Over 750 Pulled From Water

BURNS AT SEA — Greek liner, the Lakonia, was ravaged by fire early today, forcing 651 holidaying passengers and 395 crewmen to abandon ship in the Atlantic off Morocco. Many are still missing.

LONDON (AP) — Fire and explosions forced 1,046 persons to abandon the Greek cruise ship Lakonia in the eastern Atlantic today but at least 750 were plucked from the water in a dramatic air-sea rescue, her London agents reported.

This left 296 persons unaccounted for. Planes over the stricken Greek liner said more survivors were being picked up. A U.S. Air Force report said 100 persons were floating in the water and all appeared dead.

Aboard the 20,314-ton Lakonia when disaster struck late last night were 651 passengers, mostly British or Irish but including four Americans. The liner carried a crew of 395. The passengers, many of them women and children, were bound for a gay holiday on the Portuguese island of Madeira.

ROCKED SHIP

All but the stern of the ship was ablaze, and explosions rocked her 600-foot length by the time rescue vessels reached the scene 180 miles north of Madeira and 550 miles northwest of Casablanca.

The ship listed heavily to starboard. The water was dotted with lifeboats and swimmers trying to escape the peril of the repeated explosions.

Great clouds of smoke rolled up from the red-hot hull. People wild with joy waved from lifeboats as rescuers approached. Others struggled to swim as far away from the Lakonia as they could.

The water temperature was 64 degrees, warm enough to give those in the sea a chance to survive.

CHILDREN ABOARD

Officials of the line believed two babies and 30 to 34 children under 12 were aboard. Some accounts told of mothers tossing children into lifeboats and of parents struggling in the water to keep their children afloat.

U.S. and British military planes crisscrossed the area, spotting swimmers and lifeboats and directing rescue boats.

A U.S. Air Force Air Rescue report received in Orlando, Fla., said a C-54 flying over the area from the Azores told of the casualties. It said "the 100 were wearing life jackets but all appeared to be dead."

LINER RADIOED

The British liner Stratheden radioed she had picked up 300 survivors, some injured, plus some dead.

The Argentine freighter Salta was alternately reported to have from 220 to 400 sur-

Ruby Witness Packs a Pistol

Gun-Toting Stripper Disarmed in Court

DALLAS (AP) — Officers took a pistol from a stripper called as a witness today in the bond hearing for Jack Ruby, night club operator who killed the accused assassin of President Kennedy.

The gun was found under a scarf in the purse of a stripper named Karen Lyn Bennett, 19 — known as Little Lyn — who performs in Ruby's Carousel Club.

It was found as officers searched witnesses before they were taken into the courtroom to be sworn as a group.

The witnesses, including Miss Bennett, were sworn, then taken into an anteroom to await their calls to the stand.

PAID THE RENT

Shortly after Ruby's arrest, Miss Bennett said Ruby sent her money for her rent. She lives in Fort Worth.

Meanwhile, defense attorney, Melvin Belli tried to establish whether Dallas police had taken precautions against "a man with an inflamed mind" in preparing for the transfer of Lee Harvey Oswald, charged with murder in the assassination of the president, from the city jail to the county jail.

It was when Oswald was being led from the Dallas City Jail that Ruby stepped from a crowd of newsmen and gunned him down.

Belli asked the "inflamed mind" question of homicide Capt. Will Fritz. Fritz replied that no one had mentioned "a man with an inflamed mind" at the time plans were being made for the transfer.

INSANITY PLEA

Ruby's attorney have indicated they will base his defense on an insanity plea. His trial is scheduled Feb. 3.

Today's hearing is confined to the issue whether Ruby, held in county jail since the shooting of Oswald, should be released on bond.

Sheriff Bill Decker said Miss Bennett was placed under arrest after the pistol was found in her purse.

"She will be charged with carrying a concealed weapon," he said.

Ruby had been moved from his cell to the courtroom early this morning, surrounded by a shield of deputies.

Michigan Economy Booming

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first of three articles on the Michigan economy as seen from the inside — by the merchant, the industrialist, the builder, the toge corner, the politician. This article, No. 1, is a review of 1963. No. 2 will detail into the 1964 business outlook and No. 3 into what effects the Romney administration has had.)

By The Associated Press

If your 1963 pay envelope hasn't been fatter, your dividend check bigger or your profit larger — you are an exception among Michigan residents.

The state's economy has been booming. Everybody agrees on that.

It may turn out to be the best year the automobile industry ever had. Automotive News is forecasting 1963 production at approximately 9 million units compared with the all-time record of 9,187,919 cars and trucks turned out in 1955.

The year started with 6.4 per cent of the Michigan labor force unemployed. On Nov. 15, the percentage was down to 3.9, and some automakers were recruiting workers from outside the state.

AUTOMATIC RAISE

Every auto production worker, and thousands in supplier plants, got an automatic raise of six cents hourly or 2 1/2 per cent of base pay in September. They also added three cents during the year via cost-of-living increases.

General Motors Corp. paid a $2 extra dividend on top of its regular $2 dividend. Chrysler Corp. split its stock two-for-one, so if you had one share when 1963 began and held it you now have four.

Chrysler decided to continue its 25-cent quarterly dividend rate for 1964's first quarter, after the second two-for-one split.

American Motors Corp. boosted its quarterly rate from 20 to 25 cents and paid a year-end extra of 15 cents.

Ford, which split two-for-one in 1962, continued a 45-cent rate, equal to 15 cents a share more than before the split.

There was improvement in the Upper Peninsula, as well as below the Straits of Mackinac. The Escanaba Daily Press said from shipments through its port were up 300,000 tons over 1962 and American Timber Homes Inc., reported doubling its output of recreation type housing.

George Duff, secretary-treasurer of the Detroit Retail Merchants Association, said business was up in all lines of merchandise and estimated the gain over 1962 at "conservatively five per cent."

The J. L. Hudson Co. said pre-Christmas shoppers were "in a buying mood" and sales up 3 per cent, despite the fact there were five fewer shopping days between Thanksgiving and Christmas this year.

ROSY PICTURE

The Ann Arbor News painted an even rosier business picture there, quoting William J. Bott, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce, as reporting retail sales in the first nine months nine per cent ahead of the similar 1962 period.

Generally, Prof. Paul W. Mc-

Decision Soon by Swanson

Governorship Position Will Be Told Saturday

DETROIT (AP) — Former Democratic Gov. John B. Swanson said today he will announce on Saturday whether he will be a candidate for governor in 1964.

Swanson disclosed his plans in a statement issued from his law offices here.

The ex-governor said three months ago he would make his decision by Jan. 1, but pressure from others, presumably his chief rival Rep. Neil Stabler, D-Ann Arbor, forced him to decide earlier, he said.

Referring to President Kennedy's assassination, Swanson said "quite frankly, I would have preferred to wait a little longer before announcing my intentions."

"But, in fairness to those who have indicated that our decisions on their candidacies depend upon mine, I intend to honor my original commitment."

Swanson had said earlier that state politics should wait for a time in view of the assassination.

WITH HIS FAMILY

Swanson said he would spend the time between now and through Christmas Day with his family at their Lansing home.

He said he will enter the University of Michigan Medical Center at Ann Arbor Dec. 26 for a two-day physical checkup. He said he would make his announcement on the governorship from his Detroit office at 11 a. m. Saturday.

Where Holiday Cruise Ended In Fire

Winter Makes a Mild Start

Winter eased in with a bright smile this weekend, bringing warmer temperatures and only nominal snow.

Sunday, shortest day of the year, was the season's official debut.

The hoary old man has settled gracefully.

Temperatures will average near the normal high of 41 and low of 22 for the next five days.

Even precipitation will dwindle to less than two-tenths of an inch in snow flurries.

The low before 8 this morning was 26 degrees. By 2 p. m., the mercury had risen to 30.

Nation Ends Mourning for Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of candles burned bright in the gathering dusk of Washington as the nation ended a month's mourning for John F. Kennedy.

Sheltered against a biting wind on winter's first day, they symbolized that the late President's ideals are still aglow in the world.

Bareheaded and coatless in brilliant winter sunshine Kennedy had said in his inaugural address on Jan. 20, 1961:

"The energy, the faith, the devotion which we bring to this endeavor will light our country and all who serve — and the glow from that fire can truly light the world."

Bareheaded and coatless last night, President Johnson told more than 14,000 gathered at the Lincoln Memorial and the nation by radio and television:

"Thirty days and a few hours ago, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 35th president of the United States, died a martyr's death. The world will not forget what he did here. He will live on in our hearts, which will be his shrine."

Thus, with the rhythm of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, Johnson marked the end of the 30-day official period of mourning he had proclaimed on Nov. 22.

An hour and a half later, the new President turned a switch to light the national Christmas tree behind the White House.

Vessel Sinks; 20 Are Saved

7 Dead, 2 Missing After Stormy Ordeal

HALIFAX N.S. (AP) — Twenty crewmen of the sunken French freighter Douala were plucked from the stormy Atlantic yesterday after spending 27 freezing hours in two lifeboats.

Seven other crewmen died. Two, including Capt. Michel Labre, are missing. The storm — one of the worst in his Canada in recent years — was blamed for 10 other deaths.

Chief Engineer Gabriel Sineire, 49, believes the captain went down with the 2,300-ton Douala in a howling storm 35 miles southeast of Burgeo, Nfld.

"Our ship was sinking and the captain ordered the second lifeboat to get away," Sineire said in Port Aux Basques, Nfld.

Sineire and 14 other survivors arrived in Port Aux Basques last night aboard a Canadian icebreaker Sir Humphrey Gilbert, which rescued them after they were spotted by a Royal Canadian Air Force search plane.

The engineer, senior surviving officer, said the survivors used their last distress flares to attract the plane.

The freighter Ludwig rescued two other crewmen about 50 miles southeast of Port Aux Basques. Health Minister James McGrath of Newfoundland said three other survivors were aboard the freighter Langlade.

He said the Ludwig also has one body aboard and the Langlade two bodies.

The Douala sank about noon Saturday after its hatch covers were ripped off by pounding waves and winds up to 100 miles per hour. Waves reached a height of 75 feet.

House Vote Delayed

GOP Stalls Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican objection slowed down and probably blocked House consideration today of a disputed $3-billion compromise foreign aid appropriation.

The objection by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., was to immediate consideration of a resolution to bring the aid bill before the House. Such resolutions by the rules committee cannot be considered on the day they are introduced unless two-thirds of the members approve.

If the resolution does not obtain the required two-thirds, it can be considered the following day by a simple majority vote.

The resolution, approved 8-4 this morning by the rules committee, was designed to allow the House to vote on a provision in the aid bill to authorize President Johnson to approve government credit guarantees for the sale of wheat to Russia.

STANDING VOTE

On a preliminary standing vote, Republicans voted almost solidly against considering the resolution today. The vote was 171 to consider the resolution and 83 against. This vote was followed by a roll call.

An earlier quorum call showed 288 members present.

Rules Committee Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., told the House the only effect of beating the resolution would be to put off the showdown until tomorrow.

Republican leader Charles R. Halleck of Indiana said many members who wanted to be here for the vote were stranded by the weather. Snow was falling in Washington, and there had been a heavy snowfall south of here.

ALREADY FINANCED

Halleck said he did not understand the hurry-up tactics since the foreign aid program already has been financed through next January.

"Why all the heroics?" he asked.

Halleck said he had been "castigated in too many quarters" for his position on the legislation.

"But I'm not skin-deep," he added. "I have learned from being around here a long time that, if you can't stand the heat, you should get out of the kitchen."

To rush action today, he said, "is kind of cruel treatment to members who can't be here."

215 TELEGRAMS

Halleck said he had received 215 telegrams over the weekend, and all but six commended "the stand I have taken."

Republicans planned to renew their fight to return the measure to a Senate-House conference committee in an effort to delete the wheat sale financing provision.

Even as the Rules Committee acted, there was a continuing Republican - Democratic exchange over who is responsible for the current situation.

No Action Taken Yet on Henry

No immediate action will be taken against City Commissioner Milton R. Henry, who was brought in for questioning Saturday after making a speech from the roof of the old county building in downtown Detroit.

Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Max A. Silverman said he took a statement from Henry and others today and "After we get all the facts, we will present them to Mr. Olsen (Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel E. Olsen)."

"It will be 10 days," said Silverman. "No action will be taken until after the first of the year."

Henry was taken into custody by Detroit police during a memorial service to honor Negroes killed in their fight for civil rights during the year.

15-MINUTE TALK

The Pontiac attorney spoke from the roof of the five-story building for 15 minutes to about 35 persons before police interrupted. He was using a loud speaker.

The building, which is used for several county offices and traffic court, had been closed at noon. Henry made his speech shortly after 2 p.m.

Detective L. Albert Schwaller said Henry told him he had remained in the building after it closed and climbed out on the roof to prevent police from interfering.

Henry said he also wanted to test the validity of the ban on the use of the loud speaker, which he said was a violation of his right to freedom of speech.

An hour and a half after his oration was cut short by police, he was released on the promise that he would return to police headquarters today to make a statement.

vivors. The British Motalin said it had 100 survivors and the Argentine liner Rio Grande another 50.

Some passengers were newlyweds. Others were retired people seeking a sunshine Christmas holiday.

The adult passengers had been singing, dancing and walking arm and arm on the deck when the fire erupted and forced them to scramble into lifeboats or plunge into the sea.

The passengers left Southampton last Thursday for a cruise to Madeira, Tenerife and the Canary Islands, in the Atlantic off northwest Africa.

Then shortly before midnight came the first ominous wireless message telling of fire aboard.

It was followed early this morning by this final message: "SOS term Lakonia." Last time, I cannot say any more in the wireless cabin. We are leaving the ship. Please help immediately."

In Lakonia, relatives and friends flooded the ship's offices with phone calls.

Cost Hike for Clinton Drain Due Commission Tonight

City commissioners will be asked to okay a proposed cost hike and time extension for the Clinton River Drain project at tonight's commission meeting.

The regular Tuesday meeting day has been moved to Monday this week because tomorrow is Christmas eve.

Commission approval of a resolution okaying a $90,000 increase in construction costs and a 210-day extension of the completion date is necessary before the county's Clinton River Drain can sell bonds to finance the project.

The river work has been stalled for seven months by litigation in federal courts.

SUIT DISMISSED

A suit involving Michigan's Drain Code was dismissed last week clearing the way for resumption of work.

The $90,000 cost increase would come from the project's contingency fund. It wouldn't result in any increase of special assessments to city taxpayers which are to retire the bonds over a 30-year period.

Also slated for action is a resolution establishing the city's intent to undertake construction of the long - planned Murphy Park trunk sewer in 1964.

PROJECT COST

The project is estimated to cost some $400,000. The resolution calls for the sewer to be ready for use by Nov. 1, 1964.

It was requested by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital administrators. A new hospital wing under construction can't be utilized until the sewage facilities are completed.

Commissioners will also consider a resolution directing the city manager to set aside $300,750 in the 1965 capital improvement budget for the purchase and improvement of some urban renewal lands.

They are also slated to authorize the city to apply for a federal planning grant to cover further detailing of the city's current general development plan.

ASKED TO ACT

Commissioners will be asked to act on some revised resolutions covering the sale of some city-owned land on the west side of South Saginaw south of Franklin Road.

Resolutions approving bids from Joseph Mihalek and Don R. MacDonald were passed last week. They recognized certain deed restrictions on the land.

City Attorney William A. Ewart had erroneously dealt with the wrong deeds and has since found there is no restriction on the use of the property.

Rezoning of Church Land Up for Hearing Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — A rezoning hearing on property owned by the Church of Christ will be held tonight's City Commission meeting.

The church is seeking to have a parcel in the southern portion of Birmingham rezoned from three- and four-family residential to five-family residential.

The petition requesting a hearing on the matter was filed some seven months ago.

The property is on Lincoln east of Floyd. Consideration of the proposed change was postponed last month when hearings on other property in the Lincoln - Floyd - Landon - Ann area were held.

REQUESTED CHANGE

Other property owners in the area have requested changes from residential to neighborhood business zoning. Their requests have been denied and they have applied for a second hearing.

The city planning commission has recommended the area be maintained as residential. City commissioners tonight also will consider a number of changes in traffic regulations. The rules have been in effect for some time as temporary measures but must now be approved by the commission to become permanent orders.

Birmingham girls and their dolls will be entertained at a holiday party at Baldwin Public Library Friday afternoon.

The festive event, being held for the third time, is scheduled from 2 to 3 p.m. in the Mary Lambie room for boys and girls.

Dolls — new or old — can be accompanied by girls of any age. There will be an introduction of dolls, a story, two short films appropriate to the occasion and refreshments.

Wreath in Dump in Memory of 'Murdered' Baby

A large wreath "in memory of the baby murdered by his father" was found hanging at the Pontiac dump this morning.

The memorial was discovered by C. E. Marvitz, 300 N. Saginaw, who took a load of garbage to the dump early today.

Last month, a young woman reported to Waterford Township police that her husband had delivered their baby in December, 1961. He then drowned it and placed the body in the dump, she said.

Even though the husband concurred with his wife's story, the prosecutor's office could not develop a case because the body was not found.

The man served 10 days in the Oakland County Jail for non-support and then was released.

Flow Into E. Berlin Drops After Big Rush

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP) — The flow of West Berliners through the Red wall dropped sharply today after a weekend rush. Most people apparently were saving their precious passes to visit relatives in East Berlin during the holidays.

Only about 1,300 had passed through the Communist control points two hours after they opened. More than 12,000 went through the wall during the same period Sunday.

But at the 12 permit offices in West Berlin, about 13,000 persons queued up in freezing weather to apply for permits.

West Berlin authorities said most of the passes issued were for the Christmas holidays and New Year's Eve.

34,000 OVER

The official East German news agency ADN reported that 31,000 West Berliners crossed over the weekend, bringing to 34,000 the number going over since the visits began Thursday night.

For nearly all it was their first reunion with relatives since the Communists built the wall in August 1961.

Communist authorities announced they had approved 358,000 applications for visits. About 800,000 West Berliners are eligible.

Queues formed outside the 12 permit offices in snow-covered streets before midnight, more than 12 hours ahead of the 1 p.m. opening hour. After receiving the passes, the West Berliners have to wait a full day before they can cross into East Berlin, to remain only until midnight.

ONE WAY ONLY

The permits are only available for West Berliners. The Communists don't let the East Berliners travel the other way.

As on the previous nights, there were tearful partings Sunday night at the crossing points, as West Berliners went back home.

"There are enough tears being shed along this wall to wash it away," one man said after leaving his elderly mother in the Red zone.

"It's just like visiting someone in prison," said a young West Berliner who said his aged parents,

Playboy Heir Dies of Ailment

Entered Hospital for Checkup on Health

DETROIT (AP) — Horace E. Dodge Jr., 63, playboy heir to a multimillion-dollar auto fortune, died Sunday night.

The one-time sportsman and boat racing enthusiast died of a reported heart ailment at Jennings Hospital in Detroit. He was said to have entered the hospital for a checkup on his failing health.

Dodge Jr. was heir to an estate of $7 million that has been administered by his mother, Mrs. Horace Elgin Dodge Sr., 93. Mrs. Dodge Sr. inherited her husband's portion of more than $146 million from the sale of the Dodge Brothers Co. in 1924 to a firm which sold it to Chrysler Corp.

20-ROOM MANSION

The son had been living in a 20-room mansion in fashionable Grosse Pointe Farms next door to his mother's 127-room mansion.

Survivors, beside his mother, include his estranged fifth wife, former showgirl Gregg Sherwood.

His courtship attempts to keep Miss Sherwood from running up bills totaling more than $300,000 for furs, gold dishes, jewels, interior decorating and other items made headlines in 1962.

Dodge Jr.'s suit against Miss Sherwood was expected to come to trial in 1964. Meanwhile Miss Sherwood had agreed to accept on a $6,250 monthly allowance and put out run any more bills in his name.

German Reds Fire in Escape Attempt

BERLIN (AP) — East German guards fired on a man attempting to flee from East Berlin today as other smiling Red guards were admitting West Berliners through the Berlin wall to visit relatives in the Communist sector.

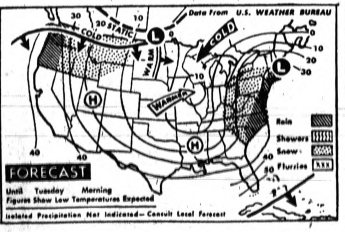

Communist guards fired 10 bursts from submachine guns at a man apparently trying to struggle through the barbed wire on the southern outskirts of West Berlin.

West Berlin police said they could not see the victim because of poor early morning light and heavy fog. They heard the guards shout "Halt! Halt!" This was followed by a fusillade, followed by the screams of a man.

At his inauguration, President Kennedy spoke of the responsibility and trust passed to a new generation of Americans. With his death, this obligation met a severe and dramatic test.

NEW ROLES

"The Torch Is Passed"

tells of the transfer of authority to President Johnson, and of the many others who suddenly found themselves playing new roles on the stage of history.

Foreign News Commentary:

French Euromart Threat Real

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

French officials say President Charles de Gaulle is in deadly earnest about his Dec. 31 deadline for a Common Market farm policy agreement.

If none is reached by Christmas, he will call a cabinet meeting Dec. 27 to call the green light for his next move.

This is likely to be a freeze on any further progress toward completing the Common Market. French ministers also may boycott Euromart meetings.

It is just conceivable de Gaulle might decide on a complete walkout.

There are signs the Philip-

Western officials are concerned that the Christmas passages for hundreds of thousands of West Berliners to enter Communist East Berlin

may touch off serious incidents in which the Western powers inevitably would be involved.

