than Bob Cousy flipped in for Boston.

Rochester broke away to an early lead over Minneapolis but the Lakers led at the half 38-35 and then came from behind again after Arnie Risen had given Rochester a 63-69 edge with 4½ minutes remaining. Clyde Lovellette led the Lakers with 26 points.

DYKES TAKES ONE—Bobby Dykes of Miami (right) takes a left to the midsection by Kid Gavilan of Havana, Cuba in the last round of their 10-round nationally televised welterweight contest at Miami Stadium Wednesday night. Dykes seems to be more concerned with the right cocked by Gavvy. However, neither punch did much damage and Dykes scored a unanimous decision over the former welter champ.

Dykes Whips Kid Gavilan, Hopes to Challenge 'Bobo'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"We're going after Bobo Olson and his middleweight title," was the word today from the camp of a jubilant Bobby Dykes.

The lanky ex-Texas who fights out of Miami whipped Kid Gavilan, the former welterweight king, in a rousing 10-rounder at Miami Stadium last night.

"We're going after Olson," said Maston O'Neal, manager of Dykes, and the 26-year-old fighter nodded agreement.

Sharp rights and lefts to the Cuban's head earned the unanimous decision for Dykes, who fought at long range while Gavilan frequently tied him up and pounded his ribs and mid-section.

Gavilan appeared to have lost much of his steam and never once threw his famous "bolo" punch. When newsmen asked him what he thought of the fight, he shot back:

"You had eyes. What did it look like to you?"

Gavilan, who admits to being 28, said he had been fighting 18 years but when asked if he plans to retire, answered:

"No, I've got three or four years of fighting in me."

It was Gavilan's second defeat in three starts since he lost the title to Johnny Saxton in Philadelphia last October.

Only Defending Champ Loses in Bengal Bouts

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Harry Higa of Wahiawa, Hawaii, the only defending champion, lost his 125-pound crown last night in the 24th annual Bengal boxing bouts at the University of Notre Dame.

Al Stepan of Winnetka, Ill., was awarded the title after Higa sprained an ankle in the 2nd round of their match and was unable to continue.

The intramural bouts, proceeds of which go to Bengal Catholic charities, were witnessed by 4,000 fans.

Within a 500-mile circle drawn around Pittsburgh lies more population and manufactured wealth than in any other metropolitan region.

Thorpe, Cohen Latest Cub Star Tandem

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
All things but championships come in pairs at Wrigley Field on Chicago's near Northside, where no pennants wave on the walls of ivy.

It was Larry French and Bill Lee who pitched the Cubs to their 1938 pennant. Hank Wyse and Hank Borowy did it in 1945. Billy Jurgens and Billy Herman once plugged the middle. More recently, it's been Hank Sauer and Ralph Kiner in the outfield and Ernie Banks and Gene Baker on the double play.

Now, it's Bob Thorpe and Hy Cohen, a pair of right-handed youngsters who may breathe some life into Manager Stan Hack's wheezing mound staff.

Thorpe is the more spectacular of the pair, although Cohen isn't far behind. It was the 26-year-old Thorpe who hung up the best record in the minors last season at 28-4. He's the first kid ever to jump from Class C to the Cubs.

Thorpe, 6-1 and 170 pounds, just about owned the California State League batters last year while flicking his fast one in for Stockton. He had a 2.28 earned run average, completed 32 of the 33 games he started and hurled five shutouts.

Cohen, 24, had a 1.88 ERA last season with Des Moines, an all-time low in the Western League. The 6-5, 215-pounder had a 16-6 record after returning from service. He started the year at Los Angeles, was 0-0 in nine appearances. Six shutouts, 100 strikeouts and only 53 bases on balls are on his '54 record.

The youngsters showed their stuff for Hack and the Cubs yesterday. And although the world champion New York Giants took the game 5-3, they didn't take much from the two kids.

Three gave up just one hit in three shutout innings. Cohen had trouble with Willie Mays and Monte Irvin, who gave a lot of pitchers trouble last season, but breezed past the rest of the champs. Mays and Irvin both figured in the two runs Cohen gave up. It was Irvin who slapped a bases-loaded single off Rookie Al Lary to break it up in the seventh.

Another Giant crew ran into a pair of veteran hurlers in Bob Feller and Bob Lemon and dropped a 6-4 decision to Cleveland.

Big innings were the rule yesterday. Brooklyn, which got three hits each from rookie Don Zimmer and Roy Capanella, slammed Baltimore for five runs in the first and five more in the third en route to an 18-8 romp.

