GEN. FAZOLLAH ZAHEDI

Cent Pay Boost in Auto Plants

Hourly Rate Increase Indicated by Federal Living Cost Index

WASHINGTON (AP)— The government reported today that living costs edged to a new record high in mid-July.

The increase was enough to give a million auto industry workers a 1 cent hourly pay boost.

Higher prices tot food, rent, transportation and medical care were the main items responsible for the new hike in comsumer costs.

This is .2 of 1 per cent higher than in mid-June.

The mid-July level was ½ of 1 per cent above a year ago and 12.7 per cent above the level at the start of the Korean War.

An index rise to 114.8 would have been enough to provide a 2 cent hourly pay boost for the auto workers whose rates are geared to the government figures.

While living costs have been increasing, so have wages. The Bureau of Labor Statistics recently reported factory earnings averaged $1.70 in July. This is 21 per cent higher than when the Korean War began.

The government living cost index, which does not include the effect of tax increases, rose 12½ per cent since the beginning of the war in Korea.

State Hospital Superintendent Is Appointed

Dr. Ivan LaCore Takes the Late Dr. Wagley's Position Here

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore of Ypsilanti has been named new medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, the Michigan Department of Mental Health announced today.

Dr. LaCore will come to Pontiac early in September to take up his duties as chief of the 3,000-patient institution.

Dr. Max Steiner has been acting superintendent since the death of the late Dr. Perry V. Wagley in June.

Appointment of Dr. LaCore was made by Charles F. Wagg, director of the Mental Health Department and approved by Michigan's Mental Health Commission after five candidates were interviewed.

The 44-year-old doctor has served as assistant superintendent of Ypsilanti State Hospital since April, 1951. He first joined the staff in October 1948, and was named senior staff psychiatrist in June 1950.

A graduate of Elk Rapids High School and Western State Teachers College, Dr. LaCore received his doctor of medicine degree from Wayne University in 1935.

He completed his rotating internship in Grace Hospital, Detroit, in 1936, and took a two-year residency in the same hospital in medicine and surgery.

After four years in private practice in Detroit, he entered the U.S. Army in 1942, serving as a major in the medical service, spending two years in Europe. He re-entered private practice in 1946, joining the Ypsilanti State Hospital staff two years later.

Wagg announced that he will bring Dr. LaCore to Pontiac Thursday for an introductory visit. The doctor, his wife and two children will take up residence at the hospital soon.

Holly POW to Land in San Francisco

One of Oakland County's first prisoners of war to be released by the Communists is included in the contingent to arrive on a government transport scheduled to dock in San Francisco Saturday.

He is Pfc. Albert A. DeSmet of Holly. The news of his early arrival came today in a Defense Department telegram to his guardian, Mrs. Rosa M. Stiles of 206 Jones St., Holly.

He will be met at the dock by his brother, now in California. DeSmet entered the armed services early in 1948 and was taken prisoner on May 18, 1951.

FBI May Enter Parmenter Hunt

Police Chief May Ask Agents' Aid in Search for Missing Broker

Efforts to call the Federal Bureau of Investigation into the hunt for Eugene A. Parmenter, Pontiac stock broker charged with larceny by conversion, struck a snag here today.

Oakland County Sheriff Clare L. Hubbell said he planned to find out whether the FBI would be able to enter the case until a technicality upset his plans.

Shortly before he was ready to call Fred H. McIntire, head of the FBI's Detroit office, Hubbell said he learned that the warrant for Parmenter's arrest had been sent to the Pontiac Police Department.

This, he pointed out, would leave it up to Pontiac police to contact the FBI office.

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley said he would be willing to call the FBI into the case "if we find it necessary after it has been established that Parmenter has left Michigan."

Straley pointed out that the FBI can enter the search for a futitive from justice if it receives evidence the fugitive has crossed state lines.

Parmenter, 53, of 6366 Thurber Rd., Birmingham, has been sought since Aug. 14 when an audit of the W. H. Protiva Company's books indicated he had used patrons' collateral for obtaining a $12,500 bank loan.

Although Parmenter sent a suicide note to his wife from Frankfort, close to the couple's summer cottage on Crystal Lake, authorities believe Parmenter is still alive.

Four persons reported seeing Parmenter in the Manistee area several days after his wife received the suicide note.

Study Answers of Lie Detector From Morning

Four More Men Cleared by Police Investigating Mrs. Perkins' Death

David Perkins Jr., 37, will be requestioned this afternoon after taking two lie detector tests in connection with the slaying of his mother, Mrs. Hallie Perkins Sr., whose body was found Aug. 15 in a field four blocks from her home.

Detective John DePauw, coordinator of the Pontiac investigation, said Mrs. Perkins' son agreed to take the test after police re-questioned him and his wife, Ruth, 34, yesterday.

