

'OEO Trips Shunned Commercial Flights'

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 10,000 Job Corpsmen left their centers this week for 10-day Christmas vacations at home, and 9,000 made the trip at government expense.

However, officials said none of the antipoverty program youngsters traveled by commercial airline.

Last year, a furor was raised when it was reported Job Corpsmen were flying home at government expense via commercial airlines.

Buses and trains were used primarily this year, officials said, and in cases where it was feasible, chartered planes were used.

Regulations permit one home leave each for the approximately 23,000 youngsters in the Corps, with the government paying transportation costs for youngsters who have served at least six months.

The remainder of the youngsters who left their centers this week were those who had not served six months but who could show they had the round-trip fare or tickets to their home.

At the Blue Jay Conservation Center near Warren, Pa., townspeople held a drive to raise $2,100 to pay the travel expenses for 30 youngsters who were not eligible to receive government funds and who didn't have the money, the spokesman said.

Last year, 96 per cent of the some 13,000 vacationers returned to their centers after the holidays.

"I hope and expect that this year it will be 100 per cent," said acting Job Corps director W. P. Kelly in an open letter published in the program's official newspaper, "The Corpsman."

Indians Getting Gifts Without Reservation

BAY MILLS (AP) — They're calling off the cavalry at the Bay Mills Indian Reservation.

"We've been completely overwhelmed with gifts," said Fr. Joseph Lawless, pastor of St. Catherine's Roman Catholic Mission Church. "We have more than we can use right now."

Fr. Lawless asked that people stop sending gifts to the Indians at the Reservation.

A gift-giving cavalry of sorts came to the rescue of the Indians' Christmas celebration after some 3,000 pounds of toys, food, clothing and other Christmas gifts donated to the tribe burned Wednesday night.

The church and mission buildings were also destroyed in the blaze. Since then some 7,000 pounds of gifts have come from Minneapolis after radio station WCCO ran a story on the Indians' plight.

Fr. Lawless said three or more airplanes are expected. One arrived Friday with food and clothing collected by radio station WTRU in Muskegon.

Another plane—this one from Selfridge Air Force Base in Mount Clemens—was scheduled to arrive today. More gifts have been promised from Buffalo, N.Y.; Tip-top, Ind.; West Liberty, Ohio; Neenah, Wis.; Richland, Newberry and Marquette, Mich.

Some $2,200 has been donated to renovate the Bay Mills community building, which Fr. Lawless will use until a new church can be built.

One individual who preferred to remain anonymous sent a truck full of 30 turkeys, three bushels of potatoes, one bushel of apples, one bushel of oranges, 40 pounds of peanuts, 18 pounds of candy and 40 pounds of cranberries.

U.S. May Need More Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate agriculture specialist says the United States may now have to increase its 1967 wheat production in the wake of major grain shipments announced for India and Pakistan.

Sen. Jack R. Miller, R-Iowa, spoke yesterday at almost the same time the government was announcing it will send 500,000 tons of grain to Pakistan. A day earlier, India was promised 900,000 tons.

Thursday the Agriculture Department released figures showing winter wheat plantings up 26 per cent from last year. They pointed to a record wheat crop in 1967.

But Miller said at a news conference that U.S. wheat production probably will have to be further increased to offset the additional shipments.

Miller, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, returned recently from a congressional investigation of the food situation in hunger-plagued India.

He said the U.S. delay in announcing its January-February shipments to India probably helped get other nations to contribute grain.

Message of Eternal Peace Travels a Troubled World

By The Associated Press

Christians put away the cares of a quarrelsome world today and gathered for joyous celebrations of the message of eternal peace proclaimed in Bethlehem 1,966 years ago.

Millions in many nations wrapped the last gifts, put the final trimmings on the tree and planned to spend Christmas Eve with their families or at midnight religious services.

World leaders called for peace and there was a kind of peace in Vietnam, where both sides put down their guns in the first hours of an uneasy two-day Christmas truce.

Pope Paul VI hoped for a "miracle of good will" to end the war. Prime Minister Lester Pearson of Canada said each person could contribute to peace "through the exercise of love and understanding."

Millions were traveling to reach relatives and friends in time for the holiday.

BIG SNOWSTORM

In the United States, airlines and railroads were crowded and the crippling effects of the winter's first big snowstorm were felt from Oklahoma to the East Coast just as the Christmas rush hit the highways.

For Americans unable to travel, there was the telephone. The New York Telephone Co. said the nationwide Bell System expected 4.6 million long distance holiday calls.

Thousands of pilgrims, many of them Arab Christians who may visit relatives in Jordan only at this time of year, crossed the armistice line from Israel to pray in the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem and sing carols in a nearby field where tradition says angels appeared to shepherds at the first Christmas.

Atop the massive, 4th-century church was a new sign: "Merry Christmas."

In West Berlin, hundreds of thousands faced a Christmas without visiting relatives in East Berlin for the first time since 1962.

The West Berlin government refused East Germany the recognition as a state it demanding in return for passes through the Berlin wall.

"The Communists have closed the narrow gate to humane-ness," Mayor Heinrich Alberts said. President Johnson was to fly to San Antonio, Tex., to greet sick and wounded servicemen flown back from Vietnam, then join other Johnsons at the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City to open gifts Christmas Eve.

QUEEN'S HOLIDAY

For some, Christmas Eve brought special joy. In Miami, Cuban exile children sang "Silent Night" at the airport and gave gifts to children arriving on the 530th, airlift flight of refugees from Cuba.

Thirty-year-old Taburina Lima, looking forward to a reunion with relatives in Barlow, Fla., sobbed, "This is going to be the best Christmas in my life."

Hope Has Them 'Buzzing'

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the sixth in a 12-part series.)

NAKHON PHANOM (SPECIAL)—I almost became a war casualty during my monologue this morning...

It happened at U-Dorn, the base where we did our first show of the day. A pair of jet fighters zoomed so low over our stage that I now have an extra part in my hair... a few minutes later, a small plane circled the show site, and a voice on a bull horn yelled down: "Hey Bob—that was your punishment for not being able to wait till we get back from our mission to the north..." The boys had been scrambled just as we were getting ready to go on stage, and our schedule didn't allow us to postpone our departure...

The fliers in the planes were bound for what is perhaps the most important operation of the war. It is happening in this part of Southeast Asia, every day of the week when our boys are flying over North Vietnam. It is called SAR which stands for "Search and Rescue" and probably the most dramatic part of the entire rescue operation are the helicopters known as the "Jolly Green Giants," whose mission is to pick up—sometimes from the limb of a jungle tree—our pilots shot down over North Vietnam.

TO BE O.U.'S TALLEST—The nine-story dormitory soon to be built at Oakland University will be a comparative skyscraper on the campus—a fact that will not be obvious to viewers because the twin-towered unit will be constructed in a ravine with the fourth story at street level. Designed by Louis G. Redstone and Associates of Detroit, the $3.7-million facility is to be completed by January 1968. Construction contracts on the project were awarded last week.

Attack on Marines Mars Viet Truce

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—A U.S. Marine company came under heavy small arms and mortar fire today, almost eight hours after the start of a 48-hour Christmas truce. A military spokesman said the Marines repelled with artillery fire.

The clash was the most significant reported so far during the truce period.

A spokesman in Saigon military headquarters declined to describe it immediately as a major violation of the cease-fire, but it seemed to be of considerable importance.

There were a number of other incidents that marred the first day of the truce.

1,000 ROUNDS

The spokesman said that the Marines estimated that one company from the 2nd Battalion, the 5th Marine Regiment received about 1,000 rounds of small arms fire and 20 mortar rounds during a firing on its position about 17 miles south-west of Da Nang.

He said the firing came from an enemy force of unknown size to the southeast of the company. The Marines called for artillery fire and got it with what were described as "good results," the spokesman said.

He said another element of the 5th Marines in the same area took the enemy's left flank under fire, but there were no details.

Marine casualties were termed light and enemy casualties were unknown.

SNIPER FIRE

In the same area about three hours earlier, the spokesman said, a Marine security force that was guarding a downed helicopter received two rounds of small arms fire from four snipers. The Marines returned the fire and a search of the area later found two dead Vietcong and their weapons.

Also found in the area were one rifle, one carbine, ammunition, two grenades and two cartridge belts. The men killed were not in uniform.

Two other incidents were reported only hours after authorities in Saigon had said the first hours of the truce apparently had passed without violations of the holiday cease-fire.

In the early afternoon in Binh Thuan Province about 110 miles northeast of Saigon, two aircraft from the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Air Mobile, Division on an aerial reconnaissance mission received three hits from the ground. The fire was believed to have come from two automatic weapons. One U.S. trooper aboard the aircraft was wounded.

A door gunner aboard one aircraft, a helicopter, returned the fire but enemy casualties, if any, were unknown.

They were scheduled for arraignment today in Mt. Clem-

Dead are Mrs. Robert Strickland, 29, of 447 Hanna and Hoover Church, 34, of 22821 Colgate.

Mrs. Strickland was fatally injured last night in a crash near Newark, Ohio, which also hospitalized her husband and young son.

Robert Strickland, 31, is listed in serious condition at Licking County Memorial Hospital at Newark. James, 6, is reported critical at Children's Hospital in Columbus. His twin sister, Sue Ann, was treated and released.

Also killed in the collision was George Kopp, 28, of Newark.

HEAD-ON CRASH

Church and a Livonia man were both killed early today when their car collided head-on with another automobile on Inter Lakes in Livonia.

Detroit State Police identified Church's passenger as David Branscomb, 31.

BUSY CORNER — One of many double trailer gravel trucks rolls by the M24 Scripps Road intersection as school buses leave Lake Orion High School.

About Well-Traveled M24 Bus Tragedy Spurs Concern

By JEAN SAILE

The recent school bus tragedy near Windsor in which eight children were killed in a collision with a sand and gravel truck has caused concern in Oakland County.

For some time now, officials of the Lake Orion Schools and of trucking lines have expressed a need for extreme caution at the Scripps Road intersection on M24.

Traffic volume counts taken by the Michigan State Highway Department have failed to reveal a need for a light, according to Paul Riley, district traffic engineer.

Scripps Road is the only access to the Lake Orion Community Senior and Junior High Schools. The two buildings sit about 1,400 feet from the intersection.

A fleet of 16 buses serves the schools at four different times during the day.

M24 is probably the route bearing the heaviest sand and gravel trucking in the area, crossing constantly on the way to or from the large gravel company facilities in Oxford Township.

The speed limit on M24 at the intersection is 65 miles an hour and trucks weigh by three, sometimes at the rate of one a minute and frequently, during the peak hours of school traffic.

Lake Orion Schools Supt. Lewis Mundy said the intersection is of prime concern and that the Board of Education expects to open bids for the construction of a second access road to the schools at its meeting next Wednesday.

He said such a road, would of necessity, have to join M24, but the district feels that in making two accesses possible, it could cut down congestion and waiting time.

145 Survive Plane Crash

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A Mexican Aeronaes passenger jet from New York with 145 persons on board made a crash-landing on a road north of Mexico City today and skidded into the shallow waters of Lake Texcoco.

First reports from the scene said four persons were injured. A reporter from the newspaper El Excelsior said two of the injured were U.S. citizens but he was not able to identify them.

The crash landing occurred shortly before 5 a.m.

Helicopters flew in to take passengers from the plane and carry them to shore.