And the Milwaukee Braves got five walks and four unearned runs in a five-run eighth to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 11-10.

Jim Pendleton broke up the game for Milwaukee, hitting an eighth-inning single with the bases jammed by the Cards' free passes.

The Chicago White Sox scheduled just one game with the New York Yankees this spring, and ran off with it 3-1 on the three-hit pitching of Bob Chakales and Sandy Consuegra. Bullet Bob Turley, the young righthander from the Orioles, again failed to please.

Davis Quintet Bows in Inter-City Test

Pontiac Class B champion, Davis Machinery, went to the sidelines in the Inter-City Recreation basketball tournament at Highland Park's Hackett Fieldhouse Wednesday night as Detroit put the bumper to the Davis five, 65-45.

With Zalski showing the way with 19 points, Detroit outscored the Pontiac entry in every period. Pete Palsham was the Davis pacesetter with 15 points.

Pontiac Davis: 3 16 10 17-45

Detroit: 10 10 10 15-45

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers today — St. Patrick's Day — announced the signing of Patrick Joseph Ryan, former Holy Cross College quarterback.

College Cage Rules Are Likely to Stay Unchanged

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Despite the commotion over the bonus free throw and stalling this season, college basketball's code for 1956 may remain virtually unchanged.

This was the consensus as some 300 mentors assembled today for the 29th annual convention of the National Assn. of Basketball Coaches.

The college group weighs prospective rules changes for the National Basketball Committee which meets Sunday and Monday to draw up next season's playing code.

An authoritative source said the free throw rule and undue stalling would be prime discussion subjects at the confab.

But this source said most coaches felt the bonus free throw — an extra toss for a successful one-shot foul — was an improvement over the previous "one and one" foul setup in which a second toss could be tried if the first one missed.

As for stalling, the sentiment of coaches seemed to be that the college game is not likely to follow the pro requirement of shooting within 24 seconds of gaining possession.

Team Number 9 Holds CAI Archery Loop Lead

Team number 9 continues to hold a 2-point lead over team number one in Waterford CAI Archery League following Tuesday night's shooting.

Tom Adams led the men in high free style score with 255. John Ardelan had 211 instinctive.

Sue Smith was the women's leader in free style with 143, while Polly Babin shot 160 instinctive.

Will 'Bobo' Meet Him?

Joey Giardello Convicted of Assault, His Future Rests With Ring Commission

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joey Giardello was under an assault conviction today with his immediate ring future up to the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, an appeal court and Carl (Bobo) Olson, the man he'd like to succeed as midweight boxing champion.

Giardello, who recently launched a campaign to convince the public he really is a nice guy, was found guilty last night on charges he attacked a gasoline station attendant with a crutch during a row last Oct. 29.

The attorney for the top 160-pound contender announced he would carry an appeal to a higher court and sentence was deferred by Quarter Session Judge Edward P. Little. Giardello faces a maximum penalty of eight years and a $3,500 fine. The minimum would be a period of probation.

Olson declined to give Giardello another crack at his title while the assault trial was pending. Whether Giardello's conviction would wipe out any chance at a title fight remains to be seen.

The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission recently announced new requirements for anyone engaged in the fight or wrestling business in the state, including the submission of fingerprints and a statement of any criminal record. The commission in each case will decide whether to permit the fighter, wrestler or manager to operate. There was no immediate comment from the commissioners in the Giardello situation.

An appeal could drag out for as long as a year and the state commission may permit Giardello to box in the meantime. He has had several fights, all victories, since his arrest.

The South Philadelphia fighter was released in $1,000 bail pending his appeal. He appeared stunned as the seven women and five men on the jury were polled after announcing their verdict, reached in five and a half hours of deliberation. The trial lasted three days.

Giardello was charged specifically with inciting to riot, conspiracy to riot, riot, aggravated assault and battery and simple assault and battery.

The commonwealth contended that the 24-year-old Giardello and three companions engaged in a brawl with attendant Howard Short, 31, after pulling into his service station for gasoline.

Paul Bunyan Back 'Home' at University

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams' Paul Bunyan Trophy is back on the University of Michigan campus but is not on display.

The trophy, awarded annually to the winner of the Michigan-Michigan State football game, was stolen from a storeroom at the university stadium early this year.

But it wasn't missed until an anonymous letter to the student newspaper at Michigan State College brought the matter to public attention.

An unidentified student returned the trophy this week and said he had taken it because it was getting "shabby treatment."

Athletic Director H. O. (Fritz) Crisler confirmed that the trophy had been returned but said it would not be displayed because its gigantic size prevents giving it "full and adequate protection."

