County Assured Fourth Judge, Says Broomfield

Claims Action Awaits Only Room for New Circuit Bench

Oakland County is assured of obtaining a fourth circuit judge as soon as the Board of Supervisors can arrange quarters for him, State Senator William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said today.

Broomfield introduced the fourth-judge bill Jan. 13, saying "the three present judges have the heaviest case load of any in the state, five times that of Wayne County."

State Court Administrator Meredith Doyle was brought before the Senate Judiciary Committee last week by Broomfield.

Doyle told the committee, which is considering the bill, that Oakland has the greastest need of any county for another judge and should obtain one immediately.

"I'm sure the measure will pass. It will be reported favorably by the committee as soon as the Oakland Supervisors set up accommodations for the fourth man," the senator stated.

"I'll meet to discuss the matter with representatives of the supervisors as soon as possible," he added.

Gov. Williams will appoint the new man, said Broomfield. "If we waited for a judge to be elected in 1956, he could not begin serving until Jan. 1, 1957."

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland has come out for the fourth man as has the County Bar Assn., the senator pointed out.

In a resolution, the bar association said the official records show during 1953 each present judge tried or disposed of an average 623 cases and petitions plus miscellaneous matters averaging 1,960.

Despite the "best efforts" of the judges, the group stated, there are about 1,000 cases on the docket awaiting trial.

"The delay in the hearing of an average case, after it is ready for trial, is nearly one year."

The third judge was authorized in 1927. The county's population was 211,251 in 1930 and has increased 180 per cent since then, "but no increase has been made in the manpower of the court," the group pointed out.

The County Board of Auditors has suggested that a new judge might be housed in the fifth floor committee room of the County Office Building at 1 Lafayette St.

Another suggestion would see the Health Department, now located in the old jail building directly behind the courthouse, moved to new quarters. Then some present courthouse offices might be moved into the health building, allowing room in the courthouse for another judge.

West German Bundestag Ratifies Paris Agreement

BONN (INS) — A free, armed and sovereign West Germany as a bulwark in the Western European wall erected to stop communism appeared virtually assured today.

The Bonn federal republic's Bundestag, or lower house of parliament, ratified the vital Paris accords last night and the Bundesrat, or upper house, almost certainly will follow suit.

The West German action left little doubt the Paris agreements eventually would be ratified by the other less vitally concerned nations and Bonn would be brought into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

However, ratification of the four accords of the Paris agreements—including "Europeanization" of the coal-rich Saar — threatened a new crisis in the government coalition welded by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Adenauer's Vice - Chancellor Franz Bluecher, a Free Democrat, offered to resign in the bitter, heated dispute over the Saar.

His party—although part of the government coalition — had caucused to vote against the Saar accord. Bluecher, after voting in favor of the agreement, made his resignation offer.

West Germany became the eighth of 14 nations to take definite action indicative of final ratification of the agreements. Britain, Italy, Belgium, France, Canada, Greece and Portugal have all taken legislative steps.

The agreements will, when ratified by all 14 nations, place 500,000 West German troops under NATO. The Saar area will be administered by the proposed Western European Union (WEU).

State Dems Back Port Huron Man in Justice Race

Eugene Black Named Over County Hopeful Giles Kavanagh

By BURDETT C. STODDARD
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

GRAND RAPIDS — Oakland County's "favorite son" candidate for State Supreme Court justice was forced to withdraw here Saturday as Democrats took a step without parallel in late Michigan history.

Thomas Giles Kavanagh, of Southfield Township, was passed over by delegates to the state Democratic convention who instead nominated a former Republican for the high state office.

By choosing Circuit Court Eugene F. Black, of Port Huron, the convention put into the nonpartisan court race on the April ballot one of the most controversial figures in either party.

Black's running mate will be another Circuit Judge, Stephen J. Roth, of Flint, who was unopposed for nomination.

A move urged by many delegates, that Gov. G. Mennen Williams be launched toward a 1956 presidential nomination, did not materialize.

Instead of an out-and-out presidential endorsement delegates were satisfied with pledging support to Williams "for any office he may seek."

Top party powers seem to think the time is too early for the four-term governor to begin a serious bid for the top national post.

The 1,380 delegates filled out their spring slate with these added nominations:

Superintendent of Public Instruction—Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, Grosse Pointe.

University of Michigan Regents—Eugene B. Power, Ann Arbor, and Paul Adams, Sault Ste. Marie.

State Board of Education—John M. Veale, St. Clair Shores.

State Board of Agriculture—Connor D. Smith, Standish (incumbent) and William E. Baker.

Black's nomination for the Supreme Court may estabish the 52-year-old former Republican attorney general as key to a court campaign this spring which could descend to a bitter partisan contest.

Blanket of Fog Expected to Stay

Mild Temperatures With Rain Forecast as Snow Hits Far West

The dull mixture of fog and drizzly rain which shrouded Pontiac over the weekend may continue through tonight, the U.S. Weather Bureau said today.

The weatherman said the immediate outlook is for mild temperatures and more rain to add to the two-thirds inch that fell Saturday and Sunday.

Around the rest of the country, fog blanketed much of the eastern half of the nation today while the northern Great Plains shivered with subzero temperatures and parts of the far west lay under the winter's heaviest snowfall.

Visability was zero in many places in the eastern Great Lakes region and most flights from Willow Run were grounded today. At Pontiac Municipal Airport, visability was reported at one-half mile.

Local police departments said there was no increase in the number of auto accidents, even though roads were slippery and often fog-covered in the county.

Low temperature tonight is expected to be around 40, with a high tomorrow of 45 to 50. Showers will continue Tuesday, with a low of 35 to 40 seen for the nighttime hours.

Yesterday's high in Pontiac was 42, with the low 35. At 8 a.m. today, the thermometer downtown stood at 35 degrees, rising to 37 degrees at 2 p.m.

GM Will Oppose Pay Guarantee

Position in Forthcoming Contract Parley Hinted in Annual Report

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. indicated today it will oppose a guaranteed annual wage, which the CIO United Auto Workers Union has made its No. 1 goal for 1955.

While opposition was indicated by indirection, there was no mistaking the import of GM's 1954 annual report, released by President Harlow H. Curtice and Board Chairman Alfred P. Sloan Jr. it said:

"Public discussion of various types of so-called wage guarantee plans have tended to obscure progress already made in stabilizing employment and also have tended to divert attention from the fact that there are already in existence employer - financed unemployment compensation systems regulated and administered by state goverments."

It declared GM has made "outstanding progress . . . in its efforts to stabilize employment," and mentioned 44 cents hourly which have been added to wages under the "historic," five-year GM-UAW contract expiring May 29.

Curtice gave forthright praise in a statement Friday to the current contract, containing a cost-of-living escalator and an annual improvement factor wage-riser.

Humphrey Says Tax Cut Could Start Inflation Spiral

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said today the $20 tax cut approved by the House to help "little folks" might cause inflationary price rises that would cost the small taxpayer most.

In testimony prepared for the Senate Finance Committee, Humphrey did not mention a compromise tax cut being pushed by some Senate Democrats. It would make the $20-a-person tax cut effective July 1, 1956, instead of next Jan. 1, as provided in the House bill.

Also, it would extend present corporation and excise tax rates for 15 months instead of 12. They are now due to drop April 1.

Humphrey, the only witness called by the Finance Committee in its consideration of the House bill, told the senators:

"It can start us right back on the reckless road of inflation, with all its cruel thievery . . . Let us always remember that it is not the rich who need protection from inflation. It is the little folks who suffer the most when inflation takes hold."

The House bill, vigorously opposed by President Eisenhower, would give each taxpayer a tax reduction of $20 for himself, his wife and each dependent. Humphrey said it would take about

Threaten Utility Walkout Tonight

Strike Would Affect 180,000 Consumers Customers in Area

Employes of Consumers Power Co., which supplies gas or electricity to some 3,250,000 persons in Michigan including 180,000 in this area, are preparing to strike at midnight tonight to back new-contract demands.

Company officials and top members of the Utility Workers of America (CIO) became deadlocked Saturday at the firm's general offices in Jackson and broke off talks without setting a date for future sessions.

Seek Unofficial Talks on Fliers, Asian Tension

State Department Cold to Suggestion Passed on by Burmese Premier

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Burmese Premier U Nu announced today that Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai is willing to receive an unofficial U.S. mission to discuss the case of imprisoned American airmen and tensions between the United States and Peiping.

Nu told newsmen he had conveyed Chou's approval of such a conference to U.S. Secretary of State Dulles. The Burmese Premier declined to discuss Dulles' reaction.

Dulles stopped off in Rangoon Saturday for a 36-hour visit after attending the Manila Pact conference in Bangkok. He left yesterday for Laos and was due in Saigon later today, en route to Manila.

In Washington, American officials reacted coldly today to the roundabout suggestion by the Chinese Communists that this country send an unofficial mission to Peiping.

The State Department officially declined to comment beyond saying it knew nothing whatever about any such proposal.

The idea for the conference between Chou and an unofficial U.S. group apparently was advanced by the Burmese Premier, who has proposed recently that the five "neutral" Colombo Powers serve as mediators between the Chinese Reds and the Western Powers.

U Nu declined to say more about the proposal today, explaining: "I do not think I should discuss this."

Following Peiping's announcement that the 13 Americans had been sentenced to jail terms on spy charges, the U.N. General Assembly at U.S. request directed Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to try to get them released.

Hammarskjold flew to Peiping just after Christmas, returning with a report on the condition of the prisoners and of four other American airmen held by the Reds.

Subsequently, he transmitted an offer from Chou for the men's families to visit them in China, but the State Department declined to let the relatives make the trip.

Since then Hammarskjold has been working on the case through diplomatic channels.

The prisoners include 11 survivors of a B29 bomber shot down in North Korea Jan. 12, 1953, some six months before the fighting ended. These are the pilot of the plane, Col. John K. Arnold of Silver Spring, Md.; Maj. William H. Baumer of Lewisburg, Pa., Capt. Elmer F. Llewelyn of Missoula, Mont., Capt. Eugene Vaadi of Clayton, N.Y., 1st Lt. John W. Buck of Armatheaite, Tenn., 1st Lt. Wallace L. Brown of Banks, Ala., Sgt. Howard Brown of St. Paul, Minn., Airman Steve E Kiba of Akron, Ohio, Airman Harry M. Benjamin Jr. of Worthington, Minn., Airman Daniel C. Schmidt of Scotia, Calif., and Airman John W. Thompson III of Orange Va.

2 Brainwashed Americans Released by Red Chinese

HONGKONG (INS)—A plump woman schoolteacher and a former Harvard pre-med student appeared today to be the most thoroughly brain-scrubbed Americans ever released from Red Chinese prisons.

Both Mrs. Adele Austin Rickett, 35, and Dr. Malcolm Bersohn, 29, mechanically recited their guilt and Communist China's righteousness on their arrival in Hong Kong.

(A state Department official said privately that the two Americans had "been turned into parrots by their Red captors" and termed their case "tragic.")

Bersohn, dressed in tattered blue dungarees, faded gray shirt and lace-less black shoes declared:

"All those inside Chinese jails are guilty of their crimes. If the government did not have sufficient evidence, they would never arrest anyone."

Short, plump and bespectacled Mrs. Rickett said her husband, Walter Allyn Rickett, 33, of Seattle, Wash., still is imprisoned in Red China and "fully deserved to serve the full time."

Both claimed they had gained weight during three and a half years in Red jails—although both showed signs of strain.

Bersohn, the son of Mrs. Jessie Bersohn, of New York City, was highly nervous.

Mrs. Rickett, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Austin, of Yonkers, N. Y., looked pale and wore a forced smile.

Both rattled off spy "confessions."

Mrs. Rickett told newsmen on her release yesterday that she did not know the length of her husband's sentence. She added:

"My husband and I worked against the new (Communist) China. My husband's crimes are too serious to be forgiven."

She and her husband went to China on a Fulbright Scholarship and were arrested on spy charges in 1951.

Statement About Fluoride Untrue, Schurz Reports

SOUTH BEND—Another letter against fluoridation in the Voice of the People in the Pontiac Press was absolutely denied here today by Franklin Schurz, ranking official of the South Bend Tribune.

The letter in the Pontiac Press says "the South Bend council and mayor voted against fluoridation—declared it unconstitutional."

"There has been no vote taken in our city council on this subject," says Mr. Schurz. "I have never read as many misstatements as have appeared in letters regarding fluoridation. There is no bill pending here now in South Bend."

The letter in the Pontiac Press was signed: "Truth Will Win."

Auto Tags Deadline Tonight

If you don't have those new license plates by tonight, you'd better start hoofing it tomorrow.

That was the warning issued today by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley with the deadline for getting 1955 auto tags less than 12 hours away.

After midnight tonight, an estimated 2,000 Pontiac area motorists will be afoot. That number apparently will be without new plates when the local secretary of state's office closes at 9 p.m. tonight.

Willis M. Brewer, manager of the agency, said his staff is working at capacity to issue new plates to car owners. But even with the office remaining open late this evening, he estimates some 2,000 or more motorists won't get their new tags before the deadline.

Latecomers, braving damp, chill weather, were lined up at the office when employes opened doors at 9 a.m. today. A steady stream has flowed through the office all morning, the workers said.

Starting at midnight, Pontiac Police will begin looking for cars with outdated tags. Moving vehicles will be halted, the drivers issued tickets for operating without proper license plates, and ordered off the streets.

If you don't have these tomorrow

You'll be using these

The tags must be properly affixed to the rear of the vehicle, too, or the officers will issue warnings and require the drivers to install the plates properly "without further delay."

Cars with outdated tags found parked in limited time zones, metered spaces or prohibited areas will be impounded, unless the 1955 plate is displayed in the rear window, in which case a warning will be issued.

Vehicles found parked elsewhere on the streets with outdated tags will be checked and towed away and impounded after 48 hours as abandoned.

Meanwhile spokesmen at the Pontiac State Police post and Oakland County Sheriff's office said patrolmen would check every auto for new tags.

"We're handling more than 300 people an hour," Brewer said today, "but there just isn't time to issue enough plates before the deadline."

Police Nab 50 in 2 Vice Raids

All Face Arraignment as Liquor, Gambling Establishments Fall

Fifty persons, scheduled for Municipal Court arraignment today, were rounded up Saturday and early Sunday morning in two vice raids by Pontiac Police.

Armed with warrants, seven police raiders converged on a 4-room home at 397 Bloomfield Ave., where 45 persons were arrested at 3:15 a.m. Sunday. Seized at 3 p.m. Saturday were six men in a basement at 6½ N. Saginaw St.

Police today planned to smash six cases of beer and 15 pints of whisky taken from the south side home. Three decks of playing cards and $4.55 were confiscated from the basement, said police.

One woman, Ida Mae Herston, 45, of the Bloomfield Street address, was charged with maintaining and operating an illegal liquor establishment and Lydia A. LaCount, 20, of 5738 Lorraine, Detroit, was charged with soliciting. Forty-two men and another woman were booked on loitering charges.

Twenty-five were released yesterday after posting bonds of $25 each when they appeared before Judge Maurice E. Finnegan, pending their appearance today.

Police said Daniel Perry, 62, of 4874 Rossiter St., Drayton Plains, was charged with aiding and abetting a gambling place after the Saginaw Street raid. Five other men were booked for loitering.

Foreign Film Club to Meet at Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — An organizational meeting of the Foreign Film Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Cranbrook Institute of Science, James Carmel, acting chairman, has announced.

Following a discussion of membership dues to cover exhibition costs, the Swedish film, "Torment," starring Mai Zetterling, will be shown.

The non-profit group is open to the public. Viewers are asked to make volunteer contributions at each session.

five million taxpayers completely off the federal tax rolls and would cost the government over a full year approximately $2,300,000,000 in revenue.

He assailed the manner in which the proposal had been raised and put through the House by Democratic leaders there. He told the Senate committee:

"Your committee has before it this morning a $20 tax cut which was suddenly sprung on the Ways and Means Committee and hurriedly passed through the House of Representatives last week with only a limited hearing and no time for thoughtful consideration."

In advance of the hearing, Sen. Carlson (R-Kan), described as "entirely political" the reported compromise plan under which the income tax cut would become effective a year from July 1, and corporation and excise rates would be extended until that date.

Most of Carlson's Democratic colleagues on the committee, however, were reported lining up behind that proposal.

Japan's Voters Back Hatoyama

Prime Minister Gets Solid Endorsement for Conservatives

TOKYO (AP) — Conservative Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama's Democrats won Japan's biggest election yesterday and headed toward a new, stronger administration.

Hatoyama, waging an unprecedented American-style campaign for friendship with both sides in the East-West cold war, led the Democrats to a nearly 2-1 conservative sweep.

They ended seven years domination in the House of Representatives by the equally conservative Liberal party of former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida.

The Liberals, hurt by charges of corruption, lost about 70 seats —most of them to the Democrats but a few to the Socialists. This may strengthen the drive by leftist parties to block rearmament of Japan.

The Communists, with 60 candidates, elected two members.

With all seats decided, Hatoyama's party had elected 185 of the 467 members of the House. The Liberals elected 112. Left Socialists 89, Right Socialists 67, Farmer-Laborites (leftist) 4, Communists 2, minor parties 2, and independents 6, of whom 5 are regarded as conservative.

The government reported a record 37,332,137 votes, 75.8 per cent of registration. The former record 35,288,755 was set in April 1953.

The strong Democratic victory means Hatoyama, 72 and partly paralyzed, will be renominated for prime minister when the Diet (Parliament) reconvenes—within two weeks, party leaders said. He is virtually assured of re-election by conservatives.

Hatoyama became prime minister Dec. 10 after his Democrats formed a temporary coalition with the Socialists to drive Yoshida from office. Yoshida had tried to face down a government shipbuilding subsidy scandal and had refused to consider any treaties or substantial trade with Communist regimes.

Hatoyama then made himself Japan's most popular political figure with an unprecedented handshaking, nationwide stumping tour. He called for trade and friendship with the Communist nations as well as continued strong ties with the United States.

State Accidents Take 12 Lives

Eight Die in Weekend Traffic, Three Drown, One Is Fire Victim

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A dozen persons—including three Kalamazoo children who drowned—died in weekend accidents over Michigan.

Traffic claimed eight lives and fire another.

Two of the Kalamazoo children who drowned broke through the ice on a pond. A 16-month-old Kalamazoo girl drowned in a bathtub in the momentary absence of her mother.

Ten-year-old Gary Smith and his 6-year-old brother, Gregory, drowned when they broke through thin ice Sunday while playing on a waste pond near the American Cyanamid Corp. in Kalamazoo.

Deborah Coleman, daughter of Donald Coleman, Kalamazoo Central and Western Michigan College basketball player, died Sunday while her mother was giving her a bath.

Police said the mother left the room for a minute and the child apparently turned on the hot water. The shock of the water threw the girl to the bottom of the bathtub where she drowned in a few inches of water.

Burl Whitaker, 29, of Detroit, was a fire victim. Firemen said the blaze broke out in his room Sunday after he apparently had been smoking in bed.

Mrs. Elizabeth Deman, 54, of Detroit was injured fatally Sunday when hit by a car while crossing a Detroit street.

Oliver Parker, 23, of Jackson died Sunday in Jackson of injuries suffered Saturday night in a three-car crash south of Chelsea on U.S. 12.

Charles W. Dotson, 32, of Detroit was killed Saturday night in a car-truck collision in suburban Detroit.

Mrs. Catherine Phillips, 39, of Trenton was killed Friday night in an auto collision in southwestern Wayne County. George J. Hauser, 74, of Lansing was injured fatally Friday night in a two-car collision at a Lansing intersection.

Harry Bowers, 53, of New Haven was injured fatally Saturday in a two-car collision in Livonia.

Mrs. Sarah McDowell, 71, of Lapeer was killed Saturday when the car in which she was riding collided head-on with another vehicle on M24 nine miles north of Lapeer.

Six-year-old Kathleen Everson of Hastings died Sunday of injuries incurred Saturday on M79, two miles east of Hastings.

110-Year-Old Home Destroyed by Fire

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Fire yesterday wiped out an Oakland County landmark, when the frame home of Mrs. Stella P. Phillips went up in flames.

Her son Perry of Ferndale, estimated that the house on Quarton near Cranbrook road, was over 110 years old. It had been in the family since 1847, he said.

Mrs. Phillips, 87, had suffered a broken hip several weeks ago and was not living in the six-room house. Phillips said he moved all valuables out of the house about a month ago, after several breakins occurred.

Firemen from Bloomfield Township and Cranbrook assisted the Bloomfield Hills department but the entire lower floor was in flames when first trucks arrived, officials said.

Deaths in Pontiac Area

Stanley Billington

Stanley Billington, 59, 105 Central Ave., died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The son of George and Eleanor McKay Billington, he was born in Isabella County and came to Pontiac in 1920. He was last employed as a gardener.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Thelma Jenkins, and two sons, Floyd Billington, both of Coleman, and Carl Billington of Pontiac.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Frank Howey of Mt. Pleasant, and four grandchildren.

The body will be taken to O'Laughlin Funeral Home in Isabella County for funeral service Wednesday. Burial will be in Denver Township Cemetery. Arrangements are by Huntoon Funeral Home.

Mrs. W. W. Carpenter

Mrs. Walter W. (Golda Mae) Carpenter, 82, of 103 Parkhurst St., died at her sister's home at 15 Deland Ct. Sunday after a three-month illness.

Born in Corunna, Ind., she was the daughter of John C. and Anna Mary Sanders Campbell and was married in Pontiac June 23, 1934.

A member of the First Baptist Church and a city resident for 40 years, she came here from Auburn, Ind.

Surviving is her sister, Mrs. Vern Rohm of Pontiac.

Funeral service will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. from Donelson-Johns Funeral Home, the Rev. William E. Hakes of the First Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Clarence A. Howe

Word has been received of the death Saturday of Clarence A. Howe in Bisbee, Ariz.

Mr. Howe lived in Pontiac most of his life until several years ago when he retired from GMC Truck and Coach Division. Surviving are two nephews in Detroit.