Mrs. Perkins disappeared Aug. 4 from her son's home at 76 W. Longfellow Ave., where she had been residing seven years. Her body was found 11 days later in a field near Baldwin and Beverly Aves.

Ruth told police and Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem that she reported her mother-in-law missing Aug. 10. She said the report was delayed because she thought Mrs. Perkins was taking one of her frequent brief trips.

David was given the lie detector tests this morning at the Michigan State Police Post at Redford, said DePauw.

DePauw and Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of Pontiac detectives, said they will question David again this afternoon. Results of the lie detector tests also will be studied carefully, they added.

Meanwhile, four more persons were cleared in the attack of a teenager, which occurred in another field two blocks from where Mrs. Perkins body was found.

The 16-year-old girl, who was raped nine hours after the discovery of the body, was unable to identify any of the four in a show-up yesterday afternoon.

So far 41 suspects have been questioned and released. Fifteen were cleared after appearing in showups.

95-Degree High Due Thursday

Mercury Climbs Over 90 for Second Day in Pontiac Area

6 a.m.	69	10 a.m.	86
7 a.m.	70	11 a.m.	89
8 a.m.	74	12 m.	92
9 a.m.	81	1 p.m.	93
		2 p.m.	94

More fair and hot weather is forecast for the Pontiac area in the wake of Tuesday's 92-degree high.

As the mercury climbed past the 90-degree mark today, the U.S. Weather Bureau forecast a high of from 93 to 95 degrees Thursday.

And little relief from the dry, hot days is expected. An extended forecast indicates temperatures will range about six degrees above the normal high 70s for the next four days.

No rain is in sight until the weekend, when scattered showers are expected.

Yesterday's high came at about 4:30 yesterday. It followed a low of 64 degrees. A low of from 68 to 73 degrees is predicted for tonight.

The mercury rose from 74 degrees at 8 a.m. today in downtown Pontiac to 94 degrees at 2 p.m.

'PARADE OF PROGRESS'—Groups of noon-hour shoppers gathered along Saginaw street Tuesday noon as General Motors "Parade of Progress" rolled through Pontiac to set up equipment at Washington Junior High School for a four-day series of shows starting Thursday afternoon. Nine "Futurliners," three of which are shown above, and a half-dozen trucks carrying equipment were the largest vehicles in the 10-minute parade.

3,000 Will See GMC Preview

Parade of Progress to Be Presented Tonight for Key Personnel

Some 3,000 civic officials, business leaders and GMC executives and supervisory personnel will preview General Motors "Parade of Progress" at special shows tonight.

The giant exhibit portraying the role of science and engineering in American life has set up shop at Washington Junior High School for its four-day run.

First public show will start Thursday at 2 p. m., with several shows daily between 2 and 10 p. m. Thursday through Sunday. Admission is free.

Harry J. Klingler, General Motors vice president in charge of the passenger car and truck group, will give the main address at tonight's first preview at 7:30 p. m.

A speech by Mayor Arthur J. Law is scheduled also. Robert M. Critchfield, GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, will be master of ceremonies.

GM supervisory employes are invited to view the exhibits, displays and stage shows at two later showings tonight and another Thursday morning.

An early dinner honoring Klingler and Mayor Law is being given by Critchfield tonight at Hotel Waldron with a dozen local GM officials as guests. The group later will attend the first preview of the GM show.

Radford Says U. S. Must Check Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. Arthur W. Radford said today the Russian hydrogen explosion requires that the United States review its defense against such weapons.

The new chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff told a news conference that U. S. military leaders knew, however, that Russia would achieve a hydrogen explosion sooner or later just as the United States had. He said the fact of the achievement has not changed this nation's strategic planning.

Tells Attorneys It's Pre-Atomic, Weak 3 Ways

Was Drafted in 1945 Before Writers Knew of Coming Bomb

BOSTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today the "pre-atomic-age charter" of the United Nations contains "serious inadequacies."

He claims it needs to undergo important alterations.

In a speech prepared for the American Bar Association, Dulles said he believes the administration can achieve a better world in the face of the fact that man now has the power "to destroy himself."

But he said the U. N. would have to be changed to make this possible.

He recalled that the charter was drafted and signed at San Francisco in early 1945 "when none of us knew of the atomic bomb which was to fall on Hiroshima on Aug. 6, 1945," and added:

"The charter is thus a pre-atomic-age charter. In this sense it was obsolete before it actually came into force."

Dulles went on to say that "as one who was at San Francisco, I can say with confidence that if the delegates there had known that the mysterious and immeasurable power of the atom would be available as means of mass destruction, the provisions of the charter dealing with disarmament and the regulation of armaments would have been far more emphatic and realistic."

