3 Leaders Air Republican Rift

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon have told Sen. Barry Goldwater that his handpicked GOP chairman must have a mandate, not just a majority, to stay at the helm of the party.

Nixon relayed that word after a summit talk yesterday with the former president and the party's defeated nominee for the White House.

The three party leaders met for an hour in Eisenhower's Waldorf Towers suite. Then Nixon and the former president talked separately.

Goldwater said the three all hope the rift between GOP moderates, some of them out to oust Republican National Chairman Dean Burch, and the party's conservative wing can be healed before the national committee meets in Chicago Jan. 22 and 23.

The committee will decide then whether to keep Burch as chairman.

Both Eisenhower and Nixon said they told Goldwater the party needs a broadly based leadership in the months ahead.

Nixon put it this way:

"We feel, and Sen. Goldwater agreed, that the national committee must have broad-based support — not unanimity, but a majority of one is not enough."

He made the comment after telling newsmen that Burch's own polls indicate the chairman now has the national committee

OK Is Given to Probe Unit, Ionia Hospital

Charge Irregularities After Disclosure of Disease and Suicide

LANSING (AP) — The House Mental Health Committee decided today to go ahead with a probe of the Ionia State Hospital and the State Mental Health Department over the objections of several members.

"We don't want any kind of a witch hunt, but we don't want a whitewash," said Rep. David Upton, R-St. Joseph, committee chairman.

The committee began taking testimony from members of the Mental Health Department this morning, with Dr. Robert Kimmich, department director, the first witness.

The committee planned to tour the Ionia Hospital this afternoon, mostly for a look at the physical facilities there, Upton said.

One of the problems at Ionia, Kimmich said, is that the building is a "legacy" from the State Corrections Department.

PRISON WORK

Some of the employes there, he said, are oriented to the correctional point of view.

Another problem he said, is the lack of enough money and staff.

Rep. Adam Sumeracki, D-Detroit, said he was "not enthused at all" about the investigation.

But Reps. Lucille McColough, D-Dearborn, and Joseph Snyder, D-St. Clair Shores, both were for pushing forward with the probe.

PROBE SUICIDE.

Snyder said the committee could investigate the physical facts of a recent suicide at the hospital, for instance finding out why the patient was allowed in a room where he could hang himself with a bed sheet from an overhead pipe.

Johnson, Rusk Hold Talks With Gromyko

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Johnson administration has asked the new Soviet leaders to use their influence to halt Communist operations from North Viet Nam against South Viet Nam.

The request was made to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko by Secretary of State Dean Rusk in the course of a series of conferences Gromyko held here with Rusk and President Johnson.

Rusk also asked the Russians yesterday to work for peace in Southeast Asia.

Gromyko conferred with Johnson at the White House for about 90 minutes.

In a show of cordiality, the President escorted him to the door when the talk ended.

SEVERAL SUBJECTS

Gromyko said disarmament and several other subjects were discussed in his meeting with the President and added: "I think that the exchange of views was useful and the atmosphere in the course of the conversation was friendly."

He did not specify the other topics taken up with Johnson. But he did say that the President welcomed the $555 million defense budget cut which was announced yesterday by Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Asked whether Johnson and he talked about the possibility of an East-West summit conference, Gromyko brushed aside the question.

Johnson was understood, however, to have developed the line that he is deeply interested in easing tensions and improving East-West relations, particularly in the field of new disarmament agreements.

MADE IT CLEAR

He has made clear in the past that if there were constructive results in view he would be willing to go anywhere and meet with anyone for the purpose.

Gromyko said he brought to Johnson a message of best wishes from the Soviet leaders — the men who replaced Premier Nikita Khrushchev in mid-October.

Adopt Policy on Integration

Board of Education Unanimous on Action

A policy statement on racial integration in Pontiac schools was unanimously adopted last night by the Board of Education.

Resulting from charges of "de-facto segregation" in local schools made by local Negro leaders, the statement has been several months in preparation.

It was approved by a 16-member advisory Citizens Committee on Human Relations before it was first presented to the board at its Nov. 11 meeting.

Although it was given informal approval at that time, formal action was postponed until last night in accordance with board policy.

The statement emphasizes equal educational opportunities for all students and equal employment opportunities for all members of the administration and staff.

★ ★ ★

It also guarantees a continuation of the best possible instructional program and school facilities within the power of the board to provide.

Temperatures to Bounce Into 40s Tomorrow

The mercury will be a little more energetic, says the weatherman.

Warmer weather is expected tonight and tomorrow. The low predicted for this evening is 32 to 36, to be followed by a high of 36 to 42 tomorrow.

Light rain, possibly preceded by light freezing rain, also is forecast.

Today's low mercury reading in downtown Pontiac was 24. At 2 p.m. 39 was the recording.

Water Setup Gets Review

Look at Rules, Rates by Waterford Board

Waterford Township Board members last night reviewed a proposed operating and rate ordinance for the township's new water system.

Township officials say the ordinance will be adopted sometime this month.

The proposed ordinance pertains to the townshipwide central water system now under construction and would supersede the existing ordinance covering operation of the township's 11 separate water systems.

Its effective date, if approved by the board, would be Jan. 1, 1965.

Press Still Selling Warren Report

Two hundred volumes of the Warren report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy are still on sale in the lobby of The Pontiac Press.

The hard-cover book, prepared by The Associated Press, sells for $1.50. Its 400 pages contain the report on the death of President Kennedy, the arrest of Lee Oswald, and his death at the hands of Jack Ruby.

This illustrated book will not be on sale at book stores, and we cannot accept mail orders.

6-County Sewer Network Eyed

Would Cost $184 Million

Development of a huge network of sewage collection facilities in the Detroit metropolitan area was proposed today before a Detroit meeting of officials from six counties.

Designed to serve Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Macomb counties, the proposed system would cost $184 million and take 40 years to develop.

In addition, the proposal calls for construction of sewage treatment facilities costing some $65 million.

The recommendations were the result of a $256,000 study by the National Sanitation Foundation, an Ann Arbor group.

★ ★ ★

The findings were reported at a special meeting of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee (SICC).

KEY SPOKESMEN

Key spokesmen included Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, SICC Chairman Edward Connor, Gordon McCallum of the U.S. Public Health Service and Dr. Abel Wolman of Johns Hopkins University.

The report was compiled by a three-member board of nationally recognized sanitary engineering experts headed by Wolman.

The report predicted that the 3,951 — square mile, six-county area will have a population of 5.8 million persons in 1980 and a population of 8.5 million persons in the years 2000-2020. The 1960 population was 4.1 million persons.

★ ★ ★

The report cited the Detroit Department of Water Supply's success as an areawide water supply agency.

SUPPLIES PONTIAC

The DWS now supplies Pontiac and 60 other communities with water on a contractural basis.

It is also the central sewage treatment agency for 50 Detroit-area communities, receiving some 80 per cent of the sewage flow in the metropolitan area.

Two projects make up the major portion of the $184 million, 40-year sewer construction program outlined.

★ ★ ★

The largest is the north interceptor, a 112-mile network of pipe that would collect all sewage from Macomb County and from part of Oakland County.

PLANT CONNECTION

It would be connected to the DWS sewage treatment plant on West Jefferson in Detroit.

Mount Clemens, Romeo, Utica, Warren and Rochester would be served by the interceptor.

Estimated cost of the interceptor and five companion pumping stations was $124.2 million.

The report suggested that the first portion be completed by 1966 and the entire network by the year 2000.

MAJOR PROJECT

The other major project is the Huron River-Hannan Road interceptor.

Claim Suspect Has Confessed

FBI Says One Admits Link in Rights Case

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — A U.S. commissioner blocked testimony today concerning an alleged confession which the FBI says it has from one of the 21 men charged in connection with the slaying of three civil rights workers.

★ ★ ★

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP)—An FBI agent told a U.S. commissioner today he had a confession signed by one of 21 men charged in connection with the killing of three civil rights workers.

★ ★ ★

A dozen defense attorneys immediately objected to use of the alleged confession on grounds it was "hearsay" evidence.

The report of the alleged confession came at a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Esther Carter for 19 of the 21 men arrested last Friday.

Henry Rasp, 39-year-old FBI agent from Atlanta, told Miss Carter he got a confession in the killing from Horace Doyle Barnette, 25, last November.

Miss Carter ruled Rasp could not give details of the alleged confession. Defense attorneys requested a copy of the alleged confession, and Miss Carter called a recess to study the question of admitting it as evidence.

Nineteen of those arrested were charged with conspiring to interfere with the civil rights of the three youths. The other two were charged as accessories.

Barnette of Minden, La., formerly was employed at Meridian as an automotive parts salesman.

Contributes to Youth Groups

A Bloomfield Township industrialist Charles B. DeVlieg has given $115,000 to two youth organizations, Camp Oakland and the Boys' Club of South Oakland County, it was announced today. DeVlieg is chairman of the board of DeVlieg Machine Co., Royal Oak.

About $90,000 of the personal gift is earmarked for Camp Oakland and the remainder for the Boys' Club.

In presenting the gift to Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore, chairman of the board of Camp Oakland, and S. J. Christie, president of the Boys' Club, DeVlieg, of 1490 Lockridge, said he hoped his action would inspire others to support the organizations.

Judge Moore said the funds would be used for extending the general youth program at Camp Oakland, located near Oxford. The camp is operated for underprivileged children.

DeVlieg praised Camp Oakland's experimental work education program, through which school dropouts, most of whom have been in trouble, are given job training as auto mechanics and woodworkers.

He noted the program's record, with 70 per cent of the 15- through 17-year-old boys avoiding further law violations and learning to provide for themselves by finding employment.

FEELS USEFUL

"When a boy can work with his hands," said DeVlieg, "it makes him feel useful."

Children Need Not Feel Left Out in Yule Giving

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Children enjoy Christmas giving as much as getting. They feel so important, so grown-up, if they can choose and wrap presents just like mom and dad.

Besides, keeping these gifts secret is one of the most exciting and agonizing ecstasies of the yuletide season.

But youngsters are apt to become frustrated and feel left out of the holiday whirl if their Christmas buying is always cut and dried—a hanky for mother and socks for father.

Bearing in mind the small fry's limited budget, we shopped for that something different and found a number of things for 75 cents or less.

In the 50 cents or less category, mom or grandma is sure to be pleased with a white miniature basket filled with a tiny plastic poinsettia or holly berry arrangement.

To help with holiday entertaining, there are candle matches, flower floats and decorated match boxes with four individual compartments.

KNITTING GIFTS

If either one likes to knit, she will like a knitting gauge, row counter or rubber stoppers to keep the stitches from slipping off the needles.

In the same price range, if dad or grandpa is a sportsman, he'll enjoy a hand pump for air mattresses; ice fishing rod, complete with line, bobber and sinker; and ice grippers to fasten to his boots.

For his automobile there are steering wheel covers, auto polishing cloths or a magnetic box to hide an extra car key in a secret place.

With 75 cents to spend, youngsters can find a brush-top, plastic bottle, perfect for quick dishwashing chores; a variety of holiday-patterned terry cloth towels; a snack spreader; hand adding machine; a car vanity mirror and tissue dispenser; a car-wash mitt, good for scrubbing floors too; whisk broom and ice skimmer.

Adjourn Baker Quiz After Agreement on Calling of Jenkins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's stormy Bobby Baker hearings have been closed down until next year after agreement was reached to call former White House aide Walter Jenkins for questioning.

The committee also decided that the "party girl" issue that has bobbed up in the Baker probe required no further investigation.

Jenkins resigned in the midst of the presidential campaign after disclosure he twice had been arrested on morals charges. His resignation was requested by President Johnson, with whom he had been closely associated for 25 years.

The Senate Rules Committee announced no date for questioning Jenkins as part of its probe into the outside business and financial dealings of Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

MONTHS AGO

Jenkins' name was brought into the inquiry months ago in testimony by Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent, about the purchase of advertising time on an Austin, Tex. television station controlled by President Johnson's family.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., the committee chairman, said he would issue a statement later on decisions taken at a closed meeting Wednesday that lasted for four hours.

★ ★ ★

Disclosure that Jenkins would be called for questioning came from Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., at the start of a public hearing following the closed meeting of the committee.

Cooper said he felt compelled to reveal the committee's decisions since he had been informed that Jordan had told newsmen he thought the Kentucky senator was "happy" about what had taken place at the meeting.

Judge to Stall Railroad Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — A disagreement over wages that could affect traffic on more than 90 per cent of the nation's railroads has moved from the bargaining table to the bench.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph Sam Perry said Wednesday he would issue a restraining order Monday forbidding three railroad shop unions representing more than 53,000 workers from striking for at least 10 days.

The order would nullify a strike scheduled for Dec. 15. Judge Perry said the restraining order would take effect Tuesday and run through Christmas Eve.

The unions issued a strike call Tuesday after negotiations with the railroads broke down in Washington. The railroads filed a petition in federal court in Chicago asking that the scheduled strike be postponed and requesting a temporary injunction.

HEAR ARGUMENTS

Judge Perry said he would hear arguments for a temporary injunction after he issues the restraining order Monday.

The carriers argued that the strike deadline is an illegal attempt to compel the railroads to bargain directly with the three unions, rather than with the AFL-CIO Railway Employes Department.

The unions, in their reply, contended the court is without jurisdiction in the dispute, the railroads' complaint fails to state a claim for relief, and the three unions are autonomous and need not bargain through the employes department.

Carter Trial Prosecution Rests Case

FLINT (AP) — The prosecution rested its case today in the conspiracy trial of Flint businessman Samuel Catsman, 59, and former Pontiac and Flint City Manager Robert M. Carter, 48, after calling 16 witnesses.

The two men are accused of conspiracy to defraud the City of Flint by obtaining money under false pretenses in connection with a now-abandoned proposal to construct a municipal water pipeline from Lake Huron to Flint.

Carter elected to be tried by a jury while Catsman's fate was in the hands of Circuit Judge Edward T. Kane of Port Huron, who is hearing the case.

Claude O. Darby Sr., who acted as Flint's agent in purchasing the property, has testified that Catsman wanted him to buy the property for a hotel site.

Darby said he purchased the site for Catsman for $42,000 and Catsman in turn sold it to Flint for $75,000, after Darby was hired and recommended its purchase.

Presents Policy Proposal on Teacher Associations

A policy proposal on future relationships between the Pontiac school board and local teacher associations was presented to the board of education last night by Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools.

Action on the proposal was deferred until the next regular meeting in accordance with board policy.

The proposed policy has been under consideration by the board unofficially for several months.

Most Pontiac teachers belong to one of two professional organizations — the Pontiac Education Association (PEA), an affiliate of the National Education Association, or the Pontiac Federation of Teachers (PFT), an affiliate of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO).

★ ★ ★

The question of relationship of the school board with the two organizations came up last February when the PEA presented to the board a professional negotiations plan.

TWO COMMITTEES

In the past, Whitmer said, salary negotiations have been conducted by a committee of representatives of both groups.

This procedure is about to be abandoned, however, according to Whitmer, making it necessary to negotiate separately with both groups.

Believing this to be unwise, the board requested the superintendent to draw up a statement outlining future negotiation policies.

In summary, the proposal presented by Whitmer contains the following essential points:

- The board will recognize only the organization having the largest local membership.
- On or before Dec. 1 of each year the organization requesting recognition will submit to the superintendent a notarized statement listing its name and business address, purposes, affiliations, officers, members and sources of its financial support.
- Negotiations will be conducted by a committee representing the organization and the superintendent as a representative of the school board.
- In the event of disagreement, the committee and the superintendent will report to the school board, which will make the final decision.
- Policies and regulations concerning general teacher welfare originating with the board will be channeled through the same process.

Although the PEA prefers to call it "professional negotiations," both groups advocate collective bargaining, with use of an "outside" mediator if necessary.

While the PEA regards a teacher boycott of the district as its ultimate weapon, the union-oriented PFT condones the right of public workers to strike, a right which the state of Michigan doesn't recognize.

Goldwater spoke to newsmen first, standing on a chair in the packed lobby of the hotel to make a statement with no questions accepted.

Seek Halt of Infiltration From N. Viet

Rusk and Gromyko over luncheon at the Soviet Embassy produced what U.S. officials called a lively exchange on the war in South Viet Nam.

It was on that occasion that Rusk told Gromyko the United States hoped the Soviet Union would use its influence to work for peace in Southeast Asia.

Gromyko, according to U.S. informants, told Rusk the Soviet Union thought the United States should withdraw its troops from South Viet Nam.

Rusk replied that the troops were in South Viet Nam to assist the government and the people there in the defense against aggression from North Viet Nam and that the United States was fully informed on infiltration of men and supplies from the north into the south.

LEICESTER, England (UPI) — Three hundred workers at a Leicester shoe factory have threatened to go on strike unless their employers get rid of a recently installed tea vending machine and go back to the old system of tea brought round on a trolley.

They don't like the taste of the machine tea.

Strike Vote Set at State Hospital

Members of Pontiac State Hospital Local 49, Michigan State Employes Union (AFL-CIO) have scheduled a strike vote tonight at 8 in connection with the firing of a registered nurse.

The nurse was fired, according to union officials, because she was dating a male hospital attendant whose religion was different from her own.

If a strike is approved, union officials said a picket line would be established at the hospital.

Dr. Robert Braun acting superintendent of the hospital, said dating was not the reason for the dismissal.

★ ★ ★

"I can't give you the reason because it would not be in the best interest of the former employe," he added.

MARRIED ATTENDANT

The nurse involved, the former Frances Stockert, was married to the attendant, Melvin Adams, on Dec. 4. Adams has been employed at the hospital for eight years.

Mrs. Adams began work at the hospital on Aug. 24, 1964.

Union officials said an appeal to the Civil Rights Commission is planned because of the alleged religious discrimination involved.

★ ★ ★

They said they would also appeal to the governor and the legislature because of the broad implications of the problem.

Area Farmers Voting Today for Committee

Oakland County farmers are going to the polls today to pick community representatives on the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee (ASC).

The elected farmer-committeemen will serve for the next year as local administrators of national farm action programs.

The prison term for Frederick Bliss, 20, of 1850 Portlock, was ordered by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

★ ★ ★

Bliss was on parole from prison in connection with another breaking and entering when the offense occurred Nov. 8 in the building at 8855 Edgewood, Commerce Township. Four others were apprehended. Two were turned over to juvenile authorities. Two are awaiting hearings.

Traffic Safety Tax Is Urged

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Lapeer, says he'll seek legislation imposing a $3 tax on every motor vehicle in Michigan — to pay for more intensive local and county traffic law enforcement.

The plan was proposed yesterday to Spencer's special House committee on traffic safety by a Calhoun County delegation.

Here's how it would work:

The $3 would be collected along with vehicle license fees each year and would go to the Secretary of State's office.

He would return the entire tax to the vehicle's home county.

The county would pass $2 on back to the home city, village or township if that local jurisdiction operates a police department. Otherwise the county would keep all $3.

To keep the tax revenue from merely replacing rather than supplementing local traffic enforcement appropriations, counties and local units would be required to keep such appropriations at least at the previous year's level. Otherwise they would be denied the tax revenue.

With 4 million motor vehicles operating in Michigan, the plan would raise $12 million to fight the state's rising traffic fatality and accident rate.

Waterford Board Reviews Ordinance

21-page ordinance which provides for the operation of the water system, rate structure and establishes regulations governing the system.

A $4 minimum quarterly rate is specified in the ordinance for residential users. This is based on consumption of 1,000 cubic feet of water.

Besides this minimum rate, which is the same paid now by residences served by the separate systems, a debt service charge of $12 per year is specified.

Commercial users will be assessed proportionately higher rates and debt service charges.

EXAMPLE FIRM

For example: A commercial connection with a two-inch meter installation would pay a minimum quarterly rate of $25 plus an annual debt service charge of $18.

The debt service charges are being levied to meet the cost obligation for construction of the three storage tanks.

Repayment of the remaining cost of the system, mains and lateral lines, will be financed by tap-in charges to new users.

Residential users can either pay $450 in cash or $600 in 40 quarterly installments.

Interest Rate Is Lower Than Expected on Bonds

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The board of education last night sold bonds totaling $5,220,000 for the first phase of its current four-year building program.

With an interest rate lower than anticipated, the board expects to realize a savings of some $300,000 over the life of the bonds.

The bonds were sold to a syndicate represented by the Harris Trust Co. of Chicago. Its average interest of 3.49941 per cent was the lowest of five submitted.

The bonds are to be paid in about 25 years.

Savings the first year are expected to be $26,000, according to Board President Richard H. McGraw. This should bring a reduction of one-third mill in next December's tax levy.

CURRENT LEVY

Current levy of 24.51 mills includes 5.68 mills for debt retirement.

The bonds sold at the special meeting last night constitute the major portion of a $7-million issue approved by district property owners June 8.

The 13 projects included in the first phase are to be ready for occupancy by September 1966. In the second phase, the district's third junior high school and a new elementary building, to cost some $2.5 million, are to be completed by the fall of 1968.

Construction contracts have been awarded for six of the projects in the first phase, additions to Bloomfield Hills and East Hills junior high schools and Booth, Hickory Grove, Conant and Pine Lake elementary schools.

TO RECEIVE BIDS

The board expects to receive bids on a new elementary school and administration building within the next 30 days, according to Supt. Eugene Johnson.

Featured in the total program will be a second high school for the district, expected to cost $2.3 million.

Other projects will include a new bus garage, a new elementary site and renovations at Vaughan and Wing Lake elementary schools.

FRANKLIN — The 32-piece Franklin Village Concert Band, will present "An Evening of Band Music" at 8 tonight at the Pontiac State Hospital.

This will be the third annual appearance of the brass, woodwind and percussion instrumentalists who are directed by Dr. Conrad R. Lam.

Reds' U.N. Debt Stand Wins Deadbeat Title

With respect to its refusal to pay long-overdue United Nations peace-keeping assessments, it is now up to the Soviet Union, to use the vernacular, to put its money where its mouth is.

Since the formation of the organization in 1945, it has had plenty of Russian mouth, most of it of obstructionist nature.

As one of the five permanent members of the U.N. Security Council, whose function it is to initiate peace-keeping action in trouble areas, the Russians have used their veto 102 times, the United States never.

Today the Reds owe $52.6 million in assessments stemming from U.N. operations to quell conflict in the Congo and the Middle East. France is $16 million in arrears.

The moment of truth is at hand for the United Nations. Either members should abide by the rules of the lodge, to which they are signatories, or they should get out.

In the cases of the two leading deadbeats, the U.N. might well be better off without them. Or, to put it another way, if the permanence of U.N. rests upon continued inclusion of members who flout its provisions, it is indeed in a sorry state and had better be dissolved forthwith.

At the opening of the U.N. General Assembly last week, efforts were made by its leaders to defer a confrontation between the U.S., which pays the biggest share of U.N. finances, and the Soviet Union over the issue of the Reds' delinquency.

Some pretty fancy footwork was indulged in to keep it off the Assembly's agenda until later, when presumably a compromise or face-saving plan for the Kremlin could be worked out.

We are firmly opposed to any further delay or window-dressing tactics and submit that the time is now to call a spade a spade — or should we say a dollar a dollar?

Need Strict Measures to Curb Road Deaths

One of the challenges facing the new state legislature is the formulation of a safety program that will brake the shocking and continuous rise in Michigan highway fatalities.

Oakland County's toll for 1964 stands at 159, compared with 136 for the same period of last year. Statewide figures are 1,910 and 1,630 respectively.

Last October, Gov. ROMNEY initiated a series of statewide meetings to present findings of the year-old Governor's Special Commission on Traffic Safety and acquaint the public with its recommendations for promotion of highway safety.

Now Secretary of State James M. Hare has added the force of his office in calling for bipartisan enactment of measures that will reduce the needless slaughter of motorists.

Noting that 16-year-olds have "adult privileges without assumption of adult responsibility," the secretary would bring junior licensees under the state's 12 point system for violation and accountability before circuit instead of probate courts. A move to effect such change in status failed in the 1964 legislative session.

In calling for periodic motor vehicle inspection, HARE stressed the fact that, although proposed many times, it had never materialized. Twenty states have programs for such inspection, and all have better safety records than Michigan—in which state, surveys show, two out of five vehicles are mechanically defective.

Records indicate that 10 per cent of all motorists carry no liability insurance that would permit them to reimburse innocent victims of accidents. This deplorable lack of responsibility should have early legislative correction, declared the secretary. In this connection, it has been suggested that issuance of license plates be contingent upon proof of accountability.

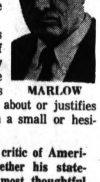
No authority is in better position to suggest remedial action than Secretary HARE and, although his proposals are not without previous advocacy from qualified sources, his voice should have the ears of every lawmaker and law-enforcement agency.

THE U.S. should slap a high tariff on groups of grotesquely dressed and untidily coiffured groups of English male guitar strummers and alleged singers who flock over here and drive our teen-age girls from all-out ga-ga to plumb nuts.

Fulbright Talks Deal in Realities

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Sen. J. W. Fulbright has a habit of making statements which rub against the American grain, for a time, and he gets criticized for them.



MARLOW

They are not self-righteous statements for he is an examiner of the American conscience and self-consciousness, a gadfly on this country's view of the world.

Nor are his statements original in the sense of proposing something new or unheard of. Rather he acknowledges realities that are not being talked about or justifies policies that exist but on a small or hesitant scale.

At times he is a tart critic of American policy. Added together his statements are among the most thoughtful coming out of American public life, even if they are not all adopted.

Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, made another talk Tuesday at Dallas, this time about building bridges to the Communist world.

★ ★ ★

How long will this country and communism have to accommodate themselves to the idea that neither is going to disappear and both will have to live side by side?

DIVERSE AND CONFLICTING

"As far into the future," Fulbright said Tuesday, "as we can see we shall be living in a world of diverse and often conflicting interests and ideologies."

And he added: "I do not think there is reason for despair in this state of things. Compromises often turn out to be very much more tolerable than they seem when they are being made and victories even more often turn out to be bitter disappointments. Democracy itself is built on this view of human nature."

He suggested this country try to build bridges to the various countries of communism — but not to Red China until some day its fanatics disappear and it ceases aggression and subversion — but he would vary the kind of bridges, depending on the particular Communist country.

"The building of bridges," he said, "means nothing more than the opening of normal contacts and communications across a chasm of misunderstanding."

NOT ON FEVERISH SCALE

This country has already done, and is doing that, although not a feverish scale. So here again Fulbright was only stating the obvious but in a common sense way.

He said it is this country's "crusading tendency, so noble in intent, so potentially destructive in its consequences, that we must guard against in our relations with the Communist world."

Somebody's Got To Build A Better One

David Lawrence Says:

Great Society Goal Nothing New

WASHINGTON — There is nothing new under the sun—not even the Great Society, which has suddenly entered the political vocabulary in America. For just 50 years ago, Graham Wallas of the London School of Economics and Political Science wrote a book entitled "The Great Society," which gave an analysis of the modern state.

LAWRENCE

Wallas was dedicated to the concept that the proper organization of the economic and social life in a country could create "happiness." He was a moderate rather than an extreme Socialist.

Although written five decades ago, his book deals with the very same trends and problems that are in existence today.

Wallas described himself as a social psychologist, but in sponsoring the "great society" he did not say it was original with him or with his fellow intellectuals.

★ ★ ★

He said that 50 years before, in 1864, "the practical men who were bringing the 'great society' into existence thought, when they had time to think at all, that they were thereby offering an enormously better existence to the whole human race."

MORE THAN EQUAL

They were convinced that, even if the "great society" should deprive people of some of the romance and intimacy of life, the increase of security would be far more than an equal return.

The author of the book agreed that certain causes of unhappiness had been removed, but noted that positive happiness had not been produced. He said:

"The 'great society' has resulted in a degree of discomfort and uncertainty which was unexpected by those who helped to make it. Its successes have rather been in the removal of certain specific causes of unhappiness than in the production of positive happiness.

★ ★ ★

"But those successes have not been unimportant . . . Life is much longer than it was, and disease less terrible. Poverty no longer means the hunger . . . that made a man look like a lantern all his life after."

MORE VARIETY

Wallas suggested that men should be given more variety in the handling of machines and some leeway for individual initiative, and urged team work.

He proposed ways to give individuals some sense of responsibility in their work, and recommended "classrooms out of school hours, clubs, gymnasiums, or parks" and transportation facilities to give access to quiet countrysides.

The author even advanced what some employers and unions are now promoting—long vacations. He suggested that these be on a half-year or quarter-year basis, and that the sabbatical idea be applied in occupations other than educational faculties.

But, above all, he urged that a man be given the work that fits him. He said happiness as a social criterion instead of efficiency should be considered more often.

Although Wallas criticized the failure to achieve the "great society" which had been advocated more than 50 years before he wrote his book, he continued to raise doubts as to how "happiness" could be attained in the "great society."

★ ★ ★

It is a problem which President Johnson, too, may find difficult to resolve.

Capital Letter:

Some Quiet Diplomacy on GOP Leadership Issue

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — One of the quietest but most effective voices in the Republican party has come forward with a sensible-sounding solution to the current spate of GOP bloodletting.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, the highest-ranking woman in congressional history, believes that the "proper" course for National Chairman Dean Burch is to offer his resignation and ask for a vote of confidence.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

She feels that this move should be made at the January meeting of the national committee, and if the resignation is rejected the party should then close ranks behind him "and start at the bottom to reorganize."

One of the few top Republicans to steer clear of the post-election squabbling, the Maine Senator says, "Too many are talking without giving time for thought."

★ ★ ★

She thinks the only proper forum for deciding Burch's political future is the national committee, which meets here next month.

INCLUDE EVERYONE

"We Republicans can't afford the luxury of reading anyone out of the party," the blue-eyed, silver-haired solon said. "That includes everyone from the Goldwater to the Rockefeller wings.

"It's going to take all of us to get back on our feet, and each of us has a real part to play in rebuilding the party."

She hopes that out of the January session will come a new statement of principles on which conservative, liberal and moderate Republicans can unite.

She suggests that the statement be limited to three or four basic issues, which should cover such fields as an adequate Social Security system with a statement of position on a medical health program; the broad field of taxation, deficit spending and governmental waste; and safeguards to prevent either labor or business from becoming too powerful. Civil rights, she feels, has now become a problem of enforcement and should be removed from politics.

Asked whether she thinks Republicans should assign maverick Sen. Strom Thurmond to the choice armed services and commerce committee seats that he has held as a Democrat, she replied:

"I think the regular seniority system should prevail. Sen. Thurmond should be treated exactly like any other new Republican senator who comes over from the House side."

If Mrs. Smith's view prevails in January, the South Carolinian who switched parties during the recent campaign will have to start again at the bottom of the seniority totem pole, and perhaps switch to minor committees.

Voice of the People:

A True Democrat Says His Party Here to Stay

I am one of the millions that voted for the man best suited for our nation's leader. To all the die-hard Republicans, Democrats are here to stay. With two Kennedy brothers in politics, we could have two more Kennedy presidents in the near future.

★ ★ ★

All voters who say they realize voting for Johnson was a mistake should take the slow boat to China—to a Communist country.

Smut Literature Views From New York

A New York dispatch says: "The New York Academy of Medicine has urged President Johnson to assign the FBI the job of identifying producers of obscene literature and to launch a Federal fight on obscenity."

AMEN

A New York News columnist "discovered" the newsstand smut and copied down some of the titles from a couple of publications for his readers.

★ ★ ★

Here they are:

"God Help Me to Avenge Eric's Death. I RAPED HIS WIDOW."

"HE DIED IN MY APARTMENT. How could I tell his wife?"

"Could My Husband Love Me if HE SEDUCED WOMEN FOR MONEY."

"THEY GOT ME IN THE BEDROOM."

"I COULDN'T GET ENOUGH LOVEMAKING"

"HE MADE ME PREGNANT BUT HE MARRIED MY SISTER."

"THEY CALLED ME THEIR ORGY GIRL"

"THE BABY ISN'T MINE; I HAVE TO KILL HER"

"FIVE MEN KNOW MY SECRET. HOW CAN I KEEP MY HUSBAND FROM BEING THE SIXTH?"

Risks in Red Military Strategy

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Testimony given by Swedish Soviet agent Col. Stig Wennerstroem gives an insight into long-range Russian military strategy and the risks the Reds are willing to run.

A decade back, the Russians saw the United States pushing ahead with great numbers of intercontinental bombers armed with large nuclear bombs.

The Reds decided there was no point in attempting to keep up. Instead, they chose a calculated gamble.

They let their intercontinental bomber force remain small. Thus they deliberately took the risk of committing themselves to being much weaker than their chief enemy, the United States, in strategic air power for at least a decade.

While leaving themselves partially naked strategically in the 1950s, they put their funds into what was then long-shot chancy research on 5,000-mile missiles in the belief that by the 1960s they would leapfrog past the United States with nuclear-tipped ICBMs the United States could not match.

★ ★ ★

To realize what a long-shot gamble this decision was, it must be recalled that at the time no one had ever produced intercontinental missiles. The Russians had no assurance they could make practical nuclear war heads. (At that time U.S. experts had decided the concept wasn't practical militarily).

Wennerstroem's testimony indicates the Russians calculated they could bluff the United States as to their might until the leapfrog gamble succeeded and they had missile superiority.

The Russians may now be producing a 1964 version of that same gamble.

Moscow's military - scientific experts know as well as U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara that the United States is well ahead in Minutemen and Polaris - type ballistic missiles. It appears that the Soviet Union is not attempting to catch up in this particular race.

★ ★ ★

If there is any parallel with the 1930s, the Soviet Union will let the United States win this Minuteman-Polaris sweepstakes without a real contest.

★ ★ ★

Instead, Moscow will — in the 1964-1974 decade — take a long-shot research gamble on developing radical new types of strategic military weapons aimed at putting the Soviet Union ahead of the United States in the mid-1970s.

As noted in this column recently, there is considerable evidence that this is exactly what the Russians are doing.

Some U.S. military scientists, worried by this development, are pushing for expanded U.S. research in a wide array of wayout projects — radical new concepts for missile defense, missiles capable of zigging or zagging to evade enemy antimissile systems, planes able to operate both in the atmosphere and in space, missiles that could travel with two or three times the speed of today's ICBMs, multiple warhead ICBMs that would shoot off in different directions, and exploration of completely new ways in which to immobilize or destroy the enemy or his weapons either by some form of chemicals, electromagnetic force or atomic particles.

20 Years Ago This December

Gigantic Battle of the Bulge Was Chaotic and Controversial

ALLIES FIGHT BACK — From Dec. 16, when the first attack took place, to Dec. 25, the Allies retreated steadily (map at left). But from Dec.26 and into Jan. 16 of 1945, the Germans were slowly driven back (map at right).

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Robert E. Merriam was an official U.S. Army historian during the Battle of the Bulge. He later wrote "Dark December," definitive history of this controversial and chaotic conflict. A brief version of "Dark December" has been reissued in paperback form under the title, "The Battle of the Bulge.")

By ROBERT E. MERRIAM
(Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Who can possibly presume to recount accurately and recapture fully the feelings and emotions and happenings of a gigantic battle of men and machines in which millions of soldiers were locked in confused, swirling combat?

Behind the impersonal words one feebly uses in attempting to describe a great battle lie hundreds and thousands of varied individual remembrances.

When a battle assumes the size and importance of the Battle of the Bulge, with more than 60 Allied and German divisions committed before the end of the fighting, the personal equation multiplies to astronomical proportions.

Myths spring up and become magnified by time.

How does one begin to describe those moments 20 years ago? To those who were yet unborn, or were but children, it all sounds unreal.

But to millions of middle-aged Americans in every hamlet of this land, that day 20 years ago is one never to be forgotten.

EVENTS AFTER FACT

Should one talk of events after the fact, like being locked in a cell with Otto Skorzeny while he told of being personally briefed by Hitler as to the purposes of this attack?

Or, of his recounting how the rumors of the plot on Eisenhower's life got started? Or, of the lawyer in Guam who wrote to ask if it was Peiper who captured him on the second day of the attack?

Or, of six Germans who took 1 years to get back from Greenland where they had been sent to get the most advanced weather data in anticipation of this attack?

* * *

Or, of the American infantryman who wrote one of his buddies that he would like my picture so he could punch me in the nose when he next saw me—because I had accurately reported that his division had surrendered to the Germans after three days of fighting in Europe?

ARDENNES AREA

Or, should one talk about the Ardennes area itself, its physical characteristics, its charm, its roads and its rivers? How does a battlefield look 20 years after?

To the traveler in the Ardennes, only a few momentos of this terrific struggle remain: a beautiful memorial near Bastogne, now called "La Ville Des Noisettes (Nuts)" in honor of the famous reply of Gen. McAuliffe to the German demand for surrender; the simple, ungrammatical marker at the site of the Malmedy Massacre; a German tank still guarding a bridge in Houffalize; a memorial to Patton in Ettelbruck; and scattered graves, foxholes and debris of warfare.

But so renovated are the roads and the villages that the producers of a new movie about the Battle of the Bulge, on which production starts this month, have announced that it is being filmed in northern New York because the actual battle area has been too modernized to look real.

* * *

Or, what of the planners and strategists and major participants in this titanic struggle?

On the German side, Hitler and Goering and Field Marshal Model, crafty field commander, were suicides.

WAR STRATEGISTS

Jodl and Keitel, Hitler's war strategists, were hanged as war criminals. Dietrich and Peiper were tried for their roles in the Malmedy Massacre, when a company of Americans was lined up and shot after being captured by Peiper's fast-advancing panzer units, early in the battle.

Both were eventually fired from prison, when finally it was decided that their personal responsibility had been exaggerated. Von Der Heydte is once again a teacher.

Manteuffel is a German businessman. Skorzeny is in Spain, and Remer for a time was active with a right-wing party in West Germany, until he lapsed into obscurity.

On the Allied side, President Roosevelt and Generals Marshall and "Beetle" Smith, Eisenhower's chief of staff, all are dead. Churchill is old and gaunt, and Montgomery, not so old but still quarrelsome.

PATTON IS DEAD

Only Patton among the principal American field commanders is dead. Bradley, Hodges, Middleton, McAuliffe, Collins and Hasbrouck, to mention a few, are still active.

The proud Frenchman, De Gaulle, still leads his still-proud nation. And, of course, former President Eisenhower, revered the world over, while relieved of the awesome responsibilities he held for so many years, pursues an active world-citizen's life.

Or, should one concentrate on personal remembrances? There were nearly 100,000 American casualties in the Battle of the Bulge. Some were close friends of mine. Some I found as we returned to the beautiful hilly lands of the Ardennes nearly a month later. Some still are being found.

Or, of the physical conditions and remembrances? It was cold. It was snowy. It was icy. It was miserable.

DON'T LIKE TO RETREAT

We Americans don't like to retreat, but we did. There were some cases of cowardice, and we still don't like to talk about them. There were many cases of heroism, and they still haven't all been told.

There was the massacre at Malmedy and others at nearby Stavelot and La Gleize where Belgian civilians were likewise treated. There were the magnificent defenses of Bastogne and of St. Vith.

Or, should one relate the strategic significance of the fighting — the psychological aftershock which occurred?

In late January, "Beetle" Smith went to Malta to see Gen. Marshall who was accompanying President Roosevelt to Yalta to meet with Stalin.

GRIM PICTURE

The grim picture he painted of the casualties we had suffered, the reinforcements we needed, the supplies we had lost, were, as the historians have finally discovered, a major factor in the decision to make whatever concessions were needed to get the Russians into the war against Japan.

These Yalta concessions set up the balance of power in Asia which led, at least in part, to Korea and Viet Nam, and which will plague us for some time to come.

CONTRAST OF EXPRESSIONS — The wife and mother of astronaut John W. Young show a contrast of expressions as they viewed the attempted launch of an unmanned Gemini capsule yesterday at Cape Kennedy, Fla. This picture was made when it was apparent the Titan 2 rocket and attached capsule, which failed to get off the ground, were safe. Commander Young is assigned to orbit the earth in the Gemini capsule alongside astronaut Virgil Grissom, some time in 1965. Young's mother (right), Mrs. William H. Young, lives in Orlando, Fla.

Aborted Space Test Snags Gemini Plans

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The United States must wait at least another half-year for its next chance to send men into space.

About two months of delay were added in a split-second yesterday — the time it took a steering mechanism to go haywire and ruin a critical flight test of a towering Titan-2 booster rocket and its two-seater Gemini capsule.

