U.S. to Release Yalta Records

Secret Wartime Files on F.D.R.'s Meetings to Be Made Public

WASHINGTON (U) — The long-awaited official records of World War II meetings between President Roosevelt and other heads of state are slated to be made public, starting with the famed Yalta Conference of February 1945.

The State Department said the Yalta papers will be published probably in December and will be followed over the next 18 months by the hitherto-secret accounts of meetings at Potsdam, Tehran, Casablanca, Quebec and other places.

The conferences involving Roosevelt, Soviet Premier Stalin, British Prime Minister Churchill and other allied leaders produced major decisions on military strategy and the shaping of a postwar world. While the main results of the meetings have long since become known, the conference documents have been kept in strict secrecy.

Officials said the Yalta papers include notes and records kept by Alger Hiss, the former State Department official now serving a prison term for falsely swearing he never passed secret documents to a pre-war Communist spy ring.

Many Republicans have used the Hiss case and the wartime conference decisions as weapons of attack against the Roosevelt-Truman Administrations, and original State Department plans were to put out the Yalta papers this month. That would have opened them ahead of the November elections.

More Rain in Sight for Weekend Here

It's another damp weekend for Pontiac residents, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

A forecast for cooler and cloudy weather tonight and Saturday includes possible rain late Saturday. Temperatures are expected to go down Sunday, followed by a warmer trend Tuesday and Wednesday. Rain is a probability again Wednesday.

The low for tonight will be 48 to 52, with a high Saturday of 62-65.

Downtown temperatures yesterday ranged from 62 to 72 with .49 of an inch of rain. At 8 o'clock this morning the mercury stood at 64 degrees and remained almost constant throughout the day. By 1 p.m. the temperature was 65.

Reds Give U.N. New Proposals for Disarming

Other Nations Carefully Study Program Offered by Vishinsky

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — Russia asked the U. N. Assembly today to consider the new Soviet proposals for reducing global armed power, prohibiting nuclear weapons and restricting the use of atomic materials to peaceful purposes.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky outlined his disarmament "package" in a 90-minute address to the Assembly late yesterday. He then asked for formal inclusion of the proposals in the Assembly's current agenda.

U. N. diplomats conceded cautiously that the Russian proposals give reason to renew hope for breaking the eight-year deadlock on disarmament and atomic controls.

However, those from non-Communist lands said without exception that every provision offered by Vishinsky requires careful study by their governments at home.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. declared that Vishinsky's offer "seems to denote something of a change" in the Soviet attitude on disarmament and promised the U. S. would consider the proposals "objectively."

Lodge continued: "At any rate, Mr. Vishinsky's proposal appears to offer more hope than the Soviet attitude expressed by Mr. (Jacob) Malik in London just this past summer when he rejected out of hand the British-French memorandum."

"Of course, the decisive test is how far the Soviet Union has really moved from its previous rigid position on disarmament. We shall get the answer to this (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

School Planner Hired by Board

Columbia Man Named Administrative Aide to Superintendent

Dr. Otto Hufzinger, of Columbia University Teachers' College, has been named administrative assistant to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools. The appointment was made by the Board of Education at a special meeting last night.

He will work with the school administrative staff in developing a perpetual internal study program, to aid in future educational planning.

Dr. Hufzinger holds a degree in electrical engineering from Iowa State College and a bachelor's degree in education from the University of Dayton. His master's work was taken at Miami University and his doctorate was obtained from Columbia.

Dr. Whitmer said Dr. Hufzinger's specialty has been in school building planning.

"In view of the fact we are beginning a long-range building program in Pontiac based on our present and future needs, it will be a valuable asset for us to have a man of Dr. Hufzinger's background to coordinate these areas," Dr. Whitmer said.

Monroe Factory Fire Imperils 200 Workers

MONROE (INS) — An explosion and fire endangered 200 workers in the River Raisin Paper Co. plant in Monroe last night and caused $20,000 damage. No one was injured.

Gas which had formed in a coal bunker was blamed for the explosion. All of the city's fire-fighting equipment was sent to the blaze.

