President Signs Civil Rights Bill

Permits U.S. to Enforce Freedom to Vote With Court Injunctions

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law the history-making civil rights bill empowering the federal government to enforce the right to vote with court injunctions.

The President put his signature to the bill—the first such legislation in 80 years—at his desk at his vacation headquarters here at 8:10 a.m.

Eisenhower's action came against the background of the school integration crisis in Little Rock, Ark. but the measure—primary the right-to-vote bill—has no direct bearing on that dispute.

It repeals a post-Civil War era law authorizing the President to use troops to enforce court orders in civil rights cases. But administration officials obviously feel Eisenhower has other powers.

The civil rights bill was passed by Congress a day before it adjourned Aug. 30, after the historic struggle lasting through the 1957 session.

Passage of the measure was the major action of the session. It also was a significant victory for the President even though his original proposals were rewritten by the Democratic-controlled Congress to remove or soften some of the far-ranging provisions.

★ ★ ★

Aside from the broad new powers to enforce voting rights, the bill would:

Establish a six-member presidential commission to make a two year study in the civil rights field.

★ ★ ★

Provide for a new assistant attorney general to head and strengthen the civil rights division in the Justice Department.

★ ★ ★

Press Theater Special Reports:

Not a Care; Perfect Flight

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

ABOARD THE THEATER SPECIAL—There's not a soul up here with a care in the world—with the exception of the pilot (we hope).

The roar of the four mighty engines, pushing us toward New York City, is serving as a perfect tonic for many sleepy-eyed travelers aboard this luxurious United Air Lines DC-6. We're at 15,000 feet floating through the rays of an early morning sun. A bump hasn't jarred a soul.

Somewhere 15 minutes ahead of us is United Flight 122 carrying the rest of the junketing Pontiac Press Theater Special travelers toward a rendezvous with fun, gaiety, and entertainment.

All the cares and worries of a usual dismal Monday at the office or in the home have been left behind. Throughout this plane the most overworked question is, "What are you planning to do after the theater tonight?"

★ ★ ★

And tonight is one that couldn't kick-off the five-day excursion to Manhattan with a bigger thrill. That long awaited dream of seeing Rex Harrison and Julie Andrews in "My Fair Lady" will come true. Other playgoers will see the hilarious comedy "A Visit to A Small Planet."

CORSAGES FOR LADIES

All the ladies among the 154 will be sporting a beautiful carnation corsage, presented during an evening "get acquainted" buffet at Billy Rose's old Diamond Horseshoe.

★ ★ ★

For most of us, the trip ahead has drowned out the torture of hearing the alarm rattle off at 5 a.m. Many are now making up on the lost shut eye. The rest are apparently too excited to close an eye. They're afraid they will miss something.

★ ★ ★

The Press Gang—as some have called the group—climbed aboard Greyhound buses in front of The Press building in downtown Pontiac at 7 a.m. It was off to Willow Run. On the way down Telegraph men and women scanned other

Stevenson Says 'NO'

Maine Deciding About Changing Early Election

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Maine will decide at the polls today whether to continue the state's famed early election or conform with the rest of the nation.

The question of whether to keep the present election date of the second Monday in September or change it to the November election date prevalent elsewhere is one of the five questions facing the voters.

Proponents of a November election say two elections are expensive and cut the turnout of voters. Those who want to retain September say the date divorces state and national issues, avoiding confusion and is an invaluable source of free publicity.

The September voting date, giving rise to the state's boast that "As Maine goes, so goes the nation," originally was chosen because it came at a convenient time for farmers—between early and late harvests.

Kiplinger Forecasts:

No Deep Depression With New Boom in 60s

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Current fears of a serious recession are not warranted, according to a special report by the Kiplinger organization. A period of "normal progress" for the next five or six years is predicted by the Washington business reporting form.

Any letdown or slump will be temporary, the editors say, a pause—not a deep slump or depression.

Then, in five or six years, a new boom will set off "the greatest era of economic growth this country has ever known". Underlying the new boom are these facts:

Population: Extra high birth rates in the '40's and '50's will produce a population bulge in the '60's and '70's of young men and women marrying or ready to marry. Marriages make homes, homes make business.

New products, new ideas: Technical, scientific and mechanical developments of the past few years are being rushed into use, producing a crop of new products.

Government policy: Both parties and all political groups are bullish, committed to full employment and an economy going at full speed, with the government an active partner.

MORE INFLATION

The bad news is that more inflation will accompany the boom, according to the Kiplinger report. Prices will go higher — in ten years, 15 per cent higher, in 25 years, 50 per cent higher.

Behind the inflation are three major forces, pushing hard: :

Wages rising faster than productivity: A continuous push for higher wages can be expected, causing higher prices and then demand for more wages to cover increased living costs.

World-wide pressure on prices: Demand for goods everywhere else in the world is greater than the supply. Prices are going up in all countries and they affect our economy, too.

Government spending: No matter what men of either party say the pressure is to expand public spending, so deficits may pledge budgets in the future. Public pressure continues to be for big spending, regardless of inflation that comes in its wake.

Not all states and localities will share equally in the growth of the next 25 years, the Kiplinger report points out. The biggest single area of growth is the "heartland" area from Pittsburgh to Chicago.

Next in growth comes the Atlantic seaboard, New York to Baltimore. Then spectacular California, heading toward beating New York as number one state in population. Then Texas, then Florida, which is gaining at the highest rate of any large state.

BUSINESS GAINS SPOTLIGHTED

The new boom of the 60's will bring an upsurge in housing, accompanied by further suburban growth, increased land prices, more luxury. homes.

New business will increase. All the talk about small business being doomed is "a lot of bunk," according to the editors.

Service lines will grow fast; retailing, repair, maintenance, banking, real estate, insurance, as well as recreation, travel and vacation-connected businesses.

NO TAX RELIEF—INCOMES UP

Along with the boom and inflation will come a steep rise in incomes, until family spending doubles its present level in the 80's. Even with discounts for inflation and higher prices, there will be more family spending.

★ ★ ★

Lower income groups will decrease in number, as families move up the income scale—more middle and upper income families. And there will be increasing number of rich families of varying grades, a continuation of past and present trends.

Taxes will not decrease. Though federal taxes may be cut, state and local taxes will rise at a faster rate, so total tax bill will stay high.

NO BIG WAR

Total defense spending will gradually decline, perhaps to 30 billions instead of present 40 billions. First small steps toward disarmament may take five to 10 years, but total disarmament is not in the picture.

As for war, the Kiplinger organization forecasts there will be no big war. Small wars may threaten and come and go, but no world conflict is likely, the report concludes.

Steal $21,500, Rings in Minister's Home

DETROIT (AP) — Thieves who took $21,500 in cash and four diamond rings valued at $1,000 from the home of a Detroit preacher were the objects today of a widespread police search.

St. Joseph Hospital Begins New Building

Construction of a new powerhouse and laundry building will begin today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Ground breaking ceremonies on the nine-month project are scheduled for 4 p.m.

The addition will be located immediately to the rear of the west wing of the hospital and is expected to cost approximately $650,000, according to Sister Mary William, hospital administrator.

She stressed that the new building was urgently needed as the present two boilers, installed in 1927, often had broken down, endangering continuing operation of the hospital.

The one-story addition will be partially financed by a $198,000 grant received last year from the Ford Foundation, said Sister Mary William. The hospital expects to borrow the rest of the money through the Detroit Province of the Sisters of Mercy, she said.

Lifting today's first shovelful of earth will be Father Michael O'Reilly, pastor of St. Michael's Church. Mayor William W. Donaldson, City Manager Walter K. Willman and Dr. Robert Wessels, St. Joseph Chief of Staff, are scheduled for brief remarks.

The new addition will consist of two sections. One, the furthest to the west, will house a large boiler, capable of serving a proposed wing at the hospital and a smaller temporary one.

The second section will house 40 beds until it is converted into the new laundry section upon completion of the new wing. The two sections will be partitioned off.

Sister Mary William said the hospital still hoped to go ahead with plans for the wing, expected to boost the present 310-bed capacity to 500, when funds are secured.

The new building will provide the heat for the hospital and the steam necessary for sterilization of equipment and laundry service.

Violence Flares at School North of Little Rock

Gov. Faubus Continues His Armed Defiance of U.S. Government

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — A shouting, jeering crowd of white students and adults today twice turned back a group of Negroes who attempted to enter a high school at North Little Rock, two miles from the scene of the Southland's biggest integration crisis.

In Little Rock itself, Gov. Orval Faubus continued his armed defiance of the federal government, standing firm on his declaration that the "only alternative" to a continuation of the historic federal-state controversy is for President Eisenhower and the federal government to back down.

None of the nine Negroes ordered admitted to the all-white Little Rock Central High School showed up today and a spokesman for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said they will stay away until assured of "protection."

Although National Guardsmen were posted again today at Central High School and Gov. Faubus' mansion, there were veiled indications that the end of the bitter dispute might be in sight.

The announcement that the nine Negroes would not try to pierce the guardsman ring around Central High School came from Mrs. L. C. Bates, Arkansas conference presi-

Nashville Police Escort Negroes

Integrated First Grades Start Classes; Picketing Parents Finally Give Up

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Police escorted Negro pupils through lines of threatening whites at Glenn Grammar School in northeast Nashville today as city schools opened with white and Negro first graders going to integrated classes for the first time in this Southern city.

The whites, with prosegregationists maintaining picket lines before the school, tried to block entry of the Negro pupils and their parents.

The irate white parents surrounded police standing guard at the school and there was a heated exchange.

Angry shouts went up from the crowd of about 200 whites as police escorted the Negroes into the school.

There were such shouts as "You're putting out the red carpet for them" and "You are backing the colored and not taking up for the whites."

What is "football weather?" Do people really feel better in the fall, when football is played?

There is such a thing as football weather, not because of football but because of the time of the year football is played in the United States.

This sport comes when high pressure systems begin to push down from the north with greater regularity, bringing with them cold, dry air. It is the beginning of the trend toward winter, and there is less rain in the fall than in summer.

Since high pressure usually makes people feel good (low pressure sometimes has a depressing effect), this—combined with cooler weather, and resulting invigoration—combines to produce an energetic feeling, or that "football weather" in the fall when appetite and energy seem to return after a hot summer.

The Bureau of Public Roads estimates that one worker in seven in this country has work directly connected with highways and motor transportation.

New Miss America Plans Musical Career, Marriage

The 21-year-old blonde, green-eyed beauty from Denver, Colo., told newsmen at a breakfast press conference on the beach yesterday that:

Her main interest is completing her college education in music, and she plans to use the $5,000 scholarship that goes with the title toward that goal.

★ ★ ★

She'd like to work in music or on the stage for a year or two after college and hopes to get married, when she's 24. After marriage, she wants to continue her work in music.

She likes to swim, train and ride horses, ski, and adores tailored clothes. Her favorite colors are green and blue.

She has no steady boy friend, thinks singer Perry Como is tops, admires singer Jane Froman and likes steaks medium-rare.

She admits to having been a "brat" as a child and said she used to spy on a sister's parties. She thinks the father should be the head of the family.

As might be expected, Miss Van Derbur thinks the Miss America pageant offers wonderful opportunities to a girl.

The dimpled beauty queen, who stands 5 feet 8¼, weighs 130 pounds and measures 35-25-36, was crowned Saturday night by the outgoing Miss America, Marian Ann McKnight of Manning, S. C., before a nationwide television audience and a crowd of 20,000 in Convention Hall.

Although she got only an hour's sleep after the Coronation ball, she looked fresh and radiant as she greeted newsmen and photographers the following morning.

"I feel wonderful," she said.

Immediately after the press conference, she was whisked off to New York City to start her reign.

The new beauty queen, a University of Colorado junior who had her debut last year, has three sisters.

Her father Francis S. Van Derbur owns a group of mortuaries and runs an insurance business in Denver.

First runner-up in the contest was Miss Georgia, Jody Elizabeth Shattuck. The 20-year-old blue-eyed blonde from Atlanta won a $3,000 scholarship.

Third was Miss Oklahoma, Mary Nancy Denner, 21, Alva, who won a $2,500 scholarship, followed by Miss California, Lorna M. Anderson, 18, Sacramento, and Miss Florida, Dorothy Maria Steiner, 20, Boca Raton, both of whom won $2,000 scholarships.

In addition to her $5,000 scholarship, Miss America's other prizes include $5,000 in cash, an estimated $50,000 to $75,000 from personal appearances during the year of her reign and the chance to travel about 150,000 miles, including three trips to Europe.

Press Theater Tour Under Way Today

badges worn by all to see who was joining them on this extravaganza.

The excursionists checked in with members of The Press staff and received an envelope of theater tickets and their plane tickets. Everybody had just one thought in mind—the fun ahead in the Big City.

For some it is the first time. They were being teased by the more seasoned New York visitors with statements which usually began, "You must do . . . ," and "By all means don't miss . . . "

After we all checked in at a special United Air Lines desk we awaited the call "Flight 504, Pontiac Press Special to New York, now boarding at Gate 18, South Concourse."

Not long after we were in the air and the "fasten seat belts" and "no smoking" signs went off, stewardesses began serving breakfast.

About this time many were telling their neighbors, "Just call me Mary and forget the Mrs." Most reading material consisted of the morning newspaper, magazines purchased at the Willow Run stands, and most popular, a packet of brochures on the merits of the sights of New York.

One lady I visited was one step ahead of the Press staff making the trip and was adding to our itinerary. "I've done this so I won't miss a thing like China Town, The Bowery, Central Park or Governors Island," she said.

One rabid baseball fan planned on taking in a New York Giant game if they are in town. "I'll never see them when they go West," he told his drowsy companion.

Amongst the ladies (and some gentlemen I might add) passed the puzzling thought whether they had packed the right clothes for the weather ahead. And of course, typical of any trip, there were those who had left something behind.

The Big City is now not far off. Things are beginning to buzz again in the cabin. "It's really too joyous a time to waste it sleeping," my seat companion leans over to tell me. With this no one would disagree.

Troubles to Greet Mailman Today; 19 Boxes Downed

Mailmen are usually friendly gents with complete control of their faculties, but whoever handles the route along Heights road near Square Lake road, in Orion Township, is in for a bewildering experience today.

Saturday afternoon, Edward J. Snow, of Detroit, was driving a big moving van west on Heights road when he swerved to the left to avoid low hanging trees, he told Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Suddenly the load in his truck shifted, throwing the vehicle out of control to the right. Before he could stop the truck, he had literally mowed down 19 mail boxes.

Boy Shot as Bullet Explodes in Bonfire

A Commerce Township youth was injured Saturday evening when a bullett exploded nearby, hitting him in the stomach, according to Oakland County Sheriff's reports.

Michael Hinchman, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hinchman, of 2317 Benstein Rd., was playing by a bonfire near his home. The fire caused a bullet to explode, hitting the boy.

He is reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac Osteopahic Hospital today.

Ypsilanti Police Find 2 Bodies in Parking Lot

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — The bodies of a man and a woman were found shot to death in a car in the parking lot of a manufacturing plant here Saturday.

Ypsilanti police said the man apparently shot the woman and then turned the gun on himself.

Police identified the man tentatively as Lennie Simpson of Ypsilanti. They could not identify the woman immediately.

dent of the NAACP, who told International News Service:

"The children will not try to enter the school until they are assured of protection."

There were no National Guardsmen at North Little Rock School. The Negroes who tried to enter were escorted away by city police.

The North Little Rock School is not under any Federal court order to integrate classes. The school board there has said it will not admit Negroes, however.

'NO ALTERNATIVE'

Gov. Faubus, in the interview on "Open Hearing" program yesterday, said he could "see no alternative" but for the Federal government to yield in the present stalemate. He emphasized that he himself could not retreat and "preserve the peace."

When asked what could happen if Federal agents tried to lead the Negro children into the school through the militia and whether someone might be shot, the governor replied:

"I sincerely hope no one is shot and that violence or bodily harm comes to no one . . . (but) these are eventualities . . ."

At North Little Rock, the six Negroes made two attempts to enter.

After they were shoved and pushed away from the building on their first try, the school superintendent, F. B. Wright, walked out of the building and gestured for the Negroes to follow him into the school.

Once again they climbed the steps. Reinforcements flocked to the white students. Five adults joined them.

One adult, identifying himself as L. E. Stroud and father of a girl student, shouted, "They shall not pass."

"If you want to stay in this school, you'd better get out of the way," Wright told the youth sharply.

"I'd rather get out," the boy said. His sentiment was echoed by similar cries from the crowd.

Wright gave up and told four Negro adults who accompanied the children to meet him at a downtown office later.

Police made no effort to escort the Negroes inside the building. Their only action was to break up the first violence.

At Little Rock's Central High This morning, the nine Negro teenagers who had been previously enrolled in the all-white school did not appear.

More than 200 armed troops stood at all entrances to the school—just as they have done since last Monday night when Gov. Faubus ordered the defiance of a federal court order for "immediate integration."

An estimated crowd of 400 white women and children stood on streets in the school area as classes began at 8:45 a.m. The main topic of conversation was Gov. Faubus' continued defiance of U.S. District Judge Ronald Norwood Davies' firm order to the Little Rock school board to obey a previous federal court directive for desegregation.

Mrs. Bates and other NAACP officials said they knew nothing of any plan to go before Judge Davies today and petition for an injunction against Gov. Faubus.

"There was a meeting this morning of lawyers and NAACP officials," Mrs Bates said. "They all stated that they knew nothing of any such plan." But Mrs. Bates refused to comment when asked whether such strategy might develop.

A court order enjoining Gov. Faubus from preventing integration at Little Rock's Central High School appears most likely to be the next move by the federal government.

Faubus' flat declaration that he will not back down in what has developed into a federal-state power controversy made it incumbent upon the government to act.

