

Cheers for Goldwater, Support for Romney

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater won the biggest round of applause Thursday night when Republican leaders gathered to honor him at a $1,000-a-plate dinner.

But many of those who cheered the Arizona said later in interviews that they thought the best vote-winner as the 1964 GOP presidential nominee would be Michigan's Gov. George Romney.

There was some talk of California's Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel for vice president.

Goldwater himself has indicated he doesn't think the "kingmakers" would stand for him as the 1964 standard bearer. And he told a newsman he's unhappy "because of all this pressure" on him to seek the nomination.

The off-stage consensus among some GOP leaders was that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York has grievously, if not irreparably, damaged his chances by his divorce and marriage to a divorcee.

At Thursday's night's affair, Goldwater, a 14-carat conservative, was presented a silver coffee urn for his years of service as chairman of the GOP's Senatorial Campaign Committee.

NOT DECISIVE
The applause for him far surpassed that for anybody, including Romney. But applause often is not decisive, and a tip-off came when Romney, a middle of the roader who plumps for a "citizens party," seemed allergic to having his picture taken in a twosome with Goldwater.

In fact, Romney walked right out of camera focus. It was not until Kuchel, who has roundly denounced rightist extremists, appeared on the scene and struck a stance between the two men, that the picture taking could proceed.

Nevertheless, Romney and Goldwater exchanged compliments in the course of the proceedings.

Goldwater described Romney as "the best example of a man called into government when he didn't have to go." He told party members there are "thousands of George Romneys waiting to be called."

Romney's repayment in kind was a remark that no Republican has done more than Goldwater (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Pair Cited in Abortion

By DICK HANSON
A Pontiac store manager and a former car dealer from Flint were charged with abortion yesterday by local authorities.

Melvin O. Springer, 45, of 447 E. Montcalm, and Kenny Redwitz, 41, of Flint, stood mute when arraigned before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace John E. McGrath.

Springer, manager of Osman's Town & Country men's shop at Tel-Huron shopping center, was released on $5,000 bond.

Redwitz was sent to the county jail in lieu of $15,000 bond.

Examination was set for Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. before McGrath.

On a tip from Detroit police, detectives from the Pontiac State Police Post, Waterford and Bloomfield Townships set an elaborate trap for Redwitz and Springer.

A Detroit policewoman, Frances Hendrick, 35, posing as a potential patient, contacted Springer at the store yesterday morning.

She was carrying a concealed walkie-talkie transmitting to a receiver and tape recorder in a nearby police car.

State police detective Robert Nigebauer said Springer contacted Redwitz and made the arrangements for an abortion at the Highlander Motel at Dixie Highway and Telegraph in Waterford Township.

Redwitz was handing Mrs. Hendrick a sedative at 10:30 a. m. when police closed in on the motel room. Waterford Township detective Ernest Mann said.

According to Bloomfield Township police detective James Keller, Redwitz had surgical instruments laid out on the motel bed when they arrived.

Springer was arrested shortly after, while having breakfast at a restaurant.

He said he received no money for his part, stating he merely wanted to help women in trouble, according to detectives.

The officers said Redwitz charged a flat rate of $500 for each operation he performed.

Hoffa Charged With Attempt to Bribe Jurors

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Teamster in Trial for Conspiracy

A five-count indictment returned by a special federal grand jury accused the labor leader with "aiding, commanding and inducing" efforts to influence two jurors and a prospective juror to vote for his acquittal.

In Philadelphia, Hoffa said he was not guilty and declined comment because he had not seen the indictment. He appeared before a U.S. commissioner and posted a $10,000 bond for a hearing next Monday.

Six other persons, most of them close friends or associates of Hoffa, also were indicted, and Justice Department attorneys indicated still more indictments might be forthcoming.

Suspect Narcotics Involved

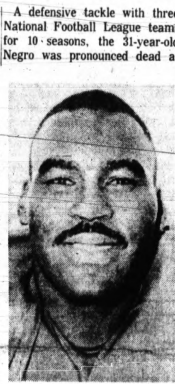

Pro Grid Star Dies Mysteriously

From Our News Wires
BALTIMORE, MD.—Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, 290-pound tackle of the Pittsburgh Steelers for 10 seasons, the 31-year-old Negro was pronounced dead at a preliminary autopsy report said, "There is a definite suspicion that narcotics are involved in the death."

Assistant City Medical Examiner Dr. Rudiger Brennecker, said the autopsy failed to disclose what caused the death of Lipscomb, who was found unconscious in a west Baltimore apartment.

But he said there were at least three needle marks above the veins on both elbows of the athlete.

He said a home-made syringe found near the body will be chemically tested, but that results will not be known until next week.

'BIG DADDY' LIPSCOMB

A defensive tackle with three National Football League teams for 10 seasons, the 31-year-old Negro was pronounced dead at 8 a. m.

Lipscomb lived in Baltimore, where he formerly starred with the Baltimore Colts, and had been at a party in the apartment police said.

He suddenly fell unconscious, witnesses said, and an ambulance was called. By the time he arrived at the hospital, Lipscomb was dead, a hospital spokesman said.

Former teammates, including one with whom he had been living for four years in Baltimore, identified the body. It was sent to the morgue to determine the cause of death, which was listed by the hospital as unknown.

Delay Announcement on Birmingham Talks During Negotiations

From Our News Wires
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — City Comptroller Grady Fulleton said sufficient bond was posted today to release 790 Negroes jailed for antisegregation demonstrations here.

Fulleton said $237,000 in bond was put up by Reliable Bail Bond Service, a Negro bonding company, which would mean the release of 790 at $300 apiece.

Earlier in the day a biracial committee was reported on the verge of final agreement in negotiations to end the racial strife that has torn this city for more than a month.

Negro leaders said there would be an announcement at 12:30 p. m. (Pontiac time) but then there was a delay, just as there had been on two occasions yesterday during the 11th-hour negotiations.

Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, leader of the Birmingham integration movement, was expected to make an announcement that accord had been reached on four demands by Negro leaders.

Shuttlesworth, who earlier was known to disapprove of at least one point, was reported to be satisfied this morning with the agreement.

LONDON (UPI)—Russia vetoed a new Western peace bid for Laos today and Britain formally charged the Communists are "persistently and plainly" frustrating the Geneva Laotian settlement.

Road Work Hits Annual Problems

"It happens every spring," says Sol D. Lomerson.

And he's not talking about baseball.

Lomerson is chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission and he was talking about the annual agony of adjustment to the road construction season.

"Some people just won't follow directions," Lomerson says.

"We put up road closed signs and they drive right in, anyway," he continues. "Then they get mad when they get to the construction and can't go any further."

Other motorists refuse to believe the signs that a road really is closed, according to Bert Mercer, assistant chief engineer for the road commission.

"They drive around the barriers, knock them over and even smash them up sometimes. They just can't believe the road is closed," Mercer says.

Motorists get used to the detours and barriers after a few days, Lomerson and Mercer say, and things get less hectic.

But the situation has a serious side, which the road commission recognizes.

LOST FEELING
"People feel lost when they are shut off from main roads and their usual routes home," Lomerson says.

"We try to do our best to do our construction in stages, and keep as much of a road open to as many people as possible," he explains.

Biggest problem so far this construction season has been the widening and improving of Union Lake Road, as residents and business (Continued on Page 2, Col. 9)

Transformer Circuit Blast Stops Power

The failure of a Consumers Power Co. circuit breaker in an underground vault at the southeast corner of Huron and Cass halted electrical service from 20 minutes to 1½ hours yesterday afternoon.

Affected were some 26 commercial establishments, including The Pontiac Press, and home owners west on Huron connected to the transformer.

The first of two blasts occurred at 2:45 p. m. Flames shot up through a grating above the vault containing the circuit breaker, blackening a fire sign 15 feet above the sidewalk.

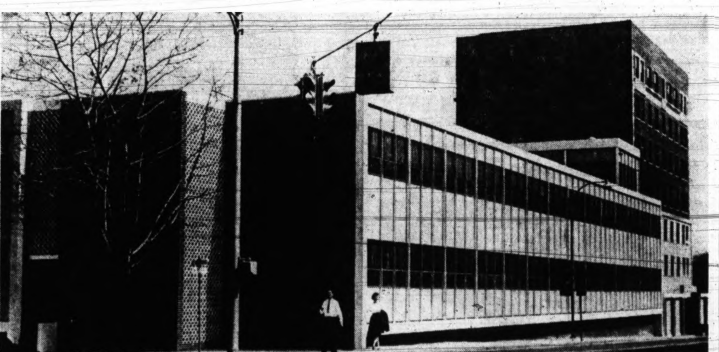

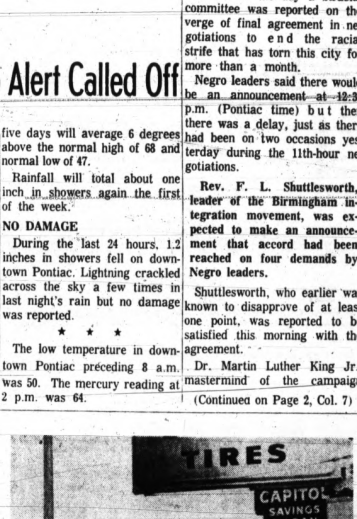

The second blast lifted a small grating out of place.

Consumers divisional manager Charles Brown said the cause of the malfunctioning of the breaker is still undetermined.

By 6:50 a. m. today, engineers had isolated the faulty switch and replaced it with a new one.

NOT TOO CLOSE

Spectators stand nervously by near Huron and Cass waiting for another blast. Minutes before this picture was taken an underground transformer in a vault beneath the grating had twice erupted, blackening a sign (top of picture) and displacing a small grate (arrow).

Haiti Charges U.S. Plot Afoot

From Our News Wires
PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti—Haiti accused the United States today of trying to destroy it as a republic and notified the Organization of American States it would not let seven men in political asylum accused as assassins leave the country.

The Haitian defiance of OAS demands that all of the more than 100 political refugees in asylum in Port-au-Prince be allowed to leave the country was contained in a message sent the hemisphere body by President Francois Duvalier.

Duvalier said bluntly the seven men involved were enemies of the state and not political refugees.

He identified them as having participated in a recent assassination attempt against his children.

The Haitian foreign ministry charged in an official statement yesterday that "a plot by the United States to destroy Haiti's democratic institutions" was behind the current crisis.

In Santo Domingo, President Juan Bosch demanded that the OAS go to the core of the Haitian-Dominican Republic crisis by investigating his charges that the Haitian regime violated human rights and international law.

The slim, white-haired president told a news conference that his government might withdraw troops from the Haitian frontier if Duvalier guarantees safe conduct to persons who fled to asylum in the Dominican Embassy in Port-au-Prince.

But Bosch insisted on that minimum demand—safety for all 22 Haitians who sought protection in the Dominican Embassy and now are sheltered by the Colombian flag.

The U.N. Security Council has decided to leave settlement of the dispute to the OAS despite Soviet objections.

The council ended a two-day

GOP Applauds Goldwater

"to arouse Republicans to an awareness of public affairs and to focus attention on issues."

As for Goldwater, he confessed to a reporter that he was both unhappy and happy.

Unhappy because of pressure on him to seek the residential nomination.

Happy because he is getting back the money he shelved out for last year's congressional campaigns. It seems he bankrolled the GOP to the extent of $30,000 and the dinner, grossing more than $400,000, means he will be repaid.

"But don't publicize this too much," he said. "I don't want people bothering me trying to borrow money."

NOTABLE ABSENTEES

Two notable absentees sent telegrams to the dinner, praising Goldwater:

1. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who is at one of his favorite golfing bases, Augusta, Ga., promised to do his best to help the Republicans sweep the nation next year.

2. Rockefeller, honeymooning in Venezuela, said that only a "conflicting commitment" kept him away from the dinner. He called for unity in "the challenging year ahead of us."

Many Congress members, several governors and other GOP prominent attended the dinner. Romney made a short talk opposite.

nessmen in Union Lake are quite ready to agree.

Mercer says the county's right-of-way is not wide enough to permit building of a temporary roadway while Union Lake Road is closed.

And motorists who have been ignoring the detour and taking a shortcut through private subdivision streets have run afoul of the residents' anger.

On top of that, businessmen are suffering because traffic no longer goes past their stores.

Adjustments to construction also are taking place along Southfield Road, which is being reconstructed and widened from 9 1/2-mile Road to 13-mile Road.

Last Hour to Register

The deadline to register to vote in any of the June 10 school elections throughout the county, except the City of Pontiac, is 5 p.m. Monday.

Pontiac residents can register until 8 p.m. Monday. Residents can register with their city, village or township clerk.

Voters will elect school board members and decide local ballot propositions in the annual June elections, besides deciding on a junior college.

Black and police left the house for a time and when he returned he found Lipscomb slumped over a kitchen table on the second floor.

Crewmen from a municipal ambulance, telephoned by Black, said the 6-foot, 6-inch, 280-pound Lipscomb was on the floor and apparently unconscious when they arrived.

Lipscomb, who became an All-Pro despite the lack of college experience, had played for the Pittsburgh Steelers the past two seasons.

He was traded to the Steelers by the Baltimore Colts, for whom he had played six seasons, including the championship years of 1958-59 when he was named All-NFL.

The Colts picked Lipscomb off the waiver list. He was released by the Los Angeles Rams, who had found him playing for the Camp Pendleton, Calif., Marines in 1953.

In spite of his size, Lipscomb was noted for his lateral speed which caught the eyes of the fans. Although fierce looking with a mustache, he was a comedian.

During the off seasons of 1959 and 1960, he wrestled on the pro circuit. He recently said he would like to be the first human to land on the moon.

Lipscomb and his wife, Cecelia, were divorced in 1960. They had two children.

Lipscomb was born Aug. 9, 1931 in Detroit. He attended Miller High School there and jokingly referred to it as Miller Tech when other players talked about their college alma mater.

Pittsburgh Steelers Coach Bud Parker said he was stunned by Lipscomb's death.

"This comes as an absolute shock," Parker said.

"He was one of the great tackles who ever played in this game. I don't think there's any doubt about that."

City Schools Will Change 4 Principals

Four Pontiac elementary schools will have new principals next year, the Board of Education indicated last night.

The school board approved the transfer of Lester Stanley from Hawthorne School to LeBaron School; and the shift of Mrs. Effie Mitchell from Herrington School to the new Cottage Street School.

William E. Neff, teacher at Bethune School, was promoted to the principalship at Hawthorne School, while Richard F. Henderson, now on leave from the Galesburg, Mich., system, was hired as a new principal.

Stanley will succeed the retiring Mrs. Golda Holechek at LeBaron School.

Mrs. Mitchell will take over the Cottage Street School, which is now under construction.

Grant, Outfielder Not With Tribe for Tiger Series

DETROIT (AP)—Pitcher Jim (Mudcat) Grant and rookie outfielder Ellis Burton were not with the Cleveland Indians when they arrived here today for the opener of a three-game series with the Detroit Tigers.

Manager Birdie Tebbets said the two players, who are roommates on the road, were not at the airport when the Indians' plane took off from Washington at 10 a.m. and that he had received no word from them.

Tebbets was visibly disturbed by the pair's absence, but said he wanted to talk to them before making any comment.

IFK Greet Canada Leader

Pearson Is Welcomed as Old Friend of U.S.

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy welcomed Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson as an old friend of the United States today as the two leaders got together in an attempt to patch up relations between the two countries.

The President spoke at nearby Otis Air Force Base on Cape Cod where he and the Canadian leader landed in their jet planes a few minutes apart.

Pearson, who took office less than a month ago, also indicated a desire to heal the differences which developed under Conservative Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker.

He expressed hope that the two days of talks between him and Kennedy would "strengthen the friendly and durable feelings between our two peoples."

They planned to begin their talks at a luncheon arranged at the home of Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father.

The helicopter landed on the lawn of the elder Kennedy's home after the flight of about 20 miles from the air base.

The two leaders were to spend most of today and Saturday reviewing the issues which have built up friction between the two countries during the past six years.

TALKS WITH MAC

Pearson has had similar talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in London, as part of his announced program of trying to restore Canada's prestige in world affairs.

The meeting between Kennedy and Pearson finds relations between the United States and Canada at the lowest point in years.

Murphy estimates the recount in the 206 county precincts affected will take 15 days.

If the recount begins May 20 as tentatively scheduled, the 15 days would end June 7, the Friday before the school elections. Unforeseen delays could extend it beyond June 10.

"I've written Sec. of State James M. Hare to see if voting machines not involved in the recount can be released for use," Murphy said.

"I'm also asking for permission to release machines as soon as each is recounted instead of waiting for the entire recount to be completed," Murphy said.

Emerson said it would be no problem to use paper ballots, not even for those school districts that have become accustomed to machines and no longer have ballot boxes.

William E. Neff, teacher at Bethune School, was promoted to the principalship at Hawthorne School, while Richard F. Henderson, now on leave from the Galesburg, Mich., system, was hired as a new principal.

Mrs. Mitchell will take over the Cottage Street School, which is now under construction.

Neff, a graduate of Maryland State Teachers College and a Wayne University, has been in the Pontiac system since 1956. He is former Pontiac Education Association president.

Henderson, 31, is currently finishing graduate work at Western Michigan University. He was an elementary school instructor in Kalamazoo and Galesburg, and also served as principal at Galesburg.

The school board hired Henderson, but did not assign him. School Supt. Dana P. Whitmer asked that the assignment be deferred pending other openings in principalships.

here that has resulted in more than 2,200 arrests, said earlier only "some minor problems" remained to be dealt with.

One of King's top aides said Negroes likely would not renew their demonstrations to end segregation, pending some announcement on an agreement, despite a threat to do so at 10 a.m. (Pontiac time) if the agreement had not been reached.

Even as the final details were being hammered out for the four-point agreement, Negroes were being released in small groups from the city's jails—overflowing earlier from the mass arrests.

The Negro leaders had demanded desegregation of downtown eating facilities, better employment opportunities, appointment of a biracial committee to plan future desegregation and release of the demonstrators.

Meanwhile, it was learned that the National Maritime Union, AFL-CIO, had sent a check for $25,000 to an organization of which King is honorary chairman.

The money apparently was being used to put up bond for persons arrested during the mass demonstrations which were almost a daily occurrence since April 3 until a suspension was announced by Negro leaders Monday.

He denied reports that all Negro demonstrators had been met. King had set 10 a.m. (Pontiac time) today for new Negro demonstrations — which have sent more than 2,200 participants to jail in a month of racial strife—if the demands had not been met.

But the hour passed quietly. Only a few Negroes were on the streets. A park around which many of the demonstrations have raged was deserted. A mass meeting was set for later in the Mitchell from Herrington School to the new Cottage Street School.

The ice show accounted for the largest portion of the increase, attracting 3,100 persons this year compared to 900 last season.

Attendance at open skating sessions jumped from 20,824 to 23,416 — a difference of some 2,500. Decreases were noted in family night attendance, mothers and preschoolers attendance and rentals.

The rink, located at Eton Park, was open 95 days and forced to close only once because of bad weather. Last year there were 86 skating days.

Revenue from the rink was $17,247 this winter and $13,730 last year. On the other hand, expenditures dropped from $24,192 to $22,465.

Pope Receives Peace Prize

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII today received the $100,000 Balzan Peace Prize and said the honor and glory should go to God. He vowed to continue striving for world peace.

The 81-year-old pontiff appeared somewhat tired as he walked slowly into the pontifical throne room for the first brief presentation ceremony. But a smile brightened his face.

Reports that the Pope has cancer of the stomach have revived following word that he suffered a brief relapse Tuesday stemming from his serious illness of last November.

The award to the Pope was the second, the first having gone last year to the Nobel Foundation.

Reactions Vary on Tax OK

By The Associated Press
The State Supreme Court decision upholding Detroit's city income tax has drawn varied reaction from civic officials around Michigan, many of whom had adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

The court, in a unanimous decision, yesterday upheld the legality of Detroit's controversial 1 per cent city income tax on residents and nonresidents.

Twelve suburbs had joined in the challenge of the validity of a Wayne County Circuit Court decision that the tax was legal on an excise tax and applied to residents and nonresidents alike.

The court noted that the non-resident aspect of the tax, which went into effect last July 1, was challenged on the basis that it violated due process rights of the state and federal constitutions. Some Michigan civic officials felt the decision would aid plans for a similar tax stand in their areas.

Others expressed the opinion that it would pave the way toward a state income tax where all citizens would be taxed and cities would obtain rebates.

"All I can say is that I'm happy for Detroit," said Grand Rapids Mayor Stanley J. Davis.

"This is one of the means of raising revenue discussed here from time to time, but never actually has it been seriously considered."

"EVERY CITY HAPPY"
"This is the first step in allowing cities to help themselves without going to the state or federal government for help," he said. "It should make every city happy."

However, some people weren't so happy — particularly the residents of Detroit suburbs, many of whom work in Detroit and are therefore subject to the tax.

George W. Kuhn, mayor of suburban Berkley, indicated that the Vigilance Tax Committee will consider an appeal of the State Supreme Court decision to the United States Supreme Court.

Kuhn is chairman of the committee, which is circulating petitions seeking action at the special session of the State Legislature this fall to eliminate the Detroit tax.

Mayor Abraham S. Levine of Mt. Clemens said he felt very sorry for the people who work in Detroit and pay a tax from which they get little benefit.

However, he said he sees no possibility of a local income tax in Mt. Clemens.

Mayor William G. Shaw of Warren said he expects the decision will bring forth a state income tax where all will be taxed and cities will obtain rebates.

A special election is set in Flint for June 4 on a ballot proposal for a 1 per cent income tax patterned after the Detroit tax.

In Ypsilanti, one of 11 Michigan cities outside Detroit which already have charter power to establish an income tax, a citizens advisory committee has been studying the feasibility of such a tax.

