U.S. Is Hoping to Win France Over on Bases

Seeks to Persuade De Gaulle on Further Use of Air Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States apparently hopes to persuade President Charles de Gaulle that France has a stake in allowing NATO bases to remain on her soil, even if most are reduced to a standby basis.

At the same time, Washington officials are anxious that the U.S. Air Force not be barred from flying French skies.

Approval now is granted by France on a month-to-month basis.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara hinted this direction in U.S. thinking after announcing yesterday that he has ordered the remaining 122 U.S. transport and reconnaissance planes and the bulk of American war stocks, some 575,000 tons, shifted out of France.

This was the first major action to comply with de Gaulle's demand that North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces leave France, although NATO leaders already have agreed to move the alliance's military headquarters from Paris to Belgium.

While doing this, McNamara obviously sought to avoid any appearance of a rupture.

The defense secretary noted that de Gaulle has stated "unequivocally," as McNamara put it, that France intends to remain a member of the alliance.

"We welcome that statement," McNamara said. "We will do everything to cooperate with him to carry it out."

Without being specific, McNamara said there are facilities in NATO that are beneficial to France.

"We presume she will continue to wish to use these benefits," he added.

And in the next breath, McNamara said the United States "of course" hopes to continue to use French air space.

Labor Chief Dies After Long Illness

Oakland County AFL-CIO Council president for the past 13 years, Fred V. Haggard, 61, died yesterday after an illness of eight months.

Service will be 1 p.m. Saturday at Bethany Baptist Church with burial in Oakview Cemetery, Royal Oak, by the Coats Funeral Home, Waterford Township.

Cedar Lodge No. 60, F&M, will conduct a memorial service at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the funeral home.

Surviving are his wife, Mabel A., and two sisters.

SECREATARY AT ARMS
Elected as sergeant at arms of Local 596 in 1944, he was subsequently elected as recording secretary and financial secretary of the Fisher Body local.

In 1953 Haggard was elected council president.

Haggard served as a board of trustees member for the Oakland University Foundation and Pontiac Area United Fund, and was a member of the Oakland County Economic Development Commission, Area Redevelopment Advisory Council and Oakland County Planning Commission.

Memorial tributes may be made to the Fred V. Haggard Memorial Scholarship Fund at the AFL-CIO office.

Aimed to Form Jam-Proof Net for Messages

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla.

(AP) — Eight satellites, including seven to speed secret military messages between Washington and other strategic points rode a mighty Titan 3 rocket today toward lofty outposts in space.

The 12-story-tall Titan — most powerful booster in the Defense Department arsenal — blasted off on its fourth test flight at 9 a.m. EST.

The satellites are scheduled to zip into random circular orbits 21,000 miles above the equator, forming a jam-proof communications network in the skies.

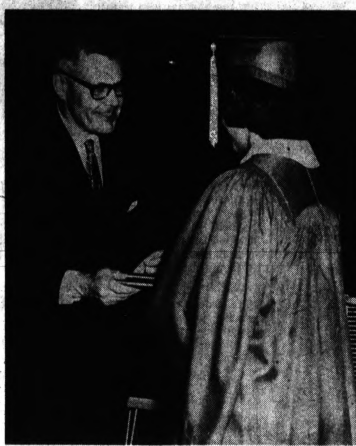

Eight minutes after blastoff, the triple-barreled booster's acrobatic last stage settled with its payload into an orbit ranging from 104 to 115 miles above the earth. The Air Force said a later correction would put it into the desired 105-mile circular orbit.

Five U.S. Army ground terminals stand ready around the world to relay military test traffic through the orbiting vehicles.

MESSAGE CARRIER
The seven communications satellites — each capable of linking ground stations up to 10,350 miles apart — were built to carry messages between Washington and Viet Nam.

Land lines and undersea cables are vulnerable to sabotage and natural interruption.

If this first batch proves such a system feasible, about eight more satellites will be sent up aboard another Titan 3 in August, followed by a third bunch next spring if necessary.

Foreign Aid Program Wins in First Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's foreign aid program won its first congressional test today when the House Foreign Affairs Committee completed work on a $3.3 billion authorization bill covering two years instead of the usual one.

The committee put off until Monday a formal vote on the measure, which gives the administration nearly everything it asked.

Three persons perished in the airplane. The lone occupant of the second plane also was killed.

State police said the bigger plane was owned by Aaxico Airlines, Inc., based at International Airport in Miami, Fla. Saturn Airways, formerly Aaxico, said the Miami plane was not theirs.

The pilot was identified as Joseph P. Alvarez, 50, Inkster, Mich., and his copilot was William B. Ross of Riverside, Ontario, Canada.

The third occupant of the plane who died was not identified immediately, although the plane was registered to Pryor W. Lee of North Brook, Ill.

Both planes fell to the ground near Leon Lake, about 8 miles northwest of here.

The bigger plane went down in a woods and burned. The other plane crashed into an open field.

A farmer told police he heard a loud noise and looked skyward to see "parts flying all over."

The airliner was a DC3, a plane frequently used by local or feeder airlines.

Both planes were demolished.

Second Strike Hits Edison

Utility Workers Out After Talks Collapse

DETROIT (AP) — Some 3,000 utility workers struck Detroit Edison Co. facilities in southeastern Michigan at midnight after more than 10 hours of last-ditch negotiations failed to produce a contract agreement.

The affected area covers 7,600 square miles from the Michigan thumb near Port Austin to Monroe and from Detroit to East Lansing.

When negotiations between the firm and Local 223, Utility Workers of America, broke off last night, the two sides were 2.15 cents an hour apart in proposed packages for the first year of a contract, said James Burke, federal mediator.

Meanwhile, a strike by 750 linemen, members of International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, against the giant utility firm entered its 17th day today.

Burke said no new negotiations were scheduled.

"Edison intends to maintain near-normal customer service with the help of supervisors and other employees," a statement issued by Walker L. Ciesler, board chairman, and Edison President Donald F. Kiger stated.

Alex Roach, treasurer of Local 223, said pickets were at power stations and maintenance shops throughout the Detroit area and at the company's general office shortly after midnight.

"It's up to the company now," said Roach. "The company has to make the first move... we don't think they could stand a prolonged strike."

"We would probably have settled for one more cent across the board," he added.

Pontiac Teachers Ratify Pact With $5,800 Base

A 1966-67 contract with a $5,800 base salary yesterday was ratified by Pontiac School District's teachers.

It passed by a vote of 233-161, according to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools.

"I'm very happy it was ratified," said Whitmer. "It's a good contract; good for the teachers and for the school district."

In agreement was Raymond Reiche, Pontiac Education Association negotiating chairman.

"It's a good contract," said Reiche, "built on the faith of the people in the community and on our school board."

BASE SALARY

With the base salary jumped $300 from this year's $5,500, the contract boosts the maximum salary for the holder of a master's degree over $10,000 for the first time.

Raises will range from $200 to $625, not including a teacher's normal increment in advancing from one experience level to the next.

Teachers now in the system actually will earn $590 to $1,098 more next year than they did this year.

The contract, covering more than 800 teachers in the bargaining unit, resulted from some 45 hours of negotiations between representatives of the Pontiac Education Association and the board of education.

Waterford Teachers to Ask Accord

More than 500 teachers of the Waterford Township School District are expected to attend the Waterford Township Board of Education meeting tonight to urge that a 1966-67 teacher contract agreement be reached.

Because of the anticipated large turnout the 7:30 meeting will be held at Waterford Kettering High School instead of the administration building.

A statement will be issued at the meeting by the Waterford Education Association's negotiating committee, according to Robert G. Crumpton, WEA vice president and head of the negotiating team.

Crumpton said an impasse has been reached with the board of education on bargaining for a new contract.

Representatives of both negotiating committees were slated to meet with an official of the State Labor Mediation Board this afternoon.

TO WITHHOLD SERVICES

Last Friday, teachers voted to withhold their services next fall if a contract agreement is not reached.

Crumpton said the board has estimated it will have $300,000 in surplus funds at the end of the current school year.

The WEA is seeking between $600,000 to $700,000 or about $150,000 to $250,000 more than has been offered by the school board's negotiating committee, noted Crumpton.

They are asking for the additional funds for salary increases and to hire more teachers to reduce the class load.

PRESENT SCHEDULE

The present salary schedule for teachers with bachelor's degrees ranges from a starting pay of $3,350 a year to $8,242 after 11 years' experience.

Teachers with masters' degrees presently begin at $5,750 a year, working their way up to $9,396 after 12 years' experience.

The salary schedule for teachers with masters' degrees plus 30 additional credit hours begins at $6,150 and progresses to $9,894 after 13 years' experience.

There are presently about 740 teachers in the school system. The WEA has 665 members.

U.S. Combat Toll 2nd Highest of '66

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American combat dead climbed to the second highest level of the year last week, reflecting in part the cost of the victory over a North Vietnamese regiment in the central highlands.

The U. S. military command said 141 Americans were killed, 741 wounded and one missing or captured last week compared with 109 killed, 636 wounded and 13 missing in the week of May 29-June 4.

A total of 146 Americans died in action in the week of May 15-21.

The latest toll brought the number of U. S. servicemen reported killed by enemy fire since Jan. 1 to 1,566 and to 3,804 since Jan. 1, 1961.

Teacher Vote Held in Detroit

Ecorse Group May Take Case to Court

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's 10,000 public school teachers are voting today to determine whether to strike in support of new contract goals.

Meanwhile, 194 fired teachers in suburban Ecorse considered going to court in an attempt to void their dismissal for striking and to clarify the position of public employees under Michigan law.

The AFL-CIO Detroit Federation of Teachers claims to represent 6,000 of 10,000 teachers in 328 public schools which close for the summer next Wednesday. The federation has been certified as bargaining agent.

Other Detroit teachers are members of the independent Detroit Education Association, an affiliate of the National Education Association.

REQUESTS

The federation is asking a reduction in class size, a shortening of the school year, pay for Christmas and Easter holidays and pay raises of $1,000 to $1,700 annually. The current scale runs from $5,500 for beginners to $10,300.

There have been a rash of teacher work stoppages, some by National Education Association affiliates, in recent weeks in suburban Detroit and Flint. At one time 2,000 teachers were out. All have returned, except in Ecorse, where the board of education fired all Wednesday.

Ecorse teachers struck June 3. The walkout closed seven schools with 4,000 pupils.

"We're going to miss this all the way," Miss Lydia Rizzo, EFT president, said during a rally at a Steelworkers Union hall, where teachers sang "Solidarity Forever," the anthem of the U.S. labor movement.

2 Convicted in City Police Bribery Case

Two of three men charged with conspiring to bribe a Pontiac police officer were found guilty today by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Charles Rouss, 52, of Detroit and Odus Tinner, 49, of St. Clair Shores were found guilty of conspiracy to bribe.

Ziem set 9 a.m. July 19 as the date for sentencing the pair.

Charged, along with reputed Mafia leader Angelo (Barrel) Lombardi, 37, of Detroit, with conspiracy to bribe, Rouss and Tinner had waived a jury trial and their case was heard by Judge Ziem as a jury trial.

The jury yesterday convicted Lombardi of bribing the police officer and conspiracy to bribe.

FOUR-MONTH PERIOD

Lombardi was found guilty of paying $2,050 over a four-month period to Capt. Raymond E. Meggitt, while Meggitt while he was cooperating with him in giving protection to an alleged gambling establishment, the Seaway Club and Social Club, 118 S. Paddock.

Meggitt played his undercover role with the authorization of P. H. Chief William K. Hanger from June to October last year when police raided the establishment.

The three are free on bond pending sentencing.

She Gave Life for Her Dog

A valiant attempt to remove her 16-year-old dog from a smoke-filled house last night cost an elderly Pontiac Township widow her own life.

Mrs. Clara Soper, 84, who lived with only her beloved Pekinese dog Butch, in a small frame house behind 3385 Squirrel, died today at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital of smoke inhalation.

She had reentered the house at 7:30 p.m. yesterday to save Butch.

A neighbor, Mrs. Chester I. Wade, of 3377 Squirrel, said that Mrs. Soper came to her door and asked that she call a television repairman because the television set was on fire.

Mrs. Wade walked toward the Soper house with the elderly woman and noticed that it was filled with smoke.

Present salary scales call for $5,300 to $6,650 for teachers with bachelor's degrees, scaled over a 12-year period. Those with master's degrees have a salary scale of $8,800 to $10,000 over a 14-year period.

Waterford Hot, Cold in School Vote

On the theory that half a loaf (in this case two-fifths) is better than none, the Waterford Township school administration accepted the verdict of voters in Monday's school election.

Approved were two proposals that authorized a total bond issue of $10.7 million for a new high school, a new elementary school, additions and improvements to existing facilities and acquisition of more school sites.

Down the electoral drain went bond-issue proposals for another $1-plus million to provide a new high school auditorium and a swimming pool, and a millage increase to operate the new facilities approved.

Defeat of the millage increase puts school authorities in somewhat of a bind, since a couple of years hence they could find themselves with a couple of new schools and no money with which to operate them.

There is a bright side, however, to the cloudy prospect. Since the millage proposal lost by only 65 votes in a slim 21.3 per cent vote turnout, the township educators are hopeful that another election — either next year or the year following — will reverse the decision and provide funds to open and operate the new buildings.

It would be a serious blow to Waterford's excellent educational system and its student population if among those who failed to vote there were not the needed majority to put the enlarged school plant on a going basis.

Civil Rights Bomb Aimed at Hannah Proves Dud

Those who serve their fellows in high government or social posts are inevitably exposed to the slings of demagogues or self-serving sensationalists.

Both categories seem represented in the irresponsible attack on JOHN A. HANNAH for not involving himself in an East Lansing "open housing" ordinance issue in his capacity as U.S. Civil Rights Commission Chairman — a post he has held under three presidents.

Hannah, president of Michigan State University for 25 years, was upbraided by the editor of the Democratic Central Committee newspaper — The Michigan Democrat — for not aligning himself with the ordinance that was rejected by the city council. The editor also called on President Johnson to relieve Hannah of his civil rights office.

Though the flimsy outburst scarcely rated a reply, HANNAH chose to dignify it by pointing out that he had not been asked, as was charged, to intervene in behalf of the ordinance. He explained that in his national civil rights capacity it would have been improper to have taken sides in a local government issue, but would have lent his presence as a private citizen had he been approached.

Considering the relative stature and records of public service characterizing the accuser and the accused, we think the exchange served only to demean the former while reflecting credit on the latter.

Senate Passes Bill to Upgrade State Autos

The State Senate is to be commended for meeting head-on to one of the basic issues in the current crusade against highway fatalities that last year cost 50,000 lives in the U.S.

In passing and sending on to the House a bill calling for mandatory vehicle inspection, the Senate struck at one of the weaknesses in realization of greater highway safety — the automobile that becomes defective because of inadequate inspection and maintenance.

Provisions of the bill entail a $2.25 annual fee for inspection of autos by garages licensed by the State Police Department. The State's initial outlay to get the program moving would approximate $900,000, but thereafter the measure would be supported by car owners' inspection fees and those paid by garages qualifying as inspection centers.

Mandatory inspection of automobiles, one of Gov. ROMNEY's urgent recommendations toward highway safety, was introduced in two previous sessions of the legislature but it failed of passage.

Since the generality of traffic and safety engineers agree that safety on highways cannot be fully realized with unsafe automobiles, the House is urged to vote speedy approval of the Senate bill.

All Is Normal -- Trouble Everywhere

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — It wouldn't be normal if the world wasn't uneasy. This is a very normal time, full of fuss and fret.

Just as opinion polls show dwindling public confidence in President Johnson's handling of the war in Viet Nam, his administration pumps out information that things are looking better there.

But Premier Nguyen Cao Ky hasn't yet suppressed the Buddhists demonstrating against him; one day after another, seems unpredictable; and the administration's optimism may be premature.

Fourteen North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies, including the United States, have just patched together their alliance which was badly busted by French President Charles de Gaulle who is pulling his troops out of NATO and wants NATO bases out of France.

Uneasy, they tried not to offend the saucy Frenchman as he prepared for a trip to Moscow to have his own summit meeting with the Russians, an adventure whose outcome also is unpredictable.

terpart to NATO, have had a dragged-out meeting with Romania wondering out loud if it wouldn't be better to scrap NATO and the Warsaw Pact, too.

Russian-Chinese relations couldn't be much worse, but they're getting to be anyway and the Chinese are so far from being relaxed that they are purging themselves, which leaves the West more puzzled than ever.

With the opinion polls also showing Johnson's popularity at its lowest point, you might think the would-be presidents among the Republicans would be perking up. Just the contrary.

Two of them who made the try before, both governors, Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, took themselves out of presidential consideration for all time, or so they said.

THEY'RE NOT TALKING

The only other Republicans who now look like the most likely prospects — Michigan's Gov. George Romney and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon — aren't talking about it.

Johnson, who made a stunning record getting his "Great Society" programs through Congress in 1965, looks a bit bogged down in 1966.

Congress isn't responding as it used to. With a couple of exceptions — the minimum wage and food for freedom bills — neither house has tackled the major social and economic legislation Johnson asked this year.

'Quick, Medic, The Band-aids!'

David Lawrence Says:

Red Treaty Deal Disappointing

WASHINGTON — The Soviet government evidently thinks that the American people are not wise to the tricks of Communist diplomacy and do not recognize insincerity when it is blatantly demonstrated.

For the chief Soviet negotiator at LAWRENCE Geneva has just demanded that American forces be withdrawn from Viet Nam as the price of any agreement on disarmament.

The announcement came as the 17-nation conference on disarmament, which has been going on in Geneva since 1962, met after a six-week recess to resume negotiations.

This opening blast can produce throughout the world a sense of disappointment, if not of futility, in trying to carry on deliberations with the Russians.

The Soviets have been blocking peace and managing, through infiltration, to spread unrest in many countries of the world.

PERSIST IN BELIEF

But there have been some persons inside and outside official life in America who have nevertheless persisted in the belief that somehow there would be a turn toward a more conciliatory attitude by the Kremlin.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Penn., who has recently returned from Geneva, says that the Russian position now "represents a most unfortunate change of mind."

He declares that when he was in Geneva a month ago, "Russia made it quite clear that it did not consider Viet Nam an insuperable obstacle to a nuclear disarmament understanding."

While trying to impress the West as being anxious to ease tensions, the Soviets, of course, have their own problems with the ideological fanaticism of Red China and other Communist nations.

MORE FRIENDLY

To appear even slightly more friendly to the United States or to fail to keep on denouncing America's presence in Viet Nam would mean losing ground with other Communist countries.

So while it amounts to is that, in order to preserve alliances in the world of communism, the Soviet government chooses in a spectacular manner to say, in effect, that disarmament is less important than opposition to American policies in Viet Nam.

It seems incredible that the Soviet diplomats — and, indeed, the high officials of the Moscow regime — are so ill-informed about the values that peoples of the world place upon steps to prevent nuclear war.

The Viet Nam issue is relatively unimportant as compared with the greater need for a solution of the nuclear question.

As long as the Moscow government, however, continues to play games with international affairs and thinks it's more expedient to placate its own allies than to move in the direction of a nuclear agreement, pessimism is bound to becloud the whole international scene.

Bob Considine Says:

Significance of Electricity Hits Home in S. Dakota

COLMAN, S.D. — Ten thousand residents of this village part of the Sioux Valley gathered here this week to celebrate a miracle — a majority of Americans, who are city slickers, accept their just due.

What was celebrated here under a vast tent was the still stupendous fact that after centuries of darkness America's farms were given electricity.

This was the annual meeting of the Sioux Valley Electric Association, one of the big and lively cooperatives that electrified rural America.

Pretty second-generation farm wives, shopped glittering appliance booths for the latest word in time-saving, labor-saving and even status-giving gadgets that come to life when plugged into the wondrous miles of power lines that stretch remote areas to urban centers.

While they shopped, some of their still-living mothers and grandmothers remembered when an iron was actually made of iron, a six-pound slab of it that had to be heated on a wood stove. And when an evening's entertainment was derived from well-thumbed stereophonic slides, no color-TV, radio and home movies.

STAYING NEW WAYS

Farmers, ranchers and other users of electric power studied over new ways to put the incredible, invisible slave to work — make it pump water to barren lands, automate cow barns, lift, tote, bale, pull, push, and permit one man to keep 25,000 chicks happy without giving vent to a single cluck.

Hard to believe that when the Rural Electrification Administration was set up in 1935, as part of President Roosevelt's revolution, only 11 per cent of U.S. farms had electricity. Today the figure is 99 per cent.

"The night the lights came on" is still hailed in many rural regions as an occasion ranking with the stature of such feast days as Christmas and Thanksgiving.

Electrical power changed millions of lives instantaneously, ended lonely isolation, provided leisure time that reflected itself in better education, improved public health, cut deep into farm accidents, provided a tremendous shot in the arm for the American economy, made us the breadbasket of the world, won a war, sealed a peace.

It makes a fellow ashamed he heeded over that little blackout we had in New York last year.

In Washington:

Inverse Effects of Poverty War

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The other day a 16-year-old girl set out to find a job to earn money for college.

She went to the state employment office to register. She filled out forms and was interviewed by three employment specialists.

She had excellent qualifications. When it was all over, they asked what her father did for a living. She told them. The employment people said, her father earned more than the maximum set in President Johnson's youth opportunity program. (The maximum is $4,635 for a nonfarm family with seven children, or $1,900 for a family with two children.) The President's push, they said, is to see that poor youngsters get jobs.