Dulles said the second inadequacy arose from the placing of reliance in a peacetime continuation of the wartime partnership of the United States, Britain and Russia, with the result that power for action was concentrated in the Security Council with its veto.

The Assembly voting procedure gives that body only an advisory role, he said.

The third inadequacy, Dulles said, is the fact that the General Assembly "has made but little progress" in establishing fundamental law among nations embodying "eternal principles of justice and morality."

Dulles told his audience of lawyers that under the charter itself the General Assembly in 1955 must consider calling a charter review meeting.

He said the United States "will then vote in favor" of such a conference.

Dulles devoted much of his speech to a review of efforts in the recent session of Congress to limit the authority of the president in the field of foreign affairs.

He said this took the form of proposals to prevent "possible future abuses" of the president's power to make treaties.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) is the principal sponsor of one proposed constitutional amendment. No action was taken on it in the last session but it is still pending.

Petitions Favor Doctor

But San Patient Charges That Nurse Used Pressure in Securing Signatures

A petition signed by 181 of the 250 patients at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium has been received by Elmer Kephart, chairman of the sanatorium committee on the Board of Supervisors.

It asks that changes be made at the sanatorium that will induce Dr. George H. Phillips to reconsider his resignation as medical superintendent there.

In connection with the petition, George H. Williams, the sanatorium's business manager, received a letter charging that a nurse tried to persuade patients to sign the petition.

The letter signed by George W. Henderson, a patient in room 105, and endorsed by four other patients, claims the nurse awoke the patients in their rooms at 10 p.m. Aug. 12 and asked that they sign the petition.

"All the patients in my room signed it but me, and she got mad at me and said that I

Introduces Amendment to Get Vote on Neutrals for Peace Table

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia today came up with a parliamentary maneuver to force the U. N. to vote first on the Soviet proposal for inviting six fighting countries and nine "neutrals" to the Korean peace conference.

The Soviet move came as the General Assembly's 60-nation political committee began discussing in detail a half-dozen resolutions dealing with the Korean problem.

Voting was expected to begin tomorrow.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky had put in a revised proposal only yesterday listing the 15 countries Russia wants to seat at the conference.

But under normal voting procedure, this would be voted on last since it was the last resolution submitted.

Vishinsky, however, submitted his list again this morning in the form of an amendment to a resolution sponsored by the United States and 14 other countries that fought for the U. N. in Korea.

The latter proposal, recommending that all the fighting countries be invited to the conference, had been introduced first and had priority in the voting. But assembly rules provide that amendments must be voted first.

This means the Soviet list would be put ahead of the United States-sponsored proposal.

There are separate resolutions on the participation of Russia and India.

The United States is opposing India's participation, but has agreed to support a proposal for Russia's inclusion "provided that the other side desires it."

The committee arranged to recess this afternoon while the Se-

May Be Last to Come Home

Biggest Mystery in Korea Now Is Fate of Gen. Dean, Highest Ranking POW

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — The biggest mystery in Korea today centers around Major Gen. William F. Dean.

When will Dean, highest-ranking prisoner held by the Communists, come home to freedom? In the United States that would be called the $64 question.

The Communists claim that Dean is well and will be released when his turn comes. They say he will be repatriated without any fanfare and be treated as an ordinary prisoner.

The Reds have hinted they will hold him until the end of "operation Big Switch," when the last of 3,313 Americans to be repatriated walk through "Freedom Gate."

Only one of the 2,128 Americans released thus far had news of Dean while held by the Communists.

Sgt. Edward Williams, 23, of Vicksburg, Miss., said last Saturday that other prisoners told him they once saw Dean in notorious Communist Camp No. 5.

Another freed prisoner, Marine Pfc. Leonard Steege, 20, of Medford, Me., said he had heard rumors in Kaesong that Dean would be the last man set free.

Brigadier R. M. Jerram, head of the United Nations Red Cross team, disclosed Tuesday that his unit while inspecting Communist prison camps, discreetly had made inquiries about Dean.

But the British brigadier said the Communists ignored the question.

MAJ. GEN. W. F. DEAN

The Dean story goes back to July 3, 1950, eight days after North Koreans swarmed across the 38th parallel to start a 37-month-war.

On that day, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, then the U.N. supreme commander in the Far East, announced that Dean, last military governor of Korea, had been placed in command of the U. S. 24th Infantry Division.

Eighteen days later Dean was unofficially reported captured in the battle of Taejon. On the following day Washington made it official.

On the following Sept. 30, President Truman announced that Dean had received the nation's highest award, the Congressional Medal of Honor, for extraordinary heroism and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty.

Pontiac Family Gets News POW Son Will Be Home

Cpl. Marcos Gonzales, 41, who was released from a Red prison camp in Korea Sunday, is expected to return to his Pontiac home soon.

