WASHINGTON (AP) — The days of debate on the measure, and no such effort has been posted.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said he hoped the measure he is managing would pass the Senate by tonight.

TALKS OF MOVE

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., had talked of a budget-trimming move aimed at President Johnson's Vietnam policy. But Clark said he will not propose one.

The bill, $14 billion below the level the President proposed, includes more than $20 billion linked to the Vietnam war.

The debate centered Monday on missile defense and on accounting systems.

Clark argued against—but offered no alternative to the appropriations committee recommendation that a ballistic missile defense system be deployed immediately. Stennis said he was convinced the United States should begin building one now.

There was one vote, approving a Stennis amendment intended to block the institution of a new budgeting system in the Pentagon. Stennis said projected budgeting changes could make it difficult for Congress to find out how defense funds would be used.

No School Aid Review Is Seen

Legislature Will Eye Court Setup—Romney

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) —

The special fall legislative session will take up the task of reshaping Michigan's lower court system but definitely will not consider more money for school aid, Gov. George Romney said yesterday.

He said whether lawmakers will try to strengthen penalties against striking public employees, including school teachers, will depend on what happens between now and the session's Oct. 10 opening date.

The governor spent most of the day reviewing possible legislative topics with majority Republican legislators at the governor's summer mansion on Mackinac Island.

Romney told a news conference that the group agreed that the items to be considered at the special session called by him should be limited to those requiring immediate action, including:

- A $60-million gasoline and license plate tax boost accompanied by an appropriation of "as much as $60 million" to pay off part of the outstanding Mackinac Bridge bonds and reduce bridge tolls.

- A $300,000 increase in the appropriation for the Civil Rights Commission, boosting the $14 million approved by the Legislature in regular session last year originally sought by Romney.

- Technical changes in the state housing laws.

- Supplemental appropriations to provide money for the new civil service pay raises.

- Legislation permitting local governments to enter into cooperative agreements in such projects as sewer and water systems and law enforcement.

David Hoskins; Suspect In Shooting, Arson

Man Is Jailed After Death of Wife, 4 Small Children

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — David Hoskins, who authorities said admitted the shooting and arson that killed his wife and four young children, is jailed in $50,000 bail.

At Monday's hearing on an aggravated arson charge, Hoskins, 30, demanded a preliminary hearing, which was set for Sept. 7. Bond was not posted and the defendant was returned to Stearns County Jail.

John J. Flanagan, Hoskins' attorney, asked Municipal Judge Wendell Y. Henning to set bail at $5,000 because "it should be consistent with the offense."

County Atty. Paul J. Doerner asked for $100,000 bond, saying a grand jury called to consider the case "could return a true bill of first degree murder."

Hoskins, an active churchman who seemed to friends to be happily married, walked with slightly bowed head as he was transferred from the jail to the courtroom for Monday's hearing. In court, he stood straight with his tan shirt open at the collar and shirt sleeves rolled up two folds, while the arson charge was read.

Area Woman Faces Open Murder Charge

A 36-year-old woman accused of the fatal shooting of her husband in their Oxford Township trailer early yesterday faces preliminary examination in Waterford Township Justice Court Aug. 30.

An open charge of murder was filed against Mrs. William G. Greene at her arraignment before Waterford Township Judge Patrick Daly yesterday afternoon.

Greene, 38, was found dead by Oakland County sheriff's deputies responding to a shooting complaint about 3 a.m. at the Greens' mobile home in the Parkhurst Trailer Park, 1540 S. Lapeer.

Investigators said the victim had been shot twice in the head.

'HANGED REVOLVER'

Mrs. Greene met them at the door and said her husband had shot himself, according to deputies.

Officers said she handed them a six-shot 32-caliber revolver which had apparently been fired.

Sheriff's officials refused to comment on the results of an autopsy performed on the victim yesterday, except that it showed death was caused by the gunshot wounds.

Mrs. Greene is in custody in the Oakland County Jail.

There is no bond on an open murder charge.

Fire Chaplain

Rev. Robert Shelton of the First Baptist Church of Pontiac was named chaplain of the city fire department yesterday by Fire Chief Charles Marion.

Javelin Sports Car Introduced by AMC

American Motors Corp. is offering a new entrant in the sports car field for the 1968 model year with the introduction of the Javelin.

The Javelin will go on sale Sept. 25 at the following area dealers: Rose Rambler, 8145 Commerce, Commerce Township; Village Rambler, 666 S. Woodward, Birmingham; Russ Johnson Motor Sales, Inc., 89 Lapeer, Lake Orion; Kessler Hahn Rambler, 6673 Dixie Clarkston; and Peterson & Son, Lapeer.

Classed as a two-door sports hardtop, the Javelin is characterized by the long hood and short, fast-line rear deck. It is slightly more than 189 inches long on a 108-inch wheelbase and provides seating for four passengers.

Exterior and interior trim and equipment variations distinguish the two available models, the Javelin and the Javelin SST.

The SST offers custom interiors in black, red or tan, and includes reclining bucket seats, wood grain trim for door panels and sports steering wheel.

Exterior trim on the SST includes rocker-panel moldings and mag-type wheel discs.

The standard Javelin has dual point stripes the length of the car. The interior is black with bucket seats and full carpeting.

Both models are powered by AM's 232-cubic-inch Torque Command V-6 cylinder engine, with a variety of V8s optional.

A three-speed, fully synchronized transmission is standard on both Javelins. The Shift-Command transmission—which provides fully automatic or manual control as desired — is available for sizes and V8s with steering-column control and on V8s is offered also with console control.

Hiring of a Night Guard for Parking Ramp OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission last night voted to approve a recommendation by City Manager Robert S. Kennedy and James Purkiss, director of city parking facilities, that a security guard be hired to patrol the municipal parking ramp during night business hours.

The commission named Wilco Security Service Co. of Birmingham as the company to be contracted.

The guard will work from 3 to 7 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and Saturday and from 3 to 10 p.m. on Thursday and Friday.

He will be paid $2.65 per hour. Asst. City Manager John Saeck said this would amount to a cost to the city of about $8,000 a year.

The action came in response to a request for the guard by the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

Some residents have expressed an "uneasiness" about walking to their car alone in the structure during night hours.

The facility is also patrolled by the city police and is occupied by attendants and maintenance men most of the time, according to Saeck.

In other action last night the commission voted to install a sidewalk on the south side of Maple between Adams and Eton. The cost of the 3-block long sidewalk will be borne by the affected property owners.

Commission Will Receive Bid Reports

A series of bid reports will be received tonight by the City Commission at its regular weekly meeting.

Bids were opened yesterday on sewer and water main construction along Opdyke from Square Lake north to about Auburn.

A proposed multiple housing and shopping center project at Opdyke and Square Lake roads is to be served by the utilities.

Also, a bid report is to be presented on demolition on eight parcels recently acquired in the south end of the block occupied by Pontiac General Hospital.

Added parking and intern housing is slated for the vacated land.

REPORT SLATED

In other business, a report is slated on water main construction on Auburn to serve a projected 250 new multiple housing project.

An agreement has been worked out to acquire the necessary right-of-way for the water main, according to city officials.

Plans to close a portion of Pontiac at South Saginaw also will be presented tonight to the commission.

State approval of a proposed charter amendment election Oct. 17 will also be reported tonight. Voter approval to hike the property tax limitation is one alternative proposed to solve Pontiac's financial woes.

'Will Remain Devon Gables'

Restaurant Changes Owners

Devon Gables restaurant, on Telegraph at Long Lake Road, changed owners today, Mrs. Herbert Turner of Bloomfield Hills, the former owner, announced. She sold the 35-year-old restaurant to Herbert Craw, who will move to Bloomfield Hills in the next few weeks.

Craw, who apparently has been interested in purchasing the restaurant for some time, and his wife, Mary Jane, began operating the restaurant today.

"It will remain Devon Gables," Craw emphasized.

"We intend to continue the operations on the same high professional level of services, and foresee no major changes in the near future. Naturally, there will be some minor adjustments from time to time, but they will be subtle and gradual," he added.

Mrs. Turner founded Devon Gables 35 years ago as an intimate dining room within a home. Today the restaurant seats 750 people in 12 dining rooms.

EUROPEAN EXPERIENCE

Craw came to Detroit's LeLand Hotel in 1936 as assistant catering manager and later acquired European experience in food and beverage and hotel business at the George V Hotel in Paris. He moved on to New York's Lincoln Hotel as catering manager; and opened the Roosevelt Hotel in Washington before returning to Detroit in 1942.

In 1948, he helped build Western Golf and Country Club as general manager. He then became part owner and operator of the Fox Hounds Restaurant, Bloomfield Hills, from 1963 to 1966. Mrs. Turner is retiring and

4 Executives, Pilot Die in Michigan Plane Crash

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A twin-engine chartered plane carrying four business executives crashed and burned after taking off from suburban Sparta Airport Monday, killing all four and the pilot.

After gaining altitude, the right engine apparently failed and the plane banked right, struck a tree and crashed into a larger tree, said Lt. C. Durey of the Kent County Sheriff's Department.

Durey said bodies of the five men were charred badly from intense heat caused by burning magnesium wheels on the Beechcraft Queenair.

The pilot was identified as Melvin K. Hemmelen, 52, of Sylvania, Ohio.

OTHER VICTIMS

Other victims were Allen A. Whitbeck of Sparta, personnel director of the Sparta Foundry Co.

Division of Muskegon Piston Rings Co.; Walter Swift of Muskegon, personnel director of Muskegon Piston Rings Co.; Robert S. Miller of Spring Lake, employee relations director of the Oldberg Manufacturing Co., Grand Haven, and Gerald Meier of Harwood Heights, Ill., personnel manager of the Rotary Seal Division of Muskegon Piston Rings Co.

Muskegon Piston Rings and Oldberg Manufacturing are subsidiaries of AP Parts Corp. of Toledo, Ohio.

Gilbert Lundeen, president of Muskegon Piston Rings, said the men were bound for Toledo for a two-day seminar on personnel relations.

Lundeen said the plane had left Toledo Monday morning and stopped at Meigs and O'Hare airports in Chicago before flying to Muskegon and then Sparta.

Punch Knocks Attorneys Out of Hearing in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A punch knocked two quarreling attorneys out of a hearing involving an accused looter Monday before Recorder's Judge George W. Crockett Jr.

Judge Crockett then removed both attorneys from the case, saying: "I appoint all attorneys to represent defendants in my courtroom."

Redding then said no one would have to be appointed since he had hired his own attorney, Theodore B. Sallen.

John D. O'Connell, a former assistant prosecutor, was talking to Redding and planning to represent him when attorney Walter Kurz appeared and accused O'Connell of "soliciting business in the courtroom."

O'Connell swung and hit Kurz in the mouth.

DEMANDED EXPLANATION Judge Crockett returned to the bench and demanded an explanation.

"I was authorized by the presiding judge (Donald S. Leonard) to represent all defendants without counsel in your court," O'Connell said.

Kurz, who had represented Redding at an earlier examination, protested he was "the victim of a blatant attack and I have a bloody handkerchief to prove it."

"I thought he was about to strike me," said O'Connell. "I feel degraded. I am ashamed and I apologize."

Accord Gained on Rochester Teachers' Pact

ROCHESTER — A tentative agreement between the Rochester Education Association and the board of education has been reached on a teaching contract for the 1967-68 school year.

The education association will meet at 9 a.m. Friday at Central Junior High School for purposes of ratifying the agreement. The board will conduct a special meeting to ratify the contract at 8 p.m. Monday in the board offices.

Details of the contract were withheld by both groups until ratification had taken place.

Negotiations were carried out through the summer and Schools Supt. Douglas Lund said that at no time had there ever been danger of a bogging down in the process.

School is scheduled to open Sept. 6, the teachers reporting a day earlier on Sept. 5.

LACK TEACHERS

Ronald Kevern, director of personnel, reported the district still lacks elementary teachers. Six are still needed, he said.

A beginning teacher in the district last year drew a minimum salary of $5,500 with the maximum at $8,995.

An upgrading, in line with those districts which have already settled negotiations is expected, though officials would make no specific comment.

Shelby Collision Hospitalizes Teen

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A 17-year-old Washington Township youth is in good condition in Mount Clemens St. Joseph Hospital today with compound arm fractures incurred in an auto accident yesterday.

Hospitalized is Charles Milligan of 5859 25 Mile. Shelby Township police said Milligan was going west on 21 Mile and collided with another car at the intersection at 21 Mile and Van Dyke.

The other car was driven by William Knowles, 38, of San Antonio, Tex., who was traveling north on Van Dyke. Knowles was treated and released from Mount Clemens St. Joseph Hospital.

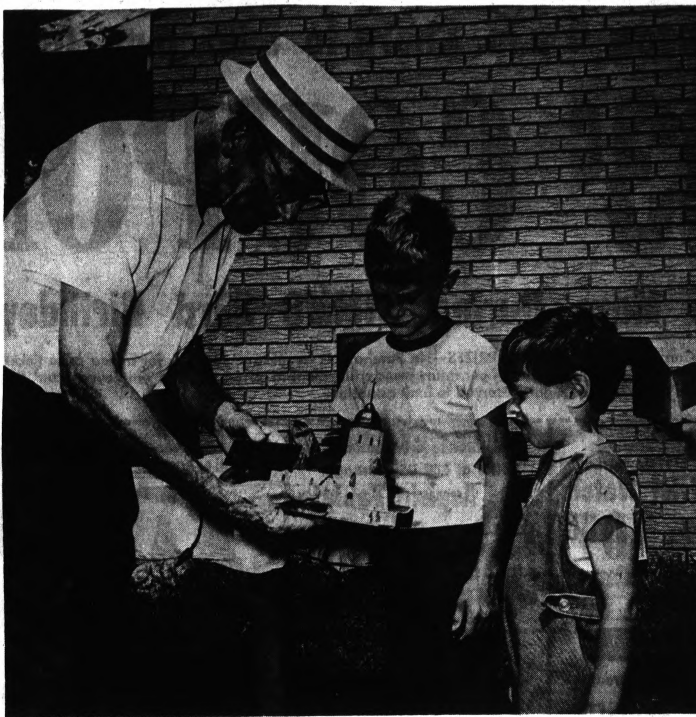

Police ticketed Milligan for reckless driving. The accident happened at 5:15 p.m.

Kiwanis Club Plans September Auction

The Wixom-Nowi-Walled Lake Kiwanis Club will hold an auction sale in late September.

The club is still asking for donations. Those interested may contact any member of the club.

Proceeds of the sale will help the Kiwanis Club finance its civic activities.

LOTS OF HISTORY—Joseph Gardiner, a regular at the Rochester Senior Citizen Drop-In Center, displays the model of the German church of his forefathers to Ian, 8, and Clive, 2, sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Bamford, 632 Miller, Rochester. It was bazaar day yesterday at the center.

At Rochester Drop-In Center

Senior Citizens Really Swing

ROCHESTER — Noticed any paint spots on grandpa's shirt lately?

Is grandma beginning to rattle playing cards like a pro?

Could be the two of them are part of the crowd that's making the Rochester Senior Citizen Drop-In Center a real swinging place.

Yesterday was bazaar day at the Lions Club recreational building in the Civic Center. Straw boaters and floppy sun hats were in existence as some 25 members manned sale tables set out under the trees.

A phonograph blared out polka and "old favorite" music and some of the group broke into impromptu dance steps.

NEEDLEWORK

The tables featured an assortment of needlework and paint embroidery including a handmade quilt the women of the group intend to finish and raffle.

One table was devoted to the art work of George Godziuski, 52581 Dequindre, Avon Township.

Now retired, he had never painted before this spring and the Junior Woman's Club members and those of the Rochester Area British-American group who assist at the center are extremely proud of his work.

Another table featured poetry and ink and crayon drawings by Joseph Gardner, 729 Wilcox.

HISTORY IS IMPORTANT

History is important to a 72-year-old man, and much of Gardner's free time has been devoted to the preparation of family trees and the exploration of a little German town on the Erz River and its church.

Gardner relates with some pride that his 280-year-old records of the church show his mother's mother's mother's father's father's name at the time of his eldest child's baptism.

The bazaar yesterday was only a run-of-the-mill activity for the swinging oldsters who today were to be guests of the Heart of Hills Swim Club.

They've been to Bob-Lo this summer, on an exchange visit to the Romeo and Pontiac Senior Citizens Club, they've played cards and danced, and even partaken of an evening of Scottish dancing.

Eager to meet "youngsters" in their 50s, the group wants it known that the Senior Citizen Center is no "sit by the hearthside" group.

The center is open from 12 noon to 4 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Newcomers are welcome, members assure.

Borings to Find Pump Site for Raising of Orchard Lake

ORCHARD LAKE — The Oakland County Drain Commission expects soil borings in about four weeks which will determine the location of a pumping facility to raise the level of Orchard Lake.

Soil borings from three locations will indicate soil conditions and whether or not the areas can support a pumping station, a county official said.

With the result of the borings, the county engineers will finalize plans for the facility to be completed late this year or early next year.

The cost and size of the facility is unknown at present, he said. The commission office plans to obtain a right-of-way on private property for construction of the facility.

The present plan for raising the water-level of Orchard Lake is to pump surplus water from Cass Lake in the north to Orchard Lake. The water will run under Commerce Lake Road 1,100 feet east of Three Lakes Lane, according to the commission plan.

NO CONNECTION

At present there is no connection between Cass and Orchard Lakes. Cass Lake is filled from the northwest and empties in the northeast, completely bypassing Orchard Lake.

The established, proper level of Orchard Lake is 930.5 feet above sea

White Lake Cottage Is Destroyed by Blaze

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A half-hour blaze destroyed an unoccupied summer cottage at 8781 Cedar Island Sunday night.

The fire caused a $5,000 loss to the house and $300 loss to the contents, said Township Fire Chief Delos Chisholm.

The owner of the house is unknown, a fire department spokesman said.

The fire department received the alarm at 10:30 p.m. and sent out a pumper, a tanker and 15 men.

Avondale Teachers OK Pact Change

Teachers of the Avondale School District have ratified a tentative contract change with the Avondale Board of Education.

Mrs. Nina Hall, president of the Avondale Education Association, confirmed today that her group had voted to accept salary increases raising the minimum wage from $5,600 to $6,400 and the maximum from $10,250 to $11,136.

Last night's meeting of the board failed to provide approval by the district, although members assured those teachers present that approval would undoubtedly be forthcoming at a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Auburn Heights Elementary School.

Schools Supt. John W. Dickey reported the need to work out further budget details, also due for approval next Monday.

He reported that teacher increases plus those approved last night for non-certificated personnel would put the budget close to deficit spending. The total package of improvements was estimated at $200,000.

Avondale Junior High Slates Orientation, Sign-Up Next Week

Avondale Junior High School students have been asked to report for registration and orientation on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at the school.

Principal Joseph Coe asks that sixth graders appear Monday, seventh graders Tuesday and eighth graders Wednesday.

Those with last names beginning with the letters A through K are asked to report at 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and those in the latter half of the alphabet at 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Coe said class schedules and textbooks would be distributed, lockers assigned, and fees collected.

This will be the first year that the Junior High School has accepted sixth graders and Coe has asked that all students able to do so report at the orientation programs.

Commission Amends Troy Airport Code

TROY — The City Commission last night approved an amendment to the city airport ordinance providing that airport operators need not apply directly to the city commission for building permits unless the proposed structure has an estimated value exceeding $1,500.

Previously all building permit requests by airport operators were required to be submitted to the commission.

In other action, the commission turned down a request by Texaco, Inc., that land on the southwest corner of Big Beaver and Dequindre be rezoned to allow for construction of a service station.

The city planning commission had recommended against approving the request.

William Saville, district finance officer, said that a surplus of $410,000 a year ago had been reduced as of June to $270,000.

Though some of the surplus has been already earmarked for general operation of the district, he said he expected a further increase in taxes and state aid which would help to brighten the financial outlook.

An enrollment increase of 200 students this fall is forecast in the district.

