Pontiac Will Vote April 5 on Raising Tax Limit

Coffee Inquiry Into High Prices Promised by Ike

Climbing Costs Justify Trade Group Probe on Possible Violations

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Federal Trade Commission will make a full scale investigation of rising coffee prices.

The President told a news conference the commission launched a preliminary inquiry Jan. 13 and already has discovered enough to warrant a full investigation.

Such an inquiry, he added, is going to take place.

Retail prices for coffee have lately jumped above $1 a pound and wholesalers have predicted a further rise.

The Trade Commission's investigation will be aimed at determining whether any laws have been violated.

The President said the FTC would look specifically into charges that domestic trading in coffee had been limited to certain types.

At his news conference, the President also:

1. Declared he is backing up the position of Secretary of State Dulles at the Berlin Big Four conference. That was in reply to a request for comment on Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's demand for a big five parley, including Red China, on world problems. Dulles rejects that idea.

2. Said his associates at the Capitol tell him they still are hopeful a compromise on the controversial Bricker treaty-power amendment can be worked out.

3. Discussed the distinction, as he sees it, between the policies of his administration and the "New Deal" of the preceding Democratic administrations. He said his administration is politically liberal in dealing with individuals and conservative in dealing with economic and monetary matters.

A major difference can be cited, he added, simply by taking a look at the budget which he said shows his administration is reducing spending and that his predeces-

May Cut Excise Tax to 10 Per Cent Top

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass) said today he hopes Congress can act this year to cut all excise or sales taxes now above 10 per cent down to that level, except for liquor and tobacco.

Congressional staff authorities have established such a move would reduce revenues about 942 million dollars a year.

The proposed cuts woud apply to furs, jewelry, cosmetics, luggage, women's handbags, movie and other admissions, photographic equipment, light bulbs and tubes safe deposit boxes, and club dues, now all taxed at 20 per cent.

Awards Made in O'Brian Capture

TRIBUTE FROM CITY—Mayor Arthur J. Law last night presented checks to Franklin M. Williams (left) of 58½ E. Cornell St. and Jack Seebald (right) of 27 Oriole Rd. for their part in the capture of rape-slayer Donald V. O'Brian. Seebald received $1,000 and Williams $500. The $2,500 awarded to James Brown Jr. of 37 Vinewood Ave. was accepted for him by his mother. James is attending Michigan State College. Brown and Seebald caught O'Brian after he attempted to attack Mrs. Mary Forgette of 20 Oriole Rd. Mrs. Forgette was awarded $500 and a teen-age girl attacked Aug. 15 by O'Brian, $500. Williams was rewarded for having turned O'Brian's name over to police as a possible suspect.

Earnest Citizen Upset by Display of Weather Flag

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A citizen bristled yesterday when he saw a red flag displayed at the Greenwood School—and no American flag. He started calling school officials.

Miss Lucile Sherman, principal, explained the U. S. flag was not up because of the bad weather. The small red flag, she added, warned children to enter the building immediately and not play outside until classtime, because of the weather.

"We've used that storm signal 16 years," she said, "and this is the first time we've been accused of un-Americanism."

1954 City Budget Wins Approval

Officials Get Pay Hike; All Employes Receive Blanket Raises

Pontiac City Commission last night approved the 1954 budget of $4,122,019 submitted by City Manager Walter K. Willman, with one amendment hiking salaries of six officials.

The figure is about $246,000 more than the city's budget for 1953.

An amendment introduced by Mayor Arthur J. Law raised the city manager's pay from $15,500 to $16,500. The city clerk, city attorney, finance director and two municipal judges will receive five per cent increases.

An approximate five per cent pay increase for all other city employes in Willman's original proposal was approved with the budget.

Some $2,553,000 of the budget figure will be paid through taxes. Sources of municipal revenue other than taxes will supply $1,469,019, and $100,000 will be applied from surplus.

Detroit Minister to Speak at Pontiac High Graduation

By GOLDIE STAMAS

Dr. Warner R. Cole, pastor of the Covenant Baptist Church in Detroit, will speak on the topic "Formula for Life" tomorrow night at Pontiac High School's commencement exercises.

Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Pontiac Board of Education, will preside over the ceremony which begins at 8 p. m. in the boys' gymnasium.

The Pontiac High School Band, under the direction of Dale C. Harris, will present the "Processional" by Savino.

The invocation will be delivered by Rev. Kenneth Hutchinson, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene.

Selections from the Broadway show, "Me and Juliet," will follow, presented by the PHS Band.

Theme music from the TV show "Mr. Peepers" will precede the presentation of the class and special awards by John Thors Jr., Pontiac High School principal.

Diplomas will be awarded by Cecil J. Cox, assistant superintendent of Pontiac Public Schools in Supt. Frank J. DuFrain's absence.

The Recessional hymn will be the "University Grand March" by Goldman.

Shirley Clancy will receive a Y-Teens scholarship and Thomas Metzdorf, senior class president, will receive a Hi-Y scholarship. Metzdorf is scheduled to speak briefly.

Other class officers are James Honchell, vice president; Rosemarie Johnston, secretary; and Monroe Osmun, treasurer.

Colder Weather on Way

Rain, Sleet, Snow Tie Up Traffic, Cause 11 Accidents

Colder weather is in store for Pontiac as it cleans up after a 24-hour siege of rain, sleet and snow that snarled traffic, glazed highways and caused 11 auto accidents.

The storm, which police called one of this winter's worst, doused the city with a quarter-inch of rain and sleet Tuesday and left it under 2½ inches of crusted snow today.

Elsewhere in Michigan as much as eight inches of snow were reported at Muskegon and Big Rapids. Isabella County's rural schools stayed closed; and Detroit's morning rush hour traffic crawled bumper to bumper along clogged streets.

But the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts only flurries of snow for tonight with a low of 16 to 20 tonight and high of 28 to 32 degrees Thursday.

Tuesday's highest temperature was 48 degrees, recorded yesterday morning. Mercury dropped steadily, to the day's low of 31 degrees Tuesday evening—a drop that turned rain to sleet and sleet to snow as road crews, dismissed only a few hours earlier, scrambled back to work.

Mercury kept dropping to hit 28 at 8 a. m. today. Temperature stood at 26 degrees at 2 p.m. p. m.

Traffic jams plagued the Pontiac area as roads took on a glaze of ice.

Telegraph Road was blocked near Lone Pine road by a jackknifed steel truck that tied up traffic for a mile during the night.

This morning, Montcalm street's

Board to Suspend Suspect Teachers

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Board of Education placed in effect today a policy of suspending without pay teachers and professors charged with subversive activities or invoking the Fifth Amendment to avoid answering questions of affiliation for Congressional committees.

Suspensions are placed in the hands of City School Superintendent Arthur Dondineau and Wayne University President Clarence Hilberry.

The policy was opposed by the Detroit Lawyers Guild and two former teachers. They claimed the policy ignores "the indispensable protection" that a man is considered innocent until proven guilty.

Opponents also argued that "substantial evidence by a responsible authority," which is necessary for suspension, would be evidence only in name and would not be obtained under court and Constitutional procedures.

Australians Burning Up in Over 100-Degree Heat

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Heatwaves continued today in many parts of eastern Australia. From Hobart to Sydney, thousands hurried to beaches. Fire-fighters had a busy time with vast areas of blazing forests, bush land and grazing country.

In Adelaide, it was 100.1 degrees and in Melbourne 102.5.

Brothers Lease Hotel Pontiac

Three Cranes of Detroit Planning to Go On With Renovations

Three Detroit Hotel men have taken a 10-year lease on the Hotel Pontiac, it was revealed today. Confirmation of the deal, which is completed except for minor details, was made by David Shubow, managing director of the Pontiac Hotel Company, which owns the property.

The three men are brothers, and are Leslie C. Crane, who directs the group's activities, and M. E. and N. B. Crane.

Shubow said today these men have considerable hotel management experience. He said they plan to continue the renovating program in the building here, which already has been complete on the street-level floor. The new operators could not be reached for immediate comment.

Pontiac City Commission last night recommended transfer of the liquor license for the Motor Bar to the Cranes.

Urges Big Four Omit 5-Power Talk Proposal

Dulles Wants Parley to Deal With Germany, European Security

BERLIN (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles urged the Berlin Conference today to skip over action on Russia's proposal for a meeting with Communist China and come to grips immediately with the problems of German unification and European security.

Dulles declared the Soviet demand for a five-power conference including the Peiping government "is primarily a device to attempt to secure for that regime a position in the councils of the world which it has not earned or had accorded to it by the international community generally including the United Nations."

"Certainly," he emphatically declared, "this four-power conference is not the place to decide that matter."

Molotov had submitted to the conference's second session yesterday a formal resolution calling a five-power meeting in May or June. The United States had already rejected the whole concept. But it also had accepted, along with Britain and France, a Russian sponsored agenda which put the five-power proposal as the first item of business beginning in the third session today.

Half an hour after this afternoon's meeting got under way, Assistant Secretary of State McCardle handed to reporters a text of the Dulles statement which re-emphasized the American position and declared "it would be wrong if, having come together for the first time in five years, we should fritter away our time in discussing whether and how to set up a new conference rather than in dealing with the substantive problems—Germany and Austria—which the world expects us to solve."

"The United States therefore proposes," Dulles said, "that we should take no action on the first agenda item—the five-power conference—and pass on to the second—Germany and European security

Detroiter to Address Real Estate Group

Walter J. L. Ray, president of Standard Federal Savings and Loan Association of Detroit, will speak tonight at the 38th annual dinner of the Pontiac Real Estate Board at 6:30 p.m. at the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

His topic will be: "The Integrity of the Dollar."

John Q. Waddell, 1953 president, will turn over his gavel to William H. Knudsen, new board president, at the meeting.

Chairman for the dinner is Kenneth G. Hempstead, with Maxwell H. Doerr acting as co-chairman. Toastmaster will be Edward A. Maier.

Atomic Electric Power

AP Wirephoto

REVEALS ATOMIC DISCOVERY—Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of Radio Corporation of America, taps out a message in his New York office using power from an experimental atomic battery which for the first time converts atomic energy directly into useable quantities of electricity.

Tiny Battery Unveiled

RCA Shows New Method of Making A-Electricity

NEW YORK (AP)—A new method of converting the rays from radio-active atoms directly into useful electricity has been announced by the Radio Corp. of America.

The discovery may one day provide a matchbox-size power unit good for 20 years for lighting homes, running refrigerators and radios and television sets. It also might run hearing aids and wristwatch radios or be a nearly permanent battery for automobiles.

David Sarnoff, RCA board chairman, announced the discovery yesterday.

It is a little battery smaller than the filter tip of a cigarette. Rays coming from a few salt grains of "cheap" radioactive atoms, which do not split, are turned into electric current.

Other methods have been used in the past to turn the locked-up energy of atoms directly into electricity, but this one is more efficient and thousands of times more powerful.

Until now, atomic power plants—like that in the new A-sub—have been run on heat from splitting atoms, with the heat making steam to generate electricity. Heavy equipment and shielding are required in these plants.

However, the battery unveiled in New York's Radio City yesterday is tiny, with its power coming from an almost invisible amount of radioactive strontium, a natural element.

Strontium-90, a waste product formed in atomic reactors when uranium-235 atoms split, was used in the battery. This strontium constantly shoots out radiation of several billion electrons each second. The new trick in the battery is to make each of these electrons from the strontium give birth to 200,000 more electrons.

This is done by a wafer of silicon, similar to a regular transistor, which is a tiny but potent substitute for vacuum tubes used to amplify current.

Electrons from the strontium each knocking loose 200,000 elec-

Bill on Hawaii Going to Senate

Committee Approves Statehood Legislation, Delays Alaska Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Interior Committee today approved an Hawaiian statehood bill for Senate consideration.

Chairman Butler (R-Neb) said the committee action came on a 12-3 vote after it had divided 8-7 on an earlier motion separating the Hawaii legislation from an Alaskan statehood proposal.

He said the committee agreed unanimously to vote on the Alaska legislation "no later than Feb. 4."

A meeting will be held Feb. 3, Butler said, to permit all committee members to offer amendments, if desired, to the Alaskan bill now being worked over by the territories subcommittee.

Butler said the committee session was attended by all but two of its members. He said Sen. Murray (D-Mont) left a proxy vote with Sen. Anderson (D-NM), an Alaska supporter, while Sen. Milliken (R-Colo) left his proxy with the chairman.

The motion to reconsider last week's vote by which the two bills were combined, Butler said, was made by Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho). The vote on that motion and the actual reconsideration vote which followed each carried by a narrow 8-7 margin.

Butler said the committee then took up the motion made by Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) last week to report out the Hawaii-only bill. He announced the vote as 12-3 but would not identify those senators voting against it.

Property Levy Would Be Kept at Current Level

2½ Mills Sought for '55 to Replace Sum Now Paying Off City Debt

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

After an hour-long debate last night Pontiac City Commission moved to ask a city-wide vote April 5 on a proposed charter amendment raising property tax limitation from 10 to 12½ mills.

The question, requiring a majority vote of the city electorate to carry, will be placed on the general election ballot. If approved, the increase would take effect Jan. 1, 1955.

Pontiac is now collecting a city tax of 13.8 mills, two of which go for debt retirement. Last levy for debt retirement will be in 1955 when the last bonds will be paid off.

The proposed amendment would mean the 2-mills now going for debt retirement would go into capital improvements, according to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

The amendment provides 1-mill to support a bond issue for construction of new city hospital facilities. The remaining 1½ mills would be earmarked for other permanent improvements.

Commissioner Paul A. Kern (District 3) opposed the move, calling it "a reckless if not profligate earmarking of the taxpayer's money.

"We're asking the people, in a free and easy way, to spend money without knowing what they're spending it for," Kern asserted.

Kern agreed that a hospital and other facilities were needed, "but this is not the way to get it," he said. Kern said he was opposed to asking citizens to vote 2½ mills for an unlimited time.

Commissioner J. H. Patrick Glynn (District 6) said the plan was not a raise in taxes, "but merely a freezing of present rates and allocating monies for civil improvements."

Commissioner Harold W. Dudley (District 2) said unless citizens approved the amendment, taxes would revert to a lower figure in 1955 when the last debt retirement payment is made. "We'll put it up to the people," he said, "whether to pay a slightly lower tax rate or provide money for public improvements."

Improvements cited as needed by Dudley included a public

Washington Awaits Turkish President

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Celal Bayar of Turkey—the first chief of state of that nation ever to visit America—comes to Washington today for a three-day whirl of official activities.

The Turkish president and his wife will then make a 20-day coast-to-coast tour of the United States.

Bayar and the first lady of Turkey were scheduled to land aboard the presidential plane, "The Columbine," from New York. They will be met by Vice President and Mrs. Richard Nixon and will be guests of President and Mrs. Eisenhower at the White House tonight.

Want to Lose Weight... Easy-Like?

Fatso in His 40s Bounces Up to 230 Pounds... He'll Diet Tomorrow

By ELMER WHEELER

Chapter 1

This is the story of a Fatso in his 40s who bounced up to 230 pounds, lost his pep, vigor, sex and honeymoon figure.

Then he got incensed when a fresh clerk sent him to the Fat Men's department for a shirt and a Marine Corps medico ridiculed his gallery of calories—so angry that he took off 40 pounds!

I've read a lot about why us fatties get fat. Real scientific stuff. Some doctors say the real reason is due to boredom. We eat to have something to do.

Other diet experts say insecurity in life prompts us to overindulge.

They claim this is inherent in us from babyhood when we rushed to our mother's breast at the first sign of fright.

Of course there are some people who think I got fat because I ate too much food and that I ate too much food simply because it tasted so good.

"It did a slow burn!"

Before the Lavish '40s (not my 40s—the 1940s), dieting was always easy for me. I was an expert at it. Why, I used to practice at dieting three or four times a year!

After every lazy vacation; after every gall bladder attack; after every insurance rejection; before each Thanksgiving dinner, I dieted.

Then the Boom sneaked up on me.

Life was gay, parties numerous, food and liquids generously offered in the Feverish '40s.

My neckband, once a neat 16, went to a tight 17.

Well, that didn't worry me. I just took this as proof that my shirts weren't shrinkproof like the prewar ones had been.

I went into a shirt store to complain about it. A fancy clerk measured the neckband on my shirt and assured me it hadn't shrunk, and that I was now a neat 18!

"You'll find size 18 in the Fat Men's department," he said, dain-tily pointing the way with a well-manicured finger.

I was halfway there before the full force of what he had said struck me. I did a slow burn!

Me, old Muscles Elmer, former athlete at the "Y," Eagle Scout, shunted off to the Fat Men's Department.

All life left me. My walk, or rather wobble—I can't bring myself to say waddle—slowed down.

I was so ashamed I almost lost my appetite. . . almost.

Even so, I made myself the old familiar, easy promise. Tomorrow I'd start dieting.

Sure, tomorrow's the day again.

Birmingham Plan Board Approves Two Changes in the Parking Ordinance

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — The familiar subject of parking again occupied the time of Birmingham's City Planning Board last night.

At a recent committee session, the board had been asked by the City Commission to look into four possible clarifications in the off-street parking ordinance drawn up by the planning board.

Two changes were approved last night.

The ordinance which stipulates that all new or expanding businesses provide off-street parking, was tabled indefinitely at a July meeting of the City commission.

Added to the clause that says parking may be furnished "by the provision of off-street parking by a community parking program approved by the City Commission" were the words, . . . "whether by special assessment district or otherwise."

Another change allows "the reconstruction, repairing or rebuilding and continued use of any building or structure existing at the effective date of this amendment," omitting the rest of the sentence, which reads, "which is damaged by fire, collapse, explosion or acts of God."

Board members decided to leave the ordinance intact on the point of not specifying a minimum size building which would be excluded from providing parking.

Board Member Harry Denyes and Chairman James Spencer dissented.

Speaking specifically on the rows of 20x100-foot lots fronting on South Woodward, the board agreed with Plan Director Robert Boatman who said the problem there was more than the ordinance covers.

No action was taken on adding a new commercial parking district classification to the ordinance. Instead, the board will tour the area surrounding the Wabeek-Jacobson parking lots in the northwest quadrant of the city Sunday.

One of the features of tonight's annual Men's Banquet at Redeemer Lutheran Church will be the showing of "One More Man," filmed by the Jam Handy organization last fall at the church. The Rev. Theodore Wuggazer, minister of the church, and members of the congregation appear in the cast.

The 100 men attending the 7 o'clock dinner will hear Arthur J. Wendt of Detroit, president of the Michigan District of the Lutheran Layman's League, speak on the work of this national Lutheran organization.

The Rev. Mr. Wuggazer has announced that a committee made up of Lawrence Benson, Edmund Kleinschmit and Herbert A. Martens will help with plans for the district convention of the league, to be held at the church in April.

The battery runs when the strontium is brought close to the silicon, and it stops when the strontium is pulled away. The strontium in this experimental battery is in the tip of a rod which is pushed into contact with the silicon wafer.

Schools and Bankers Pleased at Savings

BIRMINGHAM — Participation in the school savings program which got underway last week pleased both school students and officials and bank representatives.

Twenty-four per cent of the students took advantage of the school-wide program co-sponsored by the Birmingham National Bank, opened 1,475 new accounts, and deposited $3,142.71.

Designed to give the students the thrift and saving habit as early as possible, and also made use of in classroom study of mathematics, the program leaves a minimum amount of work to the busy teacher.

Group Trades Ideas on Youth Problems

BIRMINGHAM — A group of men concerned about increasing youth problems in the city met Sunday to discuss what can be done to meet the situation.

Thirteen representatives of local service and civic organizations, the police department and the YMCA gathered at the Municipal Building and exchanged ideas on what sort of assistance the children need.

No definite action was taken, but those present agreed to broach the problem with the organization they represent and then meet again.

Insurance Seen as Solution to Social Need

BIRMINGHAM — Universal insurance covering everyone is the final answer to problems aided by social work, pioneer social worker Bertha Capen Reynolds told the fourth annual meeting of Family Service of Oakland County last night.

Tracing the historic development of social work, and the rise of government responsibility for the welfare of its citizens, Miss Reynolds spoke at the Birmingham High School on "Community Rewards of Harmonious Family Living."

"Recognized or not, there are minimum standards of health and decency for people, and unless the government takes care of this minimum no one else can."

Miss Reynolds said, "Communities cannot be split into givers and receivers if democracy is to exist. Trouble may happen to any and all, and we cannot isolate the troubled ones."

"At present, those who need insurance most are least able to buy it," she pointed out.

City Building Tax Put to April Vote

safety building, civic auditorium new library and hospital expansion.

Mayor Arthur J. Law said he had studied the plan for eight years waiting to "come before the people with the statement the city's debt had been wiped out and to offer them needed improvements at the same rate of taxation."

The increase would not amount to more than about $6.75 per year for the average home owner, said Law, about what they are paying now for debt retirement.

Commissioner Roy V. Cooley (District 1) said, "There is no implication of new taxes in this, only stabilization of the present tax rate."

Kern replied, "You don't stabilize taxes by raising them. We're asking the people for $800,000 per year with no time limit."

Willman stated he thought $800,000 was too high an estimate. Kern explained he was including money now reserved for capital improvement from the 10-mill assessment.

Willman said unless the rate is hiked the capital improvement program "would collapse within the limits of the 10-mill tax in 1955." He stated revenues from the state might decrease and more of the 10 mills be needed for operating expenses, further pinching the improvement program.

Dudley said the plan was limited in that if citizens thought a future commission was spending too much they could vote it out of office. The tax limit could also be returned later to 10 mills, he added. Final vote was six to one, with Kern opposed.

Swapping Seats While Driving Brings $25 Fine

DETROIT (AP) — Police don't care any more for four-armed driving than for the one-armed style.

They stopped a car and found John Johnson, 34, behind the steering wheel with John T. Lane, 29, sitting on his lap. Both men had their hands on the wheel, officers said.

Johnson, who has no Michigan driver's license explained that he knew he was going to be stopped when he saw a patrol car pulling up behind him. So, he said, he and Lane decided to swap seats but got caught in the act.

Both were fined $25 for reckless driving.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Wiley McClendon

Mrs. Wiley (Ellen) McClendon, 83, of 97 Clovese St., died here yesterday after an illness of five years.

She was born in Armorel, Ark., July 6, 1871, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fountain Buckner. She married Wiley McClendon in Arkansas in 1916.

Surviving are two sons, William and Charles Carson, both of Pontiac, 4 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Also surviving are a brother and sister, William Buckner of Paducah, Ky., and Mrs. Celia Buckner of Blytheville, Ark.

Funeral will be Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Newman AME Church, the Rev. J. A. Parker of the Newman AME Church officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery. The body will be at the Frank Carruthers Funeral Home Friday.

Mrs. Robert Mortimore

Mrs. Robert (Fannie D.) Mortimore, 85, of 133 Norton Ave., died at her residence today after an illness of one year.

She was born in Flint, April 29, 1868, the daughter of Freeman and Annis Adams Decker.

Mrs. Mortimore was a resident of the county since 1912 and came here from Kingston. She was a member of the Rebekah Lodge.

Surviving is a son, Howard, four grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be Friday at 2 p. m. from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. Burial will be in Perry Mount Park Cemetery. The Rev. Malcolm Burton of the Congregational Church will officiate.

Mrs. Henry Pumphrey

Mrs. Henry (Cora) Pumphrey, 66, of 117 Bagley St., died Monday after an illness of four years.

She was born in Malvern, Ark., in 1887, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dunn. She was married there in 1900.

Surviving are two sons, Leroy and Jack, both of Pontiac.

Other survivors include two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Bessie Cook of San Diego, Calif., Mrs. Mattie Thomas of Wetumka, Okla., and Walter Dunn of Little Rock, Ark.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the William F. Davis Funeral Home, Elder C. J. Johnson of the Church of God officiating.

Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

William W. Donaldson Re-elected President of Civic Group

William W. Donaldson was re-elected president of the Pontiac Foundation when the group met last night at Hotel Waldron.

Other officers are Clarence K. Patterson, vice president; Robert J. St. Clair, secretary; and Milo J. Cross, treasurer.

Directors for the year are John C. Cowe, Alfred C. Girard, Arthur J. Law, James F. Spence and George M. Watson.

Incorporated in February 1953, the group set construction of a civic auditorium as its main goal, according to Donaldson.

Any contributor of $100 or more becomes a Foundation member and can vote on questions presented at membership meetings.

At present the organization has about $12,000, in its treasury and, according to Donaldson, a number of local individuals and groups have pledged funds.

Present members are Mrs. James McGuire, Angus Campbell, Mrs. L. R. Sampson, Dr. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, Tony Clark, Milo J. Cross, Alfred C. Girard, Arthur J. Law, Robert St. Clair, James Spence, Clarence K. Patterson, John Cowe, William Donaldson, C. E. Wilson, George A. Wasserburger, Lloyd E. Smith and Max Klarin.

Groups belonging to the organization include Pontiac City Pan Hellenic, Federation of Women's Clubs, Alpha Sigma Nu Sorority, Junior Women's Club, Teachers' Club, Zonta Club, McDowell Male Chorus, Psi Chapter of Sigma Beta Sorority and the Austin-Norvell Agency.

Not Running in April, Insists Lance Minor

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioner Lance Minor told his fellow lawmakers this week that his days on the city commission are numbered, and declared, "I don't intend to be a candidate for re-election."

Minor was referring to the April 5 election when he, along with James C. Allen and Ralph Main, will be up for re-election to three-year terms on the commission. Allen has indicated he will run again while Main stated some time ago that he would not seek another term.

icy hill near Pontiac Motor Division tied up traffic for a half-hour, according to Sgt. Clayton Randolph of Pontiac Police Department. Randolph said Pontiac Motor workers "finally came out and sanded the street themselves." A second tie-up, he said, snarled rush-hour traffic on Paddock at Mt. Clemens St.

Sgt. Randolph said slippery roads and ice - covered windshields caused six accidents, in which one person was injured. "There were a lot more," he said, "that were too minor to report."

Oakland County Undersheriff Donald O. Menzies commented that "the roads are terrible." He said slippery pavements and unclear windshields caused a half-dozen accidents. Eight people were reported injured.

Menzies said normally fast-moving traffic on Dixie Highway was slowed to 30 miles an hour.

New Orleans Mayor Easily Wins 3rd Term

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Mayor deLesseps Morrison easily won his third term as mayor of Louisiana's largest city.

Complete but unofficial returns from yesterday's Democratic primary gave the 42-year-old Morrison 94,194 votes. Thomas M. Brahney Jr., a member of the Commission Council, was next in the field of nine with 49,449 votes.

Panel Opposed to Speed Limit

State Safety Seminar Narrowly Votes Down Flat Rate Plan

LANSING (AP)—Opponents of a flat speed limit on Michigan highways won a narrow victory over speed limit advocates at the close of the State Highway Safety Seminar.

Traffic engineers outtalked police chiefs and sheriffs and won a 33-30 vote against any change in the present law which requires a motorist to have his car under control at all times.

The seminar, including representatives of some 70 organizations, appeared unanimously in favor of two suggestions to the Legislature.

One is for the addition of 105 to 140 state policemen for road patrol work and the other is for expansion of the central driver license file which is supposed to keep track of every driver's mistakes.

Seminar committees endorsed about 40 safety proposals, but a subcommittee will winnow them and present the Legislature with a priority listing.

The speed limit proposal of law enforcement officers — 65 miles an hour in the daytime and 55 at night—drew the big debate.

Prof. John Kohl, director of the Transportation Institute of the University of Michigan, argued that surveys show arbitrary speed limits have no effect on highway accidents.

The only relationship, he said, concerns "excessive speed"—driving a car too fast for the condition of the road, the traffic and the weather. A flat speed limit cannot meet that problem, he said.