Though these rules don't apply to private industry, private firms are being asked to co-operate in giving priority to these youngsters from poor families.

So the employment people told the 16-year-old girl about a nonpoor family to come back when school was out and they'd try to find her something. They didn't hold out much hope.

Viet Nam Serviceman Asks Donations of Soap

As a native of the Pontiac area, I would like to acquaint people with the mission of the "People to People" program here in Viet Nam.

In their off-duty hours, our Air Force medical personnel have been treating the needy and sick Vietnamese nationals. The primary mission is to teach the Vietnamese to prevent disease, through a knowledge of personal hygiene.

We need soap to distribute to these poor people. If each family would donate one bar of soap, that would help the program very much. Donations of soap could be shipped to Bien Hoa Post 3885, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of the United States, Box 791, APO San Francisco 96227.

'Wounded Soldiers Have Tons of Books'

A while ago a letter stated that paperback books were being collected for hospitalized U.S. soldiers. Our church has been needing them and I have been asked if Reader's Digests were needed. I wrote to the serviceman who would receive the paperbacks and his reply follows:

"We do not want Reader's Digest. No books are needed. We have tons. The book campaign starts without my knowledge or consent. Do not send books. (Signed) Lt. Col. G. S. Fleeson, MC 1st Inv. Div., APO San Francisco, Calif. 96315."

Reader Comments on Union Finances

I got a tiny smile out of the letter from the school boy (?) who said the union didn't have enough money to pay for an advertisement. The last I knew, the union was rolling in cash, currency, money, securities, credit and allover wealth. It could start negotiations to buy most businesses outright.

Someone ought to explain to this lad that union treasuries are overflowing with cash, strike funds and benefit monies.

'Elect Conservatives, Cut Foreign Aid'

Creation of more paper money, flight of gold, deficits in balance of payments and domestic budgets, poverty, welfare programs, war, and foreign aid, all exercise an inflationary impact. The dollar could be strengthened and inflation retarded by deep cuts in foreign aid. But the administration holds foreign aid inviolate; continuance is essential to its one-world dream.

This Congress is the slave of the White House. Only a conservative majority elected in November could remove this frightening threat to our economy.

A year or two ago I read about some guy in Scotland paying an outrageous price for a bull that turned out to be "non-productive." The price I remember is so high I'm sure it was. Can you tell me what it was?

LOCAL BREEDER

REPLY

If we're thinking of the same bull, it was an American who poured his money down the drain when he bought "Lindert's Evolve" at Perth, Scotland, in February, 1963. James Calk of Black Watch Farms, New York, paid $176,400 for the 13-month-old bull, the highest price ever paid. The bull failed a fertility test in August of the same year.

The push is on to help the underprivileged. This is fine. But fathers say their 15- or 17-year-olds want to work but can't find jobs — especially in areas where federal or state employment offices dominate.

These middle-class young people are supposed to be provided for by their parents without working. Maybe they can be.

But the lack of work is doing something to the sons and daughters of middle-class parents.

We see these young people in our neighborhood teen club. They have money from their parents in their pockets, a car largely paid for and maintained by their parents — and nothing to do.

They get in trouble and their family pastor visits them. Some donate some of their time to volunteer work. But a lot just hang around wherever they can hang around.

We're apparently determined to force our young people into idleness, unless their parents are poor.

China's Chou in Bucharest as Romania Ups Rift With Russia

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Chinese Premier Chou En-lai arrives in Romania today for a week's visit on the heels of new evidence of the Bucharest regime's opposition to Soviet control.

Speaking in the southern town of Oltenia, Romanian Communist party chief Nicolae Ceaușescu said Wednesday the Soviet idea of central guidance for the world's Communist parties has become obsolete.

"An international center to guide parties along uniform lines is no longer possible," said Ceaușescu. "Today, each party must follow its own general line according to its concrete conditions."

The Romanian Communists have plugged this line for several years. They first used it in objecting to Soviet plans for an integrated East European economy which would have restricted Romanian industrialization and kept the country primarily agricultural.

Recently the Romanians have been calling for a bigger voice for the smaller Communist nations in the military decisions of the Warsaw Pact alliance. In a speech May 7 Ceaușescu questioned Soviet leadership of Eastern Europe. That speech brought Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev on a secret trip to Bucharest.

Mayors OK Measures to Cut 'White Noose' Around Ghettos

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Suburban mayors charged "insult, reverse bigotry, big city domination" as the U.S. Conference of Mayors approved measures to cut a "white noose" around central city areas.

Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, new conference president, defined "white noose" as a tightening ring of white, affluent suburbs encircling predominantly Negro ghettos in city cores.

That issue and voluntary prayers in public schools produced verbal fireworks at the mayors' closing session Wednesday.

BETTER BALANCE

One resolution called on Congress to stipulate that federal funds for community facilities, grants and education be conditioned on a better balance of social, racial and economic groups regarding central city areas and suburbs. It narrowly passed. Big city solidarity carried it through.

Another, to support passage of a constitutional amendment to allow voluntary prayer in public schools, squeaked through.

The conference was attended by some 800 mayors and other city officials. Honolulu was chosen as the site of the 1967 conference, with Chicago in 1968 and Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1969.

Other new officers include Mayor Joseph M. Barr, Pittsburgh, vice president, and erry D. Schunk, Portland, Ore., chairman of the advisory board.

Courses Set for Unskilled

Training Act Projects Will Be Held at OCC

Schedules for three Manpower Development and Training Act projects to be offered at Oakland Community College were announced today by Merrill F. Walls, employment service manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) in Pontiac.

All three programs are aimed at training the unskilled and are offered at no charge to the trainees.

Classes will be conducted on a 40-hour-a-week basis at OCC's Highland Lakes Campus.

Walls said a course in routine service station mechanic procedures will begin July 5 and continue for 16 weeks.

July 11 is the starting date for a 37-week program in mechanical drafting. Credit for this course can be applied to apprentice time or toward an engineering degree, Walls said. A 41-week training program for cooks will begin Aug. 8.

Information on the three federally-funded programs is available at the MESC office, 242 Oakland.

There were 469 pounds of air express last month, down slightly from 472 pounds in April. There was no inbound express either month.

flights, compared to 2,281 pounds last month on NCA outbound. Air freight totaled 1,391 pounds in April. Inbound freight totaled 15,040 pounds in May, compared to 14,209 pounds in April.

No Hike Foreseen in Liquor Prices

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said Wednesday, "I do not anticipate any price increases as a result of the liquor price bill I allowed to become law Tuesday."

The bill increases profits to Michigan's 2,200 licensed package dealers by $2.7 million a year.

It increases the sales discount (or markup) granted to Specialty Designated Distributor (SDD) licensees from 10 to 11½ per cent. This means they will pay less for the liquor they buy from the state for resale at state-regulated prices.

Author Is Dead at 63
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Lawrence A. Keating, an author who wrote 28 books, died Wednesday at age 63. Keating was a native of Chicago. In recent years he had concentrated on juvenile fiction.

Car Kills President's Dog on White House Grounds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's friendly, frisky beagle, Him, is dead.

Him had spent a good bit of his three years chasing the squirrels that inhabit the White House grounds. And that's the way he lost his life.

Johnson's daughter, Lynda, burst into a meeting the President was having with some congressmen last night to tell him about another tragedy in the dog part of the family.

Him had darted between the front and rear wheels of a White House car on the driveway out back while yapping after a squirrel and was struck and killed.

Johnson told associates, "It's a sad night tonight at the White House."

NO. 1 DOG TAG

Him had the No. 1 dog tag in the capital and was registered as the pet of the Johnson's younger daughter, Luci. But he really was the President's dog.

Every morning Johnson clapped his hands and brought Him running to his side.

Him was always around at lunch time and always managed to coax a morsel or two from the presidential plate. And sometimes at night he slept on the presidential bed.

Mrs. Johnson was in Lincoln, Neb., on a beautification trip and was notified of the beagle's death by a Secret Service agent.

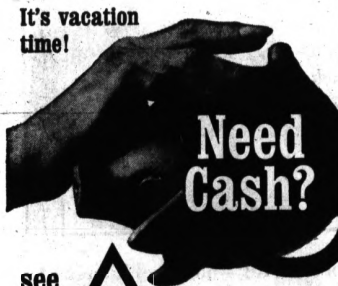

'HIT IN STOMACH'

"That makes you feel like you have been hit in the stomach by a hard rock," she said.

Him will be cremated and buried on the LBJ Ranch—

if the President follows the precedent set with Her.

British Exit at Aden a Loss of Symbol

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

For more than a century, the great British base at Aden, at the mouth of the Red Sea, has stood as a symbol of British power in the Middle East.

The British Empire reached its zenith under Queen Victoria, and British occupation of Aden at the tip of the Red Sea marked the first territorial acquisition of her reign.

But, with Empire dwindled to almost nothing and pressed by severe economic difficulties at home, Britain in 1968 will abandon the Crown colony of Aden and the 17 sandy sheikdoms, emirates and sultanates that compose the Federation of South Arabia.

And, already, the would-be inheritors, Egypt and the Soviet Union, are counting up the spoils.

It was from Aden in 1961 that a British task force blunted a threat from Iraq against oil-rich Kuwait at the head of the Persian Gulf.

And it was from Aden that a small force of British Marines in 1964 helped put down army rebellions in the newly independent African states of Tanganyika, Uganda and Kenya.

As Britain retreats from east of Suez, it already has warned the loosely knit federations that it no longer can be responsible for the defense of South Arabia.

South Arabia borders both on Yemen and Saudi Arabia, and even though it achieves constitutional independence in 1968, its future at present is dim.

At the least, it could be torn between the urban and comparatively sophisticated 200,000 residents of the bustling seaport of Aden, and the 500,000 others who live in the surrounding desert under the feudal and autocratic rule of the sheiks and sultans.

At the worst, it could bring all-out war between Egypt and Saudi Arabia, already at odds over Yemen.

Meeting with British officials in London and hopeful of an orderly transition to independence are leaders of the South Arabian Federation.

Holding a hearing in Cairo is a United Nations special committee on ending colonialism.

Prominent among witnesses before the committee has been one Abdel Qawes Mackawia, ousted former Chief Minister of Aden and now a leader of the Cairo-supported National Liberation Front for occupied South Yemen.

Occupied South Yemen is the term given South Arabia by Calcutta.

The front is the most important of the radical and nationalist groups which for the last three years have used terrorism in their attempt to oust British rule.

Whites in Dixie March Resented

HOLCOMB, Miss. (AP) —

The sight of whites marching with Negroes provoked barely hidden resentment among the white populace as the Mississippi march moved into the green delta land today.

"They can't be white, they must be yellow," snapped a hefty matron, rocking in a chair in front of a country store closed because the marchers were coming by. There was only a sprinkling of whites in the column.

All stores and service stations in this community of 250 were shuttered as the procession passed through singing freedom songs. They are en route to Jackson, the state capital, to finish the march James H. Meredith started before he was wounded June 6.

"I think they are a bunch of nuts. They're not proving anything," said Roy Aldred, 12, a white boy from Wilmington, Ill., who is visiting his grandfather in Holcomb.

marked. More and more ghost shacks, where Negro field hands once lived, are along the countryside in an agricultural area that has become largely mechanized. Cotton, grown on huge fields, yielded readily to machines.

One farmer became enraged Wednesday when a telephone company trailer for newsmen was parked on the shoulder of the road at the edge of his land.

"If you're with this bunch of trash, you're not welcome on my property," he shouted. The trailer was moved.

DESTITUTE PEOPLE

Many Negroes in the delta are jobless, living on free government foods. Many say they are homeless. Most have not registered to vote — and these are the ones the marchers hope to inspire. Their drive in Grenada the last two days resulted in hundreds being registered.

ONLY REASON

"Lady, I've got a wife and a little boy to feed and that's the only reason," he said. As the marchers moved southward, the change toward repressed hostility becomes

Liquor Ration Slashed for Yanks in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The liquor ration for American military and civilian personnel in Viet Nam has been cut by more than one-half.

Effective last month, the amount of alcoholic beverages which may be bought in package retail outlets was reduced from six fifths per man per month, with no limit on wine, to three fifths per man including wine.

The Pentagon said the cut-men in Viet Nam, consumption of alcoholic beverages has increased sharply.

600,706 CASES

Last year American military men and civilians in the Southeast Asian country consumed 600,706 cases of liquor and wine. By comparison, sales the first five months almost match the 1965 total — 400,586 cases sold from last January through May.

Packaged liquor is sold at 27 post exchanges throughout Viet Nam. In addition to the PX purchases, servicemen can buy liquor by the drink at certain military dining rooms and clubs. The Pentagon said 70 per cent of all liquor sales are by the drink. The remainder is bottle sales through the PXs.

Military suppliers compute the liquor requirement by assuming that each man will buy two bottles a month.

MONTHLY ORDER

On this basis the monthly order for liquor from the United States would run well over a half-million bottles. There are about 387,000 military men in Viet Nam.

U.S. military officials in Viet Nam have established one basic restriction that limits liquor sales to servicemen 21 years or older.

Besides the liquor allowance, each man can buy three cases of beer a month.

Military officials keep up with the purchases by punching a ration card issued to each man.

ESCANABA (AP) — State Police searched today for the body of Robert Haglund, 18, of Ishpeming, who fell over the White City Falls on the Escanaba River Wednesday. Police said Haglund was fishing in the river above the falls when he fell and was swept over the 40-foot falls.

Editorship of School Paper May Mean Jail for Coed

EUGENE, Ore. (U) — Annette Buchanan, 20, a coed at the University of Oregon, was appointed managing editor of her college newspaper on May 1. Unknown to her, that was the first step along a path that could take her to jail.

Three weeks later, she interviewed seven students about smoking marijuana. The story was published in the newspaper, the Oregon Daily Emerald, on May 24.

Dist. Atty. William Frye of Lane County read the story, and obtained subpoenas summoning Miss Buchanan and three other student editors before a grand jury June 2.

The other three were quickly dismissed when they said they did not know the names of the students quoted in the story.

When Miss Buchanan declined to reveal the identity of the five students whose names she remembers, Frye took her before Circuit Court Judge Edward Leavy and asked that she be ordered to divulge her sources, Leavy complied.

DECLINED AGAIN

Miss Buchanan again appeared before the seven-member, all-women grand jury yesterday. Again she declined to reveal her sources. Again Frye took her before Judge Leavy, who cited her for contempt of court and set June 27 for her trial. If convicted, she could be sentenced to six months in jail.

Miss Buchanan says she has received hundreds of letters of support. An anonymous source is paying her legal costs. Newspapers have printed editorials praising her stand.

The Klamath Falls (Ore.) Herald and News said in an editorial:

"Newspapers long have fought for the right not to divulge names of news sources. The issue has been in the courts frequently.

BITTER END

"We're 100 per cent with Miss Buchanan's refusal to expose her source, and we believe every newspaper in the State of Oregon would subscribe to a fund to help defray the cost of fighting the case to the bitter end."

CENTER OF CONTROVERSY — Annette Buchanan, 20, editor of the University of Oregon college newspaper, leaves a grand jury session in Eugene with her attorney, Arthur Johnson. The coed refused to give names of persons quoted in a story about the use of marijuana and she faces a jail sentence for contempt of court.

By The Associated Press

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has paid a Louisville, Ky., man $10 for damage to a 30-foot hedge behind his house caused by a crowd that engulfed Humphrey at an impromptu political rally for local candidates.

Shortly after the rally last Oct. 23, Emmet Minia, 76, a retired auto painter, received a letter from Humphrey which said: "I just read in the account of my visit in the Courier-Journal that the crowd waiting to greet me trampled your hedge.

"If there was serious damage to the hedge, I hope you will let me know. I am sorry about the damage and hope we can fix things up."

Minia billed the vice president for transplanting and fertilizing boxwood plants. He named the plants the Hubert Humphrey Boxwoods.

His Second Wife Is Worried About Later Financial Security

By ANIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Over a year ago I married a man of means. We are both in our early fifties, and it is the second marriage for each. I gave up a good job, alimony from my previous marriage, and a lovely home of my own to marry him.

A year passed and he never discussed his business matters with me. Nor did he mention any provisions he might have made for me in case of his death.

When I brought this up he became highly indignant and said such questions were prying and improper, and I had aroused his suspicions of my motives in marrying him.

Then he said before he took any action to provide me with the security I felt I was entitled to, I would have to "prove my self in the marriage." This has become a grave issue between us. What is your opinion?

DEAR POLLY: — Emergency hair rollers can be made from the cardboard tubes that come inside towels and so on. Cut to the desired length and wrap with cellophane wrap or aluminum foil. Punch a few holes to let the air circulate and you are all set.

If your house numbers cannot be read easily by guests, cut the numbers from reflector tape. Stick these to the front or side of your house or front steps low enough for car headlights to pick them up easily.

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

DEAR POLLY: — With summer upon us, I would like to pass along a Pointer for parents who plan to take their children camping. Both my boys and my girls always want to go wading in the small streams. I it up. (A man of means is usually extremely sensitive about his money the second time around.) Steer clear of the subject for awhile. It will come up again. But if you really feel financially insecure, consult a lawyer and find out where you stand.

DEAR ABBY: Would you say it was proper to "neck" (or whatever you want to call it) with your ex-husband? And how about going beyond that point?

DEAR JUST: It is just as proper to "neck" (if that's what you mean, that's what I'll call it) with an ex-husband as it is to neck with any other single man. Past relationships confer no special privileges, however.

DEAR ABBY: Everytime I read or hear a professional person condemning girls and women who wear curlers in their hair in public, I could scream. I think it's just fine that some women have the time and money to have their hair done in beauty parlors, but there are lots of us who don't.

I, for one, am busy with housework and children during the day, and if I want my hair to look nice in the evening I have to put it up every day.

That means I must chauffeur the children to and from school, do my shopping, walk the dog, and do all my outside errands with curlers in my hair. Frank-

Stuff With Old Lint

DEAR POLLY: — After I got take along their overshoes and my clothes dryer I was amazed at how much lint accumulated in the filter after each drying and decided to make some use of it.

Now I keep a plastic bucket handy and every day I remove the lint from the filter and put it into the bucket. In about a month I accumulate enough to stuff several pillows or to stuff rag dolls for the children. — BEVERLY

DEAR POLLY: — Often it is hard to print your name on a roll of exposed film before turning it in to be developed. My hint saves one's temper and assures the developer of being able to read the name. Simply wrap one of those little gummed address labels around the film. — MRS. R.L.H.

Stepping Out in Cutouts

BY HELEN HENNESSY
 NEW YORK — (NEA) — If you have wondered where we'll go in beachwear fashions after last year's fishnets and peek-a-boos, the answer is cut-outs—strategically placed.

Unlike last year's designs, this season's swimsuits concentrate on a body awareness rather than unsuitable exposure.

Except for a small group of exhibitionist suits (which unfortunately always find a market among people with the wrong figures to wear them) the new beachwear will be in classic knit with an occasional cut-out or print design that curves as the body curves. The prints are put on individually after the suit is cut.

The blousey look of last year is out. But its influence crops up in several body softened looks such as the new tunic and skirted suits.

MD Debunks the Business of Due Dates

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Arthur Greeley of Cornell University Medical School is an obstetrician who refuses to be pinned down on a pregnant patient's due date.

Greeley thinks there's not much point in specifying a date of birth since the whole business of knowing when a child will be born is still unpredictable.

Although the average pregnancy is 286 days, Greeley, who has delivered more than 4,000 babies, points out that some women may be pregnant for a somewhat shorter period and some for a longer one without anything being amiss.

Mid-October vows are planned by Linda Jean Anderson, daughter of the James Andersons of Princeton Avenue and Daryl Eugene Goines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Goines of Metamora.

Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Kuperman are also on the board.

Goal of the nursery program, believed unique for this area, was covered succinctly in Mrs. Kuperman's concluding remarks: "We wanted to avoid being just a baby sitting service; that's why we're glad to have the university involved. We feel the plan is a service to both mother and child."

A Beauty Hint

Margaret Merrill advises that it is quite simple for every woman to promote an English countryside complexion. Her hint to gain a peaches-and-cream loveliness is to damp a cloth with cold water from your refrigerator and press it over your face for a few minutes once or twice a day. Then, to hold the good of the complexion beautifying cold water smooth on a little tropical oil of Olay. This oil is rather scarce and expensive but your drug store should be able to get you a small supply.

Paper Clip Hems

To keep from marking delicate fabric when you turn up a hem as you sew, use paper clips in the garment instead of pins. The clips will slide along as your work.

Seek the Unusual for Father This Year

By JEANNE NELSON

Scout around for the unusual this year for dear old Dad. Gifts need not be the same neckties, shirts and socks of years past. According to his personality, a wide selection of gifts is available. We ran across some of the newest fashions from Carnaby Street for the more stout-hearted.

Belts of paisley patterns measure two and three inches wide and are worn with matching "Ringo" caps and high-boy dress shirts.

Carpet Paths and Spots Easily Removed ... or clean carpet wall-to-wall. Safe blue nap fluff. Rent easy-to-use electric shampoos for $1 a day at Brown Bros., 704 West Huron St., Pontiac, Mich.

If he loves to fish, have the kids give him packages of "Wiggie Worms," a lure to the package at a mere 50 cents per.

Yachting caps at $1 can make him feel like a real skipper even in an eight-foot pram.

Sometimes fathers are conservative and proper. That being the case, what about a London Fog umbrella? It's awfully British of course. This runs about $6.95.

On the other hand, if he identifies with the golf set, an electric putting cup with a "no-peek" bell would be a safe bet.

Also for the golfer is the "Fairway Brush." This isn't really what you think.

