Cabinet Appears Likely for Dillon

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Prospects that Under-Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon, a Republican, would be named Treasury secretary in the new cabinet were strengthened today when it was confirmed that Dillon and President-Elect John F. Kennedy conferred secretly in Washington Thursday night.

Responding to press inquiries, Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said the president-elect went to Dillon's home in Washington at about 8 p.m. Thursday and conferred with the State Department official for about 45 minutes.

This fact in itself was far from positive proof that Dillon will get the Treasury post, but it did serve to support reports that he was under high active consideration for a high position in the Kennedy administration.

Meanwhile, Kennedy still held open the possibility of naming another new cabinet member while he is in Florida for the weekend. Salinger said there would be no announcements or business appointments today, but he declined to forecast the prospects for Sunday.

Kennedy planned a restful Saturday with his wife, Jacqueline, and their two children, John Jr., 15 days, and Caroline, 3. The parents and the baby flew south from Washington Friday night to join Caroline who got her first excited look at her new baby brother. The president-elect planned to remain here over the weekend, possibly returning to Washington Monday.

Salinger and other members of the Kennedy staff would not comment on any of the latest flurry of cabinet rumors but in the case of Dillon, the press secretary said he was not "immediately" to be confirmed or denied that he had been offered the treasury post.

Other segments of the Kennedy camp spoke highly of Robert S. McNamara, president of Ford Motor Co., as a prospect for secretary of defense and possibly Treasury post.

A flurry of rumors earlier this week that Thomas S. Gates, Jr., the current defense secretary, might be retained in the new administration appeared to be without support.

The president-elect has filled three cabinet posts—health, education and welfare, commerce and interior—and in each case, he announced the appointment with the selected official at his side.

Caroline Kennedy Bubbles Over Her New Living Doll

PALM BEACH, Fla.—There was a real living doll at Caroline Kennedy's house today and it took some persuasion to keep her from remaining constantly at the pink and white bassinet of John F. Kennedy Jr., her 15-day-old brother.

The infant son of President-Elect and Mrs. Kennedy got quite a dose of the outside world in his first 24 hours away from the Washington hospital where he was born.

An airplane ride, whiffs of his father's cigar smoke and a new nursery beside the sea.

Caroline, 3, has been in Palm Beach for a week awaiting the arrival of her brother whom she had not been allowed to see previously. The hospital where her mother "got" the baby did not permit child visitors.

The family came together joyously in Palm Beach Friday night as the Kennedy plane, named for Caroline, arrived from Washington.

The parents and a new nurse, Mrs. Elsie Phillips of Kensington, Md., bore John Jr. gingerly in a (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Sites Are at Oxford and White Lake, Pontiac, W. Bloomfield Twps.

More than 100 Goodfellows took to street corners today in four Pontiac area communities to raise funds for needy families at Christmastime, through the sale of Pontiac Press Goodfellow newspapers.

Businessmen, police officers and firemen in Oxford and West Bloomfield, White Lake and Pontiac townships are selling their papers at major intersections in the four communities for whatever price donors care to give.

All proceeds from the sales will go towards clothing underprivileged children, putting Christmas dinners on the tables of the needy, and otherwise helping the unfortunate achieve a merry Christmas.

In Pontiac Township, some 20 firemen and members of the Metropolitan Club, Spirit 60, began their sale at 1 p.m. They hope to raise $1,000 through the sale of 5,700 papers.

A $1,500 goal has been set by West Bloomfield Township Goodfellows. Forty-eight volunteers are selling papers at main intersections along Orchard Lake Road. Last year the group raised $1,400 to benefit 48 needy families in the community.

White Lake Township Goodfellows were up at the crack of dawn, hoping to raise $1,200 by the end of the day.

Their drive last year brought cheer to 44 needy families. Anticipating a slightly increased demand this year in the growing community, White Lake Goodfellows have vowed to stay out until all of their 2,500 papers are sold. They are stationed at several major intersections in neighboring Township of West.

Goodfellows in Oxford are concentrating on raising funds to clothe underprivileged children through the paper sales.

Last year over 100 of these youngsters benefited from the drive when $1,300 was raised. This year the men are hoping to achieve a $1,500 goal. Their fund-raising efforts are being concentrated in the village's business district.

Hoffman Urges Bobby as Attorney General

WASHINGTON (AP)—Clare E. Hoffman, a staunch Michigan Republican, has urged President-Elect Kennedy to appoint his brother Robert F. Kennedy as attorney general.

Robert Kennedy, Hoffman said in a statement, is "able, courageous and aggressive" and would make a fine head of the Department of Justice.

Hoffman had his request that 55 additional precincts be recounted.

Board of Canvassers Certifies Probate Judge Win Over Lodge

An eight-day recount has certified Donald E. Adams as Oakland County's second probate judge.

The board of canvassers yesterday confirmed the recount in 50 precincts scattered among 28 townships and cities and announced it "found no substantial change" in the official returns.

They showed Adams, a Waterford Township justice of the peace, the winner over Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, 76,536 votes to 75,556.

The margin of 984 votes—284 less than what unofficial tabulation showed following the Nov. 8 election—led Lodge to request the recount of 90 of the county's 311 precincts.

Gas Halts Mobs Rioting in Algeria

ALGERS (AP)—Riot police firing tear gas grenades today drove back howling mobs of 5,000 rioters attempting to storm the official residence of President Charles de Gaulle's representative in strife-torn Algeria. Police attacked as the demonstrators marched on the Palais d'Elie, residence of Jean Martin. Tough riot squads stopped a similar attempt Friday.

Riot police and army troops also rushed to battle stations in Oran, Algeria's second largest city, where European settlers massed in the streets shouting, "De Gaulle to the stake. Algeria is French."

A group of Oran Moslems carrying a banner reading "Vive De Gaulle" ran head-on into a group carrying a placard declaring "Algeria is French." They fought briefly. Then both sides fell back.

Shortly after noon quiet was reported restored in Oran. Nighttime brought a lull in Algiers, too.

Amphibious speed through the city taking the injury to hospitals. There was no way to tell immediately how many had been hurt. Friday's toll of injured was put at about 100.

Thousands of Moslems roared a welcome to De Gaulle at Cherchell, site of a French military school, and cries of "Vive de Gaulle" rose around him in waves.

The tall French president ignored his security guard after stepping from a helicopter and strode over to a dense crowd of Moslems. Beaming broadly, he shook scores of outstretched hands. Turbaned men and veiled women applauded and chanted his name like a symbol.

But police maintained the rioters were a violent, vocal minority of the city's 400,000 residents.

On the beleaguered Rue Michelet, the mob kept charging police lines despite a steady barrage of tear gas grenades. Two blocks from Mott's residence a club-wielding gang of youths chased a riot squad up an alley, showering the police with roof tiles and bricks.

In Algiers police estimated up to 10,000 persons surged through blood.

ALGERS (AP)—Aides of Patrice Lumumba today held off carrying out their threat to round up all whites in Stanleyville and behead some of them.

The ex-premier was set in jail after the deadline they set for freeing him. One Western official here said, "The pressure seems to be off for the moment."

The rebels had threatened to arrest all Europeans "and cut off some of the heads" of Belgian hostages if Lumumba was not set free by 3 p.m. Friday.

United Nations reports from the area said no whites had been arrested so far in Stanleyville itself. But an undetermined number of arrests was reported at Kas, a town on the borders of Oriental Province and Uganda.

The U.N. commander in Stanleyville, Ethiopian Gen. Mengasha Yassa, conferred this morning with Gen. Victor Lundula, former commander in chief of the Congolese army under Lumumba, who now runs the, inactively Lumumbist military police unit holding Stanleyville.

About 100 Belgian men, women and children were sheltered overnight in the Stanleyville school house taken over as a refuge by the United Nations.

Some experts here believed the rebels were having second thoughts about carrying out their threat.

Then Kills Self; She Appears Beaten to Death

Mrs. Tessie Austin, 53, Wendell Lichtenfeld Are Divorce Rift Victims

By LEE WINBORN

A prominent Armada attorney and father of five was murdered in his office yesterday by an elderly farmer who killed his own wife and later shot himself to death.

Wendell H. Lichtenfeld, 46, a former chief assistant prosecutor for Macomb County, was shot several times in the head. The slaying took place about 4 p.m.

About five hours later, state police and Macomb County sheriff's deputies went to the Joseph Austin home two miles northeast of town and found both Austin and his wife Tessie dead.

The house was a shambles. Police theorized that Mrs. Austin, 54, had seen Austin to death. Her body was found in the kitchen under a pile of clothing.

Austin, 57, was discovered upstairs on a bed, a .45 caliber pistol at his feet. Ballistics reports revealed it was the same gun that killed Lichtenfeld.

Involved in divorce

The Austin had been involved in a divorce action more than a year ago and Lichtenfeld had represented the wife, according to police.

The attorney's body was found in his second-floor office on Main Street by a recipient who worked for two dentists in front offices on the main floor.

Patricia Knust, 22, of Richmond said police that she and the dentist, Dr. Earl A. Morrison and his son Dr. Robert Morrison, heard sounds they thought could have been gunshots at the time of the murder.

They decided, however, that it was a car backfiring and did not investigate, she said.

About 5 p.m. Miss Knust went by Lichtenfeld's office on her way to a storehouse and saw him lying in front of his desk.

She ran back to the dentist's office and told them to call Romeo state police.

While officers were checking at the scene, a Romeo attorney, Edward A. Jacob, called the state police post and suggested that Austin, whom Jacob represented in the divorce action, might be a possible suspect.

VIETNAMESE, Laos (AP)—A pitched battle for this southeast Asian capital threatened today after neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma fled the country, his forces of a negotiated peace shattered.

Search 2 States for Bomber Crew

3 of 8 Turn Up After Jet Crash

Scour 3,000 Sq. Miles of Snowy New York, Vermont; All Jumped

BARRRE, Vt. (UPI)—Three of eight crew members of a crashed Stratofortress found their way to safety today while a two-state search was conducted for the other five.

The three, radar operator Maj. Karl E. Keyes, navigator Capt. Donald D. Little and pilot Capt. William T. Combs, emerged from woods near Schroon Lake, N.Y., 50 miles from the crash in this Green Mountains community.

Little, 29, of Altoona, Pa., was the third man reported found shortly before noon.

He walked out of the woods near Schroon Lake and telephoned Westover AFB, Mass.—The plane's home base—from a gasoline station. Westover said Little was in good condition.

Keyes was the first known survivor. He stumbled out of the wreckage and was found by a search party.

Combs, 42, of Bristol, Va., was apparently uninjured. Keyes came out of the woods at 4 a.m. (Pontiac time).

SIX JUMP ORDER
Combs had given the order to the crew to bail out of the plane. The 38-mile, eight-jet jet giant fell and exploded Friday night in a routine of the snow-mantled mountains.

Searchers by the hundreds scoured the wilderness of the state for survivors. It is believed that all of the seven men parachuted before the crash.

Keyes, of Haverhill, Mass., said he was broken ribs and a broken collarbone and other injuries.

Keyes, who landed in a tree, skinned down, built a fire in the below freezing night air, and soon after heading toward the noise of some trucks.

The searchers found him five miles from the forest to a highway.

The search even involved the Coast Guard which dispatched a 30-foot boat in an island-to-island patrol of Lake Champlain.

One of the first persons at the crash scene, Joe Cymrot, said the 352 "was all pink. Thousands of the men were killed."

"Right next to a small piece of wreckage there was a sheet of paper, saying 'face up'."

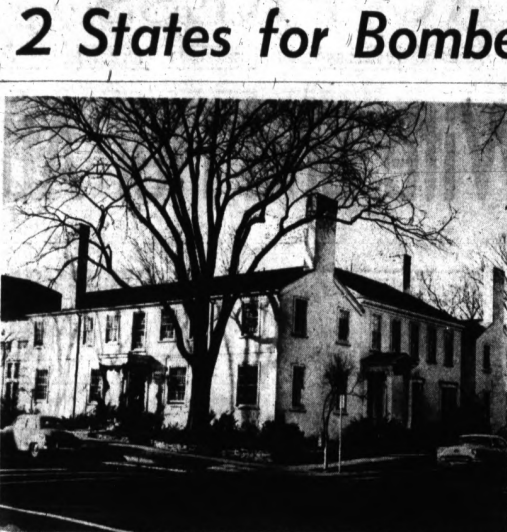

"For landing, flap down." But (the plane) looked as if it burst like shrapnel when it exploded.

Radar pilot hung on pine trees like Christmas trees. Wreckage was strewn through the tops of the trees.

Keyes' first concern was for his wife when he telephoned from a motel to assure her he was alive. He said he was in good luck.

Keyes said he parachuted in time and saw others went before him. The plane, on a routine mission out of Westover AFB, was last contacted at 10:17 p.m. Friday between Medina, N.Y., and Watertown, N.Y., near the Canadian border.

The crash occurred at 11:24 p.m.

THIRTY YEARS OF SERVICE — The Birmingham Community House, Bates and Townsend streets, has been the focal point of civic affairs in the area for three decades. Before that, a small frame building at Maple and Bates was used for all social, business and recreational functions. The idea of creating a central meeting place for area residents was formulated 40 years ago next month.

Conceived Forty Years Ago, Community House Thriving

By JIM LONG

It's doubtful that early next month many Birmingham residents, if any, will circle Jan. 5 as a day to remember.

But they should. Because of that day, 40 years ago, nearly 200 organizations have a place to call home.

It was then that the idea of a community house was brought forth for a growing village.

The village became a city and the Community House, established in a small, white frame building two years after the idea was conceived, grew along with it, more successful than any of its founders ever had foreseen.

The first Community House, proposed by the Rev. Charles McCarty, who was then pastor of St. James Episcopal Church, was on the southwest corner of Maple Road and Bates Street.

The old building belonged to the church and needed repairs. The Women's Guild of the parish decided to do something about it and raised $3,500 from parishioners and friends to have it remodeled and redecorated.

REALITY IN 1923
In April 1923 the Community House became a reality. It was described as "probably the only one of its kind in any town the size of Birmingham."

Then, as now, the Community House was nonpartisan, non-sectarian and non-denominational.

By 1928, three years after the building opened its doors, more than 20,000 persons were using the facility annually for meetings, social gatherings and recreation.

A few years later the community building's directors realized that growing demand had made the house too small.

Stretching from the central Rock off in New Mexico and improved weather conditions were forecast for the weekend.

The icy storm isolated towns in several states, shattered communication lines, halted travel and knocked out power lines.

El Paso, at the New Mexico border, was buried in 6 to 8 inches of snow.

Marfa, Tex., 200 miles east of El Paso, was isolated for two days. Ham radio operators made contact Friday night and learned conditions in the area were critical.

"We're in rough shape," Jim O'Brien, publisher of the Big Bend Central told the El Paso Times. "Our phones are out, our television tower's half dead, and it's hard to say when the utility company is going to get our power fully restored."

Traffic snarled in and around the El Paso area and across the line into New Mexico.

WHY TRAVEL?
"I can't understand why people want to get out and travel in weather like this," said veteran Texas Ranger Jim Nance.

The storm slammed its fury on New Mexico and Arizona while dumping more than six inches at Canon City in south central Colorado since noon Friday.

There were 11-15 inches reported at Wolf Creek Pass and two inches in the Denver area during the night.

Light snow in the Arizona mountains was expected. Northern roads, although still icy, were open. The storm activity dropped Funds to erect a new building were solicited from the public, and March 17, 1930, a $150,000 Community House was open.

The following month, the big white brick building at the corner of Bates and Townsend streets, has been the focal point of civic affairs in the area for three decades. Before that, a small frame building at Maple and Bates was used for all social, business and recreational functions. The idea of creating a central meeting place for area residents was formulated 40 years ago next month.

Along with the new building came a new service, an unemployment agency.

Through the years, thousands of jobs have been found in homes and offices as a result of the placement service.

Last year the employment department of the Community House found jobs for 4,577 of the 6,534 persons who applied.

The 10-room, colonial-furnished building is open Monday through Sunday from 9 a.m. to midnight and longer for special occasions.

ENTIRELY VOLUNTARY
The community service building is supported entirely by voluntary contribution and is administered by its own board of directors.

Heading the list in the guidance of the Community House is Mrs. Charles (Ruth) Shain, honorary president of the nonprofit organization.

Mrs. Shain was one of the members of the committee appointed by Rev. McCarty to prepare recommendations for the Community House in 1921.

Over the years, Mrs. Shain, not only has taken an active part in civic affairs but also has headed a class on international affairs at the Community House these past four decades.

The success of the Community House is reflected in its increased use annually.

In the last fiscal year, from 1959 through May 1960, nearly 150,000 persons met for some function at the building.

A total of 1,403 groups held 2,335 meetings during the fiscal year, and some 47,000 meals were prepared and served by a staff of 15 women.

The 85 craft and hobby classes taught during the fall and winter at the Community House were attended by 1,600 persons of all ages.

This summer it was feared that the local point of the community might have to close its doors because its operating fund drive fell short of the $35,000 goal.

However, in July, Board of Directors President Eugene J. Barney announced that the Community House will continue operations for "a long time to come and have the strongest program in its history this year."

Barney went on to say that the board intends to make area residents aware of "what the House does and can do for them — and how much it means simply to have it available in the area where they live."

He was described as a mild-mannered and gracious person by a son Richard, 17, is in the Army.

Lichtenfeld was described as an "office lawyer" by his colleagues, but also was considered an excellent trial attorney.

Austin was described by neighbors as a hardworking farmer who worked 30 acres near the village.

Lichtenfeld's body was taken to the Tiffin-Yong Funeral Home in Armad.

Lichtenfeld was a graduate of the Detroit College of Law. During World War II he rose from private to captain, winning a decoration for gallantry in action in France and Germany.

He became assistant prosecutor in 1948, later moving up to chief assistant under Prosecutor, Fred W. Nicholson.

Lichtenfeld left the prosecutor's office in 1952 to enter private practice.

Several residents of the community had seen Lichtenfeld in the Armad post office minutes before he was killed.

They said he was "in a good frame of mind" and was enjoying visiting with his neighbors.

The small town of 500 inhabitants was transformed by the incident from a cheerful town anticipating the Christmas season to a shocked and stunned community that had lost one of its leading citizens.

Lichtenfeld was a former member of the Armad Board of Education.

Recount Affirms Win for Adams on Lodge

Lodge's in case the official returns were reversed.

Because of the slight change, canvassers were undecided whether they would bother to alter the official returns for both Adams and Lodge.

"In all probability we will not change the canvass," said Daniel T. Murphy Jr., county clerk and register of deeds who also serves as clerk of the canvassing board.

Carlos G. Richardson, board chairman, said there were "three little changes."

Two came in paper ballot precincts. In the last fiscal year, 1959, Lodge received five votes which had originally gone to Adams in Lyon Township.

"I guess you'd call this a mistake in the printing," Richardson said.

Mrs. Mabel M. Child, county election clerk, said the election worker in the particular precinct gave Adams the votes Lodge should have been given, and vice versa.

Other canvassers were Mrs. Paul Gorman of Pontiac and Mrs. William S. Dixon.

On behalf of the board, Richardson praised the efficiency and cooperation of election workers in the 90 precincts.

The recount began Dec. 1. "I knew there wouldn't be any change to speak of before we started," Richardson said. "That's been the history of recounts in voting machines."

Lodge alleged no fraud on the part of workers. None was found, either, Richardson said.

Adams left his law practice in the township and stayed with canvassers throughout the canvass.

He announced afterward that he might possibly stay on as justice of the peace and clerk of the court.

His post doesn't expire until July 4, 1963. He was elected to another four-year term in July 1959.

He has been justice since 1937. He was elected and checked with the county corporation council's office and found there was no conflict between serving as probate judge and justice. His new judicial term begins Jan. 1.

Asked about his possible resignation as justice, Adams said, "I'll work it out with the board."

There was some speculation that if Adams doesn't resign by Jan. 2, the board might have to nominate a replacement for him.

He said he was not sure if he would run for re-election, but he would not leave the township board until he was replaced.

The board's membership is Democratic. Adams is a Democrat, although his election last month was on a nonpartisan ticket.

Tries to Protect State Consumer

Paul Adams Pushing Drive Against Frauds, Creates New Office

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, pushing his campaign against consumer frauds, has announced creation of a division of consumer protection and advice by city commissioners here Monday.

Adams said the division "will coordinate and supplement the activities of local law enforcement groups in the battle against consumer frauds."

It also will handle matters involving the state departments of social welfare and mental health.

Adams said the division "will coordinate and supplement the activities of local law enforcement groups in the battle against consumer frauds."

It will work with prosecuting attorneys, local and state police, chambers of commerce, better business bureaus and other agencies interested in consumer protection, Adams said.

Because "the cheats and sharpies who prey on the consumer do not localize their activities," there is need for a state agency to coordinate local efforts to discourage consumer frauds, he said.

Russ Give U. A. R. Loans for Agriculture, Industry

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union has granted the United Arab Republic loans for approximately 100 agricultural and industrial projects, Moscow Radio said.

Shouts of "Cuba yes, Russia no" came from demonstrators in front of the presidential palace and they got away with it.

Anti-Communist leaders of the Electrical Workers Union took a bold and daring stand by boycotting a Communist-managed union general assembly, which voted to demand their ouster.

In Santa Clara four Cuban men were sentenced to death by a firing squad for trying to hijack a Cuban airliner in flight over Cienfuegos Thursday night. They were thwarted when the pilot crash-landed. One woman defendant was sentenced to 30 years, another woman acquitted. One of the condemned men escaped in the landing and is still at large.

The palace demonstration was by members of the Electric Workers Union.

The union leaders' defiant refusal to bow to the Red-leaning Confederation of Cuban Workers (CTC), which demanded their ouster, could have troublesome repercussions for Castro in the labor sector—mostly due to it now.

Several hundred members of the union marched on the presidential palace Friday night, protesting what they called Communist infiltration of their union.

Led by their regular secretary-general, Amnury Fraguas, the shouting workers demanded an audience with Castro or President Osvaldo Dorticos.

The peaceful demonstration broke up quickly after a commission headed by Fraguas was admitted to the palace. But demonstrators said the commission never got to see Dorticos, as promised, or even his secretary, Luis Buch.

Roman Catholic officials continued their anti-Communist campaign with bars at the government. Eduardo Bona Mariscal, auxiliary bishop of Havana, accused Castro's regime of wanting to control the nation's education system, to spread "totalitarian ideology."

The Day in Birmingham

Commission May Study Detroit City Hall Debate

BIRMINGHAM — The dispute over the proposed razing of Detroit's old City Hall may get an airing by city commissioners here Monday.

J. W. O'Meara, president of the Save Old City Hall Commission in Detroit, has sent the Birmingham Commission a letter asking their feelings on the subject.

The City Hall Committee, Cadillac-Richard Memorial, is concerned with the fate of Detroit's Old City Hall, O'Meara said in his letter. "We propose to share its use with all the communities of the metropolitan area."

O'Meara said his group is seeking consideration and participation in the matter from communities near Detroit.

WANT 'HALL OF STATE'
"This building was solemnly dedicated as a memorial to Antoine de Meville Cadillac and Father Gabriel Richard, founders of Detroit, in 1880. Our plans are to restore the upper portion of this building as a 'Hall of State,' O'Meara explained.

"It would be made available for important public functions and as the assembly hall of our metropolitan governmental activities. This would be done by private subscriptions, not public cost," O'Meara said.

"We would invite its use for such purpose by your community. This does not involve any proposal whatsoever for any surrender of community autonomy."

"Our communities have long worked together for specific purposes—water, sewer, road, park and police projects—on either a voluntary or formal basis. The hall we plan would merely provide a setting of proper civic dignity for such meetings."

O'Meara said further plans call for the eventual installation of a historical museum in a suitable memorial upon the lower level, "making this a visible symbol of our common heritage."

A resolution passed by the Dearborn Historical Society favors saving the building, O'Meara pointed out.

The Save Old City Hall Committee has offices in the Book Building, Detroit.

closed car through the warm evening to the beach front home of the Kennedy clan.

The reunion with Caroline was a private affair, her inside the white steeple walls of the Kennedy home on Ocean Boulevard.

The president-elect and his wife are equally determined to protect Caroline from all possible exposure to the public eye, particularly at this exciting time when she is adjusting to having a new member of the family competing for the attention of mother and father.

CAREFULLY PREPARED
Caroline, however, was carefully prepared for the meeting.

Her father brought her along in easy stages while Mrs. Kennedy was in the hospital, explaining that the little girl's mother had gone to get her a new dress as a present for her recent third birthday.

Jacqueline Kennedy plans to keep her two children tucked away in this Florida resort until she and her husband move into the White House.

Now that she has her children out of the Washington spotlight, she wants to keep it that way.

The children will stay here until after inauguration, according to Kennedy confidantes.

Mrs. Kennedy may be back in Washington before that, but not the youngsters, who have separate suites.

The first lady-to-be has some dates in Washington—Jan. 18 reception for prominent Democratic leaders, and a formal ceremony, including the inaugural ball.

John Jr. apparently took his first exposure to the world outside his hospital nursery, in sleepy state.

The president-elect brought Jacqueline and the baby from the hospital to their Georgetown home late Friday morning.

After Mrs. Kennedy took time out for a tour of the White House conducted by Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, the family set out for Florida.

The baby was bundled in a white blanket and deposited by nurse Phillips in a bassinet placed across two seats in the rear of the plane's main cabin.

During much of the trip, the president-elect and a friend, Charles F. Spaulding of New York, sat in seats facing the baby cot.

Kennedy watched the sleeping child, putting on a cigar that sent spirals of smoke up above the bassinet.

Storm Again Rips Southwest

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A mighty snowstorm, already blamed for more than a dozen deaths, swung fresh punches today at a sector stretching from the central Rock off in New Mexico and improved weather conditions were forecast for the weekend.

The icy storm isolated towns in several states, shattered communication lines, halted travel and knocked out power lines.

El Paso, at the New Mexico border, was buried in 6 to 8 inches of snow.

NYC to Centralize Area Freight Work

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan Public Service Commission Friday authorized New York Central Railroad to centralize two additional areas where it provides freight service.

The commission approved the firm's requests to provide service to Utopia, Rochester, Oxford and Lapeer from its freight service center at Detroit.

Another commission center will allow the railroad's service center at Adrian to serve rail patrons at Hillsfield, Ida, Deerfield, Jasper, Morenci, Tecumseh, Clinton and Manchester.

The commission previously approved several other similar requests by New York Central to consolidate its service areas. The company said maintaining service centers in communities where little service was required was uneconomical.