Prof. Kohl said tests on 17 unzoned areas in Michigan showed only 34 out of 1,000 cars were exceeding 70 miles an hour. Eighty-five per cent of the drivers were traveling at 50 or less.

Edward Rockwell, Automobile Club attorney, argued that the same speed limit in northern Michigan and southern Michigan would be senseless and that varying limits would lead to confusion.

Waters of the English Channel flow eastward at a speed of 1.5 miles an hour.

How Many Exemptions Can You Claim? Wife, Child, Relatives Being Supported

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
Article 3

The most troublesome problem for the average taxpayer filing out his return concerns exemptions.

It is important to claim all your legal exemptions because even in the lowest tax bracket each exemption reduces your tax over $120.

It is equally important not to claim more exemptions than you are entitled to because the Internal Revenue Service looks closely at this part of your return.

Exemptions can be divided into three classes: for yourself and wife, for your children, and for other relatives.

Turn to page 4 of the official instructions and read first the section on "Exemptions for You and Wife." You will have no trouble if you remember two things:

First—You were 65 or over in 1953 if your 65th birthday was on or before Jan. 1, 1954.

Second—unlike other dependents, you cannot claim your wife as an exemption if she files a separate return to get back the tax withheld on her earnings of less than $600.

If your wife has income of less than $600 you should file a joint return. Her income has to be included with yours, but you get a $600 exemption for her (more if she's 65 or blind) so it's cheaper than filing separate returns.

Each child and each dependent relative who meets all the tests set out on page 5 of the official instructions can be claimed as an exemption.

The exemption tests are short but not entirely clear. To help you with this important step, the Primer lists the tests and then adds explanations:

1. Did not have $600 or more gross income in 1953.

Explanation: Remember that gifts or non-taxable income such as dividends on GI insurance, disability payments and insurance proceeds are not included in gross income.

Non-business deduction for contributions, interest, taxes, etc., cannot be used to reduce income below $600.

For example, suppose your son earned $600 in 1953 and gave $5 to the community chest. His gross income is still $600 and you cannot claim him as an exemption.

2. Received more than one-half of his or her support from you or your wife, if filing a joint return.

Explanation: Fill in the form printed with this article. It will show you how to figure whether you contributed over one-half of the support.

3. Is not claimed as an exemption on the return of her husband or his wife.

Explanation: For example, suppose your daughter were married on Dec. 31, 1953. Even though you were her sole support during 1953, you can't claim her if she files a joint return with her husband or is claimed as an exemption on her husband's separate return.

4. Was either a citizen of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, or Mexico.

Explanation: This means you cannot get an exemption for parents or other relatives living in Europe who are not citizens of the U. S.

However, a child of a member of the U. S. Armed Forces can be claimed by the parent regardless of where the child was born or is living.

5. Must be your son, or daughter, or legally adopted child, or related to you in one of the ways specified in test five on page 5 of the official instructions.

Explanation: Even though your relative died in 1953 you can still claim an exemption. A still-born child who died shortly after birth in 1953 can be claimed.

The schedule to be filled out by a taxpayer claiming an exemption for a relative other than wife or child is Schedule A of Form 1040A and Schedule I on Form 1040. The only part of this schedule which may bother you is Column 4, asking for the amount you contributed towards support and the amount contributed by others. The box printed with this article will help you answer these questions.

This Worksheet Will Help You Determine Whether You Contributed Over Half Of Dependent's Support

Enter the entire cost during 1953 of dependent's support for:

Board (Estimate as closely as possible)	$
Clothing (" ")
Lodging (" ")
Medical Care Education
Entertainment
Other costs of supporting dependent
Total Costs	$
One-half of Total Costs

(Include in above figures all amounts spent for such items whether contributed or provided by you or someone else. If your son was inducted into the armed forces in 1953, include in the above figures the value of his board, lodging and clothing while in the service.)

Enter the amounts provided to support dependent:

By you and your wife if filing a joint return
By dependent
By others
By Government
Total Contributed	$

(Unless debts have been incurred in the support of the dependent, the amounts shown as Total Costs and Total Contributed should just about equal each other.)

UNLESS THE AMOUNT PROVIDED BY YOU AND YOUR WIFE IF FILING JOINTLY IS GREATER THAN THE AMOUNT SHOWN AS ONE-HALF OF TOTAL COSTS, YOU CANNOT CLAIM AN EXEMPTION FOR THIS DEPENDENT.

Judge Gives Lonely Man 6-Month Jail Sentence

O-Jib-Wa Worked Wonders

I DON'T FEEL LIKE THE SAME PERSON

Thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, my rheumatism and arthritis is gone and I can get around again says Mrs. Thelma Huff, R. No. 2, Ortonville, Michigan.

Mrs. T. Huff

When I look back, just a short time ago, and think how I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism and arthritis throughout my entire body, it seems impossible that one medicine could do so much—so soon. Every joint ached and pained and my hands and feet hurt so that I couldn't do any work except get meals, and that was hard. I could get about the house only by using a cane or by holding on to the back of a chair. My husband had to help me out of bed and then I could hardly bear to stand, as my ankles and feet were so bad. I used many things that were supposed to help, and after many disappointments was ready to give up altogether. A friend urged me to try O-JIB-WA BITTERS as a last resort, so I decided to give it a good trial. I seemed to be a little worse at the start and didn't see much change in the first month, but after that, quickly got better. I really feel great now and whereas I couldn't get in or out of a car before, I now climb on a tractor and help with the haying. O-JIB-WA BITTERS seemed to have completely reconditioned me as I no longer catch cold easily and have lots of pep. O-JIB-WA BITTERS worked such wonders with me that I can hardly believe that I'm the same person. I sure recommend it highly, and urge all who suffer as I did, not to delay in trying O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I believe that it's the best medicine made for rheumatism and arthritis."

Should you be taking vitamins?

Are you "too tired" too often? Nervous? Lack normal pep? Then for your own sake, read about this no-risk offer from Rybutol!

Maybe you're like so many people who feel that vitamins are great things—for the other guy—without realizing that the symptoms listed above can indicate a serious shortage of two very important vitamins: thiamin and riboflavin. Without realizing that simply by correcting a vitamin deficiency, you may be able to go back to healthy, buoyant living once again.

You see, when you lack enough thiamin and riboflavin, your blood cells may wear out faster than your body can replace them, which accounts for the miseries you suffer with this ailment. If this is your trouble, Rybutol will help you.

Amazing money-back offer. Yes, Rybutol may be your new chance for happy, healthy living. But frankly, your symptoms may be due to other causes that require the attention of a physician. How can you tell? The Vitamin Corporation of America, makers of Rybutol, has always made it easy for you to find out if you can gain new strength through Rybutol, or whether you should see a doctor. And you find out without risking a penny.

Simply buy the $1.98 size. Take 3 Rybutol Gelucaps daily for 7 days. If after this one short week, you do not feel stronger, peppier, more alive and alert in every way, bring back the bottle, and get back every cent you spent! Fair enough? Then start the 7-day Rybutol test today! Until you do, you may never know how really good you can feel!

Activities Pared by Coast Guard

Service Cuts Down on Its Operations to Meet Reduced Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Coast Guard says a proposed 14.7 per cent cut in its budget would sharply reduce activities provided "to meet increased military operations."

The budget which President Eisenhower sent to Congress this week allotted $181,175,000 to the Coast Guard, a reduction of $30,675,000.

* * *

The Coast Guard, in an analysis of its budget, said:

"The reduction was accomplished to a large extent by curtailing or eliminating activities which have been provided by the Coast Guard to meet increased military operations."

It said the port security program, started in 1950, with 4,772 officers and men, to keep ports clear of subversives, would lose 2,053 officers and men. In addition, foot patrols of waterfronts would be eliminated.

* * *

The search rescue program for ships and planes, the Coast Guard said, would be discontinued in the Pacific at Guam, Midway, Wake Island, Sangley Point, the Philippine Islands and Adak.

Restaurant Bandit at Phoenix Settles for Ham and Eggs

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. Harry Deciovich was having a peaceful slumber in her living quarters behind the cafe she operates.

An intruder barged in during the night, apparently with burglary motives.

The noise aroused Mrs. Deciovich, who found the culprit behind the counter.

He said he was hungry and would settle for some ham and eggs.

She served his breakfast and he departed with a "thank you" and no loot.

Mrs. Deciovich told sheriff's deputies that the man said he preferred food to money.

Randall Report Explosive

One report certain to stir Congressional controversy is that on foreign economic policy just presented by the Randall Commission.

This group, headed by Inland Steel board chairman CLARENCE B. RANDALL, held hearings both here and abroad. As might have been expected its recommendations already have drawn the fire of high protectionist members.

Among proposals of the majority report are a three year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act with Presidential authority to reduce tariffs gradually, not more than five per cent a year. The report also said that agreements covering a longer period would tend to stabilize trade.

One proposal that should win popular support is that urging the end to all economic grants in aid unless they contribute to national security. Also urged was continuance of a moderate technical assistance program in backward countries.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand considerable dispute can be expected to result from the proposal that the U. S. acquiesce in more trade in peaceful goods between Western Europe and the Soviet bloc.

Another cause for dissent is the commission's attack on rigid farm price supports. Such supports, the commissioners said, and we believe they are right, priced American farm products out of the world market and created our farm crop surpluses.

★ ★ ★

Though the spirit of the majority report is in harmony with the EISENHOWER campaign pronouncements on trade, it faces a rocky road in Congress. Already the indications are that it will meet the sternest opposition from some members of the President's own party.

Sobeloff Well Qualified

Though delayed overlong by political complications, President EISENHOWER'S choice of Judge SIMON E. SOBELOFF of Baltimore to be U. S. Solicitor General is a happy one.

By training and experience Judge Sobeloff is well qualified to fill this important legal post. As Solicitor General he becomes the Nation's chief legal officer charged with the responsibility of representing the Government in all cases which go before the Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

Since earning his law degree at the University of Maryland in 1914, he has divided his time between public office and private practice. As Baltimore's city attorney, U. S. Attorney for the Maryland District and as chief judge for the Maryland Court of Appeals, Judge SOBELOFF has built a reputation for ability and integrity.

★ ★ ★

The office has been vacant since last March because the Senate refused to confirm former President TRUMAN'S appointment of WALTER CUMMINGS JR. In view of the long delay for which Maryland politicians are blamed, the Senate should lose no time in confirming Judge SOBELOFF.

Nautilus Opens New Era

When the country's First Lady, Mrs. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, formally christened the USS Nautilus, the world's first atomic powered submarine, a doubly notable new era was opened.

It will be notable first because the sleek craft, which slid into the River Thames at Groton, Conn. no doubt is the forerunner of many new type naval fighting machines. The launching was significant also because the 340 foot craft's power plant points the way to a new peaceful use of atomic energy.

★ ★ ★

When completed at a total cost of about $50,000,000, the Nautilus will be the world's fastest and most expensive undersea craft. Because of a much heavier hull, it will be able to dive far deeper than any other sub. The power plant will develop an underwater speed of over 30 knots an hour and the craft could circle the globe without surfacing.

★ ★ ★

The costly pioneering development work which produced the Nautilus was directed by the hard driving Admiral RICKOVER. This Naval engineer the sea arm almost lost because of inflexible regulations, wanted fast action and got it. The launching came just 19 months after the keel was laid.

It is no overstatement to say that a revolution in seapower will go down in history as having begun on the day the Nautilus goes into commission.

THE Administration and Congress are considering broadening and strengthening social security coverage and old age pensions. They know this is good politics, as all voters are either old or expect to be some day.

THE other day a man flew via jet plane from New York to Washington in 24 minutes. One wonders how anybody could possibly be in that big a hurry to get to Washington.

Says Our Government Made Treaty With Navajo Indians, but Never Kept Promises

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Did you know that the U. S. Government made a treaty with the Navajos in 1868 and in Article 6 of that treaty guaranteed to them a teacher for every 30 children of school age? That the promises made in Article 6 were never kept by the government?

Some 75 per cent of the Navajos are illiterate, as compared to Negro illiteracy of 16.1 per cent, foreign-born white illiteracy of 9.9 per cent and native white of 1.5 per cent.

The interior department slashed $4,500,000 from the promised $12,500,000 (Democratic Administration) and cut only $20,000 from "administration and salaries." A large part of the remaining $8,000,000 appropriated for rehabilitation program is being spent for administration and salaries.

Three additional government offices were established with over 100 white employes who are supposed to administer this program. The funds appropriated for Indians are used up by the employment of white help.

Reader Urges Putting God in Our Meetings

We need to include God in the forthcoming peace conferences with Russia.

We must first of all return to God, the only One able to help us. We must put our faith and trust solely in Him, rather than depend on and trust our own strength and ability.

So let us put on the whole armor of God that we may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil, so greatly manifested and practiced in Anti-Christian countries.

Return to God and receive peace in our hearts through Faith which passes all understanding.

Sen. McCarthy Clears Up Two Stands: Works for Harmony, Denies Ambitions

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Unfortunately newspaper headlines printed in the United States each day do not reach the people of Europe — at least not right away.

So it is regrettable that the people of Great Britain, France and other European countries haven't seen yet the headlines of the last day or two in which it is emphasized in all dispatches that Sen. McCarthy "backed down" or "surrendered" or "retreated" in his controversy with three Democratic senators.

So much has been written abroad about Sen. McCarthy as a "dictator," and repeated by returning American visitors, that the latest evidence should be instructive to Europeans.

If the Wisconsin senator wasn't powerful enough even to dictate to a minority of his committee, he can't be much of a dictator. Yet abroad they speak of him as about to seize the reins of government any day.

What they fail to perceive in Europe is that in the United States public opinion is sovereign and that, when the three Democratic senators staged a walkout last summer because of their insistence that committee staff members be hired and fired by a majority of the committee rather than by the chairman, it was a significant protest.

In due time heed was paid to this principle which, by the way, affects all congressional committees. For it should not be assumed that the present episode is the first in which the one-man power of the chairman has been asserted.

It has happened just as often when the Democrats were in command of congressional committees, and what has just been adopted — to make a majority vote necessary — is, of course, a desirable reform.

But public opinion works in another way, too. Just as Sen. McCarthy said that he didn't like to see one party manning the subcommittee and that the two-party system required representation of the minority as well as majority, it became important for the Democrats not to place themselves in the position of being unwilling to help investigate Communists in government and problems affecting governmental operations which the subcommittee of the committee on governmental operations is authorized to investigate.

So the controversy now has been resolved satisfactorily. It is a fact that Sen. McCarthy reversed his position of last summer in the interest of committee harmony.

Nobody was put in a concentration camp and nobody was seized and deprived of his right to free speech—and yet there are Americans and Europeans who have slandered the Wisconsin senator by calling him a "Hitler."

Sen. McCarthy, moreover, has been attacked as having a presidential ambition. This is supposed to be an improper motive. The point has been made by McCarthy's enemies that he is engaged in the anti-Communist crusade merely to get publicity so he can run for president.

What such observers fail to note is that neither political party in recent years—especially after the 1928 experience with the Al Smith candidacy — has shown signs of nominating any Catholic to the presidency.

"Liberals" have not said much about this form of discrimination, though the hero of the "liberals" — Franklin D. Roosevelt — was charged in James A. Farley's book with having told a newspaper writer in 1940 that Farley couldn't be named for the vice presidency because of his religion.

For all practical purposes, there isn't the remotest chance that Sen. McCarthy will ever be a candidate for the presidency. This correspondent asked him for a statement on it recently, and he dictated the following:

"I have no interest and no ambition at all in that direction, to be nominated for president of the United States. I think I can do a better job where I am. No one has ever been nominated unless he has gone out for it, and I do not intend to go out for the nomination. There is no such thing as a draft. Unless you go out and work for a nomination, there is no draft.

"I think that pretty well covers it—about as positive as anyone can make it, I think. You'll find that it is not my friends who are talking about McCarthy being a candidate for president. With a very few exceptions, you'll find that those talking about McCarthy being a candidate for president have always been against me, and 90 per cent of them were not for Eisenhower in the last election and will not be for me in the next election, and they are trying to make it appear that I have some interest other than the public interest."

The Wisconsin senator never mentioned the religious barrier. But on Capitol Hill, among members of Congress who disagree with the senator, it is frequently mentioned in rebuttal to those who say Sen. McCarthy is only interested in running for higher office.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Chief Purpose of Sleep Is to Rest Your Heart

Gloria's father sleeps only 5 hours per night. Sleep is a very interesting habit of the human body. But after 3 hours we are sleeping almost as lightly as after 8 hours, so why not waken and get back to work or play? Study this Case Record carefully and then experiment.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-309. Gloria R., aged 24, is an office secretary.

"Dr. Crane, I have been very much interested in your discussion of insomnia and the purpose of sleep," she began.

"My father rarely sleeps longer than 5 hours. That seems to be enough.

"But I have noticed that he then takes a nap after lunch, even if it is only for 15 minutes.

"And do you think his moderate eating habits may be a factor? He weighs only 135 pounds and eats very sparingly?"

The chief purpose of sleep seems to be rest for the heart. This wonderful "motor" of the body receives its chief vacation while we are lying abed.

For then our vertical height of 5'6" to 6' may be reduced to less than one foot. This permits the heart to slow down in its beats per minute from 72 to possibly 68.

Meanwhile, the blood pressure drops 10 to 20 points, too, so the heart not only saves 3 to 4 beats per minute, but even those remaining 68 beats are under less of a load.

Since we have about 5 quarts of blood which the heart pumps through our blood vessels each minute, it is obviously easier to do the pumping in a horizontal plane than up and down our full height.

Insomnia is not of serious injury to your health, therefore, if you simply stay in bed. For your heart obtains almost as much rest while you are awake but lying abed, as if you were snoring soundly.

That is especially true if you don't work yourself up to an emotional fury as you become irate at your inability to fall asleep again.

So avoid sleeping pills. Instead, read a good book or educational magazine till you drop off. Avoid murder mysteries, however, for they will race your heart and zoom your blood pressure.

At night, moreover, we fast for 12 hours. So the body is not overloaded with food and liquid, as is true from breakfast to supper.

For example, I have found that I awaken an average of one hour earlier when I am dieting. And I feel just as rested on this shorter sleeping quota.

Apparently, excess food and excess fluids place more load on the heart, liver, kidneys, etc. So do liquor, tobacco and foreign substances like drugs, sleeping pills, etc.

Gloria is probably correct in thinking her father's moderate eating helps him get by on his reduced number of hours.

Edison is quoted as saying he required only 4 or 5 hours of sleep per night. Many such persons, however, snooze briefly during the day.

The depth of sleep is greatest at the end of the first hour. By the end of the 3rd, we are sleeping almost as lightly as at the 8th.

So it might be well if we'd take 3-hour naps, twice per day. Thus, we'd save 2 or 3 hours.

Since the average person spends 23 years in sleep by the time he reaches the average longivity of 69, he would thus add about 6 more years to his waking time by salvaging 2 hours per night.

Many people have noticed headaches from oversleeping, due possibly to a bombardment of the brain with subconscious pain impulses from a gnawing stomach or an overly full bladder or bowel.

So experiment till you find your most successful sleeping schedule.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

A scientist is a fellow who looks through a micro-gander and sees germs you cannot. But you're the guy who's got 'em."

But nothing in his simonized education gives him the right to the diagnosis of political panaceas.

We felt that way when the eminent Dr. Carrel was keeping a chicken heart alive. And publishing hawklike marginal yips in praise of fascism.

We feel the same way about the eminent Dr. Einstein who leans toward the communistic end of the teeter-board. Both these deep-dish students regarded intellectuals as paid-up and non-assessible.

The truth is that nobody is living in a world apart these days. We owe a score to the Shropshire lad for tagging it as a world he never made.

But whether you made it or not you are in it to your neck. And only crackaloos like Carrel and Einstein make waves.

Well, here's the citron in the fruit cake. A fellow gets up in an investigation and says he refuses to testify account of Doc Einstein's advice contrariwise. Doc tells him to cite article one in the bill of riots.

That's a switch from good old reliable Article Five which has more outs than a prairie dog village.

All we have is the man's word that Einstein's briefed him on his stand. But as the doc has clammed up like a shore dinner we assume it's so.

Dr. Brady Regrets That So Many Folks Still Bite on Intestinal Toxemia 'Baloney'

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Dr. H. W. Wiley, in his last edition of Foods and Their Adulteration, estimated that we consumed 600,000,000 bushels of wheat a year for food and seed in the United States, and that 400,000,000 bushels would nourish us as well, if we used the whole wheat and not just two thirds of it as food.

"It is not extravagant, therefore, to say that nearly one-third of the expense of living, in so far as the cost of cereals is concerned, would be saved if cereals were eaten in their whole, natural condition. . . ."

Sorry, I must cut Dr. Wiley off right there, because he bent too far backward in comparing the "digestibility" of the protein in the whole wheat flour with that of refined white flour — a pardonable error in Dr. Wiley's day but not today.

The observations and actual tests made by Hindhede and other physiologists have shown that the protein and other nutritive materials in the unrefined staff of life are as "digestible" as, perhaps more digestible than, those in refined white flour.

In the final paragraph, Dr. Wiley said:

"A far greater benefit than the conservation of one-third of our cereals would be effected however, namely, the health of our people would be immensely benefited."

So far, fine and dandy. I have been shouting myself hoarse these many years trying to teach you folks this fact, but my explanation for the health benefits people would derive from replacing refined white flour with whole wheat flour is precisely what Dr. Wiley seemed to aim at before his aim was diverted—better nutrition.

"If our cereals were eaten whole," Dr. Wiley rambled on, under the spell of Dr. Kellogg of Battle Creek, Arbuthnot Lane, Elie Methnikoff and other eminent authorities of the day who went off their rockers about putrefaction in the intestine (a normal and probably healthful process, as physiologists know today), "the naturally laxative effects which they produce would tend to eliminate that most pernicious condition. . .auto-intoxication, a common cause of premature old age. . ."

Baloney!

If you take this quaint notion of "auto-intoxication" as seriously as Dr. Wiley and most physicians of his day did, please ask in writing (I do not answer clippings) for (1) the booklet The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene and (2) pamphlet Wheat to Eat, and inclose 25 cents in coin and a stamped, self-adressed envelope.

We can forgive Dr. Wiley, Dr. Kellogg, Metchnikoff, Lane and the other old timers who accepted and preached the auto-intoxication hokum, because they knew no better.

But you folks still patronize colon filling stations and the charlatans still fill colums or whole pages with symptoms of intestinal "toxemia" just as they did in the gay nineties.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Oklahomans OK Building New Turnpike System

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A 150-million-dollar toll road system making possible a Southwest network of turnpikes has the solid approval of Oklahoma voters.

In a special statewide election yesterday, two legislative bills authorizing construction of three turnpikes carried by a margin of about 40,000 votes. Unofficial returns from 3,183 of the state's 3,375 precincts gave on the two questions: 167,124 for to 128,150 against on one and 169,859 for to 129,287 against on the other.

Overwhelming approval from Oklahoma City and Tulsa, located on each end of the present Turner Turnpike, assured victory for the proposals.

Gov. Johnston Murray promised an immediate start on engineering and financial studies for the projects.

The proposed routes, totaling 309.7 miles, are from Tulsa northeast toward Joplin, Mo., Oklahoma City southwest toward Wichita Falls, Tex., and Oklahoma City north toward Wichita, Kan. All will connect with the Turner Turnpike.

Toll road studies are also under way in the three states which would be touched by Oklahoma's routes.

Hal Boyle Says:

Modern Taxicab Jockeys Would Appeal to Socrates

NEW YORK (AP) — If Socrates, that wise old Greek, should be resurrected here, he would probably become a taxi driver.

He was a great street talker in Athens, and the greatest street philosophers in New York are its cabbies. Their life on wheels puts them in a position to learn more about human nature than even the cops. And even Socrates might add to his wisdom by taking out a hack license.

People here love to collect the funny remarks of taxi drivers, but one cabbie told me:

"If I repeated the stupid things I have overheard some prominent people say in this cab—well, heads would roll."

* * *

Cab drivers rise and fall in public esteem here like politicians. One year everybody thinks they are wonderful, and the next year—for no particular reason—everybody is down on them.

"I figure it's just tension," a hack pilot said. "In good times the passengers want to gab back and forth. But if times get tough and they're worried, they snap your head off if you try to just pass the time of day. Good times or bad times, I treat 'em all alike—like they were crazy kids."

You can find any number of college graduates among cab drivers here. You can find guys who used to be cowboys, guys who are part time actors, guys who write and sell television scripts, old guys who used to drive horse cars, young guys working their way through law school.

* * *

They feud with the traffic cops endlessly, but in emergencies they have saved many a cop's life. About the only thing they agree on is that women can't drive as well as men—and doctors can't drive as well as women.

"Doctors shouldn't be allowed out in a car alone," one said emphatically. "They may be able to operate on a human head, but put them behind a wheel and they don't know how to operate at all. You never know what they'll do next. And that doesn't seem right, as most of them have gone to college, and got educated."

* * *

One of the cabbies I remember best was the man who liked to drive at night.

"I can't take it at home," he said. "We lost our only kid in Korea. My wife had kept his baby shoes, and she gets them out now and starts crying. I can't sit there and look at her. I'd rather be out working.

"You know, sometimes late at night when hardly no one's on the street, and I'm cruising around looking for a fare, I get a funny feeling my kid is riding in the seat beside me, just like he did when he was a boy. Somehow it doesn't make me feel sad at all. It's just like it was before he grew up and they gave him a uniform. He keeps me company."

* * *

The city has its dwindling quota of women cab drivers, most of whom got into the business during the last war. I rode with one the other day, an elderly woman 12 years on the job.

"Don't know how much longer I can take this," she said. "I used to be a school teacher until I married. When I lost my husband 12 years ago I bought me this cab with the insurance money.

"It is hard work but I couldn't afford to go back to teaching. Not enough money in it. Besides it doesn't take as much patience to drive a cab as it does to teach children, and this way I get more fresh air."

* * *

A cab behind us honked, and the lady exploded:

"Listen to that hornblower. He's trying to rattle me, trying to get me into an accident. Those men drivers are jealous because they know I can drive better than they can. They're dogs, and that's just what I call them—dogs."

The horn blowing cab suddenly swooped around us, and the young driver leaned out, grinned, waved at the old lady and shouted, "How's it going, honey?"

The old lady peered at him through her spectacles as he drove off, then looked at herself in the mirror and said grudgingly:

"Of course, you understand I don't mean to say that ALL men are dogs. Some are nice—but just a few."

Sees Reds Ahead in Missile Program

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Lt. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle says, "It is extremely likely that the Soviets are ahead of us in the development of the long-range ballistic missile."

"As a result of their own intensive efforts, he said, "together with what they took from the Germans during World War II led in this field, it is extremely likely that the Soviets are ahead of us in the development of the long-range ballistic missile."

2 Killed as Jet Hits, Explodes

Pilot Crashes Into Trees to Miss Portland Homes; Wreckage Injures Child

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Two men died yesterday when a jet pilot guided his powerless plane into a grove of trees to avoid crashing into a residential suburb here, the Air Force reported.

The pilot, 2nd Lt. James Kennedy of Richmond, Va., and his radar observer, 2nd Lt. J. A. Reid, Peoria, Ill., both 22, were killed outright when the plane struck a tree and exploded.

A 4-year-old girl, Barbara Lee Cox, who had been playing in her back yard, suffered a skull fracture when struck in the head by flying wreckage.

* * *

Her mother, Mrs. Thomas Cox, told of the crash this way: "My mother and I were in my living room talking when we heard this noise. When we looked out the window, we could see wreckage all over the yard. Mother ran out to the back where Barbara was playing and then I went out there. By the time I got out there, somebody had thrown a blanket over her."

