Angry Galilean Kicks Out Money Changers in Temple

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of six articles in which reporter Ora Spaid takes an imaginary trip back more than 19 centuries to Jerusalem in the time of Christ's last seven days and reports on the events of that week, applying the style of today's news—and the journalistic skepticism.

By ORA SPAID
(Pontiac Press Special Writer)

JERUSALEM, Nisan 13 (Tuesday)—An angry young Galilean rabbi stunned this pilgrim-thronged city yesterday by rope-whipping and driving from the great Jewish Temple a number of money exchangers and dealers in sacrificial goods.

The 33-year-old religious revolutionary, Jesus, of the tiny northern village of Nazareth, upset the coin-covered tables of the trapezite bankers and sent the sacrifice merchants' doves and lambs fluttering and bawling into the temple yard. He lashed the dealers with a rope whip and told them:

"It is written, my house shall be called the house of prayer, but you have made it a den of thieves."

Many pilgrims waiting in line to exchange the coin of the realm into the kind acceptable for payment of temple dues encouraged the rabbi.

Although the dealers covered before the enraged Jesus, one of them shouted to him:

"Blasphemer. We shall see what the scribes say of this."

The incident occurred on the eve of the Jewish festival of Pesach, or Passover.

The ancient city, religious capital of this eastern Mediterranean nation, is swelled to almost a million by pilgrims, merchants, traders, beggars and thieves from all parts of Palestine, and a reinforced garrison of Roman occupation forces. The Jews are here to celebrate the freeing of their ancestors from slavery under the Egyptian Pharaohs.

The festival was permitted this year by the Roman Occupational Government, despite reported threats in the past to close the temple. Palestine is currently riddled with political and religious intrigue.

The Roman Governor, Pontius Pilate, is at odds with the Jewish "king," Herod, about Roman indifference to a promise of religious liberty. Herod is Tetrarch of Galilee, Jesus' home province.

Followers of the Nazarene contend he is the Messiah (the deliverer) who has come to Jerusalem to proclaim himself King of the Jews.

When he entered the city Sunday, riding on a donkey, his supporters and a large delegation from here met him at the city gates and laid palm branches in his path.

Reports of his power to perform miracles have excited Palestine in recent months. A member of the rabbi's party told of a miracle performed during Jesus' walk from Bethany yesterday morning. Of a barren fig tree at the side of the road, he was quoted as saying, "Let no fruit grow on this tree henceforth forever." The tree was (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Filled Churches Celebrate Beginning of Holy Week

Capacity crowds gathered Sunday in Pontiac churches, both Catholic and Protestant, to celebrate Palm Sunday, the opening of Holy Week.

Sermons in practically all the churches recalled how Jesus set His face toward Jerusalem, fulfilling the prophecy of Zechariah, which reads, "Thy King cometh unto thee . . . riding upon . . . a colt, the foal of an ass."

Because of the reference in the Bible to the crowd greeting Jesus by waving palms, the day is known as Palm Sunday.

In most liturgical churches, palms are blessed and given to those attending masses and worship services. However, the custom is not carried out as rigidly as in former years. Some Lutheran churches do not adhere to it now.

At All Saints Episcopal Church, filled to capacity, the Rev. C. George Whitfield, rector, spoke on "Our Responsibility in Christ's Crucifixion." At each service, palms were blessed and palm crosses given out.

To a filled church, he said: "What a great and glorious King Christ Jesus is! It is all-important that Christ be your King, for if He is not your King, then He is your Judge."

In the oldest Lutheran congregation, St. Trinity Lutheran Church on Auburn avenue, the Rev. Ralph C. Claus spoke on "Christ Is Our Glorious King."

"It is not a loyal subject of a King who continually searches for loopholes in the law. Neither is it a loyal subject of Christ the King who is forever making excuses for faithfulness, or who tries to subject Christ and His Kingdom to his own ideas—that's treason," he added.

