Friday the 13th Unlucky for All Except Black Cat

DETROIT (INS) — Friday the 13th was a lucky day for a Detroit cab driver today and a not-so-lucky date for a bandit.

Cabby Joseph Wagner, 45, was driving two men and two women passengers today when one of the men pulled a gun and demanded money. Wagner pulled to the curb and said:

"Look, you know what day this is?"

"Why, Friday," said the gunman.

"How about the date?" asked Wagner.

"The 13th," replied the bandit.

Wagner then said:

"Well, don't push your luck. Now get out of my cab and beat it."

The foursome got out and fled between houses. The taxi driver later admitted he hadn't been pressing his own luck — he had spotted the bandit's gun as a toy pistol.

BALTIMORE (INS) — A black cat — on Friday the 13th — is enjoying the best medical care the nation can afford.

The cat, of the plain alley variety, fought her way into Johns Hopkins Hospital where she delivered three kittens while being attended by a physician. The hospital reported that all four are doing fine.

The alley cat tried to gain admittance three times earlier in the week. But on Wednesday night she followed a visitor into an obstetrical ward, was chased out, and then went into a near-by examining room to find a friendly doctor.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Friday the 13th bad luck couldn't be dodged by Reece B. Baldwin, 40, when he appeared in Long Beach municipal court to answer a drunk driving charge.

Baldwin had asked the court last week not to set his hearing for Friday the 13th.

He said the day was unlucky for him, that he had been married, separated and divorced on Friday the 13th. The judge set the case for April 12.

When Baldwin appeared in court yesterday his luck was still bad. He was fined $400 and lost his driver's license for a year.

The judge gave him one break — Baldwin has two weeks to pay the fine and escape 90 days in jail.

Five Buildings Destroyed by Fire

Six Departments Battle Blazes; No One Injured

Construction Supplies Lost in Afternoon Fire Fanned by Winds

Five farm buildings at Lahser and Maple were destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon as six fire departments fought a total of ten grass fires fanned by brisk west winds.

The buildings, centering the Bloomfield Township farm area owned by the Prudential Investment Company and being developed as Westchester Village, housed kegs of nails and other building supplies.

The old farmhouse north of the buildings, and one barn to the south were saved as 50 firemen fought for three hours.

Starting with a Georgian-type barn whose unpainted walls caught from a fire in trashbarrels about 15 feet away, the blaze was fought by three regular firemen and one fire truck for about ten minutes after the fire call at 2:25 p.m.

Other fire-fighting units were at a brush fire, ignited also by trash burning in the Eastmoore subdivision about a mile further out West Maple.

Explosions were intermittent as flames spread to a large farm behind the first building. About ten full and 20 empty fuel tanks, used for home stoves, kept firemen from playing water on that building at close range.

Traffic on busy Maple avenue was handled by Birmingham police, but that city's fire department was not called for aid.

Township Treasurer Arno Hulet dispatched fire trucks to other grass fire sites during the afternoon, as Franklin Village, Bloomfield Village, and Bloomfield Hills firemen aided the effort.

Flames swept across 20 acres of field east of the burning barns, and two horses grazing there were rescued by owners. Firemen beat out the grass blaze just short of five homes under construction.

About 9 p.m. last night, firemen were called again to the scene, where the blackened ruins had rekindled.

The buildings were valued at about $6,000, according to a company spokesman and was partially insured. The farm was purchased just over a year ago from a realty company to whom the Mercers had sold six years ago.

Professor Tells Why Many Fear Friday the 13th

Unless you are scared of the world you probably are not worried because this Friday is that so-called "unlucky Friday the thirteenth."

According to Wilbert J. McKeachie, associate professor of psychology at The University of Michigan, "A person who is timid and anxious is more likely to be superstitious. It takes a certain amount of emotional stability to be able to tolerate uncertainty."

McKeachie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert A. McKeachie of White Lake Township.

But what's behind the persistent idea that that particular day on the calendar is something to make you shudder?

"According to the teaching of the astrologers of the Middle Ages Friday was unlucky because of the crucifixion of Christ on that day. Others advance the theory that Friday is regarded as an unlucky day because it was on Friday that Adam and Eve partook of the forbidden fruit," Professor McKeachie says.

Israel, Egypt OK 'No Action'

Report No New Clashes Since Pledge Not to Kick Off Shooting

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel and Egypt were pledged today not to kick off any new shooting action in the tinderbox Middle East except in self-defense.

Early today no fresh clashes had been reported since yesterday's aerial engagement over Israel's Negev Desert and one incident of rifle firing across the Gaza frontier during the day.

Unofficial Cairo reports said Arab commando squads — the Fedayeen — were being withdrawn from Israel.

An Israeli foreign ministry spokesman asserted, however, that Egypt was "trying to pull the wool over the eyes of the world."

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, in Cairo on the first leg of his Palestine peace tour, reported that Egypt and Israel had promised not to commit warlike acts against each other. Both countries, however, emphasized that they reserved the right to act in self-defense.

SITUATION IMPROVING?

Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U.N. Palestine truce-team chief in Cairo with Hammarskjold, told reporters he believed the situation had improved despite the sky fight.

Hammarskjold postponed further talks with the Egyptians until tomorrow, reserving today for work with his staff.

He now plans to go from Cairo to Beirut Saturday afternoon, coming to Israel next Tuesday.

At Augusta, Ga., it was announced that President Eisenhower sent personal messages to Ben-Gurion and Nasser last Monday regarding the Middle East situation.

In Moscow, the Soviets again accused the United States of planning armed intervention in the Middle East.

President Eisenhower has described the situation as serious and has warned both sides that the U.S. will help the victim of any aggression.

Agriculture Bill Almost Certain for Veto by Ike

Controversial Measure Will Be Discussed Over Weekend at Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga. (INS)— President Eisenhower called Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson to Augusta today for a weekend conference amid reports he will veto the farm bill.

Benson will be accompanied by Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse and four other administration aides, including Kevin McCann, the President's chief speech-writer.

Although Benson has termed the bill unacceptable, he said yesterday he does not plan to resign if Eisenhower should sign it.

McCann could be along simply to help draft a statement outlining Eisenhower's objections to the bill which would re-establish rigid 90 per cent price supports on basic agriculture crops.

Even if he should sign the bill, the President would undoubtedly issue such a statement.

It is more likely, however, that McCann is on hand to help with a veto message explaining to the nation's farmers why the administration feels the catch-all bill passed by Congress must be rejected.

MAY APPEAR ON TV

Washington teemed with unconfirmed reports that Eisenhower will go on television next week to discuss the reasons for a veto.

Also flying from Washington were Gabriel Hauge, presidential economic adviser; Fred A. Seaton, White House specialist in congressional liaison and Don Paarlberg, assistant to Secretary Benson.

The six were scheduled to meet with Eisenhower at 8 a.m. (EST) tomorrow at the little White House on the grounds of the Augusta National Golf Club.

The President is not expected to act on the farm bill one way or the other until he returns to Washington early next week.

In view of the sizable margins by which the measure passed the House and Senate, chances of overriding a presidential veto appear good.

VETO MAY HURT GOP

Democrats have warned that if Eisenhower wants any farm bill at all this session of Congress he must accept the version hammered out in conference.

Vetoing the bill would undoubtedly bring a storm of protest from the farm belt. It conceivably could mean the margin between victory and defeat for GOP members of Congress in some key districts.

It is impossible to say at this time what effect a veto would have on the presidential election. It now appears, however, that the President and his advisers have decided that a veto is their only recourse, whatever the political repercussions.

Two of the three major national farm organizations called upon President Eisenhower to sign the new farm bill despite the features objectionable to him.

They are the National Grange and the National Farmers Union. Both had used their influence to get Congress to pass the controversial measure.

Spring Rain Doesn't Dampen Joy

Radiant Grace and Prince Stroll in Palace Gardens

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Radiant Grace Kelly and her prince walked hand-in-hand in the palace gardens today.

Even a gentle spring rain didn't spoil their obvious pleasure at being together.

The 24-year-old film star slept in her future palace for the first time last night. The prospective bridegroom, Prince Rainier III of Monaco, went off to his villa at nearby St. Jean-Cape-Ferrat at midnight after turning the 200-room royal dwelling over to Grace and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia.

Grace's arrival yesterday touched off a series of public celebrations expected to mount to a smashing crescendo when the wedding takes place next week.

"Yesterday," the prince told a friend, "was one of the happiest days of my life."

The palace spokesman said Grace and the prince spent part of today writing letters. They are snowed under with good will notes, telegrams and gifts.

The couple—both Roman Catholics—will attend Mass together Sunday, presumably at the Monaco Cathedral about 100 yards from the palace.

Grace and Rainier wound up their first evening together with a family dinner. An announcement said 10 members of the two families were present.

The dinner conversation was in English. Rainier's mother, Princess Charlotte, his father, Count Pierre de Polignac, and his sister, Personnel Head Leaves to Take Manager's Post at Zion, Ill.

The resignation of William L. Collins as personnel director of the City of Pontiac was announced today by City Manager W. K. Willman.

Filling the post will be Harold Marshall, 50, former employment manager of the old Wilson Foundry in the city. He was associated with the organization for 20 years.

Collins will go to Zion, Ill. to become city manager and clerk of the town of 10,500. It is situated between Chicago and Milwaukee.

He has been personnel director for the city since October 1954 after beginning as a planning technician on the city staff. He came to Pontiac in June 1951.

Marshall, 50, lives at 777 Emerson Ave. with his wife Edith and their 11-year-old daughter Shaun.

High School Band Concert Pleases Capacity Crowd

By JANICE HAYHOW

A capacity crowd of relatives and friends packed the Pontiac High School gymnasium last night for the 29th annual band concert.

Under the direction of Dale C. Harris, band members expertly moved through 15 numbers from the slow moving, precise, "Mannin Veen" by Wood to the light and smooth "Ballet for Young Americans."

The evening's high point came with the last three numbers when the band paid tribute to the late Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman. His three marches "Builders of America," "On the Mall," and "University Grand March" ended the program.

Fun for all was a first performance of "Clarence the Clarinet" featuring Gerald Crossman as E flat clarinet soloist and narrator Elden C. Rosegart. This was the fanciful story of a tiny clarinet in a second hand store. Sound effects and the musical background behind the story brought a thunder of applause from the audience.

The percussion section had a busy time with the loud and crashing "Study in Steel" by Samskar. "The Blast Furnace" with its roaring flames was well pictured as was the "Nail Mill."

To be commended were two xylophone players, Harold Jones and Joel Thome. "Perpetual Motion" by Paganini and arranged by Instrumental Music staff member

Postal Hike Seen by Summerfield

Optimism Over Passage of President's Request in Congress Hinted

WASHINGTON (INS)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield predicted today that Congress will approve President Eisenhower's request for a 406 million dollar boost in postal rates.

Summerfield forecast approval of the full amount recommended by the administration. If so, it will be the first time in many years that Congress has agreed fully to a requst for postal rate increases.

The administration's request is aimed at wiping out a major part of the estimated half-billion dollar deficit which faces the Post Office Department in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The program now under consideration by the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee calls for four cents instead of three, for first class mail and seven cents for air mail.

The rates for second class mail, largely used by newspapers and magazines, would be raised 30 per cent over a two-year period, and a similar increase would go into effect for third class (advertising) mail in one year.

Gruenther Retires

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower today announced the retirement of Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther as NATO commander, effective toward the end of the year. The President picked Gen. Lauris Norstad to succeed Gruenther.

Dairy Farmers Oust Director

Fair Share Group Fires Homer Martin After CIO Warning

DETROIT (AP)—Rolland Brengle, president of the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., said today directors of the rebel group of dairy farmers had fired Homer Martin as organizing director.

The announcement came 24 hours after August (Gus) Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO Council, served notice that the CIO would not help the dairy farmers unless they got rid of Martin.

Martin, a former president of the United Auto Workers and a long time foe of the CIO, helped organize the Fair Share group's nine-day milk strike that collapsed April 3.

Brengle said nine of Fair Share's 12 directors meeting in Detroit last night voted to fire Martin by abolishing his job as "not necessary."

Brengle described as "illegal" a meeting of Fair Share farmers last night in Richmond, that endorsed Martin and voted to retain him as organization director.

About 600 Fair Sharers at the Richmond meeting voted to keep free from ties with "all labor organizations except on a friendship basis."

But Brengle claimed the Richmond meeting led by Fair Share Secretary Samuel Bailo of South Lyons had "no status."

Bailo said Martin's dismissal was one of the conditions made by Scholle for union help to the dairy farmers.

Scholle yesterday in a statement termed Bailo's charge "silly." But he disclosed later that the CIO had offered Fair Sharers financial help up to $1,000 a month until they could set up their own dues system.

Willman Reports on Condition of Pontiac

Debt Free, City Moves Forward on Civic Problems

By JOHN W. FITZGERALD
Editor, Pontiac Press

Pontiac can well be proud of its overall situation after hearing City Manager Walter K. Willman report that at the present time the city is debt free.

Expanding on the financial situation City Manager Willman told members of the Rotary club yesterday that the city is in excellent condition.

The bonding limit is 8 per cent of an assessed valuation of $239,000,000 which would put the city in a position to be able to incur a debt in the neighborhood of $19,000,000.

Pontiac's two current major expenditures will be for parking lots which will be financed by revenue bonds and the addition to Pontiac General Hospital which will be financed by general obligation bonds of $3,000,000.

Also foreseen by the city manager was action to solve the water problem, which continues on the critical list. "It's going to take a lot of money, but I think the city because of its fine financial standing and the ability to borrow up to $19,000,000 should consider the matter seriously," said Willman.

He said two sources exist, Lake St. Clair and Lake Huron. The costs would be somewhat alike from each and a serious study should be undertaken during 1956.

Water from either lake would provide soft water for both industry and private citizens.

★ ★ ★

Major steps to be taken during 1956 and paid for by prearranged financing include the following:

1—New public safety building adjacent to the new city hall;
2—New west side fire station;
3—Off-street parking;
4—Hospital addition;
5—Sewage plant and sewers;
6—New paving, 12.2 miles;
7—Orchard Lake-Telegraph grade separation;
8—Perry Street widening;
9—Airport improvements;
10—More park facilities;
11—100 more street lights;
12—Civil defense communications;
13—Maintenance yard;
14—More water wells;
15—Sale of Orchard Lake dump area to government for an armory.

Among the achievements during 1955 was the completion of a $1,250,000 city hall and an $80,000 branch library. The Auburn Ave. parking lot was opened and 230 miles of streets are now improved.

In regard to the city's traffic tangles, Willman said "We are trying to set up a pattern which will ease the pressure."

★ ★ ★

New services that were added during the last year include the complaint bureau which handles all queries and sees that they are sent to the right department; use of chloride on all streets that need it was put into operation during 1955 for the first time.

★ ★ ★

A substandard housing commission was set up and is studying the housing condition. The Pontiac historical commission has been formed to keep permanent records on the history of the city.

Still another service was the appointment of Theodore M. Vanderstemple as a traffic engineer to study our problems and make recommendations.

To keep up with the modern trend, voting machines have been leased for a year to give faster

Schedule May Auto Safety Check

Chamber Plans Five-Day Event

Expect 30,000 Drivers to Halt for 30 Second Auto Inspection

Some 30,000 drivers are expected to win windshield stickers in the annual road test May 7 to 12, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce safety committee. A sticker will mean the car has been judged safe to drive.

Plans for the event were announced yesterday at a meeting of the safety committee, which seeks to promote safe driving in safe cars.

Half-minute tests will be conducted at five places in the city, according to Robert Tricker, who heads the program. Teams from high school driving classes will judge cars from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., he said, and service club members will take over from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The check will cover horns, windshield-wipers, brakes, steering wheels and lights, he said. In order to gain stickers, drivers must show operator's licenses and auto registrations, he added.

Tricker listed these locations for the auto check: S. East boulevard between Auburn avenue and Whittemore street; N. Johnson avenue between State and Liberty streets; W. Montcalm street at Summitt avenue and W. Huron street at N. Saginaw street.

Plans are being made to hold the fifth check on Orchard Lake avenue near Berwick boulevard, he said.

BARN BLAZES — Five farm buildings blazed for three hours yesterday afternoon. This barn was third to burn, and its contents of 20 fill tanks, some full of stove gas, kept firemen at bay during intermittent explosions. The buildings were on the former Mercer farm at Maple and Lahser roads in Bloomfield township.

Debt Free, Pontiac Looks to the Future

and more accurate results of our elections.

Looking to the future the manager said the city should consider the drainage problem and steps should be taken to correct the situation. Another item deserving of serious thought should be a civic auditorium, which the city will help finance but which must be largely from private contributions.

Touching on the question of fringe areas Willman said "very shortly all available property will be built on and Pontiac will be a city of approximately 100,000.

"Should we remain like this and sell services to the outlying areas or should annexation be studied? In this connection he mentioned that the fringe areas probably would talk us us.

Another point for strong consideration is zoning. "Right now our zoning board is nothing more than a complaint board" said Willman "Still another problem to be taken up is the grade separation at the Grand Trunk tracks on West Huron street."

Concluding Willman commented that the future of the city is in the hands of the people of Pontiac. "Progress of the city is in direct proportion to the interest and enthusiasm of its people and their desire and ability to pay the bill," said Willman.

One final plea was made stressing the need of more interested people and groups working as active citizens' committees.

Milo J. Cross introduced Willman and remarked how fortunate the city was in having such an outstanding city manager. He pointed out many improvements beyond the ordinary.

House Upholds Manistee for Jet Air Base Location

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House says a multimillion dollar Air Force fighter base about which it and northern Michigan have been arguing for two years will be at Manistee.

* * *

But Rep. Victor Knox (R-Mich) says that is not necessarily so.

Knox said he believes the Senate will insist on the base being built at Kalkaska, from which a House vote shifted it to Manistee.

The House voted 85-52 yesterday to uphold selection of Manistee by its Armed Services Committee.

* * *

House committees have batted the base between Cadillac, Traverse City, Homestead, Kalkaska and Manistee ever since the Air Force announced intentions to build a jet interceptor base somewhere near the tip of the Lower Peninsula.

REP. FORD DEFEATED

The appropriations committee, objecting to Cadillac, caused the Air Force to pick Kalkaska. Then the Armed Services Committee objected to Kalkaska and insisted on Manistee.

Rep. Ford (R-Mich), an appropriations committee member, was defeated yesterday in a standing vote by the sparsely populated 435-member House when he proposed the Armed Services Committee be overruled in favor of Kalkaska.

Manistee is located in the ninth congressional district, represented by Rep. Ruth Thompson (R-Mich). Kalkaska is in the 11th district, represented by Rep. Knox.

TALBOT GAVE ASSURANCE

Rep. Thompson said in opposing Ford's proposal to shift back to Kalkaska that Harold Talbott, former Air Force secretary, originally had assured her the base would be built in her district.

Her district has no major federal installations. Knox' has Kinross Air Force Base and the Soo Locks.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee said his group insisted on Manistee because we wanted to do right by a member of the House who had been a victim of unfortunate circumstances beyond her control."

Ford and Knox argued that shifting to Manistee now was too late. They said the Air Force had made commitments to the state of Michigan and the citizens of Traverse City, who raised $85,000 to buy land for the Kalkaska base, about 25 miles east of Traverse City.

Ford also argued that original costs and maintenance would be greater at Manistee, but Miss Thompson countered that Manistee had many advantages as a site for the base.

High School Concert Pleases Audience

Robert Peterson, was performed precisely and skillfully by the pair. Richard Dembinski at another xylophone joined them for the encore, an "old soft shoe" type number, "Serenade for a Picket Fence."

The smooth, easy going "Ballet for Young Americans" by Ralph Hermann was given its first performance in Detroit last December by the Pontiac High School Band at the National Convention of the American School Band Directors' Association and presented again by the band last night.

The first part of the number dealt with day dreaming in class and the sharp ringing of the class bell interrupts the day dreamer's reverie and he moves reluctantly on to another class.

In the second part of the ballet played by the band, Prom Night reigns and the band skillfully injected the feeling and emotion aroused by such a memory.

Most enjoyed was the last part, the first driving lesson. Horns and traffic noises prevailed throughout plus a loud, shattering noise when Dad's beautiful car crashed into the garage. Long laughs and applause came to the young performers after the number.

A contented hum came over the audience as the band moved on to the familiar strains of "Oklahoma" by Richard Rodgers. Several selections of this perennially popular musical were included in the program.

Harris in speaking of his band, said that no band of his had ever been made up of "a finer group of youngsters." He commended their high morale even under difficulties which arose, and said, "I hope you're as proud of them as I am."

The audience showed their appreciation for the perfection and polished skill that the band displayed in their performance.

Robbery Suspect Held After Ferndale Hearing

Armed robbery suspects, Lloyd E. Stephenson, 21, and Robert Anderson, 20, both of Detroit, remained in Oakland County Jail today to be bound over to Circuit Court. The decision followed examination by Ferndale Justice Earl N. Nash, Thursday.

Both men are being held on $5,000 bond. They are facing a charge of robbing two women of $77 by stealing their purses on a Ferndale street, March 29.

Fire Sweeps House, Damage Hits $4,000

Fire which struck the home of Morgan Biggs at 3340 Coventry Rd., Waterford Township, yesterday caused $4,000 damage.

Waterford Township firemen who answered the call at 3 p.m. said the blaze started in the garage and then spread to the one-story frame home. Cause has not been determined.

The $12,000 home was covered by insurance. Damage was estimated at $3,500 to the house and $500 to contents.

Grace and Prince Stroll in Gardens

Princess Antoinette, all speak English.

The Kellys speak little or no French, although Grace is learning the language. Friends said she had been practicing on Rainier and some of the palace help.

After the 32-year-old prince left, Grace nestled into an antique directorie bed of the pre-Napoleon era, a style Rainier much admires.

Grace's quarters, redecorated at the prince's direction, otherwise are furnished with Empire pieces. Fresh flowers were everywhere — Palace sources said Rainier shelled out $500 for blooms on arrival day.

* * *

The couple face a whirl of social functions before they wed next week but had no official engagements booked for today. Their plans were not announced.

WILL REST TODAY

Friends felt Grace probably would welcome a spell of quiet after the emotional strain of her arrival, which began with a romantic meeting at sea after the prince jockeyed his sleek yacht Deo Juvante II alongside the liner Constitution.

The port was a scene of joyous celebration last night. Fireworks spangled the sky and hundreds of lights twinkled aboard yachts in the harbor. The trim oceangoing yacht of Greek-born shipowner Aristotle Onassis, who owns a large chunk of Monaco's gambling casino, was ablaze with light.

The reception was too much for Grace. She appeared gay in public, but informants said she broke down and cried in the privacy of the palace.

She and the prince were together most of the day, palace officials said. They chatted while she unpacked.

When the hectic day was over, the prince left for his villa "Ieria." He will spend his remaining bachelor nights there.

The Monacans love Grace. Everywhere you hear them saying the same thing:

Complaints Rise on Rusty Water

'No Danger at All,' Reports City Official Joseph Gable

Joseph W. Gable, superintendent of the city's water works, said this morning the department is receiving a rash of rusty water complaints from several hundred residents.

He added that there was "no danger whatsoever of this rust affecting the health of the residents."

Since the first of the year, he said, the department has received 292 complaints of rusty water. This compares to 1,594 complaints in 1955, 90 per cent of which were about rusty water.

"It is now worse than it has ever been in the city but I want to stress we are doing everything possible to eliminate the rust," Gable said.

Most of the calls tell of rust spots on the family laundry, he explained.

In six weeks he expects 14 city wells that feed directly into water mains to have chlorine added to the water which will loosen up the rust and destroy any bacteria present.

This process is now under way at some wells along with flushing of hydrants where the complaints originate.

Most of them are coming from the north and west section of the city, the superintendent added.

"The rusty condition is being caused by dead ends in the water mains and lack of constant use of the water," he continued.

Last month, 83 hydrants were flushed to pump the rust out of the lines. In February 50 received similiar treatment while in January 77 were flushed.

Foresees 'Piggyback' as Boxcar's Nemesis

The prediction that truck-trailers on flatcars will eventually replace the 700,000 boxcars in use on U.S. railroads was voiced at a press conference yesterday by Roy Fruehauf, president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co.

"More than 40 major railroads are now using the 'piggyback' system and reports are that every one of the 40 is looking ahead to bigger and better freight business because of it," Fruehauf said.

The firm displayed its 12 new truck trailers at a special exhibit in the Detroit Artillery Armory.

Fruehauf also cited a new method of transporting cargoes called the "fishyback" system in which loaded vans are detached from their tractors and hoisted aboard ship for transportation abroad and to other U.S. seaports.

Nearly 1,100,000,000 household electric light bulbs are sold in the United States annually.

The Day in Birmingham

New Recreation Director to Be Announced Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — A new recreation director will be named tonight, after final clearance on salary has been checked, according to recreation board officials.

The board met last night and chose one of the ten candidates for the director's post. Contacts with the salary-paying bodies, the city commission and the board of education are necessary.

The board last night set up a budget which includes several new recreation plans, such as archery for children of the "mid-age group," and new adult education programs.

Supervision at Eton Park will be provided in this summer's program, according to the new budget. There are four new tennis courts, being added to the four used last summer for the first time, and archery and other sports are being initiated. Employment of one full time worker there and possibly several part time ones is planned by the recreation executives.