They discussed this danger during last week's NATO ministerial council meeting in Paris.

The three Western commanders in Berlin are being instructed to keep a close eye on the situation.

A stream of Red Chinese trade and cultural missions to Latin America may be expected soon, as well as a state visit or two by a top Peking official.

So far, not one top Chinese Red has visited Latin America while several high Soviet officials, including Premier Khrushchev, have.

Mao Tse-tung and Liu Shao Shi have standing invitations to visit Cuba, and Latin American pines at long last are going the door open to Japanese business.

The Japanese already have one foot in the door. They have so-called "liaison offices" in Manila which do everything normal businesses do there.

It's strictly against the law but Philippine officials tend to look the other way.

Officially, Japanese can't do business in the Philippines under a law promulgated years ago when feeling against Japan was still strong in the Philippines.

Now, according to Japanese diplomatic sources, it's only a question of time before the anti-Japanese business restrictions are lifted.

The French are ready to take over United States and British responsibilities in Cambodia.

French Defense Minister Pierre Messmer flies there Jan. 3 to arrange a military aid pact following the ouster of the United States military and economic aid missions.

De Gaulle believes France can prevent the Southeast Asian kingdom from slipping under Communist domination. The United States and Britain are happy to let him try.

Area Pair Beautifies Home With Danish Yule Plates

By PAT MCCARTY

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Nels J. Mollers of 2383 Island View have an investment in beauty.

Not only is their collection of Danish Christmas plates paying an important dividend by enhancing their home, it also is increasing in monetary value each year.

The charming plates, displayed on the walls of the Moller kitchen, now number 45. Moller believes they may constitute one of the largest privately owned collections in the country.

In rich cobalt blue on a white background, the plates depict portions of the Danish heritage — landscapes, shrines and legends.

DIFFERENT DESIGN

For every year there is a different design, each with its own story to tell within its 7 1/4-inch diameter.

Two Danish firms make the plates, Bing and Grendahl started the tradition in 1895

Troy Mother of 2 Children Dies in Head-On Collision

SAGINAW — A divorced mother of two children from Troy was killed here yesterday in a head-on auto crash on Dixie Highway.

State police said Mrs. Mattie G. Halstead, 41, of 270 E.

Antitax Chief Awaits Word on Petitions

DETROIT (UPI) — Berkley Mayor George Kuhn said he expects a decision today from the State Board of Canvassers on the validity of Vigilance Tax Committee petitions asking for a state law to ban nonresident city income taxes.

About 50,000 of the 248,616 signatures have been challenged because they were collected before the last election.

Kuhn concedes they were, but he contends there is nothing in the constitution which says when the signatures should be collected.

The board of canvassers is expected to rule today on whether the 50,000 signatures are a valid.

The Vigilance Tax Committee of suburban Detroit mayors started its drive against nonresident city income taxes when Detroit instituted a 1 per cent nonresident tax.

Police Probe Death of Drug Case Figure

DETROIT (AP) — Police today investigated the death of a narcotics case defendant who had been shot and thrown into the city's sewage system.

He had been shot in the head. His mangled body was found in the sewage treatment plant on West Jefferson Avenue Saturday night.

Police identified the victim as Roger Lawrey, 36, no known address. Lawrey was awaiting trial with 14 others in connection with alleged possession and sale of heroin.

LINDA E. SMITH

Engagement of Linda E. Smith to Willis E. Stephens is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Smith of 4080 Mill Lake, Orion Township. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens of Hainesville, Ala. A June wedding is planned.

and was followed by Royal Copenhagen in 1908.

A competition determines the artist to design the plate each year. When a limited number of plates have been made, the mold is broken.

Thus the plates gain in value over the years. Last year's Royal Copenhagen plate, which carried an $11 price tag, is now listed at $60. An 1895 Bing and Grendahl could be had for $700, if one could find a seller.

NOT CONSTANT

The prices which are listed nationally do not show a steady increase in value. They are largely dependent on the number of plates produced in a given year, and that number is not constant.

According to the current price list, the Moller's collection would be worth $2,314.

But Moller, a die maker at Chevrolet Motor Division, isn't about to sell it. Besides their beauty, the plates have a special meaning to him — for they recall his homeland.

"Here's a windmill where the Danish Jews were hidden during the war — it's now a national shrine," he remembers. "That one up there is Kronborg, Hamlet's castle."

WARM STORIES

There is a story behind each plate that's warm and sentimental and bears retelling.

The Mollers receive the plates every Christmas from one of his brothers in Denmark. It was at this brother's home in 1946 that they first became impressed by the plates.

Another brother offered to locate as many as he could and within a year had picked up about 30.

The oldest plate is dated 1908. From 1921 to the present they have an unbroken line of one or another of the plates.

ANOTHER PLATE

The Mollers have another plate which they believe to be interesting if not valuable or particularly beautiful.

Hand painted, it is dated 1858. When she gave it to him, Moller's mother said it was one of the original Christmas plates.

Centuries ago Danish servants were rewarded on Christmas eve with a plate of gourmet specialties. As the custom evolved, more emphasis was put on the plate itself.

Much of the original spirit remains, however, in the plates which have a special meaning at this time of the year but are not limited to a season.

Services Set in Rochester

Light Ritual to End Methodist Program

ROCHESTER — The Christmas Eve services at St. Paul's Methodist Church will witness the ceremony of the spreading of the Light of God throughout the world.

The 7 p. m. service is designated as a family service with the message in story and song to be prepared especially for the children.

Music will be provided by the Epworth Choir. The anthem will be the traditional French carol, "The Slumber Song of the Infant Jesus."

The Service of Tradition at 9 p. m. will be led by the pastor, Rev. J. Douglas Parker, and the chancel choir directed by Frank Irish.

Both services will conclude with the Carrying of Lights ritual in which each member of the congregation takes a lighted candle from the altar to carry it forth into the world.

Ayon Youth Hospitalized After Crash

ROMEO — A 16-year-old Ayon Township youth was hospitalized Saturday night after his car crashed into guard rails and a tree on 32 Mile, about four miles west of here.

Jeff Gaines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Gaines of 2567 Stoddard, is reported in good condition with leg and arm cuts today in Community Hospital near Almont.

Romeo State Police said the youth was traveling about 65 miles per hour when his car skidded out of control on the snowy road, knocked down eight guard rails and crashed into a tree in a ditch.

He was driving too fast for conditions, according to police, and the car was demolished. Investigation of the accident is continuing.

State Road Toll 1,771

EAST LANSING (AP) — Traffic accidents have killed 1,771 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by State Police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 1,533. Weekly deaths made the fatality count for the year already the highest since 1955, when 1,740 deaths were recorded.

DETROIT (AP) — A $4 million improvement program has been launched at the 36-year-old Detroit City Airport. Edward S. Evans, airport commission chairman, and Capt. Arthur J. Schultz Jr., new airport manager, announced the two-year program.

State Stops Parking on Area Road

Parking has been prohibited on one section of a state highway in Oakland County and will soon be prohibited on another, the State Highway Department announced today.

The ban has been imposed on Stephenson Highway (M150) between 10 and 12 Mile roads in Royal Oak.

M150 serves as the east and west service-drives of I-75 between University Avenue and a point just south of 12 Mile.

Increased traffic resulting from the connection of I-75 with Stephenson Highway is the reason for the parking ban.

NEAR INTERSECTION

Parking also will be prohibited soon on M59, west of the M150 (Rochester Road) intersection in Avon Township.

Drivers who park at the curb to patronize commercial establishments in the area are blocking driveways and interfering with traffic at the intersection, a highway department investigation reveals.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs and State Highway Commissioner John C. Moline have signed both parking ban orders.

Out of Pan Into the Fire

DETROIT (AP) — Two Flint men carried a safe out of a bakery Sunday and walked into the arms of waiting policemen.

Police arrested Clifford Lane, 42, and Abe Gantos, 32, both of Flint.

Officers were on a stake-out of the bakery. Det. Sgt. James Bannon said he had noticed Gantos lurking near the bakery last Thursday and recognized him as having a police record. Police said they fired several shots at Lane, who ran into the arms of four of the seven officers on the stake-out.

9 Held at Gunpoint

DETROIT (AP) — Three gunmen robbed a DSR bus terminal of $22,700 in bills and coins Sunday night — holding nine terminal employees at gunpoint.

It was the third DSR holding in a little more than two years. Bandits escaped with $31,490 last summer and another terminal was robbed of $5,000 in a pre-Christmas raid in 1961.

The bandits slugged one employee, threatened to kill another and emptied their wallets of about $180.

Police said the bandits stopped at a watchman's shanty and asked to be directed to the lost-and-found department. When the watchman, Foster Ream, 58, stepped from the shanty he was bound and shoved into a parked car.

BROUGHT OUT

Driver Frank Mireles, 32, said he was in the office when the three entered and asked if a large green box had been left on a bus. The box apparently had been planted because stationmaster George Mason, 56, found it and brought it out to the men.

When he opened a locked door to hand it out to the men in the lobby, they drew revolvers and one fired a shot into the ceiling.

They ordered the drivers to go down on the floor and demanded that Mason open a wall safe that contained $30,000. He said he didn't know the combination.

The thugs slugged Mason when he failed to get down on the floor with the others fast enough. He was reported in fair condition at a nearby hospital. The bandits then scooped up bags of bills and coins that weren't in the safe and lugged them off, police said.

When service inspector Aaron Owen entered the room one of the bandits told him, he would "blow my brains out if I didn't open the safe. I told him I couldn't."

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Fluid Formed Near Heart Is Dangerous

Q — What does my doctor mean when he says I have fluid around my heart? What causes it and is it serious?

A — When fluid collects in the sac around your heart it may be due to an infection or a tumor, a condition which could severely damage the organ. The accumulated fluid means the heart has less room to expand. This reduces the force of the heartbeat and interferes with the circulation of the blood.

Antibiotics may control the infection before any real damage is done, but surgical drainage may be necessary.

Q — I am in my early 30s and have small brown moles on my face and neck. I have had a few removed but I keep getting new ones. What causes them? Is there anything I can take to stop them from coming?

A — The most likely cause of your moles is heredity, although they often do not appear until adult life. Then, as in your case, their number increases with the years. There is no drug that will prevent them. This type of mole has no relationship to cancer.

Q — My doctor says I have prostate gland trouble but he doesn't say what causes it. It has flared up three times in the last two years. My doctor gives me massages, hormone shots and antibiotics but there has been very little improvement.

A — Any condition that has been present, even though not continuously, for three years must be considered chronic, and is likely to be hard to cure.

If treatment by your family doctor has not helped you, you should have a thorough examination by a urologist who will first determine the cause of your trouble and will then prescribe a course of treatment which may include massage, medicine, physiotherapy, or even surgery, depending on his findings.

Q — I would like to know what is wrong with my husband. He is 50 and has started wetting the bed at night. He is a very sound sleeper. Could drinking beer cause this?

A — If, as you imply, your husband has not been a bed-wetter until recently, this symptom cannot be blamed on drinking any kind of fluid. The most likely cause is a slowly enlarging prostate. Check soon with your doctor.

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Needs Party Responsibility

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Who is fundamentally to blame for the mess in Congress? The Republicans? The Democrats? The administration in power? Or the people themselves?

The disarray is primarily due to the absence of party responsibility in the national legislative body. There is no way at present for the people to express their will on a major issue at the time it arises.

The foreign aid program is the ostensible cause of the confusion which last week stalled the adjournment of Congress.

But something deeper is involved. It is the failure of the American system to permit the people a voice at the moment when their opinion and guidance should be formally recorded.

Just now has almost a two-thirds majority in both houses and a president of its own party in the White House. Theoretically, therefore, the majority party should have unity in its ranks.

It is easy enough to blame one faction or another in Congress or to argue that what is needed is "modernization" of the committee rules.

But as long as America has a system of irresponsible government instead of a system of responsible government and party responsibility — such as prevails in some other parts of the free world — more and more of the same kind of mess and confusion that arose in the last few days in Congress will be witnessed in our own country.

No Room at the Inn? — It's Old Story, All Right

Considine

And it came to pass that on the morning before Christmas, He arrived in New York City, bought some clothes that conformed to what the natives were wearing, and hopped a jet for Gold Beach, Fla.

An odd thing happened at the first hotel. "All booked," the clerk said after a snob-CONSIDINE bish glance. It was that same way at the next four places, but the doorman at the last place took an interest in Him. "Your best bet is a motel, Mac," the man said. "They're not so hoity-toity."

He did, indeed, find a room at a motel; a room and, astonishingly, an invitation to cocktails and dinner. The manageress "moonlighted" in supplying rich Gold Beach dowagers with extra men, there being a man shortage.

"If I bring you, and they find out, I'll be asked to resign from the club. It's the oldest and best club around here, and we've got to live here, see?"

The host's wife hovered impatiently over them. "We're late, Horace," she said. "Tell your friend goodbye. You know how they are at the club about holding tables, especially on Christmas Eve."

The guests crowded out on the curb and piled into their convertibles and limousines. Then He was alone in the now-darkened street.

"Well, a little more time," He sighed.

The Hilldale Daily News

When 6,000 workers lose their jobs and a city loses the payroll of 6,000 workers it is a sad situation. This has happened in South Bend, Ind., where Studebaker has stopped manufacturing automobiles. However, there is a greater implication to be drawn from this circumstance than its impact on the locality. A plant in Canada will carry on the company name, and presumably will export automobiles to the United States.

Population

American Association of University Women Journal

It took mankind the whole period of recorded time until the early 19th century to achieve a population of one billion, only a century to achieve a second billion. It took somewhat over thirty years to raise the world population to three billion. At the present rate of increase, only fifteen years will be required to bring the figure to four billion.

It Seems to Me . . .

Soviet Union Is Far Behind in Agricultural Production

In spite of one of KHRUSHCHEV'S "explanations," bolstered by labored and devious reasons — and just plain boloney — the Russian's are at the end of another very bad year of farming.

They hurt.
And they hurt badly.

The plain, simple facts seem to be that when it comes to farming (and many other fundamental things) the land of the hammer and sickle is abysmally short of today's accepted techniques.

Insider's Newsletter says the Reds face the absolute necessity of taking an abnormally large number of animals to the slaughter houses for the simple reason that they have insufficient food to feed them. Really, in the United States of America this seems almost impossible. In spite of millions and millions of acres, they simply don't know how to produce enough.

By contrast, recall the Yankee farmer who brushed off the scientific agricultural college representative with the bland statement:

"Shucks, mister, I ain't farming more'n half as well as I know how myself."

But even his defection from top level practices left him in an enviable position in comparison with the Soviets. The hog situation is particularly alarming. U.S. sources are positive "the Soviet animal husbandry problem" will probably be catastrophic in some regions before the current winter is over."

So-o-o-o-o-o, when you hear some of these tales about the "glories of communism and collectivism," you might bear in mind that they're still neophytes in the most basic divisions of ordinary existence.

And they want us to copy them!

"Quick, Watson, the needle."

Red Athletes . . .

Pontiac resident PAUL A. REICHE calls attention to the professionalism which grips Russian track athletes. If you're a corking half-miler in the land of governmental autocracy, that can rather rapidly become your full-time occupation. You run the 800 meters for Russia.

It's your job and your living.

Professional football and baseball players in the United States, compete against each other and leave the amateurs alone. But the Russians send their full-time pros against the world's amateurs. In fact, the graceless Soviets have the temerity to enter their paid brigade in the Olympic games.

And one thing's even worse: President AVERY BRUNDAGE bows before this unspeakable outrage. In fact, he had the unmitigated gall to advise the Detroit Olympic committee that the U.S. stood in dubious repute, worldwide, because our nation was charged with subsidizing some of its college athletes.

The hollow laugh of the century greets this naive observation. The charge against the Americans is pretty ludicrous. But the same charge against the Russians is iron-clad, rock-ribbed and guaranteed — by Russia's own insistence. The Reds make no bones about their procedure. You can like it or lump it — and Mr. Brundage does both.

This great international president must close his guileless eyes and pretend not to see, thereby setting a new AAU record for pious recititude.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

JASCHA HEIFETZ says that if he skips his four hours of daily practice just once, he can notice the difference in his playing; and that if he skips twice, other musicians can tell; and that if he misses three times everyone knows. (That's what's wrong with my golf.)

Sen. PAUL HART's attack on high drug prices has been tracked by the tremendous activities of the drug lobby.

New York's city commission voted overwhelmingly for fluoridation—19 to 4. . . . Overheard: "The only reason the Egyptians got those pyramids finished was because they didn't have any coffee breaks."

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie you don't know what these men have in common: D. D. Tompkins, R. M. Johnson, George Dallas, William R. King, Henry Wilson, William Wheeler and Charles Fairbanks. Give up? They've all been vice president of the U. S. A. . . .

BARBARA

Scouts advise me that Barbara Van Horn deserves mention as one of the area's very attractive young ladies.

Dept. of Dubious Driving: the sweet lady that drove blithely out of Green Street onto Huron and stopped all eastbound traffic cold and snarled westbound until some forgiving soul stopped to let her in.

Overheard: "I hear CIO officials are giving wristwatches for Christmas that run at time and a half."

Even if he were, however, there is no immediate opportunity for the people to decide who is right or wrong. The people seemingly are outsiders — bewildered bystanders. They are told that in America the people rule—but this sometimes seems more a theory than a fact.

PARTY DIVISION

The division in the Democratic party between "conservatives" and "liberals" on economic and fiscal issues has its parallel in the Republican party in Congress.

Lodge Friends Forming Committee for '64 Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — Friends of Henry Cabot Lodge are forming a national committee to boost him for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

Robert R. Mullen, a long-time associate of the 61-year-old ambassador to South Viet Nam, said in an interview Sunday night that the formal announcement of a draft-Lodge committee and the opening of offices here and in Boston will be made either next Friday or Jan. 3.

Mullen said he would head the Washington office and that Sidney Salomon of San Diego, Calif., another former Lodge associate, will be national finance director.

He said he has informed Lodge of the move, but "We're not asking him to take part or to come back here at the present time."

The first objective, Mullen said, is circulation of a petition urging Lodge to seek the nomination. The goal: a million signatures.

Mullen said a decision on whether to enter Lodge's name in the New Hampshire presidential preference primary March 10 will be delayed until other possible Republican candidates make their decisions known in the next few weeks.

In this connection he specifically mentioned Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who has said he will make up his mind in January. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York already has announced his candidacy and plans to enter the New Hampshire primary, first in the nation. The filing deadline is Feb. 8.

Mullen said a slate of delegates listed as favorable to Lodge could be entered without Lodge's consent. A slate pledged to Lodge would require his consent.

DRAWS PARALLEL

Mullen drew a parallel between Lodge's situation and the one in 1952 when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower did not become an active candidate until after the New Hampshire primary. Lodge was a leading figure in that effort to get Eisenhower to seek the nomination.

Mullen, a former Boston newspaper man, was press secretary to Eisenhower in the pre-vention period. He now heads a public relations firm here.

A former GOP senator from Massachusetts, Lodge was ambassador to the United Nations during the Eisenhower administration and was the GOP vice presidential nominee in 1960.

He was named ambassador to South Viet Nam by the late President John F. Kennedy earlier this year. Two days after Kennedy was assassinated, Lodge returned to Washington for a previously scheduled conference with administration leaders.

URGED TO QUIT

During this time, it has been reported, Eisenhower urged Lodge to quit his Saigon post and actively seek the presidential nomination.

Informed of these reports, Lodge said he wasn't a candidate for any office, but added "naturally anything from Gen. Eisenhower would be treated with great respect."

Jacqueline Dons White

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy wore a white dress as the official mourning period for her husband ended Sunday.

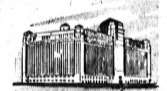

It was the first time she had appeared in public in anything but black for 39 days.

Mrs. Kennedy and her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, made a brief visit to the home of former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, the late President's father.

Plan Consultant Dead

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Justin R. Hartzog, 71, nationally known plan consultant, died Sunday. Hartzog had held many federal, state and municipal planning commissions throughout the country. He was born in Ada, Ohio.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPACE TRAVEL

QUESTION: Can space travelers live on pills instead of food?

ANSWER: Scientists could no doubt compress much nourishment into pill form, but pills might not be very tempting for space travelers to eat day after day.

Actually, it is not necessary to rely on pills, because food experts have worked out ways of providing food in its usual form to space travelers.

The astronaut in our main picture is one undergoing training in the condition of weightlessness which occurs at extreme speeds space capsules will travel.

To get them used to this, astronauts are taken aloft in jet planes which dive at a speed which creates weightlessness. Specially padded cabins are used. This man is sucking and squeezing out a snack of applesauce from a special tube made for the purpose.

Astronauts will actually be strapped down in comfortable seats. Their food will have been dehydrated — meaning the moisture is removed — and will be in packages.

When the astronaut adds water through a special nozzle, the food becomes the same as before dehydration.

As you can see, space meals will be much the same as those we enjoy back on earth.

FOR YOU TO DO: Watch the newspaper to become familiar with preparations the U. S. is making for a moon flight. Astronauts are now under training. Next summer, the first manned flight of the Gemini mission should start. Learn about it in advance.

Report Has Formula for State School Aid

DETROIT (AP) — State payment of a fixed percentage of local school costs is recommended in a special report asked by Gov. George Romney.

Charles E. Brake, former Wayne County school superintendent, submitted the report in answer to Romney's request for recommendations for a new state school aid formula.

He also suggested: —Adjusting the formula to give more aid to local districts whose tax base is smaller than average, and less aid to those whose base is larger than average.

—Establishing a governor's commission to recommend a plan for consolidation of school districts.