Dulles Is Urging Britain to Join In for United Front

Tells Eden Allies Must Act Strong at Geneva; They Study Timing

LONDON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, seeking to patch up a Big Three rift over Southeast Asian policy, urged Britain today to join in an early Western warning intended to head off Communist seizure of Indochina. Informants said Dulles told British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden the Western Allies must show a united front on Asian affairs at the Geneva Conference and bargain from strength.

Both Indochina and Korea are up for negotiation at Geneva beginning April 26. Soviet Russia and Red China will be sitting in.

Dulles and Eden, who met at the British Foreign Office, appeared to be searching for a compromise on the timing of the Washington proposal for a warning to Red China to keep hands off Southeast Asia.

Paris and London want to postpone any gesture which could be interpreted as a strong arm move, fearing it would narrow the already slim chances of negotiating an Indochina settlement at Geneva. Dulles is striving to get British backing for a pre-Geneva declaration before he flies to Paris tomorrow to persuade the even more reluctant French.

Official sources said Dulles feels a common declaration right now will help the French to maintain a firm position at Geneva against any compromise that might eventually lose Indochina to the Reds.

The French and British are ready to join in warning the Peking regime against aggression in Indochina and to help sponsor a new Southeast Asia defense organization—but only if the Communists spurn a negotiated settlement at Geneva.

Across the English channel, the French press manifested a little less uneasiness today than previously over the Dulles proposals. The independent Paris newspaper Le Figaro said "we should not refuse to join in a common declaration provided it does not take the form of an ultimatum."

The Socialist Le Populaire, evidently referring to a statement by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) that the United States could delay financial aid to nations which did not follow Dulles' proposals, said: "The menacing gestures of certain particularly influential American politicians makes a conversation between governments indispensable. To speak of reprisals of such and such a nature between allies shows a lack of mutual friendship. A good mutual understanding can not exist if one ally tries to impose its views on another. M. Dulles appears to understand this. At least his trip to Europe indicates this."

Fierce Grass Fire Threatens Farms in Bloomfield

A grass fire crackling across 250 acres of meadowland swept to within 100 feet of a Bloomfield Township farm building yesterday before being snuffed out by 25 broom-swinging firefighters.

Volunteers and regular firemen from Bloomfield and West Bloomfield Townships and Walnut Lake fought the blaze for more than six hours with tank sprayers and brooms.

Officials believe the fire started on the Skae farm, owned by a Detroit Corporation, and spread to the adjoining Turtle Lake farm of Leslie H. Green.

The fire, fanned by 37-mile-an-hour winds, was put out just before reaching an implement building on the Green farm. Three homes, six barns and a greenhouse also were threatened.

The burned out area is bounded by Upper Long Lake, Square Lake road, Klingensmith and Middlebelt roads. An investigation is pending.

8 Breakins Hit North Pontiac

Four Other Burglaries Attempted as Wave of Thefts Continues

Eight breakins and four attempted breakins, all in North Pontiac, were reported over the weekend as a wave of burglaries continues to plague police.

Thieves netted about $300 in breakins at stores, restaurants, filling stations and other business establishments.

At the Furmen Drug Store, 1006 Joslyn Ave., thieves pried open a rear door and took $100 in change from cash registers and 10 wristwatches valued at $100.

Thieves took $25 from a vending machine at a filling station at 857 Baldwin Ave. An attempted break-in was reported at another gas station at 644 Oakland Ave.

Nothing was reported taken in burglaries at a dry cleaning establishment at 221 Baldwin Ave. and a linen supply company at 366 N. Cass Ave.

An undetermined amount of money was reported taken from a till and vending machine in a restaurant at 1018 Joslyn Ave., while $25 was taken from a soda bar vending machine at 936 Joslyn.

Frank Morton of 125 N. Perry St. said $50 was taken from his car while it was parked in front of his home, and Dr. Donald Fraser said his office at 1004 Joslyn was ransacked.

Attempted breakins were reported at a drugstore at 219 Baldwin, a grocery store at 1019 Joslyn, a gas station at 644 Oakland and a drive-in restaurant at 369 Oakland.