TRUCK COUNT

A Pontiac Press reporter, standing at the intersection Thursday afternoon between 2:30 and 2:45 p.m., counted eight large trucks, most of which were at least equaling the speed limit.

During the same period, 16 buses loaded with schoolchildren were attempting to make turns onto the highway and perhaps into the highway and were interspersed with those.

"If we could just get some kind of protection during peak hours, we'd feel safer," said Mundy.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An elderly man in Texas sent a Christmas card to Mr. and Mrs. James F. Ruffin, who are in the telephone directory and delivered the card.

The Lake Orion group collected $756 in Goodwillie paper-sale and is distributing 55 of the baskets, plus certificates for clothing and needed household items.

DECEPTIVE SALES

The FTC said it has received complaints of deceptive installment credit practices which tend most to victimize the poor. The regulations would primarily apply to goods sold on the installment plan when the seller retains the right to repossess them for nonpayment or when the customer signs a promissory note as security. They would not apply to ordinary charge accounts.

Automobile price disclosure is covered by a 1961 FTC ruling.

Lawyer Studies Book on JFK

Manuscript Revised on Request of Jackie

NEW YORK (AP) — The chief counsel for Mrs. John F. Kennedy studied today a revised manuscript of the book, "The Death of a President," proposed by the publishers, Harper & Row, in efforts to settle the controversy out of court.

"We have received the text of the proposed manuscript," said attorney Simon H. Rifkind. "It shows some changes on the face of it."

Rifkind declined to discuss the changes, but most of them were believed to involve the personal life and emotions of Mrs. Kennedy.

Personal passages were modified in an out-of-court settlement. Mrs. Kennedy reached with Look magazine Wednesday that will allow Look to go ahead as scheduled with its four-part, 60,000-word serialization beginning with the issue that carries newsmagazine Jan. 10.

RECORD TOLL

The record traffic toll for a Christmas weekend is 720, set during the three-day celebration in 1965.

The lowest Christmas traffic toll for a three-day period since World War II is 413 deaths during the next month. Capitol workers began construction recently of a sundeck on the roof of the Senate wing.

RECORD TOLL

The record traffic toll for an holiday period is 748, counted during the four-day observance of Thanksgiving this year.

The number of traffic deaths during four consecutive holiday periods this year — all three-day spans — also were records. The New Year's toll was 5

Frozen Assets Bonus for Thief

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — C. L. Turner wrapped $400 in currency in a napkin, placed it in a plastic bag, put the bag in a metal container and left the container beneath some frozen food in a locked freezer.
A thief not only ran off with the $400 but also took $250 worth of frozen food.

British Film Star Furious Over German Boorishness

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "I suffered from German rudeness for three months," said young Michael Caine, the spectacular British film star. "I decided that when I left these I was not going to do a movie star public relations job and say how wonderful the Germans were. I was going to tell the truth about them being the rudest people in the world!"

"I saw a press agent's wife who was obviously very pregnant trying to get into a German cab."

"It was a short trip, but she suddenly felt sick and not able to walk."

"She spoke English with a French accent. The driver not only wouldn't let her into the cab, but he yelled at her, 'You decadent French! A German woman would walk that distance!'"

WILSON

Michael scowled at the recollection as he told the story in his suite at the Plaza. He was having a hamburger with a big slice of onion. The star of "Alfie" who was in town for two openings the same day ("Funeral in Berlin" and "Gambit") said that the Berliners did not seem to be rude to him because he's English . . . but just because they're . . .

"Of course it's an awfully tense place, they live in a rotten city," Caine said.

"Another cab driver had a sign in his cab, 'No Smoking,' in German."

"A woman I know got into the cab. She didn't speak German. The driver tore the cigarette out of her mouth and hurt her lip."

The actors were mostly German and they were as stunned as he was by the German cab drivers, waiters, headwaiters and clerks, he said.

"Half the time you didn't retaliate, you were so shocked."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Jack Paar's invited Vaughn Monroe's Rainbow Rm. opening Dec. 28—he was Monroe's radio announcer a couple of decades ago . . . Irving Berlin stopped to admire the Shelton Towers choral group's Yuletide yodeling . . . Writer Hal Fimberg, scouting a TV series location on Alcatraz, reports the fishing's great there.

Veteran actor Don DeLoe agreed to move from his apt. house, which'll be torn down; the landlords returned the rent he'd paid for 15 years . . . Joe Glasser signed another 3-yr. deal with Harrah's Lake Tahoe for Louis Armstrong . . . Connie Francis is negotiating for a chain of doughnut shops.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: L. S. McCandless claims a wife is a woman who is constantly breaking things: "Fives, tens, twenties . . ."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: H. L. Mencken's definition of Puritanism: "The haunting fear that someone, somewhere may be happy."

EARL'S PEARLS: A genius is merely a guy who is lazy enough to do things right the first time.

Sgt. Tony Sara, who recorded "Love-Sick Beggar" after returning from Viet Nam, was asked his previous show business experience. "Well," he said, "Bob Hope visited my outfit twice . . ." That's earl, brother.

Observance of Christmas Given Deeper Significance

(In keeping with our policy of publishing guest editorials from time to time, our Christmas editorial has been written by Rev. Robert H. Shelton, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pontiac.)

By REV. ROBERT H. SHELTON

In 1957 my wife and I returned to the Orient for our second term of missionary service. Our destination was Vietnam, a land we thought would be our home for life.

We were met by some missionary friends and taken to the guest home of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

REV. SHELTON

Our introduction into the Vietnamese way of doing things was abrupt but refreshing. For example, it was hard for us to believe our eyes when we walked into a church in Saigon to discover that Christmas decorations were still there. Certainly there was nothing wrong with Christmas decorations, but to have them up in February seemed a bit irregular.

Some time later I was asked to speak at a tribal conference in the mountains of central Vietnam. By that time the surprise of seeing Christmas decorations in a Vietnamese church in February had begun to wear off, but was suddenly revived when I saw Christmas decorations in a tribal church at Easter. Christmas at Easter—it seemed strange, but the more I thought on it, the more I appreciated it, for Christmas is just the beginning of the Gospel story. If God had only allowed Himself to be virgin born without going on to accomplish His eternal purpose of redemption, then His coming into the world would have been in vain.

The purpose for the incarnation is not seen in the manger, but on the cross. Jesus came to die for the sins of the world. Thus Bethlehem became the prelude to Calvary and the empty tomb.

This truth is seen often in Scripture. The angels who appeared to the shepherds said, "for unto you is born this day in the city of David" (that's Bethlehem), "a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord" (that's Calvary).

Mark 10:45 tells us, "for the Son of Man came" (that's Bethlehem), "to give His life a ransom for many" (that's Calvary).

The poet has put it this way—"When I think of Bethlehem, I think of Calvary: A lonely hill, a rugged cross, A death of agony. For, He, the babe of Bethlehem Was born, His life to give; And willingly He gave His life, That you and I might live."

I was a bit surprised to hear Christians in Vietnam mixing their Christmas music with songs of the crucifixion and the resurrection, but I believe God was pleased.

Smog Abatement Plans Due for National Airing

If smog were only a problem in Los Angeles and New York, most Americans wouldn't need to worry about it. If it were a problem confined only to big cities, it would still not be cause for overwhelming national concern.

The fact is, however, that no less than 7,300 communities have air pollution problems of varying degree, according to the U.S. Public Health Service. There simply aren't 7,300 big cities in the country.

Today, the waste that is dumped into the air by one town adds to the pollution over another. City pollutes city and state pollutes state — and the countryside in between — at an ever-increasing rate that is beginning to exceed the natural capacity of the atmosphere to cleanse itself.

No amount of effort by any one city, no matter how strenuous, can do more than ameliorate the local problem. Air pollution, the same as water pollution, demands a regional approach.

So far, there have been no interstate attacks on the problem, though the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has identified three critical regions and ordered the six states involved to hold air pollution abatement conferences.

A New Jersey-New York conference is to be held early next year. Millions of Americans will be watching with smarting eyes in hopes that it will arrive at some solutions other regions can apply.

Every citizen should be allowed to breathe the air of freedom freely.

THE CHRISTMAS STORY—IV

The shepherds and the wise men found the Christ child that night long ago. Men from all walks of life have been finding Him ever since. As we commemorate that Holy Night let our hearts truly sing out, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Confident Living:

Wise Men Always Come to Jesus

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

"Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the King, behold, there came wise men."

They came to Him then and they came to Him now. And who were those wise men? We know only that they came from the fabled East which in those days was a region of knowledge and culture.

Recently I flew from Calcutta to Benares to New Delhi to the Vale of Kashmir to Karachi and on over the vast expanse of Mesopotamia to Baghdad — over fabled romantic lands. And, looking down from an airplane upon that ancient terrain, I wondered about those wise men who came from that area.

One could almost be imaginative to see them, lonely figures against eternal sands, motivated by some impulse they could only dimly understand to journey onward day after day always following a star.

More important than that star in the heavens was a star in the hearts of those thoughtful men. Another rendering of the Bible passage reads: "We observed the rising of his star." The wise men discerned that in the vast stream of human history an epochal event was about to happen, best described as the rising of a star that has been rising ever since and has yet to reach its zenith.

Other wise men came to Him also. There were shepherds, workers of the world, you might say, always close to poverty and struggle. Sometimes the wisest men are not necessarily those who delve into the great libraries of the world, or who have studied under notable teachers and received degrees from famous universities. The profoundest wisdom is often found in plain people.

There is perhaps a connection between perceptive understanding and association with quietude under the stars. The shepherds, meditating on the spectacular drama of the heavens were able one night to witness a marvelous thing. For over the plains of Bethlehem all heaven broke loose.

Entranced, these simple men knew instinctively that this extraordinary manifestation signified some great event. So they were drawn unerringly to a stable and knelt with others by a baby. The artfulness of this great drama is in the spectacle of those poor and humble men kneeling side by side with rich rulers and scholars. Each had been guided by the rising of His star and so they were all wise men come the Bethlehem.

The Bible tells us that the wise men returned to their own countries another way, referring perhaps not only to geography but also to attitudes. They returned home from Jesus wiser wise men.

In spirit wise men still come to Bethlehem at Christmas-time and there find in simple form the truth that God took upon himself the form of a man and walked the earth. God knew that man could understand man, especially suffering man; and therefore sent His Son, His best representative, to earth. He loved His Son dearly but sent Him because He also loved us.

Reverend Sam Shoemaker, Rector of Calvary Episcopal Church in New York City for many years, an erudite man of broad culture but with the rare gift of simplicity, once speculated on what God might have said to Jesus the night before He left to go to earth. He imagined God and Jesus conversing much as a human boy and his father might talk before the son leaves home.

God might have said, "Son, I'm sorry to see you go. I'm sure going to miss you. I love you dearly but want you to go to earth and tell those poor souls down there how to live." And Sam thought the last thing God might have said to Jesus was this: "Give them all my love." And that, of course, is exactly what Christmas means: "Give them all my love."

Sam Shoemaker used a little phrase to show God's purpose in coming to earth. He pictured a scene on Christmas morning where children are playing with new toys. They have read the directions but cannot seem to make the toys work — they don't quite get the hang of it. So the father gets down on the floor and helps them get that knack.

Shoemaker commented, "That is just what God did. He saw us failing to get the knack of how to live so the great God got down on the floor of the world beside us to show us how it's done."