UNDER FIRE

The present school aid formula came under fire repeatedly during the governor's hearings last summer on fiscal reform. Under the formula, the Legislature sets the amount of money each district will receive according to a complicated formula which considers the district's taxing ability.

Brake recommends the state pay a fixed percentage of the districts' costs. He did not specify percentage in his report, but had suggested 50 per cent previously. He said state aid has varied between 42 and 52 per cent.

LISTED ENROLLMENT

Brake's enrollment counting proposal would list kindergarten children who attend only half-day sessions as half a student for aid purposes.

Students in grades one through six would count as one student and those above the sixth grade would count as 1.5 students.

"It can easily be shown that it costs at least one-fifth more to educate secondary students due to smaller class size and added facilities," Brake said.

Consolidation of school districts was recommended as a cost-cutting step, Brake said.

New Zealand Area Hit by Earthquake Today

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — An earthquake shook north Auckland early today, damaging chimneys, bursting water pipes and smashing windows and crockery.

It demolished the theory that the area north of Whangarei is the only earthquake-free region of New Zealand.

Ford to Grow in Germany and Britain

DETROIT (AP) — A major part of the $280 million being spent by the Ford Motor Co. for new overseas facilities will be spent in Great Britain and Germany, says John S. Bugas, vice president of the Ford international group.

Bugas said Saturday that about $124 million will be spent in Britain and $75 million in Germany.

In Britain, he said, plans call for construction of a new tractor plant and research center at Basildon, a transmission plant at Halewood, a new central office building at Warley and expansion of production facilities at Dagenham, near London.

Ford of Germany will complete a new stamping plant and final assembly plant at Genk, Belgium, and enlarge facilities at other locations to increase production capacity.

Board Chairman Henry Ford II announced last week that Ford will spend $510 million in expansion and modernization of its worldwide facilities.

The fruit-and-vegetable plant industry has 172,400 employees in the United States and a payroll of $591 million a year.

Arrest Stepson of Bob Taylor

Youth Suspected of Murder Try on Father

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Police said today they have arrested Michael Thiess, 18-year-old stepson of Hollywood star Robert Taylor, on suspicion of attempted murder.

Police said the youth is suspected of having served poisoned tea to his father, 49-year-old Munich film producer George Thiess.

Formal charges have not yet been filed against the boy. Under German law, he can be held during investigation by the state prosecutor.

The boy's mother, Ursula Thiess, married Taylor in 1954. Michael lived in the Taylor home in the United States until he returned to Germany in 1961.

Police said he moved in with his father, and the two had arguments last February.

At that time, police said Thiess advised them he suspected his son had attempted to kill him with insecticide in his tea.

No arrests was made, police said, but the youth was picked up in Hamburg in November when he was suspected of attempting to leave Germany. The prosecutor's office said

Thiess' arrest had not been disclosed previously because of his of water from their nostrils. whale's breath condensing as it meets the cooler, outside air.

New ICBMs, Polaris Sub Boost N-Force to 800 Missiles

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will boost its force of deep-striking missiles to nearly 800 this week when it mounts two new ICBM squadrons and commissions another Polaris submarine.

Thus, it will end the year with apparently about a 4-1 advantage over the Soviet Union in such nuclear missile power.

The over-all U.S. total will then include 534 intercontinental ballistic missiles poised in the United States and 256 missiles in the tubes of Polaris submarines.

Recent reports indicate the Russians have somewhat more than 100 ICBMs and about 100 missiles aboard submarines.

LAST 2 SQUADRONS

The final two squadrons of powerful Titan 2 intercontinental ballistic missiles are to be turned over to the Strategic Air Command soon after Christmas. They are at Little Rock Air Force Base in Arkansas.

The Navy plans to commission its 16th Polaris submarine, the Woodrow Wilson, on Dec. 27 at Mare Island Naval Shipyard in California. The Navy plans a total of 41 Polaris submarines, each packing 16 missiles.

When the Air Force brings in the Little Rock squadrons it will complete one more important stage in this country's missile buildup.

At that time, all six Titan 2 squadrons will be in place—each with nine tall rockets in 150-foot-deep, steel-and-concrete silos, ready to be fired in less than a minute.

These 54 Titans join an equal number of Titan 1 missiles on the firing line in bases scattered west of the Mississippi.

Soviet Military Pay

MOSCOW (AP)—The military paper Red Star announced that beginning in 1964 children of soldiers, sailors and noncommissioned officers in all Soviet military services will get support allowances.

number of Titan 1 missiles on the firing line in bases scattered west of the Mississippi.

MINUTEMAN

The Titan 2 has more power, carries a heavier nuclear warhead, is faster-reacting and more reliable than the earlier Titan.

The nation's first ICBM, the Atlas, also is completely mounted.

There are 126 Atlases in position, mostly in the West. They are slower to fire and some of them—the earliest—are exposed on above-ground launch pads. These vulnerable birds are expected to be retired.

MINUTEMAN

With the Atlas and Titan programs about finished, the big emphasis is on rushing completion of bases for the country's most advanced long-range missile. This is the Minuteman, a rocket powered by dependable solid fuel and capable of being fired in seconds.

In the past year, the Air Force has declared battle-ready 300 Minutemen emplaced over a wide area centering on Malmstrom Air Force Base in Montana.

Another 50 Minutemen — a squadron — are expected to be turned over next month to SAC at Minot Air Force Base in North Dakota.

Castro Schedules Talk

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro is scheduled to speak Jan. 3 in Havana's Revolution Square to commemorate the fifth anniversary of his revolutionary victory over the Batista regime on Jan. 1, 1959.

The giant rhinoceros, baluchitherium, which resembled a grounded blimp, was the largest land mammal that ever lived. Baluchitherium stood about 17 feet high at the shoulder and was 24 feet long. It stalked the earth some 30 million years ago.

Politics-Torn Dowagiac Seeks Orderly Government

DOWAGIAC, Mich. (U-P)—Political strife has all but destroyed city government in this deceptively quiet southwest Michigan community. A semblance of order will be sought tonight.

But Mayor Glenn I. Berry will consider it an accomplishment if he can get a quorum of aldermen. Action on resignations of half the six-member city council is on a special meeting agenda.

Berry has appealed for help "in this breakdown of government" to Gov. George Romney.

The city attorney resigned;

Three of the six aldermen resigned (and because of this City Council hasn't been able to muster a quorum for anything, including acceptance of the resignations.)

Dowagiac's largest employer has announced it will not expand local operations because of the upheaval at city hall.

A recall drive has been launched against the mayor.

Officials even have asked for volunteer aldermen to serve from the second ward in this city of 7,200—but no one has stepped forward for appointment.

Political and personal feuds long have been a feature of city government here, and the current state of chaos was brought on by a row last summer over the independent Public Works Board and its operation of the Department of Public Works.

Alderman Milton Shante sought the dismissal of the department superintendent, Harold Wagner, charging irregularities. In the ensuing fracas, two board members resigned, two were fired and ouster of Shante voted 190-116 by citizens who turned out for a recall election.

The council appointed four Works Board replacements, changed its mind and tried to dismiss them—a move that was ruled illegal by City Attorney James Hoff, who has since resigned.

The council later abolished the board and took over its functions.

Berry, a dentist who quit politics several years ago and said he came back last spring because of "a lack of candidates," blames the upheaval on "politicians."

"The politicians in this city have made the better citizens frightened of political life because of the way they are dealt with the moment they step into office and the lack of support they receive," he said.

"When a 60-year-old dentist who is ready to retire has to step forward as a candidate to set things right, something is wrong," Berry added.

Second Ward Aldermen

Richard Flewelling and William Easton complained of abuse and public apathy, handed in their resignations and have refused to attend any more council meetings.

The political stalemate may break up tonight if even one of the disgruntled aldermen shows up for the special meeting, said the new city attorney Lee Boothby.

This would make a quorum and the council could act on the resignations, the recall election, a replacement for Shante and ever clear the way for a special election, Boothby said.

Much of the opposition so far has come from a self-styled Good Government Committee made up mostly of ex-city officials and headed by former alderman Grafton Cook.

The lone Democrat on the Republican-controlled council, C. R. Davis, has added a note of his own.

Charging that Berry barred him from a special council meeting and refused to let him read a minority report on the council's investigation into the Public Works Department, Davis started circulating petitions for a recall election on the mayor.

First rumblings of the present turmoil were felt a year ago when a new city charter was proposed. The then mayor and council were so confident of acceptance of the new charter and city manager type government that they did not bother to enter their names in the primary for their old council seats.

The charter—opposed by Berry—was defeated 2-1, and Berry and new men voted into the old mayor-council form.

Berry, however, has changed his mind and now says a switch to city-manager government would be good for the city.

MARJORIE THAYER WILSON

The Thomas H. Wilsons of Clarkston announce the engagement of their daughter Marjorie Thayer to Charles B. Spaulding, son of the John B. Spauldings of Winnetka, Ill.

WOMENS SECTION

Announce Engagement

A late June wedding is planned by Marjorie Thayer Wilson, daughter of the Thomas H. Wilsons of Clarkston and Charles B. Spaulding, son of the John B. Spauldings of Winnetka, Ill.

She was graduated from Kingswood School Cranbrook and from Hollis College. While attending Hollis, she participated in the Hollis Abroad Program and received her diploma from the Sorbonne in Paris. She also studied at the Connecticut School of Dance.

Her fiancé attended Avon Old Farms School, Avon, Conn., and will graduate from Cornell University next June. He is a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

The engagement was made known and Saturday at a Christmas dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson in the home of the bride-elect's grandfather, the late Oliver L. Beaudette on West Huron Street.

Don't Leave Small Party for Another

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband and I received invitations to two New Year's Eve parties.

I would very much like to go to both parties but my husband thinks it would be rude to leave one party to go on to another. May I please have your opinion?

A: If the New Year's Eve parties are large and of the open house variety where guests come and go, you may quite properly go first to one party, stay awhile and then go on to the next.

But if they are small gatherings of close friends and the hosts are counting on your presence, you cannot leave to go somewhere else.

Q: My father died three weeks ago and since we have always been a very close family, his death has left us with a deep sense of loss.

My husband has to attend banquets and dinners frequently and he likes me to accompany him. I feel it would be improper for me to attend these functions for at least three months. May I have your opinion?

A: Unless it is really important for business reasons that you accompany him to these functions, I agree with you that you shouldn't do so for at least three months.

Q: Isn't it rude to refer to someone in her own presence as "she"? Shouldn't she be referred to by name?

A: Most certainly "she" should be referred to by name. But if brief comment lengthens into a long narrative in which her name should have to be frequently repeated, it would be best to use "she" rather than use her name again and again.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Break Pinata at Meeting of Music Group

Constance Rightmire announced a program of Christmas numbers as the Pontiac Junior Musicians gathered Saturday afternoon in the home of David Riddering on Ogema Road.

Highlight of the social hour which followed a carol sing, was the breaking of a Mexican pinata by Raymond Emshley.

Mrs. Riddering told the club members of traditional Mexican customs the family observed while living there. The pinata made by members of her family, was in the form of a colorful bird.

The Best Way Out

Show Unfaithful the Door

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: A few months ago I wrote to you about my husband seeing another woman.

I talked it over with him like you said I should. He denied it at first, but it all came out in the open a few weeks later.

So here is my problem: He says he loves this other woman too much to break off with her. (She is also married and has children.)

He doesn't want a divorce or separation from me because he says he still loves me and he adores our children.

I love him too much to kick him out. What do I do now?

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: You'll do your husband a favor if you show him the open door.

Tell him to send liberal support money by mail.

If and when he decides to resume the role of full-time husband and "adoring" father, tell him you'll think it over.

But remind him that his time for decision is short.

DEAR ABBY: A school dance is coming up and it's girl-ask-boy. The boy I would really like to ask has never asked me to anything, so my mother is making me invite a real creepy kid who has taken me to a couple of school things.

Isn't this real cool guy I ask me to something right away so I could take him to the dance instead of the other one?

The creep doesn't know how to dance and I get so

Handkerchief Becomes Art

With a giant step forward, Swiss handkerchief producers have dipped into a reservoir of fresh ideas for the handkerchief by bringing into their country a group of talented, young artists from all over the world who have given new feeling and fashion stimulation to the printed handkerchief industry.

These newly-styled handkerchiefs are no longer just handkerchiefs. Each one is a work of art, a collector's item, and tells its own story in modern prints that closely resemble etchings, woodcuts, pen and ink drawings, which contrast with the realistic painted pattern—all done in a wealth of designs and a melange of colors.

VERSATILITY

Since the printed handkerchief has been developed into a new fashion look, it has placed itself above practical use and into new areas of fashion, serving as head and neck scarves, favors for bridge parties, table decorations or place mats, framed as pictures or given for any occasion when an expensive gift is too much, and a card too little.

Because of their many uses, their charm and avant styling, these Swiss handkerchiefs have orbited into immediate and wide-spread appeal, marking the long-awaited arrival of a new handkerchief look.

you out. And if you have any spare time, invite him over first for a few dancing lessons.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, 23, is being married soon. She is a college graduate and has always been the most wonderful daughter a father could wish for.

Her mother and I were divorced when she was 10. (Her mother was unfaithful to me, but I acted the "gentleman" and let her sue me for divorce.)

Our daughter has since divided her time between her mother and me (mostly with her mother.)

I never remarried. My daughter wants me to give her away at her wedding, and I want to.

But I cannot bring myself to stand beside my former wife at the wedding, sit with her, dine with her, and share congratulations in the receiving line with her.

Only God knows how I hate that woman! I cannot shake that hatred. What should I do?

PROUD FATHER

DEAR FATHER: YOU CAN shake that hatred if you try. I say try hard, and replace your bitterness with compassion. And go to your daughter's wedding.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Songs and Children Create Christmas

By MIRIAM NEAL

In a bare but neat brick home on Shirley Avenue live the seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Sanchez Queles.

They are Velma, 10; Robert, 7; Luis, 7; Eddie, 5; Sonia, 4; Joseph, 2; and Carlos Junior, 6 months.

Don't tell them Christmas is made of trees and lights and tinsel or fancy toys or clothes. They know better.

They make Christmas out of their own talents.

Carlos Senior sets the beat for joy with his guitar and song. Both he and his wife were born in Puerto Rico so his songs ring with "Feliz Navidad" as well as "Jingle Bells."

The difference between the palm trees and green bananas and the snow and baked beans disappears under the enchantment of the strings.

Present the 'Messiah'

Symphony and Singers Inspired

By ERIC W. ALLEN

More than 1,500 heard a highly satisfying performance of Handel's "Messiah," Part I, at Oakland University Sunday afternoon.

The Christmas portion was presented by OU's mixed chorus and the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, under twin batons of Felix Resnick, symphony conductor, and Walter Collins, OU music director.

Both should be credited with their choice of a complete presentation of Part I, rather than the more popular "Messiah" arrangements that lift airs and choral passages from all three parts of the work and thereby destroy Handel's creative continuity.

Tenor Robert Angus sang the initial "Comfort ye my people..." with restrained and simple dignity, avoiding the heavy and overemotional ritual that some then can let an unpleasant time for the remainder of the performance.

Contralto Alice Engram,

Yule Favrs at Luncheon

Christmas favors marked places for 30 at the Maple Leaf Luncheon Club's party on Friday in Howard Johnson's Dixie Highway Restaurant.

Hostesses were Mrs. H. J. Endries and Mrs. Everett Harris. Mrs. A. G. Coleman, Mrs. A. O. Garner, Mrs. Charles Furier and DeAndrea Simenauer signed the guest register.

Ribbons Run Really Wild

Even the Christmas ribbon you use to tie your packages can be put to clever use. Ribbon wigs to wear to parties or costume balls are all the rage in London, so why not make one to wear yourself to a Christmas or New Year's Eve party?

All you'll need are lengths of ribbon and a milliner's buckram hat shape. If this isn't readily available an old felt hat shape will do. The ribbon is attached to the shape with double-faced cellophane tape. Bows and Christmas balls top off the creation. Easy to do, but so effective.

Songs and Children Create Christmas

draws the cards and decorates the packages. Little sister, Sonia, helps mind Carlos Junior and adds cheer with a shy smile.

Robert, Louis and Eddie alternate between constructive cooperation and argumentative chase. Little Joseph who watches with wide eyes just gets loved.

Who needs a tree and packages?

Carlos Senior sets the beat for joy with his guitar and song. Both he and his wife were born in Puerto Rico so his songs ring with "Feliz Navidad" as well as "Jingle Bells."

bass Duncan Sells and soprano Paula Robinson, also showed familiarity and understanding of the work, performing with skill and subdued feeling.

STRINGS EXCEL

Pontiac Symphony's strings have never sounded better. Their blend was exceptional and inner voicing was clear. Sense of dynamic value was consistently maintained without overpowering soloists or chorus.

Oakland University's chorus is a refreshing artistic value in this area. It would be gratifying to hear more of them in concert with the symphony, perhaps attempting some of the Mozart or Verdi choral works, or Bach cantatas.

Yesterday's performance combined the best of all musical elements involved... chorus, orchestra and solo singers.

HALLELUJAH

As a final reminder that this was more than just a polished rendition of the Handel work, the combined musical groups ended yesterday's performance with the "Hallelujah" chorus.

Though not musically related to Part I or to Christmas, this magnificent choral salutation has become indicative of the birth of Christ.

In reality, the "Hallelujah" is Handel's tribute not to the birth of Christ, but to the resurrection, and it precedes the final Easter portion of the "Messiah."

Not enough praise can be heaped on Resnick, Collins, the soloists, chorus and orchestra for this fitting salutation to the Christmas season.

Kathleen Elizabeth Mildebrandt, daughter of the Otto W. Mildebrandts of Grant Street and Peter Allan Grund, son of the Elmer J. Grunds of Rochester, were wed Saturday in Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Rochester.

MRS. PETER ALLAN GRUND

Oakland University Girl Weds Peter A. Grund

Off to Washington and Virginia on their honeymoon are the Peter Allan Grunds (Kathleen Elizabeth Mildebrandt), who were wed Saturday in Gethsemane Lutheran Church Rochester.

For the ceremony performed by Rev. Donald Krueger and the reception in LaSalette Hall, Berkeley, the bride chose a gown of white silk alpaca and carried garlands.

Point d'Venise lace circled the fitted waist and bordered the detachable court train over an A-line skirt. A tiny beaded pillow secured her bouffant French illusion veil.

She is the daughter of the Otto W. Mildebrandts of Grant Street.

With maid of honor, Patricia Herzina, were bridesmaids Mrs. Marvin Burkhardt, Diana Owen, Mrs. James Ninni, Clawson, and junior attendant Beverly Grund.

BLUE AND OLIVE

They wore electric blue velvet with olive green grain ribbon circling their Empire bodices. Their bouquets were Harvest Gold carnations.

Timothy Grund stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Elmer J. Grund of Rochester. John Quant of Detroit ushered with Ronald Robbins, Rochester; James Ninni, and Allan Grund, junior usher.

The bride is a senior at Oakland University where her husband was graduated with the charter class. They will live in Rochester.

Demonstration on Decorations

Seventeen members of the Child Culture Club exchanged secret pal gifts Thursday evening in the Rochester home of Mrs. William Brannack. Mrs. Donald Rife was cohostess.

Mrs. Herman Trost, volunteer extension worker, included the Japanese art of paper-folding in her demonstration on holiday decorations for the home. Wreaths were made from many varieties of pine cones.

Special Wrapping for Children

Children play a major role in gift giving and receiving and there is a wide assortment of children's subjects to delight boys and girls. Snowmen, dogs, cute angels, kittens and babies are to be found in a variety of amusing activities on dozens of gift wrappings.

Men's Traditional Gifts Deserve Unusual Wrap

Take the time to take him by surprise this year. Gift-wise, according to an annual survey on Christmas gift-giving, your favorite man is probably going to receive a new shirt, assorted ties, a suit, socks and a piece of camera equipment.

But he'll probably be able to spot each one just by its tell-tale box.

If you use a little imagination in boxing and wrapping you'll double his amazement on the big day . . . and add fun for the whole family. Here are some suggestions for wrapping the most-given and most-wanted gifts for the man of the house.

Common containers can be elegantly covered with brilliant gift papers, so you don't need to depend on traditional box sizes and shapes.

Enormous boxes, filled with a number of individually wrapped gifts are always fun to open. You can increase the suspense by having each gift hide another.

On the cover of this giant box you can create a portrait of your husband by using different colors and textures of gift papers and ribbons.

Whether you wrap with or without disguises, don't forget these general gift wrapping hints:

- Choose a wrapping paper with a design opaque enough to completely cover any printing on the surface of the box.
- Wrap gifts on a smooth, hard surface and allow enough space for all working materials.
- Cut your gift paper to allow 2 inches of overlap around the box, and make certain that the edges to be folded at each end are slightly more than one-half the depth of the package.
- Round or cylindrical objects should be wrapped similarly, with the ends pleated into triangular folds.
- Secure each step of the wrapping operation with glue, rubber cement or seals. This way, the paper will always remain in place.

He'll never guess what's inside these puzzle packages. The "firecracker" holds smoking equipment, and the "portrait" package is a surprise box of casual apparel with individual items wrapped separately inside.

Polly's Pointers

Emergency Pressing

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—The asbestos stove pad is handy, covered with a towel, to use when pressing small items in an emergency. I often do this when seams in articles I am sewing need pressing. Saves the bother of getting the ironing board out for small jobs. —MRS. K.L.K.

DEAR POLLY—When I embroider pillowcases, I use two sets of embroidery hoops, one on each case. While I have certain color of thread in my needle, I do everything in that color on both cases.

Both are finished at the same time and I have saved time that would have been spent in extra needle threading.

