

Young Rochester Wife Slain; Husband Wounded

Woman Is Shot in Bed; Mate Found in Auto

Officers Suspect He Shot Wife and Tried to End Own Life

A 21-year-old mother of two children was found about noon today shot to death in her Avon Township home and her husband is reported in fair condition with a bullet wound in his head at Pontiac General Hospital.

The woman was identified as Mrs. Barbara Warner of 2645 Emmons St., Brookland Subdivision. Authorities said they believe she was shot by her husband, Donald G. Warner, 29.

Oakland County Deputy Coroner I. C. Prevette said that the woman was shot through the head with a .32 caliber automatic sometime last night. The body was found in a bed.

Donald O. Menzies said he found legal papers in a dresser drawer saying that Mrs. Warner was suing her husband for divorce. Several .32 automatic cartridges were also in the drawer, he added.

Donald's father, Floyd of 123 Lysander, Rochester, told authorities today that his son brought the two children to the Lysander address last night and left abruptly.

The elder Warner said his son admitted shooting his wife. Menzies said that Donald was found slumped over in his car this morning by some of the neighbors. Neighbors also told Menzies that Donald was seen last night riding in his car.

Although authorities were not able to determine immediately whether a struggle preceded the shooting, Menzies said the children's toys were found widely scattered throughout the house and that several other articles were disrupted. Deputies entered the home by breaking down the front door, Menzies said.

The weapon was found next to Donald in the car shortly before noon.

The sheriff's department was notified by Warner's neighbors when they suspected "something wrong in the house" when Donald was seen unconscious in the car, said Menzies.

Donald's mother couldn't offer any reason for the shooting. She said that there has never been any marital discord between the couple married in Utica in 1950.

The owner of the Rochester Window Cleaning Co., Donald's father was also unable to furnish a motive for the shooting. He said that Donald has been operating his business efficiently and without apparent worries.

The couple's children, being cared for by Donald's parents, are Donald Jr., 15 months, and Donna Jean, 3 years.

Donald was rushed to a Rochester doctor for treatment before taking him to the hospital, according to Menzies.

Freezing Rain Feared Tonight

Road Crews Stand by for Emergency Duty in Pontiac Area

Road crews were alerted for emergency duty today as the U.S. Weather Bureau warned snow and freezing rain may glaze Pontiac area highways tonight.

But the icy drizzle will mark at least a couple of days of warmer weather.

The weather bureau says temperature tonight should stand at 26 to 28 degrees. Friday's high should be around 30 to 32 degrees, with southwest winds shifting to south.

Thermometers dropped to 14 degrees early today after Wednesday's frigid temperatures of 8 to 18 degrees. The mercury climbed steadily today, reaching 20 degrees at 8 a.m. and 28 at 2 p.m.

Oakland County Road Commission and Pontiac Department of Public Works warned its men to stand by for possible calls tonight.

Pontiac, now peeking out of the deep-freeze it dropped into last Sunday, may get the lid slammed down on it again this weekend.

India to Return All POWs to Allied and Red Captors

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Indian Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya announced today that India's custodial troops will return unrepatriated Korean War prisoners to their Allied and Communist captors next Wednesday morning—nearly three days before their scheduled release as civilians.

In letters to the Red and Allied commands, Thimayya said India acting alone, would return the captives—as prisoners; not civilians—"as the only correct and lawful and peaceful course open."

Indian troops hold in Korea's demilitarized zone more than 22,000 North Koreans and Chinese who were captured by the Allies and who have refused to return to their Red-ruled homelands, and 21 Americans, 1 Briton and 325 South Koreans who refused repatriation from Red captivity.

An Indian spokesman said Thimayya's move was the Indian command's "final say" and did not need the approval of the five-nation Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission (NNRC), headed by Thimayya.

Both the Swiss and Swedish delegates to the commission objected to parts of the Indian general's letter, but both agreed to returning the prisoners.

Poland and Czechoslovakia, the commission's two Iron Curtain members, presumably stood firm on Red demands that the prisoners be held until a peace conference settles their fate. The Communist Peiping radio called this a "mandatory provision" of the armistice.

Tugboat Prevents Sinking of Tanker After Crash Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Fast action by a tugboat saved a fully-loaded oil tanker from sinking in the East River early today after the tanker collided with an unidentified craft.

All seven tanker crewmen were rescued.

The collision in midstream between the tanker, F. A. Verdon and a vessel believed to be a converted LST, occurred about 200 yards south of the Williamsburg bridge, connecting Brooklyn and Manhattan.

The Verdon, carrying 10,000 barrels of fuel oil, was en route to West Haven, Conn., from Carteret, N.J.

Philippine Plane Crashes in Italy Killing Sixteen

Manila-to-London DC6 Barely Misses Striking Apartment House

ROME (AP)—A smoking four-engine Philippines Airline plane crashed and exploded in the populous outskirts of Rome today and all 16 persons aboard were killed.

The DC6 hit a vacant lot not far from a big apartment building.

It was coming in for a landing on a flight from Beirut, Lebanon, one leg in its regularly scheduled trip from Manila to London. An eyewitness said the left engines were smoking as it approached Ciampino airport outside Rome.

It appeared to be heading for the building, then banked and plunged into the lot with a tremendous roar.

Among the seven passengers aboard was the airline's European manager, Royal R. Jordan, a native of Boston who has lived in Rome several years.

The pilot—chief of the nine-man crew aboard—was Ira Brown of Warren, Ark., head pilot for the airline.

The co-pilot was identified as William Rose of Alton, Ill., who, friends said, lived with his wife in Rome. Mrs. Rose reportedly is expecting a baby.

It was the first fatal accident in the airline's international operation. Philippine Airline was given a safety award last October at an international air conference.

Airline officials said the cause of the crash was as yet unknown.

An investigation was launched immediately. The officials speculated the pilot chose to plunge his smoking plane into the open area rather than crash into the crowded apartment buildings nearby.

The doomed plane plunged almost straight down, striking with a tremendous impact and digging a 40-foot pit in the rainswept field. Firemen who rushed to the scene found only bits of wreckage and bodies.

Only five days ago Italy had another major plane tragedy when a British Overseas Airways Comet jetliner plunged into the sea near Elba, killing 35 persons.

Witnesses told airline officials that they saw the left wing of the plane afire while it was in the air.

Ike Outlines His Security Plan

Hoping to Have 10 Million More Under Program

Wants Benefits Raised All Along Line Including Part Time Pay Base

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower proposed bringing 10 million more Americans under social security, increasing benefits all along the line, and raising to $4,200 the amount of income subject to social security taxes.

In a special message to Congress the President said the average benefit payment to retired workers is now $50 a month, with a minimum of $25 and a maximum of $85.

For social security to "fulfill its purpose of helping to combat destitution, these benefits are too low," Eisenhower said.

Both the maximum and minimum should be increased, he said, but proposed no figures. A formula on that will be presented later by Secretary of Welfare Hobby, he told legislators.

Raising to $4,200 the amount of income subject to social security taxes, as Eisenhower proposed, would mean an immediate $12 a year tax increase for workers earning that much or more.

Employers' payrolls would also be increased that amount for each worker in the $4,200 a year bracket or above.

At present, the first $3,600 of income is taxed. The rate this year went up to 2 per cent. It had been 1½ per cent on worker and employer.

The President set forth a six-point program for "improvement" of the social security system.

1. Expansion of insurance protection to about 10 million more people not presently covered—including self employed farmers; many more farm workers and domestic workers; physicians, dentists, lawyers, architects, accountants, and other self employed professional people; members of state and local retirement systems and clergymen, on a voluntary basis; and several smaller groups.

2. Liberalization of the present "retirement test" to permit re-

Annual Message to Legislature

Governor Says Economic Future Today's Big Issue

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams presented his annual message to the Michigan Legislature today, but aimed it squarely at the hearts of farmers and laboring men.

The state and nation's economic future is the great public problem of today, Williams said.

Declaring federal and state governments must not fail to maintain prosperity, Williams said:

"The facts are that the people of Michigan, in common with the people of the entire United States, are profoundly disturbed by current economic uncertainties, and political vacillation about solving them.

"Many industrial workers are suffering severe wage losses. One out of 20 Michigan wage earners is out of work. Rising unemployment in the automobile plants is causing deep concern. Numerous Michigan workers are employed at sub-standard wages. Business men are fearful of a falling off of purchasing power. Financial difficulties are hampering new construction and new enterprise.

"Farmers are tightening their belts and reducing their purchases because farm income has dropped sharply. Many Michigan farmers are in real distress, caught in a squeeze between falling farm prices and continued high prices of the things the farmer must buy."

"The plans have been completed for a one-story colonial style building at the northeast corner of Hunter Blvd. and Forest," Otter stated.

Under consideration for some time, the new building will relieve the overloaded facilities of the Pontiac office, according to the president.

At present the numerous club members in Birmingham have to go to offices either in Pontiac or Royal Oak. No cost estimate of the new structure was revealed.

Time for use of the gym ran out when Christ Church Cranbrook was leading by a 30-22 score over Kirk in the Hills. The game will be finished at a later date.

"Tonight's games find St. James opposing the First Baptist Church at 7, Kirk in the Hills plays the Congregational Church at 8. Both games will be in the Baptist Church gym. At 9, Christ Church will oppose First Presbyterian at Barnum Junior High for leadership of the league.

Scouts to Hear Career Talks

Designed to Emphasize One Phase of Exploring Program

Clinton Valley Council Explorer Scouts will hold a "Paycheck Stampede" Saturday night in Lincoln Junior High School.

Designed to accent one of the four phases of the exploring program — exploration of careers — the event, beginning at 7:30 p. m., will feature experts in eight fields of employment.

Charles Pettit of Pontiac, director of the "We Live in the Future" section of the program, announced that council explorers voted to hear specialists in aviation, conservation, engineering, military, mechanics, law enforcement, professional scout executive and telephone business careers.

Each speaker will present a short resume of his topic and answer questions. Selfridge Air Force Base is to send a delegation to describe both aviation and military careers.

Glenn Lackey of Pontiac, director of the "We Live Tonight" section of the program, has scheduled a magician, acrobats and colored slides of Philmont national Scout ranch in New Mexico.

John E. Ostrander, council chairman of exploring activities, will be in charge of a box lunch program. Others assisting in the vocational project are to be William J. DeGrace, William W. Smith and Robert N. Webb, all of Pontiac.

About 150 persons are expected to attend, from both Oakland and Macomb counties.

Automation Proves Aid in Aircraft Making

WOOD-RIDGE, N. J. (UP)

Automation dropped in on the aviation industry recently and all signs point to a permanent stay.

Automation, which has revolutionized the automotive industry, is a hard-working, mechanical speed demon used by the Curtiss-Wright Corp. to lock parts in place, tighten bolts with minute accuracy and do other work 50 times faster than the human hand.

Curtis-Wright's chairman and president, Roy T. Hurley, said automation had doubled production of aircraft engines at half the previous cost in one-third the area required by a conventional-type assembly line.

As a result, double the number of domestic and foreign airlines normally served by British Comet jetliners have signed up for planes with Curtis-Wright's latest turbo compound reciprocating engine. Hurley said the new automatic assembly line, first in the aviation industry, will enable further development of this engine in successful competition against British jet engines within the next 15 years.

63-Year-Old Woman Dies at Husband's Bier

LEBANON, Ill. (AP)—A 63-year-old woman collapsed and died at the bier of her husband in a funeral home here.

She was Mrs. Marmie Feltman, whose 70-year-old husband, a cemetery sexton, died Monday of heart disease. Mrs. Feltman's death was attributed to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mother of King Farouk Is Hospitalized in U. S.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The mother of deposed King Farouk of Egypt is in St. Vincent's Hospital for observation.

Hospital attendants said last night Queen Mother Nazli Fand is undergoing tests and her condition is not serious. She was treated for a kidney ailment at Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., on three occasions between 1947 and 1950.

Snow Delays Forecaster

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP)—A TV weather forecaster, Cavel Joberi, missed her regular nightly broadcast over WGNB. She was detained by a snowstorm.

City's Parks Improved

Noteworthy improvement of Pontiac's park system during 1953 is revealed in the annual report of DAVID R. EWALT, parks and recreation director.

Outstanding among 12 improvements at Oakland Park is the paving, lighting and fencing of an area containing four shuffleboard and four horseshoe courts. Other parks improved during the year were Indian Village, Northside, Malkin and Montcalm.

At Murphy Park on the city's East side, completion of a new parking lot at the soft ball diamond topped a list of 13 improvements. A similar number of projects was completed at Beaudette Park on the West side, prominent among which was cleaning of the banks and bed of Dawson Mill Pond. A parking lot was among five improvements at Oriole field, while six baseball diamonds at schools got face liftings.

Besides all this the department provided a greatly expanded schedule of recreation events. This included 42 social, athletic and playground programs as well as seven special contests and parties.

Our parks and recreation programs are invaluable community assets. The money they cost is well spent. We believe these better facilities will attract even larger numbers of citizens than the 1953 record attendance of nearly 200,000.

Boston U. Fires Halperin

Most readers will take with reservations MAURICE HALPERIN's complaint that his dismissal from the faculty of Boston University threatens academic freedom.

Last year this educator refused to answer questions about Communism before the Jenner Committee in Boston. As a result of his refusal to co-operate with the committee, the university set up a review board to consider his case. HALPERIN was censured by the board but permitted to retain his post.

The professor next came into the spotlight when he was named in an FBI report read by Attorney General BROWNELL before the Jenner Committee in connection with the HARRY DEXTER WHITE case.

The university's reaction to this revelation was immediate suspension of HALPERIN and appointment of another review board to question him. Though given ample opportunity, HALPERIN failed a half dozen times to appear before the board. The university finally reached the obvious conclusion that it had no alternative but to discharge him.

Halperin accuses Boston U. of giving way to "hysteria manipulated by unscrupulous politicians" and damaging the cause of academic freedom. Most of us believe the greatest threats to academic freedom are educators who won't swear they aren't Communists.

Ike's New Farm Policy

Strong Congressional opposition to President EISENHOWER's new farm policy is less a judgment of its basic merit than recognition of some stubborn political facts.

Chief among them is that this is an election year and all 435 members of the House and 32 of the 96 Senators must stand for re-election this Fall. All of these lawmakers, regardless of party, are aware that farm prices are down.

Those from the farm States especially have no desire to risk defeat by backing a courageous and carefully studied plan to solve the farm crop surplus problem. That is what the President and his advisers and some braver members of Congress believe the proposed flexible price support plan will do.

In fact a majority of both Houses back in 1949 not only favored such a system but enacted it into law, only to repeal it later in fear of adverse voter reaction.

Even the loudest critics of the plan like the EISENHOWER proposal to remove from the market $2.5 billion worth of surpluses bought with tax money by the Commodity Credit Corporation,

No Congressman needs to be told that these products, hanging like a millstone around the neck of farm prices, have made reduced farm income inevitable. But many feel that it would be political suicide in an election year to substitute a flexible scale of price supports for rigid 90 per cent of parity.

Farmers themselves are divided on the question. The largest of the three major farm organizations has favored the flexible idea and two others have been opposed to it.

While opposition is much stronger in the House than in the Senate, there is belief among GOP leaders that, with compromises, much of the program can be written into law.

In the national interest it is to be hoped that this will be the case. Experience has proved that rigid price supports don't solve the surplus problem. They intensify it.

"ANY person who jaywalks is neurotic," says a psychologist. Perhaps so. The jaywalker probably has a subconscious suicide complex.

Strenuous Efforts Required to Keep Highways in Shape

Stenographers: Persons often more careless with their spelling than their figures.

Winter maintenance of Oakland County highways is big business—and generally well done. Under the direction of County Superintendent

Oscar D. Loomis of the road commission, over 50 trucks jump into action at any hour of the day or night when icy roads are imminent. Last winter (an "open" one) they spread 5,422 tons of salt and 12,592 sacks of chloride, each containing 100 pounds, besides thousands of tons of sand. When there is a heavy snow the trucks push plows. In order to get them on the job at short notice, the trucks are housed in major county garages at four locations, at Pontiac where

Ray Jenks is in charge of the work; at Lake Orion, where Gale Bracken has supervision; at Davisburg, where C. G. Turner is in charge, and at Highland, where Ray Sherwood supervises activities.

William O'Connor, says "The sentiments expressed by Dr. Petroff also exactly fit my case."

Says Phony Prosperity Built Up Over 20 Years

We hear many people talking about and looking for a slowing up of business. There is an infallible rule that what goes up must come down.

During the past 20 years the politicians built up a phony prosperity by creating wars, spending every cent they could lay their hands on, and on top of this, mortgaging the country's future by borrowing 275 billion dollars.

Many silly people seem to think that this condition should continue so that they can continue their foolish spending and riotous living. They do not seem to realize that there will always be a day of reckoning.

There is only one answer to the present folly and that is a return to sanity and fundamental principles.

When God created the earth he placed everything on it that man would need for a sane and comfortable life. However, if man in a silly, foolish and Godless way of living wastes what God has given him, he will punish himself.

God, who is a loving God, will help if we sincerely ask Him and live according to His laws. If we put our trust in the politicians we are sunk.

Ike to Explain Bad Angles of Subsidies, Hopes Farmers Will Favor His Policy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has begun to give to the nation the sad details about the farm "mess" which his administration inherited from its predecessors.

Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin is reported to have joined a group of other Republicans in saying at a Republican party conference here that the President's abandonment of the 90 per cent parity protection would be a political mistake in the Middle West.

But the Wisconsin senator is wrong on this. For he is assuming that the farm voters will react unfavorably without taking into account the side of the story that the President has to tell.

There are other senators who have committed themselves to a rigid system of price supports—Republicans as well as Democrats. But never before has the other side of the controversy been emphasized as Eisenhower and his aides probably will tell it in the next few months.

The farm vote will not be lost to the Republicans when the facts are thoroughly understood. For the farmer is not a radical and, though he favors subsidies, he doesn't like low farm prices.

What he doesn't realize is that by subsidizing and encouraging production, the farmer is taxing himself higher and forcing a lower price at the same time.

Eisenhower has courageously come to grips with a highly sensitive political problem, and his determination to fight it out in public debate is commendable.

The President says each farm crop has its own problems and each requires specific treatment but there are certain fundamentals that apply to all. He declares, first of all, that "food once produced must not be destroyed" and that excessive stocks can be removed from the markets by governmental action.

But, by this, it is not meant that the system which produced the excessive surpluses must be continued, and that's what the champions of the 90 per cent rigid price-support formula are asking the taxpayers to approve.

The President is right when he says that "there should be no wide year-to-year fluctuation in the level of price support" and that "no single program can apply uniformly to the whole farm industry."

So far as the basic principle is concerned, however, Eisenhower properly lines himself up behind the necessity for government price supports on a flexible basis depending on market conditions, "in order to bring needed stability to farm income and farm production."

The present administration has sought advice from all sides and in a non-political way. The conclusions reached after months of study are sound from an economic standpoint.

The only thing that stands in the way of their acceptance is political exploitation of the issue by those who, in certain areas, think it is unpopular to do otherwise.

That's only because the farmers themselves have not been educated on the facts of the "mess" created. Eisenhower describes it thus:

"The urgency in this situation may be illustrated by a few basic facts. During the past year, the investment of the Commodity Credit Corporation in farm commodities more than doubled, increasing by about $2,500,000,000."

"As a result the financial obligations of the corporation are pressing hard against the $5,750,000,000 limitation on its borrowing authority."

"In order to assure that present price-support commitments on the 1953 and 1954 crops will be covered, I shall request the Congress to take early action to restore the corporation's capital losses, as of June 30, 1953, and to increase its borrowing authority to $8,500,000,000, effective July 1, 1954."

"The government's commodity holdings are enormous. It has investments in more than $2,000,000,000 worth of wheat alone. This includes 440,000,000 bushels owned outright."

"About 400,000,000 additional bushels are under loan, the greater share of which the government can expect to acquire. This is more than the domestic wheat requirements of the entire nation for a full year."

"The cotton carry-over will amount to about 9,600,000 bales. Here again the carry-over is approximately equal to the domestic needs of the entire nation for a full year."

"The carry-over of vegetable oils may be about 1,500,000,000 pounds, roughly double the carry-over that should normally be maintained."

"What makes the situation worse is that, consumer demand is at or near a record high level and in some instances products without price supports have done as well in price as some of those with price supports."

The solution of the problem is related to the opening up of foreign markets and the removal of rigidity from the government's formula.

A flexible system is the natural answer, with no commitment to do more than to sustain the markets from dropping precipitately or from rising too rapidly.

Some Facts on Smoking Are Known; Other Ideas Only Suggestions at Present

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Many smokers ask for help or advice but when I speak frankly about smoking they resent it just as cocktail and highball liquor-uppers resent my teachings about their narcotic.

Before hostilities go too far it may be well to consider the prevailing facts and fancies about smoking. From years of study of medical literature I have reached these conclusions—I may judge for yourself whether they are theories, beliefs, fancies or facts:

1. The nicotine in tobacco has little or nothing to do with the pathological effects of smoking.

2. The main factor of the pathological effects of smoking is carbon monoxide.

3. The brown stain on fingers or

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

International News Service

Two gentlemen who did not overlap into 1954 were Premier Mossadegh of Iran and comrade Beria of Moscow.

Both schemers made the mistake of staying in the driver's seat after the horse had been stolen.

Beria played the parlous game of Russian roulette with a seven-man Moscow line. And will be included in the next census as an asterisk.

There are various versions of Russian roulette but Beria chose the toughest. Six triggers are pulled while you're trying to remember where you left your umbrella.

Mossadegh didn't go the full derby route. His Iranian conferees voted him three Persian years in clink. It's the old burlesque bit of nailing the magic carpet down.

A third European who also got the welcome stranger from his pals is M. Coty of France. We knew him when he spelled it with two Os. He was scratched that time.

M. Coty with the single O is president of France by reason of a disagreement. In French elections they shake up the barrel until the smallest potato is on top.

M. Coty will be president of France for the next seven years, come what who. There is no way out. Like the violinist in a Hungarian restaurant he goes with the dinner.

His term in office is studied by the great scientists as the perfect example of suspended animation.

He is loose again after the seven-year hitch. But we wish to correct an impression. He does not emerge through the back of his coat like a locust.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Meddle not with them; for I will not give you of their land, no, not so much as a foot breadth; because I have given mount Seir unto Esau for a possession.

—Deut. 2:5

Ah, how happy would many lives be if individuals troubled themselves as little about other people's affairs as about their own!

—Lichtenberg.

But beauty operators can't remedy this defect.

"So would you recommend that I try plastic surgery?"

Our plastic surgeons are performing miracles, but Lorna doesn't need such medical attention to remedy her trouble.

When she smiled, she looked charming. But when her face was in its natural repose, she did look unhappy. We call her expression a sourpuss.

"Start smiling constantly," I advised her. "Look at yourself in the mirror tonight and smile while you brush your teeth."

"Smile as you lie abed. And the first thing in the morning, turn on a smile and keep it there as long as possible."

Lorna shook her head and answered:

"But it seems so silly to be smiling on purpose. My face feels unnatural."

"Why, the muscles almost freeze and my face always seems so conspicuous when I smile and hold it more than an instant."

But I showed her that all new habits make us self-conscious at the beginning. It is only after we do a thing so often that it becomes second nature, that we are unaware of these sensations.

Everybody can mold his face into a smile and by continually grinning, our face will eventually stay in that cordial position even though we aren't aware that we are then smiling.

That is the greatest beauty secret we psychologists can offer.

So Lorna finally consented to try my prescription. She smiled for 10 minutes in my office till she got somewhat accustomed to the proper position of her facial muscles.

Later, she called me on the phone and said she was faithfully following my advice. But she admitted she felt very conspicuous the first few days.

After two more weeks, she phoned me to say the plan was working.

"Dr. Crane, two people complimented me today. They said I always looked so friendly and had such a nice smile. But I didn't even realize that I was smiling." That final statement proves that what originally seemed very unnatural, had now become habitual or her "natural" face.

And when she returned to the radio station a few weeks later, they immediately hired her as a receptionist.

So if you dislike your present sourpuss expression, resolutely remodel your facial appearance by smiling. Do it as medicine.

Even if you feel silly, conspicuous and self-conscious at the start, keep on smiling!

For smiles are the best beauty aids you can ever procure. They help win friends. They are a universal sign language that permits you to speak to Chinese and Russian, French and Polish, as well as all other groups.

A smile on the human face is as gratifying as the wagging tail of a puppy. In fact, that wagging tail is a canine smile, anyway.

So smile and smile and keep on smiling till your face naturally falls into that cordial expression by force of habit. Then your cheery expression will be "natural," and you'll zoom in friends as well as in your pay check.

30 Million Speak Pidgin English

Queer Garble Is Official 'Business' Language for East-West Trading

WASHINGTON—“Me tire too-much. Bel belong-me plenty walk-about. Me like high-high.”

To some 30 million of the earth's people, the above is easily translatable. It means: “I'm tired and hungry; let's eat.”

The language is pidgin English, an odd jargon that has served as a common tongue between East and West for over 400 years, says the National Geographic Society.

Originated by traders—pidgin means “business”—it is today a language in its own right, not merely corrupt English.

Various versions are spoken throughout the western and southern islands of the Pacific. Most widely used is the Melanesian dialect. To natives of New Guinea, the Solomon, the New Hebrides and New Caledonia it approaches the status of mother tongue.

Australian aborigines speak a pidgin dialect. The Tonkinese, Malayans, Polynesians, Micronesians, and coastal Chinese are fluent in it. Even on Africa's far-removed west coast, some native tribes use a modified pidgin.

A conglomeration of English, French, German, Portuguese, Spanish and Malayan words, pidgin English has its own grammar, vocabulary and special way of saying things. Its rules are as firmly fixed as those of English.

Parts of speech are similar to English, but forms are different. Nouns, for example, have no plural. “One man, two men, many men” becomes “one-fella man, two-fella man, plenty-fella man” in pidgin.

Pidgin verbs have no tense, person or number. “Me come” may mean either “I come,” “am coming,” “do come,” “I came,” or “I will come.” In the special “objective” form, not found in English, “im” or “em” must be added to a verb whenever there is a direct object.

“Me look-im dis-fella man” means “I see this man.” “Call-im name belong you?” is the manner of inquiring one's name.