In Detroit, Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh had this to say:

"The historic decision insures the financial stability of the city and gives a bright outlook to the future. Besides being a great benefit to the citizens of Detroit, it will afford hope for other distressed municipalities in the state."

License Is Granted for a Dance Hall

NOVI—License for a dance hall at Walled Lake Amusement Park, scheduled to open tonight, was granted last night by the Village Council here.

At a special meeting, the council reviewed qualifications of the hall, a converted roller skating rink.

Park officials were told Monday to make additional changes in order to meet village requirements.

Washington's Asst. Fire Chief William Alward said damage was about $8,000. He added that the loss was fully insured.

Treated for minor burns on their arms, which they received while battling the blaze, were William G. Wilson, of 5539 Sanburn and Fred Haldeman Jr., of 58761 Van Dyke.

The fire was brought under control by the 42 volunteers about 3:30 p.m.

Building Is Set at Boys' School

Living, Class Units Set at Whitmore Lake

Ground will be broken Wednesday for the multi-million dollar construction of residence and school units for the Boys Training School at Whitmore Lake.

The announcement was made today by Theodore V. Bacon, project supervisor for the Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach.

Completion date of the buildings was advanced in the architect's requirements from 18 months to one year following Gov. George Romney's request of the State Building Department to hurry these detention facilities for juvenile delinquents.

The units will be the third and fourth under the master plan which calls for the eventual accommodation of 600 to 800 boys.

Already completed are the reception and security units. However, work on the two remaining residences, each for 150 boys, must await appropriations now under consideration by the State Legislature.

The residence about to be constructed will accommodate an additional 140 boys. The new school will contain 24 classrooms plus shops and other vocational training facilities.

Bacon said that contracts for these two units totaled $2,203,656, which was below the budget appropriation.

NOVI—Plans for a drag strip between Grand River and I-96 were halted at a zoning board of appeals meeting here.

The board refused to grant a variance to William Seward and David Phipps of Livonia, prospective drag strip developers.

The strip of land in question extends from a quarter mile east of Beck to Taft. It is zoned for restricted manufacture, but the ordinance did not specifically include or exempt drag strips.

Refusal to grant a variance followed the board's decision that drag strips should not be included in the zone.

Lyon School Election to Decide Bond Issue

LYON TOWNSHIP — A $1,548,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new high school will be on the June 10 ballot here.

The building has been designed to handle 750 to 800 students but can be expanded for a 1,275 capacity.

A 26-acre piece of property in South Lyon was recently selected by the board of education as site for the new school.

The property is located on the northwest corner of Pontiac Trail and Nine Mile Road.

If the bond issue is accepted by the school district's property owners, construction will begin in September, according to architectural engineer Henry Haberkorn.

The building should be completed within 10 months, he said.

PLANNED CLASSROOMS

A total of 32 teaching stations is included in the plans for the initial building. These facilities could be expanded to 55 classrooms.

Plans call for a library, a dance gymnasium and a cafeteria which can be divided into two study halls.

The T-shaped, single-story building would have about 40,000 square feet of floor space.

Estimated cost per square foot is $13.50 to $13.75.

Break-down of the total bill is $1.22 million for building construction.

Romeo School Schedules Fair

Events to Take Place In, Outside Building

ROME — Noise in the hall and classrooms will be permissible tomorrow at the South Grade School because it's a special occasion.

The annual Elementary Schools Club Fair will be staged from 2 to 7:30 p.m. throughout the building — and even outdoors, weather permitting.

Each classroom will be transformed into a sales or games room for the club's one big money-raising event of the year.

Featured will be a beauty shop, wishing well, fish pond, dig-for-gold booth and limbo contests.

Last-minute shoppers for Mother's Day gifts may find them in rooms where potted plants, baked goods, white elephants and needlework will be on sale.

Helicopters, fire engine, hay and pony rides will be offered especially for the youngsters on the school grounds.

Those with hearty appetites can satisfy them by visiting the cafeteria where food will be served all during the fair.

Mrs. Courad Friedemann is general chairman.

Improvement Starts on Highway in Area

LANSING (UPI) — Work has begun on a $609,018 modernization project on M218 west of Pontiac and traffic is being detoured around the construction, the State Highway Department said yesterday.

Contractor Holloway Construction Co., Livonia, started work on the project which calls for 12 miles of widening the present 26-foot roadway to 34 feet from Wixom northeast to Commerce Road near Pontiac.

Bids were taken on the work last month. Completion date is set for June 30, 1964.

School Renovation to Start

ROCHESTER — Renovation of the old Harrison School for use as a central school office building is expected to begin shortly, with the goal of centralizing the district's administrative facilities.

The board of education has approved the expenditure of $15,916 on the building.

The 78-year-old school has been vacant this year. It was closed after being declared unfit for further use as a classroom building.

School architects and the board made the decision.

Presently Schools Supt. Donald C. Baldwin has his office in a home on the corner of the high school property.

The assistant superintendent curriculum is also in the converted house while the assistant superintendent business has facilities at the old Stoney Creek School, along with other business personnel.

Although the move had been considered by the board for some time, the decision was made after Baldwin announced to the board that the well output at his present office has diminished to the point of causing unsanitary conditions.

Work on the new office will include the construction of partitions, lighting fixture changes and alterations of radiators and other heating equipment.

Baldwin today said chances are quite good that the renovation will not require the entire $15,916 allotted the project.

Besides the administrative offices, plans also call for a room for board of education meetings.

The alterations will be financed by money from higher delinquent tax returns than expected and tax receipts.

Barn Destroyed, Cattle Killed in Fire Caused by Lightning

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP — foot barn on Dr. Norman Schroeder's farm at 5996 Camp ground, near Van Dyke between 27- and 28-Mile roads, killed five head of cattle and injured three firemen before it was brought under control.

Striking down about 2 p.m., the lightning bolt hit a 40-by-80-foot barn, it was too late to save a bull, two cows and two calves inside.

DEPARTMENT SUMMONED
The Washington Township fire department was summoned by a neighbor, Clarence DeLator, who also saw the lightning hit the structure.

Assistance was given by the Romeo, Shelby and Macomb fire departments.

Although the one barn was lost, the volunteer firemen were able to keep the flames from spreading to two other larger barns nearby, one of which contained 32 head of cattle.

Washington's Asst. Fire Chief William Alward said damage was about $8,000. He added that the loss was fully insured.

Treated for minor burns on their arms, which they received while battling the blaze, were William G. Wilson, of 5539 Sanburn and Fred Haldeman Jr., of 58761 Van Dyke.

Also treated by a Romeo doctor was Richard Poljan, who suffered minor burns and a lacerated foot.

The fire was brought under control by the 42 volunteers about 3:30 p.m.

The present 40-mile and 50-mile zones will be combined into one speed zone with a 45-mile limit from Grand Park to Sterritt.

The changes, aimed at making speed zones more nearly uniform, are a result of cooperative studies made by the State Highway Department, state police and the Utica Police Department.

Despite Thresher, Similar N-Craft Will Be Built

Patterson

INSURANCE

(EDITOR'S NOTE — A month ago today the nuclear submarine Thresher sank in the Atlantic with the loss of 129 men. The following is an up-to-the-minute account of the nation's worst peacetime submarine disaster.)

By JAMES CALOGERO

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—The disaster that struck the nuclear submarine Thresher one month ago today has not changed the Navy's plans for construction of vessels of the same type.

Rear Adm. Ralph K. James, until April 29 chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ships, told a Navy Court of Inquiry Thursday that the bureau reviewed and found the design "fundamentally excellent and there should be no termination of this program."

The report was accepted by Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth, James said.

The admiral, who retires June 30, also said the Thresher "represented the finest capability in performance and safety in submarines."

After first testifying in open court, James and his successor as chief of the Bureau of Ships, Rear Adm. William A. Brockett, gave further testimony behind closed doors.

It was on a gray morning one month ago that the Thresher sank during a deep sea test dive with the loss of 129 lives 220 miles east of Boston.

WORST DISASTER

Had the disaster struck one cruise before that fatal dive, it might have entombed not only crewmen but members of their families as well.

Her last previous venture had been a "petticoat" cruise and with the family members of her crew just before she was put in drydock for nine months of overhaul.

The $45-million dollar Thresher disappeared on her next diving venture, April 10.

The Navy says Lt. Cmdr. John W. Harvey would never have issued the traditional submarine order of "submerge the boat" if he felt any imminent danger.

It was shortly after 9 a.m. on April 10 that Harvey followed a procedure that has been standard in the 60-year history of the Navy submarine service.

"Is the bridge clear?" Presumably, an affirmative answer brought Harvey's command of "prepare to dive."

And then, after Thresher was sealed against the sea, "submerge the boat."

The dive was to have been a test of depth after the overhaul.

WENT DOWN
Thresher went down—never to come up again—in water that is 8,400 feet deep, a depth experts say no submarine could survive.

If she lies on the bottom, the pressure against Thresher's hull is 3,730 pounds per square inch, compared with 32 pounds at sea level.

Search vessels are still trying to locate the sunken Thresher in which are entombed 16 officers, 96 enlisted men and 17 civilian technicians.

Ready to go to her side when the submarine is located is the bathyscaphe Trieste, capable of descending to that depth with men and cameras.

And a Navy Court of Inquiry is trying to determine what caused Thresher to exceed her depth and plummet to her doom. In 22 days of court sessions at court has heard about 90 witness exhibits, including some two dozen said could have come from Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, the es and studied more than 130 ex-pieces of debris which witnesses Thresher.

Seaway Is Successful Due to Many Efforts

Navigation on the St. Lawrence Seaway is settling into another brisk season.

This will be the fifth.

In 1962, the incredible total of 25 million tons passed through this great waterway—an astounding gain of five million over 1961. And the prospects indicate even greater tonnage for 1963.

It required more than a quarter of a century for this country and our good neighbors to the north to work out an equitable arrangement that suited everyone. Many great names were associated with the formative years. Successive Presidents Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower were involved. Pearson, of Canada, was also active but there are two names that intrigue us more.

DONDERO

Oakland County's own George Dondero is one. During his two decades in the House, Congressman Dondero was a tireless worker for the St. Lawrence Seaway and was given the official pen with which the ultimate signatures were attached as a tangible recognition and reward for his heroic labors. Dondero's contributions were invaluable.

Both nations bowed.

A U. S. Senator comes to mind.

too. Atlantic seaboard people were fearful this inlet would cost them valuable shipping and many of them fought the project. A young Senator from Massachusetts

deplored the

refusal of many New Englanders to recognize the legitimate needs and aspirations of other sections," and added: "We cannot continue so narrow and destructive a position."

The speaker was John F. Ken-neddy.

Working out an agreement between so many conflicting parties and interests was a titanic task and victory was only achieved because of the selfless dedication of a few stalwarts like our own GEORGE DONDERO.

Today Michigan and the great

Middle West have a stronger and more diversified economy because of the tenacity and vision of those farsighted adherents who refused

Hart Shows Interest

in Cherry Product

Michigan's Senator PHILIP A. HART has long been aligned on the side of the exploited housewife.

Currently he gives a moment to cherry pies.

The Senator announces he will ask the Food and Drug Administration to specify that frozen cherry pies cannot be placed on shelves to claim milady's precious coins with as few as 40 cherries.

It seems the Michigan man was very sparsely filled and he counted the whole shebang.

This bit of original research

"Wrong," quoth the Senator. "It cheats our nation's households. Further it cheats Michigan." Senator

HART has been working along these same lines for several years. He is a staunch defender of the housewife against the 14 ounce pounds, the "quarts" that are skimmed an eighth—and similar skimping and even downright crookedness.

In the current case, Michigan has a double stake. Primarily, we don't want our families cheated; and secondly, we're a great cherry state. Therefore, we don't want skimping manufacturers or bakers cutting down the supply of those delicious Michigan cherries. We suffer from the reduction in delectability on the part of the consumer and we suffer from short changing in the purchase of cherries.

Senator, fight on.

Dems, GOP Enter State of Euphoria

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — This is the time when Democrats and Republicans embark on a voyage which carries them close to the isles of fantasy. They're sailing now.

It happens every four years, about a year and some months before the next presidential election. They line the rails, chanting a political anthem composed in part of exaggerated charges and preposterous claims. This makes it doubly hard on the earnest voter along the shore.

He wants to separate fact from fiction, the bland from the blatant, and the true from the trite. But he has time, close-up or wide-angle, telling Democrats from Republicans since they're such look-alikes.

From now until election day the politicians will be in a state which psychologists call euphoria. Without any apparent effort, and without any facts, they imagine all kinds of good things happening to them.

Thursday for instance, Republican congressional leaders predicted that the GOP in 1964 would capture the presidency and the House. But then they suffered a complete lapse of prophecy. This will last until their convention.

candidate.

Their three front-runners, all eager to make a speech at the drop of an invitation or without one, have managed to fight off any public display of their own euphoria.

DENY AMBITIONS

The three — New York's Gov. Nelson A.

Rockefeller, Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater, and Michigan's Gov. George Romney — all deny they have presidential ambitions.

This is like hearing a fisherman say he's sitting in the hot sun for exercise.

The Republicans, now that this is open

William E. Miller of New York, has accused him of "apathy and drift."

Miller's opposite number, John M. Bailey,

Democratic national chairman, returned the favor against Rockefeller who until recently, at least, looked like the man on the inside track in the Republican race.

Bailey accused Rockefeller of lacking leadership in his own state of New York.

Not to be outdone, the governor has had some uncompromising things to say about the way Kennedy is leading.

But Bailey, like the Republicans, also got carried away by his dreams of political plenty and invaded New York to tell the Democrats he expects them to carry the

CAVE-DWELLERS

Even the cave-dwellers knew that nothing burns a man up so quickly — including his ambitions — as building a fire under him.

The Republicans, having built one under

Kennedy, are throwing logs on it steadily.

Uninformed JFK Out of Bounds

WASHINGTON — Impromptu statements by a president of the United States at a news conference can evoke widespread criticism, especially if the answers show that they have not been thought through. Thus, President Kennedy over nationwide television and radio networks told a LAWRENCE large section of the American people on Wednesday that, in effect, there is something wrong in trying to amend the Constitution of the United States.

Yet that document itself pres

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Arm Swells After Breast Cancer Surgery

(Last of two related columns)
It is estimated that about 64,000 new cases of breast cancer will occur in the United States this year. Practically all of the patients will have the breast removed.

Following this operation, nearly half will have a troublesome swelling of the arm which may be due to several factors.

The very nature of the operation, with the necessity for removing lymph nodes and lymphatic vessels in the region of the armpit, is likely to interfere with the lymph drainage from the arm sufficiently to cause some swelling.

Infection of the operative wound, with the ever-present staphylococcus is commonly a factor.

Even X-ray treatments that are almost always given after the operation may delay the formation of new lymph vessels, and so aggravate the damming-back of the lymph. This inevitably causes swelling, but it is not a reason to omit X-ray treatment. This complication is often mild and may disappear in one or two weeks but, if it becomes severe, the arm will be heavy, unsightly, hard for the victim to move, and an aching or throbbing pain may develop in it.

The treatment consists of keeping the arm elevated on a pillow while lying down, and using a sling when up and about.

USUALLY CONTROLLED

If infection is present, a course of antibiotics usually controls it in a few days and the swelling subsides.

Otherwise, an elastic weave bandage or an elastic sleeve must be worn.

Various forms of physical therapy, including massage, whirlpool baths, and intermittent pneumatic compression, may be beneficial.

Amusing as this swelling is, it is a small price to pay for complete removal of a breast cancer.

Q — I have had part of my left breast removed because of an abscess. Now my doctor tells me I have chronic mastitis in my right breast. Can this turn into cancer?

A — Chronic mastitis does not turn into cancer. If cancer develops, the mastitis is not the cause.

Q — When a woman's bust has fallen is there anything she can do to improve firmness?

A — A reduction in the size and firmness of the breasts is often observed after childbirth.

It may also be due to taking male hormone or to a disease of the ovaries, adrenals, pituitary, or thyroid (all glands of internal secretion).

FOLLOWS WEIGHT LOSS

Sometimes it follows a sudden loss of weight due to dieting or other reasons.

It is of prime importance, therefore, to have your doctor determine the cause.

Push-up exercises to strengthen the muscles in the region of the breasts may help to compensate for the reduced breast size, but they will not increase the breast tissue.

Female hormones are not advised, because they are likely to cause too many undesirable side effects. When they are discontinued, the breasts sag again. If you are chiefly concerned about your appearance, some type of padded brassiere might be the best solution to your problem.

Back British Guiana Chief

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (U)—A British frigate stood by in Georgetown Harbor today to back up Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan's proclamation of a state of emergency for the strike-bound South American colony.

The frigate Whirlwind carried a contingent of royal marines ready in the event of violence to bolster the battalion of Coldstream Guards garrisoned in the colony.

Also aboard were technicians to help keep essential services going should the three-week-old general strike result in serious breakdowns.

Elements of a battalion of Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers were alerted in Britain for possible emergency service in the territory on the northeast coast of South America.

Police raided homes in Georgetown for guns and subversive pamphlets. Jagan reinforced guards around essential public utilities such as electricity and water plants.

Jagan, who proclaimed the state of emergency yesterday with the assent of Britain's colonial office, made a radio appeal to the strikers, saying food and fuel supplies are dangerously low and the health of the colony is threatened.

Senators Okay Bill Barring Wage Bias

WASHINGTON (U)—The Senate Labor Committee unanimously approved yesterday a bill to bar discrimination in wage scales against women because of their sex.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., would set up machinery under the minimum wage act to accomplish this purpose.

Law Agencies Say 'Lie Detector' Valuable Investigative Aid

By The Associated Press
There was scarcely a ripple in the nation's police departments when President Kennedy frowned at a suggestion that lie detectors be used in the TFX fighter plane contract award controversy.

Nor was there any stir at the disclosure that Air Force files contain a report casting doubt on the present lie detector techniques.

An Associated Press survey plane flying 10 feet off the ground showed that the numerous police down Long Beach Boulevard and departments who use lie detectors he is tested, the machine is going consider them a valuable tool in investigations and will continue to use them.

Experts in the use of the machines, however, are keenly aware of their limitations.

For example, John Charney of the Long Beach, Calif., police department said it is difficult—if not impossible—to examine successfully a pathological liar.

Some people, Charney added, may work themselves into believing they are telling the truth when they are lying.

to indicate that he is telling the truth."

USEFUL MACHINE

Capt. Don A. Martin, who heads the scientific investigation division of the Los Angeles police department, said the polygraph machine—as professionals call it—is a useful tool of investigation. We make good use of it and will continue to do so."

Lt. Lee Klingan, who is in charge of polygraph examinations for the Los Angeles police, is sold on the device but objects to the use of the term "lie detector."

"The polygraph is not a lie detector," he said. "It does not detect lies. It merely detects physiological responses. When a subject shows a strong response to a question, he is given a chance to explain the reason for his response. There may be other reasons why he responded strongly to the question other than because he was lying."

Qualified operators favor three-channel polygraph machines that measure respiration, heartbeat on the device but objects to the use of the term "lie detector."

Klingan emphasized that the polygraph is only one tool of investigation and that investigators should not rely on it alone.

Klingan and the other experts stressed that the reliability of a polygraph examination depends on the kind of machine used, the qualifications of the examiner and the subject.

He said in order to detect a response that indicates a lie has been told, there must be two factors present: The person must lie and he must feel guilty about it.

A subject who has lost all sense of value and has no sense of guilt over having done something wrong would not make a good subject for a polygraph examination, Klingan said.

Police chief C.M. Kelley of Kansas City says "we use lie detectors as an investigative aid and will continue to use them for that purpose. We will study anything that tends to discredit technique and try to avoid any pitfalls."

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol, said the patrol has used the polygraph machine very successfully.

"Of course," he said, "the machine itself doesn't show whether a man is innocent or guilty. It merely indicates whether he is lying. After that it is up to the officers to pin him down by further questioning. It's a matter of interrogation. We've obtained many confessions this way."

ALMOST INDISPENSABLE

Dist. Atty. William J. Raggio of Reno, Nev., termed the lie detector "almost indispensable."

"The polygraph is only as good as the examiner who operates it," Raggio said. "Its greatest aid is in clearing people. We've used it extensively."

B.G. Ragdale, director of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, said the Washington developments had had "no effect whatsoever" on the use of polygraph machines by Georgia and Atlanta police.

State police in Louisiana and the highway patrol in Mississippi reported they remain sold on the value of the polygraph.

State police in New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island and Maine reported they consider lie detectors a valuable investigative aid. The machines also are used in Washington, Michigan and Illinois and no changes of procedure are planned.

In Florida, however, Police Capt. Jim Wingate of Jacksonville said he always has contended the polygraph should not be used to prove innocence or guilt without corroborating evidence because there is a need for more research. New York police do not use the machines, but any suspect in a case may request a lie detector test, which is given by an agency independent of the police.

Chief inspector Harry Fox of the Philadelphia police department calls lie detectors a valuable investigative aid.

"Any person who takes the test must do it willingly," he added. "It's also invaluable in clearing suspected persons. It works both ways. It saves a lot of time and manpower."

Former Duvalier Aide Poses Threat to Haiti's Dictator

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The past two weeks likely will tell whether Dictator-President Francois Duvalier will ride out a gathering storm which could plunge impoverished Haiti into terrifying violence.

The outwardly calm atmosphere reported in the Haitian capital of Port-au-Prince may be highly deceptive. As recently as three nights ago there was an outbreak of rifle fire outside the capital in the same area where a pitched battle took place April 30. Duvalier is feeling the heat of opposition to his regime. A man who once was one of his top lieutenants, who whipped together his army of Tonton Macoute (boogymen) goons and later his armed militia, now is out to kill the 55-year-old president.