• With the holidays approaching, many of us will be entertaining and certainly will have longer grocery shopping lists. I make up my menus and shopping list early and each week I buy one or two items that will be needed.

Canned things and frozen foods can be bought weeks ahead. This makes it easier on the food budget as well as on my nerves. —MRS. G.E.K.

USE SPONGE
DEAR POLLY—When I cook I use a clean sponge on my stove top as a spoon holder. It is handy to clean up any spills and can be washed and rinsed along with the dishes.

• When my napkins become worn I save them for the children to use when they dry the silver and unbreakable dishes. It saves the dragging on the floor that usually results when a small one tries to use a regular dish towel.

• When you write names and addresses in your address book, write the names in ink but the addresses in pencil. Addresses often change so you will have a neater book if you follow this suggestion. —MRS. I.T.

Share your favorite home-making ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.

The United States baking industry employs 299,000 persons with a yearly payroll of $1.3 billion.

Byon Brock Takes Bride on Saturday

Pfc. and Mrs. Byon Brock (Kay Ellen Campbell) left for a honeymoon in Ohio following their marriage Friday in the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Lawrence Campbell of Louella Drive, and the late Mr. Campbell, was given in marriage by her brother Barry Campbell of Ypsilanti.

White delustered satin, with front panel of re-embroidered Alencon lace, fashioned the bride's bell-shaped gown and chapel train. Her bouffant veil of illusion fell from a cabbage rose headpiece combined with pearly orange blossoms.

ROSE CORSAGE

A corsage of Mary Jo roses centered the bridal cascade of white carnations and Pittosporum.

Mrs. Barry Campbell, who was matron of honor, and bridesmaid Mary Ann Blezniski, appeared in red velvet gowns worn with white fur headpieces. They carried nosegays of Mamie Eisenhower carnations.

Ronald Brock assisted his brother as best man. They are the sons of the Elmer Brocks of Fintille, Ky. John Harrington of Walley Lake seated the guests.

A reception in the CAI Building followed the evening rite.

Pfc. Brock, formerly of North Johnson Avenue, will return to Germany where he is stationed.

Work Is Answer for Students in Need

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money
Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Can you help me? I'm a junior in high school. My parents had planned on sending me to college. I'm sure they still want to, but due to financial difficulties I can see now that it will be hard for them to provide me with all the money I'll need. I was told recently that there are some colleges that have a work-and-study plan. Do you know anything about this?

J. P. S., Toledo, Ohio

Dear J. P. S.: You are probably referring to the cooperative education plan which is available at 60 institutions throughout the country. The National Commission for

Cooperative Education estimates that some 30,000 students are now enrolled in cooperative education programs, in which students alternate periods of study on campus with periods of employment in full-time responsible jobs.

But, even though this plan would give you additional funds, your parents should plan on contributing a portion of your expenses.

For a list of these schools you can write to the National Commission for Cooperative Education, 8 West 40th Street, New York 10018. Then you can check with specific colleges for details.

Dear Miss Feeley: Within a few months I will be retiring on an annuity of approximately $245 a month.

I am paying $70 rent, including heat and utilities except lights which are $3.50 a month. I have a car paid for and would like to keep it if possible. Car insurance is $7 a month, health and life insurance, $11.50.

Please give me a budget to include food, clothing, etc.

A. J. W., Vancouver, Wis.

Dear A. J. W.: You should be able to keep your car and still eat. While you carry health insurance, the years tend to run up our minor medical bills, so better allow at least $15 a month for this purpose.

The picture shapes up like this:

Rent, $70; utilities and household operating costs, $8.50; food, $38; clothing, $20; insurance, $11.50; personal expenses, $20; miscellaneous, $15; medical, $15; recreation, $10; car operating and insurance, $37.

Why not put this budget into operation right now, so you'll know by the time you retire whether you and the car both can live on it.

Dear Miss Feeley: Several weeks ago in your column you mentioned that a widow must present her marriage certificate at the Social Security Office when inquiring about benefits.

Mrs. R. H. H. Des Plaines, Ill.

Dear Mrs. H. Social Security will accept a certificate issued by the church, signed by the minister and witnesses. The certificate should bear the seal of the church. You should also bring your birth certificate, and the birth certificates of any children who may be eligible for payments.

Ceremony Centers on Altar Advent Wreath

A hanging Advent Wreath and altar bouquets of red and white poinsettias created a Christmas setting for the vows of Karen Sue Sage to Joseph C. Shovels, Saturday, in Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

Red velvet gowns for the honor maid Rita Stanley, and bridesmaid Carol Parker, accentuated the color theme chosen by the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd T. Sage of Hillcliff Drive.

Medallions of Alencon lace were applied on her gown of white silk organza over taffeta, styled with chapel sweep. She wore a bouffant veil of illusion and held a Bible arrangement of white orchids, red roses and Stephanotis.

Red and white carnations formed cascade bouquets for the attendants and a nosegay for Mary Harroun, flower girl. Jonathan Sage carried the rings.

Chester Hensley was best man for the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. Shovels of Alii Street. Ronald P. Sage of Golden, Colo. ushered with John Bloor, Birmingham, and John Schmidt of Holland.

MOUNTAIN TRIP
The couple left for the Pocomo Mountains following the church reception. They will live in East Lansing where he is a Michigan State University senior.

Wrapping Varies for Personalities

To round out the line and allow the individual gift wrapper scope for imaginative combinations of color and decorations, there is a wide selection of plain colored wrappings in matte, foil and glossy finishes. Included is the perennially popular crinkly foil wrap that is so pliable it can be fluted, curled, pleated and draped just like a fabric.

MRS. J. C. SHOVELS

Use Gift Wrap for Decorating

It's simple, with the help of Christmas gift wrapping papers, to decorate your home for the festive season. With a little talent for do-it-yourself projects, a little time and imagination, those left-overs from the wrapping of the presents can be turned into charming adornments that will add to the gaiety of the entertaining.

Past Chiefs Meet

Members of the Past Chief's Club of Mizpah Temple of Pontiac exchanged gifts at the recent Christmas dinner meeting in Bedell's Restaurant.

Plastic Gloves Steal Market

Many gloves of vinyl plastic will be seen this year. They look very much like leather but much less expensive. Women looking for a practical low cost glove will particularly like these because they can be cleaned with a damp cloth. For longest wear however, they should be handled and worn like fine leather gloves.

MRS. J. D. PARKER II

Pastor Gives Ceremony for His Son

Rev. J. Douglas Parker officiated at the candlelight vows of his son, Radio Seaman Z.C. James Douglas Parker II to Linda Lee Allen, Saturday in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Rochester.

White poinsettias flanked the altar and small holly wreaths marked aisle pews.

Daughter of the Denzel Alens of Woodcrest Street, the bride chose a white satin brocade sheath gown with Watteau back and chapel train. Triple tiers of silk illusion fashioned her floor-length veil.

White orchids and Stephanotis rested on her small white Bible.

PURPLE FOR GIRLS With Marilyn Sue Allen, her sister's maid of honor, were bridesmaids Christine Parker, Barbara Meadows and Jo Ellen Crawford. They wore floor-length deep purple satin gowns and carried purple-throated white cattleya orchids.

James D. Schatz was best man. Neil and Glenn Parker ushered with William Billigs. All are of Rochester.

Rev. and Mrs. Parker gave the rehearsal dinner Friday in their Rochester home.

After their Northern honeymoon, the couple will leave for Bainbridge, Md. where he attends electronics school.

Greens Decked Halls for Christmas Wedding

Lighted Christmas trees decked the chancel in St. Trinity Lutheran Church where Charyl Lesh Allison and James Gerald Gaylock pledged recent vows.

Some 200 guests attended a reception in the church parlors following the ceremony performed by Rev. Ralph C. Claus.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Alma Allison of East Boulevard South and William C. Allison of Detroit, chose a princess-line gown of white satin.

PEARLS ON GOWN Pearls and sequins studded the fitted bodice and Chanilly lace panels accented her skirt which fell into a chapel train. A jeweled tiara held the elbow-length illusion veil. She carried white roses and carnations.

With Mrs. Dexter Jarrett, her sister's matron of honor, were the bridesmaids, Carol Dooley and Linda Gaylock.

White fur muffs topped with a corsage of candy-stripe carnations and holly, complemented their gowns of emerald green taffeta, styled with bell skirts.

Richard Gaylock assisted his brother as best man. They are the sons of the George Gaylocks of Lotus Drive, Eric Mar and Sidney Hall seated the guests.

The newlyweds will reside in Pontiac.

Space Program Has Dull Year

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — America's multibillion-dollar space program will remember 1963 rather unkindly as the year the bloom finally fell off the cosmic rose in a wintry blast of early problems.

With few exceptions, these were 365 dull, colorless days of grounded programs with gaudy price tags, of disgruntled astronauts and disenchanted admirers, of continual postponements and controversial "Pogo-stick" and congressional penny-pinching.

One pundit, in a play on the scientific title of the upcoming "year of the quiet sun," called 1963 the "year of the quiet NASA."

NASA is the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The name is longer than its list of accomplishments for the past year. Of the 40 major satellites and probes NASA had scheduled for 1963, a bare one-fourth got off the ground.

COOPER SHOT

The only truly spectacular note in the U.S. space exploration program was sounded on the morning of May 16 at Cape Canaveral, the moonport later renamed Cape Kennedy. At 8:04 a.m. EST, astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. rode a silvery Atlas rocket into the sky.

For the next 34 hours, the slender Oklahoman with the southern drawl was the darling of the world. In awesome loneliness 102 miles to 108 miles in space, Cooper was guided by his bell-shaped "Faith-7" Mercury capsule around the globe 22.9 times.

The finish was a chapter straight out of Frank Merriwell. On the 20th orbit, the capsule's automatic control system conked out. Cooper grabbed the controls and, with the practiced touch of years of training, steered Faith-7 to a dead-end landing 7,000 yards from a recovery ship.

Cooper's flight ended Project Mercury, America's first man-in-space program. But the official burial of the $400 million project was marred by a sharp rift between NASA's headquarters in Washington and its manned spacecraft center in Houston, Tex.

NASA SAYS NO

The astronaut-led Texas group fought for another Mercury-manned voyage, and carried the battle all the way to President Kennedy. Washington headquarters, under the reins of NASA Administrator James E. Webb, said "no."

Washington won — and grounded the nation's astronauts for at least 18 months. Project Gemini, the "second generation" manned program, already had run into troubles in the pocketbook and on the rocket pad, leaving a new astronaut flight far down the road in 1964.

The Titan-2 booster rocket for the 7,000-pound, two-man Gemini capsule showed up with "Pogo-stick" problems — a nose-to-nose vibration that scientists feared would shake astronauts to the teeth. Only at the year's end did the trouble appear close to a solution.

At the other end of the space machine, the bell-shaped Gemini capsule fell behind in its development because of tightened purse strings within the space agency itself.

SEND UP COSMONETTE

The Soviet Union, still capitalizing on U.S. delays, sent cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky and the first "cosmonette," Valentina Tereshkova, on spectacular journeys of 72 and 48 orbits, respectively, last June.

Perhaps the dual flight was not all it was supposed to be. U.S. experts believe Bykovsky and Tereshkova missed their most important objective — linking their "Vostok-5" and "Vostok-6" spaceships in orbit to form a small, manned platform.

The Russians hinted at future space station attempts by putting an unmanned satellite called "Polyot-1" into orbit Nov.

1, and then changing its path. It indicated a maneuverability that must be perfected if objects are to be brought together in orbit.

The United States, after officially ignoring manned space stations for six years, announced in December it too was starting such a project — a trailer-sized laboratory to be orbited in 1967 or 1968.

FIRE AND THUNDER

There was some fire and thunder on U.S. launching pads during 1963. Three satellites — Syncom-1 and 2, and Teletar-2 — were sent into orbit for experiments in worldwide radio communications. Syncom-1 quickly went dead, but the other two performed in first-class fashion.

The nation's seventh Tires weather satellite went into space and took pictures of hurricanes during the summer. A pair of "secret" satellites named Vela Hotel were sent aloft in October to look for clandestine nuclear explosions. And the usual run of "mystery" satellites — reconnaissance and surveillance mechanisms in the Midas, Samos and Discoverer families — rocketed into the skies from the West Coast.

Centaur, the first of a new breed of hydrogen-fueled rockets America is depending upon to push astronauts to the moon, finally scored a success: an orbital flight that put more than five tons of empty staging in orbit around the earth.

But it seemed, overall, to be the year of three stumbles per success. The 1½ million-pound-thrust Saturn "super booster," after a perfect up-and-down test earlier in the year, ran into technical troubles and had to wait until 1964 for its first two-stage orbital flight.

OTHER PROGRAMS

Other programs scored worse:

Dyna-Soar — a winged, orbital glider for Air Force astronauts. Canceled to make room for the Defense Department's space station project.

Ranger — an early probe to explore the moon. After five straight failures, it was grounded for the year, run through a congressional investigation and cut back by five payloads in a late-year economy move.

Saturn-1 — The super-booster. Cut back by five rockets in the money saving drive, to push development of the more advanced Saturn-1B.

Nimbus — an advanced weather satellite. The U.S. Weather Bureau pulled out of its $40-million support on grounds Nimbus could not do the job. NASA, touchy on the subject, said simply it would continue the project on a "research and development" level.

DISPLAYED LITTLE

The Soviet Union, on the other hand, displayed little more than the Bykovsky-Tereshkova flight and the Polyot-1 feat although it sent a number of its rather mysterious "Cosmos" satellites into orbit.

However, indications late in 1963 were the Russians possibly had developed a lighter booster rocket, delivering upwards of 3 million pounds of thrust, for its manned space station and man-to-the-moon programs.

Dr. Werner Von Braun, the so-called "father of the Saturn" and probably the world's most famous space scientist, said he would "not be surprised" if the Soviet Union launched a satellite weighing 40 to 50 tons soon.

Aside from the thunderous rockets, complex satellites and constant problems, the year did have its more human moments.

ANOTHER FIRST

Behind the Iron Curtain, the Russians pulled off another "first" — at the altar. Cosmonaut Andrian Nikolayev, orbited in 1962 and cosmonette Tereshkova were married in what was billed as a "cosmic wedding."

And at America's No. 1 moonport, there was a rechristening. In memory of the assassinated President Kennedy, Cape Canaveral was renamed Cape Kennedy by edict of President Johnson.

The argument that ensued probably ranked as the most controversial bright spot of the long, lackluster year.

Karras' Suspension State's Top Sports Story of '63

United Press International. The top Michigan sports story of 1963 didn't happen on a playing field — and it didn't take place even in Michigan.

It occurred in the New York office of National Football League commissioner Pete Rozelle.

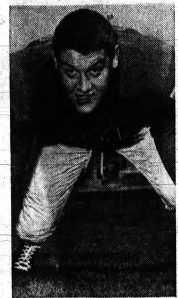

Last April 17, Rozelle called a press conference and stunned the sports world when he announced that he was suspending Detroit Lion tackle Alex Karras and Green Bay halfback Paul Hornung indefinitely for betting on games.

April is usually a month when the opening of the new baseball season takes up most of the space on the sports pages. But the suspensions were banner news across the nation and it was especially so in Michigan since five other Lions were fined $2,000 and the club itself was fined $4,000.

In a runaway ballot, United Press International subscribers named the suspension of Karras as the top Michigan sport story of 1963.

It received 15 first place

votes and no other story received more than two first place votes.

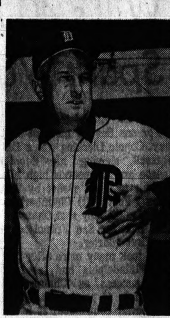

TOP STORIES

Here is a summary of the top ten sports stories of the year in Michigan voted in the annual poll of United Press International subscribers.

1. Detroit Lion tackle Alex Karras, considered by many the best tackle in football, was handed an indefinite suspension by NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle for betting on games. Green Bay halfback Paul Hornung was also suspended indefinitely. Five Lions were fined $2,000 and the team was fined $4,000. Rozelle said he would not review the suspensions of Karras and Hornung until early in 1964.

2. In the biggest surprise of 1963, popular Detroit Tiger manager Bob Sheffing was fired by general manager Jim Campbell in Boston on June 18 with the club in ninth place. In the most sweeping mid-season move in baseball history, Campbell also fired all the coaches, Charlie Dressen was named the new manager.

3. Detroit made a determined bid to land the 1968 Olympic games but lost out in the first ballot to Mexico City. In the voting of the International Olympic Committee in October at Baden-Baden. The failure probably doomed Detroit's chances of landing the Olympic games during its lifetime. Detroit made a superb presentation but anti-American feelings among the "have not" nations ruined the Motor City's effort.

4. Gordie Howe became the National Hockey League's all-time goal scoring champion when he scored his 545th goal against Montreal before a packed house at Olympia on Nov. 18. Howe had been held scoreless for five games before he finally collected the goal to break the old mark of 544 held by former Canadian great Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

5. Michigan State was the "Cinderella" team of the 1963 Big Ten football race — until the final game. The Spartans weren't expected to do much

BILL FORD

In the pre-season forecasts listed a 5-4 mark. But behind the running of Sherman Lewis, MSU moved within one game of the Rose Bowl only to lose the postponed Thanksgiving Day clash to Illinois, 13-0, and both the title and trip to Pasadena.

6. Auto scion William Clay Ford offered to buy the Detroit Lions for $6 million dollars and the Lions board of directors and stockholders quickly approved the offer. Ford, an avid pro football fan, will take over sole control of the team. Ford said George Wilson would remain on as head coach.

7. Rocky Colavito, the Detroit Tigers' temperamental slugger, was dealt away to the Kansas City Athletics in a five-player deal after the 1963 season. Colavito and Bob Anderson went to Kansas City for second baseman Jerry Lumpe and pitchers Ed Raskow and Dave Wickham.

Detroit also sweetened the deal with $50,000. Colavito was traded away because his poor attitude was hurting the morale of the team.

8. Even with Alex Karras suspended, the Detroit Lions were picked as the No. 1 contender to the Green Bay Packers for the 1964 season. But the Lions' offense sputtered at the start of the year and then injuries wrecked the defense and Detroit wound up with a poor 5-8-1 mark. But the team did rally in the final three weeks of the season to tie Green Bay and knock Cleveland out of the Eastern Division race.

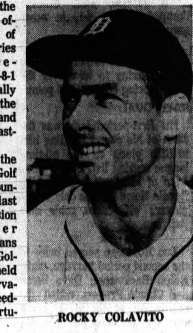

9. A near-tragedy hit the Women's Wolverine Open Golf Tournament at Hillcrest Country Club in Mount Clemens last July. A 150-foot suspension bridge over the Clinton River collapsed and dumped 50 fans into the waist deep water. Golf Jo Ann Prentice was held overnight for hospital observation and several fans also needed hospital treatment. Fortunately, no one was killed.

10. The Detroit Red Wings finished fourth in the National Hockey League regular season standings and then promptly lost the first two games of their Stanley Cup semi-final series to the Chicago Black Hawks. But the Wings then rallied to whip the Hawks in four straight games to win the series and gain the finals against the Toronto Maple Leafs. The Wings bowed out in the final series in five games.

Unbeaten 'M' Travels West for Classic

Spartan 5 in Utah for Tonight's Game With Brigham Young

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten's top basketball teams, led by unbeaten and third-ranked Michigan, swing into rugged holiday tournaments this week in final tuneups before opening the championship race.

Action for Big Ten teams then ceases for Christmas and resumes Thursday. Illinois, 3-2, and Michigan, 4-0, will play in the Los Angeles Classic which runs through Saturday. Iowa, 4-1, is in the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore., and Minnesota, 5-2, plays in the Holiday Festival in New York Thursday through Monday.

OTHER TOURNEYS

Wisconsin, 3-4, enters the Milwaukee Classic Friday and Saturday, and Northwestern, 2-3, competes in the Quaker City Classic at Philadelphia Friday through Monday.

In non-tournament games Saturday, Michigan State is at Butler and Ohio State at Utah State.

Michigan registered its sixth straight triumph Saturday in ripping the zone defenses of fifth-ranked Duke 83-47. Cazzie Russell topped the Wolverines with 21 points.

With Pete Gert getting 33 points and Marcus Sanders 29, MSU ran up its biggest point total in history in beating Oklahoma 118-110 for third place in the Sun Devil Classic at Arizona State U.

After two straight losses, Ohio State bounced back to wallop Wichita 78-60 behind the 23 production of Gary Bradds.

Minnesota trounced Drake 66-51 with four men in double figures, topped by Mel Northway's 14.

Four other Big Ten teams were losers. Evansville handed Purdue its fourth setback in a row, 110-84. Although Rich Falk scored 28 Northwestern bowed to Notre Dame 70-68. Wisconsin lost a 67-37 overtime battle to Princeton in the third place game of the Kentucky Invitational.

Indiana, for the second night, was trimmed by Oregon State 56-52.

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — John Townsend, a major league pitcher of the first decade of the 1900s, died Saturday night at Delaware hospital here. He was 84.

Motor City Tourney to Favor Bronco 5

DETROIT (UPI) — The Motor City basketball tournament starts Friday and it looks like Western Michigan will find itself in the unaccustomed role of favorite.

The Broncos will meet Penn

State in the first round Friday night while host Detroit draws Holy Cross. The winners meet for the title Saturday night.

Western tuned up for the Motor City Saturday night at Kalamazoo by routing Northern Illinois, 106-75, behind the 35-point scoring of clever Manny Newsome.

Newsome, the diminutive country's leading scorer, hit on 14 of 21 shots from the floor and made seven free throws without a miss, to maintain his 32-point average.