Sen. Griswold Dies Suddenly

Heart Attack Takes Life of Former Governor of Nebraska

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Dwight P. Griswold (R-Nebr.), three times governor of his state and former director of the American aid mission to Greece, died early today after a heart attack. He was 60.

Death, attributed to a coronary occlusion, came shortly after midnight at the naval hospital at suburban Bethesda, Md. Mrs. Griswold was at the bedside.

Griswold had been in the Senate since January 1953. He was elected to fill out two years remaining in the term of the late Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry.

He had not announced publicly whether he would seek re-election this fall but had told friends he expected to be a candidate.

No change in the political lineup of the Senate is likely. The governor of Nebraska, Robert C. Crosby, is a Republican and presumably will appoint a Republican successor to serve until the November election.

The Senate composition is now 46 Republicans, 48 Democrats and 1 Independent.

Griswold, although active in Republican political life for a quarter of a century, was named to several high positions in the Democratic administration of former President Truman. At the time of his appointment to head the Greek aid mission in June 1947, the White House said he had been selected because he was "a good man, forthright and an able administrator."

Tonight, Tomorrow to Be Cloudy, Mild

Partly cloudy skies and mild weather are forecast for the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

The mercury is expected to dip to a low of from 32 to 36 degrees tonight, and to rise to a high of from 60 to 64 on Tuesday.

Sunday was fair and warm with the temperatures ranging from a low of 44 to a high of 66 degrees. Saturday dumped .17 of an inch of rain on the city, and the high and low recorded that day were 58 and 39, respectively.

At 8 a.m. today the reading was 38, but by 1 p.m. the mercury registered 50 degrees in downtown Pontiac.

Station Holdup Nets Thugs $326

Attendant Is Slugged as 2 Bandits Escape With Cash Early Today

Two pistol-wielding bandits escaped with about $326 from an Auburn avenue filling station early this morning after slugging the attendant, according to Pontiac Police.

James Watson, 23, of 95 Glenwood Ave., the attendant who was treated for a facial cut at Pontiac General Hospital, said the two men entered the station at 608 Auburn at about 2 a.m. Both brandished small-caliber chrome-plated revolvers, he said. One was masked.

"They demanded the cash in the till, and I guess I moved too slow because the masked one slugged me with his fist," Watson said.

Watson, who described the bandits as dark, with black hair, said he was ordered to remain in the washroom after the gunmen rifled the till and took his wallet containing $22. The men fled in a car which Watson said he didn't have a chance to see.

New Commissioners Plan First Meeting

The new Pontiac City Commission will meet tonight in municipal court at 7:30 to organize and elect a mayor and mayor pro-tem.

Pontiac's seven-man delegation to the County Board of Supervisors also must be named for one-year terms, according to City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

Outlawing Party Tough for FBI, Says Brownell

Tells Committee He is Most Opposed to Move, Plugs for Other Laws

WASHINGTON (INS)—Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. announced his flat opposition today to moves to outlaw the Communist party, warning that such legislation might be unconstitutional and would hamper the FBI.

The attorney general told a House judiciary subcommittee that legislative proposals to make Communist party membership illegal would "impede and disrupt" the operation of the government's current anti-subversive program.

At the same time, Brownell plugged for enactment of new laws to carry out an administration pledge to "destroy the Communist menace" in the United States.

The attorney general declared that passage of laws making membership in the party a crime in itself would be "in direct conflict" with laws already on the statute books which he regards as a "most apt and effective instrument" to combat Red infiltration.

The administration spokesman warned: "All of our preparation, and all of the carefully drawn provisions of the Internal Security Act, would be substantially nullified even before it has been given a fair chance to reach the success it promises by enactment of any legislation providing that membership is per se a crime."

Moreover, Brownell said, "such legislation would add nothing" since still penalties are already provided if the Communists deny registration provisions of the Internal Security Act.

The House subcommittee is studying 11 varied proposals to outlaw the party by making membership illegal and barring Communist party candidates from the ballot.

Brownell indicated in a nationwide address Friday night his belief that the Reds will "outlaw themselves" if they fail to comply with the registration law.