"We hate to think of disciplinary action for something done as a prank," Dean of Men Walter Rea said. "We are just glad to have it back."

Outfielders for Bosox Hitting

Jensen, Throneberry, Piersall Get Six Hits in 17-12 Loss

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 17 (AP) — Boston Red Sox Manager Mike Higgins can take heart from the improved slugging of his outfielders — especially Jackie Jensen.

Jensen slammed a 400-foot three-run homer, a double and a single in yesterday's 17-12 Grapefruit League loss to the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League.

Faye Throneberry, the young left fielder, connected for a three-run double while Jimmy Piersall went 2-5 at the plate. Together the trio accounted for 6 of the team's 11 hits.

Boston has lost three of four games to National League opposition this spring but holds a 3-1 edge over AL foes.

Pravda Strikes at 3 Ministries

Coal, Motor and Tool Chiefs Are Probably on Their Way Out

LONDON (INS) — The Soviet Communist Party paper Pravda denounced in bitter terms today three key Russian ministries.

Pravda's leading article, broadcast by Radio Moscow, said the ministries of coal, motor and machine tools were examples of "harmful complacency, conceit and arrogance."

The story added that it executives of the motor industry "above all the Communists" had shown a sense of responsibility towards the country, Soviet agriculture "would long ago have received the very badly needed machines and parts."

The attack probably heralded the departure of the three ministers responsible, Alexander Zasyadko for coal, Stepan Akopov for motor and Anatoly Kostousov for machine tools.

The ministries all are important ones in the implementation of the renewed Soviet drive for increasing production of heavy industry and agriculture.

The three men are holdovers from the administration of former Premier Georgi Malenkov, who resigned after a confession of guilt for failings in the field of economics.

Malenkov had fostered a policy of increasing production of consumer goods, a departure from traditional Soviet economics as laid down by Lenin and Stalin.

At the same time, the Warsaw radio broadcast a report by Polish Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz which demonstrated that the Moscow return to the older line had become effective in the Red satellite.

The Polish Premier said there must be a greater output of heavy industrial goods to increase defense potential.

He forecast trouble for some Polish Reds with the comment, "We cannot keep silent over our shortcomings, especially those shown by economic and state administration."

GOC Adds Members

Seven new sky-watchers are on the Pontiac Ground Observer Corps roster as the result of an open house at the post atop the Oakland County Office Building Tuesday night. Post Supervisor Arthur J. Heaton reported 40 visitors attended.

Summerfield Asks for Help in Mail Clean-Up

WASHINGTON (INS)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield appealed for public help today in a new "clean up the mails" campaign designed to block a rising tide of obscene books, magazines and similar material.

At the same time Summerfield said "abysmal ignorance" is displayed by those who cry "censorship" when such steps are taken.

The postal chief said his staff is confronted by a 73 per cent increase during the past six months in cases involving "risque snapshots, pornographic magazines and books, lascivious slides and 'party' films and records."

Summerfield said such material should be barred from the mails if it violates what he called "the ordinary standard of common decency of average representative citizens."

Announcing the new "clean-up" campaign, the Cabinet officer suggested that anyone who receives such material should turn it over to his local postmaster for transmission to authorities in Washington.

Pontiac JA Company Enters 2-Day Event

A Pontiac Junior Achievement company will be one of 20 JA firms from throughout southeastern Michigan participating in "JA Sales Days" at a Detroit department store March 26 and 28.

The firm, Jarmco, sponsored by Baldwin Rubber Co., will sell its rubber-and-carpeting utility mats during the two-day event, President Nancy Nicholson, 16, of 76 Dwight St., announced today.

Jarmco is one of a dozen Pontiac JA firms sponsored by local industrial firms, utilities and service clubs.

Council's City Chapter Announces New President

Pontiac Area Chapter of the International Council for Exceptional Children has named Mrs. William M. Sax as president of the organization for the coming year.

At a meeting held at the Webster School, Mrs. Sax, who is speech correctionist supervisor for the Waterford Township Schools, was named along with Eleanor Traut, physical therapist at Whittier School as vice-president.

Beverly Eaton, Whittier school speech correctionist, was elected to the post of secretary-treasurer.

Detroit Pleads Guilty to Destroying Property

Robert Kimberly, 49, of 1141 Merick, Detroit, yesterday pleaded guilty to malicious destruction of property and Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick set sentencing for March 21.

Kimberly admitted smashing cupboards, a stove and other furnishings Nov. 13 in a home at 27551 Northwestern Hwy. from which he had been evicted the previous day, according to Assistant Prosecutor Donald A. Brown.

