Greek Leftists Lead 150,000 in Procession

Riot Police Watch Show of Support for Premier Fired by King

ATHENS, Greece (AP) —

A funeral march of more than 150,000 left-wing demonstrators surged through Athens today in a show of support for ousted Premier George Papandreu in his test with the Greek monarchy.

The government of Premier George Athanasiadis Novas responded with a tough show of strength of its own, packing the city with heavily armed riot police and ordering the armed forces to stand by in case of disorder.

The funeral was for a student killed in the wild street fighting that tore through Athens Wednesday night when Papandreu followers clashed with police.

That was the first fatality in the disorders that broke out after King Constantine dined Papandreu in a showdown July 15.

There was no rioting at the funeral. Under the threat of military intervention, the left-wing organizers of the demonstration clearly were under orders to avoid disturbances.

KEEP CONTROL

Young leftist activists wearing armbands marched with the crowds to keep them under control.

The demonstration had the look of a perfectly coordinated show. This raised speculation that experienced leftist organizers were on the streets now, using the crowds as a flexible weapon in the political struggle that had this Atlantic Alliance nation in its worst crisis since the Communist civil war, 1947-49.

In the morning, 2,000 demonstrators got the mass march under way, moving past the heavily guarded Parliament building to the Athens Orthodox Cathedral where the body lay. The crowd swelled to more than 150,000 persons.

Papandreu attended the church service, then left for a news conference as the cortege moved on to the cemetery. There discipline dissolved.

Thousands struggled to get in to watch as the body of the dead youth, Sotirios Petroulakis, 25, was lowered into the grave. They trampled graves underfoot, toppled tombstones and destroyed family grave sites in the crush.

HI, NEIGHBOR — H.S. Pendley, who air-conditioned his lawn mower with an electric fan after a friend died from heat exhaustion, appears to have solved another problem — getting his lawn cut. The pretty neighbor pushing the mower as Pendley sits on the steps of his Atlanta, Ga. home is Pat Ritchey.

Bipartisan Viet Talks Pledged by Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson continued the administration's agonizing reappraisal of the Viet Nam situation today with a White House pledge of bipartisan consultations before final decision are made.

Johnson conferred first today with the Senate Democratic and Republican leaders, Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., before holding the third top-level conference in three days with what amounts to his Viet Nam task force.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said the meeting with Mansfield and Dirksen related to the status of legislation in Capitol Hill and not to Viet Nam.

In reply to questions, he said Johnson unquestionably would consult with congressional leaders, including Republicans, before final decisions on the apparently imminent plans for a big U.S. troop buildup in Viet Nam.

The timing, Romney said, was "sheer coincidence." Kelley said they had been working on the amendment for "at least six months."

ELECTION COST
The cost of the special election — estimated at $50,000 by state elections experts — would be offset by the savings on special elections that no longer would have to be called to fill judicial vacancies, Kelley said.

Their joint statement said they believed "urgent action is required to meet what is in reality a judicial emergency."

Romney Joins Kelley in Plea

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today urged that voters be given a chance to approve a constitutional amendment giving the governor power to fill judicial vacancies.

The joint announcement came as an unusual show of agreement between the Republican governor and the Democratic attorney general, frequently at odds on other issues.

Both agreed, however, that the constitutional mandate that such judicial vacancies be filled by election — with retired judges serving in the interim — had proved unworkable in the past year and one-half.

The agreement was reported reached earlier between Romney and Democratic legislators.

Romney and Kelley said they will urge the legislature to submit the proposed constitutional amendment to the voters for action when the lawmakers return to Lansing July 28.

If approved by two thirds of the membership of both houses, not later than 30 days before the scheduled Nov. 2 general election, the proposed amendment could be voted on then.

Both Romney and Kelley vigorously denied that "any deals or legislative understandings had been reached," or that the proposed constitutional amendment "was considered in relation to any other piece of legislation."

The announcement came just 24 hours after Romney signed a bill creating 13 new circuit court judgeships, and there were reports that the popular vote on the amendment was timed in such a way that Romney would be able to appoint nine of the judges.

Sources in the state government, who did not wish to be identified, confirmed yesterday that agreement had been reached. Some indicated that Romney's office had hinted that difficulties might be found in the judges bill, forcing Romney to veto it. Others denied the reports.

The timing, Romney said, was "sheer coincidence." Kelley said they had been working on the amendment for "at least six months."

Ford reported new high earnings totals yesterday for the second quarter and first six months of 1965, continuing the auto industry's economic boom.

In the first half of this year, the company said, it earned $438.1 million, equal to $2.95 a share on its common stock.

This set an all-time high for the January-to-June period, topping last year's record of $324 million, or $2.93 a share.

Second quarter profits alone totaled $273.3 million this year, up 32 per cent over Ford earnings for the same period of 1964.

County Gets 8th Judgeship

'Deal' May Speed Up Filling of Vacancy

Action in Lansing yesterday will produce an eighth circuit judgeship in Oakland County, not later than 30 days before the scheduled Nov. 2 general election, the proposed amendment could be voted on then.

Governor Romney's approval of 13 new state circuit judgeships, including one in Oakland County, reportedly was tied to an agreement allowing the governor to appoint nine of the judges.

This appointive power would require approval of an amendment to the present constitution at a statewide special election this Nov. 2.

County officials had indicated they would wait until the next regular election in November 1966 to fill a present vacancy created by the death of Judge Stanton G. Dondoro last month.

However, if there is a vote on a constitutional amendment, it is possible Dondoro's replacement could be decided on the ballot this fall.

UP TO GOVERNOR

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Auditors, said it would be up to Governor Romney whether a proposal to fill the vacancy would be on the special election ballot.

"The County Board of Supervisors will indicate its feelings on the proposal," Murphy said. "But the governor makes the decision."

If an election is held this fall and the constitutional amendment is approved, the county's eighth judge would be appointed next year.

Otherwise, he would be elected in November 1966.

Oakland County officials as well as present members of the Circuit Court bench had opposed an eighth judgeship.

Pontiac Sets Sales Record

Pontiac dealers set a new all-time sales record for the mid-July sales period, E. R. Pettengill, Pontiac Motor Division general sales manager, announced today.

In the July 15-20 period, 19,900 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold.

This surpassed by 18 per cent the previous record of 17,217 set two years ago.

Pettengill also pointed out that this was the 24th time since the 1965 models were introduced that Pontiac has established a new 15-day sales mark.

U.S. Planes, Ships Bombard Viet Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States stepped up its air strikes against suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam today and flew at least six bombing missions against North Viet Nam, a military spokesman announced.

U.S. 7th Fleet ships continued offshore bombardments of Communist installations. The Navy appeared to be playing an increasing role in the Vietnamese war.

The spokesman said two Americans were killed today, one in a plane crash and one when he failed to answer a enemy's challenge. Another American died in a plane crash Thursday night.

The spokesman said a U.S. Air Force observation plane crashed 50 miles south of Da Nang while directing strikes in the area. The pilot and a Vietnamese observer were killed after their plane had dropped smoke on a target, pulled up and then stalled, according to observers.

MARINE KILLED

A U.S. Marine in the Da Nang area, 300 miles north of Saigon, was killed before dawn when he failed to answer a enemy's challenge, the spokesman said. The Marine was investigating suspicious noises.

The pilot of an A1E Skyraider was killed Thursday night when his plane apparently was shot down while on a mission 300 miles northeast of Saigon in Binh Dinh Province.

U.S. Air Force and Vietnamese war planes flew 165 sorties against Viet Cong concentrations and other facilities believed used by the guerrillas, the spokesman said.

For the second straight day, B-57 jets blasted an area in the central highlands area east of Pleiku. The spokesman said a number of guerrillas were believed killed.

CONG CAMP

Another target was an encampment 45 miles southeast of Saigon, where 400 Viet Cong were believed to be. However, F100 pilots flying strikes against the position said they did not see any guerrillas during the raids.

U.S. planes again penetrated deep into North Viet Nam, striking a bridge 90 miles northwest of Hanoi and another bridge 35 miles northeast of Dien Bien Phu, spokesmen reported.

They said four F105 thunderbolts also attacked the Ban Ho barracks 75 miles southeast of Dien Bien Phu. The pilots reported five buildings were destroyed and four others damaged.

Carrier-based F4 Phantom II aircraft conducted a communication installation on Tiger Island in the Gulf of Tonkin about 20 miles northeast of the 17th parallel. A spokesman said three secondary explosions were observed.

ANOTHER TARGET

The Hon Me Radar site, another target that has been hit before in the Gulf of Tonkin, also was attacked by F4 phantoms but damage assessment could not be made because of heavy ground fog, the spokesman said. The site is about 120 miles south of Hanoi.

The planes encountered heavy anti-aircraft fire over Hon Me as well as moderate small arms fire but all returned safely, the spokesman said. No enemy aircraft were spotted on any of the raids.

Most of 60 in Jury Panel Excused in 1st Day of Trial

MANISTEE (AP)—Most of the 60 prospective jurors in the trial of 21 alleged Madison Heights gambling house operators were excused Thursday as the case opened in a Manistee County courtroom.

Forty-seven of the 60 were excused for various reasons. Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick Ziern ordered another 60 to be impaneled for today's court session.

The trial has been switched from Oakland County, where Madison Heights is located.

The defense challenged 23 prospective jurors and the prosecution three. Ziern excused 11 during court and eight before court convened. Two failed to appear.

Ziern said he expects a satisfactory jury to be impaneled soon, despite the lack of progress during the first day.

Scene of the trial was moved to Manistee after the defense attorney argued successfully that publicity about a raid on the Stern Assembly Club and subsequent events had made it impossible to obtain a fair trial in Oakland County.

Ziern excused one of the 21 defendants from the trial. The defendant, Frank Miller, recently suffered a heart attack. He will be tried at a later date.

Defense attorney Carlton Roesser disagreed Thursday with assistant prosecuting attorney James Finn over how many challenges Roesser is entitled to use. Roesser asserted he is allowed 23 challenges. Finn said it is no more than 10.

TO ACT LATER

Ziern said he would settle the question of challenges if and when Roesser uses 105.

The defendants were arrested Oct. 11, 1963, when State Police raided the club. They obtained some of their information from a pretty girl spy, Margaret Allen, who at the time was a stenographer for Democratic representatives in the State Legislature.

Miss Allen reportedly is in New York, and the question of whether she will appear as the state's star witness is up in the air.

EXPECTS ACTION

The Supreme Court justice, former secretary of labor and labor lawyer, was President Johnson's surprise choice to replace the late Adlai E. Stevenson in the nation's top ambassadorial job.

He said that no man can really replace Stevenson, "one of those rare human beings whose talents, intellect, speech and wit perish with him."

Hunt Widens for 2 Missing Texas Coeds

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Police checked out leads as far away as the Carolinas today in their search for two pretty Dallas coeds missing since Sunday.

Scores of telephone calls have poured in from people—all the way to Mexico—who think they might have seen the missing girls. Police in Dallas, both 21, since their clothing and their car were found in Austin, 200 miles from Dallas.

The Department of Public Safety (DPS) said it received a message from South Carolina police reporting that two girls fitting their description had been found alive and safe.

The DPS then said there apparently was an error in transmission of a teletype message and that it might have come from North Carolina.

Police in Charleston, S. C., said two girls had been seen on Wednesday who reported their clothing had been stolen in Georgia. The police said the girls were not the missing coeds.

The girls in South Carolina were riding in a 1965 Chevrolet convertible. The Rigby and Stark girls had a 1964 Chevrolet Corvair which was found abandoned in Austin.

Goldberg Gets Fast Senate OK

Says World Peace Man's Biggest Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, acting with record speed, today confirmed Arthur J. Goldberg's nomination to be U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Confirmation by voice vote came after the Supreme Court justice told the Senate Foreign Relations committee that the issue of world peace "transcends every issue our country and mankind has to face."

The committee, in a session lasting less than 40 minutes, voted its unanimous approval of the nomination. The action was quickly reported to the Senate by Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana who announced consent to take it up immediately after the session opened.

At the hearing, marked with praise of Goldberg, the nominee testified that the crisis confronting the United Nations "must be solved and the work of the United Nations must go on."

Developers File Suit, Charge Stall on Permits

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Developers of a planned apartment complex have charged the city with using delaying tactics in the issuing of building permits for the project.

The charge was made yesterday in a suit filed in Oakland County Circuit Court by officers of Manor in the Hills Co. of Detroit.

The suit contends that the city wants to delay the start of construction beyond an Aug. 4 public hearing on a proposed amendment to the zoning code.

If the change is adopted, and given immediate effect, the value of the property would be decreased by one-third, according to the suit.

The amendment would reduce the present multiple family zoning restrictions from four and a half units per acre to three.

BUILDINGS

The firm is planning to construct six buildings, each containing eight apartments, on a 10-acre site located directly behind the City Hall on Long Lake Road.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer has directed the city to show cause why it should not be ordered to issue the permits.

Joseph T. Brennan, the firm's attorney, said the company has complied with all of the city's ordinances, codes and regulations and that plans and specifications for the project have been approved.

He said the city plan commission, however, has made recommendations not relating to zoning that the firm was unable to carry out.

CITY MANAGER

City Manager Elmer Kephart said he didn't believe there was any other way to proceed.

"It may seem that way, but it isn't true," he said.

Kephart said he has held up the permits for several reasons.

"There was a drainage problem, but this seems to have been corrected," he said. "Another concern was the movement of traffic in and out of the property."

PROPERTY FRONTS

Kephart said that the property fronts Woodward on the west and Tiverton, a narrow private road, on the east.

The plan commission, said Kephart, has expressed concern that the Tiverton-Long Lake intersection may become a safety hazard with the additional traffic using the road.

'Fluoride Water Gives Jackson Fewer Cavities'

LANSING (UPI) — The "look, mom, no cavities" cry is heard more in Jackson than in Flint—and it's because of fluoridated water, the Michigan Department of Health reported.

Department scientists said 14 children who have lived in Jackson since birth have nearly two-thirds less tooth decay than their Flint counterparts.

State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis said figures on fluoridated water's one-half as many Jackson children have no decay, missing or filled permanent teeth.

The statistics were gathered as byproducts of separate four-year studies of various fluoride agents applied directly on the surface of the teeth.

Latest Total $69,603

Hospital Gifts Mounting

Four more subscriptions, totaling $69,603, for the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Building Fund were announced today by R. M. Critchfield, campaign corporation committee chairman.

The latest gifts are: The Pontiac Press, $22,500; Pontiac State Bank, $15,000; Pontiac Varnish Co., $8,100; and J. H. Youngblood, $4,000.

The Pontiac Press subscription will be used to build and equip the general business office in the new eight-story addition to be constructed in front of the existing main building.

Milo Cross, chairman of the Pontiac State Bank, said the bank's gift will provide the new medical staff lounge. He also said that the directors of the bank, when voting to participate in the building fund, considered this $15,000 an investment in the future health needs of the community.

Cross stated that the years of service already provided by St. Joseph cannot be measured in dollars, "and now that increasing demands for service and growing obsolescence at the existing hospital have created this great need for additional beds and ancillary facilities, we all must help to the best of our ability."

DESIGNATED GIFT

Youthhood has designated his gift for a private suite and a nurses' station on the seventh floor of the new building.

He said he knows of the need from personal experience in the hospital, and wished he could do more.

E. M. Estes, campaign chairman, commented that this was continuing evidence that the corporate community was thoroughly aware of the importance of the hospital campaign, "and this is the type of support we need to reach our goal."

Romney OKs Reorganization

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney today signed into law the most sweeping changes in state government in Michigan's history.

His signature came despite a last-minute hitch that threatened to hold up signing of the omnibus governmental reorganization plan.

Democratic members of the legislative staff, discovered late last night that the bill did not include salary schedules for heads of departments.

House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, and Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, met hurriedly today with Romney's staff in an effort to resolve the flaw. It was at first suggested that Romney hold off signing the bill until revisions could be made next Thursday.

Instead, Romney said he would sign it with the understanding that separate legislation would be drawn up Thursday setting the salary schedules.

Questions, Answers on Social Security Bill Benefits

time student in college or other school.

Q. Does the bill provide any Social Security benefits for aged persons with only a slight amount of working credits under the system?

A. It would blanket under the system men and women workers and widows with as few as three quarters of credits. They would get a basic benefit of $5 a month. The present minimum credit requirement is six quarters. Quarters are three-month periods.

Q. How does the bill affect Social Security benefits of farmers?

A. Low-income farmers would be allowed to accumulate higher credits than now available, and thus to qualify for higher benefits. A farmer with gross earnings of $2,400 or less would be allowed to report $1,000 as his net income, and thus as the base for his Social Security taxes, even though his net income was less than that. Under present law, if his gross earnings are $1,000 or less, he may report $1,200 as net income even though the net is below that.

Q. Does the bill bring any additional groups under Social Security?

A. About 170,000 self-employed physicians will be covered, effective Dec. 31, 1965. They are the only major occupational group not now in the system.

Q. How is income from tips affected by the bill?

A. Waiters, bartenders and others who receive income from tips will report it to the employer, who will make the appropriate pay check withholding for income tax purposes and Social Security. But the employer is not obliged to match the tip income in his share of the Social Security tax, and is not responsible under the Social Security law if the employee does not report the tips to him.

Q. Will a widow who remarries find her status changed by the bill?

A. Yes, under the law now a widow Social Security benefits based on her first husband's earnings when she remarries.

But the bill contains a special provision enabling her to retain some benefits, at a rate of 50 percent of her first husband's primary benefit instead of the $2.50 per cent available if she did not remarry.

Q. Does the bill grant exemption to any groups on religious grounds?

A. The Amish and other sects conscientiously opposed to acceptance of the benefits of any public or private insurance program, who long have sought exemption, finally will attain it in this bill.

Q. What would be the increase in Social Security taxes to pay for the increased benefits under the present system and the new basic health program?

A. The taxable base, now $4,800 next year, will be increased to $6,000 next year. The combined tax rate for the present old age, survivors and disability program and the new health plan would be 4.2 per cent each for the employer and employee next year, rising to 5.45 per cent by 1967. For the self-employed, the combined rate would be 4.15 per cent next year, reaching 7.8 per cent in 1967. The current rate of 3.05 per cent each for employer and employee would go up to 4.125 per cent next year under present law; the self-employed rate, now 5.4 per cent, would increase to 6.2 per cent next year under present law. For an employee earning at least $6,000 a year, the tax next year would be $277.35 compared to the $174 he pays in 1965.

Q. I am an old person receiving a welfare payment under the public assistance program. Will the bill make any difference in these checks?

A. It contains additional federal funds for the public assistance program so that payments can be increased about $2.50 a month to the needy aged, blind and disabled and about $1.25 a month for needy children. The payments are up to the states and local welfare officials, but the bill provides that the new federal money will be available only to the extent it is passed along to individual recipients.

Q. How about aged persons who are patients in hospitals for tuberculosis and mental diseases?

A. The bill for the first time allows federal matching under the old-age assistance program for such persons. It requires as a condition for federal participation in such payments that better care must result from the federal funds.

Q. What changes are made in the Kerr-Mills program for the medically indigent—those who are not necessarily on old-age assistance but are unable to pay their medical bills?

A. Benefits under this new law vary widely between the states, with some not participating at all. The bill provides increased federal funds and requires that a participating state must furnish at least a basic minimum of services including hospitalization and doctors' fees. Eligibility standards will have to be liberalized to cover many additional persons in most states. Kerr-Mills will be extended to the other categories on the public assistance rolls—the blind, disabled and dependent children.

Space Triple Play Is Completed by U.S.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

The second of two Sentry satellites maneuvered into station 69,000 miles above the earth Thursday night.

The move completes a space triple play aimed at developing a foolproof means of detecting secret nuclear explosions out to 200 million miles in space.

A radio signal ignited a small motor aboard the satellite. The firing jockeyed the 534-pound craft out of an elliptical orbit ranging from 120 to 69,000 miles and shifted it to a more circular course about 69,000 miles up.

A motor aboard a twin satellite was fired Tuesday night to place it in a similar orbit on the opposite side of the globe.

A third satellite launched on the same Atlas-Agena rocket from Cape Kennedy continued in the wide elliptical path as planned. It is measuring radiation in the Van Allen belt.

The Natural Tunnel on the Southern Railway in southwestern Virginia is believed to be the only natural tunnel in the world used by a railroad.

Land Decision Due Monday

MILFORD — It is expected that village councilmen will make an official decision Monday night on whether or not to purchase the seven-acre hydroelectric dam site west of the village.

Last night councilmen conducted an informal meeting with village planning consultants from Villan-Leman and Associates of Southfield, representatives of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority and the village's Auto Owners Insurance Co.

The insurance agents stood firm on their previous opinion that since the site posed a safety hazard to children, insurance costs would be high.

As a result of the insurance company study, the council initially voted against buying the parcel of property located near the Mill Pond.

Cost to the village would be $1,000 for an overhead crane and well pump located on the site, but it has been estimated that necessary repairs would add $5,000 to the price.

MAY BE CLOSE

J. Stuart Brophy, Milford police chief and acting city manager, hinted that the vote may be close on whether to purchase the site.

"At the moment, I wouldn't even hazard a guess," he said. Should the council decide to buy the land, it probably would draw up a master plan for the park and submit it to the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority in hopes of acquiring additional ground.

The site is now owned by the Jim Robbins Co. of Royal Oak. The old hydroelectric plant on the property has been the victim of vandals who have broken windows and destroyed doors.

An open callwalk over the dam would have to be enclosed, the insurance company still maintains, and the holes that once held generators would have to be filled. Other areas would require fencing.

Councilmen originally decided that the safety measures necessary would be too expensive.

STUMP STOCKPILE — Stacks of wet wood on the western shore of Wolverine Lake are growing daily as the west-old stump removal project continues. Here adding their day's haul to the piles are the contractor for the job, Norman Kolberg (left) of St. Clair Shores, and his assistant, Michael C. Howe.

of 116 Walled Lake Drive, Walled Lake. The men estimate they're yanking 50 stumps a day from the lake. Eventually, the former obstructions to boats and swimmers will be taken to the fishing site near the Village Hall.

Rebellion Said Successful

Price Up; Cherry Holdout Over

TRaverse City (AP) — night after a four-day "withholding action."

In a letter to the 866 growers who reportedly took part in the drive, group chairman Paul Johnson said their actions had resulted in an upswing in the price of cherries.

Growers were rebelling against what they considered an inadequate price of 4.8 cents a pound offered by most processors for red tart cherries earlier in the season. Some processors now are offering 5.5 cents, while at least one was reported going up to 6 cents.

GIVE CHANCE

In the letter, Johnson said the group was releasing growers from their pledges to permit them to harvest all their crops, allow processors to put a high quality fruit on the market and "give those who harvest the opportunity to put as much money as possible in their pockets."

He added: "It is our belief at this point that we must save our fruit and put our trust in the integrity of the processors and industry.... The price of cherries is on the upswing due only to your cooperation and support."