New contracts with all nonteaching employees except secretaries, who are on a two-year contract with built-in escalation, were approved last night by the board.

BENEFITS APPROVED

Full medical benefits for custodians, bus drivers and cafeteria help were approved and custodians and cafeteria help were given a clothing allowance.

Custodians won approximately a 7 per cent pay increase putting the minimum wage at $2.45 an hour and the maximum at $2.98.

Bus drivers and cafeteria employees received 15 cents across-the-board raise.

The board also took action to raise prices for the self-sustaining cafeteria program. Elementary lunches were raised from 30 to 35 cents, secondary lunches from 35 to 40 cents, and adult lunches from 50 to 60 cents.

The price increase was attributed to rising costs of groceries and preparation.

Dickey reported the teaching staff still in need of ten employees, most of them at the elementary level. He said there was a special need for teachers willing to work half days in the kindergarten rooms.

The board last night approved the hiring of 15 new teachers, most of them with master's degrees.

Road Assessment Hearing Is Slated

NOVI — The Village Council last night set late September for the first public hearing on the Novi Heights area special assessment for road improvement.

The council also referred a multiple dwelling rezoning request for 80 acres back to the Planning Board. The request made by Leonard Broquet, owner of a Ford tractor and implement sales firm, was previously denied by the Planning Board.

The parcel is on Eight Mile between Novi and Meadowbrook.

In other business, the council decided to meet with the Brookland Farms Improvement Association to discuss sewer connections. The association had requested the meeting.

The council also considered buying a new police car. Further action will be taken at a later meeting, said Village Manager Harold Ackley.

At the next meeting of the Council, Aug. 28, Township Attorney Howard Bond will report on an increase in sewer and water fees and on the case between Holcomb-Babbitt and the village concerning zoning for a trailer park.

The planning board will also meet Aug. 28 at 8 p.m. at the Village Hall.

Farmington Twp. Vote Oct. 23

16 File in Cityhood Election

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Sixteen people have filed for the charter commission for the proposed city of the area now incorporated as Farmington Township.

On Oct. 23, township residents will elect nine from the 16 to a charter commission. At the same time, residents will vote on the township's incorporation as a home rule city.

If the incorporation vote is favorable, the charter commission becomes activated. State law requires that both issues be put to a vote at the same time.

Of the 16 who have filed, four now serve on the Citizens Council for Community Development. This group is "the motivating force" behind incorporation, said Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall.

These four include Robert B. Pierce, 32306 Baintree, an attorney and president of the council; Frederick Lichtman, 28518 Kendallwood, head of education and public relations for the council; LeRoy F. LeGros, 21411 Randall, chairman of a study committee on taxes; and Donald E. McEachin, 30929 Ridgeway, a member of the charter committee.

Three others who filed are active Jaycees. This group was one of three sponsoring the Future Farmington Area Study on the development of the city and township.

These three are Charles H. Williams, 22901 Treadwell, Jaycee president; John Bailey, 30215 Stockton, and Edwin C. Blumberg, 28939 Glen Arden.

Another three who filed are connected with township government. These include Joseph T. Brennan, 29830 Fernhill, township attorney; Floyd A. Cairns, 32324 13 Mile, township clerk; and L. David Stader Jr., 30262 Pipers Lane, a member of the Planning Commission.

Others who have filed include William G. Clancy, 32980 Raphael; Thomas A. Duke, 27539 Forestbrook, an ex-township trustee and developer of the Independence Green apartments; Richard L. Gould, 29746 Highmeadow; Mrs. Margaret G. Schaeffer, 28900 Drake, a lawyer in Detroit; Aldo Vagnozzi, 26193 Kiltaran, chairman of the 19th District Democratic organization and twice a candidate for township supervisor; and Kenneth W. Vesey, 31521 Staman Circle.

DRAW UP CHARTER

If incorporation receives an affirmative vote, the charter commission will draw up a charter to be presented to voters within two years, explained Robert B. Pierce. The name of the proposed city will also be decided upon with the vote, Pierce said.

Meantime, he added, the township's boundaries would be insured against incursion attempts by any other municipality. Recently, the city of Farmington annexed about 450 acres of the township.

Township residents voted against incorporation June 9, 1964. In this second attempt at incorporation, a private citizens' group is pushing the issue.

The first try at incorporation was sponsored by the township administration. Supervisor Hall attributes the 1966 incorporation defeat to misinformation.

"The public didn't fully understand the proposition," Hall said.

Until the Oct. 23 vote, the chief activity of the Citizens Council for Community Development will be campaigning for the township's incorporation, said Pierce.

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP FIRE—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brewer, 4041 Eminence last night was struck by fire for the second time in eight months. The fire broke out about 7 p.m. and was extinguished by township fire fighters by 8:15. Brewer said he was alone in the home and was sleeping when the blaze began. The alarm was turned in by a neighbor. Firemen estimated damage to the house and contents at about $25,000. State Police are investigating the fire.

Huge Cleanup Begins in Flood-Ravaged Fairbanks

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Thousands of homeowners put their efforts behind more than 12-foot flood stage last week, to about nine feet Monday night and continued dropping slowly.

The Weather Bureau predicted only a 20 per cent chance of rain today.

The Chena River, which spread death and destruction throughout the area when it rose about 8 1/2 feet above its normal stage, might uncover more victims.

CHILDREN EVACUATED

Thirty-nine children 3 to 13 years old were flown out of the city to relatives' homes in Anchorage Monday to enable parents to devote their time to the cleanup.

A Seattle radio-television station, KIRO, was collecting toys for children remaining in the city.

A $290,000 contract was let Monday to start removing flood debris and to repair Fairbanks streets. The cost of the work was only a small part of the millions of dollars worth of damage that will be needed to return this community of 30,000 to normal.

CANADIAN SUSPECT CHARGED — Victor Ernest Hoffman, 31, of Leask, Sask., is escorted from the courthouse in North Battleford, Sask., where he was formally charged yesterday with the murder of James Peterson. Peterson, his wife and seven of their children were shot to death one week ago.

Top Religious Leaders Back Integration Crusade

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR., Executive Director National Urban League

This summer I went to Europe to meet with Pope Paul VI, universal leader of the world's 600 million Catholics, and the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, representing Protestant and Orthodox religions.

I asked both of these spiritual leaders to lend their great moral stature to a campaign to get the churches into a position of moral leadership in the battle for integration and interracial justice.

Both men agree with the importance of such a moral crusade and pledged their support in the battle against the sin of racism.

My first stop was the Vatican. As I walked through the immense marble rooms of the Vatican Palace, their walls covered with historic works of art, I felt myself in the presence of thousands of years of history, the symbolic site of much of Western civilization.

Pope Paul is a gentle man. Despite the great pressures on his time and energy, I felt an aura of patience and kindness as he spoke to me.

He was greatly interested in the struggle for racial equality and the questions he asked me showed that he was informed of the problems facing America's Negro citizens.

I thanked him for his appointment of the first Negro bishop in the U.S. — Bishop Harold Perry of New Orleans — and told him of Bishop Perry's contributions as a member of the Urban League and that he will soon join our national board of trustees.

ARE YOUR CHILDREN PREPARED FOR SCHOOL?

Mothers are busy these days. For school beginning is a big event. Health records must be checked to make certain vaccinations are still potent and if not, booster shots are a "must."

Children leaving home for college should visit the family physician for a health check-up. Essential medicines the doctor thinks necessary must be packed. And, the eating habits of all children at school may have to be assisted. Too many grab a hasty bite for meals which lack the important vitamins needed for their growing bodies. Most physicians advise daily vitamins for school children.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping early, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

Glue Sniffing Is Serious Problem

A revolting thing occurred in Wayne County Juvenile Court last week. A 15-year-old boy was ruled technically innocent of the brutal sex slaying of two Westland girls, Debra L. CROWTHER, 8, and her sister KIMBERLY, 6.

Juvenile Court Judge JAMES H. LINCOLN had no alternative but to rule him innocent on grounds that he was temporarily insane and "incapable of controlling his actions" because he had been sniffing glue just prior to the heinous crime.

Judge Lincoln called the case "one of the most shocking I've had in seven years." We agree, it was a real shocker.

We also agree 100 per cent with Judge LINCOLN's call for an attack on the whole glue sniffing problem. He asked for a law that would exclude temporary insanity as a legal defense for anyone accused of homicide who had been sniffing glue.

The Press strongly supports this plea.

When a drunken driver kills someone, do we drop negligent homicide charges against him because he was drinking and incapable of controlling his actions?

What about murder? If a man in a drunken stupor shoots his wife, do we let him off the hook because he was drinking? The answer is a resounding "No!"

Drinking is voluntary. So is glue sniffing. People should be held entirely responsible for whatever actions they take as a result of voluntarily using such intoxicants.

It is interesting to note that the city of Georgetown, Tex., recently passed an ordinance requiring merchants selling airplane glue, or similar volatile substances that could be sniffed, to keep records of sales to those under 17 years of age.

This came after a 16-year-old admitted glue sniffer was arrested in connection with the killing of his parents and 17-year-old sister Aug. 5.

But the Georgetown law is weak. It only makes suspects easier to trace. It doesn't prohibit glue sniffing. It doesn't rule out the temporary insanity plea.

Our laws are clearly lacking. As Judge LINCOLN pointed out, on the day those two young girls were so brutally raped and murdered, it was against the law to spit on the sidewalk in Westland—but glue sniffing was legal.

Our 'Great Society' Is Filled With Promises

When LBJ launched his Great Society program, many observers, most of them Republican, sat back and thought to themselves "here comes another big, political boondoggle."

Maybe they were wrong. It isn't just "another" political boondoggle. Recent events suggest that the Great Society program may be singular in that it lacks two very important elements: self sacrifice and patience.

The LBJ antipoverty effort to pave the path to this Great Society may have been too good a job of selling. He may have promised too much, with the end result that expectations of the supposed beneficiaries were raised far too high.

It's almost like a bunch of poor relatives sitting around waiting for the will of a rich uncle to be read. They all expect to come away rich. When their expected inheritance fails to materialize, they go away mad. In this nation today we have riots rocking our major urban centers. We also have a crime rate that is skyrocketing.

Where is this Great Society? What ever happened to our antipoverty program? The answer is nothing. The program is still there.

It still promises prosperity for the poor, much like the late President Kennedy aimed for prosperity in his New Frontier—but there's one big difference. JFK included in his program a humble neutralizing factor when he urged people not to ask what their country could do for them, but what they could do for their country.

This had a psychological effect of putting the shoe on the foot of John Q. Public. LBJ puts it on the foot of the Federal government. The Great Society is too great. It is all promise and no sacrifice.

Vietnam: Step-by-Step Disaster

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — In its whole history, the United States never got into a fix like Vietnam. It's the old story of how one thing led to another. President Johnson has said the U. S. forces are in South Vietnam to enable the people to choose their own destiny. Self-determination, he called it.

This is a little too simple, a little too pure. The United States also has a self-interest in trying to prevent communism from taking over.

And that's where the story begins. President Harry S. Truman gave the French billions of dollars in aid, starting in 1950, to help them stop the Communists in Indochina.

That was the start of American involvement. In 1954, when the French were defeated and driven out, an international conference at Geneva arranged, at least temporarily, to divide Vietnam into two separate governments, North and South.

The United States began at once to help the non-Communist government in the South. This was under President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

SE ASIA PACT

In 1954 this country had also entered into an agreement—the Southeast Asia Treaty—with other nations in the area to help them or their neighbors repel Communist aggression.

At first the United States gave South Vietnam economic help and weapons, then sent in military advisers, and still later sent in troops to fight.

At various times between 1954 and 1960 Eisenhower said things like this:

A Communist take-over in South Vietnam would endanger the rest of Southeast Asia and set in motion a "crumbling process that could, as it progressed, have grave consequences for us and for freedom."

DOMINO THEORY

This was the so-called "falling domino" theory: that if the Communists were allowed to get away with capturing 15,000 Southeast Asian country, the next one would be easier, for those countries wouldn't have much confidence left in the United States.

And Eisenhower said: "We reach the inescapable conclusion that our own national interests demand some help from us in sustaining in South Vietnam" the ability to continue free.

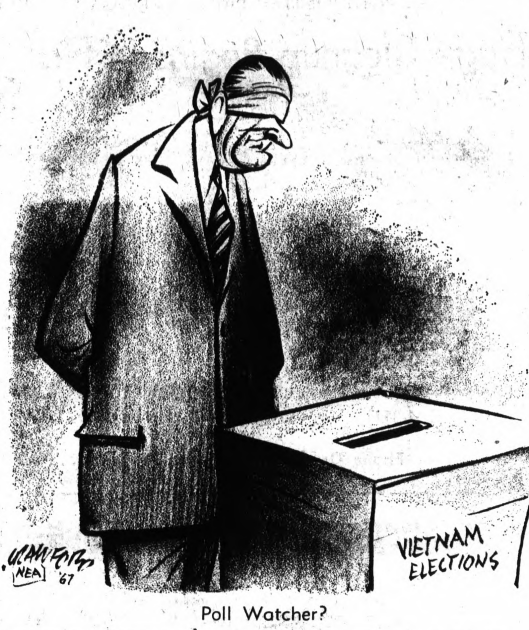

Later President John F. Kennedy said he agreed with Eisenhower's domino theory. Meanwhile, the Vietnam, with the help of North Vietnam, swept across South Vietnam, and were close to taking it over.

By then Johnson was President and, in the summer of 1964, some North Vietnamese torpedo boats attacked U. S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin. Johnson ordered bombing raids on North Vietnamese bases along the Gulf.

JOINT RESOLUTION

And he asked Congress to approve a resolution backing him up. Congress did on Aug. 7, 1964 in a joint resolution which the House okayed 416-0, and the Senate approved, 88-2.

The war was on in earnest. Pretty soon this country will have over 500,000 men in South Vietnam. Already about 15,000 American lives have been lost. The end is not in sight.

Poll Watcher?

David Lawrence Says:

Fulbright Errs on LBJ 'Sanction'

WASHINGTON — Congress can at any time adopt a resolution limiting the President's power to carry on the war in Vietnam.

It can, in fact, as President Johnson has challenged his critics to do, withdraw the 1964 resolution, authorizing the use of armed force in Southeast Asia.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, Dem-Ark., is mistaken, therefore, when he says the only "real sanction" Congress has against escalation of the war in Vietnam would be impeachment of President Johnson.

There is, moreover, no such sanction. For the Constitution plainly says that a president can be removed from office only "on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors."

Whenever a president exercises the authority given to him by Congress itself, whether in the form of a joint resolution or in laws appropriating funds for military operations, his acts are not personal but are those of the head of the executive branch of the government.

The Constitution does not grant any authority to impeach a president for performing the duties of his office or for allegedly failing to act in accordance with resolutions passed by Congress. There are matters of policy and, if wrongly applied, the people can do the "removing" at the next election.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, of which Sen. Fulbright is chairman, is engaged at present in a study of what is known as "separation of powers" in order to define the respective responsibilities of the executive and legislative branches of the government.

But there's one field of inquiry into which the Senate probably will not venture, though it could define clearly and explicitly the line beyond which the foreign relations committee itself may not go. For as committee by itself can interfere with executive operations or the conduct of foreign policy.

While several senators, as chairmen of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in the past, have unintentionally helped to mislead America's adversaries, the fact remains that, when speeches and statements are publicized abroad, there is no clear line of "separation" between the views of a chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and those of the committee itself.

Bob Considine Says:

First Confab on Abortion to Discuss Pros, Cons

NEW YORK — Abortion, with all its pros, cons and shadings is being brought before the public as never before.

A number of states now have pending laws which would legalize fetocide in cases of rape, incest, fetal defects, or danger to the health of the mother.

In the hope of shedding the light of varied dialogue where darkness has lain for endless centuries, the International Conference on Abortion — first ever — will be convened in Washington early next month.

The Harvard Divinity School and the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation are cosponsors of a conference that will be both interfaith and interdisciplinary.

The world will watch and listen to the wise and the emotional in attendance, for, at the roots of all discussion, will lie the question of the sanctity of life.

Mrs. Eunice Kennedy Shriver, speaking for the foundation named for her late brother, explains the family's role in the coming convention.

"The Kennedy Foundation has been involved in mental retardation and child development for more than 30 years."

"The question of abortion is related to these concerns and we feel it is important that all of the public knowledge now available from the fields of medicine, sociology, law, and religion be brought to bear on this problem."

"It is our feeling that the conference will place the facts on abortion before parents and other concerned individuals."

"One of the elements that has brought about increased demands for liberalizing the abortion laws has been advances in the field of medicine that now make it possible in some cases to predict in early stages of pregnancy that the child may be born with mental or physical defects."

"But, at the same time, just as new tests are developed to discover these defects of the fetus in utero, work is going on in research laboratories around the world seeking ways to repair or prevent those defects before the baby is born."

"The complexity of issues at stake makes understandable such a range of public disagreement," says Rev. Herbert W. Richardson, professor of theology at Harvard Divinity School.

Which may be the mildest comment we'll hear from the principals.

Urban Problems Are Inherited

WASHINGTON (NEA)

Many leading Americans today are talking about "renewal cities" as if we could take them to the corner shopping center, have them dry-cleaned and pressed, and offer them up as totally suitable for good living by whites, Negroes and whomsoever.

The proposal, of course, is for a mammoth undertaking which would cost hundreds of billions of dollars. Taken literally as a plan to wipe out the unlivable areas of American cities, it involves the replacement of hundreds of square miles of dwellings and commercial structures in urban cores across the country.

As they now exist, these areas have been in the making for periods from a few decades up to a century or more. Their development coincides with this nation's expansion from a rural society into a modern industrial supergiant.

If such broad areas must now be scrapped and refitted at a phenomenal cost, it is a damning commentary on the unfolding society which produced them.

What was all the labor for, in this traditionally self-congratulatory America, if the net of it—after the skyscrapers and the fancy show streets—was a mass of ill-designed, undurable, quickly unlivable dwellings crammed to-

Voice of the People:

'Panama Canal Control Vital to United States'

The question of why it is necessary to turn United States control of the Panama Canal over to the Panamanian government should be asked of our representatives in Washington, D.C.

It is well known that Communist riots in Panama's cities have been uncontrolled. Is the United States in the position to allow Communist take-over of a vital water route from our eastern to western coasts? Instead of payment of $1.9 million annually (treaty of 1903) to the Panamanian government for U.S. controls, our shipping costs would increase to $9 million annually if we turn over our interests to Panama.

Ask your Senator for his position on this interesting subject.

'Inform Minority Groups of Opportunities'

Evangelist Billy Graham reported that Stokely Carmichael has said in Cuba that the black power and communism will rule the United States within four years. There are many examples of successful Negroes who have found the American way offered them opportunities to become successful, professional people.

I suggest that a panel made up of such people as the Negro Air Force Colonel in Vietnam, prominent doctors and lawyers of that race be called together in an effort to tell the Nation and the minority groups of the opportunity that is here for them if they will exert the necessary personal effort to attain the education to achieve these goals. Our government needs to be pushed into such a meeting.

Replies to Letter About Boys' Club Truck

Concerning the recent letter about the slow-moving Boy's Club truck, it was not from the Waterford Boy's Club as we are not fortunate enough to have one. I'm sure whichever club it was from was interested mainly in the safety of our children. It's true our Boy's Clubs need good will and assistance, since the workers volunteer their time. How about it? Got a couple of hours a week to spare? I'm sure any of our clubs will appreciate your assistance.

Question and Answer

I say most fires are caused by careless smokers, but my chain-smoking husband insists more are caused by faulty wiring. Who's right?

NON-SMOKER

REPLY

Well, it's hard to say exactly. Of fires that have a known cause, 20.6 per cent are caused by matches and smoking; 20.5 by electricity and electrical equipment. However, the figures don't tell how many of the match fires were caused by curious boys, etc. Besides, these figures don't include recent fires, and that one-tenth of one per cent could have shifted by now. You call this one a draw?

gether in smothering array?

