LBJ, Dillon Meet, Discuss Excise Tax Cut

May Shed New Light on Whether Secretary Will Stay in Cabinet

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson welcomed Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon to his hill country ranch today to make plans for a 1965 excise tax cut.

Dillon flew directly to the ranch from his vacation home at Hobe Sound, Fla. His meeting with the President might shed new light on whether Dillon, a Republican, will remain in the Cabinet.

Johnson, winding up a first round of post election conferences with top Cabinet advisers, also invited Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges to visit the ranch during the afternoon to talk about voluntary compliance with the new Civil Rights Act and the business outlook at home and abroad.

Both Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara conferred with the President yesterday at the 400-acre LBJ Ranch.

Johnson wanted to talk to Dillon about tax legislation to be submitted to Congress in January.

During the election campaign the President said he would recommend a major cut in excise taxes.

He hinted at broader tax cuts in the longer range future.

The President's efforts to reduce the budget deficit, now totaling about $5.7 billion a year, will be affected by the size and timing of the planned cut in excise levies.

Excise taxes net close to $15 billion a year—an amount large enough to discourage any proposal to eliminate them entirely.

Johnson is expected to call principally for the scrapping of excises on purchases such as cosmetics and handbags. These amount to about $500 million a year.

The President, who will be concentrating for the next several weeks on budget planning and new legislative proposals, got some encouraging budgetary news.

McNamara handed him preliminary figures indicating that defense spending next year can again be kept below $50 billion.

Defense spending in the current year is now estimated at $49.8 billion of a $97.2 billion budget.

Carried Gun to See Romney

Mental Patient Wins Votes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Charles P. English, confined to a Michigan mental institution after trying to force his way into Gov. George Romney's office with a loaded pistol in a brief case, received 80,644 votes as Republican candidate for county school board.

And, English said in a letter to the Miami News, he sees no reason why his name shouldn't have been on the ballot.

English said he still enjoys his civil rights, pending final disposition of his case involving the Michigan governor.

English, 38, has been in Kalamazoo State Hospital since last May. He is being held for mental observation.

His name already was on the ballot in opposition to Democrat Jack D. Gordon who subsequently won the post with 159,725 votes.

CHARLES P. ENGLISH

The Dade County GOP Committee tried to get English's name removed from the ballot but failed.

The committee said it could have submitted a substitute if English had answered a lawsuit pending against him in court here, but he failed to answer.

English said he received the request by telegram but there was no return address.

English's name went on the ballot when he paid his qualifying fee. At that time he was a registered voter and eligible to become a candidate.

Republicans Continue With Self-Analysis

Sen. Scott Calls for Audit of Funds Left Over in Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Republican party's self-analysis continued today with the twin calls for a sort of "collective leadership" group to guide GOP fortunes.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin and Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho advanced the idea of a temporary party agency while Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania urged an immediate and independent audit of the national committee's campaign treasury.

The description "collective leadership" was provided by Laird, a prominent House Republican who was chairman of the platform committee at the party's national convention.

He said a broad-based group is needed "to fill the vacuum of leadership" and to work toward "rebuilding of the party."

"This is no time to hunt for scapegoats, no time to indulge in intraparty bickering, no time to pursue personal ambition," he said in a statement. "Above all this is no time for anybody to read anybody else out of the Republican party."

Laird said the leadership group should include:

"Representatives of the Republican members of the Congress, Republican governors, other Republican officeholders at the state and local level, Republican National Committee members, Republican state and county chairmen, as well as Republicans from private life in various fields of endeavor."

PLATFORM AGENCY

Similarly, Smylie, president of the Republican Governors Association, suggested yesterday creation of an agency "somewhere between a formal convention and a continuous council" to keep the party platform up to date.

The governor, who already has demanded that National Chairman Dean Burch resign, said the leadership group should include Republicans in and out of office.

He suggested former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Ken-

Wide Track Drive Nearing Completion

Wide Track Drive is almost complete according to City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling. In fact, Pontiac motorists may be able to use the tear-shaped loop road by late next week.

Neipling said that the final stretches of continuous paving had been put in place by 6 p.m. yesterday.

All that remains is the paving of intersections along the south end of the west leg, between West Huron and South Saginaw.

He said about a week of "curing" time is needed before motorists can use the multilane street.

"If everything stays on schedule," added Neipling, "cars should be on Wide Track by about a week from Friday."

Opening of Wide Track would also mean the opening of east-west streets between Huron and Orchard Lake, relieving congestion on Huron — now the only through east-west street.

Wide Track has been open from South Saginaw to West Huron since mid-July. Paving of the west leg is the final phase of the loop road project.

Because of construction delays, Wide Track is being completed behind schedule. Previously, it was slated to be finished by Labor Day and then Nov. 5.

Showers to Dampen Pontiac Tomorrow

A few showers will dampen the Pontiac area tomorrow and again about Sunday or Monday.

High temperatures are expected to continue in the 50s until the weekend when the mercury will register highs in the 40s and lows about 34.

Forty-eight was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The thermometer reading at 2 p.m. was 69.

Red Confab to Be Delayed

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet leaders have agreed to postpone a showdown conference of Communist parties supporting them in the Soviet-Chinese dispute and instead hold talks in Peking early next year, Communist sources said today.

The proposed conference had been denounced by the Chinese as a step on "the road to doom." The conference was called by Nikita S. Khrushchev before his ouster.

His successor as Soviet Communist first secretary, Leonid Brezhnev, has agreed in talks here with Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to hold bilateral discussions instead, the sources said.

British Hike Benefits, Tax

Raise Income Levy to Cover Measures

LONDON (AP) — The new Labor government announced today substantial increases in British pensions and unemployment benefits and a hike in income taxes to pay for them.

James Callaghan, chancellor of the exchequer — a post similar to the secretary of the treasury in the United States — told the House of Commons the additional welfare outlay would cost approximately 85 million pounds ($238 million) a year.

He said the standard income tax rate would be raised from 7 shillings, 9 pence (38.75 per cent) to 8 shillings, 3 pence (41.25 per cent) per pound of taxable income to meet the additional cost.

Callaghan said the pension rate for a retired married couple would rise from 5 pounds, 9 shillings ($15.26) a week to 6 pounds, 10 shillings ($18.20).

The weekly unemployment benefit will go up from 3 pounds, 7 shillings, 6 pence ($9.45) to 4 pounds ($11.20).

BOTH TO PAY

Wage earners as well as income tax payers will have to contribute to the increased costs of the social benefits.

At present, working men pay 11 shillings 8 pence ($1.63) toward their national insurance, which includes sickness and unemployment benefits. Under a new scale, they will pay another 2 shillings (28 cents).

Women workers, who now pay 9 shillings 8 pence ($1.35) will be assessed another 1 shilling 9 pence (24 cents).

Are Radio Signals New Red Satellite?

BOCHUM, Germany (AP) — Radio signals from what seemed to be a new Soviet space probe were monitored today by the Bochum Space Observatory.

Observatory Director Heinz Kaminski said the signals definitely did not come from one of the previously launched Soviet cosmos satellites.

Across Nation, World

U.S. Honors Veterans

ARLINGTON, Va. (UPI) — America honored today the 31 million military veterans, living and dead, who have waged its wars and protected its peace.

As personal representative of President Johnson, who was at his ranch in Texas, Veterans Administrator John S. Gleason Jr. placed a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknowns in solemn ceremonies at Arlington National Cemetery.

At 11 a.m., (Pontiac time) a minute of silence was observed in memory of the armistice that ended World War I on Nov. 11 at 11 a.m. 46 years ago.

Similar Veterans Day observances were held in the 50 states and at 23 overseas cemeteries where 140,000 U.S. soldiers and the names of another 90,000 missing in action are enscribed.

"Through their courage, dedication and sacrifice we have preserved our freedom and defended our heritage," Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said in a tribute to veterans. "They deserve the gratitude of all Americans."

He called on the millions now serving actively in the national defense "to renew their own determination to preserve the blessings for which our veterans fought."

In a program at the Memorial Amphitheater at Arlington, after the presidential wreath was laid at the Tomb of the Unknowns of the world wars and Korea, Gleason expressed Johnson's "devout hope" that Americans would work for a nation "completely committed to a world at peace."

They must build the "strength to assure that this commitment is translated from desire to deed," he said.

A year ago at the traditional Veterans Day ceremonies in the nation's most hallowed cemetery, President John F. Kennedy placed a presidential wreath at the tomb — "little knowing," Gleason said, "that he himself in exactly two weeks would, like them, rest forever here."

"The unknown soldiers and John F. Kennedy together gave all that man can give so that you and I and our children would inherit a free land.

"The unknown soldiers and John Fitzgerald Kennedy together were victims of hate, and their graves bear mute evidence of what man's basest instincts can do to his noblest motives."

North of the unknowns' grave and, like it, facing the Potomac River on a grassy slope, is the gravesite with its eternal flame of the 35th president, a veteran of World War II naval battles in the Pacific.

In other ceremonies today, French veterans and townspeople were joined by Americans in marking the World War I armistice anniversary at the Meuse-Argonne Cemetery where are buried the largest number of American dead from that war—14,246. The names of 954 missing men are enscribed in the chapel there.

900 Acres of Land Bought for Area Development

Purchase of approximately 900 acres of land, formerly a part of the Dodge estate south of Oakland University, by the Meadowbrook Park Development Co. was revealed today.

The property in Avon and Pontiac townships is bounded on the north by Butler, on the east by Adams, on the west by Squirrel, and on the south by the proposed M59 freeway. The price was not disclosed.

Owners of the development company include six men, four of them from the Pontiac-Bloomfield, area, and two of Grosse Pointe. Alan L. Gornick, 290 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills, is president and William D. Downey of 231 Marblehead, Bloomfield Hills, is vice president.

Others in the group include: John R. Davis, 3761 Lakecrest, and John S. Bugas, 1116 Vaughn, both of Bloomfield Hills; and Arthur R. Hoffman, and Allen Merrill of Grosse Pointe.

The property will be developed as a community of residential units, with a limited amount of commercial development to serve the area, according to the new owners.

The land was purchased from Frances B. Van Lennep, and covers an area about one and a half times the size of Bloomfield Hills.

RESIDENTIAL AREA

It is proposed to make this one of the finest residential areas between Bloomfield Hills and Flint, according to the developers.

Experts will be called in to plan the new development, according to the program.

The property is strategically located for residential use. It is between Oakland University and the proposed Community College (formerly a Nike site).

It will be easily accessible at it is near the I-75 Freeway and adjacent to the proposed M59 Freeway.

Grenade Rips Playground; 34 Injured

HANAU, Germany (UPI)—A hand grenade brought to school by a feeble-minded boy exploded in a crowded playground today, injuring at least 34 children.

The grenade exploded among 450 children playing during a recess. It tore the arm off an eight-year-old boy, ripped off a girl's hand, mangled the legs of another girl, and may cost another her sight.

The parents of 11-year-old Rudolf Pospiech, who found the grenade and smuggled it into school told reporters he was "feeble-minded" and could not have known what he was doing.

"He can't have known what the thing was," the boy's fath-

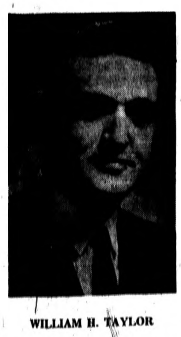
All-Out Drive for College Fund



WILLIAM H. TAYLOR

"We are expecting 200 loyal Pontiac citizens at our luncheon meeting tomorrow noon at the Elks in behalf of our all-out drive for $375,000 to buy the site for the proposed osteopathic college," said Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. today.

Luncheon clubs are cooperating this week and canceling their regular meetings in lieu of this community movement at the Elks. "Pictures and slides will show our problem and we have one chart of the projected college," he said. "Everyone should become acquainted with the requirements and the solution."

According to Max T. Adams, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, additional contributions have already come in since the last announcement. "Adding these to our earlier totals, we have $100,000 yet to go," he said. New contributors show:

Detroit Edison	$3,800
Michigan Bell	3,800
Consumers Power	3,800
Holiday Inn	2,000
Optimist Club	1,000
Coca-Cola	1,000
S.S. Kresge Store	1,000
Matthews-Hargreaves	1,000

The Chamber secretary was calling on several interested prospects this afternoon and tomorrow morning, as were John A. Riley of The Press, Mayor Taylor and Bruce Annett, local realtor.

"A whirlwind finish will put us over," said the mayor, "but we still need some substantial contributions from some of the larger interests in the community. I am confident the rest will support their city just as loyally as they have in the past."

All contributions are tax deductible.

Britain Would Keep Veto

Say Wilson to Offer N-Force to NATO

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson will take an offer to President Johnson to commit Britain's entire nuclear force to NATO with a British veto over its use, authoritative sources said today.

Wilson will fly to Washington for talks with the President and his top advisers December 7-8, it was officially announced last night.

The Anglo-American summit was speeded up because of the disarray in the Atlantic alliance.

The two leaders were reported anxious to come to grips with the crucial defense problem which holds the key to the future of West Europe and of NATO.

The urgency of the situation was underlined by President Charles de Gaulle's mounting threat to take France out of the European and the Atlantic defense alignments, the sources said.

NATO MEETING

The top level Washington discussions will clear the ground for the important NATO ministerial council meeting in Paris Dec. 15 which could mend or irreparably widen the rift in the Western alliance. Final decisions may be held up to avert a break with France.

The Washington summit is being currently preceded by a series of interallied consultations in London, Bonn and Washington to sound out allied ideas on NATO and their reactions to the projected revamping of interallied nuclear defense arrangements.

The British plan was said to envisage a multi-national nuclear force under NATO command.

Britain will offer to put under NATO its entire nuclear forces, including her nuclear V-bombers and the forthcoming five Polaris submarines as well as the projected TSR-2 supersonic planes with nuclear capabilities. The force also would comprise the American nuclear rocket forces based in Europe.

REMAINS COOL

Britain remains cool to the American projected mixed-manned nuclear fleet but may reluctantly agree to it only as one of the minor components of the projected NATO force, the sources said.

Britain wants to have a veto on the use of the nuclear force and thus retain a finger on the trigger of the deterrent.

So far it is uncertain whether West Germany would back the plan. France probably will reject it.

AF Jet Bomber Crashes in West; 7 in Crew Die

WOLF POINT, Mont. (AP) — An intercontinental B52 bomber crashed and burned in a desolate ravine-cut northeastern Montana area late last night, killing all seven crew members, and starting a prairie fire.

The bodies were found today in smouldering wreckage, the Air Force reported.

Two of the bodies were located near one of the eight jet engines, which were hurled more than one-fourth of a mile from the point of impact.

Names of the men were withheld by the Air Force pending notification of next of kin.

The plane was from the 462nd Strategic Aerospace Wing, the Air Force announced, at Larson Air Force Base, Moses Lake, Wash.

SIMULATED BOMBING

The air force said the plane was on a simulated bombing run to Bismarck, N. D., but carried no bombs.

It said radio contact was lost with the plane as it was descending from an altitude of 36,000 feet to 23,000 feet.

Ranchers mobilized hastily to fight the prairie fire and extinguished it with sacks, shovels and tractors after it burned across 350 acres.

A tail section of the aircraft with the number still visible was the largest piece of wreckage. Other pieces were no bigger than a washtub, authorities said.

FIRST REPORTS

First reports of the crash came about 11 p. m. from residents of a sparsely populated section 25 miles south of Wolf Point.

The prairie fire was seen as far away as Scobey, 80 miles from the crash scene.

Residents of the house nearest the crash, the Jake Schlepp family, neither saw nor heard it and were informed by neighbors. The Schlepp house is three miles from the spot where the plane plunged to earth.

No distress calls were reported by radio operators in the area or at Glasgow Air Force Base, about 100 miles northwest of the crash scene.

Rudolf lost a part of one hand and may lose an eye, his father said.

GERMAN MADE

The grenade apparently was German-made.

The grenade went off with a shattering roar that rattled windows of the modern Tuempelgarten school that had been completed only this summer.

"There was a moment's deadly silence . . . then all I heard was the screaming children," said Principal Kurt Scheidemantel, who was supervising the play period.

About 25 boys and girls writhed on the ground, most of them in the 11-year-old "4C" class, Scheidemantel said. "They kept crying 'mama, mama' ".

Missing Girl Hunted Near Benton Harbor

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—An 11-year-old girl reported missing overnight from her nearby Pipestone Township home was sought today by a force of at least 50 police officers and volunteers.

Sought was Ann Zelenak, reportedly the foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thumm whose home is an area of woods and farmland about five miles southeast of here.

Ford Talks Aim at 4 Key Plants

Strike Is Cutting Into New-Car Production

DETROIT (AP) — With new car production affected, top level bargainers strove for a third day today to settle local strikes at four key Ford Motor Co. plants.

Ford and United Auto Workers union negotiators failed to reach agreement Tuesday.

A Ford spokesman said bargaining also was to resume today at five other struck Ford plants where negotiations are being held on the local level with the UAW. He said these bargainers also failed to reach agreement in Tuesday sessions.

Strikes at the nine plants began Friday. They involve 25,000 of Ford's 160,000 workers. And the company said they have cut into its production of new 1965 model cars and trucks.

AT-PLANT PACTS

A national contract, similar to that agreed to by Chrysler Corp., General Motors Corp., and American Motors Corp. and the union, has been negotiated by Ford and the UAW.

But the local strikes at Ford involve at-the-plant working agreements which supplement the national pact.

Pick Jackson Exec for U. of M. Board

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Tuesday announced the appointment of Robert Briggs of Jackson to the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Briggs, a vice president of Consumers Power Co. and an unsuccessful Republican candidate for the state board of education, fills out the unexpired term of Regent William McInally, who died last August. The term expires Dec. 31, 1968.

Briggs, 61, a former U. of M. faculty member, is co-chairman with Romney of the Governor's Special Commission on Traffic Safety.

A certified public accountant, he has served as first president of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce.

Judge Tells Suburbs to Battle Tax

Flint Municipal Judge Donald R. Freeman urged some 150 suburban Pontiac residents last night to organize and fight the proposed Pontiac city income tax.

Freeman, chairman of the Greater Flint Tax Study Committee and a leader in the opposition to Flint's proposed tax, spoke before a meeting of the Greater Waterford Community Council (GWCC).

The judge said the proposed tax was morally and legally wrong, probably unconstitutional, and contained enforcement provisions which go beyond the Federal income tax laws.

Freeman said the Uniform City Income Tax Law, the state law under which cities must operate, provides that an individual who files a return but does not pay his tax can be arrested and put in jail.

The judge recommended that suburban residents form a study committee composed of leading citizens both in and outside the city.

The committee should then make a study and determine the actual financial needs of the city government he urged.

The committee should also determine if the city is involved in activities or projects not originally intended for a city.

TO MERCHANTS

Freeman suggested also that suburban residents compelled to pay the tax should point out to city bankers, car dealers and other merchants that suburban patronage is valuable and suburbanites could easily take it elsewhere.

Donald Fraser, 5790 Hatchery, chairman of the Tax Study Committee of the GWCC, said that his group intends to work with other groups inside and outside of the city, and make use of Freeman's suggestion.

The Pontiac Township Board has joined other neighboring municipalities in opposing Pontiac's income tax ordinance on nonresidents working in the city. In their resolution, which passed unanimously, township board members called the tax "unfair" and echoed the Rochester Village Council's labeling of it as "taxation without representation."

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain is forecast for the central and northern Pacific Coast tonight with showers from the Mississippi Valley and lower Great Lakes, snow is expected in the higher elevations. Drizzle is expected for the upper Lakes area and the mid-Atlantic Coast. It is likely to be cooler from the northern Plateau area to the southern Plains and over the Great Lakes.

Skies Clear in California

Find Body of Woman Buried in Mud Slide

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Skies cleared and temperatures dropped into the 40s today in the wake of back-to-back storms that sent mud flowing through foothill homes and killed a housewife.

The rain was welcome in most of drought-plagued Southern California, but it fell with devastating effect on fire-denuded hillsides.

One mud slide sluiced down Sunset Canyon below the Verdugo Hills section of Burbank, a Los Angeles suburb, destroying one home and flooding several homes with up to three feet of mud.

Aimee Miller, 47, was trapped Monday in the surging mud which crumbled her home. She was carried three-quarters of a mile — along with cars, furniture and household debris — into a catch basin and buried in 20 feet of mud.

BODY RECOVERED

Her body was recovered by workmen Tuesday and identified by singer Frank Sinatra, for whom her husband, William Miller, often provided piano accompaniment.

Miller was rescued from the hood of his car, trapped in a river of silt. Their daughter, Meredith, 17, escaped through a back door and clambered up a hillside to safety.

The Miller home was one of several homes damaged or destroyed by fire last spring. It was near the scene of a major fire on the Verdugo Hills, which burned off the brush cover and left the earth bare and unprotected against rain.

Thirty-one families were forced to flee their homes Tuesday, but most had returned by late evening, the fire department said.

Damage from mud slides also was reported in the Santa Barbara area, 100 miles to the north, where a vast 67,000-acre brush fire denuded hillsides last September.

Birmingham Area News

Lot-Size Requirement Cut for 67-Acre Area

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The City Commission has decreased the lot-size requirement for a 67-acre residential zone near the center of the city.

Public hearing was held last night on the zoning amendment change recommended by the planning commission. No objections were voiced.

Request for the alteration had been submitted by Horace P. Shaw, 1253 N. Woodward, owner of 17 acres fronting on Woodward.

He had asked that the lot-size requirement for his residential property be reduced from two to one and a half acres.

The city included the whole zone, which includes three parcels, in the area to be altered.

SMALLER CLASSIFICATION

The residential area is surrounded by institutional property and residential property of smaller lot-size classification, according to City Manager Elmer Kephart.

It is bordered by Woodward, St. Elizabeth Briarbank Daughters of Divine Charity, Briarbank Subdivision and Cranbrook Foundation property.

Another zoning ordinance amendment adopted by the commission last night clarifies regulations covering the use of property.

It requires a new certificate of occupancy to be obtained when the use of a parcel of property is changed.

BIRMINGHAM—Snow will no longer be removed by the city from public sidewalks leading to schools in Birmingham.

The City Commission established the policy after being told by Assistant City Manager Robert Kenning that the designation of these so-called school routes has been arbitrary over the years and has presented many problems for the administration.

"There are a number of schools in the city where we do not clean any snow from the sidewalks leading to schools and in other areas we may clear several routes," Kenning said.

Kenning said if the program was expanded to include all schools, an additional piece of equipment would have to be purchased and labor cost would be considerably more than is allowed in the present budget.

By eliminating the plowing of school routes, maintenance costs will be reduced and there will be no more damage caused to abutting lawns by the city's sidewalk sweepers, according to Kenning.

REMOVAL OF SNOW

The removal of snow from sidewalks adjacent to city-owned property will be continued.

The Berkshire Junior High School PTA, meeting one week early to observe American Education Week, has scheduled an open house for tomorrow night.

Parents will follow their children's daily schedules during the 8 p.m. program. They will be welcomed by Principal John W. Dickey and PTA president Dr. D. Lloyd McKinney via the public address system during the homeroom period.

FRANKLIN—Members of the Franklin Cemetery Auxiliary will hold a potluck luncheon tomorrow at 12:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Norman Currin, 26630 Captain's Lane.

Report 1,100 Vietnamese Drown in Surging Floods

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. military spokesman said today 1,100 Vietnamese civilians are reported to have drowned in floods surging through the valleys of mountainous central Viet Nam.

The spokesman cautioned that the figure may be exaggerated, but a natural disaster of major proportions was increasingly evident.

Refugees are pouring into the main coastal cities. Between 36,000 and 45,000 are in Da Nang, a key port and military base 380 miles northeast of Saigon. Several thousand are reported at other cities, including Qui Nhon, Quang Ngai and Tam Ky.

Rescue work in some of the 10 stricken provinces is being hampered by Communist Viet Cong groundfire against U.S. helicopters attempting to move out the stricken and to fly in food supplies, the spokesman said.

150,000 HOMELESS

About 150,000 people are reported homeless, most of them in coastal Binh Dinh Province which has been lashed by heavy rains for the past week.

Some heavily populated mountain valleys along the central coast have been cut off for two to three days, military sources said. The situation in these areas is not known.

American helicopters, working in high winds and low visibility, are picking people off high ground and from roofs and roads. In about half of the stricken provinces, flood waters are reported receding. In other areas, notably Binh Dinh, more rain is expected.

Emergency food and clothing are reported in good supply in most of the areas, but there are difficulties in moving these to the needy.

Vietnamese authorities fear possible outbreaks of cholera or other diseases and measures are being taken to move in medical teams.

Rescue work is complicated by sporadic ground action in which government troops are clashing with the Viet Cong. In one area, 45 war casualties have been evacuated in the past three days.

Pontiac Twp. Given Free Library Use

The Pontiac Township Board has entered into an agreement with the County Library Board to provide use of the Pontiac City Library free of charge to all township residents.

Previously residents had to pay $5 per family for a library card to use the city facility.

Under the new yearly agreement, they can have cards free of charge.

Phyllis A. Pope, city librarian, told the township board that a new state law allows state aid money to be given to an existing library in order to serve territories with no libraries of their own.

Further, she stated, the county penal fines are allocated to the County Library Board for distribution back to the township for library service purposes.

COST IS EQUAL

The total cost equals the amount which would be raised by one-tenth of one mill of state equalized valuation levied in the township.

Based on this figure, the cost to Pontiac Township for one year would be $1,857.

The township's share of the library funds and penal fines would amount to $1,636, a difference of $221 for one year.

Under this agreement, the township board authorized the expenditure of the $221 to permit its 9,091 residents to participate in the use of the city library.

Pontiac Township is the first county township approached with the agreement under the new law.

Area Women Elected to Board of Hospital

ALMONT — Four area women were recently elected to three-year terms on the Women's Auxiliary executive board of the Community Hospital.

They are Mrs. Franklin O'Connor, Armada; Mrs. Walter Parsons, Lakeville; Mrs. James Smith, Almont; and Mrs. Rex Glidden, Romeo.

Joint Chiefs for the GOP?

tucky, a former GOP national chairman; Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana be included in the group's membership.

Scott told a news conference in Philadelphia that "southern scalawags" and "hard-core radical right" elements in the party's leadership must be purged.

A former party chairman who generally supports liberal legislation, Scott won reelection to the Senate last week by 42,000 votes. Absentee ballots still are to be counted.

TREASURY INTENTION

Citing reports that the party may end up with a national campaign surplus of $1.2 million, he said such a treasury would be "intended to keep the radical right in control of the Republican party.

These people apparently anticipated the defeat of Barry Goldwater and William E. Miller and hoarded this money," he said.

Troy Board Delays Vote Until June

The Troy Board of Education decided last night not to attempt another election on a $4-million bond issue until the regular school election next June.

Voters turned down the bond issue request Oct. 2 while granting a 5-mill tax increase for operating costs.

The board could have attempted to obtain another election in less than six months without changing the amount asked by obtaining more than 3,000 signatures on petitions.

A new election could have been scheduled within six months without petitions if the amount asked were reduced by 40 to 50 per cent, but the board considers the $4 million asked in October to be a minimum amount.

The bond issue was to cover buildings and sites to handle anticipated growth.

DIDN'T DECIDE

Schools Supt. Dr. Rex B. Smith said today the board did not decide whether to change the amount to be asked in June.

Rising construction costs and property values could require such a change.

Pontiac City Affairs

Pay of 5 Officials Brought Up to Scale

Salaries for five top city employes were adjusted last night to comply with a recent Michigan Municipal League (MML) pay scale survey.

Previously, a MML recommended pay plan was adopted by the City Commission covering some 770 Pontiac city employes.

However, the city clerk, finance director, city attorney and two assistant attorneys were not covered by the previous commission action.

Last night, City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkeley had her pay adjusted from $7,500 to $8,593 annually.

Finance Director Marvin M. Alward was raised $253 annually from $12,500 to $12,753.

SALARY ADJUSTED

City Attorney William A. Ewart had his salary adjusted from $14,000 to $14,430 annually.

Two assistant attorneys, Thomas E. Hunter and Sherwin M. Birnkrant, had their salaries raised from $8,500 to $9,256 and $8,990 to $10,218 respectively.

The city clerk, attorney and finance director are appointed by the commission.

In a related matter, City Manager Joseph A. Warren reported last night on changes in the organization of the legal department, headed by City Attorney Ewart.

DESIGNATED TITLE

Both assistant city attorneys were formally designated with the title "deputy city attorney."

Hunter had held the title already, while Brinkrant had been called an assistant city attorney.

Both deputies will have their offices in city hall and be under the direction of Ewart.

In other business, the commission heard a report from Warren on the October bus patronage.

PATRONAGE DROP

The city manager said 71,109 riders were recorded last month compared to 90,103 in the same month in 1963 and 92,101 in October 1962.

He cautioned that no conclusions can be drawn from the statistics because bus patronage was effected by a General Motors strike and the fare increase.

Also last night, commissioners approved two appraisal contracts in the Michigan R44 urban renewal project.

The first contract for the appraisal of irremovable fixtures went to S. M. Dix & Associates of Grand Rapids.

CONTRACT AMOUNT

The amount of the contract was $100 per eight-hour day with the total not to exceed $2,000.

The second contract went to Leslie R. Tripp of Pontiac.

This was for the appraisal of Lewis Furniture Co. property at Saginaw and Orchard Lake Avenue. The contract was for $402.

City commissioners okayed the assignment of a hangar lease at Pontiac Municipal Airport in other action.

LEASE ASSIGNMENT

The lease was assigned to Gene P. Tierney of Detroit from Albert Wohlart.

Because there were no bids, the sale of Lot 86 on Montana, just south of South Boulevard, was deleted from the agenda.

A tabulation of bids had been slated to be presented to the commission.

Education Consultant Found Dead in Car

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Dr. Donald W. Dolan, former consultant to the University of Michigan's Bureau of School Services and onetime adult education consultant to the U.S. forces in occupied Germany, was found dead Tuesday at the wheel of his car.

An auto driven by Dolan, 50, ran off a Kalamazoo County road and struck a guard rail, but his body showed no signs of injury, police said. County Medical Examiner R. A. Janke said an autopsy would be performed.

Nominated by the Republican party in 1812 as its vice presidential candidate, John Langdon of New Hampshire refused to run. A second caucus was held to pick Elbridge Gerry.

26 Go Free as Jailer Goofs

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—After Columbia police arrested 26 men for fighting Saturday night, one telephoned a lawyer.

The lawyer called Magistrate Frank Powell to get approval on a signed bond.

The judge said he would tell the jail to release the man, named Paul, and the lawyer could bring the bond around for signing Monday.

Powell called the jail: "You got a bunch in there for fighting?"

"Yep," said the jailer.

"Well, let Paul go."

The jailer said he thought the magistrate said let all go.

16 CAPTURED

Only 16 of the 26 had been rounded up Tuesday.

Opposition Halts Sewer Plan

By ALLAN S. COLES

AVON TOWNSHIP — The proposed southwest Avon sewer system is dead, at least for the time being.

In a short but stormy half-hour continued public hearing last night, the vast majority of residents attending refused to change their minds on the controversial issue.

Petitions opposing the sewer system, which had been estimated to cost about $415,000 for the trunk line and treatment facilities, were submitted earlier to the Township Board.

Validation of the petitions showed that the plan's opponents had succeeded in obtaining the signatures of more than 20 per cent of the property owners in the proposed special assessment area, representing more than 20 per cent of the land in that area.

The petitions were all that was needed, and the board passed a motion to stop action on the sewers.

STRONG QUESTIONS

Supervisor Cyril E. Miller underwent strong questioning from Mrs. John Chastain of 1921 Livernois before the hearing was adjourned.

A leader of opposition to the sewer system proposal from the outset, Mrs. Chastain asked Miller if the main purpose of the plan was to attract new industry and business into the township.

She said she had heard that this was the case, and was concerned with the possibility that the 950 property owners in the proposed assessment district would wind up paying for the system just to bring industry in which would not have to share the assessment burden.

Miller said this was not the case, and Oakland County Department of Public Works Deputy Director Donald W. Ringler enlarged on the point.

EXPLAINS CHANGES

Ringler said although it was generally thought that persons outside the assessment district could not tap in at a later date due to geographical considerations, it was possible to change the geographical factor by means of landfills and the like.

He added that any individual or firm wanting to tap into the system at a future date would be expected to pay for it on the same scale as those residents in the assessment district.

The proposed layout of the system skirts closely a number of large land holdings, and this fact has led to the charge that the plan was devised to promote development of those holdings.

Unsuccessful Democratic candidate for supervisor Louis W. Berklich also challenged the plan.

ASKS EXPLANATION

He asked Ringler to explain the planned Clinton-Oakland Sewage Treatment facility which is slated to run along the Clinton River from Dequindre to Waterford Township.

The line would serve Avon, Waterford, Pontiac and Independence townships as well as the Village of Orchard Lake.

Surveyors and designers are now working on preliminary plans and cost estimates which will then be submitted to the four townships and Orchard Lake for approval.

The concept of such a line has already been approved by the County DPW and the County Board of Supervisors.

ABANDON PLANT

Completion of the Clinton-Oakland facility is projected for the spring of 1967, if all goes well, at which time Avon Township would have to abandon the sewage treatment plant and pumping station serving Oakland University.

That plant was to have been part of the Southwest Avon Sewage Disposal System, and would have been financed through a $300 tap-in charge on users of the system.

The collection system which would have been constructed as part of the Southwest Avon project would have been used even after the Clinton-Oakland line became available.

As the hearing adjourned, Ringler asked the audience in general how township sewage would be taken to the Clinton River when the Clinton-Oakland line is finished.

COME UP AGAIN

The issue will certainly come up again at that time, if not sooner, as the township will be asked by the state to tap into the regional line and construct collection facilities in order to do so.

Mrs. Chastain acknowledged this fact after the hearing, but said the present plan's opponents hoped that planners would come up with a more "straightforward" system that ignored land holdings and potential development benefits, next time around.

Legally, the Township Board has the right to try to save the project by obtaining the signatures of 51 per cent of the property owners, representing an equal percentage of the land in the assessment district, in favor of the system.

But, in view of the overwhelming opposition to the plan last night and the success of petition campaigns against the proposal, Trustee Donald J. Campbell said it is unlikely that any action will be taken within the near future in this respect.

To Decide Nov. 24 on Busing Plan

TROY — The School Board agreed last night to make a decision on the transportation of Troy School District students to Guardian Angels parochial school at the Nov. 24 board meeting.

The board will choose between two plans worked out by Guardian Angels school officials and Troy School District Business Manager Ronald Sitter.

Both would use two Troy district buses for the transportation of students to the district boundary line by 7:30 a.m., but the two plans differ in a means of taking the students home after school.

One would require a wait of about 45 minutes on the part of the parochial students, necessitated by their longer school day, before Troy district buses could pick them up.

The other would involve no wait, but would require two buses and drivers from the Troy district which are needed as spares for athletic trips, field trips and replacements.

LAW PROHIBITS

State law prohibits the use of Troy School District buses to transport parochial students beyond the district boundary line.

Under both plans, they would be taken to the street nearest Guardian Angels School within the district.

About 147 parochial students in grades one through nine are involved in the transportation request initiated by their parents.

NEWS OF THE AREA

To Review Utica Request for School District Change

UTICA — The board of education's request to transfer part of the Utica School District to the Romeo School District will be considered by the Oakland and Macomb counties' intermediate boards of education tonight.

An 8 p.m. meeting has been slated for the Macomb County Building in Mount Clemens for review of the Utica request.

The Utica boundary line wanders both above and below 26 Mile, and the requested action would give the Romeo School District all that land north of that road.

According to Utica Schools Supt. Fred Atkinson, the move would eliminate present confusion over the district boundaries and prevent increasing problems in the future.

Some of the land involved is in Ray Township and some in Washington Township.

RAY TWP. PORTION

The Ray Township portion has a state equalized valuation of $142,000 and has only five students who would switch districts.

About 25 students would be involved in the Washington Township portion, which carries a state equalized valuation of $297,000.

Atkinson said that he expected some opposition to the transfer from residents who have lived in the Utica School District for years.

But, he said, property owners in the transfer area would escape any liability for the Utica bond issue if passed in the Dec. 12 election, but only if the transfer is made before the election.

REMAIN LIABLE

If the transfer is approved by the Oakland and Macomb intermediate boards after the election, those property owners who are switched to the Romeo School District would remain liable for the bond issue if passed.

The Oakland County Intermediate Board of Education is involved in the request because part of the Romeo School District is in Oakland County, although the land in question is not.

Home Owners File Lawsuit on Pollution of Paint Creek

LAKE ORION — The Village Council was served with papers concerning another lawsuit in the Paint Creek pollution issue.

This suit was just initiated by the Lake Orion Homeowners Association, and the village is a codefendant with the Oakland County Department of Public Works and the county itself.

The suit was filed on behalf of all Lake Orion residents and especially on behalf of Mrs. Juanita Robbins and Mrs. Emily Pagel, both members of the home owners group.

Also covered by the suit are unspecified village officials who, the suit charges, are among persons who admit they discharged raw sewage and other waste materials into Paint Creek.

Among those who admit this activity in part is Village President William V. Shoup, who said at an earlier meeting he had been using the storm sewers for many years.

ACCEPTED PRACTICE

Shoup said, however, that this was "accepted practice" at the time he tied into the storm sewers, and that he always had treated sewage by means of a septic tank before it entered the storm sewer.

Village officials are also charged with "conspiring" to create the $1.36-million sewer system in question rather than taking a direct course of action against the "few persons" who are polluting Paint Creek.

Delay in finding a way other than an expensive sewer system to correct Paint Creek pollution over the years is a key point of attack by the association.

Shoup accepts part of the blame for the village's failure to act sooner on the pollution problem, stating that "I knew we were headed for trouble" because of delay.

NO ACTION

While the lawsuit is being considered in Oakland County Circuit Court, no action can be taken by the County Department of Public Works (DPW) on behalf of Lake Orion toward construction of the sewer system.

Delay in the planning of the system might cost the village $125,580 in federal funds toward the sewage treatment plant and site.

The Michigan Water Resources Commission recently approved the grant to the village after the DPW had applied for the funds in its behalf.

The DPW was asked by the village to plan, construct, maintain and operate the sewer system when the Water Resources Commission initially ordered the village to construct such a system because of Paint Creek pollution.

TERMS OF GRANT

Under the terms of the grant, plans for the system must be submitted to the Water Resources Commission by Dec. 1, and construction must be under way by May 1.

These deadlines are virtually impossible to meet in view of the lawsuit, according to DPW Deputy Director Donald W. Ringler.

The suit is added to another already in court, filed in August by Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley. That suit stemmed from Lake Orion's failure to meet planning deadlines this summer.

S. Lyon School Board to Start Bond Issue Push

SOUTH LYON — Board of education members are getting ready to launch their campaign for a $760,000 building bond issue.

The selling job will begin officially tonight when Mrs. Rita Chenoweth speaks to the PTA at South Lyon Elementary School.

The session featuring discussion of the Dec. 12 bonding proposition is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Other board members plan to speak at an 8 p.m. meeting of the New Hudson Elementary School PTA Dec. 3.