More riflery will be added to next year's program, as well as more adult sports activities, the board decided.

Firemen in Birmingham spent 12 hours in firefighting, rescue work and investigations, with only $25 fire loss last month, reports Chief Park H. Smith. There were seven first aid calls. The department pumped 54 million gallons of water to city users last month.

* * *

Water stop boxes, those small units set in the lawn at the property line, are being repaired by the city's Department of Public Works. If the department finds that a box is prevented by dirt or faulty setting from controlling the water flow into the house from the main, the box will be dug up, according to R. S. Kenning, superintendent of public works.

He asks residents' cooperation by reseeding the approximate two-foot square after the box is fixed and reburied. The city has taken over the repair costs, formerly paid by property owners.

Heustis Praises Salk Serum Test

State Report by Health Official Calls Vaccine Safe and Effective

The disclosure that only 13 cases of paralytic polio turned up among children vaccinated during last year's Salk vaccine tests brought a laudatory verdict from Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, yesterday.

"We know the vaccine works," the official said, "and we know it is safe beyond any reasonable doubt." Just a year ago an evaluation team announced the safety and effectiveness of the vaccine at the University of Michigan.

Oakland was among 10 Michigan counties in which the trials were conducted. Others were Bay, Calhoun, Kent, Lenawee, Macomb, Monroe, Muskegon, Ottawa and St. Clair.

Dr. Heustis said that about 90 per cent of the state's first and second graders have received at least one dose of the serum to date. The reduction of paralytic cases among seven-year-olds was 80 per cent, the report said.

The Health Department stated that 22 paralytic cases turned up in the 10 per cent who did not receive the vaccine during the test period.

"From every indication," Dr. Heustis concluded, "the vaccine is holding up as a wonderful measure of protection against the crippling caused by polio."

Recommend Traffic Signal at Madison Junior High

Traffic changes on North Perry street to protect children attending Madison Junior High School were recommended yesterday at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce safety committee.

Members voted unanimously to support installation of a traffic light at E. Madison Ave. and no parking on Perry in front of the school.

Conditions termed "highly dangerous" to children going to and from school have been studied for several weeks. The vote yesterday came after a report from a sub-committee headed by Mrs. Margaret Hill, a Yellow Cab company official.

She said she had witnessed children swarming across Perry, with "not a single car" slowing down to the 25 mile an hour speed limit posted near the school.

"Children dart into the street in scattered packs at times when traffic is the heaviest," she reported.

The meeting also favored erecting a fence to prevent jaywalking if the light is installed. It would be a block away from the main entrance to the school building.

Schools' Superintendent Dr. Darla P. Whitmer, a guest at the meeting, thanked the committee for its work in school safety, remarking that the school board often felt thatif alone was striving towards increased safety for children.

He said he would seek an education program at Madison School to help stop jaywalking.

Milwaukee Transit Employes on Strike

MILWAUKEE (UP) — The wheels of public transportation that carry an estimated 200,000 riders daily ground to a stop at 4 a.m. sharp today as transit workers went on strike.

Robert Bordeen, chief supervisor for the Transport Co. said "the strike is on."

Bordeen said that late owl cars pulled in at 4 a.m. and pickets took up stations in front of company property. Police reported no trouble.

"We want more money," said Charles L. Brehm, president and local business agent for Division 998 of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes Union. He did not discuss the union's demands.

9 Lake Erie Ports Promote Business

CLEVELAND (UP) — A council to get St. Lawrence Seaway business for Lake Erie ports was okayed yesterday by representatives of nine cities from Detroit to Buffalo.

Other cities represented were Ashtabula, Conneaut, Cleveland, Fairport Harbor, Huron, Sandusky and Toledo, Ohio.

Temporary chairman Ned Collander, city manager of Ashtabula, appointed a committee to meet within two weeks to suggest scope, aims and organization.

Another general meeting, with invitations to other Canadian and American Lake Erie ports, was set for the middle of May in Cleveland.

William Rogers, Cleveland's port director, said he felt the Lake Erie regional group could promote its own interests more effectively and cheaper than the older great Lakes groups.

U.S. Ammunition Taken From Camp in Japan

SHIBUKAWA, Japan (UP) — The U. S. Army said today that 12,530 rounds of .30 and .50 caliber ammunition have been stolen from a locked building at Camp Weir.

The Army believes the cartridges were stolen to be broken up and sold as scrap metal.

Plan for Hiss to Speak Called 'a Bit Improper'

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) told the House yesterday he thought it "a little bit improper" for Alger Hiss to be permitted to speak at Princeton University at the invitation of a student group.

Hiss has been invited to address the Whig-Cliosophic Society April 26. A former state department official, he was convicted of perjury in denying he transmitted government secrets to Communist agents.

"I think you might as well bring in an embezzler to a bank to explain banking," Hoffman said.

'Cardiacs in Agriculture' Still Pursue Farm Work

DES MOINES (AP)—A group of Washington County farmers with heart trouble who have participated in a pilot "Cardiac-in-Agricuture" program have been able to pursue their farm work with certain restrictions.

This was reported to the Iowa Heart Assn. yesterday by Dr. Lewis E. January, professor of internal medicine at the State University of Iowa and principal investigator for the program.

The pilot project involves counseling of heart patients with members of a Cardiac-in-Agricuture team to determine the extent which the farmers can follow their occupations.

Dr. January said that findings of this date, seven and a half months after the program started, have to be considered inconclusive since only 26 farmers have been referred by their private physicians.

But of that number nearly half so far have been advised that they can continue farming if they avoid hard labor, he said.

* * *

The project is supported by the American and Iowa heart organizations. It was set up last September as a pilot study for the entire nation.

Williams Says 'Anti-Intellectual' Hysteria Ebbing

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams says what he terms anti-intellectual hysteria of recent years is on the ebb.

* * *

"McCarthyism has moved well on the road toward becoming a footnote in our history books," Williams said in a speech at Wayne University yesterday in observance of National Academic Freedom Week.

"We have rounded the dark corner," the governor added.

In another Detroit speech, the governor praised the pharmaceutical profession "for making tremendous contributions to the health and welfare of the people of the United States and the world." This one was before the convention of the American Pharmaceutical Assn.

GM Bigwig Chairman of Armed Forces Day

DETROIT (INS) — Harold R. Boyer, manager of General Motors Corp.'s Cadillac tank plant, was named today general chairman of Detroit's Armed Forces Day on May 17.

Boyer was selected because of his past service as chief of the aircraft manufacturing branch of the War Production Board and chief of aircraft production for defense production and administration.

The GM official said he hoped to help make the Detroit Armed Forces Day one of the biggest events of its kind in the country.

Grand Rapids Resident Elected Shriner Official

Candidate's Nickname Found Too Political

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Roy R. C. Sanderson, who is a candidate for Los Angeles County supervisor, won't have his nickname on the June primary ballot.

Sanderson says he is generally known as Democrat Sanderson, but Superior Judge John J. Ford yesterday denied his petition to have the nickname included, holding that Democrat as a nickname has entirely too much political significance in a contest for a non-partisan office.

$50 Million Gross a Year

Michigan's People Drink

LANSING (AP) — The state's liquor operation, after steady growth from the early 1930's, has reached a 200 million dollar a year business, the State Liquor Control Commission said Thursday.

* * *

In a special report to Gov. Williams and the Legislature, the commission said the overall retail volume of the alcoholic beverage business in the state was estimated in 1955 at 750 million dollars, second in volume only to the automobile industry.

About 50 million dollars a year of the gross is turned over to the state treasury, the report said.

The amount was cited as an amount almost sufficient to bear the state's expense for a year in supporting higher education, or in running its mental hospitals and related institutions.

CITES EFFICIENCY

The commission said its 950 employes are 142 fewer than in one of the early years of its existence, 1936.

"The efficiency of the state's liquor operation is clearly reflected in the cost of doing business—less than three per cent, a figure that has been loudly applauded by private industry," the report said.

After a review of commission activity and an account of its struggles with a succession of problems, the report concluded:

"Critics of the Liquor Commission have been many, defenders few over the 22 years since repeal —sincerity, state loyalties and profits notwithstanding.

"Michigan's Liquor Act was born out of controversy. If and when the time comes, it will die the same way."

U.S.-State Insurance Against Floods Urged

One possibility of this session of Congress is an experimental program of Federal-State insurance against flood disasters.

Much of the impetus behind bills already introduced in both Houses came from the devastating floods in New England last year and those only now subsiding in California.

★ ★ ★

In his State of the Union Message, President Eisenhower urged Congress to create some form of insurance against such disasters. Hearings on Administration bills to implement this request as well as on a score or more along similar lines, are to begin soon before the Senate Banking Committee.

Such a program would be administered by the Federal Government in co-operation with the states and with private insurance companies. Property owners taking out such insurance would pay 60 per cent of the premium and the states and the Federal Government 20 per cent each.

★ ★ ★

Coverage would be available to individuals, businesses and state and local governments. It would be limited to $250,000 per contract. An important feature of the Administration plan is reinsurance under which companies writing this insurance would be protected against catastrophic losses.

★ ★ ★

President Eisenhower is on solid ground in seeking a solution for this serious problem. One strong argument for his plan is the fact that insurance against flood damage is unobtainable. The only help victims can expect is that provided by the present disaster relief fund and the Red Cross.

These bills deserve the careful consideration of Congress.

Ferguson Back on Bench

The many Michigan friends of Homer Ferguson have another opportunity to congratulate him on his induction into an important public office.

It came after Chief Justice Warren swore him in as a judge of the U. S. Court of Military Appeals in a brief ceremony at the Supreme Court building.

★ ★ ★

Elevation to the bench was no new experience for this outstanding Republican. He was a Wayne County Circuit Judge for 12 years before his election in 1942 to the first of his two six-year Senate terms.

This second judgeship, however, does open a new phase in the long and distinguished public career of the former Senator and Ambassador. A highlight of his Senate service was his chairmanship of the GOP policy committee.

★ ★ ★

During his year as Ambassador to the Philippines, he made many warm friends and contributed much to the continued good relations between Manila and Washington.

Beyond doubt Judge Ferguson is well qualified by native ability, education and experience to serve the Military Appeals Court with distinction.

Some one asks if it is correct to say that one "climbs down a tree." Of course not. One unclimbs a tree.

Our Record Baby Crop

Some very important facts have come from Lansing about Michigan's all time record of 195,999 births in 1955.

Not only was this 3,859 more births than the 1954 total, but it was accompanied by new record lows in both infant and maternal death rates. According to the State Department of Health, the infant mortality rate dropped to 24.8 per 1,000 live births compared with 62.8 in 1930.

★ ★ ★

At the same time the maternal death rate dropped to 3.1 per 10,000 births, a reduction of 95 per cent in a quarter century.

Another encouraging vital statistic revealed by the department is that last year for every 10 deaths in Michigan there were 31 births. This helps explain why our population not only has passed the 7,000,000 mark but continues to grow.

It strikes us as a reasonable presumption that the improvements shown in these figures must reflect in large measure the great strides made by medical science.

"It is childish to try to get even with somebody who has been unfair to you," says a psychologist. Who wants to get even with the so-and-so? Heck, we want to get one or two up on him.

"No Doubt About It—He's for Me"

David Lawrence Says:

Truman's Political Comeback Tour Will Probably Hurt, and Not Aid Dems

WASHINGTON — Eleven years ago to the day Harry S. Truman was starting his career in the White House. He was a humble man, awed by the responsibilities of his office. He reached a high degree of popularity because he seemed to be interested in the public welfare rather than in politics.

But ambition soon seized him, and he began to listen to and accept as gospel what politicians and organized bosses told him. He dispensed favors to his cronies and made a sorry record in allowing important officials in the Internal Revenue Department, which collects the nation's taxes, to go unpunished for their misdeeds.

Out of this and other errors came the 1952 campaign cry of the "mess in Washington." One of the biggest complaints was about the corruption in the different departments of government where favors were given to special interests—even to the point of quashing prosecutions.

ATTEMPTING COMEBACK

Today Truman is trying a comeback. He has taken to the stump, assuming that the American people have forgotten why they voted so overwhelmingly against his administration in November 1952. For, while Gen. Eisenhower was popular, he never would have won the election if the people had not been deeply dissatisfied with the incumbent administration. It was a negative verdict—against the party in power. The country knew little about what the Republican policies would be, and cared less.

For three years, the Democrats have had a chance to divert the attention of the public from the mistakes of the past but now Truman, unfortunately for the Republican strategists, is out making speeches stirring up memories of "Trumanism" and all that it connotes. Thus, the former president in his latest speech proudly boasts:

"I know what I am talking about. I had to fire some pretty important people while I was president."

Who were those "important people"? Certainly, Henry Wallace was one of them and the whole truth about that episode wasn't revealed at that time. Truman claimed he hadn't approved a speech by Wallace delivered in New York at Madison Square Garden. But Wallace now testifies that Truman heard the speech read to him paragraph by paragraph and did approve.

NO HEARNG FOR GENERAL

Another important person "fired" was Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Here was a man who had served his country brilliantly in World War II and was making a wonderful record in handling the postwar problems in Japan. This was apart from the matters in controversy in Korea. Yet such a distinguished servant of the people was fired without so much as the courtesy of an advance notification. Gen. MacArthur found out about his dismissal from a radio announcement.

Nor was Gen. MacArthur given a hearing. If even a minor federal employe is accused of anything, he has a chance to learn the nature of the charges, so he or his attorney can have an opportunity to answer them. The so-called "liberals" of today make quite a point of this right.

The other day the Supreme Court held that a teacher couldn't be fired summarily just for pleading the Fifth Amendment and had to be given a hearing. If Gen. MacArthur was guilty of insubordination, he was entitled to a court-martial proceeding.

Truman in boasting in his speech about how he fired "important people" was advising Eisenhower to fire Secretary of Agriculture Benson. But the difference is that President Eisenhower recognizes sincerity and honesty and doesn't feel that Benson should be fired for his policies unless they are proved wrong. The White House is supporting the Benson policies.

★ ★ ★

More speeches by Truman will be helpful to the Republicans, because they will awaken memories of what the Truman administration stood for. The President's secretary, James Hagerty, speaking for Eisenhower, commented: "I don't believe that Truman by his own standards can recognize accomplishment when he sees it."

★ ★ ★

There was a time when Truman was humble, but today he believes in "give 'em hell" speeches. He misjudges the intelligence of the electorate if he thinks such a technique will be effective for the Democrats against Dwight Eisenhower, whose sincerity and honesty have so favorably impressed the American people.

Boric Acid, Iodine, Soap Top Domestic Antiseptics

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Notwithstanding the false alarms broadcast by "science writers" in popular magazines in the past year or two, I say in the latest edition of The Medicine Cupboard (35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope):

Boric acid has only feeble germ-killing (germicidal) value if any, but it seems to reduce the virulence of pneumococci (germs of pneumonia, sore throat, coryza, quinsy, tonsillitis, appendicitis, empyema), streptococci (germs of acute septicemia or blood poisoning or rapidly spreading inflammation) and staphylococci (common pus-producing germs).

Boric acid is one of the three antiseptics which, I believe, fulfill every requirement of domestic medicine, surgery and first aid. The other two are Mild Tincture of Iodine, U. S. P., (about 2 per cent) and Plain Soap and Water.

★ ★ ★

Mild Tincture of Iodine is my choice as a first aid disinfectant for accidental wounds. Drop a few drops of it from a glass rod or a dropped upon the fresh cut, scratch, burn, bruise or abrasion. Let it dry, and then cover the wound with a pad of sterile gauze of freshly washed and ironed cheesecloth untouched by finger or object. If the wound is raw, squeeze some petrolatum from a sterile tube over the surface and then the dressing—this prevents sticking. If the wound is only a trifle, let the drop of iodine dry and then apply either adhesive plaster or a coat of collodion to protect it from further infection.

The ear drops which so many correspondents declared cured chronic running ear consist of a solution of boric acid in alcohol. Instructions for preparing and using the ear drops are given in The Medicine Cupboard. If the druggist refuses to sell you pure grain alcohol it is not his fault, but the fault of the law—By Gum, Uncle Sam is not going to let you get an ounce of alcohol without paying liquor taxes, etc.

Boric acid solution—as much boric acid as the water will dissolve when warm—the solution called S. S. B. A. in hospitals, dispensaries, by doctors and nurses—is prepared by dissolving, say, a tablespoonful of boric acid powder in a pint of boiled water, preferably rain, snow or distilled water. As eye drops or eye wash the solution is mildly antiseptic and astringent. It is non-irritating or even soothing. Boric acid solution is commonly used as a mildly antiseptic mouth wash, although for my own mouth I prefer Plain Soap and Water.

I use not just any soap, and especially not soap that purports to contain a magic germ-killing, beautifying or deodorizing ingredient. It is plain toilet soap and it not only doesn't taste soapy but leaves the mouth without a soapy feeling. As to its germicidal or antiseptic value I doubt if any other mouthwash or toothwash of equal efficiency is as safe and as cheap as soap.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Suggests New Procedure in Future Veep Nomination

I am writing as a father, husband and most particularly as a citizen of the United States.

My recommendation is that both major political parties adopt a resolution which provides that, at a national presidential nominating convention, the candidate who is the first choice of the convention becomes the presidential nominee and the candidate who is the second choice automatically becomes the vice-presidential nominee.

This is based upon the following prime reasons:

1. The president of the United States is the most important single person to the future internal and international welfare of our country.

2. Because of automatic succession, the vice-president, every second that he is in office, is the potential president.

3. For the second choice of the convention for presidential nominee not to become automatically the vice-presidential nominee is contrary to all logic pertaining.

4. Any American who, in his own opinion and in the opinion of his supporters, is of the caliber and experience to be president and who does not have the character to accept the vice-presidential nomination, if it be the will of the convention, is not the caliber of man for the presidency.

5. Any political advantage to either party under the present procedure would be canceled by both parties adopting a resolution and necessary procedures and mechanics to accomplish the above.

Ceylon Follows Neighbor Into the Neutralist Camp

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Ceylon, the lush island off the southern coast of India, now is following its big neighbor into the neutralist camp.

★ ★ ★

The United National Party led by pro-Western Prime Minister Sir John Kotelawala, which held sway so long in Ceylon, has suffered a stinging defeat at the hands of an uneasy alliance of National, Socialistic and left-wing splinter groups, including a Marxist faction.

Britain and the United States also have suffered a reverse in the process.

The so-called "Trouser Karens," a small minority of Sinhalese who are enormously wealthy landowners and extremely upper-crust British in attitude, are the leaders of most parties.

★ ★ ★

Even the triumphant opposition leader, S. W. R. D. Bandaranaike, was a contemporary of British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden at Oxford and is a very wealthy man.

BROKE WITH PARTY

But he broke with the United National Party and fought a successful election whose results reflect the changing social pattern in Ceylon.

★ ★ ★

Sir John Kotelawala in the election denounced his cousin, Bandaranaike, and warned that the latter would be gobbled up by the Marxists if his party won.

This tactic did not work in the campaign which was fought mostly on domestic issues. Ceylon has a fast-growing population. Middle class Sinhalese educated on the island have begun demanding a share of the better jobs from the thin layer of older British-educated rulers.

One big issue was the price of rice, Ceylon's staple food, which must be imported in great quantities because so much of island production is devoted to British-owned tea plantations.

★ ★ ★

The government controls and distributes rice. Opposition speakers everywhere accused the government of inefficient handling of food prices. Their main argument was that the government subsidy on rice was insufficient to make it available at a reasonable price.

MAY END ERA

The loss of the United National Party is more than the defeat of a group. It may be the end of a period because the winners are committed to:

Establishing a republic outside the British Commonwealth; nationalization of foreign-owned plantations, banking and insurance; and "steering clear of involvement with power blocs," as well as seeking the cancelation of British air and naval base rights.

Britain understandably is worried at the prospect of losing its bases in Ceylon.

The anti-British base movement also could spread to Singapore and Malaya.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

All Happiness You'll Ever Experience Occurs Today; Don't Wait for Future

Joe's sin is duplicated by millions of dads. Your rating as a good husband and father is based on what you do today. Leaving your children a cash inheritance 25 years hence does not make you a good father. A happy home life now is far better than a million dollars for your kids later on. So rate yourself on the "Parents' Tests" below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-329: Joe P., aged 42, is a hard working grocer.

"Dr. Crane, something is wrong in my home," he confessed morosely.

★ ★ ★

"My kids in junior high school rated me recently on your 'Tests for Parents' and gave me a low score.

"Besides my wife and I don't get along very well. But I am really slaving long hours so that I can lay up a pile of money for their enjoyment.

"If they'll just give me a few more years, I can retire and leave them well off.

"The kids may not realize it, but I am working their way through college for them long before they graduate from high school."

JOE'S ERROR

Joe is a dutiful parent but he makes the same sad mistake which most fathers do.

For Joe thinks happiness is a destination or future point in his lifespan.

Actually, happiness is never a destination. Instead, it is a method of living.

"Tomorrow never comes," is a trite adage that is doubly appropriate here.

All the joy we shall ever experience in life occurs today. So it behooves us to work and play and plan and pray today. We must mix all of our activities in today's prescription for happiness.

Suppose Joe continues at his present plan of slaving long hours to lay up a small fortune for 15 years hence.

Meanwhile, he will lose his children's affection and maybe his wife's love.

He will possibly jeopardize his health. He will miss the fun and recreation of men's clubs and church affairs and golfing or bowling.

IMITATE FIELD

There is a story to the effect that when Marshall Field fell heir to the vast fortune bequeathed to him, a reported rushed up and gushingly inquired:

"What's it like, Mr. Field, to find $50,000,000 dropped into your lap at one time?"

To which Mr. Field is said to have laconically replied:

"I still eat only three meals per day and wear only one suit of clothes at a time!"

That startling remark should jolt every American into realizing that if we have three meals per day, then we enjoy about all the caloric input we could handle, even if we were millionaires.

The average worker eats the same number of calories and drinks the same milk and city water as the millionaire. He sees the same TV and movie shows.

He reads the same newspaper and watches the same sports events. Sit down and count your many blessings in bountiful America.

★ ★ ★

Except for qualitative differences, as by paying $300 for a suit instead of $50, what does a millionaire have that you don't duplicate already on your $50 per week income?

PARENTS, WAKE UP

Parents should realize vividly that establishing a happy home today is far more vital to their children's welfare than laying up a future cash inheritance for them to quarrel about.

And even a future college insurance fund is not as good as wholesome family life now. So don't stint yourself and family today for luxuries tomorrow.

Mix your work and play and religion with today's recipe for living. Win your children's affection and respect. Hold your mate's love.

Attend church together. Go to the neighborhood movie as a family group. Have fun together and today, for tomorrow never comes.

★ ★ ★

A happy home today beats any inheritance you can bequeath your kids in the future.

Send for the 200-point "Tests for Good Parents" enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Newest U.S. Sub Can Turn Faster Than a Jet Plane

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (INS)—The Navy unwrapped the first true, and fastest, submarine in history yesterday—the U. S. S. Albacore.

Her sleek, slightly plump and revolutionary design is destined for a sea-ruling marriage with the nuclear power plant of the bigger, and slower Nautilus.

For the 200-foot Albacore is designed, basically, to "fly" and maneuver beneath the sea, carry lethal guided missiles and "tear apart" other fighting ships.

"The turning rate of this monster is faster than a jet plane's," said the captain, Lt. Cmdr. Jon L. Boyes, career submariner of Oakland, Calif., as he demonstrated the ship in the waters off Portsmouth, N. H.

OUTRUN SURFACE SHIPS

The Albacore already has revamped the classic submarine tactics of the "wolf pack," hit and run, and hit and hide. Theoretically, she can launch a missile or hit, and then reportedly outspeed and outmaneuver—while under water—the fastest large surface ship.

The Navy's Bureau of Ships, with assistance of David Taylor Model Basin, set out to design a hull that would permit great underwater speed, diving depth and maneuverability. They turned out the experimental Albacore, 1,200-tons displacement, with conventional diesel-electric power power plant but a shape like a fat cigar.

A single propellor instead of the usual, less efficient, two propellors drives the sub at speeds officially acknoweledged to be "considerably more than 20 knots." Her rudder and stern structure are radically new.

STEERS UP AND DOWN

She steers up and down with bow and stern planes, to right and left with a rudder. And the small streamlined tower is backed with another rudder to hold the ship from too steep a high-speed bank.

Capt. Boyes, his four officers and 48 crewmen, took the Albacore on an effortless dive into deep water off the Isle of Shoals. There Pilot Lieutenant Theodore F. Davis took over controls for a short simulated attack.

At tremendously high speed, the ship shot into position to simulate torpedo fire or lobbing up of guided missiles. In the captain's words, the ship "peeled off," into a sharp banked turn, down and to the rear. She straightened out for a minute, speeded up for a short evasion maneuver, and then banked once more into position for another shot.

"Submariners," said the captain, "always wanted a ship basically designed for underwater maneuvering." He put the sub through a weaving maneuver, shot her up and down and then swung her around like a high-speed, small airplane.

The captain said submariners had to settle for surface ships that could dive—until now. He added:

"Now I think we've got what we've been looking for."

Multi - Million Dollar Narcotics Ring Listed 2 Former Policemen

DETROIT (AP)—A Federal Grand Jury yesterday indicted 19 persons with conspiracy to violate narcotics laws.