Since pidgin vocabularies contain only a few hundred words, a single word may do the work of six. “Grass,” for instance, may mean grass, beard, feathers, fur, or hair. All native women are “marys,” all employed native men are “boys.”

There are but to prepositions in pidgin. “Belong” means “of” and “for.” “Long” serves as from, with, to, at, by, near, and away. Conjunctions are rare. Sentences are usually made as simple as possible.

All time and distances are given in terms of the sun's position. To ask a native, “How far is it to Rabaul?” for instance, the questioner must say the equivalent of: “If I leave here at dawn (or any time), where is the sun when I get to Rabaul?”

In pidgin this comes out: “Spose me loose-im place 'ere along too-light, bimby sun ee stop where, now we come up 'long Rabaul?”

Counting coincides with the English style except “fella” or “pella” is added. “One, two, three” is spoken as “one-fella, two-fella, three-fella.” Eleven is “one-fella ten one.” Twenty is “ten-fella ten.”

During World War II thousands of GIs became fluent in pidgin. Vocabularies were published in every Pacific theater, and the armed forces frequently conducted classes in the crude, often funny tongue. Despite attempts of some Pacific communities to ban its use, pidgin English now ranks as the common language of the South Seas.

West Germany Is Rich Nation

Country Now Is Most
Europe

BONN, Germany (UP) — West Germany, five years ago the poorest of the world, existing solely on American handouts, is now the most prosperous nation in Europe. All over the globe, governments send their representatives here to ask Germany to help finance their own economic revival programs, a startling change for a nation which five years ago, doled out food to its own 48,000,000 people at the rate of 1,325 carefully calculated calories a day.

West Germany's gold and dollar reserves have increased six-fold in three years and now total $1,000,000,000. She was the largest European Payments Union debtor in 1950. Today, the EPU owes West Germany more than $700,000,000—so much it will probably force a reorganization of the EPU by spring.

Employment has reached a record 14,000,000, with 2,000,000 new jobs created in three years. Unemployment, at just under 1,000,000, is the lowest since the war, despite a regular influx of refugees from the East.

The industrial production index is 141 of 1936. Wages continue to rise slowly while prices of consumer goods have recently shown a slight decline. There hasn't been a wage strike in three years. The federal (statistical) office estimates that real weekly earnings of industrial workers have increased 86 per cent since 1948, that their food consumption has jumped 26 per cent and their purchases of goods and services have gone up 34 per cent during the same period.

The great unsettled problem remains housing. The government has said that the nation is short 4,000,000 dwelling units as a result of war damage plus the dumping of 10,000,000 refugees into the country since the war. It built 400,000 houses last year, and probably will build that many again this year. But with refugees continuing to flow in, the average number of persons per room has dropped only from 1.17 in 1950 to 1.15 now.

The index of foreign orders placed with German industry in September was 127, compared with 106 the year before. The country probably will have an over-all foreign trade surplus of $500,000,000 for this year, and is the only major state in western Europe no longer requiring or receiving direct American dollar aid.

But the increases are slowing. Almost all of Germany's trade agreements are bilateral, when three or even four-way trade deals are what is required.

Under the bi-lateral arrangements, West Germany finds that she has difficulty keeping trade going without financing it herself. Twenty-one Latin American countries, for instance, are constantly in trade debt to West Germany, a situation which obviously cannot go on forever.

Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard believes the solution is free convertibility of all currencies, letting each find its own real level, rather than continuing to be bolstered trade practices. Already, Erhard has dropped all quantitative restrictions on 91 per cent of Germany's exports. But he feels he can go no further unless Germany's trade partners follow suit quickly.

Patter of Little Feet

VALDESE, N. C. (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. John Mosteller had a modern brick home but lacked one thing necessary to a happy wedded life. Straley Defines Policy on Raids

Chief Says No Officer Allowed to Conduct One Without Permission

Referring to the recent controversy on Detroit's "tipover" raid by four Bethune Station policemen New Year's Eve, Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley said today that the Pontiac Police Department has always maintained stringent rules on such matters.

"Under no circumstances," Straley said, "is a police officer allowed to conduct a raid without the consent of his superior officers."

Straley said that the ruling has existed at least since he took over the department two years ago.

However, Straley agreed with Detroit Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard's new policy that officers may force their way into a dwelling when they have a reasonable belief that gambling or liquor laws violations are in progress.

"Many times detectives don't have time to get a warrant," Straley said.

"In order to suppress and detect crime immediately, a police officer must have some authority to combat crime when he has reasonable belief that a violation is taking place," he continued.

He said that without such a prerogative, the duties of such bureaus as the vice squad would be difficult to uphold.

Although Pontiac Police don't make a policy of tipover raids, Straley said they are made when officers have "sound and reasonable belief that a crime is occurring."

But normal raids require a warrant and the permission from superiors.

Farm Program Called Political

Sen. Ellender Believes Ike's Proposals Aimed at Getting Votes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said today President Eisenhower's proposed new farm program is "tainted with politics." The proposal would result in lower price supports for cotton, wheat, corn and other products, Ellender said in an interview, but would continue present high supports for tobacco, promise them for wool through a new direct subsidy, and make no change for dairy products.

"It looks like someone figured out votes in planning this program," Ellender added.

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he is certain the program is the right one, although he added its political feasibility is yet to be determined.

The President also said he does not regard himself as too smart politically but is confident that a shift from rigid to flexible farm price supports will help farmers and the nation's prosperity.

With a congressional battle mounting over the new farm proposals, Ellender predicted the Senate Agriculture Committee will line up 10-5 against it. He is the senior Democrat on the group.

Any such division might make it difficult for the President's congressional leaders to get action at this session. Chairman Hope (R-Kan.) and other members of the House Agriculture Committee have shown little enthusiasm for the proposals.

Chairman Aiken (R-Vt.) of the Senate committee declined direct comment on Ellender's forecast except to say he expects members to "keep an open mind" until they learn the facts. The committee opens hearings Monday.

Most of the Democrats and several Republicans on the farm committee have announced they favor extending the present rigid 90 per cent price supports on cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco, peanuts and rice that expire with this year's crops.

Eisenhower proposed a flexible system of price supports ranging from 90 to 75 per cent of parity, a price declared by law to give farmers a fair return. Government price pegs would be lowered in times of surplus and raised during shortages, to stimulate production. The amount price supports could be lowered in any one year would be limited.

Sen. Young (R-ND), in a separate interview, said he agreed with Ellender that a majority of the Senate committee now opposes flexible supports. But Young said he regards Eisenhower as "very capable politically and I think the last election proved that."

Says Reds Quit Jobs to Avoid Quizzing

ALBION (AP)—Detroit's loyalty committee head says that 15 Communists have quit municipal jobs rather than face quizzing and publicity.

Clifford Wickman, chairman of the Detroit Loyalty Investigating Committee, told an Albion College town hall meeting last night that the group did this to avoid facing his committee.

Wickman's report to the town hall meeting was a review of his committee's work over a period of years. He had first publicly mentioned the numerous resignations two years ago.

He said the 15 named persons in particular.

He added that several of the 15 "have gone underground and can't be found."

Council to Meet to Weigh Costs

Village's Share of Bill for Subdivision Project Higher Than Agreed

ROCHESTER — Whether Rochester will foot part of the bill for sanitary and storm sewer installation in the Brentwood Heights Subdivision will be decided at a special Village Council meeting this afternoon.

Originally councilmen agreed to pay part of the installation costs but when the H. M. Sheldon Co., subdividers, presented an estimated installation cost almost double to the original estimate, councilmen withdrew their agreement.

At a Dec. 28 meeting, lawmakers agreed to pay costs not to exceed $2,100 for installation of a storm sewer on First Street from Helen to Alice.

Also agreed was payment of one half of the costs for a sanitary sewer not to exceed $1,000, provided the village would get easement for a sanitary sewer across the property between the proposed subdivision and Quarter Street.

Decision to give the matter further study was made at the regular meeting Monday. The special meeting is scheduled for 4 p. m. today.

In other business Monday, Village president Frank Rewold was given the go-ahead on preliminary engineering work, and to prepare specifications for a deep-well turbine pump to be installed at the village water works.

General government bills, amounting to $6,180.82 were ordered paid and additional bills of $7,285.94 were allowed. The latter included, besides salaries, $3,000 for construction work on the new civic center site, employee retirement fund and withholding taxes.

Milford Literary Club Honors Two Members

MILFORD — Two of the oldest members of the Milford Monday Literary Club were honored at the monthly meeting Monday in the Presbyterian Church parlors. Gold pins were presented to Mrs. Mary Ladd and Mrs. Joseph Fittenger. Both have life memberships and Mrs. Ladd has been a member for 44 years.

It was announced that a Gentleman's Night will be held Jan. 23 at Hi-Land Manor, when the men will be guests of the club. Dr. H. A. Miller is in charge of the program.

Youth, 19, Awaiting Court Arraignment

John Lilly, 19, of Beckley, W. Va., was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday when he waived examination on a stolen auto charge before Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Lilly, who failed to post a $1,000 bond, was returned to Oakland County Jail to await arraignment Jan. 18.

Detective Charles Hewitt, of Pontiac Police auto theft bureau, returned Lilly from Detroit Monday when he was involved in an auto accident while driving a car reported stolen by Mrs. Wilma M. Stapleton of 3296 Lexington Dr., Waterford Township.

Lilly was chased and caught by a Detroit taxicab driver after he attempted to flee the scene of an accident near downtown Detroit Monday.

Lunchroom Kitchen Damaged by Blaze

Flames shot up through a vent fan and caused slight damage to a wall when grease on the stove ignited.

Passed Bad Check

Miss Dorothy Coe of 6815 Alden Dr., Green Lake, pleaded guilty before Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick today to a charge of uttering and publishing. She was returned to Oakland County Jail and sentence was set for Jan. 25. Miss Coe pleaded guilty to passing a bad check for $15 last Oct. 20.

Fireman Out of Hospital

A Waterford Township fireman, Lewis Goff, 35, of 130 S. Tilden Ave., was released yesterday from Pontiac General Hospital. Goff was overcome by smoke Tuesday while fighting a $1,500 truck fire on Telegraph road just south of U. S. 10.

SHADES OF GEORGE WASHINGTON—News from 1773 is what John Gambiere, of Cleveland, Ohio, is looking at, and this copy of the Maryland Journal and Baltimore Advertiser is an extraordinary "find." The issue, dated July 15, 1773, carries an ad written by George Washington. It stated that he had 20,000 acres of land on the Ohio and Grand Kanawha rivers and that he would listen to any proposal for leasing them "upon moderate terms, allowing a certain number of years rent free." The paper, yellow and brittle, was found along with other old papers in a trash barrel. It has four pages, still very readable, except for the frayed edges.

Avondale Asks Township to Provide Fire Protection

AVON TOWNSHIP—A petition asking fire protection for the Avondale section of Avon Township was presented to the Township Board last night. The petition was tabled for further study.

Signed by 980 residents, the document requested a fire station, "together with fire fighting equipment and an alarm system, to service the district."

Submitting the request was Monroe Fredericks, president of the Southwest Avon Community Forum.

Supervisor C. E. Miller assured Fredericks that the board is in accord with the project and that he was considering several sites.

Miller also said that he favored getting the project on the April ballot.

Fredericks stated that all signers of the petition had been informed that the tax increase for the fire district would be $3 per thousand.

Moslems Arrested in Egypt Crackdown

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—A high official source said today 168 members of the Moslem Brotherhood have been arrested in the government's crackdown on the religious-political organization.

President Mohammed Naguib's government outlawed the once-powerful brotherhood in Egypt yesterday and launched a roundup of its leaders. Those taken into custody are under "temporary arrest," officials said today. They explained that no charges would be made pending an investigation.

The police swooped down on the brotherhood in Cairo, Alexandria, the Suez Canal zone and other key centers following an outbreak at Cairo University between its members and supporters of the government-backed Liberation Rally.

The brotherhood, claiming two million followers throughout the Middle East, strives for close government adherence to Islamic religious dictates in the Arab nations.

Relocated Plants in South Find Little Saving in Costs

CHICAGO (UP) — Northern industrialists in the future may think twice before they move their plants to the South in the hope of making more money, in the opinion of a management consultant.

"The South no longer offers a guarantee of lower costs than the North," said John O. Tomb, an associate of McKinsey and Company. Tomb recently made a survey of the South as an area where plants could relocate. He said the results surprised him and that some results could be applied to relocating generally.

"We found that popular notions about southern differentials were just not true," he said.

For instance, he found that in some localities the cost differentials between North and South were narrowing and in some cases had disappeared.

Some advantages manufacturers had received were due, not to a change in location, but to better management, he said.

Also, it is difficult to make up the expenses of transferring a company from one section of the country to another.

He cited the fact that "a lot of market - oriented companies" have been opening up branch plants to serve the South and "they have raised the price structure."

"On top of that," he continued, "there are some companies that find if they move south and find lower operating costs, they may be moving away from their markets."

"So they find operating cost profits offset by increased transportation costs and difficulty in servicing customers."

Tomb said also there was difficulty in securing management personnel and that some industries could not find the type of workers it needed.

"A lot of people who have studied the problem have decided to stay where they are," he added. "I don't believe that anybody who moved down there would move back."

"Anyone today who thinks that all he has to do is to pull up stakes and move to the South to make the profit statement look better had better look at the picture again."

Nothing Like Lichen for Caloric Value

CONCORD, N. H. (UP) — Anybody who gets lost in the woods can get more calories to eat from lichens than from an equal amount of honey, hominy, corn flakes, cabbage and about 50 other foods.

The state fish and game department said so after tests conducted at the engineering experiment station of the University of New Hampshire.

Lichens, such as the gray stringy tree moss which clings to northern firs and spruces, "provide nearly a third more calories per unit weight than most staple foods."

Lichens, living on tree trunks, rocks or barren ground, are natural food factories, trapping nourishment from air and sunlight. They take out "valuable minerals from the very rocks to which they cling."

Smokes Out Moonshine

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (UP) — Officers searching for whisky in a vacant lot burned the grass away. In the ashes, they found four half-gallon jars and one pint of moonshine. Ten half-gallon jars got away—they exploded in the heat.

Chicken, Pork on Bargain List

Beef, Lamb Also Among Best Weekend Buys; Fruit Prices Drop

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS
The men who run the nation's food stores will mark down prices on a wide variety of meats for weekend shoppers. In some areas, even the costly pork chop will come down from its lofty heights.

Prominently mentioned specials include prime ribs of beef, boneless chuck pot roast, legs of lamb, breasts and shanks of lamb, pork chops, pork loins, and roasting and frying chickens.

For the most part, reductions on beef and lamb cuts will be about two cents a pound. Pork chops won't be lowered everywhere, but some stores plan cuts of from four to as much as 16 cents a pound.

Stores featuring chickens will trim prices by from two to eight cents a pound.

Egg and butter prices will remain much the same as a week ago.

There are strong indications that meat prices will be higher next week. Wholesale prices are up on most meats with some of the blame being placed on the cold weather, which has held up shipments.

As every housewife knows, coffee prices are continuing their climb, the result of record high prices for green coffee. A leading roaster said that its coffee is now selling at 96 cents a pound wholesale and that if retailers keep their present markup—profit margin—the retail price will be $1.05-$1.06.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture nominated broilers and fryers and winter pears as food headliners for this week. It noted there are plentiful supplies of these items at reasonable prices.

Most fruits moved lower in the wholesale markets, among them California oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, and grapes. Apples are about the same as they were a week ago.

The outstanding vegetable buys, produce men said, include cabbage, onions, potatoes and greens such as kale and collards. Good buys are carrots, escarole, endive, sweet potatoes and tomatoes. Among vegetables going higher this week were lettuce, peppers, celery and cucumbers. Strawberry berries also went up.

Charge Murder in Jurist's Death

Man, 26, Shoots Judge During Court Session, Tries to Kill Self

WARREN, Pa.—An irate 26-year-old construction worker stalked and methodically shot to death a judge who had summoned him to court yesterday to answer a non-support charge filed by his estranged wife.

A short time later he attempted suicide with the same gun while state police were closing in on his disabled auto.

A handful of horrified witnesses were in the courtroom when Judge Allison D. Wade, 51, called Morman of Conneville before the bench.

"All he wanted to do was to ask Moon why he wasn't complying with a court order to pay his estranged wife $30 a week," explained Coroner Ed Lowrey.

"As Moon came forward from where he had been sitting in the spectators' section, he pulled a revolver from his pocket. He took a shot at the district attorney and missed. Then he shot at his wife's attorney and missed again.

"He kept walking, in sort of a semicircle, toward the judge's bench. When Moon started to walk up the steps the judge backed away and grabbed a chair.

"Then the judge stumbled backwards down the steps on the other side of the bench and fell on the floor. Moon stood over him and methodically shot him twice. He walked out of the courtroom slowly, got into his auto parked nearby and sped away."

State police, quickly alerted, spotted the car, and after a brief bullet-riddled chase, a tire was hit and Moon stumbled from his auto.

"We jumped out of the car with our guns drawn and when we were about 50 feet away, he put the gun to his throat and fired," said Sgt. Charles Nadeau.

Seat Heat Fails to Deter Driver in 22-Mile Trip

BENTON HARBOR—The heat was on Walter Mathieu of Bridgeport the other evening but he didn't realize it until a few miles out of South Haven. Then he discovered that the driver's seat of his car was smoldering. He got some water at a gas station and thought he had the fire out.

A few miles further and it began to heat up again. He put a blanket over the seat, but that caught fire and he had to discard it. Finally he ended up driving the remainder of the 22-mile trip into Benton Harbor from the middle of the front seat.

Benton Harbor fireman James Woodley, who reported Mathieu's troubles, put out the fire once and for all.

Youth Pleads Guilty to Breakin at Night

James M. Pike Jr., 17, of 23851 Majestic St., Oak Park, faces sentencing Jan. 25 for nighttime breaking and entering after pleading guilty to the charge today before Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartwick.

Judge Hartwick issued a bench warrant against Douglas Jones, 19, of 366 E. Cambourne, Ferndale, who failed to appear on the same charge. Jones forfeited a $1,000 bond.

Ferndale police said they arrested the pair Oct. 18 inside a Ferndale tile company building.

Flint Man Pleads Guilty on Weapons Charge

John Lewis, 1138 Maple St., Flint, pleaded guilty today to a charge of carrying concealed weapons before Circuit Judge George B. Hartwick. He was returned to Oakland County Jail and sentence was set for Jan. 18.

Lewis was arrested by State Police of the Pontiac Post Oct. 27. A .32 caliber pistol was found in the glove compartment of his car.

East Lansing Man Dies After Car Hits Tree

EAST LANSING—Earl Luttrell, 38, of East Lansing, was killed today when his car struck a tree east of East Lansing.

State Police said Luttrell apparently fell asleep. His car left the road and Luttrell was thrown out.

County Suspect Kills Self in Ohio

Mrs. Hazel Bryant, 22, Charged With Issuing Bad Checks Here

A 22-year-old woman hanged herself last night in the Ashtabula (Ohio) City Jail shortly after being arrested on a charge of issuing checks without an account during the 10 days she worked as a sales clerk in a Pontiac store during the holiday season.

She is Mrs. Hazel J. Bryant, who lived in a motel at 9474 Pontiac Lake Rd., Waterford Township, while employed here.

She was arrested yesterday afternoon by Ashtabula Police on request of Oakland County authorities who had issued a warrant charging her with writing at least 12 bad checks totaling approximately $300 when she worked in Pontiac.

Robert Miller, chief investigator for the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office, was to leave for Ashtabula this morning to pick her up, but he was notified by Ohio police that she had hanged herself with a bandana in her jail cell.

Miller, who traced Mrs. Bryant to Ashtabula, said the worthless checks didn't turn up until after she had left the city.

He added that the maximum penalty for the felony is two years in prison.

Mrs. Bryant had no known relatives living in the Pontiac area.

Explorer Post 66 Goes to Grayling

Explorer Scout Post 66 of the Joslyn-Presbyterian Church will take its annual winter trip this weekend, according to King Stetler, assistant Explorer adviser.

Members will leave Pontiac Friday for Grayling where they will participate in skiing, tobogganing and ice-skating at the Grayling Winter Sport Park.

Explorers call the trip "Grayling Beware."

'Alber-Quichie Kart' Has Michigan Woes
ALBER-QUICHE, N. M. (AP)—At least that's the way a Michigan man spelled it when he wrote Albuquerque police asking help in finding his mother.

The letter, addressed to the "Alber-Quichie Kart House" presented officers a worse difficulty than spelling; though he wants to find his mother, he doesn't know her first name.

Case of Stuffed Deer Really Tough Stuff

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UP)—The Springfield Court of Appeals has weighed some tough decisions in its time, but it became involved in a real mess when faced by the question of whether a person is breaking the law if he shoots a deer out of season—a stuffed deer, that is.

The whole thing started the night of Sept. 12, 1952, when four Conservation Commission agents "planted" a stuffed deer—with car reflector type eyes—on a road in Phelps County.

Two men, said the agents, in a car containing spotlights, shotguns and rifle slug ammunition, came down the road and "shot" the stuffed animal.

A Circuit Court in Phelps County fined each defendant $250 for pursuing deer out of season, and the men appealed the case. Their attorney put it this way:

"It was the same as if I went out here and shot a dead thing and was held for murder. It just would not be murder."

To which the judge replied: "But would it be an attempt?"

Sale Too Successful

STAMFORD, Conn. (UP)—The Ladies Guild of St. John's church pronounced its rummage sale a big success. In fact, it was too successful. One of the members inadvertently sold 18 altar candlesticks used for children's services.

ACTRESS LOSES LEG—Susan Ball, above, a movie actress, underwent surgery at Temple Hospital in Hollywood, Calif., for amputation of her right leg to correct a cancerous condition. The 21-year-old beauty is shown in her hospital bed from which she recently announced her engagement to actor Richard Long. They plan to wed as soon as Miss Ball has recovered.

Radish Record 19 Inches

BRAZIL, Ind. (UP)—Harry M. Buck of Brazil claims some kind of a radish record after uprooting a 19-inch long oriental radish from his garden. It tipped the scales at four and one-half pounds.

Aching Molars May Result From High Airplane Trip

ANN ARBOR, (INS) — Your teeth may decay faster when you are in a high altitude plane, a professor of dentistry reported today.

A quick airline trip won't give you a mouthful of cavities, he added reassuringly, but it may cause an extremely painful toothache that won't affect you if you're down on the ground.

What's more if the trip scares you and you grind your teeth you'll be in for more trouble, he said. And new research indicates that at 30,000 feet your dental plates are likely to drop into your lap.

Dr. Floyd A. Peyton of the University of Michigan school of dentistry announced these prospects as the results of Air Force research studies and said dentists must learn to cope with a new problem: "Aerodontalgia."

This is a high-altitude toothache, and Dr. Peyton said the expansion of air travel will make it more common.

The pain is caused most frequently by hidden, normally painless air pockets in teeth that act up with the change in atmospheric pressure at higher altitudes.

The dentist said the problem is likely to be severe only for pilots and crewmen who are exposed repeatedly to high-altitude conditions.

He added: "Also, the very condition of anxiety which some suffer while flying causes grinding of the teeth. This in itself suggests the need for dental work which will withstand 'air jitters.'"

"Dentures have been known to drop into the lap of airmen. Studies indicate that at 30,000 feet there is as much as a 50 per cent loss in retention of dental plates."

Lapidary Instruction Halted at Cranbrook

Cranbrook Institute of Science is reorganizing its lapidary shop and is replacing all worn and obsolete equipment. During the reorganization period no lapidary instruction will be given.

Equipment being replaced will be put up for sale to hobbyists. Lapidary work includes stone cutting and polishing.

Saucer Will Boomerang

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP)—Archie Hovanessian, Jr., 12, built a "flying saucer" that measures 18 inches in diameter and doesn't need a string to return it to the "pilot's" feet. Its engine causes it to circle like a boomerang.

School Board OKs Saturday Band Study

Asks Only Total Tutoring Figure

'Lessons Necessary' to Uphold Music Quality; Members Approve

Dale C. Harris' "Saturday school" in instrumental music won hearty support from the Pontiac Board of Education Wednesday as a full-fledged school program.

The board, which had asked Harris to report on private lessons given at Pontiac High School, specified that money taken in must be recorded "through regular school channels" for the board's information.

Only students of Pontiac Public Schools can take the lessons, the board decided.

Harris, the school system's instrumental music director, said some 330 youngsters are now taking the half-hour lessons every Saturday. Ten adult teachers, band instructors in the school system, charge $1.50 a lesson and the 18 advanced band students who teach charge 75 cents.

"We've been giving lessons for years," he said, "but in the last year or so we've been getting complaints because the building is cold."

J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, asked if the Saturday tutoring is necessary to keep the present quality of the PHS band. Harris said yes.

"In private lessons," he said, "we can develop individual musicianship—a thing extremely difficult to do in a classroom."

Two guests, Mrs. Floyd Smith and Mrs. Paul Gorman, asked if the board wasn't clearing the way for teachers to start Saturday tutoring in speech, singing and other fields.

Board member Louis H. Schimmel pointed out that the band program is self-supporting.

Member Monroe M. Osmon said he favored the program.

"Our school buildings are here to be used," he said. "I think the mere fact 330 kids are using one is wonderful—that's 330 kids that are off the streets, engaged in constructive work. I'd like to see all those buildings put to that kind of use."

A question from Henry Elling, Eastern Junior High School vocal teacher, about possible favoritism towards Saturday pupils brought out the way Harris decides who gets top "chairs" in the PHS Band.

"Competitive tryouts are held," he said, "with each youngster playing out of sight of the director. Each student has a number. The director fills in the chairs by number—and only then does he learn who was playing."

Among birds spending the winter at Kensington are cardinals, bluejays, chickadees, the tufted titmouse, downy woodpeckers, and the golden-crowned kinglet.

The white breasted nuthatch and the brown creeper are often seen on tree trunks this time of year, Hopkins said, while goldfinches may be seen feeding on seeds still hanging on yellow birch and ironwood trees.

Some families in the area are making weekly trips to the park to maintain bird feeding stations and observe the birds at close range he added.

Dodge Will Show New All-Plastic Model Car

DETROIT (AP) — Newest of the plastic body automobiles is a two-passenger sports model developed by Dodge.