Perhaps that is indeed the real purpose of Christmas, simply to give us the knack of living.

Voice of the People:

'Working Man Must Pay for High Wages, Taxes'

We hear much about inflation and tight money, but no one wishes to say why. The government has only what it takes from everyone. Union leaders talk of excess profits. They pick out large industries who have a large profit because of volume, but never mention the smaller companies who are barely keeping the sheriff from the door and the small companies who are going broke because they cannot pay high wages. They never say anything about how the cost of living and taxes go up every time there is an increase in wages.

If the truck costs more to haul the milk from the farmer and the driver gets more wages, someone has to pay more for the milk. If the iron ore costs more to take out of the ground and ship to steel mills, it costs more to make into steel, shipping costs more to auto or ammunition plants, and more to manufacture autos, trucks or guns, it costs more to the consumer or government.

Who pays in the end? The working man. What good is this continuous round of wages? No one gains in the end and we can soon run out of sound money.

Seeks Opinion on Laws Governing Strikes

Within the last year the people of this state have witnessed the spectacle of public employees, such as teachers, garbage collectors and policemen, often openly striking or refusing to report for duty. Refuse detrimental to health piled up, absent teachers caused children to be idle from school and police protection in our own area was obtained only on an emergency basis.

Is there a law against public employees engaging in a strike? If so, is the law constitutional? The issue here goes beyond politics and is a matter of public concern, regardless of political parties.

Why can't we get an opinion concerning this law from the Attorney General of our state and have it published in our paper?

Suggests Lower Prices for Puppies, Dogs

What has happened to the good will of the humane society and the Oakland County Animal Shelter? They show all the cute puppies and dogs that need homes and then say the price is from $5 to $12 for puppies and $20 to $45 for dogs. Why can't some child still have one for the price of a license and everyone rejoice that one less pup must be put to sleep permanently?

Don't our tax dollars support the shelter? If so, why must the price be so high that so many are left unclaimed?

'We Should Accept Ruling on School Prayer'

We are becoming a bit weary of endless discussions involving prayer in the schools. It is time that we accept the wise decision of the Supreme Court and do our praying and that of our children at home where it is proper and fitting. The schools have the education of young minds to occupy them and this is more than a full-time job.

I would be pleased if schools would consider those who do not particularly want their children to have fish or other meatless lunches forced upon them because it is Friday and one religious group must obey some command of its church.

There is nothing democratic about forcing our diets or our prayers on those who do not believe as we do.

'Peace on Earth' Still Lacking

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — What has the world got to be most grateful about this Christmas? Probably the fact that Red China is not yet a full-scale nuclear power with a complete missile delivery system. It's still a few years away from that.

But when Red China gets it, the anguish may begin.

Otherwise, this Christmas is not essentially different from those in recent years.

Much that passes for progress is the product of necessity, like freeing the African nations whose old colonial masters in Europe didn't have the strength to hold them any longer.

STILL FIGHTING

And the Africans, who might have learned a lesson from the stupidities of their one-time white masters, have quarreled among themselves, just like the Europeans.

This country has the genius for solving all the intricacies in sending men into space, and eventually to the moon. But seems baffled by the problem of the nation's vast pools of poverty. If it put more of its genius and money into the war on poverty and less into the moon program, it might do better, particularly since nobody is going to live on the moon anyway.

Flight to Viet Dims Yule Season for GIs

McGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J. (AP)—A plane load of 165 soldiers was headed west today, scheduled to arrive in Vietnam in time for Christmas dinner.

The GIs filed out of a sparsely decorated air terminal Friday with little obvious grumbling.

apparently resigned to spending the holiday season away from their homes and families.

The Army has flown about 1,200 GIs from McGuire this week in troop movements that were unaffected by the holidays. "Sure it would be nice to be home with mama," an Army spokesman said. "But the Viet-Cong are going to keep sending their boys in."

"CAN'T STOP WAR"
"The main thing to understand is you can't stop a war because it's Christmas. We don't really care if there is grumbling. A job has to be done."

Many of the young men had just completed training and were returning from two-week leave. They will serve in a variety of jobs—pharmacists, engineers, infantrymen—replacing others who will be able to return home for the holidays.

Cruel Hoax Played on Leukemia Girl, 6

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—There are some things you just can't explain to a 6-year-old child on the day before Christmas.

Suzi Dewey, suffering from leukemia, had been looking forward to a trip to California and a visit to Disneyland.

Today she sat in her room looking at a picture book that shows pictures of the fair-land. Suzi may never get to see Disneyland because of a cruel hoax.

The small child won the hearts of the nation when it was learned she wanted a wig for Christmas more than anything else because she was losing her hair.

The drugs that kept her alive caused her hair to fall out and she was embarrassed to go out of her house.

GOT HER WIG
Suzi got her wig, the gift of a local merchant, and her mother got a long distance call asking the family to come out to Hollywood as the guests of Jerry Lewis.

The seven other children in the family anxiously awaited the Christmas holiday vacation trip.

The family learned yesterday that the man who called them, posing as an aide to Lewis, was nothing but a prankster. No one in Hollywood ever heard of Jim Young, the name the man gave when he called Mrs. Dewey. "How could anyone be so cruel," Mrs. Dewey said. "The children have been waiting and waiting but we never heard another word from the man. "Suzi stayed in her room Friday after learning there would be no trip. She was excited about going to Disneyland and would sit and look at the pictures in the book we bought her."

May you be blessed with every joy at Yuletide!

Suggest Central Casting to Her ---Your Husband Isn't Due Part

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I need your help right away. A neighbor, (I'll call her Maria) with whom we are not very well acquainted, is begging my husband and me to help her win her husband back.

It seems Maria's husband has gone crackers over an older woman and wants to leave Maria and their ABBY: four small children. Maria wants my husband to take her to a nightclub where her husband and this woman will see her. She thinks if she can make him jealous it will bring him to his senses.

I suggest Maria let my brother (unmarried) take her, but she says he is not the type of husband would be jealous of—my husband would be perfect for the part.

My husband is not at all keen on this idea. I can't see where it would hurt him. After all, a marriage involving four children is at stake. What is your opinion?

MARIA'S NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: I don't blame your husband. His reward for an Academy Award performance could be a sound trouncing—or worse. If your neighbor wants to stage a scene to make her husband jealous, let her get an actor from central casting, or hire a professional escort.

And if you really want to help Maria, discourage the phony act and tell her to fight on the level.

DEAR ABBY: Why don't you get a new picture taken? I hear you have a son who will graduate from Stanford university next June, and a daughter who is older than HE is. So who are you kidding with that high school graduation picture? I'll bet you're a fat, old, gray-haired bag. I would like to see what you REALLY look like.

ROG

DEAR ROG: Vital statistics: Born 1918. Height, five feet nothing. Weight, 105. Married 1939 (still married to original husband.) Son 22, daughter 24. And if you want to see what I REALLY look like, I'll be on Art Linkletter's Houseparty on Dec. 26th.

DEAR ABBY: I need an outside opinion. My sister is a patient in the hospital. I went to visit her yesterday and while I was there, a nurse came in to give her a pill. My sister said a few words to the nurse, but she didn't introduce me.

Later my sister apologized for not introducing me to the nurse, saying that nurses are on a busy schedule and have plenty to do without taking time out to meet patients' relatives. Do you agree with my sister? Or don't you think nurses might like to be introduced to visitors?

DEAR "UN-INTRODUCED": If a patient were to say, "Miss Nightingale, I should like you to meet my Aunt Ethel and Uncle Jake," it takes only a moment for the nurse to say, "How do you do?" Nurses may not feel slighted at having been "un-introduced," but visitors might.

DEAR ABBY: Last night something happened to me that is really worth writing home about. I have no home, so I am writing to you because I just have to tell somebody.

I am a cook in a restaurant. A gentleman came back in the kitchen and handed me a $10 bill, saying, "I want to thank you for one of the best meals I have ever had."

Abby, it wasn't the $10 I appreciated as much as his kindness in wanting the cook to know that he was pleased.

I have been cooking for 21 years and that's the nicest thing that has ever happened to me. Yours truly,

FEELING GOOD

DEAR FEELING: You make me feel good just reading about it. More people should be so thoughtful.

Season's Greeting From Press Staff!

Message to Santa: Do Better for Our Sports Friends in '67

Dear Nick,
A whole year has gone by since we last gave you our Christmas list of goodies for our friends in the world of sports, and to be frank, you did colder, you did a lousy job in 1966.

In fact, you tomato-faced, white-bearded, fat-as-kears rascal, you missed just about everyone on the list we had made up for you.

We'll give you credit for a few things, but instead of asking you for new things we're going to point out where you goofed and we want you to double the effort on your tour of housepots tonight.

You did bring top state golf titles to Gene Bone; you also brought love-game tennis racquets to Emily Fisher; sharp championship ice skates to Tim Wood and a good start to athletes at Oakland University and Oakland Community Colleges.

And how about that No. 1 rating for Michigan State? ALL IN CELLAR
What in the world did you do to the Lions, Red Wings and Pistons? You weren't even kind enough this fall to lead them out of the cellar.

And where were all those tickets for the Michigan State Notre Dame game? All Bill Winters got after two months of trying were the game stubs.

You gave Merv Weber 9 strikes in a row in the Pontiac Open Bowling tournament, but just wasn't considerate enough to let him hit that 300.

And what about Paul Parks? You took him all the way to the state Class A baseball tournament and then sneaked away just before the championship game.

You promised some beautiful infield grass at the Jaycee field and you were going to do something about the poor condition of Northside Hockey rink. Shame on you for forgetting these!

And what about the Wisner Stadium press box and those promises you made to improve it?

You really made a mess in Detroit sports with Joe Don Looney and Reg Harding, and is this Howie Young return honestly for real?

The loudest thing you did the past year was to let Harry Gilmer be degraded and snowballed. Is this the kind of sportsmanship you brought to us in 1966?

And look what you did to the Tigers. Oh yes, you brought them up from fourth to second place, but you must have left your generosity at the North Pole by putting them 10 games out of reach.

HOW ABOUT POOLS
You didn't get those swimming pools built as yet at Rochester, Bloomfield Hills, Waterford, Walled Lake and a few other places, nor did you make any changes in that sweaty natatorium at PCH.

Tennis went to pot last year in the area. You did nothing to help improve the tennis facilities and what did you do for our production of tennis racquets?

You even loused up some of our skiing by hoarding all that snow last season, and ruining the business of an ardent ski man, Fred Molitor at Dryden, and for those trying to make a go at Silverbell.

And for what reason did you take away the AAU women's diving championship from Mickey King, and why the delay in getting things going in the merger of our parochial friends at the new Catholic Central?

Where were all those hole-in-ones for the golfers and 300 games for the bowlers? What ever happened to that telephone at the Oakland U. swimming pool?

Why did you take out the phones at Lake Orion so we can't hear from them on Friday nights? Ditto for Ferndale, Southfield, Farmington, Troy, Clawson and a few others?

Yes, and where is that big Sports Arena for Pontiac where we could enjoy tournaments, hockey, ice shows, concerts, and sports of all sorts?

Boy, oh boy, Nick, you see you really did a bum job in filling the Christmas stocking with niceties for 1966.

At least pass on our wishes today for a Very Merry Christmas and Joyous 1967 to our wonderful friends in athletics—the athletes, the coaches, the trainers, athletic directors, principals, amateurs, pros, cheerleaders, publicity men, sports writers, etc., etc., etc.