The withholding action came as growers of red tart cherries were faced with the third straight year of falling prices and a surplus harvest. Some Wisconsin growers joined with the Michigan group in the program.

Legislative Tours Scheduled on Migrant, Indian Problems

LANSING (AP) — Legislative committees go on tour this week and next to study problems of migrant workers and Michigan Indians.

The joint Senate-House Labor Committee studying the migrant labor problem will spend three days in the Traverse City area over the weekend, concluding with a public hearing at Traverse City Monday.

Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkeley, and Rep. Raymond Kehres, D-Monroe, said the tour is timed to coincide with the height of the cherry-picking season.

The committee toured the Benton Harbor area earlier. Monday's public hearing mostly will deal with proposed changes in a minimum wage bill covering migrant workers.

The Senate Interim Committee on Health, Welfare and Education of Michigan Indians will conduct a two-week tour of state Indian settlements starting July 30, said Sen. Charles Youngblood, D-Detroit, chairman. Its schedule includes stops at Mount Pleasant, Sault Ste. Marie, Munising, Houghton, Piquette, Watersmeet and Iron Mountain.

Backs Farm Wage Floor

WASHINGTON (U) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., asked today that Congress have an opportunity to pass on the question of establishing minimum wages for farm workers.

In a letter to Chairman Pat McClellan, D-Mich., of a Senate Labor subcommittee, Kuchel asked for favorable action on his bill which would provide a floor under farm wage-scales plus a 2-year escalation plan to reach the same wage rates as prevail in industry.

Kuchel said he was "both surprised and disappointed" that the administration proposals for improving the Fair Labor Standards Act fail to provide guarantees for farm labor.

Official Suing Farmington Over Property Assessment

Farmington Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall is suing the City of Farmington.

Dissatisfied with a special assessment against property they own in the city, Hall and his white yesterday filed a suit in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The city has been ordered by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams to show cause why it should not be refrained from levying taxes for a new parking lot.

Hearing on the matter was set for 9 a.m. Aug. 3.

The suit affects all of the assessments to be levied.

GO AHEAD

Informed of the Hall's intention to sue the city, councilmen have gone ahead with plans for the parking lot.

The city now is advertising for bids on the work.

The 75-space lot is to be constructed behind the business on the north side of Grand River, east of Farmington Road.

ESTIMATED COST

Carrying a total estimated cost of $23,450, the lot will be financed through special assessments and businesses credited from the property they will dedicate.

Hall owns the property and building housing Pioneer Oldsmobile. His share of the cost was set at $2,880.

He has objected to the method of assessing since the plan was proposed.

He said an adequate number of parking spaces for Pioneer customers is provided on his property.

Hall added that most persons shopping for automobiles, or having them serviced, part at the dealership.

NOT INCLUDED

The supervisor also alleges that the assessment district does not include all of the properties which will benefit from the parking lot.

His assessment was levied arbitrarily, he maintains, with some factors not accounted for. "Special assessments should be based on benefits received," he said. "Apparently the council didn't consider this."

Utica Gets Grant of $79,987 to Survey Urban Renewal Area

UTICA — A federal grant of $79,987 for a survey of an urban renewal project in the downtown portion of the city has been approved by the Urban Renewal Administration.

The project, involving 17 acres around Auburn Road, includes clearance of deteriorated buildings, construction of off-street parking facilities and a pedestrian mall at Cass and Auburn roads.

Rehabilitation of most other buildings as well as improvements of streets, utilities and other public facilities also is included.

The original plan involved renewal of 20 acres, but according to City Clerk Mrs. Eunice Kopletz, technicians from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency felt that 13 of the acres did not warrant renewal.

The city also has applied for $79,987 from the federal government to cover the cost of the project. Utica's share of the cost would be $28,292, according to Mrs. Kopletz.

SEPARATE GRANT

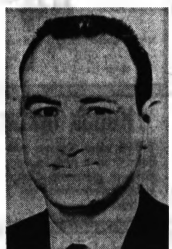

This grant is separate from the planning grant which covers the appraisal, engineering costs and legal fees.

Mrs. Kopletz said there are 48 businesses in the area which would be given relocation grants. She said if the businesses choose to remain in the area, they will be given first choice of land.

There also are about 20 businesses which will receive adjustment payments for any necessary remodeling. About 30 families in the area will have to be relocated.

Before work is started on the actual project, a public hearing must be held and the plan approved by the City Council.

The planning survey is expected to take about 10 or 12 months.

GETS NEW POST — Clyde Balderson Jr. has been appointed dean of students at Michigan Christian College, Rochester. He has been with the college since its opening in 1959 in his new position. He will be chairman of the nonacademic student guidance programs. He and his family live at 207 S. Helen in Rochester.

Battle Rages Over Swiss Villa's Height

ST. SULPICE, Switzerland (AP) — An American citizen, his wife and four children are threatened with expulsion from Switzerland. Their villa is 19 inches too high.

Mauri Pentzner, Van Vliessingen, a member of a Dutch family that makes textile machinery, formerly was a market research worker for the Dutch Chamber of Commerce in New York. He became an American citizen 12 years ago after serving in the U.S. Infantry as a sergeant.

The affair of the 19 inches started five years ago when Van Vliessingen came to Switzerland and began building a villa backing onto Lake Geneva.

FILED COMPLAINT

After construction started Wolff filed a complaint that the villa's height exceeded the regulation 26 feet by 19 inches. The Council of St. Sulpice ordered Van Vliessingen to lower the height of the building.

He took the case to court and claimed that his architect, who was formerly Wolff's architect, had deliberately designed the house too high, in collusion with Wolff.

He alleged that Wolff was in league with the St. Sulpice mayor to get him and his family out of the country.

The court ruled against him and the judge attempted to confine Van Vliessingen on the grounds that he was mentally unstable for having made such accusations.

DEFENDED HIMSELF

For five days Van Vliessingen, 44, defended himself before a Lausanne court, supported by a packed audience. The court ruled him sane.

The Dutch-American then collected a petition with 500 signatures protesting against this treatment — he had to pay the costs of the case even though declared sane.

In defiance of an order forbidding further construction, 28 neighbors tiled the villa's roof as unpaid volunteers. A contractor finally agreed to finish the villa.

The architect who made the 19 inches mistake was fined $60 by another court which made no suggestion of collusion with Wolff.

HUNGER STRIKE

Wolff is an Austrian-born Swiss citizen. At one stage he went on a hunger strike. Supporters hailed him as a martyr in the justice of his cause. The pro-Van Vliessingen suggested that Wolff was doing himself a good turn by going on a hunger strike since he weighed about 220 pounds.

St. Sulpice authorities stood firm. The residence permits of the Van Vliessingens were withdrawn last December and he was ordered to quit the villa.

He refused to leave and the affair has now gone before the federal police in Bern, the capital, who are ultimately responsible for all foreigners in Switzerland.

"I have spent over $60,000 so far in this fight," he says. "If they want me to quit Switzerland, they will have to drag me over the frontier."

A new political factor may decide the issue. Local elections are due this autumn and the affair of the 19 inches threatens to become a major issue. Van Vliessingen has received much sympathy in the village and outgoing council members hoping for reelection are watching the situation carefully.

Cutting of 19 inches off the top of the villa would lower bedroom ceilings and cost perhaps $20,000.

Jurist Is Commended for Foster Decision

Conviction of CARL F. FOSTER on a charge of first-degree murder concluded one of the most bizarre and revolting patterns of criminality ever to outrage this area.

FOSTER, serving time after being found guilty of manslaughter in the strangling of a woman companion, was as result of a sequence of incriminating circumstances charged with the previous murder of his wife. Her death had originally been ruled suicide.

ZIEM

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem, who heard the case without a jury, is to be commended on the juridical excellence of the eight-day proceedings.

In reaching the verdict that carries a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment the jurist faced resolution of three related contingencies in determining the defendant's guilt.

That he did so after due and impartial weighing of the evidence was but characteristic of his fine record as a member of the county bench.

As society struggles to defend itself against accelerating criminality on all levels, one of its main protections is a realistic and uncompromising attitude toward culprits by the judiciary.

Judge Ziem has well served the people of Oakland County and the cause of justice by his firm adjudication of the Foster case.

Scientific Knowledge May Be All in Head

"Long Lines," an employee publication of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., reports an engineering newsletter containing the following help wanted ad came to its attention recently:

"Wanted: Man to work on nuclear fissionable isotope molecular reactive counters and three-phase cyclotron uranium photo-synthesizers. No experience necessary."

Can it be that the generality of mankind has been grossly exaggerating the esoteric nature of the century's fabulous scientific progress?

Area Trade Reports Reflect Happy Days

The 1965 half-year business report for the Pontiac area makes good reading.

While the over-all comparison with 1964 shows a gain of 14.5 per cent, the downtown section rang up a 15 per cent increase, with the improvement of some establishments ranging up to 28 per cent.

In the adjacent shopping centers, Bloomfield Miracle Mile was up 18 per cent over a year ago, the Pontiac Mall saw sales increase by 12 to 15 per cent, while Tel-Huron pointed to a 10 per cent gain in sales.

Considering the present unsettled aspect of downtown Pontiac in its first phase of urban renewal rebuilding and inconvenience suffered by shoppers before initial traffic-flow difficulties on Wide Track Drive were remedied, the sales record of the central business section is especially noteworthy. An officer of Downtown Pontiac Business Association reports that customers are now enthusiastic about Wide Track since they have become familiar with its traffic pattern and the facilitation of movement it provides.

Since jurisdictional boundaries in our mushrooming area are no longer of consequence businesswise, the well-being of one section of the community inevitably has favorable effect on the whole of it.

It is on this note that we render a hearty salute to the entire Pontiac business community on the impressive progress recorded.

Ups and Downs of Viet Reports

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON—The ups and downs of an endless journey.

That could be the name for a story about the trips American officials have made to Viet Nam in recent years and their reports on how the war looked.

These reports varied from bright and optimistic to sober and gloomy. Right now they're in the sober, if not gloomy, period.

One thing is certain: Despite the dismal prospect, it took the United States a long time to do something which might turn the tide, if it isn't too late — bomb North Viet Nam.

Now Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has just come back from a five-day inspection of the war front to tell President Johnson the war has deteriorated. MANY MORE TROOPS NEEDED

The defense chief said many more troops are needed to fight the Communist guerrillas.

Here are some of the McNamara views after trips to Viet Nam and Honolulu.

January 1962 — He said he felt encouraged.

May 1962 — He said he felt "tremendously encouraged."

July 1962 — He said the war might go on for "years rather than months."

September 1963 — He said "we are winning out there."

Just two months later the South Vietnamese deposed President Ngo Dinh Diem, and killed him. The war has been deteriorating pretty much ever since.

December 1963 — McNamara was still "optimistic."

March 1964 — He said "the path to victory may be hard."

May 1964 — He said the war was going to be a "long, hard war."

While American aid was slowly increased, the United States seemed to dawdle along, not wanting to get too directly involved until the guerrillas last February attacked a U.S. air base in South Viet Nam.

ORDERED N. VIET BOMBING

Then Johnson ordered the bombing of North Viet Nam targets, a project which has been going on ever since. It was a vital military decision.

The puzzling thing is why the administration had to wait for an air base to be attacked before deciding bombing was necessary to break the back of the guerrillas.

It may have seemed more plausible to the administration — thinking of world opinion — to wait until American forces were directly attacked before plunging fully into the war.

But the United States already was up to its hips in the war and the delayed decision about full-scale American participation just gave the guerrillas more time to batter the South Vietnamese and occupy more country.

Now the United States has about 75,000 troops in Viet Nam. After this latest report from McNamara the administration may decide to add 100,000 more troops.

David Lawrence Says:

Need More Concern Over Crime

WASHINGTON — Everybody naturally laments the loss of 563 Americans in Viet Nam during the last four years, but it may come as a surprise to learn that in a single year in the United States itself nearly 16 times as many persons — or approximately 9,000 — were murdered.

So there would seem to be a greater need for concern today over the lack of progress in the "war on crime" than over the war in Viet Nam, judging at least by the casualties.

Military experts, of course, are trying to devise methods of curtailing casualties in the land, sea and air operations. But there seem to be few experts coming forth with ways and means of cutting down the rising crime rate in America.

President Johnson is planning to appoint a national crime commission, the members of which will be announced shortly.

Unfortunately, the statistics thus far gathered show that, even apart from the murders, other types of crime run into the millions and range all the way from robbery to forcible rape and aggravated assault.

MORE URGENT

This presents perhaps the most important sociological problem before the country today — more urgent, in a sense, than any of the proposals heretofore advanced for the improvement of economic or social conditions in the United States.

For there is something basically wrong in America, like when the figures plainly show that the number of crimes committed by Negroes is far out of proportion to the percentage of the total population which the Negroes represent.

Thus, out of a population in America of approximately 190 million people estimated by the Census Bureau for 1964, the number of nonwhites was about 12 per cent. But the number of Negroes arrested for crimes of all kinds has been running close to 30 per cent of the total.

This is an astounding situation and has a direct bearing on the discussion in the last few years as to how to improve life in the Negro communities.

GAINING MOMENTUM

The President's War on Poverty is designed, of course, to reach some of the areas where Negroes are unemployed and where many of them turn to robbery and other crimes.

The drive to take care of the unemployed, a major goal of the program, already is gaining considerable momentum today.

Additional information is needed, however, as to the causes of crime.

How many married women, for instance, are working and hence not able to give parental care to their growing children? What influence does neglect of children have on them after they have grown up?

NO DIFFERENCE

The basic causes of crime among Negroes are not different from the causes of crime among whites, for certainly the number of criminals has been increasing substantially in all races, irrespective of sex or age.

The whole subject of what causes crime and what can be done to prevent it, or at least cut it down materially, is bound to grow in importance as population increases throughout the United States.

Bob Considine Says:

U.S. Spacecraft Trackers Are Real Unsung Heroes

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands — In the eddy mated terror and tinsel of manned space flight, one forgets the faceless earth-bound specialists who also serve.

They never are given a ticker-tape parade, never hear a cheer for a job superbly done.

Chuck Rouiller, who looks like a deputy sheriff, the bad guys make a detour around, directs our monitoring station here at Maspalomas.

The little complex of buildings housing the necessary magic boxes and supporting the scanners and antennae that lock on astronauts as they come surging up over the Atlantic horizon, sits on a Sahara-like patch of land near the ocean's edge.

It is a semibarbaric post with no astronaut, not even a breed of American kinship, has yet designed to visit in the role of capsule command liaison officer.

TEAM COMES IN

"We keep a crew of 36 Americans and 25 indigenous people here," Rouiller, a lanky World War II submariner told us. "I'm with NASA, the rest with Bendix, the prime contractor."

"Ten days before a shot, a flight control team comes in, three engineers and two doctors. We have everything ready for them to take over."

Chuck really meant "everything."

If the word from the Bermuda tracking station is "No go," which means the capsule launched minutes before at Kennedy has not reached orbit speed of 17,500 m.p.h., Maspalomas must (a) confirm that step diagnosis and (b) take instant steps to find and recover the space vehicle as it falls near here.

LOCKS IN

If Beasuda says "Go," Maspalomas's 10-foot rack "dishes" and its forked-tongued voice antennae and telemetry systems lock in on the invisible vehicle as it streaks toward and high over this volcanic pimple of Africa's west coast.

If the engineers and doctors here don't like what they are learning from space — an all-ing astronaut or capsule malfunction — they must notify the Houston command post instantly.

If Houston orders the capsule to fire its retrorockets and return to earth, and the astronaut or astronaut refuse, Chuck's station could in effect "shoot" it down with a beam and dump the vehicle in the water on the other side of Africa — where ships and planes would be waiting.

"It's a long wait between shots but the little Spanish-American space colony suffers no disabling neuroses."

"It's fairly quiet here," Chuck told us in an exclusive understatement. "We don't give Kennedy or Houston much trouble."

It is easy to forgive an enemy if we know we can't lick him.

Too Much Restraint

Americans are deluding themselves if they think Europeans admire us for showing "mature restraint" in the face of provocation from Communist Cuba.

What Europeans think of our rapid policy regarding Cuba was well expressed by Italian Sen. Alessandro Lessona during a visit to Portugal. He said, "It is simply inconceivable. Says Southern Hospitality Still Exists in the South

We recently returned from a vacation through the southern states and thought people from Michigan might wonder how they would be treated going through the South, due to the racial troubles. No one could ask to be treated more graciously than we were. While shopping in Mississippi we were asked about how Michigan felt toward the southern people.

The tension from the racial strife has hurt the trade in the South, but if one is his natural self and polite to the southern people, he will find that southern hospitality still exists.

RESIDENT OF MICHIGAN

'Some Programs Defeat Their Own Purpose'

I am currently in the State Prison of Southern Michigan and read comments in The Press concerning the Job Corps. I have the desire to rise above my environment and want to make myself a contributing and useful citizen in society. I have a high school diploma, have acquired a trade as a computer programmer, and have gained a year and a half experience in this trade while having to be here. But I guess I cannot expect any help or assistance from any government program as I have a criminal record.

But what of society's moral interest and obligation in the individual? By definition a parolee has relearned his right to equality. He has paid his debt to society as required by law. Soon I will venture forth to a waiting and watching society which expects me to carve a broad niche for myself far exceeding the mark attained by the normal law-abiding citizen. Yet, I am to do this without society's assistance.

I want to contribute something to society and feel I could, yet I cannot get into a program that might be helpful to me. S. P.

the United States, President Johnson has conferred one of the highest honors ever accorded a Negro in our government. It was richly deserved.

Mr. Marshall was chief counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He has served since 1962 on the Second Circuit Court of Appeals.

In noting that Mr. Marshall was a legal "champion of equal rights" for a quarter century, President Johnson proudly cited Mr. Marshall's many achievements. He was right to do so because Mr. Marshall has proved himself an outstanding American.

Reserves, Gold Holdings Down

Exchange Crisis Grips India

RABOI, India (AP)—Indira Sing swears he and other farmers here in the Punjab could increase crop yields 50 per cent to help feed India if only they had fertilizer.

In New Delhi, Raj Gupta, 34, housewife, would like to split up a bit when her husband comes home from the office. But she has neither lipstick nor rouge.

Thus village and city feel the worst foreign exchange crisis in the 18 years of independent India's economically shaky history.

Reserves are down to about $164 million, gold holdings to $281 million — a total of $445 million, or less than $1 for each of India's 400 million people.

IMPORTS SLASHED

Imports of necessities as well as luxuries have been slashed and Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri warns his people to prepare for "greater discipline and hardship."

Mrs. Gupta and other young Indian women are being told they must wait longer than they feared for better times.

Mrs. Gupta learned last week that she and her husband must wait at least five years to buy a small car — and they already have been on the waiting list five years.

The steady drop in reserves threatens the entire planned economy of democratic-socialist India.

India cannot feed itself, and plans for increasing food production depend upon fertilizer. But there is little money to buy fertilizer.

Infant industries will strangle unless they have raw materials but goods from abroad, especially nonferrous metals and rubber, are scarce.

Some industries are potential earners of foreign exchange, but if they can't import, they can't export — and so goes the circle. Anxiously watching all this are nations that have poured billions into India since 1948 in history's greatest effort to aid a developing country.

AID CLIMBING

The U.S. aid bill alone totals $6.1 billion and is climbing. Wheat shipments average 600,000 tons a month.

With vested interest in India's economic future, some countries offer advice as well as money.

Generally, Western experts suggest the Indians liberalize a Socialist obsession with planning and relax tight controls on every aspect of the economy.

Let traditional market forces loose, the experts urge, and scale down grandiose schemes that clearly are beyond India's means.

Generally, the advice is resented and rejected.

If anything, the government in recent months has hardened its attempts to control the economy. It is increasing its dedication to a mixture of socialism and severely restricted capitalism.

Shastri's political opponents who he is driving the country into bankruptcy. They urge shifts right or left, depending on their politics.

But this ideological quarrel is conducted by, perhaps, one per cent of the population. Farmer Sing and housewife Gupta couldn't care less about politics, or about harnessing themselves to a national effort to pull India ahead.

Divorces Legal From Mexico?

Prominent Attorney Warns on Validity

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Divorce seekers are warned by a prominent Mexican attorney that all Mexican divorces may not be legal, despite a ruling by the New York State Court of Appeals upholding two.

Victor Velasquez, former head of international and Mexican bar organizations, says: "Each divorce, if challenged, will have to be settled on its own merits, in accordance with its own special set of circumstances."

In jurists' eyes, Mexican divorces vary in validity.

VULNERABLE

Divorces in which one spouse is opposed also are vulnerable, but not always illegal.

The majority of divorces are granted where both parties are willing, and one makes the trip to Mexico.

That type was upheld by the New York court, and Velasquez finds no major fault there.

JUST SHOW UP

The average spouse gets "instant residence" — a major attraction of Mexican divorces — by just showing up in a border city and signing a registration ledger.

With this paper — which costs practically nothing — the judge can take action in a few minutes, as he now has jurisdiction over the visitor.

It is estimated that at least 100,000 foreigners have obtained Mexican divorces, mainly Americans and a large percentage from New York.

The influx to Mexico began in the early 1930s when an amendment to the Mexican constitution permitted Mexican states to liberalize their laws to include divorcing foreigners.

Adding Safety Items Will Delay Ramblers

DETROIT (U) — American Motors Corp. said today that incorporation of additional safety features as standard equipment on its 1966 models will delay production of the new cars by one week. The production startup, originally scheduled for Aug. 2 has been postponed until Aug. 9.

Hearing Today on Ruby Judge

DALLAS (UPI)—Jack Ruby's lawyers were scheduled to go before Judge Louis T. Holtan today for a hearing in which they hope to get Judge Joe B. Brown officially removed from the Ruby case.

The hearing was set for 2 p.m. EST.

Brown, who presided in Ruby's trial for the slaying of presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald and pronounced the death sentence, was withdrawn from the case.

But Phil Burleson, Ruby's chief counsel, said Brown's withdrawal left many unanswered questions: the Ruby defense wants answered.

For one thing, Burleson wants to know more about Brown's book, "Dallas, Ruby and the Law."

Burleson asked for the hearing, he said, because he suspects a "conflict of interest" in the case because of the book, from which Brown was expected to make a profit.

Rent Subsidies Assured

Conferees Finish Work on Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new departure in housing legislation — subsidies to help low-income families pay their rent — was assured today after Senate and House negotiators hammered out a $7.5 billion housing bill.

The conferees finished work Thursday on a draft reconciling House and Senate versions. The compromise is expected to win quick approval in the Senate and House next week.

The rent subsidy proposal, to cost $50 million, generated most of the argument about the bill, and this section did not come out of Congress exactly as President Johnson and his housing advisers proposed.