The new car, called the Granada, is said to be the first one-piece, all-plastic body car ever developed on a conventional chassis. It will get its public introduction at the Southern California auto show in Los Angeles, starting tomorrow.

Dodge describes it as purely an experimental car.

Senator Will Try to Talk Seaway Project to Death

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md.), declared today he will try to "talk to death" the proposed 105 million dollar St. Lawrence Seaway project.

Beall told a newsman he was "not planning a filibuster" against the navigation project, but he asserted: "When we have enough votes to kill the measure, I'll stop talking."

To back up his assertion, Beall said his speech against the project "will continue all day and into Friday." After that, he said, "other senators will make known their views."

The Maryland lawmaker made his comments as the Senate opened its second day of debate on the measure which the Eisenhower administration has called essential to national defense.

The new baby, after careful selection, is brought into a nursery which differs from your own or the ideal one in your mind only in that it is perhaps 60 times larger. There are 60 cribs in this oversized but never impersonal nursery, with colorful walls displaying murals of flowers, butterflies and birds.

To avoid any institutional flavor, the infants are dressed in nighties of different colors, and the bedding is blue, pink and white, with variously patterned spreads.

While we were in the nursery, for perhaps 20 minutes, these 60 babies, ranging in color from blue-black to snowy white, and in age from a few weeks to 12 months, did not utter a single cry, which struck us as something of a minor miracle.

At suppers we looked in on a nursery school room, about 10 small chairs painted a different bright color, and again the cheerfulness and laughter of the children made us wonder what secret these Cuban sanitariums had discovered.

As Manuel was driving us back to our hotel from Beneficencia, he told us about his 7-year-old daughter who went with him one day to visit this city of children and was so moved that she asked her father to turn over her entire weekly allowance to the Beneficencia operating fund.

"It is a beautiful place," his daughter said, "but it is not the same thing as having your own mother and father, and I feel that I should help them."

"You see," Manuel said, "our little girl does not know that she herself came from Beneficencia."

That is why I always take tourists there when I think they are not in too much of a hurry."

Thank you, Manuel, for showing us that there is in Havana another kind of music beside the beat of the rumba drum and the whir of the mechanical cocktail shaker.

Dem Appointee Blocked by GOP

State Senate Majority Refuses to OK Former Solon for Post

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams' first pitch to the 1954 Senate was hit solidly yesterday by the Senate Republican majority.

The chamber refused to confirm immediately Earnest C. Brooks of Holland as a member of the State Corrections Commission despite a tradition that a former senator is entitled to automatic confirmation as soon as his name is presented by the governor. Brooks is a former Democratic senator.

Brooks' name, along with 71 other Williams' appointees, was sent to committee for study.

The GOP majority reportedly was split on the question of confirming Brooks in conformity with tradition, but the leadership prevailed.

Politicians expect a confirmation fight over the six-member bipartisan Corrections Commission, with much of the opposition centering around Brooks. He was the former one-man corrections commission during Williams' first four years in office.

Democrats failed to make a fight for Brooks.

When the list of 72 appointees was presented to the Senate, Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) moved that "because of its length" it be considered read and sent to committee.

Sen. Charles S. Blundy of Detroit, the Democratic floor leader, said "It has been the general practice on former senators not to send them to committee. Would there be any objection to following that procedure?"

Sen. George N. Higgins (R-Fennville) leaped to his feet and Blundy said he would withdraw his question.

Bingo Enthusiasts Map Plans for Vote

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's bingo enthusiasts gather here tonight to map plans for a drive to legalize their favorite game.

Delegates from 10 counties are expected to attend the meeting of the Michigan Association of Non-Profit Charitable Organizations.

The group seeks to collect 500,000 signatures to put the question of legalizing bingo on the ballot next November.

Floyd Rice Jr., chairman of the state committee of the association, said 50,000 petitions with space for 20 signatures each already have been printed.

Make Banks Available to All

Small Groups May Unite and Form Blood 'Co-ops'

Small business or clubs which don't have the 35 people needed to form an American Red Cross blood bank may now band together in blood "co-ops."

Mrs. N. E. Durocher, Pontiac blood donor recruitment chairman for Oakland County's Red Cross chapter, says the "co-op" plan should make blood banks available to every store, factory, club or organization.

"Groups of stores on one street might join together," she said, "so that we could schedule a bloodmobile visit almost at their doors. Or several businesses of the same kind—such as several radio repair shops, or auto dealerships, or gas stations—might form a co-op."

Mrs. Durocher said that formation of many small blood banks, whose members give blood throughout the year, encourages the steady supply that the Red Cross whole blood program must have. Whole blood keeps just 21 days.

Blood bank members who need blood or plasma because of accidents, surgery or illness are supplied blood, free of cost, in local hospitals. Hospitals charge them only a laboratory fee for transfusions.

Solon Offers Bill for Teen-Age Vote

LANSING (AP) — A proposal to allow 18-year-olds to vote, recommended to Congress by Republican President Eisenhower, was submitted to the Michigan Legislature today by a Democratic senator, Charles C. Diggs Jr., of Detroit.

Diggs proposed a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the voters next fall to lower the minimum voting age from 21 to 18.

Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deerfield) filed a bill to increase the original driver license fee from $3 to $3.25 to finance the employment of 100 additional State Police officers, as suggested by Gov. Williams. This increase would produce $750,000 a year, Clements said.

Sen. Carlton R. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) proposed to require persons residing and working in Michigan and sending their children to Michigan schools to register their autos in Michigan. He also proposed to require public schools to provide the state with the addresses of all parents who have been in Michigan less than one year.

mobile will visit Pontiac Elks' Temple Monday to take blood donations from 2 until 8 p.m. Each donation is credited to the person or blood bank the donor chooses.

More information about blood bank "co-ops" and how they can be formed is on hand at local Red Cross offices, Federal 4-3575, or from Mrs. Durocher.

Speedup Urged in License Sale

Local Office Estimates 55,000 Will Be Issued by Feb. 28 Deadline

About 10,000 license plates have been sold by the Pontiac branch office of the Michigan Department of State so far this year, according to LeRoy Kellogg, assistant branch manager.

He estimated that sales through the office this year will total about 55,000 by the Feb. 28 deadline.

Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary has informed Roy Amett, manager of the local office, that the state is launching an all-out campaign from Jan. 15 to Feb. 15 to speed up sales of license plates.

"We can save the taxpayers $10,000 for extra help if everyone will cooperate to avoid the last-minute rush," Cleary said.

He added that newspapers, radio, television and theaters have promised cooperation in carrying the drive to the public.

Cleary said early plate sales were as much as 53 per cent higher than last year at this time.

Wilson Speaks at MSC Confab

Secretary of Defense Discusses Farm Life and National Affairs

EAST LANSING (AP) — It was a rural evening and Secretary of Defense Wilson, former president of General Motors Corp. was as rural as the rest of them.

Wilson made a rambling, extemporaneous speech to the Michigan Agricultural Conference banquet at Michigan State College last night.

He mixed rustic jokes, reminiscences about his farm boyhood in Ohio with terse comments on national and international affairs.

Preaching his familiar theme of full production, Wilson said he was not worried about crop surpluses.

"What may seem a troublesome surplus is a great national asset and a part of our security," he said. "No army can fight long if it is hungry. If the people at home starve they won't support a war. . . . Strong and productive agriculture is essential to national defense."

Wilson touched lightly on a current revision of United States military strategy and organization.

He said it would have had to come now no matter who headed the Defense Department or composed the joint chiefs of staff.

The end of the Korean War, growing American military might, the improved strength of our allies and the threats of overspending to our own economy contributed to the necessity for a change, he said.

The nation, Wilson said, made its "great mistake" when it disarmed too much after World War II. This led to the Korean War, he said, and forced the United States to a costly and inefficient "crash" campaign.

A program developing in the next 10 days will make clear to the public, Wilson said, "an important shift in relative strength and expenditure from ground troops to air power."

A reporter asked him to be more specific. Wilson replied "I understand it is bad form to talk about the budget before the President sends it to Congress."

Asserting 30 of the top 35 men in the Defense Department had been changed in the past year, Wilson said a good defense team was being built.

"I shudder to think," he said, "what would have happened in General Motors if it had changed 30 of its top 35 men in the space of one year."

Schools to Get More Rooms

Education Board Told Cost Has Been Cut to $260,000

It looks as though Pontiac Public Schools will have the added classrooms needed this September.

J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, told Pontiac Board of Education at its Wednesday meeting that total cost has been backed down to about $260,000.

Architects are now drawing plans for a four-room addition to Bagley School, one room each at Owen and Malkin and two rooms at Whittier School.

School officials plan to put two steel portable buildings at McConnell to handle its overflow. Cox said the two-room "annex" on Washington Junior High School grounds to handle Webster's extra students can wait another year, but he suggested having two extra portables on hand to move wherever they are needed.

The school board decided to meet next Wednesday at Pontiac High School for a briefing on courses being taught there.

The board turned down a request from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, asking if a local organization could use Bagley School for a dance to raise funds for the March of Dimes. Cox explained that only Pontiac City Recreation Department and the schools themselves can stage parties or dances in school buildings.

Bird Colony at Kensington Attracts Motorists, Hikers

Kensington Metropolitan Park's bird colony is attracting both motorists and hikers this winter, according to park naturalist Bill Hopkins.

Many Canada geese, black ducks and mallards have stayed north for the winter and may be seen on the open water near the head of Kent Lake or near the feeding area just off Dawson road, he said.

Hopkins added that some of the water fowl will spend the entire season in the park, while others will probably be driven south by storms in February.

He recommends Deer Run Trail and Sassafras Trail for winter bird-study hikes, since both are well marked.

Air Academy Need Stressed

Air Force Secretary
Cites High Loss Rate in Officer Corps

WASHINGTON (U)—Harold E. Talbott, Air Force secretary, told Congress today there is an "immediate and, in my opinion, urgent" need for a separate air academy to help overcome a shortage of young officers.

He testified the United States is the only major power without a separate educational institution for military airmen and engineers.

"This deficiency is of serious import to our national security," he said.

Talbott appeared before the House Armed Services Committee at the start of hearings on a bill to authorize an Air Force West Point and permit initial planning. The cost is estimated at 100 million dollars.

President Eisenhower has personally endorsed the measure, Talbott testified.

The proposed academy also was supported strongly by Roger M. Kyes, deputy secretary of defense; Dr. John A. Hannah, assistant defense secretary for manpower; Army Gen. Charles L. Bolte, and Vice Adm. Murr E. Arnold, among other top-ranking witnesses.

"I feel strongly that the quality of our airpower is largely dependent upon the quality of the regular officer corps," Talbott said.

But, he added, the Air Force is losing officers at such a rate that it needs approximately 1,200 new candidates each year to maintain authorized strength.

Of these, manpower studies indicate half should come from military academies and the remainder from civilian colleges, he said.

"To date, we have found it impossible to fulfill either of these quotas," Talbott added.

The main debate on the bill is expected over location of the academy. The measure provides for creating a new civilian board to survey possible sites, with the air secretary making the final decision.

Talbott said the site is still "wide open."

Develop Cheap Atom Radiation Detector

CHICAGO (UP)—A new mechanism being developed to detect the degree of a person's exposure to atomic radiation might sell for about a dollar, if mass-produced.

Being made to U. S. Navy specifications, the system consists of a phosphate glass detector, sensitive to radiation. A radiac computer-indicator measures the amount of radiation absorbed by the glass.

Ray DeCola, director of engineering for Admiral Corporation, says the new system is more economical, simpler and faster to operate than any now in use.

The detector, encased in a plastic lock-on one-inch in diameter, is worn around the neck on a chain with dog-tags. The lock-on becomes luminescent in proportion to the time of exposure and the intensity of the source.

A photosensitive tube in the computer-indicator translates the luminescence of the dosimeter into electric current so it can be read on a meter.

Calls Wynn's Latest Marriage Bigamous

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Betty Jane (Beetsy) Wynn, former wife of Keenan Wynn, says she has no objections to the actor's marriage last Friday to Shirley Jean Hudson in Puerto Rico, but Beetsy's lawyer says the marriage is bigamous.

Beetsy got an interlocutory decree last May, on cruelty grounds. "It won't be final until next May," said S. S. Hahn, her attorney. "His latest marriage is bigamous and can be annulled in a minute."

But Beetsy, Wynn's second wife, said yesterday, "I don't want to disturb Keenan and his new wife at all. I wish them all the happiness in the world."

Wright Brothers' Helper Tells of Early Projects

BOSTON (UP)—George Augenstein, 83, recalls helping Wilbur and Orville Wright work on an early model of their flying machine.

Augenstein was employed as a stationary fireman for a Columbus, Ohio, street railway at the turn of the century. On his days off he would help the Wright brothers in their nearby experimental workshop, receiving $1.00 per day for his efforts.

"They never got the plane so it would get off the ground in those days," said Augenstein, but in less than three years the Wrights made history with their flying machine.

LOS ANGELES (U)—Errol Flynn has been summoned to a court hearing Jan. 22 on the charge of Nora Eddington, a former wife, that he is 12 months delinquent in payments of $350 monthly for support of their two children. Flynn is now in Rome.

University Has Class on Transportation

EVANSTON, Ill. (UP)—Northwestern University has established a national Transportation Center featuring a program aimed at the solution of major problems in the nation's transportation industry.

The center, a joint undertaking of the university's school of commerce, technological institute and traffic institute, will carry on a program of research, undergraduate training and graduate study of problems in the highway, rail, air, pipeline and water divisions of transportation.

The center was established because, in the words of the university's president, J. Roscoe Miller, "transportation has become increasingly complex and has created many unsolved problems — economic, technical and social."

Hal Boyle Says:

Washington Held Together by Dreams and Ballot Box

WASHINGTON (U)—What in the world is Washington, D.C.?

Most great cities of earth you can peel like an orange, and get at the heart and pulp of them.

They give even the most casual visitor a definite feeling. New York is a tower. . . . Paris is a beating pulse, and the eyes of a new love telling old lies. . . . Naples is a song in the night and bread crumbs on a tablecloth. . . .

London is stolid courage in a fog. . . . Shanghai is mystery and poverty that smiles at its own misery. . . . Calcutta is a naked beggar pleading for alms beneath the shade of a Victorian monument. . . . Berlin is a question mark, saluting itself. . . . Bombay is a tired mongoose fighting a bored cobra, while each waits for the Point Four program to give it a better way of life. . . . Athens is a blue sky and antique stones and wine with a resin taste, just as it tasted when Socrates drank it long ago. . . .

Yes, most great cities are a definite feeling. But what in the world is Washington, D.C.? I know it is the capital of the United States, and that George Washington was able to sleep better near here than he was at Valley Forge. But what else?

I have come here many times, but all I get from it is a feeling of puzzlement. To me it is a vast jigsaw puzzle made up of thousands of sights and impressions, but I have never been able to fit them into a pattern, and I am beginning to doubt if there is a permanent one. This is a political city, and the only permanent thing in American politics is the next election.

Every once in a while I have a feeling I'd like to go out to the Lincoln Memorial and ask, "Mr. Lincoln, tell me about this place." But I'm afraid the only answer would be a sigh. After all, they shot Lincoln here.

What in the world is Washington, D.C.?

Well, it isn't America any more than New York is. . . . It is a mass of officials kneeling with their ear to the ground, and each one whispering nervously to his neighbor, "What are the grass roots saying?" . . . It is a place where most people come to from somewhere else they still call home . . . a camp of transients who have pitched stone tents here for a purpose, then move on.

It is a two-way escalator where politicians pass each other while carrying out the will of the people . . . gladly on the way up . . . wryly on the way down. . . . It is full of the front-page faces of yesterday, the faces of those who mistook what the grass roots were saying and no longer want to go back home . . . and they sit in their club and talk with old cronies of forgotten battles the voters no longer care about.

What in the world is Washington, D.C.?

Above all it is to most of those here a job . . . a warm desk out of the rain . . . a reach for prestige . . . the greatest fulcrum of power the universe has ever known. . . . A fellow who comes here and doesn't want anything is a tourist.

"It is a government girl saying, 'Maybe if I'd stayed in Dubuque, I'd be looking after a husband now instead of looking forward to a pension.' . . . It is a lobbyist reaching for the dinner check and saying, 'Well, congressman, as I was saying, it is only what the people want.' . . ."

But he doesn't say whose people. . . . Nothing is done here without invoking the name of that great mystery—"the people." . . . It is a small boy turning to his mother in the Senate gallery, and saying, "Mama, are you sure those men down there are really senators?" . . . What in the world is Washington, D.C.?

It is compromises and pleading and committees. . . . It is a place where the cocktail party is a weapon, and gossip is not so much a vice as an industry. . . . It is a town where everybody wants to feel he's in the real inside, part of "the big know" . . .

It is a forum, a sounding board. . . . It is lonely integrity and private chicanery . . . and jet-propelled opportunism . . . and stubborn sincerity. . . .

It is museums and monuments and tons of secret documents and scores of busts of famous Americans, including "Flat Mouth" the noted Chippewa chief. . . .

"Does it never change?" a visitor asks. And a cynic answers, "Sure. It changes from organized chaos to a confused optimism—depending on how you look at it."

What in the world is Washington, D.C.?

I still don't know. But I do know that the only thing that holds it together are the dreams of 161 million Americans—and a small ballot box.

116,743 Government Units Exist in U. S.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States says there are 116,743 major units of government in this country.

This figure includes the federal government, the governments of the 48 states, 3,049 counties, 16,778 municipalities, 17,202 townships, 67,346 school districts, and 12,319 special districts.

The business organization said that if these figures were broken down into all principal subdivisions of government, the total would be many times 116,743.

The C. of C. added that the federal government has 13 departments, nine agencies, 39 commissions, 29 administrations, 22 corporations, 630 offices, 127 services, 107 bureaus, 627 divisions, 32 branches, 58 boards, and 444 miscellaneous units such as missions, colleges, commands, and projects, a total of 2,117 segments.

Hope College Gets Present of $30,000

HOLLAND (U)—Hope College's century of service fund has received its biggest single contribution, $30,000 from Mr. and Mrs. John Aggen of Fulton, Ill., Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, Hope president, has disclosed. The fund has a goal of $2,000,000 of which $504,000 has been raised to date.

The campaign was started in 1951 and will run until 1966, to make the period an era of building for the second century as was the 1851-1866 period an era of building for Hope's first century.

The title "cashier" originally meant "person in charge of the money box" from the early meaning of "cash" — "box".

Urges Overhaul in 2 Services

Committee Tells Army It Needs Revision in Supply, Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army was told today it needs two new major commands and a thorough overhaul of its supply and training systems to meet the long pull tests of peace, half-war or another world conflict.

A committee composed of four businessmen and one general also called for strengthening the authority of the secretary of the Army and protecting it against absorption by the secretary of defense and his staff.

Reporting to Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, the committee aimed its strongest criticisms at the Army's supply system and technical services. It characterized their direction as sometimes "confusing" and their authority as often "diluted" to such point that these services would be inadequate in the event of another full-scale mobilization.

The report specifically called for creation of a third assistant secretary of the Army, for financial management, a second vice chief of staff, for supply, and establishment of a continental Army command and a supply command.

The committee also sought to restore and clarify some of the Army secretary's authority under the unified Defense Department. The report said the Army secretary should:

1. Take an active part in formulation of the secretary of defense of policies guiding the Army.
2. Regularly attend meetings of the National Security Council, the top executive group on national policy, as an observer.

3. Not have his authority "diluted by the intervention" of assistant defense secretaries or "diminished by contradictory" authority running from the Defense Department to the Army secretary's inferiors.

The report advocated defining the Army chief of staff's role as "operating manager" for the Army, "fully accountable to the Army secretary."

Red Tape No Bother to Ex-Wac Going Overseas

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Many a serviceman's wife has been dismayed by the number of forms and papers to be filled out prior to joining her husband overseas. But not Mrs. Buford Hollins.

"You have to fill out about 20 forms for passports, transportation, shipping of household goods and other details," she said, "but it's an old story for me. I had no trouble."

Mrs. Hollins was a WAC for five years during World War II and spent most of her time in the Pentagon. She and her two daughters, Linda, 5, and Arlene, 1, leave Thursday to join Sgt. 1C Hollins in Germany.

Wheelchair, Plane Gets Babs to Florida

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Porfirio Rubirosa—she's better known as Barbara Hutton, the heiress—were in this Florida resort city today for a belated honeymoon.

They made the trip from New York yesterday in a chartered 88-passenger Constellation, a wheelchair and a limousine.

The bride of two weeks hobbled off the plane wearing a smart black outfit, a string of pearls and a cast on her left ankle. She broke the ankle after her wedding Dec. 30 and that forced them to delay their trip South.

Babs used her wheelchair to get from the plane to a waiting auto for the drive to Casa del Sur, home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfredo Cernadas. They will be guests there until they continue to the Dominican Republic.

Rubirosa, a Dominican diplomat, said they plan to stay here about five or six weeks.

Man Goes to Denmark for Anniversary Party

LUDINGTON (AP) — Ernest Bach intends to help his parents celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary, but he has had to close his bakery here for a month to do it. His parents live in Koring, Denmark, Bach is en route there.

Laughlin, Charleston, S. C., Legion of Merit; Secretary Anderson; M. Sgt. John T. Cain, Birmingham, Ala., letter of commendation with medal pendant; Maj. Walter R. Harris, Glen Ridge, N. J., Legion of Merit, and Capt. John P. Flynn Jr., Caloma, S. D., Navy-Marines Corps Medal.

Political Pretties in Western State

California's Top Men Can Brag of Beautiful Daughters

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — California's top politicians are proud fathers of some of the prettiest girls you'd ever want to meet.

Eight (count 'em) lovely young things have graced the capitol in recent months.

First there were the three well-known daughters of former Gov. Earl Warren, now chief justice of the United States, and one not so well-known, but equally lovely daughter-in-law, Virginia, Dorothy and Nina (Honeybear) Warren have been photographed by virtually every national magazine with a yen for a big smile and a little cheesecake.

And a new addition to the Warren family is Patty Kent Warren, dark-eyed bride of Earl Warren Jr.

Now the new hierarchy, Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, a widower, brings into office with him two of Southern California's fairest.

There's Marilyn Knight, who actually is Mrs. Robert A. Eaton, wife of a Los Angeles attorney, now a secretary to the governor. Mrs. Eaton is official hostess for the governor.

Carolyn Knight is a silver-blond 20-year-old University of Southern California student.

She admits she and her father often disagree politically and the day after her father was elected Carolyn said she had not decided whether she was a Republican or Democrat.

"My father encourages me to be an independent thinker," she said. Carolyn is a student of comparative religion, a skilled horsewoman, and has sold articles to leading magazines. When invited to participate in recent public ceremonies at Red Bluff, she told her father: "You go ahead and be governor, dad, I'm too busy."

In the far northeastern part of the state in Modoc county lives Jane Powers, 46, blonde, blue-eyed daughter of Lt. Gov. Harold J. Powers.

Jane is Surprise Valley High School yell leader, a natural horsewoman, and likes to swim, ski and ice skate. She was learning to fly when her cautious father put a stop to the lessons.

Betty Powers, the lieutenant governor's daughter-in-law, a slim brunette with brown eyes, is a graduate of the University of Vermont.

She and Jack Powers, now an Air Force staff sergeant, were married last July.

In contrast to Carolyn Knight's political indecision, Betty is solidly Republican. There isn't any other party in Vermont, she says.

That's California's feminine political lineup. And watch the photographers reach for flash bulbs when these girls go campaigning with their respective fathers.

Ticket Laggard Driver

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A cabin crane driver got a ticket yesterday for going 15 miles an hour on an expressway—where the minimum speed is 40.

Embezzlements Caused Mostly by High Living

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — It's not the high cost of living that causes bank embezzlements. It's the cost of high living.

That's the explanation of a Washington, D. C., certified public accountant, who said last night 110 banks in 34 states had been forced to close during the last 20 years because of embezzlements.

Lester A. Pratt told the Central New York Conference, National Assn. of Bankers and Auditors: "Desire takes on many forms, but for the most part they can be grouped under the heading of 'slow horses and fast women.'"

Report Sgt. Dick Contino Returning From Korea

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sgt. Richard J. Contino, 34, a week ago returned in civilian life who entered the Army after a prison term for draft evasion, will return from Korea next Tuesday aboard the transport General Gordon.

And he will soon be back in civilian life and the show business, his family said in Pasadena. The 23-year-old Contino is one of 375 Army troops and 324 Marines coming back on the Gordon. Fellow soldiers in Korea said they found him a "regular guy."

Chief Pontiac Legion Post Buys Lake Oakland Home

Chief Pontiac Post 377 of the American Legion has purchased the 80-acre McMahon estate at Lake Oakland, and will enlarge and renovate the house there for a post home, according to Merlin J. Best, commander.

Consideration for the property was $45,000 and the sale was handled through Roy Annett, Inc. Pontiac realtors.

This property consists of 80 acres of wooded land, a nine room home with marble tiled floors throughout, a three car garage with caretakers quarters and one thousand foot frontage on Lake Oakland.

The Chief Pontiac Post is one of the largest posts in the Eighteenth district, according to Best.

Future plans for the new post home will include a bathing beach, picnic park, boat landing and sport area for American Legion members and their families.

Plans are being made for a large banquet hall, with bath

207 Dog Licenses Sold Here Since Jan. 1

Some 207 dog licenses for 1934 have been sold to Pontiac residents since Jan. 1, compared with 250 at this time last year, according to City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

Licenses sell for $2 until May 15 and then are $3 for the balance of the year, said Mrs. Evans.

To Be Arraigned Feb. 1

Religious Belief Dooms Infant

Baby Dies as Parents Refuse to Allow Blood Be Given Him

CHICAGO (U)—An 8-day-old boy died early today, several hours after his young parents had refused on religious grounds to permit doctors to give him a blood transfusion.

The parents had been summoned into Family Court today on a petition to declare them unfit parents and make their infant a ward of the court.

Come, Talk Up! Who's Getting Red Measles?

HENDERSON, Ky. (U)—Anybody got a case of red measles they'll share with Shirley Ann Thurmond? The 2½-year-old girl is suffering with nephrosis, a kidney disease, and her doctor thinks measles would help combat the more serious malady.

But Henderson County doesn't have a single case of red measles in the infectious stage. The child would have to be exposed to a case during the incubation period.

Her father, Eugene Thurmond, said: "We would take her any place if we could find a case in the right stage."