New York Central said it could maintain the required service to the areas included in the centralization.

Husband Jealous; Wife Angry; Both in Court

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—When the policeman arrested the woman on a street corner, she cried in consternation: "But I am your wife."

"Never mind that," the policeman snarled. "You are under arrest for soliciting men." A judge released the wife for lack of evidence and she marched straight to another court and filed two suits against her husband, one for libel and another for divorce. The judge ruled the arrest was "prompted by jealousy rather than a sense of duty" and fined the cop $100.

4th Baby — Boy — Born to Actress Ann Blyth

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Our cat died all of a sudden. He hadn't been sick at all. Do you think it was poison? Bertha Morgan, Chicago.

A. Poison is often suspected when an animal dies suddenly. Fortunately, it is not easy to poison a cat since they are quite fastidious in their eating habits.

Your cat could have been struck by a car, the most common cause of sudden death. Or he could have been involved in a fight with a dog and gotten the worst of it. Some of the infectious diseases, such as feline distemper, may prove to be fatal within a few hours.

If you have other animals in the house or neighborhood, it certainly would be advisable to have an autopsy performed. While this, of course, would not restore your cat, it would ease your mind.

'Called Me Names,' Hints Janos Kadar

BUDAPEST, Hungary (UP)—Hungary's Communist party chief, Janos Kadar, has hinted he was called some hard names at the recent Moscow summit conference of Communist leaders.

Outlining the achievements of the three-week Moscow talks, Kadar told Parliament he had been charged with being both hard and soft on revisionists (those who follow the Tito brand of independent communism).

He did not say who leveled the charges or even that they were made at the summit meeting.

But he added that in Moscow we have now been justified in the correctness of our line.

Kadar said his regime would continue to follow a Marxist-Leninist line, dealing with its enemies with an iron hand, "but with individual people we shall be humane."

It's the second time he did his quick-change act in order to hurry to the course.

Doctored Coins Worry the Mint

Washington Is Dressed as a Cardinal; Fear That Supply Will Be Ruined

WASHINGTON — Strange red-and-silver quarters featuring George Washington dressed as a Roman Catholic cardinal are being widely circulated in some parts of the country—and there's no law against it.

The coins are known as "Kennedy quarters" and represent an elaborate post-election prank. They are named, of course, for Sen. John F. Kennedy who on Jan. 21 will become the first Roman Catholic to serve as president.

Mint officials said today the coins are standard 25-cent pieces doctored to disguise Washington as a prelate.

The doctored is done in any of several ways. Some of the coins are painted with red enamel and some are dressed up with pieces of red plastic tape in appropriate shape.

WEARS SKULL CAP

On the "heads" side, Washington's powdered wig is covered by a red skull cap called a zucchetto (pronounced zoo-ketto). These are worn by cardinals and stem from the days when all clerics had tonsures, or shaved heads. Washington's shoulders are covered with a red cassock, a clerical garment which has an ankle-length skirt.

The mint has no evidence that "Kennedy quarters" are being mass produced by any particular group or organization. However, officials are fearful the gag might sweep the country and botch up the supply of quarters.

Leland Howard, assistant director of the Bureau of the Mint, said Treasury lawyers can find no federal law against this type of coin trickery.

U.S. Keeps Control of Base on Trinidad

CROWN POINT, Tobago (AP) — The only active U.S. naval base in the south Caribbean will remain under control of the United States for 17 years through an agreement reached with leaders of the new West Indies Federation.

The base, located at Chaguaramas on the island of Trinidad, was obtained in the 1941 bases-for-destructors deal between the United States and Britain.

The Federation wants to use part of the base for its new capital, and 21,000 acres will therefore be given up by the United States. The remainder of the base will be retained until 1977 to carry out "important defense and electronic research missions." Presumably this includes tracking missiles fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Wanted to Make Certain He Got the Right Man

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Arthur Kirsley Jr., 6, saw Santa Claus Thursday—five of him.

Making the rounds on his own in downtown Cincinnati after becoming separated from his older sister, Arthur was looking for Santa No. 6 when his worried dad found him.

Said Kirsley Sr.: "He wants a rocking horse and air rifle. He wants to be a cowboy in the worst way. I guess he won't taking any chances Santa would give him."

Expect W. Va. to Be Renewal Guinea Pig

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Look for West Virginia, with its particularly critical economic problems, to get permission to carry out pilot ventures in a vast new area redevelopment program.

That was the word from Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., and others after the 21-map task force Douglas heads laid the organizational groundwork Friday for recommendations it will give President-elect John F. Kennedy by Jan. 1.

Subcommittees of the big group will meet next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in Washington.

Then they'll reconvene on Dec. 27 to formulate the over-all recommendation for assistance to economically depressed areas.

2nd Canadian Network Wins BBG Permission

OTTAWA (UPI) — The Board of Broadcast Governors (BBG) Friday approved in principle the formation of a second Canadian television network to be operated by the private broadcasting industry.

In a series of decisions stemming from its public hearings Nov. 29 and 30, the BBG announced that permission is being granted to S. W. Caldwell of Toronto to incorporate as "Canadian Television Network Limited."

Gov.-Elect Swanson Invited

Dedication for Union Hall Sunday

Officials of Fisher Body Local 598, UAW, hope that Gov.-Elect Swanson will be present for the dedication of their $100,000 hall, 621 Baldwin Ave., Sunday.

Swanson, scheduled to attend several affairs, over the weekend has promised to be on hand if for a dedicatory talk. Leonard Woodcock, vice president; and Emil Mazzy, secretary-treasurer. It was Mazzy who turned the first shovel of sod at the groundbreaking for the one-story brick building in June.

Also expected are Kenneth Morris and George Merrell, UAW regional directors, and a large representation of UAW officers and members from the Pontiac area.

City commissioners and city administrators have been invited along with a number of civic leaders.

Dedicatory ceremonies are scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. Afterwards there will be an open house with music and refreshments until 6 p.m. The general public is also invited.

Featuring an auditorium seating 350, the hall was constructed between June and September by A. N. Hickson, general contractor. The local had used a converted home next door for more than 20 years.

The move into the new hall came in September. The first membership came the following month.

Completion of the Fisher local hall means that two of Pontiac's three big UAW locals now have modern headquarters. Pontiac Motor Local 633 has been in a new building on Kismet Road several years and Yellow Cab Local 594 is planning a building on East Boulevard at Midway Avenue.

'Action Needed Now for Hard-Hit Areas'

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The chairman of a special committee on depressed areas said today it is time for action rather than study.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., prepared his statement for the organization meeting of a 17-member committee named by President-elect John F. Kennedy. It will recommend ways of helping the depressed areas.

"I believe strongly that the time for action is now. We have not discovered all the answers, but I do believe we have learned enough to take constructive and responsible action in the immediate future."

Douglas set forth four other guide lines, in which he said have influenced his thinking on the problem in West Virginia and other states.

He listed them as:

1. A distinction must be made between areas of chronic, long-term unemployment, and areas of temporary short-term unemployment.
 2. In formulating a program, the group should determine which proposals can be put into effect immediately and which are long term.
 3. Local and state governments as well as the federal government have roles to play in meeting these problems.
 4. Efforts should be bipartisan.
- In announcing formation of the committee last Sunday, Kennedy moved to fulfill a campaign pledge. He asked the group of business, labor, government and civic leaders to plan what he called a desperately needed federal aid program for chronic unemployment areas.

Kennedy intends to send an aid plan to the new Congress short-

Appeal Against Reuther Upheld

Massachusetts Court Allows Reopening of $1 Million Suit

BOSTON (UPI)—The Massachusetts Supreme Court has upheld the appeal by 1,100 local members in their $1 million suit against United Auto Workers Union President Walter P. Reuther.

The local, claiming that the UAW failed to obtain severance pay for them when the Ford Motor Co.'s Somerville assembly plant was closed, had appealed a superior court ruling which said it did not have jurisdiction in the suit.

Under the Supreme Court decision, signed by Justice R. Ammi Cutler, the workers could return to superior court to reopen their suit.

The State Supreme Court, in remanding the case back to superior court, said that court had jurisdiction in the matter and that the suit against Reuther and other UAW officers was properly brought since they were duly elected officers of the national union.

UAW officials agreed in 1959 to leave the $1 million in the treasury of the defunct local pending the court action following filing of the suit in February 1959. The Ford Somerville plant was shut down in March of 1958.

Chairman of Wayne Dem Committee Resigns

DETROIT (UPI)—Mrs. Elsie Gilmore has announced her resignation, effective Jan. 1 as chairman of the Wayne County Democratic Committee.

Mrs. Gilmore, who has held the post since 1954, gave no reason for her resignation.

It Seems to Me . . .

Russian Ideas of Undermining World Do Not Include War

From listening, reading and observing, I don't believe the Soviets have any intention of bringing about a shooting war. At least it isn't on their agenda for consideration in the near future.

They have other plans. And they're as bad.

Apparently, the Russians are convinced that the smartest thing they can do right now is to undermine the world by infiltration, spies and inside sabotage. This latter includes government, industry, education, unions and anything that happens to present itself. They'd give a small kum of the Kremlin itself to get their hands on American newspapers.

I have no patience with professional witch hunters or the amateurs that pass in the night under the dubious guise of do-gooders. They aren't a whit better.

Unhappily for the free world, all nations harbor a percentage of misguided people that are especially susceptible to the blandishments of the Reds. Some of these are pure opportunists and figure that if the Soviets take command they can aspire to positions of prominence and importance because they have already aided and abetted the unholy cause. Others have communistic leanings because they have nothing to lose. Probably some are actually nitwit believers who swallow the bait and find themselves hooked.

The honor and integrity of the Nation means nothing. These misfits and traitors are for themselves exclusively.

Through them, Russia seeks to spread unrest, doubt and uneasiness in the United States, Central and South America and whatever European and Asiatic citadels they can storm within. I don't think the Reds actually entertain much hope of enslaving the world by sheer power and military might. The horrible and ghastly penalties would be clear out of proportion to the gains. Our retaliation would be fearful beyond words.

Hence, infiltration's the key. Stealth supercedes power.

This simply means that we must redouble our efforts to smoke out the silly spies within.

That's a national job for everyone.

Baby Brings Warmth . . .

No baby in history ever received as much attention in this country as the current KENNEDY youngster. It's refreshing.

The Associated Press reports that his actual birth was splashed more generously across front pages than ever before.

International leaders, U.S. tycoons, criminals, well-known women and everyone else gracefully made way for the youngster. It shows a warm heart still beats among American men and women for they responded instinctively to the little boy.

"Soapy" Misses Job . . .

Gov. WILLIAMS missed that post in the KENNEDY cabinet. The substitute assignment was a far, far cry from Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. However, I still think the Governor will be salvaged from the land of tom-toms and tattle flies.

Gov. Abraham Ribicoff was given the place Williams' friends were claiming, but Ribicoff wants to go to the Supreme Court. When an opening materializes he'll probably receive the nod and "Soapy" will be rescued and given the Washington job. It figures. Watch events.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter. Good news — in fact, wonderful news: in less than two weeks, the days start getting longer . . .

. . . A dear, little old lady sent the SLOAN-KETTERING Cancer Foundation $5 every year "because her husband died of cancer." And when she passed on, she left the place $400,000. Then, DONALD STONE WALKER, a quiet and elderly gentleman died without fuss or feathers and a will left "his all" to the same foundation. WALKER'S "all" proved to be $15 million.

Mrs. Fred Booth sends a Fiji Times which is the "First Daily Newspaper Published in the World Each Day," because of the International Date Line . . . Eastern New Year's Eve sitters are asking $2 an hour. Is that true locally? . . . In Vienna you can dial a number and get A-Natural to help tune your violin. . . Mary Anglemier says Roger Anthony and Jay Hall, local boys, are two of the half dozen young men photographed in current Tempest advertising . . . I'm advised (by experts) that Ellen Wagner qualifies as one of the area's attractive young women. Ellen, you're "in."

JACKIE KENNEDY's family has just put the Virginia home on the market at a big bargain (and it really is). The tag stands at $850,000 . . . In one Chicago precinct there were 74 votes for KENNEDY and three for NIXON with 22 voters eligible . . . A big fat brief case intrigued an 8-year-old who asked its purpose. Told it was for homework, she shot back incredulously: "You mean an old man like you has to do homework?" . . . They tell me one seventh of the Christmas Club savers are 18 or under and they saved $110 million last year. It's a great habit to cultivate at any age.

He Converts Mob

AIN TEMOUCHENT, Algeria (UPI) — The mob came to jeer the president of France Friday. But they stayed to cheer him instead.

Old soldier Charles de Gaulle made it so.

The mob began forming in the dusty Town Hall Square hours before De Gaulle arrived in this city of 5,000 European settlers and 25,000 Moslems.

They came bearing banners reading "Algerie Française" (French Algeria). Arabs in colorful robes mingled with the grim-faced settlers. There were several scuffles when Arabs hoisted a banner reading "Vive De Gaulle" and "Vive l'Algerie" (Long Live De Gaulle, Long Live Algeria).

WOMEN GRAB BANNER

Young European women screamed and snatched away the Arabs' banner. Meanwhile, De Gaulle had arrived quietly in a heavily escorted limousine. The crowd began chanting defiantly as the 70-year-old World War II leader talked with local dignitaries inside the building.

Then De Gaulle moved toward the front door. He was heard to mutter, "I'm going down there. They're just a lot of noise-makers."

De Gaulle moved out onto the Town Hall steps, standing there motionless, impassive.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Bradie

As Christmas approached in the Austrian village of Oberndorf in 1818, the church organ broke down. Father Joseph Mohr felt that his flock would be disappointed without the prepared organ music, it is said, and so began to write the words of a new song, Silent Night, Holy Night. It is documented that on Christmas Eve day, he handed his words to the church organ, Franz Gruber "with the request that he write for it a suitable melody arranged for two solo voices, chorus, and a guitar accompaniment. On the very same evening the latter . . . handed to the pastor his simple composition, which was thereupon immediately performed on that Holy Night of Christmas Eve . . . Thus, the seeming obstacle of a broken organ, gave rise, through the talent and spirit of two men, to the inspired Christmas carol.

Days of All Faith:

Mark Victory in Battles of Faith

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

All religions in all ages have one problem that does not change: they fight a two-pronged battle. First, they fight against pressures on the outside, intolerance, injustice, the forces of evil in the world. And just as surely they fight against the destructive inner influences of some of their own members who are unconcerned about preserving the purity of the faith.

No group is better acquainted with this double struggle than the Jews, who Wednesday began their eight-day Hanukkah, the Festival of Light, in which one great victory over this age-old tension is dramatically commemorated.

More than 2,000 years ago there existed a situation in Palestine in which the two dangerous forces were clearly delineated. The country had been conquered by the mighty Syrian emperor Antiochus, who had accepted the Greek gods of the Jews and now decreed that they should be official gods of the Jews. He even set up statues of the pagan deities in that holiest of all places, the Temple at Jerusalem. This was the outer enemy.

At the same time there had developed inside the Jewish community many who admired the Greek culture and were quite willing to accept the change. They thought the Greek ways were more sophisticated and genteel. They were all for this kind of progress.

JUDAS THE ZEALOT

But against both outer tyranny and inner indifference stood one indignant zealot, man, Judas Maccabeus, a fiery young leader who in the face of preposterous odds organized a little guerrilla army which for three years harassed the Syrians from the hills and finally in one great push recaptured Jerusalem itself. Once in the city the warriors set about cleansing the defiled Temple and on the twenty-fifth of Kislev, which is Wednesday, the restoration was complete and an eight-day festival of rejoicing began. What may well have been the world's first war for religious liberty had been won.

A Glass of Orange Juice Good for Anyone's Health

Does orange juice, an 8-ounce glass a day, cause arthritis? (Mrs. H.G.)

Hysterectomy at 32. Later hot flashes. Doctor gave me hormone shots which didn't help me a bit. Read about some one taking calcium-vitamin D waters. They helped me a lot. I'm still taking them and I'm grateful. (Mrs. G. D.)

Voice of the People:

Governor-Elect Expresses Thanks to Michigan Voters

I hope to be able to express my appreciation to you in person. During my term of office I intend to visit every part of the state as I did during my campaign and thus be able to see as many of you as possible and to again call upon you for aid and counsel.

It was collective thinking and effort that won the campaign and brought endorsement of the platform the Democratic Party developed for continued progress in Michigan. Confirmation of this combined thought and effort will add greatly in putting our program into effect.

I have planned to meet with leaders in business, industry, labor, education, and other professions to discuss the problems and challenges that are Michigan's. I plan to meet with others through the state in the times ahead and keep in touch with you on a regular basis.

'Central's Cheering Squad Lacks Spirit'

I was shocked at the lack of enthusiasm shown by Pontiac Central's cheerleaders at a recent basketball game. The pep assemblies and pep talks are a waste of time when students attend a game and find the cheerleaders are merely "ornaments" on the sidelines.

I got far more enjoyment out of listening to the strong, spirited yells of the cheering team, led by a group of cheerleaders who verbally showed that they were behind their team all the way.

How do the people of Pontiac expect their "Chads" to remain the No. 1 team in the state without the encouragement they need from their fellow classmates and without the marvelous cheerleaders that Pontiac Central has had in the past?

Graduate of 1959

What's wrong with the Pontiac Central cheerleaders? They've got less spirit than any cheerleading squad I've seen. How do they expect the school to have a winning record if they haven't got it themselves. Come on let's have more cheer.

'Will Tax Increase Balance Out Loss?'

Can Michigan afford to jeopardize its industrial reputation further, as it plans to do in the special session ahead? Here is the score: Michigan is cancelling liquor taxes and increasing tax on baby foods and the total cost of telephone, which are absolutely necessary to poor business and people over 70. Will the gains be worth the industry movements and general climate of Michigan's reputation?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Let Laymen Aid in Church Work

Samuel's challenging criticisms of churches merit our attention. And don't try to avoid meeting the issue by attacking me for frankly getting down to brass tacks. Times are changing and dominant churches today may be "spitzer" sects in the year 2000 if they don't get help to applied psychology.

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE G-48: Samuel J. aged 35, is a personnel director. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I think churches need more applied psychology, both as regards their advertising and personnel problems."

"For example, I think the current shortage of clergymen can't really be a boom. It should permit more laymen to occupy the pulpit."

"The Mornings. DR. CRANE for example, let laymen handle their services. Other church denominations might profitably follow their example."

"For people lose their vital interest in a church when they don't have specific tasks to perform. "A church with 4,000 members has no specific tasks to perform. It would be better to have 10 churches with 400 members apiece, for then there would be 10 church school superintendents instead of one."

"And 10 choirs, plus 10 head ushers, etc. As our churches grow too big, don't they stifle the individual initiative of laymen?"

When too many bees inhabit a hive, then a group will "swarm," taking their queen with them, to create a new home.

Perhaps it would be smart if churches followed this example, and lost their leadership to the Methodists and Baptists.

The latter day laymen as preachers, who struggle on foot with the westward trek of pioneer migration.

The ritzy New England clergy couldn't travel without a coach and a span of horses, so they had to wait till good roads were built.

Meanwhile, the Baptists and Methodists had staked out their land in almost every community via a log cabin meeting house.

Nowadays, could the Methodists and Baptists be losing out to other pioneering sects who stick closer to the needs of mankind? What do you think?

Ans. Write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich. enclosing a 10-cent self-addressed envelope and 25 cents to new typing and printing costs when you send him your psychological cases and problems. (Copyright 1960)

$2 Million Closer to $216,000?Attack Attorney General for Calling Book 'Phony'

NEW YORK (AP)—Both dance-court papers, commented: "This is ridiculous." Whether Darvas made two dollars or two million with his stock, he's doing fine literarily," said Mazel. "His book has already sold more than 100,000 copies—at a profit of more than $80,000 to him."

Darvas' book relates how he parlayed $37,000 into $2 million through his system, playing the market from January 1953 to July 1959.

From that point to October 1960, Lefkowitz said investigation showed, Darvas lost $85,000 in the market.

NEARER $216,000

Lefkowitz also said a probe of Darvas' accounts and records make the figure he won on the market nearer $216,000 than $2 million. The lesser figure, Lefkowitz said, was for the 1953-59 period. And taking into consideration the subsequent loss, Lefkowitz said, Darvas' 1953-60 profit was only about $152,000.

The attorney general said an extensive investigation by his office brought no evidence that Darvas achieved any other profits.

The statement added: "The publication of this book has not the slightest relevance to anything involving the attorney general's regulation of stock operations."

Mazey Wants NLRB Shake-Up, New Laws

CHICAGO (U)—The membership of the National Labor Relations Board should be shaken up and new laws should be passed to protect employees from unfair labor practices, says Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers.

Mazey cited two cases in which, he said, unions were unable to get justice after years of hardship imposed by unfair labor practices of employers.

One case he described to the UAW's Skilled Trades conference at the opening of its three-day session involved a 1951 organizing attempt of the union at the Wagon Iron Works, Milwaukee.

College's Future Looks Bright

Pledges of $333,500 Speed Groundwork for West Michigan School

GRAND RAPIDS (U)—A fast-growing nest egg, a planning administration, and a naming contest were plus signs Friday in groundwork for the Grand Valley College at West Michigan.

The developments were reported by L. William Seidman, board of control chairman, following a meeting at Muskegon.

Edward J. Frey, chairman of the board's finance committee, reported that the proposed state-supported college has received firm commitments on contributions of $333,500 toward a goal of $1 million that must be obtained privately, along with a campus site, before the college charter takes effect.

He said the amount has been pledged by 15 companies or foundations in the Grand Rapids area. "There are many more firms where we're just waiting for their boards to take action," Seidman added.

Seidman also announced Dr. Chris A. DeYoung, professor emeritus of Illinois State Normal University, has agreed to serve at least six months on a five-member planning administration of professional educators to set details for the college. The school will serve an eight-county area.

Board member Dale Stafford of Greenville is chairman of a board-approved contest to seek a new name for the school.

He said it would start within the next 10 days and the winner will receive a four-year scholarship to the college or designate someone to receive it.

Mrs. John A. Kistler of Grand Haven, board treasurer, said the school's budget was expected to be submitted to the state budget director as soon as possible in Council of Protestant Churches to ban alcohol at his inaugural functions.

'Sister Eileen' Star Remembers Brando

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—Eileen Stritch was supposed to give me an interview about Elaine Stritch but she gave me one about Marion Brando.

Even though she now plays Ruth in "My Sister Eileen" on TV, Elaine can't get accustomed to the fact that she's a personality in her own right.

"I have a terrible weakness for actors," she said, and that was the way we got onto Brando. "Except that they get jealous and mean in front of people. That's because they're not secure. I did meet one secure actor once—Burt Lancaster. He has a sense of humor about himself."

"With Brando, in his life it's got to be all him. He lacks a real interest in you."

Naturally, I wondered how she knew so much about Brando and she told me.

"I don't even know Marion any more—but down at the Dramatic Workshop in Greenwich Village about 10 years ago we had some dates. I fell madly in love with him, of course."

"Every Saturday night he was taking out the ugliest girl in the class, the one with the buck teeth."

"It was his idea of generosity. It was the last girl he asked. He made me wait, see? Then he said 'Where do you want to go? How about the Public Library?'"

"We went and looked at books—he put on a show about how intellectual he was. And so the years passed and they both became big names, and Elaine saw him at a Hollywood party."

"In a fix," she remembered. "Oh, he's such a great actor. He's Picasso!" "I thought to myself, 'I don't even know Marion any more. This isn't the guy I knew in the Village in those years.'"

"I don't think it would be interesting to talk to him—he's gone—so I didn't."

Just for being so nice about it, she should have further mention made of her TV show. Sister Eileen is played by Shirley Bond—who at 26 is the mother of three and a doll-like teen-ager in appearance.

"The resemblance between us is spooky," Elaine said. "There was some doubt about her in the beginning. I got a letter from my father and mother in Birmingham, Mich., the other day. My father wrote to me. 'Your mother and I have finally decided that Shirley is adorable.' Shirley's in!"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

"DON'T PRINT THAT!" Shelley Berman's poodle Demi-Tasse had a pup, prominently named Espresso . . . Robert Mitchum plays a private, his son Jim plays a corporal in "The Last Time I Saw Archie."

EARL'S PEARLS: The day a man becomes a celebrity, his signature suddenly becomes an autograph.

WISH IT SAID THAT: Do you realize that this is the first generation we can't teach that everything that goes up must come down? . . . That's cart, brother.

Fatal Mishaps Total Up; Also Population

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's accident death rate may hit a record low this year, the National Safety Council says. But fatal mishaps are on the increase.

The council attributes the contradiction to a steady rise in the nation's population which is outdistancing the death rate from accidents of all kinds.

The council said statistics for the first nine months this year indicate a death rate for the year of 51.1 for every 100,000 persons. The low record of 52.4 deaths was set in 1959.

Fatal accidents for the first nine months totaled 68,500, an increase of one per cent over the same period last year. But the population has increased two per cent.

Four More Arraigned in Records Fraud

NEW YORK (UPI)—Four more men were arraigned in Brooklyn felony court today as members of a statewide counterfeit record ring and an investigator said "big names" soon will enter the case.

The gang had planned to flood the nation with bogus Frank Sinatra and Johnny Mathis records, police said.

Asst. Dist. Atty. William Sonenshine refused to say whether the "big names" were in entertainment or the underworld but said "this investigation is now entering the entertainment field itself."

He said more arrests are expected. Nine men were arraigned in Brooklyn and hearings were set for Dec. 11.

Electoral Vote Hits New Snag

Library of Congress in Washington Raises Issue of Word 'Appointed'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Library of Congress has raised a new factor in the Republican recount challenges in Illinois and other states which seek to trim or overturn the electoral vote margin of President-Elect John F. Kennedy.

The library, in response to inquiries, said that if Illinois Republicans succeeded in withholding that state's 27 electoral votes from Kennedy, it would only reduce the number of votes Kennedy needs to win.

The Democrat now is credited with 300 electoral votes. But if the 27 Illinois votes were withdrawn, as GOP Gov. William G. Stratton has suggested, Kennedy would have only 273. It had been assumed that this would be only four more than the 269 needed for a majority.

But the library said it seemed clear that if Illinois refused to cast its 27 votes, the number of "appointed electors"—the wording in the Constitution—would drop from 537 to 510. Kennedy then would need only 256—a majority of 510-1—win.

The library said the issue hung on the meaning of the constitutional phrase "appointed electors." It said the reasonable assumption was that the Constitution meant what it said—the president shall be chosen by a majority of the electors actually "appointed."