The PTAs at South Lyon High School and Sayre Elementary School have no meetings planned between now and the election.

PUBLIC MEETING

However, the school board will hold a public meeting for the whole community later this month.

Plans also are being formulated for a newsletter to be sent to district property owners.

The brochure will include photographs of some of the contemplated construction, notably a $430,000 addition to the high school, according to Supt. Frank Bartlett.

A new 10-room wing at the high school would contain a science unit which would allow the present chemistry-physics area to be converted into an art room.

REMODELING PLANS

Also to be remodeled are the gymnasium, home economics room, shop, library and cafeteria.

Construction costing some $60,000 at Sayre would include addition of a music room, expansion of art facilities and improvement of the home economics room.

The proposed bond issue allots $12,000 to change the heating plant in the older part of New Hudson Elementary School and $2,500 for necessary rewiring there.

Balance of the funds being sought would be earmarked for contingencies.

TENTATIVE SCHEDULE

Cost of the building program to the individual property owner has not yet been established. Attorney Milton Thompson of Detroit now is preparing a tentative bonding schedule.

With approval of the bond issue, the board would abandon the annex now being used by seven elementary classes.

Trustees have noted that a new high school should be built in about six years and the present one converted to a junior high school.

School Plans Book Program

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — With an eye toward Christmas and their children's gift lists, parents tomorrow night will view the selections offered at the Green Elementary School book fair.

New books ordered at the 8 p.m. event will be delivered in time for the holidays. In preparing for the program, children at the school will have browsed through the books and listed their favorites.

The book fair will precede the school's regular PTA meeting.

Ham Dinner Is Slated by Lake Orion Church

LAKE ORION — The Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints will hold a baked ham dinner tomorrow at the church, 271 E. Flint.

Serving will be from 5 to 7 p.m. with proceeds to go into the building fund.

Striking Louisville Teachers May Circumvent Picketing Ban

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Louisville schoolteachers' strike continued Wednesday with the possibility of silent sentinels instead of pickets at the schools. A court order has been issued against picketing, but an attorney advised the strikers it wouldn't apply if they just walked nearby, in silence.

Louisville schools continued to operate even with absences of teachers that hit some schools hard Tuesday. There seem to be 150 to 200 strikers compared with the total city teacher force of 1,896. No firm figure on the strike force has been released. The teachers seek a pay increase.

Gov. John McKeithen of Louisiana callea a special session of the legislature for Monday to boost teachers' salaries. He acted in the face of mounting pressures from Louisiana's 36,000 teachers. McKeithen said he will ask a $500 across-the-board hike, half of what the teachers demand.

In Oklahoma Gov. Henry Bellmon called for teachers to meet with him Dec. 5, saying there had been "a breakdown in communications between the governor's office and the teachers." He said he would outline a program to 'substantially improve Oklahoma's educational system. His call for the meeting came after 1,200 teachers had demanded a $1,000 salary boost by March 1, saying they wouldn't sign new contracts next spring if their demands were not met.

STAYED AWAY

Between 150 and 250 teachers stayed away from classes in Louisville's junior and senior high schools Tuesday. At some schools the students spent the day in study halls or ranged between the auditorium and classes that were staffed.

Some strikers also picketed, despite the order. Many of them met late Tuesday and agreed to keep the walkout going. The school crisis erupted last Wednesday after voters had turned down a tax boost that would have increased salaries.

In another development, a strike leader filed suit asking for the ouster of the Jefferson County (Louisville) tax commissioner. The action charged that assessments in the county are far below the fair cash value required by the state constitution. Property is assessed at 35 per cent of actual value, one of the highest ratios in the state.

Hope was expressed that this would force action on raising the assessments.

The current teacher wage in Louisville is $4,400 to $6,600 a year. The teachers want a $1,500 boost, five times what they would have received under the tax raise that was defeated.

Jersey Senator Raps Secrecy on New House Office Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case said today the new House Office Building now nearing completion is a monument to the peculiar way Congress handles its internal affairs.

The New Jersey Republican said the secrecy which has shrouded facts and figures for construction of the building has thwarted even members of Congress from finding out more about the project.

He again called for fuller public disclosure of governmental activities and expressed hope the new Congress will adopt legislation to require members to disclose their financial interests.

"The principle of public disclosure is central to the effective workings of our political system," Case said in a letter to constituents.

FINAL FIGURES

Case said the new House Office Building — named in honor of the late Speaker Sam Rayburn—began in 1955 with a $2-million appropriation and is expected to cost more than $95 million when the final figures are in.

The General Accounting Office, he said, began a review of the project only after a reluctant House leadership was unable to prevent a roll call vote on the question.

Case noted that this is a new role for the accounting office which, as a creation of Congress, acts as financial watchdog over the executive branch.

Its review, Case said, is recognition of the legitimate demand for fuller public information about congressional activities.

Case and other senators introduced public disclosure bills in the past several Congresses but none of them passed.

Case said, however, that they were discussed seriously in the Senate this year for the first time. "I hope that in the next Congress, legislation can at last be enacted," he added.

The teller, 27-year-old Gladys Lavina Heinsch, was arrested yesterday at the Kings Highway Savings Bank in Flatbush, where whe worked. Police said she spent the money on a boyfriend. They said routine auditing disclosed the shortages.

Rare Academic Plum Within Area's Reach

The fate of a magnificent addition to the Community's cultural resources with vast economic potentialities may well be decided at a luncheon tomorrow noon at the Elks.

At stake is the establishment here of an osteopathic college that would initially accommodate 280 medical students and employ 1,714 professional and staff personnel. The first phase, representing an outlay of $3 million and expected to be operative in 1968, is projected to expand into a $40 million complex with an annual payroll in the neighborhood of $12 million.

But local location of the institution is not yet a reality. The area's part in the development is a donation to the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons of the 164-acre site situated at the corner of Opdyke and Auburn.

The cost of the land is $375,000, and to date $275,000 of that amount has been subscribed—thanks to the immediate interest of local organizations and individuals.

But unless the remaining $100,000 can be raised from like-minded members of the citizenry, the city's hope of adding another fine facility to its civic and economic structure will have gone for nought.

Area residents have never been found wanting in support of any worthy cause or project. The osteopathic college has top ranking in this category.

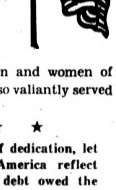
Our people can again demonstrate their loyalty by turning out in large numbers for the luncheon-meeting tomorrow prepared to wrap up one of the biggest prizes offered us in many a day.

The PRESS has wholeheartedly endorsed and, along with others, substantially contributed to the project. It earnestly urges everyone to give it the same consideration.

Country Pays Homage to Flag's Defenders

Today is Veterans Day.

Originally termed Armistice Day, is was established to honor the heroes of World War I.



By Congressional action, the designation was changed on June 1, 1954, to embrace and pay tribute to the men and women of all wars who have so valiantly served their nation.

On this day of dedication, let the people of America reflect upon the great debt owed the military establishment that not only won the freedom enjoyed by many generations, but has preserved it against the tyranny and oppression of enemies.

Our active veterans, moreover, may well take pride in the civilian role they have played once their military contribution was made.

Contrary to examples in foreign lands where the discharged soldiery became a power bloc intent on gaining preferential treatment from their governments, often with disruptive effect, those who once followed the Stars and Stripes have constructively influenced the society of which they are a part.

We render a warm salute to the memory of the departed who rose in defense of their country and to those now safeguarding its traditions and security in all areas of involvement.

A Famed Alien Haven May Become Memorial

To date, the visionary schemes of Secretary of the Interior STEWART L. UDALL and his arbitrary manner of promulgating them haven't met with unanimous approval, to say the least.

But we give a nod of approbation to his latest concept—that of developing Ellis Island, abandoned in 1954, into a national historic site.

During half a century, the island in New York Harbor was the port of entry for 16 million immigrants whose multiracial numbers leavened the great melting pot of our civilization.

Site plans envision a complex of parks, gardens, promenades, a revolving restaurant and an immigration museum. It would be an adjunct to Liberty Island, where the Statue of Liberty rests, and be connected by bridge to a new state park in Jersey City, 900 feet away.

In our headlong preoccupation with the materialism of the times, we can do with a cultural reminder of the inflow of peoples who have contributed to the sturdy stock of America.

THE U. S. and Russia have agreed to work together with reference to the weather, but even with these two great powers cooperating, it is doubted that they'll ever be able to control or even modify the weather.

Blessed Memory: JFK and Son

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Memories, as the poet said, can bless as well as burn.

Of blessed memory are the hours that John F. Kennedy spent with his small children.

They were precious times that had to be stolen from busy days.

It was just a year ago today that President Kennedy took John-John to Arlington National Cemetery for a wreath-laying ceremony honoring the nation's veterans.

Little John, not quite 3, didn't understand what was going on, and of course, he wriggled.

SAT ON MARBLE BENCH

While his father sat on the stage, John Jr., in blue shorts and white sweater, sat with a Secret Service agent on a marble bench below.

Once John broke away and headed for the stage. Recaptured, he was set down in a walkway where the agent and a White House photographer hemmed him in, as much as little boys are ever hemmed in.

After the ceremony, John ran between two of Kennedy's military aides and grabbed his father's hand. One of the aides took the boy's other hand.

When the three walked up to a set a of stairs, John leaped into the air, swinging his legs as he dangled from the grown-ups' hands. Then, as they drove out of the cemetery, John waved energetic goodbys.

WARMED THE HEART

It was the father-and-son show that warmed the heart as it charmed the eye.

President Kennedy earlier had done his part in the ceremonial sense.

He had proclaimed Veterans Day as a day to honor those who had served their country in time of war, and to renew American determination to achieve world peace "with patience, perseverance and courage."

They're having another Veterans Day ceremony in Arlington today.

Peking's Game

The Hindu Weekly Review, Madras

It is seriously open to question whether China wants membership in the United Nations. Far from trying to join, Peking is doing everything to nullify the U.N.'s authority, and indications are that it will intensify its efforts to cripple the world organization. The U.N. is not the international forum envisioned by Mr. Mao Tse-tung and his ilk in their grand design for the world.

Evidence is available from Peking's own actions. The Chinese government has not officially stated its policy. Such an avowal would hardly enhance its image in the eyes of the world, particularly the developing nations of Africa, Latin America and Asia, where it has been damaged by its aggression against India, its militant refusal to sign the nuclear test ban treaty, its frenzied maneuvers in the peace movements and other belligerent acts. Nevertheless, China wishes to stay out of the United Nations. Because of highly strained relations with the Soviet Union, Peking seems to have concluded that, even if it finally managed to take the place now occupied by Taiwan, things might not go as it would like.

Even if Peking eventually gained the permanent seat in the Security Council it could no longer depend on Soviet support and there is no telling when Moscow might use the veto against a Chinese proposal. The same situation would hold in the General Assembly, where the European bloc of Soviet countries could line up solidly against Peking. Furthermore, even if Peking were seated, Taiwan would continue to keep its seat—a prospect that is highly disagreeable to Peking.

It is hard to say when Peking changed its policy on U.N. membership, but it probably was when the United Nations was considering proposals to expand the Security Council. China questioned the U.S.S.R.'s sincerity and accused it of deliberately trying to exclude the African nations. The Chinese press has ignored the whole question of Chinese membership in the U.N. so Peking is free to stir up trouble in South Viet Nam or Laos and to incite the people of Africa to racial hatred of the Europeans and Americans. Official statements over the Tonkin Gulf incident provide fresh proof of China's utter contempt for the world organization.

China has been maintaining that the United Nations has no role in the Viet Nam question. Foreign Minister Chen Yi said: "It must be emphasized that the United Nations has no right to consider the Indochina question. The only international basis is the 1954 Geneva Agreements. If these agreements are set aside and some related countries are excluded while the U.S. controlled United Nations is allowed to intervene in Indochina, this can only aggravate the situation or even repeat the error of the United Nations being used by the United States for its aggression in Korea. If a peaceful settlement of the Indochina question is sincerely sought, the only channel is that provided by the Geneva Agreements; there is no other way out."

No one knows how China will react if the General Assembly votes to seat it in the United Nations, but one view is that Peking is likely to drag its feet. The reasoning runs: given China's present relations with the Soviet Union, it can no longer use the United Nations for its own ends, as no doubt it hoped to at one stage. In the heydey of the "Chini-Russi bhai bhai" period there was a time when China, as a member of the U.N. and with help from the Soviet bloc, could have done great mischief to the world organization and crippled its functioning. Today it is different. China finds it more advantageous to stay outside the United Nations and attack it than to be inside and bound by the restraints of membership.

Spiritual Need

Holland Sentinel

At a Cleveland, Ohio gathering of Christian business men Governor Mark Hatfield said the following:

"America is the great nation we all believe it to be. It has its strengths, its weaknesses. I think we are still a great and powerful nation but we have to address ourselves to certain of our needs and to me our greatest need today is a spiritual renaissance. Why? Because so many of the social, economic and political problems we face today have their roots in a man's attitude as to what life is, the purpose of life, and if the American citizen has no particular course, or objective, or purpose in life, we can't expect to find a strong and stable people. In this respect there is a sort of floundering today in many areas of our national life. We need to be put back on course and this is why I say our greatest need is a spiritual renaissance."

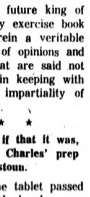
Prince Charles' Essays Causing Some Jitters

LONDON — The question of the unpublished reflections of 15-year-old Prince Charles on such weighty matters as the monarchy, the British press and Britain's electoral system is bugging the public these days.



CONSIDINE

Seems that some bounder either stole or was given the future king of England's essay exercise book and found therein a veritable treasure trove of opinions and observations that are said not to be exactly in keeping with the traditional imparitiality of the royal family.

The snatch, if that it was, was made at Charles' prep school, Gordonstoun.

Apparently the tablet passed through several hands, now lined with silver, the blackguards, before winding up on the desk of Terence Smith, a director of the Mercury Press, which as everyone knows is located at St. Helens', Lancs.

Alas, it did not remain there long. Mr. Smith is suing Police Commissioner Sir Joseph Simpson for the return of the classroom classic.

Claims it was taken from him by a detective who posed as a representative of a continental publisher — probably a French publisher.

Voice of the People:

'Does Postmaster Allow Literary Dirt in Mails?'

I almost refuse to believe my own eyes when I see some of the absolutely hideous and filthy scum that newsstands are offering these days in the guise of "magazines."

Where is the law?

Where is the post office department?

I was taught that it is a criminal offense to use our mails for such despicable and obscene pictures and articles. Have the laws of decency been rescinded or are our local postmaster and our Postmaster General derelict in their duties? This literary, dirt is everywhere. I find it in a neighborhood drug store where my 13 year old buys sodas. When I asked the proprietor, he just shrugged his shoulders. He couldn't have cared less. But I do, and so do my friends.

I wish Postmaster William Donaldson would give an interview to the Press and advise us what the facts are.

BARBARA REED

(Editor's Note: Mr. Donaldson, you have the floor. We will gladly carry your reply—right on page one.)

Disagrees With Comments on Teaching

In reply to "Tax paying Grandmother and Grandfather," I ask: Are the views of these children slanted because they are not your views? Are not the candidates and their issues current events? Perhaps in your opinion the views of the entire nation were slanted on election day.

You write "teachers are teaching their own views on matters that are not current events." How many teachers do you know and how many classes have you observed? Perhaps it is you who should gets the facts.

TAXPAYING MOTHER

'Election Could Add to Suicide Statistics'

The first editorial last Wednesday was most appropriate and perfectly timed. It concerned the increasing rate of suicide in the U.S.

After Tuesday's election there were probably plenty of Republicans and some Democrats who felt like adding to those statistics. The prospect of another four years with the Johnson Birds is almost too much to bear.

SORE LOSER

Asks How to Get Into Veterans' Hospital

I believe the letter about the good care at the veterans' hospital. But how do you get in?

I went to the Dearborn hospital in great pain from an injury I got overseas. The doctor examined me and said I was okay. He said the injury was so old there was nothing they could do. I am unable to work steadily due to the pain.

Do you have to be on a stretcher to get into the veterans' hospital? I have heard of others who tried to get in and couldn't.

VETERAN OF WORLD WAR II

'Problem Sewer Hinders Beauty of City'

The north end of the city could be a beautiful part of Pontiac with the residents and city working together. The sewer problems get worse each year, to say nothing of the mosquitoes we had by Terry Lake this year.

Tax is all we can hear. This part of town has nothing for the taxes we are already paying. Now they want more, or we live in this sewer odor. It's always the little fellow that begs and pays high prices for what he gets.

New homes and buildings are going up all around Terry and Osmun lakes, which add to the problem.

DISGUSTED RESIDENT

Suggests Way to Fight Nation's Poverty

So now President Johnson is against poverty. An annual income of $3,000 for one couple is said to be the borderline in most localities. There are thousands of retired professional people whose incomes are less and inflation is to blame.

When labor unions are given a raise, the cost of living goes up for everybody. Our lawmakers set a fine example in increasing their own salaries as well as those of Federal employes and military forces. Those living on fixed incomes are losing out. People who retired when company pensions were a fraction of today's pensions are finding it difficult to make ends meet.

If President Johnson and Governor Romney are sincere they could work toward diverting some of the billions going to undeserving countries to relieve conditions right here at home.

DISCOURAGED RETIREE

A Reader Defends Regan's Campaigning

I'm sorry I missed any campaigning by John Wayne if he was as demonstrative a speaker as Ronald Regan. Anyone with an open ear and a half-open mind should have known Regan was not acting.

Lay off Regan—at least he did more than tear up a Social Security card.

'True Republicans Will Not Surrender'

To Sen. Javits and his ilk who want the genuine Republicans for Goldwater to step aside and be replaced for their leftist philosophy, I say "no." Why not be honest, stop aping the Democrats and just join them.

Sen. Goldwater gave our party back to us along with our dignity and self respect. We are not ashamed of loving America and her constitutional government.

Though comparatively few, we are still 26 million strong. We are eternally grateful to Senator Goldwater. We don't intend to surrender our regained freedom principles to those who have destroyed and trampled those American ideals in the past.

All Quiet, but Tense in Khartoum

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — Workers returned to their jobs today and the streets of Khartoum were peaceful in response to Premier Sir El Khatem El Khalifa's appeal for an end to three days of mob violence and demonstrations that threatened his two-week-old civilian government.

Although the situation remained tense, the 15-man cabinet appeared to have weathered a still unclear threat from some sections of the army.

Telephone communications were restored and Khartoum airfield was again in operation.

The streets showed signs of the past three days, during which windows were smashed, some automobiles burned, a few houses looted and the embassies of the United States, Britain and the United Arab Republic attacked.

The American and British embassies were hit by rocks, and the demonstrators scrawled "U.S. Go Home" slogans on the American Embassy walls.

EGYPT EMBASSY

Only the Egyptian Embassy suffered damage. Houses of some embassy employes nearby also were molested. The extent of the damage was not immediately known.

Khalifa said "some aliens" were partially responsible for the violence.

The premier also called for an end to the general strike in Khartoum.

"The government is now sure nobody will dare nullify your gains or threaten your rights," Khalifa told crowds in front of the government headquarters. "There is no longer any need for demonstrations."

PUBLIC SUPPORT

The premier also sought public support by announcing an end to the policy of force in the south Sudan, where half the army has been trying to put down a revolt by the Negro tribes against the dominant Arab Moslems of northern Sudan.

The south Sudan situation was a major factor in the overthrow of President Ibrahim Abboud's six-year-old military regime.

Khalifa heads a 15-man Cabinet that ranges from four Communists at one extreme to one member of the Moslem Brotherhood at the other. Behind the Cabinet is a hastily formed "National Front," which includes a wide variety of political opinion.

Huge Protest Threatened

N-Sub Furor in Japan

SASEBO, Japan (AP) — Tension built to explosive proportions tonight as thousands of leftist - led demonstrators and police reinforcements poured into this southern port on the eve of the first visit of a U.S. nuclear-powered submarine to Japan.

Sporadic demonstrations against the submarine's arrival sputtered throughout the city of 262,000 only 35 miles from Nagasaki, target of an atomic bomb in World War II.

Socialist leaders said they expected to mobilize at least 10,000 demonstrators when the 2,552-ton Sea Dragon docks in Sasebo tomorrow for a three-day visit.

Officials said the government was moving 2,500 police reinforcements into Sasebo and sending six patrol boats to the harbor to prevent demonstrators from blocking channels.

Nearly 10,000 leftist-led demonstrators were marching on the Diet (parliament) in Tokyo with petitions demanding cancellation of the nuclear submarine's visit.

25 MILLION SIGNATURES

Socialist party leaders claimed they had collected more than 25 million signatures out of Japan's 100 million population.

Akira Iwai, leader of the 4.5 million-member left - wing SOHYO labor federation, threatened to call protest strikes if the government didn't withdraw its permission for the submarines to visit.

American and Japanese authorities have stressed that the Sea Dragon carries no nuclear weapons and that there is no danger of radioactive contamination.

It was the first political crisis faced by Premier Eisaku Sato, elected two days ago to replace ailing Hayato Ikeda.

SOUND TRUCKS

Two hours after the government's announcement yesterday of the Sea Dragon's visit, Communist and Socialist sound trucks were driving through Sasebo urging the populace to oppose the visit.

They were matched by sound trucks of the ruling Liberal Democart party blaring government assurances that the Sea Dragon posed no radiation threat to Sasebo.

Ultrarightist elements also went into action at Sasebo. They urged the city's people to boycott the leftist demonstrations.

One police source expressed fear of bloody clashes between leftist and rightist groups.

About 1,000 Japanese riot police, wearing helmets and carrying riot sticks, stood guard through the night around the U.S. Navy base at Sasebo.

Unfair Package Bill Is Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — A disputed majority report by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee called today for new federal law to forbid unfair and deceptive packaging of food and household products.

It pictured the housewife doing her shopping as confused in many instances by unfair packaging and other gimmicks making it difficult or impossible to figure out just what she is getting for her money and the business world as lacking facilities to police such practices.

It said small businesses in particular suffer as a result.

Two of the subcommittee's Republican members filed separate dissenting reports denouncing the proposed legislation.

Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said it would lead to higher prices, less competition and be "harmful or destructive" to consumers, workers and businessmen.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., called it "shockingly bad" legislation which wrongly "regards our people as childlike" and businessmen as corrupt.

BILL DIED

The bill in question died in the Senate Judiciary Committee when Congress adjourned.

But Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., the subcommittee's chairman and the principal author of what he calls "truth in packaging" legislation promised a harder fight for it in the new Congress.

The bill would amend the Clayton Antitrust Act's restraint of trade provisions to outlaw packaging practices which witnesses roundly criticized as deceptive during public hearings in 1963.

The bill proposes no new criminal penalties for violations but would spell out forbidden practices against which the Federal Trade Commission and the Food and Drug Administration could act through cease and desist orders enforceable in court.

Massachusetts adopted legislation in 1912 setting up a Minimum Wage Commission.

COHOSTS AT TEEN PARTY — Dr. and Mrs. George Hughes (left) and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley P. Felt, cohosts at a debutante party last June in Darien, Conn., are shown as they arrived at court in Stamford yesterday to enter pleas on charges of serving liquor to minors. Official Backs California Housing Rule

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The president of the California Real Estate Association says the fear that Proposition 14 could cost California more than $200 million in federal housing aid is a misunderstanding.

But everyone else — including the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Washington — today appeared puzzled and cautious about the legal complexity of the new initiative.

Proposition 14, approved Nov. 3 by voters 4,147,000 to 2,133,000, makes it unconstitutional to pass a law forbidding racial discrimination in home sales or rentals.

Art S. Keitch, CREA president, said the amendment to California's constitution does not interfere with the right of the state or federal government to enforce contracts made with private parties.

CLOUD OF DOUBT

The cloud of doubt hovering over Proposition 14 darkened Tuesday when the HHFA called a temporary halt to the approval of further financing for urban renewal projects in California.

The ban, ordered because of the unclear legal situation surrounding the initiative, affects about $58 million in financing on five projects for which bids were to have been opened Tuesday, the HHFA announcement said.

Latest figures showed a total of $216,683,000 in federal urban redevelopment aid to California projects that could be lost if the initiative is declared constitutional.

Proposition 14 also repealed the Rumford Act, passed in 1963 to ban racial discrimination in about 70 per cent of the housing in California.

NO DISCRIMINATION

The HHFA noted in its ban announcement that under urban renewal administration agreements on projects with local agencies, the purchaser of the redeveloped property must agree not to discriminate in resale because of race, creed, color or national origin.

Leitch of San Diego said in Los Angeles that the proposition was "drafted deliberately to protect the public."

The initiative "in no way jeopardizes the federal or state government," he said. "Voluntary agreements made in relation to urban renewal programs to not discriminate will be as enforceable as any other contract," he said.

Leitch said he had wired federal housing administrator Robert C. Weaver, who also is in Los Angeles, asking for a meeting today. He said Weaver does not understand the proposition.

BROWN OPPOSED IT

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who had opposed the initiative, said that he still feels it is unlawful.

A court challenge of the amendment's constitutionality is planned by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Robs Drive-In Bank Without Leaving Car

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — A crew-cut young man robbed a drive-in bank Tuesday of about $500 without leaving his car.

Teller Paul Bowen, 18, said the man handed him a note demanding small bills and warning, "There is a man behind me if you don't."

Bowen saw no gun and no man behind the bandit, but handed him a pile of bills.

Grand Duchess to Son

Luxembourg Crown Is Passed

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — Grand Duchess Charlotte puts aside Thursday the crown she has worn through 45 years of war and peace, and her son, Prince Jean, ascends to the throne of Luxembourg.

In a simple ceremony, the prince will take an oath as Grand Duke Jean — the first male to rule Europe's most prosperous nation in 52 years. He is 43.

The Grand Duchess, whose reign was the longest of any living monarch in Europe, formally renounced the crown last March. Luxembourg's leaders begged her to remain. Its people were saddened by the decision.

"I feel I have reached the age to retire, and I think Jean is the age to take over," she said recently. "After all, I am 68 now."

NOT POPULAR

Prince Jean, a fervent lover of outdoor sports like his parents, is not as popular among Luxembourg's 330,000 subjects as his mother. Dutiful as a child, he is rather withdrawn as an adult.

"A boy of very agreeable nature whose quiet and discreet behavior hides great strength of mind," a college principal once said of him.

He takes the throne at a much happier time than his mother, who became Grand Duchess at 23, on Jan. 15, 1919, when Europe was beset by the aftermath of World War I. Her sister, grand Duchess Marie Adelaide, abdicated because her countrymen believed her to have been pro-German.

Charlotte's darkest days came in World War II when Germany conquered Luxembourg. She and her family fled to the United States and Canada.

AFTER THE WAR

When she returned after the war, Prime Minister Pierre Dupong uttered the words that have become a motto: "Madame, we love you."

Steel-rich Luxembourg enjoys Europe's highest standard of living and has no great domestic problems. But the prince has one problem as soon as he takes over, the possible loss of European Coal and Steel Pool's headquarters.

Luxemburg has been headquarters of the burgeoning institution since 1952, but Brussels, Belgium, is under consideration as its new capital. The pool brought 35,000 permanent residents to Luxembourg and thousands of visitors each year.

Prince Jean is married to Princess Josephine-Charlotte, sister of King Baudouin of Belgium. They have five children.

SHE'S MARRIED

The Grand Duchess is married to Prince Felix, 71, a descendant of King Louis XIV of France. They have five other children younger than Prince Jean.

Antenna Cuts Eye of State Soldier

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—An Army captain from Michigan was in serious condition in a Columbia hospital after a radio antenna pierced his eye in a freak accident Tuesday.

He was identified as Capt. Thomas K. Lewis of Kalamazoo, Mich. He was one of thousands of troops participating in Air Assault II, Army exercises due to end in the Carolinas Thursday.

An Army spokesman said Capt. Lewis walked into a radio antenna while on duty near Ridgeway, in lower South Carolina. The antenna pierced his eye and went into his brain.

Long Hopeful on Senate Post

Seeking to Be Picked Assistant Dem Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The camp of Sen. Russell B. Long exuded confidence today over his chances of becoming assistant Senate Democratic leader in the new Congress next January.

This is the post now held by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, vice president-elect. It will be filled by vote of the 68 Democratic senators meeting in caucus ahead of the new session.

Long claims to have commitments of more than 35 senators that they will support him for the post. The Louisiana senator said he will win on the second or third ballot in the caucus "provided President Johnson does not enter the situation."

Long said that as of the moment the President has not expressed a preference and "I do not believe he will."

CHIEF OPPONENTS

His chief opponents for the post are Sens. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island and Mike Monroney of Oklahoma. Also mentioned as possibilities are Sens. Edmund Muskie of Maine and Philip A. Hart of Michigan.

In recent days both Pastore and Monroney announced their candidacies and circulated letters to Democratic senators seeking support. The Long camp regards Pastore as the most formidable opponent.

Monroney said Tuesday in Oklahoma City that he feels very good about his chances for getting the post.

"I called the President to see if he had any objection to my candidacy," Monroney said.

LBJ MUM

"He said he was taking no part in the choice. But he spent a good deal of time complimenting me on my swing vote for the medicare program. Our personal relationship for 26 years has been quite close."

Long began lining up support shortly after the Democratic convention in Atlantic City last August, after he first ascertained that his friend, Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida, was not interested in seeking the job.

Smathers, as secretary of the Senate Democratic conference, was rated as third in line in the leadership post after Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Humphrey.

Long said he will have 39 votes in the final showdown.

HAS SUPPORT

"I have support not only among Southern senators, but among those from the North, Midwest and West," Long said through his office here.

Real Ripper Scheduled

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The State Highway Department is making sure that a ripping good time will be had this month at dedication of 30 new miles of interstate road.

Commissioner Henry Ward will do the ripping. Instead of the traditional ribbon cutting, Ward will drive his car through large paper barriers to mark the opening.

An official said Tuesday it was Ward's idea to add something different to the usual ceremonies.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Don't Press to Locate Pain... Just Point

Q—In a recent column you say that "the typical ulcer pain is localized with a finger tip." Does one press hard or lightly with the finger? I have a pain about four inches above the navel. Would that be from a stomach ulcer, my gall bladder, or an injured disc?

BRANDSTADT

A—You don't press to locate a pain—you just point. If you have to press to elicit the pain we doctors would call it a point of tenderness rather than a pain.

Your own pain could be that of a peptic ulcer, heartburn, gallbladder colic (although this is more commonly on the right side), pancreatitis, coronary heart disease, strain of the abdominal muscles from coughing, or possibly colitis, although in colitis the pain usually covers a wider area and shifts about.

So you can see that a doctor must know a great deal more about you than the fact that you have a certain type of pain before he can diagnose the cause of your trouble.

Q—My doctor says I have a floating kidney but that there isn't anything to do about it. He did say that it could easily become infected. What is a floating kidney and how will it affect my health?

A—Very little is written about floating kidney and more because it is a condition in which the kidney is not fixed and immovable but may slip up or down a short distance. It will not affect your health, but worrying about it will.

Q—Our 17-year-old son was sent home from school with a rash. The doctor says he has infectious mononucleosis. What causes this? What are the symptoms? What is the difference between infectious and contagious?

A—Infectious mononucleosis is a disease in which the mononuclear white blood cells are greatly increased in number. It is believed to be caused by an as yet unidentified virus. It is spread from person to person by close contact. In some victims there is a faint rash.

Other symptoms are fever; enlarged, tender lymph nodes, especially in the neck; and sore throat. Cortisone and related hormones or chloroquine are used in the treatment.

An infectious disease is one that is caused by a germ or virus. Not all such diseases are contagious, which means readily passed from one victim to another. The degree of contagion and the mode of transmission of different germs vary.

New Welfare Director Is Chosen in Allegan

ALLEGAN (AP) — Robert Hilaski, 49, of Allegan, former feed and lumber company operator, was named social welfare director Tuesday by the Allegan County Welfare Board. He succeeds Mrs. Beatrice Guscinski, who now is serving a term at the Detroit House of Correction after pleading guilty to embezzling welfare funds estimated by county authorities at $60,000.

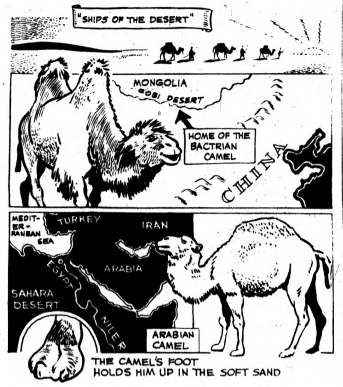
The largest molybdenum mine in the world is at Climax, Colorado.

Ionia Sheriff-Elect Head of State Group

STANTON (AP)—Ionia County Sheriff-elect Gary Newton has been chosen president of the Michigan State Association of Sheriff's Posses. Other officers are vice president Joseph Plott of the Berrien County Sheriff's Department; secretary Charles Crow, Kent County, and treasurer C. C. Whitcomb, Kalamazoo County.

On-the-job accidents accounted for 14,200 deaths in the U. S. in 1963, up four per cent over the previous year's total.

Junior Editors Quiz on CAMELS



QUESTION: Did camels come from Australia?

ANSWER: Australia was not the camel's original home. It is possible that our questioner saw a picture of a camel in an Australian landscape, because a few Arabian camels have been taken there in the hope they might prove useful in the parched areas of that country.

Camels need little water. They can make it in their bodies by the oxidation of fat. But we must look elsewhere to find the original home of these clumsy, grouchy yet extremely useful animals.

Small humpless ancestors of our present-day camels are said by scientists to have originated in North America a very long time ago.

Some of these moved down to South America, where they became the llamas which live in that continent today. Another group moved across Asia (Asia and America are supposed to have been connected by a land bridge).

Our picture shows the two kinds which then developed: the heavy Bactrian, at home in more northern deserts, and the one-humped Arabian. Both still plod the deserts today, carrying huge loads for their human masters.

FOR YOU TO DO: Find a picture of a South American llama and compare it with the camels in our picture. Doesn't the llama have that same bored, haughty look?

Soviets to Try Two in 'Impudent' Theft

MOSCOW (AP) — Two men go on trial soon for one of the Soviet Union's most impudent thefts in years. They are accused of stealing priceless works of art from the state historical museum on Red Square late last year.

A. Y. Kudryavtsev, deputy police minister, reported in the newspaper Soviet Russia that the stolen objects were recovered in the Caucasus 900 miles south of Moscow. They included a diamond-studded sword hilt.

"For many years we have not known such an impudent theft," Kudryavtsev said.

Accident Study Shows Drivers Were Speeders

LANSING (AP)—A study of 40 drivers killed in one-car accidents showed that all but five had previous speeding convictions, Secretary of State James Hare said Tuesday.

Hare revealed results of the study at a State Safety Commission meeting. At the meeting the five-member commission reelected Hare as its chairman.

Hare said all but three of the 40 drivers had a prior traffic conviction record ranging from two to 38 points and 12 previously had been convicted of reckless driving.

Low Pay, Long Hours Cause Youths to Quit Farm

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — It's pretty hard to keep youngsters down on the farm when they can earn a steady income working fewer hours in the city, say officials of the National Grange.

The high cost of starting and maintaining a farm also is contributing to the exodus, said Grange officals interviewed during the 98th annual meeting of the Grange, which claims 900,000 members in 40 states.

Herschel D. Newsom of Washington, D.C., National Grange master president, said little could be done to keep young people down on the farm until farming becomes more lucrative.

"We're trying the best we know how," Newsom said, citing several recent federal legislative measures.

IN AGREEMENT

Frank A. Niffenegger of Marengo, Ill., chairman of the National Grange's taxation and fiscal committee, agreed with Newsom.

"A youngster will have to wait a long time to make $50 a week on a farm, but not if he works in town as a stenographer or a bookkeeper," Niffenegger said.

"It costs too much to get into the business and the income is not enough to warrant it. There's also more comfort elsewhere and the boys don't have to invest so much. Even when a youngster gets a farm from his folks, more times than not he has to pay for it."

Lionel Burgess of Ellicott City, Md., national treasurer, said there was a time when a youngster could buy a team of horses, a plow and harrow and go into farming, even if he had to rent the land.

WORKED HARD

"At the end of the year, if you worked hard, you made a good pay," he said. "Now the average investment behind each farm is $45,000 per person and that's not counting the cost of the land.

"And another thing you have to remember: you have to work longer than eight hours a day, 40 hours a week to stay on the farm. The boys can find it easier in the city and make more money."

The Oregon state master, Allen P. Wheeler of Portland, said "the only ones who go into farming now are those in it on their father's investment."

"When a man has four or five sons, most times only one of them can live off the farm, so the rest head for the city," he said.

Greens Market, Tea Set by WNFGA Unit

Lake Angelus Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, has chosen a theme "Golden Times, Golden Memories!" for the holiday greens market and tea.

Designating November as scholarship month, members gathered Tuesday for subscription luncheon in the home of Mrs. Robert Critchfield on North Lake Angelus Road.

Proceeds toward an Oakland University scholarship will be supplemented by sales from the greens market and tea, next Wednesday in the Gold Room at Oakland University, from 2 to 5 p.m.

At workshops during the past months, members have designed and fashioned original gifts and holiday decorations in a wide price range.

"Country cousins" from area branches are urged to participate in the branch flower show in the morning.

The "Golden Times" theme will appear in exhibits of both fresh flowers and dried arrangements.

Holiday wreaths, door decorations, wall miniatures and centerpieces will be judged along with festive tables in the morning. This area will be opened to the public at the afternoon market and tea.

Mrs. Robert C. Lake is scholarship chairman and Mrs. Ray E. Hayes marketing cochairman.

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Floyd Foren or at the door.

Boutique gifts for their holiday greens market and tea were previewed by Lake Angelus branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, on Tuesday. Mrs. Arthur R. Dodge (left) and Mrs. Ray E. Hayes, both of Lake Angelus, admire the articles to be sold next Wednesday in the Gold Room at Oakland University, 2 to 5 p.m. Proceeds go to the scholarship fund.

Unprecedented warm November weather prompted Mrs. Robert M. Critchfield (left) to take her guests for a stroll on the grounds of her Lake Angelus home. At the subscription luncheon Tuesday final plans were made for the group's holiday greens market and tea. With Mrs. Critchfield are Mrs. Newton J. Skillman Jr. (center) and Mrs. Russell L. Hibbard, both of Lake Angelus.

Volunteers Honored at Luncheon

H. Allan Barth, executive director of the Michigan Hospital Association, spoke to Pontiac General Hospital adult volunteers at an award luncheon Tuesday in the Holiday Inn.

Also appearing on the program were Aleck Capsalis, Harold S. Goldberg, Dr. Lynn Allen, Mrs. B. B. Roush, Robert A. Armstrong, Rev. Theodore R. Allebach and Harold B. Euler.

Eighty-one adult volunteers were recognized. Their combined total of contributed hours is 16,756.

In addition, 144 volunteers who worked between 50 to 100 hours contributed an additional 6,536 hours. Another 60 volunteers worked under 50 hours during the year and contributed 864 hours.

Total of service hours contributed by 285 volunteers is 24,156.

Receiving gold pins with sapphires for 1,500 hours or more were Mrs. Aleck Capsalis, Mrs. Socrates V. Sekles and Mrs. Forest Wood, all of Pontiac.