One simply doesn't go around with a three-inch brush smoothing out 240 yards of grass. But one can clean club heads with it. This runs about $1.25.

Make him feel like a big wheel with an American Roulette game. Who needs Las Vegas when this is available at $4.95?

You've heard of "Granny" dresses, well now it's the "Granny" shirt. Prices on these start at $4.98.

For the beach this summer, surprise him with a pair of "Baggies." These are the newest in swimwear. They come in long or short versions made of splashy prints with drawstring waists and full legs.

Terry shave coats at $6 make a practical gift. A smaller version called the wrap retails for about $3.

SCENTED WASHCLOTHS.

Scented paper washcloths for traveling might be a novel gift idea. Speaking of fragrances, have you noticed the upwings in colognes, aftershave lotions and talcs on the market?

The LFG jacket folds up into a square plastic envelope for easy carrying or storage. Made of nylon it sells for about $11. Great for boating or golfing.

A 25-pound bag of crab grass killer is a bargain at 97 cents. Or garden tools might be appreciated — anything from a hoe to a ride 'em power lawnmower.

If you're really stuck for a gift idea go ahead and buy a tie. The patterns and sizes are definitely new this year.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:

How can those of us who don't go out much have the fun of making a glamorous dress for a summer party and yet get more than a one-time wearing out of it?

Mrs. M. W.

Dear Mrs. M. W.:

This isn't too much of a problem if you will remember that even the simplest clothes can be perfect for a glamorous evening, provided you choose a lovely color and accessorize it accordingly.

I prefer a dress with simple lines, either with or without a waistline seam — and semi-fitted. A low neckline in front and back will also make it more festive.

A very clever idea is to make a simple sailor type collar to fit over the dress and cover the low neckline. This really is what I call double-duty!

Another great idea that someone gave me (and she didn't give me her name) is to sew a small magnet at the center of the collar and sew another magnet to the lining of the dress so the two match up to each other. The magnet will keep the collar in place without snapping. This could be done front and back. Try it!

TRAVEL CLOTHES

I simply must share my exciting news with you. I'm going on my first trip to Europe next month. It all happened so unexpectedly and the trip was almost made to order for me.

It's a fashion tour, a study of the important Fashion centers of Europe. I'll be knee deep in textile mills, designer workrooms, etc. Naturally, I'll let you in on all of the new techniques I learn from the famous couturiers.

Another real thrill for me is that six of my former students (each one an excellent seamstress) have offered to make me a complete ensemble. I spent days planning colors and versatile fabrics that mix and match. We're having a ball doing the work together!

I'll be writing a diary of events beginning now and will tell you all about everything from time to time. I'll tell you about a complete ensemble, explaining colors, styles, and (along with sketches) will show you how you can have 4 or 5 changes with one coat.

If you have any helpful tips up your sleeve, please write to me immediately, and tell me about them. All this material should be very helpful to others who want advice on what to wear.

Dear Eunice Farmer:

When you talk about setting in sleeves, you say the sleeve should be at least 1 inch larger than the same area of your garment. How can you get it to fit without having gathers in the sleeves?

Mrs. L. E. B.

Dear Mrs. L. E. B.:

When planing sleeve into armhole, ease sleeve over your fingers and pin on the sleeves themselves. It's easy to get the ease fitted in without gathers.

If you would like my leaflet, "All About Sleeves," please send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with 10 cents to Sew Simple with your request. At the same time, be sure to include your sewing questions—and any helpful advice we can pass on.

Couple Wed in Baptist Rite

Mrs. Ivan Royal of Birmingham and Russell R. High of Union Street were wed recently in Birmingham's First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Ruth C. Lewis attended her mother and the groom's son, Gerald S. High of Hillsdale stood as best man for his father.

After a reception in the church parlors, the couple left on a honeymoon through the southern states and Florida. They will reside in Birmingham.

Robert E. McGowan of Valencia Street, playing Tom Wingfield in Oakland University's production of

"The Glass Menagerie," argues with Merle E. Niemi of Warren, who portrays his sister, Laura.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Cosmetic firms are having great success with silvered lipstick and nail polish. Today the 1966 look is shimmer from powder base to blusher to eye shadow to nail polish. This is a far cry from the silver beauty patches Marie Antoinette had to paste on her cheeks, chin and shoulders. It's fun to experiment with these products.

Fashion makes the silvery look available to the leaders of chic in specially treated and dyed plastics, leathers and fabrics, dresses of silvery plastic discs, and silver raincoats.

It seems appropriate that spring is the season chosen to promote the silvered look since there are so many June weddings just around the corner. The Sterling Silver-Smiths of America's survey enlightening because we are likely to think that men do not really care about candlelight, lovely china, silver, or any other such gracious accessories to daily living.

To the contrary, the survey showed that they enjoy all of these even when the boss isn't coming for dinner.

Five largest outlets for cotton are trousers, shirts, sheets, towels, underwear.

Primitive peoples had it easy when it came to choosing wedding presents. They just picked up a few clam shells or coconut shells from the beach and presented them. Table flatware consisted of the fingers. As civilization progressed, spoons were made of wood and then of iron. Later, if you were rich, you could have flatware made of ivory or gold.

SIGN OF WEALTH

Silver in clothing has always been a sign of wealth, since metallic thread was expensive. Filigree caps and nets for the hair were made of silver thread and robes, gloves and shoes, were heavily embroidered with silver. Fine fans had veins of silver and walking sticks had silver hills. Silver buttons were a sign of affluence.

So much money flowed out of France to import gold and silver cloth that Cardinal Richelieu banned it to all but the royal family.

I found the Sterling Silver-Smiths of America's survey enlightening because we are likely to think that men do not really care about candlelight, lovely china, silver, or any other such gracious accessories to daily living.

Win With Compliments

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-414: Norma L., aged 17, is the disconsolate coed who was a one-date flop!

She was good looking and came from a prominent family. But still she couldn't get boys to ask for second dates.

And the chief reason was her intense preoccupation with self!

She teased her own horn by boasting about herself and her family's many accomplishments.

Although she did this in the hope of making her boyfriend want to have another date, such self-advertising usually works in reverse.

So I urged Norma to join my "Compliment Club," which is an organization I launched among my college students at Northwestern University.

Therein you are to pay 3 sincere compliments each day, offering one to each of 3 different people.

But in Norma's case, I suggested she pay 3 compliments to her escort on her very next date.

"Don't lose your own horn," I warned, "but lose the boy's horn by praising him."

Norma did so. "You are such a good driver," she began, "that I never feel nervous with you at the wheel."

This was true, but something she had never mentioned before.

He brightened perceptibly and smiled. Remember, girls, a smile is a compliment, too, though of the non-verbal sort.

Smiles are simply compliments in the sign language!

So Norma's escort teased her horn immediately via his smile.

"Where'll we go tonight?" he then inquired.

"You're the boss," she said, "so whatever you like I'll enjoy, too."

IT WORKED

His chest swelled as he grinned broadly!

For all men want to think they are the boss man in the eyes of their girlfriend, even though she is deftly running the show.

And that's exactly what Norma was doing.

"Dr. Crane," she said later, with starry eyes, "I can't understand how blind I have been all through high school."

"Why, I used to worry over how to impress a boy."

"So I'd try to show off and boast about myself and my parents, thinking if I was important, then he'd want another date."

"But it always worked out the opposite."

"And now, all I need do is praise my escort and he thinks I am wonderful!"

"On this very first date I used your 'Compliment Club' method, we had a jolly time."

"And it was without strain or effort. Conversation flowed along of its own accord."

"He has asked me for a second date and I know he means it."

BOSTON (AP) — Norm Cash hammered a two-run double in the ninth inning of a rain-delayed game last night to break a 7-7 tie and help the Detroit Tigers to an 11-7 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Then Al Kaline, who got his $200 hit earlier in the game, drove in two more runs with a home run against the left-field screen.

The last-place Sox conceded four runs in the first inning of the moist, high-scoring encounter.

PLAY RESUMES

The contest was delayed 21 minutes by rain before it began, and underwent a 50-minute interruption during the Tiger's first.

When play resumed, Bill Freehan's single scored Northrup with run No. 4.

The Red Sox picked up a run in the third and added three in the third as Tony Conigliaro hit his 11th home run and former Tiger George Smith connected for his first of two homers.

The two teams traded runs in the seventh — Detroit on a one-out homer by Dick McAuliffe, and Boston on a bases-loaded walk issued by Fred Gladding.

HORTON TIES GAME

With Detroit trailing 7-5 in the eighth, Willie Horton unleashed his fifth home run of the season with Kaline on base to tie the score.

The two teams meet again this afternoon with Denny McLain pitching for Detroit against Rolfe Sheldon of the Red Sox.

Ohio State Barely Avoids NCAA Upset

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Don count out Southern California's four-time champions in this 1966 NCAA basketball tournament.

Rod Dedaux, USC's canny 51-year-old coach, has his ace pitcher, 15-game winner John Stewart, rested and ready to haul unbeaten Ohio State in to win the fourth-round game, starting at 8:30 p.m., CST.

Ohio State's Big Ten champions were nearly tripped by unheralded St. John's of New York Wednesday night, but pulled out an 8-7 victory with two runs in the ninth, against St. John's and error with the bases loaded.

Marty Karow will come back with Mike Swain, a 6-foot-4 sophomore who beat Oklahoma State Monday. Karow's ace, Steve Arin, 26, who beat USC Tuesday, pitched the ninth to wrap up the victory over St. John's.

Oklahoma State, which eliminated Texas 61 behind chunky John Pierce, will send Larry Burchart, hard-throwing sophomore, hard-throwing sophomore, against St. John's in the 5 p.m. game.

Tournament Starts Today Nicklaus Likes U.S. Open Links

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Long hitting Jack Nicklaus, already the 1966 Masters champion, is the favorite in the $150,000 National Open Golf Tournament which started today, and it was fine with him.

HEAT WAVE

After a record heat wave, the normal San Francisco fog crept back to town Wednesday and could bring changed course conditions every day of this 72-hole event as the moisture seeps back into the earth.

With the hot weather early in the week, the five-inch rough didn't seem so tough to many, but Nicklaus warned, "It will come back when it gets wet. Just see what happens to it."

Many, including top pro Kyle Burton, say a long ball hitter will be at a disadvantage and must play defensive golf over this light layout of 6,727 yards with par 35-36-70.

"Hogwash," answered Nicklaus. "If you hit long and straight you have an advantage. If you don't hit straight, you have problems."

Bad news to the others was his statement, "I'm driving better than any time since Oakland."

That was the course near Pittsburgh where big Jack beat Palmer for the Open title in 1962. Nicklaus admitted he hasn't been putting too well.

His reaction to the favorite's role was, "It won't make a bit of difference once we hit the first tee, will it?"

AFTER SIX CROWN

Sentimental favorite Ben Hogan, seeking his fifth National Open title at 53, returns to the scene where he had his bid for No. 5 in a playoff to virtually unknown Jack Fleck in 1955.

Hogan says he isn't playing too well. Fleck says virtually nothing.

Asked if he thought Ken Venturi and Tony Lema might have an advantage since they are local products, Nicklaus observed, "No, I don't think so. It depends on how you play four days. If you play well you win."

Greens answered, "If you hit the greens you have a good chance for a birdie," observed Venturi who capped a comeback with victory in the 1964 Open. Last January, just across Lake Merced from the Olympic Club, Ken won the Lucky International Open, at the Harding Park municipal layout.

He has spent hours this spring studying the Olympic course which he's known since teen-age days.

Hills, trees and winds off the Pacific Ocean provide natural hazards for the pros seeking the $25,000 top award. Nicklaus took them in stride with the comment, "Not much you can do to change those things."

Fleck can never forget he beat the incommensurable Ben Hogan in an 18-hole playoff in 1955 for the same U.S. Open title and over the same Olympic course that he and 150 others will compete for this year's championship starting today.

Nor can the spare, solemn-looking 44-year-old club pro from Iowa ever forget that most people still consider Hogan lost that 1955 Open more than Fleck won it.

That belief is not true, and Fleck and Hogan both know it, but it bothers the tall grayling Iowa to such a point that he even hates to talk about it.

Fleck rarely smiles, answers

Former Open King Forgotten Champ

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The first impulse is to root for Jack Fleck and the second is that it wouldn't do much good until he begins rooting a little bit for himself.

Fleck can never forget he beat the incommensurable Ben Hogan in an 18-hole playoff in 1955 for the same U.S. Open title and over the same Olympic course that he and 150 others will compete for this year's championship starting today.

Nor can the spare, solemn-looking 44-year-old club pro from Iowa ever forget that most people still consider Hogan lost that 1955 Open more than Fleck won it.

That belief is not true, and Fleck and Hogan both know it, but it bothers the tall grayling Iowa to such a point that he even hates to talk about it.

Fleck rarely smiles, answers

some of the simplest questions with a polite but blunt "no comment," and generally acts as if he doesn't really care how he does in this one. He's not fooling anyone, though. He does care inside.

"The less said about me, the better," he observed, while having his lunch in the clubhouse. "I'd appreciate if nothing was written about me."

Sometimes, in an awkward effort to mask his real feelings, Fleck contradicts himself and it's obvious to see that many of the things said and written about his 1955 victory over Hogan still gnaw away at him.

"I'm tickled to death just to be alive," he said at one point. "I'm tickled to death to be here."

Yet, to a close friend, he earlier had confessed: "I wouldn't even be here if my wife hadn't asked me to try to qualify. I was lucky to make it because everyone shot it up."

The closest thing you get to a laugh from Fleck is when you tell him how much the other pros are complaining about the rough on the course where he made golfing history 11 years ago.

"Rough," he smiled weakly. "It was 10 times better in 1955. The only ones who think it's tougher now are those who weren't here then. I notice the hills are steeper. For me, anyway. And the holes are 30-40 yards longer. They're probably shorter for everyone else."

Fleck claims he never reads the newspaper anymore. Yet, only the other day, he commented dryly to one of his practice playing partners, "I read in the paper where this course is more difficult than it used to be."

INTENSE PRIDE

To this day, Fleck, a man with intense pride, seems to feel someone is trying to take that 1955 Open win away from him. No one really is. No one really can.

He wouldn't admit it to anyone, but he has Fleck deeply when not a single galleryite followed along as he went out for his first practice round on Monday.

He couldn't help but notice that most of the people flocked behind Hogan.

Fleck is a man who has handled adversity well during most of his life and it's rather ironic that he finds it so hard to accept his upset victory over Hogan for what it was.

He played well in that Open and was certainly deserved to win with his 69 on the final day and follow-up 69 in the playoff. Hogan didn't exactly go to pieces in the playoff. He shot a respectable enough 72.

Braves Get Jay

Traders Nip Deadline

By The Associated Press
The Atlanta Braves, major league pennant race, obtained pitchers Joey Jay and Doug Schwall in separate transactions shortly before Wednesday night's major league baseball trading deadline.

The Braves acquired Jay from Cincinnati in exchange for Hank Fischer, another right-hander, and then picked up Schwall, also a right-hander, from Pittsburgh for southpaw Billy O'Dell.

New York Mets. The setback dropped the Braves into eighth place.

No cash was involved in the transactions, the third and fourth of the day.

DEAL WITH YANKS

Earlier, the New York team completed their first deal ever when the Mets purchased veteran pitcher Bob Friend from the Yankees for the $20,000 waiver price and a minor league player to be named later.

night McHale reached Brown in Columbus, Ohio, and again asked for Schwall. This time Brown agreed to let Schwall go. O'Dell will be the only southpaw in the Pirates' bullpen. A Pittsburgh spokesman said that the club had been shopping around for a left-handed reliever.

Friend, a 35-year-old right-hander, had a 1-4 record for the Yankees, who purchased him from the Pirates last winter. He has won 191 National League games.

The Mets also asked waivers on first baseman Dick Stuart for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release.

Jay, who has won six games and lost two, had a 21-10 record for Cincinnati in 1961. He is 30 years old. Fischer, 23 this year, is 26. O'Dell's 1966 mark is 2-3 and at 33 years of age, he's five years older than Schwall.

He has won three games and dropped two this season.

A Pirate spokesman said that Atlanta President John McHale had called Pittsburgh General Manager Joe Brown a few days ago and asked if Schwall were available.

Brown, at that time, said he wasn't. But late Wednesday

Stuart, 33, was batting only .218 with four homers for the Mets. They acquired him from Philadelphia last February.

2 U.S. Netters Take Matches in Lawn Meet

LONDON (AP) — Davis Cuppers Dennis Ralston and Marty Riessen carried American hopes Wednesday into the quarter-finals of the London Lawn Tennis Tournament — the last warm-up event before Wimbledon.

Ralston, from Bakersfield, Calif., scored two victories on a hot afternoon, despite erratic form.

First he completed a 10-5, 4-6, 7-5 triumph over Ken Fletcher, of Australia, in a match started Tuesday and halted by darkness. Then he came from behind to defeat Ron Holmberg of Dallas, Tex., 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Ralston looked sharp in his battle with Fletcher. But against Holmberg he made a lot of errors. It wasn't until the final set, when the heavily built Holmberg began slowing up, that Ralston took a grip on the match.

Riessen, of Evanston, Ill., trounced India's Premjit Lal, 6-3, 6-3.

There is no serious setback for the United States as the defeat of Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, who was downed 3-6, 2-6 by 32-year-old Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy.

Bullpen Providing Leading Orioles With Airtight Relief

By the Associated Press
Baltimore Manager Hank Bauer probably can't wait to yank his next starting pitcher. The Orioles' elite bullpen corps has stretched its week-long perfect game to 12 2-3 innings and the way things are going, Bauer can point to just about any of his relief pitchers and get a hitless job.

Moe Drabowsky tacked on the latest 2 1/3 inning stint Wednesday night when he saved Wally Bunker's sixth victory as the American League standing Orioles downed Washington 6-4.

AIRTIGHT RELIEF

Before Drabowsky, rookies Eddie Watt, and Gene Brabender and veteran Stu Miller had placed together 9 1-3 perfect innings over five games.

Bauer has to stop and think to remember the last time he didn't get an airtight relief job. "I've got a heckuva bullpen," Bauer smiles. "I can pull anyone of them and get a good job done. With the exception of Watt and Brabender, all the rest are seasoned ball players. I can bring them in under pressure and they don't get shook."

The Orioles' victory kept their lead at one game over Cleveland which unleashed Yankee-killer Fred Whitfield and beat New York 8-5.

California swept a doubleheader from Minnesota 8-1 and 6-3 and Kansas City edged Chicago 5-4 with the second game of the doubleheader postponed by rain.

Runs cooler because sidewall and tread area work independently, minimizing interior friction, tread squirming. The tire walls (1), with plies laid radially hand-hatched instead of criss-cross, are extremely flexible, absorb road shock. The tread, supported by layers of steel cord (2), is stable, undisturbed by tire wall movement.

The "ordinary" tire

Steering precision is low because the tread is bonded to a flexible criss-cross casing (3). The angles between these casing layers change as the tire rolls, generating internal heat; the tread is free to shift and scrub developing still more heat, leading to rapid wear and making skidding easier.

Cards' Gibson in 100th Win

By the Associated Press
It was in the cards for Bob Gibson to post his 100th victory. But can the St. Louis ace become the National League's new strikeout king?

A 30-year-old right-hander apparently reaching his peak, Gibson stepped up to the 100-victory plateau Wednesday night when he pitched a three-hitter in the Cardinals' 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

It was only natural that Gibson, one of the league's top pitchers, eventually post victory No. 100, and it may be just as natural for the fireballer to take a shot at dethroning Sandy Koufax as the NL's No. 1 strikeout artist.

By striking out eight Pirates, Gibson ran his total for the season to 128 in 128 innings, or just over one an inning. That's by far his best ratio ever. Koufax, meanwhile, is running second with 117 strikeouts in 117 1/3 innings, his usual one-an-inning clip.

AHEAD OF SANDY

While Gibson remained ahead of Koufax, Willie Mays closed in on Ted Williams, moving to within one homer of third place on the all-time home run list by hitting No. 529 of his career in San Francisco's 4-0 victory over Houston.

Elsewhere, the Dodgers stayed two games back of the front-running Giants with a 6-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs, the New York Mets edged

Mansfield Proposes Talks on Viet Between Rusk, Red China's Foreign Minister

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield proposed today a face-to-face meeting between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Red China's Foreign Minister Chen Yi to discuss a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam war.

The Senate Democratic leader said in a speech prepared for Yeshiva University graduates that the war threatens to become the end of a U.S.-Chinese conflict, just as in Korea.

"What is needed most, at this time and in the light of that danger, is an initiative for a direct contact between the Peking government and our own government on the problem of peace in Viet Nam and Southeast Asia," Mansfield said.

"This problem is of such transcendent importance," he added, "that it is a fit question for face-to-face discussion between China and the United States at the highest practicable level."

MIGHT BE USEFUL

"Our secretary of state, Dean Rusk, confronted the Chinese foreign minister, Chen Yi, across the conference table at Geneva in 1961-62. It may be that a similar meeting now would be useful in this critical situation."

He said such a conference could be confined to the two nations, or "it could include the nations of the Southeast Asian mainland since they all lie in the swath of the war's spreading devastation."

Mansfield said he does not regard the membership nor the mechanics of the conference as important.

"History will not be gentle with those who pursue the shadow and evade the substance of peace," he said. "It will not view with sympathy those who stand too much on ceremony or who insist too much on face as the price of coming to grips with its profound problems."

