Fiery Crash in Troy Kills 1, Injures 7

DEATH VEHICLE — Fire destroys a van in which a 17-year-old Detroit youth died last night following a head-on collision on I-75 in Troy. Seven others were injured, four of them seriously, in the 12:46 a.m. accident. Traffic on the I-75 northbound lane was tied up for two hours following the crash.

A Detroit youth died and seven people were injured, four of them severely, in a fiery head-on collision last night on I-75 in Troy.

★ ★ ★

Dead is William Cameron Jr., 17, passenger in a van driven by his father, William Cameron Sr. The youth died three hours after the accident at Pontiac St. Joseph Hospital.

The senior Cameron, his wife and two other sons were hospitalized, as was 7-year-old Nathaniel Miller, also of Detroit, a passenger in the Cameron vehicle.

PINNED IN CAR

Also hospitalized are Donald Hinman, 18, of Clawson, reportedly pinned in his car for 45 minutes after the crash, and his passenger, Cathy Mackey, 15, also of Clawson.

Cameron Sr., Hinman and the Mackey girl are all in the intensive care unit at William Beaumont Hospital. Cameron Sr. reportedly underwent surgery this morning for internal injuries and his condition is listed as "guarded."

Parrish Cameron, 3, is in the intensive care unit at Pontiac St. Joseph Hospital with head injuries. He is listed in critical condition.

His brother, Dana, 13, is in fair condition at the Royal Oak hospital with possible internal injuries.

AT CRITTENTON HOSPITAL

Also listed in fair condition are Mrs. Mary Cameron, 39, multiple lacerations, and the Miller boy, multiple injuries including a fractured leg. They are both at Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township.

Troy police said the accident occurred at 12:46 a.m. on I-75 just south of Long Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

Police said the Hinman car, southbound on I-75, unaccountably left the roadway, crossed the median and continued into the northbound lane where it struck the Cameron vehicle, which burst into fire.

The Troy Fire Department was called, but was unable to save the van. Officers worked for 45 minutes with hydraulic jacks to free Hinman from his car, untouched by flames, police said.

Traffic backed up for about a mile for nearly two hours after the accident.

Nixon Heading for Talks With Thieu

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon winged westward over the Pacific today for crucial conferences with South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu on U.S. participation in the war and on ways to achieve peace.

President Nixon and his delegation were to leave from El Toro Marine Air Station, south of Los Angeles, at 1:30 p.m. EDT.

Related Stories, Pages A-2

The summit sessions are set for tomorrow on remote Midway Island, after an overnight stop for the President in Honolulu and a final strategy session there w[illegible] key advisers.

In t[illegible]rking meetings for which they h[illegible]otted five hours, Nixon and Thieu will cover such questions as troop levels, Vietnam's ability to take over an increasing military role, elections and the Vietnamese political outlook.

QUESTION RAISED

Troop level discussions raise the question of troop withdrawals. And Nixon promised in his May 14 speech outlining an eight-point peace plan that there will be no unilateral American withdrawal.

★ ★ ★

But the word from Saigon is that Thieu expects Nixon to push for de-Americanization of the war. Furthermore, Secretary of State William P. Rogers, the No. 2 man in the American delegation to the Midway talks, said Thursday he has no doubt the Vietnamese government is moving in the direction of letting its own forces replace U.S. forces.

He said the training of the South Vietnamese to assume more combat duty was moving along rapidly.

Reports have persisted that Thieu and Nixon would come up with an announcement tomorrow of plans for withdrawal of 50,000 U.S. troops from the fighting zones. White House officials have not denied this outright although they have said they knew of no firm basis for the reports. They also have said that troop strength naturally would enter into the Midway discussions, as is always the case at such a meeting.

STEP UP ATTACKS

The Vietcong and North Vietnamese have stepped up their attacks in South Vietnam in the past two days, apparently in an effort to influence the talks.

And some critics of U.S. Vietnam policy have voiced doubts about the usefulness of the meeting. Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said, "The meetings President Johnson had didn't result in anything significant."

★ ★ ★

Nixon is scheduled to arrive in Midway, a dot of land 1,200 miles west of Hawaii where the United States won a crucial naval victory in World War II, at 4 p.m. EDT. Thieu follows in 15 minutes. Each chief executive will receive full military honors.

They will drive immediately to the residence of the base commander for an hour and 45 minutes of private discussions — just the two of them. At the same time, their senior advisers will be in session at an officers' club.

After a brief break, Nixon and Thieu will arrive at the club for a working luncheon with their delegations. This is billed for an hour and 15 minutes. A final two-hour session is slated for the presidents and their senior advisers at the club.

Mounties Capture 2nd Ervin Brother

The second of the notorious jailbreaking Ervin brothers of Pontiac has been reported arrested in Winnipeg, Man., according to the FBI this morning.

Being held by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) is Gordon Dale Ervin, 44, who escaped from Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson four years ago while serving an armed robbery term. His brother, Charles, also escaped at that time but was captured two years ago.

★ ★ ★

The two were convicted of robbery in Washtenaw County in 1954 and given 50 to 60 year terms. During the trial the pair made a daring escape bid. Gordon was shot and Charles was injured in a 40-foot jump from the courthouse ledge.

During their court appearances the brothers made threats against the judges and prosecution staff. The men were on the FBI's most wanted list after their escape.

ANONYMOUS TIP

According to the FBI, Gordon Ervin was arrested by the RCMP early this morning after receiving an anonymous tip. The FBI was convinced the escapee was in Canada for some time, but Gordon is known to assume disguises.

At noon today, Paul H. Stoddard, special FBI Agent in charge of the Detroit office, announced that identification of Gordon was positive and that extradition proceedings had begun. The escapee had been living in the Winnipeg area two years under the name of David Anderson, the RCMP said.

The other brother had also been apprehended in Canada, in Hawkesbury, Ont.

★ ★ ★

Charles, 54, the older brother, is presently at Jackson Prison and is reportedly up for parole. The older brother has a long criminal record which began with a burglary conviction in Pontiac in 1933. He also served prison terms in Kansas and Indiana.

Hunt for Missing SAC Plane Continues in the Bering Sea

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The aircraft searched the icy Bering Sea through the night for a Strategic Air Command reconnaissance plane which disappeared Thursday with 19 men aboard. More planes and three ships join the hunt today.

The Japanese Maritime Safety Agency said a Japanese fishing boat had reported survivors from a large aircraft, which could have been the RC135 reconnaissance plane, were adrift in a life raft in the area.

★ ★ ★

However, a spokesman for North Pacific Rescue Coordination Center at Juneau, Alaska, headquarters for the search, said it knew of no life raft being sighted.

He said the fishing vessel Shuyo Maru might have misunderstood a note dropped from a plane asking it to aid in the search.

CRAB FLOAT

Sighting of what appeared to be a life raft was reported yesterday but a closer inspection turned up only an orange-colored crab float.

In addition to the Japanese ship, the Coast Guard cutter Balsam was headed for the search area and a Russian fishing vessel was asked to assist.

The SAC jet disappeared Thursday about 30 minutes after taking off from Shemya at the tip of the Aleutian Island chain. It was on a flight to Eielson Air Force Base near Fairbanks.

The last radio report from the plane said there were severe vibrations, and the crew was using oxygen.

TWO LIFE RAFTS

The four-engine jet, a military version of the Boeing 707, carried two 20-man life rafts.

Headquarters of SAC said the RC135 was on a routine mission and made its last radio report about 250 miles east of Shemya. The plane carried electronic equipment for monitoring radio communications and checking radar.

★ ★ ★

Although the plane's flight pattern took it close to the Siberian border, military authorities here would not comment on the plane's mission. But the pentagon said it had not been shot down.

Trio Gets $2,300 in Pontiac Holdup

The Western Union office in Pontiac was robbed of $2,300 by three bandits at 10:20 p.m. yesterday, the second major holdup in less than two days in the city.

On Thursday, $25,400 was taken from the Pontiac State Hospital Credit Union.

★ ★ ★

Three men acting as customers seeking a money order, entered the office at 11 S. Perry, according to Pontiac Police. Then the three pulled out pistols and covered two employes.

The men looted the office safe, which was unlocked, and emptied cash drawers before escaping, police said.

DESCRIPTIONS GIVEN

The men were described as Negroes in their early 20s. Two were wearing berets and one a scarf. All were about medium height and size, police said.

Three men are also being sought in the Pontiac Hospital holdup. Early Thursday morning two of the men carried out a holdup brandishing revolvers and striking one employe. The bandits escaped in a black Mustang.

★ ★ ★

The men narrowly escaped capture after an employe tripped a silent alarm. Police arrived moments too late, but spotted the fleeing vehicle. The credit union had also been robbed of $60,000 on Feb. 1, 1968.

Police are continuing their investigation of the two holdups but have made no arrests.

Says Russia Not Frightened

Brezhnev: China Plans War

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev today accused Red China of planning nuclear and conventional war against the Soviet Union.

He made the charge in a speech at the world conference of Communist parties, which has been boycotted by the Peking regime and its allies in the feud with Moscow.

"The Soviet Union has sufficiently strong forces to defend itself and the Soviet people have strong nerves and will not be frightened by shouts," Brezhnev told the leaders and delegations of 75 participating parties.

★ ★ ★

He accused the Mao Tse-tung regime of seeking to dominate the worldwide Communist movement and linked its ambition with "the great power effort of the Peking government to acquire territories of other countries." It was an obvious reference to recent claims by Red China on Soviet territories in the Far East.

Both Moscow and Peking have reported clashes between their border forces with both sides suffering casualties.

Yesterday, Peking accused Moscow of deliberately provoking a series of incidents, including armed incursions, artillery shellings and kidnapping of soldiers and civilians. Moscow denied the charges.

Brezhnev said the people of China have been indoctrinated with the thought of the "messianic role of China, the mass indoctrination in the spirit of Chauvinism and vicious anti-Sovietism."

He said the Chinese children are taught geography with textbooks and maps "which ascribe the lands of other countries to the Chinese state."

WARNING IGNORED

He castigated the Red Chinese in spite of the warning from Romanian President Nicolae Ceausescu yesterday that anti-Chinese pronouncements may be dangerous to the conference's success. Other speakers also had ignored Ceausescu, who once led his delegation in a walkout from a preparatory commission meeting because of the attacks on Peking.

★ ★ ★

Brezhnev referred to an appeal in the official Peking newspaper two days ago for "preparation to fight Soviet revisionism in conventional as well as the great nuclear war."

The Soviet Union itself came under fire earlier over the Warsaw Pact invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Australian Communist party secretary Lorrie Aarons yesterday openly condemned the invasion and said it "harmed our cause — the struggle for a socialist world."

"We say openly the intervention in Czechoslovakia was wrong," Aarons said.

Crowd Surrounds Robert F. Kennedy's Grave At Arlington Last Night

Over 5,000 at RFK Memorial

WASHINGTON (AP) — When it was over they came through the darkness down the slopes of the great cemetery at Arlington to place candles — hundreds of them — on a granite ledge near the foot of Robert Francis Kennedy's grave.

They had come — more than 5,000 persons — to mark the first full year since an assassin's bullet took the New York senator's life.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, in a black suit, stood next to Ethel, his brother's widow. Hatless and wearing a simple all-white dress, she was in the center of the long row of Kennedy kin as the memorial folk Mass began last night.

Near the end of the line, standing a few paces from Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, was Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, wearing a fitted black dress. A few yards behind her, across a hedge and a marble terrace, was the grave of another American leader, her first husband, President John F. Kennedy.

HANDED CANDLE

Mrs. Onassis was handed a candle. She bent over and touched it to the flame held by former astronaut John Glenn who was kneeling near her feet, shielding the flickering light against the early evening wind with his hands. Later her candle blew out and she rekindled it from the one held by her son, John F. Kennedy Jr.

★ ★ ★

The Kennedy graves had been the goal of many visitors throughout the warm day. Ethel Kennedy came first, shortly after dawn, and knelt silently at her husband's stark white cross. Mrs. Onassis came late in the afternoon, pausing briefly at her brother-in-law's resting place, then walking the few steps to the eternal flame and black slate slabs that mark the graves of her husband and two of their children.

The Mass, beginning in the glow of sunset, had 15 guitarists and 70 singers and was led by white-robed Terrence Cardinal Cooke, Archbishop of New York.

"Robert Francis Kennedy was a man who responded with every breath and heartbeat to the destiny which called him . . ." the cardinal said.

3 Viet Bodies Give Backing to Thieu on Talks

SAIGON (AP) — President Nugyen Van Thieu prepared today to leave for the Midway Island conference with statements of support from South Vietnam's Senate, National Assembly and National Security Council.

Resolutions, differing in phrasing but expressing the same general views on a solution to the war and South Vietnam's political future, were adopted by all three bodies on the eve of Thieu's departure.

★ ★ ★

In their resolutions of support for Thieu, all three government bodies emphasized opposition to any form of coalition government that would include the Communists, a point on which Thieu himself has been adamant.

"Every pressure to set up a coalition government with Communist participation . . . shall be firmly rejected," declared the Senate's five-part resolution.

'FREE ELECTIONS'

"The political future of South Vietnam shall be decided by the people of South Vietnam themselves in free elections under the constitution and in a spirit of reconciliation."

All three bodies also took the position that elections can only be held under the terms of the South Vietnamese Constitution which calls for elections in 1971. The possibility of elections being held before then has been hinted at by Nixon and other U.S. officials in public discussion of a political settlement.

★ ★ ★

The elections question is one of the key issues to be dealt with in the Midway meetings, as is the issue of withdrawal by American and other forces from the war.

On the subject of withdrawal by allied carried out bilaterally under international control and guarantees," meaning that it could not occur unless North Vietnamese forces also pulled out.

STRONGER LANGUAGE

The National Assembly adopted somewhat stronger language on this point, saying that any concession by the allies, including a withdrawal of troops, would be a betrayal of soldiers killed in the war thus far and would encourage aggression by the Communists.

COG Chief Hits 'Distorted' Troy Report

William L. Mainland, chairman of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), today charged Troy Mayor Jules Famulero and the Troy City Commission with failure to do its homework before deciding to withdraw from SEMCOG.

Troy commissioners are expected to vote Monday night to withdraw from SEMCOG, their action based on a report issued by a four-member committee appointed by Famulero. The report stated regional governments are expensive, ineffective and not subject to local control.

Mainland at a noon press conference, charged, "The recently released City of Troy study report on SEMCOG appears to be a serious distortion of reality, filled with factual inaccuracies and dealing in large part with a sort of doomsday conjecture."

★ ★ ★

An Oakland County supervisor from Milford Township, Mainland said a SEMCOG staff review of the report indicates that inaccuracy and distortion occur in four general areas:

- "Some doomsday conjecture about a 'supergovernment' of the future."
- "A baseless fear of direct taxation by SEMCOG."
- "Unwarranted assumption that the will of the people is ignored in the decision-making process."
- "A myopic charge that SEMCOG is a do-nothing organization."

'ACTION LIKELY MONDAY'

Said Mainland, "Famulero has indicated that the city council will probably act on the report and recommendation Monday night with a possibility that SEMCOG might be allowed to meet with the council and study committee at a later date.

"Thus research will occur after a conclusion has been reached, rather than before."

Troy, contributes $900 a year to SEMCOG's $525,000 yearly budget.

Court Kills Hershey Draft Directive

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal appeals court says draft boards cannot follow Lewis B. Hershey's directive to squelch antiwar demonstrators by taking away draft deferments — even if the demonstrations are illegal.

The court did not, however, rule unconstitutional cancellation of deferments for such draft law violations as burning draft cards.

The unanimous three-judge decision nullified what it referred to as a directive, a 1967 letter from Selective Serviec Director Hershey to the 4,087 local draft boards saying they may reclassify registrants who participate in illegal demonstrations.

"This declaration of war against antiwar protesters springs full-grown from the head of Gen. Hershey, without benefit of reference to any provision of the Selective Service Act or regulations," the court said.

★ ★ ★

"Draft-eligible males who are willing to run the risk of a prosecution for a misdemeanor in order to make a protest might still be intimidated by threat of 1A classification," the decision said. "Accordingly, we think the deferment policy works a pronounced chilling effect on legal or protested conduct."

★ ★ ★

A source close to the court explained that the judges' 36-page decision meant: "If an act, although illegal, does not violate Selective Service statute, it should not be made the occasion for reclassification."

War Protesters Get Prison Terms in Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Eleven war protesters were sentenced to two-year prison terms Friday, as supporters chanted and sang outside the courtroom.

The 11 were among 12 members of the "Milwaukee 14" who were convicted of theft, arson and burglary in connection with the seizing and burning of draft records Sept. 24. They were given concurrent two-year terms for theft and arson and four years' probation for burglary.

The 12th defendant who was convicted, the Rev. Jon Higginbotham, 27, of St. Cloud, Minn., asked that his sentencing be postponed until he could retain an attorney. Sentencing for him was set for Monday morning. The 12 had dismissed their attorneys at the beginning of the state trial.

The other two members of the Milwaukee 14 had requested separate trials. Michael D. Cullen, 26, of Milwaukee still faces both state and federal charges, and the 14th man, Jerold T. Gardner, 25, of Milwaukee, was sentenced to one year in prison Wednesday after pleading guilty to a federal charge of interfering with operation of the Selective Service System.

The 12 who were convicted on the state charges are scheduled to go on trial Monday in federal court on charges of conspiracy, destroying government records and interfering with the operation of the Selective Service System. The first two charges were dropped in Gardner's case on the recommendation of the U.S. attorney. The 12 have dismissed their attorneys in the federal case, too, they said Friday.

Despite their scheduled court appearances in Milwaukee Monday, the 11 who were sentenced Friday were ordered taken immediately to the state penitentiary at Waupun.

Judge Charles Larson, who imposed the sentences, said he was not empowered to stay the execution of the prison sentences because the federal authorities had not requested it.

Before sentencing, Larson denied a motion for a new trial.

In his presentence remarks, Fred J. Ojile, 23, of Minneapolis announced that the group intends to appeal the conviction on the state charges.

Sentenced along with Ojile were: the Rev. Anthony J. Mullaney, 39, Boston; K. Basil O'Leary, 48, Winona, Minn.; James H. Forest, 23, New York; the Rev. Robert Cunnane, 36, Stoughton, Mass.; the Rev. 2 Men Lost in Wilds

Search for Plane Shifts

SAULT STE. MARIE (UPI) — The Canadian-American search for a biplane, missing since Tuesday with two Toledo, Ohio, men aboard, shifted to a wilderness area in northern Ontario today as friends of the two flew in to aid in the hunt.

The plane was lost when it ran into a thunderstorm along its route from Gallico Lake, about 200 miles north of the Soo, to Sault Ste. Marie for customs clearance. It was one of four planes returning to Toledo after the men had completed a fishing trip.

★ ★ ★

The missing men were identified as Henry Colwitz, 43 and Robert Cottingham, age unknown, both of Toledo.

Ten planes belonging to a Toledo flying club were due here early today to aid in the search that has shifted to remote Batchawanna Bay, about 60 miles north of the Soo and along the flight path the plane was known to be on when it was lost.

★ ★ ★

Canadian Armed Forces spokesmen said they had two reports from persons in the area who said they has heard the sound of a plane in the area during the storm.

Since the search was begun Thursday by a combined Canadian and American search team, more than 5,000 square miles of wilderness has been flown over.

SDS Aide: U.S. Blocks Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leader of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) claims the federal government is frustrating the militant organization's bid to find a campus site for its annual convention.

The FBI and Justice Department refused comment on the contention by Mike Klonsky, a national secretary of the group that has spearheaded scores of collegiate confrontations.

Spokesmen for two of the universities named by Klonsky as potential places for the convention—Wisconsin and Buffalo—gave other reasons for not accepting the session.

When contacted at the group's national headquarters in Chicago Friday, Klonsky maintained: "We're being banned from every campus in the country.

"We had been accepted at a lot of schools, but as soon as the word got out the federal government stepped in and made them cancel it."

Senate OKs 2 Bills to Restrict Bar Suits

LANSING (AP)—When a bartender draws that tall, cold beer and rushes it across the counter to a thirsty customer, he faces at least two very serious possibilities.

The drinker may be underage, or he later may hurt himself or another person while under the influence. Responsibility, in either case rests with the tavern owner.

Two bills passed Friday in the Senate are aimed at helping tavern owners avoid costly damage suits on court charges because of acts by customers.

One bill would allow tavern owners to require youthful-looking customers to sign statements vouching for the validity of their identifying documents. The operator could use that to support a claim he sold the drink in good faith, based on evidence the customers was legally entitled to it.

EXEMPTION

A second measure would exempt liquor license holders from responsibility for damage done by their customers unless "visibly and actually intoxicated."

Sen. Stanley Novak, D-Detroit, sponsor of both bills, said they were aimed at helping "mom and pop" bar owners who face increasing insurance premiums and bond charges.

The House, meanwhile, discussed then put off until September, action on a bill to license and control trading stamps given with merchandise.

Rep. Harold Clark, D-Warren, won a reprieve from the apparently defeat-bound bill which he's been introducing for five years.

Trading stamp companies would be required to deposit bonds with the State Commerce Department before starting business in the state or withdrawing their promotion.

Clark contended his bill would protect shoppers from having to pay for the price of the stamps whether wanted or not. "You've never even heard of some of them," he said.

In other action, the lower chamber approved a plan to establish a drug abuse program at Detroit's Lafayette Clinic. It would be designated to receive any available federal matching funds for drug abuse research.

Law Costs Thousands State Driver Licenses

LANSING (AP)—A new state law is resulting in Michigan drivers losing their licenses in record numbers, reports Secretary of State James Hare.

"The law is a monstrosity," Hare said. "When a driver does not pay a moving violation ticket within a 40-day period, he receives an automatic suspension.

★ ★ ★

"This suspension continues until he pays the ticket and sends in the court clearance with a penalty fee of $2."

Hare, a critic of the law, said it has resulted in thousands of suspensions since it went into effect in January "and the total is rising each day."

LACK OF COMPLAINTS

"The amazing thing to me is that there hasn't been a groundswell of criticism on the part of the suspended drivers," Hare said.

Hare said he thought the main reason for the lack of complaints is that many of the drivers still have their licenses in possession.

★ ★ ★

He predicted the protests will come when these drivers end up in jail or have their cars impounded for driving on suspended licenses.

Hare said he favors instead the so-called Illinois system, under which the driver surrenders his license to the arresting policeman until his court appearance.

7,000 INCREASE

Hare said actions against driver, including license suspensions, revocations, cancellation, restrictions and denials, added up to more than 28,000 during the first four months of the year.

He said this was an increase of more than 7,000 over the same period last year.

In April alone, Hare said, 11,427 drivers had various actions taken against them. Nearly 5,000 of these actions were a direct result of the automatic suspension law, he reported.

Free Press a Sentinel

Today is Freedom of the Press Day.

Freedom of the press and of speech constitute the torch of liberty and democracy, the flame of which is being extinguished in various countries around the world.

Highlighting the Day, is the significant statement by AUGUSTIN E. EDWARDS, president of the Inter American Press Association (IAPA), in which he called on the 1,000 members of the organization to condemn all governments which curtail their citizens' right to know what is going on in their own countries and in the world.

★ ★ ★

The statement also denounced governments which threaten and harass information media, and cited the governments of Cuba and Haiti as conspicuous culprits.

EDWARDS decried in the strongest terms the actions of military figures who seize governmental control in the mistaken belief that they could best serve their countries in this way, and in pursuit thereof exercise the right and duty to select and censor any information affecting their countrymen.

"But," he warned, "we as newspapermen can condemn and protest only if we demonstrate publicly and continuously that we truly fulfill our great responsibility of publishing accurate and objective information."

Because of the alarming events in some Latin American countries in past months, asserted the IAPA head, we today address our creed to those governments which, professing the political ideals by which free peoples live, have arrogantly claimed for themselves the sole possession of "truth."

Keep Your Credit Cards Safe

Fraudulent use of credit cards is costing American firms and their legitimate customers at least $20 million a year.

Service stations, department stores, hotels and restaurants are the chief targets of bogus credit card holders, says Pinkerton's, Inc. More than 16,000 fraud cases in a single year have been reported by the major oil companies alone.

There is no mystery about the phenomenon. There are 400 million of the little plastic oblongs now in circulation in the Country and some $5 billions in charged purchases are made with them each year.

A stolen, found or otherwise acquired card in the wrong hands — or in the hands of a theft ring to which a card is fenced—is better than a blank check. A fantastic amount of purchases can be made before the loss of a card is reported by its rightful holder and the company that issued it can alert its retail outlets.

The potential purchasing range, both economic and geographical, of a single credit card will vastly increase in the future. Cards issued by airlines, banks and the petroleum, retail, travel and entertainment industries may be standardized and interchangeable by next summer, reports the USA Standards Institute. These firms are the major issuers of credit cards.

★ ★ ★

This will add even greater reasons for card holders to take a few sensible precautions to protect themselves:

- Don't carry more cards than you can use, especially on business trips or vacations out of the area in which you reside.
- Keep not-in-use cards in a safe place and retain a list of the cards and numbers registered to you.
- Carry credit cards in a separate holder, not in your wallet. Driver's licenses and other identifying papers most people carry in their wallets or billfolds make stolen credit cards more valuable to the crooks.
- Report a lost card immediately. As printed on the reverse of most credit cards, the holder is responsible for all merchandise and services obtained by any person "whether or not authorized by the holder." Cards will continue to be honored until the issuing firm receives written notice of loss or theft.

★ ★ ★

Best method of notification is with a registered letter, with return receipt requested, as this will serve as a record that the loss has been reported.

The POWER of FAITH

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

SPIRITUAL SUMMIT CONFERENCE NO. 1

Calcutta, India, was the scene of a spiritual breakthrough in international, interreligious understanding and cooperation. There were outstanding representatives of Buddhist, Confucian, Christian, Hindu, Islamic and Jewish thought, as well as spokesmen for Zoroastrianism, Shinto, Sikh, Jain and Baha'i faiths.