The same situation would apply to other states where the vote outcome is or might be contested.

Hughes Nears Finish of Jet Fleet Deal

NEW YORK (UPI)—Howard Hughes has virtually completed arrangements for a $265 million financing program for Trans World Airlines' jet fleet, it was announced.

A group of banks and insurance companies will lend TWA $165 million. The other $100 million will come from subordinated income debentures with detachable stock warrants offered to TWA stockholders.

Hughes' company, the Hughes Tool Co., which owns 78 per cent of TWA stock, will buy its full share of debentures. It also agreed to assume debentures not taken up by other stockholders in order to guarantee the $165 million.

The TWA stock owned by the Hughes Tool Co. will be placed in the hands of three trustees, two representing the lenders and one representing the Hughes Company. Until the 16-year voting trusteeship has been formed, the stock will be placed in escrow, the announcement said.

The program will insure early delivery of Conquest 880 jet aircraft and the financing of 72 Boeing 707 jets now flying for TWA.

Strike at Sex, Love, Harvard . . .

Will Publish Letters Sent to U.S. Actress by Shaw to U.S. Actress

NEW YORK (AP)—A collection of letters written by the late George Bernard Shaw to an American actress—known only to a few persons and hidden for years—will be made public next week.

In the 125 letters, most of them discovered in an old trunk in Rome, the finely honed Shavian wit strikes out at sex, love, Americans, Russia, Harvard and countless other targets.

Curiously, some of his caustic advice sounds like the dialogue between Professor Henry Higgins and his cockney pupil, Eliza Doolittle, in Shaw's play, "Pygmalion"—which was later to become the musical, "My Fair Lady."

The letters were written between 1921 and 1940 to Molly Tompkins, an actress and later a painter, of New York. She died this year.

HIDDEN BEFORE WAR

Was there a romance? "Who knows and who cares," Peter, a Washington, D. C. answers Mrs. Tompkins son. "Molly Tompkins was a formidable contender for a place alongside Ellen Terry and Mrs. Patrick Campbell, London stage favorites of Shaw's earlier days."

What about Mrs. Tompkins's letters to Shaw? They're missing. Presumably he destroyed the 1,000 letters she wrote him before his death—at age 91 in 1950.

The letters will be published in an illustrated volume, "To 91—1950."

Juvenile Courts, Inc., Given Kellogg Grant

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A five-year grant of $277,762 to the children's charter of the Juvenile Courts of Michigan, Inc., was announced Thursday by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation.

The grant will be used for "research into the causes of juvenile delinquency and the means for more effective prevention of youth crime."

Reflections

The Priceless Ingredient It can't be money; through thrift, wisdom and denial a man may accumulate money and have it stolen. Marriages consummated with money as the motivating factor change divorce courts. Nations go to war over money. This priceless ingredient is something far beyond physical possessions and yet it is within reach of everyone.

As an example let me show you a father and mother who struggle to keep their children in school, clothed, healthy and housed. These people meet their bills promptly. Their food may be coarse. Their home is small in a less desirable part of town. Their social life is restricted to simple entertainment. They have one car and it is transportation for dad. In spite of austerity you find boundless happiness. Each child has a task and does it. Mother sings while preparing some special food, or cutting out a dress for a girl, or making a shirt for dad; this family works together. These people possess the Priceless Ingredient. It is Integrity.

Integrity cannot be purchased. It is built with many small things—honor, selfishness, thoughtfulness and unadulterated love. Integrity is priceless—and yet it is free.

Sees Military Costs Up in Spite of Reorganization

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Stuart Symington said Thursday that President-Elect John F. Kennedy probably will have to boost military spending above current $41 billion-a-year levels even if a controversial new defense reorganization is adopted.

The Missouri Democrat told a news conference that U.S. defenses are inadequate for the nuclear age and that the reorganization study group was "trying to save the nation's neck rather than its money."

Macmillan Hints of Inviting Chou

British Prime Minister Says, However, This Is Not Right Time

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan dropped a broad hint Friday that when the time is ripe he may invite Premier Chou En-Lai of Red China to visit Britain. The British leader made it clear to questioners in the House of Commons, however, he does not consider such an invitation would be useful at the present time.

WILL CONSIDER IDEA

Macmillan also said he would consider a suggestion to undertake a visit to Peking in any future journey he makes to the Far East.

The issue arose during question time in the House of Commons. Conservative followers and labor opponents pressed Macmillan to display an initiative with the aim of improving relations with the Chinese Communist government. To these promptings Macmillan replied amid a murmur of approval: "I understand the spirit of these suggestions."

"I think that in these personal efforts which I may try to make, I must try to choose conditions which are favorable, having regard to the whole complex of problems involved."

A group of 38 Laborites asked the House to thank Premier Khrushchev for supporting a policy of peaceful coexistence at the recently concluded Communist summit conference in Moscow.

This unusual motion suggested that Khrushchev is a preserver of world peace and by implication Communist China's Mao Tse-tung is cast in a harsher light.

Most of the spirit of the motion were members of the divided party's left wing. Whether or not the motion is ever debated depends on the support it gains.

Obviously, Prime Minister Macmillan's government will resist any motion which picks and chooses between Communist leaders.

Kennedy Will Attend Orange Bowl Game

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy has accepted an invitation to the New Year's Day Orange Bowl football game in Miami, Fla., last weekend.

Smithers, a close friend of Kennedy's, said he asked the president-elect to attend the game in Miami when Kennedy was in Palm Beach, Fla., last weekend.

State Agriculture Group Elects Head at Meeting

EAST LANSING (AP) — Herbert Van Aken of Eaton Rapids was elected president of the Michigan Agriculture Conference at its annual meeting at Michigan State University. He succeeds Verli Baldwin of Stoddard.

Van Aken operates a 400-acre poultry and feeder cattle farm northeast of Eaton Rapids. Glenn Lake of North Branch, president of the Michigan Milk Producers association, was elected vice president. Forrest A. Smith of East Lansing was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The conference is composed of representatives of 80 Michigan farm groups.

America Bad for His Orphans?

Keeps Koreans From U.S.

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Even with 13,000 children in 139 orphanages scattered over South Korea, Dr. Bob Pierce usually says "No" to American parents who want to adopt them.

The man who heads World Vision, Inc., an organization which pays for the parentless Korean youngsters' support, thinks it is important to the children and to Korea to keep them in their own country.

"Dr. Bob, as he is called, worries about his child's ability to be absorbed in Western culture . . . his acceptance by schoolmates, his later chances to marry."

"The country is suffering now from a lack of leadership," the ordained Baptist minister adds. "We don't want to deprive Korea of the best kind of trained civil servants that Christian love can produce."

However, there ARE orphans in Korea to be adopted by Americans. One such baby, a blue-eyed, brown-haired GI-Korean child sitting in a garbage dump prompted Dr. Bob to start his work with orphans.

"I'm all for Americans adopting mixed-blood children and taking them from countries where the cultural pattern means absolute rejection for the child," Dr. Bob says. "The GI children broke my heart. Koreans absolutely would not accept them."

Following wide publicity about the plight of the mixed-blood children Americans adopted or are adopting them.

Those orphanages financed by the World Vision Inc. house full-blood Koreans. "We're raising them in their own culture," Dr. Bob says.

FOLLOWS CHINA TOUR
Dr. Bob became a servant of missionaries following a tour of China in 1947. Three years later he founded World Vision, Inc., to raise money for Protestant missionaries at work in places of need with financial help. The orphanages are administered by Korean churches

Christmas Film at Family Dinner

Young People to Take Cookies to Pontiac State Hospital

The film, "Christmas in Hong Kong," will be shown when the congregation of First Presbyterian Church holds the Christmas Family Dinner at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday. The program will also include card singing.

Mrs. Roy Tashender is dinner chairman, and Mrs. Clyde Horning will be in charge of decorations.

Hosts and hostesses include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pritchett, Mrs. Malory Coleman, Mrs. Glen Dolan, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Meacham, The Chester Varneys, the Harry Partitions, Mr. and Mrs. Ann Drury and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon E. Doudle.

Leading Junior High Pioneers Sunday evening will be Gary Minkley. The film, "The Spirit of Christmas," will be shown.

Sevier High Tuxis will meet at the church Sunday evening to deliver cookies for patients. The patients will meet with the group.

The Pontiac Council of United Women will meet at 1 p.m. in the church parlour: civic sewing for the American Cancer Society is scheduled for 10 a.m. Thursday.

Newly elected Clubs Club officers include the Orrin Hunttons, presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lazelle, membership chairman; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rabb, secretary and treasurer.

Students Again Read From Bible, Pray
GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Newhall public schools of suburban Wyoming have returned to optional prayer or reading without comment from scripture to start class days.

The practice resumed Thursday after a school board meeting earlier, open to the public, set formal policy for teachers.

It ended a ban which had been in effect about a month.

One school spokesman said the policy is "very much the same as before, except that it formerly was unwritten and now is spelled out."

Teachers may read from Scripture without comment or lead pupils in the Lord's Prayer.

But no teacher must engage in the practice and no pupils are ordered to take part.

The ban took effect after parents of a pupil complained that a kindergarten teacher had read aloud from a religious pamphlet on her desk and sent copies home with her pupils.

The new policy was recommended by clergymen after a study of the problem.

Calvin Commentaries
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—The last two volumes of a new translation of Calvin's Commentaries on the New Testament have been issued by Eerdmans Publishing Co.

The new translation, prepared under the editorship of biblical scholars Thomas F. Torrance and David W. Torrance, is the first in more than 100 years.

The initial volumes, of a projected 12, are the Swiss reformer's commentaries on the first Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians and on the Gospel According to St. John.

PREPARE CRECHE—Young people's groups of the Baldwin Evangelical United Brethren Church prepare the Nativity scene and decorate the church for Christmas. A few of the group are Phyllis Hardy of 25 W. Strathmore Ave. and Ermaeene Bennett of 40 Poplar St. (at left); Ronnie Metz of 35 Foster St. and Steve Ritter of 71

Hamilton St. The religious film, "The Boy and His Bible" will be presented at 7 p.m. Sunday in the church. The Rev. Myron E. Everett, pastor, will preach on "Guide Book of Life" at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning.

Rev. Johnson to Lead Session
Joins Staff of Institute for Advanced Pastoral Studies, Cranbrook Center, Bloomfield Hills, makes another step forward for this interdenominational venture.

Mr. Johnson joined the Institute this Fall after serving five years as director of Christian Education for the Chicago Baptist Association.

Before that he held a similar position for six years with the New York State Baptist Convention.

Graduating from the University of Missouri in 1936 and possessor of a B.D. degree from the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School in 1939, he has been interested in the area of Christian Education for his entire ministry.

Rev. Mr. Johnson is married and the father of three girls.

The Institute will plan to run two sessions concurrently now, with Mr. Johnson directing one and the Rev. Paul Nicely, a Congregational minister who joined the staff in 1958, the other.

In its three year life span the Institute has drawn 470 ministers, representing 21 different denominations from 48 states and six foreign countries.

Groups of 12 men gather for 10-day sessions in which they examine their problems and work to make their ministry more effective.

THE TEXT
"Thus shall love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength; this is the first and great commandment."

THINGS TO CONSIDER ABOUT THE TEXT
In this article last week, using this same scripture as a text, I pointed out that there are many who believe that love is the only way to solve our problems. I pointed out that love is the only way to solve our problems. I pointed out that love is the only way to solve our problems.

PLAN OF SALVATION
The Bible teaches that man is born in sin and is deserving of eternal punishment. The only way to escape this punishment is by accepting Jesus Christ as our Lord and Savior. This is the plan of salvation.

Men's Chorus to Sing Sunday

'Retreat and Decision' Film to Be Shown at Oakland Ave. Church

The Men's Chorus of 39 voices will sing at the 7 p.m. worship service at the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

The 10th in the series of films on the life of Christ entitled "Retreat and Decision" will be shown. Sequences in the picture include portrayals of the epileptic boy, Christ's concern for little children, the raising of Lazarus from the dead, and His triumphant entry into Jerusalem.

The Rev. Theodore R. Albrecht will preach on "What the Bible Teaches About Mission" at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

"Living Little Lives" will be the subject of the Pioneer youth group at 5:45 p.m. The Builders' group will meet at the same time with the theme, "Angels—Then and Now."

The deacons are asking the congregation to bring food and clothing for needy families to church tomorrow and on Dec. 18. A Christmas card exchange plan is under the direction of Harold Benner's Sunday School class.

The Rev. and Mrs. James Savage, missionaries from Brazil, will be guests at the quarterly meeting of the Women's Association Monday.

All members 65 years of age and older will be given a pin and any members who have joined this year will be recognized.

The Oakland Avenue Church will conduct the service at the Pontiac Rescue Mission Tuesday evening.

Chapel Choir to Perform for 1st Time Sunday

The new Chapel Choir composed of junior high young people will sing for the first time 9 a.m. Sunday at the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

Rev. Edward D. Anshur, pastor, will preach on "A Promise Fulfilled" at the two morning worship hours when the congregation observes Universal Bible Sunday.

The outreach committee will direct a discussion on "Another Way to Serve" at the Senior High Fellowship meeting at 6 p.m. Leading devotions will be David Sprunk.

Robert Newton will preside at the trustees' meeting Monday evening. Tuesday will get together.

The pastor will lead the Bible study for the Women's Association at 11 a.m. Wednesday and Mrs. Rudolph Schaffrich will lead the discussion and program at the noon luncheon.

Junior highs will meet for a 5 p.m. supper Thursday.

The six choirs will rehearse Saturday for the annual Christmas Choir Festival scheduled for 7 p.m. on Dec. 18.

Religious Yule Cards Gaining in Popularity

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Greeting Card Association reports that about 30 percent of this year's Christmas cards will stress the religious significance of the feast.

The most popular religious Christmas card design, reports the association, is the Madonna. Next in popularity are manger scenes.

Confident Living Pair Finds That Hostility Cuts Off Spiritual Power

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A thrilling thing has happened to a husband and wife who came to me last December for advice about a problem. The real business enterprise from which they derive their livelihood had not been doing well. Disagreements and hard feelings had developed between the husband and his partner.

"I have just received from the husband a letter beginning, 'This is a progress report. It reminds me, 'The sharing of our problem with you started last year with an interview that took place that snowy day just before Christmas. We left you feeling that we had the world by the tail.'"

Well, apparently, they had not yet really found the right approach, for the "report" continues, "But things didn't seem actually to change much as the months rolled by. We felt we were praying right as you have instructed us but things in the business just seemed to be going from bad to worse."

"Then something happened! A new group of your sermons arrived in the mail. That evening my wife selected one that looked particularly interesting and read it aloud to me. It was titled 'Prayer Gives You Right Answers.'"

"Do you remember how in this sermon you said you felt impelled to pray that Sunday morning even more earnestly than you ordinarily do and you had wondered if perhaps there was titled 'Prayer Gives You Right Answers.'"

"Well, I don't know how many there were in your congregation that morning who were in some crisis, but I do know that out here among those who reach by mail your sermon hit home with my wife and me. You seemed to be talking directly to us."

"We went up to our bedroom and prayed as is our custom. We asked God to cleanse us of all the remnants of hostility and resentment that we knew were still clinging to us, and if there was any hate to give us the strength and power to replace it with love."

"We prayed to God that He ease Jim's burden, which we knew was great—the burden causing him to do things and make decisions that were giving us so much worry."

"We felt renewed! And within 48 hours a crisis occurred which opened the way for the talk with Jim that you had suggested in our interview back before last Christmas."

"This occurred less than a week ago, and sufficient time had not passed to know the end result."

And he concludes with his own explanation of why it was he and his wife had not been getting anywhere before this recent incident:

"Though we thought we were on good speaking terms with God and prayed religiously to Him, we were insulated against His power and goodness by the insidious negatives of resentment, criticism and maybe a little unconscious covetousness as well."

I think that word "insulated" is very apt. It really tells the story. Hostility blocks the flow of spiritual power. The supreme conduct of spiritual power is the very opposite of hostility: love.

"He prayeth best who loveth best," says the Ancient Mariner, in Coleridge's famous poem.

I believe one of the ways God most often helps us with our practical difficulties is by putting more love into our hearts: love of Him, of life and our fellow men, and some-times love in the form of good will toward persons we have inwardly been criticizing and resenting.

Youth Fellowship Group Giving Vesper Program

Members of the 10th and 11th grade Youth Fellowship group of Bethany Baptist Church will be in charge of the annual vesper service at 8 p.m. Sunday. The theme is "Renewal of the Church in Today's World."

Participating in the program will be Jeff Bergemann, Betty Douglas, Roger Ferguson, Martha Foren, Ken Goff, Sally Hamilton, Karen Olsen, Bud Oser, Joel Snyder, Dick Taylor and Gail Travis.

Dr. Charles A. Carman, interim minister, will begin his series of sermons on the "Holy Family" with the subject "Mary, the Virgin Mother" at both the 8:40 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday.

The choir will sing "The Voice in the Wilderness." Maynard Johnson will lead the fifth session of the adult forum with the subject "The Church and Our City" at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Harold B. Euler, administrator of Pontiac General Hospital, will show slides and inform the group concerning "Our Hospital." A discussion period will follow.

Members and friends of Bethany will gather for the "Family Christmas Festival" at 7 p.m. Friday.

Evening activities will include decorating Fellowship Hall as a large living room, packing Christmas baskets for the needy, making favors for hospitals, preparing evening refreshments, and wrapping packages.

A program of Christmas stories and music will be presented by the Sunday School.

Directing activities will be Mrs. Robert Stokols, chairman, Mrs. William Morris, Mrs. Turis M. Cully, Mrs. Lewis Correll, Mrs. Russell Anderson, Mrs. Howard Hest, Mrs. B. L. Gillette, Edna Sauter, Douglas Anderson, Robert Williams, Mrs. Mary Cheney, William Shirley, Mrs. Quintin Kemmer and Harlan Boyce.

Dr. A. D. Grey to Speak on 'Gifts for Christ Child'

"Gifts for the Christ Child" will be the theme of Dr. Alfred D. Grey's sermon to his congregation at Pine Hill Congregational Church Sunday morning.

Services are held in the Pine Lake Elementary School on West Long Lake Road, one mile west of Middle Bell Road.

Members are expected to make pledges tomorrow for the coming year, known as Loyalty Sunday.

Children of the Sunday School will present a Christmas program at 5 p.m. on Dec. 18.

Guest Speaker Sunday

The Rev. Paul Fred of Trans-world radio—Voice of Tangiers, which beams into Russia, will be the speaker on Dec. 18 at Memorial Baptist Church.

RINGS CHURCH BELL — For 15 years Clarence L. Hamel of 247 Norton St. has been ringing the bell for worship services and weddings at First Methodist Church. The 36-year-old bell in the tower is one of the oldest in the area.

Ring Out 'Peace on Earth'

Bells old and new will again ring out the angel's song of "Peace on Earth Good Will to Men" when they peal over city rooftops and countryside, causing families to Christmas festivities during the next two weeks.

Before the Christian era bells as we know them didn't exist. Bars of metal and instruments shaped like cymbals were used for the purpose of announcing messages.

The modern bell dates from the fourth century, and is supposed to have been first used to summon Christian people to worship.

Bells in local churches have proclaimed "This is God's World" for nearly a century.

For 96 years the bell in the First Methodist Church tower has rung twice on Sundays. It also peals forth for weddings.

The bell weighing 5,535 pounds was installed at the cost of $1,300 when the church was completed in 1864. The spire on the tower toppled during a storm about 1908.

First Methodist was founded in 1828 in the log cabin home of Ira Dowdell, two and a half miles west of the Village of Pontiac on a site which is now the southwest corner of Elizabeth Lake and Voorhees Roads. The group consisted of 12 members.

Although not so old as the one at First Methodist, the Angelus bell at St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church has rung daily at morning, noon and evening since 1886. At its call, Catholic worshippers stop their work long enough to say a prayer which includes the angel salutation or Ave Maria.

The St. Vincent bell also tolls before and after a funeral service.

USHER RINGS BELL
The head usher pulls the rope to ring the bell each Sunday at Watford Community Church. It dates back to 1869.

The First Congregational Church, the first church in Pontiac currently calls worshippers to services by the playing of the carillon. The old bell from the church built in 1868 hasn't been used for 30 years.

The original First Baptist Church was built on the present site of the S. S. Kresge Store. A second church built in 1898 dedicated the bell to the first pastor, the Rev. Elkanah Comstock who came to the worshippers in 1824.

The present church dedicated in 1913 uses the old bell.

The 90-year-old bell at Grace Lutheran Church first called students to Pontiac High School. It was given by the city in 1870 and placed in the belfry. Later for safety reasons it was taken down

Silvercrest to Show 'Life of Christ' Films

The series of films depicting the "Life of Christ" will be shown Silvercrest Baptist Church, 2562 Dixie Highway, starting Dec. 18.

Chairman of the series, Gene Wright, said, "More than 200 people have speaking parts in the pictures in full color. The film offers the public an opportunity to get a complete political, economic and religious background of the greatest story ever told."

The series begins with the prophecies of Isaiah during the time of Hierekiah and continue through the birth of Christ, the crucifixion and resurrection.

Christmas Is Theme of Music, Sermons

"Covered by His Hand" will be the subject of the Rev. J. Allen Parker's sermon at the 11 o'clock service at Newman AME Church Sunday morning.

The pastor has asked the congregation to read Exodus 33:22.

Lloyd Sutton, superintendent, said Sunday School will start at 9:30 a.m. as well as the First P. Harris Bible Class.

Children will bring gifts of toys to church to be shared with children at the Lapeer State Home and Training School.

Parents will accompany their children to the Youth Department

Bible Quiz at 4:30 p.m. Sunday. Refreshments will be served.

TRINITY BAPTIST
The Children's Choir will sing at the junior church service at 10 a.m. Sunday in Trinity Baptist Church. The Rev. Joseph W. Moore will preach on "Give Me a Star."

At 11 a.m., the Adult and Youth Choirs will sing at the morning worship hour. "The World's Great Disturber" will be the pastor's sermon theme.

Baptist Training Union is scheduled for 6 p.m. At 7:30 a Christmas pageant will be presented by members of the Culture Club.

FIRST METHODIST
The Rev. Paul T. Hart, pastor, will speak on "Not Ashamed of the Gospel" Sunday morning at the First Methodist Church.

The double quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. David Cowan, Mrs. Lloyd Dawson, Mrs. Paul T. Hart, Mrs. George Hevel, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Legge will sing "The Prayer of the Norwegian Child."

The anthem by the Sanctuary Choir will be "In the Bleak Mid-Winter" by Gustav Holst.

During the service the pastor will baptize both infants and adults.

A worker's conference sponsored by the commission on education will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Oliver Dunstan will be in charge.

The Rev. Mr. Hart will lead the Bible study and prayer fellowship hour at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

EVANGEL TEMPLE
"Escape to Egypt," the second of 12 full-color motion pictures covering the life of Christ, will be shown at 7 p.m. Sunday at Evangel Temple, 1380 Mt. Clemens St.

The film portrays why Joseph and Mary remained in Bethlehem after the birth of Jesus, the recognition by Simeon, the ceremony of redemption, Herod's attempt to oust the Wise Men, and the escape of the Holy family into Egypt.

PROVIDENCE MISSIONARY
The Rev. V.L. Siggers of Los Angeles, Calif. will be guest speaker at the 3:30 service Sunday afternoon in Providence Missionary Baptist Church. The Pastor's Aid Club will be in charge.

Catholics Mark Traditional Day

Fiesta at St. Vincent de Paul to Include Mass and Rosary Procession

The Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe, traditional festive religious day for Catholics in Mexico and many parts of Central America, will be observed Sunday at St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church.

Spanish speaking Catholics will honor the Mother of God with a fiesta which includes Mass at 8:45 a.m. and a Rosary procession and crowning ceremony at 3:30 p.m.

According to records at St. Vincent Church, the tradition of the feast day dates back to Dec. 8, 1531 when the Blessed Mother is said to have appeared to an Italian convert, Juan Diego, near Mexico City. It is said she made known to him her wish to have a church erected in her name.

As evidence of her heavenly mission, the peasant gathered roses in mid-winter and when he presented them to the bishop, a picture of the Mother was discovered impressed upon his mantle.

The garment still reposes in the Shrine of Our Lady near Mexico City, one of the most celebrated places of pilgrimage in the New World.

In the ceremonies Sunday afternoon, boys will bear candles, and girls in white dresses will each carry a rose. There will also be maids of honor. Children will represent the crown bearer, Our Lady of Guadalupe and Juan Diego.

A special choir composed of Spanish speaking young people will sing hymns.

The Rev. Joseph P. Femminino, a new assistant pastor, will give the sermon in Spanish. A cooperative dinner and social evening will follow in the parish hall.

Wed in Candlelight Rite

A reception at the Detroit Yacht Club followed the marriage of Susan Meredith Cummins of Commerce Lake to Paul J. Schalm of Forty Fort, Pa., Friday in Kirk in the Hills. Dr. Harold C. DeWitt performed the 6:30 p.m. candlelight ceremony.

Daughter of Mrs. Blanche Hayek Cummins of Moberly Road, Commerce Lake, and Mauston M. Cummins of Bloomfield Hills, the bride was given in marriage by Dale B. File.

An original Bianchi gown of antique ivory bouquet taffeta for the bride was designed with open portrait neckline of hand-clipped Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls and iridescents. The bodice with elbow shy sleeves and cummerbund waistline extended into a bell skirt with monk pleated side detail and an aisle-width cathedral train.

Triple-tiered of French illusion veiling fell from a princess crown of imported wax orange blossoms and seed pearls. The bridal cascade included white Fuji chrysanthemums and ivy.

Sandra Katherine Cummins was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Karen Ann Marusak of Jersey City, N.J.; Joan Cecile Stover, Detroit; Judy Ann Boese, Chicago; Mrs. Dennis Armstrong, Big Rapids and Carole the bridegroom's sister.

Their gowns of green chiffon taffeta featured open portrait necklines and fitted bodices. Bell skirts with open panel detail were styled with Orla auburn.

Imported Belgium wedding-ring wreaths of wax orange blossoms and cascades of white Fuji chrysanthemums completed their ensembles.

Robert Schalm stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Paul Schalm of Forty Fort, Pa. Ushering were Ronald D. Erley, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Lt. Richard M. Eiler, Dayton, Ohio; Lt. Douglas B. Lee, Ithaca, N.Y.; Charles L. Tutt IV, Flint and

A Jan. 27 wedding is planned.