NOT OPTIMISTIC

He said he is not optimistic that any conference with the Chinese at this point would produce much more than a cease-fire. But he said the "first, faltering steps" must be taken toward peace.

Mansfield, who has criticized some aspects of President Johnson's Viet Nam policy, said efforts to end the war "by waging more war" have failed. He conceded that efforts to end fighting can be ended more quickly "by more and better placed bombings" in North Viet Nam.

He rejected the idea that the senator said, is that in an escalating war the "hatches of avoidance" may be closed one by one and mainland China may send troops into Viet Nam.

People who love to drive love the Corvair

Here's what David E. Davis, Jr., Publisher, Car & Driver Magazine, says:

David E. Davis, Jr.

"I guess I've been hooked on Corvair ever since 1959, when Chevrolet first introduced the car. It was a neat, quick little car, and it really turned me on, because, for the first time, the car enthusiasts of this country had a car that was really fun to drive—and there were reasons for that.

"For one thing, the car handled. People who tried it for the first time discovered a whole new feeling in cars. It was a responsive car that turned when you wanted it to turn, and went where you wanted it to go, and when you wanted it to stop, it stopped right now.

"It's been proved again and again that putting the engine in the rear, over the driving wheels, has definite advantages. When you combine that with Corvair's independent rear suspension, it results in a kind of magic ingredient that sets the car apart from others.

"The Corvair is the kind of car that has the unique ability to make your driving better and more skillful, a happy blend of spirit and good design and first-class handling characteristics.

"It's the kind of car that's fun to drive to work in the morning. Seriously, anybody who's never taken a test-drive in one ought to give it a try. It's a son of a gun!"

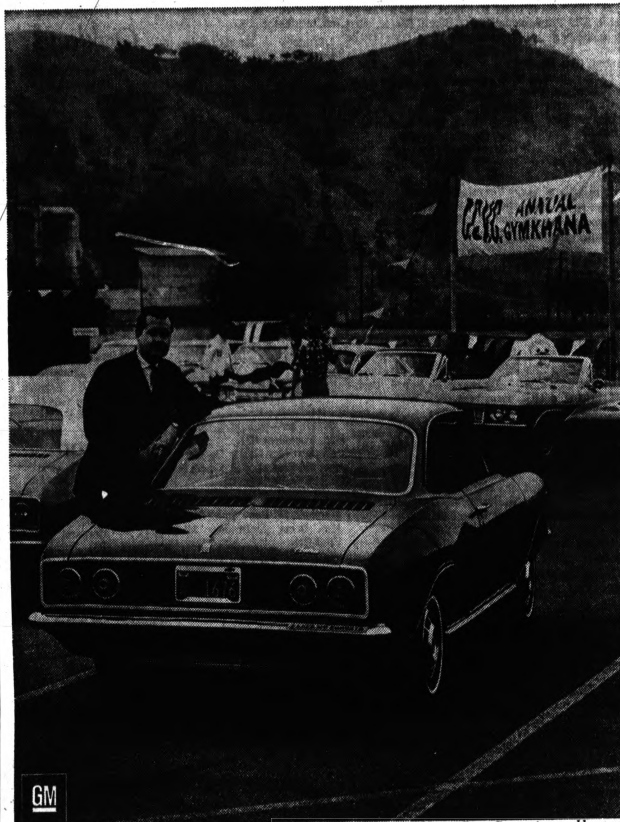

WE THINK YOU'LL LIKE CORVAIR SO WELL YOU MAY WANT TO BUY ANOTHER IN '67!

If you'd like one of these fun stickers for your present or new Corvair, just ask your Chevrolet dealer.

Peking Purges Head of School

Educator Is Termed Counterrevolutionary

TOKYO (AP) — Another university head, the rector in Nanking, is victim of the purge in Communist China.

Radio Peking announced today that Kuang Yanning, rector of Nanking University, was stripped of all his duties because of his "ignoble and villainous conspiracy to suppress the revolutionary movement" in the university.

Kuang's ouster came after he "counterattacked" against students and professors who had accused him of failing to follow the teachings of party Chairman Mao Tse-tung, Radio Peking said.

Kuang claimed that his accusers were "reactionaries" and he "pinned the label of anti-party and anti-Socialist on 70 professors and students between June 2 and 5," Radio Peking said.

'GRAVE INCIDENT'

Learning of this "grave incident," the Kiangsu Province Communist party exposed Kuang's counterrevolutionary "crimes" and decided to oust him last Sunday, the broadcast said.

Nine days ago the intellectuals struck down Peking University rector Lu Ping during a shake-up in the Peking party organization that toppled powerful Peking Mayor Peng Chen from the leadership of the Communist party committee in the Chinese capital.

The announcement of the Nanking rector's dismissal was coupled with a call for the masses to denounce other dissidents. The Peking People's Daily, the Communist party paper, called for "resolute mobilization of the masses to overthrow the anti-party, anti-Socialist, counterrevolutionary elements opposing Mao's thoughts."

20 Townships List Candidates in Primary

Battle lines were drawn Tuesday in 20 area townships as last-minute nominees filed petitions for the Aug. 1 primary. Although there will be no opposition for some township offices, primaries will be held in all townships to nominate congressional, state legislative and county circuit and probate judge candidates.

Teachers Study Romeo Pact

ROMEO — Teachers here are scheduled to meet today to ratify a 1966-67 contract which has already been approved by the board of education.

If the teachers ratify the contract, they will get raises ranging from $600 to $1,100. The increases will cost the district about $85,000 according to Schools Superintendent C. Filippa.

Under the new contract, teachers with a bachelor's degree will start at a salary of $5,500. After 11 years increments they will earn $8,000.

Teachers with a master's degree will earn $6,000 to start increasing to $9,100 after 11 years.

The old schedule ranged from $5,100 to $7,900 for a bachelor's degree and from $5,500 to $8,300 for a master's degree.

The new contract was agreed upon in bargaining sessions between representatives of the board of education and the Romeo Education Association.

W. Bloomfield Pact Talks Continue

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — West Bloomfield teachers, who have set tomorrow as the deadline for negotiations, will continue to discuss contract terms at a meeting today.

Teachers have refused the board of education's last salary proposal because, according to James Maker, West Bloomfield Education Association president, they felt the board could offer more money now that voters have passed a 7-mill operating levy.

Two other factors for the refusal, said Maker, was the lack of incentive pay and the 12-year period between minimum and maximum salaries.

For Rochester-Avon

Board OKs Cityhood Plan

AVON TOWNSHIP -- Incorporation of the township and the village of Rochester into a home rule city would strengthen local control and avoid piecemeal annexation by adjacent cities, according to a recently completed report of the Township Governmental Study Group.

The report, which was the culmination of a year-long study by the group, was unanimously approved by the Township Board last night.

Before any action is taken on the recommendation, however, Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller wants to set up a meeting with Rochester officials "to consider all the facts."

"This needs a lot of study between the Village Council and the Township Board," he said. "I don't advocate acting in haste. The people have to be better informed."

The village is now in the process of setting up an election to incorporate the area within the village limits.

The study group's report recommends incorporation of the village and township into one home rule city which would retain the name of Rochester.

"Rochester needs Avon and Avon needs Rochester," Miller said.

In its report the committee points out that as the population of the township grows, so will the demand for more services.

The problems involved in orderly development and added services could be better met with the protection of a home rule city charter, according to the report.

CAUSE TROUBLE

It also said that although not a problem now, piecemeal annexation of parts of the town-streets and roads which many ship by adjacent cities could necessitate the purchase of new equipment.

Other factors in favor of a home rule charter as cited in the report, include:

• More local control and less by the county and state.

• More local authority to provide municipal services.

• A share of state-collected gas and weight taxes.

• Citizens can adopt their own charter form of government by election.

• Municipal courts may be established.

• The maximum tax rate is determined by the people in adopting the charter.

• Local ordinances are more readily enforced.

• More representation on the county board of supervisors.

• Municipal improvements can be supported from the general tax levy without petitioning.

On the other hand, the committee points out, the county will no longer maintain local streets and roads which many ship by adjacent cities could necessitate the purchase of new equipment.

The new city would have to pay 22.5 per cent of the cost of construction of trunk lines within the city limits and 50 per cent of the cost of widening county roads between two lanes.

MORE TAXES

Also, additional revenues may be required if the people demand more services.

In order to incorporate, petitions bearing not less than 1 per cent of the population of the territory to be affected must be filed with the county clerk.

These are then referred to the board of supervisors which must first approve them then set a date for an election.

A charter commission would be elected to prepare a charter to put to the vote of the people.

Farmington Teachers Ratify Contract

FARMINGTON -- By a vote of 270 to 230, teachers represented by the Farmington Education Association ratified a master contract yesterday, calling for a total increase of $515,527 over present salaries.

Negotiation between the Board of Education and teachers began in February.

Beginning salary for teachers with a bachelor's degree has been set at $5,000, $400 more than the present salary. The maximum salary is $9,100 after 11 years, compared to the present $8,200.

Teachers with a master's degree will have a beginning salary of $6,000, an improvement of $500 over the present schedule. After 12 years, they will receive a top salary of $9,807, compared to the present $8,700.

Under the terms of the contract, time lost due to injury or disease incurred on the job will not be charged against the job.

TO PAY DIFFERENCE

The board also agreed to pay the difference between the allowance under the Michigan Workmen's Compensation Act and the teacher's regular salary for the period of time that funds from the teacher's sick leave bank will provide.

Provision is also made for a leave of absence without pay for one year to any teacher to campaign for himself or to serve in elective public office.

Leave is also provided for service in the Peace Corps and election to the presidency of the Michigan Education Association.

Substantial leave for study is possible for up to one-half per cent of the teachers in a given year.

To be eligible for such a leave, a teacher must have taught for seven continuous years in the district and agree to remain at least two years upon his return.

The contract will become effective Sept. 1, 1966, and continue until Aug. 31, 1967.

Teachers Ratify Master Contract in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE -- After debating for more than two hours yesterday, teachers in the Walled Lake Education Association ratified a master contract for one year.

According to terms of the contract, teachers with a bachelor's degree will receive a starting salary of $5,640 and receive $8,758 after 10 years.

Teachers with master's degree will receive a starting salary of $6,035 and $9,796 after 11 years.

Teachers with master's degrees plus 40 hours will receive a starting salary of $6,237 with a maximum of $10,285 after 11 years.

SPACESHIP EARTH. By Barbara Ward. Columbia U. Press. $4.50.

The title of this noted English economist's book is derived from a prefatory statement that science and technology have created such a compression of geography that the planet Earth has become a small space capsule traveling through infinity.

We are all close neighbors now, she says, and worst of all "we are neighbors in the risk of total destruction." The Bomb.

Her approach is that we must find the rules for survival and build "the common institutions, policies and beliefs" that will enable us to live as a world community.

There are three main obstacles to world order and cooperation, she declares. They are the inequalities, or imbalances, of wealth and ideology.

She points out that most of the world's wealth is held or controlled by the developed nations of the northern hemisphere, which should attempt pump-priming financial help for the underdeveloped nations, most of which are in the southern hemisphere.

The most difficult obstacle to overcome, says the author, is the ideology gap — the old hex of nationalism.

FT. BELVOIR, Va. — A turbine providing 3,000 watts of power so quietly that it could be used in combat near the front lines is being tested here by the U. S. Army.

The turbine works on the Rankine system, by heating a closed container of mercury, and is completely inaudible at about 100 yards. Production units should weigh less than 300 pounds.

The test model will run on any liquid hydrocarbon fuel, including gasoline and JP-4 (a kerosene-based jet and rocket fuel). Other silent power sources being tested include a reciprocating steam engine.

Property Tax Assessment Scandal Spreads in West

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Four official property assessors have been convicted and 14 other persons face charges in a tax scandal involving millions in public revenue in California and Washington.

A central figure in the case — San Francisco Tax Assessor Russell L. Wolden, 55 — was convicted May 25 on eight counts of bribery and one of conspiracy. Wolden, who is appealing, faces a possible maximum sentence of 126 years.

The investigation was touched off last July 21 when the California attorney general's office looked into five cases of files lifted from the office of James C. Tooker, a Castro Valley tax consultant, by a disgruntled employee, Norman Phillips.

"Among the contents was a stack of canceled checks made out to top employees in San Francisco Bay area assessors' offices," said Chief Deputy Atty. Gen. Charles O'Brien.

Michael J. McLaughlin, an under indictment, Taxing agencies in Alameda County took action to recover million dollars in 1965 taxes from underassessed business firms.

San Diego County, Calif., Assessor John McQuilken died of an overdose of barbiturates shortly after an investigation opened into his office. His family said he was innocent, and denied he took his own life. Trial of three former McQuilken aides is in the opening stages in Superior Court.

Four tax consultants also were indicted.

Earl McLain, 73, Butte County, Calif., assessor, and Albert Spangler, assistant assessor, and G. W. Steilwater, president of the Continental Nut Co. of Chico, were indicted by the Butte County grand jury and are awaiting trial. McLain, at a grand jury direction, restored the tax rolls $55 million in property that had not been assessed since 1960.

Administrators Fear Shortages to Worsen

EDITOR'S NOTE — Many hospitals throughout the nation predict a period of increasing competition for nurses — already overburdened — to take care of the extra needs of the Medicare program. The following third of four articles tells of the program's impact on nurses.

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

American nurses—already badly outnumbered by their duties and their patients—haven't seen anything yet. Wait until Medicare takes effect July 1 and elderly patients begin competing fully for medical services.

That seems to be the prevalent feeling of U.S. hospital administrators preparing for the impact of Medicare.

A nationwide survey by The Associated Press showed that many of the better-staffed hospitals are worried about the drain of nurses and technicians to smaller hospitals as the Medicare patient load spreads.

Peter Gellich, assistant administrator of Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Tex., said he expected that the main impact of Medicare would be increased competition for trained people with smaller hospitals in rural areas.

UP STANDARDS

The smaller hospitals, he said, will have to come up to higher standards to qualify for the Medicare program — and those hospitals will have to hire qualified registered nurses and technicians.

But, unlike the big teaching hospitals, the smaller hospitals won't be training new people. They'll have to raid the bigger hospitals for their personnel.

Edwin B. Peel, administrator of the Baptist Hospital in Atlanta, Ga., said his institution was short of nurses now—but we're in better shape than any other hospital in the Atlanta area."

"There's going to be more red tape, bookkeeping, accounting and other work to contend with—and it's going to mean more personnel, from clerical workers down to the lowest echelon of employees—and our personnel picture is already critical," Peel said.

CRITICAL SITUATION

At a recent meeting, Boone Powell of Dallas, president of the American College of Hospital Administrators, said there already is a serious shortage of 20,000 registered nurses—and Medicare will make that shortage critical.

Donald C. Carner, executive vice president of Memorial Hospital in Long Beach, Calif., said there are shortages of all persons needed to staff the 800,000 beds in acute general hospitals across the nation. Registered nurses, he said, are in serious short supply now—without Medicare.

He estimated that Southern California alone is short some 2,000 professional nurses.

At the Los Angeles County General Hospital—part of the county hospital system that carries much of California's medical load—the assistant administrator, John O'Connor, said county hospitals now provide an average of three hours of nursing care per patient per day. The standard, he said, should be four or five hours.

'EXTREMELY LOW'

"With funds available from the government," he said, "we can increase the nursing staff which is now extremely low among general hospitals."

Dr. Tenero D. Caruso, a Los Angeles surgeon, put it this way:

"I've heard, I've read and I've listened and I've looked. Right at the present time in Los Angeles, there are large hospitals that have wards that are closed because of the inability to get adequate, competent nursing help."

"I know of three hospitals whose census of occupied beds is down not because beds aren't available, but because there isn't capable help available. Where are we going to find adequate help to reopen the closed wards? I have no idea."

OWN SCHOOL

The Floyd Hospital in Rome, Ga., is starting its own nursing school in September to try to meet its own nurse shortage. "We are constantly striving to solve our problems," said Administrator Fred M. Walker Jr. "I'm not trying to low-rate the Medicare problem, but we already have shortages."

A report to President Johnson on the status of Medicare preparations agreed that there was a significant shortage of health personnel—and that the Medicare program would have an impact in those areas where shortages already exist.

The answers to such shortages, the report said, require long-term solutions. But, gradually, legislation and federal money is encouraging an increase in nurse training facilities.

WILL INCREASE

The nurse supply will increase by 10 per cent in 1966—as graduates reflect the increased nurse training enrollment from 30,000 to 34,000.

There are another 60,000 persons a year in training for sub-professional health occupations.

But George W. Cooley, executive director of the Medical Society of the District of Columbia, said there is more to it than mere number of persons to serve the sick.

"The quality of care, like the quality of mercy, comes from within the individual," he said. "It is either there or not."

Dem Warns of Hoax in A-Plant Choice

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., told the Senate yesterday the selection of six possible sites as finalists for a gigantic atom-smasher "may be the biggest hoax in the history of American scientific development."

Long referred to an Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) proposal for a 200-billion electron volt accelerator to cost at least $375 million.

Under intensive competition, more than 200 proposed locations were narrowed to six possible sites — Sacramento, Calif.; Brookhaven, N.Y.; Madison, Wis.; Chicago, Ill.; Ann Arbor, Mich.; and Denver, Colo.

Long said he objected to the six because any one of them "may cost the American taxpayer millions of extra dollars and may endanger our leadership in high energy physics research."

He added, "For one month, I have waited, hoping that the National Science Foundation (NSF) would publicly say why they picked six sites which fail to meet the basic physical requirements which the AEC set up last year."

"But the American people have been left wondering why no one is doing anything about what may be the biggest hoax in the history of American scientific development."

It was the second major speech by Long attacking the foundation.

Last month, he accused it of abandoning AEC criteria for the site selection and substituting its own.

ORANGE HAM RING SALAD—This treat is made with cooked ham and veal flavored with frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, makes an original hot weather entrée.

Baste Whole Chickens with Fruity Mixture

As charcoal smoke rises in lazy, hazy spirals above backyards across summertime America, inventive husbands are again showing their prowess as family chefs. These dashing young lords of the charcoal grill cook with verve, preferring to give exotic flair to poultry and meat.

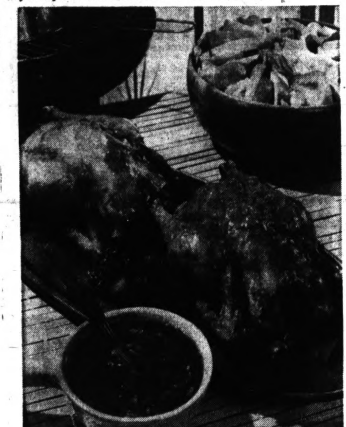

With their nimble attention, for example, young broiler-fryers become Polynesian Chicken-on-a-Split... a glamorous vision for the eye and ambrosia for the palate.

The actual grilling of Polynesian Chicken-on-a-Split is made to order for the backyard impresario. But you can pave the way for a smooth production by stuffing the chickens with a ginger-sparked combination of rice, green pepper, and pineapple.

You can make the marvelous "scene-stealing" barbecue sauce for him, too. Just take a can of condensed beef broth and heat with more pineapple and ginger plus coconut, lemon rind, and Worcestershire.

The beef broth not only adds rich flavor to the chicken, but it also helps the birds take on a glossy glaze. Best of all, you'll have enough sauce left over to serve with the chicken.

Complement the chicken with a green salad wreathed with tomato and avocado slices and hot rolls. Dessert can be your specialty... meringue shells filled with sliced fresh peaches and tiny scoops of vanilla ice cream.

Spread Chili Sauce Over Meat Loaf

This meat loaf slices well.

Popular Meat Loaf

- 1 large egg, slightly beaten
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup minced parsley
- 2 tablespoons dry onion soup mix
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1 pound ground lean beef
- 1 tablespoon chili sauce

Thoroughly mix together all the ingredients except beef and chili sauce; add beef and mix thoroughly.

In a greased 11 by 7 by 2-inch pan, shape the meat mixture into a loaf that is about 8 inches long and 4 inches deep; spread entire surface with the chili sauce.

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 50 minutes.

They're Different

Garlic flavored ripe olives add additional interest to your refrigerator. Buy the super-colossal California ripe olives. For 2 to 3 cups add 3 tablespoons olive oil, 3 finely minced garlic cloves and 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind. Let stand for a while before serving.

Orange Juice Gives Ham Loaf Sweetness and Moisture

If one of your favorite dishes is meat loaf made of ground ham and veal, it need not be relegated to cool weather menus.

Have you thought of serving it in a ring mold as a warm weather salad? It's as easy to prepare as your favorite meat loaf; you simply mix, bake and chill.

There are the usual ingredients of eggs, bread crumbs, seasonings and the ground cooked ham and veal, but with a whole 6-ounce can of thawed, undrained frozen Florida orange juice concentrate added for luscious, fresh-tasting flavor.

After you've baked the mixture in a ring mold, turn onto a serving platter and chill. When you're ready to serve the salad as an entrée, garnish the center with lettuce leaves, bacon and carrot curls, radish roses and orange slices.

ORANGE HAM RING SALAD

- 2 eggs
- 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 cups dry bread crumbs
- 1 pound (2 1/2 cups) ground cooked ham
- 1 pound (2 1/2 cups) ground cooked veal
- 1 can (4 ounces) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, thawed, undrained
- 1/2 cup water
- Lettuce leaves

Mix remaining cranberry-apple drink with 1 (12-ounce) can of pineapple juice. Pour into the cubes, in tall glasses. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Ice Cream Fills a Pie

Peppermint pie is a refreshing summer dessert that can be made ahead of time.

