Revise Curriculums, Exec Urges Schools

A revision of high school curriculums to meet the vocational needs of the 7 out of 10 students who do not go on to college was urged last night by a Burroughs sales executive.

Paul H. McNamara, Detroit district sales manager for Burroughs Corp., spoke at the annual banquet of the Pontiac Board of Realtors in the Elks Temple.

He called for a concerted effort to gear educational programs to the vocational needs of the potential unemployed and unemployables of tomorrow.

"We should review our high school curriculums to prepare these students for the world they will have to live in upon graduation."

McNamara said: "They don't need the college preparatory curriculum because it doesn't give them a marketable skill . . ."

The annual banquet featured the installation of the board of realtors' slate of 1964 officers.

NEW PRESIDENT

Philip E. Rowston of 60 Cherokee succeeded Robert C. Irwin as president.

Irwin was also honored as "Realtor of the Year, 1963." He was presented with a plaque. A second plaque thanked him for his service as president.

Other 1964 officers are Thomas Bateman, vice president; Lewis Hileman, secretary; and Kenneth G. Hempstead, treasurer.

An estimated 400 persons attended the banquet. Circuit Judge William J. Beer presided as master of ceremonies.

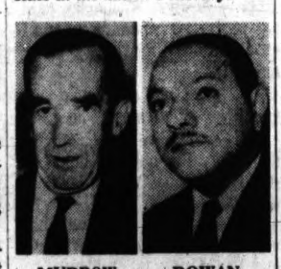
Negro to Head U.S. Agency

Rowan Replacement for Edward Murrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward R. Murrow, recuperating from surgery for lung cancer, has resigned as director of the U.S. Information Agency and President Johnson yesterday named Carl T. Rowan, ambassador to Finland, to replace him.

Rowan, 38, once a deputy assistant secretary of state, will rank with Robert C. Weaver as the two highest Negro officials in the nation's history.



MURROW ROWAN

Weaver is the administrator of the Housing and Home Financing Agency.

Neither man has Cabinet rank, but White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said that Rowan would be the first Negro to sit in the National Security Council.

Murrow, facing a long convalescence, wrote the President Dec. 19 that it was his duty to step down.

"As you know," he said, "I was separated from a cancerous lung in early October.

"The doctors assure me the operation was successful and that recovery to date has been normal.

"However, it will be several months before I can resume full-time duty."

It's Very Plain Weather Vane Points to Rain

Scattered showers are expected to drop in on the Pontiac area by morning. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts a low of 36 tonight and a high of 40 tomorrow.

For the next five days, temperatures will average about four degrees above the normal high of 33 and normal low of 20.

Thirty-two was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. By 2 p.m., the recording was 44.

Kennedy Hits Final Round of Asia Talks

Now in Indonesia; Says Important News Coming in 24 Hours

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert A. Kennedy arrived in Jakarta today for a final round of talks on Malaysia with Indonesian President Sukarno, arch enemy of the new federation.

Kennedy flew from the Malaysian capital of Kuala Lumpur after telling newsmen "an important announcement can be expected within the next 24 hours."

He said Malaysian leaders "are making every effort to find a peaceful solution" to their dispute with the Philippines and Indonesia.

The attorney general hopes to set up a summit conference between the three main disputants — Sukarno, Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman and President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines.

The dispute centers on the federation formed last September by Malaya, Singapore and the British Borneo territories of Sabah — British North Borneo — and Sarawak.

NOT INSISTING

Rahman disclosed after his talks with Kennedy that he no longer insisted that Indonesia and the Philippines recognize Malaysia as a condition for a summit meeting.

But he stuck to his demand for a truce in the undeclared guerrilla war along the Malaysia-Indonesia border in Borneo.

Kennedy told newsmen that his talks with Sukarno in Tokyo last week had been most helpful and he looked forward to resuming them.

"Out of these efforts and President Sukarno's desire for peace in the area, I am hopeful there will be a conference of the three countries caught up in the Malaysia crisis," Kennedy said.

Jakarta's airport was swarming with security guards when the attorney general and his party arrived in their jet. Western diplomats were struck by the red carpet treatment accorded the attorney general.

A guard of honor and a military band greeted Kennedy and he was welcomed by Foreign Minister Subandrio and Army Minister Achmad Jani. U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones also was on hand.

Near the airport someone had scrawled "Go Home Kennedy" on a wall. No American flags could be seen.

City to Crack Down on Trash Violators

The city is going to clamp down on trash and garbage containers, City Manager Robert A. Carter announced last night.

"We've had many complaints of trash being put out in improper containers, such as bags and open cardboard boxes, and blowing around the streets," he said.

"We are now starting to put warnings tags on improper containers and henceforth, city crews will not pick up anything that is not in a proper container."

Containers must be leakproof (metal or plastic), have covers and be of no more than 20 gallons capacity.

LBJ Proposal Interests Reds

GENEVA (AP)—Western and neutral delegates at the 17-nation disarmament conference expressed confidence today that the Soviet Union is studying President Johnson's new arms control proposals with exceptional interest.

The President, in a message read at the conference's resumption yesterday, proposed a verified freeze on the number and specifications of nuclear delivery systems—missiles, planes, submarines and the like—and a controlled cutoff in the production of nuclear materials for weapons.

Some delegates believed two less spectacular proposals by Johnson had better chances of a favorable Soviet reaction. These called for agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to nations that don't have them and a system of observation posts to prevent accidental war or surprise attack.

BOTH SIMILAR

These in general coincided with two points proposed by Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin as part of a seven-point program of negotiations, but agreement was not complete.

Johnson, for example, worded his proposal to ban the transfer of nuclear weapons so that it would not apply to the multilateral nuclear force proposed for the North Atlantic alliance.

Tsarapkin called for prevention of the spread of nuclear weapons to multilateral forces as well as to individual nations.

★ ★ ★

Johnson's proposals for the first time broke up the huge and complex package of general disarmament, long deadlocked in the two-year-old conference. A general disarmament treaty is the ultimate goal, but the U.S. proposals are preliminary measures which might start the powers toward a comprehensive treaty.

TREATY INCLUDED

The U.S. proposals also included a treaty to outlaw the use or threat of force and subversion, and a new effort to ban underground nuclear weapon tests, excluded from the limited test-ban treaty.

U. S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster described the freeze of delivery vehicles as the most important item in the Johnson proposals.

He told newsmen that Soviet willingness to discuss control systems to verify such a cutoff would imply a reversal of Soviet disarmament policy.

The Russians have never been willing to talk about any control of arms without accompanying measures to dismantle or liquidate the arms.

NO INDICATION

There was no immediate indication of the Soviet response. Foster said he hoped this reticence meant the Russians were giving the proposal exceptionally careful study before the next meeting of the conference Thursday.

War Kits to Africa

LONDON (UPI) — Complete "do-it-yourself" guerrilla fighting kits are being shipped from behind the Iron Curtain to Africans who want to drive whites out of the southern toe of their continent.

The kits contain everything needed to wage deadly guerrilla warfare, right down to silk "rebel" flags, and the willingness of the Communists to supply them is winning over Africans dedicated to black nationalism.

Included in the revolutionary paraphernalia are rapid firing automatic weapons and ammunition, light mortars, combat fatigue uniforms and underwear, field rations and communications sets, field medical supplies and even ambulances.

Western experts on Africa have known for a long time that Communist weapons were finding their way to African insurgents.

But they did not know how. Then, early this month, three events in quick succession served to put the puzzle together:

★ ★ ★

1. A shipment of arms arrived on Jan. 2 aboard the Algerian ship Khladoun in Dar es Salaam, the Tanganyikan capital which in recent months has become Africa's "freedom capital."

★ ★ ★

2. Almost simultaneously, two African rebel leaders arrived in Prague to negotiate with Czechoslovakian officials.

The two were Holden Roberto, whose bloody campaign against

Antitax Unit Asks Court to OK Petitions

LANSING (AP) — The Vigilance Tax Committee today asked the Michigan Supreme Court to overrule the Board of State Canvassers and permit anticity income tax petitions to be submitted to the legislature.

In a petition for a writ of mandamus, the committee of suburban officials asked the court to set a hearing on the issue Feb. 4.

The Board of State Canvassers ruled Dec. 31 that petitions seeking initiative legislation on city income taxes were invalid because some 53,000 signatures were prematurely gathered.

★ ★ ★

The committee seeks to bar city income taxes on nonresidents and to prevent any city income levy being imposed without a prior vote of the people.

COLLECTED TOTAL

The committee collected a total of 248,000 signatures on petitions circulated in all 83 Michigan counties.

New U.S. Earth Satellite Bounces Back Broadcasts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A new U.S. communications satellite, Relay 2, circled the earth today and may be joined Friday by another, the giant Echo 2 balloon, as scientists seek the best space system for worldwide radio, television and telephone coverage.

Relay 2 shot into orbit from Cape Kennedy yesterday atop a three-stage Delta rocket.

On the satellite's first orbit, radio voice communications and a television test pattern were beamed to it from Mojave, Calif. The satellite transmitted the signals back to Mojave and to a station at Nutley, N.J.

During part of the fourth orbit, between 4:27 a.m. and 4:30 a.m. EST, today, engineers at the International Telephone & Telegraph Co. laboratory in Nutley completed voice and scientific tests via Relay 2 with their counterparts in Raisting, West Germany.

The tests were made to check out technical aspects of Relay 2, such as signal modulation and strength, radio interference and general operating procedures, an IT&T spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

First intercontinental television broadcasts via Relay 2 were scheduled today — an exchange of greetings between U.S. and Japanese government officials. President Johnson may speak on the U.S. segment.

BALLOON LAUNCH

Echo 2, successor to the spectacular Echo 1 balloon which orbited in 1960, is scheduled for launching from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., Friday.

It is to expand to a diameter of 135 feet in space, and the United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to try to bounce radio signals off its aluminum skin.

It would be their first joint experiment in talking via satellite.

Record Figure Stresses Health and Education

$24-Million Surplus Seen as Evidence of State Fiscal Integrity

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today gave the legislature a record proposed budget of $622.4 million for 1964-65, terming it a "lean but muscular" plan tailored to meet needs while using less money than is available.

In a detailed account of the program outlined in his Jan. 9 State of the State message, Romney called for sharply increased spending in education and mental health.

At the same time, however, he recommended that $24 million in surplus funds be budgeted for the coming fiscal year, $19 million of which would go into a Michigan "future fund" for capital outlay.

The other $5 million would be budgeted as general fund surplus, Romney said, as evidence that Michigan no longer is in the bad financial condition of recent years.

★ ★ ★

He said his budget, "a record in scope as well as in size," is designed to "close a gap between needs and services that resulted in part from Michigan's fiscal problems.

FISCAL INTEGRITY

"A surplus will be proof to the people of Michigan and the nation that Michigan has regained its fiscal integrity and once again is the dynamic, progressive forward - looking state we have been historically," said the governor.

His total figure of $622.4 million is some $72 million higher than the $550 million which the legislature authorized for the current fiscal year.

The proposed new total includes general fund increases of nearly $70 million for education and $13 million for mental health operations, both of which Romney has described as areas of prime concern.

★ ★ ★

These two spending items — $273.7 million for education, $98.7 million for mental health—comprise about 60 per cent of the total budget.

EDUCATION TOTAL

The education total includes $131 million for higher educa-

Officials Probe Suspect Food

Three Area Families Stricken Last Week

Pontiac health officials today were investigating 11 cases of suspected food poisoning.

Charles Cohen, assistant city health director, disclosed that three Pontiac area families were stricken last week with what "appears to be some kind of salmonella infection."

He said health officials were still investigating whether or not it was actual food poisoning from accidentally eating contaminated food.

★ ★ ★

Three local families were admitted to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital late last week. All were hospitalized with acute gastroteritis.

IN GOOD CONDITION

Listed in good condition are: Charles Fleefe, 44, of 2099 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills, his wife, Eleanor, two sons, Gary 9, and Norman, 12, and a daughter, Charlene, 6.

Also in good condition are Clarence Parker, 49, of 93 Monterey, his wife, Rebecca, John, 16, and Rebecca, 3; and also Mrs. Alberta Wallace, 24, of 82 Ellwood, and Timmy, 16 months.

Parker was in critical condition, according to hospital officials, when admitted last Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Detroit health officials have uncovered five similar cases in two families of suspected food poisoning.

SUSPECT SUSPENDED

Dr. Robert Wilson, director of the Food, Milk and Meat Division of the Detroit Health Department, said his office has suspended manufacture of a food article suspected of being the cause.

He said he knew of four more cases in Macomb County.

Ernest Mandt, of the Wayne County Health Department, reported two cases, one in Harper Woods and the other in Lincoln Park, of suspected food poisoning involving the same food article.

Oakland County Health Department officials reported that they had not heard of the suspected food poisonings.

"We have no knowledge of it here," commented Dr. Bernard D. Berman, Deputy Director.

Judge in Hoffa's Trial Takes Over Jury Query

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —Judge Frank W. Wilson, declaring Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa's jury-tampering trial was moving too slowly, personally took over all questioning of jury prospects today.

"At the rate we have been going," the U.S. District Court judge said quietly, "it would take three weeks to select a jury. This court must function with dispatch and will take over the examination at this time."

★ ★ ★

The judge threatened 24 hours earlier to take from lawyers the right to examine jurors unless they hurried.

★ ★ ★

Wilson announced his decision immediately after defense lawyers rejected one of six jurors —and the only woman — tentatively seated in the first two days of the trial.

NEWSMAN'S WIFE

Cecil Branstetter, Nashville lawyer, said he opposed Mrs. Tom Gilliland, wife of a Chattanooga News-Free Press reporter, because her husband worked for a paper which he said has "written editorials that show malice toward one of the defendants."

Hoffa is on trial with five others on charges of trying to influence jurors in his 1962 conspiracy trail in Nashville.

★ ★ ★

As the trial entered its third day, the judge again overruled a series of motions aimed at delaying the trial.

★ ★ ★

The name of U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had cropped up almost as often as Hoffa's while lawyers still were questioning jurors themselves.

By the court's order, jury panelists are kept under a round-the-clock guard by 16 federal marshals.

LBJ Assailed for Taking Gift

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson's acceptance of a free stereophonic console, disclosed in a Senate investigation of former Senate aide Robert G. Baker, drew fire today from Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del.

Williams said in a statement: "Under preceding administrations the acceptance of lavish entertainment and large gifts by officials of the U.S. government was strongly condemned, and it cannot be condoned now any more than it was then."

★ ★ ★

Williams' statement referred to testimony by Don B. Reynolds, Washington and Silver Springs, Md., insurance man, that in 1959 at the suggestion of Baker he gave Johnson a stereo set costing more than $500. President Johnson then was the Senate Democratic leader.

Reynolds had sold $100,000 of insurance on Johnson's life in 1957. The amount was increased to $200,000 in 1961 after Johnson became vice president.

BOUGHT ADVERTISING

The insurance man also testified he agreed to buy over $1,200 worth of advertising on a radio-television station in Austin, Tex., owned by the LBJ Co. which is paying the insurance premiums. Mrs. Johnson controlled the LBJ Co. at the time, but has put her stockholdings in trust since Johnson became President.

It was a demand by Williams, who had investigated Baker's outside business activities, which set off the Senate Rules Committee's investigation of the former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority and disclosure of the gift of the stereo.

Reynolds was questioned at closed sessions of the committee Jan. 9 and Jan. 17. A transcript of his testimony was made public Tuesday.

ACCESS TO CLIENTS

Reynolds testified that he regarded Baker, a former South Carolinian like himself, as someone who could provide him with access to important clients and had paid the former Senate aide about $15,000 for his help.

He said he had given Baker $4,000 for assisting him in obtaining a commission of about $10,000 in 1960 as broker for a performance bond required of Philadelphia contractor Matt McCloskey who built the District of Columbia Stadium.

McCloskey, who recently resigned as ambassador to Ireland, was treasurer of the Democratic National Committee at the time. He plans to handle Democratic campaign fund raising activities.

★ ★ ★

Reynolds testified he also paid $1,500 to William McLeod, chief clerk of the House District Committee, in connection with the same transaction. Informed that McLeod maintained the payment was for legal services in South Carolina, Reynolds said this was not so.

VERY CLEAR

At the White House, Press Secretary Pierre Salinger was asked to comment on the Reynolds testimony.

★ ★ ★

"Mr. Jenkins' statement which is part of the record makes it very clear the President never had any conversation with Mr. Reynolds about the record player and considered it a gift from a long-time employe," Salinger said.

School Board to Eye Change in Boundary Lines

School board members will consider proposed boundary line changes for Pontiac's junior and senior high schools tomorrow night.

Administration proposals to rearrange boundaries are aimed at avoiding projected overcrowded conditions in some junior high schools and providing an attendance area for the new Baldwin Avenue Junior High.

The senior high boundaries are being changed to balance enrollments between the two schools according to Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

In other business, board members will receive the tabulated results of the questionnaire, which was published with the school district's annual report last fall.

★ ★ ★

A curriculum plan for Baldwin Avenue Junior High School will also be reviewed by the school board.

Top Honors for Tempest at Daytona

A Pontiac Tempest GTO shared top honors with Chevrolets in performance trials at Daytona Beach International Speedway yesterday.

The Tempest won the over-all performance award in class two trials for medium-bore engines.

The trials were sponsored by the Pure Oil Co. Cars were rated in three phases—economy, acceleration and braking.

A Chevrolet Impala won the award in the class one, big-bore engine competition, and a Chevelle took the class three title for smaller engines.

BREAKS TIE

Chevrolet broke a class one tie with Ford when officials counted second and third place finishes in the trials.

The GTO Tempest is equipped with a V8 engine that displaces 389 cubic inches.

It has a 10.75 compression ratio and a gross horsepower of 325 at 4,800 r.p.m.

The families questioned are part of a cross-section group composed of farmers as well as town and city dwellers.

They will be part of a survey sponsored by the Health Information Foundation of the University of Chicago.

ANNUAL COSTS

By talking to some 2,500 families, the group hopes to get an indication of annual medical and hospital care and the costs involved for the average family.

The interviewers, trained representatives of the university's national opinion research center, will carry credentials with them.

City Budget Hearing: 15 Seconds

The public hearing on Pontiac's $8.9-million 1964 budget took 15 seconds at last night's City Commission meeting.

Another 45 seconds was spent ordering City Attorney William A. Ewart to prepare the annual appropriation ordinance for passage next week.

In all, it took one minute to set the stage for adoption of the city's biggest fiscal item.

When Mayor Robert A. Landry announced the opening of the public meeting, there was no comment from the public. The hearing was closed.

MORE HOLIDAYS

In addition to the budget hearing, commissioners granted city employes more holidays.

City employes, exclusive of policemen and firemen, will get Lincoln's Birthday and Veterans Day off, and won't have to work election days on which county offices are closed.

Mayor Robert A. Landry said he regretted there was not enough money for pay increases this year.

"We wish we could give our employes much more," he said.

"However, we are running this city on a pay-as-you-go basis, just as we said we would two years ago.

"We may be criticized, but we're telling citizens the truth about our financial problems."

'Russia Has Our A-Secrets'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Edward Teller said today "I am pretty well convinced the Russians have all our secrets, and I am even afraid they have the secrets we are going to discover in the next two years."

The world-famous physicist, often called the father of the hydrogen bomb, gave his opinion as a reason for less secrecy in government research.

"Our industry and our citizens don't have those secrets," he told a special House committee studying the government's $15 billion-a-year research effort.

Contracts Go to Chicago Firm

City OKs Studies of Renewal Project

The City Commission last night approved contracts totaling $6,725 for reuse appraisals and market studies in the R20 urban renewal project.

Both contracts went to Real Estate Research Corporation of Chicago, which has provided similar appraisals and studies for both of Pontiac's urban renewal projects in the past.

One contract calls for a survey to determine the most feasible method of selling and redeveloping urban renewal lands in the central business district area.

★ ★ ★

This marketing study will cost $4,300.

Charles L. Langs of Waterford Township is presently working on redevelopment plans and proposals for urban renewal land in the downtown area.

UNDER AGREEMENT

Langs is working under an agreement adopted by the City Commission last summer which guarantees that certain urban renewal lands will be available for sale to him if he can come up with acceptable redevelopment plans and tenants during a one year period.

In effect, the contract makes Langs exclusive redeveloper of these lands. However, the agreement has never been formally approved by the Urban Renewal Agency or the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Without federal approval, the agreement is useless, according to Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates.

★ ★ ★

ORDER STUDY

Acting on his recommendation, commissioners ordered the study last night.

It will determine whether it is best for the city to dispose of land through a single party, or by competitive bidding on the open market.

The other contract approved last night was for a $2,425 reuse appraisal and marketability study needed before federal officials can okay a new R20 project plan submitted to them last month.

★ ★ ★

It concerns land that was to be developed for commercial use in the original R20 plan, but has been changed in the new plan to a proposed Residential-3 zoning for high-rise apartments.

This study will establish whether or not there's a demand for high-rise apartments and set a resale value on the land under the residential zoning.

Federal officials had not required this when the revised R20 plan was prepared last fall, but now feel it is necessary, according to Bates.

In welfare spending—always one of the three largest items in the budget—Romney asked an increase of less than 1 per cent, to a total of $99.3 million.

In a special welfare message last week, Romney outlined a plan for greater state participation in federal programs he said would bring in some $14.9 million and ease the pressure on local and state welfare funds.

A key feature of Romney's budget is a "pay-as-you-grow" capital outlay program which proposes spending $51 million in 1964-65 for state building and expansion.

A high percentage of the output of Czech arms plants are short-range, rapid-firing automatic weapons of the "burpgun" variety—ideally suited for the close range, guerrilla-style fighting which the dense scrub-covered African terrain demands.

BUSH KNIFE

Czech plants are also reported to turn out one African specialty — a 10-inch long bush knife — similar to but of better quality than the ones with which the Mau Mau caused such terror in Kenya in the 1950's.

The arms pipeline begins at Iron Curtain plants and military clothing factories and passes through Iron Curtain ports to Algeria, where the goods are transhipped to Algerian-hired ships bound for African ports.

★ ★ ★

The weapons end up in the hands of "freedom fighters" dedicated to ousting the whites from Angola, Mozambique and Guinea and later from Southern Rhodesia and South Africa.

Doctors Say 10-Year-Old Is Pregnant

CHICAGO (AP) — Doctors have confirmed that a 10-year-old girl, described by her fourth grade teacher as quiet, timid and small, will become a mother in about two weeks.

The child was placed in care of a foster family at the age of 3 upon the death of her mother.

Police said she named a 16-year-old boy, a member of the foster family, as the father-to-be.

★ ★ ★

The physician who confirmed teachers' suspicions said the girl's pregnancy "is so innocent that motherhood is incomprehensible." He added:

The doctor said Catholic charities will take care of the girl after the baby's birth.

She would be Chicago's youngest mother.

★ ★ ★

The youngest girl to have given birth to a baby who survived was a 5-year-old in Peru in 1939. The baby was born by caesarean section.

You Can Save Money by Understanding Income Tax Rules

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

You may save on your 1963 income tax return by understanding the rules that apply to people figuring their own tax and the rules on husbands and wives, including their exemptions.

If your income was $5,000 or more you must figure your tax. You will find the tax rate which fits you in one of the schedules in the instruction sheet sent taxpayers by the Internal Revenue Service.

People with under $5,000 income, without figuring, can find their tax in a table also contained in the instruction sheet. They can also figure their own if for some reason, like big deductions, they save by it.

The rules on the three tax rate schedules:

HIGHEST RATE

Single persons and married couples filing separately must use schedule No. 1, which has the highest tax rate.

Married people filing a joint return, and certain widows and widowers use schedule No. 2, which has the highest tax rate.

Married people filing a joint return, and certain widows and widowers use Schedule No. 2, which has the lowest tax rate.

Unmarried or legally separated people who qualify as "head of household" use schedule No. 3, which provides a lower tax than No. 1 but higher than No. 2.

Some rules on husbands and wives:

A husband and wife must both sign a return for it to be joint. A wife with $600 of income must, like anyone else with that much income, file a return, separately or jointly with her husband.

* * *

Most couples save by filing jointly because they can use schedule No. 2 with its lowest tax rate. In some special cases they save by separate returns, even though they have to use schedule No. 1, with its highest rate. If in doubt, figure your tax both ways.

Exemptions: $600 for yourself when you file a return and are under 65; $1,200 if you are over 65; an additional $600 if you're blind at any age. You get the same exemptions for your wife if she fits the rules.

If you're under 65 and had a taxable income of $600 or more you must file a return. If you're over 65 you don't have to file unless your income was $1,200 or more. The same goes for your wife.

When a husband and wife file jointly, each claims a $600 exemption on that joint return. If you and your wife file separately, you each claim your own $600 exemption on your separate returns.

When you file separately, both must accept the standard deduction without itemizing or, if one itemizes, then both must itemize and use Form 1040.

A single person or a couple filing jointly are allowed a standard deduction of 10 per cent of their income up to a limit of $1,000 for nonbusiness expenses.

DOESN'T APPLY

This doesn't apply for married couples filing separately. In that case on their separate returns each can take the standard deduction of 10 per cent of income up to a limit of $500.

A wife without income doesn't have to file jointly with her husband or at all. The husband can file his own return and, in addition to his own $600 exemption, claim $600 for his wife. But he must use schedule No. 1.

If a no-income wife files jointly with her husband, each claims a $600 exemption on that joint return. And then both use schedule No. 2 with its lowest tax rate.

A wife with taxable income under $600 does not have to file a return. But now a special rule comes into force:

If a wife had any income at all, even though under $600, you can't claim a $600 exemption for her unless she files jointly with you. If she does, you use schedule No. 2. If she doesn't then you, filing separately, must use Schedule No. 1.

If she had under $600 income but files jointly with you, each of you must report your individual income but you can each claim a $600 exemption and use schedule No. 2.

Suppose a married couple file separate returns in 1962 and 1961 but now realize it cost them more than if they had filed jointly. They can correct the mistake by filing an amended joint return for those two years.

You were considered married for all of 1963 if you got married as late as Dec. 31, 1963. You were considered divorced for all of 1963 if you were divorced as late as Dec. 31, 1963.

You cannot claim an exemption for your divorced wife even though you paid more than half her support in 1963.

Rules on widows and widowers:

If your wife or husband died in 1963—and you did not remarry—in general you can claim a $600 exemption for her or him on your return—filed as a joint return—and use schedule No. 2. If she had income you must report it on your return.

* * *

You can also use schedule No. 2—even though your wife or husband died in 1962 or 1961—if you fit these requirements:

You must have been entitled to file a joint return with her for the year of her death; you have not married; you have a child or stepchild who qualifies as your dependent; and you furnish over half the cost of your home which is the principal residence of your child or stepchild.

If these conditions fit you, you can use schedule No. 2, listing your own income, exemptions and deductions. But you cannot claim an exemption for your deceased wife.

Rules on head of household:

You can use schedule No. 3 if you fit these requirements:

You were unmarried or legally separated at the end of 1963 or were married by the end of 1963 to someone who for part of the year was a nonresident alien; you must have furnished over half the cost of your home which was the main residence for the year of yourself and your unmarried child, stepchild or grandchild, even though not a dependent of yours, or of any other relative you can claim as a dependent; or, if you paid more than half the cost of maintaining a home for your mother or father, if either can qualify as your dependent.