* * *

Federal Agents said the defendants, including two former members of the Detroit Police Narcotics Bureau, were members of a multi-million-dollar dope ring.

The two ex-patrolmen, William Frank, 38, and Henry Marzette, and 13 other Detroiters were arrested March 19 in a police raid here.

Three New Yorkers were arrested Wednesday by New York City police and federal authorities. A fourth was arrested last November and now is serving a 14 year prison term for possession of narcotics. A fifth man is sought.

The three New Yorkers, George Vellucci, 42, Frank Corona, 47, and Dominic Tedesco, 37, are accused of using their candy-store shops as message centers and shipping points for the Detroit ring to which they allegedly sent three million dollars worth of heroin in 30 months.

* * *

They are held under $50,000 bond. A hearing was scheduled for April 25 on proceedings to bring the three to Detroit to face the conspiracy charges.

'Reckless Joe' in Coffin Makes 'Terrific Impact'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Twenty-four defendants, including three speeders, paraded before Judge Charles I. Boone and "Reckless Joe," in police court at nearby Shively.

"Reckless Joe" was a dummy, neatly dressed in a dark blue suit and resting in an open casket.

"I think it made a terrific impact," the judge said later about his reminder that speed and crime don't pay.

Hal Boyle Says:

British Chef Upholds His Country's Honor

NEW YORK (AP)—The condemned man ate a hearty British supper.

The condemned man was me.

* * *

Philip Harben, a portly man with a ginger beard who is Britain's best-known chef, is touring America as a culinary ambassador. His purpose: To prove "that the art of good cooking has returned to Britain, and now visitors may eat like kings."

When an agent of the empire apprised me of this news, I expressed considerable doubt. I remarked that, like many Americans, I was convinced British cooking had never progressed beyond the Neanderthal stage.

"Why don't you let Mr. Harben come to your home and cook you a meal?" suggested the empire agent. "He'll bring the food."

* * *

Well, you know how it is when a columnist is offered a free meal. I thought the offer over for three-fifths of a second and agreed.

"Do you have any particular preferences?" asked the empire's man.

THE LAST MEAL

"Tell Mr. Harben," I replied, "that if I had been condemned to death by an English judge for saying British cooking was among the worst in the world, I'd like him to prepare the kind of a meal I should have just before going to the scaffold—my last meal on earth."

* * *

The challenge stirred the artist in Harben, who is known to millions in his own country for his cooking demonstrations over BBC-TV. In due time he, his wife and the empire's advance scout arrived loaded down with bottles and bundles.

"My wife collaborates in all my professional work—including the washing up," said Harben.

Donning a striped butcher's apron, he disappeared into the kitchen. A great clattering arose, and soon haunting fragrances emerged.

Frances peeked into the kitchen, came back and whispered:

"I wouldn't go in there if my life depended on it. The place is full of flying knives."

FIT FOR ANY KING

I must say the dinner, when it was served, was fit for any king, including Henry VIII, whom the jolly Harben resembles.

First came pink slices of Scotch salmon, the ttenderest I've ever tasted, washed down with Amontillado sherry.

Then flaked Dover sole and a glass of Chablis wine.

The traditional British "joint of beef," a vast rib roast, was a crisp and juicy brown masterpiece. With it came Yorkshire pudding—Harben had let the beef drip into it to give it more flavor—cauliflower and a bottle of beautiful Burgundy.

There was a tense moment when one of the guests asked for catsup.

"If there is anything wrong with American food," sighed Harben, "it is your tendency to smother it with catsup."

No catsup. It seemed a fair exchange. Harben, after all, had refrained from submitting us to the ordeal of Brussels sprouts.

Then followed fresh strawberries and cream, a vast chunk of Stilton cheese, a glass of port.

As we relaxed comfortably over our coffee and a nip of brandy, Harben asked, "Well?"

"I take it all back," I told him. "If that's a sample of honest British cooking, I must admit I never had a better meal in my life."

Harben's beard rose and flew as proudly as the Union Jack, waving at full staff.

"Any food is good if it's well prepared," he said generously.

"Don't you hate any food?"

"Well, I must say I don't care for tripe or octopus. I've cooked hundreds of portions of octopus, but the smell is hard on the chef. Terrible."

"If you were on your deathbed," I inquired, "and could take only one last bite of food, what would it be."

Harben puffed thoughtfully on a long Havana cigar. It was a hard question for a connoisseur.

"I believe it would be a slice of bread and butter," he said finally, then added—"spread with a bit of caviar, naturally."

Personal Health Log Suggested

Chicago Doctor Urges Americans to Have Data Handy for Treatments

CHICAGO (INS)—A Chicago doctor today urged Americans to keep a "lifetime personal health log" of their medical history to aid in diagnosis and treatment of disease.

The physician said an accurate, reliable, up-to-date account of an individual's medical record would be a money-saver, a time-saver and a possible life-saver to doctors trying to help the patient.

Dr. Carl A. Dragstedt of Northwestern University medical school, called for a "lifetime log" campaign in a signed editorial in the current journal of the American Medical Assn.

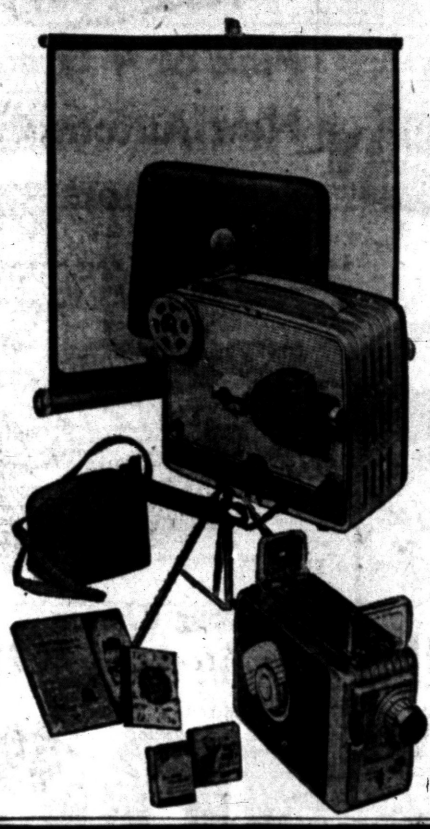

He suggested the book contain items as "family history, data on vaccinations and inoculations, diseases and operations, blood pressure, blood cell counts and similar laboratory findings."

Dr. Dragstedt said he visualized the log as a kind of cross betweez a passport and the baby book that has "launched almost every baby born in the last 10 years or so."

HOLLAND IN SPRINGTIME — 5
Dirk Sells Fine Cheeses.

Excellent cheese is made in Holland, where there are large herds of fine dairy cattle and the making of cheese and butter is important business.

Here is Dirk, a Dutch boy from Utrecht, on the day of the Cheese Market. He has three wooden bowls of cheese beside him, and he stands on the dock preparing to sell them.

After coloring the picture, paste it on cardboard, and cut out the parts carefully. Fold the end panels back and Dirk will stand up.

Fasten the separate arm behind his left shoulder as indicated with a brass fastener or a bent pin, so Dirk can lift a cheese up for the inspection of a possible buyer.

In the upper left corner is an extra bowl of cheeses for Dirk to sell. By folding the strips at the bottom — the two outside ones forward and the middle one back — the dish will stand up and can be placed in front of Dirk.

American Scientist Still Seeking Clue to the Mystery of Disappearing Water

ATHENS (INS) — An American scientist is on the track of thousands of tons of sea water that disappear daily into underground crevices at Argostoli on the Ionian island of Cephalonia.

Dr. T. N. Panay, a research physicist appointed to this project by the National Geographic Society, is now in Greece trying to solve a mystery that has baffled scientists for over a hundred years.

The sea water enters two narrow channels that slope below sea-level and then disappears down visible openings in the rock, about a foot in breadth, and possibly others that cannot be seen.

When the channels are not choked with weeds or jetsam, the water disappears at the rate of one ton per second—and nobody knows where it goes.

This phenomenon was discussed in a talk Dr. Panay had as research physicist for the Defense Department with Dr. Lyman J. Briggs in Washington three years ago. Dr. Briggs is chairman of the National Geographic that it was committee and also Director Emeritus of the National Bureau of Standards.

A further study of the phenomenon—the only known one of its kind in the world—convinced the National Geographic that it was well worth looking into and Dr. Panay was given the green light to start the experiments.

OBSERVERS POSTED

After Greek engineering services had cleared the weeds, mud and gravel that were choking the channels, Dr. Panay posted observers along the Cephalonian coast.

A watch was also kept at warm spring spas and several lakes on the mainland. Some of these were particularly important being probably below sea-level.

Then he poured 125 pounds of sodium salt of fluorescein into the channel which dyed the ingoing water a yellow-green. He also dropped 100 pounds of orange-colored wooden cubes the size of dice which disappeared down the holes along with the water.

Neither the water colored by the powerful dye nor the little wooden cubes have so far reappeared at any of the observation points.

NOT DISCOURAGED

Far from being discouraged, Dr. Panay says that it will now have to be decided whether the experiment is to be repeated on a larger scale or with a different technique.

"In any case," he added, "if we could assert with fairly reasonable probability that the water does not emerge in any of the observed areas, this will give us an important basis for further study."

An Italian scientist named Vittorio Simonelli conducted a similar experiment—minus the cubes—in 1899 using only 9 lbs of the expensive dye. Simonelli records that he noted a reappearance of the dyed water in the surrounding sea area 31 hours later.

Dr. Panay believes that the reason he did not observe similar results may be due, as suggested by Dr. Briggs, to recent earthquakes in Cephalonia which changed the island's subterranean structure.

Dr. Panay, who seems keen to solve this mystery, explained that neither he nor the National Geographic stand to gain anything by finding the answer to the riddle of the "disappearing water."

During 1955 some 4,045,000 children were born in the United States, about 25,000 more than the record high number of births in 1954.

South Africa Plans Count of Drinkers

CAPETOWN—The South African Temperance Alliance plans a survey to find out how many drunkards, "social drinkers" and teetotalers there are in the country.

* * *

It hopes to enlist the aid of the Bureau of Census and says that "the results of the survey might shock the country back to sobriety."

Even without a nose count, the alliance says it knows there are 9,000 drunkards in South Africa, and 36,000 regular drinkers, who get drunk about once a week.

"In America," says Rev. D. F. de Beer, of the alliance, "it has been proven that one of every nine moderate drinkers becomes an alcoholic. We may well be in the same position."

Dearborn Tot Killed

DETROIT (AP)—Dashing for home with a lollipop someone had given him, 3-year-old James Goulet was struck by a car and killed in a Dearborn street yesterday.

Ask to Group Housing Units in 1 Department

WASHINGTON, D. C. (INS) — A drive has been opened in Congress to reorganize the government's housing agencies and place them in a single-level department.

* * *

Seven senators have introduced legislation to create a new "Department of Housing and Urban Affairs" which would be headed by a secretary sitting as a member of the President's cabinet.

Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY), is one of the seven sponsors, says the government has been limping along in housing "on a mere extension of an old, outmoded and watered-down program consisting of unrelated, uncoordinated and frequently conflicting parts."

The New York Democrat contends that the nation faces "a real housing crisis" in the next ten years when the postwar baby crop reaches the marriageable age and requires additional housing.

New VA Clinic Director

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Dr. Arthur Klippen, director of professional services at the Veterans Administration Hospital here, has been named director of VA's 101 outpatient clinics throughout the country. He will move to Washington as deputy director of clinics in VA's department of medicine and surgery.

Ike Undecided on Vacation Plans for Summer

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House officials said today "no firm plans" have yet been made on a site for President Eisenhower's summer vacation.

* * *

This was their comment on another report that the President might go to Wisconsin this summer. A fishing guide, Mike Conley of Manitowac, Wis., is reported to have received a letter from presidential secretary Bernard M. Shanley thanking him for sending information on fishing sites in that state.

* * *

White House officials said Shanley has written "thank you" letters to many persons who have invited the President to various places or have sent along information about sites ever since last month's reports that Eisenhower might go to Wisconsin rather than return to Denver this summer.

Prosecutor Won't Run

HASTINGS (AP)—J. Franklin Huntley, Barry County prosecuting attorney since Jan. 1, 1947, says he will not seek re-election this year, but plans to devote full time to his law practice.

Group Ponders Airports Plans

House Body to Decide on Detroit-Wayne Major Switch Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Appointment of a House committee of three to determine whether the Detroit-Wayne Major Airport, Detroit should be developed as the major air terminal serving the area, was asked in a bill introduced yesterday by Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich).

* * *

The committee also would determine whether:

The scheduled air carriers now using the Willow Run Airport should transfer their operations to the Detroit-Wayne Major Airport.

The Willow Run Airport should continue to be operated under civil ownership as a joint civil and military airport.

* * *

The Air Force reserve fighter squadrons should be relocated from Selfridge Air Force base and established on the Willow Run Airport.

The Naval Air Station should be relocated from Grosse Ile and established on the Willow Run Airport.

The Air National Guard squadrons now stationed at Detroit-Wayne Major should be transferred to Willow Run Airport.

* * *

A master plan of airports in the Detroit metropolitan area can and should be established in order to most effectively utilize their facilities.

The committee would report as soon as practicable during the present Congress on the results of its investigation and study, together with such recommendations as it deems advisable.

The bill needs only House approval. The committee would be appointed by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex).

U.S. 6th Fleet Due to Visit Island of Crete

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said today amphibious forces of the U.S. 6th Fleet are due to visit the Greek island of Crete in the Mediterranean early next month.

* * *

This, the Navy said, may have given rise to reports published in Athens that Marines would be based on the island. It was explained that Greece had been asked to clear the visit, a move customary when American units stop in a foreign country.

* * *

A reinforced battalion of Marines is attached to the 6th Fleet. The Navy's statement said that Navy and Marine forces have "visited and trained" on Crete "many times in the past."

Earlier, State Department press officer Lincoln White had said he could "find no basis" for the report that this country had asked Greece for permission to base 1,000 Marines on Crete.

Last Surviving Witness to Lincoln Slaying Dies

BALTIMORE (AP) —Samuel James Seymour, believed the last surviving witness to the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, died today. He was 96.

* * *

Seymour, a carpenter and contractor who made his home in the Baltimore area, had been in failing health since February, when he fell in a New York City hotel just before appearing on a national television program honoring Lincoln's birthday. He died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Irene Hendley, in Arlington, Va.

Seymour said he recalled being in Ford's Theater as a child of five when John Wilkes Booth fired the fatal shot and leaped upon the stage.

Gotham Teamsters Blasted by CIO Chiefs

NEW YORK (AP)—New York State and City CIO leaders have charged members of a teamsters union local with "strike breaking activity" in the Macy's department store walkout.

* * *

The world's largest department store has been manned by executive personnel since the strike of some 8,000 members of Local 1-S, Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Workers union began Tuesday.

* * *

United Parcel Service truck drivers, members of the teamsters union, have refused to honor picket lines. The service handles some of Macy's deliveries.

A management spokesman has said sales have dropped 40 per cent in some departments. The union said the store is being kept open "only from a prestige point of view."

* * *

The walkout also affects Macy branches in Brooklyn, Queens, the Bronx and White Plains in Westchester County.

Sees Appliance Boom

GREENVILLE (AP) — Charles J. Gibson Jr. president of Gibson Refrigerator Co., predicts a bright future for the appliance industry. In a recent address before Greenville civic groups, he reported his firm's sales up 19 per cent in the first five months of the fiscal year over a similar period of 1955.

Say Duchess' Memoirs to 'Stir Up Bitterness'

LONDON (AP)—The Church of England Newspaper said today that publication of the Duchess of Windsor's memoirs in Britain will "stir afresh the fire of bitterness and discord" aroused by her husband's abdication.

The paper is an unofficial weekly edited by laymen but it often echoes the views of the church's leaders. It said the American-born divorcee for whom King Edward VIII quit his throne should have postponed publication until all the principals in the abdication crisis —including herself—were dead.

The Sunday Express will begin serializing the memoirs April 22. They are already appearing in a U.S. magazine. The Sunday Express is owned by Lord Beaverbrook, a close friend and supporter of Edward VIII during the abdication crisis.

Her Optimism Needs No Defense

By ANNE HEYWOOD

In many circles, I am thought of as a dewy-eyed, impractical optimist, who believes wholeheartedly in happy endings and vocational miracles, who's probably had things easy all her life.

* * *

I used to defend myself by telling my critics the whole story—how, at 31, after three years of being a housewife, I was left with a small baby to support.

I would point out that the happy endings I believe in are based on factual cases, my own included.

Now I know that I needn't defend my optimism. It is its own best defense. Regularly, now, I get letters similar to the following one from a lady in New England who prefers not to have her name used:

* * *

"I've been reading your column ever since it first appeared in our paper. I found it very interesting but it seemed too optimistic. Getting the right job couldn't make all that difference, I thought.

A JOB DRIFTER

"For 15 years I'd drifted from one thing to another, vaguely dissatisfied," the letter continued.

"I didn't like any of my jobs but didn't believe one was supposed to like work. Fear of an insecure old age forced me to take stock a few years ago.

"I went to the public library to read up on different vocations and came away with the idea I'd like to be a librarian myself.

"Everything seemed against such a choice—my age, lack of experience, lack of faith in myself. I took a series of vocational tests which indicated I would do well in the field.

* * *

"After writing to numerous library schools, I found one that would take me. I risked my life savings and money I borrowed and had a hard time of it for a year. I graduated, got the exact job I wanted and everything else seemed to fall into place.

BETTER ADJUSTED

"I am a much better adjusted person now and, in consequence, have a better social life. I have to keep pinching myself to believe it's really true.

* * *

"If you like your work," she concludes, "other things just work themselves out effortlessly."

Typical of all people who have found themselves, she added a postscript requesting one of my Housewives Career Guides for her mother!

The happier we get ourselves, the happier we want—really want—others to be!

* * *

If you'd like to take a try at a happy ending, my Housewives Career Guide may be a helpful beginning step. You can obtain one by mailing me your address and six cents in postage, care of The Pontiac Press.

For Coiffure Style: Curl on Forehead

By NORA W. MARTIN

PARIS (INS)—French hairdressers say that the curl on the forehead is the high-style coiffure for 1956.

They are presenting new hair styles in what they call the "cascade line," with bangs, fringes or curls on the forehead to give that empire touch.

* * *

The new Parisian bangs are very short, rather thin looking and more coquettish curls on the forehead than fringes. For gals who have a "widow's peak" the curls on the forehead are divided in the middle and face each other to show the peak in the center.

For the "cascade" gimmick the hair, except the bangs, is brushed backward, usually without parting. At the back the hair is cut in cascades of different lengths to look wavy and supple. At the nape of the neck the hair is left fairly long and looks like a man's head in need of a hair-cut.

The 1956 hair color, according to the Paris Hair-Dressers' Syndicate, is a bronze shaded blonde. Light "sun-spots" and high-lights which were so fashionable last year are out. The new beauty code calls for uniformity in the hair tint which should shimmer like gold, bronze or copper in the sunshine.

There are no chignons for evening, but the hair has a more upward movement in the empire mood to match the new high-waisted evening gowns.

Dinner Held at China City

Fashion Your Figure Club held its third anniversary dinner Thursday evening at China City. Mrs. Joseph McLeod served as general chairman assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Nichols, Mrs. Carl Rehm and Mrs. S. Royal Gammage.

* * *

The group was organized three years ago by a group of women who felt that group therapy might work in weight reduction for those who hadn't been too successful otherwise. Mrs. McLeod served as chairman at the organizational meeting.

Sustained interest of the members is evidence that the system is successful. A trophy is awarded weekly to the member losing the most weight, with another prize going to the member who loses the most weight each month.

An "ideal weight" award in the form of a pin is presented to members achieving this goal.

At the dinner one-minute speeches were given by members and corsages were presented to Mrs. Clarence Edjards, Mrs. Lawrence Nichols, Mrs. George Cunningham and Mrs. William Johnson for maintaining their ideal weight while members of the club.

PTSA Chooses Officers

Mrs. Earl Lacy was elected president of Eastern Junior High School PTSA at the final meeting of the year Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Cameron Wilkinson was named mother vice president and C. Stait Lloyd, father vice president. Mrs. Cecil Langford will serve as secretary, Maurice Levine as treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Nichols as historian and Mrs. Sarkis Schnordkian and Mrs. Lloyd as council delegates.

Young girls can wear brief shorts but larger sizes look better in the longer, looser leg.

The hi-thigh shorts are not flattering to large thighs. Women's sizes are better accommodated in the looser leg short. Of course, with a thick thigh, a skirt is much more flattering.

Howard Shelley, manager of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club and editor of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Magazine, narrated his film, "Hunter's Moon."

The first portion of the film showed the beauty of Michigan in the fall, and the excitement of the hunt.

Episodes included the story of Freddie, the pet wild goose, photographed at the Cobb farm near Holly, and red fox trapping near Clarkston. Blackie, the black and tan coon hound who hunts anything from coons to rabbits, led the way on a fox squirrel hunt at Gladwin.

The highlight of the movie was a moose hunt filmed in northern Ontario, climaxed by the bagging of a large bull moose.

Mrs. Clare Hartzman, outgoing PTSA president, and Mrs. Donald Baumgartner presided at the tea table.

Man Tells Stale Jokes Over, Over

Friends Ask How to Halt Him Without Hurting Feelings

By EMILY POST

A reader tells us: "We have a friend who, when invited to a party, monopolizes the evening by telling 'corny' jokes. It gets very boring, especially when a newcomer is present and we have to listen to the same jokes all over again. How can we tactfully get him to stop this without hurting his feelings?"

Answer: Your only consolation is that the newcomers, not knowing his jokes, may possibly enjoy them. If they look bored, then the only thing to do is to lead the way to a new subject.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was sitting in the living room of a classmate's house when her mother came home unexpectedly. I had a number of books spread out on my lap and couldn't get up without having them all fall to the floor, so I stayed put and greeted her from a sitting position.

"To make matters worse there was another young friend present who got up immediately (her lap was free) and of course that only emphasized my not getting up. I have been wondering if I should have at least apologized for not getting up."

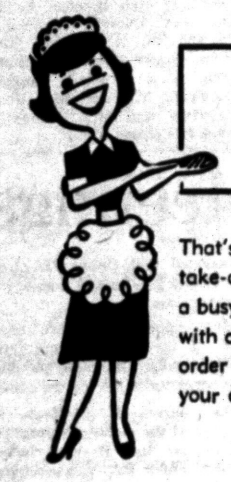

Answer: It would have been polite to have tried to get up and as the books began to fall, exclaim, "I'm sorry I can't get up."

"Dear Mrs. Post: I work in an office with three other girls and whenever anyone is home sick, we always send a gift. Recently one of the girls went ahead and bought a tablecloth for a member who was home sick.

"I thought this gift was very inappropriate. My suggestions would have been flowers, fruit, a nightgown or something similar. Will you please give me your opinion of such a present?"

Answer: I agree with you.

Area Cancer Crusaders Gather at Kickoff Dinner

Cancer crusaders, volunteer workers in the fight against one of mankind's most dangerous diseases, met last night for a kickoff dinner in the April Cancer Month campaign.

* * *

The group of some 50, representing the North Oakland County Unit of the American Cancer Society's Southeastern Michigan Division met at Devon Gables.

A picture of the American Cancer Society and its dependence upon grass-root volunteer groups was given by Mrs. Louise Bushnell, national field representative.

*

The 1956 crusade chairman, Judge H. Russel Holland, spoke on the gigantic task ahead of the group, not only during the April crusade, but on a continuing basis.

He said a belief in four propositions was necessary: First, cancer is one of the most dangerous diseases known to mankind; second, cancer work offers a superior, worthwhile type of service; third, the American Cancer Society is the best medium for a coordination of efforts; and fourth, when educated to the need for their services, people will give of their talents and money to further the search for cancer cures and prevention.

MANY SCIENTISTS

Workers can feel that they are in good company, the judge said, stating that 'there are over 1,000 scientists now trying to pierce the mystery of uncontrolled cell growth (cancer).

* * *

The judge clarified the areas that are doing both educational work and fund-raising (Pontiac is a member of the United Fund).

He said that this year's quota for the North Oakland County unit is $35,000, with only a portion of it raised to date.

Toastmistress for the dinner was the women's crusade chairman, Mrs. Edward W. Williams of Rochester. She complimented a number of volunteer workers for leadership in their areas.

* * *

They included Dr. V. E. Peterson of Oxford and Addison areas, Mrs. Margaret Dennis, Clarkston; Harley Walters, Farmington; Mrs. F. J. Pierson, Huron Valley; Mrs. Louis Larson, Novi; Mrs. Herold Schmidt, Ortonville; Mrs. Joyce Lewis and Mrs. Mary Jane Naz, Waterford, and Mrs. Graham Overgard of Wst Bloomfield.

OTHERS SPEAK

Edward W. Duescher, executive director of the Southeastern Michigan Division, and Dr. John D. Marra, president of the local unit, spoke, bringing out the fact that at the present rate, 40 million Americans, now living, eventually will have cancer.

* * *

But one-half can be saved with present-day knowledge and progress in control of the disease, they said.

A film, "Breast Self-Examination," to be shown throughout the area during the rest of April, is the highlight of the society's educational campaign this year.