In a 9-inch pie plate, combine 1 1/2 cups of uncooked rolled oats, 1/2 cup of melted butter or margarine and 1/2 cup of firmly packed brown sugar. Bake 5 minutes in preheated 350-degree oven.

Press onto bottom and sides of pie plate. Chill.

Dip Berries for a Snack

SNACK STYLE

Now is the time to bring the first fresh fruit of the summer to your table — the luscious, vine-ripened Michigan strawberry.

Choose the largest strawberries you can find, with bright green caps attached. Put a handful on a decorative tray and pass with bowls of thick sour cream and snowy white confectioners' sugar. Suggest guests dip each plump berry first in the cream and then in sugar.

Cottage Cheese Used in Pie

- 2 tablespoons cold water
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk, heated to boiling
- 2 egg yolks
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
- 2 cups creamed cottage cheese (mild, not tangy)
- 1 9-inch graham cracker crust
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup currant jelly
- 1 pint strawberries, washed and hulled

Put cold water, lemon juice and gelatin into blender container. Cover and process at lowest speed to soften gelatin. Remove feeder cap and add boiling milk.

If gelatin granules cling to container, use a rubber spatula to push them into the center. When gelatin is dissolved, turn control to highest speed; add egg yolks, sugar and cottage cheese.

Cover and continue to process until smooth and well blended. Pour into prepared crust. Chill until firm, about 2 hours.

Melt currant jelly; stir until smooth. Cool. Cut strawberries in half; dip in jelly and place on top of pie. Chill. Yield: One 9-inch pie.

COTTAGE CHEESE PIE

Freezer Jam Is Easy, Delicious

Preserve jam in a freezer. That's the newfashioned way of making Strawberry-Rhubarb Jam.

With liquid fruit pectin to insure a set, no cooking is necessary. Just grind the rhubarb and crush the strawberries to get juice; then combine with sugar. Stir in liquid pectin and lemon juice until the sugar is dissolved. Ladle it into half-pint jars with tight-fitting lids. In about 24 hours, jam!

Strawberry-Rhubarb Jam
1 1/2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 pt. fully ripe strawberries and 1/2 lb. rhubarb)
4 cups (1 1/2 lb.) sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice (1/4 lemon)
1/2 bottle liquid fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Thoroughly crush about 1 pint strawberries. Measure 1 1/4 cups into a large bowl or pan. Finely grind (do not peel) about 1/2 pound rhubarb; measure 1/2 cup and add to strawberries.

Then make the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruits. Mix lemon juice and fruit pectin in a small bowl. Stir into fruit mixture. Continue stirring about 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.)

Ladle quickly into jars. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature until set (may take up to 24 hours); then store in freezer.

If jam will be used within 2 or 3 weeks, it may be stored in the refrigerator. Makes about 5 medium jars.

Blend Sour Cream With Cheese for Pie

Add a surprise topping to fruit pies. Make Cheddar Sour Cream Topping.

Gently blend together 1 1/4 cups dairy sour cream and 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese. Spread over top of fruit pie during last 15 minutes of baking. Yields enough topping for a 9 or 10 inch pie. So good as a topping on fresh peach, cherry or apple pies.

Strawberries Are in Season

First Layer

- 1 pkg. strawberry flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup ice water
- 1 qt. fresh strawberries, crushed and drained (save juice)
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup pecan halves

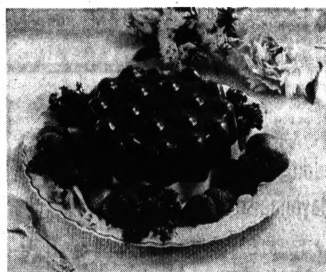

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water and add ice water. Chill until slightly thickened, then fold in strawberries and pecans. Pour into oiled 1 1/4 quart mold and chill until firm.

Second Layer

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice, plus 2 tablespoons cold water
- Juice from strawberries plus water to make 1 cup liquid
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
- 1 3-oz. pkg. cream cheese
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mayonnaise

Soften gelatin in lemon juice and water. Heat strawberry juice and water with sugar, stirring constantly until sugar dissolves. (Watch closely, this syrup boils over easily.) Add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool.

Blend cream cheese and mayonnaise with rotary beater. Add cooled gelatin mixture and beat until smooth. Pour over first layer in mold and chill until firm. Serves 6-8 or makes 8 individual molds.

STRAWBERRY MOLDED SALAD

Among the strawberry varieties grown in Michigan are Midways, Robinsons, Earldawns, Tennessee Beauties, Red Glows and Premier-type, with Midways becoming the most popular.

All of these varieties are excellent freezer berries, although Robinsons are considered better for table use.

To freeze first select bright red, firm berries, free from blemishes and bruises. Sort and wash, handling the berries carefully to prevent bruising.

Always wash berries with the caps still on, otherwise much of the flavor and juice will be lost. Prepare a small amount at a time. Drain well. Milk and freeze immediately.

The best method of packing is to freeze sliced berries with sugar. About 2 1/2 of a quart of berries will yield a pint when frozen.

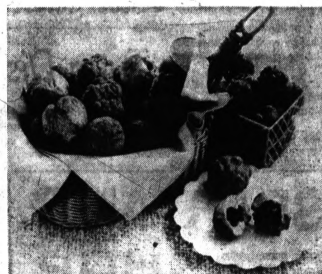

Sprinkle 3/4 cup sugar over each quart of sliced berries. Turn berries over and over until sugar is dissolved and juice forms. Pack berries in container, leaving 1/2 inch headspace.

Another method is to fill a moisture-vapor proof freezer container with washed and hulled berries to within 1/2 inch to 1 inch from the top and cover with a COLD 50 per cent sugar syrup (1 cup of sugar dissolved into 1 cup of water).

Either method can be used to freeze berries 8 to 12 months.

Different Salad

You can use canned mixed vegetables in a salad. Just drain them and moisten with well-seasoned mayonnaise. Serve on salad greens as a good accompaniment to broiled or baked fish, or broiled or roast meat or poultry.

STRAWBERRY SURPRISE PUFFS

- 2 1/4 cups biscuit mix
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 1/4 teaspoons dried lemon peel
- 1 egg
- 1 tablespoon liquid shortening
- Milk (about 1/2 cup)
- Whole strawberries (about 20, washed and hulled)
- Oil for deep-fat frying

1. Measure biscuit mix into large bowl. Stir in sugar and lemon peel.

2. Break egg into a small bowl and beat with fork. Add 1 tablespoon liquid shortening and 1/2 cup milk. Stir well.

3. Pour liquid all at once over biscuit mix. Stir only until ingredients are moistened. (Should be similar to a rolled cookie dough.)

Heat oil in kettle to 375 degrees F. Flour hands and shape dough around a whole strawberry, making a ball about 1 1/4 inches in diameter. Seal dough well.

Drop into hot fat and fry about 2 minutes or until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper.

Serve plain or rolled in confectioners' sugar or cinnamon sugar. Makes about 20 puffs.

Pan Fried Cabbage
Do you know you can pan-fry Chinese cabbage? Stired the vegetable and cook it in a large tightly covered skillet in a couple of tablespoons each of salad oil and water. Season with salt and white pepper.

Duck is a durable, closely woven cotton fabric.

Includes Cheese, Eggs
Tuna Dish Layered

Every "good cook" likes to try some new dish in order to please her family. Variety in her meal planning is one of the virtues that helped her to achieve this envied title. Canned tuna, with its mild delicate flavor suits everyone and it blends so well with other flavors that the combinations are unending. Surprise your family with Tuna Strata.

The word "Strata" in Italian refers to layers and this casserole consist of one luscious layer on top of another.

First step is as easy as making a tuna sandwich and as economical, too. Make six sandwiches; starting with a piece of cheese on the bottom slice of bread. Then fill with tuna, and close sandwich.

Beat the eggs and milk, just as you would for an omelet, adding mustard and onion to perk up the flavor blend. Just pour this mixture over the sandwiches and then refrigerate the whole casserole.

During this time, the bread absorbs some of the egg mixture which will give a very moist puddinglike quality to the casserole. Then, just bake and serve.

TUNA STRATA
12 slices day-old bread
6 slices process cheddar cheese
2 cans (6 1/2 or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil
1/2 cup mayonnaise
4 eggs
2 1/2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
1 tablespoon minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt

Remove crusts from bread slices. Arrange 6 slices in a shallow 8 1/2 x 14 inch baking dish; top with cheese slices. Blend tuna and mayonnaise in small bowl. Spread tuna mixture on cheese slices. Cover filling with remaining slices of bread.

Beat eggs, blend in milk and remaining ingredients; pour over bread. Refrigerate 1 hour. Bake, uncovered, in a 325 degree oven about 50 minutes or until puffy and brown. Garnish with lime or lemon twists. Serve at once. Yield: 6 servings.

If lumps have formed in brown sugar, sift the sugar before using for baking. Lumps will not matter if it has been mixed; or it may be covered tightly and chilled before serving.

Brownie Recipe
Is Luci's Own

Here it is, Luci Baines Johnson's recipe for Brownies — straight from the White House. The ingredients and method are Luci's own.

LUCI'S BROWNIES
1/4 pound butter
1 cup sugar
3 squares unsweetened chocolate
2 eggs
1 cup chopped pecans
3/4 cup unsifted regular flour
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt the butter; while it is melting, put the sugar into a mixing bowl. Add part of the melted butter (about three-quarters of it) to the sugar.

To the rest of the butter, add the chocolate and mix over very low heat to melt the chocolate; add this to the butter and sugar mixture.

Beat in the eggs, one at a time, with a spoon. Stir in the pecans, flour and vanilla.

Bake in a greased pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches) at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. It is important to watch that the Brownies do not get too done.

To test, lightly press a finger on the top; if no imprint is left, they are ready.

Cool, cut in squares and take out of the pan.

Makes a batch of 20.

Additions Improve Mayonnaise

If your friends like a tangy salad dressing, here it is!

Tangy Mayonnaise
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon undrained India-type sweet pickle relish
2 tablespoons tomato catchup
2 tablespoons minced sweet onion
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

With a fork, thoroughly mix together the mayonnaise, pickle relish, catchup, onion and grated cheese. Makes 1/2 cup.

This dressing may be served right after it has been mixed; or it may be covered tightly and chilled before serving.

LUCI

A very large seedless orange will yield about one-half cup of frying chicken, try dipping it membrane-free orange sections, into heavy cream before coating it with seasoned flour.

Start Summer at Cottage with Good Staple Supply

The final clang of the school bell usually signals the mass exodus of many families from city apartment to country house or suburban home to beach cottage. For the woman who must mastermind this movement of the troops, the magic word is lists!

By late spring, she had begun making notes on the backs of old envelopes, the telephone bill, and in the little red leather notebook in her purse. There is one list for clothes, another for household items, and still another for pantry shelf staples.

Women who have been through it before stress the need for a well-stocked pantry, since shopping trips into town are usually confined to once a week. In the meantime, the backlog of food you bring with you meets any and all emergencies. It also greatly simplifies the daily chore of menu planning.

The home economists of The R. T. French Company, Rochester, N. Y., did some research on the subject and they worked out this practical list of 24 basic foods for a summer larder.

1. Breakfast cereals.
2. Canned fruit juices.
3. Evaporated milk—dry skim milk.
4. Dehydrated—canned soups.
5. Instant potato products (scalloped, instant mashed, au gratin, pancakes).
6. Sauce mixes (creamy onion, mushroom gravy, sour cream, spaghetti, a la king, and curry).
7. Canned meat and fish (chicken, ham, corned beef, tuna, salmon).
8. Canned vegetables (peas, corn, beans).
9. Canned fruit.
10. Salad dressings.
11. Condiments—mustard, pickles, ketchup.
12. Seasonings—salt, pepper, paprika, garlic salt.
13. Flour.
14. Rice.
15. Dried beans.
16. Spaghetti.
17. Packaged puddings.
18. Jam and jelly.
19. Peanut butter.
20. Crackers and cookies.
21. Cake mixes—instant icings.
22. Cocoa.
23. Coffee and tea.
24. Sugar.

Pay Hike Bill Has Surprise

Legislator's Expense Allowance Up $1,000

LANSING (UPI) — Unnoticed by many lawmakers, the Michigan Senate last week attached a $1,000 expense allowance increase to a bill already offering legislators an annual $4,000 pay boost.

The move also caught reporters flatfooted until it checked this version of the Senate Journal of June 7 which recorded the maneuver.

The $4,000 annual pay increase was included in the $84-million general government appropriation bill.

The proposal to increase the current $2,500 expense allowance was added to the general government bill as an amendment.

Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, chairman of the powerful appropriations committee, offered the amendment without any discussion.

PUSHES BOOST

Lane also pushed the $4,000 pay proposal past the Senate with hardly a ripple.

Some lawmakers protested the pay proposal was buried in the general government bill and glossed over by Lane during an explanation of the measure.

Under the proposed bill, the legislators would receive $17,500 in salary and expenses.

Already the highest paid in the nation, they currently receive $10,000 pay plus $2,500 for expenses.

STUDYING PROPOSALS

The bill passed by a 19-14 vote with 17 Democrats and two Republicans supporting it. Three Democrats joined Republicans in opposition of the bill.

A committee of House and Senate members now is studying the pay and expense allowance proposals attached to the general appropriations bill.

Final action on the measure must come next week when the Legislature returns from a week's recess to complete its work before adjourning for the summer.

Grateful Grad Gives Million Dollars to WSU

DETROIT (AP)—A retired female trucking-firm executive, who is also a grateful graduate, has given Wayne State University the second-largest trust fund in the history of the school.

The gift of more than $1 million from Mrs. Gladys Wright Craig was to be announced today at a meeting of WSU's governors.

Mrs. Craig earned a liberal arts degree from Wayne in the 1940s, some 20 years after graduating from high school.

Soon after, she became president of two trucking firms and held the positions 18 years.

"If it weren't for Wayne," she said, "I wouldn't have the money to give."

Harvard Prof Tells of Unethical Experiments on Humans Without Consent

BOSTON (AP) — A Harvard Medical School professor says unethical experiments are being performed on humans without their consent, and cites examples involving more than 1,000 persons.

Dr. Henry K. Beecher, director of Harvard's anesthesia laboratory - at Massachusetts General Hospital and chairman of a faculty committee studying ethics in human experiments, makes the charges in the New England Journal of Medicine.

Journal editors who reviewed the article in the latest issue certified the 22 examples given as accurate and correctly described. They said 28 others he submitted were not included for reasons of space.

"It is evident that in many of the examples presented, the investigators have risked the health or life of their subjects," Dr. Beecher wrote.

SOURCE OF EXAMPLES

His examples, he said, are from leading medical schools, university hospitals, private hospitals, governmental military departments (Army, Navy, Air Force), governmental institutions, Veterans Administration hospitals and industry.

Among the examples Dr. Beecher cited:

During heart surgery, 11 youngsters, age 3½ months to 18 years, also had the thymus gland in their chest removed for an experiment checking the gland's effect on immunity.

Catheters (small tubes) were inserted into 26 normal infants less than 2 days old to study whether the backing up of urine from bladder to kidneys can occur in normal bladders. There was a danger of infection, although none occurred, and the results of extensive X-ray exposure used to observe the function will never be known.

In a group of 408 charity patients, about 137 were denied chloramphenicol, a drug known to be effective against typhoid fever, in an additional test of its effectiveness. Of those who received the drug, 7.97 per cent died; of those who did not, 22.9 per cent died.

Patients with normal hearts were used in testing a technique for injecting a needle into the heart through the windpipe, although the risks were unknown.

Although penicillin and other antibiotics were known to be capable of controlling strep throat infection that can lead to rheumatic fever, investigators withheld the drugs from 800 Air Force men without their knowledge or consent. About 5 per cent contracted rheumatic fever.

It is evident, Dr. Beecher wrote, "that unethical or questionably ethical procedures are not uncommon."

In only two of the 50 cases originally compiled for the study, Dr. Beecher said, was the consent of the patient mentioned.

Even then, he said, "statements regarding consent are meaningless unless one knows how fully the patient was informed of all risks and if these are not known, the fact-made clear."

Health Records Traced for Odds on Heart Attack

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Want to figure your chances of suffering a heart attack? Take a quick look at your health records.

Seven National Heart Institute scientists have been doing just that for several years.

Their preliminary report pinpoints nine health characteristics which contribute to coronary disease and hypertension.

All nine can be identified early in adult life, thus providing warning to those in potential danger.

The guinea pigs in the NHI study were 45,000 former students at Harvard University and the University of Pennsylvania.

TRACE STATUS

Starting with the subjects' college records, the researchers traced their later health status through questionnaires, alumni records and death certificates.

Complete data was recorded on about 18,000 of the subjects. Those still living are between 20 and 65 years old.

The nine characteristics which distinguished the victims from their living classmates in order of their frequency:

• Smoking. Though collegiate smoking patterns may have changed later in life, smoking half a pack daily in young adulthood was associated with a 60 per cent higher coronary mortality rate for all age groups.

• High blood pressure. Closely linked with smoking and an overweight condition, early high blood pressure was more dangerous to men than women.

• Obesity. Normally leading to hypertension, the condition was more dangerous for women. But overweight men nevertheless incurred heavy risk even though they showed no signs of high blood pressure.

• Short body stature, early parental death and an absence of brothers and sisters.

Any two of these characteristics could be a danger sign.

• A low level of physical activity. Few college athletes suffered heart attacks. Heavy physical exercise either protected or toughened the cardiovascular system.

• Anxiety and depression.

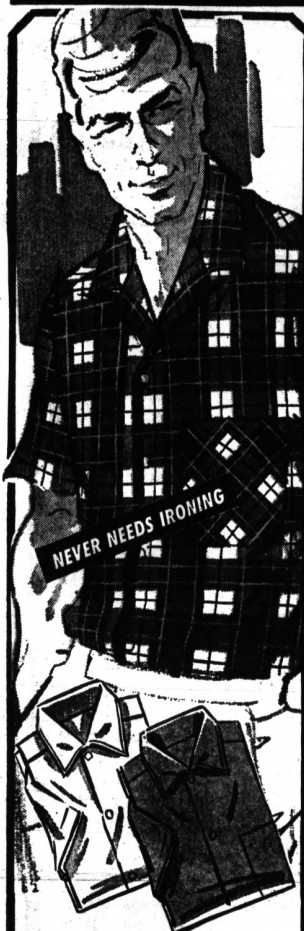

Students with emotional problems in college experienced twice the coronary risk of their more stable classmates among subjects who died under age 45, but only a slightly higher risk thereafter.

• Scarlet fever in early life. Subjects suffering this disease before turning six ran a slightly higher risk of coronary death.

President Wilson vetoed a bill in 1915 which called for literacy tests for immigrants.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Many 'Hidden Diabetics' Are Uncovered

Interest in diabetes has been steadily increasing as new methods for early detection of this disease are revealing many new cases.

It is estimated that at least two million persons in the United States have diabetes that has not yet been diagnosed.

Some communities are conducting screening programs to find these "hidden diabetics."

In one area, 34 new cases were found in every 1,000 persons tested as compared with an average of 8.6 in other areas.

This was accomplished by concentrating on high-risk groups

Civil War Figure Dies

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Vicente Rojo, chief of the Republican army staff during the Spanish civil war from 1936 to 1939, died Wednesday in Madrid at age 71. He went into exile after the war but asked, and was allowed, to return to Spain from Bolivia in 1957.

such as relatives of known diabetics, women who have borne babies weighing more than 10 pounds at birth, persons who are more than 10 per cent over the normal weight for their height and persons who are over 60.

WIDELY PUBLICIZED

In this area the screening program was widely publicized and a free test for the blood sugar level was offered.

No one was labeled a new case of diabetes until his family doctor had confirmed the diagnosis.

Early detection coupled with proper treatment is an important means of preventing serious complications of this disease such as blindness, gangrene of the toes, neuritis and coma.

Romney Creating Urban Area Panel

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney is creating a special commission to give initial attention to consideration of the establishment of an urban affairs department, which would constitute the 20th department of state government under our new constitution," he said.

RESPONSIBILITIES

The responsibilities of the special commission will include:

"I feel that such a department could significantly complement the recently achieved reorganization of state government in Michigan's rapidly expanding urban areas," Romney said.

"I will therefore urge this special commission to give initial attention to consideration of the establishment of an urban affairs department, which would constitute the 20th department of state government under our new constitution," he said.

"Developing short-range policies to assist state government in meeting urban problems."

The 14- to 20-member commission will be asked to produce a preliminary report by late November — "in time for action in the next session of the legislature," Romney said.

The state must help solve the problems faced by the local governments it has created, he said.

Arise, Dad's Day Has Come!

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON — The great Father's Day rebellion of 1966 as it may someday be called, is at the moment hardly more than a faint stirring of middle-age unrest.

But by Sunday, I predict, it will have mushroomed into a sweeping national movement. After that, there will be no stopping us.

Historians probably will identify Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., as the catalyst who fanned the flames of revolt. For it was he who uttered the ringing cry: "Why is it necessary to have a national Father's Day?"

That same question must have occurred to at least 10 million other people, but none before had dared ask it. Long was like the little child who asked, "Why is the King wearing no clothes?"

Other senators were temporarily stunned by the audacious remark, which smacked somewhat of heresy.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., sponsor of the resolution to designate the third Sunday in June as Father's Day, was so taken aback he answered the query with another query.

"Why is it necessary to pass many of the bills that we pass in the Senate?" sputtered Randolph.

GOOD QUESTION

That also is a good question. Why, for instance, was it necessary for the Senate to pass in June a resolution designating May as "Steelmark Month?"