It was in this speech that he pledged destruction of the Communist party by legal, constitutional means.

The subversive activities control board found the party to be a "Communist action" group last year and ordered registration of its membership. The board's ruling is presently being appealed in the courts.

Brownell warned the congressional group: "To make membership a crime is of questionable legality under the principles of our Constitution."

He said there is a "false impression" that a large number of Communist would be quickly convicted if party membership was made a crime by itself.

He pointed out, however, that it would be a "tremendous task" to prove the membership of each of the estimated 25,000 active party (Continued on Page 25, Col. 2)

Illinois Primary Draws National Political Interest

CHICAGO (AP)—The first political struggle of 1954, a preliminary skirmish to pick candidates for the crucial November battle over control of Congress, reaches a showdown tomorrow in the Illinois primary.

From the standpoint of national interest, the main result will be to tap a Republican for an attempt to tip Democrat Paul H. Douglas out of his Senate seat. Nine candidates are scuffling for the GOP senatorial nomination.

Joseph T. Meek and Edward A. Hayes are regarded as the top contenders.

Between the two, observers are inclined to give Meek a shade the better of it.

Meek heads the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations. Hayes is a former national commander of the American Legion.

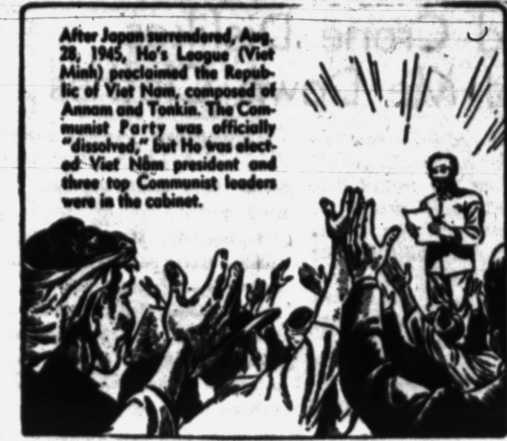

The nation's first primary tomorrow will determine, too, whether 10 House members, four of them chairmen of major committees, will get a chance to run again in November.

Over the country, politicians are eyeing the primary for straws in the wind. But they may have to strain to detect any real trends, any significant Midwestern sentiment on national issues, or any clear signs of approval or disapproval of what the Eisenhower administration and Congress are doing.

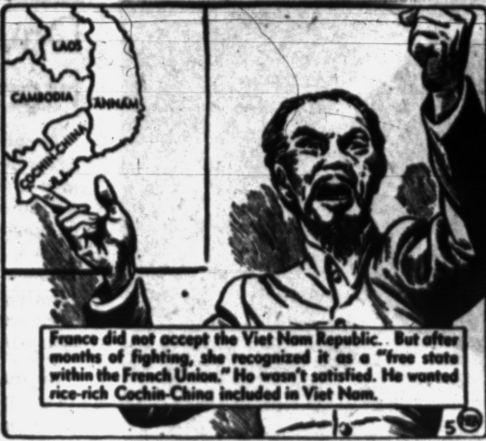

Various candidates have been bringing up such questions as farm and employment problems or threatening against sending any Americans to fight in Indochina. But voters seem to be more interested in local issues, and races involving city and county offices and seats in the state legislature.

Republican rivalries are attracting the major claim to attention, since none of the Democratic contests involves any statewide balloting. Sen. Douglas has no challenger in the primary.

INDO-CHINA—The World's Oldest War

After Japan surrendered, Aug. 28, 1945, Ho's League (Viet Minh) proclaimed the Republic of Viet Nam, composed of Annam and Tonkin. The Communist Party was officially "disbanded," but Ho was elected Viet Nam president and three top Communist leaders were in the cabinet.

France did not accept the Viet Nam Republic. But after months of fighting, she recognized it as a "free state within the French Union." He wasn't satisfied. He wanted rich Cochinchina included in Viet Nam.