The Broncos jumped to a 62-39 halftime lead on their way to their third win against four losses. Two of their losses have been by the margin of a single point while another of their defeats was by only two points.

Top-ranked Loyola of Chicago managed to nip the Broncos by only three points, 105-102.

Meanwhile, U-D was storming past Hillsdale, 92-46, Saturday, as four Titans hit in double figures.

U-D's Dick Dalk led all scorers with 23 points while Charley Weeks paced Hillsdale with 17. Detroit, now 4-4 for the season, led at halftime, 41-22.

South Defeats North to Triumph for West

NEW DELHI (AP) — In a match with cold war overtones, South Korea defeated North Korea in the Asian volleyball tournament Sunday, 7-15, 15-7, 12-15, 15-12, 15-3, while rival rosters jeered at each other and sang songs.

The North Koreans had a feminine cheering section that won the honors. North Korean girls are among the most enthusiastic singers and anti-West slogan-shouters in the Communist world.

The players, however, were sportsmanlike throughout.

Northwood Loses 2nd

DETROIT (UPI) — A basket and a free throw by Mary Shelton with 30 seconds left Saturday night gave Lawrence Tech a 62-79 basketball win over Northwood Institute.

It was Northwood's second defeat in seven games and Tech's fourth win in nine games. Northwood's Jerry Pettway was the game's high scorer with 29 points. Jerry Wnuk had 22 points for Tech.

22 Christmas Tourneys Scheduled

By the Associated Press

The mad, mad, mad, mad world of college basketball reaches its maddest moments this week with 112 teams competing in 22 separate tournaments — at least at last count — and each one of them is supposed to mean something.

Actually, they rarely do. The serious part, conference play, is still two weeks off for a majority of the nation's myriad teams. With this week's annual Christmas holiday tournaments serving as the breaking point of the season.

Of course, all 112 teams are serious about their assignments this week.

For some it's the challenge of retaining, regaining or acquiring national ranking.

For some it's a chance to stretch unbeaten strings.

For some, as in the case of the Big Eight tourney, it's a chance to test their strength against conference opposition.

For some, as in the case of the Hurricane Classic in Miami Beach, Fla., it's simply a chance to escape the winter snows.

The madness began last week with a handful of major tourneys. The big one was in Lexington, Ky., where the home folks got downright frantic when Col. Adolph Rupp's hot Kentuckycats won their own tourney with a 96-73 conquest of Wake Forest in the final game.

UNBEATEN

The victory was the seventh in a row for unbeaten Kentucky, ranked second in the nation and obviously angling for the top spot, held by defending national champion Chicago Loyola.

The champs refused to yield ground, however. Loyola, 6-0, maintained its 100-point victory average with two victories during the week, 112-68 over South Dakota and 91-47 over Ohio Wesleyan.

Other ranked teams remaining unbeaten included No. 3 Michigan, 6-0; No. 6 UCLA, 6-0;

No. 8 Vanderbilt, 7-0, and No. 10 Davidson, 7-0.

Michigan romped over No. 5 Duke 83-47; UCLA snapped Creighton's nine-game winning string 95-79; Vanderbilt beat Louisville 91-82 and Davidson romped over East Carolina 105-77 in Saturday games.

Seventh-ranked New York University and No. 9 Toledo were not in action Saturday, but suffered midweek upsets. No. 4 Cincinnati also was idle Saturday.

Princeton, unranked but sporting one of the brightest individual stars, took third in the Kentucky tourney, edging Wisconsin 90-87 in overtime. Bill Bradley, a 6-foot-5 junior, poured in 47 points.

In other tourneys, Arizona State, which had dropped out of the Top Ten, recovered and won its own Sun Devil tourney at Tempe, Ariz., 71-68 over California; Tennessee won the Virginia Tech Invitational by defeating VPI 61-60 and Texas Western took the Arkansas State Invitational by beating William and Mary 61-51.

Ranked teams in tourney action this week include UCLA, Yale and Michigan vs. NYU in the first round of the Los Angeles Classic; Chicago Loyola vs. Georgetown, D.C., in the first round of the Quaker City Classic in Philadelphia, and Vanderbilt vs. Memphis State in the Vanderbilt Invitational at Nashville, Tenn.

Cincinnati is the only ranked team in action tonight, playing host to Kansas State. Saturday games involving the Top Ten include Kentucky vs. Notre Dame at Louisville, and Tulsa at Cincinnati.

Pre-Game Study Pays Off

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Some one once asked: What do college football coaches do while their teams are warming up just before a game — pray?

Well, not exactly, as Coach Paul Davis of Mississippi State may have proved Saturday at the Refrigerator — oops, Liberty Bowl.

PROBABLY LAST

Mississippi State beat North Carolina State 16-12 in the fifth annual and apparently last Liberty Bowl production. Promoter Bud Dudley, icicles hanging from his lips, put it negatively, but his meaning was clear. If your eyes weren't frozen shut.

"Unless I get assurance of an Eastern power to send against a class team from another area, I can't continue," he said when asked about the future of his bowl game. Eastern teams have indicated they aren't interested.

helped Mississippi State to its victory. Getting back to Coach Davis and his pre-game musings, he spent those precious minutes watching North Carolina State warm up.

"I noticed," he said in the warmth of the dressing room after the game, "that the North Carolina team was having difficulty lining the ball. So I told my linemen, 'Rush them faster than normal on punting situation.'"

The first time the Atlantic Coast co-champions punted, and Bill McGuire flew in and blocked the ball. The Bulldogs' other end, Tommy Inman galloped in the loose pigskin and scooted 11 yards for a touchdown. Justin Canale booted the conversion and Mississippi State led 7-0.

Before the half was over, the Southeastern Conference representatives, marched 47 yards for another TD, and Canale booted a 43-yard field goal against the wind.

North Carolina State scored on a 47-yard drive after an intercepted pass in the fourth period. Ronst threw a five-yard touchdown pass to Ray Barlow. Mississippi State hung on for the 16-12 win.

Ballots Begin for Trophy to Top Amateur

Balloting began today for James E. Sullivan Memorial Trophy which is given each year to the outstanding amateur athlete in the country.

Among the nine athletes is Hayes Jones of Pontiac. Jones was recently appointed to a position of a group dedicated to the betterment of Detroit youth. He is a school teacher in Detroit.

He is the only person to compete in all five USA and USSA dual track meets after winning a bronze medal in the 1960 Olympics.

He also set an all time record of 48 straight high hurdles victories.

Others listed as competitors are Muriel Davis, Gymnastics; Robert Hayes, track; Jack Jestranski, swimming; Roby Johnson, swimming; Tommy Kono, weightlifting; John Penell, track; Donna De Varona, swimming.

Winner will be made known January 5, 1964.

NFL Bears Begin Weekend of Intense Practice

Call Miami's Mira ---Same Old George

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Pittsburgh end Al Grigallunas said Saturday's North-South football game was the "same old George."

George is George Mira, Miami's speedy quarterback who passed the South to a 23-14 victory and set records doing it. Grigallunas said he's played against Mira before and wasn't surprised he completed 27 passes out of 42 attempts for 366 yards. The rest of the players from 26 colleges and universities were equally impressed.

"He's the best I've ever faced," said Dowey Lincoln, Michigan State halfback who played for the North. "He throws quick and hard, but it's not only that. It's Mira's amazing accuracy that gets you."

From Rubick, Lincoln's running mate at Michigan State, said:

"Boy he gets rid of that ball quick. You have to stay off your man, the pass receiver, before he cuts and then when he does, Mira has the ball there waiting for him. He doesn't give you a chance to come up."

Maryland's star quarterback Dick Shiner, one of Mira's South teammates, said "the greatest college quarterback in America kept me on the bench."

"Mira was like a baseball pitcher going for a no-hitter," said South Coach Tom Nugent of Maryland. "I wanted to play Shiner more but Mira was so hot I couldn't take him out."

Tulane end Clem Dellenger said "I wish I'd been catching Mira for four years." Dellenger caught 10 of Mira's passes for 213 yards and a touchdown. Ray Tulane more but Mira was so hot I couldn't take him out."

Jack Cannon, Boston College's great quarterback who played for the North, smiled at compliments about his performance and said, "yeah, I was great... for the first six minutes. After that I really flizzed."

George Bork, the slender passer from Northern Illinois, said "I was real disappointed in myself. I don't think I was throwing bad but I wasn't good. Just average for me I guess."

Bork completed six of 10 passes for 67 yards.

LA's Hunt Cracks Ice Skating Mark

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Dick Hunt of Los Angeles shattered the 1,500 meter U. S. speed skating record Sunday with a time of 2:11.7.

Hunt was one of three who broke the old record of 2:14.4 held by Floyd Bodumy of St. Paul, Minn.

The record was broken as a squad of 13 men and eight women entered the first qualifying test to determine who represents the United States on the Olympic speed skating team at Innsbruck, Austria, next month. There will be eight men on the speed skating team and four women.

The 5,000 meter trials will be held Monday.

First qualifying events for women will start Thursday for four days.

George Halas Anticipating Any Change

Weather Big Factor
as Chilly Chicago
Awaits NY Giants

CHICAGO (AP)—A week of intense practices and skul sessions—except for a day off at Christmas—began today for the Chicago Bears.

In good shape physically, and being honed mentally by 68-year-old master mind George Halas, the Bears meet the New York Giants in Wrigley Field Sunday for the National Football League title.

The Giants are listed as one-point favorites.

The crown has escaped the Bears since 1946 when they defeated the Giants in the Polo Grounds 24-14 behind the quarterbacking of Sid Luckman, now a Bear coach.

The scene at Wrigley Field today was something out of Alice in Wonderland.

It was hamburgers for Halas. It was the fleet of giant, airplane-warming blowers thawing and drying the playing surface.

It was an ear cocked to weather reports, which promised a light warming trend and momentarily no snow after a record-setting sub-zero cold snap.

It was tons of hay ready to be put on the field by an army of 250 per day workers.

It was a wrestling match with the huge tarp, getting a workout space at one end for Halas to exhort his players.

It was arrangement for use of the Chicago Avenue Armory in case snow comes—and being sure that poloists and their ponies, who practice in the indoor arena, are notified in time to make room for the Bears.

It was time to get 12 kerosene-operated blowers ready to pipe warm air under the benches to the players' feet. Six of the machines will operate Sunday at each of the Bears and Giants bench.

It was Trainer Ed Rozy looking over the biggest assortment of shoes ever collected in a dressing room.

INDOOR AREA

There are six types of footgear ready for any type of playing surface.

All Saints Episcopal held onto a share of second place in the loop with an easy 68-22 victory over Oakland Park Methodist. Jim Hartly paced the attack with 12 markers.

In other games, Macedonia Baptist fell to Central Methodist, 55-53, and First Congregational routed St. Paul Methodist, 74-34.

Cedric Patterson sparked the Macedonia five with 16 markers, while Tom Smith grabbed scoring honors for the losers with 21.

Ken Demmon (16) and Leonard Gaches (15) provided the scoring punch for First Congregational. Roddy Groves

Illinois Ragged in Practice

Big 10 Eleven Goes Outdoors

Pasadena Opponent
Shows Early Edge

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Irrked Coach Pete Elliott of Illinois cast a worried eye at the calendar today after his Illini got off to a ragged start in preparation for the Rose Bowl game with Washington's Huskies.

"They just looked bad—not much hitting and not much enthusiasm," said Elliott Sunday. It was the team's first full-scale outdoor workout since their Thanksgiving Day conquest of Michigan State for the Big 10 football title.

SECOND WORKOUT

The Illini were to hold their second West Coast workout this morning, before joining the Washington squad for an afternoon tour of Disneyland.

After today, Illinois will have only seven single-session daily drills. Monday night, Dec. 30, the team goes into seclusion in the Passionist Fathers Retreat House at the nearby Foothills community of Sierra Madre.

Elliott sympathized with Washington for its loss of star fullback Junior Coffey for the Rose Bowl game. But he made it plain he had troubles of his own readying for the New Year's Day showdown.

"It's most unfortunate," Elliott said of the fractured left foot suffered by Coffey in a Saturday drill. "I'm very, very sorry he will not be able to play. But I'm sure Charlie Browning (also a top Huskie fullback) is a fine player."

NO ROSES? — Washington fullback Junior Coffey rests with his leg in a cast after breaking a bone in workouts for the Rose Bowl game. The Huskies will meet Illinois on New Year's Day and Coffey will definitely not play. He has been the top rusher on the team with 5.0 yard per carry.

Fullback Lost to Huskies for Rose Bowl

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Washington Coach Jim Owens doesn't appear particularly upset over the fact that his star fullback, Junior Coffey, won't be playing in the Rose Bowl.

At least, he isn't showing it. "I don't think this will change our game plans at all," said Owens Sunday night after returning from a weekend at Palm Springs.

"We are just now starting to put in our special stuff. The other fullbacks run the same plays so we will go right about our business."

Coffey, who carried the ball 90 times for the Huskies this season, broke a bone in his left foot during a pass defense drill Saturday afternoon.

NO CONTACT

Washington coaches theorize he twisted the foot because the force of the practice do not show any contact that could have caused the injury.

Coffey's replacement for the New Year's Day game against Illinois will be Charlie Browning, a 6-foot, 200-pound junior from Stockton, Calif.

Browning was the top ground gainer for the Huskies this year with 421 yards in 46 carries for 5.0 average. He was Coffey's replacement during the first five games this year when the all-Coast fullback was sidelined by other foot injuries.

Owens said Sunday night: "I said it was a million-to-one chance against him breaking the foot again when I saw him limp off the field Saturday."

Coffey's foot is in a cast and he must use crutches to walk.

Aussie Vets Will Defend Davis Cup

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Australia has decided to stick with experience and throw its two biggest tennis guys, Roy Emerson and Neale Fraser, against the United States in the Davis Cup Challenge Round starting Thursday.

This means both sides will gamble on two-man teams holding up in Adelaide's sweltering 100-degree heat through both singles and doubles over the three-day test. The Americans plan to bank on Wimbledon champion Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston.

LITTLE DOUBT

Harry Hopman, Australia's long time captain, left little doubt that Fraser was his No. 1 singles man after watching the Melbourne veteran whip through a smashing workout reminiscent of his peak three years ago when he held both the Wimbledon and U.S. crowns.

"If Fraser continues his present rate of improvement he would have to be counted as the man for the job," Hopman said. "He has this vast store of experience behind him and he is gradually coming back to his old form."

It is a one-shot deal for the good-looking Victorian judge's son, who retired from big time competition 18 months ago after winning the U.S. championship twice, and also capturing Wimbledon, to become the world's No. 1 amateur.

There had been some concern that Fraser, now 20, and away from championship competition for more than a year, might not be able to hold up under the rigorous grind and pressure applied by the more youthful and eager Yanks.

The alternatives are Fred Stolle, a range 24-year-old stylist who has a good but unspectacular record, and John Newcombe, a brash 19-year-old rookie whose confidence and slashing play has won Hopman's heart.

If Fraser plays as expected, the Americans then face the task of beating a seasoned team rich in Davis Cup experience and which has won championships in all tennis capitals of the world.

Pennsy Sphinx Is Silent; Presidential Pundits Guessing

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Reiman (Pat) Morin, Associated Press Pulitzer-winning writer, has visited Harrisburg for a close look at William Warren Scranton, governor of Pennsylvania. Has the governor locked the door to the Republican presidential nomination? This and other questions are answered in the following story.)

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Pa. — An intriguing mystery story—call it "Spotlight on the Sphinx"—is taking shape around William Warren Scranton, the personable young governor of Pennsylvania.

"I don't want to be President of the United States," he said, firmly, in an interview. "I can't conceive of any circumstances in which I would run."

That is one of the strongest disclaimers of interest in the Republican nomination for president that Scranton has made.

However, in a news conference, Scranton said former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has urged him to give "deeper thought" to the question of being a candidate.

DOUBTS CHANGE

"I agreed that I would," Scranton said, "although I pointed out to him that I doubted this would change my opinion."

The meeting with Eisenhower—which included Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Scranton—took place in Eisenhower's private railway car Dec. 14 on a siding near Harrisburg.

Scranton gave this version of Eisenhower's statements:

"He said the national scene now was such that I had a number of persons thought I might be the candidate and that he thought I ought to give a good deal of thought to this matter and think deeply on the subject in view of the change in current circumstances nationally."

DEEPER THOUGHT

"He said some very complimentary things about me personally and my work here in the state. He was very kind about this suggested that I give deeper thought to it than he had I had in the past."

"He was quite right in this. I am not a candidate and don't wish to be. I haven't given deep thought to the possibility."

"But now, Scranton says, he will think about it."

Newsman asked Scranton if he considers himself qualified to be president.

He replied: "Is anybody fully qualified to do every phase of that job? I don't suppose so. Do I think I could do the job if I had it? Yes, I do."

LODGE POSSIBILITY

They also asked Scranton about reports that Eisenhower is advocating that Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Vietnam, make himself available as a candidate for the nomination.

The governor said he and Eisenhower discussed this briefly.

"As I understand it, he (Eisenhower) denies he saw Henry Cabot Lodge and that he telephoned him or anything else, and he didn't indicate there was anything else to it."

Scranton said he would be a "favorite son" if the Pennsylvania delegation wants him in that role. But he said, "Please note: favorite son—not favorite son candidate."

VARIED VIEWS

So is Scranton in the ring or isn't he? Some observers close to the Harrisburg scene believe he is merely taking the traditional "not me" posture at this stage. Others believe Scranton has made a decision.

But one thing is certain: with the death of President John F. Kennedy, the Republican outlook for 1964 changed sharply. One change has been to focus a spotlight on Scranton. His disclaimers, however, intensify the glare. The governor is much more in the picture today than he was a month ago.

So let's take a look at William Warren Scranton, the Harrisburg sphinx.

He is 46, tall, slim, young looking, with dark hair and bright brown eyes. He has a big grin, a puckish sense of humor, and an easy, informal charm. Like the late President, he gives the impression of a cool man, possessed of marble calm.

He swims, plays tennis and likes to dance. He also flies airplanes. He was a pilot during World War II.

COOL, CALM

He is Yale '38 and a graduate of Yale Law School. His associates call him "a learner," who soaks up facts in a hurry and retains them.

He married a childhood sweetheart, the former Mary L. Chamberlin. She has been a formidable campaigner. Their children are Susan, 17, (born Christmas Day), William, 16, John, 13, and Peter, 9.

WEALTHY FAMILY

The Scranton family has been wealthy for generations. The city of Scranton was named for one of the governor's forebears.

As a businessman, he has had experience in banks, railroad, a textbook publishing firm, radio and television stations. He established a record for community service with "Operation Bootstrap," a plan he formulated to help depressed areas of Pennsylvania.

HE BEGAN LEARNING POLITICS

when he was 9. His mother, the late Margery Mary Scranton, was a power in GOP circles for 25 years.

A family friend said: "Instead of telling Bill bedtime stories, she used to hand him a map of Pennsylvania, then read reports of the county chairmen."

VOTING RECORD

In 1960, his county voted for Kennedy for president by 30,000 but elected Scranton to Congress by 16,000. His voting record in Congress would not establish him, clearly, as either conservative or liberal.

Again in 1962, although the Democrats have an edge in registration in the state, Scranton rolled up a vote of 2,387,000, defeating Richardson Dilworth, former mayor of Philadelphia, by 474,000 for the governorship.

Now he has a first-year record as governor.

GOP margins are razor-thin, three in the Assembly, one in the Senate. However, a survey prepared by Scranton's staff on legislation enacted says "over 90 per cent of Gov. Scranton's program was passed."

It cites 25 measures in particular, including teachers' salaries, establishing a program of medical care for the aged, providing more aid for schools, colleges and libraries, a civil service act "with 18,000 employees covered for the first time," election reform measures and "the biggest highway building program in Pennsylvania history," etc.

JOBLESS RATE

The unemployment rate was 9.4 per cent in January when Scranton took office. Figures showed it dropped to 6 per cent in October and was 6.4 in November.

DIFFERENT POSITION

"America is in a different position now than it was in Sherman's day," Scranton said. "No decent, patriotic American could take that position today."

So the disclaimers.

He even went so far as to have some sample "Scranton-for-

Not a CAREER

"I didn't want to make a career of this business (politics). I never have had a messianic feeling about it."

"I have been close enough to the White House to see what a tremendous, awesome job it is."

(As a special assistant to former Secretary of State Christian Herter in 1959, Scranton attended White House conferences.)

"Being in the White House is tough on families. My children are in their formative years. They are beyond the very young age, but not old enough to be married and have lives of their own. So this does make an impression on them."

Why not end all the speculation with a "Sherman-type" statement? (Gen. Sherman said, "If nominated, I will not run; if elected I will not serve.")

Festive Food Contributes to Christmas Pleasure

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor
Last call for Christmas food. Today we're giving you an assortment of recipes. We know you'll be having lots of company in the next ten days.

If you're having a tree trimming party, why not serve Strawberry Christmas Nog? Pass plates of cookies or fruit cake with this yummy pink beverage.

Strawberry Christmas Nog
1 package (10 ounces) frozen sliced California strawberries thawed

2 eggs
¼ cup sugar
1 quart milk
1-3 cups instant non-dairy coffee creamer
2 teaspoons vanilla
¼ teaspoon red food coloring (optional)

Drain off 2-3 cup syrup from strawberries; chill. Blend strawberries with any remaining syrup in electric blender or force through food mill; set aside. Beat eggs with 1 tablespoon of the sugar until thick and light yellow; stir in milk and strawberries. Meanwhile, chill bowl and beaters in refrigerator for 15 minutes. Combine chilled strawberry syrup, remaining 3 tablespoons sugar, non-dairy coffee creamer, vanilla and food coloring in chilled bowl. Whip at high speed with electric mixer until soft peaks form (3 to 5 minutes). Beat half of the topping into egg mixture. Top with mounds of remaining topping. Sprinkle with nutmeg, if desired.