President Eisenhower, who flew to Washington Saturday to confer with Attorney General Herbert Brownell on the problem, spoke by telephone again yesterday with Brownell, on the many possible courses of action that have been feverishly studied by administration officials.

Capsule Report From 5 Key Points

Late News on Integration

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—White students repulse six Negroes trying to enter North Little Rock High School as fall term opens, hustling them down school steps to street. Police break up fracas. Negroes form lines again behind the white Superintendent, F. B. Wright, but pupils reinforced by white adults refuse to let them pass. Negroes give up for time being and Wright later said he would advise them to enroll in a high school for Negroes.

★ ★ ★

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — City schools open for first time on integrated basis and police escort Negro children into a grammar school amid shouts from segregationists but no violence. White crowd shouts: "You are backing the colored and not taking up for the whites." Spasmodic, minor disturbances at four other Nashville schools when Negroes enter.

★ ★ ★

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—All quiet at 2,000-pupil Central High School where troops keep watch in a struggle between the national and state governments over racial integration. Gov. Orval Faubus, who ordered the troops into action last Monday to "maintain peace and order," scheduled another radio broadcast this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

DALLAS, Tex.—Both sides in a long legal battle were under orders to present in federal court today their plans to integrate the schools. A federal court has ordered school officials to integrate 17,000 Negroes into the 117,000-pupil system immediately after the Christmas holidays.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission to Hear More Quarton Sewer Objections

BIRMINGHAM — The controversial Quarton Lake Estates sewers will come before commissioners again tonight. A written objection from Mr. and Mrs. William S. Rodie, III, has been added to the many objections voiced at preliminary hearings sometime ago.

The principal reason for the objections is that a number of residents say they are unable to see where an expanded system will be of any value to them. Commissioners also will have a hearing on the special assessment district on widening Adams road from Buckingham road north to the city limits.

The question of maintenance of vacant property, particularly a section bounded on the west by Adams road and the north by Bowers street also is on the agenda. The petition to have this property cleaned and kept mowed has been signed by a number of residents living in the immediate vicinity.

Building in Birmingham increased nearly three times in the past month. The sharp rise from the July total of $182,425, to August showed an estimated value of $393,023 for the 66 permits.

Breakdown of the report shows 38 new buildings, 20 alterations, two swimming pools, concrete slabs and foundations and two house removals.

Bloomfield Hills police report another outbreak of malicious destruction of property Saturday night. Four residents of Lowell Court reported the destruction of yard lights in their homes.

The ninth term of the Baptist Nursery School directed by Mrs. C. H. Johnson opened this morning with 85 children already enrolled. The school meets daily from 9 a.m. to noon. Three full-time teachers are employed, conducting the varied program for pre-school children. Although sponsored by the church, the nursery school is open to all children in the community.

Second national Civil Defense Week will be observed Sept. 15-21. The program will be highlighted by a civil defense parade Sept. 19.

Under sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the week's activities will include programs to inform residents what they can do to protect themselves in natural or man-made disasters. An explanation of how citywide signals will be sounded from air raid sirens to warn of impending disaster will also be given.

Several hundred copies of various types of literature from the Michigan Civil Defense offices will be distributed throughout the city that week.

Speakers will be available for talks to various service groups and other organizations. Birmingham school district is being asked to participate through student instruction.

Officers Still Seek Body of Local Man

★ ★ ★

The body of Earl Bishop, 58, of Ishpeming, was found floating near the spot where the pair's boat was found last week. Bishop was fishing with his son-in-law, Arthur McHenry, 39, of 6547 Saline Dr.

Bishop's body was spotted from a plane. An examination showed he died of shock, not drowning. Relatives said he had a bad heart.

Car Hits Waterford Tot; in Satisfactory Condition

Billy Tracy, 3, of 4123 Kempf Ave., Waterford Township, was hit by a car at 6:30 last night while riding his tricycle in front of his home.

Patricia Ann Moore, 23, of 1267 Muskingun Ave., Waterford Township, told police she was driving west on Kempf and although she had her sunglasses on, she was blinded by the setting sun.

She said she did not know her auto hit the boy until she heard his cry, according to Waterford Township police. He was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and admitted for multiple lacerations. He is reported in satisfactory condition this morning.

More Tech Students

DETROIT (AP)—Lawrence Institute of Technology will top 3,000 students this fall; Dr. E. George Lawrence, college president, said today. "Advance registration and current applications indicate an increase of 15 per cent over last year's enrollment of 2,600," Dr. Lawrence said. Classes begin Sept. 16.

Vandals Wreck Car

Pilot Views Aftermath of Volcanic Explosion

SINGAPORE (AP)—A veteran pilot said today he saw the aftermath of a terrific volcanic explosion on an Indonesian island yesterday as he was flying from Darwin, Australia, to Jakarta.

Capt. C. S. Sanderson said he spotted a huge column of white smoke mushroom over tiny Gunungapi Island from a height of 18,500 feet.

"The explosion took place probably 20 minutes before we passed over the island," he said. "The height of the cloud formation was about 3,000 feet."

But Captain Says He Ran Away From Them

Claims U.S. Bombers Trailed Red Jet

LONDON (AP)—The captain of a Soviet jet airliner says two U.S. bombers tried to shadow his plane on its return from the United States but he ran away from both of them.

★ ★ ★

Moscow radio did not identify the types of bombers other than to say they were four-engined.

The broadcast said the TU104 returned to Moscow from McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., in 11 hours 13 minutes flying time for the 5,570-mile flight. It made three stops on the return flight. The plane cruises at 450 to 500 m.p.h. and can make 560 m.p.h.

The U.S. four-jet B52 bomber is rated in excess of 600 m.p.h. U.S. weather reconnaissance units operating in the area of the TU104's route home fly some converted propeller-driven bombers of World War II design with speeds of about 300 m.p.h.

"It was obvious that the Americans were very interested in data about our aircraft," the captain said.

"An American four-engined bomber attached himself to us and measured our climbing rate. When the crew noticed this aircraft, they somewhat increased the rate of revolutions of the turbines and the bomber rapidly vanished from view."

Later, another bomber attempted to track the Soviet jet in level flight between New York and Goose Bay, Labroador, the captain said. "This bomber too was soon left behind."

The captain was not identified. The senior pilot on the trip had been previously identified as Boris Bugaeve.

Neither did the broadcast mention that three U.S. Air Force men were aboard the TU104 from Goose Bay to McGuire and back to help with navigation and radio contacts.

The Soviet airliner, the first to visit the United States, took Russian personnel to the coming U.N. General Assembly meeting.

17 Freight Cars Rip Up Track

No injuries were reported.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of curious sightseers, brought out by pleasant weather, jammed to the scene, snarling traffic and bringing 60 police and age estimate, said the accident was caused by an overheated journal box on a tank car that was third in line from the three diesel engines that pulled the train from Fort Wayne, Ind.

The journal box houses the car's axle. Koster said it became so hot that the axle burned through the housing, dropping the wheels from the tanker.

The train, bound for Grand Rapids, was derailed in Wyoming Township, a Grand Rapids suburb. A temporary track was hurriedly laid to allow incoming passenger trains a right-of-way on the main line.

The train plowed up 1,000 feet of track and the careening box cars teetered and toppled. The overturning cars also knocked over three box cars that were standing on a side track.

The derailed cars were loaded with acid, gravel and freight.

Five fire trucks were rushed from nearby communities in the event of fire, but the area was immediately roped off and no further damage occuurred.

The engineer was H. V. Wagner of Portland, Mich.

Formosa Embassy Formally Reopened

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The U.S. Embassy and consulate, heavily damaged in an anti-American riot last April, were formally reopened today.

U. S. Ambassador Karl Rankin, Premier O. K. Yui, Foreign Minister George Yeh, the commanders of the Nationalist army, navy and air force and top U. S. military officials stationed on Formosa attended the brief flag raising ceremony.

Twenty-five Marines from the cruiser Helena and 25 Nationalist servicemen formed guards as the U. S. flag was raised.

Civil Defense Officials Keep Cool During Test

Tubs filled with ice were placed in the concrete walled room under Memorial Stadium where CD officials were headquartered. Fans oscillating over the ice circulated the cool air.

Stevenson Raps Faubus' Action

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson says he is distressed and surprised at Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas for using National Guardsmen to prevent school integration in Little Rock.

★ ★ ★

Stevenson, in a nationally televised interview yesterday, said Faubus has supplied "grist for the Communist propaganda mill" by his anti-integration actions.

"I was deeply distressed and surprised by my friend Gov. Faubus' action in this matter," Stevenson said on the news show Face the Nation.

"It was not necessary to preserve peace and order (and) will be grist for the Communist propaganda mill."

★ ★ ★

The twice-defeated Democratic presidential candidate termed "inexplicable" the Arkansas governor's action and said ordering out the National Guard increased tension in Little Rock.

Stevenson said he does not advocate the use of force to bring about compliance with the Supreme Court's school integration order.

But he added that he "applauded and congratulated" President Eisenhower for his statement that he would do everything in his power to see that the Constitution is upheld.

The former Illinois governor said news of the Arkansas integration situation will have a "serious and sad impact" on the colored nations of the world, especially in racially taut South Africa.

He returned about three weeks ago from an extended tour of Europe and Africa.

Might Have Been True–But No Longer

The season has arrived for delving into history, dragging an old gag out of the moth balls, dusting it off, and perpetrating it upon the public.

It is the annual effusion about how our children hate to return to school, how they look upon it with disfavor —and even abhor it.

A quiet survey, covering several days, among our younger generation and their parents, both in Pontiac and in other Oakland County areas, proves the fallacy of this long overpublicized theory.

There were more statements to the effect that summer vacation was too long than that it was too short. A few actually didn't like it.

★ ★ ★

An occasional lad (and no girl) gave a shoulder shrug, with subdued enthusiasm, but nobody exhibited any objection to the opening of school.

Far more rampant was the desire to get back into school and get better marks than last year. A few wondered what that new teacher would be like.

Without doubt, the fact that our schools and teaching methods now are more attractive and appealing than in the old days has much to do with this.

The children now feel that they are more a part of the program than under the old system when they were supposed to imbibe only what was tossed at them through books or otherwise, and roundly penalized and really frightened into their role. Few loved their teachers.

Now they are actually entertained while they are being taught.

If our real red-corpuscled young people ever had a hatred to return to school, it without doubt was for the above reasons, supplemented by the old bench seat, strap and ruler punishment, pot bellied stove, absence of athletics and parental interest, community water cup and two-holer visible sanitation.

We've outgrown that era, and our young folks know it.

Sen. Douglas Dissents

When the $900 million Rivers and Harbors bill was before the Senate recently, Sen. PAUL DOUGLAS, Illinois Democrat, took occasion to point out the wastefulness in some of its provisions.

The Senator, an economist, explained that he and a staff of assistants had studied the 400 proposed projects and had found that 112 of them were unnecessary and wasteful; that the costs, $213 million, could not be justified by their benefits.

★ ★ ★

He pointed out that if the bill went through, inflationary pressures would be increased on the very group of commodities now much in demand thereby increasing business costs.

Since the base period of 1947-49 concrete and cement prices have risen 34 percent, machinery and motor products 45 percent and metal prices at least 50 percent.

★ ★ ★

"Ultimately, though indirectly," he said, "this sequence will affect the cost of living because the price structures for industrial and consumer goods are interconnected and interdependent. We are virtually all in favor of accelerating public works in periods of recession. Should we not realize that the logical corollary of that principle is to slow down public works projects in periods of inflation such as we have now?"

★ ★ ★

When Sen DOUGLAS finished talking there were no arguments nor contradictions. Local pressures proved too great and the Senate passed the "pork barrel" bill 85 to one vote, that of Sen. DOUGLAS.

Rudely Interrupted Dream

David Lawrence Says:

Headlines Show History Repeats

WASHINGTON — To say that "history repeats itself" sounds commonplace but sometimes there's a startling similarity.

LAWRENCE

1. North and South quarrel over a Supreme Court decision in the Dred Scott case, in which it is ruled by 5 to 3 that a Negro isn't a citizen.

2. China is at war with England and France.

3. Russia moves in to expand at the expense of China.

4. The Crimean War, which involved the major countries of Europe in a bitter struggle for power in eastern Europe and the Middle East, has just ended but "little wars" ensue. There is a big revolution in India—100,000 dead.

5. New York City is caught in the biggest wave of gangsterism in its history. The mayor, with his police force, defies the governor. The state militia is at the scene but is outnumbered by the mayor's policemen. Federal troops come to guard the customs house but take no other part in the affair.

6. Tight money and high interest rates cause a paralysis of business and a deeper recession than had occurred in 1854. It climaxes a period of rising prices and expansion of mills and factories in what one historian calls "a boastful but spotty prosperity and a general extravagance."

7. Washington is in a turmoil over "civil rights." The Democratic Party is splitting. The new Republican Party is growing in strength. The Northern press is demanding the scalp of the Supreme Court.

8. Within a few months comes a religious revival throughout the nation, and, as usual, there is some skepticism as to its lasting effects.

SAME PASSIONS, IMPULSES

The circumstances and the geography may be different today, but the underlying passions and impulses to good and evil are the same.

Today impatience and the urge to do away with the normal forms of redress through the courts and to use troops to enforce segregation, without giving dissenters a chance to exercise their Constitutional rights of protest and challenge, are bringing about a "cold war" between sections of the country.

The same intolerance as was exhibited in the 1850s is being repeated in the 1950s. When the governor of Arkansas today orders out his troops to prevent rioting and bloodshed, he is accused of making solely a "political gesture"—as if nobody in Washington has been making gestures to get the Negro vote of the North without regard to the consequences to the people of the South.

Instead of relying on the customary opportunity for argument in the courts and dealing with the matter step by step, giving time for gradual application and further interpretation of the Supreme Court's decision, there is a tendency to strong-arm the people of the South.

The most regrettable example of this was a hint in the President's telegram to the Arkansas governor last week in which this unfortunate statement was made:

"You and other state officials —as well as the National Guard, which is, of course, uniformed, armed and partially sustained by the Federal government—will, I am sure, give full cooperation to the United States District Court."

Why anybody in the department of justice should have prepared such phraseology for the President to sign is a mystery. For it is a blunder that will spell the doom of any legislation in the future wherein Federal money is given to the schools of the states.

If the telegram means that the executive, without action by Congress, can at any time threaten reprisals just because Federal money has been appropriated to aid the states, then measures seeking to grant Federal aid to schools hereafter will earn the unceasing opposition of the South.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Nitroglycerin Tablets Cut Heart, Artery Woes

In a piece about angina pectoris I quoted a medical authority's statement in an address before an audience of physicians:

"It is my belief that patients with coronary insufficiency can carry on practically normal lives for many years with the assistance of glyceryl trinitrate" (nitroglycerin) "used not only during the attacks of pain but pro-phylactically."

In other words, nitroglycerin is not just an emergency remedy.

DR. BRADY

In the CVD booklet, about heart and artery troubles, I say: Every sufferer from angina should carry at all times a few tablets of nitorglycerin, otherwise called glonoin or glyceryl trinitrate, each tablet containing from 1-200 to 1-100th of a grain.

Such a tablet, dissolved in the mouth, acts in two minutes. It is not a heart stimulant. It is a vasodilator, that is, it causes relaxation or dilation of the affected arteries.

Dilation of the coronary arteries which supply blood to the heart muscle brings more blood, more oxygen to the muscle cells.

Any adult may take a dose of nitroglycerin without danger. Many angina patients take such a dose three of four times a day with benefit and without untoward effect of any kind.

But here's the catch. If you ask your druggist for one or a dozen or a hundred nitroglycerin, even if he knows you and wants to accommodate you, he'll have to ask for a prescription. That is the law. So I suggest ahat you ask your physician for a prescription and save the druggist and yourself embarrassment.

A Florida man writes:

". . . Family doctor said my wife has angina. A heart specialist said it is arterio-sclerosis. She is 70. A recent check-up. . . "

(Please, you go to a garage for a check-up, to a physician for an examination.)

(Signed .....)"

Far be it from me — 2,500 miles approximately — to question the accuracy of the diagnosis of the lady's troubles.

But I hope the Florida reader will send me 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a copy of the booklet CVD. In the booklet he will read about the real heart tonic which I recommend. It may do his wife no good, but anyway it can do nobody any harm.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Denies Charge by Younger Man

Marc Antony's clever strategy is ably demonstrated in Toms' attack today. Scrapbook this case and the follow-up tomorrow, because they will show you high school debaters some of the classical fallacies in logic. Have your debate coach analyze these cases, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

★ ★ ★

Earlier this year he addressed a Lions Club at Burlington, Iowa, where my fellow newspaper columnist, Lloyd Maffitt, says he gave a very interesting talk.

At the end of his address, a member of the audience asked him what he thought" of Dr. Crane, whose column appears in our Hawk-Eye-Gazette"?

"That's a very touchy question," Tom replied.

Lloyd Maffitt then goes on to say of Tom, "He depicted Crane as a man who did brilliant work as a younger man, writing some textbooks that were regarded as topnotch, but who threw over his ideals and prosessional ethics to turn a fast buck."

Then he further quotes Tom as saying of me: "He's been read out of the professional societies for unethical conduct."

DEBATERS, NOTA BENE:

First, however, I should acknowledge the dubious compliment Tom paid me in saying I did brilliant work as a younger man.

Marc Antony used this famous strategy at the funeral of Caesar. It involves praising a man at the outset so you will disarm his rooters in the audience, before you damn him or apply the stiletto in his back.

Thus, he figuratively relegated me to the "horse and buggy" days, intimating thereby that I am not up-to-date.

Acually, Tom graduated from St. Louis University only three years ago and probably studied from my textbook, since it has been in regular use there.