In 1946 Ho went to Paris to negotiate. French Reds welcomed him and he spent a lot of time with Russia's Andrei Vishinsky. France finally recognized Viet Nam as a "democratic republic" and proposed to settle the Cochinchina dispute by a popular vote there. But before it could be held, there was a "Pearl Harbor" sneak attack by 11,000 fanatical natives in Annam and Cochinchina.

North Radar Net to Cost $1 Billion

Survey Work Coming Along; Canada to Help in the Cost

WASHINGTON (UP)—The automatic radar warning net along the Arctic rim of North America will cost an estimated $1,000,000,000 and take until 1957 to complete, defense sources said today.

These sources recounted how former President Truman ordered the spade work in later 1952 which resulted in the program announced by the American and Canadian governments last Thursday.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, issuing this government's statement, said that survey and sighting work in the Canadian-American venture "is already well advanced."

There was no indication just how the cost of the project would be allocated to the two countries.

Designed to give several hours warning of a Soviet air attack across the polar cap, the system will extend over thousands of miles of frozen wasteland far north of Canada's settled areas. It will tie in with the present radar nets in Alaska, Greenland and the "pine-tree chain" along the 54th parallel which splits British Columbia in the West and Labrador in the East.

Supplementing the ground stations will be radar-laden patrol planes.

Automatic interception weapons, like the Air Force's F99 pilotless fighter, can be hooked into the radar system which is designed not only for detection but for guiding interceptors as well.

Detroit Fire Captain Dies Fighting Blaze

DETROIT (INS)—Highest Fire Department officials will form an escort of honor Wednesday at the funeral of Capt. Werner Blaess, 54, who collapsed and died while directing firefighters at a three-alarm blaze Saturday night.

Fire Chief Edward Blohm, who was at the $75,000 blaze which destroyed the interior of a two-story brick furniture warehouse on Michigan avenue, described Capt. Blaess' death:

"The interior of the building was a mass of smoke and flames. Capt. Blaess went inside to direct the lines. He came out, choking and almost overcome by the smoke. When he got his breath he said he was going back inside.

"I told him not to do that, to go to the roof instead. Capt. Blaess had just placed his hand on the ladder when he collapsed."

The officer was dead on arrival at Receiving Hospital. He had been suffering of a heart ailment.

The U. S. marriage rate in 1953 was about 9.7 per 1,000 of population compared with about 9.2 or 1,000 of population in 1952.

Heard in a Pontiac Church SundayInner Relation With God
Is the Only Personal Peace

Below is a resume of the sermon preached by the Rev. Kenneth A. Hutchinson Sunday in First Nazarene Church. This church was organized in 1919 and the Rev. Mr. Hutchinson came as pastor in July, 1952. His topic Sunday was "Thy Peace."

The festive procession reached the summit of the hills which surrounded the Holy City. Jesus looked across the Valley of Kedron and there nestled Jerusalem in its beauty, glory and security.

Most men viewed it with delight, but Jesus viewed it through tear-stained eyes.

His heart yearned that peace might be the lot of Jerusalem, and fear might be driven from the hearts of its inhabitants, but they were unaware of the things which belong unto their peace.

The universal quest of man is for peace, but we vary in our concepts of what makes for peace. There are those who feel that a state of tranquility in the conscious overt world is peace.

Since this seems to be contrary to life, they have sought to harden their sensibilities to love and pity, life and death, comfort and tragedy and call it peace because they can take the flux of life with little disturbance of mind.

Others think peace is in material abundance. Though they have enough to gratify each passing fancy, they suddenly fall into fear with the loss of health and approaching old age and death.

They must learn an inner stability is as important as material stability to our peace.

There are others who believe their inner peace is contingent on self-cultivation. They hold to the premise that self-knowledge is self-healing.

However, after they are able to correctly evaluate their innermost self they sense a frustration that is still unhealed.

Jesus declares He is the surety of our peace and offers it to all mankind.

To His troubled disciples he says, "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither be afraid."

You may ask what kind of peace did Jesus have? It was an inner stability that comes because of his knowledge and relations with the eternal. Men could lie about him without disturbing his peace because He knew truth could not fail.