Leaders in the April cancer crusade were photographed last night at the kickoff dinner of the campaign for the North Oakland County Unit. Left to right are Judge H. Russel Holland, general chairman; Mrs. Edward W. Williams of Rochester, women's crusade chairman, and Dr. John D. Marra of Lake Orion, president of the north Oakland unit.

Do Not Squeeze or Pick 'Blind' Blemishes

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Will you please tell me what to do for blind blemishes or pimples? I have one or two on my chin every once in a while."

A. I suppose you mean by "blind" pimples those which never come to a head but remain under the surface of the skin. I can tell you what NOT to do for them. Do not pick at them and squeeze them. You will bruise the tissues and may cause irritation and infection.

Just let them alone except to put alcohol on them. They evidently dry up and go away in time. These may come from some infection such as a decayed tooth or diseased tonsils. If they continue see your doctor or a skin specialist.

* * *

Q. "Please tell me what you think of my figure. I am 5 feet, 4½ inches tall and weigh 133 pounds. My bust measures 38, my waist 29 and my hips 40 inches. My husband says I look fine but I don't know!"

A. Your weight is correct and your measurements are in proportion. You are allowed a 2-inch difference between the bust and the hips. There should be 10 inches difference between your hips and your waist, so your waist is a little on the large size.

I wonder if you made a mistake in your weight? With that weight and that height the measurements are usually smaller. You probably have a large frame.

Q. "Is there any way I can straighten the bones in my ankles?"

A. Sorry, I do not know of any.

Put alcohol on "blind" blemishes and then just let them alone.

Q. "I am determined to lose some weight but my parents are violently against it. I know I am too fat to be glamorous looking. I am 14 years old, 5 feet and 6 inches tall and weigh 122 pounds. My bust measures 34, waist 24½ and hips 34 inches. What do you think?"

A. I think that you are borrowing trouble because your weight and your measurements are absolutely perfect. Do not start worrying over nothing, and especially over a blessing, at your early age.

Q. Will you tell me this? I have a 12-year-old daughter and she has quite a bit of hair on her legs. This bothers her. Is she too young to have the hair removed or to shave her legs or use a depilatory?"

A. I would not have the hair removed permanently now because often girls this age have a rather heavy hair growth which lessens as they grow older. There is no reason why she should not use a razor or a depilatory. I think she should.

Plastic Covers Easy to Make

Making lamp shade covers from plastic has been a boon to the American housewife. So many living room shades are not standard size and finding covers to fit poses a problem.

Now, however, plastic covers can be made to fit any lamp, no matter what size or shape. You will find the plastic easy to work with if you measure and cut it into three wide strips.

Just pull the plastic over the front of the shade smoothly and snug and catch both ends on the inside about an inch from the base.

St. Bernadette Guild Conducts Meeting

Mrs. Paul Saghy of Lenark road was hostess to members of St. Bernadette Guild of St. Benedict Church Wednesday evening. Mrs. Edgar Zimmer was cohostess.

Mrs. William Swanson opened the meeting with a prayer. Topic of discussion were current events at the church. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Saghy and Mrs. Zimmer.

A mint glaze on luncheon meat is a new twist. Combine 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 tablespoons vinegar and 2 tablespoons mint jelly in a skillet. Add sliced luncheon meat and cook together over low heat until meat is well glazed.

Gym Instructor Speaks Before Whitfield PTA

Eldon Johnson, physical education director of Daniel Whitfield School, spoke to members of the school's PTA Wednesday afternoon.

The speaker explained the purpose of physical education in the school system, following which the tumbling team composed of members of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the school gave an exhibition.

Three members of the Safety Patrol, John Kerns, captain; Christ Louckner and Perry Schroeder, lieutenants, explained the duties of the organization.

American Flags were presented to the Girl Scout troops of the school by Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Americanism chairman of the Auxiliary to Chief Pontiac Post, American Legion, and Lynn D. Allen, Americanism chairman of the Elks. Receiving Flags were Troops 163, 160, 323, 430, 400, 481, 268 and 19.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served

Shower Given for Bride-Elect at Botsford Inn

Botsford Inn was the setting for the Wednesday afternoon luncheon and shower honoring Margaret Waters who will become the bride of Floyd A. Compton at a ceremony to be performed May 5 in St. Benedict Church.

Gertrude Paquette of Detroit was hostess for the affair. Guests included Mrs. Ewing Tate, Mrs. Harold Smead, Mrs. Elbert F. Strain, June Wortman, Mrs. William J. Dean, Mrs. Robert Compton and Georgianna Block.

Arriving from out-of-town were Mrs. Owen Todd of Flint, Mrs. George C. Clark of Northville and Mrs. Laurine Warncke of Belleville.

Lady Docker Says Grace Lacks Dash

By LADY NORAH DOCKER
(Lady Norah Docker, wife an an English multi-millionaire industrialist who manufactures Daimler cars, is one of the brightest lights of the European social whirl; but she's also one of its most irreverent critics. From her own special vantage-point, she is reporting on events leading up to the Grace Kelly-Prince Rainier wedding).

MONTE CARLO (INS) — Miss Grace Kelly could have stood out a bit more when she arrived in Monaco yesterday if she had dressed differently.

* * *

I watched her with binoculars from my husband's yacht "Shemara" and I don't think that plain blue coat and large white hat were proper.

She doesn't understand yachting or she would never wear any hat she has to hold on to. Besides it was a pity she didn't show her face.

I suppose one would have to wear flat heels if one is Miss Kelly meeting Prince Rainier, but she could have chosen something a bit more noticeable in dress, like my ermine greatcoat.

* * *

Now I'd have worn my ermine greatcoat with matching beret and handbag. It's "quite unusual" — patch pockets, belted back and gold buttons.

BIG MONOGRAM

And I'd have worn a large G.K. on my dress as I have N.D. embroidered on most things.

* * *

If an all-ermine coat was not suited to the weather, she could have tried my yachting costume—just a corded silk navy coat with white sailor collar. The collar is ermine.

The girl probably didn't know the size of Rainier's yacht.

It's only 135 feet long and 340 tons. My husband chartered that same ship before Rainier bought it and I'd call it a bit snug.

Personally, I wouldn't honeymoon on it. It might lead to more seasickness than romance and I'd probably be sick in the harbor in that tiny thing after getting used to the "Shemara" (214 feet and 840 tons).

* * *

Of course, Rainier doesn't have to worry about the fact the ceilings on his yacht aren't very high. Neither is he. But Miss Kelly is a rather tall girl.

EXPENSIVE EFFECT

The wedding is having an extraordinary effect on Monte Carlo.

I tried to get some aspirin for my throat and it was three times as expensive as it would have been normally.

* * *

It's much too expensive now to shop in Monte Carlo, and besides all we see in the shop windows anyhow is Rainier and Grace, and that is romance and can't be bought, they say.

I've got a sore throat because of the weather. They talk about Riviera sunshine but I've caught the worst cold I've had in years since I've been here.

All the time, I'm quite pleased to have been invited to this very important wedding because we do have to use the harbor and the weather changes here often and so does the atmosphere.

We've bought tickets for all the galas and got our invitations for the wedding.

* * *

We probably got invited because we've supported Monte Carlo in so many ways and given them quite a bit of publicity.

I only wish Miss Kelly had shown more dash when she arrived.

Retarded Child Calls for 'Reality'

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

About five months ago Mrs. X. was wheeled into a hospital delivery room to have a baby. It was born with the physical defects of mongolism.

* * *

Mrs. X. was given psychiatric treatment for shock. Now she's home with the baby. But the treatment seems to have merely diffused the shock into a pervasive sense of depression.

"Something has gone out of me," she writes. "Even the simplest decisions are too much for me. There is only grayness ahead as far as I can see . . ."

Since the baby was born, Mrs. X., how many people have called him a "mongoloid idiot?" How many have told you why you should keep him at home; why you should "put him away?" How many have said, "Face reality—the fact that this child is doomed to hopeless mental and physical deficiency?"

Of course you are indecisive. We don't plan on a handicapped child. Its arrival produces certain uncertainties in us. They are the perfect echo for interfering voices, giving us no peace, driving us deeper and deeper into confusion.

AN ILLUSTRATION

Let me tell you a story.

Some years ago, a mongoloid baby was born to two eager and expectant young people. Like yours, their natural uncertainties were increased by other people's opinion of their baby as a hopeless idiot.

* * *

But they were unusually strong young people—self-respecting ones who somehow knew that since our "reality" is as individual and different from other people's as we are, nobody else can tell us what it is.

So, instead of listening to the dictating voices, they sought what was real for them in what had happened to them. And they found it in what the father has called "making our whole focus the training of Jonny."

Jonny's first teacher said, "He'll die soon." His dentist said "His teeth will decay prematurely."

* * *

FINDS INSPIRATION

If his parents had not claimed their individual reality from the kinds pressed on them by prejudiced relatives and medical opinion, the work of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children might never have begun. For Jonny's father is its executive director.

In the very handicap that was to doom him and his wife to unrelenting guilt or hopeless slavery, he's found the inspiration for understanding guidance to other parents of children like his own.

Write to him in care of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children, 200 Fourth Ave., New York City.

His suggestions will be practical. More valuable, they will persuade you that you are not alone.

Silk in First Place During Spring 1956

For spring, 1956, silks take the number one position, Rustic silks in many variations are most fashionable. Silks, linen-like silk, silk mohair, and silk alpaca are examples, note the fashion editors of Women's Wear Daily.

Daytime silk tweeds are replacing wools and worsteds in costumes and suits because of the general change in spring temperatures. Other significant silks include broadcloth, crepe, faille, baratheas, shantung, taffeta, pongee and chiffon. Newest spring suitings for ensembles are men's wear types with a high luster. These are the worsted-and-silk mixtures.

Reuther Completes His Bombay Visit

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Walter Reuther, vice president of the AFL-CIO, left for Ahmedabad last night after completing a two-day visit here.

Reuther, on an Indian tour, told a news conference, "I know pacts will serve no purpose in Asia as the struggle in Asia will be won in the rice fields and not in the battlefields."

Reuther paid tribute to the late President Roosevelt on the anniversary of his death, declaring it was Roosevelt who laid the foundation of the present concept of "the human welfare state".

The clinic director, Dr. Jacques Gottlieb, receives $25,000 a year.

Fake Robber Chided by Restaurant Cashier

Chapter No. 6 (Condensed) . . . The Truth About Cancer

Research Slowly but Surely Will Conquer Cancer

By DR. CHARLES S. CAMERON
Medical and Scientific Director of the American Cancer Society

There are two opinions about the best route for cancer research. One holds that it is extremely unlikely that any major breakthrough on the cancer front will come until we learn a great deal more about the basic processes of life and growth.

The other opinion maintains that the problem of cancer must be approached by a direct research assault on cancer itself, in an intense search for the influences—hormonal or chemical or whatever—that will check it.

Cancer presents the most formidable challenge ever faced by the biological sciences. Cancer research now embraces every known branch of science concerned with living things.

GENETICS AND CANCER

Cancer of the breast occurs spontaneously among mice—as it does in some other animals. By mating brothers and sisters born to mothers who have developed breast cancer, strains of mice have been produced in which breast cancer develops in a predictable proportion of females—as high as 90 per cent.

Here was strong evidence that tendency to cancer among the animals studied was an inherited trait, and that it must be contained in and transmitted through genes in the cell nucleus.

It was also found that ordinarily the tendency toward cancer was not so strong as the tendency to resist cancer (which could also be established by selective breeding).

So cancer susceptibility was said to be a "recessive" trait while resistance was said to be "dominant."

As interest focused on the genes containing the factors for inheritance, attempts were made to alter them, through a process called mutation, to produce cancer in succeeding generations of mice.

Researchers found that they could produce such mutations by subjecting cells to such influences as X-rays and a decreased supply of oxygen.

As the years passed, results of well controlled laboratory experiments with breast cancer in the mouse continued to accumulate.

Cancer seemed to appear much more often among the females of litters of matings in which the mother had a cancer ancestry, and much less frequently in the offspring of mothers who were of a cancer-resistant line—even though the fathers were susceptible.

THE 'MILK FACTOR'

All this hinted at something favoring breast cancer which involved the female of the mating rather than the male. Among the possibilities considered was nursing: The mother did it—the father didn't.

Then a thoughtful worker in genetic research removed the newborn mice from their cancer-susceptible mother and placed them with a foaster mother of a cancer-resistant strain.

The transfers thus received no milk from their true mothers but were nursed by foster mothers. As they approached the age where they would normally show tumors, instead of eight or nine of every ten females developing breast cancer, only one or two did.

After reversing the experiment and proving that the rate of cancer of the breast could be upped significantly by having baby females of ressistant strains (who would rarely develop cancer as they grew older) nurse at the breast of cancer-susceptibles, the evidence pointed toward the breast milk itself as having an important influence on breast cancer in mice.

This "Milk factor" has been carefully studied. It is believed to be a virus-like substance capable of propagating itself and causing disease, but also able to lie dormant for long periods. There is little evidence to date that such an influence operates in human beings.

VIRUS AND CANCER

For some years, viruses had been known to be the cause of several other animal tumors. But discovery of the milk factor has greatly increased attention given to the possible viral infectious nature of cancer.

Leukemia, for example, occurs spontaneiously, but only occasionally in mice.

Other efforts have been made to adapt viruses themselves to attack cancer tissue and to use them in the treatment of experimental and human tumors.

Viruses seem to have innate preferences for growing in certain types of tissue. For example, the virus causing infantile paralysis prefers the tissues of the central nervous system, particularly those of the spinal cord.

HORMONES AND CANCER

Genetic influences, once regarded as of sole or chief importance in certain animal tumors can be modified in another way; by altering the circulating hormones of the organism.

For instance, if females of a strain of mice in which breast cancer is common are castrated (ovaries removed) early in life, cancer will appear only rarely as the animals grow old.

Conversely, if female sex hormones are given in large amounts to cancer-resistant mice breast cancer can be made to occur, even among males.

The fundamental importance to cancer of certain hormones known as steroids, which include the sex hormones, is being investigated by careful analysis of the hormones as they occur in persons with cancer and those without it.

Breast cancer seemed to be consistently more rapid in young women than in older women.

It began to appear that hormones produced by the ovaries might favor or stimulate the growth of at least some breast cancers.

CHEMISTRY AND CANCER

New microscopes employing electrons and ultraviolet irradiation instead of conventional light, and spectrometers using infra-red rays now make it possible to analyze unbelievly small chemical changes—for instance, those taking place within the cell's nucleus.

They offer for the first time the promise of ferreting out minute details of the chemistry of living things. Out of this knowledge will come a great deal to advance understanding of cancer.

Suppose researchers discover essential differences between the chemical operations of cancer cells and those of normal cells. Where might that lead us?

Search for anti-cancer drugs with more selective destructive effect is widening year by year. Yet progress is still slow. This approach to cancer treatment by chemical substances is known as chemotherapy, a general term that includes the treatment of infections by sulfa drugs.

The final answer will probably not come like a bolt from the blue. Instead, science will gradually overcome the cancer fortress by a process of persistent siege.

Yet cancer research has been under way for barely two generations. And its present pace was set not more than ten years ago. So there is no reason for pessimism.

'Watch That Crazy Clown'

Saginaw Circus Actor Perfects Artificial Leg Devices in New Act

SAGINAW (AP)—A gear shift in his wooden leg, circus clown Ray Thomas is spinning crazily around his living room these days.

He's practicing for his new act, a routine he has worked up since the injury of his wife last spring grounded the high wire clown act of the "Flying Melzores."

He lost his left leg in 1933 in a winter training accident. The leg was amputated just below the knee.

Despite loss of the leg, Ray regained his skill and soon was soaring through the air again. But other circus people told him he was too good—"you should do something to show you have a wooden leg."

That gave birth to the clown act. Ray rigged a special bolt so he could turn his foot completely around and pull funny stunts. One reviewer reported, "it looks just like a man with a wooden leg."

BALL BEARING SCREW

A cousin suggested he use a ball bearing screw assembly that would let the leg spin like an old fashioned piano stool. The proper mechanism was found at the Saginaw Steering Gear Plant—a screw assembly with a gear shift to release locking devices.

C. E. Iler, an artifical leg manufacturer, agreed to put the contraption into a wooden leg. An automation locking device was fashioned with all parts made of a special lightweight metal.

Ray can raise himself a foot off the floor by spinning around on the leg, lean over at crazy angles and turn the leg hindside to front. As an experienced clown, he makes the most of his gadget's comic possibilities.

By next circus season he expects to be in the ring again, making people laugh at the "Flying Melzore."

Marine Corps Starts Investigation of Approved Boot Training Procedure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Marine Corps is searching its long tradition of rigorous training and tough discipline to find out what went wrong when six recruits died in a South Carolina tidal swamp.

* * *

Gen. Randolph Pate, corps commandant, has made it clear that the Court of Inquiry into the tragedy at Parris Island must do more than determine why Drill Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon ordered 78 men out for the Sunday night march to "teach them discipline." Six of the 78 drowned.

Other officers said the court, in reviewing the sergeant's action, must consider it in the light of headquarters directives, instructions and orders issued at the training depot, and precedents, customs and traditions built up through the years into a system which Pate says "has withstood the test of years of combat experience."

Marine headquarters sets forth the basic doctrine of training and how discipline should be taught, but leaves to the training centers the job of carrying out the training.

The Parris Island command has trained more than 192,000 recruits since January 1951.

TRANSITION PERIOD

Marine Corps headquarters in Washington said it was unable to provide accurate information on how many training accidents have occurred at its Parris Island and San Diego Recruit Depots. Officers are now searching records in different places to come up with such a compilation.

The Marine recruit, according to training depot regulations that have been approved by corps headquarters, spends 10 weeks in basic training. The official depot statement said that this period "marks the turning point in the recruit's transition from civilian to Marine Corps life."

Other documents state that "life in boot camp is rigorous. The training is intense."

TOUGH ON BOOTS

During boot training recruits do not leave the base and even when given "liberty" at the depot are under constant supervision. They undergo supervised training an average of 14 hours daily. If they go to the movies on the base it is usually as a reward for good work and not just because they want to see a show.

In their first 10 weeks as Marines, recruits spend 517 hours under direct instruction and training.

The depot's official statement of its organization and duties says that "at the heart of recruit training is the drill instructor."

Three drill instructors, all of them noncommissioned officers, are assigned to each recruit platoon, which averages about 75 men. These drill instructors get their jobs only after they are specially recommended by their commanders and after the yhave gone to a special school.

Marine officers say about one-third of the drill instructor candidates fail in these schools because they fail to measure up to the high standards of intelligence, leadership and emotional stability required of drill instructors.

The drill instructors live with recruits, eat with them and are directly responsible for indoctrinating them from the day they arrive at the depot until they complete the 10-week course.

The training regulations require that at least one of the drill sergeants remain in the barracks with the recruits through the night.

Parris Island regulations for drill sergeants also provide that "if at inspection his platoon does not make a good showing, it is considered a reflection on him."

The Agriculture Department bought 150,000,000 pounds of cheese in its price-support program during 1955, a drop of 59 per cent from the 1954 total.

Soviet Baptist Leaders to Visit U.S. Next Month

NEW YORK (AP)—Five Baptist leaders in Russia are expected to arrive here next month as guests of Baptists in the United States.

The Russians were invited following a two-week visit to the Soviet Union by U.S. Baptist leaders.

* * *

An American Baptist spokesman announced yesterday the Russian clergymen will arrive May 18 and will attend two conventions — of Southern Baptists in Kansas City May 30 to June 2, and the American Baptists meeting in Seattle June 1 to 22.

There are about 800,000 Baptists in Russia.

A $10,000,000 drive among the Irish in America for funds to support the National University of Ireland would succeed "if put across," the Bishop of Galway prophesied in Dublin.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, "JUST FACE LIFTING"?

EVERY NOW AND THEN, we run across someone who seems to think that 1956 cars do not offer anything really new — just a little face lifting from the year before.

We won't try to speak for the automobile industry. But we certainly can speak for Buick.

And let us announce in no uncertain terms—it's the newest thing on wheels.

The Styling is New

Sure, it looks like a Buick. But it has a new V-prowed grille that says 1956 and no mistake. The hood's new—the fender ports are new—the sweepspear is new — and it all adds up to a new sweep-ahead look that ends in a sassy new slant to the rear contours.

But that, friends, is only the beginning.

The 1956 Dynaflow* is New

It introduces what the engineers call "double regeneration"—which means a double-action take-off. It gives you new, split-second response in the first inch of pedal travel — plus the "switch the pitch" at full acceleration, which no one else has yet approached.

The Ride is New

To coil springs on all four wheels, a brawny X-braced frame, and torque-tube drive, the engineers have added deep-oil shock absorbers to give new softness, new buoyancy, new comfort, and a brand-new "sense of direction" handling response.

The Power is New

All 1956 Buicks have new 322-cubic-inch V8's — with record highs in power and compression — with unique new double "Y" manifolding to step up efficiency—with new carburetor "deicing" —and a host of other new features to make owning a Buick pure pleasure.

The Thrill is New

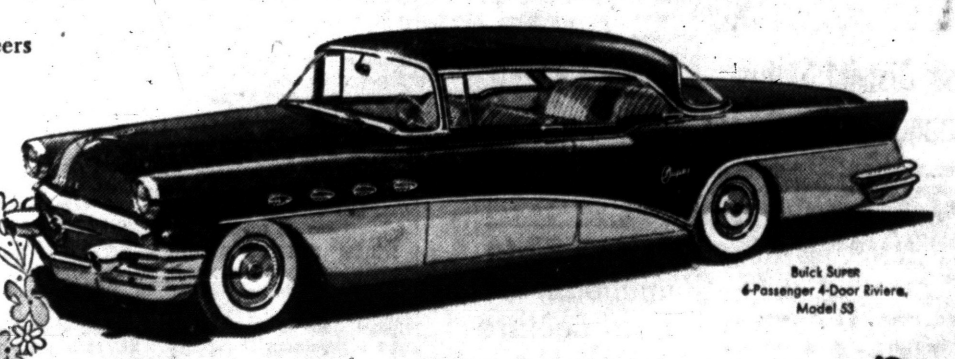

And the surest way for you to find out how right we are, is to sample a 1956 Buick yourself.

As we said before, this is the best Buick yet—by a wide measure—and when you learn the prices we're quoting, you'll know why this Buick is one of the three best sellers in today's market.

It takes a lot more than face lifting to produce such a winner as this.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

Huron Valley Schools Ask New $1,200,000 Issue

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD — Last night the Huron Valley Board of Education authorized Harold Hansen, superintendent, to work with attorneys to set up a bond issue for $1,200,000 to help cover the entire school district's educational needs.

* * *

A $1,250,000 school bond issue was passed by voters last March but the jump in population figures proved that more class room space is necessary, officials said.

By spreading a new bond issue over a period of 17 years, taxes in the area will decrease instead of increasing, according to members of the board.

If the proposed bond issue is passed by the voters, the millage will drop from the present rate of 13.6 to possibly 12, within the next two years, Hansen said.

According to Dr. Ben Bragg, president of the board, this plan is based on the increase in assessed valuation over the last seven years.

INCLUDES NEW ELEMENTARY

The plan proposed by the school board members will include a new elementary school to be built on 17 acres on the south side of Milford. The school board purchased the property two years ago.

A second elementary unit would be built in White Lake near the present Beaumont School.

A much-needed multi-purpose room and kitchen facilities would be built at the Brooks School and the balance of the bond issue would go to complete the gymnasium wing of the new Milford High School.

WORK GOES AHEAD

Contracts for 36 rooms and administration facilities on the high school have been awarded and work will begin next week. Contractors agreed to have the work completed in 480 days.

A recent survey of the Milford area by the Michigan Planning Commission indicated that the population will more than double in this area in the next five years.

Reason for the tremendous building boom here is the construction of the new Lincoln-Mercury Assembly Plant at Wixom, which is only seven miles from Milford. The plant management estimates that 80 per cent of the 5,000 employes will be migratory workers who will settle in this area.

INCLUDE NEW OWNERS

School board members feel that it is only fair that new home owners who will move into this area should also help pay for the educational facilities that will be available.

This is the main reason that the School Board has set up a plan to cover the present and near-future needs and at the same time reduce the present school tax rate.

At a special meeting at the Highland School Wednesday night, some 200 residents were present to hear the School Board's proposed plan for 1956. A straw vote was taken, the group indicated it was in favor of the plan, and with this in mind, the School Board is going ahead with arrangements to have a special election late in May.

"If the proposed bond issue is successful, the school district should be well taken care of until 1956, as far as high school needs are concerned," Hansen said. "Future elementary needs will depend on the rapidity of population growth in the Huron Valley area," he added.

Leaders Differ on Farm Bill

Charles Shuman Says 'Bad'; James Patton Urges Backing

WASHINGTON (INS)—The presidents of two of the largest farm organizations in the country were at odds today over whether the Farm Bill approved by Congress should be signed into law by the President.

Charles B. Shuman, head of the American Farm Bureau Federation, considers the bill "utterly bad" and warns that "it can only prove to be harmful to American agricultuure if it became law."

Taking the opposite view is James G. Patton, national president of the Farmers Union, who urged the President to sign the measure and fire his secretary of agriculture at the same time.

Shuman told the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce yesterday that the bill provides "a return to discredited programs that have contributed much to the present glutted market situation and have injured rather than helped farmers."