The man is Clement Barbot. Duvalier once had him in prison but released him. He is still at large and widely regarded as a definite threat to the dictator. Most people in Port-au-Prince probably are unaware of the shootings outside the city. A violent clash took place April 30 in the Maritimes suburb when a truckload of Duvalier's militia blundered into a Barbot stronghold, according to reports trickling through to neighboring Santo Domingo.

RYAN

He Lives Up to Promises

PITCHER, Okla. (AP) — Bill Koonitz, elected mayor of Pitcher on a promise to repair its streets, will start making good on the promise today.

Koonitz said he would start showing and pounding black top on a four-block stretch. He added he hoped this would be a forerunner of extensive street repairs, all by volunteer workers — including some of his supporters.

He said the town of about 1,000 has no money to hire a street crew.

These reports also said rifle fire broke out briefly Monday near Duvalier's palace and in Petionville, about 5 miles from the capital.

MORE RIFLE FIRE
Rifle fire was reported again Tuesday in the same area where the April 30 battle took place.

It is assumed the forces clashing with Duvalier's men are commanded by Barbot.

The key dates for Duvalier and his opponents are May 15 and May 22.

May 15 is the date when, under the constitution, Duvalier would have stepped down had he not maneuvered to proclaim himself re-elected two years ago for a six-year term. May 22 is the anniversary of his inauguration. He is reported superstitious about the number 22.

CRITICAL MATTER
Duvalier's future is a critical matter for the Dominican Republic, whose first democratically elected president in three decades is facing tough inherited problems. President Juan Bosch has troops stationed at the Haitian-Dominican frontier. But nobody in Santo Domingo conversant with the crisis seems to believe that Bosch will order an invasion of Haiti—or ever intended to do so.

Apparently no direct U.S. pressure was applied against the Dominican government to head off an invasion. It is likely the U.S. government did no more than inform Bosch that Washington's policy is aimed firmly at keeping peace in the Caribbean and encourage him to place the dispute

FRANCOIS DUVALIER

It is unlikely that the Duvalier regime would permit that, however, and it may talk at letting OAS investigators back into Haiti. This could reheat the Haitian-Dominican crisis, which has eased somewhat in recent days.

Critical issues between Haiti and the Dominican Republic include safe conduct out of Haiti for Duvalier opponents who took asylum in the Dominican Embassy in Port-au-Prince, the presence in Haiti of remnants of the Trujillo regime and Bosch's charge that a plot against his life was hatched in Haiti with assistance from former members of Trujillo's secret police.

The assassination charge is believed by most competent observers to be based on incontrovertible evidence that Bosch was marked for murder.

There is a large amount of concern in Santo Domingo that a prolonged crisis will bring fresh trouble for the Bosch administration, which had been doing well. There

Welcoming Set at Men's Center

Open House Marks Salvation Army Week

Residents of Pontiac and Oakland County will be welcome to the open house at Pontiac Men's Social Service Center, 118 W. Lawrence, from 2 to 6 p.m. May 19.

The open house marks the beginning of Salvation Army Week, celebrated throughout the nation and the fifth year since the establishment of the Men's Center in Pontiac.

Visitors may see the entire building, including various workshops where donated articles are reconditioned, balling room, the main retail outlet known as the Red Shield Store and the men's housing unit.

Complete living facilities are furnished for the 80 men who make the center their home. "The principal objective of the organization is the reclaiming of lives of men who have lost their way, and to give them an opportunity to make a new start in a better way of life," said Brigadier General Ernest Adler, manager of the center.

"The largest percentage of admissions to the center are men whose prime handicap is that of alcoholism. Others who take advantage of the rehabilitation program are those with temporary physical handicaps, parolees and the emotionally disturbed," he added.

Tons of merchandise are received and processed monthly at the Center providing jobs for more than 100 persons, besides financing the entire rehabilitation program.

Romney Issues Proclamations

LANSING — Gov. George Romney yesterday issued these special proclamations:

● The second week in May as Safety Patrol Week, to recognize the excellent protection provided by safety patrols.

● May 12 to May 18 as Hospital Week, to salute the outstanding community service rendered by Michigan hospitals and the individuals who staff them.

● May 12 to May 18 as Police Week, with May 15 as Peace Officers Memorial Day, to give recognition "to the fine and outstanding law officers who serve in our police agencies and those men who gave their lives in the performance of duty."

Goldwater's Real Rockefeller Threat

BY LYLE C. WILSON
News Analysis
More important to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's political future than his divorce and remarriage could be the fireball developments that are beginning to spark the Goldwater-for-president movement.

The G-for-P movement is showing political muscle. There is a powerhouse of enthusiasm under the hood of the G-for-P hand-bagwagon. Goldwater is a crowd pleaser.

He has been and may still be somewhat of an underdog, coming as he does from politically insignificant Arizona. But, however that may be, the senator arouses a m.o. of his followers a boisterous affection. Consider some recent political developments:

State and regional Goldwater-for-President headquarters are popping up at a great rate. Enthusiastic draft-Goldwater efforts.

A congressional quarterly polls of delegates to the 1960 Republican National Convention found a majority personally favored Goldwater even though a majority also regarded Rockefeller as most likely to be nominated.

Goldwater was the personal preference of every section of the country in this poll except the East and by a good margin.

The Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution polled Republican party officials in Southern States and reported:

Sen. Barry Goldwater is almost the solid choice across the South for the Republican presidential nomination — and some delegate votes are his more than a year ahead of convention time.

Those votes are almost half enough to give Goldwater the nomination. And the people who hold those (delegate) votes say they could carry every Southern state for Goldwater if he were nominated.

REASSURANCE
The Constitution poll found some Rockefeller strength in Arkansas, Tennessee and Virginia and a bit in Georgia and Kentucky for Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky.

The evidence of convention strength in the Constitution's poll is a reassurance much needed by Goldwater's friends.

Republican nominating conventions long have been loaded against conservatives. The Republican party has not nominated a conservative for President since Calvin Coolidge in 1924. It has seemed to some observers that the convention would be the greatest obstacle between Goldwater and the White House; that it should be less difficult to elect than to nominate him.

That is because Republican conventions have been dominated by eastern Republicans whose political strategy increasingly has been to out-promise the Democrats instead of out-slugging them.

In Publisher John S. Knight's "Editor's Notebook," published May 5 in the Detroit Free Press and other Knight newspapers, this point is made: "Until someone such as Goldwater heads the Republican ticket, less the conservative strength in this country never will be tested."

Knight doubts that Goldwater could lick President Kennedy. But he asks a question that Republicans long since should have been asking themselves:

"Why should the Republicans, basically the conservative party fear to try it (a test of conservative strength)?"

The answer to that seems to be that when the chips are down, the kingmakers of the Republican party are more interested in victory than in principles.

President's Adviser Gives Warning

'Need Tax Cut to Conquer Unemployment'

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—President Kennedy's chief economist warned industry leaders today that the spring business upswing, although surprisingly strong, is insufficient to make a real dent in unemployment.

Dr. Walter W. Heller brought to the Business Council, holding its spring meeting here, an appeal for active industry support of a substantial tax cut this year.

Without the kind of stimulus that a tax cut could bring, Heller estimated, it would take nearly 10 years of uninterrupted business growth at the present gradual rate of expansion to restore full employment. And the stimulus of tax reduction, he argued, would have its greatest impact if injected into an economy that already was in the recovery phase.

JOIN FORCES

Heller apparently did not need to make a hard sales pitch. At least a score of the council's 165 members, including some of the biggest names in industry and finance, have joined Henry Ford II, board chairman of Ford Motor Co.

in a movement to mobilize nationwide business support for an early tax cut of some $10 billion.

These include the council's chairman, Frederick M. Kappel, board chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., and its immediate past chairman, Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp.

More were expected to join and make contributions this weekend to the new "Business Committee on Tax Reduction in 1963." Two other council members are the chairmen of the tax group, Ford and President Stuart T. Saunders of the Norfolk & Western Railroad.

Ford and Saunders called a meeting of their executive committee here Saturday, sandwiched in between council sessions.

Dr. Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, was on the council's program at a closed session this morning, but associates disclosed the gist of his talk.

The White House economist emphasized that the pickup in business activity since January should not deter action to cut taxes, since the program was based from the start on the assumption of economic expansion through 1963.

The $8.5-billion rise in the annual rate of national output in the first quarter was considerably better than the President's council anticipated in January, he acknowledged.

But it would take production gains almost twice as great, or about $16-billion a quarter, to achieve a full-employment economy in one year, according to Dr. Heller.

The President's interim goal for "full" employment means that all but 4 per cent of the labor force would have jobs. Unemployment has averaged above 5.5 per cent for more than two years and now

Seek Safety Solution

Citizens Probe Traffic

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State Safety Commission, alarmed by a sharp increase in traffic accidents, injuries and deaths, will consult 25 of the state's "leading citizens and experts" for help in developing a solution.

Secretary of State James Hare said the commission has agreed the traffic safety picture in Michigan is an "emergency situation."

A comparison of the first three months of 1961, 1962 and this year shows accidents have increased 45 per cent and injuries 46 per cent over the two-year period.

Fatalities this year are running some 70 ahead of 1962.

To get the best advice possible for ways to stop this frightening increase, I am writing to 25 of the leading experts and citizens in the state to request their analysis of this situation," said Hare.

"When all of the data and recommendations are in and analyzed, the commission will submit a set of recommendations to the governor."

Future Looks Black for Britain's Tories

LONDON (AP) — A cross-the-country local election defeat made the future look blacker than ever today for Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservative party.

The government party lost heavily Thursday in council elections in 400 boroughs in England and Wales. The Conservatives had a net loss of 560 seats. The Labor party had a net gain of 543 and the Liberals 80.

Local elections are considered generally unreliable indicators of national political feelings.

Major Assault Needed to Overcome Russ Troops in Cuba

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—It would take a major amphibious assault, coordinated with a paratroop attack, to overcome powerful Soviet-stiffened defenses of Cuba.

This is the current assessment by U.S. intelligence authorities, as reported by the Senate Preparedness subcommittee.

The Senate group's report, made public Thursday, said "the combined Soviet and Cuban forces now in the island are quite powerful defensively and could offer severe opposition to any attack."

The investigators criticized the Central Intelligence Agency and military intelligence authorities for what they said were "substantial errors" in evaluating information indicating a serious missile-arms-troop build-up in Cuba last summer and fall.

The subcommittee showed itself not fully convinced that all the Soviet long range missiles and bombers have been pulled out of Cuba. It said intelligence chiefs admit "there is reason for grave concern" that such weapons might be hidden in some of the country's thousands of caves.

But apart from questioning the latest intelligence estimate of 17,500 Soviets in Cuba, the Senate group appeared to accept the professional judgments on the state of Cuba's ground, air and sea defenses.

Cuban army strength was listed as about 185,000, the same as before the crisis last fall. Of these, 75,000 are believed regulars and the rest militia and home guard.

The core of Soviet ground power in Cuba was said to comprise about 5,000 men in four mobile, powerfully armored units.

These Soviet army units, if coordinated with Cuban native forces, could put up tough enough opposition "to make it necessary to mount a large seaborne landing effort along with any desired air-borne effort in order to be sure of success," the report said.

Another requirement would be adequate air cover, the senators said. The United States last fall mustered five army divisions and the equivalent of nearly a Marine division for possible invasion of Cuba before the Soviets agreed to withdraw their long range missiles.

The battle plan then reportedly called for a swift and devastating air strike against missile and air bases, anti-aircraft rocket batteries and troop concentrations—following up with airborne and helicopter-borne assaults.

The Senate report indicated the Soviets are retaining control of the heaviest hardware, anti-aircraft missiles, coastal defense missiles and probably 42 late model MIG21 jet fighters.

For the first time, it was said flatly that the Soviet navy operates 12 highspeed patrol boats, each armed with a pair of missiles with a range of up to 15 miles.

"These boats are under Soviet control, but Cubans are believed to have been observed aboard them," the investigators said.

More They Win, the Less They Bet

Women Prove They're Lucky at Gambling Tables

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — In honor of the upcoming Mother's Day, it is a pleasure to report that women are luckier than men.
They are not necessarily luckier in love, business, health, pleasure or weather forecasting. But when it comes to gambling, women are definitely luckier at the roulette wheel and the dice table than men.
This is the conclusion of Major A. Riddle, a man who is lucky in hotels. He owns the Dunes in Las Vegas.

Mr. Riddle claims to have spent most of his life watching women gamble with the m & d money, and he says there is no question whatever that the female will come up with the winning card or dice oftener than the male.
He finds it extremely depressing, however, that women are unlucky in intellect. That is: the more they win, the less they bet.
"As an example," he says, "I have a friend, a physician, who persuaded his wife to try a roll with the dice at my establishment."
"Well, the lady didn't know. She was certain she'd lose. Finally, though, she picked them up and held them for the next hour. She made 32 straight passes — the most fantastic run of luck anyone in the casino had ever seen."
"In spite of her incredible feat, she won only a hundred some-odd dollars. This is almost as difficult to do as to make 32 straight passes."
WINS $75,000
"A regular gambler, male, took advantage of her streak, bet with her and raked in $75,000."
The physician's wife, sheepish of course, was asked why she didn't bet more when it was obvious she'd hit a fantastically lucky streak.
She said she'd thought about it, but each time she won she was positive she'd lose on the next toss. And, being family and security-minded, she felt that losing money would be a much greater misfortune than winning money would be a success.
That's what makes mothers!

That's what makes mothers!

those things don't matter any more. We discourage it.
WRONG SENTIMENT
"Why? A girl might love chrysanthemums, but chrysanthemums mean 'you're a wonderful friend' — and what man is going to send his wife an implication like that?"
"So we still say, 'say it with flowers.' But if you want to say anything specific, put it in a letter."
This expert pointed out that tastes in flowers change. In case a man isn't sure what his mother would like for her big day, he was ready with this answer...

"If she's one of these young mothers, living in the city in a modern house or apartment, she can take arty flowers that arrange smartly — gladiolas, anthurium, big carnations, orchids in bud vases.
"If she's an old-fashioned mother, give her sweet-smelling flowers — lilies of the valley, lilacs, peonies. Matter of fact, an old-fashioned mother, and there are quite a few left, will be delighted with anything."

'Could Create 15,000 Jobs'

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Some 15,000 new jobs could be created if the Ann Arbor research park were developed to capacity, says the bureau of industrial relations of the University of Michigan's graduate school of business administration.

The study shows that if all possible buildings were built and all were used for research, the park could house a staff of 5,500 scientists and engineers; 2,000 administrative and managerial persons; 1,500 clerical workers; 1,500 draftsmen, machinists and other skilled tradesmen; 3,500 technicians and draftsmen, and 700 building and grounds maintenance workers.

Convict Gets New Trial for Murder

LANSING (AP) — A one-time Marine serving life in prison in one of Detroit's most sensational murder cases has won his appeal for a new trial.

The Michigan Supreme Court, in an unanimous ruling, yesterday overturned the conviction of Ralph Ray Hunter, who has served 14 years in the 1948 torture - slaying of Elmer Jones, 72, of Detroit.

The court held that Detroit Recorder's Judge Joseph Gillis erred in telling jurors they could discuss evidence in the course of the trial and by including a prosecutor's request for instructions on self-defense as a legal defense in his charge to the jury.

Hunter's case is the third murder conviction reversed by the high court in recent months.

The convicted man, 25 at the time of the trial, claimed he beat Jones with the latter's pistol during a struggle in the older man's home.

The state won its argument that the slaying was the result of a robbery plan involving Hunter, James Sacchetti and Evelyn Lari, Hunter's girl friend, who knew Jones.

The robbery netted $26 and a diamond ring.

Sacchetti, who contended he was not present at the killing, also was convicted of first-degree murder and sentenced to life. He died at Northern Michigan Prison, Marquette, in 1961.

The woman, who claimed she was involved because Hunter had threatened to kill her, was acquitted in the sensational two-week trial.

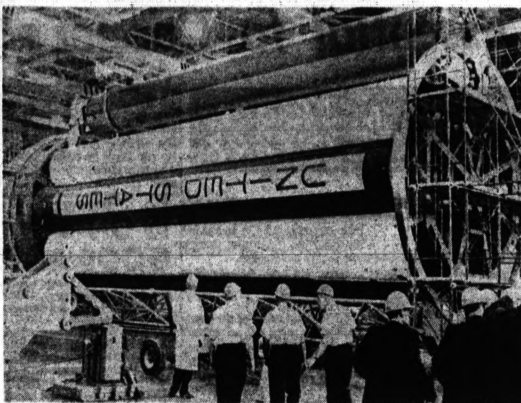

Hunter's appeal for a new trial, on grounds that Judge Gillis' charge to the jury deprived him of jury consideration of his plea of self-defense, was turned down by Gillis in 1960.

Coastal Sentry Essential to Cooper's Flight

BY CONRAD FINK

TOKYO (AP)—If all goes well, an encouraging word radioed from the U.S. ship Coastal Sentry will be the last thing astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper hears before he begins the crucial re-entry phase of his space flight.

If things don't go as planned—

if he is incapacitated during his attempt, an American space record—the Coastal Sentry could mean the difference between life and death for Cooper.

MONITOR RE-ENTRY

The Coastal Sentry, now moored in Nagasaki Bay is to steam into the Pacific Saturday and take position 300 miles off Kyushu Island to monitor and possibly control Cooper's re-entry.

Cooper, 36, an Air Force major, is scheduled to lift off from Cape Canaveral, Fla., next Tuesday and orbit the earth 34 hours before landing in the center of an armada of ships in the Pacific off Midway.

The 22-orbit flight, the longest by an American, has as one of its primary objectives a close study of how well an astronaut can function during prolonged periods of weightlessness.

Coastal Sentry scientists led by America's first world-orbiting astronaut, John H. Glenn Jr., will form the last link in a chain of tracking stations positioned around the world to monitor Cooper's flight and to report back to Cape Canaveral.

CONTROL POSITION

If Cooper is unable to fire his spaceship's retro-rockets and slow it for re-entry, Glenn will fire them electronically from his ship control position in an attempt to guide the craft down through the earth's atmosphere.

Glenn will have the advice of two space physicians and electronics experts.

While within range of the Coastal Sentry, Cooper will be watched by Glenn's team on television. This will be the first use of television to relay pictures from an American spaceship to earth.

Hundreds of Nagasaki residents, whose city was atom-bombed by the United States 18 years ago, have flocked to dockside to see the Coastal Sentry and her crew. The 4,000-ton ship, operated for the Air Force by civilian sailors, is heavily loaded with electronics gear.

Glenn is clearly the main attraction. The lean, smiling Marine lieutenant colonel is recognized everywhere he goes and often is besieged by autograph hunters during brisk walks through the crowded streets.

Preacher Will Head S. Baptists

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The new president of the Southern Baptist Convention is a Bible-centered preacher who was born in London, reared as a Methodist in Canada and educated in the United States.

Dr. Kenneth Owen White, a little man physically with a big belief in the word of God, has been pastor of Houston's 13,600-member First Baptist Church since July, 1963. During his pastorate, more than 5,100 persons have joined the church.

White's election Thursday at Kansas City marked the second time within six months that he has become president of a Baptist convention.

OTHER OFFICES

Last November, he was named president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. He had just completed two years as president of the Texas Baptist Executive Board and is a trustee of the denomination's Baylor University.

Dr. White, 60, returned from a preaching mission in Japan and the Far East just in time to attend the Kansas City convention.

Dr. White, now a naturalized U.S. citizen, was born Aug. 29, 1902, in London. His father, a doctor, moved to a ranch in western Canada when White was 5.

He attended rural schools there and the Methodist Sunday School. All his family were Methodists.

Blasts Wreck Kroger Stores

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Explosions shattered four stores owned by the Kroger Co. last night. The stores were closed at the time and no one was injured seriously.

Police said black powder blasted the stores, three supermarkets and a drug store, within a 15-minute interval.

Officers refused to speculate about who could have set off the explosions.

They mentioned that Kroger and several other supermarket chains have been negotiating on new contracts with Local 88 of the Meatcutters and Butcher Workmen's Union, AFL-CIO, for several months.

The explosions came almost two months to the day after three Kroger stores in the same general area had been damaged by blasts.

Last night's explosions damaged a new supermarket in a southwest St. Louis residential area, and an adjacent drug store.

Another hit a Kroger market in south St. Louis County, and a third damaged a store in East St. Louis, Ill., across the Mississippi River.

Mohammed Couldn't Go to Mountain...

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The tree set up in John Burns' living room last Christmas was a mighty fatigued fir when John Burns Jr. finally showed up on leave from the Army Thursday.

But it was still on hand and so were Christmas cards and a sun-bleached door wreath. Outdoor Christmas lights twinkled in 82-degree temperature.

The family did it to keep intact Cpl. John Burns Jr.'s record of never missing a Christmas observance at home.

The soldiers, 32, explained he thought he was going to get leave from his station, Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., in time for a Christmas visit to Miami but couldn't swing it until now.

Future of Detroit Dependent on Tax, Urban Renewal

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Detroit, like other Northern metropolitan cities, faces a population revolution and resultant economic problems. How is the city handling these problems?)

By DWIGHT PITKIN

DETROIT — City Controller Alfred M. Pelham believes that urban renewal projects and Detroit's new income tax are saving the city from continued loss of population and financial chaos.

Pelham played a leading role in bolstering Detroit's treasury with an income tax which applies to suburbanites working in the city as well as to residents. It has more than offset loss of revenue from a shrinking property tax base and will enable the city to get out of debt, Pelham says.

And urban renewal providing modern housing facilities, he says, already is bringing back people who joined the exodus to the suburbs in the past 10 years. Ultimately, he says, it will expand the tax base.