But you cannot claim you maintained a home for a parent if you were paying for him or her in a home for the aged.

$1.4 Million for Schools

S. Lyon Will Vote Saturday

AREA NEWS

SOUTH LYON — This Saturday will be a school day for the taxpayers of the South Lyon Community School District.

They will go to the polls to indicate whether or not they are willing to pick up the $1,424,000 tab for a new high school and addition to the present one.

The building program is aimed at answering the district's needs for the next seven years.

The 650-student high school would account for about $1.3 million of the requested sum.

District voters last June turned down a $1,548,000 issue for construction of an 800-student high school. The proposition lost by a 3-2 margin.

The board of education, which remained divided during a summer and fall of special work sessions, decided by a 4-3 vote in December to put the question back on the ballot.

The smaller high school now proposed would be completed by the school year 1965-66 on a 32-acre site at the northwest corner of Nine Mile and Pontiac Trail.

Architects Odell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates designed the building so that it eventually could be expanded to accommodate 1,200 students.

INITIAL PLANS

Initial plans include 12 academic classrooms, three science facilities and areas for commercial art, industrial arts, arts, homemaking and music classes.

Also in the building would be a library, gymnasium and a cafeteria with a stage.

The $124,000 addition to the present high school would consist of a biology laboratory and three general science rooms.

★ ★ ★

The rooms would be added by the 1964-65 school year to alleviate overcrowding and lack of science facilities. The building would be worked into the junior high system in 1965.

ALL SHIFT

With the completion of the new high school, seventh and eighth graders would attend classes in the present high school, with 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th graders moving to the new building.

Rooms now occupied by grades seven and eight would then be released for elementary classes.

Although not unanimous in methods to provide for the district's needs, board members are in general agreement on the growth and school population trends.

★ ★ ★

The proposed 30-year bond issue would require a debt retirement levy of about 3.5 mills.

LOWEST IN COUNTY

According to school officials, the district's present 19.33-mill levy is one of the lowest in the county.

Besides the 8.33 mills allocated by the county, property owners have voted to pay an extra seven mills for operation.

The other four mills are retiring the debt for construction of Sayre Elementary School and additions to New Hudson Elementary School.

Debt on the high school built in 1953 will be paid this year, according to Schools Supt. Frank Bartlett.

Wixom Sets City Election

Eleven Candidates for Five Positions

WIXOM — Voters here will select five new city officials from a slate of 11 candidates.

The nominating petitions of all were certified by the election commission last night.

The process of elimination will begin Feb. 18 with a primary election on the two posts for which there are three candidates each. Both races must be narrowed to two.

★ ★ ★

Opposing incumbent Wesley E. McAtee for the two-year mayoralty are Justice of the Peace William Welke and City Councilwoman Mrs. Lottie Chambers.

JUSTICE CANDIDATES

Candidates for the 4-year justice of the peace post are Joseph Stadnik of 48438 Pontiac Trail, a former mayor; Elwood Grubb of 29201 Beck, chamber of commerce vice president and former planning commission chairman; and Harry Wimmer of 1742 Wixom Road, a retired Detroit policeman.

The three councilmen whose terms will expire this year are running for reelection. They are Oscar Simmons Jr., Gunnar Mettala and Fred Beamish.

Also seeking a 4-year council term are Gene Kohlhorst of 1412 Morning Dove, a volunteer fireman, and Donald Nisses of 3980 W. Maple, a member of the city's sewer committee and road commission.

The three receiving the highest number of votes in the April 6 nonpartisan election will win the vacant council seats.

Avon to Eye Job Change, Zoning

AVON TOWNSHIP—Two controversial issues, which have been under fire for several months, are expected to be resolved at tonight's Township Board meeting.

One concerns possible combination of the jobs of building inspector and assessor.

The other is whether or not the board should approve rezoning of a 5.5-acre parcel on Walton for construction of 48 luxury apartments.

★ ★ ★

About two weeks ago Supervisor Cyril E. Miller issued a written report giving reasons why the building inspector's job should be combined with the assessor's.

DAILY AVERAGE

In his recommendation, Miller claimed that the building inspector averages only two hours and eight minutes a day on inspections.

Based on these findings, Miller said he relieved Building Inspector Lawrence Porter from the job and asked him to report for work at the cemetery.

Two months ago, the board voted to reinstate Porter over the supervisor's objections.

At the same time Miller presented his report, Township Trustee Donald Campbell also issued a written statement declaring he is against the combination of jobs.

He asserts that the assessor should work full time on the current reassessment program which, he said, would take two more years to finish.

He also told the board how the township could save $12,500 that should be applied to road paving.

Paving the way for settlement of the rezoning from general farming to multiple dwelling is an agreement recently reached by the apartment complex developer Sidney Weinberger and the Northwest Inter-Association Council.

The council, which is made up of representatives of home owners associations in northwest Avon Township, has endorsed the multiple-housing complex.

This action resulted from two meetings which were climaxed with Weinberger's agreement to meet certain restrictions.

These include a minimum of 700 square feet for single-bedroom apartments and 900 for the two-bedroom units and limiting building height to two stories.

Last September some 225 township residents crowded into the township hall to voice opinions on the proposed apartments — many vehemently against them.

★ ★ ★

Petitions bearing the names of 970 residents were also presented objecting to the proposed construction.

Committee in Walled Lake to Review Fire Department

By PAT McCARTY

WALLED LAKE—Mayor Milton A. Parrish last night appointed a committee of city officials and citizens to review the organization of the city's fire department.

The group will have 60 days in which to prepare a report and make recommendations to the City Council.

Formation of the committee came on the heels of the resignation of the city's full-time fire chief, Frank Hamilton.

★ ★ ★

Hamilton quit last week to accept a higher-paying job.

Police Chief James A. Decker was appointed to head the fire department on a temporary basis.

Councilman Wendel G. Kellogg Jr. said the transition period provided an opportunity "to straighten out the whole fire department situation."

"Once and for all, let's get this thing settled," he said.

Councilman Robert J. Buffmyer suggested that the fire department budget be reviewed.

★ ★ ★

"Let's get it more in line with other communities," he said, noting that the salaries of the fire chief and his assistant represent about two mills.

★ ★ ★

Councilman Marshall E. Taylor, who had said he was disappointed that Assistant Chief Don Vickery had not been promoted, asked if Buffmyer was suggesting that both jobs be abolished.

STUDY COMMITTEE

The latter replied that that would be up to the study committee, but he noted that the sheriff's department could provide a base station for receiving calls.

The two full-time officers headed a department of 13 volunteers. Firemen serve as radio dispatchers for the police as well as the fire department.

Ex-Chief Hamilton pointed out that volunteers had agreed to fill in by working his days for the next month.

LETTER TO CITY

In a letter to the city, the volunteers asked about their status and urged that the council work with them in setting up a new program.

Work on the study will begin Thursday. City Manager Frank Derby and Decker have scheduled a 6 p.m. meeting with representatives of the volunteers.

At 8 p.m. the committee will hold its first meeting.

★ ★ ★

Headed by Councilwoman Mrs. Margaret A. Thibideau, the group consists of all council members; the city manager; fire-police chief; Russell Curl, former president of the firefighters association; Robert Dodd, its new president; and two ex-councilmen, Charles Riffenburg and Richard Watkins.

Study Session Set on Sewer System

WALLED LAKE — Those working on the proposed Novi-Walled Lake sewerage system will confer at a study session Jan. 30.

At last night's City Council meeting, councilmen added the name of Novi Village Manager Harold Ackley to the list of participants in the executive meeting.

They expect to receive a breakdown of the estimated $1,715,000 cost at the meeting.

★ ★ ★

Reports will be made by representatives of the Oakland County Health Department and State Health Department.

EXPECTED BENEFITS

Expected benefits to the city along with total costs to individual property owners will be discussed.

Attending the meeting will be members of the City Council, the Walled Lake Sewer Study Committee, project engineers from Johnson and Anderson Inc. and the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

The newly formed sewer study committee is composed of Mayor Milton A. Parrish, City Manager Frank C. Derby, City Councilman Robert J. Buffmyer, Supt. of Schools Clifford H. Smart and Justice of the Peace Gene Schnelz.

★ ★ ★

Also serving are Del Jones of Ex-Cell-O Corp., Planning Commission Chairman Clements Philipski, Rev. Raymond Jones of St. William's Catholic Church and Rev. Carl Grapentine of the First Baptist Chuuch.

Retiring Safety Chief Gets Commendation

Members of the Oakland County Law Enforcement Association last night honored one of their number who is retiring after more than 35 years of police work in the county.

Joseph G. DeVriendt, Farmington director of public safety, will leave the post he has held for 23 years at the end of this month.

Before taking the job in Farmington, DeVriendt had been an Oakland County sheriff's deputy for 12 years. He served with the Michigan State Police from 1919-21.

★ ★ ★

The 65-year-old officer, whose hobby is collecting rocks, plans to spend the rest of the winter in Florida. He will travel between there, Farmington and his cottage at Little Bear Lake.

★ ★ ★

DeVriendt received a certificate of appreciation and commendation from the county's law enforcement officers at a dinner at the Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills.

Tax Petitions Filed in Flint

FLINT (AP) — Petitions bearing 4,719 signatures were presented to the Flint city clerk Tuesday asking for either the repeal of the city's 1 per cent income tax or a referendum on the tax.

★ ★ ★

City officials said acceptance of the petitions, submitted by the "Committee of Petitioners," does not bind the city to action and added that it still must be determined if the petitions contain enough signatures to meet city requirements.

★ ★ ★

The anti-tax group said if the petitions are not certified within 10 days it will seek Circuit Court action by way of a writ of mandamus requiring an election on the issue and an injunction preventing further collection or use of tax money collected.

Record Budget by Rocky Relying on U. S. Tax Cut

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller submitted to the legislature today a record $2.92-billion spending budget, up $131 million from the current year. It relies heavily on a proposed federal tax cut to keep it in balance without increasing state taxes.

The largest increase is $117 million for education, which would bring state spending for schools on all levels to $1.3 billion in the fiscal year beginning April 1.

Other major increases were $19 million for public welfare, $13 million for the first step in a pay raise for state employes and $11 million to cover fringe benefits for new state employes.

Rockefeller, who has been preaching fiscal conservatism in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, told the lawmakers that the budget "reflects our determination to conduct our affairs on a sound fiscal basis, without tax-supported borrowing and without tax increases."

But he noted that the tax structure will fall $240 million short of providing sufficient revenues.

Rockefeller proposed to bridge that chasm by advancing collection dates of $175 million in business taxes and other stopgap measures.

The proposed increase is the smallest of five Rockefeller budgets. Earlier ones went up at an average of more than $200 million a year.

★ ★ ★

The budget anticipates a 7 per cent expansion in the economy. The governor had estimated no more than a 5 per cent increase in past years.

★ ★ ★

He said the proposed federal tax cut would stimulate business and employment sufficiently to "assure us that New York State will have resources to meet tomorrow's needs."

Without the tax cut and a resultant improvement in the economy, he said, the state would have to draw on a reserve fund. Rockefeller has barred that step in the past as incompatible with what he describes as his pay-as-you-go program.

The governor is counting on revenues of $2,921,000,000 in the new fiscal year, providing for a surplus of $1 million.

★ ★ ★

The governor's budget message, which he did not deliver personally, ignored pleas from the board of regents and education groups for increased state aid to public schools.

Most of the increased spending for education is mandated by law.

Freeway Ramps Add to Problem of Snow Removal

LANSING (AP)—Interchange ramps are adding to Michigan's winter snow removal problem, reports the State Highway Department.

The state now has 469 interchanges on its freeway system. Each one adds at least two miles of ramp to be cleared of snow. In most cases, the ramps are curved and uphill, forcing the equipment to work at a reduced speed.

In a heavy snowstorm, the department said, a single plow is kept busy just clearing the Brighton interchange at the junction of I-94 and US23. The junction has nearly 12 miles of ramps.

Sunday Liquor Bill Before Legislature

LANSING (AP) — Legislation to allow liquor sales on Sunday if local voters approve was introduced Tuesday by Rep. Edward Michalski, D-Detroit.

His two bills would authorize local-option Sunday liquor sales and would permit "additional liquor licenses."

He said several cities and recreational areas are developing convention trade "but are limited in that liquor cannot be sold on Sunday, restricting the activities of a convention which is held over the weekend.

Nehru's Leadership Imperiled by Age

Time, as it inevitably does to all, has caught up with Indian Prime Minister JAWAHARLAL NEHRU. The 74-year-old chief of state has suffered major physical breakdown and has been ordered to take complete rest for a prolonged period.

Nehru inherited his leadership on the assassination of Mohandas Gandhi and has been the only government head since India won independence in 1950.

The task has been formidable. The country's half-billion inhabitants range from the primitive to the most sophisticated and embrace 845 different languages and major dialects. In India's remotest areas there are even some who never heard of NEHRU.

Nehru has dictated his country's economic policies, a curious mixture of capitalism and state socialism. And he has dictated its foreign policy which still, despite Red China's threat, is based on non-alignment.

★ ★ ★

But of present concern to the West and the free world is the fact that NEHRU, like most strongmen in government, has given little thought to a successor or prepared for an orderly transition of power. His strong personality has brooked no rivals for leadership, and this could lead to a chaotic vacuum as the prime minister remains incapacitated.

As a temporary measure, leaders of the Congress Party's quarreling right and left wings have reached a compromise by which they hope to run the government in NEHRU'S absence.

★ ★ ★

Neither, however, is known to the West and both are of doubtful administrative stature. Touted as a possible successor to Nehru is former Home Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, a friend of Nehru, colorless but one of the few acceptable to both left and right.

★ ★ ★

This situation is fraught with peril not only to India but the West, since a collapse of sovereignty would make the country vulnerable to exploitation by the Red Chinese now poised across the border.

Latest Eye Catchers– Birds and Butterflies

Thanks to an advanced new mechanical technique, bird watchers and leg watchers may soon amalgamate.

★ ★ ★

A new machine will weave the figure of one of a variety of butterflies, birds et al into milady's stockings—at knee or eye level.

It is expected that decorative kneecaps will be on animated display by autumn, at which time a sharp rise in pursuit of the hobby of bird watching by male aficionados is likely.

★ ★ ★

We are glad to see knees come into their own aesthetically. Long looked down upon as joints, with their new allure they are a cinch to achieve the status of being looked up to.

The Untouchables . . .

One of the most saddening and infuriating news items since the assassination of President KENNEDY is the report of a public opinion research group in Chicago.

One of their findings is that "a sizable minority" of persons interviewed weren't touched by the assassination at all. The two most frequently offered reasons were: "He had it coming" or "He was only a man like anyone else."

★ ★ ★

The one answer shows an appalling ignorance of the way in which political differences are supposed to be handled in a democracy. The other demonstrates an inability to distinguish between a man and the office he holds. Both answers are frighteningly inhuman as well.

★ ★ ★

One wonders just what would touch these people. Perhaps the fact that their favorite television programs were canceled for four days was able to upset them.

Eye Soviet Switch on Disarmament

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The endless circle spins again. President Johnson has made disarmament proposals based on the hope the Soviet Union has changed its mind. But there's no reason to believe it has.

MARLOW

Johnson suggested yesterday — in a message to the 18-nation disarmament conference which opened in Geneva — several moves for controlling nuclear weapons and cutting down their production.

There would have to be an inspection system to prevent cheating.

This is what the United States has always insisted upon, before there could be an agreement.

★ ★ ★

But the Soviet Union has always opposed an inspection system.

CAUTION VOICED

The White House had hardly announced Johnson's proposals before senators were urging caution, warning there could be no agreement without inspection.

Any hope of a Soviet switch on inspection seems based on this:

Maybe they think it's time for a second look because 1—their economy is in a downturn and less money spent on armaments would help and 2—their split with Red China may make them want better relations with the West.

★ ★ ★

This past year there have been some steps towards better relations, as Johnson mentioned: an agreement banning nuclear tests except underground; a direct line between Moscow and Washington to be used in a crisis to prevent misunderstandings; and a unanimous United Nations vote last October against nuclear-armed space satellites to halt the arms race upstairs.

NEED CHINA

But even if the Soviet Union switched on inspection, this awfully unpleasant question remains: what good would a disarmament agreement be unless Red China was a party to it?

It's hard to believe the U.S. Senate would ever approve a disarmament agreement which did not include Red China.

But Red China is not taking part in the 18-nation conference.

And, to complicate matters, this country refuses to recognize the Communist Chinese as the lawful masters of China.

NOT BINDING

The Red Chinese, in turn, have said they would not be bound by any disarmament treaty unless they took part in it, and, in addition, they said they would not take part unless the United States recognized them.

The fallacy in a disarmament agreement without Red China was explained by the late President John F. Kennedy at a news conference Feb. 14, 1962:

"There is no use having an inspection system agreed upon between . . . the United States and the Soviet Union and some other countries and then have another country, large, carrying on intensive armaments preparations.

Red China is not even a member of United Nations.

The United States has managed so far to keep it out.

For all these reasons the disarmament circle seems due to keep spinning quite a while.

Spin The Bottle

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Budget Figures Misleading

WASHINGTON — For the last three days, the American people have been deluged with an avalanche of figures designed to prove that the United States from 1961 to 1963 has gone through a period of unexampled prosperity and that even better times are ahead for 1964.

LAWRENCE

But the figures given are not complete and in many respects are meaningless, if not misleading.

Thus, the "gross national product"—the phrase supposed to describe the output of the whole economic system—is given in the President's economic report as reaching $623 billion in the year 1964. This is $259.9 billion above what it was in 1954, just a decade earlier.

But more than 40 per cent of this rise is due to higher prices. If compared with the prices of goods and services in 1954 and the value of the dollar at that time, the "gross national product" this year would not be $623 billion. It would be $517.4 billion, which is $154.3 billion above what it was ten years ago.

The President also points to corporate profits as having made a 44 per cent rise in the last three years. This, however, is from a low point in 1961 and is not based on any annual figures.

A study of the fine print in the same big volume of statistics discloses that corporate profits are projected at 4.9 per cent of the "gross national product" for 1964. This is less than what it has been in 11 of the 17 years since World War II.

The sad truth is that corporate profits as a total figure are meaningless. The entire private-enterprise system, even by the President's figures, will retain in 1964 only $30.5 billion after taxes.

Profit margins are rarely examined in government reports, and the fact remains that the narrowness of many of these margins prevents the investment of capital and discourages the expansion projects through which jobs can be created for the people who need them.

LITTLE CONFIDENCE

There can, for example, be little confidence in the economic future as long as the dollar itself is unsound. Budgets have remained unbalanced almost continuously for many years now, and the cost of living has risen as the purchasing power of the dollar has gone down.

The President, incidentally, threw a scare into business in his latest economic report to Congress when he emphasized his intention to take action against businessmen if they raise prices, but he did not offer any hint of governmental action with respect to wage demands that could substantially increase the cost of operating businesses in America.

Another statement which the President made, which is causing many worries in the business world, was the announcement of his decision to ask Congress to pass a law delegating to a group of private citizens the right to impose penalties for overtime.

★ ★ ★

This would be accomplished by authorizing "higher overtime penalty rates on an industry-by-industry basis where tripartite industry committees determine that such rates could create more jobs without unduly raising costs."

★ ★ ★

But the most disconcerting factor in the whole economic picture is the continuing deficits in the federal budget and the intention of the Treasury to keep on borrowing money to make up for the loss in revenue that will arise when taxes are reduced.

Bob Considine Says:

JFK's Least-Known Book Was a Tribute to Joe Jr.

NEW YORK—John F. Kennedy's least-known book was a thin, privately printed volume entitled "As We Remember Joe." It appears in the current Redbook.

The late president put it together in 1945 at

at time when JFK was doing occasional stories for International News Service and the Hearst newspapers. It was, of course, a tribute to his older brother.

Joe Jr., a Navy lieutenant whose "tour" had been completed, was headed back to the U.S. for home duty in 1944 when he volunteered to fly a mission with an extraordinary group which had been gathered at the suggestion of Winston Churchill.

We had so many B17s and B24s by that time, and German submarine pens had become so tough to crack, it was decided that some of these excess planes be loaded with TNT, flown across the channel by a skeleton crew which would bail out after cocking the explosive triggers, and the bomber would then be flown to the target by radio command and dived upon the chosen pen.

The plane Joe Jr. chose exploded before he and his one-man crew could bail out.

JFK wrote most of "As We Remember Joe," but there were remembrances from other members of the family, including Teddy, then 12, who said he wanted to be included, "with capitals and periods falling where they may," his older brother observed.

ONLY 40

Only 40 copies of the book were printed. In 1956, JFK let me use one as part of the research on a series about the clan.

"Send it back to me when you can," he said. "It's the only one we've got."

He chose this stanza from a poem by Maurice Baring as a closing tribute to his brother:

So when the spring of the world shall shrive our stain.
After the winter of war,
When the poor world awakes to peace once more,
After such night of ravage and of rain,
You shall not come again.
You shall not come to taste the old spring weather;
To gallop through the soft untrampled heather,
To bathe and bake your body on the grass.
We shall be there. Alas!
But not with you. When spring shall wake the earth,
And quicken the scarred fields to the new birth,
Our grief shall grow. For what can spring renew
More fiercely for us than the need of you?

'Should Standardize School Buildings'

One main cause of our high taxes is new schools. It seems stupid to let the school boards pay about 10 per cent of each building's cost for architects' fee. This could be stopped if enough taxpayers write to State Representative Lloyd Anderson, House of Representatives, Lansing. Ask for legislation to standardize newly-constructed school building plans. This will put some of your tax money into your bank account instead of the architects'. Let's snow him under with this request.

Answers Writer Concerning Signatures

I'm replying to Marvin Beyer who implied that if a person didn't sign his name in the VOP column he must either be ashamed or a Republican. How naive can one be? What does a political philosophy or a party label have to do with signing your name? Voice of the People is not a political column and many people who do not sign their names are not even discussing politics.

★ ★ ★

If Mr. Beyer is a Democrat that's his business but he doesn't have to delve in generalities. No political party has all good or all bad men. Neither do all men of the same party believe alike. Nelson Rockefeller and Hubert Humphrey are more alike politically than are Hubert Humphrey and Harry Byrd even though the latter two belong to the same party. It's the individual and the issues that matter, not a party label.

Proposed Apartment Prompts Query

Mr. Lang, downtown developer, has asked people to write if interested in the proposed apartment house. Maybe they are waiting for him to make a statement like he did about the new shopping center. He said the center was for the people in that area.

I understand the apartment building is to be quite high and most people including myself do not like to live in tall buildings. Why not build two low structures—one in the south and one in the north end of Pontiac. There appears to be some space in the north at the perimeter road.

While the Pennsylvania Bar Association has been working for a similar system in this state, it has met stiff opposition from such groups as the minor judiciary.

President Johnson has put the "freeze" on further federal employment and ordered cut-backs. There are more than 5 million persons—civilian and military—who draw government pay checks—or about one out of every 13 American workers. To get across the point of just how big the Federal Government has become, here are a few more "did-you-know" facts about this massive structure—which:

—Taxes and spends one out of every six dollars in goods and services produced in the United States.

—Owns 767 million acres of land—one out of every three acres—and leases 1.6 million acres more.

—Owns 421,260 buildings, with 2.5 billion square feet and leases 96 million square feet more.

—Owns $122 billion worth of military equipment.

—Has stored and stockpiled $15 billion worth of farm commodities and strategic weapons.

—Has lent $24 billion to veterans, homeowners, businesses, farmers and foreign countries.

I heard recommendations and proposals made by Gov. Romney in one-half hour that will take years to do. Why do they offer you the moon before election then kick you in the pants after? If the Governor doesn't do any more in 1964 than he did in '63, he might as well go back to making cars.

The way these officials operate, one is inclined to disregard any information which is not labeled "official" as it might be retracted when they run short of money. The Pontiac city treasurer usually officially notifies clients of similar actions.

31 Viet Cong Said Killed

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The South Vietnamese Defense Ministry today reported 31 Viet Cong guerrillas and two Self-Defense Corps members killed in two encounters.

A defense ministry spokesman said a company of corpsmen clashed with guerrillas yesterday in the southern province of Chuong Thien and killed 27 Viet Cong.

Two corpsmen were reported wounded.

★ ★ ★

Early today the Viet Cong mined a village council building 12 miles southwest of Saigon.

The spokesman said four guerrillas and two corpsmen were killed and eight corpsmen were wounded.

ENGINE TROUBLE

A Vietnamese Air Force plane escorting a train developed engine trouble yesterday 30 miles north of Saigon and crashed.

The American pilot and his Vietnamese copilot bailed out and were rescued unharmed by an American helicopter, the spokesman said.

Thousands See John Kennedy's Grave

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — They still come by the thousands to the peaceful slope overlooking the capital where John F. Kenney lies buried.

Some pray. Some leave flowers. Some stand silently with their thoughts. Some come to be brushed by history, to say they have been there.

★ ★ ★

It was two months ago today that he was assassinated, and three years and two days after he was inaugurated as the 35th and youngest president of the United States.

A spring-like rain and a warming sun had melted away most of the snow that had covered Arlington National Cemetery and the open hillside where an eternal flame burns over his grave.

EVERGREEN BOUGHS

Fresh evergreen boughs covered the base of the flame. There, on the boughs, were the military caps of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and Special Forces, the Military Police armband and the blue infantry braid, tossed there the day they buried the commander-in-chief.

★ ★ ★

Among the boughs, too, were a rolled-up piece of paper tied with white ribbon, a bouquet of pink carnations, a nosegay of white chrysanthemums tied with red ribbon that faded pink on the snow.

★ ★ ★

Each evening, after cemetery gates are closed, the soldiers take from the boughs all the remembrances that people bring. They are put in a box to be given to the Kennedy family.

Sometimes women drop necklaces or bracelets among the boughs. More often, they bring flowers to give to the soldier who stands guard, and he puts them on the boughs.

CARRY FLOWERS

Forty girls from Beth el Temple School in Norfolk came Tuesday each carrying a flower or small bouquet to put on the grave.

Solemnly each gave her flowers to the soldier, and some of them cried.

★ ★ ★

A young woman from New York brought white chrysanthemums.

"I made a promise to myself —the day he died," she said.

Mostly the visitors stand there and look at the grave with sorrow in their eyes — the two men from Canada who stopped by on their way south on business; the young soldier back from Berlin on his way home to Iowa; the two nuns from Davenport, Iowa; the deaf couple carrying a baby who told each other their thoughts with their hands.

'WE PRAYED'

The five students from Korea who said, "We prayed;" the four Army colonels who saluted; the three teen-age boys from Dumfries, Va., who came up just to visit the grave.

★ ★ ★

The trees were bare, and the long white rows of gravestones cast long shadows.

★ ★ ★

The jet planes droned overhead, and across another hill Taps sounded for another man who had fought for his country and died.

'Old' Missiles Will Be Retired by U.S. Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is retiring obsolete Bomarc "A" antiaircraft missiles at five East Coast bases later this year but is leaving later generation Bomarc "B" missiles in place at Kincheloe AFB in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and at other bases.

★ ★ ★

Nearly 1,300 military and civilian personnel will be affected in the phase-out. The approximately 150 missiles involved cost more than $1 million each. The Air Force said the decision to phase-out the A models is the result of studies to bring continental air defense forces into line with the "current and projected character of the threat of air attack."