And the latest edition of my college textbook is still the most widely adopted book in its field among all our American colleges and universities in this year of 1957, as Tom undoubtedly knows quite well.

FALLACIES IN LOGIC

Now notice his fallacy in logic

which we call the "hasty generalization."

It is shown by Tom's comment that I "threw over my ideals and professional ethics to turn a fast buck."

Where's his evidence? Most of you readers know I still teach two Bible Classes every Sunday morning and have missed church but 4 times in 35 years.

My college textbook is unique in containing a chapter entitled "Psychology Goes to Church," which is the only religious inclusion to my knowledge in any textbook in its field.

Among 807 college classroom adoptions of that textbook are five theological seminaries and our leading Catholic universities.

In this column I have warned teen-agers repeatedly against illicit sexual affairs and alcoholism, gambling and even cigaret smoking.

Is this what Tom means by saying I have thrown over my ideals and professional ethics? If so, maybe he holds a pagan idea of "ethics."

★ ★ ★

Maybe he thus belongs with many of our "white rat" psychologists who have indicted me for using two-syllable words and punchy newspaper literary style.

"Dr. Crane overly simplifies psychology," they have often protested.

They seen to think that nothing can be truly scientific which a newspaper reader can understand.

If they were physicians, they'd probably be the kind who would still write prescriptions in Latin just to befuddle the lay public!

For 22 years I have applied "horse sense" in this column to the problems that threaten you with divorce, delinquency, mental collapse or failure at your place of business.

Meanwhile, I have constantly been bombarded by "white rat" psychologists who object to gumption and two-syllable newspaper style.

See more of this expose in tomorrow's Case Record.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Suggests Teens Use Time in Helping Older People

There are a lot of teens who think only of themselves. Of course, they have had everything given to them by their parents, so there is nothing new for them but to get into trouble to pass the time. They never think of helping others, especially old people who might be living very near them.

They could mow lawns, run errands or maybe just mail a letter. Girls could help by dusting or washing dishes once in a while, or maybe other little tasks that would help them in later life. Even to stop and chat a while would bring pleasure.

And please be courteous. So many times teens are rude to older people. I'm very fond of children, but I do like to see them respectful to their elders.

Agrees Labor Needs a Check

I agree with the letter in The Press recently that labor must be checked but not checked out. The union officials have too much money to spend. Why don't they reduce dues? Everyone is after tax reductions and a cut in the amount of dues would be a very good move for those that pay and for those that have too much hard earned cash to throw around.

'We Want Hoffa— Leave Us Alone'

The leaders of our union want Hoffa and they voted that they did. Now let's have the rest of the world leave us alone and mind their own business. We're for Hoffa and he's for us and even if his methods don't suit others, they suit us and it's our money.

'Should the GOP Give Up Fight?'

I hope Negroes in the North read all about the treatment their people got at the hands of the southern Democrats. Do southern Democrats want integration? They defy the Supreme Court, the police and fire and brimstone to stop it. But in the next election the colored vote will "go Democratic as usual." Perhaps the Republicans should give up and let colored people fight their own integration battles by themselves.

Replies to Question About Rainfall

Raindrops vary in size and swiftness with which they fall. The largest raindrops are about a fourth of an inch in diameter. They drop at a rate of 15 to 25 feet a second. The smallest raindrop ever measured was not more than one-twentieth of an inch in diameter. They fell at a much slower rate, probably about five feet a second. So, you see, it wasn't imagination.

Quotes Novel Idea for Working Day

This appeared in a Maryland bulletin.

To all employes: Due to increased competition and a keen desire to remain in business, we find it necessary to institute a new policy. Effective immediately, we are asking that somewhere between starting time and quitting time, and without infringing too much on the time usually devoted to lunch periods, story telling, ticket selling, golfing, auto racing, vacation planning, and rehashing of yesterday's TV programs, that each employe endeavor to find some time that can be set aside and known as the "work break."

To some this may seem a radical innovation, but we honestly believe the idea has great possibilities. It can conceivably be an aid to steady employment and it might also be a means of insuring regular pay checks. While the adoption of the "work break" plan is not compulsory, it is hoped that each employe will find enough time to give the plan a fair trial. It is also hoped that those employes not in favor of adopting the "work break" idea will have fully completed their vacation plans.

How long can this go on? Another $100 has been added to the Pot-O-Gold coffers, bringing the total to $2,500. With 20,000 entries being mailed weekly, you'd better get busy and give it all you've got. Whoever wins the puzzle now will be well rewarded for his time and efforts.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Board to Meet at Waterford

To Consider Insurance for Township Vehicles, Appoint Constable

The board is scheduled to appoint a constable to replace Jessie McCrary, who has moved out of the state.

Carburetor Saves Gas by "Jet-ing"

Car owners who are wasting money and not getting proper gas milage due to over-rich mixtures will be pleased to learn of a Wisconsin inventor who has developed a very clever unit that saves gasoline by adding small jets of air to automatically lean and "Vacu-mat" improperly adjusted carburetor mixtures. Works on supercharge principle. Easily installed on cars, trucks and tractors. The manufacturers, the Vacu-matic Carburetor Co., 7617 424-P W. State, Wauwatosa, Wis., are offering a Vacumatic to anyone who will install it on his car and help introduce it to others. They will gladly send full free particulars if you write them or send your name and address on a post card today.

Bob Considine Says:

Many Laud Action of Arkansas Governor

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — Gov. Orval Faubus' office in the gold-tipped state capitol allowed me to look through some of the telegrams he received during the early days of his war against a major power named the United States.

Such a search indicated that if Faubus wanted to duck into Fort Sumter and open fire he would have—had a considerable number of allies. He may still have.

WIRES FAVORABLE

"The wires are running 20 to 1 in our favor," a pleasant young assistant named Tommy Russell said, handing me a batch which he had just happened to have handy. I looked through them and Russell's estimate seemed conservative.

He must have read my thoughts: That this was a plant and the abusive wires had been carefully weeded out. So he arranged for me to be present when a new batch arrived and was shucked out of the envelope. They, too, were overwhelmingly pro-Faubus.

If this was staged for me, I doubt very much if Russell would have permitted this telegram to remain where it would have been seen and printed.

★ ★ ★

"Until your recent action with reference to integration, military force has been used to enforce government action only in such totalitarian states as Fascist Italy, Nazi Germany and Communist Russia. Your action places the sovereign state of Arkansas below these tyrannical governments in the eyes of the people of the world. Dean Thomas S. Hall, Washington University, St. Louis, Mo."

Or this one:

"Dear Suh. Congratulations on becoming a deft prospect for the 1957 Donkeys Club. Because of your action you no doubt will be elected to the U. S. Senate. I am sure this is what you had in mind. Just think, if all the Southern governors were as right-thinking as you are we could have a revolution in a few days. Give my regards to your friend, John Kaspar. The eyes of Russia are upon you. Lamar Weaver, (3063 Marbriet Ave.) Cincinnati, O."

But aligned against these were the likes of:

"Your courageous action in the performance of duty is commendable. May God bless your leadership. Signed—The 500 members and commander of VFW Post 3492, Fairfield, Ala."

★ ★ ★

And this:

"We, the 600 members of North Birmingham, Ala., Citizens Council, wish to commend you on your stand to uphold the sovereign right of the state of Arkansas. If there were more governors in the South with your intelligence and courage, the Southern states would not have to worry about integration. Stick to your guns. Our prayers and thanks are with you."

Pertinent to the resentment held here against newsmen from above the Mason and Dixon line was a wire from Pittsburgh which read:

"I cover quite a few court stories. A large per cent of those brought into court for rape, larceny, stabbing and dope traffic, are Negroes. Keep up the good work." It was signed "Northern Newspaperman."

★ ★ ★

The remainder of the wires I saw, brimmed with prayerful sentiment, bravos galore and exhortations to "keep up the good work." A woman from Washington, D. C., civic test tube of integration, wired:

"Congrats on your gallant fight to save both races from communism."

A man from Rapid City, S. D., where the Negro population is about as numerous as the Peruvians, bade Faubus to "stand firm." A New Yorker wired "Good Luck, Buddy," and so it went.

And World War II veteran Faubus was emboldened to go ahead with his war of nerves against his old commander-in-chief who only wanted to stay in Newport, R. I., and play a little vacation golf.

A man from Statham, Ga., C. B. Holliday, offered to send $100 to Faubus to aid the campaign to keep nine "A" student Negroes out of a school of 2,100 whites. There were offers of votes, too. Larry and Dorothy Evans of Temple City, Calif., wired:

"You are proceeding in the manner of an American with intestinal fortitude. We respect Negroes in their place — namely, Africa, or here as employes, but not running our country. Count on two votes for whatever you choose to run for nationally."

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Declares Red China Strongly Anti-U. S.

MOSCOW (INS)—Shelby Tucker Jr., the American youth who was ordered to leave Red China, believes Communism is more moderate there than in Russia.

However, he said upon returning to Moscow yesterday, anit-Americanism is rampant in Communist China.

Tucker was one of the 42 American youths who went to Red China from the Moscow Youth Festival despite a U. S. State Department warning not to do so.

He was ordered to leave the country because he would not surrender his passport to Chinese officials during the tenure of the tour.

Tucker, of Pass Christian, Miss., is a law student at Oxford University in England. He has a 20-day Russian transit visa. He plans to go to Prague, and possibly Vienna, and then return to Oxford.

Pleas Save Distraught New Yorker

Threatens 260-Foot Leap

NEW YORK (AP)—A gaunt 27-year-old man clung to a precarious perch on the great Washington Bridge for almost three hours yesterday, threatening to jump 260 feet into the Hudson River.

★ ★ ★

After spurning the pleas of the police, four priests and a rabbi, he was coaxed to safety by a newspaper reporter and the Bible reading of a New Jersey artist.

A pedestrian on the bridge found a note on the walk signed by William Connaughton of Manhattan.

In it Connaughton told his wife, Madeline, 24, that he was "sorry for the whole mess." And I've destroyed everything by losing you."

The passerby looked over the side and saw Connaughton standing with only a toehold on a 4-inch wide steel girder and a fingerhold on the walk.

★ ★ ★

DIVORCE STARTED

Connaughton, a father of two, later told one of the priests that his wife had started divorce proceedings and that he is tubercular. He said he was an Air Force veteran of Korea.

He cluing to the walk listening to scores of pleas.

M. H. Bevens, an artist of Tenafly, N. J., sat down on the walk, opened a Bible and began reading. He soon stretched himself out on the sidewalk, alternately reading soothing passages from the Gospels of St. Matthew and St. John and talking.

Three policemen, tied together by rope, stood by, waiting for an opportunity to go over the railing and grab Connaughton. Others held a rope noose, ready to drop it over his head.

The reporter, Robert Jones of the New York Mirror, talked to Connaughton for two hours. He repeated promises that the newspaper would help in any way it could.

★ ★ ★

"Don't you think we can talk better up here?" Jones asked.

Connaughton moved toward the ladder. When his head appeared over the railing, police grabbed him. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

Backs Jurist's Refusal to Delay Integration in Little Rock

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman, here for a week's visit, says he approves of Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies' action in refusing to delay school integration in Little Rock, Ark.

★ ★ ★

"He followed the law and the Constitution," Truman says. "It's a matter of the Bill of Rights."

Truman expressed his view to newsmen yesterday as he and Mrs. Truman arrived by train from their home at Independence, Mo.

But the former President declined to comment on Gov. Orval E. Faubus' use of National Guardsmen to prevent Negroes from entering Little Rock's Central High School. Neither would he say what he thought President Eisenhower's next move should be.

Although he did express approval of Davies' ruling, Truman said of the Little Rock situation: "I don't want to talk about it now. I don't think this is the time. I have spoken out about this before. I am not a man who doesn't speak out."

Regarding Faubus' use of National Guard troops, Truman said, "I don't want to muddy up the water."

★ ★ ★

Seeks Youth Fitness to Fight Delinquency

"A physical fitness program would be, in effect, something to create a safety valve for the excess energy of our youth, which is often responsible for juvenile delinquency," he told newsmen as he arrived here from Washington by plane yesterday.

Indian 'Vision' Drugs Found by Scientists

NEW YORK (INS) — Chemists working on tranquilizer drugs reported today they have isolated strange substances from plants chewed by Peruvian Indians to produce "beautiful visions."

Anita M. Paradies told the American Chemical Society, meeting in New York City today, that the drugs were found in the Ayahuasca and Yage plants.

She said that natives chew the two plants as intoxicants. They believe that one plant cancels out any unpleasant visions produced by the other, leaving the chewer with only lovely images in his mind's eye.

Yage has a vision-producing compound also found in a plant used as snuff by other South American tribes.

Mrs. Paradies, who works for Charles Pfizer & Co., Inc., of Brooklyn, N. Y., pointed out that scientists have become increasingly interested in the substances that produce hallucinations.

One such compound, she added, "produced symptoms in man which are startlingly similar to those of schizophrenia, the most severe and widespread of all mental diseases."

Pfizer chemists learned of the drugs in the two Peruvian plants when doing work on development of tranquilizer drugs.

Tranquilizers and other such drugs have put forth the question as to whether schizophrenia and other mental illness may not be chemically produced.

Patrol Cuba's Coast Against Rebel Influx

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Warplanes and Navy ships today patrolled Cuba's long coastline to guard against rebel landings from Mexico.

★ ★ ★

Reports reaching here from Mexico said Cubans there were preparing to send supplies and men to the rebels of Fidel Castro holed up in the mountains of eastern Cuba.

★ ★ ★

It was from exile in Mexico that Castro came last December with 81 men to challenge the government of President Fulgencio Batista. They were beaten in battle and scattered to the mountains.

★ ★ ★

Since then Castro's band has been reinforced and has waged guerrilla warfare against the government.

Some Cubans believe the rebels are preparing another blow soon at Batista's government to follow the bloody and futile attempt by 400 men last Thursday and Friday to seize the naval base city of Cienfuegos in south central Cuba.

Bloodhounds Tree 2 Teenaged Escapees

NEW WAVERLY, Tex. (AP)—A group of bloodhounds from the Huntsville State Prison treed their quarry yesterday.

The dogs trailed two escaped teen-age convicts through a wooded area south of the prison and led officers to where the youths cowered in a tree near here.

The pair, Jerry Oakley, 17, and Billie Phillips, 17, surrendered without a struggle. Oakley is serving four years for burglary and Phillips is serving five years for robbery.

Mary Pickford Chides Scientists on Zippers

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Former actress Mary Pickford has challenged the men who built the hydrogen bomb and crashed the sound barrier to do something about zippers.

"I was caught in a zipper for 25 minutes," the one-time movie star told a national education conference here. "Where are the scientists and engineers in this country that they can't do something about zippers?"

Poles Are Told to Tighten Belts

Gomulka Talks About the Necessity of Saving Foreign Exchange

WARSAW (AP)—Poland has produced an above-average harvest this year but still must tighten its belt to save foreign exchange now spent on butter and other goods, Wladyslaw Gomulka says.

The Communist leader told 100,000 persons celebrating the traditional harvest feast yesterday that "we all want to live better."

★ ★ ★

"But first we must produce more, better and cheaper," Gomulka said. "Now we are importing goods from abroad on credit. At the moment it is necessary, but we must openly say we cannot go on in this way. We must live within our means."

★ ★ ★

Gomulka said the Communist government is spending 12 million dollars a year to import butter. He told the crowd, "We must eat the drippings (lard and fats) in Poland and stop importing butter."

The government, meanwhile, took another step to conserve foreign exchange. It barred travel by Poles to non-Communist nations.

41 Drown in Floods

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP)—Floods have drowned 41 persons in Kashmir, an official report said today. About 600 villages have been inundated.

She Calls Herself a Simple Human Being Who Loves Others

Greek Queen Frederica Turns Majesty Into Magic

By JOAN HANAUER

CORFU, Greece (INS) — Queen Frederica of Greece has everything a movie producer could dream up — beauty, charm, and a handsome husband with a really royal sense of humor.

★ ★ ★

The queen of the Hellenes turns majesty into magic by being, in her own words, "a simple human being who loves other human beings."

And King Paul is the sort of man who can wear a gold and medal-bedecked white uniform to a royal reception and turn the whole affair into a gay cocktail party by swapping jokes with the men and smiling gallantly at the women.

CENTER OF ATTRACTION

★ ★ ★

This was not out of respect for her royal lineage, which dates back to England's Queen Victoria, but out of admiration for her vivacious charm, her simplicity which masks a diplomat's tact and her strictly feminine grace at being the perfect hostess.

Her gay laugh relaxes Americans unaccustomed to greeting royalty. But her warm heart—well known to the people of Greece through her wartime charities and her present shirt-sleeve work in behalf of Greek orphans — won her respect as a person, not a personage.

"He had a little wife," she explained, "and yesterday I was driving and accidentally ran over her. I am so sad I can barely speak about it—it was terrible."

PLEASED BY NEWS

At one point an American newsman told the queen he was adopting a Greek orphan. The queen, obviously delighted, told him he had made her day a happy one and then told the story:

Her youngest child, Princess Irene, 15, told her royal mother when she was a little girl that she had known and loved the queen long before the queen knew and loved her. Asked by the queen what she meant, the princess said:

"When I was with Jesus I pointed to you and said that is the woman I want for a mother —that is the woman I love."

The queen has two other children, 18-year-old Princess Sophie, a student nurse, and 17-year-old Crown Prince Constantine. She speaks of both with the same joy and pride you would find in any American mother.

The queen of Greece is known for her tradition-breaking. She has been known to wear bobby-sox while touring the outlying districts of Greece. At this party, she broke protocol to discuss international politics. She also spoke modestly but emotionally of her own charity work.