The man who keeps tabs on Detroit's $350 million annual budget doesn't go along with gloomy forecasts that the city is in for serious trouble because of a major population changeover.

RECENT STUDY

Two sociologists — Dr. Thomas F. Hoult and Dr. Albert J. Mayer of Wayne State University — in a recent study said if the trend of the 1950-60 decade continues, Detroit will lose another large part of its most productive people to the suburbs.

The professors concluded: "By 1970, officials of the city of Detroit will be called upon to give greatly increased social and economic services to a population having greatly decreased opportunities for providing even minimal tax revenues."

They said the city's 1 per cent income tax may be seen as a saving feature. But they commented this wasn't a sure thing because there remained the possibility of the tax being defeated legally.

What would be the affect on Detroit if the tax were knocked out?

"We'd be in a hell of a fix," Pelham said.

The tax has been declared legal by the State Supreme Court. However, the suburban Vigilance Tax Committee is circulating petitions seeking action at the special session of the state legislature this fall to eliminate the tax.

The income tax is estimated to yield Detroit $38 million in the first fiscal year ending June 30 and $39.5 million in the coming fiscal year. Of this, between $7 million and $8 million will come each year from commuters who earn their livelihood in Detroit.

Pelham, in crusading two years ago for an income tax to include suburbanites, called it fair and necessary. He said:

"It is only proper, as has been proved in more than 440 cities throughout the country using such a tax, that non-residents as well as residents be taxed, since the welfare of the entire metropolitan area is directly related to the welfare of the central city."

MORE RESPONSIBLE

The controller acknowledged he is more responsible than any one else for Detroit now having an income tax. He said, "I fathomed it."

Pelham was budget officer and associate professor of political science at Wayne State University when he was tagged by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh to become city controller on leave from Wayne State.

Pelham recalled that he persuaded the mayor that an income tax was the only way to save Detroit from financial chaos. So the mayor recommended it and City Council approved it.

City Council could raise the tax if it saw fit but the mayor has committed himself not to raise it during his four-year term which started Jan. 2, 1961.

Pelham said part of the income tax money obviously is going to offset tax losses. But it also is being used to cut down a $35-million deficit inherited by the Cavanagh administration. Pelham said the debt at the end of this fiscal year will have been reduced to slightly more than $15 million.

"We think it is an extraordinary accomplishment," he said.

By the 1965-66 fiscal year, unless there are unforeseen difficulties, Detroit will be deficit-free," Pelham predicted.

DEFICIT-FREE

"The mayor and I feel this will be a pretty fair four-year accomplishment," he added.

Pelham said Detroit is just beginning to benefit from its urban renewal program following a period of selection, condemnation, razing and destruction. "Fortunately we have moved out of this stage," he said. "There is a strong indication of the fact that the lands which have been cleared are to be fully utilized at a much higher economic use level."

Pelham noted that the Lafayette Park Redevelopment Area has been sold out to private users and that the Elmwood No. 1 Project contiguous to the Gratiot Redevelopment Area already is practically sold out.

The controller also cited big projects in the making for Wayne State University. Two university cities are projected, and it is planned to use them temporarily for the 1968 Olympic Games if Detroit wins the Olympiad. The cities would become permanent improvements after the games.

SIGNIFICANT VALUE
"Urban renewal unquestionably will help the tax base," said Pelham. "We have been going through the earlier stages where the impact has been on the elimination of values. As this property is sold back, we will get back a significant value of structures."

In voicing confidence in Detroit's future, Pelham said he saw "a definite resurgence in our local economy."

He cited as an indication of investor confidence in the city, three major office buildings going up or already completed in downtown Detroit. They are the Michigan Consolidated Gas Building, the Detroit Bank & Trust Co.'s new building, and the new home of the First Federal Savings bank — all skyscrapers.

The auto industry, Pelham said, is experiencing an excellent year "that is helpful to our economy" and he cited General Motors' $54 million expansion of its Detroit Cadillac plant as an indication of a big corporation's faith in the city.

The population problem also is beginning to be solved, he said. Nationwide, he declared, there is a considerable indication of a reverse of the trend for people to move to the suburbs.

City officials said, however, that no general study has been made so far to determine the prospects of a flow-back of population to the central city. Their optimism is based on inquiries of suburbanites interested in new downtown housing facilities.

DETROIT NATIVE

Pelham, a Negro, is a native of Detroit. His father, the late Benjamin Pelham, started in county government in 1894 and retired in 1941.

Pelham, a University of Michigan graduate who attended the Harvard Graduate School of Business, started his career in county government in 1925 as director of budget and finances. He went to Wayne State in 1967 as budget officer.

If Alaska were cut in two, Texas might face the prospect of becoming the third largest state.

Here's Way to Avoid 13 at Table

By THE Emily Post Institute
Q. Next Sunday my husband will be celebrating his 50th birthday and I have invited all the members of his family to dinner. All together, there will be 13 of us.

My husband thinks it is wrong to seat 13 at table as many people are superstitious about this. He wants our daughter to sit in the kitchen, which is just off the dining room.

I don't think it's fair to exclude her from the dining table because of this silly notion. I would like to know if it is really bad luck to seat 13 at table.

A. Certainly not! It is a silly superstition and should not be taken seriously. However, because there are many who are upset if they find themselves one among 13 at a table, a hostess solves this problem by setting two or three places at a small table and seating 11 (or more practically ten) at the main table.

Q. I would like to write a letter to our state senator who happens to be a woman in regard to having a bill passed. Will you please tell me the correct way to address her?

A. Officially, she is addressed the Hon. Helen Jones, Senator from (name of state), Washington, D.C. The formal beginning is "Madam"; informal beginning is "Dear Senator Jones."

Q. I have just received an invitation to the wedding of the daughter of a friend of mine. I will not be able to go but would like my daughter to go in my place. I have been told that it would not be proper to do this. I would like your opinion, please.

A. It will not be proper unless you know this friend well enough to ask, and receive, her permission to send your daughter in your place.

The correct wording and addressing of wedding invitations and announcements are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Post-tie Press.

Mother's Day Gift

$20 Causes Wife Tears

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who says, "Honey, I don't know what to get you for Mother's Day? Here is $20—go buy yourself something." I felt so bad I cried all night.

ABBY WET PILLOW

DEAR WET: Your husband may not have much imagination, but at least he remembered, and he put his money where his mouth was. I hope you never have anything more serious to cry about.

DEAR ABBY: I was married before and so was my husband. We've now been married three years and are very happy.

I happened to mention that I had two graves here in Pittsburgh, bought and paid for. He said when he dies he wants to go back to West Virginia.

Now, he left West Virginia years ago because he didn't like it, so how come he wants to go back there to be buried?

I told him we belonged together and he said if I felt that way about it I'd be buried in West Virginia with him. I don't care anything about West Virginia.

I want to be buried in Pittsburgh. I am 37 and he is 39, which is too young to be worrying about this, of course, but I would like to get it settled.

What is your opinion?
PLOT PROBLEM

Dancing Club Slates Finale for the Season

"A Night in Reno" is the theme for the Viernes Dancing Club's final dance of the season this evening in the Elks Club.

Chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Benson are being assisted by the C. Bud Sheltons, the Eddie O'Briens, the Morgan Siples and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Williams.

Officers for the ensuing year will be introduced during the evening. They are Hugh Hales, president; Robert Kingsbury, vice president; Mrs. George Tuson, secretary and Mrs. Robert Mehlberg, treasurer.

New board members are Mitchell Calbi, Philip E. Rowston, Cecil Newstead and Gordon Hayer.

Breakfast will be served after the dance.

DEAR PLOT: Does HE have plots? Bought and paid for in West Virginia? If not, he might just as well get down to earth in Pittsburgh.

DEAR ABBY: Is yawning a sign of physical tiredness? Or is it a sign of boredom?
CURIOS

DEAR CURIOS: It can be either, or both. It's usually an involuntary opening of the mouth when you wish others would shut theirs.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BABE: If you want to find out what makes him tick, meet his wife. She could be the whole works!

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby.

Use Team Approach to Managing Money

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:
After many resentful years of mismanagement of our income, my husband came up with a proposal which is way out in front of other couples' procedures. Two heads working on expenditures do better than one. His plan is fair and simple, and oh, so decently honest!

We divide all money which comes to our house, as it comes. We each pay our share of mutual expenditures, each having a veto right — and using it instead of being resentful.

If I have a big drapery expenditure in mind, for example, I ask him if he will pay his half. If he says "Yes," fine. If he says "No," I can still get my draperies but I know I will have to pay for them out of my share of the money.

As husband and wife, we divide our profits, too, from money reinvested.

This arrangement was a blessed relief to me from check-book and charge account inquiries! It also shut our mouths about those extravaganzas — because we had each had our share. There would be fewer divorces if this plan were made a law!

Mrs. S. (not a Suffering Sister)
Dear Mrs. L.:

Now you've got me started on my favorite subject. It's the attitude toward money, rather than the lack of it, that turns many a love nest into a battlefield.

When the money's all HIS or all HERS, harmony comes to a sad end. Many a letter comes through the mail from a bitter wife or an angry husband, with the chip on the shoulder practically poking through the envelope!

Some couples have never discovered that a dollar has two values. You and your husband apparently have made this discovery, and I congratulate you. Whatever plan a couple works out, they're that much nearer to financial stability — just by virtue of having agreed on it. Good management of money is not only based on cooperation, its absolutely dependent on it.

I'm often asked who make the best managers where money is concerned — men or women. The answer is that a team can accomplish more than either alone.

Dear Miss Feeley:
What percentage of an income, after taxes, do you feel must be saved if at all possible? And how much should be saved after you have been married 10 years, 20 years? At retirement? I realize this would vary with earnings and expenses, but I'm curious to know if you have some kind of a guide — frankly, to check with the years, depending on expenses, and what short-term goal you have in mind, as well as aiming at.

Question number two is: what do you think of investing in a small apartment or commercial building to build a retirement fund? My husband and I have no special skills or trade we can exploit.

We are in our early 30's, so I feel by starting now we could live very comfortably later on in life with proper planning. My husband earns a good salary. Thank you for your very interesting column. Keep up the good advice.

Mrs. D. M. Melrose Park, Ill.

Dear Mrs. M.:
The answer to your first question, as you say, involves a lot of "ifs" and "maybes." But much should be saved after you have been married 10 years, 20 years, 30 years, 40 years, 50 years, 60 years, 70 years, 80 years, 90 years, 100 years. Your income is considered a real-estate investment. Whether you save the 5 per cent or the 10 per cent will vary a guide — frankly, to check with the years, depending on expenses, and what short-term goal you have in mind, as well as aiming at.

But do take this piece of advice to heart: have the equivalent of three to six months' income tucked away in your savings account before you consider any investment. That's the "first step in sound planning."

As for investing in real estate, it could be very profitable indeed. But only an expert on the scene, familiar with the specific property you have in mind, could possibly give you a "Yes" or "No" answer.

Just don't take on more than you can handle until your financial wits are ready for flight.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press.)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has requested the drafting of 7,000 men in July — 5,000 more than the June quota and 3,000 below that for May.

The Army expects to enroll 18,000 men in July, 7,000 through the draft and the remainder through volunteer enlistments.

Pontiac School Affairs

OK Sabbatical Leave Program

The Pontiac Board of Education last night reviewed a list of five proposals made by teachers for the next school year and approved three of them.

The new proposals had been negotiated by two teacher groups for nearly a year, according to School Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

The establishment of a sabbatical leave program was the biggest of the five items.

The board also approved that the estate of an employee who dies while in the service of the district should receive pay for one-half the number of accumulated sick days.

Whitmer recommended that two other sick leave proposals be turned down. The board agreed.

Teachers had asked for an extension of sick leave benefits beyond 100 days. A similar proposal would have provided 20 days pay for unused accumulated sick days at the time of a teacher's retirement.

Another minor change saw the school board approve the deduction of dues to associations from the teacher payroll.

The sabbatical leave program would allow teachers time off at one-half salary for study, travel, research or comparable professional growth activities.

SUBJECT TO APPROVAL

Sabbatical leaves will be subject to school board approval. Not more than 2 per cent of the teachers may have sabbatical leaves in any single year.

Supt. Whitmer reported that a teachers' salary schedule, which would provide a boost in pay for 1963-64, is still under study.

Whitmer also reported that the Pontiac system was within its budget for the current year. The fiscal year ends in June.

In other action, the board of education gave its okay to the training of 90 practical nurses over a 20-month period under the Manpower Development Training Act.

Working with the Michigan Employment Security Commission, the local school system will train the nurses with federal funds. The schools have received a grant of $108,019 for the project.

Mrs. Esther Sherrod, former director of the practical nurses school at Pontiac St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, will head the new program.

Pontiac Senior Is Accepted by Fifth Army Band

Leon LeDuff, a Pontiac Central High School senior, has been accepted in the 5th Army Band in Chicago. He will begin basic training in Ft. Knox, Ky., June 28.

This will be followed by 44 weeks at the Naval School of Music in Washington, D.C. Upon completion, he will become a member of the band.

LeDuff is only the second person from Central to be accepted into a service band. Two years ago, Eugene Stone was auditioned and accepted for a Navy band. LeDuff's instrument is the trombone.

Public Hearing Slated

EAST LANSING (UPI) — A public hearing on proposed additions and revisions to the Michigan flammable liquids regulations will be conducted by the State Police Fire Marshal Division May 28.

City Begins Canvass of School Unit

The Pontiac School District census began today. The house-to-house canvass by 40 workers, all carrying identification, will be completed by May 31.

The census is required by law and provides figures to allow future planning, said Paul Allison, census director.

Information sought by the census taker is the name, age and birth date of every person in the family under 20 years of age.

Gen. MacArthur Sees World Fair Progress

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur took a tour of the site of the 1964-65 New York World's Fair and seemed satisfied with the progress of construction. After being driven about the 646-acre site, MacArthur commented: "The fair will revive lagging patriotic spirit that has long been missing. America needs this shot in the arm."

Consider Dog for Police

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — The policeman walking the night beat in South Haven's business district may have a dog for company and help. The proposal is under consideration. The dog would be South Haven's first police dog.

BUS MARCHERS — Roman Catholic children in a St. Louis, Mo., suburb march to a public elementary school, where some enrolled yesterday, protesting the legislature's refusal to pass a bill permitting parochial students use of public school buses. Nearly 500 parochial students have switched to public schools in the St. Louis area during the protest.

Newsprint May Solve Grain Surplus

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Each morning when I sit down at the breakfast table, I eat a bowl of wheat flakes and read a newspaper.

In all the years I have been doing this, it never occurred to me that I might some day be reading the wheat flakes and eating the newspaper.

My mind simply doesn't run in those channels, particularly at such an early hour. But the mind of a congressman does.

I call your attention to a recent exchange of letters between Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., and Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman.

"I have been saving, for the past three weeks, all of the printed material coming from the various departments... as well as the volumes of reports from the government agencies of all kinds," Dent told Freeman.

More reports are printed than anyone could possibly leaf through, let alone read, he noted. In addition, Congress consumes a great deal of paper, as do the daily newspapers, he said.

"Help me! Help me!" the 84-year-old radio pioneer screamed as he was whisked along with only the top part of his body visible above the platform.

Bomb Hits Automobile
 Carrying USAF Envoy

GUATEMALA (AP) — A bomb exploded Thursday night under the automobile of the chief of the U.S. Air Force mission to Guatemala, Col. Eugene L. Douglas. The car was damaged but no one was hurt, and police had no clue to the bomber.

The contemplation of all that paper gave Dent an idea. He suggested to Freeman that the vast amount of printed material might hold the key to solution of the surplus grain problem.

Since the Japanese make paper from rice, and Latin Americans make paper from sugar cane, it might be feasible for us to make paper from wheat and other grains, Dent said.

READ SURPLUS GRAINS

In other words, the surplus reports would be printed on the surplus grain. Or, as Dent put it, "If we can't eat our surplus food grains, we may be able to read them."

He offered to introduce legislation setting up a study program if Freeman thought the proposal had merit.

In reply, the secretary informed Dent that the department already was doing research along those lines and was "making good progress in several directions."

Then, the next local step would be for the timber industry to undertake a research program to find a way to use woodpulp for a breakfast cereal.

That, in turn, would create another grain surplus, and a lot more government reports.

Maybe so, but I fear such a program would cause complications of the sort that Dent and Freeman apparently have overlooked.

Most newsprint and paper stock used in this country is made from woodpulp. If we started using paper made from grain, what would that do to the timber industry?

Derelict Says You Don't Care

34 Dead in Bowery From Wood Alcohol

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the nameless derelicts of New York's Bowery district, explained it this way:

"You have to understand that some people, when they need a drink, they don't care what they're drinking."

Over the past week, at least 34 men and one woman who didn't care—or perhaps were too dazed by their craving for spirits to realize it—drank deadly wood alcohol. Today, all are dead.

Another 29 wood alcohol victims are in critical condition at Bellevue Hospital. Several have been blinded, and one—maddened by the poisonous fluid—has been begging doctors to "put out the fire" in his belly.

SEEK SOURCE

Police, seeking the source of the wood alcohol, arrested two clerks in a Lower East Side hardware store and confiscated 26 pints of paint thinner, which contains the poisonous liquid.

One of the clerks, David Feit, 56, was charged with homicide, accused of selling a pint of wood alcohol for 45 cents to two derelicts who died earlier in the week after a drinking bout.

The other clerk, Abe Weinreb, 67, father of the hardware store owner, was charged with misdemeanor—selling wood alcohol to two other derelicts who are alive but hospitalized. He is held on $10,000 bail.

The sales, police said, were made last Sunday when liquor stores are closed by state law. The cans containing the paint thinner were plainly labeled poison, with a skull and cross bones.

Mississippi Official Views Birmingham

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi law enforcement officers today kept one eye on racial problems at Birmingham and the other on potential problems at home.

Col. T. B. Birdsong, commissioner of public safety, said yesterday he went to Birmingham to observe civil rights demonstrations because "it may be over here someday."

Birdsong said he was in Birmingham to offer the services of the Mississippi patrol to Alabama Commissioner of Public Safety Al Lingo and Birmingham officials.

Equal Rights Demonstration by Newsmen?

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Newsmen and spectators crowded around the scene of a press conference called by integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Thursday.

The crush of the crowd was so great, some newsmen complained to the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, executive secretary of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

They asked that spectators be cleared away to give newsmen the best view.

"You guys want equal rights," Walker said, "you should join our movement."

Romney Praises Negroes

LANSING (AP)—Negroes taking part in nonviolent demonstrations against segregation are to be admired for their "dedication to peaceful assertion of their rights," Gov. George Romney said yesterday.

The governor termed Negro demonstrations in Birmingham, Ala., "one of the most dramatic and exciting current examples of efforts toward the peaceful establishment of basic human rights."

Romney said they serve to emphasize that Michigan has race problems of much smaller scope and that much has been accomplished in the field.

At the same time, he said, "we still have a good deal of distance to go."

The civil rights provisions of the new Michigan constitution will contribute further to progress in the state's race relations, he added.

Romney said he could discuss the Alabama situation only in general terms because he didn't have all the facts regarding it.

But he said it would appear "There has been a degree of restraint sufficient to avoid racial strife."

Romney had no comment on whether government—on either the state or federal level—should take any action now in effect in dealing with the Alabama situation.

Avoid Accidents

Know Your Gardening First Aid

The home gardeners are out in force again this spring for the annual round of digging, spading, mowing, trimming, pruning, transplanting and generally getting ready for another summer.

Your doctor knows the gardening is good for you. It's good exercise, for the body and good therapy for the spirit.

It also has many minor hazards to health and safety. Most of them can be avoided.

Take it easy for the first few weekends in the garden. If you've done nothing more strenuous all winter than walk to the bus, give your muscles and your wind a chance to regain strength gradually.

Some aspects of gardening are hard work that can put undue strains on long-unused muscles.

FIRST AID

is cuts and scratches, from twigs, rough stones, sharp tools.

First aid usually is simple: Wash the wound with soap and water and apply an adhesive bandage. Let it bleed a little to wash away impurities. Deeper cuts, of course, will require medical attention.

The home gardener who neglects getting a shot of tetanus toxoid is asking for trouble.

Tetanus germs linger in the soil, particularly if there are farm animals around or if hayyard manure is used on the garden.

Tetanus, or lockjaw, is a serious condition, but it can be prevented by inoculation.

Sprays, powders and other poisons that kill insects or weeds are very useful in helping make a better garden. They also can be hazardous.

Insecticides and weed killers are usually safe, if you read the directions and follow them.

Keep the unused residue tightly capped and out of the reach of small children.

POWER TOOLS

Power garden tools, particularly lawn mowers, save many an aching back for the home gardener, but they also slice off an occasional toe or finger.

Study the directions that come with your power tools carefully. They mean what they say about safety precautions.

Bees, wasps and spiders also are out for the spring season, and now and then you may get stung.

In most instances the sting will be painful for a short time and then fade. If you are allergic to insect stings, ask your physician about desensitizing injections.

Now You Can Avoid the Gardener's Twist

RACINE, Wis. (UPI) — The gardener's version of the twist might be the contortion involved in trying to spray or dust upward at the underside of leaves of garden plants where such flower wreckers as aphids and mites frequently hide out.

Now one manufacturer has come out with a new back-and-forth sprayer.

It is a rose and flower sprayer that keeps on spraying when turned upside down.

So held, at arm's length, it can spray upward at low-lying plants with little or no backbend.

The 14-ounce aerosol is a combination insecticide, miticide and fungicide.

More than 22 million power mowers will be criss-crossing about the lawns of American homes this year — a new all-time high.

Chestnut Trees Still Several Years in Future

Don't be too impatient for the new chestnut trees comparable to the American chestnut, the American Association of Nurserymen states.