The Spiritual Summit Conference was sponsored by the Temple of Understanding, Inc., a nonprofit organization founded in 1960 by Mrs. Dickerman Hollister of Greenwich, Conn. Its purpose is to promote education and understanding among the world's great religions.

Attending along with the religious leaders were special counselors and students. The theme of the conference was the relevance of religion in the modern world and the realities of interreligious understanding. The problems of the world were common to all and the unique and authoritative symposium was on poverty, discrimination and prejudice, population and food supply, the generation gap and the underlying causes of violence and war.

Thomas Merton* (Brother Louis), Trappist monk, Abbey of Gethsemani, Kentucky, brilliant author of 28 books and representative of the Catholic faith, summed up the conference in his address. He said, "My dear brothers, we are already one, but we imagine that we are not. And what we have to recover is our original unity. What we have to be is what we are."

*Thomas Merton's untimely death in Bangkok after the conference was a great loss to the world.

School Board Election Important to Community

Pontiac school board elections are Monday, June 9. What your vote means is whether or not Pontiac will be a "community" after the election. Community requires harmony of the people in their actions, thoughts and feelings. Harmony doesn't mean conformity, it doesn't mean a common voice, it doesn't mean sweep the militant black voice under the rug in hopes no one will listen.

Vote in the Pontiac school board election. Think before you vote. A vote decision made on feelings and attitudes rather than reality will only continue to disharmonize a significant part of our community.

If you want Pontiac to be a community where there is a sense of people pulling together for the best of the community, you have a moral responsibility to vote. If you're not a part of the solution, you're a part of the problem. Be a part of the solution of the community.

Gives Opinion on Brandon Township Story

I would like to refute the irresponsible article printed in the May 28 issue of The Press about Brandon Township. Anyone reading the article is surely aware of the lack of quotation marks, but even where certain things are quoted by me, they are either entirely wrong, misquoted, or taken out of context. The reporter misrepresented himself as to the type of article he was preparing. I take exception to many statements in the story. We have the best township in Oakland County and probably in the entire States.

'Urge Deleting Profanity From News Items'

I wonder why the profane words printed in various news items and quotations by people could not be deleted. It seems to be quite common in newspapers and some magazines. It is disgusting to have to listen to this language in the place you work and then read it in the papers. It is a sign of weakness and insecurity.

Question and Answer

Although elections are long since past, would it still be possible to obtain miniature dolls of the three Presidential candidates at an area department store?

THE COLLECTOR

REPLY

We checked stores, doll manufacturers, doll hospitals (including one in New York which has repaired dolls for the Nixons) and collectors, but found no one knew of such dolls. You didn't say where, or even if, you'd seen them, and we couldn't reach you by phone. One doll authority suggested they may have been novelties not put out by regular doll companies, in which case they would no longer be available. We'll let you know if we hear of any through readers.

Question and Answer

What is the dress code for students attending Pontiac senior high schools?

T.R.A.

REPLY

Mr. Errington says at Central the students' clothing should not distract from instruction in class. Slacks in good taste, culottes are allowed, shorts and excessively short skirts aren't. He says as a general rule there is no dress problem. Mr. Johnson at Northern says their students' clothes are expected to be modest and in good taste. The same general rules apply as at Central, and Mr. Johnson says the staff is interested in student dress and presently holding meetings to discuss the dress code.

Confident Living:

Greater People Are on the Way

By NORMAN V. PEALE

Four unusual little trees are growing today in a very special garden in Appleton, Wis. I learned about them from a man sitting next to me on an airplane trip I took recently.

DR. PEALE

He was in the lumber business, and after we got talking he told me about these four trees that are going to revolutionize the lumber business.

It seems that the trees were developed after six years of experimentation and they were not grown from seeds and pollinated as ordinary trees are. They all came from tiny plugs taken out of one of the biggest and best aspen trees the scientists could find. Each of the four plugs, after special chemical treatment, has begun to grow, and eventually will turn into an exact duplicate of the tree it was cut from.

No crossbreeding, but an exact duplicate.

★ ★ ★

"Well," I asked the man who was describing this, "what does it mean?"

"Why," he said, "we won't have to worry any more about differences in trees. We can grow whole forests of the same tree, the biggest and most powerful tree we can find."

Then he went on, "This is only the beginning. Maybe some day they'll be doing the same thing with man. Can you imagine being able to create as many exact duplicates of people like Einstein or Beethoven as we wanted?"

"Well," I said to him, "would that make a better world? The great beauty of life is its diversity, and more than that, diversity is the great glory of man."

★ ★ ★

Each of us has an individuality that sets us apart from every other man. Each of us has spiritual qualities given us by our parents that set us aside as something special. The gentleness of a mother, for example, coupled with the lofty mental characteristics of a father make a great person.

Now those four little trees in Appleton, Wis., may revolutionize the lumber business, but I devoutly hope no scientist ever starts to tinker with the infinite variety of man created by God, for the variety in each of us expresses a different part of the greatness of God that is in us all.

Why should anyone think that an Einstein or a Beethoven represents the final glory of man? Far greater, perhaps, are the glories of human beings who are born and die without achieving fame, but who have created in their quiet ways more marvelous feats of the human spirit than the greatest artists or the greatest scientists.

Man is in a constant state of development. A great English writer and preacher by the name of Leslie Weatherhead once described the history of the individual man in a way I've never forgotten.

★ ★ ★

He described the baby lying up under it's mother's heart. Now if that baby could have talked, he would have said, "How good it is here. How warm and secure." The idea of being born and leaving that warmth and security would terrify that baby. But after the miracle of birth, the fear passes and the wonder and joy of childhood begins. Could be it's that way in the after earthly life too!

★ ★ ★

We have groped a way out of the darkness and face the unknown beauties yet to be discovered. The continuing adaptation of man to his changing world is the most exciting aspect of man's nature. Who knows what marvelous creatures the children yet to be born will be? But maybe those same marvels can show up in you. What about it?

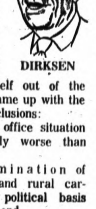
Postmaster Packages Postal Problems

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

WASHINGTON — Winton M. Blount, the successful Alabama contractor, is a very unusual man.



DIRKSEN

When he became postmaster general in the Nixon Cabinet, he quickly called for a survey of the postal situation. Then, aware that he may well be pushing himself out of the Cabinet, he came up with the following conclusions:

- The post office situation was incredibly worse than suspected.
- The nomination of postmasters and rural carriers on a political basis would have to end.
- It would be well to take the recommendations of the Kappel Commission and organize a self-sustaining postal corporation with a board of directors and a general manager.

★ ★ ★

- It would be necessary for the Congress to delegate power of postal rate-making to such a corporation.
- The corporation would have to have authority to deal with the postal unions.
- The proposed postal corporation would have to have independent authority to issue bonds for the modification, reconstruction and maintenance of the new system.

That is quite a package, and President Nixon has asked Congress for it. Postmaster General Blount must sell that package to the Congress and the postal workers, too, and to local political leaders.

★ ★ ★

The first effort to provide for the naming of postmasters and rural carriers has met with opposition in the House of Representatives. Heavy opposition came from county chairmen and precinct committeemen over the country who felt that they would lose the only bit of political patronage that they enjoyed.

The creation of a corporation with a board of directors and a manager implies the power to make decisions and rules and regulations that would be oriented toward improvement of the postal service. It would seem that such rules and regulations would call for the repeal of a good many presently in effect, with substitution of new ones.

When such regulations have been in effect for a long time, there is bound to be a natural reluctance by those in the postal service to see them change, regardless of the improvements to be expected.

The rate-making question would probably offer real difficulty because it would involve the establishment of proper postal rates for all air mail, first-class mail and rates for magazines, newspapers and books — virtually everything but parcel post rates which are fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

How could such important changes come about? Action first would be required by the Post Office Department committees of both the House and the Senate, then by the House and Senate themselves and, finally, a signature by the President.

Rate-making has been in the hands of Congress since time immemorial, and it is a question of whether Congress would be willing to surrender that authority and, if it does, whether the successor authority would be hedged about by such exceptions and restrictions as to nullify in large part its effect.

★ ★ ★

Pervading the whole Post Office Department is a certain sense of desperation because the deficit grows year by year, especially so when rates are not increased while pay increases are approved.

The way things are going, it will only be a question of time before the Post Office Department will fairly flounder in red ink.

If Postmaster General Blount wins his fight to reorganize and revitalize the Post Office Department, he will have fought himself out of the Cabinet, with some regrets, no doubt, but happily, because of the victory.

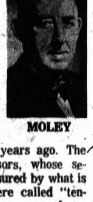
Poor Teaching – Unhappy Students

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Most of the cases of student unrest go back a good many years. A bit of history about Columbia will provide an excellent example.



MOLEY

As I noted in a piece recently, the senior faculties there virtually gained control of educational policies about 50 years ago. The major professors, whose security was assured by what is now everywhere called "tenure," won the power of appointment, promotion and the determination of what was to be taught and how.

At the same time, a fundamental change was made in the teaching load of the permanent staff. After professors had been assured of permanent tenure, had taught in undergraduate divisions (especially in Columbia College) and had written a book or two, they were promoted to the graduate faculties of political science, philosophy and pure science.

Their new teaching loads were generally four hours a week, one two-hour lecture and a seminar. The undergraduates were then left to the relatively inexperienced instructors and assistant professors. The change was made because of the theory that these senior scholars would be more productive — more books and more research.

These light classroom loads certainly provided the happy few with more time on their hands. For the same lecture on the same subject could be given year after year. And a graduate seminar teaches itself because at each session a student would present a paper of his own for discussion. The professors did little but listen and inject an occasional question.

For the most part, the teaching of undergraduates is still left to untrained and low-paid teachers. These juniors have little or no experience in the classroom. For their graduate training makes no provision for learning the art of teaching. Nor have these green instructors any background of knowledge to illuminate their lectures or class discussions. Students are like the man who goes to a noted doctor to cure him and finds himself turned over to an intern.

Of course, the students are bored and frustrated when they find themselves forced into a huge class with a novice on the platform. They are shortchanged. They selected a university whose reputation was won long ago by luminous educators, but they never see any of these well-known figures.

They might better have gone to a smaller college where there were only undergraduates and the professors were less eminent. And the result is that many students came to be restless, rebellious activists outside the classroom. They blame the administration. They should blame the faculty.

The real remedy is not greater participation of students in administration but more teaching by those who are able to interest and inspire those who are really seeking an education.

On Memorial Day Weekend

Bridge Traffic Sets 4 Records

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Memorial Day weekend traffic set four new records at the Mackinac Bridge, reports Bridge Authority Chairman Prentiss Brown.

"As predicted, last Friday was the biggest single day's traffic during a Memorial Day weekend since the opening of the bridge more than 11 years ago," Brown said.

* * *

There were 9,109 bridge crossings on Memorial Day of 1958, setting a 24-hour record for the holiday until last Friday when 12,164 vehicles crossed the bridge.

The second record was the most vehicles to cross the bridge in a hour in a single direction. This was 1,062 southbound vehicles between noon and 1 p.m. Sunday. The previous record was 1,040 vehicles northbound between 11 a.m. and noon on July 1, 1967.

THIRD RECORD

The third record was 47,623 vehicles crossing over a five-day Memorial Day period. The previous high was 32,901 vehicles last Memorial Day.

Brown said the final record was the new high of 122,325 vehicles crossing the bridge in May—up more than 32 per cent over the 92,431 crossings in May of last year.

* * *

Brown attributed the records to a combination of the reduction in bridge fees, a surge of warm weather preceeding the holiday and high employment, making travel money available.

Bridge traffic for the first five months of the year was 341,843, up 25 per cent from the 273,491 crossings during the same period a year ago.

Gas Firm Gets State OK on Rate Hike

LANSING (UPI) — Thousands of Michiganders who warm their homes in the winter and cool them in the summer with natural gas will soon find their monthly utility bills going up.

That was assured yesterday when the State Public Service Commission (PSC) approved a $4,170,683 rate increase for the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. of Detroit.

* * *

Consolidated, a subsidiary of American Natural Gas Co. of Chicago, serves 960,000 Michigan customers, 75 per cent of them in the populous Detroit metropolitan area.

* * *

The PSC action rejected a petition by Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley to cut Consolidated's rates by $10 million. The company had sought a $26.9-million rate hike.

BREAKDOWN NOT KNOWN

It was not determined immediately how much of the $4.1-million increase will be borne by homeowners and how much by industrial gas customers.

PSC Chairman Willis F. Ward of Detroit, who joined with the commissioner William A. Boos Jr. of Saginaw in approving the rate hike, said it was necessary to allow the utility's shareholders a "fair and reasonable" return on their investment.

Michigan law permits a privately owned utility to charge rates high enough to permit a reasonable return — but no higher.

The PSC, figuring on a percentage of plant investment, based the increase on a rate return of 6.88 per cent, under the company's proposed 8 per cent. Kelley claimed shareholders earned a 14 per cent return on their investment last year.

FURTHER INCREASES?

The decision could prompt the other 40 gas production and distribution firms serving Michigan to seek similar rate increases this year.

And it boosted hopes of the other three members of Michigan's "big four" utilities — Detroit Edison Co., Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and Consumers Power Co. — for favorable PSC action on their rate increase applications.

* * *

Together, the utilities propose to add at least $40 million a year to gas, power and telephone bills of roughly 2.5 million families and individuals. The Consolidated case was the first in line.

Collision Knocked Skipper Out of Bed

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — The skipper of the U.S. destroyer sliced in half by an Australian aircraft carrier says the impact of the collision knocked him from his bunk, and his first thought was that "We had been mined or torpedoed."

Cmdr. Albert S. McLemore of the destroyer Frank E. Evans recalled at a news conference Friday how he bent with his hands the jagged metal that was barring escape from his room.

* * *

Then "I was in the water," he said. "Several of us gathered together—I don't know how many—and we were saved. I don't know how I escaped."

McLemore and 197 other survivors of the collision between the Evans and the Australian carrier Melbourne arrived here Friday aboard the U.S. aircraft carrier Kearsarge. Seventy-four of the Evans' crew members were lost in the crash Tuesday.

SWAM ACROSS ROOM

With McLemore at the news conference was Lt. Cmdr. George L. McMichael, executive officer of the Evans. McMichael said the collision knocked him from bed also, and that when he stepped out of his room the hallway wall had become the floor. He swam across the wardroom and found himself standing on the bow section of the ship, he said. Then he plunged into the water, swam away, and saw the bow rear up and slide into the South China Sea.

The two officers declined to discuss details of the collision or the events leading up to it because a joint U.S.-Australian board will meet in Subic Bay Monday to investigate the crash.

In Saigon, a U.S. 7th Fleet spokesman said today that one of the American sailors aboard the Evans apparently was thrown from his ship in the collision and landed on the deck of the Melbourne.

FOUND ON DECK

The spokesman said Seaman Marcus Rodriguez, 20, of Fresno, Calif., was found lying on the deck of the carrier. "We don't know how it happened, but I get the impression that he was tossed," the spokesman added.

Rodriguez, who is recuperating in an Air Force hospital at Cam Ranh Bay, South Vietnam, suffered a broken leg and head bruises in the crash. He said he couldn't remember much of what had happened before a helicopter picked him up and flew him to the hospital.

BOWING OUT—The end of the school year in Springfield, Mo., carries the same meaning as in the rest of the country — all students must remove personal belongings from the school. Here Donna Weter, 14, totes her musical instrument home, probably wishing she had played the piccolo.

Envoy's Daughter Safe

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Magdalena Van Der Spuy, daughter of the South African ambassador in Vienna, who told her mother by telephone Thursday she had been kidnaped, has been found in good health this morning, the South African Embassy reported.

Cormel Mulder, embassy press attache, said "we lack further details, but we know she arrived at a police station in a taxi, somewhere at the city border."

Mulder said the girl was "completely wet, having walked in the rain for some time."

Hundreds of policemen had searched for the 16-year-old daughter of Ambassador Johannes P. Van Der Spuy.

Mrs. Van Der Spuy said her daughter told her by telephone Thursday she was being held in a tall building by a man after being grabbed on the street on her way home from school on Wednesday afternoon.

The girl told her mother she believed she was in a suburb of Vienna but gave no exact location. Mrs. Van Der Spuy said her daughter did not sound hysterical and did not appear to be under the influence of drugs.

The schoolmates said the pretty brunette told them she wanted to make some purchases and would take the bus home.

Robert Taylor Report

Actor's Condition Worse

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Robert Taylor's condition has worsened since he reentered a hospital for treatment of lung cancer, a spokesman says.

The spokesman for St. John's Hospital in nearby Santa Monica gave no other details Friday.

★ ★ ★

Most of the actor's right lung was removed last Oct. 8 because of a fungus infection called valley fever. Two months later his wife, Ursula Thiess, told newsmen Taylor, 57, had a malignant cancer in the same lung.

Until a few weeks ago Taylor had been at his 113-acre ranch near Hollywood. He told newsmen he had stopped smoking and had lost 30 pounds.

"I think I've got it beaten, but I know it's a long haul to recovery and I know it's worth any amount of patience and care to get well again," he was quoted as saying in January.

★ ★ ★

In 27 years with MGM studio he made 60 films. His best known picture in recent years was "Miracle of the White Stallions." Taylor starred in the television series "The Detective" for two years.

1½ Tons of Lumber Fall on City Man

A Pontiac man was in poor condition in Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township, this morning after 3,000 pounds of lumber fell on him while he was working at Wickes Lumber, 2230 Crooks, Avon Township.

Hospitalized with severe head and chest injuries is Randy Lee Moore, 21, of 144 Summit. According to sheriff's deputies, about 5:10 p.m. yesterday Moore was working with a fork-lift truck in the lumber yard when he fell and a bundle of 8-foot-long 2-by-4s fell on him.

The yard supervisor, Mack Meeker, lifted the load off the victim with another fork lift, deputies said.

Some 45 million Americans are employed in private industry.

Service Station Is Broken Into

The looting of Gingellville Service Station at 4016 Baldwin, Orion Township, of more than $500 in merchandise was reported yesterday to the County Sheriff's office.

Taken in the break-in, which occurred the previous night, were 19 tires and other equipment, including batteries and oil filters.

News in Brief

More than $450 worth of goods was taken in a break-in of an apartment at 50 Stout yesterday, according to Pontiac Police. Occupant Larry Bumbalough, 20, told police taken included a $200 guitar plus two lamps, a radio and television set.

Must Keep Surtax, Nixon Aide Warns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Possible devaluation of the dollar, perhaps a further credit squeeze and a recession could come about if Congress does not continue the tax surcharge, says senior presidential aid Arthur F. Burns.

★ ★ ★

Burns, also a former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, gave this reasoning in an interview in the Washington Post:

"If the Congress should fail to act on the surcharge, the interpretation abroad will be that this government is no longer prepared to fight inflation.

STIFF WARNING

"Such a reversal in the state of foreign opinion may make it extremely difficult, if not impossible, to maintain the international value of the dollar," Burns said in the stiffest administration warning to date in favor of keeping the surtax which expires June 30.

At home, Burns said, "this will be interpreted at once by many that the government will not take measures needed to bring inflation under control.

★ ★ ★

"There will be other businessmen who will conclude that the Federal Reserve policy will become even tighter than it is. This may lead to a scramble for loans and interest rates, already abnormally high, may rise higher still," he said.

"A further rise in interest rates would be a serious threat to the continuance of our prosperity. There would be a credit crunch followed by a business recession,' Burns said.

★ ★ ★

While there is some uncertainty in Congress, Burns said he thought the surtax extension would pass.

The administration has proposed continuing the present 10 per cent tax rate until Dec. 31, then dropping it to 5 per cent until inflationary pressures abate.

Crash Injures Motorcyclist

A man from Madison Heights was hospitalized today after his motorcycle collided with a gravel truck yesterday at Dequindre and Hamlin, Macomb County, according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

In fair condition in Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township, today is Bernard H. Travnikar, 21. His motorcycle collided with a truck driven by James R. Verellen, 36, of St. Clair, about 2 p.m.

Dem Backs Nixon Defense View

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., said today "resurgent isolationism" threatens the efforts of the United Statees to meet its responsibilities as a world power.

McGee thus sided with President Nixon in the running debate over U.S. defense policy.

★ ★ ★

His terms were similar to those used Wednesday by the President in denunciation of "new isolationism." That speech drew angry response from Senate critics of the war in Vietnam and of military programs such as the antiballistic missile system.

In a speech prepared for commencement exercises at Seton Hall University here, McGee said the United States has responsibilities around the world which cannot be shirked.

"Despite the importance of America's continued involvement in the world there are many on the streets and in high places—including the Senate of the United States—who have tired of responsibility and seek to move away from America's historical situation," McGee said.

"Resurgent isolationism is the principal threat to a successful American policy in Asia and to this country's discharge of its responsibilities around the globe as a world power," McGee said.

★ ★ ★

"This is a responsibility we cannot shrug off, for at a time when the world is getting smaller and when the problems among nations are becoming more complex, it would be criminal for the United States to move away from its share of responsibility in coping with international crises," McGee said.

In Washington Friday, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D. Ark., voiced to Secretary of State William P. Rogers his complaints about Nixon's speech.

"Its tone was very uncompromising, very, very rough," Fulbright said later. "But the secretary was not responsible for that speech. He indicated he thought perhaps I had overreacted."

Pontiac firemen fought a blaze at 211 S. Anderson yesterday which caused about $1,500 damage to the home and furnishings. Firemen, who were called at 3:30 p.m., said the blaze started from leaking gasoline from a lawn mower.

Change Marks Walled Lake Sex Education Program

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the final article in a series on sex education in the Walled Lake School District.)

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

Walled Lake School District has had a sex education program for 10 years and can be expected to continue to have one in the future. Change has been a constant factor in the program.

School officials say the program was begun in 1959 at the suggestion of a group of concerned parents and has continued ever since, always at the request of parents.

★ ★ ★

The program was first suggested by parents of children at the Union Lake Elementary School who decided their children should have more information about human reproduction and the growth process.

★ ★ ★

Called "Growing Up," the course, taught by a nurse, was attended by both parent and child. The adults viewed the program one evening and returned with their children the next. Girls and boys came on separate nights.

OK'D BY PTA COUNCIL

The PTA Council, composed of members of each school's PTA, approved of the Union Lake program and voted to take on sex education as a project.

The parents' organization at each elementary school then voted whether or not to accept the program. By 1962, all seven schools had sex education courses.

The programs were financed by the PTA Council.

"We had good response from parents. There were very few parents who didn't come back with their children," said Mrs. C. O. Ginter, president of the new Western High School PTA and immediate past president of the PTA Council.

MISSING CHILDREN

Mrs. Ginter, who has been active in PTA activities since before 1959, recalled that many parents came with their children after hearing about the program from other parents.

"Then we found that we were missing children because of uninterested parents. Some of the main purpose of the program was then defeated," she recalled.

After the third request from the PTA Council, the school board agreed to take over the sex education program.

After the school board responsibility, a full-time nurse, Mrs. Doris Milton, was hired to teach the classes, now held during school hours. The existing program was implemented in the 1966-67 school year.

CONTROVERSY TRACED

The current controversy can be traced to a February meeting where parents of Dublin Elementary School children were shown the course.

The former Dublin School District, comprising that one school, had been annexed by Walled Lake Consolidated Schools in July 1967. The school had no sex education program prior to the annexation.

★ ★ ★

Ray Yokey, head of a group of parents organized as Parents for Moral Education (PME), claimed that the Dublin parents were not aware of the Walled Lake program until this February. He added that the parents were invited to see the films shown to students, but that none were shown, although the nurse, Mrs. Milton, did discuss the course in detail.

After the meeting, several parents who objected to or had serious questions about the program formed PME.

ALLEGED STATEMENTS

Yokey largely attributes parental fears to alleged statements by Schools Supt. Dr. George Garver and Mrs. Milton that a kindergarten through 12th grade sex education program would be in progress within two years. Schools officials deny they said that.

Yorkey also blames information in a National Education Association pamphlet placed on every seat, telling how sex education could be integrated into a variety of courses.

The pamphlet said: "Much sex education can be given as a normal part of class work in biology and chemistry . . . in economics and civics courses which can easily include units on family relations and social and legal customs . . . Questions concerning sexual emotions and mores may be treated in literature, history and social studies."

Pastor Robert V. Warren of the First Baptist Church, Wixom, sympathizes with the views of the PME. He supported many of their concerns in a recent letter to Dr. Garver and again at a recent public hearing on the issue.

Pastor Warren professed concern about possible trends any future program could take.

He supported the PME call for teaching morals, stating, "These morals should be and must be based upon the Bible." . . . He also supported the parent's concern about the Sex Information and Education Council of the United States.

He said: "This organization seemingly is relentlessly promoting compulsory sex education from kindergarten to high school."

"Our great concern is for material that might possibly be added in the future weeks, months, or years," he commented.

Actual future plans for sex education programs include constant evaluation of curriculum to see if there is a better way of meeting the needs of youngsters, according to Garver.

"If that includes improvements or additions to our sex education program, we will in fact recommend any additions to the board," he added.

★ ★ ★

"Before any recommendations are made to the board, we will be working with parents, staff and clergy to come up with the best approach," he emphasized.

The expressed parental concern has prompted the school administration to seriously "consider taking a more positive orientation to the matter of society."

Garver explained, "I think that there may well be a place in the current program for a separate unit where clergy can come in and discuss moral responsibility with the students without being sectarian in orientation."

Wants More Persons It Can Entrust With Projects

Cuba's Communist Party to Cut Red Tape

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban Communist party is ready to relax entrance requirements in order to get more persons it can entrust with heading work projects in its current agricultural and industrial drive.

Although no exact figures ever have been given for the country as a whole, the best estimates are that between 50,000 and 60,000 persons belong to the Communist party and an equal number to the Union of Young Communists. Total population of the island is 8.2 million.