Did you ever stop to think . . .

How much is a home really worth?

WHAT IS A HOME WORTH? That's something worth knowing, isn't it? And the answer depends on what you get when you buy. Consider, for a moment . . .

How much is happiness worth? It comes with your own home. And what value do you place on security? It's part of the package—insurance against financial uncertainties. What's it worth to have your children play with noisy toys on a rainy day—without fear of complaints from the folks downstairs? What's it worth to have the permanent assurance of a roof overhead, to know that no matter how high rents may go, your mortgage payments won't increase?

When you buy a home today you pay for the house and the land and the improvements—and you get the rest as a bonus. It adds up to a pretty big bargain. Today's home is the best buy available in the last 20 years. It would have cost your grandfather a million dollars to build it—if it could have been built at all. It offers features, conveniences and luxuries that past generations never heard of. (See details on right.)

Don't let the bargain get away from you. Investigate the large selection of listings in the Classified and Real Estate sections of this newspaper. There, leading home builders proudly list their most recent achievements. Consult this reliable directory today.

The Daily Classified Pages and the Saturday Builders' Section of the Pontiac Press bring you a complete list of homes for sale in Pontiac and Oakland County.

Brokers—Realtors—Builders All List Their Offerings in

YOU'RE RIGHT, WHEN YOU BUY YOUR HOME
... BEST INVESTMENT OF ALL!

Today's home offers features never before available:

- PLASTICS have revolutionized the field of fixtures and equipment. They were unheard of two decades ago.
- METALS have come into their own: Aluminum is widely used in duct work, wiring, light fixtures, foil insulation, exterior siding, roofing, gutters, downspouts, and in nails. Copper pipe now used in plumbing has virtually replaced the old cast iron variety, permitting longer life with less chance of rusting.
- PAINTS are better, more permanent, and offer a wider selection. Research has provided relaxing color schemes to produce brighter, more spacious effects. Color harmony, inside and out, is a major factor in modern home planning.
- KITCHENS are scientifically planned to save steps for the housewife by means of practical arrangement of built-in cabinets and equipment. Refrigerators, stoves, dishwashers, garbage disposal units, washers and dryers are often installed by the builder.
- BATHROOMS are more practical. Bulky fixtures have given way to compact units. Vanity equipment or table space has appeared more and more in lavatories. The half-bath, now found in many homes, avoids traffic problems.
- HOT WATER SYSTEMS are more efficient, compact, automatic, and less expensive to operate. Ventilation-heating systems are smaller and more effective—and free from manual labor.
- HEATING SYSTEMS, in many cases, are easily adapted to refrigerated air conditioning. Forced air distributes heat evenly. Radiant panel heating has come into wide-spread use. Old-fashioned methods have disappeared.
- LIGHTING SYSTEMS are safer and simpler. Outlets are generously distributed. Fluorescent and indirect lighting are frequently used.
- WINDOWS admit more light for practical use and contribute to the design and beauty of the home. Built-in weather stripping is available to prevent air leakage. Picture windows are on the increase.
- FLOORING is more comfortable and easier for the housewife to maintain. Asphalt as well as modern plastic tile is now commonly used.
- ROOFING is less expensive and more colorful, thanks to asbestos and asphalt.
- INSULATION keeps houses warmer in winter, cooler in summer.
- DRY WALL FINISH now competes almost equally with wet wall (plaster) interiors and provides numerous additional decorative combinations. Home acoustics are better through use of sound-absorbing "noise control" fibre boards in walls and ceilings.

Mrs. McCoy Home

Mrs. Bradley C. McCoy has returned to her home on Shore View drive after being called to Miami, Fla., because of the death of her son, Maynard D. Casey, a former Pontiac resident.

A sheer wool navy daytime costume (left (center). Smooth taffeta shapes the wide cape jacket covering a guimpe dress which is belted and molded by seaming. Ceil Chapman uses waves of tiny ripples which deepen toward the hemline to create fullness afternoon suit highlighted with a flat band collar of black silk velvet (right).

Gently Draped Turban Skirt Is the Rentner Favorite

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Pontiac Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK — Fashions previewed Wednesday in the showrooms of top designers brought gasps of delight from fashion editors who, after sitting through dozens of shows, felt that nothing new could be added.

Ceil Chapman's ice cream evening sheath dress was acclaimed by members of the foreign press who also are here through the courtesy of the Mrs. Clemence Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute.

The gown is a creamy creation of pink satin with a delicate topping of lace applique and jewels.

Miss Chapman's daytime version of the same silhouette she calls the Arrow Sheath. This is straight as an arrow with the up-lifted bosom and straight shoulder line.

The new version of the Chapman Skylark silhouette, used in many of her cocktail and short evening dresses of peau de soie or silk faille, is cut-in-one into a full skirt. The front is straight, but there is definite width at each side with an inverted pleat flaring at the center back.

For gay evenings Ceil Chapman

has created the canape jacket to be worn over bare-topped dresses. These boleros, are elaborately decorated with beads and jewels to add to the festive mood.

The turban skirt, gently draped was a favorite of the Maurice Rentner collection. Soft drapes (used either at the waist or about the hip) end in free-flowing sashes or crushed bows.

The unbroken tailored lines of the Rentner collection of suits are emphasized by softly draped material, cummerbunds, kerchiefs and flowers, all which point up their femininity.

The beautiful lady look is the focal point of Jo Copeland's collection. Focusing attention on the face, Miss Copeland uses white starched linen collars and pique bows as well as filmy white chiffon blouses to emphasize this important look.

To take a jumper dress out of the sports class, this designer uses a white chiffon blouse to make it an elegant afternoon dress.

Miss Copeland does not believe in any set rule on the length of her clothes, but she does say that they are about one inch higher than last year's. Some of her models were wearing dresses 16 inches from the floor while others wore theirs only 14 inches above the floor.

A new note in sleeves highlighted Ben Reig's showing held at the salon on Seventh avenue. The diminished sleeves used on both suits and dresses are something new for spring. These sleeves, which barely cover the shoulder, are appealing on a fitted navy corded worsted suit.

Smooth, molded lines are outstanding in the spring designs of Joseph Halpert and Jacques Fath. The manifold silhouette and the crown-darted waistline are their contributions to spring of 1954. Fath's magic scissors and the sculptor's touch with drapery, combined with the fit that has made Joseph Halpert famous, now bring the two new expressions to the lithe, yet curved figure.

The manifold silhouette folds the fabric diagonally forming a bodice, shaping a neckline or giving skirt fullness without being obvious.

Crown darts, cut in a neat parallel row to circle the waist, give the Halpert suit jackets unique new shape, and the dresses a long, slim slenderness, usually flaring out below the hips.

Adele Simpson has dedicated many of her new colors in the spring collection to the world traveler and the vacationist. You will be hearing of "Hialeah," inspired by the pink flamingos; "Vegas" for Nevada's playtown; "Bahamas" for the island of scenic beauty, and many others.

The miracle shape in the suits, coats, dresses and sheaths needs practically no assistance from nature. Their superb lines heighten the waist and smooth down the hips. The cut is in both slim skirts and the new "freedom" skirts.

Exercises Help Keep Muscles in Waist Tight

Has holiday eating done unpleasant things to your waistline? It's best to do something about it right away before you grow accustomed to the expanded girth.

Since you have no bones in the midsection, you should keep up your guard against bulges. Why not make a couple of exercises part of your daily routine after you have brought your measurements back to order?

Here are several that will help tighten the muscles of both the waist and abdomen:

1. Gently knead skin in this area until it is pink. Do this several times each day.

2. Stretch whenever you can—when lying in bed sitting and standing. With arms over head, clasp wrist of one hand with fingers of other and stretch up out of waistline. Pull hard. Relax. Repeat often throughout day.

3. Stretch and pull hard on exercise bar. After about a week try pulling one knee up to chest; then the other. Later pull knees up together.

4. Lying on back with arms spread wide at sides, bend knees up to chest; keep shoulders and arms touching floor. Slowly straighten legs toward the right. Repeat, straightening legs toward left. Increase pace gradually.

Long Hair OK

Short hair is not a must for every woman. If your face is large, if you are quite tall or if your hairline is poor in the back, wear your hair covering your neck.

At First Assembly of God

Mary Mehlberg Repeats Her Vows With Ira Gates

Chantilly-type lace over white satin fashioned with an illusion neckline and tiny Peter Pan collar was worn by Mary JoAnne Mehlberg Saturday evening when she became the bride of Ira Gates. Briliants ornamented the bodice of her gown and a tiara of seed pearls held her fingertip veil. She carried a chapel bouquet of white carnations and roses.

Mary JoAnne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mehlberg of Auburn Heights, and Ira is the son of Mrs. Mabel Gates of North Telegraph road.

The Rev. Wesley Wibley of First Assembly of God Church performed the ceremony in his church assisted by the Rev. Eldon Cummings of Free Methodist Church.

Mrs. Maxine Spohn was matron of honor. Eulalia Valentine and Gladys Curvin were bridesmaids. The bride's niece, Sandra Mehlberg, was flower girl.

Harold Moore was Ira's best man, and seating the guests were Dick Bartley and Cecil Dodd. A reception was held at the YWCA.

The bride later changed to an aqua knitt dress with black accessories and pink roses from her bridal bouquet for the wedding trip. On their return they will reside on North Telegraph road.

Enjoying a few quiet minutes at home in a busy schedule of seeing old friends are Mrs. Scott Kemper of Sacramento, Calif., and her daughter, Kristie. They are visiting Mrs. Kemper's parents, the W. H. Lewises of North Avery road.

Dirt Gardeners Hear Lecture on Horticulture

Carl Bailey, horticultural consultant for Oakland County, spoke on hormone horticulture Tuesday before members of Dirt Gardeners Club at the home of Mrs. Carl V. Healey on Edmore drive, Drayton Plains.

Mr. Bailey, who used slides on the culture of fruits and vegetables, followed his lecture with a question and answer period.

Mrs. Elray E. Thomas reported on the conservation scholarship sponsored by the club. Mrs. Harlan Owens and Mrs. Vivian Tubbs assisted the hostess.

John Hood of Michigan State College will be guest speaker on Husband's Night, scheduled for Feb. 9 at the CAI Building in Waterford. Various garden clubs of the surrounding area will be guests.

Committee members in charge of the event include Mrs. Ralph Brackett, Mrs. C. W. Furler, Mrs. Donald C. Gilchrist, Mrs. George Lassley and Mrs. Tubbs.

Your Foundation Need Not Be Torture Method

The most neglected items in many women's wardrobes are their foundation garments.

Yet, when chosen with care and cared for, they will return excellent service. They will be comfortable as they work wonders with your figure.

Look to yourself if your garments do not wear well and feel like torture chambers. Do you take time to be properly fitted? Do you buy two at a time so that frequent rests and sudgings can prolong their lives?

And have you found a conscientious corsetier whose advice you can rely on? She can help you to make the right selection, provided you allow her sufficient time to do her job.

For example, when trying on a girdle one should walk in it and sit in it to determine the fit. Bend over to see whether it pulls in too much at the waistline.

Nausea is not the price to pay for waist-trimming.

You will find that you will get most satisfaction if you build up a foundation wardrobe. This might consist of two sturdy girdles or all-in-one's for every day, one or two lighter ones for sports and a more fragile garment for dress wear. And before making your purchase, try your clothes on over the new undergarments. This is especially helpful when you are undecided about several garments. How you look fully clad is the final criterion.

Remove Egg Stains

Egg stains usually can be removed by scraping off the excess, soaking the soiled part in cold water, then washing in warm soapsuds.

Powder Puff Buffers

Worn-out powder puffs make handy buffers for cleaning and polishing silverware. They won't scratch the delicate metal.

Birmingham Junior League Launches Active Year of Community Services

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — An active year is beginning for the Junior League of Birmingham, Inc., which also includes members living in Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. George R. Squibb and Mrs. Rudolph Eberstadt left Wednesday morning to attend a two-day convention of several Junior League chapters in Columbus, Ohio, and here members are working on the Jan. 27 visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile at the Community House, sponsored by the league.

Mrs. Edward H. Lerchen is heading the workers who will contact blood donors and act as receptionists and nurse's aides on that day. They will also be available to assist in transportation.

A reserved parking space has been arranged for by league members and there will be a day nursery to take care of children that cannot be left at home. Hours are 2 to 5 in the afternoon and 6 to 8 in the evening.

Assisting Mrs. Lerchen are Mrs. Squibb and Mrs. Eberstadt, Mrs. Morgan D. Douglas Jr., Mrs. William Douglas, Mrs. Robert H. Taylor, Mrs. Edward Heller Jr., Mrs. Travis S. Hubbard, Mrs. D. Pieron Smith, Mrs. John K. Bagby, Mrs. John Finnegan, Mrs. Richard Wallace and Mrs. Robert Craig.

Tuesday, the membership of the Junior League of Birmingham will divide into groups of 20 and meet in 12 different homes to discuss projects and activities.

Mrs. John Fauver has announced the following hostesses: Mrs. John L. Lovett Jr., Mrs. Bagby, Mrs. Robert Groves, Mrs. Richard C. Kern, Mrs. John Adamson, Mrs. Richard Staelin, Mrs. Paul McKenney, Mrs. John K. Stevenson, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. C. E. Wilson Jr., Mrs. R. Jamison Williams and Mrs. Theodore Guething.

For its winter dinner-dance at the Cranbrook Pavilion Jan. 23, St. Dunstan Guild will create a true Moulin Rouge theme in decorations and appointments.

Real French flags loaned by the consulate in Detroit will float from the walls, red checked tablecloths will deck the small tables where candles in wine bottles will furnish the only light, and the orchestra will don striped tee shirts and berets.

Mrs. Maynard Andreae is chairman of the formal dance, French cabaret-style, and has as her assistants Mrs. Westau Wright, Mrs. Tempila Licklider, Mrs. Dietrich Kohlsaat and Jack Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wainwright Muzzy of Anderson, S. C., formerly of Bloomfield Hills, announce the birth of a son, Gray Howard, Jan. 7. Mrs. Muzzy is the former Robin Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gillette of Wing Lake road will leave Friday to spend the weekend in Lake Forest, Ill., with Mrs. H. J. Douglas.

Stepmother Not Certain About Reply

Should She Count Hubby's Children With Her Own?

By EMILY POST

An unusual question is asked by the writer of the following letter: "Four years ago I married a widower with three small children. They have always called me 'Mom' and refer to me as their mother. We have had two children of our own in the meantime.

"Here is my problem: When I am asked by strangers or acquaintances how many children I have, what is the correct reply to make?"

"To say 'five does not seem quite right to me as they are not really all my children, and to say that I have two children would ignore them completely, which I certainly don't want to do. Have you any suggestions?"

Answer: "Simply say, 'We have five altogether; Dick's three and our two little ones.'"

Dear Mrs. Post: Since my father is not living, my only brother will give me away. However, my fiancé also would like to have him as one of his ushers.

Would it be proper for him to serve in both capacities? He is quite willing if this arrangement has your approval.

Answer: This suggestion is entirely practical. He can perfectly well usher the guests until the bride arrives, and then instead of walking in the procession with the ushers, he walks up the aisle with the bride. In the recessional he can walk with the ushers.

Dear Mrs. Post: My grandson is going to be married soon and I am going to give a tea for his fiancée who is a stranger in this town. As my apartment is very small, I am going to have the tea at my daughter-in-law's house.

I would like to know who stands in the receiving line. Should my daughter-in-law be asked to receive as the tea is in her house?

Answer: You, as temporary hostess, stand at the entrance and greet the guests, and your grandson's fiancée stands next to you.

Your daughter-in-law would mingle with the guests and make herself generally agreeable — even though it is her house which she has lent to you.

Thrifty homemakers mend broken china tape is removed when the cement hardens.

They Need Extra Care in Washing

Tedious Process Will Mend Dishes Successfully

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Caring for fine old china is a pleasurable sort of worry for homemakers who prize the beauty of old-time imports, the nostalgia of grandma's hand-painted plates and the rarity of cups from a long-outdated pattern.

You want to use your treasures occasionally for appreciative company. But there's always the fret that an accident is going to happen.

Sensible precautions and first-aid repair work will help to keep your fine china in the family.

One of the biggest hazards is careless washing. I nicked the spout of a pretty old pitcher just by forgetting to swing the overhead faucet out of the way.

Old china should be washed by hand promptly after use. Never let it stand "as is" overnight.

On occasions when I use a large, fine, old platter or hand-painted salad plates, I take the time to line the sink with a folded dish towel to reduce the danger of chipping the edges.

It's not a bad idea to wash, rinse, dry and put away the especially valuable pieces before you tackle the rest of the dishes.

If you're washing bulky or odd-sized pieces, cushion the drain-board with folded towels. Avoid sudden changes of water temperature. Pulling a dish from tepid water and scalding it with boiling water can cause surface cracks.

Such a simple precaution as separating stacked plates with paper napkins, flannel or blotting paper guards against scratches on delicate painted decorations.

I never had any luck mending broken china until I tried one special procedure. It's still a tedious job, but the plates didn't come apart.

First, wash up the broken pieces in mild suds and let them dry a day in a warm room away from moisture.

Next, assemble broken pieces and apply household cement to edges. Fit pieces together and press tightly, holding them in place for a minute. Don't slide or rub broken edges together.

Gently remove excess cement with razor blade. Plaster the mended line with clear tape, using it generously on both sides of mend. Cement and tape until all the pieces are joined and held rigidly.

Let this stand for a day or two until the cement is completely hardened. Then scrape off the tape with a razor blade.

Mended china will give years of service, but you shouldn't let it soak or remain damp for any length of time.

IF patrician type—

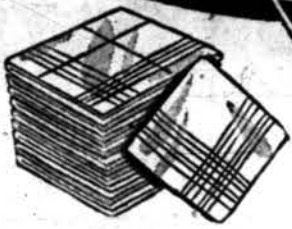

Stress discreet elegance even in your play clothes. Round-contoured and feminine rather than boyish or whimsical suits you.

Miss P. T.—There is a gamut of palest pastels, "pink and pretty" for casual wear. Nothing stiff or rigid. The use of softer fabrics favors the feminine, in contrast to sexy, dressed-up, billowy clothes of past seasons.

give your ideas away, the more people are apt to pay you for additional ideas.

In other words, they may steal an occasional golden egg, but invariably they end up hiring the goose.

People who open their own businesses often make this mistake, too. In an effort to get you to pay for their wares or services, they won't give you any advice, or any help whatever.

We all know beauty shops, for instance, who get furious if you don't go to them once a week, like clockwork, to have your hair washed and set.

If your budget is such that you can only go when you need a permanent or a new cut, you are made to feel like a real cad.

"Modom has been doing her own hair," the man sneers, and instead of shaming you into going to him every week, you sink out and never return.

But once in a while you come upon a hairdresser who is an exception. Victor Vito is such a man. He has written a book called, surprisingly enough, "Be Your Own Hair Stylist."

In it, he gives clear and simple instructions for styling your own hair.

"Good hair fashion," he says, "should be within the reach of all. It should not be the monopoly of the girl who lives in a large city."

It should be made available to all the girls and women who understand and appreciate beauty, smartness and "charm," however small and remote the community they live in. . . . In the following pages, the busiest office worker, student or mother can find a hairdo to suit her way of life, her wardrobe, and her daily activities."

Does this rash move keep customers from ever going to this man's salon in New York? It does not!

It simply proves that whether you own your own business, or have a clerical job, or are a busy mother—if you want more gravy, start giving out more help!

Girl's Disposition Depends on Beau's Fickle Moods

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD
"Dear Miss Woodward: The boy I'm going with can be so sweet. But there are almost too many moments when he's inconsiderate and fault-finding. We seem to spend a lot of our time squabbling, falling out they making up.
"This up and down business is rough on my marks at school. He has me either up in the clouds or down in the dumps — with me thinking about him all of the time! If you were in my shoes would you put your whole mind on somebody else?"

When you have a man on your mind you apparently haven't room for anything else in it. He occupies every nook and cranny. And, of course, that's rugged on the schoolwork — and equally tough on your friendships with the girls and your attitude at home. You're traipsing around all lopsided. And for what?

With you it's "oops, my dear, here we go again!" Up one minute, down the next. Glowing with good cheer one day, hollow-eyed with deepest woe the next.

I'd take his sweet moments as delicious surprises. And I wouldn't let his low ones get me down. I'd tell myself something's eating him; maybe he doesn't eat too hearty; maybe something's bothering him; maybe something I've done.

And I'd say to myself that he doesn't really mean it — he couldn't. And I'd philosophically talk myself into putting my mind off him entirely and onto something that wouldn't give me the blues. All of that is what I'd do if I were in your shoes.

Switching to another boy might really be going from bad to worse. At least you know this boy well. You know which of his moods and attitudes not to think about with even a corner of your cranium.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've liked him for more than six months, and though we have never had any dates he has walked me home from the game when it would have been easier for him to go straight home with the other boys he was with.

"Afterward he acts as though I weren't around. Some of the girls have told me that he likes me, but how can I find out for sure? He acts so indifferent."

And how would the girls know for sure, I'd like to know? What they heard seems to bear slight resemblance to the truth — since his indifference is so obvious. Walking you home from the game must have seemed to him like an agreeable idea at the time — but it's not much to go on.

His general attitude would indicate that he's only giving you part of his mind and a brief moment of his time.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Mama and Dog Conspired to Terminate Angie's Visit

Members of her family have named their favorite weekend guest the "dump man," reports my friend Gladys Taber who lives in the country and writes charming books about such subjects as reading poetry before open applewood fires, digging in an old-fashioned garden and barbecuing enormous hot dogs in the white moonlight.

"First thing our dump man does after arrival," recounts Gladys happily, "is trot off to the dump with all the old tin cans and papers we've been gathering against the day of his coming. He looks so pleased that we're actually proud we can offer him such fine diversion."

All of Gladys' ideas about guests are interesting. In a year she has many kinds and ages.

"I love the ones who leave the bedding folded up on the last day," she ticks them off. "I hate the ones who neatly make the bed which I just have to rip to bits after they've gone."

"A great favorite is the woman who comes into the kitchen and asks matter-of-factly, 'Shall I take over the salad while I'm here?' and then does it. I loathe the malingersers who stand in the doorway while I work and ask — saccharinely, 'Now what can I do to help?'"

"I like guests who read aloud to me, who let the dogs in and out of the house, who change the records on the phonograph, and almost any visitor who doesn't act as if he could improve everything I have in my home."

The very day after Gladys Taber and I discussed guests, worthy and unworthy, I got a note from Silver Springs, Md., signed "W." Without preamble, it asked bluntly: "Is there any polite way to let guests know that it is time for them to leave?"

First I thought I'd tell W. about a cartoon I saw that showed a host remarking to his wife: "Well, dear, I guess we'd better go to bed so these people can start home and get some sleep."

Then I decided to relate the story of Cousin Angie and how Mama got rid of her.

Cousin Angie was very fond of Mama's fried chicken and chocolate cake, but one year when she came from her city home for her annual visit to us on the farm, there was a new baby and Mama had no time to fix company food. Then, after Angie had been there about a week, our dog Carlo carried to Mama a half-finished letter to her mother that Angie had left on the front porch. In it she complained to her mother that the McBrides hadn't put a decent meal on the table since she'd been there.

Mama cooked hard all that afternoon and for supper we had doubles in everything — baked ham and fried chicken, hot rolls and hot biscuits, coconut cake and chocolate cake.

They were all Angie's favorite things, but she hardly ate a bit. You see, Mama had very quietly handed her the unfinished letter just before she called us to the table.

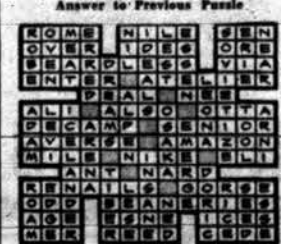

Cousin Angie left the next morning, W. Have I helped you?

Buffalo Claims First Motorized Mail Service

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—This city was the first to use mechanized postal service, according to local newspapers dated July 2, 1899.

"The first attempt to collect mail from an automobile was made in Buffalo, Sunday evening July 2," the paper stated, "when Dr. Truman J. Martin, promoter of the Buffalo Electric Vehicle Transportation Co., took Supt. John D. Leib of the city delivery system around in his carriage to collect the mail from a long route of street letter boxes."

What a Dog's Life

DELANO, Calif. (UP)—The dogs of this Kern County town have all but lost their self-respect. First they were subjected to a 90-day quarantine, and now it has been revealed there exists a city ordinance that prohibits them from being on the streets unless they are accompanied by people.

The Dutch first brought tea to Europe in 1610.

Boomerang Has Modern Touch

Australian Natives Use Mass Production for Stone-Age Weapons

SYDNEY, Australia (UP)—Stone age native craftsmanship has given way to modern machinery in production of the boomerang, and other native weapons at La Perouse Aboriginal Settlement.

Mass production methods became necessary to cope with the huge volume of orders for aboriginal souvenirs for tourists during the tour by Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

But the authentic touch is still with the goods because the aborigines use stone-age methods to burn designs on the boomerangs, nulla-nulas and shields.

In his natural state, the Australian aborigine does not till the field for crops, wears no clothes at all and obtains his food from hunting and wild vegetable growth.

The aborigines at La Perouse do not live in this "back to nature" state but reside in the government-backed settlement in a peaceful communal life.

Eight of the 176 men at the settlement are now working full time making souvenirs. The experts are polishing and whittling up to 18 hours a day to meet orders for boomerangs.

The boomerangs are sold to city stores and overseas agents for between eight shillings (90 cents) and £3 ($7). Several of the aborigines often earn as much as £25 ($56) a week.

Two electric fretwork saws and polishing machines have tripled output for the souvenir-makers. Mulga, mango and sallywattle wood is used.

One aboriginal, Bob Sims, 43, is making nine special boomerangs for the 1956 Olympic games in Melbourne. He has been officially asked to give an exhibition in boomerang throwing at the games, and intends to use the nine special weapons.

A usual boomerang is a curved, angular club that can be thrown in such a way that it curves around and returns to the thrower, but the war boomerang, used in tribal wars or for hunting birds, does not return. It is only a throwing club.

A nulla-nulla is a hardwood club with pointed head. It is approximately a yard long and has a comparatively thin handle. It is both a war and hunting weapon.