★ ★ ★

The Bomarc is an air-breathing pilotless aircraft which first became operational in 1959. The B model came into operation in 1960.

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP) — Fire swept the North Winnipeg home of Floyd Davis early today, killing four of his six small children. The other two children, their mother and an aunt were hospitalized.

Davis already was in the hospital, awaiting surgery.

The dead were Wendy Davis, 6, Shelley, 5, Corinne, 2, and Sheldon, 1. Mrs. Davis, her sister, Mrs. Jessie Sharon, 46, and Faith and Bonnie Davis, 9 and 8, were treated for burns, scrapes and smoke inhalation.

Final Reward for Tippit: Unnoticed Cemetery Plot

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — In a quiet corner of a South Dallas cemetery lies the body of patrolman J. D. Tippit, slain two months ago today as he sought to question the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

His grave is unmarked, save for a Christmas wreath and a bouquet of artificial roses.

★ ★ ★

His widow, whose home is a few blocks away, is intent on living as she did when her husband was alive, although she is wealthier by over $600,849.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Tippit thanked the nation for its contributions at a news conference Tuesday. "I haven't decided about the money yet," she said, "but I have advisers. We will try to use the money the way God would have us to."

★ ★ ★

She displayed a medal of valor awarded Tippit posthumously by the National Police Officers Association. "I feel by honoring him, they have honored all law enforcement officers," she said.

NO MARRIAGE

Mrs. Tippit smiled as she assured reporters her mail did not include proposals of marriage. When asked whether she was 37 or 38, she replied, with another smile, "I'm 35."

★ ★ ★

She appeared generally somber, and her voice broke once as she was asked about the reaction of her three children to their father's death. "Doing without their father has been pretty hard on them," she said, "and will be for quite some time."

★ ★ ★

The widow, dressed in black, said she plans to live as she has and "rear the children as I would have if he were with us."

★ ★ ★

That means she and Allen, 14, Brenda, 10, and Curtis Glen, 5, will remain in a pink brick home in a South Dallas development.

Stassen Decides to Run

'64 Campaign Has Been Suspenseful

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Although still in its infancy, the 1964 presidential campaign already has provided us with a number of suspense-packed moments.

WEST

Who, for instance, can forget the way the tension built up while we were waiting for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller to tell us whether he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination?

By the time Rockefeller finally tipped his hand, revealing that he had decided in the affirmative, the tension was so thick you could have cut it with a sledge hammer.

Our nerves were still taut when Sen. Barry Goldwater put us on tenterhooks again. Remember that day when he called GOP leaders in Arizona together to disclose his decision?

It was so quiet you could have heard a bomb drop. I imagine that even the Rockefeller forces felt relieved when the word finally came that Goldwater, too, had decided in the affirmative. Anything is better than uncertainty.

After two nail-biting periods like that, I thought it was rather unkind of astronaut John Glenn to make us go through it all again.

INFORMED VOTERS

Glenn, as you know, recently resigned from the space program and flew to Ohio to inform the voters whether he would become a Democratic senatorial candidate.

Although it didn't have as much suspense as a presidential announcement, we nonetheless held our breaths until Glenn divulged that he, likewise, had decided in the affirmative.

Being all keyed up by these cliff-hangers, I naturally was set a-tingling by a notice that Harold E. Stassen would hold a news conference here this week to "announce plans and intentions for 1964."

★ ★ ★

This time I couldn't even wait to get the news off the ticker. I rushed right over to the auditorium and sat there on the edge of a chair until he unveiled his decision.

I'll say this for Stassen: He didn't add to our torment by waiting until the end of his nine-page statement to expose what was up his sleeve.

In the second sentence of the fourth paragraph, he took us off of pins and needles by disclosing that, as regards running for the GOP presidential nomination, his decision was in the affirmative.

Stassen, who lost a bid for the nomination in 1948, unsuccessfully tried to dump Richard M. Nixon from the 1956 ticket, and then was defeated in gubernatorial and mayoralty races, thus removed any lingering doubts about his comeback attempt.

★ ★ ★

A lot of people were convinced that he would be a candidate, but weren't certain which office he would seek.

Trial Ordered for 2 Tied to Abortion Case

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Two men named by police as Mafia associates were bound over for trial with three other persons Tuesday on charges of abortion conspiracy.

The five, including two women and a doctor, are accused in connection with a young woman's alleged abortion in 1959. All the defendants are free in $1,000 bond each. Justice of the Peace Francis A. Castellucci ordered them bound over to Macomb County Circuit Court.

★ ★ ★

The defendants include Vito Giaco Giacalone, 40, of Grosse Point Shores and Nick Ditta, 58, of Detroit, both named by police as Mafia men. The others are Lillian Hollars, 28, of Detroit; Dr. Emery Gilbert of Smyrna Beach, Fla., formerly of Mount Clemens, and Mrs. Mary Vaile Prisula, 30, of Seattle, Wash., identified as a former assistant to Dr. Gilbert.

State taxes in the fiscal year ending in June 1963, were more than $22 billion compared to $20.5 billion the previous years, according to the Commerce Clearing House.

2nd Canal Zone Would Depend on Red OK of N-Blasts

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Fresh discussion about the United States building a second canal in Central America has sprung up since violence in the Panama Canal Zone. Nuclear power would provide the cheapest excavation method. Could such power be used under the limited nuclear test-ban treaty? How effective is the use of such power? This article covers these and other problems in the building of a new canal.)

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the United States decides to build a second canal in Central America in the near future, using nuclear blasts to move the earth, it almost certainly would have to get the agreement of the Soviet Union and about 50 other nations.

But if the much-discussed new waterway paralleling the disputed Panama Canal is built a few years from now the Soviets may no longer have the power of veto under the limited nuclear test-ban treaty signed in Moscow last summer.

★ ★ ★

It all depends on what the scientists call "the state of the art of using nuclear explosives for excavations.

This is the consensus among government officials, including legal experts, whose views have been canvassed for answers to the question:

Does the Soviet Union have the power under the test-ban treaty to block canal construction with nuclear explosives?

COSTS LOWER

The question arises because the cost of a big ditch somewhere in the Central American isthmus would be far less if nuclear power were used than if conventional explosives had to be employed. Official estimates are that a nuclear excavation to provide a new link between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans could run as low as $500 million. If the job were done with dynamite and other blasting materials the estimated cost would exceed $2.5 billion.

★ ★ ★

Sometime next month the Joint Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee plans to hold hearings on the feasibility of using nuclear explosives for a new canal. But apart from what is technically possible at this stage in view of the problems of radioactivity there is the question of the United States commitments under the test-ban treaty.

"We would have to get Russian agreement," said Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., senior House member of the joint committee, "and they're not likely to give it willingly."

BIG OBJECTIONS

Diplomats are not certain that the Soviets would raise insuperable objections.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last August that he thought the United States might get word from the Soviets at some point "that they themselves want to use an underground explosion for a particular peaceful uses purpose."

★ ★ ★

Testifying before the same committee, Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission said that at the present time excavations made by a nuclear power would involve questions of radioactive fallout. He said "we are not ready" for canal or harbor digging, adding that a few years of development of atomic devices and experiments in excavation would be required.

TESTING IN SPACE

The limited test-ban treaty was negotiated and signed as a measure to stop the testing of nuclear weapons in the air, outer space and under water. Underground explosions were not banned because a ban of that kind could not be policed without a kind of inspection inside the Soviet Union which the Russians would not accept.

At an early stage of the negotiations, back in 1962, the United States proposed a treaty which contained a clause to permit the explosion of nuclear devices for peaceful purposes if the countries signing the treaty unanimously agreed. The Soviet government last summer rejected that provision during work on the treaty.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. negotiators, on instruction from Washington, then got the Soviet Union and Britain to agree to include in the treaty a statement that not only weapons test explosions but also "any other nuclear explosion" in the atmosphere, outer space and under water would be prohibited.

Explosions for peaceful uses are not prohibited by the treaty if they are conducted underground. But there is one limitation on all underground blasts. They must not blow into the air radioactive materials which fall beyond the boundaries of the nation in which the explosion occurs.

107 SIGNERS

A total of 107 countries has signed the treaty, including the original three — the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain. The treaty provides that amendments may be made if approved by a majority of all the signers, including the original three.

The problem in using nuclear blasts on a canal, officials said, is whether devices can be developed so radioactive fallout would not occur beyond the boundaries of the country in which the canal was dug.

★ ★ ★

Jerold W. Johnson of the AEC's radiation laboratory at Livermore, Calif., recently wrote a letter to Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., in which he said that major advances have been made in cutting down radioactivity.

The difficulties raised by the test-ban treaty and by the present status of nuclear techniques form only a part of the issues which the Johnson administration would have to deal with should it decide in favor of a second canal.

NEEDS CONSENT

Another set of problems is political and diplomatic. In the first place the United States would have to get the consent and would hope to get the enthusiastic approval of the Central American country on whose territory the canal was to be built with the use of nuclear explosives.

As far as other treaty signers are concerned, Rusk told the Foreign Relations Committee that if the United States got to the point of massive uses of nuclear explosives for peaceful purposes "we might well want to inform other signatories of the treaty, give them the information to that effect." This would be short of asking their consent but it would make clear a U. S. desire for their understanding.

★ ★ ★

The AEC's program for developing peaceful uses has the code name "Plowshare." The new budget just sent to Congress by President Johnson carries $11 million for "Plowshare" experiments, including the development of suitable devices for excavation purposes.

Evidence of what is possible in this respect was gained from an experimental blast carried out by AEC scientists in July 1962 in Nevada. Nuclear explosives with a blast power of 100 kilotons, equivalent to 100,000 tons of TNT, were buried at a depth of 635 feet. The results were spectacular.

HUGE EXCAVATION

When the debris settled, the scientists found they had blown a hole with an average depth of 320 feet and a diameter of 1,200 feet ringed by a wall of earth rising above the normal surface of the desert from 20 to 105 feet.

The earth displaced was estimated at 12 million tons. Radioactive fallout materials spread intensely at distances of two to four miles from the center of the blast. Scientists reported the radioactivity dissipated rapidly and in five days workmen were able to work for short periods at the edge of the hole.

★ ★ ★

Officials cited that experiment as evidence of the kind of earth-moving capacity that nuclear explosives would have in digging a canal. Some said the blast needed for canal construction would be measured in megatons, meaning millions of tons of TNT.

Some authorities said that new techniques were theoretically possible that would eliminate the fallout hazard or reduce it to negligible amounts.

NOT SURE

In spite of a great deal of talk in the last two weeks about building a waterway parallel with the Panama Canal, officials are not sure at all that a decision to go ahead with the project will be made any time in the next few years.

The capacity of the Panama Canal, with some widening and with provision for operations around the clock, is believed to be great enough to take care of all the needs of shipping until around the year 2000.

★ ★ ★

Last year the Panama Canal Co. proposed to Congress that studies be made of possible routes. The bill was never acted on.

However, a number of studies have been made in the past by the company and AEC experts have looked at five possible routes with a view to whether and in what manner nuclear explosives might be used.

★ ★ ★

One of those routes would run through northern Colombia, another through Nicaragua and Costa Rica, and a third through the Tehuantepec isthmus of southern Mexico; two potential routes run through Panama.

No Home Town Memorial

EASTWOOD, England (AP) — It looks as if there'll never be a monument to D. H. Lawrence, author of "Lady Chatterley's Lover," in his home town.

Folks here say he didn't like them and they still don't like him.

Lawrence, born in this Midlands coal belt town in 1885, died in France in 1930.

For years efforts to memorialize Lawrence have flopped. Nobody would contribute to a proposed memorial hall, and the plan isn't getting anywhere now that the Eastwood Town Council has set aside land for a civic center.

Councilor Charles Lamb said Lawrence "hated the town and disliked the people. People are just not going to pay for a memorial to him."

Automatic Transfer for College Class

Arriving for the first class, he found 30 students waiting outside the room.

QUEEN, PRINCESS — Greek Queen Frederika and her 21-year-old daughter Princess Irene were all smiles as they arrived in New York yesterday to take part in Barnard College's 75th anniversary celebration. The queen will also receive an honorary doctorate of laws degree from Columbia University.

Headhunter Chief Asks LBJ's Aid

BARIO, Malaysia (AP)—A special message to President Johnson from high in the Tamabo Mountains of Borneo:

Chief Penghulu wants your help.

"We have heard the United States of America is mighty and kind," the Kelabit tribal leader told this Associated Press reporter. "Tell your chief we need help."

Chief Penghulu and his 3,000 people, former headhunters only recently introduced to the 20th Century, are caught in the midst of an undeclared war along the Malaysian-Indonesian border.

★ ★ ★

British troops have moved into Kalabit jungle hunting grounds about 400 miles northeast of Kuching, Sarawak, to defend against terrorist bands attacking across the border from Indonesia.

The Kelabits are afraid to go into the jungle.

"Tell your chief the Kelabit people would like to live in peace and not war," Chief Penghulu said. "If he can stop the trouble along our border the Kelabit people will be his friends."

Chief Penghulu, who never had met an American before, reckons time in days it takes to march from one point to another. He seems to think the United States is somewhere just east of Singapore.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless, he is willing to enter into an alliance if only Chief Johnson will come to his aid.

PAST PROWESS

To show such an alliance would not be a one-way deal, Penghulu spent hours describing the Kalabits' past prowess at war.

U.S. military strength is fabled in the Tamabo Mountains because in the closing days of World War II an American plane parachuted rifles to the Kelabits, who launched a fierce attack on Japanese troops.

"There were many rifles floating down from the sky," the chief said with a smile. "I caught three Japanese officers."

The chief, about 57, as near as anybody can guess, also has several heads to his credit. They were taken with Parang knives during tribal conflicts before the war.

NOW PEACEFUL

"We once were a fierce people, but now we can think only of peace and happiness," he said.

The British, who formerly controlled North Borneo and now defend it under an agreement with Malaysia, have decorated Penghulu four times.

On special occasions he dons his bemedaled uniform and the tribesmen bring out their 19-year-old American carbines.

Normal attire for the chief and his people alike is a T-shirt and shorts topped by a cap sporting eagle feathers. Every man also wears a two-foot Parang knife.

The Kelabits live in huge communal long houses on both sides of the Malaysian-Indonesian border and are greatly disturbed at being told that their relatives live in enemy territory.

Their confusion at being involved in the war they do not understand is typical of the reaction of tribesmen throughout Sarawak and Sabah, which with Malaya and Singapore form the Malaysian federation.

President Sukarno of Indonesia has sworn to crush Malaysia, but in a talk last week with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said he seeks a peaceful solution.

★ ★ ★

Such a solution is an aim of the United States, and President Johnson, in sending Kennedy to talk with Sukarno, in effect may have anticipated Chief Penghulu's call for help.

Mother Knew Best When Stork Was Due

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. Marshall Williams, 25, arose early Tuesday and went to the hospital because "I just knew my baby was coming."

The doctors told her it wasn't time. She returned home. Two hours later, a taxi was called for a second trip. Her husband delivered the baby girl in the back seat of the cab.

The first person to can dog food was P. M. Chappel, who in 1922 introduced the product in Chicago.

Dowagiac Mayor Resigns; Another Crisis Looming

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Mayor Glenn I. Berry resigned suddenly Tuesday, just ahead of a recall move against him, in what might trigger another crisis for Dowagiac's city government.

Berry, 59-year-old dentist who took office last spring, submitted his resignation to the city clerk. Shortly afterwards, leaders of the recall move against the mayor filed their petitions with the clerk.

★ ★ ★

The city council accepted Berry's resignation at a special meeting he called Tuesday night. Five of the six councilmen were present. Berry did not attend the meeting.

For the last six months Dowagiac's government has been in turmoil off and on, climaxed by the resignations of two councilmen.

CALLED ON ROMNEY

At one time Mayor Berry called on Gov. George Romney to help iron out what Berry called a municipal emergency and breakdown in government in this southwest Michigan city of 7,200 population.

Berry's resignation was terse.

"I hereby submit my resignation as mayor of the city of Dowagiac to take effect immediately."

★ ★ ★

He was unavailable for comment and his wife told newsmen "the doctor says he has no comment."

Councilman Calvin Davis, one of Berry's critics, followed him to the city hall and filed the recall petitions. Davis said he had 560 signatures, 56 more than the number required to force a recall election.

FIRST PUNCH

"We want to beat him to the punch in case he is trying to play some angles," Davis said. "A resignation doesn't mean anything in Dowagiac."

The recall petitions said in part that Berry had failed to show leadership and by his conduct in office had "harmed the image of the city to the detriment of its citizens."

★ ★ ★

The petitions also assailed Berry for having asked Gov. Romney to intercede.

Prior to the council's acceptance of Berry's resignation, Davis said it was "up to us to accept it. He'd have been thrown out anyway."

SHOWED SYMPATHY

Councilman Russell Lyon, appointed recently to fill a vacancy had indicated sympathy for Berry, calling him a "much misunderstood man."

"I think he resigned because he was becoming very discouraged."

★ ★ ★

As a result of earlier peacemaking, Dowagiac's troubles appeared to have been largely ended until Tuesday.

There had been no hint at Monday night's council meeting of Berry's action although he and Davis had a sharp disagreement over committee appointments.

Party politics has played no role in the troubles. Davis is a Democrat. The other five councilmen are Republicans.

Bank Investigated in Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A shortage possibly totaling $38,000 in "unauthorized overdrafts" and mishandling of bank money orders was disclosed Tuesday at the annual shareholders meeting of the suburban Wyoming State Bank.

★ ★ ★

Bank attorney William J. Halliday Jr. said fund misappropriations were under investigation by federal and state authorities on the possibility of legal action.

The overdrafts and mishandling of money orders began late in 1962, according to bank officials. Halliday said "we are reasonably certain we can recover the losses from the bank's bonding company."

Linen Leads Parade

Florence Spring Fashion Features Navy

By LOUISE HICKMAN
AP Fashion Writer

FLORENCE, Italy — An old technique transformed with Patrick de Barentzen's new "fresh look" was big news today at the Florence spring and summer fashion showings.

★ ★ ★

De Barentzen thrilled viewers this week with a collection featuring that old favorite, navy blue, for spring.

Once upon a time navy and spring were inseparable. They became such a dependable twosome that eventually the color lost its popularity.

NAVY AND WHITE

De Barentzen's collection was predominantly navy and white.

There was linen galore. Cap-sleeved linen dresses with scooped cowl necks and wide, soft calfskin belts for contrast. Skirts were straight but gentle.

★ ★ ★

Linen suits had long, fitted jackets and straight skirts, or short square jackets and smooth-hipped, pleated skirts.

De Barentzen's silhouette had points in common with that shown by Antonelli earlier in the day.

Close, high bodices rounded out in a long smooth line over the hips, particularly in the long jacket suits.

Princess Marcella Borghese, of cosmetic fame and now in fashion, designs this sleeveless dress in pink wool knit. Loosely fitting, the dress has an A line skirt. Ruffles of the same material form diagonal trim from hipline to hemline.

Fernanda Gattinoni of Rome lights up the night with this full length evening gown. White linen is offset by shimmering black satin. The last button is left unbuttoned, revealing the black lining of the skirt.

Some high-waisted coats had this look, too, but most were nearly a slim reefer, fitted and very slightly flared.

Long pea jackets ranged from black linen to white organdy.

★ ★ ★

The slender high-bosomed look was worked out variously for evening.

Empire bodices topped stiff cones or simple tubes.

There were long shaped tunics, skimming over narrow skirts, and curvy, willowy gored princess types.

★ ★ ★

The bosom-baring bodice slash looks like it's in. Antonelli liked it and so does De Barentzen.

Hats for the De Barentzen collection, by Monsieur Gilles, were crisp straw federas to match suits and coats, high, off-the-face gob hats in linen for linen dresses, and textured bushel basket cloches for late day.

★ ★ ★

Milan designer Biki showed on the same program. Her look was not so neatly defined.

Biki showed matching silk print shirt jackets, scarves and turbans as accessories for straight black sheaths.

★ ★ ★

Kimono-sleeved silk prints had shirred necklines and shirred straight skirts.

Cocktail costumes featured thick lace bodices and jackets, silk crepe skirts.

The five-day showings continue through Thursday.

This slightly fitted white linen suit embroidered with polka dots comes from Lucrezia of Florence. The suit is accented with a cowl necklined blouse and a black round brimmed hat of straw with grosgrain trim.

New Queen Leads Club

Heading committees are Linda Isenberg, Daleann Caswell, Carol McFarland, Wendy Bordeaux, Penny Stewart, Linda Green, Toni Wyrick, Jane Markum and Lynn Hatsel.

Teen Dance Held Sunday

A teen record hop is being sponsored at the CAI building from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday by the Community Activities Incorporated and two local disc jockeys.

Meet for Dinner

World War I Barracks No. 49 and Auxiliary met for a cooperative dinner at the American Legion home Sunday evening.

Election of officers for the coming year was held with installation to be Feb. 16.

Guests were present from Detroit, Birmingham and Davisburg.

WOMEN'S SECTION

A Solemn Oath

Quit Nagging Husband

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago my husband joined the Masons. At first I was very proud of him, but since his installation, which he refuses to tell me anything about, I have been miserable.

ABBY

He tells me it is a secret organization and he has given his solemn oath not to divulge the secrets of the lodge. I am terribly hurt.

★ ★ ★

In 16 years of marriage we have never had any secrets from each other. I have begged, wept and tried every approach I could think of, but he refuses to tell me a thing.

How can an organization which claims such high ideals justify building a barrier between a man and his wife?

★ ★ ★

I am so upset I don't know what to do.

MASON'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Simmer down and take pleasure in the knowledge that you are married to a man whose "solemn oath" means something.

★ ★ ★

And quit nagging and whining, or you'll lose your Mason by degrees.

DEAR ABBY: Should I let my hair grow?

PAUL

DEAR PAUL: I don't know how you can stop it.

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote and asked if she should send a sympathy card six weeks after a neighbor had lost a child. I was glad you advised against it. How right you were, Abby.

Twenty years ago my brother was killed in World War II.

When his body was sent home for burial my poor mother had to face many cruel and thoughtless people who told her that the coffin was probably filled with rocks instead of a body because some of the boys were blown to bits, and there was nothing to send home.

Mother had every holiday spoiled by people who sent her sympathy cards all year, such as "Sympathy at Christmas," and "Sympathy at Easter," and of all things, "Sympathy on your birthday"!

★ ★ ★

Each card "opened up an old wound" — to borrow a phrase from your column.

Sincerely,
"CHICAGOAN"

Division Director Interviewed

Camp Fire Girls Prepare for Modern Life

By JANET ODELL

"Part of woman's problem today is the complexity of her role. We in the Camp Fire Girls organization believe that a girl must accept her role as a woman and develop it to the greatest extent."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lou B. Paine, director Division of Field Service, was in town Tuesday for the annual meeting of the Pontiac Area Council. Before she spoke to some 400 guests at Pontiac Northern High School, we interviewed her.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Paine believes that girls require a different education than boys to fit them for their part in life. There should be no competition in their two roles.

The Camp Fire Girls' Law stresses "six active verbs and two states of being."

★ ★ ★

"We want girls to BE something and to DO something," said Mrs. Paine.

CAN CHOOSE

Sometimes the first chance a girl has to make her own decisions comes in a Camp Fire Girls group. She may be the only one with a project.

For that reason the program and its leaders must be flexible. There is non-authoritative discipline which does not demand, but desires.

Girls come before program.

OFFICERS ELECTED

At the dinner Tuesday evening Eldon Gardner was reelected president of the area council. Assisting him will be William Brace, vice president; Mrs. Robert Morse, secretary; and Richard Benham, treasurer.

★ ★ ★

Gifts of $1,000 each were given to trustees of the Camp Fire Girls permanent camp site by Karen Smith in behalf of the girls and their 1963 candy sale and Edward Ladd of the Civitan Club of Pontiac.

AWARD WINNERS

Seven persons received certificates of appreciation for outstanding contributions to the council. They were Mr. Brace, Mrs. Melvin Smith, Mrs. Roosevelt Wells, Mrs. Stuart Crandall, Mrs. Norbert Hoffman, Mrs. Charles Sayre and Mrs. Jasper Warden.

★ ★ ★

Newly elected board members were introduced: Donald Sinclair, Roosevelt Wells, Mrs. Donald DeVoe, Mrs. Richard Craig, Ned Colburn and B. C. VanKoughnett.

★ ★ ★

Reelected were Mrs. Thomas Atkinson, Mr. Brace, Mrs. Walter Noffsinger, Theodore Wiersema and John Kamego.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hiram Smith was in charge of dinner arrangements. John Wilson served as master of ceremonies.

★ ★ ★

The local council is a member-agency of the Pontiac Area United Fund. Mrs. Doris Beck is director.

No Set Rule for Friends at Farewell

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Last week friends of ours sailed to Europe for an extended trip. My husband and I were not asked to the boat to see them off and we felt very hurt about it.

When I mentioned this to my sister she said that friends are supposed to go on their own to bid farewell to those who are sailing. I always thought one waited to be invited.

★ ★ ★

When my husband and I went on a cruise a while back we asked our friends to come to the boat. Will you please tell me what is customary in this situation?

★ ★ ★

A: There is no set rule. Sometimes those going away give a party on board ship and invite guests to it. In this case, one would not go uninvited.

But if no party is given, intimate friends go to the ship as a matter of course without waiting to be asked to do so.

Details concerning the remarriage of a widow and divorcee are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Second Marriage." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Women graduates of these institutions are then eligible for membership in the local AAUW.

Learning the latest teen-age dance step isn't always easy, especially if you're an adult. Mrs. Thomas Thornberry of West Rundell Street gives a valiant try at learning from her son, Michael, a senior at St. Michael High School. Mr. Thornberry just tries to figure out what it's all about. All three will have a chance to give it a try at the "Winter Family Ball" Saturday evening, sponsored by the St. Michael Athletic Association.

St. Michael Dance to Be Family Style

Teenagers and their parents should have more opportunities to become better acquainted. With this thought in mind, St. Michael's Athletic Association is sponsoring a "Winter Family Ball" Saturday evening in the parish hall.

* * *

High school students and their dates will join their parents at the dance.

Sew Simple

Eunice Farmer Tells How to Sew Fur

Since so many of you have written me asking about fur trims, collars, cuffs and hats that you can make out of old coats, I am devoting detailed instructions for this. Please clip for future reference because I will not have the space to repeat!

Fur trimmings are the "thing" and can add a real touch of elegance to your garment without too much difficulty if you follow each and every direction carefully.

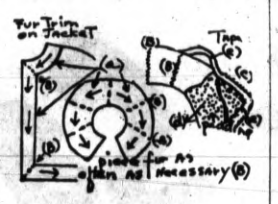
1. If you are making the collar the exact size of your garment collar, trim the seam allowance from the pattern. Mark your pattern with arrows showing the direction the hairs of the fur must run. In this way you will know when to piece the fur (a). For a collar, the hair runs from the center back toward the center front.

2. Lay the pattern on fur and cut one-fourth inch larger than pattern. (Cut the pelt only, with a very sharp razor blade, carefully avoid cutting the hairs of the fur.) Remember, whenever you have to piece the fur, add one-eighth inch extra to each side of piecing.

WHIP EDGES

3. Piece the fur together (b) by whipping the edges of the pelt together on wrong side, with tiny overcast stitches. Use heavy-duty, waxed thread.