Baby Girl LaLone

Burial for Baby Girl LaLone, daughter of Glen and Ethel Sutton LaLone of 810 Waldon Rd., will be Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Mount Hope Cemetery.

The baby died shortly after birth in Pontiac General Hospital Saturday.

Surviving besides her parents are four brothers, Glenn John Jr., Richard A., Frank J., and David L., and two sisters, Marie E. and Patricia A., all at home.

Arrangements are by Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home.

Mrs. John T. Scott

Funeral service for Mrs. John T. (Minnie Mae) Scott, 60, 3008 Dixie Hwy., will be Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. from Huntoon Funeral Home, the Rev. James Luther of Silver Crest Baptist Church officiating.

Mrs. Scott died this morning in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after a two-year illness.

Born in Logan, Ohio, she was the daughter of Ben F. and Dora Frances Clary Evans. Married in Logan in 1917, she came here 25 years ago and was a member of Silver Crest Baptist Church. She also belonged to Blue Star Mothers and VFW Auxiliary of Drayton Plains.

Surviving besides her husband is a son, Jack F. Scott of Pontiac, and two brothers, Lawrence W. of Logan and Ben Evans of Akron, Ohio.

Burial will be in Ottawa Park Cemetery.

Breaks Collar Bone in Two-Car Crash

David A. Barnes, 6, of Detroit, was treated for a fractured collar bone at Pontiac General Hospital Saturday night after his father's car, in which he was a passenger, collided with another on Orchard Lake avenue.

David's father, James S. Barnes, Jr., 32, told Pontiac police, he was making a left turn into a filling station when he collided with an auto driven by Mrs. Harriet K. Peters, 34, of 2090 Middlebelt Rd.

Consumers Walkout Set for Tonight

ty including Plymouth, Wayne City and Livonia.

In event of a strike, the division here would attempt to maintain service by using some 125 supervisory personnel, according to E. L. Karkau, assistant to the division manager.

About 25 supervisory persons would act to maintain service in the Pontiac area, Karkau added.

Some planned maintenance work and new installations might have to be postponed, he stated, but present service probably would not be seriously cut back.

A walkout would affect some 4,900 UWA workers including about 300 in UWA Local 105 with jurisdiction over the Pontiac area. Consumers supplies 64 Lower Peninsula counties, with the exception of Detroit.

The company has not made public any compromise offers, but the union said yesterday that Consumers had delivered "an ultimatum" that a seven cent package deal be accepted.

H. Stanley Richmond, vice president of Consumers, said yesterday union demands would cost the company 55 cents an hour for each hourly rated worker, plus additional money for employe pension funds.

"The union's announced position gave no evidence of a desire to settle the dispute at a point anywhere near what the company considered reasonable," Richmond said.

Galand Sanders, of Flint, president of the Michigan Joint Council of the CIO, which is bargaining for the 24 Consumers locals, accused the company of refusing to bargain on the issues.

"They just stuck to the seven-cent package offer and refused to budge, and that deadlocked negotiations," Sanders said.

A walkout was averted last year when Gov. Williams appointed a fact-finding panel to study the issues. The recommendations of the panel were accepted as the basis for agreement on the one-year contract which runs out tonight.

Form Citizen Group to Battle Turnpike

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Formation of the "Citizens Protective Assn. of Michigan" to block the proposed turnpike from Flat Rock to Saginaw, was announced here today.

Simultaneously, the group announced that persons from Dearborn to Flint have been invited to an organizational meeting tomorrow night.

"Our main objective is the dissolution of the Michigan Turnpike Authority," said Raymond O. Darling, publicity director.

"The association feels toll roads are not the way to solve Michigan's highway problems," Darling said, "because in order to make them pay the roads must run through highly residential areas."

"We are supporting a program that would be developed through the State Highway Commission in conjunction with the governor and others. A series of free highways would do a much better job of serving the area," Darling said.

4 Oakland County Persons to Attend Education Meet

Four Oakland County persons are included in a list of regional officers who will conduct a meeting to draw up recommendations for presentation at a statewide conference on education, according to Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction.

They are County Superintendent of Schools William J. Emerson, Principal of McConnell School Thomas H. Temple; Mrs. Inez L. Carter, of Hazel Park, a prominent PTA worker; and Clarence Kimball, superintendent of Royal Oak schools.

Plans call for 14 regional meetings followed by a statewide meeting in Lansing May 18.

About 600 parents, citizens and educators are expected to attend the regional meeting for this area slated in late April at Royal Oak High School, said Emerson. Delegates will be named by local school boards, he added.

The meeting will consider educational problems including teacher shortages, handicapped children, school finances, adult education and college-level training, Emerson stated.

Regionals conclusions will be presented at the state meeting and form the basis for state recommendations to the President's White House Conference on Education in Washington Nov. 28 through Dec. 1.

NCAA Reveals Television Plan

Single Game, Regional Programs Both Included in New Setup

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic assn., has decided upon a college football program which will, if approved, permit telecasting of games on a national network on five days next fall and on a regional network on five days.

The program will be more acceptable to Pacific Coast and Big Ten conference schools, and will be submitted to a meeting of the NCAA in New York this week.

It was indicated that the revisions were made in the telecasting program because of the refusal of the Pacific Coast and Big Ten conferences to go along with the plan as agreed upon in Chicago Feb. 17 and 18.

The revised NCAA program will call for:

1. The nation will be divided into three time zones—Eastern, Central and Far West. The eastern area will embrace schools in the eastern time zone, except for Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. The Central Zone will include all Big Ten territory. The Far West Zone will have the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain conferences.

2. No team may appear on a regional or national network more than once.

3. Exceptions will be made for schools which wish to televise sell-out games on a local basis provided such programs do not interfere with any other games in the area.

4. All games will be on the once-a-week national network scale except for five Saturdays — Oct. 15, Oct. 22, Oct. 29, Nov. 5 and Nov. 12—when regional telecasts will be permitted.

5. Each university may negotiate its own terms with a sponsor.

Free negotiation by the schools to arrange terms of sponsorship would allow each network to line up its own program for the season and would, in effect, take the NCAA out of football television entirely.

Jackrabbits Find Living on Airfield Jumpy Business

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Consider the jackrabbits of the field. They never had it so bad.

At least the rabbits who live on the mile-square barley field at Long Beach Municipal Airport. Jet airplanes have them running in circles.

Crowded out of their old haunts by nearby housing booms, the rabbits are making a last-ditch stand on the airfield.

The rabbits are fairly blase about the air age. They don't even stop munching barley when propeller-driven planes take off. But when the big jets release their brakes and go whooshing into the sky it's a different story. Noses twitch; ears lie flat and the rabbits run helter-skelter like the celebrated Peter leaving Mr. MacGregor's cabbage patch.

Jets aren't their only worry. Some citizens want controlled hunting at the airfield. They contend the black-tailed jackrabbits are legitimate game, and also are pests, potential crop destroyers and carriers of dangerous diseases including plague and tapeworm.

However, they do have a few friends. "Their ancestors were here before ours," said Mayor George Vermillion yesterday. "They are not going to be murdered."

So in the meantime the rabbits sit — eating barley and multiplying.

Says Administrators' Fees Are Excessive

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. A. J. Phillips, executive director of the Michigan Education Assn., charged today that public administrators are receiving excessive fees for handling abandoned property under Michigan's escheats law.

Abandoned property, under the law, goes to the state for the primary school fund.

The Detroit News said the state receives approximately a million dollars a year in abandoned property and that about $100,000 is paid out in fees to public administrators, who are political appointees of the attorney general.

The News said that the law allows administrators 5 per cent of the first $1,000 of the total value in an abandoned property case, 2½ per cent of the next $4,000 and 2 per cent for all in excess of $5,000. Courts, however, are authorized to approve higher percentages in cases involving unusual amounts of legal work.

With higher percentages approved in almost every case, the News said administrators were averaging 12 per cent and seldom got less than 10 per cent. In one case it said a 44 per cent fee was approved.

Sen. Morse to Speak

DETROIT (UP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) will speak here tomorrow night at a dinner sponsored by the Detroit campaign for State of Israel bonds.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Will Discuss Spring Projects, Paving

BIRMINGHAM — Reminders of spring will be present at tonight's City Commission meeting. Lawmakers will discuss such warm-weather projects as purchase of spray material for use against the Dutch Elm disease and a paving program in several areas.

Highlight of the session may revolve around the city's two fire stations under discussion, inasmuch as one of them is being used as a test case in a labor union dispute.

Providing a small parking area for St. James Park also will be considered.

The Independent Committee for Education has set a mid-May date for completion of a study on immediate classroom needs for Birmingham's public school children, it has been announced.

Sponsored by the local PTA Council, with representatives from all 12 school areas, the study group was organized last fall to assist the Board of Education in coping with population trends.

Study by the committee will eventually include: immediate and longterm classroom needs, personnel, and curriculum. Because of the pressing need for more classrooms, that area will be surveyed first, according to Louis A. Bauer, facilities planning chairman.

A 15-member steering committee, headed by Marvin J. Brokaw, is supervising the program.

Kathryn Myer, Kingswood School instructor, will speak following the Altrusa Club's dinner at the Community House at 7 tonight. Recently returned from a year of teaching in France, Miss Myer will tell of her experiences.

A three-week session on Canada will start at tomorrow's 10 a.m. class of the Ruth Shain Class in International Affairs, held at the Community House. Mrs. Shain said the group would receive pamphlets and reminded that the meetings are open to the public.

Presenting the petitions were John M. Rady, Mrs. G. Howard Willett Jr., Frederick Fiesselmann, Dr. Bernard O'Dell, Harry M. Denyes Jr., C. Watts Wacker, Donald K. Fill, Carl F. Ingraham, Omar Hansen, Manley Bailey, and incumbent Vincent B. Watkins.

In question is the petition of Sidley E. Sullivan, which was apparently turned into the Police Department before 4 p.m. Saturday, but did not reach the City Clerk's office until today. The matter will be submitted to the City Commission tonight.

If the petitioners return nomination acceptance forms to the clerk's office, they will be placed on the ballot.

High Twelve Club members will hear about the St. Lawrence Seaway following a 6:30 dinner tonight at the Community House. Guest speaker will be Gerald Warren of the Detroit Board of Commerce.

Report Church Breakin

Pontiac Police today reported a breakin of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 156 Mt. Clemens St., but nothing had been determined missing. Entry was gained by breaking a window, Elder Herbert Lohr of 14 James St. told police the literature room and office were ransacked.

Black Wins Support in High Court Bid

following two heated personal attacks on the qualifications of former State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, nominated as one of the Republican candidates for the high court.

If the GOP decides to meet Black on his own ground, the campaign could evolve into a name-calling contest.

Black had solid support from labor groups, which composed a majority of delegates.

Gov. Williams suggested to the delegates that he favored a change on the bench, saying, "It's possible for the judiciary to put a tremendous damper on the thinking of our legislative and administrative divisions.

"We must see to it that people are named who are sympathetic with our philosophy.

Oakland County delegates supported Kavanaugh to the last, although it was apparent early Saturday morning that the labor majority was lining up behind Black.

Harry J. McGowan, of Birmingham, gave the nominating speech for Kavanagh.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, of Birmingham, spoke briefly saying, "I've discovered that the GOP hasn't learned seven cents worth as a result of last Nov. 2 (The Democrats won four top state administrative posts plus governor and lieutenant governor).

"We must beat some sense into the opposition by defeating them twice in a row, then make some forward progress in Michigan," Hart stated.

A lengthy convention resolution spelled out the Democratic plan for school expansion, emphasizing the party's fervent desire to place men in the top administrative posts.

School aims include use of the state's credit to guarantee repayment of bond loans by distressed public school districts and a minimum $4,000 wage for certified teachers.

Another resolution supported Williams' goal of a statewide vote April 4 on a compromise road program which would raise an additional $40,000,000 yearly in road-use taxes.

Fair employment practices legislation again was endorsed plus the Democratic plan to increase unemployment compensation benefits to 85 per cent of average gross pay and extending duration from 26 to 39 weeks.

A demand was recorded for legislative committees to make all meetings public plus recording votes of committee members.

Neil Staebler, of Ann Arbor, was re-elected state chairman and Adelaide Hart, of Detroit, renamed vice chairman.

Many Offer Skin for Burned Boy

More Than 60 Ready to Aid 6-Year-Old With Lifesaving Grafts

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A 6-year-old boy named Lucky has offers from more than 60 persons to donate skin for a plastic surgery operation to help save his life.

Lucky DeGeare, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe DeGeare, is suffering from third-degree burns over 65 per cent of his body and has no skin covering over half his body surface. He was burned Jan. 27 when he backed into a heater and his bathrobe and pajamas burst into flames.

Lucky's need for skin was made known yesterday.

Dr. George Kimball, who spent the day answering phone calls from all over the state, was thrilled by the spontaneous response. "We have more than we need and we are very grateful."

Lucky's 25-year-old mother said, "It is such a load off my mind.

"We had tried to find someone, but if they could donate skin, they couldn't get time off from work to do it."

Dr. Kimball says the plastic surgery operation must take place in three weeks—if Lucky is to have a chance to survive. Meanwhile, he is getting blood transfusions twice a week and has gone through an operation for removal of the burned skin over most of his body.

Floating Base Holds Mexico's New Skyscraper

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico City's newest and tallest skyscraper — 43 stories and 600 feet — is built on a floating foundation like a pontoon.

Construction of the office building, twice as tall as any other in the city, made the foundation a special problem. Mexico City is built on wet clay. Pressure on the clay forces out the water and it shrinks. Bedrock is so far down beneath the clay that engineers cannot put the foundation on the rock.

Planners for the Latin American Insurance Co., owner of the building, decided to float part of the weight. A hole was dug 45 feet deep over all the area the building occupies. Water-tight walls and floor were braced inside.

New Offensive Revealed in Battle Against Rabies

A new offensive in the battle against rabies was revealed today by Dr. Frank R. Bates, Oakland County animal welfare director.

Citing a recent statement by Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director, that rabies had been cut more than 75 per cent in the past two years, Dr. Bates forecast a crackdown on dog owners who try to evade licensing requirements.

The number of persons bitten by rabid dogs dropped from 79 in 1953 to 18 last year in the part of Oakland County outside Pontiac and other incorporated areas.

Dr. Monroe attributed this directly to the county ordinance which requires dogs to be vaccinated for rabies before they can be licensed.

"Last year some 17,000 dogs were licensed voluntarily by owners," Dr. Bates continued, "and our officers dug out about 2,000 more unlicensed dogs." He estimated there were still another 10,000 dogs unlicensed in 1954.

"We have a better setup now," the official said, "and we're going after delinquent owners immediately after the deadline Monday."

Licenses are now on sale at township treasurers' offices throughout the county at $1 for males and $2 for females. After the Feb. 28 deadline the fees will be doubled.

Dr. Bates pointed out that state laws provide a fine of $5 or five days in jail for persons who violate license requirements. He added that county dog officers will bring violators before local magistrates if they refuse to comply with the law.

The official said that six nonprofit clinics would be set up tomorrow between 1 and 4 p.m. where dog owners could have their pets vaccinated.

This will be the third in a series conducted this month by the county health department and Oakland County Veterinarians' Assn.

These will be located in West Bloomfield Twp. Fire Hall, Keego Harbor; Avon Twp. Precinct Hall, 276 W. Auburn Rd.; Ortonville Fire Hall; Addison Twp. Fire Hall, Leonard; Commerce Twp. Fire Hall, and the county animal shelter at 1200 E. Walton Blvd.

Pontiac does not require rabies vaccinations for dogs, and licenses may be obtained at City Hall for $2, regardless of the dog's sex. The fee jumps to $3 after the May 15 city deadline.

Shoots Mother, Takes Own Life

Young Veteran Ignores Police Attempts to Avert Tragedy

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (AP)—A handsome young Army veteran committed suicide in front of police yesterday after critically wounding his mother and then forcing a married couple at gunpoint to drive him around.

Charles Johnson, 20, fired a shot into his stomach as police were trying to convince him that his mother was still alive.

Johnson had come home drunk at about 1 a.m. and had an argument with his widowed mother Mrs. Anna Johnson, 43.

Out of work, Johnson recently was convicted of possessing a stolen car. A Staten Island, N.Y., judge gave him the choice of a jail term or of re-enlisting in the Army by March 11. The youth pleaded for the chance to re-enlist "to make a man of myself."

"I know I'm going to get time in New York and I don't give a - - - - what happens," an uncle who witnessed the shooting quoted Charles as telling his mother.

"You think this thing won't go off," said young Johnson, wielding his .45-caliber revolver. The gun did go off, and Mrs. Johnson crumpled to the floor, said the uncle, Harold Johnson.

Johnson fled from his home and forced Mr. and Mrs. Leolin West, of Rumson, to drive him away. They rode more than five hours over the Jersey shore area and central sections of the state.

When they finally returned to Johnson's front door, the youth got out of the car and the Wests reported the incident to police, who went to the scene with riot guns.

Johnson was in the basement. He came upstairs to the living room with his gun under his shirt. Refusing to believe that his mother still lived, he pulled the trigger, killing himself.

Cobo in Washington to Aid Ike Road Plan

WASHINGTON (INS) —Detroit's Mayor Albert Cobo appears before the Senate subcommittee on roads in Washington today to speak in favor of President Eisenhower's highway bill.

Cobo, former president of the American Municipal Assn., is one of four mayors representing the association's position on the highway improvement issue.

Cobo is slated to explain the association's stand that an adequate national road program cannot be financed on a pay-as-you-go basis, but must be met by long-term financing through bonds.

This position is under attack from some Democratic senators and representatives who favor pay-as-you-go financing by direct federal allotments to states.

Your Income Tax

Almost Every Resident Must File

By FRANK O'BRIEN
Of Associated Press

This is the time of year when every citizen or resident of the United States who had as much as $600 income last year ($1,200 if you were 65 or older) must file a federal income tax return.

You will be filing this year under a revamped income tax law that made 14 major changes for the individual income tax payer, all 14 in the taxpayer's favor.

First off, the new law gives you until April 15 to get your return made out and mailed to your district director of internal revenue. That is a month more filing time than you had under the old law. But it's still the early filer who gets the early refund, and the late and hurried filer who is likely to make costly mistakes.

The 1954 Internal Revenue Code introduced something new that will take a direct bite out of the tax liability of millions of people. This is the "tax credit" which may allow you to deduct a percentage of your income from dividends, or retirement funds, directly from the tax you otherwise would pay.

The previously existing deductions, exclusions and exemptions of income are carried over into the new law. Some new ones have been added. But in addition, there are the two new tax credits for those who can claim them. You cannot claim these credits if you use form 1040A. They can only be claimed on form 1040.

This new concept has brought about considerable revision of the tax forms, but the same forms 1040A and long or short 1040—are still the basic returns for all taxpayers, and the district director's office still does the figuring for users of 1040A. In making out an income tax return you are still going through the same basic process you always have—reducing your total (gross) income to your taxable income.

But the new credits may add a profitable final step for those who have either dividend or retirement income.

Under the old system, you first set aside, out of the tax laws' reach, all possible income under the headings of exemptions, exclusions and deductions. That gave your taxable income, and told how much tax you owed for the year.

Under the new system, persons with enough retiremtnt or dividend income, from specified sources, will subtract a percentage of that income from their tax liability. That will give them their tax.

In addition to any tax reduction that comes your way because of the new tax law, you are paying at rates which, for most people are about 10 per cent lower than rates of a year ago.

The revenue service has mailed each taxpayer the same kind of form he used last year. But you should use the form best suited to your 1954 income. You can get additional forms of all kinds from your local bank or post office, or at any revenue service office. Have enough forms to keep a copy of your return, and hang on to the receipts and other records that back up your return.

During tax paying time, the revenue service spots its agents all over the country as tax counsellors. Their services are free, and their instructions are to help you get the benefits of the law as well as to help you comply with the law.

The major benefits to the individual taxpayer under the new revenue code not already mentioned are:

A new joint return provision for widows or widowers; new exemption provisions for children, other dependents and individuals supported by more than one taxpayer; and exclusion for sick pay income; new deductions provisions for expenses of employees; a deduction for soil and water conservation expenditures.

A new method for computing exclusion of income from annuities and pensions and additional methods for computing depreciation; additional deductions for contributions; a deduction for interest on installment debts; additional deductions for medical expenses, and a deduction for child care.

These are discussed in the instruction booklet mailed with your return. An index to them is on page 3 of the instructions. An internal revenue service book, available for 25 cents at banks, post offices and government offices, called "Your Federal Income Tax" also review the other main provisions of the tax law, in language intended for the layman's understanding.

This series of 10 daily articles is intended as a guided tour through the business of making out your income tax return. As nearly as practicable, it will take up subjects in the order they come up as you work through your return form.

Since your first decision is what form to use, that will be the subject of the next article. Then comes the joint return, where there are important new provisions for recent widows and widowers, and provisions under which you may file as head of household.

The fourth article will deal with exemptions; the fifth with exclusions, and the sixth with the new tax credits.

At that point, all subjects necessary for filing the 1040A form will have been covered.

The seventh article will deal with business - connected deductions; the eighth with personal deductions; the ninth with reporting of income other than wages from which tax has been withheld, and the tenth will be a guide to winding up the return by finding or computing your tax, entering any tax credits due to you, and finding your final tax.

(Next: Choosing your form.)

House Fire Set by Jilted Suitor

Detroiter Admits Trying to Burn Down Home of Woman Friend

DETROIT (UP)—A jilted suitor who admitted trying to burn down a house when the torch of love began to wane was held today for investigation of arson.

"I'm sorry and I guess I'm wrong but she sure made me mad," said William Sykes.

Sykes was referring to Mrs. Lisette Adams. He said he had been courting the 27-year-old woman while she and her husband were separated. He said he even loaned her $150 before she and her husband, William, 47, were reconciled.

Sykes said he was reminiscing about his broken romance over a few drinks Saturday night and decided to burn Mrs. Adams' house down. He said he called on the woman with a gallon of gasoline.