A Course in Yo-Yo

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UP)—Teachers at Jefferson High School couldn't understand why so many students suddenly began arriving late for class—until they looked outside the school building. Students were getting between-class instruction from a novelty salesman on manipulation of the yo-yo.

No Chance for Bobcat

OTIS, Mass. (UP)—George Barton, who is 81 years old, has bagged 250 bobcats in his lifetime. After trapping six bobcats in one month, Barton said he's thinking of slowing down a bit. When he isn't trapping or guiding, Barton spends his "spare" time holding down three jobs.

Pancakes of Fizz Water Fail to Flip Themselves

SCHROON LAKE, N. Y. (UP)—Two hunters have a tip for the cook who is out of milk.

Luke Pangburn and Chuck Kodesch of Yates Village found they had neither milk nor pure water when they started breakfast pancakes on a recent trip.

Loaded Jet for UF

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP)—As their contribution to the city's United Fund campaign, Naval Air Station sailors constructed a model Cougar jet, stuffed it with 44 $1,000 bills, and flew it into the headquarters of the fund drive at the George Washington Hotel.

Chilly Days Call for Hearty Soups

Spanish Sauce Adds to Chops

Canned tomatoes were the first vegetable to be canned commercially in America. Their debut came more than 100 years ago—in 1847, to be exact—and they have been winning friends ever since.

Tomatoes for canning have been specially developed by the nation's leading seedsmen. They are picked red ripe and rushed to the cannery where they go into the can with a bit of salt for seasoning.

All liquid in a can of tomatoes is the natural tomato juice.

Pork Chops With Spanish Tomato Sauce

6 pork chops
1 medium onion, sliced
1 cup diced celery
1 cup diced green pepper
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
1 bay leaf
2 cups hot cooked rice

Sprinkle chops with salt, pepper and paprika; brown pork chops well on both sides in skillet. Remove chops; add onion, celery and green pepper and cook, until tender, but not brown. Add tomatoes, salt, sugar, Tabasco and bay leaf; place pork chops on top. Cover tightly; simmer 45 minutes. Serve with hot rice.

Yield 6 servings.

Diet Cooking Eased by Broiled Potatoes

Here's a recipe designed for those who diet. This reducer's recipe can easily be changed to meet food requirements of non-dieters in the family. The cook is saved the bother of separate preparations for the reducer.

Diet Broiled Potatoes

1 medium potato per serving
About 100 calories

Select enough potatoes for the entire family. (Dieters should have only one but others may prefer one and a half or two.... potatoes are so good broiled this way.)

Wash, pare and cut in slices one half inch thick. Spread out the reducer's sliced potato on one section of the broiler rack so that it can be easily identified. (If you follow a rigid routine, count the pieces to be sure.)

For non-reducers—generously brush slices of potato with butter and sprinkle with salt before placing in the broiling pan.

Place the pan containing every one's potatoes under the broiler, about 3 or 4 inches from the flame or heating unit. Cook 10 minutes. Turn all slices of potato over and cook 10 minutes on the other side.

Old Vegetables Often Are Low in Food Value

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP)—Cooking vegetables so they look and taste good is as important as cooking them to preserve their food value, says Eleanor Williams, Cornell University nutritionist.

"Vegetables should look and taste so good the whole family will enjoy them," she said.

Perishable vegetables are at their peak in both flavor and nutritive value when freshly picked.

If you must buy vegetables at the market, she advised, "when-ever possible, choose those which are kept under refrigeration or on ice, and beware of vegetables that are marked down."

"When they are bruised, wilted, or overripe, they frequently are low in food value."

Fresh vegetables should be washed, wrapped in waxed paper or put in covered containers for refrigerator storage. Carrot and beet tops draw some of the nutrients out of the vegetables and should be trimmed off immediately, she said.

Except for those with strong flavor, and some green ones, vegetables should be cooked in a tightly covered kettle with as little water as possible.

She suggested saving any left-over cooking water for soup stocks and gravies to get full food value.

Honey, Lemon Juice Flavor Yam Dish

Honey Yams

4 medium-size fresh yams (cooked)
1/2 cup honey
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon butter or margarine (melted)

Peel yams and cut into cross-wise slices 1/4-inch thick; place in a greased 1-quart casserole. Combine remaining ingredients; mix well and pour over yams. Bake in oven 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Cornflakes Are Starter

Set out bowls of pre-sweetened cornflakes ringed with sliced bananas, and a pitcher of milk. That will give you a chance to bake the griddle cakes and cook the bacon while the family eats the cereal. (Don't forget to eat yours!) Add coffee, of course, and a hot milk drink. Gay table settings help.

PRETZEL CLAM BISQUE—The Pennsylvania Dutch name for this smacking good soup is Pretzel Supp Mitt Clams. Like all food from that region, this soup is hearty and delicious. Serve it from your chafing dish and garnish with pretzels.

Minced Clams Tasty in Bisque

Pretzels Broken Over the Top Make Delicious 'Bretzel Supp'

Cold weather calls for soup. Soup looks wonderful in a chafing dish and clams make excellent soup.

You may buy clams in cans now, so why not make Pretzel Supp Mitt Clams for dinner tonight? Make it even if you don't have a chafing dish; keep it hot on a low flame.

Pretzel Clam Bisque

1 7-ounce can minced clams and liquor
2 cups clam broth
2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon ground thyme leaves
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 tablespoons dried parsley flakes
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup cream
Paprika
12 large pretzels

Drain clams. Place liquor in saucepan. Add broth, milk, thyme, salt, garlic salt, black pepper, onion and parsley. Simmer very gently for 5 minutes. Do not allow to come to a full boil. Melt 2 tablespoons of the butter or margarine in saucepan. Stir in flour.

Remove from heat and gradually stir in 1 cup of the milk mixture. Add remaining milk mixture, heat and stir until slightly thickened.

Add minced clams, cream and remaining butter. Heat thoroughly and serve sprinkled with paprika. Crumble pretzels over soup when serving. Makes 6 servings.

Sandwiches Get Blah; Why Not Try Some Rolls?

Pontiac Press Food Editor

How's the lunch box situation at your house? Last fall when the children started back to school, we tried to give you some help on planning good meals to carry in the lunch box.

Now it's winter time. Perhaps the thrill of eating lunch at school has worn off; no doubt you, as the daily lunch fixer, are tired of the eternal sandwiches. Let's see what we can find to help you.

Are you using all the different kinds of bread available to get some variety in the sandwiches?

Just to refresh your memory, here are some of the kinds you can use: hamburger rolls, frankfurter rolls, hard rolls, cinnamon nut, Boston Brown, raisin, pumpernickel, Swedish rye, party rye, poppy seed, and salt rising.

How about the sandwich fillings? Try this one for the grade-school

Pineapple Peps Dutch Chicken

Pineapple Dutch Chicken, combining chicken with fruit in a casserole, makes a dish with all the glories of far-off islands. We suggest that you brown your chicken beforehand, and then you can put Pineapple Dutch Chicken on the table in just 30 minutes time.

Salt and pepper

1 No. 2 can pineapple chunks, drained
2 apples, sliced

Frozen French Toast New Food Product

NEW YORK (INS) — Frozen French toast is the newest frozen food product a housewife can buy. The French toast, egg and all is being sold in packages of four slices each. It's made to pop into a toaster frozen. When it pops up, it's ready to serve.

The new product is the result of considerable research on the right bread, the right egg-milk mix and the right processing. Fresh bread is doused in milk, fried simultaneously on both sides, wrapped, cased and quick frozen. Estimated price on each package is about 29 set: Spread buttered bread with peanut butter and well drained pineapple.

Sweet Pickle Spread

1 cup cottage cheese
1/2 pound pickle and pimiento loaf, chopped
1/2 cup chopped sweet pickles
1 tablespoon horseradish
Combine all ingredients. Mix until well blended.

Carrot and Olive Sandwiches

1 cup finely grated carrots
1/2 cup chopped ripe olives
1 1/2 teaspoon minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Combine and mix together well. Makes enough for 6-8 sandwiches.

Remember that this is the perfect soup weather. Fill that thermos bottle with Junior's favorite soup; or chili; or spaghetti; or baked beans; or stew. If the soup is made with milk, he need not buy or take more milk.

Use Tarragon for Flavor

These are baked eggs with a difference because they're flavored with tarragon. Prepare the eggs in individual "baking" dishes and they'll be simple to serve.

Top the eggs with slices of crisp bacon. Easy way to prepare a pound of bacon at a time is by this method.

Allow the bacon to stand at room temperature so you can separate the slices. Then spread the slices out on a rack in a shallow pan. Bake in a 400 oven about 10 minutes or until well browned.

You won't have to turn the bacon and it will be pleasantly crisp. Drain on brown paper or paper towels and keep hot while you turn the oven down to 325 for the baked eggs.

Herbed Baked Eggs

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon crumbled whole tarragon
12 eggs
6 tablespoons heavy cream
6 tablespoons grated cheddar cheese
Paprika

Grease 6 individual pie plates or shirred egg dishes generously with 2 tablespoons butter. Combine crumbs and tarragon. Sprinkle inside of dishes with crumb mixture. Break two eggs into each dish, being careful not to break yolks.

Pour 1 tablespoon cream over eggs; sprinkle with cheese and paprika. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter. Bake in 325 oven about 15 minutes or until eggs are of desired doneness. Makes 6 servings.

Flaming Peach Is Spectacular

Here's your two-way miracle for a company dessert that will surprise and delight your guests. The incredible ease that goes with preparing the dessert and the beautiful results make Flaming Peaches a "must" on at least one company menu.

Zippy orange rind and juice are added to canned peaches. They are heated and brought to the table in a "heatable" dish. A cube of sugar, soaked in lemon extract, is put in each peach half—and now the fun! Turn off the lights and light the cubes. Serve the hot peaches and syrup with ice cream.

Flaming Peaches

1 No. 2 1/2 can peach halves
1 medium size orange
Cubed sugar
Lemon extract
Ice cream

Put peaches with half of the syrup in a sauce pan or top of chafing dish. Sprinkle peaches with one tablespoon grated orange rind. Add juice of the orange to the syrup and heat gently a few minutes, until heated through. Just before serving, put a cube of sugar, soaked about 10 minutes in extract, on each peach half. Light the cubes and let them burn at the table. Serve hot with ice cream. Six to eight servings.

Try Norwegian Recipe

The Norwegians have a quick but mighty tasty way of fixing shredded cabbage. Cook in a small amount of salted water, tightly covered, just until crisply tender. Drain and toss 3 cups of the cabbage with one-half cup sour cream and one-half teaspoon caraway seeds. Add a little salt and pepper and heat over hot water about 10 minutes to blend.

Red Cranberries Touch Up Muffins

Fresh, red cranberries in muffins add zip to an old standby recipe and are easy to mix up.

Mayflower Muffins

1 cup cranberries
4 tablespoons granulated sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 cups bread flour, sifted
1 whole egg, beaten
1/2 cup milk

Chop fresh cranberries and mix with half the sugar. Add baking powder, salt and remaining sugar and sift three times. Combine egg and milk and add to flour mixture alternately with sugared berries.

Turn batter into well buttered muffin tins and bake in 350 oven until tops are brown and muffins shrink from edges of tin. Serve hot with plenty of butter.

Labels Tell the Amount of Nutrition in Foods

The homemaker who gets the most value from each dollar spent for food, is the homemaker who knows something about nutrition and then applies that knowledge when she shops for food.

She reads labels and knows what they mean, and if she doesn't know she makes it her business to find out.

Take bread, for instance. A homemaker who's "in the know" makes sure that the flour and the bread she buys carries the word "enriched" on the label.

She knows that word means that thiamine, niacin, riboflavin and food iron have been added at no increase in cost. She recognizes that the "enriched" label means better nutrition for her family.

Rich Spaghetti Appetite Teaser

When you come home late from a last-minute shopping trip, it's a great comfort to know that you can still serve the family a tempting meal.

Just keep your supply shelves stocked with a few cans of spaghetti sauces, and serve a spaghetti supper.

These sauces made with either meat or mushrooms, add distinction to spaghetti and macaroni and convert them into real appetite teasers.

You'll find, too, that a spaghetti supper is a happy choice for those impromptu meals. If unexpected guests turn up when you had planned a meal of left-overs, or if the youngsters announce happily at six o'clock that they've invited some of the gang to eat with them, you can always stage a satisfying feast with a spaghetti supper served buffet style.

When you plan the menu for a buffet supper, as for any other meal, remember that besides a good balance, dietetically speaking, a tempting meal should have color appeal and contrast of texture.

With spaghetti as the mainstay, that means, for texture, something crisp—raw vegetable sticks, a tossed green salad, crisp-crusted rolls or bread sticks.

To start off the buffet supper, you might serve chicken or beef bouillon with crisp crackers and celery and radishes. After finishing the soup, guests return to the buffet table for the spaghetti, which is kept piping in a chafing dish or in a casserole over a candle warmer.

For dessert a tray of fruit is good to look at as well as to eat. Vanilla ice cream with a garnish of maraschino cherries and syrup with a little candied or preserved ginger silvered into the syrup, is easy to serve and delicious.

A fruit cake with fresh fruit cup is another easy and seasonable last course. Coffee can be served hot from the kitchen or kept hot in an electric coffee maker on the table.

Hot Yellow Shortcake!

Take a tip from dessert time for this dish. Bake corn bread in a round layer cake pan. The same as for dessert shortcake, slice the corn bread lengthwise. Place creamed ham or creamed luncheon meat between the layers and on top.

To bake potatoes in half the usual time, soak them in hot water for five minutes before placing them in the oven.

DATE NUT LOAF—This Date Nut Loaf makes mighty good eating. Serve it with a bowl of sliced bananas and puffed wheat, a pitcher of

This Date Nut Loaf Made With Cooked Wheat Cereal

Here's a yeast bread full of such good eating. Toast it for breakfast or just serve it sliced, still warm from the oven or cold, spread liberally with butter and orange marmalade. Good any time of the day.

Date Nut Loaf

1 cup whole wheat cereal uncooked
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
1 cake compressed yeast
1/2 cup lukewarm water
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/2 cup chopped dates

Cook cereal according to directions on package (should measure about 4 cups after cooking). While hot, add sugar, salt and butter. Cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water and add with flour to cereal mixture. Turn out on floured board or cloth. Knead 8 to 10 minutes, adding a bit of flour to the cloth if the dough is at all sticky. When smooth and satiny to the touch, place in greased bowl, cover with waxed paper and a towel. Set in a warm place and let rise until double in bulk.

Turn out on floured cloth and work the walnuts and dates into the dough. Cut in two pieces, shape into balls. Cover with towel and let "rest" for 10 minutes.

Then shape into loaves to fit loaf bread pans 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches. Brush tops with melted fat. Cover with waxed paper and let rise again until almost double in bulk. Bake in 375 oven about 60 minutes. Turn out. Brush tops with softened butter. Yields two loaves.

Vary Hot Gingerbread With Baked-on Topping

NEW YORK (UP) — Gingerbread served hot is a favorite wintertime dessert. For a variation, try this topping. Prepare gingerbread either with one of the ready-mixes or your own favorite recipe.

Ten minutes before the bread is baked, remove it from the oven and spread with this topping: One-fourth cup melted butter combined with one-half cup brown sugar, one-fourth cup flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon grated lemon rind and one-third cup chopped walnuts.

Bake 10 minutes longer and serve warm, with cream if desired.

Add Dried Beef Pieces for Oatmeal Surprise

A different way to enjoy cereal for breakfast is to add some small pieces of dried beef to the oatmeal while it is cooking. Omit the salt from the water. Serve as usual in a cereal bowl with milk and a square of butter instead of sugar. Start off with tomato juice with a squeeze of lemon, buttered toast and coffee.

Better make extra of this Oatmeal Surprise. Mold in a loaf bread pan what is left over from breakfast. To use, turn out of the pan, slice and brown on both sides on a moderately hot, greased griddle. Good with scrambled eggs for another breakfast or a simple supper.

Cookbook covers can be given a thin coat of shellac to protect them from greasy finger-marks and becoming soggy from steam.

Cheese Will Bubble

Here are open-face sandwich treats for your family. Top slices of Boston brown bread with baked beans, sprinkle with grated cheddar cheese and arrange bacon strips over the top. Broil until the bacon is crisp and the cheese is bubbly.

PEARADISE SALAD—A fresh appealing cool salad is a welcome treat after the rich food so abundant at this time of the year. This one combines rosy apples with pale green avocados and fresh pear halves.

Pearadise Dish Is Cool Salad

Christmas colors are good for salads any time. Creamy fresh pear halves on lettuce are separated with crisp apple wedges and buttery avocado slices. Serve plain or with your favorite fruit dressing.

Pearadise Salad

For individual salad:
2 pear halves
6 slices red-skinned apples
3 slices avocado
1 maraschino cherry
Parsley

On a bed of green arrange three pears cut side up with stem end toward center of plate in a triangle effect. Between the pear halves put two slices of red-skinned apple and a slice of avocado. At the tip end of each pear half, put one-third maraschino cherry and in the very center garnish with a piece of parsley.

Sweet Pickle Liquid Can Add Flavor to Food

Don't throw away the sweet liquid when the pickles have all been eaten.

Use the liquid to baste baked ham. The delicate flavor of spices, sugar and vinegar combines with the meat in a subtle and delicious way.

Sweet pickle liquor may also be used in making such a glamorous dessert as broiled pears. Drain canned pear halves, dot with butter, sprinkle with brown sugar, and baste with sweet pickle liquor during the broiling.

The liquor is also a convenient short-cut in making sweet-sour red cabbage and wilted lettuce takes a new guise with dressing made of this liquid and fried crisp bacon.

Pickled beet salad is a colorful accent to a meal and a new taste thrill as well when the sliced beets are combined with sliced onions and covered with a dressing consisting of pickle liquor, lemon juice, and salt and pepper. And next time you make hot potato salad, try using potatoes, diced onion, sweet pickle liquor, crisp-fried bacon, and salt and pepper.

Boy, 14, Held on Bail in 21 Theft Charges

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 14-year-old boy who escaped six times from boys village and once from a Baltimore police station was held for the grand jury yesterday in $21,000 bail on 21 burglary charges.

The youth was charged with stealing $2,400 in merchandise and $1,600 in cash between July 8 and Dec. 29 last year. The biggest alleged haul was $1,500 in cash from a pawnshop.

Among the other articles he was accused of stealing were 62 watches, 20 pounds of hot dogs, two pistols, four portable radios and an inter-office communications system.

Youth Pedals 700 Miles to See Grandmother

ATLANTA (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Warren Shuey Jr. was homesick for Dixie and his grandmother's fried chicken—so he pedaled his bicycle about 700 miles from Washington, D. C., to Atlanta.

Warren said he left home on his bicycle Jan. 6 and that his parents thought he was headed for school. Instead, he kept on pedaling southward.

He traveled about 100 miles a day and slept in tourist courts at night. His baggage was limited to a couple of extra shirts and his Bible.

"I read my Bible every night and then prayed that I was doing the right thing," Warren said. Mrs. Beulah Brannon, the grandmother, said the parents have given permission for Warren to remain with her.

The Shuey family formerly lived in Atlanta.

Oregon Dems Ask for Special Session

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Oregon Democrats have urged Gov. Paul L. Patterson to call a special session of the Legislature to deal with "the deepening economic crisis."

A letter signed by the Democratic party's four top officials in the state said unemployment in Oregon was "the most critical of all 48 states."

The State Unemployment Commission recently reported 12 per cent of Oregon's workers were jobless, with a half-dozen cities reporting unemployment at 22 per cent.

The governor made no immediate response.

Doll Up That Bean Dish

This tangy dish zips up any menu. Chop a small onion and green pepper and cook in hot fat until tender but not brown. Add a can of kidney beans, drained, and a can of tomato sauce. Heat and serve.

Use Cold Milk in Fast Pudding

As any working woman knows, there's just so much time between office and dinner, and it's never long enough for everything that must be done! For instance, how often do you have time to make a real homemade dessert for dinner?

To help solve this all-too-frequent dilemma, a new busy-day dessert has been developed—a dessert that's delicious, nutritious and takes just one minute to make. This instant pudding is available in three flavors, chocolate, vanilla and butterscotch.

All you need are three utensils—a bowl, a measuring cup and an egg beater—and two ingredients—the pudding powder and the milk. In six minutes it's ready to eat; one minute beating time and five minutes for "setting."

For a special "company" dessert that can be finished at the very last minute, make a crumb pie crust in the refrigerator. Then, just before dinner, whip up vanilla instant pudding for just one minute and pour it immediately into the ready-and-waiting crust. Topped with chocolate shavings, this light and fluffy pie is an attractive answer to dessert difficulties on your busy days.

Vanilla Instant Pudding Pie
2 cups cold milk
1 package vanilla instant pudding
1 8-inch graham cracker butter pie crust

Pour 2 cups cold milk into mixing bowl. Add contents of package and beat with egg beater 1 minute, or until well mixed.

Pour at once into baked 8-inch pie shell and let stand 15 minutes before serving.

Graham Cracker Butter Pie Crust

1 cup fine graham cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup butter, melted

Combine crumbs and sugar. Add melted butter and mix well. Press firmly on bottom and sides of 8-inch pie pan. Chill 1 hour before filling. Or bake pie crust in 375 degree oven 5 to 8 minutes and cool before filling.

Or press mixture on bottom and sides of a shallow-freezing tray and chill 1 hour in food compartment of refrigerator before filling.

Two Adventurers Earn Trip Money Sitting, Painting

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UP)—There's little adventure in baby-sitting or house painting, but the proceeds of such jobs can buy adventure of the highest type.

Two young scientists from St. Petersburg, Fla., did these jobs to raise money for a 10,000-mile motorcycle expedition through Mexico, Guatemala, Honduras, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama.

H. Morgan Smith, 26-year-old anthropologist, and H. Robin Mills, 27-year-old geographer, might deny the motive for their trip is adventure. During the six-months-to-a-year expedition they will do anthropological research in cooperation with the Florida University's department of anthropology and archeology.

But, operating on a shoe-string budget, the two young scientists seem bound to strike adventure.

They will make the entire trip overland on their specially equipped motorcycles, which can even ford small streams. They will use no commercial transportation, with the exception of burros and native canoes. They plan to live off the land as much as possible.

Road Made of Planks

CHICAGO (AP)—One of the early toll roads in the midwest was built of planks in 1848 and covered the 10 miles between Chicago and Riverside, Ill. According to the American Public Works association, the charge for a horse and rider was 12 1/2 cents. The road cost only $16,000. But the builder may not have regained their money because the road wore out in 15 years.

Plumber Builds Thing He Hopes He'll Never Use

ARLINGTON, Tex. (INS)—A plumber in Arlington, Tex., just outside Dallas, is spending $700 and much of his time on something he hopes he never has to use.

Forty-year-old Arch Riddle is building an elaborate bomb shelter on the side of a hill next to his home.

It is built in a pit scooped out of the hill; the exposed front wall is of concrete 20 inches thick, and the other walls are double—12 inches on the outside and eight on the inside with three inches of dirt between them.

All are steel reinforced, as is the 13-inch thick concrete room. Equipment—including water, gas and electricity—and provisions will be kept inside the shelter. There'll even be tools for cutting his way out if the double vault door should become jammed.

On top of the shelter, Riddle plans to build a double garage, all that will be visible from the street.

He expects the shelter will be capable of withstanding even the worst kind of bombing, but adds: "Of course, we may never need it. I hope we don't."

Jebb Sees China Getting U. N. Seat

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sir Gladwyn Jebb, British delegate to the United Nations, said last night he thinks Red China eventually would be admitted to the U.N. under these conditions:

1. If hostilities do not resume in Korea.
 2. If it can be shown that Red China is not preparing to take part in further aggressions.
 3. If she appears willing to settle her differences with the outside world in a peaceful manner.
- Jebb made the remarks in a Johns Hopkins University speech which he described as his last major one on the U.N. before leaving in March to become British ambassador to France.

Post-Strike Vote Bill Introduced

Sources Say Measure Was OK'd in Advance by White House

WASHINGTON (INS)—Official sources said today that the White House approved in advance Senate legislation providing for secret, government-sponsored strike votes.

These sources said the bill, offered by Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), of the Senate Labor Committee on Monday, was drafted on Capitol Hill after a conference with White House advisers.

President Eisenhower in his State of the Union message asked Congress to enact legislation providing for an election under government "auspices" to determine whether a strike should be held.

This was interpreted in some quarters as indicating that the president thought a pre-strike ballot should be taken. Smith's bill, however, would require a vote after a strike had been called.

It was explained that White House aides concluded that the Smith provision would be less burdensome on unions than a government-sponsored pre-strike vote.

Both proposals have been roundly denounced by the CIO and AFL, but the two labor organizations were much more critical of the post-strike measure than the pre-strike plan, although they still insisted the latter was "anti-labor."

Some Famous Names on College Roster

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—The Case Institute of Technology's faculty and student rosters have an all-time "Who's Who" flavor.

Roger Bacon, 27, Gates Mills, O., teaches physics; Franz Schubert, 18, is a freshman mechanical engineer; Andrew Johnson is on the faculty of the mechanics' department; Sophocles M. Sophocles is a language and literature major; John Garner, Palmsville, O., is a mechanical engineering major.

The list, appropriately enough, was compiled by an assistant librarian named Elizabeth Barrett.

BARBECUED PORK LOIN ROAST—An unusual way to prepare pork loin roast for a Sunday or special occasion dinner is to barbecue it. For economy, choose an end-cut loin roast and prepare it this easy way. Garnish with spiced peaches.

Pork Loin Roast Unusual With Hot Barbecue Sauce

January is an excellent time for a pork roast. Most of us have had enough chicken and turkey to last us for a little while and will welcome a change. Then too, chilly weather provides the right setting for hearty food. It all adds up to good winter eating.

Barbecued Pork Loin Roast
4 to 5 pound end-cut pork loin roast
1 (8 oz.) can tomato sauce
1 1/2 tablespoons bottled or fresh onion juice
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
Have the backbone loosened from the roast at the meat market. Place roast, fat side up, in a shallow pan. Roast, uncovered, at 325 for 30 minutes per pound (40 min-

It Pays to Know Which Apples Do What Best

WASHINGTON (INS)—If it pays to know your apples when shopping for fruit. Some apples are best for eating as is, some for cooking. Here's a rundown of some apple varieties compiled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture:

Jonathan — A red apple with green to yellow undertone, tart in flavor, good for eating fresh, stewing, pies, and all apple desserts.