The new chestnut trees are on the way, but it may be several years before they are available to any great extent.

Home owners are advised to check with their nurseryman to be placed on a list to be among the first to receive the new trees when they finally become available. Tremendous demand for the trees is expected.

The majority of persons in the United States have never experienced the fine flavor of the American chestnut, which was just about wiped out by blight in the early 1900s. Only a few of many millions of trees survived.

Blood-lily has hundreds of red measuring up to nine inches. Flowers that form a tufted globe. Plant prefers cool temperature.

Few Weeds Can Escape Formulas

A new weed killer formulation being introduced this year makes it unnecessary to have one product to kill chickweed, another to kill dandelion, and so on, to the point of confusion.

Instead, Greenfield's broadleaf weed killer contains 2,4-D and silvex to eliminate twenty or more kinds of common lawn weeds—all at the same time.

The liquid product is reported to give greater lawn coverage.

For the procrastinator who didn't prevent his crab grass, a unique summertime crab grass killer helps him wrap up his weed chores in one operation.

The triple action Greenfield product eliminates crab grass, contains Treflan to prevent further sprouting of the pest for the remainder of the season, and contains 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T to kill common broadleaf weeds.

A liquid version of this product is available, too.

Even shrub and flower beds have the advantage of chemical weed control this year.

Several products, including a triple action plant food and triple action evergreen food which weed, feed, and kill soil insects, and double action rose food, which weeds while it feeds, are now being offered.

They contain Treflan, which prevents grasses and weeds from coming up in planting beds but is safe for desirable plants.

Water Cress Usable Soon After Planting

The requirements for growing water cress include a brook or pond with cold, clear water and there are not available to every gardener.

However, anyone with even enough space to plant a single row of seeds can grow a near relative called water cress.

There are two kinds of upland cress, one with curly leaves and one with plain leaves.

Either will be usable in salads or for a garnish in 50 days from the time seeds are sown.

Plant seeds in early spring, spacing them so there are half a dozen seeds to the inch and covering them with soil more than a quarter inch of not more.

They need no special care, only sunny situation in fairly good soil.

You'll be pleased with their pungent flavor, so much like that of genuine water cress.

When making a floating flower arrangement, insert the stem of each flower through a round of waxed paper cut to the size of the blossom. Paper will ensure longer life of the flower by protecting it from the water.

Spring Threat of Fire— Plaguing North State

LANSING (AP)—Although the spring threat of fire has passed its most dangerous point in southern Michigan, the Conservation Department still regards northern Michigan conditions as "highly dangerous" because cold weather has held off the period when vegetation usually becomes green.

Some 3,415 acres already have burned this year in northern Michigan, the department said.

Avoid Skippy Plants

To make plants grow bushier and to avoid a skippy, stringlike effect, pinch back the tips of branches occasionally. This will encourage the development of side branches, which can be pinched back in turn when they have reached a foot or two in length.

Amariyllis bulbs produce large trumpet-shaped blooms. Cold-treated bulbs bloom in time for the holiday season.

Good Gardener Knows Plants

The experienced gardener knows that when he buys a plant he has two things to consider—the top, the part above the soil, and the root system, which is usually invisible, but always just as important.

The inexperienced gardener is very likely to go by the top alone, giving little thought to the root system, or how it is going to fare from the time he picks up the plant at the florist's, nursery, or garden center, until it is actually planted in his own garden.

Until quite recently, almost all plants of annuals and vegetables were grown in flats or in clay pots. If in the latter, the root ball was knocked out, wrapped (perhaps) in newspaper, but in any case leaving the mass of feeding roots exposed to severe damage.

Plants from flats, unless the purchaser took an entire flat, fared even worse. Hurriedly dug out, with many of the roots badly torn and bruised, such plants often were wilted even before one could get them home.

PEAT POT

The advent of the peat pot—the walls of which plant roots readily penetrate, and which is planted pot-and-all, has, in recent years, almost entirely done away with clay pots for individual plants grown for sale.

Now modern science and ingenuity have found an equally satisfactory substitute to take the place of the old-fashioned wood flat or box for bedding plants, such as petunias and marigolds, and for such vegetables as tomatoes, cabbage and lettuce.

This very efficient new aid to gardeners is known as the Jiffy-Strip. It consists of a dozen square Jiffy-Pots fastened together at the rims so that they may be handled as a unit.

Each strip is placed in a light plastic container. These containers are helpful in three ways; they enable the grower to produce real pot-grown plants at much less expense than he formerly could, and this saving is passed on to the consumer.

They enable the purchaser to keep his plants in perfect condition for days—or even for two or three weeks if necessary—after he gets them, if he cannot set them out at once because of adverse weather or other conditions.

And last but not least, there will be no transplanting shock when he does set them out. Standing up straight and strong, they will go right on growing from the first day, even if they have begun to bloom.

The usual wilting, necessary for temporary shading, and several days to a week's recovery period become merely memories of the past!

Spring Plants Require Care

Proper care of spring potted plants will extend their blooming period and increase your enjoyment of them, says the Society of American Florists.

Hydrangeas are thirsty plants which may need watering every day, even twice a day in a dry atmosphere. Water Easter lily plants every other day and, as new buds unfold, remove the yellow anthers carefully.

Keep hyacinths, tulips, and other potted bulb plants in a cool, light location and water them when the soil starts to dry out. For best results, keep the soil of azaleas uniformly moist. If the soil becomes dry, submerge the pot in water until the topsoil is wet again.

Curve spring flowers—such as snapdragons, iris, delphiniums, and even pussy willows—to achieve a wider range of design in arranging flowers, suggests the Society of American Florists.

Pussy willows may be curved by grasping the stem end firmly with thumbs underneath, fingers on top. Curve over the thumbs, gently softening fibers with both thumbs. Continue doing this to the tip, working between catkins.

To curve snapdragons, first insert heavy florists wire into the pithy stem as far up as it will go. Then carefully curve the stem as with a pussy willow.

State OKs Request for Gas Extensions

LANSING (AP)—Consumers Power Co. has been given approval by the Michigan Public Service Commission to extend its gas transmission facilities in the state.

Planned projects include more than three miles of pipeline in Clinton County to bring more gas to Lansing. And 18 miles of pipeline from Warren Township in Midland County to the cities of Beaverton and Gladwin. The combined cost will total some $537,000.

In addition, gas supplies will be expanded to Tuscola and Huron counties by four additional miles of pipeline in Saginaw County.

U.S., Soviets Renew Talk on 'Hot Line'

GENEVA (AP)—Telecommunications experts from the United States and the Soviet Union met for the second time Thursday to continue their technical discussions of the proposed "hot line" between Washington and the Kremlin.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C.

Stelle and the Soviet's Semyon K. Tsarapkin took part in the closed meeting, together with experts of both sides.

Both sides have agreed to keep details of the negotiations under close secrecy and a delegation sources declined all comment.

"We just gave our lawn its second feeding... and that took care of weeds automatically!"

That's the beauty of BONUS—it saves you time and trouble—and cash!

When you're doing the right thing by your lawn—you yourself a favor, too. When you're giving it the second feeding (due about now) take care of weeds at the same time, simply by using BONUS in place of your usual fertilizer.

If you skipped the early Spring feeding

All the more reason for using BONUS now—without delay! First there are the weeds you can plainly see, like dandelions. And then there may be many others, hidden by the grass, simply waiting for warmer weather before growing aggressively. BONUS clears them out the easy way.

Dandelions vanish—grass grows greener

Simply pour a bag of BONUS into your Scotts Spreader and walk it around. One day you'll suddenly realize that every dandelion has vanished—and that your grass is greener, richer, lovelier.

This takes less time than doing both jobs separately—and costs you less than 1/4¢ per sq. ft. So you're ahead, any way you figure.

If you want to see the dramatic effectiveness of BONUS, leave one spreader width of your lawn untreated. Then in a month's time compare it with the rest. You'll wish it looked like the rest of your lawn.

Got a lawn problem?

Take it to your Scotts Dealer. Look up his Scotts Counselor. You'll find him ready, willing and able to give you practical, helpful advice. Got a weed you can't identify? Dig it up and take it in to him. And don't be backward about asking for help. So many of the nicest lawns are Scotts lawns, not only because of good products but because they are distributed by dealers who back them with sound advice and guidance.

Parts of Nike Zeus Exceed Boundary

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Scattered parts of a Nike Zeus anti-missile missile, destroyed in flight over White Sands Missile Range, sprayed an uninhabited area of southern New Mexico's Hondo Valley.

The El Paso Times said pieces of the missile cut an electrical power feeder line, knocking out service to six communities for more than five hours Thursday.

The Army would not link the missile with the power failure but said the missile veered off course during the test and "parts of the Zeus impacted beyond the range boundary."

Choose a variety of Italian Green Sprouting type broccoli for longest yield of side shoots.

Vegetables Differ as to Planting Times

Inexperienced gardeners sometimes think that, by sowing seeds of a vegetable earlier or later than the normal time, they'll get an earlier or later crop.

While this is true of the vegetables unaffected by the length of the daylight (or length of the night) like tomatoes which will flower and form fruit at any time of year, providing temperatures are suitable, it is not true of others.

Soybeans, for instance, are short day (and long night) plants and will simply grow good plants, but not flower until late summer when days shorten and nights lengthen.

If you want to try an experiment, plant some soy bean seeds early in spring, others a month later. You'll find that plants from both sowings will flower and fruit at the same time.

There are also long day (or short night) vegetables which, like spinach and spring lettuce, bloom as soon as the days lengthen, thus ending their usefulness for the table.

Spinach blooms as soon as days are 12 hours long or longer. The plants apparently get a signal to flower then. Seed follows flower and the spinach is said to "bolt to seed."

These facts are well known to seedsmen and account for their instructions as to planting time of vegetables.

Trailing Plants Good for Grace, Charm

Anyone who enjoys plants in the house or on the porch or patio is especially entranced with trailing kinds that add both grace and charm, greenery and flowers.

A round of the shops and garden centers reveals that attractive trailing vines — both green and variegated — are readily available in clay pots at this time of year.

And heartleaf Philodendron is also easy to find. Many garden centers carry gracefully cascading fuchsias with pink and white, fuchsia and purple, or all white bloom.

There are also upright growing trailing plants which you can display in a hanging clay pot.

Carrier Departs to Pickup Site for Cooper Orbit

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—The aircraft carrier Kearsarge, assigned to handle the recovery of astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper from the Pacific after his space flight next week, was to leave this naval base today to get in position for the rendezvous.

The Kearsarge was to be accompanied by a task force of six destroyers.

Make This Decoration

An especially attractive hanging decoration can be made by selecting a variety of small trailing plants in small pots and transplanting these together in a large clay pot — community style. Contrast light and dark foliage and small or large leaves of various shapes in order to achieve an interesting effect.

Sow Seeds Thinly in Planting Beets

When you plant beet seeds in your garden, sow them thinly because what we call a "seed" is really a dried fruit and up to 8 seeds may be inside it. Because of this, no matter how thinly you sow seeds, seedlings always come up in groups.

Wait until seedlings are partly grown before thinning to allow plants to stand 4 inches apart. Bell the thinnings for dinner.

When soil has been well prepared, seeds covered not more than an inch deep in spring, or 2 inches deep when sown in mid-summer for a fall crop, you should have plenty of sweet beets to eat.

Should your beets not grow well, sprinkle borax down each side of the boron, a chemical beets need for good growth.

Easy, Attractive Way for Hanging Clay Pot

An easy and attractive way to hang a clay pot is in a French salad basket. Set a saucer in the basket under the clay pot to catch and hold excess water.

Line space between pot and basket with sphagnum and peat-moss. If you like, spray the salad basket with gilt or paint to match your patio color scheme.

Titan 2 Missile Fails to Reach Its Target

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Early shutdown of the second stage engine caused a Titan 2 missile to fall short of its intended $500 million goal Thursday.

Officials reported the upper stage cut off only a few seconds shy of full burning time. The failure was the sixth in 14 Titan 2 test firings and could further delay the missile's development as this nation's most powerful military rocket and as the booster for the two-man project Gemini spacecraft.

ATTRACTIVE TOOL HOUSE—Today's tool houses are a far cry from the old wood shed (which housed tools too) as the above picture indicates. Harold Cook of Milford built this neat little house in his back yard at 601 Duchess. Being an avid gardener, Cook made sure there was plenty of room for power mower, wheelbarrow, and all the necessary implements for green thumbing. Mrs. Cook is shown cleaning up a bit as one daughter, Margie, 5, watches, and another, Laura, 6, relaxes in a lawn chair.

Common Mart in Languages Set at U. of M.

Planting Is Good Exercise

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Eleven major Midwestern universities have formed an educational "common market" in far eastern language instruction—to operate at the University of Michigan this summer, the U. of M. announced yesterday.

The first of four rotating summer far eastern language institutes will offer beginning through advanced instruction in Chinese and Japanese.

It is a project of the committee on institutional cooperation, a co-operative group formed by Big Ten universities and the University of Chicago.

Supported by a $256,000 grant from the Ford Foundation, the institute is offering 80 graduate and undergraduate scholarships.

Here's a Pretty Pink for You Rose Lovers

Royal Highness, cotolder of the 1963 AARS award, is about as pretty a pastel pink as any rose lover could hope for. This regal and wonderfully fragrant rose dresses its plant continuously with large, classically formed hybrid tea blooms that have a unique frost-like coating on their shell-pink petals.

It will be one of the eye-catchers in the garden, and a blue-ribbon winner if you are an exhibitor.

The lyre bird is so called because it has a beautiful plumaged tail over two feet long which resembles the lyre, a musical instrument.

Planting and caring for lovely shrubs and trees on the home property provides healthy exercise, relaxation from everyday tensions, peacefulness and comfort.

According to the American Association of Nurserymen, garden living affords individual as well as family pleasure and entertainment.

Francis Bacon called gardening the "purest of human pleasures."

"Surprisingly enough" says the Association, "planting and landscaping also more than pays for itself in the increased resale value of the property."

How do you plan a garden for health and pleasure?

First, you list the plants which appeal most to you and your family. Nursery catalogues have long lists of plants from which to choose.

Next you get the advice of a good landscape nurseryman to tell you where to plant the things you like best, as well as how to arrange the planting for wholesome living.

Give the individual planting which you will care for yourself to the amount of garden exercise and relaxation you desire.

A garden of two dozen rose plants will take less than an hour or so of attention once a week, including watering. About the same applies to camellias, azaleas, perennials and other plants.

A half dozen dwarf fruit trees will consume about an equal amount of time.

Lawns take somewhat longer, according to their size, mainly because of the mowing.

Many shade and flowering trees and evergreens require very little, if any time. They may or may not need occasional spraying or pruning or feeding depending on the type and the fertility of the soil.

Annuals Can Be Used as Patio Hanging Plants

Many annuals can be used as hanging plants on the patio in summer. Among these are balcony petunias, browallia, impatiens, ivy geranium, sweet alyssum, coleus and dwarf marigolds.

The important thing is to keep them well watered and to feed them every week or two with a soluble foliar fertilizer to encourage new growth and flowering throughout the season.

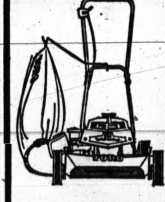

For a neat looking flower arrangement, be sure to remove all foliage below the water line.

Bread Basket for Plants

Bread baskets of all types can be transformed into delightful flower containers with the aid of foam flower holders. The saturated foam can be placed in foil, a tuna fish can, or a bowl designed to hold the foam cylinder

State Police Arrest 5 Employees

Investigation Under Way in Hazel Park Conspiracy

HAZEL PARK (AP) — Five and Edward McDowell, 56, of Hazel Park Race Course em- An audit is underway to deter- mine how much money is in- volved, Hazel Park manager Sid fraud in the use of stolen gate passes.

State police Sgt. Ray Whalen, 40, of the Bedford post said the ar- John W. Adams, 71, Jack M. Pat- erson, 35, all of Detroit; and long investigation of a complaint Thomas C. Foran, 31, of Clawson, from the track management.

Whalen said the officers had been investigating the disappear- ance of some 200 track passes— used to gain admission to the track, located near Detroit, at a pass gate where the pass is put into a slot and photographed and recorded.

Whalen said the gate attendant would direct a number of people through the pass gate after they had paid admission of $1.25. The attendant at the pass gate then apparently inserted stolen passes, police said.

The management became suspicious when it was noticed that a large number of passes was being recorded each night and that the numbers on some of the passes coincided with the numbers of the missing passes, police said.

Whalen said he and two other officers approached the gate last night and were directed to the pass gate by Smiddy.

Whalen said they went through the gate, paying admission with bills whose serial numbers had been recorded and which had been saturated with fluorescent dust (detectable under ultra-violet light).

Whalen said only one stolen pass was found on the five men. He said traces of the hands of all the suspects except Smiddy.

The men involved were gate cashiers with the exception of Smiddy who was a gate cap- tal.

With the exception of Smiddy, all are employed in similar po- sitions at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia.

Anton said he had no idea if its hundreds of dollars a day, or a week or a season or what.

Whalen said the investigation will be broadened to see if other employees at the track are in- volved.

Police said warrants will be sought today from the Oakland County prosecutor.

The suspects were employed for about four and a half hours nightly during harness races, An- ton said.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

In 1953, the Los Angeles Rams spotted a 6-foot-6 and 250 pound giant in the Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton. He showed enough know-how in service football to be given a trial in the pro ranks.

The new recruit was Gene Lipscomb, a graduate of Detroit's Miller High School who had never received any college football training.

Without college fundamentals the early stay in the NFL was tough for Lipscomb.

He was picked up on waivers in 1956 by the Baltimore Colts and since then he became one of the most respected linemen in pro ball.

He continued to grow and forced the scales to stay around 300 pounds. He was dubbed by his teammates as "Big Daddy."

MANY MISTAKES

During his early days at Baltimore, some of the veteran offensive linemen in the league used to boast about forcing "Big Daddy" into easy mistakes at the line of scrimmage.

After a couple of years of steady experience no one made a fool of him any more. He became the bulwark of the Colts' line during the great championship years of 1958-59.

At the start of the 1961 season, he was part of the deal which sent him to Pittsburgh and for the past two years he continued to show the mobility and speed for which he was respected for his size.

There have been many games in which Lipscomb was ac- cused of roughing opposing quarterbacks. Milt Plum was jarred off the field in the game with the Steelers last year when hit by Lipscomb from the blind side, causing a furor among Lions' coaches who claimed the tackle was made after the play was whistled down.

Last January in the Pro-Bowl at Los Angeles, Lipscomb was the star of the East team as he ripped continuous holes through the vaunted West offensive line. He was named the outstanding lineman on the field that day.

Next season there will be a huge hole in the Steelers' defensive line.

His shocking death this morning takes away one of the most controversial but colorful players in pro football, out of the sports scene.

A lot of mystery evolves around his death, including alcohol and narcotics and the question—Where did Lipscomb go wrong?

LONG GONE — Philadelphia Phillie third-baseman is down on his knees trying to get a grounder by Frank Thomas of the Mets, but the ball gets by him and umpire Tony Venen gives the fair signal: Hoak was charged with an error as the Mets won the game, 3-2.

Herbert Has Posted Four

Nothing but Shutouts

By The Associated Press

Ray Herbert was just another good journeyman pitcher before he made his way to Chicago. But there, under manager Al Lopez, he found the magic touch.

Herbert hadn't caused many sensations in eight seasons at De- troit and Kansas City, although he won almost as many as he lost. One season he even won more than he lost.

Then came the trade to Chicago. Last year, his first full season with the White Sox, he had a 20-9 record.

This season his start is even better. He's 4-1 and all the vic- tories have been shutouts, the last string to 27. Cleve Boyer singled three in a row. The latest was a two-hit, 2-0 blanking of the New York Yankees Thursday night that protected the White Sox' one-game lead and dropped the Yankees to fifth.

TIE FOR SECOND

Baltimore climbed into a share of second with a 4-1 triumph over Boston while Washington finally got around to beating Mueckel Grant, whipping the Cleveland In- dians 4-0 behind Dave Stenhouse in the only other games sched- uled.

Herbert, a 33-year-old right- handed, allowed the stumbling fourth after Ed Brinkman unloa- ded a three-run homer. Stenhouse spaced seven hits in gaining his first shutout of the season.

the fifth for the Yankees' only hits and Bobby Richardson walked in the fourth.

A two-run double by shortstop Ron Hansen was all the hitting support Herbert needed. His four shutouts are only one off—the league high of 1962. The others have come on three-batters against Kansas City and Wash- ington and a four-hit against Baltimore.

Grant had won 12 straight in Washington before the Senators finally got to him. He left in the fourth after Ed Brinkman unloa- ded a three-run homer. Stenhouse spaced seven hits in gaining his first shutout of the season.

Tigers Eye New Lease Tonight

U. of M. Grad Named PNH Football Coach

Pontiac Northern's second foot- ball coach in its five year his- tory of existence was decided last night by the Pontiac Board of Education with the appoint- ment of Robert Dingman.

A native of Saginaw and 1963 graduate of the University of Michigan Dingman coached at Milan High School from 1955 to 1958 and at Owosso High from 1958 to 1962.

During the past school year he has been superintendent of Cen- tral Lake public schools.

At Milan, his teams compiled a three-year record of 14-11. Just at Owosso in four seasons the football record under him was 17-16.

As a student at Arthur Hill high school, he played football, bas- ketball and track and received all-state football honors as a sen- ior.

PNH GRID COACH — The appointment of Robert W. Ding- man, 32, as new head-football coach at Pontiac Northern High School, was announced last night by the board of education. Dingman, U. of M. graduate, succeeds Ed Heikinen who re- signed two months ago.