The city is celebrated in history as the crown of civilization. But there never has been anything regal about great centers of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland and a long list of other American cities.

Perceptive analysts like Irving Kristol have pointed out that around the turn of the century, when their dwellings were far, far newer than today, the slums in some of these places were more crowded and, in some ways, more oppressive physically than now.

This is not an argument that they therefore must be endured as they are. On the contrary, it is simply noted to indicate that the physical shortcomings of the cities are not only of long standing but in many instances were built in from the start.

Another matter that should be observed:

The unlivability of such places was always understood. But, notwithstanding the proliferation of public housing and the fanning out of urban renewal, there never has been a truly massive assault on the slums in the long decades they have scarred the cities.

Many urban specialists, indeed, have argued that the growth of new slums has consistently outrun the elimination of old ones.

All of this held true in a span of U.S. history when, for the most part, the Negro was not the chief occupant of urban slums. His move into the ghetto was a thing of recent decades.

The point here is that white Americans in the cities never did for themselves what they are today being asked to do for the disadvantaged Negro minority. They never remade the cities even when they were the direct sufferers from the choking consequences of slum life.

They not only ignored the rebuilding task but spurned the planners who promised to make new growth more orderly and sensible. They may very well be repeating these errors today in the sprawling, ungainly suburbs.

None of this is an argument against the rebuilding of the cities. It is a means of expressing the nearly inexpressible magnitude of the task. Americans are caught in a painful paradox. Nearly four-fifths of them live in or around cities. Yet they are fundamentally indifferent to the future of these largely shapeless organisms, to which they are drawn and held in ever-rising numbers.

But the racial struggle has put them at the crossroads. Either they remake the cities to living scale, or they risk seeing huge portions of them consumed in periodic fiery rages over their unlivability.

HE DOGS THEIR TRAIL — King, a stray mongrel dog, trails two patrolmen as they walk along a street in New York's Harlem. Every night for the past three years King has waited outside the precinct station house to pick up any uniformed patrolman and accompany him on his beat. Sometimes they buy him a hot dog, and some have tried to clean him up, but he has resisted successfully.

Embassy Attackers New Protest Group?

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard believes the men who sprayed the U.S. Embassy with machine-gun fire Sunday night were either three isolated anti-Americans or a threatening new political protest group.

Gallup Poll Has Romney Leading LBJ

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The latest Gallup Poll has Gov. George Romney of Michigan leading President Johnson in a trial heat for the presidency.

The American Institute of Public Opinion here reported yesterday that the poll, the first one conducted since the aftermath of the recent race riots, shows Romney leading the President by eight percentage points — 49 per cent for Romney, to 41 per cent for Johnson, with 10 per cent undecided.

"Survey evidence indicates that the sharp shift in the trial heat standings is due more to the President's sagging popularity than to any particular support for Romney," the institute said.

In a survey taken in mid-June, Romney trailed the President by five points.

BIG DECLINE
The institute said that the proportion of the public who approve of the way the President is handling his job has declined 20 per cent since the mid-June survey — from 59 per cent to 39 per cent. This is the President's lowest rating to date and the lowest for a President since 1952, the institute said.

In the current poll Romney leads Johnson in three of the four major regions of the country. In the East the race is neck and neck.

"Romney does better against Johnson than does Richard Nixon, currently the top choice of the GOP rank and file for the nomination," the institute said. "The basic reason for this is Romney's greater appeal to Democrats and independents."

But the institute said former Vice President Nixon also improved his position since the mid-June survey. President Johnson held a clear lead of 51 to 43 per cent lead over Nixon at that time. Now, the President leads Nixon 47 to 45 per cent, with 8 per cent undecided.

In the poll Nixon and Johnson ran a close race in the South and Midwest, the President held the lead in the Far West and East.

The institute said the figures in this poll are based on a survey of 1,626 adults of voting age in over 300 sampling points throughout the nation. The interviewing was completed over the weekend of Aug. 4-7 and the results are based only on those identified as likely voters.

Investigators raided the headquarters of 15 anti-American groups Monday seeking three gunmen, thought to be white, who drove away from the embassy in a Ford Cortina.

The gunmen left a note, signed by the unknown "Revolutionary Solidarity Movement," which said:

"Stop criminal murders of the American army. Solidarity with all people battling against Yankee fascism all over the world. Racism no. Freedom for American Negroes."

SPANISH SPELLING

Investigators noted that the hand-lettered broadside spelled the word "Negroes" in the Spanish manner, without a second "e." It was suggested the trio might have been supporters of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

"We are looking for samples of handwriting of particularly militant members of various organizations," said Police Supt. Arthur Butler. "However, I do not feel we will find the gunman in any known organization. I think they are new to us and I am not hopeful of an arrest in the immediate future."

About nine shots were fired into a side entrance of the embassy on Grosvenor Square late Sunday. No one was injured.

Among groups visited by the police was the London Committee of 100, a longtime protester against nuclear defense and U.S. policy in Southeast Asia.

The group's secretary, Douglas Kepper, said detectives compared writing on papers in the office with the note left by the gunmen and added: "I hope none of our members would be foolish enough to do a thing like this."

Construction in Waterford Twp. Is Up in July

Spurred by an increase in new home building, construction in Waterford Township last month exceeded the previous July's totals. Fourteen more building permits were approved this July for new construction, additions and alterations and total valuation surpassed the July 1966 total by $350,360.

Last month, 119 permits were granted for construction worth an estimated $806,723 compared with 105 permits for construction estimated to cost $546,363 the previous July.

Thirty of last month's permits were for new home construction estimated to cost $619,903.

In July 1966, by comparison, 17 permits were issued for new home construction worth an estimated $287,723.

COMMERCIAL BUILDINGS
Two permits were approved last month for new commercial buildings estimated to cost $53,900.

They were for a $46,000 Mr. Big Restaurant at the M59 Plaza (M59 at Crescent Lake) and a $7,000 Dairy Queen on Elizabeth Lake Road.

Three permits also were issued for additions and remodeling to commercial structures.

This year was $10,145,150 compared with $6,997,916 for the same period of 1966.

However, construction for taxable structures totaled $6,802,529 for the first seven months of 1966 against $6,783,838 for the same period this year.

Some $3,381,312 of this year's total is for construction of non-taxable structures.

Second-Night Damage Minor

Jackson Strife Tied to 'Punks'

JACKSON (AP)—The second straight night of violence in this Southwestern Michigan community was viewed by one police officer today as "just some punks running around trying to put Jackson on the map."

Despite nine fire-bombings and a record 23 fire alarms Monday night, damage was reported minor.

The normal police night shift of 13 men in the city of 50,000 was beefed up to 50 city officers, 10 Jackson County sheriff's deputies and eight State Police troopers.

Police said no crowds gathered in the troubled Southeast section, a predominantly Negro area, and there were no arrests or reports of looting. Five Negroes and three whites were questioned and released.

The first fires broke out shortly before 10 p.m. and were believed set by roving gangs of teens in automobiles. Police said autos with as many as six youths were seen in the area, some occupied by whites and others by Negroes.

"It's not racial at this point," said Dick Brandt, city administrative assistant shortly before midnight.

In addition to the nine fire-bombings, fire fighters answered eight false alarms and two legitimate fires.

Worst damage caused by flaming bottles of gasoline parked at a warehouse. Another fire destroyed a garage and an auto parked inside. The other fire-bombs were tossed on roofs of stores but quickly burned out or were extinguished.

The first outbreak in Jackson this week occurred early Sunday at a dance in a recreation center where police arrested six Negroes—one a juvenile—when a fight erupted in a crowd of 300.

Eight police officers and two Jackson County sheriff's deputies were injured in the early morning fracas.

Expense to Be Split Three Ways

Low Bid on Street Paving Approved

The Waterford Township Board last night gave its approval to the low bid for the Van Zandt Street paving project.

Groleau Brothers, Inc., submitted the low proposal of $103,800 recently when bids were opened by the Oakland County Road Commission which will share the expense along with the township and Waterford Township School District.

Cost to each unit will be $34,000.

The project originally was estimated to cost about $92,000.

In other business last night, the board reintroduced an ordinance restricting the owning, raising and keeping of bees in the township after making a minor revision.

ADOPTION EXPECTED
Adoption of the ordinance is expected at next Monday's board meeting.

Kelley: Will Help Cities Draft Laws on Open Housing

LANSING (AP)—The office of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today is prepared to help cities draft open housing ordinances containing criminal penalties.

Kelley ruled Monday that housing ordinances may contain criminal penalties such as fines or imprisonment.

He repeated an earlier ruling that the city ordinances which ban racial discrimination may not be enforced by use of such simple processes as injunctions and cease-and-desist orders.

The State Civil Rights Commission has preempted these processes, he said.

Kelley announced the ruling at a news conference called to discuss "civil rights and civil disturbances."

Kelley announced the ruling at a news conference called to discuss "civil rights and civil disturbances."

Richard C. Thomas, committee executive secretary, said Romney will speak at 6:30 p.m. at the University of Vermont's Patrick Gymnasium.

The ordinance would prohibit bee keeping in any area of the township except agricultural areas. Steps would be taken to penalize violators.

Also last night, the board passed a resolution accepting additional watercraft controls on Pontiac Lake as recommended by the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Like action is required by the White Lake Township Board prior to adoption of local ordinances by each body.

In addition, first notice was read on a request for the trans-

Scott Romney, son of Gov. George Romney of Michigan and his fiancée, Ronna Eileen Stern, are photographed in Detroit before boarding a plane for Salt Lake City, Utah, where they are to be married Wednesday in a Mormon ceremony.

Temple Ceremony Will Unite Governor's Son and Bride

SALT LAKE CITY (U) — A campaign courtship will end Wednesday when George Scott Romney, elder son of Michigan's governor, and Ronna Eileen Stern exchange marriage vows at the Mormon Temple.

"Scott and I decided to be married at the temple because of the extra blessing," explained Ronna, a pretty, blue-eyed blonde from Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

SEALS IT

She said a temple ceremony seals the union "for time and eternity" instead of the "til death do you part" of a church ceremony.

Gov. and Mrs. George Romney were wed in the same temple 36 years ago. Miss Stern, 23, and Romney, 25, met during his father's 1966 campaign for a third term in the governor's chair. A friend of Scott, who was working on the governor's reelection campaign, introduced the couple.

"We never dated anyone else after that," Ronna said.

She and the bridegroom-to-be went sightseeing in Salt Lake City prior to their marriage. They were accompanied by Ronna's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Will Harry Kraus.

The governor was to fly west for the ceremony late today. His wife Lenore left Michigan for Salt Lake City Monday.

The wedding is to be a private, family affair, with only the Romneys, the Kraus family and the couple's brothers, sisters and in-laws in attendance.

Ronna and her bridegroom will wear traditional long, white robes, similar to those worn by choir members.

"I don't mind not wearing a gown," Ronna said. "I think the important thing is being married in the temple." She recently joined the Mormon Church.

"Scott's wedding ring is a plain gold band," she said.

"But he's not telling me what my ring looks like — not until the day of the ceremony," she added with a happy laugh of a bride-to-be. Ronna's engagement ring is a marquise diamond, "I don't know how big."

Following the hours-long ceremony, the Romneys will be host to a family wedding breakfast in the Sky Room of the Hotel Utah.

TWO GALAS

Mr. and Mrs. Kraus plan two receptions in Bloomfield Hills.

The first, a black-tie affair for some 275 guests, will be held Friday at Bloomfield Hills Country Club. The second reception, for some 400, is set for Sunday at the Kraus home.

Scott and Ronna will honeymoon for two weeks in New York and Bermuda.

They'll return to the Detroit area to pick up Kevin Connelly, Ronna's three-year-old son by a previous marriage, and be off to Cambridge, Mass., where Scott will complete two remaining years of study at Harvard Law School.

"We already have an apartment there," Ronna bubbled.

"We have so much to take East with us. I think we'll have to hire a truck."

Ronna, one of five children, is an honor graduate of Oakland University in Rochester, Mich., and has taught school in suburban Detroit.

Her stepfather is president of Engineering Industries, a machinery manufacturing firm.

Azteca Women Plan a Carry Out Dinner

The women of the Azteca Auxiliary are planning a Mexican carry out dinner on Friday from 3 to 10 p.m. The event will take place in the Rueben Flores home at 16 North Sanford Street. The menu consists of combination plates of tacos, tortillas, enchiladas and tamales. Children's portions will also be available.

The group is also planning a benefit bazaar featuring homemade articles and baked goods.

W. J. Lacys Return

The William J. Lacys of Sylvan Lake have recently returned with their son, James from a two week vacation in Hawaii. They also visited the islands of Kauai and Oahu.

Family Parties Honor Many Visiting Relatives

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
On Sunday at the Village Woman's Club Dr. and Mrs. Harry Pearce entertained for brunch.

The occasion was to say good-bye to their son, Dr. Warren Pearce and Mrs. Pearce and their four granddaughters who have been visiting here and were now leaving for their home in Omaha, Neb.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Ray (Mrs. Ray is Dr. and Mrs. Pearce's daughter), Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Durham, Dr. and Mrs. Warren Cooksey, Mr. and Mrs. Fredric Zimmermann and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Jordan.

FAREWELLS

Sunday was also a busy day in Dr. and Mrs. Donald C. Young's home. Their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roderic V. Wiley Jr. and their son, Roderic III, were leaving for their home in Albuquerque, N. M.

The Wileys have been dividing their time between the senior Wileys and the Youngs. Together the families have also managed to spend a week at their summer home in Lewiston.

After both families had breakfast at the Youngs with daughter Sue and her fiancé, Chuck Sterling of New York, as well as Dr. Young Jr. who came from Detroit, the entire group drove to the airport to see the Wileys off.

Nancy Judd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Judd, returned home on Sunday after eight weeks of traveling in Europe.

Lee Rarey of this area was also one of the 40 college students who traveled by bus to many countries and interesting places in Europe.

Mrs. Judd went to New York to meet Nancy. The following day Nancy left for Washington where she was maid of honor at Laura Colman's wedding. The girls have been classmates at Bennett College.

Nancy's sister, Susan, has been spending some time with her classmate from Connecticut College, Pam Scofield of Columbus, Ohio.

YOUNG VISITOR

Young Brenton Curtis Jr. is being introduced for the first time to his mother's many friends. Mrs. Brenton Curtis and her son are here from Branford, Conn., visiting Mrs. Curtis' mother, Mrs. Edward Bennett.

Ruth Othdahl of Chicago spent a long weekend with her friend, Mrs. Carl Moe and also visited with her nephew, John deRuyter.

Mrs. deRuyter and her children will be returning this week from California where they have been visiting Mrs. deRuyter's father, Fred Schmid in Pacific Palisades.

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Here is one waitress' comment on the letters I have printed about tipping.

Dear Mrs. Post: As an answer to the non-tipper's letter, I would like to point out the waitresses' side of the story. At the restaurant where I work it is seldom the waitress who is "poor," but fairly often it's the customer.

The other day I had two adorable ladies leave me a dollar and a quarter, and a table of five hard-to-please individuals who came in an air-conditioned Cadillac left me 30 cents. What is so surprising is the ladies were so sweet and the others had me get them everything but the kitchen sink by the time I finished serving them satisfactorily.

I'm not sure if this explains my point thoroughly enough or not, but I will conclude by saying I hardly feel "undignified" picking up a tip that I worked hard for—especially when the money I hope to earn this summer is going to enable me to become a nurse.

By the way, my hourly earnings are one-half the minimum wage for any other occupation—A humble waitress.

Dear Mrs. Post: As a child I was taught that when visiting it was proper to offer to help the hostess with the dishes, if no hired help is present.

I do this when I visit, but I find only a very few of my guests ever offer.—Loretta K.

Dear Loretta: In the house of a good friend or relative it is thoughtful to offer to help with the dishes. Don't, however, insist if the hostess refuses.

When you are dining with comparative strangers, do not make the offer unless other closer friends do so; then you may indicate you would like to help, too.

Child Is Confused by "Filthy" Book She Found in Her Father's Automobile

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was out at my father's car the other day when I saw a paperback book on the floor, face down. I picked it up without looking at the front, and started reading it. It was FILTHY!

I was doing an errand for my father at the time. I went back into the house as if nothing happened.

Abby, I can't look at my father without almost hating him. Should I tell my mother? I have tried to reason with myself, but it doesn't work. What should I do? You are the only one I can turn to. Please answer soon as I've worried myself nearly sick.

WORRIED GIRL

DEAR WORRIED: You don't say how old you are, but from your handwriting I would guess your age to be about 12 or 13.

First, let me explain that just because you judge a book to be "filthy," doesn't necessarily mean that it is. Even the Supreme Court cannot agree on that. (By some standards, parts of the Bible can be considered "filthy.")

Don't tell your mother. Don't "hate" your father. And remember that just as one swallow doesn't make a summer, neither does one book reflect one's moral standards or literary taste.

DEAR ABBY: Usually I agree with your views, but this is too much! I quote you, Dear Abby: "A wife is responsible for keeping her husband's clothes in shape."

This is absolutely Victorian. If he isn't helpless why can't he keep his own clothes in shape?

Perhaps if the man had been taught to do things for himself as a boy, instead of looking to his mother for valet service, the problem wouldn't be present in his adult life.

The only service a wife or mother OWES are those services the family cannot perform for themselves. Anything else she does is a gift of love, not a responsibility.

BUSY, TOO

DEAR BUSY: I can't think of ANYTHING a family cannot do for themselves if they have to (witness, motherless homes). All right, let me put it this way. "A wife—as a gift of love—should keep her husband's clothes in shape."

DEAR ABBY: A most heartbreaking incident has occurred in my life and I am puzzled as to the right thing for me to do. My son and his wife have separated. They have one child. And unlike most stories you hear about mothers-in-law, I was very fond of my daughter-in-law and she of me.

Inasmuch as her parents lived out of state, I always took care of my little grandson on those occasions when my daughter-in-law wanted a free afternoon. Naturally, I love this child deeply.

Would it be right for me to let her know that I shall continue to help her in this way whenever she needs me? Of course I would not speak of her troubles with my son, nor would I take sides. I have been advised to steer clear of her entirely. What do you say?

PERPLEXED
DEAR PERPLEXED: Feeling as you do, I see no reason why you should not make the offer.

The most important part of any good wig is the foundation or netting. By examining and trying it on, you are able to feel the difference between a good or a cheap wig. The bonnet built in the front area is the greatest comfort in a wig. The life of a good hand-tied wig depends greatly on how they the sections of hair are, when crocheted into the base. The best wig available will be detected by parting the hair with your fingers and examining a one-inch-square of the wig's base. If there are any groups of hair crocheted in such corner of the wig's base, and the knots are not extremely visible, this wig will last many years longer than one that has larger sections of hair crocheted into it. There are wigs that fit a one-inch-square anywhere from five or less tufts of hair. The tufts of hair are thicker, thus causing a larger knot. These larger knots will loosen much faster after repeated servicing, than small tufts know. So watch for small tufts and knots at base of wig.

NEXT WEEK: Sizing a wig.

Saigon Is in Position to Defy U.S. on Reform--Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case suggested today the heavy U.S. military involvement in Vietnam has so trapped the Johnson administration that the Saigon government can ignore demands for basic civil reforms.

Case, a New Jersey Republican and a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said plans to dispatch 45,000 additional U.S. troops emphasize so deeply involved that we can't withdraw, and the South Vietnamese, knowing this, feel free to ignore our requirements."

"I am convinced that the American people will not accept such a position," he said. "Yet the President's decision to send more troops is hard to reconcile with any conclusion other than that the administration has allowed itself to be trapped into this intolerable dilemma."

Case's views were in a prepared Senate speech.

President Johnson said again

Monday U.S. goals in the war are limited to stopping aggression "to assure a small and struggling nation the chance to chart its own future in freedom."

His remarks came at a White

Board May Cut Nursing Center

Pontiac's Board of Education is expected to approve the discontinuation of the Pontiac Practical Nurse Center tomorrow night at its first regular meeting in six weeks.

