Chevrolet Unveils New Turbine Truck

MILFORD (AP) — Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Corp. unveiled a new gas turbine powered truck today with a prediction that the vehicle could be in general use by the early 1970's.

E. M. Estes, GM vice president and newly appointed manager of its Chevrolet Division, said at a press preview of the new truck.

10 Airmen Safe, 8 Die in Crash

1 Man Still Missing After Atlantic Plunge

FALMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — Ten men were rescued, eight bodies recovered and one man was listed as missing today after an Air Force radar plane ditched in the fog-shrouded Atlantic last night 145 miles east-northeast of Nantucket Island.

Confusion in the grim search for the last man of the 19-man crew led to an erroneous Air Force report that the man had been found alive and taken aboard a German destroyer at the scene but later Capt. Richard Barro, public information officer at Otis Air Force Base here, said the man was still missing.

Lt. Cmdr. William T. White, duty officer at Salem Coast Guard Rescue Station, said the survivors were aboard German and American destroyers.

Capt. Richard Barro, information officer at Otis Air Force Base from which the downed plane took off last night, confirmed the report.

The four-engine propeller-driven plane was on duty as an early warning radar plane.

The plane ditched last night 145 miles east-northeast of Nantucket.

Chrysler Corp. has been the main advocate of potential use of the turbine in autos and it currently has 50 experimental cars in the hands of the public on a loan basis. Chrysler officials said only a few weeks ago that they have made no determination as to whether the turbine car will be added to its sales line.

Auto Chiefs Will Testify at Safety Hearing

Likely to Counter Sen. Ribicoff's Charges of Stalling by Industry

DETROIT (AP) — Presidents of General Motors, Ford Motor Co. and American Motors head the list of witnesses for a Senate hearing into automotive safety scheduled to start tomorrow in Washington.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., heads the panel.

Ribicoff, during a preliminary three-day hearing last March, charged that the auto industry was dragging its heels in the field of auto safety.

He pointed to the increasing annual traffic death toll, which reached 47,000 last year.

With the presidents of three companies and two top vice presidents of Chrysler Corp. heading for Washington, the auto industry apparently took the hearing seriously.

TO MAKE IT PLAIN

There was no official indication of what auto makers planned to tell the committee. But one company observer, who declined use of his name, said: "I think the industry is going to make it plain to Congress and to everyone else that it is just as concerned as any one else with the number of highway deaths and accidents."

Estes pointed out that while General Motors has been experimenting with gas turbines for more than 15 years "there are still many problems to be solved before the turbine will be economically feasible."

PROVING STAGE

The Chevrolet executive added, "Basically, with the gas turbine we now are at a stage where the diesel was 35 years ago and just as the diesel had to prove itself economically, so must the turbine."

It was one of the strongest endorsements ever given to the gas turbine engine. All the U.S. auto makers have done some experimenting with that type of power plant, but none has gone as far in setting a possible timetable for the unit to be available to the public.

Estes repeated GM's contention that the turbine unit is best suited to commercial vehicles, rather than to passenger cars, as of now.

Chrysler Corp. has been the main advocate of potential use of the turbine in autos and it currently has 50 experimental cars in the hands of the public on a loan basis. Chrysler officials said only a few weeks ago that they have made no determination as to whether the turbine car will be added to its sales line.

Weekend Traffic Accidents Claim 21 Lives in Michigan

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents claimed 21 lives in Michigan during the weekend. Two accidents claimed three lives each and two others resulted in double fatalities.

In addition, six drownings were reported in the state.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight yesterday.

The victims:

Sarah Bradley, 7, of Park Township near Holland was killed Saturday when she was run over by her father who was backing a truck out of a driveway.

Andrew S. Nelson, 32, of Detroit died yesterday when his car missed a curve and rolled over on M15 in Genesee County.

Walter Lee Snyder, 46, of Caledonia died yesterday of injuries suffered Saturday in a two-car collision at the intersection of M33 and M46 in Westford County.

John A. Shell, 23, of Fenton died yesterday when his auto missed a curve and plunged off the road in Fenton Township, Genesee County.

Judy K. Conley, 13, and her grandmother, Anna Lee Conley, about 60, both of Narrows, Va., were killed yesterday in a head-on auto wreck on U.S. 12 near Ypsilanti Township in Washtenaw County. Two other persons were hospitalized.

Carol R. Anthier, 25, of Bay City was killed early yesterday when the car in which she was riding overturned on U.S. 10 in Welleys Township, Bay County.

Margaret Daschner, 56, Norcross Baumgard, 39, and David Baumgard, 16, all of Laingsburg, were killed yesterday in a two-car collision on U.S. 10 in Laingsburg Township, Bay County. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Feel Viet War Will Force Limited Reserve Call-Up

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today that many high-ranking military officers and congressmen feel a limited call-up of reserves will soon be necessary to carry on the war in Viet Nam.

A story by the Times' military expert, Hanson W. Baldwin, said a sizable increase in the 1966 defense budget also will be needed.

He described the anticipated increase in financial and manpower requirements as a part of "preparations for a larger war role" by the United States.

"Increased American casualties are foreseen, and there is an undercurrent of doubt in some quarters whether the U.S. public has been adequately prepared for such a heightened conflict," he wrote.

The story cited indications by President Johnson that the U.S. commitment in Viet Nam "would have to go well beyond the present publicly announced goal of 75,000 men," and added: "In fact, officers say, forces already in Viet Nam, plus those on the way or programmed, would bring the total of U.S. ground troops in South Viet Nam to somewhere between 100,000 and 150,000."

Listing the various military units already there or due to go there, the report says: "Conventional battles are anticipated rather than the hit and run ambushes and the sometimes aimless 'search and destroy' patrolling of recent days."

NO EVIDENCE

The report says there is no evidence that Maxwell D. Taylor's resignation from the Viet Nam ambassadorship "is related to policy aspects of the heightened American combat commitment."

"The change in ambassadors has a direct bearing on preparations for a larger war role."

"Until now the ambassador 'country team' of U.S. officials and Mr. Taylor's former military relationship to Gen. (William C.) Westmoreland has served to underscore the dominance of the civilian over the military establishment."

"Now, however, the military command appears to be taking on new and widened responsibilities for strategy as well as tactics."

Man Drowns in Area Lake Boat Mishap

A 30-year-old Commerce Township man drowned at about 7 p.m. yesterday when his boat capsized in Mud Lake.

The victim, Edward H. Ostrander, 3107 Woodlawn, was attempting to retrieve his wallet from the water when the boat overturned.

His body was recovered from 15 feet of water about 300 feet from shore by Oakland County Sheriff's Department skindivers Medward Tessier and Wayne Brause.

A companion, Charles W. Egger, 25, of Lakeland, was rescued from the water by two other fishermen.

In another accident, a Pontiac woman, Mrs. Jerry Cunningham, 21, of 4137 Parkwood was killed in a two-car collision yesterday on the Shiawassee-Genesee county line at the intersection of M13 and M21.

"These guys haven't arrived one minute too soon," said an officer of the 35th Engineers. "We've been here by ourselves for two months. We're getting scary."

Thirly U.S. Air Force planes made repeat strikes on ordnance depots north of Hanoi today, military spokesmen said. One mission took four F105s and eight F4s, with three other aircraft in support, over the Yen Bai depot, 77 miles northwest of Hanoi. The pilots reported destroying two buildings and managing three others, and damaging two railroad cars in a railroad maintenance yard just north of the depot.

ORDNANCE DEPOT

Fifteen planes attacked the Yen Se ordnance depot and ammunition dump about 65 miles northwest of Hanoi, the spokesmen said, and pilots reported damaging four buildings.

In other strikes today, pilots reported inflicting heavy damage on the radar installation on Hon Nien Island, about 11 miles offshore northeast of Vinh, and damaging 12 barges in an estuary about 10 miles north of Vinh.

U.S. planes also dropped 14 million propaganda leaflets on the cities of Phat Diem, 85 miles south of Hanoi; Lyan Han, 55 miles south of Hanoi, and Tri Dong, about 40 miles south of the North Vietnamese capital, the spokesmen said.

All the planes were reported to have returned safely.

Township May Sue in Annexation

The city's annexation of its newly acquired sanitary landfill site in Pontiac Township may be contested in Circuit Court, The Press learned today.

Township Supervisor Leonard F. Terry said that the township would sue, but he declined to say how soon or on what basis the township would go into court.

Previously, Terry had registered a strong protest to the city's annexing of the 212 acres along a portion of the city's northern boundary.

Township Attorney L. R. Bebout confirmed this morning that the township board had authorized him to study the possibilities of a suit.

Bebout said that the matter was still being studied. However, he indicated that if a suit were filed it would be to determine the constitutionality of the statute under which the city annexed the land.

"It's too early to say anything definite," said Bebout, "but I've been authorized to study it."

The City Commission annexed the fill site by resolution. The state law permits such annexation when the property is city-owned, vacant and adjacent to the city.

City officials have said that the present facilities will last only about two years.

The land, split by Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks and Collier, generally lies north of Collier, west of Joslyn and south of Lake Angelus Road.

Burns and his two small sons were attending a Farmington Township Junior Chamber of Commerce weekend camping outing at the site with some 70 other Jaycees and children.

Burns told searchers that he gave Robert a dish of apple-sauce about 10:30 a.m. yesterday and discovered that he was missing five minutes later.

Searching parties began to fan out about noon yesterday in the Huron National Forest where the campsite was located.

A full-scale hunt continued to dusk and resumed at dawn to dusk with 175 National Guardsmen from Camp Grayling, 16 state police troopers, Crawford County sheriff's deputies and volunteers combing the underbrush in a six square-mile area.

Police and sheriff's deputies spent all last night checking the possibility that the boy had fallen into the river.

E. L. Bradley, assistant commander of State Police District 7 in Traverse City, said early today he thought it was unlikely that the boy had stepped into the shallow river.

Burns said he was quite sure his son, being fully clothed, would stay away from the river.

Temperatures plunged to the 40's last night in the area but today was warm and sunny.

As the searchers plodded through the woods calling to the lost boy, a state police plane circled overhead summing the lad with a loudspeaker.

Disappeared From His Camp Near Grayling

Youngster, 3, Located Alone in North Woods by Youth From Area

By DON PEMBER and JOE MULLEN

A 3½-year-old Farmington boy, missing since yesterday morning in a heavily wooded area 14 miles east of Grayling, was found this morning just 50 yards from the searching party headquarters.

Robert Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Burns Jr. of 28955 Glenarden, was found sleeping under a bridge by Paul Thomas, 11, of 8866 Ortonville, Independence Township.

Except for having several mosquito bites, the boy was found in excellent condition.

Robert, who was missing from 10:30 a.m. yesterday until 10 a.m. today, told searchers he had only one concern during the lonely night in the north woods.

"I said my prayers that bears would stay away," he commented.

The bridge over the Au Sable River where the boy spent the night was about a mile and a half north of the camp site from which he wandered.

Searchers said that a helicopter landed about 25 yards from where the boy was found earlier this morning but it didn't disturb his slumber.

A massive search had resumed today for the boy.

Participating were more than 200 men, two helicopters, an airplane and two state police tracking dogs.

BREAKING CAMP

The boy disappeared from his family's campsite at Canoe Harbor on the Au Sable River as his father was breaking camp in preparation for taking Robert and his five-year-old brother home.

Burns and his two small sons were attending a Farmington Township Junior Chamber of Commerce weekend camping outing at the site with some 70 other Jaycees and children.

ARRIVE IN VIET NAM — A pat on the back is given to a soldier of the U.S. Army's 1st Infantry Division by Col. James E. Simmons, 2nd Brigade commander, as the GI carries his duffel bag ashore today at Cam Ranh Bay, South Viet Nam. About 1,000 members of the division were landed. The new troops are part of the U.S. military buildup in Viet Nam.

The brigade came from Ft. Riley, Kan. The United States has a brigade of paratroopers and 24,000 Marines in Viet Nam, but the 1st Division brigade is the first sizable unit of combat infantrymen sent to Viet Nam.

Simmons said the first mission of his troops will be to protect the U.S. Army's 35th Engineer Group, which is working on harbor improvements at the huge bay.

Gemini 7 Fliers May Orbit Without Any Space Suits

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Space officials are pondering the possibility of sending astronauts Borman and James A. Lovell on their 14-day Gemini flight without space suits.

Borman, 37, an Air Force major and command pilot for Gemini 7, discussed the plan today. The Tucson, Ariz., astronaut said lack of time for a complete study of the plan was the reason that L. Gordon Cooper Jr., an Air Force major, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Charles Conrad had been turned down in their suggestion that they go without suits on the Gemini 5 eight-day mission. Their flight is expected Aug. 19.

Integrationists Test Dearborn Camp in Area

Ten white persons took seven Negro friends yesterday into a community all-white camp Dearborn near Milford. The integrated group met no official or unofficial resistance.

"The purpose was exposure of Dearborn residents to an integrated group that could have a good time together," said 16-year-old Valerie Taylor of Inkster, a white girl who was admitted on the resident pass of a boyfriend, Pat Quinan of Dearborn.

The Negroes and whites arrived at the camp in four cars and spent approximately two hours playing softball, and eating lunch at a camp refreshment stand, Miss Taylor said.

She and Darnell Summers of Inkster, a Negro, said the trip to the camp, which is operated by the City of Dearborn, was planned "two of three weeks ago" by the Young Americans for Racial Equality.

This group is a youth movement within the Dearborn Human Relations Council.

PROTESTED 'BIAS'
The council has protested what it said was segregation in the Detroit suburb.

There were no racial incidents while the group was at the camp, Summers said.

"It was really wonderful," Miss Taylor said. "There were a few comments but there were no threats or anything like that."

A camp Dearborn official said he had no comment on the integrated party's excursion to the camp.

the officials approving the no-suit proposal for his flight, either.

"I'm not pushing for it," he said. "I want to do the best job I can. To do that job, the best way I know how, I must be operating at top efficiency. I believe I can do that with the least encumbrance."

TO BE LIGHTER

Borman, a backup crewman for Gemini 4, said if the proposal is turned down, the space suit worn would be much lighter than the 33-pound suit worn by Edward H. White during his 20-minute space walk.

"We don't plan to get out of the spacecraft or open the hatch," he said.

The space suit is a backup protection in case pressure or oxygen is lost inside the space capsule. U.S. astronauts have removed their helmets, which depressurizes their suits, while in flight.

Three Soviet cosmonauts reportedly flew in one spacecraft Oct. 12, 1964, without spacesuits, wearing street clothes.

14 DAYS IN SHIP

Borman said that 14 days in a spacecraft might be uncomfortable and decrease efficiency.

"But the possibility of going without suits is almost negligible," he said. "And I wouldn't want to go without a suit if I showed it would be dangerous."

Borman and his copilot, Navy Cmdr. Lovell, also are expected to be shot into orbit late this year or early 1966.

Borman said there had been a plan to rendezvous with either a spent Agena rocket or the second stage of the Titan booster used to place the two men in orbit.

WON'T DOCK

"We won't dock with it, of course," Borman said. "nor will we try to keep up with it. We plan to take our time, saving fuel. We will have two weeks to do it, and we don't plan to be in any hurry."

Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr., 42, and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford, 34, are set to pilot the two-day Gemini 6 mission in October. An Atlas-Agena rocket will hurl the Agena stage into orbit, Gemini 6 will be launched later and will attempt to link up with the Agena.

Defend Rights Stand

2 in GOP Fire Back at LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two House Republican leaders fired back today at President Johnson's criticism of their voting rights stand, accusing the President of being "a dangerous advocate of one-party government."

The retort from House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan and Rep. William McCulloch of Ohio, ranking Republican member of the House Judiciary Committee, was in a joint statement which Ford read at a news conference.

Johnson, in a weekend statement at his Texas ranch, had praised the House for its passage of the administration's voting rights bill, and had described McCulloch's proposed substitute, rejected by the House, as one "which would have seriously damaged and diluted the guarantee of the right to all Americans."

The Ford-McCulloch statement said "The President embraces a form of consensus which in effect says, 'I am right. Everyone else is wrong. I am for good. You're for evil.' He tolerates no constructive differences of opinion. As such, he is a dangerous advocate of one-party government in this country."

POLITICAL INSTINCT
They said further that Johnson's "political instinct got the better of his sense of fairness and his sense of history" when he accused the House GOP of trying to water down the voting rights bill.

Educator on Far East Field Trip

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — George A. Rooper, headmaster of City and Country School of Bloomfield Hills, and his wife are among 100 American educators who left the States yesterday for a seven-week field study of educational institutions and reforms in the Far East.

Mrs. Rooper is director of the nursery and kindergarten at the Bloomfield Hills school.

Delta Kappa Gamma, a professional education fraternity, the Comparative Education Society, and Kent State University are sponsoring the trip.

Blasts Rock Chicago Areas
Clues Are Sought to 'Senseless' Bombings

CHICAGO (AP) — Fresh explosions shook Chicago's downtown and near West Side areas last night and early today as authorities were seeking persons responsible for two earlier bombings.

Investigators talked of "mad bombers" as they poked around rubble for clues that might lead to a solution of four apparently senseless bombings that have damaged at least six downtown office buildings and a number of cars since Saturday.

Authorities said it was only luck that no one has been killed in the series of explosions that began early Wednesday. One man suffered minor injuries.

The latest bombing in the downtown section—the third in that area—shattered more than 30 windows in the towering Wrigley Building on Michigan Avenue and destroyed a parked car.

Early this morning, a few hours after the Michigan Avenue bombing, at least two other bombs detonated three trucks on an ice cream sales firm on the West Side.

Police began a search for two men seen fleeing early this morning from the blasts in a garage where the ice cream trucks were stored.

Police bomb experts said the Wrigley Building explosion was caused by a black powder bomb placed under a car parked alongside the building on the lower level of Michigan Avenue.

The car owner, Jerome M. Wells, said he was mystified by the bombing.

The explosion, shortly before midnight, shattered display windows of the National Boulevard Bank on the lower level of the Wrigley Building, as well as other windows in the Michigan Avenue landmark.

Damage to the car and building was estimated by fire department officials at about $4,000.

U.S.-Japanese Confab Opens
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk opened the fourth U.S.-Japan Joint Cabinet Committee conference today with a call for increased economic efforts by the two countries in Southeast Asia.

He told the seven Japanese Cabinet officers and their American counterparts that the two countries share a particular interest in Southeast Asia where freedom is threatened by aggressive neighbors.

In response, Japan's foreign minister, Eisaku Satoh, said Japan has been taking increased responsibility in the sphere of international economy, and in particular to the Asian neighbors.

Shina said that the progress already made in Japan-U.S. cooperative ties "with the firm basis unless it is accompanied by constant and strenuous efforts to bring about appropriate solutions to each and every one as such problems that may arise between our two countries."

COMPETITION
Rusk said that a wide variety of difficult problems could be expected from competition that develops between vigorous trading nations.

"As old problems are solved new ones emerge," he said.

Dr. Gerald H. Read of Kent State University is in charge. The group will spend two weeks in Japan and about one week in Taiwan, Hong Kong, Thailand, Malaysia, and the Philippines.

SEMINARS, TRIPS PLANNED
Seminars and field trips to universities, high schools, elementary schools, and vocational and nursery schools are planned.

This marks the fifth study trip which Rooper has taken as a delegate of the Comparative Education Society.

In 1958 he visited the Soviet Union; in 1960, Japan and Korea; in 1962, eight countries in Africa; and in 1963 he and his wife went on an educational field study trip to the Scandinavian countries and again to the Soviet Union.

Atomic Energy - I

Little Evidence of 1st A-Blast Remains

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of five dispatches telling the story of atomic energy on its 20th birthday. Reporter Robert Cochran traveled 10,000 miles throughout the United States to find out how atomic energy is affecting your life. His first dispatch is written from Alamogordo, N.M., where the first atomic bomb was detonated.)

BY ROBERT COCHRAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
ALAMOGORDO, N.M.—Cloud wisps splash against the azure skies and whirlwinds of sand spout occasionally from the desert floor. The peaks of the Sierra Oscura range isolate the area.

The desert is barren and flat. Were it not for a single microsecond of time two decades ago, the arid lands of southern New Mexico's Tularosa Basin would hold interest only for historians of the frontier.

But 20th century frontiersmen have given this desert pocked with greenwood, mesquite and tumbledown a new significance which the world still finds hard to comprehend.

TRINITY SITE Where The World's First Nuclear Device
Was Exploded on July 16, 1945

The time is 5:29 a.m. The desert morning is crisp. Lightning crackles through the slate-gray sky. Scientists and engineers and soldiers huddle in concrete-and-stone bunkers 10,000 feet from Ground Zero.

The nuclear device—its components assembled several days before in an abandoned ranch house—is strapped atop the 100-foot-tall steel tower.

One minute later, the Nuclear Age is born. A terrifying new source of energy—hidden from man since the beginning of time—is unleashed with the flash of a hundred suns, illuminating mountains 10 miles away. The thunder of the blast reverberates throughout New Mexico.

Aside from the stone obelisk, erected several months ago, only scattered evidence remains to remind man of that moment which rivals the day his ancestor first put fire to work.

LITTLE CARE.
The steel tower is gone, vaporized by the explosion. The 16-foot-deep crater which the bomb carved from the earth is now a slight indentation. Nature cares little for history.

Shards of Trinitite, vestiges of the 860-yard-wide circle of fused sand created by the bomb's searing heat, are scattered around Ground Zero. After 20 years, they are still radioactive.

Trinity Site is practically inaccessible to the visitor. It is now a distant and unused portion of the Army's 4,000-square-mile White Sands Missile Range.

I had to drive 150 miles from El Paso, Tex., the nearest big city, on little-used dirt roads to get to the site.

NO PROOF

The men who witnessed this moment when the vast energy locked within the heart of the atoms of matter was released for the first time had no absolute proof, before July 16, that the bomb would work.