Long's iconoclastic outburst came too late to prevent the Senate from plunging headlong into Father's Day, but it serves as a rallying point for those of us who are determined to resist.

Some of the fathers with whom I have discussed the matter are plotting a campaign of defiance, up to and including the acts of civil disobedience.

"We could refuse to pay for the gifts our kids charge to us," one father said.

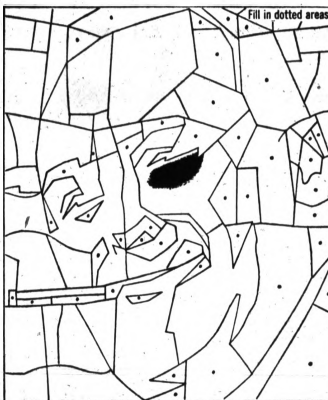

FATHERS UNITED

"We could organize American Fathers United for the Abolition of Father's Day (UFUAFD)," another suggested.

"We could paint some 'stamp out Father's Day' placards and picket the White House," a third cried.

It would be a shame if the momentum gained should end with a single protest demonstration. For several years now, the younger generation has been in a state of rebellion.

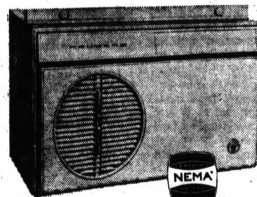

It is high time that the middle-aged masses emerged from their defensive shell and did a little rebelling of their own. Don't take Father's Day lying down!

Peace Pickets Are Aggressive—to a Point

By TOM TIEDE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — There were a dozen of them. Youngish, some what seedy, and each wearing a black band of mourning on his left sleeve. They were gathered in Times Square to demonstrate against the war.

"Peace, peace, we want peace," they chanted.

It was rush hour in the city. Thick traffic. A slight rain fell.

"Hey, hey, LBJ, how many soldiers did you kill today?" They marched in a tight oval. Some carried posters. One, a hunched chap with a beret, carried something he claimed to be printed in blood.

"Not my blood," he barked. "You kidding? I'm a lover, not a fighter."

NOT MARCHING

His name was Al, 30 years old, fat-fleshed, and a complexion like a white sidewalk. He was the leader, apparently, for he was not marching and his feet did not hurt. He was leaning on a brick store-front and handing out leaflets.

"Hey, here ya are. Thank ya! It's free, ma'am. Bring back our boys. Thank ya! One for you, sir? How about you? Stop the war in Viet Nam. Read our side of it. Thank ya!"

A small knot of curious pedestrians straddled the curb stone.

"Peace, peace, we want peace."

"Here ya are, lady. Stop the war. Thank ya!"

"Hey, hey, LBJ, how many soldiers did you kill today?" A man with a dog got his leash tangled around Al's legs. An old matron came by, stopped a few feet distant, said, "You should be ashamed," and then continued on.

She was followed by an attractive brunette.

"Here ya go, honey," Al said. Take one for free.

"No, thank you," the girl replied.

"Come on, it'll do ya good."

As Al reached for the girl's arm, one of the bystanding crowd moved in front of him. The fellow was about 21, wearing sun tan and a pocket-length slicker. His hair hung damp to the tops of his brows.

"Hey, man," he said to Al, "you got a big mouth."

Al frowned and stiffened. The girl turned immediately and hurried away. The rest of the crowd, demonstrators included, grew silent.

"Just giving an opinion," Al said to the youth in the slicker.

TRUBLE STARTS

Al chewed his lip. He said something to the effect that he didn't like being pushed. The kid told him to pack it up and leave. Al, the smaller of the pair, if the heavier, took a back-step. But the lad followed to close them tight again.

"I don't want no trouble," Al said.

"Then butt out of here."

"Look, I got a right . . ."

The boy dropped a book he had in his hand. It slapped the pavement like a pistol shot. Al shook all over. "I got a right to my opinion," he repeated. His face grew red and his collar tight.

Then, carefully, the fat man named Al picked up two posters he had placed against a fire hydrant. He swore under his breath. "O.K., dammit, I'm going."

Then he buttoned up his sweater and quickly moved to the corner, around it and on up Broadway.

"Good for you, young man," somebody said to the fellow in the slicker.

"Aw," he answered, "people like that get me."

The rain was heavier by this time. Traffic was tightening. The demonstrators, mostly forgotten, held a brief conference, then began the slow, circling march once again.

"Hey, hey, LBJ, how many soldiers did you kill today?"

The boy in the slicker watched as the onlookers broke apart and drifted. Then he hunched his shoulders and began to cross the street.

"Where you from anyway?" a fellow asked him politely.

"Philadelphia," the boy said, "I'm here job hunting."

"Oh," the guy smiled, and they both reached the other curb. "You must be just out of high school."

"No," the boy said, smiling, "I'm just out of Viet Nam."

Warning Sounded

'Space Outshines Air Needs'

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The U. S. space program, constantly in the headlines with such feats as landing the Surveyor on the moon and the rendezvous of Gemini 9 with a target vehicle in space, is threatening to swamp the progress of future air transportation.

This warning was sounded recently by the Senate Committee on Aeronautical and Space Sciences in a report urging greatly increased attention to aeronautical research and development.

Only two per cent of the $5 billion being spent by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration during the current fiscal year is earmarked for air transport needs.

Despite the small amount being spent, the committee stressed, the main problem is whether the public is satisfied with today's civil aeronautic system, and whether or not the rate of progress now is sufficient to meet future needs.

The committee noted the "tremendous growth in commercial aviation in recent years," the continuation of which is "dependent upon a sizeable and sustained effort in research and development."

The report surveys the possibilities for aviation in terms of national goals for transportation, military security and economic strength.

The air transport system contributed more than $24 billion to the gross national product during 1964, and the expert of aircraft and parts brings in more than one billion dollars a year.

Both figures illustrate the importance of aeronautics to the economy.

However, more than in almost any other industry, advancement in aviation is dependent upon a sizeable and sustained effort in research and development.

Market Declines Irregularly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined irregularly in moderate trading early this afternoon.

They were working their way down fairly consistently. The glamor section of the list, including airlines, aerospace issues, electronics, color television and others, were mostly lower.

TREND TO DOWNSIDE

The trend was to the downside also among steels, oils, tobacco and chemicals.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.2 even though market averages at 322.3 with industrials down.

Boyle Draws Conclusions on Big, Little Things in Life

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions: It's the guy who does the least work in the office who most often seems to need a new cushion for his swivel chair.
About the only real pleasure in going to war is that a fellow can get dirty and scratch himself in public without being hawled out by his mother or his wife.
Wouldn't it be nice to go to movie again that wasn't about either sex or spies?
The art of making desserts has been going steadily downhill ever since someone first put fresh strawberries and vanilla ice cream together — and achieved perfection.
CHARACTER DEFECT
I always look for a character defect in any man who openly admits he likes leg of lamb.
Great strength is often ad-mixed but seldom loved. That's why more people like elm trees than oak in their front yard.

It helps to put money in its proper perspective if you remember that hens get just as much enjoyment out of laying eggs whether they sell for a dime or a dollar a dozen. You'd maybe be happier if you felt that way about your work, too.
Two things we don't recall seeing lately are a farmer with caluses and a policeman with bunions.
When all the world seems sour and dreary, one of the best ways to cure your blues is to take a small child for his first ride on a department store elevator.
NEVER MARRY
Musicians who play the bass fiddle should never marry. They already have as big a problem as they can handle.
Life is much more complicated for a bride today than it was for her mother. Before she even learns how to cook a meal she must first learn how to thaw it properly.

Junior Editors Quiz on EQUINOX

QUESTION: Why does spring start on March 21 and fall on September 23?
ANSWER: Study the top picture to understand why we have seasons. As the earth goes around the sun once every year, it spins on its axis once every 24 hours. It keeps the same tilt while all this is happening.
This means that rays from the sun shine down above the equator in our summer season, making it warmer (earth at left). In our winter, the sun's rays shine directly down south of the equator (earth at right).
Twice every year, the sun's direct rays must cross the equator as they move from north to south and back again. These crossing times are called equinoxes (because at those times day and night are equal) and they mark the beginning of the spring and fall seasons.
The next equinox, this year, will be the fall one, on Sept. 23. Then, on March 21, 1967, the sun's direct rays will cross the equator again.
This will mean that spring has started. The sun soon will pour down north of the equator and it will be the summer season of 1967.
As the sun moves north or south during the equinoxes, its direct rays are traveling faster over the earth's surface than at other times.
This results in an uneven heating of the earth's surface and leads to storms at this season of the year, called equinoctial gales.

Power Swing to China Seen

Disarmament Confab Hears British Warning

GENEVA (UPI) — Britain told the disarmament conference today Communist China would hold the world balance of power by 1975 and suggested the conference get down to serious negotiating now.

The statement, directed chiefly at the Soviet Union, came from British disarmament negotiator Lord Chalfont.

He asked Russia to pay more attention to Red China's growing military might than to what he called the "outdated and irrelevant cold war in Europe."

He said the United States and the Soviet Union now hold the balance of power in the world "but in the last quarter of the century, this balance will be in the hands of Communist China," which recently tested its third nuclear weapon.

He said Russia still shows "the same unhealthy and myopic obsession with the affairs of Germany and Europe" rather than realizing that, after 1975, "the great threats to the peace and prosperity of the world will be outside Europe in the turbulent and seething world of Africa and Asia."

"What is needed now is a positive and collective act of faith which will certainly involve political courage and possibly involve what might seem to some to be short term risks," Chalfont said.

Chalfont rebuked the entire disarmament conference for not working hard enough. He said the delegates are "exchanging prepared speeches which often make up in polish and elegance what they lack in effective content."

He said the conference has thus laid itself open to the charge that it is simply engaged in a pleasant and undemanding lakeside exercise in semantics. Chalfont conceded that changes are afoot for the East-West agreement on stopping the spread of nuclear tests because of the Viet Nam war.

UF Agencies Review Budgets

June is budget review month for participating agencies of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Each year agencies receiving local UF allocations submit a detailed breakdown of their current operating costs and an itemized statement of next year's anticipated costs.

The budget reviews precede the establishment of the annual UF goal. The 1966 campaign goal will result from the current review.

Reviewing budgets of some 21 local agencies is the job of UF budget committee members representing the community whose voluntary contributions support these agency services.

According to James Howlett, chairman of the budget steering committee, such review is simply "sound business practice necessary to the adequate and fair distribution of funds to maintain the highest level of services for the money expended."

Two five-member panels under Howlett's direction divide the responsibility of meeting with agency representatives. Alternate panels meet approximately five hours three days a week until completed.

Assisting with the current review is Wright Cotton, vice chairman of the budget steering committee.

Each agency is scheduled a 30-minute hearing to provide background material and program information to supplement statistical reports supplied in advance to each panel member.

Members of one panel are Howlett, chairman, Harold Goldberg, Andrew J. Wilson, Dr. Barker.

The two-day gathering of editors and publishers will start Friday with a luncheon at which the three leading aspirants for U. S. senator will speak.

Representing The Pontiac Press at the meeting will be Harry Reed, managing editor, and John Fitzgerald, editor.

It will mark the first time in the primary election campaign that the hopefuls—Democrats G. Mennen Williams and Jeanne P. Cavanaugh and Republican Sen. Robert Griffin—have shared the same platform.

The meeting will wind up Saturday night with a banquet at which members who contributed the most to the Associated Press during the year will be cited.

Federal Grant OK'd for OU Equipment
A $50,000 federal grant has been approved for Oakland University to cover half the cost of new equipment.

The matching grant will be given by the U.S. Office of Education under provisions of the Higher Education Act of 1965, according to Sen. Phil A. Hart, D-Mich., and Rep. Billie S. Farmer, D-19th District.

The University plans to spend $100,000 for special equipment and materials in the social studies, modern language, music and art departments and for audio-visual materials to be used throughout the university.

GAYLORD (AP)—More than 150 representatives of the state's major newspapers are expected to be in Gaylord this weekend for the annual meeting of the Michigan Associated Press Editorial Association.

The two-day gathering of editors and publishers will start Friday with a luncheon at which the three leading aspirants for U. S. senator will speak.

Representing The Pontiac Press at the meeting will be Harry Reed, managing editor, and John Fitzgerald, editor.

TV Studio Pact

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Members of the Writers Guild of America have approved unanimously a contract with major television production studios.

The contract ended threat of a strike Wednesday midnight. The pact was approved Wednesday at the end of a marathon 25-hour bargaining session.

Bargaining sources said the producers had agreed to increase minimum payments for scripts by 4 per cent this year and an additional 8 per cent in the third and final year of the contract. Present minimums are $1,270 for a half-hour script and $2,310 for an hour-long script and teleplay.

The writers also won reinstatement of a residual payment plan they relinquished six years ago. The plan is based on the number of reruns, sources said. The settlement affects 500 guild members including writer-producers and writer-directors.

Bigger and Better Fair in Store

By HUDSON WILLSE

When Community Activities, Inc. officials changed the name of their fair to the North Oakland County Fair this year, they had in mind a bigger and better show — not only in identity but also in scope.

Officials are predicting that this, the 22nd annual fair sponsored by CAI, will attract about 100,000 spectators tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday.

Dean Salley, who along with Jack Cooper, is cochairmen of this year's fair, said nine acres of parking space are available.

No admission will be charged for the fair. However, it will cost 25 cents for parking privileges.

Discount coupons for amusement rides at the fair are available through local merchants, according to officials.

THEME OF FAIR

The theme of the fair will be centered around the military because of the current crisis in Viet Nam, fair officials point out.

Highlight of the fair will be the appearance and performance of the U.S. Army Parachute Team — the Golden Knights from Ft. Bragg, N. C.

One of the performers for the veteran team is Staff Sgt. Charles J. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Harris of 1525 W. Hamlin, Avon Township.

FAIR ARRIVAL

The 11-man parachute team is scheduled to arrive at the fair at 4:30 p.m. Saturday. They will probably land at Selfridge Air Force Base.

Waterford Township police will provide an escort for the Golden Knights during the last leg of their drive from the base.

According to Pontiac

Army Recruiting Staff Sgt. Donald Pratt, in charge of military exhibits at the fair, the Golden Knights are "the cream of the crop."

The team will stage a demonstration in precision parachuting, starting at 3 p.m. Sunday.

HEIGHTS VARY

The "Knights" jump from heights of 2,000 to 13,500 feet, depending on weather conditions, Sgt. Pratt said.

During four 75 second free-falls, they will perform a baton pass, cutaway, diamond track and a final four-man formation free-fall.

Black and gold canopies will blossom out and the jumpers will steer the highly maneuverable parachutes, landing in front of the spectators on property adjacent to the CAI's eight-acre plot.

Army items on display will be an open parachute, 5-ton Army truck, 2½-ton Army truck, two different size howitzers and a mannequin dressed in a jungle uniform to simulate a soldier in Viet Nam.

SHOW PICTURES

Also several pictures of aerial demonstrations and pamphlets will be displayed, according to Sgt. Pratt. A recruiting trailer also will be on hand.

Tuesday—three days prior to the official opening of the fair — Happyland Shows set up a midway, featuring several carnival rides to be offered throughout the fair.

In addition, 25 game booths will be set up inside the CAI building, along with displays provided by the Waterford Township and Pontiac police departments.

Pontiac police will present a narcotics and weapons display, exhibiting weapons used in major city crimes. Weapons confiscated from juveniles will be displayed by Waterford Township police.

Besides the Army exhibits and the midway, there will be 30 merchant booths on display outside the building.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. will present a telestar display.

Another feature of the fair will be helicopter rides.

Much entertainment will be provided throughout the fair, and teen-age dances will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday with the Mark V band furnishing the music.

TUG-OF-WAR

Of added interest will be three tug-of-war matches.

At 4:45 p.m. Saturday, the Waterford Township and Pontiac police will square off in one match, with the Independence Township and Waterford Township firemen vying in the other match.

The winning teams will do battle at 2 p.m. Sunday. A trophy will be awarded to the victorious squad.

At 6 p.m. Sunday U.S. Senator Robert Griffin, R-Mich., is scheduled to do the crowning, when the new fair queen is announced. Seventeen teen-age girls are competing for the honor.

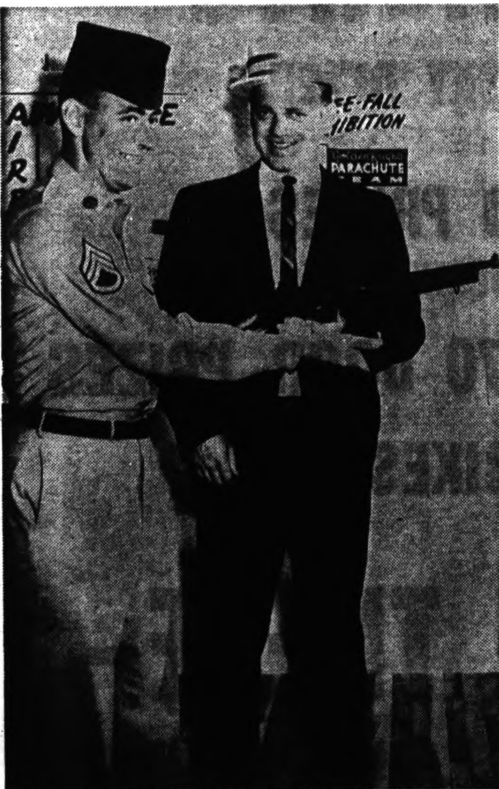

PENNY VOTES

The winner will be determined by the one collecting the most penny votes in canisters which have been placed in the area.

Five door prizes will be awarded each hour the fair is in progress, according to Salley.

The major prizes, including a motorcycle or color television set, canoe, golf clubs and power lawn mower, will be given away Sunday night.

Proceeds from the fair will go to the CAI building program, which includes a new gymnasium and hockey arena.

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Paul J. Bell and Robert E. Travis are almost equally popular in Marion's Third Ward.

In 1963, Travis, 33, beat Bell, 34, for the ward's City Council seat by one vote. This year Bell, a Democrat, challenged Republican Travis for the post.

Unofficial returns gave Bell a 15 - vote edge but a recount changed that.

Bell still won, but 788 to 787.

Collection of Curiosities

State History Found in 12,000 Old Bottles

ALMA (AP)—An Alma man and his wife have found Michigan's history in 12,000 bottles.

Lester and Ruth Hamp, who live four miles southwest of here, have gathered what they consider one of the state's most unique bottle collections. He is 54. She's 49.

The bottles—big and small, shiny and dull, odd-shaped and simple—are from all over Michigan. They represent mostly the era before 1900 and stretch back to the early 1800s.

Mich., and bottles with the makers' personal signatures.

COLOR KEY

Hamp said the key to bottle hunting is color. He explained glassmakers during and following World War I used lead in making molds and in making glass.

"The lead turns glass amber when the glass is exposed to the sun for long periods of time. Old glass simply turns a bluish color. Some glass bottles—especially beer bottles—were tinted dark brown and black," he said.

The Hamps have many beer bottles that originated in Saginaw. But most of the companies have disappeared or have been absorbed by bigger companies.

Many beer bottles have the tag "Pure and Without Drugs or Poison" on them indicating they were made before federal food inspection laws of 1905.

OLD BOTTLES

Another pre-1905 bottle is the one that says "George E. Bliss, M. D. Cancer Specialist, Maple Rapids." And there's one with "Dr. A. H. Olmstead Elixir Mullein Pacal Balm Co., St. Louis." along with a bottle labeled "Olin and Son Druggist, Caro."

Lester has worked for the Leonard Oil Refining Co. in Alma for 21 years. He was a tank operator until he was burned seriously in a fire at the plant eight years ago. Today he operates IBM machines.

The Hamps have been bottle hunting as a hobby off and on for more years than they can remember. But they said they really got down to serious bottle hunting about five years ago when Hamp, needed exercise after the fire.

Although bottles line the Hamps' garage and house and are stacked in barrels outside, they've managed to squeeze in the pickings from still another hobby—digging Indian and pre-Indian artifacts.

"We find bottles anywhere and have to be careful not to overload our truck with them," Hamp said. "If we are careful, we generally come up with fine Indian arrowheads, hammers, and other Indian tools, pioneer farm implements, and some finely-preserved skeletons."

Mrs. Hamp said whenever they are unable to find old bottles, they can be sure of one thing: "That's where the bootleggers were operating during prohibition." Hamp said they stumbled onto some abandoned stills in the Upper Peninsula.

The Hamps spend from three to five weeks each year, along with many weekends and holidays, digging through dumps, old homesteads, forests, abandoned mines, strange foliage ("buried junk is a fine fertilizer," Lester said), and any place "that looks like it ought to be dug up."

He said he and his wife find—with the aid of old maps, archeologically trained friends and acquaintances and some luck—old Indian and pioneer homesteads.

DUMP SPOT

"That's the first step," Hamp said. "We then try to figure out just how we would have lived if we had lived there in those days. It seems our pioneer and Indian forefathers threw most of their junk out of sight, over a hill or down a steep incline."

He said he and his wife start their digging carefully with their hands, not shovels.

Penny Means a Lot to Queen Hopefuls

A penny sometimes means a lot.

It certainly does to the 17 girls entered in the North Oakland County Fair's queen contest.

For when U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., crowns the new queen at 6 p.m. Sunday, the penny will have played a major role.

The candidate with the most penny votes collected in canisters will be named queen.

Also participating in the queen-crowning ceremonies at the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5640 Williams Lake, Waterford Township, will be 1965 queen Kathy Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Coleman, 3461 Ardeth; and Mrs. James Shearer, 2930 Orange-grove, contest chairman.