Col. George F. Ceuleers, commander of the base where the two airmen were stationed, said after a preliminary investigation that all evidence indicated Kennedy turned the plane into the trees when he realized a crash was unavoidable.

17 From Milford Attend Training Institute

MILFORD — Seventeen elders, deacons and trustees from Milford attended the Church Officers Training Institute in Detroit last weekend.

In the Motor City, an audience of 370 church officers heard Dr. Clifford Barbour of Pittsburgh speak.

Dr. Barbour, president of the Western Presbyterian Seminary, spoke at a service here Sunday morning.

In Junior High at Waterford

Athletes Go to Lansing Thursday in First Test of New Ruling

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Eleven junior high school boys from Waterford Township High School will be guinea pigs for the first decision of the Michigan High School Athletic Association under the new awards rule invoked in December.

Waterford High School principal, Roy Larmee and Supt. William Schunck will attend the hearing slated for 1:30 p. m. Thursday in Lansing.

Jackets and baseball gloves, reportedly given to the boys for participation in a baseball league last summer, touched off this case.

Four ninth graders, seven eighth graders and one fifth grader (who will not be tried) played summer baseball under the name of the Huron Optical Specs. They were part of the Pontiac Recreation League, class F baseball program.

According to the boys, they helped earn the jackets by selling chance tickets on a rod and reel. Their sponsor, Lawrence McCullough, said he had been advised by an attorney that if the boys helped earn the jackets, he could present them without being involved in the eligibility rules.

The boys said they erned $150 of the cost of the jackets. The sponsor, according to the parents, had to put in less than $10 of his own money to cover the cost.

The rule reads: "A student shall be ineligible, for interscholastic athletic competition if he accepts from any source anythng for participation in athletics other than a trophy which must not exceed the cost of $3.00."

Under the old awards rule, which was rescinded in October by the administrative rules committee of the State Legislature, boys accepting awards were automatically suspended from all sports participation for one year.

The new rule, under which the Waterford boys will be tried Thursday, says that they may be ineligible for interscholastic athletic competition for not less than three months, nor more than one year from the date of the violation.

The jackets were given to them on Dec. 16. They were told by the high school principal on Dec. 17 about the rule and suspended from high school sports.

Parents of the boys contend that inasmuch as all of them attended Pontiac Lake School last year they did not know about the rules.

Pontiac Lake became a part of Waterford school district this summer.

Principal Larmee said that it is the school's policy to give all students entering in the fall term a mimeographed sheet on the rules, and he stated that discussion took place in home rooms to inform the students.

The boys, with the exception of one, offered to turn in their jackets following a meeting with Larmee in December.

Parents of the boys have been notified of the hearing Thursday before Charles Forsythe, state prep director, and were told they might attend the hearing.

A great deal of controversy has resulted in school circles from the changing of the rules.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair Taylor has been asked to appear at the Thursday meeting inasmuch as this is the first case tried under the new policy he drafted.

Winter Carnival Slated Saturday

Magic, Talent Shows Will Highlight Affair at Stringham School

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Stringham School's annual winter carnival will be held Saturday evening from 6 to 10 at the school.

Highlighting the affair will be a magic show performed by Dr. I. A. Miller. Two consecutive talent shows by students will follow.

Mrs. Gale Eaton and Mrs. Robert Stanger will be co-chairmen for the carnival.

Other committee heads are Mrs. George Robert Smith and Mrs. Carroll Apel, talent shows; Mrs. Eugene Mihay, snack bar; Mrs. Lester Carlson, fish pond; Mrs. Anthony Trzos Jr., comic books; and Mrs. Edwin Sage, silhouettes.

Also included are Mrs. Earl Foster, pop corn; Mrs. William Meyer, doll clothes; Mrs. Claude Graves, plants; Mrs. Delos Nicholie, hot dogs; Mrs. John Hill, needlework; Mrs. Walter Hiller, white elephants; Mrs. Dale Platz, check room; Mrs. Bernie Sieber and Mrs. Ben Hawkins, shirts and emblems; Mrs. Charles Gamble, home made candy; and Mrs. Robert E. Field, baked goods.

Waterford Students' Play to Run Friday, Saturday

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A comedy-fantasy, "Lo and Behold," by John Patrick will be presented by the high school dramatics club Friday and Saturday nights in the high school auditorium.

Scheduled to start at 8 p.m. both evenings, the club's winter production will feature a cast of eight.

Cindy Palmer plays Daisy, Chuck Plese is Milo and Pat Lohff is Honey. Others are Roscoe Hendry as Robert, Sue Helwig as Minnie, Jerry O'Brien as Wingate, Richard Joan as Ken and Randall Beedle as the bookie.

The play revolves around the death of a rich old man and his return as a spirit to the house in which he lived.

In returning to his old home as a ghost, the old man finds his former maid is posing as his daughter. In order to clear the house of the ex-maid the oldster arranges a romance between her and his former doctor. Three spirits add to the merriment.

Special lighting and costumes will be used to create ghost-like effects.

Metropolitan Club Installs Officers at Drayton Plains

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Nearly 100 persons attended the installation of officers for the township Metropolitan Club last night in Drayton Plains.

Entertainment at the ceremonies was furnished by the "Singshots" of Waterford Township High School, Anna Thomas, Anna Mae Secan, Jeanette Pierce, Deanna Mielke, Jack Peter and Ronnie Kind.

New officers installed were Clayton Soncrainte, president; Elmer Fangboner, vice-president; Burton Hilliker, second vice-president; Ed Smith, treasurer; Louis Goff, assistant treasurer; Kenneth Sutton, recording secretary; and Bob Poorman, assistant secretary.

OKs Purchase of Fire Truck

Avon Township Board Also Approves Addition to House Engine

AVON TOWNSHIP—A new fire truck will serve the southwest portion of Avon Township after March 15.

Action to purchase the $11,000 vehicle was made by the Township Board Monday night.

The board also approved building and addition to the Avon Community Bldg. on Auburn Avenue near Crooks road to house the new truck.

Materials will be furnished by the township, and labor by the Avondale Community Forum.

Because of frost conditions, the addition will not be started until April 1. Until completion, the fire engine will be housed in a service station on Auburn.

According to Mrs. Frances O. Covert, township clerk, a public meeting will be held soon to approve the boundaries for the new fire service as outlined in the petition.

If no major objections are made at the meeting the truck will serve the area bounded on the south by Hamlin road, on the north by 20-Mile road, on the west by Rochester road and on the east by Adams.

Residents of the area will pay for the truck and its upkeep by means of a special tax assessment, which also must be approved by taxpayers at the meeting.

Mrs. Covert stated that since there were 937 names of taxpayers on the petition to purchase the truck, she doubted that there would be any major objection.

In other business, the Board approved the township electrical code and gave permission to the Oakland County Health Dept. to make inspections in Avon Township.

Waterford Schools Will Close 3 Days

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—There will be no regular school session for Waterford Township schools tomorrow, Friday or Monday.

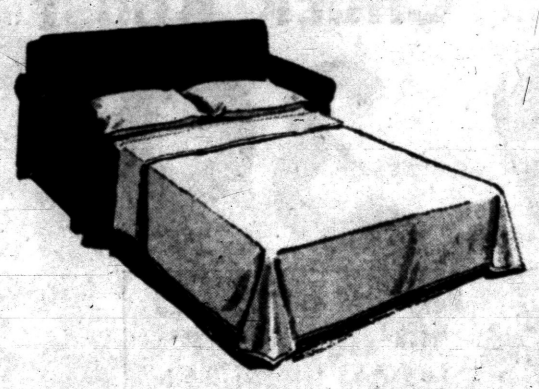

The first semester officially closes Friday. Teachers will be working on records and reports the rest of this week.

Monday has been designated as teacher workshop day for all township teachers. Teachers of kinder- working on the teaching of reading program, Grade 7 through 12 teachers will be studying the area of curriculum.

The workshop will be held at the high school.

Students to Get Holiday

CLARENCEVILLE—Schools here will be closed Friday, the last day of the semester. Classes will resume Feb. 1.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

State Escapee Nabbed in LA

Wife Didn't Know That Alex Bryant Was One of FBI's Most Wanted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One of the FBI's 10 most wanted fugitives a man whose wife didn't even know he was wanted by the law, was captured without trouble last night in an industrial district of Los Angeles where he was working.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover in Washington and the local FBI office announced that Alex Richard Bryant, 47, was unarmed and offered no resistance when he was arrested at a trucking company where he was employed as a truck spotter.

The FBI said Bryant, who had been living here with his wife and one child under the name of Edward F. Lawson, has spent all but seven months of his adult life behind bars or as a fugitive. The federal agents said he has a criminal history dating back to 1924.

He was serving a life sentence for armed robbery when he escaped from the Michigan State Penitentiary at Jackson Jan. 24, 1952, in a prison station wagon.

John F. Malone, Los Angeles agent in hcarge of the FBI office, said Bryant's wife Gladys was unaware until her husband's arrest that he was an escaped criminal with a long record. She said they were married in September 1952.

FBI agents said Bryant, when arrested, commented: "They will be glad to see me back at the pen in Michigan."

Agent Malone said Bryant's criminal career started 30 years ago when he was sentenced for rape. Hoover said that before his 1952 escape he was serving a life sentence for armed robbery.

After his arrest Bryant was lodged in the Los Angeles County Jail.

Credit Bureau Elects Officers

Organization Again Asks C. H. Tompkins to Be President

Charles H. Tompkins was re-elected president of the Pontiac Credit Bureau at the bureau's annual meeting Monday night at Hotel Waldron.

Also elected were W. A. Booth and Roy T. Connolly, vice presidents; Floyd Miller, secretary; and Stuart E. Whitfield, treasurer.

William E. Cashin was elected to the board of directors to fill a vacancy left by the death of N. W. Peterson last year.

Directors re-elected were Dr. Leon F. Cobb, Orrin P. Huntoon, Jack Harris, S. J. Cloonan, Gelston V. Poole, and Francis F. Miller.

Miller was also engaged as the bureau's general manager for 1954.

The bureau did record amounts of business last year in credit reporting and collection of accounts, Floyd Miller reported.

Clark Says Rhee's Charges Untrue

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—The former United Nations Far East commander says charges by South Korean President Syngman Rhee that he broke "promises" are not true.

Rhee said yesterday that Gen. Mark Clark broke two promises. He said Clark promised that no more than 800 or 900 Indian custodian troops would be brought to Korea and that they would be demilitarized.

But, Rhee said, "six times that number arrived . . . fully armed and they shot to kill a number of Chinese and Korean anti-Communist war prisoners."

Gen. Clark said here he made "no such promises nor did I ever break any promises I made with him."

Former Teacher at Milford Leaves $1,309,000 Estate

MUSKEGON (AP)—William Chandler Wells, one-time Oakland County school teacher who was associated with W. C. Durant in pioneer days of the automobile, left an estate of $1,309,000, an inventory filed today in Ottawa County Probate Court revealed.

Wells died Oct. 16, 1953, in Spring Lake at the age of 50. Hackley Union National Bank of Muskegon, executor and trustee of the estate, estimated it would approximate a million dollars after taxes.

Most of the estate is in securities, largely General Motors, the bank said.

Wells was born in Oakland County and taught school briefly in Milford. Later he became associated with Durant when Durant was first building the auto that bore his name.

Bulk of the money will be held in trust with the income going to relatives and friends. The two largest beneficiaries are a son, A. McGregor Wells of Petersburg, Alaska, and a daughter-in-law, Marian J. Wells and three grandchildren of Florida.

Specific requests of $5,000 in securities were made to First Presbyterian Church of Spring Lake, the Spring Lake School System, Milford high school, Bob Jones University of Greenville, N. C., Berry School of Mt. Berry, Ga.

Wells' property in Spring Lake, 10 acres of land and buildings, valued at $29,000, was given to the Red Cross.

The Muskegon Bank said the estate was one of the largest in western Michigan since the early lumbering days.

Doctor Testifies in Mate Slaying

Indicates Mrs. Cartrette Was in State of Amnesia at Time of Shooting

Dr. L. Jerome Fink testified that in his opinion Mrs. Lucy Mae Cartrette was in a state of amnesia when she shot and killed her husband last Aug. 29 in the home of friends.

An earlier motion by Assistant Prosecutor James G. Hartrick to prevent Dr. Fink from testifying on a technicality was waived when it appeared the trial might be delayed four days.

Dr. Fink said that Mrs. Cartrette, 33, was suffering from amnesia for a period before and during the actual shooting of her husband, Scarborough, 32, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wright at 105 Judson St.

The period of absolute forgetfulness was apparently brought on by repeated acts of infidelity on the part of her husband, Dr. Fink said. His diagnosis was reached after an examination of the woman which lasted for almost five hours last Jan. 16.

The trial is being heard by a jury of eight women and four men before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland. It began last Thursday and is expected to go to the jury early tomorrow.

Pen Maker Free After Agreement to Yield Books

CHICAGO (AP)—Paul C. Fisher, 40, a pen manufacturer, was released from the Cook County Jail yesterday after he agreed to turn over his books and records for examination by the U. S. Department of Labor.

Fisher, head of the Fisher Pen Co., was sent to jail Jan. 15 on a contempt citation issued by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe in September 1952 for defying a court order directing him to submit his records for examination.

Fisher, who served as his own attorney, had made unsuccessful appeals to the United States Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court. He contended that the Labor Department's demand to see his books without a specific reason was an invasion of his constitutional rights.

Crash Victim Spurns Aid, Dies Two Days Later

OWOSSO (AP)—Eugene Schlaack, 34, of Owosso, refused treatment after being involved in a traffic accident last Sunday. Yesterday he was found dead in his home.

Schlaack was one of six persons in a car that rolled over on M21, west of Owosso. An ambulance driver offered to take the six to a hospital for a checkup. However, all insisted they were unhurt and refused.

Before compasses were placed on a pivot, they were floated in a bowl of liquid.

Jane Wyman's 'Virus' Delays Divorce Action

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A virus infection has stymied actress Jane Wyman's effort to obtain a divorce decree from musician-composer Frederick M. Karger.

Miss Wyman was scheduled to appear in court yesterday for trial of her action, which alleged mental cruelty. Her attorney said she had suffered a relapse in her illness and that he would not ask the court to reset the case until she had fully recovered.

Largest inland fishery in eastern America is the herring industry on the Chowan River at Colerain, N.C.

In the spring the Pueblo Indians of New Mexico pray for rain and the renewal of life everywhere. Prayer-sticks are planted in the fields, and dances are held in the kivas, or ceremonial chambers, as well as in the open.

HIGH QUALITY . . . WIDE SELECTION . . . LOW PRICES . . . MAKE MILLIONS SAY

YES, A&P has the MEAT BUYS!

Because we sell so many tons of meat at A&P—more than anyone else—we're satisfied with a very small profit per pound. Result? A&P's meat prices are really low—not just on a few items once in a while, but on item after item, day after day.

But it takes more than low prices to make good meat buys. Variety and quality are equally important. For if a skimpy selection forces you to settle for a sirloin steak when you prefer porterhouse or for lamb chops when you have your heart set on veal cutlets, you won't be completely satisfied with your purchase at any price. But suppose you're lucky enough to find the cut you want at a low price—you still won't get your money's worth of enjoyment from it if it's of inferior quality . . . tough, dry or tasteless.

That's why it pays to buy meats at A&P, where you have a tremendous choice of beef, lamb, veal and pork at money-saving low prices . . and where uniformly high "Super-Right" quality standards assure you of complete satisfaction or your money back. No wonder millions of contented customers say that A&P has the meat buys. Compare and see if you don't agree! Come see . . . come save at A&P!

Painful cramps of "Monthly Periods" stopped or amazingly relieved

In 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' own tests!

Lydia Pinkham's has a quieting effect on the uterine contractions (see chart) which often cause menstrual pain!

● Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation — who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days"— may often be suffering needlessly! Such is the conclusion from doctors' tests in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief of such distress in 3 out of 4 cases.

Yes! Medical evidence proves Lydia Pinkham's is modern in action. It exerts a remarkably calming effect on the uterus... without use of pain-deadening drugs!

The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But have you tried it?

Take Lydia Pinkham's through the month. See if you don't get the same relief from the pains and weakness of "those days"! See if you don't feel better before and during your period!

Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new, improved Tablets, with added Iron!

If you're troubled with "hot flashes" and other functional distress of "change of life"— you'll find Lydia Pinkham's wonderful for that, too!

Hemingway's Obituaries Should Interest Ernest

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS) — Ernest Hemingway can read what the press will say about him after his death.

It should make his miraculous escape even happier.

Few people can know precisely "what they'll say about me when I'm gone," but during the hours that Ernest and Mary Hemingway were missing, many newspapers went to press with stories of the accident and long "obits" of the world-famous author.

Every one emphasized that nothing was definite. But as their stories progressed, the past tense began to creep in.

In between were many paragraphs summing up Hemingway's life and work, and evaluating his many books. The most human curiosity in the world, I should think, would be Hemingway's desire to see what they said.

But he'd be the first to know that such fascinating reading won't yield any clues about his future status. About creative work, opinions shift more swiftly than about almost anything else.

Another famous writer once made this point.

In his autobiography, "The Summing Up," Somerset Maugham cast an eye backward over the reactions to his own books and plays, and wrote:

"In my twenties, the critics said I was brutal, in my thirties they said I was flippant, in my forties they said I was cynical, in my fifties they said I was competent, and now in my sixties they say I'm superficial."

Maugham wrote that 16 years ago, but there have been no signs that he has lost that detachment and calm at any time since.

It's a fortunate human being who can cultivate even a small part of that serene attitude about praise and pats on the back.

It's only natural to enjoy public acclaim when it does come along — But if ever we get too greedy for the gold star of fame and success, it's a cinch we're keeping our eyes on the most elusive target of all.

All around us we can see parents and teachers and inventors who find their rewards in doing their appointed tasks as well and as fully as they can.

These are the fulfilled of the world. Because their hearts are warm, they'll be glad that Ernest Hemingway, like another great American author before him, Mark Twain, can now say "the reports of my death were greatly exaggerated."

IKE'S MATCHES — Prize specimen of any matchcover collector's treasure trove would be one of these exclusive match books. Designed for President Eisenhower's personal use, the books feature two crossed golf clubs on a blue background, with the President's initials, "DDE," imprinted in gold.

Longest stretch of straight railroad track in the world is a 328-mile stretch across the Nullarbor Plain of Australia; longest in the United States is a 79-mile stretch between Wilmington and Hamlet, N. C.

Fixed Lake Level Feared

City Sees Stabilization of Sylvan Possible Snag in Flood Prevention

Pontiac City Commission last night expressed fear a move to stabilize the level of Sylvan Lake might affect the city's control of the Clinton River necessary in flood prevention and local sewage disposal.

A resolution adopted by Oakland County Board of Supervisors directing the drain commissioner to proceed to establish the level of Sylvan Lake was submitted to commissioners.

The Clinton connects Sylvan Lake with Dawson Mill Pond to the east where a city-owned dam regulates the river level.

Mayor Arthur J. Law said too little water would block proper sewage disposal, because city sewage is dumped into the Clinton after treatment. Floods in Pontiac are a danger in spring if the river level is not properly maintained, he added.

Commissioners asked City Manager Walter K. Willman to make a complete study of the county proposal and report at next week's commission meeting.

Detroiter Named in Arson Warrant

A warrant charging Donald F. Lydick, 39, of Detroit with arson was issued today by Royal Oak Municipal Judge John E. Brondige.

Lydick was picked up by Royal Oak police early Sunday morning near a blazing auto, which he later admitted igniting.

Under questioning, he told detectives he was buying the car on a verbal agreement with the owner, George Richardson also of Detroit, and started the fire to "get out from under debt."

Meanwhile, Richardson, who reported the car stolen, is being held for investigation of conspiracy although Lydick claims Richardson knew nothing about his car burning plans.

According to Det. Sgt. Herman Potts, Lydick said he told Richardson Saturday: "If I'm not back with the car by Sunday noon, report it stolen to the Detroit police."

Richardson was arrested by Detroit police Monday when he filed a stolen car report.

Lydick rooms at Richardson's home, Potts said.

Woodhouse Tells Club About New Truck Models

R. C. Woodhouse, general sales manager of the truck division of GMC Truck & Coach Division of General Motors, spoke briefly in introducing movies of new truck models before the Pontiac Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Hotel Waldron. He said that the new models open a new era in the truck industry. B. W. Crandall of the public relations staff and Al Davis of the photographic department were also guests of the club.

Streetcars Passing

City Approves Transfer of Hotel Liquor License

Pontiac City Commission last night took action on requested license transfers and steps in preparing the 1954 capital improvements program.

Commissioners approved a request from present owners of the Hotel Pontiac for transfer of ownership of a class B liquor license to M. E. Crane and L. C. Crane, stockholders.

Engineers' cost estimates were accepted and public hearings set for Feb. 2 on the following proposed projects:

Two-inch blacktop paving on Center from Osmun to Cottage, $3,135.
Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Hovey from Cottage to Osmun, $8,569.30.
Curb, gutter and miscellaneous drainage on Strathmore from Baldwin to University, $6,968.50.
Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on East Rutgers from Baldwin to University.
Sanitary sewer on westerly side of Oakland from Cass to opposite Kinney, $7,342.40.
Trunk storm drain on Bagley from Nevada to California, $11,137.80.
Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on California from Franklin road to Bagley, $13,686.

Commissioners declared a public necessity for trunk storm drain on Bagley from Nevada to California and for curb gutter and drainage on California from Franklin road to Bagley.

Public hearings were held and confirmation deferred on special assessment rolls for two-inch blacktop on:

Bellevue from Paddock to Jessie.
Belmont from Michigan to Hazel Bend.
Bliss from Hill to Parkhurst.
Chandler from Mariva to East boulevard.
Douglas from Pike to Mount Clemens.
Jessie from Mechanic to Hazel Bend.
Lois from Roselawn to East boulevard.
Michigan from Paddock to East boulevard.
Shirley from Pike to Fiddis.
Tasmania from Pike to Maines.
Center from Auburn to Whittemore.
Cottage from Saginaw to Perkins.
South Edith from Whittemore to Osmun.
Judson from Shirley to Sanford.
Midway from Sanford to East boulevard.
Raeburn from East boulevard to Michigan Air Line Railroad.
Whittemore from Sanford to East boulevard.

Three process servers were appointed as recommended by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan. They are Percy G. Newman of 457 W. Iroquois Rd., Richard R. Dougherty of 32 Henderson St. and Fred Smiley of 47 S. Genessee Ave.

5 Injured in Crash on Slippery M58

Slippery roads were blamed for a two-car collision in which five persons were injured last night on M-59 near Pontiac Lake road, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Treated for cuts and bruises at Pontiac General Hospital were Thomas McManaman, 22, and his passenger, George Joseph, 24, both of Flint.

Injured in the other car were Mrs. O. B. Schram, 57, of 255 S. Marshall St., the driver; Mrs. George Kayga, 51, of 335 Judson St.; Mrs. Alma Cowley, 62, of 73 Seneca St., and Mrs. Howard Schram, 43, of 25 S. Marshall St.

Deputies quoted McManaman as saying he applied his brakes on the ice to avoid the collision as both cars were rounding a curve. His auto spun around and hit the other car broadside.

Detroit Editor to Speak Before Exchange Club

Guest speaker for the weekly meeting of the exchange Club, at Hotel Waldron Friday noon, will be John C. Manning, editor of the Detroit Times.

MANNING

Mr. Manning has had a long newspaper career, joining the Times staff as a reporter in 1923. He served as city editor and managing editor before becoming editor 14 years ago. Previously he had worked on the Chicago Tribune, the old Minneapolis Tribune, Duluth News-Tribune and the Detroit Free Press and News.

His topic Friday will be "The Function of the Press."

Attorney Offers to Fill Vacancy

Would Serve as Judge Till April Election; Says He's No Candidate

Pontiac attorney David E. Utley has offered to fill the vacant municipal court judgeship until the April 5 election, although he is not a candidate for the post.

Utley's proposal was received by Pontiac City Commission last night.

He said he was making the move because 'appointment of any of the candidates would give that candidate an unfair advantage at the coming election."

After a motion to discuss the appointment was defeated, commissioners agreed to place the matter on next week's commission agenda.

Commissioner Paul A. Kern said he favored Utley's proposal. Commission Harold W. Dudley stated he thought discussion should be postponed a week to allow other attorneys to match Utley's move if they desired.

The post has been vacant for nearly two months since the death of Judge Charles P. Webster. Four candidates have announced their intention to run for the office.

Thief Strong-Armed Pontiac Taxicab Driver

A Pontiac taxicab driver, Franklin M. Warden, 22, of 109 W. Chicago Ave., who was robbed of $53 in Oak Park Monday, said today that he was "strong-armed" by the passenger he picked up in Pontiac.

Warden said that it was erroneously reported earlier that the passenger, who fled in the taxi, threatened him with a knife. The vehicle was recovered later in Detroit.

Mrs. Watkins Elected to Head Church Group

DRAYTON PLAINS — Recently elected president of the Detroit Women's Presbyterian Group was Mrs. John Watkins, a member of the Bethany Women's Missionary Society of the Community United Presbyterian Church.

As president of the group, Mrs. Watkins will attend the national convention of the organization in Nampa, Idaho in the spring.

Plan Port Huron Harbor

PORT HURON (AP)—If the State Waterway Commission approves, a new small craft harbor, featuring a 400-foot, steel-capped seawall, will be constructed in the Black River at Port Huron. The Port Huron City Council has awarded a $36,000 construction contract to the Blue Water Excavating Co.

Man Injured in Collision at Madison, Highwood

Renie Pack, 47, of 106 W. Beverly Ave. was treated for cuts and bruises suffered in an auto accident early today when he was a passenger in a car driven by Loren E. Bennett, 56, of 110 W. Beverly Ave., according to Pontiac Police.

Pack was treated in the emergency hospital of Pontiac Motor Division after the accident occurred at Madison Ave. and Highwood Blvd.

Pontiac Police quoted both drivers, Bennett and Thorveld A. Yerk, 23, of 4900 Lakeview, as saying the collision was caused by slippery conditions at the intersection.

Woman Injured by Door

Mrs. John W. Chenault, 48, of 391 Tilbury, Bloomfield Township, is reported in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today after she was injured while closing her garage door last night.

Hospital attendants said that Mrs. Chenault suffered a possible skull fracture when the door hit her on the head.

MILTON BERLE STARS FOR BUICK See the Buick-Berle Show Tuesday Evenings

LOOKS LIKE A MILLION, RIDES LIKE A MILLION, yet this gorgeous 1954 Buick Special Convertible —V8-powered to a record high—delivers locally for just a few dollars more than similar models at the "low-price three."

It looks like the biggest hit in BUICK history!

WE'VE had more than a fair share of success in this business — but this beats all!

From the day we opened our doors to show the new 1954 Buicks, we've been kept hopping by people, questions and orders.

It seems that folks have been hoping for a really big change in the new cars—and Buick's got what they want, right across the board.

Buick's got it in style—in the sleek, swift, low and glamorous look of the sports cars, but with the room and comfort of Buick size and breadth.

Buick's got it in power—in high-compression V8 engines all stepped up to new horsepower highs and boosted to new economy with Power-Head Pistons.

Buick's got it in ride comfort, too, and handling ease, and visibility—and a whole new list of features as up to the minute as the very look of these great cars.

But — why don't you come see what all the excitement is about?

Then you'll discover that what's helping to make the '54 Buicks the biggest hit in our history are the prices we're quoting —prices that buy more Buick beauty and power and thrill and sheer automobile than smart money ever bought before.