Cpl. Gonzales' family received word from the Defense Department Sunday that he had been exchanged and would be "returned to the United States by surface transportation at an early date."

CPL. MARCUS GONZALES

The last time Gonzales' father, Aristeo, 89, had heard from his son was in April when he received two letters and a Christmas card from the POW camp where his son was held.

Cpl. Gonzales was serving his second hitch in the Army when he was captured by the Reds. He was first reported missing in action on Dec. 2, 1950.

A year later his first letter from a POW camp notified his family that he was in Communist hands.

Cpl. Gonzales' father lives with another son, Jose, 34, and Jose's family at 751 Portland St.

Ask Birmingham Rezone Two Lots on Woodward to Permit Bank Building

BIRMINGHAM — The Planning Board recommended last night that the City Commission rezone two lots between Fourteen Mile and Bird on Woodward, as requested by the Birmingham National Bank.

The bank also asks rezoning of one lot to parking district classification and another from residential to business in preparation for construction of a new branch office.

The Standard Oil Co. also proposes to use part of the site for a new gas station.

The Board advises that an alley in the subdivision be vacated to comply with the city zoning ordinance and allow rezoning of the lot to business.

Previously the south portion of the alley had been requested zoned by the bank and approved by the commission. The revised recommendations includes vacating the whole alley subject to construction of proper easements.

It stipulated that the bank build a 15-foot parking screen at the south end of the lots to protect nearby residents.

In other business, a request to rezone six lots in the Birmingham Crestview subdivision from single-family residence to business - A was set on the agenda for future study.

A public hearing was set for Sept. 22 on the rezoning of four lots in the Birmingham subdivision from single family to business-A.

Commissioners this week took steps to add a section to the city's curb - cutting ordinance which states that driveways may not exceed 30 feet in width or 60 per cent of the total frontage. It also calls for a 10-foot separation between driveways.

City Attorney Forbes Hascall was asked to prepare by next Monday's meeting a new section to the ordinance permitting additional curb cuts where the necessity is seen to avoid hardship or a public hazard. The commission would sit as a board of appeals in such cases.

The Shell Oil Company, which has acquired an additional 155 feet of frontage on Maple and Brownell streets behind its station at Hunter and Maple, has asked permission to put an additional entrance on the Maple side. E. Olewin, field manager for Shell, said it would facilitate access into the station and provide off-street parking for customers.

Because of the existing curb cuts at the station, the company under the ordinance is only allowed another 16-foot driveway. Olewin said the new land has been leased as a separate parcel.

He pointed out that if another station were built on the new site, or if another company had purchased the land, a full 30-foot driveway would be permissible.

Commissioner Richard Patterson felt some allowance should be made since the block from Hunter to Brownell is such a short one while Commissioner Lance Minor said traffic conditions at Maple and Hunter would be improved with such an addition.

Final 8:45 p.m. performances of "Dreamers on a Slack Wire" will be given tomorrow through Saturday at Cranbrook's outdoor Greek Theater.

The original dance-drama was written by Austin Jones and choreographed by Marion Nevill Kirk. Tickets may be obtained at the door or by contacting Blythe Jones or Arthur Nevill Kirk.

Jones said today he had been anxious to get audience reaction to the experimental two-fold interpretation and added that thus far reports had seemed very favorable.

Composer Bernard Heiden, who wrote the original piano-percussion score for the dance-drama, is en route from Lake Placid to attend the last performances, Jones said.

Heading the cast are Reva Geer, Nancy Shile, Jarvis E. Bancroft, Joyce Edgar, Bruce Carlisle and Beverly Zahler.

Bar Is Opposed to Book Burning

But Sees No Need for Communist Books in U.S. Libraries Overseas

By CORNELIUS F. HURLEY

BOSTON (AP)— The House of Delegates of the American Bar Assn. has adopted resolutions condemning "book burning" and pledging support for lawyers who, though personally anti-Communist, defend subversives as a matter of public duty.

"Freedom to read," the delegates voted, "is a corollary of the constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press."

The Bar Association's committee on individual rights, which drafted the resolution, said in its report however that there should be "no doubt that the government may properly restrict the contents of libraries maintained abroad," and it added:

"There is no good reason why such libraries should include propaganda against the United States."

But when it comes to libraries at home, the report said: . . . . we are dealing with a policy involving the rights of our own people and . . . we believe that truth can be counted upon to prevail in a free competition of ideas."

The set of resolutions included one in which the Bar Association reaffirms the principle of "the right of defendants to the benefit of assistance of counsel and the duty of the bar to provide such aid, even to the most unpopular defendant."

Two Stores Robbed in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM — About $350 in cash plus an undetermined amount of merchandise was taken from the Golf Mart at 217 Pierce St. and the Storer Broadcasting Co., 199 Pierce, sometime last night, according to Birmingham police.