Scientists claim 16 million tons of water are evaporated per second from the earth.

Man Admits Breakin

In Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday, Roy Hanks, 32, of 4009 Livorno, Birmingham, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick set sentencing for March 28. Hanks admitted entering the Main Theater in Royal Oak Feb. 7.

Rochester Incorporation Meeting Attracts Residents

County PTA, Church and Club Groups Hold Elections, Name Officers for 1955

Numerous county Parent-Teacher Associations and clubs have held elections of officers recently, and named new slates to run their organizations for the coming year.

Here are a few of the new leaders:

Frank Williamson has been named president of the Waterford Rotary Club, with Edward Fuller as vice president, Col. Fred Thompson, secretary, and Gerald Monroe, treasurer.

The Rev. Arvid Anderson and Alfred R. St. Lawrence will serve as directors. Installation will be July 1.

Heading the new slate of the Lapeer Hospital Auxiliary is Mrs. John Thompson as director, with Mrs. Charles Conway as alternate.

Monument Tells Polish-American Pioneer's Story

AVOCA, Wis. (UP) — In fewer words than required to write this story, the history of one man's fight for freedom is inscribed in a country churchyard here.

It tells how Wincenty Daleswowski forsook great wealth to become a common laborer but a free man in America.

A 7-foot-high monument to Daleswowski, a Pole, bears this inscription:

"Born a nobleman of great wealth, Wincenty Daleswowski embraced in 1830 the tenets of the Polish revolution."

"His cause of defeat, his wealth confiscated, he secured exile to America from Nicholas of Russia through the intervention of his friend, Ferdinand of Austria. Sailed from Trieste, November 1832. Arrived in New York, March 1834."

"Began his trek westward May 21, 1835. Engaged as a smelter of ore with William S. Hamilton of Galena, Nov. 17, 1835. On Sept. 4, 1838, he took up his first tract of government land, now Avoca."

Pepper Council With Questions

Expense Is Keynote As Proposed Change Undergoes Debate

ROCHESTER — Approximately 100 Rochester and Avon Township residents peppered the village council and its engineers with questions last night in the second open meeting on the proposed incorporation of the village as a city.

How the change would affect their pocketbooks was the main tenor of questions from the floor in the two-hour session in the high school gym.

When the debate quieted, five petitions seeking to have the question put to vote were placed in circulation.

The village council in a December report recommended that the village incorporate to solve its "fringe area problems" of providing sewer, water and other facilities to adjoining areas.

Included in the incorporation plan is 4.2 square miles of Avon Township land, including two large industrial plants valuable as tax bases.

Avon officials and some residents have protested the proposed change, which would increase the village's assessed valuation from $4,000,000 to $10,000,000 and its area from 1.6 to 5.8 square miles.

Village President Clarence Burr conducted the meeting, and opened it with a brief outline of the recommendations of the village council, as contained in the report.

"The village cannot keep extending its service to the outlying areas without placing a burden on the taxpayers, therefore, we should include these new areas of growth within our tax base," Burr stated.

He added that incorporation to the new limits is needed before the areas develop with gravel roads, wells and septic tanks typical of township growth and urged those present to help put the question to a public vote.

Avon Township Supervisor C. E. Miller asked the council, if incorporation is good for part of Avon Township, why it wouldn't be good for the entire township?

Another question from Miller was how the proposed village would do financially, if it tripled its area, but only doubled its income?

Katy Jurado to Get Role in MGM 'Trial'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Katy Jurado, who insists she wants to win the best supporting actress Oscar "not for me, but for my country, Mexico," gets another chance to reflect credit on her "country" when she goes to MGM for an important role.

The Mexican charmer gets to play the mother of the youth accused of murder in "Trial," the Don Mankiewicz prize winning novel. It's a dramatic part, because through the mother's misdirected efforts to help her son she involves him with Communist supporters.

Glenn Ford, John Hodiak, the male stars, and Mark Robson, director, won't do her any harm, either.

P.S. Oh, yes, I forgot to mention that Katy's nomination for an Academy Award is for her performance in "Broken Lance."

The very nasty spill Norma Shearer received at Sun Valley while she was skiing has put her in a wheelchair and she'll be in a cast for months.

She has a severed Achilles tendon in her ankle and she'll have to use crutches for a time after she gets out of her wheelchair.

She's one of the few absolutely fearless people on skis, and sometime ago Norma had a spill almost as bad as this one, but I suppose it's typical of devotees of this fascinating sport to ask for more.