Few had given real thought to the future of atomic energy. Ending the war was the immediate goal.

But the bomb did work. And three weeks later, when Hiroshima and Nagasaki were destroyed and 102,000 people died, the world also knew that the bomb worked.

The bombs that ended a war and ushered in a new age were the result of four years of labor at a cost of more than two billion dollars. They were the product of the greatest concentration of manpower on any single device in history.

$37 BILLION
Since 1945, the U.S. government and private industry have invested some $37 billion in the development of atomic energy.

But 20 years and $37 billion have not erased the specter of the black, whirling mushroom cloud and all it portends.

Yet the peaceful atom is a weapon infinitely more powerful than any atomic bomb, than any stockpile of bombs.

Advances in science, technology and, it is hoped, morality, have given man, in the words of John F. Kennedy, "a continuing challenge to use the atom's great powers for his benefit and not for his destruction."

TOUCHES ALL FIELDS

What has the atom's power wrought? Its applications touch all fields, all people.

The power of the atom is bringing electricity to our homes and factories. It is devastating insect pests and treating our sick. It is extending life.

The power of the atom is preserving our food. It is fighting insect pests, animal and plant diseases. It is improving the quality of manufactured products. It is detecting flaws in machinery.

It is operating weather stations and lighthouses and buoys. It is toughening wood, lighting watch dials, investigating oceans, exploring space.

BIG INDUSTRY

billion-dollar industry employing thousands of people.

But 20 years ago... Scientists shiver in the morning cold on a flat New Mexico desert. They hunch behind thick walls, sweat at the countdown continues. Few dare to dream of the future...

After the great blast, tension dissolves. An eyewitness describes the moments that followed in the control room:

"All started congratulating each other. No matter what might happen now, all knew that the impossible scientific job had been done. Atomic fission would no longer be hidden in the cloisters of the theoretical physicist's dreams."

"It was almost full grown at birth. It was a great new force to be used for good or evil."

How this great new force, born on a lonely desert to end a war, is now being used for good—and how it will be used in the future—is the subject of this series of dispatches.

Will Arraign Youth, 20, in Double Killing

VANCOUVER, Wash. (UPI)—Journalist student John F. Anderson, 20, was scheduled to be arraigned today on first-degree murder charges in connection with the slaying of a woman taxi driver and a barber Saturday night during a wild shooting spree.

Two other persons also were wounded in the barber shop gun battle.

Authorities said the River-side, California, student flew here Friday in a rented airplane and checked into a local motel. Saturday night, he called a cab, shot the driver, Mrs. Genevieve Jennings, 32, and fled in her cab, according to police.

Ten police cars chased Anderson at speeds of 80 miles an hour until he crashed into a barber shop at Duluth, about 15 miles north of here.

The student jumped from the taxi and started firing wildly from two pistols, Town Marshal Irl Huffelater said. The bullets struck Dennis C. Jones, 18, Battle Ground, Wash., who was in critical condition today, and Edgar A. Waser, 29, Lacey, Wash., who was seriously wounded.

NEVER MADE IT
The barber, Howard G. Morford, 42, Richfield, Wash., grabbed Jones and started running across the street. Morford never made it. He was cut down with a bullet wound in the neck.

Police trapped Anderson in the barber shop and he surrendered.

Movie Stunt Pilot to Be Buried Today

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Funeral service for movie stunt flier Paul Mantz was scheduled today in the Church of the Resurrection of Forest Lawn Memorial Park in nearby Glendale.

Mantz, 61, was killed Thursday during the filming of a desert sequence for a movie at Buttercup Valley, Calif. He had been a movie stunt flier for 35 years.

It Seems to Me . . .

Complete Disregard for Law Witnessed Daily by Nation

Wherever you go, people are talking increasingly about the utter disregard for law and order which the Nation is compelled to witness almost daily. Often these are mob formations which makes the offense even greater.

And it seems to increase. Usually the demonstrations are inspired or carried through by mobs which show an utter disregard for human rights, property rights and old-fashioned "law and order." Once we accepted these positive characteristics as merely a normal and component part of everyday life. Then we underwent a change. Widespread disorder sprang up.

The problem of integration was occasionally intertwined, but in the total picture this plays a relatively small part. The hoodlums and gangs often had nothing to do with racial problems but were merely raising Sam Hill on their own. Often this was without any apparent motive and in behalf of no "righteous cause."

Wherein lies the fault? Is it the parents? Is it a lack of law enforcement? Is it general apathy?

Where do the schools and the churches figure? Is the situation fomented by an underlying dissatisfaction among the younger element — and if this is true, what's the cause? Where does society fail so dismally when it didn't in preceding generations?

Many people are inclined to "blame the parents" for insufficient home training, home discipline and home supervision. This could well be the primary reason. On the other hand, can law enforcing agencies contribute equally?

This scrivener absolves the police forces, the sheriff's staffs and the State Police. We believe these groups are doing their respective duties in admirable fashion — and often under extreme difficulties. They are forced to contend with physical retaliation that goes beyond all accepted bounds. The bulk of the officers have exercised more patience than the circumstances seem to justify.

Are the courts too lenient? Are young hoodlums contemptuous of law and order, figuring they'll receive a little "sentence" which they take in stride and laugh derisively? Is there too much delay, procrastination and unjustified "forgiveness?"

The situation isn't wholly America's.

Other nations face it. I can't help but think our forefathers would have ripped into this with both fists and "laid the culprits low." Is it possible that curatives that would have been effective then are impotent today?

Insolence, impudence and mob disorders are actually increasing. Women are afraid to go out at night. They're afraid to open doors after dark.

Informative Booklet . . .

Oakland County's League of Women voters has truly presented the area with a masterful booklet on County Government. Most citizens are too busy and too concerned with their own immediate local governments to give the County the attention it deserves.

Here is a compendium of County information that has never been equaled around here anywhere. Our assessed valuation totals more than two billion dollars and it won't be too far down the road until our population passes the million mark.

These figures leave you awed. They sound incredible. But the important thing is this: they emphasize our size and tremendous requirements. All departments are covered methodically.

The booklet is 60 pages of meat, information, history and meaningful statistics.

Crime Reduction . . .

Night police in New York subways have reduced the mugging, robberies and personal attacks by 62%.

This is consequential.

In commenting on the change, Transit Authority John J. Gilhooley says: "The immediate answer is not machines, nor philosophy, theology or sociology. It is the policeman — armed — and visibly so with a nightstick, a billy and a gun."

Regrettably, we accept this conclusion as sound.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

CAROL BAKER had an old-fashioned press conference recently and the first question from the floor was: "Are you as hard to get along with as they say?" And her reply: "Not at all. I'm an absolute doll as soon as I get my own way about everything."

BOBBY KENNEDY has finally become eligible to cast a vote in New York — the State in which he was elected Senator. What a mockery this makes of our Nation.

Trusted scouts advise me Nancy Kitchen deserves mention as one of the especially attractive young ladies in the area.

Overheard: "I still like that man who offered the two latest astronauts a swell vacation: a trip around the world."

TV roof antennas may be on the way out. Producers claim a new eight-inch cone does it all — even better.

Sports Illustrated lists Pontiac's Jerry Rush as one of the outstanding players among the 50 college All-Stars gathered at Buffalo.

The current Civil Rights Bill had 19 Senate votes against it — 2 from Republicans and 17 from Democrats. And yet the colored population stands staunchly by the party that segregated it originally, kept it there for a century and now wages open battle to continue.

Overheard: "Prime Minister Wilson and the Queen crowned the Beatles and I'd like to do it myself — with a two-by-four."

Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: The C's — Michigan drivers who cut their 1964 Fourth of July deaths by 50%; the J's — the U.S. where the Fourth weekend deaths set an all-time national record.

The Trouble With A Citizen Army

David Lawrence Says:

Viet Meaning Not Hitting Home

WASHINGTON — To understand the Viet Nam problem and the great danger that the world faces if appeasement and surrender should take the place of firmness and courage, it is only necessary to go back 11 years to the historic conference at Geneva in 1954 and examine the mistakes that were made then which have led to the crisis of today.

For the Viet Nam dilemma is not just a local affair in far-off Asia. It is the most vital and fundamental confrontation between Communist imperialism and the free world which has developed since the Korean War of 1950.

The American people have not yet been awakened to the implications of the Viet Nam struggle.

There's a tendency to pass it off as something that will be compromised sooner or later or as a conflict from which Americans should gracefully withdraw.

The same kind of pressures from the appeasers and the defeatists managed to weaken the will of France and Great Britain at the Geneva conference in 1954, so that in the end, the United States dissociated itself from the agreement reached because it was clear that no strong foundation for peace in Southeast Asia had been laid.

WARMONGERING

Back in 1954, while the Geneva Conference was going on, the Democrats in Congress, including the Senate majority leader, Lyndon Johnson, were signing the Eisenhower administration and accusing it of being a "warmongering" regime.

The political disunity in this country had its effect abroad. Inside the British government, the Socialist Labor groups were taking an extreme position and preventing Great Britain from giving wholehearted support to the United States in its effort to form a truly effective Southeast Asia organization.

The politicians somehow have not changed their attitude, and today there are Republicans as well as Democrats here who are making it more difficult for the incumbent administration to combat the Communists that the United States is not going to surrender and will not withdraw its military forces, but will insist upon driving the Communists out of South Viet Nam.

HANDS FULL

The United States has its hands full in trying to fight the Southeast Asia war alone. It needs the help of its allies — assistance not only in money but in manpower and particularly in an agreement to embargo all commerce with the Communist countries now supplying aid to North Viet Nam.

Such action now can prevent World War III, which otherwise might come through step-by-step escalation set in motion by the same kind of appeasement, pacifism and timidity that led to World War II.

Bob Considine Says:

Air Transport Feat of '33 Dramatic as a Space Shot

ORBETELLO, Italy — Man's first full-scale mastery of the Atlantic by air transport began here just 32 years ago.

Early in July 1933, 24 hydroplanes carrying 100 Italian airmen took off from this naval base and flew to Chicago. It was a feat that rocked the world as would some massive space spectacular today.

The mass flight to the Chicago World's Fair and subsequently to New York was led by Gen. Italo Balbo, bearded and romantic Italian hero.

The trim, twin-engine Savoia 56Ks accomplished the well-organized trip to their landing place on Lake Michigan in 13 days. They stopped for fuel, provisions and a look at the sketchy weather reports at Amsterdam, Londonderry, Reykjavik, Cartwright (Labrador), Shediac (New Brunswick), and Montreal en route.

They had flown to America on orders from Mussolini to express the "new Italy's" warm friendship and Il Duce's personal affection for the American people, Balbo told cheering throngs.

'PREVENTS WARS'

On the steps of City Hall, New York's Mayor John P. O'Brien climaxed a ticker-tape welcome by asserting, "Your names are coupled with Columbus and Marconi. What you have accomplished with your machines will prevent the possibility of future world wars, make everybody brothers."

The crystal ball of an editorial writer for the New York Times was a bit clearer than Hissner's. He wrote, "It was a magnificent experiment. It foreshadowed, in the not very distant future, regular airline travel across the Atlantic."

I have long since lost count of my transatlantic flights, but this most recent one perhaps best expressed to me the coming-of-age of such travel.

For a change, I flew this time by Iberia, the Spanish airline. It promises to make as much of an imprint on travel over the Atlantic as Spain's galleons once achieved on its surface.

INCONCEIVABLE

Iberia's prime airline, named after Spanish art masters, is made up of new DC-6s powered by Pratt & Whitney jets.

For all the vision of the pioneers of ocean flying, none could scarcely conceive of this American-built carrier.

The four engines on our gracefully swept wing developed more power than all 48 Isotta Fraschini V18 engines used to propel Balbo and his men to their American destinations. Inside our cabin there was comfort, fine foods and wines, service galore. Far below and fore and aft were sea and land stations, keeping the crew fully informed.

The twin-engine Savoias, with one pusher and one puller propeller, cruised at 140. The DC-6s rode the other night carried 132 passengers and crew at an effortless 600 m.p.h.

It all serves to recapture the wonder of flying the ocean that the world shared long ago.

Who's Disfranchised?

The Grand Rapids Press

Senate Majority Leader Raymond D. Drendzel is far off base when he charges that Gov. Romney has acted to "disfranchise a large segment of Democratic voters" by vetoing the bill that would have permitted voters to keep their voting registrations "live" merely by voting once every four years.

Voters who don't vote often — and that are disfranchising themselves by failing to exercise their franchise as frequently as all good citizens should.

The four-year provision always has been an invitation to voters to vote only once every four years — in the presidential elections. The clear implication in such a requirement is that other elections — state and local — are held at two-year intervals are not important enough to vote in.

Voice of the People:

Readers Voice Concern About Drain Pollution

A recent Press article described the drain problem in Washington Park-Crystal Lake area as being one of stagnant storm water left standing between rainstorms. Water samples from this drain, taken and processed by a qualified county health employee, indicate the pollution to be caused by sewage and not storm drainage. This unhealthy and unsanitary condition is capable of starting an epidemic of hepatitis, strep infections, and other serious diseases.

Concerned residents of this area brought this matter to the attention of the City health department for the first time a year ago and have not yet been given a satisfactory solution to the problem. It is difficult to understand why the officials employed by the City fail to assist the very people whom their department was created to protect.

MARY I. BARKER
987 BERWICK BLVD.

In the majority of instances our city officials are doing a wonderful job and are to be commended. Unfortunately, the person or persons informing our city officials that stagnant storm waters are upsetting the residents of Washington Park should be educated in distinguishing the difference between stagnant storm waters and sewage disposal.

The vast amount of money and labor our government is applying to teach citizens the dangers of continuous water pollution should not be wasted in our fair City of Pontiac. It should be imperative to both residents and city officials to correct such pollution practices.

On June 19, we were involved in an accident at Hatcher and Airport. Two young men helped, using the shirts off their backs to stop our bleeding. They said they were in the Navy or Marines.

We would like to locate these young men to thank them and at least replace their ruined shirts.

Regarding the remark by Ludwig Von Borch about the youth of today not having summer vacations, does this person remember how dreadfully hot it gets in a school six hours out of a day without air-conditioning? During its years of operation under old mining methods, 1907 to 1962, a total of 76,000 tons of ore was produced, and 100,000 tons was the maximum in the best years.

The new process makes possible the present production rate of 1,200,000 tons a year, and that will be increased to 2,400,000 tons by 1967.

Yanks Preparing for Long Viet Nam War

By HAL BOYLE
CAM RANH BAY, South Viet Nam — This little far-off war is becoming bigger every day.

One sign that the United States is preparing for a long campaign is the extensive chain of bases it is building along the incised scar of South Viet Nam's lengthy east coast.

The bases range from Vung Tau, near Saigon, to Da Nang, 380 miles to the northeast.

Such giant nests of power are not the product of an idle hour nor are they slooping improvisations. They take months to plan, months to complete.

They take the work of hundreds of machines, thousands of men, and millions of pounds of fuel and supplies — all the endless items necessary to sustain a modern military machine.

HUGE HARBOR

The latest of this chain of bases is at this deep water bay slightly more than a third of the distance from Saigon to Da Nang. It can harbor some of the world's largest ships.

Here Uncle Sam is planting on a bordering peninsula what may become one of his mightiest fists in Viet Nam.

"It could become bigger than Saigon," said Lt. Samuel I. Eskenski, 23, Seattle, Wash., platoon leader of an Army landing craft company.

The pier has a 100-ton floating crane. Seven weather-yellowed French buildings house units of the Vietnamese junk navy.

SPOT RECOGNIZED

Both the Japanese and the French recognized the strategic position of the port," said Capt. Lindeberg Jones, 27, Leesville, La. "The Japanese built fortifications and ammo dumps during the second World War, and this is one of the last places the French pulled out of after the battle of Dien Bien Phu in 1954."

"We're building standard port and depot facilities and contentment areas for logistic troops, and an Army airfield."

A look at the map shows why the base site attracted Army strategists. The peninsula dangles in the sea like a wavy finger 22 miles southeast of Nha Trang, a popular coastal resort.

Surrounded on three sides by water, its narrow neck could be easily defended in case of trouble in the midpart of the country. Equally well, it could serve as a major marshalling point by the U.S. Army in launching an attack in the central area.

The Army is building a new 4,500-foot airstrip and lengthening a small one left by the French. In addition, if needed, there is plenty of room for another major airfield.

Rocket to Loft Three Satellites

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — A three-on-one satellite launching is on tap Thursday to strengthen the U.S. force of space eyes keeping watch for violations of the nuclear test-ban treaty.

Informed sources said two new nuclear detection satellites and a tiny radiation measuring moonlet will be orbited by a single Air Force Atlas-Agena rocket during a 30-minute period early Thursday if all goes as planned.

The twin satellites, part of the Defense Department's "VELA" program to detect clandestine nuclear explosions, will join four others orbited in pairs last July 17 and Oct. 16, 1963.

The United States signed a treaty with the Soviet Union in August, 1963, outlawing all nuclear detonations above ground. The satellites are looking for tests in space.

Each of the 524-pound VELA spacecraft, built by TRW Systems, is designed to distinguish between natural and man-made radiation in space.

NEW INSTRUMENTS

They carry sophisticated new instruments and unique maneuvering jets using gas heated electrically.

If the difficult shot is successful, each of the watching satellites will be placed in near-circular orbits 61,000 miles above the globe and on opposite sides of earth to leave no gaps in their space patrol.

The third satellite, a 12-pounder, will be lofted into an egg-shaped path ranging from 230 to 61,000 miles high.

It will sweep in and out of the Van Allen radiation belts above earth to measure natural space radiation and provide base line data for the VELA twins.

Ben-Gurion Ousted by Party

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Former Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion and his followers were expelled today from Israel's dominant Mapai Labor party for forming a separate list of candidates for the November election.

The party's Central Committee, led by Premier Levi Eshkol, voted the expulsion 218-9.

Ben-Gurion, who has been feuding with Eshkol, contends his faction is the "true Mapai" because the majority faction is now aligned with the left-wing Abud Avodah.

HAVANA (AP) — Ernesto Guevara has not been seen in the flesh in Havana for three months. But suddenly, without explanation, large portraits of him have gone up all over the city.

Government officials are maintaining silence on the whereabouts and future of the Argentine-born revolutionary who took charge of the Cuban economy after Fidel Castro came to power.

Presumably the Guevara

posters are appearing throughout the country in preparation for the 26th of July holiday commemorating the start of Castro's revolution.

BAMBERG, Germany (AP) — A new culprit is believed to have joined the anti-Semitic smear campaign in this area of northern Bavaria.

Bamberg's chief prosecutor, Josef Oetheimer, said that a new hand was evident in the primitive style of red lettering painted on a placard found Sunday. It was attached to a bridge of the autobahn 22 miles from Bamberg.

The placard, marked with swastikas and SS symbols, said: "Death to the Jews, Germany awake."

It was the ninth anti-Jewish incident in this area in less than a month.

ALGIERS (AP) — Col. Houari Boumedienne has named two moderates to key positions in a new, 20-member Cabinet and has downgraded the top economic aide of ousted President Ahmed Ben Bella.

Boumedienne named as minister of state Rabah Bitat, one of the nine so-called historic leaders of the Algerian war for independence.

Bitat was named second, behind Boumedienne, in the official Cabinet lineup announced Saturday.

Bachir Boumazza, architect of Ben Bella's socialist economic policies, was reduced to information minister.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party complains that Western news media are beating Soviet organs to the punch on world developments and scoring propaganda advantages here.

The party's chief theoretical organ Kommunist said it was vital for Soviet propaganda outlets to provide speedy and comprehensive "elucidation" of news events from the Soviet viewpoint.

"In our time when there are radio receivers in every home, to be silent about this or that event or not to deal with it from the positions of Socialist ideology means giving freedom of action to the falsifications of bourgeois propagandists," Kommunist said.

Huge N-Power Plant Will Start Up in Fall

KENNEWICK, Wash. (AP) — The eastern Washington desert is big.

It is large enough to cover a football field, tall enough to hide a 10-story building.

The two generating units stretch 100 yards. With their accessories they are so heavy it takes bulk concrete to support them.

Enough concrete is going into the structure to build a sidewalk five feet wide and four inches thick from New York City to Baltimore.

There are miles of pipe, some nine feet in diameter, some only five-eighths of an inch. The pipe will carry more than a half-million gallons of water a minute.

COMPLEX PROCESS
The production process is complex, but not simply. The plant will take advantage of the heat produced by the splitting of atoms in a nearby nuclear reactor.

Water from the Columbia River will be pumped in to help cool the reactors, which become so hot that steam is produced. The steam will be piped to the power plant to spin turbines.

Formerly the heat was wasted. This is the site of the government's Hanford nuclear project, now 22 years old, where plutonium was produced. The early reactors used the Columbia to bleed off the heat caused by the splitting of the atoms. No electricity was produced.

Congress authorized construction of a combined nuclear reactor and steam power plant at Hanford in 1962, but declined to put up the money for the power plant.

The 'Womanly' Look Predominates

In a season that knows no bounds on opulence, Ben Reig's silver and gold evening suit is probably one of the most opulent. Multifiber fabric containing metalized yarn and nylon demonstrates again that man-made fibers can achieve an almost unbelievable lightness of weight in the richest of textures. Here, the full-length dress marks the return of the waistline, with the little back-belted jacket following suit.

Ben Reig puts together with characteristic perfection a dramatic costume for six o'clock and on. First, there is the off-beat black and white Litz tweed that owes its faint trace of glitter and rich surface interest to a new mix of "Orlon" acrylic, "Antron" nylon, wool, and metalized yarn. Then, there is a dress that is pure shape, curving closer to the body, in matching fabric but studded sparsely with rhinestones. Over all is a jewel-buttoned coat, perfectly attuned, with controlled flare and easy elegance.