His views echoed those of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson who spoke against it Wednesday night, after the Senate approved the compromise measure.

Benson avoided newsmen yesterday. He and five others fly to Augusta late today and will confer with President Eisenhower on the measure Saturday.

Patton, in a telegram to Mr. Eisenhower at the Augusta National Golf Club, said the new measure "will add nearly 3 billion dollars to farm income in 1956" if it becomes law and is administered "the way it ought to be."

Ask District Status Change at Southfield

SOUTHFIELD — Petitions for a vote on changing Southfield School District from a fourth to a third class district are being circulated by members of the area PTA council.

If enough signatures are collected, the question would be put up to voters on the June ballot.

Reorganing the district would add two members to the five-man school board and give broader powers to the board for buying and selling land. A population of 10,000 or more is required for the change.

A new school combining elementary and junior high grades has been named the E. J. Lederle School. It is located at Nine Mile and Evergreen. The elementary section will be completed in September.

April Dance to Benefit Dauntless Timmy Cook

FOUR TOWNS — Four Towns PTA will sponsor a benefit dance April 20, with proceeds going to purchase crutches and a wheelchair for Timmy Cook, 10, a Four Towns student, who has spent most of the past eight months in hospitals since he was burned while playing Aug. 25.

Timmy, a courageous lad who still hopes to become an ace horseback rider and jockey, will return home from Ford Hospital soon. However, he will have to return later for an operation to graft new tendons in his legs, and meanwhile he will need crutches and a wheelchair.

He has recently undergone multiple skin grafting operations on his legs, which were critically burned when his clothing caught fire in the almost fatal mishap. Only the quick action of Timmy's sister, Joyce, 16, who smothered the flames, saved his life.

Timmy's parents, Lloyd and Adelaide Cook, have had rough going trying to meet the bills for expensive medical treatment. Now with Timmy's return there will be special shoes that cost $40 a pair, as well as needed equipment—and this is where the PTA hopes to ease the way a little.

The dance will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 in the Waterford Township CAI Building, 5640 Williams Lake Rd. It will include ballroom and square dancing, with an orchestra, and a caller for the square dances.

Tickets are available at the Four Towns School or from home room mothers or any PTA executive board member.

Pay Hike for Employes Included in $303,152; Final Action in May

ROCHESTER—Rochester Village Council has scheduled a special meeting for Tuesday night to consider a proposed $303,152 village budget, which will come up for adoption at the first Monday in May.

The budget includes a 5 per cent pay increase for village employes and also recommends $1,000 increase in life insurance benefits for employes where it is permissible.

An expenditure of $10,000 to purchase sites for downtown off-street parking is recommended. Also the transfer of $50,000 expected surplus in the general fund to a capital improvements fund to be used for a future municipal building is included.

The Council also authorized the purchase of a temporary flasher for the intersection of Woodward street and the New York Central Railroad.

U.S. 'Giveaway' Record Broken

Food Surplus Donations Zoom as 1,400,000,000 Pounds Dispatched

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Agriculture Department's whopping "giveaway" food program broke all records during the past nine months while U. S.-owned surplus commodity stocks continued to mount.

The Department reported today that it had donated 1,400,000,000 pounds of food during the first nine months of fiscal year 1956—65 per cent more than the total distributed in the U. S. and abroad during the same period last year.

During the July-March period, the Department gave away nearly 560 million pounds of surplus foods, 43 per cent more than in the corresponding period a year ago.

School donations, totaling 222,700,000 pounds, were up more than 25 per cent; institutional donatoins, at 80 million pounds, were up 2 and three-tenths per cent, and donations to needy persons zoomed 89 per cent to a total of 257 million pounds for the period.

The foods are being distributed in the U. S. to about 11 million school children, to 1,300,000 needy persons in charitable institutions, and 2,929,000 needy persons in family units.

The U. S. has donated 840 million pounds of food during the period to needy persons in 74 foreign countries, 84 per cent more than was distributed in the first nine months of fiscal 1955.

The distribution gains represent intensified efforts by department officials to make the fullest use of surpluses acquired by the government under its price-support and surplus-removal programs.

Probation Suit Heard in Court

Resident of Waterford Is Seeking to Regain His Driver's License

A hearing was held yesterday in circuit court on a suit questioning the power of justices to put traffic violators on probation.

* * *

The suit was filed by Billy L. Hamilton, 29, of Waterford Township, who is demanding the return of his driver's license from Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib.

Leib picked up Hamilton's license for a six-month period Jan. 9 as a condition of probation after convicting Hamilton on a speeding charge.

John Bell, Hamilton's attorney, argued yesterday that suspension or revocation of driver's licenses is a power only of the Secretary of State and the State Police Commissioner.

But even if justices had this power, Bell said, Hamilton's probation would have been invalid, since he was not assigned to a probation officer.

* * *

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Walter R. Denison, assigned to defend Justice Leib, quoted opinions by state attorneys general that justices could suspend driving privileges as a condition of probation, and could ask surrender of licenses as "evidence of good faith."

Denison said there is no ruling on whether justices can act as their own probation officers. He said this has been common practice.

Local law enforcement officials have expressed concern over the outcome of the case. They fear that if justices are deprived of probationary powers, they would be forced to send many more violators to jail.

And they fear the added expense of probation officers for justice courts.

Judge Clark J. Adams took the case under advisement.

Detectives Investigating Three Cottage Breakins

Oakland County detectives continued an investigation today into three break-ins of unoccupied homes in the Highland Township sector.

Several items of sporting goods were taken from two cottages on Harvey Lake. Investigators Leo Hazen and Harry Maur have been unable to determine as yet if anything is missing from a nearby house which was entered.

The detectives said the incidents had apparently taken place during the last two weeks. Norman Lawton, of Detroit, whose cottage at 786 E. Wardlow Rd. was the heaviest hit in the raids, said he discovered his cottage had been entered on his return there Wednesday. His losses included fishing poles, rods and reels, a tackle box, a .22 rifle and shells.

"I have good news for you," Consul General Palermo told him.

"The Prince liked your albums. Yours will be the only American jazz band playing at the wedding."

A housebreaker apparently relieved the appetite he worked up Wednesday night in ransacking the home of a Florida vacationer.

* * *

They said furniture was tipped over and pictures torn from walls by the intruder. The owner, Harry Pappas, had reportedly left Tuesday, they said.

Steal Wheel Discs From New Autos

Unknown to the owner, thieves apparently managed to loot $350 worth of wheel discs from 17 new cars parked for the last two months in a dealer's storage lot at 702 S. Paddock St., according to Pontiac police.

* * *

The loss was discovered yesterday, they said, as the cars were about to be moved to a sales lot at 40 W. Pike St.

According to the sales manager, Fred Foster, of 220 Josephine St., some 68 discs were taken since the cars were placed in storage Feb. 1, police said.

Pontiac, Illinois Companies OK Production Alignment

An agreement to align production and distribution facilities has been reached between the Pontiac Varnish Co. and the Rockford Paint Manufacturing Co. of Rockford, Ill., presidents of the two firms announced yesterday.

HUTCHINS

The purpose of the past will be to "accomplish substantial economies in research, manufacturing and distribution," according to a joint statement by Presidents C. H. Hutchins of Pontiac Varnish, and Ralph J. Baudhuin of the Rockford Company.

Under the agreement's terms, Rockford will acquire and maintain the Pontiac firm's retail stores and trade-sales organization, each of which will continue to serve dealer and distribution outlets.

BAUDHUIN

The Illinois company will also manufacture Pontiac Varnish's house paints, enamels and varnishes under their original formulations, brand names and labels, besides producing its own line "Rockcote" products and "Signature" tinting system.

"The arrangement will release certain of Pontiac Varnish Co.'s facilities for increased production of industrial product coatings and for further expansion of research and customer service laboratories," Hutchins said.

Pontiac Varnish will take over various areas of distribution in the industrial product markets now served by Rockford while local trade sales will have the advantage of the specialized research and marketing experience of Rockford's staff, the local industrialist pointed out.

Located at 30 Brush St., Pontiac Varnish was founded in 1902 and manufactures paints, enamels, primers, lacquers, varnishes, synthetic finishes, paint grinders' liquids and allied products for general industrial use.

The local firm also is a principal supplier of protective coatings for the automotive industry. The plant's employe staff numbers 110.

The agreement between the two companies will go into effect Monday.

7-Year-Old Girl Hurt as Car Skids in Sand

Loose sand was blamed in the traffic accident yesterday afternoon in which a car skidded into a seven-year-old girl running across Edison Street just south of Chamberlain, according to Pontiac police.

The girl, Dawn L. Hemming, of 46 Clarence St. was treated for minor head injuries and released from Pontiac General Hospital authorities said.

Officer Harry Ruby supported the statement of the driver, Maxwell H. Graham, 63, of Sylvan Lake that he was unable to stop in time because of the sand.

SEA NYMPH — Darlene Stange executes precision form in rehearsal for "Aqua Myths," the 1956 Pontiac High School Dolphin Club water show. Roman and Greek mythology will be drawn upon for the mythological characters portrayed by the synchronized swimmers.

By VICKY MICU

"Shades of Jupiter's sea nymphs"—Dolphin club members are using such expressions as they put finishing touches on their "Aqua Myths," the 1956 water show. The fanciful affair will be presented April 25, 26, 27, 28.

Scenes are all set to Roman and Greek mythology, depicting mythological characters doing synchronized swmming. One of the scenes will be a waltz-type act portraying the Nine Muses.

A duet scene of Cupid and Psyche will be done by Chris Selden and Saida Tuttle, and another of Apollo and Diane (the Sun god and Moon goddess) will be portrayed by Marsha Stapp and Ruth Ann Tower.

Other novelty swim-dances include Hades, the Sea Nymphs, Neptune, Constellation of Stars, and Zeus of Heavens.

A "First" will be presented with the comedy act of Edin, Villi, and Ve. This number will provide a special surprise. A solo number, Aphrodite, the Goddess of Beauty will be given by Darlene Stange.

Other Dolphin members participating are Judy Baker, Sharon Daniels, Carl Donaldson, Judy Learned, Jane Skelley, and Sonja Ryan.

Still others are Judy Cohassey, Gail Blamy, Mary Sue Dahlgren, Sharon Gale, Sue Uligan, Barbara Barry, Minetta Foster, Diane Beach, Nancy Brandt, Judy Elwell, Darlene Gould, Judy Huntwork, Sharon McRae, Moreen Foster and Sharon Vanderwalker.

DRIVE PENDING

Causing the most excitement at PHS is the prospect of the coming magazine drive starting next Wednesday. This will be the 13th annual affair, and will afford a chance for students to win personal prizes, ice-cream treats, class awards and prizes for the school. An all school assembly will kick-off the drive Wednesday.

Monday the high school forensic team traveled to Saginaw High School for the annual Saginaw Valley Spring Tournament, and PHS senior, Bob Everson, for the third straight year captured the first place in extemporaneous speaking. Altogether some twenty students participated.

April 27 something on the new side will be held at PHS. The Latin Club will honor the 2709th anniversary of the founding of Rome with "The Feast of Luprical."

Clothing suitable for the occasion will be toga and tunics, and the celebration will be held in the girl's gym. Decorations, games, music, etc., will all run along Roman lines.

Aspiring journalists will attend the MIPA convention at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor April 20. Some 70 Tomahawk, Quiver members and journalism students will attend this all day affair.

Next Saturday is THE day for Juniors, "Manhattan Moods," the J-hop will be held in the PHS gymnasium. Jimmy Morris and band will provide music.

Today the school Science Fair opened. It will continue through tomorrow. The Linnean Society, PHS biology club, sponsors the affair. Students are displaying projects and a series of movies will be shown tonight and tomorrow. Ten area schools will participate.

Merry Minds Turn to Jubilee at SMH

By JANET ENGLISH

With the ending of Easter vacation, classes resumed Monday at St. Michael. Busy and varied schedules immediately replace the "life or Riley" that Michaelites experienced for the past week and a half.

Seniors have been subject to writers' cramp this week as a result of autographing their pictures. Not only are the seniors collecting these treasured mementos but also the underclassmen are trying to complete a "Rogues Gallery."

The CYO presented for the first time their "Minstrel Jubilee" on Wednesday afternoon for the grade school. Presentation for the public will be Sunday and Monday.

Rollicking merriment reigns at St. Michael Hall during the Jubilee slated for presentation at 8 both evenings. Junior Kenny Rogers is the master of ceremonies for the show and does a fine job in this capacity.

Boys' basketball intramurals were played before vacation and the senior team came out on top.

Athletes were given tickets for the annual athletic banquet, which is to be held on Tuesday.

Open house at Wayne Fisher's is the highlight of the activities staged by the sophomore class.

APRIL SHOWERS

Tonight's dance, "April Showers," has been engaging the time of the junior class as of late. Russ Garcia will be providing the rhythm for this 9 to 12 affair. The publicity situation was ably taken care of by Cecelia Page, Dorothy Allen, Eileen Scott, Pat Martin, Natalie Rofe, and Judy Neidjelski.

Those on the coatcheck committee are Karen Farrell, Loretta Lauinger, David Ohngren, Judith Erickson, Carmelina Ginnell, Mildred Robinson, Mike Lyons, and Arthur Fitzgerald.

Danny Dropps, Mary Raymond, Kenny Halpin, Sharon Walsh, Alice Adams, Pat Backes, Yvonne Koprince, Janis Pacquette, Jim Barnowski, Tom Paine, Edward Sorneg, Richard Flourde, Larry Hayden, Chuck Brown, Kenny Rogers, Ernest Stuk, Richard Piper, and Thomas Harding are handling the sale of the tickets.

The decorations committee consists of volunteers from the entire class.

The announcement of the scholastic ratings of the senior class was made on Monday. Janet English is valedictorian while Mary Heitjan is salutatorian. Runners up for these honors are Janice Sears, Elizabeth Taylor, Elaine Neussendorfer, John Keller, and James Ebert.

* * *

Just a reminder, the Junior Achievement Dance, "April Reign," is being held at the Masonic Temple in Detroit, Saturday. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

JANET ENGLISH

St. Michael High School valedictorian for 1956 is Janet English, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles English of North Paddock. She plans to attend the University of Detroit in the fall.

MARY HEITJAN

Salutatorian is Mary Heitjan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heitjan, Erie Road. Mary is acting president of the Children of Mary, was a member of the Future Nurses Club and the glee club and choir for three and four years, respectively. She plans to attend Borgess College in Kalamazoo.

How the balm sunshine smooths away those winter blues. What a difference in the yards and gardens around town since spring is here. The yards are clean, grass growing. Gardens although sparsely filled as yet are weedless.

There have been a lot of busy people this week.

* * *

Andrew Maier of Waterford Waterford Township is growing five different types of grass to compare varieties. We're going to try and have a story on Mr. Maier's findings next week.

Our Grassland news tells us that spraying the base of brush and small trees with 2-4 D and 2-4-5 Testers now while they are dormant can knock undesirable growth for a permanent loop. Really drenching the brush with the chemicals at the rate of 8 to 16 pounds in 100 gallons of diesel oil should do the trick, according to research men.

Several local families have made plans to visit this year's Tulip Festival in Holland (Mich). Holland sources tell us that upwards of a million and a half tulip bulbs bloom yearly there. The festival is in May.

Privet, which is such a rugged sturdy plant that most of us are likely to ignore it except to clip it, appreciates a spring feeding like other perennial material. Usually it does well with three or four trimmings a season.

* * *

We're trying to get information on a new type grass that kills crab grass as it grows and spreads by runners that form the nursery sod or plugs and stays green all summer. Will pass on any information we get.

Silver Maple Can Add Beauty to Larger Lawn

Northern tree lovers with expansive grounds can benefit by adopting the long defamed silver maple. It is in general disrepute, especially as a street tree, but it offers several virtues as a special landscape sentinel.

It is brittle wooded, but it can add beauty and distinction to the larger property. It is excellent for background use where rapid growth is desirable and where occasional loss of branches is somewhat less than catastrophic.

The silver maple thrives in many kinds of soil and offers a pleasing form with beautiful deep green leaves that show their silvery undersides with every passing breeze. And it lends a pleasing touch of color to the Winter landscape. It is one of the first harbingers of Spring and displays clusters of small red and yellow blossoms even before the snows disappear.

On the smaller property, however, the silver maple can become a problem child. Its root system has an uncanny ability to reach into sewers and drains.

Properly located, its desirable qualities become more pronounced.

Glyodin Can Control Peach Brown Rot

Brown rot, the disease that cost peach growers $5 million a year can be controlled by the use of Crag Glyodin. Heretofore Crag Glyodin has been recommended exclusively for fighting diseases of apples.

This announcement was made by M. J. Siciliano, sales, manager of the Crag Agricultural Cemicals Department of Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Company, a Division of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation.

Siciliano said that Crag Glyodin, a compound which has been in use commercially as an apple spray fungicide for the past seven years, has been successfully tested in apple orchards interplanted with peaches. The grower simply sprays both fruits in one operation with Crag Glyodin. This one spray will control disease growth on both peaches and apples.

Crag Glyodin, Siciliano explained, coats the peach with an extremely thin invisible film that kills fungus and makes penetration difficult. In a test conducted in Maryland, peaches treated with Crag Glyodin and held under rotting conditions showed only 10 per cent rot five days after picking. Peaches treated with sulfur, a common fungicide, were 37 per cent rotten in the same period.

Can Increase Value of Home

Improvement Comes From Proper Concern for Landscaping

Real estate experts say that sound home improvements should "pay for themselves" by adding what they cost to the value of the house.

By this standard, landscaping is the perfect key to home improvement, because well - chosen plants add to the beauty of any home and increase in value as they grow. Usually they add more to a home's resale price than the amount they cost originally.

"Proper landscaping is one characteristic All better - quality homes have in common," says the American Association of Nurserymen. "Invariably the homes which command the highest prices in any community have pleasing lawns and plantings. Attractive shrubs add to the value of even the smallest homes."

Surveys of home brokers reveal that a properly landscaped home often can be sold at a price 15 to 20 per cent higher than one which is not landscaped. A home generally can be set off beautifully with plants for less than 5 per cent of its total value. When the plants grow, they pay a handsome financial bonus in the added value they create.

FOLLOW PLAN

The association says that for best results it is important to follow a well-conceived landscaping plan. In developing a plan, a nurseryman first studies how your house is located on your grounds.

He views the property as a whole, because the most attractive plantings have a "oneness" in which trees, shrubs, and other foliage around the house, drive, walks and land are blended together to make a pleasing picture.

* * *

In addition to making your home more attractive and valuable, proper landscaping can do many important jobs for you. For example, tall shrubs and trees can hide, unsightly views or provide privacy from the street.

TREES COOL IN SUMMER

Trees which cast a shadow over your house screen the summer sun and keep you cooler, and high shrubs may block cold winds to help reduce your heating bills in winter. A "living fence" of low plants will make an attractive boundary for your property.

Landscaping can be a long-range program. If you start with an over-all planting picture in your mind, you can add trees and shrubs gradually and develop the picture over a period of years.

By following the suggestions of your local nurseryman, you can add $3 or $4 in "resale value" for every dollar you actually invest in landscaping.

Agent Suggests Spraying Now

Good Way to Control Aphids in Fruit Trees, Ornamentals

Spraying fruit trees or certain oramentals may not be a popular idea in cold weather, but it's a good way to control aphids in fact the only way in some cases. That's the word from John K. Bray, assistant Oakland County agricultural agent.

A dormant spray, applied between now and when the buds burst, is especially good to control aphids on black cherry and plum trees, Chenango apple trees and snowball bushes.

Ray Hutson, head of Michigan State University entomology department, explains the value of dormant sprays this way:

"Insect eggs usually aren't hurt by freezing and it takes a strong chemical compound to affect them. In fact, the chemical has to be so strong that it would harm plants if applied when there is any sign of growth.

"When a plant is in the dormant stage, it's easier to get coverage with a spray. Aphids are hard to reach when they're in the leaves. A spray applied after the snowball bush gets leaves, for example, won't be effective because the spray can't reach the pests. So the best control is with a dinitro compound during the dormant stages and it takes a thorough application," says Hutson.

Be careful when you handle a dinitro compound, though, he cautions. It stains almost everything it touches. Follow directions on the container label because it would be dangerous to handle the compound otherwise.

Proper Watering of Lawn Decides Types of Grasses

Many turf authorities consider that watering lawns properly is almost as important as fertilizing them properly. You may be surprised to learn that the way you water your lawn can actually determine which lawn grasses or weed grasses will make up your lawn.

If you water lightly and frequently you will find that shallow rooted grasses such as the bent grasses and crab grass will increase. The deep rooted blue grass and fescues will be much more apt to persist if you water deeply and infrequently.

Overwatering blue grasses often stimulates fungus diseases as does overfertilization during the summer.

Shape Garden Bed

If new flower beds are being started, mark the outlines with pegs and string or use garden hose laid on the ground to get the curves and proportions just the way you want them.

Suggest Increased Use of Dwarf Dahlia in State

The dwarf dahlia is bein recommended for increased use in Michigan.

"With their free-flowering habits, the dwarf dahlia is one of the best plants for being colorful," declares Earl H. New, of the MSU horticultural department, at a Michigan State University conference. Discussing "Flowers for the Club Grounds," New briefed 42 golf course superintendents and others at the 26th annual Superintendents Turf Conference at Kellogg Center.

For their popularity and versatility, New suggested the golf course superintendents use impatiens, marigolds, pansies and petunias to beautify the grounds.

Among the many flowers suggested for cutting—to help decorate the club house—New gave an extensive list highlighting asters, hardy mums, dahlias, gladiolus, marigolds, snapdragons and zinnias.

The speaker regretted that "carpet bedding with plants is nearly a lost art in America, although widespread in Europe and Canada". He suggested, "Very colorful designs may be produced with many varieties of the alternanthera, in addition to ageratum, sweet alyssum, dusty miller and lobelia."

The conference, sponsored by the MSU department of Soil Science, Cooperative Extension Service and College of Agriculture, also gave the conferees up-to-date information on fertilizers, insect control, landscaping, and other allied topics.

Fungus at Base of Tree Indicates Root Rotting

Fungus growths at the base of a tree indicates rotting of the roots or base of the trunk. Trees with such growths should be given immediate attention by a local tree expert advises the National Arborist Assn.

Usually the size of the fungus growths are in ratio to the amount of root decay. The larger the the more extensive the decay. A tree expert can clean out the rot if it is confined to the buttress roots and treat such trees to preserve them for many years of healthy life.

Plan to Control Annual Weeds

Can Spray Crop Though Alfalfa or Red Clover Is With Small Grain

Even though there is alfalfa or red clover with small grain, the crop can be sprayed to control annual weeds like wild mustard, lambsquarter, pigweed, and ragweed. That's the word from John R. Trocke, assistant county agricultural agent.

A quarter pound acid equivalent of 2,4-D amine per acre will control mustard and will cost only about 50 cents for the chemical. Where the nurse crop is oats, though, Trocke says, MCP amine could be used instead of 2, 4-D amine and other chemicals are available for certain uses.

Small grains should be sprayed in early spring even though they are seeded in the fall, according to Boyd Churchill, a Michigan State University farm crops specialist. There will be the least injury, he points out, if the grain can be sprayed when it has fully tilllered — but before jointing.

This would be when the grains are six to ten iches high. But be sure your sprayer is applying the right amount of chemical per acre.

Churchill suggests calibrating the sprayer along the driveway before using it in the field.

The County Extension office has information on the best tractor speed and the right pressure for spraying, Trocke says.

Perennial weeds, however, are too tough for the rates of chemical that are safe to use on small grains, but such applications may hold back some of them, like Canadian and sow thistles.

Roadside Planting Gives Safer Driving

Landscaping and planting of roadsides to make them safer, quieter and more beautiful is favored by practically all motorists, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

Roadside plantings, while beautiful, also should be functional in purpose, it is said. Properly planned plantings screen out noise and dust and other distractions, deaden traffic noises, make highways quieter. Planted dividing strips between opposing traffic lanes cut down glare and serve as directional guides.

Certain types of shrubs can serve as soft landings for cars going off the road on dangerous stretches or curves, while shrubs and trees also in many cases can prevent landslides and falling rocks, as well as erosion and its consequent damage and unsightliness.

Motorists are said to feel that if they have to pay for roads through tolls and taxes they ought to be as attractive and safe as their tax money can make them, as well as the safest possible surface on which to drive.

House Plants Are Business

By JANICE HAYHOW

Homes with beautiful plants growing in every room can do well to thank one Russell Thompson of Bogie Lake road near Milford.

A haven for house plants is Thompson's Greenhouse, wholesalers for the alive green foliage that perks up any room. Twelve greenhouses chock full of every kind of plant in every growing size makes up the Thompson business.

There's an ivy house, featuring every size ivy, one for philodendrons, begonias, variegated peperomia, African violets (20 different varieties), cactus, four orchid plants, petunias, tiny baby marigolds and a host of others.

The day we visited the Thompson Greenhouse a shipment of 10,000 gardenia plants had just come in. The staff of 43 persons started in to get the fragrant plant that bears the exotic velvet bloom ready for shipment to retail dealers.

Eight trucks keep Thompson plants going to retail stores from where they eventually wind up in your home.