Mrs. Frank Burrell of Orchard Lake and Norma Jean Ivanov of Davisburg received gold pins with rubies for 1,250 or more hours.

Rev. Gus Tsompanas, vice chairman of the chaplains' committee at Pontiac General Hospital and Mrs. Shirley Green, Clovese Street, were among guests at Tuesday's award luncheon at Holiday Inn. Mrs. Green received a certificate for her work as a volunteer in the women's auxiliary to the hospital.

She has won numerous awards for her sculpture and graphics, and has been a frequent exhibitor at the Detroit Artists Market, the Detroit Institute of Arts, and the National Religious Art Show.

The 8 p.m. meeting in the Community Services building on Franklin Boulevard is open to the public and will be preceded by a short business meeting.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Does He, or Doesn't He?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How can you tell if a man is married? The way men lie nowadays you can't tell the married ones from the single ones.

ABBY

You sure can't believe what they tell you. I was a widow for six years when my daughter introduced me to a very nice man whom she knew at the place where she worked.

We were attracted to each other from the start. He said his wife was dead. We went together for almost a year.

This man asked me to marry him after our second date. I said I thought we should get to know each other better before discussing marriage.

I don't know what he'd have done if I had said yes because his wife was very much alive. (I just found out about her last week.)

I called her on the phone and she told me plenty. She wasn't mad. She said I wasn't the first and I wouldn't be the last.

Also that she didn't love him but was only keeping him around for his pay check. So, dear Abby, I'm asking you. How can a woman be sure?

DEAR SHOCKED: Your most reliable information on the marital status of a suitor would come either from the bureau of vital statistics or from others who have known the man longer than you have.

Some men are polished liars, so if a man never takes you to his old haunts and never introduces you to his friends, beware.

DEAR ABBY: I am 23, single and have a very good job. I've been deferred from Army service because of my job, but my deferment is up in January.

I recently met the most wonderful girl. I see her only on weekends, but she is constantly in my thoughts. I've asked her to marry me, but now I'm not sure if I'm really in love, or just looking for someone to marry to stay out of the Army.

I find it hard to keep my mind on my work, and this problem is keeping me up nights. Can you give me some advice?

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: When a man is in love, he knows it, and he doesn't question his motives for considering marriage.

Don't marry this "wonderful girl" while you are still wondering whether it's "love" or the deferment that is drawing you to the altar.

Army duty is temporary. Marriage is a lifetime hitch!

Aluminum Can Be a 'Silver Lining'

You can avoid scouring broiler and roaster pans by lining them with aluminum foil before cooking.

Later, just throw away the foil. The same goes for vessels used at cook-out parties.

Clean Pot Well for Good Coffee

A clean pot is the prime requisite for making good coffee, says the Coffee Brewing Institute.

Wash your coffee maker with plenty of hot soap or detergent suds and rinses after every brew, using a well-lathered brush to scrub inside the spout and hollow stem.

Polly's Pointers

Press Out Splinters

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Junior picked up a splinter in his toe when on a visit to his grandmother's farm.

He came home all agog as grandma had held his toe over the opening in a pop bottle filled with hot water. The steam softened the skin so she could PRESS the splinter out with her fingers.

He was so thrilled that it worked that he brought the splinter home in an aspirin box to prove it.

He doesn't know that my grandma did the same thing for me years and years ago. — CHEF.

DEAR POLLY—On wash days I have to make frequent trips in and out the basement door.

My hands are full of wet clothes, baskets and pins and wet hands will not turn the knob so down everything has to go so I can dry my hands.

To solve this problem I now take a piece of old turkish toweling or a wash cloth, put it over the knob and fasten with a rubber band. This is also good for the inside knob of the bathroom door, especially for children.—MRS. J. H. P.

Association Helps Locate Deposit Boxes

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

Is there some way I can find out if my late husband, who passed away in 1961, had a safe deposit box in Chicago? I understand there is some place I can write for this information, but don't know where.

Mrs. G. F., Chicago

MARY FEELEY

Dear Mrs. F.:

Contact the banks where you think your husband may have had business transactions. Ask if they have a record of his having rented a safe deposit box.

In your city, the National Safe Deposit Association, care of the First National Bank, is set up to help locate boxes of decedents and incompetents in your area. For a fee of about $15 they will put an ad in their publication, which is distributed to banks.

After the rental period of a safe deposit box has expired, the bank concerned is anxious to locate the rightful owner, since no payment is being received for the use of the box.

For the benefit of other readers who may have a similar problem, the director of The National Safe Deposit Association, which operates in 48 states, suggests that if you think there might be an unclaimed box at a community bank, you should contact the local State Safe Deposit Association.

If you can't locate this source of information, the National Association will help you. Its address is 521 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10017.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I presently have a $7,000 mortgage on a house with a market value of $33,000. I can, should I so desire, pay $88 monthly principal and interest until this mortgage is paid.

I am financially able to pay an additional $150 monthly on the mortgage. As a 38-year-old father of four with an adequate insurance and retirement program, plus approximately $3,000 invested in stocks, I would like your advice as to how best to use this $150.

Should I use it to reduce this mortgage quickly or put it in a savings account (4½ per cent a year compounded quarterly) or purchase more stock? My income is such that I itemize income tax deductions each year.

G. M. P., Mt. Prospect, Ill.

Dear G. M. P.:

If you really mean what you say — that you have an adequate insurance and retirement program, considering the fact you also have four children — then I'd say put the $150 extra a month into good sound stocks.

In your financial position, I see little to gain by paying off such a small amount of mortgage money at once.

Your present mortgage payments are apparently comfortable enough. But you won't mind if I question whether you have adequate provisions for the education of four children, plus a reasonable retirement fund already in the bag.

That calls for a whopping big sum these days. Also with a family of your size, do you feel you have an adequate emergency savings fund — three to six months of your gross income?

Before you make any disposal of that surplus $150 a month, I suggest you talk to your insurance agent and get an up-to-the-minute analysis of your policies. Just be sure you have what you think you have, in relation to rising living costs.

Dear Miss Feeley:

My son is a part-time worker and has a savings account in his name. He inherited money from his grandfather which is in trust for him in a savings account. He cannot touch this money until he becomes 21 years of age.

I am told he does not have to pay income tax on the interest earned on this trust account. Is this correct?

E. C. L., Ft. Northport, L. I.

Dear E. C. L.:

The interest earned by the trust account your son inherited is income, even if he can't touch it now.

However, whether he has to pay income tax on that interest depends upon what his other earnings are. This year — with the new $300 standard deduction — he can have a tax-free income up to $900. If his total income is over that amount, he'll have to pay.

(You can get Mary Feeley's booklet on Building Financial Stability by writing to her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: First, let me tell you that my buttonholes (the Farmer method) are the very greatest, they are not only easy to make, but wow! What an improvement over the ones I made the way I learned to do it in high school. One problem, they seem to pull the interfacing too tight. What am I doing wrong?

MRS. V. H.

Dear Mrs. V. H.: Thanks for the compliment, I'm always delighted to hear from you readers when you have tried one of my methods and like it. I have an idea that you didn't read your instructions carefully enough. You NEVER make your buttonholes through the interfacing, it's too heavy and will certainly pull the garment front too tight.

Fold the interfacing out of the way, baste a strip of organdy on the wrong side of the fabric and make your buttonholes. After they are completed, carefully cut away the organdy from around the buttonhole. Baste the interfacing in place again.

CUT AN OBLONG

Carefully cut an oblong the size of your buttonhole through the interfacing, bring the welts through the interfacing and catch-stitch in place.

For complete, detailed Buttonhole instructions, send your request to Sew Simple, in care of this paper. Be sure to enclose a long, self-addressed envelope for this free leaflet.

SHORTEN PANTS

Here are my simple directions for shortening pre-cuffed pants:

1. Turn cuff down and with pinking shears cut off just ABOVE the line of machine stitching. Set cuff aside for later use.
2. Measure desired "in-seam" length and cut off remaining material, again with pinking shears.
3. Insert cuff inside leg and re-sew to pants, matching seam on seam, crease on crease.
4. Turn cuff up and tack at each seam to hold in place.

Mrs. Claude D. Wethall Sr., of Lake Mills, Wisc., wins this week's Tailor Trix pressing board for this suggestion.

Perk up last year's suit by adding a velveteen overblouse and then slip stitch velveteen over the back part of the suit collar.

Another new idea: If you have a Chanel suit (no collar) that buttons down the front, cut off part of the front edge so that the two fronts just meet instead of lapping. Add a heavy braid as a binding for the cut edges.

Make a jersey or double-knit overblouse the same color and you'll have the "newest look." This is one of the fun things of sewing, to be able to add new touches to your old clothes, it costs very little money and just a little time, but think of the way you'll feel with your "pepped up sit."

Dear Eunice Farmer: Much as I try, I simply can't get the shape pressed right on any suit that has the curved seam in the front over the bustline. It seems to pull and not lay flat.

Mrs. R. G.

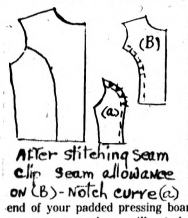
Dear Mrs. R. G.: This is a rather common problem which I've noticed among my students, so glad you brought it up so that I can explain the construction to you. These curved seams actually are the drafting of two darts. For this reason, you must press them carefully to avoid removing or shrinking out all the shape that you will need.

Note carefully the shape of the two sections of your garment front before you stitch them together. The front section has an inner curve — the side section has an outer curve. Pin the two sections together, carefully easing in the large curved section, then machine stitch.



After stitching seam clip seam allowance on (B)- Notch curve (a)

BEFORE pressing, you must clip the seam allowance almost to the stitching line on the front section (inner curve). Notch some of the excess fabric from the outer curve of the side section.

when you press this seam, keep the bust section on the end of your padded pressing board, rotate around the bust area as you press and you will not shrink out the shape that you will need for this type of construction.

There's still time to send for your copy of "Christmas Quickies to Make." Send a self-addressed, stamped long envelope and 25 cents to Sew Simple, in care of The Pontiac Press for your copy. There are ideas for every member of your family.

A marvelous blend of orlon and wool bonded jersey is this sleeveless A-line princess with a low scooped neckline outlined with soft self ruffling and a delicate string tie bow. By Sue Brett, it comes in red, black and bone in sizes 5 to 15 for about $18.

When You May Wear Mink Stole

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I have just bought myself a long - wanted mink stole. I would like to know if there are any rules concerning the proper times and places to wear it.

It is a beautiful piece and I am very proud of it. However, I want to feel right in it and not have people think I am wearing it just to show it off.

A: A mink stole is very dressy and is most suitably worn in the evening over evening, cocktail or dressy afternoon dresses.

It may also be worn in the afternoon to the theater, lunch parties, weddings and other dress-up occasions.

Q: The invitations to my wedding have already been sent out. I had planned on 200 guests at the recention and in order to keep to this number I had to omit some of my friends who I would have liked to invite.

The replies have started to come in and several of the guests have sent regrets.

I would like to invite these friends to come in their place.

Would it be proper to do so at this late date or might they feel hurt at being "second choice?"

A: No one likes to feel that he or she is second choice and I would advise you to let your guest list remain as it is rather than risk hurting the feelings of these friends by inviting them at the last minute.

Q: When invited to dine in a restaurant and a guest wishes more butter or a condiment, etc., should the guest make her wants known to her host so that he may ask the waiter for it or may the guest ask the waiter directly for it?

A: She makes her wants known to her host who in turn asks the waiter to bring whatever it is.

Boys Will Like This He-Man Bib

"He" is never too old for a bib—the turtleneck kind which comes on ski coats and knit shirts.

These manly bibs—knitted of either wool or synthetic yarn — can be quickly laundered in warm soap or detergent suds, rinsed in warm water, blotted in a towel, and spread flat to dry.

FRICKS-EISINGER

Wed recently in the First Free Methodist Church were Iris Eisinger of St. Clair Street and Richard Eugene Fricks, with Rev. Thomas Dunn officiating. Their parents are the Clarence Eisingers of Pigeon, Mrs. Jay Baker of West Chicago Avenue and Malcolm Fricks, Fort Lauderdale, Fla. A veiled royal blue satin headpiece complemented the bride's white brocade sheath dress. She held a white Bible and her corsage was a white orchid. Mrs. James Cottrill attended her sister and was hostess for the reception. Jay Baker was best man for his stepson. Charles Baker III and Louis Chanpeau ushered.

Bus Patronage Drops Slightly

Despite the auto strike and predicted adverse effects from a fare increase, bus patronage in Pontiac dipped only slightly during October.

There were 59,724 passengers on Pontiac Transit Corp. buses last month, according to Glen Crawford, manager. This compares to 78,382 patrons recorded in October 1963.

However, the total for September was 61,018 this year compared to 66,408 in September, 1963.

Revenue, reflecting the nickel increase for adult riders, was $14,167 last month compared to $14,094 in September and $17,348 in September, 1963.

For 10 months of the year, 654,591 passengers paid $149,697 to ride on Pontiac buses, compared to 702,646 passengers and $156,895 in revenue for the same period last year.

Chinese Leader Dies

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Yu Yu-jen, 86, an early comrade of Dr. Sun Yat-sen in founding China's first republic in 1912, died Tuesday. Yu, known as the grand old man of Nationalist China, had served since 1930 as president of the Control Yuan, the country's supreme watchdog body.

Princeton Grad Donates $5 Million to His University

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — A Princeton University graduate presented his alma mater with a check for $5,306,903.17 last night.

Shelby Cullom Davis, a New York investment broker, gave the check to University President Robert F. Goheen at a private dinner.

The money will be used by the university's history department, which granted Davis honors when he graduated in 1930, to support two endowed professorships, graduate fellowships, historical research and publications.

Davis has published several historical works.

His daughter Diana and her husband, John M. Spencer, attended the dinner. The money was pledged in January 1962 after a family disagreement had thwarted an earlier $3.8 million trust fund to Princeton.

DAUGHTER'S INCOME

Davis said Diana did not need the money because she had been assured an income of $30,000 a year for life, plus a gift of securities valued at $10,000.

In 1962 he announced that the disagreement had been resolved and increased his pledge to $5 million.

Davis waited until yesterday to make the presentation because it was the 100th anniversary of the birth of his father, George Henry Davis of Peoria, Ill., a judge and an 1886 graduate of Princeton.

The additional money was the result of investments made since the time of the pledge.

Davis is managing partner of Shelby Cullom Davis & Co.

Indian Summer Turns Eastern Half of U.S. Topsy-Turvy

By JOE DILL

CHICAGO (AP) — This is the season when any suburbanite worth his salt usually is moodily contemplating his snow shovel. Instead, many of them have dandelion problems.

In the eastern half of the nation, trees stubbornly clutch their leaves and flowers are blooming. Even the birds are confused.

The western United States has felt the coming winter's sting, but the mild temperatures and fair skies of Indian summer prevail from the Midwest to New England. Much of the sun-favored area also is trapped in a prolonged drought.

In Chicago, a conservationist said the balmy November weather has kept the birds from their annual sojourn.

HUGE FLOCKS

"The other day," Robert Mann said, "I saw huge flocks of blackbirds and bronzed grackles traveling east. They should have been flying south at this time of year. They seem to think it's still summertime.

"The flowers and the trees don't seem to know today is Nov. 11. Dandelions are blooming and leaves are still on buckthorn trees.

"I saw yarrow (a herb) and many varieties of aster blooming, and the golden weeping willow trees retaining their color. Not in my 73 years have I seen the willow retain its colors this late in so confusing an autumn."

Indian summer, which has no definite beginning or end on the calendar, is a short period of especially fair days and chilly nights in late October or early November.

FAVORITE GOD

The season is caused by a large mass of warm tropical air. American Indians are credited by some sources with naming Indian summer as their favorite god, Cautantowwit, god of the Southwest.

In New England and the rest of the East, temperatures have been in the pleasant 60s.

In the Midwest, the mercury has been flirting with summertime levels. The temperature reached 77 degrees Tuesday in Kansas City, Mo., one degree higher than the record for Nov. 10, set in 1927. Chicago had 72 Monday, one degree short of the record for that date.

Ohio has had readings in the 60s and 70s during the day, and nippy 40-degree readings at night. Temperatures in Iowa have been 11 degrees above normal for the past 12 days, and the Weather Bureau has forecast more of the same for at least another five.

IN INDIANA

In Indiana, Evansville had 74 degrees Tuesday. It was 72 in Indianapolis and Terre Haute, and Fort Wayne's 70 topped a 15-year-old record.

Virtually all of the eastern half of the country is caught in the drought.

CLOSED TO PUBLIC

Many wooded areas have been closed to the public in New York State. Indiana has banned camp fires in all state parks. The Iowa State Conservation Commission has urged owners of grass and timberlands not to start fires unless absolutely necessary.

Illinois officials estimate that fire has destroyed 8,800 acres of timber and grassland in the southern third of Illinois. Soil moisture is short, and pasture conditions are deteriorating.

In northern New Jersey, a woodland fire that began Labor Day is still burning, feeding on 200 acres of peat below ground. From time to time, flames shoot above the surface, bringing firemen from Saddle River and other communities on the run. Only a long, soaking rain can put out the fire, officials say.

There's little or no Indian summer in the West, but drought has plagued that area too.

BELOW FREEZING

Temperatures plunged to 10 degrees below freezing in Nevada Tuesday, hard on the heels of a prewinter storm that dumped two feet of snow on the state's upper elevations. It was Nevada's first general precipitation since July.

Utah's first snow of the season began Tuesday night. The town of Eureka reported three inches on the ground. State officials welcomed the snow. It broke a severe drought that had threatened to produce a water shortage.

A rainstorm soaked Southern California Tuesday, bringing mudslides. Heavy snow and high winds whipped across the Sierra ridges in Northern California. Intermittent heavy rain pounded valleys and coastal regions.

The Weather Bureau issued snow warnings for stockmen and motorists in sections of Utah, eastern Nevada and southeastern Idaho. Heaviest snow was in the California Sierras with the snow belt extending southward to mountain areas of Arizona and showers in most western lowland areas.

Warm moist air spread northward from Texas into the upper Mississippi Valley in advance of a storm center in the northern Plains. Clear and mild weather prevailed in the southeastern states. Temperatures continued above normal in most of the eastern half of the nation.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 22 in Houlton an Old Town, Maine, to 73 in Corpus Christi, Tex.

State Still Hit by Drought

LANSING (AP) — Drought conditions continued across most of the state, state and federal records showed Tuesday.

Stream flow continued low for the fifth consecutive month and for the 15th out of the last 16 months in October, the U.S. Geological Survey reported.

The USGS gauging station on the Red Cedar River at Michigan State University stood at 17.7 cubic feet per second—the third lowest since 1931 when records first were kept.

Although the federal-state crop reporting srvice has stopped keeping soil moisture records for the season, the level is almost certain to have fallen from the Oct. 24 report of adequate moisture, a spokesman said.

OCTOBER RAINFALL

October rainfall around the state was about 1¼ inches—about half the average, the U.S. Weather Bureau reported.

Well water levels continued to set low records, said Paul Girous, USGS hydrology engineering technician.

Most key wells around the state were about 1½ to two feet below 20-year record lows, he said.

One well in Ingham County was at a 20-year low, another in Oakland County was at an all-time low and one in Kalamazoo County went dry for the first time on record.

An index well in the Thumb area was two feet below the all-time low, a well in Clinton County dropped a foot below its 16-year record and one in Kalkaska County dropped a foot below a 26-year record.

In the western Upper Peninsula, wells were below last year's level—near the all-time lows; in the east they were above the 1963 levels, but still low.

He said the wells in the central U. P. were above average—"due to the vagaries of rainfall."

But Percentage Figure Down

Record Number Cast Ballots

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A record number of Americans cast ballots in the 1964 presidential election, but the percentage of the turnout fell below both the forecasts and the previous high.

On the basis of nearly complete returns from the 50 states and the District of Columbia, 69,007,217 persons voted for either President Johnson or Sen. Barry Goldwater in the Nov. 3 election.

That figure, which will be enlarged by official canvass returns and the addition of minor party votes, broke the previous record turnout of 68,838,979 in 1960.

However, the additional votes that will be reported are not likely to push the voting percentage over the record set four years ago. In the 1960 election, 63.1 per cent of the 109 million Americans of voting age cast their ballots.

This year, 60.6 per cent of the estimated 113.9 million Americans of voting age turned out for the Goldwater-Johnson race. That percentage may rise somewhat when all the returns are in, but not higher than the record set in 1960.

PROJECTED FIGURE

If the 1960 percentage had been reached this year, nearly 72 million persons would have gone to the polls. However, recent election trends, which showed smaller turnout percentages when one of the candidates already is in the White House, were borne out by the 1964 voting.

This year's turnout was close to the 1956 percentage of 60.4 when President Dwight D. Eisenhower ran for reelection. The 1952 turnout, when neither candidate was the incumbent, hit 62.7.

Voting-age population is only a rough estimate of the actual number of eligible voters in the country. It includes everyone aged 21 and older — and down to lower voting ages in four states, but does not attempt to exclude resident aliens, persons who have not met registration, residence or other voting requirements or those who have lost their voting rights, such as felons.

However, it is the standard applied to calculate the national voter turnout because the states have no common system of reporting the actual number of eligible voters.

UTAH WAS TOPS

Using the voting-age measure, Utah wins the 1964 title for the best turnout. The state cast 401,811 votes for either Johnson or Goldwater, a turnout of 77 per cent of its voting age population. Minnesota was close behind with a 76.3 per cent turnout.

Mississippi, which cast 412,756 votes with a voting-age population of 1,243,000, had the lowest turnout, 33.2 per cent. Alabama's 34.1 per cent turnout was next lowest.

Curtain Rising on Steel Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The steelworkers are on the move again, preparing to take a new look at contracts in the basic steel industry.

The curtain is going up on a many-sided drama that — judging from past experience — may extend to the White House and could jab deep into the nation's economic heart.

The executive board of the United Steelworkers Union met Tuesday and announced it would call together its powerful wage policy committee around the first of December.

The committee calls the shots on contract dealings with the companies. Basic steel contracts can be reopened January 1 and the union would be free to strike May 1 if no agreement is reached.

The rewriting of basic steel contracts inevitably raises the possibility of a steel price increase. Even now, there are pressures within the industry to boost prices.

President Johnson made it known a few days before the election that he would frown on a steel price increase as inflationary.

All this comes in the midst of an internal struggle for control of the million-member USW. A conflict within the union leadership could hurt the chances of an early and peaceful contract settlement.

The union has not indicated what it will shoot for in negotiations. USW President David J. McDonald said awhile back he was thinking in terms of "total job security" for steelworkers.

After Tuesday's board meeting, McDonald said he would call a meeting next week of local union people from 11 steel companies.

"The purpose of this meeting will be to obtain from the representatives of the local union their views as to the problems which the union must give to the different needs of our members," McDonald said.

McDonald is opposed for reelection by USW Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel in balloting Feb. 12. It's the first real test McDonald has had to face in the 12 years he has served as president.

Abel has the backing of three district directors.

Another element in the overall picture is the influence contract maneuvering will have on steel demand; and in turn, on production. In the past, uncertainty in labor relations has boosted production out of fear of a strike.

Steel buying for strike protection — if it comes at all — possibly will start out slower than in previous years because the current contract provides for a 120-day negotiation period, the longest ever.

High Toll Due to Weekends

EAST LANSING (AP)—Weekend fatalities are responsible in large part for Michigan's climbing traffic death toll, State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs reports.

Tolls for the 54-hour weekend periods are averaging four more than they did in 1961 and 1962, he said, and two more than last year.

This year's average—pushing the state toward an all-time high—has been 18.6 deaths in the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday, he said. Last year's average was 16.7, and the 1961-62 average was 14.1.

Out of 191 weekends involved, 45 had 20 deaths or more, and 26 had less than 10—but no weekend this year has had less than 11, he said. The weekends varied from a low of four in February and March of 1961, 1962 and 1963, to a high of 36 last July 4.

Aussie Trademark Is Now Imported

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Australia is importing boomerangs from Japan and postcards of Australian cities from West Germany — all for sale here as souvenirs.

Sen. Sir Walter Cooper asked Customs Minister Kenneth Anderson in the Senate if anything could be done about this.

Sen. Anderson said no, providing the country of origin was clearly marked and normal customs duty was paid.

Just about every visitor to Australia buys at least one boomerang, the ancient throwing weapon of the native aborigines.

Careless Smoker Said Cause of Fire in Pontiac

Pontiac fire fighters were called to a 1½-story two-family frame house at 28 Hartung early this morning to extinguish a blaze caused, according to firemen, by careless smoking.

The fire, which caused about $2,000 damage to the building and contents, started in a sofa bed in the downstairs dining room, fire officials said.

Firemen Edward Hunter was injured slightly when he cut his hand on broken glass, while crawling into the burning room. He remained on duty after treatment.

Walter Jenkins Released From D.C. Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Jenkins, former chief aide to President Johnson, has been released from George Washington University Hospital, a hospital spokesman said last night.

Jenkins was admitted to the hospital Oct. 14 with what his physician, Dr. Charles Thompson, described as "insomnia, tensions and agitation."

That same day it became known that Jenkins had been arrested twice on morals charges — in 1959 and on last Oct. 7.

The President requested and received the resignation of his assistant of 25 years.

Last night, Thompson said Jenkins had undergone surgery while at the hospital for a calcium deposit in his right shoulder.

The onetime White House assistant left the hospital Monday and was reported resting at his home. He is "doing very well," Thompson said.

County Panel Report

Expect Bargaining on Teacher Issues

Oakland County school boards can expect in the next few years to be negotiating wages, hours and working conditions with teacher organizations.

This was the consensus of a panel of Oakland County School Boards Association members after a meeting last night at Rochester Senior High School.

All school boards will be resolving differences with teachers in a manner similar to the union-company approach in industry.

George Coombe, vice president of the Birmingham school board, said proposals requiring school boards to mediate with representatives of teacher groups are now being studied by legislative education committees.

Presently, a school board may but is not required, to recognize a teacher organization as the faculty's sole bargaining agent.

INCREASED RIVALRY

Across the nation there has been increased rivalry between the two principal teacher organizations, the American Federation of Teachers (AFT) and the National Education Association (NEA).

The two groups have often sought to gain sole bargaining rights.

Another panel participant, Leland Clifford, Farmington board president, cited the positions of the AFT and NEA.

Both groups have as their objective better standards for teachers through signed agreements.

TOP MANAGEMENT

He said that the federation recognizes the school superintendent as top management.

While the AFT believes in mediation and arbitration, the NEA prefers going through administrative channels in teacher-school board negotiations.

The ultimate weapon of the NEA is sanctions or a job embargo, said Clifford. If this means teachers are encouraged not to sign contracts or withhold their teaching.

Meanwhile, the AFT favors strike action.

SALARY DISPUTE

In imposing sanctions, the NEA never uses sanctions when salary alone is the issue in dispute, added Clifford.

Panel member Richard Condit, Southfield trustee, warned that it is not the prerogative of a school board to delegate to a mediation panel any portion of its legal responsibility for managing a school district.

Coombe replied that the school board in no case could grant more than it has to spend in answering teacher salary demands.

"The board is not the final point of reference," he said. "The voters who approve or disapprove the (operating) millage are the final authority."

Wilson's Funny Man Poll Won by Red by a (S)Mile

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Red Skelton's the winner—by an LBJslide—of the 1964 "Top Banana election."

Jackie Gleason and Charlie Chaplin finished in an approximate tie for second place in the "Greatest Comedian" poll conducted by this column.

WILSON

It was difficult to count the votes, because whole families mailed in letters, signed by fathers, mothers and children (one listed as only 5 months old!), voting for Skelton whose sweep seemed about 2-to-1.

"Red Skelton is the most humble man; he can make me cry as well as laugh; may God bless him always" — this letter from Mrs. P. K. Smith of Princeton, Ind., was typical.

Our prattfall poll showed that old-fashioned slapstick is still No. 1 with the masses. So-called intellectual comics got almost no votes. But Soupy Sales polled some write-ins.

"Jackie Gleason tells a story better than anybody living," wrote Hank Samuels of Dallas . . . "Chaplin probes far deeper than any other; he is not merely or mainly a funnyman; that's why his appeal is universal," said Francis R. Erville of New York City.

Bob Hope was the choice for stand-up monologist . . . Peter Sellers was termed the most versatile talent by younger readers (for example, Sallie Carter Tyler, a student of Centenary College, Hackettstown, N.J.).

"What about Mort Sahl?" asked the whole Glassman family of Brooklyn.

"Who will forget his joke about the Presidential candidate who, he said, should be everybody's favorite, because 'if you don't like what he says one day, you can be sure he'll change it the next'?"

NY Search On for Sex Sadist

7 Women Attacked in Area of Brooklyn

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police reinforcements, including women detectives, searched today for a sex sadist who assaulted seven women in as many weeks in a fearful Brooklyn neighborhood.

Authorities were certain the series of attacks, the latest Monday night, were committed by the same man. They looked for a slim, nattily dressed man with a pencil-thin mustache.

At least 25 suspects were questioned yesterday as police sought to apprehend the rapist who has turned the Crown Heights area into a place of terror for the second time in several months. Last summer a wave of violent crime erupted in the area, climaxed by the rape-slaying of a schoolteacher.

That series of crimes resulted in the formation of the Maccabees, a voluntary anticrime patrol which cruises the streets nightly in radio-equipped cars.

A 38-year-old widowed businesswoman was the latest victim of the rapist. She left her apartment only momentarily to deposit garbage in an incinerator but the assailant slipped into her bedroom while she was out.

VIOLENT STRUGGLE

The woman was menaced with a knife, beaten and finally raped during a violent struggle in which she screamed continuously. Neighbors, alerted by the screams, called police but the man escaped before they arrived.

Most of the rapes have occurred during daylight hours. The attacker apparently has no aversion to assaulting women in the presence of their children. All of the victims were beaten and most were robbed.

EMERGENCY CALLS

As a help in crime detection and prevention, the city yesterday established a single telephone number which can be used for police emergency calls from any part of the city.

INSPECTS SCULPTURE — Joseph Gargan, a cousin of the late President John F. Kennedy, looks at a bronze bust of the president in Boston yesterday. The 200-pound bust is the work of Charles Bonney (right), a 20-year-old Arizona State College student. Bonney started work on the campus at Flagstaff soon after he heard the news of the Kennedy assassination. Since then he has worked at odd jobs, gone into debt and begged for funds to help him attain a dream. Bonney hopes to have his art work accepted by the trustees of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library.

If U. S.-Algerian Ties Improve

Ben Bella Would Like to Visit LBJ

ALGIERS (AP) — Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella says he would like to visit President Johnson if relations between their governments improve to the point where such a trip would be useful.

"Why not?" he said when asked in an interview if he planned to visit Washington.

"There is no animosity in our relations," he said, "but they are not what we would like them to be."

Ben Bella added that if he went to Washington, he "would like to go for a purpose." He did not elaborate.

The Algerian president was interviewed in his apartment just off the Avenue Franklin D. Roosevelt. European furniture and heavy red Algerian rugs furnished the oblong living room, and peppermint tea was served.

Ben Bella said he considered Johnson's election a "good thing."

"All countries applaud it," he said. "It showed the American political system was in good health."

But he said he would like to see several American policy positions changed. He cited U.S. policy toward the Congo, Cuba and Viet Nam.

"It is bad to support Tshombe," he declared. "Under him the whole Congo becomes a Katanga. Tshombe is the worst of solutions. All Africans feel this way about him and about American support for him."

Ben Bella expressed hope that the United States would "find a way of normalizing the situation" in Cuba and Viet Nam.

In reply to a question, he said Algeria leans toward the Soviet Union and the Socialist countries because he feels their foreign policies more nearly suit his country. Again he mentioned the Congo, Cuba and Viet Nam.

"Nevertheless we have kept our independent position," he said, "not only regarding America, but regarding China and Russia as well."

He said Algeria had praised the American effort in working out the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

"There is no systematic animosity in Algeria toward America," he insisted.

Ben Bella said Algeria would continue to support African independence movements, particularly in the Portuguese territories of Angola, Mozambique and Portuguese Guinea.

Is This a Record?

2 Families Claim 10 Military Veterans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many proud American families, from the Thompsons of Minnesota to the Coynes and Zygmunts of Pennsylvania, have posted claims to the most-in-military service record by a single family.

The Veterans Administration, in advance of Veterans Day today, had wondered aloud if the Kjera family, originally from Minnesota, held some sort of record with its seven brothers who saw military service during World War II.

The VA did not specify if by record it meant number of family members who served in the military simultaneously or the family with the most World War II veterans.

More than a dozen families came forth with at least seven members in service during the past 25 years.

10 VETERANS

At least two — the Thompsons of Lawler, Minn., and the Vaughts of Crawfordsville, Ind. — had 10 veterans of military service in the family.

Nine of the 12 Thompson brothers, sons of Helen Thompson who still lives in the Lawler area, served during World War II. A 10th entered military service right after the war. All survived. All but one still live in Minnesota.

Ten of the 11 Vaught brothers served a total of nearly 50 years in the armed services — seven during World War II, one in Korea and two in the National Guard. The 11th brother tried to enlist several times but was turned down for health reasons.

A St. Louis widow, Marie Young, boasts nine sons with military records starting in World War II. Four served in the Navy, three in the Army and two in the Marines.

SAW COMBAT

Seven Collins brothers from Boonville, Ind., saw combat during World War II. Two other brothers joined up after the war.

At least one of the families that boasts seven veterans — the Sobkowiaks of Onalaska, Wis. — may make it eight within a few years.

Annette Sobkowiak, 15, is thinking of joining the Women's Marine Corps when she is old enough. Of her seven brothers with military records, three are currently on active duty with the Marines.

Two daughters are among the seven veterans of the Goodman family of Cumberland, Md. The girls were Air Corps nurses during World War II. Two of their brothers were in the Army, and one each was in the Air Corps, the Marines and the Seabees.

Seven brothers of the William Henry Bleak family of Shelley, Idaho, all served in the military. Their father, who died in 1952, was an Army blacksmith during World War I.

Mrs. Ray C. Herdman, whose seven sons served during World War II, tried to find a seven-star flag. She finally got one through her congressman from Valley Forge, Pa.

At least two cities — Springfield, Mass., and Scranton, Pa. — had more than one family with seven sons who served in World War II. They are the Anthony Potitols of Longmeadow, the Steven Schmuras of Ludlow and the Michael Soplops of East Longmeadow—all in the Springfield area—and the John Coynes and Martin Zygmunts of Scranton.

The Givens family of Panama City, Fla., had seven sons in the Navy during World War II. An eighth served in the Merchant Marine.

Seven sons of the Charles Yust family of Seneca, Mo., served during World War II, as did seven sons of the Lussier family of Fall River, Mass. The Savage family of Waukegan, Ill., produced six brothers who served during World War II and a seventh who was killed later while serving in the Air Force.

Seven of the nine Bryant brothers of Durham, N. C., served overseas during World War II. An eighth brother was rejected for service because of poor health, and the ninth died before the war.

As for sons of the Andrew Kjeras of Pope County, Minn., four served in the Army, two in the Navy and one in the Air Corps. Each served at least three years, and six — all of whom are still living — served overseas.

FAILED TO MEET

They did not meet during their military service, although two of them — Ingvald and Harvey — were within 2,000 feet of each other on Guadalcanal without knowing it.

U.S. Needs World Market for Farmers, Says Romney

EAST LANSING (AP) — The United States must develop a world market for its farm products to help U.S. farmers and the hungry of other nations, Gov. George Romney said today.

"Most people still go to bed hungry. They cannot understand our surpluses in face of their dire need," Romney said in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

"International economic pioneers" are needed to shape a world market which will help the United States balance its food supply and demand, and help the poorer nations buy food, the governor said.

"This achievement will take a greater degree of effort on the part of farmers, farm organizations, industry and government at all levels than has yet been seriously discussed," Romney said.

BASIC PROBLEM

"To some extent," he added, "the basic problem of American agriculture . . . exists because we have been leaving the job to Washington."

Romney said agriculture's greatest need "is for creative, industrywide efforts to balance supply with demand—to adjust the flow of farm products to market, in years of over production.

"This is a need which no amount of federal tinkering can meet, short of total, iron control by Washington—which is something neither you nor I are willing to see happen," Romney said.

The governor said "there is tragic irony in the fact that American farmers, who have laid the foundation for our society of abundance, have not shared proportionately and equitably in its benefits.

PAY OUT PROFITS

"There are plenty of farmers in this state who pay their hired man more than they make themselves," he said.

The Farm Bureau meeting opened Tuesday with a speech by its president, Walter Wightman. Small groups discussed various different farm products in the afternoon session.

Following Romney's speech today, the 2,000 farmers at the meeting planned to begin debate on proposed resolutions.

$626,315 in Loans for State Collegians

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority guaranteed $626,315 in loans to college students during the first three months of this fiscal year—more than in all of 1963.

This was the total for 790 loans to 1,032 students who applied, said Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn Bartlett, chairman of the authority.

He said it boosted the total of loans outstanding to $1,429,366 for 1,974 recipients.

Georgia Medal of Honor Winner Shuns Veterans Day Spotlight

SYLVANIA, Ga. (AP) — A Medal of Honor winner credited with killing 52 Japanese soldiers had some farm chores to perform today before he could celebrate Veterans Day.

John Randolph McKinney, 43, said he hoped to finish a corn gathering job and take off for the woods deer hunting.

McKinney, one of Georgia's six Medal of Honor winners, shuns parades and ceremonies.

More than 19 years have passed since President Harry S. Truman presented the Medal of Honor to McKinney. When the Georgian came home he was invited to many military functions but he shunned most of them. He said he wanted to forget the war. He fought in the Philippines and in New Guinea.

WORKS AS FARMHAND

The Georgian works 9 to 15 hours daily as a farmhand on a 400-acre tract his cousin, J. W. McKinney, operates on a share-cropping system.

He has never married. He said a wife would have to hunt and fish with him and, "I have not found anyone who would have me."

McKinney is one of four brothers who saw service in the armed forces. He attended school here and was drafted Nov. 23, 1942. He went overseas with Co. A, 123rd Infantry, 33rd Division.

The action that won him the nation's highest award occurred in Tayabase Province on Luzon in the Philippines on May 11, 1945.

GUARDING POST

McKinney was guarding a machine gun position with two infantrymen. He was resting near the gun position, after a turn on duty, when a Japanese soldier dashed up and slashed at him with a saber.

Dazed and angered by the blow that nearly severed his left ear, McKinney bludgeoned his attacker with his rifle and shot another Japanese who was advancing on him. One of his comrades was wounded and the third soldier manning the machine gun withdrew, carrying the wounded GI with him, the official citation said.

Ten Japanese infantrymen captured the American machine gun.

Leaping into the gun emplacement, McKinney shot seven of them and beat three others to death with the butt of his rifle.

The citation says McKinney shifted his position often, reloaded his rifle repeatedly and cut down more attackers.

When assistance arrived, bodies of 38 enemy soldiers were sprawled about the gun.

Many of them had been fatally wounded by the butt of McKinney's rifle. At a mortar position 45 yards from where the attack started, bodies of two other Japanese were found.