MRS. PAUL J. SCHALM

Edward L. Gobel Jr. of Evansville, Ind.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cummins chose a sheath gown of pale green brocade. Mrs. Schalm was attired in turquoise peau de soie. Both mothers wore white cymbidium orchids.

Following a Caribbean cruise on the bridegroom's yacht, the couple will be at home at Harvey's Lake, Pa.

Old Russia Christmas Is Relived

Mrs. Harry E. Ault of Roost Road, Bloomfield Hills, opened her home for the Christmas meeting of the Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday evening.

Mrs. E. L. Winder and Mrs. Walter Forbes were co-hostesses.

"Christmas in Russia Before the Revolution" was the subject of a talk by Mrs. Julia Gendroff of Herrington Hills, who formerly lived in Russia.

Gifts were brought for teenage girls at the Catland County Youth Home. An antique cut glass punch bowl centered an arrangement of Christmas tree ornaments on the refreshment table.

No One's Fault You're Dreamy

Best Friend Must Realize Subconscious Uncontrollable

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What can I do about my best friend's husband? He talks about me in his sleep. I swear I never even thought about this man as anything but a friend. And he has never once got out of line with me since I have known him.

My friend has told me that she, has heard him talking love about me in his sleep, so I can't blame her for getting suspicious.

I haven't mentioned this to my husband because I don't want to stir anything up. This bothers me a lot and is affecting my friendship with this woman. How should I handle it?

DEAR NOT: The husband of your friend is a victim of his subconscious, and so are you. A man can be held responsible only for what he says when he is awake. If your friend doesn't realize this, there is nothing you can do.

DEAR ABBY: At the age of 13 I was trapped into marrying a girl I did not love. A child was born six months after we were married and I am almost certain that this child is not mine. But I have no way of proving it.

We have been separated for two years and she has another child. There is not a chance in the world that this child is mine. But she is my legal wife and I have to support it. This girl was no good when I married her and she hasn't changed. I will never live with her. How can I get out of this bind?

DEAR TRAPPED: You need legal advice and I am no lawyer. It will cost something, but it will be well worth it.

DEAR ABBY: I am teaching in the first grade of a public school. When the little boys and girls leave school, they want to kiss me. Is it proper for me to let them?

TEACHER: Let them. It is a compliment to you.

Gives Up Room in His House

Good Taste Today

By the Emily Post Institute
Question: I am a young businesswoman in my mid-thirties. For the past three years I have rented a room in the house of a middle-aged couple who have treated me like a daughter. Mrs. Brown died suddenly two weeks ago and I don't know what to do about staying here. I'm afraid that my living here alone with Mr. Brown might cause gossip. I have a lovely room and the rent is very reasonable and I would certainly hate to move, but will do so if you think it the proper thing to do.

Answer: I am very sorry, but unless Mr. Brown brings someone in to keep house for him, you will give the neighbors cause to gossip if you continue to live in his house.

Question: Recently I sent out notes of invitation to a Sunday night supper and worded them as follows: "Dear Mary, Will you and John have supper with us..." etc.

One of the members of my family said that the wording was incorrect, and that all invitations to a husband and wife should begin "Dear Mary and John." If this is so, then I have been wrong for many years. Will you please set me straight on this?

Answer: The form you used, "Dear Mary, Will you and John" ... etc., is every bit as correct as "Dear Mary and John."

Question: Is makeup in bad taste on members of the bereaved family? My father died recently and I understand my sister and I are being criticized for wearing lipstick to the funeral.

I can't see why it should be necessary to look like a ghost and certainly does not lessen our sorrow. I would very much like to have your opinion on this.

Answer: To wear so much as to give an appearance of artificiality is really shocking when worn by one in deep mourning. To add a little color to the lips would not be wrong.

Bethany Women Hold Tea

The Christmas tea of the Woman's Society of Bethany Baptist Church was held Thursday in the lower auditorium of the church.

The Northern Belle of Pontiac Northern High School presented five Christmas selections and led the audience in singing "Silent Night" for the closing number.

Mrs. Grace A. Steeves read the Christmas story for the devotional message.

Mrs. Hayden W. Henley, chairman of the church's Baptist Vesper Service, has appointed Mrs. Henry Berry and Mrs. Edna Hilber as chairmen of the tea to follow four o'clock vesper, Dec. 18 in Bethany Baptist Church. Eight groups of the Woman's Society will assist.

Mrs. Maynard Johnson was chairman for tea served by the Lydia Group, and Mrs. Mark Cheney and Mrs. Ora Randall assisted.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Carman, the church pastor and his wife, of Northport, were guests.

Alumnae Units Set Meetings

Both divisions of the North Woodward Alumnae Association of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority have scheduled meetings on Tuesday.

The afternoon group will have a 12:30 luncheon at the Safford home of Mrs. James Cameron in Birmingham. Cohortesses will be Mrs. Everett Hammonds of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Frank McInnis of Huntington Woods and Mrs. Oren Wallace of Pleasant Ridge.

Mrs. James Wichert of Lathrup Village will conduct the business session and Mrs. John Cavan of Royal Oak will teach the making of gifts for children at Pontiac State Hospital.

The evening group will make decorations and gifts for the children at Pontiac State Hospital at the annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. John Siegemund Jr. of Hupp Cross Road, Bloomfield Hills. Mrs. Peter Grylls will direct the workshop.

Mrs. Carl Waldrop and Mrs. James Tanguay will conduct the business session and Mrs. D. D. Ribbert of Detroit will assist the hostess.

Belles to Ring for Tuesday Musicales

Annual Fete Has Caroling as Its Theme

"Caroling, Caroling Now We Go" is the theme of Pontiac Tuesday Musicales's annual yuletide program.

This will mark the yearly presentation of a program to husbands and guests.

Set for 8 p.m. Tuesday at Washington Junior High School's auditorium, the affair will feature Tuesday Musicales's Chorus under the direction of Mrs. George H. Putnam.

Sharing the spotlight will be the Mackenzie Belles, a group of bell ringers from Detroit's Mackenzie High School.

BECOMING POPULAR

Bell ringing is a fast-growing mode of musical expression.

The bell ringers, under the direction of Robert Delaney, will perform a group of old English tunes as well as Handel's "Clock Time" and Bach's "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring."

A second group of numbers will include French folk songs and familiar carols arranged by Mr. Delaney.

Tuesday Musicales's Chorus has prepared a musical feast of interesting carols.

Among the numbers to be heard are "Deck the Halls," "A Musical Christmas Card" by Cunkle, "There Was No Room for the Christ Child" and a Galt-class medley featuring percussion accompaniment, "Hasten Shepherds."

"The Wassail Song" will conclude the first group of carols by the chorus.

TO RING BURT CAROLS

Pontiac feels a close association to the Alfred Burt carols which will highlight the second portion of the choral program.

The music was written by Alfred Burt and the lyrics composed by his father the Rev. Burt G. Burt (then rector at All Saints Episcopal Church) and Willis Huston, church organist.

Originally sent as a Christmas greeting to their many friends, the carols have been published and have become popular with choral groups.

The Epiphany carol "A Baby Is Born" will be heard. Flute obligato to Betty Jacobson's "A Carol" will be played by Barbara Ateell.

Concluding the program will be three carols, the Spanish "And the Angels Wake the Shepherds," the Scottish "What Strangers are These?" and the Welsh "O Holy Night" with solo by Mary Elen Lladog.

A social hour will follow the musical program.

Belles upon the Christmas tree will come caroling to Pontiac Tuesday Musicales's annual men's night yuletide program Tuesday evening at Washington Junior High School. The Mackenzie Belle Ringers will join Tuesday Musicales's chorus in presenting a program of old English tunes, French folk songs and traditional carols. The Belles are under the direction of Robert Delaney. Mrs. George H. Putnam directs Tuesday Musicales's chorus.

Presbyterian Ladies Aid Picks Officers

The Ladies Aid of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church elected officers for the coming year at a dessert luncheon Thursday in the home of Mrs. Ada Mortenson of 200 Tassanville Avenue.

Mrs. Howard Hall and Mrs. C. W. Seaman assisted the hostesses.

Serving with Mrs. Edna Matheny, president, will be Mrs. Clarence K. Failing, vice president; Mrs. Foster Berdan, secretary; Mrs. Ernal Lloyd, treasurer; and Mrs. Seaman, corresponding secretary.

Gold Star Mothers Install Mrs. Olmsted

Mrs. Edna Olmsted was installed as historian and hospital chairman at Tuesday's meeting of Chapter 9, American Gold Star Mothers, Inc. in the Disabled American Veterans' Hall.

Members of the chapter and their husbands will be guests of honor at the Christmas dinner to be held at the home of Mrs. Benjamin O. Cote Saturday.

'He'll Protect Negro Rights'

Ted Kennedy Tells Congress of Brother's Outlook for All U.S.

LEOPOLDVILLE. The Congo (UPI) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy will "use all the prestige of his office" to see that Negro rights are protected in all parts of the United States, his younger brother said Thursday.

The statement was made to Congolese reporters by Edward (Ted) Kennedy.

He is on a five-week, 20-nation fact-finding mission in Africa as an observer accompanying Democratic Sen. Frank Church, Idaho, Frank E. Moss, Utah, and Gale McGee, Wyo.

Kennedy, who visited Elisabethville in secessionist Katanga Province before coming here, declined to express any opinion on what has been in the Congo.

PURELY AN OBSERVER

He explained to reporters at a press conference before the group left for Lagos, Nigeria:

"I am here purely as an observer. I don't believe we've had the time to come up with any concept or policy or easy solution."

But he was quick with the answer when a Congolese reporter questioned him about the "Negro problem" in the United States: "The president-elect has always said, whether he was in the North, South, East or West of the United States, that he subscribes to the unanimous Supreme Court decision confirming the equal rights of Negroes in all parts of the country."

"He will use all the prestige of his office to see that Negro rights are protected in all parts of the country."

The three senators said they believe the United Nations effort in the Congo whether the Russians do or not.

Ex-Political Editor Backs Mackie Drive

LANSING (AP) — Al Kaufman, former political editor of the Detroit Free Press, has been appointed to mastermind the re-election campaign of John C. Mackie, state highway commissioner.

Kaufman is acting executive secretary of the Citizens for Mackie Committee. As such, he will play a major role in the Democratic campaign for Mackie, who is running for another four-year term at the April 3 election.

Kaufman, 45, was chief of the Times Lansing bureau for 15 years of his 27-year newspaper career. He moved to Detroit as political editor a few months before the newspaper was sold to the Detroit News.

Kaufman has been cited several times by the Associated Press for outstanding reporting and was a three-time winner of the Detroit newspaper guild "best reporting" award.

Wife Sends Gift of Record to Imprisoned Flier

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—A Christmas record is on its way to Capt. John B. McKone, one of two U.S. Air Force fliers imprisoned by the Soviets.

Connie McKone, 25, wife of the flier who was captured after his B-47 reconnaissance plane was shot down by Soviet fighter planes, made a recording Thursday of her voice and the couple's children.

The children sang Christmas songs and added greetings to their father. Mrs. McKone said she was thankful he was alive and that she prayed for his return. "Christmas won't be merry without you here this year," she said.

Hungry 'Escapee' Returns to Food and Cell

LA GRANGE, Ky. (AP)—How prisoner J. L. Galbreath escaped from Kentucky Reformatory puzzled officials for three days.

Then, very hungry, he emerged Thursday from behind a pile of curtains in the prison's auto-lease plant, saying he had never left the premises. He was fed a good meal and placed in solitary confinement.

The prisoner, 29, is serving 10 years for holding up a Louisville bakery earlier this year.

Mines Are in Trouble, Though

Michigan Iron Could Have Built All This Year's Cars

MARQUETTE (AP) — Iron ore mined in Michigan in 1960, if converted into automotive steel, would have been enough to build all the automobiles manufactured in the United States this year — around 6.6 million of them.

Despite a year-end slackening, Michigan's two ore ports—Escanaba on Lake Michigan and Marquette on Lake Superior—shipped 11,090,797 long tons of iron ore in the 1960 season. Only 5,743,881 tons were shipped in strike-bested 1959. The state's record production was 18,611,972 tons of 2,200 pounds each in 1916.

Steelmaking cutbacks in 1960's last half caused Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., largest operator in the Marquette Range, to announce plans for "severe curtailment" after the first of the year. Cleveland-Cliffs employs about 2,500 of the state's approximately 4,500 iron miners.

Miners for other companies are likely to find workweeks shorter as jobs more scarce, barring a sudden, rousing business upturn. Mill ore stockpiles total 14 million tons more than in December a year ago.

But Cleveland-Cliffs plans to keep going full tilt all winter at two mine-mill operations it developed to meet the twin bugaboos of U.S. 25.

Simanceks Live on Westwood Lane

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Last week's homes were in the country. Today we're visiting Suburbia. Westwood Manor is the subdivision. The location is the Quanton Road-Wing Lake Road area.

Four years ago the Fred T. Simanceks moved from Birmingham to their new home on Westwood Lane. Daughter Diane is now 11. Two other daughters are married and living in the Detroit metropolitan area. Shapiro Builders constructed the red brick home. Part of the front has white trim. A narrow porch makes a covered front entrance. From this porch to the garage on the end is a white fence.

Living room-dining room has a southern exposure with 4 big windows. Semi-shower beige curtains pull across the glass. Both carpeting and wall color are shades of beige. The deep cave ceiling is white.

A sectional sofa, upholstered in soft blue-green, separates the dining area from the rest of the room. Between the sections there's a square oak table. A lower coffee table in the same wood stands in front of the windows.

On the dining room wall there is a large driftwood decoration holding five lights.

The furniture is walnut in a pecan finish. Near the sliding door to the kitchen is a tall buffet. Chair seats have two shades of beige diamonds on the material.

Just inside the door of the living room is father's club chair, covered in light brown leather. In the opposite corner is a low barrel shaped apricot chair.

The sofa is long. Its upholstery is a rough textured creamy beige. Walnut tables are at each end. There are big lamps on these tables. Bases are gold. The glass shaft has a swirled pattern in shades of yellow; the shades are white.

In the kitchen the linoleum tile is a rosy beige. Counter tops and splash backs are pink. Cupboards are knotty pine. Even the big refrigerator-freezer is pink.

The range top counter divides the work area from the breakfast room. In the latter area the walls are papered in an interesting tea and coffee pot design. Each pot casts a shadow; some are pink, others aqua.

Cafe curtains are white with aqua ball fringe trim. Mrs. Simancek made all the curtains for her house except those in the living room. The breakfast set is aqua wrought iron with pink chair seats.

You can enter the family room from either the front hall or the kitchen. In here the floor is corkstone tile and the walls paneled oak. Next to the sliding glass doors is a pink ledgerrock fireplace. There are matchstick draperies on the doors.

Furniture is bamboo. A rounded sectional sofa takes up one corner, with a matching chair near the fireplace. Seat cushions are aqua with back cushions a combination of aqua, yellow, beige and gray. Behind the sofa is a tall smoked glass lamp on a wooden base.

At the end of the sofa near the hall door there's a brass pole lamp. Two pictures on the wall were made by the Simanceks' middle daughter, Evelyn McKay.

One bedroom is used as a den. Walls in here are yellow. Curtains are off white with green and silver. In this room Mrs. Simancek sews and Diane does homework.

The green bathroom has ceramic tile floor and vanity top. The wallpaper is yellow and white. Curtains are white.

Diane's room has an oak floor and aqua walls. Flarequin chintz in pink, blue and purple makes the curtains and the bed ruffle. The quilted spread is white.

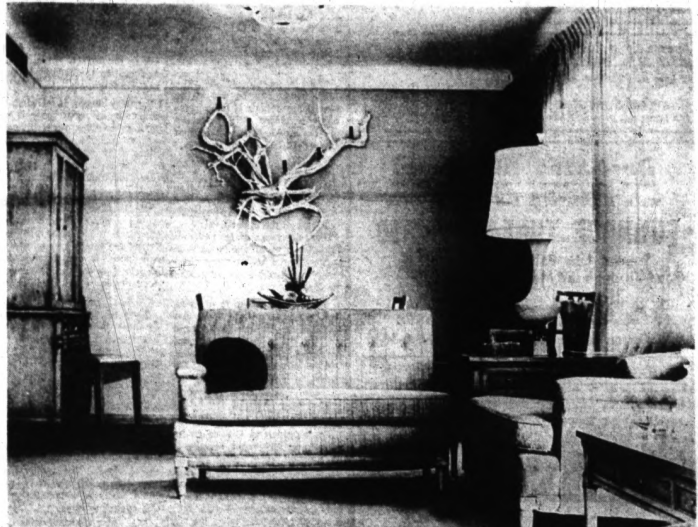

The dresser is oak. A brass and black bookcase is placed under one window. On the step table beside the bed there's an aqua lamp.

Lilac walls and curtains and purple scatter rugs determine the color scheme of the master bedroom. The pleated bed skirt is lilac while the white spread is quilted in lilac and gold thread. Furniture is the same pecan-finished walnut as in the living rooms.

One triangular pink pillow and one purple round pillow is tossed on each bed. On the wall above there are flowers and butterfly pictures in matching colors.

The slipper chair is upholstered in pink chintz with bouquets of blue and lavender flowers.

The Simanceks have about half an acre for their lot.

SOFA DIVIDES — The blue-green sectional sofa sets off the dining room area. Walls in the room are beige with the carpeting in a slightly deeper shade of the same color. Draperies match.

The driftwood fixture on the wall is a souvenir of one of the Simanceks' Florida vacations.

Will You Help Us?

For our Christmas Eve Home Section we should like to feature a number of Pontiac area homes as they are lighted up for the holidays. We should like to hear from people who plan to have their lights ready by Monday, Dec. 18. Please call the Home Editor, Janet Odell, if you know of such a home.

FAMILY ROOM — Walls in this room are paneled oak. The fireplace is pink ledgerrock. All the furniture is bamboo. The plain colored cushions are aqua with a mixture of colors, including aqua, for the back cushions. The round coffee table is walnut topped. Corkstone tile makes an easy-to-care-for floor.

PINK AND AQUA — Mrs. Simancek's favorite colors are used in her kitchen. Counter tops and refrigerator, as well as splash backs are pink. The curtains have aqua ball fringe trim. Cupboards are knotty pine. Tea pots and coffee pots cast pink and aqua shadows on the white wallpaper. The breakfast set is aqua wrought iron with pink chair seats.

USING A COFFEE TABLE

Your Coffee Table Needn't Stay Put in One Room

The stand-pat set-up is in front of a sofa, but did you ever think of how many other ways a coffee table can be used? Here are five ideas, and two of them are for the use of coffee tables in bedrooms. A square coffee table, especially one of the taller ones that are seen often now, can be an excellent corner table with armless sofas or sofa beds. It's a change from the conventional corner table; and it continues the smooth sweep of the sofas as almost the same level. Here one of the new mosaic-topped metal tables is suggested to introduce new color and pattern.

Two rectangular coffee tables set end-to-end can be a room divider, neatly marking off the space reserved for a conversation grouping from a dining area, or defining a hall-like area. A cushion or cushions might be added so one table or part of it can be used as a bench. The very long coffee table sketched at upper right has this bench convenience.

This table solves several problems. It provides the table space needed beside the chair, supports the lamp needed there for reading, and adds seating space to the room. It's an especially good idea in front of a window wall because it performs all these services and still leaves the view clear and open through the window.

Even an old coffee table that's been replaced in the living room might be used as the table is used at upper left in a bedroom. A long cushion is added so it can be sat on comfortably, to take on the duties of a slipper chair. It's also handy for luggage, and, of course, with the cushion removed, it's a table again, ready for bed-sitting room service pulled up to a chair, or it might be set beside the bed, perhaps during an illness, to hold extras of any kind. Wheels and a shelf below make a coffee table a convenient nightstand that can be used otherwise also in a bed sitting room. No conventional nightstand has so much top surface, or can be moved.

Bookcases Need Separate Lights

Do your friends have difficulty reading book titles or record labels in your home library? If so, you probably aren't giving them the proper kind of lighting. The American Home Lighting Institute recommends separate fixture lights for bookcases and record cabinets.

A pull-down fixture in front of the bookcase or cabinet provides excellent light for casual browsing. If you have shelves longer than 6 or 8 feet, you'll probably need two such fixtures.

Be Sure of Meaning

In the world of paint, the word glazing has two entirely different meanings. One is in the term "glazing compound," which is similar to putty and is used when installing glass in window frames. The second meaning of glazing is to apply a tinted liquid to a painted or enameled surface to give it a mellow, antique look.

A glazing liquid is made by mixing a color such as raw sienna with turpentine and varnish and then brushing it on the surface. It is then mostly wiped off in a circular motion.

New Switch in Heating

More than 200 homeowners in the new gas-heated development now going up in Levittown, New Jersey, have converted their heating plants to oil, according to the Oil Heat Institute of America. The heating plant conversions are largely the result of a unique offer made by the company which supplies oil to the more than 17,000 oil-heated homes in Levittown, Pennsylvania, just across the river. A number of these converting their heating systems are former residents of Levittown, Pennsylvania.

As a comparison test, the company last year installed in five typical Levittown homes a new type of oil heating unit employing induced draft rather than natural draft in the combustion process. A careful check of oil consumption for the season was made and compared with similar gas-heated homes in the same area. The company found that these super-efficient units achieved a savings over gas of between $105 and $175 a year, depending on the type of home compared.

With this compelling fact as a sales argument the company added the clincher: an offer to convert any home in Levittown, New Jersey, from gas to oil heat and allow the homeowner to pay for the conversion out of the savings he achieves on his fuel bill.

Here's how it works. The homeowner agrees to pay the oil company for three years the same budget payments he has been making to the local gas company. At the end of this time, his savings over gas will have paid for the new oil heating equipment, and from that time on he only pays for the oil he uses.

Sheathing Board Helps Builders

Home builders — and buyers — are profiting from another assist from chemistry.

A specially developed chemical process that chews hardwood into flexible fibers without impairing its original strength is helping to produce a high-density sheathing board that figures to reduce home construction time and costs.

The new method, one that ensures long, interlocking hardwood fibers, was developed in the Morristown, N.J. research laboratories of Allied Chemical's Barrett Division.

"This process, called Chem-FI, helped produce a sheathing board of exceptional strength and rigidity which meets all FHA specifications for application without corner bracing and over which would be asphalt-cement shingles may be directly applied," explained Bill Herbert, a building materials specialist for Barrett.

"This board is only a half-inch thick and it satisfies all FHA requirements that usually are met only by board of almost twice its thickness," he added.

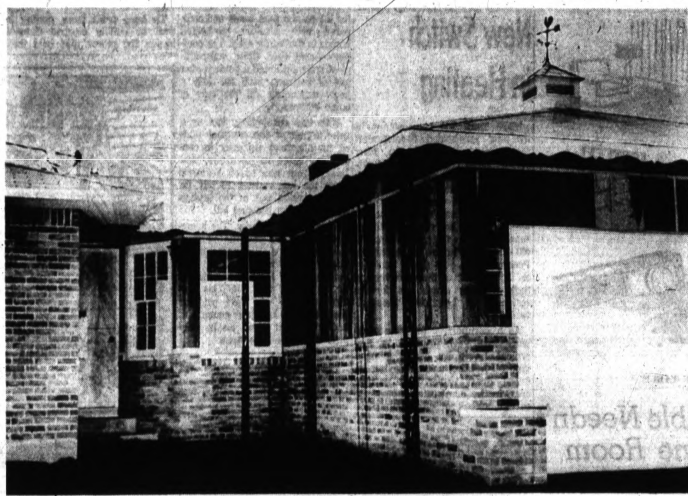

The asphalt-impregnated sheathing, called Rigidwall, can be applied directly over frame construction to form a continuous weather-tight wall. It provides a firm base for application of wood shingles, asbestos-cement shingles or other exterior finishes, which can be nailed directly to the sheathing.

"It speeds construction because it eliminates the necessity of furring strips and special attachment devices," he continued. "The large (four-by-eight feet and four-by-nine feet) panels are relatively light and easy to handle. They cover big areas quickly and require a minimum of cutting because their size coincides with stud spacing."

He also said that when a builder is installing Rigidwall around a door or a window he can make a deep scoring mark and snap the pieces apart, which is much speedier than cutting with a mechanical or hand saw.

Keep Wet Rag Handy

When working with water-thinned latex paints, keep a moist rag handy to clean up spatters and spills as you go along. Latex paints dry so quickly that errors should be dabbed away immediately. With all other paints, use a rag dampened with mineral spirits. The slower drying time of these paints makes speedy clean up less vital.

LARGE ADDITION — The Joe DeMeerleers of 3936 Aquarina had a large family room, 11 by 20, and a two-car garage added to their home early in the fall. The exterior as shown here is brick to match the house, with the upper part of redwood. Black wrought iron columns support the overhanging roof. Stacy Building Company did the work.

Fiberglas Used in Resin Veneer

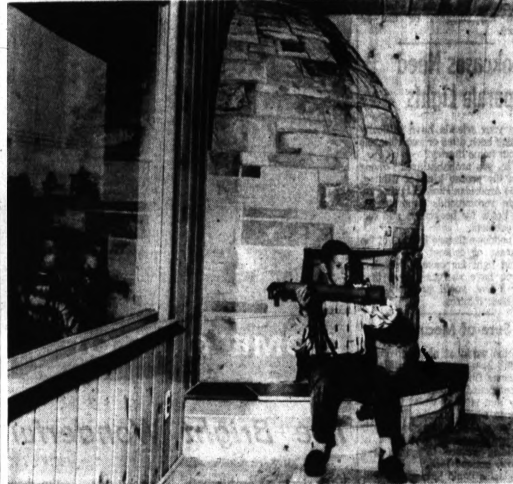

One of the newest uses for versatile fibers of glass is reinforcement of plastic building panels which simulate the shape, color and contour of natural stone.

Manufactured by the Terex Corporation of America, Franklin Park, Illinois, the panels are used extensively in interior decoration and to improve the appearance of building exteriors.

The panels achieve the effect of actual stone in a veneer that is light in weight and can be applied by nailing to practically any surface.

The panels, made of polyester-acrylic resin reinforced with Fiberglas mat, are formed under high pressure on molds which duplicate the shape and contour of natural stone. The Fiberglas mat, a product of Owens-Corning Fiberglas, provides strength and dimensional stability to the panels which are resistant to weather and damage from corrosive atmosphere or other outdoor hazards, according to Terex.