Let Him Make the Choice

A Visit Won't Hurt Son

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: For his high school graduation gift, my brother sent our son a check for $25 made out to one of our town's leading psychiatrists. I thought it was a joke, so I called my brother and he said it was no joke — he couldn't think of anything the kid could use more.

Please understand, Abby, our son is not crazy. He has had a little trouble finding himself, but that is not uncommon in teen-agers today. The check was addressed to our son, so he opened it. He wasn't hurt or insulted. He just looked puzzled and said he was going to use it.

I'm afraid to tell my husband for fear he'll take my brother apart. What do you make of this?

DAZED IN CAMBRIDGE
DEAR DAZED: Your brother may have meant well, but he was grossly presumptuous. Since the boy wants to use it, encourage it.

A session with a psychiatrist won't hurt anyone who doesn't need it.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know how you operate, but several days ago I wrote to ask your advice about a problem. I signed my name and enclosed a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply.

I forgot to mention that I do not want my letter printed in your column or read over the air on your radio program. I hope it isn't too late to ask this favor of you. PLEASE DO NOT USE MY NAME OR MY INITIALS. I live in a small town and if the facts I mentioned in my letter were made public, I would easily be identified, and many innocent people would be hurt. Thank you very, very much. Sign this letter.

"CAN'T SLEEP" IN LYNCHBURG, VA.

DEAR "CAN'T": Have no fear. I NEVER use a writer's "real" name or initials without his consent. Nor do I ever disclose the name of the city from which it came. Pleasant dreams!

Hostess Can Charge the Dinner

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I am a woman in my late thirties, unmarried and live in a hotel. I am often invited to dinner at the houses of my married friends.

I cannot invite them to dinner at my place as I have no facilities for entertaining. I would like to return their invitations by occasionally inviting them to dine with me in a restaurant, but there is always the awkwardness of paying the bill.

The men in the party are always embarrassed at having a woman pay the check. Will you please tell me how I can avoid this?

A: The best solution to your problem is to have a credit card. There are numerous companies who will be glad to send you a credit-card on request.

This card may be used as identification at any restaurant or establishment that is a member of the credit organization.

All you need do is sign the check and give it and the card to the waiter for processing. (The act of signing a bill does not somehow seem so objectionable as having the woman check over the bill and count out the money, while the man watches helplessly.)

The waiter returns the card to you and the restaurant sends the check to the credit card company, which in turn bills you at the end of the month.

The tip may be added to the check, but remember that if you do this, the percentage charged by the credit card company may be deducted from the amount your waiter receives, and you should adjust your tip accordingly.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Has Garden Reception

Weds J.S. Bell

Marilyn Squibb exchanged vows with John Sinclair Bell of New York City, Saturday, in Christ Church Cranbrook.

A garden reception and buffet supper in the Bloomfield Hills home of her parents, the George R. Squibbs, followed the five o'clock ceremony performed by Rev. John Albrecht.

Imported candlelight silk-ottoman with wrist-length lace sleeves and chapel train was the bride's selection.

Phalaenopsis orchids capping her French illusion veil were repeated in the bride's arched bouquet of Stephanotis.

Honor matron and bridesmaids for their sister were Mrs. Michael G. Sura, Patricia and Jennifer Squibb. The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Donald B. Pierson, Mrs. James F. McGuire, and Kathryn Dudley, also were bridesmaids.

Moss green and shrimp-color daisies defined the Empire lines of their wedgewood green linen gowns and formed their headpieces and bouquets.

William B. Burnett of New York City was best man for the son of Dr. and Mrs. John F. Bell, Urbana, Ill.

Ushers included Richard F. Berry Jr., Garrett Kirk; Donald B. Pierson, Nelson B. Robinson, James W. Sykes, and George J. Squibb.

After a Bermuda honeymoon, the couple will reside in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hallas have their daughter and son-in-law, the James Axtells with them again after two years in Cambridge, England.

Later in the summer the Axtells will be located at Cambridge, Mass., where they have an apartment.

"Mrs. Axtell will finish her senior year at Wellesley College while he will finish work on his doctorate at Harvard."

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bavelas and daughter Catherine of California are presently visiting Mrs. Bavelas' sister and brother-in-law, the John M. Booths of Waddington Road.

Mrs. Bavelas who is a professor at Leland Stanford University is spending some time in Washington while his wife remains with the Booths for a longer visit. Catherine will attend Echo Park Camp for a week.

The Booths' daughter, Virginia, who recently graduated from Briarcliff College is traveling abroad and will be spending some time in Italy this month while her sister Nancy is in Ireland for the summer.

The activities for the John D. Richardson Jr. family remain hectic. Presently, her sister, Miss Mae Chambers of Stockton, Calif., is their house guest for 10 days.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Richardson who is president of the Women's Committee for the Tuberculosis and Health Society, will attend the annual children's party at the William H. Maybury Sanatorium in Northville.

Others from Birmingham-Bloomfield who will participate are Mesdames: David B. Demarest, John J. Denman, Jesse P. Judd, Elmer W. Gerhard and Chester A. Cahn.

On Aug. 1, some 300 Michigan Circumcisers will gather at the Richardsons for their eighth annual "Summer Safari."

This year's theme is the "Mediterranean Holiday" with J. Leslie Berry, Michigan Branch president in charge. Assisting on the committee are Fred L. Shaw, George F. Cossaboom and John D. Richardson.

Refinancing Mortgage to Raise Funds

By MARY FEELEY

Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Our older daughter has been accepted at a state teachers college for entrance next fall. Tuition fees are $1,500 per year. I have applied for a student loan but as yet have not heard from this source.

Even if it is granted, I will still need a p-approximately $1,000 to see her through the first year.

My problem is this: would a second mortgage on our home solve my immediate problem—about $4,000? Or would selling the home and moving into an apartment be the solution?

I am 50 years old with a wife and two daughters. The balance of our mortgage is about $8,400. My weekly income is between $109 and $127, $1,000 per month. The balance of the mortgage, including principal, interest and taxes, is $113.

I have not been able to save any money whatsoever. My two outstanding debts are a $500 personal loan, on which I pay $33 a month, and a pledge on which I pay $10 per month. The personal loan has about two years to go, and the pledge one more year.

I have tried part-time work to supplement our income—but when you are away from home 12 or 13 hours each day, including commuting, you don't feel much like doing anything but relaxing.

I have not mentioned to the family about selling the home or getting a second mortgage on it. I can't imagine what their reaction would be.

Will you please advise me?

S. J. New York City

Dear S.J.: First of all, I urge you to talk the situation over with your wife and the girls. I think you're trying to carry too much of a burden all by yourself.

It's not fair to you or to them. The family as a unit is a powerful force, where sound thinking and determination are concerned, especially when all of you want the same thing.

Now to basic matters. I suggest that before you even look into the possibility of a second mortgage you consider refinancing your present mortgage. Second mortgages are very expensive by comparison.

If you can refinance, you could get the necessary cash with the minimum amount of interest.

Your monthly payments now are so reasonable, I doubt that you could find an apartment large enough for all of you at anything near the same cost. While there are always additional housing expenses involved in home ownership, the move to an apartment wouldn't necessarily be an economy measure.

In addition to the actual expense of moving, there would probably be extra expense in getting your home ready for sale.

Before you take any decisive step, write to the American Legion Service for the new edition of their 100-page booklet called "Need A Lift." It lists sources for financial aid for scholarships and for educational loans and you may find some suggestion you could act on.

The booklet is available for 25 cents, from the American Legion, Department 3, P.O. Box 106, Indianapolis, Indiana 46206.

In talking this problem over with the family, a practical so-

Off on an Eastern honeymoon after Saturday noon in the Bethany Baptist Church are Warren Chester Frasa and his bride, the former Sandra Kay Schmidt, daughter of the Allan R. lution may evolve in which they'll offer financial assistance. Realizing the strain of college costs on the family income might prompt your college-bound daughter to obtain a summer job providing not only work experience for her, but a chance to contribute to her own college expenses.

Possibly your wife might be able to contribute to the income through a community job. Many married women work today just to help provide an education for the children.

I hope you can solve your problem without selling your home, as I'm afraid this drastic step would put an emotional burden on all of you—especially on your daughter. And she will have enough pressure on her in her first year of college.

I'm thinking of you and your wife too, S.J. You've put some good years into that home. Taking care of the young should not strip the senior generation of its hard-earned gains.

The Robert W. DeHaams (Judy Ann Kline) left for a honeymoon to New York City after their vows and reception, Saturday, in the Milwood Methodist Church, Kalamazoo. Their parents are the Niles Klines of Elira Lane and the Peter DeHaams of Kalamazoo, where the newlyweds will live. The bride wore an English illusion veil with her gown and train of white silk organza for the rite performed by Rev. William Blanding.

Polly's Pointers

Keeping Baby Quiet

DEAR POLLY—Our little girl was not content to just look at the mobile over her playpen. She wanted it moving all the time.

My husband tied a string to the mobile, attached a clip clothespin on the dangling end and clipped the clothespin to Wendy's sleeper toe.

It did not take her long to learn to kick her feet and keep the mobile jumping. This worked for our little boy, too.—MRS. D. E.

GIRLS—Be sure the dangling string is not long enough for baby to get into trouble with it. Keep an eye on the playpen and its young occupant.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—Both my husband and I enjoy the collection. We often make and stuff rag dolls and animals and hope my husband's hint will help other doll stuffers.

Some of the openings, such as the arms, are quite small. In those cases he attaches a small funnel to the openings and holds it in place with a rubber band. The loose foam is then stuffed through the funnel with the eraser end of a pencil.

He finds this much easier and faster than doing it with his fingers.—MRS. J. D. W.

DEAR POLLY—When cleaning my lower kitchen cabinets, I place a long throw rug on the floor right under the cabinets being cleaned. This catches any crumbs and loose bits being wiped out.

When I am finished, it is easier to gather up the rug and shake it out than to clean the floor.

To keep countless junk items out of my sons' drawers I put each boy's name on the end of a large shoe box.

I put these boxes on a closet shelf. Now each boy has his own container for junk and their chest drawers stay much neater.—SUE

DEAR POLLY—Making neat buttonholes with the sewing machine zigzag attachment was difficult for me when the thread was the same color as the material.

Now I take a piece of paper that is a different color from the thread and long enough and wide enough for the required number of buttonholes.

Pin the paper to the right side of the garment after making the buttonholes on the paper. A fold in the paper will show the required distance from the edge to the buttonhole.

Sew through the paper and material. Tear off the paper and have a neat buttonhole.—ANNIE

Top Strength With Alloy

Ever since the twelfth century, sterling silver has been standardized at 92½ parts of pure silver and 7½ per cent alloy, for added strength. This particular combination became the sterling standard when it was proved, through experience, to have the greatest strength, durability and workability.

Pure metallic silver would be too soft for practical use. A spoon of unalloyed pure silver, for example, would bend and finally break in ordinary use.

To overcome this problem, a small portion of copper is added to the pure silver before the craftsman begins to work it.

BROOKLYN, N. Y. UP—Mrs. Sally Robbins is a female mailman. The five-foot, three-inch blonde, recently appointed as Brooklyn's first female carrier, is the only woman in the 400-man crew at the Central Unit Post Office in this borough.

"I enjoy the work," reports Mrs. Robbins, who formerly worked as a temporary mail handler in Manhattan. "Carrying heavy sacks of mail doesn't bother me because as a mail handler I lifted sacks weighing as much as 80 pounds."

She feels right at home behind the wheel of the mail truck, too, having been a cab driver in Miami, Fla., for a time.

The Thomas Peter Hansens (Linda Ann Schoenrock) left for a Michigan honeymoon after their vows today in Holy Name Church, Birmingham, and a reception in the Dryden Lane home of her parents, the Walter C. Schoenrocks. He is the son of Mrs. Richard Hansen, Oakbrook, Wis. and the late Mr. Hansen. Beaded Alencon lace accented the bride's floor-length gown of white silk organza. She carried white roses and tux.

OU Schedules Music Study

From August 9-16, the American Recorder Society will hold a week-long summer school at Oakland University. Shelley Gruskin, a member of the New York Pro Musica and teacher of Renaissance wind instruments, will be the director.

Recorder classes will be offered for beginners, intermediate and advanced students, along with instruction in krumphorn, Baroque flute and viola da gamba.

The faculty will include Miriam Samuelson, Arnold Grayson, Morris Newman, Gian Lyman and Janet Winburn.

Tuition for the session will be $50. For further information contact Oakland University music department.

Need Doctor on Vacation?

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Planning a trip to Mexico City? Dar es Salaam? Bombay? Buenos Aires? One helpful item to take with you is a pocket-sized directory of doctors who can speak English and who have received some of their medical training in the U.S. or Britain. The Directory, which costs $5 a year, is put out by Inter-med, Inc., 777 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Doctors accepted for listing agree to charge a reasonable fee for first visits, and to make night calls in emergencies. The directory lists 250 physicians in 149 cities around the world.

It is also worthwhile to inquire about local medical facilities at the American embassy or consulate.

Figure Dictates

If your midriff isn't as flat as the proverbial pancake, don't attempt to wear a two-piece swimsuit, and certainly not a bikini. Choose a figure-flattering one-piece suit that will give your figure a slim line.

Spray Mop First

Just before you put your dust mop in action, spray it with a lightly scented air freshener. The spray will dampen the mop just enough to make dust pick-up easier, and the scent will help clear away musty smells.

He Is Thinking of Future

Thoughtful Gift for Bride

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE V-4M: Tom H., aged 25, is getting married next week.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "what would you suggest as the best gift I might offer my new bride?"

"She is a wonderful girl and rates 'Very Superior' on your 'Tests for Sweethearts'."

"So I'd like DR. CRANE to surprise her with something special as a wedding gift from me. What should it be?"

IDEAL PRESENT

Briefly, you can't beat a "Family Income" life insurance policy!

For the average young husband on salary and thus has no sure-fire nest egg to support his wife and future babies, if a drunken driver should crash into him and cut short his stay on this earth.

Despite the fact Tom comes from long-lived ancestors and should normally live to be 80, an accident on the motor highway can offset such longevity.

Suppose Tom should thus be killed within a few years, leaving his wife with two or three youngsters.

MONTHLY INCOME

Social Security money would not be adequate to sustain the little family.

So his wife would probably try to get a job and "farm out" the toddlers to some kindly neighbor woman who would serve as baby sitter.

The children would later get into mischief and grow up without proper daytime attention from their mother.

So the smart young husband would carry the type of insurance which will pay his wife a monthly income up to 30 years and then give her the full face value of his policy, besides.

For example, when I married, I was a salaried college teacher.

So I took out three policies of $10,000 each under what was called the "Family Income" type.

Each policy would pay 1 per cent of the face value per month in case of my death, either from disease or accident.

That meant that Mrs. Crane would have received a total of $300 per month for 20 years. COST IS REALISTIC

Then, at the end of that 20-year period, she would also have received the full $30,000.

Wants Gifts Returned

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—Glenn M. Stewart has filed suit asking for the return of $21,000 worth of gifts he says he lavished on his betrothed. He also wants $2,000 in punitive damages.

The 75-year-old man's suit says he and Mrs. Helen Yourkovich, a 58-year-old widow, became engaged in 1963 but when they separated some months later, she failed to return his gifts. He says the gifts include his coin, book and cut glass collections, paying off a $7,500 mortgage on Mrs. Yourkovich's home and access to a $10,000 bank account.

Pack a Knit Shift

The best travel companion a woman can have is a black knit shift. It will pack easily, remain unwrinkled, and can be dressed up or down for day or evening wear.

face value of the combined policies.

The cost of these "Family Income" policies is not much more than for straight life insurance.

But that guaranteed monthly income is well worth the slight additional premium charge.

Insurance has really been the outstanding characteristic of this great nation, for it reflects the thoughtfulness of husbands.

Millions of children (and their mothers) have been dutifully cared for and educated because of the loving arms of departed husbands and fathers, thanks to regular monthly insurance checks.

Social Security will never handle the needs of a wife and several youngsters who are suddenly left without a breadwinner and daddy.

Private insurance is the answer, so you bridegrooms should present a "Family Income" policy to your bride on your wedding day.

Its regular premiums are like money in the bank and have loan value for extra emergencies.

With his first monthly premium, Tom thus has on tap a sum of $10,000 or more, in event of untimely death.

RENDEZVOUS WITH MARS — The sequence of events when Mariner 4 flies past Mars on Wednesday is shown in this drawing. After a 25-minute picture-taking period, the spacecraft will pass behind Mars. Radio signals passing through the atmosphere will be measured in an effort to determine the density and depth of air.

Flyby Two Days Away

Space Chill Harms Mariner 4 Device

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

PASADENA, Calif. — If the U.S. spacecraft Mariner 4 could talk, it probably would say: "M-m-man, it's c-c-cold up here."

The temperature on the shady side of the 757-pound, windmill-shaped craft is 130 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

It's so cold 132 million miles out in space — that's where Mariner 4 is today, only two days away from its July 14 picture-taking date with Mars — that one of its scientific instruments is chattering like a tropical monkey in a snowstorm. Its radio gibberish is completely unintelligible, even to computers.

The instrument, called a solar plasma probe, is one of several which scientists hope will provide more really new information about Mars than the 21 photographs Mariner 4's television camera can take.

MEASURE GASES

The probe, designed to measure the hot, radioactive gases — called plasma — boiling off from the sun, went haywire 10 days after Mariner 4 was launched Nov. 28. Jet Propulsion Laboratory engineers said a resistor had failed. They rigged a computer to compensate for the failure and for a while made some sense of the data the instrument was radiating to earth.

But the farther the spacecraft went away from the sun in its curving voyage out to Mars, the colder it got. Weakened by the resistor failure, the plasma probe became more temperature-dependent than other parts of the craft. Eventually, decoding the gibberish took more expensive computer time than was feasible.

INSIDE TEMPERATURE

Mariner 4 was designed to maintain an internal temperature of 35 to 85 degrees Fahrenheit despite the cold of space, absorbing just enough heat from the sun to supplement heat generated by its electrical instruments. But even this narrow range was too much for the sick plasma probe. It chattered from the cold.

The probe is ailing, but not dead yet. There is hope that when the television camera is turned on July 14 the camera may generate enough heat to revive the plasma-measuring device. Or, the shock front of plasma believed concentrated in the neighborhood of Mars may be intense enough to register on the probe's radiation counter.

If not, that will make two out of six instruments that will be useless as Mariner 4 streaks within 6,000 miles of Mars. An ozonization chamber — another radiation measuring device — went dead last March. Both were significant parts of a system of instruments designed to determine the environment of Mars and thus help scientists learn whether it could support any form of life as we know it.

MAGNETIC FIELD

They include a magnetometer which will show whether Mars has, as earth does, a magnetic field strong enough to trap solar radiation in a deadly concentration.

The spacecraft has another instrument to measure the intensity of trapped radiation and tell what kind of protection would be needed for manned landings possible in the next decade.

Also aboard are a cosmic ray telescope, to detect radiation from outside our solar system, and a hand-size impact plate, which counts the number of hits by space dust.

LIFE POSSIBILITY

An experiment which could tell more about the possibility of life on Mars than the photographs will be conducted after the picture sequence, as Mariner 4 flies behind the planet.

Extremely sensitive antennas on earth will record changes in radio signals passing through Mars' atmosphere. The greater the change — actually, a lengthening of wavelength as the signals are strained through air molecules — the denser the atmosphere.

Mars' air is very thin compared with earth's, but some scientists believe the experiment will show it is more dense near the poles.

Into Human Disease, Disorder

Primate Colony Is Invaluable in Research

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — For a movie star, Shamba behaved shyly at first. She covered her face with her hands, turned her back and maintained a coy silence.

Then suddenly she sprawled on the floor and turned a backward somersault. Most movie stars don't flip like that. But for Shamba, it's easy. Shamba is a gorilla.

The gray-black ape, who has played in jungle films, is one of the gorillas at the Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center taking up new quarters in a $2-million building on the Emory University campus.

This highly prized research colony of 11 gorillas, 27 orangutans, 72 chimpanzees and about 200 monkeys, is being moved from its original center at Orange Park, Fla.

Worth about $250,000 on the animal market, these meticulously cared-for primates are considered invaluable in research into human disease and disorder. The center, founded in 1939 by the late Dr. Robert M. Yerkes of Yale University, has what Emory describes as a "large collection of gorillas and orangutans in the world."

The red-haired, long-limbed orangutans, native to Borneo and Sumatra, gorillas are virtually extinct. Gorillas are difficult and expensive to obtain.

These primates, very similar to man in their anatomy, might provide the answer to heart disease, brain functions, muscular diseases and numerous other scientific problems.

"The primary accent here is on the brain," said Dr. Geoffrey H. Bourne, director of the center. Bourne, Australian-born and 55, came to Emory in 1957 from the University of London. Bourne talked animatedly about his brain research.

"We can put an electrode into the brain of an animal and control what the animal does — specific acts, such as raising an arm or lowering it," Bourne said. "We have a $100,000 grant from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for this research."

Possible experimentation might be the placing of an ape in a rocket capsule and then commanding certain actions by pushing a button on the ground and stimulating the brain electrode.

Bourne said research is being conducted into the possibility of inducing hibernation of space-men on long voyages of the future.

"Some space trips might take 10 years," he said. "If we could induce hibernation — reduce the metabolic rate — we could preserve the spaceman during his long trip."

Another of the projects is the study of two monkeys exposed to atomic radiation about 10 years ago in the Nevada testing area. These animals belong to the Air Force and are part of a series of tests of radiation effects.

The Emory center and a field station 25 miles to the northeast were financed by the National Institute of Health and grants for individual research projects. Twenty-seven scientists and a staff of about 70 employees will work at the center.

Army Unit Conversion Is Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is studying whether one more division should be converted into a helicopter-borne outfit designed for swift thrusts, particularly in a country like South Viet Nam.

The study is under way less than a month after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara authorized the formation of the first such division, called "air-mobile."