The center's advisory board has recommended that Oakland Community College take over the center.

Other items on the agenda include arrangements for orientation meetings with parents whose children will be in the unique self-concept program at Bethune School.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Pontiac School District Administration Building, 350 E. Wide Track.

House ceremony at which he presented a Medal of Honor to Marine Gunnery Sgt. Jimmie E. Howard for valor in Vietnam.

Johnson made no reference to the Navy's earlier announcement that two of its attack planes were missing and presumed downed in Red China.

That announcement also brought little comment from senators who last week complained that bombings within 10 miles of the border were increasing the risk of Chinese intervention.

VERY OMINOUS

But Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said the straying of the planes over Red Chinese soil was "most unfortunate and very ominous."

"They're so sure China won't intervene," Fulbright said. "I don't know how they can be so sure when they shoot down warplanes of ours over their territory."

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said the encroachment on Communist China "illustrates to me the risk of wider war, which we're continually assured we do not seek."

Case said in his speech the administration has failed to bring about "these social and political changes in South Vietnam and those reforms in the South Vietnamese government and military establishment without which victory" is impossible.

LOOKS LIKE TRAVESTY

Unless President Johnson produces some credible evidence of progress toward those goals, he said, "We shall be unable to avoid the conclusion that there will be no American in-task is beyond the capacity of his administration."

Case said the administration has "oversold" South Vietnam's Sept. 3 elections, which he said have taken on "the appearance of travesty" instead of promising "a significant step toward nationhood."

Despite contentions by some of Johnson's senatorial critics that the baiting may be rigged by the Saigon military regime, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said he hopes there will be no American in-

'Budget Cut Needed for Tax OK'

By EDMOND LABRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — A dramatic demonstration of administration budget-cutting is needed to assure House passage of President Johnson's proposed income tax hike, say some reluctant backers.

But no one has come up yet with a formula for whittling the budget—not only effectively but also in a manner guaranteed to soothe the voters at home—and so the measure faces deep trouble in the House, they add.

The tax increase proposal has been getting concentrated spotlight treatment ever since President Johnson suggested tacking a 10 per cent surcharge on existing income taxes. Public hearings by the House Ways and Means Committee, with top governmental and private figures as witnesses, have kept the wattage high.

Administration witnesses have spoken of reducing spending by amounts comparable to the $7.5 billion the tax increase is estimated to yield, thus taking a double bite out of a deficit which, if left to grow, might reach $29 billion.

INTRICATE JOB

Republicans and a number of vocal Democrats have insisted Congress should not consider a tax increase until the budget is cut as much as possible. But budget cutting is an intricate, piecemeal job, and always open to the charge by unfriendly members of Congress that some claimed economies really are figure juggling.

So far, the administration spokesmen, challenged for details, have been able only to promise reviews of all programs, cuts wherever possible and the like.

There has been some exploration of a possible bill that would combine a tax increase and a spending limitation—a package some advocates of economies might find it hard to vote against. But, given Congress' rigid organization, with each committee fiercely defending its jurisdiction, such a combination measure would be extremely hard to arrange.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee suggested a new approach to the problem of limiting spending, several months ago. He introduced a bill to set up a blue ribbon commission of private citizens to review government programs, new and old, and to report on which produced the most and which the least for the money spent, which may now be obsolete and which should have priority in case of retrenchment.

LACK OF ACTION

But there has been no action on the legislation. The White House, congressional sources say, declined to back it after some inquiries indicated it would run into the usual thickets of congressional jealousies, with shying off from backing it senior members insisting they could make better choices among programs than any outsiders.

House members who talk about mail from home agree there is no popular clamor for a tax increase. But it is not always easy to judge how strongly the constituents feel against an increase, and how much they might be swayed by the arguments that a huge deficit means inflation, tight money and high interest.

A sampling of ways and means committee members illustrated the variation in home folks' moods.

One member said mail was sharply up, all of it on the tax issue, and "not one single letter for the tax."

Others reported heavy mail, predominantly but not entirely antitax. Another said he had received a significant number of messages from businessmen urging some tax increase, but shying off from backing it

Auto Chief Predicts Sales Slash

Business World Hits Surtax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's carefully prepared case for a 10 per cent tax increase has been dealt a heavy blow from the business world.

While the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) was urging higher taxes yesterday, the board chairman of the financially troubled American Motors Corp. was declaring that the President's proposed surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes could reduce sales by 100,000 cars next year.

AMC Chairman Roy D. Chapin Jr. told newsmen at a press preview of 1968 cars in New York that the surtax "would reduce by about $7 billion" the amount consumers could spend on cars and other products.

Since the health of the auto industry is a key factor in the health of the nation's economy, it seemed likely that Chapin's assessment would make the administration's job of selling the tax increase to the skeptical House Ways and Means Committee that much more difficult.

As for the NAM's support for the President's plan, even that was qualified. The organization's president, W. P. Gullander, told the Ways and Means panel yesterday that the 10 per cent surcharge would be too much.

By reducing federal spending, Gullander indicated, Congress could get by with a 6 per cent surtax to reduce an "intolerable" $23 billion budget deficit expected by the end of this fiscal year.

Meantime, with an eye on the economy-minded House, Johnson took the unusual step of commending its appropriations committee for cutting the fiscal 1968 budget of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) by $234 million to $4.86 billion.

Ordinarily, the President said in signing the NASA authorization bill yesterday, he would have opposed such a cut. But, he noted, conditions have changed greatly since he made his budget request in January.

The nation now faces increased expenditures, reduced revenues, a huge deficit and a tax increase, he said. Against this background, "some hard choices must be made" to distinguish between "the necessary and the desirable."

A Suburb's Suburb . . . That's Avon Twp.

PICTORIAL STORY

By JEAN SAILE

Avon Township is suburbia. From the older settled flatland of the south to the modern home spilling across its northerly hills, Avon Township is suburban in character and inclination.

Few farms are left where 10 years ago the easterly Oakland County area was largely rural. Of its MRS. SAILE estimated 20,000 population, some 70 per cent work outside the township.

With the incorporation earlier this year of its central shopping core as the City of Rochester has come the twin move to incorporate the remainder of the township.

The latter is admittedly an effort to prevent Rochester's annexation of some of Avon's high tax-base industries.

The two areas — both attractive and both growing — are tied inextricably together by location and by the concerted planning program carried out over the past 15 years.

TO JOIN FORCES

There is official and unofficial hope in the minds of many that the two governments will yet join forces.

Township Supervisor Cyril Miller, in office since 1953, attributes much of the desirability of the area to the planning initiated in the 1950s when it first became apparent that Oakland County communities would feel the coming population surge.

As a result a master zoning ordinance setting the boundaries and attempting a fair distribution of residential - industrial - commercial area was adopted this year.

The new ordinance takes into account an updating of services now going on within the township. Not the least of these is the partially completed M59 freeway which traverses the southerly portion of the community.

The township has voted $17 million to take part in the proposed Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor project and plans are proceeding for laterals which will eventually drain the whole area.

Steps have been taken to combine existing subdivisions water systems into a township-wide water system.

Until recently, except for that area around the City of Rochester, the township was dependent on individual septic tanks and independent wells.

Now policed by an eight-man patrol supplementing the services of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, the township boasts two fire departments with plans for a third and a contract with the City of Rochester for further protection.

For these and other services including quality schools both in the Rochester and Avondale districts, a home owner is apt to pay between $43-$48 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized.

Residents are about to be availed of the services of the Rochester Branch of Crittenton General Hospital, dedicated in recent ceremonies. For many years Avon Center Hospital, an osteopathic facility, has been the only local treatment center.

Having a major influence on the community is Oakland University which with Michigan Christian College has given Avon a high percentage of resident educators.

Another sort of school, Leader

Dogs for the Blind, Inc., of Avon Township, has brought fame to the area. Students come from all over the world to receive their leader dogs and a new lease on life.

HOME OF INDUSTRY

Avon Township is the home of Parke-Davis Laboratories, a long-time enterprise constantly expanding; of National Twist Drill and Tool Co., which employs more local residents than any other concern; and several other industrial concerns including Detroit Broach and the new Controlled Data Corp., Rochester Division.

Industry, according to Clerk Thelma Spencer, makes up some 15 per cent of the $77-million township valuation.

There are many residents who want the percentage to go no higher. Several court battles have been fought to prevent other light industrial concerns from taking root.

A community conscious population likes the present ratio, and several of them have been willing to fight for it.

"What they don't understand," said Miller, "is that two-thirds of the income from an industry comes from personal property, not from real estate."

He feels there can be no further holding back on development.

Former Settlement Possesses a Rich History

Reportedly the site of the first settlement in Oakland County, Avon Township has a rich history, not the least of which relates to the former settlement of Stony Creek.

Once a thriving community, Stony Creek — now the site of the Dr. Sarah Van Hoesen Jones farm at Tienken and Washington roads — boasted a variety of enterprises and even had its own post office.

Settled first by the Lemuel Taylor family in 1823, the town grew to include two saw and grist mills, a chair-makers and wheelwright's shop, a blacksmith shop, a general store, a hotel, a woolen mill and also a school.

The woolen mill, run by Philander Ewell, at one time processed a reported 16,000 pounds of wool yearly. A team and sale wagon were on the road constantly disposing of the material to the local settlers.

Attesting to the community's onetime residents is the old Stony Creek Cemetery on Romeo Road west of Runyon Road. There such names as Millers, Taylors and Millers can be found.

The site of the new Stony Creek Cemetery on East Tienken near Sheldon was the former location of what is reportedly Michigan's first Masonic Lodge. Old-timers remember a light kept burning constantly on the site.

Known in those days as Mount Moriah, the hill was recently deeded by Dr. Van Hoesen Jones, herself a descendant of one of the first pioneer families, to the township.

Early settlers were said to be attracted to the area by its rich land, fed by the Clinton River and the Paint, Stony, Sargent and Galloway creeks.

The southerly portion of the township, most level of the area, was at one time covered with trees. Those have been mostly removed through the efforts of the many sawmills which used to be in operation.

HOLDOVER

A holdover from the olden days is Yates Cider Mill which in 1963 marked its centennial. Still pressing cider, the mill continues the business for which it was first built.

The Yates Mill sits at the end of the ill-fated canal which at one time was to provide water transportation clear across Michigan. Dug from Mount Clemens, it was abandoned with the advent of the railroad.

Until that time, such a plan

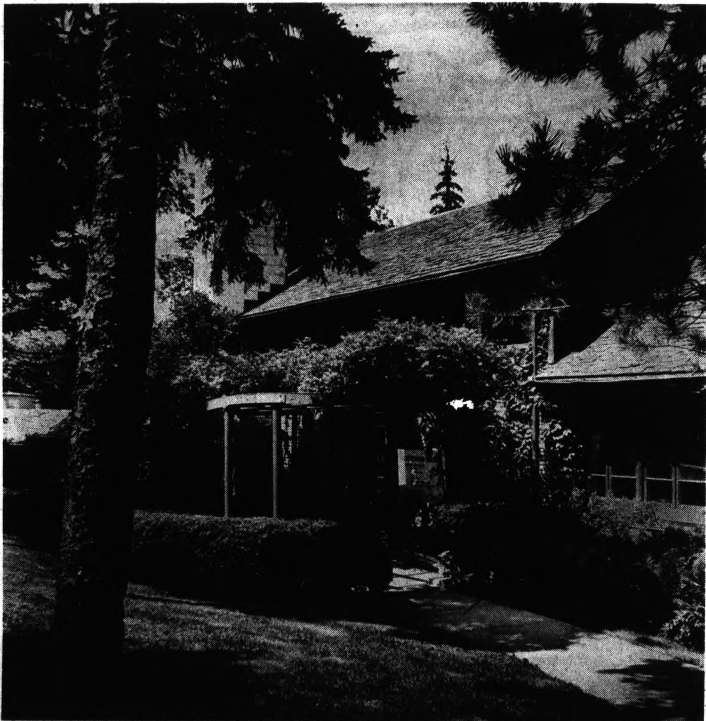

had appeared to guarantee easier transportation than had the old corduroy and plank roads in use in the "good" areas. A stage had at one time served the area, running from Almont to Royal Oak.

Avon Township met for the first time as an organized governmental unit on April 6, 1835. The township at that time encompassed much more land than it does now, spreading over Oakland, Addison and Oxford Townships.

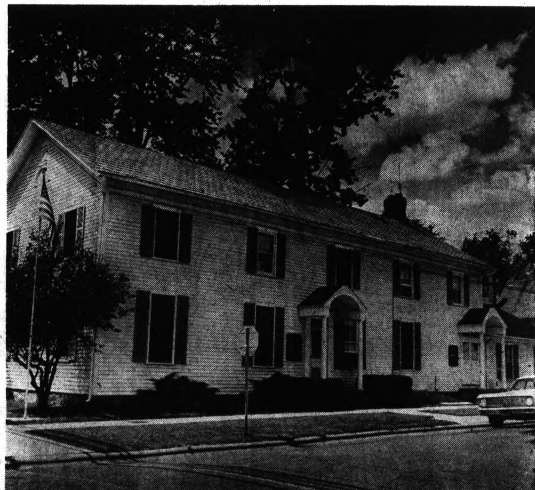

Old records still kept in the Township Hall authenticate its beginnings.

LANDMARK — Yates Cider Mill, built on the Clinton River when it was still a major means of transportation, today still turns out apple cider by means of its water-powered press. There are still a number of apple orchards in the community, although their number is decreasing.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE BRAIN

QUESTION: How does the brain change thought into words?

ANSWER: Although we may not realize it, speech starts in the brain. Our brains are constantly receiving messages from our sense organs, such as the eye and ear. Jack, represented by the large head, has seen his pal Joe across the street. The memory center in his brain reminds him that Joe is his chief table tennis rival. Jack's thought center, located in the top front of his skull, decides it would be fun to play another game with Joe.

This decision goes to the speech and body movement centers, which in turn send commands down through the nerves to the muscles of those parts of the body which must be put into action if Jack is to yell to Joe across the street.

Now, many things happen. Air, forced through the voice box or larynx, passes over the vocal chords and makes sound vibrations, which, passing through the mouth cavity, are modified by the positions of the tongue and lips into recognizable words. So Jack sends his yell of invitation.

Fear of Middle Age Is Worse Than Condition

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — In what has been called "the age of anxiety," one of the things that make people most anxious is the fear of middle age. They dread it as if it were some mysterious malady that would pounce upon them in the night and rob them of their joy in living.

Actually, middle age isn't usually sudden or strikingly crippling. Its onset is so gradual that millions of people have suffered it for years without noticeable loss of zest in living and, in fact, without even realizing they had become middle-aged.

Any ailment that doesn't affect its victims any more than that can't be all bad. The truth is that the fear of middle age is generally worse than the condition itself.

MANY INDICATORS How can one tell when one is middle-aged? There are literally hundreds of indicators, depending upon the individual. But you've probably reached that point if—

Summer after summer, the water in the lake you swim in seems to be getting colder with the passage of the years.

The barber you go to regularly appears quite a bit baldier than when he first started cutting your hair.

Your wife doesn't fuss at you if you don't take her dancing as much as you used to. In winter, she now volunteers to help you shovel snow off the driveway as she doesn't want you to overexert yourself.

SONS IN COLLEGE

Most of the bachelors you used to play poker with have sons in college, and some carry pictures of grandchildren in their wallets.

You worry less about having to wear bifocals than about where you last put them down.

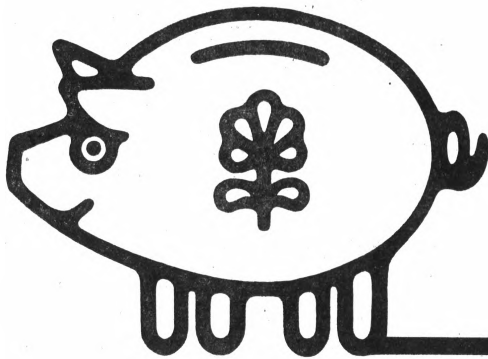

Three-fourths of the foods you enjoy best are on a list that the doctor suggests you would do well to cut down on or do without altogether.

That's middle age. But if you relax and enjoy it, it won't seem half as bad as you feared.

Satchmo Stars

LOWELL (AP) — Louie (Satchmo) Armstrong, famed jazz trumpet player, headlines the entertainment this week at the Lowell Show Boat which opened Monday night. The annual show boat continues through Saturday aboard the Robert E. Lee docked along the shores of the Flat River at this Kent County community.

Earth Does React to Theft of 'Treasure'

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Roman naturalist Pliny (23-79 A.D.) held that earthquakes were protests from mother earth against wicked miners who stole gold, silver, and other precious things from her treasure chest.

Modern seismologists, of course, consider this to be nonsense. Still . . .

If you had visited Shenandoah, Pa., back in the 1930s, or Picher, Okla., last July, you might have thought they had been hit by an earthquake.

And you would have been right in assuming that what you saw was a manifestation of mother earth's reaction to the deeds of miners, wicked or not.

In Shenandoah, pavements sagged and houses tilted as a result of the collapse of worked-out coal mines which had been dug deep under the city.

CAUSED BY CAVE-IN

In Picher, similar damage was caused by the cave-in of an abandoned subterranean zinc mine.

Far more widespread disaster has been caused by man's pumping of oil, gas, and water out of the ground.

What has been named "geological subsidence" was first noticed in Texas in the early 1920s, according to Sullivan S. Marsden Jr. and Stanley N. Davis of Stanford University.

"At the edge of Galveston Bay," they reported in a recent issue of Scientific American, "an area of several square miles subsided by three feet or more, cracks appeared in the ground, and the Gaillard Peninsula sank below the surface of the bay."

PETROLEUM WITHDRAWN

The area affected was above the famous Goose Creek oil field where many millions of barrels of petroleum were rapidly drawn from the underlying rock strata.

In the 1940s and 1950s at Long Beach, Calif., the removal of oil from what was then the third largest field in the United States caused the ground to sink as much as 28 feet in an area of 22 square miles.

Buildings, pavements, railroad tracks, and bridges were wrecked, and a power plant and the Long Beach Naval Shipyard were damaged. The total loss: upwards of $100 million.

Much vaster areas are sinking in California's San Joaquin Valley as the result of four decades of pumping of underground water for irrigation.

SIMILAR REASONS

Subsidence for similar reasons—withdrawal of fluid from underground pools—has made trouble in Mexico City, Tokyo, Venezuela, Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Houston and London.

Pumping water under pressure into the drained strata has helped to halt ruinous subsidence in some regions.

Pliny may have been wrong about the cause of earthquakes. But he was right about one thing—mother earth does, indeed, react to man's theft of her subterranean treasures.

The geological effects, Marsden and Davis said, are "extensive and alarming."

Tigers in High Spirits for Minnesota Series

DETROIT (UPI) — The crucial five-game set with the first-place Minnesota Twins opens tonight, and the Detroit Tigers are ready for the showdown.

The Tigers, in high spirits after their doubleheader sweep of the Cleveland Indians Sunday, move into tonight's twi-nighter in fourth place — but just two games off the American League lead shared by Minnesota and Chicago.

With the Boston Red Sox just a game off the pace, the Tigers need repeats of their sharp, aggressive Sunday performance, when Detroit looked like a pennant-winning team for one of the few times this year.

When they finished the series with Minnesota, the Tigers can be as high as three games ahead of the Twins, or as low as seven games behind them.

Although the Tigers man for man look as solid as any of the contenders, the team just hasn't been playing up to its capabilities for the last 2½ months. While other teams have had long streaks of sharp performance, the Tigers have been in and out of trouble since early June.

The run of injuries that sidelined Al Kaline for weeks and have made Willie Horton a tentative starter every day contributed to the team's woes and it's been only recently that Detroit seems to be getting back on surer footing.

Their three-for-four weekend series with Cleveland left them in good position for the showdown with the Twins tonight.