Spencer Tracy is free to go to Europe and stay until June 1. He was called back for "Jeremy Rodock," but when Grace Kelly decided it was not her cup of tea, MGM decided to make some changes in the story and to postpone the picture until summer.

Lately, Spence spends more time away from Hollywood than he does here, and he usually wanders to Europe about this time of the year.

He came back, after "Bad Day at Black Rock" received such favorable notices and did such good business in the theaters, to start "Jeremy Rodock" sooner than had been originally planned.

I always believe in tracking a story to its source, so when I heard that Mary Pickford had been at Paramount talking to Y. Frank Freeman, I asked him if it were true, as I had heard, that she is buying a story about Chevalier.

He laughed and said, "Your information is wrong. She came to buy some of our cameras and lights which we are not using since we put in VistaVision."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Billy Bakewell and Diane Griffith, whom he married last September, will be three this fall—and is Billy happy about the expected arrival!

That fine actor of many years, Fred Stone, is very sick at his North Hollywood home and faces surgery on his eye, I'm sorry to say.

Christian Dior will personally supervise the wedding dress fittings of Olivia De Havilland, whose marriage to Pierre Galante is set for April 1.

In a candlelight dinner, Linda Christian and Edmund Purdom and the Peter Shaws had dinner at Frascati's. Linda didn't say whether the $132,000 worth of jewels were in Mexico or right here—but I hear tell they are there.

Wealthy Ed Herrscher, widower of Mrs. Charles (Seabiscuit) Howard, and owner of the Mayfair Markets, is marrying Mrs. Thanos Skouras, widow of the nephew of Spyros and George Skouras.

Gary Crosby's new date at the Luau was pretty brunette Barbara Drake.

Piper Laurie and Dick Cane, who were an every night twosome when he first came back from overseas, picked up where they left off a few nights ago by going to the fights at Ocean Park.

After the St. Patrick's Day parade in New York tomorrow, composer Jimmy McHugh takes himself to Boston to see his sisters and brother. He'll get a little of St. Patrick's Day there, too. There are plenty of Irish in Boston.

At the Encore, Marietta Pavan and Arthur Loew Jr., a new twosome.

Care of Health Cheaper Than Maintaining Cars

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—It costs less to keep the average man healthy than it does to maintain his automobile, says a Stanford University physician. It can be done, the doctor added, by having regular periodic health examinations—by getting a medical check-up every six months or so even when you are well.

Dr. H. Corwin Hinshaw, Stanford chest physician, writing in the Bulletin of the National Tuberculosis Assn., says:

"Maintenance of a man costs less than maintenance of an automobile. The cost of trading the serviceable old car for a new model is greater than the cost of a major illness."

"The cost of maintaining a good sickness insurance policy is less than the cost of smoking a package of cigarettes daily."

"Women spend more in beauty parlors than in doctors' offices. Many families who spend hundreds of dollars annually on luxuries and vices are considered to be 'medically indigent.' Values and standards are distorted through ignorance and improvidence."

Army, AF to Call Up 24,200 ROTC Cadets

WASHINGTON (U)—The Army and Air Force will call for active duty about 24,200 ROTC cadets graduating from college this year. About 10,200 will be Air Force cadets and remainder Army. They will get reserve commissions as second lieutenants.

In addition, the Air Force will order to active training duty about 3,500 ROTC graduates of last year who could not be taken by the Air Force but who accepted Air National Guard commissions as second lieutenants.

Songstress Carol Bruce Drives Latin Berserk

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A Soused American using a count title got unduly amorous toward singer Carol Bruce—and several chivalrous gents went for him at a party given for Dolores Gray when she was leaving for Hollywood. He bit one fellow's finger to the bone, then seized a knife which'd been used to cut the party cake, and tried to stab a few folks. He was chucked out mumbling that this was a fine way to treat a Latin lover, then got his car and tried to run over the guests who'd ousted him.

I hear the craziest rumors. One was that Marilyn Monroe and Rory Calhoun were once secretly married. I phoned lovely Lita Baron (Mrs. Calhoun) and she said "It's preposterous"—then suddenly she said, "Oh, I know how that started, but it wasn't true. They WERE married—in the movie, 'River of No Return'."

Ed Sullivan drove 100 miles-an-hr. the other night, but police applauded. In fact, CAROL BRUCE escorted him. He was racing from Rockford, Ill., to Beloit, Wis., to stage two shows for 7700 people. Ed—whose show's now 3d—has 45 cows on his farm near Woodbury, Conn., but, being a city slicker, hasn't learned to milk.