The 1st Cavalry Division (Air-mobile) came into being formally on July 1 at Ft. Benning, Ga. No final decision has been made on whether to send it to South Viet Nam later on, sources said. The air-mobile division is made up of about 15,800 men. It has both regular infantry and paratrooper brigades.

RIDE INTO BATTLE

After being carried close to the combat zone by Air Force transports, the air-mobile soldiers would mount up in their 428 helicopters and ride to the battle.

The Army is due to come in with its recommendations involving a possible second air-mobile division in time for drafting the next defense budget late this year.

It is not known yet whether another infantry division or one of the two wholly paratrooper divisions would be converted.

The Army now has 14 divisions. In addition to the new 1st Cavalry Division (Air-mobile), and the two airborne outfits, they break down into eight infantry divisions, one mechanized infantry division and four armored divisions.

SPECIAL CAPABILITIES

The Defense Department has said the air-mobile division was adopted "because of its special capabilities which are not found in the other divisions."

The air-mobile unit, the Pentagon said, "will make its greatest contribution to improved combat effectiveness in operations where terrain obstacles and underdeveloped communications networks could give enemy guerrillas or light infantry forces an advantage over our standard formations."

This fits the conditions of the war in Viet Nam.

Oust Nasser Backers in Iraq

Government Move
Clouds Merger Plans

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Iraqi President Abdel Salam Aref replaced all six militant supporters of President Gamal Abdel Nasser in the Iraqi government today, putting a question mark over plans for a merger of Iraq and the United Arab Republic.

Earlier reports from Baghdad said the six Nasserites had resigned about 10 days ago after Aref turned down their bid to speed up the projected U.A.R.-Iraqi union. It is scheduled to be effected before May 1966.

Cairo had been backing efforts to patch up the rift, but two presidential decrees broadcast by Baghdad radio today announced the Cabinet shake-up. The replacements, all joining the cabinet for the first time, included a former ambassador, three university professors, a prominent businessman, and a lawyer.

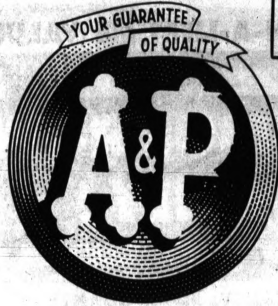

TEAMED UP

The decrees were signed by both Aref and Premier Taher Yahya, indicating Yahya had teamed up with the president against Nasserites.

The impact of the shake-up on relations between Cairo and Baghdad could not be assessed immediately. Aref has been a close ally of Nasser.

There was speculation in Damascus, however, that Nasserites would also be purged from key military posts and from the Arab Socialist Union, the government political organization.

In addition to the dispute over the U.A.R.-Iraqi union, the earlier reports said the Nasserites also clashed with Aref over the handling of the Kurdish rebellion in northern Iraq. The Nasserites also were reported dissatisfied with an oil agreement the government recently concluded with the British-owned Iraq Petroleum Co.

Pairs of Shoes Tell Story of Victory, Defeat for Congressman

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Snippets from the U.S. scene this week include a cabin of memories in Iowa. Centennial planning in Alaska. A fence specialist in Kentucky. A real estate computer in California. And a Civil War round table in a Maryland prison.)

EXIRA, Iowa (AP) — Twenty-six years of congressional memories are crammed into the small white frame cabin behind the home of former Rep. Ben Jensen, R-Iowa.

They begin and end with two pairs of shoes once worn by the southwest Iowa congressman, now 72.

One pair, which has been glued, bears the signs of a hard campaign. The shoes are labeled, "The winners, 1938."

"I was poor as a rat. I didn't even have them soled. I just put cardboard in them every day," said Jensen, in reference to the campaign which first sent him to Congress.

The second pair of shoes, less worn, has a sign proclaiming them, "The losers, 1964."

"I didn't talk enough," Jensen said. "I didn't get out."

Jensen, defeated last fall in his bid for a 14th consecutive term in the House, has retired to the house in Exira—population 1,100—which has been home for more than 40 years to him and his wife, Charlotte.

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — With the jaunty slogan "North to the Future" as a guideline, Alaskans are busily preparing for their biggest blowout since statehood.

On Oct. 18, 1967, Alaska will celebrate the 100th anniversary of its purchase by the United States from Russia, a 586,400-square-mile real estate purchase for $7.2 million. It was derisively called "Seward's Folly," after the man who engineered it, Secretary of State William H. Seward.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — W. T. Kirby has spent 30 years trying to make the grass look greener on the other side of the fence.

Kirby, 63, who builds, mends and paints fences around horse farms, believes they "make the pastures look greener. There is nothing much prettier than a horse farm with those white fences."

But it's a big job. One of his contract customers, Calumet Farm, has about 45 miles of fence. It takes about two months to paint it.

Kirby got into the fence business while working for his father. "We went into partners, although they didn't paint in his day; they whitewashed and it had to be done over every year."

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Irving Dudley's real estate office has been computerized. A machine the size of an upright piano has replaced the salesman's thumb in sorting through files of homes for sale.

Dudley says it saves weeks, perhaps months, of the househunter's time.

With the computer, here's how it works:

A customer tells the salesman what he's seeking. The salesman punches code keys corresponding to the specifications and out comes a typed list of every such house for sale.

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Thirty prisoners at the Maryland Correctional Institution for Males have formed a Civil War round table. Currently, they are studying the "underground railroad."

Inmates receive no special privileges as members. They may study during their free time in the evenings. Each contributes 50 cents a month from his prison pay for books and supplies.

The leader of the group is Norman Igo, 26, serving a term for auto larceny and false protesse. He says his main interest is not necessarily the Civil War, but in studying something.

Guards and prison staff members sometimes take part. Igo said "It breaks down the barrier between the inmate and the officer."

Igo said membership is limited to 30 to make for better discussion, and there is a long waiting list.

Doubts Compromises to Soften Foes of Reapportionment Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said today he doubts that recent compromises will soften opposition by some Senate liberals to a proposed constitutional amendment on legislative reapportionment.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen made two key changes in the proposal last week in an effort to meet objections.

He provided for submission of two plans to state voters. These would give them a choice of apportioning one house of their legislatures on other than a population basis or of adopting plans based on equality of population. The Supreme Court has ruled reapportionment must be on the latter basis.

Dirksen also moved to counter the argument that factors used in a nonpopulation plan might include race, religion, wealth and other discriminatory factors. The GOP leader wrote in a limitation excluding such factors.

WON'T BE INFLUENCED

Mansfield said he doesn't believe these actions will satisfy some Senate liberals who have threatened to filibuster if the proposal is sent to the Senate by the judiciary committee.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who may have the deciding vote on whether the committee approves or rejects the proposed amendment, said in a separate interview his decision won't be influenced by Dirksen's revisions. He has said he is still undecided how he will vote.

"I think I have to base my decision on the principle of whether such an amendment should be submitted to the states," he said. "I have no doubt that if I should decide to support it, I could come to terms with Sen. Dirksen on its form."

"But if I decide to vote against it, there is no use my wasting time trying to perfect something I would be opposing."

Javits said he is under pressure from New York State constituents and from civil rights groups to vote against the Dirksen measure. On the other hand, he said proponents have a point in arguing that the Senate itself is not elected on a population basis since each state has two members.

Javits said on a taped television program Sunday that he thought Dirksen had gone a long way to meet his objections to the amendment, particularly in a provision which would permit the Supreme Court to retain jurisdiction in reapportionment cases.

If he decides finally to oppose the proposal, Javits said he would not join in any filibuster which might be mounted against it.

"This issue is very well understood and a debate of it, let us say, two weeks or something like that, should certainly be adequate to bring about a very considered judgment by the members of the Senate," he said. "So I hope very much that they don't embarrass themselves and the country by a filibuster at this time. I don't think it is necessary."

Expect U.S. Viet Offensive in October

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst

Saigon sources say to expect the first real American offensive in South Viet Nam during the month of October. Until then, American troops will be busy up defending their coastal bases against the Viet Cong's monsoon offensive, and serving as "fire brigade" reinforcements for hard-pressed Vietnamese units.

The Viet Cong offensive is expected to recede when the dry seasons comes in October. In South Viet Nam by then will be about 80,000 American servicemen.

Their base defenses will be dug in and the weather will favor their air power and helicopter tactics.

American forces will be free then for the first time to take the offensive against Viet Cong base areas.

DISARRAY IN EUROPE: With the Common Market in disarray over the question of farm subsidies, Britain has all but shelved for the time being efforts at "bridge building" between the rival European Free Trade Association (EFTA) and the six nations of the Common Market.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson who talked over the idea with French President de Gaulle earlier this year in Paris, has been pushing it since within the EFTA alignment and experts have been at work to prepare concrete proposals for possible future coordination between the two rival blocs.

All is at a standstill now while the future of the Common Market itself is uncertain.

DE GAULLE STRATEGY: President de Gaulle can be expected to continue his boycott of the Common Market until after the September West German elections, French officials say.

If and when he does agree to reopen talks on the Common Market crisis, it probably will be on a basis of two-day discussions with each member country.

In this way de Gaulle would set aside the Common Market executive which de Gaulle dislikes because it is "supranational."

BLOCK RED CHINA: Highly placed government sources in the Philippines believe there will be another postponement of the Afro-Asian conference in Algiers.

Over Red Chinese objections, the meeting first was postponed until November because the new Algerian government had not yet had time to consolidate itself after the overthrow of Ahmed Ben Bella.

If the meeting is held in November, there is doubt that a Philippine delegation will attend because it is too close to the Nov. 9 Philippine presidential elections.

But, the Philippines are working closely with other Asian "moderates" determined to prevent Red Chinese domination of the meeting. The group includes Japan, India, Thailand, Ceylon and Laos.

KOREA POWDER KEG: One of the first orders of business facing the extraordinary session of the Korean National Assembly is ratification of the Korea-Japan normalization treaty.

The government is determined to press it through. The anti-Japanese opposition is equally determined that it shall fail. Opposition assemblymen are talking of mass resignations from the ensuing political confusion.

Lakes Skipper Faces Charge

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Negligence charges are to be filed in Chicago by the Coast Guard Friday against Capt. Martin Joppich of Rogers City, master of the sunken freighter Cedarville.

Lt. Commander Arthur W. Gove of the Coast Guard said he would file the charges before Charles Carroll of Cleveland, hearing examiner for the Coast Guard's ninth district. Gove will act as prosecutor.

The Cedarville sank May 7 with a loss of 19 lives. The sinking followed a collision with the Norwegian Motor Vessel Topdalsford in a thick fog in the Mackinac Straits.

The Chicago hearing will coincide with the arrival in Chicago of the Topdalsford, making her second trip into the Great Lakes this season.

CALL OFFICERS

Gove said officers of the Norwegian vessel will be called to testify to substantiate the Coast Guard charge that Joppich operated his ship in a negligent manner just prior to the collision. Meanwhile, attorney Victor G. Hanson of Detroit, head of a committee representing widows of three dead Cedarville crew members and eight other Cedarville crewmen who were injured, said personal injury and damage suits totaling $3,750,000 would be filed in Chicago today against the Topdalsford.

The chief justice of the Supreme Court receives a salary of $40,000 a year.

Campaign On in W. Germany

Bitterness Indicated in Opening Charges

BONN (UPI) — West Germany's first national election campaign in two years has started. The opening round of political charges and counter charges indicated a bitter clash.

The Sept. 19 election for 500 members of the federal parliament will be the first since Konrad Adenauer retired as chancellor in October 1963. He had won the four previous elections.

This year's contest is between Ludwig Erhard, the Christian Democrat who succeeded Adenauer as chancellor, and Willy Brandt, the popular Social Democratic mayor of West Berlin.

Both candidates hit the campaign trail during the weekend.

Erhard struck at Brandt supporters who claim the chancellor's "social market economy" policies favor the rich and discriminate against factory workers.

PHILISTINES

Pinning the label of "Philistine" on Social Democrats, Erhard suggested that Social Democratic speakers such as writer Rolf Hochhuth should leave the direction of the economy to experts.

Hochhuth is the playwright who wrote "The Deputy," the controversial drama which is critical of Pope Pius XII's attitude toward Jews persecuted by the Nazis during World War II.

Brandt received support during the weekend from Günter Grass, the author who sees himself as a kind of Social Democratic Walt Whitman. He said the real Philistine in West Germany was Erhard himself.

Brandt made a series of whistle-stop appearances in the West German countryside.

Officially, by agreement among politicians, the election campaign will not begin until Aug. 8 and is to run for six weeks.

But no one can prevent a member of Parliament from holding a public meeting to report on his activities, as long as it is not advertised as an election rally and no one mentions the magic date — Sept. 19.

For the moment, Erhard's activities consist largely of setting policy speeches before conventions of economic, industrial and social leaders friendly to the Christian Democrats.

Plane Flips 3 Times; No One Badly Hurt

LYMPNE, England (UPI) —

A twin-engine aircraft with 51 persons aboard, coming in to land in heavy rain last night, tore off a wing, flipped over three times, broke in two and finally came to rest upside down.

The 48 passengers — all returning vacationers from France — and three crew members were left hanging by their safety belts. None was seriously injured, although three remained in a hospital overnight.

A Ministry of Aviation official inspected the disintegrated plane today and said "it was a miracle that the aircraft did not catch fire and explode."

The plane, a Hawker-Siddeley 748, is owned by Skyways Coach Air Service of London. It was returning from a cross channel flight from Beauvais, France.

The skipper, Capt. Jeff Smith, 41, and a stewardess, Miss Ann Playfoot, 25, quickly freed the passengers and rushed them through emergency exits and broken windows. Many were treated for shock and minor injuries.

"NO PANIC"

Later, a company official said

"there was absolutely no panic whatsoever."

Miss Playfoot said a young mother was holding a baby in her arms. Both escaped unharmed.

"When I first saw everyone with their heads hanging upside down it could have looked so comical if it hadn't been so serious," she said.

Authorities ordered an investigation to determine the cause of the crash.

2nd Trial Due to Start in '44 Hit-Run Death

CELINA, Tenn. (AP) — The second trial of grocery handyman Grover Jones, charged with a hit-and-run auto death 21 years ago, was to begin today in this Cumberland mountain town.

On New Year's Eve 1944 lumberman New Lee was struck down by a car as he crossed the road in front of his home near Moss, Tenn.

His son, Welby Lee, now 52, would the night his father died he would track down the driver of the car. Jones, an Indianapolis, Ind., handyman, was indicted in 1963 after a 100,000-mile, $100,000 search by the younger Lee.

Jones' first trial last November ended in a mistrial minutes before a verdict was expected. The prosecution asked for the mistrial after discovering that two members of the jury were related to defense witnesses.

VERDICT OF INNOCENT

Several jurors said the panel had reached a verdict of innocent.

Jones, who says he can neither read nor write, has maintained his innocence. He denied being in Tennessee on the date of the accident or owning a car at that time.

Several witnesses at the first trial placed Jones near the accident scene the day Lee was killed.

Criminal Court Judge John A. Mitchell heard the first trial in the tiny Clay County courtroom once presided over by Cordell Hull. Last week he overruled a defense motion pleading double jeopardy in the case.

World Money Confab Backed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has proposed a world conference, the first of its kind in 21 years, to find ways of strengthening the international monetary system.

Such a conference could lead to the first major overhaul of the world's finances since the epochal meeting at Bretton Wood, N.H., in 1944.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler disclosed the American move Saturday night in an address to the Virginia State Bar Association at Hot Springs, Va. He said:

"President Johnson has authorized me to announce that the United States now stands prepared to attend and participate in an international monetary conference that would consider what steps we might jointly take to secure substantial improvements in international monetary arrangements."

Some of the necessary groundwork for U.S. participation in such a conference probably will be laid by Fowler and the newly named advisory committee on international monetary arrangements this week.

JAPAN COUNTERPART

Fowler, who met with British Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan earlier this month, hopes to see his Japanese counterpart, Finance Minister Takeo Fukuda, this week.

The advisory committee, headed by former Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon, will hold its first meeting Friday.

This panel and appropriate committees of Congress will attempt to work out a "comprehensive U.S. position and negotiating strategy" for the conference, Fowler said.

The Treasury secretary's Hot Springs speech also revealed what administration officials have been saying privately — there is a "likelihood" that the U.S. foreign trade balance of payments was in surplus during the April-May-June quarter this year. If so, it would be the first quarterly surplus in nearly eight years.

EQUILIBRIUM

But, said Fowler, "It is imperative not simply to reach balance in our payments for a quarter or two, or even for a year, but to sustain equilibrium over time."

As for the proposed monetary conference, Fowler suggested this timetable:

- An international preparatory committee could meet to lay the groundwork for the monetary conference. "Before any conference takes place, there should be a reasonable certainty of measurable progress through prior agreement on basic points," Fowler said.
- The preparatory committee could get its "terms of reference" from the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund (IMF), which is due to meet in Washington in September. The IMF was set up in 1945 after the Bretton Woods Conference.

Fowler said the United States is not wedded to the outlined procedure, or to any "rigid timetable." But the administration is "determined to move ahead carefully, deliberately — but without delay," he added. He warned that the issues involved are "complex," and no one should look for an "overnight solution."

REPEATED

Fowler repeated what he, Dillon and other top U.S. officials have been stressing in recent months — whatever changes are made in the system must build on the "existing arrangements."

A Junior Editors Quiz About VIKINGS

QUESTION: Did the Vikings use guns?

ANSWER: When we speak of vikings, or Northerners, we mean people living in Scandinavia during the "viking age," between the 700's and the 1100's A.D. But gunpowder, invented by the Chinese, was not known to Western countries until 1242.

The first cannon was not fired until the early 1200's. And it was not until the 1400's that hand guns were invented.

You will understand, therefore, why the vikings could have had any of these weapons. The viking age was before the age of gunpowder. The vikings were very well armed, however, when they sailed out on their marauding expeditions. They used bronze-tipped lances, bows and arrows, heavy battle axes and long, very well-made swords.

These were hammered out of bundles of iron strips, then bent over and hammered again, making them rigid and sharp. The vikings' religion told them warriors slain in battle went to a heaven called Valhalla, and this idea encouraged them to fight fiercely.

But when these Northerners became converted to Christianity they gave up their old bloodthirsty ways and settled down to become the peaceful Scandinavian nations of today.

FOR YOU TO DO: The vikings did more than just fight and pillage. They were great explorers and colonizers. Read about Leif Ericson's exciting voyage to the New World about 1000 A.D.

War on Poverty to Spread to Congress This Week as House Takes Up Fund Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "war on poverty" erupts in Congress this week as the House considers a bill that would double the money in the antipoverity program.

The measure is only one of several big ones up for action as Congress keeps up a booming pace that saw the House and Senate passing major voting rights and Social Security bills last week.

Bills dealing with housing, the U.S. coinage system, cigarette labeling and funds for running Congress, federal agencies and the Department of Agriculture are on the week's program.

When the administration tagged its efforts to end poverty in the United States a war, it didn't realize how apt the word was. Fierce political battles are raging in many big cities over how the antipoverity funds are to be used.

WILL SPREAD

The fighting will spread to the House Wednesday when the administration's bill to add $1.9 billion for the many different programs is taken up. No votes are likely before Thursday.

Republican opponents of the bill have been readying their ammunition for weeks, and a hot debate is in prospect. The administration is believed to have the votes to pass the bill.

Drive-In Show Is Hit by Fire

NILES (UPI) — Fire caused $75,000 damage to an outdoor movie theater in Niles last night.

The fire destroyed the screen, screen tower and damaged the adjoining main building. A movie was being shown at the time, but there were no injuries.

Six fire trucks from Niles and the northern Indiana area responded. Cause of the fire was not known.

Before acting on that measure, however, the House will vote Tuesday on a bill that would remove silver from all U.S. coins and authorize new coins with copper centers and copper-nickel alloy surfaces.

This goes beyond the administration's recommendations and a Senate-passed bill, both of which call for retaining silver in reduced amount in half dollars. A fight to restore this provision will be made, as well as a last-ditch stand by representatives of silver-producing states to keep some silver in other coins.

SCHEDULED ACTION

The Senate has scheduled action on three appropriations measures for the early part of the week and hopes to get to the omnibus housing bill Wednesday. There will be a renewal of the fight over a controversial rent supplement provision that brought the administration its biggest scare of the session in the House two weeks ago. The rent proposal survived by a margin of only 208 to 202 before the $5.3-billion housing measure won approval on a 425-169 roll call vote.

Two important conferences between House and Senate representatives will be held to work out differences between the voting rights and Social Security medical care bills.

Not too much difficulty is expected in reaching agreement on the Social Security measure, but differences over poll taxes could cause the voting bill conference trouble.

The House banned poll taxes in the bill it passed 333 to 85 Friday night. The Senate version provides for a prompt test of their constitutionality. The administration favors the Senate approach, and this may determine the outcome.

Working on the Arcadian Road, near Dollar Bay in the Upper Peninsula, Michigan Bell lineman Jim LaBelle saw a huddled form sprawled in the ditch.

It was a frail old man, unconscious, and with serious head injuries from a fall. No time to lose!

LaBelle hurried to the top of the nearest telephone pole...

where he connected his test phone to a line and called the police for help. A patrol car sped to the scene.

Rushed to a nearby hospital, the man was soon out of danger.

Jim LaBelle's helpfulness and quick thinking in this situation were not unusual. These are qualities you come to expect from telephone people.

Negro Grad of West Point One of 2 New LBJ Aides

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — A West Point-educated Negro went to work today as a presidential military aide, the first of his race ever so honored.

Maj. Hugh Robinson, who will turn 33 on Aug. 4 said he was delighted with his new assignment. His wife said she was thrilled.

The Robinsons were flown to the LBJ Ranch Sunday for an informal ceremony and introductions to the press.

Also on hand were Air Force Maj. James U. Cross and his wife.