Top War Bond Salesman, Sammy Hyams, Dies at 82

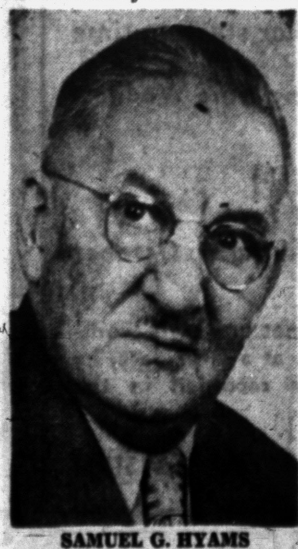

Samuel G. Hyams, 82, widely known to Pontiac and Oakland County residents for his outstanding work as war and defense bond salesman, died last night at Bloomfield Hospital, after an illness of about a year and a half.

A native of London, England, Mr. Hyams spent many years as a salesman in Canada and this country, handling drug store lines. He came to Pontiac in 1934 when Simms Department Store opened here and until his retirement a few years ago was manager of the store's drug department.

He was best known for his untiring efforts to sell war bonds and later defense bonds. He was twice honored by the government and was credited with having personally sold $50,000,000 worth of government bonds.

At an 80th birthday party given for him by Pontiac's B'nai B'rith lodge in 1952 he was presented with a U. S. Treasury Dept. citation by Delmar C. Cote, Michigan bond sales director. The citation read: "For his outstanding contribution to the sale of U. S. Government bonds."

Series Moves to Cleveland; Garcia, Gomez on Mound

CLEVELAND (U) — The 1954 World Series of baseball shifted from New York to Cleveland today, with the New York Giants two up on Cleveland, and passing showers threatened to delay the game.

However the forecasters at the Weather Bureau said that rain if it comes would not prevent the game but fast moving sprinkles might delay it.

2 Lads Rescued in Flash Flood at Murphy Park

Three young Pontiac boys nursed their bruised dignities today and promised "never again" after two of them almost drowned in Murphy Park Thursday.

It all started yesterday afternoon when James Newsam, 11, of 689 Lookout Dr. and Gary Walls, 11, of 638 Rosewood Dr. decided to play hockey from Longfellow school and spend the day at the park.

James' brother, Jerry, 5, tagged along despite the older boys' protests.

The trio came upon a shallow creek and decided to take a post-summer swim. They took off all their clothes and put them near a drainage culvert on the bank.

The rains came and water from the culvert washed the boys' clothes out into the middle of the creek.

Gary went back on the bank and the two older boys tried to retrieve their clothing.

But the water kept getting higher and finally Gary was sent to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Army Hunts Mule for Saturday's Game

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (U) — The Army sent advance parties into Ann Arbor today. But their motive was embarrassing.

The Army, which faces Michigan on the football field tomorrow, has a common mule for its mascot. An officer was sent from headquarters at West Point. His objective: to rent a mule for the game.

The regular mascot, as usual in away games, couldn't make the traveling team.

Population Growth Calls for County Road Expansion

(Editor's note: Recently the Press cited a few of the street and highway needs of Pontiac and Oakland County, and pointed out that these measures will be needed to provide for the driving needs of this area's rapidly growing population. Following is the first in a series of articles presenting these needs in greater detail.)

By BURDETT C. STODDARD
A tremendous growth is forecast for Oakland County and surrounding areas which, experts warn, must be accompanied by an equally big road building and improvement program.

In fact, the program must move at double time, they say, to overcome a period of little or no highway construction which began with the World War II defense effort and carried through the Korean War.

T. Ledyard Blakeman, executive director of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, states, "All of the great metropolitan centers of the country, including the Detroit region, are suffering from traffic congestion as well as many other economic and social ills due to lack of planning."

"If we continue to develop without any logical plan to accommodate this large increase in population, these conditions will cripple us."

"Increased population provides a greater market for industry and business in the area and, therefore, can be a very good thing."

But without planning and development of facilities, such as roads to handle the accompanying increase in number of vehicles, "It can also be a very bad thing."

Only Two Days Left for Vote Registration

If other area communities follow Oak Park's example, a record number of Oakland County citizens will be registered to vote in the Nov. 2 election, according to County Clerk Lynn D. Allen.

Some 900 persons have registered in the southern-Oakland city since the Aug. 2 primary, Allen explained.

He reminded residents that Monday is the last day registrations will be accepted at clerk's offices in all county governmental units.

Pontiac City Clerk Ada R. Evans has announced that her office will remain open until 6 p.m. today, noon Saturday and 8 p.m. on Monday for last minute registrants.

Swift Granting of Independence Seems Certain

Foreign Ministers and Adenauer Confer About Bonn Sovereignty

LONDON (U) — The western Big Three foreign ministers met with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today to draw up a general agreement—perhaps by nightfall—to end the nine-year-old occupation of Western Germany.