Both live in Waterford Township. Mrs. Shearer was the fair's first queen in 1952.

Gloria Bereznicki, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bereznicki, 6268 Balmoral Terrace, Waterford Township, is a sophomore at Waterford-Kettering High School.

Linda Berry, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Berry, 4204 Lotus, Waterford Township. She is a sophomore at Waterford-Kettering High School.

Lindsay Campbell, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Harris, 2239 Jones, Waterford Township, is a ninth grader at Pierce Junior High School.

Debbie Carr, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Carr, 6624 Plum, Independence Township, is a junior at Clarkston

High School.

Penny Cooper, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cooper, 4655 Pelton, Waterford Township. Penny is a freshman at Our Lady of the Lakes High School.

Both ninth grade students at Pierce Junior High School are Jackie Gibson, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson, 2067 Kohler and Sharon Giroux, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Barry, 15 Airport, both of Waterford Township.

Barbara Henricks, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Henricks, 4030 Silverbirch, Waterford Township, is a junior at Waterford-Kettering High School.

Kathy Lee, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lee, 5485 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township, is another ninth grader at Pierce Junior High School, as is Pat McAmis, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory McAmis, 650 Pinegrove, Waterford Township.

Linda McClune, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Prince, 2026 Kohler, Waterford Township, also is a ninth grader at Pierce Junior High School.

Sandi McLean, 14, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford McLean, 4560 Oak Grove, Independence Township. She is an eighth grader at Clarkston Junior High School.

Juniors at Waterford-Kettering are Wanda Quattermoss, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quattermoss, 4212 LaForest, and Pat Sullivan, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howarth Sullivan, 2275 Highfield, both of Waterford Township.

Pat Vidlund, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vidlund, 3283 Angelus Drive, Waterford Township, is a sophomore at Waterford-Kettering High School; and Valerie Weikle, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert

Silent Volcano in Sudan May Still Be Potent

By Science Service

LONDON — Hot gases emerging from cracks in a volcano in Sudan may be indications of a coming eruption, the first in hundreds of years.

Two British investigators for a company that has been monitoring the Jebel Marra volcano since 1957 have reported that previous observations by another scientist of hot springs and fumaroles may be more foreboding than at first believed.

"Workers in the area," warned the authors, "should keep a lookout for any further signs of increasing activity."

Six Candidates Will Attend

Politics to Add Flavor at Fair

The North Oakland County Fair will resemble a political playground on Saturday — the second day of festivities.

Six candidates have announced they will attend the fair — to be held at the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5640 Williams Lake, Waterford Township — on Saturday.

In addition, Michigan Sen. Robert Griffin will be at the fair Sunday afternoon to crown the new fair queen.

Scheduled to appear at the fair at 3 p.m. Saturday are Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, a U.S. Senate candidate; Congressional candidates Jack McDonald and Richard Kuhn, Michigan Senate candidates Paul Livingston and Stanley Brown; and state Democratic chairman Zolton Ferency, a gubernatorial candidate.

Also slated to be on hand is Mrs. G. Mennen Williams, wife of the former governor and now a U.S. Senate candidate.

CROWN QUEEN

Griffin is scheduled to arrive at the fair at 4:30 p.m. Sunday. The queen-crowning ceremony will take place at 6 p.m. the same day.

Other candidates also have

Waterford Township Supervisor Dorothy W. Olson and Pontiac Mayor William Taylor will take part in the traditional ribbon-cutting ceremony at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

China Set Off Bomb in Tower

By Science Service

LONDON—The second Chinese nuclear bomb, exploded on May 14, 1965, was set off from a 328-foot tower with a force equal to 20 kilotons, or 20,000 tons of TNT.

This conclusion is based on an analysis of the radioactive debris that circled the world following the detonation.

It means that the bomb device tested had virtually the same force as the first Chinese atomic explosion of Oct. 16, 1964, which was also a tower shot.

Both had about the same force as the two U. S. atomic bombs dropped on Japan at the end of World War II.

The analysis of debris from the second Chinese test was made by Jan Sisefsky of the Research Institute of National Defense, Stockholm, Sweden. The first radioactive particles over Sweden were collected 10 days after the blast, on May 24, 1965, Mr. Sisefsky reported here in the British scientific journal Nature 210:1143, 1966.

Some 14,000 air traffic controllers, housed in 21 regional traffic centers and 280 towers in the United States, watch flights on radar and talk to the pilots by radio. The controllers assign pilots on a specific airway and level.

Now with GAS AIR CONDITIONING you can cool your whole house and the cost is less than you think. Yes, now you can enjoy having every room in your home filled with cool and constantly filtered air that cuts down on dust and dirt and at the same time removes the humidity and pollen. (Think what this means to those who suffer from hay fever or allergies.)

Now, more and more people are changing their thinking about air conditioning when they realize the many benefits it affords, such as a cleaner, healthier home, a more comfortable, enjoyable home in summer. And when it comes to the cost, in most instances, the increased value of their home will more than compensate for this wonderful improvement. So this is why more and more people are installing GAS AIR CONDITIONING today. They say, "I can't understand why we didn't do it a long time ago."

Ex-Area Resident to 'Drop In' at Fair

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

When Staff Sgt. Charles J. Harris of the Golden Knights literally "drops in" at Waterford Township's CAI Building Sunday, he'll be landing on familiar ground.

A former area resident, Harris attended Almont High School before he enlisted in the army in 1954.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Harris, live at 1525 W. Hamlin, Aven Township.

Typical of his teammates, 29-year-old Harris is a volunteer, a qualified military 'chutist and a career soldier.

The Golden Knights, a U.S. Army parachute unit, began in 1954 when an army paratrooper placed 23rd in the second World Parachute Championship at St. Yans, France.

FELL SHORT

For four years, U.S. participation in these new international games fell short of inspiration.

In 1958, the army officially authorized participation by its personnel and the race was on.

At Tivat, Yugoslavia, the U.S. national team placed fourth in a field of 14 competing nations for the 1959 Adriatic Cup. It was the highest placement ever achieved by the U.S. team.

Recognizing the publicity potential, the army formed the Strategic Army Corps (STRAC) Sport Parachute Team at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Establishing the nucleus of the group were the U.S. Adriatic Cup contenders.

Spurred on by their acceptance, the 'chutists went on to win the first three places in the 1960 U.S. National Championship.

In August of that year, the STRAC parachutists placed fourth in the fifth world championships. Bulgarians hosted the games in their city of Sofia.

One U.S. member captured the first American gold medal by winning the meet's style event. Another scored the first dead center landing ever recorded at a world championship.

In June 1961, the Department of the Army announced official recognition of the STRAC team and renamed it the United States Army Parachute Team.

With the team enlarged to 15 men and 4 officers, it took on the added responsibility of the research and development of parachuting equipment and methods.

TEAM PRODUCT

The world famous "Conquistador" parachute is a product of the team's efforts.

In January of 1962, the team broke and established 19 records for on-target landing, upsetting somewhat Communist parachutists who previously held 95 per cent of all the records.

A successful May encounter at the PCA-sponsored National tryouts for 1962 world championships chalked up four of the five starting berths on the U.S. team.

AUGUST MEET

Czechoslovakia nosed the United States into second place in the August meet, the largest world championship competition ever held in the U.S.A.

Individually, however, the Overall World Championship and third Overall were earned by two Americans.

With the close of a successful year of competition and exhibition, the team settled on the nickname, "the Golden Knights."

THREE TEAMS

The increase made possible the establishment of three teams, a black and a gold team for demonstrations and a third team for competition.

The sky masters wound up December 1965 on their home grounds at Fort Bragg during the First Armed Forces Inter-service Invitational Parachute Meet.

The Golden Knights took the first seven places overall in competition with representatives from the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps.

A top team, it will show its prowess in the air at 3 p.m. at the North Oakland County Fair.

Thailand Keeps Tight Rein on Yank Air Force Activity

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — The Kingdom of Thailand keeps a tight rein on the American Air Force here, and it could pull the runways right out from under the U.S. fighter-bombers at any time.

This is exactly the way that Thailand wants it, according to foreign Minister Thanat Khoman.

He said Thailand was happy to help the U.S. defend Southeast Asia from Communism—but he said she was also determined not to surrender a shred of her jealously guarded independence while she did so.

Reconciling these objectives has thrown a cloud of confusion over the use of Thai bases as launching pads for American air raids against Communist North Viet Nam.

Officially, there are no "American bases" in Thailand, and public discussion of the raids has been smothered in evasions and denials.

DENIAL SOURCE

"I think the denials may have come from people who don't know enough about that, who don't know anything at all about that," Thanat said.

"As far as I'm concerned, we have always said we have the right to take measures of self-defense against dangers to our security, our freedom and our independence."

The astute Thai diplomat did not concede, in so many words, that U.S. jets fly combat missions from Thailand. But he did say:

"Unilaterally, we allow the United States to make use of military facilities. Unilaterally, I insist upon that. It is not a treaty obligation. It is not a bilateral accord, and we have done that, we have allowed the United States to use certain facilities here in Thailand."

"We have made certain practical arrangements with them for the defense of Thailand and the defense of Southeast Asia."

Thanat's eyes flashed behind his tinted glasses as he vigorously insisted on the unilateral aspect of Thailand's assistance.

He said it meant that the country "completely" retained her sovereignty, and her right to expel the Americans at any time.

New Delhi Officials

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Customs investigators said they uncovered a scheme by three New Delhi firms to export ancient stone images in cases marked "brass artware." They said the relics were destined for New York City.

Here Are Tips on How to Avoid Mosquito Bites

By Science Service
CHICAGO—You can do some things to avoid mosquitoes—dress in light colors and cut down on perfume or shaving lotion—but if you are dark-complexioned, highly active and in good health, you may be putting up a losing fight.

There are more than 2,500 species of mosquito, reports Clifford B. Hicks in Today's Health, including one type called Culex pipiens, the most common in the United States. The female bites humans.

Plant Seeds Studied for Drug Source

By Science Service

WELLINGTON, New Zealand — More than 1,000 plants grown from seeds gathered throughout the South Pacific are being studied as possible sources of valuable drugs.

Flowering in various shades of blue and with some bearing fruit, the plants — New Zealand poroporo, commonly called bull-bulli — are growing in a half-acre garden at the University of Otago here.

The project, supported by a Swiss drug concern, is being undertaken by the head of the botany department, Prof. G. T. S. Baylis.

"The plant, used by early settlers in New Zealand for jam, has been grown for some years in Russia and Hungary as a source of alkaloid, from which drugs such as cortisone and also the steroid hormones are made," said Prof. Baylis.

"We are looking for a race of plant or one of its allied species which might give a better yield."

The botany department has more than 50 different species of the plant, gathered from as far afield as New Guinea.

They are thriving differently in the garden, depending on the climate from which they have come.

Tax Dodgers Tax Colombia

Old, New Systems
Used to Find Evaders

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — A mixture of modern and old systems is being used by the Colombian government in an effort to force thousands of Colombians to pay taxes for the first time — and others to bring their old taxes up to date.

Computers "search" in the tax returns for hidden income and other tax dodges.

The computers, operated by tax specialists, have contributed to a more rapid processing of tax returns, usually behind several years, enabling the government to deal with the taxpayers' back accounts.

They started to operate earlier this year, when the government announced a determination to wipe out the growing national budget deficit and to obtain necessary funds for development programs.

The government also had to fulfill its promise to collect more taxes, given to foreign financial concerns that granted large loans to Colombia.

It has been calculated that only 15 per cent of the Colombian population ever pays taxes.

Wife Thankful for Memories

Husband's Fight With Cancer Related

By RANDY COLLIER

TUCSON, Ariz. (P) — Anita Allen remembers the past but thinks of the future. She feels she may have been cheated, but she thanks God for her memories.

A year ago, her 29-year-old husband Robert, had attained success in his insurance business. The couple and their three children often took their boat on pleasure trips to Mexico.

It was on one of these outings that Robert felt pain in his left leg. He visited the family doctor and learned he had cancer.

First Allen lost his leg. Then came six more operations that took him from Tucson to Mayo Clinic to Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N. Y. But in eight short months he was dead.

"When he first was told it appeared he had cancer, it was too much for me to believe," said Mrs. Allen in an interview. "I didn't want to believe it. The doctors here weren't positive so they sent him to Mayo's. They took one look and knew what it was."

"They took his left leg and told us it looked like they might have all the cancer. This gave us hope but they advised us only seven out of 100 persons usually live through a sarcoma cancer like he had."

"He seemed to do well after the operation. We gave him an artificial leg for Thanksgiving. He had monthly checkups and things looked good. We thought he was going to make it."

Then came Christmas and Allen's condition worsened. An examination revealed more cancerous cells.

6 MONTHS TO YEAR

"After another operation, the doctors told us he had from six months to a year to live and there was nothing more that could be done."

"Bob sold part of his insurance business and made his will."

"I wrote to the American Medical Association and the City of Hope," she said. "Bob called Mayo Clinic and the M. D. Anderson Research Clinic in Houston but we got the same answers."

"Then Bob remembered reading about two New York doctors, Sigmund Nadler and George Moore, who were experimenting with a new cure by transplanting cancerous cells from one patient to another."

FIND ANOTHER

The New York doctors offered to treat Allen if he could find another person suffering from the same type of cancer and who had the same type blood.

The Associated Press learned of Allen's plight, and after a story, more than 2,000 letters were received by the Allens. The other patient selected was Harry T. Griffith, 62, of Flourtown, Pa.

One of Griffith's relatives, a doctor, had read the story and called Allen. Until this time Griffith did not know he was suffering from cancer.

"Bob and Grif were roommates at Buffalo," said Mrs. Allen. "They seemed to keep each other cheered up. Grif left about four weeks before Bob did and he died before Bob could get back home. Bob never knew it. The hospital took out his television and kept the newspapers away from him so he couldn't read about it."

HAD A CHANCE

"When Bob came home he said he still thought he had a chance to make it."

"That night our family doctor told me Bob was going to die. I sat in the living room and cried but I didn't let him know it. The children knew he was sick but they didn't realize their daddy was on his death bed."

"Then, 10 days later we took him to the hospital for the last time. The night they took him away I finally collapsed. I knew my husband was dying and there was nothing I could do."

Three days later, on a Sunday night, she received a phone call from her sister-in-law to hurry to the hospital. By the time she got there he was dead.

"I thought I would be ready but I don't guess you ever are," Mrs. Allen said. "I'm thankful my babies are too young to really understand."

The two boys, Tracy, 6, and Douglas, 5, don't talk too much about their father, but Sherri, who is 2, asks: "Has my daddy gone to heaven, Mama?"

Mrs. Allen says her husband had made sure that his family would be taken care of, but she is going back to school and get a degree in art, "just for something to fall back on."

"I've cried a lot. I still do. I guess I'm just now getting over the shock and am learning I'm alone. Maybe someday I will understand why my husband had to die."

Titan 3 Carries 8 Satellites to Outer Space

Mission Aimed at Providing Jam-Proof
Communications Net

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Eight satellites, including seven to speed secret military messages between Washington and other strategic points rode a mighty Titan 3 rocket today toward lofty outposts in space.

The 15-story tall Titan — most powerful booster in the Defense Department arsenal — blasted off on its fourth test flight at 9 a.m. EST.

The satellites are scheduled to zip into random circular orbits 21,000 miles above the equator, forming a jam-proof communications network in the skies.

Eight minutes after blastoff, the triple-barreled booster's acrobatic last stage settled with its payload into an orbit ranging from 104 to 115 miles above the earth. The Air Force said a later correction would put it into the desired 109-mile circular orbit.

Five U.S. Army ground terminals stand ready around the world to relay military test traffic through the orbiting vehicles.

MESSAGE CARRIER

The seven communications satellites — each capable of linking ground stations up to 10,350 miles apart — were built to carry messages between Washington and Viet Nam.

Land lines and undersea cables are vulnerable to sabotage and natural interruption.

If this first batch proves such a system feasible, about eight more satellites will be sent up aboard another Titan 3 in August, followed by a third punch net spring if necessary.

The launch today is an engineering experiment. It is to extend two 32-foot booms to test the feasibility of using the earth's gravitation as a means of stabilizing a spacecraft.

Designers hope it will keep one arm always pointed toward earth.

BIG WINNERS — F. James McDonald, Pontiac Motor Division works manager, presents $6,000 maximum suggestion awards to three employees, marking the first time Pontiac has ever had three win the maximum amount at one time. Edison Talks Fail; Utility Workers Out

DETROIT (AP) — Some 3,000 utility workers struck Detroit Edison Co. facilities in southeastern Michigan at midnight after more than 10 hours of last-ditch negotiations failed to produce contract agreement.

The affected area covers 7,600 square miles from the Michigan thumb near Port Austin to Monroe and from Detroit to East Lansing.

Illness Claims AFL-CIO Chief

Civic Leader Headed County Labor Council

Oakland County AFL-CIO Council president for the past 13 years, Fred V. Haggard, 61, died yesterday after an illness of eight months.

Service will be 1 p.m. Saturday at Bethany Baptist Church with burial in Oakview Cemetery, Royal Oak, by the Coast Funeral Home, Waterford Township.

Cedar Lodge No. 80, F&AM, will conduct a memorial service at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the funeral home.

Surviving are his wife, Mabel A., and two sisters.

SERGEANT AT ARMS

Elected as sergeant at arms of Local 506 in 1944, he was subsequently elected as recording secretary and financial secretary of the Fisher Body local.

In 1953 Haggard was elected council president.

Haggard served as a board of trustees member for the Oakland University Foundation and Pontiac Area United Fund, and was a member of the Oakland County Economic Development Commission, Area Redevelopment Advisory Council and Oakland County Planning Commission.

Three Get Top Idea Awards

$18,000 Is Presented by Pontiac Division

Not one, not two, but three Pontiac Motors Division employees were presented the $6,000 maximum suggestion award today by F. James McDonald, Pontiac works manager.

The $18,000 presentation marked the first time Pontiac has presented three maximum awards at the same time.

The winners are:
William J. Coleman, 2011 Woodlawn, Sylvan Lake, an electrician in the frame plant; Paul R. Cosgrove, 2994 Edgefield, Waterford Township, a material scheduler in the production control; and Robert A. Prince, 2019 Kingston, White Lake Township, a specialized clerk in product engineering.

All three employees had won previous suggestion awards.

COLLEGE EDUCATION

Coleman, who has been at Pontiac since 1950, said that the maximum award will go towards a college education for his daughter who enrolls in Central Michigan this fall.

Cosgrove plans to use half his prize for home improvements and the other half for his son's education. Cosgrove joined Pontiac in 1947.

A Pontiac employee since 1956, Prince said his maximum award will be used to pay off existing debts.

Disappeared May 14

Missing State Couple Hunted

MASON (AP) — Ingham County authorities are looking for a young couple who "disappeared without a trace" from Lansing May 14, Sheriff Kenneth Preadmore said yesterday.

Inquiries from parents of the couple, in Cumberland, Md., May 27 started the search for William H. O'Brien III, 21, and his wife, Elsie Jean, 24, of Dansville, Preadmore said.

He said Mrs. O'Brien, a school teacher at Dewitt, had been hospitalized with auto accident injuries suffered April 22.

Officers learned that on May 14, before Mrs. O'Brien officially had been discharged from the hospital, a man took her to meet her husband near downtown Lansing. The couple has not been seen since, he added.

Officers found nothing missing from the couple's rented home, Preadmore said.

CAR ABANDONED
He said a car O'Brien rented shortly after the accident was found abandoned May 14 at Michigan State University, where O'Brien was a senior.

Preadmore said the man who accompanied Mrs. O'Brien from the hospital has declined comment other than to ac-

Defense Chief Cites Benefits of NATO Bases

Washington Hoping
De Gaulle Won't Bar
Use of Air Space

WASHINGTON (AP)

—The United States apparently hopes to persuade President Charles de Gaulle that France has a stake in allowing NATO bases to remain on her soil, even if most are reduced to a standby basis.

At the same time, Washington officials are anxious that the U.S. Air Force not be barred from flying French skies.

Approval now is granted by France on a month-to-month basis.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara hinted this direction in U.S. thinking after announcing yesterday that he has ordered the remaining 122 U.S. transport and reconnaissance planes and the bulk of American war stocks, some $75,000 tons, shifted out of France.

This was the first major action to comply with de Gaulle's demand that North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces leave France, although NATO leaders already have agreed to move the alliance's military headquarters from Paris to Belgium.

OBVIOUS MOVE

While doing this, McNamara obviously sought to avoid any appearance of a rupture.

The defense secretary noted that de Gaulle has stated "unequivocally," as McNamara put it, that France intends to remain a member of the alliance.

"We welcome that statement," McNamara said. "We will do everything to cooperate with him to carry it out."

Without being specific, McNamara said the United States in NATO that are beneficial to France.

"We presume she will continue to wish to use these benefits," he added.

And in the next breath, McNamara said the United States "of course" hopes to continue to use French air space.

883 Seniors Get Diplomas in Three Area Ceremonies

Commencement audiences at Pontiac Northern, Waterford Township and Emmanuel Christian high schools last night saw 883 seniors receive their diplomas.

Pontiac Northern's Class of June 1966 numbers 438, while WTHS has 424 graduates.

"The Beginning Journey" was the title of the commencement address delivered by Dr. Harold E. Sponberg in the Pontiac Northern auditorium.

Sponberg, president of Eastern Michigan University, was introduced by Pontiac board of education President Monroe M. Osmun.