Armando Hart Davalos, organizing secretary of the party Central Committee and member of the elite Politburo, said in a recent speech that the province of Havana had 11,824 militants and aspirants in 1968. Militants are members, and aspirants are as good as in. He said the party hoped to recruit 10,000 more militants within the province.

"A determined production plan marches forward when one has a revolutionary, a combatant, a Communist, at the head of it," said Hart. "A piece of construction equipment or farm equipment is taken care of and the technical and maintenance norms are fulfilled when this equipment has a Communist, a revolutionary, driving it."

This is in line with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's call for better organization in the efforts to industrialize and to turn out more sugar.

Hart said the party is going to have to relax its entrance requirement a bit. He said he knew of men who, because they got along badly with the rest, were not elected to the party. He added that such a man at least has enough perseverance to express himself no matter what others think.

State Voters Face Key School Money Decisions Monday

LANSING (AP) — A $1.4-million school stands empty at Grand Ledge. There is no money to pay for its operation.

Some 100 teachers face a massive layoff in Muskegon. There is no money to pay their salaries.

★ ★ ★

Authorities warn of decreased classroom time for pupils in Huron Valley. There is no money to pay expenses.

Michigan taxpayers will decide Monday whether they want these and similar conditions to continue as voters ballot in an estimated 200 school millage and bond elections throughout the state.

'TO BE SHORTCHANGED'

Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction — who contends the state and federal governments should pick up a much greater share of the education tab—says nonetheless that "until this happens, all of us will be shortchanged unless property owners support education" by approving school money requests.

Taxpayers refused such support in 45 per cent of the millage votes and 68 per cent of the bond decisions during the first five months of 1969, a recent Associated Press survey showed.

Druing the same period of 1968, voters defeated 45 per cent of the millage requests and 36 per cent of the bond proposals.

Statistics from last year indicate, however, that voters face an awesome task if their decisions Monday are to compare favorably with 1968 June school election results. Of 296 millage proposals sought last June, 210 —71 per cent—were approved. Some 73 per cent—19—bond proposals also won.

TOUGH ELECTION

One of the toughest elections this year is expected to occur in the mid-Michigan city of Grand Ledge, where voters have turn down a millage request four times in little over one year.

"We've tightened up now as much as we can," says Supt. Kenneth T. Beagle. "We can't tighten up any more."

The Grand Ledge Board of Education already has announced a "drastic crisis" program for the 1969-70 school year, including shortened school days, half-day sessions for grades 1-6, a ban on student activities outside regular school hours and a reduction in the teaching staff.

Serious budget problems exist in the Genesee County district of Flushing, where voters will asked to approve a 7.25 mill increase, 1 mill in expiring tax money and 1.5 mills for debt retirement.

TO COVER DEFICIT

Four mills of the proposed increase is to cover last year's $200,000 deficit.

In Kalamazoo, voters will decide on a 6.5-mill levy, including 4 mills officials want because of "higher salaries, rising costs and a drop in income due to a drop in enrollment."

★ ★ ★

Revenues would fill a $2.4 millioc gap between estimated 1969-70 expenditures and probable income.

Marquette school officials seek approval of a $7.6 million construction bond issue. "We present this program as an answer to the city's critical school needs," says superintendent Henry J. Bothwell.

A cut of some 100 teachers is threatened at Muskegon, where voters will have a second chance to decide whether they will renew a 15-mill levy and add 4.75 mills to their tax. The proposals were defeated once in March.

Teacher pay is the question in many districts, including:

● Huron Valley, where officials warn of "serious cutbacks" — including teacher reduction and less classroom time —if a millage renewal and increase, defeated already this year, fail to win voter approval on the second attempt.

● Charlevoix, where voters said "no" last April to a total of 4.75 mills, a major portion of which was earmarked for expenses of operating a new school, hiring additional teachers and paying the teachers now working in the system.

● Manchester, near Ann Arbor, where the local school board seeks renewal of a 9.5 mill levy, expected to bring in some 200,771 which would go largely for teacher pay.

● Avondale, where a 6-mill renewal is sought. Supt. John Dickey says "We don't dare ask for an increase. Our teachers want more money, but we just dont' have it."

WON'T BE REHIRED

The Michigan Education Association, bargaining unit for some 68,000 of the state's teachers, announced earlier this year that more than 2,000 probationary teachers in 43 districts had been notified they will not be rehired next year.

The teachers were notified under provisions of the state tenure law, which requires such notice be given teachers who may not be rehired at least 60 days before the end of the current school term.

★ ★ ★

MEA negotiator Kai Erickson said the notices do not mean a teacher definitely will not be rehired.

But, he added, the fund situation in most districts is so critical that many boards will not know until August how many teachers they will be able to afford.

★ ★ ★

The millage question, teacher contract negotiations and a legislative hassle that stalled final approval of the state school aid bill all have added to the information hang-up.

Graduating Clerics Told 'Keep Cool'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "It is one thing to be a fool for Christ, and another thing to be a fool on some contemporary issue," Missouri Atty. Gen. John Danforth told the graduating class of Eden Theological Seminary.

Danforth, an ordained Episcopal minister, said Friday "The message of the Gospel is a message of goodwill." He cautioned the 50 Church of Christ ministers not "to be asninine" in doing God's work.

The Christian ethic, he said, should perhaps be that "we maintain our cool."

3 Great Lakes' Levels to Rise

DETROIT (UPI) — The upper Great Lakes will rise up to three inches in the next month and the levels of Lakes Erie and Ontario will drop one inch, the U. S. Lake Survey predicted yesterday.

Lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron will rise three inches and Lake St. Clair one inch, the survey said.

* * *

As of today, Lake Superior was reported at 601.110 feet, six inches below the record high for the date and two inches above last month. Lake Michigan was reported at 579.20 feet, 33 inches below the June 6 record and five inches above last month. Lake Huron was reported at 579.20 feet, 33 inches below the record and five inches above last month.

* * *

Lake St. Clair was reported at 574.75 feet, nine inches below the record high for the date and three inches above last month.

State Woman Leaves Estate of $925,578

HASTINGS (UPI) — Mrs. Elizabeth Marsman, who died April 5 at the age of 71, left an estate valued at $925,578 — including more than $200,000 found hidden in various places in the family home — Barry County Probate Court officials said.

* * *

Mrs. Marsman was the widow of Jay Marsman, who operated Commercial Printers. He died in 1964.

Mrs. Gertrude Pender, administrator of the estate, and court officials found money stuffed in jars, under rugs, behind pictures, in dresser drawers and various other places in the home.

Need for Health Dept. Facility Broached

Future requirements for Oakland County governmental departments focused yesterday on the need for a health department branch office in the Commerce-Wixon-Novi area.

The board of supervisors human resources committee heard Supervisor Lew L. Coy, R-Wixom, supported by Dr. Bernard Berman, county health director, cite population trends in the fast-growing area which already have resulted in more than 200 low-income children on a waiting list for dental care.

* * *

"The tremendous difficulty in getting transportation from that area to our immunization clinics is another factor," Berman said.

The clinics are operated year-round from the N. Telegraph Service Center site and from the South Oakland Health Department in Southfield.

Temporary clinics are set up about twice monthly in both Milford and Farmington.

Berman pointed out, but they aren't adequate to handle the needs.

Under consideration is a 15,000-square-foot building offering complete clinic, X-ray, nursing and environmental health services, plus a facility where laboratory samples could be brought.

Art Exhibit Salutes PCAC's Anniversary

Berkeley Voss, Oakley Park Drive, Commerce Township, vice president of the board of directors of Pontiac Creative Arts Center enjoys a sneak preview of "Crosscurrents USA," exhibit. Here, co-chairmen, Mrs. Charles Allen (middle) and Mrs. Paul Christensen, both of Rochester, are finishing a busy day of setting up the contemporary works. The exhibit, which opens Sunday from 12 until 4 p.m., will be on display through June 30.

The opening of "Crosscurrent USA," an exclusive showing of contemporary works by several of America's most noted artists, will highlight a birthday happening Sunday at Pontiac Creative Arts Center.

The exhibit, which salutes the Center's first anniversary, is being made available by Project Outreach, a jointly sponsored program by the Detroit Institute of Arts and the National Endowments for the Arts.

Included at the opening will be a color slide presentation at 1 and 3 p.m. with recorded comments from the artists concerning their works.

Following Sunday's opening, which will be held from 12 until 4 p.m., will be a panel discussion Tuesday entitled, "Why the Artist Does His Thing." Dr. Irwin M. Gross of Project Outreach will serve as moderator.

Joining Dr. Gross will be Pontiac artist, James DeWitt King, Jr., and a trio of exhibiting artists, Robert Broderson, Ben Cunningham and Hale Woodruff.

SCULPTOR-DESIGNER

Among a number of awards for his mechanical, drafting and architectural designs, sculptor-designer King is also noted for his educational play-sculpture created for the Merrill-Palmer Institute playground in Detroit.

King studied painting and sculpture at the Art Institute of Chicago, attended Goethe Institute in Germany and studied at the University of Vienna, the University of Chicago and Crave College, Chicago.

Broderson, who resides in Woodbury, Conn., is a former professor at Duke University and recipient of grants from the Ford Foundation and the Guggenheim Foundation.

A member of the Art Students League of New York, Ben Cunningham has exhibited his works in many museum collections, including the Museum of Modern Art and the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum.

Called the 'dean of Negro-American Art,' Hale Woodruff has toured Africa at the invitation of the U.S. State Department. The artist, lecturer, writer and muralist was also voted "Great Teacher of the Year" in 1966 at New York University.

The panel discussion, which begins at 7 p.m., is open to the public.

"Crosscurrent USA" will be featured through June 30. Exhibit hours are 1 to 4 p.m. daily except Fridays.

78th Women's Federation Confab Approves Therapeutic Abortion Slate

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Delegates to the 78th annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs adopted a disputed therapeutic abortion measure Friday, prompting one member's immediate resignation.

After debate which lasted some 45 minutes, delegates overwhelmingly voted to defeat a motion to postpone action on the resolution, then adopted the abortion measure by a similar margin.

Some 500 delegates were present for the business session on the last day of the convention. About 50 stood to vote against the abortion resolution. Many of the estimated 2,000 clubwomen present earlier this week had left for home Friday.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Edward Borsek, treasurer of the Parma, Ohio, Junior Women's League, resigned immediately after the action, asking "How can the federation propose to strive for high moral standards and yet take away the morals of others?"

BORN TO GIVE LIFE

Mrs. Bernard B. Blynn of Indianapolis, who had moved to postpone action on the resolution indefinitely, told delegates, "As women, we were born to give life, not to take it . . . I feel that this is against God's law."

The resolution expresses support for therapeutic abortions when there is documented medical evidence that the mother's mental or physical health would otherwise be endangered or that the child resulting from the pregnancy would have severe and permanent physical or mental damage.

It also recommends that abortions be performed only on the recommendations of two doctors other than the one attending the woman involved and that abortions be performed in accredited hospitals.

Adoption of the abortion measure and a resolution urging higher levels of morality and integrity in public and private life concluded the last business session of the four-day convention.

Young Visitor Poses Problem for a Hostess

By ELIZABETH L. POST
of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is five and my friend's child is three. When they're visiting, must I make my daughter entertain this child throughout the visit? All the neighbors' children play on our court. If this child doesn't want to play with the other ones, am I obligated to have my child play what she wants?—Mrs. B.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. B.: The problem is to find a compromise between teaching the child the responsibilities of a hostess and at the same time not imposing on her freedom with a situation not of her own making. If she had wanted to invite the other little girl over to play, she should stay with her and do what her guest wished to do.

Since the visit was really arranged for your benefit, it is not fair to demand that she leave her friends to play with a child so much younger than herself.

★ ★ ★

If this were a once-a-year visit from far away, your daughter should be urged to devote herself to the other child for this special occasion. But if it is a frequent occurrence, she should try to get the little girl to join in the neighborhood play, and if that fails, she may be excused from further responsibility.

Nine-year-old Roy Turnbull's efforts to sample PCAC's birthday cake are in vain with big sister Merrilee (right) around and Mary Bean. But you can bet the eager three of Lake Angelus Shores will be among the first in line to celebrate the Center's first anniversary Sunday.

★ ★ ★

All Evens Out, Claims Abby, on Subject of Dating Game

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been giving this matter a lot of thought and have concluded that the custom of the man paying for everything when he takes a lady out is now outmoded.

First of all, today most women have as much, or more money than the man who invites them out. Also, isn't the woman getting as much entertainment as he is?

★ ★ ★

I can see a man supporting a woman in marriage, as she does many things for him such as keeping house and caring for his children, etc. But in dating, just what is she giving HIM that he isn't giving HER? LEO

DEAR LEO: What you say makes sense, but since it is the man's privilege to do the asking, and the woman must wait to be asked, I think initially he should foot the bill. After several dates, if the woman has "as much or more money" than the man, she will invite him to her place for home-cooked meals and buy him a few gifts. It all evens out.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a 3-year-old child, and I have one big complaint to make.

We are trying to teach our little boy NEVER to accept candy or other goodies from strangers, but every time we go to a restaurant or store, the clerks or hostesses are constantly shoving candy into his hot little hand.

I realize they think they are being nice to him, but how are we poor parents ever to teach our children not to accept things from strangers when this happens all the time?

I hope you will put this in your column. It might help.

TUSCALOOSA MAMMA

DEAR MAMA: Tell your child that he may NOT accept anything from a stranger WITHOUT YOUR PERMISSION. And when a well-meaning but thoughtless stranger, hostess, or clerk gives the child a "treat," insist that the child return it saying, "I have to ask Mother first."

Then, of course, give your permission (if you want the child to have whatever is offered) but go through this ceremony until the child is trained.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 22 years old, have been married for only six months and I already have a problem. My husband is always looking at strange women and making personal comments about them. "She's well stacked, she has nice legs, she's too fat, she's too skinny, her hair is pretty," etc. Now, Abby, he wouldn't notice these things if he weren't constantly looking, would he?

I have told him I didn't like it and I wish he'd stop, but he says I'm jealous and should get over it. I've even tried making the same kind of remarks about strange men I see, but it doesn't seem to bother him.

I'm no slob myself, so I don't think I'm jealous. Why does he do this, and how should I handle this irritating problem? BOTHERED

DEAR BOTHERED: No matter what he says, if it continues to bother you when he makes personal remarks about other women, he's trying to get your goat. Try to find out why he feels the need to needle you.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that it is not proper etiquette to use a typewriter for personal correspondence? I recently bought a typewriter and have been using it for that purpose, and now I am told that it is "improper," that all personal letters should be hand-written. What is your opinion? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I would be more concerned with the legibility of a letter than anything else. And I think anyone who would be critical of a typewritten personal letter is a stuffed shirt.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lutheran Pastor Takes Faith on Visiting Rounds

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The Rev. and Mrs. Eldor Kuehnert call their 1962 station wagon "Old Faithful" with good reason. It has traveled more than 202,000 miles and is still running.

The Rev. Mr. Kuehnert is minister of St. John's Lutheran Church in the hamlet of Pumpkin Hook, and the rural membership is spread over a wide area. He often makes hospital calls in five towns during one day.

★ ★ ★

"Members of the congregation have labeled the car 'Faith,' saying it takes a lot of faith to drive it everywhere, in every kind of weather," says Mrs. Kuehnert.

Changes in Future of New Generation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lucky, the new crop of parents. Merchandisers catering to them will be giving birth also to new products, new ideas for young parents so that bringing up baby will be a far cry from what it has been.

Sacrifice on the part of parents will be out. Uninhibited babyhood and parental permissiveness will be in.

A look at the new business of babies comes from Dr. Ernest Dichter, head of the Institute for Motivational Research, Croton-on-Hudson, N.Y.

★ ★ ★

"Our studies of young adults indicates that parenthood will indeed be conducted in new ways, based on changed attitudes of this group," says the institute, taking note of the baby market that'll be provided from more than two million marriages annually.

"Young parents will want good things for their children —but will be less sacrificial in attitude than past generations," Dichter predicts.

"The new mother will be less willing to have her time and money consumed in caring for children. She'll . . . have less anxiety about perfection in following the rules of baby care to the letter."

MORE ADAPTABLE

And the young women brought up on convenience products of all kinds will be willing to accept work-saving baby care items—not only disposable diapers, but also sheets, curtains, baby food in self-heating cans, tables with indentations for food to replace plates, even edible plates, more "finger foods," even gourmet foods adapted for children at earlier ages.

Baby clothing should become more convenient for baby and mother in the matter of disposables other than diapers—new closing methods to eliminate laces, buttons, hooks, and more one-piece garments which take the place of many little ones, especially for outdoor wear.

New technology and services may solve the problem of cost and availability of baby sitters.

A local community agency is calling for volunteer help from business executives and small business owners to participate in a civil rights program that is unique in concept.

This important and challenging program seeks to develop new business outlets and to aid existing small firms with practical, on-the-job counseling.

Governor's Mansion Now Millikens' Official Home

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Michigan has its first official governor's mansion, a $440,000 gift from Howard W. Sober and it's up to Mrs. William G. Milliken to maintain its executive dignity while creating a comfortable retreat for her husband and their two grown children, Elaine and William.

Almost a decade old, the painted white brick-and-stone house is situated on 3.4 acres along the Grand River in Lansing.

★ ★ ★

The sprawling beds of shrubs, perennials and evergreens which highlight the exterior of the 10-room mansion cause the green thumbs of Michigan's first lady to twitch longingly as she tries to make time in her busy calendar to supervise their care.

"The crabapple in the backyard," said Mrs. Milliken, "needs pruning badly. And I can hardly wait to get at it.

INTERESTING SHAPE

"It was chosen for its interesting shape which lends an oriental feeling to the landscape. And . . . would you believe . . . one of the workmen suggested cutting out that long, low branch to straighten the tree." She shook her head in disbelief before adding with conviction, "Proper pruning is a true art."

Mrs. Milliken is a senior studying landscape architecture at Michigan State University. She has already earned a bachelor's degree from Smith College in Massachusetts.

★ ★ ★

"The design of the house makes it very easy to entertain," said Mrs. Milliken, conducting a quick tour through the spacious rooms. "The first weekend after we moved in, we held a wedding reception for over 250 guests and it didn't seem the least bit crowded.

"And the closets are pure delight. There are so many of them and each one is lighted to make it easy to find things."

TRAVERTINE TONES

Woodwork and wallpaper of the foyer duplicate the tones of its polished travertine marble floor. A collection of five antique paper panels highlights the wall separating the bedroom hall and an entrance to the informal study.

The prints are attributed to two Jesuit priests Attiret and Castiglione, who went to China as missionaries in the latter part of the 17th century.

★ ★ ★

Cushions on the wrought-iron receiving benches duplicate in antique velvet the persimmon shadings used in the prints.

In the foyer's red lacquered idol cabinet is a bronze statue of Kwan-Yin which was excavated in 1920 from a tomb near Peking. It dates back to the Ming dynasty.

EDO PERIOD

The cabinet, bearing gilded brass mounts and the imperial phoenix, was commissioned during the Edo Period, circa 1619, for the personal shrine of the founder of the Tokugawa dynasty.

Emphasizing the beige marble tones of the framing foyer are the living room's walls, deep-piled carpeting and the motorized draperies.

"Really," said Mrs. Milliken, pushing a button to close the draperies, "mechanizing them was a smart move. They are so wide and heavy, that opening them by hand could certainly present some difficulty . . . not to mention the wear-and-tear on the ropes.

"Do be careful," she said with a chuckle, "not to push any of the buttons that would trigger the alarm system. We've done it."

ECLECTIC

Furnishings in the formal room represent an eclectic blend of French, Italian, oriental and contemporary.

Before the raised hearth, marble fireplace are matching reproductions of Louis XV Bergeres sofas with their drop arms held in place by silk tassels. A black lacquered coffee table serves both pieces.

* * *

Accenting the oriental is the authentic six-fold lacquered Coromandel screen which dates to the late 16th century. The story depicted on the Ming screen is a Taoist legend.

Russell Holmes' metal sculpture on the curved door wall injects the contemporary while armchair reproductions favor the Italian and French mood.

OUTSIDE LANDSCAPE

The curved window of the adjoining oval dining room incorporates the outside landscape into the bright, airy room. Complementing the living picture are original wallpaper panels especially designed for the room by the well-known Japanese artist Shinji Ichikawa.

A collection of eight authentic Queen Anne side chairs with cane seats and backs provide the seating arrangement for the oval wormwood table. Gold cushions insure comfort and repeat the tone of the sculptured detail on the room's carpeting.

* * *

Lighting the room is a hand-cut smoked crystal chandelier. Double doors open onto a screened terrace.

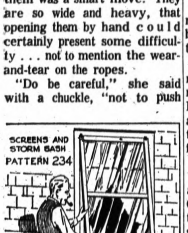
"A perfect place to dine in the warm weather," said Mrs. Milliken.

In the bedroom wing are three bedrooms. The master bedroom suite picks up the peach tones of the floral draperies for its monochromatic background including the walls, the carpeting and the satin bedspread.

"I hope to hang works of Michigan artists throughout the house," said Mrs. Milliken. She also said she plans on setting up a Governor's Mansion Committee to recommend the art works and possible adaptations of the interior design.

Among the seven bathrooms is the luxurious ladies' powder room which opens off the entrance hall. Carpeted in off-white, the room, including the closet doors, is wallpapered in flocked white on gray silk.

The state paid $250,000 to Sober for the furnishings of the gift mansion.



TIME FOR NEW SCREENS—and you can make them yourself by the simple method shown in Pattern 234, It also shows a way to make storm sash that is well within the capability of the home craftsman with ordinary hand tools. Be ready for summer or winter with this pattern which is 50 cents. It also is one of four patterns in the Homestead Improvement Packet No. 29 for $1.50. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P. O. Sunken Bath Reflects Luxury

A large sunken ceramic tile bath, with its suggestion of ancient Roman high-life, has always been a luxurious addition to the home.

Now hydromassage units that can be installed in the bath are available to add to the opulence, and provide a therapeutic touch as well.

Flower Power Through Paints

Often the most inventive and delightful articles are created from familiar and inexpensive materials.

For instance, take a bunch of dimestore plastic flowers, a little paint, some clay flower pots, a handful of aquarium gravel and clay.

* * *

What do you have?

Bright flower pots filled with flowers—ready to decorate a windowsill, brighten a breakfast area and keep your children busy for hours helping put them together!

The project is quick, easy and inexpensive — thanks to basic found in the local hardware and materials—all of which may be dimestores.

CLAY POTS

First, you'll need clay flower pots—three inches in diameter or a little wider. Make sure that they are clean and then paint the outside of each with water-thinned paints.

These paints are well-suited to indoor projects since they are practically odorless dry quickly and are almost dripless.

* * *

Clean-ups are a a snap—stray spatters can be wiped up with just a damp cloth!

Your choice of colors isn't limited either. Water-thinned paints come in a variety of colors—from bright bold shades to the palest of pastels.

After the pots have dried, place a small round piece of cardboard in the bottom of each one. Fill the pots with clay—the kind available in blocks in the dimestores and often used to hold cut flowers in formal arrangements.

FLOWERS

Now add light, bright plastic flowers — hyacinths, narcissus, daisies— and stick them right into the clay.

As a final touch, scatter a handful of aquarium gravel over the tops of the pots, covering the clay and adding a sparkly touch.

For more decoration ideas, raid the sewing basket for bits of rickrack, sparkly gold or silver trim, remnants of velvet ribbon. Glue them to the pot rims in bright, imaginative designs.

When the flower pots are finished, place the flowers and their colorfully painted pots on your windowsill. Or line them up on a shelf. Or add Spring-time note to your kitchen table by grouping them as a centerpiece. Or, give a spritely touch to a little girl's room.

At any rate, you'll find your flower-power project a breeze —thanks to easy-to-use, economical, water-thinned paints!

English Give Us a Clue About Ashes

Americans can well take a lesson from the English when it comes to lighting and tending fires in fireplaces. They have so many!

The English are fairly neat, but neatness does not count in side fireplaces.

* * *

Every fireplace needs a solid bed of ashes to produce maximum heat. Ashes prevent excessive amounts of heat from being absorbed by stones or bricks in the hearth.

The English have a good rule-of-thumb: Keep one to two inches of ashes in the fireplace as a base. When ashes pile up beyond this point, remove them with care.

BEST WAY

The best way is to put them in a fireproof galvanized steel pail . . . not a cardboard or wooden box that may catch fire.

Though neatness is not necessary inside the fireplace, it is important in the area nearby.

* * *

Logs and kindling wood should be stacked neatly, not only to improve their appearance, but to minimize them as fire hazards.

For maximum safety, store kindling material in a fire-proof galvanized steel coal hod. Many of the English do.

Build a Bench

If you have a raised ceramic tile patio or terrace that needs a fence for safety's sake, a bench built around the inside of it will prevent uncomfortable — and dangerous — rail sitting.

Air Filters Require Cleaning

Nearly every home has a variety of filters busily trying to clean dust, dirt, pollen, odors, and grease from the air.

A forced air furnace generally has one or two large filters that may also serve a central air conditioning system.

Room air conditioners have hoods.

All of these filters can get clogged, become ineffective, and cut down the amount of air flowing through them.

So it's a good idea to clean them or replace them periodically. Furnace filters may be constructed of washable or non-washable material. If they are nonwashable, you may have to replace them.

WARM WATER

If they are made of slit and expanded rustproof aluminum, you can clean them easily with a good washing in warm soapy water.

Before replacing, coat them with a water-soluble adhesive coating that helps trap odors and fight bacteria and contains a detergent that aids in future washings.

The coating is available where furnace fitlers are sold — and comes in a pump-type spray or in a handy aerosol spray can.

ALUMINUM LEISURE HOME — was unveiled in Chicago. Constructed of curved aluminum panels, it is a two-story building that will serve as a vacation, retirement or second home.

Washable aluminum furnace filters are available in sizes to fit every furnace if you want to replace throw-away types, and last through years of washing and recoating without needing replacement.