McIntosh — A light to deep red apple with a mild flavor and sweet aroma for eating fresh or using in salads or applesauce.

Grimes Golden — A clear yellow apple with russet dots, excellent for baking and pies, also for eating out of hand.

Stayman — A dull red apple, which often has gray dots, excellent for all purposes.

Winesap — A bright red to purplish red apple, which is usually small in size. It's excellent for all purposes.

Rome Beauty — A solid red or striped apple, especially good for cooking or sauce or baked.

Delicious — A glossy red apple, with mild flavor, good for eating out of hand or in salads and desserts.

FRUIT CAPRICE — Good company for winter eating and good for company too, is the Fruit Caprice made with frozen fruits and juices. Let it be the "light touch," and the last one on your dinner table.

Refreshing Fruit Caprice Lends Balance to Menu

For winter days and candlelight evenings, brighten your menu with a fruit caprice. With rich and heavy eating the order of these days, a refreshing fruit gelatin dessert will lend balance and flavor to your menus.

Fruit at its best is yours for the serving when you make this gelatin mold with frozen peaches and raspberries, and orange juice and lemonade concentrates.

A diced banana, tokay grapes, and a few walnut halves are added for variety in texture.

The perfect way to end a holiday meal, this Fruit Caprice has an unusual combination of many fruit flavors in one gelatin mold. Four different fruits, and four different fruit juices are in this one recipe.

Fruit Caprice
1 12-ounce package frozen peaches, defrosted
1 12-ounce package frozen raspberries, defrosted
3 tablespoons frozen lemonade concentrate
2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup water, boiling
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
1 4-ounce can frozen orange juice concentrate
1 large banana, diced
1/4 cup walnut halves
1/2 cup seeded tokay grapes
Drain juice from defrosted peaches and raspberries. Reserve. Combine lemonade with peaches.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve in hot water. Add sugar, salt, peach, orange and raspberry juice. Chill until almost firm.

Ground Beef Dish Hits the Jackpot

This ground beef dish hits the jackpot because it's thrifty, easy to prepare and a filling family main dish. It's a one-dish meal of layered ground beef, potatoes, celery, tomatoes and green pepper.

Beef Vegetable Casserole
1 pound ground beef
1 cup chopped celery
2 cups thinly sliced potatoes
1/2 cup sliced onions
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 cup well drained canned tomatoes
Salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, dry mustard

Lightly brown ground beef in skillet in a little fat. Break up tomatoes with a fork and combine with 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce. Combine 2 teaspoons dry mustard, 2 teaspoons salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. In a 1 1/2 quart casserole, place layers of beef, celery, potatoes, onions, green pepper and tomatoes; sprinkle each layer with seasonings. Cover and bake at 350 for 1 hour and 15 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Four servings.

Save the mince pie or plum pudding for serving in the evening on Christmas day. An ice, or fruit, makes a better topping for the meal.

Little Foldovers of Meat Come From Gay Paree

Straight from Paris comes this recipe for meat foldovers. It is another in a group gathered by a nationally known flour company for their European Recipe service.

Make these Petits Pates de Vlande (pronounced Puht-tee Pahntay Du Vee-yand) ahead of time and bake just before serving. They're good cold too—the French take them on picnics as we do sandwiches.

Petits Pates de Vlande

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
6 to 7 tablespoons cold milk
Egg or cream

Sift flour and salt, cut in butter or margarine. Sprinkle milk over mixture, tossing lightly with fork until dough is moist enough to hold together. Form into ball. Chill while preparing filling. Roll chilled pastry on floured board to 1/8 inch thickness. Cut into six 6-inch circles. Divide cooled meat mixture among the pastry circles. Moisten edges. Fold over each circle to form half circle; seal edges. Prick each for escape to steam. Place on ungreased baking sheets. Brush with beaten egg or cream. Bake in moderate oven at 375 degrees 25 to 30 minutes until golden.

Meat Filling

2 slices bread
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon garlic chopped
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 pound ground lean pork
1 egg
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Crumble bread into mixing bowl. Add milk. Let stand 5 minutes. Sauté onion and garlic in butter or margarine until soft and yellow. Add pork, egg, parsley and seasonings. Brown lightly. Drain off excess fat. Cool.

Herb Sauce

1/2 cup celery, cut in small pieces
3/4 cup diluted beef consommé (dilute as directed on can label)
1 tablespoon minced herbs
Pinch of thyme
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sifted flour
2 tablespoons parsley
1/2 cup (4-ounce can) mushrooms, drained and sliced
Cook celery in water to cover, until tender, about 10 minutes. Drain. Simmer diluted beef consommé with herbs for 5 minutes. Strain, reserving 2 cups of consommé. Melt butter or margarine in double boiler. Blend in the flour. Add the strained consommé. Cook over boiling water until thickened, stirring constantly. Stir in parsley and mushrooms. Serve hot.

Endive Colorful With Apple Bits

Wilted lettuce was a favorite at food laden tables at grandmother's house with cousins, aunts and uncles gathered round for Sunday dinner.

Modern families may serve family gatherings in the back yard or buffet style but this salad will be just as popular wherever it's served.

The red apple adds a new twist to old-fashioned wilted lettuce. It's even better with endive. The curly endive and crisp apple chunks combine color and flavor accents.

Wilted Endive Salad
1 sliced unpeeled apple, Jonathan or Delicious
1 small head endive
2 green onions, chopped
4 slices bacon, chopped
1/2 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons sugar
Salt and pepper

Wash endive and pat and shake dry. Cut fine or pull into small bits. Add chopped green onion and diced apple. Cut bacon slices in strips crosswise and fry until crisp.

Add vinegar, water and sugar and bring to boil. Pour over apples and salad greens and cover a moment. Then toss lightly. Serve at once. Serves six.

Fresh Produce on Winter List

NEW YORK (INS)—Fresh produce items — grapefruit, winter pears and onions have top spots on the January list of plentiful foods from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cabbage and potatoes also will be leading items at midwinter produce markets. And for still more rib-sticking dishes, shoppers will find large dry lima beans in excellent supply.

Meal planners have wide choice for the main dish, too.

Beef will continue plentiful. Large quantities of broilers and fryers will arrive at January markets, and there will be generous offerings of frozen fish.

Grocery shelves will offer continued liberal supplies of food fats and oils. Lots of eggs will be available, and plenty of nourishing dairy products.

Peanuts and peanut butter will be stocked in volume for snack and cooking uses, and shoppers will find excellent supplies of both raisins and pecans.

Artichoke Hors d'Oeuvres Whet Appetites

Happy the hostess who presents an eye-appealing tray of hors d'oeuvres for guests to nibble while she puts finishing touches on the dinner. This is a gracious way to excuse yourself for last minute details, and it also puts an edge on everyone's appetite.

A pretty and tasty combination is canned shrimp, crabmeat, or tuna blended with mayonnaise and served on cooked heart of artichoke petals.

Use a whole artichoke as an attractive platter centerpiece, or put a small bowl of ripe and green olives in the center, with the artichoke petals radiating out from it. Chilled tomato juice makes a refreshing beverage to serve with these appetizers.

Shrimp and Artichoke Hors d'Oeuvres
1-2 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 can shrimp, crabmeat, or tuna
1 artichoke

Mix mayonnaise, mustard, Worcestershire sauce and onion together. Add drained seafood or tuna and mix gently. Let stand in refrigerator several hours. Cook artichoke in salted water about 30 minutes, until tender. Chill. Pull off leaves and top the meaty tip of each leaf with mixture. Arrange on serving tray. Makes 15-20 hors d'oeuvres.

DANISH BLUE CHEESE MACARONI AND TURKEY—Make your post-holiday meals festive with these mouth-watering macaroni casseroles. Combine turkey or chicken with Danish blue cheese and macaroni. Bake and garnish with parsley or pimiento strips.

Blue Cheese Adds Flavor Twist to Fowl Favorites

A new flavor twist can often lend a gourmet touch to old favorites. In the case of these appetizing macaroni and turkey casseroles, Danish blue cheese makes them rich and creamy and delightfully different in taste. We think you'll agree this recipe neatly solves the problem of how to use the tag ends of turkey (or chicken).

Noodles also take well to Danish ways and are extra-special when they're teamed with stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Melt butter or margarine over low heat; add flour and blend. Gradually add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add cheese, salt, onion and turkey; continue cooking until cheese is melted. Combine cooked macaroni and Danish blue cheese and turkey sauce. Turn into greased individual casseroles; garnish with parsley and pimiento strips, if desired. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30-35 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

It takes about five quarts of milk to make a pound of American cheese; as a result cheese is a concentrated food high in nutrients.

Food Editor Studies Beef: Its Cuts, Its Lower Costs

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Meat has gone down in price! Yes, it has; at least beef has. Taking actual prices from local newspaper advertisements of a year ago and comparing them with advertised prices today brings forth this picture:

Beef prices in the Detroit area have declined in the past year 18 cents a pound on the average. Ground beef has dropped from 49 cents to 33 cents a pound; stew meat from 84 cents to 69 cents; T-bone steaks from $1.37 to $1.03 a pound; and rib roast from 99 cents to 73 cents a pound. Not one beef cut has gone up in price.

These facts were brought out at a recent meeting conducted by officials of a large local food chain and attended by a number of Detroit area food writers. Looking somewhat like a bunch of Eskimos, we food editors donned cooler coats, mittens and boots and assembled in the company's cooler room. (A temperature of 32 degrees is not exactly comfortable for long sitting around.)

A huge table held a beautiful display of all the different meat cuts that come from a side of beef. At the back of the table were the cuts as they came directly from the steer; in front of these were the trimmed, ready-to-cook cuts. The comparison of the two was amazing.

We all know, if we stop to think about it at all, that a steer weighing 1,000 pounds on the hoof weighs considerably less by the time he appears in the butcher's display case.

But how many of us actually realize that this shrinkage is over 50 per cent?

While two meat cutters—who were absolute artists in their line—cut off sections as directed, the meat supervisor explained and discussed the process.

Take, for instance, a beef brisket, the cut that is usually made into corned beef. When that portion containing the brisket is cut off the carcass, it is a huge piece of meat.

Because so much of it is fat over half of it is cut away before the brisket is in condition to be sold.

That waste fat is sold to the tallow companies for five cents a pound and gets to the consumer in the form of soap.

Steak is good eating, a fact that few will dispute. But only 17 per cent of a side of beef can be cut into steaks. That and the fact that there is a great demand for the tender cuts of meat keeps the price of steak high.

Ever since last fall, when there was a tremendous amount of economy lean beef coming to market, Mrs. America has been using more of the less expensive cuts of beef. The government asked the retailers to promote this meat.

Food editors all over the country got into the act by telling their readers how good this

Guard Your Health by Protecting Meat

AUBURN, Ala. (INS) — Fresh meat, a major cost item on the family food budget, should be handled with care at home.

Food preservationist Lavada Curtis explained why it's a good idea to wipe off the meat and wrap it loosely in waxed paper soon as the groceries are put down on the kitchen table.

"The loose wrapping lets some air reach the surface of the meat, and the small dryness that takes place helps keep damaging bacteria under control."

After wrapping the meat, Miss Curtis continued, store it under the freezing unit of the refrigerator. Meat cared for in this manner will keep fresh several days.

Plant Proteins Needed

For economical well-balanced meal planning, include some plant meal planning, include some plant at each meal. Thus, more costly foods may be put to their most effective use in combination with less expensive plant foods. Cereals and breads, nuts and legumes all provide plant protein in important amounts.

MAINLY-BAKED POTATO—All-purpose potatoes are delicious baked and stuffed. With other vegetables they provide a low-cost luncheon or supper menu, rich in vitamins and minerals. Use frozen corn on the cob for a winter treat.

Stuffed Baked Potatoes Are No Strain on Budget

Scoop out the mealy white goodness of a baked potato and mix it with chopped meat and seasonings for a low-cost taste delight.

You don't have to buy special baking potatoes for this baked, stuffed delicacy. The recipe is designed especially for the all-purpose potato cooked in the oven.

Served on luncheon or supper menus with a green and yellow vegetable and a small mayonnaise-decked garden salad, it makes a meal everybody likes... high in taste appeal and nutritional value, but no strain on the budget.

Mainly Baked Potato

- 4 all-purpose potatoes
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1 egg, separated
- 1 cup finely chopped ham
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped green pepper
- 1 tablespoon butter
- Salt and pepper to season
- Sharp cheese, grated
- Paprika

Select medium-sized potatoes; scrub skins (rub with butter or margarine for a softer skin after baking). Bake in 425 oven until soft all the way through... about one hour. Cut slice from top of each baked potato and scoop out white part. Mash, add milk and beat well. Mix in egg yolk, ham, onion, green pepper, butter, salt and pepper. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white and refill potato shells with mixture. Sprinkle with cheese and a dash of paprika. Return to oven for 15 minutes longer. Serves 6.

Older Homemakers Need Kitchen Ease

WASHINGTON (INS) — A few changes in the kitchen will make work easier for the older housewife, according to the U.S. Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics. The government agency points out that older people generally need more light than younger workers. Higher wattage bulbs in kitchen fixtures will make work easier for the older housewife.

In addition, cupboards without doors are recommended for the elderly homemaker. Open shelves, so that labels on food containers can be plainly seen, will save time and trouble for the older woman.

Open shelves also eliminate the risk of bumping heads on cupboard doors.

The agency also recommends sit-down equipment for older women. This would include a chair to work in, low counters with knee-space underneath and pull-out boards at a height convenient for sit-down work.

Chicken should always be cooked until it is well done, remind Michigan State College home economists. Less shrinkage and better texture and flavor come from chicken that is cooked slowly at low to moderate temperatures.

Sweet-Sour Pork Liked by Many

If you like sweet-and-pungent pork, cooked the Chinese way, you will go for this recipe.

West Coast Pork Chops

4 loin pork chops (½ to 1 inch thick)
¼ cup honey
¼ cup cider vinegar
¼ cup soy sauce
1 clove garlic (peeled and minced)
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate.
Trim fat from chops; place in shallow dish. Mix honey, vinegar, soy sauce, garlic and monosodium glutamate; pour over chops about 4 hours before cooking. Cover; refrigerate; turn chops several times in sauce. When ready to cook, remove chops from sauce; pat dry with paper towel.
Grease heavy skillet with bit of pork fat and heat; brown chops slowly on both sides. Transfer chops to baking dish just big enough to hold them in one layer. Heat marinade to boiling in skillet; pour over chops. Bake uncovered, basting often, in 350 oven until chops are tender — about 1 hour. Serve with pan sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Fry Crisp Onion Rings

For those wonderful French-fried onions to accompany broiled steak do this: Cut six medium-sized onions into one-fourth-inch thick slices. Separate into rings; then pour over them one cup of milk mixed with ½ cup of water. Let them stand for 30 minutes, then dip slices in seasoned flour. Fry in deep hot fat (365 F.) until golden brown.

Cap'n Amos Sauce Is Old Sea Recipe

Found in an old whaling ship's log, this is one of the recipes used on long sea voyages, when a barrel of fresh cranberries was carried on every vessel as an anti-scurvy remedy.

Cap'n Amos Sauce

2 cups cranberries
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup water
Combine all ingredients in saucepan. Cook briskly for 15 minutes. Serve warm over hot waffles or pancakes, or use as a hot sauce for baked ham.

Use a solution of water and baking soda to scrub the refrigerator. The solution removes the stale foods odor.

Garnishes Give Ordinary Dishes Touch of Glamor

Food that appeals to the eye will just naturally appeal to the taste. And one way to add eye-appeal is through skillful use of garnishes—the glamorizer of everyday dishes. Here are some suggested garnishes:

Parsley is always good for adding touches of green to all kinds of main course dishes, and it is easy to grow indoors in a kitchen window box or in a row of garden herbs.

Fresh celery and carrot tops are also excellent garnishes. Radishes and carrot curls planted in a bowl of ice will keep fresh and crisp and add a spark of color to the dinner table. No food is prettier than ham cooked to the right degree of brown and then garnished with pineapple slices or apricot halves. Cook the fruit in the ham gravy, sprinkled lightly with brown sugar, only long enough to warm it through and make it tender. The brown sugar adds a delicate touch of golden brown and gives the fruit a soft glaze. Asparagus served with snowy white whipped potatoes is also a colorful, tasty dish.

Here's a nutritious sweet: Steam and pit large prunes, then stuff them with pecan or walnut meats and coat the stuffed fruit with sugar. You'll need about a quarter cup of granulated sugar for coating half a dozen or so large prunes.

Chopped Relish Can Be Used in Many Dishes

Here are several recipes using hamburger relish as an ingredient. We thought you might like to share them:

For a sandwich treat, mix ground bologna and Swiss cheese with hamburger relish and mayonnaise.

Swiss Bologna Spread
1 1/2 cups (1/2 pound) ground bologna
1/2 cup grated or ground Swiss cheese
1/2 cup hamburger relish
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
Combine ingredients. Makes 2 cups.

A devilled egg with plenty of flavor can be made with hamburger relish.

Devilled Eggs
4 hard-cooked eggs
2 tablespoons hamburger relish
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 teaspoon salt

Slice shelled eggs in half lengthwise; remove egg yolks and mash. Combine yolks with remaining ingredients; use as filling for whites. Chill. Garnish with parsley if desired. Makes 4 servings.

A quickie dressing close akin to Russian can be whipped up with hamburger relish. Combine 1 part hamburger relish with 2 parts mayonnaise or salad dressing for a quick-to-fix but delicious dressing. Serve over head lettuce.

Modern Method Best for Frozen Chocolate Cake

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (INS) — Chocolate cake "like mother used to make" is fine for eating fresh out of the oven, but better go modern on the ingredients if you plan to freeze the cake.

University of Tennessee food specialists say that freezing is an excellent way of preserving cakes, but some of the ingredients generally used for freshly baked cakes do not take kindly to the freezer.

The kind of fat, they explained, affects the flavor, moisture and freshness of a cake baked and then frozen.

Frozen chocolate cakes, for instance, are better if they contain some butter, but most satisfactory if they contain a combination of butter and vegetable shortening, instead of the full measure of either product.

Chocolate cake, the experts warn, should not be stored longer than four months in a freezer at zero degrees F.

If wrapped in bacon strips, the leg bones and wing tips of turkey will not char during roasting.

Meat in Salad Tempting Dish

Wise food shoppers frequently purchase a large roast with follow-up meals in mind. For example, a beef roast slowly cooked to be at its finest is a grand investment in good eating for several meals.

After the first serving, wrap it closely and store in your refrigerator. Here's one tempting encore. Mince beef, combine with vegetables and toss with this spicy chili sauce dressing.

Square Meal Salad
2 cups minced leftover beef
1/2 cup chili sauce
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 teaspoon tabasco sauce
1 cup diced cooked potatoes
1/2 cup sliced cooked beets
1/2 cup cooked string beans, cut lengthwise
1/2 cup sliced radishes
1 cup chopped watercress
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
Salt

Mix chili sauce, vinegar and tabasco sauce for salad dressing. Chill remaining ingredients. Combine beef, potatoes, beets, string beans, radishes, watercress, onion and salt. Add dressing and toss just before serving. 6 to 8 servings.

Sausage and Cabbage Combine in Casserole

Sausages and crunchy crisp cabbage make a good quick casserole team. Cook the sausage patties till crisply done. Then arrange on top of alternate layers of shredded cabbage, sliced apples and thin onion rings. Season each layer with salt and pepper. Rinse the sausage pan with a tablespoon of vinegar and pour over the casserole.

Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350) about 45 minutes. A layer of sliced tomatoes can be tucked in the middle, if desired.

Fried eggplant makes a delicious luncheon dish. Don't peel the eggplant; just slice it, dip in seasoned flour and brown in a little butter or margarine. Accompany the eggplant with scalloped tomatoes and a green vegetable for a good-tasting main course.

Potatoes Lead All Vegetables in Versatility

No other vegetable can top the potato's versatility. It lends itself to a wide variety of dishes from vichyssoise to meat stews.

Potatoes are excellent for salads and soups, for meat stews and pies, served au gratin or special baked with cheese. A whole meal can be built around a baked potato by smothering it with creamed chipped beef or creamed tuna.

The baked potato can be served with a choice of dressings, such as sour cream and chives. Fluffy mashed potatoes form a delicious and attractive cradle for shirred eggs.

Cook potatoes in their skins or jackets to prevent nutritional loss. Since large amounts of the nutritive value of potatoes are close to the skin, the paring process usually cuts away a considerable percentage of the most valuable part of the potato. Because some of the vitamins and minerals in potatoes are water-soluble, use no more water than is necessary for thorough cooking. Potatoes may be steamed or just covered with water, and the water remaining after cooking should be retained for other use, such as in making gravy or soup or in baking bread.

A temperature of from 50 to 70 degrees is the best storage climate for the protection of flavor and texture of potatoes. If potatoes are stored in the basement, the containers should be raised off the floor.

"Suwanee River is the official song for Florida."

Good Soy Milk Needs Publicity; Still a Sleeper

Soy milk is still a sleeper on the life line of America, but its potential as a natural milk substitute for more than two-thirds of the world's population to whom cows' milk is not available is now being seriously considered.

Attention was recently focused on soy milk when the United Nations investigated the possibility of an adequate natural milk substitute for the International Childrens Emergency Fund.

During the past few years in this country the concentrated soy milk business has been growing rapidly, but it is not a new product. The Chinese, Japanese and many of the Asiatic countries for centuries have supplemented their natural milk supplies with soy milk.

In the U. S. to date this concentrated product has been used mainly for infant feeding and for those allergic to cows' milk.

In addition to being palatable, soy milk has been proved to be at least as nourishing as cows' milk.

The protein content of the soy bean, which is highly digestible, resembles that of meat more closely than does any other vegetable; and it can be used both as a meat and a milk substitute.

Climatic conditions make dairying prohibitive in vast areas of the world where soy beans thrive; but even in this country under ideal conditions for dairy farming, soy milk can be produced at a substantially lower cost than cows' milk.

Relish Balanced Sweet and Sour

Like the hot dog, the hamburger is so much a part of the American scene that it now has its own special relish.

An 11-ounce jar of hamburger relish is being introduced in this area this month by the world's largest pickle and condiment house.

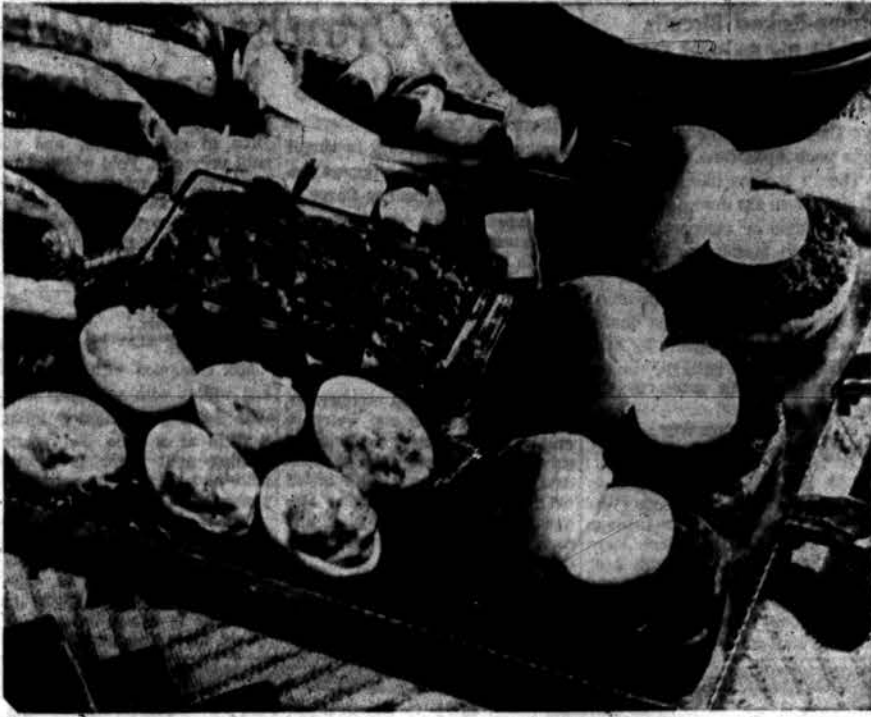

We've sampled the new product, and it reminds us of an old-fashioned chili sauce with chopped pickles, onions and green and red peppers added.

The base is rich-red tomato; the spicing is a tempting balance between sweet and sour.

What we like especially is the crispness of the pickles and peppers. It adds a freshness of texture and flavor to a hamburger.

But don't let the name of this new relish fool you. While it's labeled specifically as a Hamburger Relish, it makes a tempting garnish for hot dogs as well as for meat, cheese and fish sandwiches of all descriptions.

Whenever a dish calls for chili sauce and the crispness of pickle, hamburger relish will fill the bill.

NEW HAMBURGER RELISH—Hamburgers and same relish is used to whip up devilled eggs in hot dogs both taste especially delicious when jiffy-quick order. This

Store Potatoes in Dark Place

The potato is one of the vegetables best suited for storing over long periods.

With no bother and minimum facilities, it will keep successfully for months in the home.

American housewives, with a knowing eye on the food budget, are picking up potatoes for home storage right now, while the price is low.

Timed to help these thrifty shoppers get the most from the high-quality potatoes they are putting away for use later, we reprint a brief item on storage.

1. Don't store potatoes in the light. Excessive brightness turns them green and adversely affects their eating quality.

2. Store in a cool place. High temperatures cause sprouting. Potatoes freeze at about 29 degrees F.

Even 40 degrees F is too low and may cause change in flavor or an undesirable dark color when the potato is fried. About 55 degrees F is the ideal potato storage temperature.

3. Don't place storage bag directly on damp cellar floor. A wooden board or other insulation between the bag and the floor will keep moisture from potatoes.

4. Don't pack closely in airtight containers. Potatoes keep better loosely packed in a bag or bin that allows some air to enter.

Poultry Experts Say Eggs Should Sell by the Pound

RALEIGH, N. C. (INS)—Poultry experts, who must reckon with the eagle-eyed housewife, are considering the sale of eggs by the pound instead of by the dozen.

Thomas B. Morris, expert in the bird business for the North Carolina State College Extension Service, explained:

"If the housewife bought her eggs by the pound instead of by the dozen she'd never feel cheated."