4. After fur has been pieced, the seams must be flattened. Place on wooden board, fur side down, and firmly hammer the seam flat. From right side, carefully pull out the hairs of the fur from the seams, which will conceal the seaming.



5. Finish outer edges of the fur with narrow cotton tape whipped to the outer edges of the fur and then whip the inner edge to pelt (c). If you wish a fluffier, more luxurious looking trim, you may back the fur with lambswool which will produce a padded effect (d). This is held in place by catch-stitching the inner edge of the tape OVER the padding (e).

★ ★ ★

6. If you wish to remove the collar, make it slightly larger than the collar of your garment, line with a lining material and attach to garment with grippers. In this way, you can also use the collar on sweaters, collarless jackets, etc. If your collar is very large, you may slip stitch the roll-line of the collar to the roll line of the fur so the collar won't slip.

Please write me today! Your problems will help others. Letters cannot be answered personally, but will appear in this column according to their general interest.

Children's woolen gym socks won't dry out stiff after laundering if you add a couple of tablespoons of baking soda to both the wash and rinse water.

Still Boy(le) at Heart, Though

At 53, Not as Young as He Used to Be

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Something new is about to happen to mankind.

BOYLE

I'll soon be 53 years old, an age when the birthday candles are beginning to cost more than the cake.

One of my youthful associates, when I mentioned my forthcoming anniversary, said, "Tell us, Grandpa, what it is like to be a living mossback in your own time?"

★ ★ ★

Life insurance fellows quit trying to sell you on new 20-year endowment policies.

THE OBIT PAGE

When you open the newspaper, you turn first to the obituary page to see who lost before turning to the sports page to see who won.

It takes you longer to clear your throat when you wake up in the morning.

The face you see in the mirror when you shave looks more like your father and less like you.

You grumble because it costs you more now to have a pair of shoes resoled than you paid for the shoes when you went to high school.

HE CAN WAIT

When you get on an escalator, you stay on the same step until you have to get off.

Every promise a present politician makes leads you to recall another promise a past politician failed to keep.

Calvin Coolidge looms as one of the great statesmen of American history because he once said, "When a lot of people are out of work, unemployment results." This observation has never been successfully contradicted.

No matter how fast you move, you find more and more old ladies are beating you to a seat on the bus.

SOME FUN

You have more fun in reminiscing than you used to have in doing.

Along about this time of year the thing you most yearn to achieve is to see the first robin of spring.

You can remember more clearly the ruinous beauty of the girl you loved so desperately in kindergarten than the one you wooed and lost in college.

At the office you tend to discredit the views of any coworker who doesn't have a 25-year pin in his lapel.

You become reconciled to the fact that there are only two real wonder drugs—aspirin and sodium bicarbonate.

★ ★ ★

But if anyone asks you what is the best age in life, you have no doubt of the answer — it's the age you are. No one really knows what living is until he is almost 53. Everything before is only preamble.

Economics Bring End to Gabon's Assembly

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) — President Leon M'ba has dissolved Gabon's National Assembly in an effort to cut expenses in this West African country.

M'ba said another assembly with fewer members would be elected but he did not set the election date. Government sources said there is no crisis and the move was an economy measure.

Bad Knee Hospitalizes New Jersey Governor

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey has been admitted to a hospital in Trenton for treatment of a pain in his right leg.

The 54-year-old Democrat told newsmen the pain is a recurrence of phlebitis, inflammation in the back of his knee.

Party Turns to Mourning

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)— Grady Brumfield turned 9 yesterday. His family planned a birthday party to help him celebrate.

Grady went to school but was let out early because he had finished his tests for the day.

On his way home, the boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brumfield of suburban Metairie, was struck and killed by an automobile. Two schoolmates said he ran into the path of the vehicle.

The English gooseberry is about the size of a plum.

Noted Architect Dies

SUN CITY, Calif. (AP) — Harold Field Kellogg, 79, nationally prominent architect, died Monday. He came to California from Boston, where he had served as chairman of the board of the Boston Housing Authority and director of defense housing for the Federal Public Housing Authority.

Glenn Talks With Marines

Plans Retirement to Enter Ohio Politics

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Astronaut John H. Glenn set up conferences with Marine Corps personnel officers today about his plans to retire so he can seek the Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio.

Glenn said he would spend a good part of the day at Marine Corps headquarters here and probably would head back to the Manned Flight Center at Houston, Tex., late today.

He said he would not see President Johnson and would not have any political conferences during his one-day visit to the capital.

★ ★ ★

Glenn is a lieutenant colonel with 21 years of service in the Marine Corps. He is entitled to retire on a military pension equal to half of his base pay of $855 a month.

FIRST SPEECH

It was learned that Glenn's first major speech in Ohio as an aspirant for the senatorial nomination may come before one of the state's most conservative groups, which will pay him $1,000 for the privilege.

Glenn, who rocked party circles by challenging Sen. Stephen Young in the Democratic primary, has tentatively accepted an invitation to speak before the Ohio bankers' convention next month.

His appearance will be billed as "nonpolitical" and Glenn is expected to discuss the U.S. space program. But the political pros here see it as the start of his campaign.

★ ★ ★

Glenn will be paid $1,000 and expenses for making the speech, which probably will be reinvested in his primary battle against Young.

NO POLITICKING

He has told newsmen that he won't do any active politicking until he formally leaves the corps about March 1. Then he plans to wage an "intensive" campaign before the statewide primary on May 5.

★ ★ ★

Young has predicted he will win the showdown with the youthful challenger, a national hero of the space age but a newcomer to politics.

Red China Recognition Called NATO Setback

TOKYO (AP) — Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak said today French recognition of Communist China "constitutes a clear setback for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

Spaak is a former secretary general of NATO, of which Belgium is a founding member.

Ailing Engle Confuses California Politics

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—An ailing Democratic senator who won't give up has plunged California politics into a not uncommon state of confusion.

Voters remember Clair Engle in 1958 as a colorful, cigar-chewing campaigner who posed as a little old country boy. They liked him well enough to elect the seven-term cow-county congressman to the Senate over the then Republican governor, Goodwin J. Knight.

★ ★ ★

There was a different image—of a wan, hesitant figure—when the 52-year-old senator haltingly read a filmed television statement a couple of weeks ago announcing he was going to run again.

The great change was brought on by an illness that required brain surgery. It has created a worrisome problem for the state's majority Democrats and propounded some perplexing questions.

SIGNS OF SCRAMBLE

The uncertainty over Engle's health has stirred unmistakable signs of a scramble for the Senate nomination in both parties whether he stays in or gets out. The primary election is June 2.

Until he was stricken, Engle appeared unbeatable. An incumbent with a Democratic registration bulge of one million really didn't have much to worry about. No major Republican challenge was in sight.

★ ★ ★

Now, even close friends as well as state party leaders feel Engle ought to retire. They're convinced he isn't physically fit to run. They're fearful the Democrats will lose his seat if he does and plainly upset over prospects of opposing anyone in his condition.

Engle insists," "I'm in the race to stay." But his withdrawal wouldn't solve the Democratic. dilemma. The party with all its factions, hasn't agreed on any candidate to take Engle's place and a bitter primary clash might result.

GOP TAKES AIM

Republicans, who yielded state political control in 1958, already are lining up to take aim on the Senate job. They've wasted no time in twitting Democrats for the asserted attempt to pressure Engle out of the way.

California's other senator, Thomas H. Kuchel, a Republican, was reelected in 1962.

★ ★ ★

Engle, who underwent exploratory brain surgery in Washington Aug. 24, has been given until Friday by a state Democratic committee to produce medical records of his case.

★ ★ ★

His public appearances since leaving the hospital have been rare. Once he showed up in a wheel chair. He has carried a cane in his left hand and his right arm has been in a sling.

POOR CONDITION

Eugene L. Wyman, Democratic state chairman, said flatly that the senator "is not in any condition to campaign."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who saw Engle the same weekend, got the same impression.

★ ★ ★

Two Republicans with no previous election exposure have entered the race. One is former movie actor George Murphy, 59, who has been active in politics for 25 years. The other, a political unknown, is Lee Kaiser, a San Francisco financier and a supporter of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Other Republicans may get into the primary.

CONSERVATIVE SIDE

Former Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell of Los Angeles, a self-styled conservative who opposed Richard M. Nixon for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in 1962, is "considering."

Former Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco, defeated by Knight in the 1958 Senate primary, and State Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael also have shown interest.

No Democrat has jumped in as yet and probably won't until the question of Engle's health is clarified. Three big political names in the state lead the list of possible contenders. They are:

State Controller Alan Cranston, 49, a former national president of United World Federalists and founding president of the 100,000-member California Democratic Council. He led the Democratic ticket in 1962.

POPULAR JUDGE

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, 51, a former Los Angeles County Superior Court judge who outpolled all other candidates in winning his present post in 1958.

Rep. James Roosevelt, 56, eldest son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. An unsuccessful candidate for governor against the future Chief Justice Earl Warren in 1950, he was first elected to Congress from Los Angeles in 1954.

South Dakota to Vote on Antipoll Tax Bill

PIERRE, S.D. (AP)—The antipoll tax amendment to the U.S. Constitution goes before the South Dakota Senate Thursday with the unanimous approval of the Senate State Affairs Committee.

The amendment, previously ratified by 37 states, becomes effective as soon as South Dakota ratifies it. The South Dakota House approved it 52-18 last Friday, and the Senate is expected to follow suit.

Drivers put an average of $20,000 a day into New York City parking meters.

Injuries Kill Man, 53

MARQUETTE (AP)—Norman Anderson, 53, of Marquette died Tuesday of injuries sustained Sunday in an auto crash on US41 near here. Arvid Johnson, 59, of Marquette was killed outright in the mishap. Both men were riding in a car driven by Anderson's wife, Jesse.

There are 6,300 vending companies in this country, making the industry one of the most rapidly-growing in the nation.

Divorce Increases Most

Court Case Backlog Bigger Than Ever

By JIM DYGERT

If every suit filed in Circuit Court were to come to trial, Oakland County would need about 70 judges instead of seven.

That's one message to be found in court statistics, such as those for 1963 compiled by the office of County Clerk-Register David R. Calhoun.

Two others are:

Addition of two new judges in September has yet to take effect in reducing the backlog of cases. Although fewer new cases were started in 1963 than in 1962, the backlog is bigger than ever.

★ ★ ★

• The number of divorce cases being filed is increasing faster than any other type of case.

DIVORCE TRIAL

Although 7,289 cases of all types were disposed of during 1963, only 513 were resolved by trial. There would be 14 times as many trials if all cases were tried.

This would presumably require 98 judges (14 times 7), but this is adjusted to a rough estimate of 70 to take into account that a judge's time is also required to varying extents in cases completed without trial.

Many are settled out of court or in pretrial proceedings, often in judicial chambers.

★ ★ ★

Some civil cases are dismissed for lack of progress, however, or otherwise disposed of without taking much judicial time.

CRIMINAL CASES

More than 85 per cent of the 504 criminal cases were completed through guilty pleas or otherwise without trial. More than 90 per cent of the 2,903 divorce suits disposed of were processed routinely without contest.

The backlog of cases grew larger because the number of cases completed in 1963, as in previous years, was exceeded by new cases begun, even though the number of new cases dropped from 1962.

A total of 7,744 new cases were started last year, compared to 7,870 in 1962, a drop of 126.

But cases completed dropped even more, from 7,835 in 1962 to 7,289 in 1963, despite the addition of two judges.

As a result, the judges had 7,921 cases pending at the end of 1963 compared to 7,466 at the end of 1962.

New court rules instituted in 1963 by the State Supreme Court have been blamed by the judges for the difficulty in reducing the backlog.

★ ★ ★

The requirement of a pretrial conference in all civil cases has slowed down procedures, they have said.

Divorce suits outnumbered all other categories.

In cases completed in 1963, there were 2,903 divorces to 504 criminal, 994 automobile negligence and 2,888 other civil cases.

The margin was even greater in new cases filed, which included 3,070 divorce, 676 criminal, 1,053 auto negligence, and 2,945 other civil suits.

15 Years Imprisonment for Convicted Robber

DETROIT (AP) — Frederick J. Deering, 37, of Royal Oak, was sentenced to 15 years in prison Tuesday by Federal Judge Theodore Levin in Detroit. Deering and an accomplice, Willard Brewer, 30, of Roseville, pleaded guilty in the $28,000 robbery of a Detroit savings and loan association last July 31. Brewer was given the same sentence earlier.

Tanker Safe at Sea; Now Being Towed

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — The Coast Guard reported today that a disabled British tanker, Federal Monarch, apparently was out of danger in mild seas with the cutter Acushnet standing by.

The 700-foot vessel wallowed helplessly in heavy seas about 10 miles southeast of Portland for a time last night with 43 crewmen aboard.

★ ★ ★

However, seas were reported only 2 to 3 feet today and expected to stay that way until a tugboat arrived to help the Acushnet tow the tanker to Portland.

Grateful Clerk Dines

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Quote of the day: Mrs. Eleanor Westrate, clerk of Comstock Township, Mich., and a housewife, explaining why she didn't list meals on her expense account for an out-of-town meeting: "It was such a pleasure to eat out that I didn't want to charge the township for it."

Battle Against Discrimination

Rights Bill Would Grant New Federal Power to Act

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Following is the last of three dispatches on the pending civil rights bill, examine the most controversial provisions, with arguments for and against each. Today's dispatch deals with sections on nondiscriminatory use of federal funds and granting of new powers to federal officials to act in civil rights disputes.

By ARNOLD B. SAWISLAK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A principal effect of the civil rights bill now awaiting congressional action would be to give the federal government strong new duties and powers to fight discrimination.

Federal officials were given some new powers by both the 1957 and 1960 civil rights acts, but their main thrust was to provide new remedies for citizens who believe their rights have been abridged.

The pending bill has some provisions of that sort, but in addition it would push the federal government itself squarely into the arena.

★ ★ ★

Foremost of these proposals are sections of the bill that would seek to stop discriminatory practices in the use of federal aid funds by states and localities and give federal authorities power to take a larger role in civil rights court cases.

PROVISIONS MESH

In some cases, these provisions mesh with other sections of the sweeping measure that would attempt to eliminate discrimination in voting, education, employment and the use of privately-owned public accommodations.

FEDERAL FUNDS

The federal government pays out billions of dollars yearly to states and localities to operate various types of aid programs.

Efforts of civil rights advocates in the past to cut off funds being used in a discriminatory way have failed.

The pending bill would provide a new approach.

Here are its provisions and arguments for and against them.

EQUAL BENEFITS

Purpose: To assure that no citizen is denied the benefits of federally financed programs because of race, color or national origin.

Coverage: Programs operating with federal grants, loans and contracts.

Provisions: All existing legal authority for "separate but equal" or other discriminatory practices in administering federal aid programs would be repealed. Federal agencies in charge of the various programs would be directed to make rules and regulations or issue orders to carry out the nondiscrimination policy.

★ ★ ★

Enforcement: Agencies would be empowered to seek compliance through negotiation, use of administrative power already conferred by law or termination of further fund payments.

NO CUTOFF

No aid may be cut off without notice, and persons or governmental units affected by cutoff orders may appeal such decisions to court.

Cutoffs may affect only the programs in which discrimination is practiced.

Arguments for: Supporters say the Constitution clearly forbids racial discrimination by any unit of government and that equity demands that tax funds collected from all taxpayers regardless of race be disbursed in the same way.

★ ★ ★

They point out that unlike past anti-discrimination proposals requiring immediate fund cutoffs the provision gives federal agencies power to negotiate for voluntary compliance or seek other remedies.

They cite the right of court review of cutoff order as ample protection against arbitrary action by federal officials.

Arguments against: Opponents call the section the harshest and most radical departure from good government.

They contend that it would affect far more programs than admitted because government insurance and guaranty program, including commodity supporters, housing and bank deposit insurance, involve contracts.

★ ★ ★

They charge that the section gives federal officials too much power and practically unlimited funds for "sociological manipulation."

UNFAIR PUNISHMENT

They argue that cutting off federal aid funds punishes those who have engaged in discrimination no more than those who have not.

CIVIL RIGHTS SUITS

Part III of the 1957 civil rights bill would have given the Justice Department blanket authority to file civil rights suits on its own initiative.

The power, except in voting cases, was cut out of the bill, but its supporters have been trying to get it into law since.

The pending bill would grant Part III powers in several specific types of rights cases, and give the Justice Department a statute under which to file suits in the name of the U.S. government.

★ ★ ★

Provisions: The Justice Department could initiate suits to eliminate discrimination in public accommodations, and to desegregate public schools and publicly owned facilities, such as parks, playgrounds, swimming pools, libraries, and golf courses when it determines that aggrieved individuals cannot start action themselves.

FEDERAL INTERVENTION

The Justice Department could intervene — that is make the government a party to a suit started by an individual — in all other cases alleging denial of equal protection of the law because of race, color, religion or national origin.

This section could apply to alleged police brutality against civil rights demonstrators.

Arguments for: Supporters of the section say desegregation of public schools and facilities, though called for in numerous court decisions, has gone slowly because many Negroes cannot afford the cost or the consequences of lawsuits.

They say the government, now restricted to the legal role of "Friend of the Court" in rights cases outside of voting, should do more to uphold the constitutional rights of its citizens.

POLITICAL ADVANTAGE

Arguments against: Opponents say the new provisions would give powers to a national administration that would result in legal prosecutions for political advantage.

★ ★ ★

They contend that the new authority to intervene in rights cases would give the Justice Department no less power than an across-the-board Part III provision opposed as too broad by Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy himself.

★ ★ ★

They object to making the government a "free lawyer for private litigants."

NMU Gets Grant for Scholarships

MARQUETTE (AP)—A check for $100,000 was presented Northern Michigan University Tuesday from the Ellen K. Russell estate.

★ ★ ★

Publisher Frank J. Russell of the Marquette Mining Journal, stepson of Mrs. Russell and an estate coexecutor, and Homer Milton, also a coexecutor, presented the check to the NMU Board of Control. Mrs. Russell was the widow of the late publisher Frank J. Russell.

★ ★ ★

The $100,000 was the first payment from a $140,000 bequest to the university to be used for scholarships for the next several years. In later years, at the board's discretion, the principal may be used for NMU construction or other purposes.

Woman Dies in Crash

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Mrs. Flora Goldsmith, 56, of Vicksburg died Tuesday in a two-car collision southeast of Kalamazoo. Deputies said she may have fallen asleep at the wheel, or suffered a heart attack.

Solons Eye Projects to Bolster Economy

LANSING (AP)—Thirteen research projects that would cost $480,055 in a program to bolster Michigan's economy are being considered by the House Economic Development Committee.

Six Michigan colleges and universities submitted the proposed projects in a resolution to the committee Tuesday. Lawmakers were asked to approve spending the $480,055 from $750,000 in authorized funds.

★ ★ ★

One project would involve research into a possible plant to treat wood grown in Michigan with preservatives for use as posts, rails and poles. Another would survey the reasons and possible solutions in a decline in machinery and fabricated metal products industries in the state. Other ideas involve the tourist, furniture and pulpwood industries, and studies are asked of resource and trade development.

Michigan State University asked $11,500 for providing data "to assure the success of a new wood preserving plant treating state-grown and harvested timber."

MSU researchers said there is a market in Michigan for treated posts, particularly for guard rails, and these are currently treated outside Michigan, using timber cut in the deep South.

★ ★ ★

A new wood-treating plant in Michigan would result in new jobs "at the treating plant and to an even greater extent in the supporting woods operation." The report mentions forest stands in the upper and northern lower peninsulas.

Another entry, by The University of Michigan, calls attention to "recent relative declines in the second and third largest industries in the state — machinery and fabricated metal products."

U of M asks $50,000 to explore limitations on existing production processes and to report on new processes. The study also would attempt to get existing producers into new markets.

JFK Library Gains Support

More Than $2 Million Thus Far Contributed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for a President John F. Kennedy Library are meeting enthusiastic public approval and support, a spokesman for the project said today.

More than $2 million of the needed $10 million has been received — including a $1-million primer from the Kennedy Foundation. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, a brother of the late president, has said the family hopes the fund-raising drive will be over in six months.

★ ★ ★

The thousands of letters from a public which mourned Kennedy's death — he was assassinated two months ago today — bear witness to the support for the library to be built near Harvard University.

Contributions have ranged from $1 to $50,000.

'ONLY A TOKEN'

"It is only a token. But I wish to know I placed a single brick in this edifice," an Illinois man said in a scrawled note to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the late president. He sent $200.

"Sorry this can't be more (than a dollar)," a Los Angeles man wrote Mrs. John F. Kennedy, "but due to an attack of polio in 1916 I am unable to hold down a job."

★ ★ ★

"Instead of using my birthday money enclosed ($8) for birthday presents, I want it to be used for the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library," an 8-year-old Chicago boy told the attorney general in a letter. "Each birthday of mine, I hope to be able to increase my present to the library."

Many writers have expressed the hope that the library will be available to them and their families — not just to students. They are being assured that after the library is completed with public funds, it will be turned over to the federal government and will be open to the public.

FAMILY FINDS

In addition to the contributions sent to the president's widow and his two brothers, others have been sent to the White House and the United Nations; the late president's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, and his brothers-in-law, Steven Smith and Sargent Shriver.

These gifts ultimately find their way to the central chest, the library spokesman said. But for convenience, he urged the use of a common address: Kennedy Library, Box 2500, Boston, Mass.

African Revolt Called 'Minor'

Tanganyika President Seeks to Calm Nation

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—Tanganyika's President Julius Nyerere, seeking to calm a turbulent situation, says the mutiny by army units Monday was only a small incident.

★ ★ ★

With relative quiet restored in Dar es Salaam, the capital, Nyerere appealed to the nation in a broadcast Tuesday night not to repeat the "great shame" of looting and wrecking that followed the revolt.

Nyerere, whose rise to power had been accompanied by a minimum of nationalistic passion, dismissed speculation he had been deposed or fled.

ASKS NO PANIC

He asked the East African nation of 9 million not to panic in the aftermath of violence that killed at least 14 persons and injured scores.

Nyerere said many persons, Africans as well as non-Africans, had done things that were dangerous. He said some thought the mutiny gave them license to break into homes and loot them.

★ ★ ★

"They thought there was no government," he said, "but after a short while they were dealt with."

The Tanganyika high commissioner's office in London said the country had returned to normal. It said "stories that the Tanganyika army has taken over the government are unfounded."

★ ★ ★

The principal effect of the mutiny appear to be the dismissal of 30 British officers and 16 British noncoms on loan to Tanganyika to train and lead the army. The mutineers demanded better pay and replacement of the British with Africans.

Noted Actor Dies at Home at Age of 67

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joseph Schildkraut, the Vienna - born actor who achieved fame on the Broadway stage and in Hollywood, collapsed at his apartment here and died last night, police reported. He was 67.

Schildkraut's wife Leonora was present at the time of his collapse, police said. Death came about 8:30 p.m. EST.

The pinnacle of Schildkraut's career came in his stage and screen roles as Otto in "The Diary of Anne Frank." The stage version played from 1955-57, and the film was made in 1959.

His first theatrical success was in "Liliom," in 1921. Between that time and his recent success, he played a number of film roles, winning two Oscars, and held a number of stage roles in productions from Shakespeare to Alice in Wonderland.

Born the son of Rudolph Schildkraut, another famed actor, Schildkraut became an American citizen in 1926. He maintained a residence in Beverly Hills, Calif.

His widow, the former Leonora Rogers, was his third wife. He previously had been married to Elise Bartlett, whom he divorced, and Mary McCay, who died several years ago.

Economic Development Theme

Planners Set Confab at OU

"The Prerequisites for Oakland County's Economic Development" is the theme for a spring planning conference at Oakland University April 30, County Planning Director George N. Skrubb announced today.

He described the prerequisites as transportation, public works, open space for recreation and conservation, and the ingredients of economic growth.

These ingredients, said Skrubb, are population, land use and industry.

★ ★ ★

The prerequisites will be discussed by those attending the conference in work shop sessions, drawing on the experience of local planners and developers.

SECOND CONFERENCE

A similar conference held at the university in 1962 was attended by more than 400 persons. They included local government officials from cities, villages and townships and many private citizens.

Discussion on transportation will cover air and land travel facilities, and possibly the effects of the St. Lawrence Seaway on overseas shipments originating from Oakland County, said Skrubb.

He said the establishment of flood plains and lake levels would be covered under public works, as well as water, sewage and drainage projects.

★ ★ ★

A keynote speaker for the conference has yet to be named. According to Skrubb, the speaker probably will be a business leader in the county.

TO HOST CONFERENCE

The spring conference is being planned by the Oakland County Planning Commission.

The commission is seeking an economic development program to attract new business and industry to the area.

Efforts so far have been stymied by a lack of state laws which would enable the county to enter into such a program.

The County Board of Supervisors is supporting new legislation to make an economic development program possible.

Urge Tolls Kept Stable on Seaway

CHICAGO (AP) — Directors of the International Association of Great Lakes ports urged Tuesday that maximum tolls for freight movements through the St. Lawrence Seaway be held at present levels or reduced. They also urged consideration be given to extending the shipping season.

★ ★ ★

The moves are designed to boost the volume of shipping to and from Great Lakes ports through the St. Lawrence Seaway.

★ ★ ★

The directors also voted support of a Senate bill that would provide government subsidies for shipbuilding in Great Lakes ports on an equal basis with Atlantic and Gulf ports.

CURRENT SEASON

The shipping season on the Great Lakes currently runs from April 15 to Dec. 1. The directors contended that when weather permits the season might run from April 1 to December 11. It urged feasibility studies be made.

The seaway tolls for Great Lakes shipping were set five years ago and come up for review this year. The directors said another review of tolls be made five years from now because the seaway has not been fully developed and numerous port channels still are below seaway depth.

Thrifty Trip

Legislative Frugality

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, says fellow Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, practices—as well as preaches—frugality with state funds.

Beadle, as head of the Senate Appropriations Committee, stressed thrift during legislative budget hearings when state agency heads presented their requests.

Lockwood, a member of Beadle's committee, has just finished a tour of state institutions with the committee. Such tours, in the past, were considered an opportunity to live well on a state expense account.

★ ★ ★

Here was Lockwood's report yesterday:

"I don't think this whole two-week tour will cost the state $100 for the expenses of 10 committee members.

STATE INSTITUTIONS

"We eat at state institutions, sleep at state institutions, and then we inspect state institutions.

"You can get pretty tired of institutional cooking and institutional sleeping quarters.

"Even when Sen. Beadle cannot arrange state sleeping quarters, he holds the lid on expenses. We stayed at a motel one night and there weren't even television or telephones in the rooms."

★ ★ ★

Lockwood added that he left the committee for a few days of the tour to live "in the manner to which I have become accustomed."

Ex-County GOP Aide Blasts Romney

LANSING (UPI) — A national magazine carried today a strong attack on Gov. George Romney authored by an Avon Township Republican who once served as public relations director for the GOP in Romney's home county of Oakland.

Charles A. Ferry, writing in "The New Republic," a liberal-oriented magazine, called Romney a "self-righteous, fiercely ambitious man with a bad temper and a messianic sense of destiny."

Ferry, 38, of 165 Wimpole worked for the Oakland County GOP when Arthur G. Elliott Jr. was county GOP chairman. Elliot, now state Republican chairman, was Romney's campaign manager in 1962.