Before McKinney was sent to the Philippines, he was credited with a dozen enemy dead in New Guinea.

His Medal of Honor rests in a trunk at the home of his parents, along with the official citation, the Bronze Star medal, Good Conduct medal and the Purple Heart. The latter has five oak leaf clusters, meaning he was wounded in action six times.

On his return home, Sylvania citizens presented him with $1,600 as an appreciation gift. He spent the money for a farm truck.

Congress recently approved a $100-per-month allowance for McKinney. The Georgia farm hand says he can use the money.

There were 13,993 banks in the nation last year handling general domestic deposits.

Looking Confidently to Future

Brazil Has a Better Image Since Coup

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) —Brazil today, seven months after a nearly bloodless revolution ousted Joao Goulart and his pro-leftist government, looks confidently to the future—more so than in years.

Under the guidance of President Humberto Castello Branco, Brazil's image at home and abroad has become more impressive.

The resolution abruptly ended a Communist threat to take over the nation.

It ended rabble-rousing and flash strikes that menaced industry, communications and transport.

PRICE SPIRAL

It also ended a round of arbitrary pay increases that ranged as high as 100 per cent and which together with skyrocketing prices threatened to blow the top out of the nation's inflation.

Pay increases now are more orderly. Price increases are regulated. But inflation still is at a dizzy pace. The cruzeiro is at the almost all-time high of 1,700 to the U.S. dollar after having steadied temporarily at 1,200 immediately after the revolution. Two years ago it was 600 to the dollar.

Finance Minister Otavio Gouveia de Bulhoes has optimistically set next June as target date for checking the galloping inflation and stabilizing the economy.

For the government, it is still a time for massive financial assistance.

NEEDS $1 BILLION

Roberto Campos, economic planning minister, back from a money-hunting mission in Washington, said that Brazil needs a billion dollars to meet the deficit in its balance of payments in 1965 and 1966. More aid will be needed to grease the machinery of development necessary for the firm future of this nation whose population in less than a decade will total 100 million.

For the average Brazilian, it is still very much a time for belt tightening in the face of mounting prices for food, clothing and shelter.

But prospects for help are brighter than they were while Goulart's leftist anti-Alliance for Progress administration frightened foreign investments. Alliance for Progress aid has increased sharply since the revolution. Foreign investment interest has revived.

Roberto Campos' Washington trip set what is generally considered to be a favorable ground work for aid discussions that continue here with arrival of an International Monetary Fund mission, and, later this month, with arrival of a special mission from the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Campos says Brazil will endeavor during these discussions to obtain enough to cover its 1965 and 1966 deficits. Efforts will be made to get aid not only from the United States, but also from international credit agencies, from European governments and from Japan.

Oven Cleaner to Cake—It's All New

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

New products appear on the grocery store shelves almost faster then we can keep track of them.

One — an oven cleaner — we saw demonstrated in New York at the food editors' conference. This spray cleaner is used on a warm oven. It is effective, if we believe what we saw, and is kind to hands.

You'll like the pale yellow plastic container for cornstarch. The screw top is wide enough to admit a spoon and can be pierced if you want a shaker can.

Two companies are now making a chocolate flavored product that takes the place of a square of melted unsweetened chocolate. It comes in semi liquid form in a little packet.

PIE FILLINGS

The newest pudding and pie filling is banana flavored. Another new pie filling, made by a national concern, uses artificial sweetener with the fruit. This will please the weight conscious.

The popcorn you prepare in its foil pan may now be had with butter flavor built in. Sounds good for camping and hiking use as well as home use.

No need to fret over what seasonings go into beef stew. There's a new mix to be used just for that purpose. Soon, the cook will need a file for all the mixes she keeps.

FROZEN IN BUTTER

New frozen vegetables include spinach and carrots in butter sauce which are cook-in-the-pouch foods. Another vegetable put out by the same company is a carton of mushrooms in butter sauce. These have to be removed from the pouch for sauteing.

A pair of muffin mixes will put interesting hot breads on your table.

Honey bran muffins are modern versions of an old favorite. Cranberry muffins are a new idea. Try this recipe with the honey bran muffins.

Cherry Surprise Muffins

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Prepare muffins as directed on package of honey bran muffin mix except — place scant teaspoonful of cherry preserves on top of each unbaked muffin. Bake 15 to 20 minutes. Drizzle quick icing (below) on top of warm muffins. Makes 16 medium muffins.

Quick Icing: Blend ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar and 2 teaspoons milk.

Climaxing a meal and our story is the new Washington Square cherry fudge cake mix. The unusual combination of chocolate and cherry creates a new dessert. There's frosting of the same flavor too.

After you've tried the cake, get a second package and make these cookies.

Cherry Fudge Crinkles

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Blend 2 eggs and ⅔ cup shortening in mixer bowl. Add approximately ½ package cherry fudge cake mix. Beat thoroughly on medium speed until light and fluffy. Add remaining cake mix. Blend on low speed, scraping bowl often.

Form into balls the size of a walnut. Bake on ungreased baking sheet 10 to 12 minutes. Cookie will rise, then settle back down but will be soft in center when done. Allow to cool on baking sheet 1 to 2 minutes before removing.

Prepare cherry fudge frosting mix as directed on package and frost bottoms of cookies. Decorate with raisins, red cinnamon candies, nonpareils or candy corn, if desired. Or make "sandwich" cookies by putting 2 cookies together with frosting as filling.

Nutty Topping

Turn out a molded gelatin salad as usual. Then spread top with mayonnaise and sprinkle with chopped California walnuts for a festive look.

Curry Tuna for Luncheon

A touch of curry adds flavor interest, and canned tuna adds convenience in this recipe for Curried Tuna.

Saute a small chopped onion in the oil drained from 2 cans of tuna. Add undiluted canned condensed cream of chicken soup, two teaspoons bottled lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon ginger and enough curry powder to suit your taste. Break tuna into bite size pieces and mix lightly. Heat. Serve over hot cooked rice.

Offer curry accompaniments such as chutney, chopped peanuts, coconut, crumbled crisply cooked bacon, chopped hard cooked eggs and sliced green onions.

Frost Cookies to Duplicate Chocolate

Frosted cookies yield double chocolate flavor.

Chocolate Rocks

¾ cup cake flour
¼ teaspoon baking soda
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
½ cup sour cream
1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate, melted

On waxed paper, stir together the flour, soda and salt. In a small mixing bowl, stir together the sugar and sour cream. Add flour mixture; stir to blend.

Add melted chocolate; stir to blend; mixture will be sticky. Drop by level tablespoonfuls, about 1 inch apart, on a buttered cookie sheet.

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 18 minutes. Cover with chocolate frosting and serve fresh. Makes about 1½ dozen.

Good recipe to use when there's a little leftover commercially soured cream.

Canned Peas Give Color to a Salad

Green peas and chives add to a salad from turkey leftovers.

Different Turkey Salad

2¼ cups diced cooked turkey
½ cup well drained canned green peas (small variety)
½ cup finely diced green pepper
1 tablespoon minced chives
¼ cup mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste
Salad greens and sliced tomatoes

Toss together the turkey, peas, green pepper, chives, mayonnaise and salt and pepper. Cover and chill for a few hours or longer to allow flavors to blend. Serve on salad greens; garnish with tomatoes. Makes 4 servings.

Chicken Livers Star With Fruit

Hungry folks at your supper table will enjoy this flavorful dish. It makes an appetizing main dish for Saturday or Sunday brunch too. Or made up in two or more large serving dishes it is perfect for buffet meals. Or prepare it for a guest luncheon or the evening meal for the family. Hearty, delicious, it is flavored with herbs, garlic and onion.

Chicken Livers with Apple Rings

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 garlic cloves, peeled and slashed
½ cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped apple
2 lbs. chicken livers
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
1 teaspoon oregano
Dash Tabasco
1 can (3-oz.) sliced, broiled mushrooms
1 can (10¾-oz.) mushroom gravy
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
2 large red apples
Flour
Cinnamon-sugar

Melt butter or margarine in skillet. Add garlic cloves, onion and chopped apple. Cook gently over low heat until soft and golden brown. Remove garlic cloves.

Add chicken livers, salt, pepper, oregano and Tabasco. Cook over low heat, turning frequently until chicken livers are cooked to desired degree of doneness. Add mushrooms, with their broth, and gravy. Simmer gently about 15 minutes.

Meanwhile heat oil in another skillet. Core unpeeled apples; slice crosswise; dust lightly with flour and brown on both sides in oil. Drain; sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar. Serve with chicken livers on fluffy rice. Makes 8 servings.

CHICKEN LIVERS WITH APPLE RINGS — You can buy packages of frozen chicken livers for this dish. It's the sort of thing you serve for Sunday night supper or even a brunch. Fried apple rings dress it up.

Hint of Orange Subtle Flavor for Cookies

You may want to serve these cookies after a meeting.

Sweet Orange Cookies

2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon each baking soda and cream of tartar
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ pound butter or margarine
1½ cups sifted confectioners sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg

Sift together the flour, baking soda, cream of tartar and salt. Cream butter and sugar with orange rind and vanilla. Add egg and beat to blend. Gradually stir in sifted dry ingredients until blended.

Drop by level tablespoonfuls, a few inches apart, onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until lightly browned — 10 to 13 minutes. Cool on wire racks.

Store in tightly covered container. Makes about 4 dozen.

Coffee Gelatin Is Smooth Tasting

We find that this dessert, in any of its versions, is popular.

Molded Coffee Dessert

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons plus ¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons instant coffee
2 eggs, separated
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon almond extract

In a medium saucepan, stir together the gelatin, the 2 tablespoons sugar and coffee. Gradually beat milk into egg yolks to blend; stir into gelatin mixture.

Over low heat, cook and stir constantly until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly — 3 to 5 minutes. Stir in almond extract. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon.

Beat egg whites until they hold soft peaks; gradually adding the ¼ cup sugar, continue beating until extremely stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture. Turn into a 4-cup mold. Chill until set.

Serve with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Simmer Vegetables Then Add Tuna to Stew

Fishermen have many singular superstitions and customs which originated centuries back.

Among Baltic fisherfolk, if someone sneezed on the first day of the year, it signified good fishing for that season.

In Dieppe, the mariners never referred to rabbits when on their ships, and seafarers of many nationalities still believe to this day that whistling on board brings bad luck.

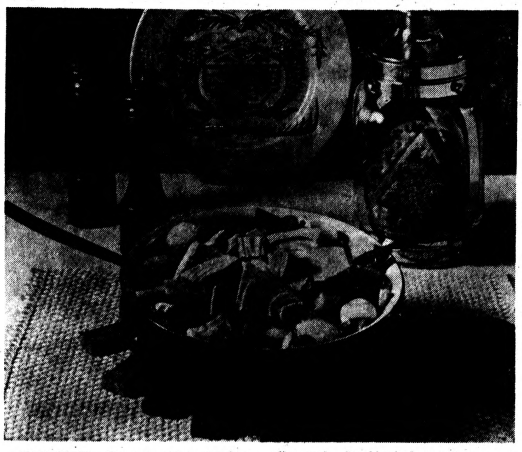
Whatever the beliefs, it is these stalwart men, sailing all the seas, who face the often dangerous task of bringing in the fish . . . such as the mighty and popular tuna . . . for our enjoyment and nourishment.

Tuna is indeed a top favorite with meal-planners, for it's an excellent high protein source at low cost. With its fine blend of seasonings and tender vegetables, this satisfying tuna stew is perfect deliciousness to come home to . . . anytime, anywhere!

Fishermen's Tuna Stew

4 potatoes, pared and cut in large cubes
3 carrots, cut in 1-inch pieces
1 cup sliced celery (1-inch pieces)
1½ cups tomato juice
¾ cup water
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
Dash pepper
1 large onion, cut in wedges
1 medium green pepper, cut in 1-inch pieces
½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1 tablespoon capers
3 cans (6½ to 7 ounces each) tuna, drained and flaked

Combine potatoes, carrots, celery, tomato juice, water and seasonings in Dutch oven or large sauce pot. Bring to boil; reduce heat. Simmer covered 10 to 15 minutes or until vegetables are almost tender. Add onion, green pepper, olives and capers. Cook 10 minutes longer or until all vegetables are tender. Add tuna; heat to serving temperature.



TUNA STEW — Tuna goes into a tempting stew with tender vegetables, pimiento-stuffed olives and a fine blend of seasonings . . . a mighty inviting dish.

Blender Emulsifies Mayonnaise

Here's how to make mayonnaise in an electric blender; cooks have asked for the rule.

Jigtime Mayonnaise

1 large egg
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup olive oil
¾ cup salad oil
2 teaspoons prepared mustard

Turn the egg, vinegar, salt, pepper, dry mustard and olive oil into electric blender container; cover. Blend about 5 seconds.

In a slow steady stream, pour in the salad oil so it hits blender blades and is worked in immediately; if any oil shows at sides, stop blender and fold in. Blend in prepared mustard. Makes about 1¼ cups. Refrigerate in covered jar.

Sesame Pastry Is Olive Filled

Delectable little "Sesame Olive Pastries" filled with a harmonious mixture of ripe olives, cheese, mayonnaise and Worcestershire are hors d'oeuvres de luxe sprinkled with sesame seed.

Whether in appetizers, cream sauces or relish dishes or skewered on toothpicks, ripe olives are a prime candidate for attractive appearance, interesting texture and agreeable flavor.

Sesame Olive Pastries

1 cup grated American cheese
1 cup grated American cheese
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
½ teaspoon Worcestershire
1 stick pastry mix
1 egg
Sesame seed

Cut olives into small pieces; blend with cheese, mayonnaise and Worcestershire. Prepare pastry as package directs.

Roll into 14x9-inch rectangle; cut into 3 strips 3 inches wide. Spread olive mixture down center of each strip. Beat egg lightly; use a little to moisten edges of strips.

Fold pastry over filling; lap edges slightly and pinch together. Place on baking sheet lapped-sides down; brush tops with egg and sprinkle with sesame seed. Prick tops.

Bake in 400-degree (hot) oven about 15 minutes. Cut into small slices to serve. Makes about 3 dozen hors d'oeuvres.

Basic Recipe Is Variable

Piping hot muffins are a delightful breakfast surprise on chilly mornings. Everyone likes plain muffins, but vary the basic recipe occasionally for a change.

Stir raisins, pineapple tidbits, chopped dried apricots or coconut into the dry ingredients before adding liquid. Or try this — stir chopped nuts into the dry ingredients, mix as directed and sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar just before baking.

Making gravy for roast lamb? Try adding a little thyme for compatible seasoning.

Most cooks like to trim the excess fat from the outside of beef short ribs before braising.

A little cole slaw leftover? Use it with sliced cold meat for luncheon sandwiches.

Guess what happened to Libby's world-famous Pumpkin Pie Recipe?

Ladies... our pumpkin labels have carried this wonderful pie recipe for years. After printing some new labels recently, we discovered a typographical error—¼ cup sugar was called for . . . it should be ¾ cup sugar. Please remember to make this change if you happen to get one of the few incorrect recipe labels (on the large "two pie" can) that got away from us.

Mary Hale Martin

This Thanksgiving, millions will enjoy Libby's Pumpkin . . . so good it far outsells any other brand. And they'll love, as usual, our all-time favorite Pumpkin Pie recipe (particularly if they use 3/4 cup of sugar for each pie).

Cranberry Sauce Tops Pot Roast During Baking

When the family brings home the appetites of lumberjacks, the menu should feature a hearty cut of meat where seconds and even thirds can be called for.

With beef supplies plentiful, the heel of round or a rolled rump pot-roast fits this bill of fare perfectly, states Reba Staggs, widely known meat authority.

Both cuts come from the hindquarter, the section known as the round or rump. Both cuts are easy to carve. A beef heel of round is a wedge-shaped cut from the lower part of the round. It has little fat and is considered less tender and should be braised as a pot-roast.

Cranberry Pot-Roast

- 3 to 4-pound beef heel of round or rolled rump pot-roast
- ¼ cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1 cup cranberries
- 1¼ cups water
- 8 whole cloves
- 2 sticks cinnamon
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- Flour for gravy, if desired

Mix flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat in seasoned flour. Brown in lard or drippings.

Boil together cranberries with 1 cup water until skins pop. Pour over meat and add remaining ¼ cup water with cloves and cinnamon sticks. Cover tightly and cook slowly 3½ to 4 hours or until tender.

Remove meat and strain liquid.

Add sugar and thicken cooking liquid with flour for gravy, if desired. 6 to 8 servings.

Marinate Chicken in Soy Mixture

A Chinese-type marinade yields great flavor to chicken.

Baked Chicken Teriyaki

- 1 broiler-fryer, cut up
- ¼ cup each soy sauce and lemon juice
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger

Wash and dry chicken. Stir together the remaining ingredients until sugar is dissolved; pour over chicken in a shallow container; allow to stand at room temperature for about 1 hour, turning often.

Remove chicken from marinade and place in a shallow foil-lined baking pan into which pieces just fit in one layer. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until tender—about 45 to 60 minutes — turning as necessary and basting with the marinade.

Makes 4 servings.

Roll Up Flank Steak With Pork Sausage

Score 1 flank steak, by cutting just through the top of the meat at 1-inch intervals — cut both ways so the scoring forms diamonds. Turn meat so scored side is on bottom.

Shape 1 pound bulk pork sausage into a cylinder as long as the flank steak, and place sausage on unscored side of flank steak. Roll steak around sausage. Use skewers or tie with cord to hold flank steak around meat.

Place steak in baking pan and add 2 cups tomatoes, 2 bay leaves and ½ cup chopped onion. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake at 300 degrees F. until tender, about 1½ hours. Remove meat and thicken with flour for gravy.

It's Chutney for Dinner

It's the little "extras" that make the memorable holiday dinner. Apple Chutney, for instance, accompanies a variety of meats to perfection, and especially with its flavor highlighted by mellow unsulphured molasses.

Combine in a saucepan 1 can (20 ounces) apple slices, ½ cup each of raisins and unsulphured molasses, ¼ cup vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon each of ginger and dry mustard, and 1 tablespoon curry powder. Bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes.

Serve hot or cold. Yield: 3 cups.

Never at a Loss for Menu Ideas

Canned foods are the cook's best friend. Already prepared for you, canned foods need no special storage and are ready to use at a moment's notice. Here are some jiffy main dish combinations done with the aid of canned favorites:

Canned chili con carne spooned atop corn bread squares; canned sliced apples with fried sausage.

Canned ravioli sprinkled with grated Parmesan cheese and chopped parsley.

Broiled canned sardines on buttered toast with broiled tomatoes, garnished with lemon wedges.

Some good cooks like to use lamb kidneys in beef and kidney pie.

Tuna Rice Is Molded

Here's a delicious tuna recipe that's as thrifty as it is tasty. Tuna-Rice Turn-Out is a simple main dish mold that the whole family will go for.

Combine 2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces) tuna in vegetable oil, 3 cups cooked rice, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon thyme, ¼ teaspoon pepper, and 1 tablespoon lemon juice in the top of a double boiler. Place over boiling water until thoroughly heated.

Press into 4-cup mold, let stand about 3 minutes. Unmold on serving dish and serve with cheese sauce made with condensed cheese soup. 6 servings.

Two Fruits Add Zest to Slaw

Cole slaw assumes new flavor meaning in "Avocado-Pineapple Slaw." Not only are crushed pineapple and cubes of California avocado tossed with the usual shredded cabbage but even the sour cream dressing is given a flavor twist with its hint of soy sauce and ginger.

Versatile avocados from southern California are a perfect ingredient in a host of salads, appetizers and party dips. Winter varieties of the fruit are now back in markets once again to perk up everyday menus.

Avocado-Pineapple Slaw

1 can (8¾ oz.) crushed pineapple
4 cups shredded cabbage
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
1 California avocado
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon soy sauce
½ teaspoon ginger

Drain pineapple, saving 3 tablespoons syrup. Combine pineapple, cabbage, green pepper and onion. Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin. Cube avocado; add to cabbage mixture.

Mix sour cream, mayonnaise, soy sauce, ginger and pineapple syrup. Add to salad and toss gently. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Cracker Crumbs Make Fine Cake

Here's a sweet and delicious dessert!

Graham Cracker Torte

6 large egg whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
¾ cup each granulated and firmly packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups fine graham cracker crumbs
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until foamy. Gradually beat in sugars until soft peaks form. Beat in vanilla.

Fold in graham cracker crumbs and walnuts. Turn into two 8-inch layer cake pans whose bottoms are lined with waxed paper. Bake in a slow (300 degrees) oven for 30 minutes.

Cool on wire racks for 10 minutes; turn out; remove paper; cool thoroughly. Just before serving put together with some of the whipped cream and frost with the remaining cream.

ALMOND FLAVOR — Almond Bavarian Loaf is the ideal refreshment for informal gatherings and family dinners. It is easily made with dry instant non-dairy coffee creamer.

Mix Almond Cream With Cookie Layer

Now that the children have settled down in school or college and club meetings have resumed for many of you, the pressures of entertaining begin.

To help you with refreshment ideas, the home economists suggest that you serve Almond Bavarian Loaf at one of your functions. The easy-to-prepare dessert features alternating layers of crisp chocolate wafers and an almond cream mixture.

For your convenience, Almond Bavarian Loaf is made with the dry instant non-dairy coffee creamer that stays fresh without refrigeration. Instead of buying ingredients that have to be consumed quickly, you can stock your cupboard with dry instant non-dairy coffee creamer and use it whenever you need it.

Dry instant non-dairy coffee creamer gives a hostess insurance against waste in the event her company cancels, as well as assurance when an impromptu party begins at her home.

Almond Bavarian Loaf

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1 cup milk
¼ cup finely chopped toasted almonds
1⅓ cups dry instant non-dairy coffee creamer
⅔ cup cold milk
1 teaspoon almond extract
3 tablespoons sugar
About 20 chocolate wafers

In top of double boiler, mix together gelatine, ¼ cup sugar and salt; beat egg yolks and 1 cup milk; stir into gelatine mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, over boiling water, until gelatine dissolves, about 5 to 8 minutes.

Remove from heat; chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Fold in almonds. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; gradually add ¼ cup sugar beating until stiff but not dry. Fold in gelatine mixture.

Meanwhile chill bowl and beaters in refrigerator 15 minutes. Blend non-dairy coffee creamer with ⅔ cup milk, almond extract and 3 tablespoons sugar in chilled bowl. Whip at high speed with electric mixer until thick and creamy (3 to 5 minutes). Fold into gelatine mixture.

Arrange halves of chocolate wafers in bottom of 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Turn in about ⅓ bavarian mixture; arrange layer of whole chocolate wafers; repeat. Chill until firm. To serve, unmold on serving platter and slice.

Will Be Crisper

Don't despair if you accidentally add too much milk to biscuit dough. Just drop it, as is, by spoonfuls onto an ungreased baking sheet and bake in a preheated 450 degree oven 10 to 12 minutes. Drop biscuits have crisper crusts than do kneaded and rolled biscuits.

Sardine Cocktail Adds Mushrooms

Treat your family like company and serve a first course!

Cocktail Sardines

1 can (3¾ ounces) brisling sardines
1 can (4¼ ounces) cocktail-style mushrooms

Salad greens, sliced tomatoes

Drain sardines thoroughly; pour the mushrooms with their liquid over them. Serve on salad greens. Garnish with tomatoes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Vary Glazes With Spices and Extracts

Glazes are easy — festive too!

Lemon Glaze

2 cups sifted powdered sugar
2 teaspoons lemon peel
½ teaspoon lemon extract
3 tablespoons hot water

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Drizzle over top of cakes, doughnuts, sweet rolls, pastries or cream puffs. Makes about ¾ cup. Variations:

Cinnamon Glaze — Use ½ teaspoon Cinnamon in place of lemon peel and lemon extract in above recipe.

Nutmeg Glaze — Use ¼ teaspoon Nutmeg in place of lemon peel and lemon extract in above recipe.

Allspice Glaze — Use ⅛ teaspoon Allspice in place of lemon peel and lemon extract in above recipe.

Orange Glaze — Use ½ teaspoon Orange Peel and ¼ teaspoon Orange Extract in place of lemon peel and lemon extract in above recipe.

Gay Tinted Glaze — Add several drops Red, Yellow, Green or Blue Food Color, or a combination of these colors to obtain desired shade or color in Lemon Glaze recipe.

Pineapple Gives Fish Hawaiian Look

Looking for superb seafood dishes? Head for an island. Where there's water, there's fish, and where seafoods are abundant, they are usually prepared well.

The Hawaiian Islands are a good example. Although they have many kinds of fish and shellfish not found around the continental United States, we can adapt many Island recipes to our fish favorites. Pineapple and fish are a steady couple in Hawaii where fresh pineapple is plentiful.

However, we have canned pineapple readily available for use in such seafood delights as Fish Fillets Hawaiian. Any fresh or frozen white-meated fish may be used: haddock, cod, flounder, sole or ocean perch.

Fish Fillets Hawaiian

1 pound fish fillets, fresh or frozen
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons brown sugar
½ teaspoon powdered ginger
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 (9 oz.) can pineapple rings
Watercress for garnishing

If fish is frozen, let thaw until fillets can be separated. Arrange fillets in shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Pour lemon juice over fish and marinate in refrigerator at least 2 hours. Drain off excess marinade and sprinkle fish with brown sugar and ginger.

Place a pineapple ring on each fillet, brush with oil and bake in moderate (350 degree) oven for 20 minutes or until fish flakes easily with a fork. Remove to serving platter. Garnish with watercress. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Cream Helps

If you want that soft custard sauce to taste particularly good, use part cream for some of the milk. Serve the sauce with coddled apples or baked or stewed pears.

Michigan Way O.K., Mix Your Juices

If you like spark added to your morning orange juice (or O.J.), here is a bracing tip from a Michigan inhabitant. Seems the folks there have discovered the distinctive flavor of a new and refreshing beverage.

They take fresh Florida orange juice or reconstituted orange juice concentrate, and add an ounce or two of country cider (no preservatives) according to taste and glass size, for a unique O.J. Cocktail. Good for a spirit-lifting energy pick-up in the late afternoon, too. Bottoms up!

RUSSIAN DRESSING RECIPE FAVORITE

It seems we're using more foreign recipes that once sounded very exotic and strange. In fact, we've adopted so many ideas from Europe that today there probably isn't a cupboard that doesn't contain several kinds of salad dressing . . . and look at the names. Shedd's Italian and Shedd's French . . . and now we can add Shedd's Russian for something special in variety. One of the cleverest hostesses I know has a simple salad idea that's very effective. She prepares an enormous bowl of greens using several kinds of lettuce, spinach, endive, escarole . . . whatever she finds is fresh and good in the market. These are crisp and cold, of course, and torn in bite size pieces, not cut. Around the bowl of greens she places several bowls of dressing, perhaps two each of Shedd's Italian, Shedd's French and Shedd's Russian. Guests help themselves and generally return for seconds in order to try more than one variety of dressing. Since Shedd's Russian is a new one perhaps you'd like to try a different combination of flavors in a salad. This one was designed for Shedd's Russian Dressing and the blend of flavors in the ingredients is as subtle and delicate as the dressing itself:

12 large fresh mushrooms
1 medium cucumber
1 sweet white onion
Spinach and lettuce
Shedd's Russian Dressing

Wash and slice the mushrooms thinly. Wash cucumbers, remove outer skin partially to leave stripes of the dark outer part and slice very thin. Slice the onion and separate into rings. Chill all these ingredients in ice water and then dry thoroughly by patting with paper towel. Arrange on lettuce and spinach and when ready pour on Shedd's Russian Dressing liberally. Garnish with sieved hard cooked egg yolk.

Introducing

a new taste sensation in salad dressing

Shedd's Russian DRESSING

Shedd's Russian Dressing is a wonderful new taste partner to Shedd's French, EZY French and Shedd's Italian Dressings. A different taste but a delicately delicious one in this expert combination of specially selected spices and vegetable oils.

Sell New Cuts of Lamb for Skewering

The exact origin of Shish Kebab is lost in antiquity. Sheep were domesticated in Asia and Europe before the dawn of history, probably first in Turkestan, in central Asia. Doubtless man was roasting chunks of lamb on sticks over a fire even before he emerged from cave dwelling.

One of the legends about development of Shish Kebab as we know it today, is that it was improvised by Caucasian hunters. They skewered chunks of lamb on sticks to roast over campfires, then used their knives or swords to push the sizzling meat onto disks of bread.

The round flat bread is still a favorite accompaniment with Shish Kebab and other lamb dishes in the Middle East today.

Another version tells us that Shish Kebab is an epicurean legacy of ancient Persia. There, over desert campfires, wealthy sheiks and their soldiers roasted meaty chunks of lamb, vegetables and fruits skewered together on their gleaming swords.

"Shish Kebab" is the Turkish name for skewered lamb meat, alternated on a wood or metal skewer with pieces of fat, and grilled over hot embers. "Shashlik" is the Russian name for the same thing. The name is descriptive of the cooking method, "shish" — stick or skewer, and "kebab" broil on embers.

INDOOR BARBECUING

In recent years, Americans, lured back to the outdoors to cook, have rediscovered the fun and flavor of food roasted over an open fire. The something new in barbecuing this fall is the indoor trend! And . . . the ideal meat for these spectacular meals on a skewer . . . the fine, tender, Autumn Harvest Lamb now available.

In addition to the over forty different lamb cuts already in your markets, the American Lamb Council has twelve new cuts designed especially for skewering. Call "En Brochette" lamb cuts, they're the perfect choice for any occasion.

Shoulder Steaks "En Brochette"

1 package (7-10 ounce) bleu cheese salad dressing mix
¼ cup wine vinegar
¼ cup water
2-3 cup salad oil
1 teaspoon liquid gravy flavoring
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
6 (3 pounds) round bone shoulder lamb steaks, cut 1½ inches thick
1 package (10 ounces) frozen cauliflower, partially thawed or 1 small cauliflower, parboiled
2 large tomatoes, cut each in 6
2 medium green peppers, cut each in 6

Blend together salad dressing mix, vinegar and water; stir in oil, gravy flavoring and onion. Pour over lamb; marinate several hours turning occasionally.

Place lamb on skewers; grill 6 to 7 inches from heat 16 to 18 minutes per side, or until desired doneness, brushing frequently with marinade.

Place vegetables on skewers; grill 5 to 6 minutes per side, brushing frequently with marinade. Makes 6 servings.

SHOULDER STEAKS — The tremendous variety in cuts of Autumn Harvest Lamb now available in your markets makes it ideal for "En Brochette" cookery. Thick, juicy shoulder steaks, skewered with vegetables and broiled to a rich, robust brown, will be a new taste treat to add to your file of favorites.

Walnut Style

Make up regular hot cake batter, spoon it onto griddle, then top each hot cake round immediately with chopped California walnuts. Bake as usual. Do the same with waffles, adding walnuts just before closing the waffle baker top.

Lavender? White? Aurora is both!

A little odd perhaps, but what a nice new idea to get used to. Of course, you can get all-white, if you like. Buy a two-roll package . . . and wonder how we made it so soft.

AUSTRALIAN FARE — Favorite fare at teatime in Australia is this Raisin-Potato Loaf. Made with instant mashed potato granules, the loaf has a delightfully moist texture and just the right combination of seasonings.

Swiss Cheese Boon to Salads

Salads are in service around the calendar these days, and so is that delightful, nutritive, natural food, Switzerland Swiss cheese.

Yes, we said "salad arrangements." For salads can be a work of art, as pleasing to the eye as the palate. Consider the colors and textures of foods possible for salads; then the wide range of foods compatible with Switzerland Swiss and you've got a menu limited only by your imagination.

Why stick to traditional salad bowls? When you dream up a handsome main-dish salad, try containers like soup tureens, copper molds, pewter trays, to add importance to your culinary creation.

For parties, a punch bowl will yield the right amount and be festive in the bargain.

Of course, always choose fresh greens, but here again, use a bit of variety, with two or more for added interest — chicory with endive, for example.

Cut in cubes, Switzerland Swiss makes a great change in your favorite seafood or potato salad. With chicken salad, it's a good idea to add grated Switzerland Swiss, then lattice top with cheese strips.

Garlic Croutons Tossed Into Chef's Salad

A salad idea for cheese lovers is the Swiss Chef's Salad. Browned croutons rolled in finely grated Swiss give zest to a salad you can serve as an entree, or as a separate course.

Swiss Chef's Salad

1 clove garlic
½ cup corn oil
1 cup bread cubes
½ cup Swiss cheese, grated finely
1-2 heads lettuce
1½ teaspoons soy sauce
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
½ cup Swiss cheese, cut in thin strips
¼ pound (1 cup) cooked chicken, cut in thin strips
¼ cup vinegar

Slice garlic into thin pieces; let stand in corn oil for several hours. When hot, quickly roll bread cubes in Swiss cheese, grated, and fry until lightly browned.

Break enough lettuce into bite-size pieces to measure 1½ quarts and place in salad bowl. Sprinkle with Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper. Add chicken strips, vinegar, browned bread cubes, and remaining corn oil.

Makes 6-8 servings.

Treat Children to Popcorn

Home - popped corn, formed into snowballs with a taffy coating, say in their rounded tones that it's a wise cook who knows the treasury of recipes based on unsulphured molasses.

Molasses Popcorn Balls

1 cup unsulphured molasses
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
4 quarts unsalted popped corn

Combine unsulphured molasses, sugar, and butter or margarine in a 2-quart saucepan. Place over low heat and stir until sugar is dissolved. Cook over medium heat until syrup, when dropped in very cold water separates into threads which are hard but not brittle, or until candy thermometer reaches 270 degrees.

Pour syrup over popped corn, stirring to coat each kernel. When cool enough to handle, shape into balls with lightly buttered hands. Wrap each ball in waxed paper. Yield: Approximately 2 dozen popcorn balls.

Here's an Idea

A small amount of cooked green peas in the refrigerator? Add to chicken broth and serve piping hot.

Sunday's Roast Goes Into Monday's Dinner

Left-overs are a problem to some women and a boon to others. Left-overs can be a problem if they seem to turn up unexpectedly or if there is not enough to provide a filling meal for the whole family.

When you serve a large roast, plan that there will be some left. Many interesting combinations of foods can be prepared making a little meat go a long way.

Macaroni-Meat Casserole has main-dish-magic built right into the recipe. It's a tasty combination of macaroni, cheese, mushrooms, seasonings and the left-over meat. It's the perfect way to serve a strikingly different version of Sunday's roast.

Macaroni-Meat Casserole

1 7-ounce package elbow macaroni
¼ cup butter (½ stick)
¼ cup finely chopped onion
3 tablespoons flour
2½ cups milk
1 beef bouillon cube
1¾ teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup shredded American cheese (¼ lb.)
¼ to ½ cup sliced mushrooms
2 cups ½-inch cubes left-over beef, pork, ham, veal
½ cup buttered bread crumbs

Cook macaroni until tender as directed on box; drain. Melt butter in saucepan; saute onion until tender, do not brown. Blend in flour. Add milk and bouillon cube, stirring constantly.

Cook and stir until sauce is smooth and thickened. Add salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and cheese, stir until cheese is melted. Add mushrooms and meat.

Combine sauce with macaroni and pour into a lightly buttered 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle buttered crumbs over the top and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 30 minutes, until lightly browned on top. Makes 6 servings.

Note: This casserole may be made in advance, stored in refrigerator and baked later in the day. Allow 15 additional minutes if refrigerated.

Salad in the Round

Company coming? For a delightful salad, add orange sections and small sweet onion rings to mixed greens; toss with French dressing made with olive oil and tarragon vinegar.

Raisin Bread Is Aussie Recipe

Whether you're dining at home, in Holland, or in Denmark, chances are potatoes will be on the menu. So say the economists of the R. T. French Company of Rochester, N. Y., who report that potatoes, in some form, are popular with a good many people 'round the world.

The Australians make an unusual raisin-potato loaf, to be served with tea. They have found that the mashed potatoes impart a moist texture, and when combined with just the right amount of seasonings, add exceptionally good flavor.

AUSTRALIAN SULTANA LOAF (Raisin-Potato Loaf)

½ cup mashed potatoes
½ cup sugar
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ginger
1 cup golden raisins
¾ cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon hot water

In a bowl, beat the potatoes with sugar. Sift together flour, baking powder, cinnamon, salt, nutmeg, and ginger. Combine with potato mixture. Stir in raisins; add milk. Beat well.

Pour into greased 8½x4½x-2½-inch loaf pan (5 cups). Bake in a 325 degree oven 60 to 75 minutes or until loaf tests done. Cool.

To glaze the top, mix 2 tablespoons sugar with the hot water; spread over the cooled cake. Loaf tastes better on second day.

Note: To minimize crack in top of loaf, just place a piece of brown paper or aluminum foil across the top of pan the first 20 minutes of baking.

For Soup Garnish

For a soup garnish treat, sprinkle chopped toasted California walnuts over cream of asparagus, chicken or turkey soup. Garlic salted toasted walnuts are great with beef soup, and vegetable.

When a recipe calls for cocoa, do not substitute cocoa mix; the latter is sweetened.

Meat Loaf and Stuffing Baked in Square Pan

Here's a savory variation on the popular meat loaf. The stuffing with mushrooms and herbs provides the novelty.

SAVORY MEAT SQUARES

3 pounds lean beef chuck, ground
2 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon marjoram
¼ cup milk
¼ cup catsup

Stuffing Ingredients

1 can (6 ounces) broiled mushroom crowns
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons dehydrated onion flakes
¼ teaspoon marjoram
1 tablespoon dehydrated parsley flakes
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
1 quart fresh bread crumbs

Place meat in large mixing bowl, then blend together and add eggs, salt, pepper, marjoram, milk and catsup. Mix lightly but thoroughly with large kitchen fork.

To make Stuffing: Reserve 8 mushroom crowns and chop the rest medium fine. Add chopped mushrooms, seasonings, onion and parsley to melted butter. Stir lightly, then add bread crumbs and toss lightly to mix.

In an 8x12-inch well-greased baking pan, pack half of the meat mixture, then top with all of the stuffing, spreading it evenly over the surface. As a top layer add the other half of the meat.

With a knife, lightly make one very shallow cut lengthwise down center of pan, then make 4 evenly spaced crosswise cuts to give you 8 squares. Place a mushroom crown in the center of each square and press mushrooms deep into the meat.

Brush top of meat with 2 tablespoons catsup, then bake in a preheated 400-degree oven for about 70 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Sausage With Apples

Bulk pork sausage patties or pork sausage links are very tasty when you fry some apple rings or wedges after the meat cooks, and serve them together.

If you like serve both sausage patties with fried apple wedges in baked acorn squash halves for a harvest supper.

Versatile Treat

Use American Blue Cheese

There are many fine specialty cheeses available to the average shopper. They vary greatly in flavor, texture and appearance. The qualities of a certain cheese determine its particular uses. For example, only a cheese with good melting qualities should be used in a sauce.

American blue cheese, the most popular blue - marbled cheese in the country, is also one of the most versatile of the specialty cheeses. Once popular only as a salad ingredient, it now spans the realm of good eating.

American blue cheese will keep up to three months in the refrigerator if overwrapped in air-tight paper. It also can be frozen, if wrapped well, and then thawed in the refrigerator. This hearty specialty cheese is sold in your local grocery store at a budget-price.