NEW TITLE

Cross, who will be promoted to lieutenant colonel Thursday, has been designated by Johnson as armed forces aide, a new title replacing that of military aide.

Cross will take over the duties of Maj. Gen. Chester V. Clifton, who is retiring from the Army next month to become executive vice president of a New York management advisory firm.

Robinson will be Johnson's Army aide, serving under Cross. He will replace Lt. Col. James M. Connell, who is going to the War College in Washington.

Cross is expected to continue as Johnson's chief pilot when he flies in Jetstars instead of his big jet liners.

SCHOOL RECORD

Robinson, a native of Washington, D.C., received a bachelor of science degree from the Military Academy in 1954, and a master of science degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1959. He has been on duty in the war plans division of the Army Engineers.

There were other announcements of resignations and appointments during the weekend. They included:

—The resignation of Carl T. Rowan as director of the U.S. Information Agency. Rowan, a Negro, was one of Johnson's first major appointments after he became president. Rowan will stay on the job until Johnson can select a successor. Sources indicated Rowan may become a syndicated Washington columnist.

The resignation of Eugene M. Zuckert as secretary of the Air Force, effective Sept. 30, and the appointment of Dr. Harold Brown to succeed him. Brown, 38, currently is the Pentagon's director of defense research and engineering.

AIR OFFICIAL

—The resignation of Dr. Brockway McMillan, effective Sept. 30, as undersecretary of the Air Force and the nomination of Norman S. Paul to succeed him. Paul now is assistant secretary of defense (Manpower).

Johnson also approved a $237-million power project for northern Maine but left for further study the long-talked-about plans to harness the tides of the Bay of Fundy for production of electricity.

The project approved by Johnson calls for a multipurpose project on the St. John River where it forms the boundary between Maine and Canada. Its construction is dependent upon an agreement with the Canadian government since the reservoir would flood some Canadian territory.

Johnson released a report from administrator Eugene Foley of the Small Business Administration telling how the operations of the agency have been streamlined during the last year.

ANNUAL SAVINGS

The report estimated savings at $2.2 million annually.

The President also announced his intention to fill three federal judge vacancies.

New York attorney Theodore Tanswell, 46, is to get a spot on the U.S. Tax Court, succeeding the late Judge Clarence Oppen.

Oliver Gasch, 59, and William B. Bryant, 53, a Negro, both of Washington, are to be submitted for seats on the District Court in the District of Columbia.

USIA Director Lured by Offers

Says Financial Need
Factor in Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Carl T. Rowan said today the combination of "an anemic bank account" and tempting outside offers nudged him away from government service.

"It's simply the fact that I have been in government more than four years, and have had job offers that present remarkable opportunities," he said in an interview.

"I've got two boys headed for college," he said, then quipped: "And a hungry Doberman Pinscher."

President Johnson announced Rowan's resignation as director of the U.S. Information Agency over the weekend. Rowan, 39, one of the highest ranking Negroes in government service, said he would remain at his post until a successor is named.

TABBED BY JFK

Rowan entered the government in 1961 when President John F. Kennedy tabbed him as a deputy assistant secretary of state. Later, Rowan was U.S. ambassador to Finland.

Rowan's annual salary has been $20,000 since last year's federal pay raise. He started at $18,500 in 1961.

Rowan, once a prize-winning reporter, said his annual earnings had been more than $35,000 when he was a newspaperman. The outgoing USIA chief declined to say what job offers he has received, but other sources indicated he may become a syndicated Washington columnist.

Rowan said he doesn't know who will follow him as director, but doubts that there will be any major reorganization. The No. 2 USIA position, that of deputy director, and the directorship of the Voice of America, USIA's radio arm, now are vacant.

He said USIA "is probably the most unappreciated agency in the federal government" but "it will be needed as far ahead as I can see."

South Pacific Islanders at Conference

LAE, New Guinea (AP) — The colorful islanders of the South Pacific are speaking out more freely than ever before.

Many have flown thousands of miles, from island homes spread over 12 million square miles of the Pacific, to the South Pacific Commission's 6th triennial conference.

Soft brown-colored Samoans and dark black New Hebrideans have come to discuss their problems and find ways of boosting the economies of the commission's 17 island territories.

Conference advisers include Europeans from island administrations of Australia, New Zealand, Britain, France and the United States.

NO POLITICS

Political topics are never on the agenda. But at night, as delegates sit around and drink local brew, some express hope that some day they can raise any subject they wish, such as the virtues of independence.

One indication: delegates this year appear to be working more independently of their advisers than before.

SOLOMON ISLANDER

Mario Kalesi, of the British Solomon Islands, speaks such phrases as "The sea is a free plantation given to use since the establishment of the world."

Here in the Pacific, the population is growing rapidly — in places, recent increases are said to be the highest in the world but today there are still only 3 1/4 million in the commission's area.

Of these, about 120,000 are European plus some tens of thousands of American and French troops in Guam and French Polynesia.

There is sufficient land in the Pacific for these people and generally enough food, although malnutrition and inadequate housing have been reported in some areas because of a population drift from farms to towns and cities.

The needs for a big industrial drive in addition to tourism was a main topic when the economic committee met. It put through a resolution expressing the need for help from governments that administer the islands in getting such a drive going.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible to Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special) — A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dynex) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®. In addition to actually shrinking piles — Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin fell on a stairway outside his home Saturday, in Windsor, Ont. and suffered a small fracture of the spine.

He will be hospitalized from four to seven days.

On advice of his physician, Martin canceled plans to attend a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance Council in Paris this week.

Bob Hope to Entertain Dominican Yanks

Comedian Bob Hope leaves by plane from Hollywood today to entertain U.S. troops in the Dominican Republic, a spokesman for Hope said yesterday.

Hope and five other performers will tour the country for five days. Accompanying him will be actress Tuesday Weld, comedian Jerry Colonna, singer-guitarist Tony Romano, actress-singer-dancer Joey Heatherton, and singer Lola Dee.

Rocky Falls From Horse: Injury Minor

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller fell from his horse last Thursday and suffered minor bruises, a friend said yesterday.

The friend said the accident occurred while the governor was riding at his ranch, Monte Sacro, in Venezuela, where he has been vacationing.

The friend said the governor probably will leave for New York this Wednesday.

Prince Philip Hurt but Rides to Win

Polo-playing Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, was hit on the back of the neck with a ball yesterday in a game in Windsor.

The prince, 44, cried "ouch" and slumped forward over his pony's neck. As the 3,000 spectators gasped, other players galloped up and helped massage his bruises.

After two minutes, the prince took his place and steered his Windsor Park team to victory over Chequers Manor by 8 1/2 goals to 3.

MISS INDIANA — Eileen Mary Smith, 18, representing Indianapolis, is shown in a black and white photograph. She will compete in the Miss America pageant late this summer.

It's Back to Normal: Abductors in Jail, Victims at Home

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Main participants in one of the West's wildest kidnap-chases settled down today in familiar surroundings — the Cham-

on family at home and their abductors in jail.

A July 21 date in federal court was the next stop for Wilford Marion Gray, 30, and Carl Cleus Bowles, 24. Cecil Poole, U.S. attorney for Northern California, said Sunday the pair will be tried "swiftly and fairly" on federal charges of kidnapping State Finance Director Hale Champion, his wife, Marie, and their 19-month-old daughter, Katherine Marie.

Poole's decision put to rest for the time being a jurisdictional quarrel among the federal government, Sacramento County officials and Oregon authorities. All wanted to try the two gunmen on charges ranging from rape, robbery and murder in Oregon to kidnapping with bodily harm in California.

Poole — who once served with Champion on Gov. Edmund G. Brown's staff — commented, "Frankly, I'm amazed at this kind of hair-pulling thing. It's as though people were clamoring for blood."

WAS WOUNDED

Sacramento County officials wanted to prosecute the pair on kidnapping charges which could carry the death penalty since Champion was wounded during the escape. Poole planned to prosecute under the federal kidnap law which could mean a maximum penalty of life in prison.

He obtained custody of the two ex-convicts Friday when their three-state crime rampage ended just inside California near the Nevada border.

It started off a week ago today. Police say it included bank and motel robbery, rape, murder of an Oregon deputy sheriff and kidnapping of six others in Oregon before the Champions were abducted.

Poole said Gray and Bowles, held on $100,000 bail each, would make their pleas in U.S. District Court in Sacramento July 21. They were indicted by a federal grand jury Saturday.

RESTING QUIETLY

A reporter who visited the jail Sunday night was told the two were resting quietly in separate cells. Prison bars are familiar to them — Gray left an Oregon prison July 1 and Bowles three days earlier.

Champion, accidentally shot by a bystander in Tonopah, Nev., was due home from a hospital in midday. Mrs. Champion said the bullet wound in his thigh wasn't serious and that he probably would be back at the job of administering California's $4-billion budget Tuesday morning.

Asked about her daughter, who couldn't stretch out during the 22 hours they spent in speeding cars, Mrs. Champion reported, "She's been on a sleeping job."

Sent to the 42-year-old Champion from his staff was a card reading: "Welcome back. Nothing much has happened since you left... except one thing — the cops are looking for you."

Meeting Politicos in
Bid to Form Cabinet

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Support is building up for Hector Garcia Godoy to become provisional president of the Dominican Republic.

But informed sources say an interim government probably will not be installed before the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States (OAS) meet in Rio de Janeiro Aug. 4.

Garcia Godoy, a 44-year-old businessman and foreign minister, has conditional approval of the civilian-military junta and full support of the rebels. He is meeting with political figures in an effort to form an acceptable cabinet.

The three-man OAS peace team recommended Garcia Godoy, who had served for four weeks as foreign minister under deposed President Juan D. Bosch.

The Dominican revolt began April 24 in an effort to restore Bosch, living in exile in Puerto Rico.

NO DECISION

Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, the junta chief, met with Garcia Godoy for an hour Saturday but refused to accept or reject him publicly.

Reliable sources said Imbert privately gave Garcia Godoy his endorsement, if he found a way to disarm the rebels and to solve other problems.

The general released a list of 22 other possibilities he said were "more acceptable" than Garcia Godoy.

One of the new names was Salvador Sturla, an engineer and former mayor of Santo Domingo.

VP NOMINEE

The OAS peacemakers nominated Eduardo Read Barrera to be vice president.

Read Barrera, an engineer, quit the ruling pre-Bosch council of state in 1962, saying he was tired of corruption. He is now Dominican ambassador to Italy.

The main obstacles to creation of a provisional regime include questions of its power, disarming the rebels and the length of the Inter-American peace force is to remain.

Informants said yesterday the OAS mediators want the force of 12,000 troops to stay for at least another nine months, or during the tenure of the provisional rule and the elections.

Residents Ask No Annexation

BRUCE TOWNSHIP — A number of township property owners apparently don't want their land to become part of the village of Romeo, and they have expressed their feelings in a petition to the township board.

AREA NEWS

The petition, signed by 80 per cent of the landowners, according to Township Supervisor Jerome Schoof, will be sent to the Macomb County Board of Supervisors for consideration.

Romeo Village Council last month petitioned the board of supervisors to annex the 800 acres of the township, but township officials don't want to give up that much land. They say the farmers in the area will be doubly taxed if annexed to the village.

Schoof said those who signed the petition represent all of section 36, a square mile bounded by 33 Mile, Powell, 32 Mile and McKay. He said part of the signers are from section 35, which extends about half a mile north of the village.

SEEK ANNEXATION

There are 27 landowners in the area, however, who have asked to be annexed to Romeo because they need sanitary sewers.

Romeo officials claim that to make it worthwhile they need 1,000 acres to provide a better tax base and additional land to develop industry.

School Needs Reports Due

Farmington Board to Evaluate Data

FARMINGTON — The board of education will look into the crystal ball tonight when three committees report on their studies of enrollment estimates for the next five years.

The board divided itself into three committees recently to see if it could determine exactly how many buildings, teachers and books it will need to educate 20,750 students.

This is the total enrollment expected in the district by 1970, compared to the present enrollment of 12,545.

Schools Supt. Gerald V. Harrison made the estimate after a study of population growth charts prepared by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, the Oakland County Coordinating, Zoning and Planning Committee and Farmington city and township officials.

The school enrollment figures are based on a district population estimate of 60,500 by 1970 and 70,900 by 1975.

FIGURES CONSERVATIVE

The figures are said to be conservative, with some population estimates ranging as high as 100,000 by 1975.

Reporting the results of their two-week study at tonight's 8 o'clock meeting will be board Vice President Richard H. Peters and Trustee Vernon P. Fisher, who have been studying building requirements.

Reporting on site needs will be President Leland G. Clifford and Trustee Herbert R. Neal.

A report on operational funds will be presented by Treasurer George A. Nahstoll Jr. and Trustees Mrs. Barbara A. Brown and Mrs. Sylvia F. Schwartz.

POSSIBLE ELECTION

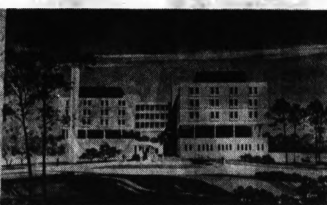

The studies have been conducted with an eye toward the possibility of a special school election later this year.

The board hopes to forestall any financial problems which could arise as the result of the district's projected growth.

BEGINNING OF A HOSPITAL — Howard L. McGregor Jr. and Ormond S. Wessels, officers of the board of trustees of Crittenton Hospital, Rochester, broke ground yesterday for the new building on Walton Boulevard at Livernois. Guest speaker at the ceremony was Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-14th Dist. Construction of the $5.75 million hospital is expected to take about two years. Below is an architect's sketch of the six-story, 207-bed hospital, which will be equipped to employ the latest in medical procedures and surgical techniques.

USDA Predicts '65 Corn Yield

WASHINGTON — A yield of 64 bushels from each of Michigan's 1,576,000 acres of corn for grain will supply 100,864,000 bushels in 1965, the U.S. Department of Agriculture predicted Friday.

Other production estimates for Michigan included: 28 million bushels of winter wheat at 34 bushels per acre; 25 million bushels of oats at 48 bushels per acre; 876,000 bushels of sugar beets at 12 bushels per acre and 8 million bushels of dry beans at 1.3 bushels per acre.

The USDA predicted the state will harvest 15.9 million bushels of apples, 2.9 million bushels of peaches and 1.2 million bushels of pears during the year.

Are Conditions Improved?

Legislators Will Check on Migrants

LANSING (AP)—Reports on working and living conditions of migrant farm workers have caused plenty of concern lately, and a group of legislators is setting out to see whether the concern led to improvement.

A fair deal for the migrants is vital to Michigan's agricultural economy, they say. Some 100,000 migrants will be on the job in Michigan this summer and last year they helped harvest crops valued at more than $175 million.

The new bill provides for licensing by the state health commissioner—if certain standards are met regarding health, sanitation, sewage, water supply, garbage disposal and operation. The commissioner may revoke or suspend licenses.

Concern for those workers did lead to several pieces of new legislation this spring. Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkeley, said the joint Senate-House labor committee plans to visit farms this week to see how new legislation is being put into effect and what new legislation is needed.

TO CHECK REPORTS

"A serious look will also be taken at recent allegations that inadequacies and hardships are still rampant in the migrant labor force and an attempt will be made to determine if there is a basis to the reports," Levin added.

Legislation passed this spring for migrant laborers provides for health department inspection of their housing, regulations for vehicles which carry them, $50,000 for a center to study their problems and try to solve them, $15,000 for education of their children and coverage for some of them under a higher-paying workmen's compensation program.

One bill which died in the House Labor Committee would have required bonding of farmers who employed five or more persons, to make sure that the workers received any wages due them.

The measure died after farm spokesmen pointed out that farmers already were covered by general laws requiring payment of wages due, and that a farmer—with so much invested in his land—would have a hard time running out on his debts.

Without this provision, Reed said, the farmer would run into extreme paperwork problems and almost would need time clocks in the fields.

The $50,000 appropriation will go toward a rural manpower center at Michigan State University. The idea, said Reed, was that there ought to be some body securing the facts, identifying problems and working toward their solution.

The Michigan Farm Bureau also is calling on Gov. George Romney to veto a measure requiring registration and licensing of group leaders of migrant workers.

Bureau spokesmen say the measure duplicates a more stringent Jan. 1 federal law and thus would be "just one more piece of red tape."

The Michigan Employment Security Commission already has been making annual health and safety checks in some 2,000 camps housing migrants.

The new bill provides for licensing by the state health commissioner—if certain standards are met regarding health, sanitation, sewage, water supply, garbage disposal and operation. The commissioner may revoke or suspend licenses.

MEASURE AMENDED

On its way through the legislature, the measure was amended "so it's possible to live with it," said Dan Reed of the Farm Bureau.

The amendment provides for temporary three-month licenses in situations where corrections must be made. Reed said this will allow farmers to make corrections without having to go out of business in the meantime.

Another help to the farmer, Reed said, was an amendment called an "important lubricant" in applying minimum wage laws to agriculture.

This action gives the Wage Deviation Board the responsibility to obtain figures on which to base a piece work scale acceptable under the Minimum Wage Act. It applies to the fruit and vegetable harvest only.

PAPERWORK PROBLEMS

Without this provision, Reed said, the farmer would run into extreme paperwork problems and almost would need time clocks in the fields.

The $50,000 appropriation will go toward a rural manpower center at Michigan State University. The idea, said Reed, was that there ought to be some body securing the facts, identifying problems and working toward their solution.

lyng problems and working toward their solution.

The $18,000 for education, he added, "is something we've supported for years. It looks kind of meager now."

The federal government already has granted $1.3 million to Michigan for operation of four migrant training and welfare centers by Michigan Migrant Workers, Inc., a nonprofit organization sponsored by the Michigan Catholic Conference and the Michigan Council of Churches.

NEW BILL

The new workmen's compensation bill includes coverage for farms which employ 13 or more workers for at least 35 hours a week over 35 weeks or more. It is to go into effect May 1, 1966.

The bill also requires farmers to provide hospital and medical coverage for all job-incurred injuries.

Summer Program for Boys' Club in Full Operation

AUBURN HEIGHTS — The Auburn Heights Boys' Club summer camping - swimming program is in full swing, according to Sam Sheehy, boys' club director.

The club runs buses to and from Cass Dodge Park No. 4 each Tuesday and Thursday, giving the boys an opportunity for swimming and outdoor fun.

Group clubs, which are small groups organized within the boys' club, bike-hike in Oakland University for swimming each Saturday.

J. D. McCarthy, program assistant, takes two group clubs to Bald Mountain Recreation Area each Thursday. They return on Friday after a night of "roughing it" in the "wids."

The club also sponsors numerous organized athletic activities during the summer.

Water Agreement Up for Discussion

TROY — City commissioners tonight will discuss a water purchase agreement between Troy and Birmingham which Birmingham wants to terminate.

In 1962 an agreement was approved whereby Troy would purchase water from the Walker Well to service an area on Maple east of Coolidge.

The five-year agreement gave either party the right to terminate the agreement with six months notice. In January Birmingham notified Troy that it intended to terminate the agreement as of July 31.

Troy City Manager Paul York said when Birmingham advertised for bids it included a condition that the purchaser would let Troy continue to use the water for four years. No bids were received.

York said Birmingham wants to terminate the agreement so there are "no strings attached" when they sell the property.

HAVEN'T READVERTISED

"I understand they haven't re-advertised for bids," said York, "but they have given us a 30 day extension and we'll hold a joint meeting with them sometime before Aug. 31."

"We feel there is a definite need to continue purchasing water from the Walker Well and it could cause a serious problem if the contract agreement is terminated at this time."

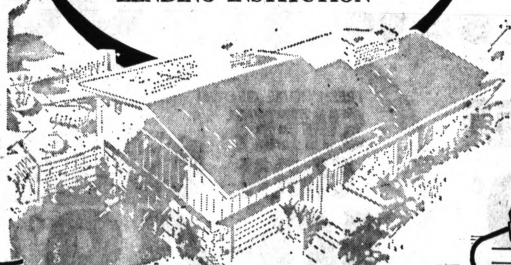

The commission will also consider a request from Minoru Yamasaki and Associates to install underground electrical service from the new city hall to the southeast property line.

The original plan was to install an overhead line, but York said that "for aesthetic reasons" Yamasaki, who owns some nearby property, wants underground service.

KATHY WHITWORTH

LPGA Victory to Whitworth

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The pendulum has swung back toward Kathy Whitworth in what has become a duel with Carol Mann for the throne of women's golf now that queen Mickey Wright is abdication.

Kathy triumphed by a single stroke Sunday over fellow Texan Sandra Haynie, 218 to 220, in the Ladies PGA Midwest Open for her fourth victory of the 1963 LPGA tour.

The 25-year-old, 5-foot-4 miss from San Antonio has more wins than anyone else, and the $1,500 first prize in the $10,000 event here increased her money-winning total for the year, also No. 1, to $15,335.

Miss Mann came here on the heels of successive victories in the Lady Carling Eastern Open and the USGA Women's National Open but tied for 11th place in the Midwest tourney, nine strokes off the lead. A chest cold may have hampered her.

Koufax Sets Sights on Strikeout Record

By United Press International

What started as a year of uncertainty for Sandy Koufax may wind up as one in which he sets a new major league strikeout record plus a National League victory mark for left-handed pitchers.

With a 15-3 won - lost record and 195 strikeouts after the Los Angeles Dodgers' 89th game, Koufax looks like a good bet to win 25 games and threaten Bob Feller's major league mark of 348 strikeouts in a season.

No National League left-hander ever has enjoyed two 25-victory seasons. But Koufax, who had a 25-5 mark in 1963, is well on his way to becoming the first.

He has won his last nine games in succession and figures to make between 17 and 19 starts in the Dodgers' remaining games.

Koufax' road to Feller's major league strikeout mark poses more difficult problems but his season total would come to about 350 if he retains his current streak pace and works 130 more innings.

Along the way, Koufax undoubtedly will break his own NL mark of 306 strikeouts—set in 1963.