Tribe Invades Bengals' Lair for 3 Contests

McAuliffe and Wood Set Around 2nd Base as Chco Departs

DETROIT (AP) — An apparent new lease on life for the Detroit Tigers comes up for its first test tonight. The Tigers open a three-game series with the Cleveland Indians at Tiger Stadium.

What happens is bound to fascinate Tiger fans who were shaken out of an early season depression by the astounding comeback against the New York Yankees.

The two straight triumphs over the Yanks — giving Detroit a winning streak of three victories in four games — restored faith.

Beside facing a test of their new morale against Cleveland, the Tigers are going into a fight to prove the wisdom of the latest managerial strategy.

The team was idle yesterday.

Lakers, Skippers Win Golf Meets

Waterford and West Bloomfield added golf victories to their im- pressive ledgers yesterday at Pontiac Country Club.

The Skippers (13-5) got a 37 from Mike Secoy and a 38 from Ron Sutton to defeat St. Freder- ick 197-218. Tom Bradley was low for the Rams with a 40.

Bob Aumauer shot a 37 as West Bloomfield downed Clar- enceville 164-190 for its 10th win against four losses.

This involves dumping short- stop Chico Fernandez, setting up a Dick McAuliffe-Jake Wood combination for supposedly permanent stay at short and second base.

The Tiger bosses gave up finally yesterday on Fernandez, a problem for the three years he served the club in a sometimes first class, sometimes mediocre way.

Chico, who hit a sensational 20 home runs last season, was traded to the Milwaukee Braves for an undisclosed sum of cash and an unnamed player to be given Detroit later.

The trade brought the Tigers down to the required 25-player limit just at deadline.

GOES TO METS

Milwaukee didn't want Fernan- dez, either, and traded him off to the New York Mets. The Mets gave Milwaukee pitcher Larry Foss in return.

Detroit has been vulnerable at shortstop all year. Fernandez started at the job but had to give it up because of weak hitting. Coo Vea tried but also failed and after one short experience again with Chico the Tigers de- cided to go with McAuliffe.

Wood, hitting .210 in 15 of De- troit's games, is off to a better season than last year. His two home runs in the last Yankee game were this season's high spot for him.

If they do exceptionally well against the Indians, the Tigers can climb out of ninth place in the American League. They need a series sweep, however. They trail Cleveland by a game and a half.

CHEVROLET

HERE'S A SITUATION THAT CALLS FOR THE RITCH

Suppose your ball is just short of a contoured, two-level green. How do you hit a backspin pitch to the flag well back on the second level?

First, open your stance and rest your right elbow against your body.

Then, use a short backswing, as shown in illustration #2, and concentrate most of your weight on your left foot.

Don't scoop the ball, because scooping kills backspin. Let your club-head strike the ball first and drive it just slightly into the ground — this action imports backspin.

Also, keep the eyes riveted to the back of the ball (see illustration #3), even after impact and nearing finish.

Baseball Tryouts Set

Class D baseball tryouts for the Pontiac Boys Club are slated for 1 p.m. Saturday at Jaycee Park No. 2. Boys 18-and-under are invited to practice for any position.

Hills Remains Tied in W-O

The three-team lead in the Wayne-Oakland baseball race is a two-team affair for the time being.

Northville and Bloomfield Hills built their legs to 7-2 with victories yesterday but Clarkston remained with one less win as its game with West Bloomfield was postponed.

The Barons walloped Holly, 14-3 and revenge an earlier 7-5 loss to the Broncos. The win was Hills' eighth consecutive triumph.

Northville played duces wild to take Brighton, 4-1, and Milford stayed a game behind the leaders by beating Clarenceville, 7-2. Royal Oak Kimball remained unbeaten in the southern county area by nipping arch rival R.O. Dondero, 8-7, in nine innings.

John Augusten tripled twice, once with bases loaded, and Greg Anderson doubled home three runs in the Bloomfield Hills victory.

Tom Swiss was the winning hurler and hit a two run homer for Northville. The Mustangs scored two runs each in the first, fourth and fifth innings.

Duke Peterson hurled five scoreless innings of relief ball and a double by Ron Callison highlighted a three-run fifth inning for the Redskins that broke up a tight ball game with Clarenceville.

Kimball posted its eighth straight win when Dave Mann stole home while Dondero's pitcher attempted to pick off Gary Weckerly at first base.

Weckerly, who singled Mann to third in the winning rally and was five-for-five, had a solo home run in the fifth inning as the Knights fought back from a 5-0 deficit.

The Oaks were one strike from victory when Kimball's Gene Muenchhausen tripled with the bases loaded in the seventh inning to tie the score, 7-7.

Honor Hall of Famers

NEW YORK (AP)—The Touchdown Club honored its 12 Football Hall of Fame members with a special luncheon Thursday. The 10 who attended were Hamilton Fish of Harvard, Ken Strong of NYU, Cliff Montgomery of Columbia, Elmer Oliphant of Army, Fritz Pollard of Brown, Edgar Gargisch of Army, Vincent Paz-zetti of Lehigh, Dr. Joe Alexander of Syracuse, Genie Friedman of Michigan and Col. John J. McEwan of Army.

TO THE VICTORS—The victory spoils were presented at the Pontiac Travelling Classic League banquet recently. Dominic Mazza (right) accepted the Frank Jennings Travel-

PNH, Waterford 9s in 'Must' Clash

MUST GAMES, that bugaboo that all contenders must face during a winning campaign, loom today for Pontiac Northern and Waterford.

Making the label singular instead of plural would be more nearly accurate since this MUST clash is between the two schools.

Both have winning marks in the Inter-Lakes baseball race but can not afford a loss and expect to stay with unbeaten Berkley.

The Bears are 5-0 and will play at Farmington (1-4) today. Officials at Pontiac Northern indicated this morning that every effort would be made to play the 4 p.m. game this afternoon if a playable diamond in the city could be located after the early morning heavy rain.

The Huskies are 4-1 and the township diamond squad boasts a 3-2 record.

Cosch Arnold Wilgus of Northern has nominated sophomore right-hander Roger Hayward for his first start of the season. A sore throwing arm has limited him to relief appearances.

SOPHOMORE DUEL
Stu Thorell of Waterford may send a sophomore to the mound also, undefeated right-hander Larry McGuffey. The Skippers committed 11 errors in losing their first game with PNH, 8-5.

Another I-L clash will pit win-less Southfield at Walled Lake. The Vikings are 2-3 this season.

The Northwest Catholic League has a must game today, also, with Orchard Lake St. Mary, traveling to Royal Oak St. Mary. The Eaglets are sailing along with a 4-0 mark.

They are seeking to dethrone defending champion ROSM. The Irish were surprised earlier this week by St. Michael, 4-2, and need to stop the OLSM express.

The Rev. John Rakoczy has right-handers Frank Romepl and Larry Janiszewski ready for mound duty, while Major Cray Wells at the Royal Oak school will most likely depend on his ace righty, son Don Wells, to hurl the big game.

If the Eaglets can continue their hitting splurge which has produced 47 runs in the last two games, the race will probably be all over in the loop.

St. Mike's, itself surprised by arch rival St. Fred's this week, should have a tough foe today in Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows which has played good baseball this season.

The 11th Frame

With the annual banquet and the announcement of next year's officers, the Pontiac Bowling League concluded its 35th season last week.

Once one of the largest leagues in the world, the Monday night league this past season was content to have 28 teams and 140 members.

During the 1951-52 season, however, the Pioneer Girls counted 90 teams in their league and used three shifts to accomplish their weekly results.

There were only 50 members in the loop when it organized in 1928 with Lillian Haney as the first president.

Mabel Lahiff, a charter member was a guest at this year's banquet. The women, also, offered a special salute to Marvin Barnett who has sponsored the Peggy's Dress Shop entry in the league for the past 30 seasons.

Selected to guide the league through its 36th year are June Herzina, president; Sally Hueter, vice president; Peggy Bryan, secretary; Bonnie Coan, treasurer; and Serena McNamara, sergeant-at-arms.

TOURNEY RESULTS
Final results from the 14th annual Metropolitan Club of America district bowling tournament at Huron Bowl this year saw the top local finish a third place for Charles Hewitt of Pontiac Spirit in the singles event.

Hewitt bowled 713 with handicaps, while Clayton Soncrante of the local sponsoring group, Waterford Township Spirit 62, totaled 692 for sixth place and the same group's Harold Land had 689 for seventh position.

YOUR MERC DEALER WILL HELP YOU ANGLE FOR A NEW FISHING MOTOR

Your Mercury outboard dealer will arm you with facts about the new Merc fishing motors . . . information that you may need to convince your wife (or yourself) that you've just got to have one. Maybe your old banger is shearing pins. Mercs have no shear pins. They have a live-rubber safety clutch instead. Maybe you can't troll with your old motor because it idles badly and fouls plugs. Fishing Mercs have tilted powerheads that eliminate fuel "puddling" and fixed-jet carburetors that keep the mixture right. There are lots of good reasons why you should have a new Merc. They start easy. They go through weeds and shallows without heating up. They have full gearshift.

If you don't have an outboard . . . all the more reason to buy a new Merc. It will take you off the dock and back where the fish are hiding.

VISIT YOUR MERCURY DEALER. There's a good chance that you'll get a new Merc 60 . . . 6 hp, Merc 110 . . . 9.8 hp, or a new Merc 200 . . . 20 hp. MERCS are very light and easy to carry home.

Collects 5-for-5 in 13-3 Cincinnati Triumph

Robinson Waves Divining Rod for Base Hits

By The Associated Press

It's May, and suddenly Frank Robinson's bat is beginning to act like a divining rod for base hits.

A notoriously slow starter, Robinson went 5-for-5 and drove in seven runs on two homers, two singles and a double Thursday night as Cincinnati erupted for its biggest offensive output of the season and crushed Houston 13-3.

It was easily Robinson's best night and gave every indication that his bat, usually rather quiet in April, is beginning to point toward the ball like a divining rod here. In nine days, he has doubled his home run and RBI production.

The 27-year-old right-handed swinger, known to the Reds' National League pennant chances, now has six homers and 22 runs batted in. He has raised his batting average up to .301 and led the Reds from ninth place to sixth.

Robinson drove in two runs with a third inning double, hit a two-run homer in the sixth and connected for a three-run shot in the eighth. The sixth inning homer came off Jim Umbricht, who returned to the active list only hours before the game after recovering from cancer surgery.

Umbricht, who pitched only one inning, said, "I'm not throwing real well, but I felt real good."

While the Reds were unleashing their attack against the Colts, the St. Louis Cardinals bombed the Los Angeles Dodgers for 17 hits, including a grand slam home run by Bill White, in a 19-7 victory.

First-place San Francisco defeated Milwaukee 8-2 as Felipe Alou continued to pound the ball, Chicago's second-place Cubs ran their winning streak to six by beating Pittsburgh 3-1 behind Dick Ellsworth's two-bitter and the New York Mets made it four in a row with a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia.

Alou drove in three runs with his seventh homer and two doubles, scored four runs and raised his league-leading batting average to .304 in the Giants' victory at Milwaukee. Ed Bailey also with a bases-loaded single and Johnny Kilguspin uncorked a wild pitch that sent the winning run home in a three-run ninth inning uprising that gave the Mets a sweep of the three-game series with the Phillies. The Mets had been held to one hit by Cal McLish for eight innings.

Sports Cars Get Set at Waterford Hills

The 4th season of sports car racing at Waterford Hills in the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club will begin May 25-26 with the Spring Sprints.

There are four other sports car events planned for the course which has been improved this year. Other dates are June 29-30; July 27-28; Aug. 31-Sept. 1 and September 28-29.

Most popular winners on the mile and a half course during a successful 1962 campaign were Corvettes, Jaguar XKE, Porsche Super and Ferraris.

Howe Wins Hart Trophy as NHL's Most Valuable

MONTREAL (AP) — Detroit's Toronto's Frank Mahovlich with ageless Gordie Howe has won the Hart Trophy as the National Hockey League's Most Valuable Player for an unprecedented sixth time.

The league announced today Howe polled 81 of a possible 90 points in voting for the second half of the season, giving him a season total of 111 points, more than double Chicago's Stan Mikita's total of 54.

Howe, an effortless-skating right winger who turned 35 at the season's end, was superb in the last half of the season.

He roared from behind to win the league scoring title for the sixth time—a record—with 86 points. His total of 38 goals was the league high.

The slope-shouldered, 202-pounder from the hamlet of Floral, Sask., has racked up a league record of 1,202 points in his 17 NHL seasons. Last season he drew near Maurice Richard's record of 544 goals in league play, finishing the season with 540.

Barring an accident, he should break the former Montreal Canadiens' star's record by early November.

Howe was high in first voting for the Hart Trophy at the half-way mark with 30 points. Mikita had 35 and Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk led with 37.

But Mikita received only 19 votes in second-half voting, and Sawchuk, sidelined for most of the second half with a hand injury, received seven votes.

After Sawchuk with 44 points in the over-all total—came Chicago goalie Glenn Hall with 42 and

Other players to receive votes in the over-all standings were Toronto's Dave Keon 11; New York's Lorne Worsley 9; Montreal's Henri Richard 8; New York's Andy Bathgate 8; Montreal's Jacques Plante 3; Chicago's Pierre Pilote 3; Chicago's Bobby Hull and Toronto's Bob Pulford 1.

Plante won the award last year.

Diamond Job Ends for 'Utility Man'

By The Associated Press

The long, unspectacular career of Sammy Esposito, who certainly found baseball broadening, apparently is at an end.

The 31-year-old utility infielder for the Chicago White Sox was placed on waivers Thursday as the major league clubs cut their rosters to the 25-man limit. It is doubtful the 5-foot-8, 170-pounder ever will play again.

"I don't mind being the utility man," Esposito always claimed. "As long as I can fill in when I'm needed. Every club's got to have one."

Esposito's main claim to fame was that he saw so little action. In an entire major league career spanning a decade he played in only 541 games.

Costs of Air Crash Probes Rising

By ROBERT J. SERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON — Eighteen dollars for a pair of antiskid boots and $31,000 to haul wreckage out of a swamp.

These two items were part of the cost of investigating a recent airliner crash in the Florida Everglades. They underline a fact of life about air safety: The price of solving accidents is going up.

The Civil Aeronautics Board's bureau of safety says it costs 10 times as much to investigate a major jetliner crash today as it did in the hey-day of the DC3. Edward Slattery, veteran bureau information officer, recalls:

"We used to spend not more than $10,000 on a DC3 crash 20 years ago. Now it's not uncommon for the cost of an investigation to exceed $100,000."

The complexity of the modern airliner is the chief reason why accident investigation is far more costly. Speed and altitude performance is another factor — because it can result in wreckage being strewn over wider areas and falling in almost inaccessible places.

The March 1, 1962, crash of an American Airlines 707 into Jamaica Bay near New York's Idlewild Airport was an example of a $100,000 accident. The bureau of safety's direct expenditures in solving that tragedy breaks down to:

Personnel salaries — $52,000.
Travel — $6,000.
Per diem expenses — $8,000.
Telephones — $2,500.
Car rentals — $2,200.
Wreckage recovery — $32,000.
Laboratory expenses — $3,000.
Photography — $1,000.
Public hearings — $3,700.
Guards — $4,500.
Miscellaneous — $800.
Total — $111,700.

That total falls far short of the over-all cost. The free and voluntary services rendered by other "interested parties" in that crash added up to as much as $1.5 million.

The complexity of the modern airliner is the chief reason why accident investigation is far more lost by their union, the Air Line Pilots Association.

Will Increase $18 MSU Room, Board

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University has announced that room and board rates in residence halls will be increased $18 a year to $304 effective with the start of the fall term.

The increased revenue will be allocated entirely toward helping meet increased personnel costs, said Philip May, vice president for business and finance.

Personnel costs have increased about $30 per student in the current year, May said.

Even after the increase, MSU students still will have the lowest residence hall rates in the Big Ten, May said.

Firm Leaving Michigan

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Arrow Products, Inc., which employs 62 persons in production of materials-handling conveyors, is leaving here July 1 in a transfer to Springfield, Tenn.

Company spokesmen yesterday announced the move was aimed at economies through the Springfield plant where excess manufacturing space is available and overhead can be consolidated.

SCOTCH

WHISKIES

Imported Direct
in Casks

It's smart to serve the best and save, too

Outstanding in quality! McMaster's 6 year old 100% Canadian Whisky and 100% Scotch Whisky are each skillfully distilled and fully matured in their native lands... They are light, mellow, and full flavored... delightful straight or mixed.

Why do these fine whiskies cost so much less?

Scotch and Canadian Whiskies, bottled abroad, are imported in cases. The import duties and Federal excise taxes must be paid on a minimum of 100 proof... even though they are actually less than 100 proof.

We import fine McMaster's Whiskies in barrels at 100 proof or more and we pay the duty and excise taxes only on the actual proof. Then, just as they do in Canada and Scotland, we reduce the proof under careful supervision.

This substantial tax savings is passed on to you. If these fine whiskies were bottled abroad, they would cost you far more.

You can't buy finer imported Scotch or Canadian Whisky than McMaster's... WHY PAY MORE?

Prices Mixed

Stock Market Rally Stalled

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rally stalled early this afternoon as trading slowed. Prices were mixed.

The market, as anticipated by some technicians, was running in opposition to further advance. The turning action which topped yesterday's vigorous rally was a forerunner, analysts said.

The major steelmakers took small losses. Motors were quiet dealers.

A number of the higher-priced, volatile issues which have been sought for sizable losses.

Scattered gains were made by selected oils, building materials, and nonferrous metals, aerospace issues and rails.

A few special issues showed strength, but the overall market presented a confused picture.

Simplicity Pattern dipped 1/2 to 13 on 7,200 shares. IBM and Polaroid were off about 3 1/2.

General Motors, having digested some profit taking yesterday, was firm, and just below its historic high. Ford eased. Other motors were unchanged.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Prices at decimal points are eighth.

Erhard Insuring Bonn Political Future

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst
It had been an all night bargaining session and dark circles ringed the eyes of German Economic Minister Ludwig Erhard when he finally emerged.

"We did good work," he said. "We avoided disaster."

Erhard referred specifically to a compromise agreement to end a metal workers strike which had killed a half million

German workers and which, allowed to spread, would threaten the whole of West Germany's booming economy.

But Erhard, the portly economics professor who for 14 years has guided West Germany's economic destinies, might well have applied his remarks to his own political future.

For his night's work Erhard won a standing ovation from parliamentary members of his Christian Democratic party and went far to assure that sometime next fall he will be elected to replace the aging Konrad Adenauer as West Germany's chancellor.

In late April Adenauer reluctantly agreed to a 3-6-1 vote of party leaders that this fall he should step down from the office through which he had guided Germany back from the ruins of defeat to make it one of the most prosperous and powerful nations of Western Europe.

He pledged to lend his counsel to his successor, even though that successor be Erhard, whose ability as a chancellor Adenauer continues to doubt.

Critics of Erhard had termed him "soft in times of crisis, a rubber lion."

But in the metal workers' negotiations Erhard had placed his prestige on the line and that criticism now would be harder to support.

It also would make it more difficult, if that should be Adenauer's intent, to maneuver Erhard out of the job for which he has waited so long.

But whatever the future should bring for Erhard, it was apparent that in West Germany an era was coming to an end.

The authoritarian vigor with which Adenauer had ruled West Germany since 1949, had shown marked decline in recent months.

Where Adenauer once ordered, he now had been reduced to persuasion.

His opponents accused him of submitting docilely to the ambitions of President Charles de Gaulle of France in bowing to the latter's veto of British membership in the West European Common Market.

MINISTERS JOIN IN

Echoing the charges were some of his own ministers, including Erhard.

Erhard is credited with formulating the policies which led to Germany's economic success. He now sees German industrial growth slowing and he opposes de Gaulle's closed-door policies which he fears will lead to European stagnation. Britain, he believes, would open new trading doors to the Common Market.

These were among the reasons for the repudiation of Ade-nauer after years of magnificent effort.

Germany's close ties with the West cannot be expected to change regardless of who becomes the next chancellor. Nor can a squabble now dim Adenauer's brilliant record.

But Germany is moving toward parliamentary, rather than one-man rule and that should be to the good.

Court Revises Holland Ruling

New Trial Is Ordered for Convicted Thief

The Michigan Supreme Court yesterday reversed a ruling by the late Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland and ordered a new trial for a Jackson prison inmate convicted of stealing $6,000 from a woman on a Hazel Park street.

Rudolph Castell was granted a new trial in a unanimous opinion by the high court.

The court ruled there was error in the failure to have one of four witnesses at the scene of the crime testify at Castell's trial.

Because the identity of the thief was a major issue, "the testimony of every witness who could describe him was of utmost importance."

Judge Holland denied a request for a directed verdict on the ground that Castell's attorney had not been allowed to cross-examine and summon all witnesses known to authorities.

Castell was serving a five-year sentence on a narcotics conviction when his trial on the robbery charge was held in August and September 1961.

The Hazel Park robbery occurred Sept. 9, 1960, and Castell was identified by the victim, Mrs. Martha Zwick, Nov. 2, 1960, while in Wayne County jail on the narcotics charge.

'Heart Attack' Was Suffered in November

Edwin F. Clark, who resigned as Sylvan Lake councilman Wednesday, said today that there had been incorrect reporting about the employee who is the center of dispute over sick leave pay.

Clark said the public works employee apparently suffered attack sometime in November and went on sick leave Nov. 27. It had been reported that the employee had his attack in February.

The councilman said he did not object to the payment of sick leave, but questioned payment of unused vacation time dating back to 1960. He claimed the vacation time had been taken.

Clark criticized the Sylvan Lake Council and city manager at its regular meeting Wednesday. He charged that the payment was a misappropriation of funds.