... And last but not least to our newspaper readers for their interest, patience and understanding in the job we try to do for them.

God Bless You All.

Early Present for Spartans

Added Bench Depth
Pleases Benington

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State basketball coach John Benington found a Christmas present a few days early—two good reserve forwards.

Heywood Edwards and John Holms had their chance to shine in MSU's 76-66 victory over Tulane Wednesday when Art Baylor stayed back in a New Orleans hotel with sinus trouble.

Benington, resting briefly at home between road trips, said development of Edwards, a 6-foot-5 junior, and Holms, a 6-4 sophomore, would allow him to use Baylor, 6-6, at center occasionally. So far, he doesn't have a strong reserve center.

Preparing for the Quaker City Tournament at Philadelphia starting next Tuesday, the MSU coach also was happy with out-of-state scoring ability shown by reserve guards Shannon Reading and Richie Jordan.

MSU goes into the tourney with a 5-1 record. MSU lost 74-70 to New Orleans Loyola Tuesday.

The showdown turned out to be a dud.

Clarkston's Wolves outclassed Northville's Vikings last night and romped to an 84-49 victory that gave the winners possession of first place in the Wayne-Oakland League.

The game was billed as a showdown between the two apparent powers in the W-O, but it was no contest as the Wolves dominated play throughout.

The triumph left the Wolves atop the W-O pack with a 4-0 record, while the Mustangs slipped to a tie with Holly (3-1) for second place.

Pacing the Wolves attack, as usual, was senior Dan Fife, a youngster who does many things with the ball and does them all well.

EVERY POSITION
In a pre-season rundown of his team, coach Bud McGrath came across the question of position while putting Fife's statistics on paper. Across from Fife's name, McGrath wrote center, guard, forward.

It was a tribute to Fife's ability and he showed it was well deserved last night as he played each position at one time or another during the game and tossed in 30 points, hauled down 15 rebounds and came through with 12 assists.

While Fife was playing his usual game, his teammates were also enjoying considerable success.

Guards Tom Allen and Randy Nicolson hit from long range early in the game to start the Wolves on the way to victory.

Allen closed with 18 points and Nicolson contributed 13.

EARLY LEAD
Clarkston moved in front 18-13 after one period and raised it to 37-26 at intermission. A 26-11 advantage in the third stanza put the game out of reach.

Fife, center Mark Richard (6-5) and Mark Erickson (6-0) combined to give the Wolves a 43-4 edge in the rebounding department.

While the offense came up with its best performance of the season, the Wolves' defense also turned in a sharp effort, holding the Mustangs' high-scoring Jim Zayto to only seven points.

Dennis Mathews and Jim Peterson collected 12 points each to pace the Northville attack.

For the evening, Clarkston hit on a last 16 per cent (31 of 68) while Northville put 20 of 61 shots (33 per cent) through the hoop.

Clarkston 84, Northville 49.

Two Battle Tuesday

Northern Hopes High for PCH Duel

On occasions, and the occasions have been rare, Pontiac Northern beats cross-town rival Central on the basketball court.

In 20 games since 1958, those rare occasions have popped up twice.

Word is that this may be the year for another.

The two meet Tuesday on the Northern floor at 8 p.m. and the usual meeting is anticipated for the 21st meeting between the two.

Tickets will be on sale, while they last, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Monday and Tuesday at the Northern High School office.

INTEREST KEEN
"Interest has been quite high and I expect we'll have a sell-out," says Elden Johnson, Northern athletic director.

Central goes into the game with a relatively green team and owner of a 3-1 record. Northern is also 3-1 and will take the floor with the edge in experience.

The PNH Huskies whipped Central twice in the 1962-63 season, their only wins in the series, and this year's squad may have the talent to bring the team's win to No. 3.

"I don't see how we can be favored," says PNH coach Dick Hall. "They've got good personnel over there."

Hall has too. With seven juniors and a pair of seniors, Hall has come up with a lot of balance.

JUNIOR LINEUP
Hall is expected to go with five juniors in the starting lineup.

It'll be Dana Coin (6-2) and Don Hayward (6-2) at forwards, Bob Traylor (6-3) at center and Mike Clancy (6-0) and Craig Deaton (5-10) at guards.

Two others who'll see a lot of action are senior guard

Jack Brown (6-0) and center Stan Allison (6-3). Rick Rhoney, a senior guard, twisted his knee in the Walled Lake game last week and will miss this contest.

"Our kids want to win; they have real good desire," says PCH coach Fred Zittel who has never lost to Dick Hall.

"We make a lot of glaring mistakes. Our inexperience has really hurt us," Zittel added.

MISCELLANEOUS
The Chiefs made a lot of errors but still won their first three games, but miscues were costly as they fell to Saginaw Arthur Hill in their latest outing.

The sparkplug in the Chiefs' attack is guard Prentice Hill, a 6-4 guard who is averaging 20.5 points a game. Teaming with Hill at the guard slot is 5-11 John Childs or Ardel Shelton, a 5-10 junior.

Alton Wilson (6-1) and Walter Causey (6-2) get the nod at forward while Gordon Hamilton (6-3) will move in at center.

The two teams are much alike this season. Both have good height and both rebound well. Neither shoots particularly well, so the game may be won on the boards.

The women's downhill was won by Sandy Shellworth of Boise, Idaho, with a time of 2:55.6. Miss Shellworth is a student at the University of Colorado.

Robin Morning of Santa Monica, Calif., was second at 2:57.5. Susie Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., was third with 2:58.1.

U-D Quintet to Shoot for 8th Cage Title

University of Detroit basketball Titans (5-2) go in quest of their eighth Motor City Tournament title, next Tuesday & Wednesday.

After starting Vito Abramavicius, a 6-4 Chicago sophomore, in the first six games, coach Bob Calihan named 6-6 sophomore Jerry Swartzfager, to the starting five against Western New Mexico and the Detroit Dela-Salle product responded with a game high 29 points, 26 of them on 13 of 18 from the field. He leads the club in field goal percentage with a .627 mark.

Junior guards Ralph Brisker and Larry Salci continue to show and play offensively with 20.3 and 16.7 credentials, respectively, but Swartzfager has muscled into a second place tie with Salci.

Junior captain, 6-5 forward Bruce Rodman, and 6-7 center, Junior Tommy Richardson, have done most of the rebounding with 94 and 88 in seven games, while scoring at 16.4 and 10.6 clips.

Detroit meets Tulane in the second game, Tuesday night at U-D Memorial.

Miami of Ohio faces Western Michigan, in the first game of the doubleheader at 7:30.

The winners and losers meet Wed., Dec. 28, beginning at 7:30.

Tony C. Honored
BOSTON (AP)—Tony Conigliaro, a 21-year-old slugger who hit 28 homers and drove in 93 runs last season, was named the Boston Red Sox' most valuable player of 1966 Saturday by the Boston baseball writers.

Central leads series, 10-2.

Probation Handed 2 Illinois Coaches

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois football coach Pete Elliott and basketball coach Harry Combes have been put on a one year probation and 12 of their players have been suspended by the university.

The action came after the university investigated a special fund used for assistance in recruitment and for financial aid to athletes.

Commissioner Bill Reed said

Cagers Named for Star Game

DeBusschere Gains Spot With West

NEW YORK (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers placed three men on the Western Division team named Saturday for the National Basketball Association's 17th annual All-Star game at San Francisco's Cow Palace Jan. 10.

The eight-man Eastern squad was named Friday. Coaches are being polled for the addition of two men — a forward and a guard — to each team.

Forward Elgin Baylor, guard Jerry West and center Darrell Hoff were the Los Angeles players honored.

Completing the team selected in a vote of sports writers and broadcasters were forward Rick Barry and center Nate Thurmond of San Francisco, forward Dave DeBusschere of Detroit and guards Guy Rodgers of Chicago and Len Wilkens of St. Louis.

Barry was a unanimous choice, receiving mention on all 85 ballots. Thurmond was on 84.

WILT UNANIMOUS
Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia was the only unanimous choice on the Eastern team while Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati missed by one vote.

Rounding out the Eastern squad are Willis Reed of New York, Jerry Lucas of Cincinnati, Hal Greer of Philadelphia and Bill Russell, Bailey Howell and John Havlicek of Boston.

Red Auerbach, former Boston Celtics' coach, will coach the East squad. Fred Schaus of Los Angeles will direct the West.

books for the solicited fund, which amounted to about $21,000 over the last five years, were kept by a Champaign-Urbana businessman whom he would not identify.

INDEPENDENT

"This was an operation completely independent of the Alumni Association," said Reed in a new conference Friday night.

"Expenditures from the fund amounted to payments, for varying periods of time, of $15 a month, or $35 a month, to one case of $50 a month."

"They were for assistance in transportation of prospective athletes to the campus for visits, miscellaneous entertainment in connection with recruiting activities, for emergency financial assistance to athletes, and in certain cases for regular payments to athletes above legal grants-in-aid limits."

CAGERS INVOLVED

Among basketball players reportedly suspended were Rich Jones of Memphis, Tenn., Illinois' All-America candidate who has been averaging 28 points a game; and teammates Ron Dunlap of Chicago and Steve Kuberski of Moline, Ill., a reserve.

All three did not play when Illinois defeated California in a Chicago Stadium game last night.

Another on the list reportedly is freshman ace Randy Crews of Bradley, Ill.

Identity of the others was not known. Reed said without elaboration that 29 players in all were involved and 17 no longer are students.

CEASE RECRUITING

He said Elliott and Combes will cease personal contact efforts in recruiting during their probation and they will keep a close check on their assistant coaches to see that recruiting complies in letter and spirit with conference rules.

Reed added that the fund was created with the knowledge of the director, assistant director of athletics and disbursements were made at the direction of Elliott and Combes.

Combes said he was shocked and offered to resign "if it would help matters."

CENTER OF ATTENTION—Clarkston and Northville players eye this loose ball captured in midair by the photographer as it bounced off the rim following a first-period shot by a Northville player. At left are Northville's Bob Hubbard (31) and Dennis Mathews (11). Clarkston players are Tom Allen (31), Rich Bass (45) and Randy Nicolson (43). Clarkston won, 84-49.

IT'S COLD OUTSIDE—Dallas defensive end, Jethro Pugh (left), and Buddie Dial (center) and kicker Danny Villanueva donned warm head gear as they bunched up and went through a practice session in Dallas yesterday with the temperature near the freezing mark. The Cowboys will play the Green Bay Packers on New Year's Day for the National Football League championship.

Losing Streak Ends

DeBusschere Sparks Pistons

CHICAGO (AP)—Dave DeBusschere's foot is better and the Pistons are winning again. Detroit broke a six-game losing streak Friday night, nipping the Chicago Bulls 103-102. DeBusschere scored 22 points in leading the Pistons as they ended a five-game Chicago winning streak.

Chicago tied the game 97-97 with 5:29 left on a layup by Guy Rodgers. The lead then slipped until DeBusschere, Detroit's player-coach who has been out with an infected foot, hit a 25-foot jump shot for a 101-100 edge. Ray Scott then put in a layup.

But Chicago's Bob Boozer cut the lead to 103-102 with 33 seconds left.

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—World record holder Ralph Boston, showing excellent form, smashed the Senior Bowl track meet long jump record with a leap of 25 feet 5 1/2 inches Thursday night.