ALTERS EFFECT

This income limitation alters the effect of the subsidy program substantially from what the administration originally proposed. It projected the subsidies as a help for persons not so deprived financially as to qualify for public housing, but still unable to obtain in their communities adequate and sanitary housing for what they could afford.

The subsidies as provided in the bill would be the difference between a fair rent and 25 per cent of family income. This is not quite as generous as the administration proposal to provide the amount above 20 per cent of income.

The government would pay this part of the rent to nonprofit organizations building or buying housing units. None of the subsidies would go to the private landlords.

Sponsors said it may be two to three years before large volume construction of the housing units can be completed, but effects will be felt to some extent much sooner because the bill authorizes the purchase of existing housing units for the program.

CARRIES AUTHORIZATION

The bill also carries authorization for a $47 million-a-year program to provide 240,000 additional low-rent public housing units in a four-year period. Some of the units would be obtained by purchase or rental of existing buildings.

The bill also authorizes $2.9 billion more for urban renewal grants requested by the President to continue in the next four years the program of slum eradication and community development.

The measure would allow lower down payments for homes purchased by war veterans — including those of the cold war — and servicemen under federally insured mortgages. War veterans and those certified to have served on hazardous duty could get their insured mortgages with no down payments. One urban renewal provision would increase from $60 million to $100 million the amount available for property rehabilitation loans.

Although it took a committee of Senate and House members three afternoons of sometimes sharp negotiation to agree on terms, there was no immediate sign there might be much controversy over it in the Senate. There were 32 points of difference between the Senate-House versions, most of them relatively minor.

A reverse for Johnson was the refusal of both the Senate and House to approve his request for a package of aids to help develop model new towns in metropolitan areas.

Tipping Over of Excursion Ship Recalled

CHICAGO (AP) — "All of us were laughing and joking," Anna Grimmer, 70, Oak Park, recalls. "Suddenly the boat lurched to one side and we gasped for breath."

It was 50 years ago at 7:30 a.m. July 24, Mrs. Grimmer, then Anna Meinert, sat on the upper deck of the excursion steamer, Eastland, with fellow employees of Western Electric Co.

Moments after the lurch, the Eastland, which had 2,900 people aboard, rolled on its side and settled in 10 feet of water beside a Chicago River mooring. Within the next few minutes 812 passengers died, most of them trapped in lower deck compartments. Injuries and disease raised the toll later to 836.

Mrs. Grimmer, unable to swim and trying desperately to keep afloat, saw the leg of a man who was clinging to the upset vessel. She grabbed the leg and tried to pull herself out of the water. The man kicked himself free.

"I panicked," she remembers. "That is when I panicked," she remembers.

Like many survivors, she was finally hauled to refuge on the vessel's side, which was above water, and got ashore on a bridge improvised from rafts.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS SPECIAL REPORT

The Eastland was one of five boats chartered for the holiday outing of 7,000 employees of Western Electric's Hawthorne Works. The picnic was to have been held in Michigan City, Ind., a four-hour boat ride from Chicago.

As hundreds struggled in the water, workers in the big Reid-Murdoch building, now Chicago's Traffic Court Center, threw wooden chairs into the river from the windows. Produce handlers in South Water Market across the river heaved lettuce crates, fruit baskets and whatever was at hand that would float. Many survivors grabbed these makeshift life preservers.

BOARDING DECK

Joseph J. Paluch, 74, a retired Chicago savings and loan executive, stood on the boarding deck with a friend, Barney Napolski, as the open hatch on the left side of the vessel suddenly dipped under the murky water. "The weight of the boat caused an extreme force of water through our opening, and we were carried across the boat," he recalls.

"The other side was not turned up, and I could see the light. The water was near the top, and we had no trouble getting out."

Moments later, Paluch and Napolski were lying on the Eastland's hull beside the hatch, dragging others out of the vessel.

LAIID IN LINES

Victims were brought ashore and laid in lines. For a time, efforts were made to resuscitate them.

More than $500,000 was raised for the relief of families who lost breadwinners, $175,000 of it by Western Electric people and the rest by other Chicagoans.

The circumstances which caused the 2,900-ton ship to capsize were fixed in a finding by the federal courts. On Aug. 7, two weeks after the accident, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld a lower court ruling that the Eastland's owners were not liable for damages. The Eastland was seaworthy, the courts held. Responsibility was not pinned down, although the finding said instability resulted from failure to maintain full water ballast tanks.

TANKS EMPTIED

The ballast tanks had been emptied in order to raise the low boarding hatch high enough to accommodate a gangplank from the river bank.

The Eastland lay unused in a slip for years after the accident. Then the Navy claimed it, took away most of the high superstructure, painted the vessel and renamed it the Wilmette. During World War II, the ship served on Lake Michigan training Navy gun crew members which she took on cruises 800 at a time.

In 1946, at the age of 43, the ship was sold for scrap.

French chemists first began experimenting successfully with detergents in the middle of the 19th century. The detergents later were developed in Germany during World War I. Mass production began in this nation in the 1930s.

Burglars entered the station during the night but left the safe unlocked. They locked the safe in trying to open it.

Romney Signs 46 Bills, Including Jobless Measure

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney signed 46 bills into law and vetoed five Thursday, and the last 86 legislature-approved measures were due to be acted upon today.

Heading the list Thursday was an omnibus act containing the most extensive revision of the employment security law in 18 years and a pair of controversial birth control bills.

The unemployment compensation bill raises benefits generally by about 20 per cent. It makes improvements in the duration of benefits for some workers and eases up the disqualification rules.

The benefit range jumps from $33-$40 a week to $45-$72.

Both Romney and Democratic legislators praised the bill. Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee and one of the backers of the measure, praised it for correcting "an inequitable situation...after years of inaction."

Romney praised it as "another important advance in our efforts to revise Michigan's labor laws from a public interest standpoint."

The birth control measures provide family planning information and assistance to welfare recipients and allow the setting up of clinics for women on medical assistance.

They permit caseworker

A pair of senior citizen bills eliminate the so-called "lien" provisions from the medical assistance for the aging act and the old age assistance act.

The state until now had recovered the cost of these programs from the estates of deceased persons who received either type of assistance.

The state will have greater control over the dredging and filling of bottomlands by shoreline owners on inland lakes and streams under terms of another bill signed by Romney.

Any township with a population of more than 100 will be able to establish a housing commission under terms of another bill approved. Such commissions currently are limited to townships of more than 18,000 population in counties of more than 400,000.

CHILD TREATMENT

Children mistreated by their parents would receive special protection from the State Social Welfare Department under another bill signed. It would apply in cases that come to the attention of the department, in which children are not receiving adequate care, but in which the problem is not serious enough to warrant probate court action.

Another measure sets up a commission on Indian affairs. The commission, operating through the welfare department, is to investigate problems and assist in the economic, education, health and welfare advancement of "those residents of the state whose rights and privileges have been defined by treaty."

The 11th state-supported institution of higher learning—Saginaw Bay State College—was set up by another measure. The school, long sought by Bay, Midland and Saginaw counties, is the first created by state law since Grand Valley State College in 1961.

After seven years of trying by legislators, a statewide meat inspection program became law. Taking effect next Jan. 1, the meat inspection law will enable the State Department of Agriculture to conduct the inspections on a uniform basis, to approve existing inspection programs and to work out a cooperative agreement with the U. S. Department of Agriculture—permitting state-produced meat to enter interstate commerce.

There were five vetoes.

FIVE VETOS

One was on a measure which would have limited the governor's extradition powers in interstate family support cases. Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley had reported to Romney the measure would violate the U. S. Constitution.

Romney turned down a bill which would have granted a $1 million windfall to liquor dealers by changing their discount formula. Romney said the change would have given the dealers a 10 per cent discount of state taxes on liquor sales.

The governor also disapproved a measure which would have increased membership on the Wayne County Civil Service Commission from three to five members.

Two other bills sent back with vetoes would have provided for gubernatorial appointees to fill vacancies on the governing boards of the three major universities would only hold office until the following general election.

At present, such appointments to the boards of the University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne State University are for the full unexpired terms.

A principal signed bill among several aimed at improving conditions for migrant workers was one providing for licensing and inspection of agricultural labor camps by the state health commissioner.

A related bill appropriates $15,000 for operation of experimental elementary classes for children of migrant workers this summer.

A third measure calls for adoption of rules and regulations by the department of agriculture before next July 1 to protect the health and safety of migrant workers during transportation to and from their place of employment.

Laud MSU for No Fee Increase

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University's trustees praised the MSU administration Thursday for preparing a 1965-66 budget which raised neither tuition nor dormitory housing charges.

"A highly commendable job," said Warren M. Huff, chairman of the board of trustees which approved a budget of about $115 million.

The budget calls for $51.97 million to operate the East Lansing campus, up $8.4 million from last year, and $3.43 million for Oakland University, up $678,300 from last year.

Huff praised the $7,187,398 increase in the legislature's appropriation for MSU, which is expecting an enrollment of 36,500 this fall—up 3,500 from last year.

SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS

In his budget report, Philip J. May, vice president for business and finance, said, "Certainly all of the legitimate needs have not been funded, but substantial progress has been made."

He said the budget "recognizes the need for additional faculty to teach an expanded student enrollment, it provides salary adjustments which should bring MSU salaries to near the midpoint of Big Ten salary averages. It increases the library budget to $1,688,401 and provides for the maintenance of new facilities."

It also includes slight increases for MSU's agricultural experiment station, which will receive $4.9 million. May said the business office will collect and disburse about $50 million more in the operation of auxiliary enterprises, for contract research, international aid programs, athletics and other items.

Major sources of income will be the state appropriation of $38.5 million and student fees totaling an expected $11.5 million.

Of the $51.97 million for the East Lansing campus, $36 million will go into salaries.

May said $2.8 million in the budget was for 200 additional faculty positions, plus 197 graduate assistants, 122 new clerical-technical positions and 43 administrative-professional positions.

Nasser Talk Indicates Dip in U.S.-U.A.R. Relations

CAIRO (AP)—Relations between the United Arab Republic and the United States appeared to be taking a new turn for the worse today, the 13th anniversary of the revolution that brought Gamal Abdel Nasser to power.

President Nasser charged Washington with making "astonishing" demands on his government in return for U.S. aid.

The government news agency accused Bruce Taylor Odell, 27, political attaché of the U.S. Embassy in Cairo, of being an agent of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and said he got information harmful to Egypt's security from Cairo editor Mustafa Amin. Amin was arrested in Alexandria last weekend.

Speaking at a rally in downtown Cairo, Nasser said the United Arab Republic "faced many political and economic pressures from the United States. As the United States gave Egypt essential aid of wheat shipments, relations improved in 1969 and 1960, but as the wheat supplies increased, then began the pressure basically concerning Israel."

'ASTONISHING'

Late in 1963, he asserted, the United States asked the U.A.R. not to produce nuclear weapons, to stop production of missiles, to freeze the size of the Egyptian army and to allow American officials to make inspections to assure the agreement was being carried out.

"I was astonished by these demands. Why not simply announce our country was an American colony?" he told the cheering crowd.

Nasser said the U.S. aid agreement, which has expired, totaled 80 million pounds ($184.8 million). "But we are not ready to sell our country, to depend on the United States for our existence and obey orders."

The government news agency said Amin, editor of the nationalized newspaper Akhbar Al-Yom, was picked up as he handed a weekly report to Odell.

To Fight Selection of New Guard Chief

LANSING (UPI)—The attorney for ousted Maj. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald said today he plans to take steps "early next week" to challenge the appointment of a new adjutant general for the Michigan National Guard.

George S. Bushnell Jr. said he would write Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley asking him to initiate quo warranto action in the State Supreme Court against Maj. Gen. Clarence C. Schnipke, who was named to the adjutant general's post by Gov. George Romney yesterday.

Bushnell said that under Supreme Court rules, the attorney general is the one to bring the action. "But if he refuses to do so, we can bring it on ourselves," Bushnell said.

Under quo warranto proceedings, one who holds an office is challenged to prove under what authority he is entitled to hold it. The challenger—in this case Bushnell—must also prove why the officer does not have the right.

"This is another aspect of our attempt to get judicial reviews of McDonald's case," Bushnell said. "If we are successful in persuading the court to hear the action, it may well eliminate our pending proceedings in the court of appeals."

WAS REMOVED

McDonald was removed May 20 as adjutant general by Romney following a lengthy executive hearing in which Romney found the general guilty of misfeasance, malfeasance and gross neglect of duty in office.

McDonald says Romney's action in removing him was illegal and is in the process of preparing an appeal to the State Court of Appeals.

Although he praised Romney's choice of Schnipke, who was his assistant and later acting adjutant general during the hearings, McDonald said the governor's action "helps my case considerably."

"It may prove the shortest way through the courts," McDonald said.

IF COURT AGREES

Bushnell said if the court agrees to hear the quo warranto action and decides in McDonald's favor it could possibly do one of three things:

- Reinstate McDonald as adjutant general.
- Declare the office vacant pending judicial review of the case.
- Say the governor proceeded in error and direct that other proceedings—such as a court-martial—be instituted.

Schnipke, was automatically raised to the rank of major general from colonel upon his appointment, has been acting adjutant general since McDonald was originally relieved Oct. 8, 1964.

McDonald was removed along with Brig. Gen. Carson R. Neifert, the state's quartermaster general, for irregularities in the guard's operations disclosed by a special audit.

Districting Fight in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate was caught up today in a battle over Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen's proposed constitutional amendment on legislative reapportionment.

The fight may be a lengthy one. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said, "I'm not as optimistic as I was" about adjourning by Labor Day. "This could throw a roadblock in the way."

The amendment to overturn the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote decision of last year would permit one house of state legislatures to be apportioned on the basis of geography and political subdivisions as well as population if the people approved in a referendum.

Dirksen got the issue before the Senate by calling up a resolution to designate Aug. 31-Sept. 8 as American Legion Baseball Week and then moving to substitute for it his proposed constitutional amendment.

NEAR SUPPORT

Mansfield later told newsmen he was "leaning very strongly in the direction" of supporting Dirksen's proposal to support the Supreme Court ruling that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on the basis of population.

Although opposing sides were digging in for a determined battle, Mansfield said he did not expect the Senate to be paralyzed until the issue is resolved.

He said he understood Dirksen was agreeable to permit action on vital bills like the defense appropriations measure and various noncontroversial measures to be sandwiched into the debate on reapportionment.

Also, Conference Committee agreements on bills previously passed by both the Senate and the House like the Social Security-health care measure have a privileged status and can be called up at any time.

DEADLOCK

Dirksen carried the issue directly to the Senate after he found earlier in the week that its Judiciary Committee apparently was deadlocked 8-8 on his proposed amendment.

President Johnson never has taken a public stand on Dirksen's amendment, but Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has been fighting it behind the scenes.

Dirksen's maneuver to bring it before the Senate drew protest from Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., one of the leading opponents. Douglas called it "a disruptive move."

Dirksen made no bones of the fact that he intends to use "whatever weapons are available under the rules." He declared he was playing for keeps in what he called a battle to protect the sovereign rights of the states to determine the makeup of their legislatures.

Douglas was equally emphatic. Pounding his desk, he said, "We'll fight it out on this line if it takes all summer, all fall and all year."

Tale of Two Wars

Viet, Korea: Some Similarities, but Key Differences

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — The question most often asked someone back from Viet Nam is:
"How does it compare with the campaign in Korea?"

There are some similarities, but also important differences. It is some of those differences that make our present-est problem more difficult.

The terrain of Viet Nam is not unlike that of Korea. Both have rice paddies, rugged mountains and a marked shortage of excellent roads.

The climates of the two countries are, of course, quite dissimilar. Korea was a two-weather war — very hot in summer, very cold in winter. In Viet Nam the danger of frostbite isn't one of our major military menaces, or likely to become one.

The nature of our enemy in the two places is almost identical. Although the average Viet Cong soldier is slightly smaller than the North Korean, he is equally well-trained, resourceful in the use of weapons and landscape, and able to get a lot of mileage out of a ball of rice. He appears almost inhumanly different to his own physical comfort.

SOLDIERLY QUALITIES
In soldierly qualities the Viet Cong cannot escape our grudging admiration.

One of the major differences between our present problem in Viet Nam and that we faced in Korea lies in the position of the two countries.

Korea is a peninsula. By our control of the sea, we could isolate our enemy from support and supply except from one direction — the north.

We could take one end of the peninsula and squeeze it like a toothpaste tube, and concentrate our enemy at the other end. This is what we did in Korea.

NOT THAT SIMPLE

It isn't quite that simple in Viet Nam. That land cannot be completely isolated by sea power. It has mountainous and jungle borders with two other countries — Laos and Cambodia. This helps the hit-and-run warfare tactics of the Viet Cong, makes it harder for us to put a military fist around them and squeeze them out.

As of now we do not have at all the firm battle line so beloved by classic practitioners of the military art.

What we have is a kind of potka-dot war. Our positions of power merely dot the map of South Viet Nam, and the enemy flows around and between them in restless prowess, assaulting them almost as he chooses.

Our task now is to begin to connect and unite these separated strongholds, so that we will have more space to move in and the enemy will have less fluidity.

FAIR GUESS

It probably is a fair guess that from now on we will use tanks, artillery and aircraft in more formidable numbers than we have as yet. But it would be unwise to assume this will save us from the mass employment of our own infantry, which we also had to call on in Korea.

A final comparison: The South Korean in 1950 had a stable government and responded to the challenge of invasion with immediate and stubborn ferocity. On the other hand, the South Vietnamese of today holds a dubious loyalty to any government and is wearied by much fighting and little progress. He is somewhat groggy from being hit so often.

This means that instead of having a fit ally we have one whose purpose we may have to rebuild, as well as his strength. Fifteen years after the outbreak of conflict in Korea we still have troops stationed there. The same possibility exists in respect to Viet Nam.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN
PROBLEM: A simple chemical change.

NEEDED: Sugar, an old spoon, and a stove.

DO THIS: Place the sugar in the spoon, and heat over a fire or an electric stove eye until the sugar has become a black mass.

WHAT HAPPENS: Sugar is composed of carbon, oxygen and hydrogen. The heat changes the sugar to carbon, which remains, and water, which leaves the spoon as steam or vapor. The chemical change that has taken place is written: C12H22O11 — 12C 11H2O.

Nasser's Unity Still a Dream

CAIRO (AP) — Gamal Abdel Nasser, senior revolutionary of the Middle East and champion of Arab unity, is celebrating today his 13 years in power.

Nasser, 47, had proclaimed this would be the decisive struggle for the Middle East, but the image of Arab unity is broken up like the pieces of a jigsaw puzzle. Egypt is isolated from its neighbors and limping from economic stagnation.

"The past six months and the past few weeks have witnessed the collapse of Nasser's policies in the Middle East, Africa and elsewhere," one diplomatic source in Cairo contends.

But few diplomats or few Arabs expect the defection of the Arab world will be more than a temporary setback for the Socialist leader. Nasser specializes in crises, deftly riding the shifting sands of the Arab world. He has emerged victor from almost every political challenge he has faced since he and 90 fellow officers took control of Egypt in a midnight coup July 23, 1952.

CURRENT TEST

The current challenge is a breakaway from Cairo's leadership of Arab capitals from Algiers to Baghdad.

The overthrow of Ahmed Ben Bella in Algeria and a government shift in Israel have left Nasser stripped of his major allies. Kuwait, whose foundations of oil make it the financier of the Middle East, walked out of the Arab Common Market and lined up with Saudi Arabia whose King Faisal is one of Nasser's chief adversaries.

Other Arab League members, such as Jordan, Sudan and Lebanon, busy themselves with problems at home. Tunisia, Morocco and Libya pursue their own non-Nasserist ways. Syria maintains a wave of anti-Nasser propaganda. It sent squads of terrorist commandos into Israel to embarrass Egypt by hinting that Damascus and not Cairo was leading the fight against that country and that Arab League plans to perch Israel by cutting off the Jordan River had bogged down.

For the moment, Nasser's only disciple is Yemen, but the cost of maintaining 50,000 Egyptian troops there is a burden.

EGYPTIAN HERO

At home, the mass of Egyptians ignore the shortcomings of Nasser's policies against the Congo and West Germany. They follow Nasser as a hero who has given them dignity and hope and such benefits as land, free education and medical care.

But in Egypt, the economic challenge is deepening. Grumbling can be heard in cities where factory hands, nationalized workers and government employees have been pampered by the rush into socialism — and wealthy pashas and businessmen have been wrung dry.

Food prices have been rising in cooperative shops. A decree ordering three meatless days weekly meant little since few could afford meat. Such simple items as matches are hard to get. The cost of living rose 14 per cent in the past year. Retail prices have jumped 29 per cent in two years.

Nasser's haste in trying to transform Egypt into a modern state, with a massive program of projects and few factories, has drained foreign currency reserves, leaving not enough to buy essential imports.

STREET SCENES

Tourists who wander off Cairo's main streets or into villages along the Nile encounter different scenes, recalling the squalor of the Middle Ages. One hundred yards from the tourist magnet of the Cairo Bazaar, crowds of barefoot, long-robed Egyptians huddle idly beneath the walls of the ancient mosques on the straw-covered ground.

brushing away flies, and steeped in the lethargy of centuries.

For three years, Nasser has relied on American aid and food shipments to keep prices at a level where his people could afford to eat.

Faced with expiration of an aid agreement with the United States, Nasser called off his anti-American campaign and once again is maintaining a carefully neutral balance between East and West.

Recent visitors to Nasser's office report he is getting heavier — pressures leave him little time for tennis — but he appears relaxed, confident and unharmed.

Junior Editors Quiz on HOMOGENIZED MILK

QUESTION: Why and how is milk homogenized?

ANSWER: Milk is an emulsion; that is, a watery liquid in which particles of another, more oily liquid are suspended or scattered.

In milk, these fatty particles are called "butter fat." Although suspended in water, the butter fat does not mix with it, which is why, when a bottle of milk is allowed to stand, the fatty particles float to the top as cream.

Like Lisa in the picture, many people prefer to have their milk in this form, especially because cream tastes so good on such things as breakfast cereal.

But Jerry likes the smooth even richness of homogenized milk and so do many other people, which is one reason why milk is treated in this way. Another reason is that homogenized milk is always ready to use, without having to shake cream and bottom milk together.

"Homogeneous" means "of the same kind" and, in this kind of milk, every drop has the same amount of butter fat.

To produce this result, milk is forced through very small openings at high pressure. The globules of butter fat are broken up into much smaller ones, which become evenly distributed.

The result is that milk treated this way remains at an even richness.

FOR YOU TO DO: Now that you know how homogenized milk is made from ordinary milk, find out something about the process of making butter.

EXPERIMENTAL SHIP COMPLETED — The Navy's Sealab II is to be christened today in Long Beach, Calif. The 13-by-57-foot steel cylinder will be sunk off La Jolla in mid-August as an underwater home for 20 divers, including astronaut M. Scott Carpenter. The men will stay in the ship as long as 30 days as part of the Navy's "man in the sea" program.