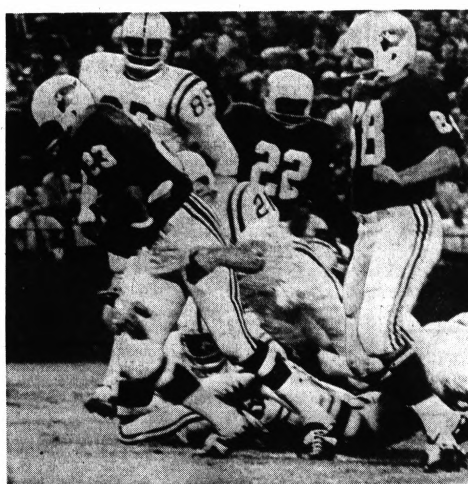

READY TO WORK

Manager Mayo Smith had his four starters and Dave Wickersham ready to work and only Don Wert among the regulars will be out of action.

"Al Kaline and Bill Freehan will play both doubleheaders with the Twins," Smith said Monday, implying this is an all-or-nothing series. "Freehan will be the first baseman against left-handed pitching. We can rest these two and others later if they need it."

"What we need now," Smith said, "is for somebody to get hot. And the whole team will catch fire."

Smith plans to use righthander Earl Wilson (16-9) in the first game tonight against Minnesota righthander Dean Chance (16-8). Lefthander Mickey Lolich (7-12) faces lefty Jim Kaat (9-12) in the nightcap.

ALMOST FREE TO FLY — St. Louis Cardinal halfback Johnny Roland (23) needs only one more step to break free for a possible touchdown last night in the first quarter of a National Football League exhibition contest. Baltimore's Rick Volk (21), a former University of Michigan standout, makes the tackle at the Colts' 12-yard line. St. Louis won, 9-5, as no touchdowns were scored.

Ex-Yank Gives Red Sox First Trade Dividend

By the Associated Press

Elston Howard has traveled the pennant race road enough times to know all the curves and bends, but young Steve Jones can be forgiven if he isn't quite so familiar with it yet.

Howard, 38, was picked up by pennant hopeful Boston from New York three weeks ago and paid his first dividend Monday night with a ninth inning single that drove in the winning run in the Red Sox' 6.5 victory over Washington.

And Jones, a young left-hander called up by Chicago from Indianapolis last week, got credit for his first major league victory as the White Sox squeezed into a tie for the American League lead with idle Minnesota by edging New York 4-3.

In the only other American League games played Monday, California dropped Cleveland, 6-4, and Baltimore defeated Kansas City, 5-2.

Howard, who played in nine World Series with the Yankees, was delighted at finally making a contribution to the Red Sox' pennant push. Monday's victory left the third place Sox one game back of Chicago and Minnesota.

Chicago's Jones had Howard's old Yankee teammates stymied on one hit and was leading 4-0 when he suddenly ran into trouble in the sixth inning.

Mickey Mantle and Joe Pepitone walked and Bill Robinson singled one run across. Hoyt Wilhelm relieved Jones and yielded a two-run double to Charlie Smith before shutting the door.

ANOTHER SAVE
It was Wilhelm's 11th save this season. Rocky Colavito slammed a two-run homer for the White Sox and Ron Hansen's sacrifice fly drove in what turned out to be the winning run.

California came from behind to beat Cleveland in a game enlivened by a beanball incident that led to the ejection of Cleveland's Tony Horton.

Horton was struck on the helmet by Angel reliever Jim Coates and started after the pitcher. Both benches emptied as Horton and Coates tangled near the pitcher's mound.

Bubba Morton's pinch double sparked a three-run comeback that gave the Angels the victory. Morton's hit tied the score in the fifth inning and then Jim Fregosi singled him home with California's go-ahead run.

Fred Whitfield and Larry Brown homered for the Indians.

Baltimore's Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, each slammed a home run and drove in two runs apiece in the Orioles' victory over the beleaguered Athletics.

Frank cracked his 24th homer in the fourth and then doubled in the tie-breaking run in the three-run eighth capped by Brooks' 17th homer.

It was the first game for Kansas City under interim Manager Luke Appling.

Doolittle Greet 'Biggest, Fastest' W. Michigan 11

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Western Michigan University head football coach Phil Doolittle says his "biggest, strongest and fastest" team turned up for the first day of preseason drill Monday.

Doolittle led the 60 candidates for the team, including 29 returning lettermen, were bigger and in better shape than he had expected.

"This is the best shape the players have ever been in," Doolittle said. "This has been one of our best opening days."

Doolittle last season led the Broncos to a 7-3 record and a share of the Mid-American Conference championship.

The team went through some contact work Monday. The pace quickens today as the squad starts two workouts a day.

The double sessions will continue until classes start Aug. 23. The first full scrimmage Saturday, three weeks before the Broncos' opening game against Miami of Ohio in Kalamazoo.

A weigh-in was held for the players Monday and 47 of them tipped the scales at 200 pounds or over. More than half of them had put on weight since last season.

Tackle Terry Pierce of Three Rivers was the heavy-weight champ of the team, weighing in at 278 pounds. Tackle Mike Sinek of South Bend, Ind. was a close second at 273.

Akron Grid Boss Fires Rote, Walker; Rymkus to Coach

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Frank Hurn, owner of the Akron Vulcans of the Continental Football League, fired General Manager Tobin Rote and head coach Doak Walker Monday.

Named to the combined post of head coach and general manager was Lou Rymkus, former assistant coach of the Vulcans.

Hurn said he was upset by mental errors by the Vulcans, who lost their second of three exhibition games Saturday night to the Norfolk Neptunes in Norfolk, Va., 33-20.

"I did not feel I was getting a professional job out of Rote and Walker, although I was paying them top salaries," said Hurn, owner of a Chicago construction company.

The combined salary of Rote and Walker has been estimated at $40,000.

"I have too much money tied up in this to have it spoiled by anyone," Hurn said. "I intend to present Akron with a first class team, and I will use the methods I deem necessary to reach this goal."

Injured Bosox Slugger Is Reported Improving

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Conigliaro is reported "markedly improved," and the Boston Red Sox say doctors believe the injured slugger will be able to start working within three weeks.

Conigliaro, who suffered a fractured cheekbone and other injuries when hit by a pitch last Friday night, was officially placed on the disabled list Monday night. This means he can't play for 21 days, but the Red Sox are hoping he'll be able to start working out before then to get back in shape.

The young outfielder remains confined to Santa Maria Hospital in nearby Cambridge.

Lengthy Meeting Held

A's, Finley Feud Quiets Down

BALTIMORE (AP) — The feud between the Kansas City Athletics and owner Charles O. Finley stood at a silent impasse today as both sides declined comment on a lengthy clubhouse meeting which ended about 1:30 a.m.

For the moment, at least, Finley appeared to hold the upper hand — having fired Manager Alvin Dark, released first baseman Ken Harrelson, suspended pitcher Lew Krausse and fined pitcher Jack Aker.

But Finley's silence after a meeting of almost two hours indicated he may not know his next move in the explosive situation.

Harrelson, given his unconditional release Monday after criticizing Finley, said the controversial Kansas City boss "may have gotten in deeper than he thinks this time."

"Finley made one mistake after another in the last week," Harrelson said. "The biggest one was firing Alvin Dark."

Dark was dismissed at 5:30 a.m. Sunday, following an all-night meeting in a Washington hotel. The meeting was called after the players met Saturday and released a statement which supported Dark and accused Finley of undermining team morale by using an informant to spy on the team.

The Athletics also contended that an incident on an airline trip from Boston to Kansas City, which led to the suspension of Krausse, had been overplayed.

Aker, the team's player representative who was fined $250 for missing cur-few last Saturday night, said the Krausse incident was not the start of the trouble but rather had "brought it into the open."

The players' statement which followed, however, has become the focal point of the dispute while the underlying reasons remain hidden.

Prior to Monday night's Baltimore-Kansas City game, the A's held a clubhouse meeting and voted unanimously not to retract the statement which they said had been requested by Finley.

Finley, then in Chicago, asked Aker to withhold the announcement on the retraction refusal until he arrived for further discussion. But after another unanimous vote, the decision was officially released.

The players seemed determined to stand their ground, but following the post-game meeting with Finley they seemed much more subdued. Finley answered newsmen's questions testily with "no comment" answers which became increasingly louder.

Lions Prepare for NFL Foe; Eddy on Sideline

Having beaten what are considered two of the best teams in the American Football League, Buffalo and San Diego, the past two weeks, the Detroit Lions get back to NFL competition with an exhibition game against the Baltimore Colts Saturday night.

In approxing the 38-17 triumph over the Chargers Sunday, head coach Joe Schmidt lauded the clutch third-down quarterbacking of Karl Sweetan and showed concern over the indefinite loss of highly touted rookie Nick Eddy and linebacker Wally Hilgenberg.

Both were injured in the San Diego game. Eddy with a sprained right knee and Hilgenberg with torn ligaments in his left knee.

Eddy, the former Notre Dame All-

America halfback drafted by the Lions as a redshirt two years ago, got an estimated $300,000 for signing. The first time he touched the football in a game as a Lion he ran a punt back 75 yards for a touchdown against Buffalo.

He carried eight times for 35 yards against San Diego. In the third period, he gained five yards, then rolled in agony after the tackle.

"I had my leg extended straight and somebody fell on it," he said.

Hilgenberg, the backup man behind Mike Lucci at middle linebacker, is a four-year veteran from Iowa. At 235, he has been improving all the time.

"He'll probably miss almost all of the season," said Lion business manager Loyal Smith. "These things usually take three months."

Hilgenberg was to undergo surgery today.

DAILY EXAMINATION

Eddy was to undergo daily examinations on his knee, with no set time for returning to practice. He'll miss Saturday's game, however.

After a lackluster 13-7 loss at Denver to the Broncos, they came back with a 19-17 victory over the Buffalo Bills, then routed the Chargers.

The strides in performance since the Denver loss have been enormous, but the question remains, what will they do in the NFL?

"At least we'll get a chance to see what we're really like," said new Coach Joe Schmidt of the Baltimore game.

Schmidt had nothing but praise for quarterback Sweetan, who led the Lions to a 31-3 halftime lead.

Tickets for the Colts' game can be obtained in Pontiac at Osburn's Men's Store downtown. Orders for season tickets are also still available and can be made at Osburn's.

78 Players Invited for Football Drills at Michigan State

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Coach Duffy Daugherty has invited 78 men to return for early fall football drills at Michigan State University.

Beginning Sept. 1, the Spartans, defending Big Ten champions, will hold two workouts each day to prepare them for the season opener with Houston Sept. 23.

Twenty-five lettermen will be the core around which Daugherty hopes to build a Spartan squad that he hopes can capture an unprecedented Big Ten title for three years running.

Strategy With Safety Helps Cardinals Win

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It looks like the St. Louis football Cardinals have found the perfect defense—the other team score.

St. Louis punter Joe Randall downed the ball in the end zone with less than two minutes to go and gave the Baltimore Colts a two-point safety. The Cardinals held on to beat Baltimore 9-5 in an NFL exhibition game Monday night.

Charley (St. Louis head coach) Charley Winner told me to get the safety and then punt," Randall said. "I didn't even think of it until Charley said it."

Charley didn't think of it until field goal kicker Jim Bakken, who won the game with three field goals, came up with the idea.

"Jim came over and suggested it," Winner said. "We thought about it and figured it would take a touchdown to beat us either way, and this way we figured to get better field position."

LONE BOOT

Bakken kicked two field goals in the second quarter to give the Cardinals a 6-0 lead. His third quarter field goal was a 51-yard effort.

Baltimore scored with three seconds left in the second quarter on a Lou Michaels' kick from 37 yards.

"It really doesn't matter how many field goals I get," Bakken said. "The big thing in the exhibition game is to get my timing down."

Shoulder Ache Hampers Arnie

Palmer Ailing on Eve of Rich Tourney

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—Arnold Palmer complained today of his first shoulder ailment ever on the eve of the $250,000 Westchester Open—richest pro golf.

Palmer was undergoing treatment for a muscle spasm in his right shoulder and didn't know how that would affect him in the Westchester, which starts Thursday in Harrison, N.Y.

Any kind of finish in that tournament would recapture for Palmer the PGA tour's one-season, money-winning record.

Palmer's shoulder started hurting Tuesday in the first round of the Pennsylvania Open on his home course. He was four strokes off the pace.

Palmer didn't want to alibi his score, a four-over par 75, but he spent more time exercising his shoulders than swinging his clubs.

NEVER BEFORE

"I might have caught a cold in it, but I'm not sure," he said. "I've never had this kind of trouble before."

Palmer was playing in the state tournament for the first time since he turned pro in 1954, making good on an old promise.

However, whether he'd be in the finish was questionable. His first prize in the Pennsylvania Open is $300, compared to $50,000 the winner will receive at Westchester.

Other major developments in pro football Monday concerned a trade and injuries.

The trade saw the Cleveland Browns acquired flanker Bob Reed from the Los Angeles Rams for a future draft choice. Reed caught 72 passes, 13 for touchdowns, with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the Continental League last season.

OUT FOR SEASON

The Dallas Cowboys announced that center Don Maders will be lost for the season with a knee injury suffered in Sunday's NFL 30-24 exhibition victory over Dallas.

Mike Connelly, a guard and tackle last season, will take over for Maders.

The Green Bay Packers also announced Monday that Lionel Aldridge, who suffered a broken bone above the ankle in last Friday's 18-0 victory over Chicago in an NFL exhibition, will be out for six to eight weeks.

And the Bears said fullback Andy Livingston injured his knee in the Green Bay game and will miss Wednesday night's game against the AFL Kansas City Chiefs.

NFL Saints Happy With QB Strength

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Some pro football coaches have quarterbacks like Johnny Unitas or Bart Starr. Others don't have any — good ones, that is — and they're usually at the bottom of the standings.

First year teams usually fit in the have-not class as far as quarterbacks go. However, it looks like the New Orleans Saints will be an exception to the rule.

Tom Fears, the ex-Vince Lombardi aide who is guiding the Saints through their first year in the National Football League, has not one, not two, but three good quarterbacks — and he wants to keep all three.

Despite a hint or two from Bert Rose, the Saints' general manager, about a trade, Fears said today he plans "to go into the season with three quarterback backs."

Local Entries Starting Bids in Regionals

Pontiac and Waterford state district softball champions launch bids this evening for regional crowns on city diamonds.

Spencer Flour Covering of Waterford takes on Flint Osteopathic Hospital in a Class B tilt at 7:30 at Beaudette Park with the winner moving into the second round against Port Huron at 9 p.m.

In Class D at Northside Park, Pontiac's C.I.O. Local No. 554 drew a bye in the first round and will meet the winner of tonight's 8 o'clock Flint-Port Huron game at 9:30.

Losers in the 'B' clashes to night will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. with the winner advancing to the finals slated for Thursday at 7:30.

The 'D' losers this evening have an 8 p.m. date tomorrow at Northside with the winner moving to the finals Thursday at 8.

Twin Bill Captured by Waterford Men

The Waterford Township churchmen continued to dominate their Pontiac contemporaries in the annual All-Star softball showdowns Saturday at Northside Park.

Waterford's two honor teams dumped the city squads, 5-4 and 16-4, to extend their three-season domination to five straight triumphs.

In sweeping a twin bill for the second year in a row, Waterford rallied for two unearned runs in the Saturday's opener, then coasted in the nightcap.

Fears, "are a very valuable entity and you don't realize it until you get one hurt and only have one."

Fears does realize it, however, and he points out what happened to St. Louis last year after Charley Johnson was hurt and Baltimore a season earlier when Units, along with Gary Cuozzo, now a Saint, were both on the injured list.

ALL VETERANS

The Saints picked up Cuozzo, who asked to be traded, from Baltimore in exchange for their No. 1 draft choice. Earlier, in the expansion draft, Fears acquired Bill Kilmer from the 49ers and Gary Wood from the New York Giants.

Everybody presumed all along that Cuozzo would be the starter. Fears himself as much as said so during the spring and early summer. After the Saints started training, Fears however, began hedging about the No. 1 quarterback spot.

Kilmer, who says he has no intentions of taking a back seat to anybody if he can help it, led the Saints to an exhibition victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and threw the team's only touchdown in a loss to Los Angeles. Cuozzo was ineffective in both games.

Wood, a little scramble for Cornell in the Ivy League, scored a 27-yard touchdown on a bootleg run against Pittsburgh last Saturday before being hurt.

Cuozzo came off the bench, threw one touchdown pass and guided the Saints to their first scoring march. The Saints won 20-17, becoming the first NFL expansion team to ever win two preseason games in the first year.

"They are all doing a great job, thank goodness," says Fears.

BEST PASSER

"Gary's an excellent passer — probably the best passer of the three," Fears says. "Bobby Kilmer also moves the ball very well. He's an inspirational leader. He's a very demanding fellow in that middle and he's doing a real great job."

About Wood, Fears says: "He's a clever little fellow. His passing against St. Louis, I thought was excellent. He was really ringing them in there."

Forest Lake CC Again Crowns Andy Maguire

Andy Maguire, 29-year-old Marquette University student won the Forest Lake Club golf championship for the third straight year by defeating Sandy Mackenzie, 19, in a 36-hole finale Sunday, 3-2.

In first flight Dr. Ron Schmied defeated Ray Lambeck, 4-3, in the women's club championship. Mrs. Duane Fries posted a 54-hole total of 98-101-4-23 with Mrs. Katherine Yost in runnerup spot at 305.

Mrs. Elsie Trapp won the first flight and Yvonne Bowman was second flight winner.

Dodger Rookie Blanks Atlanta for 6th in Row

Last year Bill Singer was losing his grip because of a cold finger. Now he's holding one of the hottest hands in the National League.

The 6-foot-4 Los Angeles rookie pitched a four-hitter and struck out 12 Monday night in blanketing Atlanta 2-0 for his sixth straight victory. The shutout completed a four-game series sweep for the Dodgers over the visiting Braves.

Singer sparked in three late-inning relief appearances for the Dodgers last fall, but had trouble gripping the ball at times because of a mysterious coldness in a finger on his pitching hand.

However, postseason surgery — involving the removal of a piece of rib to correct a pinched nerve — eliminated the problem and the hard-throwing right-hander has overcome a shaky start this year to boost his record to 8-4. In eight starts over the past five weeks he has yielded only six earned runs in a span of 60 2/3 innings.

In other NL action, Pittsburgh rallied the Chicago Cubs 5-1; Houston battered first-place St. Louis 11-4 and Cincinnati shut out San Francisco 2-0.

Bruins' Skater Injures Knee

Defenseman Bob Orr to Be Sidelined

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins announced Monday that defenseman Bobby Orr, the National Hockey League's 1966-67 Rookie of the Year, will be sidelined well into the training season because of a right knee injury.

General Manager Milt Schmidt said he was notified by a Toronto orthopedic surgeon that Orr's knee will be in a cast from two to three weeks. Barring complications Orr is expected to begin skating before the end of September.

Orr suffered a sprained ligament in the knee in an exhibition game against the Canadian Nationals last Thursday in Winnipeg.

Orr, a 19-year-old sensation in his first year out of the amateur ranks, will miss the start of training, which opens Sept. 7 in London, Ont. The Bruins open their 1967-68 season against Detroit on Oct. 11 at Boston Garden.

Ex-Lion Stars Sidelined

The Vulcans open the regular season with a home game against Toronto Saturday.

Rote called the firings "a pathetic situation." He said he has not been paid any money yet, and added that Hurn also owes money to other members of the coaching staff.

Walker was not available for comment.

Rote added that he had an argument with Hurn Monday when he told the owner that bills were piling up and needed to be paid. "Hurn has spent only $2,000 of his own money on this whole operation," Rote said. "I personally loaned him $10,700 and have a note to prove it."

Rymkus was a former tackle for the Cleveland Browns. He was named coach of the year in 1960 when he coached the Houston Oilers of the American Football League to a championship. He also has coached at Green Bay, Los Angeles and Detroit, all in the National Football League.

The status of another assistant coach, Carl Tasseff, formerly of the Baltimore Colts, was undecided.