Boston, a former Olympic champion from Laurel, Miss., was over 25 feet on every one of his jumps in completely dominating the event. The old mark was 23 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Bob Seagren of the University of Southern California missed setting a new world's indoor pole vault record because his record-exceeding jump was not made during the official competition.

In other National Basketball Association games, the Boston Celtics drove past the St. Louis Hawks 114-103 and the Philadelphia 76ers beat the Los Angeles Lakers 118-107.

Aussies Set for Challenge

India Netters to Vie for Davis Cup

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI)—It will be Australia's Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle in singles and John Newcombe and Tony Roche in doubles when the heavily-favored Aussies take on India in the 55th Davis Cup Challenge Round.

Captain Harry Hopman announced his choices today for the matches that will begin here Monday. There appeared little the Indians could do to thwart the defending champs from capturing the cup for the 23rd time.

Emerson appeared to have reached top form Friday in a brilliant workout against Belgian champion Patrick H. Borge, while Stolle, playing the best tennis of his life, looked sharp and polished in a light workout against Newcombe.

India seemed certain to go with its top pair of Ramesh Krishnan and Jaideep Mukerjee, although there was some talk that Premjit Lal might replace Krishnan in the doubles as the Indians today would be fresh for both his singles matches.

The Big Ten team will enjoy a Christmas Eve celebration to night, and the Tournament of Roses committee will entertain the Boilermakers Christmas night.

On the field Friday, Purdue practiced twice, and Coach Jack Mollenkopf called for conditioning drills to acclimate his squad to the warm weather in California.

Safety Dennis Cirbes and defensive tackle Fred Ruffa are showed by pulled muscles, but both are expected to be ready for the 22 contest with Southern California.

Invitational Skate Meet Draws 300

Over 300 skaters have entered the annual Christmas Invitational Roller Skating meet which starts a two-day run Tuesday at Rolladium.

The competitors, including several North American champions, will be from nine states. Entries have been received from New York, New Jersey, Georgia and midwestern states, according to Mrs. Bert Anselmi of Rolladium.

There will be no speed skating, but all other divisions of competition are scheduled.

The skaters will take the floor at 8 a.m. each day and continue to about 11 p.m. Top senior events are scheduled each evening.

One of the highlights of the meet will be a show production competition.

"This is something new," said Mrs. Anselmi. "Clubs will compete against each other with show numbers. There are seven entries and each club will have about 20 skaters."

"The contest will be on the basis of each show's crowd appeal. Judges will be those people who do not know the finer points of skating. We want the panel to determine the winners only on the basis of entertainment."

This contest will get under way at 9 p.m. Tuesday.

Several state and regional champions will also compete in the regular division. The Rolladium and University Skating clubs have teams entered.

Moore, Gavilan in Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP)—Archie Moore, the former light heavyweight champion and one of the great scientific boxers of all time, and flashy Kid Gavilan, the former welterweight king of the Boxing Hall of Fame.

Their elections were announced Friday along with the selection of another former light heavyweight champion, Battling Levinsky, by the Old Timers Committee. James Deat Burke, an English champion in the 19th century, also was enshrined in the Pioneer group.

Rebel Players Return to Ice With 9-3 Win

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—The Springfield Indians, smarting from an abortive four-day revolt against owner Eddie Shore, made Providence a whipping post by belting the Reds 9-3 Friday night in snapping a four-game American Hockey League losing streak.

The Indians, who agreed reluctantly on the advice of a lawyer to end a walkout in protest of the suspensions of four players, struck for three goals in each period with a hustling performance.

Fifteen of the 16 Indians dressed for action are regular members of the tribe which refused even to practice for two days during the walkout.

The quartet still suspended includes the Tribe's top three defensemen — Dale Rolfe, Bill White and Dave Adamo — and center Brian Kilrea.

The only new player pressed into service by Shore was winger Larry Billows, who was sent in by Memphis of the Central League in answer to Shore's call for player help earlier in the week. Four other imported players were not used.

The Indians showed absolutely no effects from their layoff in whipping Providence, the cellar team in the Eastern Division.

"I'm very happy with the way the team played," Shore said. "It checked well and passed well. The puck usually finds its way into the nets when you do that."

Michigan Sextet Defeats MSU, 5-3

DETROIT (AP)—Mel Wakabayashi, using up the last of his college eligibility, took a long pass, streaked across the blue line and down the right side and snapped in a 25-foot goal.

The crowd roared its approval as the Japanese-Canadian's score put the University of Michigan ahead again in the championship game of the Great Lakes Invitational Hockey Tournament.

Michigan won 5-3, over arch-rival Michigan State.

Michigan Tech won the consolation round, crushing Western Ontario 9-2 Friday night. Michigan beat Tech 4-3 Thursday night and MSU downed Western Ontario 5-4.

Wakabayashi, who's eligibility ends with the start of the next semester at Michigan, scored two goals and assisted on two more in the victory.

The first Michigan goal came on a power play in the first period.

Ron Ullyot took a pass from Wakabayashi and scored from about four feet out.

The Wolverines made it 2-0 early in the second period on another power play when Wakabayashi poked in the rebound after Lee Martilla fired.

Doug Volmar of MSU tied it up with two goals in the second period. His first came on a rebound of a Tom Mikkola shot, 30 seconds after Wakabayashi's goal.

With Michigan one man short, Volmar got another when Mike Kola passed out to him and he blasted in a goal from the right point.

Then came Wakabayashi's go-ahead pass from Lee Martilla again.

Mike Martilla, Lee's brother, opened the third period with another Wolverine goal, scoring from 25 feet out on the left wing.

MSU cut the margin to 4-3 when Dick Bois took the puck over the blue line and passed to Nino Cristofoli, who scored from about 15 feet away.

The Spartans pulled the goalie in an effort to tie and Dean Lucier scored into the empty net for Michigan's final goal.

Both Volmar and Wakabayashi made the all-tournament team and Wakabayashi was voted the most valuable player.

Big Ten Quintets Down Three Foes

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten teams Friday night wound up their basketball sharpshooting until after the Christmas weekend, sweeping three victories to pad their record against top contenders to 41-18.

Next week, seven teams swing into holiday tournaments. Northwestern is at New York; Indiana and Minnesota at Portland; Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin at Los Angeles and Purdue at Rochester, N.Y.

Playing without three suspended key men—scoring leader Rich Jones, Ron Dunlap and No. 1 reserve Steve Kuberski—Illinois downed California 97-81 in overtime at Chicago Stadium. Dave Scholz, subbing for Dunlap, scored 22 points. Jim Dawson hit 24 and Dean Flessner 23 in powering the Illini to their fifth victory in six starts.

Dawson's jump shot in the last seven seconds of regulation sent the game into an extra heat at 80-80. The Illini then rattled in 17 points, six by Scholz making his first varsity start.

Steve Howell's rebound basket gave Ohio State a 61-59 edge over Army. Ron Sepic topped the Buckeyes with 13 points while Jeff Miller, who has been averaging 20, was limited to six.

In the only other game for a Big Ten team, Iowa scored its fourth straight victory by checking Stanford 77-74. Stanford rallied from an 11-point deficit in the last half, cutting it to 73-72. Iowa's Gerry Jones then got a three-point play and the Hawkeyes increased their winning margin.

Jones was high with 26 points while Tom Chapman added 20.

Two Robinsons Will Receive Special Awards

Frank Robinson will be saluted as World Series hero and Brooks Robinson will receive the Ken Hubbs Memorial Award for exemplary conduct on and off the playing field.

Two other Orioles, manager Frank Bauer and pitcher Mike Drabowsky, were among six previously announced award winners to be honored at the dinner.

'Flying Foot' Big Weapon for Wyoming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If nothing else, Florida State had to be on the lookout today for Jerry DePoyster's flying foot.

DePoyster's foot has been a major weapon in Wyoming's football attack this season, and there was no reason to believe it wouldn't be as potentially dangerous in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., today.

In the day's only other bowl game, all-star teams from the north and the south clashed in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala. Another all-star game, the North-South at Miami, Fla., is set for Monday.

Not only did he lead major college kickers in scoring with 71 points, but he also tied a record number of kicks, 77, which included a previously unheard of 38 field goal attempts.

Before DePoyster, the most field goals ever tried in a season totaled 23.

To counter the DePoyster threat, Florida State has the nation's fourth best passing offense. Quarterback Gary Paige tossed for eight touchdowns and 1,500 yards during the regular season when Florida State completed a 6-4 record. Wyoming was 9-1.

Pats' QB Babe Parilli Takes Comeback Award

BOSTON (AP)—Babe Parilli, to cheers as the Pats made a strong bid for the Eastern Division title, only to lose out in a lot of playing time left after 13 38-28 defeat by New York in the final game.

"I toyed with the thought of retiring a few weeks ago, but no longer," Parilli said. "I feel like playing at least a couple more years."

Parilli, the former Kentucky star of the Wildcats' Orange, Cotton and Sugar Bowl teams, looked to the future today after being named the American Football League's Comeback Player of the Year by The Associated Press.

"You can't be satisfied if you don't win," he said. "Awards and honors are great to receive, but they can't replace winning. The loss to New York was the greatest disappointment of my life—by far. The entire season hinged on that final game."

Parilli threw for 3,441 yards and 31 touchdowns in 1964, but slumped with the entire team in 1965 as he completed 173 passes and had 26 intercepted.

That's Why They Call 'em 'Good Old Days'

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you're warning your spouse to go easy on the martini this holiday season, don't let him find out what the nation's forefathers consumed.

John Hancock — the man with a big signature on the Declaration of Independence — liked big parties.

History shows he had a dinner for 80 in 1792 with a bar bill that included 136 bowls of punch, 21 bottles of sherry, and large unspecified quantities of cider and brandy. Just the punch allotment was 1½ bowls apiece.

Every day before breakfast, John Adams worked his way through a tankard of hard cider.

George Washington drank and so did Thomas Jefferson.

The justices of the Supreme Court established a rule under John Marshall not to drink in their chambers — except on rainy days, to ward off colds.

History also shows that in 1787, at a priest's ordination in Beverly, Mass., 80 guests consumed 30 bowls of punch and 10 bottles of wine before the ceremony, and 44 bowls of punch, 18 bottles of wine and eight bowls of brandy and cherry rum later at dinner. Six people drank tea.

The man responsible for organizing this information on colonists' drinking habits is Harold Peterson, a social historian and chief curator of the National Park Service.

"A happier bunch of drunks never climbed on horseback," Peterson said of one gay 18th century party in Virginia. "The 18th century was our downfall."

That was the jolly generation," he said.

"The person who did not drink in the 1700s was very unusual. Rum was the main drink. The colonists drank on every occasion — holidays, weddings, funerals, and proclamation signings."

The gay days ended with the industrial revolution, Peterson says, when machines and social reform took hold.

This season, Washington D.C. police say suitable alcoholic rations spaced over several hours for a driver are one drink if he weighs less than 140 pounds, two drinks if he ranges to 220 and three if he's heavier than that.

Scandal Hinted in Bahamas

Possible Criminal Link;
British Ship Soils

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI) — The British destroyer HMS Defender suddenly cut short a Christmas goodwill visit to Bermuda yesterday and put to sea for "operational reasons."

There were rumors in London the ship might be bound for the Bahamas and a possible operation against an elusive American gangster syndicate.