Have you invited friends in for an open house during the next week? Deviled Walnut Chicken Bonbons look like delectable pieces of candy, but they're really a mixture of chicken, nuts and mushroom soup.

Make them ahead of time and store them in the refrigerator until it's time to serve.

Deviled Walnut-Chicken Bonbons

1 cup coarsely ground or finely toasted walnuts*
1 cup coarsely ground or finely chopped cooked chicken or turkey
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped canned green chili or pimiento
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon tabasco
½ cup canned condensed cream of mushroom soup
Combine ¼ cup walnuts with all remaining ingredients, mixing until thoroughly blended. Form into small balls using about two tablespoons of the mixture for each ball. Roll balls in remaining walnuts. Cover and chill an hour or longer before serving. Makes two dozen small bonbons.

*To prepare, drop the kernels into rapidly boiling water for three minutes. Then drain well and spread in a shallow pan and toast at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Stir them frequently so they'll be golden all over.

When they're cool, either chop or grind them to the right size. A dessert that looks rich but is made with nonfat dry milk is Tutti-Frutti Milk Ice. Pecans and glaze fruits glow like jewels in this pretty concoction.

Tutti-Frutti Milk Ice
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup sugar
1½ cups cold water
¼ cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals

1 can (6 ounces) frozen lemonade concentrate
3 tablespoons red maraschino cherry juice
¼ teaspoon almond extract
¼ cup chopped pecans
¼ cup mixed candied fruit

Mix gelatin, sugar, and ¼ cup of the water together in saucepan. Stir over low heat until gelatin and sugar dissolve. Remove from heat; stir in remaining water and instant crystals; then stir in undiluted lemonade concentrate, cherry juice and almond extract.

Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze until firm 1 inch from edge of pan. Remove from tray and beat until light and smooth; mix in pecans and candied fruit. Freeze until firm. Makes about 1 quart.

Finally, how about some toasted Brazil nut chips? These also are good nibble food.

Toasted Brazil Nut Chips
1½ cups shelled Brazil nuts
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
Cover nuts with cold water. Bring slowly to a boil. Simmer 2 to 3 minutes. Drain and cut into thin lengthwise slices, about ¼ inch thick. Spread out in shallow pan. Dot with butter; sprinkle with salt. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Yield: Approximately 2 cups.

Goldwater Backers Await Stumping

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anxious supporters are looking for a post-Christmas nod from Sen. Barry Goldwater to get back in the business of boosting the Arizona Republican for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

The preponderance of opinion among Republicans who know their party situation best is that Goldwater is likely to decide there is no acceptable alternative to permitting his volunteer backers to resume beating the drums for him.

Cotton said that until he gets a sign from the Arizona senator he can't make any move toward raising the funds needed to set up an active organization in New Hampshire. Nor, he said, are prospective delegate candidates likely to stick out their political necks until they believe Goldwater is firmly committed.

POLI-PRESSURE

The opinion that Goldwater will become an announced candidate seems to stem from the belief that he will conclude he would be letting the party conservatives down if he pulled out of a contest where polls indicated he was the leader before Kennedy's death.

Supporters argue that if Goldwater runs for the nomination but doesn't make it, he still can get re-elected to the Senate in Arizona. He would remain the chief spokesman for party conservatives with an opportunity to return to the fight in 1968.

Sen. Thurmond B. Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the Republican senatorial committee, who is neutral in such matters commented: "I think Barry's going."

Goldwater has maintained his own counsel since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy by injecting President Johnson into the 1964 contest.

MAY DELAY

Goldwater may stick to his previous intention to delay any formal announcement of his plans until January. But he may have to send up a couple of smoke signals before then.

Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., said in an interview he is going to have to know before the end of December whether Goldwater will go along with the filing of his name in the March 10 New Hampshire primary.

"I have no word from him, but I think he is going to make the race," Cotton said. "If he had decided not to run, I think he would have told us by now."

Adlai to Run for Veep—if LBJ Asks It

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says he won't seek the Democratic nomination for vice president, but he'll run if President Johnson asks him—and if "it was both compatible with my health and any other considerations."

Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, added that Johnson hadn't asked him.

"The President will make his decision as to whom he wants to run for vice president with him probably not until the time of the Democratic convention next August, after the Republicans have selected their ticket," said Stevenson in a television interview.

"So it seems to me totally premature at this time to be speculating about whom he might choose."

Second Victim Dies; Hit by Skidding Bus

CHARLEVOIX (AP)—Norma De Young, 18, of rural Charlevoix, died Sunday night of injuries suffered when struck by a Greyhound bus Wednesday. A companion, Mrs. Wanda Drenth, 20, of Ellsworth died Thursday. Witnesses said the two were leaving a church in Alwood, an Antrim County community about 12 miles south of here, when the bus skidded in the snow and hit them.

The cotton broadwoven fabrics industry employs 245,500 persons with a yearly payroll of $722 million.

COMES HOME — Paul Robeson, American baritone, was greeted by his son, Paul Jr. (left), as he arrived in New York from London yesterday. The 65-year-old singer ended his five-year self-exile from the homeland he once called "an insolent, dominating America."

Ailing Singer Ends Self-Exile in Russia

NEW YORK (AP) — Ailing Paul Robeson has returned from five years of self-imposed exile. His wife says he still thinks communism is "terrific and he always will."

The 65-year-old Negro baritone and actor, who in 1952 received the Stalin peace prize from the Soviet Union, "the country I love more than any other," arrived in New York Sunday on a jet airliner from London. He and his wife, Eslanda, left Communist East Germany last Wednesday.

Robeson's only airport comment was, "I'm happy to be back in this country and naturally I'm happy to be back in the civil rights movement. I have been a part of it all my life."

NO QUESTIONS

His wife wouldn't permit newsmen to question him.

Is he disillusioned with communism?

"No, he isn't," she replied. "He thinks it's terrific and he always will."

Why did they return to the United States?

"It's Christmas," she said. "Grandchildren and children."

Mrs. Robeson said her husband planned to visit his family and try "to get well."

Greetings!

Report Shows Michigan in Midst of a Boom

Crackles of the University of Michigan, said he found Ann Arbor businessmen anticipating sales gains of between 5 and 30 per cent in the final quarter.

The Jackson Citizen Patriot found that "most Jackson business and industrial leaders couldn't be much more pleased with the 1963 Michigan economy."

A. H. Aymond Jr., Consumers Power Co. board chairman, said "We've had growth in practically every type of industry in the state. Our sales of gas and electricity are up over what they were in the preceding year."

EXPANSION

Aymond said Consumers spent approximately $64 million in expansion this year and will match that in 1964.

CO., said that all business people with whom he talked anticipated a good fourth quarter, with the economy retaining its strength into the first quarter and maybe into the second of next year.

Kilmer's bank plans a $500,000 addition.

Whirlpool Corp. told The Benton Harbor News-Palladium that sales in the first nine months were up 17.4 per cent, that the trend was expected to continue into the New Year and that $19 million had been authorized for plant expansion and modernization.

Clark Equipment Co., an employer of 7,500 in four Michigan plants, registered a 21 per cent sales gain in the first three quarters and said anticipated profits for the year would set a record.

GAINS REPORTED

The Midland Daily News found 18 businessmen in commercial and service areas reporting sales and income gains over 1962, four saying business was about the same and only two reporting a decline.

Bizarre Deaths Hit Town

TRUMANN, Ark. (UPI) — Death, violent and bizarre, has struck this northeastern Arkansas cotton town of 4,500 persons twice within a month. Eleven are dead.

A 39-year-old former tailor and convict in Missouri was held today for questioning in the six latest deaths, caused by fire.

Frank Harris of Jonesboro denied he had anything to do with the fiery tragedy. Authorities were awaiting the results of autopsies, a paraffin test and information dug up by state fire investigators.

Sheriff Ray Holmes of Poinsett County said he would turn over all his information to the district prosecutor today.

No. 1 industry, had a four per cent rise in the first nine months, and Dow Corning a five per cent gain.

Midland's two largest retailers, Sears, Roebuck & Co. and the J. C. Penny Co., reported sales gains of six and three per cent, respectively, in the first nine months. Sears forecast sales in the final quarter would be 10 per cent ahead of the same three months a year ago and Penny anticipated final quarter business would lift it to 3 1/2 per cent over-all.

Flint's prosperity was reflected in these percentage gains reported in a business survey by Kenneth L. Peterson, Flint Journal business writer:

New car sales, 8.3; retail sales, 8.4; bank deposits, 5.3; deposits (two of three banks reporting), 14.2; postal receipts, 12; airline passengers, 22; value of construction, 64.9; express shipments, 1.7.

Flint's unemployment was beginning to loosen.

F. Joseph Buckley, executive vice president of the Kalamazoo County Chamber of Commerce, should be the final 1963 quarter, should be the best quarter ever, with a few exceptions in the hard metals field.

The Monroe Evening News reported that with one exception Monroe plants experienced better business in the first three quarters. It added that the one exception could charge its decline to a strike in plants located elsewhere.

PEAK LEVELS

Edward M. Knabusch said that his La-Z-Boy Chair Co. plants in both Monroe and Newton, Miss., were now operating at peak levels and that 1963 sales likely will be 80 per cent ahead of those of 1962.

Harnischfeger Corp., which employs 900 at Escanaba in manufacture of truck cranes and welding machines, reported "a steady year" and said it anticipated more business for its welding machines plant in 1964.

Harnischfeger has received a government order for 380 machines costing $800,000. The order represents two months of production.

Escanaba division of Mead Corp., a paper maker, said 1963 volume equaled 1962's and had been steady, compared with a slow start and spurt last year.

DRUG SALES

The Upjohn Co., Kalamazoo pharmaceutical manufacturer, reported sales up 6.1 per cent and profits ahead 19.6 per cent in the first nine months.

However, Kalamazoo's No. 1 industry, paper, was bogged down much of the year in a profit squeeze caused by over capacity nationally. Paperboard manufacturers recently announced selective price hikes and one industry leader said the profit pinch apparently was beginning to loosen.

RESIDENTS STUNNED

Trumann residents, accustomed to reading mostly about community progress, were visibly stunned, and the edge of the Christmas holiday was dulled. But they were responding overwhelmingly to salvage the Christmas season for the two small survivors of the latest tragedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dever and their four daughters, ages 8 to 1, were burned beyond recognition late Friday night in a fire. The surviving children said the fire was set deliberately by a man who shot their parents to death.

The children said their father, 42, quarreled with the assailant about a billfold shortly before the shootings. The children said they fled through a back door and the killer ran out a front door.

The tragedy happened 30 days after Sammy Penier, a farmer who lived about four miles from the Devers, murdered his wife, stepdaughter, mother-in-law and sister-in-law then killed himself in a violent climax to the child's birthday party.

U.N. Refuses Red Offer to Give Up Body

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command today rejected Communist North Korea's offer to turn over the body of a "U.S. Agent" the Reds claim they killed last week.

"The offer of an unknown body is a diabolical propaganda maneuver staged for reasons known only to the North Korean Communists," a U.N. spokesman said.

North Korea's senior member of the Military Armistice Commission, Maj. Gen. Chang Chung-hwan, told the U.N. Command in a letter an agent was killed Dec. 17 while trying to cross into North Korea.

An earlier North Korean broadcast said another agent was captured and identified himself as a spy sent north by the U.S. Army.

The U.N. spokesman said no U.S. personnel were involved in a shooting incident that day. South Korean officials declined comment.

Advertising Man Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Funeral services will be held today for Sam Arnold, 42, a Detroit advertising and public relations man. He died of a heart ailment Sunday.

Brooklyn Fires Said Ignited by Arsonist

NEW YORK (AP) — Five apartment houses in a 10-block area of Brooklyn's Flatbush section were believed set afire Sunday by "a man with an irresistible impulse."

Fire Chief Edward P. McAniff gave that description at a news conference after the fifth fire in a 3 1/2-hour period claimed the life of fireman James J. Johnston, 38. He died of smoke inhalation.

The fires left 80 persons homeless, but 40 others were allowed to return to their apartments.

Japan Heir 30 Today; Won't Predict Future

TOKYO (AP) — Crown Prince Akihito, heir to Japan's throne, was 30 years old today. Asked at a news conference in Tokyo what he would do when he succeeds his father, Hirohito, the prince replied:

"I don't think I can answer that question until I become emperor."

If Kept, They'll Improve Grades

New Year's Resolutions for Students

By LESLIE J. NASON

A New Year's resolution made and kept is a triumph.

If you are one who avoids making resolutions because they are so often broken, here is a solution: Accompany each new resolution with a plan of action for its accomplishment.

For example, a resolution to study more, by itself, can actually result in even less study. But, a resolution to study more in a given course, accompanied by a definite plan for course-organization is likely to bring success.

Here are some New Year's resolutions for students that can be kept:

- I resolve to make a list for each course of the things I must "due date" of each one, plan to work on completing the assignments every opportunity I get, and check each off as I complete it.
- I resolve to improve my listening skill. I will read or outline ahead in the beginning every few days from now until the end of the semester and to keep the overall pattern of the subject clear in my mind.
- I resolve to learn to read effectively for each course. I will glance through the text to try to anticipate what is coming up, read rapidly, and reread back to myself what I have learned.
- I resolve to try to learn as much as I can in each course, not just do assignments. Even when there is no assignment for the next day, I will spend 15 or 20 minutes thinking about what I have learned in the course and what is coming up next.
- I resolve to dress the part and to act the part of the kind of student I wish to become, since teachers often accept students on their own face value.

I have learned in the course and what is coming up next.

• I resolve to dress the part and to act the part of the kind of student I wish to become, since teachers often accept students on their own face value.

These resolutions are only samples. Each student should make ones appropriate for him but, in each case, he should accompany his resolution with a specific plan of action.

This is Christmas week and it seems an appropriate time for gifts. Of course, when a defender gives a present he expects a greater present in return.

It doesn't require much effort on South's part to make a 11-1 no-trump.

However, if East shows a little pseudo-Chinese spirit and plays the nine or ten of clubs on the first club lead an expert South is likely to wind up with 11 tricks instead of 12.

Expert South will pause a moment after that nine is played. He is likely to ignore the possibility that East has played the nine from ten-nine-small and decide instead that it is either from ten-nine or queen-nine dou-

Most Issues Down

Stock Market Has Damp Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed an irregular decline early this afternoon in moderately active trading. Year-end tax considerations still seemed to dominate trading. Profit taking in issues with big gains this year dampened prices in most groups.

The business news backdrop to the market remained generally favorable, but there was no particular response to it in Wall Street.

The trend among steels, motors, airlines, drugs, utilities and aerospace issues was mostly lower.

Some copper advanced. Copper production next year is likely to be increased if demand continues at the present higher rate, it was forecast.

Fairly wide losses were taken by an assortment of "glamour" issues.

The Associated Press average of 68 stocks at noon was off 4 at 284.7 with industrials off 4, rails unchanged and utilities off 5.

Polaroid and Control Data lost about 3 points each. Xerox fell more than 4 points and its when-issue was off about a point.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Most changes were small. Fyfe National was off about 2. New Process rose 2. Gains of about a point were shown by Cinerama and The Shovel. Slightly higher were Equicy Corp., General Foam, Scumby Rainbow Oil and General Plywood. Among fractional losers were Syntex, Technicolor, Qubic Corp. and Ambassador Oil.

Corporate and U.S. Government bonds were mixed to a bit lower in spots.

Greeks, Turks Continue Fight

Gunbattles Raging on Island of Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Fierce gunbattles between Greek and Turkish Cypriots raged again today. Cypriot leaders, meeting within earshot of the firing, issued a futile appeal for calm.

Cyprus President Archbishop Makarios, a Greek, and Turkish Cypriot Vice President Fazil Kutuchuk braved gunbattles flaring in Nicosia streets to drive to police headquarters for an emergency meeting.

At one point, their conference was drowned out by gunfire less than 100 yards from the Greek-manned police station. Police said they fired at armed Turks hidden in the Turkish section near the station.

The Cypriot leaders issued a joint appeal for immediate cessation of violence "for the good of us all" after their 2 1/2-hour conference.

It was their second such plea since fighting erupted Saturday. The first appeal was heeded. Saturday but fighting, fiercer than before, broke out as darkness fell Sunday night.

Battles raged in the northeast quarter of Nicosia, where the Greek and Turkish sections merge, since just before midnight.

By noon, the only reported casualties were one Turk killed and one Turk and four Greeks wounded. Unconfirmed reports put the casualties much higher. The explosive situation, brewing for the past three weeks, stems from Turkish Cypriot opposition to proposals by Greek Cypriots to amend the island's constitution. Four-fifths of the island's 600,000 people are of Greek extraction, the rest Turkish.

Area Man Takes Over at Chevrolet

L. Ralph Mason, 836 Waddington, Bloomfield Township, has been named new general manager for Chevrolet Motor Division.

Samuel E. Knudsen, general manager of Chevrolet, said the promotion will be effective Jan. 1.

Mason, a 28-year veteran of Chevrolet's manufacturing department, succeeds retiring Edward H. Kelley.

Kelley of 1417 Vinsetta, Royal Oak, has been with Chevrolet for 35 years. The division built 23 million cars during his tenure as manufacturing manager.

Mason joined Chevrolet in 1935 at the Baltimore assembly plant. He moved rapidly through foreman and supervisory posts, taking the post of regional manufacturing manager in 1960, and moving into staff operations early this year.

He is a member of the Detroit Board of Commerce, American Ordnance Association, Detroit Athletic Club, and is a director of Oakland Hills Country Club.

In his new post, Mason will direct operations in 34 Chevrolet plants in 12 states. These plants and a central office staff employ a total of more than 90,000.

DETROIT — Following is a year end statement by Frederic G. Donner, chairman of General Motors:

The automobile industry, benefiting from the excellent climate of general business, is enjoying a record year in 1963. Retail sales of passenger cars will exceed 7.7 million units, and truck sales will total 1.3 million vehicles.

The upward pace of the economy during 1963 has been vigorous. Industrial production, employment, and a consumer index have all reached new high ground in recent months.

Investment by business in new plant and equipment, the source of continued growth, is also at a new high.

Wholesale prices have remained remarkably stable and the upward drift in consumer prices, largely reflecting increases for services and food, has not been pronounced.

SOUND GROWTH
The current period of business expansion which began early in 1961 has been characterized by sound and balanced growth.

The gross national product since the first quarter of 1961 has increased by about 15 percent or $80 billion in dollars of constant purchasing power.

As impressive as this rise has been, the economy today continues to have available increasing resources of capital and labor for further expansion.

With sustained business and consumer confidence, all present indications are that in 1964 the economy will move more fully these growing resources.

INDUSTRY'S ABILITY
The sales record achieved by the automobile industry in 1963 dramatically reflected the ability of the industry to build the types of cars people want at prices they will pay.

Consumer spending for new cars maintained its historical relationship to consumer income. Similarly, the ratio of new car sales to total cars in use was in line with the post-war average.

Thus, 1963 sales may be described as balanced in relation to incomes and transportation needs.

Looking to 1964, the market will continue to derive strength from the upward momentum of long-term growth as well as from current market trends.

NEED INCREASES
The number of cars required to meet present transportation needs is increasing as new families are formed, family incomes rise, and the trend toward suburban living continues. In addition, the demand for new cars will continue to grow as replacement needs increase.

The industry's 1964 models introduced around the first of October have been accorded an excellent reception by customers.

Retail sales have been averaging a five percent above the level of a year ago. Unfilled orders, based on General Motors' policy, are at a record level.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury returned an 18-count indictment today against Anthony (Tino) DeAngelis, president of Allied Crude Vegetable Oil Refining Corp. It charges him with transporting nearly $40 million in forged warehouse receipts across state lines.

Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy announced the charge by a grand jury in Newark, N.J.

It charges that forged receipts, purported to show that Allied had stored 400 million pounds of soybean oil in tanks in Bayonne, N.J., were used to secure loans to the firm from various lending institutions.

The indictment said the forged receipts assertedly were taken from Bayonne, home of Allied headquarters, to New York City. Each count of the indictment charges that the 43-year-old DeAngelis transported or caused to be transported a different forged receipt.

VIOLATES LAW
Such an act would violate a federal law forbidding interstate transportation of fraudulent securities.

The maximum penalty for each of the 18 counts of the indictment is a $100,000 fine, 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The firm headed by DeAngelis is one of the nation's largest refiners and traders in vegetable oil. It is presently engaged in bankruptcy proceedings in the U.S. District Court in Newark.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of the Treasury compared with the cost of the economy for the year ended Dec. 31, 1963, was 1.62 percent.

lars' experience, are continuing to run ahead of last year.

Demand for used cars has also been strong for some time, and used car prices have been well maintained in line with last year's high levels. The prospect that truck sales will continue at a high rate to meet expanding business and agricultural needs is also favorable.

The outlook is equally promising for other areas of our business, both overseas and at home. Abroad, the market for motor vehicles is expanding even more rapidly than in the United States.

Airports, Roads Closed

By The Associated Press
Snow and sleet paralyzed much of the South today, forcing the closing of airports and highways. Some deaths were attributed to the icy blasts which dropped temperatures to the freezing mark as far south as Florida.

Many areas expected their first white Christmas in years.

Arkansas and Tennessee reported heavy snowfalls. Memphis, Tenn., expected 18 inches, the heaviest fall since 18 inches fell in March 1962.