Hit by Auto, Breaks Leg

Mark Anthony Short, 6, of 478 California, is in fair condition in St. Joseph Hospital with a broken leg and facial lacerations suffered when he was struck by a car yesterday afternoon at Franklin Road near California.

Thomas Perri, 33, of Wayne, told police the boy ran in front of his car.

Walled Lake Home Hit by $8,500 Fire

WALLED LAKE — A $8,500 fire partially destroyed a five-room house on Decker this morning.

The four children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. As, 1135 Decker, were home alone when the fire broke out about 7:30 a.m. They reportedly were uninjured.

Chief Frank Hamilton of the Walled Lake Fire Department attributed the blaze to a faulty carburetor in an oil space heater and improper clearance between the chimney and wall.

It took Walled Lake and Commerce Township firemen about two hours to bring the fire under control.

Guilt Admitted in Unarmed Theft at Tailor Shop

Rufus Anderson Jr., 168 Crestwood, entered his plea as his trial was about to begin before Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Anderson had been charged with armed robbery, but the prosecutor agreed to the lesser plea because Anderson used a toy pistol in the robbery of Sabra's Tailoring Shop at Miracle Mile shopping center.

Judge Beer set May 28 for sentencing.

4 From County Go to Colombia

A four-member team will leave Oakland County for South America Sunday to lend its skills in community planning to the booming Cali Region in Colombia.

Being sent by the federal government are Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors; D. B. Varner, chancellor of Oakland University; George Catlin, director of area development here for the Detroit Edison Co.; and George Skrab, director of the County Planning Commission.

They are expected to apply a local government approach to foreign relations in an experiment fostered by U.S. Rep. William S. Brockfield, R-Oakland County.

While an advocate of foreign aid, Brockfield has long been critical of a program that, he asserts, pours huge sums of American tax dollars into foreign countries without assuring any direct benefits to impoverished people. The four-member team will study the needs of the Cali community for about three weeks.

It is expected to make recommendations in Washington as to how foreign aid funds should be applied in the Cali Region.

TECHNICIANS TO FOLLOW
Hamlin says the mission will be mainly one of reconnaissance, to be followed by teams of Oakland County technicians in local governmental services who would see that American funds are put to use in the best interests of the community.

The reason for singling out Oakland County for this mission, according to Brockfield, is that this county has recently undergone growth and development similar to that now facing the Cali Region.

The region is approximately equal in size to Oakland County and is braced for large-scale industrial development very soon, according to Brockfield.

The area's population of nearly 600,000 is expected to double within the next few years.

The central city of Cali and its environs already is experiencing a population explosion as Colombians pour in on the promise of wage-paying employment by expanding industries.

"It is very important that Cali grows properly and in the best interests of its citizens," said Brockfield, "and I think this team from Oakland County can give some very valuable advice."

MAY HAVE WATER WOES
Hamlin said that while the team, which he is heading, has drawn no foregone conclusions, it is apt to discover inadequate water and sewer facilities in and around Cali for example.

The team will fly from Detroit Metropolitan Airport Sunday evening with a one-day stopover in Washington where the members will be briefed by the State Department.

Arrive by jet in Bogota, capital of Colombia, Tuesday. It expects to spend about three days there being briefed by the national government before proceeding by plane to Cali.

The mission team is due back in the United States June 1. Accompanying the group more or less as an observer is Mary T. Jaroszewicz, an architect with the Tarapata, McMahon Associates, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills.

Jaroszewicz of 4204 Butternut Hill, Bloomfield Hills, is paying his own way.

Expenses of the others are being underwritten by the State Department.

Cite 425 Good Reasons for County Water Safety

State police cite at least 425 good reasons why Water Safety Week, May 12-18, should take added importance in Oakland County.

That is the total number of lakes in the county — all potentially dangerous, they warn.

Water Safety Week, proclaimed by Gov. George Romney, is a statewide effort by various agencies and organizations to promote safety in swimming and small-craft operation.

Nearly all water fatalities and injuries occur because safety precautions are ignored, the state police note.

The precautions include swimming in groups, swimming in authorized waters, providing life preservers for boats and life belts for water skiers, careful operation of motor boats and proper supervision of small children in or near the water.

STATE STATISTICS
According to police records, there were 209 fatal water accidents, 236 drownings and 191 injuries in the state last year.

In Oakland County, the number of drownings last year was reduced by almost 50 per cent.

State police ascribe part of this reduction to the new month-mouth resuscitation technique.

This and other artificial respiration techniques were known to have saved the lives of 19 persons in the state, they report.

Films illustrating the month-mouth method can be obtained by contacting the sheriff's department, state or city police, as well as the Pontiac Red Cross, which also has other water safety films available for showing.

The Oakland County Red Cross chapter also will conduct a water safety clinic May 17 at Oakland University from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m.

It is open to representatives of any interested groups in the county.

Meeting Wednesday, the CIAC adopted its bylaws and distributed a questionnaire to make a community appraisal, according to President Eugene Russell.

"We want to get a general over-all view of the city," Russell said, "then we can best determine where improvements can be made."

Committee members will examine the condition of housing, streets and city services. The questionnaires will be tabulated at the June 12 meeting.

Closing Law Still Stalled

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court today granted a temporary restraining order preventing Michigan's so-called weekend closing law from being applied in 11 counties until its validity is determined by the court.

Stores in Oakland County may remain unaffected by the new weekend closing law for at least six months.

An attorney for 59 stores here and elsewhere in the metropolitan area said he was notified last night that a temporary order preventing enforcement of the law will be issued by the State Supreme Court.

George Bashara, who represents stores fighting the law, said he was told by a court official that the order will be in effect until the court rules on an appeal of a Wayne County Circuit Court decision that the law is constitutional.

Bashara said the Supreme Court probably will not be able to complete hearings on the appeal and issue a ruling for at least six months.

OK Changes for School Boundaries

Boundary line changes for five Pontiac elementary schools were approved last night by the board of education.

The changes, which were recommended to relieve overcrowded conditions at three of the schools, will take effect next year.

An attendance area for the new Cottage Street Elementary School, now under construction, was also set.

Still a sixth school, Herrington Elementary School, may have its attendance area changed before next year. However, this action will come after the May census because of the uncertainty of enrollment projections for that area.

The Cottage Street School will serve an area bounded on the north by Whittemore and Auburn, on the east by Opdyke, on the south by the railroad tracks from Opdyke to Sanford, and on the west by Sanford from Raeburn to Whittemore.

Emerson School will have a west boundary from Perry and Arlene, a north boundary at Walton, an east boundary from Walton and Perry to the railroad viaduct to Mt. Clemens, and a south boundary from Mt. Clemens, Stirling and Parkwood to Perry.

Longfellow School's west boundary will be Shirley, the north boundary Mt. Clemens to Jordan, Featherstone and the railroad tracks, the east boundary the railroad tracks and Opdyke to Auburn, and the south boundary, Auburn and Whittemore.

The Wilson School will serve an area bounded by Opdyke on the east, Saginaw on the west, the city limits on the south, and the railroad tracks and Raeburn on the north.

McConnell School will have a north boundary of Saginaw, a west boundary of Whittemore and Auburn to Sanford to Auburn, and a south boundary from Sanford to Raeburn, and a south boundary from Raeburn to Perry.

Enters Guilty Plea on Larceny Charge

Alan R. Adams Jr., 26, of 278 Oakland, yesterday pleaded guilty to larceny in a building before Oakland County Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Adams was accused of stealing $288 from the Whittierburg Gulf station in Waterford Township on Feb. 15. He had been charged with breaking and entering, but was allowed to plead guilty to the lesser crime.

Adams, a former employee of the service station, will be sentenced by Judge Moore May 28 at Raeburn.

Poor Learning Procedures

Honor Roll Student May Flunk College

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Dear Dr. Nason: Tests reveal that my 11-year-old son has a reasonably high I. Q. His marks do little to confirm this.

I am particularly concerned about this since I have a niece who was on the honor roll all through high school and yet may flunk out of college in her freshman year.

My son has never been on the honor roll so what chance will he stand in higher education?

E. S. M., Vahalla, N. Y.

These honor students have made grades in high school regardless of their poor learning procedures.

The average student who does succeed in college is the one with sufficient self-discipline to apply himself. Your son will just have to buckle down to work, using proven study methods.

Dear Dr. Nason: In your discussion of the preschool child who is on a learning jag, you suggested a home program to keep up his interest in learning.

I feel you did not answer the question of what will the child do in kindergarten and first grade?

What is best for the bright or gifted child in the first few years of school? I don't mean at home. I mean how does he spend his time in the classroom?

Mrs. B. L. S., Dayton, Ohio

Answer: Parents cannot control to any great extent the activities provided for their children in either kindergarten or first grade. They can, however, provide interesting learning activities in home which can help round out the child's educational development.

Also, parents can make suggestions in conferences with the teacher when they have specific activities in mind.

Dear Dr. Nason: I am in the tenth grade. In junior high school I was an honor student, the graduation speaker and participated in all types of outside activities.

This year my grades have dropped from A's and B's to C's and D's. These are not high enough for the university I plan to attend.

I find Latin and algebra my most difficult subjects.

I have curtailed all my activities and have had no social evenings for weeks. Can you help me?

L. Y., Sanger, Calif.

Answer: Since weeks of hard study have not solved your problem you must be studying in the wrong manner.

Get a copy of my book "You Can Get Better Grades." Study it carefully, discuss with your teachers the way in which you study. Review the algebra and Latin courses from the beginning, using new approaches.

Good luck with your efforts.

Dear Dr. Nason: On the same day I read an article by you in the Columbus Dispatch I also read an article on hypnosis as an aid to pupils. Inasmuch as I am having difficulty absorbing college-level mathematics I thought perhaps you would give me your opinion as to the success of such methods.

My problem is that I have no background in mathematics other than beginner's algebra.

R. T., Lockbourne, Ohio

Answer: To a person with a severe emotional block to the study of algebra, suggestions under hypnosis may help remove the block.

But it is my opinion that conscious thinking is the best, if not the only, method of mastering mathematics.

OUR ANCESTORS

By Quincy

Then he laid down the ace and king of diamonds and dropped East's queen. Now he cashed dummy's three high clubs to see if the jack would fall. Then back to his hand with the ten of diamonds for another heart finesse. Eventually he conceded the last trick, but scored game, slam and rubber.

"The luckiest so - and - so alive," grumbled East.

"A lucky player would have dropped the jack of clubs and made seven," replied South.

Q—The bidding has been: South West North East 1 ♠ 2 ♣ 2 ♠ 3 ♠ 4 ♠

You, South, hold: ♠ K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ K 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ K 4 3 2

What do you do?

Cooper's Craft to Carry Everything but Kitchen Sink Tuesday

By HOWARD BENEDEICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper's "Faith 7" spacecraft is like a woman's purse. Reach in and you'll find almost anything.

If Cooper rockets toward his 34-hour space flight as planned Tuesday, he will carry along such items as an inflatable balloon, four cameras, an exercise device, medical monitoring gear, maps, charts, geiger counters, a 22-foot expandable radio antenna, shark repellent, a raft, an alarm clock, parachutes and spaghetti and meat sauce.

He'll even carry his own private satellite—a baseball-sized object equipped with flashing beacons which he plans to release into orbit during the third of his intended 22 circuits of the globe.

The longest U.S. manned space flight yet planned is scheduled to start with the roar of an Atlas rocket between 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Tuesday.

The mission goes the full Pacific Ocean 80 miles southeast of Midway Island 34 hours 19 minutes before returning to Earth.

Cooper's space chariot of Midway Island 34 hours 19 minutes before returning to Earth.

Project Mercury officials primarily will seek medical data during the long-duration mission to determine if a man's ability to perform is impaired by prolonged exposure to space weightlessness.

Cooper will use other cameras to take movie and still photographs of stars, cloud formations, and features, zodiacal light and other space features.

FLIGHT PREP—Astronaut Gordon Cooper is helped into his space capsule at Cape Canaveral yesterday during simulated flight preparation as he readies for Tuesday's 22-orbit mission.

Doctors at each station will watch for any signs of stress which might dictate early termination of the flight.

As a means of preventing deterioration of muscle tone during the long weightless period, Cooper plans to exercise by pulling on a bungee cord—a giant stretchable rubberband-like device attached to the spacecraft floor between his feet.

The Air Force Major, 36, will eat regularly to maintain his strength. The menu includes bite-size tidbits and new dehydrated space foods which, when mixed with water, produce spaghetti, beef and gravy, chicken or lobster.

Cooper will rest periodically and plans to take a nap for eight hours from the ninth to the 15th orbits. If he oversleeps, a ground station in Australia will send a radio alarm signal to wake him.

DRAG EFFECT
The inflatable 30-inch balloon, to be ejected on a 100-foot line during the sixth orbit, is to determine drag effect at the orbital altitude 100 to 170 miles high and to check Cooper's ability to judge distances in space.

The flashing beacon satellite, which will trail the capsule in a slightly different orbit, also will be used in a distance-judging test aimed at developing techniques for space rendezvous.

A television camera aboard Faith 7 may give American home viewers their first look at one of their astronauts in orbit.

The camera is to beam pictures of the pilot during the capsule's 10 passes near Cape Canaveral and some photos will be converted to normal TV scan and fed as swiftly as possible into commercial networks.

Cooper will use other cameras to take movie and still photographs of stars, cloud formations, and features, zodiacal light and other space features.

Geiger counters and other measuring devices will chart the amount of radiation along the orbital path. Two high frequency radio communications tests are planned with the extendable antenna to test techniques for contacting the Gemini manned spacecraft, a future project.

The raft and shark repellent are among the survival gear Cooper will carry.

Nelson Eddy in Hospital With Mild Pneumonia

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP)—Singer-actor Nelson Eddy was hospitalized Thursday with what was diagnosed as pneumonia.

Eddy, 62, was booked into a nightclub in this Boston suburb for the week ending Sunday. The balance of the engagement was canceled.

A spokesman for the club said the illness is not considered serious.

Thomas 2-STORE SPECTACULAR

Trucks are beating a steady path to our door delivering the merchandise our buyers ordered at the recent Furniture Show in Chicago. Cheers for Goldwater, Support MAKE OVER RAGLEY

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater won the biggest round of applause Thursday night when Republican leaders gathered to honor him at a $1,000-a-plate dinner.

But many of those who cheered the Arizona said later in interviews that they thought the best vote-winner as the 1964 GOP presidential nominee would be Michigan's Gov. George Romney.

There was some talk of California's Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel for vice president.

Goldwater himself has indicated he doesn't think the "kingmakers" would stand for him as the 1964 standard bearer. And he told a newsman he's unhappy "because of all this pressure" on him to seek the nomination.

The off-stage consensus among some GOP leaders was that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York has grievously, if not irreparably, damaged his chances by his divorce and marriage to a divorcee.

At Thursday's night's affair, Goldwater, a 14-car conservative, was presented a silver coffee urn for his years of service as chairman of the GOP's Senatorial Campaign Committee.

NOT DECISIVE

The applause for him far surpassed that for anybody, including

Romney. But applause often is not decisive, and a tip-off came when Romney, a middle of the roader who plumps for a "citizens party," seemed allergic to having his picture taken in a twoosome with Goldwater.

In fact, Romney walked right out of camera focus. It was not until Kuchel, who has roundly denounced rightist extremists, appeared on the scene and struck a stance between the two men, that the picture taking could proceed.

As for Goldwater, he confessed to a reporter that he was both unhappy and happy.

Unhappy because of pressure on him to seek the residential nomination.

Happy because he is getting back the money he shelled out for last year's congressional campaign. It seems he bankrolled the GOP to the extent of $30,000 and the dinner, grossing more

Hoffa Charged With Attempt to Bribe Jurors

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Teamster in Trial for Conspiracy

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa today faced new charges—attempting to bribe jurors in his deadlocked federal court conspiracy trial here last year.

A five-count indictment returned by a special federal grand jury accused the labor leader with "aiding, commanding and inducing" efforts to influence two jurors and a prospective juror to vote for his acquittal.

In Philadelphia, Hoffa said he was not guilty and declined comment because he had not seen the indictment. He appeared before a U.S. commissioner and posted a $10,000 bond for a hearing next Monday.

Six other persons, most of them close friends or associates of Hoffa, also were indicted, and Justice Department attorneys indicated still more indictments might be forthcoming.

THE CHARGES

The grand jury charged the defendants offered $10,000 a prospective juror, a similar amount to the son of a juror and a "promotion" to a Tennessee highway patrolman whose wife was on the jury.

Hoffa, 50, who heads the nation's largest single union, was tried on charges he conspired to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting funds illegally from a Detroit transport firm in return for labor peace.

The trial, which began Oct. 22, ended Dec. 23, when U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller declared a mistrial, the jury having reported it was hopelessly deadlocked, 7 to 5, for acquittal.

In dismissing the jury, Miller said he was "frankly astonished at the history of attrition" during the trial and directed the U.S. attorney to launch an investigation.

NO COMMENT — Kenny Redwitz, 41, (left), and Melvin O. Springer, 45, learn they have been charged with abortion from County Prosecutor George Taylor. The accused declined to make any statements. Springer of 447

E. Montcalm is manager of Osmun's Town & Country men's shop at Tel-Huron shopping center. Redwitz' last known occupation was as a car dealer in Flint.

Police Set Elaborate Trap

Local Man, Pal Charged With Abortion

By DICK HANSON

A Pontiac store manager and a former-car dealer from Flint were charged with abortion yesterday by local authorities.

Melvin O. Springer, 45, of 447 E. Montcalm, and Kenny Redwitz, 41, of Flint, stood mute when arraigned before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace John E. McGrath.

Springer, manager of Osmun's Town & Country men's shop at Tel-Huron shopping center, was released on $5,000 bond.

Redwitz was sent to the county jail in lieu of $15,000 bond. Examination was set for Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. before McGrath.

On a tip from Detroit police, detectives from the Pontiac State Police Post, Waterford and Bloomfield Townships set an elaborate trap for Redwitz and Springer.

A Detroit policewoman, Frances Hendrick, 35, posing as a potential patient, contacted Springer at the store yesterday morning.

She was carrying a concealed walkie-talkie transmitting to a receiver and tape recorder in a nearby police car.

State police detective Robert Nigebauer said Springer contacted Redwitz and made the arrangements for an abortion at the Highlander Motel at Dixie Highway and Telegraph in Waterford Township.

Redwitz was handing Mrs. Hendricks a sedative at 10:30 a. m. when police closed in on the motel-room. Waterford Township detective Ernest Mann said.

According to Bloomfield Township police detective James Keller, Redwitz had surgical instruments laid out on the motel bed when they arrived.

Springer was arrested shortly after, while having breakfast at a restaurant.

He said he received no money for his part, stating he merely wanted to help women in trouble, according to detectives.

The officers said Redwitz charged a flat rate of $500 for each operation he performed.

WIDE OPERATION

They said they had reason to believe he was operating as far away as Colorado with a number of contact men strategically located, who would notify him through an answering service.

The detectives were carrying three "John Doe" warrants that could lead to further arrests in this area.

The tip came from Detroit police after they questioned a woman patient at Mount Carmel Hospital in Detroit, Nigebauer said.

"Springer told us he has referred about 12 women to Redwitz since he met him a year ago at a poker game," the detective added. "We know of at least three abortions he performed locally."

LONG RECORD

"Redwitz has a long record of convictions in other deals and Springer had been convicted three times for gambling," said Nigebauer.

Keller said Redwitz learned about abortions by reading a medical journal.

Neither Springer nor Redwitz would make any statement to County Prosecutor George Taylor yesterday.

Redwitz was out on bond for two other charges when arrested yesterday.

He is facing federal charges in Flint in connection with a furniture and appliances sales racket, and is appealing an auto-theft conviction.

Kennedy, Pearson Talk Today

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy and Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson meet today in an effort to patch up the deteriorating relations between the United States and Canada.

The two leaders plan two days of informal talks at this vacation resort on all outstanding problems between the two countries, including nuclear defense and trade.

Kennedy took off from Washington at 10:02 a. m. (Pontiac time) for the hour-long flight to Otis Air Force Base. Pearson was scheduled to arrive from Ottawa in a Canadian air force plane a few minutes later than Kennedy.

The two leaders were to spend most of today and Saturday reviewing the issues which have built up friction between the two countries during the past six years.

TALKS WITH MAC

Pearson has had similar talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in London, as part of his announced program of trying to restore Canada's prestige in world affairs.

The meeting between Kennedy and Pearson finds relations between the United States and Canada at the lowest point in years.

Former Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker was highly critical of the United States on many questions, and he ran in the recent election campaign on an anti-American platform.

The outstanding issue before Kennedy and Pearson is whether Canada will accept nuclear warheads for the Bomarc-B missiles on launching pads at two Canadian bases. Diefenbaker agreed in 1958 to accept nuclear weapons, but Canada and the United States never reached an agreement as to how the weapons would be controlled.

Spring Turmoil Hits Highways

Won't Believe Signs That Road Is Closed

"It happens every spring," says Sol D. Lomerson.

And he's not talking about baseball.

Lomerson is chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission and he was talking about the annual agony of adjustment to the road construction season.

"Some people just won't follow detours," Lomerson says. "We put up road closed signs and they drive right in, anyway," he continues. "Then they get mad when they get to the construction and can't go any further."

Other motorists refuse to believe the signs that a road really is closed, according to Bert Mercer, assistant chief engineer for the road commission.

"They drive around the barriers, knock them over and even smash them up sometimes. They

Race Leaders Close to Plan for Integration

Birmingham Streets Are Quiet; Meeting Set Later in Day

From Our News Wires BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — A "last time" deadline for new civil rights demonstrations passed quietly today while Negro and white leaders tried to agree on a four-point desegregation program.