Even the kiss of a hypocrite could not disturb because he knew wrong could not endure. No earthly things were able to break the inner relationships with His Father.

Sin is the disturber of our peace for it sets a man in opposition to his God. It has been rightfully said, "No man can break God's laws without breaking himself."

Therefore the way to peace is in reconciliation to our God. The geometric theorem says, "If two angles are equal to the same angle they are equal to each other."

It follows without saying if two men are each properly related to his God, they will be properly related to each other and will find a peace that passeth understanding in his own being.

REV. K. A. HUTCHINSON

This Palm Sunday of 1954 may we be determined that neither through ignorance or self will we neglect the things which belong to our peace.

Lenten GuidepostsTrue Generosity Is Wish to Be Useful Without Desire for Personal RewardBy SIDNEY FIELDS
Newspaper Columnist

Arthur J. Brown, a former freight handler who now runs a $8,000,000 a year freight-forwarding business, would be amazed if he were told he's building a bridge of faith across which his neighbors walk every day.

But that's what he's been doing for years. Arthur has always believed that his neighbors are his concern, whether he knows them or not.

Just about 10 years ago Arthur began his business with a prayer, one thousand Arthur Browns borrowed dollars, and two employees. His ABC Freight Forwarding Corp. now operates in 15 cities and employs 750 people. They're more than a bookkeeping task to him.

Few know it, but there are people in ABC who are former alcoholics and drug addicts. They are now happy, industrious, accepted; their days of misery and despair gone by.

ABC's chief dispatcher in New York is Fred Perry, a self-taught man, an expert accountant and freight handler. Fred handles all the cash on the New York loading platform, and has the respect of his subordinates as well as his superiors. Recently a few of Arthur's misguided clients discovered that Fred is a Negro.

"They asked me to give up Fred or give up their business," Arthur says. "They lost. I kept Fred."

Arthur hears the voices outside his company too. Some years ago he received a letter from a man in Sing Sing, a man he did not know. The prisoner was ready to apply for parole, but needed a job to make parole possible. Arthur checked his story very carefully, then gave him a position.

"He had a wife and two kids," Arthur says. "He was a former bank teller who got itchy fingers. But from what I learned he had made just one mistake. He deserved another chance."

He got it — from Arthur. After a time at ABC the man saved some money and wanted to start his own business. Arthur helped him with a loan. He is now a successful business man in his own right.

Just why would Arthur open his arms to a criminal? "What makes a criminal?" he asks. "When I was a kid we were always hungry. Many of us stole. Apples. Potatoes. Things like that. Some of the boys I grew up with went to jail. I might have been the former bank teller."

But there's a better reason why Arthur opens his arms to all his neighbors. It's summed up in his personal creed: "True generosity is the desire to be useful to others without any desire for personal reward."

That creed is written on a little plaque which hangs on the main gate of the Ajaibe ranch, where Arthur and his employees enjoy the summers.

And how was Ajaibe ranch born? Six years ago one of Arthur's men asked if he could work, instead of taking his vacation, so he could earn an extra two weeks' salary.

"With a wife and two kids we can't afford to take a vacation together, and I can't take one alone," he said.

Arthur saw to it that the man and his family had a vacation together, then wondered how many of his workers were in the same fix. He poked around, and found quite a few were.

So he bought the 180-acre former Bendix estate near Flemington, N. J., and outfitted it completely as a vacation ranch for his employees with everything: modern housing, new dining hall, recreation facilities and a spanking new swimming pool.

The ranch is free to all employees of ABC, including wives and children. Arthur and his wife spend their vacations there too.

Before the vacation period starts, both busy themselves with a joyful, childish energy to get the place ready. Mrs. Brown even sews the curtains and hangs them. "The ranch is my big dream fulfilled," says Arthur. "We have as many as 100 people there at one time, and it goes over that on weekends. Winter or summer if any of our people get sick they go there to convalesce."

Born in Maywood, Ill., a tough Chicago suburb, Arthur was the son of a barber and the eighth of nine children. At 9 he had a full time after-school job in a printing shop that published a weekly paper.