Star Has Voice That's Different

Has Teenage Children, Is a Season Headliner on Comedy Hour

NEW YORK — Ethel Merman, one of the headliners of this season's Comedy Hour on TV, has been acclaimed as one of the brightest stars recruited from the musical comedy world. Not one of her 11 Broadway shows had failed to achieve hit status.

Miss Merman was born in Astoria, Long Island, N. Y., Jan. 16, 1909, the only child of Edward and Agnes Zimmermann. Following graduation from Bryant High School in Astoria, she went to work for the B-K Vacuum Booster Brake Company for $15 a week.

In the evenings she sang at the Little Russia Cafe in New York City for $50-$75 a week. This amount was a good supplement to her meager income, and soon she concentrated only on her singing.

She has never taken a singing lesson in her life, having followed the advice of the late George Gershwin, who wrote — especially for her — "I Got Rhythm."

Gershwin told her that the natural quality of her voice gave her special vocal distinction and that training might cause her to lose this rare gift.

Gershwin, Cole Porter and Irving Berlin have rated her as "the greatest show singer of all time." On Broadway she estimates she has played to more than 5,500,000 customers in 11 shows for an average of 48 weeks per show.

Miss Merman maintains a home in Manhattan, a 10-room apartment complete with waterfall and two wading pools. However, most of Ethel's non-working moments are spent on her husband's estate, six acres at Cherry Hill, Englewood, Colo. — just outside of Denver.

In real life Ethel is Mrs. Robert Six, the wife of a prominent financier, and the mother of a teenage boy and girl.

In recent years she has become an enthusiastic art collector leaning toward the French impressionists for her private gallery of Renoirs, Van Goghs, Picassos and Dufys.

When not singing, she watches mystery programs, goes to prize fights—or sits in the sun.

200,000 Attend GM Motorama; Moves to Miami

NEW YORK — The General Motors Motorama of 1954 closed a six day stand at the Waldorf-Astoria at midnight Tuesday after more than 200,000 persons had viewed its "Dream Cars," 1954 production models and other attractions.

GM officials immediately began the huge task of moving the giant show to Miami, where it will be open to the public Feb. 6-14. Later appearances are scheduled at Los Angeles March 6-11, and San Francisco March 27-April 4.

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, declared that the enthusiastic New York acceptance of the Motorama reinforced his faith in the nation's continued economical progress.

"We in General Motors believe that the country's economy will continue to be healthy in the year that lies ahead," Mr. Curtice said. "Most New Yorkers apparently agree with us. Certainly the tremendous reception the Motorama received in New York is evidence of that."

Starting Pay Rate for Engineers Said to Be Low

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit area manual laborers receive higher starting pay than college-trained engineers, a congressional committee has been told.

The committee, looking into conditions of federal workers in a tour of the country, wound up a two-day hearing in Detroit yesterday.

The three-man committee heard Stanley Reismont, civilian procurement officer for the Air Force, say that laborers draw three cents more an hour at the start than do engineering graduates.

John P. Howard, Detroit Arsenal employment officer, testified he pays engineers just entering the field $284 a month. He said he knew that they could begin in private industry at a $344 monthly minimum.

James Rademacher, head of Detroit branch 1, National Association of Letter Carriers, said that 45 per cent of the carriers in the Detroit area now hold part time jobs to augment the salary paid them by the government.

The committee will return to Washington before making recommendations on the results of the 10-city tour.

Strike to Idle More at Nash-Kelvinator

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Nash-Kelvinator Corp. strike in Detroit, now in its third day, may idle half of the company's employes in Grand Rapids today.

The strike of 2,200 workers apparently arose from the disciplining of two employes, accused by the company of loafing, and a company spokesman said another 1,000 workers probably would be laid off at the Grand Rapids plant today.

The spokesman added that if the strike were not ended by Friday the remaining 1,000 workers would be idled.

Hospital's Budget of $2.6 Million OK'd

A hospital budget for 1954 of $2,608,600 was approved by Pontiac City Commission last night as submitted by Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees. The figure is $408,400 higher than last year's.

The hospital expects to pay $2,562,100 of the budget expenses through incoming fees. The city will contribute $75,000 and miscellaneous donations are expected to add another $1,500.

2 Airmen Will Die for '48 Rape-Slaying

AGANA, Guam (INS)—Two Air Force men—Staff Sgt. Robert W. Burns of Spokane, Wash., and Pvt. Herman P. Dennis of Calvert, Tex., were scheduled to be put to death on Guam Island tomorrow for the 1948 rape-murder of a young woman employe of the Navy.

The U. S. Air Force announced the executions will be carried out tomorrow but officials refused to disclose at what hour and in what exact place the pair will die. The method of execution was not divulged.

Burns, now 36, and Dennis, 24, were found guilty in 1949 of raping and then fatally beating attractive 27-year-old Ruth Farnsworth of San Francisco during the preceding December. The verdicts were returned by separate U. S. 20th Air Force courts martial which sentensed both men to death.

The submarine has been generally recognized as a legitimate instrument of naval warfare since the Civil War. Previously they were regarded as something akin to piracy.

Met Will Be Televised to Theaters in the Fall

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera's opening nights will be televised nationwide on a closed circuit to theaters beginning next fall.

The Met said yesterday it had signed a three-year contract with Theater Network Television, Inc., and that it hopes the telecasts will become an annual tradition.

Traffic Injuries Show Increase

Deaths From Accidents Stay at Same Level as Previous Year

A total of 113 more persons were injured in local traffic accidents last year than in 1952 according to an annual summary released by the Pontiac Police traffic and accident bureau.

The report also shows that the number of traffic deaths equaled 1952's eight deaths. Six of the fatalities were pedestrians struck while crossing streets. Accidents accounted for 635 personal injuries last year.

Compared with 2,261 auto accidents in 1952, the report shows 1,400 accidents occurred last year.

The big difference in the two totals, explained Lt. Davy Gilpin, head of the bureau, is due to a 1953 ruling which no longer requires that all types of accidents be reported to police.

Accidents which now require reporting are those involving serious damage and injury, cause for arrest and hitting fixed objects.

The report cites the following main causes for the majority of accidents:

Following too closely, not granting the right of way to another vehicle or pedestrian, drunk driving, disregarding signs and signals, exceeding speed limits and improper passing and turning. The report shows that in 209 of the accidents, motorists were found to have been drinking.

Most of the accidents occurred between the hours of 2 and 6 p.m. in residential districts.

Judge Urges Active Citizenship

32 Foreign-Born Become American Citizens Here

Thirty-two foreign-born men and women became full-fledged American citizens Tuesday in Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick's court.

Judge Hartrick, who conducted the naturalization ceremony, urged the new citizens to take an active part in government, work to strengthen school systems and be "very careful" in voting for candidates for office.

Lynn D. Allen, Oakland County clerk, welcomed the new citizens on behalf of county officials and General Richardson Chapter, DAR; local Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Chief Pontiac Post 377 and Cook-Nelson Post 20, American Legion. Allen is the Cook-Nelson unit's Americanism chairman.

Foreign-born people, to gain U. S. citizenship, must learn civics and pass a government exam. Pontiac Public Schools furnished the training in evening classes with Miss Janice Antona as teacher. Five groups are usually admitted to citizenship here each year, one at the start of each term of court.

Men and women who took the American oath of allegiance Tuesday were:

Urge Strengthening of Township Rule

LANSING (AP)—Preservation and strengthening of township government was the main concern of Michigan's township supervisors gathered for their annual meeting.

Speakers Tuesday afternoon urged the delegates to preserve local government and return it to the prominence it once occupied in the state's political scene.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) declared State Police should be limited to patrolling state trunklines, leaving criminal law enforcement and county road patrols in the hands of sheriff's departments.

William F. Hannah, Muskegon county supervisor, told delegates that township government must be brought up to date to better serve its people.

Hannah said supervisors themselves have helped in the decline of township government by asking the state and county to take problems off their hands. He cited welfare relief as an example.

Texas Women Attempt to Restore Old Mansion

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — The Daughters of the Republic of Texas are attempting to restore the French legation in Austin, the state capitol.

Miss Edna Hinde, a former school teacher and DRT president, said the organization hopes to restore the Count Saligny home to the splendor of the 1840 homes of France.

"We want it to be a beautiful shrine for all the state to enjoy, she said, "Garden clubs are aiding by beautifying the grounds."

Children's Fund Nearing End of 20-Year Life Span

STRATO STREAK INTERIOR—Shown above is the roomy interior of Pontiac Motor's show car, the Strato Streak, one of the displays in General Motors Motorama. Designers of the four-passenger, four-door hardtop eliminated the center door pillar which is standard on most four-doors. The front bucket seats swivel 90 degrees for easy entrance and exit. Controls are located conveniently on the dashboard and between the seats.

Concludes Work at End of April

$17,597,950 Is Spent From Original Grant by Sen. Couzens

By EDWARD J. MARKATTY
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Children's Fund of Michigan dies this spring after years of helping children to live.

The fund, inaugurated in 1929, will be liquidated April 30. The formal document which gave it birth decreed its death.

The late Sen. James Couzens started the philanthropic organization by a bequest of $10,000,000 in his will.

Fund officers said Sen. Couzens had a passion for assisting sick or helpless children. The official document itself read, in part:

". . . To promote the health, welfare, happiness and development of the children of Michigan, primarily, and elsewhere in the world. . . ."

Has it achieved its purpose?

Many times over, according to William J. Norton, executive vice president and secretary of the fund. Norton was one of the original officials named to administer the fund in 1929. From his office at 60 Frederick St., a significant address in Detroit, he keeps a sensitive finger on the pulse of the mammoth operation.

Oakland County has benefited greatly from the fund.

Selecting Oakland County as an example of the fund's diversified operations Norton pointed out four of the five phases at work.

Around 1937 the fund assisted Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore launch a "boarding out" program in an attempt to combat juvenile delinquency. The formula was to select good and decent homes where misguided children would receive love instead of being shuffled off to their own devices.

It helped the Oakland Health Department start oral hygiene clinics. The fund assisted some of the smaller municipalities with recreational programs in the southern part of the county.

Finally children's fund monies launched a heavy summer dental care program in Oakland County for cleaning children's teeth and administering fluoride coating.

The fund's activities are being decelerated deliberately in the face of the April expiration date.

Expenditures through May, 1953, totaled $17,597,950 as interest returns and various earnings nearly doubled the original $10,000,000.

For example, the fund was responsible for the creation of more than 50 county health departments between 1929 and 1941. It set up a nationally famous research laboratory in Detroit; it created the first child guidance clinic in the state; it inaugurated a statewide children's dental service; it created at least two pediatric clinics and it has taken part in several other ventures dedicated to the health and welfare of children.

It was the first of Michigan's six largest philanthropic ventures. The Children's Fund of Michigan was followed by the Rackham Fund, the Kellogg Fund, the Charles S. Mock Fund, the Kresge Foundation and the Ford Foundation.

It differs from the others in that it is self-liquidating and not bequeathed in perpetuity. It also differs insofar as it created functions and lets others carry on the work after the project is under way.

Norton pointed to the pediatric clinics at St. Luke's hospital, in Marquette, and at Munson Hospital in Traverse City. The fund leased property from the hospitals, erected buildings, equipped and staffed them, then withdrew to allow a permanent agency to take over.

Norton said the directors of both hospitals have given assurances the pediatric clinics will be prepetuated.

Generally speaking, county health department expenditures and dental programs have proven to be the greatest items in the fund. Upwards of seven million dollars has been spent in the interests of child health.

In 1929 there were but four county health departments in the state. The fund went to work to alleviate this situation. Its officers approached county boards of supervisors with a plan for creating greater health services.

The supervisors were allowed to appoint a qualified public health inspector, nurse, dentist and officer and maintain a health department with Children's Fund monies.

But the fund was to be withdrawn when the county health departments became self-supporting or supported by an appropriate local government agency.

Within nine years 51 counties had health departments of their own and the fund was able to direct its energies elsewhere.

In general, Norton said, the program was a tremendous success throughout the state except for a few southern counties and industrialized Wayne County which already had its own department.

The work of the fund then, fell into five major divisions—child health (included in the county health departments), child guidance, research, recreation and miscellaneous children's activities.

The significance of the Frederick Street address in Detroit lies in the fact that the fund's research laboratory is housed there.

Now that the fund is about to be dissolved, Norton said, the laboratory has become rather a "perplexity." Administrators must wait and hope that successors to the fund's operations make good use of the lab's equipment and prior ventures.

In 24 years some two million dollars have been spent on various projects which have brought national recognition to the laboratory's work.

It has busied itself chiefly in nutrition studies. But the lab also has done research in virology, bacteriology and most recently has pursued the study of "sickle cell," a blood malfunction prevalent in Negro children.

The fund's executive vice president said the laboratory work had been "put on ice" for the past two or three years as the administrators adopted a wait and see attitude toward their successors.

They are certain, however, that the laboratory, its technicians and equipment will continue operating much the same, only under different management.

Death Penalty Bill Is Killed

Would Have Applied in Kidnaping and Sex Crimes in State

LANSING (AP)—A proposed "little Lindbergh law"— providing the death penalty for kidnapping and sex crimes — has been killed in the House.

The House Judiciary Committee killed the bill on the grounds that it required capital punishment to be imposed only on a jury's recommendation.

Rep. Howard R. Carroll (R-Mt. Clemens), the chairman, said this provision would permit a defendant to escape the death penalty by merely waiving a jury trial.

The bill was sponsored by Rep. Eugene F. Betz (R-Monroe) who has lost repeated attempts to push a death penalty through previous sessions.

Grinding through a growing pile of minor measures, the Senate passed four bills and sent them to the House. The House whipped four from committee, through debate and ready for a vote today with a minimum of discussion.

The leading bill approved in the Senate exempted from the state inheritance tax property held jointly by husband and wife or as tenants by the entireties.

Also approved in the Senate were bills to require telephone companies to give the State Police the names of party-line customers in cases where one user has refused to yield the telephone for an emergency call.

The Senate voted to grant administrators of the Roman Catholic Church the same legal powers as Bishops and to give the courts jurisdiction over the children of divorced parents until 18 years of age. The limit now is 17 years.

County Officials Meet at Lansing

25 Supervisors Attend Michigan Association's 3-Day Convention

Some 25 members of Oakland County Board of Supervisors are in Lansing for the Michigan Association of Supervisors annual meeting

The association is discussing county government, local problems and matters it wants Michigan's Legislature to act on.

An election of officers Thursday afternoon may see Commerce Township's James L. Gardner, now the association's second vice-president, move up another step.

And the local delegation, headed by Floyd Andrews of Independence, chairman of this county's board of supervisors, may have at least a couple of irons in the association fire.

The local board last week urged Michigan's laws be tightened so that when a county calls for compulsory vaccination of dogs, there won't be any loopholes like the one that let Pontiac issue dog licenses without vaccinations last year.

And it called for changes that would let townships with their own police departments use money from fines for whatever they choose. Fines now go to the state library fund.

Besides Andrews and Gardner, delegates to the state association meeting included Supervisors David E. Anderson, Lloyd Anderson, Norman R. Barnard, Ernest V. Blanchard, Willis M. Brewer and Frank D. Brigham.

Other delegates are Velma Cady, Delos Hamlin, Harry W. Horton, David Levinson, Clayton G. Lilly, Winson S. Moberly, Mrs. Harriett Phillips and Earl B. Rhinevault.

Andrews also appointed William Roeser, Mrs. Genevieve C. Schock, Harold K. Schone, Fred W. Smith, William K. Smith, Hiland M. Thatcher, Cass B. Waters, George C. Westfall and Howard J. Reid.

Stars at Motorama

Door Pillars Eliminated in Pontiac Strato-Streak

One of the outstanding hits of this year's General Motors Motorama is Pontiac Motor's new show car, the Strato Streak.

A four-passenger, four-door hardtop, the most unusual feature is the elimination of pillars between front and rear doors.

The back doors, which are hung from the rear, have special locks to prevent opening while the car is in motion. They open only when the car is stopped and the hydramatic gear is in neutral.

Constructed of fiberglass, the "dream car" is 54.5 inches high, 214.3 inches long and 74.5 inches wide on a 124-inch wheelbase.

The front two of the car's four bucket seats swivel 90 degrees to allow easy entrance and exit.

Instruments are recessed in nacelles on a panel below a built-in safety cushion, while windshield wiper and washer controls, cigar lighter and ashtray are located in a tunnel between the front seats.

The radio is located just forward of the controls and the glovebox just behind.

Between the two rear seats is a compartment large enough to accommodate a camera, binoculars and other equipment useful to outdoor sports spectators.

There is also ample trunk space in the rear deck.

"In the Strato Streak we have designed a special purpose show car which might not be considered for mass production and sale at this time, but our engineers and stylists have experimented with new ideas and new methods which may influence features, appearance and production of all cars of the future," said R. M. Critchfield, vice president of GM and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

After closing at New York last night, the Motorama will move to Miami, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Lea Act Changes Sought by Dondero

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Mich) offered an amendment yesterday to tighten the Lea Act, passed in 1946 to protect the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich.

The Lea Act is regarded the forerunner of the Taft-Hartley Act and stemmed from widespread protests against James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians Union, who blocked broadcasts from Interlochen on the grounds that performers did not belong to his union.

When Congress blocked the practice with the Lea Act, Petrillo branded the music camp as unfair.

Dondero's amendment would give camp directors the right of court appeal of Petrillo's unfair label.

Won't Capitalize on Lucky Escape, Hemingway Says

ENTEBBE, Uganda (INS) — Ernest Hemingway, literary lion who hunts wild game for a hobby, said today he rejected an offer to write about the two plane crashes from which he embarked unhurt over the weekend rather than "make capital from two lucky escapes."

Hemingway said the offer came from an American magazine.

Of the accounts he gave newsmen on his return to Entebbe, in the Uganda Protectorate, the Pulitzer prize-winning author said:

"I gave the newsboys a lucky break when I returned to Entebbe.

The author said his wife, who shared the experience—frightening enough to raise the graying hair on Hemingway's head, chin and chest—is "much better and is out and around again."

Mrs. Hemingway, the former Mary Welsh of Chicago, suffered two cracked ribs in the first of the two plane crashes.

The author said they would rest a few days at the Lake Victoria Hotel before returning to Nairobi to charter another plane in which to continue their tour.

Some Movie Producers Beginning to Grow Up

By BILLY ROSE

Back in 1943, I produced a show by Oscar Hammerstein II called "Carmen Jones." Its basic plot and music were taken from Bizet's memorable opera, "Carmen."

The new libretto and lyrics were in easy-to-understand English and the story was given an American setting and it was performed by a talented all-Negro cast. It was a success.

BILLY ROSE

During the past 10 years, as might be expected, almost every major studio in Hollywood has tried to buy the film rights to "Carmen Jones." And each time the conversation has gone about like this:

BIGSHOT — My studio would like to make a movie of "Jones." We are prepared to pay you a lot of money, and also scratch your back.

ME — Have you got the cash on you?

BIGSHOT — We can sign the contracts in the morning. Of course, there'll have to be a clause giving us the right to make the picture with an all-white cast.

ME — Not interested. Every word of the piece was written for a Negro cast.

BIGSHOT — Movies, unlike the theater, are for a world audience. We've got to be careful not to offend anybody.

ME — What's offensive about a Negro cast?

BIGSHOT — Well — uh, you see, our problem is a complicated one. For instance, the theaters in the South won't play a movie if it has a lot of colored actors. Now, I'm as liberal as the next fellow, but when you invest a million dollars in a project you've got to have the practical approach.

ME — Malarkey. My ledgers prove that using Negroes where the script calls for Negroes is a mighty practical approach. "Carmen Jones," sire, during its four-year run played almost every city in the Deep South and, as a rule, to packed houses.

BIGSHOT (patronizingly) — You've got a lot to learn about the picture business. We didn't make our millions by being stupid. Now, how about the contract?

ME — Go soak your head in celery tonic. And, by the way, I've got a message for you from Mr. Hammerstein. He also says, go soak your head in celery tonic. . . .

And that's how it went until a month ago when Otto Preminger, producer of the controversial "The Moon Is Blue," dropped in to see me.

PREMINGER — I've got an independent outfit, and we'd like to make a movie of "Carmen Jones." Would you and Oscar like to sell the film rights?

ME — I suppose you want to use a white cast.

PREMINGER — Definitely not. It was written for a colored one, and there are plenty of fine Negro performers available.

ME — How about the Deep South?

PREMINGER — The South doesn't worry me a bit. Considering its population, it has as many cultured people as the North. If "Carmen Jones" is a good movie, they'll go to see it.

ME — Aren't you afraid of your investment?

PREMINGER — All pictures are a gamble, but the worst gamble is a picture based on a stale theme. Besides, I'm not worried about getting our money back on "Carmen Jones." We can get out of the red by showing it simultaneously in the 15 big opera houses of Europe.

Judging by the way London, Paris, Vienna and Berlin received "Porgy and Bess," we figure to make a lot of money. How about a contract?

ME — If it's all right with Oscar, I'll sign as soon as my hand stops shaking. Let's have a drink on it -- I just got in a case of imported celery tonic. . . .

What does the above prove? It proves, as I see it, that Hollywood is about ready to stop acting like a bunch of children playing mumbly-peg in Fort Knox.

It proves, too, that the time is not far off when certain esteemed gentlemen who have been making pictures will go back to making shoes.

Find Possible Clue to Killing

Police Discover Shell, May Be Lead in Death of John Mattson

DETROIT (AP)—The discovery of an empty rifle shell in a stolen automobile gave police a possible clue today in the search for John W. Mattson's killer.

Police said the shell might be from the rifle bullet which a sneak marksman fired into Mattson's head through a window of Atlas Steel Corp. Monday night.

Up to the time of the finding of the rifle shell 36 hours of investigation had uncovered no promising lead in the mysterious slaying.

A search for the teen-age girl who discovered the shooting in walking by the Atlas Steel office on East Grand Boulevard also was unavailing.

Mattson, 53, was shot as he sat at his desk in the office going over steel tonnage reports.

Friends and associates all spoke highly of Mattson.

His boss, Philip Silver, 48, president of the company, described him as exceptionally friendly to people and hardly the sort of man to arouse enmity.

A former employer, Lou Golden, spoke similarly, saying "I can't imagine why anyone would want to kill him."

Fines Inflated, Too

ROCKVILLE, Conn. (UP)—City Court Judge Robert J. Pigeon proposed a change in legislation concerning the working out of unpaid fines at $1 a day. "When the law was written," said the judge, "a dollar was worth a dollar."

Reds Feeding U.S. Same Line We Swallowed in 1928

(Editor's note: Joseph Anthony has been editor of Simon & Schuster, Appleton-Century, the Cosmopolitan Book Corp. and the Golden Book Magazine. His writings range from "Casanova Jones" to the pioneering article on the history of public relations that appears in the current printing of the Encyclopedia Britannica.)

By JOSEPH ANTHONY

The latest Soviet line, which is being promoted with immense energy and skill, is that things are going to be different under Malenkov. This gentle soul, so the story goes, wants nothing but peace and world prosperity.

He's inviting Europe—and even wicked, capitalistic America — to help achieve his noble objectives by increasing trade with Russia.

How many of us remember the days when we were told that things were going to be different in Russia now that Trotzky was out, and Stalin, the peace-and-prosperity boy, was in?

Some very important American industrialists swallowed this line—and the hook and sinker that went with it. Their chief spokesman was Ivy Lee, the fabulously successful public relations consultant.

In 1927, Lee made a trip to Russia, and published a book about his findings, for private distribution. An expanded version of this book was published in 1928, by the Macmillan Company, under the title "Present-Day Russia." In this masterpiece of naivete, Lee spoke glowingly of his faith in the sincerity of the Soviet leaders, and reported:

"American business through many of its largest enterprises has already taken hold of the problem of restoring normal relations with Russia through trade.

"The American-Russian Chamber of Commerce has an office in Moscow, in charge of Colonel Charles H. Smith, an American engineer of long business experience. This bureau in Moscow, and the work of the American-Russian Chamber of Commerce, is supported by a membership consisting, among others, of such American business concerns as: American Car and Foundry Co.; Equitable Trust Co. of New York; General Motors Corp.; General Electric Co.; International Harvester Co.; Remington Tyepwriter Co.; Standard Oil Co. of New York; U. S. Steel Products Co. (U. S. Steel Corp.) and the Westinghouse Electric Co."

In a speech delivered at Williamstown, Mass., on August 1, 1930, part of which I quoted yesterday, Lee said: "I was struck in reading Mr. Stalin's ex cathedra utterances before the Communistic party on June 27th last with the absence of any of the old suggestions that the workers of the world should unite.

"It was distinctly a Russian speech, devoting itself to Russian problems. I am impressed with the thought that the chief preoccupation of Russian leaders today is with their own affairs, that such Communistic propaganda as is conducted in foreign countries is stimulated by the less responsible men in Moscow, and that even the activities of the Communist International itself are today of minor interest in Russia."

The prince of press agents was like a lawyer who has a weak case on his hands and has to hypnotize himself into believing in the innocence of his client. On February 27, 1931, speaking at the annual alumni exercises of Union Theological Seminary of New York, he stated solemnly: "There is today a distinct growth of personal religion in Russia."

On April 13, 1933, Lee stated in his house organ, "Information:"

"I have made it my business to visit Russia frequently in recent years. . . . At heart, the changes that are progressing in Russia aim at the same objective as those at work here.

They all revolve around the question: how far can you go in encouraging the profit motive, the initiative of the individual, and at the same time preserve for the community the greatest benefits of the efforts of all individuals?"

The words of the press attache of big business were no idle rhetoric. They were the accompaniment to energetic action. In those palmy days (palmy for Russia) we were sending thousands of skilled engineers to contribute their know-how to the Communist plan for world conquest.

We were selling them some of our best airplanes, together with the services of technicians to show them how to build the planes themselves.

We sent vast quantities of machinery, automotive vehicles and equipment (over 111 million dollars' worth in 1930 alone).

A touching note in Ivy Lee's book is his question: "Is it not possible that Western civilization is called upon in the case of Russia to make the greatest experiment in faith in human nature in all history?"

Let's continue to have faith in human nature. But this time let's remember that Communists are not human.

Michigan Indian Tribes Prepare Claims Demanding U.S. Cash for Early Lands

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Indians are going to hit Uncle Sam for some wampum.

They want the federal government to pay up money due from land treaty agreements made more than 100 years ago, according to Dr. Lewis H. Beeson, secretary of the State Historical Commission.

Dr. Beeson told the Central Michigan chapter of the Michigan Archaeological Society that a group of Michigan Indians has hired a Cleveland law firm to represent them in the federal courts.

Dr. Beeson said he does not know how much the Indians are asking. But he said it is estimated that between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 is still owed some Michigan Indian tribes on land treaty agreements.

Dr. Beeson said the Cleveland legal firm has drawn up an elaborate map purporting to show which lands in Michigan were occupied by the various tribes before the white men took over.

This is the first step in preparing to taking the case before the federal courts, he said.

There are precedents calling for interest to nearly double the amount asked, the historical expert said. A recent payment to the Ute Indian Tribe of Utah has started a rash of similar suits, Dr. Beeson said.

"Now every tribe is filing suit to recover funds provided for in its land treaties," he said.

Dr. Beeson said it would not be easy to prove that certain tribes occupied specific areas in Michigan. Centers of tribal strength were outside the state and no tribe had settled in Michigan in a way to make it dominant.

In the Grand River area, he said, there were three tribes—the Chippewas, Ottawas and Pottawotamies all intermingled together in the same region.

As an added complication, he said, the Iroquois of Ontario and New York state once drove other tribes out of the Upper Peninsula and in a 1796 treaty claimed they owned the territory.

The federal government has other Indian problems in Michigan, Dr. Beeson said.