If you have a room air conditioner, check the filter there too. Again, it may be a washable aluminum type.

SAME PROCEDURE

Follow the same washing and recoating procedure.

If it's non-washable and needs replacing, you can get an aluminum filter that can be trimmed with a scissors to fit your air conditioner.

From then on, you can wash and recoat it when it's dirty.

The kitchen range hood may or may not have a duct, but it certainly has a fan and a filter to trap grease particles.

The filter is easily removable, and will probably be aluminum.

It should be washed every month or oftener in warm soapy water to prevent rancid grease from collecting on it and becoming a fire hazard.

It won't need any coating to be effective, and you'll find that one will provide years of service with proper care.

Your filters serve you every day by helping keep the air around you as clean as possible. Help them by giving them an occasional bath.

Two-Story

'A' Frames Perfect for Leisure

An "A" frame type home designed for leisure living uses insulated exterior aluminum panels.

Peter S. Pedersen Jr., president of Leisure Home Corporation of America, said the expandable system of adding modular units starts with a standard-size home 32 feet by 23 feet, and 18 feet high. It will sell unfurnished for about $6,000 to $8,000.

* * *

The principal advantages of the home, aside from the low cost, are the elimination of expensive maintenance problems and maximum resistance to fire, rot, termites and moth-millers.

SUMMER

Designed for summer homes, ski lodges and retirement living, the aluminum home rests on a foundation slab of concrete or a wooden base.

A two-story unit permits two to four bedrooms and a variety of floor plans.

Aged Finish Not Difficult

If your furniture isn't naturally worn, you can simulate an antiqued distressed wood easily and quickly.

* * *

First, apply the undercoating and toner that comes in the antiquing kit. Then, make scratches and scars by beating the surface with a heavy tool or a burlap bag filled with chains.

Sand the scratches and apply artist's oil paint "raw umber" straight from the tube. Rub off excess oil paint vigorously.

Check the Caulking for Carefree Living

Summer days are ahead, perfect days for checking the caulking around your home.

Caulking plays an important role in maintaining the comfort of your house.

★ ★ ★

It prevents moisture from seeping in and keeps out draughts — thus protecting you by keeping your home sound and enjoyable through the winter months.

Check the caulking around joints. This means windows, doors, floor and wall joints, wood column and floor junctions, parapet and roof joints.

Pay special attention to concrete steps, gaps between rough attic floors and chimneys, and joints between the house and the driveway or porch.

You shouldn't forget the areas around electric conduits passing through floor and walls and around outlet boxes.

If the caulking is dry or chipped you'd better plan to replace it. Just remove the caulking with a putty knife.

Make sure that the surface is clean and free from dirt, grease and oil. A masonry surface should be brushed with a stiff bristle brush.

Choosing a caulking is up to you. There are many fine products on the market which will serve your needs well. Here are some general descriptions to help you:

Elastomeric-based caulks are new on the market. They are usually more expensive than other caulks but they will reward you with many years of fine performance.

THREE FORMS

These caulks are available in three forms: rope form, knife grade and gun grade.

Many homeowners are familiar with gun grade caulking. It comes in cylindrical cartridges for use in a caulking gun. When the compound is forced out, it forms a uniform bead of caulk. When in use, the gun should always be pointed at a 45 degree angle, and the bead should measure about ⅜" deep.

Caulk is also available in small collapsible tubes. These come in handy for minor jobs. They can also be used in places that are too small for a caulk gun. In addition, they can be rolled up as they are used — which prevents skinning.

★ ★ ★

Most caulking compounds should not be used in temperatures below 40 degrees F. or during rainy, weather.

An exception to this rule — the latex caulks which may be applied in damp weather.

These caulks have many of the features of latex paints. They are easy to apply and clean-ups are a cinch. Your tools may be washed off with soapy water within 30 to 45 minutes after use. (But if you wait longer, you may have to do some scraping.)

Latex caulks are quick drying — it takes only 30 minutes. This makes it easy to paint over them — using either oil-base or latex paints. And there is no worry about staining.

The latex caulks also have good color retention and will retain their flexibility for quite some time.

Whatever caulking compound you settle on, it's a good idea to paint over it. This will seal the compound and make it more lasting.

With caulking, you'll keep that winter wonderland where it belongs — on the other side of your windows!

GENERAL CONTEMPORARY LINES of three-bedroom ranch are mingled with traditional features to give this house an old-fashioned charm. Front porch posts, diamond-paned windows and window boxes on the two-car garage combine to produce a desired softening effect.

Ranch Mixes Ideas to Fill Family Needs

Home life revolves around the everyday activities.

With this is mind, architect Lester Cohen has made a combination family room-kitchen the focal point of a pleasant, three-bedroom ranch in the medium budget range.

The combined area is 25' long, with a fireplace in one corner of the family room section.

INSIDE, OUTSIDE

The rear wall is completely of glass.

Sliding glass doors are flanked by windows.

The inside and outside are thus tied together for relaxation or play in the combination room or on the patio.

★ ★ ★

The kitchen portion is compact and arranged for efficiency, with a special barbecue grill and space for a dinette set at the windows overlooking the patio.

Adjacent to the kitchen is a mud room-laundry, along with a lavatory, a door to the outside and another to the garage.

The two-car garage has a storage alcove, back-to-back with another alcove accessible from the outside and ideal for patio gear.

BACK LIVING

There isn't much doubt that, with a setup such as this, the family will spend most of its time in the rear section of the house, inside or out.

Except for formal occasions, the area also is likely to be the favorite of guests.

The entrance to Z-96 is somewhat unusual.

Immediately on entering the foyer, one notes that the coat closet and basement stairway are combined in a kind of island, so that traffic flows easily all around it.

To the right is the living room and dining room, to the left the bedroom wing, with a center hall providing access to the family room-kitchen.

FORMAL COMFORT

Although separated by an arch, the living room and dining room run together for a long expanse of formal comfort.

Big windows enhance both rooms.

★ ★ ★

There is, of course, an entrance from the dining room to the kitchen.

The large window in the living room looks out on a covered front porch, screening it from the street but permitting a full view of the outside.

The master bedroom has a lavatory, a stall shower and a walk-in closet.

MAIN BATH

The main bathroom has a tub and a double sink.

The two other bedrooms have ample closet space.

★ ★ ★

There is no reason why the basement has to be finished at the time of the original construction.

But if this is desired — or if it is done at a later time — it can be arranged as recommended by the architect.

He has laid out a teen-age room that would be the delight of the youngsters in any family.

TEEN ROOM

It is 37' long, has a soda bar, a lounge and a large area for dancing.

Adjoining it is a game room 28' in length for such things as a table tennis set and a billiard table, thus leaving the main room free for other activities.

★ ★ ★

There is also a hobby or workshop room and a spacious section for storage.

Should the basement be utilized in this manner, it might be a good idea to provide outside cellar stairs.

Mostly contemporary in tone, this house does not sacrifice traditional exterior charm.

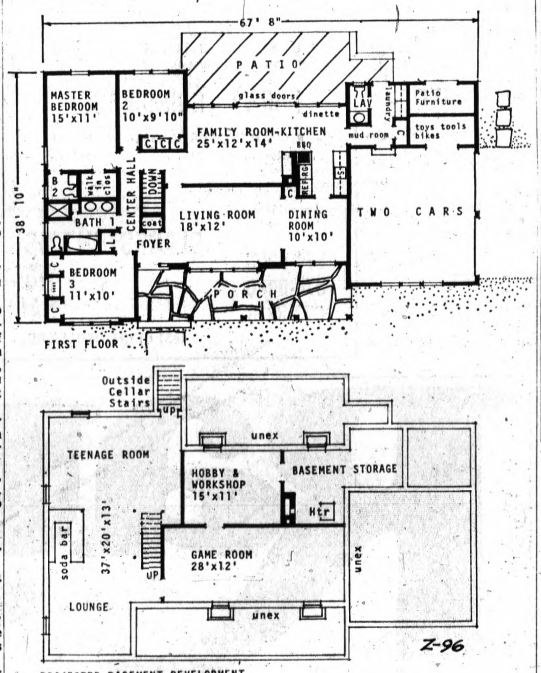
WINDOWS

One example of this: the diamond-paned windows at the front and side for the bedrooms, on the front door and even on the garage.

Horizontal siding predominates, but there is a touch of stone on the front of the living room under the porch.

Z-96 STATISTICS

Design Z-96 has a living room, dining room, kitchen-family room, three bedrooms, two baths and a foyer, totaling 1,537 square feet. Also on the ground floor are a mud room-laundry, lavatory, two-car garage and double storage areas, with a porch at the front and a patio at the rear. The architect has designed a projected basement plan that includes a teen-age room, game room and hobby-workshop. Over-all dimensions are 67' 8" by 38' 10", which include the garage, the front porch and a large portion of the patio.



FLOOR PLANS: Formal and informal areas of the house are distinctly separated, with the living room and the dining room at the front, and the family room, kitchen and patio at the rear. Stone-floored, covered porch at the front provides impressive entranceway.

Bad Preparations Can Cause Failures

Put a stop to paint failures by preparing properly before you begin to paint.

It's always a good idea to check the caulking around windows and doors and re-caulk if necessary. Never paint over a soiled surface — hose down, dust and clean the area you plan to paint. Use a detergent to clean up greasy spots.

Places that are peeling or cracking should be sanded down to the bare wood and a primer should be applied.

When using an oil-base paint, always paint on a dry surface. Latex paints may be applied to a slightly damp surface.

Wake-Up Wicker With Spray Paint

Spray paints are a handy way of incorporating inexpensive wicker furniture or accessories into your decorating scheme.

The light, airy furniture lends itself to bright, bold strokes of color — and with spray paint or enamel in so many colors, the choice is limited only by your imagination.

Coming Furniture Has Oriental Touch

The Occident is growing more Orient oriented all the time. Furniture, fabrics and accessories all echo the influence of the Far East.

One window treatment which harmonizes beautifully with Oriental furnishings is Venetian blinds.

Despite their name, Venetian blinds, according to legend, originated in the East, where Marco Polo saw them and introduced them to the West.

For an extra touch of the Orient, tapes can be faced with decorative Oriental braid.

The $6,105 housing starts financed by GI loans by the Veterans Administration in 1968 were the highest since 1964.

Use Proper Tools When Painting

Proper tools are an essential part of your painting efforts. The brush or roller you use should be a quality one.

★ ★ ★

If you're using a roller, match it up with one of the baked enamel roller trays — they're rust proof and oxidation proof, and they can be used through many, many painting sprees!

Proper Procedure

Removing Ugly Stains From Concrete

Stained concrete is often a displeasing sight. It need not remain so.

Almost any stain can be removed from cured concrete, but old, long-neglected stains may require patience and repeated treatments.

★ ★ ★

Metallic stains are among the more common discolorations found. Iron stains are easily recognizable by their resemblance to rust, or by their nearness to steel or iron in or on the concrete.

To remove deep and intense iron stains, the surface should be soaked with a solution made of one part sodium citrate crystals in six parts water.

Dip white cloth in this solution and paste over the stain for 10 to 15 minutes.

On horizontal surfaces, sprinkle a thin layer of sodium hydrosulphite, moisten with water and cover with a paste of whiting and water.

On vertical surfaces, after moistening with the sodium citrate solution, place the paste of whiting on a trowel, sprinkle on the hydrosulphite, moisten, and apply to the stain.

★ ★ ★

Do not leave the paste in place more than one hour, as black staining may result. Remove and flush with clear water. If stain remains, repeat the treatment.

Copper or bronze stains are usually green, but can be brown. Either may be removed by making a dry mixture of salammoniac and powdered talc (1:4) and adding ammonia water (household ammonia) to make a paste.

Place over the stain and allow to dry. (All label precautions should be observed when using ammonia water, particularly cautions regarding eyes and mucous membranes.)

OLD STAINS

Old stains of this kind may require several applications for complete removal. Aluminum chloride may be used instead of salammoniac.

Aluminum stains are usually a white deposit which may be removed by scrubbing with 10 to 20 percent muriatic acid solution. On colored concrete, weaker solutions should be used.

Flush with clear water after removal to prevent etching of the concrete.

(Again, label precautions must be observed since muriatic acid can affect eyes, skin and breathing.)

Fire often causes severe stains on concrete. The appearance may be restored by: scrubbing with pumice or grit scouring powder to remove surface deposit; apply white flannel soaked in a mixture of 2 lb. trisodium phosphate and 12 ounces chlorinated lime (use caution, chlorinated lime can irritate eyes and skin) in 2 gal. water (use only clear liquid after lime has settled).

SOAK

The soaked flannel should be covered and kept moist with the solution. Deep stains from burning pitch may require several treatments.

★ ★ ★

Free information on concrete stain removal can be obtained from the Portland Cement Association, Dept. PI, Old Orchard Road, Skokie, Ill. 60076.

Safe Wiring Cuts Down Fire Hazard

Defective or misused wiring causes nearly one out of every six dwelling fires.

Homeowners who neglect to check their electrical wiring system are flirting with disaster, officials point out.

★ ★ ★

Check your answers to these questions to see if there are uncorrected electrical hazards in your home:

• Is the right size fuse (15 amps for lighting circuits) in each socket in the fuse box? Do you use a new fuse — never substitutes — after each blow?

• Do you use extension cords within safe limits of their capacities? Safe limit for the most commonly used extension cord is 500 watts.

★ ★ ★

If you must use an extension cord to feed one or more appliances drawing more power than this, make sure you use a heavy duty type.

Are extention and appliance cords replaced immediately whenever insulation shows signs of fraying or cracking? Do you see that cords are never under rugs or hooked over nails.

• Are appliances checked periodically to be sure they are in good operating condition, and taken out of service for repair or replacement at the first sign of trouble?

★ ★ ★

• Is your TV antenna installed where it cannot fall across power lines, and is it equipped with a properly ground lightning arrestor?

★ ★ ★

If there are any "no" answers on your list, take corrective measures immediately. Make your home electrically safe to avoid fires.

Easy Brushstroke to Apply Enamels

The final step to a bright new finish it he proper application of the enamel

Load the brush generously. Flow the enamel onto the surface in long, smooth strokes with the grain of the wood. Don't reload the brush.

★ ★ ★

Cross-stroke. Then with the nearly dry brush, go over the surface with the grain, once again using long, smooth strokes.

★ ★ ★

You will get an even coverage and eliminate any excess which might cause drips to form.

BIG HELP — Hurricanes and severe wind storms can take an expensive toll in property damage. But, there are some measures homeowners can take to protect their homes. A roof of wind-resistant self-sealing asphalt shingles on this house stayed intact though the rest of the structure was badly damaged.

Wind-Resistant Roof Spurns Storm Fury

Some homeowners learn their ABC's the hard way — from sources like Arlene, Beulah and Chloe — this year's first three hurricanes.

Many learn too late that a high proportion of damage from wind and rain could be avoided if homes were protected by wind-resistnat roofing.

★ ★ ★

Though a well-constructed house can generally withstand the force of a high wind storm, roofs are often unprotected and vulnerable.

High winds can rip off shingles leaving gaping holes in the roof, and deluging rains can pour into the house damaging walls, ceilings, furniture, carpeting, clothing and other possessions.

SHORT CIRCUIT

If electrical wires get wet, they can short circuit and cause fires.

Wind-resistant roofing is a safeguard against this type of damage.

Its effectiveness was proven in recent Gulf Coast and New England hurricanes in which many roofers reported that wind-resistant roofs were spared while neighboring homes with unprotected roofs suffered extensive damage.

★ ★ ★

There are three general types of wind-resistant roofing. Self-sealing asphalt shingles have a factory-applied adhesive strip which, after application, is activated by the sun's heat and bonds each shingle to the one below.

They carry an Underwriters' Laboratories label showing that the shingles stayed in place during high-velocity wind tests.

ASPHALT SHINGLES

Interlocking asphalt shingles are specially constructed so that the shingles "lock" together into a wind-resistant surface.

Home Office Helps Financial Managing

In her married career, the average homemaker can figure on seeing nearly half a million dollars pass through her hands —at least long enough to pay the butcher, insurance company and a large assortment of regular creditors.

This is at the rate of $10,000 a year wages, a reasonable figure on the average, considering that median annual earnings even now are approaching that figure.

And how, in too many instances, does she manage the financial affairs of the household? Out of a cabinet drawer, perhaps, or with a makeshift desk file in the kitchen, or from a tiny desk in the bedroom.

As a handler of family finances and chief manager of the family and its affairs, today's homemaker needs an island of calm from which to operate: a business center. If the homemaker also is a wage earner, the problems are multiplied.

Every home today needs an office worthy of the name, even though the space is small and the equipment is confined to a desk, chair and filing cabinet.

BEST INTEREST

Having a home office is to the woman what a workbench is to her handyman husband. From the standpoint of the family's best interests, the office is first choice of Norma Brown, home furnishings consultant.

"An office nook can be almost anywhere, but most women prefer it in or near the kitchen; if there's insufficient space there it can go in a hallway, on a porch, in a large bedroom or basement," she points out.

Essentials are a desk, old or new, with drawers; a filing cabinet for the family records, a comfortable chair, a telephone, basket for incoming and outgoing mail and a portable typewriter.

To help create an attractive home office, the "keeper of the records" should feel free to make it inviting.

She might ask her husband to put up a partial partition of hardboard filigree — a peek-through panel which gives privacy but permits passage of air and light.

Various width panels are available at lumber yards, and they fit into channeled wood frames for easy construction and top appearance.

She can also ask Dad to set off the office corner with some easy-care woodgrained hardboard panels, which he can put up quickly by means of a new cartridge-type adhesive.

★ ★ ★

Curtains over a nearby window and some femine touches of decor on and near the desk will encourage Mom to spend some time every day with the bills, records and correspondence.

With a telephone on the desk, she is likely to be businesslike in her calls and to make them promptly.

Four-Day Visit

Catholicos Arrives June 14

Catholicos Khoren I of the Armenian Holy See of Cilicia in Lebanon, will arrive at Metropolitan Airport on June 14 at 12:14 p.m. His Holiness will remain in Detroit for four days, part of a 12-week visit to the United States and Canada.

It is the first time that a Catholicos of the Holy See of Cilicia has visited the United States.

★ ★ ★

The visit is to strengthen ties with his large following, and to spearhead a fund drive for the establishment of a national prelacy headquarters in New York City.

GREETED AT AIRPORT

His Holiness will be greeted at the plane by civic and religious dignitaries and prominent American residents of the area.

Among those attending from Pontiac are Vartkes Haroutunian and George Arakelian, two members of the church board of trustees.

★ ★ ★

Upon his descent from the plane His Holiness will perform the traditional ceremony of the Blessing of the Bread and Salt. He will then extend greetings and bestow a blessing on the welcoming group.

★ ★ ★

The Holy Father will be given opportunity to meet those present and have a brief interview with the press. He will leave with his companions from Lebanon and proceed in an escorted motorcade to the St. Sarkis Church in Dearborn.

WELCOMED

Here he will be officially welcomed by the Rev. Gorum Shrikian of the host church.

The blessing of the bread and salt which will be performed as he enters each community, has a significance which dates from Biblical days.

★ ★ ★

Today it is generally conceded to symbolize a concept of welcome and hospitality, a wish for longevity and a covenant of unbreakable friendship.

★

Bread was honored as life giving food in ancient times and symbol of life. Salt, a scarce and much sought after preservative, was a gift of great value.

It became a sign of lasting friendship, and eventually evolved into the symbol of the covenant of God and His people.

BANQUET

On June 15 His Holiness will be honored at a banquet at the Ford Styling Center. He will celebrate Mass at St. Sarkis Church at 10 a.m. The banquet will follow at 2:30 p.m.

The Ford Center is on Oakwood across from Greenfield Village.

★ ★ ★

Youth Night is scheduled for children and young people at 7 p.m. on June 16 in the church fellowship hall.

★ ★ ★

On June 17 church groups and affiliate organizations will gather in fellowship hall at 7 p.m.

A special cultural program of songs, music and dances is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in fellowship hall on June 18.

Ordained in 1947, Khoren I played an integral role in the Cilician See's growth years as Grand Sacristan of the Cathedral, Chancellor of the Holy See and Prelate of Lebanon.

★ ★ ★

In 12 years as prelate, he strengthened the internal church organization and set up strong and mutually advantageous relationships with the state of Lebanon and foreign nations.

★ ★ ★

New churches, schools and prelacy offices were established.

★ ★ ★

As Archbishop Khoren Paroyian, he spoke in Pontiac at a banquet on March 29, 1956. Welcoming him to Pontiac was the late Walter K. Willman, then city manager.

★ ★ ★

As Catholicos, he spearheaded the building and expansion of holdings in Beirut, Lebanon and Junish in Syria. He also won recognition in the ecumenical movement and obtained representation in major ecclesiastical councils.

★ ★ ★

His 1967 meeting with European religious leaders underscored the relations of the Holy See with leading churches of the West.

WHEN IS A MAN DEAD?

The advent of organ-transplant surgery has raised this question into sharp focus. The traditional concept that death occurs when the heart-beat and breathing ceases has been revised. For medical purposes, death is considered to have occured when the brain ceases its conscious rational function. In other words, a man may be considered dead even though he appears to be alive.

This startling concept, new to our generation, is not new to the Bible. Long ago the Bible declared the wages of sin is death — Spiritual death, and ultimately eternal death. Thus to all intents and purposes a man is considered dead even though he appears to be alive. "She that liveth in pleasure is dead while she liveth" — I Timothy 5:6. "By one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." — Romans 5:12. "I know thy works, that thou has a name that thou livest, and are dead." — Revelation 3:1.

It is from this state of spiritual death that the Lord Jesus Christ came to deliver man. "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life." — John 5:24. "He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life." — I John 5:12.

When is a man dead? Right now, according to the Bible. And what should be done about it? "Ye must be born again" by a personal faith in Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord.

Workers for Italy Oil Firm Are Released by Biafra

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) — Eighteen foreign oil workers who were sentenced to death by Biafra, then pardoned, were released and arrived in Libreville today. They were taken to a French military hospital for checkups.

The reprieved oilmen, 14 Italians, three Germans and one Lebanese, were scheduled to fly to Rome later today in a chartered jet. The plane left Rome for Libreville Friday night carrying 10 officials of Ente Nazionale Idorcarburi, the state-owned oil firm that employs the men.

The oil workers seemed to be in good spirits and waved happily to Italians on hand to greet them when they landed at Libreville.

One of the men freed, Silvio Barbera, said "We were given the best possible treatment. We were not subjected to any brutalities and we were well fed."

They were captured by Biafran forces early in May and accused of aiding federal forces in the Nigerian civil war. Biafran authorities pardoned them after appeals by Pope Paul VI and other governments.

Meanwhile the flag-draped caskets of 10 Italian oil workers reportedly killed by Biafran forces in the same incident arrived in Milan. Their funerals will be held Sunday.

AMID THE TREES—An armored vehicle maneuvers among rubber trees near the base camp of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division about 30 miles north of Saigon. The vehicle was scouring the area for enemy troops.

Casualties Mounting in Viet in 2nd Day of Hard Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — Casualties mounted in a second day of heavy fighting and artillery duels across South Vietnam today. The enemy apparently intends to keep the pressure on through Sunday's Midway Island conference between President Nixon and President Nguyen Van Thieu.

More than 50 Americans were reported killed during the past 48 hours and more than 200 wounded. South Vietnam casualties were 107 soldiers and 19 civilians killed and 379 soldiers and 95 civilians wounded.

Military spokesmen reported that 700 North Vietnamese and Vietcong soldiers were killed in the same period, including more than 50 who died today in a regimental-size attack on a U.S. patrol base along the Cambodian border 65 miles northwest of Saigon.

Military spokesmen said there were more than 50 rocket and mortar attacks overnight on bases and towns, including Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city. It was hit for the first time in three weeks.

The U.S. Command said casualties and damage from the shelling were light.

The new upsurge in enemy activity, which began Thursday night, has been linked to Sunday's conference on Midway between Thieu and Nixon.

Military analysts described it as a continuation of attacks that periodically reach a high point of intensity aimed at "influencing the political situation" and making an impact at the time Nixon and Thieu and their advisers are holding key strategy talks.

★ ★ ★

In the attacks on Da Nang, Vietcong gunners fired 45 rockets and mortars into military installations in the city. Terrorists staged seven attacks.

Five persons were known dead and 37 wounded. First reports said four of the dead were U.S. Air Force men killed when eight 100-pound rockets slammed into Da Nang air base.

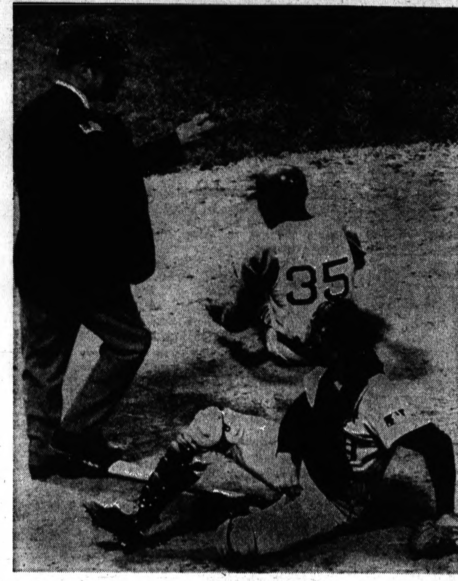
Young Hurler Checks Tigers



AP Wirephoto

SITDOWN — Umpire Hank Soar appears to be lecturing Oakland Athletics batter Tom Reynolds and Detroit catcher Bill Freehan during this second-inning scene. Actually, Reynolds foul-tipped a ball, lost his balance and sat down, while Freehan was hit by the ball and wound up in the same position. Neither was hurt. Oakland won the game, 5-3.

DETROIT (AP) — "With a name like Lauzerique he would pitch every day in Montreal," someone quipped.

But George Lauzerique isn't French. And he doesn't play for the Expos.