Malfunctions Mar Gemini Test

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Technical problems plagued an important space flight rehearsal Thursday, climaxed by a balky gantry that stranded astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. for more than an hour in a spacecraft atop a Titan 2 rocket.

The gantry, which houses an elevator, refused to lift into place around the rocket after Cooper and Conrad had completed a practice run for their eight-day Gemini 3 flight, scheduled to begin Aug. 19.

Finally, a crane-like device called a "cherry picker" lifted a bucket up to the spacecraft, and the astronauts, clad in their space suits, were lowered 100 feet to the ground.

A faulty electrical switch was blamed. Failure of this same tower to fold back, also because of an electrical problem, caused a 16-minute delay in the countdown on last month's Gemini 4 launching of astronaut James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II.

WERE PARTICIPATING
Air Force Lt. Col. Cooper and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Conrad also were participating in a vital test for the Gemini 6 mission during which an attempt will be made to link up with an Agena satellite.

Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford will pilot the Gemini 6 craft.

On the Gemini 6 launching, scheduled for October, Schirra and Stafford will be launched on a Titan 2, 85 minutes after the Atlas-Agena takes off. They will chase the orbiting Agena, hoping to catch and merge with it during the fourth orbit.

Many technical problems developed during the dual countdown and delayed the anticipated lift-off of both rockets by more than six hours.

COMMUNICATIONS LINK
A major difficulty was the communications link between the two blockhouses, the individual counts of several contractors, the Launch Control Center here, and the Mission Control Center in Houston, Tex.

na was not fueled for Thursday's exercise.

The official said a possible solution is to have the launch center at the Cape send Agena commands until launching, with Houston taking over on lift-off. Several corrective avenues are open.

Teachers in Need of Lodgings

The annual problem of teacher recruitment in Waterford Township Schools has been re-emphasized this year by the lack of finding adequate housing for the new teachers, according to M. Barrett Vorce, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction and personnel.

Recent across-the-board pay increases, which raised starting salaries from $5,100 to $5,350, is the primary reason a teacher shortage is almost nonexistent in the township school system.

It enables Waterford Township to compete on at least an equal basis with most of the school systems in the state.

However, finding suitable living quarters for the 150 replacement teachers who will begin teaching in the township's 33 primary and secondary buildings this fall may not be so easy.

Vorce estimates that at least 25 per cent of the new teachers will want to rent homes or apartments, and rentals are scarce in the Pontiac area.

SEARCH IS ON

Vorce admits that the Board of Education is "begging" for places to rent, even though the problem may not be as crucial as in past years because of new apartment developments in Waterford Township.

But because of the area's rapidly growing pace, the demand is greater than the supply in the case of apartments.

Vorce noted that only 10 full-time teacher vacancies remain for the fall term.

SUBSTITUTES

Substitute teachers are being sought for the forthcoming school year, noted Vorce. "We're always recruiting substitutes."

To qualify as a substitute teacher, a person must have completed a minimum of 90 hours college credit.

There will be approximately 700 teachers in the system this fall, according to Vorce.

K. of C. Opens Fund Project

Members of the Waterford Township Knights of Columbus Council No. 5436, have announced the formation of a corporation to raise funds for a Knights of Columbus Hall in Waterford Township.

The campaign organization, Pope John XXIII Building Corporation, is presently selling shares of capital stock at $10 per share, said Andrei Csiki, vice president.

There is no limit to the number of shares which may be purchased, according to Csiki.

The campaign goal is $85,000. Interested parties may contact Csiki or the corporation's treasurer, Carl McMahon, 2837 Huntington, Waterford Township.

Currently, the council has no building of its own.

Members hope to buy or build an adequate building to be used for special events and Knights of Columbus purposes.

React to McKeithen Forecast

Negroes Say Biracial Unit Won't Work

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Two Negro leaders say Gov. John J. McKeithen is mistaken if he thinks a biracial commission on human relations will eliminate civil rights protests in Louisiana.

That was the reaction of Ron Moore of the Congress of Racial Equality and Murphy Bell of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to McKeithen's prediction Thursday that the proposed 40-man advisory committee on race relations would quell racial trouble spots.

"Negroes with any respect at all for the efforts of their race" can not serve on the governor's committee, said a joint statement by Moore, CORE's state field director, and Bell, Baton Rouge NAACP chapter president.

McKeithen's forecast was "a very sad error," they said.

ON HORIZON

Meanwhile, Bogalusa city officials said they believed racial peace was on the horizon. They were echoed by one Negro leader.

Public Safety Commissioner Arnold Spiers said Bogalusa whites weren't getting agitated anymore over the daily civil rights demonstrations in the paper mill town of 22,000.

Robert Hicks, an official of the all-Negro Bogalusa Voters and Civic League, said he thought an end to the tension was in sight.

McKeithen told a news conference at Baton Rouge the proposed biracial agency, which he will name shortly, will eliminate racial tension and build public sentiment against "hellraisers and troublemakers" of both races. "We don't need CORE," said McKeithen. "We're trying to put an end to CORE in Louisiana."

CLARIFIES REMARKS

Afterward he issued a statement clarifying remarks he made about eliminating CORE.

"I mean that our commission, by functioning in a manner fair to both races, would destroy the need for CORE or any similar group, white or colored, in Louisiana," said McKeithen.

Dave Dennis of New Orleans, CORE's regional program director, said, "There's only one thing that can run CORE out of Louisiana — that's freedom for all the people."

Kentucky was the first state to qualify for a federal grant for banning billboards on interstate highways.

'Congress Should End Work Soon'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Senate leaders agreed today that Congress should wind up its business as swiftly as possible — but with no specific deadline for adjournment, the White House reported.

Johnson conferred with Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen. Afterwards, Press Secretary Bill Moyers said the situation in Viet Nam was not on their agenda.

Top level advisers for a mid-day meeting said what Secretary of State Dean Rusk has termed "a crisis situation" there.

Moyers said Johnson met with the Senate leaders to review the status of legislation, and told them "he has never known a Congress to be less personal or less partisan or more cooperative."

Moyers said the President and the two senators agreed that the sooner legislative business can be wound up the better.

NO DEADLINE

"They agreed that there was no deadline," Moyers added. At the same time, Moyers said he is confident that when Johnson decides what to do about Viet Nam he will consult with them.

"Unquestionably," he said, "when the time for decision nears, the President will consult with the leaders of Congress if it is necessary."

"This meeting has no relationship whatsoever to Viet Nam," Moyers said of Johnson's talk with the senators.

Moyers said the White House has no more legislation to propose now. But he did not rule out a possible call for congressional action on the Viet Nam situation.

NOT SAYING NO

"I'm not ruling out any actions that might be necessary as a result of the decisions that might be taken," he said.

Moyers, who sat in on part of the meeting with Mansfield and Dirksen, said he heard no discussion of Dirksen's proposed constitutional amendment on legislative reapportionment. The White House has announced no position on that measure.

Presidential Assistant Lawrence O'Brien, Johnson's congressional liaison man, also attended the meeting.

Low Tokyo Voter Turnout

TOKYO (AP) — Although the national government's control of the Tokyo city administration was at stake, there was a surprisingly low turnout for the election today of a new metropolitan assembly.

Only about 48.5 per cent of the 7.5 million registered voters had voted an hour before the polls closed. Internationally, observers and the fact that it was a working day were believed the reason.

The vote followed one of the most heated campaigns in the capital's history. Defeat for Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's Liberal-Democrats would be a serious setback for Sato's government.

A total of 308 candidates ran for the 120 assembly seats. It was dissolved June 14 after disclosure of graft and corruption among many of its members. Seventeen Liberal-Democrats have been indicted.

The Liberal-Democrats held 66 seats in the old assembly, a majority of 12.

Report 5 Dead in Ship Blaze

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The U. S. Coast Guard said five persons are reported dead today in the pre-dawn fire aboard the Irish Sycamore, a 448-foot freighter docked at the public commodities wharf.

Fire broke out in the superstructure just before dawn. Cause of the blaze on the 10,500-ton vessel was not determined.

Fire fighting units reported to the Coast Guard that the center flames appeared to be in check. Fire control boats in the Mississippi River and units on the wharf were showering the craft from all sides.

Damages were expected to run into the thousands of dollars.

The ship is based out of Dublin, Eire.

Marine's Widow Plans to Enlist for Duty in Viet

DETROIT (AP) — The 18-year-old widow of a Detroit Marine killed in Viet Nam said today she plans to enlist in the armed forces and request duty in Viet Nam.

Mrs. Kay Lorraine Bell, a bride of seven months, said she would go "not for revenge but to do my part also."

She said she wants to be trained as a nurse and aid wounded servicemen.

Mrs. Bell said she was informed that her husband, Cpl. Elias Bell Jr., 18, was killed in a helicopter crash on a beach near Da Nang, South Viet Nam. The battalion was ambushed moments after it reached the beach, she said.

Her husband's body was returned to Detroit by plane last night, accompanied by his brother Army Pfc. Isaac Bell, who also was stationed in Viet Nam.

Soviets Orbit 8th Satellite

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today launched its eighth unmanned satellite in a recent spurge of cosmic activity that has sharpened speculation about the nation's next manned flight.

Russia orbited its sixth "Cosmos" observation satellite of the recent series to radio back data to scientists in the Soviet Union. There has been a "Proton 1" and a "Zond 3" also.

The Russians claimed a "new powerful booster" was used in the latest Cosmos shot, heightening speculation that it may pave the way for a heavy manned space ship later this year.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said the new satellite is circling the earth every 92.3 minutes and that its angle of inclination is 48.8 degrees.

Tass said the satellite's maximum distance from earth is 338 miles and that it comes to within 141 miles at its closest point.

The news agency said instruments aboard the satellite were "functioning normally."

Against School Policy

Dr. King Will Lead Drive in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., a spearhead of the civil-rights movement in the South, is aiming his campaign at Chicago this weekend.

The president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference was expected to arrive tonight for a briefing on his role in what he has billed as the first major effort in a Northern city.

Dr. King was invited to Chicago by the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, an alliance of groups now concentrating on a drive for racial integration of the public schools.

The program coordinator, Dr. Alvin Pitcher, a professor at the University of Chicago Divinity School, said the purpose is to enlist people and raise money for the anti-segregation forces.

CHIEF DEMAND

Their chief demand is the ouster of School Supt. Benjamin C. Willis. They term him the main obstacle to ending alleged de facto segregation in the schools. The school system is based on the traditional neighborhood pattern and student bodies reflect the racial character of each area.

The Board of Education moved for a compromise settlement in May by voting to retain Willis after his contract expires Aug. 31, but only until he reaches the age of 65 late next year.

That didn't satisfy the anti-Willis groups and on June 10 they began a series of almost daily marches on the City Hall, chanting "Willis must go."

The Willis foes have talked with Mayor Richard J. Daley and board members, but their differences on the superintendent's tenure persist.

TOWN DIVIDED

Citizens are split on the issue. Two of Chicago's six Negro aldermen commented on the King visit. They expressed conflicting views.

Ralph Metcalfe of the 3rd Ward, a regular Democrat, stated he had no part in inviting Dr. King.

LETTER OF WELCOME

Charles Chew of the 17th Ward, an independent Democrat, said he had sent King a letter of welcome.

"I wish he could stay in the city," he added, "and help us get rid of the superintendent and get quality, integrated education."

Only a minute fraction of Chicago's estimated 900,000 Negroes have joined in the marches. The number of demonstrators has ranged from about 100 to 750, and those totals included many white persons.

The program for "We Can't Wait Weekend" calls for Dr. King to lead a march on city hall Monday.

MAYOR HOST

Mayor Daley has invited Dr. King to meet with him Saturday. King will be busy then. He wants to meet the mayor Monday, when Daley plans to be out of the city.

Dr. King is listed for 14 street rallies in Negro neighborhoods in Chicago, 8 Saturday and 6 Sunday.

He will speak Sunday night in suburban Winnetka. The village of 13,000 population has a median income of $20,166 but no Negro home owners. A glance through the ads in the weekly newspaper, Winnetka Talk, shows homes for sale at $22,500

'Have Goods on 6 in $1.5-Million Holdup'

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Herald said today in a copyrighted story that postal authorities have enough evidence to obtain six indictments in the $1.5-million, Plymouth mail truck robbery.

The Herald said authorities have delayed bringing the case before a federal grand jury to make a "frantic, last-ditch attempt" to recover about $500,000 from the largest cash robbery in United States history. It occurred in August 1962.

The robbery took place as the mail truck was taking bank deposits from Cape Cod to the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston. One bandit wearing a police uniform stopped the truck and others tied up the truck crew and drove off. The robbery netted $1,561,377.

The Herald said authorities recently began using a light plane to watch a man living in a Boston suburb who is believed to have masterminded the robbery.

He is one of nine suspects, the paper said. "Every fair morning," the story said, "as early as 7 o'clock, a light plane laden with advanced communications equipment arrives over the suspect's residence."

"It circles, sometimes for as long as three hours, waiting for him to leave his home" in one of his two Cadillacs.

"The moment either car leaves the house, the plane radios several unmarked cars waiting in the neighborhood, and gives the direction he is taking.

The Herald quoted its source as saying the suspect knows he is being followed.

The Herald said the cost of the investigation has exceeded the cash loss in the robbery.

William White, chief postal inspector for New England, was quoted as declining comment on the investigation.

Innocent Man Gets Award

$35,000 for 17 Years in Jail

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — A man who described himself as "still quite bitter," didn't show it when told that Illinois had awarded him $35,000 for 17 years of wrongful imprisonment.

"Did he really sign it?" asked 56-year-old Ted Marcin.

The reference was to Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner, who signed the enabling legislation for the award Thursday.

Marcin, a beer truck driver, told the Associated Press, "If you can say a good word for Otto Kerner, please do it."

PROHIBITION DEATH
Marcin served in Joliet Penitentiary from 1933 to 1950, in connection with the slaying of a Chicago policeman who was shot down in a South Side prohibition era speakeasy.

The case later became the subject of a movie, "Northside 777."

Marcin, then known as Marchlewicz, was convicted with

Joe Majczek. Majczek, also pardoned, earlier received $24,000 from the legislature for wrongful imprisonment.

"I'm certainly happy that I got this dough," Marcin said Thursday night. "Now I can buy a business — a resort or something — and make a living without working too hard."

SOLD APARTMENT
Only about a week ago Marcin sold a six-unit apartment house in which he and his wife, Frances, live.

Both Marcin and Majczek were freed from prison through the efforts of a Chicago Times reporter, James McGuire. The reporter investigated after Majczek's mother placed an advertisement in the newspaper offering a reward for evidence to clear her son.

Conflicting testimony by a key witness led to release of the men.

"I'm still quite bitter," he said. "The point is I'm getting old and I have no security. Because I served that time, I couldn't get the jobs I was capable of doing.

"They (employers) were all sympathetic, but they were doubtful about my mentality after all those years in prison."

He arrived in southern California shortly after he left prison in 1950 and worked briefly for 20th Century-Fox, but he said the motion picture craft unions declined to accept him.

"It took a lot of frugal living to buy the apartment house," Marcin said. "I worked two jobs a day some of the time—painting, repairing and so on."

"I had to get something for security toward my old age."

2 Arrested in Miami Jewel Theft

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A chunk of Jack (Murphy the Surl) Murphy, the man involved in the Star of India sapphire theft, and a former Playboy Club bunny were caught with $150,000 worth of stolen jewels Thursday after somebody tipped police.

The pair, Richard Duncan Pearson, 34, and Mary Elaine Denison, 22, were charged with the Sunday burglary of Miami's Jordan Marsh department store.

Police arrested Pearson as he opened a bus station locker which, they said, held the bag containing the jewels. The locker was five lockers away from the one which held the Star of India, stolen from the New York Museum of Natural History earlier this year.

Miss Denison was arrested in a car outside the bus station. A third person who drove away in another car is being sought by police.

During the Star of India case, Pearson was beaten up by masked thugs who demanded to know where the fabulous gem was.

Murphy and two friends, Allen Kuhn and Roger Clark, pleaded guilty to the Star burglary and were given three-year sentences after helping recover most of the loot.

The Jordan Marsh burglary occurred a few days after approximately $100,000 worth of jewels were stolen from a safe at Burdine's Dadeland store.

Jordan Marsh officials said all but a few uncut stones and diamond rings were recovered.

Pearson's bail was set at $25,000, Miss Denison's at $10,000.

Spencer's FLOOR COVERING

3511 Elizabeth Lake Rd. FE 4-7775

Sometimes a fellow just can't help getting hungry at odd hours. Young Gregory Lyle Covert whose new home will be on South Telegraph Road, receives some early morning attention from Mrs. Mary Smith, R.N. at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. His modern crib on wheels is equipped with a 24-hour supply of sterile diapers, shirts, and bed linens.

These sleepyheads at Pontiac General Hospital aren't too interested in anything but rest at the moment. Some of them have just been admitted to the nursery and a regular crib. Before this, they had spent the first hours of life in an isolette (temperature controlled crib). In a few hours they will begin taking nourishment by mouth.

Hospitals Are Dedicated to Newborns' Well Being

By JEANNE NELSON
Infant, responsibility . . . these two words tell of some of the work inside Pontiac's three hospitals.

Newborns are helpless. Their well-being and for that matter, very life depend upon the people who care for them. As long as baby remains in the hospital, his care is under a group of trained individuals.

It is not by mere coincidence that a nurse or nurse's aide is assigned to or requests duty on the obstetrical floors in these hospitals. Rather, it is a deliberate action on the part of hospital administrators and nurses alike.

DELIGHT IN JOB

As a whole, the people who work on this floor do so by design. The atmosphere in this section differs greatly from that of other floors.

Here it is most often a feeling of delight on the part of the staff as they observe the progress of each newborn.

And the progress of these little ones is fantastic.

Ponder for a moment on the absolute newness of everything. • Never before, while this infant was in his mother's womb, did he breathe air. • Never before did he have a bath. • Neither was he ever held and caressed. • Nor did he ever hear the sound of a voice. All of these things never happened to him before.

Now suddenly, everything that happens in these early hours of life is happening for the first time.

Yet, by the time this Lilliputian miracle himself is ready to leave the hospital with his proud parents, many of these first experiences will have become habits.

WHY THEY CRY

Babies cry for many reasons. Hunger, discomfort, fear, all of these may make a baby cry out. It is the job of those on duty to determine the cause.

Because infants cannot communicate other than by crying, the presence of mind instilled in the nursery aide or nurse is essential.

Skill and experience in this work is what determines whether a nurse changes a diaper, turns the infant on his tummy or side, feeds him, holds him or . . . calls for the doctor. The ears of these women are attuned to the sound of a cry.

Mrs. Irene McCormick, assistant director of nursing at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, previously spent many years as a nurse in obstetrics. For this reason, she instructs her nurses to communicate with the mothers as much as possible.

She explains that many of these mothers are with their first child and need assurance of their capabilities.

FEEDING TIME

The nurse must discover how much baby has eaten when mother feeds him and to teach these new mothers methods of feeding and care.

She goes on to say babies are notoriously lazy and sometimes would rather sleep through the feeding time.

Not only because of hospital routine, but for the sake of the new mother herself when she gets baby home, she must learn to be successful at feeding time.

A rare occurrence to be sure, but there are isolated cases of rejection of the baby by a mother. This must be dealt with also. And in cases like this, although a physician advises, the nurses can be of great assistance.

It's a strange combination on this floor of the sterile nursery. Everything remotely connected with the newborn's care is sterile and yet there's an ever present feeling of warmth and compassion on the part of the staff.

Each of the hospitals differs slightly in routine, but the common goal of each is dedication to the well-being of babies.

WELL-USED ROCKERS

There is one striking similarity in all three hospital nurseries — at least one rocking chair. And they all looked as though they had had lots of use.

Behavior of Couple Important

By the Emily Post Institute

A completely beautiful wedding is not made of a combination of flowers, beautiful clothes, smoothness of detail, and delicious food.

These, no matter how pleasing, are external attributes. The spirit, the soul of it, must have something besides; and that something is seen in the behavior and the expression of the bride and groom.

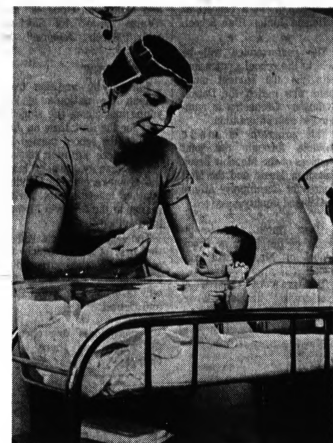

The most beautiful wedding ever imagined could be turned from sacrament to circus by the indecorous behavior of the groom and the flippancy of the bride.

She must not reach up and wigwag signals while she is receiving, just as she must not wave to people as she goes up and then down the aisle, although she may relax and smile her joy on the way out of the church.

She must not cling to her husband as though unable to stand, or lean against him or the wall or any person or thing.

She must not swing her arms as though they were dangling rods; she must not switch herself this way and that; she must not about; and she must not while wearing her bridal veil, smoke a cigarette.

An unhappy-looking bride, an uncomfortable-looking groom, turns the greatest wedding splendor into sham.

Young ladies in the nursery and the gentlemen too at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital receive their daily bath from nurses and nurses aides like Mrs. Kathleen Rush. Is there anything sweeter than the smell of a freshly bathed baby? General appearance is observed and charted now along with weight.

Miss Miller Takes Vows

Wed recently in St. Alfred Church, Taylor, were JoAnn Miller and Edward F. Tanner Jr. of South Winding Drive, son of Mrs. Carl Kohn, Rochester, and the late Edward F. Tanner.

Rev. Allan Kosack officiated.

Mrs. Gertrude Miller of Taylor, and the late Mr. Miller are parents of the bride whose white organdy and taffeta gown featured an Empire bodice and chapel train.

Boffant veiling was caught by a coronet headpiece of iridescent sequins and pearls. Sweetheart roses, lilies of the valley and violets comprised her bouquet.

Chilean Pianist Scores With Festival Audience

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL
Claudio Arrau, famous Chilean pianist, was the soloist at last night's Meadow Brook Concert with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

It was awe-inspiring to hear Mr. Arrau, one of the world's greatest pianists, plunge into the incredibly difficult Brahms' Concerto in D minor with almost savage intensity.

Mr. Arrau has the power of an orchestra in a ringing, full-bodied tone which comes from his remarkable control of his instrument.

The use of the large muscles of his shoulders, hips and even his legs, produce a keyboard touch of such infinite variety that the most bombastic passages and the most delicate and ethereal tone alike issue from his hands with a miraculous ease and grace.

MARK OF GENIUS

The remarkable variety of tone—the hammerlike touch for which he is famous, the sustained control of loud tones, the penetrating, organ-like tones of the second theme, the poignant whisper — made a feast for the ear and the mind of the fascinated listeners.