REGAL BY BIRTH

Frederica is as regal by birth as she is charming in bearing. She is the daughter of a German prince, great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria and has been queen of Greece since April 1947.

★ ★ ★

Although German-born, she was educated in England and at the American School in Florence, Italy. She met handsome King Paul when she was 10 years old and still partly tomboy, then fell in love with him in 1937.

★ ★ ★

He was a "dream prince" —6-foot-4, blondly handsome and an easy-going expert in piano-playing, tennis, sailing and stunt flying.

★ ★ ★

Her reception by the Greeks was not enthusiastic. She was a foreign princess, speaking no Greek and a stranger to the land. She won her new people by learning their language, adopting their religion, and interesting herself in their welfare to the exclusion of friends, fun and gay socializing.

To this day she is too busy to enjoy all the privileges which come with her rank. She is currently spending a six-week vacation at the charming, 100-year-old royal residence on the beautiful island of Corfu that borders the Ionian Sea and the Adriatic. She calls the place "paradise."

★ ★ ★

There are two royal palaces, one in Athens used for formal state occasions, and a country palace outside the capital at Tatoi where the family lives most of the year.

The Tatoi palace is decorated in light colors with much gay chintz. The queen's room is cream and green with handwoven carpets and multi-colored Greek embroidery on the upholstery.

According to the Greek Press Office, the queen breakfasts daily at 8:30, answers her mail, holds audiences or visits philanthropic institutions or hospitals. Afternoons she meets committees and welfare leaders, tries to see her children and when possible dines with her husband.

What free time she has is spent riding, yachting, fishing, playing tennis or squash, hiking, reading and going to movies.

But when asked what a typical day is like she said:

Glamorize Coveralls

Coveralls are not necessarily just for gardening. Some are so pretty you'll want to wear them for home entertaining.

★ ★ ★

Store-bought or hand-made, the nicest coveralls are made of lightweight washable printed cottons. They will wash clean in a whisk in lukewarm soap or detergent suds and rinses, and should be ironed while still slightly ramp.

Need Cleanliness

★ ★ ★

A responsible medical authority advises everyone to observe such old, established warnings as avoiding fatigue during the polio season, and washing hands thoroughly before eating or touching the mouth.

Begin Rehearsals

For those who like to sing the Pontiac Mother Singers will begin rehearsals Tuesday in room five of McConnel school. Anyone wishing to join may contact Mrs. Charles Chapman.

★ ★ ★

It's Futile to Move Around Nation in Search of Men

(Editor's Note: Those two important questions on meeting the right man — "How" and "Where" — are answered today. This is the sixth installment in a series of articles condensed from the Dorrance best-seller, "How to Get and Keep a Husband.")

By KATE CONSTANCE

One of the first questions asked by single women is, "Where can I meet eligible men? How can I put all this knowledge and advice into practice if I don't meet men?"

Some women try to answer it by moving from one place to another, city after city, pulling up roots and making new starts in a wasteful restlessness. They are victims of the belief that one section or another of the country offers more marriage opportunities.

For the most part that belief is misleading. These opportunities depend more on what you do than on where you are.

Many women who have gone to strange cities have confided in me that their only means of meeting men is by pickups. These easy-come, easy-go encounters usually result in futile, often unhappy associations.

★ ★ ★

The practice of the pickup has become increasingly prevalent in this country, even tried by "nice" girls who are desperate for companionship. Almost any man who smiles at them across a bar or opens his car door at the corner is acceptable. The prestige of women generally has been lowered in the eyes of men by this practice.

MEN CONFUSED

Frankly confused by the behavior of the opposite sex, men are often at a loss about what women want and expect in standards of conduct, for while they expect the treatment due a lady they nevertheless behave like immoral women.

★ ★ ★

It isn't necessary to run away to meet eligible men, as a rule. There are some cases where a change of locale is desirable but they are comparatively few. Yet many women believe that the promised land of their matrimonial desires exists at the end of a plane or railroad ticket.

Opportunities to meet men are stimulated particularly by what you do with your free time. Some of these spare-hour activities not only put you in contact with men but are financially remunerative.

One of my friends devoted her spare time to selling a high-quality shirt to a selective male clientele; she netted a fine husband out of the contacts. Another who sold pipes in her spare time married a tobacco grower and is now living abroad. A third, devoting her vacation to a political cause, married the mayor of a Western town.

Two unmarried sisters, interested in music, devoted some of their evening hours to clerical work for a local opera association. Through this one married a famous baritone. The other went on tour with them and met a titled foreigner, whom she later married.

One of the most obvious and valuable methods is to work in local political and service organizations, such as the Red Cross, USO, civil defense and hospital welfare work.

SADLY DISAPPOINTED

The girl who hides herself away with stubborn laziness, waiting for a man to break down her door and drag her to the altar, is likely to be sadly disappointed.

★ ★ ★

Girls ask what jobs they should consider in order to meet more men. There are kinds of work in which men predominate but which use some women. These provide good opportunities for the woman who is willing to go into apprenticeship or undertake the necessary special study to fill those jobs.

Here are some outstanding examples: Dental hygiene, engineering, architecture, law, securities brokerage, real estate, construction, banking, hotel clerical, public services, nursing, hospital clerical, advertising, transportation, shipbuilding, printing, publishing, chemistry.

Jobs for women in these fields range from secretaries, bookkeepers and general clerks to more specialized positions.

Other miscellaneous jobs where women can meet men but which require little or no specialized training include: Drug store clerk, manicurist, hostess in private club, hotel or restaurant; social and health service clerical worker, civilian worker with military forces, elevator operator, men's clothing store clerk, cashier, receptionist.

CHURCH IS BEST

For making friends there is no better place than the church. But far be it from anyone to use the church merely for social contacts! Such would be sacrilege. The woman who truly has found God and comes to church to worship Him will discover a deeper meaning in her fellowship with His people.

★ ★ ★

Now we come to the best way for you to meet eligible men—the safest, most dependable and most likely to bring results.

As a generalization, most single women do not want to bother about establishing a circle of friends. Upon arriving in a community, or leaving school or taking a job they want to meet a man as soon as possible. They fail to recognize the importance of friends.

The best way to meet eligible men, I have found, is through your married friends.

Every single girl knows married people. She should make it a point to cultivate such friendships, for she should strive for variety in her social contacts. Getting to know and to understand people in other age groups and other circumstances helps us to grow emotionally.

★ ★ ★

Although many married people are too busy with their own affairs to draw a single girl into their orbit, there are others who welcome such unattached friends for the diversity of viewpoint and fresh interests they can bring.

LESS RIVALRY

Between a single girl and her married woman friend there should be less rivalry than between two single girls, their somewhat dissimilar interests complementing rather than conflicting. If you want your married women friends to like you, exhibit sincere friendship full of cheerfulness and encouragement, making them glad for your presence.

Here is a word of warning: No matter how trivial or how much in jest, abstain from familiarities of word or action with your friend's husband!

There should be nothing to suggest even the slightest interest in the husband beyond what you might evince toward a business acquaintance in your office.

I have seen single women after taking a couple of drinks make fools of themselves with silly, although perhaps meaningless, passes at the husbands of their friends. As a result they were ostracized from those circles.

★ ★ ★

Reciprocal entertaining is an absolute requirement in keeping friends. If your living quarters are unsuitable, make some outside arrangements, no matter how modest, in the form of a dinner, show, drive or evening snack. If this isn't practical, then flowers or candy or books from time to time will say thank you to married friends who have entertained you.

OFFER TO BABYSIT

A mature woman I know is an example of what can happen. After the death of her husband she worked for such a small salary she could not afford to entertain or send even minor tokens of appreciation to a young couple who had frequently had her to dinner. So she offered to babysit for them once a week, an exchange of kindnesses which strengthened their friendship.

★ ★ ★

While babysiting one evening, my friend answered the doorbell and admitted the father of the girl, a widower who had flown into town to visit his daughter. They sat on the porch swing and were comfortably acquainted by the time the young couple came home.

Two months later the father came to the city again—not just to visit his daughter but to see his new friend as well. Later that same year they were married.

2 Unusual Ingredients in This One

Mrs. Rennie Uses Curry and Apples In Her Chili Sauce

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

September is the month that means canning and preserving to many homemakers. If chili sauce is a favorite with your family, try Mrs. John Rennie's recipe. Apples and curry powder make this a truly different recipe.

★ ★ ★

Now that the Rennie summer home is built, Mrs. Rennie has more free time. She did all the buying for the house under construction. She likes all kinds of winter sports and summer water sports.

CHILI SAUCE

By Mrs. John Rennie

18 tomatoes
8 apples
½ cup vinegar
3 green peppers
1 onion
1 to 2 cups of sugar (to taste)
1 tablespoon salt
2 teaspoons curry powder
Bit of cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon chili powder

Grind together apples, green peppers and onions. Peel and cut up tomatoes. Add other ingredients and simmer 30-45 minutes, or to desired thickness.

When chili sauce is as thick as you want it, seal in sterilized jars. Makes 4-6 quarts.

★ ★ ★

Note: The second cup of sugar is optional.

Use Cleaning Wax on Fine Furniture

Don't wash your furniture—"dry-clean" it. That's the advice from a wax company which claims water can cause the grain to swell and crack, and may cause veneer failure by softening glue. Soap is often hard to remove and may leave the surface dull.

★ ★ ★

The cleaning agents of a cream or liquid no-rubbing furniture wax can accomplish the same job without harmful effects, leaving you with a dry, shiny protective coating.

Show Faith in Child to Help Him Develop

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

At least this is the big probability, according to psychologists Celia B. Stendler and Norman Young. With 212 mothers of 6-year-olds, they have completed a study of youngsters' response to the first grade which gives us a portrait of the school-entering child that bears no resemblance to our popular impression of him as resisting and difficult.

★ ★ ★

Most of the children studied not only enjoyed school once they'd entered it—but had looked forward to entering it with the liveliest anticipation.

Typical reports from their mothers are: "He was raring to go . . . He could hardly wait . . . Loves his teacher . . . Crazy about school—wants to go on Saturdays and Sundays . . ."

Even more encouraging, the children's home behavior was improved by first grade experience. Within two months of entrance, their mothers reported marked improvement in their ability to dress themselves, to entertain friends, go on errands and help around the house.

★ ★ ★

Where have we got our impression of the school-entering child as resisting and difficult?

Well, for some time now, certain child development "experts" have been promoting the age of 6 as the age of resistance. From

AGE OF RESISTANCE?

"6," they say, we must expect stubbornness.

As this is the age of the school-entering child, perhaps our idea of him as a terrible problem is the fabrication of these "experts" — and is, in actual fact, as weightless as one of their own paper charts.

At any rate, if you have a school-entering child, try not to expect resistance from him.

For when you do expect it from him, you suggest it to him. Your fear of his school resistance will create the resistance in him. He'll know that you don't expect him to like school.

Then inevitably he begins to figure like this: "If this experienced parent of mine doubts that I'll like school, there must be something about school that justifies this doubt of hers. It must be a bad place. Why does she send me to a bad place? Maybe she doesn't love me any more and I cannot trust her . . ."

★ ★ ★

It's these thoughts—not the calendar age of 6 years—that makes the school-entering child resisting and difficult.

Two things to consider about changing your skirt length: how good-looking are your legs and right proportion for different type skirts.

If you think your legs are ugly, shorten your skirts with discretion to escape that dowdy look. Sumptuous cocktail and even gowns, because they demand elegance, are not worn too-too short.

Just How Much Will It Shrink?

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

★ ★ ★

Material bearing a "Sanforized" label will shrink less than one per cent in length and width. "Preshrunk" labels mean the fabrics (cotton, wool, acetate or rayon) will not shrink more than two or three per cent.

Where no statement about shrinkage is given, fabrics such as percale, sheeting and prints of cotton, acetate or rayon may shrink up to 5 per cent; knitted, napped, braided, sheer and yarn dyed fabrics may shrink up to 10 per cent.

This group may include rugs, blankets, curtains, underwear, sweaters, flannels, lace tablecloths, bedspreads.

In humid summer weather, leather mildews easily. To protect against mildew, keep leather as clean as possible and in a dry place. If mildew does get to your leathers, wash them off promptly; then dry with a fan.

Can Add Color and Glow to Your Natural Complexion

Makeup Base Plays Very Important Role

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Your makeup base is extremely important. It can make a big difference in the way you look. In the first place it provides a base for your powder, thus prolonging the charm of your makeup.

★ ★ ★

Also, it can add needed color and glow to your natural complexion. It can hide sallow or oily skin and cover freckles and other defects.

No one makeup base is right for every woman because each complexion is individual and different. Learn these general rules and do some experimenting:

If you have a dry skin, you should use one of the creamy makeup bases which has sufficient oil. If your skin is very oily, you should use cake makeup or a vanishing cream.

A vanishing cream does just what its name indicates. It disappears, leaving a thin, non-greasy film on the skin. This acts as a base for the rest of your makeup and keeps the skin from shining.

The woman who has a normal skin can choose any type she prefers. She often likes a vanishing cream or a liquid powder. You should use a liquid powder only when you do not use a base.

It pays to experiment with the shade you use in both your base and your powder. Usually young girls and older women will find that the lighter shades are most flattering. Some women require more pink than others. Some look best in darker shades.

All of this depends on your natural skin tone unless it is most unattractive (such as sallow skin). In such instances your makeup base can come to your aid with more color.

Great care should be taken in the way this makeup is applied. Too often we see women whose makeup base does not come all the way to the hairline or stops at the chin. Blend the base out slightly into the hairline and make it continuous a bit below the neckline.

You can minimize defects by using a shade darker base on features or areas you wish to make look smaller, and a lighter one on those you want to bring out. For instance, if you have a large nose you would use a slightly darker base on the nose than you use on the rest of the face. If you have a receding chin, you should use a lighter shade on it.

Your face powder should blend with your base. If you have a dry skin, your powder should be very lightweight. If you have a normal skin it can be medium but not too heavy. If your skin is oily, use a heavy powder.

PROBABLY 2 SHADES

You probably will need two shades in base and powder, one for daytime and one for night. At night you will use a lighter, pinker shade. Remember, too, that until you lose your summer suntan your base and powder should be darker than usual. You can simply add a little darker base and powder to the ones you generally use.

Many cosmetic houses will blend powder especially for you or give you small samples to try at home.

Makeup is modern magic which can make you look like a different person if you will learn a few of its tricks.

If you would like my leaflet concerning makeup, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Nothing is more aging than rouge if it is applied with a heavy hand and without skill. As a matter of fact many chic women use rouge only at night; they depend on subtle eye makeup and lipstick for daytime.

★ ★ ★

However, some women are much prettier when they use rouge, even in the daylight hours. There are a few things to remember. In the first place, never use too much. Be sure that you blend it outward until there is no definite line of demarcation. We all have seen women whose rouge was in splotches or circles.

CALLS ATTENTION

Remember that rouge calls attention to the area on which it is placed. Therefore, if your face is round or broad, keep your rouge away from the temples and closer to the nose. If your face is long and slender, apply your rouge further away from your nose and blend it out toward the hairline.

★ ★ ★

I must also warn you that rouge which is applied too low on the face is aging. It emphasizes any tendency to droop which you may have. Never apply rouge over wrinkles. It calls attention to them.

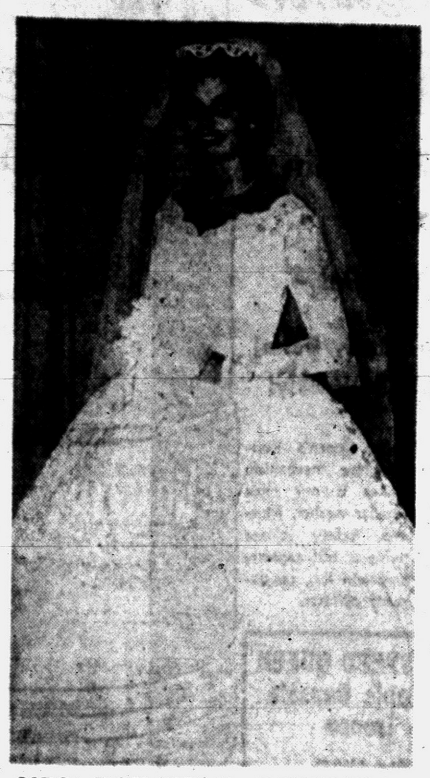

Eye shadow is another tricky makeup item. I myself think that the majority of women look better without it, but this is not always the case. Usually the aging effect it sometimes creates comes from too much shadow or a dark shade rather than a color. Vivid colors are often most flattering, as are the pastels.

★ ★ ★

For instance, blue-grays are becoming to women who have gray eyes. Greens are attractive on those whose eyes are brown, green or hazel. Blue eyes can be highlighted by blue, violet or blue-gray shadow. I think the grays and darker shades do little for a woman. In fact I think they make her look much older than she is.

★ ★ ★

Start eye shadow at the middle of the upper lids. Blend upward and outward subtly until shadow disappears as it approaches the brows. Do not use too much.

MRS. DONALD B. ROBERTSON

Susan Jo Ellen Strunk and Donald Bruce Robertson were united in marriage Saturday in Lansing. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Strunk, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Robertson.

MSU Students Married in Ceremony at Lansing

First Presbyterian Church of Lansing was the setting for the 7 p.m. wedding Saturday of Susan Jo Ellen Strunk and Donald Bruce Robertson. The Rev. Dr. William Marbach and the Rev. William Kuehn performed the double-ring ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Harmon Strunk of Lansing, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald James Robertson of East Hammond Lake drive.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of imported Rose Pointe lace and nylon tulle over Skinner's satin. The molded bodice of lace extended into deep scallops forming a wide portrait neckline, and the long fitted sleeves were finished in deep points over the wrists. Over the bell-shaped skirt of tulle was a tunic of scalloped patterned lace which fell in deep handkerchief points on each side.