Its manufacturer, Terex Corporation, says the panels can be used as a decorative wall surface in the interiors of commercial buildings — dining areas, offices, reception rooms — as well as in many ways inside the home. According to Terex, panels are now being used as exteriors for many mobile homes because they are attractive and durable yet do not add prohibitive weight. The panels, due to the Fiberglas reinforcement, have proved able to withstand the severe treatment which a traveling mobile home may encounter, the manufacturer said.

M/Lady's Heels Are Safe

New custom-made mats for entranceways have been designed so they won't catch women's spike heels. The secret is a pattern of five when coupled with floors of dry rubber pyramids that cushion quarry tile or ceramic mosaics for heels but won't catch or cling. The lifetime protection against spiked new product is especially effect-hate damage.

Realistic Owner Sells House Faster

Realtors say one of their biggest headaches is getting sellers of homes to put realistic prices on their properties.

Most persons understandably think their houses are worth more than they really are. Some base their prices on others that have been sold in the neighborhood, then add a considerable amount to cover improvements they have made. It is a fact of life that rarely can a home owner recover, in the sale price, the money he put into improvements.

However, because the prices of homes generally have gone up in recent years, the home owner usually will get more for the house than he paid for it. But it still must be in the price range of similar houses in the same neighborhood. Another angle is that many buyers have come to believe that the quoted selling price of a used house is not what the owner actually expects to get for it. The owner, knowing this, often deliberately asks more than he wants or hopes to get. It's an odd situation, but not too different from business in general, where list prices, in many cases, have become meaningless.

"Last Then Rent"
$10 DOWN Mortgage Costs
MODEL 418 Kenilworth
WESTOWN REALTY

A continued increase in the availability of residential mortgage funds for the remainder of this year and the early part of 1961 was forecast today by Federal National Mortgage Association President J. Stanley Baughman. This prediction for prospective homebuyers was made in connection with the release this weekend of a report of the agency's Secondary Market Operations covering the Third Quarter. (FNMA buys and sells FHA-insured and VA-guaranteed mortgages in the secondary or resale market.)

According to Mr. Baughman, all phases of the corporation's operations during the quarter reflected a continued "easing" in the home mortgage market, with offerings and purchases again down from the previous quarter.

The Association's chief executive pointed out that FNMA's Secondary Market Operations program "operates in a 'see-saw' fashion" and explained that "when money is 'tight' offerings and purchases increase and sales decrease, and conversely when money 'eases,' offerings and purchases taper off and sales pick up."

Running mildly contrary to the theoretical "see-saw" formula, sales slipped slightly from 353 mortgages valued at $4,824,000 in the Second Quarter to 319 worth $4,167,000 in the period reported. This, however, was more than the $2 sold for $662,000 in the comparable period a year ago. Cumulatively, FNMA has sold 6,891 mortgages totaling $48,734,000 out of its SMO portfolio, which at the end of September consisted of 250,516 mortgages amounting to $7,906,000,000.

The report also revealed that purchases were off 8 per cent from the preceding quarter — from 29,246 valued at $254,894,000 to 26,717 for $232,337,000. These purchases brought the cumulative totals since the inception of the SMO program six years ago to 299,599 aggregating $3,500,028,000.

Based on his report and the results of a recent nationwide survey, Mr. Baughman said that "the 'easing' in the money market that was apparent in the Third Quarter was continuing and all indications pointed that the trend would continue well into 1961, which ought to mean more favorable financing conditions for homebuyers in the months ahead."

An analysis of the quarter's purchases disclosed a 3 to 1 ratio in the number of FHA mortgages bought compared to VA, with 13,927 valued at $109,100,000 acquired, contrasted with only 4,790 of the latter valued at $62,200,000. These purchases, covering properties located in 42 states, and Puerto Rico,

A highlight of the report shows that all major segments of the home finance industry continue to participate in the FNMA program. A breakdown of the 658 sellers that sold mortgages to the Association during the quarter shows that 489 mortgage companies (74 per cent) led the list, followed by 116 banks and trust companies (18 per cent), 41 savings and loan associations (6 per cent), and 12 insurance companies (2 per cent).

The report also showed a continued broadening of the base of private ownership in the corporation during the quarter, with 7,694 stockholders holding 688,800 shares of FNMA common stock on September 30 compared with 6,714 holding 641,532 shares at the end of the previous quarter. (The agency's common stock is originally issued only to sellers of mortgages to FNMA but it is freely transferable thereafter.)

Model Train Table Made of Peg Board

An unusual table for the model railroad hides the wiring underneath! A free plan is available for the easy construction of this popular Christmas gift.

The multi-purpose top is a 4' x 8' panel of Masonite 1/4" Peg-Board, with its scores of holes spaced one inch apart in rows. Tracks and accessories can be rearranged at will, and still the wires won't show except at the connections.

Directions for making the sturdy table, as well as putting up a 1/2" Peg-Board panel on the wall for keeping accessories of the model train handy, are given in a free plan, No. AE-328, which may be obtained by sending a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill.

A perspective in the plan shows a typical train layout in a boy's room, including a handy workbench adjacent to it. The bench is covered with Tempered Presdwood which, like the perforated panel, is splinter-free and therefore safe for a hobbyist's hands.

BRIGHT SANTA — There are many uses for this Santa decoration. It may be placed on your front gate, on the wall above your fireplace, or even in a window. Last year we noticed one home where the Santa's head was protruding from a chimney. The figure is 21 inches high so it will fit almost anywhere. The Santa head comes to you printed in many bright and waterproof colors. All you need do is paste the large picture on plywood or cardboard. After that, saw or cut it out with scissors and it's ready to go on display either indoors or out. To obtain the brightly colored Santa head No. 183 send 50 cents for each (add 15 cents if airmail is desired) to Steve Ellington, Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Van Nuys, Calif.

Stylized Tree Has Shelves for Baubles

A small stylized Christmas tree with inside shelves, for the display of gifts or yule decorations can be built in the home workshop and set up in the living room or a window to cheer the holiday scene.

The three-sided pyramid, just under four feet high, has overlapping sides of Masonite Plywood or Peg-Board attached to a simple wood framework. If perforated hardboard is used, a light in the base can dramatically back-light the objects showing on the recessed shelves.

After assembling and prime painting, the craftsman can use one of the new textured paints to achieve a striking holiday effect. The tree can readily be animated by placing it on a commercial turntable, available from commercial display companies.

For a free plan giving full details on the construction write a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting No. AE-330.

Paint both sides of sliding doors made of Masonite board. By using different colors, you can reverse slides to change the color scheme.

Update Old Door With 'Whiteboard'

Homemaker who have been planning to modernize an old-fashioned panel door in the kitchen can have both a good-looking new door and a "whiteboard" for Christmas if they plant the idea in Dad's ear now. By filling in the depressions of the panel door with insulation board and cementing a white panel of plastic-surfaced Marlite to this solid base, the home handyman can create a modern door that also can be used as a message center.

Members of the family can leave messages right on the "whiteboard" with a grease pencil. The writing can be wiped off easily with a soft cloth. Marlite has a durable plastic surface that is highly-resistant to hard wear, and it never needs painting or refinishing.

Land Costs Double

Purchase of land and preliminary costs in building a home take about 25 per cent of total development costs, estimate housing authorities. They add this is more than double the prewar average of 10 to 12 per cent.

Gus Scholle, Romney to Run?

May Be Candidates for Delegate to Con-Con—Both Express Desire

George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., and August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO Council, may be candidates in Oakland County for delegate to a proposed constitutional convention next year.

Both have expressed a desire to run.

Romney, who lives in Bloomfield Hills, said in an address to the South Oakland County Mayors Association Thursday night that he is "very interested in running."

He heads the nonpartisan Citizens For Michigan which urged a revision to the Nov. 8 election.

It makes no difference to him whether delegates to the proposed convention are chosen on partisan or nonpartisan ballots.

Scholle, whose AFL-CIO endorsed a proposed constitutional convention but recently endorsed after voters Nov. 8, also has expressed interest in being a delegate.

"In the long run, I think I'll run," Scholle, a Royal Oak resident, said.

As a measure of expediency and economy, Romney urged the Legislature to call a primary election to select delegates simultaneously next April with an election to determine whether a convention should be called later next year.

The South Oakland mayors adopted a resolution supporting Romney's idea and also wired Gov. Elmer Gantry, Sr., Swanton asking his support of it.

In addition to changing rules, the Nov. 8 balloting automatically called an election for April on the question of whether a convention should be held.

Probe 2nd Sniper Shot at Policemen

Royal Oak Township police still are seeking a sniper who fired into the home of their chief Thursday night.

It is believed that the same person also fired into the home of a private policeman who lives in the township.

Chief William H. Ware, of 2084 Mendota St., said the shot from a 22 caliber rifle barely missed striking his wife Gloria. The shot came from the home of a private policeman, John Walker, a bullet grazed his daughter Lisa, 10.

Walker lives on Bethany Street, about 10 blocks from Ware. The shots were fired about 10 minutes apart.

Cubans Comb Canada; Trade Bid Is Welcome

OTTAWA (UPI)—A 10-man Cuban trade mission split into three groups today, heading to buy in Canada products that United States has refused to sell to Fidel Castro's regime.

One group was in Montreal looking for sugar mill machinery, another continued negotiations with federal government officials in the capital and a third planned to visit Toronto for talks with Canadian businessmen.

Canadian Trade Minister

George Hees said Friday Canada should be able to provide some of the equipment now embargoed by the United States.

Cuban Economics Minister Regino Boti said after a busy day of talks with government officials that Cuba would be willing to spend $1.5 million on auto parts. He also announced completion of the purchase of 1,000 pure-bred Hereford cattle for Cuban herds.

The Cuban mission leader told newsmen the group has $3.5 million immediately available for spending. He remained firm in his statement that Cuba would be prepared to spend $150 million in Canada in the next year and that dollars were available to finance this business on a cash basis.

After 30-minute talks with Boti, Hees said he would be "happy" if Cuba increased its purchases from the present $15 million level to $150 million annually.

"They're wonderful customers," Hees said, patting Boti on the back. "You can't do business with better businessmen anywhere."

"We're confident we can do more business with Cuba," he said. "We hope to increase trade to a large extent."

Boti said that Cuba last week placed a plane of 25,000 pounds of tomatoes to Toronto in an experiment. They were received enthusiastically, he said, and might be a prelude to further sales of Cuban tropical produce in Canada.

'NO UNWILLINGNESS'

The trade mission encountered no unwillingness to do business on the part of any Canadian firms, including subsidiaries of United States companies, Boti reported. He said the group was not asking for any concessions or credit terms and was prepared to buy more from Canada than she sold here.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker emphasized in the House of Commons Friday that Canada is "not a state trading country, and therefore could not control or set the volume of trade with Cuba."

"The opportunities for normal trade exist, and the outcome of the trade mission, subject to strategic materials, will depend on the decisions of individual Canadian businessmen and the prospective purchasers," he said.

Both Diefenbaker and Hees said the United States has not asked Canada to restrict the shipment of Canadian goods to Cuba. The increased trade would virtually amount to Canada replacing the United States as the supplier of many of the items keeping Cuba's economy rolling, including auto parts, bulldozers and newspapers.

Pick Utican for Honors at MSUO

Lauree Ann Webb of Utica and Mike Deller of Detroit have been named Michigan State University Oakland's Students of the Month for November and December.

Miss Webb, 19, a sophomore and graduate of Utica High School, has a B-plus average. She is in the teacher education curriculum, majoring in English.

Editor of the student newspaper, The Oakland Observer, she also is recording secretary of the Student Senate, treasurer of Wesley Foundation, and chairman of the creativity committee of the Association of Women Students.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elder Webb, 6100 Stacy St.

Deller, also a sophomore and 19, is a graduate of Birmingham High School. He also is in teacher education, majoring in Russian, and maintaining a B-plus average.

He was a member of the exploratory committee whose work led to the establishment of a student government this year, the university election committee, and the Newman Club. He is a reporter for the student paper.

His parents are the A. H. Dellers of Detroit.

City Youth Injured as Car Runs Wild

A Pontiac youth suffered head and chest injuries early today when a car he was driving veered out of control and crashed into a Bloomfield field.

The victim, Walter D. Simpkins, was reported in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital later in the day.

Alone in the car at the time of the crash, Simpkins told sheriff's deputies "the front end of the car gave away," causing him to lose control while driving along Secum Street near the South Boulevard intersection.

SENATOR-ELECT DIES

Republican Keith Thomson, 41, of Cody, Wyo., came within a month of taking a U.S. Senate seat after a 17,000-vote victory in the Nov. 8 election. Death canceled Thomson's plans Friday as he suffered a fatal heart attack at a friend's home in Cody. Thomson complained of feeling ill for several days.

Try to Snag Satellite's Pill Today

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Discoverer XVIII satellite is scheduled to eject its 300-pound capsule containing radiation-testing and sky spy gear, on its 48th trip around the earth late today.

The Air Force said it would try its fourth recovery of a space capsule, with plans poised to snag the parachute with trapezes near Hawaii. If they miss, ships will try to get it from the ocean.

The 2,100-pound satellite, launched Wednesday, has orbited at 150 to 155 miles from the earth. Its three days aloft are considered of great value to scientists studying the effects of radiation at those heights on human tissue and bone marrow.

Previous Discoverers have ejected their capsules on the first or second day in orbit.

They Collect Rent Instead—With Gun

Two bandits posing as room-renters robbed a Pontiac man of $200 at gunpoint in his home last night.

James Young, 59, of 487 Franklin Road, told Pontiac police one of the pair rang his doorbell at 9:55 p.m. and asked whether Young rented rooms in his house.

After he agreed to rent a room, the man pulled out a blue revolver, ordered him to a downstairs bedroom, and put a sweater over his head.

The second man entered and held a gun against the room. Young told officers.

They took $20 which he had hidden in a closet, he said.

Before they left, Young said, they tied him loosely and ripped a telephone from the wall to prevent his calling police immediately.

Young called officers from a neighbor's home after freeing himself.

Oakland Heights Will Lose Water

System to Be Closed All Monday for Major Repair Work

More than 1,000 residents of Waterford Township's Lake Oakland Heights subdivision will be without water all Monday when the system is closed for major repairs.

The township water department superintendent, Kenneth Squires, advised all the 262 home owners to stock up on water Sunday night or before 5:30 a.m. Monday.

The township has been authorized by the Michigan State Health department to redevelop two large wells in the subdivision since the water supply has become inadequate to meet amounts required by the health department.

The 6-inch and the 12-inch wells, which normally pump some 700 gallons per minute will be closed with air agitators and acid.

Corrosion was blamed for the water shortage and lack of pressure which has become progressively worse during the year.

Child Playing With Candle Sets $1,500 Fire

A child playing with a Christmas candle in a closet at home yesterday afternoon started a fire which caused damage estimated at $1,500. Fireman answered the alarm at 28 S. Anderson St. at 2:15 p.m. and extinguished the flames in an hour.

They said the blaze apparently was started by the 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. Liddle Jenkins. The fire was discovered by a baby sitter who turned in the alarm. No one was injured.

PCH Cagers Lose to Arthur Hill Again

Chiefs' Great 2nd-Half Rally Is Short, 50-46

Basket With One Second Left Wins for Avondale

Fed, Diehm and Brown Spark Belated Drive in Valley Opener

By BILL CORNWELL
SAGINAW — A terrific finish couldn't atone for a terrible start here Friday night as Pontiac Central's defending Saginaw Valley Conference basketball champions went down to a four-point defeat at the hands of scrappy Arthur Hill.

A capacity crowd watched the speedy Hillies pile up a 32-17 halftime advantage, and then held off a furious PCH rally to score a 50-46 victory over the Chiefs in the league opener for both schools.

Not even the return of leading George Fed to the lineup could save the Chiefs in this contest, although the big fellow played extremely well following a two-game absence due to a broken right thumb suffered in the Flint Central football game Nov. 11.

After a shaky beginning which saw him collect three personal fouls in the 1st quarter, Fed came on strong to bag a dozen points and grab 18 rebounds in his first appearance of the 1960-61 season.

Fed drew his 4th personal in the 2nd period, but the agile 6-foot-3 backboard artist kept plugging away and sparked Central's 2nd-half rally with some good help from Dennis Diehm and Paul Brown.

Diehm and Brown may have saved themselves starting berths with last night's performances. They completely outshone the boys they replaced, Clarence Douglas and Brad Pittchett, respectively.

Pittchett was particularly ineffective, failing to score a single point and getting only five rebounds.

It marked the 2nd straight time that the Chiefs lost by four points at Arthur Hill and yesterday's contest was strikingly similar to the one played here last Jan. 29 when they dropped a 46-41 decision.

Nearly four minutes elapsed before the Chiefs got their first field goal and they were behind by a 17-5 count entering the 2nd stanza.

Four times during the 2nd quarter the Chiefs trailed by 18 points, once by 19 and another time by 20. They finally started to play a decent brand of basketball following intermission, but by that time the deficit was much too big to overcome.

The Chiefs kept pecking away in the 2nd half, but it was simply a case of "too little and too late." Fed's three-point play midway through the 3rd quarter cut the Hillies lead to 11 and the deficit was narrowed to 40-31 going into the 4th period.

Central twice came within four points in the waning moments of the game, but the brilliant rally was doomed to failure.

By DON VOGEL
Tim Burt grabbed the pass in the free throw lane, eight feet from the basket, made a quick pivot and fired a jump shot.

The ball dropped through the hoop without touching the rim and bounced on the floor. The clock showed one second remaining in the game. The buzzer sounded before Troy could recover.

Bedlam broke loose in the Avondale gym. Coach Dick Byrd led the charge of players and fans across the floor to embrace and hug the player who had given the Yellow Jackets at 40-0 victory in their opening game of the season.

The dramatic victory in the Oakland B was a fitting reward for the Yellow Jackets who used hustle and tight defensive play to overcome several disadvantages.

It was the first game for Avondale. Troy had played one earlier contest.

Les Bourdo, 65 Avondale center, spent all but three minutes of the second half on the bench because of fouls. With him out of the lineup, Troy had a big advantage on the backboard.

"I am very pleased with the way the boys played," said Byrd. "They never stopped hustling. Our defense was good, too. We decided on a man-to-man with hopes of stopping one of their top players, I think we did."

"Our defense forced Troy players into hurrying their passes. As you could see, this resulted in several bad passes which we recovered."

Jim McDonald, 54 guard, was the sparkplug of the Avondale team. He hounded Troy's high scoring Pete Davidson so effectively that the Colt forward only managed seven points. McDonald also pumped in three baskets and a free throw in the tense fourth period when the Jackets were hanging on by a thread.

In addition to his game-winning basket, Burt did a yeoman job of rebounding in the second half. He also topped Avondale scorers with 16 points. McDonald hit 15.

Hank Aldin, using his 65 reach to advantage paced the Colts with 15 points. McDonald hit 15.

With Bourdo out of action in the fourth quarter, Troy managed to pull even twice, 34-34 and 40-40. A pair of free throws by second scoring Pete Davidson so effectively that the Colt forward only managed seven points. McDonald also pumped in three baskets and a free throw in the tense fourth Jackets gained possession with 21 seconds to play and passed the ball around until Burt worked free in the keyhole.

Troy now has a 1-1 league record.

Lake Orion overcame a 9-2 Madison first quarter lead to post a 58-36 victory. It was the first win for the Dragons who lost their opener to Oak Park.

The Dragons managed to catch Madison by the end of the quarter and took a 25-24 halftime lead. Madison hit first as the third period opened to go one point up. Then the roof fell in.

Paced by 64 center Tom Reed and Buck Craven, the Dragons went wild. Reed and Craven each scored eight points as Lake Orion raced to a 46-28 lead as the fourth quarter opened.

Gary Hunter topped Orion scorers with 18 points. Reed collected 15 and grabbed 21 rebounds.

Clawson and Fitzgerald played a see-saw game and with one minute to play, Harold Evans hit with a jump shot which gave Clawson a 54-53 victory.

A shot by Fitzgerald failed and Clawson got control, but with 15 seconds left a shot came off the board and Fitzgerald had control.

Gene Subada was fouled, he made the first free throw, but missed the second one which would have tied the game. Clawson got control of the rebound and the game ended.

Craig Shoup with 20 points for Clawson and Sim Gibbs with the same number for Fitzgerald were the night's top pointmakers. Duane Pisarski added 17 for the losers.

71 Personals Called

Clarkston Sets New Point Mark, 102-62

By DICK BUCK
Clarkston's Wolves eclipsed the school scoring record by 10 points as they devoured the Trojans of Clarencville, 102-62, Friday night.

A musical concert accompanied the feast as the officials topped their whistles freely, selecting 71 personals.

Clarkston, caught snoring 46 times, played the last minute and 15 seconds with only four men. Seven of the 11 men on the Trojans' home squad fouled out.

Brighton had little trouble dispossessing of Northville, 50-37, to serve warning to Clarkston and Holly of his presence in the Wayne-Oakland league.

Bill Powell peddled the well-balanced massacre by Clarkston with 41 points. Five teammates joined him in double figures. Jerry Davidson led the Clarencville effort with 16.

The game's monumental foul total could be furrowed at the half, when it inflated already had been spotted. Many complete games have fewer fouls called than this.

Clarkston's plight in the breaking department was so desperate that, at one point, two Trojans fouled out on the same play.

An instant later, mate Bill Wheeler joined them in exile as he fouled Jerry Powell as the other Powell was shooting.

Clarkston's former scoring record, 92 points, was set three years ago against Holly.

COACH'S PROBLEM
If Wolves' coach Dominic Mausti had any regrets after the game, they were that it's nearly impossible for him to evaluate his team on the basis of this contest.

Mausti could be criticized for running up the score against the second-best Trojans.

All nine men on Clarkston's traveling squad saw plenty of action.

Northville matched Brighton from the floor with 14 field goals, but at the free throw line the winners connected on 22 of 42.

Dave Hill with 19 and Randy Marx with 15 led the Brighton attack while Dan Brown scored 13 for Northville.

Ortonville Wins, Oxford Thumped

Is Ortonville ready to roll on the basketball court this season or are the Blackhaws making a lot of noise?

After two straight road victories, Ortonville opens on the home court next week and things should even get better for the Blackhaws.

Last night, with scoring twins, Ortonville led all the way. A intermission it was 22-16. Hutchings supplied the board work and Moore kept North Branch on its toes with his long range jump shots.

All five starters for Ortonville got into the scoring column, while eight North Branch players got into the act.

Lynn Grow had 16 and LeFranton 12 for the losers.

Jim Hutchings and Doug Moore hitting for 18 and 17, respectively, Ortonville defeated North Branch of the South Central League, 53-47.

But there's still Imlay City, the king of the league to be reckoned with before taking any bows. Imlay rolled over Oxford, 68-40, with Doug Perkins hitting for 23 points.

Dan Tibbits contributed 10 points to Oxford's cause as the only player in double figures.

Rawley, an honor student, just reported for basketball after coming out from the football squad and after some reluctance. He stands 6-1 and weighs 200 pounds.

For Oxford the season looks lean, and it appears to be Imlay and Ortonville in the battle for the honors.

Paret Rated No Better Than Even Money for Tonight's Bout

NEW YORK (UPI)—Aggressive Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba makes his first welterweight title defense tonight in a return fight with "lazy" slugger who is getting his first shot at a crown.

The 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden will be televised nationally by ABC at 10 p.m. EST, with no local blackout.

Before Paret became champion they fought to a 12-round draw at the Garden, March 28, apparently, neither of that draw have influenced the betting, which today is at "even money."

Stocky, rapid-fire Paret, 25, won the 14-round crown on a unanimous decision over Don Jordan of Los Angeles at Las Vegas, Nev., on May 21.

Paret got the Jordan shot on the loss of a cut with Thompson after their March draw.

Cuban Benny and Roger, explosive Thompson, who'll be 32 on Dec. 19 — were originally slated for their title fight on Oct. 15, but Paret's meniscus injury caused a postponement to tonight.

Three members of the "Inter-Lakes League" were in action against outside opponents last night but only one could count through with a victory.

Farmington turned the trick in convincing fashion at Birmingham, Groves 38-28, 78-45, count.

Walled Lake dropped a 40-40 verdict to Cranbrook while Southfield was being bombed at Ferndale 38-25.

Cranbrook took command in the third quarter after trailing most of the opening half which ended 30-19. The Cranes hit 12 in the 3rd period.

George Blanchard sparked the victory cause with 21 points. John Marges tallied 18 and Bill Carter for the Vikings. Bill Eskelinen had Mike Bearden with 13 and Harry Huffman 10.

Ferndale opened the season by tallying 30 points in the last eight minutes to defeat Italy's Nicola Pellegrini in their carry-over match and give the United States a 2-0 lead in the interzone Davis Cup tennis final.

The scores were 8-6, 3-6, 9-10, 8-6, 13-11.

MACKEY MAKES IT, 2-0
PERTH, Australia (AP)—Barry Mackay, two games away from defeat, pulled his big game to gather Saturday to defeat Italy's Nicola Pellegrini in their carry-over match and give the United States a 2-0 lead in the interzone Davis Cup tennis final.

The shuffle continues in the Pontiac Table Tennis League as Detroit Ice and Fuel moved into first place for the second time this season.

The Ice team shut out Dorris and Son, 6-0. In the first seven weeks of play there have been four different teams in first place and only one team has held the top spot two consecutive weeks.

In other league matches, All Aluminum 6, A & W 6; Nutrilite 4, Superior 2; Jim M. 6, Pontiac Recreation 6; Capital Bar 3, Prost 3; and Seaman 3, Kuhn Auto 3.

Milford had to come all the way back from an 11-2 deficit catching up just before halftime to go ahead 11-10. The Shins kept a consistent attack going through when West Bloomfield bounced back to trail only 33-31 but a late foulback.

The Redskins were able to pull away again by hitting clutch foul shots in the closing minutes.

Ernie Priestley and Tim Kurnick tallied 18 and 17, respectively, and covered all around for Milford. Bob Oaks contributed 10 points. Chuck Crandall swished 20 and Nick Paddy 11 for West Bloomfield.

The Holly boys moved the ball in the last half but never got a consistent attack going on their "hex" court.

THINGS COOLED OFF — It was more than just the weather which has cooled Detroit Lions' coach George Wilson. After the season-long rumors that Wilson would be relieved of his job, the heat apparently cooled after last Sunday's win over the Baltimore Colts. Yesterday, Wilson received a two-year contract with the Lions. The Dallas Cowboys meet the Lions Sunday in Detroit.