He declared that few people know there are still four Indian reservations in the state, at Mt. Pleasant, L'Anse, Manistee and Bay Mills.

The government would like to pull out of the reservation business in Michigan but doesn't know how, he said. "The housing problem is almost unmanageable."

Parley Set by Music Instructors

Regional Meeting Will Be Feb. 15-18 in Detroit

Music teachers from the entire state of Michigan will be hosts Feb. 15 to 18 when approximately 1,500 musicians from Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan meet in Detroit.

The meeting will be the first annual convention of the East-Central Area of the Music Teachers National Association.

Feb. 17 at the afternoon session, Jeanellen McKee's demitasse opera, "Reunion," will be featured. Miss McKee, who will be presented at this time, resides on Alden drive.

The closing program of the convention will introduce two Detroit singers, Helen Beauregarde, contralto, and Robert Hart, baritone, in a program of unusual vocal duets.

The regional convention will take the place of the spring convention usually held by Michigan Music Teachers Association. Feb. 15 has been designated as Michigan Day, and about 300 Michigan music teachers are expected to be present for a luncheon.

Bridal Party Given for Mary L. Seddon

Mrs. Bob Bolt and Mrs. Raymond Crossman honored Mary Louise Seddon with a bridal shower at Mrs. Bolt's home on Hollywood avenue Saturday evening.

Mary Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Seddon of Michigan avenue, will speak her vows with Edward A. Hoban Saturday. Edward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoban of Eddy court.

Among the guests were the mothers of the prospective bridal couple and Mrs. Ross Davis, Mrs. Donald Norris, Mrs. Ned Colburn, Mrs. John McNeely, Barbara Tate, Joy Graves and Jane Ann Brown.

Kappa Alpha Phi Established Here in 1898

Sorority Founders Recall History

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE

In the early winter of 1898 in Pontiac, four young women met to organize what was to be known as Kappa Alpha Phi sorority.

The four founders were Blanche Avery, her sister Lucile Avery (Mrs. Edward H. Whitfield), Maude Whetmath and Eva Leone Smith.

Today that sorority has chapters in Detroit, Pasadena, Calif., St. Louis, Mo., Sioux City, Iowa, and Chicago.

When these Pontiac High School students began the organization of the sorority, their objective was to live helpfully toward one another.

They enlisted the aid of a Pontiac High School teacher, Mrs. Harry Coleman (now living in Laguna Beach, Calif.), and Mrs. Stuart H. Perry (of Adrian), who bec honorary members and spon...s.

Later honorary members were Mrs. Ross Stockwell, Mrs. H. C. Wisner, Mrs. Dave Moreland, Mrs. E. A. Christian and Mrs. Samuel Smith.

As time went on, the sorority grew and other chapters were established. Then a charter was granted and it was made a national sorority.

Miss Avery and Mrs. Whitfield recall many happy experiences and friendships growing out of the sorority, but they also remember how they were saddened by the sudden death of one of the founders, Miss Smith.

A scrapbook which tells the complete history of Kappa Alpha Phi is a prized possession of the sisters.

The sorority increased steadily from its beginning until it was disbanded in accordance with state laws during the 30s. In 1917 the first convention was held in Pontiac, and in 1941 Chicago was host to Kappa Alpha Phi.

Other chapters throughout the country have kept in touch with these founders to whom they are so grateful and to whom they give a great deal of praise.

Those who became members of this sorority and who are still living in the area include Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. Leo O. Beaudette, Mrs. Basil E. Brown, Mrs. Dexter Craig, Mrs. George Cram, Dorothy Cummings, Mrs. Carl Donelson, Mrs. George Drake, and Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald.

Also affiliating themselves were Mrs. Harold Furlong, Mrs. Everett Garrison, Betty Gaukler, Mrs. Charles Harmon, Mrs. Lawrence Howe, Jeanette Hubbard, Mrs. Charles Hubbard, Mrs. W. Hannan Hubbard, Mrs. John Irwin, Mrs. Fred Gordon, Mary Kelly, Mrs. Astolf Levin and Carrie Linabury.

Others were Mrs. Frank A. Mercer, Mary Nephler, Mrs. Addison Oakley, Mrs. Robert B. Oliver, Mrs. Ruth Weber Parshall, Mrs. Carleton Patterson, Mrs. Donald Patterson, Mrs. W. O. Roeser, Mrs. Russell Rogers, Mrs. L. H. Keyser, Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson, Kate Sawyer, Mrs. Louis H. Schimmel and Mrs. Collis Scott.

Still others were Mrs. Ross Stockwell, Mrs. Catherine Smith, Mrs. Murray VanWagoner, Mrs. Frederic L. Ward, Mrs. Harold L. Dard, Mrs. Mac Whitfield, Mrs. Stuart E. Wilson, Mrs. Harry E. Windiate, Mrs. Charles Wixom, Mrs. Virginia Wood and Mrs. Elmer Quine.

Surprise Fete Held for Peter Slabinski

Mrs. Joseph Pollina and Mrs. Peter Slabinski were hostesses Saturday evening at a surprise birthday party honoring Mr. Slabinski.

The party was held in the Slabinski home on Parkhurst street.

Guests attending included Mr. and Mrs. John Victor and son, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slabinski and son, the John Browns with their sons, Mr. Pollina and daughter, and the Russell Blacks with their son.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Abe Ferris, the Thomas Rownskis, Mr. and Mrs. James Yvonne and Lt. and Mrs. Walter Yeager, all of Detroit.

Dessalee Temple Chosen From Pontiac High School

Girls Will Attend the State Conference in Battle Creek on March 27

Five area girls have been chosen as Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Pilgrims to represent Gen. Richardson Chapter at the state conference in Battle Creek.

Mrs. Lloyd G. Porter, chairman of the DAR good citizenship pilgrimage committee, has announced the girls' names.

From Pontiac High School is Dessalee Temple, daughter of the Thomas H. Temples of Oak Hill street. Dessalee is editor in chief of the Quiver, treasurer of the Student Union and a member of the Quill and Scroll Society. She is also a laboratory assistant and a member of the Girls Recreation Association.

Donna Shaw was chosen from Rochester High School. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Shaw, she is a member of the Year Book Club, editor of the school annual and a member of the Student Council.

Solvej Petersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Peterson, was chosen from Clarkston High School, and Mary Parker was chosen from Avondale High School. She is the daughter of the Hubert F. Parkers of Auburn Heights.

Patricia Wagonjack is the pilgrim chosen from Waterford High School. She resides on Maybee road.

All the girls chosen are seniors in public high schools. Three girls having the qualifications are chosen by the students, and one of the three is selected by a faculty committee to receive the honor.

The DAR goal is to encourage the appreciation of character-building as a basis for good citizenship.

Qualifications necessary are dependability, including truthfulness, loyalty and punctuality; service, including cooperation, courtesy and consideration of others; leadership, which includes thorough personality, self-control and the ability to assume responsibility. The fourth qualification is patriotism, which means an unselfish interest in family, school, community and nation.

Each girl is presented with a pin by the chapter, and the girls and their mothers will be guests of the chapter for a dessert meeting at the YWCA on Franklin boulevard Feb. 4 at 1 o'clock. They will receive their pins at this time.

The pin has 13 stars on the rim, identifying it with the DAR; four books in the center represent the qualifications for citizenship and beneath these is a torch of understanding encircled with the wreath of honor.

Each girl fills out a questionnaire sent out by the state chairman, and this is judged. The winner receives a $100 bond. All the girls will be guests of the Michigan DAR for a meeting and luncheon in Battle Creek March 27 at the state conference.

Ola Hiller Tells About Radio Work

U. of M. Alumnae Are Addressed by Flint Educator

"Communications play an important part in world understanding, and many women have a part in this work," said Ola B. Hiller, director of radio and communications of Flint schools, Tuesday before University of Michigan Alumnae Club.

Beginning with an account of Judith Waller, first lady of radio, Miss Hiller told of the accomplishments of women in radio and television, giving sketches of the work of many with whom the public is familiar.

She observed that women have done much work in organizing and directing communications, though many may never be actually heard. Frieda Hannock's stand for educational channels on television was praised, and the talk ended with a question and answer session.

The alumnae met in the ballroom of Casa del Rey with E. Lucille Brown as hostess. Mrs. Barney Roepcke was chairman of arrangements. Cohostesses were Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. John Ashby, Mrs. F. R. Conner, Mrs. Franklin Crawford, Mrs. Robert D. Heitsch, Iama Hook, Dr. Caryl Kulsavage and Isabel Kulsavage.

After a cooperative dinner, a business meeting was held and Mrs. T. E. Wiersema introduced June Halliday, teacher of music at Lincoln Junior High School, who played the prelude to "Suite for the Piano" by Claude DeBussy.

Yellow and blue spring flowers decorated the buffet table and candles centered the small tables.

Workshop Held at Nicolls Home

Mrs. John B. Nicolls Jr. was hostess in her Sylvan Shores drive home for the January meeting of the Tuesday Musicale Workshop held Tuesday. Assisting her were Mrs. Howard Heldenbrand and Mrs. T. E. Nelson.

Developing another phase of the group's theme for the year, Mrs. Virgil Campbell spoke on the growth of musical form typified by the sonata. Following this, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Martin Wager presented a Mozart sonata for violin and piano.

Piano solos were presented by Mrs. Paul A. Kern, Mrs. Addison Oakley, Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, Mrs. E. D. Foley and Mrs. W. S. Furlong.

A social hour followed the program, with Mrs. D. V. White presiding at the tea table. Mrs. Oakley will be hostess for the February meeting.

Committees Named by Mizpah Temple

New committees of Mizpah Temple Seven were announced by Mrs. Dean Peterson, most excellent chief, Thursday at Fellowship Hall on Voorheis road.

Mrs. John Wright was installed as manager by Mrs. Milton Probert, assisted by Mrs. John Austerman and Mrs. Lewis Ellis.

Highlight of the next meeting will be the annual birthday party.

Photographed while vacationing at the Boca Raton Club in Boca Raton, Fla., were Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Dunn of Lake Angelus.. The Dunns also visited Nassau.

Theresa M. Verville Wed in St. Vincent Ceremony

Theresa Marie Verville became the bride of Robert Tryon Saturday morning in St. Vincent de Paul Church, with 100 guests present.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Verville of Auburn avenue, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tryon of Clio.

For the 11:30 ceremony the bride wore a ballerina-length dress of Chantilly lace and nylon over satin. A Queen Anne collar and iridescent sequins and pearls trimmed the bodice, and the skirt featured an overskirt of tulle and satin.

Dolores Verville, maid of honor, wore an orchid gown of nylon net and Chantilly lace with a bolero jacket covering the fitted bodice. In similar gowns of aqua were Mrs. Al Boytel Jr. of Flint and Mrs. Bernard Verville. Barbara Cornell of Clio wore orchid for her duties as flower girl.

Bernard Bond of Clio was best man for the bridegroom, and the ushers were Mr. Verville and Mr. Boytel.

Pastel blue with pink accessories and pink carnations was worn by the bride's mother, and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue checked suit with black accessories and dark red roses.

After a reception in Chieftain Hall, the new Mrs. Tryon changed to a light gray suit with red accessories for the wedding trip to northern Michigan. On their return the couple will reside in Clio.

Outlines 5 Points for Aiding Youngsters

Youth Expert Addresses Camp Fire

William McLean was toastmaster for the annual meeting of the Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls held Tuesday evening at Devon Gables where Sam Rabinovitz, executive director of the Michigan Youth Commission of Detroit, spoke on "Children of Michigan, 1954."

Mr. Rabinovitz listed a five-point program of items essential to improvement of youth programs. The first of these points brought out the fact that in other generations children were not as willing to subscribe to character-building programs as they are now.

He noted that since programs such as Camp Fire willingly use so many adults in their activities, youth has proved it is not "going to the dogs."

The speaker's second point stressed the need for basic respect for the youngsters and their capabilities. As an illustration, he said that youths themselves are given places on the Michigan Youth Commission.

The third point concerned consideration for the middle-of-the-road group. Too many institutions concentrate on fostering the top students or improving the delinquent when the middle, larger group may also be in need of counsel, he said.

Mr. Rabinovitz said that artificial barriers should be erased by presenting a program which embraces all children regardless of race and creed.

Point five in the program suggests that youngsters be given a chance to work with adults. "Let them plan and execute their own programs with our help," said the speaker. "Recognize the fact that children like to do things that help others or elevate themselves."

As a possible solution to the shortage of trained workers, Mr. Rabinovitz suggested that routine duties be passed on to volunteer workers.

The Rev. John W. Mulder, assistant pastor of Central Methodist Church, gave the invocation. George Wyman, president of the Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls, greeted the guests and Christine Westgate, field adviser for Region Nine, gave greetings from the national staff.

A business meeting was held under the direction of Mr. Wyman and a slate of officers for 1954 was presented and accepted.

The list includes George Wyman, president; Mrs. Edward S. Ladd, vice president; George Carpenter, secretary; Mr. McLean, treasurer, and Mrs. William Wright, regional representative.

Meeting Conducted by Pontiac WCTU

Pontiac Unit of WCTU met Tuesday afternoon in First Presbyterian Church with Mrs. Henry Coin giving the opening prayer.

Mrs. Allan Eby gave devotions based on "Prayer" and a piano solo was presented by Mrs. William Bradley. Mrs. Elena Patten spoke on Christian citizenship. Mrs. William Kreklow will open her home on O'Riley street for the next meeting, a cooperative luncheon to be held Feb. 23.

ARE YOU HARD OF HEARING?

THIS ARTICLE SHOULD BE READ BY EVERYONE WHO IS CONCERNED ABOUT HIS OR HER HEARING OR THAT OF A FRIEND OR RELATIVE

In 1949, one of the world's most noted ear specialists, associated with a large New York Hospital, introduced a new theory pertaining to deafness. He disclosed that a cause of deafness was the improper use of foods by the body.

His conclusions based upon medical tests on 581 men, women and children suffering from hard-of-hearing revealed that the majority of deafened patients studied, suffered from an excess supply of pyruvic acid in their blood stream. This indicated that their bodies were not properly utilizing carbohydrate foods. As a result, he concluded that the hearing nerve was affected and gradually deafness occurred.

To help correct the faulty metabolic condition, the ear specialist used a product known as "B-Amino-Complex" tablets . . . he reported in a medical journal that very satisfactory results in functional hearing and in the general clinical picture were obtained through such use.

Now, "B-Amino-Complex" tablets are available to you without a doctor's prescription. The effect upon hearing varies in individual cases. Since perceptive deafness due to carbohydrate metabolic disturbances occurs gradually, improvement should take place gradually, from 3 to 6 months . . . Adult dosage 2 tablets 3 times daily after meals.

B-AMINO-COMPLEX TABLETS — 100 FOR $5.00

IMPORTANT NOTE: B-AMINO-COMPLEX tablets are not intended for deafness caused by physical injury to the ear, such as a blow, etc., or from bacterial infections, but are intended for diagnosed perceptive deafness in which failure of the auditory (hearing) nerve results from a high blood content of pyruvic acid, caused by disturbance of the carbohydrate metabolism of the body.

Girl Scouts Slate First Workshop

"Community Life" is the program scheduled for the first in a series of Girl Scout Workshops to be held Saturday in the Girl Scout office.

The program is planned from 10 a.m. until noon. Mrs. Robert Kohr, chairman of the Junior Red Cross in Pontiac, will head the program to teach the care and contents of a Red Cross package.

Girl Scouts and leaders are invited to attend, and to take the project interest and know-how back to their own troops.

A demonstration by Mrs. William Murray will teach the construction of Valentines for troops to use as hospital and shut-in favors.

Teaching the troop flag ceremony will be Mrs. Lloyd Porter. Adults and patrol leaders are urged to enroll for the Saturday session by calling the Girl Scout office.

Committees Announced

Music Guild Has Meeting

Mrs. Don Derragon of Whittemore street opened her home Tuesday afternoon to members and guests of the Pontiac Music Guild, and Oscar Schmidt, president, announced committees for the year.

Mrs. Derragon, Charles Wilson and Mrs. Lester Snell are on the program committee; Mrs. M. A. Dockley and Mrs. Claude Kimler, social; Amy Hogle and Mrs. Snell, recital; Mrs. Carl Clifford, Marguerite Ballard and Francine Brown, telephone; Mrs. Everett Harris and Mrs. Wayne Scott, membership, and Mr. Wilson, publicity.

Konnie Walker and Harold Rees of the Detroit Institute of Musical Art demonstrated the Kelly Kirby kindergarten method for piano students. A discussion period followed.

Guests included Mrs. Alvin Schneider of Utica, N. Y., and Mrs. Rees. Mrs. Dockley assisted the hostess. Mrs. Walter Schmitz was welcomed as a new member.

Minister Explains Mission Program

The Rev. Carl Nelson explained the mission program of the Augustana Lutheran Church and its slogan, "Advance for Christ," when members of the Mission Bells of St. John Lutheran Church met Tuesday evening in the church parlors.

He said that this year has been set aside for a great forward movement in the cause of evangelism both home and abroad.

Mrs. Adolph Hornblad and Mrs. Gene Erickson were hostesses for the afternoon and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson reported on projects by United Church Women for the year.

Europe Described

Mrs. James Ladd showed pictures of her recent European trip when members of Omega Mu Sigma sorority met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Austin Esler of Shore View drive.

Alpha Sigma Nu Installs Officers, Hears Speaker

Clarabelle Amidon installed officers of Alpha Sigma Nu sorority when members met with Mrs. Howard Looney on South Johnson avenue Monday.

Mrs. B. H. Ogden is the group's new president and Mrs. Looney is vice president. Others installed included Mrs. William Looney, secretary; Mrs. T. P. Robertson, treasurer, and Elena Bajari, historian.

Preceding the installation, John W. Hirlinger, assistant manager of Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, presented the 10-year program now under consideration for the development of the city of Pontiac.

He reviewed the past history of the community and the present situation, and urged everyone to get behind plans for the city's development in the immediate future.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Looney, Mrs. Andrew Mitchell, Mrs. Ogden and Hazel Ellicott.

Let Fresh Collar Vary Costume

The white collar girl is progressing, according to late fashion flashes, into bigger and better white collars. There are "horseshoes," bibs, and wide wing collars that extend to the shoulders.

Several of these in the top drawer is the easiest possible way to add variety to your wardrobe—giving basic dark clothes the snowy, crisp look that looks so appealing behind a desk.

And because it's their snowy crispness that counts, the ease of upkeep is important, too, with white accessories. The practical ones fasten on with a button or a snap—so it's no problem at all to whisk them off and through the soapsuds after every wearing.

Coming Events

Ladies Auxiliary to Eagles Aerie 1230 will meet Thursday at 12:30 in the hall, 208 W. Montcalm St.

Welcome Rebekah Lodge 246 will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Malta Temple, 62 Perkins St.

Eunice Philathea Class of First Baptist Church will hold a get-together Thursday at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. H. H. Savage on West Huron street, honoring Dee Fisher.

Ladies Aid Society of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church will meet Thursday at the church for a box luncheon at noon. Annual reports will be given by officers and chairmen.

Child Culture Club will meet Thursday at 6:30 p.m. for the annual Dads Night dinner and entertainment in the YMCA on Mount Clemens street.

Study Club Discusses Babysitting

Group Three Has Tuesday Meeting at Blamy Home

Mrs. John Blamy of West Iroquois road opened her home to Child Study Club Group. Three Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. M. H. Doerr, Mrs. D. S. Smith, Mrs. Jack C. Strait and Mrs. Francis D. Davis assisting.

Mrs. Grant Helwig presided at the tea table arrayed with an arrangement of spring flowers. Mrs. Richard McPartlin was presented as a guest.

Mrs. Roy M. Jones and Mrs. Allen W. Palmer conducted a panel discussion on babysitting. First people want babies, then they want sitters. In our present mode of living, a babysitter is a very important part of our family circle, they pointed out.

There was a time when some member of the family could be called upon to stay with small children, but generally the same situations do not exist today and families are forced to employ outsiders do care for their children while they are away from home.

Much unpleasantness could be avoided if families were definite about what is expected of sitters as to duties and what is not allowed. Also, there should be the same definite approach to what the sitter can expect as to wages and cooperation from the family in general.

One should always leave a list of telephone numbers of Police and Fire Department, doctor and close relatives or neighbors who could be called in case of an emergency, the panel members agreed.

It was pointed out that if a mother could remember that her son or daughter is part of a husband and wife team and not just her son or daughter, a lot of the pitfalls of this relationship could be avoided. Mutual respect makes mutual demands easier to meet.

The grandmother also has her place in the family circle and can fill an important roll in that position. Many times they read to the little ones, take them on walks and otherwise entertain them when mothers are busy with the necessary household tasks.

Everyone has his own place in the family circle and his own attitude determines the harmony of the home, the panel members concluded.

CAR State Board to Meet on Feb. 6

A state board meeting of senior members of Michigan Society, Children of the American Revolution, will be held Feb. 6 at the Women's City Club, Detroit.

Members from Pontiac include Mrs. Ernest G. Clark, Mrs. W. E. C. Huthwaite and Mrs. M. H. Luttrell.

Plans for the forthcoming state and national conventions will be made, and luncheon will be served. The meeting will begin at 11 o'clock.

Vocational Counselors Must Permit Clients to Make Their Own Decisions

By ANNE HEYWOOD

When my vocational counseling office was just opening, a wise old minister told me something I'll never forget:

"Remember, you can only help people to help themselves. Don't move in on them or manipulate their destinies.

"The greatest sin you can commit in this field is to make decisions for people, or to prevent them from having experiences which are necessary for their growth."

He was right—and yet the temptation arises constantly to act contrary to his advice.

This is particularly true in meeting young people right out of school, dewey-eyed, glamor-stricken, and convinced they can be vice president in a couple of months. But you have to sit back and let them learn the hard way.

F. L. is a perfect example of this.

She was 21, with a brand new diploma clutched in her hand. She knew how to type, and she wanted a writing job in the fashion field—

"Oh, writing articles on a fashion magazine, or doing advertising copy for a big store, or handling publicity for a top designer, something like that," she announced blithely.

She was downright infuriated at my suggestion that she learn shorthand, and start in a secretarial job and learn the business.

But, instead of batting her on the head and insisting, I let her try it her way. She covered all the decent magazines, stores and fashion designers. They all suggested that she learn shorthand and come back. But, no.

Finally, she came across a fashion publicity office, so-called, which offered her a copywriter-typist job, complete with large salary and lavish promises of a terrific future, but fast.

"You see," she announced in triumph.

My first temptation was to tell her that a company which does that is either too new and stupid to see what a beginner who is green will not make a good contribution to the staff, or is "shady" and for some good reason cannot get workers without bribing them and making false promises.

But I realized that this was a lesson she had to learn for herself.

Within six weeks she was back in my office, in tears.

They had given her nothing but typing to do, the products they "represented" were junk, the trade association denied them membership because their ethics were beyond the pale—and they owed her five weeks salary when they went into bankruptcy, which they had just done!

Simple Formula Averts Losses Caused by Fire

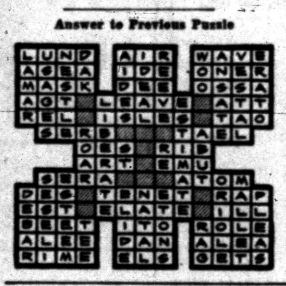

AUBURN, Ala. (INS) — A simple "solution" to cut down on fire losses, injuries and death has been offered by Stella Mitchell, Auburn home management specialist.

Miss Mitchell said that a solution made by adding six ounces of borax and three ounces of boric acid to two quarts of water effectively fireproofs children's clothes and inflammable household fabrics. She explained:

"After stirring the solution until it's clear, dip articles into the mixture, squeeze them through the clothes wringer or wring by hand, and hang them up to dry."

After drying, the specialist continued, use scraps of the fabric to test for fire resistance.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

'I Forgot' Is Weak Excuse That Really Means You Just Didn't Care Enough

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"I didn't know" is a valid excuse for not crashing through as someone expects you to.

You didn't turn up at the party besause you didn't know it was being given. You didn't keep the appointment because you didn't know you had one. You aren't to be blamed for not cleaning up a mess when you didn't even know the mess was there. Not knowing will excuse you.

But "I forgot!" is something else again. In my language that means that you didn't care enough. The party didn't sound like much fun, so you didn't bother to remember when it was going to be. Of course, you forgot to go.

The appointment couldn't have been at a less convenient time and place—it was much easier for you to forget to keep it. You hadn't the slightest interest in getting mussed up cleaning out that mess—so you just closed the door on it and forgot it existed.

That's not caring about anything except what really interests you. It's insulating your memory against sudden jogs. Except for the things you really steam up about, the rest is a shadowy, vague blur. You're not likely to remember such fleeting, wispy impressions.

"I didn't notice" is another way to say that you're so preoccupied with yourself that you pay no attention to anyone or to what's going on.

People are introduced to you, but you're so busy talking with someone else or thinking of the impression you're making that you catch no names, you barely give a polite smile. Of course, you won't remember that face when you next stumble over it.

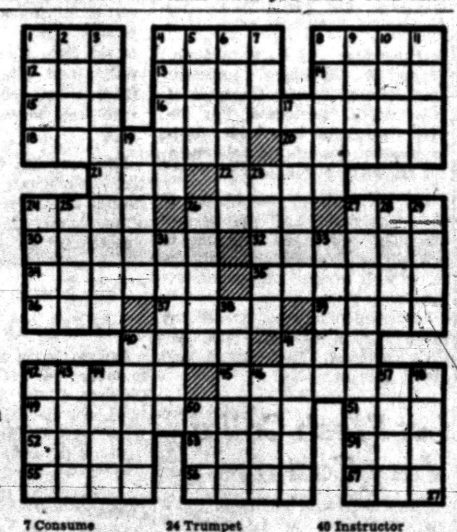

You can be in such a rush to be about don't see what's being held in front of your face. You can become so near-sighted (near to yourself) that you miss all outside details. You'll forget easily enough what you didn't trouble to think about.

When you don't care, and don't pay attention, your life and belongings can be in a constant state of confusion. You'll be continually misplacing things unless you organize yourself and concentrate.

If you want your belongings when you need them, you should know where they are. Keep things in their rightful places. If you must dump your junk, dump it in the same place every time so you can look there first. If you scatter and strew, you put too much strain on your memory.

And write yourself notes if you can't remember dates, birthdays, appointments, and times of meeting. Carry a little engagement book in your pocket for everyday duty.

And keep a bigger date book-calendar on your desk at home to which you can transfer your notes. My own calendar shows me the whole month at one crack. I've no excuse for forgetting to remember the notes I write to myself.

Don't Want to Arouse Adult Abuse

Reluctance to Face Situation Disguised as 'Keeping Peace'

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Still bothering a reader is the case of the violent 4-year-old boy recently discussed in this column. He injured his sister, you may recall; got spanked and then went calling on a neighbor who slammed her door in his face.

A Mrs. E. sympathizes with the neighbor. "I am tired of other people's untrained children," she writes. "I have known many of these neighborhood hoodlums who menace decent children, and I see no reason why I should welcome one into my home."

We don't wish to entertain violence, no matter what age it is. That's an understandable position—but why the slamming of the door in its face? Why the violence in response to violence?

If we fear danger to Patsy from the small hoodlum next door, why don't we say so to his parents? Why don't we say to them, "Until Billy's temper comes under control, we feel that he and Patsy better stop playing together"?

Perhaps we don't say this because it is usually hard to say.

For the parents of uncontrolled Billy are apt to be uncontrolled themselves. Like him, they may be so uncertain of themselves that they react with belligerence to any suggestion that their behavior is imperfect.

They may be so frightened by the disapproval implicit in our wish to keep Patsy from playing with Billy that they may make a more unpleasant scene.