Doors were broken open at both places, police said. At the Storer firm the safe was ripped apart and robbed of $171. The Golf Mart lost $387.57 in cash plus some merchandise, said police.

Police stated they were investigating the breakins and feel the same person or persons are responsible for both thefts.

Reported Dead, GI Claims He's 'Plenty Alive'

INCHON, Korea (AP)—"What? I'm plenty alive. I'll tell you that."

The man talking was Cpl. Henry H. Kern of Hardin, Mont., who was reported killed in action a month ago.

Kern, 23, was released from a Communist prison camp yesterday. It was not until today, when he had been cleared by doctors at the Inchon replacement depot prior to boarding a ship for home, that Kern was told his parents thought he was dead.

He became nervous. His fingers shook.

"I was supposed to be dead and here I am sitting here," Kern said. "I'm just catching up with myself."

When told yesterday that his son was alive and on his way home, Kern's father said in Montana, "I hope this report is right."

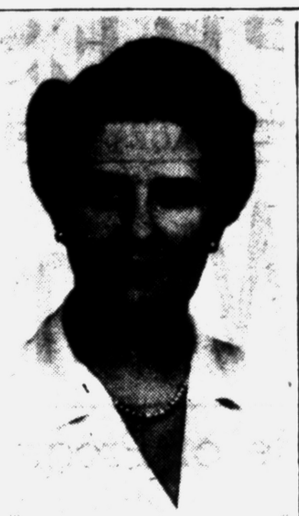
"That's just like dad," young Kern said. "He shouldn't believe the worst all the time. That's him.

"I hope my folks didn't take that report that I was dead too hard."

Kern has a sweetheart in Sheridan, Wyo., whom he fears may also have thought he was dead. He had hoped to go home to marry her last month, but was captured and "didn't quite make it."

"I'm very surprised about all this," he said. "That never entered my mind at all. I thought I would be listed as missing."

"It's a great feeling to be alive," he added.



MRS. JAMES R. ADAMS

Mrs. Bertha De Chant Adams, wife of James R. Adams, president of MacManus, John and Adams, Inc., died Tuesday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital here. She resided on Rathmor road in Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. Adams was born in Hopedale, Ill., and came to Detroit with her husband in 1925.

A member of St. Hugo of the Hills Roman Catholic Church and the Altar Guild, she was active in charitable work of that organization. She also was a past president of the Altar Society and the PTA of Holy Name Parish in Birmingham.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Charles F., and two daughters, Ellen Ann and Mrs. Robert Heckenkamp, all of Birmingham.

Also surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Frank J. Karp and Miss Henrietta De Chant of Blissfield, Mrs. Dwight B. Smith and Mrs. Mardell Milner of Adrian; six brothers, Henry of Butte, Mont., Thomas of Ecorse, William of Durand, Leo of Flat Rock, John of Newark, N. J. and Arthur of Adrian.

Rosary service will be Thursday in the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. in Birmingham.

Funeral will be Friday at 10 a.m. from St. Hugo of the Hills. The Rev. Francis T. Stack, her pastor, will officiate and burial will be in the mausoleum at Holy Name Sepulchre Cemetery.

Bearers will include L. A. Quart, Dr. P. J. Birmingham, Glenn J. Frost, R. H. White, August Larson and D. E. Ahrens.

The family suggest that in lieu of flowers, donations be made to the American Cancer Society.

Defer Action on Assessment

Commission, Citizens to Study Cost Report of City Manager

Pontiac City Commission Tuesday night deferred action one week on a question of the application of the public improvement assessment formula to certain curb, gutter, drainage, paving and related work now under way.

Postponement followed a report from City Manager Walter K. Willman requested by commissioners when some 20 residents in the Lois and Belmont avenue area protested recent assessments as "unequal and unfair."

Willman's report explained application of the formula devised to establish uniform units of assessment for improvements including storm sewers at $.03 a square foot; five foot sidewalk at $2 a lineal foot; curb and gutter at $1.50 a lineal foot, and two-inch blacktop at $2.30 a lineal foot.

The report also stated that since inception of the formula as amended in 1951, such corrective work as sidewalk and driveway repair and tree removal has been assessed in addition to the formula unit along the entire job on the theory that corrections benefit all concerned and not just abutting property owners.

"This has been difficult to explain but is usual procedure in other cities as well," the report stated.

"With respect to drainage, the unit has been applied wherever lateral and trunk storm sewers have been necessary under the area tributary to the system; charging only for the tributary area has caused some confusion when assessments on opposite sides of a street have differed," it declared.