Retires at 33

McDougald Quits Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Gil McDougald, the best second baseman, the best third baseman and the best shortstop in the American League, is through with the New York Yankees.

The 33-year-old infielder, one of the most versatile players in baseball history, said Friday he is retiring to devote more time to his private business and his family, which consists of his wife and four children.

The California native steps out of the sport with a lifetime batting average of .279. Last season, used chiefly as a utility infielder, McDougald hit .259 in 119 games. He batted .378 in six World Series games against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

McDougald emphasized that being included on the New York list of 15 players made available to two new American League clubs had nothing to do with his decision. He had made up his mind during the World Series.

It is not official that Gil's name is on the Yankees' "free list" but Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said that if he is it would not present any real problem.

"Joe Cronin (AL president) told me he would notify the other clubs and that it would be a matter of caveat emptor (let the buyer beware)," Frick said.

It is known that Ed Doherty, general manager of the new Washington team, and Fred Haney, general manager of the Los Angeles Angels, believed McDougald would be the first choice in the player selection meeting Tuesday in Boston.

"I'll guarantee with a fellow like McDougald that I won't finish last," said Doherty.

Retires — Infielder Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees announced his retirement after 13 years of baseball. McDougald, one of the best shortstops in baseball, made the announcement last night. He is 32.

Football Curtailed

Grid Woes Also at COP

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Collegiate football drew only 54,500 fans to the stadium last night, a record low for the West's leading athletic independent. The attendance was 134,622 in 1951. It came to 138,562 in 1952.

Dr. Burns said competition for the entertainment dollar, rising academic standards and student apathy toward football call for a shift in the intercollegiate program.

He said re-orientation of football is designed to permit greater student participation, with games against schools having similar philosophies. Mentioned were San Jose State, Fresno State and other California and West Coast institutions.

For 1961, the school will seek to cancel intercollegiate games against Kansas State on Sept. 23, Villanova on Nov. 18 and Cincinnati on Nov. 25, all scheduled at Stockton. COP also had a game scheduled Oct. 21 against Marquette in Milwaukee.

COP football history includes the coaching of Amos Alonzo Stagg and the playing of such athletes as Eddie LeBaron, Eddie Macon, Clyde Conner, Gene Cronin, Dick Bass and Wayne Hardin, the present coach at the Naval Academy.

"In the last two or three years, however," Burns said, "a new attitude and a new climate have developed regarding football on the college campus. Regarding as the football has suffered a serious decline in revenue-producing power, college clubs in late receipts and a marked drop in attendance, especially in California."

The commission said the department was "conservative in its quotas" since the 1956 legislature authorized the department to start a program to bring the deer herd and range into balance.

"The last two winters nature stepped in with a prolonged and severe winter season to help achieve that balance sooner than we could have done otherwise," the commission said.

Commission members said the "factors now unforeseen" could conceivably include a mild winter this year, which would mean a large number of deer would be carried into the fall of 1961.

No Contract Worries, Wilson Low Concentrates on Dallas

Lions Coach Given Reward for Two Years

Attention Now Turns to Sunday Tilt With Newest NFL Entry

DETROIT (AP)—George Wilson, under heavy fire early this season, Friday was awarded a two-year contract to remain as coach of the Detroit Lions in 1961 and 1962.

The two-year offer was made by President-General Manager Edwin J. Anderson as a reward to Wilson, whose Lions have won five of their last seven games after a poor start. Wilson was reported on his way out as coach of the one-time National Football League power after the Lions lost their first three 1960 games.

But on Oct. 23, the Lions upset the world champion Baltimore Colts and their rise has been starting since, going into the final two weeks of the campaign the Lions are a game behind deadlocked San Francisco, Green Bay and Baltimore, and have a chance to take the Western Conference title.

Wilson was delighted with the new contract.

"I'm glad it's all over," he said when told of the two-year deal following a practice session for Sunday's game with the Dallas Cowboys. "Now we've got to come through in fine style in the next two games."

Four members of the Cowboys who performed for the Lions will play important roles when they meet on their first season in Briggs Stadium.

Offensive end, Jim Doran, and defensive end, Gene Cronin, were Lions' first picks in the draft. They were chosen by the Cowboys last spring.

Fullback Walt Kowalczyk was with the Lions briefly early this season after spending two years with the Philadelphia Eagles. Halfback Don McIlhenny started his pro career with the Lions before going on to Green Bay and finally to Dallas this year.

And another large youngster, who plays a large part in the Cowboys defense, will be well remembered by Lions veterans. He's 215-pound Don Rooley, the outstanding lineman in the All-Star game of 1958 when the collegians upset the world champion Lions, 36-19.

The former Lions are among Dallas' season leaders. Doran is the club's top pass receiver, both in number and yards gained. The building 33-year-old former Iowa State star caught 20 for 469 and three touchdowns in the Cowboys' first ten games.

Cronin is a leader in the Cowboys' defense. Doran is the club's top pass receiver, both in number and yards gained. The building 33-year-old former Iowa State star caught 20 for 469 and three touchdowns in the Cowboys' first ten games.

Through ten games, Kowalczyk had the best average of any of the Cowboys' running backs. Four yards a try on 151 yards in 13 carries. He also caught 13 passes for 137 yards. Kowalczyk ran for one touchdown and caught a pass for another.

McIlhenny's 283 yards rushing leads the Cowboys and he has also caught 13 passes for 120 yards and a touchdown.

No less than 33 Detroit Lions played their college football in Texas, so the Cowboys still have quite a way to go to get back Texas investment in Detroit. But this quarter is a fine start.

FACETESTER—Bob Strampe, 29-year-old Detroit bowler, continued to set the pace Friday night as the 16 men finalists finished the 90th of their 16 matches in the World Invitational Bowling Tournament. Strampe defeated early leader Steve Nagy, 863-853.

Strampe led with 177.15 Petersen points, while Nagy had 175.37 for second place. Defending champion Don Carter of St. Louis slipped back to third with 174.25 points.

Under the Petersen system, a bowler gets one point for every game won and one point for every game he downs. The men bow four games per match, while the women play three-game matches.

Nagy and Strampe tied their first game at 246 pins. Nagy won the second 218-185. They tied the third at 187 each. Then Strampe won the final game, 235-201.

Highest pin total of the day was 831 series rolled by Dick Weber of St. Louis in the eighth round against Stan Gifford of Chicago. Weber, who is in fourth place behind Nagy, scored 246, 245, 267 and 225.

The Green Bay Packers were three-point favorites today to defeat the San Francisco 49ers, take at least a temporary lead in the Western Conference and remain in the running for a crack at the first National Football League title since 1944.

The 49ers had the home-field advantage. They had a three-game winning streak, and a sizzling spread offense that proved successful in their last two games.

But the Packers had a handsome halfback named Paul Hornung who scores points more often than anyone in NFL history.

When the Packers beat the 49ers 41-14 in October at Milwaukee, Hornung scored 23 points. He now has 132 through 10 games, only 22 less than the entire 49er team. The Packers, 49ers and Baltimore Colts started the weekend as they finished the 10th round with a Petersen point total of 133.24, compared to the 135.18 posted by 1957 champion and seven-time world's winner Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich.

In third place was 1959 runner-up Donna Zimmerman of Akron, Ohio, who had 132.43 points.

In the event of a Green Bay-San Francisco tie, the Colts will have a chance to move a half game in front by beating the Rams, then clinch their third straight Western title by whipping the 49ers next weekend. The Packers play at Los Angeles next week.

If the Packers, 49ers and Colts all go 1-1 for the two remaining games, the Chicago Bears (5-4-1) could take it all by beating the Browns at Cleveland Sunday and the Lions at Detroit next week.

The Lions (5-5), by defeating the Dallas Cowboys (0-10-1) at home Sunday, then the Bears, could force a four-way tie with the current leaders in the event of that three-way 1-1 split and a Bear fall down. The Lions are 11-point favorites, the Bears seven-point underdogs.

A four-way Western tie would push the title game—now set for Philadelphia on Dec. 26—back to Jan. 1.

With the Philadelphia Eagles (8-1) already assured of the Eastern crown, the questions are: Will Philadelphia keep on winning? Who will finish second; the New York Giants (5-5-2) or the Browns (6-3-1)?

The Eagles are two-point favorites to defeat the Pittsburgh Steelers (4-5-1) at Pittsburgh Sunday. The Eagles have won nine straight, including a 34-7 victory over the Steelers at Philadelphia.

The Browns and Giants are the only teams with a chance to finish second in the East and gain a spot in the NFL runner-up playoff at Miami Jan. 7 against the Western second-place team.

They meet next week in New York. Sunday, the Giants are favored by seven points at Washington (7-2-1) at Redskins (1-7-2). The teams played a 24-24 tie in October.

The St. Louis Cards are idle this weekend. In the American League, Los Angeles met Oakland at San Francisco today. Sunday's games are Boston at Dallas, Buffalo at Houston and New York at Oakland.

The Green Bay Packers were three-point favorites today to defeat the San Francisco 49ers, take at least a temporary lead in the Western Conference and remain in the running for a crack at the first National Football League title since 1944.

The 49ers had the home-field advantage. They had a three-game winning streak, and a sizzling spread offense that proved successful in their last two games.

But the Packers had a handsome halfback named Paul Hornung who scores points more often than anyone in NFL history.

When the Packers beat the 49ers 41-14 in October at Milwaukee, Hornung scored 23 points. He now has 132 through 10 games, only 22 less than the entire 49er team. The Packers, 49ers and Baltimore Colts started the weekend as they finished the 10th round with a Petersen point total of 133.24, compared to the 135.18 posted by 1957 champion and seven-time world's winner Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich.

In third place was 1959 runner-up Donna Zimmerman of Akron, Ohio, who had 132.43 points.

HOW THE Federal Home Loan Bank System

HELPS US SERVE
SAVERS AND BORROWERS
AT ALL TIMES

What is the Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLB) System?

This central reserve banking system was especially created by the federal government to establish a reserve line of credit for savings and loan associations. It is similar in structure to the Federal Reserve System for commercial banks. The FHLB operates through 11 regional banks, one of which serves the Michigan, Indiana area.

FHLB stock is owned entirely by member savings and home financing institutions. Today this central reserve banking system serves 4,501 savings and loan associations with combined assets of 60 billion dollars. During the life of the bank system, it has lent $2,200,788,633 to savings and loan associations and it has all been repaid without loss.

To Qualify for Membership

An association must pass rigid examinations by the regional FHLB bank to check compliance with the statute and FHLB regulations. An association must prove stability and soundness of operation, competence and integrity of management.

Furthermore, to qualify for insurance of accounts, an association must maintain membership in the FHLB system.

Member Associations must meet Liquidity Requirements.

The FHLB sets a minimum liquidity that associations must maintain in cash and U. S. government bonds for the purpose of meeting the cash needs of savers. The current required liquidity ratio is 6% of savings capital. Pontiac Federal's current ratio is 12%.

Actually, Pontiac Federal regularly holds cash and securities more than sufficient to cover six months normal savings withdrawals. (This no commercial bank can ever do because a commercial bank normally pays out deposit withdrawals equal to its total deposits in about two weeks.)

Federal Supervision of Insured Associations

Comprehensive annual examinations are made by qualified FHLB examiners. Such important points are checked as: adequate reserve allocations, maintenance of required liquidity in cash and U. S. government bonds, and a careful and detailed review of all investments and loans authorized by the officers and directors during the year. An association must follow strict FHLB rules and regulations for sound operation.

FHLB offers a Reserve Line of Credit.

Member associations may borrow funds from their regional FHLB bank and have a source of liquidity equal to 50% of their savings capital. In the case of Pontiac Federal, this figure amounts to $11,850,000.00 all of which is available for emergency savings withdrawals.

Through its membership in this reserve bank, an association has access to both short and long term advances especially designed to suit seasonal, cyclical and emergency needs. Advances are made on the security of mortgages pledged as well as on collateral consisting of U. S. government obligations. Thus the savings and loan system has liquidity and flexibility which enables it to serve the needs of both the saver and home-buying family.

In view of these facts, no reasonable person can doubt Pontiac Federal's ability to honor withdrawal requests promptly in any amount. In fact, since founding in 1934, Pontiac Federal has paid every saver's withdrawal request, regardless of amount, "on demand".

This emblem displayed in office and advertising of an association indicates membership of that institution in the FHLB system.

Grain Freighter Defies Hull-Cracking Storm to Reach Soo Haven

SAULT STE. MARIE, P. — The Canadian grain freighter Starbelle, a tough little old lady of the sea, limped safely into port here Friday night 12 hours after a storm on Bruceville Lake Superior cracked her hull and deck.

The 260-ton, 17-year-old Starbelle passed through the Soo Locks about midnight to drop anchor after battling down from midlake under her own power. She was escorted by a pair of Coast Guard cutters.

The grain carrier, less than half the size of many of the freighters which ply the Great Lakes trade routes, had sent out a trouble call when vertical cracks developed on both sides of her hull and a transverse gap opened in a superstructure deck. Capt. D.I. McFarland reported his vessel and the 20 crewmen were in no immediate danger unless the cracks worsened.

ABOVE WATER LINE — The 12-inch long, 1-inch wide gaps in the hull plates were above the water line. The Starbelle was empty and rode high out of the water.

As a precaution, McFarland had the crew to one-inch wire mooring lines across the main deck to take the strain off the cracked plates.

The Starbelle was near midlake, riding upbound, when the cracks were discovered. McFarland ordered the freighter put about to return to Sault Ste. Marie and radioed his predicament.

FINDS BONES — Bulldozer operator Robert Harburger examines human bones he unearthed yesterday while excavating for the new Clarkson Methodist Church on Waldon Road just east of M15.

Sherriff's deputies believe the remains are more than 100 years old. They will be turned over to Dr. Richard Olson, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, for a clinical examination.

Probably 100 Years Old Human Skeleton Found

Remnants of a human skeleton, including the skull, which were inadvertently unearthed yesterday near Clarkson were to be turned over today to Dr. Richard Olson, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac, for a thorough examination.

Sherriff's deputies hope Dr. Olson will be able to determine how old the bones are so that the deceased might be traced through historical records.

O'Neill's Son Kicked Off Train
NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Sherriff O'Neill, son of the late playwright Eugene O'Neill, kicked in the window of a Pennsylvania Railroad train Friday night while being taken from the train because he was unable to pay his fare, police said.

O'Neill, 41, was charged with disorderly conduct, he was charged with carrying a dangerous weapon and was charged with carrying a dangerous weapon.

O'Neill, married and the father of four children, apparently was en route to his home in Point Pleasant.

Police said he carried a plastic bag containing about 1,000 pills, a wooden flute, birdseed and a Japanese doll. They said he did not have any money.

O'Neill, who described himself as a window decorator, was taken off the train after he got into a dispute with a conductor.

O'Neill is co-author of a book called "Curse of the Misbegotten." He is a brother-in-law of actor Charlie Chaplin.

In June 1959 he was arrested for carrying a gun, but was released after a court required on narcotics tests. A friend paid a $30 fine on the disorderly conduct charge.

District Judge Decides Business Merger Okay

NEW YORK (AP) — U. S. District Judge Frederick Van Pelt Bryan Thursday threw out the Justice Department's case in which it sought to nullify the merger of Continental Can Co., the world's largest packaging concern, with Hazel-Atlas Glass Co.

In an interim decision read from the bench, Judge Bryan stated the government had failed in all respects to establish that the merger, which took place in September 1960, violated section 7 of the Clayton Act.

The government had contended that there were 10 lines of commerce in which competition would be "substantially lessened" if the merger were allowed to stand. Judge Bryan's decision knocked down each of the 10 government claims.

Armada Farmer Slays Wife and Her Attorney

Cabinet Appears Likely for Dillon

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Prospects that Under-Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon, a Republican, would be named Treasury secretary in the new cabinet were strengthened today when it was confirmed that Dillon and President-Elect John F. Kennedy conferred secretly in Washington Thursday night.

Responding to press inquiries, Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said the president-elect went to Dillon's home in Washington at about 8 p.m. Thursday and conferred with the State Department official for about 45 minutes.

This fact in itself was far from positive proof that Dillon will get the Treasury post, but it did serve to support reports that he was under high, active consideration for a high position in the Kennedy administration.

Meanwhile, Salinger still held open the possibility of naming another new cabinet member while he is in Florida for the weekend. Salinger said there would be no announcements or business appointments today, but he declined to forecast the prospects for Sunday.

Kennedy planned a restful Saturday with his wife, Jacqueline, and their two children, John Jr., 15 days, and Caroline, 3. The parents and the baby flew south from Washington Friday night to join Caroline who got her first excited look at her new baby brother. The president-elect planned to remain here over the weekend, possibly returning to Washington Sunday.

Salinger and other members of the Kennedy staff would not comment on any of the latest flurry of cabinet rumors but in the case of Dillon, the press secretary said he was not in a position to confirm or deny that he had been offered the treasury post.

Other segments of the Kennedy camp spoke highly of Robert S. McNamara, president of Ford Motor Co., as a prospect for secretary of defense and possibly Treasury post.

A flurry of rumors earlier this week that Thomas E. Gates Jr., the current defense secretary, might be retained in the new administration appeared to be without support.

The president-elect has filled three cabinet posts—health, education and welfare, commerce and interior—and in each case, he announced the appointment with the selected official at his side.

Caroline Kennedy Bubbles Over Her New Living Doll

From Our News Wire
Palm Beach, Fla. (UPI)—There was a real living doll at Caroline Kennedy's house today and it took some persuasion to keep her from remaining constantly at the pink and white bassinet of John F. Kennedy Jr., her 15-day-old brother.

The infant son of President-Elect and Mrs. Kennedy got quite a dose of the outside world in his first 24 hours away from the Washington hospital where he was born—an airplane ride, whiffs of his father's cigar smoke and a new nursery beside the sea.

Caroline, 3, has been in Palm Beach for a week awaiting the arrival of her brother whom she had not been allowed to see previously. The hospital where her mother "got" the baby did not permit child visitors.

Caroline also had not seen her mother since Thanksgiving Day and a few hours before John Jr. was born, although mother and daughter had talked by telephone.

The family came together joyously in Palm Beach Friday night as the Kennedy plane, named for Caroline, arrived from Washington.

The parents and a new nurse, Mrs. Elsie Phillips of Kensington, Md., bore John Jr. gingerly in a

Sites Are at Oxford and White Lake, Pontiac, W. Bloomfield Twp.

More than 100 Goodfellows took to street corners today in four Pontiac area communities to raise funds for needy families at Christmastime, through the sale of Pontiac Press Goodfellow newspapers.

Businessmen, police officers and firemen in Oxford and West Bloomfield, White Lake and Pontiac townships are selling their papers at major intersections for whatever price donors care to give.

All proceeds from the sales will go towards clothing underprivileged children, putting Christmas dinners on the tables of the needy, and otherwise helping the unfortunate achieve a merry Christmas.

In Pontiac Township, some 20 firemen and members of the Metropolitan Club, Spirit 60, began their sale at 1 p.m. They began to raise $1,500 through the sale of 2,700 papers.

A $1,500 goal has been set by West Bloomfield Township Goodfellows. Forty-eight volunteers are selling papers at main intersections along Orchard Lake Road. Last year the group raised $1,400 to benefit 48 needy families in the community.

White Lake Township Goodfellows were up at the crack of dawn, hoping to raise $1,200 by the end of the day.

Their drive last year brought cheer to 41 needy families. Anticipating a slightly increased demand this year in the growing community, White Lake Goodfellows have vowed to stay out until all of their 2,500 papers are sold.

They are stationed at several major intersections in neighboring Waterford Township as well.

Goodfellows in Oxford are concentrating on raising funds to clothe underprivileged children through the paper sales.

Last year over 100 of these youngsters benefited from the drive when $1,300 was raised.

This year the men are hoping to achieve a $1,500 goal. Their fundraising efforts are being concentrated in the village's business district.

Following their return to Pontiac yesterday from examining the last voting machines in Royal Oak, the canvassers issued the following brief statement:

"After canvassing the 50 precincts petitioned for by L. Harvey Lodge, and having found no substantial change, and Donald E. Adams having received the majority of votes cast, Adams is declared elected."

Adams, 41, immediately withdrew his request that 53 additional precincts be recounted.

He had filed his counter request following submission of

Board of Canvassers Certifies Probate Judge Win Over Lodge

An eight-day recount has certified Donald E. Adams as Oakland County's second probate judge.

The board of canvassers yesterday concluded the recount in 20 precincts scattered among 28 townships and cities and announced "found no substantial change" in the official returns.

They showed Adams, a Waterford Township justice of the peace, the winner over Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, 75,259 votes to 75,256.

The margin of 694 votes—284 less than what unofficial tabulations showed following the Nov. 8 election—led Lodge to request the recount of 80 of the county's 311 precincts.

COSTS LODGE $450

It cost Lodge $450, or $5 for every precinct.

Gas Halts Mobs Rioting in Algeria

ALGERIES (AP)—Riot police firing tear gas grenades today drove back howling mobs of 5,000 riotists attempting to storm the official residence of President Charles De Gaulle's representative in strife-torn Algeria. Police attacked as the demonstrators marched on the Palais d'Or, residence of Jehu Morin. Tough riot squads stopped a similar attempt Friday.

Riot police and army troops also rushed to battle stations in Oran, Algeria's second largest city, where European settlers massed in the streets shouting, "De Gaulle to the state! Algeria is French."

A group of Oran Moslems carrying a banner reading "Vive De Gaulle" ran head-on into a group carrying a placard declaring "Algeria is French." They fought briefly. Both sides fell back.

Shortly after noon quiet was reported in Oran. Noontime brought a hail in Algiers, too.

Ambulances sped through the city taking the injured to hospitals. There was no way to tell immediately how many had been hurt.

Friday's riot of injured was put at about 100.

Thousands of Moslems roared a welcome to De Gaulle at Cherechell, site of a French military school, and cries of "Vive De Gaulle" rose around him in waves.

The tall French president ignored his security guard after stepping from a helicopter and strode over to a dense crowd of Moslems. Bellowing broadly, he shook scores of outstretched hands. Turbaned men and veiled women applauded and chanted his name like a symbol.

The president reviewed troops stationed at the school. Europeans jeered through the iron grillwork of the gate.

De Gaulle defied the rioters and pleaded with the French army and the silent Moslem masses to support his home-rule plan for strife-torn Algeria.

Reports from Oran, 224 miles southwest of Algiers, said that a crowd growing larger by the hour had gone on a rampage and looted police in the center of the seaport city.

Mobs reportedly pillaged business places and invaded offices of the city's newspapers. Echo of Oran and The Oran Republic.

One report said that a commando squad of demonstrators was bent on attacking the central police headquarters and another that skirmishes had broken out between Moslems and Europeans.

The city's economy was paralyzed by strike and disorder, and public transport was at a standstill.

In Algiers police estimated up to 10,000 persons surged through blood.

ALGERIA (AP)—Aides of Patrice Lumumba today held off carrying out their threat to round up all whites in Stanleyville and behead some of them.

The ex-premier was still in jail after the deadline they set for freeing him. One Western official here said, "The pressure seems to be off for the moment."

The rebels had threatened to arrest all Europeans and cut off some of the heads of Belgian hostages if Lumumba was not set free by 2 p.m. Friday.

United Nations reports from the area said no whites had been arrested so far in Stanleyville itself. But an undetermined number of arrests was reported at Aru, a town on the borders of Oriental Province and Uganda.

The U.N. commander in Stanleyville, Ethiopian Gen. Mengasha Bissu, conferred this morning with Gen. Victor Lundula, former commander in chief of the Congolese army under Lumumba, who now runs the fanatically Lumumbist military police unit holding Stanleyville.

About 100 Belgian men, women and children were sheltered overnight in the Stanleyville schoolhouse taken over as a refuge by the United Nations.

Some experts here believed the rebels were having second thoughts about carrying out their threat.

Lumumba is being held in a military camp at Thysville, closely guarded by the troops of the Congo. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Then Kills Self; She Appears Beaten to Death

Mrs. Tessie Austin, 53, Wendell Lichtenfeld Are Divorce Rift Victims

By LEE WINBORN

A prominent Armada attorney and father of five was murdered in his office yesterday by an elderly farmer who killed his own wife and later shot himself to death.

Wendell H. Lichtenfeld, 46, a former chief assistant prosecutor for Macomb County, was shot several times in the head. The slaying took place about 4 p.m.

About five hours later, state police and Macomb County sheriff's deputies went to the Joseph Austin home two miles northeast of town and found both Austin and his wife Tessie dead.

The house was a shambles.

Police theorized that Mrs. Austin, 53, had been beaten to death. Her body was found in the kitchen under a pile of clothing.

Austin, 67, was discovered upstairs on a bed, a 45 caliber pistol at his feet. Ballistics reports revealed it was the same gun that killed Lichtenfeld.

INVOLVED IN DIVORCE

The Austins had been involved in a divorce action more than a year ago and Lichtenfeld had represented the wife, according to police.

The attorney's body was found in his second-floor office on Main Street by a receptionist who worked for two clients in front offices on the main floor.

Patricia Knust, 22, of Richmond told police that she and the dentist, Dr. Earl A. Morrison and his son Dr. Robert Morrison, heard sounds they thought could have been gunshots at the time of the murder.

They decided, however, that it was a car backfiring and did not investigate, she said.

About 5 p.m. Miss Knust went by Lichtenfeld's office on her way to a storehouse and saw him lying in front of his desk.

She ran back to the dentist's office and told them to call Romeo state police.

While officers were checking at the scene, a Romeo attorney, Edward A. Jacob, called the state police post and suggested that Austin, whom Jacob represented in the divorce action, might be a possible suspect.

Jacob said Austin had threatened

2 of 8 Turn Up After Jet Crash

Scour 3,000 Sq. Miles of Snowy New York, Vermont; All Jumped

BARRIE, Vt. (UPI) — Two of eight crew members of a crashed Stratofortress found their way to safety today while a two-state search was conducted for the other six.

The two, radar operator Maj. Karl E. Keyes and pilot Capt. William T. Combs, both emerged from woods near Schroon Lake, N.Y., 50 miles from the crash site in the Green Mountains community.

Keyes was the first known survivor. He stumbled out of woods, painfully injured in his parachute fall.

Combs, 42, of Bristol, Va., was apparently unharmed. Keyes came out of the woods at 4 a.m. (Pontiac time).

GIVE JUMP ORDER

Combs had already given the order to the crew to bail out of the plane. The $3-million, eight-jet jet glider fell and exploded Friday night in a ravine of the snow-mantled mountains.