Tennessee was covered by snow which spread eastward from isolated Memphis. Roads were closed in an 80-mile radius of the city and air traffic was halted.

CRASH LANDING
A private airplane unable to land at Centerville, Tenn., because of the blinding snow crashed-landed at nearby Hohenwald, Tenn. The pilot, Walter Lamaster, 46, of St. Louis, was hospitalized.

The state patrol closed many roads in northern Georgia. Airlines reported some flights out of Atlanta canceled or delayed because of weather conditions.

Memphis police said traffic was in a tangle caused mostly by motorists who ventured out without chains.

A taxi service was set up by police to carry doctors and other emergency personnel to hospitals.

DROPS TEMPERATURE
The snow and ice storm which moved across Mississippi dropped temperatures to below zero, making some highways and bridges virtually impassable.

Accumulations of up to 12 inches were reported in the northwest corner of Mississippi.

The highway patrol said all major highways out of Jackson, Miss., were icy and virtually impassable. U.S. 61 from Vicksburg to Memphis was closed.

In this country, all signs point to continued high levels of demand for household appliances and for our other products.

With continued confidence on the part of business and consumers, the market for automobiles is expanding even more rapidly than in the United States.

We expect that vehicle sales in the United States will approximate long-term demand estimates, which are in the area of 7.5 million passenger cars and 1.2 million trucks.

900 in Airlift Next Month

U. S. Battalion Set for NATO Exercises

WASHINGTON (U-P)—A mechanized infantry battalion of about 900 men will be airlifted to Germany next month in a training exercise, the Defense Department announced today.

The 2nd Battalion (mechanized), 9th Infantry, 2nd Infantry Division, now stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., will be flown across the Atlantic by U. S. Air Force transports.

The unit will replace a 1,500-man battle group of the 1st Infantry Division which had spent several months in Europe and was returned to the United States in October.

The exercise is called Long Thrust IX, a continuation of a series which began in 1961.

The Defense Department described the exercise as "designed to test command and logistic capabilities for re-enforcing NATO defense in Europe."

No specific date for the move of the 2nd Infantry Division Battalion was listed in the announcement.

Bulgaria
Tries Aide
as U.S. Spy

VIENNA (UPI) — Communist Bulgaria will try a former official in its U.N. mission this week on charges of spying for the United States.

It accuses Ivan-Asen Georgiev of receiving $200,000 for his espionage work and spending much of it on women and immoral living.

The 56-year-old Georgiev, international lawyer and former counselor to the Bulgarian Mission to the United Nations, is charged with delivering Bulgarian political, economic and military information to the "American intelligence service."

The charges were announced Saturday night by the Bulgarian Telegraph Agency (BTA), which said Georgiev's trial would be held Thursday.

DETAILS GIVEN

Yesterday, BTA gave details of the diplomat's alleged spying. It said he had confessed to having had "criminal and immoral connections with many women and had supported several mistresses, both in Bulgaria and abroad."

BTA alleged that at the end of a tour of duty in Paris in 1950, Georgiev was encouraged to defect to the West by "Angelo Kuyumdzhievski, a high French banker and a former colonel of the intelligence services of the United States."

It said Georgiev turned down Kuyumdzhievski's offer because the money was not enough.

BTA said Georgiev was recalled to Sofia, but in 1956 was assigned to the U.N.

Ava Likes 'em Skinny—
Slim Chance for Others

By EARL WILSON
BEVERLY HILLS — Ava Gardner has fallen for a Mexican beachboy named Antonio Sanchez — a handsome young man who is even slimmer than her ex-husband Frank Sinatra was when he was famous for looking like an umbrella or a pipe-cleaner. She and "Tony the Beachboy" — who is also called "Tony the Water Ski Instructor" — are seen together constantly around El Presidente Hotel in Mexico City, where Ava has lived since finishing the picture "Night of the Iguana."

Ava has indicated that she will take the Water Ski Instructor to Hollywood with her and then back with her to Madrid, not withstanding the fact that there is very little water-skiing in Madrid.

Ava seems to love Latinos, having had a couple of romances with bullfighters. Tony, who's in his 20s, is the slimmest of them all.

Lucille Ball and Gary Morton are making their marriage successful. "Lucy" watches him perform in night clubs when it's possible. And she sits there tense and under a strain until he starts getting laughs, then she settles back.

She feels free to criticize him for material she doesn't like. Gary kids her about their religious differences.

"Would you believe it?" he says. "Not till now did I get her to put rye bread in the house! It was tough at first, getting rid of all those Latin things, all that rum and tequila."

And those kids, little Lucy and Desi, didn't even know about lox and bagels. They were using the bagels as wheels for their toys."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN NEW YORK

Kim Novak's due here to discuss "Of Human Bondage" . . . Paul Anka rented an auditorium in Ottawa for his family's Christmas reunion . . . Mickey Hartigan's gift to Jane Mansfield: A $2,500 heart-shaped pink bed . . . Jack Paar'll show The Beatles, the British rock 'n' roll stars, on his Jan. 3 show. Pepsi exec Joan Crawford had actress Joan Crawford play a scene in "Strait-Jacket" standing near a plainly-marked case of the soda . . . Prima ballerina Margot Fonteyn'll take lessons from "Killer Joe" Piro — in the Hully Gully and the Mashed Potato.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A fellow described the kind of holiday he's looking forward to: "I want a Christmas I'll never forget, and a New Year's Eve I won't remember."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: When a man says he's taking an all-expense tour, it may simply mean that he and his wife are going shopping.

EARL'S PEARL: If you wife knits you a sweater, be diplomatic. After all, sometimes your knes get cold, too.

Writer Norman Mailer
Divorced by 2nd Wife

NEW YORK (AP) — Novelist Norman Mailer has been divorced by Lady Jeanne Campbell, his second wife, says her lawyer.

Attorney Whitman Knapp said the divorce was obtained in Juarez, Mexico, last Monday on grounds of incompatibility. Knapp said Mailer did not contest the case. Custody of the couple's year-old daughter was awarded to Lady Jeanne.

Couple Dies as Car
Plunges Off Pier

HARBOR SPRINGS (AP) — The bodies of Mrs. Frances J. Skippergosh, 39, of Charlevoix, and Joseph Jaskiewicz, 34, of Cross Village were found inside a car trapped in eight feet of mud and water in Little Traverse Bay Saturday.

State Police said the victims had been trapped for more than six hours before being discovered. They said the car carrying the couple apparently slipped off a pier and lodged in mud, preventing the two victims from opening the doors.

Mrs. Skippergosh, mother of seven, and Jaskiewicz, a Great Lakes sailor, died by accidental drowning, according to Emmett County Coroner Leroy F. Smith.

Pope Paul
Will Carry
Wood Cross

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican sources said today Pope Paul VI would start his Holy Land pilgrimage by carrying a wooden cross along Jerusalem's Via Dolorosa, the street of sorrows trod by Christ as he carried his cross to his crucifixion.

The Via Dolorosa will be the Roman Catholic ruler's first stop in Jerusalem. He is to arrive Jan. 4 for the 3-day pilgrimage.

The Vatican sources said they did not know how big a cross Pope Paul would carry.

As he follows the Via Dolorosa the Pope will stop at stations of the cross. There are 14 stations, but it is not known whether the Pope will stop at all of them.

TO READ GOSPELS
Sources said priests present would read from the gospel in 30 different languages.

The Pope today begins an intensive Christmas and New Year season, his first as pontiff.

The Pope's program started with his Christmas broadcast to the world today (2 p.m. Pontiac time). The program will keep him busy almost daily until Jan. 6, when he returns from the Holy Land.

For the church, the Christmas season runs through Jan. 6, the Holiday of Epiphany, which commemorates the baptism of Christ.

ABINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Fred W. Gruber, 66, a Secret Service agent who helped protect three presidents, died Sunday. Gruber retired in 1961, as an agent in charge of the U.S. Secret Service in Philadelphia after 34 years in government work.

Church Melee;
Four Are Killed

Gunmen Try to Rob Priest in Canada

OTTAWA (UPI) — Four persons were killed yesterday when the planned robbery of a Roman Catholic rectory erupted into a shooting melee.

Noon Mass at the Little Church of Christ the King was nearing an end when two men were discovered waiting in the rectory for the priest to return with the day's collections and the shooting started.

Canadian Justice Minister and Deputy Prime Minister Lionel Chevrier, a member of the Roman Catholic parish, was among the 350 worshippers.

Two women and a man were shot to death in the abortive robbery in the heart of this Canadian capital city.

KILLS SELF

Then one of two brothers, the suspected gunmen, killed himself in panic as police closed in. The other brother surrendered and was charged with murder.

Victims of the shooting were Albert Gindon, 45, the rectory housekeeper, Doris Bechard, who lived with a sister in an apartment in the rectory building, and Paul Mercer, a parishioner.

Roger Binette, 21, shot himself in the head with an automatic pistol when police with machine guns closed in.

His brother, Reginald, 17, gave up when he crawled onto a third-story fire escape and found police guns bristling below.

The younger Binette was charged with murder, punishable in Canada with death by hanging. He was ordered to appear in police court at 10 a.m. today to be formally charged.

Marie; $547,000 for Wurtsmith AFB at Oscoda, and $664,000 for the Detroit defense area.

Town of Christmasville Little More Than a Memory

By TOM ADEN
CHRISTMASVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Yes, Virginia, there is a Christmasville.
It exists as surely as Holly-leaf, Skullbone, Hinkledale and Pillowville nearby, although you'll find them on few maps.
It lost its post office many years ago, so no one receives Christmas cards postmarked Christmasville.
But there's been a Christmas-ville since some of West Tennessee's earliest settlers decided about 1820 to give it that name "because it looks like Christmas all the time."

SHIPPING POINT
It once was the head of navigation on the Obion river. Boatloads of tobacco, side meat and barrel staves were shipped downstream to New Orleans.
Roads fanned out from here to the newly-settled towns in Madison, Gibson and Carroll counties, most of which had a "Christmasville Post Road." Jackson still has a street by that name.

Today Christmasville is a grocery store operated by Joe Houston, Pilgrim's Rest Cumberland Presbyterian Church and a dozen or so homes.
So many of the women work in factories at McKenzie, Milan and Gleason that the community club was disbanded a few years ago.
DAYS OF GLORY
Not too many years ago the Christmasville store was a typical country store, with groceries, hardware, piece goods and a pot-bellied stove around which the men sat in the winter months.

It's changed with the times, and now looks like a grocery store in many small towns, even to the wire pushcarts. An electric blower suspended from the ceiling has replaced the black stove.
"You have to keep a place clean if you expect to have any business," Houston explains.

Old timers recall that the store was stocked with its one-a-year supply of oranges, toys and nuts at this season. If the customers couldn't get to the store, they could buy their groceries from a "doodle wagon" which made regular trips over the dirt roads.
WOMEN TRADED
On the rear of the wagon was a coop for the chickens and eggs which women traded for their flour, sugar and thread.

The presents that Santa Claus will deliver in Christmasville Tuesday night will come from nearby towns. Paved roads and automobiles have taken that type of business away from Houston's store.
No road signs point to Christmasville and none tell you you've arrived when you get there. It is north of Jackson, about halfway between McKenzie and Greenfield.
Cattle, hogs and chickens have taken their place with cotton and corn as important money crops.

SEEK POST OFFICE
Some of the residents would like a post office so the postmark could take its place with those of Noel, Mo., Santa Claus, Ind., and Christmas, Fla.
Houston says he could accommodate one in his store, and would like to promote the community in that manner.
In applying for a post office for Christmasville in 1885, W. H. Featherstone, the proposed postmaster, said it would serve 1,200 persons.

* * *
Featherstone's application also discloses why Christmasville eventually dwindled to its present size: "What will be the distance to the nearest railroad station?" "Seven miles."

Year-End Report

Booming Michigan Economy

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first of three articles on the Michigan economy as seen from the inside — by the merchant, the industrialist, the builder, the wage earner, the politician. This No. 1, is a review of 1963. No. 2 will delve into the 1964 business outlook, and No. 3 into what effects the Romney Administration has had.)

By The Associated Press
If your 1963 pay envelope hasn't been fatter, your dividend check bigger or your profit larger — you are an exception among Michiganders.

The state's economy has been booming. Everybody agrees on that.

It may turn out to be the best year the automobile industry ever had. Automotive News, is forecasting 1963 production at approximately nine million units compared with the all-time record of 9,167,800 cars and trucks turned out, in 1955.

The year started with 6.4 per cent of the Michigan labor force unemployed. On Nov. 15 the percentage was down to 3.9, and some automakers were recruiting workers from outside the state.

AUTOMATIC RAISE

Every auto production worker, and thousands in supplier plants, got an automatic raise of six cents hourly or 2½ per cent of base pay in September. They also added three cents during the year via cost-of-living increases.

General Motors Corp. paid a $2 extra dividend on top of its regular $2 dividend. Chrysler Corp. split its stock twice two-for-one, so if you had one share when 1963 began and held it you now have four.

Chrysler decided to continue its 25-cent quarterly dividend rate for 1964's first quarter, after the second two-for-one split. American Motors Corp. boosted its quarterly rate from 20 to 25 cents and paid a year-end extra of 15 cents.

Ford, which split two-for-one in 1962, continued a 45-cent rate, equal to 15 cents a share more than before the split.

UPPER PENINSULA

There was improvement in the Upper Peninsula, as well as below the Straits of Mackinac. The Escanaba Daily Press said from shipments through its port were up 300,000 tons over 1962 and American Timber House Inc., reported doubling its output of recreation type housing.

George Duff, secretary-treasurer of the Detroit Retail Merchants Association, said business was up in all lines of merchandise and estimated the gain over 1962 at "conservatively five per cent."

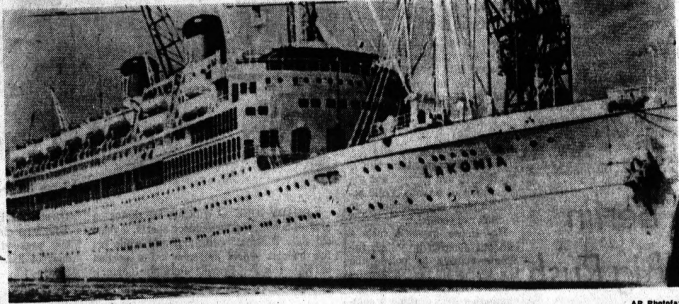

The J. L. Hudson Co. said pre-Christmas shoppers were "in a buying mood" and sales up three per cent, despite the fact there were five fewer shopping days between Thanksgiving and Christmas this year.

ROSY PICTURE

The Ann Arbor News painted an even rosier business picture there, quoting William J. Bott, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce, as reporting retail sales in the first nine months nine per cent ahead of the similar 1962 period.

Generally, Prof. Paul W. Mc-

Rescuers Pull Hundreds Out of Atlantic

About 100 Reported Dead as Fire Rages Over Most of Ship

LONDON (P) — A raging fire forced 1,016 persons to abandon the Christmas cruise ship Lakonia in the Atlantic today.

A massive air-sea rescue operation plucked hundreds from the ocean and more were being saved hourly.

A U.S. Air Force report said about 100 persons were floating in the water and all appeared dead.

Aboard the 20,314-ton Greek liner when disaster struck last night were 651 passengers on a holiday, mostly British but including 400 Americans; and a crew of 365.

Reports of the total rescued ranged from 470 to more than 800 but there was a possibility of some duplication.

MOST OF SHIP ABLAZE

All but the stern of the ship was ablaze and explosions rocked her 608-foot length when rescue vessels arrived on the scene about 100 miles north of the Portuguese island of Madeira and 550 miles northwest of Casablanca.

The water was dotted with lifeboats and swimmers. Great clouds of smoke rolled up from the red-hot hull. People wild with joy waved from lifeboats as rescuers approached. Others struggled to swim as far away from the Lakonia as they could.

CHILDREN ABOARD

Officials of the line believed 20 babies and 30 to 34 children under 12 were aboard. Some accounts told of mothers tossing children into lifeboats and of parents struggling in the water to keep their children afloat.

U.S. and British military planes criss-crossed the area, spotting swimmers and lifeboats and directing rescue boats.

A U.S. Air Force Air Rescue report received in Orlando, Fla., said a C-54 flying over the area from the Azores told of the casualties. It said "the 100 were wearing life jackets but all appeared to be dead."

The line's spokesman in London said it appeared about 470 persons had been rescued thus (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Candles Glow for Kennedy as Mourning Period Ends

WASHINGTON (P) — Thousands of candles burned bright in the gathering dusk of Washington as the nation ended a month's mourning for John F. Kennedy.

Sheltered against a biting wind on winter's first day, they symbolized that the late President's ideals are still alive in the world.

Bareheaded and coatless in brilliant winter sunshine Kennedy had said in his inaugural address on Jan. 20, 1961:

"The energy, the faith, the devotion which we bring to this endeavor will light our country and all who serve — and the glow from that fire can truly light the world."

Bareheaded and coatless Sunday night, President Johnson told more than 14,000 gathered at the Lincoln Memorial and the nation by radio and television:

"Thirty days and a few hours ago, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 35th president of the United States, died a martyr's death. The world will not forget what he did here. He will live on in our hearts, which will be his shrine."

Thus, with the rhythm of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, Johnson marked the end of the 30-day official period of mourning he had proclaimed on his predecessor's assassination Nov. 22.

An hour and a half later, the new President turned a switch to light the national Christmas tree behind the White House.

To set in motion the solemn symbolic service at the Lincoln Memorial, three religious leaders — representing the Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Jewish faiths — lit a torch from the eternal flame near Kennedy's grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

Ruby Seeks Bail Release

Court Hearing Today for Slayer of Oswald

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Amid tight security measures, Jack Ruby, Dallas night club owner who shot and killed the accused assassin of President Kennedy, seeks his freedom on bail today at a bond hearing at the county courthouse.

Ruby, who gunned down Lee Harvey Oswald 30 days ago as Oswald was being transferred from one jail to another, has been held in county jail without bond.

His attorneys claim this is illegal, but Dist. Atty. Henry Wade says the law doesn't provide for bond in capital cases.

Melvin Belli, well-known San Francisco attorney who heads Ruby's defense staff, says the defense is willing to post up to $100,000 bond.

WRIT FILED

A writ of habeas corpus filed Friday by Belli charged that "there was insufficient evidence of petitioner's guilt presented to the grand jury to support an indictment."

This writ nullified an earlier one that asked for half so Ruby would have "proper psychiatric examination which cannot be properly obtained while in confinement."

Belli indicated he would base his case on a temporary insanity plea when Ruby comes up for trial, now scheduled for Feb. 3. The state will ask the death penalty, according to Wade.

The defense had two nationally known psychiatrists examined Ruby in his jail cell over the weekend. They were Dr. Manfred Guttmacher of Baltimore and Dr. Walter Bromberg of New York.

Defense lawyers announced last week they would demand a copy of a report made by a state arranged psychiatric examination of Ruby.

Winter eased in with a bright smile this weekend, bringing warmer temperatures and only nominal snow.

7 Dead, 2 Missing After Stormy Ordeal

HALIFAX N.S. (AP) — Twenty crewmen of the sunken French freighter Douala were plucked from the stormy Atlantic yesterday after spending 27 freezing hours in two lifeboats.

Seven other crewmen died. Two, including Capt. Michel Labre, are missing. The storm — one of the worst to hit Canada in recent years — was blamed for 10 other deaths.

Chief Engineer Gabriel Sinestre, 49, believes the captain went down with the 2,300-ton Douala in a howling storm 35 miles southeast of Burgeo, Nfld.

Sinestre and 14 other survivors arrived in Port Aux Basques last night aboard the Canadian icebreaker Sir Humphrey Gilbert, which rescued them after they were spotted by a Royal Canadian Air Force search plane.

The freighter Ludwig rescued two other crewmen about 50 miles southeast of Port Aux Basques. Health Minister James McGrath of Newfoundland said three other survivors were aboard the freighter Langlade. He said the Ludwig also has one body aboard and the Langlade two bodies.

The Douala sank about noon Saturday after its hatch covers were ripped off by pounding waves and winds up to 100 miles per hour. Waves reached a height of 75 feet.

Lights on Perimeter Road Timed to Speed Traffic

Traffic lights on perimeter road were progressively timed this weekend to improve steady traffic flow around the top of Pontiac's central business district.

Roy Hetherington, city electrical superintendent, said today that lights were timed to late Friday to allow nonstop travel at 30 to 35 miles an hour.

The perimeter road has been open from Mount Clemens to West Huron for several weeks.

Until Friday, it was almost impossible to use the highway without getting caught by lights at Perry, Saginaw, Oakland and West Huron.

TRAFFIC FLOW

"Up to late last week, we felt there wasn't enough traffic using the road to justify throwing the progressive system off to the other streets," Hetherington said.

"However, the volume of traffic increased steadily, so we made the change late Friday."

Originally, city officials had not planned to change traffic light timing until the whole road was complete and open to traffic.

Dems Predict Aid OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders, bringing their absent members back to work by planes, predicted they would have enough Democrats on hand today to crack Republican opposition and pass the foreign aid bill by Tuesday at the latest.

That won't be any too soon for President Johnson, his prestige on the line and his Texas holiday put off.

He and aides were said to have kept the White House humming Sunday trying to whip up support for the measure in calls to congressmen.

At least one charter flight was reported picking up congress-

EXPECTED TUESDAY

However, because of House rules a final vote on the $3-billion aid appropriations measure was not expected before Tuesday, Christmas Eve.

Even if the House approves the bill with its controversial provision on government credit guarantees for sales to Soviet bloc countries, the Senate still must act, too.