To help you enjoy the Cheese Festival, here are some quick tricks with American blue cheese to spruce-up your ordinary dishes.

to a macaroni and cheese casserole to a tuna and noodle casserole to a cream cheese dip

Crumble American blue cheese:
on bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwiches on top of hamburgers for delicious blueburgers in oil and vinegar dressing for tomato slice marinade on slices or tart apples

Also, melt American blue cheese with butter and pour over crisp cereal for a snack . . . mash blue cheese into deviled egg mixture . . . and fill split hot dogs with blue cheese.

MEATLESS LOAF — Wheat germ nut loaf has all the heartiness of a meat course, and thus will qualify as a meatless main dish. It's real good, too.

Wheat Germ, Nuts Take Place of Meat

When is a meat loaf not a meat loaf? The answer, of course, is "never," but you can fool members of the family if you serve them a wheat germ-nut loaf at meatless meals.

For this wheat-loaf tastes like a meat loaf, with all the substance of meat. It is a good meat substitute because it is high in good quality protein; this most essential nutrient being supplied by eggs, rice, pecans and wheat germ. The latter also adds its wealth of B vitamins and other nutritive values.

Green pepper, celery, onion, pimiento and salt add tantalizing spiciness to the meat loaf delusion. The wheat loaf can be served alone, or with a peas-in-cream-sauce "gravy". With a salad and dessert, it's a complete meal.

Wheat Germ Nut Loaf

1½ cups diced celery
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 cups cooked rice
1½ cups chopped pecans
1 cup wheat germ
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
4 eggs, beaten

Saute celery, onion and green pepper in butter or margarine until onion is soft but not brown. Combine with remaining ingredients; mix well. Pack into greased loaf pan (9x5x3 inches).

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) until done, 40 to 45 minutes. Let stand in pan 5 minutes; remove from pan and serve with Peas in Cream Sauce. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Vegetable Caviar Cooked for Spread

A delightful recipe for a spread that keeps well is this mock caviar.

Allen Matlock's Gypsy Caviar

2 tablespoons olive oil
1 medium onion, diced
1 medium green pepper, diced
1 large carrot, pared and coarsely grated
1 medium eggplant (about 1½ pounds) unpeeled and cut into ½-inch cubes
½ teaspoon each oregano and basil
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

In a large skillet, heat the olive oil; add onion and cook, covered, over low heat until wilted and golden.

Add green pepper, carrot and eggplant; cover and continue cooking over low heat, stirring occasionally, until eggplant is cooked through—about 20 minutes. Add oregano, basil, garlic, tomato sauce and salt and pepper.

Cook, uncovered, until thick. Serve hot or cold as a spread with sesame seed crackers. Store in refrigerator.

Cheese Sauce Tops Broccoli

Fall is the season for squash, cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower. All these vegetables are truly at their flavor peak and should be enjoyed while they last.

Instead of simply boiling the fall vegetables, try flavorful casserole to enhance the appeal of broccoli or cauliflower.

Autumn Casserole is prepared easily with canned mushroom soup and hearty American blue cheese. The zesty flavor of the American blue cheese strikes a delightful flavor note when featured "en casserole" with vegetables.

Autumn Casserole

8-10 fresh broccoli spears (or 2 10-ounce packages frozen spears)
¼ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons butter
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
¾ cup milk
¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 1¼ ounces)

Place broccoli spears in ovenproof casserole. Saute onion in butter. Stir in mushroom soup and milk. Blend well. Add American blue cheese and stir until cheese melts. Pour over broccoli spears. Bake uncovered at 325 degrees for 30-40 minutes or until vegetable is tender. Makes 6 servings.

Fine Salad Comes From Pa. Dutch

Here is a hearty salad featuring old - fashioned hot slaw and crumbled, crisp bacon. It makes an excellent side-dish during the cool months.

This skillet salad is in the Pennsylvania Dutch tradition, meaning it is both ample and delicious. It also is easy to prepare. Try it.

Skillet Salad

4 slices bacon
¼ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
4 cups (½ medium head) shredded cabbage
½ cup chopped parsley

Fry bacon until crisp; remove from skillet and crumble. Add vinegar, chopped onion, brown sugar, and salt to fat in skillet. Add crumbled bacon. Heat thoroughly. Take from range and toss cabbage and parsley in hot dressing. Yield: 6 servings.

Turkey Encore

Sandwich cooked broccoli between slices of cooked turkey in a shallow baking dish; cover with a rich cheese sauce and heat in a hot oven. Great for Sunday night supper!

Sherry Sauce Used to Baste Ham, Pineapple

A New Jersey cook found this interesting recipe in Florida.

Woodsie's Ham With Pineapple

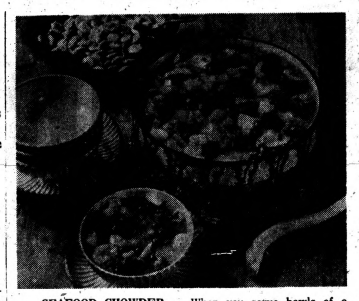
2 slices (each ½ inch thick) ham, center cut
1 can (9 ounces) sliced pineapple
Whole cloves
3 or 4 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
Pinch of ginger
1 cup medium or dry sherry

Trim fat from edges of ham. Drain pineapple; reserve syrup.

In a shallow baking pan, sandwich the pineapple slices between the 2 slices of ham. Insert cloves in top slice; pour over the pineapple syrup. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for ½ to ¾ hour.

Meanwhile in a small saucepan stir together the brown sugar, flour and ginger; gradually stir in sherry, keeping smooth. Cook and stir constantly over low heat until thick and smooth. Spread the thick mixture over the top ham slice.

Bake until tender — about ½ hour longer; baste several times with pineapple juice in bottom of pan. Makes 6 servings.



SEAFOOD CHOWDER — When you serve bowls of a hearty fish and seafood soup, you don't need another main dish. Mushrooms give added flavor to the combination of shrimp and haddock. Almost any other duo of fish will be equally good.

Liver Sausage Spread

Looking for a new sandwich spread for lunch boxes? Combine 1 pound of liver sausage with 1 teaspoon onion juice and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Add ¾ cup chopped cucumber with peel and ½ cup salad dressing. This makes 2¾ cups of spread.

Count on 3 medium-sized juicy lemons yielding about ½ cup juice.

Hot Dog Eggs

Give a youngster a protein boost for breakfast by serving him sliced frankfurters in scrambled eggs. Those thinly sliced hot dogs added to the egg-milk mixture when it's poured into the frying-pan for scrambling may be just the thing to catch and hold his interest.

Bartlett pears are welcome as a surprise ending to a packed lunch.

Combines Seafood

Fish Chowder Is Universal

A fish chowder can be adapted to the season and the location. It may contain a combination of two kinds of fish or sea food or a dozen.

The French call it Bouillabaisse, California calls it Cioppino and South America calls it Chupe or Bouquet do Mar (Bouquet from the Sea).

Here we have combined shrimp and haddock fillet but it might have been almost any variety of fish combined with crab, South African rock lobster or shrimp. Use this recipe as a pattern and vary the kind of fish and sea food to suit yourself.

This chowder is a main course in itself. But, to complete the menu, add a bowl of green salad and for dessert you might like spice cake or gingerbread with whipped dessert topping or your favorite pie.

Seafood Chowder

3 tablespoons butter
⅓ cup diced onion
½ cup diced green pepper
3 cups chicken broth
1 can (3 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms
1 package (10 ounces) quick-frozen shelled raw shrimp
1 package (10 ounces) quick-frozen haddock fillets
1 package (10 ounces) quick-frozen carrots and peas
1/16 teaspoon rosemary
1 cup light cream
2 tablespoons flour
Salt to taste

Met butter in 2-quart saucepan over moderate heat. Add onion and green pepper and cook 5 minutes. Add chicken broth, mushrooms including broth, shrimp cut in thirds, fish fillets cut in bite-sized pieces, vegetables and rosemary. Cook until fish is done and vegetables are just tender crisp.

Blend together and stir in cream and flour and cook until soup thickens. Add salt to taste. Makes 6 servings.

Crumbly Topping

For a crumbly topping for a one-crust apple pie, stir a cup of pie-crust mix into half a cup each of granulated and brown sugar; cut in several tablespoons of butter or margarine so particles are tiny.

SMOOTH WHITE SAUCE IS UNIVERSAL BASE

Everyone has at some time in life known a really superb cook. If you know more than one, you are indeed fortunate, and it just might be that you are one of these people yourself. Cooks perform their magic with a minimum of pots and pans, the simplest of ingredients and plenty of imagination. One kitchen magician I know says she starts off with a white sauce and continues from there. A good basic white sauce can go on to be cream soup or a base for the casserole. It can be gravy or the difference between plain green beans and Green Beans Parisienne. Let's start with the white sauce itself, remembering that the magic is in the choice of ingredients. You use Keyko Margarine as a spread, have Keyko on the table and use it for baking. Make the white sauce with Keyko, too!

Melt ¼ cup Keyko in sauce-pan over low heat
Blend in ¼ cup flour
Gradually add 2 cups milk

Always use low heat or make the sauce in a double boiler to keep the delicate Keyko flavor. Use a large spoon for blending the flour and keep stirring as you add the milk. When thickened, keep the sauce hot over boiling water. Add salt and pepper as needed, of course. 2 cups cooked, diced potatoes, 1 tbsp. chopped chives and a little more milk makes potato soup. Slice up some sharp cheese in the sauce and pour over cooked macaroni for a casserole. For gravy, simply add the basic sauce to the pan drippings after the roast has been removed. Put a little curry powder in the sauce and serve on left-over lamb curry. Those beans? The white sauce, plus ½ cup chopped onion and a small can of drained mushrooms with cooked green beans. The white sauce must be smooth which means stirring constantly and you must start with the best ingredients, which simply means using Keyko Margarine. You supply the imagination yourself.

BETTER TASTING

Here's how to get even the fussiest members of your family to eat all those vitamin-packed vegetables. Use Keyko Margarine to add fine flavor, satisfying richness and extra goodness to everything you cook and bake.

Bran Breads and Coffee Cakes Turn Meals Into Adventures

If a menu lacks zip, how can you enliven it? Add an unusual quick bread. Make it a bread with the nutlike goodness of bran, and variety and taste appeal are assured.

To a homey meal of baked beans and plump frankfurters, add Fruit Bran Bread. Although baked, this quick loaf bread is reminiscent of steamed Boston brown bread with its rich molasses flavor and generous allotment of raisins or cut dates.

Made with whole bran cereal, the moist bread is also, with fresh fruit, a nice change for a lunchbox dessert.

Another ready-to-eat bran cereal gives Marmalade Pan Bread its characteristic flavor and appearance. Use whole bran cereal with wheat germ to make this easy - fixing brunch bread. When you serve it, each square will be centered with a topping of shimmering orange marmalade.

Muffins to perk up a ham loaf dinner are Raisin Bran Gems. Raisin bran flakes combines with chopped apples and spices to give the muffins a novel flavor. Sprinkle cinnamon sugar over the muffins before baking for a glistening coating.

If any muffins are left over, wrap in aluminum foil and freeze them to be a breakfast surprise another day, reheating them in the foil directly from the freezer.

Fruit Bran Bread

1 cup whole bran cereal
1 cup cut, pitted dates or seedless raisins
½ cup molasses
1 tablespoon shortening
1 cup boiling water
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
½ cup chopped walnuts

Measure bran, dates, molasses and shortening into mixing bowl; add boiling water, stirring until combined. Let stand until most of moisture is taken up, about 5 minutes. Stir in egg.

Sift together flour, soda, salt and sugar. Add to first mixture together with walnuts, stirring only until combined. Spread in greased 9½x5¼-inch loaf pan.

Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) about 50 minutes, or until done. Cool thoroughly before slicing. Yield: 1 loaf.

Marmalade Pan Bread

1 cup whole bran cereal with wheat germ
¾ cup milk
1 egg
¼ cup soft shortening
1 cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup sugar
½ cup orange marmalade

Combine cereal and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add egg and shortening; beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add to first mixture, stirring only until combined.

Spread in greased 9x9-inch baking pan. Place spoonfuls of marmalade on top, pressing lightly into dough.

Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) about 25 minutes. Cut into squares and serve immediately. Yield: 9 3-inch squares.

Raisin Bran Gems

2 cups raisin bran flakes
¾ cup milk
1 egg
¼ cup soft shortening
½ cup finely chopped, pared apples
1 cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

Combine raisin bran flakes, milk, egg and shortening; beat well. Stir in apples. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, spices and sugar. Add to first mixture, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans full.

Combine sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle over each muffin. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) about 25 minutes. Yield: 11 muffins, 2½ inches in diameter.

Be a Bread Baker

Nothing seems to please modern young husbands more than to be able to brag, "My wife can bake homemade bread." That's a fact based probably on the idea that bread making is proof of a wife's competence.

* * *

Here are two particularly easy bread recipes for any bride. Note the interesting flavors in them.

Toasted Coconut Tea Bread

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1½ cups (about) packaged moist toasted coconut
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 egg
1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar. Stir in coconut and orange rind. Beat egg until foamy; mix with milk and vanilla. Stir egg mixture into flour mixture and mix thoroughly, but do not beat.

Pour into a greased 9x5-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour and 10 minutes. Cool. Cut in thin slices to serve. Toast, if desired.

This bread may be wrapped in aluminum foil and allowed to "ripen" for 2 or 3 days before serving.

Chocolate Bread

1 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1¼ cups orange juice
3 cups all-purpose biscuit mix
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
¾ cup walnuts
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine sugar and egg, blending well. Alternately add orange juice and biscuit mix, stirring well after each addition. Blend in remaining ingredients.

Pour into a greased 9x5-inch loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 50 to 60 minutes, or until cake tester insert in center comes out clean.

Pontiac Keg Team on U.S. 'Mission'

By JERE CRAIG

Four Pontiac bowlers and their coach have an important part in a big mission as they depart today for New York City and a subsequent trip to Caracas, Venezuela.

The four — Larry Crake, Joe Foster, Les Rothbarth, Bob Murphy — and their coach (George Chicovsky) won the American Bowling Congress Tournament's regular team title last spring.

Thus they qualified to represent the United States as part of its entry in the Inter-American zone tournament of the Federation Internationale des Quilleurs competition.

Last year at the world-wide FIQ championships, U.S. bowlers accounted for four men's titles and three of the four women's championships. This year's zone participants must pave the way for any potential 1965 champions.

The five men flew out of Detroit today and will join the other four men and five women who comprise the U.S. squad.

Tomorrow they will all fly to Caracas. A luncheon fete has been arranged for Friday at the U.S. Embassy there. Saturday they will register for the tournament and practice.

The competition will officially begin Sunday; and all eight championships will be decided by next Wednesday.

Other ABC regular division champions on the team are Tony and Pat Russo, doubles kings from Teaneck, N.J., and Chicagoans Jim Stefanich (singles) and Les Zikes (all events).

North, Central and South America are expected to send 14 teams to compete at the Caracas Games.

Boston Squad Battles Detroit to 3-3 Tie

Gordie Gets Assist in Making 1,200th NHL Appearance

BOSTON (AP) — Veteran Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings has reached another National Hockey League milestone and he has high hopes of reaching a few more before he packs away his skates.

The Boston Bruins also reached a milestone of sorts Tuesday night, scoring on Detroit goalie Roger Crozier for the first time this season and earning a 3-3 tie with the NHL leaders.

Howe made his 1,200th appearance in a regular season NHL game, gaining credit for an assist. It was just a year ago that Howe broke Maurice Richard's scoring record with his 545th regular season goal but he still needs one more to break Richard's record of 626 goals, counting playoff games.

NET ROBBERY

Howe was disappointed he didn't contribute more to the Red Wings' cause against Boston but it wasn't his fault. He and his linemates — Ted Lindsay and Alex Delvecchio — were robbed several times on spectacular stops by Bruin goalie Ed Johnston, who wound up with 30 saves.

"It's always a pleasure to know I've done something no one else in the league has ever done," Howe said later, "but I hope I'll be around long enough to hit a few more high spots."

His immediate target is the 626th goal.

Crozier had blanked the Bruins in four of the five times he faced them — twice this season. But the string was broken early Tuesday night when Ted Green drilled home a slap shot from the blue line at 10:10 of the first period. Crozier was screened on the shot and Detroit was playing short-handed.

But Crozier was beaten cleanly by Ab McDonald five minutes later. McDonald took a pass from Reg Fleming as he moved over the blue line all alone and drilled a backhander past the lunging Detroit net-minder.

FOURTH FORWARD

Leiter, the fourth Bruin forward on the ice, tied the game for the Bruins with less than a minute to play, finishing off a pass from Johnny Bucyk in front of the net.

Detroit held a 3-2 lead through most of the finale after second period goals by Bruce MacGregor and Floyd Smith. Howe got his assist on Detroit's first goal by Parker MacDonald, who poked in a rebound.

The NHL has a full slate on tap tonight with Boston at New York, Detroit at Toronto and Montreal at Chicago.

Rival Laundry Puts Barr in Hot Water

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., (AP) — Detroit Lions halfback Terry Barr, now a suburban Detroit resident, was named defendant in a civil complaint filed Tuesday in Circuit Court here by American Laundry Cleaners, Inc., of Grand Rapids.

Barr and his brother, Patrick, since Oct. 20 have been operating the All American Cleaning Service here. Both were cited by the plaintiff on grounds that similarity of the two company names has caused confusion in the mind of prospective patrons.

The plaintiff seeks a preliminary injunction against further use of the firm's name. A hearing is scheduled Nov. 13.

Pistons' Coach Stars in Debut

DeBusschere Sharp in 119-117 Victory

By the Associated Press

To Dave DeBusschere, a third-year player in the National Basketball Association, the buzzer ending Tuesday night's Detroit Pistons-Baltimore Bullets game had a very special ring.

It was DeBusschere's first game as coach of the Pistons, who ended a six-game losing streak with a 119-117 victory the Bullets in the opener of an NBA doubleheader at Philadelphia's Convention Hall.

DeBusschere, starting forward on the Pistons, helped his own cause with 26 points.

STREAK ENDED

"Man, I sure loved that sound," he said of the final buzzer. "It's good to win. I think everybody was trying extra hard — and not only because of me. After all, we were in a losing streak and we sure wanted to end it."

Rod Thorn, who led the Pistons' scoring with 27 points, broke a 115-tie with a field goal with 59 seconds left and pumped in two free throws half a minute later to wrap it up. Thorn had a special reason for playing hard.

"I was really trying to make my roomie look good in his coaching debut," Thorn said.

His roomie, the 24-year-old DeBusschere, was named interim head coach Tuesday by newly appointed Executive Manager Don Wattrick. DeBusschere replaces Charley Wolf.

Braves, Atlanta Ink 25-Year Agreement

ATLANTA (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves have signed a 25-year contract to begin playing baseball in Atlanta's $18,-million stadium in 1966.

The contract was signed late Tuesday in Chicago by Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the Atlanta-Fulton County Recreation Authority, and Braves officials. Montgomery called Mayor Ivan Allen of Atlanta while the contract was being signed.

"Tell them they just made the best trade they've ever made," Allen told Montgomery.

The contract signing took place two days before it was scheduled. Atlanta and Brave officials apparently were apprehensive that Milwaukee County officials might further delay the plans to move to Atlanta by securing another court order restraining the Braves from signing any agreement until the end of the 1965 season.

COURT ORDERED

The officials already had secured a court order restraining the Braves from signing a contract to play in Atlanta in 1965.

Atlanta officials apparently haven't given up on getting the Braves in 1965, however.

An authoritive source said the Braves are "not planning in the near future to televise any home games," although the contract authorizes them to televise as many as 25 a year.

"They're panning to set up vast radio network that will blanket the Southeast — at least eight states, maybe more," the official said.

He said a major factor in the Braves' decision to come to Atlanta was that this region is a new and developing market.

"This will cut the American League right out of the Southeast," he said, "and that's another reason the National League was so interested in seeing the Braves move to Atlanta."

The Braves' payment to the authority will be based on a percentage of gross proceeds.

The Braves will control all concessions with the exception of parking, which will be operated by the authority. Under the contract, the authority may not charge more than 50 cents per car during the first 10 years of the contract.

In Milwaukee, the Braves had a contract which gave Milwaukee County control over concessionaire prices. However, an authority source said the Atlanta contract contains no price controls.

Canine Aids Grid Mentor

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — Coach Mike Lude says he got an idea last Saturday when a dog ran onto the Colorado State University football field, stopping the clock.

The incident gave Lude an opportunity to run in a full defensive platoon because San Jose State had suddenly taken over on offense. CSU's Rams finally won 14-3.

Later Saturday, Lude saw to it that the white Labrador retriever — owned by a fraternity — "had all the hamburger he could eat."

Grid Decision Is Tentative

Pontiac Group Backs Midwest Pro Entry

A tentative agreement between the Pontiac Football Club and the owner of the Macomb County Arrows yesterday may have paved the way for Pontiac's entry into the field of professional football.

The agreement was reached during a luncheon session at the Elks Temple.

Paul Parks, chairman of the Football Club, said he expects to work out final details of the agreement with Arrows' owner Lyle Wells on Friday.

As proposed, Wells would bring the Macomb Arrows to Pontiac, change the name to 'Pontiac Arrows' and field a team for the 1965 season.

Other members of the Midwestern Professional Football League are Lansing, Petersburg and Sturgis of Michigan and Dayton, Ohio.

The local Football Club went into yesterday's meeting with hopes of putting a Pontiac team in the United Football League but the idea was scrapped because of the lack of financial support.

WBA Boss Says 'Deal' Ruined Title Eliminations

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The commissioner of the World Boxing Association said today his organization's proposed elimination tournament for the heavyweight boxing championship was scuttled because the top-rated challengers were offered a deal involving the outcome of the Clay-Liston title fight.

Abe J. Greene of Paterson also said in an interview here that a challenger already has been chosen to fight the winner of the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight championship fight next Monday in Boston. The WBA does not recognize it as a title fight.

Clay won the championship in Miami Beach last February when Liston was unable to answer the bell for the seventh round of their scheduled 15-rounder.

NO RECOGNITION

The WBA, which does not recognize return title bouts, proposed an elimination tourney for the heavyweight championship among former champion Floyd Patterson, Doug Jones, Ernie Terrell and Cleveland Williams. The proposal was made when it was clear Clay would sign with Liston for his first title defense.

"I charge that a deal has been made to frustrate the effort to develop a tournament which would lead to a champion other than these two (Clay and Liston)," Greene said.

"Deals have already been made with the challengers we rated for the tourney depending on the outcome of the fight.

"All kinds of offers were held out to them (rated challengers) so they refused to risk the opportunity to fight the titlist by fighting in a tournament.

"They refused to fight each other because of the promises made to them.

"If Clay wins again . . . because there is a big gate in prospect, he will fight Patterson," Greene said, "and if Liston wins, Patterson will retire from boxing and Liston will fight one of the other three . . . whichever one will be the biggest draw."

Greene said Merv McKenzie of Toronto, president of the WBA, will call a meeting of the association's executive committee after the fight to discuss the heavyweight situation.

MSU in Underdog Role

Spartans Ready to Try Irish

EAST LANSING, (AP)—Michigan State welcomes the chance to try to bell the cat—the cat in this case being Notre Dame's unbeaten, top-ranked football team.

"We're ready — we'll play our best game Saturday," Coach Duffy Daugherty said of the nationally televised meeting with the Fighting Irish at South Bend.

"We always play our best game against Notre Dame. You can count on it again. We're not awed by their record. We're not afraid. We think we're going to win."

The underdog Spartans not only aren't scared of the Ara Parsagehian wonders, who have swept to seven straight victories. They are almost smug about their chances of continuing their long-time hex over their South Bend rivals.

LOP-SIDED SCORES

Since losing to Notre Dame in 1954 in his first year as head coach, 28-19 in the rain, Daugherty has seen his team score eight straight victories in the series, some by lop-sided scores.

Michigan State has won 11 of the last 12 against the Irish. The Spartans handed Frank Leahy his worst shellacking as a Notre Dame coach — 35-0 in 1951. They beat the Paul Hornung team 21-7 in 1955.

"Some reason, we always get up for this game because of the national prestige involved," Daugherty, a round little bundle of energy, said. "The game also usually is on television. Our boys play hard and we've had the breaks.

"Tradition is tough to crack. I'm glad it's on our side."

Michigan State has come along fast in recent weeks, winning its last three games after dropping three of its first four starts.

"We just matured — we suddenly jelled," Daugherty said. "We're not as big and powerful as Notre Dame. We don't have nearly the depth they've got. But we're quick."

HEAVIER FOE

The Michigan State coach said Notre Dame would outweigh the Spartans 25 pounds to the man.

"Take Jerry Rush (240) out of our offensive line and we don't have a man over 210," he added. "We'll have a tackle, Dick Flynn, weighing 191, facing Notre Dame tackle, Harley Wolgast, weighing 262.

"We're not taking this team lightly. Parseghian has done a great job of organizing and developing of his material. He's got his boys believing in themselves.

"But we believe in ourselves, too."

Yanks Add Medals in 'Paralympics'

TOKYO (AP)—United States athletes won the 150-meter medley swim relay, grabbed the gold medal in one phase of the archery competition and moved steadily toward the two basketball championships in the Paralympics Tuesday.

The tank trio of Edward Owens, Philip Ramsey and Tim Harris swam their race in two minutes, 8.27 seconds, more than 30 seconds faster than second place Rhodesia and third place Israel. Rhodesia was timed in 2:42.8 with Israel three seconds slower.

LIMITED EVENTS

In these Wheelchair Olympics, swimming is limited to breaststroke, backstroke and freestyle. Competitors are divided into classes according to the degree of their disability.

The Americans belong to the least severe of the incomplete paralysis category.

Dean Flaugh, a Korean war veteran from Garden Grove, Calif., took the archery title with 986 points as compared to 963 for second place Peter Blanker of Holland.

Both the American basketball teams won two games during the day. In the incomplete paraplegic division, the United States trounced Japan 41-30 and Britain 62-12.

The American team in the complete paraplegic category, downed the Philippines 69-16 and France 61-24.

Italy Seeks 'Amnesty' for Olympic Performers

ROME (AP) — The Italian National Olympic Committee has asked for an 'amnesty" of all penalties outstanding against any Italian athlete as a way of honoring Italy's participation in the Tokyo Olympics.

The committee's executive committee said Tuesday that "in a view of the happy results" of the Tokyo Games it would ask the various national sports federations to wipe off the books disciplinary actions currently being taken against any athletes."

N. Y. Mets Fire Pilot of Minor League Club

Kurowski guided the Bisons to third place last season.

Albion Hustles to Title

ALMA (AP)—Led by hustling Jim Dow, Albion harriers swept the first four places Tuesday to win an MIAA cross country meet here.

U-M Works Defensive 11

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan put its defensive football squad through practice paces Tuesday designed to stop the passing game of Iowa, its opponent Saturday.

Junior Dick Wells took over as safety man, with starting defensive back Dick Rindfuss out for at least a week because of a sprained ankle.

U-M's offense concentrated on ground plays.

49ers Add Runner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Running back Rudy Johnson, the San Francisco 49ers' fifth draft choice, has joined the team after service on the taxi squad of the New York Jets of the American Football League and may be activated this week.

LEADS THE WAY — Michigan State University halfback Dick Gordon, the Big Ten's leading ground gainer, credits his success largely to blockers such as senior Jerry Rush, a 246-pound tackle from Pontiac. Gordon, senior from Cincinnati, has picked up 530 yards in the last four games and sports an average of 6.5 yards a try.

Whitey Ford Recuperating

Arm Cramps End for Yankee

HOUSTON (AP) — "I pitched the first game of the Series," the ball player whispered, "and I knew something was seriously wrong.

"I had had troubles with my arm off and on for years — pulled tendons and so on.

"But this was different. I couldn't pitch at all. My arm would cramp." He pointed to his left forearm lying on the hospital bed. "I would lose all the strength in my arm.

"I tried again every day for five or six more days. I never could throw the ball. I would throw a few pitches, and it would cramp right away. It worried me because I was counting on being able to pitch a couple of times in the Series."

WORRIES OVER

Whitey Ford doesn't have to worry now. The future's bright. His doctor says he'll be ready to pitch again by spring training.

The doctors the Yankee pitcher saw in New York knew there was some obstruction of the artery which carries blood over the shoulder and down toward the hand.

They sent him to one of the world's best know artery surgeons. Dr. Denton Cooley, a professor of surgery at Baylor University College of Medicine.

When Ford arrived Sunday at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, where the surgery was performed Monday, the question couldn't leave his mind: Would they have to cut through muscles? Would he be unable to pitch?

"Sunday the doctor told me what he could do. They did it the easiest way."

Almost whispering in his soft New York accent, the southpaw ace said Tuesday, "Most of the muscles you pitch with are here," indicating the front shoulder. "He cut under my armpit."

The operation was called a transthoracic sympathectomy. The doctor cut the nerves which supply the muscular coat of the artery that was disturbing circulation.

Those nerves had been causing the artery to constrict and produce spasms.

With the nerves removed, the blood supply to the arm was increased.

Ford said he expects to be out of the hospital in about a week.

Piersall Takes Player Award

Jim Earns League's Comeback Honor

ENCINO, Calif. (AP) — A jubilant Jimmy Piersall called it "my biggest thrill in baseball" upon learning that he'd been chosen the American League's Comeback Player of the Year for 1964.

"This has to be a turning point in my career," said the 34-year-old outfielder.

He was picked in the annual Associated Press poll of baseball writers. Results of the voting by 77 writers were announced Tuesday.

Piersall was named on 20 ballots, one more than veteran first baseman Bill Skowron.

Piersall, with 14 years in the majors, batted .314 in 87 games for the Los Angeles club this year. He was unconditionally released by the Angels on Sept. 17, 1963, and re-signed by them after a spring training trial.

Other votes in the AP poll: Skowron, who divided the year with Washington and Chicago, 19; Ed Bressoud, Boston, 6; Bob Tillman, Boston, 4; Dean Chance, Los Angeles, Roger Maris, New York, and Felix Mantilla, Boston, 3 each.

COMEBACK OF THE YEAR — Outfielder Jim Piersall of Los Angeles Angels tends to his fatherly chores at his California home after hearing of his selection as American League Comeback Player of the Year. He was chosen in the Associated Press poll. Jim batted .314 last year for the Angels after three clubs dropped him. With him are Ann, 5, Chris, 3, and baby, Patricia, two months. The Piersall's have six other children.

Rookie QB Gains Favor With Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran Y. A. Tittle will continue to hold down the quarterback spot for the New York Giants but Coach Allie Sherman indicates rookie Gary Wood may find himself in the line-up more often than in the past.

"There is no reason to bench Y.A.," said Sherman Tuesday. "But we like Gary Wood. We'll use them both."

Then Sherman, preparing the Giants for Sunday's National Football League game at St. Louis, said:

"We're out to put the best team we can on the field and we'll play the quarterback who gives us the best football."

Report Fred Hutchinson in Very Poor Condition

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Former Cincinnati Reds baseball Manager Fred Hutchinson was listed in very poor condition Tuesday night after being returned to the hospital with cancer.

Hutchinson, who was allowed to go home from the hospital Oct. 31 after being treated for a week, apparently took a turn for the worse and returned to the hospital Tuesday.

State College Elevens Near Season's End

By the Associated Press

One of the best weekends in history has lifted the over-all record of Michigan's 18 collegiate football teams to 71-62-5.

Michigan clubs lost only four of the 17 games played.

Albion, one of seven teams to close out the season over the weekend, finished as the state's only unbeaten, untied eleven.

The Britons scored 226 points in rolling to their eight victories while giving up just 39.

Ferris State, which has also completed its season, did not record a victory in eight starts.

SCORING LEAD

Michigan quarterback Bob Timberlake retained his lead in the individual scoring race with 73 points on seven touchdowns, 15 extra points and three field goals.

Eight more teams close out their 1964 campaigns this Saturday.

Marchetti Likes Hustle

Colt Players Laud Coach Shula

BALTIMORE (AP) — "It's amazing" to Gino Marchetti that the Baltimore Colts are far up the road toward a divisional title in the National Football League.

The All-League defensive end is one of many who say it is the responsive attitude created by Don Shula as coach.

Marchetti, who changed his mind about retiring this season, said today, "I didn't think this team had the potential and particularly the personnel on defense" to be the winner of eight straight games and 2½ on top of the Western Conference.

"I still don't," he added. "But that hustle is amazing."

As expected, Marchetti has difficulty pinpointing the intangibles by which Shula has fired the desire.

FIRST ANALYSIS

"He treats everyone as a man," was Marchetti's first analysis. It also was his last.

"Any player who goes to him gets a straight answer," Marchetti mused. "He may not like it, but he'll get one."

"He's so easy to communicate with," is the way Raymond Berry, offensive end, puts it. "You have an idea and he'll give you a hearing. He's honest."

Gino recalls a banquet attended by the Colts after they lost their first and only game so far this season.

"Shula told them, 'We were outplayed and outhustled and I was outcoached.' I never heard a coach say before that he lost a game. They only win them.

"You have to respect a guy like that."

Berry remembers early last season, Shula's first as coach, when "we were having trouble and losing a lot of ball games. He never lost his sense of humor, he didn't get down on the players. It meant a lot.

"It also is, in my opinion, the sign of good coaching, to keep spirits up when you're losing. It's easy to be happy when you're winning."

ONE SETBACK

After losing five of their first eight games in Shula's debut, the Colts suffered only one loss by one point in their last six games. Many point to that 1963 finish being the start of this year's drive.

Shula is only 34 years old and he played as a defensive back with Marchetti and Berry on Colt teams of 10 years ago.

Neither his youth nor his former companionship has produced the rapport with the squad, maintain Gino and Raymond.

"He's easy on some things, but hard on what counts," reports Marchetti. "We spend our time on the job ahead. I can remember sitting in squad meetings talking for an hour about wearing neckties and jackets on away games."

Florida Gators Lose Top Defensive Star

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Disciplinary action has robbed the Florida Gator football squad of one of its top defensive linebackers, Roger Pettee.

Coach Ray Graves said Pettee was dropped from the team Tuesday, but he declined to elaborate on the reasons, saying it was against his policy.

Passive Therapy Begins on Arm Lost by Cager

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Bob Swaffar, Oklahoma State University basketball player whose right arm was severed in an accident then rejoined to his body, was expected to be allowed out of bed briefly Wednesday.

Passive physical therapy was started Tuesday on the hand and forearm to keep the limb from becoming useless.

Swaffar lost his arm Nov. 1 in a commercial laundry extracting mishap at Stillwater and it was rejoined in an all night operation here. The arm was severed halfway between the shoulder and the elbow.

Surgeons said the 20-year-old athlete will not be able to use his hand until nerves regenerate from the upper arm downward along the path of the old nerves. They expect he will have good shoulder and elbow movement.

More surgery will be necessary in a few months, they said, to realign nerves in the arm.

Horse Fair in Toronto Next Goal

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States Equestrian team — flushed with a virtual sweep of international jumping honors in the National Horse Show — headed for Toronto and the Royal Winter Fair Show today.

The Royal Winter Fair event gets under way Thursday and runs 10 days with the exception of Sunday.

There will be two changes on the U.S. team in Toronto. Capt. Bill Steinkraus, a four-time Olympian, will rest Sinjon, ace of the U.S. jumpers. He will handle Snowbound, a team newcomer instead, along with San Lucas.

Mary Mairs, who missed the National because her top mount, Tomboy, was lame, will replace Neal Shapiro of Glen Head, N.Y., on the squad. Miss Mairs of Pasadena, Calif., is a regular, but Shapiro filled in for her at the Pennsylvania National Show in Harrisburg while she was at the Olympic Games and at the National.

OPEN JUMPER

Shapiro will return to the open jumper division with his slick mounts, Jacks Or Better and Uncle Max.

The United States, with eight victories in 11 international events, won the team championship with 135 points.

Kathy Kusner of Arlington, Va., even though she failed to score in the Grand Prix of New York — final event of the 81st editions of the National — won the individual championship with 32 points.

By The Associated Press

Twenty teams, including five major elevens, remained unbeaten and untied after last weekend's upheaval which saw the fall of such powers as Ohio State and Georgia Tech.

The major teams with unspoiled records are Notre Dame, Alabama, Arkansas, Nebraska and Princeton.

Among the teams knocked from the perfect ranks were Central Iowa, Illinois Wesleyan, Villanova, Sewanee and Ripon.

Tulsa Pass Leader Field Goal Total Rises

NEW YORK (AP) — Tulsa and 117 other major college football teams go after two records Saturday — one through the air, the other through the uprights.

Tulsa, which already has a prolific record-breaker in quarterback Jerry Rhome, needs only 219 yards passing against North Texas State Saturday to surpass its own season record of 2,448 yards set last year, according to National Collegiate Athletic Bureau figures released today.

It's a good bet the Hurricanes will break the record since they've averaged 318.6 yards per game in their five victories and two defeats.

At the same time, Tulsa may join with the other 117 major teams in trying to establish a new high for number of field goals kicked in one season. The schools need 27 to equal last year's record 314. They have booted at least 30 each Saturday this season.

Michigan leads in rushing offense with a game average of 256.7 yards. Only 21.6 yards per game, however, separate the first five teams, Bowling Green, Nebraska, Villanova and Syracuse following the Wolverines.

British Writer Calls Football 'Worst Game'

LONDON (AP)—A leading British sports columnist wrote Tuesday that American football is "the world's worst game" and totally unsuitable for high schools and colleges.

J.L. Manning of The London Daily Mail made his comments in a dispatch from Chicago. He recorded the 37th death in American football this season — an Alabama high school footballer who died Monday.

Source of Manning's 37 fatalities this season is not known. Both The Associated Press and the National Football Coaches Association agree that the total is 24.

"I know it is the world's worst game because no country outside the United States will play it and I hope they never will," Manning wrote.

8th Bowlerama Ready to Start

Only one week remains for Oakland County male bowlers to enter the opening weekend of qualifying in the eighth annual Pontiac Bowlerama handicap singles and first four-event tournament.

Deadline for signing up for squads Saturday or Sunday Nov. 21-22 at Airway Lanes, Montcalm Bowling Centre and Huron Bowl is midnight next Wednesday.

Entry blanks are available at most establishments in the Oakland County Bowling Proprietors' Association for any of the three sites.

Individual squad times should be checked with the lanes where the bowler wants to qualify. At Montcalm, times are available through 3:30 p.m. Saturday and 5 p.m. Sunday.

The Huron qualifying will end with the 4 p.m. Saturday squad and 2 p.m. on Sunday. Airway plans to have it Saturday afternoon and night, and Sunday through 7:30 p.m.

Entry fee for the handicap singles — and the three other divisions, also — is $6 per attempt. No new entries will be accepted following each weekly deadline, but a bowler may reenter at a different house for the same event on the same day.

HANDICAPS

Bowling includes a 70 per cent handicap (based on 200 scratch). At least three bowlers are needed on a pair of lanes.

Any one whose lowest 18-game average for this year is 10 pins over his highest average of last season must use this year's average according to American Bowling Congress rules.