The long and romantic second movement and the concluding rondo were played with great sensitivity and delicacy of interpretation. The orchestra accompanied with oneness of thought, so that the performance emerged as an exciting and impressive whole.

The first part of the concert consisted of the Bach Suite No. 3 in D Major and Mendelssohn's Italian Symphony.

For some reason or other, the Bach Suite did not get off the ground; the tone was muddy and overbalanced by the low strings and overtone by the brasses.

But with the opening of Mendelssohn's Italian Symphony, a complete metamorphosis took place. It was as if a muffled veil had been lifted, and conductor Ehrlich was on his toes again, both figuratively and literally.

The strings soared, the players relaxed and swayed with the gossamer music. The lyric and haunting second movement was pure joy, as the violas presented the poignant theme which was taken up by the violins against a gentle counter-melody in the low strings.

The French horns were magically sweet and haunting in the third movement. The effluvia quality of the final Salterello was sustained as the orchestra concluded at a whirlwind pace.

The concert will be repeated this evening.
NEW SELECTION
On Saturday evening, Mr. Arrau will play the Chopin concerto No. 2 with the orchestra.

Also featured will be the Martinu Double Concerto for 2 String Orchestras, Piano and Timpanti, with Milcha Kotler, Detroit pianist. Milhaud's Suite Française, and Richard Strauss' "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks."

John Is Here

A son, John David, was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Ensworth Jr. (Linda Schellenberg) of Warren.

Grandparents are the R. J. Ensworths of Starr Street and Mr. George Schellenberg of Sylvan Lake.

"Wizard of Oz" Puppet Show at Institute

With theatrical "wizardry" to captivate young audiences, the Robin Reed Marionettes will present "The Wizard of Oz" in The Detroit Institute of Arts lecture hall next Thursday.

Performances at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. are part of the museum's vacation program for young people.

A howling Kansas cyclone is only the first magical effect of the classic story. Because this is a one-third life size production, the Reads fill the stage with volumes of scenery, characters, and lighting appropriate to Dorothy's adventures in the Land of Oz and encounters with the Scarecrow who would like the Wizard to give him brains, the Tin Man who wants a heart and the Lion who desires courage.

Tickets are 50 cents each for children and adults; 35 cents for groups of ten or more, and to members of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts. They may be purchased at the Museum Shop.

Mail orders, accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope, will be filled by the Theatre Arts Dept., Detroit Institute of Arts.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Nicholl of Long Point Drive, West Bloomfield Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Joyce to Alan G. Buchmann, son of Mrs. Emma Buchmann, Birmingham, and Rudolph Buchmann of Detroit. The couple attended Western Michigan University.

Don't Give In on This

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns my son (I'll call him Joey), who is 18 and the eldest of six children.

He was an honor student and won a partial scholarship. Last year he started going with a 17-year-old girl. He just informed us that he wants to marry her.

ABBY

It seems she is having trouble at home and our son wants her to live here with us, after they get married, while he goes away to college.

We have five other children, Abby, and I don't know how we could manage it. It's not fair to my husband, either, as he already works very hard with long hours, trying to support the family he has.

Can parents just refuse to help their son? He could never marry her without our help. We were hoping Joey would finish his education before thinking of marrying.

What's the best way to handle this touchy problem?

DEAR MOTHER: You would be doing your son a great favor to refuse to help him marry this girl now. Marriage should not be used as an "escape" for a girl to get out of the house.

I suspect she is too young for marriage and too old for adoption. Joey may be a bright student but he has much to learn about life. He's generous, but short-sighted. Guide him.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you'd say something about retirement for housewives. I never was crazy about housework, but I have done it for over forty years.

I've raised my children and learned to be a good cook and keep a neat house. I did all my own washing and housework because these things are expected of a woman.

Now my husband is retired and he lays around the house all day, but I am busier than ever. He wants three big meals a day, a fresh shirt every morning and all the things he's been used to.

Ressler-Field Marriage in Milford

Barbara Ann Field and John Robert Ressler spoke vows recently in the First Methodist Church of Milford before Rev. Howard Short.

For her wedding the bride chose a white peau de soie gown and chapel train, featuring a sweeping cape of Chantilly lace with a crown of pearl and crystal holding the shoulder length bouffant veil.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and white carnations.

Parents of the couple are the William Fields of Milford and the Claude E. Resslers of Highland.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. John S. Kendall. Bridesmaids were Pamela Watson and Mrs. Gary Huff.

The bridegroom asked Bernard Bender to be best man. Ushers were Bill Field, brother of the bride, Larry Vernier, with Wayne Field and James Carl serving as junior ushers.

After a reception at the American Legion Hall, the couple took a trip to northern Michigan.

They will make their home in Milford.

University Orchestra Plans School Concert

The University Orchestra of the Meadow Brook School of Music will travel off-campus from Oakland University Tuesday to appear at 7:30 p.m. in a concert at Jefferson Junior High School.

The performance will be held in the school gymnasium with the 100 student musicians who match the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in number and instrumentation.

This program is made possible through the joint auspices of the Meadow Brook School of Music and the Mott Center for Community Affairs of Oakland County.

Albert Tipton, assistant director of the Meadow Brook School of Music, will conduct.

The program consists of overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor," by Nicholas;

"L'Arlésienne Suite No. 1" by Bizet; and the Overture to "Die Meistersinger von Nürnberg" by Wagner.

Also "Finlandia," "Fellens and Melisande, Opus 46" and "Valse Triste" by Sibelius; and "March Joyeuse" by Chabrier.

CHOSEN FEW

Selected by audition from among the nation's leading young musicians, the students met for the first time on July 4 when the school opened for its premiere summer session.

Less than two weeks later, the group received a standing ovation following its performance at the Baldwin Memorial Pavilion.

The Pontiac concert will be the first of three which are planned for the surrounding community; the other two will take place in Hazel Park and Detroit.

Performances are open to the public and there is no charge.

Furniture's Fine Finish Gets Tough

While the most obvious function of a furniture finish is to beautify wood, its most important function is to protect it.

Our modern way of living makes demands on a finish which were unknown just a few years ago.

Our homes have cooling and heating systems which can change household humidity within hours — with the resulting stresses and strains on every piece of furniture in the home.

LESS CLEANING

Our casual way of living doesn't demand regular cleaning and polishing of furniture.

Today's housewife has less time to spend on home care and generally relies on furniture to literally take care of itself; in fact, more than a third of the married are employed.

Casual entertaining and increased television viewing expose more furniture to the potential dangers of cigarettes, alcohol and hot food.

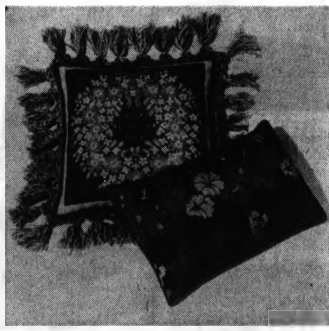

And many new appliances prepare food right at the table. All of this requires that today's furniture finish be as much as 20 times more resistant than was required just a few years ago.

DE WITH NEEDS

Today's furniture finishes anticipate all these changes in our living patterns and at the same time the increasing competition from the use of non-wood materials in furniture design.

Designers today are more creative in their thought, more engineering minded, and more expert in the use of new materials.

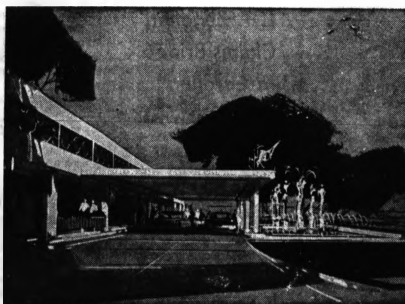

The colder snow is, the stronger it is and the more weight it can support.

Below, is one version of a handsome bedroom. "Toledo" bedspread in sharp yellow and orange sets the theme and color scheme. Wall behind the bed, dramatized by a baroque Spanish-made headboard, is a dull yellow gold. Rug is pale orange and draperies are yellow within an orange frame. Lazyback pillow, "Italian Wreath," which is shown in detail in the picture above has hand-knotted fringe. The other pillow above is named "Looking Up." Both in choice of luscious colors. 'It Was Just Like an Ant Army--Everything Went!'

By BETTY CRAWFORD
"Oops, there goes another rubber tree plant," said YWCA director, Mrs. Reba Netzel with a smile.

Her joking isn't far from the truth, in describing the disappearing act of some 30-35 eight-to-twelve-year-old girls moving everything from doll houses to sewing machines from the old Y to the new.

Why are they moving? The Y has long outgrown its facilities on Franklin Boulevard. Through donations, the Beaudette mansion across the street at the corner of Franklin and West Huron is being purchased.

But that's just half the story.

The girls went into the moving business after some playful mischief in the old Y crafts room the other day.

It seems they tried their "decorating" skills on the tables and chairs of the room. As punishment, they were kept from the crafts room for a day.

The youngsters are six-week Y day campers, who are now in their fourth week of activities. They meet from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

With the crafts room declared out-of-bounds, something else had to be found for the girls to do. Mrs. Netzel and Bonnie Pastor, day camp director, came up with an ingenious idea. They asked the girls if they would like to move some books and other "small" items to the new Y home.

The girls thought the suggestion was just great, and once they started, there was no stopping them.

"In the beginning," declared Mrs. Netzel, "it was like an army of ants! Everything went."

"Out went folding chairs, card tables, lamps, pictures, rugs, toys, vases, the flag, and all the books," said Mrs. Netzel.

Throughout the moving period once a day and for as long as the girls want to do it, the teen-aged junior counselors act as safety patrols for the crossings on Franklin.

STILL ENERGETIC

After carrying the items, the girls still have plenty of energy to engage in the other activities, including swimming, simple cooking and sewing skills, singing, and other supervised recreation.

There are three weeks left before moving day. By that time, there won't be much left to move except heavy furnishings.

The moving bill doesn't loom so large—thanks to youngsters who think that such activity is fun!

There's nothing to moving, say these YWCA day campers. In fact, they're having a ball! The little ladies are traffic stoppers in more ways than one. Passersby can't help but stop and smile at the sight of a line of 30 to 35, loaded down with boxes, books, lamp shades, and toys, moving in a steady procession across Franklin Boulevard. Who said girls don't have muscle?

Shower for Invalid

DEAR POLLY — If there is an aged or ill person in the home who cannot get into the bathtub or even as far as the bathroom, but who can stand unaided, my Pointer will be a life saver.

Get a three-panel folding screen, one shower curtain, a garden sprinkling can and a child's rigid plastic wading pool.

Tack or pin the shower curtain to the inside of the screen. Place the pool on the floor, arrange the screen around three sides of it, allowing the shower curtain to fall inside the pool.

If the curtain is too long, cut it off to the proper length. The patient stands in the pool, a shower is poured over the body, soap is rubbed on and the shower is repeated to rinse. This is quicker and more refreshing than a sponge bath.

After the bath is over, empty the water in the pool and slide the pool under the bed. The screen looks well enough with an attractive plastic curtain to leave it in place and the watering can may be used for garden duty between times.—ELEANOR

TEENING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Pro golfer Marilyn Smith was beaming when she walked off the 18th green after the opening round of the Women's Yankee Open last week at Atlas Valley Country Club near Grand Blanc.

She had ample reason to be happy. She had turned in a two-under-par 70 and wound up sharing the first round lead with Carol Mann, the tall Georgia blonde who won this year's U.S.G.A. Women's Open.

As things turned out, neither won the tournament.

U.P. Champion Wins Women's Golf Title Again

MANISTIQUE (AP) — Defending champion Mrs. Linda Uren of Iron Mountain overcame a strong challenge by an 18-year-old newcomer and won the Upper Peninsula Women's Golf Tournament Thursday.

Bette Fleming of Houghton, playing in her second tournament, led in match play through the first nine holes of the final round. She fired a 43 while Mrs. Uren scored a 45 on the front nine.

Mrs. Uren rebounded by taking the next three holes. She halved the 13th hole, took the 14th and 15th and halved the 16th to win the tourney over Miss Fleming, 3 and 2.

Golfer Patty Berg Out of LPGA Event

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Veteran Patty Berg has been forced to withdraw from the $10,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association Tournament which opened today.

Miss Berg, 47, said she could not participate because of a slight hesitation. She played Thursday in a warm-up pro-am event and shot a 72, but said afterwards: "I played in four straight tournaments up to this one. I hadn't played in two straight for I don't know how long. I just feel like I'm dehydrated."

Kathy Whitworth and Carol Mann, the women's top two money winners, were rated as co-favorites for the tourney, which ends Sunday. It is being played over Cloverbrook Country Club's 6,500-yard hilly layout with a par of 36-38-72.

Heads MSU Linkmen

EAST LANSING (AP) — Bruce Fossum, a former assistant basketball coach, was appointed head coach of Michigan State University's golf team Thursday. He succeeds Jon Bretzmann, who will continue as golf course manager.

Cranbrook Gains Tie for Lead

Cranbrook romped to an 11-4 triumph over M.G. Collision last night and moved into a tie with the Pontiac Business Institute for first place in the City Class A baseball game.

Cranbrook now owns a 10-4 record, the same as PBI. Huron-Airway is a half game back at 10-5 and the Clippers are only a game and one half off the pace at 8-5.

M.G. (411) took a 3-1 lead in the first inning but Cranbrook flexed its hitting muscles in the second frame and pushed across six markers to take a 7-3 lead.

Center fielder Tom Hummel stroked a three-run home run in the second-inning uprising to put Cranbrook ahead to stay.

The winners pounded out 10 hits with Al Levy collecting three, two singles and a double. Dick Mosher and Fred Haines, the winning pitcher, picked up two hits apiece.

THREE HITS

Three straight singles, a wild pitch and fielder's choice gave the losers their three runs in the first but they couldn't solve the slants of Haines the rest of the way.

Ron Joseph and Ted Mentsinger picked up two hits apiece to lead the losers.

Wisner Stadium Game, Aug. 7th

Don't Look Now—Football's Near

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

It's later than you think—football's that is! Next week, 26 Detroit Lions rookies joined by at least 10 veterans, will enter camp at Cranbrook, and a week later the first head bumping session will take place at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium.

It will be the annual intra-squad game, Saturday night, Aug. 7, being returned to Wisner Stadium after a year's absence.

Through the joint sponsorship of the Pontiac Jaycees and the Community National Bank, the Lions brought the intra-squad tilt to Wisner in 1961 when it became almost impossible to stage the contest at Cranbrook because of the huge crowds which jammed the practice area.

The first squad game at Wisner sold 6,000 tickets, but it was an offense versus defense scrimmage and it was played under a constant downpour which saw stadium lights bursting and the field turned into a swamp.

In 1962 and 1963 the attendance rose to 7,000 and 7,500 respectively, but in 1964 the game was switched to U. of D. Stadium and played for the benefit of Ray (Scooter) McLean's family after the former Lions' backfield coach died of cancer.

The format of the game was changed, also, last year with two squads playing a regulation game rather than the offense versus defense setup.

It turned out to be an interesting contest with the Blue team under quarterback Milt Plum defeating the White team under Earl Morrill, 10-0, and the defenses of both units sparkling.

LOCAL ATTRACTION

This year's game at Wisner will have a local touch with Jerry Rush, former Pontiac Central griddler, making his first appearance in a Lions' uniform.

Rush, the No. 2 draft choice of the Lions, will be playing in the College All-Star game, Friday, Aug. 6. He will report to the Lions the next morning and is expected to see some defensive work that night at Wisner Stadium.

Harry Gilmer will also make his debut under game conditions as the new head coach since succeeding George Wilson, and Gilmer has indicated that he strongly favors the game-type contest rather than having the offense go against the defense.

Next Tuesday, the team rookies will report to the Lions' office and be transported to Cranbrook. On Wednesday they will go through physicals and on Friday they will start twice-daily workouts.

The complete squad with all veterans on hand will arrive Sunday, Aug. 1 and have five days of drills before the Aug. 7 game at Wisner.

The exhibition season begins Aug. 15 in Philadelphia.

Tickets for the Wisner Stadium game are available at numerous locations in the Pontiac area, including Community National Bank and from members of the Jaycees.

Bellino Makes Impression on Boston Coach

ANDOVER, Mass. (AP) — Joe Bellino, Navy's 1960 All-American and Heisman Trophy winner, is off to a flying start in a bid to nail down a job with the Boston Patriots after four years as a Naval officer.

Bellino, a 27-year-old American Football League rookie, was impressive Thursday in his first two workouts with the Patriots. "I feel fine, but I'll probably be a little stiff," Bellino said. "I'm not going to worry about that. I'll be no different from any other player after his initial workout."

Coach Mike Holovak beamed as Bellino, fresh out of the Navy, caught virtually every pass thrown in his direction. In the Patriots' attack, the halfback is a prime receiver.

Bellino, who still weighs about the same 185 pounds he carried in becoming one of Navy's best little football greats, said he felt a little slow "getting off the mark" — one of his old trademarks.

Canadian Olympic Ace in Exhibition Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Crothers, Canada's Olympic 800-meter silver medalist, will run in a special exhibition race at the World Maccabiah Games in Tel Aviv, Israel, the U.S. Maccabiah team said today.

American team officials said they had received word from the Israel Organizing Committee that the Markham, Ont., druggist will oppose the medalists of both the 800 and 1,500 meter events. The games will be held Aug. 23-31.

Golfers Duel Today in Tourney Semifinal

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The defending champion faces a physical education teacher, and the daughter of a band leader meets the wife of a golf pro in today's semifinal rounds of the 65th Women's Western Golf Association Championship Tournament.

Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La., 1964 winner, is paired against Margaret Jones of Fort Mitchell, Ky. In match play at the Wayside Country Club, Minn. will teach this fall in Florida.

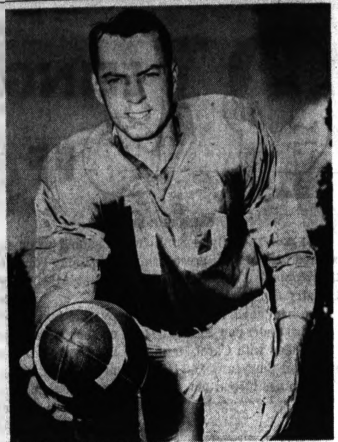

Jan Ferraris of San Francisco, whose father is a band leader, is matched against Mrs. Lew Gillman, whose husband is an assistant pro in Pasadena, Calif. None of the semifinalists had close matches in Thursday's quarter-finals, played in 90-degree weather.

Ex-Coach Idzik, U of D Reach Pay Settlement

DETROIT (AP) — Former head coach John Idzik and the University of Detroit agreed in court Thursday on a settlement of his breach of contract and back pay suit against the University.

Idzik, who sued for $7,500, is receiving $1,400 under the terms reached before Wayne County Circuit Judge John M. Wise.

Idzik lost his job when the school dropped its intercollegiate football program last fall.

SIGNS CONTRACT — Milt Plum signed a two-year contract with the Detroit Lions yesterday. The veteran quarterback will reportedly receive $27,500 per season.

Healthy Plum Given 'Healthier' Contract

DETROIT — Milt Plum, who finished up the season last year as the only healthy quarterback on the Detroit Lions squad, has signed a new two-year contract worth an estimated $27,500.

Plum had been demoted to the number two quarterback at the start of last season, but had to take over when Earl Morrill broke his shoulder.

Plum proceeded to hit for 154 out of 287 passes, good for more than 2,200 yards, the fifth best performance in the National Football League.

His new contract reflected the performance. It was an estimated $5,800 increase.

That now puts it up to Earl Morrill, who has been out with Plum tossing the ball in practice at University of Detroit Stadium, but who has not yet come to terms with the Lion management.

Morrill appears to be fully recovered from his shoulder injury.

NOT SIGNED

Other big name Lions who still have not signed include Gail Cogdill and Wayne Walker, but Lions Personnel Director Russ

Thomas says they are not very far apart.

Yale Lary is another not signed, but Lary wants to stay in Texas with his auto sales business at Fort Worth. The Lions want him to come back for just one more year.

Head football coach Harry Gilmer will be taking 26 rookies out to the Cranbrook training camp next week. The veterans are due to join them Aug. 1.

Entry Allowed in Mack Race

Yacht 'Sucher' Gets Okay to Sail

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit yacht Sucher, owned by Don Sucher, has been accepted as a post-deadline entry in the Port Huron to Mackinac yacht race this weekend following a reversal by the race committee.

As of today, there were 170 boats entered in the 235-mile race from Port Huron to Mackinac Island, which starts at 12:30 p.m. Saturday.

Sucher was racing another boat in the Chicago to Mackinac yacht race and did not arrive at Mackinac Island until Tuesday.

He tried to telephone in his entry from there, but it was rejected on the grounds that it was beyond the deadline. However, Sucher complained he did not receive a formal entry application, which is sent to previous contestants.

Sucher is a veteran of ten Mackinac races.

After several other skippers threatened to withdraw their boats if Sucher was barred, the race committee reversed itself and admitted him.

The committee also accepted the late application of Sam Irwin for his yacht Talara.

In Sucher's case, he had moved since last year, but his application was not forwarded. In Irwin's case, his application had been sent to the wrong post office box.

The committee ruled in both cases that the men were not responsible for the misdirection.

Track Quarrels Keep Shot Put Star Guessing

Randy Matson After U. S. Team Berth; Feud Confusing

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Randy Matson has heaved the shot farther than anybody and he may or may not give it a fling tonight when a U.S. track team warms up for the Russians.

Apparently it depends on what sense he can make out of the moves and counter moves, statements and counter statements drawn and issued into the night by the forces involved in the long and complex contest of strength between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Amateur Athletic Union.

"If they get their differences straightened out, I will compete," said the Texas A&M star. Most of the performers in tonight's meet are from the squad of 44 which will take on the Russian team at Kiev July 31-Aug. 1.

As far as the crowd is concerned, the spotlight will be on Jim Rynn of Wichita, the recent high school graduate whose 3:53.3 mile on June 27 is the fastest ever run by an American.

Morgan Groth, John Garrison and Bill Dotson, all of whom have run the mile in less than four minutes, will vie with Rynn.

Other members of the Russian-bound team include Adolph Plummer, holder of the world record in the 440; Ollan Cassell and Jay Luck from the 1,600-meter relay team which won at the 1964 Olympics; and John Pennell, a 17-foot pole vaulter.

The meet is sponsored by KTVH, a Wichita television station, at the Wichita State University Stadium; and the Big question about Matson's participation arose from the fact that until late Thursday it had not been certified by the NCAA.

These developments came almost simultaneously: — Clifford H. Buck, president of the AAU, issued a statement in New York asking the NCAA "to remove any restriction against this practice meet in Wichita."

— NCAA headquarters in Kansas City announced it and the affiliated U.S. Track and Field Federation were certifying the meet.

Several hours later, Jack Munley, sports director of KTVH, said: "As far as KTVH is concerned, the meet will proceed as scheduled only under the original AAU sanction."