State Water Toll, Accidents Down

EAST LANSING (AP)—Fewer water accidents and 49 fewer deaths have been reported so far in 1967 than during the same period in 1966, State Police say. But there have been 37 more injuries in water-related mishaps this year, provisional figures show.

Police said this year's totals through last Thursday were 188 killed and at least 157 injuries caused by 396 accidents. At the same point last year, 423 accidents had killed 237 people and injured 194.

The 967 death toll includes 70 swimmers or waders, 46 who fell from banks, docks or piers, 25 boat operators, 15 boat passengers and 13 who fell through ice.

Licensed Drivers Place State 7th

LANSING (AP)—Michigan ranks seventh in the number of licensed drivers with a 4,418,000 as of last year, the State Highway Department reports. This represents an increase of 111,000 drivers from the previous year.

California led in the number of licensed drivers with 10,355 million, followed by New York, 7.6 million; Pennsylvania, 6.3 million; Illinois, 5.82 million; Texas, 5.55 million and Ohio with 5.31 million.

The rate of strontium 90 fallout is more closely controlled by the season of the year than by the date of the most recent atomic blast. It is most prevalent in the spring.

$9,000 Theft Victimizes 2 of Supremes

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Police searched today for burglars who stole $9,000 in furs, jewels and other items from the motel rooms of two members of the Supremes singing group while the girls were performing at the Steel Pier.

Diana Ross of Detroit told police a pearl and diamond necklace valued at $4,000, furs and six wigs, one worth $1,500, were taken from her room at the Seaside Motel last weekend.

Another member of the Supremes, Miss Cindy Birdsong, reported the theft of $700 in clothing, wigs and a portable television set from her adjacent room.

Police said the burglary was the latest of several against entertainers while they performed at night spots in this resort community.

Two weeks ago, singer Dionne Warwick reported the theft of a $1,000 ring from her motel room while she was singing at the Club Harlem.

A police spokesman said many similar burglaries have occurred in Atlantic City this year and in previous years. He said the week-long engagement of the Supremes at the Steel Pier and the appearance of Dionne Warwick at the Club Harlem were "well-publicized."

He added there was no apparent connection between the thefts, but that there were indications that the burglars did not pick motel rooms at random.

Darin Denies Hair's Charge

PARIS (UPI)—Singer Bobby Darin said last night that a 10-year-old American millionaire Huntington Hartford's claim he "monopolized" the grocery heir's striking 25-year-old wife was "absolutely baseless."

Hartford said in London he thought Diane Hartford, his third wife, had flown to Paris from New York Sunday with Darin for the singer's appearance at a Paris nightclub opening.

"I have nothing to do with Mrs. Hartford, and I am unaware whether or not she is coming to France," Darin said. "I really don't know where she is but I want to talk with her before I make any statement," Hartford, 57, said in London.

Pontiac Open Highlight of Local Keg Season

3 Qualifying Weekends

Singles' Meet Finals
Set for Dec. 17

The Pontiac Open Bowling Championship the highlight of the tournament season for local bowlers, is scheduled to take place over five weekends, Nov. 19-Dec. 17 this year.

There will be three weekends of qualifying at nine different sites in Oakland County with the semi-finals slated for Sunday Dec. 10 and the finals for Sunday, Dec. 17.

The dates and sites of the qualifying rounds have not been finalized as yet, however the big feature for qualifying will again be the target score of 600.

This popular feature of the tournament was instituted two years ago. It permits any bowler who with his handicap posts a total of 600 or better, the right to enter the semi-final round of the tournament.

Over 300 bowlers, almost 40 per cent of the total entries, thus were able to compete in the semifinal round each of the past two years.

The 1966 Pontiac Open champion was George Green of Pontiac who carried a 146 average into the tournament with 113 pins handicap. Green won the $800 first prize and huge trophy by posting a 696 total. Runner-up was Chuck Stout a 115-pin handicap bowler who had a total of 686.

Actual's Invitational champion was Neil Ricketts, a 196 average bowler who had a 636 series in this feature part of the tournament.

Jim Rutkowski with 630 was runner-up in the Actual's Invitational.

The tournament, based on 70 per cent handicap of 200 scratch is open to all bowlers who live or bowl in any establishment in Oakland County, and once again the top prizes ranging from $800 for first place are guaranteed.

Bowlers will use their final league average as of 1966-67 in the tournament and the tournament will be conducted in strict adherence to ABC rules.

KEG COUNTER COFFEE BREAK — At Sylvan Lanes a popular spot for bowlers is the coffee counter. John Winkler behind the

Good Bowler Knows Correct Keg Jargon

Following is a typical conversation that may take place any day of the week at a bowling center:

"Our anchor man got a 220 game; he had two doubles, three opens, a turkey, a dime store, and a washout."

Confusing? Not really.

It's just today's bowling jargon and what it really means is that the last man on the team's line-up (anchor man) bowled a 220 game by scoring two strikes in a row (double) bowled several frames without a strike or spare (open), then got three strikes in a row (turkey), a 5-10 split in one frame (dime store), and left the 1-2-10 (washout) in another.

Like every sport, bowling has developed a stylized jargon all its own, designed to quicken communications between the millions who enjoy the nation's No. 1 participant game.

10 Titles Tops in WIBC Play

WIBC's title-winningest member is Mrs. Dorothy Miller of Chicago, Ill., who has won 10 titles in WIBC Championship Tournaments, including six teams, three doubles and one all-events. A close second is the late Mrs. Emma Jaeger of Toledo, Ohio, with nine — two teams, three singles and four all-events. Both are members of the WIBC Hall of Fame.

212 Highest Sanction

The highest season's bowling average ever maintained by a woman in a WIBC sanctioned league is 212, set during the 1966-67 season by Miss Mildred Ignizio, a 20-year-old left-hander from Rochester, N. Y.

The following glossary of bowling terms is offered for more conversation fun on and off the lanes. Clip this article, attach it to your scoresheet, and begin using these terms... you'll surprise your friends!

Auburn Lanes Assists Boys

Retirees Also Have Morning League

Retirees have their chance to bowl and converse every Monday morning at Auburn Lanes, a 10-lane establishment in Auburn Heights that also works very closely with the nearby Auburn Heights Boys' Club.

The establishment plans to have the annual Jaycees' Junior Bowling Tournament and the Tuesday and Wednesday morning Coffee Leagues will be active again.

A Monday evening (9 p.m.) ladies league is being formed, and men's teams are needed, too, for Tuesday at the same time. The lanes have been completely resurfaced and a thorough cleaning has been given the interior.

Pro Women's Meet Won by Kansas Star

The Professional Women Bowlers Association held another of its star-strewn tournaments on the weekend of August 11th, this time in Maple Shade, New Jersey at Cherry Valley Lanes, for 96 members, which was won by Loa Boxberger.

The happy tournament champion in the high scoring event, who hails from Russell, Kansas, knocked on the door loud and clear when she finished second in the PWBA contest which immediately preceded this one in Norwalk, Calif.

Loa Boxberger, along with her husband, operates a pro shop in Russell. She had previously won a 20-game marathon tournament in Jefferson City, Mo. averaging 212.

A STRIKE ADDS . . . — Hazen Hillock of Lake Orion shows his wife the keys to keeping score while practicing at Auburn Lanes. The Hillocks from Lake Orion are very active in the Monday morning senior citizens program at Auburn.

Extensive Alterations at Established Lanes

Changes are evident to Dixie Highway bowlers entering Howe's and Lighthouse Lanes while preparing for the upcoming season.

To the northwest, Mavis Lanes has done some minor upgrading and new manager Ron Mavis (who replaces his older brother Elmer, Jr.) has hopes of making extensive alterations in the near future.

Clarkston's long-established Howe's Lanes features a new paint job inside and out, plus new carpeting and some redecorating.

Owners Barb and Les Howe are starting the new season with a Learn-to-Bowl program this month for all ages.

The establishment's top league is the Friday night Senior House loop. Some open bowling may be available late Monday evenings in addition to on the weekend.

Already blessed with a busy Saturday junior program, the house is organizing a mixed senior citizens Friday afternoon circuit. Reduced rates are in effect daily for both age groups.

DIVISIONALS

Howe's this season will have the State Youth Bowling Association's eastern divisional eliminations. The house men's and women's singles competition will be in April along with the Parent and Child Doubles.

Lighthouse Lanes in Drayton Plains has added a snack bar, relocated its rest rooms and expanded the lounge area. Cow-ers Bill Forcier and Earl Tuttle will enter their second season with a significant increase in the number of leagues.

Some late evening spots are available for teams and individuals. Saturday mornings will feature an American Legion kids program.

Mavis Lanes is initiating a Men's Classic Monday evening for 850 teams. Also starting this year will be a Wig League for women augmented by the house's nursery service.

A Ladies' Learn to Bowl program on weekdays, a merit badge course for the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, and an improved Red Crown Carnival competition are also planned.

New Managers Take Reins

Bowling in the Birmingham-Troy area will find two new managers and some significant face-lifting at three sites for the opening of the new season.

The county's largest establishment, Strike 'n' Spare, has been completely refurbished. Also adding to the new look is Bill McCullough, the 52-lane house's new manager.

McCullough is returning to bowling administration after 15 years. He is the son of a former vice president with Brunswick Corp., Howard McCullough.

Strike 'n' Spare is the site of the annual Great Lakes 200-Pin Tournament each May. The house does have openings for teams at 9:30 p.m. Monday-Thursday, and will be host to the Detroit Bowlerettes Traveling League bowlers.

The changes haven't been as significant at the other two Birmingham establishments. Birmingham Bowl's 30 lanes remain under the guidance of Rod Smith with no changes in the other personnel or the layout.

OPENINGS

Northwood Lanes' manager Jim Milford has openings Monday nights for teams. The their duties and to provide the necessary materials, the sessions are strategically located.

Tonight's clinic is at Champion Hall (formerly the Elks Club) in Rochester. The workshop begins at 7:30 o'clock but materials will be available beginning 6:30.

Huron Bowl Features State Singles Tourney

Huron Bowl's extensive fall bowling program will be featured by the second annual Michigan Invitational Singles championship in November under the sponsorship of the state bowling proprietors' association.

It is a qualifying tournament for the BPAA National All-Star Tournament in addition to carrying a good prize fund, and is expected to attract the leading bowlers in the state.

Locally, Huron's plans include a new Mixed Doubles Classic on Saturday nights, the prestigious Huron Bowl Classic each Friday night, and the Saturday Moonlight Doubles.

In addition, a new league for women on Thursday mornings and the Monday night mixed circuit will carry prize funds consisting of valuable wigs for the women and Polaroid color cameras for the men.

FREE HELP

Stroh's Beer salaried team star Mike Samardzija Jr., again will be giving free instructions Wednesdays. The Pontiac Blind Bowlers will renew their Monday morning league after successfully playing host to the state tournament last spring at Huron.

Evelyn Rembach has been added to the staff and will work with the junior bowlers. Their Saturday program starts at 10 a. m. and includes 1 p. m. and 3 p. m. sessions. The junior leagues will be eligible for the BPAA Youth Bowling Tournaments.

Huron also will be a Beat-the-Champ qualifying establishment.

There will be two Father-and-Son leagues each Sunday. A mixed circuit is being organized to bowl every other Sunday for a 16-match season. Entries are being accepted now.

Two Areas Need Keglers

Bowlers are in demand around Oxford and Lake Orion.

Owner Red Collier at Collier Lanes is seeking a few 850 teams for his Monday night House League, and is hoping to start an Oxford mixed league for Sunday nights.

Baby sitting service is available for women who would like to compete in a Thursday afternoon circuit for the feminine keggers. Moonlight Doubles are held each Saturday night.

PWBA president Margaret Lally and secretary-treasurer Gen Bradley are in charge of the sessions.

Tomorrow they will be at the Elks, Temple in Pontiac, and Thursday's workshop — school is slated for the Dublin Community Center in Union Lake. Each session will start at 7:30 p. m.

Any league or association officer is welcomed to attend.

MILESTONE

The PWBA will reach a milestone when it opens its own office probably early next month in the Riker Building. The membership has grown steadily and is expected to approach the 13,000 level this fall.

More than 12,300 local women belonged last year, a jump of 1,000 members. Other officers are Jo Ann Gohl, first vice-president; Doris Bender, second vice-president; and Dorothy White, sergeant at arms.

Mrs. Lally, the president, reminds members that all sanctioned WIBC bowlers must bowl in sanctioned leagues, though some tournaments will not require sanctioning.

The PWBA's 35th annual city women's tournament next March will be at Sylvan Lanes.

Harry Wells is entering his 11th season at Royal Recreation in Lake Orion with the hopes of building four new leagues at the six-lane establishment.

Among the new loops would be a 9 p. m. Tuesday Classic League, and mixed leagues Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. Boys and girls 10-16 have their Little League program Saturday mornings. The house has new carpeting.

Face Lifting at County Sites

Thursday night Senior House loop features 850-925 teams.

As with the other local lanes, special rates prevail for senior citizens and junior bowlers. In addition, the youngsters have a Saturday morning program at Northwood that is spiced with treats.

Norman (Mike) Morys has succeeded his father Joe as manager at Gold Crown Lanes. The Troy establishment has been repainted inside and out.

A new 925 Classic on Friday nights completes the lineup of leagues, and daily open bowling is also featured. Detroit's All-Star Traveling Classic will visit Gold Crown in November.

Troy's Thunderbird Lanes under Buck Walby has developed its Beat The Champ bowling competition into one of Detroit's most popular television shows. In addition, the house is the site of a team tournament in November and Mixed Doubles in March.

Dick Parent has been added to the counter personnel at night and a new man in the mechanical department is Norm Schubert. He's been busy already as the pinspotters have been extensively reworked.

Choice of Scoring in Effect

Union Lake area pin action will provide the men with a choice of scoring systems.

Cooley Lanes in the village will have the conventional scoring system in effect for all its leagues. The Wednesday Men's Senior House League is foremost for competition.

Point system in Wonderland Lanes Monday Masters League and Thursday Doubles Classic.

Other features of the Cooley Lanes program are the annual Dublin Doubles action in February, the weekly Saturday Moonlight Doubles, and a March visit by the Detroit All Star Traveling Classic.

There will be a Saturday juniors' program, open bowling each day; and some openings exist for a Monday night league at 9:30 p.m. The parking lot has been expanded.

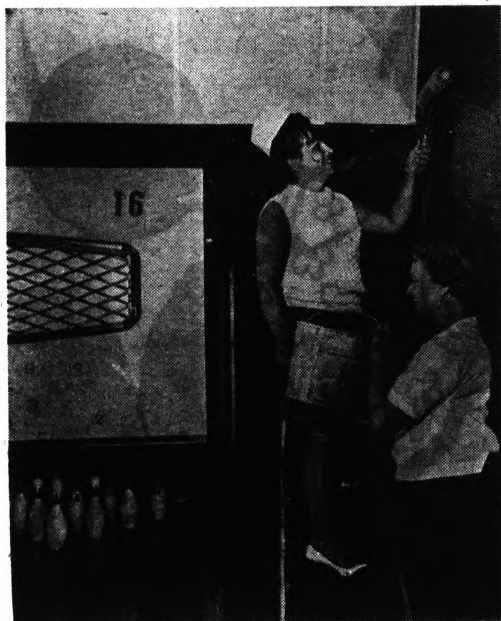

Veteran bowling administrator Joe Morys takes over the reigns at Wonderland. Already the building has been repainted inside and out, plus a pro shop has been added. Fitting and drilling services are now available.

Wonderland, too, will have Saturday Moonlight Doubles, special rates for kids and senior citizens, and is expecting to start a Wednesday Trios Classic.

Morys will conduct a three-hour clinic each Thursday on bowling instruction for anyone interested. There will be high school leagues each weekday afternoon, while a Father-and-Son circuit is slated for Sundays.

The house will sponsor a Mixed Doubles Tournament in April.

Bright Prospect for Savoy

Savoy Lanes will enter its second season with expanded

The Scribners originally began their business at the corner of Telegraph and Menominee with an ice cream-and-sandwich operation.

During World War II a liquor license was obtained and there evolved a dining room and lounge trade that still is prospering. Then two springs ago Bobbie and Dick Scribner broke ground for the addition of the bowling alley to the lounge.

They opened the pin establishment last summer and learned the profession generally by trial and error.

Dick admits they were forced to go into the ball fitting and drilling business after not including this in their original plans.

"We did almost three times the equipment business we anticipated," he reports, but the bowling lineage was unfortunately miscalculated in the opposite direction and an increase in that price was also necessary.

A relaxed, good-times approach with a Saturday Moonlight Doubles competition proved very successful; and Savoy's beginner bowling program has led to an increase of practically one third more leagues this fall.

Some openings still exist for teams and individuals. The house, too, features reduced rates for senior citizens and juniors on weekdays.

Howe's Classic Meets

An organizational meeting is scheduled for Friday, August 25 at 7:30 p.m. for the Howe's Senior Classic Bowling League at Howe's Lanes. All prospective teams are urged to attend.

SEE, IT DOES FIT! — Under their wives' scrutiny, Pontiac's Al Mayworm (left) and Marvin Killian (of Birmingham) find that the bowling ball will fit through the gate device used by owner Dick Scribner to challenge the Savoy Lanes' Moonlight Doubles bowlers when the action slows down.

'300' Doubles Juniors' Slate

Expect More Students to Participate

Brothers Larry and Garry Crake expect to double their junior bowling program exposure this fall and winter; they've bought another bus.

Not every school on the road will be transporting students home in the afternoon. Two will be bound for 300 Bowl with a portion of the more than 500 youngsters who are in school leagues there each week.

The bowling is at reduced rates not only for the kids but also for the senior citizens.

The Crakes have moved the control counter this summer, and have hired Bob Lowry — former promising young bowler who is just returned from a stint in the Air Force — to join the administrative staff.

Also switched is the pro shop and it will have extended hours of operation. New ball returns have been installed along the lanes.

The 300 Thursday night Classic has grown to 16 teams this season. Moonlight Doubles will be run each Saturday. Open bowling at "300" will be limited primarily to daytime and week-ends.

Bowling's Best Friend

Studies show that most bowlers first become interested in the sport through friends or family. WIBC members are encouraged to "Bring a Friend" to bowling this season. Remember the slogan of the National Bowling Council: "Bowling's twice the fun when there's more than one—Bring a Friend."

WIBC Membership Grows

Fiftieth anniversary celebrations and the 21st consecutive season of membership increases were a happy combination during 1966-67 for the Woman's International Bowling Congress.

A nonprofit membership service organization with the purpose of promoting interest in bowling among women, the WIBC was organized on November 29, 1916, in St. Louis, Mo., by 40 women interested in tennis, assisted by bowling proprietor and sometime sports-writer, Dennis J. Sweeney.

WIBC membership last season reached a record high of 2.9 million members in more than 120,000 leagues in every state, Canada, Puerto Rico, Bermuda, and in many other foreign countries where American women bowl.

Sweeney is credited with organizing the first known women's leagues in 1907, and a few women held informal tournaments in which their husbands or fathers participated in 1907-09.

Lakewood Boosts Holiday Happiness

Lakewood Lanes is the bowlers' friend during the Christmas and Thanksgiving Holidays with its policy of providing a fowl per pair of lanes to the high scoring league members.

Owner Bill Kuklinski — a rarity in that he has a clear title to his establishment — also sponsors awards for high game accomplishments during the season.

Kuklinski also takes pride in personally reworking his pinsetters each summer. This year he also found time to have new carpeting installed at the West Huron Street lanes.

Lakeland does have openings for teams and individuals for leagues Tuesday and Wednesday, plus is trying to set up a Friday evening mixed loop.

Bowling's 6 Basic Rules

BOWLING BASICS #1, #2 . . . STANCE AND STARTING POSITION; PUSH AWAY

In the STANCE AND STARTING POSITION (left) you stand straight . . . not too rigid but not slouching, either. Be comfortable and erect. Find a comfortable spot between the waist and shoulders to let the ball rest a moment before you start your approach. At this stage, you should be facing the pins, your hips and shoulders squared to the target.