Those not having a sanctioned average for last year must use their highest 21-game average for this season.

There will be another weekend of handicap singles qualifying—one out of 10 at each site make it to the finals—and then handicap doubles, handicap five-man team bowling and actual singles will follow.

The prize lists for both singles divisions have been guaranteed. The other two are based on total entries.

Penn State Star Voted AP Award for Line Play

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — A football writer once compared him to a panzer division clearing the way for his fellow troops.

Opposing coaches sit in awe when they see him play.

And Rip Engle says he's the greatest college lineman in America.

That's the story of Penn State's Glenn Ressler, selected as the Associated Press Lineman-of-the-Week for his great performance in the Lions' stunning 27-0 upset over Ohio State last Saturday.

Deacons' Fullback Gets Top Back Nod

By The Associated Press

Brian Piccolo has stepped from a part in Come Back, Little Sheba into one of the surprise roles of the college football season.

No one was more surprised than Duke last Saturday when Piccolo led Wake Forest to a 20-7 upset victory that seriously hindered the Blue Devils' chances for the Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

Piccolo's performance — he scored all of the points — has earned for him today selection as Back of the Week by the Associated Press.

Piccolo, who rather would talk about Eugene O'Neill than Knute Rockne, was the workhorse of the Wake Forest triumph, running 36 times for 115 yards, catching three passes for 46 yards on a play the Deacons tried for the first time and scoring three touchdowns and kicking two extra points.

Unbeaten Eastern 11 May Get Bowl Date

UPPER MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP) — Montclair State College has received a feeler regarding a possible invitation to play in the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, Fla., on Dec. 12.

Henry Schmidt, coordinator of athletics, said the school received a letter Monday from the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which runs the football bowl game. Montclair State has a 6-0 record.

Pep Pills Out in Soccer Tilts

Italians Impose Ban on Illegal Stimulants

ROME (AP) — A new anti-doping program, drawn up after the pep pill scandal that rocked Italy's national soccer championships last season, goes into effect Sunday with the major league teams facing fines of up to $160,000 for using illegal stimulants.

Sports officials began to work on the new program last year after five players in the Bologna team were charged with taking stimulants in a scandal that created a national uproar from soccer circles to parliament.

The charges leveled against the Bologna players were dismissed for lack of evidence and since then steps have been taken to develop an effective program for preventing the use of drugs in the fiercely competitive world of Italian soccer.

General measures in the new code were approved in September. Since then administrative details have been worked out and the entire control system will begin to function Sunday.

MAIN POINTS

There are three main points to the new program.

1. Heavy cash fines, ranging from $16,000 to $160,000 can be imposed on soccer clubs whose players are found guilty of using illegal stimulants. Previously, the clubs suffered point fines or had to forfeit victories.

2. Coaches and trainers no longer will be subject to suspension but rules suspending players who use drugs remain in force.

3. A doctor will be present at every major league game and a flip of a coin will determine whether a club's players are to be tested. In the past, soccer league officials decided in advance what clubs to test and doctors were not obliged to be present.

ON GUARD — Sensing that trouble is at hand, a big-racked buck sizes things up from brushy cover before stepping into the open. Nearly half a million deer hunters will be hoping to line up their sights on a deer such as this when the firearm season opens Saturday in the western Upper Peninsula and Sunday in the remainder of the state.

Press Contest Set

Deer Hunting Army Poised

Firearm deer hunters, expected to invade the state's forests in record numbers approaching 525,000 are expected to tote home 130,000 whitetails.

One of the bucks may be a record for the annual Pontiac Press Big Deer Contest which gets under way when the season opens Saturday in the western Upper Peninsula and Sunday in the remainder of the state.

All residents of Oakland County are eligible. Only bucks taken in Michigan during the firearms season can be entered. A $150 savings bond will go to the hunter entering the heaviest buck.

The field dressed entries must be weighed on state approved scales and the weight slip signed by the hunter, person weighing the deer and one witness.

The buck must be brought to The Press for viewing by a staff member. The weight slip can be turned in at the sports department.

Deadline for entering is Noon, Dec. 1.

BIG 'IF'

As always, the big "if" will be the weather.

Given good conditions, hunters will have everything going for them when they swing into action Saturday in the western Upper Peninsula and Sunday throughout the rest of the state.

With any - deer regulations more liberal and this year's herd estimated at or slightly above the high 1963 level of about 800,000 animals, the Conservation Department's pre-season outlook points to a fall take of 60,000-70,000 antlerless deer and well over 70,000 bucks.

Although most of the animals will be shot in Michigan's north woods, the southern third of the state will account for a fair share of the total kill.

Throughout the southern farm belt, where the increasing deer herd totals about 60,000 animals, buck kill is anticipated to go over the 8,000 mark, bettering last season's all-time high of about 6,800.

Also, under the southern region's first major special season, hunters are expected to harvest 1,850 antlerless whitetails—a little more than one deer per square mile—in 12 areas where any-deer regulations have been set to tone down heavy crop damage by these animals.

COUNTIES LISTED

Coming under this antlerless season are parts of Ottawa, Kent, Ionia, Berrien, Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Calhoun, Eaton, and Livingston counties.

Buck hunters in the north country, who notched their highest kill in 12 years last season, are counted upon to do just as well this fall.

Department game officials look for them to harvest 20,000 bucks in the Upper Peninsula and 50,000 in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Meanwhile, special seasons are expected to produce an antlerless take of 15,400 deer in the Upper Peninsula and more than 49,000 in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Prospects for this November's bear season, which again dovetails with the deer hunt, shape up about the same as a year ago as far as the animals' populations are concerned.

Here, too,, much will depend on the whims of the weather.

'Collared' Deer Roam in Michigan

Hunters bagging a collar-marked deer don't have to hide the fact for fear they've done something wrong.

Instead, hunters are requested to tell Conservation Department field men all about it — the place where the animal was shot, whether it is a doe or buck and the band number on its collar.

The story behind all this is tied to a department research project on deer movements. Self - marking devices set out in northern deeryards and southern farmland areas have "collared" several hundred whitetails during the last few winters.

Now, the department is turning to hunters for reports on these tagged whitetails to form a clearer picture of deer comings and goings, which, in turn, will help shape management of the animals' northern range.

Biologists Man Check Stations

Will Inspect Deer Taken by Hunters

Hunters who get their deer this season can learn more about the animals they've shot and give the Conservation Department an assist in managing whitetails by stopping on the way home at a roadside checking station.

Game biologists at these stations will tell hunters the age of their deer and examine the animals for other information, including antler development.

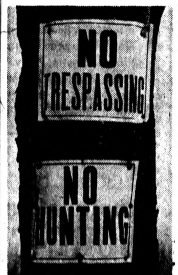
Through the help of hunters, department game men will be able to size up the herd's condition, finding out at the same time those areas where winter food shortages have held down deer production and growth.

Sites of the department's roadside stations will be at the Straits of Mackinac and near Birch Run on I-75, Alma on US-27, Howard City on US-131 and White Cloud on M37.

Deer will be checked through the Straits station Nov. 18-22 and Nov. 28-29. The other stop-over points will be open Nov. 15-17, Nov. 21-22, and Nov. 28-29.

Turley Joins Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bob Turley, baseball's outstanding pitcher in 1958, will join the Houston Colts this spring in an attempt to make a comeback as a major league pitcher.



CLOSED — Each deer season, hunters see more of the signs shown above in Northern Michigan. Finding hunting room in the north is becoming almost as much a problem as it is in Southern Michigan's farm belt.

Kenny Lane Ranked 5th

NEW YORK (AP) — Muskegon's Kenny Lane was ranked fifth in the lightweight division today in Ring Magazine's November boxing ratings.

Conservation Director Forms Resources Section

Formation of a new Recreation Resources Planning Section in the Michigan Department of Conservation was announced today by Director Ralph A. MacMullan.

The new unit, to be headed temporarily by Norman F. Smith, will be responsible for comprehensive planning functions of the department and will be a key factor for implementation in Michigan of the new federal Land and Water Conservation Fund Act.

The new section will have as its first responsibility completion of a comprehensive master plan for Michigan outdoor recreation.

This must be submitted to the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and approved before the state can qualify for Land and Water funds.

MacMullan said the section will do broad planning for all types of outdoor recreation in which the department has an interest.

The unit eventually will have an 11-man staff.

Seney Refuge Open for Hunting Deer

Upper Peninsula hunters will again find a big chunk of land open to stalking deer and bear at the Seney national wildlife refuge in Schoolcraft County.

Big game hunting will be permitted daily within a posted 85,200-acre area of the refuge from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. during the Nov. 14-29 season, the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife announces.

State regulations on deer and bear hunting will hold sway in the area which is shown on maps available at the refuge's Seney headquarters.

Quick Turnabout by Steels

Market Rescued From Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — A quick turnabout by steels rescued the stock market from a slow decline and established an irregular pattern early this afternoon.

The pace of trading picked up as steels rallied actively from recent sharp losses.

Early dealings, affected by the Veterans' Day observance by banks and some other institutions, were sluggish and showed a somewhat lower price trend.

As steels rebounded, other stocks also improved a little. Motors were still lower on balance but Chrysler converted a small loss into a fractional gain.

BUYING STRONG

Scattered improvement took place elsewhere in the list and buying was strong in specially situated issues.

Airlines were up from the start and widened their gains as steels paced the recovery. Many losses remained in various sections of the list, however.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .3 at 325.7 with industrials off .4, rails off .5 and utilities up .1.

The steels, which were mostly down by fractions in early trading, came back strongly.

ON AMERICAN

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Losses of a point or so were taken by Carnation, Webb & Knapp preferred and Fotochrome convertible debentures. Up about a point were Baldwin - Montrose Chemical, Data-Control Systems, Solitron Devices and TWA warrants. Fotochrome common was a fractional loser along with Brazilian Traction, Giant Yellowknife and Pratt & Lambert. Up fractionally were Atlantic Thrift Centers, Day Mines, Fargo Oils, International Oil & Gas and Syntex.

Corporate bonds were mixed in light trading. Markets for U.S. Government bonds were closed because of Veterans' Day.

'Job Trainees Finding Work'

Says Most in Labor Program Employed

DETROIT (AP)— More than three-quarters of the jobless Michigan workers being trained under the Manpower Development and Training Act are finding jobs, a Labor Department official said here Tuesday.

Elmer L. Baab, Michigan and Indiana field director of the Office of Manpower, Automation and Training, spoke at the annual business convention of the Michigan Consumer Finance Association.

"Over and above the human factors involved in training the unemployed, it just makes good business sense to invest in people," Baab said, adding:

"A high percentage of MDTA trainees were receiving public assistance before training. But now they can support themselves and their families and become taxpaying citizens capable of competing in our society for suitable employment."

PLACEMENT RATE

The national placement rate for workers completing MDTA courses is about 72 per cent, and the Michigan rate is about 76 per cent, Baab said.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I am eighty years old and own a dozen common stocks, most of which have considerable capital gain. I understand that it's quite a complicated process to get stock transferred to your heirs, of which I have three. To simplify things, I thought of selling my stocks and buying series H savings bonds in equal amounts in my name with the name of one heir on each block of H bonds as co-owner. What do you think of this plan?" W. W.

(A) It is not a complicated or long-drawn-out process to get stocks transferred to your heirs after your death. If you have drawn a will, any lawyer can get probate and transfer your shares within a relatively short time.

Your plan would simplify matters, since on your death your H bonds immediately become the sole property of the co-owners, your heirs, and thus meets your purpose.

(Q) "Ten years ago, I bought 100 shares of J. I. Case. For years, I never got any dividends. Now Kern County Land has bought control of Case. Should I hold on to Case or switch into something else?" F. F.

(A) Control of J. I. Case by Kern County Land may ultimately benefit Case, which has had a very erratic earnings record over the past decade and sold recently below its best levels of 10 years ago. No dividends have been paid on the common since 1954, and none on the preferred since 1960.

Case is one of the larger farm machinery companies. It has suffered from a shortage of capital that has hindered growth. The stock is speculative and I believe you have held it long enough.

I would switch into Pacific Gas & Electric, offering a secure 3.3 per cent yield with growth potential.

Movie Theater in Walled Lake

The Lake Theatre in Walled Lake will reopen Saturday, completely remodeled with new seats, new carpeting, a 30-foot-wide screen and the latest sound equipment according to the owner, Bud Harris.

The theater, at 420 Pontiac Trail, closed seven years ago for lack of patronage, according to Harris.

In the meantime it was converted to a bowling alley and later a pool hall. The pool operation has been moved to another location.

Harris of 2630 Garland, Sylvan Lake, estimates the cost of remodeling at $45,000.

Boost for Economy

More Buying Expected

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Americans are set to spend more and borrow more the rest of this year, if present signs are borne out. And the boost this will give the economy is expected to carry over at least into next spring.

Consumers currently are increasing both the amount spent and the percentage of their incomes parted with. The slowly rising cost of living accounts for only part of this outlay. And little fear of sharp increases in prices in the future is reported.

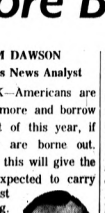
In September consumer credit also rose fairly sharply, as much of the increased spending was put on the cuff.



DAWSON

At the same time, business was raising inventories and this, too, is a form of bettigg on future prosperity. An even surer sign of confidence is the latest report on business plans to raise spending for new plants and equipment. Industrial leaders are counting on expanding markets.

Pollsters studying consumer intentions cite a significant rise in optimism during the summer months. They project this, plus gains in personal income totals, into larger dollar outlays in the months ahead.

The University of Michigan's Institute of Social Research thinks the marked improvement in consumer sentiment between June and September is due more to actual increases in before-tax income of many Americans rather than to the gains in take-home pay from the federal tax cut.

Its survey shows many consumers dismissing the tax cut as too small on a weekly basis to make much difference in their spending.

Earlier debt repayments and savings increases have given many consumers a greater readiness this fall to spend. The institute thinks "the economy will be stimulated by substantial consumer demand during the Christmas season and also in the spring of next year when fiscal policy will provide a much smaller new stimulus than in the spring of this year."

SEPTEMBER FIGURES

Government figures for September show that the change from saving to spending and borrowing is already under way.

Installment debt rose $513 million to nearly $57.5 billion. Other forms of credit brought the total of consumer credit to $73.5 billion.

Instruct Learning Skills

New Demands Being Made on Teachers

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Passing on information can no longer be the major role of the schoolteacher.

In this modern day, it is not the information a student acquires in school that is of the most value to him in life, but the skill he has developed for the gaining of new knowledge. This places new demands on teacher-training institutions. If the prospective teacher is to help students acquire effective learning habits and skills he, himself, must first have acquired them.

DR. NASON

A teacher of physics or chemistry must not only be conversant with these subjects, but with the most efficient ways of mastering and organizing them.

Once the prospective teacher has acquired the skills of learning in a subject, he should then be given opportunities to apply the principles in helping faltering students.

The teacher must be aware of the thinking processes involved in learning if he is to recognize the shortcomings of a struggling student. How well the student is learning to use his intelligence can be discovered only through long observation. Included in each teacher's training should be experience, under guidance, of diagnostic and remedial work with at least a few students.

TEACHING SKILLS

The prospective elementary schoolteacher must not only have acquired skill and facility in handwriting but must understand how such skills are acquired. Only through the experience of helping pupils actually improve their handwriting and seeing the resulting improvement in their school work can the teacher be prepared to cope with this situation in a roomful of students.

The diagnosis of learning problems at any level of education is a skill that takes time for development. I have watched prospective teachers struggle with a single underachieving child's problems for as long as two months.

With experience, the diagnosis proceeds faster and the teacher can move directly to the source of the difficulty rather than spend time in random search. Since it is time-consuming, a new teacher should gain experience in it before his attention is completely absorbed with classroom management and subject presentation.

I agree with Dr. James B. Conant that the combining efforts of all of the faculty members of the teacher-training institutions should be utilized in making sure that prospective teachers have developed the skills of learning so well that they can help others effectively.

Terence Reese of Great Britain has long been justly regarded as one of the world's greatest card players.

JACOBY

One test of a great card player is his ability to make a difficult hand look easy.

Reese ducked the first diamond and won the second in his own hand. East discarded the four of clubs, so Terence led a club to dummy's king. East won with the ace and led back the deuce of spades.

Terence played low. After West won with the king, he was able to take three spade tricks and two tricks in each other suit.

What was difficult about the hand? Nothing, the way Reese played it. On the other hand, this particular three no-trump was played against the Swiss team which finished fifth in the World Bridge Olympiad and the Swiss South managed to make only eight tricks.

He won the first diamond and led a heart to dummy's nine spot. East won with the jack and led back the deuce, which was won by declarer's king.

Now South played a club. East won with the ace and led another heart to dummy's ace. A spade was led and the jack finessed. West took his king and returned a spade, whereupon declarer was only able to make two spade tricks. Two tricks in each suit only adds up to eight and South was down one.

You, South, hold:

What do you do now?

A—Bid three clubs. You have 16 high-card points and can afford to compete further.

TODAY'S QUESTION

West passes. Your partner bids three hearts. East passes. What do you do now?

Death Takes Mousketeer

HONOLULU (UPI)—Jimmie Dodd, the guitar-strumming exchief Mouseketeer of Walt Disney's Mickey Mouse television show, died in Honolulu yesterday after an illness of nearly two months.

Dodd was 54 years old but still had a remarkably youthful appearance that made him a part of the children's program for seven years.

The entertainer and songwriter had a record of heart trouble and survived a serious illness in 1951. He was hospitalized Aug. 24, two days after he arrived in Honolulu to start a television show in the islands.

He was reported suffering from complete exhaustion.

A spokesman at the Honolulu coroner's office said it was believed that Dodd died of a respiratory ailment, but said an autopsy would be conducted before the body was shipped to Hollywood.

BORN IN OHIO

Dodd was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, March 28, 1910, and got his first job as a guitar player and singer with a radio station in St. Petersburg, Fla.

He moved to Hollywood to make a career as a songwriter.

We're Trying to Halt Flow of Smut, Says Postmaster

By DON PEMBER

The Pontiac Post Office is doing everything possible to stop the flow of lewd and obscene material through the mail, according to Postmaster William Donaldson.

The postmaster today commented on complaints made by citizens who are alarmed over the amount of obscene material on sale at newsstands.

Donaldson said that no postal laws have been rescinded recently and he didn't feel anyone was being derelict in his duty.

He then made two points in connection with the post office's fight against obscene material.

First, most material which appears on newsstands does not come through the post office.

The magazines, books and newspapers are trucked into the area and then distributed from dealers to the newsstands, drugstores and other outlets.

MAIN AVENUE

Secondly, the post office's main avenue in fighting smut is through citizen complaints, and it is almost impossible to act without these complaints.

The non-newsstand obscene material which is sent through the mail is usually sent as a first-class package or letter, Donaldson said.

"We are prohibited by law from opening first-class mail," the postmaster added.

The Post Office Department has always invited its patrons who receive objectionable material to bring the matter, along with the envelope it was mailed in, to the post office, Donaldson said.

INVESTIGATION FOLLOWS

He explained that when the post office receives this material it is immediately sent to the postal inspector's office for investigation.

Donaldson added that as a father and grandfather, he personally welcomed the feeling of resentment displayed by local residents during the past weeks.

Investigation of obscene materials sent through the mails is a big job; a never-ending job according to Postal Inspector Harry Wetzel of the Detroit Post Office.

In the past two or three years enforcement of the postal regulations has been stressed, more than ever before, Wetzel said, with the result of more arrests and more convictions.

DURING 1963

During the 1963 fiscal year, 761 arrests for violation of the mail obscenity laws were re-

Johnson to Recommend Cut in Excise Taxes

VETERANS DAY — Local veterans, hardened by the rigors of war, gathered yesterday to honor America's servicemen on Veterans Day. The program proceeded without incident until the youthful nonveteran bugler broke under tension waiting for the impending rifle salute. For a closer look at his reaction, see the photo below.

Disappeared Tuesday

Missing Girl Found

BENTON HARBOR (AP)— A tearful but joyous meeting at Mercy Hospital here today reunited 11-year-old Ann Zelenak with Mrs. Harold Thumm, the foster mother from whose home she disappeared Tuesday evening.

Pending results of an examination requested by Berrien County juvenile authorities, hospital attendants said the girl appeared to be in good condition.

Gas station operator Art Spears called the sheriff's office to report that he spotted a girl sitting in a ditch beside the road while on his way to work.

Spears said she answered the description of the child sought by up to 200 police and volunteers on a round-the-clock operation since Tuesday night.

Sheriff's Sgt. Forrest Jewel said the girl was "just sitting there rubbing her ankles" when he arrived at the site with other officers.

GIRL WAS COLD

"She appeared cold but claimed she was okay," he said. "We put her in the car and wrapped a blanket around her and took her to the hospital. She told us she had just been walking through the fields ever since she left."

Some of the area had been covered by mounted possemen and searchers on foot.

A nurse at the hospital said the girl told of eating apples she had found in orchards along the way.

Ann was located about 5 miles northeast of the Thumm home where she had lived the past 15 months as a ward of Probate Court. She was made a court ward for "dependency reasons," officials said.

ONE OF FAMILY

The girl is one of several children in the family of Joseph Zelenak who lives on a farm near Bareda.

Mrs. Thumm said Ann had seemed contented with the foster home but had been disciplined recently for being "naughty" by shirking household duties.

She told newsmen yesterday that Ann went outdoors against orders and believed the girl stayed away because "she was worried because she disobeyed."

BURNING TENEMENT — Firemen battle flames roaring through a five-story tenement in Holyoke, Mass., early today. At least seven persons are reported dead in the fire that officials believe was touched off by an arsonist.

Would Abolish Surcharge on Many Goods

Total Reduction Could Reach $2 Billion; Economy to Be Factor

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has decided to recommend a 1965 excise tax cut that may approach $2 billion. It would stretch the spending money of almost every citizen in the land.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, an overnight guest at the LBJ Ranch near here, reported late yesterday that Johnson had just agreed to a basic decision, first of all, to abolish all $550 million of excise taxes added to the retail price of cosmetics, toilet goods, jewelry, furs, luggage and pocketbooks.

These war-born taxes boost purchase prices by 10 per cent.

In addition, Dillon told a news conference, Johnson will ask Congress in January to repeal or reduce still other excise taxes that would add "a good bit more" to the total size of the proposed tax cut.

Dillon said the maximum possible tax saving would be $4 billion. And he emphasized that such a figure was sure to prove too high.

POSSIBLE ACTION

At another point, he spoke of possible action on 65 to 70 different excise levies that net Uncle Sam nearly $2 billion a year.

Most experts believed the total tax cut to be recommended by Johnson—and this decision still was up in the air—would amount to somewhere between $1 billion and $2 billion.

Dillon said a final presidential decision would be delayed pending a last-minute reading of the economic outlook and possible inflationary influences.

Dillon said he thought "this would be a rather easy bill to

Are New Soviet Leaders Over Red China Barrel?

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Red China's team in Moscow seems to have the new Soviet regime over a barrel in the struggle over what direction world communism will take.

Premier Chou En-lai and his delegation forced a concession from the Kremlin in return for extending the current chilly truce in the dispute.

From its strong bargaining position, Red China appears to have forced the Kremlin to back away from its plans for a December meeting of international Communist leaders to prepare for a world meeting.

Instead, there are to be Soviet-Chinese talks in Peking early next year. But in the long run, this concession means little.

The talks this week accomplished little beyond temporarily halting the barrage and counter-barrage of vilification which flew between Moscow and Peking in Nikita Khrushchev's time. This cease-fire now may last into 1965, or at least keep the battle in a minor key.

But up to now the new Soviet leadership under Leonid I. Brezhnev as Communist party first secretary and Alexei N. Kosygin as premier seems to have failed in an important respect to meet the Chinese price for anything approaching a real peace.

PEACE CONDITIONS

While talks went on in Moscow, Peking's propaganda laid down peace conditions in no uncertain terms. The conditions are harsh and probably never can be met by the Russians.

The Peking People's Daily, the voice of the Chinese party, warned that the Soviet Union, if it wanted to restore unity, would have to support violent revolution everywhere, regardless of risk.

"Asia, Africa and Latin America," it said, "have become storm centers of world revolution. Surely the world revolution of the international proletariat is far from completed. The interests of the international proletariat make it imperative to carry world revolution through to the end."

The Communist world, it said, is "duty bound to support actively the revolutionary struggle of all oppressed people and nations."

POINTED WARNING

Peng Chen, a power in the Peking Politburo, said in a speech this week that "victory of the people's revolution will not come as a matter of course," a pointed warning that the U.S.S.R. would have to stop dragging its feet and disregard

15 Injured in Protest Over N-Sub

TOKYO (UPI) — Fifteen policemen were injured today in a clash with about 1,700 members of the fanatical Zengakuren organization who were protesting the visit of a nuclear-powered U.S. submarine.

The students hurled rocks and attacked policemen with placards in a rally at Hibaya Park, near the Imperial Palace. Two students were reported arrested. Officers emptied the park, saying the rally was not licensed.

An attempted march on the parliament building by the students was blocked.

This evening another rally at Hibaya Park also was dispersed, on grounds that its sponsors, the leftist Sohyo Labor Federation, had no permit.

Sohyo had gathered about 10,000 persons. A cold driving rain helped to disperse them.

At Sasebo, three demonstrations materialized after the submarine Sea Dragon sailed into the naval base. An expected massive demonstration by Socialists in the morning failed to live up to its sponsors' predictions.

7 Die in Fire; Suspect Arson

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP) — Seven persons — five of them children—perished when a general alarm midnight blaze, believed set, destroyed a five-story tenement.

Officials said the fire, which apparently started on a wooden rear porch, was the worst in the history of this industrial city located in Massachusetts' Connecticut Valley.

Four of the victims were members of one family. The other three dead were two small brothers and a little girl from a third family.

Five persons were hospitalized. Some 50 to 60 persons either fled the building or were rescued down ladders. None of the five injured was reported on the danger list.

Fire Chief William W. Mahoney said the fast-spreading fire "definitely was set." A volunteer rescue worker quoted a first floor tenant as saying he heard what he thinks was an intruder in the cellar of the building shortly before the fire was discovered.

There was confusion as to the number of victims until six hours after the blaze was brought under control in Holyoke's "the flats" section. Fire officials said at 8 a.m., however, that all known occupants had been accounted for.

Mistrial Ends Hit-Run Trial

CELINA, Tenn. (AP)—A son's 18-year search for his father's killer came to a temporary dead end today when the second-degree murder trial of Grover Jones ended in a mistrial even though the jury had voted to acquit the defendant.

Judge John A. Mitchell declared the mistrial at the state's request on grounds that two character witnesses for the 55-year-old Indianapolis handyman were related to members of the jury.

He did not announce plans for a new trial immediately.

Set Budget Target for Schools

An operating budget target of $11.5-million will be sought for 1965-66 by Pontiac schools, it was disclosed last night.

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer presented the target figure at last night's meeting of the Pontiac School Board.

The target figure is used by department heads, principals and other administrators in drawing up a preliminary budget, scheduled for board action in February.

Whitmer compared the 1965-66 target of $11,500,013 with the projected budget for next year in the "Study of Needs, 1963-1974."

The projected budget for 1964-65 was $11,065,768, compared to the actual budget of $11,066,426.

10-YEAR STUDY

The 10-year study projected a budget of $11,455,013 for 1965-66. However, two changes have revised the budget to the $11.5-million figure.

First, enrollment is estimated at 22,413 for next year, compared to only 22,176 in the 10-year projection.

Thus, school officials have added $75,000 to handle the 237 more students and the added teachers, materials and supplies required to maintain standards.

Secondly, the cost of living index jumped only one per cent, instead of 1.28 per cent anticipated in the "Needs" study.

STATE AID

On the income side, Whitmer said the 1965-66 budget will net the same $168 per pupil in state aid.

Also, state equalized valuation in Pontiac is expected to rise from $398 million in 1964 to $410 million next year.

Whitmer said most of this in-

County GOP to Pick Leader

Oakland County Republicans will get a new chairman today.

The GOP leader will be elected, along with other party officers, by the Republican Executive Committee at a closed meeting in Birmingham tonight.

The new chairman will succeed Charles L. Lyle, who has taken himself out of the running for the key post.

Lyle, 42, cited personal and business reasons for not being a candidate.

County chairman since 1961, Lyle of 18890 Hillcrest, Beverly Hills, said, however, that his decision does not mean that he will be inactive in party politics.

An April 1963, he announced that he was going to resign his post before the end of that year, but later changed his mind. He noted then that he definitely would not be a candidate for reelection.

Lyle, a manufacturers representative with the Electroloy Co., was elected to the post in 1962.

The executive committee, responsible for naming the county chairman, is composed of the 19 Republican nominees for county and state legislative offices and an equal number of persons who were elected at the county GOP convention in September.

School Policy Is Supported

Action Deferred on Integration Statement

A policy statement reemphasizing the neighborhood school concept and placing "a positive emphasis upon achieving and maintaining a racially integrated school system" was discussed last night by the Pontiac School Board.

The board voiced approval of the statement, and it has reportedly been approved by the 16-member advisory Citizens Committee on Human Relations.

Action on it was postponed, however, until the next regular meeting, scheduled for Dec. 9.

Board President William Anderson said the board's bylaws dictate that proposed changes in or additions to policy must be tabled until the next scheduled meeting.

The board will not meet Nov. 25 because of the Thanksgiving vacation.

REVIEWS POLICY

Prompted by "de facto segregation" charges made by local Negro leaders, the statement reviews criteria for pupil placement, employment and assignment of teachers and educational programs.

Pupil placement practices adhere to "sound educational principles, and should provide integrated school populations insofar as this is possible," the policy announcement said.

The so-called neighborhood school concept, according to the policy, is considered sound educational practice and will be continued.

School attendance areas are governed by three criteria:

- Nearness to pupil residences.
- Safety of access routes.
- Reasonable capacity of the school.

The policy statement held out the possibility that additional criteria, namely, integrated student bodies, might be used in the future in making school boundaries.

corded—an increase of 96 per cent over 1959.

Convictions during that year totaled 637, a 108 per cent increase over 1959.

Federal statutes govern the sending of obscene material through the mail.

Briefly, the federal law states that it is illegal to send pornographic or obscene material in the mail.

MAXIMUM PENALTY

Maximum penalty could be a $10,000 fine or 10 years in jail, or both.

Wetzel points out that persons who cause the mail to be sent, such as a person who orders obscene material, are equally as guilty as someone who supplies it. Both face the same penalties.

The inspector also said that prosecution under this law may take place at the point where the mail is sent, the point the the mail is delivered, or any intermediate point.

Wetzel said one of the chief problems faced in prosecution is proving material, primarily literature or pictures, is obscene.

UP TO COURTS

There is no line which can be drawn and used to determine that material is or is not obscene, Wetzel said.

The courts must decide and the primary precedent which is used as a measure is the 1957 U.S. Supreme Court decision in Roth vs. U.S., Wetzel said.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., in writing the majority opinion for the court set down several ground rules which are still used.

Among other things he said: Sex and obscenity are not synonymous; obscene material being material which deals with sex in a manner appealing to prurient interests.

PROPER TEST

The proper test (of obscenity) is whether, to the average person, applying contemporary standards, the dominant theme of the material when taken as a whole appeals to prurient interests, he added.

The justice made it clear that it was not fair to judge a piece of matter by the effect of isolated portions of the piece upon the most susceptible individuals, such as small children.

Wetzel admitted that the department had not been too successful in stopping some magazines from using the mail for distribution.

Publications such as the "nudist" magazine are designed specifically for one group of people, nudists, and are not meant for public consumption, he said.

CONVICTION DIFFICULT

It is difficult to obtain a conviction in a matter such as this, he said.

The inspector said that the bulk of the obscene material sent through the mail is from mail-order companies.

Unsolicited advertisements are addressed from mailing lists bought by the suppliers from any number of sources, he said.

Wetzel said that it was his opinion that the American society was becoming a little more liberal in general about all things including obscenity.

He said this could be the reason more material is appearing today both in the mail and on the newsstands.

But he said that Michigan was still practically free from dealers or suppliers in obscene material.

He credited the clean record to strict enforcement by local police forces.

The prime suppliers are either in California or New York, he said

Wetzel also stressed as did Donaldson, that the department can do nothing unless patrons bring the objectionable material to the post office for investigation.

State Tax Cut Threatens Local Government Income

Michigan township and city assessors and tax equalization officials are deeply disturbed over a new personal property assessment schedule issued recently by the Michigan State Tax Commission.

The new schedule of assessments is designed to give Michigan business and industry a tax break. But in so doing, it deprives many of the state's municipalities of a sizable portion of their tax income.

Edwin C. Sage, director of the Oakland County Equalization Department, estimated the potential loss in county tax revenue at nearly $2 million in 1965, based on a decrease of some $42 million in state equalized valuation of personal property.

The City of Pontiac will likely face a loss of between $9 and $16 million in its present state equalized value, but it will be offset by current expansion of Pontiac Motor Division, according to city officials.

Macomb County stands to lose some $70-$80 million of its tax base, and Wayne County's potential loss hasn't even been estimated yet.

HEARINGS SET

Apparently expecting opposition to the new schedule, the Tax Commission has scheduled hearings in Detroit and Lansing Nov. 18 and 19 for municipal officials to present their case.

For tax purposes, personal property includes manufacturing tools, machinery and materials inventory, business equipment and stock inventory, farm implements, livestock and other valuable items.

Each property owner is allowed an exemption of $10,000, so the average citizen does not pay personal property tax.

Real estate tax provides by far the greatest share of county and city income in Michigan.

But metropolitan industrialized counties like Oakland, Wayne, Macomb and Genesee and cities like Pontiac, Detroit and Flint derive a sizable revenue from personal property tax.

NEW PROVISIONS

The tax commission's new assessment schedule, which is revised every year, provides for faster depreciation and lower assessments on factory equipment.

The problem of what to do about the threatened loss of revenue was discussed at length Tuesday in a meeting of the Oakland County Equalization Committee.

No immediate solution was presented, but the committee members and tax officials from Macomb County agreed that raising real property taxes isn't the answer.

Chances are the five counties in the Detroit metropolitan area will present an organized appeal to the State Tax Commission.

The outcome of such an appeal is doubtful, but the committee agreed that it would be at least a step in the right direction.

Budget Target Set by Board

crease is projected from Pontiac Motor Division expansion.

Although allocated millage will continue at the present 8.23-mill level, school officials anticipate the 1:40 mills, allocated as a variable rate in the city, will not be granted by the County Tax Allocation Board in 1965.

LOSE $525,000

Pontiac schools would lose approximately $525,000 in tax revenue, said Whitmer.

However, he cautioned that "much uncertainty" surrounds the question of variable allocations. He said the allocation board might increase basic allocations, reducing some of the loss.

In addition, the Oakland County Superintendents Association, headed by Whitmer this year, is considering sponsoring legislation to make variable rates legally acceptable.

In any event, Whitmer told board members, it appears the projected cash reserves for June 1965, will have to be used to finance the operating budget.

It appears now that the reserves will be sufficient to cover the projected target.

STAFF STUDIES

Staff studies — items to improve school programs and services, will be incorporated into the preliminary budget, adopted in February.

Prior to being presented to the school board, staff studies will be reviewed by the superintendent.

Final action on the 1965-66 budget is scheduled for next June. The fiscal year begins July 1.

Birmingham Area News

Plan Aimed at Aiding Youths

BIRMINGHAM — The academically able student who needs more than the average amount of intellectual stimulation . . .

. . . the troubled child whose problem may mar his life this year or at some unknown time in the future . . .

It is these who concern Schools Supt. Dr. John B. Smith.

And it is in terms of these youngsters, and those in-between and around them, that he explains the $1.3-million Birmingham Plan.

The program now being implemented was backed by district voters in June. They then approved an operating levy which included seven-tenths of a mill for improving the school program.

FIVE YEARS

Expected to raise $1,256,500 during the five years it is in effect, the seven-tenths of a mill is earmarked for research and development—incorporated into the Birmingham Plan package.

Several ideas now are being considered by a steering committee of teachers and administrators, Smith said, noting that suggestions are coming in from other members of the professional staff.

System-wide proposals under exploration include the creation of a special program for the academically able student, preparation and implementation of a study skills program and flexible or modular scheduling.

Smith interprets these educational concepts in terms of their part in the development of the individual student.

HELP INDIVIDUAL

"This whole program is geared to helping the individual" he said.

The superintendent sees as a major purpose of educators to "so stimulate and motivate the youngster over a 17-year span that he is determined to learn as long as he is alive."

Thus the Birmingham Plan will offer something to the exceptional student, the potential dropout and each of their classmates.

Emphasis is not to be placed entirely on division according to ability, Smith said, although the traditional manner of grouping by age is subject to question.

Instructional methods being investigated include team teaching and the nongraded elementary schools, which utilize independent study, seminars, small and large group instruction.

The new Evergreen Elementary School and additions to Meadow Lake and Valley Woods schools are being designed to accommodate such flexible programs, Smith said.

A pioneer in team teaching before coming to Birmingham a year ago, Smith said that part of the plan will be initiated next fall, along with a program for the academically able and the introduction of guidance counselors in the elementary schools.

Already under way on the elementary level are remedial and enrichment reading programs and foreign language instruction.

JUNIOR HIGH

Under consideration at the junior high level are a revision and alignment of all social studies programs, provision for a developmental reading program and expansion and acceleration opportunities in mathematics and science.

At the senior high level, the following areas are under study:

- The need of the "marginal" student and potential dropout with consideration of programs other than the vocational type.

- Extension of honors or advanced placement courses in all areas.

EXTENSION OF COURSE

- Development and extension of courses in the humanities.
- A restudy of the scheduling processes for the development of more extensive opportunities in the various arts.

The Birmingham Plan will involve the utilization of a number of the professional staff members on a 12-month basis.

It is estimated that 25 per cent, or about 150, of the staff will have 12-month contracts within five years.

12-MONTH FACULTY

The 12-month faculty members will concentrate on up-dating and revising the curriculum.

They will investigate and plan new programs, develop improved teaching methods and special programs, evaluate the output of the school system and establish ways to train specialists and master teachers.

"It's an old cliche that education is 50 years behind educational research," Smith said. "We're going to narrow that gap."

Ford Plants Begin Layoffs

Settlement Reached at Louisville Unit

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. laid off 500 of its workers yesterday and said several thousand more would be furloughed by the end of the week because of strikes at eight of its key plants.

The number of at-the-plant strikes was reduced from nine yesterday when Ford said a settlement had been reached at the Louisville, Ky., assembly plant.

This plant and eight others were struck by United Auto Workers union members Friday to back up their demands for local working agreements.

The local pacts supplement a national contract already agreed to by Ford and the UAW.

After announcing the Louisville settlement, Ford said it did not plan to post work schedules at the plant until union members ratified the settlement. A ratification meeting is scheduled for tomorrow.

PARTIAL LAYOFFS

Yesterday's layoffs were at the Canton, Ohio, forge plant (300 men) and the Rawsonville parts making operation (200 men).

Ford said the layoffs were partial, however, and the plants were continuing to operate.

A company spokesman said the layoffs were "a direct result of strikes" at the idled key plants.