The 109-foot-tall space machine, instead of soaring a planned 2,150 miles into space, remained locked to its launching pad — its home for at least another month.

By sending the 6,900-pound Gemini capsule on a searing "up and down" flight to the edge of space, the shot was supposed to remove the final barrier for the nation's first two-man trip into orbit next March.

* * *

Now, however, the manned flight appears to be off until about May — a full 1½ years behind the original schedule for the "second generation" Project Gemini.

SPACEMEN WATCH

Among those who watched the disappointing series of red lights flash on electronic consoles yesterday were Virgil L. Grissom and John W. Young, the two astronauts selected nine months ago for Gemini's inaugural, three-orbit manned mission.

Yesterday's was a totally unexpected mishap, one unprecedented in the three-year history of the Titan-2 rocket.

As the countdown reached "zero" after morning-long delays, the rocket's two first stage engines roared into life and churned out a boiling column of red-orange smoke.

But one second before the massive lock-down arms were to have let the booster go, the engines cut off. A safety system detected a malfunction.

LOST PRESSURE

Engineers found that the rocket's steering system lost hydraulic pressure and moved the engines in a sudden, dangerous manner. The automatic system went into action at that point and shut down the whole works.

The mos serious damage appeared to be the possibility of a small crack in a fuel coolant tube in one engine.

It was enough to cause discouraged space agency officials to set the test back into January and to concede that the manned flight is now "further downstream, into the second quarter of 1965."

Volcano Is Rumbling

CATANIA, Sicily (UPI) — Mount Etna, Europe's largest active volcano, continued its rhythmic rumblings yesterday, but without causing alarm. Large quantities of ash and sand were carried into the surrounding area by the winds.

Catskills Community Seeking to Follow Teachings of Jesus

RIFTON, N.Y. (AP) — Members of a unique religious community here, whose goal is to follow completely the teachings of Jesus through shared communal living, have found a satisfactory way to meet the practical needs of the 250-member Society of Brothers.

They are hard at work manufacturing educational playthings, designed to spur imaginactive, spontaneous play activities.

Many of their designs are constructed for multiple—and free-wheeling—purposes. There's a triangle set from which children can make a seesaw, a cart with wheels, a slide.

Another design is a playhouse which can operate at one-story or two-story levels, can support a slide that can grab a rung at any height, and that has a platform readied for doll housekeeping or playing store.

A rocking boat has a built-in mechanism so it actually moves across the floor as the young "rowers" rock it. When it's turned over there's a flight of stairs underneath.

In their own community in the foothills of the Catskills, life for the children means playing with the toys their fathers and grandfathers have made, having breakfast with their families in their apartments, but sharing the other two meals with their own age groups in their own school, helping with berry picking, corn husking, kitchen clean-up detail, and the myriad activities common to any large family.

There is no iron-clad schedule of responsibilities for any of the members of the Society of Brothers. A new house is needed for the growing community, so all men who are available go to work on its construction.

The weather is unusually hot, so the children are piled in a school bus, and go to the river for the afternoon. The young college group is off for a four-day hike through the Catskills.

Young members of the community teach the still-younger in a building adapted for a school. There aren't any conventional desks.

The tables are in half and quarter circles, and the teacher presides within a partial circle where she can reach every child without standing up. This type of table later joined the parade of equipment marketed by the society.

COMMUNAL LIVING

Communal living begins at the cradle age, and at six weeks, the new baby spends a few hours a day in the Baby House.

When adult members of the community gather in the evening for singing or folk-dancing, there's no baby-sitting problem. A teen-age girl in the apartment unit will watch over several charges. When it's a teen party, the mothers take turns with baby-tending at home.

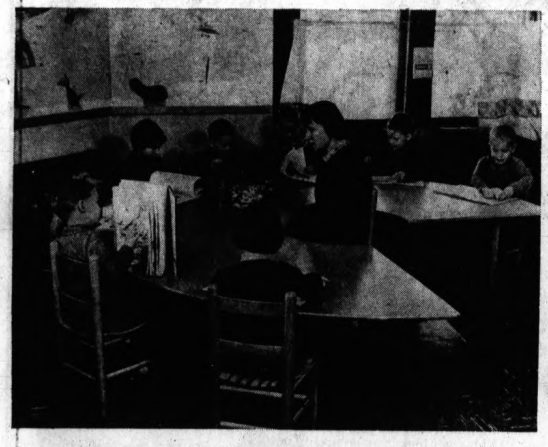
Formed in 1920, the Society of Brothers originated in Germany, left for England, when it was forced to disband by the German Secret State Police, fled to Paraguay when Germany made war on England and came to rest in the United States 10 years ago. There are two other communities in this country, at Norfolk, Conn., and Farmington, Pa.



YOUNG MEMBERS — Play school time is held for youngsters of the Society of Brothers at Rifton, N.Y., who have their own school. Teachers are also members of the religious community.

GOING UP — Castle in the air stands sturdily on earth, as children of the Society of Brothers play with blocks their fathers manufacture. The 250-member society is at Rifton, N.Y.

Salk Uses New Setup at Institute

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — When polio vaccine inventor Jonas Salk got the idea of bringing scientists together for a broad ing some of the world's great assault on the remaining diseases of man, there were some who wondered:

★ ★ ★

1. Would the impatient genius of such people allow anyone to tell them what direction their research should take?

2. Would they be any more successful working together than separately?

★ ★ ★

After several shakedown months in cramped temporary laboratories while a $16 million institute is being built on a hill overlooking the Pacific, Dr. Salk and his associates have found answers to both questions.

★ ★ ★

First, Salk told newsmen Wednesday, he and the staff of the Salk Institute have worked out a democratic system he believes is virtually unique among research bodies.

IN OWN FIELD

In some institutes the director has absolute authority.

At the Salk Institute each top-scientist, or fellow, as he is called, is recognized as an authority in his own field, capable of determining what line of investigation should prove most rewarding.

★ ★ ★

He governs expenditures for budgets allotted him by the board of trustees, hires and fires assistants and can even nominate new fellows subject to final approval of the board.

★ ★ ★

The board, made up of prominent business and professional people, generally relies on advice from two committees. One is a guiding committee of three resident and three nonresident fellows working to coordinate the efforts to watch for possible duplication.

★ ★ ★

The other is a policy committee of three fellows and three board members, which examines mutual goals and problems.

Lake Ship Free From Ground Near Belle Isle

DETROIT (UPI) — A 700-foot cargo ship, which ran aground in the fog off Belle Isle in the Detroit River, was finally pulled free late last night by four tugs.

The Cliffs Victory, a fuel-laden ship belonging to the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. of Michigan's Upper Peninsula, was headed toward Cleveland early yesterday morning when she ran aground on the muddy bottom of the Detroit River.

★ ★ ★

The coast guard said the ship failed to make a turn in the channel when the pilot's vision was hampered by poor visibility due to the fog.

No injuries were reported on board.

'LBJ Opposes Purge of Dems'

Liberals Are Poised to Hit Barry Backers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Word is being passed on Capitol Hill that President Johnson does not favor the proposed purge of two Southern Democratic congressmen who opposed his election.

Officially, the President hasn't said what his stand is—and he isn't likely to do so.

But key House members in a position to know are saying that he is against a move to oust from the party Reps. John Bell Williams, D-Miss., and Albert W. Watson, D-S. C.

The two supported GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater during the election campaign.

Liberal Democrats in the House let it be known today, however, that they would press for the purge whether Johnson wants it or not.

They will make their move at a party caucus Jan. 2, two days before the new 89th Congress convenes.

VOTES ASSURED

Spokesmen for the liberal bloc say the votes now are assured to deprive Williams and Watson of their membership in the party caucus and — more important— their positions in the Democratic seniority scale which largely determines congressional power.

The liberals concede that any overt drive by Johnson to block the purge could shear away some of their support.

But one key member of the Democratic study group, which is sponsoring the disciplinary action, said he did not believe Johnson could stop the move.

★ ★ ★

"I don't think the President will get into it," this Democrat said. "After all, we announced on the House floor on Oct. 2 that we intended to take steps against any Democratic member of the House who opposed the national ticket.

HE ACCEPTED

"Johnson, as the chief beneficiary of that move, did not disavow it then and I don't see how he can disavow it now, after he has accepted its benefits."

Europeans in Tanzania Feel Pinch

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — With Africans taking over an increasing number of jobs in this African republic, Europeans have steadily become more insecure.

Many drive to their offices in the morning, wondering whether they will be replaced before the day is over.

★ ★ ★

The changeover and political troubles have created a climate of uncertainty which is costing the country a lot of money. The Europeans have their pensions and other compensations paid out in cash.

Few are buying or investing. One trader said his business has dropped 50 per cent in the last three months.

BIGGEST DEFICIT

The East African Railways and Harbors, which employed many Europeans, expects its biggest deficit in many years.

President Julius Nyerere, who heads this union of Tanganyika and Zanzibar, is pinning his hopes on a five-year plan of economic development to pull the country out of its economic doldrums.

Nyerere was nearly toppled by a military coup in January and there are rumors of further political troubles. The government recently claimed it had discovered documents telling of a U.S.-backed plot to invade Tanzania. The United States said the documents were forgeries.

Nyerere has been seeking aid abroad.

Lifetime Licenses Issued in Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana has a new law providing for issuance of lifetime license plates to owners of antique automobiles. The fee is $15 for cars manufactured before 1932 and kept in or restored to good condition. Another $5 is charged if ownership is transferred.

Pontiac Board of Education's School Integration Policy Published Verbatim by Press

The following is a statement of policy concerning integration in Pontiac schools which was presented to the Pontiac Board of Education last night.

Due to its importance to the community, The Press is publishing the policy statement verbatim.

PREAMBLE

"Under our system of laws, it is the primary responsibility of each community to provide equal educational opportunities for all children in terms of quality of instruction, adequacy of facilities and instructional materials, and opportunity for personal fulfillments.

"The latter can be accomplished to an adequate degree in our democracy only when the policies and practices of the school system place a positive emphasis upon achieving and maintaining a racially integrated school system.

* * *

"Providing this equity in educational opportunities is a part of the process of educational planning, done by cooperative means consistent with the basic educational philosophy of our school district".

PUPIL PLACEMENT

"Pupil placement practices of the school district must be based on sound educational principles, and should provide integrated school populations insofar as this is possible.

"The neighborhood school concept is believed to represent sound educational practice. Pupils will be guaranteed the right to attend the school which serves their attendance area as established by action of the Board of Education.

"The Board of Education recognizes that circumstances arise occasionally wherein shifts in population necessitate the temporary provision of special housing arrangements for pupils.

"These may occur in the future, but do not negate the broad principle enunciated here.

"The present school attendance areas have been established on the basis of the following criteria: the nearness of the pupils to school, the safety of pupil access routes to school, and the reasonable capacity of the school.

"At such times as changes in school attendance areas may be required, an additional criterion will be observed. When possible, the boundaries shall be drawn so as to provide integrated student bodies in schools.

"This added criterion will also receive consideration along with other criteria in the selection of sites for the location of new schools.

EMPLOYMENT AND ASSIGNMENT OF TEACHERS

"It is the continuing policy of the Board of Education to employ, upgrade, and assign all applicants for administrative, teaching, secretarial, clerical, maintenance, and all other positions within the table of organization on merit without regard to race, color, marital status, nationality, or religion.

"The Board of Education believes it to be desirable that all school pupils should have the opportunity to receive instruction from white and Negro teachers during their years in school. Thus it is desirable to achieve and maintain an equitable distribution of Negro and white teachers in the various schools of the school district.

"Teachers are professional persons, and as such have the right to have their views on their placement and assignment considered and respected.

"Furthermore, it is sound educational practice to assess the specific qualifications of each teacher, the specific needs of each position and, to the degree possible, match the qualifications of the employe to the needs of the position.

"It is believed that an equitable distribution of white and Negro teachers, respect for the views of teachers with regard to assignments, and matching professional qualifications with the needs of each position can and should be achieved through appropriate inservice education, encouragement and administrative effort.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

"It is the continuing policy of the Board of Education that educational programs of excellence must be provided for all pupils in all schools. Where special educational needs are found to exist, special educational programs and services will be provided to meet these.

* * *

"Text books, instructional materials, and instructional programs should be examined in light of their adequacy with respect to the role and contribution of the Negro in American development, the affect of slavery and discrimination on Negroes as individuals and as a group, and the implications of the civil rights movement.

"These emphases are essential elements in the instructional program if good inter-group attitudes and understandings are to be developed among all children, and if the Negro child is to develop a good self-image, pride in his race and heritage, and a sense of equality as a human being.

"It is the continuing policy of the Board of Education to provide the best possible school facilities for all schools and all pupils."

*(This statement has been taken from "Suggested Guidelines for Providing for the Maximal Education of Children of all Races and Creeds in the Schools of Michigan: A Report to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction from the State Committee on Equal Educational Opportunity, May 20, 1964.")

Liquid Diet for Sick Is Based on Fancy

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

A typhoid patient in the third week of fever, when liquid diet was routine for typhoid patients, inasmuch as a bit of solid food might perforate an ulcer in the intestine, suffered a perforation, that is, a tear in the intestinal wall, permitting intestinal contents to leak into the peritoneal (abdominal) cavity and set up peritonitis — if the patient lived long enough.

In the operation the perforation was found, partly corked or stoppered by a finger-size piece of gristlelike substance, which proved to be a tough curd of milk.

The case occurred in a hospital where I was an intern with the gall to dispute the staff physicians' diagnoses or treatment when I believed they were wrong.

Once I was hauled before the board of managers and censured for exceeding my authority. Another time I was suspended for a similar offense. But both times I had the satisfaction of proving that the staff man who complained of my insubordination had been wrong in his diagnosis. Come to think of it, I have been looking for trouble ever since.

It was just my luck that typhoid began to decline steadily in prevalence about the time I got into practice. But in the few cases I attended in the next four or five years — perhaps 18 to 20 — I saw to it that the patients had all they wanted to eat, within reason, and the liberal feeding plan kept them in pretty good condition, compared with the malnourished state of patients kept for weeks on a starvation regimen of milk and thin broth.

LIQUID DIET

The quaint notion that a very sick patient must have a "liquid" diet was based on fancy. If the patient is able to chew solid food, that's the food the patient should have.

To force child or adult to take milk, broth, or gruel which he or she dislikes, or to refuse him a dish of macaroni and cheese or meat and potato, except under the specific order of the physician, is neither good science nor good sense.

Lard and other animal oils or fats are as digestible as vegetable oils or combinations of them used to make shortening.

★ ★ ★

The old-time physician of the liquid diet era had a notion that fried foods are "difficult" to digest. So he excluded all fried foods from the funny diet he gave the patient. It wasn't just fried foods but "fried and greasy" foods.

Fried eggs, fried ham, fried fish, fried potato, fried mush — you call that indigestible? Man, lead me to it!

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady. If a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Rest Areas on U. S. 27 to Close for Winter

LANSING (AP)—Five of eight freeway safety rest areas on U.S. 27 and I-75 between Houghton Lake and the Mackinac Bridge will be closed Saturday for the winter, reports the State Highway Department. Heavy snowfall would make it too difficult to keep the areas open, said the department.

Cats first entered the service of mankind with the Egyptians, who tamed them to keep grain storehouses free of rats.

Safe Was Open-Proof

NORTH ORMESBY, England (UPI) — A bank here had to send its drill proof, fireproof safe containing $176,000 back to the makers because even experts called in to fix the jammed combination lock could not open it.

Sleep Guns Help Save Rare Africa Wildlife

WASHINGTON — A gun that captures without killing is helping to save the rare white rhinoceros in Africa.

The rifle fires drug darts that can put to sleep a four-ton rhino, largest land animal next to the elephant. The projectile, a needle-tipped syringe containing synthetic morphine, paralyzes the animal — temporarily and harmlessly.

The white rhino is vanishing from parts of Africa where it used to be common while at the same time paradoxically overpopulating one small area where it used to be rare.

Only 20 roamed the Umfolozi Game Reserve in South Africa a few decades ago. Now, the 100 - square - mile sanctuary bulges with 700 white rhinos.

* * *

The two rhino species in Africa are called "white" and "black" though both animals are the same gray color, the National Geographic Society says. But there are differences. The white rhino is bigger and more docile. It has a square lip in contrast to the pointed upper lip of the black.

DIFFICULT TASK

Before sleep-inducing darts were available, the task of catching the surplus white rhinos at Umfolozi was difficult and dangerous. It often took weeks to capture one. The animal was chased in a specially reinforced truck and lassoed with strong rope. Game rangers then had to bring the rampaging beast to a slow halt, tie up the legs, and somehow push and pull it into a cage.

Thanks to the new drug guns, a rhino can literally be shot to sleep, loaded on a truck, and lugged back to camp in one morning. Consequently, an increasing number of Umfolozi rhinos have been sent to zoos in the United States and elsewhere, as well as to reserves in East and Central Africa.

Conservationists believe such widespread dispersal of a rare species will reduce the danger of extinction should disease or disaster strike down the last large herd at Umfolozi.

* * *

Though sleep guns are new, the idea is old. For centuries, South American Indians have used darts dipped in a special curare-type drug to capture live prey.

SUCCESSFUL MODEL

The idea for the rifles sprang from American game rangers who wanted to shift deer from coastal islands of Georgia to the mainland. Biologists and gunsmiths combined talents to produce a successful model.

The earliest guns were powered by carbon dioxide capsules, and had a limited range. The powerful guns now being made increase the range to 100 yards.

A variation was introduced by George Crossette, chief of Geographic Research at the National Geographic Society and an avid sportsman. Mr. Crossette adapted an old weapon, the crossbow, to fire drug darts at long distances.

* * *

Though cumbersome, his weapon has been successful in its use on grizzly bears in Yellowstone National Park. These animals were shot with anesthetics so that tiny transistor radios could be attached by a collar to broadcast their whereabouts.

The National Geographic and National Science Foundation cosponsored the five-year project, hoping to learn from bears' patterns of movement why the once-common grizzly faces possible extinction.

In Red Satellite Countries

Christmas Replacements Flop

By GIRD KRIWANEK
United Press International

VIENNA — Christmas is still CHRISTmas in the Communist satellite countries of eastern Europe.

Government efforts, especially during the Stalin era, to make it the "Festival of the Fir Tree" failed and have largely been given up.

Likewise, no amount of official persuasion has convinced the people that "Father Frost" kindly old gent that he may be, can ever replace their long-beloved "Christ Child," who pays miraculous visits to households in Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Romania to place gifts under the lighted Christfas tree.

In Hungary, where Christmas trees were almost impossible to obtain in Stalinist days, there is no problem now and no more official effort to create one.

Fir trees of all sizes are imported from other Communist countries and from capitalist Austria.

★ ★ ★

The only visible remnant of "Father Frost" is the "Celebration of the Fir Tree Festival" in the Hungarian parliament building, to which about 2,000 members of the Communist Yourth organization are invited to receive presents from him.

TRADITIONS

Elsewhere, centuries old Christmas traditions are in full flower celebrating the birth of the Saviour.

Hungarian nationalized stores and private shops start selling Christmas decorations, creches, candles and cards around the middle of November.

Stores are jammed with Christmas shoppers in the last days before the holiday.

★ ★ ★

The afternoon of Christmas Eve is reserved for decorating the Christmas tree in most Hungarian households, while housewives fry the traditional carp for Christmas Eve dinner, followed by "Makosguba" — small dumplings with poppy seed.

FAMILY AFFAIR

Christmas is strictly a family festival in Hungary. Hardly any street cars run in Budapest on Christmas Eve and all theaters, movies and night clubs are closed.

The radio broadcasts Christmas songs, among them the popular "Silent Night" and the Hungarian "Mennyboel az angyal" (The Angel from Heaven).

Both Christmas and Boxing Day are official holidays in Hungary. While the first is reserved for the family, Hungarians pay visits to relatives and close friends on Boxing Day.

★ ★ ★

Churches usually are packed all over Hungary on Christmas Day. Many Hungarians attend midnight mass on Christmas eve.

TREND TO TURKEY

Although Hungary is not in the sphere of American influence, the trend toward the American Christmas dinner of turkey is noticeable, replacing the traditional goose in many households.

The story is much the same in Czechoslovakia and Romania, with minor variations for local traditions.

In Prague, the lofty dome of St. Nicholas Church will be filled Christmas Eve with the ethereal strains of the Christmas Mass by Czech baroque composer Jan Jakub Ryba.

★ ★ ★

Village churches also play it at the midnight mass all over Czechoslovakia.

INSTITUTIONS

Christmas trees, mistletoe and presents are institutions of long standing in Czechoslovakia and have remained undimmed by any official pressure.

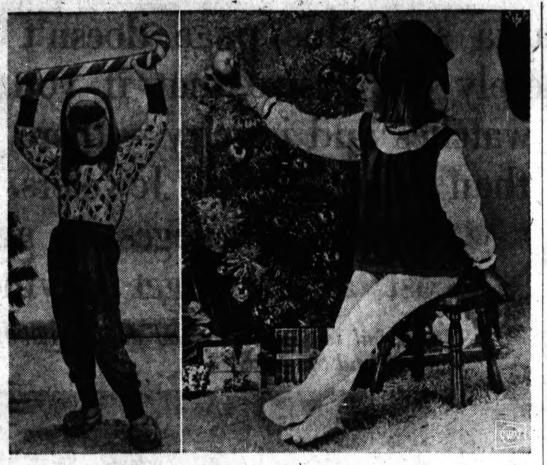
For adults in Czechoslovakia the Christmas holidays end with Boxing Day, the day after Christmas, but for children they go on until Twelfth Night when, especially in the villages, they masquerade as the Magi and call on their friends.

In Romania, while authorities still officially stick to "Father Frost" and the "Festival of the Fir Tree," they are doing nothing to influence families to abandon their traditional observance of Christmas as the oldest and most sacred holiday of the Christian world.

★ ★ ★

Contrary to other orthodox countries, the Romanian Orthodox Church celebrates Christmas on Dec. 25, thus uniting the eastern, or Orthodox part of the country, and the western, Catholic and Protestant, in the observance.

Big fir trees, illuminated at night, stand in the centers of Romanian cities and, while "Father Frost" visits children in schools, the "Christ Child" comes to them at home.



PAK-NITS — For the little lady who has a place on everyone's Christmas list, nighttime fashions will do the trick. Pak-nit cotton sleepers (left) in candy cane design shrink less than 1 per cent, a boon to mother, too. Pullover sleeper in the same fabric (right) interplays stripes and solids and is edged with ruffles.

Gold leaf has been used to stop bleeding in a variety of ruptured blood vessels which are difficult to stitch.

SMORGAS-BORED?

. . . Here's the cure. Take an old-fashioned walk this Friday along 40 feet of lusciously laden table in the Sheraton-Cadillac Town Room. Here you'll find a colorful, succulent collection of baked ham, assorted broiled fish, a bounty of Chicago rounds of beef, stacks of disjointed chicken and dressing, oceans of Seafood Newburg, piles of pink shrimp, loads of Salmon Bellevue, mounds of vegetables, salads, rolls and desserts. The tab for this Swedish delight? One that even Mr. Benny wouldn't mind picking up . . . just $2.95 per . . . this entitles you to make as many journeys up and down the table as your stomach will allow. The feast takes place between the hours of 5 and 10 p.m., and if you can't get your fill in five hours, we'll give you a rain check for next week. Respectfully, the Town Room in the Sheraton-Cadillac, Detroit's largest, most accommodating hotel.

Numerous Gift Ideas for the Girls of Any Age

NEW YORK (NEA) — Poets speak lyrically of roasting chestnuts and gaily decked halls as harbingers of Christmas. The rest of us have other ways of telling that yuletide approaches.

Feet ache, confusion becomes a way of life and the merry sound of "Jingle Bells" sends us running for the aspirin bottle.

Shopping for the fair sex is an especially taxing chore for there is a baffling number of items to choose from in every price range.

So for puzzled husbands, busy mothers, ardent swains and the gals who must fill the office grab bag, here are some advance pointers about what you'll find in the stores.

* * *

For any gal on your list a gift of beauty is always welcome. Perfume, in the large size for her dressing table or in a pretty purse atomizer, is a good choice.

INGENIOUS

The ingenious man will find out her brand and scent preference. But if this can't be done ask the salesgirl to let you have a whiff of a few different kinds.

When she hits one YOU like, buy it for your lady fair. Tell her you would be pleased if she would wear it just for you. It's bound to be a success with that approach.

For stocking stuffers or other small gifts, there are pretty nylon net caps for covering hair rollers, bath brushes and bath toiletries.

* * *

And for a grab bag, you can stir up some fun with the new lipsticks that not only come in fruit shades, but taste like the fruit they're named for.

A good leather purse is another surefire hit. And here is a tip for the gentlemen — shoulder bags are big fashion items this season.

The newest designs in both costume and fine jewelry take the form of reptile pins and bracelets, copies of antique jewelry and swinging drop earrings for discotheque dancing.

A word to the man who decides this is the year to fulfill mom's desire for a small fur. Either let her choose her own or make sure you go to a reliable furrier.

We're nearly all neophytes in the animal kingdom and it's so easy to be bilked.

WEARY SHOPPERS

Women shoppers will be weary, but they'll cope. A man turned loose among feminine frippery is, indeed, bewildered.

He would be wise to attack the problem by lounging in a comfortable chair, equipped with pad and pencil and a copy of the local newspaper to show him what the stores offer.

Thus armed, he may preserve enough of the Christmas spirit to add a strong baritone to the family's rendition of "Silent Night."

LADY IN YOUR LIFE—Whether she's 16 or 60, she'll appreciate a gift for the bath. Crystal mist and dusting powder in a gay holiday package (upper left) is sure to make a hit at Christmas. The return of the large leather bag (upper center) for late afternoon dates opens up a wide selection of gifts for that special lady on your list. If this is the year in which mom finally gets her long-desired little fur, she may delight in this Autumn Haze Emba, natural brown mink shoulder wrap (lower left). The gal who loves fine jewelry will enjoy something different and elegant. Swiss watches take on a new high style this year. This one (lower center) is a mesh plume, edged with diamonds. A fragrant idea to please girls of all ages is a gift of real French perfume in a pretty atomizer (right). It will give a gala lift to all holiday parties.

This Speedy Impala Can Run 35 M.P.H.

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — The top speed of an impala, a type of antelope found in South Africa, has been established at 35 miles per hour, says this country's Transvaal Provincial Division of Nature Conservation.

* * *

According to the division's latest newsletter, a nature conservation officer in a car recently followed an impala along a road. The impala was going full speed. For half a mile the impala was timed doing exactly 35 m.p.h.

Penalties Could Be Astronomical

West Faces Long Road Through Courts

DETROIT (AP)—A lengthening road through the courts lies before Michigan State Rep. Daniel W. West on tax swindle and voter registration fraud charges.

The charges against the 54-year-old twice-elected Detroit Democratic legislator, in both state and federal courts, mounted Wednesday.

The penalties — if West, alleged masquerader under another man's reputation, were convicted on all, could be astronomical.

They could total 755 years in prison and $864,000 in fines, government lawyers said.

A federal grand jury indicted West on 17 counts of income tax fraud, allegedly in writing fake tax returns as a tax consultant for unwitting clients over a period of years.

West, free under $10,000 bond in one tax fraud case, was due back in court today for arraignment on the grand jury's indictment.

The government says he caused a $250,000 swindle by faking tax returns.

The conservatively dressed defendant spent part of his day Wednesday in Detroit Recorders (Criminal) Court where his lawyer won a fight to keep his bond down in new vote fraud charges brought by the state.

As he did before, West went in and out of court declining to talk to reporters.

★ ★ ★

The prosecution recommended $20,000 bond on the two vote fraud counts. Judge John A. Ricca limited it to $2,000.

West's attorney, Peter P. Cobbs, told the court West now was "known throughout the country — there's no place he can go."

Many charges have been brought against the Negro lawmaker over the last four days.

Among them was the allegation that he masqueraded for 10 years under the reputation of a New York lawyer of a similar name, a white man now dead, to hide a criminal record in several states and to advance his own interests.

West, accused on felony counts of inducing voters to register falsely in his district, stood mute. A plea of innocent was entered for him. Examination was set for Dec. 21.

West is to stand trial Monday in the same Recorder's Court on misdemeanor charges also connected with voter registration. His bond in this instance is $500.

The $10,000 bond pertains to tax swindle charges on which he was brought to federal court earlier on a criminal information.

The grand jury counts against him include 83 of false filings of income tax refund claims and 34 of uttering and publishing (forgery).

Maximum penalties on the false refund charges are a $10,000 fine and five years in prison on each count. On the others, the maximum is 10 years and a $1,000 fine on each.

Exams Held in Two Deaths

Two murder suspects have been bound over to Circuit Court following examination yesterday in Municipal Court.

Viola Payne, 43, of 45 Hibbard, has been charged by Pontiac police with first degree murder in connection with the Nov. 18 South Side pool hall stabbing of her husband, Robert.

Payne was stabbed with a knife during a fight, after he had struck his wife with a pool rack, witnesses said.

Aaron White, 38, of 31 Edmund has been charged with second degree murder in connection with the Oct. 31 slaying of Lawrence Cleghorn, 29, of 434 S. Saginaw.

Police have accused White of shooting Cleghorn during a fight at the Saginaw address.

Mrs. Payne is being held at Oakland County Jail without bond and White is free on $1,000 bond.

2 Youths Get Prison Terms

Prison terms of 2-5 years were ordered yesterday by Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams for two youths who held up a gasoline station in Pontiac.

Sentenced to the state prison at Jackson were Bobby Evans, 20, of 344 Ferry and Joseph Green, 17, of 180 Prospect.

Both pleaded guilty Nov. 25 to assault with intent to rob while being armed in the Aug. 28 hold up of the Clark Oil Station, 382 Orchard Lake. The pair was arrested Sept. 22 by Pontiac police.

Report Details Activities of Civil Defense

Civil Defense activities in Oakland County during fiscal 1963-64 were summarized in detail in a report presented yesterday to the Civil Defense committee of the board of supervisors.

The annual report was presented by Wallace C. Crane, Oakland County Civil Defense director.

A total of 1,666 persons in the county received various kinds of emergency training during the year, including medical, hospital, radiological, fire, police, welfare, rescue, medical self-help and communications.

Total operating expenditures for the period were $11,134, according to the report.

★ ★ ★

An additional 38,705 fallout shelter spaces were stocked with emergency supplies, bringing the total to 67,627. Supplies on hand, which were provided by the federal government's fallout shelter program, have a total value of $163,657.34, the report says.

OFFICES MOVED

The county's CD offices were moved late last summer from the Children's Center School to less crowded facilities at 1 Lafayette. The emergency control center remains in the basement of the school, however.

★ ★ ★

New quarters for the control center are being sought by Crane and the CD committee. At present the most likely location is the former Auburn Heights Nike base, Crane says.

She was past president of the Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association and a member of the Village Women's Club.

Three nieces survive.

Contributions can be made to charity.

F. EARL BRUNSON

Area Mason Unit Installs High Priest

Oakland Chapter 5 of the Royal Arch Masons held a public installation of officers at the Masonic Temple, 18½ E. Lawrence, last night.

F. Earl Brunson, 209 N. Winding, Waterford Township was installed as high priest.

Duane Boughton was installed as king and Carlston Carter took over the duties of scribe.

Fire Damages Frame Home in Waterford Twp.

Fire swept through a small one-story frame home at 1400 Shoman in Waterford Township yesterday, causing an estimated $2,500 damage to building and contents.

Waterford firemen were called to the scene shortly before noon.

Occupant Carl Radtke, who was not home at the time of the fire, told officers he had accidentally started a small fire earlier while thawing water pipes.

He told firemen he thought the fire was out and left the house. The blaze erupted again while the occupant was gone.

The building is owned by Julie Emerson, 193 Leota, Waterford Township.

County Committee Delays Decision on Remodeling

Action on a proposal for major remodeling of the Oakland County Social Welfare and Bureau of Social Aid offices was postponed after considerable discussion yesterday by the ways and means committee of the board of supervisors.

Chairman David Levinson of Birmingham called a special meeting of the committee for 9 a.m. next Tuesday.

At that time, Birmingham Supervisor Luther Heacock, buildings and grounds committee chairman, will be asked to explain his committee's recommendation on the proposal.

Plans are to remodel the basement area of the County Social Welfare Department building, which also houses the state-supported bureau of social aid, to provide a central intake area for recipients of both services.

★ ★ ★

The move was necessitated by the addition of Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADC-U) to the state organization's services.

INCREASED CASE LOAD

The bureau's present facilities have been crowded by the addition of 16 employes to handle the increased case load.

The job was submitted to local contractors for estimates. Estimated costs were also tabulated by the maintenance division of the County Engineering Department.

County Engineer Joseph Joachim said the maintenance division could do the job for $34,500, including unforeseen contingencies.

The lowest base bid submitted to the buildings and grounds committee by a contractor was the Bundy Construction Co. bid of $39,650.

STAY OUT

The buildings and grounds committee voted Monday to recommend acceptance of the Bundy bid, reasoning that the county should stay out of the contracting business whenever possible.

Most of the ways and means committee members expressed dissatisfaction with the recommendation yesterday, however.

An informal vote showed four out of seven were in favor of letting the maintenance division do the job.

The committee then moved to hear Heacock's opinion on the proposal before making its final recommendation to the board of supervisors, which meets at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

In other action the committee moved to appropriate $1,321 to the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic to cover an unexpected deficit in the clinic's 1964 budget.

Four Perish in Crash

TORRANCE, Calif. (UPI) — A single-engine private plane groping through a blinding layer of coastal fog in an apparent attempt to land at Torrance Municipal Airport crashed into an open field today killing all four persons aboard.

Area Man Hurt in Crash

A Lake Orion man is in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital after an auto mishap yesterday in Pontiac Township.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's deputies said Percy L. Graham, 58, of 98 Andrews was the driver of a car which collided with a vehicle driven by Bernice Newton, 77 Highland, also of Lake Orion.

The accident occurred on Opdyke at Mount Clemens, while the Newton vehicle was waiting at the corner, deputies said.

Quake Jolts Skopje

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP) — A strong earthquake, with a center about 75 miles southwest of here, was registered last night by the seismological institute of this Macedonian city which was destroyed by a major earthquake a year ago. There were no reports of casualties or damage.

Gravlin's Trial Is Postponed

The trial of William G. Gravlin, accused of slaying all seven members of his family, has been adjourned until Jan. 19.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn was to begin hearing the case tomorrow but granted the postponement after learning that doctors with psychiatric testimony for the prosecution and defense would not be available at that time.

Gravelin, 30, is charged with murder in connection with the Sept. 27 ax, hammer and shotgun deaths of his wife, daughter and five stepchildren.

The killings took place in the Gravlin home at 2121 Garson, Troy.

He was declared mentally competent to stand trial by Judge Thorburn after a sanity hearing on Oct. 29.

IDEAL GIFTS — Any girl would be delighted to find these cold-weather coats under her tree. At left is a cotton print, black and white polka-dot jacket with nylon quilt lining and dacron and polyester interlining. A zip-in hood is concealed, and below-the-hip length with flair bottom adds interesting touch. At right, a bone color corduroy jacket with black knit collar and cuffs makes an ideal sports coat for winter days. It has a protective, warm acrylic black pile lining.

For Busy Mother

Christmas Is No Time for Elegance

Early each December, I set aside a period of quiet contemplation on the subject of what to wear during the holidays.

* * *

The lavish Christmas catalogues tell me to lounge in red velvet pajamas, to open my presents in a silver brocade negligee, to receive my guests in a tunic-trouser combination of Oriental design.

The only trouble is I don't lounge, and silver brocade is hardly the outfit for cooking blueberry pancakes on Christmas morning.

What I need — and can't find in the catalogues — is an outfit designed to confront bedlam.

* * *

As soon as vacations begin, my services as laundress, cook, black tie-tier, answering service, chauffeur, package wrapper and friendly counselor are in wild demand.

EACH MORNING

Each morning sees me washing and ironing the one-apiece tuxedo shirt, alerting telephone caller A. that soon B. will be sleeping till noon, and pacifying father who thinks character is formed by rising early.

The late-breakfast eaters collide with the lunch eaters, some villain has drunk up all the milk with his midnight snack, and the cat is mouse-hunting with vigor behind the kitchen stove.

Meanwhile the popular daughter of the house, released from the bondage of boarding school, has the record player turned up full blast, and above the racket is screaming to a horde of old pals who have poured into the living room.

* * *

Gravel spurts from the driveway at all hours. The dishwasher runs a load behind. The boys can't find their black silk socks. Father has run out of Christmas cards, and refused to go downtown to buy more. The parcel truck driver is lost and wants directions to Doe Hill Lane, or is it Dogwood Terrace?

NEED DRIP DRY

Obviously, what I need to wear this Christmas is something drip dry, and on my feet, a pair of track shoes.

Red velvet has no place in my life. On Christmas Day, just after I have pulled the 25-pound turkey out of the oven without mishap, I'll rush upstairs and put on a green wool dress that has seen me through several Christmas dinners.

It doesn't really matter what I wear. Just give me a new supply of aprons this Christmas.

POOL IDEAS—Artist and writer put their heads together to come up with a new Christmas card design, which is an everyday business for greeting card workers.

Informal Card Popular Now

Shoppers who prefer neither elegant or sick Christmas cards will find the racks filled this season with exactly the kind they seek: the informal card.

These cards underplay sentiment and have whimsical, sometimes lightly tender cover drawings.

According to Mrs. Peggy Gilbert, design director at Norcross Studios, the informal was conceived in 1962 to lure people who didn't seem to be buying any cards.

Priced at five, ten, and 15 cents, the little cards made a hit, particularly with the teenage crowd that didn't want to buy a drippy card and had tired of Christmas caricatures.

* * *

Now, says Mrs. Gilbert, the demand has moved into the more expensive bracket for the same informals, at prices ranging from 25 to 50 cents.

NEWSY NOTE

The cards are appropriate for senders who yearn to write their own newsy note, for messages are short, and there's plenty of uncluttered area left available.

Typical of the informals is a card showing a tiny mouse asleep in a Christmas - decorated match box.

The cover says "Not a creature was stirring," and the message concludes inside "Just me . . . wishing you Merry Christmas."

* * *

Another, showing three children in folk costumes, says on the cover, "Wishing you an especially Merry Christmas," with the inside line saying "Because you're so special."

1st Christmas Card Designed by Briton

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)— It was in the Merrie England of 1843 that Sir Henry Cole decided to distribute among his associates a special form of Christmas greeting and commissioned a noted London artist, John C. Horsley, to design what was to become the first Christmas card.

Two of the three colored panels illustrated the Christian virtues of feeding the hungry and clothing the needy, while the center panel portrayed a family at Christmas dinner.

Two of these original cards, one signed and one unsigned, are on display here among the 50,000 articles of greeting card memorabilia in the Hallmark Historical Collection.

About 1,000 species of trees grow on United States tree farms, but only about 100 can be made into commercial lumber.

U. S. Youngsters Have Many Favorite Foods

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)— American youngsters go for hamburgers, fried chicken, turkey, spaghetti, hot dogs, peanut butter and all soups except cream soups.

These national favorites turned up in a survey among supervisors of the National School Lunch Program, which serves 16 million children. In the vegetable department, green beans, corn, peas and potatoes top the lists.

Only an increased standard of living will ease the population in underdeveloped countries, experts believe.

Mailmen Sigh With Relief When It's Christmas Day

For a group of frantically busy pre-Christmas workers, the dawning of the holiday brings not joy, but a sigh of relief.

These are the overbusy post office crews, who reputedly never look forward to Christmas, and certainly pray it may not be white.

For a month before the holiday they've been swimming in a sea of Christmas cards with addresses that are barely legible, wrestling with packages posted too late to reach Europe in time for Christmas and dealing with what patience they can muster with never - ending lines of querulous customers.

The house-to-house carriers are footsore.

* * *

The rural drivers, often delayed by icy roads, are delayed still further because the arriving packages are too big to fit into mailboxes, and must be dropped at the house.

EVER ALERT

The postal inspectors, ever alert to the possiblities of temptation on the part of mail handlers, are forever in their peep boxes looking for possible theft cases.

Christmas has been with them too long.

Six months before, their postmasters began to prepare by ordering new equipment for the rush.

* * *

In September they had to consider staff problems, and how to cope with the holiday mailings which always go up never down.