"I went in and sprinkled the gas on the inside stairway and tossed in a match," he said. "Then I went home to bed where the police found me."

Mrs. Adams and several friends she was entertaining managed to escape the flames, which caused an estimated $3,000 damage.

Stage, TV Comedian Dies in California

LONG BRANCH, N.J., (INS) — Tom Howard, veteran comedian, whose last success was as quizmaster of the "It Pays To Be Ignorant" radio and TV program, died yesterday at the age of 69.

The old-time vaudevillian died in Hazard Hospital, Long Branch, which he entered last Thursday after suffering a heart attack.

The lean comic with the squeaky voice and owlish look enjoyed his first big success in "Greenwich Village Follies" and for a long time teamed with George Shelton.

Howard is survived by his widow, Harriet, and two children, Ruth and Tom Jr., both of whom are script writers.

In change there is opportunity

16 million more Americans have jobs than in 1939

Since 1939, the number of jobs in America has gone up about 36%, while our population has increased about 25%. Increasingly, the welfare and prosperity of America are being built around jobs, productivity and pay checks.

Because more people are working and because of more efficient methods, America now offers more goods, more services, better values than ever before.

Bigger pay checks have given us the opportunity to enjoy more of the good things in life. More than half our families now own their own homes. Our children are getting more education. Travel has reached a new peak. We are dressing better, reading more books, enjoying more music, developing all sorts of new interests!

And many more families have taken advantage of the opportunity to build up their financial security. In fact, 93 million people now own life insurance. They buy it to guarantee a financial backlog if the father were to die; and they are using life insurance in many other ways—for instance, to cover the mortgage on their homes, to help pay for the children's education, to build an adequate retirement program.

More than half of all life insurance benefits are now paid to the policyholders themselves. Thus, to millions of families, life insurance is bringing greater opportunity, as well as greater security. It is America's most popular form of thrift.

Too Many Closed Doors in Halls of Congress

Louisiana's Democratic Congressman HEBERT, a former city editor, has the eminently sound idea that the public's business should be transacted in public.

Therefore, in his capacity as chanrman of the House Armed Services Investigating Subcommittee, he has laid down a sensible new rule regarding secret sessions. Such sessions of his committee, he has decreed, can be secret only when they relate to national security or top Administration policy.

Moreover, witnesses desiring to testify in secret before this committee must give at least 24 hours notice so that members can judge the validity of the request.

Back of this rule change is HEBERT'S ire over the secret testimony of Secretary of the Navy THOMAS. When the transcript of this testimony came back from the Pentagon only three lines were censored for security reasons.

The startling thing about this rules change in a democracy like ours is that it is news. The policy laid down by Chairman Hebert should be standard practice for all Congressional committees.

It cannot be emphasized too strongly that the newspapers' fight against excess secrecy isn't a battle for special privileges. As Senators MONRONEY and HUMPHREY argue, it is a battle in behalf of a basic democratic principle.

Some secrecy is necessary, of course. But in general the public's business should be transacted in the open so voters would be able to make informed decisions at the polls.

Radar Timing Needed in War on Speeders

This newspaper doesn't share the opinion of those who consider it unethical to use electronic timing devices in the war on speeders.

A recent example of this attitude came to light in Washington. Radar was the special target of a speaker who obviously considered such devices unfair means of "trapping" motorists.

A much more valuable contribution to highway safety and national welfare was made by an insurance executive, GILBERT L. KERR. Speaking on the subject "Sanctioned Slaughter" Mr. KERR cited a mass of statistics whose weight crushed the life out of the arguments offered by radar's critics.

For example, Mr. KERR said 28 children lost their lives in abandoned ice boxes in 1953. Justifiable indignation was so immediate and effective that many communities and some states passed ordinances and laws providing that the doors must be removed before refrigerators are discarded.

Consider the difference in public attitude toward deaths on highways. In that same year 4,400 children under fourteen, 8,200 persons from 15 to 24 years and a total of 38,300 of all ages were killed in traffic accidents.

In our book these figures show beyond doubt that instead of being a means of trapping motorists, radar has become an essential weapon in the war on speed, the number one killer.

Moreover, radar timing, which has been used for sometime in neighboring Birmingham, hurts only those who violate the law.

AN EPIGRAM is a wisecrack that lived long enough to acquire a reputation.

Bond Sales at New High

If anyone anywhere doubts that the American people are thrifty, he should be set straight by the latest Treasury figures on E and H bond sales.

These totaled $573,000,000 in January, the highest for any month since January 1946. This 107 month sales record was revealed by EARL O. SHREVE, national director of the Treasury's Savings Bond Division.

Emphasizing individual thrift is the fact that net sales in January over redemptions totaled $169,000,000. This is the highest net since January 1947. Incidentally, January sales were 18 per cent above the same month of last year and 30 per cent over the first month of 1953.

All this adds up to some impressive figures on individual bond holdings. The grand total of E and H bonds now outstanding is $38.5 billion. Even more impressive is the fact that three-quarters of the E bonds which have matured since May, 1951, are still unredeemed and continue earning interest for their owners.

Because the American people thus are saving for a rainy day, their thrift would do much to soften the blow if it should arrive.

The Man About Town

Our National Bird

Pair of Bald Eagles Now Permanent Residents Here

Talent: A special ability often confused with genius, especially by the person who has it.

Latest addition to Oakland County's attractions is its adoption as the home of a pair of bald eagles, the national bird. Thought to be extinct throughout Michigan, for several months a couple of them have been reported in Kensington Park, near Milford. Two members of the Detroit Audubon Society, were delegated to ascertain the facts. After watching their meeting place and habits, and making a close study of the birds, they have officially certified them. The eagles have evidently decided to make their permanent home among us. In early times several bald eagles nested in the trees on the island in the lake which bears that name, near Ortonville, but none have been seen here in recent years.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. McMillan,

"Exactly 20 years ago today," phones

of Huron Gardens, "we had a snow storm that tied up all traffic for several days. Previous to that time, it had been a mild winter."

A firm believer in spreading life's attractions over a long period of years is of Drayton Plains. She reports that she had the mumps on the right side 65 years ago, and now has them on the left side, but avers that it was the wrong side on both occasions.

A resident of Pontiac for four score of his 84 years, of 100 Mt. Clemens St., has vivid recollections of toll gates on our streets, the old red brick court house, one-man police force, no pavements and other incidentals of the horse and buggy days.

Fred Clark

Answering a question asked in an interesting communication from

"—It Goes Around in Circles"

David Lawrence Says:

Lack of Moral Courage Dangerous in Democracy

WASHINGTON—If there is a single outstanding defect out of the many that beset free governments today it is the unwillingness of the so-called intellectual groups to face moral issues.

For months now there has been a steady and persistent campaign both here and abroad which seeks to establish the premise that because the Communists have possession of the mainland of China and are claiming some sort of title to Formosa, the Free World might as well embrace the Peiping government and admit it to the United Nations.

Yet this very week the British government has released the story of the awful treatment experienced by prisoners of the Red Chinese in Korea. In Britain they have been talking glibly, as do many of our own "left wingers" about the "legal" position of the Peiping government and of how under "international law," the mutual defense treaty between the United States and the Nationalist government on Formosa has no validity.

But memories are short. Only a few years ago during wartime there were in London many "governments in exile" with which the British and American governments dealt daily and in fact recognized them as the legal governments of their own countries, even though the latter didn't control an inch of territory. General De Gaulle, for instance, rather than General Petain in occupied Paris was the officially recognized head of the government of France.

There is today a state of war between Peiping and the U.N. In February 1951 the United Nations formally declared the Red China government an aggressor in Korea. While an armistice has been signed, it has been repeatedly violated by the Communists. No treaty of peace has yet been signed. That's a "legal" fact, too. Also the Peiping government has again and again insulted the U.N. and refused to accept its auspices in unifying Korea or in any other controversy including the one that has recently arisen about the Chinese offshore islands and Formosa.

There is nothing wrong about the United Nations that a little moral courage and adherence to principle wouldn't cure. The United Nations concept indeed was and is a great ideal. The thought that nations could bind themselves together and take measures for their own collective security as a sort of restraint upon the nationalistic passions of any one of their number is still a wonderful objective for which mankind can strive.

But the thick-and-thin defenders of the U.N. are its worst enemies. They talk of the U.N. as if it were a world government and they join in efforts to defeat the Bricker Amendment without offering an effective procedure to prevent United Nations action from overriding the Constitution of the United States.

The other day when the Senate Judiciary Committee was questioning John Marshall Harlan, nominated for the Supreme Court of the United States, it was apparent that fear of a world government to be set up by the U.N. is deeply imbedded in the minds of many members of the Senate. What was most disconcerting was the assumption that a man of good character and devotion to moral purpose would allow any preconceptions on foreign policy to influence his judgment on the merits of any case that might come before him as a justice of the highest court.

Yet it was the "left wing" Senator Norris of Nebraska who publicly imputed to Charles Evans Hughes, when nominated for the bench, all sorts of improper attitudes just because he had been a corporation lawyer. Mr. Norris lived to regret his action. It will be recalled, too, that leaders of organized labor kept one of the most liberal and progressive jurists in America, Judge Parker of North Carolina, from being confirmed for the Supreme Court because he had once decided a labor case against them.

Either a prospective member of the high court is intellectually honest and moral or he is faithless and doesn't deserve any office. What difference does it make whether Mr. Harlan did or did not join a world government group? Justice Black was once a member of the Ku Klux Klan but nobody has ever been able to point to a single decision of his on the Supreme Court that has been hostile to civil rights of any kind.

Either a judge knows the meaning of fairness and is ready to write opinions based on the law and the Constitution or he is a crusader for a cause and doesn't belong on the bench at all. Unfortunately there are individuals serving on the bench today who are hurting that concept by their open advocacy of one side or the other of highly controversial political questions of the hour.

Morality is not absent in the populace as a whole nor courage either, but the absence of these virtues in many so-called political leaders here and abroad who have voices powerful enough to mislead the people is the most dangerous poison in modern Democracy.

Mrs. C. R. Allen Charges Police Capable of Deciding How They Spend Spare Time

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

My first reaction to the letter written by "Honest Citizen" was to exclaim that some people make me sick to my stomach. "Honest Citizen," what business is it of yours how much a policeman makes on his own time?

You would be the first one to yell the loudest if someone stepped in and tried to tell you how much money you could make or what you could do with your spare time.

Policemen are people who have as much right as you have to spend their own time as they see fit. Are you on your job 24 hours a day? I doubt it.

More power to anyone, policeman or otherwise, who is ambitious enough to spend more time trying to better himself. I would be all for policemen getting better pay, but until they do, why stand in their way? (I am in no way connected with the Police Department.)

'Fact Finder' Comments on Use of Fluorine

If fluorine is such a "safe poison," would someone please tell me why the U. S. Pure Food and Drug Act prohibits the addition of such a poison to the milk supply and to bottled water?

Surely if it's safe for our public drinking water, there should be no question why it shouldn't be added to our milk and the bottled water. I maintain that if they prohibit such a "mass medication," why should we force it upon each Individual of our community?

Someone stated in this column recently that Waterford Twp. has been drinking fluorine in its water for years and "they aren't dead yet."

Did it ever occur to the person that while there are some three or four million people living in areas where there are flourides in the water, these fluorides come in a natural combination with other elements of nature. This can give an entirely different reaction than when raw fluorides by themselves are placed in the drinking water.

These facts have been taken from: The House of Representatives Report No. 2500 on the "Investigation of the Use of Chemicals in Foods and Cosmetics."

Fact Finder

I just looked up the word "communism." Here is the definition:

"One who advocates government by communes. The doctrine of a community of property and the formation of a common fund for the supply of all the wants of the community.

"The economic system or theory which upholds the absorption of all proprietary rights in a common interest."

According to that, the opposers of fluoridation could hardly be called communists. It looks like it's the other way around.

Truth and Fact

If "Just Plain American" will read "Loyal American's" article again, he will notice that "Loyal American" didn't accuse anyone of being a commie.

On the contrary, he said, "This isn't to say that all who oppose fluoridation are subversives." Perhaps this is how many of the facts get so distorted.

As for "Loyal American" standing to gain from fluoridation, maybe he does. Maybe, like me, his "profit" will be healthier children. Or maybe, it will be the profit of what he would have spent on dentist bills.

Maybe his profit will be in knowing that his vote for fluoridation has helped a little to make life more pleasant.

'Still Honest People,' Declares 'Thankful'

In this wicked old world there are still many honest and thoughtful people. For instance, I went into a business place to pay for a purchase I had made.

I paid for it by check and when I arrived home I discovered my checkbook was missing. I returned to the store and was told that someone had found it outside and had turned it into the office, for which I was very grateful.

Thankful

Hearing Vivian Scott Enjoyed by Pontiacers

Too often we make sacrifices that to us seem unrewarding. However, it is a real source of pleasure to realize that all along the way there are those who have spiritually shared our burdens and thus are equally touched as repayment unfolds.

May I take this method to express appreciation to the countless citizens who beamed with pride along with us when my daughter, Vivian Scott, was heard via NBC radio on the Negro History Week program Monday, February 14.

Although she has lived in New York City for 8 years, she still claims Pontiac as her home. This recognition would have been a great source of pride to two sainted people who played such a great part in her developing years, namely Mrs. S. A. Kessell and my own mother, Mrs. Bertha Riddick.

The many calls that I had attested your interest in her future and I am humble and grateful. The growing pains, we believe, are in the past but your continued interest and prayers are solicited for her future development.

Looking Back

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

If those Lincoln and Washington day dinners were alarm clocks for 1956 they went off a bit too previous.

There's still a lot of toasts to go over the lip before the voice of the people makes the top ten.

It's almost two loaded years until the political equinoxes. You know that national politics changes partners faster than a dance hall hostess.

Nevertheloose, Herb Brownell launched Ike's 1956 campaign while Ike was shooting quail in Georgia. Ike promised us he would never be more than two hours away from the White House. Brownell is two years.

The Apple Johnnies of politics gather their sauce before the gravyboat comes in. It's the same on the Democratic side where Adlai Stevenson has been awarded the accolade of premature sheepknuckle divination.

Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays hatch an escadrille of potential candidates at optimistic $100-plate picnics. Old Abe never ate higher on the hog than its wrist.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Attractive Girl Who Has Car, Fur Coat Unpopular Among Boys With Less

Lois is in a dilemma for, despite her good looks, her fur coat and personal auto, she still doesn't rate the popularity of many other girls who have no such luxuries. Study this case record carefully; then compare it with Larry's answer tomorrow. Every girl can be popular if she uses the right formula.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-361: Lois D., aged 17, is a very attractive looking high school senior.

"Dr. Crane, what is wrong with me, anyway?" she began, "for I dress well, but I am not popular with boys.

"My father is a doctor, and he lets me drive my own car to school every day, so I thought that would be appealing to boys.

"But nothing seems to work very well, so something is wrong."

Fortunately, I knew some of the boys in the high school which Lois attended, so I casually asked them what they thought of her.

"Oh, she's a snob," one of the boys immediately replied. "I dated her one time and after the movie some of the others in our crowd suggested we go to a hamburger joint for refreshments.

"But she objected because she was wearing a ritzy new fur coat and didn't want to go to such a low brow place to eat.

"Her father has a lot of money and she tries to show off. But we fellows who must pay the bill out of our own earnings, don't have the cash to go to expensive places.

"That's why she doesn't rate very well with most of the fellows in our class at high school."

Many girls, and some boys, too, try to get by socially by depending on papa's pull, including his wealth or social standing.

But you can't buy permanent popularity with other people's money or prestige, so the sooner you get wise to that fact in psychology, the sooner you will be able to build up a solid type of popularity of your own.

Perhaps you recall how the Prodigal Son of Biblical times used his father's money to buy friends. But the moment they found his purse was empty, they deserted him.

Many of you high school and college daughters hardly earn even your salt! You neither help your mothers with the housework or cooking or laundry.

Some of you are so pampered that you don't make your own beds. Yet you then parade in public with fur coats and other expensive clothing as well as your personal automobile.

Who paid for all those luxuries? Your father! So you are trying to buy popularity with his dough, just as the Prodigal Son attempted the same thing thousands of years ago.

Suppose you didn't have such fur coats and cars, then what?

Or would you then get panicky, as many stupid females do, and again imitate the Prodigal Son by purchasing popularity as you permit your male escorts to take undue sexual liberties?

Many modern girls hope to buy favor with a certain boy by becoming his sex plaything. Since that's all they have with which to hold him, they soon lose him.

If you want to win real friends and lasting popularity without your papa's pull and without trying to bribe boys with illicit sexual liberties, then rate yourselves on the 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus a dime.

They will show you how to be popular with both sexes without relying on the prestige or wealth of your parents to purchase attention.

And be sure to read tomorrow's case record about Larry, for it should be an eye-opener to most of you girls who want to learn how to handle men.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Iodin Ration Really Helps, Rheumatiz Sufferers Say

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Have found your iodin ration very healthful in keeping me awake. I am 54, had no pep, was listless, but am gaining strength and vite every day. (R. W.)

Man needs but little iodin but needs that little every day. Likewise his horse, his cow, his wife, his sheep, his pig, his dog, his cat and his canary.

The doctor advised my husband to take (a medicinal dose) of iodin a day to perk him up. He said it is good for most people past 40. Do you think pure cod liver oil every day would help rheumatism or arthritis? (Mrs. M. F.)

Only under a doctor's observation should one take iodin in medicinal doses. When I say everybody needs a daily ration of iodin I mean only the minute quantity of iodin one might get in sea fish or shellfish if one's diet included substantial proportions of these foods every day.

As a matter of fact straight cod liver oil, two ounces (about 4 tablespoonfuls) a day was formerly one of the best remedies for the rheumatiz, and in my opinion still is. Pure cod liver oil is a rich source of vitamin A, vitamin D and iodin.

Make up your mind about it, Ma'am. Have you joint inflammation (arthritis) or joint degeneration (rheumatiz)? If it is arthritis the only suggestion I can offer is that you follow your doctor's advice and pay no attention to what any blithering quack says in the papers.

If you can't make up your mind what ails you, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet "Calcium and Rheumatis." If you're curious about the meaning of degeneration look up the medical definition of the word in Webster's.

Your iodin ration has done so much for me . . . had rheumatism in my hands . . . so painful . . . now I have no pain and I do want to thank you. (Mrs. R. R.)

Thank God, Ma'am, not me. All I can say about it is that even if it does no good the iodin ration can do no harm in such a case.

All (five) of our family take the iodin ration and we are sure we never had such fine spirits before we became disciples . . . (Mrs. H. A.)

Yahbut for years you didn't take much stock in my strange notions, eh?

Took your iodin ration for four years, off and on, and my friends marvel at the wonderful growth and blackness of my hair, while most of them have scanty growth and graying hair. In mid-forties and excellent health . . . (Mrs. D. D. C.)

For the 'teenth time I tell you I don't know whether the iodin ration really restores natural color to hair that has turned gray, although a good many correspondents have assured me it does. I do believe it prevents premature graying of the hair.

In any case it can do no harm to try it only remember, please, a trial of less than three months doesn't settle anything. For instructions send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet "The Iodin Ration."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP)—It's another boy for film actress Elizabeth Taylor.

The dark-haired actress celebrated her 23rd birthday yesterday by giving birth by Caesarean section to a 5-pound, 12-ounce boy. Both mother and son, named Christopher Edward, were reported "doing fine."

Miss Taylor was married to British actor Michael Wilding Feb. 21, 1952 in England. Their first son, Michael, was born Jan. 6, 1953.

Giraffe With Arthritis Worrying Zoo Head

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—It's bad when a giraffe has laryngitis but it's worse when its arthritis.

That's what is ailing a lady giraffe in the Lincoln Park Zoo and it has Director Julian Frazier up in the air. The victim, who hasn't a name, is in serious condition. Frazier says he is going to have to rig up some sort of sling today to hoist the ailing giraffe so she won't have to bear any weight on her forelegs.

The extreme lameness of the giraffe's front legs has led to even greater complications. She tried to get up on her feet the other day and fell, fracturing the kneecap on her right leg.

Clarkston Youth Held in Forgery

Student Faces Charge of Cashing Bad Check; Implicates 3 Others

A 19-year-old Clarkston college student was reported facing an uttering and publishing charge in Midland today for passing a forged check.

Donald Northcote, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Northcote, of 12 S. Main St., was arrested Saturday along with three other 19-year-old Central Michigan College students at Mount Pleasant.

Sgt. Guy Babcock of the Mount Pleasant State Police Post said Northcote has been identified by Midland grocer Francis Federer as the youth who cashed a forged $40 check in his store Friday night.

Federer said he overheard Northcote ordering 10 one-pound bags of potato chips to go with an order which also included roast beef and a bottle of wine.

He said his suspicions were aroused and he took down the license number when the customer left. The check bounced Saturday and Federer notified police.

Babcock said Northcote later admitted cashing $340 to $350 in other bad checks in Midland Friday night.

He linked his companions, one from Midland and two from Plymouth, to a series of similar incidents in Oakland, Wayne and Washtenaw counties dating back to October.

A warrant charging Northcote with uttering and publishing was issued by Midland County Prosecutor James Rood.

Fifth Air Force Split Five Ways

Reorganization of Units Into Divisions Expected to Improve Operations

TOKYO (AP) — Far East Air Forces announced today the 5th Air Force will be reorganized into five separate and more independent air divisions on March 1.

Three will be based in Japan, one in South Korea and another on Okinawa.

The present 20th Air Force on Okinawa will be redesignated the 313th Air Division in the changeover, retaining the same commander, Maj. Gen. Fay R. Upthegrove.

Each division will have full command and operational control of 5th Air Force units assigned to it. Previously, such units were under direct control of the 5th's commander, Lt. Gen. Roger M. Ramey.

In Japan, the three air divisions will correspond roughly to the three geographical areas of the country. The 39th Air Division, under command of Col. William P. Elder, will be in northern Japan with headquarters at Misawa Air Force Base. The 41st, commanded by Col. Cecil P. Lessing, will operate in central Japan with headquarters at Johnson AFB near Tokyo. The 43rd Air Division will cover southern Japan under command of Col. Samuel J. Gormly, with headquarters at Itazuke AFB.