The senators, most of them home for the holidays, have no business scheduled all week and are not likely to vote before Friday, at the earliest.

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma served notice that there will be no adjournment until the bill is approved.

NO QUICK END

Thus no quick adjournment is in sight for the longest session since the 1950 Korean War Congress. When it comes it will be little more than a formality, for the 1964 edition of the 88th Congress begins Jan. 7.

The crucial issue in the stalemate over the compromise foreign aid appropriation bill is whether to ban government underwriting of private credit accompanying any shipments to Communist countries.

The House included such a ban but Johnson protested, the Senate refused to include the ban in the bill, and a Senate-House conference committee eliminated it in drafting a compromise measure.

But in a long session that didn't break up until before dawn Saturday, Republicans caught the Democratic majority with its ranks slashed by absenteeism and succeeded in forcing the measure back to the conference committee, insisting that the credit ban be included.

NEW COMPROMISE

A further compromise was reached. This one states that the President can approve credit for sales to Communist countries if he found it in "the national interest" and reported each deal to Congress within 30 days.

If the Rules Committee sends the measure to the floor today, the bill will have to lay over for 24 hours — unless two-thirds of the representatives present and voting approve taking it up without the delay.

Flow Into E. Berlin Drops After Big Rush

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP) — The flow of West Berliners through the Red wall dropped sharply today after a weekend rush. Most people apparently were saving their precious passes to visit relatives in East Berlin during the holidays.

Only about 1,300 had passed through the Communist control points two hours after they opened. More than 12,000 went through the wall during the same period Sunday.

But at the 12 permit offices in West Berlin, about 13,000 people queued up in freezing weather to apply for permits.

West Berlin authorities said most of the passes issued were for the Christmas holidays and New Year's Eve.

34,000 OVER

The official East German news agency ADN reported that 31,000 West Berliners crossed into the Communist zone over the weekend, bringing to 34,000 the number going over since the visits began Thursday night.

For nearly all it was their first reunion with relatives since the Communists built the wall in August 1961.

Communist authorities announced they had approved 350,000 applications for visits. About 800,000 West Berliners are eligible.

Queues formed outside the 12 permit offices in snow-covered streets before midnight, more than 13 hours ahead of the 1 p.m. opening hour. After receiving the passes, the West Berliners have to wait a full day before they can cross into East Berlin, to remain only until midnight.

ONE WAY ONLY

The permits are only available for West Berliners. The Communists don't let the East Berliners travel the other way.

As on the previous nights, there were tearful partings Sunday night at the crossing points as West Berliners went back home.

"There are enough tears being shed along this wall to wash it away," one man said after leaving his elderly mother in the Red zone.

"It's just like visiting someone in prison," said a young West Berliner who saw his aged paroled by the screams of a man.

READY RINK — With his ice skates on and all built up for outdoor sports, 3-year-old Billy Dickman waits patiently while his two buddies shovel the snow off a portion of Walled Lake. Francis Perrino (center), 11, and his brother Edwin, 14, were among those who cleared their own places to skate this weekend. Youngsters dotted the shorelines of hard-surfaced lakes throughout the area.

Detroit, Henry Air Charges

City Commissioner Milton R. Henry reported to Detroit Police headquarters today to answer possible charges of breaking an entering and inciting a riot.

Henry, an attorney, was taken into custody by police Saturday following a speech from the roof of the five-story old county building in the heart of downtown Detroit.

He was released later on the promise that he would return to discuss the matter today.

Henry spoke from the roof of the building for 15 minutes to about 35 persons, according to police.

BUILDING CLOSED

The building, which is used for several county offices and a traffic court, had closed at noon. Henry made his speech shortly after 2 p.m., using a loud speaker.

Detective Lt. Albert Schwaller said Henry told him he had remained in the building after it closed and climbed out on the roof to prevent police from interrupting his speech.

Henry's brother, Richard, is president of a Negro rights organization, the Group On Advanced Leadership (GOAL).

Richard said his brother's speech was part of a "memorial service to honor negroes killed in the freedom fight during the past year."

At 11 a.m. today, Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Max M. Silverman said no decision had been made to press charges.

far. At that time, radio messages from the scene indicated the total saved was considerably higher.

LINER RADIOED

The British liner Stratheden radioed she had picked up 300 survivors, some injured, plus some dead.

The Argentine freighter Salta was alternately reported to have from 220 to 400 survivors. The British Motehead said it had 100 survivors and the Argentine liner Rio Grande another 50.

Some passengers were newlyweds. Others were retired people seeking a sunshine Christmas holiday.

The adult passengers had been singing, dancing and walking arm and arm on the deck when the fire erupted and forced them to scramble into lifeboats or plunge into the sea.

Cost Hike for Clinton Drain Due Commission Tonight

City commissioners will be asked to okay a proposed cost hike and time extension for the Clinton River Drain project at tonight's commission meeting.

The regular Tuesday meeting day has been moved to Monday this week because tomorrow is Christmas eve.

Commission approval of a resolution okaying a $90,000 increase in construction costs and a 210-day extension of the completion date is necessary before the county's Clinton River Drain can sell bonds to finance the project.

The river work has been stalled for seven months by litigation in federal courts.

SUIT DISMISSED

A suit involving Michigan's Drain Code was dismissed last week clearing the way for resumption of work.

The $90,000 cost increase would come from the project's contingency fund.

It wouldn't result in any increase of special assessments to city taxpayers which are to retire the bonds over a 30-year period.

Also slated for action is a resolution establishing the city's intent to undertake construction of the long-planned Murphy Park trunk sewer in 1964.

PROJECT COST

The project is estimated to cost some $400,000. The resolution calls for the sewer to be ready for use by Nov. 1, 1964.

It was requested by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital administrator, A. new hospital wing under construction can be utilized until the sewage facilities are completed.

Commissioners will also consider a resolution directing the city manager to set aside $300,750 in the 1965 capital improvement budget for the purchase and improvement of some urban renewal lands.

They are also slated to authorize the city to apply for federal planning grant to cover further detailing of the city's

Rezoning of Church Land Up for Hearing Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — A rezoning hearing on property owned by the Church of Christ will precede tonight's City Commission meeting.

The church is seeking to have a parcel in the southern portion of Birmingham rezoned from three- and four-family residential to five-family residential.

The petition requesting a hearing on the matter was filed some seven months ago.

The property is in Lincoln, east of Floyd. Consideration of the proposed change was postponed last month when hearings on other property in the Lincoln - Floyd - Landon - Ann area were held.

REQUESTED CHANGE

Other property owners in the area have requested changes from residential to neighborhood business zoning. Their requests have been denied and they have applied for a second hearing.

The city planning commission has recommended the area be maintained as residential.

City commissioners tonight also will consider a number of changes in traffic regulations.

Wreath in Dump in Memory of Murdered Infant

A large wreath "in memory of the baby murdered by his father" was found hanging at the Pontiac dump this morning.

The memorial was discovered by C. E. Marotz, 389 N. Saginaw, who took a load of garbage to the dump early today.

Last month, a young woman reported to Waterford Township police that her husband had delivered their baby in December, 1961. He then drowned it and placed the body in the dump, she said.

Even though the husband concurred with his wife's story, the prosecutor's office could not develop a case because the body was not found.

The man served 10 days in the Oakland County jail for non-support and then was released.

West Berlin police said they could not see the victim because of poor early morning light and heavy fog. They heard the guards shout "Halt! Halt!" This was followed by a fusillade, followed by the screams of a man.

Theme of Book

President Dies; Nation Carries On

A beloved president dies and a nation's pulse momentarily stops, then quickens with the orderly accession to power of a new leader.

This is an underlying theme in the important book, "The Torch Is Passed," now being offered to The Pontiac Press readers.

Prepared by skilled writers of The Associated Press, this book not only chronicles the tragic events of President Kennedy's assassination, but the significance of his own words.

At his inauguration, President Kennedy spoke of the responsibility and trust passed to a new generation of Americans. With his death, this obligation met a severe and dramatic test.

NEW ROLES

"The Torch Is Passed"

tells of the transfer of authority to President Johnson, and of the many others who suddenly found themselves playing new roles on the stage of history.

This book should be ordered now for delivery in early January. Payment of $2, which includes postage,

French Euromart Threat Real

French officials say President Charles de Gaulle is in deadly earnest about his Dec. 31 deadline for a Common Market farm policy agreement.

If none is reached by Christmas, he will call a cabinet meeting Dec. 27 to get the green light for his next move.

This is likely to be a freeze on any further progress toward completing the Common Mar-

It is just conceivable de Gaulle might decide on a complete walkout.

Diplomatic sources in Tokyo say such a visit in 1964 is a distinct possibility.

There are signs the Philip-

may touch off serious incidents in which the Western powers inevitably would be involved.

They discussed this danger during last week's NATO ministerial council meeting in Paris. The three Western commanders in Berlin are being instructed to keep a close eye on the situation.

A stream of Red Chinese trade and cultural missions to Latin America may be expected soon, as well as a state visit or two by a top Peking official.

Work Is Answer for Students in Need

Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Can you help me? I'm a junior in high school. My parents had planned on sending me to college. I'm sure they still want to, but due to financial difficulties I can see how that it will be hard for them to provide me with all the money I'll need. I was told recently that there are some colleges that have a work-and-study plan. Do you know anything about this?

J. P. S., Toledo, Ohio

Dear J. P. S.: You are probably referring to the cooperative education plan which is available at 60 institutions throughout the country. The National Commission for

Cooperative Education estimates that some 30,000 students are now enrolled in cooperative education programs, in which students alternate periods of study on campus with periods of employment in full-time responsible jobs.

But, even though this plan would give you additional funds, your parents should plan on contributing a portion of your expenses.

For a list of these schools you can write to the National Commission for Cooperative Education, 8 West 40th Street, New York 10018. Then you can check with specific colleges for details.

Dear Miss Feeley: Within a few months I will be retiring on an annuity of approximately $245 a month.

I am paying $70 rent, including heat and utilities except lights which are $3.50 a month. I have a car paid for and would like to keep it if possible. Car insurance is $7 a month, health and life insurance, $11.50.

Please give me a budget to include food, clothing, etc.

A. J. W., Vancouver, Wis.

Dear A. J. W.: You should be able to keep your car and still eat. While you carry health insurance, the years tend to run up, our minor medical bills, so better allow at least $15 a month for this purpose.

The picture shapes up like this:

Rent, $70; utilities and household operating costs, $3.50; food, $38; clothing, $20; insurance, $11.50; personal expenses, $20; miscellaneous, $15; medical, $15; recreation, $10; car operating and insurance, $37.

Why not put this budget into operation right now, so you'll know by the time you retire whether you and the car both can live on it.

Dear Miss Feeley: Several weeks ago in your column you mentioned that a widow must present her marriage certificate at the Social Security Office when inquiring about benefits.

Mrs. R. H. H., Des Plaines, Ill.

Dear Mrs. H.: Social Security will accept a certificate issued by the church, signed by the minister and witnesses. The certificate should bear the seal of the church. You should also bring your birth certificate, and the birth certificates of any children who may be eligible for payments.

Ceremony Centers on Alter Advent Wreath

A hanging Advent Wreath and altar bouquets of red and white poinsettias created a Christmas setting for the vows of Karen Sue Sage to Joseph C. Shovels, Saturday, in Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

Red velvet gowns for the honor maid Rita Stanley, and bridesmaid Carol Parker, accentuated the color theme chosen by the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd T. Sage of Hillcliff Drive.

Medallions of Alencon lace were applied on her gown of white silk organza over taffeta, styled with chapel sweep. She wore a bouffant veil of illusion and held a Bible arrangement of white orchids, red roses and Stephanotis.

Red and white carnations formed cascade bouquets for the attendants and a nosegay for Mary Harroun, flower girl. Jonathan Sage carried the rings.

Chester Hensley was best man for the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. Shovels of Albi Street. Ronald P. Sage of Golden, Colo. ushered with John Bloor, Birmingham, and John Schmidt of Holland.

MOUNTAIN TRIP

Wrapping Varies for Personalities

To round out the line and allow the individual gift wrapper scope for imaginative combinations of color and decorations, there is a wide selection of plain colored wrappings in matte, foil and glossy finishes. Included is the perennially popular crinkly foil wrap that is so pliable it can be fluted, curled, pleated and draped just like a fabric.

MRS. J. C. SHOVELS

Use Gift Wrap for Decorating

It's simple, with the help of Christmas gift wrapping papers, to decorate your home for the festive season. With a little talent for do-it-yourself projects, a little time and imagination, those left-overs from the wrapping of the presents can be turned into charming adornments that will add to the gaiety of the entertaining.

Past Chiefs Meet

Members of the Past Chiefs' Club of Mizpah Temple of Pontiac exchanged gifts at the recent Christmas dinner meeting in Bedell's Restaurant.

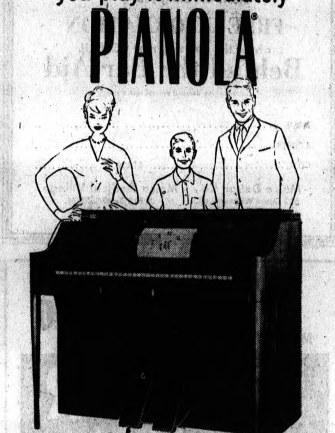

Plastic Gloves Steal Market

Many gloves of vinyl plastic will be seen this year. They look very much like leather but much less expensive. Women looking for a practical low cost glove will particularly like these because they can be cleaned with a damp cloth. For longest wear however, they should be handled and worn like fine leather gloves.

Governor Takes Plant 'Yule Tour'

DETROIT (AP)—Bright and early, Gov. George Romney began his "Merry Christmas" handshaking tour in Detroit today.

Ahead was a full day of the same. With his wife, Lenore, and their two sons, Mitt, 16, and Scott, 22, the governor appeared first at the Dodge Main plant of Chrysler Corp. in Hamtramck at 6:30 a.m.

The group missed most of the factory workers because they were misdirected. But they reached the right gate in time for Romney to shake hands with 50 or 75 men, wishing all "Merry Christmas."

NO CAMPAIGN
A plant guard mentioned to Romney that politicians had campaigned at the Dodge plant gates in the past. "I'm just here to wish people a Merry Christmas," Romney replied. "I'm not campaigning."

Next on the Romneys' Merry Christmas itinerary were visits to office workers in downtown Detroit and to the shopping district.

Romney also planned to look in at a reception for state employees and later visit the Ingleside Convalescent Home in the midtown area.

Adios Bid to Mexico by U. S. Ambassador

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Thomas C. Mann, new assistant secretary of state for Latin American affairs, said farewell Sunday to the country where he represented the United States as ambassador for 30 months.

Shriver Eyed as Candidate

Peace Corp Director Has Strong Potential

WASHINGTON (AP)—Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver indicates he could be persuaded to jump into politics.

He says he has no plans to make such a jump, but adds with a grin: "If I ever do decide to run for office, I'll go after votes just as hard as I now go after volunteers for the Peace Corps."

Shriver, 48, is a brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy. He has been reported many times as a potential candidate for governor of Illinois, and since Kennedy's assassination, as a possible candidate for vice president.

He said in an interview there has been no mention of any other job for him in the Johnson administration, or the vice presidency.

OTHER OFFICERS

"I've been offered other jobs before and turned them down. But if the President wants you to do something, it's hard to turn him down. You generally wind up doing it," Shriver said. Asked about Illinois politics Shriver, a close friend of Chicago Mayor Richard Daley, noted that Gov. Otto Kerner, a Democrat, probably will seek re-election. He said he wouldn't oppose Kerner in a primary.

"There have been a number of stories about people wanting me to run for governor," Shriver said. "This is flattering. I'm glad they want me. I think the office should always seek the person."

"Let's be realistic about this," he said. "If they want me to run for office in Illinois badly enough, they know where I am. I'm not hiding."

ALMOST UNKNOWN
Shriver was almost unknown when Kennedy asked him three years ago to try to make a reality out of Kennedy's campaign proposal of a peace corps.

Shriver insists he got the job because "everybody thought it was going to be a political fiasco and it was easier to fire a relative."

From the start, Shriver displayed a sure touch for public relations, and the even-more-important relations with Congress.

W. Germany to Continue Its Arms Buildup

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard said today that, in view of Soviet policy, West Germany will continue to increase its defense readiness.

In a year-end review carried in his Christian Democratic party's press service, the chancellor said he found "no lessening of tensions in the true sense."

Erhard complained that the Soviet Union has not recognized "that the honorable love of peace of the German people is combined with an even stronger determination never to accept the division of Germany."

A main goal of West German foreign policy is to bring about the reunification of Germany. But the Russians insist that East Germany remain a part of the Communist bloc. "Soviet policy obviously calls for continued domination of East Germany and allows the Parkov (East German) regime a free hand for every type of outrage."

Safe Hauled Away in Firm Burglary

A safe containing $223 in cash and $92 in checks was carted away from the Avon Gregory Oil Co., 94 E. Walton sometime early yesterday.

The 350-pound safe valued at $150 was stolen after thieves kicked down doors leading to the office where it was located.

Police said trucks showed that the safe was wheeled out a rear door and into the trunk of an automobile.

The burglary was discovered by Harold F. Preston, 50, of 2712 New England, Rochester, at a.m.

U. S. Battalion Set for NATO Exercises

WASHINGTON (AP)—A mechanized infantry battalion of about 900 men will be airlifted to Germany next month in a training exercise, the Defense Department announced today.

The 2nd Battalion (mechanized), 9th Infantry, 2nd Infantry Division, now stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., will be flown across the Atlantic by U. S. Air Force transports.

The unit will replace a 1,500-man battle group of the 1st Infantry Division which had spent several months in Europe and was returned to the United States in October.

The exercise is called Long Thrust IX, a continuation of a series which began in 1961.

NATO TESTS
The Defense Department described the exercise as "designed to test command and logistic capabilities for reorganizing NATO defense in Europe."

No specific date for the move of the 2nd Infantry Division Battalion was listed in the announcement.

Units sent to Europe in these exercises are not considered part of the garrison total which now stands at about 242,000 U.S. Army troops facing the Iron Curtain.

Army divisions have been reorganized from the old battle group structure to a new one based on somewhat maneuverable battalions.

Bulgaria
Tries Aide
as U.S. Spy

VIENNA (UPI) — Communist Bulgaria will try a former official in its U.N. mission this week on charges of spying for the United States.

It accuses Ivan-Asen Georgiev of receiving $200,000 for his espionage work and spending much of it on women and immoral living.

The 56-year-old Georgiev, international lawyer and former counselor to the Bulgarian Mission to the United Nations, is charged with delivering Bulgarian political, economic and military information to the "American intelligence service."

The charges were announced Saturday night by the Bulgarian Telegraph Agency (BTA), which said Georgiev's trial would be held Thursday.

DETAILS GIVEN

Yesterday, BTA gave details of the diplomat's alleged high living. It said he had confessed to having had "criminal and immoral connections with many women and had supported several mistresses, both in Bulgaria and abroad."

BTA alleged that at the end of a tour of duty in Paris in 1950, Georgiev was encouraged to defect to the West by "Angelo Kuyumdzhiyski, a big French banker and a former colonel of the intelligence services of the United States."

It said Georgiev turned down Kuyumdzhiyski's offer because the money was not enough.

BTA said Georgiev was recalled to Sofia, but in 1956 was assigned to the U.N.

Ava Likes 'em Skinny—
Slim Chance for Others

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS — Ava Gardner has fallen for a Mexican beachboy named Antonio Sax — a handsome young man who is even slimmer than her ex-husband Frank Sinatra was when he was famous for looking like an umbrella or a pipe-cleaner. She and Tony the Beachboy — who is also called "Tony the Water Ski Instructor" — are seen together constantly around El Presidente Hotel in Mexico City, where Ava has lived since finishing the picture "Night of the Giana."

Ava has indicated that she will take the Water Ski Instructor to Hollywood with her and then back with her to Madrid, not withstanding the fact that there is very little water-skiing in Madrid.

Ava seems to love Latins, having had a couple of romances with bullfighters. Tony, who's in his 20s, is the slimmest of them all.

Lucille Ball and Gary Morton are making their marriage successful. "Lucy" watches him perform in night clubs when it's possible. And she sits tense and under a strain until he starts getting laughs, then she settles back. She feels free to criticize him for material she doesn't like. Gary kids her about their religious differences.

"Would you believe it?" he says. "Not till now did I get her to put my head in the house! It was tough at first, getting rid of all those Latin things, all that rum and tequila."

"And those kids, little Lucy and Desi, didn't even know about fox and bagels. They were using the bagels as wheels for their toys."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN NEW YORK

Kim Novak's due here to discuss "Of Human Bondage" . . . Paul Anka rented an auditorium in Ottawa for his family's Christmas reunion . . . Mickey Hargis's gift to Jane Mansfield: A $2,500 heart-shaped pink bed . . . Jack Paar'll show The Beatles, the British rock 'n' roll stars, on his Jan. 3 show.

Peppercorn Joan Crawford had actress Joan Crawford play a scene in "Strait-Jacket" standing near a plainly-marked case of the soda . . . Prima ballerina Margot Fonteyn'll take lessons from "Killer Joe" Piro — in the Hullu Gully and the Mashed Potato.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A fellow described the kind of holiday he's looking forward to: "I want a Christmas I'll never forget, and a New Year's Eve I won't remember."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: When a man says he's taking an all-expense tour, it may simply mean that he and his wife are going shopping.

EARL'S PEARL: If you wife knits you a sweater, be diplomatic. After all, sometimes your knees get cold, too.

Margaret Whiting was telling of a Hollywood character who's always short of cash: "He's been broke more often than a New Year's Resolution."

—That's earl, brother.