On the day the paper went to press Arthur worked from 3 p.m. until 5 a.m. the next morning, then walked two miles back home to save the carfare. After working up he prepared breakfast for the whole family, ate it with them, and then went off to school.

Arthur had to quit grade school before he finished because there just wasn't enough to eat at home. Then he painted signs for his mother. It got rougher when his father died, and Arthur paid all the bills for his mother by doubling as a sign-painter and truck washer. When there weren't enough signs to paint or trucks to wash, he was a freight driver.

He got to know the intricacies of freight, maybe because he happened to see the magic, far away places to which it was going. In four years Arthur became the leading salesman of the company whose trucks he once washed. He boldly pioneered new ideas, and offered them to his boss.

One day Arthur was fired when he was violently disputed one of the ideas. Arthur borrowed a thousand dollars and started his own business on the disputed idea.

ABC is now larger than the firm that fired him. Arthur, in addition, now has five other thriving enterprises.

now been stepped up to a new high in anti-knock power for the new high-compression engines. Still at regular gas price, the New High-Test Blue Sunoco is America's greatest gasoline value!

Proved Again—Wins Against 16 Premium-Priced Gasolines

New Blue Sunoco was tested against 16 premium-priced gasolines at Indianapolis Auto Track under supervision of Wilbur Shaw, President of Track. Results prove that—whether you drive 50,000, 20,000 or 10,000 miles a year—you can get as much as 14.9% of these miles free, when you change from a premium-priced brand to New High-Test Blue Sunoco at regular gas price.

THE TEST: Each day, sixteen cars

RESULTS: New Blue Sunoco—at regular gas price—beat them all! It gave up to 14.9% more miles (average: 10.4%) than the premium-priced brands of gasoline tested.

Now Sun's one-grade policy gives you highest test performance at regular gas price

Philippines Undecided on Indochina Intervention

MANILA (AP)—President Ramon Magsaysay called time out today in the face of an apparent choice between backing the United States in a warning to Red China to stay out of the Indochina war or splitting his troubled administration deeper.

Magsaysay has said Philippines security requires it to join "other free nations" in resisting Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

However, the administration's foreign policy spokesman, Sen. Claro M. Recto, has said the question of which way Indochina goes is "none of the Philippines' business."

After a top policy meeting yesterday with Recto excluded—Magsaysay said he will seek an immediate conference with the United States on the Indochina problem.

He did not say yes or no to the proposal of U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for a united front against Red domination of Indochina.

Firemen Denied Any Pay Hike

Southfield Turns Down Even Small Boost but Okays Budget

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — A request for a 10 per cent pay increase by firemen here was turned down at Southfield Township's annual meeting Saturday night.

Even a watered down proposal for a 2 1/2 per cent boost was rejected by the 225 voters attending the meeting. The vote was 111-90.

The firemen's pay issue was one of two which required a paper ballot vote. The other—a proposal to allow $8,000 to remain in the budget for a planning consultant and miscellaneous expenses—was approved 100-89.

Total annual budget approval was $399,404. Revenues of only $231,300 are expected, however. Officials did not state how the deficit would be off-set.

Included in the budget were a 2 1/2 per cent salary raise for township clerical employees, a $300 yearly pay boost for the two appraisers, a police budget of $25,000 and a road maintenance allotment of $15,500.

Property in the township will be re-assessed at $39,830.

Water Problems Finding Answer

Ferndale Commission OKs $500,000 for New Mains, Station

FERNDALE — Some relief from this city's water supply and pressure problems may be had as early as this summer, "depending on just how fast we can work," Roy F. Goodspeed, director of public works, said today.

The City Commission Friday night approved a $500,000 water system expansion, which includes new water mains, a pumping station and a 3,000,000-gallon reservoir.

The expansion is part of a $715,000 overall project, the second part of which will be undertaken at a later date.

Goodspeed said construction is expected to begin in July, with a completion date of summer 1955 as the goal.

"We hope to get some of the mains in so we can get some relief this summer," Goodspeed said.