In Korea, the new air division, as yet unnumbered, will be established under command of Col. William W. Momyer. Its headquarters will be at Osan.

Dense Fog Is Blamed for Two-Car Crash

This morning's dense fog was blamed for an auto accident in which Herbert Fritsch, 34, of Detroit, was injured, on Commerce road a half mile south of Commerce Township, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies reported. He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for head cuts.

Police quoted Fritsch as saying he was unable to see a stalled auto, which had been driven by Gerald Lee Skiba, 16, of 5707 Pickbodrne, Milford.

Roosevelt PTA to Hear Talk on Civil Defense

KEEGO HARBOR — Mrs. John Warren will speak on the importance of civil defense at the 8 p.m. Tuesday meeting of the Roosevelt PTA in the school gym.

Election of officers will be the main business of the evening, and members will have to show their membership cards to receive a ballot.

Refreshments will be served by mothers of 4th and 5th grade pupils.

Keego Man Faces Car Theft Charge

A warrant charging car theft was issued today against a Keego Harbor man who led police on a high-speed three-mile auto chase Saturday, according to Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Robert D. Long.

Robert J. Hockey, 21, of 2426 Pine Lake Ave., will probably be arraigned later today before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle, Long said.

Police began chasing Hockey when he ignored halt signals at Orchard Lake road near Middlebelt road. His flight ended when he struck a utility pole and abutment.

Reports $786 Taken in Market Breakin

Thieves took $786 Saturday night during a breakin of the B&K Market at 244 Baldwin Ave., Pontiac Police reported today.

Detective James Bale said entry was gained by prying open a rear window. According to Peter Krueger, of 3020 Dixie Hwy., the money was in a cigar box which had been placed in an unlocked 400-pound safe. Nothing else had been determined taken, said police.

Voting on New School

KENT CITY (AP) — A special election was scheduled Monday to decide a proposal to provide $55,000 toward financing a new elementary school, replacing one destroyed by fire last Dec. 18. School officials said the fire insurance funds will assist in the estimated $150,000 replacement costs.

Congress Pay Raise Seen Passing Soon

WASHINGTON (INS) — Quick action was predicted today on a bill raising the pay of members of Congress by $7,500, with final approval possible Tuesday.

A House leader forecast that members would capitulate to the Senate which insists that a provision for a $1,250 tax-free expense account for lawmakers be knocked out of the pay bill.

The leader, who asked that his name not be used, said last Friday's 62-to-7 vote in the Senate against the annual expense allowance probably would force the House to give in.

A Senate-House conference committee had put the expense account in the bill as a compromise. The House had originally voted for a $10,000 raise and the Senate for $7,500. The lawmakers now get $15,000 a year.

Woman Is Hospitalized After M 24 Accident

Emma L. Nelson, 28, of 440 Broadway St., is reported in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital after suffering a concussion in an auto accident on M24 a mile north of Pontiac road, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Police said Miss Nelson struck a tow-truck in the rear when the vehicle, driven by Frank Bouck, 29, of 1919 M24, was backing out of a driveway.

3 Rifles, Shells Taken During Store Breakin

Waterford Township Police today reported three rifles and 10 boxes of .32-caliber shells stolen during a breakin of the Lewis Hardware, 4460 Elizabeth Lake Road, Sunday morning.

Missing are a Field Master Remington, a .35-caliber Marlin and a .32 Winchester rifle. Police said thieves gained entry by breaking a rear door panel.

To Show Travel Films

KEEGO HARBOR — Mrs. Truman Lanphere of Pontiac will present travel movies of Mexico, Southern California and Florida's Cypress Gardens following the Keego Harbor Business and Professional Women's Club dinner meeting at the Rotunda Inn this evening.

Woman Driver Injured in Three-Car Pileup

Mrs. Kenneth M. Ferguson, 42, of 9481 Bonnie Briar, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with possible back injury suffered today in a 3-car accident at M59 and Pontiac Lake Rd.

Waterford Township police said Mrs. Ferguson's car was rammed in the rear by one driven by William A. Minier, 32, of 2471 Duck Lake Rd., Milford. Minier's auto, according to police, also was hit in the rear by another auto driven by Roldand Reynold, 27, of 1235 Waterbury, Milford.

Mrs. Ferguson told police she brought her auto to a quick halt to avoid a car cutting in front of her.

The average American eats about 148 pounds of red meat a year. If in uniform, he may expect nearly four-fifths of a pound a day, or 288 pounds a year.

February Ushered Out to Tune of Wedding March

Clara M. Gordon, daughter of the John F. Gordons of Bloomfield Hills was married Saturday evening in Christ Church Cranbrook to Henry Whiting Jr. son of the Henry Whitings of Birmingham.

MRS. HENRY WHITING JR.

Bloomfield Ceremony Unites Pair

Henry Whiting Jr., Clara Gordon Wed in Christ Church

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Clara Margaret Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gordon of Rathmor road, was married in Christ Church Cranbrook Saturday evening at 8:30 to Henry Whiting Jr. whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whiting of Birmingham.

Pale pink roses and snapdragons adorned the altar and were used in aisle vases.

The bride wore a gown of antique satin in a soft pearl shade. Its regal lines were accented by heirloom lace which followed the V neckline over the snug bodice and top of the long fitted sleeves.

The full skirt fell in unpressed pleats into a water lily train and a small lace coronet held a full length veil of Rose Pointe lace. She carried a small tight bouquet of white roses surrounded by camellia leaves.

Mrs. Roger Aten, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and Nancy Elizabeth Trumbull was honor maid.

Bridesmaids included Mrs. Frederick M. Warner II and Elizabeth Boyne of Birmingham, Mrs. Stanley E. Reinhart Jr. of West Point, N. Y., Mrs. Norman Christman of Spring Lake and Mrs. Charles Getz of Bronxville, N. Y.

All the attendants wore waltz length frocks of rose satin fashioned with long Medici bodices and full skirts over organza petticoats. The oval necklines formed the top of fitted elbow sleeves and they wore small satin caps embroidered with seed pearls.

Their flowers were roses in garnet and American Beauty shades bordered with camellia leaves.

Peter Whiting was his brother's best man and Macauley Whiting of Midland was an usher. Other ushers were Lt. John W. Eden of Coronado, Cal., John M. Shuell of Peru, Vt., Edward Leisenring Jr. Berwyn, Pa., Dr. George F. Cahill Jr. of Wellesley, Mass., Sevier Bonnie of Louisville, Ky., and Roger Aten of Birmingham.

Pale pink roses centered the bridal table at Bloomfield Hills Country Club where the reception was held and American Beauty roses in silver containers accented with bouvardia were used throughout the club.

Mrs. Gordon wore a floor length gown of Dior pink chiffon with a pleated bodice and a small matching hat. Pale pink cymbidium orchids were pinned to her purse.

Mrs. Whiting wore American Beauty peau de soie with a small matching velvet hat and orchids on her purse.

Figure Club Plans Check on Progress

Members of Fashion Your Figure Club had their pictures and measurements taken Thursday evening when they met in Pontiac High School. These will be placed in a scrap book beneath pictures taken four months ago, so each member can compare them and see what progress they have made toward obtaining their ideal weight.

Mrs. Gerald Rose was winner of the weekly trophy and also the monthly prize which is given to the member who loses the most weight in a month's time.

St. Trinity Lutheran Church was the setting Saturday evening for the marriage of Evelyn Ann Ronhovde to Ronald William Manning. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Ronhovde of Avondale avenue and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Manning of Inverness avenue.

MRS. RONALD W. MANNING

Evelyn A. Ronhovde Wed in St. Trinity Church Rite

A waltz length gown of cotton venetian lace was worn by Evelyn Ann Ronhovde as she approached the altar of St. Trinity Lutheran Church Saturday evening to become the bride of Ronald William Manning.

The Rev. Ralph C. Claus performed the eight o'clock ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli, carnations and stock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Ronhovde of Avondale avenue and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Manning of Inverness avenue.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a long torso bodice and flared skirt. Her veil of French illusion was secured by a headpiece of lace over taffeta, embellished with pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Lowell Duzan was her sister's only attendant wearing a waltz length gown of aqua glazed sateen fashioned with long torso. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and carnations.

Jerry Webster served as best man and seating the guests were Mr. Duzan and Paul Bochnig.

For a reception held immediately following the ceremony at Rotunda Inn, Mrs. Ronhovde wore a navy dress with white accessories. Her corsage was composed of Hibbard roses and a white gardenia.

Mrs. Manning greeted the guests wearing a mauve dress with pink accessories and a corsage of red roses and a white gardenia.

When the couple left for their honeymoon the new Mrs. Manning was wearing a navy suit with matching accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will reside in Pontiac. The bridegroom is a student at the University of Detroit.

Thinks Woman-Type Fights Beat Men's Tactics in Setting World Straight

Mend Leak in Chimney Right Away

By HUBBARD COBB

A chimney, given the opportunity, can start leaking at almost any point and once it has started to leak, it won't be long before you'll notice a nice discolored looking stain appearing on the plaster over the chimney.

Before you spend a lot of time and energy refinishing the stained plaster, however, it's best to find the leak and plug it up.

The most obvious place to look for trouble is at the top of the chimney at the cap. The usual procedure is to cover the top of the brick or stone of the chimney with three or four inches of concrete and this is given a slight slope to it so that water falling on this surface will flow off quickly.

If there is no concrete cap or if the cap has cracked, water will seep down until it reaches the mortar joints between the brick or stone.

After that, unless the inside joints are very solid, it will just be a matter of time before the water has seeped down through the chimney and then reached one of the inside walls.

So, if the chimney has no cap, build a simple form around it and pour a concrete cap about four inches thick. Best to plug the flue up while you pour the concrete so there will be no chance of the concrete falling down the flue. After the cap is solid, the plug can be removed.

If there is a cap and the cap has cracked, fill the cracks either with caulking compound or cement mortar.

A chimney can leak at other points besides the cap, of course. If the mortar joints are not solid along the sides, a driving wind can force water through them and into the body of the chimney.

If You Have Good Idea, Consult a Patent Lawyer

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Many women who are working on ideas that might be money-making keep asking: "But how can I patent it?" And many others, who ignore this matter, find themselves, later on, in legal hot water, if not actually cheated out of the profits they might have had if they had patented their ideas.

Here are a few pointers on this important subject.

First, if at all possible, you ought to consult a patent lawyer. While it is possible to handle things yourself, it takes a great deal of time if you are to study up on the subject sufficiently well to do it effectively.

And if you do not do it effectively, you may end up losing far, far more than the amount of the legal fee.

However, if a legal fee is entirely out of the question, here are some ways in which you can study up on the subject:

Write the Commissioner of Patents, Commerce Building, Washington 25, D.C., and request three pamphlets, called "Patent Laws," "Rules of the Patent of the U. S. Patent Office" and "General Information Concerning Patents." Study them carefully, and follow the directions they give.

In most cases, you will learn it is necessary to draw a very detailed and accurate sketch of your invention or idea, with each important feature indicated. You must also write a very precise description of the idea, telling exactly what its use is, how it works, why it works better than other such objects on the market, and everything else about it which is necessary to make it perfectly clear and understandable to anyone reading it.

Then you need to have two people, unrelated to you, who will witness for you.

The official fees for filing a patent application vary, depending on how complex the description is, how many claims it makes, whether there will be photostatic copies, abstracts, and such. They tend to be in the neighborhood of thirty dollars, not counting the almost inevitable extras.

After you have read the three publications from the Patent Office, you'll probably feel that a lawyer is necessary and again let me urge you to consult one. If the idea is good, it deserves protection, even if you have to go without new clothes for a year of so!

Use Soap Alone

Do not combine a soap and a detergent in your washer. The sudsing action of the detergent will be destroyed by the action of the soap.

People are judged by the company they keep, and girls by how late they keep it.

So McBride Runs, and Not for Office

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

It might be a profitable experiment to turn the running of this turbulent old planet over to the females, not for keeps but for a little while. It could easily be managed, too, just the way the Junior Citizens annualy take over City Hall for a day or a week in many cities.

Everybody says what a good idea that is, and the real officials are benevolent and helpful.

I'd like us to hold this International Ladies' Day (or even better, Year) for the sole purpose of testing out a theory I have that going to war in all its forms, the masculine way of settling disagreements, is completely foreign to women.

If, as certainly appears, we can't immediately reconcile our national or regional differences around the council table, it would be a rest from tension to know that if we were going to have fights, they'd be woman-type.

When two men get into a really tough argument, the usual windup is that one gentleman invites the other to step outside and settle it with fists. But when two women get into an imbroglio, they almost invariably proceed to a nasty name-calling session that lasts until one of the participants run out of epithets, haughtily tosses her head and stomps off.

Then comes a period when the two cut each other dead, going to extravagent lengths to do it. Eventually this gets to be boring and inconvenient for both participants since neither gets invited to places where the other is to be—the feud makes bystanders nervous.

At length on some slight pretext the girls fall on each other's necks, have a cup of coffee together and thereafter—or until the next donnybrook—are best friends.

I submit that while woman's political world might not be as neat and tidy as man's, also (and homicide statistics back this up) it wouldn't be as lethal. No sane female, regardless of provocation, could coolly contemplate a step which would involve, among other things, needless destruction and suffering for children.

I don't deny that women would probably do some pretty giddy, unwise things if the world were turned over to them for any length of time, but at least they wouldn't commit the ultimate folly of deliberately negotiating themselves closer and closer to a chasm in which we'd all be bound to perish.

And don't brush me aside by calling me a feminist or hinting that I want a job in this experiment. I'd run a mile if anybody even suggested electing me to an office.

In fact, I've been taking sprinting lessons ever since an apparently serious poll of tourists passing through a cave in Missouri listed me as one of 10 female vice president possibilities.

And, if I hadn't known it was just a joke, I'd have gone at my sprinting practice harder than ever when somebody reported that disk jockey Jack Eigen of Chicago suggested me for president.

I toss through enough sleepless nights because of the mistakes I make in private life without adding anguished hours because of unwise official decisions.

But I know women who could take it—anxiety and all—and some of them would be willing to if they thought the interests of the country would be served. Is it too far-fetched just to try.

Parents Don't See Real Trouble

Urge Children to Expose Faults in Guise of Virtue

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

For his 10th birthday, Jerry's grandparents gave him a wrist watch. Several weeks later, he overwound it. His father offered to take it into town with him the next day to get it fixed.

But Jerry showed little appreciation of this kindness. Instead, he found so many anxious excuses to avoid accepting it that he offended his father. Angrily, his father said, "Keep your troubles to yourself after this!" Characterizing Jerry as "stubborn" and "ungrateful," he refused to speak to him for the rest of the evening.

And as countless children have done before him, Jerry guiltily imagined himself to be what his father said he was. Actually, he was just scared his father would neglect to reclaim his fixed watch from the jeweler.

For he well knew his parent's habit of failing to follow through on the favors he was always offering to do for people. He preferred a broken watch in his own possession to a mended one in the indefinite possession of some jeweler.

But of course he could not say so. He could not say, "Daddy, I don't want to give you my watch because I'm afraid it will be a long time before I see it again."

To live with his father, Jerry had long since learned that any such accusing knowledge was forbidden. Long ago, he had forfeited his own judgment of unreliability in his parent to imagine it to be the generosity his father judged it was.

So he could not contest his father's characterization of him. Even to himself he could not think, "Oh, no, I am not stubborn, daddy. You are mistaken. I am merely protecting myself against your unreliability."

It is the problam of childhood that it must surrender what it knows about us to what we imagine about ourselves.

It cannot be solved unless we can encourage Jerry to expose to us the faults we imagine are virtues. If he is not free to tell us that he thinks us unreliable, he is forced to believe the action that results from our unreliability is what's "bad." If he dares not accuse us of injustice, his rebellion against it will have to appear to be at fault.

To maintain us in our imaginary "goodness," Jerry assumes the burden of imaginary "badness."

That's why the first requisite of parenthood is self-respect. Without it, we cannot endure a child's accusation of our faults. Without it, we have to resolve all our conflicts with him like Jerry's father. We have to accuse him.

One Who Ruined Dress Must Offer Repayment

By EMILY POST

"Will you please tell me what to do in this very unfortunate situation which I find myself in? I borrowed an evening dress from a friend as I did not have one of my own and did not feel like going to the expense of buying one for this special occasion.

Before returning the dress to her I had it cleaned, and to my horror it shrunk. In fact it shrunk so badly that I don't think she will be able to wear it again. Shall I offer to pay her for it, or just what? I'm sick over it."

Answer: I think the very first thing to do is to go to the cleaners and tell them that the dress shrunk and ask if it can be stretched — some materials can be stretched and let us hope this is one of them.

If it cannot be stretched and it is much too small for her, the only thing to do is to tell her the truth and offer to buy her a new dress, but also tell her that the limit you could afford is so much. If she herself is well off she will probably refuse to take anything and accept her loss with grace.

Dear Mrs. Post: My employer is giving a business dinner for twenty-five out-of-town salesmen at his club. The men will be seated with place cards and I have been asked to make them out. Since the typewriter is used so generally today as a substitute for handwriting, may these cards be typewritten?

Answer: No, they should be written in your best — meaning clearest — handwriting.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered proper, in the case of a young man and woman who have been going together for the past year, for her to act as hostess on occasion and pay for the evening's entertainment?

Answer: To pay for anything in his presence might be embarrassing to him, but it would be entirely proper to buy tickets to something beforehand and ask him to go with you as your guest.

Corn Bread Dressed Up With Bacon

Mrs. Mert Jennings Adds Strips of Pork to Unbaked Batter

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

A hot bread is always welcome with a meal. Mrs. Mert Jennings shares with us her favorite way of making and fixing up corn bread. The bacon top is unusual.

Mrs. Jennings puts in several days each month helping her husband in his business. She knows and collects antiques; her lovely home is full of carefully chosen bits of antiquity. Reading and bridge are other pastimes she enjoys.

CORN BREAD
By Mrs. Mert Jennings

1 cup flour, sifted
3 tablespoons sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup yellow corn meal
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
Bacon strips

Sift dry ingredients together. Add beaten eggs and milk, then melted butter. Beat until smooth. Pour into a greased 8-inch shallow pan. Cover with bacon strips. Bake in a 400 degree oven for 20 minutes. Serve at once.

Boy 'Lives' Each Scene of Movies

Now He's Angry Because Girl Friend Was Embarrassed

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: My boy friend adores the movies and has a very dramatic turn of mind. Every time the picture is exciting he stands up and yells "look out, he has a gun" or something like that.

"When he's highly amused he roars out loud, stamps his feet and snorts. It's fantastic—but it's true. The other night at a very funny picture he carried on so that I was extremely embarrassed, so I moved to another seat. He was very hurt, and I suppose I shouldn't have done it, but honestly I could not stand any more.

"Now he won't speak to me in the halls at school, and though I know he'll go right on behaving that way in the movies, I wonder if I should apologize.

"What should I do? I don't want to lose him, for he's a very attractive boy otherwise, and I like him very much."

He sounds like the Saturday children's matinee type. The howling, stomping, throwing popcorn type. Very disconcerting indeed to a girl who likes to take her movie quietly, with consideration for the pleasure of those around her.

Enthusiastic and noisy dramatics from the boy friend can spoil the whole picture for a girl. His antics are disturbing — not only to her but to other people. They're a nuisance.

Small wonder you were so fed up you moved away from him. You didn't want anyone to think you two were together. You were ashamed of him, mortified by his manners.

He knows it, of course. Which is why he's giving you the silent treatment. He knows he offended you. He knows he should apologize. But he can't get up his courage.

So, why not make it a bit easier for him by making a gentle apology of your own? You could be sorry you took the whole thing so seriously. He could be sorry you were impatient.

You could admit that you were so uncomfortable you did the first thing that came into your head. Tell him you're glad he has a hearty sense of humor. Confess that it's usually infectious and that you are afraid of getting carried away with him yourself.

But go on gently to explain that you suspect he's been watching too much television. At home, in the privacy of his own living room, he can punctuate the entertainment as noisily as he wants without bothering too many people. But the movies are public — other people have paid their money and they want to enjoy the picture themselves.

Tell him you're sure he didn't mean to be inconsiderate, and you're sorry the whole thing happened. And can't you be friends again without letting this thing become too important?

If you can get him over being ashamed of himself, and make him laugh over the incident, you'll have things patched up.

Build Chemical Garden

Here is a garden which is different from most gardens. This one starts growing right away.

You will have lots of fun with this garden, for it is easy to make and will start growing in 15 minutes. You will need an old pie pan or a shallow pan for the holder. Ask Mother if she has one which she does not need any more. Now add three or four rocks, clinkers, or coal to the pan. These are for the crystals to grow on. In a bowl mix together 6 tablespoons each of liquid bluing, water, and table salt. Add one tablespoon of ammonia.

Mix well, then pour slowly over the coal. You will see some crystals start to grow very soon. Your garden will keep on growing as long as the liquid stays. If you want a little color, add a few drops of cake coloring to the coal. Set the pan where you can watch it daily.

This makes a good experiment for your school room. Perhaps you would like to tear Try It out for your teacher.

Educators Hit Enrollment Ban

Score Idea of Limiting Size of Colleges as "Nonsense"

CHICAGO (AP)—A panel of top American college educators assailed as "nonsense" and "rubbish" today the idea expressed by the president of Yale that colleges must keep enrollments down to prevent "dilution" of education.

The educators, here for the 10th National Conference on Higher Education, were asked by an Associated Press reporter to discuss college opportunities for young people. They centered their fire on Dr. A. Whitney Griswold, head of Yale, who in a Feb. 18 speech said he did not think Yale should let itself get any more than 10 per cent bigger.

President Francis H. Horn of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N.Y., "This is sheer nonsense unless you admit that Yale or Princeton already has a diluted form of education . . . I think they still have a highly selective group. The results of their people out in front of science and technology and the humanities proves it."