Searchers by the hundreds criss-crossed the wilderness of two states for survivors. It is believed that all of the crewmen parachuted before the crash.

Keyes, of Hyattsville, Md., said he landed in the snow, a broken collarbone and other injuries.

Keyes said he landed in a tree, skidded down, built a fire in the below freezing night air, and soon after headed toward "the noise of some trucks."

The sounds guided him five miles through the forest to a highway. As Keyes emerged near Schroon Lake, an intensive wife whom he telephoned from a garage miles of Northern Vermont and Upland New York, a light carpet of snow covered the forest floor.

The search even involved the Coast Guard which dispatched a 50-foot boat on an island-to-island patrol of Lake Champlain.

One of the first persons at the crash scene, Jack Cymrot, said the B52 "was all junk. Thousands of miles were scattered all over."

PAFIER REACT

"Right next to a small piece of wreckage there was a sheet of paper laying face up."

It said "For landing, jump down. If the plane lands, jump down. If it bursts like shrapnel when it exploded."

Radar told him on pine trees like Christmas trees. Wreckage was strewn through the tops of the trees.

Keyes' first concern was for his wife whom he telephoned from a motel to assure her he was alive. He declined to say what in his opinion caused the crash. He would comment only "I knew it was time to go."

Keyes said he parachuted in turn and four others went before him. The plane, on a routine mission out of Westover AFB, Mass., was last contacted at 10:07 p.m. and Friday between Messine, N.Y., and Watertown, N.Y., near the Canadian border.

The crash occurred at 11:24 p.m.

THIRTY YEARS OF SERVICE

The Birmingham Community House, Bates and Townsend streets, has been the focal point of civic affairs in the area for three decades. Before that, a small frame building at Maple and Bates was used for all social, business and recreational functions. The idea of creating a central meeting place for area residents was formulated 40 years ago next month.

Conceived Forty Years Ago, Community House Thriving

By JIM LONG
It's doubtful that early next month many Birmingham residents, if any, will circle Jan. 3 as a day to remember. But they should. Because of that day, 40 years ago, nearly 200 organizations have a place to call home.

It was then that the idea of a community house was brought forth for a growing village.

The village became a city and the Community House, established in a small, white frame building two years after the idea was conceived, grew along with it, more successful than any of its founders ever had foreseen.

The first Community House, proposed by the Rev. Charles McCarty who was then pastor of St. James Episcopal Church, was on the southeast corner of Maple and Bates streets.

The old building belonged to the church and needed repairs. The Women's Guild of the parish decided to do something about it and raised $3,500 from fairs and festivals to have it remodeled and redecorated.

REALITY IN 1923

In April 1923 the Community House became a reality. It was described as "probably the only one of its kind in any town the size of Birmingham."

Then, as now, the Community House was nonpartisan, non-sectarian and nonexclusive.

By 1926, three years after the building opened its doors, more than 20,000 persons were using the facility annually for meetings, social gatherings and recreation.

A few years later the community building's directors realized that growing demand had made the house too small.

Funds to erect a new building were solicited from the public, and on March 17, 1930, a $150,000 Community House was open.

The following month, the big white brick building at the corner of Bates and Townsend was dedicated. Its 30th anniversary of serving the community to the full was celebrated last spring.

Along with the new building came a new service, an unemployment agency.

Through the years, thousands of jobs have found work in homes and offices as a result of the placement service.

Last year the employment department of the Community House found jobs for 4,577 of the 4,834 persons who applied.

The 10-room, colonial-furnished building is open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to midnight and longer for special occasions.

ENTIRELY VOLUNTARY

The community service building is supported entirely by voluntary contribution and is administered by its own board of directors.

Heading the list in the guidance of the Community House is Mrs. Charles (Ruth) Shain, honorary president of the nonprofit organization.

Mrs. Shain was one of the members of the committee appointed by Rev. McCarty to prepare recommendations on the Community House in 1921.

Over the years, Mrs. Shain, not only has taken an active part in civic affairs but also has headed a class on international affairs at the Community House three times before.

The success of the Community

House is reflected in its increased use annually.

In the last fiscal year, June 1959 through May 1960, nearly 150,000 persons met for some function at the building.

A total of 1,402 groups held 2,335 meetings in the two-story building during the fiscal year and some 47,000 meals were prepared and served by a staff of 12 women.

The 85 craft and hobby classes taught during the fall and winter at the Community House were attended by 1,600 persons of all ages.

This summer it was feared that the local police of the community might have to close its doors because its operating fund drive fell short of the $30,000 goal.

However, in July, Board of Directors President Eugene J. Barney announced that the Community House will continue operations for "a long time to come and have the strongest program in its history this year."

Barney went on to say that the board intends to make area residents aware of what the House does and can do for them — and how much it means simply to have it available in the area where they live.

Armada Farmer Kills Wife and Lawyer, Then Self

S. Fulton St., Mrs. Lila Lichtenfeld was under a doctor's care.

She and four children living at the house were comforted by friends and relatives.

The children are Barbara, 16, Steve, 13, Fred, 12, and Mary, 10. Son Richard, 17, is in the Army. A Lichtenfeld was described as an "office lawyer" by his colleagues but also was considered an excellent trial attorney.

CALLED MILD

He was described as a mild-mannered and gracious person by friends who "couldn't believe he had an enemy in the world."

Austin was described by neighbors as a hardworking farmer who worked 80 acres near the village.

Lichtenfeld's body was taken to the Tiffany-Young Funeral Home in Armada.

Lichtenfeld was a graduate of the University of Michigan. During World War II he rose from private to captain, winning a decoration for gallantry in action in France and Germany.

He became assistant prosecutor in 1942, later moving up to chief assistant under Prosecutor Fred W. Nicholson.

Lichtenfeld left the prosecutor's office in 1952 to enter private practice.

Clark Gable Fortune Over Million Dollars

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Clark Gable left a fortune estimated at more than a million dollars to his widow Kay, now awaiting the birth of their first child.

The actor's will was admitted to probate Friday. It left a home in North Hollywood to his first wife, Josephine Dillon, 75, whose coaching in dramatics started him on his career.

Gable, who died Nov. 16 of a heart attack, He married actress Kay Williams July 11, 1955. The will was signed Sept. 19, 1955.

Lodge's in case the official returns were reversed.

Because of the slight change, canvassers were undecided whether they would bother to alter the official returns for both Adams and Lodge.

"In all probability we will not change the canvass," said Daniel T. Murphy Jr., county clerk and register of deeds who also serves as clerk of the canvassing board.

Charles G. Richardson, board chairman, said there were "three little changes."

Two came in paper ballot precincts he said. Lodge received five votes which had originally gone to Adams in Lyon Township.

"I guess you'd call this a mistake in the printing," Richardson said.

Mrs. Mabel M. Child, county election clerk, said the election worker in the particular precinct gave Adams the votes. Lodge canvassers had been given, and vice versa.

Other canvassers were Mrs. Paul Gorman of Pontiac and Mrs. William S. Dixon.

On behalf of the board, Richardson praised the efficiency and cooperation of election workers in the 30 precincts.

The recount began Dec. 1. "I knew there wouldn't be any change to speak of before we started," he said. "That's been the history of recounts in voting machines."

Lodge alleged no fraud on the part of workers. None was found, either, Richardson said.

Adams left his law practice in the township and stayed with canvassers throughout the canvass.

He announced afterward that he might possibly stay on as justice of the peace.

His post doesn't expire until July 4, 1963. He was elected to another four-year term in July 1959.

He has been justice since 1937. He said he had checked with the county corporation counsel's office and found there was no conflict between his duties as judge and justice. His new judicial term begins Jan. 1.

Asked about his possible resignation as justice, Adams said, "I'll work it out with the board."

There was some speculation that Adams doesn't resign by Jan. 1. He said he was submitting nomination petitions for candidates who wish to fill his unexpired term.

No election could be held Feb. 20, and then the Township Board of Trustees will make the appointment.

The board's membership is Democratic.

Adams is a Democrat, although his election last month was on a nonpartisan ticket.

House Group Holds Up Inspector-General $5 Over Foreign Aid Lull

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee says funds for the office of inspector-general of the State Department have been cut off because it failed to turn over information on foreign aid operations.

Rep. Porter Hardy Jr., D-Va., chairman of the House Foreign Operations subcommittee, said Friday that the funds were stopped by the General Accounting Office.

Hardy said the law setting up the office of inspector-general in the State Department provided it could remain in existence only as long as it provided congressional committees and the General Accounting Office information needed by them "for the performance of their constitutional and statutory duties."

He said the State Department office refused to furnish documents asked by the subcommittee for a study of foreign aid operations in seven Latin American countries. He added that the subcommittee had been formally advised by President Eisenhower last week that the documents would not be given to the subcommittee.

Hardy's subcommittee frequently has complained that the State Department and the International Cooperation Administration, which distributes foreign aid, have refused to supply information.

Woe for Fidel on 3 Fronts, Marchers Say 'Russia No'

HAVANA (AP) — Trouble piled up today for Prime Minister Fidel Castro on the labor, church and military fronts with the issue of Communist infiltration of his regime playing a central role.

Shouts of "Cuba yes, Russia no" came from demonstrators in front of the presidential palace — and they got away with it.

Anti-Communist leaders of the Electrical Workers Union took to the streets today trying to bring Cuban airliner in flight over Cienfuegos Thursday night. They were thwarted when the pilot crash-landed.

One of the condemned men escaped in the landing and still at large.

The palace demonstration was by members of the Electric Workers Union.

The union leaders' defiant refusal to bow to the Red-leading Confederation of Cuban Workers (CTC), which demanded their ouster, could have troublesome repercussions for Castro as the labor sector—mostly dead-end to now.

Several hundred members of the union marched on the presidential palace Friday night, protesting what they called Communist infiltration of their union.

Led by their popular secretary-general, Amario Fajardo, the shouting workers demanded an audience with Castro or President Osvaldo Dorticos.

The peaceful demonstration broke up quickly after a commission headed by Fajardo was admitted to the palace. But before the commission went to see Dorticos, as promised, or even his secretary, Luis Buch.

Kennedy watched the sleeping child intently, putting on a cigar that sent spirals of smoke up above the basket.

Mrs. Kennedy, still recuperating from her Caesarean section of Nov. 25 and the fatigue of her White House tour, spent most of the trip in a private compartment, resting on the dark-haired and chic in a black wool suit, Mrs. Kennedy drew compliments from her husband on her appearance.

Commission May Study Detroit City Hall Debate

BIRMINGHAM — The dispute over the proposed raising of Detroit's old City Hall may get an airing by city commissioners here Monday.

J. W. O'Meara, president of the Save Old City Hall Commission in Detroit, has sent the Birmingham Commission a letter asking their feelings on the subject.

The City Hall Commission, Cadillac-Richard Memorial, is concerned with the fate of Detroit's Old City Hall, O'Meara said in his letter. "We proposed to share its use with all the communities of the metropolitan area."

O'Meara said his group is seeking consideration and participation in the matter from communities near Detroit.

WENT HALL OF STATE

"This building was solemnly dedicated as a memorial to Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac and Father Gabriel Richard, co-founders of Detroit, in 1880. Our plan is to restore the upper portion for use as a great metropolitan hall of state," O'Meara explained.

"It would be made available for important public functions and as the assembly hall of our metropolitan governmental authorities. This would be done by private subscriptions, not public cost," O'Meara said.

"We would invite its use for such purpose by your community. This would not involve any proposal whatsoever for any surrender of community autonomy."

"Our communities have long shared together for specific purposes—water, sewerage, trash, police projects—on either a voluntary or formal basis. The hall we plan would merely provide a setting of proper civility for such meetings."

O'Meara said further plans call for the eventual placement of Cadillac and Richard in a suitable memorial upon the lower level, "making this a visible symbol of our common heritage."

A resolution passed by the Dearborn Historical Society favors saving the building, O'Meara pointed out.

The Save Old City Hall Commission has offices in the Book Building, Detroit.

Caroline Bubbles Over Living Doll

closed car through the warm evening breeze from home of the Kennedy clan.

The reunion with Caroline was a highly private affair, far inside the white stucco walls of the Kennedy home on Ocean Boulevard.

The president-elect and his wife were equally determined to protect Caroline from all possible exposure to glaring public attention, particularly at this exciting time when she is adjusting to having a new mother to keep it that way.

The children will stay here until after inauguration, according to Kennedy confidantes.

Mrs. Kennedy may be back in Washington before that, but not the youngsters, who have separate purposes.

The first lady-to-be has some dates in Washington—Jan. 13 reception for prominent Democrats, the White House inaugural ceremonies, including the inaugural ball.

John Jr. apparently took his first day of exposure to the White House hospital nursery in sleepy stride.

The president-elect brought Jacqueline and the baby from the hospital to their Georgetown home late Friday morning.

After Mrs. Kennedy took time out for a tour of the White House conducted by Mrs. Manie Eisenhower, the family set out for Florida.

The baby was bundled in a white blanket and deposited by Phillips in a basket placed across two seats in the rear of the plane's main cabin.

During much of the trip, the president-elect and a friend, Charles F. Spaulding of New York, sat in seats facing the baby cot.

Kennedy watched the sleeping child intently, putting on a cigar that sent spirals of smoke up above the basket.

Mrs. Kennedy, still recuperating from her Caesarean section of Nov. 25 and the fatigue of her White House tour, spent most of the trip in a private compartment, resting on the dark-haired and chic in a black wool suit, Mrs. Kennedy drew compliments from her husband on her appearance.

Isolates Towns in Several States

Storm Again Rips Southwest

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A mighty southwest wind, already blamed for more than a dozen deaths, swung fresh punches today at a sector of the Southwest.

The icy storm isolated towns in several states, shattered communication lines, halted travel and knocked out power lines.

El Paso, at the New Mexico border, was buried in 6 to 8 inches of snow.

Maria, Tex., 200 miles east of El Paso, was almost isolated for two days. Ham radio operators made contact Friday night and learned conditions in the area were critical.

"We're in rough shape," Jim O'Brien, publisher of the Big Bend Sentinel told the El Paso Times. "Our paper's top half has blown off and it's hard to say when the utility company is going to get our power fully restored."

Lighter traces of snow are spotted across the state. Several other Indiana cities reported near-zero weather.

The official 10.2-inch total set a record for a Dec. 8 snow in this northwest Indiana town. Four inches fell within an hour and a half Thursday afternoon.

The storm slackened its fury in New Mexico and Arizona while dumping more than six inches at Canon City in south central Colorado since Nov. Friday. There was 11-15 inches reported at Wolf Creek Pass and two inches dropped in Denver area during the night.

Light snow in the Arizona mountains was expected. North Texas snow, although still icy, was open. The storm activity dropped

Freak Blizzard Dumps 10 Inches on Valparaiso

VALPARAISO, Ind. (AP) — A freak storm left Valparaiso in a record 10-inch snow Friday in a severe cold snap that sent temperatures as low as 10 below zero.

The weather observer at Flint Lake, three miles north of Valparaiso, reported he read his thermometer three times before the cold broke into the 10-below temperature.

Lighter traces of snow are spotted across the state. Several other Indiana cities reported near-zero weather.

The official 10.2-inch total set a record for a Dec. 8 snow in this northwest Indiana town. Four inches fell within an hour and a half Thursday afternoon.

Woman Dem Chairman Resigns in Wayne County

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Elsie G. Moore, 44, first woman Wayne County Democratic chairman, announced Friday she will resign Dec. 11 for a "rest and vacation."

She has been county chairman since 1955.

NYC to Centralize Area Freight Work

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan Public Service Commission Friday authorized New York Central Railroad to centralize two additional areas where it provides freight service.

The commission approved the firm's requests to provide service to Toledo, Rochester, Oxford and Lapeer from its freight service center at Detroit.

Another commission center will allow the railroad's service center at Adrian to serve rail piers at Hillsdale, Ida, Deerfield, Jasper, Morenci, Tecumseh, Clinton and Manchester.

The commission previously approved several other similar requests by New York Central to consolidate its service areas. The company said maintaining service centers in communities where little service was required was unprofitable.

New York Central said it could maintain the required service in the areas included in the centralization.

Husband Jealous; Wife Angry; Both in Court

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—When the policeman arrested the woman on a street corner, she cried in consternation: "But I am your wife."

"Never mind that," the policeman snapped. "You are under arrest for soliciting men."

A judge released the wife for lack of evidence and she marched straight to another court and filed two suits against her husband, one for libel and another for divorce. The judge ruled the arrest was "prompted by jealousy rather than a sense of duty" and fined the cop

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.

Q. Our cat died of a sudden. He hadn't been sick at all. Do you think it was possible that he got hold of poison? Bertha Morgan, Chicago.

A. Poison is often suspected when an animal dies suddenly. Fortunately, it is not easy to poison a cat since they are quite fastidious in their eating habits.

Your cat could have been struck by a car, the most common cause of sudden death. Or he could have been involved in a fight with a dog and gotten the worst of it. Some of the infectious diseases, such as feline distemper, may prove to be fatal within a few hours.

If you have other animals in the house or neighborhood, it certainly would be advisable to have an autopsy performed. While this, of course, would not restore your cat, it would ease your mind.

'Called Me Names,' Hints Janos Kadar

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungary's Communist party chief, Janos Kadar, has hinted he was called some hard names at the recent Moscow summit conference of Communist leaders.

Outlining the achievements of the three-week Moscow parley, Kadar told Parliament he had been charged with being both hard and soft on revisionists (those who follow the Tito brand of independent communism).

He did not say who leveled the charges or even that they were made at the summit meeting.

But he added that "in Moscow we have now been justified in the correctness of our line."

Kadar said his regime would continue to follow a Marxist-Leninist line, dealing with its enemies with an iron hand, "but with individual people we shall be humane."

READY ON ARRIVAL — President Eisenhower says, "I've got my golfing clothes on — let's go" to Cliff Roberts, an official of the Augusta National Golf Club. The President surprised reporters Friday by changing on board in order to be ready for an immediate round when he arrived. It's the second time he did his quick-change act in order to hurry to the course.

White Students on Ropes at Integrated Frantz School

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — show up Friday were escorted by federal deputy marshals. Marion McKinley, Baptist seminary student, withdrew his children after a second rock-throwing attack on his home. He said he feared for his son's and his daughter's safety.

Marvin Chandler, another Baptist seminary student, said he kept his children home because of harassment.

Mrs. Delma Windham and Everett L. Poling were given 24-hour police protection because of threats against their families' lives.

"I never thought I would wake up in a free country and find I couldn't send my children to school," Mrs. Windham said.

Mrs. N. H. Sand, president of Save Our Schools, whose organization has been driving white children to Frantz, said harassment—mainly in the form of telephone calls—had spread to members of her group. She said the calls included threats on life and property and obscene remarks.

ANALYSIS CHECK — Charles L. Barnett of Shreveport, president of the Louisiana association of citizens' councils, asked the legislature's Un-American Activities Committee to investigate 12 persons whose automobiles have been used to drive Frantz students to school. The white students that did

Washington is Dressed as a Cardinal; Fear That Supply Will Be Ruined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strange red-and-silver quarters featuring George Washington dressed as a Roman Catholic cardinal are being widely circulated in some parts of the country—and there's no law against it.

The coins are known as "Kennedy quarters" and represent an elaborate post-election prank. They are named, of course, for Sen. John F. Kennedy who on Jan. 20 will become the first Roman Catholic to serve as president.

Mint officials said today the coins are standard 25-cent pieces doctored to disguise Washington as a prelate.

The doctored is done in any of several ways. Some of the coins are painted with red enamel and some are dressed up with pieces of red plastic tape in appropriate shape.

WEARS SKULL CAP

On the "heads" side, Washington's powdered wig is covered by a red skull cap called a zucchetto (pronounced zook-etto). These are worn by cardinals and stem from the days when all clerics had tonsures, or shaved heads. Washington's shoulders are covered with a red cassock, a clerical garment which has an ankle-length skirt.

The mint has no evidence that "Kennedy quarters" are being mass produced by any particular group or organization. However, officials are fearful the gag might sweep the country and both up the supply of quarters.

Leland Howard, assistant director of the Bureau of the Mint, said Treasury lawyers can find no federal law against this type of coin trickery.

U.S. Keeps Control of Base on Trinidad

CROWN POINT, Tobago (AP) — The only active U.S. naval base in the south Caribbean will remain under control of the United States for 17 years through an agreement reached with leaders of the new West Indies Federation.

The base, located at Chaguaramas on the island of Trinidad, was obtained in the 1941 bases-for-destructors deal between the United States and Britain.

The Federation wants to use part of the base for its new capital, and 21,000 acres will therefore be given up by the United States. The remainder of the base will be retained until 1977 to carry out "important defense and electronic research missions." Presumably this includes tracking missiles fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Wanted to Make Certain He Got the Right Man

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Arthur Kirksey Jr., 6, saw Santa Claus Thursday—five of him.

Making the rounds on his own in downtown Cincinnati after becoming separated from his older sister, Arthur was looking for Santa No. 6 when his worried dad found him.

Said Kirksey Sr.: "He wants a rocking horse and air rifle. He wants to be a cowboy in the worst way. I guess he wasn't taking any chances Santa would miss him."

Expect W. Va. to Be Renewal Guinea Pig

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Took the West Virginia, with its particularly critical economic problems, to get permission to carry out pilot ventures in a vast new area redevelopment program.

That was the word from Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., and others after the 21-man task force Douglas heads laid the organizational groundwork Friday for recommendations it will give President-elect John F. Kennedy by Jan. 1.

Subcommittees of the big group will meet next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in Washington.

2nd Canadian Network Wins BBG Permission

OTTAWA (UPI) — The Board of Broadcast Governors (BBG) Friday approved in principle the formation of a second Canadian television network to be operated by the private broadcasting industry.

In a series of decisions stemming from its public hearings Nov. 29 and 30, the BBG announced that permission is being granted to S. W. Caldwell of Toronto to incorporate as "Canadian Television Network Limited."

FNMA President Sees More Funds for Buyers

A continued increase in the availability of residential mortgage funds for the remainder of this year and the early part of 1961 was forecast today by Federal National Mortgage Association President J. Stanley Baughman. This prediction for prospective homebuyers was made in connection with the release this weekend of the agency's Secondary Market Operations covering the Third Quarter. (FNMA buys and sells FHA-insured and VA-guaranteed mortgages in the secondary or resale market.)

According to Mr. Baughman, all phases of the corporation's operations during the quarter reflected a continued "easing" in the home mortgage market, with offerings and purchases again down from the previous quarter. The Association's chief executive pointed out that FNMA's Secondary Market Operations program "operates in a 'see-saw' fashion" and explained that "when money is 'tight' offerings and purchases increase and sales decrease, and conversely when money 'eases,' offerings and purchases taper off and sales pick up."

Running mildly contrary to the theoretical "see-saw" formula, sales slipped slightly from 555 mortgages valued at $4,691,000 in the Second Quarter to 519 worth $4,167,000 in the period reported. This, however, was more than the $1 sold for $63,000 in the comparable period a year ago. Collectively, FNMA has sold 42,947 mortgages totaling $485,724,000 out of its $500 portfolio, which at the end of September consisted of 559,316 mortgages amounting to $2,505,000,000.

The report also revealed that purchases were off 3 per cent from the preceding quarter — from 20,246 valued at $254,904,000 to 19,711 for $233,337,000. These purchases brought the cumulative totals since the inception of the SMO program six years ago to 299,569 aggregating $3,500,829,000.

Based on his report and the results of a recent nationwide survey, Mr. Baughman said that "the 'easing' in the money market that was apparent in the Third Quarter was continuing and all indications pointed that the trend would continue well into 1961, which ought to mean more favorable financing conditions for homebuyers in the months ahead."

An analysis of the quarter's purchases disclosed a 3 to 1 ratio in the number of FHA mortgages bought compared to VA, with 13,577 valued at $100,109,000 acquired, contrasted with only 4,790 GI loans valued at $61,206,000. These purchases, covering properties located in 42 states, and Puerto Rico.

A highlight of the report shows that all major segments of the home finance industry continue to participate in the FNMA program. A breakdown of the 658 sellers that sold mortgages to the Association during the quarter shows that 489 mortgage companies (74 per cent) led the list, followed by 113 banks and trust companies (17 per cent), 41 savings and loan associations (6 per cent), and 12 insurance companies (2 per cent).

The report also showed a continued broadening of the base of private ownership in the corporation during the quarter, with 7,094 stockholders holding 108,000 shares of FNMA common stock on September 30, compared with 6,714 holding 94,562 shares at the end of the previous quarter. (The agency's common stock is originally issued only to sellers of mortgages to FNMA but it is freely transferable thereafter.)

Model Train Table

Made of Peg Board

An unusual table for the model railroad hides the wiring underneath. Free plan is available for the easy construction of this popular Christmas gift.

The multi-purpose top is a 4'x5' panel of Masonite 1/2" Peg-Board, with its scores of holes spaced one inch apart in rows. Tracks and accessories can be rearranged at will, and still the wires won't show except at the connections.

Directions for making the sturdy table, as well as putting up a 1/2" Peg-Board panel on the wall for keeping accessories of the model train handy, are given in a free plan, No. AE-323, which may be obtained by sending a postcard to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill.

A perspective in the plan shows a typical train layout in a boy's room, including a handy workbench adjacent to the table. The bench is covered with Tempered Plywood which, like the perforated panel, is splinter-free and therefore safe for a hobbyist's hands.

BRIGHT SANTA—There are many uses for this Santa decoration. It may be placed on your front gate, on the wall above your fireplace, or even in a window. Last year we noticed one home where the Santa's head was protruding from a chimney. The figure is 21 inches high so it will fit almost anywhere. The Santa head comes to you printed in many bright and waterproof colors. All you need do is paste the large picture on plywood or cardboard. After that, saw or cut it out with scissors and it's ready to go on display either indoors or out. To obtain the brightly colored Santa head No. 183 send 50 cents for each (add 15 cents if airmail is desired) to Steve Ellington, Pontiac Press, Pattern Dept., Van Nuys, Calif.

Stylized Tree Has Shelves for Baubles

A small stylized Christmas tree with inside shelves for the display of gifts or holiday decorations can be built in the home workshop and set up in the living room or a window to cheer the holiday scene.

The three-sided pyramid, just under four feet high, has overlapping sides of Masonite Freshwood or Peg-Board attached to a simple wood framework. If perforated hardwood is used, a light in the base can dramatically back-light the objects showing on the recessed shelves.