Her fingertip-length veil fell from a matching lace pillbox which was scalloped and edged in tiny pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with purple-throated white orcids and stephanoitis with a shower of satin and ribbons.

Matron of honor was Mrs. William Lastroh of Grand Rapids and bridesmaids were Barbara Hess and Judy Baker of Lansing. They wore ballerina-length gowns of crystalette formed in princess style. The gowns were fashioned with wide scoop necklines formed by a narrow yoke. The attendants carried crescent-shaped bouquets of glamellias.

Richard Morrison of Pontiac served as the best man. The guests were seated by Richard Blacklaw, Marshall Katchka, Robert Crandall and James Wilcox, all of Pontiac.

For a reception in the church parlors the bride's mother wore a dress of powder blue lace over taffeta with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Robertson chose a champagne chiffon over taffeta dress with matching accessories and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

★ ★ ★

Before leaving on a trip to the Smoky Mountains the new Mrs. Robertson changed to a beige knobby linen sheath dress with brief matching wool jacket, beige and brown accessories and an orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in East Lansing where both attend MSU.

Tax Reduction Asked as He Has Attractive Wife

LONDON (INS) — Simon Pinder is seeking a tax reduction because he has a pretty wife.

Simon lives near the Naval Cadets School in Bristol. He asserted that the tax assessors should lower the taxes on his house for the following reasons:

★ ★ ★

Because of the proximity of the school, Pinder complained, his wife is "subject to a considerable amount of attention from the boys.

"She cannot sit in the garden without provoking numerous wolf whistles and peculiar looks.

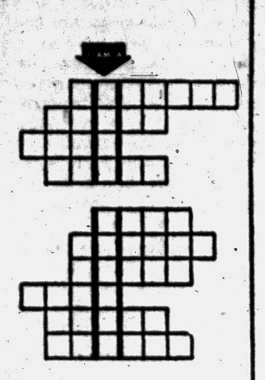

"Practice marches from the school always seem to take the boys directly past my home."

The assessors expressed sympathy but decided that Simon's house had been rated fairly and should not be changed.

Seoul Population Up

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Seoul's population is growing at the rate of 25,000 a month and now totals 1,636,464, city officials report.

Lazy Monkeys Work in Malaya

Scamper Up Coconut Trees to Obtain Fruit, Get Pop for Wages

WASHINGTON — Monkeys have been drafted into Malaya's labor force, but the banana - munching loafers just drink up their wages.

Putting monkeys to work is only one accomplishment of the up-and-coming country lying between Thailand and Singapore, says the National Geographic Society. Long famed for its tin and rubber, Malaya now has won self-government within the British Commonwealth.

Malaya's monkeys scamper up coconut trees and twist off the fruit. As wages, they get soda pop and other goodies.

Jungles of Alabama - size Malaya are so thick with vines and creepers that even wild animals use trails bulldozed by elephants. Elephants follow fixed routes, and woe betide a man who builds his home on an elephant path!

Malayan houses, made of palm leaves and bamboo, stand on stilts that help keep them free of snakes and other vermin. Stilts also protect houses against floods in one of the world's wettest countries.

About three times as much rain falls on Johore — the province near Singapore — as on Seattle, Washington. In a year each acre of Johre is doused with some 2,500,000 gallons of water.

Sopping but undaunted, sarong-clad Malayans tap rubber trees, mine tin, and catch crocodiles on hooks baited with chickens. They also grow pineapples, tea, and cassava, from whose roots tapioca is made.

In making tapioca, workers carefully remove the sap under the skin of the cassava root. The sap contains Prussic acid, familiar to detective story readers for its smell of bitter almonds and its reputation for killing almost instantly.

Southernmost tip of the Asian mainland, Malaya is a melting pot of races. Chinese immigrants now number about two-fifths of the population. If heavily Chinese Singapore were added to the Federation of Malaya, the Chinese population would outnumber the Malays. Malaya also has hundreds of thousand of Indians and Pakistanis.

Lard Is Traffic Hazard

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—A 10-pound can of lard in the back of a truck doesn't look much like a traffic hazard. But one fell off at the intersection of Dundas and Parliament Streets in downtown Toronto this week, throwing motorists and pedestrians into spins. Firemen had to be called out to wash away the slippery mess.

"I know I need more Life Insurance, but how can I afford it?"

HAVE you ever had this thought? Have you ever wondered how your wife could keep the family together if something should happen to you? This question faces most men while their children are growing up.

We believe that you will find the answer to this question in the Metropolitan Family Income Plan. This plan is designed to furnish the extra income needed to take care of your children until they have finished their education or are getting started in life.

The plan combines regular insurance with a special income provision which can be fitted to your particular circumstances and family needs. Here are some of its important features:

1. You choose the amount of monthly income needed—$100 a month, $200, $300 or more.

2. If you should die at any time within 20 years—while your children are growing up—the Metropolitan Family Income Plan will provide the income you arrange to be paid to your family each month for the remainder of the 20 years. Then the face amount of the policy will be paid in cash.

3. If you should live beyond 20 years, when the income provision is no longer in effect, your family will still have continuing protection for the face amount of the policy.

For your own peace of mind, why not get the complete details of the Family Income Plan from your Metropolitan Representative? He will be more than happy to explain it to you, and demonstrate that . . .

Area Man Wins 2 Prizes on Antique Stutz, Marmon

By DICK SAUNDERS

It was a big day for Oakland County at the seventh annual Old Car Festival at Greenfield Village, Saturday.

The judges, after an unprecedented and lengthy huddle, decided to stick by their guns and award both first and second places in the Grand Champion Awards for 1917-1925 division to a Birmingham man.

C. E. Valentine Jr., of 3108 Bradway Blvd., won first prize with his 1923 Stutz Bearcat and took second prize with his 1922 Marmon Speedster.

It was the first time in the festival's history that one man had taken both first and second place prizes in one division. The cars, which are the only ones he currently owns, were both in superb condition.

In turning the trick, Valentine won out over 115 other cars in his division and 16 other finalists who vied for the coveted Grand Champion Awards.

Valentine has owned the Stutz for about three years. Considering the original cost of the car and the two years of work restoring it, he estimated its present value at about $15,000.

★ ★ ★

He explained that the cost of restoration was much more than the original cost of most antique vehicles. The four-cylinder, 16 valve, T-head engine, was in perfect condition. It was one of the last of the famous four-cylinder bearcats, made by the old Stutz Motor Car Co. of America, Inc.

HAND RUBBED FINISH

In giving some idea of how much work went into the gleaming yellow finish alone, he said that he and his two sons, C. E. III, and Kenneth M., worked for about a year applying from 20 to 30 hand rubbed coats of paint.

The second prize Marmon Speedster, with a six cylinder overhead valve engine, carries about the same price tag. He has had it for over four years, having found it in a barn in Iowa where it had been sitting for about 15 years.

Its body was of aluminum and, with more concentrated work, he and his boys were able to restore it in about a year's time. The Marmon won second prize at the festival three years ago and the Stutz took second last year.

Valentine, president of the Valentine Welder and Manufacturing Co., of Detroit, has been associated with the auto industry for 30 years. He has been an active collector and restorer of antique cars for the past five years.

YEAR'S WORK

In explaining the long hours of painstaking care and labor connected with his work, he said, "It is nearly impossible to do a top notch job in less than a year, and in most cases it takes at least two to three years."

The entire day was one of glitterling spectacle from another era. A total of 250 cars of all imaginable sizes, shapes and makes, dating from 1900 through 1925, were gathered for the event.

They came, not only from Michigan, but from nine other eastern and midwestern states plus Canada. There were sputtering motors, a few engine failures, tempermental cranks, and an occasional backfire, but there were no shouts of, "Hey, why doncha get a horse?"

Everyone had a wonderful time, but also took the whole thing very seriously. It is safe to assume that, had you offered a swap with one of the owners or drivers for a brand new 1957 model car, he would have either laughed in your face or humored you, as one would an idiot.

PERIOD COSTUMES, TOO

Top hats, derby hats, straw hats, shirts, knickers, dusters, goggles, and the like, were in order. The women, likewise, appeared in everything from high button shoes to rolled stockings and flapper outfits.

★ ★ ★

Contests were held in each class. There were cranking contests in which drivers jumped from their autos, cranked furiously until the motor showed signs of life, then leaped back behind the wheel and tore down the field.

There were obstacle courses to be dealt with and towing races in which one car towed another with a thin rope, the object being to cross the finish line without breaking the frail threadlike hemp.

Possibly the most popular events of the day were the many drag races. Here, there were no preliminaries or special skills to be dealt with.

Each driver sat at the starting point waiting for the gun. Then, as the gun sounded, they would gun their souped up antiques down the field. In this case only speed was the telling factor.

For oldsters in the grandstand, it was a glorious look into the past which must have kindled memories. Such cars as the Knox, Toledo Steam, Holsman, Columbia, Reo, Stanley Steamer, Maxwell, Sears Buggy, International, Hupmobile, Thomas Flye-, and Pierce Arrow were represented in the widely varied field.

MOTORCYCLE TO MUSEUM

Early in the afternoon, a presentation was made to the Henry Ford Museum by Walter Davidson, vice president of sales, for the Harley-Davidson Motorcycle Co. He gave the museum one of the company's first motorcycles, a 1907 model.

Later in the day, C. W. Kelsey, co-founder of the Kelsey-Hayes Co., presented the museum with a 1910 Kelsey Motorette. The auto, a rarity in antique cars, had two front wheels and one rear wheel located so as to form a triangle.

Of the 250 cars at the festival, 28 were from Oakland County. Of the 28 representatives from Oakland County, about a third won blue ribbons and vied for top honors.

A party for officials, participants, and members of the press and radio was held after the final Grand Champion Awards were decided upon.

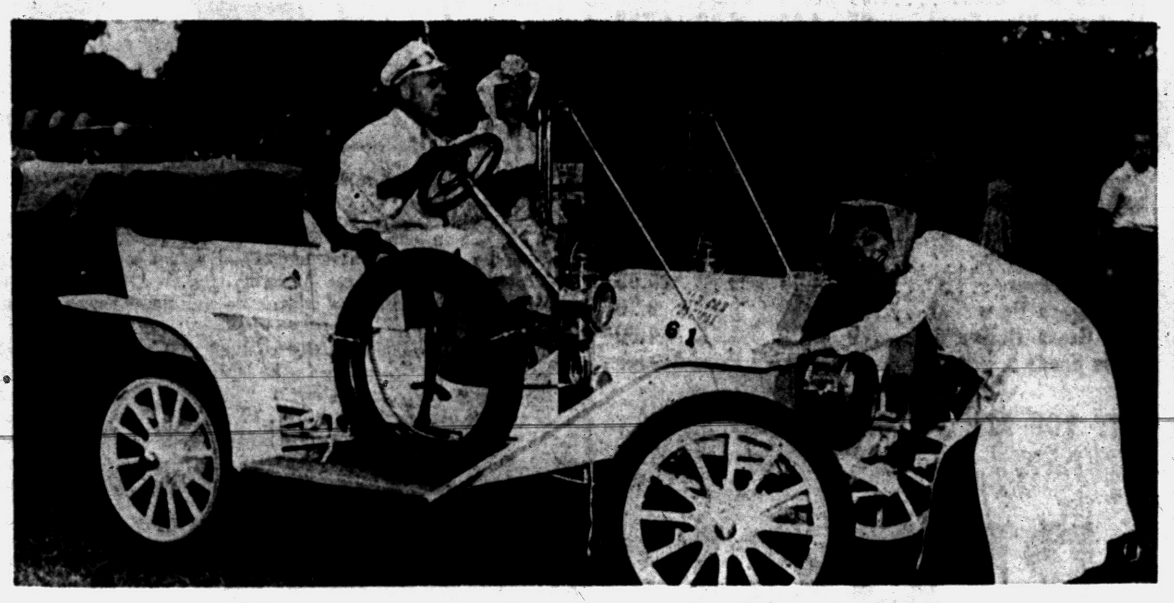

This was followed by a buffet-style banquet, at which the winners were officially given their silver cups. Then, one by one, the old cars chugged out into a new world of automation, to disappear until next year's festival once again signals their return.

BIG MOMENT FOR BIRMINGHAM BOY — Kenneth M. Valentine, 18, proudly accepts the silver cup for first place in the Grand Champion Awards won by the 1923 Stutz Bearcat owned by his father, C. E. Valentine Jr., of 3108 Bradway Blvd., Birmingham. The cup is being awarded him by Harriet Stoner, of Detroit, one of the costumed misses representing the Old Car Festival Committee. The car won second place in the Grand Champions Awards last year and was No. 1 of a history making one-two punch Saturday. The judges were awed by its superb restoration inside and out and its immaculate finish which took from 20 to 30 coats of paint.

DO IT YOURSELF, 1910 STYLE — "You own it — you crank it," seems to have been the rule, as Harry E. Day, of 19335 Riverside Dr., Birmingham, sits patiently watching Mrs. Day crank her 1910 Buick. Seated next to Mr. Day is Mrs. Dale McCormick, of Detroit. From all indications, the owner seems to be having more fun than anyone in an effort to get her red ribbon winner going. They are typical of the many contestants who came dressed for the event.

Jordan Gets Aid in Syrian Threat

First U.S. Arms Arrive by Air to Begin Buildup for Mideast Defense

Jordanian officials and other dignitaries were on hand to greet the convoy of eight Globemasters and Flying Boxcars bringing recoilless rifles, jeeps, machine guns and ammunition.

Both Moscow and Syria charged that the United States was plotting an attack on Syria, next door to Jordan.

★ ★ ★

In Cairo, the morning newspaper El Shaab accused the United States of planning to blow up Western-owned oil pipelines in Syria to provide an excuse for an armed attack on that country.

The arms, flown from U.S. depots in Europe, are part of a 10-million-dollar military aid program to Jordan announced last spring.

The arms are intended to counterbalance weapons the Soviet Union has been pouring into Syria.

Strict secrecy was imposed on the types of arms being sent. Sources in Cairo said they include Patton tanks of World War II vintage.

Inkster GI Holds Key in Girard Tokyo Trial

TOKYO (INS) — A witness who has shunned the limelight holds the key to whether GI William Girard is convicted of manslaughter for killing a Japanese woman with an empty cartridge on a U.S. Army firing range.

He is a 21-year-old army buddy, Victor Nickel of Inkster, Mich., who will be the first "live" prosecution witness to testify in the Girard trial.

Nickel, who has refused to be interviewed by newsmen, is scheduled to testify when the trial shifts to Hill 655 Thursday for an on-the-spot investigation of the place where Mrs. Naka Saki was killed last Jan. 30.

Girard, 22, of Ottawa, Ill., faces 2 to 15 years for "bodily injury resulting in the death" (the equivalent of a lesser manslaughter indictment) of Mrs. Sakai.

Contests, Races Bring Laughter at Greenfield

The huffing and puffing of a calliope gave an air of merriment to proceedings at Greenfield Village's seventh annual Old Car Festival Saturday.

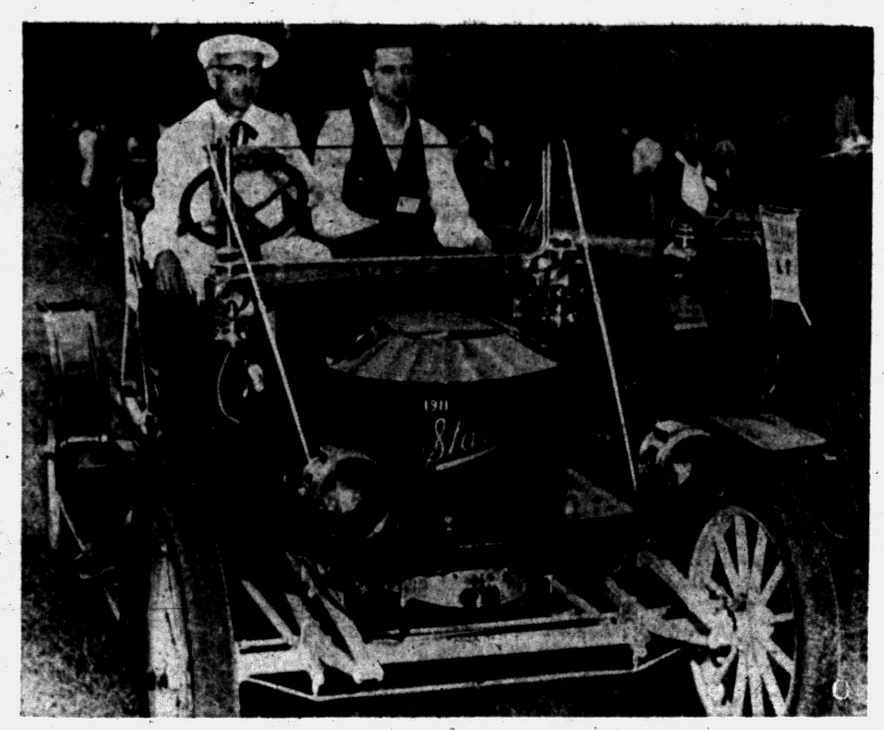

★ ★ ★

The contests provided much of the merriment. What a difference a year makes was aptly pointed out by two ancient Oldsmobiles.

A 1904 model consistently finished a length ahead of the 1903 model in divisional drag races, bringing laughs from the crowd. Possibly the biggest laugh came late in the day as the 1917-1925 blue ribbon winners lined up for the grand prizes.

Third place went to a 1917 Roamer Touring Car, owned by Kenneth B. Butler, of Mendota, Ill., and embarrassment reigned for a moment with the joy of winning.