Two weeks ago Bahamian parliamentary opposition leader Linden Pindling flew to London carrying what he described as "documentary evidence" of gangster links between the British colony and the United States.

A Defense Ministry spokesman in London said he was unable to disclose the Defender's destination or assignment — but only that she had sailed for "operational reasons."

The respected British newspaper The Guardian said today Pindling had given it a 10-page summary of the charges he presented to Colonial Secretary Frederick Lee.

URGENT INQUIRY

The newspaper said Pindling had urged Lee to order a royal commission to make an urgent inquiry. Speculation was heightened by the arrival in London earlier this week of the governor of the island colony, Sir Ralph Gray, on an unexplained visit.

The Defender arrived in Hamilton Thursday and had been scheduled to remain until Dec. 27, but shortly after her arrival she began taking on provisions and then steamed out to sea.

Deadline Near on Grievance

Waterford Board
Eying Custodian Issue

The Waterford Township Board of Education is expected to answer by Jan. 3 a grievance filed by school custodians.

The board conducted a hearing on the matter Thursday night but did not arrive at a decision.

The grievance stemmed from an incident at Pierce Junior High School Nov. 28 when school officials told custodians their services would not be needed during an evening faculty play.

They were told to come to work after the school function, but declined.

Clyde Alsop, business agent for Council 23, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, said it is his interpretation that the contract calls for custodians to be present at all activities conducted in school buildings.

He contends the contract between the school board and Council 23, consequently, was violated.

REQUESTS CLARIFICATION
Alsop requests the contract be clarified to avoid repetition of the same grievance.

"All we want is a guideline we can live by," he said.

School officials generally feel it's up to their discretion when custodial assistance is needed during overtime hours.

If Council 23 doesn't receive an answer by Jan. 3 or is dissatisfied with the reply, they can take the grievance to the State Labor Mediation Board.

The first U. S. paper currency was issued in 1861.

Badly Burned Boy Gets a Gift--Home

By PAT MCCARTY

All dressed up in his new cowboy hat and boots, 7-year-old Dennis McDowell yesterday took a trip requiring the courage of an Old West hero.

The drive from Pontiac General Hospital to his home at 43 Lyford, Waterford Township, was an historic one for the youngster.

Dennis has been under treatment at the hospital for 22 months—since 78 per cent of his skin was burned in a fire which took the lives of his sister, a brother and their uncle.

The Jan. 22, 1965, fire destroyed the house the William McDowell family was renting at 234 Havana, Commerce Township.

On a year ago, Dennis was allowed to go home for a few hours of Christmas Day.

WITH AMBULANCE
That trip was made in an ambulance.

Yesterday, Dennis was taken home in the car of his grandfather and daily companion, Clark McDowell of 243 Wisconsin, Commerce Township. And he won't have to go back to the hospital until Monday.

Dennis will have a long weekend with his parents, his 10-year-old brother, Michael, his 1-year-old sister, Cheryl, and visiting relatives.

On top of his survival, Dennis has chalked up several accomplishments which are major gifts to his family.

SUFFER SETBACK
To their wonder, he pulled through a staphylococcus infection last spring. However, the infection destroyed much of the skin grafting which had been done and was another setback to his recovery.

A few weeks ago, Dennis thrilled his family and hospital staff members by walking without aid.

This feat was the result of twice-daily physical therapy sessions in the Kenny Foundation Rehabilitation Center at the hospital.

Dennis now is having daily lessons with Mrs. Honora Kinsella, an Oakland Schools teacher who tutors youngsters confined to the hospital.

LEARNS LESSONS

He's delighting his mother with his newly acquired arithmetic and spelling skills.

With 10 to 15 per cent of his body yet to be healed, the youngster undergoes surgery as often as possible.

He must yet have his arms straightened, his ears rebuilt and some minor work done on his fingers and eyes, his mother said.

Dennis' physician, Dr. Joseph Carlisle, reports the boy is in good shape—but the date of his permanent release from the hospital is still "too far in the future to predict."

The Michigan Funeral Directors Association honored Davis during the 79th convention held in Grand Rapids in 1958 for his 50 years as a licensed mortician. A charter member of 8-10 Hunt Club in Lewiston, Davis was a life member of Elks Lodge No. 810, Pontiac Lodge No. 21 F&AM and Knight of Pythias No. 19. He attended Central Methodist Church.

Wife Keeps Fine Tradition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Post-holiday season to master General Lawrence F. O'Brien says his wife, Elva, did not correct a postal error.

When Mrs. O'Brien received the family's daily bag of mail one day this week, she found inside it a bundle of mail for 10 of her Northwest Washington neighbors.

She didn't call back the mailman — or even phone her husband. She simply delivered the mail personally, said O'Brien. "I was just doing my duty," he quoted her as saying.

Yank, Viet Santas Bring Christmas Delight to Hamlet

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
XOM HUE, South Vietnam (AP) — "Blister 8-4, code name 'Ho-Ho-Ho,' coming in for a landing, let me see your smoke. Ho-Ho-Ho."

"Rog, Blister 8-4, take 'er down."

In Christmas colors, green and red smoke flares indicated the landing zone across from the Buddhist temple. The bubbletop helicopters made a turn in the listless tropical air, set down in a peanut field, and Santa Claus came to the tiny hamlet of Xom Hue, 35 miles north-west of Saigon.

There were two of them, in fact, a Vietnamese Santa Claus and his American counterpart, so the 1,000 kids in the hamlet were doubly delighted with the sight.

NUMBER ONE
"You number one," they kept telling helicopter pilot Richard Salazar of Pittsfield, Mass., the American Santa Claus. Actually, he was No. 2, because the U.S. 25th Infantry Division, whose artillerymen were sponsoring the big Christmas party, was out to stress the Vietnamese aspects of the celebration.

From Xom Hue, a bitterly contested hamlet all the way back to the days of the French, it was the biggest day since the Vietcong pulled out bag and baggage eight months ago. The 25th Infantry Division band, trombones and tubas catching the sunlight slashing down through the mango trees, paraded down the muddy main street oom-pah-pah-ing "Jingle Bells." Half the hamlet followed happily along behind.

BIZARRE AFFAIR
In the words of Ebenezer Scrooge, there never was such a Christmas as Buddhism and Christianity got together in a bizarre Christmas pudding. There was a life-size Nativity scene in front of the pagoda, with Vietnamese schoolgirls dressed as angels in enormous silver wings fashioned from old newspapers.

Then the children of the village, every blessed one among the thousands of them, marched in the colorful star procession, proudly showing off the huge colored stars they had made of bamboo and rice paper. The reviewing section was a colorful blend of village elders, government officials, church and pagoda dignitaries, military leaders.

CATHOLIC PRIEST

There was Col. Daniel Williams of Booneville, N.C., the artillery commander, in his steel helmet; there was the Rev. Tran Van Phin, Roman Catholic priest from the next village, in his broad-brimmed French cure's hat. There were Le Van Anh, the hamlet chief, in his black Mandarin coat, and Capt. Ho Van Hiep, the district chief, in his spottish khaki uniform, resplendent with ribbons and decorations.

There were the pagoda venerables in their saffron robes and wispy beards; lovely ladies in long, flowing ao-daïs and streaming jet black hair; toothless mamas spitting out betel nut and sucking on pipes or cigars; GIs standing by with M16 rifles.

All agreed, after due deliberation, that 9-year-old Nguyen Van Nham, whose father pedaled a cyclo cab, had made the best Christmas star. It was fully three feet tall, almost as tall as Nguyen himself, and bore the inscription: "Mung ti giant sinh," which is Vietnamese for "We wish you a Merry Christmas."

MODEL AIRPLANE
For his star-making talents, Nguyen received a huge model airplane lovingly carved and painted by the surgeons at the Army's 7th Surgical Hospital. The rest of the kids surged around and at one point threatened to overrun the two Santas to get $3,200 worth of toys the division artillerymen had flown over, at their own expense, from the States.

While Mess Sgt. Cecil Shaffer of Des Moines, Iowa, served up a mountain of cakes and cold drinks, a Vietnamese drama team entertained on a stage set up across from the little school that the American artillerymen had provided with desks and benches.

Lt. Ted Root of Stow, Ohio, stepped up to the microphones and sang "O Holy Night" with such lively sweetness as to forever lay to rest the canard that all artillerymen are tone-deaf. He was backed by a 25-voice GI choir hastily organized by Capt. John

Junior Editors Quiz on MISTLETOE

QUESTION: Why is mistletoe used at Christmas?

ANSWER: Mistletoe is a curious vine which lives on certain trees. It has evergreen leaves and clusters of attractive white berries. These berries are sticky, with seeds inside, and are eaten by birds. The bird wipes his beak on the bark of a tree to clean it, and some of the seeds are left on the tree. These sprout and send feelers into the tree, making a connection through which the vine gets water and minerals.

Roman writer Pliny records that along with the oak tree, the mistletoe was regarded as sacred by the ancient cult of the Druids.

Many of our Christmas symbols have their roots in ancient customs. The Christmas tree itself comes from ancient German days.

People in Scandinavia are said to have been the first to hang up mistletoe. The tradition seemed to have been that a sprig of mistletoe would lead toward marriage.

From this, probably, came the custom of hanging it up to give a gay, romantic note to the Christmas festivities. Catch someone standing under the mistletoe, says the custom, and you have the right to get a kiss.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can find out more about the origin of the Christmas tree.

A West Plains, Mo. —

Some are disgusted burglars. They broke into a West Plains grocery store and stole a money bag. But the bag contained nothing but "insufficient funds" checks which the grocer had collected over the years and kept as souvenirs.

GIs in Viet Know There's a Santa

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans have showered their fighting men in Vietnam with Christmas gifts ranging from nearly a quarter of a ton of soap to the tape-recorded voices of their loved ones at home.

In some communities, people have joined together to provide at least one Christmas box for every soldier from the area who is on duty abroad.

Other community groups have responded generously to GI pleas for Christmas party gifts and fixings for war orphans and other Vietnamese children.

For sheer volume, perhaps the most ambitious project was mounted by volunteers at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah.

The volunteers received Christmas cards from university students all over the country, and more than 300,000 were air-mailed to soldiers in Vietnam.

SINGLE-HANDED EFFORT

In a noteworthy single-handed effort, coed Eileen Cioe of Bryant College in Providence, R.I., collected 5,000 Christmas greeting letters.

Special Toys on Playground for Special Tots

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — There are no swings or seesaws in the playground at the new Child Study Center, but the children who play there have a huge purpose: they can climb on without getting hurt and which blind patients can "see" by following its form with their hands.

In this unusual facility there is a cement turtle big enough to climb over and under and to be used as a slide.

The playground includes a giraffe, a ship with a crow's nest, a stagecoach, a chicken and duck mounted on sturdy springs set in cement and stabilized tripods.

The children who use the equipment are mentally retarded, victims of cerebral palsy, blind or partially sighted or handicapped in other ways.

The U.S. postal savings system, instituted in 1911, was terminated by Congress on March 28, 1965.

Publisher John C. A. Watkins of Providence Journal-Bulletin paid the $250 for postage.

The Naugatuck, (Conn.) News offered to pay for three-minute phone calls from Vietnam GIs to families in Naugatuck and nearby Beacon Falls any time from Dec. 15 to Jan. 15.