TEMPORARY HELP

Temporary help is hired two weeks before the holiday, and must be unified with the regular staff.

Even on Christmas Day itself, special delivery letters and packages must still be delivered, so for some there is no holiday at all till day is done.

For all of them, there's one holiday custom in which they have no interest.

* * *

They couldn't care less about opening their Christmas cards.

Department store sales increased 3½ per cent in the nation last year over 1962 to establish a new volume record.

Here's How to Decide Man's Correct Hat Size

Buying a dress or sports hat for your favorite male? The practical way to determine size is to look in an old hat.

The size will be on the band or a tab. Or, measure his head at the broadest portion with a piece of string. Shape the resulting length into a circle. Its diameter is the proper head size.

Fish Go for New Plug With Yule Trimming

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Fishermen say that occasionally a bass will strike at just about anything. But the bass near here seem to have gone beyond the limit. They hit viciously at a homemade plug fashioned out of a spoon decorated with a tail of metal foil Christmas tree icicles. Oldtimers said they'd never seen anything like it for slaying the bass.

Election Is Saturday on S. Lyon Schools

SOUTH LYON — To build or not to build?

School board members will get an answer to their $760,000 question Saturday when district property owners go to the polls.

If they approve the 25-year bond issue being sought by the South Lyon Board of Education, it will cost them about two mills for the first year.

Featured in the proposed building program is a $430,000 expansion project at the high school.

The 10-room wing would increase the building's capacity from 450 to 750. Current enrollment is 566.

SCIENCE UNIT

The addition would contain a science unit which would allow the present chemistry - physics area to be converted to an art room.

Also to be remodeled are the school's gymnasium, home economics room, shop, library and cafeteria.

At a recent public forum on the proposition, school board trustee Alfred B. Ueker presented charts which indicated the addition would give the district a 31-room high school similar to the one proposed on former new-school ballots.

Since June, 1963, district property owners have defeated four propositions for $1.5-million high schools and two "compromise" programs for additions.

MEMBERS AGREE

Board of education members have agreed that a new high school probably will have to be built in about six years, with the present one being converted to a junior high.

Meanwhile, the current proposal will allow them to move the high school students out of the three classrooms and gymnasium they're now using in South Lyon Elementary School.

The board also plans to abandon the annex which now houses seven elementary classes.

* * *

The proposed bond issue includes a $202,157 construction project at South Lyon Elementary School. The addition would contain seven regular classrooms and a kindergarten room.

MUSIC ROOM

A $60,000 program at Sayre School would add a music room, expand art facilities and improve the home economics area.

Some $14,500 would be used at New Hudson School to change the heating plant and rewire the older portion of the building.

The rest of the funds would be used for contingencies.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Ex-Oxford Manager Is Rehired by Village

OXFORD — Former village manager Robert W. Smalley will be back at his old stand shortly after the first of the year.

ROBERT W. SMALLEY

He has been rehired to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Michael Kilgore in November.

Smalley served as village manager from March 1961 to October 1962 when he resigned after being charged with a misdemeanor in connection with his previous job as city manager of Riverview.

The charge involved the mishandling of public funds. Smalley made restitution and paid a fine of $50.

* * *

He has been working at Pontiac Motor Division, Pontiac, and will resign his position there in order to return as village manager of Oxford Jan. 2.

THANKS COUNCIL

"I'm glad to be back," Smalley said, "and I thank the council for its trust and confidence in me."

The village council voted to rehire Smalley by a unanimous resolution.

Smalley is 41 and lives with his wife Dorothea and six children at 16 Pontiac St.

* * *

Council members, who accepted his 1962 resignation reluctantly and with praise for his work in Oxford, expressed pleasure over his rehiring.

Village President Edmund A. Unger stressed Smalley's qualifications, saying that "he has had experience in the past and is acquainted with the community."

Restaurant in Romeo Hit by Fire

ROMEO — A fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated $10,000-$15,000 damage to Juliet Pizzeria and Restaurant yesterday.

The restaurant, at 113 S. Main was not gutted by the blaze, but expensive equipment inside was apparently havily damaged.

Romeo's volunteer firemen responded to the alarm turned in by a passing fireman.

The one-story building, which lost its second floor in a fire several years ago, was enveloped in flames when the firemen arrived and it took about two hours to bring the fire under control.

* * *

Romeo Fire Chief Walter Werth estimated the damage at between $10,000 and $15,000.

NEIGHBOR STORE

The Romeo Time Shop, a jewelry store next door at 111 S. Main, sustained some smoke damage and a little fire damage totaling about $1,000, at the rear of the store.

Store owner W. J. Wecker said he spent yesterday cleaning up in back, and intended to be open for business today.

* * *

Although there were no exact indications of the cause of the fire, Werth theorized that it may have begun in the deep fat fryer or stove in the restaurant.

Parking Ban in Effect on M59 Near Milford

LANSING (UPI) — A half-mile no-parking zone on M59 about three miles north of Milford in Oakland County was put into effect today by the State Highway Department.

The department said the ban is necessary because motorists who have adequate off-highway parking are still stopping on the road shoulders.

To Launch 2-Year Study for Independence Twp.

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — A two-year program to develop a master plan for the township will be launched the first of the year by Development Planning Co. of Waterford Township.

The township will pay one-third or $7,000, of the $21,000 cost of the study. An application is being prepared for a federal grant for the remaining $14,000.

Included in the planning project will be a complete review and updating of the township's zoning ordinance, preparation of subdivision regulations and various basic studies that will guide planning for future growth.

One of the basic studies will be preparation of an existing land use map. A field survey of all areas in the township will be conducted as a basis for preparing the map.

* * *

Also included in the planning study will be preparation of projections of future population growth, provision of water, sewer, recreation and school facilities.

CONSIDER CLARKSTON

The planning program will take into consideration the Village of Clarkston, although it is solely a township project, according to Township Supervisor Duane Hursfall.

Jacob Driker, president of Development Planning Co., and senior planner Robert Dieball will furnish the professional services and work in conjunction with the township's planning commission.

Dieball formerly was planning director for Waterford Township.

* * *

The planning consultants will meet monthly with the planning commission to review progress.

Avondale PTA to View Three Films at Meeting

The Avondale Junior High School PTA will view three films at its meeting in the school auditorium tonight, for parents only.

To be shown starting at 7:30 are "How Much Affection," "The Innocent Party" and "Human Growth."

The films are part of the health education program of the Avondale School District and are to be shown in cooperation with the Oakland County Health Department.

They will be shown to students at a later date.

Tonight's meeting is open to the public.

Yule Party Set at Home for Children

WOOD CREEK FARMS—The Seton Guild's annual Christmas tea for adults and party for children will be held Sunday at the St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Home for Children.

Members and friends are invited to the 2-5 p.m. event, which gives them the opportunity to brighten the holidays for the wards and orphans at the home.

Operated by the Daughters of Charity, the home is at 12 Mile and Inkster.

While the adults attend the tea in the Laboure Lounge, their children and those from the home will be at the party in the downstairs playroom.

* * *

Santa Claus will be present to speak personally to each child from the home, to find out what gift he would like most to have delivered for Christmas.

TOYS AT PARTY

Small toys will be distributed at the party.

* * *

Proceeds from the donation tea will be used to purchase the large gifts which the more than 150 children at the home receive Christmas morning.

Negro Dentist Is Dead

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Funeral service is scheduled here Friday for Dr. Cortez A. English, 65, who was the second Negro to operate a dental practice in Grand Rapids. He died Tuesday after a year's illness.

Union Lake Club to Give Yule Party

UNION LAKE — Some 40 children from the Oakland County Children's Center will be special guests at a Christmas party given by the Union Lake Optimist Club tonight.

Dinner will be served at 8 p.m. at K-Falls Restaurant, 1990 Hiller, West Bloomfield Township.

Highlight of the evening will be the arrival of Santa Claus, who will hand out gifts to each of the children.

The youngsters, who are between eight and 16 years old, also will be entertained by a magician.

Charles Coffman is program chairman.

The club, headed by Gregg Raft, has sponsored projects throughout the year to raise funds for the event.

Bond Issue, 2 Tax Levies Face Voters

UTICA — Voters in the Utica School District go to the polls Saturday to decide the fate of an $8.5-million bond issue and two millage proposals.

Factors of unknown importance in the election are the recent resignation of Schools Supt. Fred Atkinson effective Jan. 29 and the endorsement of the proposals by city and township officials and key citizens.

The bond issue covers future building needs and will not result in a tax increase, as will one of the two millage propositions on the ballot.

A present 5-mill levy which expires next year is up for renewal for 1966 and 1967 through one of the propositions, and another 6 mills is asked for 1965, 1966 and 1967 in the other millage proposal.

Approval of all three propositions would have a net effect of raising school taxes by 6 mills, or $6 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL

More than $4-million of the $8.5-million bond issue would be used for a new senior high school with a capacity of about 1,800 students.

Three elementary schools are also included in the expansion which would be financed by the bond issue.

Additions to Switzer and Flickinger elementary schools and a new library for the old senior high school would also be paid for by the bond issue.

The elementary additions would add 10 classrooms and a research center at each school.

City and township officials as well as many citizens have publicly endorsed the bond issue and millage proposals by signing printed statements.

Three bond issue requests since June 1963 have been turned down by voters in the district.

Farmington to Begin Youth Training Plan

FARMINGTON — Four young men will have jobs with the city next year on a learn-as-you-work program designed to help unemployed high school graduates and dropouts.

The city will hire the quartet under the provisions of the Michigan Youth Work Training Program established this year by the State Legislature.

Starting Jan. 1, the youths will spend six months in the public works and water and sewer departments, being enrolled in a course of study as well as gaining practical experience.

City administrators are working with the Farmington School District to coordinate the supplemental education portion of the program, according to City Manager John Dinan.

* * *

The youths will work 40-hour weeks for six months, earning $20 a week, he said.

CITY, STATE SPLIT COST

The city, which splits the cost with the state, has allocated $1,040 for the project.

Farmington residents between 16 and 21 years old who have not been in school for six months are eligible for the program.

They can apply at the Redford office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, 24441 W. Seven Mile.

State Group to Air Road Billboard Cut

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Roadside Council plans to meet Dec. 16 to discuss a proposal calling for legislation that would ban billboards on certain scenic areas of Michigan highways.

A special commission appointed by the governor, and sponsored by the State Highway Department, would decide which highway areas should receive special treatment, said Bernard Ansley, council chairman.

Students Mail Gifts to Orphan

AVON TOWNSHIP — The fourth-grade classes at Elmwood School have mailed their annual Christmas gift package to Lee Ki Ja, a Korean orphan whom they have supported for eight years.

They earn the money for her support by selling popcorn during lunch periods on Tuesday of each week.

In the package were a bright red fur-trimmed hat, scarf and mittens.

Also included were puzzles, Bible picture books, a tiny heart-shaped pin and a charm bracelet.

* * *

Best of all the gifts was a Bible printed in her own language and also in English.

WITH TEACHERS

When the package was ready the two fourth-grade groups with their teachers, Mrs. Mary Sadler and Mrs. Erma Waun, went by school bus to the Pontiac post office to mail it.

They watched as it was weighed and stamped, then they were taken on a tour of the post office and saw their package begin its long journey to Korea.

This continuing project with its emphasis on brotherhood received national publicity last year when it was published as the feature article in the February issue of the Grade Teacher Magazine.

The state's need for lime is roughly 1,200,000 tons annually as indicated by soil type and soil test surveys according to James Porter, MSU extension soil scientist.

CHARGED IN DEATH — Timothy Nicholson (left), 22, was charged with murder yesterday in Pasadena, Calif., in the fatal shooting of his twin brother, Todd (right). This picture of the wealthy Phoenix, Ariz., heirs was made several months ago when Timothy was involved in a civil court case. Timothy told police he accidentally shot Todd with a rifle in their $400,000 apartment in Temple City, Calif., Monday night.

Twin Charged With Murder

Heir Held in Fatal Shooting of Brother

ALHAMBRA, Calif. (UPI) — A preliminary hearing will be held Monday in Municipal Court for wealthy Timothy Nicholson, 22, accused of killing his twin brother, Todd.

★ ★ ★

Despite his insistence that the death of Todd was accidental, Timothy was charged with murder yesterday by the district attorney's office in Pasadena, Calif., and was arraigned on the charge here.

"We feel positive we do have a case," said Los Angeles County sheriff's homicide detective Lt. James Hamilton.

"We have physical evidence that differs as to his (Timothy's) statement of how it happened, and where he was (at the time of the shooting)."

★ ★ ★

Hamilton declined to discuss whether investigators regarded the shooting as premeditated.

OPEN CHARGE

The murder complaint — an open charge — was filed by Deputy Dist. Atty. John Hopkins. Timothy was freed on $27,500 bail despite objections from the district attorney's office. Bail rarely is allowed in murder cases.

Todd was felled by a 22-caliber rifle bullet in the heart Monday in a Temple City, Calif., apartment building bought recently by the twins for $400,000.

Each brother had inherited $500,000 at age 18 from a trust fund set up by their late father, Edward (Teddy) Nicholson, son of Edward Carey, former president of the Pullman Co.

★ ★ ★

The twins also were related distantly to the Cudahy meat packing family.

MOTHER ARRIVES

Mrs. Roberta Nicholson, mother of the twins, came here from El Cajon, Calif., to be with Timothy after the shooting of Todd, who was dead on arrival at Arcadia Methodist Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Investigators said they were told that Timothy had taken a bolt-action rifle from a rack in his apartment as he talked with Todd.

★ ★ ★

Timothy said the rifle discharged twice accidentally, one bullet striking Todd.

LBJ to Take Oath Without Top Hat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson will dispense with the traditional top hat and morning coat at his inaugural, taking the oath in a black suit and four-in-hand tie.

★ ★ ★

The word on what the President will wear Jan. 20 came Wednesday from his wife's press secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter.

★ ★ ★

She also said the President planned to appear in dinner jacket and black tie at the four inaugural balls to be held in the capital that night.

Oklahoma Station Has Cherokee Disc Jockey

TAHLEQUAH, Okla. (AP) — The words are ancient Indian, but the music is modern rock 'n' roll.

"You have your problems, trying to describe Fats Domino in the Cherokee language," says Wesley Proctor, a full-blooded Cherokee Indian who is disc jockey on a regular program broadcast by station KTLQ in the Cherokee language.

★ ★ ★

KTLQ also broadcasts three news programs in Cherokee each week.

It's not surprising that they would find an audience. This is the historic capital of the Cherokee nation, established after the tribe was moved from its native Georgia and Alabama lands in the 1800s.

10,000 PEOPLE

An estimated 10,000 people of Indian descent speak the Cherokee language in the five-county area served by KTLQ. It's estimated 30 per cent of adult Cherokees speak and read in their own language, the only native Indian tongue which has its own alphabet.

Proctor, a student at Northeastern State College here, became an Indian disc jockey through college. Northeastern has an academic study group called the Carnegie Foundation Cross Cultural Study Project, a four-year program delving into the processes by which a person learns to speak another language.

★ ★ ★

The Cherokees are ideal for the study. An estimated 90 per cent were literate in their own language a century ago and Cherokee still is the primary language in many homes in this area.

Cherokee children learn English in schools — and the study group is teaching Cherokee in some schoolrooms.

BROADCASTS START

The radio broadcasts started last February, twice a week.

"By June the program was getting so heavy on local copy and so many persons were communicating through the program that we decided to enlarge," says Dr. Bob Thomas, field director of the study project.

Now KTLQ broadcasts an hour-long Cherokee record show on Saturday and a half-hour Sunday variety show.

Hiner Doublehead, a 1950 Northeastern State graduate and a Cherokee, does the three newscasts, translating news copy in English into the Indian tongue. He reads copy over before he goes on the air, but does not make a written translation before broadcast.

SPEAK BOTH

Most of the Cherokees in this area speak English now, though many —like Proctor and Doublehead — learned only Cherokee at home and had to be taught English in school. But, the study group researchers say, "Many Cherokees would rather speak through an interpreter if they have something important to say."

Several crops may be planted at one time by covering the seeds for each with special coatings that give varying delayed-action germination.

Can you name the 6 reasons Martini devotees prefer the glorious Gordon's Martini?
1 To this day, the ancient pot still method is used in distilling Gordon's Gin. 2 Only gin from the heart of the run is bottled for Gordon's. 3 Gordon's uses only juniper berries and other choice botanicals aged to the peak of maturity. 4 Gordon's is extraordinarily dry. 5 Gordon's has a distinctively delicate flavour. 6 Gordon's maintains its exceptional quality because it still harks back to Alexander Gordon's original formula created in England in 1769. Reasons enough for enjoying a Glorious Gordon's Martini soon, wouldn't you say?

Morale Is Low as Apathy Infects Disillusioned Viet Forces

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two young Vietnamese sat in a coffee shop on Saigon's Le Loi Boulevard this week comparing notes on how they had evaded the horrors of war.

Both are 21 years old. Both come from good families. Both wore the tight-fitting tapered slacks that are the rage here now, and both sported ducktail haircuts.

★ ★ ★

"They almost got me," one laughed. "I got as far as the Quang Trung induction center, but I never made it through the physical. A friend had told me how you can rub metal powder into your chest and it shows up in the X-rays. It looks just like tuberculosis."

"I wasn't so lucky," the youth's companion said. "I was sworn in and all, but last month they were grabbing so many people there just wasn't room for all of us at Quang Trung. After a couple days of starvation they sent me home and told me to wait. I'll wait all right — about 50 years. I figure I can hide out in Dalat or some place."

CAPTAIN STARES

At an office in a big military compound in another part of town a 38-year-old captain stared listlessly out of his window at the sun-scorched street below.

"Ah, how much I would give to get out of this," he said. "I suppose I'm lucky I don't have to fight, and in the last year I have been promoted twice, but I'm sick of it all the same. For the enlisted men it's only three years, if they're lucky. But for the officers it's forever. Once they get you as an officer you never get out until the end of the war or until you're too old to work. As for the war, my children will be fighting it and their children too."

The sun also was beating down on a grimy yellow stucco building about 30 miles south of Saigon. The concrete supports under the building left a space of about three feet between the floor beams and the ground and about 40 troops were camped in this space. It affords protection from the sun and rain if not from the rats.

The building had been taken over as a headquarters for one of the units involved in pacifying the Mekong River delta. It was siesta time and hammocks were strung under the building, in the building and from trees all around.

OFFICER DOZES

In a cubicle in the building, a young Vietnamese artillery officer was dozing on a cot, a cloud of mosquitoes droning over his head. A U. S. adviser strode in, his face hard with irritation.

"I realize you need your beauty sleep, lieutenant," the American said, "but we have some fire missions coming up this afternoon and those guns need to be moved. Let's go, huh?"

★ ★ ★

The Vietnamese stirred, "Oh, I'm sorry but I go My Tho this afternoon, Capt. Thanh said OK I go."

"I know many pretty girls in My Tho but we gotta war to fight. Can't you go tomorrow?" the American asked.

LIEUTENANT SHRUGS

The lieutenant smiled and shrugged and the American knew he would have to find someone else to take care of the guns.

War in South Viet Nam is like that. War is also a mob of soldiers with fire in their eyes storming a line of Viet Cong bunkers, fighting and dying with courage that would be a credit to any army.

★ ★ ★

But it is a long war and the times for courage are rare. The main thing is just to last it out, somehow, without getting killed.

It is hard to measure the morale of the South Vietnamese fighting forces and the fighting spirit of the people who support them. Morale never seems to be so low that soldiers just stop fighting. But morale never seems to be high enough to satisfy American standards of what is necessary to win.

PREMIER KHANH

Since Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh seized power as premier last Jan. 30 a lot of things have been done to boost the welfare of the 615,000 fighting men under his command. The draft was stepped up to get replacements for exhausted line veterans. Last year the draft practically stopped. Last month 12,000 recruits were hauled into induction centers.

Salaries were increased for all ranks of all services. Now a private with two children earns the equivalent of nearly $30 a month and a major general around $259. Promotion and decoration policies were liberalized.

★ ★ ★

Life was also made a little easier for the quarter million men in the "paramilitary forces" — the regional militiamen who have been carrying the brunt of the war — and the casualties — against the Viet Cong for the past four years.

Vietnamese soldiers are not issued food, and they must buy or steal and prepare everything they eat. The money issued for buying food became a little freer this year.

But despite these benefits the war has not been going any better. The armed forces wreck one Viet Cong unit after another but the enemy keeps growing in strength and continues to sap the blood and energy of the troops.

And in a continuous undertone the enemy keeps preaching peace to the soldiers. For example, weeping old women walk into a Saigon hospital to talk to wounded soldiers, telling them how the National Liberation Front — Viet Cong — only seeks peace for the nation and an end of 20 years of bloodshed. Some of the men listen before the old women are arrested.

Such things seep into the Vietnamese Army, undermining fighting morale.

It is a hard, frustrating life. Desertions from the regular army average about six per 1,000 men per month. Police currently are looking for about 8,000 deserters but punishment for desertion is only a few months in jail and then reinstatement in the army.

CONG FORCES

Viet Cong forces of all types, whose numerical strength has been rocketing during the past four years despite heavy battle losses, now number up to 114,000. This gives the government a six-to-one numerical edge, but experts on guerrilla warfare from Malaya and elsewhere maintain the government must have an edge of 10 to 15 regular troops for every guerrilla to start winning.

American officials who accept these figures hold that the Vietnamese armed forces would have to be at least doubled to start holding the line and winning. Prospects of any such increase in armed forces strength are very small.

For one thing, much of the nation's draftable youth lives in Viet Cong controlled areas. For another, the fighting spirit of the nation does not seem high enough to tolerate a mobilization going much beyond what it is already.

There are a thousand theories as to why the war is going badly. But to the soldier of the line none of the theories matters much.

★ ★ ★

"In a war you just try to keep going and survive. I gave up thinking of the future years ago," said one.

Qualifications Really Tough

HONOLULU (AP)—Want a job as a missionary or a mission worker on a Pacific island?

Here are some of the qualifications, listed in the Church Gazette of the Anglican Diocese of Polynesia, published in Suva, which is advertising vacancies in such posts:

Ability to mix with people, mix concrete, wade rivers, write articles, love one's neighbor, deliver babies, sit cross-legged, conduct meetings, drain swamps, digest questionable dishes, patch tires, patch human weaknesses, suffer fools gladly and burn midnight oil.

There's more!

Persons allergic to ants, babies, beggars, chop suey, cockroaches, guitars, humidity, itches, mildew, mud, poverty... had better think twice before applying.

Colorful Tree Ornaments

You Can Make Eggshell Decorations

The person who has been daunted once by a do-it-yourself project "so simple a 10-year-old can do it" has a show-me attitude from then on.

* * *

Eyebrows went up, for example, when someone proposed decorating eggs to use as Christmas tree ornaments.

Putting the idea to the test was Susan Pfriender, 10-year-old daughter of a photographer for a magazine.

Nervous at first, Susan soon became adept at pricking both ends of an egg to blow out its contents.

* * *

Eggs may be left plain or dyed. Trimming can be almost anything. Use of two colors for each egg, such as green and gold, makes a simple but decorative scheme once all eggs are ready for hanging.

TOOLS NEEDED

Essential tools include extra strong polyvinyl (white) glue, scissors, tweezers and toothpicks. For an antique look, use faded bits of ribbon, colored glass or cutouts from old Christmas cards.

To blow out an egg, shake it a few times to loosen the membrane. Make a pinhole in each end and blow the contents into a bowl. Loosen stubborn insides by inserting a thin wire into the egg.

Rinse and dry egg thoroughly. Work with each eggshell in an eggcup or large bottle cap.

* * *

To apply glitter, brush glue completely over egg and roll the egg in the glitter. Let dry. Use toothpicks to apply glue to ribbons, beads and similar trimmings and stick these on the clean eggshell. Tweezers are a big help in placing small beads or sequins in position.

HANG IT UP

To hang the egg on a tree, mantel or in a doorway, insert two ends of a loop of thread well into the hole in the small end of the eggshell.

* * *

Cover the hole opening with glue applied with a toothpick. Let this dry before starting to decorate.

* * *

Susan found she was all thumbs at first but soon got the feel of working with the delicate eggshell. And she soon improvised with decorating ideas of her own once she mastered the basic steps.

TAUGHT TO BEG — Many pups are taught to beg by their masters, but this little fellow on the streets of Rome makes it pay. Soulful eyes, with collection pail in his teeth, the dog rounds up gifts for his crippled master.

Pocket Scale Is Gift Most Men Would Like

A pocket scale proves an inexpensive gift for the man who likes to be exact. It weighs only an ounce and comes in its own carrying case.

* * *

Postage weights cover both packages and letters. A chart comes with the scale and gives air mail, first and third class postage rates from one to four ounces.

How Children Fail—4

Greatest Fear for Some Pupils Is Failure

By JOHN HOLT
(Copyright 1964, Pitman Publishing Corp.)
Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We agree that all children need to succeed; but do we mean the same thing? My own feeling is that success should not be quick or easy and should not come all the time.

Success implies overcoming an obstacle, including, perhaps the thought in our minds that we might not succeed. It is turning, "I can't" into "I can, and I did."

We ought also to learn, beginning early, that we don't always succeed. A good batting average in baseball is .300; a good batting average in life is a great deal lower than that.

Life holds many more defeats than victories for all of us. Shouldn't we get used to this early?

We should learn, too, to aim higher than we think we can hit. "A man's reach should exceed his grasp, or what's a Heaven for?"

* * *

Of course we should protect a child, if we can, from a diet of unbroken failure.

More to the point, perhaps, we should see that failure is honorable and constructive, rather than humiliating.

TEMPTING TO THINK

It is tempting to think that we can arrange the work of unsuccessful students so that they think they are succeeding most of the time.

But how can we keep secret from a child what other children of his own age, in his own or other schools, are doing?

One day I talked to a class about what happens when you don't understand what is going on.

* * *

We had been chatting about something or other, and everyone seemed in a relaxed frame of mind, so I said, "You know, there's something I'm curious about, and I wonder if you'd tell me." They said, "What?" I said, "What do you think, what goes through your mind, when the teacher asks you a question and you don't know the answer?"

A BOMBSHELL

It was a bombshell. Instantly a paralyzed silence fell on the room. Everyone stared at me with what I have learned to recognize as a tense expression.

For a long time there wasn't a sound. Finally Ben, who is bolder than most, broke the tension, and also answered my question, by saying in a loud voice, "Gulp!"

He spoke for everyone. They all began to clamor, and all said the same thing, that when the teacher asked them a question and they didn't know the answer they were scared half to death.

* * *

I was flabbergasted — to find this in a school which people think of as progressive; which does not give marks in the lower grades; which tries to keep children from feeling that they're in some kind of race.

AFRAID OF FAILING

I asked them why they felt gulpish. They said they were afraid of failing, afraid of being kept back, afraid of being called stupid, afraid of feeling themselves stupid.

Stupid. Why is it such a deadly insult to these children, almost the worst thing they can think to call each other?

* * *

Even in the kindest and gentlest of schools, children are afraid, some of them almost all the time.

(NOTE — If you would like to read all of "How Children Fail," consult your local bookseller or send $4.50 to Pitman Publishing Corp., 20 East 46 St., New York, N.Y. 10017.)

British Guiana Head Plots to Remain in Government

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) — Charging irregularities in the general election that cost him his legislative majority, Marxist Premier Cheddi Jagan maneuvered today to remain in the government of British Guiana.

Jagan made clear he would fight attempts to install a coalition government made up of Forbes Burnham's Negro People's National Congress and Peter D'Aguiar's ultraconservative United Force.

Instead, Jagan, leader of the British colony's East Indians, proposed that he and Burnham join forces in a coalition as "the quickest way to achieve national independence and economic and social peace."

If Jagan achieved such a coalition, and with the East Indians outnumbering the Negroes 3 to 2, he would be in a good position to win the next election.

REMOTE CHANCE

But the possibility of Burnham agreeing to a coalition with Jagan was considered remote. Jagan telephoned his proposal to Burnham and the latter replied, "If you send me a proposal in writing, then I'll study it."

Burnham, a moderate Socialist, has refused to team up with Jagan before.

Burnham said he had talked with D'Aguiar in general terms about a partnership. He said he anticipated no difficulties in getting together with the conservative leader.

The final official count from Monday's election showed Jagan's People's Progressive party received 109,332 votes, or 45.8 per cent, and 24 National Assembly seats. Burnham's party had 96,657 or 40.5 per cent, worth 22 seats, and D'Aguiar's forces got 29,612, or 12.4 per cent, and 7 seats.

5-SEAT MARGIN

The Burnham-D'Aguiar coalition favored by British Gov. Sir Richard Luyt would have a five-seat margin over Jagan's party.

Jagan achieved a vote plurality, just as he did in becoming the colony's first premier in 1961. But he did not get a majority, which was necessary to stay in power under the proportional representation system the British adopted to get Jagan out.

Jagan met all day Wednesday with the executive board of his party, then issued a statement charging that widespread use of proxy votes had a decisive effect in the results of rigged and premature elections."

Jagan said the question of his resignation from the premiership was under discussion with his legal advisers. "I can't say what they will do just yet," he said.

Stroke Fatal to Poet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward Ames Richards, 66, poet and a former national director of the Junior Red Cross, died Tuesday of a stroke. Richards had served on the faculties of Columbia, Rochester and Amherst universities. He was born at Williamsburg, Mass.

Red Medical Prof Dies

MOSCOW (AP) —Nikolai N. Anichkov, 80, a leading Soviet professor of medicine, died in Leningrad Monday after a long illness. Pravda announced Wednesday. He was a founder and a former chairman of the department of pathological anatomy of the Soviet Academy of Medical Sciences.

The Almanach de Gotha, an annual reference book on the royalty and nobility of Europe, was first published in 1764. Its last issue was in 1944. It will be published again in 1965

ROYAL CASUALTY —Princess Anne, 14-year-old daughter of Queen Eliabeth, leaves King Edward VII Hospital for Officers in London, her right arm in a sling after treatment for a cracked bone in the little finger. She was injured when she caught her finger in a rein while riding a horse Tuesday at her school at Benenden, Kent.

Unique Setup for Union, Firm

Spirit of Cooperation in Canada Maritimes

DETROIT (AP)—A tiny 81-man local in Nova Scotia, over 1,400 miles from United Auto Workers headquarters here, has won recognition as one of the most unique units within the UAW.

It is listed on the UAW roster as Local 72 of Dartmouth, N.S. Its members work in a wharfside former sugar refinery which was converted into the North American assembly plant of Volvo, a Swedish auto firm.

* * *

In its first 12 months of operation, 1,381 Volvos were assembled at the Dartmouth plant, located near Halifax. In Canada under a special arrangement on import duties, Volvo has a long range goal of 10,000 units a year at its ocean front Canadian plant.

The relationship among Volvo, the UAW and the community has been unique. A brand-new type of industry for the industry-lacking Canadian Maritimes, Volvo got a royal welcome from civic and provincial government, authorities when it opened its Dartmouth plant. It replied in kind by having Swedish Prince Bertil throw the switch which put the plant in operation.

UNTESTED WORKERS

With no experienced auto workers available in the Maritimes, Volvo hired green workers to staff its shop. UAW international representative Gordon Parker said he was "pleasantly surprised" by the way in which Volvo accepted the UAW's organizing efforts.

William G. Odette, manager of the Dartmouth plant, explained, "We welcomed the UAW. We prefer a union which knows the automobile industry."

* * *

Volvo management at the company's home plant in Gothenburg, Sweden, had become accustomed to dealing with unions there and worked out a contract with the UAW at Dartmouth.

The Canadian plant's basic job is to uncrate and put together cars which have arrived "knocked down" from Sweden. There are no massive assembly lines such as in Detroit and the work pace is much slower.

Doctors Check Outbreak of TB in Beaverton

BEAVERTON (AP) — After discovery of eight cases of tuberculosis, the State Health Department sent emergency teams of specialists today to analyze results of skin testing of all 1,200 of Beaverton's public school students.

The department said Mrs. Edith Cronk, 35, was found to have advanced tuberculosis and her seven children, ranging in age from 11 months to 13 years, also were ordered hospitalized with the disease.

Dr. Irwin C. Sweet, district health officer for the Gladwin County area, said chest x-rays will be arranged for all youngsters found to be infected and tests of their relatives would resign as soon as possible.

Pontiac Press Photo by Edward R. Noble

Though they seem separate in the picture, those flying puzzle pieces have their individual places in a Springbok jigsaw. Elements of Mrs. Robert Lewin's past have formed such a pattern in her current occupation as president of the puzzle company. A former Pontiac resident, Mrs. Lewin now lives in Rye, N.Y.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Her Life Goes in Circles

By MIRIAM NEAL

The pieces of Mrs. Robert Lewin's past fit together in the context of her present life and elements go in cycles.

For this reason the product her company makes is symbolic of her life.

Now a resident of Rye, N.Y., Mrs. Lewin is president of Springbok Editions, Inc. which produces puzzles with "a new challenge" and "puzzles in the round."

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Tripp of Illinois Avenue grew up in Pontiac. One of her outstanding memories is of winning two free weeks at Camp Sherwood as a Girl Scout, age 11.

WORKED AT PRESS

After completing high school, she worked for a year at The Pontiac Press. She served as a copy editor and social department writer and learned photography from a member of the staff.

The school of journalism at the University of Michigan was her next stop. Since this was during World War II, the now-avid photographer wound up taking pictures at all the sports events.

* * *

Mutual interest in photography led to a meeting with Robert Lewin who was at the school studying Japanese as part of his officer's training program.

The two were married and after his term in the service — during which they lived in Minnesota and Maryland — they moved to New York City.

WHERE IS FIT?

What part do these elements of her past play in Mrs. Lewin's current life?

The Girl Scout episode showed up early. As a mother and housewife she was active with the local girl scouts and organized a troop in a settlement house in a neighboring community.

* * *

The interest in photography added to her husband's interest in printing and their mutual interest in art took longer to develop something concrete.

As her children grew up, Mrs. Lewin began thinking of a possible career. Her daughter Laurie, 19, is studying at Colby College, Maine, and her son Richard, 15, is a freshman at the Berkshire School in Sheffield, Mass.

AT DINNER TABLE

One night around the dinner table the family remembered the round puzzle Mr. Lewin had brought from London after a business trip.

That was the answer. Mrs. Lewin would manufacture round puzzles in America. The whole family plunged into the job. They analyzed the market, decided to go ahead and purchased the license for the English die.

* * *

Last January Mrs. Lewin incorporated her infant firm. She made herself president; her husband, vice president and her children, stockholders.

Her interest in photography is vital in the reproduction of works of art she uses for some of the puzzles. The printing firm for which her husband works prints the puzzles.

NEW PATTERN

The pieces of her childhood and her early married life now integrated themselves in a new pattern: Mrs. Lewin found herself spinning in a world not unlike her own puzzles-in-the-round.

After less than a year of existence, Springbok has more than 22,000 accounts and Mrs. Lewin sparkles with enthusiasm and new ideas for her company.

* * *

One piece of the past was placed into her pattern of current life only a few days ago. After more than 20 years' absence, Mrs. Lewin was interviewed and photographed by the same paper she worked for as a young girl.

The William F. Wallaces of Kabul, Afghanistan, formerly of Port Washington, N.Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Anne to Lee Roy Abernethy of Denver, Colo. Miss Wallace, who lives at Riverdale, Md., is an alumna of Bucknell University where she was a member of Kappa Delta sorority. She also attended the University of Geneva, Switzerland. Her fiance, son of the Roy Abernethys of Oakland Drive is an alumnus of Ohio Wesleyan University and member of Phi Gamma Delta. A Feb. 27 wedding is planned.

"The Adoration of the Magi" by Fra Angelico and Fra Filippo Lippi hangs in the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C., as part of the Samuel H. Kress Collection. It is reproduced here in circular puzzle form by Springbok Editions, Inc. With gallery-approved color and detail, the puzzle measures more than 20 inches in diameter.

You Have 5 Good Reasons to Trust Second Husband

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For two years I was a widow with five children under 12. Then I married a man who claimed he loved me very much, but he acts like he has someone on the side.

ABBY

He was married before, and told me he divorced his wife because she was so cold. Believe me, he can't use that excuse with me.

He has the kind of job that he can leave any time. He seems to have so many unscheduled and late business appointments that I am suspicious.

* * *

I've never found any proof, like lipstick on his clothes or telephone numbers in his pockets, but I've got a feeling there's somebody else. Could it be my imagination?

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: It must be! Any man who, after one unsuccessful marriage, tries it again with a widow with five children (under 12 yet!) has got to be mad about the woman.

DEAR ABBY: This has happened to me twice already and I want to know the reason. I have been invited to and have attended two bridal showers.

Both were very, very nice, but I was not invited to the main event — the wedding.

Is this proper etiquette? Or is it just plain ignorance? I know some other ladies who have received the same treatment.

* * *

Both these brides had big church weddings and receptions following, but some of us who were invited to showers were not good enough for the main event. Sign me —

NOT GOOD ENOUGH

DEAR NOT: Some "showers" lately have degenerated into a big "collection" in which nobody seems to care who gets soaked.

* * *

If you were "good enough" to be invited to the shower, it seems to me that unless the wedding was limited only to family and a few very close friends, you should have been "good enough" for the wedding.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Puzzle-in-the-Round, New Game

Now father doesn't have to play with the electric trains. A company has created 'adult' jigsaw puzzles guaranteed to challenge the most cynical expert.

* * *

Made by Springbok Editions Inc. of New York, the puzzles fall into three categories.

The first is the puzzle-in-the-round. These are not only circular in size but also circular in design so that as many as six people can work on them simultaneously.

These puzzles radiate patterns called "Treasure Hunt," "British Soldiers and Battles" "Dogs" and "Horses."

WORKS OF ART

Works of art, both classic and modern, are the subjects of puzzles of the second category. Besides the "Adoration" pictured, Springbok has reproductions of other famous works.

Probably the most difficult puzzle is the rectangular version of "Convergence" by Jackson Pollock which hangs in the Albright-Knox Art Gallery, Buffao, N.Y. The painting itself has no realistic forms, just colors.

"Pop art" puzzles make up the third category. There are three versions: "Snow White Without the Seven Dwarfs" — an all white puzzle; "Little Red Riding Hood's Hood" — all red; and "A Closeup of the Three Bears" — all brown.

COOKIE CUTTER

Springbok president, Mrs. Robert Lewin, says the puzzles' difficulty lies not only in their designs, but also in the way they are cut. The die used to make the jigsaws is described by Mrs. Lewin as "a giant cookie cutter."

The puzzles are available locally.

Advance planning for Metropolitan Opera Week, May 24-29, was the subject of discussion when more than 60 opera volunteers gathered on Tuesday at a luncheon given at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club by Mrs. Lynn A. Townsend (right), of Birmingham, chairman of the 1965 opera season, and the Detroit Grand Opera Association, sponsors of the season. The Metropolitan will present seven performances in Detroit's Masonic Temple Auditorium. Among those who have accepted important assignments in preparing for the opera is Mrs. Theodore O. Yntema, of Bloomfield Hills, honorary chairman of the 1965 opera season.

Kaleidoscope of Christmas Settings

Table settings for the holiday season were displayed at the annual holiday tea of the Pontiac Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association Wednesday.

Social cochairmen of the afternoon event at First Federal Savings of Oakland were Mrs. Ben Jerome Jr. and Mrs. Jack Habel.

A Christmas tree decorated with antique ornaments and wax candles was set up in the vestibule. Sequin and pearl mobiles swung from the ceiling, catching the light as they revolved.

* * *

Mrs. Parker Rockwell, state treasurer of the Michigan division, WNFGA, and member of the Pontiac branch, arranged an open house setting on a round table.

In the center of the green burlap cloth was a ruby kerosene lamp. The green wreath around the base was interspersed with red berries and pine cones.

VELVET RIBBON

On each white napkin a fold of red velvet ribbon held a tiny spray of greenery. China was white; glasses, red.

Mrs. William B. Hartman designed a Christmas dinner table, in shades of sapphire blue and emerald green. A green net skirt appliqued with felt and sequin grape motifs and fringed in gold, covered a blue cloth.

* * *

Pale blue napkins, blue and white Wedgwood china and blue glassware took care of essentials. In the center of the table was a sparkling blue and green glitter tree.

At each place, green ornaments tied with blue bows became place cards. Names were written in silver glitter.

The long tea table was done in red, white and green. For the centerpiece, a white sleigh held evergreens and red carnations.