A quick grant of political independence to the 78-year-old Adenauer's Bonn government appeared virtually certain as the nine-nation conference on freeing and rearming West Germany neared its end.

The final success of the complicated negotiations designed to enlist West German troops in a defense alliance against communism seemed assured after delegates agreed in principle yesterday on a compromise plan for controlled German rearmament.

Delegates predicted the conference would end successfully tomorrow.

The delegates will leave behind groups of experts to work out details of the program and to draft the necessary treaties. These would be signed later and submitted to the various parliaments for ratification.

Under the plan, West Germany and Italy will be admitted into an enlarged Brussels Alliance, formed in 1948 by Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. At the same time, West Germany also would be taken into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as its 15th member.

Today's meeting on German sovereignty brought together Adenauer, U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

Dulles and Eden were especially anxious to get the sovereignty program underway immediately so as to bolster Adenauer's sagging political stock at home.

The four ministers had before them recommendations prepared by their committee of experts as a guide for framing a grant of sovereignty.

Informants said Dulles and Mendes-France appeared ready to go along with a proposal by Eden for an immediate Big Three Declaration of intent to wind up the occupation as soon as the control system is prepared.

Meantime, the Allies would restore without delay additional political and economic rights to the Germans, in return for guarantees from Adenauer's government.

Gene Alleman, Wife Hurt in Auto Mishap

LANSING (U) — The condition of Gene Alleman, secretary-manager of the Michigan Press Association, was reported "fairly good" this morning at the Lansing Edward W. Sparrow Hospital.

Alleman and his wife, Velora, were injured in a two-car accident near Lansing Wednesday. His wife, the most seriously hurt of the two, was reported "a little better" this morning.

ning group's forecast of what population in this area will be in 1960. After extensive studies they have set Oakland County's population in six years at a low of 536,600 and a high of 612,000.

Macomb's 1960 totals are estimated at a minimum of 254,200 and maximum of 306,200, with Wayne's low and high forecast at 2,612,000 and 2,797,800.

The estimated low for the whole region in 1960 is 3,474,000 and the high, 3,786,000.

"Expanded population must be planned for if the best and most efficient physical and social results are to be realized," Blakeman states.

"The government and civic officials of this region and the people they represent . . . have opportunities to influence the growth of this area—upward or downward. Little advance will take place unless it is planned, realistically and with bold foresight. Half measures won't pay off!"

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Withholds OK on Parking Lot Assessments

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — Meeting in committee session last night, the city commission was not in entire agreement on the spread of assessment for a parking lot in the block bounded by Pierce, Merrill, Woodward and Brown, City Manager Donald C. Egbert said today.

City Assessor Elmer Haack presented his intricate assessment formula, but the lawmakers asked for still further studies.

Egbert said another public hearing will be held in the next 30-45 days, which will include discussion of a larger area than set up in the original assessment district.

"The commission is anxious that the assessment be spread as fairly and equitably as possible," he said. An agent to act for the city in all property acquisitions will be named at Monday's commission meeting, he added.

"Considerable study of property values will be made by a competent appraiser. It is the policy of the city commission not to secure property at anything below the present cash market value," Egbert continued.

He emphasized that "The commission desires to acquire all necessary property without condemnation proceedings, but condemnation would not preclude our negotiations."

As proposed, the city and benefiting property owners would share equally in any assessment for the 250,000 lot.

A 1954 operating loss of over $3,000 at Springdale Park didn't dim the enthusiasm of commissioners at this week's City Commission meeting. A greater deficit than this had been anticipated, since this is the park's first year of operating for Birmingham residents only.

In a lengthy discussion of future improvements and taking first things first, the lawmakers approved the construction of storm sewer facilities for the park at a cost of $6,400.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert was also asked to prepare a report listing in order the improvements which should come next. These include a new clubhouse, improved watering system for the golf course, and more playground equipment.

"Not only are we enthused," Egbert said, "but there is an apparent interest on the part of citizens, anxious for further improvements. These improvements will come if there is enough interest aroused in the city."

With reference to the fact that the city-owned club, complete with a nine-hole golf course, is now restricted to the local citizenry, Egbert said, "This is the only golf club we know of being operated in that manner. The facilities are for the use of our citizens, and through their continued support improvements can be simply accomplished."

The public has been invited to attend a meeting at 8 tonight at the Congregational Church, when Dr. Edward Clark Riggs, young Congregational Christian missionary, will relate his experiences while a missionary in India.