★ ★ ★

Ferry and former State Sen. John Stahlin of Belding are currently defendants in a million - dollar libel suit brought by Richard Durant, controversial conservative chairman of the 14th Congressional District GOP in Wayne County.

Ferry was public relations director for Stahlin in the senator's unsuccessful try for the 1962 GOP lieutenant governor nomination. Previously, Ferry was a research assistant for the constitutional convention.

In his article, Ferry also wrote:

"His program to straighen out Michigan's tangled tax structure — the main plan of his governorship — ended in a sorry wreck without even coming to a vote.

"His administration has been plagued by conflict, confusion and contradiction, and at times he has seemed incapable of coping with simple arithmetic."

NEATLY DIVIDED

In his attack, Ferry said Romney "has oversimplified horse - opera sense of morality which neatly divided the world into good guys and bad guys."

Ferry said Romney had "an unshakable conviction of the rightness of anything he undertakes, which permits him to rationalize personal inconsistency and contradiction. When something goes wrong, Romney tends to look around irritably for a scapegoat."

In addition to sniping at Romney for his failure to achieve fiscal reform, the article also jumped the governor because the state did not qualify for participation in the federal program for Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADC-U) under the bill Romney proposed to the legislature.

After the legislation was rejected by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare on grounds of being discriminatory, the governor, Ferry said, "told newsmen the real trouble was that federal laws had been changed, presumably clandestinely, before Michigan's bill was passed — a statement which was patently untrue."

This year the governor intends to ask revision of last year's ADC-U act, and Ferry termed this a reluctant surrender to federal officials.

In the area of tax reform, the article, called "George Romney Gone Bust," claimed the governor at first blamed both Republicans and Democrats for the failure of his program, but now puts the fault on the Democrats entirely.

To Consider Land Sale in Waterford

Waterford Township Board of Education members tomorrow night will consider selling a portion of the school system's new junior high school site between Walton and Loon Lake.

Possible use of the property fronting the lake as a park area has been discussed by the Waterford Township Planning Commission.

Robert Dieball, township planning director, and Robert Lawyer, director of the Waterford Township Recreation Department, both will be present at the meeting.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the school board will review the budget for the proposed new junior high school. Construction is slated to begin this spring with completion earmarked for Sept., 1965.

ALSO ON AGENDA

Also slated for board consideration is the appointment of a field superintendent to work with architects and contractors involved in the school system's building program.

The job would have a duration of two years.

Board members also are expected to designate a representative from the board to attend the next meeting of the Waterford Education Association salary committee.

A resolution to hold the Feb. 20 regular board meeting at Houghton Elementary School also is on the agenda.

Viet Nam Epidemic Boosts Deaths to 100

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's cholera epidemic had claimed more than 100 lives by today — most of them in Saigon. More than 1,000 cholera cases were reported from Saigon hospitals.

Nearly 2 million people have been given cholera inoculations in Saigon since the first cases were reported Jan. 7. The U.S. aid mission announced it had placed orders for 7 million additional doses.

Writer Ends Hassle With Daughter

LONDON (AP) — Author Somerset Maugham has settled his dispute with Lady John Hope, the daughter he tried to disown, for 100,000 pounds ($280,000).

Maugham and Lady Hope issued a cryptic joint statement today saying all differences between them have been settled.

The statement gave no details but Lady Hope told newsmen she was getting 100,000 pounds for renouncing any claims against her father's estate.

★ ★ ★

Maugham, who will be 90 Saturday, lives on the French Riviera. In April 1962 he sold 35 French impressionist paintings at auction for $1.46 million and a month later Lady John sued the auctioneers for $648,900 of the proceeds, claiming nine of the paintings were hers.

FILED PETITION

In December 1962 Maugham filed a petition in a French court to adopt Alan Searle, his secretary for 35 years.

The petition also asserted that Lady Hope, now 48, was not his legal daughter because she was born while his late wife, the decorator Syrie Bernado, was still married to her previous husband. She and Maugham were married in 1917, two years after the birth of Lady Hope.

Maugham demanded the return of paintings and other gifts he had made to Lady Hope worth $2 million.

★ ★ ★

Last July a court in Nice threw out the petition, asserting that Maugham's autobiographical book "Looking Back" admitted he was Lady Hope's father.

★ ★ ★

The action annulled Maugham's adoption of Searle, now 60-ish.

Order Clinton River Work to Avoid Freeway Delay

Acting to avoid a possible construction delay on the proposed M59 freeway in Pontiac, the City Commission last night ordered plans for improvements to the Clinton River from Union to Opdyke.

A contract with Jones, Henry & Williams, of Toledo, the city's consulting engineers, was approved by a 5-1 vote.

Commissioner Loy L. Ledford opposed the contract on grounds that some of its terms were too costly.

★ ★ ★

He asserted that engineers were being paid double for any extra services performed under a clause that obligated the city to pay them $100 per day "plus 100 per cent."

Voting for the contract were Mayor Robert A. Landry and Commissioners Winford E. Bottom, William H. Taylor, Charles H. Harmon and Dick M. Kirby.

The State Highway Department had requested that the city decide what improvements it would install east of the present Clinton River Drain Project last November.

Final drawings for freeway bridges can't be done until the state knows if the river will remain at its present width, or will be widened.

★ ★ ★

The engineering contract is for $53,000 plus any costs incurred for additional time and work requested by the city.

CONTRACTS SLATED

The M59 freeway links the Perimeter Road with the I-75 freeway. Contracts are presently slated to be awarded in April and August.

The city plans to apply for a federal planning grant to pay all or part of the engineering cost, and may ask for a Public Works Acceleration grant to pay half the construction cost.

★ ★ ★

City Attorney William A. Ewart and City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling said the contract was "a standard agreement" and that the fees charged were "no different from any other firm."

GOP Endorses Dem Proposal

Asks Joint Effort to Inform the Electorate

A bipartisan effort to keep voters informed, proposed last week by a local Democratic leader, has received the endorsement of County Republican Chairman Charles L. Lyle.

But Lyle adds that he thinks Democrats "ought to go all the way" with the idea.

"Why can't Republicans present their side along with the Democratic party's views in the UAW newspaper?" Lyle asked.

★ ★ ★

"There's no effort toward objective reporting in the union newspaper," he said.

GOOD IDEA

Lyle said he thought a proposal last week by James M. McNeely, county deputy Democratic chairman, was a good one.

McNeely urged the GOP to join in a search for ways "of increasing participation of the electorate in the political process."

Lyle said he would be happy to work with Democratic leaders to develop such a program.

★ ★ ★

He also said he would be interested in McNeely's suggestions of speaking appearances and mailings of statements by rival candidates under the sponsorship of professional, service, civic, church, school, social and other voluntary clubs.

GOP VOTERS

"I can understand their interest in such a bipartisan program," Lyle said, "since they're talking about Republican voters."

★ ★ ★

"But I've always felt that when voters have a chance to compare the two points of view, we Republicans will come out on top," Lyle said.

Youth Faces Driving Charge

An 18-year-old Pontiac youth, arrested yesterday after allegedly forcing his way into the car of an Avondale High student and driving away, was to have been arraigned in Municipal Court today on a charge of having no operator's license.

Norman Neidrick, 50 N. Jessie, was stopped by Pontiac police after they had been alerted to be on the lookout for the car.

Sheriff detectives have asked Pontiac police to return Neidric to them for questioning in connection with the earlier incident.

★ ★ ★

Phillip Chamberlain, 17, of 3795 Brimfield, Pontiac Township, told police he was sitting in a car in the school parking lot when Neidrick jumped in and drove off.

OTHERS ARRAIGNED

Pontiac police said in addition to the no operator license charge Neidrick and two companions, Roy Wagner, 25, of 392 S. Edith, and Dennis Obery, 18, of 199 East Boulevard South, also were to be arraigned today on disorderly and profane charges, which were brought by a woman.

Neidrick's address yesterday was erroneously reported as 50 S. Jessie.

James Oglethorpe settled Georgia in 1733 as a refuge for English debtors.

Area Man Will Head Barry Group

A Royal Oak businessman has been named director of the Michigan Goldwater Committee for the 18th Congressional District in Oakland County.

He is Robert F. Smith of 2419 Hawkins, a Republican who has served as precinct delegate and state convention delegate.

Smith's appointment was announced by Creighton D. Holden, state chairman of the Michigan Goldwater Committee, organized to back the candidacy of U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

★ ★ ★

Smith said he surveyed some 150 county Republicans last fall and found two-thirds of them favoring Goldwater.

BACKED ROMNEY

Smith backed George Romney for governor in 1962.

The 18th Congressional District, which took in the entire county until this year, now has the county area south of Pontiac and east of Inkster Road.

Second Graders Tackle World of Art

By L. GARY THORNE

Amid giggles, enthused shouts and gleeful shrieks, a group of second graders at Crofoot School tackled the world of art last week with all the energy of football players.

Mrs. Ruth Rigotti, their teacher, equipped her excited charges with water paints and brushes. Most of the youngsters donned smocks for the art exercise. Like car mechanics, it is almost impossible for kids to paint and not get dirty.

Instructed to paint either a picture of themselves or a likeness of the teacher, the youngsters, mostly 7-year-olds, accomplished their lesson in record time — average time appeared to be about five minutes.

★ ★ ★

Some of the young pupils initially professed "I can't" attitudes, but Mrs. Rigotti gently persuaded them to try.

"Artists are made, not born," she said.

TEACHER APPROVAL

The 27 second graders vied for Mrs. Rigotti's approval of their work. They raced up to her with each finished picture and proudly showed it, watching her reaction closely.

Amazingly the teacher never disappointed them. Without the slightest hesitation she would name off what was pictured and offer further encouragement.

Fellow classmates were not so kind. Loud laughter greeted some of the finished water colors.

★ ★ ★

However, none of the youngsters seemed to mind the crude evaluation by his colleagues, no doubt secure in the approval of their teacher.

Pontiac Press Photos by Edward R. Noble

PAINTED THE TEACHER—Mark Threets, 7, proudly but self-consciously presented his portrait of Mrs. Ruth Rigotti. He received an approving hug from the second grade instructor. Mark's eager classmates lined behind him to show their art work to the teacher.

BRIGHT COLORS—Bold, bright colors were the favorites of 8-year-old Bonnie Howell. Young Bonnie, deep in concentration, painted a picture of herself with a steady hand. She filled in each of the tiny squares (just below the brush) with careful, sure strokes.

BLACK CAT — Smock-attired Connie Nealis, 7, favored light colors, but managed a deep black for this cat. Young artists, like the older variety, also enjoy recognition. Here, Connie is smiling at the kind words of Mrs. Rigotti.

PAINTED HERSELF — Checking on her likeness, Laura Miller, 7, looked in a mirror to see if her picture matched up. Laura, who appears to have an on-looker in the background, painted a bright image of herself.

GOING HOME — Rose Isenberg, 7, bundles up to take her art work home. No doubt further praise and encouragement await her there. It is not unusual for 7-year-olds to pick a prominent place (in the middle of the dinner table) to display their initial works of art.

PAINTED THE PHOTOGRAPHER—Bonita Sheffield, 7, pulled a switch. Press Photographer Edward R. Noble ended up on the business end of Bonita's paint brush. Noble declined to state whether it was an accurate picture.

Official Sees 8 Million Auto Sales

CLEVELAND (AP) — "The state of the automotive industry economy is excellent, and this may well be the year when sales pass the 8 million total," a Commerce Department official said here Tuesday.

Frank L. Barton, deputy undersecretary of commerce for transportation, spoke at the opening session of a one-day seminar on the automotive industry at John Carroll University. The school and the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce are co-sponsoring the seminar.

Barton said tax-cut legislation now before Congress could be "the stimulus for the automotive industry to reach that magic 8 million record this year."

★ ★ ★

He said the "most immediate foreign trade problem facing us arises from Canada's recent adoption of a rebate scheme to stimulate its automotive exports." Barton said Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges opposes the plan and believes it could "do considerable damage to some of our independent parts manufacturers."

★ ★ ★

"We recognize Canada desires to redress its balance of payments deficit," Barton said, "But it is our belief that effective solution to these problems are seldom possible through unilateral action..."

Spaak Raps De Gaulle for China Action

TOKYO (AP) — Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak complained today because France had not consulted her North Atlantic allies before deciding to recognize Communist China.

Spaak told a news conference President Charles de Gaulle's decision "constitutes a clear setback to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization" because de Gaulle had ignored the agreement among NATO powers to consult each other before making decisions on important matters.

The manner of the French action, he said, "will diminish the cohesion of the western powers."

★ ★ ★

"I agree 100 per cent with United States policy toward relaxation of tension, and nothing should be done to weaken this policy," Spaak said.

Spaak is visiting Japan with King Baudoin and Queen Fabiola.

Pontiac City Affairs

Airport Pact OK'd

The City Commission last night approved a contract with Robert G. Peckham of Lansing for engineering services in connection with planned improvements at Pontiac Municipal Airport this year.

Peckham is the city's consulting engineer for airport improvements.

This year's program is estimated to cost $146,000, with the city paying $36,500 of the total.

★ ★ ★

The state's share is also $36,500 with $73,000 allocated for the project in federal funds.

FINAL PLANS

Peckham will prepare the final plans for 5 per cent of construction costs and supervise the project for a 5.5 per cent fee.

Included in the 1964 program is construction of a fence from the terminal building to Airport Road, preventing motor vehicles from driving out onto aircraft taxiways and ramps.

An aricraft parking ramp between hangars No. 1 and No. 2 is to be widened and paved. The south taxiway, which runs from the east-west taxiway to the commercial hangar area, is also scheduled for widening.

A new form for aircraft parking rental agreements was also okayed by commissioners last night. The change is only in form, not in rates, according to Homer Hoskins, airport manager.

AGREEMENT

In other business, commissioners approved a right - of-way agreement with the Oakland County Drain Commission for the Clinton River Drain.

The agreement outlines right-of-way to be granted by the city for installation of underground drainage pipes through the central business district.

Urban renewal lands and city-owned properties, including a municipal parking lot, are involved.

★ ★ ★

The method of construction used in future developments on land over the river tunnel will be subject to approval of the county drain board, according to terms of the agreement.

CITY MAINTENANCE

Once built, the drain will be maintained by the city.

Commissioners also referred three requests for commercial zonings to the City Planning Commission.

One, from Frank Paderewski, involved property at 707 W. Huron.

Another request was from Mrs. Ruby Taylor and concerned property at 425 S. Paddock.

The third was for a commercial zoning at 17 Waldo for off-street parking behind Westown Food Center, 694 W. Huron.

Fire Damage Doubles in '63

$462,030 Total Loss; 1,219 Blazes Fought

Fire damage in Pontiac more than doubled last year, and, in fact, exceeded the 1962 loss in the first 11 days of 1963, the Pontiac Fire Department reported today.

In the first two weeks of 1963, fires at WKC home furnishings and Catsman Ready-Mix, were responsible for $290,000 of the $462,030 total loss for the year.

In all of 1962 fires caused damage only totaling $204,985.

★ ★ ★

While responding to 31 less alarms last year, firemen battled more fires.

ACTUAL FIRES

There were 1,219 actual fires in 1963, compared to 1,041 in 1962.

There were more rescue runs, 736 compared to 695, but less false alarms, 362 to 504, and smoke investigations, 199 to 286.

Six persons were killed in 1963 by either fire or smoke and 11 injured.

★ ★ ★

Chief James R. White said careless smoking was the leading cause of fires in 1963 as it has been in past years. Investigations showed that 91 fires started in this manner.

CAUSED BY CHILDREN

Juveniles were blamed for starting 60 fires, many of them caused by children playing with matches.

★ ★ ★

During 1963 three persons were arrested and convicted of arson in the city.

Laotian Rightist Agrees to Talks on Capital Shift

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, leader of the Laotian right-wing faction, agreed today to meet with the leaders of the other two factions, Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong.

Phoumi and Souvanna proposed that the meeting be held at the Neutralist-held Plaine des Jarres; 110 miles north of Vientiane.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss temporary transfer of the coalition government from Vientiane to the royal capital of Luang Prabang in an effort to get Souphanouvong's Pathet Lao to participate in it again.

Souphanouvong agreed to the transfer if Luang Prabang, now controlled by Phoumi's right-wing army, was neutralized.

Fireman Shortage May Thin Staffs

Pontiac urgently needs firemen.

City Commissioners borrowed money to build a new fire station on West Walton last year.

They squeezed out enough cash in the 1964 budget to pay for staffing the new facility.

★ ★ ★

But no one can find firemen, according to Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck.

DEPLETED MANPOWER

Unless the city gets some new recruits fast, it will have to deplete manpower at other fire stations to staff the new north-side station—or leave it standing empty for awhile.

"We need 14 men to man the new station," said Reineck. "I've just run out of recruits."

Reineck is acting director of the city personnel bureau, a job delegated to the assistant city manager when commissioners ordered a revamping of the department last year.

★ ★ ★

"We advertised for recruits last summer and came up with 27 prospects," Reineck said.

ALL EIGHT

"Of thees, 13 passed the written test and eight of the 13 passed the physical. All eight have been used to fill vacancies on the existing staff."

To qualify for the job, applicants must live in the city one year prior to being hired. The age limit is 21 to 28, excepting applicants with military records.

They can be up to 32 years old.

★ ★ ★

"Anyone who is interested in becoming a fireman can get full details by calling the personnel office at City Hall," Reineck said.

Disarmament Pact Unlikely Despite President's Proposal

ANN ARBOR (AP)—No sudden agreement is expected by the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency to follow the "further steps toward peace" proposed by President Lyndon Johnson to the 18-nation disarmament conference at Geneva Tuesday.

While complete disarmament continues to be this country's ultimate objective, Archibald S. Alexander, assistant director of the U. S. Arms Controls and Disarmament Agency said Tuesday night currently "neither the political nor the technical ingredients are sufficiently at hand for such an undertaking."

* * *

Alexander spoke at opening of the second International Arms Control and Disarmament Symposium at the University of Michigan, which continues through Friday and is expected to attract some 500 world leaders from science, diplomacy, government and industry.

Mutual interests of the United States and the Soviet Union "in relieving the vast burden of arms to fulfill more urgent domestic requirements may be a factor in narrowing the gap on disarmament proposals in 1964," Alexander said.

PRODUCTION FREEZE

Among five steps proposed by President Johnson to reduce the risk of war were proposals to freeze production of strategic nuclear missiles and to stop all production on fissionable materials used in nuclear weapons.

A direct reply may come from the Soviet Union here on Thursday when a 1 p.m. symposium session is addressed by Yuli M. Vorontsov, counselor and advisor on political affairs on Russia's mission to the United Nations. Vorontsov's subject is "The Soviet Position on Disarmament."

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., will discuss "Political and Economic Realities of Disarmament" here tonight.

Looking toward 1964 negotiations at Geneva, Alexander told the Ann Arbor Symposium:

"I can give you some indication of the areas of special study which will be explored further with the Soviet Union and others.

OLD ISSUES

"Some of these proposals have been advanced earlier, but will be looked at in modified version; for instance, the establishment of a system of observation posts at key centers, such as transportation centers, would provide an additional safeguard against certain types of surprise attack and would help give additional reassurances as to the sudden movement of ground forces."

While viewing complete disarmament as unlikely in the near future, Alexander said "there remains considerable room for concrete, specific measures which might be described as initial, individual measures which would advance us toward the ultimate objective."

Referring to the U. S.-Soviet ban on atmospheric nuclear testing, Alexander said "we are still interested in expanding the area of agreement to underground testing," but added, "there must be the inspection necessary to determine whether suspicious seismic events are caused by earthquakes or underground nuclear explosions."

1964 May Be Decisive Year for Nike Missile System

WASHINGTON (AP) — This may be the year of decision for the Nike-X antimissile system.

★ ★ ★

If President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara decide to permit production, it could mean spending ultimately as much as $20 billion.

★ ★ ★

Defense officials, discussing the new military budget, said "we are not far enough along on Nike-X to make any decision" for procurement or deployment of the antimissile system.

PRO OR CON

But, they said, "It is possible that the decision can be made, pro or con, during calender 1964."

Work on the Nike-X will go forward on a priority basis.

★ ★ ★

The budget provides more than the $325 million allotted last year to start development of the Nike-X and to continue testing the companion Nike Zeus antimissile.

It was only a year ago that the late President John F. Kennedy approved the Nike-X project. The indications are that progress has been swift.

KEY ELEMENT

Informed sources reported a key element in the Nike-X system—a superfast missile called Sprint—would be test-fired for the first time in April or thereabouts.

The Army will have to overcome the skepticism of McNamara and Dr. Harold Brown, the Pentagon's research and engineering director.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy reflected their doubts last August when he told a news conference he thought the problems of developing an effective defense against missile attack "is beyond us and beyond the Soviets technically."

The Nike Zeus, which the Army calls "the free world's only antimissile missile system in advanced development," has been in process for nine years.

ARMY CLAIMS

More than $1.5 billion has been spent on the Zeus system. The Army has claimed 10 intercepts of U.S. intercontinental ballistic missile target warheads in tests over the Pacific but high Pentagon officials consider these as very much less than combat-like tests.

The large California condor lays only one egg a year.

Japan Notes Decrease in U. S. Foreign Aid

TOKYO (AP) — Foreign Office sources took note today of a reduction of foreign aid in President Johnson's budget message to Congress.

The Foreign Office did not comment officially on the message. But sources said the reduction in U. S. foreign assistance will result in enlarging Japan's role in helping underdeveloped countries.

If current statistics prevail, 3 of every 10 children in the fifth grade today will not graduate from high school.

Station Break-In Imprisons Youth

A 17-year-old Pontiac youth was sentenced yesterday to a 1½- to 15-year prison term for his part in a Nov. 8 burglary of a Pontiac gas station.

Boyd Gilbert of 27 Mathews was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt. Gilbert pleaded guilty Dec. 27 to breaking and entering in the nighttime.

He and Ronald Kester, 17, of 89 Oakhill were accused of breaking into Doolin's Shell service station at 520 E. Columbia and stealing $125.

★ ★ ★

Kester is awaiting trial.

Gilbert last year pleaded guilty to an aggravated assault charge in the beating of a 16-year-old hitchhiker.

He was a juvenile at the time, but a waiver was granted allowing him to be charged as an adult.

He also has a record of offenses as a juvenile.

There will be an estimated 2.5 million new workers entering the labor market the next several years.

Yam Is Really Sweet Potato

A sweet potato is a sweet potato and a real yam is a yam, but most shoppers don't know the difference. True yams are grown mostly in North Africa and are rarely, of ever, seen in the United States advises the District Consumer Marketing Information Agent.

There are really two types of sweet potatoes sold in this country — the dry and the moist. There are a number of varieties of each and the Food and Drug Administration permits some of the moist varieties to be labeled "yams."

Good sweet potatoes are smooth, well - shaped, firm, and of bright appearance. Only the experts can distinguish between the moist yam-type and the dry, mealy-type from the outside appearance. So, rely on your retailer when you have a preference. Most sweet potatoes are dipped in a harmless dye to improve their appearance at the produce counter.

Maturity is not a factor in sweet potato quality, Mrs. Lawyer explains. In fact, they don't mature. If left in the ground in tropical areas, the tuber continues to grow. Sweet potatoes which have undergone a curing process keep quality longer than uncured potatoes.

Consumer acceptance of instant white potato flakes has encouraged researchers to develop sweet potato flakes. So far, these have been commercially tested in 51 restaurants in Cleveland and New Orleans. Of 3,496 customers interviewed, 99 per cent of those in Cleveland and 80 per cent of those in New Orleans thought the recipes made with instant sweet potato flakes "very good."

Perhaps the future will bring this new potato product to your favorite grocery store. In the meantime, buy only the amount of sweet potatoes you plan to use within a week, and enjoy using them with any meat or poultry dish.

Catsup Adds Zest to Many Foods

Clever cooks have a way of making simple dishes simply delicious. Perhaps it's because they make a habit of tasting as they cook, and then adding a bit more salt or spice as needed.

One easy and economical way to add flavor and color is to reach for the catsup bottle often. Catsup contains tomato, salt, vinegar, sugar, spices or flavorings, and onions in a blend that adds spirit to gravies, stews, soups, casseroles and hashes.

For a salad dressing that's delightful, add a spoonful of catsup to mayonnaise. Or stir together salad oil, salt, pepper, vinegar, a bit of sugar, and some catsup for one of the best of oil dressings.

Catsup can be used to add a touch of color as well as flavor. Stir a few tablespoons of catsup into your favorite dip and watch it take on an attractive rosy blush.

Or add a little catsup to a white sauce intended for a green vegetable, such as asparagus or broccoli, to add a bit of color and a slight spiciness.

Potatoes---Cook's Good Friend

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Let us consider the lowly potato for a few minutes. This dependable vegetable has fallen into ill favor with dieters.

It's not really fair. There are less than 100 calories in a medium size baked or boiled potato. Potatoes are low in fat and contain some vitamins and minerals.

How long is it since you have had potatoes baked with a Sunday roast? Called Franconia potatoes, these have an excellent flavor all their own. They're so simple to fix, too.

Franconia Potatoes

6 medium-sized potatoes
1 inch boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Wash and peel potatoes. Place in a saucepan with one inch boiling water and salt. Cover, bring to boiling point and cook until about half done, about 25 minutes. Remove from heat, drain and roll in melted butter or margarine.

Place in a pan in which meat is roasting (beef, veal, lamb or pork). Bake about 45 minutes or until potatoes are tender and lightly browned. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Chowders are soups, hearty soups. Potato cubes are often used in fish chowders for flavor and bulk.

Here is a basic chowder recipe. Try it now and save the recipe for Lent.

Continental Fish Chowder

2½ cups ½-inch cubes potato
2 cups water
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 bay leaves
½ cup butter (1 stick)
1 cup thinly sliced onion
1 cup finely chopped celery
2 lbs. haddock, or other filets, skinned
3 tablespoons flour
1 quart milk
½ pint (1 cup) dairy sour cream
Chopped parsley

Put potato, water, salt, pepper and whole bay leaves in a 4-quart pan. Simmer covered for 3 minutes. In the meantime, saute onion and celery in ¼ cup of butter until tender, do not brown. Cut fish into 1-inch cubes.

Add fish, sauteed onion-celery mixture to potatoes and continue to cook until fish flakes and potato is tender. Do not drain. Remove bay leaf.

Melt ¼ cup butter in saucepan, add flour and blend. Add 3 cups of milk stirring constantly and cook until smooth and thickened. Add to fish-vegetable mixture.

Beat up sour cream and gradually beat in remaining cup of milk; add to chowder stirring constantly. Adjust salt to taste. Heat only to serving temperature.

Serve in hot bowls sprinkled with chopped parsley.

One authority tells us that Irish residents began putting potatoes in their bread to conserve flour which was precious. But the flavor was so good that they never stopped.

Potato bread has a delightful taste and makes delicious toast.

Old Fashioned Potato Loaves

1 medium potato
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons margarine
5¾ cups unsifted flour (about)
½ cup warm water (105-115 degrees)
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed

Peel and dice poatto; boil in water to cover until tender, about 20 minutes. Drain, reserving ½ cup liquid; mash and cool.

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt, margarine and reserved potato water; cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into a large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved.

Stir in mashed potato, lukewarm milk mixture and 3 cups of flour; beat until smooth. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 minutes.

Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 35 minutes.