President Eisenhower's fond of saying—when asked about running again—that only one President ever attained 70 in office and that he only lived 3 months. When he said this at a recent dinner, one guest said, "But hasn't medical science increased the life span recently?" Ike, with a grin, exclaimed, "You would ask that!"

Singer Genie Stone, the shapely magazine cover gal from San Francisco, who dances with the Blackburn Twins at the Copa—and is one of the biggest hits the Copa Lounge ever had—says she's so emotional, "When I watch TV, I cry at the commercials." . . . Cafe business is so slow that at one opening a ringsider said, "She's in complete command of her audience, what there is of it."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The gal mistaken for Marilyn Monroe at the Hampshire House was Mrs. Alan Gordon of L.A. (formerly Vera Shea of the chorus) mother of 3 . . . The Alfred Lunts are off to Genesee Depot, Wis., to see his sick mother, now 93.

Frank Sinatra's removed his wedding band . . . One of the key figures in the Jelke case opened a bar in Florida; another's married to a wealthy man in L.A. . . . Terri Stevens headlining at the Boulevard, was Desi Arnaz's last band vocalist before he became a TV hit.

Sammy Davis Jr.'ll get the Cash-box award as 1955's most promising singer . . . Walter Wanger's 15th wedding ann'y. gift to Joan Bennett: diamond earrings . . . Kay Marx (Groucho's ex) dated Warren Stevens—with Melinda Marx, 2, along as chaperone.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Roger Price saw a foreign car that was obviously made for export—the name on the radiator had an English subtitle.

Bob Olin was talking about Ken MacSarin, the fabulous eater: "Does he eat much? Why, he spills more on his vest in a night than most people eat in a month!" . . . That's earl, brother.

Detroit on Agenda of Red Students Visiting America

NEW YORK (U)—The 11 Russian student editors who will visit the United States are to tour from coast to coast and as far south as Tuskegee, Ala., according to reports of a Moscow radio broadcast.

The cities to be visited were listed as New York, Washington, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

"Instead of Atlanta, which is now in a prohibited area, the group will be able to visit the town of Tuskegee in the state of Alabama," the broadcast is reported to have said.

Tuskegee is the site of the Tuskegee Institute.

The State Department, in announcing last week its approval of the tour, named only New York and Washington as stopping places. It said most of the group are in their late 20s or early 30s, and classify as graduate students.

Say Children Abused by Rowdies on Buses

WARWICK, R. I. (U)—Parents of 10 Oakland Beach children who have been abused by rowdies on school buses decided at a neighborhood meeting last night to keep the children home "until some action is taken to protect the youngsters."

They complained the children have been "burned, assailed, assaulted, kicked and abused" by older children on the buses. School officials say the matter is in the hands of Juvenile Court.

English Immigrant Dies at Age 107 in Munising

MUNISING (INS) — Mrs. Jane Lockwood, a resident of Munising for 65 years, died yesterday at the age of 107.

Mrs. Lockwood was born June 22, 1848, in Cornwall, England. She came to the United States at the age of 16 with her father. She moved from Copper Harbor, Mich., to Munising in 1890.

Survivors include two sons, three daughters and 158 grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Idled Railroad Goes to Court

Seeks Restoration of Order Forcing Crews to Cross Picket Lines

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U)—The Court of Appeals will serve as judge today in the legal tug-of-war arising from the four-day-old Louisville & Nashville Railroad strike.

The railroad's goal: restoration of an order forcing train crews to cross picket lines erected by 25,000 strikers in 14 states. Arguments will be heard in Frankfort.

After suspending all passenger trains yesterday (about 50 were involved) the L. & N. sued two groups of unions for a total of $645,000 for alleged damages resulting from the walkout.

The Circuit Court petitions also ask $215,000 each day the 10 AFL nonoperating unions continue their strike.

The six operating unions, which have been respecting picket lines, were accused of breaking their contract with the railroad by not operating the trains.

No hearing was set on the damage suits but the unions have 20 days in which to reply. They declined comment last night.

The strike, which affects two subsidiaries of the L. & N.—The Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway and the Clinchfield Railroad—added other casualties to the list yesterday. They were the Atlanta & West Point and Georgia Railroads and the Atlanta Joint Terminals.

Circuit Judge Stuart E. Lampe, who issued the original order requiring operating crews to bypass picket lines, said it was a "mistake." In quashing the order, he upheld a union contention that the Kentucky Constitution's prohibition of involuntary servitude was applicable in this case.