The PUSH AWAY (right) begins the moment you leave the starting position. It is at this point that mistakes are most likely to be made. With a smooth motion, as you make the first approach step, you push the ball out and down in front of you, not too fast nor too suddenly. Keep the arms extended and be sure the ball is pushed out and down in a straight line. Don't merely drop your arm. The push away should be executed with a smooth, natural motion.

BOWLING BASICS #3, #4 . . . 'PENDULUM SWING'

Now you begin your PENDULUM SWING (left). On the second step, the non-bowling hand releases the ball and moves away to provide a natural balance for your body. By the time your third step has been taken, the ball is at the highest point of your backswing. How high? No higher than shoulder level.

Now you begin the fourth step, a sliding motion (right). Simultaneously, the arm flows forward in the same smooth pendulum action. The right arm is kept straight with the elbow close to the body.

BOWLING BASICS #5, #6 . . . RELEASE, FOLLOW THROUGH

When the ball is RELEASED (left), the thumb comes out a fraction of a second ahead of your fingers. Be sure the ball is well in front of you as it is released. By the time you complete your fourth and last step, the ball is being rolled toward your target.

As in every other sport, the FOLLOW THROUGH (right) is most important to insure a smooth delivery and directional line. Once the ball has been released, the arm follows through in its natural arc. The bowler should hold his position, with the left knee bent, the hips and shoulders square to the target.

CHANGING FASHIONS—Women have taken to bowling faster than any other sport. Today there are 17 million women bowlers and these photos show the change in fashions from the 1920's to the present day. The styles have gone from the mini-knickers to the mini-skirts.

Automation for Scorers

LOS ANGELES, Calif. The age of automation took another giant step forward today with the unveiling here of Automatic Score Computer, a completely automatic system that calculates and prints bowling scores.

Directly linked to sensing devices that feed it information on pins knocked down, Automatic Score Computer prints the bowler's score card with the traditional X's and slashes as well as with numerical totals as the game progresses.

Developers of Automatic Score Computer, said: "We anticipate a mammoth upsurge in bowling since our surveys show that one-third of the people of bowling age are disinterested because scoring has been too cumbersome and difficult.

Moreover, we have found that almost half of the 32 million people who do bowl are confused and annoyed by the present scoring procedure.

North Hill Boss Likes Youthful Atmosphere

Proprietor Lou Koprince at North Hill Lanes apparently likes a youthful atmosphere around his north Rochester establishment.

Not only has he added Oakland University student George

Ellman as an aide to manager Les Williams, the veteran owner is emphasizing beginners instructions for kids with a two-game league for the 8-10 year olds.

During the summer North Hill has had an evening teen-agers mixed league for beginning bowlers. The usual Saturday morning leagues will resume shortly.

This season Oakland U. will have its student league at 9 p. m. Thursdays.

Junior doubles and family doubles tournaments are planned for the winter; and added benefits are scheduled for family outings with a reduced rate program early Sunday.

North Hill, in addition, will have Moonlight Doubles competition Saturday nights beginning next month.

TRAVELERS

A highlight of the spring season will be the visit by the Detroit All-Star Traveling Classic next March.

At the other end of Rochester Road, Hilltop Bowling is entering its 17th season with no important changes. Owner Ray Ludwig has openings for both men and women's teams.

He reports daytime open bowling and special rates for all ages.

The craftsmanship of hand setting pins continues at Rochester Lanes, the eight-lane house downtown. Pin boys are used. Tiny tot bowlers, age 4-8, use duck pin balls when the regular ones are unmanageable.

Detroit Kegler Helen Weston Proud Champ

Helen E. Weston, a secretary-accountant from Detroit, is sitting atop the women's bowling world these days, thanks to a pressure-packed 24-game 4585 total which earned her the World Tournament all events crown in Malmo, Sweden, in July.

One of six amateur women bowlers on the U.S. team, Miss Weston was selected because of her 1804 all events total which finished in fifth place in the 1967 Championship Tournament of the Woman's International Bowling Congress.

Her 4585 was only eight pins ahead of runner-up Elja Kroggerus of Finland in the World Tournament.

U.S. women also finished second in the five-woman team event, 11th in the four-woman team event, and second in doubles. The American Bowling Congress team won the eight-man team event; took sixth in the five-man event, third in doubles and third in all events.

A bowler since 1949, Miss Weston averages in the mid-180s is 5'3" and has brown hair and eyes.

Other members of the U.S.-WIBC team were Carol Miller, Milwaukee; Vivian Trumper, Greenwood Lake, N.Y.; Eleanor Jones, Williamstown, Mass. Jean Stehle, Sturgis; and Alice Nye, Memphis, Tenn.

Janette Robinson of Flint, a professional woman bowler, was the coach.

Season No. 19 at Fairgrounds

Season No. 19 in the bowling business will begin this month much brighter than did No. 18 for Mel and Dorothy Moore at Fairgrounds Bowling in Milford.

A year ago Mel was facing surgery as the season began and the work burden fell on the slender shoulders of Dorothy.

The operation was a success and Mel's hard at work again. In addition, the Moore's are busily preparing for the opening of their lounge, something they haven't had in the past.

The size of the Fairgrounds' parking lot has been doubled.

This will improve conditions next winter and spring when the Huron Valley Team and Milford Doubles tournaments return in January and March.

Until then, Moonlight Doubles will hold the Saturday night spotlight. The juniors will bowl earlier in the day.

The Moores are accepting team and individual applications, as well as some league bids for weeknight open spots.

Only Clarkston's Howe's Lanes is older than Fairgrounds among the Pontiac area keg establishments.

Michigan Majors Will Visit Airway

The first Michigan Majors monthly bowling tournament held in the Pontiac area will give Airway Lanes a healthy start in the new season.

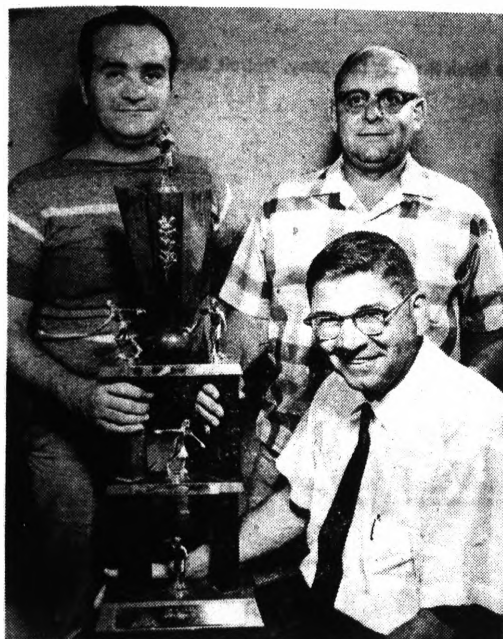

Many of the state's outstanding male bowlers not on the professional tour are expected to invade Airway's 32 lanes in Waterford Township Sept. 16-17.

Manager Frank Benning has erected a new sign along Highway and Road (M-59) as well as redecorating the building's interior.

Mike Samardzija Sr., has been added to the counter control personnel. Jim Rutkowski continues to head the pro crew and is the chief instructor.

Among the new leagues added this summer and fall are a Ladies Class B Doubles on Monday afternoons and a Father-and-Son Doubles Sundays.

The Beat-the-Champ qualifying will continue this season both during league action plus Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

STEERING GROUP—The three men in charge of the Champion of Champions Tournament for the Bowling Proprietors Association of North Oakland County display one of the three huge trophies that will be presented under the group's new format for the annual tournament. Dick Scribner (right front) of Savoy Lanes will be the host next spring. Les Howe (right rear) had it last June and Huron Bowl's Joe Bonfiglio will have it in 1969.

Proprietors Switch Championship Meet

The Bowling Proprietors Association of North Oakland County has taken a significant step to increase the scope of the annual Champion of Champions Tournament.

Plagued by declining interest — particularly among the eligible women — the tournament now will have three divisions with identical prizes.

A huge trophy and $500 will be to the men's team, the women's team and the mixed team scoring the most pins next spring in the handicap competition that is based upon final league standings.

The first through fourth-place squads are eligible in each league at all 17 member establishments in the BPNOC. This is an increase of one team per league.

Also changed is the entry fee procedure.

The fee has been raised to $30 per team. Half ($15) of this goes directly into the prize fund. Of the $15, one-third each will be paid by the team, the league and the establishment.

3 TOP TEAMS

This will apply for the first three teams in each circuit. Thus, each five-member team will only have to pay $20 itself if it finishes among the top three in its league.

The fourth place squad will have to pay the full $30.

Women will bowl with an 80-per-cent-of-210 handicap. The men use 70 per cent. In cases where the league doesn't use five-member teams, substitutes or fillers must be added from within the league.

All qualifying — the top 10 per cent from each site will advance to the finals — must be finished by May 26. The championships will be Saturday June 8 at Savoy Lanes.

No additional expense money will be paid for the finals. All fees are included in the original entry.

A bowler must have 21 games to establish a league average. All traveling league entries must attempt to qualify at the same establishment.

Pontiac Sites Offer Variety for Bowlers

Bowling in Pontiac has varying faces although the aim is basically the same: to knock down as many pins as possible with one ball.

West Side Lanes run by Sam and Jerry Ferna is the home of the high-scoring West Side Classic, plus numerous long-established circuits.

Across and just down Orchard Lake Avenue is the Pontiac Elks Temple with its 12 lanes, completely reconditioned after a winter of discontent among many of the lodge's more serious keggers.

Close to sprawling Pontiac boundary is Montcalm Bowling Center where the emphasis is on church league bowling.

Orchard Lanes is the area's only 24-hour operating center (Though several other claim they'll remain open as long as there is a demand to bowl). It is located in the southeast corner of the city off Opydyke Road.

West Side's Men's Classic will begin its 17th season next month. It began as a 750 and up league, and now 900 is the minimum team total for the 16 squads.

SENIORS

West Side also has a Wednesday morning Senior Citizen loop, a Saturday night Moonlight Doubles and in the spring there is a tournament for all the teams sponsored by the house. Bowlers are needed for a Wednesday 9 p.m. ladies league. The paint brushes have been busy inside the establishment.

The Elks Lodge takes pride in its annual Elks Ladies National Invitational, the Mixed Doubles Invitational and an extensive kids bowling program that led to one state championship last spring and several other lesser laurels.

At Montcalm, the Mayes family has painted the place inside and out, and is presently making changes to the counter area. Special rates are in effect for the youngsters and senior citizens — as is the policy at the other houses — and Montcalm is planning a special open bowling promotion during the Christmas holidays.

There also will be a Ladies Tuesday Coffee Klatch circuit this season, and next spring all women with a 200 actual game and men with a 230 will be eligible for a house honor role roll-off.

Ken Boussum and Mark (Bronco) Dehetre will be the late-night shift supervisors at Orchard Lanes, while Detroit All-Star Classic League member Eddie Marzka will instruct and be responsible for promotions during the day.

Marzka will initiate a ladies learn to bowl program next month. Individually, he'll be available for instructions every afternoon except Saturday. The 24-year-old kegler has taught more than 2,000 women to bowl in the Warren area.

By JERE CRAIG

"We can always say we have open bowling!" explained the voice at the other end of the telephone connection.

Thus did the Royal Oak Bowling employe rationalize the fact that there are two establishments among the 50 now operating in the Oakland County area that have an odd number of lanes.

Traditionally, bowling houses are built with the lanes in pairs. But apparently the money and probably more importantly the space didn't permit either Royal Oak Bowling or the Royal Oak Elks to "square off" their lane layout.

Perhaps nagged by this thought, the lanes at the public lanes are numbered 0-16.

Comes in real handy," the voice noted. "If someone is having problems in his league he (or she) can duck down there and work on it."

For the first time in several seasons, the county bowling lineup has undergone very few changes. One house has closed, another has changed names and none has been built.

East Highland Recreation west of Pontiac just off M59 is now Highland Lanes in keeping with its location. All-Star Lanes downtown on Perry Street finally closed after a long period of decline.

The major changes have been administrative.

PROFESSIONAL

One name stands out above all the rest. Professional Bowlers' Association member Ed Lubanski is the new manager at Southfield's Melody Lanes.

Currently on the summer tour, the three-time All-America and past president of the PBA will take over his duties next month after the New Orleans Open.

An Oak Park resident, Lubanski is moving into the 48-lane house owned by Maurice Kane. Kane has started an energetic refurbishing program at the Southfield Road site.

Among the other new managers at county houses are Olin Thomas (one of two new owners at Highland Lanes), Bill McCullough (Strike 'n' Spare), Joe Morys (Wonderland Lanes), Ron Mavis (replacing his brother Elmer at Mavis Lanes), Bob Toupin (Royal Oak Bowling), Norm Morys (replacing his Dad Joe at Gold Crown Lanes), Bill Williams (Hazel Park Bowl) and Fred Hamlin (Farmington Lanes).

Strike 'n' Spare in Birmingham and Berkley's Hartfield Lanes are the biggest with 52 lanes each. Hartfield uses a deck concept to accommodate its large number of lanes.

The smallest establishment is Lake Orion's Royal Recreation with six lanes; while eight-lane Rochester Lanes is the only place still using pin boys.

The new format devised by the Bowling Proprietor Association of North Oakland County seems the logical climax to the tournament season locally.

The Pontiac Open in the fall provides a championship determination in men's actuals and handicap competition. The Pontiac Woman Bowlers' Association crowns the city women's champions in the winter.

The BPNOC now will determine the women's, men's and mixed team handicap champions in the spring through its Champion of Champions Tournament.

The upcoming season definitely seems to loom as the best one yet.

PWBA Meet at Sylvan Lanes

Sylvan Lanes in the Sylvan Shopping Center along Orchard Lake Road will be the site of next winter's Pontiac Woman's Bowling Association City Tournament.

Proprietor Art Rosner will be host to the city tourney for the second time. He has revamped both the bowling and lounge areas in anticipation of the big visit.

Two of Sylvan's regular leagues — the Pontiac Social Bowlers and the Lakeland Ladies will begin their 28th seasons next month.

Rosner also entertains the senior citizen bowlers each Tuesday and Thursday morning. Sylvan has a need for more teams and individual bowlers most nights of the week.

ON THEIR WAY TO A FIRE—Forest Service smoke jumpers from the Region 1 Aerial Fire Depot at Missoula, Mont., parachute toward a fire in the Bitterroot National Forest south of Missoula. Fires have burned 8,000 acres so far this year. More than 160 new fires were reported yesterday morning.

Vast Forest Areas Aflame in Northwest

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Vast forest land areas of Idaho, Oregon, Montana and British Columbia were aflame today as firefighters sought to overcome manpower shortages; hot, dry weather; and a threat of lightning storms in the Northwest.

More than 400 new fires were reported yesterday in the region.

Another Red Raid Kills GI in Korea

SEOUL (AP) — An American soldier was killed today and another was wounded in the third North Korean attack in as many days on the border between North and South Korea, the U.S. Command announced.

The two GIs were shot by North Koreans after a truck in which they were riding was reportedly blasted by a mine explosion in the demilitarized zone.

In a border clash last night, South Korean troops killed three North Koreans who sprang an ambush below the demilitarized zone, the South Korean army reported.

Big Air Attack on N. Viet Costs U.S. 6 Warplanes

SAIGON (AP) — One of the heaviest attacks of the Vietnam war on the Hanoi-Haiphong area cost the United States six warplanes yesterday, including two jets lost in Red China trying to escape Communist MIGs and surface-to-air missiles, the U.S. Command announced today.

The raids were among the war's costliest for U.S. Air Force and Navy pilots, but the rewards may have been large.

Pilots reported plastering two rail yards choked with 170 boxcars and engulfing the Hanoi power plant, 1.1 miles from the center of the North Vietnamese capital, with flames, steam and billowing smoke.

Communist broadcasts claimed eight American planes were shot down, five of them in attacks on Hanoi.

The ground war in South Vietnam flamed up with a battle just below the demilitarized zone in which 108 Communists were reported killed and other sharp actions which the U.S. Command said cost the enemy 153 dead. The command reported seven Americans killed and 51 wounded.

ON MAJOR TARGETS

The loss of the six planes in the North raised to 653 the number of U.S. combat planes reported downed in the war against North Vietnam.

While a U.S. spokesman declined to say that the raids yesterday were heavier than any previously, he said they probably included "more aircraft on major targets."

Navy pilots from three carriers in the Tonkin Gulf for the first time hit the Red naval base of Port Walcott 61 miles northeast of Haiphong. One Phantom jet was downed in that strike.

The other five planes lost in the North included three A6 Navy Intruder jets, two of which the U.S. Command said probably went down in Red China, and two Air Force Thunderbolts. All eight flies aboard them were listed as missing.

The two Intruders lost in China had come off a bomb run just north of Hanoi and at least one was known to have been hit at that time, the command said.

They were jumped by an unknown number of Communist MIGs and while attempting to get away apparently flew over the border.

Peking's official New China News Agency said both were shot down over the Kwangsi region of south China and one pilot was captured.

Red China called the intrusion "an act of deliberate war provocation."

Reuther Seeks Support in Flint for Auto Strike

FLINT (AP) — With other leaders in his United Auto Workers claiming the Big Three automakers are pushing them toward a strike, union President Walter P. Reuther was to seek support in Flint today for just such an eventuality, forced or otherwise.

In Detroit, meanwhile, bargaining continued in its seventh week on contracts to replace current three-year pacts which run out in just 16 days at General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp.

Both sides agree only minor progress has been made thus far, with none in economic areas.

The union is clamoring for counter-offers to demands such as a big wage increase it wants to wrap into the guaranteed annual income it also is seeking.

Reuther and UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock were to address afternoon and night rallies called for Flint's 70,000 General Motors hourly rated workers.

Their appearance was billed as one to report on new contract negotiations. The union contends the companies are letting talks drag with strike-threatening slowness.

But Reuther and Woodcock also were to ask for overwhelming approval of a strike, if and when negotiators decide one is necessary, to win what Reuther says is his union's "longest and most ambitious list" of demands ever.

UAW members in the Flint vote tomorrow and Thursday. Unless results are different from those in past years and those already in this time, strike authorization will get lopsided approval.

First votes Monday from two Ford local unions favored strike authorization 2,879 to 74. Two Chrysler locals which reported last week gave approval by about the same ratio.

GM, Ford and Chrysler members have been told to have results into UAW headquarters by Friday.

Weather Is Cool, but Not THAT Cool

The Weather Bureau's prediction of an overnight low of 36 to 44 failed to materialize as the mercury dipped to 37 at 7 a.m. today.

Unseasonably cool is still the outlook for today and tomorrow. A slight warming trend is indicated Thursday. Decreasing cloudiness and fair skies accompany the cool weather.

The high today will range from 85 to 90; low tonight from 44 to 50.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are near zero today, tonight and tomorrow.

AMC Sees Upsurge in 1968

From Associated Press Wire Story
NEW YORK — American Motors officials predicted a better 1968 sales year for themselves and the rest of the auto industry last night.

American Motors, fourth largest of the nation's auto makers, went deep into the red in sales during 1967, but officials look for a slight rebound this year because they figure prospective buyers might go for the lower-priced cars.

at a national press preview of their new sporty Javelin.

AMC Board Chairman Roy Chapin Jr. said he expected over-all auto sales to top $9 billion in calendar 1968, about 300,000 more than the figure he foresaw for this year. He said:

"Higher price tags plus a possible 10 per cent surge in incomes, would have a limiting effect on car sales and would also tend to steer the customer who remained in the market to new cars in the lower price range — an advantage to American Motors or to used cars."

He reported that an annual volume of 300,000 cars could put AMC well in the black in 1968, but indicated the firm would fall well short of that figure this year, perhaps around 230,000.

No School Aid Review Seen

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — The special fall legislative session will take up the task of reshaping Michigan's lower court system but definitely will not consider more money for school aid, Gov. George Romney said yesterday.

He said whether lawmakers will try to strengthen penalties against striking public employees, including schoolteachers, will depend on what happens between now and the session's Oct. 10 opening date.