Among those assisting with arrangements were Mrs. Robert Anglemier, Mrs. Chauncey Burke, Mrs. William Fryer, Mrs. Russell Galbraith, Mrs. Vaughan Garrison and Mrs. Hugh Grove.

* * *

In addition, Mrs. Barney Habel, Mrs. Arnold Jerome, Mrs. Harold King, Mrs. Alvin Larson, Mrs. Robert B. Oliver, Mrs. Gelston Poole and Mrs. Edmund Rogers were workers.

Concluding the list are Mrs. Floyd Blakeslee, Mrs. Basil Brown, Mrs. William Cashin, Mrs. Edward Dalton, Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Harold Howlett, Mrs. Harry Pearce, Mrs. C. Henry Purdy and Mrs. Kenneth Vandenberg.

Kaleidoscope for Traveling

When taking a long automobile trip with several youngsters, bring along several pieces of colored plastic.

The children will enjoy looking through them at things along the way.

It will be more restful for you, too, while they are looking at their purple mountains, green cows and technicolor all around them.

Use plastic wrap, or for smaller packages a plastic bag, as a protective covering before wrapping in shipping paper.

CAROL OLSEN

The Merritt W. Olsens of Birmingham announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol, Albion College senior, to James H. Yeomans, son of William H. Yeomans of Birmingham and the late Mrs. Yeomans. Her fiance is an alumnus of Albion and U. of M. June vows are planned.

Church Unit to Be Discussed at Meeting

The Rev. Mr. Everett W. Francis, associate director of program of the Diocese of Michigan, will speak at the luncheon meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook Tuesday.

* * *

In speaking on the "Basis for Church Union," he will seek to examine some of the factors at work in the world moving us toward closer relations with other churches and will attempt to present what seems to him to be the way through the situation.

* * *

Mr. Francis was formerly vicar of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Dearborn Heights.

* * *

Reservations for the luncheon should be made to the church office by noon Monday.

Polly's Pointers

Learn About Money

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — M.E.P. told how successful she has been in teaching her daughter money management on vacation trips.

* * *

Each day the child is given a certain amount of money and she chooses how it is to be spent. Why can't we go a step further?

We do not come into this world knowing how to spend money. If the system works on vacation, how much more the child will learn if he has a certain amount to spend each week.

This teaches responsibility, gives experience in making decisions and gives a feeling of independence. He may make mistakes, but don't we all?

Isn't it better that he have some experience and learn to correct his misuse of money with small amounts before he begins to earn and becomes responsible for a family? —H.D.

* * *

DEAR POLLY — Another use for those sample pieces of quality carpet bought on sale or in discount houses is to line a small dresser or dressing table drawer and use the drawer as a jewelry box.

* * *

Select a light shade of the nubby textured kind. Necklaces, chains, pins, rings and earrings stay put no matter how often the drawer is opened.

No more tangled beads or stray earrings. — LIZ

* * *

DEAR POLLY—My tip is for those who enjoy being thrifty. When I knit a child's sweater, I put buttonholes on both the left and right front bands.

This way it can be passed on to a brother or sister and the buttons are on the proper side. Buttonholes should be on the left side of a boy's sweater and on the right side of a girl's.

Two stitches will hold each buttonhole together on the side not in use. Place the button over it when sewing it on the sweater. Later, the procedure may be reversed. — DONNA

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright new silver dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.

An inspiration for the romantic mood is this princess line dress of velveteen with contrasting angelic pink satin chelsea collar against the winterberry of the dress. About $23 in junior petite sizes 3 to 13. By Stanton, a locally available line.

Don't Clutter Pictures With Odds 'n' Ends

Keep your camera handy and loaded for the holidays, as some of the best holiday pictures are unplanned.

* * *

In making your holiday pictures, shoot from as close a vantage point as your camera will allow without leaving out some important picture detail.

* * *

To avoid a cluttered look in the pictures, be sure they have simple backgrounds.

* *

Chairs, lamps and other articles not important to the picture often detract from the people whose photo you are taking.

Mark With Polish

If there are two keys on your key ring that look very much alike, mark them with different shades of nail polish so that you can quickly and easily identify them.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice:

I have just finished a suit that looked like it had the usual jewel neckline. Much to my disappointment, the neck of the suit is too large and my neck just won't take it. How can I fill this in without having it looked patched or botched? Mrs. C. N.

Dear Mrs. C. N.:

One of the newest looks in necklines is the thick padded tubing which should work out perfectly in a case such as this.

This padding can be purchased at most notion counters where sewing supplies are sold and usually is about as thick as a light weight garden hoe. It is very soft and loosely held together with cotton thread.

MAKE TUBING

Make a bias tubing for it such as you make with spaghetti straps. If you must piece the bias strips, press the seam open and baste the open seam down firmly to the fabric. This will prevent the seam from doubling over when you are turning the tubing. The basting can be removed after tubing has been completed.

After the tubing is finished, whip one edge to the finished edge of your suit. You can use a knot at the ends, a single loop, or just the end by slip-stitching the fabric over the cotton tubing.

★ ★ ★

This type of trim also is used successfully on cuffs of suits, on oriental type hostess gowns where it is used around the collar, down the front and around the hem, as well as the sleeves.

Try it. It's fun and so very new and different.

★ ★ ★

Dear Eunice Farmer:

Some corduroy sport jackets and coats are lined in wool. Wouldn't this be too hot? Also, it seems like it would be difficult to get over your clothes because it wouldn't slip. Do you think it would work for home sewers? Mrs. J. G.

Dear Mrs. J. G.:

I have been advocating a light weight wool lining for several years. Not only in sports clothes but also in evening coats. It's nice and warm, but best of all, the added warmth doesn't have to be accompanied by a bulky look. Since coats are made larger than suits and dresses, I don't think you will have any difficulty slipping it over your clothes.

★ ★ ★

It is also very smart to use the same wool, either in a contrasting color or the same color, for the facings and collar of your coat. Part of the success of your sewing will be your courage in reaching out and trying something different.

KNIT NOTES

Here's an accidental idea that turned out to be a real winner for me, and might be just what other working gals are looking for. I started to knit a sleeveless blouse a year ago and never finished it.

Last week I started again (said blouse is now called a shell), and I found I didn't have enough matching yarn, so I decided to make the back a different color. Since I keep my jacket on all day at work, I have two changes with the same shell.

I've had a host of compliments on my idea, hope it will work for many other knitters.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

This week's Tailor Trix pressing board award goes to Mrs. Betty Vallier, Orlando, Fla., for this suggestion:

When I work with two fabrics as one, such as underlining skirts, etc., I have found a way to get absolute accuracy where darts are concerned.

To prevent the roll of the material and slipping, I stitch vertically through both thicknesses of fabric at the center of each dart. Then, I press this line, then proceed to stitch the dart as usual.

Set Your Holiday Scene With Choir

Over the fireplace, on a candle-lighted buffet table or surrounded by pine boughs and holly on a coffee table, these Christmas carolers can lend a unique touch of Yuletide spirit.

★ ★ ★

Their bright red robes are topped with white trim and the choir boys take only minutes to design.

★ ★ ★

To make them, all you need are some pieces of red paper — construction or Christmas wrap—some pink paper and some white.

YOU NEED THIS

You will also need "Q-Tips" cotton swabs — the ones with the white, flexible stick, black cotton fringe from the dime store or notions counter to make the "hair," some narrow red ribbon and white liquid glue.

★ ★ ★

Each is made the same way. Here is how it is done:

★ ★ ★

Start with a piece of red paper 10 inches by 20 inches for the "cassock." Twist it into a cone shape so the paper has a double thickness all the way around. Glue it. Hold circle in place with a clip - on clothespin until it is dry.

★ ★ ★

To make the white "surplice," begin 2" down from point and glue two rows of white cotton swabs in place as shown in the photograph.

TO MAKE HEAD

A strip of pink paper 3 inches by 9 inches will make the head. Roll it so the paper has a double thickness all around. Glue it. When it is dry, set it on the paper cone that forms the body.

★ ★ ★

Making the "hair" is easy, too. Fold a 4 inch strip of cotton fringe in half and glue it together. Then glue "hair" to open cylinder which forms the head. A strip of white paper 1 inch by 8 inches is the choir boy's "collar."

★ ★ ★

Glue in place and make the red ribbon bow with a strip of narrow ribbon about 12 inches long. As shown, tiny scraps of pink paper will make the ears — just glue them in place.

★ ★ ★

Face may be painted or scraps of paper pasted in place to form the features. If face is painted, cotton swabs make handy little brushes.

★ ★ ★

The double thickness of red paper used for the "surplice" will keep the choir boy standing without the need of any additional base.

Christmas Dinner for Past Chiefs

Past chiefs club of Mizpah Temple, Pythian Sisters met for a Christmas dinner Tuesday at Bedell's Restaurant.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Paul Etter was chairman of the affair. She was assisted by club president, Mrs. Reino Perkio.

★ ★ ★

Also on the committee were Mrs. Edward Kerr and Mrs. H. H. Pattison.

CHRISTMAS CHOIR

Set of Dishes for the Family

There are pretty enameled dishes on the market these days, both in mottled colors and solid colors.

If the small fry happen to be hard on your china, why not get plates and cups and saucers of these?

★ ★ ★

They come in all colors, so you can purchase a separate color for each person if you so desire.

There are different-sized trays, fruit bowls, mixing bowls and other things to use in the kitchen to match.

A Contest for Playwrights Is Announced

For the ninth consecutive year the Community Theatres of Michigan are sponsoring a contest for playwrights. Purpose of the contest is to encourage the writing of plays and to promote the work of talented new writers.

* * *

Three plays will be chosen. First award will be a $50 savings bond; second award, a $25 bond; and third award, a $10 cash prize.

Winners will be selected by a committee of judges, composed of qualified persons, and will be announced at the annual spring conference of the Community Theatre Association of Michigan.

This is to be hosted by The Twin City Players of St. Joseph May 1.

RULES SET

Rules of the 1964-65 contest include:

- Any resident of the State of Michigan is eligible.
- Manuscripts must be original, unpublished one-act plays, not to exceed 45 minutes playing time.

* * *

- All entries must be submitted under a pseudonym.
- A sealed envelope containing the writer's name and address, with the title of the play and the pseudonym on the outside, must accompany entry.

* * *

- More than one play may be submitted by a writer.
- Entries must be addressed to Mrs. John N. Tiffany, 229 North Sunnyband Road, St. Joseph, Michigan, and must be postmarked no later than Feb. 15.
- Return envelope and postage should accompany all entries.

A Fake Front

Sew a blind seam about one-third up from the bottom on a coat-style dress and you will have a dress that has the appearance of buttoning all the way down the front.

The Allan Schmidts of Pioneer Drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Kay to Warren Chester Frasa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Frasa of West Colgate Avenue. She is a graduate of the Ann Arbor Practical Nurse Education Center. Her fiance attends Lawrence Institute of Technology. A July 10 wedding date has been set.

Children's Game for a Party

When all the guests have arrived at a children's party, give each one some small item such as a small rubber ball, a bobby pin or a cracker.

During the party, each guest must try to get rid of his article by bestowing it upon some other guest without that person knowing about it.

If any one is caught in the act of trying to get rid of it, he must add his intended victim's loot to his own and not try that person again.

Later, the guest with the most articles is declared the loser. Give a small humorous booby prize.

Holiday Tea Scheduled by Local Group

Electa chapter No. 28, Order of the Eastern Star, will sponsor a five-point tea Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Friendship Baptist Church, Williams Street at Lorraine Court.

Mrs. Albert Branch is program chairman. Also coordinating plans for the affair are Mrs. Ella Mae Thompson, ticket chairman; and Mrs. Sadie Ransom, worthy matron.

To Host Brunch

The George S. Dixons will be hosts at the third in a series of Sunday brunch parties in their home on Dakota Circle.

Joining the 24 guests will be Mrs. Dixon's cousin, Mrs. John W. Adderley of Vero Beach, Fla., formerly of Bloomfield Hills, who is visiting in the area.

Compliment Club Is One Way to End Man's Introversion

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE U-426: Milo J., aged 22, is a college graduate.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I must be an extreme introvert for I am very timid.

DR. CRANE

"I shun people. And I almost die when I am called upon to speak in public.

"Many times in school I was considered dumb just because I was too shy to speak up. For I often knew the right answers but just couldn't force myself to talk.

* * *

"But now I find that my reticence and introvertive personality are handicapping my chance at a good job.

"So how can I extrovert my personality the fastest?"

EXTROVERT YOURSELF

Door-to-door selling is the quickest and most rigorous way to change from a timid introvert into a more assured, extrovertive personality.

* * *

But if you already have a good job in an introvertive field, such as accounting, chemistry, engineering, farming, etc., then it is not smart to quit such a good position.

* * *

For you can also extrovert yourself in other ways, though not as quickly.

For example, take a Dale Carnegie course in public speaking.

SEVERE INITIATION

Therein you will go through a severe initiation of heckling from the floor until you finally learn how to speak loudly, positively and in spite of the deliberate attempts of your audience to embarrass you.

* * *

And by all means enroll in my "Compliment Club."

There are no dues so everybody can join.

But if you wish the official signed diploma, then you must pay three sincere compliments every day for 30 consecutive days, without a break.

VALUABLE HABIT

Each daily compliment must be given to a different person. Thus, by the end of the 30 days you will have learned the valuable habit of observing your companions for virtues or merits.

After having picked out such a laudable point, then you must phrase your praise aloud to the other person.

* * *

You need not limit your compliments to close relatives or friends, either, for it is quite proper to deliver a word of praise to anybody you meet, as on the bus or train or in church.

* * *

Since the extreme introvert usually lives within his own thoughts, he is not as likely to be attentive to hats or frocks or artistic fingers of his companions, or their pretty teeth, melodious voice, etc.

Occupy Children

A road map will keep an older child occupied quite a while when making long trips and prove valuable in an educational way as well.

Back From Honeymoon

Returned from a northern honeymoon after recent vows in the Cedar Crest Lutheran Church are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Joseph Janes.

The former Billie Rae Snell of Premont Street is the daughter of Hazen Snell of Recreation Drive, Commerce Township, and the late Mrs. Snell.

For the ceremony, followed by reception in the Dublin Community Center, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta.

PEARL TRIMMING

A pearl - trimmed pillbox held her illusion veil and red roses accented her bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Richard Snell of Union Lake was honor matron. From Owosso, were Mrs. Clyde Ellis, bridesmaid; Tamar Lee Curtis, junior attendant, and Lorie Rowden, flower girl. Timothy Snell carried the rings.

* * *

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Roy Janes of Royal Oak and the late Mr. Janes, had Richard Snell for best man. Clyde Ellis seated the guests along with Edward, Monty and James A. Snell.

Give Guests Place for Waiting

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My son is going to be married shortly. The ceremony will take place at eleven o'clock in the morning but the reception will not be until the evening.

I can't see these arrangements but as the bride's family are giving the wedding, I had no say in the matter. Several of the guests on my side will be coming from a distance.

I would like to know if I am expected to ask them to come to my house after the ceremony and wait there until it is time to go to the reception. Also, will I be expected to provide food for them?

* * *

A: Out of consideration for the wedding guests, the reception should not be given several hours after the ceremony.

But as this is the situation, I'm afraid you will have to ask any of the guests who come from a distance to your house until it is time to go to the reception.

As it will be a long stretch between the ceremony and reception, you should provide some sort of refreshments for them.

Q: I received an invitation to a party and I know the occasion is a wedding anniversary even though no mention was made of it on the invitation. Should I take a present?

* * *

A: I would not, if I were you, take a present to the party because others not knowing it is a wedding anniversary may be embarrassed if they arrive empty-handed.

If you wish to give them a present, you may of course do so, but send it to their house beforehand.

Q: Will you please tell me the proper way to reply to an invitation to a cocktail party or tea written on a visiting card? May one telephone one's acceptance or regret?

* * *

A: You may telephone your reply or write on your visiting card, "Accepts with pleasure, Tuesday at 5," or, "Sincere regrets, Tuesday, January 8."

Details concerning the announcement of an engagement are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Announcing the Engagement."

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

ACTION TOYS—Shenanigans, an ingenious 3-D re-creation of carnival adventures, typifies the trend to fast-paced action games. Players compete in zany races and contests (left). For the preschooler, Lego plastic blocks in easy-to-grasp size (right) snap together to build skyscrapers, planes and trains. They are washable, durable and safe as a holiday gift.

Unlike Yesteryear

Science, Fantasy Reign in Toyland '64

NEW YOPK — (NEA) — Remember those Christmas mornings of yesteryear?

Ten-year-old Johnny sat enraptured at the transformer of his electric train set.

Young Mary wheeled her doll to sleep in its buggy. And the younger kids played with a rubber ball.

Today, a jaunt through Toyland '64 will convince you that Victor Herbert's "dear little boy and girl land" has changed considerably.

For toy designers have kept pace with the breathtaking advances in science.

MONORAIL

This Christmas, 10-year-old Johnny will be building his own modern monorail. Mary's doll will be a career girl, set up in her own fiberboard efficiency apartment.

That big rubber ball may be a clicking time bomb that's tossed back and forth until it goes "boom!"

There are toy computers and rocket ships that really work and miniature refinements of millionaire scale living, sure to facinate archeologists of the future.

* * *

In the world of dolls, Continental Coquettes, sophisticates of the doll world, stroll in formal ball gowns.

Their towering hairdos or sleek Parisian coiffures can be set by their young owners.

Then there is the fantastic group of Wishnik trolls with wildly streaming hair, who bow in this yule as Maverik cowboys, Ughnik Indians and Sluggernik ballplayers.

But there's some comfort for the nostalgic this year, the 50th anniversary of Raggedy Ann and Andy.

* * *

The pair is back bigger and better than ever.

LIGHTHEARTED

A significant new trend in games is emphasis on lighthearted actoin, keyed to laughs, planned to release youngsters from the tensions of homework.

But contrasting with the fun and nonsense category is a contingent of brain games.

Alumni Fun, the most challenging, poses qusetions in the areas of art, science and literature.

* * *

Toyland has grown with the times and Christmas morning will bring an array of delights to the new crop of potential engineers, career girls and spacemen.

Fox Hunt 'Non-scents-ical'

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fox hunting is one of the world's oldest sports, give or take squat tag. And yet the average person knows very little about it.

WEST

The average person looks upon fox hunters as a bunch of nuts leaping and bounding around on horses, which are leaping and bounding behind some hounds, which are leaping etc. behind a fox.

Actually, of course, there are many subtleties and nuances in fox hunting which are only understood and appreciated by the true connoisseur.

My own knowledge of this sport increased by leaps and bounds recently when I was invited to a fox hunt in the horsey country near Southern Pines, N.C.

By observing part of the chase and questioning informed onlookers, I was able to get a fairly clear picture of what takes place during a fox hunt.

* * *

This led me to conclude that fox hunters are a bunch of nuts leaping and bounding around on horses, which are leaping and bounding behind some hounds, which are leaping etc. behind a fox.

CHARMING EDITOR

One of my mentors at the hunt was a charming horsewoman named Miriam Rabb, who is travel editor of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development.

Mrs. Rabb told me that a couple of riders are designated as "whippers-in," also known as "whips." It is their duty to keep an eye out for errant hounds and steer them back into the pack.

"Isn't that a coincidence!" I exclaimed. "We have the same thing in Washington on Capitol Hill. Each party in the House and Senate has a 'whip' whose job is to keep wayward members in line. Do you suppose these congressional titles derived from fox hunting?"

"Very likely," Mrs. Rabb said. "And that isn't the only similarity between Congress and fox hunting.

JUST BABBLE

"Some hounds are known as 'babblers.' This means that they begin baying and otherwise behaving as if they had picked up the scent when actually they aren't within miles of a fox.

* * *

"Does that remind you of someone you know in Washington?"

"It certainly does," I said. "Offhand, I would estimate that a good 50 per cent of our senators and representatives are babblers."

* * *

At one point during the hunt, a young woman in our party posted herself at the edge of a clearing, hoping to get some good photographs.

YES THEY DID

When the hounds came by, darned if they didn't tree her.

* * *

I don't know what that maneuver is called, but it is familiar in Washington, too.

Medieval Treasures at NY Library

Breathtaking treasures that once graced medieval monasteries, princes' palaces, and church pulpits will be on display this Christmas season at the Pierpont Morgan Library in New York.

* * *

The collection, unsurpassed in this hemisphere in the fields of medieval and Renaissance illuminated manuscripts, early printed books and bookbindings, and master drawings, is housed in a marble block building in classical Greek style next to J. Pierpont Morgan's former home.

The array of Bibles and other religious works which the financier purchased is enormous and varied.

The first Bible that Morgan bought, as listed in a catalogue back in 1883, was the first Bible printed in North America, John Eliot's translation into the English language.

* * *

In the final decade of the 19th century was added a Gutenberg Bible on vellum, a 1495 Mainz Psalter, of which no other copy has ever been available to an American buyer, and the famous ninth-century Lindau Gospels with a sumptuous jeweled binding.

LAST 7 YEARS

During the last seven years of his life, in the early 1900's, Morgan added enormously to his prizes.

A large group of Coptic manuscripts, mostly of the ninth century, found on the site of a monastery in Egypt, was purchased and sent to the Vatican for study and reproduction.

After his father's death, J. P. Morgan carried on purchases for the library, specializing much of the time in illuminated manuscripts.

* * *

Some of the more elaborate of these will be displayed this Christmas season in the museum's main gallery.

FINE ACQUISITION

One especially fine acquisition was the Gospels of Countess Matilda of Tuscany, written and decorated in Italy about 1100.

Other prizes added to the library were from the Earl of Leicester's collection, originally lodged in the Benedictine monastery at Weingarten, Germany.

They include two richly illuminated manuscripts of the Gospels made in England before the Norman Conquest, and the Missal of Abbot Berthold, in its jeweled silver-gilt binding, generally considered to be one of the finest existing 13th century German manuscripts.

* * *

Further additions include the ninth-century Reims Gospels in perfect condition, with portraits of the four Evangelists, and the text written in gold, the profusely decorated Gothic psalter made for Yolande de Soissons, and a 12th-century Life, Miracles and Passion of St. Edmund with 32 miniatures.

Losing Your Teeth? Do Try a Transplant

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Healthy teeth taken from one human being have been successfully transplanted to another in experiments at the University of Tennessee's College of Dentistry.

The teeth used for transplanting have been pulled because of gum disease or for replacemnt by false teeth.

* * *

They are cleaned and the pulp is removed and replaced with an inert substance. They are then sealed in sterile plastic bags and stored at 20 degrees below zero until needed.

When transplanted, there is some color change in the teeth and they become slightly more brittle. Experiments were made on animals before teeth were transplanted in humans.

Weak Members Weeded Out

Congo Mercenary Army Tough, Adventurous

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Some came for adventure and some for pay. Some came for a chance to serve the cause of a peaceful Africa, as they see it.

They are the men the world calls Premier Moise Tshombe's "white mercenaries" — several hundred volunteers spearheading Tshombe's drive against the Red-backed Congolese rebels.

* * *

Although most don't speak a word of French, they prefer to be called by the term "les mercenaries" — it seems to add class to their trade.

The words mean exactly the same thing. Some people think it's unfair to call them mercenaries, that it's a "smear" word. Webster's dictionary says mercenary, when applied to a soldier, is "without necessary opprobrium." In any case, these soldiers are identified generally as Tshombe's mercenaries.

What are they like?

BRITISH LIEUTENANT

Take British Lt. Jeremy Spencer, 25, a scion of a rich north of England family.

Pay meant next to nothing to him. Adventure did, and he died with a rebel bullet in his head as he sat in the front line in a deck chair, languidly directing the battle with a sword.

* * *

Grizzled and tattooed veterans of many wars, whose every second word is a curse, still go misty-eyed when they talk of him.

They miss the way this tall, slender Englishman gave orders in his aristocratic drawl. They miss, above all, his ice-cold nonchalance in the face of danger.

STROLLS TO TOP

"He strolled to the top of the rise, stood there looking at the rebels, and then came down and told where they were," said one of the men who saw Spencer die.

Yet there were groans of disapproval when he was first promoted to lieutenant at the mercenary training base at Kamina in North Katanga. Among many who had joined because they were civilian misfits, Spencer seemed the most misfit of all.

The last month of fighting their way 600 miles to Stanleyville, capital of the rebel "Congolese People's Republic," has thinned the mercenary ranks down to a lean, mean residue.

For almost every one of the 200 or so soldiers from South Africa or Rhodesia still in the Congo, a would-be mercenary fighter has been put aboard a southbound plane for home or has deserted without waiting for his pay.

UNLOVELY SPECIMENS

"There were drunks, drug addicts, coffee shop cowboys, homosexuals and cowards," says Maj. Michael Hoare, the tough chief of Tshombe's English-speaking men.

There still are some unlovely specimens among his men — killers of unarmed civilians and looters.

* * *

"Let's face it," says Hoare. "If we had only hired angels, we'd have never got together the labor force needed for this sort of job."

Hoare, 44, a veteran of war behind the Japanese lines in Burma and in Tshombe's secessionist state of Katanga, has little more than his own personality to back up his orders. The Congolese army's disciplinary code is almost nonexistent.

ANSWERS BACK

Said Lt. John Peters, a former British paratrooper from Leeds: "If any of my men answers back, I take him round the corner and use my fists."

Peters is second in command of 57 commandos, a collection of near throw-outs who these days usually get chosen as the spearhead on dangerous missions because of their cool discipline under fire.

Their commander, mustachioed Capt. Ian Gordon, a Briton who now lives in Johannesburg, never raises his soft voice. His men will follow him, as another officer says, "through the front door of Hell and out the back way."

Gordon, like several of Hoare's most trusted officers, fought for Tshombe in his secessionist days. They formed the small nucleus who recruited the others through advertisements in South African and Rhodesian newspapers.

Men flocked to sign on for base pay of 130 pounds sterling — $364 — a month as volunteers. Officers and noncoms earn up to three times more. Mercenaries also are paid about $16 a day danger money when they are in battle.

Only half of their pay is in foreign currency sent to their banks at home. The rest is paid in Congolese francs which cannot be taken out of the country.

Each man is entitled to two weeks' paid home leave at the end of his six-month contract.

Each man also has a life insurance policy for $20,000 payable to his next of kin. Nearly 20 families of Hoare's men already have qualified.

For almost three months, Hoare's men were paid nothing. A political battle between the South Africans and Belgian army technical assistance officers held up the money until the eye of the battle for Stanleyville.

Nearly 40 men deserted in disgust. To earn their pay, the white men must brave not only the rebels but also a frightening lack of doctoring if they are wounded or fall sick.

The mercenaries can be brutally frank about themselves. They tend to laugh about the looting, especially bank vaults blown up with some of their abundant supplies of explosives.

"Don't damage the dynamite you are sitting on," said one South African to this correspondent as we drove through three night ambushes on the road to Stanleyville. "We're going to need it when we come to a bank."

Actually, one of Hoare's first moves when he captures a town is to place armed guards on the banks.

But his task is complicated by the fact that his men must rely on what they find lying around for their few comforts in the battle zone. Like most commanders in the field, he lets his men take things they can use immediately but forbids them to take anything away.

MEXICAN BLAZE—One man died as he leaped from the top floor of this building in downtown Mexico City yesterday, trying to escape from the flames. Fifteen persons were reported to have suffered serious injuries. Police said a short-circuit sparked the many-alarm fire. Damages were estimated at several million pesos.

California U. Drive Leader Takes Cause to U. of M.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mario Savio, the leader of a battle for more political freedom at the University of California at Berkeley, left San Francisco today to carry his cause to other universities.

* * *

Savio, lanky philosophy student who turned 22 on Tuesday, and three other members of the Free Speech Movement's steering committe left for Ann Arbor, Mich., and New York City for university rallies and a national television show.

The general of the militant Free Speech Movement — the organization that staged four rallies at the university's 27,400-student Berkeley campus — expressed confidence the students will win out.

At an airport news conference, Savio dismissed claims by a state legislator and others that the movement was Communist-inspired:

"I resent the Communist party getting credit for the Free Speech Movement's action," he said.

BUILD SUPPORT

He also commented on a resolution adopted Tuesday by an 824 to 15 vote of the faculty's Academic Senate that backed the students' demands. The five-point resolution would give students almost complete political freedom on campus and place disciplinary responsibility with the faculty instead of the Berkeley administration and Board of Regents.

"I am inclined," Savio said, "to think that the regents will go along with the recommendations of the Academic Senate."

Regents must approve the Academic Senate's resolution before it becomes effective. Edward W. Carter, regents chairman, said Wednesday the regents would "consider the full matter" at their Dec. 18 meeting in Los Angeles.

* * *

"It now appears," Carter said, "that on the Berkeley campus the traditional methods have proved inadequate to deal effectively with the extraordinary problem created there by regrettable recent incidents."

Savio said the purpose of his tour was to build support for the Free Speech Movement. The movement's position, Savio said, "is the traditionalist position in which a university is a congregation of scholars and students." One main issue, he said, was opposition to "the concept of factory education."

* * *

The revolt began in mid-September when the university enforced a long-standing but unenforced regulation on political activities. Savio led the four massive rallies, including the Dec. 2-3 university administration building sit-in that resulted in 184 arrests.

* * *

Savio's schedule includes a talk today at the University of Michigan, a flight to New York City to tape a television program (Les Crane Show for Thursday — ABC) and a news conference Friday morning at the Overseas Press Club in New York.

Tennessee Exec Dies

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Edward J. McMillan, 74, chairman of the board of Standard Knitting Mills, Inc., Knoxville's largest industry, died Wednesday after a long illness. He was a former president of the Southern States Industrial Council.

State Exec Promoted

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Raymond A. Walters, former Grand Rapids businessman serving the past three years as Lear Siegler, Inc., representative in the Washington, D. C., area, has been promoted to manager of the LSI Instrument Division Eastern Regional Contracts Area covering a territory from Maine to Florida.

Benton Harbor Clerk

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Mrs. Harry Grenawitzke, deputy city clerk here for seven years, will be promoted to city clerk to succeed retiring Earl Tidey, Mayor Wilbert Smith said. Tidey retires Jan. 1 after 24 years in his post.

'U.S., Russians Made No Deal on Defense Cuts'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Was there an agreement between the United States and Russia to cut down on defense spending?

★ ★ ★

"No agreement whatsoever," White House press secretary George Reedy said Wednesday after Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin announced in a Moscow speech that Russia was cutting its defense spending by $555 million. He also said Washington was expected to reduce its military budget.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said he hopes to hold defense spending next year below $50 billion — at about the level for the current fiscal year. That would be about $1.25 billion below the previous fiscal year. Reedy said these figures may have been the basis of Kosygin's statement.

Sweden is reported to have paid out more than $202,000 in life insurance to relatives of seamen killed in accidents aboard Swedish vessels in 1963.

SANTA and the SINGING TURTLE

By LUCRECE BEALE

(Synopsis—Prince Chad and the Singing Turtle, on their way to Santa Land, are joined by a broken-down snowman. They are followed by a manwitch sworn to keep the prince from returning to his kingdom.)

CHAPTER FIVE

George led the prince and the one-eyed snowman into the hollowed-out oak tree. It was empty except for a rusty old washtub that hung from a dead limb by a rope.

"Is this Hoppy HopeandPray's railway?" asked the prince in astonishment.

"This, as anyone can plainly see, is the elevator," retorted George. "Get in and it will take you to the railway."

Obediently, the prince climbed into the tub. A moment later the ground seemed to give way and he swooshed through a thousand feet of darkness to land with a clank in a brightly lit railway station.

★ ★ ★

There stood a little train, more like a trolley, huffing and puffing and clanging its bell.

BENT CROWN

The prince, his crown bent and askew, tumbled out of the tub.

Immediately the elevator rose again to the surface and came swooshing back to dump the snowman in several pieces beside the prince on the station floor.

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed the snowman, staggering around. "I've lost my one good eye!"

The prince crawled about on his hands and knees until he found the hunk of black coal that was the poor fellow's remaining eye.

BACK IN PLACE

He stuck it back in place and hastily repacked the arms that had been flung across the railway tracks.

They were now quite uneven in length but serviceable just the same.

Hardly had the snowman been put together than the elevator returned with George.

★ ★ ★

It deposited him upside down on the railway platform, covered not only by his own shell but by the tub as well. The snowman lifted the tub and the prince righted the turtle.

TROLLEY-TRAIN

The little red trolley-train began to puff heavily and clang its bell quite furiously, indicating clearly that it was ready to start.

The three travelers flung themselves aboard just as the wheels began to turn.

They were so overcome by the whole experience they did not notice that the tub had landed again, this time bringing Womp, the manwitch, who raced after the trolley and just managed to fasten himself to the tail gate as the train shot off into a pitch-black tunnel.

★ ★ ★

"Now is where you hope and pray!" shouted George and he shut his eyes and pulled his head all the way into his shell.

DID THEIR BEST

The prince and the snowman did the best they could.

The snowman could not close his one eye, but he raised his arms and wrapped them around his whole head.

The prince thought it would be unprincely for him to hide his head, but he did shut his eyes tight and pulled his bent crown far down over his face.

There followed the wildest, loudest, scariest ride that man or beast ever dreamed of.

★ ★ ★

The fiery little train leaped through the darkness. It bucked. It rocketed. It gyrated. It quivered. It soared. It left a flaming trail of sparks scattered in its wake. It hissed. It crackled. It gurgled. It backfired. It roared.

ALL OVER

Suddenly it was all over and the train was standing in a snow-walled station.

The snowman dropped his arms. The prince opened his eyes. George's head came out of his shell.

"Well," he said cheerfully. "It beats walking anyway!" And he led the way off the train.

Meanwhile, Womp, the manwitch, pried loose his petrified fingers from the train's tail gate. His face was black with soot. His hair was singed down to the scalp. His teeth were chattering. His legs were like taffy candy.

"I'll get you, Prince Chad!" he swore furiously as he staggered dizzily away.

Hearing Is Slated on WSU Film Issue

LANSING (AP)—An investigation into alleged competition between Wayne State University and private industry in production of movies and audio-visual aids opens in Detroit Friday.

Rep. Richard A. H. J. Guzowski, D-Detroit, a lame duck legislator and chairman of a special house committee, announced the hearing.

The university's audio-visual center has produced films and slide presentations for private industry in competition with private firms, Guzowski said.

Mortuaries Livened Up by Film Spoof of Spooks

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS — How far can you go in joking about death?

Charles Addams changed some of the rules about that . . . and now (this'll kill you!) Hollywood's hoping to prove that mortuaries can be among the funniest things in the world. For the Broadway premiere of "The Loved Ones," which is a wild, far-out spoof of the funeral business, they're even talking of having some of the guests arrive in hearses, wearing white tie and shrouds.

WILSON

"We might have the box office resembling a coffin," says Marty Ransohoff head of Filmways, who admits it's daring, but believes that Jonathan Winters and Bobb Morse can make even a funeral parlor funny.

A party celebrating completion of the film brought out some lovely bodies. I'll say that . . . Eileen O'Neill, Barbara Nichols, Roxanne Arlen and Barbara Hines: they play "hostesses" in the mortuary and participate in an orgy which sort of livens up ye old neighborhood funeral parlor.

"I wear a religious costume cut down to the navel," Roxanne Arlen told me. "As somebody said, there's something in the picture to offend everybody."

Yes, I guess some people will recoil violently, others'll die laughing.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: What are some of the biggest animal babies?

ANSWER: It is interesting to realize that the largest animal which ever appeared on earth — greater than any of the dinosaurs — is still living today.

The blue or sulphur-bottom whale is the king of all creatures in size, up to 111 feet long with a weight of 150 tons. The great size is possible because the water holds up the whale's body.

To give you an idea of the size of such a whale's baby, imagine you could lift one out of the ocean on one side of a huge scale; on the other side, you place two every large elephants. The baby whale would tip the scales on his side.

Though small compared to whales, an elephant, on land, is the biggest thing on legs. He can stand 11½ feet at the shoulder and weigh up to 14,000 pounds.

Baby elephants are big babies indeed, weighing about 200 pounds when born and stand 3 feet high.

When first born, they are quite hairy, but this wears off. Mother elephants must guard the babies from tigers and lions.

The babies hide between the mother's legs. She guides them around very carefully when they are too young to fend for themselves, placing her trunk along a baby's back.

FOR YOU TO DO: The hippopotamus baby is another big one, weighing about 40 pounds when born. Ask your parents about how much you weighed when you were born, so you can see how comparatively small human babies are.

50,000 Frogs Leap Ahead

JAL, N.M. (AP)—"You've done crazy things before, but this is the limit," said the wife of Leamon Beaird when he decided to begin a frog farm in a desert.

But Beaird and his partner, Joe Walton, decided they could do it.

Despite early breeding difficulties, a cold winter and the need for live food for the frogs, the men now have 50,000 frogs and are talking of a quarter-million next year.

If Beaird has his way, New Mexico may become the frog state.

The average monthly turnover rate for all patients in Veterans Administration hospitals during the fiscal year that ended June 30, was 46.4 per cent, an increase of 1.9 per cent over the previous fiscal year.

A Look at Christmas Morning Through Eyes of Katsa the Cat

Katsa (black tabby with white bib) stood ceremoniously on the card table, dining table, work table, watching the girls. They were opening their presents now, at last. Most of the presents had arrived earlier in the week by parcel post, but June (Northwestern University, '62) and Ellen (Bennington College, '63) had held off opening them until Christmas day.

Anyway, they had waited until they could set the tree up on Christmas Eve, and then had placed the row of packages underneath.

Katsa had watched them hanging the little glass balls and paper chains, the strands of cellophane icicles which had to be placed ever so carefully on those thin pine branches.

June had mentioned large fir trees in Illinois — "Branches so thick there was never any room for decorations, it seemed"—rather wistfully. But when they had finished, Katsa thought the tree glowed rather beautifully in the corner of that barren two-room apartment.

* * *

After the presents from home they started on the presents they had given each other. Katsa supposed you had to give your roommate a present at Christmas.

HAD EACH OTHER

After all, you only had each other if you were new to New York . . . if you were a "career girl" who'd only arrived in the city in September . . . if you were struggling to "make it" as an editorial trainee (Ellen) or a personnel assistant (June).

June had given Ellen "The Night Is a Lonely Hunter" by Carson McCullers, a small cookbook of exotic recipes ("Who'm I going to make them for — you?"), and a paperback on understanding cats. Ellen had given June a little brass bell. It was decorative and also good for ringing, she said.

They smiled smiles of appreciation at each other as they picked up wrapping paper and ribbons from the dusty floor.

"And now, Katsa." June looked over to the kitten on the table and held out a bulky package wrapped in tin foil. June's air of anticipation made Katsa curious.

TUNA FISH

What could it be? She's already had breakfast — tuna fish today, instead of the usual cat food combination. "Here Kitty, Merry Christmas." The girls giggled, and now Ellen, as Katsa's proxy, opened the package.

A large pink rubber mouse came out of the tin foil. Ellen squeezed it and the mouse let out a yelp — or was it a howl —and Katsa moved in state from the table to the floor to examine the source of the yelp.

* * *

The girls went into their bedroom to dress for the day. Katsa had heard them talk about their reservations for Christmas dinner at Longchamps. It seemed like a "pretty good deal," June had said, and they could afford to splurge just this once — since there was no one to take them out on this day anyway.

ALMOST SATISFIED

Today, Katsa was almost satisfied. She'd known worse homes in her short year on earth; she'd been in two households before this one where she'd had much less enthusiastic owners than the girls.

It was true that sometimes they forgot to change the kitty litter and she, always fastidious, had used the bathtub for a toilet, and been severely spanked for it; and sometimes — not always —they forgot about buying cat food and she'd had to eat cold cereal mixed with warm milk.

Sometimes June didn't like it when Katsa climbed on her bed at night. Sometimes Ellen seemed to resent Katsa on her lap when she talked on the telephone. But when they were in good humor they petted and purred and called her "sweet kitten," and "cute little thing."

The girls were dressed now and looked rather smart — all made up and perfumed and powdered. "We must be back at six, for my phone call," June said. Ellen nodded thoughtfully.

* * *

Katsa felt just a trifle irritated. Phone calls excluded her and brought sighs, sometimes even tears, from the girls.

"Goodbye Katsa, be good. Play with the mouse."