After assembling and prime painting, the craftsman can use one of the new textured paints to achieve a striking holiday effect. The tree can readily be animated by placing it on a commercial turntable, available from commercial display companies.

For a free plan giving full details on the construction write a postcard to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting No. AE-360.

Paint both sides of sliding doors made of Masonite board. By using different colors, you can reverse sides to change the color scheme.

Update Old Door With 'Whiteboard'

Homemaker who have been planning to modernize an old-fashioned panel door in the kitchen can have both a good-looking new door and a "whiteboard" for Christmas if they plant the idea in Dad's ear now. By filling in the depressions of the panel door with insulation board and cementing a white panel of plastic-surfaced Marlite to this solid base, the home handyman can create a modern door that also can be used as a message center.

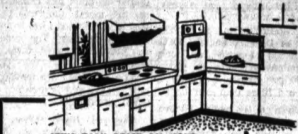

Members of the family can leave messages right on the "whiteboard" with a grease pencil. The writing can be wiped off easily with a soft cloth. Marlite has a durable plastic surface that is highly-resistant to hand wear, and it never needs painting or refinishing.

Land Costs Double

Purchase of land and preliminary costs in building a home take about 25 per cent of total development costs, estimate housing authorities. They add this is more than double the prewar average of 10 to 12 per cent.

To Sentence 29 Electric Firms

44 Officials Also Are Accused of Bid Rigging and Price Fixing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After news today began reporting recommendations U.S. Dist. Judge J. Cullen Gurney should consider early next year when sentence 29 electrical firms and 44 of their officials accused of price fixing and bid rigging.

Nineteen firms Thursday entered guilty pleas to one or more of 29 indictments handed up by four different federal grand juries. Fourteen of the 19 companies also pleaded no contest—no defense—to some charges. Ten other firms pleaded no defense only. Judge Gurney, who indicated he regards a guilty plea to one or more of the indictments as a mitigating factor in preparing recommendations of sentences, said he will prepare brief written summaries of recommendations of the court should take into consideration when it hands down its sentences.

On each indictment, companies are liable to a maximum $50,000 fine. Individuals could receive a maximum penalty of a year in jail and $50,000 fine.

The indictments, initiated last February, involved annual sales of heavy electrical equipment of about $2 billion. The sales were mainly to local, state and federal agencies and public utilities.

Pick Utican for Honors at MSUO

Laure Ann Webb of Utica and Mike Deller of Detroit have been named Michigan State University Oakland's Students of the Month for November and December.

Miss Webb, 19, a sophomore and graduate of Utica High School, has a B-plus average. She is in the teacher education curriculum, majoring in English.

Editor of the student newspaper, The Oakland Observer, she also is recording secretary of the Student Senate, treasurer of Wesley Foundation, and chairman of the creativity committee of the Association of Women Students.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elder Webb, 6100 Stacy St.

Deller, also a sophomore and 19, is a graduate of Birmingham High School. He also is in teacher education, majoring in Russian, and maintaining a B-plus average.

He was a member of the exploratory committee whose work led to the establishment of a student government this year, the university election committee, and the Newman Club. He is a reporter for the student paper.

His parents are the A. H. Dellers of Detroit.

U.N. May Be in Trouble

Russia Pulling Sly Deals in Africa

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
Soviet activities in Africa, coupled with Moscow's pressures and blandishments among African leaders, threaten the very existence of the United Nations in its present form.

It is all too easy to imagine some possible results over not long a period. The U.N., still in its teens, could become a doddering old wreck, incapable of effective action. Worse than that, there is even a possibility of a sort of African Korea.

Some of the nations which supplied troops for an effort to restore peace and order in the Congo now are withdrawing them.

What would happen if most withdrew the troops they had assigned to the U.N. mission? In all probability there would be attempts to fill the resulting void, and in such attempts could be the beginning of catastrophe for the heart of Africa.

The Kremlin seems to be playing a cynical game with the African continent. And there are few signs that certain African leaders suspect they are being used for the aims of Soviet world policy. Puzzled Westerners frequently express wonder why leaders of former colonial countries often seem willing to accept Soviet propaganda and seem deliberately to close their eyes to ultimate Communist designs.

The answer probably is that the Kremlin promises something for each of them. In return, the Kremlin makes sure there is something to be gained from each of them. Luckily for the Russians and unfortunately for the West, some more preoccupied with their own ambitions than with attempting to dissipate the shadow of calamity over the continent.

How do the Russians line up African leaders' support?

Take Gamal Abdel Nasser, for example. His Pan-Arab and Pan-

Islamic ambitions involve a huge area of the continent. Nasser is anxious also to exert a commanding interest in embattled Algeria.

The F. alans and Red Chinese loudly support the Algerian Nationalist revolution against France. This places the Communists and the most powerful of Arab leaders on the same side of the argument. By implication, it places the Western powers in an exposed camp. The arrangement is convenient both for the Russians and the Arab leaders.

Take King Mohamed V. of Morocco. He has designs for an annexing neighboring Mauritania. The Russians kept Mauritania out of the U.N. on a flimsy pretext, and earned Moroccan gratitude.

Take the leaders of Ghana and Guinea in West Africa. They apparently are ambitious to be spokesmen for all emerging black Africa. The Russians have encouraged these ambitions and in return have won Guinean and Ghanaian support for Red maneuvers in the heart of the continent.

The Russians have done well in wooing these leaders. But they still are not satisfied. They are demanding more and more of what they call unity against "criminal plans of the imperialists in the Congo."

Should they succeed, the Russians will have reached the point where they can reduce the U.N. to a skeleton of what it is supposed to be, a tattered copy of its defunct predecessor, the League of Nations.

There is every reason to believe that Soviet performances, that they want such a result. A show of considerably more sales resistance by African leaders to the Communist line could do much to rescue the U.N. from a fate like that of the League before it.

Oakland Heights Will Lose Water

System to Be Closed
All Monday for Major
Repair Work

More than 1,000 residents of Waterford Township's Lake Oakland Heights subdivision will be waterless all Monday when the system is closed for major repairs.

The township water department superintendent, Kenneth Squiers, advised all the 200 homeowners to stock up on water Sunday night or before 8:30 a.m. Monday.

The township has been authorized by the Michigan State Health department to redevelp two large wells in the subdivision since the water supply has become inadequate to meet amounts required by the health department.

The 6-inch and 12-inch wells, which normally pump some 700 gallons per minute will be cleaned with air agitators and acid.

Corrosion was blamed for the water shortage and lack of pressure which has become progressively worse during the year.

Senegal Top Official Calls on Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prime minister of Senegal called on President Eisenhower today and said they "entirely agreed" that colonial and trust territories must be ready for the responsibility before achieving independence.

Prime Minister Mamadou Diaw, to Eisenhower's office with the new ambassador from Senegal, Ousmane Soce Diop, when the envoy presented his credentials.

Diaw said they were entirely agreed that it would be inconceivable to grant independence to colonies and trust territories until they were ready to bear the responsibility of independence.

"We cannot force independence on them," Diaw said.

Mail Stamp Fraud Report Under Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield Friday ordered an investigation of reports by Providence, R.I., newspapers that in test mailings letters carrying foreign stamps passed through the city's new automated post office.

The postmaster general said the department's inspection service has been instructed to investigate the mailings "and report the findings to the U.S. attorney at Providence."

The announcement said the "apparent deliberate mailing of letters without legal American postage appears to be a direct and intentional violation" of the U.S. Criminal Code which provides fines up to $300 for each such mailing.

W.C. Cagers Lose to Arthur Hill Again

Basket With One Second Left Wins for Avondale

By BILL CORNWELL

SAGINAW—A terrific finish couldn't atone for a terrible start here Friday night as Pontiac Central's defending Saginaw Valley Conference basketball champion went down to a four-point defeat at the hands of scrappy Arthur Hill.

A capacity crowd watched the pesky Hillites pile up a 33-17 halftime advantage and then hold off a furious PCH rally to score a 50-46 victory over the Chiefs in the league opener for both schools.

Not even the return of leaping George Fed to the lineup could save the Chiefs in this contest, although the big fellow played extremely well following a two-game absence due to a broken right thumb suffered in the Flint Central football game Nov. 11.

After a shaky beginning which saw him collect three personal fouls in the first quarter, Fed came on strong to bag a dozen points and grab 18 rebounds in his last appearance of the 1960-61 season. Fed drew his 4th personal in the 3rd period, but the agile 6-foot-3 backboard artist kept plugging away and sparked Central's 2nd-half rally with some good help from Dennis Diehm and Paul Brown.

Diehm and Brown may have earned themselves starting berths with last night's performances. They completely outshone the boys they replaced, Charney Douglas and Braden Pritchett, respectively.

Pritchett was particularly ineffective, failing to score a single point and getting only five rebounds. It marked the 2nd straight time the Chiefs lost by four points at Arthur Hill and yesterday's contest was strikingly similar to the one played here last Jan. 29 when they dropped a 45-41 decision.

Nearly four minutes elapsed before the Chiefs got their first lead goal and they were behind by a 17-5 count entering the 2nd stanza.

Four times during the 2nd quarter the Chiefs trailed by 13 points, once by 18 and another time by 26. They finally started to play a decent brand of basketball following intermission, but by that time the deficit was much too big to overcome.

The Chiefs kept pecking away in the 2nd half, but it was simply a case of "too little and too late." Fed's three-point play midway through the 3rd quarter cut the Hillites lead to 11 and the deficit was narrowed to 40-31 going into the 4th period.

Central twice came within four points in the waning moments of the game, but the brilliant rally was doomed to failure.

Little Bob Smith's foul shot with one minute remaining made the score 44-41 and Fed accounted for the final tally by sinking two charity tosses in the final 30 seconds.

Arthur Hill enjoyed a flying start and led all the way, thanks to some expert shooting by Jerry Calkins, who netted 10 of his 12 points in the 1st half. Each team had three players in double figures. Fed and Smith tallied 12 apiece to set the pace for PCH and Diehm notched 11 before fouling out late in the 4th quarter.

By DON VOGEL

Tim Burt grabbed the pass in the free throw lane, eight feet from the basket, made a quick pivot and fired a jump shot.

The ball dropped through the hoop without touching the rim and bounced on the floor. The clock showed one second remaining in the game. The buzzer sounded but for Troy, could recover.

Bedlam broke loose in the Avondale gym. Coach Dick Bly led the charge of players and fans across the floor to embrace and hug the player who had given the Yellow Jackets a 45-40 victory in their opening game of the season.

The dramatic victory in the Oakland B was a fitting reward for the Yellow Jackets who used hustle and tight defensive play to overcome several disadvantages. It was the first game for Avondale since it had played one earlier contest.

Les Bourdo, 6-5 Avondale center, spent all but three minutes of the second half on the bench because of fouls. With him out of the line up, Troy had a big advantage on the backboard.

"I am very pleased with the way the boys played," said Bly. "They never stopped hustling. Our defense was good, too. We decided on a man-to-man with hopes of stopping one of their top players. I think we did it."

"Our defense forced Troy's players into hurrying their passes. As you could see, this resulted in several bad passes which we recovered."

With Bourdo out of action in the fourth quarter, Troy managed to pull even, 33-34 and 40-40. A pair of free throws by second string center John Jensen with 1:06 to play deadlocked the game for the last time.

Both teams had scoring chances after that but missed. The Yellow Jackets gained possession with 21 seconds to play and passed the ball around until Burt worked free in the keyhole.

Troy now has a 1-1 league record.

Lake Orion overcame a 9-2 Madison first quarter lead to post a 38-35 victory. It was the first win for the Dragons who lost their opener to Oak Park.

The Dragons managed to catch Madison by the end of the quarter and took a 25-24 halftime lead. Madison hit first as the third period opened to go one point up. Then the roof fell in.

Parved by 6-4 center Tom Reed and Bud Craven, the Dragons scored well. Reed and Craven each scored eight points as Lake Orion raced to a 46-28 lead in the fourth quarter ended.

Gary Hunter topped scorers with 18 points from 15 points and 11 rebounds. 15 and grabbed 21 rebounds.

Clawson and Fitzgerald played a see-saw game and with one minute to play, Harold Evans hit with a jump shot which gave Clawson a 54-53 victory.

A shot by Fitzgerald failed and Clawson got control, but with 15 seconds left a shot came off the board and Fitzgerald had control.

Gene Subiza was fouled. He made the first free throw, but missed the second one which would have tied the game. Clawson got control of the rebound and the game ended.

Craig Shoup with 20 points for Clawson and Sim Gibbs with the same number for Fitzgerald were the night's top pointmakers. Duane Pitsarski added 17 for the losers.

period when the Jackets were hanging on by a thread.

In addition to his game winning basket, Burt did a yeoman job of rebounding in the second half. He also topped Avondale scorers with 16 points. McDonald hit 15.

Hank Akin, using his 6-5 reach to advantage paced the Colts with 15.

A basket by McDonald put Avondale ahead 5-3 in the slow moving first quarter. The Jackets were never headed. But they could never pull away. The largest advantage was five points.

With Bourdo out of action in the fourth quarter, Troy managed to pull even, 33-34 and 40-40. A pair of free throws by second string center John Jensen with 1:06 to play deadlocked the game for the last time.

Both teams had scoring chances after that but missed. The Yellow Jackets gained possession with 21 seconds to play and passed the ball around until Burt worked free in the keyhole.

Troy now has a 1-1 league record.

Lake Orion overcame a 9-2 Madison first quarter lead to post a 38-35 victory. It was the first win for the Dragons who lost their opener to Oak Park.

The Dragons managed to catch Madison by the end of the quarter and took a 25-24 halftime lead. Madison hit first as the third period opened to go one point up. Then the roof fell in.

Parved by 6-4 center Tom Reed and Bud Craven, the Dragons scored well. Reed and Craven each scored eight points as Lake Orion raced to a 46-28 lead in the fourth quarter ended.

A shot by Fitzgerald failed and Clawson got control, but with 15 seconds left a shot came off the board and Fitzgerald had control.

Contract Worries, Wilson Concentrates on Dallas

Lions' Coach

Given Reward for Two Years

Attention Now Turns to Sunday Tilt With Newest NFL Entry

DETROIT (AP)—George Wilson, under heavy fire early this season, Friday was awarded a two-year contract to remain as coach of the Detroit Lions in 1961 and 1962.

The two-year offer was made by President-General Manager Edwin J. Anderson as a reward to Wilson, whose Lions have won five of their last seven games after a poor start.

Wilson was reported on his way out as coach of the one-time National Football League power after the Lions lost their first three 1960 games.

But on Oct. 23, the Lions upset the world champion Baltimore Colts and their rise has been steady since. Going into the final two weeks of the campaign, the Lions are a game behind deadlocked San Francisco, Green Bay and Baltimore and have a chance to take the Western Conference title.

Wilson was delighted with the new contract.

"I'm glad it's all over," he said when told of the two-year deal following a press session for Sunday's game with the Dallas Cowboys. "Now we've got to come through in fine style in the next two games."

Four members of the Cowboys who performed for the Lions will play important roles when they close out their first season in Briggs Stadium.

Offensive end, Jim Doran, and defensive end, Gene Cronin, were Lions their entire pro careers until they were chosen by the Cowboys last spring.

Fullback Walt Kowalczyk was with the Lions briefly early this season after spending two years with the Philadelphia Eagles. Halfback Don McIlhenny started his pro career with the Lions before going on to Green Bay and finally to Dallas this year.

And another large youngster, who plays a large part in the Cowboys defense, will be well remembered by Lions veterans. He's 275-pound Don Healy, the outstanding lineman in the All-Star game of 1958 when the col-legians upset the world champion Lions, 35-19.

The former Lions are among Dallas' season leaders. Doran is the club's top pass receiver, both in number and yards, gaining the budding 33-year-old former Iowa State star caught 26 for 469 and three touchdowns in the Cowboys' first ten games.

Cronin is a leader in the Cowboys defense, which Coach Tom Landry credits with strong improvement over the season. Cronin, with Jerry Tubbs, Nate Bratz, Wayne Hansen and Bill Herchman are giving the Cowboys experience in their defensive unit.

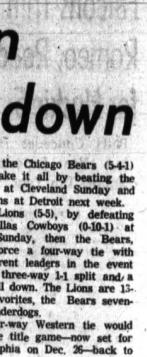

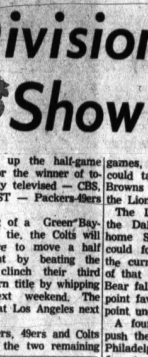

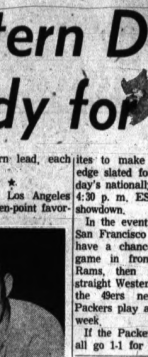

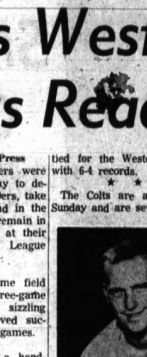

Through ten games, Kowalczyk had the best average of any of the Cowboys' running backs — four carries a try on 151 yards in 31 carries. He also caught 15 passes for 137 yards. Kowalczyk ran for one touchdown and caught a pass for another.

McIlhenny, a 283 yards rushing leader the Cowboys and he has also caught 13 passes for 120 yards and a touchdown.

No less than 23 Detroit Lions played their college football in Texas, so the Cowboys still have quite a way to go to get back Texas' investment in Detroit. But this quarter is a fine start.

Spartans to Be Hosts

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten football championship tournament to Indiana and tennis meet to Michigan State. The golf tournament will be May 19-20. Tennis will be May 19-20. Iowa already had been awarded the track meet for May 19-20.

FACESETTER—Bob Strampe, 29-year-old Detroit bowler, continued to set the pace Friday night as the 16 men finalists finished the 9th of their 16 matches in the World Invitational Bowling Tournament. Strampe defeated early leader Steve Nagy, 863-853.

When the Packers beat the 49ers 41-14 in October at Milwaukee, Hornung scored 23 points. He now has 152 through 10 games, only 22 less than the entire 49er team.

But the Packers had a handsome halfback named Paul Hornung who scores points more often than anyone in NFL history.

When the Packers beat the 49ers 41-14 in October at Milwaukee, Hornung scored 23 points. He now has 152 through 10 games, only 22 less than the entire 49er team.

Detroit Bowler Sets Pace in World Meet

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Strampe, 29-year-old Detroit bowler, continued to set the pace Friday night as the 16 men finalists finished the 9th of their 16 matches in the World Invitational Bowling Tournament.

Strampe, after winning matches from Clyde Hobbes of Cleveland, 852-772, and Don Ellis of Chicago, 881-748, defeated Steve Nagy of St. Louis, the early pacesetter, in the ninth round, 853-853, although Strampe and Nagy each won one game and tied the two others.

Strampe led with 177.15 Petersen points, while Nagy had 175.37 for second place. Defending champion Don Carter of St. Louis slipped back to third with 174.34 points.

Under the Petersen system, a bowler gets one point for every game won and one point for each 50 pins he downs. The men bowl four games per match, while the women play three matches.

Nagy and Strampe tied their first game at 246 pins. Nagy won the second 219-155. They tied the third at 187 each. Then Strampe won the final game, 225-201.

Highest pin total of the day was 983 series rolled by Dick Weber of St. Louis in the eighth round against Stan Gifford of Chicago. Weber, who is in fourth place behind games of 246, 245, 267 and 225.

Jerry Price, 28, Fort Worth, Tex., stayed on top of the women's field.

The announcement by Father O'Donnell yesterday brought stormy protests by alumni, students and others. Football coach Lisle Blackburn called the action "a tremendous mistake." Athletic director Moe Mullins described it as "a double barreled shot of unfavorable news."

Some 3,000 students walked out of classrooms shortly and marched in protest in downtown Milwaukee. Chanting "We want football — we want justice" they concluded a similar demonstration at night.

Abolishment of football after 70 years at Marquette was a staggering blow to the role of intercollegiate athletics in the academic program.

As usual, financial losses were blamed. Father O'Donnell said the deficit for football this year probably would run in the neighborhood of $50,000. The deficit in track, which will be dropped after the 1960-61 school year, was set at $18,000.

John Sisk, a Milwaukee executive who started for Marquette in 1929-31 and later with the Chicago Bears in the national football league, said a drive is underway to underwrite football losses this season.

"In the first couple of hours we had $15,000 pledged," Sisk said. "We know we can get $50,000, $60,000 or whatever is needed."

Sisk said that alumni would "try and convince" the very Rev. Edward J. O'Donnell, S. J., president of Marquette, to rescind the abolition move. A majority of the university's nine-member athletic board, on which Sisk once served, voted to drop football and track at the request of Father O'Donnell.

THINGS COOLED OFF — It was more than just the weather which cooled for Detroit Lions' coach George Wilson. After season long rumors that Wilson would be relieved of his job, the heat apparently cooled after last Sunday's win over the Baltimore Colts. Yesterday, Wilson received a two year contract with the Lions. The Dallas Cowboys meet the Lions Sunday in Detroit.

McDougald Outis Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Gil McDougald, team, and Fred Hanco, said, once called by Casey Stengel general manager of the Los Angeles "the best second baseman, the Angels, believed McDougald best third baseman and the best would be the first choice in the shortstop in the American player selection meeting Tuesday.

After 10 years with the New York "I'll guarantee with a fellow Yankees," like McDougald that I won't finish.

The 33-year-old infielder, one of last, said Doherty.

The most versatile players in baseball history, said Friday he is retiring to devote more time to his private business and his family, which consists of his wife and four children.

The California native steps out of the sport with a lifetime batting average of .278. Last season, used chiefly as a utility infielder, McDougald hit .259 in 119 games. He batted .278 in six World Series games against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

McDougald emphasized that being included on the New York list of 15 players made available to two new American League clubs had nothing to do with his decision. He had made up his mind during the World Series.

It is not official that Gil's name is on the Yankees "franchise list" but Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said that he is it would not prevent any other problem.

Joe Cronin (AL president) told me he would notify the other clubs and that it would be a matter of caveat emptor (let the buyer beware)," Frick said.

It is known that Ed Doherty, general manager of the new Washington Senators, had been named.

Football Curtailed

Grid Woes Also at COP

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Collegiate football, long one of the West's leading athletic independents, Friday announced a plan to sharply curtail football.

Unlike Marquette, which announced it was dropping football, the move at COP was aimed at eliminating intercollegiate competition and reducing athletic scholarships and the coaching staff.

The announcement by President Robert E. Burns followed a 4-2 vote by the board of trustees.

Dr. Burns said competition for the entertainment dollar, rising academic standards and student apathy toward football call for a shift in the intercollegiate program.

Deer Program Earns Support of Commission

LANSING (UPI)—The state conservation commission Friday upheld the conservation department in its policy on management of the deer herd, but indicated some changes might be made next year.

"Also as of now, we believe the antlerless kill in 1961 should be limited to areas of crop damage," said the commission.

The commission said the department was "conservative in its policy" since the 1956 legislature authorized the department to start a program to bring the deer herd and range into balance.

"The last two winters winter stepped in with a prolonged and severe yarding season to help achieve that balance sooner than we could have done otherwise," it said.

Commission members said the "factors now unforeseen" could conservatively include a mild winter this year, which would mean a large number of deer would be carried into the fall of 1961.

Time and Tide Catch Bass for This Lass

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Perseus paid off for Juanita Ruff after a fish snapped her pole and took her red, real and line into the depths of Richardson Bay.

Next day, Mrs. Ruff returned to the beach and searched until she found her pole, reel, line and a 10-pound striped bass neatly deposited on the sand.

FACESETTER—Bob Strampe, 29-year-old Detroit bowler, continued to set the pace Friday night as the 16 men finalists finished the 9th of their 16 matches in the World Invitational Bowling Tournament. Strampe defeated early leader Steve Nagy, 863-853.

When the Packers beat the 49ers 41-14 in October at Milwaukee, Hornung scored 23 points. He now has 152 through 10 games, only 22 less than the entire 49er team.

But the Packers had a handsome halfback named Paul Hornung who scores points more often than anyone in NFL history.

HOW THE Federal Home Loan Bank System

HELPS US SERVE
AT ALL TIMES

What is the Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLB) System?

This central reserve banking system was especially created by the federal government to establish a reserve line of credit for savings and loan associations. It is similar in structure to the Federal Reserve System for commercial banks. The FHLB operates through 11 regional banks, one of which serves the Michigan, Indiana area.

FHLB stock is owned entirely by member savings and home financing institutions. Today this central reserve banking system serves 4,501 savings and loan associations with combined assets of $6 billion dollars. During the life of the bank system, it has lent $9,200,788,633 to savings and loan associations and it has all been repaid without loss.

To Qualify for Membership

An association must pass rigid examinations by the regional FHL bank to check compliance with the statute and FHLB regulations. An association must prove stability and soundness of operation, competence and integrity of management.

Furthermore, to qualify for insurance of accounts, an association must maintain membership in the FHLB system.

Member Associations must meet Liquidity Requirements.

The FHLB sets a minimum liquidity that associations must maintain in cash and U. S. government bonds for the purpose of meeting the cash needs of savers. The current required liquidity ratio is 6% of savings capital. Pontiac Federal's current ratio is 12%.

Actually, Pontiac Federal regularly holds cash and securities more than sufficient to cover six months normal savings withdrawals. (This no commercial bank can ever do because a commercial bank normally pays out deposit withdrawals equal to its total deposits in about two weeks.)

Federal Supervision of Insured Associations

Comprehensive annual examinations are made by qualified FHLB examiners. Such important points are checked as: adequate reserve allocations, maintenance of required liquidity in cash and U. S. government bonds, and a careful and detailed review of all investments and loans authorized by the officers and directors during the year. An association must follow strict FHLB rules and regulations for sound operation.

FHLB offers a Reserve Line of Credit.

Member associations may borrow funds from their regional FHL bank and have a source of liquidity equal to 50% of their savings capital. In the case of Pontiac Federal, this figure amounts to $11,850,000.00 all of which is available for emergency savings withdrawals.

Through its membership in this reserve bank, an association has access to both short and long term advances especially designed to suit seasonal, cyclical and emergency needs. Advances are made on the security of mortgages pledged as well as on collateral consisting of U. S. government obligations. Thus the savings and loan system has liquidity and flexibility which enables it to serve the needs of both the saver and home-buying family.

In view of these facts, no reasonable person can doubt Pontiac Federal's ability to honor withdrawal requests promptly in any amount. In fact, since founding in 1934, Pontiac Federal has paid every saver's withdrawal request, regardless of amount, "on demand".

This emblem displayed in offices and advertising of an association indicates membership of that institution in the FHLB system.