The governor spent most of the day reviewing possible legislative topics with majority Republican legislators at the governor's summer mansion on Mackinac Island.

Romney told a news conference that the group agreed that the items to be considered at the special session called by him should be limited to those requiring immediate action, including:

• A $60-million gasoline and license plate tax boost accompanied by an appropriation of "as much as $5 million" to pay off part of the outstanding Mackinac Bridge bonds and reduce bridge tolls.

• A $600,000 increase in the appropriation for the Civil Rights Commission, boosting the $1.4 million approved by the Legislature in regular session to the $2 million originally sought by Romney.

• Technical changes in the state housing laws.

• Supplemental appropriations to provide money for the new civil service pay raises.

• Legislation permitting local governments to enter into cooperative agreements in such projects as sewer and water systems and law enforcement.

TOPICS DISCUSSED

Romney said the group discussed many other suggested topics but decided such matters would be dealt with better at some later session after more study.

The governor, who under the Constitution is able to call a special session and name the topics, said the legislators indicated they intend to end the session no later than Nov. 3.

Preliminary work is under way on lower court reorganization, said Rep. Donald Holbrook of Clare.

The state's lower court system of municipal courts and justices of the peace would be reshaped into a system of courts of lower jurisdiction, under provisions of the State Constitution.

The question of including a proposed three-cent per pack increase in the cigarette tax will be reviewed, Romney said, with a decision depending on what happens between now and the special session.

However, he ruled out the possibility that the tax boost would be approved to provide more money for schools.

Mystery Fund Given to County

Oakland County is $35,000 richer today, thanks to an order entered by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Ruling on a petition filed by Grand Juror James S. Thornburn, Judge Ziem ordered the funds to be the exclusive property of Oakland County.

The money was turned over to the county treasurer for placement in the general fund, subject to the control of the County Board of Supervisors.

Grand jury officials had given the $35,000 to County Clerk John D. Murphy Friday for safekeeping until the money was claimed.

The cash apparently came into the possession of the grand jury during the course of its year-long investigation which ended last Tuesday.

SOURCE UNDISCLOSED

However, no one on the staff will reveal the source of the money or disclose whether it was confiscated.

In his petition, Thornburn said that "strange as it may seem in a world in which material wealth has such great appeal for so many no person, firm, corporation, partnership or association has come forward to claim the funds."

The cash consisted of four $500 bills, 230 $100 bills, 113 $50 bills, 182 $20 bills and 71 $10 bills.

Punch Knocks Attorneys Out of Hearing in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A punch, feet degraded. I am ashamed knocked two quarreling attorneys out of a hearing involving an accused lord Monday before Recorder's Judge George W. Crockett Jr.

Judge Crockett was in chambers and the defendant, John Redding, arrested in Detroit's rioting last month, was waiting in the courtroom when the incident took place.

John D. O'Connell, a former assistant prosecutor, was talking to Redding and planning to represent him when attorney Walter Kurz appeared and accused O'Connell of "soliciting business in the courtroom."

O'Connell swung and hit Kurz in the mouth.

Judge Crockett returned to the bench and demanded an explanation.

"I was authorized by the presiding judge (Donald S. Leonard) to represent all defendants without counsel in your court," O'Connell said.

Kurz, who had represented Redding at an earlier examination, protested he was "the victim of a blatant attack and I have a bloody handkerchief to prove it."

"I thought he was about to strike me," said O'Connell.

Huge Cleanup Begins in Flood-Ravaged Fairbanks

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Thousands of homeowners put their efforts behind mops, brooms and shovels while heavy machinery worked outside as a massive cleanup program began Tuesday in this flood-ravaged central Alaska community.

The Chena River, which spread death and destruction throughout the area when it rose about 6½ feet above its 12-foot flood stage last week, fell to about nine feet Monday night and continued dropping slowly.

The Weather Bureau predicted only a 20 per cent chance of rain today.

The flood's death toll stood at seven Monday night but there were fears that receding water might uncover more victims.

CHILDREN EVACUATED

Thirty-nine children 3 to 13 years old were flown out of the city to relatives' homes in Anchorage Monday to enable parents to devote their time to the cleanup.

A Seattle radio-television station, KIRO, was collecting toys for children remaining in the city.

A $200,000 contract was let Monday to start removing flood debris and to repair Fairbanks streets. The cost of the work was only a small part of the millions of dollars worth of work that will be needed to return this community of 30,000 to normal.

Priority on repairs goes to the city sewer system. Col. Ernest Hardin, chief of the Army Engineers Alaska District, said the city's water system had some leaks but was not in any immediate danger of contamination.

Family Parties Honor Many Visiting Relatives

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

On Sunday at the Village Woman's Club Dr. and Mrs. Harry Pearce entertained for brunch.

The occasion was to say good-by to their son, Dr. Warren Pearce and Mrs. Pearce and their four granddaughters who have been visiting here and were now leaving for their home in Omaha, Neb.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Ray (Mrs. Ray is Dr. and Mrs. Pearce's daughter), Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Durham, Dr. and Mrs. Warren Cooksey, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zimmermann and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Jordan.

FAREWELLS

Sunday was also a busy day in Dr. and Mrs. Donald C. Young's home. Their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rodger V. Wiley Jr. and their son, Rodger III, were leaving for their home in Albuquerque, N. M.

The Wileys have been dividing their time between the senior Wileys and the Youngs. Together the families have also managed to spend a week at their summer home in Lewiston.

After both families had breakfast at the Youngs with daughter Sue and her fiancé, Chuck Sterling of New York, as well as Dr. Young Jr. who came from Detroit, the entire group drove to the airport to see the Wileys off.

Nancy Judd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Judd, returned home on Sunday after eight weeks of traveling in Europe.

Lee Rarcey of this area was also one of the 40 college students who traveled by bus to many countries and interesting places in Europe.

Nancy's sister, Susan, has been spending some time with her classmate from Connecticut College, Pam Scofield of Columbus, Ohio.

YOUNG VISITOR

Young Brenton Curtis Jr. is being introduced for the first time to his mother's many friends. Mrs. Brenton Curtis and her son are here from Branford, Conn., visiting Mrs. Curtis' mother, Mrs. Edward Bennett.

Ruth Ostdahl of Chicago spent a long weekend with her friend, Mrs. Carl Moe and also visited with her nephew, John deRuyter.

Mrs. deRuyter and their children will be returning this week from California where they have been visiting Mrs. deRuyter's father, Fred Schmid in Pacific Palisades.

This Waitress Tells Own Side of Tip Story

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Here is one waitress' comment on the letters I have printed about tipping.

Dear Mrs. Post: As an answer to the non-tipper's letter, I would like to point out the waitresses' side of the story. At the restaurant where I work it is seldom the waitress who is "poor," but fairly often it's the customer.

The other day I had two adorable ladies leave me a dollar and a quarter, and a table of five hard-to-please individuals who came in an air-conditioned Cadillac left me 30 cents. What is so surprising is the ladies were so sweet and the others had me get them everything but the kitchen sink by the time I finished serving them satisfactorily.

I'm not sure if this explains my point thoroughly enough or not, but I will conclude by saying I hardly feel "undignified" picking up a tip that I worked hard for—especially when the money I hope to earn this summer is going to enable me to become a nurse.

By the way, my hourly earnings are one-half the minimum wage for any other occupation—A humble waitress.

Dear Mrs. Post: As a child I was taught that when visiting it was proper to offer to help the hostess with the dishes, if no hired help is present.

I do this when I visit, but I find only a very few of my guests ever offer—Loretta K.

Dear Loretta: In the house of a good friend or relative, it is thoughtful to offer to help with the dishes. Don't, however, insist if the hostess refuses.

When you are dining with comparative strangers, do not make the offer unless other closer friends do so; then you may indicate you would like to help, too.

Child Is Confused by "Filthy" Book She Found in Her Father's Automobile

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was out at my father's car the other day when I saw a paperback book on the floor, face down. I picked it up without looking at the front, and started reading it. It was "FILTHY!"

I was doing an errand for my father at the time. I went back into the house as if nothing happened.

Abby, I can't look at my father without almost hating him. Should I tell my mother? I have tried to reason with myself, but it doesn't work. What should I do? You are the only one I can turn to. Please answer soon as I've worried myself nearly sick.

ABBY

I tell my mother? I have tried to reason with myself, but it doesn't work. What should I do? You are the only one I can turn to. Please answer soon as I've worried myself nearly sick.

WORRIED GIRL

DEAR WORRIED: You don't say how old you are, but from your handwriting I would guess your age to be about 12 or 13.

First, let me explain that just because you judge a book to be "filthy," doesn't necessarily mean that it is. Even the Supreme Court cannot agree on that. (By some standards, parts of the Bible can be considered "filthy.")

Don't tell your mother. Don't "hate" your father. And remember that just as one swallow doesn't make a summer, neither does one book reflect one's moral standards or literary taste.

DEAR ABBY: Usually I agree with your views, but this is too much! I quote you, Dear Abby: "A wife is responsible for keeping her husband's clothes in shape."

This is absolutely Victorian. If he isn't helpless why can't he keep his own clothes in shape?

Perhaps if the man had been taught to do things for himself as a boy, instead of looking to his mother for valet service, the problem wouldn't be present in his adult life.

The only service a wife or mother OWES, are those services the family cannot perform for themselves. Anything else she does is a gift of love, not a responsibility.

BUSY, TOO

DEAR BUSY: I can't think of ANYTHING a family cannot do for themselves if they have to (witless, motherless homes). All right, let me put it this way, "A wife—as a gift of love—should keep her husband's clothes in shape."

DEAR ABBY: A most heartbreaking incident has occurred in my life and am puzzled as to the right thing for me to do. My son and his wife have separated. They have one child. And unlike most stories you hear about mother-in-law and she of me.

Inasmuch as her parents lived out of state, I always took care of my little grandson on those occasions when my daughter-in-law wanted a free afternoon. Naturally, I love this child deeply.

Would it be right for me to let her know that I shall continue to help her in this way when/er she needs me? Of course I would not speak of her troubles with my son, nor would I take sides. I have been advised to steer clear of her entirely. What do you say?

Temple Ceremony Will Unite Governor's Son and Bride

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A campaign courtship will end Wednesday when George Scott Romney, elder son of Michigan's governor, and Ronna Eileen Stern exchange marriage vows at the Mormon Temple.

"Scott and I decided to be married at the temple because of the extra blessing," explained Ronna, a pretty, blue-eyed blonde from Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

SEALS IT

She said a temple ceremony seals the union "for time and eternity" instead of the "til death do you part" of a church ceremony.

Gov. and Mrs. George Romney were wed in the same temple 36 years ago. Miss Stern, 23, and Romney, 25, met during his father's 1966 campaign for a third term in the governor's chair. A friend of Scott, who was working on the governor's reelection campaign, introduced the couple.

"We never dated anyone else after that," Ronna said.

She and the bridegroom-to-be went sightseeing in Salt Lake City prior to their marriage. They were accompanied by Ronna's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Will Harry Kraus.

The governor was to fly west for the ceremony late today. His wife Lenore left Michigan for Salt Lake City Monday.

affair, with only the Romneys, the Kraus family and the couple's brothers, sisters and in-laws in attendance.

Ronna and her bridegroom will wear traditional long white robes, similar to those worn by choir members.

"I don't mind not wearing a gown," Ronna said, "I think the important thing is being married in the temple." She recently joined the Mormon Church.

"Scott's wedding ring is a plain gold band," she said.

"But he's not telling me what my ring looks like until the day of the ceremony," she added with a happy laugh of a bride-to-be. Ronna's engagement ring is a marquise diamond. "I don't know how big."

Following the hours-long ceremony, the Romneys will be host to a family wedding breakfast in the Sky Room of the Hotel Utah.

TWO GALAS

Mr. and Mrs. Kraus plan two receptions in Bloomfield Hills.

The first, a black-tie affair for some 275 guests, will be held Friday at Bloomfield Hills Country Club. The second reception, for some 400, is set for Sunday at the Kraus home.

Scott and Ronna will honeymoon for two weeks in New York and Bermuda.

They'll return to the Detroit area to pick up Kevin Connelly, Ronna's three-year-old son by a previous marriage, and be off to Cambridge, Mass., where Scott will complete two remaining years of study at Harvard Law School.

"We already have an apartment there," Ronna bubbled.

"We have so much to take East with us, I think we'll have to hire a truck."

Ronna, one of five children, is an honor graduate of Oakland University in Rochester, Mich., and has taught school in suburban Detroit.

Her stepfather is president of Engineering Industries, a machinery manufacturing firm.

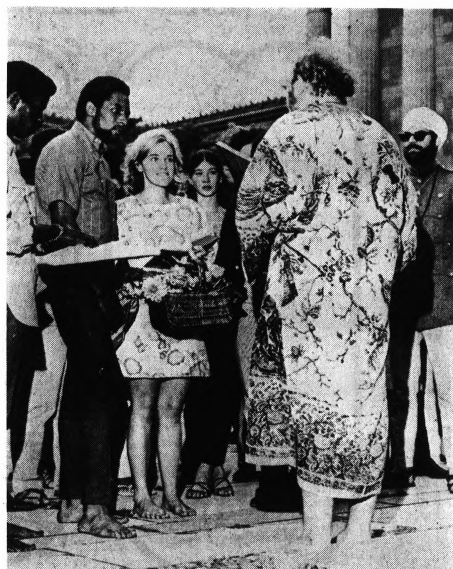

Azteca Women Plan a Carry Out Dinner

The women of the Azteca Auxiliary are planning a Mexican carry out dinner on Friday from 7 to 10 p.m. The event will take place in the Ruben Flores home at 76 North Sanford Street. The menu consists of combination plates of tacos, tortadas, enchiladas and tamales. Children's portions will also be available.

The group is also planning a benefit bazaar featuring homemade articles and baked goods.

A Suburb's Suburb . . . That's Avon Twp.

By JEAN SAILE
Avon Township is suburbia.
From the older settled flatland of the south to the modern home spilling across its northerly hills, Avon Township is suburban in character and inclination.
Few farms are left where 10 years ago the eastern Oakland County area was largely rural. Of its MRS. SAILE estimated 20,000 population, some 70 per cent work outside the township.

Rochester has come the twin move to incorporate the remainder of the township.
The latter is admittedly an effort to prevent Rochester's annexation of some of Avon's high tax-base industries.
The two areas — both attractive and both growing — are tied inextricably together by location and by the concerted planning program carried out over the past 15 years.
TO JOIN FORCES
There is official and unofficial hope in the minds of many that the two governments will yet join forces.
Township Supervisor Cyril Miller, in office since 1953, attributes much of the desirability of the area to the planning initiated in the 1950s when it first became apparent that Oakland County communities would feel the coming population surge.
As a result a master zoning ordinance setting the boundaries and attempting a fair distribution of residential - industrial - commercial area was adopted this year.
The new ordinance takes into account an updating of services now going on within the township. Not the least of these is the partially completed M59 freeway which traverses the southerly portion of the community.
The township has voted $17 million to take part in the proposed Clinton - Oakland Sewer Interceptor project and plans are proceeding for laterals which will eventually drain the whole area.
Steps have been taken to combine existing subdivision water systems into a township-wide water system.
Until recently, except for that area around the City of Rochester, the township was dependent on individual septic tanks and independent wells.
Now policed by an eight-man patrol supplementing the services of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, the township boasts two fire departments with plans for a third and a contract with the City of Rochester for further protection.

For these and other services including quality schools both in the Rochester and Avondale districts, a home owner is apt to pay between $43-$48 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized.
Residents are about to be availed of the services of the Rochester Branch of Crittenton General Hospital, dedicated in recent ceremonies. For many years Avon Center Hospital, an osteopathic facility, has been the only local treatment center.
Having a major influence on the community is Oakland University which with Michigan Christian College has given Avon a high percentage of resident educators.
Another sort of school, Leader Dogs for the Blind, Inc., of Avon Township, has brought fame to the area. Students come from all over the world to receive their leader dogs and a new lease on life.

There are many residents who want the percentage to go no higher. Several court battles have been fought to prevent other light industrial concerns from taking root.
A community conscious population likes the present ratio, and several of them have been willing to fight for it.
"What they don't understand," said Miller, "is that two-thirds of the income from an industry comes from personal property, not from real estate."
He feels there can be no further holding back on development.

HOME OF INDUSTRY
Avon Township is the home of Parke-Davis Laboratories, a long-time enterprise constantly expanding; of National Twist Drill and Tool Co., which employs more local residents than any other concern; and several other industrial concerns including Detroit Broach and the new Controlled Data Corp., Rochester Division.
Industry, according to Clerk Thelma Spencer, makes up some 15 per cent of the $77-million township valuation.

Former Settlement Has Rich History

Reportedly the site of the first settlement in Oakland County, Avon Township has a rich history, not the least of which relates to the former settlement of Stony Creek.
Once a thriving community, Stony Creek — now the site of the Dr. Bertha Van Hoesen Jones farm at Tienken and Washington roads — boasted a variety of enterprises and even had its own post office.
Settled first by the Lemuel Taylor family in 1823, the town grew to include two saw and grist mills, a chair-makers and wheelwright's shop, a blacksmith shop, a general store, a hotel, a woolen mill and also a school.

The woolen mill, run by Philander Ewell, at one time processed a reported 16,000 pounds of wool yearly. A team and sale wagon were on the road constantly disposing of the material to the local settlers.
Attesting to the community's onetime residents is the old Stony Creek Cemetery on Romeo Road west of Runyon Road. There such names as Millers, Taylors and Millers can be found.
The site of the new Stony Creek Cemetery on East Tienken near Sheldon was the former location of what is reportedly Michigan's first Masonic Lodge. Old-timers remember a light kept burning constantly on the site.

Known in those days as Mount Moriah, the hill was recently deeded by Dr. Van Hoesen Jones, herself a descendant of one of the first pioneer families, to the township.
Early settlers were said to be attracted to the area by its rich land, fed by the Clinton River and the Paint, Stony, Sargent and Galloway creeks.
The southerly portion of the township, most level of the area, was at one time covered with trees. Those have been mostly removed through the efforts of the many saw-mills which used to be in operation.

HOLDOVER
A holdover from the olden days is Yates Cider Mill which in 1963 marked its centennial. Still pressing cider, the mill continues the business for which it was first built.
The Yates Mill sits at the end of the ill-fated canal which at one time was to provide water transportation clear across Michigan. Dug from Mount Clemens, it was abandoned with the advent of the railroad.
Until that time, such a plan

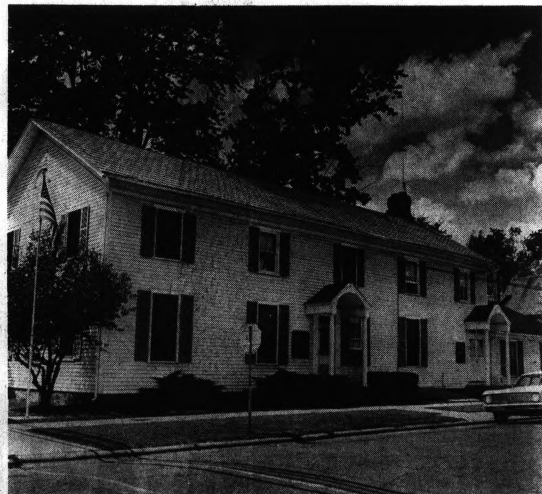

had appeared to guarantee easier transportation than had the old corduroy and plank roads in use in the "good" areas. A stage had at one time served the area, running from Almont to Royal Oak.
Avon Township met for the first time as an organized governmental unit on April 6, 1835. The township at that time encompassed much more land than it does now, spreading over Oakland, Addison and Oxford Townships.
Old records still kept in the Township Hall authenticate its beginnings.

LANDMARK — Yates Cider Mill, built on the Clinton River when it was still a major means of transportation, today still turns out apple cider by means of its water-powered press. There are still a number of apple orchards in the community, although their number is decreasing.