Mayor Arthur J. Law and Commissioner Benjamin M. Gates questioned whether it was the original intent of the commission when adopting the formula to make the additional charge for corrective work, but asked for time for commissioners and the citizens' group spokesman, Cornelius L. Oegema of 46 N. Anderson St., to study the report.

Hunt Three Men in Ecorse Death

Police Think Was Slain by Burglar She Surprised

DETROIT (AP)—State and Ecorse Township police today sought three men for questioning in the brutal slaying of a 57-year-old woman Monday.

The unidentified men were believed to have been at the isolated Ecorse Township home of Mrs. Clara Reuter several days before the woman was beaten to death, police said.

Law enforcement agencies in Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb counties were alerted to watch for the three men.

Detective Carl Lutz described two of the men as about 30 and the other about 22. Lutz said all three lived in the vicinity of Flat Rock.

State police said Mrs. Reuter was the apparent victim of a burglar. They believe she discovered the burglar in the act of ransacking her home.

Mrs. Reuter's body was found in a rose garden at the back of her home. Her husband, Arthur, 62, found the body when he returned from his job at the Great Lakes Steel Corp.

Reuter was cleared of any implication in the slaying yesterday. State police said he passed a voluntary lie detector test.

Police said $200, hidden in a dresser drawer, was taken by the burglar. Another $1,600 was overlooked.

ADDITION TO BUSINESS DISTRICT—Two new stores in Pontiac's downtown business district will hold grand openings Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Maling Shoe Store handles only women's shoes and specializes in novelty footwear. Alison Women's Apparel Shop will deal chiefly with coats, suits, dresses, sportswear and lingerie.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Ardelle Doneldson

Funeral for Mrs. Ardella Doneldson, 58, of 424 S. Saginaw St., will be Friday at 2 p.m. from Trinity Baptist Church. The Rev. Richard H. Dixon Jr., pastor of the church, will officiate, and burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Born in St. Louis, Mo. March 21, 1895, she was the daughter of Emmett and Sarah Douglas Butler and widow of George Doneldson, whom she married in Detroit in 1948. She came to Pontiac from Detroit 18 years ago.

Her only survivor is a sister, Miss Mary Butler of St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Doneldson died at her residence Sunday morning.

The body will be at the Frank Carruthers Funeral Home after 7 p.m. Thursday.

Henry J. Lefler

After an illness of a few days, Henry J. Lefler, 26, of 680 Parson St. in Ferndale, died at 12:40 a.m. today in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Born in Omaha, Neb., Dec. 20, 1926, he was the son of Jay C. and Anna M. Marek Lefler. He was a graduate of the University of Nebraska, receiving his degree in mechanical science.

Mr. Lefler was a member of St. Mary Catholic Church in Royal Oak, Knights of Columbus in Omaha, Neb., and the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Surviving are his widow, Virginia; his parents; a son, Steven J., and a sister, Miss Dorothy Ann Lefler of Kansas City, Mo.

The body was sent from the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home to Heafey and Heafey Funeral Home in Omaha for service and burial.

E. Edward Lundgren

Funeral for E. Edward Lundgren, 54, of 260 Pioneer Ave., will be Thursday at 2:30 p.m. from St. John's Lutheran Church. The Rev. Carl W. Nelson, pastor of the church, will officiate and burial will be in Ottawa Park Cemetery.

Mr. Lundgren, who had been ill six months, died at his residence Monday morning. He came to Pontiac in 1936 and was an employe of GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Born at Crystal Falls Nov. 5, 1898, he was the son of Charles and Betti Paulson Lundgren. He married Signe Peterson at St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 2, 1933.

Besides his widow, he is survived by five brothers and two sisters. They are William and C. Harold of Ironton, Minn., John, Clarence, Mrs. Carl Leedy and Mrs. Dallas Folsom of Pontiac and James of Drayton Plains.

Miss Amy E. Richards

Miss Amy E. (Peggy), Richards, 47, of 128 W. Rutgers Ave. died at 1 p.m. Tuesday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Born at Keweenaw Bay April 19, 1906, she had resided in Pontiac 12 years, coming here from Detroit. She was last employed as a draftsman at Universal Oil Seal Co.

Besides her mother, Mrs. Ida Richards of Berkley, she is survived by five sisters and two brothers, Winona Woods of Pontiac, Olga Richards and Mrs. Norna Barratt of Berkley, Mrs. Ralph Kinnee and Mrs. Frank Henry of Chicago, Theodore Richards of Wyandotte and Ralph Richards of Calumet.

Funeral will be Friday at 1 p.m. from the Virgo E. Kinsey Funeral Home at Lafayette and Fifth St., Royal Oak. The Rev. Orrin VanLoon will officiate and burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Detroit Research Men Hint of Help for Heart Troubles

DETROIT (AP) — Preliminary research studies sponsored by the Michigan Heart Association are providing the medical profession with important clues in the battle against arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries).