Ex-Ice Pro Weds Today

Singapore Train All Spruced Up and Plenty Busy

SINGAPORE (U)—The demand for tickets on the night train from Singapore to Kuala Lumpur is so brisk that they must be picked up 48 hours before departure.

The Malayan Railways is getting back some of the business lost to airlines because of Communist terrorism. There was a time when it was common for terrorists to derail and wreck passenger trains.

A train wreck hasn't happened for a long time now, for the Reds have been driven deeper into the jungle. The railway administration has lost no time in bettering its service.

It has ordered six new diesel engines and turned out new air-conditioned sleeping and restaurant cars. All engines are painted in bright colors. At the central terminals of Singapore and the Malayan capital of Kuala Lumpur, there are brunettes "train hostesses" to give travel tips and to make a train journey generally more pleasant.

Sees Hope in H-Bomb

LONDON (U)—The Archbishop of York, Dr. Cyril Garbett, said possession of the hydrogen bomb seems to be at the moment "the one possibility of preserving peace in the years immediately ahead."

If so, it would be madness to close the doors to this possibility.

FBI Probing Strike Vandals

Southern Bell Reports More Cable-Cutting in 4-Day-Old Walkout

ATLANTA (U)—The FBI joined union and company officials today in probing a wave of vandalism in the four-day-old strike of Southern Bell Telephone Co. workers in nine Southeastern states.

Lamare reports continued to mount while negotiators tried to reach agreement on a new contract for the estimated 50,000 workers affected by the walkout.

The FBI entered the picture after a cable serving several government offices in West Palm Beach, Fla., was cut yesterday.

There have been numerous reports of cable cuttings in four states. Cables also have been put out of commission by gunfire or pulled down by ropes or wires. In all cases the damage has been found and repaired.

The strike began Monday after failure to agree on a new contract. Southern Bell offered wage hikes it said would cost an additional six million dollars annually, provided the union accepted a no-strike clause. The union said 5,000 workers would not receive wage increases and that many other issues still are to be agreed upon.

Sinatra, Shore, LaRosa Among Others Picked by Jack O'Brien

By JACK O'BRIEN

NEW YORK—This is the third of season-end decisions on the best shows of the TV year; purely nominations of this pillar, and not to be construed as the opinion of anyone living or lying.

Best popular singers, male and female: Girls first. And egad, there is a load of them!

We are committed for many an annual year to the dulcet dignity of Jane Froman's lovely delivery and taste in everything from tunes to duds and therefore it is with a small twinge that we discard her in this final personal balloting.

We have a more recent and pleasant flaring of the eardrums when in range of Gisele MacKenzie's vocalizations but we also have decided it is not all her voice that glitters in our admiring reactions; she also has a rich and potent personality and, via the Jack Benny guestings, a clearly important inclination toward clowning, so we set aside also this MacKut in our final inspection on said subject of distaff troubadours.

Dinah Shore gets our regular annual attention, and she has virtually all it takes to satisfy our needs in soothing feminine roundelay, and it hurts again to let Dinah's contention fall away in the finals.

PECKY King of the George Gobel hijinks has had a notable nomination up to this last decision, as also such old favorite cardholders as Lee Wiley, Sarah Vaughan, Ella Fitzgerald, Carmen McRae, June Christy, and sends more; but we must, like Jenny, make up our mind, and it is finally and irrevocably—Jo Stafford.

Jo has a remarkably well-rounded array of vocal talents; she presents a sort of disciplined timbre in delivery, tone and timbre.

Her voice is like a cello in the lady's range, with the gentlest hint of a vibrato to give it an almost unselfish push away from what could be monotony of tone with less color and freshness in it.

Jo sings just about anything short of an unholy riotous display and were not at all certain, handed an ultimatum, that she mightn't let down the ladylike barrier and get with it.

Now a little less time with the gentlemen: In contention is Eddie Fisher by virtue of his continuing attractions for the junior set and a steady popularity in the TV ratings; also Gordon MacRae with soothing leather in his voice and a friendly, intelligent telecast-side manner; and Julius La Rosa, who is asserting his musicianship as he progresses and prospers; Frank Sinatra rates the highest regard even for his uncommonly few TV appearances; but we must, as the fight writers say, go with Perry Como as our special here in the TV male vocalist sweeps.

"Mr. Nice Guy," as his title sets so jauntily on his well-bared noggin, is our clear choice. Perry's creamy tones, relaxed manner, stubbornly respectful attitude, his pleasant dignity at all times on and off TV have turned him into an entertainment giant fairly early in his life. Fine fellow, fine voice, and our best choice.