GIRLS LEAVE

They left. Katsa sat on the wide window sill, looking out at the back yard and the high buildings and the grey sky. She heard church bells in the distance and felt a little sad. There was that grey cat out on the fence of the other back yard. He was a "naughty alley cat," Ellen had said, and "you must never play with him."

"Peace on earth, good will to men," she thought, surveying the room and the tree in the corner.

* * *

She picked her way daintily across the floor toward the mouse. Its cold rubber flesh repelled her. She moved on to the tree. With one paw she swiped a glass ball off a branch and began to push it around the floor with her nose.

Soviet Budget Points Up Emphasis on Internal Problems

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The post-Khrushchev Soviet regime seems to have decided that attempts to restore a semblance of world Communist unity add up to a bad gamble. Apparently it has turned inward to domestic problems instead.

The 1965 budget, unveiled Wednesday in the Supreme Soviet (parliament), and accompanying official statements appear to envision a period of relatively relaxed relations with the United States. Probably this must be at the expense of improved relations with Red China and the world's impatient ultrarevolutionary Communists.

* * *

Evidently the Kremlin plans a period of marking time in the global political contest while the new regime entrenches itself and decides what directions it will take in the future.

Budget statements and pronouncements from the official press in recent days have shown a marked tendency to defy Red Chinese criticism and plug ahead on the theory that the pressing needs of the Soviet internal economy cannot be shunted aside.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

LIP SERVICE

The statements pay lip service to world Communist unity, but there are deviations in the Kremlin attitude to delight the sniping critics of Soviet policies.

Steps toward rational development of the Soviet economy, as outlined in the budget statements, surely will bring more anguished howls from Chinese and other critics who have accused the Kremlin of infusing bourgeois ideas among the Soviet people and leading them toward capitalism.

* * *

While Soviet budget figures for arms spending often are unreliable, hiding such items in other categories, there clearly is considerable new emphasis on spending for consumers, probably at the expense of some military outlays.

There is to be a step-up in home construction, more investment in agriculture, wage increases for factory and office workers and substantial increases in the light and food industries.

INCREASES PENSIONERS

There are increases in social-cultural outlays, for health and education, and in pensions which, according to the announcement, will raise the number of Soviet pensioners to more than 30 million.

Planning henceforth will be on the basis of customers' orders not only in the consumer industries but in other branches, the regime said. Restrictions on private garden plots of farmers will be lifted and material incentives for production will be increased.

* * *

In the field of foreign policy, Premier Alexei Kosygin vowed continued Soviet support for revolutionary movements in Asia, Africa and Latin America. But at the same time he plumped for developing better relations with the United States and other Western nations. He laid heavy stress on developing trade with the West over a long period.

The new regime has failed to back down, also, in the ideological dispute with Red China. In advance of the opening of this Supreme Soviet session, the newspaper Pravda carried a long and important article on "The State of the Whole People," a restatement of the Soviet Communist contention that the U.S.S.R has advanced beyond the state of the "dictatorship of the proletariat."

SORE POINT

This theory, first advanced by Nikita Khrushchev at the 22nd Soviet Communist Congress in 1961, has been a sore point in the persistent quarrel with Peking, which has heaped scorn on the idea and demanded its repudiation. Pravda not only failed to repudiate it but gave the theory renewed emphasis.

Perhaps the new Soviet regime has decided that a developing contest with its big neighbor, China, for influence in Asia, Africa and Latin America is inevitable. Barring irresistible pressures for a reversal, it seems to have set its sights on a stronger internal economy as its most promising weapon.

Save 50 More Congo Whites

Government Column in Rebel Territory

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) —Fifty more white hostages rescued from Congolese rebels were en route today to Paulis, diplomatic sources said. Most of those liberated were Belgian missionaries.

A column of government soldiers spearheaded by white mercenaries freed the hostages yesterday while taking from the rebels the town of Niangara, near the Sudanese border 62 miles north of Paulis.

The column hoped to reach Paulis today. The refugees then will be removed by plane.

Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe arrived in Rome for an audience with Pope Paul VI. He accused the United Arab Republic, Ghana, Mali and Algeria of "deliberate aggression" against the Congo by supporting the rebels.

* * *

Tshombe is en route to the United Nations in New York.

FEAR FOR LIVES

However, diplomats expressed fears for the lives of 60 white priests and nuns reported missing at Isangi, about 80 miles west of Stanleyville, the former rebel capital.

It was feared they would not be found alive. Rebel vengeance has been vicious in the areas near Stanleyville since Belgian paratroopers were dropped there two weeks ago to rescue whites.

A small government column was reported to have reached Mahagi, in the extreme northeast Congo near the Uganda border, but there was no report if any whites had been found.

FARMERS SLAIN

Three Belgian farmers were slain by the rebels at Nioka, southwest of Mahagi, according to a survivor who arrived in Leopoldville.

Radio messages from Stanleyville said the situation there was calm.

Congolese Army troops were reported holding an area about 3.5 miles in diameter around the center of the rebel capital.

* * *

But rebel activity continued strong in other parts of the country. At Opala, about 124 miles southwest of Stanleyville, rebel troops reportedly had encircled a small column of government troops led by mercenaries.

Will Denounce Action in Congo at Cuba Rally

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban Communist party has called a mass meeting in Havana's Central Park Friday night to denounce the "North American and Belgian brutal aggression against the Congolese people."

A Havana radio broadcast said "the United States aggression in the Congo is part of the strategy to suffocate in bloody oppression the national liberation movements of African peoples."

* * *

Prime Minister Fidel Castro and President Osvaldo Dorticos recently termed the U.S.-Belgian rescue operation as "a new and repulsive crime against international law and the sovereignty of peoples."

Italy Will Establish Red China Trade Ties

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Italy's decision to establish trade relations with Red China brought an expression of disappointment yesterday from the State Department.

A department spokesman said, however, that the move came as no surprise. "The Italian government has kept us informed on this subject . . . we understand the trade offices will be strictly commercial and technical in nature and that their establishment in no sense implies political recognition by Italy of the Communist Chinese regime," he added.

Joe Kennedy Starts Florida Winter Visit

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Joseph P. Kennedy, father of the late President John F. Kennedy, began his winter visit today at the Kennedy's ocean-front home.

The former U.S. ambassador to Britain arrived by plane from Boston yesterday. He was accompanied by Ann Gargan, a niece, and two unidentified persons, apparently not members of the family.

Dear Ol' Dad on Short End of His Daughter's Gift Stick

If the Christmas buying habits of slightly less than 11½ million teen-age girls are a criterion, most American males (especially dad) will get the short end of the gift stick.

This sad fact was uncovered in a survey made by a leading teen-age magazine shortly after Christmas last year.

Only mom and the current beau were swamped. From reports it's a a wonder they didn't get box-opening fatigue.

Fortunately the girls tried to keep a semblance of peace in the family.

★ ★ ★

When they did, the survey shows they spent slightly more than $7 for favored gifts of shirts and ties, socks, after-shave lotions, pajamas, tie clasps, sweaters, wallets, handkerchiefs, gloves and records for dad.

BOYFRIEND

The boyfriend rated a gift costing more than $10, with sweaters and jewelry the leading items.

Not to spoil this holiday's unwrapping ritual, these two categories will hold their position as popular gift choices.

Remember, then, to smile and act surprised as you try them on.

★ ★ ★

Big brothers were next in the male receiving line with their share (under $6) of sport shirts, socks and records.

LITTLE LADS

The little lads had to make do with under $5 worth of toys and games and again sport shirts as the most often selected gifts.

Just a note concerning sibling rivalry: The teen-aged girls said they spend more for little sisters' and big brothers' presents than for their little brothers' gifts.

Paraphrasing a well-known ad, only their analysts know why.

Another gift-giving paradox shines through at Christmas time, as the survey indicated.

NEGLECT HIM

If daughter is the apple of daddy's eye, why does she neglect him? Shouldn't this adoration be reflected in his ration at Christmas?

In the shopping days before Christmas why not do more for the head of the house than empty his billfold?

Scientist Aids Disease Fight

Antibodies' Data Left by Retired MSU Prof

EAST LANSING (AP) — A retired Michigan State University scientist has left other researchers what he hopes will be a head start toward making better use of the body's natural antibodies in fighting disease.

★ ★ ★

The 70-year-old professor emeritus of microbiology and public health, Dr. I. Forest Huddleson, already has received numerous honors for his work in combating brucellosis (undulant fever.)

★ ★ ★

Shortly before his retirement July 1, Dr. Huddleson reported on his research on antibodies and received more than 100 requests for reprints, an unusually high response.

★ ★ ★

The report describes a way to detect in serums the presence of antibodies which might go unnoticed in regular testing, and hints at a way of making serums much more effective against disease.

AMBER COLORED

Serum is the thin amber-colored fluid seen when blood coagulates. In theory, it should be good for preventing or curing illness because of the antibodies it contains.

Dr. Huddleson believes, though, that something in the blood hinders antibodies from attacking invading microbes and toxins in full force.

★ ★ ★

While Dr. Huddleson has not isolated the inhibiting factor, he said he has found a test-tube means of blocking and unblocking brucellosis antibodies at will.

★ ★ ★

If his technique can be applied to production of serums for inoculation, he hopes it could result in a widespread renewal of serum research and development.

Helpful Hints Make Festivities Simpler

Preparations for Christmas—including gift-giving, decorating and making a big family meal—can often be a problem, even for the most efficient hostess.

Here are some hints which can make the holidays easier and more enjoyable:

• Store Christmas candles in the refrigerator for 24 hours before using. They won't drip and will burn more evenly.

• Holiday fruit cakes will keep indefinitely if they're properly wrapped and stored. A touch of orange juice sprinkled over the cake occasionally keeps it from drying out and adds extra flavor.

* * *

• Remove cranberry spills from the tablecloth by immediately rubbing with an ice cube and then wash it.

ALUMINUM FOIL

• Pine cones will gleam brightly if you place them on a piece of aluminum foil and put them in the oven at a very low temperature for a short while.

• Popcorn that is being used to trim the tree should stand in the air for a while so it loses its crispness and won't break during stringing.

• Add color to homemade candles by melting crayons with the paraffin.

• Use bonbons and cream cheese to make decorative roses for holiday eating. Thin cheese slightly with milk and add coloring. Take the tip of a teaspoon and arrange the cheese petals on the candy, smoothing from the top down.

• Snow shoveling is easier if the shovel is rubbed with wax.

• Anyone who grows herbs can make an unusual gift by wrapping small amounts of dried herbs in cheese cloth squares. Each square should provide enough seasoning for one use—like a pot of soup or some salad dressing.

Scene of Dice Game: an Old School Bus

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The dice were rolling. The police were rolling, right up to the scene for a raid.

Even the scene was a roller—the game broken up recently was in an old school bus parked at the side of the road.

Well-Laid Plan in Bank Robbery Went Awry

ATLANTA (AP) — The gunman "made no bones about the fact that he would kill us if we didn't cooperate," the bank officer said quietly.

"I told him if he just wanted the money we would cooperate, but if he planned to harm the children he might as well go ahead and shoot us," said Ray B. West, 30. His wife and two small girls were close by.

* * *

The masked man with the 45-caliber pistol snapped, "take it easy, take it easy. Everything's planned," West said.

Police and FBI agents confirmed Wednesday that everything was planned — up to a point.

PLAN DETAILS

The plan called for holding West and his family as hostages to get into the suburban Buckhead branch of the Citizens and Southern National Bank, a bomb hoax to force obedience, and swift flight by plane to Switzerland.

* * *

But there were no provisions for a suspicious bank employe, fast police and a traffic helicopter doing detective work.

* * *

The plan failed. No money was taken and a man was arrested.

FBI agent Joseph Ponder said Keith Donald Moore, 24, of Atlanta, was charged with attempted robbery and also with the $23,200 robbery of the same branch bank June 26.

HELD FOR JURY

Moore, a free-lance photographer, was held without bond for the grand jury.

Investigating officers said Moore and his wife went to Switzerland some time after June 26 and she remained there when he returned to Atlanta about a week ago.

* * *

The FBI said Moore had in his possession a plane ticket for Pully, Switzerland, by way of Paris, and a valid passport. His flight left Atlanta just minutes after police bullets and the helicopter halted his escape attempt.

But that was many hours after West's verbal exchange with the man with the mask and the pistol.

FACE COVERED

Police Capt. R. E. Little said the robber entered the West home about 9:30 Tuesday night. He wore sunglasses and a mask that covered his facial features.

"He came into the house and looked it over," said West. "Mrs. West and I sat on a bed and I put a chair in the hallway for the robber. He sat there and cocked and uncocked his pistol several times."

* * *

At 5 a.m. Wednesday West and his wife were ordered to dress their two little girls, one six years and the other nine months, and drive to the bank.

When bank employes began arriving, the bandit admitted them and warned, "just follow instructions and no one will get hurt."

BOMB SCARE

He also warned that a bomb had been left at a nearby school and could be set off by remote control. The school was evacuated and searched later but no bomb was found.

When Bob Tolleson arrived for work he noticed something amiss and called police.

* * *

Minutes later a policeman approached the front door. The masked man aimed his pistol at Mrs. Suzanna Ingle, a 24-year-old teller, and said "you're coming with me." She went out the back door with him.

"On his orders I ran some red lights but didn't drive at more than about 40 miles per hour," Mrs. Ingle said. "My main thought was how to get out of the car. I even considered wrecking it."

Finally the car was halted by a gathering force of patrol cars while the helicopter hovered overhead giving directions.

RELEASED UNHARMED

The bandit released Mrs. Ingle, shaken but unharmed.

"Just as we stopped," said patrolman R. S. Norton, "he dived back into the car, mashed the accelerator with his hand and roared away with his feet sticking out the door."

* * *

Norton and two other officers fired at the car, other police vehicles closed in and the man surrendered.

HOSTAGES — Three persons who were held hostage in an unsuccessful bank robbery in Atlanta, Ga., told their stories to police after a chase by car and helicopter. The hostages are Mrs. Susan Ingles (left), held at gunpoint at the bank, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray West, whose home was invaded the night before the attempt. The Wests accompanied the suspect to open the bank yesterday morning.

Retired Twice ---Dies at 103

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UPI)— When J. Frank Whitesell turned 78 in 1939 he decided to retire from his job as a freight passenger agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

* * *

But when Whitesell was 79 he decided to return to work to be eligible for Social Security and obtained a job with a firm which produced memorial stones. He worked several years before his second retirement.

* * *

Whitesell died last night in nearby Laughlintown at the age of 103. He was one of the oldest persons in the United States receiving Social Security benefits.

Sentence Is Death for Slaying Father

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — A Superior Court jury recommended the death sentence yesterday for Robert Goedecke, 18, found guilty of the knife and bludgeon slaying of his father last Aug. 15.

Goedecke was also convicted of slaying his mother, brother and sister as they slept in their Chula Vista, Calif., home.

The jury convicted him of first-degree murder for the death of his father and second-degree murder in the deaths of the other three members of his family. Goedecke was ruled sane at the time of his father's death but temporarily insane when he killed the others.

Pontiac School Affairs

Progress Reports Presented

Several progress reports were presented to the Pontiac Board of Education last night.

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer reported on a visit to Washington, D.C., he made Nov. 12 and 13 to discuss two federally subsidized programs planned for Pontiac schools.

Whitmer said application has been made for a 90 per cent subsidy on an antipoverty plan for the school district.

Titled "School-Community Action Programs," the plan will provide numerous educational benefits for impoverished children and adults in the district.

* * *

As tentatively outlined, the total cost of the plan will be nearly $450,000.

AWAIT RESULTS

Results of the application should be known within a few weeks, Whitmer said.

Application for a planning grant from the federal Office of Education for vocational training will be submitted Tuesday(according to Whitmer.

Sponsored by the Vocational Education Advisory Committee, the grant would permit detailed planning for an extensive vocational education program in the local district.

* * *

The scope of the program has not yet been determined, Whitmer said.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, Whitmer reported that future city planning will be taken into consideration in a proposal to enlarge McConnell School.

Assistant Superintendent Richard C. Fell reported that a duty-free lunch program for local teachers, instituted last month, is an apparent success.

Lay people have been employed to supervise children during lunch periods in 25 schools, according to Fell, relieving teachers of duty during their lunch hour.

* * *

Assistant Superintendent William J. Lacy reported a committee of teachers will soon begin reviewing instructional materials to see if the proper emphasis is being placed on the contribution of the Negro race to the development of America.

Sentencing Set in Spy Case

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — John W. Butenko and Igor A. Ivanov are scheduled to be sentenced Dec. 18 for conspiring to commit espionage.

The charge, on which they were convicted Dec. 2, carries a maximum penalty of death.

* * *

U.S. Dist. Judge Anthony J. Augelli, who presided at the pair's trial, announced the sentencing date Wednesday.

Butenko, 39, an American engineer, and Ivanov, 34, a Russian chauffeur, were convicted of conspiring to relay U.S. Air Force secrets to the Soviet Union.

Both also were convicted of conspiring to violate the law requiring registration of foreign agents. On a third count against Butenko, he was found guilty of acting as an unregistered agent for Russia. These charges carry maximum sentences of five and 10 years imprisonment, respectively.

Actress Is Due in Court Today on Battery Charge

WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UPI) — Actress Anna Kashfi must appear today in Municipal Court or forfeit bail of $276 on a charge of battery against a policeman.

Miss Kashfi was arrested last Monday night by Sgt. Ed Hull, who claimed he was struck by the actress during a melee in the Bel Air Sands Hotel.

* * *

Barefoot and clad only in a nightgown and bathrobe, Miss Kashfi, 30, was taken into custody after she was reported to have struck Hull and several other persons in the hotel. She also was supposed to have run screaming down the hallway.

Her arrest climaxed a 24-hour period of incidents involving her, ex-husband Marlon Brando, their son, Christian Devi, and other persons.

State Bias Fighter in Mississippi Jail

ABERDEEN, Miss. (AP) — Joseph Maurer, 32, of Nashville, Mich., was held in the Monroe County jail Wednesday following his arrest on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The white civil rights worker was arrested after he and a Negro woman companion and her child attempted to get service at a white cafe.

The Council of Federated Organizations said Maurer was told to leave the cafe and was met by a group of whites who pushed him around when he tried to get into his car.

Central to Entertain 'Team to Beat'

Chiefs Ready to Duel SVC Title Choice

PCH, Saginaw AH Leading Loop With 2-0 Records

"I would say they would be the team to beat in this conference!"

The statement was made yesterday by Pontiac Central's chief basketball scout and former head coach Art Van Ryzin.

He was not talking about the unbeaten Chiefs who have won three straight games while averaging 68 points a game, and who are 2-0 in the Saginaw Valley Conference Race.

Van Ryzin was discussing the Saginaw Arthur Hill Lumberjacks, Friday night's visitors to the PCH gym. The SAH quintet also is 2-0 in the SVC and tied for first place.

"They've got the experience and look to me like the strongest league club at this point.

TITLE PICK

The veteran basketball official's comments were not without merit. The Lumberjacks were the pre-season title choice of the loop coaches.

Five players return as letter winners from the team that was 6-9 and finished sixth in the SVC last season. Two juniors spark the team this year, both are returnees.

Van Ryzin rates 5-7 Dennie Herzog as an outstanding player with an exceptionally good shot, a fine floorman and a good feeder.

The center is 6-4 junior Dave Hammer, a good pivotman who works a lot off the high post. Flanking him are above-average jumpers Matt Weigl and Dave Fisher. Bob Andrezjewski rounds out the starting lineup.

Both Weigl and Andrezjewski are non-letter winners who have cracked the starting lineup.

★ ★ ★

Van Ryzin cites the Lumberjacks as a good offensive club—they scored 92 and 72 points in their two starts — that plays a steady, controlled style. SAH does fast break when the opportunity presents itself.

The Chiefs show promise of developing into a solid SVC cage contender if they can reduce the extensive mistakes they've been making, particularly on offense.

Coach Fred Zittel has unleashed some fine shooters in guard Carl Arnold, forwards John Hooper and Ross Ludwick, center Willie Adams and forward-guard Jesse Evans.

Jim McClendon has proven a valuable reserve on the backline along with 5-4 Jeff Lane. George Cole, a 6-2 forward, has seen front court duty, also.

★ ★ ★

PCH is primarily a man-to-man defensive quintet while Arthur Hill relies on a zone. To date the Chiefs have the better defensive record.

Game time is 8 p.m. The PCH junior varsity will gun for its 16th straight victory in a preliminary contest.

Pontiac Press Photo

Giants' Coach Says Tittle to Start Against Browns

NEW YORK (AP)—Y. A. Tittle will start for the New York Giants Saturday against the Cleveland Browns, opening up a number of dramatic possibilities.

First of all, it will be Tittle's 176th National Football League game, the most ever played by anybody. Bobby Layne's old mark of 175 will be tied the same afternoon by New York's Andy Robustelli who is playing his last game.

★ ★ ★

This may be the last for Tittle, the 38-year-old Bald Eagle of the Giants whose star has faded this year after hitting a peak in 1963 when he threw a record 36 touchdown passes and was the league's most valuable player.

Y. A., a pro for 17 years, won't announce his plans until he returns to California.

It definitely will be the last game for Alex Webster, the Giants' long-time fullback, and for Robustelli, who came out of retirement this year.

NEED WIN

Cleveland, of course, needs to win to clinch its first Eastern Conference title since 1957. A tie here and a victory for St. Louis over Philadelphia Sunday would send the race into a deadlock.

A defeat for the Browns and a St. Louis victory or tie would give the flag to the Cardinals.

The Giants will be last — win, lose or draw — but the old rivalry still burns brightly despite the long list of Giant injuries.

In the last two weeks Tittle sat on the bench while Gary Wood, the Ivy League rookie from Cornell, started. Y. A. got into both games but showed little.

In fact, he has had a most disappointing season with only nine touchdowns passes.

Allie Sherman, coach of the Giants, waited until after Wednesday's practice, to decide that Tittle would start.

There had been much interest in his decision because Wally Lemm, Cardinal coach, had said he hoped Tittle would start.

Sherman replied sarcastically, "We are very happy to cooperate." He had made it very clear that he would make up his own mind.

Colts' Mentor Coach of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Shula's job of leading the Baltimore Colts to the Western Conference title of the National Football League in his second year as head coach earned him recognition today as the league's Coach of the Year by an Associated Press panel.

Shula won by a landslide in the voting of the 42-man group, three from each league city. The Baltimore coach had 38 votes to three for Blanton Collier of Cleveland. One committee member did not vote in this category.

The 1963 winner was George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

★ ★ ★

Under Shula's direction, the Colts bounced back from an opening day 34-24 defeat by Minnesota and streaked through 11 straight games before they lost to Detroit last Sunday. Enroute they clinched the Western crown and whipped the favored Green Bay Packers and defending champion Chicago Bears twice each. The first Bear game was a shocking 52-0 rout.

EX-LION AIDE

Shula, 34, came to the Colts as successor to Weeb Ewbank after the 1962 season, following a career as a defensive back in the NFL and three years as line coach for the Detroit Lions under George Wilson.

Drafted by the Cleveland Browns in 1951 after a fine career at John Carroll University, Shula came to Baltimore in 1953 in a 10-for-5 player swap. He played with the Colts' defensive backfield through 1956 and finished his active career with Washington in 1957.

Shula's first coaching job was as an assistant at Virginia in 1958. He was an assistant at Kentucky in 1959 and moved to the Lions in 1960.

Under Shula's direction in 1963, the Colts got off to a wobbly start while breaking in rookies and filling in for injured regulars. Baltimore came with a rush at the end and won five of its last six to finish in third place.

A sensational comeback by Lenny Moore, an inspired year by Johnny Unitas and the addition of rookie Tony Lorick to share the fullback job with Jerry Hill gave the Colts a potent offense. The return of Gino Marchetti, who had announced his retirement, fine play by Bill Pellington at middle linebacker helped solidify the defensive unit.

Owner 'Feels' Championship Due Saturday

CLEVELAND (AP) —Cleveland Browns' owner Art Modell said Wednesday he has a "deep-down feeling" the shining hour that has eluded him for three years may arrive about 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Browns-New York Giants game will be over about that time and — if Modell's hunch is right — Cleveland will have clinched its first Eastern Conference title since 1957.

Modell, a 39-year-old former New York television advertising executive, paid $4 million for the National Football League club in 1961.

A top-notch promoter, Modell has seen a record 633,000 fans turn out in the Browns' eight dates at Municipal Stadium this season.

Gridiron Career Closing for Old Pro Tobin Rote

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—It'll be Tobin Rote Day Sunday and San Diego fans will be honoring the Charger quarterback who is retiring after 15 years of professional football.

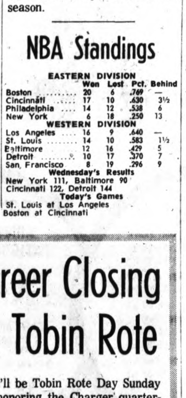
The Chargers' American Football League game with the Kansas City Chiefs will be the last San Diego appearance for the 36-year-old Rote, who got his pro start with the Green Bay Packers.

Rote went to Rice as a fullback from Harlandale High School in San Antonio, but soon switched to quarterback.

Jess Neely, athletic director and coach at Rice, recalls Rote as "one of the best."

"He handled the ball well even then," Neely said. "He had good hands and his faking was good. He also was a pretty good passer. At quarterback he took to it like a duck to water."

"I had no idea of playing quarterback," Tobin says. "But when Neely found out I could throw a little, he made me a quarterback."



TOBIN ROTE

Since joining the pros, Rote has thrown 3,771 passes.

With two games remaining in the regular season, Rote has thrown 133 this year. His previous low was 177 for Detroit in 1957.

Rote has been hampered by a sore arm and quarterback John Hadl has handled most of the passing chores for the last several games.

Rote is a resident of Birmingham.

Tom Harmon Airs Vote on Rose Bowl Choice

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sportscaster Tom Harmon said Wednesday night he had learned on excellent authority that the Athletic Association of Western Universities voted 4-4 for Oregon State and Southern California for the Rose Bowl and that Oregon State got the trip because it had been away from the game the longest.

In his national ABC radio report, the former All-America from Michigan said Oregon, Washington, Washington State and Oregon State voted for OSU, and California, Stanford, UCLA and USC voted for the Trojans.

Harmon also said he had learned that five members voted to delay the vote on the bowl team one week until the Trojans' game with Notre Dame.

One school, he continued, then voted for Oregon State despite the Trojans' upset victory over the Irish.

It took only one vote to delay the ballot. Harmon said Southern Cal has privately initiated a movement to change the conference rule which now says a representative team can be selected.

★ ★ ★

The Trojans want a clear-cut rule adopted to avoid future confusion and bitter controversy within the conference, Harmon said.

The Los Angeles Herald-Examiner reported basically the same vote tally immediately following the Rose Bowl announcement.

Michigan Coasts to 4th Win

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — No. 1-ranked Michigan built a 30-point halftime lead and coasted to a 102-64 basketball victory over Indiana State Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

Cazzie Russell led the torrid-shooting Wolverines with 27 points. Bill Buntin had 19 and Jim Myers added 15.

It was Michigan's fourth straight victory this season.

Butch Wade scored 21 for the Sycamores.

Michigan dominated the contest from the outset. In one stretch in the second half, the Wolverines threw in 13 straight points.

HIT SHOTS

The Wolverines hit nearly 62 per cent of their shots from the floor in the first half, building a 63-33 halftime lead. Only one free was missed in 12 attempts.

Indiana State scored only 47 per cent of its shots from the floor in the first half.

★ ★ ★

Buntin, Russell and Craig Dill paced the Wolverines in the first-half shooting spree.

The loss was the second for the Sycamores against one victory.

Buntin was the top rebounder of the night, with 10. Indiana State's Lenny Long grabbed seven off the boards.

STAR SOPH

Louie Dampier is turning out to be one of the star sophomores of the college basketball season.

The six-footer from Indianapolis exploded for 37 points to lead the ninth-ranked Kentucky Wildcats to a 100-74 victory over Iowa State Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

Dampier got his 37 points on 17 field goals and three fouls while Riley contributed 18 points including a three-point play that put Kentucky ahead for good at 17-15.

The second-ranked Wichita Wheatshockers made it two straight with a 73-55 romp over Texas Western. Both were home court victories.

ONE POINTERS

In a couple of one-point decisions Ohio State edged Butler 67-66 on Al Rowley's basket with 12 seconds left at Columbus, Ohio, and Cornell's Big Red invaded Syracuse and surprised the Orange 73-72.

DEFENSE IN DEPTH — New York Rangers Harry Howell (left) and goalie Marcel Paille gang up to spoil a scoring attempt by Chicago's Bobby Hull (9) at Madison Square Garden last night. The Black Hawks still defeated the Rangers, 6-1, in NHL action.

Injury Slows Lion Tackle

DETROIT (AP)— A leg injury and gall bladder affliction are expected to prevent offensive tackle J. D. Smith from action in the Detroit Lions' final National Football League game Sunday.

Smith was admitted to a hospital for treatment of what was described Wednesday as acute inflammation of the gall bladder. Smith injured a calf muscle earlier.

The Lions end their season in a home game with San Francisco.

Montreal Nips Toronto

Black Hawks Rip New York, 6-1

By The Associated Press

It was a night for the unexpected in the National Hockey League.

In New York, Bobby Hull, who specializes in goal scoring, battled defensive shadows all night long but found time to set up three Chicago goals in a 6-1 Black Hawk victory over the Rangers. That was surprising.

In Toronto, Maple Leaf fans, disappointed by their club's 3-2 loss to Montreal, had plenty to talk about though when big Frank Mahovlich skated out for his first game action in almost a month. Considering early hospital reports on the Big M's mysterious ailment which remains undisclosed, that was amazing.

★ ★ ★

The Rangers kept close tabs on Hull, who has scored 20 goals in 22 games and appears on his way to a record-breaking season. But two goals by Ken Wahrram and a flurry of four third period markers — three set up by Hull — broke it open for the Hawks.

Denis DeJordy, filling in for the resting Glenn Hall, benefitted from some tenacious Chicago checking which stifled the Rangers effectively.

SNAP STREAK

The victory snapped a five-game winless streak for Chicago and left the fifth place Hawks four points back of fourth-place New York.

While Hull was held scoreless, his three assists extended his scoring lead to four points over Detroit's Norm Ullman and Chicago's Stan Mikita who had two assists in the Hawks' romp.

Rookie Fred Stanfield, defenseman Al MacNeil and veteran Doug Mohns all scored first goals of the year for the Hawks.

Meanwhile, Montreal took over second place but the victory was overshadowed by Mahovlich's return to the Leafs' line-up.

The rangy left winger, who missed 11 games because of an undisclosed illness that hospitalized him in mid-November, said after the game he felt winded. "But it's greatt o be back," he added.

Goals by Claude Provost and Dave Balon countered one by Ron Stewart for a 2-1 Montreal lead after one period. Montreal's Gilles Tremblay scored what proved to be the winning goal in the middle session and Don McKenney hit for the Leafs in the finale.

DOBB'S MUSTANG... THE HOTTEST NAME IN CARS... AND IN HATS

What's causing all the hubbub? . . . Mustang . . . a racy new look that's sparking excitement throughout the country . . . and Dobbs has it! The Mustang hat is a subtle blend of cloth and felt, casually elegant, a must for sport car enthusiasts and the not-so-sport-minded Avant Garde.

Rochester Takes On Loop Favorite

Rochester will face its toughest challenge of the season when Warren Cousino moves onto the Falcons' court tomorrow night.

The invading Cousino quintet was a near-unanimous pre-season choice to wrap up the Oakland A League championship.

In the first three games, Cousino has lived up to the billing. The team knocked off Lamphere in its opener and followed with victories over Center Line and Clawson.

The big men in the Cousino attack are 6-7 center Greg Fruehe and 6-5 forward Jim Fitzmorrice. The height, combined with the scoring of forward Drew Pisha (6-0), could pose a lot of problems for Rochester.

FINISHED LAST

Rochester finished on the bottom in the race last year, but better things are predicted for the Falcons this season.

★ ★ ★

They were dropped in their opener by Avondale, 86-79, despite a 32-point scoring effort by 5-10 guard Bruce McDonald.

The Falcons will be giving away a lot of height under the backboards but the outside shooting of McDonald could offset that advantage.

In other Oakland A games, Lake Orion travels to Fitzgerald, Avondale has a date at Troy and Clawson journeys to Madison.

The Troy scrap between Troy and Avondale could be a thriller.

WIN EASILY

Troy, defending cochampion, opened with a surprisingly easy 57-34 win over Lake Orion last week, but Avondale is expected to provide a little more opposition.

A win for the Avondale squad would put it into a contender's role along with Cousino for league honors.

In a Tri-County League contest, Oxford will be looking for its third win of the season against a visiting L'Anse Creuse quintet.

Oxford opened with a 64-63 triumph over Ortonville and followed with a 73-59 rout of North Branch. The Wildcats will be favored to tame L'Anse, which has lost four in a row.

In the Southern Thumb League, Almont has a date at defending champion New Haven, Brown City visits Anchor Bay, Armada plays host to Memphis and Capac journeys to Dryden.

SEEKS NO. 5

In the Southeastern Michigan Association, Birmingham Seaholm moves into Hazel Park looking for its first league victory and fifth win of the season.

Other SEMA contests have Royal Oak Kimball at Berkley and Ferndale at Southfield.

Birmingham Groves will take on Wayne John Glenn in a Northwest Suburban League contest.

Waterford Quintet Meets Potent Foe

Waterford's basketball team may run into the 'best' tomorrow night.

The Skippers journey to East Detroit to take on the Shamrocks, considered one of the top Class A teams in the state.

The East Detroiters have won two in a row, a 95-61 decision over Warren in the season opener and a 74-54 triumph over Royal Oak Kimball last week.

The Shamrocks weren't pressed in either outing and should have little trouble with the Waterford squad.

Waterford took a pounding from Pontiac Central in its opener, 74-48, and a similar fate may await the Skippers at ED.

LACK HEIGHT

The Skippers lack height and scoring punch. The big man in the attack is junior Rick Ziem, who tallied 18 points against PCH.

There's only one way to describe the East Detroit outfit — big.

One of the biggest among the big is Glen Bradt (6-6) who leads the team in scoring with 49 points in two games. The tallest on the squad is 6-8 center Doug Hess who divides the position with 6-5 Ron Binge.

Along with Bradt at the forward posts will be Bill Mertz (6-4), Bob Lauwers (6-3) or Bill Boyda (6-2). Arch Price (6-2) and Pat Mucci (5-8) handle the guard slots.

LANSING (AP) — Locations for district and regional tournaments of the State High School Basketball Tournament were announced Wednesday by the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

The district tournaments will be played March 1-6 and the regionals are scheduled for March 9-13.

★ ★ ★

The quarter-finals will be played March 17 at several centers throughout the state, yet to be selected. The finals and semi-finals will be played at Lansing and East Lansing March 19 and 20.

School System Shows Interest in Ice Skating

Ice skating and ice hockey are now receiving recognition form the city school system.

Primarily sponsored by the city Parks and Recreation Department, the sports are being organized and promoted this winter by the recreation office along with the Pontiac Boys Club and the school system's Olympic Sports Development program.

John Becker of the Crofoot School staff is coordinating the winter skating program.

He currently is arranging for skating centers, instructors, hockey coaches and referees. Volunteers are needed to make the program a success.

Becker requests any one interested in helping start the learn-to-skate and/or ice hockey programs to call him at FE 2-7925 during the afternoon.

Hockey participants will have to provide their own specified protective equipment, skates and sticks. Goalie equipment, nets and game pucks will be provided.

Learn-to-skate sessions will be scheduled; hockey practice and a league schedule will also be arranged on a regular basis at the various centers that will be set up.

Initial reaction from students has been very encouraging; now it is necessary to find the volunteers to implement the plans.

Pistons Halted by Cincinnati Unit, 122-114

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Royals haven't beaten the championship Boston Celtics in three tries this season in the National Basketball Association. Tonight may be the night when the teams clash at Cincinnati.

The Royals warmed up for their fourth meeting with the champs by defeating the Detroit Pistons 122-114 on the road Wednesday night.

Oscar Robertson, with 32 points which included three vital baskets that stayed off a late Detroit rally, sparked the Royals to their third straight win and their fifth in their last six starts. They now trail Boston by 3½ games in the Eastern Division.

★ ★ ★

Bob Boozer, who was fined $100 before the game for his performances in three previous games, led the New York Knicks to a 111-90 victory over the Baltimore Bullets in the other NBA game scheduled Wednesday.

Boozer scored 20 points as the Knicks pulled away in the second half after trailing 41-40 at the intermission.

SPARKS CAPTAINS — Kettering opens defense of its Tri-County League championship tomorrow night and one of the players the Captains are counting on to take a big hand in the defense is Dale Manning. Manning led the team in scoring last week with 19 points.

Kettering Set for Title Defense

Kettering moves into Lapeer tomorrow night to open defense of its Tri-County League basketball championship.

★ ★ ★

The Captains are 1-1 for the season and they are expected to have a rough time against the Lapeer quintet that has won two of three games.

Kettering dropped a squeaker to North Farmington in its opener, 51-50, but roared back to pick up an overtime victory over Milford last week, 51-50.

The big guns in the Captains attack have been Jim Nyberg and Dale Manning, Nyberg owns a 10.5 scoring average for two outings and Manning is moving along at a 15-point-a-game average.

The Captains lack height and the Lapeer unit is in the same position.

SHORT LINEUP

Only one of the Lapeer regulars, Tom Hall, is over six feet and he stands in at 6-1.

★ ★ ★

Top scoring threat on the Panther unit is Bob McKenna, who tossed in 183 points last year. He had collected 53 in three outings this season.

Eagles, Kuharich Facing Future With Bright Hopes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joe Kuharich said today his new 15-year contract as general manager and coach of the Philadelphia Eagles—believed unprecedented in the National Football League—would help provide a solid basis on which to build the team.

Eagles' owners Earl Foreman and Jerry Wolman announced the elevation of Kuharich to general manager Wednesday and the signing of the long term contract.

★ ★ ★

In a statement they said: "It is our belief that the most expedient way to build and maintain a winner in the NFL is to place authority in one knowledgeable individual. The Eagles are fortunate to have such a person in Kuharich."

Kuharich, 47, has been virtual general manager since he was hired as coach to replace Nick Skorich. Former General Manager Vince McNally resigned several months ago.

Cubs Trade Shortstops With NL Rival Pirates

CHICAGO (AP) — Andre Rodgers, regular Chicago Cub shortstop the past three seasons, was sold to the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday for an undisclosed sum and a minor league shortstop.

Ice Team Wins Minus Leader

The Arrow Auto Wash entry in the Metropolitan Detroit Hockey League moved into a tie for third place this week without the aid of its top scorer, Clarkston's Tom Petrie.

★ ★ ★

The high-scoring forward was sidelined with a virus as his teammates whipped Detroit General Sports Monday at Olympia, 5-2, and St. Clair Shores Juniors, 7-3, Tuesday on the Royal Oak Outdoor rink.

Petrie currently is the second leading scorer with 10 goals and six assists. Adray Appliance's Ken Quint nosed ahead of Petrie Monday night by one point.

★ ★ ★

Arrow's Gerry Darling of Waterford raised his total to 12 through Monday night's game to rate among the top seven scorers in the league.

PNH Swimmers Gain 3rd Straight Victory

Pontiac Northern's unbeaten swimming team made it 3-0 for the season in defeating Utica, 71-34 yesterday, and now the Huskies are awaiting their meet at Detroit Thurston next Tuesday.

Thurston, long time power with All-America swimmers Ken Wiebeck and Pat Duthie, no longer has the pair and the Huskies have yet to record a win against the Detroit school.

Macedonia Baptists Spill Central Five

Cedric Patterson's 22 points paced Macedonia Baptist to a 62-54 win over defending champion Central Methodist last night in the YMCA Church Basketball senior division action.

A second game saw Jerry Wilson score 31 markers as Oakland Park Methodist pulled away from St. Paul Methodist.

Macedonia now has the league lead with a 2-0 mark but Trinity Baptist and All Saints Episcopal can grab shares of it tomorrow when they meet First Congregational (7:50 p.m.) and First Baptist (6:20 p.m.), respectively.

Julius Boros Fires Hot 64 for Pro-Am

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Julius Boros shot an eight-under-par 64 Wednesday in the pro-am warm-up for the $40,000 Mixed Foursome Golf Tournament.