Punch down; turn dough over in bowl; cover and let rise again about 20 minutes. Punch down. Turn out onto lightly floured board; divide in half.

* * *

Shape each half into loaf; place in two greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pans. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 25 minutes.

* * *

Dust loaves with flour. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 30 minutes or until done.

Corny but Good

Next time you whip up a batch of corn bread for Sunday night supper, try substituting beer or ale for the required liquid in your favorite recipe or prepared mix. The malty tang of the brew will add delightful flavor. If you like a browned top on the bread, add 1 tablespoon melted butter or oil to recipe with liquid.

Are Michigan Newsstand Owners Forced to Sell 'Smut?'

By RICHARD PYLE

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's "girlie" magazine investigation was being expanded today to include the question of whether private newsstand operators are being forced, against their will, to sell smut.

Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, who touched off the probe last Thursday, said an issue of so-called "tie-in" sales is important enough to merit attention.

At his suggestion, Gov. Romney agreed to ask Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley to look at existing laws and determine whether they are adequate.

"The question we want answered is whether private newsstand operators are protected by law from having to accept magazines or other material they don't want," said Lesinski.

EXPLAINS TIE-INS

He explained "tie-in" sales as a practice in which the distributor provides the newsstand operator with magazines he wants—and in sufficient quantity—only if he agrees to accept other publications as well.

★ ★ ★

The lieutenant governor said he has no evidence that any magazine distributors are engaged in the practice.

"It's only hearsay," he said.

Lesinski said he gave Romney a complete report on the investigation by State Police of magazines sold at the state's newsstands in public buildings.

Romney said the state should set an example for private enterprise in the sale of magazines.

SERIOUS PROBLEM

"While I am not attempting to set myself up as a judge of what people should read, I would urge those responsible to use every precaution to assure the state doesn't contribute to the serious problem of indecent literature," the governor said.

★ ★ ★

"Certainly no indecent material should be available from any state-subsidized vending operation."

The State Police investigation had been ordered by the lieutenant governor after he found magazines he considered objectionable on sale at a Capitol newsstand.

Some 47 state-owned concession stands, located in public buildings and operated on lease by blind persons, were checked by detectives.

SEVEN LOCATIONS

They found questionable magazines available at seven locations, three in Detroit and one each in Battle Creek, Jackson, Saginaw and Grand Rapids.

Cabinet in Italy Retires Officials in Dam Disaster

ROME (AP)—The Italian Cabinet has retired the prefects of Belluno and Undine provinces, which were ravaged by the Vaiont Dam disaster, and agreed to call a parliamentary inquiry.

Nearly 3,000 persons perished when a mountainslide caused the dam's reservoir to overflow, sending a wall of water crashing into the valley.

Letter Grades Hold Message

Pupils Need Parents at Report Card Time

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

Parents, do read and study your children's report cards. Behind the simple letter grade may lie an important message the teacher is trying to send you.

DR. NASON

Report card time is a time of wonderful opportunity. If all is well, children are proud to bring home their cards.

Even then, it is important that parents take time to discuss with a child his progress, accomplishments and problems. Fathers, especially, are important at this time. Children depend on them more, perhaps, than fathers realize.

A child needs to know that some very special adult cares and is interested in his progress. He must realize the adult expects him to make progress and is willing to help him accomplish it.

In a few schools, male administrators or teachers have been designated to take the place of the father in receiving the report.

They not only go over the report cards, discussing each mark and its meaning. They help the child make plans and discuss progress.

Parents should compare citizenship grades against subject grades. Often the key to future success is hidden in an effort or accomplishment grade.

For instance: B in a subject and C in effort indicate that the student is working below capacity and could make an A with more effort, or a little additional know-how.

A grade of C in a subject with an A in effort shows the student to be working up to capacity. Added pressure by parents for a better grade will only make matters worse in the latter case.

More satisfactory than a single letter grade in a subject is a report that includes short comments, although it is very difficult and time consuming for a teacher to explain the meaning and background of each grade given.

A direct telephone conversation or conference with the parents could be much more satisfactory since the teacher could then explain fully in five minutes.

For example: A department grade of D could mean many things. A child might be bored in school, consequently get into mischief. He might be completely discouraged and turn his attention away from the school work.

INFRACTIONS

On the other hand this might even be a case of cheating or other infraction of rules.

In any event, this is an area in which the parent can help, but he can help only when he knows quite specifically why the grade of D was given.

Report cards should not bring sudden retaliatory action of punishment, but rather carefully planned changes in routine and behavior that will bring about progress.

An unsatisfactory report card calls for a period during which parents show the child some extra attention and interest.

The child also needs their help in discovering, and making better use of, the opportunities provided at the school.

Some of the most instructive bridge hands look elementary when you watch an expert play. Let's look at Ira Rubin's play of one of them.

JACOBY

Ira played dummy's jack of hearts at trick one. When it held the trick he led a diamond and finessed the nine. West took his king and made his best return of the nine of clubs.

Ira went right up with dummy's ace of clubs and finessed the diamond again. This worked and he cashed the ace. When this failed to drop the queen Ira went after club's and wound up with two spades two hearts, two diamonds and three clubs.

All very elementary, but let's study Ira's reasons for adopting this line of play. Why did he play second hand high at trick one? Because he could derive no benefit from that jack of hearts if he did not play it then and there.

Why did he attack diamonds instead of clubs at trick two? Because he did not want to let East into the lead and an unsuccessful club finesse would give East the lead.

Why did he go right up with dummy's ace of clubs at trick three? Because he wanted the lead in dummy, not in his own hand, and because he was certain that West had not led from the queen of clubs.

Why did he take that second diamond finesse? Because he didn't mind losing it. West would be back in the lead and have nothing good to lead.

Advice From Above for Motorist Below

LANSING (AP) — A "bull horn" style voice from above soon will speak advice to stranded motorists, state police say.

Public address systems will be installed on two aircraft which patrol interstate highways, a spokesman said. Officers in the plane will fly low, hail stranded motorists and tell them to lift the engine hood if they need assistance, the spokesman said.

Walt's Brother

Disney Tells Secret of Success

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "Yes, it has been a good year," said Roy Disney with characteristic understatement.

Roy is "the other Disney"—the older brother who has long provided the money to bring Walt's dreams to reality. The success of this lifelong partnership is shown in Walt Disney Production's annual report.

THOMAS

From 1953 to 1964, gross income increased 10-fold from $8 million to almost $82 million. Profits last year were at an all-time high of $6,574,000.

★ ★ ★

As president and financial mind of the Disney empire, Roy has long left the spotlight to his famous brother.

DESCRIBES BROTHER

"He's a grand guy," said Roy, whose homespun manner hides a steel-traplike financial mind. "It has always been a job keeping up with him. He gets the ideas, then I have to look at them from a practical, prosaic view.

"Sometimes I've had to say no, and he'll accept it if he knows that my decision didn't come from lack of vision. There have been times when I just couldn't get the money.

★ ★ ★

"He's not a bad guy to work with. He knows what he wants and he'll listen to you—if you know what you're talking about. But if you're just shooting off your mouth, he won't hear a thing."

"My job is to help Walt do the things he wants to do," said Roy. "I take no part in the artistic decision; that's not my field. I deal with the banks and give Walt a free hand. The trouble with a lot of other movie companies is that the banks make decisions on the pictures."

Has the studio ever been in real trouble?

Roy smiled.

FINANCIALLY SOUND

"We've always been pretty stretched out," he said. "Maybe that's why we've done so well—we always owed so much money. Only in the past three years have we been able to breathe more easily."

"Product has always been our strength," Roy explained. "It is the floor of our operation. The new money we get goes in to the new product. If the time ever came when we got in financial trouble, all we would have to do is shut down new production and let the money roll in from what we've already made."

Rails to Delay Ending of Jobs

Firemen's Union Files Appeal to Ruling

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The nation's railroads, who won a federal arbitration award eliminating firemen's jobs on diesel freight locomotives, will delay putting the award into effect pending a union appeal.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen said the railroads have agreed to delay application of the arbiration award, which was to have gone into effect Saturday.

★ ★ ★

H. E. Gilbert, president of the rail union, said the agreement signed Tuesday specifies that if the courts uphold the award it then will go into effect, remaining in effect for two years, as specified by the seven-member arbitration board Nov. 26. The brotherhood and two other rail unions have filed legal actions. A lower court upheld the award, but the unions have taken steps to appeal that ruling.

A spokesman for the brotherhood said some 3,500 firemen recently hired or who had been working irregularly will be cut off immediately when the railroads put the job-cutting program into effect.

DATE FOR CUTOFF

J. W. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the railroads, said in Washington the agreement delays action on the firemen issue but noted that Jan. 25 will still be the cutoff date for determining who will be laid off. Those firemen with less than the required seniority as of Jan. 25 are the ones who will be affected, he said.

He said the carriers will go ahead as scheduled with new rules governing the size of crews on Jan. 25. This issue also was settled by the arbitration board, but under terms of that award the unions may challenge any reductions on a local basis and force the issue to arbitration.

Russ Thomas to Direct Player Personnel

Ford Makes Initial Staff Changes as Head of Lions

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The first coaching and administrative changes under new owner William Clay Ford were made yesterday with the announcement that Russ Thomas, former Lions' tackle will assume the new position of Director of player personnel.

The other changes included the addition of former Michigan State star halfback Everett (Sonny) Grandelius as backfield coach and the switch of players' scout Bob Nussbaumer as fulltime end coach.

ON TV TEAM

Thomas, who was a member of the Lions' television broadcast team with Van Patriek last season, played with the team from 1946 to 1949 and co-captained the team along with Johnny Green in his final season.

He played his collegiate football at Ohio State and was a two-way player with the Lions.

In 1950 he coached at St. Bonaventure and when the school dropped football a year later he returned with the Lions' organization for scouting and recruiting of players under coach Buddy Parker.

In 1954 he went into business and Nussbaumer moved into the picture for scouting and recruiting of players, but Thomas was often called upon by the organization for game scouting.

"I am very happy to be with the Lions again," said Thomas "and I want to do everything I can to help the club. The three-year contract I received, something I didn't ask for, certainly is a fine vote of confidence extended me by Mr. Ford," he said.

Thomas, 39 years old, and a resident of Walled Lake, will handle many of the duties held by Edwin J. Anderson.

Anderson will remain with the club as vice president and general manager, however it will be Thomas' responsibility for signing all players to contracts.

One of the players on the present ball club whom Thomas signed out of the grasps of the rival AFL was Daryl Sanders, who as a rookie played the entire 1963 season at offensive tackle.

EX-SPARTAN ACE

Grandelius, who had a colorful collegiate career with the Spartans from 1947 to 1951, has been with the Philadelphia Eagles for the past two seasons as assistant coach.

After leaving MSU he entered the Army for two years and then returned to play with the New York Giants in 1953. In 1954 he went back to East Lansing and became freshman football coach and for the following three years he was backfield coach.

A head coaching job beckoned him to Colorado from 1959 through 1961 where his teams won 20 and lost nine.

In a surprise move after the 9-1 record of 1961 he was discharged by Colorado for what school officials regarded as illegal recruiting methods. Immediately he became part of the Eagles' organization.

With the sale of the Eagles yesterday and firing of Nick Skorich as head coach, and the possibility for other changes including Paul Brown as head coach, Grandelius accepted the Lions' position.

FULL TIME

Nussbaumer, a former Michigan gridder, has helped the Lions on a part time basis in training camp with the ends, and now will handle the duties fully.

* * *

Although Thomas will handle player personnel, he will not do the actual scouting, therefore the position held by Nussbaumer remains to be filled.

Ray (Scooter) McLean, who has been backfield coach with the Lions for five seasons, has been hospitalized for several months. He has been assigned the duties of coaching the quarterbacks upon his return.

In making the announcements, Ford indicated that he did not anticipate any other changes for the present. He gave coach George Wilson a vote of confidence and emphasized that Wilson "is still head coach and he shall hire the coaches as he sees fit."

The big concern for the Lions at the moment in player problems is the hope that tackle Alex Karras will be reinstated by NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle.

The NFL meetings will take place next week in Miami and some indication of Karras' status, along with that of Paul Hornung, of the Green Bay Packers, may be aired.

Former NFL Pilots in Line for Grid Job

New Football Owner Jerry Wolman Drops Coach Nick Skorich

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joe Kuharich, Red Hickey and Paul Brown, three former National Football League coaches, were being mentioned prominently today for the head coaching job of the Philadelphia Eagles.

* * *

Jerry Wolman, Washington multi-millionaire announced the release of Coach Nick Skorich Tuesday as he officially took over the club following approval by the league of his purchase of the team for $5,505,000 last month.

WIDE OPEN

Wolman told a news conference he already had contacted Kuharich, Brown and a third possible successor whom he declined to identify by name, saying only he was a former NFL head coach not now coaching. The speculation was that the third coach was Hickey, former head coach of the San Francisco 49ers.

Wolman insisted, however, that the field is wide open, and that he would talk to all candidates. He said he wouldn't make a decision until sometime during or after the NFL's annual meeting at Miami next Tuesday since he planned to seek advice from other league owners and officials.

He said he also plans to discuss the coaching job with Vince McNally, whom he retained as general manager. McNally reportedly gave Wolman a list of several other experienced coaches who are available.

* * *

In San Francisco, Hickey, who resigned as head coach of the 49ers early in the 1963 season, said: "I'm available and very much interested. Any further comment would have to come from Wolman." Hickey did not admit talking to Wolman.

Wolman said he believed Brown, former head coach of the Cleveland Browns, "would like to come with the Eagles." He said, however, that Brown would have to settle his contract with Cleveland owner Arthur Modell before becoming available.

UNDER CONTRACT

Brown, reached in La Jolla, Calif., admitted he talked to Wolman about 10 days ago. He said, however, there is nothing he could do about another job at the present time since he is still under contract to the Browns.

Kuharich said in New York that he talked briefly with Wolman but declined further comment.

Olympic Hopefuls Warned to Go Slow

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—First it was no snow. Now it's go slow.

That's the situation at the site of the Olympic Games, where this warning has been issued to competitors beginning to reach their peak:

* * *

"Please take it easy. It is better to reach the end of the run in a slow time than to finish up in a hospital."

And as more and more of the world's top skiers, skaters and sledders converge on Innsbruck, more and more hospital beds are being used, and more and more optimistic platitudes are coming from the assembled coaches — especially the Americans.

GOING WELL

Said Bob Beattie, U.S. ski coach:

"We feel we are going into the Olympics in the best possible shape. Things are going very well."

Said Art Tokle, U.S. ski jumping coach:

"We have men of international statute. We'll win some medals."

Said U.S. bobsledder Bob Hickey:

"We'll do better."

Hickey, of Keeseville, N.Y., piloted one of two American sleds Tuesday as practice began for the four-man championships at the Games, which open a week from today. His optimistic forecast was made after the first U.S. performances proved unimpressive.

Hickey piloted the No. 1 U.S. sled with mates Bill Dundon of Brownsville, N.Y., Reginald Benham of Lake Placid, N.Y., and brakeman Charles Pandolph of Saranac Lake, N.Y. The crew placed 15th in the trials with a clocking of 2 minutes, 14.44 seconds for two runs.

* * *

The U.S. No. 2 sled came through with a slightly better performance. Piloted by Lawrence McKillip of Saranac Lake, with brakeman James Lamy of Lake Placid and Floyd Baumgartner and Roger Neil, both of Saranac Lake, the bob finished 12th in 2:11.82.

BEST RUNS

Italy's eight-time world champion, Eugenio Monti, turned in the best runs, flashing down the approximately one-mile track at Mount Patsscherkofel in 2:09.15 with the day's best run of 1:04.34 on his second descent.

American bosled hopes, meanwhile, were buoyed by the report on John Handley of Malone, N.Y., who fell off a two-man sled in practice. He suffered only superficial injuries.

Pistons Dive Deeper Into Cellar

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Detroit Pistons came within one point of San Francisco with a third period spurt Tuesday night, but Wilt Chamberlain and Gary Phillips rallied the Warriors to a 100-88 National Basketball Association victory on the West Coast.

* * *

The loss mired the Pistons deeper in the Western Division cellar. But the triumph moved the Warriors to within 2½ games of the pace setting, but idle Los Angeles Lakers.

In other NBA games played Tuesday night, the Baltimore Bullets bumped the Philadelphia 76ers, 124-121; The St. Louis Hawks nipped the Boston Celtics, 116-114, and Cincinnati's Royals blitzed New York 139-124.

Led by Bob Ferry, Detroit reduced the Warriors 58-45 halftime margin to 62-61 in the third period. Ferry tallied 10 points in the surge which saw the Pistons outscore San Francisco at one point, 22-3.

The game stayed close for five minutes then Chamberlain and Phillips fired the Warriors to a commanding lead.

Chamberlain, although held to three points in the third stanza, took scoring laurels with 24 points. Phillips, playing one of his best games to date, netted 18.

Don Ohl paced the Pistons with 17 points. Bailey Howell added 16, and Ferry, 13.

* * *

Terry Dischinger intercepted a pass in the final 10 seconds of play to preserve the Bullets' victory over Philadelphia. Walt Bellamy paced the Bullets with 37 points, and Hal Greer had 36 for the 76ers.

Zelmo Beaty's jump shot with 14 seconds left pushed the Hawks past the Celtics. Bob Pettit sparked St. Louis with 29 points.

* * *

Oscar Robertson's 31 points powered the Royals past the Knicks. Bob Boozer paced the losers with 25 points.

Monte Carlo Rally Nears Final Event

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — Defending champion Erik Carlsson of Sweden led a field of 73 cars finishing the gruelling 2,900-mile Monte Carlo Auto rally Tuesday without incurring any penalty points. His wife had a similar record in the women's division.

* * *

Carlsson, driving a Saab, was one of the 178 cars that roared across the finish line in this Riviera resort early Tuesday after a dangerous final lap through the icy Alps.

A total of 299 started from Oslo, Paris, Warsaw, Minsk, Frankfurt, Glasgow, Lisbon and Athens, but the others were forced out during the stern test of man and machine.

NO PENALTY

The 73 that finished without penalty points automatically qualified for Thursday's road test over the Monte Carlo Grand Prix circuit.

* * *

Paddy Hopkirk of Ireland and Rauno Aaltonen of Finland, in Morris Coopers, and Germany's Eugen Bohringer in a Mercedes 300SE, regarded as Carlsson's strongest contenders, also qualified for the road test without any penalty points.

South Africa Indian Eyes U.S. Golf Tour

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Sewsunker Papwa Sewgolum, a South African who plays golf in a way that would make a traditionalist shudder and who often has to struggle with the government to play at all in race segregated South Africa, plans his first attack on the American pro circuit this year.

Sewgolum, an Indian from Durban in Natal Province, is classed as a non-white in South Africa. That limits his competitive activities sharply and makes playing difficult at best. He is head and shoulders above any other non-white golfer in this country and has given many white pros a run for their money.

Early this year he won the South African non-white Open Championship by 21 strokes with rounds of 71-72-70-75-288.

He has played in the British Open at St. Andrews and acquitted himself well though he did not win any money. He thinks the toughness of the American circuit will be "just the right medicine" before he goes to Britain again in May.

NO LESSONS

Papwa's record is all the more remarkable because he never had a golf lesson in his life and he uses a cross-handed grip which he calls "natural."

A right-handed player, he grips his clubs with his left hand below the right. When he drives he puts everything he has into it, uncoiling like a spring and striking the ball with tremendous power.

"Nobody taught me how to hold a club so I hold it in the position that feels most comfortable," he says. "I've always held it like that and I'm not going to change now."

* * *

He has been invited to play in the world tournament at Oakland Hills in August, but one of the conditions is that he must play in the South African Open and Natal Open early this year to earn qualifying points. That won't be easy.

On the course, Papwa chainsmokes his way around, wearing a gaily-patterned floral shirt, grey pants and an old, much-patched pair of golf shoes.

Lansing Star Takes Trophy

Stages Late Rally for 6915 Score

DALLAS (AP) — Joe Joseph, a wise-cracking pro from Lansing, Mich., won the qualifying trophy at the $100,000 All-Star bowling tournament Tuesday night with a 32 game total of 6915.

* * *

Joseph was lurking in sixth place after the first round of semifinals early Tuesday. He sprinted into the lead in the final round by firing a 214-214-226-264-214-192—1324 series.

Ted Hoffman, Jr., a burly young Philadelphia bowler who took the lead after the first semifinal block, dipped to third place after a modest 1240 series in the last qualifying round.

Mike Chiuchiolo of Patchogue, L.I., N.Y., moved up to second place on the final squad with 1301—6910.

CHAMP 4th

Dick Weber, the defending champion from St. Louis, finished fourth in qualifying to earn a shot at his third straight All-Star Championship.

Don Ellis of Houston moved up to fifth on the last squad. Bill Lillard, Dallas, the leader for the preliminary rounds, dropped to sixth place.

* * *

The lowest score qualifying was Tommy Tuttle's 6781.

Tuttle, an engaging newcomer from Rural Hall, N.C., finished 16th.

The elder statesman of the original field of 288 men, Buzz Fazio, earned his berth in the finals with a tenth place 6807 total. Fazio, a 55-year-old grandfather from Detroit, is bowling in his 18th All-Star.

* * *

Jeannette Bopp, 36-year-old Milwaukee housewife, won the women's qualifying trophy with a 24 game total of 4966. Mrs. Bopp's performance was second in all-star history only to the 5018 which won the qualifying trophy last year for Marion Ladewig, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Pontiac YMCA swimmers lost in all three divisions of their meet last weekend with the Flint YMCA team.

The only first place won in the Midget class which was beaten, 61-25, was taken by Glen Behler in the 25 yard breaststroke.

The prep division which lost 64-33 had first place finishes from Dave Hardenberg who won the 50 freestyle in 30.1. Steve Yedlin was a double winner in the 100 individual medley in 1:11 and in the 100 freestyle in 59.4.

* * *

In the Junior division, lost by Pontiac, 54-43, first place winners included Frank Yaedlin in the 50 breastroke; Carl Hiller in diving and the 100 individual medley. John Mason was a double winner in the 200 free and 50 butterfly.

CRANE LEADERS — Team captain Tom Pfaff (left) of Pontiac and scoring ace Dick Moon lead the Cranbrook hockey team. Moon had two goals and two assists yesterday giving him 16 points for the season. Pfaff added two assists in the 6-3 decision at home against Madison that enabled the Cranes to climb into fourth place in the first division race of the International High School Hockey League.

Michigan Dumps Minnesota to Pad Conference Lead

Cranbrook Hockey Team Downs Madison Unit, 6-3

Cranbrook had too much talent for an undermanned Madison sextet Tuesday afternoon and the Cranes claimed a 6-3 win in an International High School Hockey League game.

Neither team showed a great deal of power, indicative of their lowly standings in the respective divisions. It was Cranbrook's fourth win this season while Madison is winless.

Dick Moon had two goals and two assists in the victory. Mike Schwayder, Phil Maxwell, Matt Friedemann and Mike Stanton had the other goals.

Maxwell also had two assists as did Tom Pfaff, while Friedemann and Guy Bramble added one apiece.

The score was tied 1-1 when Cranbrook scored twice in the second period (on goals by Moon and Maxwell) while killing a penalty.

FALLS BEHIND

Madison never caught up although it did narrow the gap to 3-2 and 4-3 only to see the Cranes retaliate quickly for insurance markers.

Goalie Larry Schiller stopped 11 shots in the game while Madison alternated goalies and they racked up 19 saves.

The contest was generally slow moving on a non-too-good playing surface with the occasionally speedy bursts of Moon providing most of the excitement.

Madison's scoring was the product of the Tom Lewis, Jim Ristum and Larry Dolney line which accounted for all the goals (one apiece) and the four assists (two for Lewis).

Rec Win Ups Pharmacy 5 to 2nd Spot

A three-man attack carried White Lake Pharmacy to a 75-64 city American League recreation basketball victory last night over the Bachelors' Club.

The win boosted the pharmacy squad into second place in the top city circuit with a 2-1 log, pending the outcome of tonight's Southwest Community club contest.

Other action last night saw Beckers defeat Town & Country in the National League, 63-40, and the Class D race saw New Hope Baptist and Victor Paint post close wins.

Chuck Schroeder hit 23, John Sheffler 19 and Bob Troesch 14 as White Lake took an early lead and rode it past the Bachelors.

★ ★ ★

Beckers raised its record to 2-1 with a strong second half surge after leading only 22-20 at halftime.

Victor Paint stayed a half game in front of New Hope with a 55-51 triumph over Minute Lunch, aided by a 19-13 edge in the final period.

New Hope nipped Neopolitan Club, 69-68, overcoming a 59-50 deficit at the start of the last period. The winners have a chance to tie the paintmen for the Class D lead tonight.

RO St. Mary Drops Overtime Tilt

Eaglets Corner Rams at Charity Line

By JERE CRAIG

A sharper eye at the foul line and a better performance from the reserves carried Orchard Lake St. Mary to a 70-51 basketball victory over St. Frederick Tuesday night.

The conquest was the third straight in the Northwest Parochial League race for the Eaglets and tied them with St. Michael for second place.

Both are 5-3, three and a half games behind Royal Oak St. Mary (9-0) which has clinched a share of the title. It was the fifth straight OLSM win over St. Fred cagers.

RO St. Mary ventured outside the league for the second time this season and dropped its second game, 42-41, in overtime.

Hustle, good teamwork and some good shooting carried St. Fred to a 16-11 first-quarter advantage but Orchard Lake began hitting and moving better in the next stanza to take charge of the contest.

TRAIL

The Rams fell behind, 24-22, and never again led in the game. At halftime the difference was 31-26 and the winners boosted it to 38-26 before permitting the Rams a point in the third session.

It was about this time St. Fred appeared to receive a big break. Backcourt ace and team leader Frank Rompel fouled out for OLSM with about a period and a half to play.

Adrian Chesler replaced Rompel for the home team and plugged the gap, however. Entering the fourth quarter the lead was 14 points.

Big center John Stolnicki fouled out early in the quarter with the difference, 54-39, and Don Dzagulones replaced him. Again the substitute plugged the gap.

★ ★ ★

Aided by 12 successful last-period foul shots (and 26 of 39 for the game), the Eaglets never saw their lead at less than 13 points after their top rebounder departed.

STEADY DECLINE

St. Fred went extremely cold with its shooting — both from the field and foul line — in the last three periods and the Rams steadily fell behind.

Their biggest deficit, 21 tallies, came just before the end of the loosely played game. Coach Geen Wright called on his bench several times but received very little help from it.

The losers were called for 27 personal fouls in dropping their fifth league game in nine starts. OLSM made as many (26) from the charity stripe as the visitors tried.

Two free throws by Scott Simon in the first overtime were the deciding factor as RO St. Mary was upset. The losing Irish had tied the game on Rod Bannister's layup in the final second of regulation time.

Tom Wagner of St. Mary led all scorers with 16 points while Scott Simon's 10 were the best for Lamphere.

Long Year for Irish Mentor

By United Press International

Some people claim John Jordan acted in haste when he resigned as Notre Dame basketball coach earlier this month. Jordan himself will admit today that he wasn't hasty enough.

Jordan, an alumnus of Notre Dame and head coach since 1951, gave up in anger when he was hanged in effigy two weeks ago and announced he would leave his post at the end of the current season.

The situation has gotten even worse since then and Jordan must be wondering how long a season can be.