See List of Graduates on Page A-4

Speaker for the WTHS ceremony was Dr. George Brower, professor of education at Eastern Michigan University.

His speech was entitled "To Serve Is To Live." Brower was introduced by Dr. Don O. Tatroe, superintendent of Waterford Township Schools.

GAVE DIPLOMAS
Diplomas were presented by John D. Boardman, president of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

Dr. Tom L. Malone, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, awarded diplomas to 21 seniors of Emmanuel Christian High School at commencement exercises.

Diplomas are to be awarded to 342 Pontiac Central High School graduates tonight. The 8 p.m. ceremony is to be held at Wm. Memorial Stadium. In case of rain, it will be postponed until tomorrow night.

Pontiac Teachers Ratify Pact With $5,800 Base

A 1966-67 contract with a $5,800 base salary yesterday was ratified by Pontiac School District teachers.

It passed by a vote of 233-161, according to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools.

"I'm very happy it was ratified," said Whitmer. "It's a good contract; good for the teachers and for the school district."

In agreement was Raymond Reiche, Pontiac Education Association negotiating chairman.

"It's a good contract," said Reiche, "built on the faith of the people in the community and on our school board."

BASE SALARY
With the base salary jumped $300 from this year's $5,500, the contract boosts the maximum salary for the holder of a master's degree over $10,000 for the first time.

Raises will range from $300 to $625, not including a teacher's normal increment in advancing from one experience level to the next.

Teachers now in the system actually will earn $500 to $1,080 more next year than they did this year.

The contract, covering more than 800 teachers in the bargaining unit, resulted from some 45 hours of negotiations between representatives of the Pontiac Education Association and the board of education.

Waterford Teachers to Ask Accord

More than 500 teachers of the Waterford Township School District are expected to attend the Waterford Township Board of Education meeting tonight to urge that a 1966-67 teacher contract agreement be reached.

Because of the anticipated large turnout the 7:30 meeting will be held at Waterford Kettering High School instead of the administration building.

A statement will be issued at the meeting by the Waterford Education Association's negotiating committee, according to Robert G. Crumpton, WEA vice president and head of the negotiating team.

Crumpton said an impasse has been reached with the board of education on bargaining for a new contract.

Representatives of both negotiating committees were slated to meet with an official of the State Labor Mediation Board this afternoon.

TO WITHHOLD SERVICES
Last Friday, teachers voted to withhold their services next fall if a contract agreement is not reached.

Crumpton said the board has estimated it will have $600,000 in surplus funds at the end of the current school year.

The WEA is seeking between $600,000 to $700,000 or about $150,000 to $250,000 more than already has been offered by the school board's negotiating committee, noted Crumpton.

They are asking for the additional funds for salary increases and to hire more teachers to reduce the class load.

PRESENT SCHEDULE

The present salary schedule for teachers with bachelor's degrees ranges from a starting pay of $5,350 a year to $8,242 after 11 years' experience.

Teachers with masters' degrees presently begin at $5,750 a year, working their way to $9,500 after 12 years' experience.

The salary schedule for teachers with masters' degrees plus 30 additional credit hours begins at $6,150 and progresses to $9,894 after 13 years' experience.

There are presently about 740 teachers in the school system. The WEA has 665 members.

U.S. Combat Toll 2nd Highest of '66

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American combat dead climbed to the second highest level of the year last week, reflecting in part the cost of the victory over a North Vietnamese regiment in the central highlands.

The U.S. military command said 141 Americans were killed, 141 wounded and one missing or captured last week compared with 109 killed, 636 wounded and 13 missing in the week of May 29-June 4.

A total of 146 Americans died in action in the week of May 15-21.

The latest toll brought the number of U.S. servicemen reported killed by enemy fire since Jan. 1 to 1,566 and to 3,304 since Jan. 1, 1961.

Fired Teachers Eye Legal Fight

Coarse Battle Might Clarify State Law

DETROIT (AP) — The ex-teachers of suburban Ecorse considered today a legal battle against their dismissal—a battle which could clarify the position of public employees under Michigan law.

Leaders of the Ecorse Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) met Wednesday with union attorney Bernard Fieger and discussed possible legal moves against the city's school board, which fired 194 striking teachers Tuesday.

"We're going to fight this all the way," Miss Lydia Rizzo, EFT president, said during a rally at a Steelworkers Union hall, where teachers sang "Solidarity Forever," the anthem of the U.S. labor movement.

Observers felt a court fight over the firings would break new legal ground. The state law governing negotiations with public employees was amended last year, and many are unsure what the effects of the amendments are.

PREVIOUS PROVISION
The law previously provided that a public employee who went on strike was automatically fired. The amended measure deleted automatic sanctions but still made strikes illegal. Employers still could punish strikers, but employees could appeal their punishment to the employer and the courts.

Previous Michigan teacher "strikes"—often termed "sit-ins"—have ended in negotiated settlements rather than legal rulings.

In the Ecorse dispute, a school official said Wednesday he'd like to see the issue decided by a judge, and a union negotiator said he'd rather not take the matter to court.

2 Convicted in City Police Bribery Case

Two of three men charged with conspiring to bribe a Pontiac police officer were found guilty today by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Charles Rouss, 52, of Detroit and Odus Tinch, 49, of St. Clair Shores were found guilty of conspiracy to bribe.

Charged, along with reputed Mafia leader Angelo (Barrels) Lombardi, 37, of Detroit, with conspiracy to bribe, Rouss and Tinch were found guilty of conspiracy to bribe.

The jury yesterday convicted Lombardi of bribing the police officer and conspiracy to bribe.

FOUR-MONTH PERIOD

Lombardi was found guilty of paying $2,050 over a four-month period to Capt. Raymond E. Meggitt, while Meggitt was acting as a police officer.

Meggitt played his undercover role with the assistance of Police Officer William K. Hanger from June to October last year when police raided the establishment.

The three are free on bond pending sentencing.

She Gave Life for Her Dog

A valiant attempt to remove her 16-year-old dog from a smoke-filled house last night cost an elderly Pontiac Township widow her own life.

Mrs. Clara Soper, 84, who lived with only her beloved Pekingese dog, Butch, in a small frame house behind 3385 Squirrel, died today at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital of smoke inhalation.

She had reentered the house at 7:30 p.m. yesterday to save Butch.

A neighbor, Mrs. Chester I. Wade, of 3377 Squirrel, said that Mrs. Soper came to her door and asked that she call a television repairman because the television set was on fire.

Mrs. Wade walked toward the Soper house with the elderly woman and noticed that it was filled with smoke.

NEW PRESIDENT — Charles Renfrew (right), newly elected president of the Community House Association, is greeted by Bob Kilpatrick, outgoing president.

Birmingham Area News

Ex-Mayor New Leader of Community House

BIRMINGHAM—Charles Renfrew of 987 Arden has been elected president of the Community House Association for the 1966-67 year.

A three-time mayor of Birmingham, Renfrew is vice president and assistant treasurer of the Jam Handy Corp. in Detroit. He has served as a member of the Community House Board of Directors for one year.

Wooddale; and John C. Siegemund Jr., 315 Hubbard, all Republicans, are candidates for the library board. Three will be elected.

Candidates for the Township Party Committee are Homer Case, Arno L. Hulet and Doris V. Little.

Renfrew was chairman of the finance and taxation committee of the Michigan Municipal League and was instrumental in developing the municipal parking authority and the city employees' retirement system. He has also served four three-year terms on the Birmingham City Commission.

The Community House, located at Bates and Townsend, is a nonprofit organization serving the educational, civic, cultural and social needs of Birmingham and the surrounding areas.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Members of the Bloomfield Hills Education Association have scheduled a general meeting for 4 p.m. today at the high school to hear the school board's latest salary proposal.

Although this will be the last general meeting of the teachers, negotiations will continue throughout the summer. The last negotiating session was Tuesday night and another is scheduled for tomorrow.

The teachers voted last week to withhold their services next fall until a master contract is ratified.

Present salary scales call for $5,300 to $8,550 for teachers with bachelor's degrees, scaled over a 12-year period. Those with master's degrees have a salary scale of $5,800 to $10,000 over a 14-year period.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Candidates who filed for the Aug. 2 township primary include Homer Case, supervisor; Doris V. Little, clerk; Arno L. Hulet, treasurer; and trustees Robert A. Reid and Robert M. Sinclair all Republican incumbents.

Candidates for constable are Karl E. Rhodes, 4654 Franklin, and Richard A. Golden, 1575 Lakewood, both Republicans. Only one is to be elected.

Joseph H. Loving, 4548 Broughton; Ann Workman Sheldon, 3560

Firemen found the dog unconscious on the floor of a bathroom in the $4,000 cottage. He was revived and is expected to live.

LOVED DOG
"That dog meant everything to Mrs. Soper," commented Mrs. Wade. "She had no children and she has been living alone for a long time."

Fire Chief Carl Schinckel, who estimated damage at $1,800, said the fire was caused by a short circuit in the television set.

Supervisor to Shun Allowable Tax Cut

BOYNE FALLS (AP) — Joe Topolinski could whittle a pretty impressive chunk off his property tax next year. But, he says, he won't.

Topolinski is 65 years of age in fact, he's 74. This means that a law passed this year would let him deduct $2,500 from the taxable assessed valuation of his 120-acre farm.

But he says he doesn't plan to, and apparently it's up to him. Topolinski is Boyne Valley Township supervisor and has been for 30 years. He plans to run for re-election.

Castro Loses Fight to Up Sugar Crop

HAVANA (AP) — The Castro government has lost its desperate battle to boost the sugar crop so it could import more of the sorely needed things Cuba can't produce.

The government announced today that the 1966 crop totals 446,908 tons with only six mills still producing in Oriente Province. Production ended in Camaguey Province Wednesday.

The crop last year came to a little more than six million tons, and the goal this year was 6.5 million. The government blamed the reduced output on severe drought.

MAKE OVER PAPER

Editorship of School Paper May Mean Jail for Coed

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Annette Buchanan, 20, a coed at the University of Oregon, was appointed managing editor of her college newspaper on May 1. Unknown to her, that was the first step along a path that could take her to jail.

Three weeks later, she interviewed seven students about smoking marijuana. The story was published in the newspaper, the Oregon Daily Emerald, on May 24.

Dist. Atty. William Frye of Lane County read the story, and obtained subpoenas summoning Miss Buchanan and three other student editors before a grand jury June 2.

The other three were quickly dismissed when they said they did not know the names of the students quoted in the story.

When Miss Buchanan declined to reveal the identity of the five students whose names she remembers, Frye took her before Circuit Court Judge Edward Leavy and asked that she be ordered to divulge her sources. Leavy complied.

DECLINED AGAIN

Miss Buchanan again appeared before the seven-member, all-women grand jury yesterday. Again she declined to reveal her sources. Again Frye took her before Judge Leavy, who cited her for contempt of court and set June 27 for her trial. If convicted, she could be sentenced to six months in jail.

Miss Buchanan says she has received hundreds of letters of support. An anonymous source is paying her legal costs. Newspapers have printed editorials praising her stand.

The Klamath Falls (Ore.) Herald and News said in an editorial:

"Newspapers long have fought for the right not to divulge names of news sources. The issue has been in the courts frequently.

BITTER END

"We're 100 per cent with Miss Buchanan's refusal to expose her source, and we believe every newspaper in the State of Oregon would subscribe to a fund to help defray the cost of fighting the case to the bitter end."

CENTER OF CONTROVERSY — Annette Buchanan, 20, editor of the University of Oregon college newspaper, leaves a grand jury session in Eugene with her attorney, Arthur Johnson. The coed refused to give names of persons quoted in a story about the use of marijuana and she faces a jail sentence for contempt of court.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has paid a Louisville, Ky., man $10 for damage to a 30-foot hedge behind his house caused by a crowd that engulfed Humphrey at an impromptu political rally for local candidates.

Shortly after the rally last Oct. 23, Emmet Minia, 76, a retired auto painter, received a letter from Humphrey which said: "I just read in the account of my visit in the Courier-Journal that the crowd waiting to greet me trampled your hedge.

"If there was serious damage to the hedge, I hope you will let me know. I am sorry about the damage and hope we can fix things up."

Mildenberger Wins While Crowd Dozes

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — West Germany's Karl Mildenberger used a steady jabbing attack to score a 15-round decision over Yugoslavia's Ivan Prebeg Wednesday night and successfully defend his European heavyweight championship.

There were no knockdowns in the fight and a minimum of action. Twice referee Benny Brill had to urge the fighters to do more punching instead of dancing.

Mildenberger, 28, made Prebeg his 49th victim in 54 fights.

Keystone Duo Earns Honor

By JERE CRAIG

Strength up the middle is paramount to success on the baseball diamond and the 1966 All-County baseball team chosen by The Press reflects one team's particularly strong point.

Conversation with county coaches, major league scouts and umpires made it clear why Birmingham Brother Rice won its league title in a three-way playoff, reached the semifinals of the Pontiac Invitational Baseball Tournament and the finals of the Detroit Catholic League eliminations.

The Warriors' brother combination of Carl and Greg Gromek is clearly the best of county high school keystone duos—either individually or collectively. Teammate Mike Bowen in center field is one of three .400 hitters on the honor squad.

The two Gromeks — sons of ex-Detroit Tiger pitcher Steve—each were .300 hitters and combined with pitcher-first baseman Kevin O'Connor and catcher Dave Baughman to put the Warriors' team hitting mark at .288.

O'Connor made the second All-County team as his southpaw hurler while Baughman was close behind Pontiac Central's Paul Roberts in the battle for the second-team catching berth.

Southfield's Ted Simmons, the county's leading pro baseball prospect, repeated as the No. 1 receiver. He and Avondale's Harry Bartkowiak (third base) are the other .400 swatters chosen.

Joining Simmons and Greg Gromek as juniors on the top team are left fielder Tom Scott of Royal Oak Kimball, Bowen and Kettering hurler Jack McCloud.

The scouts are interested in all three pitchers: McCloud, a left-hander; Pontiac Northern's Larry Frye and Northville's Steve Evans.

Two other Mustangs, right fielder Phil Andrews and first baseman Gerry Imstand, round out the No. 1 honor list. Defensive ability was an important consideration in selecting both teams.

Putting Touch Earns Victory for Teen-Ager

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Judy Jehle, a 17-year-old high school senior from Montgomery, Ala., has been scrambling on the fairways to reach the greens but once there, her putting has been deadly.

Her match with Carol Jean Sorensen of Racine, Wis., Wednesday in the 36th annual T & A Mississippi Women's Amateur Golf Tournament was a case in point.

Miss Jehle, who has averaged about 20 putts around here, said Miss Sorensen consistently out-drove her by 20 to 30 yards. She overcame her inefficiency off the tee and won the match 2 and 1.

Ms. Sorensen, the favorite who is seeking her seventh tournament title this year, advanced with a 3 and 1 victory over Anne Holler of Opelousas, La.

Miss Connie Day beat Joyce Kammerl of Detroit, 1 and 1. The Canine, N.Y., school-day named him acting manager and instructor at his new riding complex.

Putter Paces WMGA Victor

A red-hot putter carried Mrs. Midge Cova of Novi to her second victory in a row yesterday in the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association competition.

Playing at Salem Hills, Mrs. Cova turned in a 42-41-33 to pace a field of 84 golfers, and taking the runner-up spot for the second week in a row was Mrs. Nick Panastnik of Roswell, Ont., with a 44-42-46.

Mrs. Cova used only 28 putts for the round, coming up with nine, one-putt greens.

First Flight — Mrs. C. E. Larson, 42-41-33.
Second Flight — Mrs. L. E. Larson, 42-41-33.
Third Flight — Mrs. L. E. Larson, 42-41-33.

Mansfield Proposes Talks on Viet Between Rusk, Red China's Foreign Minister

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield proposed today a face-to-face meeting between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Red China's Foreign Minister Chen Yi to discuss a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam war.

The Senate Democratic leader said in a speech prepared for Yeshiva University graduates that the war threatens to become in the end a U.S.-Chinese conflict, just as in Korea.

"What is needed most, at this time and in the light of that danger, is an initiative for direct contact between the Peking government and our own government on the problem of peace in Viet Nam and Southeast Asia," Mansfield said.

"This problem is of such transcendent importance," he added, "that it is a fit question for face-to-face discussion between China and the United States at the highest practicable level."

MIGHT BE USEFUL

"Our secretary of state, Dean Rusk, confronted the Chinese foreign minister, Chen Yi, across the conference table at Geneva in 1961-62. It may be that a similar meeting now would be useful in this critical situation."

He said such a conference could be confined to the two nations, or "it could include the nations of the Southeast Asian mainland since they all lie in the swath of the war's spreading devastation."

Mansfield said he does not regard the membership nor the mechanics of the conference as important.

"History will not be gentle with those who pursue the shadow and evade the substance of peace," he said. "It will not view with sympathy those who stand too much on ceremony or who insist too much on face as the price of coming to grips with its profound problems."

NOT OPTIMISTIC

He said he is not optimistic that any conference with the Chinese at this point would produce much more than a cease-fire. But he said the "first faltering steps" must be taken toward peace.

Mansfield, who has criticized some aspects of President Johnson's Viet Nam policy, said efforts to end the war "by waging more war" have failed. He conceded that efforts to end it quickly "by more and better placed bombings in North Viet Nam" have not succeeded.

He rejected the idea that the more senator said, is that in an escalation war the "hatches of avoidance" may be closed one by one and mainland China may send troops into Viet Nam.

People who love to drive love the Corvair

Here's what David E. Davis, Jr., Publisher, Car & Driver Magazine, says:

David E. Davis, Jr.

"I guess I've been hooked on Corvair ever since 1959, when Chevrolet first introduced the car. It was a neat, quick little car, and it really turned me on, because, for the first time, the car enthusiasts of this country had a car that was really fun to drive—and there were reasons for that."

"For one thing, the car handled. People who tried it for the first time discovered a whole new feeling in cars. It was a responsive car that turned when you wanted it to turn, and went where you wanted it to go, and when you wanted it to stop, it stopped right now."

"It's been proved again and again that putting the engine in the rear, over the driving wheels, has definite advantages. When you combine that with Corvair's independent rear suspension, it results in a kind of magic ingredient that sets the car apart from others."

"The Corvair is the kind of car that has the unique ability to make your driving better and more skillful, a happy blend of spirit and good design and first-class handling characteristics."

"It's the kind of car that's fun to drive to work in the morning. Seriously, anybody who's never taken a test-drive in one ought to give it a try. It's a son of a gun!"

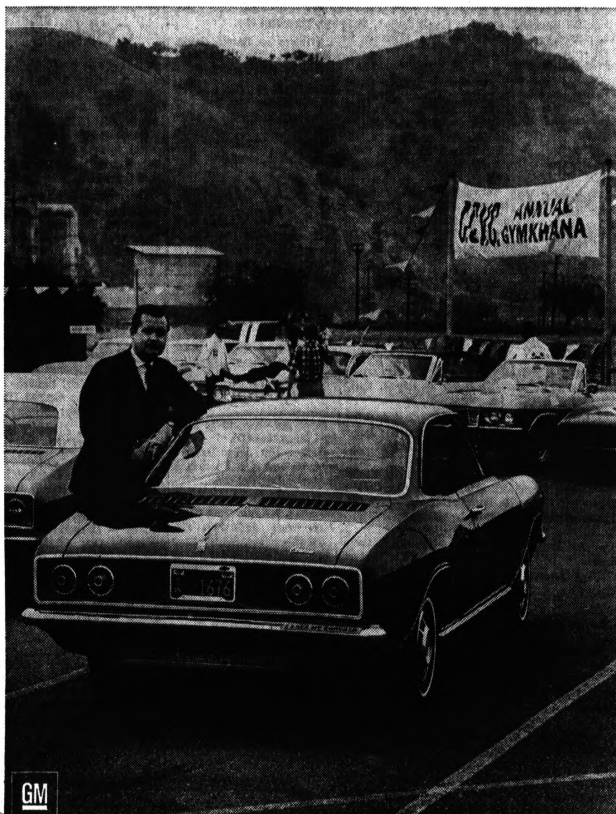

WE THINK YOU'LL LIKE CORVAIR SO WELL YOU MAY WANT TO BUY ANOTHER IN '67!

Peking Purges Head of School

Educator Is Termed Counterrevolutionary

TOKYO (AP) — Another university head, the rector in Nanking, is victim of the purge in Communist China.

Radio Peking announced today that Kuang Ya-ming, rector of Nanking University, was stripped of all his duties because of his "ignoble and villainous conspiracy to suppress the revolutionary movement" in the university.

Kuang's ouster came after he "counterattacked" against students and professors who had accused him of failing to follow the teachings of party Chairman Mao Tze-tung, Radio Peking said.

Kuang claimed that his accusers were "reactionaries" and he "joined the label of anti-party and anti-Socialist on 70 professors and students between June 2 and 5," Radio Peking said.

'GRAVE INCIDENT'

Learning of this "grave incident," the Kiangsu Province Communist party exposed Kuang's counterrevolutionary "crimes" and decided to oust him last Sunday, the broadcast said.

Nine days ago the intellectuals struck down Peking University rector Lu Ping during a shake-up in the Peking party organization that toppled powerful Peking Mayor Peng Chen from the leadership of the Communist party committee in the Chinese capital.

The announcement of the Nanking rector's dismissal was coupled with a call for the masses to denounce other dissidents. The Peking People's Daily, the Communist party paper, called for "resolute mobilization of the masses to overthrow the anti-party, anti-Socialist, counterrevolutionary elements opposing Mao's thoughts."