His car would not start and had to be pushed half-way around the green by a dozen men before the motor took hold and he could arrive at the award stand under his own power.

The two were photographed immediately after taking first place in a drag race on the Village Green at the Old Car Festival. The souped up steamer flashed past its opponents, proudly crossing the finish line in a blaze of glory.

Mushrooms Inspected

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Hospitals have been getting so many cases of mushroom poisoning that the city has assigned inspectors to all markets to check on the edible and poisonous varieties. One hospital, specially equipped to handle mushroom cases, has had 70 cases this season. Many amateur mushroom gatherers in the wooded hills around the city sell their wares directly to the markets.

Report More Working

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Employment Security Commission said non-farm employment in the state rose by 13,000 from mid-July to mid-August. The MESC said the return to work of Flint factory workers after short layoffs was chiefly responsible for the employment rise.

Junior Editors Quiz on EXPLORATION

QUESTION: What ship first sailed the Hudson River?

ANSWER: In 1609, the Dutch East India Company commissioned Henry Hudson, an English navigator, to search for a northwest passage to China or India. Hudson set sail in his ship, the "Half Moon," and four months later reached the eastern coast of America near present-day New York City.

While exploring this area, Hudson discovered a wide river which he was certain must be a water route to the Far East. Hudson sailed up the river for several miles and then sent out a group of men in a small boat to explore the river more thoroughly. They pushed up as far as the present site of Albany, where they found that the river narrowed, so the plan was abandoned.

Thus, the "Half Moon" was the first ship to sail up the river that now bears the name of its discoverer.

FOR YOU TO DO: Organize a game with your friends to see who can name the most early explorers of America.

What Is Asian Flu? How Can You Avoid It?

(Somewhere in Northwest China, sometime last January, a man woke up one morning with a sore throat, a cough, a fever, and soreness throughout his body. This unidentified Chinese was the first victim of what has since been named Asian flue, a disease which is now seeded around the world, and already has hit millions. There have been verified cases of it in all parts of the U.S., and it's considered certain there will be an epidemic this fall or winter. What Asian flu is, how you can try to avoid it, and what you can do if you catch it are dealt with in a series of three articles, the first of which follows.)

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL
INS Staff Writer

Shake hands wifth five people, and you will have met a man who will be vaccinated or knocked off his feet this fall by Asian influenza.

Fortunately, similar statistics show you would have to shake hands with thousands more before finding one person who will die of the disease.

No one knows exactly when the "pandemic" or world-girding flu infection will break out in American cities and perhaps even paralyze major metropolitan areas.

But experts say the new, mutant virus that causes Asian influzuna already has broken out in "localized epidemics" and is well seeded throughout the country. It apparently waits only for wet, cold weather.

Then, they say, the virus probably will spread in fast waves, like past influenza epidemics, slowed down only by the vaccination program, and by the things you do to prevent infection or to recover as quickly and painlessly as possible.

HOW WILL IT SPREAD?

First, how will Asian influenza spread?

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney, the relaxed, pipe-smoking doctor who heads the U. S. Public Health Service, has estimated the epidemic would break out sometime after Sept. 15.

It may strike from 17 to 34 million Americans, probably in many areas at about the same time, without geographic pattern and all within four weeks.

This high "attack rate" is the "outstanding characteristic" of the mutant virus, according to Dr. Maurice R. Hilleman of Walter Reed Army Hospital, the man who first realized it was roaming unchecked in the world.

He spotted a news story about thousands being stricken in Hong Kong by some kind of flu, and then led a Walter Reed Army Institute of research team to isolate the virus.

ONE IN FIVE GET IT

In the Orient, researchers found that about one out of five persons in any infected community caught the disease, and of those who caught it, only two out of each 1,000 died. Most of them were very young children or old people.

★ ★ ★

There is evidence this death rate may be even lower in the U.S.

There also is a possibility it may be higher.

★ ★ ★

This is what Dr. David D. Rutstein, professor and head of the department of preventative medicine at Harvard University, worte in the August issue of Harper's Magazine:

"We do not yet know how virulent the new mutant, will be or whether it will favor invasion by pneumonia-producing germs . . .

"We may be reassured that during the present summer the epidemic will be relatively mild, because the complicating germs do not flourish at this time of the year as they do in the colder months.

"Even in the severe 1918-19 pandemic, the disease in the first wave during the summer was relatively mild. We may expect the present wave or relatively mild influenza to die away in the late summer. We do not know whether this will be the end of the epidemic or whether it will recur in a second, more serious wave of disease as in 1918-19."

DEATH RATE TO BE LOW

Similarly, the American Medical Association has warned that one possible development, which may not be probable but must be considered, is an "explosive outbreak in fall or winter with attack and mortality rates similar to 1918."

Dr. Burney himself has acknowledged this possibility.

The 1918-19 influenza epidemic may also have been caused by a mutant virus of that same type a strain as the Asian influenza virus. It killed 20 million, 548,000 of them in the U.S.A. Most of them were young male adults.

Experts believe the death rate from the Asian flu probably will be far, far lower for a number of reasons:

—Doctors now have anti-biotics such as penicillin, and the sulfa drugs to battle pneumonia and other secondary infections.

—The influenza has been relatively mild in the Far East, and has not increased markedly in virulence since going through many population groups.

Scope Weekly, the newspaper put out by the Upjohn Company for physicians, said it is quite unlikely the virulence will increase, "based on our past experience with influenza epidemics." But the newspaper added:

"We cannot rule out the possibility that the severity of the illness may increase. The changing bacterial flora of the host (that's you) may make him more susceptible to influenza during the winter months, but this is still speculation."

—Six big drug companies are moving fast in making a newly developed vaccine to protect Americans. The crash program has been stepped up to where an estimated 80 to 85 million shots will be produced by Jan 1.

By the end of August, more than two and one-half million shots had been released, most of them for use by the armed forces. Shots for the public were expected to be available through private doctors sometime before the end of September.

Burney has admitted there will be neither enough shots nor enough time to immunize most people before the influenza season gets under way. But the shots may keep the flu from paralyzing metropolitan centers.

Even if it hits only one out of every 10 people, instead of one out of five as predicted, the flu could cripple vital services and organizations.

Thus the public health service has urged inoculations first for the estimated 12 million doctors, nurses, firemen, telephone operators, utilities men and others in the most "essential functions."

But even if all these inoculations are carried out, the Asian flu, which spreads through close contact between peoples, may force closing of schools, theaters, churches, factories and offices, and may slow down or even stop the highly integrated services that keep our cities going.

(Next: What to do if you catch the flue.)

Sweet Smell of Success

Eye Roast Chicken Aroma

NEW YORK (INS) — Chemists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are trying to find out why a chicken dinner smells and tastes like a chicken dinner.

Chemist E. L. Pippen of the USDA told the national meeting of the American Chemical Society that at least 16 chemicals go to make up the savory aroma of roast chicken.

Pippen pointed out that chemists are seeking information so that they can restore the flavor of poultry products which lose some gustatory appeal in certain processing.

★ ★ ★

In the investigations of chicken flavor by the USDA's western utilization and research and development division at Albany, Calif., scientists passed air through a simmering mixture of chicken and water — chicken soup.

Pippen pointed out that finding so many compounds "in just one chemical family indicates that volatile chicken flavor is a complex mixture . . ."

"If that danged gun hadn't been so hard to handle," the little old lady said, "I'd-a had me a bearskin rug."

State Police said a horse ridden by Nicholas Rifici of Atlantic City, collided with a car driven by Weston Smith, also of Atlantic City, at an intersection.

Ex-Detroit Names Figure in 20-14 Lions' Defeat

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BUFFALO, N.Y. — A Detroit story with a Pittsburgh ending took place at Buffalo's Civic Auditorium yesterday afternoon where the Lions went down to their first pre-season defeat, 20-14, at the hands of the Steelers.

For the ex-Lions' coach it was a sweet victory, the second win since taking over two weeks ago. The Steelers had never beaten Parker when he was at Detroit. The last win for the Steeltowners was a 14-7 decision in 1949 when Bo McMillin was head coach.

* * *

It was Marchibroda who maneuvered yesterday's victory after relieving starter Len Dawson early in the game. The Steelers scored seven points in the second period and 13 in the third stanza, and with the help of several bad Detroit mistakes, they put up a stiff defense when the Lions were knocking on the doorstep.

* * *

Linebacker Joe Schmidt, himself a native Pittsburgher, did an encore of a stunt he pulled two years ago to score the first touchdown for the Lions.

When Sonny Gandee smeared Dawson from the blind side late in the first period, the ball popped around the backfield. Schmidt picked it up and cut toward the corner and into the end zone 14 yards for the touchdown.

Layne converted and Detroit led 7-0 after 11 minutes of playing time.

* * *

A field goal attempt from the 39 by Jim Martin failed as the quarter ended. Midway in the second quarter, Layne moved the team for two first downs but he then fumbled on the 50 where Jack Butler recovered and ran all the way over the goal line.

The TD was nullified for a Steelers' clipping penalty, but it took Marchibroda only seven plays and the score was tied with Fran Rogel going one yard and Gary Glick converting.

Three passes for 10, 13 and 13 yards to Ray Mathews were included in the series. This was the halftime score, 7-7, as Layne missed an attempt from the 37 for the field goal.

* * *

When Yale Lary was forced to punt after 2:30 of the second half, rookie Dick Hughes took the ball on the 14 and raced 86 yards for the touchdown. Glick again converted to make it 14-7.

It was a spectacular dash by the former Tulsa halfback. The key block was thrown by little Fred Bruney who smeared Gene Cronin just past midfield. Terry Barr, the last Lion downfield, was taken out at the 25 and Hughes waltzed over.

A moment later, after the kickoff, Layne's pass was intercepted by Glick and he returned 44 yards to the Detroit 39 before being stopped. With one pass and two unsuccessful running plays, Glick booted the ball 30 yards for the 3-pointer and Pittsburgh led 17-7.

* * *

Glick again kicked a 16-yard field goal two minutes later to make it 20-17. Three 15-yard penalties against Detroit aided the cause plus a 22-yard pass play from Marchibroda to Rogel.

A poor Steeler punt which traveled only 22 yards put the Lions on the 43 early in the 4th stanza. Layne passed twice to Tracy for 8 and 9 yards, he then hit Middleton twice for 18 and 9 yards and finished the drive with a 3-yard TD pass to Jerry Reichow. Layne's point made it 20-14.

Three opportunities were muffed in the last 10 minutes of play. Another bad Steeler punt only 21 yards gave Detroit the ball on the Pitt 41. Hopalong Cassady then fumbled Layne's pitchout and the Steelers recovered.

* * *

On the third play of this series, Jack Christiansen intercepted Marchibroda's pass and streaked 43 yards to the Steeler 27.

Layne passed to Reichow, who made the catch but then fumbled. Stan Campbell recovered on the 16. On the next play Layne fumbled and John Reger fell on it on the 12-yard line, with 1:25 left.

Parker Wears Familiar but New Victory Smile

BUFFALO — Coach Buddy Parker wore a familiar but "new" smile of victory after his club the Pittsburgh Steelers defeated the Lions 20-14 yesterday.

He still thought very highly of his former team, however, when he said, "The Lions will win the Western Division title this year." He made the remark after the game.

When one writer remarked, "You probably wanted this game more than anything," Parker replied, "Not exactly, I want the championship more than anything."

Coach George Wilson, who tasted his first defeat of the pre-season schedule, was downcast but high in his praises for Tom "The Bomb" Tracy, John Henry Johnson and end Steve Junker. "We had some bad breaks" he said.

Parker also lauded Tracy's hard running and in viewing his own team he said, "We will have to win with a strong defense, our offensive unit is not real strong."

He had high praises for back Gary Glick who was the defensive star for the Steelers. Glick kicked two field goals, two extra points, made a beautiful run of an intercepted pass and broke up numerous pass attempts by the Lions.

Parker has seen the Steelers win two straight since joining the club, "Always great to be with a winner," he laughed.

NO ROOM FOR HOPPY—Howard (Hopalong) Cassady (40) finds little room to move as a host of Pittsburgh Steelers converge on him after a short gain in yesterday's game in Buffalo. Cassady is stopped by Art Michalik (62) and Jack Butler (80). The Steelers won, 20-14.

Eddie Erdelatz, who just had his contract renewed at Navy, turned down a pro coaching offer that would have doubled his salary on an eight-year iron-clad setup which also would have given him a piece of the club.

The 99 Club will hold its 4th annual golf tournament at Moreys Wednesday starting at noon. A buffet supper will follow at 7:30 p.m. Tomorow is last day for entries. The tourney is handicap.

Last season U. of D. end Perry Richards was smeared hard in the Tulsa game and the injury kept him out for the entire season. The fellow who hit Richards was Dick Hughes, who yesterday went 86 yards for the Pittsburgh touchdown against the Lions on a punt return. Hughes and Richards are now roommates.

When Jack Christiansen intercepted a pass and raced down the sidelines yesterday against the Steelers, he was hit very hard and knocked out of bounds. It was ex-Lion Bill Bowman recently obtained by Pittsburgh from San Francisco who sent Christiansen flying.

Jittery Braves, Yanks Lead Leagues by 5½

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The pitching mound, where Milwaukee lost the National League pennant during the closing weeks of the season last year, once again has become "Heartbreak Hill" for Fred Haney, Braves manager.

* * *

Their first place margin over St. Louis reduced to 5½ games—lowest since Aug. 11—by Sunday's 5-3 loss to Chicago, the Braves faced the last three weeks of the season today with one reliable pitcher—Warren Spahn, 36. The other members of the once formidable Big Four—Lew Burdette, Bob Buhl and Gene Conley—are either ailing or failing.

The New York Yankees, also plagued by a pitching shortage, got good relief pitching by Bobby Shantz and defeated Washington 5-2 to increase their first place lead to 5½ games over Chicago in the American League. The White Sox, who now trail by four games in the important "lost" column, dropped a 13-inning 3-2 decision to Kansas City.

The Cardinals overcame a 3-0 deficit with two runs each in the eighth and ninth innings to defeat Cincinati 4-3. St. Louis has 17 games left to play to Milwaukee's 18.

In other games, the New York Giants defeated Brooklyn 3-2 in the final game between the ancient rivals at the Polo Grounds, preventing the third place Dodgers from improving their seven-game deficit. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh split, the Phillies winning the first game 7-4 and the Pirates taking the second 6-2.

Milwaukee has played 25 games since Aug. 13, the day Burdette pitched what was then the seventh consecutive complete game by a Brave pitcher. Only seven times since then has a Milwaukee pitcher gone the route. Spahn was that pitcher on five occasions. Burdette went all the way once—in six starts. Conley went 0-for-5 and Buhl, sidelined the past two weeks with a sore shoulder, went 0-for-2. Bob Trowbridge pitched the other complete game.

* * *

It was Conley who failed yesterday although relief pitcher Ernie Johnson took the defeat. Big Gene, who hasn't won since Aug. 11, failed to last the fourth inning when the Cubs increased their lead to 3-0. The Braves fought back to tie the score at 3-3 in the ninth but four walks plus pinchhitter Bob Will's single produced two Chicago runs in the 10th and paved the way for Milwaukee's fourth loss in its last five games.

Pontiac K. of C. Golf Champions

Vitale fired a 36-37—73 over the par 36-35—71 Owosso Country Club layout to defeat Ed Wasik of Pontiac.

Defending champion John Tews of Bay City and Sam Molnar, who won the singles title in 1955, were tied for third at 75.

Tigers Dump Tribe, Hit Road

DETROIT (AP) — Eighteen baseball games from now the Detroit Tigers will measure their successes against their failures, try to capitalize on the one and overcome the others.

"It's a pretty good way to go on the road," manager Jack Tighe thought. "We're not sure of anything just now, but going on the road with a three-game lead over Cleveland should be pretty good tonic."

In-and-outer Bill Hoeft was "in" for the second successive game — the first time this year the tall lefty has been able to string together two straight victories — and become a winner for the eighth time. Hoeft was effective except for two brief lapses.

In the fifth inning after retiring the first two Indians, Hoeft was touched for three straight singles by starting pitcher Cal McLish, Dick Williams and Bob Avila. But Al Kaline's strong throw from right field on Avila's safety nailed McLish at the plate.

* * *

Hoeft weakened momentarily in the eighth, yielding Gene Woodling's 18th home run that carried over the right field foul pole and drew strong protests from Tighe, Kaline, Dave Philley and other Tigers.

Hoeft struck out seven batters and walked three and received nine-hit backing from his teammates.

The 15-game road trip begins in Washington with a Tuesday night encounter. Tigers play four straight night games, a Saturday contest in Baltimore and a double header in Boston.

* * *

For the seven games in six days — including four night games — Tighe will have extra pitching help. Tigers purchased relief specialist Joe Presko from their Charleston farm club, and another righthander, Chuck Daniel, will report Tuesday in Washington.

Four singles and a wild pitch enabled the Tigers to jump off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning of yesterday's game, witnessed by 13,218 spectators.

Bears Start Rolling

49ers, Packers Undefeated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

San Francisco's 49ers and Green Bay's Packers are the only teams with unblemished exhibition records in the National Football League but Chicago's big bad Bears have started to rumble.

* * *

The Bears, beaten by the New York Giants in last fall's playoff, sprung loose a rokie halfback by the name of Willie Galimore yesterday and dealt the Philadelphia Eagles their fifth straight setback 24-14 in one of the five games played over the weekend.

* * *

In Saturday's game, the 49ers and Packers each won their fourth straight with San Francisco defeating the winless Chicago Cardinals 27-21 and Green Bay downing the Giants 13-10. Sunday the Pittsburgh Steelers won their second straight after two defeats by turning back the Detroit Lions 20-14 and the Washington Redskins won their first after losing three with a 24-14 victory over the Baltimore Colts. The Giants defeat was the champions' second. They also have won three, including the All-Star game.