"Things are about worked out but there are still some minute problems to be dealt with," integration leader Martin Luther King Jr. said late last night. He denied reports that all Negro demands had been met.

King had set 10 a. m. (Pontiac time) today for new Negro demonstrations — which have sent more than 2,500 participants to jail in a month of racial strife — if the demands had not been met.

But the hour passed quietly. Only a few Negroes were on the streets. A park around which many of the demonstrations have raged was deserted. A mass meeting was set for later in the day at the 16th Street Baptist Church.

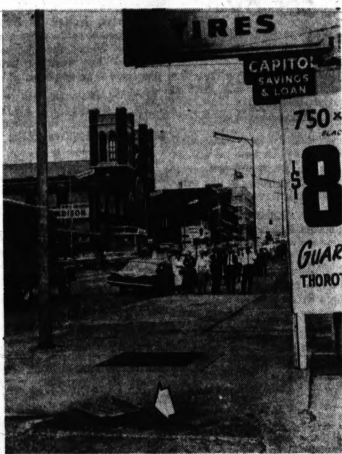

King said last night that an agreement virtually had been worked out except for minor details. A series of statements and counterstatements followed.

City officials immediately said any agreement worked out by a biracial committee was not binding on them. The committee, composed of business and civic leaders, has no official status.

The stumbling block in the settlement was a demand for the release of 600 to 800 jailed Negroes.

Tied to that was the question of dealing with the suspensions

Circuit Breaker Blast Turns Off Electricity

The failure of a Consumers Power Co. circuit breaker in an underground vault at the southeast corner of Huron and Cass, halted electrical service from 20 minutes to 1 1/2 hours yesterday afternoon.

Affected were some 26 commercial establishments, including The Pontiac Press, and homeowners west on Huron connected to the transformer.

The first of two blasts occurred at 2:45 p. m. Flames shot up through a grating above the vault containing the circuit breaker, blackening a tire sign 15 feet above the sidewalk.

The second blast lifted a small grating out of place.

Fire engines and around a dozen spectators stood by as Consumers Power Co. engineers performed the necessary rewiring to restore service.

Consumers divisional manager Charles Brown said the cause of the malfunctioning of the breaker is still undetermined.

By 6:50 a. m. today, engineers had isolated the faulty switch and replaced it with a new one.

Brown noted that a new transformer scheduled for this area will have automatic throwover facilities, eliminating this sort of problem.

Tornado Alert Called Off

A tornado forecast greeted Pontiac area residents as they awoke this morning. But the alert was called off during the rain of mid-morning.

The U.S. Weather Bureau is issued the all-clear at 10:20 a. m. A Lower Michigan area south of the line from Grand Haven to Pontiac had been under the severe weather forecast which was expected to last until 10:30 a. m.

The bureau predicts tonight and Saturday will be partly cloudy and cool with temperatures dropping to 50 tonight and rising to near 64 tomorrow.

Temperatures will be warmer Sunday, and the high for the next five days will average 6 degrees above the normal high of 68 and normal low of 47.

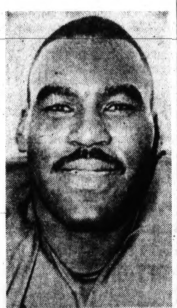

Rainfall will total about one inch in showers again the first of the week.

NO DAMAGE

During the last 24 hours, 1.2 inches in showers fell on downtown Pontiac. Lightning crackled across the sky a few times in last night's rain but no damage was reported.

Some 250 guests were driven out of Stouffer's Northland Inn in suburban Southfield today after water poured into the basement of the inn from Northwestern Highway, flooded by a series of severe thunderstorms.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a. m. was 50. The mercury reading at 1 p. m. was 62.

Convict Gets New Trial for Murder

LANSING (AP) — A one-time Marine serving life in prison in one of Detroit's most sensational murder cases has won his appeal for a new trial.

The Michigan Supreme Court, in an unanimous ruling, yesterday overturned the conviction of Ralph Ray Hunter, who has served 14 years in the 1950 sentence — slaying of Elmer Jones, 72, of Detroit.

The court held that Detroit Recorder's Judge Joseph Gillis erred in telling jurors they could discuss evidence in the course of the trial and by including a prosecutor's request for instructions on self-defense as a legal defense in his charge to the jury.

Hunter's case is the third murder conviction reversed by the high court in recent months.

The convicted man, 35 at the time of the trial, claimed he beat Jones with the latter's pistol during a struggle in the older man's home.

The state was its argument that the slaying was the result of a robbery plan involving Hunter, James Sechetti and Evelyn Earl, Hunter's girl friend, who knew Jones.

The robbery netted $38 and a diamond ring.

Sechetti, who contended he was not present at the killing, also was convicted of first-degree murder and sentenced to life. He died at Northern Michigan Prison, Marquette, in 1961.

The woman, who claimed she was involved because Hunter had threatened to kill her, was acquitted in the sensational two-week trial.

Hunter's appeal for a new trial, on grounds that Judge Gillis' charge to the jury deprived him of jury consideration of his plan of self-defense, was turned down by Gillis in 1960.

Newsprint May Solve Grain Surplus
 By DICK WEST
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—Each morning when I sit down at the breakfast table, I eat a bowl of wheat flakes and read a newspaper.
 In all the years I have been doing this, it never occurred to me that I might some day be reading the wheat flakes and eating the newspaper.
 My mind simply doesn't run in those channels, particularly at such an early hour. But the mind of a congressman does.
 I call your attention to a recent exchange of letters between Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., and Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman.
 "I have been saving, for the past three weeks, all of the printed material coming from the various departments... as well as the volumes of reports from the government agencies of all kinds," Dent told Freeman.
 More reports are printed than anyone could possibly read through, let alone read, he noted. In addition, Congress consumes a great deal of paper, as do the daily newspapers, he said.
 The contemplation of all that paper gave Dent an idea. He suggested to Freeman that the vast amount of printed material might hold the key to solution of the surplus grain problem.
 Since the Japanese make paper from rice, and Latin Americans make paper from sugar cane, it might be feasible for us to make paper from wheat and other grains, Dent said.
 READ SURPLUS GRAINS
 In other words, the surplus reports would be printed on the surplus grain. Or, as Dent put it, "If we can't eat our surplus food grains, we may be able to read them."
 He offered to introduce legislation setting up a study program if Freeman thought the proposal had merit.
 In reply, the secretary informed Dent that the department already was doing research along those lines and was "making good progress in several directions."
 "This country uses around 35 million tons of paper products each year, and to supply even a part of this market would provide a substantial outlet for grain," Freeman said.
 Maybe so, but I fear such a program would cause complications of the sort that Dent and Freeman apparently have overlooked.
 Most newsprint and paper stock used in this country is made from woodpulp. If we started using paper made from grain, what would that do to the timber industry?
 I'll tell you what it would do. It likely would create a surplus of woodpulp.
WOODPULP CEREAL
 Then, the next local step would be for the timber industry to undertake a research program to find a way to use woodpulp for a breakfast cereal.
 That, in turn, would create another grain surplus, and a lot more government reports.

Spring Threat of Fire Plaguing North State

LANSING (AP) — Although the spring threat of fire has passed its most dangerous point in southern Michigan, the Conservation Department still regards northern Michigan conditions as "highly dangerous" because cold weather has held off the period when vegetation usually becomes green.

Some 3,415 acres already have burned this year in Northern Michigan, the department said.

Avoid Skippy Plants

To make plants grow bushier and to avoid a skippy stringlike effect, pinch back the tips of branches occasionally. This will encourage the development of side branches, which can be pinched back in turn when they have reached a foot or two in length.

Amaryllis bulbs produce large trumpet-shaped blooms. Cold-sider — the top, the part above the soil, and the root system, which is usually invisible, but always just as important.

Good Gardener Knows Plants

The experienced gardener knows that when he buys a plant he has two things to consider — the top, the part above the soil, and the root system, which is usually invisible, but always just as important.

The inexperienced gardener is very likely to go by the top alone, giving little thought to the root system, or how it is going to fare from the time he picks up the plant at the florist's, nursery, or garden center, until it is actually planted in his own garden.

Until quite recently, almost all plants of annuals and vegetables were grown in flats or in clay pots. If in the latter, the root ball was knocked out, wrapped (perhaps) in newspaper, but in any case leaving the mass of feeding roots exposed to severe damage.

Plants from flats, unless the purchaser took an entire flat, fared even worse.

PEAT POT

The advent of the peat pot — the balls of which plant roots readily penetrate, and which is planted pot-and-all, has, in recent years, almost entirely done away with clay pots for individual plants grown for sale.

Now modern science and ingenuity have found an equally satisfactory substitute to take the place of the old-fashioned wood flat or box for bedding plants, such as petunias and marigolds, and for such vegetables as tomatoes, cabbage and lettuce.

This very efficient new aid to gardeners is known as the Jiffy-Strip. It consists of a dozen square Jiffy-Pots fastened together at the rims so that they may be handled as a unit.

Each strip is placed in a light plastic container. These containers are helpful in three ways; they enable the grower to produce real pot-grown plants at much less expense than he formerly could, and this saving is passed on to the consumer.

They enable the purchaser to keep his plants in perfect condition for days — or even for two or three weeks if necessary — after he gets them, if he cannot set them out at once because of adverse weather or other conditions.

And last but not least, there will be no transplanting shock when he does set them out. Standing up straight and strong, they will go right on growing from the first day, even if they have begun to bloom.

The usual wilting, necessity for temporary shading, and several days to a week's recovery period become merely memories of the past!

Spring Plants Require Care

Proper care of spring potted plants will extend their blooming period and increase your enjoyment of them," says the Society of American Florists.

Hydrangeas are thirsty plants which may need watering every day, even twice a day in a dry atmosphere. Water Easter lily plants every other day and, as new buds unfold, remove the yellow anthers carefully.

Keep hyacinths, tulips, and other potted bulb plants in a cool, light location and water them when the soil starts to dry out. For best results, keep the soil of azaleas uniformly moist. If the soil becomes dry, submerge the pot in water until the topsoil is wet again.

Curve spring flowers — such as snapdragons, iris, delphiniums, and even pussy willows — to achieve a wider range of design in arranging flowers, suggests the Society of American Florists.

Pussy willows may be curved by grasping the stem and firmly with thumbs underneath, fingers on top. Curve over the thumbs, gently softening fibers with both thumbs. Continue doing this to the tip, working between catkins.

To curve snapdragons, first insert heavy florists wire into the pithy stem at the base of the plant. Then carefully curve the stem as with a pussy willow.

State OKs Request for Gas Extensions

LANSING (AP) — Consumers Power Co. has been given approval by the Michigan Public Service Commission to extend its gas transmission facilities in the state.

Planned projects include more than three miles of pipeline in Clinton County to bring more gas to Lansing, and 18 miles of pipeline from Warren Township in Midland County to the cities of Beaverton and Gladwin. The combined cost will total some $537,000.

In addition, gas supplies will be expanded to Tuscola and Huron counties by four additional miles of pipeline in Saginaw County.

U. S., Soviets Renew Talk on 'Hot Line'

GENEVA (AP) — Telecommunications experts from the United States and the Soviet Union met for the second time Thursday to continue their technical discussions of the proposed "hot line" between Washington and the Kremlin.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C.

Stelle and the Soviet's Semyon K. Tsarapkin took part in the closed meeting, together with experts of both sides.

Both sides have agreed to keep details of the negotiations under close secrecy and a delegation sources declined all comment.

"We just gave our lawn its second feeding... and that took care of weeds automatically!"

That's the beauty of BONUS,—it saves you time and trouble — and cash!

When you're doing the right thing by your lawn — you're doing a favor, too. When you're giving it the "second feeding" (due about now) take care of weeds at the same time, simply by using BONUS in place of your usual fertilizer.

If you skipped the early Spring feeding

All the more reason for using BONUS now — without delay! First there are the weeds you can plainly see, like dandelions. And then there may be many others, hidden by the grass, simply waiting for warmer weather before growing aggressively. BONUS clears them out the easy way.

Dandelions vanish—grass grows greener

Simply pour a bag of BONUS into your Scotts Spreader and walk it around. One day you'll suddenly realize that every dandelion has vanished — and that your grass is greener, richer, lovelier.

This takes less time than doing both jobs separately — and costs you less than ½¢ per sq. ft. So you're ahead, any way you figure.

If you want to see the dramatic effectiveness of BONUS, leave one spreader width of your lawn untreated. Then in a month's time compare it with the rest. You'll wish it looked like the rest of your lawn.

Got a lawn problem?

Take it to your Scotts Dealer. Look up his Scotts Counselor. You'll find him ready, willing and able to give you practical, helpful advice. Got a weed you can't identify? Dig it up and take it in to him. And don't be backward about asking for help. So many of the nicest lawns are Scotts lawns, not only because of good products but because they are distributed by dealers who back them with sound advice and guidance.

This week end

Teeing Off

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

June has become the money-month of golf.

The "take" for June 1963 for the pros will total nearly $425,000. Compare this to the entire golf season of 1951 when the touring pros played for a total of $415,000.

Starting with the 500 Festival tournament which ends June 3rd, the pot is $55,000.

Next in line is the Buick Open with $50,000 in prize money and another $32,500 in feature prizes for-hole in one shooting.

The Thunderbird classic June 13-16 at Rye, N.Y. is now a $100,000 tournament, followed by the USGA Open at Country Club of Brookline, Mass., with a pot of $86,000, June 20-22.

The Cleveland Open at Beechmont CC has a purse of $110,000, June 27-30.

Interesting fact is that in each event a net profit is certain because of advance ticket sales and comparable figures of last year.

The Thunderbird which uses its proceeds for charity expects $100,000 to be raised for the United Hospital of Port Chester, N. Y., and the Cleveland Open expects to raise $100,000 for the Cleveland Press Helping Hand Charity Fund.

The 500 Festival has sold $77,000 worth of advance tickets compared to the loss of $4,000 it took the first year in 1960.

It must be significant that the golf fans are turning out to watch the pros.

Celebration of the Pontiac Motor night shift league at Pontiac Country Club was led by Ralph McAnelly who scored the first hole in one of his career this week by aing the 135 yard 8th hole using a 5 iron against the wind.

Playing with him were Ben Baymer, Clyde Wiener and Lloyd Strong. He had a 46 for the nine.

OFFICIAL ACE

If you don't succeed at making a hole in one, it will take a lot more than just trying it again once more. It may take a lifetime of tee shots.

G. H. (Bob) Otto, past club president at Plum Hollow can now call the hole in one he had on the 165 yard 14th hole as official this week. He used a 5-iron while playing with C. Burgstahler, C. B. Turner and L. A. Smith, all Plum Hollow members.

Otto has been playing golf for 25 years, and a few years ago he had a hole in one but it didn't count as such. Playing with pro Bill Uzelac, he had a bad tee shot and angrily said to Uzelac "I can do better than that."

He did. His second shot went directly into the hole. This week's ace was official and he had an 85 for the round.

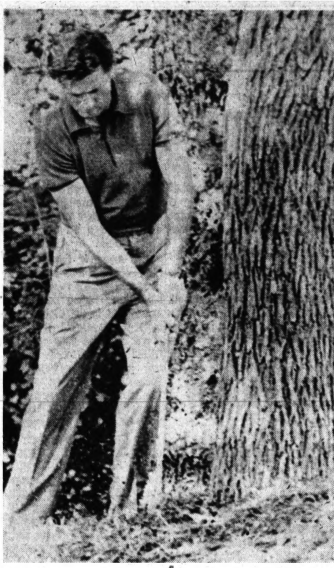

GRAMS POPULAR

The Michigan Seniors' Golf association is becoming so popular that it necessitates using two courses this season.

Play will be at Black River and Port Huron country clubs in Port Huron, June 10-12, according to F. L. Riggins, tournament chairman.

C. J. Farley who won the first Michigan Seniors' tournament in 1944 and repeated in 1945-46-47-48 and 49 finally won it again last year at Grand Rapids.

Entry deadline for the National Public to be held June 17 is 5:00 p.m. May 29th. Roy Iceberg is taking entries at MI 4-7878. Deadline for the Michigan Amateur to be played at Charlevoix, June 26-30, is June 16 to be made at the Golf Association of Michigan, Book Bldg., Detroit.

'WOOD' TROUBLE — Doug Sanders was having trouble in the woods with his irons in the Colonial Invitational golf tournament at Fort Worth Texas yesterday, but despite this shot which went into the creek, he still wound up 3-under par 67 to lead the first round. He had to play another ball from the same spot.

Hot Putter Helps Sanders Gain Lead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Petterson Doug Sanders, brandishing a blazing putter, carried a one-shot lead into the second round of the $50,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament today.

The easy-going Georgian with the unorthodox swing whittled three strokes from the grudging Colonial Course Thursday during an afternoon marked by the disqualification of Don January.

January, who was invited to the tournament only after a lengthy PGA-Colonial controversy, played the wrong ball on the eighth hole and was forced to withdraw when he discovered his error.

Sanders' 67 gave him a one-shot lead over Bill Collins of Grossinger, N.Y.

Seeking to regain the title he won here in 1961, Sanders one-putted 12 greens.

A wind-whipped approach shot at the final green landed in the lake and it took a miraculous recovery to salvage a bogey and preserve his lead.

Sanders used only 24 putts, which was bettered only once this year, by Julius Boros in the second round of the Masters.

Collins, who said he putted poorly "but no worse than usual," tied together a 35-33 for his 68 that gained a big boost at the sixth hole where he chipped in for a birdie on 62 feet away.

Little Jerry Barber and burly Bob Rosburg were the only other pros to dent the sprawling 7,021-yard layout's regulation 70, each registering 68.

Each posted a 34-35 over the course which played a little longer than usual because of heavy rains in the past two weeks.

Packed in a six-way tie for fifth with 71s were current whiz Jack Nicklaus, Bruce Crampton, Gardner Dickinson Jr., Phil Rodgers, Tony Lema and Julius Boros.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer, a three-time winner of this year, started with a birdie on the first hole but steadily gave way to par and wound up in a crowded group of 74 shooters.

First round results: Sanders 67, Collins 68, January 69, Boros 69, Nicklaus 69, Crampton 69, Dickinson 69, Rodgers 69, Lema 69, Palmer 70, Boros 70, Nicklaus 70, Crampton 70, Dickinson 70, Rodgers 70, Lema 70, Palmer 71, Boros 71, Nicklaus 71, Crampton 71, Dickinson 71, Rodgers 71, Lema 71, Palmer 72, Boros 72, Nicklaus 72, Crampton 72, Dickinson 72, Rodgers 72, Lema 72, Palmer 73, Boros 73, Nicklaus 73, Crampton 73, Dickinson 73, Rodgers 73, Lema 73, Palmer 74, Boros 74, Nicklaus 74, Crampton 74, Dickinson 74, Rodgers 74, Lema 74, Palmer 75, Boros 75, Nicklaus 75, Crampton 75, Dickinson 75, Rodgers 75, Lema 75, Palmer 76, Boros 76, Nicklaus 76, Crampton 76, Dickinson 76, Rodgers 76, Lema 76, Palmer 77, Boros 77, Nicklaus 77, Crampton 77, Dickinson 77, Rodgers 77, Lema 77, Palmer 78, Boros 78, Nicklaus 78, Crampton 78, Dickinson 78, Rodgers 78, Lema 78, Palmer 79, Boros 79, Nicklaus 79, Crampton 79, Dickinson 79, Rodgers 79, Lema 79, Palmer 80, Boros 80, Nicklaus 80, Crampton 80, Dickinson 80, Rodgers 80, Lema 80, Palmer 81, Boros 81, Nicklaus 81, Crampton 81, Dickinson 81, Rodgers 81, Lema 81, Palmer 82, Boros 82, Nicklaus 82, Crampton 82, Dickinson 82, Rodgers 82, Lema 82, Palmer 83, Boros 83, Nicklaus 83, Crampton 83, Dickinson 83, Rodgers 83, Lema 83, Palmer 84, Boros

Business Notes

John C. Haro, of 837 Shepherd, Birmingham, has been named a vice president of the new firm, Haro Kahn Associates Architects and Engineers, Inc., which was announced today.

HARO, who has been in the design of several buildings, including the new National Bank of Detroit building, is expected to be in charge of the firm's operations.

Both wheat and soybeans declined markedly in price during the first several minutes of trading today.

Grain Futures Hit by Profit Cashing

CHICAGO (AP)—Profit cashing started the grain futures market off on a weaker trend today in fairly active dealings on the board of trade.

Both wheat and soybeans declined markedly in price during the first several minutes of trading today.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatrick will be questioned by Senate investigators about his legal work for the two final competitors for the controversial TFX contract, Sen. Karl E. Mundt, said today.

The South Dakota lawmaker is the top-ranking Republican member of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which has been studying the Pentagon's contract award on the supersonic fighter plane.

Yesterday the subcommittee heard that the law firm to which Gilpatrick belonged got fees totaling $300,000 in six years from General Dynamics Corp., which won the contract.

Gilpatrick worked for the New York firm of Cravath, Swaine and Moore.

Gilpatrick had told Mundt that he did legal work for the law firm, Boeing, as well. Mundt, however, has been advised that Gilpatrick's work for Boeing was to serve as witness under a subpoena.

At a Tuesday news conference, Gilpatrick repeated a previous statement that he was leaving the Defense Department this summer to return to his law firm.

When asked about past fees from General Dynamics, he said: "I don't think it is useful for me to go into the gross income of my firm, which was a firm of 138 attorneys, 30 partners and millions of dollars of gross business."

"The portion that the General Dynamics fees contributed to my firm's business was very small, fractional."

"My own part of my time on General Dynamics work was only a fraction of all the work I did in the law business for many other companies."