Because they may not be able to take the idea that they may be at fault, they will place the blame for Billy's violence upon us. And we may find ourselves the target of abuse about everything from our church attendance to the way we comb Patsy's hair.

We usually sense such unpleasant emotional possibilities in these people without quite knowing that we do. And because we do not like to know that we are afraid of their irrational attack, we like to think of our fear as our desire to maintain neighborly peace.

It's our resistance to knowledge of this fear that slams the door in Billy's face. For his behavior has impressively dramatized his parents' deficiencies to us.

Standing on our doorstep, he is the living embodiment of his parents, and since we don't dare show our rage at them lest they hurt our own sensitive feelings, we take it out on the child.

We slam the door on what we do not want to know about ourselves. A victim ourselves of Billy's parents, we are violent and rude to our fellow-victim.

More About the Face

No doubt through the years, you have considered or tried many programs of skin care. Most of these programs have their good points. For the busy woman, the simplest treatment is the best.

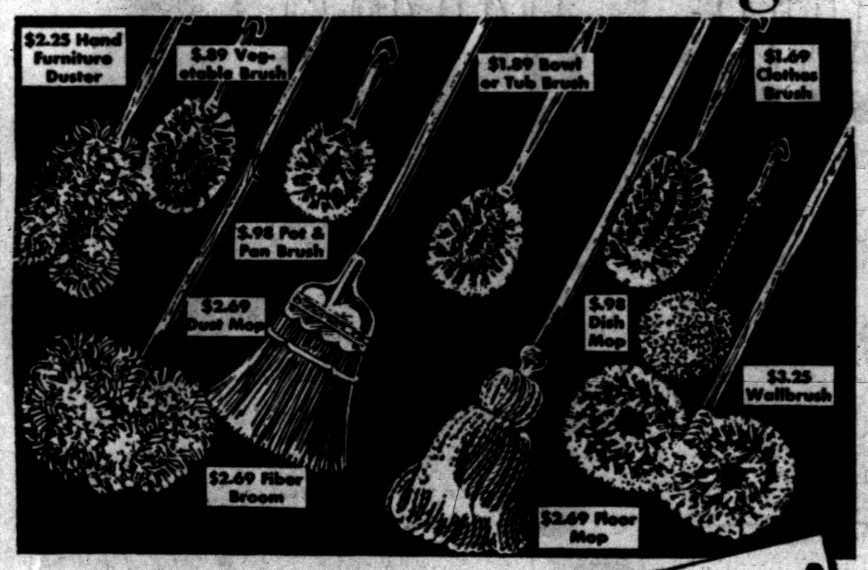

Let us dispel some of the mystery surrounding the skin. The skin is not an organ of assimilation. On the contrary, it is an organ of elimination only. It also serves as a protective covering for the body. If the skin absorbed or assimilated what was rubbed on, it would no longer protect the body and many foreign substances would enter the tissues. So let us always remember that all any beauty product can do for the skin is cleanse and lubricate.

Any product that will do either of these two things is satisfactory as long as it doesn't irritate. The only objection to the less expensive cosmetics is that some contain wax. This is not harmful, but neither will it do very much good. Choose cosmetics of a soft creamy texture, these are seldom apt to contain wax.

All Talking Monopolized by Relative

Wife Says Hubby's Brother Is Driving Friends Away

By EMILY POST

A very unhappy situation is described in the following letter: "My husband's brother, who is living with us at the present time, causes me a great deal of embarrassment by monopolizing the conversation whenever we have guests. Not only that, but the subjects he chooses to talk about are of absolutely no interest to anyone.

"He will interrupt a conversation between others without the slightest hesitation, and the fact that this is resented is quite obvious. As a matter of fact, our friends are beginning to turn down invitations to come to our house and I am sure it is because of him.

"I'm writing to you in the hope that you can help me with this problem."

Answer: I think a frank talk between your husband and his brother is the only solution. It is not a very pleasant task, I know, but I see no help for it.

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother, who lived in another country, has just died. I am married and living here in the United States, and none of the people I see now knew my mother. Under such circumstances, what should I do about wearing mourning?

Answer: If it will give you comfort to wear black, do so by all means. On the other hand, if it will distress you to reply repeatedly to the tactless who ask for whom you are in mourning, it will be best to continue wearing the clothes you now do.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to take lump sugar (I mean in a private house where each piece is not wrapped the way it usually is in a restaurant) with the fingers, or if there are no sugar tongs, must one use a spoon or whatever other clean implement is handy?

Answer: When helping yourself to sugar, you use your fingers, of course, but when you are putting sugar into a cup for someone else, you should use a teaspoon when there are no tongs.

Double Headboards Give Custom-Made Look to Bed

A bed's in fashion with a bookcase headboard, and this goes double for this new idea.

Twin bookcase headboards attach, one to each end, of a single bed to give it a special style of its own, a style that has a custom-made look although it requires ready-made pieces.

Extra storage is provided in little space and the bed has a bed-sofa effect to help turn the room into a bed-sitting room. For a family with young sons or daughters, the two headboards might be chosen with an eye to the future.

Bought together, the headboards match and can be used like this for awhile. Later, when the younger child is old enough to share a room with the older, one headboard can be detached to use on a second bed.

The headboards sketched are mahogany in a very light finish called Starlight.

Potato Dish Good One for Potlucks

Mrs. Johnson Uses Her Food Chopper Preparing Tuber

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

An interesting variation on scalloped potatoes is today's recipe. Mrs. Willard Johnson says that Potatoes in Cream is a favorite dish to take to potluck suppers.

Now that her children are all in school, Mrs. Johnson is able to devote more time to her outside job of selling real estate. She enjoys sewing for the children.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Johnson like to dance and to play bridge.

POTATOES IN CREAM
By Mrs. Willard Johnson

6 or 8 potatoes
1 tablespoon chopped onion
Butter or margarine
Salt and pepper
Top milk or light cream

Pare potatoes and put through the coarse blade of the food chopper. Add the chopped onion and arrange in a shallow casserole. Dot generously with butter.

Season with salt and freshly ground pepper. Barely cover with top milk or cream. Bake in a very slow oven—275 degrees—for at least 2 hours.

Princess Started It

LONDON (INS)—Princess Margaret has started a new craze among British women—extra-long cigarette holders. Jewelers and cigarette stores report that sales of cigarette holders have rocketed since Princess Margaret was photographed with her new holder.

Women are coming to consider leg grooming as essential as hand care. For comfort and beauty's sake, the dry-skinned woman should apply softening preparation nightly. The girl here is using a new lotion made especially for this purpose.

Geologists are scouring the country for a new strategic metal. It is hard, lustrous, steel-gray niobium, vital for production of high-temperature-resistant alloys for jet engines. It probably occurs over most of the world, but is a rare mineral everywhere.

Enjoy rain-water softness for all your washing ... use
NEW ARMOUR suds WITH TRI-POLLY
... THE BUILT-IN WATER SOFTENER!
You need it ... You'll love it ... here's WHY!

Most of the water in this area is hard water, containing minerals such as calcium and magnesium. When ordinary washday soaps are used in it they combine with the hard water minerals to form a "soap scum." This scum gets trapped in the fibers of your clothes and makes them look dull and gray.

New Armour Suds with Tri-Polly leaves your water soft as mineral-free rain-water, because it neutralizes the minerals, locks them up so they can't form clothes-graying soap scum. This, plus Armour Suds' brightening agent, is the reason your clothes wash brighter than new, and in half the usual time.

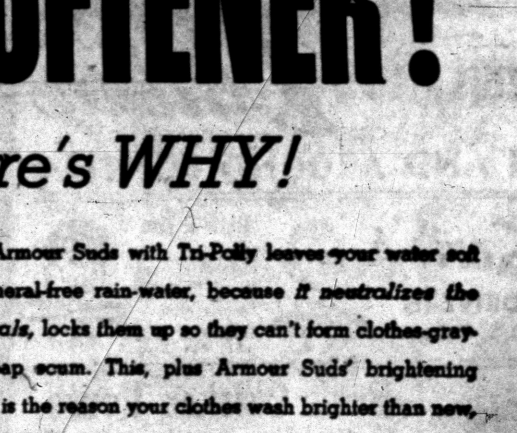

Cuts Your Washing Time in Two!
Set your washing machine at 8 minutes instead of 15. Armour Suds with Tri-Polly cleans in half the time, with half the washing wear.

Gets Clothes Brighter than New!
Armour Suds with Tri-Polly removes soil completely ... then its brightening agent gives a brighter than new sparkle to clothes.

Faster Dishwashing For You!
Armour Suds' high wetting power penetrates and floats the food away without scrubbing. Dishes drain sparkling dry. And soft water is so kind to hands!

ARMOUR'S PLEDGE TO YOU!
If you don't find your clothes and dishes wash faster, cleaner, with new Armour Suds, we'll quickly return your money.

Asphyxiation Kills Sailor, 2 Children

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A 32-year-old Navy chief petty officer and two of his children were found dead of asphyxiation last night when his wife returned home from a trip East, where she attended a funeral.

The dead: Howard F. Dow, Navy chief dental technician stationed at the San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot; his son Arthur, 3, and daughter Patricia, 4.

Police Sgt. M. T. Charles said all the windows had been tightly sealed in the oven-hot home and two gas heaters were burning.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

It's the Facts: Britishers Go for 'Dragonet'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You may never have suspected, but Stan Freberg's lampooning record, "St. George and the Dragonet," is a hit in England.

This was one of the bits of information I gleaned from Robert Weiss, a former Hollywood press agent who is now Capitol Records' ambassador of good will and good business in Europe. Here to report to the home base, he told me that American music is extremely popular in free Europe and even gets a play behind the Iron Curtain.

* * *

"Of course, the English have never seen or heard Dragnet on TV," said Weiss, "so we weren't sure whether 'St. George and the Dragonet' would be well received. But it has been a big success. It's partly because St. George is a national hero over there.

"What's more, Ray Anthony's straight version of the Dragnet theme has been a big hit in Sweden. They like its style."

Weiss, who tours Europe from his base in Paris, gave me a country-by-country rundown on national tastes in music:

* * *

Sweden—They like American favorites such as Stan Kenton, Les Paul-Mary Ford, King Cole and Ray Anthony. They also go for "cool jazz" like Jerry Mulligan's.

Norway—In a cooler country, they are slightly more reserved in their music tastes.

Denmark — They prefer gay, carefree, melodic music of such performers as King Cole, Les Paul-Mary Ford, Giselle McKenzie.

West Germany—Having listened to the American armed forces radio network, they have developed a taste for hillbilly and Western music, which they find similar to their Bavarian style. Tex Ritter and Hank Thompson are favorites. The Germans are the top jazz fans of Europe and like rhythmic, bright melodies played at fast tempos. Exception: "Vaya Con Dios," a big hit.

Holland and Belgium — Their tastes are almost exactly the same as in America. Special favorite: Kay Starr.

England — They buy more records by American performers than by English. Al Martino, Dean Martin, June Hutton, Paul-Ford, King Cole, Anthony and Billy May are well received.

* * *

France—There are two strong factions: those who are devout for Dixieland and those who love strong ballads. Stan Kenton was a big success there in a personal appearance.

Italy—Melody is strong here, not jazz. Frank Sinatra, Cole and Paul-Ford are big favorites. Also liked: tangos, samba, mambas.

Reuther Blasts Ike's T-H Plan

Says Strike Vote Idea Shows Administration's 'Anti-Labor Prejudice'

WASHINGTON (AP) — CIO President Walter Reuther said today President Eisenhower's recommendation for government-sponsored strike votes reflects "a deep-seated anti-labor prejudice."

Reuther bitingly criticized most of Eisenhower's 14-point program for revising the Taft-Hartley labor relations law, stating on testimony prepared for a Senate Labor Committee hearing that its net effect would be to make the law "even worse than it is."

"This is not a middle-of-the road approach to labor-management relations," he said. "It is essentially the approach of the National Assn. of Manufacturers, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and of the anti-union employers whom they represent."

Only yesterday, William B. Barton, the Chamber's general counsel, told the committee his organization has serious doubts about half the administration program.

However, the Chamber did offer qualified support for the strike-vote idea which Reuther attacked today.

Under this proposal, the government would hold a secret poll to find out if workers want to strike against their employers in labor disputes. Secretary of Labor Mitchell said yesterday the administration feels such a vote should precede an actual walkout.

Reuther said this recommendation is based on a "misconception that unions act contrary to the will of their members."

* * *

All CIO unions, he told the committee, now provide for "democratic determination of strike action."

He said the proposal is bound to "hamper rather than encourage" collective bargaining. He also said it would extend "government interference" in labor-management affairs.

He accused Eisenhower of failing to fulfill a campaign promise to recommend elimination of a part of the T-H allowing collective bargaining elections during a strike.

* * *

In his labor message to Congress Jan. 11, Eisenhower said this could be used to "destroy" a striking union. He proposed that struck employers be barred from obtaining such a government election for a year. He also suggested that a rival union should not be permitted to challenge a struck union's status as bargaining agent for four months. A bill to carry out this recommendation has been introduced by Committee Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ).

Potato Deserves Much Respect for Potash, Iron

CINCINNATI (AP)—The potato deserves more respect than just that of a fat producer, A. E. Mercker, a research specialist, says.

"It actually contains a great number of nutrients," says Mercker, who is connected with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"It has potash, iron, and the very desirable amino-acids," he told the Potato Chip Institute at its annual convention yesterday. "We also must remember that it used to be an old remedy for scurvy."

There has been a general let-down in potato eating, although the potato chip and frozen varieties have increased considerably, Mercker said.

Streetcars Collide, Seven Hospitalized

BALTIMORE (AP)—Seven persons were hospitalized and downtown traffic was tied in knots yesterday when two streetcars collided just outside City Hall during the afternoon rush hour.

Anthony Kramer, 32-year-old motorman who suffered chest injuries when the second car went through an open switch and struck his, was among the most seriously injured.

On the side of the car which went through the switch was a Baltimore Transit Co. promotion sign:

"Forget Traffic! Take a Trolley."

Case Set for Feb. 4 on Dog Vaccination

A show cause hearing why County Treasurer Charles Sparks shouldn't sell a Waterford Township man a dog license, even though he refuses to give his dog rabies vaccination, has been postponed in Oakland County Circuit Court from Thursday to Feb. 4.

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick will preside at the hearing to decide whether or not Rex Abney of 3125 Mann Rd. gets a license for his dog.

Abney said he tried to get the license last December and when he was turned down for refusing to have his dog vaccinated he decided to take the case to court for a ruling.

The Lady Melts, Confusing Police

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Patrolman Samuel Baty Jr. was sure there had been foul play when he found a woman's dress, hat and handbag on a beach.

Fellow police hurried to the spot and as they searched for the victim they were informed the clothes had adorned a snow woman which disappeared under the sun.

Winston Churchill was born in Blenheim Palace, seat of the Duke of Marlborough, in Oxfordshire, Englan, on Nov. 30, 1874.

Attempts Rope Suicide but Leaves It Too Long

BALTIMORE (AP) — A man was rescued from Loch Raven reservoir yesterday after what police described as a suicide attempt.

Officers said George A. Saportas placed one end of a rope around his neck, attached the other end to the bridge and jumped.

The rope was so long, police said, it failed to check his plunge before he entered the icy water. A passer-by pulled him out.

The forelegs and hindlegs of the giraffe are all the same length.

Talbott Clarifies Stand on Bases

Says That U. S. Use of Spanish Facilities Will Depend on Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott hurriedly revised yesterday a statement of U.S. intention to use bases in Spain during time of war to say it will be in line with agreements between the two nations.

"Who is going to stop us?" Talbott quickly asked when a reporter said reports are current that the agreement under which this country is starting to build several large airdromes in Spain does not provide for American use of the bases in wartime.

* * *

At another point he said: "There are certain agreements on the use of bases but when the balloon goes up we are going to use them."

He made the remarks at a news conference also attended by Secretary of Defense Wilson and other air officials.

Shortly after the conference ended, Talbott's office sent to the Pentagon press room a typed statement in which the secretary said he wished to clarify his remark. He added:

* * *

"The U.S. Air Force has every intention of living up to the agreements between the United States and those foreign countries that have granted air base rights to our country. We realize that such base rights are an undertaking in the mutual defense and we enter such undertakings with every spirit of cooperation."

The agreement with Spain, setting up an exchange of economic and military aid for use of the bases, does not spell out precisely how the bases would be used. It authorizes their development and use "subject to terms and conditions" decided upon by the two nations.

Talbott's clarifying statement obviously was intended to counter the likelihood that his first remark might annoy the Spanish government, which like other nations is sensitive about sovereignty.

Mount Rainier has more glaciers than any other peak in the United States.

'Jacks Snatch Victory in Last Minute

Weinberg's 'Stolen' Goal Caps Wild Fourth Period

By H. GUY MOATS

With less than a minute to go in Tuesday night's Pontiac-Arthur Hill basketball game in Pontiac High gymnasium, Dick Weinberg snatched the ball from Chiefs' Walt Poe and raced half the length of the floor to dunk a layup. That shot wiped out a single point edge held by Pontiac, and gave the 'Jacks from Saginaw a 44-43 victory.

Weinberg's dash and goal closed out a highly exciting final period resurgence on the part of Coach Chuck Fowler's Hillites.

From the start of the 2nd half Chiefs had held a 9 to 10-point margin, right to the beginning of the 4th session when the count stood 39-20.

Then a full court press was instituted by the Lumberjacks. In the ensuing scramble, Arthur Hill piled up 6 points before Chiefs got a marker.

Gary Lee was the ring-leader with 3 straight gift tosses. He later added a one-hander for an additional two points. Baskets by Johnny James and Dick Ayling momentarily boosted Pontiac's lead.

Don Schanhals scored two fast buckets on drive-ins to leave the score 43-42 for Pontiac.

With both crews in a wild battle for possession, and the time fast running out, Weinberg came up with his successful "larceny."

For most of the final 40 seconds, Lumberjacks stalled, and staged a briefly hilarious celebration as the game ended.

In the earlier stages it looked pretty good for Coach Art Van Ryzin's club. After an opening period 14-11 effort, Chiefs came back to duplicate their count while holding the 'Jacks to 9 points.

Ayling and James contributed the bulk of the scoring that period.

Chiefs outscored Hillites 11-10 in the third frame. Last point of the period was a stolen ball, floor-long dash and a layup by Ayling just as the horn sounded.

Ayling set the game's scoring pace with 18 points. The fine effort boosted his 8-game total for the season to 111 points. His Saginaw Valley Conference final total was 70. Dick concluded his prep career Tuesday, along with big Leroy Moore and Bill Rose.

Leroy had a bad night, from a scoring standpoint. He failed to mark a single point for himself. Rose was in briefly during the final period.

Much of Pontiac difficulties in the costly finale was due to a terrific defensive letdown. 'Jacks took full advantage of the situation, continuing their full press to keep Chiefs off balance. A slowed-up tempo for Pontiac might have broken the rally, but the opportunity to apply it didn't materialize.

League leader Flint Northern comes here on Friday night, Vikings are favored to take this 2nd meeting between the clubs this season. They won the Valley opener 57-45, and still have the big rangy and capable crew that started the current campaign.

Loss of Ayling, particularly, will hurt Chiefs. Dick was the top point maker, plus his capable defensive play. He was a good team man. Moore's work around the boards was outstanding most all season. Van Ryzin has no replacements for these boys that at present measure up to anywhere near their caliber. However, Marv Caswell, Bob Johnson and Dick Blacklaw all have possibilities and with experience may come through.

Little Chiefs added another Valley victory to their current string with a convincing 49-41 win over Junior 'Jacks in the preliminary. Rod Treace with 13 points, Bob Casteel with 5 baskets, and Walt King with a 9-point total led the way. Hillites' Ernie Dygert had 16 to take game honors.

Wagner, Armour, Jones, Muller, Dempsey, Louis Listed as Having 'Greatest Hands' in Sports World

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—What were the best pair of hands known to sport?

A few old-timers, gathered at a nearby tavern, brought this matter up for discussion. The discussion took quite a while. At the finish, this is what we voted on:

* * *

Baseball—Hans Wagner well in front. After that, Nap LaJoie and Bill Dickey. Wagner had the greatest pair of hands hanging to his arms I've ever seen. They were tremendous. He had the habit of running along with his hands in front of him like scoop shovels. The ball would suddenly disappear.

* * *

Golf—My nominee was Tommy Armour, the eminent Scot. "You're wrong," George Von Elm cut in. "The greatest pair of hands in golf belonged to Bobby Jones."

* * *

I remembered Armour's long lean powerful fingers. Longer than any I had seen before. It was considered quite a test to hold a billiard cue by the thin tapering end with the heavy grip extended. Not many could do it. I have seen Armour carry four billiard cues in this fashion.

"Yes, I know about Armour's great pair of hands. But Bobby Jones not only had big hands but he had fat hands. Armour's hands were lean. Bob used this fat as a cushion, for protection. When you are swinging a club all day through 36 holes, this is a big help.

* * *

What about football? The vote here went to Brick Muller, the old California passer. "He wore an amazing pair of mitts around a football field," a veteran of many grid wars said. "In those days a football was nearly round.

* * *

Bennie Friedman had a fine pair of hands. Arnie Weinmeister and Cal Hubbard also have great pairs of hands which they always used effectively.

Best pairs of hands I've seen in boxing belonged to Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis. The point here doesn't involve size, but indestructibility. Dempsey and Louis were both terrific punchers. Yet they never had injured hands.

Hogan Rated 'Big Man' in Thunderbird's Tournament

By BOB MYERS

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — California's Coachella and Imperial valleys, noted for dates, olives, lettuce, asparagus and a vast, hot dryness, were crawling with something besides desert fauna today.

Golfers.

Here is this resort center of the Coachella valley were 30 or so of the elite of the sport, meaning the guys who were the leading money winners among the professionals in 1953.

They are here to compete in the $15,000 invitational affair staged by wealthy members of the Thunderbird Country Club. Down the road apiece, in the rich farming country town of Brawley in Imperial Valley, more than a hundred of the less influential members of the golfing tribe await the start of the $5,000 Brawley Open tournament.

Both tourneys start tomorrow.

Big man in the Thunderbird invitational is Ben Hogan. It is one of the few events the famed triple-crown winner of 1953 plays. Hogan is the winter professional at the neighboring and equally exclusive Tamarisk Country Club.

Here, too, is Ben's old Texas pal, Jimmy Demaret, who beat him out of the top spot in this same event a year ago with an eagle on the 18th green.

Yanks Lost Close Ones

NEW YORK (AP)—The old baseball adage that the club winning the close games usually wins the pennant didn't hold up in the American League in 1953. The Yankees, who won their 5th straight pennant, played only 500 in games decided by one run. They won 18 of these tight contests and lost 18.

Majors Eye $400 Pension

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The lawyer for our big league ballplayers says if his clients can snare two thirds of the World Series television and radio money after a new contract is negotiated in 1956 that they might look forward to a monthly pension of $300 to $400 at the age of 50.

* * *

The players and their lawyer, J. Norman Lewis, believe that, starting in 1957, television rights to the annual playoff will be worth at least three million dollars—maybe five million—as compared to the measly $975,000 currently being received under a contract signed by the game's previous commissioner, A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

* * *

At present this money is being ladeled into a so-called "central fund." From this, Commissioner Ford Frick administers the player pension setup, which guarantees 10-year men $100 monthly at 50, and runs his office, among other things. Some years he can hardly save a cent. He has just issued a seven-year look at the central fund's books to prove it.

* * *

Even though the players, through their lawyer, now claim that no one said anything to them about this arrangement when it was first put into operation under Chandler, there was never any indication that they didn't like it until just lately. Not, in fact, until they began hearing stories about TV money in job lots of millions.

* * *

It has gotten to the athletes that by 1957 it will be possible to finance their pension fund—under the present payoff—for approximately $500,000 a year, as compared to the $1,332,953 it cost in 1953. This, they explain, is because sufficient money will be paid in by then to take care of the many players who retired shortly after the fund was inaugurated and who, though eligible for its benefits, made but scant payments toward its upkeep. In other words, the terrific initial burden which was borne by the television money will have been eased.

American Pair Out of Aussies' Finale

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Tony Trabert, U. S. champion from Cincinnati who was knocked out of the singles yesterday, was eliminated from the doubles today in the Australian National Tennis Championships.

Tony paired with Vic Seixas, Wimbledon champ from Philadelphia. They were beaten by Australians Clive Wilderspin and Neale Fraser 6-4, 12-10, 10-8 in a semi-final match.

Their defeat set up an all-Australian doubles final. Wilderspin and Fraser will meet Mervyn Rose and Rex Hartwig who whipped veterans John Bromwick and Adrian Quist 7-5, 6-2, 6-3 in the other semi-final.

Spears Record Sturgeon

CHEBOYGAN (UP) — A 157-pound sturgeon billed as the biggest speared in Michigan since 1948 was taken by Chris Beard of Indian River.

Beard speared the 86-inch fish through the ice of Burt Lake Tuesday.

Guglielmi, Heap Ready to Return to Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Backfield stars Ralph Guglielmi and Joe Heap are reported ready to resume classwork at Notre Dame after an absence of about seven weeks.

That would make them eligible for football competition next fall.

The two football heroes were suspended because they returned late to the campus after the football team's final game of the season Dec. 5 against Southern Methodist.

A Notre Dame spokesman said yesterday that they will apply for readmission when second-semester registration begins Monday and that "acceptance is a mere formality."

However, Guglielmi and Heap, both juniors, will lose all credit for the 1st semester.

During the 1953 season the Cincinnati Redlegs played 77 road games and hit 77 home runs in opposition ball parks.

Moore Still Is Favorite Despite Marital Trouble

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A moody, tight-lipped Archie Moore, although heavily beset by marital troubles, is a 2-1 favorite to defend his light heavyweight championship successfully against jabbing Joey Maxim tonight in their 15-round outdoor fight in Miami Stadium.

Archie's wife Alice dealt the champ a legal blow that hurt him worse than anything the light-punching Maxim can throw when she filed a separate maintenance suit yesterday that tied up his purse and will keep him in Florida until a settlement is reached.

The action was particularly painful to Moore, 37, because it promises to be the richest payday of his 17-year career.

If predictions of a $100,000 gate hold up, his share will be in the neighborhood of $52,000. He is to receive 40 per cent and Maxim 20 per cent of the net pot, which will be sweetened by $50,000 in television and radio receipts.

Moore had been quiet and edgy even before his wife brought the legal action, possibly because of difficulty in making the 175-pound weight limit. During a strenuous two-week training program, he wore either heavy woolens or a plastic suit in the ring.

He had no weight trouble before. He scaled 172½ pounds when he lifted the title from Maxim in St. Louis Dec. 17, 1952, and 173¾ when he defended it against Maxim in their return match in Ogden, Utah, last June 24.

Tonight's fight will be broadcast and telecast nationally by CBS starting at 10 p.m., EST.

Scattered showers were forecast, but nothing bad enough to postpone the show. In event of heavy rain, the fight will be postponed a week and the semifinal between middleweights Bobby Dykes, Miami, and Johnny Lombardo, Mt. Carmel, Pa., will be staged in the Coral Gables Coliseum as the TV fight of the night.

Pitches Travel Fast, Cathode-Ray Reveals

BROOKLYN (AP)—One of the most asked baseball questions is: How fast can a ball be pitched from the mound to the plate?

The answer is: Between 85 and 90 miles an hour. This is according to a series of tests conducted last year at Ebbets Field. A cathode-ray oscillograph was used.

Joe Black's fastest pitch was 93.20 miles per hour. Johnny Podres tossed one at 88.50 mph. Bob Milliken's best was 83.50.