NINTH STRAIGHT Koufax, a question mark at the start of the season because of an arthritic ailment in his left elbow, reeled off his ninth straight victory Sunday, a 4-2 decision in the opener of a doubleheader over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Many Mets' 10th-inning homer enabled the Pirates to win the second game 4-3.

Koufax was tagged for home-ers by Bob Bailey and Don Clessendon in the first inning but then shut out the Pirates with three hits the rest of the way.

He walked only two batters and struck out 10. Sandy singled home Jeff Torborg for the Dodgers' first run in the third and Los Angeles took the lead in the fourth with the help of an error by Gene Freese.

Freese's bad throw enabled Lou Johnson to reach first base with one out. Singles by Ron Fairly and Jim Lefebvre and Ossie Virgil's passed ball produced the runs and a 3-2 Los Angeles lead.

The Milwaukee Braves shaded ed the Cincinnati Reds 2-1 and the Chicago Cubs scored a pair of 6-0 victories over the St. Louis Cardinals in other NL action. Houston at New York and San Francisco at Philadelphia were rained out.

Hank Aaron's 17th homer, a two-run shot in the seventh inning, enabled the Braves to tag Cincinnati 12-1 game winner Sammy Ellis with his fourth loss.

Ken Johnson received credit for his eighth win although Tony Cloninger pitched the ninth. Tommy Harper had two hits for the Reds, who lead the second-place Dodgers .578 to .573.

Inter-City League Is Now Deadlocked

Nick's Bar of Midland knocked off 300 Bowl twice Saturday night to move into a tie with Spencer Floors for first place in the Inter-City Softball League.

Stan Barber's three-run homer sparked Nick's to a 9-5 win in the first game, and Ray Love stroked a two-run homer in pining an 8-2 nighttime victory. Love had five hits in seven trips for the day.

Spencer Floor split a pair with Port Huron Bowldermore, losing the first, 3-2, and taking the second, 6-5.

Linklater-Lurie Win Crown at Forest Lake

Kondracki blasted out of the trap to five feet of the pin. Dr. Lurie wasn't to be outdone. He wedged a 50 footer in between three feet and Linklater dropped in for a birdie-4 and the match.

The winners had 14 pars and three birdies for the afternoon, and were three under in defeating Wask and Robertson in the morning.

In the 2nd flight, Darcy O'Neill and Tony Skover of Meadowbrook took the measure of Birmingham's father-son pair Rolie and Paul Weyand.

7TH FLIGHT
An interesting 7th flight match took place between 73-year-old Tom Pope of Pine Lake and Walt Nicolai against former footballers from MSU and Ohio State, Ed Frutig and Paul Kane. Frutig and Kane won 1 up on 20 holes with a bogey-6 on the 18th while Pope-Nicolai had a double bogey-7.

Boat Record Falls in Outboard Race

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Michigan Center's Chris White set a new AU Class record Sunday as Michigan drivers swept honors in the 87-mile Top O' Michigan outboard marathon.

White lowered the class mark by five minutes with a one-hour 31 minute clocking over the northern Michigan course which twisted through Mullett, Burt and Crooked Lakes.

AU class winner was Jim Holden of Trenton. J. Nyle Stierma of Inkster captured the CU Class, while Gale Cummings of Berkeley led the DU Class and Bob Moore won the 38 Class.

Check Physical Danger Signs

Hidden Handicap Can Mean Bad Marks

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

Physical handicaps often go undetected for years — with the result that a schoolchild, regardless of effort, makes low grades.

In my college classes, I often have discovered students who made errors in copying problems from the blackboard or in moving from one step to the next in mathematical problems. In each case, I recommended a check of his vision.

Some of these students found to their surprise that they had faulty vision. With glasses, their grades improved remarkably.

One boy, a member of the basketball team, got glasses and said, "I had no idea that the world looked as this does."

Many problems of underachievement are related in some way to imperfect vision. During the school period, appointments are sometimes difficult to arrange. Summer, when the child is free from school, presents an opportunity to take action.

WATCH SYMPTOMS

Poor schoolwork, combined with any of the following symptoms, is a distinct danger signal.

- Headred or watering appearance of the eyes; encrusted eyelids.
- Short attention span in reading or if the child suddenly gives up the effort while trying to read.
- Thinning of the head. Makes facial contortions. In tense during reading. Rubs his eyes. Sits close to the television. Occasionally uses only one eye while reading.
- Child becomes overly tired from a short reading session. Has difficulty telling the difference between the letters d-b or p-q.

In unsatisfactory behavior, often

The same type of behavior often is exhibited by the child who has hyper-acuity of hearing. He hears too well, and to him classrooms are uncomfortably noisy places. Since he hears everything he is supposed to hear, his plight often goes undetected.

Need for a physical checkup may be indicated by poor posture, either standing or sitting; lack of appetite; avoidance of physical activities; or frequent occurrence of colds or signs of allergies.

School success also is dependent in many ways upon general physical well-being. Causes underlying lack of energy or, at the other extreme, hypertension are sometimes difficult to diagnose.

Your doctor can help you unravel the problem and locate the source of the difficulty. (This concludes the Operation Head Start series.)

We don't agree with everything in the book. He recommends a no-trump opening with 4-3-3, 4-3-3, or 5-3-3 distribution, but the fact that your two doubletons are so strong compensates for the fact that your distribution is 4-3-3.

Soviet Speeches Sign of Viet Switch?

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's two top leaders virtually ignored the war in Viet Nam in major weekend speeches, arousing speculation that the Kremlin may be about to take a new tack toward the Southeast Asian conflict.

The cessation of attacks on American involvement in the war came after months of attacks on U.S. policy.

Communist party First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, speaking in Leningrad Saturday, made no specific reference to Viet Nam.

His only mention of the United States was an almost ritualistic slap at "imperialists and above all the imperialists of the U.S.A." and their "armed provocations" and "acts of aggression."

AIMED AT CHINESE

His most acid remarks were aimed at the Chinese leaders in Peking.

"The Communists, if they really are Communists," he said, "do not have the right to waste time and energy on mutual attacks."

Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, speaking in Volgograd Sunday, followed suit with even milder words on international tensions and nostalgic recollections of U.S.-Soviet cooperation in World War II.

His reference to the Chinese was just as hard as Brezhnev's. He rebuffed Chinese demands for more Soviet involvement in Viet Nam, saying: "Our country is ready for any contingencies, but an adventurous, ill-considered policy is alien to us."

RESOLUTE REBUTT

He insisted that the Soviet Union was "administering a resolute rebutt to the provocations and imperialist aggressive circles and avoiding at the same time the example of those who take up a belligerent tone."

The new signs of Soviet-Chinese discord over Viet Nam alerted observers to the possibility of a new initiative from the Kremlin leaders.

It was suggested that the more moderate line, if continued, might enhance the possibility of meaningful private contacts between Soviet leaders and U.S. Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman, who is scheduled to arrive today for a five-day visit.

U.S. Embassy officials said Harriman's visit is strictly private.

Idea of Sanctuary Is Dead, Rusk Warns Red Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says Red China or any nation which "elects to get into this war" in Viet Nam must realize "the idea of sanctuary is dead."

Appearing on ABC's radio-television program "Issues and Answers" Sunday night, Rusk was asked about the success of bombing raids into North Viet Nam.

Rusk replied: "We had never suspected this in itself would be a decisive element but it is important that they are discovering that they are not going to be permitted to send tens of thousands of people into the south to attack South Viet Nam and live in safety and comfort there in the south."

"The idea of sanctuary is dead as far as this situation is concerned, and that is something that all of the others who may be supporting Hanoi must take fully into account."

Asked if that included the Red Chinese, Rusk responded: "That includes everybody who elects to get into this war."

In military terminology, "to take sanctuary" is to hit an enemy, then run back into an area where you would not suffer a return blow.

On the question of the five missile sites now being built near Hanoi, Rusk said the sites at the present time are not interfering with the things that we feel are required to be done at the present time." He added, "We can't write the future until we know what the other side is going to do about the future."

Rusk repeated previous statements that the sites are for surface-to-air missiles with a range of about 30 miles, and emphasized: "They are not operational and we have lost no Americans to these sites up to this point."

DENY CHARGE

In other weekend developments concerning Viet Nam:

—The Defense Department denied Red Chinese charges that U.S. warplanes flew over its southwest province of Yunnan Sunday "in direct military provocation." The Pentagon said: "There is no basis in fact for the charge." The State Department and the White House declined comment.

A Peking broadcast said the intrusion took place over Hanoi, a frontier town about 65 miles northwest of Yen Bai, a North Vietnamese town which came under U.S. air attack Sunday.

—House Republican leaders were the object of bipartisan senatorial criticism for recent statements concerning the Viet Nam war.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Reps. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan and Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, are inviting a major ground war by suggesting an expanded bombing of North Viet Nam. Church made his remarks in a speech prepared for the Senate today, but released Sunday night.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., took Laird to task for a June 14 statement. Scott said on a taped television-radio broadcast that Laird had "no authority by the Republican party" to say the GOP was "dangerously close" to ending support of administration policy.

—Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., in a weekly newsletter, urged the United States to bomb the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong, saying: "We must destroy the enemy's ability to make war. There is no other realistic alternative."

In his radio-television appearance, Rusk indicated that such a bombing was not in the immediate offing, saying the United States seeks only to get North Viet Nam "to stop bothering their neighbors."

LARGER CONFLICT

"We hope very much that they will realize before this matter gets into much larger conflict that this is the essential purpose," Rusk said.

—The man who would direct home front mobilization if the Viet Nam war should reach the proportions of the Korea war said the standby machinery is ready and the economy is well braced.

Bulford Ellington, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, said, however, no special steps have been taken.

"The OEP has taken no special measures to cope with a possible escalation of the Vietnamese fighting," he said. "None are planned. We are prepared."

PRIVATE to Women

Thousands of women find speedy relief from the physical distress of irregular, scanty or painful menses due to functional disorders by taking BUNDSKY'S "LIT"—a gentle, non-hormonal, homeopathic remedy. At all drug stores. No prescription needed.

Dirksen Listed as Satisfactory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen is reported in satisfactory condition at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

The Illinois senator has been hospitalized four times this year.

Dirksen, 69, reported last week that he had been suffering from cramps. He said doctors had been unable to determine the cause, but theorized they might be triggered by tension.

In reporting on his condition Sunday night, the hospital said there was no indication when he might leave the medical center.

Health Care, Voting Measures Now in Conference Committees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferences hold the key to the final forms of the historic voting rights bill passed by the House last Friday night and the Social Security-health care bill passed by the Senate less than two hours earlier.

With wide-ranging impact involved in their final decisions, here are some questions and answers about the conference committees:

Why are conference committees necessary?

The Senate and House ended up with different versions on the same legislation. The Senate passed its version of the voting bill last May 26, the House passed its version of the Social Security-health care bill last April 8.

What does the conference work toward?

GIVE GROUND
A compromise. Each side usually has to give some ground. Then what?

The version on which the conference agrees goes back before the Senate and House. Backers of both measures say they anticipate no trouble in winning quick approval on both measures once the conference comes up with final forms.

When do these two conferences get to work?

Perhaps Wednesday on the Social Security-medical care bill. Probably next week on the voting rights bill. Some sources predict that if the conference gets the Social Security bill on Wednesday they might reach an agreement as early as Friday afternoon. But that's a long shot.

Who selects the conferees?

They are nominated by the chairman of the committee which handled the legislation. House Speaker John W. McCormack and Sen. Carl Hayden, president pro tempore of the Senate, make the actual appointments of those nominated.

How large is a conference?

Usually about five from the Senate, five from the House. But the size varies, and one side may have more conferees than the other. On the final showdown, acceptance hinges on the majority of each side speaking as a unit — not on an actual nose-count of House conferees vs. Senate conferees.

How long do conferences last?

If both sides are in a hurry to wrap things up — for example, on adjournment day — they may agree in a matter of minutes. Some conferences go on much longer. Take the current hassle over the foreign aid authorization bill. Conferees have met nine times without reaching an agreement. They meet again Tuesday.

What are the prospects for the larger base. Those above the Social Security-health care conference?

There are more than 100 differences in the two versions of the measure, but most of them are minor. Probably the greatest difference is the schedule under which Social Security taxes would be increased. The difference is a complicated one. In general, the Senate version would apply to a lower tax to a larger base. Those above the low income group would not finish paying their year's deductions until about September, while under the House version they would pay almost as much and have it all deducted perhaps by July.

Activity Dull, Irregular

Selected Issues Enliven Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — A scattering of selected issues helped enliven a dull and irregular stock market early this afternoon.

Changes of fractions to a point or so prevailed among most key stocks.

The market was easy at the opening, then gradually began to firm. By midday there was a slightly higher tone among drugs, chemicals, autos, rails and electronics. Most other sections were scrambled.

Opinion in the Street varied between those who saw the list as slowly building a base for a further advance and those who expected a renewed test of weeks ago.

Steel shipments were expected to continue at a high rate.

Retail sales in June were reported below May's record but above a couple of weeks ago.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 323.4 with industrials off .1, rails up .3 and utilities off .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .99 at 880.48.

All Big Three motors gained small fractions. The top steelmakers were narrowly mixed.

Prices were mixed in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie was off a couple of points and Ford of Canada slipped well over a point. International Holdings rose more than a point. Intex Oil lost a point or so. SynTex a fraction.

Corporate bonds rose slightly. U. S. Treasury bonds declined.

'Cong Woman Deputy Chief'

A Revolutionary for 35 Years - Pravda

MOSCOW (AP) — The deputy commander of the Viet Cong guerrillas is a woman, Pravda said today.

She has been a revolutionary for 35 of her 46 years, has been tortured and imprisoned and lost her husband and her only son, the Soviet Communist party newspaper reported.

A Pravda correspondent wrote that he had talked with military leaders at the headquarters of the National Liberation Front of South Viet Nam, the political arm of the Viet Cong. Among them, he said, was Mrs. Nguyen Thi Dinh, "the deputy commander in chief."

The Pravda correspondent said Mrs. Dinh told him that when she was 10 years old her brother was imprisoned for revolutionary work.

STARTED LEARNING

"Then I started learning what revolution was," she said.

Her husband, who was also a revolutionary, was arrested three days after the birth of their son. She was arrested six months later. She was then 20 years old.

She "suffered tortures" and was released after 3½ years, when her husband was dead and her 4-year-old son did not know her. Later the son died.

Educator Attending Conference in N.Y.

W. Barrett Vorce, assistant superintendent of Waterford Township Schools, is one of 400 supervisors and curriculum leaders attending a world conference on "Instructional Leadership in School Systems" at Columbia University in New York City.

The conference, which began last Tuesday, will end Friday.

Topics being considered are new developments in various subject fields, the impact of technology on instruction and procedures useful in improving teaching.

Most told newsmen at London Airport before taking off, "I don't expect to be away longer than a week. I can't say anything at all about this business as it is sub judice."

If GM loses the case, reports said, they could face other claims for damages totaling $140 million from people whose relatives were killed in accidents involving models of the Chevrolet Corvair.

Stowers is cancelling the order. He awoke one night recently with a splitting headache, and the realization that he could see again.

Doctors, unable to explain Stowers' recovery, said he is well on his way to normal vision.

British Driver to Appear as GM Witness

LONDON (AP) — Former ace British racing driver Stirling Moss flew to New York Saturday to appear as an expert witness in a case being fought by General Motors Corp.

The company, which asked Stowers to come to the United States to appear on their behalf, is being sued for $304,000 by a woman who claims her daughter was killed as the result of an alleged defect in a General Motors car.

Most told newsmen at London Airport before taking off, "I don't expect to be away longer than a week. I can't say anything at all about this business as it is sub judice."

State Aid Like May Boost Program for Mental Health

An unexpected boost in state aid for local mental health services may result in expansion of the proposed mental health program for Oakland County.

Included in a package of budget appropriation bills signed by Gov. Romney was an amendment increasing state contributions to mental health programs from below 50 to 75 per cent.

This would permit the Oakland County Mental Health Services Board to operate its proposed program at less cost to the county.

Or, it could leave the present.

By leaving presently proposed county funds in the budget, the total program would exceed the $1 million mark.

Any budget revisions must be resolved at the August meeting of the Mental Health Board of Administration, the Agency Council Board of Supervisors in September.

Murder Trial Starts Tuesday

The first-degree murder trial of Carl F. Foster begins tomorrow before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Foster, 29, of 286 S. East Blvd. is charged with strangling his first wife, Angela, 25, and then making it appear to be a suicide.

Foster allegedly is serving a 15-year prison term in the state prison at Jackson for killing Mrs. Maurice Crook, 29, a Bloomfield Township divorcee, last December.

He pleaded guilty to manslaughter in her death.

Mrs. Foster's body was exhumed in April and an autopsy performed. It revealed that she had not been choked by a rope. She died in February 1964.

Scrap Yard Trial Delayed Until Aug. 31

The Sam Allen & Sons, Inc., scrap yard trial has been rescheduled for Aug. 31, according to Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

The trial was to resume July 20 but has been adjourned to the later date because Ziem has been assigned to hear the Madison Heights Street Assembly Club gambling case in Manistee beginning July 22.

The Allen trial started April 8 and was adjourned three weeks later as it would not run into a jury term. The Allen case is not being heard by a jury.

The City of Pontiac and 15 residents brought suit against the scrap yard at 22 Congress.

They claim the operation is a nuisance and that the firm has violated zoning codes by extending its nonconforming use of the property.

Horse Has Lost Another Match With Engine

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The horse has lost another match to the internal combustion engine, this time in the bustling Fort Worth stockyards.

Four small motorcycles are being used instead of horses to move cattle from loading chutes to scales and pens.

Joe Klingenberg, stockyard superintendent, instituted the motorcycle idea in March. He says the cycles are cheaper to operate than horses and more restful to the cowboys.

Plunges to His Death in Sky-Diving Stunt

OROVILLE, Calif. (UPI) — A sky diver, photographer, engaged in taking pictures of another parachutist's difficulties plunged 1500 feet to his death yesterday.

Witnesses said Robert Green, 25, Oroville, who had 200 successful jumps to his credit, pulled his ripcord at the 3,000-foot level. He then continued to take pictures of Nelson Powell from a camera mounted on his harness and did not notice that his own chute had not opened properly.

Strikes cost a higher percentage of total working time in 1964 than in any of the preceding four years.

State Aid Like May Boost Program for Mental Health

An unexpected boost in state aid for local mental health services may result in expansion of the proposed mental health program for Oakland County.

Included in a package of budget appropriation bills signed by Gov. Romney was an amendment increasing state contributions to mental health programs from below 50 to 75 per cent.

This would permit the Oakland County Mental Health Services Board to operate its proposed program at less cost to the county.

Or, it could leave the present.

By leaving presently proposed county funds in the budget, the total program would exceed the $1 million mark.

Any budget revisions must be resolved at the August meeting of the Mental Health Board of Administration, the Agency Council Board of Supervisors in September.

Murder Trial Starts Tuesday

The first-degree murder trial of Carl F. Foster begins tomorrow before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Foster, 29, of 286 S. East Blvd. is charged with strangling his first wife, Angela, 25, and then making it appear to be a suicide.

Foster allegedly is serving a 15-year prison term in the state prison at Jackson for killing Mrs. Maurice Crook, 29, a Bloomfield Township divorcee, last December.

He pleaded guilty to manslaughter in her death.

Mrs. Foster's body was exhumed in April and an autopsy performed. It revealed that she had not been choked by a rope. She died in February 1964.

Scrap Yard Trial Delayed Until Aug. 31

The Sam Allen & Sons, Inc., scrap yard trial has been rescheduled for Aug. 31, according to Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

The trial was to resume July 20 but has been adjourned to the later date because Ziem has been assigned to hear the Madison Heights Street Assembly Club gambling case in Manistee beginning July 22.

The Allen trial started April 8 and was adjourned three weeks later as it would not run into a jury term. The Allen case is not being heard by a jury.

The City of Pontiac and 15 residents brought suit against the scrap yard at 22 Congress.

They claim the operation is a nuisance and that the firm has violated zoning codes by extending its nonconforming use of the property.

Horse Has Lost Another Match With Engine

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The horse has lost another match to the internal combustion engine, this time in the bustling Fort Worth stockyards.

Four small motorcycles are being used instead of horses to move cattle from loading chutes to scales and pens.

Joe Klingenberg, stockyard superintendent, instituted the motorcycle idea in March. He says the cycles are cheaper to operate than horses and more restful to the cowboys.

Plunges to His Death in Sky-Diving Stunt

OROVILLE, Calif. (UPI) — A sky diver, photographer, engaged in taking pictures of another parachutist's difficulties plunged 1500 feet to his death yesterday.

Witnesses said Robert Green, 25, Oroville, who had 200 successful jumps to his credit, pulled his ripcord at the 3,000-foot level. He then continued to take pictures of Nelson Powell from a camera mounted on his harness and did not notice that his own chute had not opened properly.

Strikes cost a higher percentage of total working time in 1964 than in any of the preceding four years.

Singers Cause Live-TV Tumult
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Four members of the Dave Clark Five, an English singing group, made an unscheduled appearance at the Palladium Sunday and caused a live-television tumult.
"We walked onstage, and the next thing I knew, bang! — everybody got out of their seats and charged onstage," Clark, the leader, said. "Cameramen were being knocked over, the stage band was running, I was on the floor, and my shirt was torn."
Hollywood police said they had received a major-disturbance call, but everything was calm when police arrived. No injuries or property damage were reported.
Clark said the group had been asked to make the impromptu appearance by the master of ceremonies of a teen-age pop music festival.

TUGGED TO SAFETY — The Japanese freighter Sanyo Maru No. 1 is pulled away from a burning dock in Aberdeen, Wash., yesterday. The ship caught fire from the burning dock while logs were being loaded aboard. The ship was heavily damaged, but no one was hurt. The dock was almost completely destroyed.