He said if the strikes were not settled today, 1,100 workers at the Lorain, Ohio, assembly plant would be laid off at the end of the day shift.

ANOTHER 3,000

Another 3,000 would be laid off at the same plant at the end of the day shift tomorrow if the strike is not settled by then, he said.

Talks dealing with four of the plants had been held in Detroit this week but the bargainers for three of them returned home last night to continue the negotiations.

Did Chinese Make Soviets Back Down?

risks of war involved in supporting violence.

The Chinese make these points:

The Soviet Union must refrain from dictating to other parties.

The People's Daily said unity depends upon disappearance of "great nation chauvinism."

EQUAL TREATMENT

Moscow must treat Peking as equal, and "it is only when these principles are strictly observed, not only in word but in deed, that the unity of the international Communist movement can be strengthened."

Moscow must purge from power all who supported Khrushchev. This is one of the most difficult demands, since Khrushchev's adherents were strongly entrenched.

But the People's Daily insisted that "uncompromising struggle must be waged against all forms of opportunism which betray Marxism-Leninism, especially modern revisionism."

The paper pointedly called Khrushchev "chief representative" of modern revisionism, clearly meaning that many more remain in the Soviet party.

FBI Ruining My Business—Maddox

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Cafeteria owner Lester Maddox, whose fried chicken and other Southern victuals are not for sale to integrationists and interstate travelers, said today that federal agents are ruining his business by tracking down and questioning his customers.

"Unless this harassment by the FBI is stopped, it is going to put me out of business," Maddox complained. "There won't be any need to go back into court."

The 49-year-old segregationist, who has barred Negroes from his place, has been ordered into federal court in contempt proceedings because of an injunction against his segregation policy. A hearing has been delayed until the U.S. Supreme Court rules on the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

"About 100 persons have called me or contacted me and said they were questioned by the FBI for stopping here or eating at my place," Maddox said.

OPENED AGAIN

When he was placed under the court injunction last August, Maddox shut down his business, the Picrick Restaurant. He opened again Sept. 26 under a new name, Lester Maddox Cafeteria, in the same building and again turned away Negroes.

His new policy of refusing to serve integrationists or interstate travelers is posted at two locations in the cafeteria. The Civil Rights Act says businesses serving or offering to serve interstate travelers come within the new law.

Maddox said that since FBI agents began questioning many of his patrons, his business had been dropping.

"I was serving about 2,500 meals a week to students from Georgia Tech. Since the FBI harassment of the students and their parents began, this has dropped to less than 1,000," he said.

BUSINESS LOWER

Maddox said the Pickrick's volume was $55,000, in July but his new business was bringing in less than $40,000 a month.

Joseph K. Ponder of the Atlanta FBI said agents had "conducted certain investigations involving litigation presently in court and since it still is in court, I have no comment."

Maddox said the souvenir business at his cafeteria also was slow.

He sells autographed axe handles, called Pickrick drumsticks, and segregationist literature.

Maddox said he was confident that the Supreme Court would strike down the public accommodations sections of the Civil Rights Act. He was asked what would he do if the court upheld the law.

"I just can't believe that," Maddox said.

Court Rules Jailing Illegal in Rhodesia

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesia's high court handed Prime Minister Ian Smith's white government a sharp setback today, ruling that African nationalist leader Joshua Nkomo and 16 other Africans are being detained illegally in Gwelo jail.

Chief Justice Sir Hugh Beadle and two other judges agreed that the Preventive Detention Act under which the 17 Africans were held is inconsistent with the constitution's declaration of rights.

The court ruled that the government's orders jailing the men should be canceled.

Nkomo and his associates will not be released immediately, however. The judges suspended their order until Nov. 20 to give the government time to appeal to the privy council in London, the British Commonwealth's highest court.

The government said it had not decided whether it would appeal.

Eskimo Is Appointed Manager of Airport

BARROW, Alaska (AP) — Rex Ahvakana, 52-year-old Eskimo who helped bring the bodies of Will Rogers and Wiley Post here after their plane crashed Aug. 15, 1935, has been named manager of the new Barrow Airfield.

Ahvakana, who knew all about airplanes before he ever saw an automobile, has been a mechanic for Wien Alaska Airlines for many years. He was appointed airport manager by the village council.

But if you really want to cut down on your eating, and lose weight ODRINEX can be a powerful helper. The ODRINEX plan costs $3.00 and is sold on this guarantee: If not satisfied for any reason just return the package to your druggist and get your full money back. No questions asked. LBJ to Hold Barbecue Today for President-Elect of Mexico

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and the president- elect of Mexico, Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, meet informally here today.

The 53-year-old Daiz Ordaz and his wife were flying direct from Mexico City to Johnson's ranch near here for a day and a half of get-acquainted talks.

An elaborate barbecue spread awaited them. The President and Mrs. Johnson wanted to get the hands-across-the-border sessions started in a relaxed, friendly atmosphere.

Earlier this year, Johnson met twice with Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos — once in California for two days and again in September when the El Chamizal area at El Paso was returned to Mexico.

Officials stressed that this latest meeting would be unofficial and informal because Diaz Ordaz will not be sworn in until Dec. 1.

Handshakes and embrazos — embracing a welcome guest — take the place of cannon salutes and honor guards. Afterwards there may be a joint statement but no formal communique.

Government officials speculated the sessions would include important general discussions of international, Latin-American and bilateral problems.

Today's schedule called for the President and Mrs. Johnson to meet the Diaz Ordaz plane at the ranch airstrip. Some 250 guests will be on hand.

PICNIC GROUNDS

Then the President will lead his guests to the ranch barbecue picnic grounds under the oak trees along the Pedernales River that runs in front of the white frame and stone ranch house.

The menu features brisket of beef and beef ribs, barbecued over open fires, and also barbecued chicken and sausage.

Singer Eddie Fisher will be the principal entertainer.

Guests include comedian Milton Berle, veteran cowboy singer and movie star Gene Autry, and California Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Cong Fire, Rain Hamper Aid Efforts in Viet Flood Disaster

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Communist antiaircraft fire and constantly pounding rain hampered efforts today to assist thousands caught in central Viet Nam's major flood disaster.

"Neither the weather nor the Viet Cong promise much in the way of a letup," said an American spokesman.

More than 1,000 persons have been reported drowned in flood waters that have surged through 10 provinces. Many were caught in flood waters that burst out of the mountains in Guang Tin Province.

Other deaths were reported in coastal Binh Dinh Province.

The U. S. commander in Viet Nam, Gen. William Westmoreland, dispatched a team of logistic and medical experts to the central region today.

PLANES FLOWN IN

Some U. S. planes have flown into Saigon from Okinawa and Clark Air Base in the Philippines with supplies.

West of Saigon, Communist guerrillas ambushed a government infantry column on its way to a hamlet under attack, killing 26 of the government troops and wounding 33. No Americans were reported with the government unit.

The Vietnamese news agency published a message of support from President Johnson to Premier Tran Van Huong, who took over the government two weeks ago.

"You may be certain," the President said, "that you have the firm moral and material support of the United States in your defense of the freedom and independence of the Republic of Viet Nam.

"Our goals, like yours, are the goals of free men everywhere, peace, freedom and national independence for every country. Our commitment to the achievement of these goals is unshakable."

But despite support from the Vietnamese armed forces and the United States, Huong's position appeared shaky. S

Russian Delegate Dismisses Johnson's Move to Resolve U.N. Financing Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union's U.N. delegate has dismissed as "empty" President Johnson's overture to resolve the deadlock over financing of U.N. peace-keeping activities.

Johnson in a message yesterday said the United States is willing to resolve the U.S.-Soviet dispute "in any number of possible ways . . . consistent with the U.N. Charter.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko told newsmen that Johnson's statement was "an empty thing" and that his government would not budge from its position.

The Soviet Union refuses to pay $52.6 million in arrears for the Congo and Middle East peace-keeping operations. It charges the operations are illegal because they were approved by the General Assembly rather than the Security Council where the Soviets have a veto.

The United States has vowed to strip the Soviets of their voting rights in the General Assembly under a U.N. Charter provision calling for such action if a nation falls two years behind in its assessments. The Soviet Union has indicated it might quit the United Nations if it is deprived of its vote.

The Soviets could avoid a showdown if they pay $5.7 million of the amount due before the assembly convenes Dec. 1

After a meeting with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, Fedorenko referred newsmen to a statement from his government Saturday which repeated the Soviet position.

It also said if the "colonialists" were allowed to use the U.N. Charter "for their own interests," the Soviet Union would have to "review its attitude towards the United Nations and all its activities."

Fedorenko said the statement was "straight and absolute . . . nothing changed. Do not have any illusions."

The United States has also threatened to withhold its annual pledge to U.N. programs financed by voluntary contributions if the Soviets refuse to pay. Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, has called the threat blackmail.

Gas Price Now 75 Cents a Gallon

British Tax Called 'Shocker'

LONDON (UPI) — Motorists and the opposition press reacted with dismay today to the new sixpence (seven U. S. cents) tax per gallon on gasoline and related products levied by the new Labor government.

"I thought these people were supposed to bring the cost of living down," said Dennis Quinlin, a bank clerk. "This will affect the cost of living all around — transport first and foremost."

The tax raised the price of regular grade gasoline to about 75 cents a gallon. Motorists queued up at gas stations last night to stock up on pretax fuel before the new tax went into effect at 6 p. m.

"Sixpenny Shocker," said a headline on the Sketch. The Daily Express echoed the sentiment: "Callaghan's Sixpenny Budget Shocker."

The gas tax was one of five resolutions moved yesterday by the House of Commons after Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan introduced his "little budget."

FOUR RESOLUTIONS

Four of the resolutions were passed. A two-day debate began today on the fifth — the Labor government's proposed tax rebate to exporters.

The new taxes are expected to contribute to an over-all reduction in the annual debt from $2.2 billion to about $1.2 billion.

The other measures passed yesterday included:

- A ratification of the 15 per cent surcharge on imports previously announced by the three-week-old government of Prime Minister Harold Wilson. This measure has riled other European governments.
- Increased welfare benefits, effective next March.
- An income tax increase amounting to about two and one-half cents on the dollar, affecting about one-third of the nation's taxpayers and none at the lower income levels. It goes into effect next April 6.

Other "little budget" measures (the big budget is introduced in April) would call for:

- Replacement of the company income tax with a corporation tax, effective next spring.
- Increased old-age pensions, effective March 29.
- Increased allotments for widows not qualifying for postwar benefit programs.
- Increased sickness and unemployment benefits.

Board Hears Advantage of Preschool Program

"What knowledge or skills should a 4-year-old child possess to be prepared for kindergarten?"

Answers to this question were presented last night to the Pontiac School Board by Mrs. Pearlina Butler, principal of Whittier School and coordinator of a proposed preschool program.

Mrs. Butler pioneered preschool instruction in Pontiac, setting up an after-hours voluntary program for preschoolers at Whittier School.

She said the effort was prompted after test results showed the achievement levels of many elementary children were far below grade level, especially in reading.

Designed to strengthen the areas of retention, interests, muscular coordination, vocabulary and general information, the program generally aids a child's preparation for schoolwork.

Mrs. Butler will head the school district's proposed preschool centers, a program to be offered in cooperation with the Pontiac Area Urban League.

But what of the learning? What were preschool youngsters taught?

School board members last night were presented with a check list, detailing knowledge and skills for the preschooler which will prepare him for kindergarten.

Youngsters will learn self-identification, which includes repeating his first and last names clearly, his home address and recognition of both in print.

TEST CONCEPTS

Concepts of determination — the size, shape and design of things — will be tested.

For example, the check list includes such things as the recognizing of the differences between a penny, nickel and dime.

Coordination is another area included through the use of scissors, ability to run, jump or skip and the ability to recognize rhythm.

The school district program calls for the establishment of preschool centers in selected neighborhoods.

School officials point out that because of home conditions, some youngsters have had little or no contact with books, pencil and paper or other children.

That's No Bungalow; It Floats at High Tide

WACKER QUAY, England (UPI)—Retired Navy man John Goodwin objected to the planning officials' order to tear down his riverside weekend retreat.

He claimed it wasn't a bungalow, but a boat which floated twice daily, at high tide.

Does High Court Exert Undelegated Powers?

An older generation will remember the slogan of a well-known automobile company advising those desirous of authenticating the merit of its vehicle to "Ask the man who owns one."

So it is, by a slight recourse to literary license, that we are impressed by the words of a "Man who was one."

The man is Charles E. Whittaker, retired Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, and he accuses the present Court of usurping the people's right to govern themselves.

Charging that "liberal constructionists" have changed the meaning of the Constitution and given the Federal government powers which the document gave to the people and the states, the former jurist specifically pointed to the Court's 1936 decision upholding the constitutionality of the Wagner Act.

That depression-born law created the National Labor Relations Board and gave the Board broad powers in matters concerning labor conditions and commerce.

Justice Whittaker, who served on the High Bench from 1957 until he retired in 1962 for reasons of health, maintained that in the Court's interpretation of the regulation of interstate commerce, the decision left "to a vague rule of men rather than a definite rule of law" the question of Federal power over local activities.

There was a warning in his conclusion that changes in the Constitution by legislative definition and judicial interpretation were not made by the people, but "rather, it appears, by what GEORGE WASHINGTON called 'usurpation' which, he said, 'is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed.'"

These are prophetic words by the Father of Our Country and timely ones by Justice WHITTAKER.

Breath-Taker LBJ Win a Breather for Seers

One of the subsidiary results of the JOHNSON landslide was the restoration of pollsters to good standing.

Over the years, the pulse-feelers have had many ups and downs — almost as many as the politicians whom they often appraise.

The worst down, of course, was the classic blooper of the Literary Digest that predicted in 1936 that Gov. Alf Landon would defeat President Franklin Roosevelt. FDR knocked off Landon with the biggest electoral vote in history and virtually knocked the Digest out of business.

In 1948, three national pollers gave Gov. THOMAS E. DEWEY the nod over President HARRY TRUMAN. Again they took it on the chin, as did DEWEY.

They did all right on both EISENHOWER victories, and most had it figured that KENNEDY would beat NIXON — but none saw the photo finish.

But during this spring and summer, the state presidential primary elections — notably those of New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Oregon and California — had the political projectors scrambling like a trapped quarterback attempting a pass.

It took LBJ to really put them back in the ballot business.

They were all on the JOHNSON band wagon. And the members of the Fourth Estate, besides covering the present, also did pretty well covering the future.

A poll of 50 Washington correspondents showed that 49 predicted a JOHNSON win.

As they now emerge from the public opinion doghouse, it is presumed that the ertswhile occupants direct thankful and reverential bows to the occupant of the White House.

"BY 1970 a hospital room will cost $50 a day," says a physician. If so, many a person will then face the tough problem of deciding whether to die solvent or live bankrupt.

BEFORE sending astronauts to the moon, a remote-controlled bulldozer should be sent there to level off a field for landing.

Political Season Is Just Too Long

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hubert H. Humphrey bounded down the steps of his campaign plane in southern Illinois not many weeks ago and received a welcoming serenade of that old Democratic battle song, "Happy Days Are Here Again."

He'd heard it countless times. But on this day it was played with a rock 'n' roll beat.

It was jarringly symbolic of how the old meshes with the new in today's campaigning.

The horse-and-buggy politicking of torchlight rallies and street corner harangues are now played out to a faster, more exhausting rhythm set by jet planes and modern communications.

Despite the swifter pace, the presidential campaigns appear to grow no shorter. Some argue they are longer than ever.

TOO LONG

If one consensus has emerged from this political season it is that presidential campaigns are too long. Too long for the candidates, too long for the people.

Humphrey, who actually enjoys stumping, started out with the joy of a porpoise taking to the sea. But a couple of weeks before the end he was admitting that the journey was too long.

"I'm coming up with gravel and sand," he remarked in an allusion to the days of his youth in South Dakota when the well pump was primed but came up dry.

If the candidates are tired, the public may well be both tired and bored with the whole thing.

REACH UNDERSTANDING

Humphrey, the vice president-elect, suggested in a NBC interview taped before flying off for a rest in the Virgin Islands that perhaps both parties could reach an understanding "that it might be well if we had our political conventions in September rather than in July and August."

That way, said Humphrey, there could be two weeks of preparation and then a 6-week, rather than a 10-week, campaign.

Rep. John S. Monagan thinks there should be a law against long campaigns. He is going to try to get one passed.

The Connecticut Democrat has announced he will introduce a bill when Congress reconvenes in January to limit presidential campaigns to just 60 days.

SELF-DEFEATING

Above all, however, Monagan believes they may be self-defeating.

"After the first informative period," he said, "they bore the elector and thus fail to serve a purpose."

David Lawrence Says:

Castro Controls Red Missiles

WASHINGTON — The American people have been led to believe in the last two years that the United States won a signal victory over the Soviet Union as well as the Castro government in 1962 when the two Communist regimes were supposed to have dismantled the bases erected in Cuba for long-range missiles.

But the truth is slowly coming out. It now appears clear LAWRENCE that the Soviet Union and the Cuban government have agreed to a military alliance which permits Castro to fire surface-to-air missiles at American planes and to take other steps to thwart any attempt by the United States to protect its interest against Cuban trouble-making in the South Atlantic area.

The information that Castro today is in control of certain Soviet missile bases came from the Cuban dictator himself during the course of a six-hour interview with Cyrus L. Sulzberger of the New York Times. Castro said:

"When our forces took over control of the surface-to-air missiles the arrangement carried with it an obligation not to proceed unilaterally in shooting at U2 flights.

"The commitment we assumed was that all legal means to put an end to U2 flights should first be exhausted; but this is not a commitment for an indefinite period. The surface-to-air missiles are now under Cuban control."

UNDER PRESSURE

Does this mean that the United States is under pressure to abandon its flights over Cuba which were instituted as a form of inspection because the Cuban government refused to permit any verification of the Soviet claim that the large missile bases had been dismantled and the equipment returned to the Soviet Union?

The State Department declares that U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba have been continuing, and still claims it is insisting that all Soviet military personnel should leave.

While the longer-range missiles are believed to have been removed from Cuba, other missiles remain. The surface-to-air missiles are considered by the State Department to be "defensive" rather than "offensive."

Castro did not say whether there were any other kinds of missile bases or any nuclear warheads in Cuba. But in acknowledging that his alliance with the Soviet government requires him to get the consent of Moscow before using force, there is an admission that Moscow still retains a voice in any military operations that may ensue.

STILL CONFRONTED

So the United States is still confronted with a military threat from Cuba. The feeling in government circles here is that the use of the surface-to-air missile bases in Cuba cannot accomplish any important military purpose unless the Soviet Union itself is involved and attempts are made to attack bases on American soil.

The continuance, however, of Soviet military control over Cuba is of much significance in Latin American affairs.

It furnishes an example of what the Soviet Union is willing to do with respect to other countries in the Western Hemisphere.

It emphasizes, also, that the Soviet Union can still supply larger missiles to Cuba in the future.

Unless the United States were to conduct a constant blockade and intercept vessels destined for Havana and other ports in Cuba, it is not likely that the reestablishment of the missile bases would be known in this country until long after they had been set up.

What the Soviet Union has done in Cuba is contrary not only to the Monroe Doctrine but to the resolutions adopted by the Organization of American States which condemn as a hostile act to all these nations the establishment of any base in this hemisphere by outside powers.

Bob Considine Says:

Britons Breathing Easier Since Barry Was Beaten

LONDON — The British were much concerned about our election last Tuesday.

As was the case on the continent and elsewhere, Sen. Goldwater was regarded here as the embodiment of everything to be feared from America — missile rattling, trigger pulling, and a disposition to cut its aid programs to the bone. CONSIDINE

But now that the dust has settled, Britons are breathing easier.

Suddenly, they knew all along that Lyndon Johnson would win big, and things would be the same as before.

"Sen. Goldwater never looked like a winner," the influential weekly "the Economist" now states. "It was partly because his campaign always appeared so inherently improbable.

"No secret army of conservatives was moved to vote by the excitement of being offered a real choice at last. No wave of moral revulsion against anything swept the country.

TURNED ITS BACK

"A block of southern states turned its back predictably on the President and embraced an opponent who offered them not moral support but the prospect of being left alone.

"But Johnson won the more modern and bigger group of southern states and got more electoral votes from the South than did Goldwater.

". . . Accepting defeat, Goldwater talked as though he proposed to stay at the head of the party to keep it 'conservative.'

"Some other Republicans have other ideas, which Tuesday's disaster has moved them to express. Goldwater will not be the uncontested leader for long.

". . . If Johnson is less admired than Kennedy he is also less resented, as is apparent from the way in which he has swept states and districts where Kennedy was rebuffed or just squeaked home."

The Better Half

"Strictly off the cuff now, are you investing in growth stocks for capital appreciation or high yield non-taxable municipals?"

Commissioner Outlines Benefits of Income Tax

The letter from Mabel Davis recalls that she formerly lived and paid taxes in our city and has now moved to Clarkston, leaving the rest of us to struggle with city debts and other problems. She and her husband travel to Pontiac each day, working for General Motors and earning their money in our city.

Mrs. Davis should be reminded that city income taxes are not unconstitutional or illegal. The income tax has been authorized by the 1964 Michigan Legislature, approved by the Governor and the Michigan Supreme Court. The law allows cities to pass income tax ordinances.

I am wholeheartedly supporting the city income tax ordinance as I believe this is the fair way to relieve widows and pensioners of high property taxes. The ordinance will permit payment of adequate wages to firemen, policemen and city employes so as to attract needed employes for these departments.

Residents and nonresidents will benefit from well-lighted and safer streets, better parks, improved library service, removal of nuisances affecting public health, improved police and fire protection. All of these help make Pontiac a better place to work for residents and non-residents alike.

'M59 Intersection Needs Traffic Light'

I have lived in Highland ten months and have seen many accidents on the corner of M59 and Milford Road. What does it take to have a stop light put up there? There is only a blinker now. Does someone have to be killed first?

We have schools near this intersection and children walk along these streets. We also drive on them. Let's put a light up before it's too late to save someone's life.

'Drivers Need Warning of Closed Lanes'

With the abundance of road construction in the City of Pontiac a warning sign should be placed on the shoulder notifying drivers that a particular lane will be closed ahead.

Nothing is more exasperating than to be on the road during the rush hours and to be confronted with a barricade without warning.

'John Wayne Was Courageous Example'

John Wayne had the courage of his convictions and tried for the love of his country to enlighten us—or don't you know how to absorb the reading of a map? Do you also close your eyes to the insidious creeping of communism, now over one-third of this world? Be happy in your rosy little goldfish bowl. Our sworn enemies also wanted Johnson.

John Wayne had the great courage to stand up and be counted. You who would condemn him didn't have the courage to sign your name to a letter in a local newspaper. What a pitiful comparison.

Wants Professional Football in Pontiac

I believe that most who attended the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored football game at Wisner Stadium enjoyed it very much.

The small crowd in attendance was disappointing but the game itself was well-worth the admission price. I would personally like to see Pontiac enter a team in a professional football league. Following the fine performance of the Macomb County Raiders against the Dayton, Ohio Eleven, I wouldn't mind if they became the Pontiac Raiders.

Probably the addition of some locally-known name players to a Pontiac Raider team would be helpful. Everyone involved with trying to bring pro football to Pontiac should be commended.

Traffic Light Change Raises Questions

Why was the traffic light in front of Webster School changed to a yellow blinker on weekends? Larger lights were recently installed after nineteen children have been struck by motorists who ran the light and after protests by the Webster PTA and school board, and the board of education. It is confusing to motorists to have the lights different on weekends. Traffic is heavier on Saturday and this light provided the only relatively safe pedestrian crossing in eight blocks.

Why wasn't the speed limit in front of the school reduced from thirty-five mph? In front of schools a few blocks east on Huron the speed limit is twenty-five.

If you are concerned, contact the Pontiac Police department, the State highway department and the City Commission.

Limits Duration of Trips

Air Pollution in Spaceship Big Problem

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scientists are becoming increasingly concerned about a little-publicized problem that must be solved before groups of men can stay more than a few days in space.

The problem is what to do with the hundreds of contaminants from men and machinery that can pollute air in space ships.

In tests in tightly closed chambers on the ground these contaminants have caused painful skin rash, violent nausea and impaired mental performance. On long trips they could accumulate in amounts that would prove fatal.

MILLIONS SPENT

Millions of dollars have been spent by industry and government agencies in an effort to identify and filter out these pollutants. The most ambitious project so far is a $1.5-million facility in the Aerospace Medical Research Laboratories at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, where four glass-walled domes have been erected to study men under simulated space cabin conditions.

No results have been released, but enough is known to show that the problem of foul air in space cabins is serious.

One of the top scientists in this research is Dr. Thomas B. Weber, formerly with the Aerospace Medical Center at Brooks Air Force Base, Tex., and now manager of advanced research for space engineering at Beckman Instruments, Inc., Fullerton, Calif.

Weber says all space-cabin simulation experiments so far have had to be called off within a few days because of accumulation of toxic elements in the closed atmospheres.

SHOW BUILDUP

"This may be the reason Russia's recent three-man space flight, which was expected to last several days, ended after only 24 hours," Weber said in an interview. "Monitoring systems may have shown a buildup of contaminants and caused early cancellation.

"Unless an answer is found this is a definite threat to our own plans for a manned orbiting laboratory and it could delay the Apollo program to land men on the moon."

Working under Air Force contracts, Weber has devised instruments to collect and identify more than 400 contaminants given off by the human body and by space cabin equipment.

So far he has found 20 that are potentially lethal, including highly explosive hydrogen, given off by water used in cooling systems; ozone, given off by electrical equipment, and ammonia, acetone and alcohol, found in breath, perspiration and body wastes.

LETHAL CONCENTRATION

"None of these occurs in dangerous amounts in a normal environment," Weber said, "but in a small cabin they build up to lethal concentrations in short periods of time.

"Methods of purification and filtration used in submarines aren't good enough for space cabins. Submarines can surface from time to time and they can dump collected contaminants into the sea. Space cabins can't carry a large reserve of air and water — every bit they carry has to be saved and reprocessed over and over.

"Unfortunately even the machinery which accomplishes this gives off contaminants, so the accumulation goes on and on. Our longest space flight so far lasted less than two days, but even on that one we ran into trouble filtering out the carbon dioxide exhaled by the astronaut."

In addition to chemical contaminants, Weber sees another hazard: bacteria.

SANITARY CONDITIONS

"In the small spacecraft we will have for years to come," he says, "it will be impossible to maintain sanitary conditions. Astronauts will live in their space suits and bathing will be impossible. Under such conditions germs will breed rapidly and spread rapidly from man to man."

Does he see a solution to the problem?

"Man is basically a dirty animal. In addition to the obvious wastes, he sheds enough hair and sloughs off enough skin —about a tenth of a pound per day per man—to clog up currently planned regenerative systems in a couple of weeks.

"Once we admit the problem exists, then we can go ahead finding ways to trap and get rid of the contaminants. It's too early to say whether we'll ever be completely successful.

"You might say for the next few years, at least, astronauts will have to have a strong stomach and a weak nose."

Key Survey Helps to Spot Delinquents

NEW YORK (AP) — Asking the parents of 6-year-old boys the right questions can accurately spot boys who will be juvenile delinquents, a study indicates.

The questions concern the boy's life at home, how he is supervised and disciplined and how cohesive the family unit is.

Ten years ago the questions were put to the parents of 301 boys — including 131 Negroes and 42 Puerto Ricans — in a neighborhood with a high record of delinquency.

A follow-up study was made by the New York City Youth Board. These were some of the results, as reported recently:

—Ten years ago delinquency was predicted for 33 boys. The prediction was 85 per cent accurate.

NOT DELINQUENTS

—It was predicted that 243 boys would not be delinquents. That prediction was 95 per cent accurate.

—It was judged that 25 boys had an even chance of becoming delinquents; nine did and 16 did not.

The predictability tables were drawn up in 1950 by Prof. Sheldon Glueck and Dr. Eleanor Glueck, a husband and wife team of criminologists at Harvard.

Steelworkers Safer at Work Than Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Safety may begin at home, but in the case of steelworkers, statistics show that they are three times safer at work than at home.

Steelways, published by American Iron and Steel Institute, points out in its current issue that safe practices are taught to employes from the day they begin work.

Red Reelected Czech Leader

Novotny Unopposed in Assembly Voting

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (UPI) — The National Assembly today reelected Communist party chief Antonin Novotny president of Czechoslovakia.

Some western observers in Vienna interpreted the reelection of Novotney as a show of independence from Moscow because it did not follow the current Soviet pattern of separating the top party and government posts.

But East Germany, Hungary and Bulgaria also have not followed the post-Khrushchev Soviet example, and there is considerable belief in the West that the division will not last in the Soviet Union.

Novotny, 60, has held both top offices in Czechoslovakia since he was elected president in 1957. He was nominated for a five-year term by the party's Central Committee and the Communist-dominated National Front.

CTK, the official Czechoslovak news agency, said 294 of the 300 assembly members were present and all voted for Novotny. There was no opposing candidate.

The 1960 constitution reduced the presidential term from seven years to five.

WEATHERED OPPOSITION

A Communist party member for 43 years, Novotney is one of the few Stalinists still in power. He weathered opposition among his party's "liberals" with the backing of Nikita Khrushchev, who was his close friend.

LBJ to Confer With Dillon on Excise Tax Cut

To Also Hear Hodges on Civil Rights Act, Outlook for Business

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson summoned Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon to his hill country ranch today to make plans for a 1965 excise tax cut.

Johnson, winding up a first round of post election conferences with top Cabinet advisers, also invited Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges to visit the ranch during the afternoon to talk about voluntary compliance with the new Civil Rights Act and the business outlook at home and abroad.

Both Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara conferred with the President yesterday at the 400-acre LBJ Ranch.

Johnson wanted to talk to Dillon about tax legislation to be submitted to Congress in January.

During the election campaign the President said he would recommend a major cut in excise taxes.

BROADER CUTS

He hinted at broader tax cuts in the onger range future.

The President's efforts to reduce the budget deficit, now totaling about $5.7 billion a year, will be affected by the size and timing of the planned cut in excise levies.

Excise taxes net close to $15 billion a year—an amount large enough to discourage any proposal to eliminate them entirely.

Johnson is expected to call principally for the scrapping of excises on purchases such as cosmetics and handbags. These amount to about $500 million a year.

BUDGET PLANNING

The President, who will be concentrating for the next several weeks on budget planning and new legislative proposals, got some encouraging budgetary news.

McNamara handed him preliminary figures indicating that defense spending next year can again be kept below $50 billion.

This would increase prospects of a total budget below $100 billion — a psychological barrier Johnson wants to avoid.

Defense spending in the current year is now estimated at $49.8 billion of a $97.2 billion budget.

Carried Gun to See Romney

Mental Patient Wins Votes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Charles P. English, confined to a Michigan mental institution after trying to force his way into Gov. George Romney's office with a loaded pistol in a brief case, received 80,644 votes as Republican candidate for county school board.

And, English said in a letter to the Miami News, he sees no reason why his name shouldn't have been on the ballot.

English said he still enjoys his civil rights, pending final disposition of his case involving the Michigan governor.

English, 38, has been in Kalamazoo State Hospital since last May. He is being held for mental observation.

His name already was on the ballot in opposition to Democrat Jack D. Gordon who subsequently won the post with 159,725 votes.

CHARLES P. ENGLISH

The Dade County GOP Committee tried to get English's name removed from the ballot but failed.

The committee said it could have submitted a substitute if English had answered a lawsuit pending against him in court here, but he failed to answer.

English said he received the request by telegram but there was no return address.

English's name went on the ballot when he paid his qualifying fee. At that time he was a registered voter and eligible to become a candidate.

Republicans Continue With Self-Analysis

Sen. Scott Calls for Audit of Funds Left Over in Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Republican party's self-analysis continued today with the twin calls for a sort of "collective leadership" group to guide GOP fortunes.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin and Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho advanced the idea of a temporary party agency while Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania urged an immediate and independent audit of the national committee's campaign treasury.

The description "collective leadership" was provided by Laird, a prominent House Republican who was chairman of the platform committee at the party's national convention.

He said a broad-based group is needed "to fill the vacuum of leadership" and to work toward "rebuilding of the party."

"This is no time to hunt for scapegoats, no time to indulge in intraparty bickering, no time to pursue personal ambition," he said in a statement. "Above all this is no time for anybody to read anybody else out of the Republican party."

Laird said the leadership group should include:

"Representatives of the Republican members of the Congress, Republican governors, other Republican officeholders at the state and local level, Republican National Committee members, Republican state and county chairmen, as well as Republicans from private life in various fields of endeavor."

PLATFORM AGENCY

Similarly, Smylie, president of the Republican Governors Association, suggested yesterday creation of an agency "somewhere between a formal convention and a continuous council" to keep the party platform up to date.

The governor, who already has demanded that National Chairman Dean Burch resign, said the leadership group should include Republicans in and out of office.

He suggested former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Ken-

U.S. Honors Veterans

ARLINGTON, Va. (UPI) — President Johnson, who was at his ranch in Texas, Veterans Administrator John S. Gleason Jr. placed a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknowns in solemn ceremonies at Arlington National Cemetery.

At 11 a.m., (Pontiac time) a minute of silence was observed in memory of the armistice that ended World War I on Nov. 11 at 11 a.m. 46 years ago.

Similar Veterans Day observances were held in the 50 states and at 23 overseas cemeteries where 140,000 U.S. soldiers and the names of another 90,000 missing in action are enscribed.

"Through their courage, dedication and sacrifice we have preserved our freedom and defended our heritage," Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said in a tribute to veterans. "They deserve the gratitude of all Americans."

He called on the millions now serving actively in the national defense "to renew their own determination to preserve the blessings for which our veterans fought."

In a program at the Memorial Amphitheater at Arlington, after the presidential wreath was laid at the Tomb of the Unknowns of the world wars and Korea, Gleason expressed Johnson's "devout hope" that Americans would work for a nation "completely committed to a world at peace."

They must build the "strength to assure that this commitment is translated from desire to deed," he said.

A year ago at the traditional Veterans Day ceremonies in the nation's most hallowed cemetery, President John F. Kennedy placed a presidential wreath at the tomb — "little knowing," Gleason said, "that he himself in exactly two weeks would, like them, rest forever here."

The land was purchased from Frances B. Van Lennep, and covers an area about one and a half times the size of Bloomfield Hills.

RESIDENTIAL AREA

It is proposed to make this one of the finest residential areas between Bloomfield Hills and Flint, according to the developers.

Experts will be called in to plan the new development, according to the program.

The property is strategically located for residential use. It is between Oakland University and the proposed Community College (formerly a Nike site).

Wide Track Drive Nearing Completion

Wide Track Drive is almost complete according to City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling. In fact, Pontiac motorists may be able to use the tear-shaped loop road by late next week.

Neipling said that the final stretches of continuous paving had been put in place by 6 p.m. yesterday.

All that remains is the paving of intersections along the south end of the west leg, between West Huron and South Saginaw.

He said about a week of "curing" time is needed before motorists can use the multilane street.

"If everything stays on schedule," added Neipling, "cars should be on Wide Track by about a week from Friday."

Opening of Wide Track would also mean the opening of east-west streets between Huron and Orchard Lake, relieving congestion on Huron — now the only through east-west street.

Wide Track has been open from South Saginaw to West Huron since mid-July. Paving of the west leg is the final phase of the loop road project.

Because of construction delays, Wide Track is being completed behind schedule. Previously, it was slated to be finished by Labor Day and then Nov. 5.

Wilson Unveils Budget Today

Easier 2nd-Test Win Strengthens Laborites

LONDON (AP) — Strengthened by a 21-vote margin in its second test in Parliament, the Labor government unveils today a national budget designed to raise extra revenue and reduce Britain's imports bill.

The budget, being introduced less than a month after the Labor party came to power, was expected to increase sales taxes and introduce a long-term levy on capital gains — now taxed only if profit is taken within six months of purchase.

The main expenditure item was expected to cover increased retirement and war pensions and relief benefits.

The main function of the budget was to regularize the 15 per cent surtax on imports the government imposed last month to cut imports.

Imports have been running far ahead of exports, giving Britain an adverse trade gap estimated at $2 billion this year.

CRITICIZE SURTAX

Britain's trading partners in Europe have criticized the surcharge, contending it violates the rules of the seven-nation European Free Trade Association and the larger General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs — GATT.

The government's second test in the House of Commons came last night on a Conservative motion expressing no confidence in the Labor regime's program.

Bolstered by unexpected support from the Liberals, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government won the vote 315-294.

The nine Liberal members of Commons had been expected to abstain, but Jeremy Thorpe told the House his party would vote against the Tory motion because:

"In the first place it is arrogant, secondly it is complacent and thirdly it arises, some three weeks after the government has taken office, out of sheer bigotry."

On Monday night, the new government weathered its first confidence test by only six votes.

On that ballot the Liberals supported a Conservative motion criticizing Labor's plans to nationalize the steel industry.

Wilson announced he will go to Washington Dec. 7-8 for talks with President Johnson.

He is scheduled to fly to New York the next day to meet U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, then push onto Ottawa for talks with Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

All-Out Drive for College Fund

WILLIAM H. TAYLOR

"We are expecting 200 loyal Pontiac citizens at our luncheon meeting tomorrow noon at the Elks in behalf of our all-out drive for $375,000 to buy the site for the proposed osteopathic college," said Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. today.

Luncheon clubs are cooperating this week and canceling their regular meetings in lieu of this community movement at the Elks. "Pictures and slides will show our problem and we have one chart of the projected college," he said. "Everyone should become acquainted with the requirements and the solution."

According to Max T. Adams, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, additional contributions have already come in since the last announcement. "Adding these to our earlier totals, we have $100,000 yet to go," he said. New contributors show:

Detroit Edison	$3,800
Michigan Bell	3,800
Consumers Power	3,800
Holiday Inn	2,000
Optimist Club	1,000
Coca-Cola	1,000
S.S. Kresge Store	1,000
Mathews-Hargreaves	1,000

The Chamber secretary was calling on several interested prospects this afternoon and tomorrow morning, as were John A. Riley of The Press, Mayor Taylor and Bruce Annett, local realtor.

"A whirlwind finish will put us over," said the mayor, "but we still need some substantial contributions from some of the larger interests in the community. I am confident the rest will support their city just as loyally as they have in the past."

All contributions are tax deductible.

34 Children Are Hurt by Grenade 'Toy'

HANAU, Germany (UPI) — A hand grenade found by an 11-year-old boy and brought into a school yard exploded today in the midst of a crowd of curious children. At least 34 of the pupils were injured.

Eight were hurt seriously.

The blast tore the arm off an eight-year-old boy. It also ripped away the hand of a girl, mangled the leg of another, and damaged the eyes of a third.

The boy found the grenade on his way to class and took it into the yard of the Tuempelgartern Elementary School where 450 children were playing. The school is near U.S. Army camps.

German and U.S. military police who questioned uninjured children said they told of the

Britain Would Keep Veto

Say Wilson to Offer N-Force to NATO

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson will take an offer to President Johnson to commit Britain's entire nuclear force to NATO with a British veto over its use, authoritative sources said today.

Wilson will fly to Washington for talks with the President and his top advisers December 7-8, it was officially announced last night.