Rival Leagues Like 'Hawks'

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nice thing about the American and National leagues is that they trust each other — the same way the United States and Russia do.

Each league wants to make sure the other one doesn't steam-roll its own man in as baseball's new commissioner.

All you had to do was close your eyes during that "cordial, friendly" meeting at Dearborn earlier this week and you'd swear you were in the General Assembly at the United Nations.

Publicly, everything looked peachy dandy with virtually each major league owner plausibly proclaiming:

"I don't really have a candidate myself; I just want to do what's good for baseball."

Privately, however, it was an entirely different matter, with the American Leaguers watching the National Leaguers like hawks and vice versa.

The meeting easily could have lasted two days but here again it came down to a matter of one league against the other.

Dan Topping of the Yankees sought to keep the meeting going for a second day but Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers pressed for an adjournment and the session was ended after one day.

Some progress actually was made although the owners accomplished it by voting backwards.

What they did was vote to eliminate some of the candidates and when they broke up, the list of nominees was down to 18.

TWO WITHDREW

General manager Joe Brown of Pittsburgh, one of the candidates mentioned, asked to withdraw, following the lead of Cleveland's Gabe Paul, who had done so earlier.

"I had heard that some people were thinking of proposing me as a candidate, so I went to John Felzer and John Galbreath a couple of months ago and asked that my name be eliminated," Paul explained.

The withdrawal of Brown and Paul leaves few so-called "baseball men" among those who are being considered as Ford Frick's successor.

If you had to pick a leader among them at the moment, it would have to be Lee MacPhail, president of the Baltimore Orioles.

Stengel Keeps Writers Guessing

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Did you ever have the feeling that you wanted to go? And then you had the feeling that you wanted to stay? Casey Stengel does.

City Hall reporters got the idea Thursday that Casey wanted to go as manager of the New York Mets after the 1965 season when he spoke of leaving a young club "when I leave this here ball club this fall."

Airport reporters who caught Stengel before he boarded a plane to Buffalo for an exhibition game, got the message that he wanted to stay on as Mets manager.

"When I talked about leaving this ball club this fall I was talking about going home to Glendale, Calif.," said Stengel. "I go home in the fall every year."

HIS BUSINESS
Casey is touchy about his plans for the future.

"That's my own business," he keeps on saying. "I'll discuss it with Mr. Weiss (Met President George Weiss) after the season."

I'll see how my health is, and what the owners have in mind. How you know they want me back?"

Stengel became involved in a story that made front page headlines in all New York papers on a day when he had expected to do nothing more than accept a scroll from Mayor Robert F. Wagner. Casey will be 75 on July 30 but the Mets will be out of town at the time so Wagner arranged to proclaim Friday as Casey Stengel Day in New York.

"I just went down to get the scroll," said Stengel. "Nobody ever gave a day for me before. I wouldn't let them. While I was there, they naturally started asking questions about the next commissioner, the stock market and about my plans."

"I didn't go down to City Hall to retire. When I retire I'll tell Mr. Weiss. I worked for him for 16 years with the Yankees and four over here. You don't think I'd come back to town from a road trip at 3 o'clock in the morning, get up at 7 o'clock and go down there to tell them I'm retiring without telling Mr. Weiss, do you?"

At the age of 75 there certainly is doubt about Stengel's return, especially since he is on a one-year contract and Weiss' contract as president runs out this year. But that doesn't stop the old boy from talking about the future.

Harry Avesian No Longer Pushover for 300 Bowl

Harry Avesian is no longer a pushover for 300 Bowl in Pontiac softball action. Prior to this season, Avesian, who had pitched for three different teams, had suffered 19 straight defeats at the hands of the 300 Bowl squad.

This season it's different. The fast-balling right-hander went the distance twice earlier in the season in beating 300 and last night he came on in relief and gained his third win of the campaign over his old nemesis.

It took nine innings, but Spencer Floor, knocked off 300, 2-1, and in the process tied the Bowl team for first place in the American Softball League. Both own 14-13 marks.

OTHER TILTS

In other games, Francis Coal & Oil trimmed Orchard Lanes, 8-7, in a National League game, and Town & Country (2-15) gained a forfeit decision over Elks No. 819 (4-13).

In Waterford Township action, Dixie Bar (9-7) downed Haskins Chevrolet (4-12), 16-1, and Lakeland Pharmacy (14-2) blanked Dixie Toot (1-15), 10-8. Both were halted after five innings under the 10-run rule.

Current Books

The Day of Trinity. By Lansing Lamont. Atheneum. $4.95.
Lamont's suspense - building story, filled with a multitude of details and personal reactions, is a re-creation of the test firing of the world's first atom bomb, just 20 years ago.

Lamont sketches the background of war, politics and scientific discovery which led to the creation of the famous Manhattan District.

He relates the secret recruiting of physicists and other specialists, the establishment of a colony of frantically busy men at Los Alamos, N. M. and the technical dilemmas they faced.

The account of the actual firing weaves together the personal hopes, fears, qualms and experiences of a whole host of men who took part.

Lamont writes in a style which heightens the dramatic effect of an already dramatic event. His book is a tense, complete history of a fateful project.

Miles A. Smith

Let Me Count the Ways. By Peter DeVries. Little, Brown. $5.
There's no one like DeVries, who shows us inner tragedy and inner hope through several layers of comedy, fear, drollery and wit.

This time the heart of his story is religious belief, a theme which he approaches in wholly oblique fashion, through some pretty riotous adventures in a thoroughly eccentric family.

DeVries' novel is a composite of tragedy and human fallibility at its bitterly comic best. It cuts into so many levels of folly and inspiration that it gives us all a pair of electrical shocks—positive and negative—in the first reading. It is worth more than one reading.

Miles A. Smith

The Looking Glass War. By John Le Carré. Coward-McCann.
$4.95.

In his third novel, "The Spy Who Came In From the Cold," Le Carré de-glamorized the spy business.

"Looking Glass" is also a psychological drama, with spying as its theme, but it is more bitter and scathing than the other.

There is a small, half-forgotten department in British ministry that served its purpose as a spy apparatus during the last war, but which now has shrunk to a handful of paper-shufflers. Its head, Le Carré, still lives in a dream world, however, of high level espionage.

On very flimsy evidence, Le

Clerc decides there is a dangerous new missile base in East Germany. When one of his half-trained agents is killed by an automobile, Le Carré assumes the Russians are to blame.

The narrative is not very successful in the usual sense, for the author soon makes it clear that these foolish men are fighting their own image in a mirror.
Psychologically it is taut.

Briton Faces Soviet Justice

MOSCOW (UPI) — A three-judge court convened today to deliberate the fate of a British schoolteacher charged with attempting to recruit Russian citizens to act as agents for an anti-Soviet "subversive" or-

Gerald Brooke, 37, faced a the alleged conspiracy.

The charges lodged against him in court yesterday constituted the Soviets' first public admission that an underground was operating inside Russia.

Brooke, a college instructor who came here as a tourist, yesterday pleaded guilty to carrying out a mission for the Popu-

Tetanus Booster Proves Safeguard

No gardener worthy of his green thumb can escape occasional prickles or scratches.

A tetanus booster shot by your doctor will help keep gardening accidents minor.

And remember, no garden can or should be whipped into shape in one day. Take it slow and easy when you garden. Frequent breaks will help ward off exhaustion.

Check for Cane Damage

Raspberry Borer Hatch On

Adult beetles of the raspberry cane borer appear in early June and feed on the tips of raspberry canes.

The female, after mating, makes two rows of punctures around canes about six inches from the tip of the new canes. She then lays a single egg near the lower row of punctures.

Then, the tip begins to wilt. The egg hatches in early July and the young larva burrow toward the base of the cane and over winter.

The second year, the larva burrows through the cane and kills it before the fruit matures.

The larva spends the second winter in the base of the cane near the crown.

CONTROL MEASURES

Control measures are primarily preventative. These measures consist of:

- Cutting off infected tips several inches below the girdled portion soon after the wilting symptoms are noticed.
- Removing and destroying all infected canes.
- Crushing old cane stubs in the spring before beetles emerge.
- Bracing wild brambles near the raspberry planting.
- Spraying with insecticides.

A DDT or rotenone spray should be applied before the blossoms open.

A post-bloom spray may be needed, but the only material which can be used after bloom is rotenone or derris powder (derris usually contains four to five per cent rotenone).

DDT should NOT be used after bloom.

Geraniums Now Available in Wide Color Variety

Used to be that you could have geraniums in any color you wanted — as long as it was red.

Nowadays however, professional growers can supply you with geraniums in nearly any color flower, and any color leaf, too.

Long a summer mainstay of both indoor and outdoor gardeners, geraniums have now become quite a sophisticated and even more popular flowering plant.

From the lofty heights of a penthouse terrace to the sunny entrance of a rural cottage, clay-potted geraniums add color, aroma—and interest.

What makes geraniums so popular is the tremendous variety within the species.

There are literally hundreds of named varieties of geraniums, most bearing heavy clusters of large single and double flowers in shades of red, salmon, pink, lavender and white.

VAST RANGE

This vast range of colors in flowers alone, makes geraniums a natural decorating tool for any sunny or semi-sunny spot, inside or outside the home.

Several complimentary colored flowering geraniums grouped together in the newly-fashionable multiple planting makes an unusual and interesting display in one of the new 14 or 16-inch red clay pots now available.

Expert growers agree red clay pots are the best containers for geraniums. They should be kept a little on the dry side, in full sunlight, and can't be harmed by overwatering if they are in red clay pots. The excess water simply soaks through the porous walls of the pots.

Zonal geraniums, so called because the leaves are divided into distinctly different colored zones radiating out from the stem, are the most popular types. But ivy-leaved geraniums, whose leaves

Plant Propagation Class

Those limbs of yellow apples on your red-fruited trees aren't freaks. They were grafted onto the red apple trees as buds. It's not a difficult operation, says Walter Haldeman of The Pennsylvania State University. You do it in only a few minutes.

According to a Penn State correspondence course on plant propagation, budding is done when bark peels readily — in summer from mid-June to mid-August. Roses and pears are budded in early July. Late July is best for apples. And mid-August is the time for cherries.

The procedure is simple. Using a sharp, thin-bladed knife, start a cut about one-half inch below a bud. Curve beneath the bud deeply enough to include a thin sliver of wood, and extend the cut about one-half inch above the bud. You get a piece about six inches long with a thin sliver of wood in the center.

Next you make a T-shaped incision in the stock for inserting the bud. Lift the bark on each side of the vertical cut and insert a thin wedge about toothpick size to hold the bark open temporarily. Slip the bud into the incision from the top down. Tuck the bud bark well under the bark on the stock and make good contact between the cambiums.

Finish the job by closing the incision from the top down. To learn all about grafting and budding and various other methods of propagating, study the Penn State correspondence course. Anyone can enroll just by sending his name and address with $2.75 to Propagation, Box 500, University Park, Pennsylvania 16802. You'll get a complete course copy by mail.

Clover Mites Prove Nuisance in Summer

A common pest is the tiny, red clover mite that congregates by the thousands on sunny sides of the house after leaving their winter homes.

They don't do much damage but they are a nuisance, entering homes through cracks and swarming on walls and furniture.

Don't suck them up in vacuum cleaners. They are easily crushed and make unsightly stains.

To prevent infestations, spray their feeding places in grass and shrubbery near the house and outside lower walls and foundations with Kelthane or chlorobenzilate.

Indoors, use a pyrethrum spray or aerosol, which kills mites on contact. If you have caged birds or fish tanks, remove or cover them before spraying.

Paid Back for 'Spy' Incident

Story of French Revenge Is Biting Tale

By DICK WEST
United Press International
PARIS — As an American reporter temporarily on detached duty in Europe, I had the misfortune to arrive in France right after the so-called "spy flight" incident.

Officially, at least, the French appear to be reacting rather calmly to charges that a U. S. plane had photographed their secret atomic installations.

But my experience here convinced me that there is a retaliation movement under way.

Somewhere, I believe, the Deuxieme Bureau, which is the French equivalent of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency, received word that I was headed for Paris and seized the opportunity to vent their animosity.

"Okay, gang," they probably said to each other, "here's a visiting Yankee journalist. Let's get him."

My suspicions were first aroused when I landed at Orly Airport and found that my baggage had been mysteriously mislaid. Took about 30 minutes to track it down.

Then, when I went to the Air France counter to check a flight reservation, about 18 Frenchmen who may have been Deuxieme Bureau agents rushed up and formed a line in front of me. That killed another half-hour.

CASE OF SABOTAGE
What is more, the reservation I had requested in Italy had apparently been sabotaged before it reached France. The Paris ticket agent reported that he had never heard of it and that the flight I wanted already was oversubscribed.

The same thing happened when I went to check in at the airport hotel. The desk clerk swore my reservation had never been received and that no rooms were available. In trying to line up a room at another hotel, I had great

Syngman Rhee's Widow in Hospital

HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP) — Mrs. Syngman Rhee, widow of the former president of Korea, was reported in satisfactory condition at Queen's Hospital today.

The 66-year-old Mrs. Rhee was taken to the hospital suffering what the doctor called physical and emotional exhaustion after funeral service for her husband in the Korean Christian Church in Honolulu Wednesday night.

Her planned trip to Korea for the final rites and burial have been called off.

difficulty with the Paris telephone system, leading me to conclude that the Deuxieme Bureau had infiltrated it, too.

The taxi driver that I engaged to take me to the hotel obviously was planted by Deuxieme. He reached it by way of Suez Canal.

LOST BALANCE
The bill that I paid for that ride will keep the U. S. gold reserve in a precarious situation for the next 10 years.

At this point, the chain of "coincidences" turned truly sinister. Not two minutes after I had checked into my hotel room, the lights went out.

The bellman who answered my screams said a fuse was faulty, but I know a "cover story" when I hear one.

As I write this, I am scheduled to fly home to Washington via Air France. If you don't hear from me again, you will know what happened.

Shake-Up Due in Tokyo Vote?

Ruling Conservatives Likely to Lose Seats

TOKYO (UPI) — Citizens of the world's largest city vote tomorrow in a municipal election that most observers believe will break the grip of the ruling Conservative party here.

If the pundits are right, the election may also bring on a spate of uncontrolled left-wing demonstrations later in the summer.

For the first time since the end of World War II, the ruling Liberal-Democratic (Conservative) party seems likely to lose control of the municipal government of Tokyo.

The reason is bribery. Seven-teen assembly members, all of them Conservatives, have been indicted in a vote-buying scandal.

The prize was the presidency of the assembly — and a $100,000 annual expense account.

EXPRESSED OPINION

Tokyo citizens, apparently expressing their opinion of the scandal, on July 4 elected a Communist, a Socialist, a candidate of the Komeito religious party and an independent to the National House of Councillors.

They defeated Conservative candidates for the two Tokyo seats the party previously held.

If Tokyo's seven million registered voters react the same way at the polls this time, the Conservatives will likely lose the absolute majority they held in the old assembly, which dissolved itself after the scandal broke.

The most optimistic pundits here expect the Conservatives to capture no more than 50 of the assembly's 120 seats. The Japan Socialist party is also being touted to win about the same number.

Most of the remaining seats are likely to go to the Komeito party of the militant Buddhist Soka Gakkai sect or the Democratic Socialist party. Possibly a few will go to the Communists.

The Socialists seem fairly confident of forming a coalition government. If they are able to, one of their first acts is likely to be repeal of the tough municipal anti-demonstration ordinances.

These ordinances have been effectively used by the Conservative government and its 2,000-man specially trained police riot squad to control left-wing demonstrations against the government's rightist policies.

In addition, the socialists are believed likely to present a motion of non-confidence in Tokyo Gov. Ryutaro Azuma, a Conservative-backed Independent.

If it passed the assembly, Azuma would be morally, though not legally, required to resign, since the governor appoints the membership of the public safety commission and the police superintendent.

If No Fundamentals Are Skipped

Let Student Try an Accelerated Course

By LESLIE J. NASON

Dear Dr. Nason: My daughter, who was nine years old in June, is being offered an accelerated course in the fall for the fourth grade and half of the fifth. The class is to be composed of the bright fourth graders, plus three accelerated students who will gain an extra half year's work. She is of average size or taller and in good health.

Would you recommend the accelerated class?

Mrs. G. D., Sacramento, Calif. The teacher and principal consider your daughter capable of doing accelerated work or they would not have offered her the opportunity. Completing one and a half year's work in one year is not difficult for a superior pupil — if no fundamentals are skipped in the process.

You should keep in close touch with the situation. Should your daughter have difficulty mastering fundamentals, it should become apparent by mid-semester. If this happens I recommend that she then be transferred back to her regular class.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our son, who will soon be 10, is flourishing. He is a very capable boy, but due to a combination of things he has become very discouraged.

He attended our local junior college last year because of the high cost of going away. This was not in accord with his wishes. As a result, he and his father were at cross purposes. He got a part-time job which developed into a full-time one. It obviously was too much. Last semester, he failed two of his subjects.

This year he is working in the hope he may save some money so that he can return to college. Should he return to junior college and correct the two failures or enter another school?

Mrs. S. R. J., Battle Creek, Mich.

Your son's college record with its two F's will remain part of his permanent record. He should reenter junior college and bring up his grade point average. Remember, a full college load is a full-time job! Until he has demonstrated that he can succeed with college work and have enough time and energy to do a part-time job on the side, he should concentrate on his schoolwork.

Only by showing that he has the self-discipline required to stick to his studies can he repair the damage brought about through previous lack of judgment.

In this way he will reinstate himself as a good prospect for admission to the college of his choice.

(You can write to Prof. Nason in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions of general interest will be answered in his column.)

The bill for cleaning the streets of New York City of snow in the 1964-65 season was $5 million. There was a total snowfall of 24.4 inches.

Miss America, 1948 Entry, Returns to Taunt Wilson

By EARL WILSON

MIAMI BEACH — As I look around at my fellow judges of the Miss Universe Pageant here, it is clear that I am one of the most aged — "the Old Man of the Sea" — and therefore I'm to be tolerated to tell my favorite beauty contest tale.

It was 1948 . . . Atlantic City . . . "Miss America."

One of the sexiest, slithering beauties I've ever seen, Miss Kansas, listed on the roster as Vera J. Ralston, was the crowd favorite . . . and we judges were lucky that we didn't get lynched when we didn't choose her as Miss America.

In fact, we were hissed and whistled at when we left the auditorium after making our decision. But . . .

"Talent" played a big part in the Miss America contest. Maybe 25 or 30 or 40%.

And the lovely, smiling, shapely, provocative Miss Kansas came up on the stage in the "talent" test and said —

"I'm afraid I have no talent except to go home, get married, and raise children."

Was that any talent? What is talent? The girl had said she had no talent. Whereas Miss Bebe Shopp of Hopkins, Minn., the Miss Minnesota entry, undoubtedly had oceans of talent. She played the vibraphone better than the other girls sang or did needlework or painted or gave recitations.

Bebe Shopp just had to be, and was, Miss America. Vera J. Ralston was fourth . . . "third runner-up." Eight years passed. I was interviewing "Hollywood's new Grace Kelly," a girl said by Alfred Hitchcock and John Ford to be one of the most brilliant acting talents they'd seen — by the name of Vera Miles.

Worldly, sophisticated, poised, she murmured, "We have met before."

Vera J. Ralston . . . Miss Kansas! On her $2,500 scholarship she'd studied, free-lanced . . . she'd got married . . . had two daughters . . . and now in the year of 1956 Alfred Hitchcock was going to establish her in the world that she was . . . despite what she said that night . . . the possessor of a great talent.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Producer Joe Levine'll borrow Frank Sinatra's new jet to scout locations for "Nevada Smith" . . . The Doral Park Av. Hotel will knock down a wall to combine two penthouse suites for Jackie Gleason (who'll be staying only six days before he returns to Florida).

Producer Joe Cates ("What Makes Sammy Run?") has the rights to a Broadway musical version of Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" . . . (Or, "What Makes Caesar Run?") . . . Brian Donlevy's apt. was destroyed by fire while he was making "The Pat Spy"; he escaped with two items — his script and his toupee.

EARL'S PEARLS: Age is what makes antiques worth more, and people worth less — Arnold Glasow.

Trevor Howard's roles in "Von Ryan's Express" and "Mortuary" are his 23rd and 24th in uniform. A studio exec said, "Instead of a name-plate on his dressing room door, we just give him dog tags." That's earl, brother.

Widow Jailed on Charge of Killing Rich Husband

MIAMI (UPI) — Blonde Mrs. Jacques Mosler, who switched in 12 hours from a Mayo Clinic Hospital bed to a bunk in jail, began planning her defense today against charges she helped slay her millionaire husband to keep up a love affair with her neighbor.

The pretty widow planned a midmorning jail conference with her attorney, who said he was uncertain whether he would begin immediately trying to free Mrs. Mosler under bond.

"She has been a sick woman," an. I will see how her health stands up under jail conditions. If I think it is in danger, I will move immediately to have her moved to a hospital," said Houston lawyer Clyde Woody.

He said it might be to his advantage legally to delay initiation of a habeas corpus proceeding to have Mrs. Mosler freed under bond.

Candace Mosler, 46, and bearing a resemblance to movie star June Allyson, flew to Miami last night from Rochester, Minn., where she had been undergoing a series of tests and treatments.

She departed the hospital around noon, and by midnight she was bedded down in the Dade County jail, a new building equipped with air-conditioning and television sets for prisoners.

Before going to her cell, she carried on a hammer with a crust of newspaper and radio-television newsmen and cameramen, shook a finger at the county detective chief when he began firing questions at her the first time he had her away from her attorneys, and — according to Woody — went through a 30-minute grilling at headquarters without giving her questioners much to go on.

Mrs. Mosler and her nephew-by-marriage, 23-year-old Melvin Lane Powers, are both charged with first degree murder in the June 30, 1964, fatal stabbing and bludgeoning of financier Jacques Mosler, 60, in his Key Biscayne apartment here.

They were indicted Tuesday night by a grand jury. Powers has been in jail since a few days after the murder.

Mrs. Mosler came off the jet from Chicago wearing a tan trench coat and with her hospital identification band still on her wrist.

She gave a hug and smile to the baby held out by her married daughter, Rita Mosler Wilder, told one of her own younger sons, "I'm so sorry" about the surge of the press, then told everybody: "I've done nothing but love my husband."

TAKING A GAMBLE — Veterinarians at the animal clinic at Auburn, Ala. University operate on a $176,000 Aberdeen-Angus bull, Linderis Evulse, in the hope of correcting his sterility. The odds are against success of the operation, but if it works, the animal can be worth millions.

Wait to Determine Success

Operation May Save Bull's Love Life

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Medical science has done all it can for Linderis Evulse, the valuable bull who proved a dud at romance. Now it is a waiting game to see whether Linderis can become a father.