50,000 PLANTS

When the Thompson staff talks about plants, it's not the usual one, two or even a dozen plants. They're speaking in thousands. Over 50,000 plants were wholesaled by Thompson's Greenhouse this past Easter season.

The green leafed beauties go through quite a process at Thompson's. First of all they're planted in only the best soil for their types. Soil is steam sterilized to rid it of disease and weeds. Then the plants are given the proper light, studied and watched and moved at the right time.

"One of the main ways we keep things going smoothly here and keep our greenhouses full at all times," said Thompson, "is by timing. It's very important. As we move one plant out for shipment, it's time for another to come in."

It stands to reason why some people just don't have luck growing house plants when you see the care given them at Thompson's. There's no question about it, house plants do require care—special watering methods, a certain soil, and the correct amount of light.

Thompson's says if a house plant grower follows the rules for individual plants, learns how to grow them, he'll have healthier and better looking plants and a home that looks alive.

Africa Violets Need Proper Care

African violets are among the most popular house plants in America but they're sometimes called "hard to grow." A few pointers on proper care include the following:

1. The plants should be watered about every two or three days. 2. The water should be warm, about room temperature. 3. Chlorinated city water should be allowed to stand 12 hours before being put on the plant.

4. Water plant from top down, allowing water to splash over the leaves. However, never put plants in the sun when leaves are wet or brown stains will form. Always make sure the leaves are thoroughly dry before plant is exposed to sun. The best time to water is evening so that leaves will be dry in the morning.

5. Do not place the plant in direct sunlight. 6. The ideal daytime temperature is 70-75 degrees and nighttime, about 65 degrees. 7. High humidity is preferred.

Royal Stewart, Appleblossom Named

Two New Gladioli Award Winners

The gladiolus fancier, ever on the lookout for blue ribbon winners, will do well to place his order for the first All America Gladiolus selection winners, Royal Stewart (an exciting, stunning red) and Appleblossom, a snowy white with rose pink at the edges of the petals.

These two varieties have been judged worthy of All America awards after several years testing in the 30 AAGS trial gardens.

This is the first year that gladioli have participated in All America Selections. Since such plants are patented, resulting bulbs and bulblets cannot be sold without payment of a royalty to the originators.

Royal Stewart, an organization of Ralph J. Pommert of Pacific, Wash. is an early mid-season bloomer. The lightly ruffled florets reach five inches in diameter and are of fine texture and good substance. Pommert describes the color as "a clear light red of royal richness."

* * *

Appleblossom resulted from a cross of Beauty Blush and Rose Charm by Ralph Baerman and Cal Fischer of St. Charles, Minn. Appleblossom also is an early bloomer, classed as 460 by the North American Gladiolus Show Classification.

It is of utmost delicacy of coloring, the predominating hue being snowy white with a faint touch of cream in the throat and a flush of rose pink at the edges of the petal.

These two new gladioli, first to be introduced as All America selections, bring the most popular of all bulb flowers into the All America Garden family.

Important, too, is the fact that this is the first time that meritorious gladioli are being introduced at a dollar apiece. Usually such a new gladiolus is offered at $5 to $25 per bulb or corm.

Carnival Petunia Perks Garden Up for Summer

Good news for flower lovers this spring is arrival of the Carnival Petunia, a gorgeous new large-flowered strain with blooms up to three and a half inches across with plenty of them on every plant.

Most of the blooms are ruffled or fringed, too.

In dozens of shades, Carnival is best used in beds and borders. The seeds are so tiny that it is advisable to plant them in shallow boxes or pans which may be kept indoors until the weather is warm.

Mandeville and King Co. has made the Carnival available at local stores.

Virus Free Plants

Limited quantities of virus-free plants of Robinson, Catskill and Marshall strawberries will be available for Michigan nurseries in 1957.

Less Land Requires Smaller Shade Trees

The home owner should plant small trees if he has a small property, advises the National Arborist Association. Trees can be grown that will not be too large at maturity and still afford all the shade, comfort and ornamentation the family may want. In the case of coniferous evergreen trees, these can be kept in bounds by correct pruning.

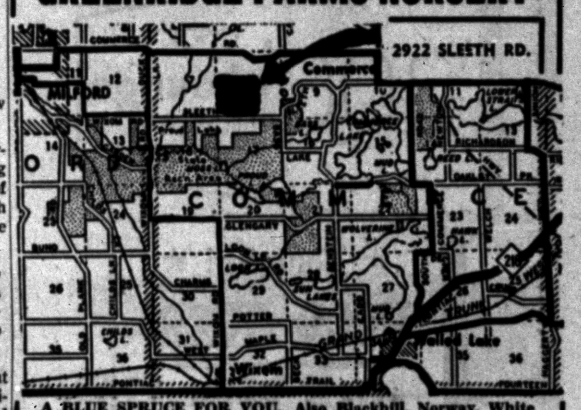

Deciduous ornamental trees that do not grow too large for the small property include some of the maples, such as Acer campestre and Acer ginnala; the hornbeams, Carpinus Japonica and Carpinus Carolinia; the redbuds; dogwoods, and some of the hawthorns, magnolias, hollies, flowering crabapples, flowering plums and viburnums.

The small trees have just about as wide a range of foliage and flower as the larger specimens, many of them being strikingly beautiful.

For edible fruits, dwarf fruit trees will serve the purpose. Their fruits are just as delicious as those of the standard-sized trees, while they are more in keeping with the small property, such as the 50 by 150 foot lot.

Wayne Seeking Road Plan OK

Approval for Four New Detroit Expressways Is Pursued by County

DETROIT (INS)—Wayne County officials asked the State Highway Department to approve plans to build four Detroit expressways in the next five years.

The cost of the roadways would be approximately $262 million.

Highway authorities admitted the construction would only "meet part of the city's need, but it would be physically impossible to do more in five years."

Work on the expressways would depend on how quickly Congress enacts on highway legislation.

The new plans, unapproved as yet, call for:

1—A nine-mile for-Vernor expressway running from the west city limits to Gratiot.

2—A fuor-mile route parelleling Hastings.

3—An eight-mile Southfield expressway from Ford Road to W. Eight Mile road.

4 — A nine-mile super-highway along Grand River from Southfield to downtown.

In addition the plans call for improvement of James Couzens highway from Wyoming to city limits.

Como to Answer Plea of Teen's Billboard Ad

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Perry Como says he will give a "hearing" to a teen-age song writer who rented a 20-by-60-foot billboard near Times Square asking Como to plug his tunes.

The composer is Irwin Luck, 18, a sophomore at the University of Miami. The youth rented the billboard space, at 8th Ave. and 42nd St., at the cost of $850 a month. Luck said he saved the money from spare-time and summer work for his father, a Miami real estate man.

Como, told about the billboard plea, said:

"If his songs are any good, of course he will be given every consideration."

Hollywood Headlines:

Chat at Preview Results in New Contract for Lana

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—If Lana Turner had not gone to a sneak preview of "Away All Boats" with Lex Barker and her agent, Paul Kohner, she might never have signed a two-picture contract with Ed Muhl of Universal-International.

They met in the theater lobby after the picture, and the offer was made to Lana then and there. This is the first outside deal she has made since she and MGM signed a non-exclusive deal.

The star pupil of Eva Marie Saint's husband Jeffrey Hayden, MGM director, is—Eva Marie. Apparently, she isn't afraid to admit she might learn something from her husband, because she is attending a weekly drama class that Jeff is conducting at the Coronet Theater.

All this training will come in handy because when Eva Marie finishes "Raintree County" she will star in "The Vintage," with Jeff as director and Edwin Knopf as producer.

The "Raintree" schedule is a long one, but MGM has every intention of taking advantage of the multiple deal they signed with the attractive Academy Award winner.

CHANGE OF HEART

For a couple of years Dick Widmark has been fighting to get his freedom from 20th because of all the nasty characters the studio cast him in. But Dick's had somewhat a change of heart since he's organized his own Heath Productions.

He's just bought Cosmopolitan's April suspense novel "The Blind Window" by William McGivern and will produce and star in the thriller to be made in New York for United Artists. In this he plays a kidnaper.

He's also bought the forthcoming Dodd-Mead novel, "The Seven File" in which he'll star when he finishes "The Last Wagon," which is being made at 20th.

In the same category of youthful terrifying delinquency as "Blackboard Jungle" is "Crime in the Streets," a picture with the same horrifying background. Yet so strong is the idea that Vincent Fennelly, the producer, is retained by Allied Artists to produce a second story on capital punishment.

Fennelly's second picture will be an indictment against death for a criminal. He has already put young John Cassavetes, who gives a fine account of himself in "Crime in the Streets," into a top role.

He's also trying to get Sal Mineo who is starkly real in the same picture. Sal, however, has moved to the big league and will be difficult to borrow.

GETTING CHECKUP

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Tom May, one of the nicest guys in town, is in Cedars for a checkup.

Saturday, Sen. John Kennedy, the youthful lawmaker from Massachusetts, will meet with friends in the garden of the Leo Spitz home to discuss his book.

The coming marriage of Alfred Daff, executive vice president of Universal-International, to Annalisa Soderblom removes one more eligible bachelor from the scene.

Barbara Ruick, in New York for rehearsals of "Kiss Me, Kate," which opens May 5, flies back April 29 to get her divorce from Robert Horton.

Jeff Hunter is escorting model Dusty Bartlett to the premiere of "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit," and his ex, Barbara Rush, accepted Frank McCarthy's invitation to be her escort.

But Producer Thinks They're Dandy

Movies With Grim Realism Shock Mother

NEW YORK (INS)—Movies are becoming more powerful every day, especially when they deal with alcoholism, drug addiction, off-scene seduction and just plain ordinary psychotic people like you and me. The producers call this type of movie matter "adult entertainment," and the marquees call it "grim reality."

Mother calls it "shocking."

* * *

I have tried to point out to Mother that one has to adapt his mind to the broader screen, but she can't see it.

"I don't see why Hollywood has to make a beast out of a nice boy like Frank Sinatra," she says flatly. "Don't they realize there are some of us people who are fairly normal and would like to see nice normal people on the screen?"

A producer-director named George Seaton answered the question today.

* * *

Nice, normal people are exactly the people that Hollywood is depicting today in its so called "adult entertainment" pictures, he said. "Only we are probing deeply into their souls, and revealing their tensions. This is what makes thoughtful entertainment."

ENTER NEW ERA

Seaton, who directed "The Country Girl," a movie that left Mother particularly chilled, added that the movie fans of the country have headed into an entirely new era of appreciation.

"People are more interested today in why people do things, not what they do. They want to know why a cowhand wants to get the cattle to the Rio Grande before sunset—not just what's going to happen en route.

"Movies are character studies these days, probings into the real and psychological problems of all types of people."

Asked if it was a fad in movie-making, the handsome Hollywoodian replied:

* * *

"Do you think psychiatry is a fad? This is no more a fad than that is."

As an example, Seaton pointed to his latest film, "The Proud and Profane," which he calls "the first war story ever filmed with no war in it."

Peoples have sen Marines landing and tanks spurting fire, he explained, "but they've never seen and closely studied the tensions in the minds of the participants. That's what we have done—isolated and laid open the tensions. There's as much action in that as in the war itself perhaps."

TORTURED SOULS

Perhaps, Seaton concedes, there is an overabundance of extraordinarily tortured souls now brooding darkly across the nation's screens; but oddly enough, almost all of them can be recognized by the average movie fan as a soul he knows personally.

* * *

Take Bing Crosby in "The Country Girl." You may not know any ex-actor, alcoholics, but the weak will and floundering purpose are as familiar as poor old weak-willed Uncle George.

"That's what makes a good picture, the audience participation. If you cannot see yourself or friends in it, you'll forget it five minutes later over a lemonade at Schrafft's. The movie that has personal identity for you is the fine movie; it goes with you, it haunts you."

That's what Mother means, I pointed out. She feels haunted all the time, and she doesn't like it.

* * *

George Seaton nodded tolerantly, and conceded that some people would rather not study and stew over life.

For them, he suggested, there are still musicals, Walt Disney masterpieces and Abbott and Costello.

Carrots Good for You? Jersey Lad Disagrees

EAST PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—Barry MacDonald, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacDonald, was munching on a carrot yesterday. He inhaled a piece.

At Barnert Hospital, Paterson, Dr. I. M. Schnee removed the piece of carrot from Barry's lung.

Barry, who is fine now, had this comment for his mother:

"I thought you said carrots were good for me."

Bonuses at $54 Million

LANSING (AP)—State bonus payments to veterans of the Korean War now total $54,531,720, the state adjutant general's office reported. There have been 191,611 claims approved, 2,060 rejected and 6,298 are still in processing. The average payment was for $277.

17 Violate Game Laws

LANSING (AP)—Only 17 persons were convicted of conservation law violations during the past week, the State Conservation Department reported. They paid a total of $156 in fines and $103 in court costs.

Ray Schindler, famed private eye, baseball and boxing buff, asks: "What's the matter with these modern ball players—no imagination? Are they all rock-heads? Can't they think fast on their feet?"

★ ★ ★ ★

Ray recalled the time John McGraw found Shanty Hogan wandering about the streets of a small town in Texas at dawn and growled for an explanation . . . "I'm on my way to early Mass," said Hogan.

★ ★ ★ ★

Schindler thinks Don Larson must have been slightly stunned when he wrapped his car around a telegraph pole in St. Pete the other sunup . . .

"Otherwise he could have come up with a passable big-league alibi. He might have joined the Audobon Society and was on his way to a bird-watching clinic. Quite possibly he had a date with a jockey to get information at an early 'work' at the race track. Or he might have flashed a tide-table and reported himself en route to catch pompano on the ebb tide.

You can always be on the way to the airport to meet your mother-in-law's plane or to the drug store for an emergency prescription for the baby's colic.

★ ★ ★ ★

Just sitting there like a zombie with no explanation at all is unforgivable.

However, I'm inclined to take the charitable view that Don's skull was addled by the unfortunate contact caused by a faulty steering apparatus while the young man was on his way to his morning devotions.

★ ★ ★ ★

Everett Clay writes from Hialeah that since that track started its improvement program in 1950 business has increased 65 per cent. This should be an optimistic yardstick to gauge expected increases in local business at the anticipated model structure due at Roosevelt Raceway next year.

★ ★ ★ ★

Bob Toski bought into a golf club at Holyoke, Mass. . . . Al Collins' new assistant at Sleepy Hollow is Gene Moran, formerly of the Cincinnati CC.

JOCKEY SAYS NEEDLES IS MOST INTELLIGENT HORSE

Jockey Dave Erb on Needles: "He's the most intelligent horse I ever rode. He does a lot of thinking."

Erb adds: "The horse is not a sulker. He just gets set on what he wants to do and he does it. I don't mean he rates himself.

★ ★ ★ ★

He kind of gradually moves. If I think it's too early, I hold him a little. If it's right, I let him go. I predict Needles will come popping down first at Louisville."

Kaline's 3-Run Blast Not Enough, Tigers Lose, 7-5

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Al Kaline, a young man upon whose shoulders has been placed a heavy burden of expectation, must have been thinking ahead a bit.

He spent most of yesterday in a hotel lobby. Chatting with other players, writers and fans and signing autographs.

Someone said something about the dimensions of the Columbus Stadium and its reputation as one of the finest parks in the Minor Leagues.

"The fences are a little like Briggs Stadium in Detroit," remarked the Detroit Tiger right fielder. He went on to say that he supposed there weren't many "cheap" homerums hit in the stadium — whose fences are a little more than 340 feet down the line and about 400 feet in dead center field.

* * *

The Major Leagues' leading hitter may not have been thinking about home runs for himself, but he mentioned that arm trouble had kept him out of all but about a half a dozen ball games this spring.

He made it clear he wanted to get in a few more swings before the American League opener next Tuesday.

He got one last night — a mighty swing that sent the ball flying into the far reaches of left field beyond the lights of Columbus Stadium. It meant three runs at the time, this bullet-like shot that flew past the little boys who wait in the grand stand seats for souvenirs.

* * *

But it probably meant a lot more to Al Kaline. He had picked on the first pitch in the 1st inning against Milwaukee southpaw Chet Nichols and lined out to center field. In the 3rd inning he took and sent it out of the park.

It was Kaline's only hit of the night in five trips, but it was exactly what the fans in Columbus came to see.

Spotty pitching and a fat-one down the middle to one of the National League's most feared hitters added up to another Tiger defeat last night.

* * *

The Milwaukee Braves won a 7-5 decision over the Tigers and the Bengals had no one to blame but themselves. Their pitchers gave up only five walks — but three of them figured in the scoring.

A single and one walk preceded Eddie Mathews' towering blast over the 395-foot mark in right center field in the 3rd inning. Another walk to rookie Wes Covington put a man in scoring position in the 2nd inning — and the man scored.

Another walk to Mathews in the 7th got Tiger hurler Duke Maas in trouble and the two runs that decided the ball game scored before Detroit got out of the inning with a double play.

Right-hander Frank Lary got by only one inning before the trouble started. In the 2nd, two singles sandwiched around a walk gave Milwaukee one run after Ray Boone's double, Bill Tuttle's single, a sacrifice and two wild pitches by Nichols had given Detroit a 2-0 lead.

Kaline's two-on home run put the Tigers in front 5-1 in the 3rd but the Braves came back with four in their half. Three runs came home on Mathews' clout and the other on a single, an infield out, an error and Del Crandall's scratch hit.

* * *

The score was deadlocked until the 7th when Johnny Logan singled, Mathews walked and both runners advanced on a passed ball. Hank Aaron walked to load them up and Bob Thompson scored a pair with a sharp single through the hole between third and short.

The Tigers had seven hits, the Braves 10. The Detroit club was traveling by train to Pittsburgh today for a pair of games Saturday and Sunday in Forbes Field against the Pirates. The Tigers return home Monday morning.

ONLY VETERAN—Coach Ed Heikkinen smilingly tells only PHS letterman, Bob Murphy, that a "good bat" can help the Chiefs this season, and Bob took the comment to heart yesterday. In the Chiefs' 2nd game, Murphy hit one of three homers Pontiac collected off Waterford hurlers, to win 9-3. Pontiac lost its opener to Cranbrook Wednesday, 9-1.

Chiefs Batter Skipper Nine for First Win

Homers Mark Splurge of Hitting as Pontiac Marks Up Victory

PHS baseball Chiefs, irked by their 9-1 licking at Cranbrook's hands in the opener first of the week, yesterday turned on the Waterford Skippers and scuttled the surburban club 9-3 on the home lot.

Yesterday's contest was marked by a real "big gun" cannonading by the host club. Included in the afternoon's hit production of nearly a dozen blows, were three hefty homers, one of which figured big in the 4th frame, to put Chiefs in front to stay. In the opener Pontiac was limited to two blows.

Skippers took the lead in the 4th, with Bryce scoring on Kruskie's single, after getting a life on a fielder's choice. Chiefs grabbed the game in their turn at bats in this frame on Bill Hayward's walk, a sacrifice by Charley Johnson, Arnold Larson's single, and Art Poe's circuit blow over the left field fence. Hayword, Johnson, Larson and Poe counted for a 4-1 edge.

Skippers got two more runs, in the 6th, with Bryce and Kind scoring on a walk, single, and error.

In the meantime, however, Coach Ed Heikkinen's club salted away the victory with three tallies in the 5th) Bud Hayward, Charley McIlrath who homered, and Bill Hayward, scoring. Two more counted in the 6th, on Bob Murphy's homer, and Bud Hayward's 2nd tally.

Suggs and Berg Rated Favorites

Louise, Patty Called Players to Beat for Zaharias Tourney

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Louise Suggs and Patty Berg were the favorites today as a field of 22 moved out in the opening round of the 54-hole $5,000 Babe Zaharias Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Suggs, leading money winner along the winter tour, and Miss Berg, who has won two tournaments, were considered the ones to beat. Betty Jameson is defending champion but hasn't won a tournament this year.

* * *

Miss Berg has stood out in the practice rounds. She had a four-under-par 69 over the 6,535-yard Beaumont Country Club course. Fay Crocker, the National Open champion; Betsy Rawls, Marlene Bauer Hagge, Joyce Ziske, Katy Cornelius, Mary Lena Faulk and Mickey Wright were other highly regarded entries.

Babe Zaharias, for whom the tournament was named and who won it's inaugural in 1953, won't be here. She is in a hospital at Galveston fighting cancer.

Yesterday Mrs. Zaharias, who spent most of her girlhood in Beaumont, was honored by having a street named for her. It was the Babe Zaharias Drive in Tyrrell Park.

White Sox to Use Platoons Against Yanks

OMAHA (AP) — Manager Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox says he is going to follow a platooning program this season to end all platooning programs in an all-out effort to beat out the New York Yankees.

"I'll never know what my lineups is going to be from one day to the next," he said.

Much of the platooning will involve Jim Rivera in the outfield and George Kell at third.

Rivera will play when the Sox face righthanded pitching and Bob Nieman will be in right field against left handers.

Way Is Cleared for Landy Visit

AAU OKs Trip and Aussie Will Run Two Races on Coast

NEW YORK (AP)—The way has been cleared for John Landy, the world's fastest miler, to run in two races on the West Coast next month.

"There never was any question of our desire to have this fine amateur athlete, this world figure appear in this country," said President Carl Hansen of the Amateur Athletic Union on his arrival here yesterday from Los Angeles to attend a weekend meeting of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

"I think we can say for sure that Landy will race here. We have ironed out the difficulty by cable."

The Australian school teacher will run a mile in the University of Southern California Relays at Los Angeles May 5 and the West Coast Relays at Fresno, Calif., May 12.

Negotiations for Landy's appearance in this country originally were carried off by private parties. The AAU said any invitations for foreign athletes to compete in the United States had to go through its organizations.

Calumet Farm Is Again High in Derby Entries

NEW YORK (AP) — The greatest Kentucky Derby combination of them all, Calumet Farm and trainer Ben Jones, will have to be reckoned with again at Churchill Downs three weeks from Saturday.

The Jones boys, Ben and his son, Jimmy, don't send a colt to Kentucky for the big one unless they believe they have a chance to grab the country's most famous racing classic.

Six Calumet colts were nominated for the 82nd Derby, but after a winter campaign in Florida, it appears that plain Ben with the big white hat will rely on Pintor Lea and Fabius for the $125,000-added glamour gallop.

Calumet Farm, now owned by Mrs. Gene Markey, has a fabulus derby record. So has Ben A. Jones, at 73 still one of the country's great horse trainers.

* * *

Calumet is batting .500 in the derby league, having started horses in 10 derbies, and winning five — more than any other owner. They were Whirlaway, 1941; Pensive, 1944; Citation, 1948; Ponder, 1949; and Hill Gail, 1952.

Jones has to win this year to protect a perfect record.

He has sent out six winners, more than any trainer.

Including the five Calumeteers, he got his first derby rose with Herbert Woolf's Lawrin in 1938.

The veteran from Parnell, Mo., hasn't let more than three derbies go by without winning since 1938. It's been three years since Jones saddled Hill Gail, his last derby starter.

Pintor Lea and Fabius haven't been grabbing the big name stakes during the winter months. But, neither did Ponder, who surprised by mowing down the 1949 derby field after an inauspicious campaign at Hialeah.

The Joneses are following the same derby route now. Pintor Lea appears to be the best prospect. This bay son of Goya II-Maud Lea finished 3rd as Needles won the Florida Derby in track record time at Gulfstream.

GUEST — One of the featured guest speakers for the annual PHS winter sports banquet, Monday, at the school cafeteria will be Wolverine cage coach, Bill Perigo (above).

Walcott Expresses Surprise at Illinois Jury Subpoena

CHICAGO (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott says that he was "real surprised" to be subpoenaed to testify before the Cook County Grand Jury Monday.

The former heavyweight boxing champion, in Chicago the past week to promote a movie, "The Harder They Fall," in which he has a small part, was served the summons yesterday in front of the Woods Theater. The movie, which has as its theme crookedness in boxing, is playing at the Woods.

* * *

"I don't understand why they would subpoena me," he said. "I'm real surprised."

The grand jury wants him to testify concerning any possible knowledge he may have of alleged corruption in Illinois boxing.

"Walcott made the inference he might have information concerning corruption in the boxing game in this county, so our office is investigating," said Frank Ferlic, assistant state's attorney.

Walcott and Illinois State Athletic Commissioner Lou Radzienda had a sharp debate on a television show Tuesday night. Walcott said he accepted the movie role of a trainer because he felt boxing should be "cleaned up."

Radzienda, president of the National Boxing Assn., rebuked him for appearing in the movie after boxing had been "good" to him.

Ferlic said the subpoena was not instigated by the state commission or Radzienda.

* * *

The commission today is to cross-examine Jack Begun, veteran Chicago fight manager, on his allegations that the recent Carmen Basilo-Johnny Saxton welterweight title fight was not "on the up and up." Begun made the charge in an amusement circular.

Chief Netters Open Season Here Today

Coach Vic Lindquist gets his first look at the Chiefs' 1956 varsity netters in competitive action today.

Pontiac's squad takes on a more-or-less unknown quantity in Flint Northern's club on the Murphy Park courts at 3:30 p. m. For this inaugural, Lindquist today named the following players:

Bill Bonner, No. 1, Ted Wiersema, No. 2, Bob Erb, No. 3, Gary Thomas, No. 4 and Gary Wylie, No. 5.

Doubles teams include Dave Scriven and Johnny Doerr, Fred Roeser and Dick Mallory.