The Anglo-American summit was speeded up because of the disarray in the Atlantic alliance.

The two leaders were reported anxious to come to grips with the crucial defense problem which holds the key to the future of West Europe and of NATO.

The urgency of the situation was underlined by President Charles de Gaulle's mounting threat to take France out of the European and the Atlantic defense alignments, the sources said.

NATO MEETING

The top level Washington discussions will clear the ground for the important NATO ministerial council meeting in Paris Dec. 15 which could mend or irreparably widen the rift in the Western alliance. Final decisions may be held up to avert a break with France.

The Washington summit is being currently preceded by a series of interallied consultations in London, Bonn and Washington to sound out allied ideas on NATO and their reactions to the projected revamping of interallied nuclear defense arrangements.

The British plan was said to envisage a multi-national nuclear force under NATO command.

Britain will offer to put under NATO its entire nuclear forces, including her nuclear V-bombers and the forthcoming five Polaris submarines as well as the projected TSR-2 supersonic planes with nuclear capabilities. The force also would comprise the American nuclear rocket forces based in Europe.

REMAINS COOL

Britain remains cool to the American projected mixed-manned nuclear fleet but may reluctantly agree to it only as one of the minor components of the projected NATO force, the sources said.

Britain wants to have a veto on the use of the nuclear force and thus retain a finger on the trigger of the deterrent.

So far it is uncertain whether West Germany would back the plan. France probably will reject it.

AF Jet Bomber Crashes in West; 6 Known Dead

WOLF POINT, Mont. (AP) — An eight-jet B52 bomber crashed and burned in a desolate area of northeastern Montana late last night, killing six crew members. Another crewman was missing.

Bodies of six men were found in smouldering wreckage, the Air Force reported today. Two of the bodies were located near one of the jet engines, which were hurled more than a quarter of a mile from the point of impact.

Burning wreckage from the crash ignited a prairie fire that burned more than 350 acres. About 40 ranchers extinguished it, using shovels, sacks and tractors.

The plane was from Larson Air Force Base at Moses Lake, Wash.

At the Glasgow base, Col. R. H. Worrell, wing commander, said it was possible that some members of the crew might have parachuted to safety.

Worrell said the plane was on a routine training mission from its home base, flying in circular patterns and making simulated bombing runs.

He said it may have been using a bombing range near Bismark, N.D., as a simulated target.

The plane was not carrying bombs, he said. It left Larson about two hours before the crash.

A rescue unit was sent to the crash from Glasgow Air Force Base, about 40 miles west of Wolf Point.

Montana highway patrolmen and Roosevelt County officers also went to the scene, 60 miles west of the North Dakota border.

NEAR COMMUNITY

The crash occurred near the community of Vida, in a sparsely populated section of rolling hills and dry gulches. Temperatures were in the 20s.

The cause of the crash was not known. A farmer, Jake Schlepp, was the first to report it. It occurred at about 11 p.m.

SHOWING OFF

"He was showing off with it all morning," one girl said. "He said he found it on the way to school."

Another child said the boy, whose name was withheld, told of finding the grenade in a German housing construction area near the school which is located near the U.S. Army's Huiter, Francois, and Hessen-Homburg camps.

"God forbid it is one of ours," Col. C. M. Hurtt, executive officer of the U.S. Army's Hanau post, said.

U.S. military and German explosive experts were summoned to examine 40 to 50 steel splinters police collected in the yard after the injured children were rushed to hospitals in American and German ambulances.

POLICE REPORT

Police reporting to the Hanau lord mayor said they thought the grenade was German and may have been of World War II origin. "Perhaps it was turned up by earth-moving machines on the construction site," a police official said.

The grenade tragedy was the second disaster to strike a German school this year.

Judge Tells Suburbs to Battle Tax

Flint Municipal Judge Donald R. Freeman urged some 150 suburban Pontiac residents last night to organize and fight the proposed Pontiac city income tax.

Freeman, chairman of the Greater Flint Tax Study Committee and a leader in the opposition to Flint's proposed tax, spoke before a meeting of the Greater Waterford Community Council (GWCC).

The judge said the proposed tax was morally and legally wrong, probably unconstitutional, and contained enforcement provisions which go beyond the Federal income tax laws.

Freeman said the Uniform City Income Tax Law, the state law under which cities must operate, provides that an individual who files a return but does not pay his tax can be arrested and put in jail.

The Pontiac Township Board has joined other neighboring municipalities in opposing Pontiac's income tax ordinance on nonresidents working in the city. In their resolution, which passed unanimously, township board members called the tax "unfair" and echoed the Rochester Village Council's labeling of it as "taxation without representation."

The judge recommended that suburban residents form a study committee composed of leading citizens both in and outside the city.

The committee should then make a study and determine the actual financial needs of the city government he urged.

The committee should also determine if the city is involved in activities or projects not originally intended for a city.

TO MERCHANTS

Freeman suggested also that suburban residents compelled to pay the tax should point out to city bankers, car dealers and other merchants that suburban patronage is valuable and suburbanites could easily take it elsewhere.

Donald Fraser, 5790 Hatchery, chairman of the Tax Study Committee of the GWCC, said that his group intends to work with other groups inside and outside of the city, and make use of Freeman's suggestion.

Ford Talks Aim at 4 Key Plants

Strike Is Cutting Into New-Car Production

DETROIT (AP) — With new car production affected, top level bargainers strove for a third day today to settle local strikes at four key Ford Motor Co. plants.

Ford and United Auto Workers union negotiators failed to reach agreement Tuesday.

A Ford spokesman said bargaining also was to resume today at five other struck Ford plants where negotiations are being held on the local level with the UAW. He said these bargainers also failed to reach agreement in Tuesday sessions.

Strikes at the nine plants began Friday. They involve 25,000 of Ford's 160,000 workers. And the company said they have cut into its production of new 1965 model cars and trucks.

AT-PLANT PACTS

A national contract, similar to that agreed to by Chrysler Corp., General Motors Corp., and American Motors Corp. and the union, has been negotiated by Ford and the UAW.

But the local strikes at Ford involve at-the-plant working agreements which supplement the national pact.

Pick Jackson Exec for U. of M. Board

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney Tuesday announced the appointment of Robert Briggs of Jackson to the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Briggs, a vice president of Consumers Power Co. and an unsuccessful Republican candidate for the state board of education, fills out the unexpired term of Regent William McInally, who died last August. The term expires Dec. 31, 1968.

Briggs, 61, a former U. of M. faculty member, is co-chairman with Romney of the Governor's Special Commission on Traffic Safety.

A certified public accountant, he has served as first president of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce.

They are Mrs. Franklin O'Connor, Armada; Mrs. Walter Parsons, Lakeville; Mrs. James Smith, Almont; and Mrs. Rex Glidden, Romeo.

S. California Clearing Up

Rain Sends Rivers of Mud Into Suburbs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Clearing weather was forecast today after two days of rain which sent mud slides surging through homes, trapping and killing a housewife.

The rain was welcome in most of drought-plagued Southern California, but it fell with devastating effect on fire-denuded hillsides.

One mud slide sluiced down Sunset Canyon below the Verdugo Hills section of Burbank, a Los Angeles suburb, destroying one home and flooding several homes with up to three feet of mud.

Aimee Miller, 47, was trapped Monday in the surging mud which crumbled her home. She was carried three-quarters of a mile — along with cars, furniture and household debris — into a catch basin and buried in 20 feet of mud.

BODY RECOVERED

Her body was recovered by workmen Tuesday and identified by singer Frank Sinatra, for whom her husband, William Miller, often provided piano accompaniment.

Miller was rescued from the hood of his car, trapped in a river of silt. Their daughter, Meredith, 17, escaped through a back door and clambered up a hillside to safety.

The Miller home was one of several homes damaged or destroyed by fire last spring. It was near the scene of a major fire on the Verdugo Hills, which burned off the brush cover and left the earth bare and unprotected against rain.

Thirty-one families were forced to flee their homes Tuesday, but most had returned by late evening, the fire department said.

Damage from mud slides also was reported in the Santa Barbara area, 100 miles to the north, where a vast 67,000-acre brush fire denuded hillsides last September.

Report 1,100 Vietnamese Drown in Surging Floods

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. military spokesman said today 1,100 Vietnamese civilians are reported to have drowned in floods surging through the valleys of mountainous central Viet Nam.

The spokesman cautioned that the figure may be exaggerated, but a natural disaster of major proportions was increasingly evident.

Refugees are pouring into the main coastal cities. Between 36,000 and 45,000 are in Da Nang, a key port and military base 380 miles northeast of Saigon. Several thousand are reported at other cities, including Qui Nhon, Quang Ngai and Tam Ky.

Rescue work in some of the 10 stricken provinces is being hampered by Communist Viet Cong groundfire against U.S. helicopters attempting to move out the stricken and to fly in food supplies, the spokesman said.

150,000 HOMELESS

About 150,000 people are reported homeless, most of them in coastal Binh Dinh Province which has been lashed by heavy rains for the past week.

Some heavily populated mountain valleys along the central coast have been cut off for two to three days, military sources said. The situation in these areas is not known.

American helicopters, working in high winds and low visibility, are picking people off high ground and from roofs and roads. In about half of the stricken provinces, flood waters are reported receding. In other areas, notably Binh Dinh, more rain is expected.

Emergency food and clothing are reported in good supply in most of the areas, but there are difficulties in moving these to the needy.

Vietnamese authorities fear possible outbreaks of cholera or other diseases and measures are being taken to move in medical teams.

Rescue work is complicated by sporadic ground action in which government troops are clashing with the Viet Cong. In one area, 45 war casualties have been evacuated in the past three days.

Pontiac Twp. Given Free Library Use

The Pontiac Township Board has entered into an agreement with the County Library Board to provide use of the Pontiac City Library free of charge to all township residents.

Previously residents had to pay $5 per family for a library card to use the city facility.

Under the new yearly agreement, they can have cards free of charge.

Phyllis A. Pope, city librarian, told the township board that a new state law allows state aid money to be given to an existing library in order to serve territories with no libraries of their own.

Further, she stated, the county penal fines are allocated to the County Library Board for distribution back to the township for library service purposes.

COST IS EQUAL

The total cost equals the amount which would be raised by one-tenth of one mill of state equalized valuation levied in the township.

Based on this figure, the cost to Pontiac Township for one year would be $1,857.

The township's share of the library funds and penal fines would amount to $1,636, a difference of $221 for one year.

Under this agreement, the township board authorized the expenditure of the $221 to permit its 9,091 residents to participate in the use of the city library.

Pontiac Township is the first county township approached with the agreement under the new law.

Birmingham Area News

Lot-Size Requirement Cut for 67-Acre Area

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The City Commission has decreased the lot-size requirement for a 67-acre residential zone near the center of the city.

Public hearing was held last night on the zoning amendment change recommended by the planning commission. No objections were voiced.

Request for the alteration had been submitted by Horace P. Shaw, 1253 N. Woodward, owner of 17 acres fronting on Woodward.

He had asked that the lot-size requirement for his residential property be reduced from two to one and a half acres.

The city included the whole zone, which includes three parcels, in the area to be altered.

SMALLER CLASSIFICATION

The residential area is surrounded by institutional property and residential property of smaller lot-size classification, according to City Manager Elmer Kephart.

It is bordered by Woodward, St. Elizabeth Briarbank Daughters of Divine Charity, Briarbank Subdivision and Cranbrook Foundation property.

Another zoning ordinance amendment adopted by the commission last night clarifies regulations covering the use of property.

It requires a new certificate of occupancy to be obtained when the use of a parcel of property is changed.

BIRMINGHAM—Snow will no longer be removed by the city from public sidewalks leading to schools in Birmingham.

The City Commission established the policy after being told by Assistant City Manager Robert Kenning that the designation of these so-called school routes has been arbitrary over the years and has presented many problems for the administration.

"There are a number of schools in the city where we do not clean any snow from the sidewalks leading to schools and in other areas we may clear several routes," Kenning said.

Kenning said if the program was expanded to include all schools, an additional piece of equipment would have to be purchased and labor cost would be considerably more than is allowed in the present budget.

By eliminating the plowing of school routes, maintenance costs will be reduced and there will be no more damage caused to abutting lawns by the city's sidewalk sweepers, according to Kenning.

REMOVAL OF SNOW

The removal of snow from sidewalks adjacent to city-owned property will be continued.

The Berkshire Junior High School PTA, meeting one week early to observe American Education Week, has scheduled an open house for tomorrow night.

Parents will follow their children's daily schedules during the 8 p.m. program. They will be welcomed by Principal John W. Dickey and PTA President Dr. D. Lloyd McKinney via the public address system during the homeroom period.

FRANKLIN—Members of the Franklin Cemetery Auxiliary will hold a potluck luncheon tomorrow at 12:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Norman Currin, 26630 Captain's Lane.

Joint Chiefs for the GOP?

tucky, a former GOP national chairman; Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana be included in the group's membership.

Scott told a news conference in Philadelphia that "southern scalawags" and "hard-core radical right" elements in the party's leadership must be purged.

A former party chairman who generally supports liberal legislation, Scott won reelection to the Senate last week by 42,000 votes. Absentee ballots still are to be counted.

TREASURY INTENTION

Citing reports that the party may end up with a national campaign surplus of $1.2 million, he said such a treasury would be "intended to keep the radical right in control of the Republican party."

These people apparently anticipated the defeat of Barry Goldwater and William E. Miller and hoarded this money," he said.

Troy Board Delays Vote Until June

The Troy Board of Education decided last night not to attempt another election on a $4-million bond issue until the regular school election next June.

Voters turned down the bond issue request Oct. 2 while granting a 5-mill tax increase for operating costs.

The board could have attempted to obtain another election in less than six months without changing the amount asked by obtaining more than 3,000 signatures on petitions.

A new election could have been scheduled within six months without petitions if the amount asked were reduced by 40 to 50 per cent, but the board considers the $4 million asked in October to be a minimum amount.

The bond issue was to cover buildings and sites to handle anticipated growth.

DIDN'T DECIDE

Schools Supt. Dr. Rex B. Smith said today the board did not decide whether to change the amount to be asked in June.

Rising construction costs and property values could require such a change.

Press Out Splinters

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Junior picked up a splinter in his toe when on a visit to his grandmother's farm.

He came home all agog as grandma had held his toe over the opening in a pop bottle filled with hot water. The steam softened the skin so she could PRESS the splinter out with her fingers.

He was so thrilled that it worked that he brought the splinter home in an aspirin box to prove it.

He doesn't know that my grandma did the same thing for me years and years ago. — CHEF.

DEAR POLLY—On wash days I have to make frequent trips in and out the basement door.

My hands are full of wet clothes, baskets and pins and wet hands will not turn the knob so down everything has to go so I can dry my hands.

To solve this problem I now take a piece of old turkish toweling or a wash cloth, put it over the knob and fasten with a rubber band. This is also good for the inside knob of the bathroom door, especially for children.—MRS. J. H. P.

Hint of Orange Subtle Flavor for Cookies

You may want to serve these cookies after a meeting.

Sweet Orange Cookies

2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon each baking soda and cream of tartar
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ pound butter or margarine
1½ cups sifted confectioners sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg

Sift together the flour, baking soda, cream of tartar and salt. Cream butter and sugar with orange rind and vanilla. Add egg and beat to blend. Gradually stir in sifted dry ingredients until blended.

Drop by level tablespoonfuls, a few inches apart, onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until lightly browned — 10 to 13 minutes. Cool on wire racks.

Store in tightly covered container. Makes about 4 dozen.

Coffee Gelatin Is Smooth Tasting

We find that this dessert, in any of its versions, is popular.

Molded Coffee Dessert

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons plus ¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons instant coffee
2 eggs, separated
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon almond extract

In a medium saucepan, stir together the gelatin, the 2 tablespoons sugar and coffee. Gradually beat milk into egg yolks to blend; stir into gelatin mixture.

Over low heat, cook and stir constantly until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly—3 to 5 minutes. Stir in almond extract. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon.

Beat egg whites until they hold soft peaks; gradually adding the ¼ cup sugar, continue beating until extremely stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture. Turn into a 4-cup mold. Chill until set.

Serve with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Simmer Vegetables Then Add Tuna to Stew

Fishermen have many singular superstitions and customs which originated centuries back.

Among Baltic fisherfolk, if someone sneezed on the first day of the year, it signified good fishing for that season.

In Dieppe, the mariners never referred to rabbits when on their ships, and seafarers of many nationalities still believe to this day that whistling on board brings bad luck.

Whatever the beliefs, it is these stalwart men, sailing all the seas, who face the often dangerous task of bringing in the fish . . . such as the mighty and popular tuna . . . for our enjoyment and nourishment.

Tuna is indeed a top favorite with meal-planners, for it's an excellent high protein source at low cost. With its fine blend of seasonings and tender vegetables, this satisfying tuna stew is perfect delicioussness to come home to . . . anytime, anywhere!

Fishermen's Tuna Stew

4 potatoes, pared and cut in large cubes
3 carrots, cut in 1-inch pieces
1 cup sliced celery (1-inch pieces)
1½ cups tomato juice
¾ cup water
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
Dash pepper
1 large onion, cut in wedges
1 medium green pepper, cut in 1-inch pieces
½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1 tablespoon capers
3 cans (6½ to 7 ounces each) tuna, drained and flaked

Combine potatoes, carrots, celery, tomato juice, water and seasonings in Dutch oven or large sauce pot. Bring to boil; reduce heat. Simmer covered 10 to 15 minutes or until vegetables are almost tender. Add onion, green pepper, olives and capers. Cook 10 minutes longer or until all vegetables are tender. Add tuna; heat to serving temperature.

TUNA STEW — Tuna goes into a tempting stew with tender vegetables, pimiento-stuffed olives and a fine blend of seasonings . . . a mighty inviting dish.

Blender Emulsifies Mayonnaise

Here's how to make mayonnaise in an electric blender; cooks have asked for the rule.

Jigtime Mayonnaise

1 large egg
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup olive oil
¾ cup salad oil
2 teaspoons prepared mustard

Turn the egg, vinegar, salt, pepper, dry mustard and olive oil into electric blender container; cover. Blend about 5 seconds.

In a slow steady stream, pour in the salad oil so it hits blender blades and is worked in immediately; if any oil shows at sides, stop blender and fold in. Blend in prepared mustard. Makes about 1¼ cups. Refrigerate in covered jar.

Sesame Pastry Is Olive Filled

Delectable little "Sesame Olive Pastries" filled with a harmonious mixture of ripe olives, cheese, mayonnaise and Worcestershire are hors d'oeuvres de luxe sprinkled with sesame seed.

Whether in appetizers, cream sauces or relish dishes or skewered on toothpicks, ripe olives are a prime candidate for attractive appearance, interesting texture and agreeable flavor.

Sesame Olive Pastries

1 cup grated American cheese
1cup grated American cheese
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
½ teaspoon Worcestershire
1 stick pastry mix
1 egg
Sesame seed

Cut olives into small pieces; blend with cheese, mayonnaise and Worcestershine. Prepare pastry as package directs.

Roll into 14x9-inch rectangle; cut into 3 strips 3 inches wide. Spread olive mixture down center of each strip. Beat egg lightly; use a little to moisten edges of strips.

Fold pastry over filling; lap edges slightly and pinch together. Place on baking sheet lapped-sides down; brush tops with egg and sprinkle with sesame seed. Prick tops.

Bake in 400-degree (hot) oven about 15 minutes. Cut into small slices to serve. Makes about 3 dozen hors d'oeuvres.

Basic Recipe Is Variable

Piping hot muffins are a delightful breakfast surprise on chilly mornings. Everyone likes plain muffins, but vary the basic recipe occasionally for a change.

Stir raisins, pineapple tidbits, chopped dried apricots or coconut into the dry ingredients before adding liquid. Or try this — stir chopped nuts into the dry ingredients, mix as directed and sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar just before baking.

Making gravy for roast lamb? Try adding a little thyme for compatible seasoning.

Most cooks like to trim the excess fat from the outside of beef short ribs before braising.

A little cole slaw leftover? Use it with sliced cold meat for luncheon sandwiches.

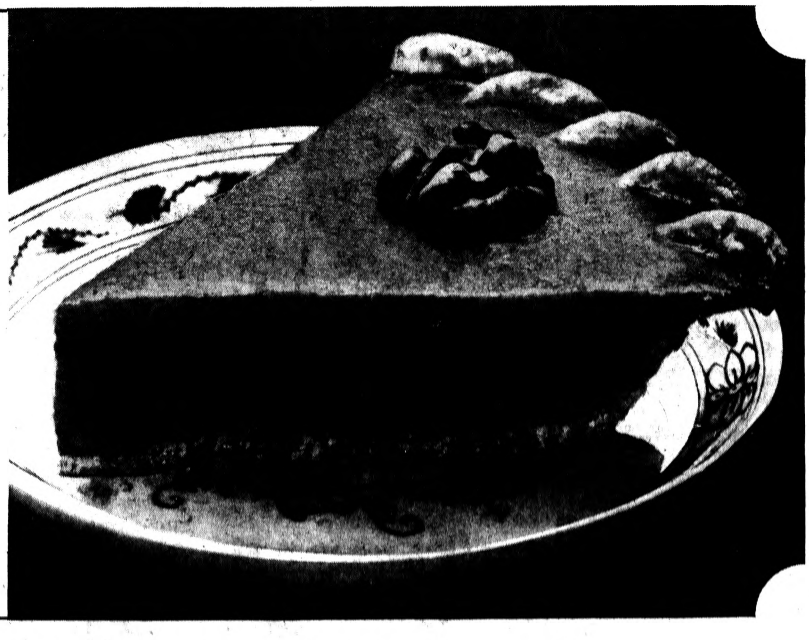
Guess what happened to Libby's world-famous Pumpkin Pie Recipe?

Ladies... our pumpkin labels have carried this wonderful pie recipe for years. After printing some new labels recently, we discovered a typographical error—¼ cup sugar was called for . . . it should be ¾ cup sugar. Please remember to make this change if you happen to get one of the few incorrect recipe labels (on the large "two pie" can) that got away from us.

Mary Hale Martin
(blushing)
Home Economist



This Thanksgiving, millions will enjoy Libby's Pumpkin . . . so good it far outsells any other brand. And they'll love, as usual, our all-time favorite Pumpkin Pie recipe (particularly if they use 3/4 cup of sugar for each pie).

MAKE-OVER PAGES

Two Fruits Add Zest to Slaw

Cole slaw assumes new flavor meaning in "Avocado-Pineapple Slaw." Not only are crushed pineapple and cubes of California avocado tossed with the usual shredded cabbage but even the sour cream dressing is given a flavor twist with its hint of soy sauce and ginger.

Versatile avocados from southern California are a perfect ingredient in a host of salads, appetizers and party dips. Winter varieties of the fruit are now back in markets once again to perk up everyday menus.

Avocado-Pineapple Slaw

1 can (8¾ oz.) crushed pineapple
4 cups shredded cabbage
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
1 California avocado
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon soy sauce
½ teaspoon ginger

Drain pineapple, saving 3 tablespoons syrup. Combine pineapple, cabbage, green pepper and onion. Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin. Cube avocado; add to cabbage mixture.

Mix sour cream, mayonnaise, soy sauce, ginger and pineapple syrup. Add to salad and toss gently. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

ALMOND FLAVOR — Almond Bavarian Loaf is the ideal refreshment for informal gatherings and family dinners. It is easily made with dry instant non-dairy coffee creamer.

Mix Almond Cream With Cookie Layer

Now that the children have settled down in school or college and club meetings have resumed for many of you, the pressures of entertaining begin.

To help you with refreshment ideas, the home economists suggest that you serve Almond Bavarian Loaf at one of your functions. The easy-to-prepare dessert features alternating layers of crisp chocolate wafers and an almond cream mixture.

For your convenience, Almond Bavarian Loaf is made with the dry instant non-dairy coffee creamer that stays fresh without refrigeration. Instead of buying ingredients that have to be consumed quickly, you can stock your cupboard with dry instant non-dairy coffee creamer and use it whenever you need it.

Dry instant non-dairy coffee creamer gives a hostess insurance against waste in the event her company cancels, as well as assurance when an impromptu party begins at her home.

Almond Bavarian Loaf

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1 cup milk
¼ cup finely chopped toasted almonds
1⅓ cups dry instant non-dairy coffee creamer
⅔ cup cold milk
1 teaspoon almond extract
3 tablespoons sugar
About 20 chocolate wafers

In top of double boiler, mix together gelatine, ¼ cup sugar and salt; beat egg yolks and 1 cup milk; stir into gelatine mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, over boiling water, until gelatine dissolves, about 5 to 8 minutes.

Remove from heat; chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Fold in almonds. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; gradually add ¼ cup sugar beating until stiff but not dry. Fold in gelatine mixture.

Meanwhile chill bowl and beaters in refrigerator 15 minutes. Blend non-dairy coffee creamer with ⅔ cup milk, almond extract and 3 tablespoons sugar in chilled bowl. Whip at high speed with electric mixer until thick and creamy (3 to 5 minutes). Fold into gelatine mixture.

Arrange halves of chocolate wafers in bottom of 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Turn in about ⅓ bavarian mixture; arrange layer of whole chocolate wafers; repeat. Chill until firm. To serve, unmold on serving platter and slice.

Will Be Crisper

Don't despair if you accidentally add too much milk to biscuit dough. Just drop it, as is, by spoonfuls onto an ungreased baking sheet and bake in a preheated 450 degree oven 10 to 12 minutes. Drop biscuits have crisper crusts than do kneaded and rolled biscuits.

Salad greens, sliced tomatoes

Drain sardines thoroughly; pour the mushrooms with their liquid over them. Serve on salad greens. Garnish with tomatoes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Pineapple Gives Fish Hawaiian Look

Looking for superb seafood dishes? Head for an island. Where there's water, there's fish, and where seafoods are abundant, they are usually prepared well.

The Hawaiian Islands are a good example. Although they have many kinds of fish and shellfish not found around the continental United States, we can adapt many Island recipes to our fish favorites. Pineapple and fish are a steady couple in Hawaii where fresh pineapple is plentiful.

However, we have canned pineapple readily available for use in such seafood delights as Fish Fillets Hawaiian. Any fresh or frozen white-meated fish may be used: haddock, cod, flounder, sole or ocean perch.

Fish Fillets Hawaiian

1 pound fish fillets, fresh or frozen
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons brown sugar
½ teaspoon powdered ginger
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 (9 oz.) can pineapple rings
Watercress for garnishing

If fish is frozen, let thaw until fillets can be separated. Arrange fillets in shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Pour lemon juice over fish and marinate in refrigerator at least 2 hours. Drain off excess marinade and sprinkle fish with brown sugar and ginger.

Place a pineapple ring on each fillet, brush with oil and bake in moderate (350 degree) oven for 20 minutes or until fish flakes easily with a fork. Remove to serving platter. Garnish with watercress. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Cream Helps

If you want that soft custard sauce to taste particularly good, use part cream for some of the milk. Serve the sauce with coddled apples or baked or stewed pears.

Michigan Way O. K., Mix Your Juices

If you like spark added to your morning orange juice (or O.J.), here is a bracing tip from a Michigan inhabitant. Seems the folks there have discovered the distinctive flavor of a new and refreshing beverage.

They take fresh Florida orange juice or reconstituted orange juice concentrate, and add an ounce or two of country cider (no preservatives) according to taste and glass size, for a unique O.J. Cocktail. Good for a spirit-lifting energy pick-up in the late afternoon, too. Bottoms up!

RUSSIAN DRESSING RECIPE FAVORITE

It seems we're using more foreign recipes that once sounded very exotic and strange. In fact, we've adopted so many ideas from Europe that today there probably isn't a cupboard that doesn't contain several kinds of salad dressing . . . and look at the names. Shedd's Italian and Shedd's French . . . and now we can add Shedd's Russian for something special in variety. One of the cleverest hostesses I know has a simple salad idea that's very effective. She prepares an enormous bowl of greens using several kinds of lettuce, spinach, endive, escarole . . . whatever she finds is fresh and good in the market. These are crisp and cold, of course, and torn in bite size pieces, not cut. Around the bowl of greens she places several bowls of dressing, perhaps two each of Shedd's Italian, Shedd's French and Shedd's Russian. Guests help themselves and generally return for seconds in order to try more than one variety of dressing. Since Shedd's Russian is a new one perhaps you'd like to try a different combination of flavors in a salad. This one was designed for Shedd's Russian Dressing and the blend of flavors in the ingredients is as subtle and delicate as the dressing itself.

12 large fresh mushrooms
1 medium cucumber
1 sweet white onion
Spinach and lettuce
Shedd's Russian Dressing

Wash and slice the mushrooms thinly. Wash cucumbers, remove outer skin partially to leave stripes of the dark outer part and slice very thin. Slice the onion and separate into rings. Chill all these ingredients in ice water and then dry thoroughly by patting with paper towel. Arrange on lettuce and spinach and when ready pour on Shedd's Russian Dressing liberally. Garnish with sieved hard cooked egg yolk.

Whitey Ford Recuperating

Arm Cramps End for Yankee

HOUSTON (AP) — "I pitched the first game of the Series," the ball player whispered, "and I knew something was seriously wrong.

"I had had troubles with my arm off and on for years — pulled tendons and so on.

"But this was different. I couldn't pitch at all. My arm would cramp." He pointed to his left forearm lying on the hospital bed. "I would lose all the strength in my arm.

"I tried again every day for five or six more days. I never could throw the ball. I would throw a few pitches, and it would cramp right away. It worried me because I was counting on being able to pitch a couple of times in the Series."

WORRIES OVER

Whitey Ford doesn't have to worry now. The future's bright. His doctor says he'll be ready to pitch again by spring training.

The doctors the Yankee pitcher saw in New York knew there was some obstruction of the artery which carries blood over the shoulder and down toward the hand.

They sent him to one of the world's best know artery surgeons, Dr. Denton Cooley, a professor of surgery at Baylor University College of Medicine.

When Ford arrived Sunday at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, where the surgery was performed Monday, the question couldn't leave his mind: Would they have to cut through muscles? Would he be unable to pitch?

"Sunday the doctor told me what he could do. They did it the easiest way."

Almost whispering in his soft New York accent, the southpaw ace said Tuesday, "Most of the muscles you pitch with are here," indicating the front shoulder. "He cut under my armpit."

The operation was called a transthoracic sympathectomy. The doctor cut the nerves which supply the muscular coat of the artery that was disturbing circulation.

Those nerves had been causing the artery to constrict and produce spasms.

With the nerves removed, the blood supply to the arm was increased.

Ford said he expects to be out of the hospital in about a week.

Piersall Takes Player Award

Jim Earns League's Comeback Honor

ENCINO, Calif. (AP) — A jubilant Jimmy Piersall called it "my biggest thrill in baseball" upon learning that he'd been chosen the American League's Comeback Player of the Year for 1964.

"This has to be a turning point in my career," said the 34-year-old outfielder.

He was picked in the annual Associated Press poll of baseball writers. Results of the voting by 77 writers were announced Tuesday.

Piersall was named on 20 ballots, one more than veteran first baseman Bill Skowron.

Piersall, with 14 years in the majors, batted .314 in 87 games for the Los Angeles club this year. He was unconditionally released by the Angels on Sept. 17, 1963, and re-signed by them after a spring training trial.

Other votes in the AP poll: Skowron, who divided the year with Washington and Chicago, 19; Ed Bressoud, Boston, 6; Bob Tillman, Boston, 4; Dean Chance, Los Angeles, Roger Maris, New York, and Felix Mantilla, Boston, 3 each.

COMEBACK OF THE YEAR — Outfielder Jim Piersall of Los Angeles Angels tends to his fatherly chores at his California home after hearing of his selection as American League Comeback Player of the Year. He was chosen in the Associated Press poll. Jim batted .314 last year for the Angels after three clubs dropped him. With him are Ann, 5, Chris, 3, and baby, Patricia, two months. The Piersall's have six other children.

Rookie QB Gains Favor With Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran Y. A. Tittle will continue to hold down the quarterback spot for the New York Giants but Coach Allie Sherman indicates rookie Gary Wood may find himself in the line-up more often than in the past.

'There is no reason to bench Y.A.," said Sherman Tuesday. "But we like Gary Wood. We'll use them both."

Then Sherman, preparing the Giants for Sunday's National Football League game at St. Louis, said:

"We're out to put the best team we can on the field and we'll play the quarterback who gives us the best football."

Report Fred Hutchinson in Very Poor Condition

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Former Cincinnati Reds baseball Manager Fred Hutchinson was listed in very poor condition Tuesday night after being returned to the hospital with cancer.

Hutchinson, who was allowed to go home from the hospital Oct. 31 after being treated for a week, apparently took a turn for the worse and returned to the hospital Tuesday.

State College Elevens Near Season's End

One of the best weekends in history has lifted the over-all record of Michigan's 18 collegiate football teams to 71-62-5.

Michigan clubs lost only four of the 17 games played.

Albion, one of seven teams to close out the season over the weekend, finished as the state's only unbeaten, untied eleven.

The Britons scored 226 points in rolling to their eight victories while giving up just 39.

Ferris State, which has also completed its season, did not record a victory in eight starts.

SCORING LEAD

Michigan quarterback Bob Timberlake retained his lead in the individual scoring race with 73 points on seven touchdowns, 15 extra points and three field goals.

Marchetti Likes Hustle

Colt Players Laud Coach Shula

BALTIMORE (AP) — "It's amazing" to Gino Marchetti that the Baltimore Colts are far up the road toward a divisional title in the National Football League.

The All-League defensive end is one of many who say it is the responsive attitude created by Don Shula as coach.

Marchetti, who changed his mind about retiring this season, said today, "I didn't think this team had the potential and particularly the personnel on defense" to be the winner of eight straight games and 9½ on top of the Western Conference.

"I still don't," he added. "But that hustle is amazing."

As expected, Marchetti has difficulty pinpointing the intangibles by which Shula has fired the desire.

FIRST ANALYSIS

"He treats everyone as a man," was Marchetti's first analysis. It also was his last.

"Any player who goes to him gets a straight answer," Marchetti mused. "He may not like it, but he'll get one."

"He's so easy to communicate with," is the way Raymond Berry, offensive end, puts it. "You have an idea and he'll give you a hearing. He's honest."

Gino recalls a banquet attended by the Colts after they lost their first and only game so far this season.

"Shula told them, 'We were outplayed and outhustled and I was outcoached.' I never heard a coach say before that he lost a game. They only win them.

"You have to respect a guy like that."

Berry remembers early last season, Shula's first as coach, when "we were having trouble and losing a lot of ball games. He never lost his sense of humor, he didn't get down on the players. It meant a lot.

"It also is, in my opinion, the sign of good coaching, to keep spirits up when you're losing. It's easy to be happy when you're winning."

ONE SETBACK

After losing five of their first eight games in Shula's debut, the Colts suffered only one loss by one point in their last six games. Many point to that 1963 finish being the start of this year's drive.

Shula is only 34 years old and he played as a defensive back with Marchetti and Berry on Colt teams of 10 years ago.

Neither his youth nor his former companionship has produced the rapport with the squad, maintain Gino and Raymond.

"He's easy on some things, but hard on what counts," reports Marchetti. "We spend our time on the job ahead. I can remember sitting in squad meetings talking for an hour about wearing neckties and jackets on away games."

Florida Gators Lose Top Defensive Star

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Disciplinary action has robbed the Florida Gator football squad of one of its top defensive linebackers, Roger Pettee.

Coach Ray Graves said Pettee was dropped from the team Tuesday, but he declined to elaborate on the reasons, saying it was against his policy.

Passive Therapy Begins on Arm Lost by Cager

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Bob Swaffar, Oklahoma State University basketball player whose right arm was severed in an accident then rejoined to his body, was expected to be allowed out of bed briefly Wednesday.

Passive physical therapy was started Tuesday on the hand and forearm to keep the limb from becoming useless.

Swaffar lost his arm Nov. 1 in a commercial laundry extracting mishap at Stillwater and it was rejoined in an all night operation here. The arm was severed halfway between the shoulder and the elbow.

Surgeons said the 20-year-old athlete will not be able to use his hand until nerves regenerate from the upper arm downward along the path of the old nerves. They expect he will have good shoulder and elbow movement.

More surgery will be necessary in a few months, they said, to realign nerves in the arm.

'Job Trainees Finding Work'

Says Most in Labor Program Employed

DETROIT (AP)— More than three-quarters of the jobless Michigan workers being trained under the Manpower Development and Training Act are finding jobs, a Labor Department official said here Tuesday.

Elmer L. Baab, Michigan and Indiana field director of the Office of Manpower, Automation and Training, spoke at the annual business convention of the Michigan Consumer Finance Association.

"Over and above the human factors involved in training the unemployed, it just makes good business sense to invest in people," Baab said, adding:

"A high percentage of MDTA trainees were receiving public assistance before training. But now they can support themselves and their families and become taxpaying citizens capable of competing in our society for suitable employment."

PLACEMENT RATE

The national placement rate for workers completing MDTA courses is about 72 per cent, and the Michigan rate is about 76 per cent, Baab said.

SERVES TWO PURPOSES — This building on M24, south of Lake Orion, doubles as a home upstairs and the office of State-Wide Real Estate of Lake Orion on the floor below. The home is occupied by Hugo A. Peterson, local realtor, and his wife, Della. The same model is adaptable as a single-family residence by utilizing the ground floor office space for a recreation room and extra bedroom or den.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I am eighty years old and own a dozen common stocks, most of which have considerable capital gain. I understand that it's quite a complicated process to get stock transferred to your heirs, of which I have three. To simplify things, I thought of selling my stocks and buying series H savings bonds in equal amounts in my name with the name of one heir on each block of H bonds as co-owner. What do you think of this plan?" W. W.

(A) It is not a complicated or long-drawn-out process to get stocks transferred to your heirs after your death. If you have drawn a will, any lawyer can get probate and transfer your shares within a relatively short time.

Your plan would simplify matters, since on your death your H bonds immediately become the sole property of the co-owners, your heirs, and thus meets your purpose.

(Q) "Ten years ago, I bought 100 shares of J. I. Case. For years, I never got any dividends. Now Kern County Land has bought control of Case. Should I hold on to Case or switch into something else?" F. F.

(A) Control of J. I. Case by Kern County Land may ultimately benefit Case, which has had a very erratic earnings record over the past decade and sold recently below its best levels of 10 years ago. No dividends have been paid on the common since 1954, and none on the preferred since 1960.

Case is one of the larger farm machinery companies. It has suffered from a shortage of capital that has hindered growth. The stock is speculative and I believe you have held long enough.

I would switch into Pacific Gas & Electric, offering a secure 3.3 per cent yield with growth potential.

Movie Theater Due to Reopen in Walled Lake

The Lake Theatre in Walled Lake will reopen Saturday, completely remodeled with new seats, new carpeting, a 30-foot-wide screen and the latest sound equipment according to the owner, Bud Harris.

The theater, at 420 Pontiac Trail, closed seven years ago for lack of patronage, according to Harris.

In the meantime it was converted to a bowling alley and later a pool hall. The pool operation has been moved to another location.

Harris of 2630 Garland, Sylvan Lake, estimates the cost of remodeling at $45,000.