With completion of the entire program, the city's capacity for daily water consumption will be jumped to 11,000,000 gallons. Today's capacity is 7,000,000 gallons.

Supervisors to Decide Village of Holly Makes Bid to Annex More Property

HOLLY — This village is growing. Few desirable lots remain within its present limits.

Since Holly's incorporation as a village in 1885, the limits have not changed. At that time it had a population of about 500. The 1950 census listed a population of 2,663.

Holly is considering extending the village limits in all four directions to include an area about four times as large, extending into Rose Township to the south.

This would increase the population by 1,000 and make it the second largest Oakland County village. Rochester has a larger population.

In area, Holly then would be the largest village in the county, even larger than most of the county's 15 cities.

The proposed extension of the limits has been approved by the Village Council, but must be confirmed by the County Board of Supervisors.

Ralph Edwards Will Supervise

Chooses Jack Bailey to Be Emcee; Show Set for May 18

NEW YORK — Truth or Consequences, one of radio's first audience-participation programs, will be presented as a television feature on a TV network beginning May 18.

The television version of Ralph Edwards' 14-year-old radio stunt show will feature Jack Bailey as emcee. The new series will be seen in the time period now filled by Fred Allen's "Judge for Yourself."

Bailey was chosen for the emcee role by Edwards because of his own other commitments.

Edwards, however, will supervise and act as executive producer of the TV series in addition to his active roles on TV's "This Is Your Life" and radio's "Truth or Consequences" shows.

Bailey is known for his West Coast show, "Queen for a Day," and as the voice of Goofy in the Walt Disney cartoons.

He has had a colorful background as a circus barker, professional musician, house painter, actor, tax expert and as honorary mayor of Hollywood.

Truth or Consequences in TV form was first presented July 1, 1941. It was again seen for one performance Jan. 20, 1949, over a Hollywood station and later for a full season in 1950 to 1951.

GI From Escanaba Quizzed in Shooting

SEOUL — A Michigan soldier who shot and killed another GI while on sentry duty was in custody today pending an investigation.

The Army identified the sentry as Pfc. James Myers, of Escanaba.

The announcement said the unidentified soldier fled when challenged by Myers Saturday while trying to re-enter a compound from which he had been absent without leave. Myers first fired three shots in the air and then one at the fleeing soldier. The bullet struck him in the left side.

Myers is in custody of the commanding officer.

Exuberant Water Skiers Open Season in Detroit

DETROIT — Two Detroiters braved 40-degree waters in the Detroit River Sunday to give a water ski performance that surprised waterfront spectators. Clad in jackets and sweaters with their bathing trunks, Irvin Wissen, 41, and Earl Snyder, 24, both were dunked.

Comet Test Pilot To Tell Reactions in Six-Mile Climb

LONDON (UP)—One of Britain's best known test pilots will ram a Comet jet airliner through the mysterious "death barrier" six miles up in hopes of solving the mystery of three fatal crashes.

The date for the flight was not announced.

The pilot is RAF group Capt. John Cunningham who won the name of "cats' eyes" through his ability to spot Hitler's night bombers during the battle of Britain. He is now chief test pilot for the De Havilland Aircraft Co., which manufactures the Comet.

Cunningham will clutch a microphone in his hand and broadcast a play-by-play account as he rams the Comet through the "death barrier" at full speed. Sir Miles Thomas, director of the British Overseas Airways Corp., has blamed such a "death barrier" for the Comet crashes.

"It just another piece of cake,"

Comet Test Pilot To Tell Reactions in Six-Mile Climb

DeHavilland said Cunningham's flight would be made as soon as the company gives new ground checks to the Comet flown to its suburban Hatfield headquarters on Saturday.

Charlevoix GI Dead, Says Defense Edict

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Army has determined that M-Sgt. Ernest R. Allen, son of Mrs. Viola Allen of route 3, Charlevoix, died in Korea, the Defense Department announced today.

Allen previously had been listed for more than a year as missing in action. The department said available evidence indicates that he is dead.

London has not been in path of a total solar eclipse for more than 150 years and its people will not see one in the 20th century.