Doctors who operated on the $176,400 Aberdeen Angus said it will be from six weeks to a year before they can determine if they actually helped Linderis.

The surgery Thursday bypassed a blockage in the tube through which sperm flows.

Black Watch Farms at Wappingers Falls, N.Y., bought the animal in Scotland with high hopes. However, he failed to sire a single calf and Lloyds of London reimbursed the farm the purchase price under an insurance policy guaranteeing virility.

MADE TESTS

Later, Linderis' sterility was brought to the attention of a Birmingham, Ala., physician and cattle raiser, Dr. James Hicks Jr., and he made tests indicating an operation might help.

Inside an antiseptic operating room at Auburn University's veterinary school, Linderis was strapped stomach and feet to a hydraulic lift table.

While Dr. Donald F. Walker, veterinary medicine professor, operated, about 45 newsmen and students watched from an observation room.

Linderis will remain at Auburn for several months.

Jack R. Dick, managing partner of Black Watch, said if the operation works, "this bull could produce more than $10 million worth of calves."

Harriman-Kosygin Talk Subjects Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin talked about trade, scientific exchanges and other matters when they met Wednesday in Moscow.

An earlier meeting had dealt with international issues.

State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey told newsmen that Harriman had not engaged in negotiations — only an exchange of views. Harriman has left Moscow for a tour of several other European capitals.

Riot Police on Alert

Greeks Pack Athens Streets

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — by followers of fallen Premier George Papandreu.

The crowd cried denunciations of the new Greek government, but under the threat of military intervention, the demonstration and burial took place without clashes.

Riot police and troops kept watch over the vast crowd. They were under orders to crush the first sign of violence persons fainted in the heat. The scene was chaotic at the cemetery, where thousands jammed the grounds, trampling graves and knocking over tombstones.

The demonstrators cheered wildly as Papandreu entered the cathedral where the body of 35-year-old Sotirios Petroulakis lay. Petroulakis was asphyxiated Wednesday night during a battle between police and thousands of Papandreu supporters in which more than 150 persons were injured.

PERMISSION

The funeral demonstration began with a procession by 2,000 members of the left-wing Lambrakis Youth Movement to which Petroulakis belonged.

Pontiac Sets Sales Record

Pontiac dealers set a new all-time sales record for the mid-July sales period, E. R. Pettengill, Pontiac Motor Division general sales manager, announced today.

In the July 11-20 period, 19,999 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold.

This surpassed by 16 per cent the previous record of 17,117 set two years ago.

Pettengill also pointed out that this was the 24th time since the 1965 models were introduced that Pontiac has established a new 10-day sales mark.

HAPPY PARENTS — Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis, 5319 Frankville, Independence Township, are the happy parents of the first set of triplets born at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in four years. The couple said doctors gave them about three week's notice that (from left) James, Thomas and Nancy would nearly double the size of their family.

Viet Strategy Talks Continue in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House conferences continue today on Viet Nam strategy and the demands it may make in manpower and money.

No conclusions have been announced, but already in Congress the feeling appeared to be spreading that expanded fighting may force another look at the budget and derail any program to wrap up President Johnson's domestic legislation by Labor Day and go home.

For the third straight day, Johnson's schedule was given over to intensive talks with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who returned Wednesday from Viet Nam, and other top military and civilian officials.

Press Secretary Bill D. Meyers said after yesterday's all-day session there was no telling how long the talks will continue, but "conclusions and recommendations will be forthcoming after all the evidence, including all the recommendations and evaluations, is carefully weighed."

Meyers confirmed that much of the discussion centered on "manpower requirements for present and future needs."

Find Happiness Comes in 3s

Offspring More Than Doubled Overnight

... and then there were five! Nurses dub them babies A, B, and C, but to Roy and Ardis Davis, 5319 Frankville, Independence Township, they are James, Thomas and Nancy — newborn triplets.

Still blushing impulsively with happiness, the young township couple are hardly blasé about more than doubling their number of offspring.

Potential problems with having three infants to care for have not yet replaced the dazed joy of the events of Tuesday night which upped their number of children to five.

Of course, the 27-year-old father could see that some help would probably have to be hired. He mentioned they had two bedrooms at home and two other youngsters, Sherry, 6, and Deanne, 2.

"They tell me it might be cheaper to move than to add on," said father Davis.

Romney Joins Kelley in Plea

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today urged that voters be given a chance to approve a constitutional amendment giving the governor power to fill judicial vacancies.

The joint announcement came as an unusual show of agreement between the Republican governor and the Democratic attorney general, frequently at odds on other issues.

Both agreed, however, that the constitutional mandate that such judges be filled by election — with retired judges serving in the interim — had proved unworkable in the past year and one-half.

The agreement was reported reached earlier between Romney and Democratic legislators.

Romney and Kelley said they will urge the legislature to submit the proposed constitutional amendment to the voters for action when the lawmakers return to Lansing July 29.

If approved by two thirds of the membership of both houses, not later than 60 days before the scheduled Nov. 2 general election, the proposed amendment could be voted on then.

Some reports said that in return for Democratic support, Romney yesterday signed a bill creating 13 new circuit judgeships. If the constitutional amendment is approved by the voters at a special election next Nov. 2, Romney would be able to appoint nine of the judges to fill the "vacancies" created by the new law.

This appointive power would require approval of an amendment to the present constitution at a statewide special election this Nov. 2.

County officials had indicated they would wait until the next regular election in November 1966 to fill a present vacancy created by the death of Judge Stanton G. Dondero last month.

However, if there is a vote on a constitutional amendment, it is possible Dondero's replacement could be decided on the ballot this fall.

UP TO GOVERNOR — Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Auditors, said it would be up to Governor Romney whether a proposal to fill the vacancy would be on the special election ballot.

"The County Board of Supervisors will indicate its feelings on the proposal," Murphy said. "But the governor makes the decision."

If an election is held this fall and the constitutional amendment is approved, the county's eighth judge would be appointed next year.

Otherwise, he would be elected in November 1966.

Oakland County officials as well as present members of the Circuit Court bench had opposed an eighth judgeship.

'Fluoride Water Gives Jackson Fewer Cavities'

LANSING (UPI) — The "look, mom, no cavities" cry is heard more in Jackson than in Flint — and it's because of fluoridated water, the Michigan Department of Health reported.

Department scientists said children who have lived in Jackson since birth have nearly two-thirds less tooth decay than their Flint counterparts.

State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Hensley said figures on fluoridated water's sea-hail as many Jackson children have no decayed, missing or filled permanent teeth.

The statistics were gathered as byproducts of separate four-year studies of various fluoride agents applied directly on the surface of the teeth.

The studies are being conducted in the two cities.

Total sales for the first six months of this year were $5,997,000,000, compared with 1964's $5,083,200,000, the previous all-time record.

Second-quarter sales were $3,085,000,000 compared with last year's $2,672,000,000. Highest previous sales record was recorded in the first quarter of this year, with $2,912,200,000.

Ford was the first of the automotive Big Three to report its first six months sales and profits. First-half reports from GM and Chrysler are expected next week.

Social Security Bill Benefits Examined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are questions and answers on the increased Social Security benefits and other welfare provisions in the Social Security health care bill:

Q. I am over 65 and receiving a Social Security retirement check. What increase does the bill make in that?

A. A 7 per cent increase, retroactive to Jan. 1 this year, with an increase of at least $4 guaranteed. The 7 per cent also goes to families under the survivor program and disabled persons receiving Social Security payments.

Q. When will I get the increase?

A. It is planned to reflect the monthly increase for the first time in your September check, which you will receive about Oct. 2. The retroactive payments for the first eight months of the year, through August, are scheduled to go out in separate checks about Sept. 15.

Q. Does the bill increase the amount I may earn and still retain my Social Security benefits?

A. Yes, under present law, you may earn up to $1,200 a year without loss of benefits; between $1,200 and $1,700, you lose $1 for each $2 of benefits. Under the bill you will be allowed to earn up to $1,500 without loss of benefits; from $1,500 to $2,700, you lose $1 in benefits for each $2 earned.

Q. Is a widow permitted to start receiving Social Security benefits at an earlier age under the bill?

A. Yes, she could go on the rolls at age 60 instead of age 62, the present minimum. But her monthly payment would be reduced to take account of the longer number of years she would receive it.

Q. Is it easier for disabled persons to qualify for Social Security benefits under the bill?

A. Yes, present law limits payments to those whose disability is of long-continued and indefinite duration and is or is expected to result in death. The bill loosens up this definition so that benefits will be paid if the disability has lasted 12 months or can be expected to last that long.

Q. I am a widow receiving survivor payments under Social Security because I have children under 18. Does the bill extend these benefits?

A. Yes, the bill would continue payments for each child up to age 22 so long as he is a full-time student.

U.S. Planes, Ships Bombard Viet Reds

HANOI, South Viet Nam (AP)—The United States stepped up its air strikes against suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam today and flew at least six bombing missions against North Viet Nam, a military spokesman announced.

U.S. 7th Fleet ships continued offshore bombardments of Communist installations. The Navy appeared to be playing an increasing role in the Vietnamese war.

The spokesman said two Americans were killed today, one in a plane crash and one when he failed to answer a sentry's challenge. Another American died in a plane crash Thursday night.

The spokesman said a U.S. Air Force observation plane crashed 50 miles south of Da Nang while directing strikes in the area. The pilot and a Vietnamese observer were killed after their plane had dropped smoke on a target, pulled up and then stalled, according to observers.

MARINE KILLED
A U.S. Marine in the Da Nang area, 300 miles north of Saigon, was killed before dawn when he failed to answer a sentry's challenge, the spokesman said. The Marine was investigating suspicious noises.

The pilot of an A1E Skyraider was killed Thursday night when his plane apparently was shot down while on a mission 260 miles northeast of Saigon in Binh Dinh Province.

U.S. Air Force and Vietnamese war planes flew 165 sorties against Viet Cong concentrations and other facilities believed used by the guerrillas, the spokesman said.

For the second straight day, B57 jets blasted an area in the central highlands area east of Pleiku. The spokesman said a number of guerrillas were believed killed.

CONG CAMP
Another target was an encampment 45 miles southeast of Saigon, where 400 Viet Cong were believed to be. However, F100 pilots flying strikes against the position said they did not see any guerrillas during the raids.

U.S. planes again penetrated deep into North Viet Nam, striking a bridge 90 miles west-northwest of Hanoi and another bridge 25 miles northeast of Dien Bien Phu, spokesman reported.

They said four F105 thunderbolts also attacked the Ban Hoa barracks 75 miles east-southeast of Dien Bien Phu. The pilots reported five buildings were destroyed and four others damaged.

Carrier-based F4 Phantoms attacked a communication installation on Tiger Island in the Gulf of Tonkin about 20 miles northeast of the 17th parallel. A spokesman said three secondary explosions were observed.

ANOTHER TARGET
The Ho Me Radar site, another target that has been hit before in the Gulf of Tonkin, also was attacked by F4 Phantoms but damage assessment could not be made because of heavy ground fog, the spokesman said. The site is about 120 miles south of Hanoi.

The planes encountered heavy antiaircraft fire over Ho Me as well as moderate small arms fire but all returned safely, the spokesman said. No enemy aircraft were spotted on any of the raids.

British Party Deciding on New Leader

LONDON (AP)—With Edward Heath and Reginald Maudling the leading contenders, Britain's Conservative party began preparations today to elect a new party leader.

Former Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home laid down the party rules Thursday night, bowing to criticism that has steadily mounted since the Labor party defeated his forces in the October general election. He had succeeded Harold Macmillan as party leader and prime minister in October 1963.

Both Heath, 48, and Maudling, 48, are formidable opponents in the battle to win the support of a decisive majority of the party's 305 members in the House of Commons.

Christopher Soames, 44-year-old son-in-law of the late Sir Winston Churchill, was considered a possible compromise choice.

The Conservatives are looking for a man to match Prime Minister Harold Wilson's rapturous tongue in the daily cut and thrust of debate in Commons. The party has no deep ideological divisions, but younger members especially felt Douglas-Home's dry humor and a needed streak of ruthlessness.

FIERCE DEBATER
Heath, a foreign policy expert regarded as Douglas-Home's protégé and one of the fiercest debaters in Commons, was the front runner in London's betting handbooks at odds of 4-6, meaning a backer had to stake 6 pounds to win 4.

Maudling, former treasury chief, has the right family man image, with an attractive ex-wife, a pretty daughter with her own stage ambitions and three schoolboys sons.

House Unit Approves New Immigration Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The controversial national origins quota system that has shaped U.S. immigration policy for 46 years would be wiped out under a bill that has won solid bipartisan support in the House Immigration subcommittee.

By an 8-0 vote Thursday, the subcommittee approved a bill that would replace the quota system with a ceiling of 170,000.

Most of 60 in Jury Panel Excused in 1st Day of Trial

MANISTEE (AP)—Most of the first 60 prospective jurors in the trial of 21 alleged Madison Heights gambling house operators were excused Thursday as the case opened in a Manistee County courtroom.

Forty-seven of the 60 were excused for various reasons. Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick Ziem ordered another 60 to be impaneled for today's court session.

The trial has been switched from Oakland County, where Madison Heights is located.

The defense challenged 23 prospective jurors and the prosecution three. Ziem excused 11 during court and eight before court convened. Two failed to appear.

EXPECTS ACTION
Ziem said he expects a satisfactory jury to be impaneled soon, despite the lack of progress during the first day.

Scene of the trial was moved to Manistee after the defense attorney argued successfully that publicity about a raid on the Stieren Assembly Club and subsequent events had made it impossible to obtain a fair trial in Oakland County.

Ziem excused one of the 21 defendants from the trial. The defendant, Frank Miller, recently suffered a heart attack. He will be tried at a later date.

Defense attorney Carlton Roesser disagreed Thursday with assistant prosecuting attorney James Finn over how many challenges Roesser is entitled to use. Roesser asserted he is allowed 238 challenges. Finn said it is no more than 105.

TO ACT LATER
Ziem said he would settle the question of challenges if and when Roesser uses 105.

The defendants were arrested Oct. 11, 1963, when State Police raided the club. They obtained some of their information from a pretty girl, Margaret Allen, who at the time was a stenographer for Democratic representatives in the State Legislature.

Miss Allen reportedly is in New York, and the question of whether she will appear as the state's star witness is up in the air.

Q. Does the bill bring any additional groups under Social Security?

A. About 170,000 self-employed physicians will be covered, effective Dec. 31, 1965. They are the only major occupational group not now in the system.

Q. How is income from tips affected by the bill?

But the employer is not obliged to match the tip income in his share of the Social Security tax, and is not responsible under the Social Security law if the employee does not report the tip to him.

Q. Will a widow who remarries find her status changed by the bill?

Goldberg OK'd by Senate Unit

Vote Is Unanimous After Brief Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today confirmed Arthur Goldberg's nomination to be U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur J. Goldberg, declaring he seeks a warless world, won unanimous approval from the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today to be the new U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

The committee acted after hearing Goldberg testify that the crisis confronting the world organization "must be solved and the work of the United Nations must go on."

The vote to recommend Senate confirmation came at a brief executive session following a public hearing filled with praise of the Goldberg appointment.

The Supreme Court justice, former secretary of labor and labor lawyer, was president Johnson's surprise choice to succeed the late Adlai E. Stevenson in the nation's top ambassadorial job.

Goldberg, testifying briefly, pledged that in the past he would carry on the struggle for world peace and for "human rights and social justice for all men everywhere."

He said that no man can really replace Stevenson, "one of those rare human beings whose talents, intellect, speech and wit perish with him."

However, he said, "what Adlai Stevenson stood for and worked for, and if need be, fought for, are imperishable."

Hunt Widens for 2 Missing Texas Coads

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Police checked out leads as far away as the Carolinas today in their search for two pretty Dallas coeds missing since Sunday.

Scores of telephone calls have poured in from people—all the way to Mexico—who think they might have seen Susan Rigby and Shirley Ann Stark, both 21, since their clothing and their car were found in Austin, 200 miles from Dallas.

The Department of Public Safety (DPS) said it received a message from South Carolina police reporting that two girls fitting their description had been found alive and safe.

The DPS then said there apparently was an error in transmission of a teletype message and that it might have come from North Carolina.

Police in Charleston, S. C., said two girls had been reported missing Wednesday. They reported their clothing had been stolen in Georgia. The police said the girls were not the missing coeds.

The girls in South Carolina were riding in a 1965 Chevrolet convertible. The Rigby and Stark girls were in a 1964 Chevrolet Corvair which was found abandoned in Austin.

Developers File Suit, Charge Stall on Permits

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Developers of a planned apartment complex have charged the city with using delaying tactics in the issuing of building permits for the project.

The charge was made yesterday in a suit filed in Oakland County Circuit Court by officers of Manor in the Hills Co. of Detroit.

The suit contends that the city wants to delay the start of construction beyond an Aug. 4 public hearing on a proposed amendment to the zoning code.

If the change is adopted, and given immediate effect, the value of the property would be decreased by one-third, according to the suit.

The amendment would reduce the present multiple family zoning restrictions from four and a half units per acre to three.

6 BUILDINGS
The firm is planning to construct six buildings, each containing eight apartments, on a 10-acre site located directly behind the City Hall on Long Lake Road.

The firm is planning to construct six buildings, each containing eight apartments, on a 10-acre site located directly behind the City Hall on Long Lake Road.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer has directed the city to show cause at 9 a.m. hearing Tuesday why it should not be ordered to issue the permits.

Joseph T. Brennan, the firm's attorney, said the company has complied with all of the city's ordinances, codes and regulations and that plans and specifications for the project have been approved.

He said the city plan commission, however, has made recommendations not relating to zoning that the firm was unable to carry out.

CITY MANAGER
City Manager Elmer Kephart said he didn't believe there has been any deliberate delay.

"It may seem that way, but it isn't true," he said.

Kephart said he has held up the permits for several reasons.

"There was a drainage problem, but this seems to have been corrected," he said. "Another concern the movement of traffic in and out of the property."

PROPERTY FRONTS
Kephart said that the property fronts Woodward on the west and Tiverton, a narrow private road, on the east.

The plan commission, said Kephart, has expressed concern that the Tiverton-Long Lake intersection may become a safety hazard with the additional traffic using the road.

Sealtest Halts Imports; Milk Boycott Ends

DETROIT (AP)—The threat of an indefinite boycott of Sealtest dairies in Detroit and Lansing by the Michigan Milk Producers Association ended Thursday with an agreement that the dairy firm would stop importing raw milk from Wisconsin.

The association had accused Sealtest, reportedly the state's largest processor of milk for drinking, of trying to undermine raw milk prices by importing lower-cost supplies from Wisconsin.

Deliveries of milk to Sealtest from association members virtually halted Wednesday. The association supplies more than 85 percent of the dairy's needs.

In agreeing to stop Wisconsin imports, Sealtest general manager David Falconer denied any intent to influence Michigan prices. He said the company was merely trying to meet fluctuations in demands.

Japan Floods Kill 20

TOKYO (AP)—The flood toll in Western Honshu, hardest hit by the return of monsoon weather to Japan, rose today to 20 dead, 3 missing and 21 injured. Police also listed 81 houses destroyed and 83 damaged. Rail and road traffic was paralyzed in many parts of southwestern Japan.

New Official Named at OU
A former assistant dean of students and foreign student adviser at Ohio University has been named director of the Oakland County and Student Activities at Oakland University.

The new director, Edward E. Birch, succeeds John C. Borchers, who resigned last month for a post at the University of Illinois.

Borchers, according to Thomas B. Dutton, OU dean of students, will be concerned with integrating the student activities program with the OU academic program. He also will develop new activities for students.

Birch received his bachelor's degree from the State University of New York at Binghamton in 1961. He is working on his doctorate at Michigan State University.

Hospital Gifts Mounting

Four more subscriptions, totaling $69,603, for the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Building Fund were announced today by R. M. Critchfield, campaign corporations committee chairman.

The latest gifts are: The Pontiac Press, $23,500; Pontiac State Bank, $15,000; Pontiac Varnish Co., $9,103; and J. H. Youngblood, $24,000.

The Pontiac Press subscription will be used to build and equip the general business office in the new eight-story addition to be constructed in front of the existing main building.

Milo Cross, chairman of the Pontiac State Bank, said the bank's gift will provide the new medical staff lounge. He also said that the directors of the bank, when voting to participate in the building fund, considered this $15,000 an investment in the future health needs of the community.

Cross stated that the years of service already provided by St. Joseph cannot be measured in dollars, "and now that increasing demands for service and growing obsolescence at the existing hospital have created this great need for additional beds and ancillary facilities, we all must help to the best of our ability."

DESIGNATED GIFT
Youngblood has designated his gift for a private suite and a nurses' station on the seventh floor of the new building.

He said he knows of the need from personal experience in the hospital, and wished he could do more.

E. M. Estes, campaign chairman, commented that this was continuing evidence that the corporate community was thoroughly aware of the importance of the hospital campaign, "and this is the type of support we need to reach our goal."

Questions, Answers on Social Security Bill Benefits

Q. Does the bill provide any additional groups under Social Security?

A. About 170,000 self-employed physicians will be covered, effective Dec. 31, 1965. They are the only major occupational group not now in the system.

Q. How is income from tips affected by the bill?

A. Waiters, bartenders and others who receive income from tips will report it to the employer, who will make the appropriate pay check withholding for income tax purposes and Social Security. But the employer is not obliged to match the tip income in his share of the Social Security tax, and is not responsible under the Social Security law if the employee does not report the tip to him.

Q. Will a widow who remarries find her status changed by the bill?

A. Yes, under the law now a yes Social Security benefits based on her first husband's earnings when she remarries.

the bill contains a special provision enabling her to retain some benefits, at a rate of 50 percent of her first husband's primary benefit instead of the 82.5 per cent available if she did not remarry.

Q. Does the bill grant exemption to any groups on religious grounds?

A. The Amish and other sects conscientiously opposed to acceptance of the benefits of any public or private insurance program, who long have sought exemption, finally will attain it in this bill.

Q. What would be the increase in Social Security taxes to pay for the increased benefits under the present system and the new basic health program?

A. The taxable base, now $4,800 a year, will be increased to $6,000 next year. The combined tax rate for the present old age, survivors and disability program and the new health plan would be 4.1 per cent each for the employer and employee next year, rising to 5.85 per cent by 1967. For the self-employed, the combined rate would be 6.15 per cent next year, reaching 7.8 per cent in 1967. The current rate of 3.85 per cent each for employer and employee would go up to 4.125 per cent next year under present law; the self-employed rate, now 3.4 per cent, would increase to 6.2 per cent next year under present law. For an employee earning at least $600 a year, the tax next year would be $27.30 compared to the $174 he pays in 1965.

Q. I am an old person receiving a welfare payment under the public assistance program. Will the bill make any difference in these checks?