* * *

Galimore, a 190-pounder from Florida A&M, reeled off touch down runs of 74 and 100 yards as the Bears made their exhibition record two victories, one defeat and a tie. He opened the scoring with a 74-yard sprint on the second play of the game. He took the kickoff after the Eagles had tied the score at 14-14 early in the final period and stepped off the length of the gridiron.

Y. A. Tittle, veteran quarterback, again engineered the 49ers attack. Passes to Clyde Conner and R. C. "Overdrive" Owens accounted for two of the four touchdowns. Gene Babb plunged for the others.

* * *

Two field goals by Fred Cone, one from 17 yards out and the other from 30 yards out, gave the Packers their advantage over the Giants. Don Chandler missed a 38-yard field goal attempt in the last two minutes as the Giants battled to square the score.

Bennie and Duffy Have Their Problems

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After a rugged opening week of football drills, coaches Bennie Oosterbaan at Michigan and Duffy Daugherty at State had a good chance today to analyze the chief problems confronting them before another Big Ten season gets underway.

Oosterbaan's biggest disappointment thus far has been his team's "sporadic improvement." He regards the present crop of Wolverines as "ragged" in necessary fundamentals.

The offense showed steady improvement in four scrimmages at Ann Arbor and has been far ahead of the defense as was indicated in a Saturday session. The varsity tallied eight touchdowns in a game-length workout against a reserve group with Royal Oak halfback Darrell Harper going over three times.

Injuries to such key performers as Jim Pace, Jim Van Pelt, Mike Shatusky, John Herrnstein and Ron Kramer's replacement Gary Prahst also have Oosterbaan worried.

A sensation in his sophomore year, the hard-running halfback appears recovered from a leg injury which hampered him last season and has been covering a lot of ground in workouts. The 210-pound senior was at his pile-driving best in a Saturday scrimmage.

Kowalczyk gave MSU coaches a couple of bad minutes in the game-type session when he limped away after a pileup. But the injury proved only a minor knee bump and the hefty former Rose Bowl star was sprinting again after a brief rest on the sidelines.

"If he's healthy, he could carry the team with him," commented Daugherty following the scrimmage. "He's a bruiser on offense and has shown constant improvement on defense."

But he still played 158 minutes and covered 128 yards in 42 carries for a better than a three yard a try average.

Prep Series to Start

Starting tomorrow, roundups of all the area prep football leagues will be found in a series of articles in The Press sports pages. Inter-Lakes Conference starts the series tomorrow.

14-Year-Old Sets Pace in 3-County Ski Event

Johnny Pierce of Birmingham is only 14 years old, but the wiry youngster yesterday set the pace for water skiers in the first Tri-County Water Ski tourney at Lake Sherwood.

Johnny won the slalom, placed 2nd in trick and jumps to compile a winning total of 1,300 points in the day-long meet, which attracted a big field of capable skiers. A good audience also was on hand to watch the events that did not conclude until dusk. Women's jumping was the finale.

Sunday's meet wound up the season's water-ski tourneys for the area, as far as Lake Sherwood officials know. It drew skiers from Oakland, Wayne and Washtenaw counties, including representatives of Cass Lake, Sylvan Lake, Union, Walled Lake and Whitemore Lake ski clubs.

* * *

Doris Schouten of Flat Rock won the women's overall crown with 900 points. She took the trick, was 2nd in slalom and 4th in the jump.

Byard-Ellstrom Take 2nd Crown

Pine Lake Champs Win Best-Ball Golf Tourney at Indianwood CC

Perry Byard of Rochester and Ralph Ellstrom of Dearborn, winners of the Pine Lake Invitational golf tourney last June, added another title to their collection Sunday afternoon.

Byard and Ellstrom had the keys to success again yesterday with a 4-3 victory over Jack Zinn and Paul Anderson in the finals of the 1st annual Indianwood Country Club Invitational Best-Ball tournament.

The veteran amateur team was two under par in turning back Zinn and Anderson in the 18-hole championship match and also two under regulation in defeating Jim Doll and Howard Wikel, 4-3, in the morning semi-finals.

Erv Richards and Jim Hite conquered Dick DeWitt and Tom Thum to win the 1st flight, Jay Isles and Dan Nancarro defeated Simmons and Murphy for the 2nd flight title, and brothers Austin and Jim Dunville beat Chamberlain and Boisonault to take the 3rd flight.

Experience Should Win Amateur, Golfers Think

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The winner of the 57th National Amateur golf championship likely will be a player about 34 or 35 years old with a good background of tournament experience. He'll have to be young enough to withstand 180 holes of golf within six days and old and smart enough to think out every shot.

That's a crude concensus of some of the top performers in the 200-man field which began play in the amateur today over the historic course of The Country Club.

Play began at 7 a.m., EST, today with 72 first round matches on the card. Another single round will be played tomorrow, double 18-hole tests on Wednesday and Thursday and then the 36-hole semifinals and finals Friday and Saturday.

Two-time champion Willie Turnesa, who went to the quarter finals of the 1934 amateur at The Country Club when he was a freshman at Holy Cross, calls the present 75th anniversary layout one which calls for a lot of knowledge and thinking but one which can be licked by a player who is long off the tees and who can putt well.

"There's no out of bounds; the rough is dried out and the targets are small," Turnesa said after his final practice round over the 6,825-yard, par 35-37—72 course. Anybody who can get up close to the greens should do pretty well."

Some of the others don't exactly agree, but most of them are pretty sure that no wild-shooting youngster will go all the way.

Billy Joe Patton argues that anyone who can shoot 73 or 74 consistently should go a long way. Hillman Robbins, one of the younger members of the U. S. Walker Cup team, insists a player has to be good in every department to score well and in addition he has to know the course well because of the large number of blind approaches.

Tall Tim Holland, former Long Island champion, is looking for a lot of upsets because the rough isn't uniform and some of the shots from way out yonder can be easier than those just off the fairway.

Turnesa, who won the championship in 1938 and 1948 and the British Amateur in 1947, agrees about the upsets.

Lake Yields Big Bass

What is regarded as one of the biggest black bass taken from Long Lake (near Union Lake) this season was the 4½-pounder landed Saturday by Mrs. Gerald Blue, 1688 Point Dr., Pontiac.

Mrs. Blue, fishing with her husband, used a deep-running hula lure. Her fish was 20¼ inches long. She recently took a 26-inch pike from the same waters, better-known as a pike lake than as a bass lake.

Richards Joins TV

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Rev. Bob Richards, who has dominated the sport of pole vaulting for nearly a decade, is giving up amateur competition for a television career.

Richards, 31, will appear as host on a half-hour weekly sports show to be carried by the ABC network. The first show is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 3.

NATIONAL NET CHAMPIONS — Vice President Richard Nixon does the honors of presenting the trophies to Althea Gibson of New York and Mal Anderson of Australia, the National Tennis champions at Forest Hills, N. Y. Anderson surprised Ashley Cooper of Australia in the finals, 10-8, 7-5 and 6-4. Miss Gibson defeated Louise Brough, 6-3 and 6-2.

Tennis Dream Comes True

Althea Beats Miss Brough for Title

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Three short years ago, Althea Gibson was so discouraged she was ready to give up tennis and join the Women's Army Corps.

Today the angular Harlem girl ruled as undisputed queen of the courts, the first Negro ever to win a national championship.

"I was ready to chuck it all in those days," Miss Gibson said. "I was mixed up and seemed to be getting nowhere in the game. Now, of course I'm glad I didn't join the Wacs."

She should be. Yesterday, on the polished center court of the West Side Tennis Club, she gave a superb exhibition of craftsmanship to defeat Louise Brough 6-3, 6-2 in the final. The victory culminated a dream of seven years for Miss Gibson, 30.

The result of the men's division was a distinct surprise. Unseeded Mal Anderson whipped his Australian teammate, Ashley Cooper 10-8, 7-5, 6-4 in the second all-Australian final in two years.

Cooper, champion of Australia, was seeded No. 1. But he never was in the match against the skinny Anderson. It was the first time in the memory of veteran officials that an unseeded player has won this coveted title.

Miss Gibson's victory over Miss Brough, 34, Beverly Hills, Calif., campaigner, came in the form of sweet revenge. It was against Miss Brough that Althea first gained recognition. It was in 1950 she met Miss Brough in a second round match. She was within two points of winning when a violent thunderstorm erupted. The match was completed the next day and Miss Brough won it.

"I am going to take singing lessons from a good instructor," she said. "I've been told my voice has potential. In fact, I've had telegrams from record companies asking me if I'd care to make records.

"This tennis has to end sometime and I've got to start making a living."

The Anderson - Cooper match produced some added bad news for the U.S. Davis Cup forces who are going to try to take the mug from the Aussies in December.

Anderson wasn't figured as a worry. Now he is almost sure to replace Neale Fraser in the singles. At 22, he played with the confidence of an old-timer.

Red Wings Open Training Season

More Than 70 Players Report to Camp Today at Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — More than 70 hockey players checked in today as the Detroit Red Wings opened their 10th training season in this Upper Peninsula city.

Players will be divided into four squads during the 17-day workout. Each squad will work at least 90 minutes and, as usual, general manager Jack Adams has encouraged the players to play 18 holes of golf each day to speed conditioning.

"We think we have a fine squad," said Adams. "We're still listening for trades. We could use another solid defenseman and we're willing to do some more dealing."

Musial Ready to Play Again

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan "The Man" Musial, 36, National League's leading hitter, says there will be a lot more at stake than his bid for the batting title when he returns to the regular lineup tomorrow for the St. Louis Cardinals.

★ ★ ★

Musial, out since Aug. 22 with a shoulder injury, singled as a pinch-hitter to keep an eighth inning rally going yesterday in a 4-3 victory over Cincinnati. He said his shoulder still was a little sore but today's rest would help.

Officials Hold Meet Saturday

State Athletic Council Discusses Rule Changes in Confab at PCC

The fall meeting of the Michigan Athletic Officials Association Council was held Saturday at Pontiac Country Club, with the Pontiac Officials Association playing host to the occasion.

Charles Forsythe, state athletic director, was present at the gathering and 10 of the state's 14 associations were represented.

Football rules charges were discussed in an effort to insure uniformity of action by officials throughout the state during the coming season.

There were no radical rule changes this year. The new rule which states that only one player may confer with his coach at any time during the course of the game, was the most significant change and prompted the most discussion.

Rules governing how many officials are entitled to blow their whistles on the field and who will signal touchdowns were also discussed.

45 Players Report for Tartars' Squad

DETROIT (AP)—Forty-five candidates were expected today as Wayne State University started preparations for the defense of its President's Athletic Conference football title.

Wayne, which had a 4-2-1 record last year (3-0-1 in conference play), opens the season Oct. 5 facing Case Tech in Detroit.

Predict Woman Will Make 1st Trip to Moon

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — At some early time in every woman's life—usually around 14, when her nose stops running and her hose start—she begins to contemplate the moon.

Now the moon, when you sit under and analyze it dispassionately, is not much. Scenically, it is considerably outclassed by the torch and the brush fire. For psychological uplift, it isn't even in the same orbit with the sun or a good, fluorescent billboard selling fuel oil.

Scarcely a man alive would give the moon the time of night, if it were not for the strange fascination it holds for women. It is cold, usually colorless, flat and remote—but girls have a thing about it, and that's that. It would be madness to try counting the number of romances that have gotten off on the right, hot foot, simply because a small pallid disc is pasted in the dark sky at the right place and the right time.

Well, all this considered, it was most appropriate for the American Psychological Association to predict, recently, that the first trip to the moon probably will be made—not by a strapping scientist, not by a courageous young space-fiction fan—but by a small, and preferably wacky, woman.

NO SURPRISE

It figures. And for the intense feminists of America to learn that one of their very omnipotent own may one day be delegated to the premiere push into space is most gratifying. It corroborates what the ladies in the back room (at the girls gymnasium) have said all along:

There is one catch to this delicious situation, and that is the news that the dame who heads moonward must be — or at any rate, try to be—off her rocker. As Dr. Harold Pepinsky of Ohio State University told the society: Investigations may show that only an extremely disturbed person is likely to enjoy and endure such a trip.

He recommends a small, compact woman with brains and scholastic ability, who is also neurotic-unto-psychotic.

As most sociologically-minded women in New York business could tell you, this may be one of the easiest types to locate in modern society. With the lopsided ratio of woman-over-man in today's culture, and the aggressive spirit which has beset the female sex in the last century, it is more than ever apparent that almost every woman you know is—in one deperate way or another—reaching for the moon.

It's been, until now, a large problem (and source of income) to psychiatrists hereabouts, attempting to help the ladies adjust to public opinion, which is fighting to keep them in the home—but is offering them very little selection in husbands and homes to keep in.

These are the little girls who became attached to the moon, and those myriad romantic promises its dull white face traditionally throws off—who grew up and discovered 'twarn't necessarily so, and as a consequence became spiritually unbalanced.

When the time comes for the first trip, scientists won't have much trouble finding a likely pioneer. There are plenty of women about who have reason to get back at (or to) the moon.

Savors Kisses of 2 Strange Women

Ike Having Fine Vacation

NEWPORT, R.I. (UP) — President Eisenhower got kissed by two women he never had seen before. It happened in front of a lot of people, and he was flabbergasted.

He also chatted with a Philadelphia millionaire and the latter's wife.

★ ★ ★

Then he chucked the chin of a pretty blonde girl about 3 years old, and a moment later stopped to have his picture taken with another cute young lady—this, one red-haired and 13 months old.

All those things happened within three hours yesterday at the Newport Country Club, where the President did something he rarely does—golfed on Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The Newport Country Club is one of the oldest and most exclusive in the United States. But the public is permitted to play the course some of the time.

And anybody — just anybody — can wander onto the course or into the clubhouse any time and stand almost under Eisenhower's nose as he golfs. Everyone who does, of course, is under the careful scrutiny of Secret Service agents assigned to guard the President.

If Eisenhower minds the folks moving in the way they have been he gives no indication. Actually, he seems to enjoy it. Yesterday the spectators gave him a big hand for a couple of fine putts, and a grin spread all over his face.

He had finished an 18-hole round and was leaving the clubhouse after changing his shoes when he got a big surprise. From the crowd of onlookers stepped Mrs. Edna Flint of Providence, R.I., and Mrs. George Guthro, Cranston, R.I.

★ ★ ★

In a twinkling both women—both fortyish—had soundly kissed the amazed President.

"He was flabbergasted but he said, 'Well, thank you very much,' " the pleased Mrs. Flint reported. She and Mrs. Guthro were in Newport for a business convention.

Russian Roulette Fatal Game for Texas Man

Deputy Sheriff W. A. Potter said Miranda and his two cousins decided to play the game and Miranda was first. Potter said the youth slipped one shell into a .22-caliber pistol, placed it at his head and pulled the trigger. He died 10 hours later.

Midnight Casting Bout Ends in Death for Two

TRACY, Calif. (UP)—A midnight bait casting contest ended in the drowning of two Air Force staff sergeants in the Mendota Canal, 16 miles southwest of here.

Sheriff-Coroner Carlos A. Sousa reported that the men, John P. Terry, 24, of Oakland, and Robert Henry Beasley, 27, of Pleasanton, Calif., fell into the canal while trying to see who could cast fishing lines the farthest.

Stanley Kramer to Make Film on Atomic Wars

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Stanley Kramer didn't know until Friday night that his fabulous offer of $100,000 cash PLUS a percentage had won for him Nevil Shute's fast selling novel "On the Beach."

Spirited bidding was coming from two major companies eager to snag this startling story of what happens to the world after the atomic bombs drop. The setting is Australia and America.

Naturally, with this prize just landed Kramer hasn't had any time to think of stars. "But there are four top roles and I plan to cast it with the same voltage we have in 'Pride and the Passion'," he said to me — meaning Cary Grant, Frank Sinatra and Sophia Loren.

He also said that the story calls for such care in preparation that he may take two years just to get the script he wants.

★ ★ ★

There's no fictional character with as many tales told about him as Colonel "Hadacol" Parker, Elvis Presley's manager and Tommy Sands' advisor, so the casting of Edmond O'Brien as the "Colonel" in "The Singin' Idol" is important news.

Edie, who is a very fine actor, will co-star with Tommy, and being a Shakespearean actor, will really play the pants off the role.

The lucky 17-year-old who gets the lead opposite popular Tommy is Lili Gentle, from Birmingham, Alabama, discovered by a 20th Century-Fox talent scout while appearing on a TV show. Lili's only picture to date is with Jayne Mansfield in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?"

You can take my word for it the Kim Novak trouble with Columbia will be settled in time for her to report to Alfred Hitchcock at Paramount for "Amongst the Dead." Ben Kahane, vice president of Columbia, said when a representative of the William Morris agency asked for a big raise in salary, "I have never made a deal with a gun to my head, and I don't intend to now."

But I happen to know that Kim had dinner with Harry Cohn just before she went to Europe and he promised her a new deal, a promise he fully intends to keep. Her salary is $1,250 a week, 52 weeks a year, plus her secretary's salary. Of course, there's always two sides to every story, but I hate to see Kim walk out on a picture.

★ ★ ★

It's no news that Nat King Cole was in great voice at his opening at the Sands in Las Vegas — but his completely new night club act involving 615 changes of light brought gasps of admiration from such ringsiding stars as Tony Martin and Nanette Fabray.

Impressario Jack Entratter is setting up complex lighting and camera facilities for televising Nat's next two shows, which will be beamed "live" from the Sands.