German Castles House Tourists

Poor Titled Families Take In Travelers to Keep Wolf Away

FRANKFURT (UP)—West Germany's poor but titled families are throwing open their stately homes to tourists to make an honest dollar.

The latest issue of the West German Tourist Association's information bulletin offers accommodation in a genuine Rhineland castle for as little as 75 cents a day.

The association said some of the castles prepared to take paying guests "belong to plain knights, others to princely families."

They are advertised as "tourist quarters extraordinary," and the association said that about 30 castles are available to the tourist seeking something different.

Among them is 150-year-old Krop Castle in the Palatinate, where prices range from 75 cents a day for a room to $1.75 for full board and lodging.

Higher up the titled scale is Jagdschloss Castle, the former home of Goetz von Berlichingen, the famous 16th Century "knight with the iron hand" immortalized by Goethe as the leader of a peasants' revolt against feudal prices.

Top rate for castle accommodation is $6.50 a day for room, bath and board.

So far none of the castles is advertising the family ghosts, but the spectre of dwindling incomes and high taxation is certainly among the reasons for the decision to turn the "stately homes of Deutschland" into hotels with built-in snob appeal.

Since the war Germany's titled families, probably the most numerous in Europe, have fallen on hard times.

Many of their money-making family estates have fallen into Russian hands or been "collectivized" by East German Communists.

In Western Germany the taxman, currency reform and the aftermath of war have done the damage.

Freiherr, barons and even counts have found themselves left with little but their aristocratic wits to keep the wolf from the castle door.

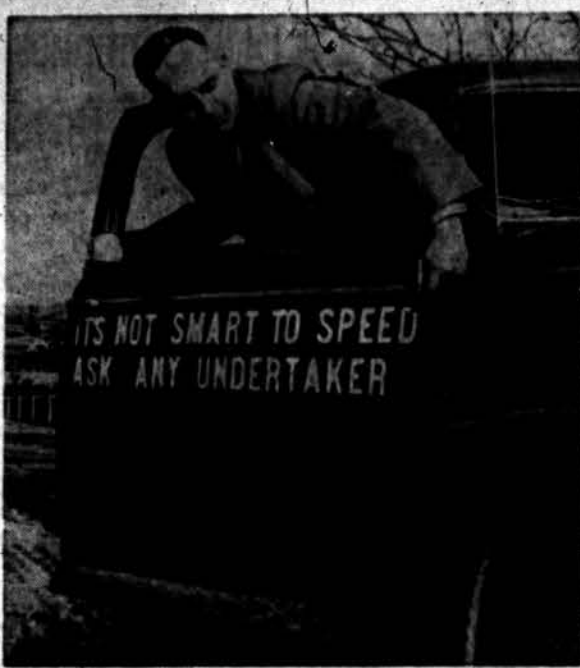

Frog Among Students on First Day of School

PLATTEKILL, N. Y. (UP)—Usually it's a little lamb that follows Mary to school, or maybe a dog that can't bear to be parted from its young master. But here the version was different.

When Plattekill School opened for 35 fifth graders, a dozen frogs gauged up at a cellar window, ostensibly hoping to get a drink at the font of knowledge.

Records of history show that Rodrigo de Triana, a sailor, was the first of Columbus' men to report the sight of land at 2 o'clock in the morning of the day of discovery.

CAR RAISES A POINT OF SAFETY—Ray Cain, a chauffeur for the Kansas City, Mo., board of education show a thought-provoking sign he painted on his car. He has spent an average of six hours per week painting such signs on his car, and in five years has painted 150 of them. Cain says he believes these signs help other motorists, who see them, drive more cautiously.

Speeder Gets Second Ticket for Warning

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—A motorist recently was clocked by a radar-speed-control unit and was given a summons for speeding 40 miles an hour.

Carl H. Hohmann, 25, took the summons politely and drove off. A short time later police found him a few blocks up the street waving a large sign at approaching cars. On the sign was printed the warning: "Cops."

Police took a dim view of Hohmann's action and issued another summons, charging him with violating a rarely used law which prohibits displaying a sign without permission.

Cases of measles and whooping cough reported during 1954 were almost 50 per cent greater than the year before, but the death rate remained low.

State's Prairie Chickens Fighting a Losing Battle

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The prairie chicken, once plentiful in Michigan, now is fighting a losing battle for existence. Its No. 1 enemy, says the State Department of Conservation, is civilization. Now, the department says, the bird has been squeezed into a pocket in the northeastern part of the Lower Peninsula and only two colonies in the Upper Peninsula.

New Zealand has about 2½ cent for each of its 2,088,000 people.