Other comment from the panel included:

George H. Hand, vice president of Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill. — I consider that (Griswold's) statement sheer rubbish.

Ronald B. Thompson, registrar, Ohio State University — A very few highly intellectual well-trained individuals can give the kind of leadership that America is going to have to have.

Chiang Eying Moves Toward Mobilization

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China, waiting to see where the Reds will strike next in the offshore island war, may soon return to a full wartime basis.

A Cabinet reshuffle to achieve that end is expected to be decided tomorrow at a meeting of the Central Committee of the Kuomintang, President Chiang Kai-shek's ruling party.

Chiang's Cabinet meets tonight to discuss the troubled financial situation. Means to stimulate exports and possible revision of foreign exchange regulations are expected to be discussed.

It is outwardly tranquil in Formosa, but there is no doubt that the abandonment of the Tachens and subsequently of Nanchishan has had a damaging effect on morale.

Ethel Levey, 72, Ex-Mrs. Cohan, Fatally Stricken

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Ethel Levey, former wife of the late song-and-dance man George M. Cohan and a performer in all his productions from 1901 to 1907, died of a heart attack yesterday. She was 72.

Miss Levey divorced Cohan in 1907 and in 1916 married British aviator Claude Grahame-White, a pioneer in development of British commercial aviation. In 1939 she divorced Grahame-White, who is now in London.

For the 15 years after she left Cohan, Miss Levey played mostly on the London stage. In 1922 she returned to New York in "Go Easy, Mabel." Later she turned to variety work and vaudeville.

She made comebacks in New York in 1941 with "Sunny River" and in 1945 in "Marinka." In 1950 she played in "Springboard to Nowhere" in Chicago.

Surviving is a daughter, Georgette Cohan. The funeral is scheduled for Thursday.

New Envoy Arrives

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Henry A. Byroade, 41, former Army general and assistant secretary of state, arrived yesterday as U.S. ambassador to Egypt. He succeeds Jefferson Caffery, who retired.

Hal Boyle Says:

There Is Plenty to Wonder About

NEW YORK (AP)—It's a wonderful world, and here are a few things in it to wonder about:

Why are women afraid of mice, when the average mouse can run at a speed of only about four miles an hour?

Since most men today prefer rubber heels, why do manufacturers still go on turning out so many shoes with leather heels?

Does everybody have a secret yearning to hold up a bank? If not, why do you always have a guilty feeling that the bank guard is keeping a careful eye on you as you sidle up to the teller's window to cash your paycheck?

What makes an otherwise sensible, middle-aged dog lift up his nose and howl at a full moon? Is he bugling from an inner hurt, crying for a lost time in the past when dogs had a more important place in the universe?

Who can explain the odd fact that, as a man's hair begins to thin on his scalp, he often grows more hair on his chest? Is he just the victim of a bunch of crazy, mixed-up follicles?

How come when you go to a guy's funeral you so seldom see his doctor present among the mourners?

What makes most men feel so vaguely depressed when they see their reflection in a three-way mirror in a clothing store? Is it because they are startled to find out how they really look to other people all the time?

Do porcupines actually find each other attractive, or do they marry in self-defense, realizing that nothing else on earth would put up with a porcupine except another porcupine? Would it work out if a porcupine and a skunk fell in love?

How long has it been since you heard a streetcleaner singing at his work? Or a banker?

What is the life expectancy of a mothball? And what happens to them anyway? Do they wear out, or just fade away? Is there any market in second-hand mothballs? Can you trade in old ones on new ones?

Why is it so many people want the rose named as America's national flower? Doesn't the simple homspun dandelion, the children's delight, have any supporters?

If a national organiztion were formed to discourage the custom of tipping, would the club motto be: "Show 'em no quarter?"

Where do some girls get the foolish idea that freckles aren't a feminine asset? How many conversationally dull women have husbands today merely because the guy of their choice was so preoccupied with counting their freckles during their dates that he never really heard the nonsense they were talking, and which might have frightened him away?

If science can solve the problem of filtering radioactive wastes from atom power plants, isn't there some hope it will also be able in time to separate those old movies from our television screens?

And while we're brooding on the prospects for a better world, why doesn't Congress help the common man by inventing a self-paying tax?

Wouldn't there be fewer crowded prisons if there were more traffic jams in churches?

In later life can you ever capture a rapture as fresh as the moment when, as a child, you caught a firefly for the first time in your cupped hands on a soft summer night?

In a wonderful world, you wonder.

Avalanche Kills 2

SITKA, Alaska (AP)—Two young brothers were buried when a 500-foot wall of snow plunged down Harbor Mountain yesterday. Bruce Moore, 13, and his brother Hans, 8, were dead when dug out.

Young Lobbyist Knows Ropes

U.M. Coed, 21, Pushing for Lower Voting Age in Lansing

LANSING (UP) — The lobbyist didn't offer a cigar, a drink or a free meal.

The smile and the persuasive voice—stock in trade for all lobbyists—were used with the air of a veteran.

But that's where the similarty between this lobbyist and other veteran bill-pushers at the capitol ended.

Twenty-one-year-old Dorothy Myers, of the University of Michigan, is a refreshing sight to state lawmakers, although many of them may not agree with the proposal she's been trying to sell for two years.

Dorothy wants the voting age in Michigan lowered to 18.

She's old enough to vote now, but she's still plugging for the proposal she started promoting as the Legislature's youngest lobbyist last year.

Dorothy is a good example of the growing interest of young people in politics and government.

She was born in Washington D. C., which may account, in part, for her enthusiasm for things political.

She's a political science major in college and when she graduates this year she plans to go to the school of political science in Paris.

She likes practical politics which she finds "neither disgusting nor dirty."

"More people should try it," she says. "They would find its more respectable than they think."

JUNIOR EDITORS

DICK BRUSHES HIS TEETH

You can help Dick keep his teeth white and healthy by showing him how to brush them. To prevent cavities, teeth should be brushed at least twice every day, and if you can, after every meal. Use a downward stroke for the top teeth. Brush the bottom teeth upward. Don't brush across the teeth, but up and down.

You can color Dick's face, hair and shirt and the back of the toothbrush as you wish. Paste this page on stiff paper and cut out Dick and his hand carefully along the dark lines. Fasten the hand and sleeve to the shoulder by putting a small fastener through the holes indicated by the arrows. Fold back the tab on the right along the dotted line and Dick will sit upright.

When you move Dick's hand, he will brush his teeth.

Jordan King to Wed Schoolteacher Cousin

AMMAN, Jordan (UP)—Jordan society buzzed happily today over the engagement of popular young King Hussein to his pretty schoolteacher cousin Dina. The match has been in the making for nearly two years.

The royal cabinet broadcast the announcement last night four hours after 19-year-old Hussein returned from Cairo. Black-eyed princess Dina Abdul Hamid, 25, the monarch's third cousin, teaches at the City University there.

Palace sources indicated the royal wedding would take place shortly after Hussein's visit to Pakistan next month.

Mail Collection Schedule Change in Effect Monday

New evening mail collection schedules to improve postal service here were announced today by Leslie H. Dean Sr., acting Pontiac postmaster.

Beginning today, two complete collections will be made from downtown boxes and building chutes between 5 and 6 p.m. Another collection, between 6 and 7:30 p.m., will include all city boxes except a few of the most lightly patronized, Dean said.

All letters and packages picked up in these collections will be processed in time for dispatching at 8 p.m. via truck to Detroit.

This schedule, the postmaster explained, will permit getting mail posted too late for the afternoon pickup on late trains out of Detroit. Important rail connections for many midwest points can be made in this way, Dean said.

A later collection, covering boxes on the main streets between 8 and 9:30 p.m., will be made to accomodate mail posted later in the evening. This will be dispatched at 10:00 p.m., Dean said, connecting with late night and early morning trains.

The postmaster advised patrons to check new collection schedule cards which were placed o nmail-boxes over the weekend.

Legislature Faces Welter of Constitutional Amendments

LANSING (AP)—This is constitutional amendment week in the Michigan Legislature.

With the deadline for placing amendments and public proposals on the April 4 ballot falling early this week, the legislature will return tonight to wade through a larger-than-usual list.

Top importance went to the plan for a 100 million dollar bond issue to help local school construction. This has passed the Senate and is due for a final vote in the House tonight.

The House also has before it the Senate-approved proposal for creation of a bipartisan Board of State Canvassers.

Over in the Senate, the chamber will consider an amendment to permit counties to combine in single probate court districts and another to allow Supreme Court and some lesser court judges to collect pay raises during their current terms of office, instead of waiting until their next term.

The house also will consider amendments to fix minimum qualifications for judges.

Legislation setting up machinery for payment of the Korean War veterans' bonus is expected to go to a House-Senate conference committee to iron out differences between the two chambers.

The Senate Highways Committee tonight will take up the so-called Peltz plan for highway expansion. It has passed the Republican-controlled House under a compromise agreement with Governor Williams, but the Senate has been hostile to it so far.

Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson), the chairman, said his committee probably would strike out the provision for an April 4 popular vote on tax increases included and would alter the House's distribution formula to keep more of the new tax revenue for the State's arterial system.

Nichols said there seemed to be no Senate sentiment for a referendum on the road tax increase, so that there would be no rush to make a decision before the ballot deadline.

The deadline has been shifted several times and was supposed to have fallen last Friday. But legislative leaders say they doubt whether the Department of State would hold a proposal off the ballot if it is passed by Tuesday.

The Senate also is considering a constitutional amendment to replace the elective auditor general with an appointive legislative auditor but seems in no rush to get it on the April ballot and probably will set it up for a public vote in the fall of 1956.

Seek to Halt Pain of Cancer

U-M Medical Scientists Devise Two Methods to Ease Suffering

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Two University of Michigan medical school scientists have undertaken the task of developing means of controlling pain for victims of incurable cancer.

They are concentrating on two methods: Cutting sensory and sympathetic nerves in afflicted areas, and using drugs to block nerves much as surgery does.

The scientists are Drs. L. W. Lewis and R. B. Sweet, anesthesiologists. They are working with support of the American Cancer Society.

The two described the situation this way:

"While uncontrollable pain is by no means a necessary consequence of cancer—some diseases bring more excruciating pain than cancer does—it still is a major problem for many who are beyond hope or cure.

"Other diseases eventually are cured or cure themselves and the pain disappears with them; in incurable cancer, pain sometimes becomes chronic and progressive."

One of the researchers' toughest problems is to measure pain. To bypass patients' "highly individualistic and subjective views" they have devised a cathode ray oscilloscope which, without actually being in contact with nerves, will show visually the sympathetic nerves' electrochemical reactions.

They also use a sort of electroencephalograph which makes a written record of the brain wave-like nerve electrical and chemical response to the pain reaction. These machines now are being used to show the efficacy of anti-pain measures.

One difficulty with cutting of nerves, the doctors reported, is that all the pain may not be destroyed, or the nerve service to useful and essential organs may be interrupted.

The most effective drugs, they said, are alcohol and phenol, injected into the nerves. But this method, too, has its dangers. The drug sometimes seeps into the nearby motor nerves and paralyzes organs and tissues which should remain functional.

The researchers said their studies show that set doses of narcotics for pain are inadvisable, that patients should be given them only when they need them.

Citizens Unit to Study Probation Procedures

The Oakland County Citizens League will hold a special meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Birmingham Community House to consider possible ways of improving probation procedures in the county, said Henry S. Booth, president.

Expected to be present are Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland, Chief Probation Officer Arthur P. McKenna, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors Floyd Andrews and Fred C. Bates, of the State Corrections Department.

Police Liberate Lad From Trunk of Auto

NEW YORK (UP) — Robert De Joanis wondered why police were trying to force the lock of his automobile trunk when he arrived after a shopping trip.

He discovered that his 11-year-old son, Eugene, had accidentally been locked in the compartment and that the boy's shouts had attracted a passerby who summoned police.

TO GIVE RECITAL—Vivian Scott, Pontiac pianist, is scheduled to give a recital March 20 in New York City's Town Hall. Currently studying in New York, the young artist is a graduate of Howard University.

Pontiac Pianist to Present Recital in New York City

Vivian Scott, Pontiac pianist, will present a recital on March 20 in Town Hall, New York City.

Her appearance is made possible by Jugg, Inc., which gives assistance to young talented artists. Miss Scott was named winner of the organization's seventh annual award in May, 1954.

The artist was graduated magna cum laude from Howard University, Birmingham, Ala., in 1946, where she studied with Hazel Harrison.

During the same year she was awarded a scholarship to the Juilliard School of Music where she studied with Rosina Lhevinne.

In 1952 she was the recipient of a John Hay Whitney Fellowship which enabled her to study in Europe. She is currently studying with Carl Friedberg in New York.

Pontiac has witnessed the young artist's talents on several occasions. Early in February of this year she was heard on radio during the commemoration of Negro History Week.

In 1951 she presented a recital sponsored by WSCS of St. John Methodist Church. New Bethel Baptist and Newman AME Church sponsored her in a recital in 1950.

She has presented concerts in Washington, D. C.; Williamsburg, Va.; Birmingham, Ala.; Berkeley, Calif., and New York City in addition to appearances on radio and television.

Miss Scott has been described as a "flawless stylist" by the Times-Herald in Washington and an artist with "rare and unusual ability" by the Michigan Chronicle, Detroit.

The recital offerings will include a Busoni transcription of a Bach organ prelude and fugue, Swanson's sonata, "The Cuckoo," Schumann's "Carnaval" and a group of Chopin etudes.

Polio Auction May Test Popularity of Ike, Soapy

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—Another March of Dimes auction next Thursday night may test the relative popularity of President Eisenhower and Gov. G. Mennen Williams in Mount Pleasant.

One of the governor's bow ties, a Williams trademark, drew $30 at a polio benefit auction Saturday night sponsored by radio station WCEN. The event raised about $1,000.

A feature offering of the Thursday auction will be three of President Eisenhower's golf balls.

Truman Hails Germans on Alliance With West

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman says he hopes approval of the Western alliance treaties by the West German Bundestag "will be a major contribution to the lasting peace of the world."

He told a reporter yesterday the Bundestag's action culminated steps which began during his administration while Dean Acheson was secretary of state.

"I'm very glad they did it," Truman said.

Conflict Shapes in Middle East

Turkey Regains Lead; Egypt Suffers Defeat in Blocking Pact

By UNITED PRESS

A new Middle East situation is shaping up between Turkey and Egypt as the result of the new Turkish-Iraqi defense treaty.

Turkey has regained the Middle Eastern leadership which it lost as the result of World War I.

Egypt, which had made a strong bid to take the leadership, has suffered a humiliating defeat in its attempt to block the Turkish-Iraqi pact.

The eight-nation Arab League, in which Egypt was the leader, has been seriously and perhaps partially weakened by Iraq's action in aligning itself with Turkey and thus with the Western powers.

Observers in Cairo now report that Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser may join Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru as a "neutralist."

It was reported also that Egypt might recognize Communist China. This, in a sense, would be a slap at the United States, which favors the Turkish-Iraqi treaty.

The Turkish team of President Celal Bayar, Premier Adnan Menderes and Foreign Minister Fuad Koprulu, of Turkey, has been exceedingly busy for some months.

Turkey had laid the basis for its cooperation with the Western allies when it joined the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in 1951.

Last April, Turkey signed an important mutual defense treaty with Pakistan. It extended the Western defense chain from Arctic Norway to the Himalaya Mountains. Iran was the one missing link.

Then, on August 9, Turkey signed a 20-year alliance with Greece and Yugoslavia. Greece is a fellow member of the N.A.T.O. organization. Yugoslavia is not, but Marshal Tito, its Communist president, is aligned with the West against Soviet aggression.

TROUBLE SPOTS—These 21 circled intersections are the target of a traffic survey crew which went to work this morning. Under the direction of Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel, the eight-man survey squad will determine the directional flow of vehicles and pedestrians at the corners. Results of the check will be used to help solve traffic tie-ups in downtown Pontiac, Vanderstempel says.

21 Congested Spots in Study

5-Week Check Planned as First Step Toward Solving Problems

As the first step toward solving downtown traffic problems, a series of vehicular and pedestrian checks at 21 mid-town intersections was started today.

Theodore M. Vanderstempel, new city traffic engineer, said the 5-week survey will be conducted in the area bounded by Mill on the east, Lafayette on the north, Cass and Bagley on the west and Auburn and Orchard Lake on the south.

An 8-man crew will note number and direction of autos, light trucks, heavy trucks and pedestrians from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Vandertempel said one of the focal points of the survey will be E. Huron and Mill Sts., where eastbound Huron narrows.

"The whole section on Huron from Cass to Mill is bad because traffic is stagnated," Vanderstempel said. "And it is especially bad during the rush hours."

Another trouble spot the traffic expert listed was Perry street at the Sears parking lot. "Cars waiting to enter the lot block traffic," he said.

Vanderstempel said the remedy to downtown congestion will be formulated after the traffic count has been taken.

"First you have to determine the number of vehicles in each direction, turning movements and pedestrian actions, which affect turns," he said.

"One remedy may be more 1-way streets. Another may be elimination of some left hand turns. In other cases we might have a single left hand turn lane for both directions, similar to those on some Detroit streets."

After the downtown check is completed, the surveyors will move on to other projects.

Traffic will be traced outside the larger industrial plants.

To find how many cars follow Saginaw and Oakland streets on the Detroit-Flint route, crews will be stationed at each end of the city to jot down license numbers of out-of-county autos.

Other checks will be made at railroad crossings to determine the number of trains and autos per day.

Also to be determined is whether fast trains trip the warning devices at the same time that slow moving trains do.

"If the bells and lights come on too soon for a slow train, motorists are tempted to cross the tracks, and that is bad," Vanderstempel said.

These factors will help decide if guard gates should be installed at the crossings, he said.

Holland-born Vanderstempel, 57, is Pontiac's first traffic engineer. He came to the post last month from a similar position with the city of Chicago.

Married and the father of a widowed daughter, he lives with his wife, Margaret, and an 11-year-old grandson at 3441 Baldwin Ave.

For Mackinaw Industrialist

Build Two-Man Midget Sub to Hunt Sunken Treasure

MACKINAW CITY (AP)—A Mackinaw City industrialist is going treasure hunting in the Caribbean Sea this summer in an 18-foot plastic and steel hulled submarine.

The two-man craft, a veritable mighty mite among submarines, can dive to 600 feet and stay under water for 30 hours. It is equipped with a hydraulic arm able to lift two tons of material from the bottom of the sea.

With it, F. L. Coffman, president of the Algomah Instrument Co. here, hopes to recover some of the fabulous treasures that sank with pirate ships and Spanish galleons two centuries and more ago.

Coffman, who has been treasure hunting for 15 years, said the sub will allow him to inspect many locations, previously unreachable, where sunken gold reputedly lies.

The craft was built by a firm in Oklahoma City and will be shipped to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., June 1.

"It will be especially valuable to us because in the past we've been able to send divers to a depth of only 300 feet," Coffman said. "Besides that, once they hit bottom, they were able to stay only 15 minutes."

Coffman has located plenty of treasure sites he wants to explore. During the past 15 years he has investigated some 30,000 reports of hidden treasure. He has authenticated about 3,000 of these and from them he has sifted out 300 locations which he says are "top-notch."

Most are in and around the Caribbean Sea. At one spot, in the islands near Choctawhatchee Bay, facing Pensacola, Fla., he believes there is 76 million dollars in loot buried by the pirate Billy Bowlegs.

Another choice location is on Bamboo Banks, west of Long Key, Fla., where 14 Spanish galleons were sunk during a hurricane in 1715. Legend says they were loaded with 65 million dollars in gold and silver.

Coffman also has traced lost treasure to the southwest United States and off the coast of California.

His firm mainly is concerned with routine salvage operations. Currently it is recovering materials from two ships sunk in the Caribbean during World War II.

Coffman has recovered material from several sunken ships. Most of it has been armor, cutlasses and other relics.

T. M. VANDERSTEMPEL

City Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel today said he will recommend to City Manager Walter K. Willman that speed limits in front of schools be reduced to 15 m.p.h. "Most cities have that speed restriction in school zones and I've noticed it's way above that here," Vanderstempel said.

Eisenhower Farm Home Is Now Under Tight Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — For as long as President Eisenhower remains in office, tight security restrictions will be in effect at his new farm home on the Civil War battlefield at Gettysburg, Pa.

The place probably will be ready for occupancy by Easter or sooner, and already the house is getting some of the protection that goes with the presidency.

Uniformed guards from the Treasury Department — the agency whose Secret Service is charged with guarding the president—have been assigned to a round-the-clock watch to keep out any trespassers, as well as battlefield sightseers.

Tourists can get a look at the President's 189-acre farm from a scenic tower 1½ miles away.

Any of them with a good pair of binoculars might have been able to see the chief executive wandering around the grounds Friday. He and Mrs. Eisenhower spent five hours here en route to their lodge in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains for a weekend of rest. They returned to the White House late yesterday.

A half-mile-long lane leads to the house from a public highway, but a sign swinging from a heavy chain blocking the lane declares the farm private property closed to sightseers.

Another public highway about a mile off in another direction affords passers-by a good long-range view of the home, but that view may be closed off soon under landscaping plans for tree planting.

A photoelectric alert system will help tip off the Secret Service to any unauthorized movement about the property.

One enterprising light lunch merchant who has a place on the highway reportedly has been offering customers binoculars to take a look at the Eisenhower home while they munch sandwiches.

Children Will Greet Princess in Nassau

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Princess Margaret resumed her busy round of public appearances today after a carefree Sunday swim in the blue-green waters off nearby Rose Island.

The visiting princess' schedule today included a morning rally by some 10,000 schoolchildren in Clifford Park and a noon reception for the 30 reporters and cameramen who have covered her month's good will tour.

Winnie Gives Art to Canadian Official

Churchill presented the painting Saturday when Menzies visited him at Chartwell, the Churchill country home in Kent.

"He led me into the study where there are many of his paintings and told me to take the one I wanted," said Menzies. "I was thrilled, and after careful study I chose a study of a fishing smack, which the Prime Minister had painted at Marrakech, in Morocco."