The Irish went into double overtime against Purdue last night before suffering a 112-103 defeat at Fort Wayne. It was the second time in eight days Notre Dame has lost a game although scoring more than 100 points and marked the third time it has happened this season.

Dave Schellhase was the Purdue hero, scoring seven straight points in the second overtime for a game total of 43.

7 OF 8

Notre Dame, which has lost seven of its last eight games and now has a 5-1 record, was in command during the first half and enjoyed a 49-43 advantage at the intermission.

But the Irish were unable to control the boards after Walt Sahm fouled out just after the second half started and Purdue was back in contention.

Russell, Buntin Provide Punch in 80-66 Win

Wolverines Now 4-0 in Big 10; Cantrell Sharp on Defense

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin again provided most of the scoring punch Tuesday night as Michigan padded its Big Ten basketball lead with an 80-66 victory over Minnesota.

But it was the smallest man on the court who received the most praise when it was all over.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota coach John Kundla said Michigan captain Bob Cantrell "messed up our game" with his defensive work.

Cantrell, who is 5-feet-10, guarded Archie Clark, a 6-foot-1 Ecorse, Mich., native who is the Gophers' top playmaker. Cantrell not only hampered Clark's passing, but held him to seven points.

Michigan coach Dave Strack, saying Cantrell was exceptional on defense, also pointed out "he may not score a lot of points, but when he does they mean something."

START RALLY

Cantrell and Russell got Michigan going again when Minnesota edged to within seven points midway in the second half.

The Gophers scored three quick baskets in the last minute of the first half to cut Michigan's lead at the intermission to 42-32.

Minnesota crept up on the second-ranked Wolverines in the second half and outscored them in the first 10 minutes.

Russell scored eight of his game-leading 25 points in the second half flurry. Cantrell added two baskets and Buntin chipped in with four free throws.

★ ★ ★

The Gophers never threatened again, despite the efforts of Mel Northway, who finished wih 19 points, and Lou Hudson, who added 17.

Buntin finished with 23 points and had 13 rebounds, while Oliver Darden added 10 points and 12 rebounds for Michigan.

The Wolverines, now 4-0 in the conference and 13-1 overall, spotted the Gophers the first basket of the game, then jumped to a 9-2 lead.

Michigan held its biggest lead, 42-26, just before Minnesota put together its three quick baskets near the end of the half.

The Wolverines found themselves on the short end in the rebounding department in the first half, but finished ahead 48-46.

Illinois, which does not play again until February 1, is the only other unbeaten team in the Big Ten. The Fighting Illini are 2-0. Ohio State is 2-1, while all of the other teams have lost at least twice.

MSU NEXT

The loss to Michigan gave Minnesota a 3-2 conference mark and 10-5 overall.

Michigan meets Mich. State its next two times out, playing at East Lansing Saturday and returning to Ann Arbor the following Saturday.

Utica, North Branch Win

Arthur Hill Spanks SVC Leader

Flint Central lost a lot of its weekly prep poll prestige but retained its perfect mark in the Saginaw Valley Conference when it blew a 73-70 decision to Saginaw Arthur Hill last night.

Utica lost an early lead against Warren and also the basketball game, 82-63; while Ortonville Brandon went cold in the second half and fell victim to North Branch, 75-60.

Central, the fifth rated Class A team in Associated Press poll, saw its mark drop to 5-2 when Arthur Hill captured the "non-league" verdict at Flint with a last period comeback after trailing, 61-48, with seven and half minutes to play.

SVC scoring leader Art Gelow hit two free throws with 29 seconds to play that put Arthur Hill ahead, 71-68, and provided the winning points.

The winners outscored Flint Central's Indians, 21-4, at one stretch in the last period. Gelow led all scorers with 18 points. The losers and Saginaw High have 5-0 league logs while the Lumberjacks are 2-3 in the league.

The Blackhawks from Ortonville were in a 38-38 halftime deadlock but hit only 18 per cent of their second half field goals.

Led by Tom Frampton (24) and Glen Jamison (20), North Branch hit well in close for a seven-point advantage in the third quarter that continued to grow in the final stanza.

Mel McDowell's and Steve Hubbs' 14 led Brandown which is 1-7 now and meets arch rival Goodrich Friday at Ortonville. North Branch is 4-3 overall.

Utica led 18-10 after one session but trailed by three at intermission. Warren then erupted for 31 third quarter points and 22 more in the final period.

Mike Kowalski hit 21 and Dan Drca 20 but they couldn't offset the 30 by 6-1 jumping jack Larry Salsi and 20 of Dallas Tiensivu for the winners.

Tells The Story

Nature Center Project Under Way

Foundation Plans to Purchase Hatchery Site

The National Youth Science Foundation has announced that it will purchase 60 acres of the old Drayton Plains fish hatchery site so that the land can be used to establish a nature center.

Robert R. Forbes, president of the foundation, made the announcement last week during a meeting in Detroit.

Forbes also said that control of the property would be turned over to an organization of local citizens for operation. The center would be aimed at youth with no admission charged.

The purchase price set by the Conservation Department is $42,000.

This is the same figure quoted last April when Forbes and department officials approached subdivision owners adjacent to the hatchery and asked them to start the ball rolling.

★ ★ ★

Representatives from the Drayton Woods subdivision were reported to have attended along with invited people from various nature clubs in Southeastern Michigan.

Don Richards of the Conservation Department's education division told the gathering that the location is ideal for a nature center emphasizing water life and studies.

Other animal life and plants native to Michigan also would be included in the exhibits.

Forbes said at the Detroit meeting that two foundations are interested in partially financing buildings for the center. One is the National Audubon Society.

Those attending the meeting voted to organize and file incorporation papers to facilitate the raising of money.

Forbes repeated his statement of last April that the National Youth Science Foundation "is not a money giving organization. We help the community help itself.

"Our function will be to help establish a nature center and advise in its operation. We receive no pay for our effort." The foundation he represents is operated by private funds.

Forbes' feeling is that the 60-acre site will contain "a larger than medium center costing $250,000 to $300,000."

The annual operational expense would be $25,000 to $50,000 he said. An endowment fund of $500,000 would be needed to maintain such an operation.

The hatchery was officially closed a year ago by the Conservation Department.

★ ★ ★

Reasons given were that the water used in the ponds was too contaminated from septic tanks for trout and that it would be too costly to convert the facilities for pike and muskie raising.

Pike are now being emphasized in the state's hatchery program instead of trout as in previous years.

Loose Moose Clown Around the Town

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Alaskans are very fond of moose as seen through rifle sights or as steak on the table, but not in the back yard, on the highway, on the railroad tracks or galloping off with the Monday morning wash.

"The moose is Alaska's most important game animal," says Loren Croxton, regional game supervisor here for the State Department of Fish and Game.

"But he can be a problem. "He's so big and strong and ornery and stubborn he goes where he pleases. Ordinary fences don't slow him down. He's afraid of nothing—he'll even charge a train."

The humpbacked, droop-nosed giants range over most of this huge state and hunters from the "lower 48"—Alaska's name for the rest of the nation—spend a lot of money in the 49th to bag the trophy moose. Dressing out at 500 to 700 pounds, it provides the winter meat supply for hundreds of Alaskans.

Alive, it brings winter headaches to hundreds of others.

It is when the snows are deep that the moose changes personality from Noble King of the Wilds to unfunny Clown-Around-Town.

"Moose gather in the willow patches to browse," Croxton says. "If these happen to be in or near a city or village the moose doesn't mind having humans around, if they don't get in the way. He and his friends may wander through town if food runs short in the willow patch.

GAME TRAILS

"Cleared streets and sidewalks look like excellent trails to the moose.

Occasionally Croxton gets complaints from housewives that moose have walked through their clotheslines and carried away the laundry. In Palmer, a wandering moose tumbled into an open foundation. Mr. and Mrs. Sverre Hansen of Anchorage made a pet one winter of a cow moose they named Emma, but few folks are courageous enough to hand bread out the back door to a big, 1,200-pound beast with shifty eyes.

Moose on the loose are a major problem on railroad and highway.

The Alaska Railroad timetable in 1961 warned it was "not responsible for train delays because of moose."

When the snow piles up—and it can pile high enough to hide a caboose—snowplows gouge out a trench intended for the trains, but moose regard it as a trail and a refuge. He has the same attitude toward cleared highways, where he is more evenly matched. Rarely does a moose derail a train, but he almost always wrecks the car that hits him.

"The moose is like a cow on stilts," Croxton says. "When hit by one of today's low-slung cars it doesn't smash the grill—it usually comes down on top of the driver.

★ ★ ★

"And Alaskans are learning to watch out for the moose's one-two punch. A driver may slow down to let a cow moose cross the highway, then speed up and hit the calf that is loafing several yards behind."

Highway signs remind the driver of the danger and it would help if moose could read. Croxton says a mirror system used in Europe will be given a try—the mirrors along the roadside flash the car's headlight beams over a wide area, giving night drivers a better opportunity to see an approaching moose.

NO LOVE LOST

Railroaders, says conductor Ken Porter, hate to kill any animal; but running at slow speed for 10 miles or more behind a galloping moose can strain a man's love of wild creatures.

One engineer tried throwing snowballs as a solution until one huge old bull turned, charged the engine and broke its neck. An irate brakeman chased a trainstalling cow moose off the track with a broom.

Despite all precautions the railway kill may reach 300 or more in a severe winter, most of them in the 100 miles between Palmer and Talkeetna. Train crews are required to report a kill at the next stop and section crews make an effort to recover the carcass.

★ ★ ★

"It's difficult an dsometimes impossible when the temperature is 50 degrees below zero," Croxto says, "but most of the meat is salvaged and it goes to native villages, missions, orphanages and other charities."

If you glance out a window on a winter morning and a moose is looking in, pinch yourself. If it hurts, you're in Alaska.

LOOSE MOOSE — This is a common sight when snows cover moose feeding grounds in Anchorage, Alaska. This big fellow is on the prowl for a handout.

Dog Classes, Trial Slated

Another obedience dog training class will get under way tomorrow night with a demonstration at the CAI building in Waterford Township.

Walled Lake's opening demonstration is scheduled for Tuesday. And there will be fun field trial for pointing dogs this Sunday near New Haven.

The training classes are handled by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club members.

Demonstrations will show the techniques used and the eventual goal of the classes. Actual class work starts the second night of the school and owners are urged to leave their canines home rather than taking them to the demonstrations.

★ ★ ★

The demonstrations at the CAI building on Williams Lake Road and at Walled Lake will start at 8 p.m.

The German Shorthaired Pointer Club of Michigan is sponsoring the fun trial. The trail is open to all pointing breeds and will be held at the Russel Dixon home, 26691 27-Mile, New Haven, at 9 a.m.

Nimrods Purchase More Licenses in '63

Latest receipts indicate that Michigan's hunting license sales took another turn for the better in 1963 while fishing licenses held fairly steady at their low levels of recent years.

Through Dec. 31, license revenue totaled nearly $6,482,000, some $237,000 above a year ago.

Although final figures for 1963 will not be available until March, it appears that sales will be up somewhat for the second straight year after being in an extended slump.

Firearm deer licenses paced last year's increased sales.

State's Title to St. Clair Flats Upheld

Michigan's trust title to St. Clair Flats wildlife area and other naturally-made lands in the Great Lakes has been upheld by a recent opinion of the U.S. Department of Justice, according to State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley.

Acting upon a controversy which centered around coastal areas in Louisiana, Texas and Florida, the Justice Department advised that lands formed by stream deposits and other natural forces were conveyed to the states under the Federal Submerged Lands Act of 1953.

The U.S. Department of the Interior had contended that only man-made lands were granted to the states under this act.

At the request of Conservation Director Gerald E. Eddy, state attorneys joined Louisiana, Texas and Florida in their stand against the federal agency in a move to confirm Michigan's claim to the 10,000-acre St. Clair Flats wildlife area.

Bridge Official Predicts:

Record Set by NEA's Jacoby Will Never Be Surpassed

By Newspaper Enterprise Association

NEW YORK — Oswald Jacoby, Newspaper Enterprise Association and Pontiac Press bridge columnist, set a record in 1963 which will never be surpassed. This was the view expressed by Alvin Landy, executive secretary, American Contract Bridge League.

Landy revealed that for the fourth time in five years Jacoby has won the William E. McKenney Trophy for the best U.S. individual bridge performance.

"Jacoby has performed a bridge feat as significant in the game as breaking the four-minute mile was in track," Landy said. "I doubt if anyone again will have the time and skill to score 1,000 master points in one year."

Jacoby ended the 1963 tournament year with 1,034 points scored in 11 months of play. The previous record was set in 1960 by Robert Jordon, of Philadelphia, who made 872½ points that year.

One thousand master points in a year had long been considered impossible by expert bridge players.

Jacoby also leads the nation in total file master points — 8,120. Charles Goren trails with 6,800. Jacoby, a retired U.S. Naval Reserve officer, amassed his tremendous lead despite being out of tournament play for six years while in service during World War II and the Korean War. The NEA writer whose column—"Win at Bridge"—appears in nearly 400 daily newspapers eclipsed Goren in 1962.

The bridge tournament is considered a young man's competition because of the travel required to play a sufficient number of games to amass record points. Jacoby, however, is a spry 61.

Jacoby's total went to 1,011 during the Mid-South Regional Championship in Edgewater Park, Miss., in early November. He thus shattered the "dream" 1,000-point record in slightly more than 10 months of play.

Bridge experts also consider it unusual that in many of his tournaments during the past year Jacoby teamed up with players who were not life master-ranked. During the course of the 1963 campagn five of his partners scored sufficient points to bring them such rank.

"This is the most gratifying part of the whole experience," Jacoby said after the figures for the year and the award were made public. "The development of new interest in the game and seeing new, young players moving ahead in competitive play is most rewarding," he said, adding:

"Otherwise, I'm just a little tired."

His nearest rivals in 1963 scoring were Barry Crane and Mrs. Hermine Baron, both of Los Angeles, who scored 822 and 762 respectively.

Trade Pact Said Given for Fidel Support

AP Photofax

KREMLIN RECEPTION — Bearded Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro was welcomed at a Kremlin reception in Moscow last night by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The reception marked the end of Castro's formal visit to Russia. He is wearing his "Hero of the Soviet Union" gold star, awarded him in Moscow last spring.

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia's new trade pact with Cuba apparently was in exchange for a pledge of support from Premier Fiedel Castro in the Kremlin's dispute with Communist China, diplomatic observers said today.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev announced the long-term trade agreement last night at a gala reception ending the official part of Castro's visit.

Khrushchev said the agreement will help the lagging economic development of Cuba and guarantee the Caribbean country "against world sugar market fluctuations and from sabotage of American monopolists." Sugar is Cuba's primary product.

* * *

The Soviet leader and Castro, who arrived unexpectedly in the Soviet Union earlier this month, traveled to the Ukrainian capital of Kiev today for some more hunting and sightseeing. It was not announced when the Cuban premier would leave for home, but his departure was expected before the end of the month.

LITTLE DISCLOSED

Little has been disclosed about Khrushchev's many meetings with Castro but it is generally believed the Cuban leader came for more economic help in the face of the U.S. economic boycott and hurricane damage to Cuba's sugar crops.

Speculation that Khrushchev won a promise of support from Castro in the quarrel with Peking was based on remarks made by both leaders.

Khrushchev, stating that Moscow would continue to help Castro's regime build socialism and raise Cuba's standard of living, said:

"We highly appreciate the Cuban people and their government to the policy of our party and the Soviet Union."

* * *

In a television interview after the reception, Castro said he was satisfied with the results of his talks with Soviet officials.

GROWN STRONGER

"Our friendship with the Soviet Union is great and has grown stronger as a result of this visit," he said.

Castro expressed high admiration for Khrushchev and added, "The Soviet government's attitude toward us is truly a fraternal, Socialist, Communist attitude."

The Cuban leader also reiterated his invitation to Washington to reinstate normal U.S.-Cuban relations, and said Cuba favors good relations with all Latin American countries "on the basis of equality and respect for sovereignty."

* * *

These remarks appeared to support Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence with the West and his desire for maintaining a status quo in the Caribbean, at least for the present.

CASTRO NEUTRAL

Prior to his visit, Castro tended in public statements to be neutral in the ideological and political dispute between Moscow and Peking. Cuba, like Red China, has not endorsed the limited nuclear test-ban treaty which Russia signed with the United States and Britain.

The nuclear treaty reflected the Kremlin's present drive for relaxation of the cold war, which conflicts with Peking's more militant policy toward the West. The Chinese Reds reject peaceful coexistence.

The new Soviet - Cuban trade pact came at a time when Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai is touring Africa as part of Peking's campaign to win more backing from the countries of Africa, Asia and Latin America.

* * *

The new agreement was presumed to augment existing trade accords between Russia and Cuba. The Soviets are believed pumping more than $1 million a day into the Cuban economy.

Showdown With Eddie?

Liz, Richard on Way to L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton, the world's most publicized lovers, will fly here today from Mexico for what could be a face to face showdown with singer Eddie Fisher.

Milton Rudin, lawyer for Miss Taylor, said the actress and Burton will make the flight from Puerto Vallarta, Mexico by chartered plane.

Their estimated time of arrival is unknown.

Burton wrote a letter from the once obscure Mexican resort to Richard Hanley, Miss Taylor's secretary, with instructions that it be released exclusively to The Associated Press. It said:

DEMANDS FANTASTIC

"We are told publicly by the press that Mrs. Fisher is anxious to make easy the procedure of divorce. We are told privately by our lawyers that Mr. Fisher's demands are in the realm of the fantastic and quite intolerable.

"In the past two years, the world press for the most part have reviled, abused and maligned Miss Taylor, but even they have never accused her of being a liar," Burton said.

"Mr. Fisher must now decide whether to live up to his public image and do what he calls 'the gentlemanly thing,' or he must make public to the newspapers his private demands."

* * *

Burton said if Fisher wanted to cooperate, "he has only to sign a piece of paper," and added: "But whichever way he chooses will make no difference to us in the end."

NO SHOW DOWN

But Fisher, occupying a bungalow in the Beverly Hills Hotel, said he knew of no plans for a showdown. His lawyer, Louis Nizer, has been urging such a meeting for weeks.

"I'll be here today," said Fisher, "and if Elizabeth and Burton want to see me, I'll be available."

* * *

"I have no fantastic demands, no fantastic deals to make. I just want the whole thing over with as soon as possible. I think it is all a big bore."

Fisher leaves Thursday for New York, then he takes off for Zurick, Geneva and Innsbruck, Austria, where he'll sing at the gala opening of the winter Olympics.

Fisher Lives Up Present, and Lives Down the Past

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS — I walked into Eddie Fisher's clothes closet in his king-sized dressing room at the Desert Inn. I counted 30 suits.

"And those are just for tonight," Eddie grinned.

WILSON

Eddie is the happiest cat in town. He's enjoying his bachelor-type, stay-up all night life with girls, girls, girls and revels in the crowd's applause. He wouldn't take Liz Taylor back now with Richard Burton as his valet.

He is convinced that the girl he once desperately loved is not adjusted to reality.

He sits on the stage steps after a song, sips champagne and says, "This is what I was meant to do—sing. I got off the beam for a while but I hope I'm back on the right track."

He jokes about the Liz-Burton situation.

When he sings "Wish You Were Here" he throws in an aside, "So glad you're there."

Introducing his conductor, Eddie Samuels, he says "In February he will have been with me 8 years. That's longer than anybody's been with me."

'Majority Desire Does Not Dictate Constitutionality'

SHIPPENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court says the fact that most Americans may favor Bible reading in the public schools has nothing to do with its constitutionality.

In a speech Tuesday night at Shippensburg State College, Douglas said the purpose of the Constitution is to "protect the minority no matter how repugnant this might be to the majority."

The court has ruled that religious exercises, including Bible reading, cannot be required in public schools.

Sargent Shriver Hasn't Decided on '64 Election

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) — Sargent Shriver, director of the U.S. Peace Corps, told newsmen Tuesday night he has not decided whether to run for vice president if he is asked.

* * *

Shriver, on a world tour, came to inspect Peace Corps work in Afghanistan and to deliver a message from President Johnson to King Mohammad Zahir.

Shriver would not say if Johnson had asked him to be his running mate in the November general election.

IN THE FAMILY

He said he knew press reports indicated that his brother-in-law Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, also might be a vice presidential candidate and quipped, "At least it would be a good thing to keep in the family."

Bus Flipped to Avoid Cliff

POINT MUGU, Calif. (UPI)—At least 23 persons were injured last night when a Greyhound bus driver swerved the vehicle to overturn it rather than skid off the rain-slick Pacific Coast highway and over an ocean cliff.

Attendants at St. John's Hospital in Oxnard, where 21 of the injured were taken, said that none of the 21 admitted appeared to be in critical condition.

Two other persons were taken to Pt. Mugu Naval Hospital.

* * *

The driver, Anthony Wilson Jr., 39, Atascadero, Calif., said: "I hit this curve at about 50-60 miles per hour.

STARTED SKID

"I let up on the accelerator and that's when it started to skid.

"I thought the bus was going to go off the cliff—that's when I decided to lay it over.

"I jerked it sharply to the right."

Wilson, who wears a seven-year driving safety badge, was admitted to St. John's with an injured elbow and was in shock.

* * *

The bus had 27 passengers aboard plus Wilson and another Greyhound driver, H. P. Stevens of Ventura, Calif.

3 Americans Hurt in Viet Plane Crash

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Three American military personnel were slightly injured today when a U.S. Air Force C47 developed engine trouble on takeoff and made a crash landing near Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman said.

The plane had taken off from Tan Son Nhut Airport on an administrative flight and landed four miles north of the airport with 16 personnel aboard, the spokesman added. The spokesman said the aircraft burned after the crash.

Junior Editors Quiz on LIGHT

QUESTION: How was the speed of light discovered?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The speed of light, 186,282 miles per second, is so fantastically fast that it's impossible to conveive of it, even less draw it—so our artist has symbolized it by a figure based on Mercury, the fleetfooted messenger of the Greek gods, flaming across the night sky.

This tremendous speed was first calculated, roughly, by a Danish astronomer, Olaus Roemer, in 1675.

He had been studying the planet Jupiter and noticed that one of this planet's moons was eclipsed by it 16 minutes later when Jupiter, in its regular orbit, was farther away from the earth than when closest to the earth.

Roemer thought this was because the light had to go a greater distance and since he knew the distances between the earth and Jupiter he was able to calculate that the light moved at 192,000 miles a second.

Later, scientists checked this by sending light flashes from rotating mirrors over a long distance and back, then checking how far the mirrors had revolved.

Professor Michelson, in 1927, arrived at a figure of 186,284 miles a second, but later experiments cut 2 miles from this figure.

FOR YOU TO DO: Think of a flash of light leaping 186,282 miles a second. Then think of the vast distance it must go in a minute, an hour, a day, a year! Distances in space are measured in light-years—the distance light goes in one year, being about 6 million million miles.

Party to Be Just Smashing

LONDON (UPI) — British society photographers Marc Henrie has invited 200 guests to bring axes and hammers to a party and wreck his Westminster studio.

The smash affair is the photographer's way of protesting against the Westminster Council, which gave him notice to quit before demolishing the entire block to make way for a parking lot.

"We'll save them the trouble of knocking this place down," Henrie said.

He guarantees that every one of his guests "will get a big bang" out of this party.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Drugs Treat Those Suffering Dizzy Spells

Q— I am 35 and suffer from nausea, dizzy spells and fainting. I have been told that this is due to orthostatic hypotension. What is this? What causes it and is there any drug that might help me?

A—Whenever a change of position from lying or sitting to standing causes a fall in blood pressure sufficient to produce the symptoms you mention, a diagnosis of orthostatic hypotension can be made.

What happens is that the lowered pressure prevents the brain from getting enough oxygen.

This often happens to people who have taken too large a dose of a drug to control their high blood pressure and to victims of diabetes, multiple sclerosis and adrenal deficiency.

★ ★ ★

In most victims, the cause is unknown.

ELASTIC STOCKINGS

In treating this condition elastic stockings that reach to the hip and an abdominal binder help to keep all the blood from going to the feet and abdomen.

Transfusions of dextran are sometimes necessary, but most victims can be benefited by treatment with drugs.

Q — What is hemolytic streptococcus infection? Is it serious? Is it contagious? What is the usual treatment for it?

★ ★ ★

A — The streptococcus is one of the so-called pus formers and the hemolytic variety destroys red blood cells.

This is the germ that causes strep sore throat, erysipelas, tonsilitis, child bed fever, scarlet fever, blood poisoning, rheumatic fever, and rheumatic heart disease.

All but the last three are contagious.

★ ★ ★

Complications include sinusitis, middle ear infection, pneumonia, arthritis, meningitis, and kidney infection.

All are serious and all are cured by antibiotics, especially penicillin.

Q — Is histidine which is found in protein the same as histamine which causes allergy? What drugs reduce the histamine in the system?

★ ★ ★

A — Histidine, an amino acid essential for growth, is found in all proteins.

Histamine is an amine and it too is found in all animal and vegetable cells.

In high concentrations histamine acts as a dilator of small blood vessels.

★ ★ ★

When this occurs in the brain it causes the so - called histamine headache.

MEAN TISSUE

Both of these chemical names are derived from the Greek "histos" meaning tissue.

There are literally dozens of antihistaminic drugs.

Some of the most commonly used are diphenhydramine, hydroxyzine and promethazine.

Q — I am taking Dexamyl to reduce. My doctor is also giving me Elavil. What is it for?

★ ★ ★

A — Amytriptyline (Elavil) is a mild tranquilizer. Persons who take it should be checked every 6 months for signs of increased tension in the eyeballs (glaucoma).

Romney Sets $622-Million Budget

Kennedy Hits Final Round of Asia Talks

Now in Indonesia; Says Important News Coming in 24 Hours

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert A. Kennedy arrived in Jakarta today for a final round of talks on Malaysia with Indonesian President Sukarno, arch enemy of the new federation.

Kennedy flew from the Malaysian capital of Kuala Lumpur after telling newsmen "an important announcement can be expected within the next 24 hours."

He said Malaysian leaders "are making every effort to find a peaceful solution" to their dispute with the Philippines and Indonesia.

The attorney general hopes to set up a summit conference between the three main disputants — Sukarno, Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman and President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines.

★ ★ ★

The dispute centers on the federation formed last September by Malaya, Singapore and the British Borneo territories of Sabah — British North Borneo — and Sarawak.

NOT INSISTING

Rahman disclosed after his talks with Kennedy that he no longer insisted that Indonesia and the Philippines recognize Malaysia as a condition for a summit meeting.

But he stuck to his demand for a truce in the undeclared guerrilla war along the Malaysia-Indonesia border in Borneo.

Kennedy told newsmen that his talks with Sukarno in Tokyo last week had been most helpful and he looked forward to resuming them.

"Out of these efforts and President Sukarno's desire for peace in the area, I am hopeful there will be a conference of the three countries caught up in the Malaysia crisis," Kennedy said.

HEAVY GUARDS

Jakarta's airport was swarming with security guards when the attorney general and his party arrived in their jet. Western diplomats were struck by the red carpet treatment accorded the attorney general.

A guard of honor and a military band greeted Kennedy and he was welcomed by Foreign Minister Subandrio and Army Minister Achmad Jani. U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones also was on hand.

Near the airport someone had scrawled "Go Home Kennedy" on a wall. No American flags could be seen.