The former National Open champion had seven birdies and an eagle and missed tying the record 63 on the Harder Hall course.

A bogey 5 at the 423-yard, par 4 13th cost him a record. He bunkered his second shot and didn't get out close enough to get down in one putt.

In spite of the great individual round, Boros had to settle for a tie for first money in team competition with a group headed by pro Gardner Dickinson Jr. Pros played with three amateur partners and both teams had best ball scores of 59.

Olivet Bumps Defiance

ADRIAN (AP)— Hope parlayed success on free throws into an 86-76 victory over Adrian in the MIAA basketball opener for both teams Wednesday night.

Feature Event Set Dec. 20th

Top Actual Bowlers to Be Invited

The Actuals' Invitational, long a popular feature of the Bowlerama, has been reinstated and will be held during the weekend of the tourney finals, Dec. 19-20 at 300 Bowl.

This feature event is not to be confused with the actuals event of the '64 Bowlerama which was cancelled due to the lack of entries, two weeks ago.

The Invitational will be held in similar pattern of the past few years whereas the top average bowlers and the leading actual scores in the singles handicap division only will receive invitations to take part against the best bowlers.

There will be a trophy and special prizes for the Actuals' Invitational and those invited will not be required to pay any additional entry fee, merely $2.00 for bowling, scoring and expenses.

The list of invited names will be made known next Wednesday.

Meanwhile, qualifying will continue for the last time this weekend in three divisions of the Bowlerama, the singles handicap, the doubles and the team event.

★ ★ ★

The complete schedule of available times was printed in Wednesday's Press and all bowlers should contact the respective houses to assure themselves of starting times.

BIG SQUADS

Several squads, primarily those in mid-afternoon Sunday are nearly filled since some of the houses are holding more than one event.

Huron Bowl will have big squads in singles and doubles. 300 Bowl has already received reservation requests for singles, doubles and team, and Howe's is also handling singles and doubles squads.

Team events will go at Lakewood and North Hill also, and singles at Montcalm and Airway.

In Tuesday's sports page there was an error in the current leaders of Huron's singles qualifying. These are the top scores of last weekend:

Gals Tag Team Bout on Pro Wrestling Card

A women's tag team match is the feature bout on the Saturday night professional wrestling card.

Bambi Ball and Mary Jane Moll will take on Mona Baker and Toni Rose in the main event, marking the first time that four women have appeared on the same card locally.

In other bouts, Brute (Mr. Clean) Balkes will meet The Student, and Gary Hart will take on Jerry Maiburg.

The first bout will get under way at 8:30 p.m. at the National Guard Armory on Water Street.

Detroit Tech Downed

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP)—Despite a 28-point scoring spree of Detroit Tech forward Jim Garza, McMasters College edged the Motor City basketball team 88-70 Wednesday night.

Garza, a freshman, connected on 10 of 14 field goal attempts and eight of nine free throws.

Grid Cardinals' MVP

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Defensive back Pat Fischer was chosen by his teammates Wednesday night as the most valuable player on the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League.

Pontiac Ski Areas in Swing

While the appearance of snow skiing around the Oakland County area has undergone a face lifting, the makeup is still that basic powdery white.

One entirely new area has emerged, several areas have changed hands, others have made physical changes and one area has all but shut down completely.

The new resort is Silverbell, located just northeast of Pontiac off Bald Mountain Road. It is the only one of the 11 resorts within a short ride of Pontiac that isn't open at present.

The construction work has a completion date of December 18. When opened Silverbell's 1500-foot runs will be among the longest in Southeastern Michigan.

The one area in the process of shutting down is the Pontiac Lake Recreation area. It actually will not close, but all facilities are being removed.

CLUB MOVES

The previous leasee of the state park slopes was Kandahar Ski Club which has undertaken a long-term lease on The Summit ski area near Fenton. The club has made it a private resort under the direction of Rod Lily and Leo Doan.

* * *

Some family memberships still are being accepted.

Among the other areas now operating and anticipating good winters after the fine snowy start this week are Alpine Valley, Mount Holly, Mount Grampian, Mount Christie, Pine Knob, Mount Brighton, Dryden and Teeple Hill

* * *

The latter is controlled by the Pontiac Ski Club. There is no snow - making machinery and limited night skiing. Prices are very economical and the area offers the biggest selection of trails.

Alpine has erected an outdoor ticket office and a ski adjustment shelter for outside mounting. One chair lift, four T-bars and the beginners' slope are open.

Mount Holly has widened its intermediate area, and lengthened the advance slopes. The chair lift, beginners' slopes and Grant's Pass (intermediate slope) are open, although Mort's Mountain (formerly called Greater Woodward) will not be used before the weekend. Snow-making has been improved.

Mount Grampian has added tiny-tot and seniors' skiing areas, two trails and lengthened existing slopes by as much as 300 feet.

* * *

The big news at Pine Knob is a lowering of prices and the new ski school under the direction of Austrian Kurt Rummell, plus improved snow-making.

Dryden has added a J-Bar on its advanced slope. Manager Fred Molitor also has announced tobogganing and ice skating now are available.

Floyd Purdy has taken over at Mount Brighton which will operate with the same facilities as last year. Mount Christie also has made few changes but expects to provide improved service.

* * *

All areas report good-to-excellent skiing on almost all slopes. The base ranges from a minimum of four inches to more than a foot and all have been making snow daily during the cold spell.

Should the predicted rain and warmer weather hit the areas, most will continue operating with only a slight lessening of favorable conditions.

* * *

County skiers are urged to contact the resort if they have any doubts about the conditions since frequently the altitude and location of the various ski areas shield them from the unfavorable elements.

Caberfae Area Slates Annual Racing School

Christmas vacation will bring with it the annual Caberfae Ski Area Junior Racing School Dec. 28-30 under the direction of Bob Meyer, the resort's head pro.

Children 12-17 may participate at a maximum cost of $25. This does not include living accommodations and breakfast or evening meals.

* * *

Other instructors participating in the school are Heinz Achhorner, Kent Bocks and Heindrich Koch, all members of the Caberfae staff.

Applications must be turned in by Dec. 23 to the Junior Racing School, Caberfae Inc., Cadillac.

Orion High Grad Is at Sugar Loaf

A Lake Orion High School graduate, Jim Baber, has been appointed manager of the new Sugar Loaf ski resort in the Little Finger area near Traverse City.

* * *

With his appointment, Baber becomes the youngest major ski area operator in the Midwest. He is 23. Baber graduated in 1959 with top honors from Lake Orion.

He attended Michigan State University's School of Hotel and Restaurant Management. He has previous resort experience at Boyne Mountain and Boyne Highlands.

Adult Skiing at Orion HS

Registration is 7-8 o'clock tonight for an adult ski class at Lake Orion High School.

Roger Tyrell will teach the five-lesson course 7:30 p.m.-9:30 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays at Mount Christie.

There is a $10 registration fee, plus reduced rates for equipment ski tow rentals at the area. Tyrell may be contacted at the school.

Pittsburgh Squad Ties Red Wings

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ted Hampson scored with just four seconds left in the third period and two teammates in the penalty box Wednesday night as the Pittsburgh Hornets tied their parent club, the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League, 3-3.

The American Hockey League Hornets scored first in the exhibition game before 5,400 on Yves Locas' second period goal. Locas also scored in the third.

Detroit's Norm Ullman got a pair of goals in the second and Alex Delvecchio put the Red Wings ahead 3-2 in the third.

'Lazy' Back Takes NFL Rookie Honor

WASHINGTON (AP) — His college coach used to needle him for lack of chatter and hustle on the practice field.

Otto Graham, coach of the College All-Stars, said he was lazy.

"I'm just not built to make a lot of noise," explains Charley Taylor of the Washington Redskins. "I just run each play the best I can, then hurry back to the huddle."

Taylor was named Wednesday NFL Rookie of the Year by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Michigan's Ski Season Getting Quick Start

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's ski season is off to a fast start, reports the State Tourist Council.

Several thousand early skiers flocked to winter resorts from Pontiac to Houghton last weekend.

The heavy snowfall in northern areas is expected to spur the opening of more resorts this weekend. The season should hit full stride within two weeks, the council said.

The tourist council said that—given good weather — an estimated quarter of a million persons will spend a record $25 million to ski in Michigan this year.

U.S. to Unveil Evidence Seeking Grand Jury Action Against 19 in Rights Killings

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — The Justice Department discloses evidence today which it hopes will show the need for further legal action against 19 of 21 men charged in connection with the slaying of three civil rights workers.

The government must show, in a preliminary hearing before U.S. Commissioner Esther Carter, "purobable c a u s e" for grand jury action on charges filed in what the FBI calls a Ku Klux Klan plot.

Of the 21 arrested last Friday and later released on bonds, 19 are charged with conspiracy to interfere with the federal rights of the slain trio. The other two were charged as accessories after the fact.

Only the state can file a murder charge. It has made no move to do so.

Informed sources said the FBI information would be outlined to Dist. Atty. W. H. Johnson for possible state action after the preliminary hearing.

Johnson's district includes Neshoba County, which takes in Philadelphia where the bodies of the three civil rights workers were found buried in a farm pond dam Aug. 4.

Those charged include Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey, 41, of Philadelphia and his deputy, Cecil Price, 26.

Price was among 10 of the men the government accused of having actually plotted to intercept the trio and "assault, shoot and kill them."

THOSE KILLED

Killed were Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, 21, a Meridian Negro.

One of the 21 charged was arrested in Biloxi. His preliminary hearing comes up there Friday. Another was arrested in Shreveport, La., and his hearing will be held there.

The law under which the charges were made has been on the books since 1870, and was passed with an eye toward the Ku Klux Klan which was then actively operating in the South. It is a criminal statute carrying a maximum of 10 years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine.

An FBI spokesman said the law has been used many times over the years, applying whenever a law enforcement officer is involved.

DEFENSE FUND

Shortly after the arrests, citizens in the area began drives for donations to set up a legal defense fund to help the 21 pay for their legal battles and bond costs.

The three civil rights workers were driving from Meridian to Philadelphia on June 21 to investigate the burning of a rural Negro church. That afternoon, officers stopped them at Philadelphia on a speeding charge.

They were released from jail at 10:30 p.m., after paying $10 on the traffic charge. Price said he watched them drive away. They were never reported alive again.

* * *

Two days later, the burned out remains of the trio's station wagon was found in the swamps some 15 miles northeast of Philadelphia.

Reports circulated that a tip paid to an informant — as much as $30,000 — led to the discovery of the bodies buried under 20 feet of dirt in the dam on property owned by Olen L. Burrage, 34, who was among the 21 later charged.

An autopsy report was not made public, but informed sources said bullets were found in all three victims.

The Justice Department took its information to a federal grand jury at Biloxi in September. The jury returned secret indictments which resulted in the arrest of five men, including Rainey and Price, on charges of depriving Negroes of their civil rights in incidents not related to the slaying case.

The Neshoba County grand jury convened at the same time as the federal grand jury, but charged that its investigation was blocked by a government decision against letting FBI agents testify before the county jury.

* * *

About 200 Negroes crowded into the Mount Olive Baptist Church Wednesday night for a 30-minute silent prayer for justice in the case. One of the participants was Mrs. Fannie Lee Chaney, mother of James Chaney.

Try Your Hand at Candy Making

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If candy is on the list of holiday food you're going to make, wait a minute and look over the recipes below.

A box of homemade candy is such a nice way to say thank you to that friend who's done little favors for you all year. It's a welcome gift to a busy hostess who entertains a lot during the holidays. It's good to have in your own family.

Just in time for Christmas candies is a new "chip"—this time peanut butter flavored. You'll enjoy using the new food in holiday sweets.

Peanut Balls

2 cups peanut butter flavor chips
⅔ cup sweetened condensed milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
Dash of salt

Melt chips over hot water, stirring until smooth—about 4 minutes. Remove from hot water. Add condensed milk, vanilla, and salt; mix thoroughly. Pour onto wax paper. Chill 30 minutes, or until firm enough to handle.

Shape into small balls, using about 1 teaspoonful for each. Rollin finely chopped nuts, if desired. Makes about 4 dozen confections.

Peanut Chip Squares

1 cup peanut butter flavor chips
⅔ cup chopped California walnuts

Melt chips over hot water, stirring until smooth—about 4 minutes. Remove from hot water, add walnuts, and mix well. Spread about ¼-inch thick on cookie sheet or other shallow pan. Chill. Cut into 1-inch squares. Makes about 2 dozen squares.

What do you think of putting popcorn in a nut brittle? Added to a cup of nuts and the proper syrup, four cups of popcorn make over a pound of candy.

Popcorn-Nut Brittle

1½ cups sugar
½ cup light or dark corn syrup
½ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
4 cups prepared popcorn
1 cup nuts
2 tablespoons margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine sugar, corn syrup, water and salt in a heavy saucepan. Stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Cook over medium heat to hard crack stage (300 degrees F.) or until a small amount of syrup forms hard brittle threads when dropped in very cold water.

Meanwhile spread popcorn and nuts in a well greased shallow pan and heat in 350 degrees F. (moderate) oven 10 minutes. Remove syrup from heat; quickly stir in margarine and vanilla; stir until margarine melts.

Pour over popcorn nut mixture; toss. Spread mixture thin on flat surface. Cool. Break into small pieces. Makes 1¼ pounds.

Pecan candies should make you popular. Here is a trio of interesting recipes.

Apricot Fudge

2¼ cups sugar
⅔ cup evaporated milk
⅓ cup hot water
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped apricots
1 cup chopped pecans

Combine sugar, half of evaporated milk and water, corn syrup and salt in a saucepan.

Stir until well blended and bring to boil over moderate heat. Boil 5 minutes. Add remainder of evaporated milk and water. Cook to 238 degrees F., washing down sides of pan as necessary. Remove from heat.

Add vanilla, apricots and pecans; beat until thickened and creamy. Pour into a well-greased 8x8x2-inch pan. Chill, cut into squares.

Louisiana Cream Pralines

1 box (1-lb.) light brown sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
¾ cup evaporated milk
1 tablespoon butter
2 cups pecan halves (½ pound)

Mix sugar, salt, evaporated milk and butter in a 2-quart saucepan. Cook and stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Add pecans and cook over medium heat to soft ball stage (234 degrees F.), stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and let cool 5 minutes. Stir rapidly until mixture begins to thicken and coat pecans lightly.

Drop rapidly from a teaspoon onto aluminum foil or lightly buttered baking sheet to form patties. (If candy becomes too stiff at the last to handle easily, stir in a few drops of hot water.) Let stand until cool and set. Makes about 44 small pralines.

Chocolate Pecan Caramels

2 cups sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
1½ cups evaporated milk
1½ cups hot water
3 one-ounce packets unsweetened product for chocolate baking
¼ cup butter
1 tablespoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup coarsely chopped pecans

Combine sugar, corn syrup and half the evaporated milk and water. Cook, stirring frequently, to 246 degrees F. or firm-ball stage. Slowly add remaining evaporated milk, water, chocolate, and butter. Cook to 248 degrees F., stirring constantly.

Remove from heat; stir in salt, vanilla and pecans. Pour into a well-greased 8x8x2-inch pan. Cool and mark in squares.

Finally, we have a sweet that can double as garnish for fruit salad. It is a candy version of the filling in Italian pastries called cannoli. Even young children can make this one.

Tony's Cannoli

1 package (8-ozs.) cream cheese
1 package (6-ozs.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces (1 cup)
½ cup diced mixed candied fruits
1 can (5-ozs.) roasted diced almonds (a little over a cup)

Turn the cream cheese into a mixing bowl and soften slightly with a wooden spoon. Stir in the chocolate and fruits. Roll the mixture into 1-inch balls; roll the balls in the almonds, coating generously. Cover and chill.

TONY'S CANNOLI

CHRISTMAS CANDY

Start With Package of French Fries

The French fry is one of the most popular foods in America, whether served with dips as a snack, with a jaw-stretching submarine sandwich or with the meat supreme, a steak. And when you add the exciting flavors of the blend of spices in an Italian salad dressing and hearty Parmesan cheese to the popular French fries, as we have here you'll further increase both interest and demand.

The extra calls for French fries won't bother you if you use convenient frozen fries for they couldn't be easier to prepare. With several packages of frozen potatoes on hand, you are ready for any emergency; they make excellent nibbling as well as acting as the featured vegetable of your meal.

You may wish to oven-crisp the potatoes or use the newer method, explained in the recipe below. To oven-crisp, combine all the ingredients and toss lightly to mix. Turn into a shallow baking pan and bake at 450 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes, until golden brown.

You'll find frozen French fried potatoes brown more evenly if you place them across a piece of heavy duty alnminum foil pleated accordion-fashion and arranged on top of the baking pan or cookie sheet.

Italian Potatoes

1 1-pound package frozen French fries
¼ to ½ cup Italian salad dressing
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Arrange frozen potatoes in a single layer in large skillet. Pour enough salad dressing in to almost cover potatoes. Turn heat to medium high or, if electric skillet, to 350 degrees. Stir occasionally. Cook 15 to 20 minutes until golden brown. Remove and drain. Sprinkle with cheese; serve hot.

Applesauce Is New in Turkey Stuffing

Apple stuffing is delicious in turkey.

Brown ½ cup each of chopped onion and canned mushroom pieces in ½ cup of butter. Add ¼ cup of seedless raisins, 12 cups of toasted bread cubes, 2 teaspoons of salt and 1 tablespoon of poultry seasoning. Mix well. Add 4 cups of canned apple sauce. Makes enough for 12-pound turkey.

A pinch of oregano gives excellent flavor to buttered snap beans.

Veal Recipe Makes Use of Sauce Mix

An old favorite, but now easier to prepare — that's Veal Paprika, a modernized version of an old Hungarian favorite with its fragrant, old-world goodness.

Packaged sour cream sauce mix makes Veal Paprika simple to prepare. It imparts to the dish an appeal that will satisfy the most robust appetite, yet will delight even the most fastidious diner.

Veal Paprika

2 pounds boned veal shoulder, cubed
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup margarine or butter
1½ cups water
2 teaspoons chicken stock base (or 1 chicken bouillon cube)
1 tablespoon paprika
1 package sour cream sauce mix

Coat veal with flour to which has been added the salt and pepper. Brown in the margarine or butter. Add water and remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, cover pan, and simmer for about 1 hour, or until meat is tender.

Serve over hot buttered noodles. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Spice Cake Liquid Is Beer

Luscious, simple — and simply luscious. These are the most important assets of this Bavarian Spice Cake, and what more could you ask of a cake recipe? Other qualities hidden in its fragrant dark depths are such delectable ingredients as allspice, cinnamon, cloves, brown sugar, and chopped dates and nuts.

* * *

The light, yet subtly tangy liquid ingredient that blends all this goodness into a delicious whole is a generous amount of golden beer or ale.

* * *

This is a truly tasty, marvelous cake — redolent with the warmth and hearty goodness always associated with that large segment of European cuisine which features beer or ale in so many of its finest recipes.

Either beer or ale, canned or bottled, may be used in the spice cake recipe. Whether you prefer to serve sparkling, chilled beer or perhaps ale with the cake is a matter of taste.

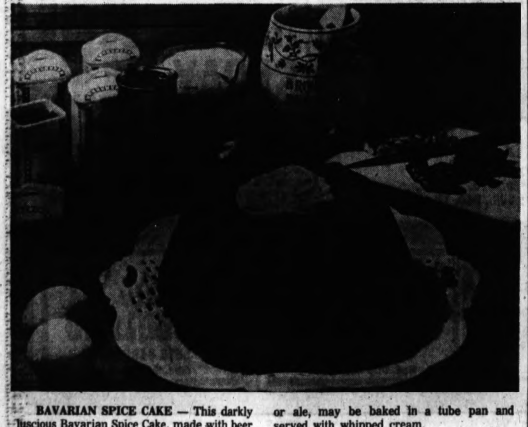
Bavarian Spice Cake

2 cups brown sugar
1 cup shortening
2 eggs
1 cup chopped nuts
2 cups chopped dates
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon ground cloves
2 cups beer or ale
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
½ teaspoon salt

Cream sugar and shortening. Stir in eggs, nuts, dates and spices. In separate bowl, sift together flour, baking soda and salt; stir in beer. Combine beer mixture with creamed mixture and mix until well blended.

Bake in large tube pan (2½ quarts) in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour 15 minutes or until cake tester or toothpick comes out clean when inserted in cake. If desired, serve with whipped cream. Yield: 1 cake.

Note: Bavarian Spice Cake may also be baked in a 9x13 inch loaf pan for 1 hour 15 minutes.



BAVARIAN SPICE CAKE — This darkly luscious Bavarian Spice Cake, made with beer or ale, may be baked in a tube pan and served with whipped cream.

Cherry Soup Is Unique Dessert

Soup for dessert? Certainly! Featuring tart red cherries, this thick fruit soup is a perfect finale for a cold weather menu. Sugared and spiced, it's ever so nice served with cookies.

Spiced Cherry "Soup-Reme"

1 1-pound can pitted tart red cherries
Water
2-3 cup sugar
3 lemon slices, seeded
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons water
Few drops red food coloring
½ cup commercial sour cream
Ground cinnamon (optional)

Drain cherries and reserve liquid. If necessary, add enough water to make 1 cup. Pour into saucepan. Add sugar, lemon slices and cloves. Bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Combine cornstarch and water. Stir into spiced cherry liquid.

Return to a boil, stirring constantly. Remove lemon slices and blend in red food coloring. Add cherries. Heat thoroughly.

Spoon into dessert dishes and garnish with a dollop of sour cream and a sprinkling of cinnamon if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Russian Cream Is Similar Dessert

Elegant but easy desserts are welcomed by cooks.

Molded Cream

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¾ cup sugar
1 cup light cream
1 container (½ pint) cultured sour cream
1 package (10 ounces) frozen halved strawberries

In a double boiler stir together thoroughly the gelatin and sugar; add cream. Stir often over hot water until dissolved. Chill until mixture begins to set; fold in sour cream. Turn into 6 individual molds; chill until set. Turn out and serve with thawed strawberries.

CANDLE ATOP CHEESE SYMBOLIZES CHRISTMAS CHEER.

Shrimp Cheese Mold Becomes Candle Base

A lighted red candle is one symbol of the Christmas spirit. Place it atop a colorful molded cheese and shrimp spread, surround with appropriate crackers and you have a delightful and certainly different Yuletide welcome dish.

This makes enough for 100 or more crackers.

Candle-Light Shrimp With Cheese Mold

3 cans (4½ ounces each) shrimp
½ pound mild cheddar cheese
¼ pound Roquefort or Blue cheese
1 8 ounce package Philadelphia cream cheese
1 garlic clove, chopped fine
½ teaspoon Worcestershire
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
⅛ teaspoon cayenne
1-3 cup minced fresh parsley

Drain, rinse shrimp. Reserve 16 shrimp for garnish; chop the remainder. Combine chopped shrimp with cheese and all remaining ingredients except parsley. Blend thoroughly.

Press mixture firmly into 1-quart mixing bowl; chill in refrigerator overnight or longer. When ready to serve, unmold it on base of cake stand or other suitable footed dish and press minced parsley over the surface.

Garnish with whole shrimp, using toothpicks to hold them in place. Cut a 1½-2-inch circle of aluminum foil and fit it on top. Place the candle on foil and press it gently into the mold until it stands securely. Flatten foil edges to protect against dripping.

Garnish candle base with lemon leaves or other decorative greenery. Fill area at base with assorted crackers.

Like sophisticated fare? Stir a little red caviar into sour cream and serve (instead of butter) with baked potatoes.

Carrot Curls Need Ice Water Soaking

To make carrot curls, shave long thin strips from scraped carrots with a vegetable parer. Wrap strips around fingertip to form curls. Fasten curls on wooden picks, two to each.

Chill in ice water for at least one hour until curls hold shape. Remove picks just before serving.

Fill Hollow Carrots With Cream Chesee

Stuffed carrots make a pretty garnish. Scrape several large carrots and cut crosswise into three-inch pieces. Remove the centers from the pieces with vegetable parer; fill the centers with softened cream cheese.

Chill until cheese is firm. Slice carrot pieces crosswise into thin rings.

Chocolate Stacks Are Rich Dessert

Start with a base of your favorite chocolate cookie; cover cookie with vanilla, pumpkin or eggnog ice cream. Sprinkle ice cream with chopped toasted California walnuts and top with a second chocolate cookie.

Cover all with rich chocolate sauce and decorate with walnut half on top.

FLORIDA STYLE — Fresh Florida oranges and frozen Florida orange juice concentrate add inimitable flavor to these vegetable dishes: Stuffed Acorn Squash, Turnip Puff, and Braised Celery.

Orange Juice Enhances Vegetables

You can give a Midas touch to fall vegetables such as Acorn squash and rutabaga (yellow turnip), with these new and delicious recipes using Florida's naturally pure citrus fruits.

Think there's nothing new under the sun? Well, there's lots of good eating and good recipe ideas from Florida, the Sunshine State.

Even a simple vegetable like celery takes on original flavor when braised in orange juice seasoned with onion and thyme.

After using orange juice concentrate in these recipes, remember you can reconstitute the balance in the can by adding three parts water to one part concentrate for refreshing juice to serve at breakfast or snack time.

Florida Turnip Puff

2½ pounds rutabaga (yellow turnip) peeled and chopped
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed and undiluted
2 eggs

Cook rutabaga in boiling, salted water until tender, about 35 to 40 minutes. Drain; mash. Drain excess liquid from mashed rutabaga; add onion, sugar, salt and undiluted orange concentrate. Separate eggs.

Beat yolks and add to rutabaga mixture. Beat egg white until stiff but not dry. Fold into rutabaga mixture.

Turn gently into greased casserole and bake in 375 degrees oven about 20 to 25 minutes. Serve immediately. Yield: 4-6 servings.

★ ★ ★

Braised Celery

2 bunches of celery
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped onion
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon thyme leaves
½ cup orange juice

Wash celery, remove coarse outer stalks and tops. Slice in half, lengthwise. Heat butter in skillet; add onion, salt, and thyme. Saute about 5 minutes over moderate heat; add celery and continue to saute another 5 minutes.

Pour orange juice over all; cover and let simmer about 7 minutes. Serve immediately. Yield: 4 servings.

★ ★ ★

Stuffed Acorn Squash

2 medium acorn squash
¾ pound ground pork
½ cup cooked rice
3 tablespoons onion
6 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed and undiluted
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 Florida orange, sectioned*

Cook acorn squash in covered pot of boiling water for about 15 minutes. Cut squash in half. Scrape out seeds and stringy portion. Blend together remaining ingredients except orange sections. Mound meat filling in squash halves. Place halves in pan with 1 inch of hot water.

Bake in 350 degree oven about 30 minutes or until squash is tender. Garnish with orange sections during last 10 minutes of baking. Yield: 4 servings.

You Don't Have to Put It in a Sandwich

Although they have been one of the traditional crops grown in the South (Thomas Jefferson was a peanut planter), peanuts are not native to America. They were imported from Africa in colonial times.

Over four hundred ways to use the peanut have been discovered but it was not until 1890 that peanut butter was invented. Peanut butter was the idea of a physician in St. Louis who developed it as a health food because of its unusually high protein content. His patients' friends liked it even more for its taste—and suddenly a major industry was born.

During World War I it achieved true national popularity and today's American youngster calls peanut butter and jelly his favorite sandwich.

The biggest peanut crop of record is now being harvested on the farms of Georgia and Alabama, the largest peanut-growing area. In addition to the billions of salted peanuts eaten this year, the United States consumed 231,000 tons —repeat, tons—of peanut butter.

This peanut butter was used not only in the traditional peanut butter sandwich but in a number of other Southern peanut dishes which are becoming increasingly popular everywhere in the U.S.

Recipes for several of these favorites are given below. No matter how the demand increases, the new bumper crop should be able to supply it.

Enhance the flavor of fresh or canned fruits.

Fruit Salad Dressing a la Dothan

½ cup peanut butter (smooth or crunchy)
½ cup orange juice
½ cup pineapple juice or pineapple-grapefruit blend
¼ cup lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons honey or sugar

Blend peanut butter with part of juices until smooth. Gradually add remaining juice, salt and honey, stirring until blended. Store in covered container in refrigerator. Makes 1½ cups dressing. Excellent with fruit salad.

A quick and easy way to dress up everyday vegetables.

Vegetable Sauce Piquante

⅓ cup peanut butter
⅔ cup milk

Combine peanut butter and milk, stirring to blend. Heat and serve over cooked broccoli, carrots, asparagus, cauliflower.

Variations:

1. Add 2 tablespoons chopped parsley or chives.
2. Add ½ teaspoon chili powder.
3. Add 1 tablespoon tomato puree.

Rub Lamb Shank With Mixed Herbs

An easy roast preparation for a beginner - cook has herb undertones.

Bride's Roast Lamb

Shank half of a leg of lamb (about 3 pounds)
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon rosemary
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
2 teaspoons lemon juice

★ ★ ★

Mix together the salt, pepper, paprika, rosemary, garlic powder and lemon juice. Spread over surface of lamb. Roast in a slow (325 degrees) or moderate (350 degrees) oven to desired doneness.

Boned Leg of Veal

Ever have a leg of veal boned before roasting? This preparation makes the meat easy to carve; your meat market will roll and tie the meat in compact fashion after boning.

Start Cake Filling With Red Jelly

This is an interesting filling to use for a cake from scratch or a mix.

Roslyn's Cake Filling

½ cup red fruit jelly
½ cup chopped pitted dates
1¼ cups cold water
4 tablespoons cornstarch
1 ripe banana mashed with the juice of 1 lemon

In a small saucepan stir together the jelly, dates and 1 cup of water over a moderately low heat until jelly dissolves; bring to a boil.

Stir together the remaining ¼ cup water with the cornstarch until smooth; add to the hot mixture; cook and stir constantly until thickened and clear; cook gently for about 2 minutes. Stir in banana mixture; cool.

Spread between layers of 8- or 9-inch white or yellow cake. Frost the cake with a vanilla icing or whipped cream.

DEPEND ON SAVON FOR THRIFTY FOODS

UNUSUAL GIFTS—An electric slicing knife (top left) pleases the man of the house and is good gift for bachelor, too. Lightweight, it has 9-inch stainless steel blade, detachable 8-foot cord. Candle users will get a kick out of a hand-finished rosewood candle (top right). It is butane-fueled and flame is adjustable. Horizontal bands of sterling silver decorate a gift set of glasses (bottom left). Each box contains a jeweler's rouge polishing cloth for the silver. In the boutique vein is a lady's calendar alarm clock. About the size of a silver dollar, it has a jeweled lever movement and 40-hour winding capacity.

School Visitor Bites Principal's Thumb

GODDARD, Kan. (AP) — School Principal Robert Nelson has some scars to prove that his profession can be hazardous.

Greg Bogue, a student, brought a young mountain lion to school in a cage to show his classmates. Nelson was showing the cub in another class when the beast bit him on the left thumb.

A tablespoon or two of tomato paste usually benefits a beef stew.

His Kindness Backfires

JAMESTOWN, N.D. (AP) — Glendive, Mont., trucker Lyle Edward Holler stopped his semi-trailer to help a young woman who had the trunk lid up on her late-model car and a jack laying against the vehicle.

He was robbed of $60 by the woman and a gun-wielding man who stepped from in back of the auto.

Suspected Prowler Is Only an Opossum

LEESBURG, Fla. (AP)—Would-be thieves should be told that Robert Kimmer is a light sleeper.

Awakened by sounds of a prowler in his yard, he telephoned police. When the officers arrived, they discovered the prowler to be an opossum in a tree near the house.

Keep pipe cleaners on hand and use them for cleaning that teapot spout.

International Students Find American-Style Celebration

Foreign students who are in the United States at Chrismas time don't need to forgo the enjoyment of a family-style holiday, complete with all the trimmings.

Many exciting programs are aimed at helping the international student spend either Christmas day or the whole holiday period with an American family.

One such program is coordinated by New York University's International Student Center.

The Center works with other organizations within the school and the community — particularly religious groups — to find Americans who are willing to share their holiday with a foreign visitor.

★ ★ ★

An estimated 200 to 300 students take part in the Christmas festivities.

DORM RESIDENTS

Many of these young people are residents of NYU's dorms most of which close for the holiday, forcing the students to find other quarters.

A large number of the students will spend Christmas day with a family in the New York metropolitan area or in the neighboring suburbs.

Other students spend whole holiday vacations with families from as far away as Florida or Vermont.

★ ★ ★

Last year, a group of 40 students traveled to Vermont for the holidays.

There they stayed with typical American families and enjoyed such group activities as folk dancing, singing and skiing on nearby snow-covered mountains.

Donald Bullard, of the International Center, says Soviet students were the most popular and most requested guests.

One student made such a hit that a Vermont family named a new-born calf after him.

★ ★ ★

Another group of students headed south for Florida and a warmer, but just as enjoyable, holiday.

★ ★ ★

The school welcomes anyone who would like to have a foreign visitor for Christmas and those interested can contact the International Student Center, New York University, Washington Square, New York.

Water-Filled Boat Excellent Trough

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — They're filling boats with water these days. Two cattlemen have discovered it to be an easy way to get water to the cows. Ted Cromer's stock tank was dry and he began carrying water to the cattle in a trailer fitted with water barrels.

When sickness sent him to the hospital, his boat salesman son filled a boat with water, backed it over the water trough and pulled the plug, letting the water fill the trough.

Cattleman Bert Starnes found a simpler method than that. He just tows his water-filled boat to his farm, parks it and lets the cows use it as a water trough. "Get 'em thirsty enough and they'd trot along after that boat clear to Kansas City," he says.

Looks Don't Count; It's Free and Clear

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A rather disreputable looking 1948 auto, seen often in the downtown area, has this sign across the back:

"I may look like an old tin can, but I'm not hiding from the finance man."

Miniatures Modernized

Dolls, Vehicles, Guns Still Favorite Toys

NEW YORK (NEA) — The bewildered parent, broodingly musing about Christmases past, can be sure of one thing this year: girls will be girls; boys will be boys.

* * *

Toy industry studies show that girls, no matter what their fickle behavior 364 days of the year, are true blue at Christmas. A doll-in-hand remains the little girl's favored gift this year as in the past.

The boys, meanwhile, continue to divide their affection among cars, trucks, guns, planes, building sets, kits and those miscellaneous items highly rated as swappables.

As an adult aid this year, toy manufacturers empaneled a jury of 12 toy buyers. Their instructions were to pick the leading toy categories — the expected big sellers from now until Christmas Eve.

ADULT'S TASTE

However, a shrewd manufacturer observes, "What an adult thinks about a toy doesn't necessarily have anything to do with how a child feels about it." The safest buying guide is to ask the child who wants one.

Television and movies continually feed the youngsters' fondness for the macabre. The result: this may well be known as the year of the ghoulish gifts.

Lovable monstrosities, mostly in plastics, range from the fictional bride of Frankenstein who oozes charm to the more historical Ughnik Indian who keeps pace with our Western craze.

* * *

When the monsters aren't clomping about the living room, expect the neighborhood peace to be shattered by the v-r-r-oom of hot-rodder engines that screw onto tricycles, bikes and even soap box racers.

SOUND EFFECTS

These provide sound effects for the boys when their tonsils give out.

Construction, too, will be big with bridge and turnpike sets, road builders, play hospitals and lawn mowers.

Noise also is building in the nursery. Not only do dolls grow hair, talk and weep, they now emit a respectable, healthful burp.

* * *

This development led another manufacturer to say solemnly, "Children are compelled to mirror in their play whatever they see or hear grownups doing."

MINIATURE WAR

In the world of miniature war, the toy men have sprung a real guerrilla winner, a gun that shoots around corners.

Backing it up are medical field kits, machine guns, tanks and flying platforms. Again television's influence spills into the back-yard play of American small fry.

One major manufacturer of "adult" entertainment equipment (G-E) eyed the situation and decided "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

* * *

Its entry into the gift race wraps home education and entertainment into an 8½-pound phono-viewer.

The unit shows full color slide-film pictures on an 11-inch screen while sound comes from a four-speed phonograph.

The picture-sound programs range from fairy tales (Cinderella) to science (Do Dolphins Talk?).

Out of the $7-$13 average price range, the phono-viewer brought forth another industry comment, "Nothing could interest a child less than the price tag on a toy — it's his satisfaction that counts.

So the trick for parents is to get the most appropriate toys within their budgets."

BAD GUY—Cut-out desperado throws up his hands when hat is shot off.

GOOD GIRL—Milk-drinking doll burps when patted on the back.

Spot Littering From Aircraft

NEW YORK (AP) — Litterbugs have a new enemy — on wings.

Two states are now using aircraft to spot dispensers of litter, reports Keep America Beautiful, the national antilitter organization.

In New Jersey helicopters patrol off-shore waters.

They warn water-borne litterbugs through loudspeakers and when things get out of hand, radio patrol launches move in for arrests.

Loudspeaker - equipped airplanes, provided by the Wisconsin Conservation Department, have been used for the past three years in a concerted antilitter program along the 284-mile river reaches of the Upper Mississippi River Wildlife and Fish Refuge.

* * *

The planes warn litterbugs and coordinate activities of ground and water-borne patrols.

The most common name in the world is Mohammed, which can be spelled in a variety of ways.

Urge Increase in TB Funds

Want Extra State Sudsidy to Counties

LANSING (AP) — The chairman of a legislative committee studying tuberculosis says he will recommend to the legislature next month that the state spend an additional $955,000 a year for care of tuberculosis patients.

Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, said the committee voted Wednesday to endorse a proposal for boosting the state subsidy paid to counties for care of hospitalized tuberculosis patients from $4 to $6 a day per patient.

The state's share in the cost of tuberculosis patient care has dropped 30 per cent from $6,608,000 in 1953 to $4,607,000 currently, while county costs have increased 13 per cent from $7,681,000 to $8,701,000, Beadle said.

He said the committee also approved a state appropriation of $343,000 to assure five-year followup of all discharged tuberculosis patients and a $150,000 program to learn the value of routine chest X-ray screening of persons admitted to general hospitals.

SKIN TESTS

A proposal to require all school entrants to undergo skin tests for tuberculosis also won committee approval, he said.

Job Survey to Aid Area Students

What does an employer expect in a would-be employe?

The answer to this question is being sought in a survey of 150 employers in the area.

Area firms who hire 20 or more people will be invited to tell school counselors what they seek in future employes.

Dr. William F. Moorhouse, Oakland Schools guidance director, said the survey information is being sought as part of a project to improve opportunities for the high school student who intends to go to work immediately after graduation.

★ ★ ★

"Counselors have the task of helping students make the transition from high school to employment or job training," said Moorhouse.

HELP STUDENTS

"They will use the information from employers to help individual students understand how job requirements apply to them and how they can plan their high school courses to make themselves more employable."

Moorhouse said that area firms not contacted can call Oakland Schools and request the necessary forms.

The survey will be followed up every fall to update the information. A job-opening survey will be sent to all high school counselors in January.

The survey form asks the employer to estimate the number of beginning jobs he expects to have open and the duties of the positions as well as the training and education needed by the job applicant.

Maugham Suffers Fall

NICE, France (AP) — Author Somerset Maugham fell while strolling in his garden at his French Riviera home in Cap Ferrat yesterday. He suffered only slight scratches on his leg and his doctor said he was in excellent shape. The British author will celebrate his 90th birthday next month.

Bob Hope Yule Tour Will Be in Far East

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Comedian Bob Hope and a troupe of entertainers will tour U.S. military bases in the Far East, including Korea and South Viet Nam, during the Christmas season.

★ ★ ★

The Pentagon said yesterday that Hope's tour — his 13th since 1948 — will begin Dec. 15. He will return to the United States Dec. 30. Stops have also been scheduled in Thailand, the Philippines and Guam, the Defense Department said.

The real name of Mary Pickford, the famed film star of silent movies, was Gladys Smith.

Buy Your Favorite Lady a Home Gift She'll Love

The key to success at Christmas is to give your favorite girl a gift she wants but wouldn't buy herself.

Aren't there home items she would like but hesitates to buy?

Now is the time to get her that new refrigerator-freezer that needs no defrosting, the washing machine that does almost everything but talk, a new vacuum sweeper or floor polisher.

Or, she may hint for a new couch — one with upholstery that is easy to clean. When making a shopping list for a woman, think beyond the quick, last-minute gift of a toilet set, gloves or sweater.