The little lady, Morris continued, wants every egg to be just as large as the largest one in the carton.

"When she sees several 23-ounce eggs in a carton with a 26 or 27-ounce egg, she feels like she's being gyped."

Here is the way Morris interpreted the feminine mind about such matters:

"If the housewife knew that a dozen large eggs weighed a minimum of 1 1/2 pounds and if the price per pound were clearly marked on the carton, she would easily see that a dozen eggs is an extra good buy on today's market."

Large eggs at 70 cents and medium eggs at 65 cents per dozen are selling for only 47 cents per pound. If a customer buys a dozen large eggs (24 ounces) for $1, the price is actually only 47 cents per pound.

This can't be beat, he maintained, when compared with other high protein foods.

Raisins in Waffles Give Fruity Taste

Plump seedless raisins add a delicious fruity flavor to these golden-brown waffles.

Raisins Waffles
1/2 cup seedless raisins
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 cup butter or margarine (melted)
Cover raisins with water and boil 3 minutes; drain thoroughly. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and sugar. Add buttermilk and well beaten eggs; beat thoroughly. Stir in raisins and melted butter; mix lightly but thoroughly. Bake on hot waffle iron. Makes five 8-inch waffles.

Edam and Wine Fine for Snacks

For a colorful snack that no guest will be able to resist serve this Edam and wine treat.

Just mark a scalloped pattern into the cheese's bright red rind and carefully scoop out the center. Grind or mash cheese until smooth, adding enough dry white wine to make an easily spreading mixture. Refill shell and store in the refrigerator to be brought out proudly anytime guests arrive. Serve up on your prettiest tray, surrounded with plenty of crisp and tasty crackers.

Serve Cheese Mixture From Chafing Dish

Keep the ingredients for this easy party dish handy on your pantry shelf... you can fix it in a jiffy. Blend a half cup of grated cheese with a can of condensed cream of mushroom soup. Drain two cans of shrimp and a can of mushrooms, and mix with the cheese-soup mixture. Add a little Worcestershire sauce for zest, and chopped pimiento for color. Keep it hot in your chafing dish, and let the guests spoon the mixture over fluffy hot rice or toast points.

Muffins for Breakfast

Today's the day for blueberry muffins to go along with the cereal serving of drained canned peaches on puffed rice and milk. Plan on soft-cooked eggs and a hot beverage. Easy and better than an alarm clock to get sleepyheads out of bed.

EDAM CHEESE CROCK—A good cheese-spread graciously offers hospitality on a moment's notice. Here it's Edam scooped out and mellowed with wine. Return cheese to its own bright red crock—and keep in refrigerator to serve with crackers.

Dinner Is Easy With Beef Pies

Quick-frozen beef pies come in their own aluminum foil plates, weighing eight ounces, and contain generous chunks of the finest beef, sweet young peas and carrots, and real meaty gravy.

The pie crust is tender and flaky. If you want to "partify" the beef pies for a buffet supper, top each one with a pastry rosette.

Rosettes are easy to make from the excess pastry left over from your hors d'oeuvres. Roll out some pastry (made from a mix, naturally) and cut tiny petal shapes with a sharp paring knife. Brush each with milk.

Then put them together daisy-fashion, overlapping the base of each petal. Slightly twist together where all the petals join so they will stick. Then set a rosette in the center of each pie before you put it in the oven to brown.

While you are waiting for the beef pies to turn golden brown and bubbly, you can set out the rest of the fare which can have been easily prepared that morning and stored away in the refrigerator.

Celery stuffed with cream cheese and dates, olives and anchovies on toothpicks, a platter of "cauliflowerettes" and tomato and watercress in a salad and a colorful molded gelatin with a variety of fruit in it.

Prepare Coffee Cakes in Jiffy by Using Mix

Sunday breakfast should always be an occasion. Swedish tea ring and a variety of coffee cakes can be made in a jiffy from biscuit mix.

Keep the cooked cereal piping hot in a covered casserole. Serve directly onto the breakfast plate with a square of butter atop, flanked by baked link sausage and apple rings cooked in maple syrup. Add a hot milk drink, coffee, and plenty of time for family conversation.

To prepare broiled peaches to accompany a meat course, put a small piece of butter or margarine in the center of each canned peach half; broil until peaches are hot through.

Steak Platter Whole Meal

Here's the perfect dish to give new life to monotonous meals—Flank Steak Savoy. The steak is first scored to shorten connective tissue, and thus take less cooking time to make it tender.

It is then cooked slowly with an interesting combination of vegetables.

With this dish your meal is complete with only the addition of a molded gelatin salad, hard rolls and a dessert of fresh fruit and cookies.

Flank Steak Savoy
1 beef flank steak
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup catchup
1 cup thinly sliced sweet pickles
1 cup thinly sliced onions
1 1/2 cups water
6 medium carrots
6 medium potatoes
1 1/2 cups celery, cut in 1-inch pieces
Score steak, pounding flour into both sides with knife. Brown in lard or drippings. Season with salt and pepper, pour catchup over top and cover with pickles and onions. Pour 1/2 cup of water around steak. Cover and cook in 300 oven for 1 hour. Add carrots, potatoes, celery and remaining water. Continue cooking 1 hour longer or until tender. Serve with gravy in pan, thickened if desired. Six servings.

Poached Eggs Top Off Toasted Wheat Biscuits

Mighty good eating in more ways than taste is this breakfast of chilled mixed vegetable juices, poached eggs on toasted shredded wheat, buttered toast and jelly, hot chocolate and coffee.

Spread shredded wheat biscuits, round or oblong (split the latter), with butter. Place on a cookie sheet and place low under the broiler to toast, or in a hot oven. To serve, top the shredded wheat with a poached egg. Serve with a pitcher of hot milk, with butter melted into the milk.

For a quick and easy sauce, mix a can of condensed cream of mushroom soup with a half cup of milk and heat. Serve with croquettes — it makes them more than just another way to use, leftovers.

Try Heavenly Ham Loaf for Glamorous Feasting

A glamorous entree for company, feasting or family fare is this ham loaf which is shaped like a ham, then scored and studded with cloves for its trip to the oven.

The ham mixture itself is extra special. The usual good ingredients of meat, crumbs, eggs, evaporated milk and seasonings are amplified with a can of condensed tomato soup for extra flavor and ruddy color.

The meat mixture browns beautifully, retains a nice inner moistness and slices splendidly either hot or cold. Whipped horseradish sauce is a pleasing partner for this heavenly ham loaf.

Heavenly Ham Loaf
1 pound ground leftover cooked or baked ham (4 cups, lightly packed)
1 pound ground veal
1 1/2 cups fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1/4 cup minced onion
1/4 cup minced green pepper
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1 16-ounce can condensed tomato soup
Whole cloves
Combine ground ham and veal. Add other ingredients in order, except the whole cloves. Mix thoroughly. Place mixture in center of a lightly buttered large shallow baking pan. Shape mixture with hands to resemble a ham.

Score top surface and stud with whole cloves. Bake in moderate oven (350) one hour. Serve with

Let Family Take Pick of Ready-to-Eat Cereals

Reach for your lazy Susan or large tray. Set it up with a choice of cereals in gay pottery dishes—ready-to-eat oat cereal, wheat and barley kernels, pre-sweetened rice cereal and any others of the family favorites (there are so many varieties of cereals, you'll never run out of ideas).

Add chilled fruit juice, served in your party punch cups, and a big pitcher of milk. Set out the toaster, sliced potato bread and butter, and let everyone help himself while you serve the coffee and hot milk beverage.

Want to give broiled tomatoes that extra-special taste for a company meal? Spread them with a mixture of butter and minced basil for broiling.

Home-Baked Biscuits Could Be Served Often

How long has it been since you've baked biscuits for the family? They're so simple to make and take such little time.

There's nothing like hot biscuits straight from the oven, spread with melted butter or margarine.

Use plain biscuits as a topping for meat and vegetable pies. Or use them as a base for creamed vegetables, meat and sea foods. "Dress up" plain biscuits by adding bits of green parsley, cheese, sausage meat, or onion to the dough.

Right Way for Sausage

With sausage and pancakes on the range there's no coaxing the family to breakfast. For sausage patties at their best, place them in a heavy fryingpan with 2 or 3 tablespoons of water. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Then uncover and cook until brown on both sides, pouring off fat as it accumulates.

Serve Cranberry Whip for Glorious Meal Finale

Illustrious finale for wintertime menus is this cranberry meringue whip. The tart berries impart glorious color and appealing flavor to this creamy whip prepared with evaporated milk. A whiff of cinnamon in the tender meringue points up the fruity flavor beautifully.

Cranberry Meringue Whip
1 1/2 cups raw cranberries
1/2 cup water
6 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup evaporated milk, chilled icy cold
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Pick over and wash cranberries. Add the two thirds cup water to cranberries and cook until all the skins pop. Press through a sieve. Add sugar and cook 10 minutes over medium heat, stirring frequently. Remove from heat and cool, then place in refrigerator to chill thoroughly.

Cranberry meringue whip will hold up well for about two hours, so the following preparations can be completed any time within two hours before serving. Add lemon juice to chilled milk, and whip until very stiff. Fold whipped milk into cranberry mixture quickly but thoroughly. Turn into a 9-inch pie plate and keep in the refrigerator while preparing the following meringue.

Meringue

2 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 cup sugar
Mix cinnamon with sugar. Beat egg whites with salt until foamy.

Add the sugar-cinnamon mixture a little at a time and continue beating until sugar is dissolved plate and keep in the refrigerator peaks.

Spread meringue over the cranberry whip to the edges of the pie and the meringue will stand in place, being sure that no whip is exposed. Place under broiler until meringue is lightly browned. Cool for a few minutes and return cranberry whip to refrigerator until ready to serve. Cut in pie shape wedges and lift carefully with spatula to serving plates. Makes six to eight servings.

Enriched Bread Rates Place in Modern Diets

Using enriched white bread in a reducing diet is the best way of making sure that the bread, like every other food in the diet, is providing the greatest possible amount of vitamins and minerals.

Of course, all breads add protein and food energy to the diet. The fact that enriched bread does all of this more economically than any other food at the same time that it helps make a diet more enjoyable is the reason it has earned a place in the most modern reducing diets.

If you want to make really good coffee, always measure both the coffee and the water. Two level measuring tablespoons of coffee and three-quarters of a measuring cup of water make a full-flavored beverage.

Text of Gov. Williams' Speech to State Legislature Today

LANSING (AP)—The text of Gov. Williams' address to the State Legislature today:

This occasion, in a broad sense, is something more than the beginning of the annual legislative session. It also marks the completion of five years of prodigious effort by the people of Michigan and their state government to build a better Michigan.

Five years ago, we faced a condition in which the services of the state lagged far behind the needs of the people. The state's buildings, roads and other physical plants were inadequate. Hospitals were overcrowded. Medical schools were forced to turn away students while many of our citizens were unable to find a doctor. Legislation in many vital areas was out of date. Great obvious needs like the Mackinac Bridge were answered only in forgotten plans, gathering dust in the archives. Annual expenditures for some time had been running far in excess of income. And the treasury had already started the downward slide toward insolvency which ended in a 65-million-dollar flood of red ink.

Today, five years later, we see a vastly different picture. Financially, we are back on our feet again. The budget for the first time since 1945 is balanced. Our books are currently in the black.

If we suffer no serious reverse to our national economy, we can expect to have a surplus of about a million dollars when the books of the current fiscal year are closed next June. We are conservatively estimating that our next year's revenues will be off somewhat, but we will have enough income to maintain our services and engage in a modest program of necessary expansion. We are in a position to assure our people that we will not ask them to pay any additional taxes.

This financial recovery has been accomplished while we were carrying forward a vast program of building Michigan. New hospitals, medical schools, college buildings, roads, and other public improvements are constructed or under construction all over the state. The Straits Bridge has been financed, and we have every reason to hope that it will soon be built.

Legislation in many fields, ranging from water pollution to prison administration has been strengthened in accord with modern needs. And all this has been marked by complete integrity and honesty in the handling of public funds and public responsibilities so that every agency of the state enjoys the full confidence and trust of the people.

These are achievements in which we can all take satisfaction, whatever our position in the government, from the legislature and the governor down to the least clerk among our loyal civil servants.

But progress is never a sentence which can be ended with a period. There is never a time in public affairs when those in charge of the people's business can look upon their work and say: "It is finished."

The program of building Michigan which we started in 1949 is still going forward and must continue to go forward. In my budget message, I have set forth my recommendations as to the next moves to be made. In a later message I will deal in detail with the areas, particularly in the field of public education, where I believe we must go steadily forward in building a better Michigan.

Health and Safety Are Vital Problems

As we begin this session, with certain pressing problems affecting the public health and safety. Our perilous highways are taking a toll of lives greater each year than the entire death list of Michigan men during the Korean War. Industrial accidents are on the increase, costing untold human misery and hundreds of millions of dollars in losses.

The deadly public enemies of tuberculosis and mental disease must be attacked with new weapons. Our prison system, though much improved, is still far from adequate and secure.

These are problems of great priority, and in the very near future I will deal with them in a special message on the public health and safety.

We are under the immediate necessity of taking what steps we can to preserve and maintain the prosperity we have enjoyed since the end of the war. I have placed before you a budget based upon confidence in continued good times. That confidence I affirm without hesitation. I refuse to believe that this nation must face a recession from the high levels of employment and business activity which we have enjoyed since the end of the war. Any existing threat to our standard of living can and must be met, and defeated.

That confidence, however, is based in turn upon the assumption that government, both state and federal, will do all that needs to be done, and do it promptly, to keep the economy functioning at high levels.

But there must be no whistling in the dark, no running away from the facts.

The facts are that the people of Michigan, in common with the people of the entire United States, are profoundly disturbed by current economic uncertainties, and political vacillation about solving them. Many industrial workers are suffering severe wage losses. One out of 20 Michigan wage earners is out of work.

Rising unemployment in the automobile plants is causing deep concern. Numerous Michigan workers are employed at sub-standard wages. Business men are fearful of a falling off of purchasing power. Financing difficulties are hampering new construction and new enterprise. Farmers are tightening their belts and reducing their purchases because farm income has dropped sharply. Many Michigan farmers are in real distress, caught in a squeeze between falling farm prices and continued high prices of the things the farmer must buy. These fears must be checked and these trends reversed.

The current economic uncertainty is not confined to Michigan. It is largely a national problem, affecting the entire American economy. The big decisions which will justify the confidence of the people are decisions which must be made in Washington.

Yet the people also look—and quite properly—to Lansing for state policies which will accomplish whatever can be accomplished by a state government, to maintain our prosperity.

To the need for such action, I wish to direct your undivided attention.

Agriculture: About 180,000 Michigan families are directly dependent upon agriculture, and the entire population is indirectly dependent upon the products and purchasing power of the farmer. Michigan farm products annually are worth about a billion dollars, making agriculture one of our three biggest industries. The nationwide decline in farm prices has seriously affected many Michigan farmers. Fortunately, we are a highly diversified agricultural state, yet during the past twelve months farm income declined about 13 per cent in Michigan.

Asks Better Farm Marketing Program

Looking for some means whereby the state could help in this farm crisis, I called together representatives of the farmers who produce the crops, the processors, and the grocers who sell them. The state department of agriculture and Michigan State College were asked to give us their best advice.

We came to the conclusion that Michigan farmers can be substantially helped by a sound program of better marketing.

Michigan farms produce the world's finest products and produce them efficiently. In achieving their high efficiency of production, our farmers have been greatly helped by our system of county agricultural agents. But because our farms are close to several of the nation's biggest cities, we have never been compelled to use comparable efficiency in marketing our crops.

But now the competition is becoming keener. Farmers in other states have developed many advanced methods of grading, packaging, advertising and selling their wares in the stores and shops of Michigan's marketing area. Their methods have helped them to invade the markets which should belong to us.

Against this competition, the Michigan farmer is going to need every resource of modern marketing, packaging and salesmanship.

Working from these premises, a farm marketing program was developed—not by me, but by the farm leaders, business men and state agricultural officials whom I called into conference on this question.

Among those who were named to the steering committee to work out this program were the president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, the master of the State Grange, the president of the Farmers Union, the president of the Michigan Association of Farmer Cooperatives, the chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, and representatives from the Michigan Agricultural conference, the Michigan Chain Stores Bureau, the Michigan Association of Retail Food Dealers, Michigan State College, and the State Department of Agriculture. The chairmen of your House and Senate committees on agriculture, and the chairmen of the Senate Finance and House Ways and Means committees were invited to sit in on the conferences.

The program developed under these auspices contains no magic. It involves no crop controls or price supports. It is just a plan to do a lot of hard and undramatic work among farmers, processors, retailers and consumers, to develop better ways of selling more Michigan farm products.

It will not bring overnight results. But the results are likely to be sound and permanent—and even a small percentage rise in Michigan farm income will repay, many times over, the proposed investment of $500,000.

In brief, we propose to go to the farmer and offer him help in doing a better job of selling his crops; we propose to help Michigan food processors and retailers do a better job of presenting Michigan food products to the consumers; and we propose to show Mrs. Housewife how she can feed her family better and at lower cost by buying the products of Michigan farms.

Suggests Marketing Aides for State

To accomplish this we would add a group of agricultural specialists to the staffs of the Michigan State College Extension Service and the State Department of Agriculture. These will include twelve county marketing agents, who will be sent into twelve selected counties to do the same job of helping in marketing problems that the county agricultural agent now does in the field of crop production.

The recommended appropriations to carry out this program are set forth in my budget message. A memorandum will be placed before you explaining in detail each phase of the program, and where every dollar of the requested appropriation is to go.

Industry: Of equal importance with this agricultural program is the need for strong measures to maintain Michigan industry, to provide jobs, to cushion the shock of unemployment, and to maintain the purchasing power of our people.

Unemployment insurance: At a time when mass layoffs are occurring in the automotive industry, our $450 million dollar job insurance fund constitutes one of our main safeguards against recession.

But this great cushion of purchasing power will not sustain the worker's family, the storekeeper's business, the farmer's market, or the manufacturer's sales, unless it is used adequately to keep jobless families off the relief rolls, and paying cash for their necessities.

To protect Michigan's prosperity, unemployment insurance benefits must be increased. Under our existing law the maximum benefits which an unemployed citizen can receive is $35 a week—and that is for a family with four or more children.

For a family with four children that figures out to 83 cents a day per person—a sum scarcely enough in these times to keep body and soul together.

To assume that Michigan families can be retained as paying customers during layoff periods on a maximum of 83 cents a day per person is utter folly.

The annual struggle between representatives of labor and management over dollar amounts of benefits is not only fruitless but scandalous and destructive of unity and good will.

Would Increase Idle Pay Figure

To end this situation and put job insurance benefits up to a realistic level, I propose that the rate of benefits be expressed not in dollars but in terms of 50 per cent of the average wage paid in Michigan in all industries covered by the job insurance system. For the twelve months ending Oct. 31, 1953, this average wage was $82.30. This proposal compares favorably with the benefits established in the original Michigan act, which were approximately equal to 52 per cent of the average wage then prevailing.

Present dependency allowances of $2 per dependent child, up to a maximum of four children, should be continued, with the provision that in no case shall total benefits exceed two-thirds of the average wage figure.

Since none of us wishes to encourage idleness, it will be necessary to provide, also, that no individual shall receive more than a reasonable percentage of his actual weekly earnings.

Such an amendment will provide for automatic adjustment of job insurance benefits, according to economic conditions.

One phase of this question has ceased to be controversial. That is the need for extension of the period of benefits from 20 to 26 weeks.

GOVERNOR WILLIAMS

Again I recommend that this be included in a prompt and fair revision of the act.

May Include All in Job Insurance

The coverage of the act should be extended to include all establishments employing one or more employees. The present limitation that an employer must have eight employees to be covered by job insurance makes no sense. When ten little shops lay off two men each, the impact upon the community is just the same as if one big plant lays off twenty men.

More than half the states now carry coverage below the level of eight employees, and sixteen state and territorial acts provide for coverage of those with one or more employees.

This is the time, also, to review and remedy the so-called "death penalty" clause and other needlessly severe disqualification and eligibility provisions of the act.

No employer should be required to pay a penny more than necessary to accomplish the purpose of job insurance and maintain a solvent fund.

Heretofore state employees have not had the security of unemployment compensation. I recommend a study commission to review this question.

Says Job Accident Benefits Too Low

Workmen's compensation: Second only to unemployment insurance in cushioning the economy is the system of insurance against industrial accident and disease. Last year on-the-job injuries cost Michigan workers about $100,000,000 in wages alone.

Workmen's compensation benefits need revision, I recommend that the maximum benefits be increased to two-thirds of the prevailing weekly average wage, including the present dependency allowance of $2 per week, up to a maximum of five dependents.

The law should also be revised to provide medical care for industrial injury victims as long as such care is needed; to continue benefits as long as the disability exists; to extend coverage to those employers with one or government will stay out and let the dispute be settled by state law, or by economic force.

The effect of this new federal policy will be to deprive a considerable segment of Michigan industry of any orderly and peaceful means of settling representation questions.

Asks State Labor Relations Law

To correct this dangerous condition, I again recommend the enactment of a state labor relations law along the lines of the act now in effect in the state of New York. Such an act should guarantee the right of Michigan employees to organize and engage in collective bargaining. It should guarantee the right of the employer to refuse to bargain with any group not representative of his employees. And it should establish a state labor relations board, separate and distinct from the present State Labor Mediation Board, to handle any dispute not accepted by the National Labor Relations Board.

Public employees: The economy can be disrupted by disputes involving public, as well as private, employees. Our present law prohibits strikes by public employees, but provides no alternative means of settling their grievances.

The State Labor Mediation Board should be empowered to enter such disputes on its own motion, in the public interest, without waiting for an invitation from the parties.

And provision should be made for the kind of fact-finding commissions which have worked so well in public utility disputes.

Highways: With unemployment rising, people's minds naturally turn to the possibility of public works to channel fresh purchasing power into the arteries of commerce. We are confident no special intervention of government to provide jobs will be necessary—and if it should become necessary it will be mainly a responsibility of the federal authority.

But Michigan has one great continuing public works program—the state highway department. I believe this public works program can be immensely stepped up in the next eighteen months, with consequent benefit to our economy and without additional gasoline taxes.

The highway department, for reasons which might well be justified under other circumstances, has not matched and used the full amount of federal highway money allocated to Michigan. These funds are not lost to us. Their use is merely delayed. But this money will not help Michigan's economy in this period of need if it is allowed to remain in the federal treasury, even with a Michigan label on it.

Would Use More U. S. Road Funds

By taking full advantage of federal funds available between now and June 30, 1955, our road building program can be expanded by about $30.6 millions of dollars. I believe the highway department should move with all dispatch to get this federal money into Michigan roads. The infusion of such a sum into construction projects at this time can be of great benefit in sustaining our economy.

In a larger sense our highway program could be greatly expanded if we could use for roads more of the money collected from Michigan motorists. Our people now pay, in addition to state taxes, a two cent federal levy on every gallon of gasoline. But only part of this federal tax money collected in Michigan is put into Michigan roads.

Since 1945 the federal government has collected from our motorists $75.7 millions of dollars more than it allocated to Michigan highway purposes.

At recent meetings of the governor's conference, the governors have been all but unanimous in urging that these moneys be retained for the states—except perhaps for a minor share, to finance federal inter-state programs and maintain the Bureau of Public Roads as a co-ordinating agency.

It is my recommendation that you address a memorial to the Congress urging that all or at least a much greater part of these funds which are now collected from Michigan motorists by the federal government be returned to Michigan, or retained in Michigan, for the construction of Michigan roads and the support of our economy.

Urges Support for Seaway Plan

St. Lawrence Seaway: Congressional approval of American participation in the St. Lawrence seaway project would give great impetus to Michigan's economy. Consistent with the strong support given by the President in this cause, I again recommend that you once more direct a memorial to Congress urging favorable action.

Small business: The current economic situation is likely to have a severe impact upon small business and new business in need of venture capital. The department of economic development has been giving close study to the possibility of a privately-financed "development credit corporation" to help provide such investment.

Six New England states have already experimented successfully with this idea.

Through such a corporation, participating banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions would be able to provide a pool of venture capital to aid new enterprises and small business.

By spreading the risks, such a corporation would be able to finance many enterprises unable to get capital from ordinary sources. I recommend enabling legislation to permit financial institutions to invest in such a development credit corporation.

Tourist industry: Equally important with agriculture and manufacturing in protecting Michigan's prosperity is our great recreation industry.

This industry is certain to receive a tremendous forward push when we are able to go ahead with actual construction of the Mackinac Bridge. In addition to the bridge, there are many things which can be done, and are being done, to strengthen the tourist industry. We are working constantly with the Conservation Department to improve our resources of fish and game. Better highways will help to attract visitors. Current efforts to develop Michigan as a national winter sports center can do much to stabilize the economy of our northern counties. To help promote these things, my budget message recommends an increased advertising allowance for the tourist council.

Improvement Funds for State Parks

State Parks: One of our most effective tourist attractions is our magnificent network of 58 state parks, extending all the way from our southern border to the Porcupine Mountains. Last year more than fourteen million visitors came to these state parks, spending many millions with Michigan merchants.

In my budget message, you will find about $900,000 recommended for capital improvements in the park system, as a worthy investment in continued prosperity.

Since park development is a matter of long-range planning, it seems desirable that some stable source of annual revenue be provided for this purpose. I suggest that the annual revenue derived from mineral, oil and gravel developments on state lands be set aside for this purpose.

These are my views as to the concrete steps the state government can take to sustain our economy. Other problems are also of great importance, and these will be dealt with in subsequent messages. But I have chosen to call this problem to your special attention because I believe the preservation of prosperity is the thing with which our people are most immediately concerned.

These recommendations, and our forecasts of the state's financial future, are based upon confidence. There is no reason why this great state and this immensely wealthy nation should suffer any kind of economic recession or depression. But public confidence must be founded on the assurance that government, both state and federal, stands ready to act, and act promptly, to protect the health of our economy.

We have come a long way in meeting the problems of our great Michigan community. We have surmounted many difficulties, in the democratic spirit. Let us attack this problem in the same spirit, in confidence that we shall be able to help maintain the world's highest standard of living for the people of this state.