Riggs went to China in 1946, following his World War II Army service, and remained there until forced out by the Communists in 1953.

He then took his wife Frances, a nurse, to India where he has since worked in a hospital, as well as doing rural public health work. He is now home on furlough.

Tomorrow is one of three Saturday shooting dates scheduled this month for Birmingham Gun Club members at their clubhouse on Richardson, Road, Commerce Township.

Melton street and 14 Mile road will be the scene of much activity this weekend, when the first annual fall festival of St. Columban Church is staged.

The fun will start at 2 p.m. tomorrow and at 1 p.m. on Sunday. An outdoor square dance Saturday night and two performances by Milky, the TV clown, on Sunday, will be two of the many highlights.

Games and rides will keep youngsters busy. Adults will find interesting games and booths. Some lucky bidder also will carry home a package which was obtained from Mamie Eisenhower.

Chairman of the affair is Joseph Freeh, Father Thomas M. Kenny, pastor, has extended an invitation to all to join in the festivities.

In response to requests from the church and community, Louis G. Crooks, chairman of the Board of Deacons of First Baptist Church, has announced that Sunday evening services will be resumed this Sunday at 7:30.

The Rev. Emil Kontz, pastor, and the Rev. F. Robert Willie, new minister of Christian Education, will share in the preaching, with sermons built around the theme, "The Good News for Our Times."

The informal meetings will include hymn-singing and vocal and instrumental music.

Air Force Reservist Col. John Richardson of 287 Suttfield, Reserve Officers Association vice president for Air Force Affairs, is taking part in a conference in Washington Oct. 9 on current U.S. security problems conducted by the National Executive Committee of the Reserve Officers Assn.

Representatives of the Defense and State Departments along with those of the office of Defense Mobilization will take part.

Mr. Navin, who lived at 452 Southfield Rd., was also a director of the Michigan Seamless Tube Co. in South Lyon.

Survivors include his wife, Blanche; one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Taylor of Birmingham; two sons, Robert E., a Birmingham city commissioner, and Thomas R. Jr. of Wellesley, Mass.; two sisters and four brothers, all of Canada; and seven grandchildren.

call the park attendant to help get the boys out.

The attendant was unable to help and he summoned three Naval reservists from the armory nearby. They walked across a log and plucked the two youngsters from the swirling water.

The naval rescue men, Kenneth Camden, 3rd Class Electrician's Mate; Jack Collins, yeoman 1st class; and C. E. Delo, chief Bosun's mate, supplied the boys with blankets they had brought with them.

When police arrived on the scene 5-year-old Jerry said: "Are we going to jail now, officer?"

Then he looked at his brother and Gary and said, "Aren't you glad I came with you now?"

The three boys, fearing a worst fate when confronted by their parents, were taken to the Newsom home where Gary was given some of Jimmy's clothes and sent home.

Jerry and Jimmy, last night were nursing their bruised dignity after they were sent to bed early.

Gary, who kept the incident from his parents who were both working late yesterday, later suffered a similar fate when his father, Vallie E. learned of the youngster's post-summer swim.

It will be housed in the new West side fire station when the building is completed.

Courthouse Title May Block Sale

Norman Buckner Says Building on Present Site May Be Best

Norman Buckner, Pontiac businessman, in commenting on proposals to build a new courthouse for Oakland County, urges that county officials investigate carefully whether or not the present site can be sold before committing the county to a new building on any other site.

Buckner's statement to the Press follows: Before deciding to erect a new court house elsewhere, it seems to me the Board of Supervisors should make certain that the present valuable site could be sold.

Two attorneys have expressed the opinion that because of a clause in the deed under which Oakland County acquired the property, it would revert to the previous owners or their heirs if not used for court house purposes.

No private party would buy the property under those conditions. Perhaps it would be best to wreck the present structure and replace with a modern 12 to 20 story court house and office building, which would be a credit to the entire county, as well as to this city.

Reds Tell New Plan for Disarmament quoting when Mr. Vishinsky's proposal is studied and discussed in detail.

"Meantime, I wish to emphasize that the United States will consider this proposal objectively and with the sincere hope that it will prove to be a real step toward a comprehensive, effective and workable disarmament."

Before dealing with the atomic proposal, Vishinsky blasted the Western powers for their policies of rearming Western Germany and warned that this would bring war and the "German fire and sword" over Europe.