And although he won't pitch every day, he looked fully capable of joining the starting rotation as he hurled the Oakland Athletics to a 5-3 win over the Detroit Tigers Friday night.

★ ★ ★

It was only his second major league start, but it was his second straight win since being called up from Des Moines of the American Association May 28.

"That boy dazzled us with his motion," said Tiger Manager Mayc Smith.

TRIPLE TROUBLE

Bert Campaneris ripped three leadoff hits and scored three times and rookie catcher Gene Tenace hit his first major league homer for the decisive run in the victory. Norm Cash hit a two-run homer and Bill Freehan a solo blast for the Tigers.

"It was a big thrill to win against the Tigers," said the 21-year-old Lauzerique, who was born in Cuba but spent most of his life in New York City.

"It was a special thrill to win against Mr. Wilson, Mr. Kaline, Mr. Freehan, and all the others," he said admiringly of members of the defending World Champion Tigers.

"They are stars and you have to respect them, but I wasn't scared of them."

Lauzerique did not stick with the Athletics team that started the season. The coaching staff wanted him to be a reliever but he felt he sould be a starting pitcher.

"It was a disappointment when they sent me down to Des Moines," he said. "But I had a 5-0 record down there and was doing well and that must have convinced them."

In his debut last week he gave up seven hits and one run in a victory over Cleveland.

"I just hope I can keep it up," Lauzerique said. "I want to help the club and help myself."

But he doesn't think his two performances will make him a part of the regular starting rotation.

"I'm just an extra man right now," he said modestly. "Jim Nash has a sore shoulder and I'm just taking his place."

HOMER ENDS STINT

Cash's two-run home run in the eighth brought Rollie Fingers in relief of Lauzerique, but the Athletics never appeared in any real danger.

Tenace's homer, his second career hit, came in the fourth against Earl Wilson, 4-5, and gave Oakland a 4-1 lead.

Campaneris opened the game with a double and scored on Danny Cater's single. After Freehan tied the game for Detroit with his seventh season homer in the second, Campaneris started the third with a single and came in on Mike Hershberger's double. Reggie Jackson singled Hershberger home.

★ ★ ★

Campaneris led off the fifth with another single,took second on a sacrifice, third on a wild pitch and scored when shortstop Mickey Stanley bobbled Cater's grounder.

SKIDDING

The win was only the third in nine games for the A's, who were 3½ games behind Minnesota in the West Division of the American League going into the game.

★ ★ ★

Detroit has lost four of its last five and fell 9½ games behind Baltimore in the East Division.

★ ★ ★

The teams were scheduled to meet again today with Chuck Dobson, 5-4, pitching for Oakland against Tiger ace Denny McLain, 8-5.

Major Leagues Find Record Talent Crop in Scanning Nation

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's major league teams scanned the nation and came up with a record 1,042 players in the regular phase of the free agent draft.

An additional 150 players were selected in the secondary phase of the two-day grab bag which ended Friday.

★ ★ ★

Among those selected was Mike Weaver, son of Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver. Weaver was picked on the 43rd round by Seattle for its Clinton, Iowa, farm club. The youngster, a second baseman, has been playing at Maplewood High School in Richmond Heights, Mo.

Inter-League Dealing Dates OK'd by Owners at Pro Grid Meeting

NEW YORK (AP) — Pro football's club owners agreed Friday that inter-league trading, effective for the 1970 season, will run from the day after the last post-season game until March 1.

★ ★ ★

The trading will be between the American and National Conference under the new structure of pro football beginning in 1970.

★ ★ ★

The 26 club owners adjourned their three-day spring meetings without further discussion of the realignment of the NFL.

Detroit Closes 4-Player Swap With Canadiens

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens completed a two-for-two off-season National Hockey League trade Friday with Pete Mahovlich and Bart Crashley going to the Canadiens in exchange for Garry Monahan and Doug Piper.

All four players were with minor league clubs during the 1968-69 season.

Monahan, a 22-year-old second year center or left winger, had 18 goals and 26 assists for 44 points with the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League while Piper, 24, had two goals and seven assists as a defenseman with Memphis in the Central Hockey League.

★ ★ ★

Mahovlich, 22, played with both Detroit and Fort Worth, Tex., in the CHL as a center and left wing while Crashley, a defenseman last season with Fort Worth, has been a pro for three years.

Sid Abel, Red Wings general manager, said both Mahovlich and Crashley had shown great potential in their first seasons but hadn't lived up to expectations. He said Monahan, farmed out because there wasn't room on the Canadiens, would almost definitely be with Detroit next season on left wing.

Cranbrook Second in State Tennis

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Sturgis won its third straight state Class B high school tennis title Friday with a massive 12-point total after the first three rounds of the annual state championship match.

Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook and Detroit Bishop Borgess were a distant second with five points each.

The final two rounds are scheduled for today.

★ ★ ★

Hamtramck, defending Class A champion, holds a slim 6-5 lead over Ann Arbor Pioneer and East Grand Rapids.

In a small Class C-D field, Galesburg-Augusta is in first place with three points and can do no worse than tie for the title. Five schools share second place with one point including the defending champion, Grosse Pointe University School.

All-County Delayed

Due to the delay in receiving some All-League teams The Press' 1969 All-County high school baseball selections will be delayed until Wenesday. At that time the top 22 performers this spring will be honored along with the respective All-League teams.

For Salmon Fishing

State Alters Rules

BLANEY PARK (AP) — Regulations for salmon fishing, plans for commercial fishing rules next year and a stepped up pesticide detection program have been approved by the State Natural Resources Commission.

The commission met Friday at Blaney Park, near Manistique in the Upper Peninsula.

The new salmon fishing regulations are designed to allow anglers to catch more fish and at the same time eliminate intentional snagging.

PROVISIONS

The provisions will be effective Aug. 1 through Dec. 31, 1972.

They provide that fishermen may not:

—Use a hook longer than one-half inch between point and shank.

—Use multiple hooks except on regular artificial lures.

—Use more than one single pointed hook or an artificial lure on one line.

—Attach a weight to any hook or lure.

—Attach a weight exceeding one-half an ounce within 18 inches of any hook or lure.

—Attach a weight that will extend beyond a hook or artificial lure when the line is retrieved.

5 STATES

William Marks, chief of the Water Development Services division, reported the five Great Lakes states will start a stepped up pesticide monitoring program in the upper five states.

The program will concentrate on monitoring pesticide amounts in lakes Huron, Michigan and Superior and their tributaries.

Water and sediment samples will be taken. First results of the tests are expected by September.

The five Great Lakes governors agreed on the program at a meeting with Gov. William Milliken April 20 in Chicago.

LICENSING

The commission agreed on a series of licensing provisions for Great Lakes commercial fishermen in 1970.

To qualify for a commercial license, the fishermen must:

—Have held a commercial license in 1969 and must have fished at least 50 days in two of three years between 1967 and 1969.

—Submit complete reports regarding their fishing operations.

—Be properly equipped to meet department specifications for commercial fishermen.

The commission was told the tighter regulations would eliminate about two-thirds of those now engaged in commercial fishing. Most of these would be part time fishermen, it was added.

It was estimated the new regulations would result on the issuance of about 250 commercial fishing licenses in 1970.

'Prince' After Belmont Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Age 101, but just as tough as ever. That's the Belmont Stakes.

★ ★ ★

The oldest, the richest and, some say, the toughest of the Triple Crown races began its second century today at Belmont Park.

★ ★ ★

And one of the particpants in the 101st racing's Triple Crown—Frank McMahon's Majestic prince, the winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness Stakes.

★ ★ ★

Others entered were Rokeby Stable's Arts and Letters, runner-up in the Derby and Preakness; Claiborne Farm's Dike, third in the Derby; Osmer S. Deming's Rooney's Shield, King Ranch's Distray and George Wallace's Prime Fool.

FOUR TIMES

Four times since Citation became the ninth Triple Crown winner in 1948, colts have gone into the Belmont as Kentucky Derby and Preakness winners and have come out as Belmont losers.

The 1½-mile Belmont, billed as The Test of The Champion, proved too much for Tim Tam in 1958, Carry Back in 1961, Northern Dancer in 1964 and Kauai King in 1966.

★ ★ ★

Of the four, only Tim Tam was high as second and only he had any excuse. The Calumet Farm colt ran the final oneeighth of a mile with a fractured sesamoid bone to finish behind Cavan.

The other three just couldn't pass the test.

Non-Title Bout Slated

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The 11th ranked light-heavyweight in the world, Levan Roundtree, has signed to meet champion Bob Foster in a non-title bout at Atlanta City Auditorium June 19, promoter Murray Silver announced Friday.

Mickey Lolich's Forearm Injury Still Bothersome

TIGER NOTES & QUOTES

Mickey Lolich, who was hit on the left forearm May 27 in Oakland by a line drive, is still nursing his injury and may not pitch until the middle of next week.

"He threw today before the game and it hurt him a little," said Tiger Manager Mayo Smith after Detroit fell 5-3 to Oakland Friday night. "Maybe he can pitch by the middle of next week."

The Tiger southpaw has a 6-1 record.

★ ★ ★

Mickey Stanley has hit safely 13 of his last 14 games. He is the only Tiger to have played in all games this year and he leads the team in at bats.

Sunday is bat day at Tiger Stadium. All youngsters 14 or under entering the park on a full-paid admission will receive a free bat.

★ ★ ★

Denny McLain, who was after his 99th career victory today, has pitched three complete games this year in which he has walked just one batter.

★ ★ ★

Tom Matchick will miss duty with the Tigers this weekend because of duty with the Army Reserves, while Oakland players Rick Monday and Dave Duncan will miss the entire Tiger series due to military obligations.

★ ★ ★

Mayo Smith says the Tigers have to forget how well Baltimore and Boston are doing if they want to get back in the championship race.

That ought to be easy—Detroit can't even remember how it won the pennant and World Series last year.

★ ★ ★

The Tiger manager's statement came in the aftermath of a 5-3 defeat at the hands of the Oakland Athletics Friday night, a loss which dropped Detroit nine and one-half games behind the front-running Orioles of the East Division.

"You can't worry about what the other clubs do," Smith said. "You can't think of them.

"We've got to win games ourselves . . . we've got to take every series we play.

"What is Baltimore playing? .715 ball, you can't expect them to keep that up. If they do . . ."

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately, the way Detroit is playing .615 ball would be enough to beat them out . . . let along the .640 clip second-place Boston is ripping off.

Soup Firm Acquires Garden State Track

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — The Campbell Soup Co., swinging a multi-faceted $56 million deal, acquired the Garden State Race Track, a minority interest in Hialeah Park and a pair of plush motels Friday.

★ ★ ★

After making the deal with Eugene Mori, Campbell said it would sell Garden State to the Man o' War Racing Association.

Graebner in Finals

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Clark Graebner, the top-seeded player from New York city, gained the final of the English Northern Lawn Tennis tournament Friday with a 6-4, 9-7 victory over Tom Gorman of Seattle, Wash.

PNH Plays Wayne Memorial

Four Teams Vie for Tourney Honors

Algonac's St. Clair Area League champions bring a 15-1 mark and a highly regarded shortstop who was chosen by the Detroit Tigers Thursday in the professional baseball free agent draft into the Tournament of Champions today at Jaycee Park.

The second annual Southeast Michigan suburban high schools' playoff begins with Pontiac Northern (15-5) playing Wayne Memorial (8-10) at 2:30 p.m.

Algonac risks its glossy record against Suburban Six champ Allen Park (17-4) at 5 p.m., and the two winners will battle under the lights at 8 o'clock for the huge permanent trophy donated by the Tigers.

Admission is 50 cents per student and $1 per adult. One ticket is good for all three games.

The first contest pits PNH, who Thursday retained its Pontiac Invitational Tournament title, against Wayne Memorial's young ball club who was a surprise champion in the Livonia tourney.

The Zebras took a 3-10 mark into that competition, but in the words of coach Gary Green, picked up their hitting and put their pitching and fielding together for five straight wins. They knocked off strong Redford Union in the championship game, 7-5.

Sophomore catcher Doug Truskowski led their hitting attack this season while juniors Jim Green (5-1), the team's most valuable player, and Roger Housley (3-3) share the mound work.

Northern is led by the pitching of Rob Clancy and Bob Hukka. Clancy hurled 10 innings Wednesday and Thursday in earning the outstanding pitcher award in the Pontiac Tournament, and isn't likely to pitch today except in relief.

REGULAR LINEUP

Hukka (6-0) or Jerry Reddeman (1-1) are the possibilities for PNH. The Northern senior prom was last night but retiring coach Arnie Wilson promises to use his regular lineup this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The 5 p.m. game sends Algonac with its star shortstop Mike Schroerlucke, who hit just under .500 this season, against Allen Park and its standout captain Mike Ferguson, also a shortstop, who batted over the .500 mark and led the Jaguars to the Wyandotte Tournament title.

★ ★ ★

Algonac's Muskrats eliminated Utica's defending Tournament of Champions titlists, 4-1, en route to the Macomb County Area Tournament championship.

Two juniors have carried Algonac to its once-beaten record. Right-hander Mike Sutton is 7-1 and also leads the team in RBI's. Lefty Aaron DeMeyere boasts a 6-0 log.

Junior Glenn Knight (6-2) is slated to start for Allen Park whose ace, Ed Easterby (9-1) tossed a two-hit 3-0 shutout Thursday night to beat Riverview for the Wyandotte crown.

The Jaguars are coached by Bob Tomes. Dick Garrett guides Algonac.

Unbeaten Oriole Garners Eighth Decision

Birds' McNally Pins 5-1 Loss on Seattle

By The Associated Press

Dave McNally finally got around to finishing what he started. Barry Moore and Darold Knowles got much the same results working in shifts.

McNally, Baltimore's unbeaten pitching ace, beat Seattle 5-1 Friday night with a four-hitter for his eighth victory of the season —and first complete game in three weeks — as the Orioles continued to soar in the American League East Division.

Moore and Knowles yielded two hits apiece, hurling Washington past Minnesota's West Division leaders 1-0 and moving the surprising Senators back to the .500 mark for the first time in two weeks.

★ ★ ★

In other AL action, Oakland toppled Detroit 5-3; Boston edged Kansas City 4-2 in 11 innings; Cleveland whipped California 8-3, and the New York Yankees nipped the Chicago White Sox 3-2.

BACK IN FORM

McNally, 22-2 for the Orioles since the 1968 All-Star break, breezed past the Pilots in his best effort since May 15, when he blanked Minnesota 5-0 on a one-hitter — Cesar Tovar's one-out single in the ninth. The 26-year-old southpaw failed to finish his next four starts, picking up one victory along the way despite his spotty performances.

★ ★ ★

"I'm not concerned about complete games, but the way I've been throwing the ball," said McNally, who balked home Seattle's lone run and lowered his ERA to 2.91.

Frank Robinson, who hit his 14th homer before being ejected for disputing a called strike, and Paul Blair knocked in two runs apiece for the highflying Orioles, who have won four in a row and 16 of their last 19 for a 4½ game bulge over second place Boston in the East.

Moore, who had accounted for two of the five complete games recorded by the Washington staff with consecutive six-hitters in his previous starts, held Minnesota in check until the fifth inning, when he pulled a muscle in the right side of his back. Knowles saved the southpaw's fifth victory in six decisions with another brilliant relief stint.

STINGY

Knowles has not given up a run in five appearances, spanning 10 2-3 innings, since rejoining the Senators last month after his release from military service.

Frank Howard, who had three of the Senators' 11 hits, opened the sixth with a single and moved around to score the game's only run on a walk, Ken McMullen's single and Dick Billings' double play grounder.

ENDS GAME

Dalton Jones crashed a two-run homer in the 11th, sending the Red Sox past the Royals, who have dropped eight of their last nine starts. Dick Schofield lined a ground rule double before Jones unloaded against reliever Moe Drabowsky.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Adair, a former Boston Infelder, sent Kansas City ahead 2-1 in the tenth with a bases-loaded single, but the Red Sox retied it on George Scott's two-out home run in the bottom half.

Tony Horton delivered four runs with his ninth and tenth homers as Cleveland bombed the Angeles and put together its first three-game winning streak of the season. Ken Harrelson contributed a two-run homer to the Indians' attack.

Wiretapping At Issue

Clay Hearing Nears End

HOUSTON (AP) — Government and defense lawyers prepared briefs today to be submitted to a federal judge following a week-long wiretap hearing involving former heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay.

Judge Joe Ingraham concluded the Supreme Court ordered hearing Friday without handing down a ruling. However, he ordered attorneys to submit written arguments and briefs within two weeks. At that time he could rule or re-open the hearing.

★ ★ ★

The high court ordered the hearing March 24 to determine if government wiretapping played any part in the conviction of Clay on a charge of refusing to be inducted into the armed services.

Clay was convicted and assessed a five-year prison sentence and fined $10,000 June 20, 1967. He has appealed the conviction to the Supreme Court.

DR. KING

Summaries of four wiretapped conversations were admitted as evidence in the hearing. One of the conversations involved Clay and the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Another involved Clay and Elijah Muhammad, head of the Black Muslims. In the other two Clay talked with other Black Muslim officials.

Clay has claimed draft exemption as a Black Muslim minister and as a conscientious objector.

★ ★ ★

Ingraham refused to admit a fifth summary into evidence on the ground the disclosure of its contents could endanger national security.

Charles Morgan Jr., of Atlanta, Clay's chief attorney, said the government has shown the evidence was "tainted and illegal."

John S. Martin, a Justice Department attorney, said the hearing had satisfied the Supreme Court requirement.

In a brief argument, Morgan asked that Clay's indictment be quashed, the verdict set aside and the case remanded to the Selective Service Board.

TABBED BY BUCS — Outfielder Mike Semp, who owns most of the hitting and base-stealing records at Romeo High School, has been taken by Pittsburgh in the annual baseball draft.

Local Prep Standouts 'Drafted' by Majors

A couple of area pitchers and a hard-hitting outfielder from Romeo were among the teenagers plucked by the major leagues in the baseball draft yesterday in New York.

Mike Semp, who hit over .400 for Romeo and led the team in nearly every batting department, was tabbed by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

★ ★ ★

The 6-foot, 180-pound Semp lettered for three years on the Romeo varsity and helped the team to fourth place in the Oakland A League this season.

NO-HIT HURLERS

Both Dan Maluzhinsky of Madison Heights Lamphere and Mickey Elwood of West Bloomfield came up with no-hitters this season.

Right-hander Maluzhinsky tossed three no-hit gems — all in a row — and Elwood was the mainstay in West Bloomfield's efforts this year. Cleveland drafted both.

★ ★ ★

A number of other area players were among those drafted late Thursday.

TIGER HOPEFULS

Milford's Mark Geigler, who earned the Most Valuable Player trophy in the Eighth Annual Pontiac Invitational just completed, was picked by the Detroit Tigers.

★ ★ ★

A shortstop, Geigler wielded a hot bat and turned in a strong defensive performance in leading Milford to the Wayne-Oakland championship.

CITY CHAMP TABBED

Owen (Bud) Heather of Troy, last year's Pontiac Class A batting champion with a .433 mark, is another shortstop picked off by the Tigers. Heather, a member of Teamsters Local 614 last season, continued his hot hitting with a .417 mark at Northwood Institute this spring.

★ ★ ★

Among the other youngsters grabbed by the Tigers were Rick Krumm, a 21-year-old pitcher from Eastern Michigan University who played at Berkley; Mike Fremuth, another pitcher who hails from Birmingham and is a product of Princeton; and Gene La Fave, an outstanding pitcher for Detroit St. Francis de Sales.

Champ Slowed by Broken Hand

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mando Ramos, his left hand broken from a blow to a sparring mate's elbow, won't be able to defend his world lightweight boxing crown against Japan's Yoshiaki Numata.

The 20-year-old Long Beach, Calif., fighter broke a metacarpal bone behind the ring finger sparring with Bobby Rodriguez at his nearby Santa Ana training camp. Ramos was prepping for a scheduled June 14 bout against the former Oriental lightweight champion.

Brewer Regains Putting Touch

MIDLOTHIAN, Ill. (AP) — Gay Brewer, who hasn't scored a regular tour victory since the 1967 Masters' says a refound putting stroke is responsible for his lead going into today's third round in the $130,000 Western Golf Tournament.

"I've been in a kind of a slump for a year and a half," the pug-nosed pro said after shooting a second round 67 Friday for 136 and a one-stroke lead over Frank Beard and a couple of non-winners, Dick Rhyan and Rocky Thompson.

"I really hadn't been playing that badly," he said. "But it was my play around the greens, my putting. Then I was watching some home movies of myself and I discovered what I was doing wrong on my putting.

"I was moving my head with the stroke. I corrected it just this week. Now I'm putting much better. I'm concentrating well, hitting my irons good. My whole game is in good shape."

HOME MOVIE

And the home movie he watched?

"The 1967 Masters."

The graying, 37-year-old has been in a decline since then he's won two Alcan golfer of the year tournaments, but they don't count as regular tour events. On the tour, he hasn't finished higher than fifth in 1½ years.

Friday, he knocked in a six-footer for a bird on the fourth hole, canned a 15-footer on No. 7, pitched to within four feet and made the putt on the 10th and nailed 12, and 7 foot birdie putts on Nos. 12 and 16. His only bogey came on the final hole.

SAGS TO 71

Beard, who opened with a 66, had to settle for a par 71 and was tied at 137 with Rhyan and Thompson, each with a 70. Ken Still had a 66 for a 138 and was alone at that figure.

A group of eight are locked at 139, including New Zealand's Bob Charles who had a second round 68.

Big Bob Lunn matched the course record with a six-under-par 65 for 140 and was tied at that figure with five others, including South African Gary Player, who had a second round 72 and Lee Trevino, 68.

Defending champion Jack Nicklaus had a 72 for a 143. Billy Casper improved to a 69 and is in contention at 141. PGA champ Julius Boros had a 72 for 144 and George Archer, the Masters champion just made the cut for the final two days play, taking a 146.

Paul Sperry, a junior righthander, scattered six hits in pitching the shutout.

It was the 13th straight victory for the Illinois school from Normal, which went through the Mid-East Regional and the series here without a loss. For the season the Redbirds were 33-5.

Kayak Trio Following French Explorer's Path

NILES (AP) — Three 18-year-old Niles youths set out today to paddle their way in kayaks to Galveston, Tex., an estimated 1,800 miles away.

★ ★ ★

The youths are Kent Berner, Marty Camp and Todd Oleson, who received diplomas Thursday night from Niles High School and began packing immediately for the trip which they say will parallel that of French explorer Rene LaSalle 300 years ago.

★ ★ ★

The journey will be via the Kankakee River, entered at North Liberty, Ind., about 35 miles south of Niles, the Illinois and Mississippi rivers and the Intercoastal Waterway from New Orleans to Galveston.

100 MILES

The three figure it will take them three to three and a half weeks to complete the trip and have set themselves a goal of 100 miles a day.

Their two kayaks were built from do-it-yourself kits and one which wrinkled when coating was applied was dubbed, "Prune." The other is "Burble."

The trio packed a three-day food supply, clothing, a tent, sleeping bags, an axe and a 22-caliber rifle in their crafts, and took along letters of introduction from Mayor Frank Frucci and Police Chief Ray Crocker.

In anticipation of their journey, the three had been practicing lately on the nearby St. Joseph River.

They plan to visit a cousin of Berner's in Houston and then fly home, leaving their kayaks to be returned by trailer later in the summer by the cousin.

Cub Sidelined

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Cubs reported second baseman Glenn Beckert will be sidelined three to four weeks with a broken thumb suffered in Friday's game with the Cincinnati Reds. Beckert was injured when Reds pitcher Tony Cloninger attempted to break up a double play.

Donna Caponi Leads Lady Carling Event

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Donna Caponi and Leslie Holbert, a couple of ailing outsiders on the women's pro golf tour, threatened to steal the spotlight from co-favorites Carol Mann and Kathy Whitworth in Saturday's second round of the $20,000 Lady Carling tournament here.

Donna, playing with a heavily-taped ankle, and Leslie, gulping pills at planned intervals around the course, figure they are overdue for a breakthrough in the winner's circle.

As second-round play got underway, Miss Caponi from Detroit was deadlocked for the top spot after an opening round five-under-par 68. Miss Holbert, a native of Long Beach, Calif., was three strokes off the pace after her 71.

Day's Blanks Foe, Takes Lead in Fastpitch League

A timely triple and shutout pitching sent Day's Sanitary to the top of the heap in Waterford Township fastpitch softball last night.

★ ★ ★

John Herrington flipped a three-hitter and Paul Atkins' two-out triple in the top of the seventh scored Dick Ryan from first base with the only run as Day's halted previously unbeaten Spencer Floor, 1-0.

The win left Day's with a 6-0 record, while Spencer slipped to second at 6-1.

★ ★ ★

Both teams played errorless ball. Jerry Hesse picked up two of the three hits off Herrington, who fanned five.

In the other game, Timberlanes (3-4) pushed across five runs in the first three innings and rolled to a 5-0 decision over Colonial Village (1-5).

BIG INNING

Singles by Bud Hayward, Bill Hayward, Al Smith and Don Moorhead highlighted a three-run third for Timberlanes. Bud Hayward, Moorhead and Nichols finished with two hits apiece. Roger Reynolds set Colonial down on only three hits while striking out nine.

★ ★ ★

In a slow-pitch game, Coca Cola turned back Irwin Realty, 6-4.

On tomorrow's fastpitch schedule, Lighthouse Lanes meets Colonial Village at 1 p.m.; Spencer Floor takes on Timberlanes at 2:45; Tru-Bilt meets Day's Sanitary at 4:30; Milbur Industry takes on C. Weedon at 6:15.

Bengals 'Hit' All-Time Low During Week

The Tigers sunk to an all-time hitting low this week but this was the Bengals of the Union Lake Junior AA Little League and not the defending World's Champions.