Menzies attended the commonwealth prime ministers' conference here.

Expert Sees Defense as War Deterrent

Blessed with an important geographic advantage over the Soviet Union, the United States may well provide an effective deterrent to war by establishing a fool-proof electronic defense.

That's the optimistic belief of Brig. Gen. Thomas R. Phillips, U.S. Army-retired, long a student of changing aspects of modern war and now military writer for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Writing in the January issue of the Army Combat Forces Journal, General Phillips says the U.S. advantage in having friendly countries flanking the U.S.S.R. soon will have even more value.

"The importance of this advantage will increase as the two opposing forces approach a stalemate in air-atomic weapons — atomic and hydrogen bombs and the means to deliver them," he declares.

"When stalemate comes, the ability to foil the air-atomic offensive will be the great deterrent to an air-atomic blitz . . .

"If the would-be attacker knows that his attack will be heavily blunted by the other's defenses, while his own defenses are unable to do the same against retaliatory bombers, an effective defense becomes the real deterrent."

Phillips points out that U.S. aircraft can enter Russia's heartland at any point on a 14,000-mile border.

"This perimeter is so vast that it is impossible to set up either a complete defensive screen or a warning screen at or near the rim," he explains.

He says there is no Russian target more than 3,000 miles from U.S. bases in England, Turkey, Greenland and the South Pacific.

"The picture with reference to a Soviet attack on the United States is just the opposite," he says.

With the exception of one base, which he believes could quickly be knocked out, all Soviet bases are more than 3,000 miles from targets in the U.S.

"In addition," he says, "geography forces the Eurasian power to make its flights over thousands of miles of territory controlled by the U.S. or its allies . . ."

The only means of escaping detection is to fly long round-about dog-legs, which would increase already-great distances, he says.

Such an indirect flight to Chicago over the Arctic Circle and down through Canada would be 4,500 miles long, for example. And routes from eastern European Iron Curtain countries across the Atlantic are even longer, he says.

At that, any such Atlantic route would cross either Sweden or Norway or Germany and Scotland, giving us plenty of advance notice.

Because of these distance factors and the location of the friendly countries, the U.S. has but 1,800 miles of open bomber paths to guard, compared to Russia's 14,000 miles.

To provide protection for these 1,800 miles, Phillips supports the establishment of radar stations backed up by intercepter squadrons.

He sees little value in radar stations alone because of the "ghost" images he says they send forth, requiring interceptor investigation.

The far north Pine Tree Line of radar-aircraft defense is hailed by Phillips as "the most important distant warning project, next to the system covering the direct routes from the northeast and northwest."

Phillips says the need for improved radar and electriconally guided rockets and missiles which can't be thrown off the track by jamming devices is imperative to sound defense.

"As aircraft speeds continue to increase, the problem of interception becomes almost insoluble . . .

"When speeds do become so great that interceptor defense becomes impracticable, the United States will face an exceedingly difficult defense problem . . .

"Some time in the not distant future," he concludes, "our survival may depend upon solving defense problems which do not yet press upon us but which do loom on the dark horizon . . .

"The two most critical ones in air defense are improvement of guided missiles and radar.

"A few years hence, when the offensive power of the air-atomic combination is stalemated, an effective defense may become a great deterrent to war."

Bob Considine Says:

Male Hormone Comes Back to Broadway

NEW YORK (INS) — Don Ameche's performance in "Silk Stockings," the new Cole Porter musical inspired by Garbo's excellent "Ninotchka," restores the male hormone to Broadway.

Ameech company walks, talks and thinks like a man. When he sings you can hear him and understand him in the nickle seats. When he sits down, he sits like a man. When he kisses Hildegarde Neff (He's paid for that?) the lady must be grateful for several of her assets, including good strong teeth.

Our hero plays his role without even a drugstore slice of ham. He's a breath of fresh air on a scene frequently made pallid in recent years by a succession of fops, fauns and phonies. This zestful professional does for "Silk Stockings" what his friend Willies Mays did for the Giants.

Here are some sadistic statistics from the doorman of 60 Sutton Place South, N.Y.C., one of the world's most luxurious apartment houses:

Among the 36[illegible] families living there the doorman has counted 350 mink coats, 105 cadillacs (and 10 jaguars), 138 dogs . . . and 30 children.

Seaman Al Dereksen, New York, calls me on a recent tribute to the flying machine industry:

"Airmen did not originate inter-racial tolerance. On behalf of centuries of seamen I cannot believe you intended to insult us under charitable flag of Brotherhood Week.

"Airmen cannot take credit for the ancient law of the sea. The brotherhood of all races and creeds has been recognized by all customes of law and weather and rescue and mutual assistance since the days of the Phoenicians and this is part of history."

Uptown and onward with the commercial arts note:

A German boy named Morris Lowenstein arrived in New York from Elberfield, Germany, before the turn of the century. He opened a small shop in the lower Broadway area and became a cotton goods jobber. Come this Tuesday, 66 years later, the firm (net worth $75,000,000) moves its headquarters into its 22 story tower at B'way and 40th on the site of the old Empire Theater.

With fantastic mushrooming (15,000 employees, seven mills, the world's largest printing and finishing plant, etc) has come philanthropy. Leon Lowenstein, present board chairman, has worked and spent his money in charities of all racial and religious complexion, ranging from United Jewish Appeal to the clinic he installed in St. Vincent's Hospital.

Board chairman Lowenstein and company president Donald B. Tansill haven't forgotten the theater their building replaced. At 11:30 a.m. Tuesday they'll unveil a lobby plaque honoring the greats who trod those boards, a fabled list that includes all the Barrymores, Sarah Bernhardt, Maude Adams, Katharine Cornell, Helen Hayes, Jane Cowl, the Gish girls, John Drew, Basil Rathbone, etc. etc. etc.

Edna Wallace Hopper, who opened the theater in 1893, will be present at the dedication of the plaque! So will Shirley Booth, who closed it two years ago. So will Dorothy Stickney and Howard Lindsay whose immortal "Life With Father" was its longest hit. And so will the dean, John Golden, who wrote the words and music for the Empire's first musical — a half a century and more ago — and may take the afternoon off and write another hit.

Speech Will Launch Soo Centennial

SAULT STE. MARIE (UP) — Donald Potts, president of the Pittsburgh Steamship Co., a U. S. Steel Corp. subsidiary, will speak at the annual marine banquet here March 19 marking the official opening of the Soo Locks Centennial celebration.

More than 1,500 Great Lakes mariners are expected to be on hand to open the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the "billion dollar mile."

A special commemorative stamp will be issued by the Post Office Department this spring and an exposition is planned June 28-Sept. 3 in honor of 100 years of service by the locks.

Fans Demand Apology for Canceled Game

KUMAMOTO, Japan (UP) — Angry baseball fans refused to leave the ball park yesterday when rain cancelled a scheduled doubleheader. They demanded the players of both teams line up on the field and apologize for not playing the game.

Detroit Police Seeking Gunmen in 2 Holdups

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit police today sought four bandits who escaped with more than $6,000 in two separate holdups.

A pock-faced gunman escaped with more than $3,000 in a holdup at a Detroit supermarket Saturday night and three gunmen robbed a storeowner and five customers of about $3,095 later in the night.

The three gunmen got about $3,000 in cash and checks from the storeowner and about $95 from his customers.

Grand Rapids Pair Hurt on Italian Trip

PINEROLO, Italy (UP) — Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Mueller, of Grand Rapids were among six Americans and a Canadian injured yesterday in an automobile accident near Pinerolo.

Mueller, 32, is assistant manager of the Mueller Furniture Co. of Grand Rapids. He is the son of Frederick H. Mueller, general manager of the firm.

The senior Mueller also is a member of the Michigan State Board of Agriculture and president of the Furniture Mutual Insurance Co.

The son and his wife, Nancy, 33, suffered minor injuries in the crash.

U. S. Will Maintain Support of U. N.–Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says he is confident there will be no slackening of American support for the United Nations.

In a message read for him at the first annual conference of the American Assn. for the United Nations, Eisenhower said last night that American vision and leadership did much for the U.N. in its first 10 years.

"I am confident that this leadership, exercised through the government and through responsible private organizations, will sustain it no less in the years to come," he said.

Plan Removal of Truck From Collapsed Bridge

EATON RAPIDS (AP) — Police sought equipment today to remove a semi-trailer from the wreckage of a condemned bridge which collapsed Saturday under the truck's 17,000-pound onion load.

Driver Floyd Ellis, of Petersburg, Va., was uninjured but was arrested on a charge of entering a condemned bridge in a heavily loaded vehicle. The bridge, which crosses the Grand River, was condemned for heavy traffic 18 months ago.

Traffic now is routed across the river at another bridge two blocks away.

PLAY "BONANZAGRAM"

CREATED BY TWO OF THE NATION'S TOP CROSSWORD PUZZLE ORIGINATORS... WIN CASH... HAVE FUN!

"Bonanzagram" is a new kind of puzzle contest. It's not only fun—but profitable, too!

A prize of $100 will be paid for the correct solution to the first puzzle which will appear in the Pontiac Press, Monday, March 7. If there is no winning solution to the first puzzle, the second puzzle will be worth $200, and each succeeding puzzle will be worth an extra $100 until there is a winner. In event of ties, prize will be split.

Playing "Bonanzagram" is simple. The puzzle consists of a message from which certain key letters have been omitted. Accompanying the puzzle is a short, paragraph-long "story" or anecdote.

To arrive at the correct solution for the puzzle, you must analyze the clues contained in both the puzzle and the "story." When you have done this, you fill in the blank spaces in the puzzle. Proper punctuation by the contestant is important. When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out the correct message which will conform to the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. It won't be, but that's part of the fun.

District Cage Tests Open Tuesday in PHS

The frantic bid of high school basketball teams for post-season glory begins this week as prep cagers culminate another season with the tournament elimination play that leads to state championships, March 19.

Class A schools are exempt from district tourney activity, but lower class schools get started at once. There are four district tourney sites in Oakland County, and county schools are involved in three other districts.

Opening night acion is confined to Pontiac High School's Class B tourney Tuesday night, but action is also slated at Troy, Brighton and Van Dyke on Wednesday. Ortonville and Bentley districts start Thursday and Walled Lake joins the parade on Friday.

District champions will be crowned Saturday night and the survivors enter regional tournament play next week, along with Class A schools.

What is expected to be a wide-open scramble for honors at Pontiac begins at 7 p.m. Tuesday night as Clarkston and Rochester meet. The nightcap at 8:15 matches Oxford and Romeo.

Pontiac is not the only tournament lacking a clear-cut favorite. In fact, only at Brighton are solid choices entered.

High - scoring Milford clearly rates the nod over Brighton, Howell and Fenton in Class B, and in Class C South Lyon is the only one of four teams listed that has a winning record.

At Pontiac, Clarkston, Rochester and Oxford must be rated on nearly an even basis, with Oxford enjoying a supposedly softer bracket. Lake Orion, Avondale and Romeo will be out to do some upsetting.

Walled Lake, playing on its home court, rules a slight favorite in its Class B event, but Orchard Lake St. Mary sports a fine record and Northville has been an improved team of late. Holly rounds out the field.

At Ortonville, Imlay City rates only a slight pick over Almont with the host team a threat on its home floor, despite its dismal record.

The advance picture for Troy's Class B test has changed considerably in the past week. Utica was a solid selection after winning 12 straight games, but losses in 2 of its last three games have cooled off the Chieftains.

Meanwhile, Troy, which also has the home gym advantage, wound up the season with a 5-game winning streak and 9 victories in its last 10 games. These rivals could well settle the district title on the 1st night (Wednesday).

It promises to be a duel between Utica's sophomore star, Lou Haase, and Troy's Jack Acton, who closed the regular season by dumping in 46 points against hapless Clawson.

Only Clarenceville is written off as a title threat at Bentley, where the hosts also are joined by Farmington and Redford Union. At Van Dyke, Shrine, the Catholic League champion, runs into a toughie in Detroit Lutheran.

Following Tuesday night's Class B games at Pontiac, the four-team Class C tourney gets under way Wednesday with West Bloomfield meeting St. Fred's and Armada facing St. Mikes.

North Side Shamrocks have the top record in the field (13-2), but the Keego Harbor team has won 10 straight district championships and will be striving to protect that record in its final tournament as a Class C school.

Iowa, Gophers Collide

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Historic rivals Minnesota and Iowa battle tonight for the Big Ten championship that for years has eluded both, before perhaps the largest crowd ever to watch a basketball game in a college arena.

Between 18,500 and 19,000 spectators will cram huge Williams Arena for the climactic game which finds Minnesota a shaky favorite because of the home court edge but Iowa stoutly supported after a string of decisive victories while the Gophers were wobbling.

The teams are tied for the conference lead with 10-2 records. Both have one game remaining after tonight's battle. The winner tonight automatically earns a share of the championship and will be the overwhelming favorite to take the whole thing.

Minnesota, reeling though winning during the last three weeks while Iowa was rollicking, is in pursuit of its first league title in 18 years and its first outright championship since 1919. Iowa has not won since 1945.

The attendance may top the record 18,872 set here last year in the Minnesota-Indiana game at the Arena, the nation's largest college indoor athletic plant.

Coaches Ozzie Cowles of Minnesota and Bucky O'Connor of Iowa agreed the teams are virtually dead even. Minnesota nipped the Hawks 81-80 at Iowa City early in the season in what O'Connor said was one of Iowa's less creditable games.

The teams are opposites temperamentally. Iowa is a dynamic, team capable of sustained brilliance when its offense is jelling. Minnesota has a solid attack, focused on the outside shooting of Dick Garmaker and Chuck Mencel and the pivot shots of 6-10½ Bill Simonovich. Its versatility and poise have carried it past a series of critical moments in the last few weeks.

Iowa has better balance with first stringers Carl Cain, Deacon Davis, Bill Logan, Bill Seaberg and Sharm Scheruerman and reserves like Bill Schoof, Bob George and Roy Johnson.

But Cowles discounts Iowa's superior bench as a major factor in tonight's game. "We might have the edge on defense and they on offense," he said. "But the team which happens to be hitting better should win."

Souchak Bags Second Straight Tourney on Winter Tour With 273 at Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Mike Souchak, after winning $8,500 in 11 days, headed for Baton Rouge, La., today to try to run his winter golf tour victory string to three tournaments.

The muscular Souchak used a seven-under-par 65 fourth round Sunday to pocket the tour's richest prize, $6,000 in top money in the $30,000 Houston Open. Just a week earlier he won $2,500 that went with the Texas Open title in San Antonio.

The former Duke University football star moves into Baton Rouge as the year's second leading money winner, his $10,003.33 just $37.34 behind Gene Littler, the young Californian who won the Los Angeles and Phoenix Opens.

Sunday's performance enabled the 210-pound Souchak to win with a 72-hole 273 — 15 under par for the 7,200-yard, par-72 Memorial Park course. His 65 and early rounds of 70, 71 and 67 left him two strokes ahead of little Jerry Barber — a 140-pounder from Los Angeles.

Barber, with 70-71-63-71—275, won $3,500 and jumped from ninth to fourth place among the year's money winners at $5,786.25.

Souchak won in the rain and cold in San Antonio. He won here on a dry, hot, windy course. For the first time in the history of the Houston Open there was no rain.

Barber began the final round leading Jululus Boros, the former National Open champion from Mid Pines, N.C., by one stroke. Four strokes back were Souchak, John Barnum, Grand Rapid, Mich., and Buster Cupit, West Monroe, La.

At the end of 63 holes, Souchak, with a three-under-par 33 on the front nine, had drawn even with Boros for the lead. Boros had taken a 36 and Barber had jumped to a 38.

Barber recovered on the back nine to finish with a 71 but Souchak already was in complete control. A 20-foot birdie putt on the 10th green put him in the lead to stay. He added additional birdie putts of 5, 5 and 10 feet on 13, 16 and 17 and narrowly missed another from 20 feet on 18.

The winning 273 set a record at Memorial, where four of five previous tournaments were won at 277. In 1953 Cary Middlecoff won a playoff after ending 72-holes in a five-way tie at 283.

Unsigned Stars Pose Problem for Greenberg

One-Fourth of Loop Champs' Workmen on Outside of Fold

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Someone is being unreasonable, and I don't think it's me," General Manager Hank Greenberg said as his Cleveland Indians headed for Tucson Monday with one-fourth of the club roster still unsigned to 1955 contracts.

High Henry is concerned primarily about three stars who will become holdouts unless they come to terms before the first practice session Tuesday morning. The odds are that all three — pitcher Early Wynn, second baseman Bob Avila and center fielder Larry Doby — won't be in uniform in Arizona for a while.

Greenberg talked to the trio by telephone over the weekend, and he flies to Tucson Monday still wondering how soon he will meet them there.

Wynn is almost sure fire to be a holdout for the fourth straight year and was the last player to sign last year. Avila never has signed before start of spring training and has been a holdout for three years running. Doby was the first player to sign last season, but held out in the two previous years.

"I would feel that I was being unfair if it were not for the fact that these same players are the last ones to sign every year," Greenberg said. "It seems to me it is more than mere coincidence.

"I have never had this trouble with Feller or Lemon or Rosen. We have always been able to sit down and talk the matter out intelligently, but I can't say the same for Wynn, Avila and Doby."

Avila, who won the American League batting championship with a .341 average last season spent several days here in conference with Greenberg a few weeks ago. At that time Avila said he and the general manager were close to agreement on pay at around $30,000.

Wynn was cut after winning 17 games in 1953 and bounced back with 23 victories last year. He is believed to be after the biggest raise. While Greenberg and the Tribe front office never discuss salary figures for the public prints the report is that burly Early intends of stay fishing and boating near his Florida home until he's offered about $40,000.

Doby, it is estimated, wants a $5,000 boost to $30,000. He led the league in homers and slugging last season.

The other seven unsigned Indians are outfielders Dave Philley and Wally Westlake; pitchers Bob Hooper, Bill Wight and Hank Aguirre; catcher Hank Foiles and infielder Rudy Regalado.

Three Leagues Should Settle Cage Crowns

Colorado, Kentucky 5s Favored; Big 10 Title Also at Stake

The Associated Press

Tonight is the time of decision for three major conference basketball races.

The Big Ten, Big Seven and Southeastern Conference races all could be decided unless some unforseen disaster lurks around the corner later in the week.

In the Big Ten, Minnesota, a rags-to-riches teams, faces Iowa at Minneapolis. They are tied for the lead, each with 10-2 marks and the game rates a toss-up.

The key game in the Big Seven race is Colorado (9-1) at Missouri (8-2). Colorado is favored.

Kentucky goes against Alabama in the Southeastern Conference. Both have 10-2 records. The Wildcats are on their home court in Lexington, where they are virtually unbeaten.

All six teams each have one more game to play Saturday night, none figured to cause any trouble.

These races are all fairly clear, but the Ivy League could make the NCAA bigwigs reach for the aspirin. It's possible that the Ivies will be playing right into the first NCAA date. Penn, which is leading with 10-3, could stop all the confusion if it whips Princeton Saturday. A victory would give the Quakers the title outright.

But . . .

If Princeton (8-3) beats Penn and Brown, and Columbia (8-4) stops Princeton and Brown, a three-way tie comes about.

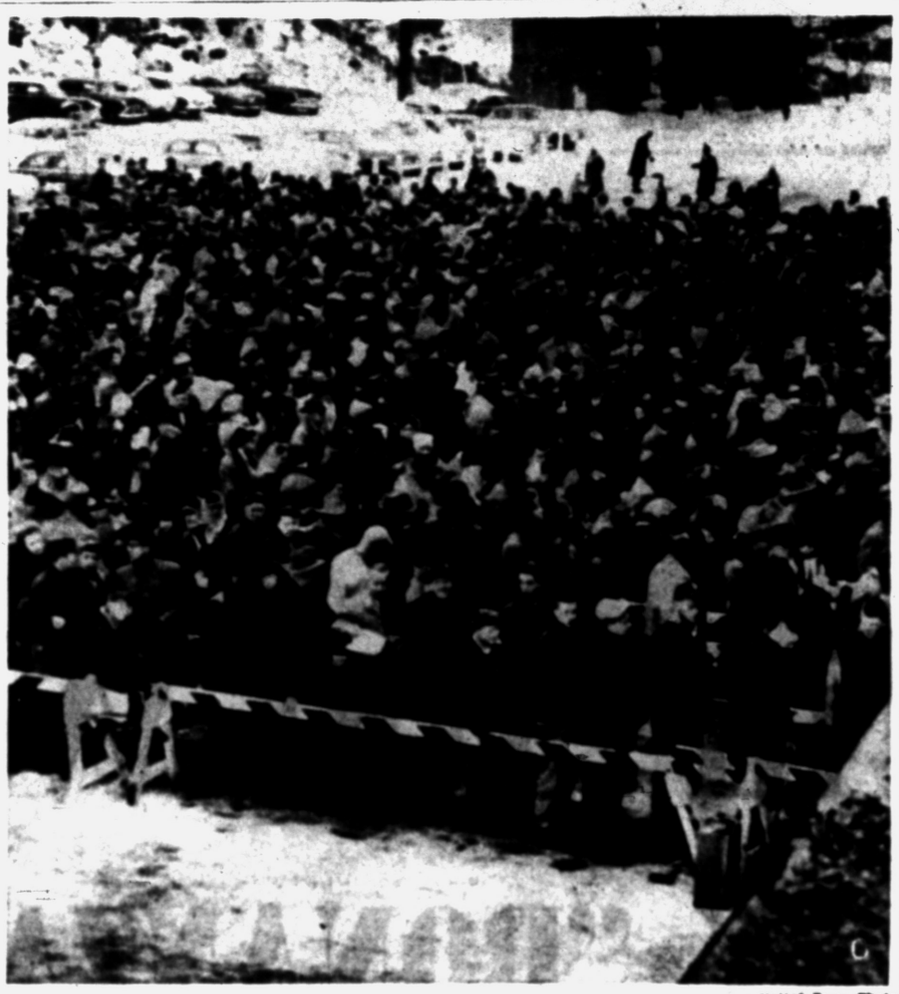

But until things are settled mathematically, the NCAA tournament still needs five teams for the Eastern section and seven in the Western division.