* * *

If the gift is a major appliance or large piece of furniture, surprise her with a gift certificate.

PICK OUT ITEM

Even more welcome — let her pick out the item such as a new dishwasher before Christmas. It can be installed to help her with the holiday party cleanup.

* * *

Look for items with special coatings to make her cleanup job easier.

Knife and scissors sharpeners, electric carving knives, home hair dryers, addition of holloware to her silver pattern all are thoughtful presents.

* * *

If you don't know where to begin your shopping list, look around the house. Jot down what is missing in the way of new items you see in stores.

* * *

Determine which you think your best girl would like and use the most. Make that your major Christmas gift.

Liberal House Dems Confident

See Speaker Support on Rules Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats trying to weaken the power of the rules committee were confident today their efforts had the support of Speaker John W. McCormack.

Although McCormack has not committed himself publicly, sources close to the speaker say he favors adoption of a rule that would prevent the rules committee from holding up a bill more than 21 days.

★ ★ ★

McCormack, as majority leader, actively supported such a rule when it was adopted in the 81st Congress in 1949. It was rescinded two years later in the 82nd Congress because the late Speaker Sam Rayburn didn't like it.

★ ★ ★

The 21-day rule tends to weaken the power of the speaker, as well as the rules committee, by letting the chairmen of legislative committees take directly to the House floor measures that have been bottled up in the rules committee for three weeks.

NOT UNCOMMON

It is not uncommon for the speaker to request the rules committee to hold up legislation he considers undesirable.

Despite this potential dilution of his authority, however, the speaker has shown no backing away from the position he took as majority leader.

McCormack also is believed to favor another rules change aimed at the rules committee. It would prevent the committee from blocking a House-Senate conference on bills passed in different versions by each body. Late in a session, such power has been used to kill bills opposed by the rules committee chairman.

The two proposed changes are a key part of a package of revisions a group of House Democratic liberals hopes Congress will adopt when it convenes in January.

NO INDICATION

McCormack has given no indication yet how he stands on other suggested changes, which would liberalize procedures to discharge bills from reluctant committee chairmen, and alter the Democratic-Republican ratio on committees to reflect the bigger Democratic majority elected Nov. 3.

The proposals were endorsed by a steering committee of the Democratic Study Group, which is currently canvassing the rest of the Democrats for support.

The loosely organized study group has been largely a frustrated minority among House Democrats since it was launched during the Eisenhower administration in 1956.

Now, however, encouraged by the infusion of more liberals as a result of last month's elections, the group's leaders predict they will have a majority of the 295 House Democrats.

On board 32 in the World Bridge Olympiad, the United 17 International Match Points to fall 12 behind in the final match against Italy. We made up two IMP's on the next six boards to reduce our deficit to 10.

JACOBY

Then came board 39 on which the Italian pair of Belladonna and Avarelli displayed their amazing partnership sharpness by stopping at four diamonds.

Belladonna's vulnerable double of East's one spade opening would not be made by any top American player. He held only one heart and not too much in high cards.

West raised to two spades and Avarelli bid three hearts. This bid was quite conservative, but Avarelli is something of an under bidder.

Belladonna did not like hearts and ran right out to four diamonds.

A rather dangerous bid from all appearances, but it was quite safe with Avarelli. Avarelli saw no reason to rebid hearts and did not like to go on to five diamonds.

Four diamonds made rather easily because all Belladonna had to lose were the ace and king of diamonds and ace of clubs.

When the United States held the North - South cards, North chose to open with a shaded one heart bid. East overcalled with one spade. South bid two diamonds and West two spades.

North was glad to have a chance to pass. East passed also and South bid three clubs.

This forced North to bid again and he chose three hearts as what looked like the least of evils. Everyone passed and North had to lose two diamonds, a club and two trumps for down one and a loss of six more IMP's.

The CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

A—Bid four hearts with a conservative partner; pass with an overbidder.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of raising to three hearts, your partner passes and East bids two spades. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

For Friday

"The wise man controls his destiny." — Astrologer points the way.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Be cooperative where fellow workers are concerned. One you consider an "underling" could affect your future. Carry responsibility with dignity. Be firm but fair and understanding.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Not so good for forcing views on friends. Stay out of arguments. Romantic interests highlighted. But remember people now tend to be super-sensitive. Avoid excessive eating or drinking.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Be INDEPENDENT. Speak with confidence. Fight for what is right. But don't become involved in someone else's difficulty. Adhere to own convictions. Exercise care. Justice in making moral judgment.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Favorable lunar aspect highlights journeys, publishing, advertising. Day favors extra care on highways. Hasty action could be multiplied into real difficulty. Remain alert.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Stay strictly clear of financial schemes. Stick with the tried-and-true. Some may try to convince you otherwise, but right now is no time for purse strings. Say NO to bizarre proposals.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your attitude is subject to ABRUPT CHANGE. Study reasons WHY. Don't rush headlong from frying pan to fire. You have been impatient. But today you get results if you are cautious.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Aspects good. Be direct. Speak straight from shoulder. Don't bury emotions, feelings. Key is dignified self-expression. Then you feel better and get results. Find REASONS for confusion.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Favorable lunar aspects highlights love, creative pursuits, sex appeal. Appreciate romance which surrounds you. Fine for purchase of luxury items. Gift for loved one works wonders.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Changes, adjustments highlight day. People who previously were stodgy . . . now display sense of humor. Be ready for surprises. They affect occupation, home environment.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Be willing to LEARN. Make inquiries. Write, create — keep on the move intellectually. Those in authority verify your beliefs. Let this bring you more confidence. Inspire associates.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Money question requires special attention. Planetary emphasis on saving, spending, investing. Key is finishing present project. Don't reach out for trouble! Good for evening out.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Cycle high. But those close to you appear irritable. Be understanding, mature. Try to see various points of view. Break through to new concepts. Then you begin obtaining real results.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are sensitive, possess highly developed intuition. Next year finds you in more secure financial position.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle remains high for PISCES. Day features partnership deals, breaks and unusual news relating to LAW.

Trading Is Active

Market Recovers Irregularly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made an irregular recovery in active trading early this afternoon.

Following yesterday's sharp setback there was selective buying in a fairly wide range of issues which had been battered down.

★ ★ ★

Plenty of stocks declined however, and the gain on balance was very slight.

Steels and rails rebounded moderately. Rails continued to take some heart from the court-ordered delay of the threatened rail strike. Investment buying supported the steels in spite of the concern over the approaching union contract negotiations.

Gains of fractions to a point outnumbered losers in the same range.

The tone was generally higher among motors, farm implements, nonferrous metals and utilities but chemicals were lower and the pattern was mixed among tobaccos, airlines, drugs and rubbers.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 322.5 with industrials up .2, rails up .3 and utilities up .1.

★ ★ ★

Prices were generally higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Gains of about a point were made by Syntex, Mount Clemens Industries, Bunker Hill and American Biltrite.

Fotochrome gained a fraction and the convertible debentures were up 5.

★ ★ ★

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds were slightly stronger.

Tells Artillery 'Zero In on Us'

Barrage Saves Viet Advisers From Cong

By PETER ARNETT

BA DUA, South Viet Nam (AP) — Four U.S. Army advisers cornered in a small building by attacking Viet Cong infantry early today called in air burst artillery right on top of themselves to drive off the enemy.

This desperate measure caught the Viet Cong in the open only yards from the Americans' positions. The assault faltered and lost momentum as shells screamed in from six howitzers.

★ ★ ★

"We hugged our foxholes as that stuff burst 20 feet up in the sky," said Capt. Harry Spaulding of Seattle, Wash. "We were underground and they were above it. That stopped them in their tracks and turned the tide."

Spaulding and his three fellow advisers to a South Vietnamese battalion guarding Ba Dua were caught in the latest of a series of concerted Viet Cong attacks on government positions.

The Viet Cong have had mixed success. But there was little doubt they were thoroughly walloped in Ba Dua, a hamlet in Dinh Tuong Province 45 miles southwest of Saigon.

Six Americans have been killed during hard fighting this week as the Communist guerrillas intensified their efforts to take over the country. Another American is missing.

South Vietnamese military officials believe the Viet Cong has launched its winter-spring offensive. Beginning last weekend, Communist attacks increased sharply.

★ ★ ★

Communist raids and ambushes at scattered points in mountainous central Viet Nam aroused belief that the Viet Cong hopes to drive government forces from that area adjacent to Communist North Viet Nam.

A U.S. Army officer killed Wednesday in a battle to retake a hill raised to 232 the number of Americans who have died in combat in South Viet Nam since December 1961.

2 WOUNDED

A U.S. spokesman said an American enlisted man and an Australian officer were wounded in the same battle near the provincial capital of Tam Ky, about 350 miles northeast of Saigon. Several hundred Viet Cong overran the fortified hill before government forces fought their way back.

Earlier, the Viet Cong killed a U.S. Army officer in a highway ambush in Phu Yen Province, 230 miles northeast of Saigon along the South China Sea.

City Motorist Found Guilty in Traffic Fatality

A Pontiac motorist. Samuel Washington, 30, of 31 Gillespie, was found guilty of negligent homicide yesterday in the March 15 traffic death of a young woman.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore rendered the decision following the nonjury trial. Washington will be sentenced Jan. 7.

Washington was the driver of a car that smashed broadside into an auto driven by Kathleen E. Modlin, 20, of 1990 Long Pointe. She died two days later of head injuries.

Miss Modlin was pulling out of a gas station at Saginaw and Elm when her car was struck.

10 Business Stories Stood Out in 1964

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — In a year of striking economic gains, 10 business news stories stand out. Stock prices, a tax cut, an international money crisis, all have made headlines. And so have the relations of a new administration with business, generous labor contracts and battles of securities traders with federal regulators.

DAWSON

Here, in one man's opinion, are the 10 top business news stories of 1964 — some of them cliff-hanger serials with the final chapters still to come.

★ ★ ★

1. Stock prices climbed fast and suffered some dizzy spells. Trading volume set records and so did prices as measured by popular averages. The Dow-Jones 30 industrials topped 800 in March and added 92 more points by mid-November. But markets took some sharp drops, too: in August when American and North Vietnamese naval vessels clashed; in October when Nikita Khrushchev was toppled; in November when the British pound sterling was raided by speculators.

2. Federal tax rates were cut. Results showed up in take-home pay in March. At first the money went toward paying off debts and increasing savings, but by late summer and fall spending was on the way up.

MONEY MARKETS

3. International money markets had a bad scare in October and November and American borrowers had some anxious days until President Johnson intervened to hold the interest line. Britain's fast deteriorating economic situation brought a run on the pound. The new Labor government tried a 15 per cent import tax, then boosted the bank rate to 7 per cent from 5 per cent. But it took a $3-billion fund by 10 other nations to halt the raid. Short-term rates in the United States also were boosted to prevent loss of dollars to Britain.

4. Stock traders clashed with federal regulators. The New York Stock Exchange and the Securities and Exchange Commission came eyeball to eyeball over curbing the activities of floor traders who act for their own accounts, and the SEC won that one. The giant over-the-counter market for unlisted stock got a milder than expected crackdown, but also was subjected to more federal supervision.

5. Labor made some impressive dollar gains and set out on new negotiating paths. A generous pact with the auto workers sparked talk of inflation ahead and inspired the bulls in the stock market. Steel union emphasis on changing working conditions at the mills hinted of troubles ahead and customers began stockpiling steel. A rail strike threatened off and on all year, and labor strife on the docks was another cliff-hanger.

6. Corporate profits soared. Gains were scored in each of the first three quarters and many companies set records. Dividends increased, too.

NEW TURN

7. Government-business relations took a new turn. President Johnson won an unusual amount of support from business executives during his campaign.

8. Giant stock offerings and a record number of stock splits enlivened the year. In February AT&T issued rights to buy $1.2 billion of common stock, a record offering. Investors also snapped up the offer of stock in Communications Satellite Corp. in June and pushed prices when it was listed on the exchange.

9. Prosperity made news. The business upswing neared completion of its fourth year, a record for peacetime. Climbing to new highs were personal income, industrial production, Gross National Product, and consumer debt.

10. The U.S deficit in international payments had sharp ups and downs. This serial story, of several years running, showed the loss of dollars to other lands markedly lower in the first three months, even more sharply higher in the next three and contracting slightly in the third. A 10-nation monetary club protected both the dollar and the pound and held the U.S. gold loss to a minimum — which was news in itself.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "Our son recently received, as a Bar Mitzvah gift, 13 shares of Molybdenum Corporation of America, $1,000 series E bonds and $1,000 in cash. We want to build a college fund for him with these gifts. It was suggested that we cash in the E bonds and buy 5 shares Corning Glass, 20 shares of United Nuclear and buy the rights offered by Molybdenum. Have you any suggestions?" M. E.

A) I believe money for educational purposes should be in the safest and strongest of growth stocks. Molybdenum Corporation is speculative and I would dispose of it. United Nuclear has good backing and some attractive features, but I do not believe that it meets your son's objective. Corning is splendid for your purpose and I would add General Telephone and Long Island Lighting.

Q) "The shares of many growth electric utility companies now sell at 25-30 times earnings. Do you feel that they're generally overpriced at these levels?" D. S.

A) I don't believe so. While utility shares were once thought to move pretty much in relation to money rates, like bonds and preferreds, they now carry a market image akin to that of many steadily growing industrial groups. Why has the change taken place? I think because the investing public has recognized the fact that earnings of electric power firms are displaying good, consistent gains and that a business recession, unless unusually severe, would do little harm to the upward trend. It's difficult to estimate what market valuation is justified in the case of a growth industry which is made up of many near-monopolies well insulated against business dips. However, I think it's reasonable to assume that the price shouldn't be any less than the valuation placed on industrial growth groups which, because of competitive factors, are more vulnerable to change.

2 Men Arrested in City Break-In

Pontiac Police arrested two men last night in connection with a breaking and entering which occurred about 6 p.m. at 521 S. Paddock.

Being held for investigation of breaking and entering are Calvin Waugh, 38, of 459 Howard McNeil and Lewis Cummings, 37, of 240 S. Wilson.

Police received a report of a break-in in progress at 6:15 p.m. Callers described the car the thieves were driving.

Police stopped a vehicle which fit the description on the way to the Paddock address and arrested Waugh. Cummings was arrested later.

UAW Says 25,000 Due Raise at Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Approximately 25,000 Ford Motor Co. workers are going to get a 6 cents an hour pay increase under wage inequity adjustments of the recent contract negotiations, the United Auto Workers Union said today.

The 25,000 are among Ford's 135,000 hourly-paid production workers.

The UAW said the inequities included pay differences between Ford plants having the same type of work.

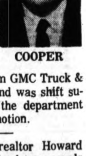
★ ★ ★

One example cited by the union was the raising of pay in Ford car assembly plants to the level of assembly workers of the Lincoln-Continental car lines.

The UAW said the pay of employes in the Owosso, Mich. and Fostoria, Ohio, plants, which Ford acquired from Autolite, also will be increased.

Business Notes

Charles F. Cooper, 2825 W. Hickory Grove, Bloomfield Township, has been appointed superintendent of production and material control at the Fisher Body plant, according to T. F. Wiethorn, plant manager.



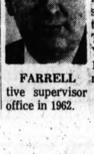
COOPER

Cooper transferred to the Fisher plant from GMC Truck & Coach in 1949, and was shift superintendent of the department prior to his promotion.

Birmingham realtor Howard T. Keating received top awards for excellence in merchandising at the National Association of Home Builders convention in Chicago this week.

Keating, 3598 Darcy, is the developer of Keatington, a $250-million community now under construction in Orion Township.

Edgar H. Farrell Jr., 312 Lake Park, Birmingham, of the advertising sales staff of Time Inc., has been appointed manager of Time's Detroit office.



FARRELL

Farrell joined Life's advertising promotion staff in 1951 and transferred to Time's New York office in 1952. He was named automotive supervisor in the Detroit office in 1962.

Is Sihanouk Smuggling Up to Reds?

Cambodia's Political Zigzags Puzzling

By LEON DENNEN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NEA) — Relations between Prince Norodom Sihanouk, ruler of tiny Cambodia, and mighty America increasingly echo the indecision of the young lady in the popular song "who wouldn't say stay and wouldn't say go."

Two days after he announced his diplomatic rupture with the United States and threatened to adopt communism, he made another about-face and decided to resume negotiations with the Johnson administration.

The prince's diplomatic zigzags would seem like a comic opera were he not a tragic little man who tries to save the independence of his miniscule nation in an age of nuclear giants.

As Jan Librach points out in his new book, "The Rise of the Soviet Empire," Sihanouk seems to believe that U.S. aid would not be adequate in case of danger and only Red China's "generosity" could guarantee Cambodia's independence.

* * *

Librach, a former Polish diplomat, has written a most lucid study of Soviet foreign policy, of Russia's relations with Red China and the United States and how they affect small nations.

FIRST FLARED

Trouble between the United States and Cambodia first erupted when Sihanouk accused U.S. diplomats of backing his enemies in neighboring South Viet Nam and Thailand.

The State Department emphatically denied the charge. However, the U.S. ambassador asked Sihanouk to "clarify" a Cambodian radio broadcast which allegedly "rejoiced" over the assassination of President Kennedy.

The Cambodians disclaimed all knowledge of the broadcast. They also said that Kennedy's name was not even mentioned. Yet the broadcast prompted the U.S. delegate in the United Nations to denounce the Cambodians as "barbarians."

* * *

In an escalating series of recriminations, Prince Sihanouk charged the United States with "bad faith" and "systematic hostility" toward Cambodia.

'ASIAN CASTRO'

American diplomats and journalists, disturbed by the prince's political acrobatics, decided that the suave, French-educated Sihanouk aimed to become an Asian Castro.

He not only leans toward communism, they reported, he also thinks Red China's victory in Southeast Asia is inevitable.

Yet those intimately familiar with the prince's erratic personality see no reason why he should want to be reduced to a Peking satellite.

He is an aristocrat who has always been hostile to the materialist philosophy of Marxism-Leninism. Cambodia's Communist party, because of Sihanouk's shrewdness, wields no power — unlike those in South Viet Nam, Laos and Indonesia.

* * *

It received only a fraction of one per cent of the vote in the last national elections.

TRADITIONAL VALUES

Sihanouk has also emphasied that traditional Cambodian values, such as Buddhism, made it impossible for his nation to embrace communism.

"Our sole ambition," he said recently, "is to give our people more social justice and our country a quicker economic development, while keeping the two priceless values which communism cannot give us — individual liberty and joy in living."

But the prince is desperately worried about the future of his nation. He is disturbed by Washington's vacillating policy in Southeast Asia.

* * *

He is obviously anxious to maintain good relations with the Red Chinese in the hope that they will not reduce Cambodia to another Viet Nam. Said an Asian diplomat:

"Sihanouk wants to snuggle up to the Chinese dragon in the hope that he will not be devoured by the beast."

HAVE FAILED

Can Cambodia succeed where other nations that have snuggled up to the Reds have failed? A new round of U.S.-Cambodian diplomatic negotiations is taking place in neutral India.

Perhaps this time U.S. diplomats will be able to convince Prince Sihanouk that Cambodia can survive as a free nation only in alliance with the free world.

Jackie Kin Rents Home

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)— Real estate sources say that Princess Lee Radziwell, sister of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, has rented a home at La Quinta, Calif., for the Christmas season. That is only 17 miles southwest of Palm Springs. The sources also said yesterday that Mrs. Kennedy may visit the home during the holidays.

Tourists to the Middle East are advised to keep their hands away from their eyes as much as possible to avoid contacting trachoma, a widespread disease in that region.

New Life Saver Plant Seen Near for Holland

HOLLAND (AP) — Prospects appeared hopeful Wednesday that Beech-Nut Life Savers, Inc., of Canajoharie, N. Y., was near execution of an option taken last October on Holland land for a possible new plant.

The 98-acre parcel lies in Allegan County but within the southern Holland city limits.

Immigrants to Australia in the 12 months ending June, 1965 has been estimated at 127,000. One out of every 10 will be skilled or semi-skilled workers.

Woman Poet Dies in London

LONDON (AP) — Dame Edith Sitwell, one of Britain's leading poets and one of its most noted eccentrics, died of a heart attack in a London hospital last night. She was 77.

Dame Edith was admitted to the hospital earlier yesterday, gravely ill. A spinster, she is survived by two brothers, Sir Osbert and Sacheverell Sitwell. Both are writers also.

The three Sitwells were members of one of Britain's first families and after World War I were leaders of the avant-garde movement in literature, art and music. Edith published her first book of poetry in 1915; her last volume of collected poems appeared in 1957.

She also wrote a notable biography of Alexander Pope and a number of other books of prose. She was made a dame, the feminine equivalent of knighthood, in 1954.

* * *

Her greatest public success was "Facade," a set of nonsense poems which William Walton set to music. Their performance in 1923 caused a furor in London, and their recording of it in later years was a hit on both sides of the Atlantic.

Abandoned at Birth

Brother, Sister Are Reunited

TROYES, France (AP) — A brother and his sister, abandoned at birth, have been reunited after living for years in the same town without knowing they were related.

Authorities in this center about halfway between Paris and the Swiss frontier, said the boy, Jean-Pierre, 14, and his sister, Francoise, 16, learned of their relationship by chance.

★ ★ ★

Francoise, a public ward since she was abandoned, works in a laundry owned by Mrs. Louis Terdiman. Mrs. Terdiman told newsmen she hired Francoise on recommendation of the local public welfare organization.

Mrs. Terdiman's husband noticed a resemblance between Francoise and a young apprentice mechanic working in his garage. He called the resemblance to his wife's attention.

SHORT HAIR

"When I saw Jean-Pierre," Mrs. Terdiman told reporters, "I thought I was looking at Francoise with short hair."

The two teen-agers, without knowing they were related, met one day when Jean-Pierre took his overalls to Mrs. Terdiman's laundry.

★ ★ ★

"They looked at each other for a long time," Mrs. Terdiman said. "They seemed to recognize that they looked alike."

Mrs. Terdiman said she and her husband reported the matter to the public welfare service, which checked records and after a four-month search found Francoise's mother living in the south of France.

NO IDENTIFICATION

"The mother said she turned over her female child to the public welfare service when she was born because she could not care for her," Mrs. Terdiman said. "Then she confirmed that she also left her second child, a boy, at the door of the public welfare service without any identification whatsoever. The child was born a year and a half after the girl."

This was taken by Mrs. Terdiman as proof that Jean-Pierre and Francoise were brother and sister and the two were advised of their relationship.

★ ★ ★

"Francoise said she had noticed a resemblance," Mrs. Terdiman said. "She told us that since she was the oldest, she would like to take care of her brother. They want to be together in a family."

Jean-Pierre is the foster child of a Troyes businessman who has raised him from childhood. At present, authorities said there are no specific plans to have the two children adopted by one family.

"But they are happy to know that they are reunited," Mrs. Terdiman said.

Crackdown on Slum Lords Losing Fight in Venezuela

CARACAS (UPI) — Venezuelan authorities are trying unsuccessfully to crack down on shadowy slum lords who prey on the city's poor.

An estimated 350,000 people live in 63,000 shacks, or "ranchos," in this modern city of 1.5 million. It is not illegal to build the shacks, but it is illegal to build them for sale or rental.

About 25 per cent of the residents are believed to be tenants, while an unknown number have purchased their shacks.

The government has threatened imprisonment for anyone convicted of dealing in black market housing in the slum areas, but so far there have been no arrests.

★ ★ ★

Although the names of many of the persons involved are known, none of the slum dwellers will come forward to make the necessary statements to start criminal proceedings.

NO SANCTIONS YET

"We can't speak yet of applying sanctions," says architect Antonio Cruz Fernandez, director of the municipal office for urban planning, "because first it is necessary to have in our hands some documents signed by the victims of the traffickers in misery so that we can start proceedings against them."

Many of the slum lords are believed to be wealthy men who live in fashionable parts of the city and employ numerous intermediaries to deal with the tenants and prospective buyers.

The authorities presume that many of the intermediaries are toughs who intimidate the poor.

★ ★ ★

A recent study by Cruz Fernandez' urban planning office revealed by their initials 55 persons who built or rented slum properties. One man was identified with 224 "ranchos."

MORE PROFITABLE

Investment in the slums, which brings in an estimated $300,000 annually, is actually more profitable than investment in modern apartments because the return is proportionately greater, according to statistics furnished by the study.

It showed that a "rancho" which costs 80 bolivars ($180) to build can be sold for 4,000 ($900).

There is no land tax paid because the land on which the shacks are built is public, a fact which obviates paperwork and helps the builder hide his identity. Those who rent pay an average of 80 bolivars ($180) per month.

★ ★ ★

Cruz Fernandez, one of the city's strongest fighters against slum lords, says 13,000 "ranchos" have been built in the past five years.

NO HOUSING

"The 'rancho' is built because there is no offer of housing for the poor people," he says.

In 1959, the government undertook a 10-year program to cope with the slums.

It consists in providing sanitary services, improving existing "ranchos," building low-rent housing to forestall the creation of more slums, and trying to convince many of the residents to return to their former homes in the interior.

★ ★ ★

More than 2,500 low-rent apartments have been built, but the government has experienced some difficulty with those who move in. Some who built their own "ranchos" are reluctant to leave their rent-free accommodations, while others have found apartment living too confining and have moved back to the slums.

Despite overcrowding and unsanitary conditions, many of the "ranchos" sprout television antennas and a car parked out in front is not an uncommon sight.

★ ★ ★

For the most part, the ranchos are built on the mountain slopes around Caracas, and command the best view of the city, especially at night. The building materials range from packing cases to brick.

New School Grade Plan in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Kindergartners and first graders will be in the same school unit starting in February in Detroit's public schools.

Ultimately, second graders will join them.

★ ★ ★

This will mean that children between 5 and 7 years of age won't be changing grades during the first three years of their school time.

The youngsters are to be grouped within the single "primary unit" according to their progress and not their ages.

NO FAILURES

There will be no "failures," in the ordinary sense of the word. Some children may complete unit schooling within less than three years, others may require more time.

★ ★ ★

Supt. Samuel M. Brownell, announcing the plans Wednesday, said the new program results from successful experimentation at several individual schools. Detroit has 22 elementary schools.

Reception Held on Ocean Liner for U. N. Group

NEW YORK (AP) — About 150 persons, United Nations delegates and their wives, attended a reception Wednesday night aboard the liner Independence on the Hudson River.

The reception was sponsored by Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Adlai E. Stevenson, the United States ambassador to the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

Stevenson offered a toast to "the health and welfare' of Secretary General U Thant, hospitalized with a peptic ulcer.

Wagner also expressed sorrow at Thant's absence.

Probe Success Report Today

Mars Shot May Come Within 4,400 Miles

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Scientists today were expected to announce that Mariner-4 will pass close enough to Mars next July to take the first close-up television pictures of the mysterious red planet.

The announcement was to be made at a news conference at the California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

There was a possibility Mariner-4 might come as close as 4,400 miles to the planet. Earlier estimates placed the flyby distance at 8,000 to 12,000 miles.

A successful flyby mission and its resulting 22 television pictures would give America a significant lead over Russia in the first interplanetary race.

Mariner-4 has been maintaining a 400,000-mile lead over Russia's Zond-2.

BEGAN NOV. 28

The race to Mars began Nov. 28 when Mariner-4 was blasted aloft from Cape Kennedy, Fla. Two days later, Zond-2 was launched by the Soviets. It was not known whether Zond-2's mission included a photographic attempt.

A maneuver made last Saturday by a radio signal from the ground to Mariner-4 changed its flight path. Without the correction, Mariner-4 would fly past Mars at a distance of 151,000 miles—too far for detailed photographs to be made.

The photos were not expected to pinpoint whether life exists on the planet, which scientists long have suspected is feasible. But the pictures might provide a clue about the Martian "canals" which have intrigued man since the telescope was invented.

Mariner-4's mission to Mars involves a journey of 325 million miles and will take 7½ months to complete.

British Movie Offers Diabolical Scheme

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Movies about kidnaping are uncomfortable to watch, which may be why none has been very successful.

"Seance on a Wet Afternoon," a bizarre kidnap tale, is not likely to win a wide audience because of this apparent distaste to view children in jeopardy. But it can be recommended for those seeking a completely engrossing, if unnerving, two hours of film.

★ ★ ★

The British-made film begins with an expedition into the occult and ends with one. In between is a period of unrelieved starkness as two dispossessed individuals plot and carry out their diabolical scheme.

Their motive is clear to them, if not entirely to the audience.

The idea seems to be that a passe but still practicing medium and her compliant husband figure to abduct a rich man's daughter, then help solve the crime as public proof of her extrasensory powers.

DEEPER MEANING

There may be deeper meanings involved in the character interplay, but most moviegoers will have enough to do just anticipating the next turn of events. That's how engrossing the film is.

Kim Stanley makes one of her too-infrequent film appearances as the unhappy medium, and she plays it for every shade of dementia. The final trance, in which she contorts herself through childhood scenes, is the kind that makes Academy consideration imperative.

★ ★ ★

Richard Attenborough, who doubles as producer, plays the husband with such deftness and sympathy that you almost find yourself pulling for him to accomplish the job.

"The Americanization of Emily" is another disturbing film, on an intellectual rather than emotional level. It takes all the standard cliches of Hollywood war movies and maims them with cynical disdain.

DOG-ROBBER

Lt. Cmdr. Charlie Madison is a dog-robber, an admiral's aide who can commandeer the best steads, booze, broads and other necessities for the smooth functioning of the high command in London before D-Day.

★ ★ ★

He is also a devout coward. When called upon to become the first Navy man to die on Omaha Beach as a public retalations gimmick, he naturally rebels.

★ ★ ★

Charlie has an English girlfriend named Emily, who is appalled and yet fascinated by his total lack of morals. Despite her ingrained sense of duty and honor, she falls madly in love with him.

★ ★ ★

James Garner as Charlie does his best screen work so far, playing a wider range than he has exhibited before. Julie Andrews is down-to-earth as Emily, who has such un-Poppins-like lines as "Oh, Lord, I hope I don't get pregnant," and, "I don't mind making love to a scoundrel, but I think it immoral to marry one." This one is not for kiddies.

Beatle and Girlfriend Head for Vacation

LONDON (AP) — George Harrison, one of the Beatles, slipped out of London airport last night with a girlfriend, Pattie Boyd. They headed for a Caribbean vacation.

★ ★ ★

The only word was that the couple would stop over at Nassau, in the Bahamas. Harrison is due back before Christmas for a holiday show.

He Leaves $100,000 to Firemen

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Allan A. Barker lived in this western Pennsylvania community years ago and after he left in 1915 nobody heard much of him.

But now he's well known in these parts. He has left a bequest to the Dauntless Volunteer Fire Co.

Just how sizable the firemen didn't know until Wednesday night when attorneys told a special meeting that Barker left the fire company more than $100,000, consisting of property in the Bradenton, Fla., area and 750 shares of stock in the First National Bank of Ebensburg.

Barker was a rancher and financier in Manatee County, Fla. He died in a Bradenton nursing home Nov. 26 at the age of 82.

No one here recalls that he was a volunteer fireman.

Hart to Get Doctorate

EAST LANSING (AP) — U.S. Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree from Michigan State University Friday night at MSU's fall quarter commencement exercises. Hart will be main speaker at the ceremonies, at which 1,179 students will receive degrees.

Ballot Issue Lost in All 83 Counties

LANSING (AP)—The Massachusetts ballot, defeated 2-1 by Michigan voters Nov. 3, was the first referendum proposal to be rejected by all 83 counties since 1929, Secretary of State James Hare said Wednesday.

Even Republican - dominated areas of the state rejected the Republican - sponsored proposal to do away with party columns on the ballot, Hare said.

Democrats fought the issue in the recent campaign, but Republicans refused to take a stand on it as a campaign issue.

Ask Russia to Use Influence in Viet

Ike, Nixon, Barry Air GOP Rift

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon have told Sen. Barry Goldwater that his handpicked GOP chairman must have a mandate, not just a majority, to stay at the helm of the party.

Nixon relayed that word after a summit talk yesterday with the former president and the party's defeated nominee for the White House.

The three party leaders met for an hour in Eisenhower's Waldorf Towers suite. Then Nixon and the former president talked separately.

Goldwater said the three all hope the rift between GOP moderates, some of them out to oust Republican National Chairman Dean Burch, and the party's conservative wing can be healed before the national committee meets in Chicago Jan. 22 and 23.

The committee will decide then whether to keep Burch as chairman.

Both Eisenhower and Nixon said they told Goldwater the party needs a broadly based leadership in the months ahead.

Nixon put it this way:

"We feel, and Sen. Goldwater agreed, that the national committee must have broad-based support — not unanimity, but a majority of one is not enough."

He made the comment after telling newsmen that Burch's own polls indicate the chairman now has the national committee

Forming Rules for State Unit, Ionia Probe

Charge Irregularities After Disclosure of Disease and Suicide

LANSING (AP)—Legislators and top officials of the State Mental Health Department met today to thrash out ground rules for a probe by lawmakers of the department and the Ionia State Hospital.

The meeting at the State Capitol followed charges of maladministration in the department and at the hospital.

Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, sparked off the probe by the House Mental Health Committee.

Kowalski charged irregularities at the hospital and within the department following the suicide of a patient and reports of a high venereal disease rate.

Kowalski also fired off a telegram to the State Civil Service commission asking for reversal of 10-day suspensions ordered for two employes of the hospital.

★ ★ ★

The department said they were suspended for insubordination because they refused to divulge information in an earlier probe.

FLAGRANT ATTEMPT

"This action by officials of the mental health department," said Kowalski, "is a flagrant attempt to shut people up, to keep them from talking about mismanagement of the department and the hospital.

"I am asking the commission to prohibit Floyd Colley and Donald Stanton (the two employes) from being suspended or discharged, and if either of these actions have taken place, to immediately reverse them," Kowalski said.

Forrest Green of Detroit, civil service commission chairman, replied that the mental health department was "fully within its rights" to suspend the employes.

"The employes themselves have a right to appeal the suspensions," Green wired back to Kowalski, "and to have a full and impartial hearing before the civil service commission hearing board.

"They can be restored with pay if it is found the mental health department action was improper. Their rights are fully protected.

"The merits of the action itself," he said, "can only be determined upon proper appeal to this commission and their avenues of such appeal are wide open."

FRIENDLY DEPARTURE — President Johnson shakes hands with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at the door of the White House yesterday as the pair parted, ending a 1½-hour meeting. Gromyko described the talks as friendly and useful. In the center is Soviet Ambassador to the U.S. Anotoly Dobrynin.

Johnson, Rusk in Talks With Soviet Official

Show of Cordiality Displayed as Meeting Ends at White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration has asked the new Soviet leaders to use their influence to halt Communist operations from North Viet Nam against South Viet Nam.

The request was made to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko by Secretary of State Dean Rusk in the course of a series of conferences Gromyko held here with Rusk and President Johnson.

Rusk also asked the Russians yesterday to work for peace in Southeast Asia.

Gromyko conferred with Johnson at the White House for about 90 minutes.

★ ★ ★

In a show of cordiality, the President escorted him to the door when the talk ended.

SEVERAL SUBJECTS

Gromyko said disarmament and several other subjects were discussed in his meeting with the President and added: "I think that the exchange of views was useful and the atmosphere in the course of the conversation was friendly."

He did not specify the other topics taken up with Johnson. But he did say that the President welcomed the $555 million defense budget cut which was announced yesterday by Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Asked whether Johnson and he talked about the possibility of an East-West summit conference, Gromyko brushed aside the question.

★ ★ ★

Johnson was understood, however, to have developed the line that he is deeply interested in easing tensions and improving East-West relations, particular-

Traffic Safety Tax Is Urged

Lapeer Legislator to Seek Vehicle Levy

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Lapeer, says he'll seek legislation imposing a $3 tax on every motor vehicle in Michigan — to pay for more intensive local and county traffic law enforcement.

The plan was proposed yesterday to Spencer's special House committee on traffic safety by a Calhoun County delegation.

Here's how it would work:

The $3 would be collected along with vehicle license fees each year and would go to the Secretary of State's office.

He would return the entire tax to the vehicle's home county.

The county would pass $2 on back to the home city, village or township if that local jurisdiction operates a police department. Otherwise the county would keep all $3.

★ ★ ★

To keep the tax revenue from merely replacing rather than supplementing local traffic enforcement appropriations, counties and local units would be required to keep such appropriations at least at the previous year's level. Otherwise they would be denied the tax revenue.

$12 MILLION

With 4 million motor vehicles operating in Michigan, the plan would raise $12 million to fight the state's rising traffic fatality and accident rate.

"I wouldn't be optimistic enough to say it would pass," commented Spencer. "But I'd like to get the feeling on it throughout the state."

Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Dollar Bay, a member of the committee which concluded two days of traffic safety hearings, objected to the plan.

"If these local officials would get out in their own counties and pass it then I could support it on a state level," he said.

Board Reviews Water Setup

Waterford Township Board members last night reviewed a proposed operating and rate ordinance for the township's new water system.

Township officials say the ordinance will be adopted sometime this month.

The proposed ordinance pertains to the townshipwide central water system now under construction and would supersede the existing ordinance covering operation of the township's 11 separate water systems.

Its effective date, if approved by the board, would be Jan. 1, 1965.

★ ★ ★

Louis Schimmel, financial consultant, Milton Thompson, bonding attorney, and Donald Ringler, deputy director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, were present at last night's special meeting.

LANGUAGE REVIEW

The entire session was devoted to reviewing language of the 21-page ordinance which provides for the operation of the water system, rate structure and establishes regulations governing the system.

A $4 minimum quarterly rate is specified in the ordinance for residential users. This is based on consumption of 1,000 cubic feet of water.

Besides this minimum rate, which is the same paid now by residences served by the separate systems, a debt service charge of $12 per year is specified.

Commercial users will be assessed proportionately higher rates and debt service charges.

EXAMPLE FIRM

For example: A commercial connection with a two-inch meter installation would pay a minimum quarterly rate of $25

City Schools Adopt Policy on Integration

A policy statement on racial integration in Pontiac schools was unanimously adopted last night by the Board of Education.

Resulting from charges of "de facto segregation" in local schools made by local Negro leaders, the statement has been several months in preparation.

It was approved by a 16-member advisory Citizens Committee on Human Relations before it was first presented to the board at its Nov. 11 meeting.

Although it was given informal approval at that time, formal action was postponed until last night in accordance with board policy.

The statement emphasizes equal educational opportunities for all students and equal employment opportunities for all members of the administration and staff.

★ ★ ★

It also guarantees a continuation of the best possible instructional program and school facilities within the power of the board to provide.

Mercury to Rise to the Occasion

The mercury will be a little more energetic, says the weatherman.

Warmer weather is expected tonight and tomorrow. The low predicted for this evening is 32 to 36, to be followed by a high of 36 to 42 tomorrow.

Light rain, possibly preceded by light freezing rain, also is forecast.

Today's low mercury reading in downtown Pontiac was 24. At 1 p. m. 34 was the recording.

Children Need Not Feel Left Out in Yule Giving

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Children enjoy Christmas giving as much as getting. They feel so important, so grown-up, if they can choose and wrap presents just like mom and dad.

Besides, keeping these gifts secret is one of the most exciting and agonizing ecstasies of the yuletide season.

But youngsters are apt to become frustrated and feel left out of the holiday whirl if their Christmas buying is always cut and dried—a hanky for mother and socks for father.

Bearing in mind the small fry's limited budget, we shopped for that something different and found a number of things for 75 cents or less.

In the 50 cents or less category, mom or grandma is sure to be pleased with a white miniature basket filled with a tiny plastic poinsettia or holly berry arrangement.

To help with holiday entertaining, there are candle matches, flower floats and decorated match boxes with four individual compartments.

KNITTING GIFTS

If either one likes to knit, she will like a knitting gauge, row counter or rubber stoppers to keep the stitches from slipping off the needles.

In the same price range, if dad or grandpa is a sportsman, he'll enjoy a hand pump for air mattresses; ice fishing rod, complete with line, bobber and sinker; and ice grippers to fasten to his boots.

For his automobile there are steering wheel covers, auto polishing cloths or a magnetic box to hide an extra car key in a secret place.

With 75 cents to spend, youngsters can find a brush-top, plastic bottle, perfect for quick dishwashing chores; a variety of holiday-patterned terry cloth towels; a snack spreader; hand adding machine; a car vanity mirror and tissue dispenser; a car-wash mitt, good for scrubbing floors too; whisk broom and ice skimmer.