★ ★ ★

Left-hander Kevin Bates of the Rangers didn't even allow the proverbial loud foul ball as he tossed a no-hitter and recorded all 18 outs on strikes in a 3-0 victory.

★ ★ ★

Kevin, age 12, did walk five in his masterpiece, but the Tigers only managed two foul tips when they swung at his sinking fast ball.

JOE'S PROBLEM — This is the midtown Manhattan restaurant in which football star Joe Namath owns part interest. Namath, star of the N.Y. Jets, has been ordered by NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle to sell his part ownership because the restaurant is frequented by undesirables. Namath has said he'll retire from football rather than sell.

Karras on Namath

'I Hope He Retires'

DETROIT (UPI) — The bell that Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle tolled for Joe Namath Friday echoed bitter memories for the Detroit Lions' Alex Karras.

It was just over six years ago that Karras was suspended from the National Football League by Rozelle for betting on the Lions. In the investigation that followed, the commissioner learned that Karras had a financial interest in a downtown bar, known as a hangout for sports celebrities and hangers-on.

Karras said he wasn't surprised at Namath's decision to retire after Rozelle slapped an ultimatum at him to either unload his holding in a New York bar or be suspended from football as Karras was.

"I hope he retires," Karras declared, "and I hope Pete Rozelle can throw the football as well as Namath.

"I hope Rozelle can put 80,000 in that stadium in New York.

"As far as I'm concerned, Joe Namath has done more to help football than Pete Rozelle has done in his whole damned career."

REFLECTION

Karras' stormy comments were the painful reflections of his own decision to quit the business following his run-in with Rozelle. However, as the months went by in 1963, he relented and he was reinstated some nine months after his suspension.

He reportedly got back on the Lions' roster by selling his share of the bar. Rozelle had hinted that the "hangers-on" at the bar were "undesirable" as far as pro football was concerned.

★ ★ ★

In the betting scandal, Karras and five other Lions — Joe Schmidt, John Gordy, Wayne Walker, Sam Williams and Gary Lowe — and the Detroit organization itself were slapped with fines totaling $14,000.

Pitch Fells LA Star

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Center fielder Willie Davis of Los Angeles was taken to Daniel Freeman Hospital Friday night after being struck in the face by a pitch during the Dodgers' game with Montreal.

Davis was hit on the right cheekbone by Montreal pitcher Dan McGinn in the first inning.

MSU's Benington Returns to Work

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State basketball coach John Benington is back at his desk again after suffering a heart attack April 11. Benington plans to spend an hour or two daily in his office.

Next week he plans to spend some time at a summer basketball camp he operates at Thompsonville, near Cadillac.

★ ★ ★

"I'll be a partial participant at the camp sessions," the coach said. "By July 1, I expect to be able to put in almost a full routine day at the office."

Champ Entered

CAMBRIDGE JUNCTION (UPI) — David Pearson, NASCAR grand national driving champion in 1968, has joined the fleet of drivers entered in June 15th's Motor State 500 at Michigan International Speedway.

EMU in Track Lead

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Eastern Michigan surged into the front Friday in rain-soaked competition in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics 18th annual track and field championships.

After five events, EMU held a seven-point lead on first with 18 points. Southern Louisiana was second with 10. Four other schools were grouped in fourth with 10 points each.

The most outstanding individual performance, however, came from Jerry Proctor, of Redlands, who leaped 25 feet, 6 1¾ inches in the long jump, only one-half inch shy of Ralph Boston's 1960 Olympic record.

SHUT OUT

Defending champion Prairie View A&M of Texas was shut out during the first day's competition.

Texas A&I's Ernest Haynes had the day's only record. He tied the 100-yard dash NAIA mark of 9.3 seconds in the third heat of the qualifying races, but placed third in the finals.

Haynes was beaten by two Southern Louisiana sprinters as Oliver Ford won in 9.5 seconds and teammate Bernard Boston slipped ahead to edge Haynes at the finish for second place.

RAINFALL

The meet was interrupted for an hour during the evening session by a cloudburst that covered the infield and track with pools of water.

The finals in the discus, scheduled for Friday night, were reset for Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Eastern Michigan picked up points in the 6-mile run during the morning session when David Ellis sprinted ahead in the final lap for a time of 30 minutes, 1.4 seconds.

★ ★ ★

In the only other final event of the morning session, Adelphi's Jack Panzica won the hammer throw with a toss of 186-3.

Mets, Montreal Continue Traveling Opposite Directions

The Montreal Expos, like the New York Mets, might have to wait eight years before winning eight games in a row, but right now the Exops must be asking what it takes to win one straight.

The Expos failed to come up with the correct answer again Friday night when they dropped a 4-2 decision to the Los Angeles Dodgers, their 19th straight defeat.

Muddling through their first year of existence as one of the four latest expansion teams, Montreal already has broken the Mets' expansion record of 17 consecutive losses and now are closing in on the modern all-time record for 23 set by Philadelphia in 1961.

The Mets, in contrast, are setting an example for perserverance for all expansion clubs. After suffering through years of ineptitude a one of the first expansion teams, the Mets have suddenly become a team to be envied, rolling by the new San Diego team 5-3 for a club record eighth consecutive victory.

The Expos and Mets weren't the only big losers and winners around.

The Chicago Cubs ran their winning streak to seven by clubbing Cincinnati 14-8 in a day game while San Francisco handed Philadelphia its sixth straight loss, 4-0.

In other games, Atlanta trimmed Pittsburgh 3-1 and St. Louis beat Houston 6-3.

Charlie, at 80, Keeps Active Making Plans for the Future

By EARL WILSON

VEVEY, Switzerland — "When you get to be 80, which I was April 16, time has its ravages," Charlie Chaplin said.

And though it was a hot afternoon here in the Alps, he pulled on a coat with a caracul collar to take me for a stroll on the sunny grounds of his 37 acres. Earlier he lit the logs in the fireplace and stood there warming his back.

WILSON

"I'm always cold," he explained with a soft laugh. "I hope to go to hell when I die so I can keep warm."

But there was no other talk of resigning from life from Chaplin. After all, this octogenarian is rearing among others a son, Christie, who's 6. He's writing a movie for daughters Vickie and Josie. And he's jumpy with excitement about the re-release of "The Circus" which he made more than 40 years ago in Ventura, Calif.

"I guess I'm just a little genius," he said, a couple of times, laughing at himself.

★ ★ ★

"The Old Lady" — Oona O'Neill, whom he married 26 years ago when he was a mere 54 — "has a runny nose and does not want to give it to you," he said, as, alone, he led me from the villa which greatly resembles a miniature White House.

"Nothing bothers me. I'm as strong as those." He pointed at the snow-peaked Alps especially one called Dents-au-Midi (The Middle Tooth).

"I go swimming in the unheated pool in the morning though the Old Lady says it's too much of a shock for my system. I play a little tennis with her and I can still beat her too. I have a drink at 6. Oona won't let me have one until then. So everything starts happening at 6."

Call-Girl Ring in Nevada Is Broken Up

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Las Vegas police vice squad report that a story told by a 17-year-old girl has led to the breaking up of a statewide call-girl ring. Nine adults were charged with pandering. The girl told authorities when she answered an advertisement for baby sitters, she was drugged, taken to northern Nevada and induced into prostitution.

The girl, unidentified, said her $3 fees in a brothel were divided between the brothel and her male solicitors.

★ ★ ★

A 19-year-old girl, the vice squad said, told of applying for a similar baby-sitting job, through an ad, and said she wound up, instead, propositioning men in Las Vegas bars and hotels.

Prostitution is believed to be a multimillion-dollar business in this legalized gambling state. Brothels are outlawed in Las Vegas and Reno but operate openly in the more remote areas. High-priced call girls also practice their trade.

Job-Joy Jig Justifies Jack

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — A person who breaks his leg while dancing in the company elevator during his lunch hour may collect workmen's compensation in New York State — but only if he's dancing because he likes his job.

In a 4-2 decision this week, the Court of Appeals said Robert Bletter should receive $912 in workmen's compensation for time lost when he broke his leg in an elevator in the building where he worked for Harcourt Brace and World Inc. as an associate editor of high school textbooks.

★ ★ ★

The court upheld an appellate division ruling that Bletter should receive workmen's compensation because he had been inspired to dance as an outlet of his "good feeling" about his job, his fellow employes, his supervisor and his general good spirits.

Vets' Turnout Dwindling

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's United Spanish War Veterans think they will be lucky if as many as 10 actual veterans of the 1898 conflict are on hand for their annual convention June 14-17 at Lansing.

The average age of the veterans now is 90-plus. There were 10 on hand last year. The ranks are rapidly dwindling.

It is estimated that Michigan has around 300 veterans of the war still alive.

The oldest known veteran in the state is William Quinlan, 99, of Grand Rapids, who had to send regrets.

★ ★ ★

The oldest veteran expected to attend is Anthony Kopke of Dundee, near Monroe, now 93.

Members of the auxiliary and sons and daughters of the veterans will make up most of the attendance.

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

The student looked over dummy with no enthusiasm. There was that nice spade suit but he held the singleton ace and there was only one entry to dummy. Finally the student decided to play to trick two.

He cashed his ace of spades, entered dummy with the ace of diamonds and laid down the king of spades. The queen dropped and everything was roses. The student counted six spades, three hearts, two diamonds and two clubs and claimed all the tricks.

★ ★ ★

"Could I have done any better?" he asked the Professor.

"You couldn't have made any more tricks but you could have played the hand a lot better," was the reply. "What would you have done if the queen of spades had not dropped?"

"I'd have gone after clubs and hoped that the man who won the third club wouldn't have a spade."

"Here is the correct play," said the Professor. "You want to make six and want to play as safely as you can to give yourself every chance. At trick two you cash your ace of spades."

★ ★ ★

At trick three you play your eight of clubs and duck in dummy irrespective of what is played by West. You win whatever suit is returned, go over to dummy's ace of clubs and claim six if both opponents follow to that second club. If one shows out you can still lay down dummy's king of spades and hope to drop the queen.

"Your play wouldn't have made seven, would it?" asked the student.

"No," replied the Professor, "but I seem to recall that the contract was six."

Grape Boycott Entering 2nd Year in California

By JIM CHURCH

DELANO, Calif. (AP) — As new grapes grow in the vineyards, Cesar Chavez and his union members are busy organizing the second season of what they hope will become a nationwide consumer boycott of California table grapes.

"The love of justice in the hearts of other Americans is still our last and best hope," Chavez says. His United Farm Workers Organizing Committee has been trying since 1965 to win recognition by grape growers as a workers' bargaining agent.

★ ★ ★

But the growers contend that Chavez does not have the support of the majority of the workers, that the workers are not oppressed as he maintains and that this summer's harvest will not be severely hurt by any boycotts or strikes. The grapes will be ready for picking in early July.

The long, bitter dispute not only has driven Chavez' people and the growers into polarized camps that don't communicate but also has split politicians, clergymen, townpeople and many of the workers themselves.

NO SIGN OF SETTLEMENT

And there is no sign of a settlement.

In fact, the organizing committee says it now has extended its boycott to table grapes grown in Arizona.

Chavez said he sent telegrams to all Arizona growers April 9, saying the committee represented a majority of their workers and calling for a meeting "to effectuate recognition."

★ ★ ★

He said he had not received a reply, and that Arizona grapes now are also under boycott.

Chavez spends much of his time in the run-down union headquarters in bed, convalescing from a spinal bone disease and a kidney ailment aggravated by his 25-day fast a year ago.

'TOO LATE'

"I sent letters and proposed elections," he said in a quiet but angry tone during a recent bedside interview. "Now it's too late. We're not boycotting for the right to just have elections.

"All we need is just one meeting. That's all it took with the wine producers."

★ ★ ★

He said the workers have no job security, are poorly paid, lack disability benefits, that some growers use pesticides harmful to the workers, that some gowers have no sanitary toilet facilities in the fields.

But he said back when "La Causa"—the movement—began, the farm worker averaged $1.10 an hour whereas now some get $1.90 and all the table grape growers are paying higher wages.

BEHIND THE INCREASE

"I'm convinced our activity has prompted the increase," Chavez said.

After bitter strikes in 1956, his group got union contracts with a dozen wine and raisin producers but with just one large table grower, DiGiorgio Corp.

★ ★ ★

One of the world's leading producers 10 years ago, DiGiorgio since has sold all its vineyards. Anti-Chavez people say it was because of the union.

The growers, of which there are about 70 in the Delano area in southern San Joaquin Valley, say they are not antiunion but that they are against the closed shop. They are afraid of strikes at harvest time, of an increasing influx of South American grapes.

Lou Caratan, who with his father operates a 1,000-acre farm, talked about the dispute.

★ ★ ★

He said there have been no elections "because Chavez wants elections only on his terms. It's also our understanding that union membership is mandatory.

"I've never had any talks with him. The only contact was a letter saying, 'I represent your workers.'"

NOT FORCED TO JOIN

The union contract with the wine and raisin producers has a charge for nonunion members but does not force them to join, a union official says. It provides a minimum of $1.62 an hour.

Wages are a key issue.

A growers pamphlet says that in New York State, where many stores refused to stock California table grapes, farm workers earned 24 cents a hour less than the average of $1.90 in Kern County.

★ ★ ★

"We live by the year, not by the hour," Chavez retorts.

"We're not starving," say union pickers, "but the farm workers are on the very bottom."

Another question open for heated debate, as indicated by Caratan's comment, is how much support Chavez and his union have among other workers.

DENIES DISCRIMINATION

"Chavez' union discriminates against those who aren't Mexicans," a 25-year-old nonunion worker charges. Chavez denies any discrimination. But he does agree that he lacks strong support from white farm workers.

"I don't really know why the Anglo workers are against us. I suppose you can't blame them after what happened in '49 and '50," when braceros brought in from Mexico broke strikes by domestic workers.

★ ★ ★

The growers show pictures of Mexican-Americans in the vineyards and maintain that persons who manned picket lines in the past strikes were "outsiders, clergymen, hippies, campus militants and paid professionals."

The union shows pictures of Mexican-Americans on the picket lines and maintains the growers used migrants and what they call "green carders," workers from Mexico who come by special permit to work a short time.

5,000 MEMBERS

The union claims a 2,500 year-round membership and 5,000 members at harvest time. There are about 20,000 farm workers in the county in all kinds of farm jobs, according to the Farm Bureau.

The strike cry of "La Huelga" will be heard again in the vineyards in July, Chavez says, but adds that the future of the union depends on a nationwide consumer boycott.

★ ★ ★

Work organizing the boycott is going full blast. In union headquarters 8 p.m. one night recently, Elaine Elinson, 21, typed boycott lists and instructions aimed at stores and chains that continue to stock California grapes. She had just returned from Sweden where she helped longshore unions stop the unloading of three ships carrying grapes, which were eventually unloaded at Hamburg, Germany. Juanita Brown, 24, was busy answering a stream of telephone calls. Others ground out publicity releases.

"We feel encouraged," Juanita said. "We have people from Delano in 50 cities." She listed Chicago, New York, Boston, Detroit, Baltimore and others as among those where stores have agreed not to stock the green Thompsons, black Ribiers, purple Muscats and Concords.

COULDN'T SELL THEM

Juanita has pictures she says show dumping of grapes at Lou Caratan's farm. She said the farm could not sell them, and that over-all the boycott cut 10 to 15 per cent into the grower's profit.

But the growers say they were unaffected by last summer's boycott and look toward July with confidence.

★ ★ ★

The pickers charged that the effectiveness of their campaign was hurt because the Pentagon greatly increased the shipment of grapes to Vietnam after the boycott began.

Pentagon figures confirm this, but officials there say their action had nothing to do with the California matter. They said the 2,047,695 pounds of grapes shipped to Vietnam in the last six months of 1968 compared with 555,000 in the fiscal year that ended on June 30, 1968, and 468,000 the year before that.

'HIGH ACCEPTABILITY'

The military officials said they increased the grapes shipments because of "the high troop acceptability of this seasonal item; reduced availability of export quality of fresh oranges; and improved capability of shipping perishable items.

"The Department of Defense does not purchase grapes merely because they have been made more available and less expensive due to the effects of the boycott," the Pentagon said.

★ ★ ★

A Franciscan priest at Our Lady of Guadalupe church in Delano, the Rev. Mark Day, 29, writes newsletter on the boycott for the workers. He says, "I have great respect for Cesar and I think the growers respect his philosophy of nonviolence. They could have a union leadership as tough as nails . . . Christ was always with the poor."

Reflections
THE PURPOSE OF A VAULT

J. L. VOORHEES
Should a vault be selected by everyone? The answer is no!
In our opinion, the selection of caskets, vaults, etc., should be, "To each his own." If this is true, what purpose does a vault serve?

M. E. SIPLE
The primary and most important function of a vault is protection! Protection for the casket and its precious contents. A vault gives "peace of mind" to those who care.
Today most cemeteries require the use of a vault or concrete liner. This is to make sure that the burial receptacle will support the weight of the earth above. This prevents the unsightly sunken graves that used to earmark most cemeteries.

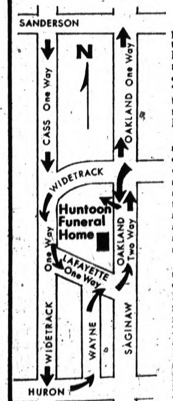
THINK ABOUT IT!
FATHER'S DAY



On Father's Day, dad is 'supposed' to have his slippers brought to him; to have his pipe or cigars handed to him; to have the right to select TV programs of his choice on his special day when he is 'King' . . . Most dads are realistic though and understand even if these 'Kingship' advantages don't happen.
Let's face it. There are all sorts of fathers, just like all sorts of women and children. Some dads are considerate, some inconsiderate. Some are affectionate, some indifferent. Some are contented, some discontented. Some are happy, some unhappy. Some are ambitious, some are not. Some are companions to their families, some are aloof.
In all these contrasts, one thing stands out. Blood relationship is one thing. A friendly relationship is another thing. And a blood relationship without a friendly relationship is another thing. And a blood relationship without a friendly relationship is tragedy. For all of you who read this, we sincerely hope Father's Day is a triumphant day — a friendly day for all fathers and families—everywhere . . . HUNTOON FUNERAL HOME, 79 Oakland Ave., Pontiac. LEADER OF BOYCOTT — Cesar Chavez, leader of the United Farm Workers, stands beside the bed in his union headquarters in Delano, Calif., as preparations go on for the second season of what Chavez and his workers hope will become a nationwide consumer boycott of California table grapes. Chavez is convalescing from a spinal bone disease and kidney ailment aggravated by his 25-day fast a year ago.

Women Better as Mailmen?

NEW YORK (AP) — Women make better mail carriers than men.

That's the opinion of Thomas Murray, head of the privately owned Independent Postal System of America.

★ ★ ★

"They are happier on the job than men and have more rapport with the housewives," said Murray who says his firm has offices in 28 states.

Heart-Switch Age Limit Eyed

MONTREAL (AP) — Heart surgeon Dr. Christiaan Barnard said Friday that doctors could insure a higher rate of successful heart transplants by setting an age limit of 60 on potential transplant patients.

But, he said at a news conference here, he personally did not want to set such a limit.

Of 129 heart transplant patients, 34 survive.

The longest surviving of these is Philip Blaiberg, who received a replacement heart on Jan. 2, 1968, in an operation performed by Barnard.

"You'll recall that Blaiberg was 58 when we operated," Barnard said.

Barnard is in Montreal taking part in the second Heart Transplant Symposium which opened Friday and continues until Sunday.

Thor Heyerdahl says he and his crew aboard the papyrus boat Ra "never had it better."

The explorer, who set sail from Safi, Morocco, May 25, and hopes to reach Latin America in three months, radioed his report from his position 250 nautical miles southwest of the Canary Islands.

Heyerdahl is seeking to prove that Mediterranean sailors could have crossed the Atlantic in reed boats 4,000 years ago.

Ex-Senator Toastmaster for Horse Race Ball

Speechmaking is nothing new to former U.S. Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky.

And he carried off his chores in fine style last night as chairman of the 22nd annual Belmont Ball at the Belmont Park Race Track at Belmont, N.Y.

MORTON

Morton, the president of the American Horse Council, acted as toastmaster for the ball.

Among those present was Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, owner of the Mets and co-owner of Stage Door Johnny, the winner of last year's Belmont Stakes. Also on hand were Mr. and Mrs. Frank McMahom, owners of Majestic Prince, who won the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness and who hope to pick up racing's triple crown by winning the Belmont today.

Heiress to Danish Throne Has Second Child

Princess Margrethe, 29, heiress to the Danish throne, gave birth to her second child, a seven-pound boy early today, the royal court announced in Copenhagen.

An official bulletin from the National Hospital said the mother and baby were in excellent condition. The birth occurred five hours after Margrethe entered the hospital.

The new prince will be second in line, after Prince Frederik, Margrethe's first child born almost exactly a year ago, to succeed to the throne.

Prince Henrik, Margrethe's husband, spent the night at the hospital to be near his wife. They were married in June 1967.

Their second child is 70-year-old King Frederik's and Queen Ingrid's fifth grandchild.

Loans, Savings Play Strains of Inflation

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — With inflation now accelerating to a rate well in excess of 5 per cent a year, Americans are reducing the amount going into savings accounts, are cashing savings bonds, and are borrowing on insurance policies.

CUNNIFF

These are among the ways in which households, hard-pressed in the midst of plenty, are attempting to offset swiftly rising prices and taxes.

* * *

This week the government announced that for the sixth straight month redemptions of savings bonds and freedom shares exceeded sales in May. The outflow was $12 million, compared with an influx of $36 million a year earlier.

At the same time, the rate of savings by American families is falling. Personal savings as a per cent of disposable income dropped from 7.1 per cent a year ago to 6.1 per cent in 1969's first three months.

RECORDS SHOW

The records of savings and loan associations and mutual savings banks show clearly what is happening. Savings and loans had withdrawals in April of $520 million. Mutual savings banks lost deposits of $200 million in the same month.

Similar evidence of financial strain is shown by records of life insurers.

* * *

Almost all large companies report steady increases in policy loans. And the Veterans Administration reports a similar experience with the National Service Life Insurance policies.

For the first three months of 1969, the Institute of Life Insurance reports, the dollar value of policy loans issued was 23 per cent higher than a year earlier, and indications are that the high rate persists to this day.

LOAN PERCENTAGE UP

Some of the larger companies now have more than 4 per cent of assets on loan, and in some instances the percentage is much higher. The experience of Metropolitan Life, second largest in the nation, is perhaps typical.

On Dec. 31, 1966, Metropolitan had about 3.95 per cent of its assets out on policy loans. A year later the figure had risen to 4 per cent. By the end of 1968 the percentage had risen to 4.06 and by April of this year had jumped to 4.12.

* * *

Figures compiled by the ILI show that, in the first three months of this year, insurance companies made loans on policies totaling $801 million, a jump of nearly $150 million over the figures of a year ago.

The increases are even sharper when compared with figures for the 1960s, before inflation became established. Figures for 1966 through 1968 already reflect the beginning of the trend that is now accelerating.

LOW INTEREST RATE

The attraction of life insurance loans is, of course, their low rate of interest. Although some policy loans cost 6 per cent, the great majority are offered at a 5 per cent rate. And the insurers are obligated to make these loans.

With personal loans often costing double that rate from other sources, insurers fully expect an increase in loan demand during a period of tight money or high interest rates. The present demand, however, is disruptively high.

* * *

At the very time that insurers have the opportunity to invest in record high mortgage and bond markets, they are forced instead to lend funds at much lower rates. This reduces the amount available for more profitable investments and could force smaller companies to liquidate other investments.

The strain on ordinary Americans reflected by this demand for policy loans, by bond redemptions and by the reduced rate of savings is blamed by one New York economic consultant on high taxes as much as on inflation.

LIVING STANDARD DOWN

Lionel D. Edie & Co., which sells economic analyses to corporations and other institutions, maintains that the standard of living of workers has failed to increase from 1965 through 1968, and has actually declined recently.

Its studies show that while average gross weekly earnings rose at an annual rate of 4.6 per cent in the four-year, 1965-1968 period, payroll and other taxes jumped 15.4 per cent annually. In the same period, the rise in the consumer price index averaged 3.3 per cent a year.

Whatever the reason, Americans are showing the strains of attempting to maintain the world's highest standard of living.

Floods Feared in Two Areas of California

HANFORD, Calif. (AP) — The southern San Joaquin Valley neared a state of emergency today as water began washing over the banks of the area's two major river systems.

The rainy season ended more than two months ago, but the Kings and San Joaquin rivers reached flood stages this week as melting snow from the Sierra Nevada began filling upstream flood control reservoirs.

* * *

The reservoirs are on the lower slopes of the towering Sierra Nevada range that borders the valley on the east.

The lower Coast Range forms the western border of the long, flat, agriculturally rich valley.

POPULATION SPARSE

Population in the threatened areas is sparse.

The San Joaquin River eventually winds north to the delta in central California and drains into San Francisco Bay.

* * *

The Kings River drains into Kings and Fresno counties. In normal water years its flow is diverted for irrigation and any surplus percolates into the ground.

This year the river volume has more than tripled. The excess has been diverted to Tulare Lake Basin to the south.

The basin, usually dry, now contains more than one million acre feet of water and threatens nearly 90,000 acres of prime farm land.

Waters flowing over the banks of the Kings now threaten to inundate another 50,000 to 60,000 acres of farmland.

* * *

Volunteer crews have been on duty 24 hours daily shoring up levees.

Officials say they have a 50-50 chance of containing the water without further damage.

"We're holding our own," said Frank Irwin, administrative officer of the Kings County Public Works Department.

"But if Pine Flat Dam goes over the top, there is big trouble." The dam, the Kings River upstream control point, has a capacity of 1,024,000 acre feet.

Storage Friday stood at 984,343 feet and was rapidly rising.

Dad Is Grad, Too

MENOMINEE (AP) — Diana Smith received her diploma from Menominee Area High School, then sat down to watch her father, Guy, graduate. Both father and daughter took part in Thursday night's commencement exercises as Diana completed her high school studies and her father finished his adult education courses.