The 15,000 residents of Torrington, Conn., sent copies of a Christmas greeting signed by almost everybody in town, plus a box of candy, to each Torrington serviceman engaged in the battle against the Communists.

FREE MESSAGES

The Cincinnati Enquirer, in a joint project with Ohio Amateur radio, operators, offered relatives free messages to U.S. servicemen anywhere in the world during the holiday season.

In a similar project, Philadelphia city officials enlisted the Amateur Radio Public Services Corps of that city, and set up a room in City Hall for the collection of the messages.

Radio station KALL in Salt Lake City, Utah; station WTUF in Mobile, Ala., the Salvation Army in Twin Falls, Idaho, and the Red Cross in Concord, N.H., recorded "voices from home" tapes.

Bostonians contributed $1,600 for gift packages for 400 Boston servicemen in Vietnam.

HOME TOWN HELP

Capt. Mike Murphy of the U.S. Army Advisory Team 9 in Vietnam asked residents of his home town, Kilgore, Tex., to provide presents for a Christmas party for 10,000 child dependents of men in the South Vietnamese army's 3rd Area Logistics Command. Kilgore responded with 32 crates of gifts.

James Kyle of Missoula, Mont., in a Vietnamese hospital asked relatives to send him some good soap.

His sister-in-law, Mrs. Marshall Kyle, and her sister, Miss Neva Larsen, collected almost 500 pounds. They held a sale of baked goods to raise the postage.

Spec. S. Charles P. Austin of New Albany, Ind., and Pfc. Stewart G. Boaz of Greenville, Ind., requested food, clothing, toys and soap for children in a Vietnam orphanage.

New Albany sent off enough goods to give 200 children a happy Christmas.

Students of Ohio University arranged to spend their Christmas vacation gathering gifts for 2,300 teen-age Vietnamese war orphans attending a Saigon school whose faculty includes a team of educators from the university.

"BECAUSE MORE PEOPLE WISHED TO SIGN THIS CHRISTMAS MESSAGE, IT IS BEING REPRINTED FROM YESTERDAY'S PONTIAC PRESS"

Is There an Important Gift You Have Forgotten This Christmas?

In giving presents to our children, do we forget the gift of peace? Of course, we all want a peaceful world for our families—but wanting is not enough. We cannot overlook the real world in which war still exists, and escape our personal responsibility for that war.

Each day we are more deeply committed to a tragic and ever-widening war in Vietnam. More and more American soldiers die and more innocent civilians are killed. At home, taxes rise and appropriations for schools, highways, and medical research decline. Our prestige in the world continues to recede, and the threat of a nuclear war appears closer on the horizon.

The greatest gift we can give to our children this Christmas is to play an active part in making peace on earth a reality. We, the undersigned, believe there are patriotic alternatives to our present course. According to U. Thant, Secretary-General of the United Nations, our government has twice refused to engage in peace talks with North Vietnam during the last three years. We must not refuse again. We urge you to join with us in writing to our President, senators, and representatives protesting escalation of the war and urging renewed efforts to end it through negotiations.

The miraculous light of a star shone in the heavens, and angel voices heralded the coming of the Saviour, on the Holy Night nearly two thousand years ago. May the spirit of the Nativity . . . the awe and wonder of simple shepherds, the rejoicing and reverence of the wise men . . . be with us in this blessed Christmas season, and may it inspire us always in our hope for peace, brotherhood and understanding.

Residents Of A Victorian Mantel Village Stroll Down Main Street Toward Community Christmas Tree

Colorful Front Door Design Bids Holiday Guests Welcome

Home Says Merry Christmas

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

"Twas the night before Christmas and all through the Joseph E. Fouser household everything awaits the tinkle of sleigh bells and the clatter of hooves signaling the annual arrival of the genial gent from the North Pole.

With the front entrance so inviting, no doubt he'll skip the sooty slide through the chimney this year and pause to peek in the windows of the miniature house affixed to the door.

"A house full of Christmas," proclaims the yarn smoke above the miniature's chimney.

Created by Mr. Fouser, the decoration is complete from the window boxes filled with greens to the tiny Santa dragging his toy-filled sack up the roof-top.

The decorated mantel in the living room invites visitors to turn back the clock to the Victorian Era.

PERIOD COSTUMES

Paper women in their flowing gowns, their hands hidden in muffs, are accompanied by tall-hatted husbands and a scarf-wrapped children.

A Christmas tree in the village square introduces a modern touch, its electric star-lights sending a warm candlelike glow over the cotton snow.

Storm-gray corrugated paper and barren twigs punctuated by springs of green make up the realistic background.

A project of Mrs. Fouser's, the village has become a family Yuletide tradition.

The Fouser home was designed and built by their two sons, Robert and David, when the boys were 22 and 16.

"The boys always liked to work with their hands," said their father, "and when they came up with the idea, Mrs. Fouser and I gave them the go-ahead. We've never been sorry."

The season's spirit permeates the nearby dining room, its honeyed pine paneling providing the perfect buff for the rich holiday colors.

On the built-in buffet, golden angels and pine boughs are balanced by an arrangement of golden candlesticks with scarlet candles and pine.

"A house full of Christmas," is the Fousers' personal gift to their friends and family and their way of saying, "Merry Christmas from our house to your house."

COMPACT PACKAGE: Despite its modest dimensions, this charming house, with its traditional and rustic appearance, can serve a large as well as a small family because of a second floor that is visible only from the rear.

ance, can serve a large as well as a small family because of a second floor that is visible only from the rear.

Flexibility Provides Key to Interior Plan

Economy and flexibility are partners in this traditional house.

The main floor living area—with a living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, two bedrooms, a mud room and 1½ baths—occupies only 1285 square feet, thereby making the initial cost modest for newbies, senior citizens or small families.

Also, since the width of the basic house, including the two-car garage, is only 45'7", a lot with a large frontage is not essential, especially if the alternate front entrance to the garage is utilized.

There is flexibility on the second floor, which can be left as is for open storage space or developed into one, two or three bedrooms as they are needed.

The floor also might be used, partially or in its entirety, as a hobby area for one or more members of the family. It would, for instance, make an ideal place for someone who dabbles in art.

ONE STORY LOOK
Architect Samuel Paul has given the front of Design G-69 the appearance of a one-story house.

The entrance is from an open porch which shelters it. Once inside, a central foyer leads directly to all the main rooms.

Feature of this foyer is a cathedral ceiling effect. The stair to the second floor has an open balcony which overlooks the foyer.

To left of the foyer are a kitchen, dinette and family room, merged into one large open space and separated by equipment and furniture.

The kitchen has an efficient U-shaped arrangement, with a double sink and an abundance of floor and wall cabinets.

The dinette permits informal meals to be enjoyed without disturbing the dining room at the rear of the house.

That latter room, by the way, is in a line with the living room, which has sliding glass doors to the rear terrace.

How far this terrace extends, either backwards or at the side of the house, depends on how much property is available.

BASIC HOUSE
But note that there is room for a lengthy side terrace even within the dimensions of the basic house.

The mud room, with a lavatory, closet and space for a washer and dryer, has a separate entrance and, in turn, leads to the family room.

It also serves as the passageway between the garage and the house, ideally located for someone who might park the car and wish to clean up before going inside.

The two downstairs bedrooms have cross ventilation and are separated by a closet wall and a full bath, with a nearby linen closet.

Architect Paul has shown how the upstairs area can be divided into three bedrooms, a bathroom and a huge amount of storage space.

The previously-mentioned balcony permits anyone on this floor to look down on the attractive foyer, yet the bedrooms themselves are set back far enough so that they do not intrude on the view from the foyer to the upstairs.

Stone material gives the exterior of this house a rustic character, with siding introduced at the gable ends and over the second floor portion in the rear.

Large overhangs protect the windows and create aesthetic shadows.

An interesting enclosure is shown in the artist's rendering. A kind of low, stone fence, it ties in that portion of the front property with the house itself and adds to the over-all charm.

G-69 STATISTICS

Design G-69 has a living room, dining room, kitchen-dinette, family room, two bedrooms, a bath, a lavatory, a mudroom-lavatory and a foyer on the first floor, with a habitable area of 1285 square feet. There are 694 additional square feet on the second floor, with three bedrooms, a bath and a large amount of storage space if finished as shown. There is a covered porch at the front and a two-car garage. The plans include a full basement under the main portion of the house.

Print Frames for Low Cost

To enhance and protect those large art prints that are so popular now, try making your own frames. Many artists do it.

You'll be surprised at the low cost when you make them of stock moldings, available from building materials dealers.

Numerous picture molding patterns are cut from western lumber, and other types offer possibilities to the imaginative homemaker.

The trickiest step is to miter the frame pieces accurately at a 45-degree angle.

Woodworking glue and small nails will hold the frames together.

Finishing is a matter of taste. If in doubt, try different ways on scrap lumber. A clear spray finish can be used on the print to protect the surface, making a glass unnecessary.

How to Build, Buy or Sell Your Home

Full study plan information on this architect-designed House of the Week is included in a 50-cent baby blueprint. With it in hand you can obtain a contractor's estimate.

You can order also, for $1, a booklet called YOUR HOME—How to Build, Buy or Sell it. Included in it are small reproductions of 18 of the most popular House of the Week issues. Send orders to House Plans, The Pontiac Press, P. O. Box 9, Pontiac, Michigan 48056

FLOOR PLANS: The main floor provides comfortable living quarters for any family which requires no more than two bedrooms.

The second floor can be finished as designed by architect Samuel Paul or changed to suit the needs of the occupants.

Publication Is Available to Public

For the first time a practical guide, written for the layman, has been published which will instruct the general public in the proper uses of living plants for screening materials.

"Living Screens for America" by the American Association of Nurserymen, Washington, D. C., is a one of a kind publication which will provide homeowners, businessmen and government officials (such as planning commission members) with an effective reference book of plant screening materials.

It divides the country into four major hardiness or climatic zones and recommends 25 different types of screening plant materials which have been proven best for a particular section of the country.

Developed by a panel of nursery business experts from across the United States, this booklet contains suggestions for low and high screening plant material which have proved best for this purpose.

The factors of suitability for use in screening projects, hardiness, rapidity of growth, availability, disease resistance, low maintenance and reasonable cost all were taken into account in writing this booklet.

RECOMMENDATIONS

At a glance, the reader can find recommendations, by hardiness zones, for plants which will grow into effective living screens.

He can also find the ultimate height and spread of the material recommended; whether it is evergreen or deciduous (loses foliage in winter); whether it should be trimmed or left informal; the method of planting; and the minimum and maximum sizes recommended for planting to obtain an effective sight screen in the period of time shown.

"Living Screens for America" is a public service booklet being made available at cost for 50 cents each, or in quantities of 25 or more at 25 cents each from the American Association of Nurserymen, 635 Southern Building, Washington, D. C. 20005.

The price quoted includes postage and handling.