LBJ Proposal Interests Reds

GENEVA (AP)—Western and neutral delegates at the 17-nation disarmament conference expressed confidence today that the Soviet Union is studying President Johnson's new arms control proposals with exceptional interest.

The President, in a message read at the conference's resumption yesterday, proposed a verified freeze on the number and specifications of nuclear delivery systems—missiles, planes, submarines and the like—and a controlled cutoff in the production of nuclear materials for weapons.

Some delegates believed two less spectacular proposals by Johnson had better chances of a favorable Soviet reaction.

These called for agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to nations that don't have them and a system of observation posts to prevent accidental war or surprise attack.

BOTH SIMILAR

These in general coincided with two points proposed by Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin as part of a seven-point program of negotiations, but agreement was not complete.

Johnson, for example, worded his proposal to ban the transfer of nuclear weapons so that it would not apply to the multilateral nuclear force proposed for the North Atlantic alliance.

Tsarapkin called for prevention of the spread of nuclear weapons to multilateral forces as well as to individual nations.

★ ★ ★

Johnson's proposals for the first time broke up the huge and complex package of general disarmament, long deadlocked in the two-year-old conference. A general disarmament treaty is the ultimate goal, but the U.S. proposals are preliminary measures which might start the powers toward a comprehensive treaty.

TREATY INCLUDED

The U.S. proposals also included a treaty to outlaw the use or threat of force and subversion, and a new effort to ban underground nuclear weapon tests, excluded from the limited test-ban treaty.

U. S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster described the freeze of delivery vehicles as the most important item in the Johnson proposals.

He told newsmen that Soviet willingness to discuss control systems to verify such a cutoff would imply a reversal of Soviet disarmament policy.

★ ★ ★

The Russians have never been willing to talk about any control of arms withut accompanying measures to dismantle or liquidate the arms.

NO INDICATION

There was no immediate indication of the Soviet response. Foster said he hoped this reticence meant the Russians were giving the proposal exceptionally careful study before the next meeting of the conference Thursday.

New Satellite Circles Earth

Part of New System for Communications

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A new U.S. communications satellite, Relay 2, circled the earth today and may be joined Friday by another, the giant Echo 2 balloon, as scientists seek the best space system for worldwide radio, television and telephone coverage.

Relay 2 shot into orbit from Cape Kennedy yesterday atop a three-stage Delta rocket.

On the satellite's first orbit, radio voice communications and a television test pattern were beamed to it from Mojave, Calif. The satellite transmitted the signals back to Mojave and to a station at Nutley, N.J.

★ ★ ★

First intercontinental television broadcasts via Relay 2 were scheduled today — an exchange of greetings between U.S. and Japanese government officials. President Johnson may speak on the U.S. segment.

BALLOON LAUNCH

Echo 2, successor to the spectacular Echo 1 balloon which orbited in 1960, is scheduled for launching from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., Friday.

It is to expand to a diameter of 135 feet in space, and the United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to try to bounce radio signals off its aluminum skin.

It would be their first joint experiment in talking via satellite.

★ ★ ★

Relay 2, an active communications satellite built by RCA, and Echo 2, which has no electronic parts and serves only as a reflector of signals, are different approaches in a U.S. effort to determine the most effective type of satellite for a global space communications system.

★ ★ ★

Most experts believe an eventual network will consist of three to six satellites similar to the Syncom 2 payload launched last year. Syncom satellites orbit 22,300 miles high, where their relative speeds match that of the earth and they appear to hover over one spot.

Revise Curriculums, Exec Urges Schools

A revision of high school curriculums to meet the vocational needs of the 7 out of 10 students who do not go on to college was urged last night by a Burroughs sales executive.

Paul H. McNamara, Detroit district sales manager for Burroughs Corp., spoke at the annual banquet of the Pontiac Board of Realtors in the Elks Temple.

He called for a concerted effort to gear educational programs to the vocational needs of the potential unemployed and unemployables of tomorrow:

"We should review our high school curriculums to prepare these students for the world they will have to live in upon graduation."

McNamara said: "They don't need the college preparatory curriculum because it doesn't give them a marketable skill . . ."

★ ★ ★

The annual banquet featured the installation of the board of realtors' slate of 1964 officers.

NEW PRESIDENT

Philip E. Rowston of 60 Cherokee succeeded Robert C. Irwin as president.

Irwin was also honored as "Realtor of the Year, 1963." He was presented with a plaque. A second plaque thanked him for his service as president.

Other 1964 officers are Thomas Bateman, vice president; Lewis Hileman, secretary; and Kenneth G. Hempstead, treasurer.

An estimated 400 persons attended the banquet. Circuit Judge William J. Beer presided as master of ceremonies.

State Request Called 'Lean but Muscular'

Record Total Projects Sharp Spending Rise for Education, Health

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today gave the legislature a record proposed budget of $622.4 million for 1964-65, terming it a "lean but muscular" plan tailored to meet needs while using less money than is available.

In a detailed account of the program outlined in his Jan. 9 State of the State message, Romney called for sharply increased spending in education and mental health.

At the same time, however, he recommended that $24 million in surpluses be budgeted for the coming fiscal year, $19 million of which would go into a Michigan "future fund" for capital outlay.

The other $5 million would be budgeted as general fund surplus, Romney said, as evidence that Michigan no longer is in the bad financial condition of recent years.

★ ★ ★

He said his budget, "a record in scope as well as in size," is designed to "close a gap between needs and services that resulted in part from Michigan's fiscal problems.

FISCAL INTEGRITY

"A surplus will be proof to the people of Michigan and the nation that Michigan has regained its fiscal integrity and once again is the dynamic, progressive forward - looking state we have been historically," said the governor.

His total figure of $622.4 million is some $72 million higher than the $550 million which the legislature authorized for the current fiscal year.

The proposed new total includes general fund increases of nearly $70 million for education and $13 million for mental health operations, both of which Romney has described as areas of prime concern.

★ ★ ★

These two spending items — $273.7 million for education, $98.7 million for mental health—comprise about 60 per cent of the total budget.

EDUCATION TOTAL

The education total includes $131 million for higher education, $94.4 million for state school aid, and $32 million for capital outlay.

In welfare spending—always one of the three largest items in the budget—Romney asked an increase of less than 1 per cent, to a total of $99.3 million.

In a special welfare message last week, Romney outlined a plan for greater state participation in federal programs he said would bring in some $14.9 million and ease the pressure on local and state welfare funds.

★ ★ ★

A key feature of Romney's budget is a "pay-as-you-grow" capital outlay program which proposes spending $51 million in 1964-65 for state building and expansion.

PERMIT PROJECTS

The governor said this will permit continuation, completion or new starts on 46 different projects with a combined total value of $118 million, plus planning and-or the start of some 24 college and university projects.

Romney estimated general fund revenues of "at least" $594 million for the current fiscal year, an increase of $30

From Reds
War Kits to Africa

LONDON (UPI) — Complete "do-it-yourself" guerrilla fighting kits are being shipped from behind the Iron Curtain to Africans who want to drive whites out of the southern toe of their continent.

The kits contain everything needed to wage deadly guerrilla warfare, right down to silk "rebel" flags, and the willingness of the Communists to supply them is winning over Africans dedicated to black nationalism.

Included in the revolutionary paraphernalia are rapid firing automatic weapons and ammunition, light mortars, combat fatigue uniforms and underwear, field rations and communications sets, field medical supplies and even ambulances.

Western experts on Africa have known for a long time that Communist weapons were finding their way to African insurgents.

But they did not know how. Then, early this month, three events in quick succession served to put the puzzle together:

1. A shipment of arms arrived on Jan. 2 aboard the Algerian ship Khladoun in Dar es Salaam, the Tanganyikan capital which in recent months has become Africa's "freedom capital."

★ ★ ★

2. Almost simultaneously, two African rebel leaders arrived in Prague to negotiate with Czechoslovakian officials.

BLOODY CAMPAIGN

The two were Holden Roberto, whose bloody campaign against the Portuguese in their west African coastal territory of Angola has cost thousands of lives, and his lieutenant, Martin Raul Rodriguez. Roberto came from Geneva and Rodriguez from Warsaw.

3. Less than a week later, the headquarters of the Angolan nationalist organization in Algeria announced that a conference of all the anti-Portuguese liberation fronts would be held in Leopoldville, the capital of the Republic of Congo.

When the arms shipment arrived in Dar es Salaam, the Tanganyikan government tried to throw a news blackout over the arrival of the Khaldoun and its unloading of arms.

But the government-controlled Tanganyika Broadcasting Corp.

City to Crack Down on Trash Violators

The city is going to clamp down on trash and garbage containers, City Manager Robert A. Carter announced last night.

"We've had many complaints of trash being put out in improper containers, such as bags and open cardboard boxes, and blowing around the streets," he said.

"We are now starting to put warnings tags on improper containers and henceforth, city crews will not pick up anything that is not in a proper container."

★ ★ ★

Containers must be leakproof (metal or plastic), have covers and be of no more than 20 gallons capacity.

Negro to Head U. S. Agency

Rowan Replacement for Edward Murrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward R. Murrow, recuperating from surgery for lung cancer, has resigned as director of the U.S. Information Agency and President Johnson yesterday named Carl T. Rowan, ambassador to Finland, to replace him.

★ ★ ★

Rowan, 38, once a deputy assistant secretary of state, will rank with Robert C. Weaver as the two highest Negro officials in the nation's history.

MURROW ROWAN

Weaver is the administrator of the Housing and Home Financing Agency.

Neither man has Cabinet rank, but White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said that Rowan would be the first Negro to sit in the National Security Council.

Murrow, facing a long convalescence, wrote the President Dec. 19 that it was his duty to step down.

"As you know," he said, "I was separated from a cancerous lung in early October.

"The doctors assure me the operation was successful and that recovery to date has been normal.

"However, it will be several months before I can resume full-time duty."

Officials Probe Suspect Food

Three Area Families Stricken Last Week

Pontiac health officials today were investigating 11 cases of suspected food poisoning.

Charles Cohen, assistant city health director, disclosed that three Pontiac area families were stricken last week with what "appears to be some kind of salmonella infection."

He said health officials were still investigating whether or not it was actual food poisoning from accidentally eating contaminated food.

★ ★ ★

Three local families were admitted to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital late last week. All were hospitalized with acute gastroteritis.

IN GOOD CONDITION

Listed in good condition are: Charles Fleefe, 44, of 2099 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills, his wife, Eleanor, two sons, Gary 9, and Norman, 12, and a daughter, Charlene, 6.

Also in good condition are Clarence Parker, 49, of 93 Monterey, his wife, Rebecca, John, 16, and Rebecca, 3; and also Mrs. Alberta Wallace, 24, of 82 Ellwood, and Timmy, 16 months.

Parker was in critical condition, according to hospital officials, when admitted last Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Detroit health officials have uncovered five similar cases in two families of suspected food poisoning.

SUSPECT SUSPENDED

Dr. Robert Wilson, director of the Food, Milk and Meat Division of the Detroit Health Department, said his office has suspended manufacture of a food article suspected of being the cause.

He said he knew of four more cases in Macomb County.

Ernest Mandt, of the Wayne County Health Department, reported two cases, one in Harper Woods and the other in Lincoln Park, of suspected food poisoning involving the same food article.

Oakland County Health Department officials reported that they had not heard of the suspected food poisonings.

"We have no knowledge of it here," commented Dr. Bernard D. Berman, Deputy Director.

GETTING A WORKOUT — James Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, tries to keep in shape these days by working out at the Chattanooga, Tenn., Y.M.C.A. Hoffa is in that city facing trial on a jury-tampering charge. He works the kinks out after court sessions.

Six Unionists Indicted for Sabotage, Beatings

NEW YORK (AP)—Six union officers have been indicted on charges of plotting to sabotage telephone company lines and beat up opponents of an attempt by the Teamsters Union to take over a Communications Workers of America local.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said his office had two of the intended beating victims check into a hospital or wear bandages covering nonexistent injuries. He said this was to make the plotters think their plan was being carried out by a hireling.

Workers of America, but recently were expelled by that union's international organization. The other two are Teamsters organizers.

Hogan said the six sought to induce the local's 10,000 members to pull out of the CWA and affiliate with the independent Teamsters Union.

★ ★ ★

The defendants, arrested at the local's Manhattan headquarters, are:

Henry Habel, 42, Orangeburg, N.Y.; and Arthur McGovern, 34, Deer Park, N.Y., the local's president and vice president, respectively; Julio Rodriguez, 35, Miller Place, N.Y.; and Kenneth Burkhard, 36, Brooklyn, shop stewards in the local; and Teamsters organizers William Griffin, 59, Bethesda, Md., and Morgan Seifert, 41, Montvale, N.J.

Each was released on $7,500 bail.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Judge Frank Wilson, declaring Teamsters President James Hoffa's jury-tampering trial was moving too slowly, personally took over all questioning of jury prospects today.

★ ★ ★

Actually, the hireling was cooperating with his office, Hogan said. He added that such a good job was done in making one intended victim's injuries look real, the plotters gave the hireling a $50 bonus.

Discussing the misdemeanor conspiracy indictments returned Tuesday, Hogan said the defendants planned to use acid and dynamite to destroy phone company facilities. Among those to be beaten was Frederick Kappel, board chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., Hogan said.

Four of the defendants were officers of Local 1101 of the AFL-CIO Communications

Baker Probers Eye LBJ Gift

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating Robert G. Baker's activities left up in the air today whether or not they will pursue testimony of a Baker business associate who said he sold a life insurance policy on Lyndon B. Johnson and later gave him a stereo set.

Issued first in 1957 in the amount of $10,000 while Johnson was the Senate Democratic leader and increased to $200,000 in 1961 after Johnson became vice president, the policy was written by Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent.

★ ★ ★

Reynolds said his firm lists Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority, as vice president. Reynolds told the Senate Rules Committee that in 1959 after obtaining the insurance he gave a stereo set costing over $500 to Johnson at the suggestion of Baker, a former Johnson protege.

He also testified he agreed to buy over $1,200 worth of advertising time on a radio-television station in Austin, Tex., owned by the LBJ Company, which is paying the insurance premiums. Mrs. Johnson recently placed her majority stock-holding in the LBJ Co.

ACCESS TO CLIENTS

Rynolds testified that he regarded Baker, a former South her majority stock-holding in the LBJ Company in trust.

Reynolds testified that he regarded Baker, a former South Carolinian like himself, as someone who could provide him with access to important clients and had paid the former Senate aide about $15,000 for his help.

He said he had given Baker $4,000 for assisting him in obtaining a commission of about $10,000 in 1960 as broker for a performance bond required of Philadelphia contractor Matt McCloskey who built the District of Columbia Stadium.

★ ★ ★

McCloskey, who recently resigned as ambassador to Ireland, was treasurer of the Democratic National Committee at the time. He plans to handle Democratic campaign fund raising activities.

Reynolds testified he also paid $1,500 to William McLeod, chief clerk of the House District Committee, in connection with the same transaction. Informed that McLeod maintained the payment was for legal services in South Carolina, Reynolds said this was not so.

VERY CLEAR

At the White House, press secretary Pierre Salinger was asked to comment on the Reynolds testimony.

"Mr. Jenkins' statement which is part of the record makes it very clear the President never had any conversation with Mr. Reynolds about the record player and considered it a gift from a long-time employe," Salinger said.

★ ★ ★

Asked if Johnson did not receive an invoice which listed Reynolds as the buyer of the equipment, Salinger said, "I'm standing on the statement I made. I think it was very explicit."

★ ★ ★

Salinger reported, in response to another question, that Johnson gave the stereo machine to one of his household employes—not identified—"some time ago."

School Board to Eye Change in Boundary Lines

School board members will consider proposed boundary line changes for Pontiac's junior and senior high schools tomorrow night.

Administration proposals to rearrange boundaries are aimed at avoiding projected overcrowded conditions in some junior high schools and providing an attendance area for the new Baldwin Avenue Junior High.

The senior high boundaries are being changed to balance enrollments between the two schools according to Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

In other business, board members will receive the tabulated results of the questionnaire, which was published with the school district's annual report last fall.

A curriculum plan for Baldwin Avenue Junior High School will also be reviewed by the school board.

EMMETT S. WELLBAUM

Files Petition for District 7

Inspector at Pontiac After Landry Post

An inspector at Pontiac Motor Division, Emmett S. Wellbaum, has announced he will be a candidate for the District 7 City Commission seat this spring.

Wellbaum, 38, of 289 Seward St., filed a nominating petition at the city clerk's office yesterday.

He was the second to file a petition in the city and the first to file from District 7, which is currently represented by Mayor Robert A. Landry.

Wellbaum came to Pontiac in 1945. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the District 1 commission seat in 1952.

FROM INDIANAPOLIS

Before becoming an inspector, he was a technical writer at Pontiac Motor Division. Wellbaum formerly owned and operated a bus line system in Indianapolis, Ind., before he moved to Pontiac.

He is married and has five children.

Wellbaum attended Baylor University Medical School in Dallas four years and served nine months internship at Dallas City Hospital.

He is a past president of the Pioneer Highland Civic Association and member of the Pontiac Urban League.

Offer Cranbrook Classes to Children, Teachers

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Cranbrook Institute of Science is offering two new science programs for children as well as an astronomy course for their teachers.

Youngsters 6 to 9 years old can enroll in "Introducing Science," while those 10 to 12 can take "Exploring Science."

The programs will be held at 9 and 10:30 a.m. Saturdays in the institute's auditorium.

Topics for the "Introducing Science" programs are "Learning About Heat" Feb. 8, "The Rodent Family, Feb. 15 and "Signs of Spring," Feb. 22.

OTHER PROGRAMS

The explorers' program will feature "Exploring the Arctic," March 7; "Light," March 14; "Animal Adaptions," March 21 and "Beginnings of Mathematics," March 28.

There is a fee for nonmembers. Institute officials request an adult accompany each child or group of children. There will be no charge for adults.

Classes will meet from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Tuesdays for eight weeks. There is a fee and the class is limited to 15.

Interviewers soon will be asking a number of Bloomfield Hills residents about their medical expenses and how they pay them.

The families questioned are part of a cross-section group composed of farmers as well as town and city dwellers.

They will be part of a survey sponsored by the Health Information Foundation of the University of Chicago.

ANNUAL COSTS

By talking to some 2,500 families, the group hopes to get an indication of annual medical and hospital care and the costs involved for the average family.

The interviewers, trained representatives of the university's national opinion research center, will carry credentials with them.

City Budget Hearing: 15 Seconds

The public hearing on Pontiac's $6.9-million 1964 budget took 15 seconds at last night's City Commission meeting.

Another 45 seconds was spent ordering City Attorney William A. Ewart to prepare the annual appropriation ordinance for passage next week.

In all, it took one minute to set the stage for adoption of the city's biggest fiscal item.

When Mayor Robert A. Landry announced the opening of the public meeting, there was no comment from the public. The hearing was closed.

MORE HOLIDAYS

In addition to the budget hearing, commissioners granted city employes more holidays.

City employes, exclusive of policemen and firemen, will get Lincoln's Birthday and Veterans Day off, and won't have to work election days on which county offices are closed.

Mayor Robert A. Landry said he regretted there was not enough money for pay increases this year.

"We wish we could give our employes much more," he said.

★ ★ ★

"However, we are running this city on a pay-as-you-go basis, just as we said we would two years ago.

"We may be criticized, but we're telling citizens the truth about our financial problems."

The astronomy course for teachers and other adults will begin Feb. 4.

Samuel E. MacArthur of Lathrup Village recently was named to the board of directors at Kingswood School Cranbrook.

MacArthur, treasurer of Federal-Mogul-Bower Bearings, Inc., of Detroit was named board treasurer upon his appointment.

John F. Dunn

Service for John F. Dunn, 75, of 1557 S. Bates, Birmingham, will be 11 a.m. Friday at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield.

Mr. Dunn died unexpectedly yesterday in Indianapolis, Ind., while en route to Tucson, Ariz., with his wife, Josie.

He was a retired printer at the Birmingham Eccentric and a member of the Holy Name Society of his church.

Rosaries will be recited for 7, 8:30, 9 and 9:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Surviving besides his wife are four sons, Rev. John F. Jr. of Detroit, George C. and Charles D., both of Clawson, and Richard J. of Birmingham; a brother; and eight grandchildren.

Visit Was Alarming

EASTON, Conn. (AP)—Mrs. Walter R. Whitman was embarrassed when the burglar alarm went off as she opened her front door to a caller Tuesday night.

Mrs. Whitman, who had set the alarm because she was alone, hastily turned it off. Then the well dressed, clean-cut visitor, who had introduced himself as an insurance salesman, pulled a gun, police said.

Mrs. Whitman slammed the door, ran back and turned the alarm on again. The caller fled.

Top Honors for Tempest at Daytona

A Pontiac Tempest GTO shared top honors with Chevrolets in performance trials at Daytona Beach International Speedway yesterday.

The Tempest won the over-all performance award in class two trials for medium-bore engines.

The trials were sponsored by the Pure Oil Co. Cars were rated in three phases—economy, acceleration and braking.

★ ★ ★

BREAKS TIE

Chevrolet broke a class one tie with Ford when officials counted second and third place finishes in the trials.

The GTO Tempest is equipped with a V8 engine that displaces 389 cubic inches.

It has a 10.75 compression ratio and a gross horsepower of 325 at 4,800 r.p.m.

★ ★ ★

The GTO weighs a few pounds more than the regular Tempest. Over-all dimensions are the same.

Contracts Go to Chicago Firm

City OKs Studies of Renewal Project

The City Commission last night approved contracts totaling $6,725 for reuse appraisals and market studies in the R20 urban renewal project.

Both contracts went to Real Estate Research Corporation of Chicago, which has provided similar appraisals and studies for both of Pontiac's urban renewal projects in the past.

One contract calls for a survey to determine the most feasible method of selling and redeveloping urban renewal lands in the central business district area.

★ ★ ★

This marketing study will cost $4,300.

Charles L. Langs of Waterford Township is presently working on redevelopment plans and proposals for urban renewal land in the downtown area.

UNDER AGREEMENT

Langs is working under an agreement adopted by the City Commission last summer which guarantees that certain urban renewal lands will be available for sale to him if he can come up with acceptable redevelopment plans and tenants during a one year period.

In effect, the contract makes Langs exclusive redeveloper of these lands. However, the agreement has never been formally approved by the Urban Renewal Agency or the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Without federal approval, the agreement is useless, according to Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates.

★ ★ ★

Bates advised commissioners last November that a market study supporting Langs agreement would be necessary to gain federal approval.

ORDER STUDY

Acting on his recommendation, commissioners ordered the study last night.

It will determine whether it is best for the city to dispose of land through a single party, or by competitive bidding on the open market.

The other contract approved last night was for a $2,425 reuse appraisal and marketability study needed before federal officials can okay a new R20 project plan submitted to them last month.

★ ★ ★

It concerns land that was to be developed for commercial use in the original R20 plan, but has been changed in the new plan to a proposed Residential-3 zoning for high-rise apartments.

This study will establish whether or not there's a demand for high-rise apartments and set a resale value on the land under the residential zoning.

★ ★ ★

Federal officials had not required this when the revised R20 plan was prepared last fall, but now feel it is necessary, according to Bates.

Romney Proposes a Record Budget million over 1962-63, or 5.3 per cent.

He said this will result in a gross surplus of about $62 million for 1963-64, wiping out the current general fund deficit of $22.8 million and leaving nearly $39 million.

★ ★ ★

—"For the first time in seven years," said Romney, "Michigan can move forward to meet needs in education, mental health, public health and safety, economic growth, welfare, vocational training and other programs . . . to help people.

FIRST TIME

"For the first time in 15 years, Michigan can reasonably expect to enjoy two consecutive budget years without either more taxes or more deficit.

10-Year-Old in Chicago Is Pregnant

CHICAGO (AP) — Doctors have confirmed that a 10-year-old girl, described by her fourth grade teacher as quiet, timid and small, will become a mother in about two weeks.

The child was placed in care of a foster family at the age of 3 upon the death of her mother.

Police said she named a 16-year-old boy, a member of the Foster family, as the father-to-be.

★ ★ ★

The physician who confirmed teachers' suspicions said the girl's pregnancy "is so innocent that motherhood is incomprehensible." He added:

REAL BABY?

"When I told her she was going to have a baby, she asked, "A real one?'

"She's up there (in her room) cutting out paper dolls. She cries a lot. She wonders what's going to happen to her and her baby."

The doctor said Catholic charities will take care of the girl after the baby's birth.

She would be Chicago's youngest mother.

The youngest girl to have given birth to a baby who survived was a 5-year-old in Peru in 1939. The baby was born by caesarean section.

Africans Getting War Kits

slipped, and a short news item was broadcast.

CREATED FUROR

That created a furor. Tanganyika Foreign Minister Oscar Kambona was forced to acknowledge that the shipment contained arms, ammunition and ambulances.

He denied the shipment was consigned to the African Liberation Committee of Nine, which he heads.

He said it was for the Tanganlika Rifles — the country's military force.

He was asked where the arms came from and said: "I don't know. We have not had a good look at them yet."

SEVERAL DAYS

This statement came several days after the weapons had been unloaded.

Eyewitnesses who saw the ship unloading said the operation was supervised by Algerians in military-style uniforms. The unloading was observed by officials of the Algerian Embassy in Dar es Salaam—similarly dressed.

Most of the arms bore the brands of the Skoda and Zbrojovka plants in Czechoslovakia. The fact that the bulk of the arms are Czech and not Russian is not surprising.

★ ★ ★

BUSH KNIFE

Czech plants are also reported to turn out one African specialty — a 10-inch long bush knife — similar to but of better quality than the ones with which the Mau Mau caused such terror in Kenya in the 1950's.

The arms pipeline begins at Iron Curtain plants and military clothing factories and passes through Iron Curtain ports to Algeria, where the goods are transhipped to Algerian-hired ships bound for African ports.

★ ★ ★

The weapons end up in the hands of "freedom fighters" dedicated to ousting the whites from Angola, Mozambique and Guinea and later from Southern Rhodesia and South Africa.

Comments on Romney and Goldwater

I heard recommendations and proposals made by Gov. Romney in one-half hour that will take years to do. Why do they offer you the moon before election then kick you in the pants after? If the Governor doesn't do any more in 1964 than he did in '63, he might as well go back to making cars.

Goldwater says the welfare people should work. Let's get him a job. I think he's one of the largest welfare cases in the country and we have a lot of cases in our state capital that should go to work.

Talk is one of the cheapest things we have and we're going to hear a lot of it before the election is over.

'Firemen Uunderpaid? Remedy Situation'

Wants Official Notice of Tax Deadline

The Pontiac Press carried an obscure news item in which it was noted that the deadline for Waterford Township Taxes had been extended from Jan. 20 to Feb. 14.

★ ★ ★

We appreciate this service on the part of The Press, but why can't the Waterford Township treasurer make it official and place an advertisement in The Press advising the taxpayer of the extension?

★ ★ ★

The way these officials operate, one is inclined to disregard any information which is not labeled "official" as it might be retracted when they run short of money. The Pontiac city treasurer usually officially notifies clients of similar actions.

31 Viet Cong Said Killed

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The South Vietnamese Defense Ministry today reported 31 Viet Cong guerrillas and two Self-Defense Corps members killed in two encounters.

Two corpsmen were reported wounded.