Crash Kills Man

TRENTON (AP) — Ronald Landers, 22, of Trenton was injured fatally Friday when the car in which he was riding hit a parked truck in nearby Woodhaven. Patrick McCloy, 22, driver of the car, was injured seriously.

In 1933 Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany signed a 10-year Peace Pact.

Home Is Littered With Dogs in N.Y.

KINGSTON, N.Y. (AP) — When a justice of the peace here heard that Rachel Seidenberg, 86, had let the licenses lapse for her 11 dogs, he drove out to see her about it.

When he arrived at her home in Lyonsville, he found not 11 but more than 70 dogs. Mrs. Seidenberg said she had left her dogs in the care of a friend recently and he left a door open, allowing the animals to breed "indiscriminately."

* * *

All but five of the dogs were taken to the SPCA kennel. Mrs. Seidenberg got to pick which five she wanted to keep—with one condition—no females.

Embarrassing, but Women Must Serve

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A woman cannot be excluded from serving on a jury because testimony in a case might be embarrassing to females.

That was the ruling the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals made Friday in awarding a new trial to administrators of a deceased prisoner at the Kentucky State Prison at Eddyville.

* * *

Ernest Abbott, who died from cancer, charged two doctors with malpractice and failure to provide adequate medical care and attention. He sued each for $200,000.

A U.S. District Court jury in Paducha, Ky., had ruled in favor of the doctors. Judge Henry Brooks had excluded a woman from the jury because testimony about cancer in Abbott's organs would be distasteful.

In remanding the case for retrial, Appellate Judge George Edwards said: "It is common knowledge that society no longer coddles women from the very real and sometimes brutal facts of life. Women, moreover, do not seek such oblivion."

Restore Name Canaveral, Urges Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Legislature urged Friday that Cape Kennedy's name be changed back to Cape Canaveral, if U.S. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., agrees.

The legislature passed a concurrent resolution asking President Nixon and Congress to keep the name Cape Kennedy at the Space Center, but to change the name of the triangular cape on which the spaceport is located.

* * *

President Johnson renamed the space center and the cape—named Canaveral by early Spanish explorers—after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated in 1963.

The Spanish name means "plantation of cane," and was given to the cape because Indians grew cane there.

The Legislature's resolution noted 93 per cent of those polled by a Cape Kennedy area newspaper favored restoring the name Cape Canaveral.

Too Thrifty to Buy Junket

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (UPI) — Even the prospect of a trip to Washington cannot make the West Newbury selectmen put aside their Yankee thrift.

The selectmen were invited to dispatch one of their number to Washington to meet next week with Sens. Edward M. Kennedy and Edward W. Brooke for a discussion of local programs.

They decided against it.

* * *

"We didn't think the expense would be justified by whatever was learned from such a discussion," explained Selectman James Bingham.

Junior Editors Quiz on CHOCOLATE

QUESTION: How can chocolate and cocoa come from a tree?

* * *

ANSWER: In certain warm countries such as Brazil, Ghana and Nigeria, which lie not far from the equator, the cacao tree is raised in large numbers.

About 25 feet tall, this tree bears small flowers which turn into fruits or pods, each of which contains from 20 to 40 seeds. From these seeds, which are fermented, dried, roasted and ground, all chocolate products are amde.

The first product of the grinding is called chocolate liquor. This has a very rich flavor but it is unsweetened and bitter. When cooled into solid form, the liquor becomes unsweetened baking chocolate, which is widely used in flavoring cakes, puddings and desserts.

Manufacturers press some of the cocoa butter from the liquor and turn what remains into a fine powder; this is the cocoa which gives us such a fine drink.

When extra cocoa butter and sugar is added to the liquor, we get the sweet and semisweet chocolate which is used as a coating for chocolate candies. When milk solids are added to the last, we have the favorite American food; milk chocolate.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Study Shows Public Backed Police in Chicago Protest

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A study by the University of Michigan's Survey Research Center has verified that the majority of the public did not think the Chicago police used too much force in handling demonstrations at the Democratic National Convention last fall.

That reaction had first been observed by professional pollsters shortly after the convention.

This view was in marked contrast to the Walker Report prepared for the presidential commission looking into the nature of violence in American society. The Walker Report had called the Chicago disorders a "police riot."

The center's study found "There were more Americans who thought that the police did not use enough force than who shared the sentiments in the Walker Report," survey director Dr. John P. Robinson said.

Thirty-two per cent of the respondents said they thought the police used the right amount of force, while 19 per cent said there was too much force and 25 per cent said not enough.

* * *

Even the young were not clearly opposed to the police action, although members of the under-30 generation were more likely than their elders to be critical of police action.

The two biggest exceptions to these views were among college graduates under 30 and Negroes. Both groups, but especially Negroes, were critical of the police.

Robinson said Negroes' greater hostility to policemen could explain their views. Even conservative Negroes found the police had overreacted to the demonstrators.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE

Somewhat surprisingly, political differences among the respondents did not account for a very great difference in views of the police. Even supporters of Eugene McCarthy supported the police, although the percentage decreased consecutively for supporters of Hubert Humphrey, Richard Nixon and George Wallace.

Local Firemen Busier in 1969

Pontiac firemen have been busier this year than last, but deaths, injuries and fire loss figures are down.

During the first five months of 1969 firemen have responded to 748 fires compared to 577 in the same period in 1969, statistics released by the fire department show.

* * *

Only one death from fire has been reported this year. Last year two persons had been killed. Nine residents have been injured so far this year; 14 were reported at this time in 1969.

The 1969 fire loss has reached $261,506 compared to $385,550 in 1969.

If television doesn't offer area viewers anything too special this week, it does offer its selections of what has been most special during the past season.

In effect saying the season is past, the TV industry presents its 21st annual Emmy Awards Sunday from 10 p.m. to 11:30 on Channel 2. The program originates both in Santa Monica, Calif., and New York City's Carnegie Hall. Bill Cosby hosts the western portion and Merv Griffin is host in the East.

Performance categories are actor and actress single performance, drama, and comedy, and supporting actors and actress single performance and series. Among those being considered are Ossie Davis, David McCallum, Anne Baxter, Lee Grant, Geraldine Page, Carl Betz, Raymond Burr, Martin Landau, Ross Martin, Barbara Bain, Diahann Carroll, Hope Lange, Elizabeth Montgomery, Don Adams, Brian Keith, Lloyd Nolan, Joan Blondell, and Peggy Lipton.

Special effort is being made to recognize news coverage and documentaries.

Fiery Crash in Troy Kills 1, Injures 7

DEATH VEHICLE — Fire destroys a Chevrolet van in which a 17-year-old Detroit youth died last night following a head-on collision on I-75 in Troy. Seven others were injured, four of them seriously, in the 12:46 a.m. accident.

A Detroit youth died and seven people were injured, four of them severely, in a fiery head-on collision last night on I-75 in Troy.

★ ★ ★

Dead is William Cameron Jr., 17, passenger in a van driven by his father, William Cameron Sr. The youth died three hours after the accident at Pontiac St. Joseph Hospital.

The senior Cameron, his wife and two other sons were hospitalized, as was 7-year-old Nathaniel Miller, also of Detroit, a passenger in the Cameron vehicle.

PINNED IN CAR

Also hospitalized are Donald Hinman, 18, of Clawson, reportedly pinned in his car for 45 minutes after the crash, and his passenger, Cathy Mackey, 15, also of Clawson.

Cameron Sr., Hinman and the Mackey girl are all in the intensive care unit at William Beaumon Hospital. Cameron Sr. reportedly underwent surgery this morning for internal injuries and his condition is listed as "guarded."

Parrish Cameron, 3, is in the intensive care unit at Pontiac St. Joseph Hospital with head injuries. He is listed in critical condition.

His brother, Dana, 13, is in fair condition at the Royal Oak hospital with possible internal injuries.

AT CRITTENTON HOSPITAL

Also listed in fair condition are Mrs. Mary Cameron, 39, multiple lacerations, and the Miller boy, multiple injuries including a fractured leg. They are both at Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township.

Troy police said the accident occurred at 12:46 a.m. on I-75 just south of Long Lake Road.

Police said the Hinman car, southbound on I-75, unaccountably left the roadway, crossed the median and continued into the northbound lane where it struck the Cameron vehicle, which burst into fire.

The Troy Fire Department was called, but was unable to save the van. Officers worked for 45 minutes with hydraulic jacks to free Hinman from his car, untouched by flames, police said.

★ ★

Traffic backed up for about a mile for nearly two hours after the accident.

SEMCOG Chairman Hits Troy on Report

William L. Mainland, chairman of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), today charged Troy Mayor Jules Famulero and the Troy City Commission with failure to do its homework before deciding to withdraw from SEMCOG.

Troy commissioners are expected to vote Monday night to withdraw from SEMCOG, their action based on a report issued by a four-member committee appointed by Famulero. The report stated regional governments are expensive, ineffective and not not subject to local control.

★ ★ ★

Mainland at a noon press conference, charged, "The recently released City of Troy study report on SEMCOG appears to be a serious distortion of reality, filled with factual inaccuracies and dealing in large part with a sort of doomsday conjecture."

An Oakland County supervisor from Milford Township, Mainland said a SEMCOG staff review of the report indicates that inaccuracy and distortion occur in four general areas:

- "Some doomsday conjecture about a 'supergovernment' of the future."
- "A baseless fear of direct taxation by SEMCOG."
- "Unwarranted assumption that the will of the people is ignored in the decision-making process."
- "A myopic charge that SEMCOG is a do-nothing organization."

'ACTION LIKELY MONDAY'

Said Mainland, "Famulero has indicated that the city council will probably act on the report and recommendation Monday night with a possibility that SEMCOG might be allowed to meet with the council and study committee at a later date.

"Thus research will occur after a conclusion has been reached, rather than before."

Nixon Heading for Talks With Thieu

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon wings westward over the Pacific today for crucial conferences with South Vietnam's President Nguyen

President Nixon and his delegation were to leave from El Toro Marine Air Station, south of Los Angeles, at 1:30 p.m. EDT.

Related Stories, Pages A-2

The summit sessions are set for tomorrow on remote Midway Island, after an overnight stop for the President in Honolulu and a final strategy session there with his key advisers.

In three working meetings for which they have allotted five hours, Nixon and Thieu will cover such questions as troop levels, Vietnam's ability to take over an increasing military role, elections and the Vietnamese political outlook.

QUESTION RAISED

Troop level discussions raise the question of troop withdrawals. And Nixon promised in his May 14 speech outlining an eight-point peace plan that there will be no unilateral American withdrawal.

★ ★ ★

But the word from Saigon is that Thieu expects Nixon to push for de-Americanization of the war. Furthermore, Secretary of State William P. Rogers, the No. 2 man in the American delegation to the Midway talks, said Thursday he has no doubt the Vietnamese government is moving in the direction of letting its own forces replace U.S. forces.

He said the training of the South Vietnamese to assume more combat duty was moving along rapidly.

★ ★ ★

Reports have persisted that Thieu and Nixon would come up with an announcement tomorrow of plans for withdrawal of 50,000 U.S. troops from the fighting zones. White House officials have not denied this outright although they have said they knew of no firm basis for the reports. They also have said that troop strength naturally would enter into the Midway discussions, as is always the case at such a meeting.

STEP UP ATTACKS

The Vietcong and North Vietnamese have stepped up their attacks in South Vietnam in the past two days, apparently in an effort to influence the talks.

And some critics of U.S. Vietnam policy have voiced doubts about the usefulness of the meeting. Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said, "The meetings President Johnson had didn't result in anything significant."

★ ★ ★

Nixon is scheduled to arrive in Midway, a dot of land 1,200 miles west of Hawaii where the United States won a crucial naval victory in World War II, at 4 p.m. EDT. Thieu follows in 15 minutes. Each chief executive will receive full military honors.

They will drive immediately to the resident of the base commander for an hour and 45 minutes of private discussions — just the two of them. At the same time, their senior advisers will be in session at an officers' club.

After a brief break, Nixon and Thieu will arrive at the club for a working luncheon with their delegations. This is billed for an hour and 15 minutes. A final two-hour session is slated for the presidents and their senior advisers at the club.

D-Day Jumpers Repeat

Hunt for Missing SAC Plane Continues in the Bering Sea

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The aircraft searched the icy Bering Sea through the night for a Strategic Air Command reconnaissance plane which disappeared Thursday with 19 men aboard. More planes and three ships join the hunt today.

The Japanese Maritime Safety Agency said a Japanese fishing boat had reported survivors from a large aircraft, which could have been the RC135 reconnaissance plane, were adrift in a life raft in the area.

★ ★ ★

However, a spokesman for North Pacific Rescue Coordination Center at Juneau, Alaska, headquarters for the search, said it knew of no life raft being sighted.

He said the fishing vessel Shuyo Maru might have misunderstood a note dropped from a plane asking it to aid in the search.

CRAB FLOAT

Sighting of what appeared to be a life raft was reported yesterday but a closer inspection turned up only an orange-colored crab float.

In addition to the Japanese ship, the Coast Guard cutter Balsam was headed for the search area and a Russian fishing vessel was asked to assist.

The SAC jet disappeared Thursday about 30 minutes after taking off from Shemya at the tip of the Aleutian Island chain. It was on a flight to Eielson Air Force Base near Fairbanks.

The last radio report from the plane said there were severe vibrations, and the crew was using oxygen.

TWO LIFE RAFTS

The four-engine jet, a military version of the Boeing 707, carried two 20-man life rafts.

Headquarters of SAC said the RC135 was on a routine mission and made its last radio report about 250 miles east of Shemya. The plane carried electronic equipment for monitoring radio communications and checking radar.

★ ★ ★

Although the plane's flight pattern took it close to the Siberian border, military authorities here would not comment on the plane's mission. But the pentagon said it had not been shot down.

Trio Robs $2,300 From City Office

The Western Union office in Pontiac was robbed of $2,300 by three bandits at 10:20 p.m. yesterday, the second major holdup in less than two days in the city.

On Thursday, $25,400 was taken from the Pontiac State Hospital Credit Union.

★ ★ ★

Three men acting as customers seeking a money order, entered the office at 11 S. Perry, according to Pontiac Police. Then the three pulled out pistols and covered two employes.

The men looted the office safe, which was unlocked, and emptied cash drawers before escaping, police said.

DESCRIPTIONS GIVEN

The men were described as Negroes in their early 20s. Two were wearing berets and one a scarf. All were about medium height and size, police said.

Three men are also being sought in the Pontiac Hospital holdup. Early Thursday morning two of the men carried out a holdup brandishing revolvers and striking one employe. The bandits escaped in a black Mustang.

★ ★ ★

The men narrowly escaped capture after an employe tripped a silent alarm. Police arrived moments too late, but spotted the fleeing vehicle. The credit union had also been robbed of $60,000 on Feb. 1, 1968.

Police are continuing their investigation of the two holdups but have made no arrests.

A great majority, 51.3 per cent, approved of the space program while 9.7 per cent had no opinion.

'New' Spider Deadly

SIERRA MADRE, Calif. (AP) — A naturalist saw a tiny, unfamiliar spider in his neighborhood park and phoned Los Angeles County health authorities.

It was unfamiliar all right, said investigators: A South American violin spider, no wider than a dime but as venemous as a rattlesnake.

Health officials announced yesterday they found a colony of 50 violin spiders living in secluded areas of five park buildings. The buildings were sealed and fumigated.

Says Russia Not Frightened

Brezhnev: China Plans War

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev today accused Red China of planning nuclear and conventional war against the Soviet Union.

He made the charge in a speech at the world conference of Communist parties, which has been boycotted by the Peking regime and its allies in the feud with Moscow.

"The Soviet Union has sufficiently strong forces to defend itself and the Soviet people have strong nerves and will not be frightened by shouts," Brezhnev told the leaders and delegations of 75 participating parties.

★ ★ ★

He accused the Mao Tse-tung regime of seeking to dominate the worldwide Communist movement and linked its ambition with "the great power effort of the Peking government to acquire territories of other countries." It was an obvious reference to recent claims by Red China on Soviet territories in the Far East.

Both Moscow and Peking have reported clashes between their border forces with both sides suffering casualties.

Yesterday, Peking accused Moscow of deliberately provoking a series of incidents, including armed incursions, artillery shellings and kidnapping of soldiers and civilians. Moscow denied the charges.

Brezhnev said the people of China have been indoctrinated with the thought of the "messianic role of China, the mass indoctrination in the spirit of Chauvinism and vicious anti-Sovietism."

He said the Chinese children are taught geography with textbooks and maps "which ascribe the lands of other countries to the Chinese state."

WARNING IGNORED

He castigated the Red Chinese in spite of the warning from Romanian President Nicolae Ceausescu yesterday that anti-Chinese pronouncements may be dangerous to the conference's success. Other speakers also had ignored Ceausescu, who once led his delegation in a walkout from a preparatory commission meeting because of the attacks on Peking.

★ ★ ★

Brezhnev referred to an appeal in the official Peking newspaper two days ago for "preparation to fight Soviet revisionism in conventional as well as the great nuclear war."

The Soviet Union itself came under fire earlier over the Warsaw Pact invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Australian Communist party secretary Lorrie Aarons yesterday openly condemned the invasion and said it "harmed our cause — the struggle for a socialist world."

"We say openly the intervention in Czechoslovakia was wrong," Aarons said.

Crowd Surrounds Robert F. Kennedy's Grave At Arlington Last Night

Over 5,000 at RFK Memorial

WASHINGTON (AP) — When it was over they came through the darkness down the slopes of the great cemetery at Arlington to place candles — hundreds of them — on a granite ledge near the foot of Robert Francis Kennedy's grave.

They had come — more than 5,000 persons — to mark the first full year since an assassin's bullet took the New York senator's life.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, in a black suit, stood next to Ethel, his brother's widow. Hatless and wearing a simple all-white dress, she was in the center of the long row of Kennedy kin as the memorial folk Mass began last night.

Near the end of the line, standing a few paces from Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, was Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, wearing a fitted black dress. A few yards behind her, across a hedge and a marble terrace, was the grave of another American leader, her first husband, President John F. Kennedy.

HANDED CANDLE

Mrs. Onassis was handed a candle. She bent over and touched it to the flame held by former astronaut John Glenn who was kneeling near her feet, shielding the flickering light against the early evening wind with his hands. Later her candle blew out and she rekindled it from the one held by her son, John F. Kennedy Jr.

★ ★ ★

The Kennedy graves had been the goal of many visitors throughout the warm day. Ethel Kennedy came first, shortly after dawn, and knelt silently at her husband's stark white cross. Mrs. Onassis came late in the afternoon, pausing briefly at her brother-in-law's resting place, then walking the few steps to the eternal flame and black slate slabs that mark the graves of her husband and two of their children.

The Mass, beginning in the glow of sunset, had 15 guitarists and 70 singers and was led by white-robed Terrence Cardinal Cooke, Archbishop of New York.

"Robert Francis Kennedy was a man who responded with every breath and heartbeat to the destiny which called him . . ." the cardinal said. "He was a man of deep faith in God, in the future of his country, in the basic goodness of his fellowman."

★ ★ ★

One of the last songs in the hourlong service used words based on Edward Kennedy's eulogy to his brother a year ago:

"He saw wrong and tried to right it. Saw suffering and tried to heal it. He saw war and tried to stop it . . ."

2 Nixon Nominees Under Fire in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration choices for U.S. commissioner of fish and wildlife and chief foreign trade adviser to the President are under fire in the Senate where both confirmations have bogged down.

Senate Democrats who failed to keep Walter J. Hickel from becoming secretary of the interior, now are trying to block his selection of Charles H. Meacham as commissioner of fish and wildlife.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., is holding up confirmation of Carl J. Gilbert of Boston, who was named by President Nixon to be his chief foreign trade adviser.

Senate action on the nominations mired down after each had been cleared by a committee.

The foreign relations committee on May 8 approved the nomination of Gilbert, former board chairman of the Gillette safety razor company. Long blocked the nomination by contending it should have been referred to his own finance committee for consideration.

STRONG DOUBTS

But under the surface, there are strong doubts in the minds of Long and some other senators as to whether Gilbert will support import restrictions.

Meacham's nomination for the Interior post was approved by a majority of the Commerce Committee, but the Senate has stalled for nearly two weeks to await a minority report by some of the committee's Democrats.

Meacham is director of international fisheries for Alaska — a position to which he was appointed by Hickel, former Republican governor of the state.

Opposition to Meacham is led by Alaska Sen. Mike Gravel, a Democrat.

Resolutions, differing in phrasing but expressing the same general views on a solution to the war and South Vietnam's political future, were adopted by all three bodies on the eve of Thieu's departure.

★ ★ ★

In their resolutions of support for Thieu, all three government bodies emphasized opposition to any form of coalition government that would include the Communists, a point on which Thieu himself has been adamant.

"Every pressure to set up a coalition government with Communist participation . . . shall be firmly rejected," declared the Senate's five-part resolution.

'FREE ELECTIONS'

"The political future of South Vietnam shall be decided by the people of South Vietnam themselves in free elections under the constitution and in a spirit of reconciliation."

All three bodies also took the position that elections can only be held under the terms of the South Vietnamese Constitution which calls for elections in 1971. The possibility of elections being held before then has been hinted at by Nixon and other U.S. officials in public discussion of a political settlement.

★ ★ ★

The elections question is one of the key issues to be dealt with in the Midway meetings, as is the issue of withdrawal by American and other forces from the war.

On the subject of withdrawal by allied carried out bilaterally under international control and guarantees," meaning that it could not occur unless North Vietnamese forces also pulled out.

STRONGER LANGUAGE

The National Assembly adopted somewhat stronger language on this point, saying that any concession by the allies, including a withdrawal of troops, would be a betrayal of soldiers killed in the war thus far and would encourage aggression by the Communists.

Teaching Vets Will March at Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Three men with a combined 110 years of teaching service will march in Cranbrook School's commencement procession tomorrow — two of them for the last time.

William Schultz Jr., a science and math instructor, will retire after 39 years, while Howard M. Wert, Latin instruction and former chairman of the language department, retires following 31 years of service.

★ ★

Boyce Ricketts, who holds the Independence Foundation Fellowship at Cranbrook, will retire in two years. He came to Cranbrook in 1929 as a history teacher, and has served as assistant varsity baseball and basketball coach.

Schultz came to Cranbrook School as a general science teacher in September 1930, three years after the school opened. He was chairman of that department from 1938-65.

TEACHER-COACH

Schultz has taught chemistry, physics, arithmetic, photography, algebra, geometry, mechanical drawing and typewriting. He also coached basketball, soccer, club football, track and golf.

★ ★ ★

Wert first arrived at Cranbrook in 1929, left the school in 1935 and returned in 1944. He now serves as director of scholarships and has been in charge of the major part of the school's testing program.

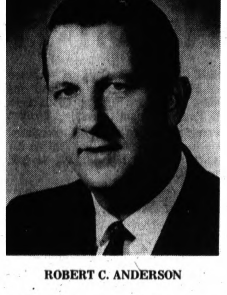
William T. Gossett, president of the American Bar Association, will deliver the principal address to the 95 candidates for graduation at the 11 a.m. ceremonies in Christ Church Cranbrook.

BIRMINGHAM — Robert W. Mason has been appointed vice president of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank. He has been serving as assistant vice president in charge of branch administration.

Mason will assume additional responsibilities as officer in charge of the Public Funds Division.

His extracurricular activities include director and president of the Oakland County chapter of the American Institute of Banking, and is currently a director of the Birmingham Exchange Club and the Birmingham Teen Center.

Mason attending Lawrence Institute of Technology.



ROBERT C. ANDERSON

County Bar Group Elects President

Directors of the Oakland County Bar Association have elected Robert C. Anderson, a Waterford Township attorney, president of the organization for the 1969-70 term.

Anderson, 2570 Silverside, succeeds Dean G. Beier of Birmingham.

★

Other new officers of the more than 750-member association are Louis E. Fairbrother, vice president; Arthur P. McKenna, treasurer; and John B. Wilson, secretary.

Anderson has been in practice since 1952, and is a partner in the law firm of Smith, Magnusson and Anderson in the Pontiac Mall Office Building.

Court Kills Hershey Draft Directive

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal appeals court says draft boards cannot follow Lewis B. Hershey's directive to squelch antiwar demonstrators by taking away draft deferments — even if the demonstrations are illegal.

The court did not, however, rule unconstitutional cancellation of deferments for such draft law violations as burning draft cards.

★ ★ ★

The unanimous three-judge decision nullified what it referred to as a directive, a 1967 letter from Selective Service Director Hershey to the 4,087 local draft boards saying they may reclassify registrants who participate in illegal demonstrations.

"This declaration of war against antiwar protesters springs full-grown from the head of Gen. Hershey, without benefit of reference to any provision of the Selective Service Act or regulations," the court said.

★ ★ ★

"Draft-eligible males who are willing to run the risk of a prosecution for a misdemeanor in order to make a protest might still be intimidated by threat of 1A classification," the decision said. "Accordingly, we think the deferment policy works a pronounced chilling effect on legal or protested conduct."

★ ★ ★

A source close to the court explained that the judges' 36-page decision meant: "If an act, although illegal, does not violate Selective Service statute, it should not be made the occasion for reclassification."

Free Press a Sentinel

Today is Freedom of the Press Day.

Freedom of the press and of speech constitute the torch of liberty and democracy, the flame of which is being extinguished in various countries around the world.

Highlighting the Day, is the significant statement by AUGUSTIN E. EDWARDS, president of the Inter American Press Association (IAPA), in which he called on the 1,000 members of the organization to condemn all governments which curtail their citizens' right to know what is going on in their own countries and in the world.

★ ★ ★

The statement also denounced governments which threaten and harass information media, and cited the governments of Cuba and Haiti as conspicuous culprits.