"Hardening of the arteries attacks blood vessels of the heart and body," Henry L. Smith, president of the Michigan Heart Association, said, "causing more deaths and disability than any other human ailment."

Dr. Smith said research on animals by a team of Detroit doctors has produced a drug which may reduce the fatality and disability toll of hardening of the arteries.

The animals were placed on a diet containing a high cholesterol content. Cholesterol is a fat-like substance. The animals, thus treated, have developed livers which are highly infiltrated with cholesterol. The livers also contain a higher calcium and magnesium content.

During the tests, blood vessels in the treated animals were found to be more hardened than those in untreated animals.

Researchers then injected the cholesterol animals with sodium salt of ethylenediaminetetraacetic (commercially known as versene).

Tests disclosed that the injection of versene built up resistance to cholesterol infiltration. However, the animals receiving the versene injection were found to have a lower calcium and magnesium liver content and the level of cholesterol in their blood was higher.

However, researchers said the hardening of the arteries was not as great as was expected in the animals with the extremely high cholesterol levels.

Researchers said tests indicated that the higher the cholesterol content the greater the degree of hardening of the arteries.

Animals fed a normal diet were then given the versene injections. Doctors said the cholesterol content in these animals rose sharply and then returned to normal. These animals also showed a lack of phospholipids (a combination of fat with phosphorus) in blood serum tests after 57 days of treatment.

The research team said versene has been used on a limited number of human patients with encouraging results. The results have led to an extension of the original research program.

The team cautioned that the studies to date are preliminary. Long, repeated tests and follow checks are necessary before final valid conclusions can be drawn.

The doctors pointed out that until these time consuming tests are made and recorded, versene is not recommended for general use by the practicing physican.

Stars Greet Vic Damone From Army

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The movie colony turned out en masse last night to welcome back ex-corporal Vic Damone from a two-year hitch in the Army.

Jack Benny and his wife, Mary Livingston, hosted the private party at the Mocambo for the young singer whose name often has been linked romantically with the Bennys' daughter, Joan.

The biggest star tournout of the year was on hand for the homecoming for the ex-soldier. Many speculated that the party would be for the announcement of the engagement of Damone and Miss Benny.

Benny said he does not know the status of his daughter's romance with Damone.

"All I know is sometimes when I come home at night, I'll find Vic, Joan and Mary sitting in the kitchen, and they all call me daddy," Benny said. "Vic's fine with us for a son-in-law, but I think my daughter wants to finish her education at Stanford before thinking seriously of romance."

Among the movie crowd present were Jane Wyman, June Allyson, Dick Powell, Phil Silvers, Robert Cummings, Jean Simmons, Ken Murray, Dennis Day and scores more.

Damone declared he was nervous but sang songs for 40 minutes.

"It's tough to sing," he quipped, "with singers like Tony Martin and you."

Two New Stores Opening in City

Business Places Occupy Attractive Quarters on North Saginaw Street

Pontiac's downtown business district took on a "new look" this week with the completion of two new stores.

Maling Shoe Store at 50 N. Saginaw St., one of 25 similar stores throughout the Midwest, will hold its grand opening Thursday from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and on Friday and Saturday from 9:30 a. m. to 9 p. m.

At 52 N. Saginaw St. Alison Women's Apparel shop has opened its first store in the Pontiac area and will hold a grand opening on Thursday and Saturday from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and on Friday from 9:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. The Alison shop is one of 85 stores.

Employes at Maling's have undergone a two months training program, according to Irving Klein, manager. "They will be working in one of the most modern stores in the city," he said. Indirect lighting, modern showcases, air conditioning and carpeted shoe fitting sections are highlights of the store's interior.

"Maling's is the store Pontiac women have been waiting for," according to Klein. "We'll specialize in novelty wear and 35 employes will be working to satisfy our customers."

Charles A. Gilbert, general manager of the Alison chain, said the company has been operating for 22 years and that this is the first store of its kind in the Pontiac area.

"Our merchandise is being offered at popular prices and we are dealing primarily with women's coats, dresses, sportswear and lingerie," said Gilbert.

The store has indirect lighting, air conditioning, curtained walls and a pleasant pastel coloring scheme.

Seek Hypnotist Who Entranced Young Waitress

BANFF, Alta. (AP)—19-year-old waitress with a "consuming desire" to sleep is in a hospital here while police search for a traveling hypnotist-lecturer. They hope he can end her trance.

The girl, Betty Black of Nelson, B. C., can be awakened and will speak and walk but she drifts back to sleep. She refuses to eat.

Police were told she fell into a trance Saturday night while attending a performance put on by the hypnotist, known here only as "The Great Dr. Zomb."