Coastal Smog Not Welcome

Hollywood Film Studios Find It Costly, Causing Schedule Delays

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — An unwelcome but certainly necessary topic at any film production conference in Hollywood these days is a condition that's causing more costly delays and juggling of shooting schedules than the most temperamental stars who ever lived. It's smog.

Screen director Roy Rowland warned today that if it gets much worse in the years to come, Los Angeles might lose its No. 1 industry.

In other words, the way Rowland sees it, the movie industry may get up early some smoggy dawn, tie up a toothbrush and a few things in a bundle, shimmy down the drain-pipe and hop an east-bound freight for a sunnier climate.

"After all," Rowland said, "what the moving picture industry came out here in the first place for was mainly sunshine."

"Another lure and consideration was the fact that such a variety of exteriors, from the seashore to the mountains, were bunched up in one area."

"But what good is a seashore if the smog is so thick you can't get a picture of the water if you are standing knee-deep in it?"

Smog is fast cutting down the possible exterior shooting days and clouds any over-all calculations as to the length of time the shooting of a film will require, declared the director.

This uncertainty of smog-free weather conditions jockeys up picture production costs considerably, and consequently makes it more difficult for studios and producers and business managers to estimate film budgets.

Under some circumstances a week of bad smog might run up a picture's costs by 25 per cent.

Another result is that it has the movie studios sending their location companies farther and farther away to escape the smog overcast. "Jockeying up production costs is not popular with anybody right now," said Rowland in one of the prize understatements of the new year to date.

Australia is the only inhabited continent that does not have another continent within a few miles of it.

IMMORTALIZING AVA—Assen Peikof, Bulgarian sculptor who now makes his home in Rome, is working on an impressive statue of film-lovely Ava Gardner in his studio on the Via Margutta.

The likely reproduction of the actress will be used in the film, "The Barefoot Contessa," in which Ava stars.

This Proves People Do Read Brassiere Ads!

NEW YORK (UP)—Who reads the brassiere advertisements?

The Ball Brassiere Co. distributed nationally an ad showing a model posing against a map labeled "Netherlands East Indies."

It drew a surprising number of letters from foreign embassies, university professors, geographers, students and others—pointing out the area now is known as Indonesia.

Sam Stein, company president, said he was sorry for any unintentional slight the map may have caused—but happy that the ads were being read by so many people.

A calm is a wind or air movement of less than one mile an hour.

Man Arrested 51 Times in Same City Since 1922

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (UP)—A 76-year-old Idaho Falls man was fined $25 in police court yesterday for intoxication.

It was the 51st arrest for the retired laborer since 1922, Idaho Falls police believe that is a record for one man in this city.

Turnpike Group Shuns U. S. Aid

Midwest and Florida Planners See Network of Coast-to-Coast Roads

KALAMAZOO, Mich. — A coast-to-coast network of fast, safe toll roads is envisioned by midwestern turnpike authorities.

And they intend to make a fight of it, if necessary, to keep such a vast highway program from federal regulation and control.

Meeting here yesterday, officials from four midwestern states and Florida laid the groundwork for a tightly knit organization designed to keep the inter-connecting state toll road systems in state hands.

Representatives of the five states agreed that such an organization would be the only alternative to federal regulation if uniform toll rates, traffic regulations and the like are to be set up.

Evan Howell, chairman of the Illinois Toll Highway Commission, drew immediate support from the scores of other officials when he said all states should join in a campaign for uniformity and strict state control.

"There is no question," he said, "but what we're headed toward a nationwide system of toll roads from New York to California."

"Eventually we'll have a federal toll road commission unless we have a strong organization of toll road authorities in the various states."

He added: "The day the first federal dollar comes into the toll roads you'll get federal regulation."

Officials of turnpike commissions in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio voiced similar sentiments.

At Howell's invitation, the officials agreed to meet in Chicago within the next few months to make more definite plans for organizing. Representatives from all states with turnpikes under construction or on the drawing boards also will be invited.

Progress reports by the various state officials detailed an ultimate network of connecting turnpikes extending northward to Bay City and Minneapolis, eastward to the Pennsylvania state line, southward to Cincinnati and westward to Davenport, Iowa.

Golden Circle Tarnishes for Starlets

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Whatever happened to the Golden Circle?

A couple of years ago, Paramount put forth a big hoopla about a dozen or so young hopefuls who were supposedly destined for stardom. The campaign was designed to duplicate a previous Golden Circle, which fostered such names as Susan Hayward, William Holden, Ellen Drew and Patricia Morrison.

Today only one of the most recent Golden Circle remains at Paramount — Joan Taylor. Another, Mary Murphy, had a lead in a Marion Brando picture. But only Barbara Rush appears to be working regularly in movies. One of the circle alumni was recently reported working in a gas station.

Barbara Rush's fortunes are prospering at Universal-International. She has been doing leads, her latest being opposite Rock Hudson in "Taza, Son of Cochise." I had lunch with her and she told me why the circle proved to be something less than golden:

"It was doomed from the start. As a matter of fact, I don't think it was such a good idea. They spent a lot of money promoting the circle as an institution, even took all of us to New York and around the country."

"But it was sold as an institution. Everybody had heard of the Golden Circle, but nobody could tell you who was in it."

"Besides, it isn't practical for a studio like Paramount. The studio builds very few players from scratch, as they were trying to do with us. Whatever new people they push usually have already built their reputations in other fields. Like Rosemary Clooney from records, Audrey Hepburn from the stage or Joanne Gilbert from night clubs."

The really unknown player never has a chance. We saw that when we were trying to get good roles. Every time a good one would come along, the bosses would try to borrow Elizabeth Taylor.

"Paramount isn't geared for developing new people. It makes so few pictures on its own; mostly they are made by outside producers like Hal Wallis, Perleberg-Season or Pine-Thomas. They want the protection of a star name, and that's understandable. The only studios that can build new stars are places like MGM or U-I, where bosses like Dore Schary or Edward Muhl can tell producers that they have to use contract players."

Officer Did Know What He Was Talking About

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Police officer E. E. Arnold, an expert on recovery of stolen bicycles, gave a reporter lots of good advice yesterday on how youngsters could prevent so many thefts.

"They'll steal the wheels off bicycles, even if you've got them locked up," Arnold said. "Then officer Arnold took the reporter to the city pound, where recovered bicycles are kept locked up until claimed."

Burglars had stolen all the wheels.

Mother of Five Finds She Was Divorced in 1935

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Middlesex Probate Judge John C. Leggat yesterday took under consideration the case of a wife who was divorced 18 years ago but didn't know it.

Mrs. Tovia Jokinen, 44, of Stowe, testified she went to court in 1935 to have her husband stop beating her and support herself and their two children.

She said they were reconciled later that year and have since had three more children. She told the court she decided she wanted a divorce last summer after her husband disappeared. It was then her lawyer learned she was divorced in 1935.

Two additional test wells were sunk after the original one struck shale at 336 feet and was filled in to about the 100 foot level, Willman explained.

"The tests next week will determine amount of water available and if the supply will remain constant," Willman stated. "If we can get 350 gallons per minute at a steady rate, we'll put in a pump and hook it into the city system."

Pontiac to Try Out Test Water Wells

Pump testing of Pontiac's experimental water wells at Telegraph Rd. and W. Walton Blvd. will begin next week, according to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Cab Full of Groceries Believed No Oversight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Taxi Driver Robert Louis Stevenson told Federal Judge Allen B. Hannay that 16 pounds of butter and nine pounds of coffee stolen from two supermarkets were left in his cab by another man.

"I'd say you were literally left holding the bag," Hannay said. He ordered Stevenson, 26, to serve nine remaining months of a previous sentence for forgery.

Paper Camera
New Premium to Spur Sales

NEW YORK (UP)—A camera the size of a calling card is the latest item developed for manufacturers to use as premiums to spur sales this year.

The cardboard camera costs just eight cents, takes a picture on verichrome film and can be re-used if the owner wants to go to the trouble to have it reloaded.

"It folds flat for mailing and won't be sold in any store, just given away as sales premiums," explained Robert Kaufman, president of the company which just introduced the cardboard camera.

"We started developing it two years ago when business was so good no companies wanted to look at give-away items. We were tired of key rings and ash trays as sales premiums."

Now Kaufman and his business partner are having no trouble selling the idea to manufacturers, who plan to give it away with various products, including breakfast food, under various names, such as "spy camera."

It is an adaptation of the original pin-hole camera which was used extensively in Japan during World War II, Kaufman said.

Speed Is Blamed

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Excessive speed on the highways is not necessarily the number one accident cause maintains Donald S. Buck, Traffic Safety Engineer for the Department of the Army.

Buck claims that under present accident investigative methods far too many accidents are blamed on speed when the investigator is unable to determine the specific unsafe act which was the direct cause of the accident.

"Until we attack the specific driving failures causing our accidents, we will continue to cluck our tongues at 'speeders' impose harsher speed limits... have post-stall governors on vehicles to limit top speeds, and keep alive the ignorance and conditions which foster such familiar phrases as 'Sunday driver', 'hot rod', 'flying low', 'eager beaver' and 'souped up jobs'."

Layne, Walker to Start in Pro Bowl Game

Lion Backfield Stars Join Joe Perry, Younger

Chandnois Paired With 3 Clevelanders, Renfro, Graham, Jagade

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leading lights of the champion Detroit Lions and the runnerup Cleveland Browns will resume rivalries when professional football's finest all-star attraction, the annual Pro Bowl game, gets underway Sunday.

Bobby Layne, the quarterback who guided the Lions to a 17-16 title triumph over the Browns, today was named to start the game.

With him in the backfield will be his teammate, Doak Walker; Tank Younger of the Los Angeles Rams, and Joe Perry of the San Francisco 49ers, for the Western Conference squad.

Otto Graham, Cleveland's quarterback, will have in the Eastern Division team his teammate, halfback Ray Renfro and fullback Harry Jagade, and halfback Lynn Chandnois of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Game means prestige and money for the participants.

The fourth annual edition comes off Sunday in Memorial Coliseum and over a national television network, with the Western Division all star team favored for the 3rd straight time.

Players on the winning squad receive $700 for less than an hour's work, and the losing squadmen get $500.

Selection to appear on the two 31-man squads means much more, however, to the individual players. To be picked, for instance, makes an excellent bargaining point when contract time comes around.

Another laurel is the George Halas Trophy, named for the famed Chicago Bear coach and awarded to the player voted the game's outstanding player.

Three past winners were Otto Graham, fullback Dan Towler of the Los Angeles Rams, and defensive halfback Don Doll of the Washington Redskins, who won the award while performing last year for Detroit.

Shaw's Jewelers Will Meet Windsor Quintet Friday Night

Shaw's Jewelers of Pontiac will play the Windsor, Ont., A.K.O.'s in an exhibition game at Ortonville High School Friday night for the benefit of the Ortonville Athletic association.

The Windsor quintet is primarily the same group of eagers that represented Canada in the 1952 Olympics. Ex-Assumption College players provide the bulk of the team.

Game will be a "homecoming" for Shaw's Pete Palshan. Palshan formerly was a standout with the Ortonville High School team.

Jewelers also will present ex-Kentucky cager Garland Townes; ex-St. Fred ace Bob McManus, Cecil and Mike Hanes, Skeeter Laidlaw and Lee Collins, all former Keego Harbor stars; and veteran city league performers Hubert Price and Bob Seay.

A preliminary game at 7:15 p.m. will match Drayton Drug and Davis Machinery of the Waterford Township Recreation League. Davis team is composed of Ortonville players.

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—J. William Glassford has made it plain, "I'm still football coach at the University of Nebraska."

But even Bill Glassford was not saying how long he expects to keep his $12,500 a year job.

Having been asked to step out in a wholesale reshaping of the Nebraska athletic program, Glassford met yesterday with acting chancellor John Selleck and athletic board chairman Walter Beggs.

That meeting ended without agreement, and Selleck called for a joint meeting of the University board of regents and the athletic board either tonight or tomorrow night.

Last night, Glassford kept a previously scheduled speaking engagement at American Legion Post No. 1 in Omaha.

After a standing ovation from 300 persons present, Glassford said: "I know you have all read a lot of things about what is going

Chiefs Hope to Snap Losing Streak Friday Against Indians

Pontiac High's swimming team will seek to regain its winning ways Friday afternoon, when Flint Central's varsity and junior varsity come here for a double meet.

Chiefs have dropped their last two meets, to Birmingham and Arthur Hill, after beating Mt. Clemens and Ferndale in their opening meets.

Leading Pontiac will be junior standout Bob Lamson, who still is undefeated in the individual medley. Jerry Calkins, Central's fine medley performer, is expected to push Lamson in the specialty.

Flint has bowed to Lansing Eastern and Bay City Central in its only two starts to date.

Meet is set for 4 p.m. in the PHS pool.

EAST LANSING (UP)—Sophomore John Dudeck was rated a good bet to crack the Jenison pool 200-yard breaststroke record Saturday when Michigan State hosts Wisconsin swimmers.

Dudeck swam a 2:22.6 in his specialty last week against Illinois, well under the MSC pool mark of 2:39.5 set by Dave Seibold in 1949.

Carpenter, Rickey Both Pleased by Dickson Deal

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Owner Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies and General Manager Branch Rickey of the Pittsburgh Pirates both had that "cat-that-ate-the-canary" look today: Carpenter because he separated Rickey from his prize pitcher; Rickey because he separated Carpenter from $80,000 in much-needed cash plus two utility players.

The deal, completed yesterday, sent Pirates' righthander Murry Dickson to the Phillies for infielder Jack Lohrke, pitcher Andy Hansen and the $80,000.

Carpenter promptly declared that the addition of the 37-year-old Dickson gave the Phillies the top pitching staff in the National League. Rickey, whose recent request for more working capital was turned down by club executives, reported that he was pleased with the deal.

The Phillies have been after Dickson ever since the 1951 season when he won 20 games for the Pirates, who also finished eighth that year.

Carpenter envisioned his 1954 pitching squad consisting of 10 players: Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons, Dickson, Bob Miller, Thornton Kipper, Jim Konstanty, Steve Ridzik, Johnny Lindel, Kari

Drews, and bonus rookie Tommy Qualters.

The Phillies' president said that Dickson, despite his relatively advanced years, should have at least two good years.

"Dickson pitches with an easy motion that doesn't take much out of his arm," a club spokesman said. "If he can win 10 games for the Pirates (his 1953 record) he certainly should do as well or much better with our defense behind him."

Dickson, commenting on the trade at his Leavenworth, Kan., home, agreed.

"It's easier to pitch when you have a better infield behind you," Dickson said. "The fellows we had (in Pittsburgh) needed more experience and hits went through them that older and more experienced players probably would have stopped."

Asked about his reputation for giving up home run balls — he set a record of 39 in 1948, with the St. Louis Cardinals — Dickson declared:

"With the Phils' infield, I'll be able to throw that low, inside pitch more often for the double play, instead of trying to throw a fast one past the batter for the third strike."

Dickson's acquisition may open the way for further trades. The Phillies spokesman commented on this saying that the club is now so deep in pitchers that they might be able to swing another trade that would net some badly needed batting punch. But he hastened to add that no other deal was actually in the works as yet.

But Phillies' Owner Having Holdout Trouble

Simmons Balks at Terms; Vernon Is Displeased With Nat Contract

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league baseball club owners were in anything but a happy frame of mind today as they scanned the headlines looking for new holdouts and wondering just what their own stars would do with the contracts they were offered.

Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies and Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators already were having their troubles, and contracts had been in the mails only a few days. Some clubs hadn't even sent theirs out.

Carpenter had a fourth unsigned contract — this one from Curt Simmons, his ace left-hander — on his desk, while Griffith was wondering how he was going to get Mickey Vernon, the American League's No. 1 hitter last year, into the fold. Vernon returned the first offer.

On the more optimistic side, both the pennant winners — the world champion New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers — announced their first players in the fold.

The Yankees tucked away the signed documents of Harry Byrd, the pitcher they obtained from the Philadelphia Athletics last month.

Byrd is supposed to give the Bronx Bombers the insurance they need for a sixth straight flag. Apparently he was so happy to pull out of a seventh-place club that he sent the contract back post-haste.

The Dodgers reached an agreement with Captain Pee Wee Reese, the shortstop who turned down the manager's job before it was given to Walt Alston.

No terms were revealed, but Reese was said to have received about $32,000 last season and more this time.

The Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox each announced the signing of one player. The Indians added infielder Bill Gynn to their list of contented toilers, while the Red Sox hired 37-year-old Joe Dobson, who was given his unconditional release by the Chicago White Sox last season.

The Philadelphia A's signed

Giel Reported as Leaning Toward Baseball Giant

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)—Paul Giel, everybody's All-America halfback from Minnesota who loves golf and hopes to make a career out of professional baseball, hinted today that his choice of a half dozen hopeful clubs may be the New York Giants.

With a final season of baseball at Minnesota before him, Giel is being careful of his eligibility and admits only that "a few clubs have told me they are interested in me when I graduate." But he speaks glowingly of the Giants, whose top farm club is at Minneapolis, home of Minnesota University.

"I've met some of them, fellows like Bobby Thomson and Wes Westrum," he says, "and they sure are great fellows. I would imagine it would be a pleasure to play ball with fellows like them."

The handsome 20-year-old with the collar-ad features doesn't fit the popular conception of a college football hero.

He stands only five feet, 11 inches and weighs about 180 pounds. Your first impression is that he isn't big enough—but he has looked like a giant to Minnesota opposition for three years.

Paul wants nothing to do with pro football but sagely is pointing toward baseball, where he is every bit as good as he was on the gridiron.

NCAA Refuses to Ease Substitution Rule

Jersey No. 15 Is Lucky for MSC's McCoy

EAST LANSING (UP)—Forward Julius McCoy isn't superstitious but he admits a lucky jersey may have something to do with a scoring spree that has given him a tie for individual Michigan State basketball scoring honors.

McCoy, who had Jersey No. 15 through a brilliant high school career and a spectacular season on the MSC freshman team, was assigned No. 18 at the beginning of his 1st season on the varsity.

When senior center Bob McCullough quit the squad recently and turned in No. 15, McCoy snatched up the jersey and has been on a scoring spree ever since. He hit for 25 points against Iowa, 16 against Kansas State and 27 again Illinois.

McCoy and Al Ferrari each have 148 points in MSC's nine games.

Close Contest Looms Between State, Michigan

Spartan Cagers Invade Wolverines' Court in Weekend Test

EAST LANSING (UP)—Michigan State basketball team will make the short jump to Ann Arbor this week end and hopes to jump up in the Western Conference standings with a victory over the rival Wolverines.

Michigan State looked like a team going nowhere as far as the Big Ten race is concerned until the Spartans pulled a 60-59 upset of favored Illinois last Saturday.

Spartans now have won six and lost three for the season and have a game won and lost in the conference. Michigan has a 6-5 season's mark with a single win against three Big Ten losses.

Because of the hot rivalry between the two schools, however, Saturday night's game is expected to be a tight one. Michigan State won two from Michigan last year but the scores were close, 55-52 and a closer 66-64.

Only home event for MSC winter sports squads this week end is a swimming meet here Saturday with Wisconsin. Michigan State is favored after beating Illinois 61-32 and cracking three pool records last weekend.

On the road, MSC wrestlers meet Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh and the fencing team will take on Wayne and Detroit universities at Detroit.

Ludington Grid Coach Takes Recreation Post

LUDINGTON (UP)—Harold W. Madden, 35, will give up his head football coaching job at Ludington High School and become recreation director, the school board announced Wednesday.

The board said Madden would continue as athletic director and physical education instructor. No successor has been named for the job post, although basketball coach Joe Kowach was considered a top candidate.

Madden succeeded Bernard McNutt as head football coach here two years ago.

LUNKER PIKE—Don Farley, 2710 Lakeridge Ave., Walled Lake, holds a 13-pound 8-ounce pike—the largest yet reported taken in an Oakland County lake. Farley speared the 36-inch specimen Tuesday night in Orchard Lake through 10 to 12 inches of ice.

Parkers, Ludington and Marlette Top UP Ratings

DETROIT (UP)—Highland Park and Ludington, which barely missed state high school basketball championships last spring, were stamped as title threats for the 1954 tournament today as they led their respective classes in the first weekly United Press ratings.

Marlette and Remus, a pair of unbeaten teams, led the lower classes.

Texan Top JC Scorer

COMPTON, Calif. (UP)—Tom Boyd of Amarillo, Tex., College retained his lead as the highest point scorer in basketball in the National Junior College Athletic Association, with a total of 296 points scored in 14 games.

Statistics released today by the NCAA bureau show that Gail Jenkins, Pratt, Kan., and J. Fitch, Jackson, Mich., have the best game average, 25 points each.

Football Group Aims Blast at Nonethical Play

Action Is Apparently Slap at Notre Dame's Faking of Injuries

SARASOTA, Fla. (UP)—College football must keep its one-plateau system and must get rid of such practices as the faked injury and the sucker shift.

This verdict was handed down yesterday by the Football Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

The committee turned down all efforts to liberalize the limited substitution rule which went into effect last season and proved immensely popular with football fans.

The most surprising development of the meeting was the strong condemnation of such "nonethical" practices as injury faking to stop the clock and false starts intended to pull the opposition offside.

In what appeared to be mainly a slap at Notre Dame, the committee unanimously approved a resolution declaring that injury faking is "dishonest, unsportsmanlike and contrary to the rules."

Notre Dame players were accused last season of feigning injuries in the Iowa game to stop the clock and gain time for touchdowns in the closing seconds of each half. These scores enabled the Irish to escape with a 14-14 tie.

During the 1952 season Notre Dame figured most prominently in several sucker shift incidents. Last season, there were reports of such incidents in the Southeastern and Missouri Valley conferences.

The Rules Committee said that, for the present, it would "rely on the integrity of the coaches and players rather than upon further legislation" to wipe out these unethical procedures.

If this doesn't succeed, Committee Chairman H. L. (Fritz) Crisler of the University of Michigan said, the rule book will be rewritten. Committee Secretary E. E. Wisniewski of the University of Denver said minor revisions may be made in the substitution rule in the future, but "two-plateau football is dead as a duck."

CASE—The Handshake grip. Insures Proper Start—The flawless, easy style of match queen Marion Ladewig is the natural result of her relaxed starting position—form that is easy to copy. Note in the sketch that she holds

In this way she "shakes hands with the ball"—inserts her fingers (first) and thumb into the ball as if shaking hands with it. Thus her grip becomes mechanical and is always the same. It is this methodical procedure that gives her an unchanging amount of hook-spinning action on the ball.

Her left foot advanced, she pushes the ball away from the body in perfect timing with the first (right foot) step. The amount of push-away regulates the length of her swinging arc so that the speed of her ball is always the same. Shaking hands with the ball is an important little "courtesy" that pays off.

Prep Back Tosses Aerial to Himself

SEATTLE (UP)—It took a lot of fancy ball handling but a quarterback threw himself a forward pass for a 45-yard gain.

Foster (Wash.) High school was on its own 45-yard line when Quarterback Kenny Kay tossed a pass to End Bob Pitts, good for 12 yards. As Pitts was about to be tackled he threw a lateral to Fullback Harlow Stevens who in turn flipped to Left Half Wilbert Johnson. After running for eight more yards he lateraled to Right Halfback Mike Fleming who lobbed the pigskin to the player who started the play—Kenny Kay.

The Cleveland Indians were the strikeout champions of the American League in 1953. The Tribe's batters fanned 683 times.

Anti-Red PWs Likely Free on Scheduled Jan. 23 Date

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

Carried to its logical conclusion, the Communist position on Korean War prisoners would subject the prisoners to another two years of questioning before setting them free.

The United States, strongly supported by Britain, says nothing doing.

The Reds are demanding that they be given a full 90 days of actual talking in which to convince anti-Red prisoners that they should return to the Communist fold.

In the 90-day period ending Dec. 23, the Reds conducted prisoner interviews during only about 10 days.

Their present demands would delay the prisoner release indefinitely, and, on their past record, would carry the interviews into January 1956.

Nothing could be better illustrative of the delaying tactics which the Reds have practiced right through the long and frequently bitter truce negotiations up to the present moment when attempts are being made to get preliminary talks on a permanent Korean peace started again.

times to abet the Red stalling tactics.

This week, after voting down a plan which automatically would have released some 23,000 war prisoners to civilian status as of 12:01 a.m., Jan. 23, the Indians are expected to announce a plan of their own.

It simply would return the prisoners to the side which held them originally, thus side-stepping all controversial issues and making public admission that the Neutral Nations Commission had failed in its job.

It would, however, permit India to get out from under any Communist blame attached to the prisoner release.

But no matter what the method, it appears as of today that on Jan. 23 the prisoners will gain their freedom.

United Nations Commander Gen. John E. Hull is completing arrangements in Taipei for the release of 14,000 anti-Red Chinese to Formosa. Approximately 8,000 anti-Red Korean prisoners will remain in South Korea and presumably will join the South Korean army.

Hull has announced there absolutely will be no more negotiations on the subject.

Eighth Army Commander Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor has warned

Wild Turkey Raiser Mum on His Sales

BELEFONTE, Pa. (UP) — Ernest N. Latham, of Julian, Pa., raises wild turkeys — and never reveals a sale.

Latham raised about 500 wild turkeys in 1953 — mainly for sportsmen's clubs which liberate them on their own grounds.

But he also sells them discreetly to hunters who want to make sure of a kill. Most such hunters stake their purchase and shoot it. One let the fresh blood stain his new hunting jacket as though he'd carried the bird over his shoulder.

But if anybody asks Latham if he sold a certain hunter a turkey, he says:

"I don't recall any such incident. If a man buys a wild turkey from me, that's his business."

Grains Zigzag, Get Nowhere

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains puttered along without getting anywhere in a market distinguished by its apathy on the board of trade today.

When prices did show any change from the previous close it was usually on the down side. But only down small fractions. And in many cases these losses were quickly recovered.

There was considerable news of a statistical nature grading grains overnight but none of it prompted much desire to buy or sell.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to 1/4 cent lower, March 2.08 1/2, corn 1 1/4 cent higher, March 1.52 1/2, oats 1/4 cent higher, March 79 3/4, rye unchanged to 1/4 cent higher, March 1.20 1/4, soybeans 1/4 cent lower to 1/4 cent higher, January 3.04 1/2, and lard 8 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, January 18 1/2.