Two Western "at-large" teams are expected to be announced today, incidentally.

Eight teams are in the Eastern Draw—LaSalle (Mid-Atlantic representative and the defending champion), Williams (New England representative), Miami of Ohio (which won the Mid-American Conference title Saturday night when Marshall lost to Western Reserve), Canisius, Villanova, Marquette, Penn State and Memphis State, all at-large clubs.

The Southern and Atlantic Coast Conferences both will be decided by postseason league tournaments this week. West Virginia won the regular-season Southern title and so rules the favorite. North Carolina State took the ACC crown, but is prohibited from playing in the NCAA this year because of rules infractions. If State wins the tournament, the second-place team gets the berth.

Wardrop Paces UM Tankers in Great Victory

Scotsman Breaks World Record as Wolverines Beat OSU, 47-46

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Jack Wardrop pulled himself from the University of Michigan swimming pool, grabbed his twin brother Bert and danced a short but jubilant jib.

The young freestyle artist from Motherswell, Scotland, had just beaten Ohio State's Ford Konno, and bettered Konno's world, American and intercollegiate record in the 220-yard freestyle.

Ohio State's coach Mike Peppe said after Saturday's meet that Wardrop's effort was "terrific." And he took his swimming team home, beaten by a narrow 47-46 score.

Wardrop's new record time for the freestyle event was 2:03.9, eight-tenths of a second better than Konno's old mark.

But Peppe said that Michigan's victory was based on unexpected 2nd places in the 50-yard freestyle and the diving events. "It was one of the greatest meets I've ever seen," he said.

Each team had four individual victories, and each had a relay victory to its credit.

Peppe said his star, Al Wiggins, is one of the "greatest swimmers in the world today," after Wiggins had bettered his own record time in the 150-yard individual medley by a full second. His time was 1:25.2 as he bested Michigan Captain "Bumpy" Jones of Pontiac.

Red Run Manager Dies

John J. Pomeroy, manager of Red Run Golf Club, died Sunday following a heart attack at the club. He moved to Red Run Jan. 1, 1928, serving as manager since.

Surving are his widow, Frances, a son, John Jr., daughter, Mrs. Herbert Heagerty, a sister, Mrs. E. D. Robinson, of Wallingford, Conn., and two brothers, William and Warren, both of California.

Sparrow Sets Another Record, but UD Loses

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

University of Detroit's battered basketball forces bowed for the 9th straight time Saturday night, but Pontiac's Guy Sparrow added another record to his huge collection.

Sparrow bagged 25 points, raising his season total to 550. This bettered by a single point the single-season UD record the Pontiac senior had established in his junior year.

The Titans' were victimized Saturday by Wichita, 83-77, with Wheatshocker star Cleo Littleton scoring 27 points. Detroit plays Wayne Tuesday night in the UD Memorial Building and closes the season Saturday against Western Ontario.

4 Games Listed for City Cagers' Series Openers

A-B Fives Start Play for State, Inter-City Tourney Berths

City Basketball League Class A and B playoffs open tonight at Pontiac High School and Jefferson Junior High gymnasiums as eight Pontiac recreation fives seek spots in two state tournaments.

The four members of the Class A City League will play off for Pontiac's berth in the Michigan Recreation Association tourney. Four Class B teams will bid for a place in the Inter-City test at Highland Park, March 16-18.

Two games are slated at each gymnasium tonight. In Class A at Pontiac High, Clarkston meets Nomads at 7 p.m. and at 8:30, regular season champion Shaw's Jewelers meets Chuck's Shack.

In Class B at Jefferson, General Motors faces Boys Club at 7 o'clock. In the 8:30 contest, unbeaten regular season leader Griff's Grill tangles with Davis Machinery.

Second-round games are Tuesday and Wednesday on the Jefferson court and the playoffs will continue next week. Winners of the semi-final series in each class will play a best-of-three championship set March 8-9 and the 14th, if necessary.

Waterford Playoffs Resume Action Today

Playoff action in the Waterford Township Basketball League resumes tonight with loser's of the four 1st round games meeting at Crary Junior High School.

In the 1st game at 7:30 p.m., Philgas tangles with Manny's Ringside. Waterford Merchants and Beattie Motors collide in the nightcap at 8:50. Losers of these games are eliminated from the 2-game knockout event.

Winner's bracket games involving Drayton Drug, Poole Lumber, Johnson - Anderson and Harry's Recreation are scheduled Wednesday, March 2.

Top 2 Teams Bounced in Elks Pin Tourney

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Six changes, including the first two places in the team standings, were made in the standings of the Michigan Elks bowling tournament during its 6th weekend.

Pfeiffers' of Hillsdale rolled into the team lead with an actual total of 2770. Close behind was Cloverdale Dairy Farms of Plymouth with 2767.

A 351 pin handicap boosted Tarry House of Grand Rapids into first place in the handicap team event. The team rolled 2703 actual for a 3054 handicap total.

England Wins Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — England still holds the Wolfe-Noel Cup today as a result of walloping the United States 4-1 in the 11th renewal of the International Women's Squash Racquets matches.

3 Winners Saturday in Elimination Tests

Sandy MacAbbe and Glenn Rabbeau took Class A honors in the 4th series of elimination races at Rolladium skating rink. All Saturday's eliminations were skated in juvenile classes.

In Class B Karen Gullet and Michael Ockerby were the victors. Lynn Kay Clark and Art Rouse took top spots in the Class C races.

23 Hurlers on Hand

Pitchers Galore Await Bucky in Tigers' Camp

LAKELAND, Fla. (INS) — Detroit Tiger manager Bucky Harris has a unique problem to face when spring training drills open in Lakeland tomorrow.

With 23 pitchers on his 45-playe squad, Harris has the largest number of flingers a Tiger manager has handled in years. Of the 23, eight finished the 1954 campaign with the 5th-place Detroiters.

Three apparent mainstays should be Steve Gromek (18-16), Ned Garver (14-11), and southpaw Billy Hoeft, who signs in with an unimpressive 7-17 record for 1954.

Among the rookie prospects, Frank Lary, who won 15 games at Buffalo last year, is said to be ready to face major league batters.

The other top farmhand is 26-year-old Duane (Duke) Maas, of Utica, Mich., who won 18 and dropped seven last season with Wilkes-Barre and Buffalo.

Returning from last year are Al Aber, Ray Herbert, Dick Marlowe, Bob Miller and George Zuverink. These hurlers are expected to have no trouble in retaining jobs with the Bengals; Miller is a bonus player and must stay with Detroit.

Michigan Drops in Big Ten Race

Loses to Iowa, 96-84, Meets Illinois-MSC in Season's Final Week

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Michigan plays Illinois tonight and then meets Michigan State in another nationally-televised game Saturday to wind up its Big Ten basketball season.

The Wolverines dropped to 4-7 in the league standings Saturday night after a 96-84 beating by Iowa.

Michigan fell behind, 24-12 midway in the 1st half and was lagging 52-29 at halftime.

Iowa commanded a 24-point lead early in the last half but Michigan, led by Tom Jorgenson's 12 second period points, moved to within 89-79 with less than three minutes remaining. That was the closest the Wolverines got to the Hawkeyes for the rest of the game.

An Oakland County man has been assigned the job of handling one of the newest imports along the dog show line. Stewart Bryant, veteran handler, will exhibit Harald von Schlehenbusch, one of Germany's top show animals, at the Detroit Kennel Club show in State Fair Coliseum, March 5-6.

The fine Shepherd is now owned by Jerry Kulaga of Grosse Pointe Woods and is valued at about $2,700 Bryant says.

'Gift' Kitten Is Hit of Show

'La-Otan' Wins Three Ribbons in Weekend Detroit Exhibition

A very fluffy juvenile yesterday emerged from its 1st trip to a big show with three unexpected honors. When Christmas-gift "La-Otan Foxine", a 3-months old Siamese female cat, was entered in the Detroit Persian and Windsor Solid Color Cat Show in Ft Wayne Hotel, its owner, Mrs. Oliver Lemaux, didn't remotely think of her pet as a champion.

But when the judging was over the chocolate-point Foxine had walked off with her class title, also best of opposite sex among Siamese kittens and received a rosette for best of color kitten.

"She was the hit of the show, and the baby of the show," the proud and surprised owner reported today." We never thought for a minute she was that good." The kitten was a Yule gift from Pontiac Police Department officer Oliver (Red) Lemaux.

The last National League player to hit .400 was Bill Terry of the Giants in 1930. He hit .401.

Heavies Baker and Layne Tangle in TV Attraction

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Baker and Rex Layne, once regarded on the same level with Rocky Marciano as heavyweight prospects, meet tonight, many years later, at Eastern Parkway Arena in Brooklyn.

By winning seven straight since he was stopped by Archie Moore at Miami last March, Baker has edged into fourth place among Marciano's contenders. The hulking Pittsburgh Negro was first derailed by Clarence Henry in '51. A knockout by Bob Satterfield in '53 and another by Moore last year left him way back among the also rans.

Baker's victims last year were Joe Baksi, Embrel Davidson, Toxie Hall, Jimmy Slade and Coley Wallace (twice). Appearing as a sub, Feb. 9 at Baltimore, he knocked out Willie James.

Layne, 27, two years younger than Baker, seemed definitely washed up when he was stopped by Hurricane Jackson, Jan. 25, 1954. However he now is unbeaten in his last eight, with one draw against Heinz Neuhaus in Germany. He is No. 7 in a mediocre division.

The 10-round match will be carried on ABC-TV.

Ski Jumpers Representing U. S. Are Youngest, Best

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP)—The youngest U.S. Olympic ski jumping team ever assembled will challenge the world's greatest riders in the 1956 winter games at Cortina, Italy.

Not only is the six-man squad, named after completion of Olympic tryouts at Pine Mountain Sunday, the youngest but it is heralded by officials as the best this country ever has mustered to try to dent the monopoly of the poised, experienced Scandinavians.

For the first time, teenagers broke the hold of the veterans in the United States, three of them winning berths. They are Rudy Maki, 19, national champion from Ishpeming, Mich.; Dick Rahoi, 19, 1953 national Class C titlist from Iron Mountain, and Ragnar Uland, 17, 1955 Class C champion from Seattle and the youngest rider ever to win a U.S. Olympic spot.

Only a few years older are two more members, Roy Sherwood, 22, 1954 national champion from Salisbury, Conn., who is planning to have a leg operation to correct an old injury from a spill, and Bill Olson, 25, University of Denver.

Olson, bespectacled student in accounting, was a repeater from the 1952 Olympic team.

The sixth member of the 1956 squad is veteran Art Devlin, 32-year-old motel operator at Lake Placid, N.Y. Art, competing with a fractured wrist suffered in a fall during the 1955 nationals at Leavenworth, Wash., early this month became the third jumper ever to win a place for the third straight time.

He matched the feat of Walter Bietila, one of the famous Ishpeming brothers and Sverre Fredheim of St. Paul. Both did it in 1936, 1940 and 1948.

Maki led the field of 41 in the tryouts which started Friday, were postponed by high headwinds Saturday and were completed Sunday in a blowing powdery snow before an estimated crowd of 31,000.

The 170-pound sensation who works as an iron mine maintenance mechanic compiled 543.9 points on his best five out of six jumps.

His longest on the kingsized slide was 300 feet, standing, which broke the hill record by three and was the longest official leap ever recorded east of the Rockies.

Pontiac YMCA Swimming Teams Defeat Bay City

Pontiac's YMCA swimming teams swept two meets from Bay City Saturday in the Pontiac pool. The Jnior team (13 and 14-year-olds) drubbed the up-staters, 45-12, while the Preps (9-12) were 33-15 winners.

Charles Redenius paced the Junior victory with first in the 40-yard free style and 60-yard individual medley. Vernon Joseph was first in the back stroke as well as 2nd in the free style.

Roy White won the diving, Gideon Robarge was 2nd in both diving and breast stroke, while Dennis Roberts added a 2nd in the individual medley. Pontiac won both relays.

In the prep meet, Pontaic and Bay City shared firsts in four events, but Pontiac was victorious in both relays. Ed Kummert and Bob Newman were 1-2 in the back stroke, and Dick Richards won the diving.

In the free style, Mike Harrington and Kummert were 2-3, and Pontiac got a 2nd from Bruce Norvell in the breast stroke.

Training Attention Focuses on Turley Deal

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The opening of spring training Tuesday marks the beginning of a new career for some 50 players who were involved in one of the wildest trading sprees in many years following the close of the 1954 season.

Under close scrutiny undoubtedly will be pitchers Bob Turley and Don Larsen and shortstop Billy Hunter who came to the Yankees from Baltimore last November in a gigantic transaction involving a record 18 players. Equal attention will be focused on outfielder Gene Woodling, catcher Hal Smith, first baseman Gus Triandos, shortstop Willie Miranda and pitchers Harry Byrd and Jim McDonald, who were among those shipped by the Yankees to the Orioles.

How well Turley and Larsen perform on the mound for the Yankees may be a deciding factor in their efforts to regain the American League championship from Cleveland. Manager Paul Richards in the process of rebuilding the seventh place Orioles, is counting heavily on such as Woodling, Smith, Byrd and McDonald to give Baltimore a first division finish.

The Tigers believe they have solved their first base problems by acquiring Ferris Fain from the White Sox. Leo Cristante, a 24-game winner at Atlanta and utilityman Jackie Phillips, the Pacific Coast League's most valuable player, also came along in the deal.

Ralph Kiner's progress in Cleveland's Tucson, Ariz., training camp will be followed with a great deal of interest. If the former National League slugger can regain his home run punch, the Indians' drive for their second straight pennant will be eased considerably. Also on the Indians' roster is Eddie Joost, the veteran shortstop who lost out as manager of the Athletics when the Philadelphia franchise was shifted to Kansas City.

Pitcher Sam Jones and outfielder Gale Wade, the pawns in the deal that sent Kiner to Cleveland, hope to finally make the major league grade with the Chicago Cubs. Jones, the biggest winner in Puerto Rico this winter, is counted on as a starter by Manager Stan Hack. The Cubs also have southpaw Harry Perkowski and outfielders Jim Bolger and Elvin Tappe, acquired from the Reds for pitchers Johnny Klippstein and Jim Willis.

Paul LaPalme, a lefthanded knuckleballer who won only four games at Pittsburgh, will try to win a berth with the Cardinals. The Cards sent righthander Ben Wade to the Pirates for LaPalme in a minor swap.

Americans Still in Title Race

BONN, Germany (AP)—The United States, suddenly back in the thick of the fight for the title, took on Switzerland today in the world ice hockey championships.

The Americans, who whipped Germany, 6-3 Sunday, now sport a record of two victories and one defeat. They are tied for third place, behind Russia and Canada, with Sweden, which sailed past Switzerland, 10-0.

Russia, the defending champion, and Canada, were deadlocked for first, each with a clean 3-0 slate. Both the Russians and the Canadians recorded shutout victories Sunday. Russia polished off Czechoslovakia, 4-0, while Canada was mowing down Poland, 8-0.

Gola, Stokes Join East Squad for Annual Game

NEW YORK (AP)—LaSalle's magnificent Tom Gola and Maurice Stokes of St.Francis of Loretto, Pa., today were added to the East team for the ninth annual East-West college basketball game sponsored by the New York Herald-Tribune at Madison Square Garden March 26.

Gola, the 6-7 two-time All-America, and Stokes, 6-6 keyman of St. Francis, join Duquesne's Dick Ricketts and Fordham's Ed Conlin on the 10-man East squad.

Ohio Entries Win 2 Stakes in Field Trial

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Walter B. Kleeman of Springfield, Ohio, came up with two winners in the four stakes at the Illinois Regional Brittany Club Field Trial here Sunday.

His Chic de Klemanor took the puppy stake and his Tigre de Klemanor won the amateur all-age event.

Jameson Wins Sarasota Open

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Betty Jameson whipped an old jinx and played some of the best golf of her career to win her first medal play tournament in two years.

In winning the Sarasota Women's Open Golf Tourney Sunday, Miss Jameson, who lives at San Antonio, Texas, gained first place honors for the first time since winning the 1953 Miami Beach Open.

She shot a 285 for the 72 holes on the 6,282-yard Bobby Jones course and topped Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., by two strokes.

From 1949-1953 there were 29 fatal boxing accidents in the U.S.

Waterford Hi-Y took 2nd place in the National division, and Greek Orthodox stayed in first place of the Junior High set.

Central Methodist defeated Central Christian, 61-24, with Art Larson and Dick Bromm each getting 16 points. Bill Tyson collected 12 points as Nonamaker's downed First Baptist, 36-19. Bill Wright had 10 points for the Baptists.

Waterford surged in the final quarter to drop Phalanx, 45-34. Phil Felice had 15 points for the winners and Ken Wright sank 14 for Phalanx.

Greek Orthodox nosed out YMCA "A" team, 17-15, with Mike Varon's 10 points good for top honors. Eastern Hi-Y tripped YMCA "B," 26-15, as Don Smith had 12 points.

Milwaukee Fans Prove Loyalty in Snow Storm

MILWAUKEE (INS)—Milwaukee Braves fans are hotter for their team than ever this year, judging by a turnout to buy tickets for the Braves opening home game April 12 against Cincincnati.

A line started forming at midnight Saturday during a snowstorm and by mid-morning yesterday had swelled to such proportions that 12,400 tickets were sold in three hours.

The 1st buyer was Bernard E. Radtke, 70. Radtke arrived with a lawn chair and a jug of coffee at 7:40 p.m., Saturday night and waited through the night until the ticket windows opened.

Wing Sextet Wins, but So Does Montreal

Lindsay Tallies Twice in 3-2. Triumph Over Black Hawks

CHICAGO (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings defeated the Chicago Black Hawks, 3-2, last night. But the Wings failed to gain on the Montreal Canadiens who protected a two-point 1st place lead over Detroit in the National Hockey League race by downing the New York Rangers, 7-1.

Ted Lindsay scored twice for Detroit and Marcel Bonin added another tally.

Lindsay's 1st tally came in the final minute of the 1st period while Chicago was shorthanded. Nick Mickoski tied the score for Chicago at 59 seconds of the 2nd period.

Bonin broke the deadlock three minutes after Mickoski's tally and Lindsay's clincher came on a nicely-worked criss-cross play worked up with Gordie Howe and Dutch Reibel.

Terry Sawchuk made 29 saves for Detroit while Hank Bassen kicked 47 out of the Chicago net.

Cranes Gain Second Place in Cage Loop

Cranbrook's basketball team traveled to Buffalo over the weekend and grabbed an 86-66 victory over Nichols school to take 2nd place in the Inter-State Prep School League.

Shaw Emmons sparked the Crane victory, their 9th in 14 games, with 25 points. Owen Fett added 21 points. Cranbrook closes its season against Western Reserve next Saturday in Birmingham.

Alley Proprietor Gets Lane's 1st 700 Series

Do-it-yourself reasoning has taken hold in the bowling world. Art Barnes, proprietor of the East Highland Recreation, M-59 and Duck Lake Road, like all bowling alley men, wanted to see a 700 series rolled on his alleys, but no one connected. Last week Art rolled 223-275-203—701.

Second Annual Highland bowling tournament, beginning March 12, continuing 3 weekends, is slated for these lanes.

Phoenix Shoot Won by Iowa Man Sunday

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Marvin Driver of Missouri Valley, Iowa, was high over-all shooter Sunday in the Phoenix Trap and Skeet Shoot Tournament. He totaled 476x500 during the 3-day meet, which ended Sunday.

Weekend Sports In Brief

TRACK & FIELD

NEW YORK — Manhattan College regained the IC4A team title and Pittsburgh's Arnie Sowell won the 1,000-yard run, Villanova's Charley Jenkins the 600, Penn's John Haines the 60-yard dash and Syracuse repeated as the 2-mile relay team champion.

RACING

MIAMI, Fla. — Nashua ($3.40) won the $141,800 Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah Park.

ARCADIA, Calif. — Poona II ($2) raced to a decisive victory in the $140,300 Santa Anita Handicap at Santa Anita.

NEW ORLEANS — Wise Margin ($7.20) took the $19,000 Letellier Memorial Stakes at the Fair Grounds.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Trim Destiny ($14.60) captured the Hot Springs Handicap at Oaklawn Park.

OLDSMAR, Fla. — Rock Pilot ($8.20) scored in the feature at Sunshine Park.

Boredom, Stark Terror Make Up Jet Pilot's Life

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

SUFFOLK COUNTY AIR FORCE BASE, N.Y. (INS)—The jet pilots who impatiently sweat out the sentinel duty along this country's borders are long-legged, action-starved, silent men.

Their specialty is waiting. For up to 60 or 80 hours a week, each of them waits in his own way for a possible enemy plane to approach our coasts. Most of them alternately ache for action — because they're young — and yet pray it won't come — because they're not foolish.

"See that!" said one of them, twitching a finger toward a sign over the door of the pilots' lounge in the readiness building of Suffolk Air Defense Base near the tip of Long Island. "That reminds us not to be too impatient."

The sign read: "Flying is made up of hours of boredom broken up by moments of stark terror."

A captain, thoughtfully doing away with a hamburger, waved his napkin toward another glassed-in credo. "So does that," he said. This sign read "What you don't know won't hurt you. It'll kill you."

These men, and four others of the 24 jet pilots in the 331st Fighter-Interceptor Squadron, were just settling down for their relay on alert. The night-shift pilots had gone home to their wives and families (90 per cent of the pink-cheeked pilots in the 331st are married).

It might be an all-day sprawl, or it might be a day of hot action. You never knew . . .

At any moment, as operations officer Maj. Swigler Jr. pointed out, "every Adrenalin gland on the base may be bouncing." At any moment there might be an ear-denting honking noise flooding the airfield — in air defense lingo, a scramble call — indicating that Defense Control Headquarters had established the presence of an unknown plane approaching the eastern coast.