Commenting on this part of Vishinsky's speech and his charges that the U. S. was plotting a "massive retaliation" atomic war against Russia, Lodge said:

"The bulk of the Vishinsky speech was a violent attack, filled with wild inaccuracies, on the United States in an effort to smear us as plotters of a preventive war."

"It was as reckless as Secretary Dulles' speech (to the Assembly last week) was moderate. The world knows President Eisenhower and how utterly he is opposed to a preventive war. The world will therefore repudiate and deplore this particularly unsavory bit of Soviet mud-slinging."

The international treaty, in Vishinsky's plan, would be drafted by the U. N. Disarmament Commission and approved by the Security Council—which has a veto.

Clues Are Scarce in $5,000 Robbery

A red 1949 convertible has been definitely identified as the getaway car used by three armed bandits who Wednesday night robbed a White Lake Township farmer of about $5,000, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Deputy Ted Gunn, assigned to the case with Dets. David Brann and Mahlon France, said today that there are few clues in the hold-up of Ray Shotwell, 1424 Porter Rd., who was forced at gunpoint to give up his life savings.

The gunmen entered Shotwell's home shortly after a neighbor, A. O. Brisobis of 2254 Porter Rd., came to pay Shotwell a feed bill. Bandits took about $12 from Brisobis and then tied both men with clothesline.

Gunn said today that Shotwell revealed the hiding place for his savings, in the stove after the gunmen threatened to burn his feet if he failed to talk.

Paris Claims 2 Leaked Secrets

Highly Placed Officials Are Accused in Stormy 'Dides Affair'

PARIS (INS) — France's interior minister announced today that two highly placed government officials have admitted responsibility for leakage of information from the French National Defense Committee's top-secret meetings.

Interior Minister Francois Mitterand identified the two officials as Rene Turpin, chief of the cabinet of the secretary-general of the National Defense Ministry, and Roger Labrusse, a department chief in the same agency.

He said in a communique that they would be handed over to military investigators.

The communique was issued after night-long consultations by government officials on the controversial "Dides affair."

But the case of Jean Dides, the Communist-fighting police commissioner who was accused of unauthorized possession of defense documents, was expected to assume secondary importance after today's rapid-fire developments.

Observers believed the arrest of Dides was not contemplated.

The original "Dides affair" centered on leaks of information from the supposedly secret meetings of the National Defense Committee.

Dides, regarded as a top expert on communism, claimed this information was getting into the hands of the French Communist Party within a short time after the meetings.

The heated controversy began when he was suspended from his post with the official explanation that he had insisted on continuing his anti-Red investigations after being transferred to another assignment.

To this accusation was added the charge that he had been found in possession of defense documents which he was not authorized to have.

The controversy swirled around Dides and around the information leaks. French officials went so far as to have experts carefully examine the room in which the defense committee meets in a search for hidden microphones.

Despite these precautions, it was reported that the leaks continued.

Rinses Conceal Gray Streaks That Dull Hair

The brunette who, at 40, is just starting to turn gray manages to look even more attractive with a few silver streaks in her hair. But, if your hair is an in-between shade of brown, gray streaks only seem to add dullness. And it is better to have your hair either brown or gray, but not streaked with dull, uneven color.

This doesn't mean you must go to the expense and trouble of a professional dye job.

Another drawback of dying your hair is the fact that once your hair is dyed, the color is permanent for a time, even if you aren't satisfied with the results.

Some women solve this problem by giving themselves a temporary rinse after each shampoo.

They may choose a shade slightly lighter or darker than their own hair color. Or, they may use their own shade to conceal yellowish gray streaks.

They can try different shades of rinses with confidence when a manufacturer claims it is a safe, temporary vegetable coloring that washes in quickly and washes out easily.

Frequent brushings after you rinse your hair will intensify its color and sheen, and hold it until your next shampoo.

Glass Should Be Clean, Not Seen

A store in Longview, Texas, keeps its show windows so immaculately clean that a customer once walked out — right through the plate glass. She wasn't hurt, but the glass was.

Now this is not to suggest that you encourage guests to walk through your windows — but it is wise to keep your windows so clean that people will scarcely realize there is any glass used at all.

When washing windows, it's best to work in one direction — both when you apply the soapsuds and when you rinse them off. Use lint-free cloths, sponges, chamois, or rubber wipers and wash the cross-bars at the same time. Remember: clean, bright windows chase away gloom and make any room seem larger.

Here's fashion on the cuff. There's a tie chain and belt buckle too, all in the new golden raven twin initial design. Black initials contrast smartly with a golden background.