Pontiac's squad has had few outside workouts, most of its preliminary work having been done in Eastern Junior High's gymnasium. About 20 players turned out for the drills.

Right-Hand Starters Hold Bosox Hopes

DANVILLE, Va. (AP) — The Boston Red Sox will make a determined bid for the American League pennant this year with all right-handed starters according to Manager Mike Higgins' pitching plans.

Higgins yesterday indicated his pitching rotation will follow much the same order it has in spring training — Frank Sullivan, Bob Porterfield, Tom Brewer and Willard Nixon, in that order.

No one would like to have a southpaw starter better than Higgins but veteran Mel Parnell and rookie Frank Baumann, though improving, haven't nailed down regular spots.

"Of course, we'll have to spot a pitcher here and there," Higgins added in discussing his rotation plans. "We'll run into a series where we'll rest a fellow an extra day or jump him ahead a day to get him into a game.

"Like Nixon against the Yankees. Or George Susce against Washington. But as far as rotation is concerned it's been pretty obvious."

Sulivan was the mainstay of the staff last year with an 18-13 record and has a .194 earned run average for 37 innings this spring. He'll open the season against New York at Yankee Stadium.

Porterfield—acquired in the off-season deal with Washington—has been the hardest working player of the Sox this spring to earn the No. 2 assignment. His ERA is 2.03 for 31 innings. Last year's record: 10-17.

* * *

Brewer (11-10) looked good against the Yankees and in a brilliant duel with the Philadelphia Phils' great Robin Roberts in recent days.

Nixon (12-10) will be ready to open the New York series in his role of Yankee tamer (he's beaten them eight of 11 times in two years).

"I'm pretty encouraged by Parnell's showing," Higgins says. "He'll go in there somewhere if he can keep coming along as he has been.

"Baumann still can be better. We'll have to wait and see on him."

Meet the Pro

RAY MAGUIRE, Birmingham

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Birmingham Country Club, no different than most of the other clubs, takes pride in its own pro, Ray Maguire.

* * *

August will mark Ray's 11th year at the fine 14 Mile layout, a period which has marked the club with prestige.

Maguire, who came to the area from New York at the age of two with his parents, proudly claims Michigan as his native state.

He started his caddying at Oakland Hills and in 1936 became the caddie master at Birmingham.

* * *

Like many others who received their tutoring from the "old pro" Al Watrous, Ray was back as assistant at Oakland Hills in 1938 where he stayed until August 1945.

Birmingham reclaimed its former caddie master as its pro that year and has held Maguire since.

* * *

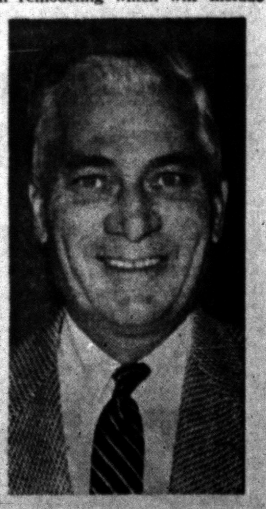

What impressed Maguire more than anything was the hard work of the membership during the National Open held at Birmingham in 1953.

* * *

"We had never run a tourney like that here before, and the membership did a great job putting it over," he said.

Ray's new assistant starting his 2nd year at Birmingham is Fred Challen, a prominent golfer from Toledo.

Presently the club is engaged in remodeling which will include a new grill, new shower rooms and air conditioning for the building.

RAY MAGUIRE

(Monday we present Elmer Preiskorn, pro at Pine Lake Country club.)

Glennon Figures Siebern Another Tommy Henrich

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Glennon, general manager of the Birmingham club of the Southern Assn. and one of the ablest of minor league executives, has a message for New York Yankee fans.

It's this: "Wait until you get a look at Norm Siebern in action. He'll remind you of an old Yankee favorite—Tommy (Old Reliable) Henrich."

Glennon should know what he's talking about. He had Siebern for a full year. That was in 1953, before he took a two-year leave of absence from baseball to fulfill a commitment with the U.S. Army.

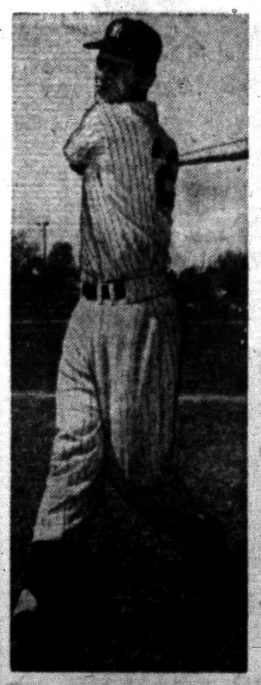

Unfortunately, Yankee fans will have to wait a while before they can judge for themselves. The 22-year-old Siebern, whose spectacular spring training hitting established him as an almost certain sure-shot to open the season in left field, is still sidelined by a knee injury caused when he crashed into a fence in St. Petersburg, Fla.

* * *

Glennon's discourse on his boy took place only a few days before the unfortunate accident.

"Siebern batted only .281 for Birmingham in 1953 but he walloped 21 home runs and drove in 89 runs.

"I'd rate Siebern another Henrich," Glennon said. "He's just the type for Yankee Stadium, too. He'll put plenty of balls into those nearby right field seats. He's got everything including disposition and character.

HIGH PRAISES—Norm Siebern, rookie outfielder of the New York Yankees, is being compared to an old Yankee favorite Tommy Henrich. The lean lefthander is expected to see regular duty in the outfield. He has been hitting over .300 in the Grapefruit Circuit.

Only unbeaten man on Dartmouth's freshmen squash team in 1956 was Dick Hoehn. His father is Edward G. Hoehn, varsity and freshmen coach.

MSU Holds Third Place in NCAA Boxing Meet

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Idaho State perched right where it figured to today in the team standings of the team standings of the 19th annual NCAA boxing championships — on top.

The University of Wisconsin, rated a good chance of regaining the college ring crown it last held in 1954, was running a close second as the semifinal round got underway.

The Bengals from Pocatello, Idaho won six of their eight bouts for 6 points. The Badgers copped four of five to wind up 2 points back after the first day of boxing yesterday.

Michigan State, the defending champion, held third place with 3 points.

* * *

Idaho State and Wisconsin topped the 20 team field with eight entries each—a distinct advantage since the more fighters that climb into the ring the better the chance for points. Byes are not advantageous since they don't count in the standings. The Bengals drew only one of 15 quarter-final byes yesterday. The Badgers had two.

* * *

Actually the last bout of the evening, which went to plucky Ron Rall of Idaho State, may become the biggest of the tournament pointwise. Rall—one of two boxers who had to fight twice because of the topheavy 147-pound class—picked up his second point by stopping Virginia's Bill Young in 1:25 of the third. Earlier the 22-year-old sophomore took a split decision from Hawaii's Henry Sur.

Five years ago Wisconsin finished 1 point back of Michigan State because the Spartans fought and won an extra bout.

The meet's only defending champions—165-pound Max Foshall of San Jose (Calif.) State and 119-pound Bobby McCullom of Idaho State—were eliminated on points by Michigan State fighters.

The Spartans' George Sissini, who never stops throwing leather, edged Voshall on a split decision. Choken (Mike) Maekawa polished off McCullom.

David Abeyta of Idaho State, the tourney's winningest fighter—ran his string of victories to 12 with a split decision over MSU's Harvard Lancour at 125 pounds.

* * *

Orville Pitts, a 22-year-old Negro freshman with the poise of a veteran, gave Wisconsin its fourth point at the expense of Malcom Buhler of Louisiana State in a bloody, 178 - pound brawl that tickled the crowd of 8,712 at the University of Wisconsin field house. During the regular season LSU forfeited one bout to Pitts at a time when pro-segregation forces tried without success to revoke a football contract with Wisconsin.

Key bouts today pit 165-pound Roger Rouse of Idaho State who has won 11 fights in a row against Wisconsin's Ev Chambers, who lost to Voshall in the NCAA finals last year, and heavyweights Hal Espy of the Bengals against Truman Sturdevant of the Badgers who fought a draw during the regular season.

GRAPEFRUIT League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It looks like Hank Sauer, who at 37 is a misfit in the St. Louis Cardinals' accent on youth, may fill the bill for Manager Fred Hutchinson just by doin' what comes naturally — hammering home runs and looking with indifference on opposing southpaws.

"We've got the speed to steal, take the extra base and hit-and-run," Hutch has observed this spring, "but let's not kid ourselves. We need a guy who can hit the long ball."

General Manager Frank Lane got the idea and in exchange for utility man Pete Whisenant and a few bills corralled Sauer from the Chicago Cubs with the comment Hank not only presented a long-ball threat, but as a right-handed swinger might counterpunch some of the southpaw pitchers who have given the Cards, heavy with left-handed hitters, so much trouble.

* * *

Hank took the hint.

In the past two days, he's teammed with Stan (The Man) Musial for back-to back home runs — each time off southpaws. Wednesday they mobbed the Chicago White Sox' Jack Harshman to overcome a 3-0 deficit. Yesterday they made up a 2-0 handicap on consecutive pitches by Billy Pierce and the Cards went on to score three in the 10th to nail the Sox 5-2.

* * *

It was a day for home runs. The New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians each collected four home runs while winning their games by 8-7 scores. Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard, Bill Skowron and Hank Bauer homered for the Yanks to beat Cincinnati. Bauer's poke, off Bill Kennedy, broke a 7-all tie in the eighth after Mickey McDermott and Jim Konstanty had blown a 6-0 Yank lead. Wally Post smacked a three-run homer off McDermott, pitching for the first time since struck by food poisoning last Friday.

* * *

Rookie Rocky Colavito smacked two of the Tribe's homers, but the Indians didn't snare the New York Giants until the 11th when Jim Constable forced Colavito home by walking Chico Carrasquel. Vic Carrasquel. Vic Wertz and Bobby Avila got the other homers as Cleveland ended the series with an 11-8 edge over the Giants.

Gene Freese also walloped a pair of homers, with his second giving Pittsburgh a 2-1 decision over Kansas City in the 10th. The Pirates won the series 11-5. Art Swanson and Elroy Face held the A's hitless over the last five frames.

* * *

Boston drew six walks and runs from Curt Simmons, who was clipped for a two-run single by Ted Williams, as the Red Sox beat Philadelphia 6-4. The Phils had homers from rookie Bob Bowman, who hit a pinch, two-run job, and Roy Smalley.

The only game without a home run saw rookie Cino Cimoli bat in five runs with a triple, double and single as Brooklyn defeated Baltimore 7-2. Charley Templeton and Ken Lehman, rookie lefthanders, set down the Orioles on three singles and a harmless triple by Fred Marsh.

Huntington Holds Edge in YMCA Meet

OMAHA (AP) — The National YMCA swimming meet swung into full scale competition today with Huntington, Ind., off to a good start toward team honors.

Only one event—the 1,500-meter swim—was on the card last night and in that Huntington took first, third and fourth. George Holtrey was the winner in 20:12.4, followed closely by George Thornton of Dayton, Ohio.

Defending champion Dayton, Huntington and Torrington, Conn., are the team favorites. The meet ends Saturday night.

Snead 5-Under at Greensboro

'Slammin' Sam Leads With 66 in 1st Round

Frank Stranahan Close Behind With 67 in $12,500 Tourney

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Sam Snead, a slick speech maker as well as a smoothie on the golf course, pointed out in a country club talk on the eve of the Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament that it is also known as the "Snead Open."

* * *

He followed with a practical demonstration by shooting a five-under-par 66 to take the first round lead yesterday in the $12,500 tournament.

The White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro, 44 next month, put together a pair of 33s to lead Frank Stranahan of Toledo by one shot and take a big step toward a sixth Greensboro victory. Sam won the 1938 inaugural here and last spring won it for the fifth time.

The California pros, Jimmy Clark of Los Angeles and Bill Casper Jr., of Chula Vista were in third place at 68. They were the only ones in the field of 126 under70 on the par 71 Starmount Forest Country Club.

Four others had 70, among them a 21-year-old amateur, Wayne Jackson of Warwick, Va., who gained his ticket with an eagle on the last hole. Doug Ford, PGA champion from Mahopac, N. Y., John Serafin of Fox Hills, Pa., and Al Besselink of Grossinger, N. Y., rounded out the group.

Host pro Charlie Farlow and Mike Homa of Rye, N. Y., a one time pro basketball player, came in with par 71.

Stranahan had birdied four of the last five holes to take a lead which stood up almost five hours before Snead came barreling in. Sam birdied three of the last five holes.

Casper, a rising member of the pro game's younger set, made it in 35-33.

Record Receipts for State Tournament

LANSING (AP) — Despite bad weather, including a blizzard on the night of the semi-finals, attendance and gate receipts hit a new high this year at the state high school basketball tournament.

The State High School Athletic Assocation reported today that the 1956 total tourney attendance was 433,514—this 5,628 more than last year.

Gross receipts for the tourney totalled $288,888, up $2,549 over the previous year.

Attendance at the District Tournaments was 236,873, an increase of 10,013 over 1955; at the regionals, 136,133, up 4,479, and at the finals, 60,508, down 8,864.

* * *

The blizzard the afternoon and night of the semi-final games were blamed for cutting into attendance during the last round of play.

* * *

Competing schools received $63,687 of the gage, up $17,608 from the previous year; entertaining schools received $68,328, down $1,190 from a year ago; officials received $34,568, up $5,953 from 1955; and the State Association retained $104,352, down $20,098.

Competing schools received more this year because of a jump from $1 to $1.50 for mileage and more generous meal and per game allowances, Charles Forsythe, State High School Athletic Director said.

* * *

This cut into the share alloted the State Association and slightly into the share for entertaining schools.

Fees paid officials jumped nearly $6,000, Forsythe said, because of the new policy of allowing officials to work only one game a night. This resulted in the addition of about 100 more officials.

Last year, the state association voted $53,000 back for distribution to entertaining and competing schools from its share. The additional money for schools is expected to be around $25,000 this year, Forsythe said.

* * *

Other expenses listed included $13,406 for trophies, medals, administration and miscellaneous expenses, $2,254 for basketballs, and $1,742 for liability insurance.

Only One Lineup Change as Texas Circuit Opens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Texas League opens the season Friday night with its first change in membership in 16 campaigns.

* * *

Austin's Senators, back in the Class AA circuit after an absence of more than four decades, will meet San Antonio at Austin in one of the openers.

* * *

Other games have Dallas at Fort Worth, Oklahoma City at Tulsa and Houston at Shreveport.

Beaumont, replaced by Austin, will be out of the league after 40 years of competing, its last few seasons being marked by badly declining attendance. Beaumont has dropped to the Class B Big State League.

Crowds totaling 26,000 are expected for the first round of openers. Saturday night the clubs change stands for the second round. Opening attendance last year totaled 39,891 for both rounds.

Fort Worth expects to take the lead in the race for the opening day attendance trophy. The Cats anticipate a crowd of 8,000. Austin looks for 7,000, Tulsa 6,000 and Shreveport 5,000.

* * *

As the clubs go to the post, Houston appears to be the general favorite with Fort Worth next and Dallas and Tulsa the other two first-division choices.

Rocky Ducks Query on His Retirement

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Rocky Maricano won't have anything to say about his rumored retirement "for 30 days."

"I can't say until I talk with Al and that's the truth," the champ told reporters on his arrival here last night from a South American trip. He referred to a meeting with Al Weill, his manager, in New York later this month.

Dollar Bet Brings $40 If Detroit Wins Flag

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Think the Detroit Tigers will win the American League pennant?

In case you do and in case you are right, a dollar will now get you $40 in September.

Such were the odds posted yesterday in this legal gambling resort city.

The New York Yankees of the American and Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League were made even money favorites to win the pennants.

Milwaukee is only 2½ to 1 in the Natinal League. Next come the New York Giants at 10-1 and the St. Louis Cardinals at 20-1.

Cleveland is tabbed second in the American League at 2-1. Next comes Boston, 6-1; Chicago, 9-1; the Tigers, 40-1; Kansas City, 80-1; Baltimore, 100-1, and Washington 100-1.

Baltimore Buys Vancouver Star

Richards Hopes Young Tito Francona Will Fill Slugger's Job

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles bought Tito Francona from Vancouver today and hoped he'd be the slugger they have lacked since joining the American League in 1954.

* * *

The 22-year-old Francona has had only two seasons of minor league baseball, but in Oriole spring exhibition games so far is hitting .333 and leads the team with 8 homers and 25 runs batted in.

* * *

He came out of military service late last season and was sent by Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles to play during the winter in Colombia, South America. He belted 17 home runs in 60 games.

Francona played first base in his two minor league seasons, but Richards is making an outfielder out of him. Francona, a native of New Brighton, Pa., played 80 games at York, Pa., in 1953 and in 1954 he was at Aberdeen, S.D., where he hit .325.

U.S. Hopes to Keep Wightman Trophy

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States will seek to retain its monopoly of the Wightman Cup this year with Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif. as playing captain.

Since the tennis trophy was put into competition in 1923, England has won only four times and hasn't been able to break the U.S. hold since 1930.

* * *

Miss Brough, former national champion and four times winner of the Wimbledon singles crown, is unbeaten in eight Wightman Cup Matches. Her teammates will be Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of New York and Beverly Baker Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif.

Miss Fry will be making her fifth Wightman Cup appearance and the other two their second.

Senators Try Rookie

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators will send Bob Wiesler to the mound in tonight's game against the New York Giants.

Wiesler, acquired from the New York Yankees in one of the winter trades, has shown flashes of promise during the spring exhibition season.

Johnny Klippstein of the Cincinnati Redlegs beat Brooklyn four times in five decisions in 1955.

Providence Loses First-Line Center

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Providence Reds will be without the services of Paul Larivee, their first-line center, tonight as they seek to wind up the Calder Cup final playoff series.

Larivee suffered a broken bone in his left hand after scoring a goal in the Reds' 4-2 victory over the Cleveland Barons here Wednesday night. He said he didn't know just how he was injured.

Providence won the first three games in the four-best-of-7-game finals and could take the Cup by winning tonight.

Cleveland has won the Cup seven times in 20 years — more than any other club. Providence is seeking its fourth title.

Doby Insists He's All Set to Play Ball

CHICAGO (AP) — Larry Doby insists he is ready to play for the Chicago White Sox but the team physician wants him to skip the weekend city series with the Cubs.

Doby, hard-hitting outfielder obtained from Cleveland, is being treated for a hand infection.

* * *

"It's an acute infection, but not deep," said Dr. John Claridge.

Doby said he got the rash while serving in the South Pacific during the war and that it recurs periodically.

Big Baseball Program for Boys' Club

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Special Writer

With its biggest baseball program outlined for the summer, Pontiac Boys' Club is already under way, and expects to have some 400 boys, playing on 20 teams in action within the next month.

More than 170 turned out for the opening workout this week, at Eastern Junior High field, where all games for the active boys' organization will be played.

The field will be divided into two leagues, one for boys 12 and under and the other for those 13 and over. There will also be four varsity clubs, three of which take part in the Pontiac City Midget, Class E and F circuits. The other will represent the Boys' Club in the county American Legion league action.

"This program," said executive director Bill Coulacos today, "is the biggest baseball program ever undertaken by the club."

Physical director Michael L. Fiorillo will handle the two leagues as well as coach the City League Midget entry. Coulacos is in charge of the Class F and E teams, plus the American Legion entry.

Play in the Boys' Club circuits will get under way the latter part of May, with all games taking place in the evenings and on Saturdays.

Coulacos also announced that the Pontiac Federal Savings will sponsor the club's Midget league and provide caps and jerseys, plus all necessary equipment.

Coulacos explained that the club's baseball program has been designed to provide not only opportunity to play ball, but to permit the boys to receive coaching throughout the entire summer season.

Boys' Club won the city Midget, Class E and Class F titles in 1955 and will seek to repeat this year.

Cranbrook Downed, 5-4

Cranbrook took a 4-0 lead in the first inning against Ferndale yesterday but then lost sight of home plate to drop its first game of the regular season 5-4.

The Cranes got their four tallies in the opening frame on three errors and a single by George Gary.

Cranbrook held a 4-1 lead until the 6th inning when Jim Samac of Ferndale tripled with the bases loaded to knot the score at 4-4.

Samac then scored on an infield error for what proved to be the winning run.

Ferndale collected 10 hits and Cranbrook gathered six base knocks, including two singles by Gary.

Babe Zaharias Reported Only 'Pretty Well'

GALVESTON, Tex. (INS)—Babe Zaharias, who returned to a Galveston hospital three weeks ago for further cancer treatment, was reported today as doing "Pretty well."

John Sealy hospital authorities said the famed woman athlete's pains had subsided and that she was taking daily automobile rides with her husband, George Zaharias, a former wrestler.

Clarkston 9 Trims Fenton Club, 11-7

Clarkston's baseball team unleashed a 14-hit attack, including a grand-slam home run, to trounce Fenton, 11-7, in the season opener Thursday at Fenton.

Holding a 5-2 lead entering the 7th inning, the Wolves sewed up the decision with a 6-run outburst. Don Alexander, a substitute outfielder, spearheaded the rally with a bases-full homer. Clyde Kizer, Gary Nelson and Bob Furman each made two hits for the winners.

Sophomore Dave Gaddis pitched the 1st six innings for Clarkston and allowed only two hits while striking out 11. Chuck Passage hurled the final inning.

Boxer Virgil Akins says the only time he was knocked unconscious was when he was kicked in the head by a horse.

DOBY'S INFECTED HAND — Dr. Eugene P. Liberthal, dermatologist, examines the right hand of Chicago White Sox outfielder Larry Doby at Mercy Hospital. Doby is afflicted with a chronic skin infection which affects the palm of his hand between the index and middle fingers. Doby said he contracted the irritation in the South Pacific during World War II but frequent attacks have not been serious.

'Hurricane' Sure of Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, whose free-swinging style has exhausted many a domestic fighter, expressed little interest today ever wearing down England's Johnny Williams in their 10-round heavyweight scrap tonight.

* * *

"I think maybe I'll hit him down," Jackson said with a grin. "Maybe pretty early."

Jackson is a heavy favorite to whip Williams, 29-year-old former British Empire heavyweight champ, in their radio-television bout (NBC, 10 P.M. EST) at Uline Arena.

* * *

Odds reported in New York were as high as 4-1 in favor of the 24-year-old Hurricane from Long Island. In Washington where Williams trained the talk is more like 2-1.

At any rate, it will be a major surprise if the curly-haired Briton can undermine Jackson's current position as second-ranked contender to Rocky Marciano's title. The records credit Williams with 57 victories and four draws in 69 fights. His last effort was a draw —which he protests—with light heavyweight Willie Woepner of Germany.

* * *

Williams' manager, veteran Ted Broadribb, says the 196-pound livestock farmer from Rugby has a style calculated to please American fans.

He walks in and hits, Broadribb says.

All of which pleases Jackson, who has knocked out 12 of his 26 victims in 31 contests. He said he prefers opponents wo apply pressure.

Jackson, weighing about 194, will give away a few pounds to Williams, but at 6 feet 2½ will have a couple of inches' advantage in height and reach.

Duck Station May Be Sold

Property Buyer Wants to Purchase 200 Acres at Pointe Mouille

MILFORD (INS) — The State Conservation Commission last night was asked to give up a stopping-off place for flights of ducks for conversion into a $100 million port development.

Robert C. Belgau, self-styled free lance property buyer, appeared at the commission's meeting at Haven Hill, near Milford, to ask an option on 200 acres in the Pointe Mouille State game area.

Belgau mentioned a price of $1,000 an acre for the land on the north side of the Huron River, which he said would be widened 200 feet for ocean-going vessels as part of his proposed "Port Detroit" development downriver.

The development would handle international ship traffic coming to Detroit on the St. Lawrence Seaway, now under construction.

Belgau expects the Federal Government to spend $50 million to widen and deepen the Huron River.

Hunters and Commissioners agreed that such a development would eventually destroy the Pte. Mouille area as a duck hunting spot. The area contains 2,500 acres, purchased by the Commission 11 years ago for $190,000.

Fishing Good This Weekend

LANSING (AP) — Smelt, sucker and perch fishing should be good this weekend, the state conservation department reported today.

Smelt were running good in Cold Creek, near Buelah, and were being taken by commercial fishermen at North Port Bay.

Runs continued light at Alpena and Grass Creek, Antrim County, and in streams along Saginaw Bay. Sporadic heavy runs were reported at Whitney Drain.

Suckers were running good in Rifle River, Arenac County, and in all streams and ditches along Saginaw Bay Runs were starting in inland waters.

Perch fishing was good off piers at Ludington.

Walleye fishing was fair to good in the Muskegon River below Newaygo. Fishing pressure was very heavy on the Muskegon River.

Greco Dropped Until Cleared of Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Welterweight boxer Ray Greco of Denver today was canceled out of the main event at the Hollywood Legion Stadium Saturday night until he is cleared of robbery charges.

The 23-year-old fighter was released yesterday on $2,500 bond pending arraignment April 26 on charges that he robbed a service station operator, Fred S. Long, three times.

GMC Practices Called

Manager Paul Parks announces three practice sessions this weekend for the GMC Class A baseball team. The 1st session will be held today at 5 p. m. at the GMC athletic field. Trotters Win Again

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Basketball's trick shot artists, the Harlem Globetrotters, whipped the College All-Stars again last night, 72-57, before a crowd of 5,021 at Shrine Auditorium. It was the ninth win for the Globetrotters in 13 games in their current series.