Within three minutes, two pilots in full flying gear, stationed in a special alert room one flight above the hangars that hold their F86D Sabre Jets, would have leaped down those stairs and be noising through the skies. The other flyers in the readiness building nearby would have dropped their magazines or checkers or brooding thoughts and whipped into anti-exposure suits — ready for a second call should the unknown turn out to be an enemy aircraft.

"We get a scramble about three or four times a week," said Swigler, "and it's the sound all of us are waiting for. You never get your nerves used to it." But most of the pilots almost look forward to it. It breaks up the monotony. "And it gets them in the air."

Of course they'd all dread the fearsome honking if it had ever turned out to be an enemy plane they were rushing out to intercept. "But so far, bless the Lord, they've always been friendly planes off course."

The pilots, most of them in their mid-twenties, don't talk much when they lounge around waiting for the noise. "Maybe we're all talked out," said one. "This is a lot of privacy we've had." "We're thinkers maybe," mentioned another.

What they're least able to discourse on, it seemed, is way they fly jets. Capt. Milden Mathere, who downed five Jap planes in World War II, was the most mature, the most likely spokesman, to ask "Why do you fly them?"

"I guess it's because you're always lookin' for something better," he said. "All flying's inherently dangerous, but if you've got to fly—and I guess I've got to fly—jets are better."

"Yeh, it's like you get your choice of a Model T or a Cadillac," said Capt. Henry Meier. "You take the Cadillac. You take the jet."

"Jet pilots," summed up Lt. Coy B. Wilkes, "are just crazy, I guess."

Paramount Wants Gobel for 'Lady Eve'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — I wasn't born yesterday—and when I saw George Gobel and a retinue of MCA agents having luncheon with Don Hartman, I knew there was something doing. So, I went to work and this is what I came up with.

George Gobel has been offered the top role in "Lady Eve," which is to be remade as a musical at Paramount. You remember this one. It starred Henry Fonda, Barbara Stanwyck and Charles Coburn and, as I remember it, Charlie Coburn was a gambler, aided and abetted by his daughter, Eve.

Paramount certainly will be congratulated if they get Gobel, who is one of the great comics of all time.

The first fruit of the new Marilyn Monroe corporation will be a book of photographs that vice president of the company, Milton H. Greene, has made of Marilyn and which will be brought out very soon. Maybe that's the reason he didn't photograph Marilyn for Look Magazine when he did all the glamor girls.

The book, I am told, will include photographic studies of Marilyn wearing everything from scanties to furs.

According to lawyers, this is about the only money-making project Marilyn can do without being yanked into court by 20th Century-Fox.

Budd Schulberg, in town to receive an award from the Screen Writers Guild for scripting "On the Waterfront," telephoned me to say that he saw his father, B. P. Schulberg, who is in Florida now.

"Dad said that he won one of the first Academy Awards for writing the picture, 'Wings,'" Budd said, "and he's very interested in my getting an award."

While here, Budd will confer with Elia Kazan about co-producing another motion picture based on his own short story, "Your Arkansas Traveler." When I asked Budd who he and Kazan have in mind for the picture he said, "Oh, three or four actors."

Well, anyone who gets the job with Kazan directing will do all right. Look at Marlon Brando and James Dean.

So many of us feel that Van Johnson should have been nominated for an Oscar for "The Last Time I Saw Paris" or "Caine Mutiny." I was sure he would be one of the five nominated, and I think most everyone else did, too.

Van will be compensated in a small measure next Sunday night at a banquet when the junior sportsmen of the City of Hope present him with the Irving Reis Memorial as the best actor of the year in "Cane Mutiny."

This annual award was established by Stanley Kramer and is in memory of talented Irving Reis, a director and writer who died only a few years ago when he was very young.

Champagne Girl Succumbs at 83

Trixie Friganza Was Toast of 2 Continents in Grandpa's Day

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Trixie Friganza, 83, a headliner in musical comedy and vaudeville in grandfather's day, died last night at a quiet Catholic retreat where she had lived for 16 years.

The "Champagne Girl," as she was billed in the Gay '90s, had been bedridden for many years at the Sacred Heart Academy in nearby Flintridge. One of the sisters at the academy said the old entertainer "just slipped away." In addition to arthritis she had suffered recently with other complications, including an intestinal ailment.

Miss Friganza's career spanned a half century and early in her career she was called the "Champagne Girl" because she was considered the toast of two continents. She became a favorite in the vaudeville and musical comedy circuits of this country and in such European cities as London, Paris and Budapest.

The comedienne and singer, who had been in retirement since 1939, in her later years once compared the show business of the old days with the present and commented on television: "That's where vaudeville has gone."

In her heyday she was a shapely girl who sang the popular songs of the day. Her first job was at the age of 17 when she got an $18-a-week chorus girl job with a road show in Cleveland. Her mother sent the police after her but she kept the job.

In the early part of the century she starred in "The Prince of Pilsen" with the famed Weber and Fields troupe. She was with George M. Cohan in "The American Idea" in 1908.

She was born Brigid O'Callaghan in Grenola, Kan. She used her mother's maiden name as her stage name. Gertrude Erotheer, of Brooklyn, N.Y., a cousin, is her only known surviving relative.

Joe Refuses $100,000 to Play Ball With Giants

However, Leo Durocher, out in Hollywood at a dinner recently, offered the Hall of Famer $100,000 in '55 to play 70 or 80 games (half the schedule).

"Thanks," grinned Joe. "I have to give you a flat no. I just don't have the equipment any more."

Joe had dinner with Marilyn Monroe in a big midtown hotel the other night and then they went riding in Central Park. Early in the morning they were at the Show Spot listening to Mabel Mercer's broken hearted melodies. "Frank sent us — Frank Sinatra," said Marilyn, naming Miss Mercer's greatest fan.

Miss Win Min Than, the Rangoon movie star, leading lady of Gregory Peck in "The Purple Plain," so informed me at the Little Club.

One song tells of a love torture, "Like a bull gorging my liver out." That would seem strange here, with such songs as "My Liver Belongs to Daddy," "Old Man Liver" and "Liver Stay Away From My Door" making the Hit Parade. It remained for my wife to ask: "If the liver takes the place of the heart, what do they send on Valentine's Day?"

WACs Eat Hearty, Army Officer Tells

NEW ORLEANS (INS) — A former chief quartermaster said Army life agrees with women soldiers so much that they eat three times as much as the average male soldier.

Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman (Ret.) said that in addition to eating heartily in the mess halls, WACs supplemented their diets with frequent trips to the post exchanges. He added:

"They begin to bulge out in the wrong places, and we can't keep them in the same uniform sizes."

The general ascribed the WACs' appetites to living out in the open and said:

"They were never really hungry before."

GM '54 Payroll Adds Up to $2.6 Billion

DETROIT — An average of 576,667 men and women were working for General Motors throughout the world last year and were paid a total of $2,610,000,000, Harlow H. Curtice, president, and Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the board, announced today.

These payrolls were close to the largest total GM ever disbursed in payrolls in a single year. They amounted to more than a quarter of all GM sales in 1954.

"GM people had a good year in 1954," Curtice and Sloan declared in a statement preliminary to their annual report.

General Motors world-wide employment in 1953 averaged 585,602 and payrolls amounted to $2,676 million.

Total GM employment in Michigan in 1954 averaged 208,477, more than a third of the GM world total.

The Michigan total included 30,430 at Pontiac, with $152,711,440 in earnings.

Despite a substantial drop in defense employment during 1954, hourly-rate employment in GM United States plants was not far from the record level of the previous year. The average for 1954 was 367,462 compared with 385,929 in 1953. Their payrolls totaled $1,747 million in 1954 as against $1,852 million in the previous year.

The hourly-rate employes in GM U. S. plants worked an average of 40.4 hours a week in 1954 compared with 41.9 hours in the preceding year. They earned an average of $91.44 in weekly pay in 1954 as against $92.27 a week in 1953.

Operations were briefly curtailed in the fall of 1954 by retooling for one of the most extensive new model change-overs in GM history.

While this temporarily affected employment and employe earnings during the change-over period, the heavy demand for the new products called for overtime hours and the average hours per week for the fourth quarter of the year rose to 41.8 and average weekly earnings to $96.26.

In the month of December, a record number of cars was produced and average hourly-rate employment for that month was more that 382,000.

Average hourly earnings of GM hourly-rate employes in 1954 was $2.27 per hour compared with $1.81 for all manufacturing, as reported by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. For many years the average for GM employes has been consistently above the average earnings for all manufacturing.

The two components of the wage adjustment formula of the company's long-term agreements with unions representing most GM hourly-rate workers in the United States — the annual improvement factor and the cost-of-living allowance — have added 44 cents an hour to wages in the past five years.

As a result workers under GM's flexible wage formula at the beginning of 1955 were receiving 22 cents more an hour than they received five years ago in their cost-of-living allowance and another 22 cents per hour as the result of their improvement factor increases. Equivalent adjustments have also been made in the cost-of-living allowance and base pay of eligible salaried employes.

"A 15-year comparison of employment figures dramatizes the growth of job opportunities in General Motors. In 1940 — the last full prewar year and a year of good business for GM — there was an average of 233,000 employes on the Corporation's payrolls in the United States and Canada," the statement added.

"At the beginning of 1955 there were 520,000, an increase of 287,000 good jobs in only 15 years. World-wide GM employment was close to 600,000."

In addition to direct money wages, GM employes have other benefits of material value to them which add substantially to employment costs. They include pensions, GM's contribution to the cost of group life insurance, health and accident insurance, hospitalization and surgical coverage. They include also unemployment insurance, which is entirely paid for by General Motors in all but two states workmen's compensation insurance, also paid for by GM; and the company's share of the cost of federal old age benefits.

Ninety-five per cent of eligible GM employes were participating in the company's group insurance plan at the end of 1954. During the year, $34 million was paid out in benefits, bringing to $271 million the total paid out in the 28 years in which group insurance of various kinds has been available to GM employes.

A total of 13,879 retired GM employes were benefiting from the company's pension program at the end of 1954. Of these, 11,002 were hourly-rate employes and 2,877 were salaried employes.

Another section of the report deals with the outstanding progress General Motors has made over the years in its efforts to stabilize employment.

"While automobile customers, exercising their free choice, traditionally buy a large percentage of the year's production in the spring and early summer months," the report said, "General Motors has been able to minimize the impact of this seasonal customer preference upon employment stability by operating on an overtime basis during these periods of peak customer demands."

The report emphasized that GM has also made progress with other factors which are within its control, such as moving ahead the date of the model change-over period and shortening the duration of the model change shutdown.

"These steps, too, have contributed to the greater regularity of employment and have increased the annual earnings of General Motors employes," the report said.

"Public discussion of various types of so-called wage guarantee plans have tended to obscure progress already made in stabilizing employment and also have tended to divert attention from the fact that there are already in existence employer-financed unemployment compensation systems regulated and administered by state governments," the report continued.

It pointed out that through 1954 payments by American employers to state unemployment compensation funds have amounted to nearly $19.7 billion and that General Motors alone has contributed more than $263 million to these funds. The various states have paid a total of $13.5 billion to unemployed persons through 1954. These payments to the unemployed have not been subject to individual federal or state income taxes. At present $8.2 billion, including $2 billion of interest earnings, remains in reserve available for unemployment payments.

"Except for minor provisions now in effect in two states, these guarantees are paid for entirely by employers and neither general tax receipts nor contributions of employes go towards payment of unemployment benefits," the report said.

General Motors Institute at Flint virtually completed during the year the largest development program in its history, with floor space increased a total of 40 per cent. The expanded facilities of the institute are designed to help meet the growing requirements of General Motors divisions for trained technical and management personnel. In the fall of 1954, there were 2,443 students enrolled in the GM cooperative program and 264 post-graduate students. A total of 33,682 students were enrolled during the year in various training programs conducted by the institute or divisional programs aided by the GMI.

Fifteen modern and completely equipped medical departments were added to employe health facilities during 1954, bringing to 124 the number of such departments in General Motors. They are staffed by 155 physicians and 750 fulltime nurses and technicians.

Series E United States saving bonds with a maturity value of $103 million were purchased by GM employes in 1954, bringing total purchases since the plan was started in August, 1941, to about $1,208 million maturity value.

Grain Market Prices Slump

CHICAGO (UP) — Grain prices dropped as the liquidating movement of last week renewed itself on the Board of Trade today.

Dealings were fairly active, although less so than in some of the price breaks of last week. Brokers said demand again was pitifully limited, a fact which accounted for a good part of the decline.

On the early selloff several new seasonal lows were set. All corn futures except March dropped into new low ground. With them were May and July rye, and May, July and September soybeans.

Garbage Dumping Prompts Warning

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons today warned stiff penalities face persons who dump garbage on highways.

The warning came after Carmen R. Jones, 23, of 1194 Predmore, Lake Orion, and William Miller, 39, of 259 Chamberlain St., were both given $100 fines each. Both pleaded guilty before Orion Township Justice Helmar C. Stanaback.

Jones and Miller were arrested over the weekend by deputies who said bot hmen had hurled the refuse from their autos.

Irons said a maximum penalty if convicted calls for $100 fine or 90 days in the Oakland County Jail, or both.

Market Higher, Mixed Today

NEW YORK (UP) — The stock market was mostly higher today in early dealings after a mixed start.

Better acting divisions included steels, motors, utilities, airlines, distillers, railroads, and radio-televisions. Other sections of the market were mixed. There were no depressed areas.

The best gains went to around a point. Losses weren't so large nor so numerous.

Among higher stocks were Republic Steel, U.S. Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, Boeing, Schenley Industries, RCA, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Climax Molybdenum, Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, and 20th Century-Fox.

A block of 3,000 shares of International Telephone traded at 26⅞ up ½. A block of 10,000 shares of Schering Corp. went at 27½ up 1.

Some Are Long, Others Deficient

Running Late, Gleason Omitted Them; Gobel Gave 'Em Full Minute

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—It's good to give credit where credit is due, but is television overdoing it?

Most viewers conceded the sponsor's right to his three minutes of commercials per half hour at night in return for paying for the show. Most like to know the names of principal actors and perhaps the producer, director and writer.

But many wonder if it's necessary to curtail the entertainment still further to give time to list credits for almost everyone.

Timing of various shows reveals that credits take up to a minute and a half on some, and occasionally are crowded out entirely on others.

The latest Jackie Gleason show had no credits at the end because Jackie was running late. George Gobel, on the other hand, gave a full minute of his half hour to credits. It could have been that he finished his show a little ahead of schedule and stretched out the credits. That's one reason credits on live shows sometime appear to last interminably.

Some credits are given as a matter of interest to viewers, such as the cast, producer, director and author. Some are demanded by TV unions — scenic designers and technical directors, for example. Credits often are given to stores for gowns worn by the feminine which means the gowns were provided free with the credits as the payoff.

Police Bullets End Rampage

Kill Jealous Man After 1 Death, 1 Wounding and 3 Kidnapings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A jealous suitor went berserk last night and was killed by police after he had shot his girl friend's landlord to death, wounded the landlord's wife and kidnaped three persons.

The suitor was identified as Charles Carr Jr., 25, of Los Angeles. His girl friend Rosie Shaw, 25, escaped his gunfire by diving through a window at the house where she lived.

Police said Carr kidnaped the Rev. Wilbert Mason and his companion Robert King in a southwest section of Los Angeles and forced them to drive him to the home of Miss Shaw.

King told police Carr said he was "going to kill a woman" and rambled on that he had been "stood up" by Miss Shaw 10 times. Arriving at Miss Shaw's place, Carr broke into the house and fired a shot at her before she escaped. Then, investigators said, he turned his gun on the landlord, Henry McCowan, 56, and killed him with a single shot. McGowan's wife Emma Lou, 48, was then wounded in the shoulder.

Officers said Carr fled from the house and kidnaped Lonnie Satterwhite, 45, who was parking his car. A few blocks away Carr forced Satterwhite out of the automobile and drove away.

Not long after that a description of the stolen car was broadcast and officers C. F. Buckland and H. F. Virgin spotted it on Main Street in downtown Los Angeles. They ordred Carr to halt and when he failed to do so they opened fire. Carr was killed by a shot through the heart.

BOB'S BACK — Delivering one of his smooth ballads just as well as ever is Bob Crosby. He's back in the harness after a recent bout with pneumonia.

Jade or Amethyst Tuxes Should Follow Pink Shirt

By MARGARET LATROBE

Did your ever-loving husband ever make this observation? "Women are slaves of fashion!" If not, you are certainly wedded to a queer duck.

Nothing delights the boys quite so much as a brand new trend in women's clothes. Even though it hurts them in the wallet, it gives them enough disparaging conversation to last until Dior can think up some new foolishness. And this sets them up better than a good steak.

Nor do I deny they are right. I am just as ready for the long skirt, the short skirt, the bell skirt—even the crinoline petticoat—as anybody. But what gives me fits of laughter is that men fail to see how ludicrous is their pot-calling-kettle-black position.

Ever since the Neanderthal man sacked himself in the conventional trousers and coat, fellows have been following his lead. A fashion expert tried her best a while back to change them into such comfies as bloomers, striped and ruffled blouses, but without much luck. They preferred to follow the same familiar sheep, allowing themselves to be diverted briefly by an occasional lamb wearing Tattersall vest and red galluses.

The other evening, eight couples attended a party and a new lamb showed up. Seven men wore pink shirts and the eighth fellow was red-faced. His pink shirt hadn't come home from the laundry in time. This poor lad slunk about from corner to corner all evening. He was out of things, he was the laugh of the party. His faux pas was worse than wearing a Prince Albert coat to a weiner roast.

All attempts to console him met with honest tears. By sheer force he was restrained from ripping to shreds his shirt of dainty plaid, spriggled with heliotrope. Two phone calls to the laundry were without avail. Laundries being closed on Saturday nights, and taking a dim view of pink shirts, anyhow. Can't do them up with the whites, and runs into bookkeeping troubles.

The haberdashery people say this new fad is the biggest news in men's furnishings since spats. Every size, shape and description of male is panting for pink. The large-necked lads who go for custom shirts have bought every yard of rose-hued dimity in the local department stores.

While convulsed with amusement at their stampede, I say, "Atta-boy!" Whether shade of pale carnation or deep-toned dahlia is immaterial, so long as they tear themselves farther from ancient and dull conformity.

Wouldn't it be exciting to step out with a man done up in a vision of jade or amethyst? Instead of the usual head waiter's costume?

"What color tux you wearing tonight, dearie? I want to order just the right flower for your boutonniere . . ."

Gentle Breeze Starts Not-So-Gentle Fight

MANILA (AP)—A gentle breeze blew up a girl's skirt in Solana, causing a bloody fight that sent five men to a hospital.

The Philippine News Service said an 18-year-old girl, identified only as Desena, was walking to market with a basket balanced on her head when a gust of wind lifted her skirt.

A group of men whistled. The girl's brother poked one in the nose. The fight was on, with the girl's brothers, cousins and uncles joining in the fracas.

We Paid $4.8 Billion in Taxes During 1954

LANSING (AP) — Michigan residents paid out $4,841,700,000 in taxes during 1954, the State Revenue Department estimated today.

Of this total, the state collected $596,000,000, local governments $443,300,000 and the federal government $3,802,400,000, the department guessed.

The guessing came from the fact that federal income taxes paid at the Detroit Internal Revenue office totalled $6,456,800,000.

But the department said two surveys indicate that 56 to 58.9 per cent is actually paid by Michigan people and companies and the remainder comes from corporations in the state which file their taxes in Detroit for other areas of operation.

The state's share of the tax take rose about 34 million dollars from the preceding year, the local units' also about 34 millions and the federal government's increased about 486 million dollars.

Readying Ships to Fire Missiles

Two Cruisers Nearing Completion of Changes for Rocket Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy expects to have the first of two guided-missile-firing cruisers ready for antiaircraft duty with the fleet next July, the second late this year.

Completion of the project to convert the heavy cruisers Boston and Canberra presumably will make the American fleet the first of any world power to possess operationally useful guided missile ships.

Britain announced last week it intends to begin building a fleet of such warships but it may be some time before they are ready for use.

In 1946, the U. S. Navy announced that the uncompleted hulls of the 45,000-ton battleship Kentucky and the 27,000-ton battle cruiser Hawaii would be built into guided missile ships. Conversion work was started, then halted within a year. One reason, actually the primary cause, was that the Navy discovered the development of practical guided missiles was too far in the future to allow design of ships for their use. It was not until 1952 that the Navy again took up the project actively, sending the Boston and Canberra to the New York Shipbuilding Corp. yards at Camden, N. J., for extensive remodeling into robot weapon ships.

A Navy spokesman said, in answer to a question today, that the Boston is expected to be ready in July and the Canberra probably about December.

The two cruisers, at least initially, will be used entirely for antiaircraft protection of Navy task forces, using the Terrier guided missile weapon. The Terrier, in mass production for more than a year, is fired from launching racks.

Automotive Problem

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP) — Nunzio Paglia complained to the city zoning board of review that he couldn't buy a new car because his 16-foot garage was too short and a longer garage would be illegal. The board approved a 23-foot garage.

Corregidor to Be Open

MANILA (AP)—Corregidor, bitterly contested island fortress of World War II, will be opened as a tourist site starting Wednesday, the National Shrines Commission said today. A new landing strip has been built, enabling visitors to fly to the island at the entrance to Manila Bay.

Scream Worth $48

BLOOMINGDALE, N.J. (AP)—Mrs. Anna Kuhs, 50, gave out with a $48 scream yesterday. She told police a man entered her restaurant and ordered her to give him all her money. She handed over $48 and let go with a piercing scream. The holdup man flung the money down and ran.

Scientific collection of meteorites did not begin in earnest until after 1803 when a large shower at Laigle, France, convince men of learning that the bodies were extra-terrestrial.

Penthouse for a Cow?

MERIDEN, Conn. (UP)—Two policemen, while patrolling the city's outskirts, saw a cow on a barn roof. Together with the amazed farmer they discovered that bossie had walked out of a loft window onto the roof. They arranged a makeshift ramp and coaxed the cow down. They closed their report at headquarters in the routine form: "No damage to barn or cow."