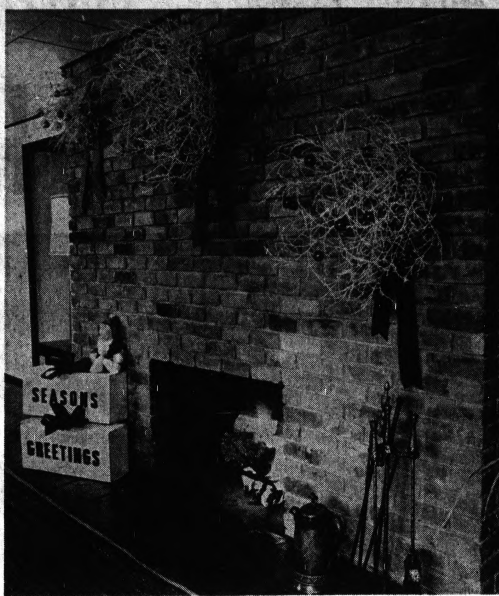

Idea Debuts in Flooring

The wood plank - and - beam system, creation of a streamlined floor system in many modern homes, is also making its debut as a combination floor structure and finished floor.

Widely spaced lumber beams are placed horizontally on edge over foundation walls or wood pilings. Wood decking is then laid flat over the beams. The deck provides a structural element and an attractive floor.

The system - an ideal medium for jointly utilizing the strength and beauty of pre-shrunk Southern Pine lumber - forms a highly resilient floor for walking comfort.

An apartment-dwelling family can substitute a pair of clay-potted poinsettias for the traditional tree.

TUMBLIN' TUMBLEWEEDS — From their native Arizona, the tumbleweeds have quit tumbling and found a home with the Joseph E. Fousers of Bloomfield Township. Sprayed white, they are affixed to the family room fireplace to spread the cheer of the season. Gay ornaments in green, blue and red with matching velvet ribbons add the final fillip.

CONVERSATION GROUPING — Unopened Christmas presents share honors with an arrangement of variegated holly and white candles in a silver bowl on the Joseph Fousers' coffee table. On the end table, serving the birch occasional chair made by Mr. Fouser, is a candle and grape arrangement.

Build Cabinet to Store TV

A television set is nice to have - but they've never contributed much to the decor of a room.

Most people would like to have their TV and get rid of it, too. But building it in isn't the only answer.

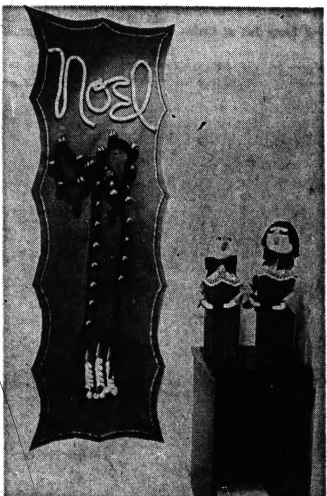

The better idea is to mount the set on a roll-around stand, with good ball casters, then build a cabinet to accommodate it.

This lets you hide it away during the day, but pull it out easily and position it anywhere in the room - or in the house - for viewing.

Be sure the cabinet is high, deep and wide enough for the set, and design it with double doors to facilitate moving the TV in and out.

Design-wise, the cabinet can be incorporated into a storage unit for folding tables and chairs, books, and what-have-you.

Tailored in a prestige western softwood lumber, the storage unit would be a handsome addition to any room.

PHONE CORNER — Every corner of the Joseph Fousers is bright with seasons greetings. Red lacquered chair boys open their felt mouths in song near a decorated red felt backdrop. The sleighbell bow is over 100 years old.

Transform Bags Into Plastic Rug

Save all those wonderful plastic vegetable bags that come your way and crochet them into beautiful long-wearing, easy-to-clean rugs for the porch, kitchen, and bath.

Cut the bags into strips and crochet them together the way you would do for a rag rug.

Ordinary Funnel Handy for String

Fasten an ordinary tin funnel to the side of the kitchen cabinet.

Then place a ball of twine in top and draw the string through the small end of the funnel.

This eliminates having to hunt for string. It keeps it handy and always ready for use.

If you are prone to chip dishes, place pieces of rubber tubing around the ends of your sink faucets.

'OEO Trips Shunned Commercial Flights'

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 10,000 Job Corpsmen left their centers this week for 10-day Christmas vacations at home, and 9,000 made the trip at government expense.

However, officials said none of the antipoverty program youngsters traveled by commercial airline.

Last year, a furor was raised when it was reported Job Corpsmen were flying home at government expense via commercial airlines.

Buses and trains were used primarily this year, officials said, and in cases where it was feasible, chartered planes were used.

Regulations permit one home leave each for the approximately 29,000 youngsters in the Corps, with the government paying transportation costs for youngsters who have served at least six months.

The remainder of the youngsters who left their centers this week were those who had not served six months but who could show they had the round-trip fare or tickets to their home.

At the Blue Jay Conservation Center near Warren, Pa., townspeople held a drive to raise $2,100 to pay the travel expenses for 30 youngsters who were not eligible to receive government funds and who didn't have the money, the spokesman said.

Last year, 96 per cent of the some 13,000 vacationers returned to their centers after the "I hope and expect that this year it will be 100 per cent," said acting Job Corps director W. P. Kelly in an open letter published in the program's official newspaper, "The Corpsman."

Cheyz Wins Bribery Case

White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz yesterday was acquitted of bribery charges brought against him by the Oakland County grand jury.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer dismissed the case on the motion of Cheyz' attorney, Joseph Louisell of Detroit.

In ruling, Beer said that no "competent evidence" had been presented to the jury to support the charges, conspiracy to bribe and bribery.

The jury had been hearing the case since Dec. 1.

'A MERRY CHRISTMAS'

"It's really going to be a merry Christmas," Cheyz told well-wishers in the corridor outside the courtroom.

Cheyz was charged last April by grand juror Philip Pratt with a conspiracy whereby he would use his influence to have a parcel of property rezoned in return for money.

Named as a coconspirator, but not charged because he was granted immunity by the grand jury, was Richard Hanson, a technical writer with Johnson and Anderson, Inc., a Waterford Township consulting engineering firm.

Allegedly the 39-year-old Cheyz and Hanson made a deal for Hanson to serve as a public relations man for Mrs. Estella Dawson in promoting the development of an apartment project she planned to build on a 10-acre site she owns in the township.

During the trial, Hanson testified that he once told Cheyz that if he got the job and the $3,000 he would charge he would give Cheyz $1,000 for political campaign expenses.

According to testimony, Cheyz never did receive any money nor was the property in question ever rezoned to permit the apartments.

Indians Getting Gifts Without Reservation

BAY MILLS (AP) — They're calling off the cavalry at the Bay Mills Indian Reservation.

"We've been completely overwhelmed with gifts," said Fr. Joseph Lawless, pastor of St. Catherine's Roman Catholic Mission Church.

"We have more than we can use right now."

Fr. Lawless asked that people stop sending gifts to the Indians at the Reservation.

A gift-giving cavalry of sorts came to the rescue of the Indians' Christmas celebration after some 2,000 pounds of toys, food clothing and other Christmas gifts donated to the tribe burned Wednesday night.

The church and mission buildings were also destroyed in the blaze.

Since then some 7,000 pounds of gifts have come from Minneapolis after radio station WCCO ran a story on the Indians' plight.

Fr. Lawless said three or more airplanes are expected. One arrived Friday with food and clothing collected by radio station WTRU in Muskegon.

Another plane—this one from Selfridge Air Force Base in Mount Clemens was scheduled to arrive today.

More gifts have been promised from Buffalo, N.Y.; Tip-top, Ind.; West Liberty, Ohio; Neenah, Wis.; Richland, Newberry and Marquette, Mich.

Some $2,200 has been donated to renovate the Bay Mills community building, which Fr. Lawless will use until a new church can be built.

One individual who preferred to remain anonymous sent a truck full of 30 turkeys, three bushels of potatoes, one bushel of apples, one bushel of oranges, 40 pounds of peanuts, 18 pounds of candy and 40 pounds of cranberries.

U.S. May Need More Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Agriculture specialist says the United States may now have to increase its 1967 wheat production in the wake of major grain shipments announced for India and Pakistan.

Sen. Jack R. Miller, R-Iowa, spoke yesterday at almost the same time the government was announcing it will send 500,000 tons of grain to Pakistan. A day earlier, India was promised 900,000 tons.

Thursday the Agriculture Department released figures showing winter wheat plantings up 26 per cent from last year. They pointed to a record wheat crop in 1967.

But Miller said at a news conference that U.S. wheat production probably will have to be further increased to offset the additional shipments.

Miller, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, returned recently from a congressional investigation of the food situation in hunger-plagued India.

He said the U.S. delay in announcing its January-February shipments to India probably helped get other nations to contribute grain.

Message of Eternal Peace Travels a Troubled World

By The Associated Press
Christians put away the cares of a quarrelsome world today and gathered for joyful celebrations of the message of eternal peace proclaimed in Bethlehem 1,966 years ago.

Millions in many nations wrapped the last gifts, put the final trimmings on the tree and planned to spend Christmas Eve with their families or at mid-night religious services.

World leaders called for peace and there was a kind of peace in Vietnam, where both sides put down their guns in the first hours of an uneasy two-day Christmas truce.

Pope Paul VI hoped for a "miracle of good will" to end the war. Prime Minister Lester Pearson of Canada said each person could contribute to peace "through the exercise of love and understanding."

Millions were traveling to reach relatives and friends in time for the holiday.

BIG SNOWSTORM
In the United States, airlines and railroads were crowded and the crippling effects of the winter's first big snowstorm were felt from Oklahoma to the East Coast just as the Christmas rush hit the highways.

For Americans unable to travel, there was the telephone. The New York Telephone Co. said the nationwide Bell System expected 6.6 million long distance holiday calls.

Thousands of pilgrims, many of them Arab Christians who may visit relatives in Jordan only at this time of year, crossed the armistice line from Israel to pray in the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem and sing carols in a nearby field where tradition says angels appeared to shepherds at the first Christmas.

Atop the massive, 4th-century church was a neon sign: "Merry Christmas."

In West Berlin, hundreds of thousands faced a Christmas without visiting relatives in East Berlin for the first time since 1962.

The West Berlin government refused East Germany the recognition as a state it demanded in return for passes through the Berlin wall.

"The Communists have closed the narrow gate to humanness," Mayor Heinrich Albertz said.

President Johnson was to fly to San Antonio, Tex., to greet sick and wounded servicemen flown back from Vietnam, then join other Johnsons at the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City to open gifts Christmas Eve.

For some, Christmas Eve brought special joy. In Miami, Cuban exile children sang "Silent Night" at the airport and gave gifts to children arriving on the 539th airlift flight of refugees from Cuba.

Thirty-year-old Taburina Lima, looking forward to a reunion with relatives in Bartow, Fla., sobbed, "This is going to be the best Christmas in my life."

Hope Has Them 'Buzzing'

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the sixth in a 12-part series.)

NAKHON PHANOM (SPECIAL)—I almost became a war casualty during my monologue this morning . . .

It happened at U-Dorn, the base where we did our first show of the day. A pair of jet fighters zoomed so low over our stage that I now have an extra part in my hair . . . a few minutes later, a small plane circled the show site, and a voice on a bull horn yelled down: "Hey Bob—that was your punishment for not being able to wait till we get back from our mission to the north . . ." The boys had been scrambled just as we were getting ready to go on stage, and our schedule didn't allow us to postpone our departure . . .

The fliers in the planes were bound for what is perhaps the most important operation of the war. It is happening in this part of Southeast Asia, every day of the week when our boys are flying over North Vietnam.

Supervisors' Unit Backs Annexation

Despite recorded objections of a majority of property owners in a 418-acre Holly Township area proposed for annexation to the village, the move was recommended yesterday by a committee.