Camp, Boys' Club

Donates to Youth Groups

A Bloomfield Township industrialist Charles B. DeVlieg has given $115,000 to two youth organizations, Camp Oakland and the Boys' Club of South Oakland County, it was announced today. DeVlieg is chairman of the board of DeVlieg Machine Co., Royal Oak.

About $90,000 of the personal gift is earmarked for Camp Oakland and the remainder for the Boys' Club.

In presenting the gift to Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore, chairman of the board of Camp Oakland, and S. J. Christie, president of the Boys' Club, DeVlieg, of 1490 Lockridge, said he hoped his action would inspire others to support the organizations.

Judge Moore said the funds would be used for extending the general youth program at Camp Oakland, located near Oxford. The camp is operated for underprivileged children.

DeVlieg praised Camp Oakland's experimental work education program, through which school dropouts, most of whom have been in trouble, are given job training as auto mechanics and woodworkers.

★ ★ ★

He noted the program's record, with 70 per cent of the 15- through 17-year-old boys avoiding further law violations and learning to provide for themselves by finding employment.

FEELS USEFUL

"When a boy can work with his hands," said DeVlieg, "it makes him feel useful."

GIVES TO ORGANIZATIONS — Charles B. DeVlieg (left), presents gifts totaling $115,000 to representatives of Camp Oakland and the Boys' Club of South Oakland County. Accepting on behalf of youth is Boys' Club member Keith Trebble. Looking on are Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore, chairman of the board of Camp Oakland, and Boys' Club president S. J. Christie, seated. Adjourn Baker Quiz After Agreement on Calling of Jenkins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's stormy Bobby Baker hearings have been closed down until next year after agreement was reached to call former White House aide Walter Jenkins for questioning.

The committee also decided that the "party girl" issue that has bobbed up in the Baker probe required no further investigation.

★ ★ ★

Jenkins resigned in the midst of the presidential campaign after disclosure he twice had been arrested on morals charges. His resignation was requested by President Johnson, with whom he had been closely associated for 25 years.

The Senate Rules Committee announced no date for questioning Jenkins as part of its probe into the outside business and financial dealings of Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

MONTHS AGO

Jenkins' name was brought into the inquiry months ago in testimony by Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent, about the purchase of advertising time on an Austin, Tex. television station controlled by President Johnson's family.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., the committee chairman, said he would issue a statement later on decisions taken at a closed meeting Wednesday that lasted for four hours.

★ ★ ★

Disclosure that Jenkins would be called for questioning came from Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., at the start of a public hearing following the closed meeting of the committee.

Cooper said he felt compelled to reveal the committee's decisions since he had been informed that Jordan had told newsmen he thought the Kentucky senator was "happy" about what had taken place at the meeting.

NO INFERENCE

Jordan said in reply he had not intended to infer that Cooper had agreed with the actions taken by the committee's Democratic majority.

Cooper said that except for calling Jenkins, he had not been in agreement with the committee's major decisions and, in fairness to him and other GOP committee members, the record should show this.

★ ★ ★

Reynolds testified earlier this year that, at Jenkins' request, he had bought $1,200 worth of unwanted advertising time on the Johnsons' Austin television station.

This was before Johnson became president. Reynolds had sold him two $100,000 life insurance policies.

Jenkins, in a sworn statement to committee investigators, denied knowledge of the arrangements for Reynolds' purchase of the television time. Republican committee members repeatedly demanded, however, that Jenkins be called for questioning. They were outvoted by the Democrats.

A committee member said that Jenkins' condition will have a major bearing on when he will be questioned and whether a public or closed-door hearing will be held.

Judge to Stall Railroad Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — A disagreement over wages that could affect traffic on more than 90 per cent of the nation's railroads has moved from the bargaining table to the bench.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph Sam Perry said Wednesday he would issue a restraining order Monday forbidding three railroad shop unions representing more than 53,000 workers from striking for at least 10 days.

★ ★ ★

The order would nullify a strike scheduled for Dec. 15. Judge Perry said the restraining order would take effect Tuesday and run through Christmas Eve.

★ ★ ★

The unions issued a strike call Tuesday after negotiations with the railroads broke down in Washington. The railroads filed a petition in federal court in Chicago asking that the scheduled strike be postponed and requesting a temporary injunction.

HEAR ARGUMENTS

Judge Perry said he would hear arguments for a temporary injunction after he issues the restraining order Monday.

The carriers argued that the strike deadline is an illegal attempt to compel the railroads to bargain directly with the three unions, rather than with the AFL-CIO Railway Employes Department.

★ ★ ★

The unions, in their reply, contended the court is without jurisdiction in the dispute, the railroads' complaint fails to state a claim for relief, and the three unions are autonomous and need not bargain through the employes department.

RECEIVES NOBEL MEDAL — Dr. Martin Luther King accepted the Nobel Peace Prize in Oslo, Norway, today. It was presented by Gunnar Jahn, chairman of the Norwegian parliament prize committee. King was granted the award for his policy of nonviolence in the civil rights movement. The Negro leader, 35, is the youngest person ever to be granted the prize.

Present Policy Proposal on Teacher Associations

A policy proposal on future relationships between the Pontiac school board and local teacher associations was presented to the board of education last night by Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools.

Action on the proposal was deferred until the next regular meeting in accordance with board policy.

The proposed policy has been under consideration by the board unofficially for several months.

Most Pontiac teachers belong to one of two professional organizations — the Pontiac Education Association (PEA), an affiliate of the National Education Association, or the Pontiac Federation of Teachers (PFT), an affiliate of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO).

★ ★ ★

The question of relationship of the school board with the two organizations came up last February when the PEA presented to the board a professional negotiations plan.

TWO COMMITTES

In the past, Whitmer said, salary negotiations have been conducted by a committee of representatives of both groups.

This procedure is about to be abandoned, however, according to Whitmer, making it necessary to negotiate separately with both groups.

Believing this to be unwise, the board requested the superintendent to draw up a statement outlining future negotiation policies.

★ ★ ★

In summary, the proposal presented by Whitmer contains the following essential points:

- The board will recognize only the organization having the largest local membership.
- On or before Dec. 1 of each year the organization requesting recognition will submit to the superintendent a notarized statement listing its name and business address, purposes, affiliations, officers, members and sources of its financial support.
- Negotiations will be conducted by a committee representing the organization and the superintendent as a representative of the school board.
- In the event of disagreement, the committee and the superintendent will report to the school board, which will make the final decision.
- Policies and regulations concerning general teacher welfare originating with the board will be channeled through the same process.

Although the PEA prefers to call it "professional negotiations," both groups advocate collective bargaining, with use of an "outside" mediator if necessary.

While the PEA regards a teacher boycott of the district as its ultimate weapon, the union-oriented PFT condones the right of public workers to strike, a right which the state of Michigan doesn't recognize.

Eisenhower said later, "we are going to have to have a leadership that satisfies by and large all of the sections of the party and that's the committee's responsibility."

The three GOP leaders spoke separately after their meeting while Burch waited across the hall from the Eisenhower suite.

MADE IT CLEAR

He has made clear in the past that if there were constructive results in view he would be willing to go anywhere and meet with anyone for the purpose.

Gromyko said he brought to Johnson a message of best wishes from the Soviet leaders — the men who replaced Premier Nikita Khrushchev in mid-October.

An earlier meeting between Rusk and Gromyko over luncheon at the Soviet Embassy produced what U.S. officials called a lively exchange on the war in South Viet Nam.

It was on that occasion that Rusk told Gromyko the United States hoped the Soviet Union would use its influence to work for peace in Southeast Asia.

Gromyko, according to U.S. informants, told Rusk the Soviet Union thought the United States should withdraw its troops from South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Rusk replied that the troops were in South Viet Nam to assist the government and the people there in the defense against aggression from North Viet Nam and that the United States was fully informed on infiltration of men and supplies from the north into the south.

Strike Vote Set at State Hospital

Members of Pontiac State Hospital Local 49, Michigan State Employes Union (AFL-CIO) have scheduled a strike vote tonight at 8 in connection with the firing of a registered nurse.

The nurse was fired, according to union officials, because she was dating a male hospital attendant whose religion was different from her own.

If a strike is approved, union officials said a picket line would be established at the hospital.

Dr. Robert Braun acting superintendent of the hospital, said dating was not the reason for the dismissal.

★ ★ ★

"I can't give you the reason because it would not be in the best interest of the former employe," he added.

MARRIED ATTENDANT

The nurse involved, the former Frances Stockert, was married to the attendant, Melvin Adams, on Dec. 4. Adams has been employed at the hospital for eight years.

Mrs. Adams began work at the hospital on Aug. 24, 1964.

Union officials said an appeal to the Civil Rights Commission is planned because of the alleged religious discrimination involved.

★ ★ ★

They said they would also appeal to the governor and the legislature because of the broad implications of the problem.

Area Farmers Voting Today for Committee

Oakland County farmers are going to the polls today to pick community representatives on the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee (ASC).

The elected farmer-committeemen will serve for the next year as local administrators of national farm action programs.

★ ★

The polling places at 8 p.m. are the West Bloomfield, Lyon, Highland, Springfield, Brandon and Holly township halls; Oxford Junior High School, Oxford; and the home of G. Carlos Long, 3988 Sleeth, Commerce Township.

Bliss was on parole from prison in connection with another breaking and entering when the offense occurred Nov. 8 in the building at 8855 Edgewood, Commerce Township. Four others were apprehended. Two were turned over to juvenile authorities. Two are awaiting hearings.

'Moralists Fog Foreign Policy'

Acheson Says Ethics Confuse Decisions

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson says moralistic maxims should be eliminated from the conduct of United States foreign policy.

He said they often confuse a decision on "such complicated matters as the multilateral nuclear force, a common grain price in Europe, policy in Southeast Asia, or exceptions and disparities under the Kennedy Round of tariff negotiations."

★ ★ ★

Examples Acheson gave of moralisms and slogans were the concept that the United States should refrain from using force in all circumstances, the principle of self-determination applied to all situations and the idea of foreign aid as "sharing brotherly love."

His criticism came in a speech at an Amherst College symposium Wednesday.

END AND MEANS

"Only the end can justify the means" in foreign affairs, he said. But, he cautioned, "this is not to say that the end justifies any means, or that some ends can justify anything."

Morals and ethics have their place in foreign policy, he said, but they "must be used with discretion."

★ ★ ★

Acheson said the United States has the goal of preserving and fostering an environment where free society can exist and flourish. And in fostering that principle, he said, the ends are often called upon to justify the means.

As secretary of state to President Harry S. Truman from 1949 to 1953, Acheson said he was advised to oppose development of the H-bomb.

ADVISED THEM

"I was advised then that our nation should perish rather than produce such a devastating weapon as the thermonuclear bomb," he said.

"As a compassionate human I could understand the reason for the advice," Acheson said, "but as a public official I had to reject it and support the development."

The debt service charges are being levied to meet the cost obligation for construction of the three storage tanks.

Repayment of the remaining cost of the system, mains and lateral lines, will be financed by tap-in charges to new users.

Residential users can either pay $450 in cash or $600 in 40 quarterly installments.

Interest Rate Is Lower Than Expected on Bonds

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The board of education last night sold bonds totaling $5,220,000 for the first phase of its current four-year building program.

With an interest rate lower than anticipated, the board expects to realize a savings of some $300,000 over the life of the bonds.

The bonds were sold to a syndicate represented by the Harris Trust Co. of Chicago. Its average interest of 3.49941 per cent was the lowest of five submitted.

The bonds are to be paid in about 25 years.

Savings the first year is expected to be $26,000, according to Board President Richard H. McGraw. This should bring a reduction of one-third mill in next December's tax levy.

CURRENT LEVY

Current levy of 24.51 mills includes 5.68 mills for debt retirement.

The bonds sold at the special meeting last night constitute the major portion of a $7-million issue approved by district property owners June 8.

The 13 projects included in the first phase are to be ready for occupancy by September 1966. In the second phase, the district's third junior high school and a new elementary building, to cost some $2.5 million, are to be completed by the fall of 1968.

Construction contracts have been awarded for six of the projects in the first phase, additions to Bloomfield Hills and East Hills junior high schools and Booth, Hickory Grove, Conant and Pine Lake elementary schools.

TO RECEIVE BIDS

The board expects to receive bids on a new elementary school and administration building within the next 30 days, according to Supt. Eugene Johnson.

Featured in the total program will be a second high school for the district, expected to cost $2.3 million.

Other projects will include a new bus garage, a new elementary site and renovations at Vaughan and Wing Lake elementary schools.

FRANKLIN — The 32-piece Franklin Village Concert Band, will present "An Evening of Band Music" at 8 tonight at the Pontiac State Hospital.

This will be the third annual appearance of the brass, woodwind and percussion instrumentalists who are directed by Dr. Conrad R. Lam.

Catskills Community Seeking to Follow Teachings of Jesus

RIFTON, N.Y. (AP) — Members of a unique religious community here, whose goal is to follow completely the teachings of Jesus through shared communal living, have found a satisfactory way to meet the practical needs of the 250-member Society of Brothers.

They are hard at work manufacturing educational playthings, designed to spur imaginactive, spontaneous play activities.

Many of their designs are constructed for multiple—and free-wheeling—purposes. There's a triangle set from which children can make a seesaw, a cart with wheels, a slide.

Another design is a playhouse which can operate at one-story or two-story levels, can support a slide that can grab a rung at any height, and that has a platform readied for doll housekeeping or playing store.

A rocking boat has a built-in mechanism so it actually moves across the floor as the young "rowers" rock it. When it's turned over there's a flight of stairs underneath.

In their own community in the foothills of the Catskills, life for the children means playing with the toys their fathers and grandfathers have made, having breakfast with their families in their apartments, but sharing the other two meals with their own age groups in their own school, helping with berry picking, corn husking, kitchen clean-up detail, and the myriad activities common to any large family.

There is no iron-clad schedule of responsibilities for any of the members of the Society of Brothers. A new house is needed for the growing community, so all men who are available go to work on its construction.

The weather is unusually hot, so the children are piled in a school bus, and go to the river for the afternoon. The young college group is off for a four-day hike through the Catskills.

★ ★ ★

Young members of the community teach the still-younger in a building adapted for a school. There aren't any conventional desks.

The tables are in half and quarter circles, and the teacher presides within a partial circle where she can reach every child without standing up. This type of table later joined the parade of equipment marketed by the society.

COMMUNAL LIVING

Communal living begins at the cradle age, and at six weeks, the new baby spends a few hours a day in the Baby House.

When adult members of the community gather in the evening for singing or folk-dancing, there's no baby-sitting problem. A teen-age girl in the apartment unit will watch over several charges. When it's a teen party, the mothers take turns with baby-tending at home.

★ ★ ★

Formed in 1920, the Society of Brothers originated in Germany, left for England, when it was forced to disband by the German Secret State Police, fled to Paraguay when Germany made war on England and came to rest in the United States 10 years ago. There are two other communities in this country, at Norfolk, Conn., and Farmington, Pa.

YOUNG MEMBERS — Play school time is held for youngsters of the Society of Brothers at Rifton, N.Y., who have their own school. Teachers are also members of the religious community.

GOING UP — Castle in the air stands sturdily on earth, as children of the Society of Brothers play with blocks their fathers manufacture. The 250-member society is at Rifton, N.Y.

Buying Tips on Gifts for Family Pooch

NEW YORK — (NEA) — There's nothing more disappointing to a dog owner than to buy his pet a Christmas gift toy only to find that the pup won't even look at it.

Here are a few tips from Bob Bartos (manager of Friskies Research Center) about playthings for pooches.

Steer clear of wooden objects or toys that are apt to splinter, and even though a toy may catch your eye, don't be carried away by your own likes and dislikes. Remember that it's for Fido to enjoy.

Latex toys come in a bewildering number of shapes. If the dog is afraid of squeaky noises, choose one without a squeaker.

★ ★ ★

For teething puppies, squeakless toys are safest. They can't swallow the metal squeaker.

Most important in choosing a dog's gift, stay away from anything that might be swallowed or harmful.

Call Back for Soapy

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Democratic Gov. Karl Rolvaag's staff members think Republican Gov. George Romney of Michigan should bring his director up to date.

A caller from Romney's office telephoned the Minnesota capital yesterday and asked for Gov. Elmer L. Anderson. Rolvaag succeeded Anderson, a Republican, in March 1963, after a long recount showed he had defeated Anderson by 91 votes in the 1962 election.

WHAT IS IT? — For years the citizens of Wulflingen, Switzerland, have been unable to explain this statue in front of the town school. That is, until some soldiers of the Swiss army offered their interpretation. The sculpture, they insist, represents a general reading a map.

Learn About Money

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — M.E.P. told how successful she has been in teaching her daughter money management on vacation trips.

* * *

Each day the child is given a certain amount of money and she chooses how it is to be spent. Why can't we go a step further?

We do not come into this world knowing how to spend money. If the system works on vacation, how much more the child will learn if he has a certain amount to spend each week.

This teaches responsibility, gives experience in making decisions and gives a feeling of independence. He may make mistakes, but don't we all?

Isn't it better that he have some experience and learn to correct his misuse of money with small amounts before he begins to earn and becomes responsible for a family? —H.D.

* * *

DEAR POLLY — Another use for those sample pieces of quality carpet bought on sale or in discount houses is to line a small dresser or dressing table drawer and use the drawer as a jewelry box.

* * *

Select a light shade of the nubby textured kind. Necklaces, chains, pins, rings and earrings stay put no matter how often the drawer is opened.

No more tangled beads or stray earrings. — LIZ.

* * *

DEAR POLLY—My tip is for those who enjoy being thrifty. When I knit a child's sweater, I put buttonholes on both the left and right front bands.

This way it can be passed on to a brother or sister and the buttons are on the proper side. Buttonholes should be on the left side of a boy's sweater and on the right side of a girl's.

Two stitches will hold each buttonhole together on the side not in use. Place the button over it when sewing it on the sweater. Later, the precedure may be reversed. — DONNA

Congo Mercenary Army Tough, Adventurous

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Some came for adventure and some for pay. Some came for a chance to serve the cause of a peaceful Africa, as they see it.

They are the men the world calls Premier Moise Tshombe's "white mercenaries" — several hundred volunteers spearheading Tshombe's drive against the Red-backed Congolese rebels.

★ ★ ★

Although most don't speak a word of French, they prefer to be called by the term "les mercenaries" — it seems to add class to their trade.

The words mean exactly the same thing. Some people think it's unfair to call them mercenaries, that it's a "smear" word. Webster's dictionary says mercenary, when applied to a soldier, is "without necessary opprobrium." In any case, these soldiers are identified generally as Tshombe's mercenaries.

What are they like?

BRITISH LIEUTENANT

Take British Lt. Jeremy Spencer, 25, a scion of a rich north of England family.

Pay meant next to nothing to him. Adventure did, and he died with a rebel bullet in his head as he sat in the front line in a deck chair, languidly directing the battle with a sword.

★ ★ ★

Grizzled and tattooed veterans of many wars, whose every second word is a curse, still go misty-eyed when they talk of him.

They miss the way this tall, slender Englishman gave orders in his aristocratic drawl. They miss, above all, his ice-cold nonchalance in the face of danger.

STROLLS TO TOP

"He strolled to the top of the rise, stood there looking at the rebels, and then came down and told where they were," said one of the men who saw Spencer die.

Yet there were groans of disapproval when he was first promoted to lieutenant at the mercenary training base at Kamina in North Katanga. Among many who had joined because they were civilian misfits, Spencer seemed the most misfit of all.

The last month of fighting their way 600 miles to Stanleyville, capital of the rebel "Congolese People's Republic," has thinned the mercenary ranks down to a lean, mean residue.

For almost every one of the 200 or so soldiers from South Africa or Rhodesia still in the Congo, a would-be mercenary fighter has been put aboard a southbound plane for home or has deserted without waiting for his pay.

UNLOVELY SPECIMENS

"There were drunks, drug addicts, coffee shop cowboys, homosexuals and cowards," says Maj. Michael Hoare, the tough chief of Tshombe's English-speaking men.

There still are some unlovely specimens among his men — killers of unarmed civilians and looters.

★ ★ ★

"Let's face it," says Hoare. "If we had only hired angels, we'd have never got together the labor force needed for this sort of job."

Hoare, 44, a veteran of war behind the Japanese lines in Burma and in Tshombe's secessionist state of Katanga, has little more than his own personality to back up his orders. The Congolese army's disciplinary code is almost nonexistent.

ANSWERS BACK

Said Lt. John Peters, a former British paratrooper from Leeds: "If any of my men answers back, I take him round the corner and use my fists."

Peters is second in command of 57 commandos, a collection of near throw-outs who these days usually get chosen as the spearhead on dangerous missions because of their cool discipline under fire.

Their commander, mustachioed Capt. Ian Gordon, a Briton who now lives in Johannesburg, never raises his soft voice. His men will follow him, as another officer says, "through the front door of Hell and out the back way."

Gordon, like several of Hoare's most trusted officers, fought for Tshombe in his secessionist days. They formed the small nucleus who recruited the others through advertisements in South African and Rhodesian newspapers.

Men flocked to sign on for base pay of 130 pounds sterling — $364 — a month as volunteers. Officers and noncoms earn up to three times more. Mercenaries also are paid about $16 a day danger money when they are in battle.

Only half of their pay is in foreign currency sent to their banks at home. The rest is paid in Congolese francs which cannot be taken out of the country.

Each man is entitled to two weeks' paid home leave at the end of his six-month contract.

Each man also has a life insurance policy for $20,000 payable to his next of kin. Nearly 20 families of Hoare's men already have qualified.

For almost three months, Hoare's men were paid nothing. A political battle between the South Africans and Belgian army technical assistance officers held up the money until the eye of the battle for Stanleyville.

Nearly 40 men deserted in disgust. To earn their pay, the white men must brave not only the rebels but also a frightening lack of doctoring if they are wounded or fall sick.

The mercenaries can be brutally frank about themselves. They tend to laugh about the looting, especially bank vaults blown up with some of their abundant supplies of explosives.

"Don't damage the dynamite you are sitting on," said one South African to this correspondent as we drove through three night ambushes on the road to Stanleyville. "We're going to need it when we come to a bank."

Actually, one of Hoare's first moves when he captures a town is to place armed guards on the banks.

But his task is complicated by the fact that his men must rely on what they find lying around for their few comforts in the battle zone. Like most commanders in the field, he lets his men take things they can use immediately but forbids them to take anything away.

UNUSUAL GIFTS—An electric slicing knife (top left) pleases the man of the house and is good gift for bachelor, too. Lightweight, it has 9-inch stainless steel blade, detachable 8-foot cord. Candle users will get a kick out of a hand-finished rosewood candle (top right). It is butane-fueled and flame is adjustable. Horizontal bands of sterling silver decorate a gift set of glasses (bottom left). Each box contains a jeweler's rouge polishing cloth for the silver. In the boutique vein is a lady's calendar alarm clock. About the size of a silver dollar, it has a jeweled lever movement and 40-hour winding capacity.

International Students Find American-Style Celebration

Foreign students who are in the United States at Chrismas time don't need to forgo the enjoyment of a family-style holiday, complete with all the trimmings.

Many exciting programs are aimed at helping the international student spend either Christmas day or the whole holiday period with an American family.

One such program is coordinated by New York University's International Student Center.

The Center works with other organizations within the school and the community — particularly religious groups — to find Americans who are willing to share their holiday with a foreign visitor.

* * *

An estimated 200 to 300 students take part in the Christmas festivities.

DORM RESIDENTS

Many of these young people are residents of NYU's dorms most of which close for the holiday, forcing the students to find other quarters.

A large number of the students will spend Christmas day with a family in the New York metropolitan area or in the neighboring suburbs.

Other students spend whole holiday vacations with families from as far away as Florida or Vermont.

* * *

Last year, a group of 40 students traveled to Vermont for the holidays.

There they stayed with typical American families and enjoyed such group activities as folk dancing, singing and skiing on nearby snow-covered mountains.

Donald Bullard, of the International Center, says Soviet students were the most popular and most requested guests.

One student made such a hit that a Vermont family named a new-born calf after him.

* * *

Another group of students headed south for Florida and a warmer, but just as enjoyable, holiday.

* * *

The school welcomes anyone who would like to have a foreign visitor for Christmas and those interested can contact the International Student Center, New York University, Washington Square, New York.

Water-Filled Boat Excellent Trough

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — They're filling boats with water these days. Two cattlemen have discovered it to be an easy way to get water to the cows. Ted Cromer's stock tank was dry and he began carrying water to the cattle in a trailer fitted with water barrels.

When sickness sent him to the hospital, his boat salesman son filled a boat with water, backed it over the water trough and pulled the plug, letting the water fill the trough.

Cattleman Bert Starnes found a simpler method than that. He just tows his water-filled boat to his farm, parks it and lets the cows use it as a water trough. "Get 'em thirsty enough and they'd trot along after that boat clear to Kansas City," he says.

School Visitor Bites Principal's Thumb

GODDARD, Kan. (AP) — School Principal Robert Nelson has some scars to prove that his profession can be hazardous.

Greg Bogue, a student, brought a young mountain lion to school in a cage to show his classmates. Nelson was showing the cub in another class when the beast bit him on the left thumb.

A tablespoon or two of tomato paste usually benefits a beef stew.

His Kindness Backfires

JAMESTOWN, N.D. (AP) — Glendive, Mont., trucker Lyle Edward Holler stopped his semi-trailer to help a young woman who had the trunk lid up on her late-model car and a jack laying against the vehicle.

He was robbed of $60 by the woman and a gun-wielding man who stepped from in back of the auto.

Suspected Prowler Is Only an Opossum

LEESBURG, Fla. (AP)— Would-be thieves should be told that Robert Kimmer is a light sleeper.

Awakened by sounds of a prowler in his yard, he telephoned police. When the officers arrived, they discovered the prowler to be an opossum in a tree near the house.

Keep pipe cleaners on hand and use them for cleaning that teapot spout.

Looks Don't Count; It's Free and Clear

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A rather disreputable looking 1948 auto, seen often in the downtown area, has this sign across the back:

"I may look like an old tin can, but I'm not hiding from the finance man."

Miniatures Modernized

Dolls, Vehicles, Guns Still Favorite Toys

NEW YORK (NEA) — The bewildered parent, broodingly musing about Christmases past, can be sure of one thing this year: girls will be girls; boys will be boys.

★ ★ ★

Toy industry studies show that girls, no matter what their fickle behavior 364 days of the year, are true blue at Christmas. A doll-in-hand remains the little girl's favored gift this year as in the past.

The boys, meanwhile, continue to divide their affection among cars, trucks, guns, planes, building sets, kits and those miscellaneous items highly rated as swappables.

As an adult aid this year, toy manufacturers empaneled a jury of 12 toy buyers. Their instructions were to pick the leading toy categories — the expected big sellers from now until Christmas Eve.

ADULT'S TASTE

However, a shrewd manufacturer observes, "What an adult thinks about a toy doesn't necessarily have anything to do with how a child feels about it." The safest buying guide is to ask the child who wants one.

Television and movies continually feed the youngsters' fondness for the macabre. The result: this may well be known as the year of the ghoulish gifts.

Lovable monstrosities, mostly in plastics, range from the fictional bride of Frankenstein who oozes charm to the mere historical Ughnik Indian who keeps pace with our Western craze.

★ ★ ★

When the monsters aren't clomping about the living room, expect the neighborhood peace to be shattered by the v-r-r-oom of hot-rodder engines that screw onto tricycles, bikes and even soap box racers.

SOUND EFFECTS

These provide sound effects for the boys when their tonsils give out.

Construction, too, will be big with bridge and turnpike sets, road builders, play hospitals and lawn mowers.

Noise also is building in the nursery. Not only do dolls grow hair, talk and weep, they now emit a respectable, healthful burp.

★ ★ ★

This development led another manufacturer to say solemnly, "Children are compelled to mirror in their play whatever they see or hear grownups doing."

MINIATURE WAR

In the world of miniature war, the toy men have sprung a real guerrilla winner, a gun that shoots around corners.

Backing it up are medical field kits, machine guns, tanks and flying platforms. Again television's influence spills into the back-yard play of American small fry.

One major manufacturer of "adult" entertainment equipment (G-E) eyed the situation and decided "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

★ ★ ★

Its entry into the gift race wraps home education and entertainment into an 8½-pound phono-viewer.

The unit shows full color slide-film pictures on an 11-inch screen while sound comes from a four-speed phonograph.

The picture-sound programs range from fairy tales (Cinderella) to science (Do Dolphins Talk?).

Out of the $7-$13 average price range, the phono-viewer brought forth another industry comment, "Nothing could interest a child less than the price tag on a toy — it's his satisfaction that counts.

So the trick for parents is to get the most appropriate toys within their budgets."

BAD GUY—Cut-out desperado throws up his hands when hat is shot off.

GOOD GIRL—Milk-drinking doll burps when patted on the back.

Spot Littering From Aircraft

NEW YORK (AP) — Litterbugs have a new enemy — on wings.

Two states are now using aircraft to spot dispensers of litter, reports Keep America Beautiful, the national antilitter organization.

In New Jersey helicopters patrol off-shore waters.

They warn water-borne litterbugs through loudspeakers and when things get out of hand, radio patrol launches move in for arrests.

Loudspeaker - equipped airplanes, provided by the Wisconsin Conservation Department, have been used for the past three years in a concerted antilitter program along the 284-mile river reaches of the Upper Mississippi River Wildlife and Fish Refuge.

★ ★ ★

The planes warn litterbugs and coordinate activities of ground and water-borne patrols.

The most common name in the world is Mohammed, which can be spelled in a variety of ways.

Buy Your Favorite Lady a Home Gift She'll Love

The key to success at Christmas is to give your favorite girl a gift she wants but wouldn't buy herself.

Aren't there home items she would like but hesitates to buy?

Now is the time to get her that new refrigerator-freezer that needs no defrosting, the washing machine that does almost everything but talk, a new vacuum sweeper or floor polisher.

Or, she may hint for a new couch — one with upholstery that is easy to clean. When making a shopping list for a woman, think beyond the quick, last-minute gift of a toilet set, gloves or sweater.

* * *

If the gift is a major appliance or large piece of furniture, surprise her with a gift certificate.

PICK OUT ITEM

Even more welcome — let her pick out the item such as a new dishwasher before Christmas. It can be installed to help her with the holiday party cleanup.

* * *

Look for items with special coatings to make her cleanup job easier.

Knife and scissors sharpeners, electric carving knives, home hair dryers, addition of holloware to her silver pattern all are thoughtful presents.

* * *

If you don't know where to begin your shopping list, look around the house. Jot down what is missing in the way of new items you see in stores.

* * *

Determine which you think your best girl would like and use the most. Make that your major Christmas gift.

Fairly Active Trading

Mart in Cautious Recovery

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and rails advanced as the stock market made a cautious recovery today. Trading was fairly active.

The rise was irregular but plus signs predominated among the steels and rails which have been battered by selling in recent sessions.

The trend was generally higher also among oils, nonferrous metals, drugs and aerospace issues. Chemicals were lower although du Pont managed a fractional gain.

* * *

Most changes were fractional among key stocks. Among exceptions were Montgomery Ward, up about a point, and Jones & Laughlin, ahead more than a point.

AVERAGE FELL

Wednesday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 2.0 to 322.2.

Prices were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange.

Cong Step Up Drive in S. Viet

6 Americans Killed in 2 Days of Fighting

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Six Americans have died during the past two days of hard fighting in South Viet Nam as the Communist Viet Cong intensify their effort to overrun the country. Another American is missing.

South Vietnamese military officials believe the Viet Cong has launched its winter-spring offensive. Beginning last weekend, Communist attacks increased sharply.

* * *

Communist raids and ambushes at scattered points in mountainous central Viet Nam aroused belief that the Viet Cong hopes to drive government forces from that area adjacent to Communist North Viet Nam.

A U.S. Army officer killed Wednesday in a battle to retake a hill raised to 232 the number of Americans who have died in combat in South Viet Nam since December 1961.

2 WOUNDED

A U.S. spokesman said an American enlisted man and an Australian officer were wounded in the same battle near the provincial capital of Tam Ky, about 350 miles northeast of Saigon. Several hundred Viet Cong overran the fortified hill before government forces fought their way back.

Earlier, the Viet Cong killed a U.S. Army officer in a highway ambush in Phu Yen Province, 230 miles northeast of Saigon along the South China Sea.

* * *

A helicopter gunner was killed and a U.S. Army adviser was missing and presumed dead or captured in fighting Tuesday for a fortified hill in the An Lao mountain valley, 300 miles northeast of Saigon. Three American soldiers were killed Tuesday when the Viet Cong overran a small outpost at the southern tip of Viet Nam.

In the Communist-infested Mekong Delta, a powerful Viet Cong force attacked a government battalion early today at Ba Dua, 45 miles southwest of Saigon.

BEAT OFF RAID

Government forces reportedly beat off the attack in a half-hour battle, killing an estimated 50 Viet Cong. Twelve government soldiers were killed and 19 wounded. American advisers took part in the defense but none was reported wounded.

10 Business Stories Stood Out in 1964

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — In a year of striking economic gains, 10 business news stories stand out. Stock prices, a tax cut, an international money crisis, all have made headlines. And so have the relations of a new administration with business, generous labor contracts and battles of securities traders with federal regulators.

DAWSON

Here, in one man's opinion, are the 10 top business news stories of 1964 — some of them cliff-hanger serials with the final chapters still to come.

* * *

1. Stock prices climbed fast and suffered some dizzy spells. Trading volume set records and so did prices as measured by popular averages. The Dow-Jones 30 industrials topped 800 in March and added 92 more points by mid-November. But markets took some sharp drops, too: in August when American and North Vietnamese naval vessels clashed; in October when Nikita Khrushchev was toppled; in November when the British pound sterling was raided by speculators.

2. Federal tax rates were cut. Results showed up in take-home pay in March. At first the money went toward paying off debts and increasing savings, but by late summer and fall spending was on the way up.

MONEY MARKETS

3. International money markets had a bad scare in October and November and American borrowers had some anxious days until President Johnson intervened to hold the interest line. Britain's fast deteriorating economic situation brought a run on the pound. The new Labor government tried a 15 per cent import tax, then boosted the bank rate to 7 per cent from 5 per cent. But it took a $3-billion fund by 10 other nations to halt the raid. Short-term rates in the United States also were boosted to prevent loss of dollars to Britain.

4. Stock traders clashed with federal regulators. The New York Stock Exchange and the Securities and Exchange Commission came eyeball to eyeball over curbing the activities of floor traders who act for their own accounts, and the SEC won that one. The giant over-the-counter market for unlisted stock got a milder than expected crackdown, but also was subjected to more federal supervision.

* * *

5. Labor made some impressive dollar gains and set out on new negotiating paths. A generous pact with the auto workers sparked talk of inflation ahead and inspired the bulls in the stock market. Steel union emphasis on changing working conditions at the mills hinted of troubles ahead and customers began stockpiling steel. A rail strike threatened off and on all year, and labor strife on the docks was another cliff-hanger.

6. Corporate profits soared. Gains were scored in each of the first three quarters and many companies set records. Dividends increased, too.

NEW TURN

7. Government-business relations took a new turn. President Johnson won an unusual amount of support from business executives during his campaign.

8. Giant stock offerings and a record number of stock splits enlivened the year. In February AT&T issued rights to buy $1.2 billion of common stock, a record offering. Investors also snapped up the offer of stock in Communications Satellite Corp. in June and pushed prices when it was listed on the exchange.

9. Prosperity made news. The business upswing neared completion of its fourth year, a record for peacetime. Climbing to new highs were personal income, industrial production, Gross National Product, and consumer debt.

10. The U.S deficit in international payments had sharp ups and downs. This serial story, of several years running, showed the loss of dollars to other lands markedly lower in the first three months, even more sharply higher in the next three and contracting slightly in the third. A 10-nation monetary club protected both the dollar and the pound and held the U.S. gold loss to a minimum — which was news in itself.

Hot Congo Debate Looms in U.N. Security Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council headed into a free-for-all debate on the Congo today after voting to hear charges from both sides in the dispute.

Russia launched a bitter assault against the United States and Belgium Wednesday night in a vain attempt to block discussion of Premier Moise Tshombe's charges that Moscow has been aiding the Congolese rebels.

* * *

After a sharp exchange between the Soviet and American delegates, the council rejected the Russian demand that it ignore Tshombe's charges that at least three African countries were shipping aid to the rebels with Russia's help.

The council voted 7-4 to take up Tshombe's charges as well as the charge by 22 nations, most of them African, that the recent U.S.-Belgian paratroop operation to rescue white hostages from the rebels was interference in the Congo's internal affairs.

CLOSED TO PUBLIC

The debate, closed to the public to prevent demonstrations, was expected to heat up still more after Tshombe arrives Saturday to argue his case.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko called the Congo rebellion a "holy struggle" against imperialism and branded Tshombe a stooge of the West.

* * *

Terming Tshombe's charges "an awkward maneuver," he said the council should deal only with "the action of the imperialists and colonialists and their puppets in the Congo."

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson replied that the Russians were trying to throw up a smokescreen to conceal charges that they played a key role in aiding the insurgents.

'ALMOST INCREDIBLE'

Stevenson said it was "almost incredible that the council should be asked to hear a complaint against those who have not intervened in the Congo, while refusing to hear the government of the country itself against those who by their own admission have."

"The Soviet Union, which has already been reported to be resupplying those who aid the rebels, is seeking in this way to protect itself from a disclosure of the facts in this sorry situation," Stevenson declared.

The American delegate said the 22 nations who charged the United States and Belgium with intervention overlooked the fact that the paratroop operation "was purely and simply a rescue mission authorized in advance by the legally constituted government of the Congo."

City Motorist Found Guilty in Traffic Fatality

A Pontiac motorist, Samuel Washington, 30, of 31 Gillespie, was found guilty of negligent homicide yesterday in the March 15 traffic death of a young woman.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore rendered the decision following the nonjury trial. Washington will be sentenced Jan. 7.

Q) "Our son recently received, as a Bar Mitzvah gift, 13 shares of Molybdenum Corporation of America, $1,000 series E bonds and $1,000 in cash. We want to build a college fund for him with these gifts. It was suggested that we cash in the E bonds and buy 5 shares Corning Glass, 20 shares of United Nuclear and buy the rights offered by Molybdenum. Have you any suggestions?" M. E.

A) I believe money for educational purposes should be in the safest and strongest of growth stocks. Molybdenum Corporation is speculative and I would dispose of it. United Nuclear has good backing and some attractive features, but I do not believe that it meets your son's objective. Corning is splendid for your purpose and I would add General Telephone and Long Island Lighting.

Q) "The shares of many growth electric utility companies now sell at 25-30 times earnings. Do you feel that they're generally overpriced at these levels?" D. S.

A) I don't believe so. While utility shares were once thought to move pretty much in relation to money rates, like bonds and preferreds, they now carry a market image akin to that of many steadily growing industrial groups. Why has the change taken place? I think because the investing public has recognized the fact that earnings of electric power firms are displaying good, consistent gains and that a business recession, unless unusually severe, would do little harm to the upward trend. It's difficult to estimate what market valuation is justified in the case of a growth industry which is made up of many near-monopolies well insulated against business dips. However, I think it's reasonable to assume that the price shouldn't be any less than the valuation placed on industrial growth groups which, because of competitive factors, are more vulnerable to change.

UAW Says 25,000 Due Raise at Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Approximately 25,000 Ford Motor Co. workers are going to get a 6 cents an hour pay increase under wage inequity adjustments of the recent contract negotiations, the United Auto Workers Union said today.

* * *

The 25,000 are among Ford's 135,000 hourly-paid production workers.

The UAW said the inequities included pay differences between Ford plants having the same type of work.

* * *

One example cited by the union was the raising of pay in Ford car assembly plants to the level of assembly workers of the Lincoln-Continental car lines.

The UAW said the pay of employes in the Owosso, Mich. and Fostoria, Ohio, plants, which Ford acquired from Autolite, also will be increased.

Two AF Men Killed in Crash of Twin Jet

PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—Two Air Force men were killed today when a twin-jet JB57B missile tracking plane crashed and burned on takeoff.

The Air Force information office withheld names of the victims pending notification of next of kin. They were the only two aboard the plane, which was taking off on a routine training mission, the information office reported.