Nothing Succeeds Like Success

Munn Now Has Eight Former Assistants Holding Head Football Coaching Posts

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANDING (AP)—The recent frantic reshuffling of coaches at Michigan State College proves again that in football, nothing succeeds like success.

If Michigan State had only an indifferent record the past few years, you'd be seeing the same old familiar faces on the coaching staff.

Fans might even be shouting "off with his head!" in the direction of Biggie Munn.

But because of the MSC winning record, coaches trained in Munn's multiple offense system are worth a couple of PHD professors to any football-minded college.

With Earle Edwards the latest to go, Munn now has eight former assistants in head coaching jobs at major colleges.

Someone has suggested the eight schools could get together with Michigan State and form their own league. It would be a pretty fast league too and one geographically representative of every section of the country.

As head coaches in the league you'd have Leverne (Kip) Taylor, Oregon State; Forrest Evashevski, Iowa; Al Kircher, Washington State; Lowell P. (Red) Dawson, Pittsburgh; Lou Zarza, Wayne; Earle Edwards, North Carolina State; Steve Sebo, University of Pennsylvania, and Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, Michigan State.

Munn is understandably pleased that so many of his assistants have made good.

"They never go down, they always go up," he said. "That's the way a head coach likes to have it. I've always given my assistants a chance to improve themselves."

Daugherty and Munn made a point of assuring all that Sebo and Edwards left with their best wishes. It's sincere, too, because the coaching staff at Michigan State has got along very well in recent years.

Eastern Snaps Braves' Streak to Top JH Loop

Tuesday's 39-22 Loss Ended 25-Win String for Washington 5

Washington Junior High School's sensational winning athletic record was finally stopped Tuesday by cross-town rival Eastern.

Tom Dodson's Indians handed the Braves a sound lacing, 39-22, to take the lead in the Suburban Junior High School basketball league.

Loss ended a 25-game winning streak for Washington stretching back to the next to last game of the 1950-51 schedule. It was the 1st loss in any sport — basketball, football or track — in 2½ years for Em Ghianni's teams.

Bill Mountain was the principal thorn in Washington's side. He tossed in 17 points as Eastern assumed an 18-8 halftime lead and never was headed.

Lincoln defeated Waterford, 34-26, in a foul-filled game at Waterford. A total of 46 personals were called. Lincoln built up a 34-12 lead in three quarters, then subs played out the game and failed to score.

Waterford registered only three field goals, but scored 20 free throws. Bill Kennedy and Jim Maggard each had nine points for Lincoln.

Team 1 Leads Waterford Recreation Archery Loop

Top team in the Waterford Township Recreation Archery league, Team No. 1, shoots against Team No. 10 in the feature match on tonight's schedule at Community Activities Building in Waterford.

John Willis, Frank Kopesky, Harold Wheatley and J. R. Gannon lead the league with five points. They shoot at 8:15 p. m. as do Teams 11 and 9 and Teams 12 and 8. Shooting at 9:15 are 2—7, 3—6, and 4—5.

Women Bowlers Sought

Three women bowlers are sought to fill the ranks of teams in one of the city's many feminine leagues. Mrs. D. Reed, 86½ North Saginaw, secretary, says "our league bowls on Thursday afternoon at 1 p.m. Several or our members are vacationing in Florida and that leaves us shorthanded. We would like to get three bowlers. They need not be good bowlers. We will take beginners and teach them. Those interested should call me at FE 6-0611 or call the alleys FE 5-6032."

Dodgers Strangers to Alston, but Not Rookies

By WALTER ALSTON

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—From the start, may I say that I am not in a good position to say much about the Brooklyn Dodgers for the simple reason that I am new to the major leagues.

About the only Dodger department I can discuss is the rookie department. As manager of Montreal and St. Paul I have had the opportunity to watch most of these boys develop.

We have several fine young pitchers coming up from Montreal in Hamp Coleman, Tom Lasorda, Ken Lehman, Ed Roebuck and Glenn Mickens.

Coleman and Lasorda showed considerable improvement toward the end of the season and throughout the playoff and Junior World Series. Coleman probably improved the most.

He gets good velocity on his fast ball, his curve is sharp and he has improved considerably in controlling his pitches. Lasorda seems to have overcome his wildness. His courage and desire to win overcome his small stature.

Don Hoak, a third basemen, and Charley Thompson, a catcher, were with me in Montreal and both did fine jobs. Some say Hoak is a better defensive third baseman than Billy Cox.

Others say that's hard to believe. I'll say this. If he fields in the majors as well as Cox, Brooklyn will have the two best third basemen in the National League.

Return of Don Newcombe from the Army should be a help to the pitching staff if he can return to his pre-service form. Pitching figures to be better than last year if only because we will have Newcombe back.

I know that Carl Erskine is a fine pitcher. Others on the staff will be new to me except those I had in the past at Montreal or St. Paul.

Just which rookies have the best chance to help the Dodgers I do not know. All the pitchers from the Montreal club are of equal ability. Their success will depend largely on control and how well they can pitch against major league hitters.

Devils Add 17th Victory to List

Crush Tri-State Team From Indiana, 89-54, to Stay Unbeaten

DETROIT (AP) — Lawrence Tech's Blue Devils tucked away their 17th straight basketball win last night with an 89-54 victory over Tri-State College of Indiana.

But the Blue Devils have nine more games to go, and it will take a lot of fast-breaking, nerveless basketball to keep the record clean. As of now Lawrence is one of about a half dozen undefeated squads in the country, the only one in Michigan.

In last night's win Blue Devils pounded out a 23-10 1st period, widened margin to 47-17 at the half, then let in the reserves. But Tri-State still couldn't hit and lagged 62-30 at the end of the 3rd period.

Blue Devils' Oscar Griffith was high scorer with 23 points, while Tri-State's Paul Farnschlader followed with 21.

Lawrence meets Findlay College at Findlay, Ohio, Friday. Then in rapid succession it plays Baldwin Wallace, Findlay again, St. Francis of Pa. which it has already beaten once this season, Assumption, Siena of Albany, N. Y., and Iona of New Rochelle, N. Y.

Most of the upcoming games are on the road.

210 in Doherty Test

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Nation's leading amateur women golfers began qualifying play today in the 22nd annual Helen Lee Doherty golf tournament with 210 competing.

Defending champion Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., who also holds the national championship, led the record field.

Mario Picone, pitching hopeful for the Giants, works as a stevedore during the off-season.

$100,000, Four Players Figure in Cards' Deal

St. Louis Gets Alston, 1st Negro, From PCL; Rated Highly

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis Cardinals, who explained the absence of Negro players on their roster by saying they were waiting for a good prospect, apparently have found their man in a big, strapping first baseman named Tom Alston.

To make Alston the first Negro on their roster the National League Cards shelled out more than $100,000 and four players to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League last night.

The deal took five weeks of negotiation before the Redbirds and Padres agreed on the cash settlement and the players San Diego would receive for the 23-year-old, 6-foot-5 Alston. Padres get pitcher Eddie Erautt from the Cardinals, two unnamed players who will be optioned in time for the coming season, and first baseman-outfielder Dick Sisler from the Columbus, Ohio, Redbirds.

Alston, a 210-pound left handed batter who throws right handed, isn't the first Negro to enter the Cards' organization, however. They have 13 other Negroes on minor league rosters, all signed since last May after brewer August A. Busch purchased the club.

Alston's signature was on a 1954 contract shortly after the deal was announced in Los Angeles. Busch and other club officials who went West complete the deal witnessed the signing.

Busch said he was delighted and added "We think we've got one of the great potential stars of baseball. I have met Alston and I am sure he will be a credit to the Cardinals."

In light of that appraisal and the 100-grand outlay, Alston's contract probably calls for something more than the $6,000 minimum. Terms of the contract were not disclosed, however.

Alston, who will be 24 this month, batted .297 for San Diego last season while smacking 23 home runs, 25 doubles and driving in 101 runs.

At Los Angeles, San Diego manager Lefty O'Doul called Alston "the best fielding first baseman in baseball."

Got the Bird!

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — George Thrane went pheasant hunting without a dog and shot a beautiful bird.

It fell in the Mokelumne River and began floating away.

Braving the chill waters, Thrane swam out and brought the bird back.

Then he discovered his shot had carried the bird's meat away. All he retrieved was a bunch of feathers.

Swiss, German Bobsledders Break One-Day Old Record

CORINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—Swiss and German bobsledders cracked Cortaina's one-day old course record today in break neck trial runs for world's four-man championship, marred by three Italian accidents.

One of the Italian sleds piled up just after finishing the icy mile a minute run injuring all four riders, one of them seriously.

The sled failed to recover after the final tricky curve of mile long slide. It stayed on only one runner for nearly 100 yards before piling into a snow bank. The hard ice ripped off sledders' helmets and seriously dashed Giovanni Piazza.

Veteran Swiss driver Fritz Freierabend and German driver Hans Rosch both smashed the unofficial record set yesterday by world champion Lloyd Johson Rapids City, S. D., before the accident occurred.

Freierabend turned in a blistering time of 1 minutes 21.04 seconds on the 2nd of two runs. Rosch was a camera click behind in 1.21.14.

In opening day trials Johnson zoomed down the 16 turn sheer iceslide in 1:21.80. Official course record is 1:24.34.

Best Johnson and his all-soldier crew could do today was 1:22.37.

Stone Bags 36 Points in Rochester Rout

Ravens Retain Unbeaten Mark Against Freds

Bens Pressed, but Win 10th Straight; Eaglets Swamp St. Rita

St. Benedict stretched its unbeaten streak to 10 games and kept its league-leading edge over OL St. Mary Tuesday night by handing St. Frederick's a 54-36 setback in a Suburban Catholic League game on the Fred's court.

Chuck Talbot's Rams didn't go down without a struggle however. Bens held only a 2-point lead at the half, then St. Freds took a 26-25 lead mid-way through the 3rd quarter.

Benedict's speed began to tell and with rangy center Mike Carroll leading the way, the Ravens held a 35-27 advantage at the three-quarter mark and never trailed thereafter.

Carroll had 21 points, while Roger Nosek paced the Rams with 14.

OL remained one step behind St. Benedict by routing St. Rita, 61-22. Eleven Eaglets saw action and each scored at least two points. Gene Stasiolowicz and Bob Gasiorowski were high with nine apiece.

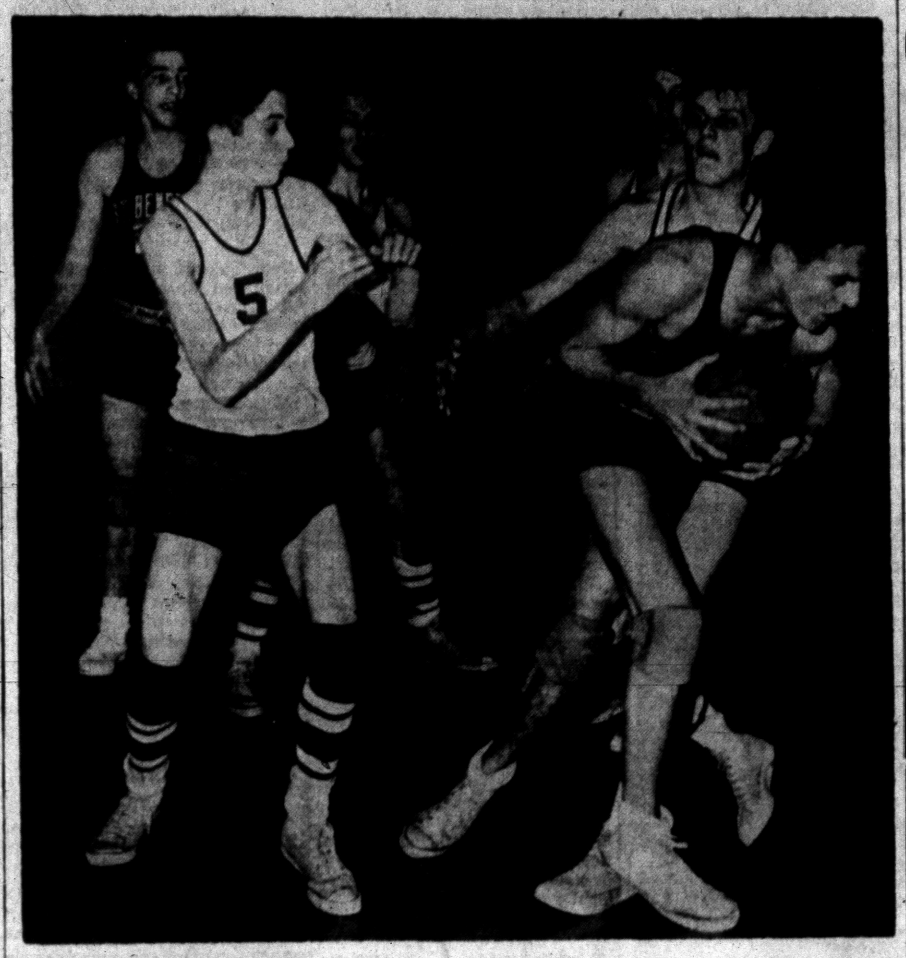

RO St. Mary upset St. James in the best game of the night, 44-41, in double overtime. Joe Mullen's two free throws tied the game at 37-37 to send it into the 1st extra period.

Mullen had one basket and two free tosses in the 1st overtime, but Larry Blovits matched the points with two baskets. Then in sudden death, John Wagner followed a free throw with a driving layup to win the game.

Mullen of St. James had 18 points, while Joe Hearns was high for the Irish with 13.

Clarkston Trips Milford; Keego Five Is Beaten

Schebor Sparks Upset of 'Skins; Oxford, Orion Quints Win

By JACK SAYLOR

There seems to be no stopping Rochester's Arlan Stone.

The big center was hotter than ever Tuesday night breaking his own school scoring record as the Falcons handed a 66-36 drubbing to Marine City, a team they had beaten earlier in the year by only one point.

Stone connected on jump shots and hooks regularly for 15 baskets and added six free throws for 36 points. It surpassed the 32 he hung up a week ago. Victory was the 8th in nine starts for Gene Konley's crew.

Clarkston threw the Wayne-Oakland League race into a turmoil by pinning a 66-60 upset on Milford, while Northville was handling Keego Harbor with surprising ease, 74-49.

Clarkston solved Milford's zone defense with some sharp shooting by Ron Schebor.

Schebor clicked for 21 points, but got valuable help from guards Lanny Leak and Bill Dunstan. They tallied 15 and 18, respectively. Jim Davidson had 18 for Milford.

Loss dropped Milford into a 1st place tie with Northville. Keego couldn't match the hot shooting of the Mustangs, led by Glen Howarth and Ed Nash. Howarth had 24 points and Nash added 18. Bob Hobson's 16 led Keego.

In a 3rd W-O contest, Holly downed Clarenceville, 46-35, with Bud Lamberton and Earl Garner each collecting 12 points. Brighton, Clarkston and Keego each have 3-3 records now.

Oxford reached .500 level for the season by beating Almont, 57-48. Dwight Spiker led the way with 17 points. Mike Benedict and Jim Van Wagoner had 11 and 10. Lake Orion also won a non-league game, whipping Avondale, 56-26.

Jay McCaughna had 13 for Orion, while Jim Uhan was high for Avon with 11.

Walled Lake suffered its 4th straight loss, bowing to Redford Union, 44-42. Don Eilliam had 13 points for the Vikings.

In a battle of the unbeaten, Warren downed Lake Shore, 45-31, for its 8th straight win and undisputed possession of 1st place in the Bi-County League.

Post-Grad Rule May Cost Kentucky National Crown

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky was ready today to bow to the rule that could wreck its national basketball championship dreams.

The rule, which outlaws graduate students in the NCAA playoffs, is expected to rob the nation's No. 1 team of its sterling one-two-three scoring punch of Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey and Lou Tsioropoulos.

Tsioropoulos has completed his bachelor's degree work, Hagan, an All-America center, and Ramsey expect to receive theirs before the NCAA eliminations.

Dr. H. L. Donovan, university president, said last night the school will abide by the rule and "any other rule."

So Kentucky, coming back strong after a year on the sidelines for overemphasizing basketball, apparently has had the door to its comeback goal — a national championship — slammed in its face.

Dr. Donovan and others at Kentucky admit the school was tripped up by a rule in its own Southeastern Conferene which permits graduate students to participate in varsity sports.

In the SEC, the Atlantic Coast and the Southern Conference, a varsity athlete can play four years, within five years. All other major conferences have regulations conforming with the NCAA's which prohibit postgraduate students from taking part in varsity athletics.

Women Bowl for Steak Dinners in Omaha Loop

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Giving prizes for top bowling performance is not new. But in the Ladies' Classic League here the method of winning prizes is announced before the games start. Sometimes prizes are awarded for the highest score above a player's average. Another time the two women with the highest and lowest scores are the winners. Each week a different method is used. Winners receive steak dinners.

Legislature Hears Fish, Hunting Bills

LANSING (UP) — Rep. Walter G. Nakkula (R-Gladwin) sponsored a bill in the state legislature today to require Michigan sportsmen who fish in the Great Lakes to purchase a fishing license.

The bill was defeated last year, but Nakkula said its chances of passage this year were "very good."

Rep. Thomas Whinery (R-Grand Rapids) introduced a measure to provide penalties for careless use of bows and arrows, and Rep. John Kruse (R-Manistee) proposed again that all veterans receiving a federal pension be issued free hunting and fishing licenses.

Wever, Crofoot Fives Win Jayvee Contests

In two games played Tuesday afternoon at Wever Junior High School, Crofoot defeated Wever Jayvees 35-13, and Jefferson Junior High Jayvees beat Wever's JV crew, 40-24 in another runaway tilt.

High scorers included Crofoot's Taylor with 12 and Brooks for Jefferson.

Boys Club 5's Split 2 Games

Mighty Mites Remain in League Lead, but Wonders Lose

Boys Club Mighty Mites continued to set the pace in the Boys' Club Michigan-Ohio Basketball Conference by defeating the Philadelphia Branch Boys' Club of Detroit 33-9, Tuesday.

Chuck McIlreth, Dave McClintock and Gary Christenson share scoring honors with seven points each.

Boys' Club Wonders dropped their 2nd game in the row to the Philadelphia Boys' Club of Detroit intermediate team, 40-36.

Although they led throughout the first three periods they found themselves in the short end in the last period, as a result of their failure to capitalize on free throws.

"Bucky" Pointer contributed 12 points in a losing cause for Pontiac.

Mighty Mites travel to Detroit next week to face the Bloomer Branch Boys' Club of Detroit in a game that will feature two-undefeated teams.

Bloomer boasts the league's highest scorer in Larry Bonsall who is 6 feet 8 inches tall.

Split T Specialist Gets Marquette Job

MILWAUKEE (UP) — F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacca, a split-T specialist recognized as one of the outstanding high school coaches in the country, was named head football coach at Marquette university Tuesday night.

Ferzacca, 46, signed a three-year contract at $10,000 a year. He was expected to assume his duties immediately.

Ferzacca, former head coach at West High School at Green Bay, Wis., succeeds Lisle Blackbourn, who resigned to take the helm of the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Day Opener for Cards; Play Mostly at Night

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Cardinals will open their 1954 National League home season in a daylight game for the 1st time since 1949. The Cards meet the Cubs on April 13 at Busch Stadium.

This doesn't mean a change in policy for the St. Louis club which plays most of its home contests under the arcs. A heavy program of 53 night games is scheduled. Only 24 day affairs are listed, half of them on Sundays.

TIME OUT!

"No offense, Miss, but my wife and friends back in Peoria will be watching this fight!"

Jack Britton and Ted (Kid) Lewis fought each other 20 times from March, 1915 to Feb., 1921. Lewis won three, Britton won four, two were draws and 11 were "no decision" bouts.

Cubs Certain to Be in Red Ink for '53

CHICAGO (UP)—Chicago Cubs stockholders will meet today to hear the dismal report of the financial results of the 1953 season, and publicitor Cliff Jaffe said the figures would be made public for the first time.

"The figures are in red ink," he said.

Jaffe said that he was informed of the results earlier but was instructed not to announce them prior to the meeting.

Cubs a year ago had a loss in the hundreds of thousands of dollars and attendance slumped this past season to indicate an even higher deficit.

Henry III, Bout Off

CHICAGO (AP)—An "upper respiratory infection" suffered by Clarence Henry of Philadelphia forced cancellation of a scheduled 10-round heavyweight bout last night between Henry and Johnny Holman of Chicago.

Stengel to Help Yank 'Brass' Land Unsigned Stars

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel, a wizard on the diamond, joins the high brass of the New York Yankees at the conference table today as the world champions step up their efforts to sign their players.

Stengel is coming to town officially to attend the New York Baseball Writers' Dinner Sunday night. But he has been known to take a welcome hand in adjusting salary differences with his star performers.

So far the Yanks have signed only catcher Yogi Berra from their 1953 regulars. They inherited a running contract when they got Eddie Robinson from the Philadelphia Athletics and have agreed to terms with pitcher Harry Byrd, the other big name in the wholesale swap with Philadelphia.

* * *

Tom Gorman, a relief man last season, and two outfield prospects, Art Schult and Emil Tellinger, came into the fold yesterday but third baseman Gil McDougald left the Yankee offices unsigned after a conference.

McDougald said he needed time to think over the Yanks' offer and the management hurriedly called the session a "preliminary conference."

* * *

McDougald and pitcher Whitey Ford previously had called their first contract offers unsatisfactory.

The other New York clubs both snagged big names yesterday. The Giants came up with Monte Irvin, their slugging outfielder, and the Dodgers signed Carl Furillo, the National League batting champion. Irwin's salary was reported to be about $25,000 while Furillo got a raise of $5,000 to around $27,500.

Murry Dickson, the veteran right hander of the Philadelphia Phils bought from Pittsburgh, returned his signed contract to his new owners, who were understood to have offered him $20,000.

* * *

The Cincinnati Redlegs found a trio of satisfied pitchers, including Saul Rogovin, who was obtained in a trade from the Chicago White Sox. The others were Art Flowers and lefty Harry Perkowski.

* * *

The Baltimore Orioles gave ageless Satchel Paige his outright release. They figured the colorful pitcher was a shade too old to fit in the Orioles' new youth movement. Conservative estimates figure Paige, who drew $25,000 when the Orioles' were the St. Louis Browns, is at least 49 years old.

* * *

The St. Louis Cardinals bought and signed their first Negro player—first baseman Thomas E. Alston from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League. They paid $100,000 in cash and four players, including pitcher Ed Erautt and first baseman Dick Sisler.

Russian Track Stars May See Action in U. S.

Soviets Would Like to Send Team Here During Winter

NEW YORK (INS) — Russian athletes may compete in the United States this winter for the first time in history.

Amateur Athletic Union revealed today that Soviet Russia has indicated it would like to send a team of 15 indoor track stars to compete against American athletes and that the Soviets have as late as about March 20 to do so.

That is the closing date for entries in the last meet of the indoor season to be held March 27 in Chicago.

AAU secretary-treasurer Dan Ferris said he hoped, however, that the Soviets would decide to come in time to compete in the national AAU championships in New York on Feb. 20. Deadline for entries in that meet is Feb. 8.

Nikolai A. Vladykin, counselor of the Soviet embassy in Washington, met with Ferris in his New York office Dec. 22 to give an official reply to a U. S. inquiry made in September regarding possible Russian entries.

Vladykin reported that Moscow would like to send an aggregation of 15, all expenses paid by Russia, instead of just the three stars sought by the U.S. at this country's expense.

The three are Alxks Anufriev, whose 13:58.5 was the best 5,000 meter mark in the world this past season: Pjeter Denesenko, the best foreign pole vaulter, and Jeorgij Ivaken, 800-meter man clocked at 1:49.6.

GMC Doubles Test Opens This Weekend

Eighth annual General Motors Truck & Coach over-average doubles bowling tournament is slated to get underway Saturday at West Side Recreation.

Tournament is open to all GMC employees and members of their immediate families, who are bowling in sanctioned league. Bowlers must have rolled at least 15 games in league competition. Mean averages will be used if they bowl in more than one league.

Tournament will be completed over two weekends, Jan. 30-31, and Feb. 6-7.

18th in Row for Seattle

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Seattle University which started the season with a loss to Wichita, today was the proud co-owner of the longest winning streak of the country's college basketball teams.

Only undefeated Western Kentucky can match the Chieftains' skein. Last night, they won No. 18, a 55-19 decision over Oklahoma City, the 9th-ranked team in the country. It was the 2nd successive night Seattle whipped OCU, which now shows 11 wins and four losses.

Al Brightman's lads have a good chance of going through the rest of the season without another defeat too.

Of their eight remaining games, four are with Portland, two with Gonzaga and one each with Puget Sound and Pacific Lutheran. They've beaten them all in the course of their streak.

Joe Pehanick, who never played high school basketball, was high man with 30 points. OCU led at the half mainly on the efforts of Arnold Short, who wound up operations with 28 points.

Elsewhere the action was thin. Bevo Francis and his operatives from Rio Grande crushed Morris Harvey, 74-62, but Bevo was held to a paltry 26 points, far below his 48-point-a-game average which is leading the nation's college scorers.

This was Bevo's lowest output of the season, but coach Newt Oliver said he was suffering from intestinal flu.

Wichita, the team that beat Seattle (the Chieftains got even the next day) polished off Tulsa, 65-51.

In two Big Seven games, Missouri defeated Iowa State, 62-57, and Kansas State turned back Oklahoma, 63-53. Neither game was important in the league race.

Stanford defeated San Jose State, 70-60; Fairleigh-Dickinson edged American University, 79-74 for its 9th straight; Sampson Air Force Base throttled Ithaca College 76-59 and Baldwin-Wallace took Kent State 67-56 in other games.

Duquesne, which is fighting Kentucky for the No. 1 ranking in the weekly Associated Press poll, plays Georgetown in the top game on tonight's card.

CAPTAIN, SPONSOR—Winners of top trophies at the recent Pontiac Bowling Proprietor's Association of Pontiac were Stan Gould (left) and Fred J. Blodgett (right). Gould was captain of the Progressive Pattern team, sponsored by Blodgett. Blodgett also sponsors another team, and has backed the two squads for the last 3 years. Gould bowls on three leagues, has an average of 180.

Langlois Manager Hollers Over Decision for Turner

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An old familiar boxing echo resounded last night as Gil Turner whipped Pierre Langlois—"we wuz robbed."

Langlois, speaking in French, English and with gestures, sat in his dressing room decrying the unanimous 5-4-1 verdict of the officials.

"I ween'. I ween," he repeated.

Jean Bretonnel, chubby manager of the monsieur from Port Ademer in Normandy, said the decision was worse than the draw Langlois was given in Syracuse recently against Carmine Basilio. He said the Frenchman would protest to the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission.

The 7,168 fans seemed to agree with Langlois, although ringside experts did not. The fans booed, threw paper into the ring and bounced their chairs on the stone floor. Several fights broke out in the aisles. One woman picked a fight and got slugged for her efforts.

Asociated Press scored the fight 5-3-2 for Turner, and a check of other cards at ringside showed some with five and some with six rounds for Turner.

Langlois, 28-year-old veteran of 80 professional fights and 300 amateur bouts, was a fast starter. In round two, Langlois smashed a right hand to Turner's face, stunning the 23-year-old Philadelphia Negro.

"Only a lesson I learned from Kid Gavilan saved me then," said Turner in his dressing room. "I weaved and bobbed and kept my gloves up to protect myself. That and the bell did the trick."

Amateur Champ Becomes a Pro

Littler Casts Lot With Coast Club; Plans to Be in Las Vegas Test

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—National Amateur golf champion Gene Littler has decided to cast his lot with the professionals and will play for the Thunderbird Country Club the rest of the season in the pro ranks.