Prep Activity Starts Perking

Maples Meet Waterford Nine; St. Fred Golfers Open Season

Birmingham High School opens its 1956 baseball season today at Waterford as prep spring sports activity begins to pick up around the Oakland County area.

Coach Lou Parry, with a flock of rookies on hand, will take advantage of the non-league scrap against the Skippers to determine a starting lineup for the Eastern Michigan League campaign which gets under way April 24 at Mt. Clemens.

Larry Hower, an understudy to Dick Sheldon last season, will handle today's pitching chores. Other starters will be veteran Bill Deer at 2nd base and catcher Ron Cornila, a sophomore. Outfielders Jim Traa, Bill Appel and Bob Bell and 1st baseman Bob Isbell are also likely starters.

Waterford dropped a 9-3 decision to Pontiac yesterday in its season opener. Game time today is 4 p.m.

Orchard Lake St. Mary's track team meets Oak Park today in a dual meet at Orchard Lake. Father John Gabalski's Eaglets opened their schedule Wednesday in impressive fashion with a 72-37 victory over Brighton.

St. Frederick's golf team inaugurates spring athletic activity at the southside school with a match against Clarkston at the Pontiac Municipal Golf Course.

The Rams revived golf a year ago after a 13-year absence and Dick Doyon and Ed Kast are back in the fold. Dick Kast, Tom Davey and Paul Grosse will complete today's squad.

* * *

Other area activity today finds Southfield opening its track season at Hazel Park and West Bloomfield, Milford and Howell engaging in a triangular track meet at Howell in an 8 p.m. affair.

Game Animals Need to Get 'Fair Shake'

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

ONTARIO—Can a heavily-populated area continue to provide a reasonable harvest of big-game game animals year after year in the face of a growing population and ever-increasing hunting pressure?

An Ontario wildlife biologist is hopeful that it can—but warns of trouble ahead unless sportsmen and conservationists alike give the animals a fair shake.

"Only increasing understanding of the fundamental factors affecting wildlife and wise restraint in interfering with nature will assure tha recreational enjoyment of wildlife will be freely available to all our people in the future," says Dr. D. D. Fowle, a research biologist with the Lands and Forests Department of Ontario.

Last year more than 100,000 gunners roamed the Province's fields and forests in search of deer and another 8,000 went after moose. About 11,000 of these came from outside Ontario, mostly from the United States.

* * *

Dr. Fowle is happy about the progress made to date but concedes that "when it comes to understanding the factors affecting big game and big game hunting, we have a long way to go."

Big game management, he seasons and bag limits and enforcing laws.

It extends to such matters as food supply with the seasonal and geographic variations that affect it, nutrition and its influence on disease, and hunting conditions themselves—whether snow conditions govern the size of the kill and whether the greatest hunting success always coincides with the greatest game population.

"It will probably be a long time before we know the answers to these questions, and it is certain that we will never know them if we do not have the assistance of the outfitters, guides, sportsmen and others concerned with big game."

As for a capsule definition of wildlife management, Dr. Fowle sums it up as "the purposeful control of populations to produce the best sustained annual crop. Our aim, insofar as big game is concerned, is to maintain the crop within the limits of the habitat that supports it."

Flint Squad Fourth in ABC

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Stroh's Beer of Flint, Mich., won fourth place in yesterday's bowling at the 53rd annual American Bowling Congress Tournament.

* * *

The Flint team, not to be confused with Stroh's Beer of Detroit, which is holding down third place, tallied 2,957 on games of 1,021, 919 and 1,017.

* * *

Leading Falstaff Beer of Chicago is in first place, 135 pins ahead.

James Webb of Houston, Tex., was top singles man with 625, but trailed first-place Eli Panttila of DeKalb, Ill., who has 722.

In the doubles, Louis Cioffi and Adolph Carlson of Chicago headed the day's scorers with 1,234 points. The division is led by Bill Lillard and Stan Gifford of Chicago with 1,331.

The ABC directors unanimously awarded the 1958 tournament to Syracuse.

The 1957 was awarded to Ft. Worth, Tex., last year.

"THE NORTHWEST REALTOR"

Israel Sees Egypt's Nasser as Spark to Set Off Middle East Powderkeg

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (INS)—Throughout the Arab world leaders loudly vow that Israel will be destroyed.

But Israelis feel today that the only Arab leader whose words and actions really count is Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt.

Israeli eyes turn toward the dictator-premier in Cairo for the answer to whether there will be peace or a new war.

LOOK FOR RESPITE

Israel has been hoping desperately for two things from United Nations peace efforts—(1) a reply from Nasser to Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's December offer of a foolproof cease-fire and (2) an obligation upon Egypt to stop hostile acts which the Israelis say led to big actions by the Israeli Army.

* * *

The Arab nations, rent by their own tensions and rivalries, and plagued with poverty and disease, have neither the means nor the will to act without Egypt.

THAT GAZA STRIP

Except for sporadic outbursts on the Syrian border, tension has centered along the Gaza Strip frontier in constant activity by Egyptian, Fedayeen, or commando forces.

"If the attacks continue there is danger war will break out one day," a government spokesman said. "If Nasser continues in his present path we must act in self defense; otherwise he will terrorize our countryside. We will not abandon our people to murder and terror."

* * *

The commando attacks first came from Jordan, but have been stopped there since early 1954 when the Arab Legion apparently found it could not adequately man the whole 360-mile border. The attacks then began coming from the Egyptians.

DAILY ATTACKS

Daily attacks, killing one or two or more people, seldom get much attention in the world press at a time when the world is preoccupied with such things as Korea and Indochina. But when the killings began to accumulate, the Israelis struck back in force and only this, the spokesman complained, made headlines and brought condemnations.

* * *

These commando raids caused the latest Israeli shelling in the Gaza Strip, brought more Fedayen raids and caused rising tension.

The attacks culminated in February 1955 in the big Gaza Strip attack by the Israelis which so shook the Arab world, followed by others last year and last week's shelling. By now the attacks and reprisals are picking up dangerous momentum.

NASSER HAS JETS

It has been advertised he has 200 Soviet MIG jet fighters, 40 Ilyushin bombers, tanks and even submarines from the Communists. Arabs are beginning to want to know why he doesn't use them to exterminate Israel. But Nasser is not ready to risk war and his answer to the latest Israeli reprisal was more Fedayeen infiltration attacks.

* * *

Israel is willing not only to agree to an ironclad cease-fire, say officials here, but supports the United Nations truce chief, Gen. E.L.M. Burns of Canada, in his proposal for a continuous physical barrier — a mined path between barbed wire — along the border. Nasser objects to this.

WOULD WITHDRAW

Nasser is offering to withdraw his troops from the frontier if the Israelis will do the same, but Israelis contend this would only make it easier for the Fedayeen to do their jobs.

Arabs consider the creation of Israel in their midst an imperialist act and brush aside Israeli claims to connection with this land for 40 centuries. Hatred also feeds on Arab fear of Israel's more dynamic and able European settlers, with their economic know how. Israelis say their economy in peace could be a true boon to the Arabs.

Even Nasser might not be strong enough to say he'd like to live in peace with Israel and get on with building the Egypt he wants through his ambitious economic program. His own radio has sown violent propaganda throughout the entire Arab world, from Morocco to Iraq, which would militate against Egypt getting off the limb.

If a climate could be created for getting together at a table it is possible, even likely, that Israel and the Arabs could reach some formula at least to keep from destroying one another.

But in the present climate, the outlook continues dismal and the Western world, eyeing the all-important Mid-East oil, keeps its fingers crossed.

Dislike Monacan Plans

LONDON (INS)—Several London papers are criticizing bitterly the Monacan government's arrangements for press coverage of the Rainier-Grace Kelly wedding festivities. The Daily Herald said there have been so many mishaps, denials and counter-denials that the wedding should be called a "marriange of inconvenience."

Grace's Films Banned

MONTE CARLO (INS) — Henri Astric, Monaco entertainment director, says that henceforth Monegasque movie fans of Grace Kelly will have to go across the border to France if they want to see a Kelly film. Since Grace is to be Monaco's princess, Astric said, exhibiting her films in Monaco would be in bad taste.

His Task—America's Destiny

Meet Missile Czar Eger Murphee

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—New missiles Czar Eger V. Murphree disclosed today that he has ordered top priority for the awesome intercontinental ballistic missile and will strive to close the gap—if any — with Russia on the 1500-mile range missile race.

* * *

The mild-mannered boss of this crucial research program, after only five days in office, told this correspondent in an exclusive interview:

"If the Soviets are ahead of is in any phase of the missiles race, the gap will have to be closed. It will be my goal to accelerate our own program, assure proper coordination between the three armed services, and waste as little money as possible while achieving our objectives. But it won't be cheap."

The new missiles czar disagrees vehemently with "the public impression that our missiles operation has been poorly organized."

SERVES WITHOUT PAY

Serving without pay on one-year leave from the presidency of Esso Research and Engineering Co., Murphree said the U. S. is preparing its defenses for both all-out war, and the smaller nibbling operations so dear to the heart of international Communism.

Asked which type of possible warfare is receiving priority, he replied thoughtfully: "The intercontinental missile has the top priority. You don't use that in localized conflicts."

COMPETITION IS GOOD

He sees no harm in current Army-Navy-Air Force competition in the guided missiles field, so long as it is not "overdone." He said he finds there is a free exchange of information between the three services, and no "jealousy or holding back."

"It is good to have three alternate approaches to the same problem," he insisted. "Otherwise, we could not tell which way was best."

"I certainly was not looking for this job," he smiled—blue eyes crinkling behind his old-fashioned white-gold-rimmed spectacles. "My wife was also of divided emotions —but how could I say 'no' if my country needed me? It is any man's duty to serve when called."

The decision was a soul-searching one. Democratic Senators Stuart Symington of Missouri and Henry M. Jackson of Washington were conducting an onslaught against alleged administration "foot dragging" in the vital missiles race and demanding appointment of a czar for the project. A Senate investigation loomed on the horizon, and Murphree knew that he could become a political football in this election year.

He liked it where he was, with his hi-fi music, bridge, and golfing partners, and his pleasant hilltop house in Summit, N. J.

By accepting the call to duty, the chemical engineer took much of the sting out of current Democratic attacks on the administration's program. He even doubts the Senate investigation opening next week will require much of his time.

The missiles czar is something new to Washington — a modest, calm, practical scientist whose eyes sparkle at mention of the year he once spent coaching the high school football team in tiny Paris, Ill.

* * *

The dimple in his chin and the laugh wrinkles about his eyes bespeak his quiet good humor, but friends who admire his staggering grasp of the science of war predict that Eger V. Murphree (named for a lumbering partner of his father) will get things done—and fast!

Red Official Publicly Rips 'Cult of Stalin'

NEW YORK (AP)—A Russian diplomat has attacked what he termed "the cult of Stalin" in the first public criticism of the late Soviet dictator made by a Russian official in the United States.

* * *

Konstantin G. Fedoseev, counsel of the Soviet embassy in Washington, held an informal question-and-answer session with some 80 economics students at Columbia University yesterday.

Answering a question about Stalin and ideological principles, Fedoseev said:

* * *

"There is no doubt that grave errors have occurred.

"The cult of the individual attributed to certain persons supernatural qualities. They were regarded almost like miracle workers and were worshipped as such.

"Such a conception of men and, specifically, of Stalin, flourished in our country."

Federal Reserve Hikes Bank Loan Rates

Moves to Curb Inflation Trend

Interest Charges Climb at 11 of the Nation's 12 Major Divisions

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Federal Reserve System has ordered another increase in the interest rates on loans by its regional reserve member banks to check inflationary trends.

It is the fifth boost in the reserve bank discount rate in the last year.

The action represents a continuation of the Eisenhower Administration's tighter money policy — a brake on the boom which has seen nearly all business indicators soar to all-time highs.

The discount rate applies on loans by the 12 regional reserve banks to the thousands of banks that are members of the nation's reserve system. These 12 banks constitute the U. S. Central Bank System.

Beginning today, nine of the regional banks will start charging an interest rate of 2¾ per cent on loans to member banks. Two others—those located in Minneapolis and San Francisco—will start charging three per cent.

The Chicago bank has not acted yet, but presumably will also increase its rate.

For several months now, the rate at all banks has been 2½ per cent. It was 1½ per cent when the banks began hiking the rate last April.

The latest increase brings the rate to the highest level since 1934.

The reserve system discount rate has a strong influence on interest rates generally, and thus affects the credit lifelines on which business relies.

Since then, the boom has tapered off a bit, but business activity has continued strong. Moreover, business plans for capital expenditures in 1956 revealed a spectacular increase of more than 20 per cent above 1955.

A reserve board spokesman said the tremendous upsurge in plans for business capita outlays is a direct factor in the latest credit-tightening action, since business spending projects are a factor in the heavy demand for credit.

Harvard's Bandsmen Sport Crimson Faces

UXBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The faces of the Harvard University band, 80 strong, were crimson last night — someone forgot to bring the music.

The oversight was discovered as the band arrived at Uxbridge High School for a concert.

The start was delayed more than an hour as two couriers sped some 50 miles from Cambridge with the music sheets.

Tax Refund Tizzy Keeps Waitress Busy and Dizzy

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Mrs. Ora Arons finally got the government to correct a $3,100 mistake after two weeks of trying.

Now she wishes it would correct a $45 one. That's what the 67-year-old waitress says she is due as an income tax refund, "and I could sure use the money."

The $3,100 mistake was a tax refund check the government sent Mrs. Arons by mistake.

First, Mrs. Arons said, she tried to give the $3,100 check to the Battle Creek office of the Internal Revenue Service but no one there would take it. Then she wrote the Chicago office that sent her the check, but she said nobody wrote back.

Expected Veto Lowers Grains

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains were overwhelmed by a heavy selling movement on the Board of Trade today, falling sharply in the belief President Eisenhower will veto the farm bill passed by Congress.

Losses ran to several cents in all pits before the downturn was halted. There was a fair-sized rally from the lowest levels but buying was not aggressive.

Traders called it a political market entirely with little attention being paid to routine grain market developments.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅞ to 2¼ lower, May $2.34½; corn 1¼ to 1½ lower, May $1.43¼; oats ⅝ to 1 cent lower, May 64¼; rye 3¾ to 4½ lower, May $1.28¼; soybeans unchanged to 2 cents lower, May $2.88¼; lard 5 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.47.

Juice and Watermelon Slow Burglar Down

ARVADA, Colo. (AP)—A man who ate a watermelon and drank a half gallon or orange juice before trying to burgle a supermarket safe was caught easily in a foot race with two patrolmen yesterday.

Police Chief Leonard Smith said S. M. Webb, 24, was nabbed in a chase after the patrolmen noticed the safe was not in its usual place in the window. Smith said Webb hid in the store icebox at closing, eating watermelon and drinking orange juice.

Webb was booked on suspicion of burglary.

News in Brief

Scarbrough had made his guilty plea before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle yesterday. He had been given a 60-day sentence and drew the additional time on failure to pay $10 costs.

John Carney, 22, of Ferndale, paid a fine of $75 and $25 costs Thursday on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. Carney pleaded guilty to the charge before Allen C. Ingle, Justice of Farmington Township.

Stocks Advance Despite Ruling

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced slightly today in the face of a rise in the Federal Reserve discount rate.

* * *

Prices were up 1 to 3 points at the top and off around a point at the bottom of the range of changes. The great majority of the changes were minor.

Trading was in the neighborhood of yesterday's 2,700,000 shares. The market fell back yesterday in late selling.

After the close yesterday the Federal Reserve Board in Washington gave approval for an increase in the discount rate to 3 per cent in San Francisco and Minneapolis and to 2¾ per cent elsewhere from the old rate of 2½ per cent. Chicago was unchanged.

It was the fifth time in the past year that the Federal Reserve has felt it necessary to raise money rates as a measure to curb inflationary tendencies in the economy.

The stock market continued to rise strongly through all of the previous boosts in the cost of money, and today it hesitated at the opening and posted lower prices. Within a short time it recovered its balance and started upward in a modest manner. The rise lacked conviction.

Council Plan Revived for Pontiac Dealers

Plans to re-establish the dealer-factory council system on zone, regional and national levels were announced yesterday by sales officials of the Pontiac Motor Division.

Purpose of the system will be to allow dealers and factory representatives to discuss problems of mutual interest while providing answers to questions concerning plant-dealer relations, according to General Sales Manager Frank V. Bridge.

Dealers will elect their own representatives. Meetings will be conducted by dealer representatives.

Dual representation from each geographical division will enable both large and small dealers to be represented, Bridge pointed out.

Business Notes

The appointment of Howard E. Moore as foreman of the Pontiac Motor Division's engineering department operations in Indianapolis was announced today by Chief Engineer George A. Delaney.

He will take over the duties previously handled by his uncle, the late Lou Moore, who died suddenly several weeks ago.

Regarded as one of the nation's leading race car mechanics, the new foreman prepared the car which won the pole position in the 1955 Indianapolis "500."

Dynamite Blast Scares Traffic Fines Collectors

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Someone tossed a fused stick of dynamite on the roof of the county traffic fines building and blew a 14-inch hole in the roof. But police refused to speculate if the culprit could have been a disgruntled traffic law violator.

Maintenance men heard the explosion at 3:30 a.m. and shortly afterward rain began leaking into the building.

Receives Ford Money

LUDINGTON (AP) — T. L. Atkinson, president of the Mason County Hospital Assn., says Paulina Stearns Hospital has received $13,000 from the Ford Foundation, half of the total grant marked for the institution. The board has not yet decided how to use the $26,000 foundation grant.

Predicts Costly Work

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—City Engineer Raymond Bruggink Jr. predicts that paving, water, sewer and sidewalk projects this year will total two million dollars in Grand Rapids, more than double the figure last year.

Girl, 13, Man, 49, Wed; Parents Okay Marriage

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A 49-year - old divorced construction worker who married the 13-year-old daughter of a neighbor April 1, has approval of the bride's parents.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Legon said last night they accompanied their daughter Joyce Faye to Corinth, Miss., for her wedding with George H. Cole to be sure the wedding plans brought no objections from officials. Cole is the father of four children by his first wife.

"I feel a lot better about her being married to a man who can take care of her and who will be good to her than I would about her marrying somebody who wouldn't treat her right," said Mrs. Legon.

* * *

The father, who works with Cole, said, "We have known him for about two years and we know he is a good man. That's all that we expect."

Cole said he looks on his new wife "as a child. I treat her as if she was one of my own — and of course she is my own."

The bride said, "I got married because I wanted to. I'm real happy about it."

Nat Cole Assailants Go on Trial Today

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Four of six persons charged in the attack on Negro singer Nat (King) Cole go on trial in Recorders court today.

* * *

Charged with misdemeanors for the assault Tuesday night, they face maximum sentences on conviction of 180 days and $100 fine on each of the charges against them.

The heaviest sentence Judge Ralph Parker could impose would be 24 months and a $400 fine on four counts.

* * *

Two others charged with assault with intent to murder will have preliminary hearings April 20. They are charged with a felony, and if convicted could be sentenced to from 2 to 20 years in prison.

The Negro singer was attacked on the stage of the Municipal Auditorium as he sang before an all-white audience.

Beavers for the Bride

PARIS (INS)—Two live beavers, the gift of the Grandby, Ont., Zoo, arrived at Orly Airfield among the mountain of wedding presents for Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier. The beavers, Pierre and Pierrette, were flown to Paris from Montreal.

Video, Movies Cuddle Closer

Stars of These Series Include Lee Bowman and John Ireland

By ATRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS)—In case there's any doubt left about Hollywood merging smoothly with TV: Warner Brothers puts the clincher on the situation by its announcement that it has four half-hour series ready for fall production . . . possibly sooner.

These include "96 William Street," starring Lee Bowman, now being filmed in and around Manhattan; "Port of Call," with John Ireland; "Joe McDoakes," a comedy series featuring George O'Hanlon, and a film being shot in South America.

DECLARED WINNER

Latest on the hassle for the $64,000 passel:

Brooklyn Fireman Lt. Martin Van Outryve has been declared winner by a TKO on last Sunday's CBS-TV debut of "The $64,000 Challenge."

Staten Island Policeman Redmond O'Hanlon (who quit "the $64,000 Question" when he had won $16,000) flunked on a Shakespearean query, but emcee Sunny Fox didn't catch the error. "Challenger" Van Outryve missed a subsequent question and was ruled "out."

This Sunday, Van Outryve will decide whether he wants to give the deposed "champ" another crack at regaining his title. (This is in accordance with the rather intricate rules of the game, where a "challenger" who wins can take his money and scoot home, or give a "$64,000 Question" winner who loses, another chance at a higher plateau.)

Officials infer that the fireman will give the cop a return go come Sunday.

Xavier Cugat and his Abbe will arrive in New York from Italy shortly to try and sell a color-TV series they've been filming in Europe . . .

Good news for those who missed NBC's spectacular presentation of "A Night to Remember." The network plans to rerun the show within the next couple of months. Exact date will be announced later.

TV FOR JEANNETTE

Jeannette McDonald turned down a show scheduled to open on Broadway in the fall to make a pilot for a TV series, "Prima Donna" . . . Jeanette still has a beautiful figure and is in fine voice.

NBC radio and the Voice of America will combine to beam reports of the Grace-Prince Rainier wedding to all parts of Europe, including behind the Iron-Curtain.

Dumont will telecast the International Automobile Ball April 27 from the New York Coliseum to benefit the March of Dimes.

Danny Thomas and ABC huddling over a forthcoming spectacular (look for ABC to challenge CBS and NBC in the big show department come fall) based on one of his own ideas.

Saturday Dr. Bruno Furst, memory expert, will reveal how to win at poker without cheating (ABC-TV) . . . Simple, just memorize all the cards played and then mentally deduct.

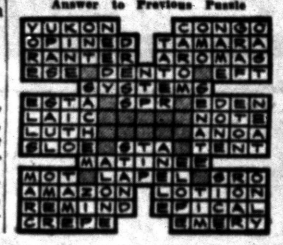

Steve Allen becomes a contributing editor of Cosmopolitan magazine with the next issue . . .

William Bendix will lead the "Life of Riley" for another year. He just renewed his contract . . .

Rite for Crash Victim

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Funeral services will be held Saturday for Mrs. Mary Moblo, 80, who died in Munson Hospital of injuries suffered Tuesday in a Traverse City auto crash. She was a passenger with Wallace Dean, 71, of Petoskey, whose car collided with one driven by Lee C. Jackokes, 80, of Elk Rapids.

Journalist Dies in Cleveland

Paul Bellamy, Retired Editor of Plain Dealer Succumbs at Home

CLEVELAND (AP)—Paul Bellamy whose editorial genius guided the Cleveland Plain Dealer for a quarter of a century until he retired two years ago, died suddenly last night. He was 71.

* * *

He was seated at dinner with his wife and a friend, Carl D. Friebolin, when his heart failed and he slumped in his chair.

Bellamy had been in poor health for several years, and it was this which led to his retirement in January 1954, as Plain Dealer editor.

After Wright Bryan of Atlanta had succeeded him as editor, Bellamy retained contact with the morning newspaper as editor emeritus. He visited his office several times a week.

He and Mrs. Bellamy had planned to leave Wednesday for Washington to attend the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors of which he was president in 1933-34. They planned to go to New York for other meetings, including that of The Associated Press of which Bellamy was a director for 18 years.

* * *

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Unitarian Society of Cleveland, with burial in Lake View Cemetery. The family said contributions in Bellamy's memory would be welcomed for the scholarship fund of his Harvard class of 1906.

Process Server Pokes Eye With Papers, Fist

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Harry Macofsky asked $40,000 damages because, he said, a process server poked the papers through a peephole in his door and popped him right in the eye.

Macofsky said he didn't open the door, only the peephole. The papers, rolled into a tight tube, caused him a painful injury which impaired his sight, he said.

Survives 80-Ft. Dive; Prospect for Olympics?

MONESSEN, Pa. (AP)—To prove he wasn't all talk, 24-year-old James Reese plunged more than 80 feet into the Monongahela river from a high-level bridge.

At a hospital, where he was reported in fair condition suffering from exposure, Reese told police he had been telling people for days that he would make the jump but no one would believe him.

Chippie, Unusual Bantam, Dies of Old Age at 13

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Like her birth and life, Chippie was unusual even unto death.

* * *

The 13-year-old Bantam lies buried today in a flower bed under the shade trees of her owner's home.

Authorities agree Chippie was sort of a Methuselah, 13 being a "mighty old age for a chicken."

In March, 1943, a grandson of Mrs. J. Raymond Parker, Chippie's owner, took an egg from the family refrigerator and placed it under a pet pigeon. The pigeon did its duty and baby Chippie arrived.

Chippie was raised in a cage with canaries. She shared their bird food until her appetite became so great the canaries went hungry. Then the canaries were moved, and the cage became Chippie's very own.

Mrs. Parker attributes Chippie's long life to the fact "she was never out in wintry weather. She enjoyed the warm kitchen in her cage by the sunny window."

Chippie died Sunday night, the years just too much of a burden.

Retail sales in the United States last year totaled $185,480,000,000, the largest ever and 8.7 per cent higher than in 1954.