Singer Looks for Honesty

How Andy Selects His Songs

By ANDY WILLIAMS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It would be easier for me to fill this column with musical notes instead of words, but I've been asked to write about my experience in the business of selecting songs to record. So here goes.
The basic thing I look for in a song is honesty. By that I mean a song that is a natural blend of music and lyrics — not a contrived blend. Often I find the honest tunes are ones written quickly by a writer who, suddenly seized by an idea, immediately jots it down. The tune then reflects an honest emotional experience on the writer's part.
On the other hand, a lyricist may take a set of words to a composer who then has to make the music fit the verbal story. Sometimes this works out fine. But often you notice the contrived feeling.

When I record an album, I usually select several standards to go into it. The record business is a mass appeal business. An artist would be foolish not to use tunes that have already established themselves with the listener. Another reason is that hit tunes usually have that honesty, to them. That's what made them hits in the first place.
I usually record three albums a year. This requires about 36 days of working out the arrangements, rehearsal, and recording.
When it comes to single records, it's a different story. All of the singles I cut are new material. I work closely with Bob Mersey of Columbia Records in selecting new numbers to record.
New material generally comes to me through a publisher. Many people have asked me whether I accept material sent to me through the mail. I'm afraid I have to say no. I used to, but my attorneys have requested that I don't.
MIGHT BE SUED
If I receive a tune through the mail, look at it and don't use it. I might be sued if a song I use later on is in any way similar. It's rough on future songwriters, I know, but it's just one of those things singers have to do. Even so, I look at approximately a thousand tunes a year from varied sources—looking for that certain song with honesty that might become a hit and possibly, later on, a standard.

Fezzes Bloom in Washington

Shriners in Capital for Huge Convention
WASHINGTON (AP)—Fezzes blossom by the thousands in the nation's capital today as Shriners bounce into town.
From the 50 states, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico and the Panama Canal Zone they are assembling for the opening of their five-day annual meeting — the largest convention ever held in Washington.

An estimated total of 150,000 of the nobles and their guests are expected.
For instance:
A seven-hour parade that starts at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, right in the middle of Washington's normally chaotic morning rush hour for thousands of government workers.

DOZENS OF CLOWNS
And clowns by the dozen; motorcycle corps, colorful costumes of Arab fantasies and bands; bands of every description, from flute to oil drum, trash can and bongos, anything that can carry the "hooshy koolchy." Oriental beat that is a Shriner trademark.
Toss in scores of mounted patrols and dozens of white convertibles from temples that believe this kind of corps is more eye-catching for the Shriners in their fezzes.

Merchants, who count tourists as the industry second only to government, couldn't be happier. Officials figure the Shriners and their guests will spend between $12 million and $40 million.
SEEKING SMILES
The Shriners figure its worthwhile if they can cause a smile — for a spectator or themselves.
The fraternal order, dedicated to good causes, operates a number of crippled children's hospitals along with their charities.

James Michener Has Headgear to Spare at Fair

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Author James A. Michener wore headgear ranging from a Tibetan Sherpa's hat to a sombrero as he told fortunes over the weekend at the annual Tivoli Township Arts Festival.
Michener had complained earlier that he did not have a new or unusual hat to wear, as has been his custom, at the festival.
"He said he had scores of free hats offered."
"I got telephone calls and letters offering me toppers from the Far East," he said. "One lady offered to send me a Ground Observer Corps helmet from the second World War. Others just drove up and dropped a cap in my lap."

'Opry' Star in Pain, but Will Be OK

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Country music king Roy Acuff is in a great deal of pain but will recover from injuries suffered in a weekend auto accident in plenty of time to make a scheduled overseas tour in December. Acuff's personal physician said Sunday night.

Dr. Cleo Miller said the 58-year-old Grand Ole Opry star should "mend in about six weeks unless complications develop."

Grand Ole Opry guitarist Harold (Shot) Jackson remained in critical condition today in a Nashville hospital with skull and rib fractures and other internal injuries. Jackson was riding in the front seat of the car driven by Acuff.

Acuff suffered a fractured pelvis, a broken collarbone and several shattered ribs in the auto mishap Saturday near Sparks, Tenn. Singer June Stearns suffered a broken leg in the accident.

WAS CANDIDATE
A member of the Grand Ole Opry for 27 years and an entertainer for 32, the famed fiddler and singer who twice ran as a Republican for governor of Tennessee has traveled more than three million miles without a serious accident.

The injuries to Acuff and Jackson were the latest in a series of mishaps which have plagued Opry stars. The tragedies have taken the lives of nine country music legends and critically injured a number of others.

Only several weeks ago, Ira Louvin and his singer-wife were killed in an auto accident near Williamsburg, Mo.

Wants LBJ to Form Drought Task Force

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits wants President Johnson to set up a special federal task force to help relieve drought conditions in the parched Northeast.

The New York Republican said in a statement over the weekend that water shortages were prevalent in many large cities and that farms had been devastated for lack of water in 11 states.

He said the task force would marshal the resources of the diverse federal water programs in helping minimize the effects of the drought.

Reporter Makes News as Beauty Queen in Hawaii

HONOLULU (UPI) — A Honolulu newspaper reporter was doubling as a beauty queen today.

Roberta Conlan, 18, a 1965 graduate of Kalani High School in Honolulu, Saturday night was named Miss Hawaii.

Miss Conlan was editor of her high school paper, and is spending the summer as an "intern" reporter for the Honolulu Star-Bulletin. She is also a national merit scholar and plans to enter Stanford University this fall to study journalism.

Versatile Actor Dies at Age 75

Known for Role in 'Perry Mason' Show

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Name a phase of the entertainment world where an actor would feel at home and, at one time or another, Ray Collins was there.

Stock company and Broadway theater, radio, movies, television. Collins, who died Sunday at St. John's Hospital, took them all in stride over his 75 years.

The veteran actor, most recognizable to the younger generation as crafty Lt. Tragg, the police detective who for eight years kept turning up when least wanted on television's "Perry Mason" series, was hospitalized July 1, suffering from emphysema.

Collins won his first role at the age of 14. His father, William, was editor of the Sacramento (Calif.) Bee.

OWN STOCK COMPANY
Collins later went on to form his own stock company in Vancouver, B.C., then took several roles on Broadway before entering a new field — radio drama.

He went to Hollywood in 1939 as a member of Orson Welles' Mercury Theater group. Wells signed him for the first of Collins' more than 75 film roles, a lead in "Citizen Kane."

Among his other films were "The Magnificent Ambersons," "See Here, Private Hargrove," "Rose Marie," "The Human Comedy," "Leave Her to Heaven," and "The Solid Gold Cadillac."

His wife, Joan, survives. They had been married 39 years.

Korea Assembly Asked to OK Viet Nam Force

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Chung Hee Park asked the National Assembly today to approve government plans to send a combat division to South Viet Nam.

The request did not specify how many men would be sent, but unofficial reports have said about 15,000 army and marine troops will go.

Lewis in Fine Spirits, Appearing Late for Show

By EARL WILSON
Las Vegas — When the luxurious new Celebrity Room opened at the Hotel Sands with Joe Lewis, Keely Smith and Sonny King starring in a show that cost the hotel about $35,000 a week, there was some alarm the second night because Joe Lewis was late getting from the dining room to the Celebrity Room.

"Joe E. is sorry to be late," host Jackie Heller explained to the audience, "but he ran into his dad."

Lewis stepped on stage, bowed, smiled and said: "My Old Grand Dad."

Red Skelton claims he asked Jack Entratter, boss of the Sands, "What are all those funny-looking statues on the new building you're constructing?" — and Entratter answered: "Those aren't statues — those are carpenters."

Lovely Jennie Smith is trying something new in the Red Skelton show — she's singing songs the way the composer and lyricist wrote them — an idea so revolutionary that it may catch on because it's not been done by any girl singer in about 30 years. No wonder Bill Dana of TV fame is romancing her.

Sid Luft is having his lawyers lead Jack L. Warner's book, "My First Hundred Years in Hollywood" (a heluva book!) because of Jack's references to a $30,000 loan.

All the hotels here are building magnificent new lounges and adding more entertainment — which will take customers away from the gambling which made this city the showplace of the world... and its owners millionaires.

"I hope," said Tuffy Tuttle, the showgirl at the Riviera, "they aren't killing the goose that laid the golden nugget."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Frank Sinatra's guests at Lilly included Sammy Davis and Sonny Saelens. (Jilly restrained some overzealous gals from pursuing Sinatra right into the washroom) . . . Kate Smith turned down a big-money offer from Las Vegas hotel — she won't work near a gambling casino . . . The cute, talented Kim Sisters opened at the Royal Box, playing 36 instruments (including bagpipes).

David Davis, visiting Trude Heller's, described the frugers: "They dance the way initiators do my walk." . . . Mosley Van Yverea's poetry'll be published by Bobbs-Merrill . . . Bouncy Kay Stevens is a huge hit, clowning and singing at the Persian Room. She makes "Take Me Out to the Ballgame" sound sexy. Fumbling a bouquet of roses, she says, "I don't know how to handle class yet, that's my problem."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Lipstick just adds a flavor to an old pastime.

EARL'S PEARLS: Vacation time is two weeks devoted to finding places you swear you'll stay away from next year. Despite what you hear, insists Seaman Jacobs, today's teenagers do know the value of a dollar. They realize it buys about three gallons of gasoline. That's early, brother.

'N-Spread Big Problem'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg today termed the potential spread of nuclear weapons as "one of the urgent problems facing mankind."

Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said in a copyright interview in U.S. News & World Report that a large number of countries have the means of developing nuclear weapons over a period of years.

At present, only five nations — the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and Communist China — have nuclear weapons.

Seaborg said Japan, India, West Germany, Sweden, Italy, Canada, Israel and possibly Brazil, Switzerland, Spain, Yugoslavia and Egypt could develop such weapons.

The bomb in the hands of the Chinese Communists, he said, poses "one of the critical problems — the question of whether India and others are going to feel that they must take this nuclear path because the Red Chinese have."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis thinks the Free Society Association spearheaded by Barry Goldwater is an excellent thing.

The Nebraska Republican thus disagreed with GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss who has said the FSA might hurt party unity and fund raising.

Speaking on Metromedia's Sunday television-radio program "Opinion in the Capital," Curtis said: "I hope the time never comes when it's heresy for Republicans to believe in freedom. To oppose this is just about as ridiculous as you can get."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Science Foundation says traces of DDT have been found in seals, penguins and fish in Antarctica, a continent where there is no record of pesticide use.

Funeral Service Set for Long-Time Actor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Funeral service for Neely Edwards, 83, for 28 years an actor in the play "The Drunkard," will be held Tuesday at a Hollywood mortuary.

Edwards died Saturday at the Motion Picture Country Home. In silent movie days, Edwards was part of "The Hall Room Boys" team and once worked with Bud Flanagan, father of actor Dennis O'Keefe. He appeared in sound films and had television roles, including one in "The Virginian."

Noted Chemist Dies

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Everett S. Wallis, 65, a leader in the development of cyclotrons, died Saturday. Dr. Wallis was a former chairman of the chemistry department at St. John's College, Annapolis, Md.

Discuss Plight of Soviet Jews

'Fight Anti-Semitism From 1st Appearance'

STRASBOURG, France (UPI) — Leaders of Jewish communities from around the world today discussed the plight of Jews in Russia. There were warnings "they must fight against anti-Semitism tendencies from their first appearance."

Dr. Nahum Goldman, president of the World Jewish Congress, opened the session of an executive committee here last night that Russian Jews were treated worse than any other ethnic or religious minority in the Soviet Union.

An analysis of the Russian Jewish situation was to be presented today by Erich Goldhagen, director of the Institute of East European Jewish Affairs at Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass.

In his address last night, Goldman said there were some signs the lot of Jews in Russia might improve. He noted that Soviet officials had told the United Nations Commission on the Rights of Man at a recent meeting in Geneva that Moscow favored fair play for minority groups.

However, he warned the delegates from 30 countries that Jews who failed to recognize the significance of anti-Semitic movements "paid dearly." He mentioned the Nazi regime. He said Jews "must fight against all neo-Nazi and anti-Semitic tendencies from their first appearances."

The Polish-born congress president, a former student and publisher in Germany, also called on the Arab states to heed President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia as a "liberal and tolerant" spirit of the Arab-Jewish problem.

He said the Tunisian president had "shed the courage to speak out publicly against the Arab determination to destroy Israel" and to call for negotiations to solve the Middle East problems.

However, the London Observer yesterday quoted Bourguiba as saying that his compromise proposals had failed and that he was abandoning his role for a settlement, leaving the problem "to time."

Goldmann said "The Israeli-Arab problem is, above all, psychological."

"It would be much wiser if the Arab minorities living in non-Arab states had not only amicable relations with the Jewish neighbors but considered it their duty to create... an atmosphere... which could lead... to the opening of talks to settle the problems still unresolved," he said.

Seek Solution in Dispute at White School

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton called together today some of the principals in the two-and-a-half-month old controversy over the white-only admission policy at Girard College.

Prospects seemed bright for an amicable meeting and possibly some agreement in the dispute that has led to picketing by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and other supporters.

"Our whole policy in this has been cooperation with the public agencies. We're going to this meeting for the invited purpose and we hope to accomplish whatever it is Gov. Scranton wants to accomplish," said Thomas J. Gaffney, counsel for the school's Board of Trustees.

The school's 13 trustees, Mayor James H. Tate, and other state and city officials were invited to the closed-door session. Girard College, a boys' school, is restricted to white male orphans under the will of the founder, Stephen Girard, colonial-day financier. On May 1 the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, protesting that policy, began picketing the school, located in a predominantly Negro area of the city.

There have been a number of arrests as pickets from time to time grew rowdy, blocked traffic or tried to scale the high stone walls around the school. Policemen ring the school to keep out demonstrators.

Marchers, Police in Chicago Generally Top Grade

(EDITOR'S NOTE: For nearly a month, Negroes and whites have paraded through downtown Chicago to protest what they claim is the nation's largest segregated school system. More than 800 have been arrested. The following dispatch tells who is marching and why.)

By FRANK L. SPENCER
United Press International

CHICAGO — One marcher, a white clergyman, turned to a well-dressed Negro at his side and asked: "What would you do if that moved next door to you?"

"I'd move out," the Negro said and they both laughed.

The "that" was a person, probably a male, a few paces back. This person wore a dirty sweater and had blond hair that touched the shoulders.

He or she was marching to City Hall to urge the firing of Chicago School Supt. Benjamin Willis. It was one of many marches.

The marches are proclaimed to be in the cause of school integration. They began last month and have become almost a daily ritual.

ON ARRESTS
Since they began, more than 850 persons have been arrested for ceasing to march and electing instead to lie down in the street.

It is significant that within the ranks there could be joking about the golden-tressed beatnik. For one thing, the majority of the marchers have been well-groomed. For another, they have been good-natured.

Nobody will predict if decorum and stillness will stay at top quality, but the leaders boast that their protest has attracted as many high-grade marchers that beatniks are a tolerated minority.

The marchers also have attracted a top grade of policemen. Despite a few shrills of "police brutality," the leaders reluctantly agree that police discipline has cut down on the number of possibly serious incidents as the marchers plod through downtown canyons.

BOTH COMING
The anti-Willis movement has drawn the attention of two of the nation's best-known Negroes — Dr. Martin Luther King and Adam Clayton Powell. Both are coming here this month.

Powell has announced he will hold a hearing of his House Education Committee July 17 and would be helped "to explore the Willis problem." The hearing, he said, will be in an open street.

Dr. King said he will come to Chicago for two or three days beginning July 24 to help "fight for quality integrated education." Dr. King said he would make a tour of "selected white

Middle Atlantic States Get Rain

Parts of the parched middle Atlantic states continued to receive relief today as thunderstorms rolled through the area.

Blackstone, Va., had more than two inches of rain in six hours. Nearby Danville reported nearly two inches in a similar period.

Thunderstorms during the night deposited an inch and a half of rainfall at Anderson, S.C. Thunderstorms of a more violent nature dumped more rain on the water-soaked northern plains.

TOUCHED DOWN
Tornadoes were reported to have touched down near Isabel, S. D. Half 4-inch in diameter pelted the area 10 miles northwest of Billings, Mont.

Thunderstorms developed in a wide band through the Rocky Mountains from New Mexico to Montana.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 44 at Pellston, Mich., to 89 at Blythe, Calif.

Body Is Recovered

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — The Coast Guard said it recovered Sunday a body found floating in Lake Michigan a mile or two off Grand Haven. The body was spotted by a pleasure craft. There was no immediate identification.

communities," which could indicate he had no power to get the boards to fire anybody, the protesters grow louder.

NOT MARRIED
As Chicago got ready to bask in the glory of the visit of the space twins June 14, the anti-Willis chiefs were threatening to crash the ticker-tape parade with a rival procession.

While thousands of policemen tensed, Negro entertainers Dick Gregory, speaking beneath the stars in Grant Park, announced that the astronauts' visit would not be married.

The next day, though, the Willis opponents marched from Grant Park on the lake front en route to City Hall. Before they got there, 85 of them lay down at State and Madison, which Chicago considers the "world's busiest intersection," and got arrested.

This was 100 fewer than were arrested at the same place three days earlier. That day, six Roman Catholic nuns were arrested as they knelt in the street. It was perhaps the only time in this century that nuns have been arrested in the United States.

The protest leaders kept telling newsmen there would be whole blocks full of demonstrators after June 16, when public schools adjourned for the summer. But the day came and passed without much increase in numbers along the march route.

A worker for the Congress of Racial Equality who had predicted that 15,000 children would march explained many parents had objected to their children going to jail.

There was also objection to jail-going from members of some of the integration groups. In fact the marches were almost becoming a bit of a bore when, on June 30, Daley told City Hall reporters: "Many of the people who are marching are Communists." That set things simmering again.

Daley added that Communists were sending money to help the anti-Willis forces. The next day, he repeated his charges.

Eighteen Roman Catholic priests met and said they were "shocked" by Daley's statement. Daley is a Catholic.

The marches continued. On July 5, before embarking on the 21st in 25 days, Albert Raby, top man of the organization leading the anti-Willis campaign said:

"We are not coming off the streets until Willis is gone, if it takes six months."

When that happened, the Chicago chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People called for a school boycott. Integration groups around the city began a campaign to influence Mayor Richard J. Daley to get Willis fired.

The boycott plans dissolved after the school board got an injunction against the organizers, but the pressure on Daley moved toward the boiling point.

Daley, regarded as leader of the nation's most efficient big city Democratic machine, for years has tried to keep away from school affairs. When he indicated he had no power to get the boards to fire anybody, the protesters grow louder.

Missing Farmington Boy Is Found Early Today

By DON PEMBER and JOE MULLEN

A 34-year-old Farmington boy, missing since yesterday morning in a heavily wooded area 14 miles east of Grayling, was found this morning just 50 yards from the searching party's headquarters.

Robert Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Burns Jr. of 28855 Glenarden, was found sleeping under a bridge by an unidentified youth.

Except for having several mosquito bites, the boy was pronounced in excellent condition.

Robert, who was missing from 10:30 a.m. yesterday until 10 a.m. today, told searchers he had only one concern during the lonely night in the north woods.

"I said my prayers that bears would stay away," he commented.

The bridge over the Au Sable

River where the boy spent the night was about a mile and a half north of the camp site from which he wandered.

Searchers said that a helicopter landed about 25 yards from where the boy was found earlier this morning but it didn't disturb his slumber.

A massive search had resumed today for the boy.

Participating were more than 200 men, two helicopters, an airplane and two state police tracking dogs.

BREAKING CAMP

The boy disappeared from his family's campsite at Canoe Harbor on the Au Sable River as his father was breaking camp in preparation for taking Robert and his five-year-old brother home.

Burns and his two small sons were attending a Farmington Township Junior

Burns told searchers that he gave Robert a dish of applesauce about 10:30 a.m. yesterday and discovered that he was missing five minutes later.

Searching parties began to fan out about noon yesterday in the Huron National Forest where the campsite was located.

A full-scale hunt continued to dusk and resumed at dawn today with 175 National Guardsmen from Camp Grayling, 16 state police troopers, Crawford County sheriff's deputies and volunteers combing the underbrush in a six square-mile area.

Police and sheriff's deputies spent all last night checking the possibility that the boy had fallen into the river.

E. L. Bradley, assistant commander of State Police District 7 in Traverse City, said early today he thought it was unlikely that the boy had stepped into the shallow river.

Burns said he was quite sure his son, being fully clothed, would stay away from the river.

Temperatures plunged to the 40's last night in the area but today was warm and sunny.

ARRIVE IN VIET NAM — A pat on the back is given to a soldier of the U.S. Army's 1st Infantry Division by Col. James E. Simmons, 2nd Brigade commander, as the GI carries his duffel bag ashore today at Cam

Ranh Bay, South Viet Nam. About 1,000 members of the division were landed. The new troops are part of the U.S. military buildup in Viet Nam.

'Big Red One' Arriving

U.S. Infantry Unit Lands in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The first large force of U.S. combat infantrymen — 3,900 men of the 1st Infantry Division — began landing in Viet Nam today.

The first 1,000 men of the "Big Red One," as the division was known in World War II, landed at strategic Cam Ranh Bay, 180 miles northeast of Saigon, and dug in on the sand dunes.

The remainder of the famed division's 2nd Brigade will land elsewhere in Viet Nam tomorrow, a U.S. spokesman said.

The landings will bring the total of U.S. troops in Viet Nam to 71,000.

"Today marks another first for the Big Red One," the brigade commander, Col. James Simmons, told newsmen. "We were first on Omaha Beach and in Africa. Today we are the first unit from the continental United States to come to Viet Nam."

KANSAS BASE
The brigade came from Ft. Riley, Kan. The United States has a brigade of paratroopers and 24,000 Marines in Viet Nam, but the 1st Division brigade is the first sizeable unit of combat infantrymen sent to Viet Nam.