Littler, 23, announced his decision last night. He is being released from the Navy Feb. 2 under medical discharge because of recurring attacks of hay fever. He has been in the service more than three years.

Littler intends to enter the $35,000 Las Vegas, Nev., tournament late in April. He will compete in the Masters tournament in Augusta, Ga., earlier in April, but he is ineligible to play for money in PGA tournaments for six months. He will be eligible for Las Vegas' 1st prize of $10,000, since it is not PGA-sponsored.

Munn Gets License With Pasadena Score

EAST LANSING (AP) — It will be easy for football fans to spot the car driven by Michigan State's Biggie Munn this year.

An alumnus stood in line at S. Johns to get Munn a license plate with the tag NL 28-20.

He explained that the 28-20 represented the score of the Michigan State Rose Bowl football game with UCLA, Munn's last game as head coach.

Munn asked what the letters "NL" stood for.

"Never licked," the fan explained.

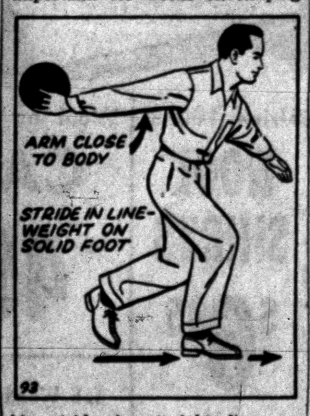

Ted Williams was the only Red Sox player to hit a homer at Washington's Griffith Stadium in 1953.

CASE — Third Step Crouch

With Foot In Line — Great bowlers concentrate on different things. Nelson Burton of St. Louis stresses push-away of the ball for timing. Ed Brosius, Connie Schwoegler and Ned Day start very slowly. With Herbie Lange, former A.B.C. champion, it's the position of his foot in the third step that is all-important. He works on keeping his stride in straight line, as sketch shows. Weight shifts over to solid right foot to keep backswing in groove, close to body. Enables him to finish with slide at identical spot for accurate release of ball. Slightest zag of third step to right invites "pulling" of ball at foul line. Kills follow-through. Forces ball high on head pin. Check the third step position.

Deer Appear to Be Surviving Winter All Right

SNOWBALL WINNERS—Here's the top dogs in last weekend's annual Snowball Derby at OCSC's course. At left is the champ, Star Boss and his owner, Victor Vosel of Detroit, who won the two top awards. Boss was 1st line and 1st tree winner, took down $275 in cash and two trophies. Center is Stormy, with his owner, Mrs. Stuart Planck of Columbus, Ohio, 2nd line winner, and at right is 2nd tree winner, Yellow Bird, and his owner, Hazen Currie of Tilsonburg, Ont. Dogs from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Ontario took part in this annual event. Thirteen competed in the big final race.

North Woods Observer Indicates Coyotes and Bobcats Doing Okeh, Too

By JACK PATTERSON

Ran into Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Harnack, of Lexington drive, just back from some ice fishing near their place at Frederic. They reported limit catches of bluegills on ice-flies and corn borers in Bear Lake, with the early morning hours best producers.

As a matter of fact the writer, along with some others, spent the week end at the headquarters of the Alcona County Birdwatchers and Book Reading Society. Members there were Ed Barrett, Ross Thompson, Bob Nelson, Roy Corwin, Chuck Rogers, Hugh Grove and yours truly. Didn't do any fishing, largely because didn't take tackle along. Did have an opportunity to promote the deer feeding program and note that the animals are sleek and fat and generally seem to be getting through the winter better than we are.

PATTERSON

Got up early one morning and risked a thrombosis, that bane of aging woodsmen, by snow-shoeing up to the north end of the property. Plenty of coyote tracks and the occasional oddly small footprints of bobcats indicated that the predators are having a pretty good winter too.

Did a little half-hearted rabbit hunting when we could get the rest of the organization out of their sleeping bags. Barrett and Nelson each brought in a rabbit they claimed to have shot.

Saturday evening went over to a neighboring camp where we were royally entertained by Rev. and Mrs. George Widdefield, Dr. and Mrs. George Petroff, the Addison Oakleys, Willis Lefurgys, Ralph Norvells and James Nyes.

* * *

Royally entertained up to a point, that is. We dropped numerous broad hints about its being dinner time, but they fell on deaf ears. So we had to troop back down into the swamp and nourish as best we could on rare steaks, mushrooms, fried onions and that sort of thing.

* * *

Nelson baked an apple pie, and it was surprisingly good.

Sunday, while the rest of the boys were fighting over who was going to read a certain novel of stimulating content, albeit of dubious literary value, Nelson and the writer undertook to teach the finer points of gin-rummy to Thompson and Barrett.

When everyone was leaving and we were just locking up the door it suddenly occurred that we had overlooked the purpose of the trip,—shoring up the rafters against a possible heavy snow load. We quickly stuck an old bamboo fish pole under the roof tree and with the quiet satisfaction of a job well done, started on the long drive home.

Only one fly in the ointment. We had particularly picked last week end as the one most likely to get us snowed in for a week or so. No such luck. Didn't even need the chains.

Partridge Takes Trip

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Montana's Fish and Game Department released a tiny chukar partridge for experimental purposes.

Thirteen months later the partridge was found near Kirkland, Wash., about 700 miles away. The little bird which flew an average of about two miles a day was dead from natural causes.

State Spending More on Trout Than Other Fish

Other Work, However, Is Not Neglected State Writers Told

WEST BRANCH (AP)—The conservation department has spent more money proportionately on trout than on warm water fish because the trout situation has been more of an emergency.

This was the statement of Dr. Juston W. Leonard, research administrator of the department, at a weekend meeting of the Michigan Outdoor Writers Assn.

"If one man had pneumonia and the other just a cold," he said, "you'd devote most of your efforts to the man with pneumonia."

He said, however, research and restoration work on bass, bluegill, pike and other warm water fishing had not been neglected. He cited the years of work on lake improvements, the research which led to recent liberalization of warm water fishing regulations and the continuing lake inventory program.

Dr. Leonard admitted that much research is still needed on warm water fishing, and inferred that it should be done soon.

George A. Griffiths of Grayling, chairman of the conservation commission, and Shirley Allen of Ann Arbor, newest members of the commission spoke briefly.

Writers visited the "Lost City of Damon," site of a forgotten but once important lumbering center and fished for trout through the ice on a private pond not governed by state fishing laws.

Guests on Private Pond

Outdoor Writers Get Rare Treat---Fish Through Ice for Trout---Legally, Too

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Associated Press Outdoor Writer

What would you consider the most improbable outdoor activity in Michigan?

If you said fishing through the ice for trout, your answer would coincide with the opinion of a group of outdoor writers who tried it this weekend.

That's right — while squatted by a hole chopped in the ice, about 20 writers hauled out their limit of five brook, brown and rainbow trout on minnows and a regular ice-fishing rod and line almost as fast as they could get the bait in the water.

Before you start yelling for the nearest conservation officer, read on.

It is true that the trout season closes in September and doesn't open again until next April.

The ice trout fishing, however, was perfectly legal. It was done on a private pond near West Branch, owned and stocked by postmaster Fry Diebold. Under his permit to operate the pond, he can allow fishing any time and under any conditions he pleases.

Normally, he operates the pond as a private commercial venture in the summer, but he opened it up to the writers last Saturday and Sunday and permitted them five trout each.

It was great sport to feel a rather gentle strike and then battle up to 14-incher of trout out of a seven-inch hole.

It isn't likely that such fishing will ever be permitted state-wide. Trout are just too scarce for that. But for the first and probably last such experience in a lifetime, the excursion to Diebold's pond was sure worth it.

* * *

A horrible tale of the last hunting season has drifted in from Minnesota.

A hunter brought home a couple of grouse, and turned them over to her to clean. She took them into the kitchen. In a few minutes the busy silence was electrified by a horrendous scream.

The wife ran out of the kitchen and vowed never to clean or even eat another grouse as long as she lived.

In opening one of the grouse, a small, live snake, which the bird had apparently swallowed just before it was shot, crawled out.

Tips Offered on Ice Fishing for Panfish

By MORT NEFF

With virtually all of Michigan's 11,000 inland lakes yielding good ice fishing possibilities right now, it's time for a look at the best possible methods of getting your share of tasty perch, bluegills, calicoes—and some bigger prizes.

Most of us interested in ice fishing have had the aggravating experience of fishing side by side with another angler only to see him take two or three fish to each one you were able to hook!

You'd like to charge it to a matter of luck, but your conscience just won't let you! So let's see what you may have been doing wrong!

Experts tell us you have to acquire the "panfish touch" in taking perch and bluegills. First step is to establish the depth of water directly under the hole through which you're fishing.

Then set your line or bobber so that you know exactly how far off the bottom you are at all times.

Your equipment should consist of an extremely willowy glass, metal or bamboo rod no more than 4 feet in length, to which is affixed weblike nylon line of the smallest possible diameter.

Now drop your baited hook the full length of the line, let it rest for a few seconds only, then lift it sharply a matter of about a foot. Now allow it to settle naturally, and watch that line and rod tip. At the slightest evidence of tightening or dipping, strike lightly but firmly to set the hook.

If the above method is resulting in little success, try "jigging" the lure.

When perch and bluegills are "off their feed" this twitching motion often attracts them.

Get the "touch" and you'll get more fish thru the ice in Michigan Outdoors this winter!

Hunters Aid Moose

SMITHERS, B. C. (AP)—Hunters Eddie Makow and Bill Martin found a cow moose entangled in a broken telephone line. They untangled the wire and allowed the moose to move slowly back into the forest. The hunters didn't attempt to shoot because they spotted a bull moose nearby.

Russians Claim Record

LONDON (UP)—Russian News Agency, Tass, claimed in a Radio Moscow broadcast Tuesday that a team of Soviet swimmers has smashed the 400-meter medley relay world record by clocking four minutes, 23.1 seconds. The dispatch said the record was established in "one of the Moscow swimming pools." Existing record of 4:24.8 also was set by a Soviet foursome, in Moscow, May 13, 1953.

Man's Best Friend

DALLAS (AP) — Floyd Brunts is one of the nation's top breeders and racers of greyhounds.

An amazed woman watched as Brunts opened the door of his new auto and let one of his dogs in the back.

"Are you going to let that dog ride on that new cushion?" the woman asked.

"I ought to," replied Brunts. "He paid for it!"

Improvement on Lakes Scheduled

Work on Lake County Waters Will Start in Spring

LANSING (AP) — Warm water improvement work on several Lake County lakes is scheduled to start this spring, conservation director G. E. Eddy said today.

Work follows surveys of conditions in 14 of the county lakes by fisheries crews last year.

The work includes brush shelter installations in Idlewild Lake and Sauble Lake No. 1, a possible introduction of perch into Idlewild if investigation shows the species is absent and the possible introduction of pike into Seaman Lake.

To permit harvesting of an unused species, fall spearing and netting of ciscoes may be suggested on Little Bass Lake, and surveys of Cool and Paradise Lakes leading to the possible introduction of trout are planned.

More transfers of bluegills from Big Star Lake, where they are overpopulated, to Wolf Lake, where the species is scarce, is planned.

Bidault Changes His Mind, Works for Europe's Unity

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

The Berlin Foreign Ministers Conference really revolves around two men.

One is Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov, a man with a vast contempt for the free world, and whose word translated into any language at any one of the countless international conferences he has attended, usually means, "No."

His mission is to divide and conquer.

The other key man is French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault who will be Molotov's primary target.

In some respects Molotov will have the advantage because he is a top man in an absolute dictatorship which admits to no dissatisfied voters.

But Bidault also has proved himself a tough man, with the courage of his convictions.

Bidault at one time had visions of being the new president of France.

But he deliberately sabotaged his chances by demanding French ratification of the European Army plan which would unite six West European nations under one army and place French and German troops side by side.

By such a stand, he automatically alienated himself from the Communists and the De Gaullists in the French Assembly.

In Berlin he represents a France whose government—partly at his insistence—is firmly committed to the European Defense Community but whose people still are fearful of a future which contains a strong German army.

It is upon this division that Molotov, a master negotiator, will hope to play and which Bidault must counter.

Bidault is a picture-book version of a diplomat.

He is debonair, dapper and low-voiced. He wears smartly tailored suits which seem deliberately to have been selected to go with his carefully-groomed gray hair.

He could also be, as he once was, a school teacher, a role which seems far removed from another role which he also played with distinction — that of underground resistance leader during the World War II occupation of France by Germany.

After the death by torture of its former leader, Bidault took over as president of the National Resistance Council.

In 1943, disguised as a small, poorly-dressed Protestant theology student named Pastor Bidault, he went to Paris and prepared the way for the later triumphal entry of Gen. Charles De Gaulle.

While a firm supporter now of the European Army plan and reconciled to the necessity of Germany's return as a European power, Bidault's ideas were not always so clear-cut.

As late as last summer he seemed deliberately to be delaying French action on the European Army plan with unceasing demands for United States and British guarantees and his insistence that other matters, such as final disposition of the SAAR, must come first.

In 1946, he was a foremost advocate of rendering Germany forever impotent.

He favored internationalization of the Ruhr, an independent Rhineland state and forced emigration to reduce the German state.

In 1944 he went to Moscow with De Gaulle to sign the friendship pact with Russia. But somewhere in the last years or months he changed his mind.

ROK Is Impressed by 81-6 Senate Vote

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea's foreign minister today said he was "pleased and impressed" by the 81 to 6 vote by which the U. S. Senate ratified a defense pact with South Korea yesterday.

"It shows," said Pyun Yung Tai, "that the American people stand behind the treaty for security of the free world."

The pact provides that the United States would come to the aid of South Korea in the case South Korea was attacked but does not obligate U. S. aid in the event South Korea should march against North Korean Communists.

Corn Advances in Ragged Mart

CHICAGO (AP)—Small gains were registered by corn in an otherwise ragged grain market on the Board of Trade today.

Dealings were rather light in all pits and the small upturn in corn lacked real vigor. Cash receipts were light at 69 cars and snow in parts of the Midwest was expected to hold down arrivals in the immediate future.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ cent lower to ⅝ higher, March $2.13⅝, corn ⅛ to ½ higher, March $1.54⅛, oats unchanged to ¼ lower, March 79¾, rye one to 1⅛ higher, March $1.25⅜, soybeans ½ lower to one cent higher, March $3.13¼, and lard unchanged to seven cents a hundred pounds lower, March $16.50.

Stocks Milling at Higher Level

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market surged ahead today at the opening and then started milling around at its best levels.

The opening rush was so great that the high speed ticker fell behind briefly in reporting actual transactions on the floor of the stock exchange. The lag at the most was two minutes.

Thereafter the rise halted and prices churned around at that level.

Individual issues held major attention. Radio Corp., up 1⅛ yesterday, gained ¾ on an opening block of 20,000 shares today, and afterward it extended its rise to a point at a price of 26.

Race for Engine Power Nears End, Say Auto Men

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

The horsepower race in the auto industry—if there ever was one—has just about run its course.

That's the view of numerous engine designers. Among them are some who were among the most ardent advocates of higher power output in "production" cars.

Chrysler's 235 horsepower V-8 engine presently carries the highest horsepower rating. Several other manufacturers of cars competing with Chrysler's Imperial and New Yorker models have followed across the 200 horsepower mark.

These include Cadillac with a 230 horsepower; Packard with 212 and Lincoln with 205.

Makers of these super-powered cars are emphatic in asserting they have not sought higher horsepower solely for increased speed potentials. Actually, they say, the higher power output has improved engine efficiency. And, they add, quick get-away is a genuine safety factor.

One engineer pointed out that greater fuel economy has been built into the cars with increased horsepower.

"Obviously," he said, "there will be few instances when the full power of the engine is used. It is just as obvious that when only a part of the power potential is used a smaller amount of fuel is being used."

He didn't mention it specifically but at the higher power levels most of the larger engines require such things as four barrel carburetors.

Teamster Head Reports 'Loan'

Beck Denies Purchase of Fruehauf Stock; Says Union Lent Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL Teamsters Union President Dave Beck has "loaned" a million dollars to the Fruehauf Trailer Co. of Detroit, and has not bought stock in the company, a union spokesman said yesterday.

The spokesman said the loan was made out of union funds and was made for three reasons:

1. It's a good investment at 4 per cent for five years.

2. It will help Roy Fruehauf keep control of his company.

3. It helped Fruehauf as an employer of Teamsters members and as a producer of trailers which make jobs for Teamsters's members.

A current battle has been reported as raging between Fruehauf and George J. Kolowich, president of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Co., for control of the Fruehauf concern.

D&C, formerly a Great Lakes shipping concern, now a holding company, holds the largest block of Fruehauf stock, about 130,000 shares.

Kolowich has also been under fire by a group of minority stockholders of his company who claim he has been withholding information from them and from the Security and Exchange Commission in regard to a pending purchase of a Western trucking firm by D. and C.

The union spokesman said the previously reported "stock sale" to the AFL had been misinterpreted. He said that Fruehauf had put up a million dollars worth of Fruehauf stock as collateral for the loan.

Fruehauf, however, will receive the accumulated dividends on the stock when the loan is paid off and he retains the voting power of the stock, the spokesman said.

Fruehauf is reported to have bought enough stock with the money received from the AFL loan to retain control of his company.

"It's just like any other kind of investment, a mortgage or something like that. We are getting 4 per cent interest instead of the 2 per cent or so we would receive otherwise. It's a good investment," the union spokesman said.

Calls Religion, Preaching Cold

Canadian Bishop Says Christ Is No Abstract Idea or Problem

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Churches need to get away from "cold, academic, merely intellectual religion" because "things of the spirit may be hid from the wise," a Canadian Anglican bishop believes.

The Rt. Rev. William L. Wright of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. appealed for "holiness of living" in an opening address at the 80th annual convention Tuesday night of the Western Michigan Episcopal Diocese.

Rev. Wright is bishop of the Church of England and Canada for the Algoma Diocese in Ontario. Approximately 125 delegates are attending the convention.

"Needs of the church today are more real conversion to Christ, a call to holiness of living and a renewed emphasis on preaching the kingship of Christ," Rev. Wright said. He continued:

"There has been too much cold, academic, merely intellectual religion in the past, as though Christ were only an abstract idea or problem for us.

"The intellect must of course have its full place, but it is still true that the deep things of the spirit may be hid from the wise and prudent and revealed unto babes," he said.

Business sessions were scheduled for delegates today. The Rt. Rev. Dudley B. McNeil, bishop of the Western Michigan Diocese, is presiding.

Raise Funds for Christmas Deficit

Waterford's Goodfellows Will Hold Pancake Supper

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Contributions to needy families during Christmas has left Waterford Township Goodfellows in the red, it was found last night when final tabulations were completed.

It was discovered that the organization had spent more money for contributions than it had collected from its annual paper drive.

Final figures showed $1,560.48 collected from the drive, and a total of $1,766.67 spent—a deficit of $209.19.

A total of 100 families, in which there were 530 children, were given baskets of food and toys so that no one in the township would be without a Christmas.

Now, the Goodfellows have decided, at a meeting last night, to hold a pancake supper to raise enough money to cover the deficit. It will be held at the CAI building Saturday, Feb. 27, beginning at 5:30 p. m.

Comittee for the supper will be Vern Price, chairman, assisted by Carlos Richardson, Mrs. Richardson, and Mrs. F. W. Mackinder in charge of the dining room.

Next meeting for the Goodfellow committee will be Monday, Feb. 1, at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Mackinder, 4763 Dixie Hwy., Drayton Plains.

Dads, Sons to Hear Family Life Lecture

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The second of two family life education lectures sponsored by the township PTA program planning committee will be held tonight at 7:30 for fathers and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. David Treat of the Clara Elizabeth Fund, Flint, will present the "Story of Menstruation" at the old high school building. Models and charts will be used in illustration.

The first lecture was presented last night for mothers and daughters.

Dean to Confer in Washington

Will Discuss Red Call for Resuming Prefatory Talks on Peace Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Special Ambassador Arthur H. Dean is due to confer with State Department officials today on a Communist demand that he resume preliminary talks on a Korean peace conference.

The Communist demand was made in a letter to Dean received at the State Department yesterday. The department was expected to reply some time this week, but probably not today.

The Communists accused the United Nations of stalling peace talks and of putting out optimistic propaganda at the same time. The Reds insisted on reconvening the preliminary talks by next Monday, but they invited Dean to propose a date of his own.

The special ambassador walked out of the preliminary talks at Panmunjom Dec. 12 in protest against Communist accusations that the United States was guilty of perfidy and of conniving with President Syngman Rhee to release 27,000 anti-Communist Chinese and North Korean war prisoners last summer.

* * *

Dean said at the time he would not return until the charge was taken back. There have been suggestions that as a compromise, the Reds might agree to erase the charge from the record. So far, at least, they have given no indication of being ready to do this.

Dean was due late today from New York, where he practices law. He was to meet with Deputy Under Secretary of State Robert D. Murphy and other department officials.

The letter to Dean, signed by the Red Chinese and North Korean representatives, protested that lower level liaison meetings had reached no basis for further negotiations.

The U. S. reply apparently hinged on the American attitude toward these liaison meetings.

Keego C. of C. Installs Head at Recent Dinner

KEEGO HARBOR—Roy Ottmar was installed as president of the Keego Harbor Chamber of Commerce at a dinner in West Bloomfield Township Hall Monday night.

Others taking office were Francis L. Ammerman and Jack Loveland, vice presidents; Dr. Daniel Foxman, secretary, and Roy Pazik, treasurer.

The Rev. George L. Garver of Pontiac spoke on "Why We Are Here," and a trio from St. Mary Seminary at Orchard Lake entertained the 75 members and guests following the dinner.

Trinity Methodist Church women served the dinner.

Union Lake PTA to Hold Square Dance on Friday

UNION LAKE — PTA of Union Lake School will sponsor a square dance at the school from 9 to 12 p.m. Friday.

Caller will be Lee Kaines, and music will be furnished by a three-piece band. Chairman for the evening will be Mrs. George Schreoder, mother vice-president. Mrs. Fred Freytag, hospitality chairman, will be in charge of refreshments.

Drayton Reverend Names Committees

DRAYTON PLAINS — With the approach of the completion of the new educational unit of the Community United Presbyterian Church, the Rev. W. J. Teeuwissen Jr. has announced the appointment of two committees.

Comprising the education committee are Harold Detweiler, Dr. L. G. Rowley, Peter Nielsen and Floyd Wilson.

The Fashion-Your-Figure women's weight-reducing club is starting an "Easter Jackpot" contest for members, with prizes waiting for the best weight loser during a ten week period.

The group will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday in Pontiac High School. Guest speaker will be John W. Hirlinger, assistant manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Boy Dies After Sled Coasts Into Car's Path

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Twelve-year-old Robert Newman Jr., of Cedar, was fatally injured Tuesday when his sled coasted into the path of an auto on a Leelanau County road four miles northwest of Traverse City.

The boy died several hours after the accident in Munson hospital.

Australian bush native diet includes ants, caterpillars, cicadas, and other insects, as well as various dishes compounded of snake meat.

County Deaths

Mrs. Nellie Axford

ROCHESTER — Service for Mrs. Nellie Axford, 75, who died early today at her home at 414 W. Fourth St., will be 2 p. m. Friday at Pixley Funeral Home, with burial in Mt. Avon Cemetery.

The widow of the late Zephyr Axford, Mrs. Axford was a member of the Congregational Church, OES 165 and Women's Relief Corps.

Surviving her are a daughter, Mrs. Wallace Furbur of Rochester; a sister, Mrs. William Kallinger of Detroit; a brother, Frank Middleton of Lake Orion; one grandson and one great grandchild.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING

To the qualified electors of the Clarkston Community School District, Oakland County, Michigan.

Notice is hereby given, that a special meeting of the electors of the Clarkston Community School District, in the County of Oakland, and State of Michigan, will be held in the elementary school building in the Village of Clarkston, Michigan, on Tuesday, the 2nd day of February, 1954, at 7:00 o'clock a.m., Eastern Standard Time, to vote upon the following propositions:

(a) Shall the Clarkston Community School District, County of Oakland, State of Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000) and issue its bonds therefor, for the purpose of defraying the cost of erecting and furnishing an addition to each of the three elementary school buildings and an addition to the high school building, in said school district?

(b) Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed each year against property in the Clarkston Community School District, County of Oakland, State of Michigan, for all purposes except taxes for the payment of interest and principal on obligations incurred prior to December 8, 1932, be increased as provided in Section 21 of Article X of the Constitution of Michigan, for a period of twenty (20) years from 1954 to 1973, both inclusive, by 1% ($10.00 per $1,000) of the assessed valuation as equalized, for the purpose of paying principal and interest on bonds aggregating not to exceed $600,000 in principal amount to defray the cost of erecting and furnishing an addition to each of the three elementary school buildings and an addition to the high school building, in said school district, and for the purpose of establishing a reserve for the payment of said principal and interest, with the provision that if in any year it shall not be necessary to levy all of such increase for the above purposes under the terms of the bond contract, then any surplus taxing power may be used to raise money for the building and site fund?

Notice is further given, that polls for said meeting will be open from 7:00 o'clock a.m. to 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Notice is further given, that the Board of Education of said school district has estimated that six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000) is the amount of money necessary to be borrowed for the project for which said bonds are to be issued.

The following statement has been received from the County Treasurer as to previously voted increases in the total tax rate limitation affecting taxable property in the school district, to wit:

I, Charles A. Sparks, County Treasurer of the County of Oakland, State of Michigan, do hereby certify that according to the records in my office, as of January 21, 1954, the total of all voted increases in the tax rate limitation above the 15 mills established by Section 21 of Article X of the Michigan Constitution, affecting taxable property in the Clarkston Community School District in said County, is as follows:

Local Unit	Voted Increases	Year Increase Effective
Clarkston Community School	6 mills	1951 thru 1970
Clarkston Community School	1 mill	1951 thru 1970
Clarkston Community School	3 mills	1951 thru 1970
School District No. 1 of the Township of Independence (now a part of the Clarkston Community School District)	15 mills	1949 thru 1968

Dated: January 21, 1954

CHARLES A. SPARKS,
Oakland County Treasurer
LLOYD M. SIBLEY,
Chief Deputy Treasurer

This notice is given by order of the Board of Education of said school district.

WALTON T. ROBBINS,
Secretary of the Board of Education of said School District.
Jan. 23, 25, 26, 27, 28, 1954

Kids' Foundation Will Be Dissolved

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dissolution of a charitable foundation headed by movie columnist Jimmy Fidler has been tentatively agreed upon and the Superior Court will decide how to spend the remaining $350,000 of four million dollars collected.

State Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, whose office supervises charitable organizations, told newsmen yesterday: "Our job is to see that the money is used for the purpose for which it was raised."

The organization is the National Kids' Day Foundation. It mailed fountain pens to persons throughout the land and asked for donations of $1.50 to aid needy and crippled children.

Brown said the foundation paid 61 cents for each pen and spent considerable money for mailing and promo tion. "More than $350,000 was left for charitable purposes," he said.

"Officials of the foundation have suggested they file a petition in court for dissolution. The court will appoint a trustee and he, the court and our office will decide how the money is spent."

Canadian Novelist Gets National Book Award

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Book Award for fiction was presented yesterday to Canadian-born Saul Bellow for his novel, "The Adventures of Augie March."

The nonfiction award went to Bruce Catton for his Civil War study, "A Stillness at Appomattox."

Conrad Aiken, Pulitzer Prize poet, won the poetry award for his "collected Poems."

Deputy Farmer, Too

MARION, Ill. (UP) — Deputy Sheriff Charles Edwards acquired several new duties. When Mack Ferges, farmer, got involved in jury duty. Edwards went to Ferges' farm, milked nine cows and fed the cattle and horses.