A. It contains additional federal funds for all the public assistance programs so that payments can be increased about $2.50 a month to the needy aged, blind and disabled, and $1.25 a month for needy children. The payments are to be paid to the states and local welfare officials, but the bill provides that the new federal money will be available only to the extent it is passed along to individual recipients.

Q. How about aged persons who are patients in hospitals for tuberculosis and mental diseases?

A. The bill for the first time allows federal matching under the old-age assistance program for such persons. It requires as a condition for federal participation in such payments that better care must result from the federal funds.

Q. What changes are made in the Kerr-Mills program for the medically indigent—those who are not necessarily on old age assistance but are unable to pay their medical bills?

A. Benefits under this now vast program will be the same, with some not participating at all. The bill provides increased federal funds and requires that a participating state must furnish at least a basic minimum of services including hospitalization and doctors' fees. Eligibility standards will have to be liberalized to cover many additional persons in most states. Kerr-Mills will be extended to the other categories on the public assistance rolls—the blind, disabled and dependent children.

Reserves, Gold Holdings Down

Exchange Crisis Grips India

RASOI, India (AP) — India's foreign exchange reserves are here in the Punjab could increase crop yields 50 per cent to help feed India if only they had fertilizer.

In New Delhi, Raj Gupta, 34, housewife, would like to spill up a bit when her husband comes home from the office. But she has neither lipstick nor rouge.

This village and city feel the worst foreign exchange crisis in the 18 years of independent India's economically shaky history.

Reserves are down to about $154 million, gold holdings to $281 million — a total of $435 million, or less than $1 for each of India's 480 million people.

IMPORTS SLASHED

Imports of necessities as well as luxuries have been slashed and Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri warns his people to prepare for "greater discipline and hardship."

Mrs. Gupta and other young Indian women are being told they must wait longer than they feared for better times.

Mrs. Gupta learned last week that she and her husband must wait at least five years to buy a small car — and they already have been on the waiting list five years.

The steady drop in reserves threatens the entire planned economy of democratic-socialist India.

India cannot feed itself, and plans for increasing food production depend upon fertilizer. But there is little money to buy fertilizer.

Infant industries will struggle unless they have raw materials but goods from abroad, especially nonferrous metals and rubber, are scarce.

Some industries are potential earners of foreign exchange, but if they can't import, they can't export — and so goes the circle. Anxiously watching all this are nations that have poured billions into India since 1948 in history's greatest effort to aid a developing country.

AID CLIMBING

The U.S. aid bill alone totals $6.1 billion and is climbing. Wheat shipments average 600,000 tons a month.

With vested interest in India's economic future, some countries offer advice as well as money.

Generally, Western experts suggest the Indians liberalize a Socialist obsession with planning and relax tight controls on every aspect of the economy.

Let traditional market forces loose, the experts urge, and scale down grandiose schemes that clearly are beyond India's means.

Generally, the advice is rejected and rejected.

If anything, the government in recent months has hardened its attempts to control the economy. It is increasing its dedication to a mixture of socialism and, severely restricted capitalism.

Shastri's political opponents about he is driving the country into bankruptcy. They urge shifts right or left, depending on their politics.

But this ideological quarrel is conducted by, perhaps, one per cent of the population. Shastri's Slog and housewife Gupta couldn't care less about politics, or about harnessing themselves to a national effort to pull India ahead.

Divorces Legal From Mexico?

Prominent Attorney Warns on Validity

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Divorce seekers are warned by a prominent Mexican attorney that all Mexican divorces may not be legal, despite a ruling by the New York State Court of Appeals upholding him.

Vicior Velazquez, former head of international and Mexican bar organizations, says:

"Each divorce, if challenged, will have to be settled on its own merits, in accordance with its own special set of circumstances."

In jurists' eyes, Mexican divorces vary in validity.

VULNERABLE

Divorces in which one spouse is opposed also are vulnerable, but not always illegal.

The majority of divorces are granted where both parties are willing, and one makes the trip to Mexico.

That type was upheld by the New York court, and Velazquez finds no major fault there.

JUST SHOW UP

The average spouse gets "instant residence" — a major attraction of Mexican divorces — by just showing up in a border city and signing a registration ledger.

With this paper — which costs practically nothing — the judge can take action in a few minutes, as he now has jurisdiction over the visitor.

It is estimated that at least 100,000 foreigners have obtained Mexican divorces, mainly Americans and a large percentage from New York.

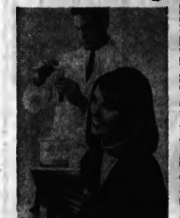

The influx to Mexico began in the early 1950s when an amendment to the Mexican constitution permitted Mexican states to liberalize their laws to include divorcing foreigners.

Teachers in Need of Lodgings

The annual problem of teacher recruitment in Waterford Township Schools has been placed this year by the task of finding adequate housing for the new teachers, according to M. Barrett Vorce, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction and personnel.

Recent across-the-board pay increases, which raised starting salaries from $5,100 to $5,350, is the primary reason a teacher shortage is almost nonexistent in the township school system.

It enables Waterford Township to compete on at least an equal basis with most of the school systems in the state.

However, finding suitable living quarters for the 150 replacements who will begin teaching in the township's 33 primary and secondary buildings this fall may not be so easy.

Vorce estimates that at least $6 per cent of the 150 teachers will want to rent homes or apartments, and rentals are scarce in the Pontiac area.

SEARCH IS ON
Vorce admits that the Board of Education is "begging" for places to rent, even though the problem may not be as crucial as in past years because of new apartment developments in Waterford Township.

But because of the area's rapidly growing pace, the demand is greater than the supply in the case of apartments.

Vorce noted that only 10 full-time teacher vacancies remain for the fall term.

SUBSTITUTES
Substitute teachers are being sought for the forthcoming school year, noted Vorce. "We're always recruiting substitutes."

To qualify as a substitute teacher, a person must have completed a minimum of 60 hours college credit.

There will be approximately 200 teachers in the system this fall, according to Vorce.

K. of C. Opens Fund Project

Members of the Waterford Township Knights of Columbus Council No. 5438, have announced the formation of a corporation to raise funds for a Knights of Columbus Hall in Waterford Township.

The campaign organization, Pope John XXIII Building Corporation, is presently selling shares of capital stock at $10 per share, said Andrai Calki, vice president.

There is no limit to the number of shares which may be purchased, according to Calki.

The campaign goal is $85,000. Interested parties may contact Calki or the corporation's treasurer, Carl McMahon, 2837 Huntington, Waterford Township.

Currently, the council has no building of its own.

Members hope to buy or build an adequate building to be used for special events and Knights of Columbus purposes.

Negroes Say Biracial Unit Won't Work

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Two Negro leaders say Gov. John D. McKeithen is mistaken if he thinks a biracial commission on human relations will eliminate civil rights protests in Louisiana.

That was the reaction of Ronnie Moore of the Congress of Racial Equality and Murphy Bell of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to McKeithen's prediction Thursday that the proposed 40-man advisory committee on race relations would quell racial trouble spots.

"Negroes with any respect at all for the efforts of their race" can not serve on the governor's committee, said a joint statement by Moore, CORE's state field director, and Bell, Baton Rouge NAACP chapter president.

McKeithen's forecast was "a very sad error," they said.

ON HORIZON

Meanwhile, Bogalusa city officials said they believed racial peace was on the horizon. They were echoed by one Negro leader.

Public Safety Commissioner Arnold Spiers said Bogalusa whites weren't getting agitated anymore over the daily civil rights demonstrations in the paper mill town of 22,000.

Robert Hicks, an official of the all-Negro Bogalusa Voters and Civic League, said he thought an end to the tension was in sight.

McKeithen told a news conference at Baton Rouge the proposed biracial agency, which he will name shortly, will eliminate racial tension and build public sentiment against "hellraisers and troublemakers" of both races.

"We don't need CORE," said McKeithen. "We're trying to put an end to CORE in Louisiana."

CLARIFIES REMARKS

Afterward he issued a statement clarifying remarks he made about eliminating CORE.

"I mean that our commission, by functioning in a manner fair to both races, would destroy the need for CORE or any similar group, white or colored, in Louisiana," said McKeithen.

Dave Dennis of New Orleans, CORE's regional program director, said, "There's only one thing that can run CORE out of Louisiana — that's freedom for all the people."

Kentucky was the first state to qualify for a federal grant for banning billboards on interstate highways.

Five Approved for OU Faculty

MSU Trustee Board
Okays New Members

Five new faculty members were approved for Oakland University yesterday by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

Appointed were Robert B. Pettengill, visiting professor of economics; David E. Boddy, assistant professor of engineering; Abraham A. Davidson, assistant professor of art; Edward L. Buote, instructor of modern foreign languages; and Aharon Kuperman, instructor of psychology.

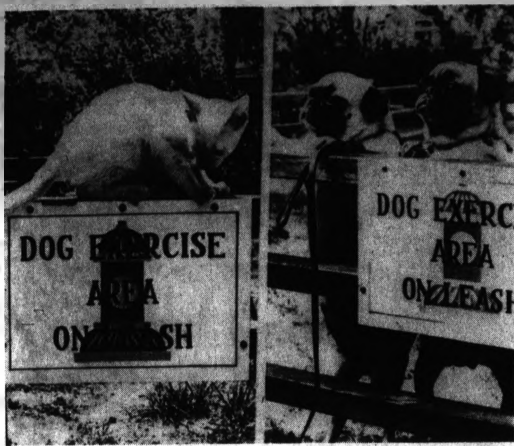

Pettengill, lecturer last year at OU, has taught at a number of colleges including Stanford University, the University of Southern California, and the University of Puerto Rico.

An engineering professor, Boddy has been an instructor of electrical engineering at Purdue University since 1960. He is completing work for his doctorate this summer.

Davidson was an instructor of art at Wayne State University last year. Holding degrees from Harvard University and Boston University, Davidson also has his doctorate degree from Columbia University.

Buote will teach Chinese at OU. He has served as a graduate assistant at the University of Chicago, where he expects to complete his doctorate work this year.

Kuperman has been an instructor at the University of Missouri this past year. He has his doctorate degree from Washington University.

Innocent Man Gets Award

$35,000 for 17 Years in Jail

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — A man who described himself as "still quite bitter," didn't show it when told that Illinois had awarded him $35,000 for 17 years of wrongful imprisonment.

"Did he really sign it?" asked 56-year-old Ted Marcin.

The reference was to Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner, who signed the enabling legislation for the award Thursday.

Prohibition Death Marcin served in Joliet Penitentiary from 1933 to 1950 in connection with the slaying of a Chicago policeman who was shot down in a South Side prohibition era speakeasy.

The case later became the subject of a movie, "Northside 777."

Marcin, then known as Marcinkiewicz, was convicted with

Joe Majczek. Majczek, also pardoned, earlier received $24,000 from the legislature for wrongful imprisonment.

"I'm certainly happy that I got this dough," Marcin said Thursday night. "Now I can buy a business — a resort or some such — and make a living without working too hard."

SOLD APARTMENT

Only about a week ago Marcin sold a six-unit apartment house in which he and his wife, Frances, live.

Both Marcin and Majczek were freed from prison through the efforts of a Chicago Times reporter, James McGuire. The reporter investigated after Majczek's mother placed an advertisement in the newspaper offering a reward for evidence to clear her son.

Conflicting testimony by a key witness led to release of the two men.

"I'm still quite bitter," he said. "The point is I'm getting old and I have no security. Because I served that time, I couldn't get the jobs I was capable of doing.

"The (employers) were all sympathetic, but they were doubtful about my mentality after all those years in prison." He arrived in southern California shortly after he left prison in 1950 and worked briefly for 20th Century-Fox, but he said the motion picture craft unions declined to accept him.

"It took a lot of frugal living to buy the apartment house," Marcin said. "I worked two jobs a day some of the time—painting, repairing and so on."

"I had to get something for security toward my old age."

Don't be entranced by those false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a reasonable degree of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, sticky taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTETH at any drug counter.

2 Arrested in Miami Jewel Theft Hearing Today on Ruby Judge

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A chum of Jack (Murphy the Bull) Murphy, the man involved in the Star of India sapphire theft, and a former Playboy Club bunny were caught with $150,000 worth of stolen jewels Thursday after somebody tipped police.

The pair, Richard Duncan Pearson, 34, and Mary Elaine Denison, 22, were charged with the Sunday burglary of Miami's Jordan Marsh department store.

Police arrested Pearson as he opened a bus station locker which, they said, held the bag containing the jewels. The locker was five lockers away from the one which held the Star of India, stolen from the New York Museum of Natural History earlier this year.

Miss Denison was arrested in a car outside the bus station. A third person who drove away in another car is being sought by police.

During the Star of India case, Pearson was beaten up by masked thugs who demanded to know where the fabulous gem was.

Murphy and two friends, Allen Kuhn and Roger Clark, pleaded guilty to the Star burglary and were given three-year sentences after helping recover most of the loot.

The Jordan Marsh burglary occurred a few days after approximately $100,000 worth of jewels were stolen from a safe at Burdine's Dadeland store.

Jordan Marsh officials said all but a few uncut stones and diamond rings were recovered.

Pearson's bail was set at $25,000, Miss Denison's at $10,000.

Wisner Stadium Game, Aug. 7th

Don't Look Now—Football's Near

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

It's later than you think—football's that late!

Next week, 26 Detroit Lions rookies joined by at least 10 veterans, will enter camp at Cranbrook, and a week later the first head bumping session will take place at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium.

It will be the annual intra-squad game, Saturday night, Aug. 7, being returned to Wisner Stadium after a year's absence.

Through the joint sponsorship of the Pontiac Jaycees and the Community National Bank, the Lions brought the intra-squad tilt to Wisner in 1961 when it became almost impossible to stage the contest at Cranbrook because of the huge crowds which jammed the practice area.

The first squad game at Wisner sold 6,000 tickets, but it was an offense versus defense scrimmage and it was played under a constant downpour which saw stadium lights bursting and the field turned into a swamp.

In 1962 and 1963 the attendance rose to 7,000 and 7,400 respectively, but in 1964 the game was switched to U. of D. Stadium and played for the benefit of Ray (Sewster) McLean's family after the former Lions' backfield coach died of cancer.

The format of the game was changed, also, last year with two squads playing a regulation game rather than the offense versus defense setup.

It turned out to be an interesting contest with the Blue team under quarterback Milt Plum defeating the White team under Earl Morrill, 16-0, and the defenses of both units sparking.

LOCAL ATTRACTION

Bellino Makes Impression on Boston Coach

ANDOVER, Mass. (P) — Joe Bellino, Navy's 1960 All-American and Heisman Trophy winner, is off to a flying start in a bid to nail down a job with the Boston Patriots after four years as a Naval officer.

Bellino, a 27-year-old American Football League rookie, was impressive Thursday in his first two workouts with the Patriots. "I feel fine, but I'll probably be a little stiff," Bellino said. "I'm not going to worry about that. I'll be no different from any other player after his initial workout."

Coach Mike Holovak beamed as Bellino, fresh out of the Navy, caught virtually every pass thrown in his direction. In the Patriots' attack, the halfback is a prime receiver.

Bellino, who still weighs about the same 185 pounds he carried in becoming one of Navy's all-time football greats, said he felt a little slow "getting off the mark" — one of his old trademarks.

Canadian Olympic Ace in Exhibition Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Crothers, Canada's Olympic 800-meter silver medalist, will run in a special exhibition race at the World Maccabiah Games in Tel Aviv, Israel, the U.S. Maccabiah team said today.

American team officials said they had received word from the Israeli Organizing Committee that the Markham, Ont., athlete will oppose the medalists of both the 800 and 1,500 meter events. The games will be held Aug. 23-31.

Jerry Bush, former Pontiac Central gridders, making his first appearance in a Lions' uniform.

Bush, the No. 3 draft choice of the Lions, will be playing in the College All-Star game, Friday, Aug. 6. He will report to the Lions the next morning and is expected to see some defensive work that night at Wisner Stadium.

Harry Gilmer will also make his debut under game conditions as new head coach since succeeding George Wilson, and Gilmer has indicated that he strongly favors the game-type contest rather than having the offense go against the defense.

Next Tuesday, the team rookies will report to the Lions' office and be transported to Cranbrook. On Wednesday they will go through physicals and on Friday they will start two-day workouts.

The complete squad with all veterans on hand will arrive Sunday, Aug. 1 and have five days of drills before the Aug. 7 game at Wisner.

The exhibition season begins Aug. 15 in Philadelphia. Tickets for the Wisner Stadium game are available at numerous locations in the Pontiac area, including Community National Banks and from members of the Jaycees.

Brown Case May Reach Jury Today

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A jury of seven women and five men will be asked today to decide whether professional football star Jim Brown slugged an 18-year-old girl and forced her into intimacy in an East Side motel — charges which Brown denied categorically from the witness stand.

Albert Coral, an assistant police prosecutor, said in a brief closing argument Thursday that there were "no eyewitnesses" and it will be up to the jury to decide "who is telling the truth."

Brown or his accuser, Miss Brenda Ayres.

Coral was to complete his final summary this morning. Municipal Court Judge Blanche Krupansky then will present the charge to the jury.

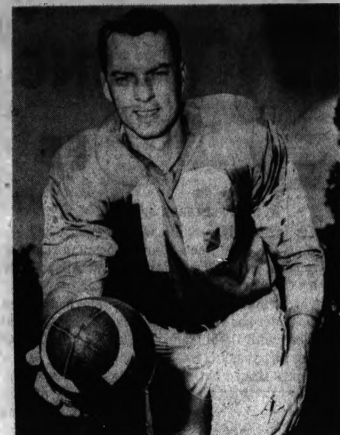

Miss Ayres testified during the 10-day trial — longest on record in Municipal Court — that she went to the motel with Brown at 11 p.m., June 19, that he slapped her on the face, stomach and hip and that they had sex relations after Brown gave her whiskey.

Ex-Coach Idzik, U of D Reach Pay Settlement

DETROIT (AP) — Former head coach John Idzik and the University of Detroit agreed in court Thursday on a settlement of his breach of contract and back pay suit against the University.

Idzik, who sued for $7,500, is to receive $1,400 under the terms reached before Wayne County Circuit Judge John M. Wise.

Idzik lost his job when the school dropped its intercollegiate football program last fall.

SIGNS CONTRACT — Milt Plum signed a two-year contract with the Detroit Lions yesterday. The veteran quarterback will reportedly receive $27,500 per season.

Healthy Plum Given 'Healthier' Contract

DETROIT — Milt Plum, who finished up the season last year as the only healthy quarterback on the Detroit Lions squad, has signed a new two-year contract calling for an estimated $27,500.

Plum had been demoted to the number two quarterback at the start of last season, but had to take over when Earl Morrill broke his shoulder.

Plum proceeded to hit for 154 out of 287 passes, good for more than 2,200 yards, the fifth best performance in the National Football League.

His new contract reflected the performance. It was an estimated $5,000 increase.

That now puts it up to Earl Morrill, who has been out with Plum losing the ball in practice at University of Detroit Stadium, but who has not yet come to terms with the Lion management.

Morrill appears to be fully recovered from his shoulder injury.

NOT SIGNED

Other big name Lions who still have not signed include Gail Cogdill and Wayne Walker, but Lions Personnel Director Russ

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit yacht 'Sucher', owned by Don Sucher, has been accepted as a post-deadline entry in the Port Huron to Mackinac Island race this weekend following a reversal by the race committee.

As of today, there were 170 boats entered in the 225-mile race from Port Huron to Mackinac Island, which starts at 12:30 p.m. Saturday.

Sucher was racing another boat in the Chicago to Mackinac yacht race and did not arrive at Mackinac Island until Tuesday.

He tried to telephone in his entry from there, but it was rejected on the grounds that it was beyond the deadline. However, Sucher complained he did not receive a formal entry application, which is sent to previous contestants.

Sucher is a veteran of ten Mackinac races.

After several other skippers threatened to withdraw their boats if Sucher was barred, the race committee reversed itself and admitted him.

The committee also accepted the late application of Sam Irwin for his yacht Talaria.

In Sucher's case, he had moved since last year and his application was not forwarded.

In Irwin's case, his application had been sent to the wrong post office box.

The committee ruled in both cases that the men were not responsible for the misdirection.

New Urgency Seen to Desalting Water

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Drought—

the nation's Northeast coast and ever-growing populations in the arid West give new urgency to desalting water

by nuclear and other methods.

Cost is still the chief deterrent.

Most communities can get regular fresh water much more cheaply, even if at long distances.

But in many spots in the world—such as Kuwait in the Near East, or at the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo, Cuba, after Fidel Castro cut off the natural water supply—cost is a secondary consideration. Need for water, any water, comes first.

And threats of severe shortages this summer in many U.S.

desalting devices.

DESALTING

A 55-nation desalting conference is planned in Washington

In New York, the State Atomic

and Space Development Authority has approved installation of a nuclear reactor system at the eastern end of Long Island. It will be built by American Machine & Foundry, going into operation in 1968, extract one million gallons of fresh water a day, to supply a plant to process 1,500

United States should build a prototype plant now to produce at least 50 million gallons a day.

Simpson contends that wider use would cut the cost of such production to 3 cents per thousand gallons, which he says is about average for the United States. In New York City, water still costs about 12 cents a thousand.

In 1962, converting sea water cost $4 per thousand gallons and is now down to about $1 a thousand.

ELECTRICITY

There are 46 plants in the United States forcing the salt and minerals out by electricity.

Mostly they are in factories and resort hotels where local water is brackish, and are made by

Ionics, Inc. of Cambridge,

Mass. The first such plant was in Coalinga, Calif., in 1958 and the second at Buckeye, Ariz., in 1962. There are 180 others scattered around the world.

Reverse osmosis plants are made by AMF, Rohm & Haas,

Aerjet General and Pfaffner.

Permutit. Among those furnishing plants using the freezing method are Blaw-Knox, Struthers-Wells and Fairbanks-Whitney.

The office of Saline Water has demonstration plants at Webster, S.D. Freeport, Texas, and Roswell, N.M.

Leaders' Cars

Protests Are Aimed at Policy for Goa Future

BANGALORE, India (AP)—

Demonstrators shouting "We want Goa!" threw stones today

assembled here for the government Congress party's national convention.

Absenting themselves from schools and colleges, students assembled in strength outside

Minister Nehru's daughter, Indira Gandhi, inaugurated the

All-India Youth Congress.

Students pelted stones at her as she drove out. Police said she was not hurt. One student leader was taken away for interrogation. Police dispersed

throwing stones at passing vehi-

Agitation persisted despite a government order banning meetings, processions and demonstrations throughout Bangalore for a week, beginning today. Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was greeted by shouts of "Go back Shastri!"

This state, Mysore, wants Goa directly administered by New Delhi for at least 10 years, as Nehru promised. He did so mainly to allay fears of Goa's

Roman Catholic population that

either Maharashtra State to the north or Mysore, to the east and south.

New Delhi's recent decision to hold early elections to decide

Goa's future, it is feared here, will lead to its choosing Mahara-