Simmons said the first mission of his troops will be to protect the U.S. Army's 35th Engineer Group, which is working on harbor improvements at the huge bay.

"Later, when we get our feet on the ground, we'll get out there and find the Viet Cong," he said.

There has been little Viet Cong action in the area of the bay in recent months, but a big Communist buildup has been reported in the hills and mountains inland from it, U.S. sources said. Communist strength may be as much as a regiment.

"These guys haven't arrived one minute too soon," said an officer of the 35th Engineers. "We've been here by ourselves for two months. We're getting scary."

An artillery battery and a platoon of engineers came ashore with the battalion task group. The troops came ashore quietly and without fuss, carrying heavy duffel bags.

10 Rescued, 8 Dead in Plane Crash

FALMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — Coast Guard searchers reported today that 10 men were rescued and eight bodies recovered from the 19-man crew of an Air Force plane down in the fog-shrouded North Atlantic.

One crewman was reported as still missing.

Lt. Cmdr. William T. White, duty officer at Salem Coast Guard Rescue Station, said the survivors were aboard German and American destroyers.

Capt. Richard Barros, in formation officer at Otis Air Force Base from which the downed plane took off last night, confirmed the report.

DITCHED LAST NIGHT

The plane ditched late last night 145 miles east-northeast of Nantucket.

Helicopters from the U.S. carrier Wasp and German and American destroyers joined in the search.

The Navy vessel had been on maneuvers in the area.

Most of the survivors were picked from the sea by helicopters and placed aboard a German destroyer. At least two were rescued in small boats.

ABOARD U.S. DESTROYER

All eight bodies were reported aboard the U.S. destroyer Barry out of Newport, R.I. Three survivors also were reported aboard the Barry.

Search efforts were hampered by thick fog.

Holcomb B. Noble, an Associated Press newsmen who flew over the area, said thick fog clouds formed shortly after dawn.

Names of the survivors and victims were not immediately available.

Auto Chiefs Will Testify at Safety Hearing

Likely to Counter Sen. Ribicoff's Charges of Stalling by Industry

DETROIT (AP) — Presidents of General Motors, Ford Motor Co. and American Motors head the list of witnesses for a Senate hearing into automotive safety scheduled to start tomorrow in Washington.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., heads the panel.

Ribicoff, during a preliminary three-day hearing last March, charged that the auto industry was dragging its heels in the field of auto safety.

He pointed to the increasing annual traffic death toll, which reached 47,000 last year.

With the presidents of three companies and two top vice presidents of Chrysler Corp. heading for Washington, the auto industry apparently took the hearing seriously.

TO MAKE IT PLAIN

There was no official indication of what the auto makers planned to tell the committee. But one company observer, who declined use of his name, said:

"I think the industry is going to make it plain to Congress and to everyone else that it is just as concerned as any one else with the number of highway deaths and accidents."

"I think it will show that rather than dragging its feet, as Sen. Ribicoff implied, the industry actually is leading the way in automotive safety," he said.

It was generally expected that the automotive witnesses would (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

SAFETY MEASURE — A woman identified as Mickey Mechal, 54, is held by patrolman Stanley Atkinson moments before he dropped her into a net below. U.S., Japan in Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Japan open a Cabinet-level conference today with the emphasis switched from Japan's increasing trade with Communist China to economic development plans for Southeast Asia.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was to formally open the fourth meeting of the Joint Cabinet Committee on Trade and Economic Affairs.

U.S. officials said that for the first time in years, little was being said to Japan about its increasing trade with Communist China.

Japan's trade with Peking this year will rise to $120 million, up about 40 per cent over 1964, according to the Japan-Communist-China Export-Import Society.

By comparison, U.S. trade with Japan is expected to exceed $4 billion this year and with trade only slightly in favor of the United States.

In welcoming the seven Japanese Cabinet ministers, their wives and top advisers last night at Andrews Air Force Base, Rusk praised Japan for "rapidly assuming responsibility and leadership to go with its position" as one of the great industrial powers of the world.

OPENING MOVE

This appeared the opening move by the U.S. delegation to win pledges of greater cooperation from Japan in economic projects that would supplement President Johnson's proposed $1-billion Asian development program.

Much of the Japanese interest in the meeting this year is to make clear its concern about a rising spirit of protectionism by the United States which could embitter relations and stunt the growth of trade.

Four Accidents Claim a Total of 10 Fatalities

Six Drownings Are Counted in Michigan in 54-Hour Period

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents claimed 21 lives in Michigan during the weekend. Two accidents claimed three lives each and two others resulted in double fatalities.

In addition, six drownings were reported in the state.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight yesterday. The victims:

Sarah Bradley, 7, of Park Township near Holland was killed Saturday when she was run over by her father who was backing a truck out of a driveway.

Andrew S. Nelson, 32, of Detroit died yesterday when his car missed a curve and rolled over on M15 in Genesee County.

Walter Lee Snyder, 46, of Caledonia died yesterday of injuries suffered Saturday in a two-car collision at the intersection of M33 and M46 in Wexford County.

MISSSED CURVE

John A. Shell, 23, of Fenton died yesterday when his car missed a curve and plunged off the road in Fenton Township, Genesee County.

Man Drowns in Area Lake Boat Mishap

A 30-year-old Commerce Township man drowned at about 7 p.m. yesterday when his boat capsized in Mud Lake.

The victim, Edward H. Ostrander, 3107 Woodlawn, was attempting to retrieve his wallet from the water when the boat overturned.

His body was recovered from 15 feet of water about 300 feet from shore by Oakland County Sheriff's Department skindivers Medward Tessier and Wayne Brause.

A companion, Charles W. Egger, 25, of Lakeland, was rescued from the water by two other fishermen.

In another accident, a Pontiac woman, Mrs. Jerry Cunningham, 21, of 4137 Parkwood was killed in a two-car collision yesterday on the Shiawassee-Genesee county line at the intersection of M13 and M21.

Two Chicago Areas Rocked by Blasts

CHICAGO (AP) — Fresh explosions shook Chicago's downtown and near West Side areas last night and early today as authorities were seeking persons responsible for two earlier bombings.

Investigators talked of "mad bombers" as they poked among rubble for clues that might lead to a solution of four apparently senseless bombings that have damaged at least six downtown office buildings and a number of cars and trucks.

Authorities said it was only luck that no one has been killed in the series of explosions that began early Wednesday. One man suffered minor injuries.

The latest bombing in the downtown section—the third in that area—shattered more than 30 windows in the towering Wrigley Building on Michigan Avenue and destroyed a parked car.

Early this morning, a few hours after the Michigan Avenue bombing, at least two other bombs damaged three trucks of an ice cream sales firm on the West Side.

Police began a search for two men seen fleeing only seconds ahead of the blasts in a garage where the ice cream trucks were stored.

Estes Cites Research Progress

Chevy Unveils Turbine Truck

MILFORD (AP) — Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Corp. unveiled a new gas turbine powered truck today with a prediction that the vehicle could be in general use by the early 1970's.

E. M. Estes, GM vice president and newly appointed manager of its Chevrolet Division, said at a press preview of the new truck:

"We feel that progress now being made may well result in turbine power for large highway tractors by the early 1970's."

Estes told a news conference that "Our first task is to get the turbine commercially feasible in heavy trucks. After that it will be time to worry about lighter trucks and eventually autos."

Estes pointed out that while General Motors has been experimenting with gas turbines for more than 15 years "there are still many problems to be solved before the turbine will be economically feasible."

PROVING STAGE

The Chevrolet executive added, "Basically, with the gas turbine we now are at a stage where the diesel was 35 years ago and just as the diesel had to prove itself economically, so must the turbine."

It was one of the strongest endorsements ever given to the gas turbine engine. All the U.S. auto makers have done some experimenting with that type of power plant, but none has gone as far in setting a possible timetable for the unit to be available to the public.

Estes repeated GM's contention that the turbine unit is best suited to commercial vehicles, rather than to passenger cars, as of now.

TRUCK USE RESEARCH

Ford Motor Co., like General Motors, has concentrated most of its turbine research work on its possible use in trucks. A Ford turbine truck recently (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

American Motors said practically the same thing Friday.

Expect U.S. Viet Offensive in October

By PHIL NEWSOM
LPI Foreign News Analyst

Saigon sources say to expect the first real American offensive in South Viet Nam during the month of October. Until then, American troops will be tied up defending their coastal bases against the Viet Cong's monsoon offensive, and serving as "fire brigade" reinforcements for hard-pressed Vietnamese units.

The Viet Cong offensive is expected to recede when the dry seasons comes in October. In South Viet Nam by then will be about 80,000 American servicemen.

Their base defenses will be dug in and the weather will favor their air power and helicopter tactics.

American forces will be free then for the first time to take the offensive against Viet Cong base areas.

DISARRAY IN EUROPE: With the Common Market in disarray over the question of farm subsidies, Britain has all but shelved for the time being efforts at "bridge building" between the rival European Free

Trade Association (EFTA) and the six nations of the Common Market.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson who talked over the idea with French President de Gaulle earlier this year in Paris, has been pushing it since within the EFTA alignment and experts have been at work to prepare concrete proposals for possible future coordination between the two rival blocs.

All is at a standstill now while the future of the Common Market itself is uncertain.

De GAULLE STRATEGY: President de Gaulle can be expected to continue his boycott of the Common Market until after the September West German elections, French officials say.

If and when he does agree to reopen talks on the Common Market crisis, it probably will be on a basis of two-day discussions with each member country.

In this way de Gaulle would set aside the Common Market executive which de Gaulle dislikes because it is "supranational."

BLOCK RED CHINA: Highly placed government sources in the Philippines believe there will be another postponement of the Afro-Asian conference in Algiers.

Over Red Chinese objections, the meeting first was postponed until November because the new Algerian government had not yet had time to consolidate itself after the overthrow of Ahmed Ben Bella.

If the meeting is held in November, there is doubt that a Philippine delegation will attend because it is too close to the Nov. 9 Philippine presidential elections.

But, the Philippines are working closely with other Asian "moderates" determined to prevent Red Chinese domination of the meeting. The group includes Japan, India, Thailand, Ceylon and Laos.

KOREA POWDER KEG: One of the first orders of business facing the extraordinary session of the Korean National Assembly is ratification of the Korea-Japan normalization treaty.

The government is determined to press it through. The anti-Japanese opposition is equally determined that it shall fail.

Opposition assemblymen are talking of mass resignations from which they could benefit in the ensuing political confusion.

A screening device is being used by scientists to measure the density of fog.

Lakes Skipper Faces Charge

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) - Negligence charges are to be filed in Chicago by the Coast Guard Friday against Capt. Martin Joppich of Rogers City, master of the sunken freighter Cedarville.

Li. Commander Arthur W. Gove of the Coast Guard said he would file the charges before Charles Carroll of Cleveland, hearing examiner for the Coast Guard's ninth district. Gove will act as prosecutor.

The Cedarville sank May 7 with a loss of 10 lives. The sinking followed a collision with the Norwegian Motor Vessel Topdalsford in a thick fog in the Mackinac Straits.

The Chicago hearing will coincide with the arrival in Chicago of the Topdalsford, making her second trip into the Great Lakes this season.

CALL OFFICERS

Gove said officers of the Norwegian vessel will be called to testify to substantiate the Coast Guard charge that Joppich operated his ship in a negligent manner just prior to the collision.

Meanwhile, attorney Victor G. Hanson of Detroit, head of a committee representing widows of three dead Cedarville crew members and eight other Cedarville crewmen who were injured, said personal injury and damage suits totaling $3,750,000 would be filed in Chicago today against the Topdalsford.

The chief justice of the Supreme Court receives a salary of $40,000 a year.

It's Back to Normal: Abductors in Jail, Victims at Home

on family at home and their abductors in jail.

A July 21 date in federal court was the next stop for Wilford Marion Gray, 30, and Carl Cletus Bowles, 24. Cecil Poole, U.S. attorney for Northern California, said Sunday the pair will be tried "swiftly and fairly" on federal charges of kidnapping State Finance Director Hale Champion, his wife, Marie, and their 19-month-old daughter, Katherine Marie.

Poole's decision put to rest for the time being a jurisdictional quarrel among the federal government, Sacramento County officials and Oregon authorities. All wanted to try the two gunmen on charges ranging from rape, robbery and murder in Oregon to kidnapping with bodily harm in California.

Poole — who once served with Champion on Gov. Edmund G. Brown's staff — commented, "Frankly, I'm amazed at this kind of hair-pulling thing. It's as though people were clamoring for blood."

WAS WOUNDED
Sacramento County officials wanted to prosecute the pair on kidnapping charges which could carry the death penalty since Champion was wounded during the escape. Poole planned to prosecute under the federal kidnap law which could mean a maximum penalty of life in prison.

He obtained custody of the two ex-convicts Friday when their three-state crime rampage ended just inside California near the Nevada border.

It started off a week ago today. Police say it included bank and motel robbery, rape, murder of an Oregon deputy sheriff and kidnapping of six others in Oregon before the Champions were abducted.

Poole said Gray and Bowles, held on $100,000 bail each, would make their pleas in U.S. District Court in Sacramento July 21. They were indicted by a federal grand jury Saturday.

RESTING QUIETLY
A reporter who visited the jail Sunday night was told the two were resting quietly in separate cells. Prison bars are familiar to them — Gray left an Oregon prison July 1 and Bowles three days earlier.

Champion, accidentally shot by a bystander in Tonopah, Nev., was due home from a hospital in mid-July. Mrs. Champion said the bullet wound in his thigh wasn't serious and that he probably would be back at the job of administering California's $4-billion budget Tuesday morning.

Asked about her daughter, who couldn't stretch out during the 22 hours they spent in speeding cars, Mrs. Champion reported, "She's been on a sleeping jag."

Sent to the 42-year-old Champion from his staff was a card reading: "Welcome back. Nothing much has happened since you left... except one thing — the cops are looking for you."

Ex-Dominican Official Backed

Meeting Politicos in
Bid to Form Cabinet

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Support is building up for Hector Garcia Godoy to become provisional president of the Dominican Republic.

But informed sources say an interim government probably will not be installed before the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States (OAS) meet in Rio de Janeiro Aug. 4.

Garcia Godoy, a 44-year-old businessman and foreign minister, has conditional approval of the civilian-military junta and full support of the rebels.

He is meeting with political figures in an effort to form an acceptable cabinet.

NO DECISION
Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, the junta chief, met with Garcia Godoy for an hour Saturday but refused to accept or reject him publicly.

Reliable sources said Imbert privately gave Garcia Godoy his endorsement, if he found a way to disarm the rebels and to solve other problems.

The general released a list of 22 other possibilities he said were "more acceptable" than Garcia Godoy.

One of the new names was Salvador Sturla, an engineer and former mayor of Santo Domingo.

VP NOMINEE
The OAS peacemakers nominated Eduardo Read Barreras to be vice president.

Read Barreras, an engineer, quit the ruling pre-Bosch council of state in 1963, saying he was tired of corruption. He is now Dominican ambassador to Italy.

The main obstacles to creation of a provisional regime include questions of its power, disarming the rebels and the length of the Inter-American peace force to remain.

Soviet Speeches Sign of Viet Switch?

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's two top leaders virtually ignored the war in Viet Nam in major weekend speeches, arousing speculation that the Kremlin may be about to take a new tack toward the Southeast Asian conflict.

The cessation of attacks on American involvement in the war came after months of attacks on U.S. policy.

Communist party First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, speaking in Leningrad Saturday, made no specific reference to Viet Nam.

AIMED AT CHINESE

His most acid remarks were aimed at the Chinese leaders in Peking.

"The Communists, if they really are Communists," he said, "do not have the right to waste time and energy on mutual attacks."

Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, speaking in Volgograd Sunday, followed suit with even milder words on international tensions and nostalgic recollections of U.S.-Soviet cooperation in World War II.

His reference to the Chinese was just as hard as Brezhnev's. He rebuffed Chinese demands for more Soviet involvement in Viet Nam, saying: "Our country is ready for any contingencies, but an adventurist, ill-considered policy is alien to us."

RESOLUTE REBUFF

He insisted that the Soviet Union was "administering a resolute rebuff to the provocations and imperialist aggressive circles and avoiding at the same time the example of those who take up a belligerent tone."

The new signs of Soviet-Chinese discord over Viet Nam alerted observers to the possibility of a new initiative from the Kremlin leaders.

It was suggested that the more moderate line, if continued, might enhance the possibility of meaningful private contacts between Soviet leaders and U.S. Ambassador-at-Large W. Averil Harriman, who is scheduled to arrive today for a five-day visit.

U.S. Embassy officials said Harriman's visit is strictly private.

NO SHIELD FOR BULLETS—The bullet-shattered windshield of a Vietnamese army truck tells the story of how its crew looked out at death during a Viet Cong ambush 12 hours earlier, north of Lontum in Viet Nam's central highlands. More than a score of government troops died in the ambush. The trucks are shown picking up more troops at a nearby airfield during a mortar attack.

Idea of Sanctuary Is Dead, Rusk Warns Red Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says Red China or any nation which "elects to get into this war" in Viet Nam must realize "the idea of sanctuary is dead."

Appearing on ABC's radio-television program "Issues and Answers" Sunday night, Rusk was asked about the success of bombing raids into North Viet Nam.

Rusk replied: "We had never suspected this in itself would be a decisive element but it is important that they have discovered that they are not going to be permitted to send tens of thousands of people into the south to attack South Viet Nam and live in safety and comfort there in the south."

"The idea of sanctuary is dead as far as this situation is concerned, and that is something that all of the others who may be supporting Hanoi must take fully into account."

"INCLUDES EVERYBODY" Asked if that included the Red Chinese, Rusk responded: "That includes everybody who elects to get into this war."

In military terminology, "to take sanctuary" is to hit an enemy, then run back into an area where you would not suffer a return blow.

On the question of the five missile sites now being built near Hanoi, Rusk said the sites at the present time are not interfering with the things that we feel are required to be done at the present time. He added, "We can't write the future until we know what the other side is going to do about the future."

Rusk repeated previous statements that the sites are for surface-to-air missiles with a range of about 30 miles, and emphasized: "They are not operational and we have lost no Americans to these sites up to this point."

DENY CHARGE

One weekend development concerning Viet Nam:

The Defense Department denied Red Chinese charges that U.S. warplanes flew over its southwest province of Yunnan Sunday "in direct military provocation." The Pentagon said: "There is no basis in fact for the charge." The State Department and the White House declined comment.

A Peking broadcast said the intrusion took place over Hokou, a frontier town about 65 miles northwest of Yen Bai, a North Vietnamese town which came under U.S. air attack Sunday.

—House Republican leaders were the object of bipartisan senatorial criticism for recent statements concerning the Viet Nam war.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Reps. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan and Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, are inviting a major ground war by suggesting an expanded bombing of North Viet Nam. Church made his remarks in a speech prepared for the Senate today, but released Sunday night.

Dirksen Listed as Satisfactory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen is reported in satisfactory condition at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

The Illinois senator has been hospitalized four times this year. Dirksen, 69, reported last week that he had been suffering from cramps. He said doctors had been unable to determine the cause, but theorized they might be triggered by tension.

In reporting on his condition Sunday night, the hospital said there was no indication when he might leave the medical center.

Find Body in Lake

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — The body of Russell D. Hickman, 17, of Benton Harbor was recovered Sunday from Lake Michigan by the U.S. Coast Guard, state police reported. Hickman reportedly was swept off a pier at the mouth of the St. Joseph river by high waves July 5, state police said.

Weeks Of Back Pain Now Relieved

"After weeks of pain in my back and legs, I read DeWitt's Pills—got wonderful relief," says Mrs. R. Gardner, Waterloo, Iowa.

People write in every day praising the remarkable relief they get with DeWitt's Pills.

DeWitt's Pills act fast with a proven analgesic to relieve pain of backache. Their mild diuretic action helps to eliminate retained fluids and flush out irritating bladder wastes that can cause physical distress. If pain persists, see your doctor. DeWitt's Pills often succeed where others fail—quickly relieve minor muscle aches and pains, too. Insist on the genuine DeWitt's Pills.

Over 100 million DeWitt's Pills are sold by druggists day after day after day, the world over—a tribute to their remarkable success.

Health Care, Voting Measures Now in Conference Committees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-health care bill last April 8. What does the conference work toward? GIVE GROUND A compromise. Each side usually has to give some ground. Then what? The version on which the conference agrees goes back before the Senate and House. Backers of both measures say they anticipate no trouble in winning quick approval on both measures once the conference comes up with final forms.

With wide-ranging impact involved in their final decisions, here are some questions and answers about the conference committees: Why are conference committees necessary? The Senate and House ended up with different versions on the same legislation. The Senate passed its version of the voting bill last May 26, the House passed its version of the Social Security-health care bill last April 8. What does the conference work toward? GIVE GROUND A compromise. Each side usually has to give some ground. Then what? The version on which the conference agrees goes back before the Senate and House. Backers of both measures say they anticipate no trouble in winning quick approval on both measures once the conference comes up with final forms.

Who selects the conferees? They are nominated by the chairman of the committee which handled the legislation. House Speaker John W. McCormack and Sen. Carl Hayden, president pro tempore of the Senate, make the actual appointments of those nominated.

How large is a conference? Usually about five from the Senate, five from the House. But the size varies, and one side may have more conferees than the other. On the final showdown, acceptance hinges on the majority of each side speaking as a unit — not on an actual nose-count of House conferees vs. Senate conferees. How long do conferences last? If both sides are in a hurry to wrap things up — for example, on adjournment day — they may agree in a matter of minutes. Some conferences go on much longer. Take the current battle over the foreign aid authorization bill. Conferees have met nine times without reaching an agreement. They meet again Tuesday.

What are the prospects for the larger base. Those above the Social Security-health care conference?