EDWARDS decried in the strongest terms the actions of military figures who seize governmental control in the mistaken belief that they could best serve their countries in this way, and in pursuit thereof exercise the right and duty to select and censor any information affecting their countrymen.

★ ★ ★

"But," he warned, "we as newspapermen can condemn and protest only if we demonstrate publicly and continuously that we truly fulfill our great responsibility of publishing accurate and objective information."

Because of the alarming events in some Latin American countries in past months, asserted the IAPA head, we today address our creed to those governments which, professing the political ideals by which free peoples live, have arrogantly claimed for themselves the sole possession of "truth."

Keep Your Credit Cards Safe

Fraudulent use of credit cards is costing American firms and their legitimate customers at least $20 million a year.

Service stations, department stores, hotels and restaurants are the chief targets of bogus credit card holders, says Pinkerton's, Inc. More than 16,000 fraud cases in a single year have been reported by the major oil companies alone.

There is no mystery about the phenomenon. There are 400 million of the little plastic oblongs now in circulation in the Country and some $5 billions in charged purchases are made with them each year.

★ ★ ★

A stolen, found or otherwise acquired card in the wrong hands — or in the hands of a theft ring to which a card is fenced—is better than a blank check. A fantastic amount of purchases can be made before the loss of a card is reported by its rightful holder and the company that issued it can alert its retail outlets.

The potential purchasing range, both economic and geographical, of a single credit card will vastly increase in the future. Cards issued by airlines, banks and the petroleum, retail, travel and entertainment industries may be standardized and interchangeable by next summer, reports the USA Standards Institute. These firms are the major issuers of credit cards.

★ ★ ★

This will add even greater reasons for card holders to take a few sensible precautions to protect themselves:

- Don't carry more cards than you can use, especially on business trips or vacations out of the area in which you reside.
- Keep not-in-use cards in a safe place and retain a list of the cards and numbers registered to you.
- Carry credit cards in a separate holder, not in your wallet. Driver's licenses and other identifying papers most people carry in their wallets or billfolds make stolen credit cards more valuable to the crooks.
- Report a lost card immediately. As printed on the reverse of most credit cards, the holder is responsible for all merchandise and services obtained by any person "whether or not authorized by the holder." Cards will continue to be honored until the issuing firm receives written notice of loss or theft.

★ ★ ★

Best method of notification is with a registered letter, with return receipt requested, as this will serve as a record that the loss has been reported.

Postmaster Packages Postal Problems

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

WASHINGTON — Winton M. Blount, the successful Alabama contractor, is a very unusual man.

DIRKSEN

When he became postmaster general in the Nixon Cabinet, he quickly called for a survey of the postal situation. Then, aware that he may well be pushing himself out of the Cabinet, he came up with the following conclusions:

- The post office situation was incredibly worse than suspected.
- The nomination of postmasters and rural carriers on a political basis would have to end.
- It would be well to take the recommendations of the Kappel Commission and organize a self-sustaining postal corporation with a board of directors and a general manager.

★ ★

- It would be necessary for the Congress to delegate power of postal rate-making to such a corporation.
- The corporation would have to have authority to deal with the postal unions.
- The proposed postal corporation would have to have independent authority to issue bonds for the modification, reconstruction and maintenance of the new system.

That is quite a package, and President Nixon has asked Congress for it. Postmaster General Blount must sell that package to the Congress and the postal workers, too, and to local political leaders.

★ ★ ★

The first effort to provide for the naming of postmasters and rural carriers has met with opposition in the House of Representatives. Heavy opposition came from county chairmen and precinct committeemen over the country who felt that they would lose the only bit of political patronage that they enjoyed.

The creation of a corporation with a board of directors and a manager implies the power to make decisions and rules and regulations that would be oriented toward improvement of the postal service. It would seem that such rules and regulations would call for the repeal of a good many presently in effect, with substitution of new ones.

When such regulations have been in effect for a long time, there is bound to be a natural reluctance by those in the postal service to see them change, regardless of the improvements to be expected.

The rate-making question would probably offer real difficulty because it would involve the establishment of proper postal rates for all air mail, first-class mail and rates for magazines, newspapers and books — virtually everything but parcel post rates which are fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

How could such important changes come about? Action first would be required by the Post Office Department committees of both the House and the Senate, then by the House and Senate themselves and, finally, a signature by the President.

Rate-making has been in the hands of Congress since time immemorial, and it is a question of whether Congress would be willing to surrender that authority and, if it does, whether the successor authority would be hedged about by such exceptions and restrictions as to nullify in large part its effect.

★ ★ ★

Pervading the whole Post Office Department is a certain sense of desperation because the deficit grows year by year, especially so when rates are not increased while pay increases are approved.

The way things are going, it will only be a question of time before the Post Office Department will fairly founder in red ink.

If Postmaster General Blount wins his fight to reorganize and revitalize the Post Office Department, he will have fought himself out of the Cabinet, with some regrets, no doubt, but happily, because of the victory.

The POWER of FAITH

SPIRITUAL SUMMIT CONFERENCE NO. 1

Calcutta, India, was the scene of a spiritual breakthrough in international, interreligious understanding and cooperation. There were outstanding representatives of Buddhist, Confucian, Christian, Hindu, Islamic and Jewish thought, as well as spokesmen for Zoroastrianism, Shinto, Sikh, Jain and Baha'i faiths.

The Spiritual Summit Conference was sponsored by the Temple of Understanding, Inc., a nonprofit organization founded in 1960 by Mrs. Dickerman Hollister of Greenwich, Conn. Its purpose is to promote education and understanding among the world's great religions.

Attending along with the religious leaders were special counselors and students. The theme of the conference was the relevance of religion in the modern world and the realities of interreligious understanding. The problems of the world were common to all and the unique and authoritative symposium was on poverty, discrimination and prejudice, population and food supply, the generation gap and the underlying causes of violence and war.

Thomas Merton* (Brother Louis), Trappist monk, Abbey of Gethsemani, Kentucky, brilliant author of 28 books and representative of the Catholic faith, summed up the conference in his address. He said, "My dear brothers, we are already one, but we imagine that we are not. And what we have to recover is our original unity. What we have to be is what we are."

*Thomas Merton's untimely death in Bangkok after the conference was a great loss to the world.

Confident Living:

Greater People Are on the Way

By NORMAN V. PEALE

Four unusual little trees are growing today in a very special garden in Appleton, Wis. I learned about them from a man sitting next to me on an airplane trip I took recently.

DR. PEALE

He was in the lumber business, and after we got talking he told me about these four trees that are going to revolutionize the lumber business.

It seems that the trees were developed after six years of experimentation and they were not grown from seeds and pollinated as ordinary trees are. They all came from tiny plugs taken out of one of the biggest and best aspen trees the scientists could find. Each of the four plugs, after special chemical treatment, has begun to grow, and eventually will turn into an exact duplicate of the tree it was cut from.

No crossbreeding, but an exact duplicate.

★ ★ ★

"Well," I asked the man who was describing this, "what does it mean?"

"Why," he said, "we won't have to worry any more about differences in trees. We can grow whole forests of the same tree, the biggest and most powerful tree we can find."

Then he went on, "This is only the beginning. Maybe some day they'll be doing the same thing with man. Can you imagine being able to create as many exact duplicates of people like Einstein or Beethoven as we wanted?"

"Well," I said to him, "would that make a better world? The great beauty of life is its diversity, and more than that, diversity is the great glory of man."

★ ★ ★

Each of us has an individuality that sets us apart from every other man. Each of us has spiritual qualities given us by our parents that set us aside as something special. The gentleness of a mother, for example, coupled with the lofty mental characteristics of a father make a great person.

Now those four little trees in Appleton, Wis., may revolutionize the lumber business, but I devoutly hope no scientist ever starts to tinker with the infinite variety of man created by God, for the variety in each of us expresses a different part of the greatness of God that is in us all.

Why should anyone think that an Einstein or a Beethoven represents the final glory of man? Far greater, perhaps, are the glories of human beings who are born and die without achieving fame, but who have created in their quiet ways more marvelous feats of the human spirit than the greatest artists or the greatest scientists.

Man is in a constant state of development. A great English writer and preacher by the name of Leslie Weatherhead once described the history of the individual man in a way I've never forgotten.

★ ★ ★

He described the baby lying up under it's mother's heart. Now if that baby could have talked, he would have said, "How good it is here. How warm and secure." The idea of being born and leaving that warmth and security would terrify that baby. But after the miracle of birth, the fear passes and the wonder and joy of childhood begins. Could be it's that way in the after earthly life too!

★ ★ ★

We have groped a way out of the darkness and face the unknown beauties yet to be discovered. The continuing adaptation of man to his changing world is the most exciting aspect of man's nature. Who knows what marvelous creatures the children yet to be born will be? But maybe those same marvels can show up in you. What about it?

Poor Teaching – Unhappy Students

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Most of the cases of student unrest go back a good many years. A bit of history about Columbia will provide an excellent example.

MOLEY

As I noted in a piece recently, the senior faculties there virtually gained control of educational policies about 50 years ago. The major professors, whose security was assured by what is now everywhere called "tenure," won the power of appointment, promotion and the determination of what was to be taught and how.

At the same time, a fundamental change was made in the teaching load of the permanent staff. After professors had been assured of permanent tenure, had taught in undergraduate divisions (especially in Columbia College) and had written a book or two, they were promoted to the graduate faculties of political science, philosophy and pure science.

Their new teaching loads were generally four hours a week, one two-hour lecture and a seminar. The undergraduates were then left to the relatively inexperienced instructors and assistant professors. The change was made because of the theory that these senior scholars would be more productive — more books and more research.

These light classroom loads certainly provided the happy few with more time on their hands. For the same lecture on the same subject could be given year after year. And a graduate seminar teaches itself because at each session a student would present a paper of his own for discussion. The professors did little but listen and inject an occasional question.

For the most part, the teaching of undergraduates is still left to untrained and low-paid teachers. These juniors have little or no experience in the classroom. For their graduate training makes no provision for learning the art of teaching. Nor have these green instructors any background of knowledge to illuminate their lectures or class discussions. Students are like the man who goes to a noted doctor to cure him and finds himself turned over to an intern.

Of course, the students are bored and frustrated when they find themselves force into a huge class with novice on the platform. Th are shortchanged. The selected a university wh reputation was won long a by luminous educators, t they never see any of the well-known figures.

★ ★ ★

They might better ha gone to a smaller colle where there were only t dergraduates and the p fessors were less emine And the result is that ma students came to be restle rebellious activists outside t classroom. They blame t administration. They shou blame the faculty.

The real remedy is greater participation students in administration t more teaching by those w are able to interest and spire those who are rea seeking an education.

School Board Election Important to Communit

Pontiac school board elections are Monday June 9. What your vote means is whether or no Pontiac will be a "community" after the election Community requires harmony of the people in thei actions, thoughts and feelings. Harmony doesn' mean conformity, it doesn't mean a common voice it doesn't mean sweep the militant black voic under the rug in hopes no one will listen.

Vote in the Pontiac school board election Think before you vote. A vote decision made o feelings and attitudes rather than reality will onl continue to disharmonize a significant part of ou community.

If you want Pontiac to be a community wher there is a sense of people pulling together for th best of the community, you have a moral respons bility to vote. If you're not a part of the solution you're a part of the problem. Be a part of th solution of the community.

Question and Answer

What is the dress code for students attending Ponti senior high schools?

T.R.A.

REPLY

Mr. Errington says at Central the student clothing should not distract from instruction i class. Slacks in good taste, culllottes are allowe shorts and excessively short skirts aren't. He say as a general rule there is no dress problem. M Johnson at Northern says their students' clothe are expected to be modest and in good taste. Th same general rules apply as at Central, and M Johnson says the staff is interested in student dre and presently holding meetings to discuss the dre code.

Wants More Persons It Can Entrust With Projects

Cuba's Communist Party to Cut Red Tape

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban Communist party is ready to relax entrance requirements in order to get more persons it can entrust with heading work projects in its current agricultural and industrial drive.

Although no exact figures ever have been given for the country as a whole, the best estimates are that between 50,000 and 60,000 persons belong to the Communist party and an equal number to the Union of Young Communists. Total population of the island is 8.2 million.

Armando Hart Davalos, organizing secretary of the party Central Committee and member of the elite Politburo, said in a recent speech that the province of Havana had 11,824 militants and aspirants in 1968. Militants are members, and aspirants are as good as in. He said the party hoped to recruit 10,000 more militants within the province.

"A determined production plan marches forward when one has a revolutionary, a combatant, a Communist, at the head of it," said Hart. "A piece of construction equipment or farm equipment is taken care of and the technical and maintenance norms are fulfilled when this equipment has a Communist, a revolutionary, driving it."

This is in line with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's call for better organization in the efforts to industrialize and to turn out more sugar.

Hart said the party is going to have to relax its entrance requirement a bit. He said he knew of men who, because they got along badly with the rest, were not elected to the party. He added that such a man at least has enough perseverance to express himself no matter what others think.

State Voters Face Key School Money Decisions Monday

LANSING (AP) — A $1.4-million school stands empty at Grand Ledge: There is no money to pay for its operation.

Some 100 teachers face a massive layoff in Muskegon. There is no money to pay their salaries.

* * *

Authorities warn of decreased classroom time for pupils in Huron Valley. There is no money to pay expenses.

Michigan taxpayers will decide Monday whether they want these and similar conditions to continue as voters ballot in an estimated 200 school millage and bond elections throughout the state.

'TO BE SHORTCHANGED'

Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction — who contends the state and federal governments should pick up a much greater share of the education tab—says nonetheless that "until this happens, all of us will be shortchanged unless property owners support education" by approving school money requests.

Taxpayers refused such support in 45 per cent of the millage votes and 68 per cent of the bond decisions during the first five months of 1969, a recent Associated Press survey showed.

Druing the same period of 1968, voters defeated 45 per cent of the millage requests and 36 per cent of the bond proposals.

Statistics from last year indicate, however, that voters face an awesome task if their decisions Monday are to compare favorably with 1968 June school election results. Of 296 millage proposals sought last June, 210 —71 per cent—were approved. Some 73 per cent—19—bond proposals also won.

TOUGH ELECTION

One of the toughest elections this year is expected to occur in the mid-Michigan city of Grand Ledge, where voters have turn down a millage request four times in little over one year.

"We've tightened up now as much as we can," says Supt. Kenneth T. Beagle. "We can't tighten up any more."

The Grand Ledge Board of Education already has announced a "drastic crisis" program for the 1969-70 school year, including shortened school days, half-day sessions for grades 1-6, a ban on student activities outside regular school hours and a reduction in the teaching staff.

Serious budget problems exist in the Genesee County district of Flushing, where voters will asked to approve a 7.25 mill increase, 1 mill in expiring tax money and 1.5 mills for debt retirement.

TO COVER DEFICIT

Four mills of the proposed increase is to cover last year's $200,000 deficit.

In Kalamazoo, voters will decide on a 6.5-mill levy, including 4 mills officials want because of "higher salaries, rising costs and a drop in income due to a drop in enrollment."

* * *

Revenues would fill a $2.4 million gap between estimated 1969-70 expenditures and probable income.

Marquette school officials seek approval of a $7.6 million construction bond issue. "We present this program as an answer to the city's critical school needs," says superintendent Henry J. Bothwell.

A cut of some 100 teachers is threatened at Muskegon, where voters will have a second chance to decide whether they will renew a 15-mill levy and add 4.75 mills to their tax. The proposals were defeated once in March.

Teacher pay is the question in many districts, including:

- Huron Valley, where officials warn of "serious cutbacks" — including teacher reduction and less classroom time —if a millage renewal and increase, defeated already this year, fail to win voter approval on the second attempt.
- Charlevoix, where voters said "no" last April to a total of 4.75 mills, a major portion of which was earmarked for expenses of operating a new school, hiring additional teachers and paying the teachers now working in the system.
- Manchester, near Ann Arbor, where the local school board seeks renewal of a 9.5 mill levy, expected to bring in some 200,771 which would go largely for teacher pay.
- Avondale, where a 6-mill renewal is sought. Supt. John Dickey says "We don't dare ask for an increase. Our teachers want more money, but we just dont' have it."

WON'T BE REHIRED

The Michigan Education Association, bargaining unit for some 68,000 of the state's teachers, announced earlier this year that more than 2,000 probationary teachers in 43 districts had been notified they will not be rehired next year.

The teachers were notified under provisions of the state tenure law, which requires such notice be given teachers who may not be rehired at least 60 days before the end of the current school term.

* * *

MEA negotiator Kai Erickson said the notices do not mean a teacher definitely will not be rehired.

But, he added, the fund situation in most districts is so critical that many boards will not know until August how many teachers they will be able to afford.

* * *

The millage question, teacher contract negotiations and a legislative hassle that stalled final approval of the state school aid bill all have added to the information hang-up.

Graduating Clerics Told 'Keep Cool'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "It is one thing to be a fool for Christ, and another thing to be a fool on some contemporary issue," Missouri Atty. Gen. John Danforth told the graduating class of Eden Theological Seminary.

Danforth, an ordained Episcopal minister, said Friday "The message of the Gospel is a message of goodwill." He cautioned the 50 Church of Christ ministers not "to be asininine" in doing God's work.

The Christian ethic, he said, should perhaps be that "we maintain our cool."

Grape Boycott Entering 2nd Year in California

By JIM CHURCH

DELANO, Calif. (AP) — As new grapes grow in the vineyards, Cesar Chavez and his union members are busy organizing the second season of what they hope will become a nationwide consumer boycott of California table grapes.

"The love of justice in the hearts of other Americans is still our last and best hope," Chavez says. His United Farm Workers Organizing Committee has been trying since 1965 to win recognition by grape growers as a workers' bargaining agent.

★ ★ ★

But the growers contend that Chavez does not have the support of the majority of the workers, that the workers are not oppressed as he maintains and that this summer's harvest will not be severely hurt by any boycotts or strikes. The grapes will be ready for picking in early July.

The long, bitter dispute not only has driven Chavez' people and the growers into polarized camps that don't communicate but also has split politicians, clergymen, townpeople and many of the workers themselves.

NO SIGN OF SETTLEMENT

And there is no sign of a settlement.

In fact, the organizing committee says it now has extended its boycott to table grapes grown in Arizona.

Chavez said he sent telegrams to all Arizona growers April 9, saying the committee represented a majority of their workers and calling for a meeting "to effectuate recognition."

★ ★ ★

He said he had not received a reply, and that Arizona grapes now are also under boycott.

Chavez spends much of his time in the run-down union headquarters in bed, convalescing from a spinal bone disease and a kidney ailment aggravated by his 25-day fast a year ago.

'TOO LATE'

"I sent letters and proposed elections," he said in a quiet but angry tone during a recent bedside interview. "Now it's too late. We're not boycotting for the right to just have elections.

"All we need is just one meeting. That's all it took with the wine producers."

★ ★ ★

He said the workers have no job security, are poorly paid, lack disability benefits, that some growers use pesticides harmful to the workers, that some gowers have no sanitary toilet facilities in the fields.

But he said back when "La Causa"—the movement—began, the farm worker averaged $1.10 an hour whereas now some get $1.90 and all the table grape growers are paying higher wages.

BEHIND THE INCREASE

"I'm convinced our activity has prompted the increase," Chavez said.

After bitter strikes in 1956, his group got union contracts with a dozen wine and raisin producers but with just one large table grower, DiGiorgio Corp.

★ ★ ★

One of the world's leading producers 10 years ago, DiGiorgio since has sold all its vineyards. Anti-Chavez people say it was because of the union.

The growers, of which there are about 70 in the Delano area in southern San Joaquin Valley, say they are not antiunion but that they are against the closed shop. They are afraid of strikes at harvest time, of an increasing influx of South American grapes.

Lou Caratan, who with his father operates a 1,000-acre farm, talked about the dispute.

★ ★ ★

He said there have been no elections "because Chavez wants elections only on his terms. It's also our understanding that union membership is mandatory.

"I've never had any talks with him. The only contact was a letter saying, 'I represent your workers.'"

NOT FORCED TO JOIN

The union contract with the wine and raisin producers has a charge for nonunion members but does not force them to join, a union official says. It provides a minimum of $1.62 an hour.

Wages are a key issue.

A growers pamphlet says that in New York State, where many stores refused to stock California table grapes, farm workers earned 24 cents a hour less than the average of $1.90 in Kern County.

★ ★ ★

"We live by the year, not by the hour," Chavez retorts.

"We're not starving," say union pickers, "but the farm workers are on the very bottom."

Another question open for heated debate, as indicated by Caratan's comment, is how much support Chavez and his union have among other workers.

DENIES DISCRIMINATION

"Chavez' union discriminates against those who aren't Mexicans," a 25-year-old nonunion worker charges. Chavez denies any discrimination. But he does agree that he lacks strong support from white farm workers.

"I don't really know why the Anglo workers are against us. I suppose you can't blame them after what happened in '49 and '50," when braceros brought in from Mexico broke strikes by domestic workers.

★ ★ ★

The growers show pictures of Mexican-Americans in the vineyards and maintain that persons who manned picket lines in the past strikes were "outsiders, clergymen, hippies, campus militants and paid professionals."

The union shows pictures of Mexican-Americans on the picket lines and maintains the growers used migrants and what they call "green carders," workers from Mexico who come by special permit to work a short time.

5,000 MEMBERS

The union claims a 2,500 year-round membership and 5,000 members at harvest time. There are about 20,000 farm workers in the county in all kinds of farm jobs, according to the Farm Bureau.

The strike cry of "La Huelga" will be heard again in the vineyards in July, Chavez says, but adds that the future of the union depends on a nationwide consumer boycott.

★ ★ ★

Work organizing the boycott is going full blast. In union headquarters 8 p.m. one night recently, Elaine Elinson, 21, typed boycott lists and instructions aimed at stores and chains that continue to stock California grapes. She had just returned from Sweden where she helped longshore unions stop the unloading of three ships carrying grapes, which were eventually unloaded at Hamburg, Germany. Juanita Brown, 24, was busy answering a stream of telephone calls. Others ground out publicity releases.

"We feel encouraged," Juanita said. "We have people from Delano in 50 cities." She listed Chicago, New York, Boston, Detroit, Baltimore and others as among those where stores have agreed not to stock the green Thompsons, black Ribiers, purple Muscats and Concords.

COULDN'T SELL THEM

Juanita has pictures she says show dumping of grapes at Lou Caratan's farm. She said the farm could not sell them, and that over-all the boycott cut 10 to 15 per cent into the grower's profit.

But the growers say they were unaffected by last summer's boycott and look toward July with confidence.

★ ★ ★

The pickers charged that the effectiveness of their campaign was hurt because the Pentagon greatly increased the shipment of grapes to Vietnam after the boycott began.

Pentagon figures confirm this, but officials there say their action had nothing to do with the California matter. They said the 2,047,695 pounds of grapes shipped to Vietnam in the last six months of 1968 compared with 555,000 in the fiscal year that ended on June 30, 1968, and 468,000 the year before that.

'HIGH ACCEPTABILITY'

The military officials said they increased the grapes shipments because of "the high troop acceptability of this seasonal item; reduced availability of export quality of fresh oranges; and improved capability of shipping perishable items.

"The Department of Defense does not purchase grapes merely because they have been made more available and less expensive due to the effects of the boycott," the Pentagon said.

★ ★ ★

A Franciscan priest at Our Lady of Guadalupe church in Delano, the Rev. Mark Day, 29, writes newsletter on the boycott for the workers. He says, "I have great respect for Cesar and I think the growers respect his philosophy of nonviolence. They could have a union leadership as tough as nails . . . Christ was always with the poor."

THE PURPOSE OF A VAULT

J. L. VOORHEES

Should a vault be selected by everyone? The answer is no!

In our opinion, the selection of caskets, vaults, etc., should be, "To each his own." If this is true, what purpose does a vault serve?

M. E. SIPLE

The primary and most important function of a vault is protection! Protection for the casket and its precious contents. A vault gives "peace of mind" to those who care.

Today most cemeteries require the use of a vault or concrete liner. This is to make sure that the burial receptacle will support the weight of the earth above. This prevents the unsightly sunken graves that used to earmark most cemeteries.

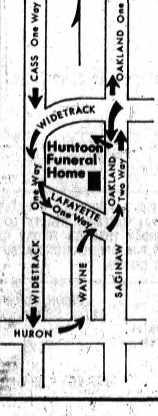
THINK ABOUT IT!

FATHER'S DAY



On Father's Day, dad is 'supposed' to have his slippers brought to him; to have his pipe or cigars handed to him; to have the right to select TV programs of his choice on his special day when he is 'King' . . . Most dads are realistic though and understand even if these 'Kingship' advantages don't happen.

Let's face it. There are all sorts of fathers, just like all sorts of women and children. Some dads are considerate, some inconsiderate. Some are affectionate, some indifferent. Some are contented, some discontented. Some are happy, some unhappy. Some are ambitious, some are not. Some are companions to their families, some are aloof.

In all these contrasts, one thing stands out. Blood relationship is one thing. A friendly relationship is another thing. And a blood relationship without a friendly relationship is another thing. And a blood relationship without a friendly relationship is tragedy. For all of you who read this, we sincerely hope Father's Day is a triumphant day — a friendly day for all fathers and families—everywhere . . . HUNTOON FUNERAL HOME, 79 Oakland Ave., Pontiac. Heart-Switch Age Limit Eyed

MONTREAL (AP) — Heart surgeon Dr. Christiaan Barnard said Friday that doctors could insure a higher rate of successful heart transplants by setting an age limit of 60 on potential transplant patients.

But, he said at a news conference here, he personally did not want to set such a limit.

Of 129 heart transplant patients, 34 survive.

The longest surviving of these is Philip Blaiberg, who received a replacement heart on Jan. 2, 1968, in an operation performed by Barnard.

"You'll recall that Blaiberg was 58 when we operated," Barnard said.

Barnard is in Montreal taking part in the second Heart Transplant Symposium which opened Friday and continues until Sunday.