Soap Coated Rope Practical in Home

For practical use around the house, try a soap coating on stubborn window ropes and pulleys to make them slide up and down easier.

Or you can keep the hinges, locks, and gates around your home quiet by "greasing" them with soap. You will also find that irksome keys turn more smoothly in their locks if rubbed with soap.

Two Flavors Combine in Party Treat

Musician Creates Keyboard Cake in Zigzag Pattern

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

It's completely appropriate for a piano teacher to give us a recipe for Keyboard Chocolate Cake. Mrs. Lester Snell, today's contributor, says she is always asked to bring this specialty of hers to church suppers and cooperative parties.

Mrs. Snell leads a contented active life; she thoroughly enjoys homemaking, especially cooking and baking. On the other hand she participates in a number of club activities, mainly those of musical interest; she is a past president of the Pontiac Music Guild and a member of Tuesday Musicals. Other activities are the Auburn Heights Needlework Guild, the Toastmistress Club and a church group.

CHOCOLATE KEYBOARD CAKE

Mrs. Lester Snell

2½ cups sifted cake flour
 1½ teaspoons baking powder
 ½ teaspoon soda
 1 teaspoon salt
 2½ cup sugar
 ¼ cup shortening
 1 cup buttermilk or sour milk
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 3 eggs unbeaten
 1 square unsweetened chocolate
 2 tablespoons hot water
 ¼ teaspoon soda
 1 tablespoon sugar

Melt chocolate, add hot water, the ¼ teaspoon soda and the tablespoon of sugar. Let stand in a bowl while you mix the rest of the cake.

Sift shortening enough to soften it. Sift in the dry ingredients. Add milk and vanilla and mix until all the flour is dampened. Beat at low speed on the mixer for 2 minutes. Add the eggs, beat 1 more minute at low speed.

To ¼ of this batter add the chocolate mixture, stirring only enough to blend well. Alternate with white batter, putting large spoonfuls into greased layer cake pans. When all the batter has been used, cut through it with a knife in a wide zigzag. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Cool and frost with your favorite chocolate frosting. Add a few drops of peppermint to this frosting if desired.

September Dip in Farm Prices Picked to Influence Election

WASHINGTON (INS)—An Agriculture Department report disclosing that farm prices declined in mid-September was expected today to add fuel to election campaigning in the farm belt, particularly in the Midwest.

Political experts said that while the decline may help Democrats running for Congress, much will depend on the Department's October price report which will be issued just five days before the November elections.

And these sources said many things, including government purchases of farm products, may intervene to the next two weeks to change the price picture to favor Republicans defending the administration's farm program.

In its latest report, the Department said that declining hog, poultry and vegetable prices combined to cause an overall two per cent drop in prices received by farmers, despite higher prices for milk, apples, cotton, cattle, tobacco and wheat.

As a result of the reduction, farm prices dropped to 88 per cent of parity which wiped out a one point gain in August and brought the index back to the levels of last June and July, the lowest since 1941. Parity is the formula used to determine the fair return a farmer should receive for his products in relation to the things he buys.

While farmers were receiving less for their products in mid-September than a month earlier, the department noted that the cost of things they buy also dropped one per cent, due mainly to falling food prices.

The decline in farm prices to 88 per cent of parity compares with the estimate of 93 per cent a year ago and the all-time high of 123 per cent registered in October, 1946.

The index of prices received by farmers dropped five points, or two per cent, from the 251 per cent of the 1910-14 base in August to 246 per cent in mid-September.

This decline was caused mainly by a three per cent drop in the meat price index, attributed to falling hog prices, a 24 point decline in the vegetable price index and a 16 point drop in poultry prices.

Regarding the one per cent drop in farm living costs, the Department noted that this was the first such decline since September, 1953 and was caused by a rather sharp downturn in food prices.

Grain Trading Rises in Volume

CHICAGO (AP)—Trading volume in grains expanded on the Board of Trade today but the market wasn't able to make much progress.

Soybeans ran into quite a bit of profit-taking after advancing from those who expected prices to recede on large cash bean arrivals Monday.

Wheat made small upward progress but feed grains lagged.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to 1/4 higher, December $2.16 1/4, corn 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, December $1.51, oats unchanged to 1/4 lower, December 77 1/2; rye 1/4 to 1 cent higher, December $1.43 1/4; soybeans 1 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, November $2.68 1/4, and hard 10 cents lower to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher, October $1.75.