Ella Fitzgerald is his guest Tuesday night, and don't say I told you, but Cole's show of September 17 may have a commercial sponsor. This would be a big victory for Nat who has argued all along that it was not the south keeping him from sponsorship but the "smart boys" on Madison Avenue.

★ ★ ★

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Writer Polan Banks is in Reno waiting for Mrs. Marion Schotter, Philadelphia socialite, to get her freedom. Talk is they'll wed right then and there. He was formerly married to Amelia Baruch.

The first public appearance Marie Sullivan, ex-wife of Barry Sullivan, made with another man, was with Alec Reachi, manager of the Malibu Sports Club Restaurant.

Jack Palance should have learned a lesson from other actors who have tried to slug photographers performing their duty, and refrained from losing his temper in the court room. This certainly won't help him in a town where he's none too popular after his alleged treatment of his wife.

Soviets Accuse West Germans

Say Bonn Government Leads Dangerous Path Asking Free Elections

The accusation was made in a note to the Bonn government once more rejecting West Germany's demand for free elections to reunite the divided country. The Soviet note was delivered a week before West Germany's parliamentary elections.

★ ★ ★

(In Bonn, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said the note was designed to support the opposition Social Democrats in the elections. He said he did not think the note would help the Socialists. Erich Ollenhauer, Social Democrat leader, said in a speech at Bad Orb the Soviet note was an answer to Adenauer's "policy of strength.")

★ ★ ★

Divers Resume Hunt for Bodies

4 Members of Lansing Family Still Missing in Lake Superior

MARQUETTE (AP) — A search of Lake Superior's chilly waters for the four remaining bodies of a six-member Lansing family which crashed on a private plane flight was to be resumed today by skin divers.

The bodies of Mark Hietikko, 7, and his sister, Connie, 5, were recovered from the lake yesterday by a skin diver at a point near shore about 15 miles east of Marquette.

The bodies were found by Marquette County Deputy John Buckmaster about a quarter of a mile from the spot where a Buoy marks the sunken wreckage of the missing plane which was located Friday.

State Police skin divers planned to team with divers from the sheriff's office today in an effort to locate the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hietikko and their two other children, Cameron, 9, and Scott, 11 months.

★ ★ ★

The 40-year-old Hietikko, his 32-year-old wife and their children were flying home from a trip to the home of Hietikko's parents at Baraga over the Labor Day weekend when their plane was reported missing.

Keego Blast Victim Now Off Critical List

Mrs. Bray was alone in the house at 2918 Virginia Ct. when the blast occured.

Decline Slugs Coppers, Oils

NEW YORK (AP) — Coppers and oils declined in a generally lower but sluggish stock market early today.

Losses among pivotal issues went from fractions to around a point, but there was little selling pressure. Many key stocks were unchanged.

The coppers were adversely affected by a sharp drop in price for the metal in London and a price cut by the big African Rhodesian selection trust.

Oils once more were hurt by nervousness over the Middle East, this time on rising concern over the Syrian situation.

Motors showed scant changed although Chrysler eased. Lukens Steel dropped a fraction. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem showed a tendency to back away.

★ ★ ★

Other losers included Goodyear, American Telephone, Union Carbide and General Electric.

Goodrich gained a major fraction and Zenith was up a point. Small gains were made by Radio Corp., American Can and Johns-Manville.

Opening blocks included Sperry Rand up ⅛ at 21⅛ on 1,500 shares; U. S. Steel off ⅛ at 64½ on 1,000; and General Motors off ⅛ at 42 on 1,500.

Murder Spurs Search for 2 Missing Women

★ ★ ★

Marcia Horan, a Loyola University coed, has not been seen by her family since last Wednesday. A party had been planned for Marcia's 21st birthday today.

The other missing woman, Mrs. Nancy Fann, 19, disappeared from her North Side apartment Aug. 23. Her Army private husband, Earl, 23, arrived from Neubrucke, Germany, Saturday to aid the search.

Authorities normally are not too distrubed by missing persons cases. They number in the hundreds annually in Chicago, and most of the persons eventually turn up unharmed.

But 15-year-old Judith disappeared Aug. 16. Her butchered body was found a week later in two oil drums floating in Montrose Harbor, a boat basin on Chicago's north lake shore.

Horan discounted the possibility that his daughter ran away, because he said there was no apparent motive. The missing girl's sister, Karen, reported Marcia was "keyed up" over returning to Loyola for her senior year.

In the Fann case, Nancy's mother, Mrs. Frances Mattera, reported Nancy left Aug. 23 saying she was "going around the corner for a few minutes." No one has reported seeing her since.

Fire Serious Threat Through California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Forestry officials today foresaw no letup in the "very critical" weather situation that sparked about 75 forest and brush fires throughout tinder-dry California over the weekend.

With some still raging unchecked, the fires:

1. Forced hundreds of vacationers to flee summer homes in the timbered Greenhorn Mountain area of Sequoia National Forest, 50 miles northeast of Bakersfield.

2. Caused a two-hour closure last night of transcontinental U.S. 50 in mountainous El Dorado County when flames approached the roadway near the gold mining town of Placerville. One fire-fighter was seriously burned.

3. Threatened a Nike guided missile base on Mt. Gleason 20 airline miles north of Los Angeles.

More than 2,000 fire fighters were thrown into the fighting against the various blazes—large and small—which flared throughout the state.

Police Fugitive Gives Self Up

Surrenders After Flight Caused Suspension of 2 Pontiac Detectives

A 40 - year - old Pontiac man, whose escape from police custody Thursday night resulted in the suspension of two Pontiac detectives, surrendered voluntarily today to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Cecil Parks, 46 of 104 Pinegrove, who refused to make a statement about his escape, Ziem said, was taken to Pontiac Police Headquarters and booked, at Parks' own request, by one of the suspended officers, Det. Sgt. Raymond Meggitt.

Parks appeared at the prosecutor's office this morning accompanied by an attorney, Ziem said. He was later booked on a morals charge involving indecent liberties with a young girl.

Meggitt and Det. Robert Emery were suspended on charges brought by Det. Insp. Clark M. Wheaton of dereliction and neglect of duty. Both officers are appealing for a civil service hearing to get back on the force.

Man, 39, Arraigned in Chicago Stabbings

CHICAGO (AP) — A 39-year-old jobless night watchman, accused of stabbing eight persons in a street roving spree last week, was held in jail on $200,000 bond today.

Joseph Caraher appeared before Judge Henry Ferguson yesterday on four charges of assault with a deadly weapon, and refused to say anything. Ferguson set bond at $50,000 on each of the four charges and continued the case until Wednesday in felony court.

Caraher was handcuffed to a policeman and without warning raised his arm and hit the officer in the face. He refused to answer when Ferguson asked him, "Why did you do that?"

"I believe you know what's going on but you're feigning insanity," said Ferguson.

Four of the six victims were stabbed last Friday. Caradher was seized by an off-duty detective in a chase on the near northwest side. Earlier two other persons had been stabbed. None was seriously injured.

Cleanup Squads Blotting Up Oil to End Fire Threat

HILLSDALE (AP)—Cleanup squads from the State Conservation Department were expected to finish blotting up the oil-drenched Moshierville area near here today and end a potential fire threat.

Some 50 area residents who were driven from their homes last week when a runaway oil well blew out of control moved back into their homes yesterday as a cordon of state police kept curiosity seekers away.

State Police Sgt. Claude H. Bartell said fire danger on the 360 acres of oil-soaked land was not "nearly as serious" as it was previously and added that he expected cleanup operations to finish sometime today.

The well ran out of control about noon Friday. It soaked the area with oil and gas for some 24 hours before it was successfully capped about noon Saturday.

Much of the escaped oil drained into the nearby Kalamazoo River, and Bartell said conservation workers had thrown makeshift mesh wire and straw dams across the river to hold back the oil while pumps removed it to prevent a fire hazard.

The well was sunk by McClure Drilling Co. of Alma for Aurora Oil Co. of Detroit.

Atom Power Reactor to Make TV Debut

The General Electric Co. announced the telecast, set for 10 p.m., EDT, on the quiz show The $64,000 Question. It will originate inside GE's atomic reactor installation here.

★ ★ ★

A contestant, Joyce Myron, will answer questions about the operation of a nuclear power reactor as she stands inside the actual reactor control room.

18-Year-Old Girl Dies in Fall From Ledge

PROVO, Utah (AP)—Linda Baker, 18, of nearby Springville, Utah, slipped on a ledge yesterday and plunged 800 feet to her death as onlookers watched helpless.

Linda and four other young hikers were climbing on the cliff above the falls when she slipped. Her body struck Lynn Powell, 23, Levan, Utah, who tried to catch her.

But Top Tunes Stay in Spotlight

Songs Now Arranged to Showcase Talents of 4 Young Vocalists

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — That hardy airwave perennial, "Your Hit Parade," has unveiled a new look —and some new sound.

★ ★ ★

Four new spotlight singers and a new slant on the music are the chief elements of the show's biggest shakeup since the program hit TV in 1950. Prior to that it rolled up 15 years on radio.

"Previously there was a reworking of the format every three years or so," explains Walker. "The TV model, however, hasn't changed until now."

★ ★ ★

IMITATIONS OUT

Walker, 46, a veteran composer and arranger involved in 76 Broadway shows in 22 years, discloses, however, that the band will no longer play the seven most popular ditties in imitation of the best-selling record version.

★ ★ ★

"Records have been getting loaded with more and more gimmicks," he says, "and it's impossible to imitate them in a studio.

"The kids who play the tunes spot any goofs, and the rest of the public is apt to find the arrangements over-special."

★ ★ ★

"We will fit the arrangement to the visual staging idea, change it from week to week. My big job is to showcase the four singers, bring out their plus qualities to the best advantage."

FINEST TALENTS

Daughter of a coal miner in Avonmore, Pa., Jill (brunette, 5-foot-4, 120 pounds), started singing with a small local orchestra, was called to New York for an audition on the strength of a tape recording, got her big break by being chosen to sing on the Dave Garroway program.

The other new girl is Virginia Gibson, St. Louis, who gave up a role with Ethel Merman in the still-running show "Happy Hunting" for her TV break.

Leonetti is 27, hails from North Bergen, N. J. He has sung with the Charlie Spivak band, appeared on the Johnny Carson TV show.

Copeland is moving from the family home in Van Nuys, Calif., to join the show. Baritone Alan is 27, and the proud dad of three youngsters.

YOUTH ON PARADE — Last Saturday the long-time television favorite "Your Hit Parade" returned to the home screens with an all-new look. Putting the accent on youth are the four new stars of the musical show, Tommy Leonetti, Jill Corey, Alan Copeland and Virginia Gibson (reading clockwise from upper right). Hit Parade is telecast at 9:30 p. m. over NBC.

Take-Off on Marlene Received Very Coldly

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There's nothing like adding a little feud to dames . . . I phoned Carol Channing about a tiff with Marlene Dietrich.

"Well, you see," confessed Carol, "Marlene, Lucille Ball and Marie McDonald caught my act" — which included a grandma-type impression of Marlene. "The other two howled, Marlene didn't smile and was very cold.

WILSON

"I told her from the stage I worshiped her and asked her to come back and let me give her a rhinestone bracelet. She didn't come — and I waited an hour. Maybe Marlene already has a rhinestone bracelet."

Carol heard via Marlene's agent she'd be asked to delete the bit. Carol, closing after eight big weeks, was given the key to the city by the Mayor of Las Vegas. "Never mind that," Carol said. "Just give me the key to one slot machine."

An English orator loftily maintained, "Nothing has done so much for the dignity of man as literature," and a London editor replied: "What about trousers?" . . . Hollywood's "macabre humor" would be a hit in South America where I heard of a surgeon interrupting an interne who's cut one foot off a patient. "Did he resist the operation?" asked the surgeon. The interne answered, "Operation! I thought it was an autopsy!"

★ ★ ★

Dizzy Dean has confessed that "In front of them cameras, I'm as nervous as a hog around the butcher house" . . . Meredith Willson and Morton DaCosta are looking for a girl with "an attractive, amusing and expressive derriere" for their show The Music Man." The gal's seen bouncily playing a pianola.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Cornelius Vanderbilt's bride's chuckling; his "intimates" sneeringly said just a few days ago they'd never marry. Ted Williams can get $25,000 for his story on TV. But he shrinks from part about his mother being Salvation Army worker in San Diego. (She insists, despite his aid).

★ ★ ★

Sam Levenson rejected 5 grand to do a beer commercial — 'twasn't homey . . . Grace ("Peyton Place") Metalious won't let publishers see 'Tight White Collar" till it's finished . . . Marilyn Collins was chosen to head a huge charity all-star show at Roosevelt Raceway. Even charity can use a pretty face. Peggy King's giving up her Hollywood apt. and buying a Beverly Hills home. (Thinking of marriage again?)

MARILYN

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Everybody's a self-made man, but only the successful ones will admit it.—Quote. That's earl, brother.

Tropical Storm Debbie Brings Widespread Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain spread over wide areas of the Southeast today as remnants of the tropical storm Debbie moved slowly northeastward after spreading into Georgia during the night.

★ ★ ★

The precipitation extended as far west as the Mississippi River in southeastern Missouri and as far north as Kentucky and Virginia. Rainfall amounts were heavy near the center of the advancing low pressure in northeast Georgia and parts of South Carolina.

★ ★ ★

Heaviest wind gusts reported were 60 m.p.h. yesterday at Jacksonville, Fla. Two to four inches of rain fell across most of northern Florida into Georgia.

The rain was expected to end in parts of Georgia and South Carolina but probably will continue over the mid-Atlantic Coast states and spread northward to southern New England. Thundershowers were indicated in Florida.

AEC Fires 16th Shot in Current Test Series

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—A bright yellow flash, a sharp crack and a prolonged rumble signaled the 18th shot in the Atomic Energy Commission's current test series early yesterday.

It was the 62nd blast to sear the desert since the tests here began in 1951. Another is scheduled for tomorrow.

U.S. Students in Red China Visit Imprisoned American

LONDON (AP)—A U.S. civilian imprisoned in Communist China on spy charges has been quoted by visiting Americans as saying he worked for the Central Intelligence Agency.

The British news agency Reuters reported in a Peiping dispatch yesterday that five U.S. students said the statement was made to them in a Peiping prison visit with Richard Fecteau, 30, of Lynn, Mass.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the CIA in Washington refused to comment. The prisoner's mother Mrs. Philip D. Fecteau has denied that he worked for the CIA.

Fecteau and John Downey, 27, of New Britain, Conn., both civilian employes of the Army, disappeared on a flight from Korea to Japan in 1952. The Communists repeatedly have accused them of working for the CIA.

Fecteau was sentenced to 20 years and Downey to life imprisonment. The Communists asserted they were shot down over Manchuria while dropping supplies to agents there. The United States has denied this.

★ ★ ★

Reuters said separate groups from the 41 young Americans on an unauthorized tour of Red China visited for 30 minutes each with Fecteau and Downey yesterday. The 10 visitors—five to each prisoner—later drew up a joint statement about the interviews.

The statement was released after a 17-hour delay, officially attributed to "difficulties in mimeographing."

The visitors were required to agree before visiting the prison that they would not ask Fecteau and Downey any questions about their trial or charges against them. They were forbidden to take notes.

Fectau was quoted as saying that he had intended to become a football coach when he enrolled in Boston University but decided he could not make enough money that way and went to work for the government.

★ ★ ★

The interviewers said he then was asked: "For the Central Intelligence Agency?"

They said Fecteau replied: "Yes."

He was quoted as saying he was held in solitary confinement for 2½ years before he was sentenced.

State Fair Closes $30,000 in the Red

DETROIT (AP) — The 108th annual Michigan State Fair ended its 10-day run an estimated $30,000 in the red last night despite its third largest attendance in history.

The all-time high attendance record of 821,656 was set last year while 801,248 persons trekked to the fairgrounds in 1950 to see the many exhibits and enjoy themselves on the midway.

Swanson blamed increased budget expenses and bad weather which cut down attendance in five of the fair's first six days for an expected deficit of $30,000.

Bomb Egypt Embassy

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — A garden fence of the Egyptian Embassy was damaged last night by a dynamite explosion. All members of the embassy were out when the blast occurred. No one was injured. Egypt and Syria are allies, but Egypt has shown some signs of coolness since Syria's pro-Soviet shift.

Greatest Boot-Licker of All

East Germany's Leader Hops on Red Bandwagon

(Howard Handleman roams Europe as chief correspondent for International News Service. He has been reporting from abroad for more than 15 years.)

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

BERLIN (INS) — Russia's most complete satellite, bar none, is East Germany.

His most sensational feat in the art of ingratiating himself with his Moscow bosses came last July 3. That was the day the Kremlin announced that Malenkov, Molotov, Kaganovich and Co. were "anti-party" people unworthy of trust or high office.

It took Ulbricht only three hours from the surprise Moscow announcement to come out with his own blast at the fallen leaders. He made it sound as though he had known it all the time.

PLEASED KREMLIN

As always, Ulbricht made certain he would be the first to please the Kremlin. That's the way to get ahead in his world. It's something like letting the boss win a golf game.

The result has been rather drastic for the East Germans he rules.

He has done everything he could to turn them into "Little Russians," even going so far as to substitute Soviet for German culture wherever he could.

That means the East Germans see Gorki and Chekov at the theater, not plays by Germans. They are beginning to hear some Wagnerian opera now, but their music is largely Russian.

Such Russification is not nearly so complete in any other satellite. In Czechoslovakia, itself a fairly compliant follower of the Moscow line, there still is appreciation and love for such native composers as Dvorak and Smetana.

But, of course, there are two Germanies and only one Czechoslovakia. Ulbricht has competition from the West. Despite all the Communist demands for unification, despite the blatant nationalism of East German propaganda, Ulbricht and his men can't really let the East Germans be too much like the West Germans.