Ferndale Pair Wait Trial

William Harris, 48, and Luther Barnett, 46, both of 21373 Creston Lane, Ferndale, demanded examination Tuesday before Oak Park Justice William F. Nern on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. They were both returned to Oakland County Jail when unable to furnish $2,000 bond each and examination was set for Sept. 2.

Posse Hunts Michigan Man

Escaped Army Captive Believed in Mountains of Colorado

FRASER, Colo. (UP)—Fifty men swarmed over the rugged mountain country near here today in search of Pvt. Frank Brink of Grand Rapids, an escaped military prisoner from Camp Carson, Colo.

Grand County Sheriff Chancy Van Pelt said he and other state and county officers and members of the mounted patrol were forced to give up the hunt for the 18-year-old Brink when darkness set in Tuesday night.

Brink escaped from the Camp Carson stockade Monday night with another prisoner, Pvt. Benedict A. Barango, 21, of Chicago. Barango gave up after running 100 yards from the car he and Brink reportedly stole in Colorado Springs and abandoned near here when State Patrolman Guy Miles closed in on them.

The two abandoned the car and two Pampa, Texas youths—Darwin C. Malone, 18, and Gilbert E. Sutton, 15—who said they had been held as hostages after Brink and Barango picked them up as they were hitch-hiking from Colorado Springs to Denver.

Van Pelt said Brink apparently was holed up somewhere in the mountains, which are thickly timbered. Part of the search party is using horses and the rest of the posse is on foot.

Brink apparently is unarmed. Barango said his companion had only a club and Malone and Sutton said they saw no guns during their wild ride.

Cats Dead but Woman to Get $41,000 Anyway

RIVERHEAD, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Alice P. Walsh of Oceanside, N. Y., was named in a friend's will to receive $41,000, with the understanding she take care of three cats.

But the cats were old, and authorities disposed of them before the will of Elsie Warts, 68, of Babylon, was read.

Yesterday papers filed with the will in Suffolk County Surrogate's Court indicated that other beneficiaries of the will have agreed that Mrs. Walsh should get her legacy, cats or no cats.

Mrs. Warts, a retired schoolteacher, died July 8.

Plan for New Test Case Over Fifth Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — That now-familiar refrain, "I refuse to answer on the ground it might tend to incriminate me," appears to be headed for a new test in the courts.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) is threatening a court test in an attempt to limit the situations in which it may be used.

Countless times since Congress began looking into subversive activities one witness or another has given this response instead of answering questions about alleged Communist or pro-Communist activities.

They have succeeded in avoiding answering the questions. The Fifth Amendment to the constitution forbids compelling anybody to testify against himself.

McCarthy, chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, is vacationing on the West Coast. Before he left Washington, however, he laid the groundwork for a court action to define the circumstances under which a witness may properly decline to answer.

The Wisconsin senator did this in questioning the wife of Edward Rothschild, the now - suspended Government Printing Office bookbinder who has refused to say whether he was a Communist or whether he ever stole secret documents from the GPO.

Mrs. Rothschild, too, refused to tell McCarthy whether she is or has been a Communist party functionary.

McCarthy then ordered her to answer a test question, announcing her refusal would be the basis for a possible contempt of Congress proceeding. Despite this, and on the advice of her lawyer, Charles E. Ford, the witness persisted in her refusal.

The test question: "Do you refuse to answer on the ground that a truthful answer might tend to incriminate you?"

McCarthy contends this is the only legal ground for a witness declining to answer. Ford, a well-known Washington attorney who has specialized in "Fifth Amendment" cases, challenges the senator to produce a single court decision backing up his stand.

To get a court test, a contempt citation would have to be voted by McCarthy's subcommittee, then by the parent Government Operations Committee and finally by the full Senate. Thus a court airing of Mrs. Rothschild's refusal to answer could not come until Congress reconvenes. That will be next January unless a special session is called this fall.

Ban Public Gatherings for Polio Emergency

WALDWICK, N. J. (AP)—All public gatherings have been banned by the Waldwick Borough Council for two weeks because of a polio emergency.

Mayor Nelson J. Lumley, after an emergency meeting last night with the Council and the local Board of Health, said parents have been asked to keep their children indoors during the period.

Since May, the mayor said, the borough has had seven polio cases, six of them concentrated in a single 600-foot area.

Says Commies Used POWs as Casual Targets

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—A charge that American prisoners of war were made targets for casual shots by passing North Korean soldiers was made today by an American repatriate.

Pvt. Harry J. Addesso of Brooklyn, who survived a long march north from the Taegu area in July 1950, said:

"We were marching one behind the other, our hands bound in front of us with our own communication wire.

"As we marched, Korean trucks would head straight on right into us. The men would scatter left and right and sometimes soldiers on the trucks would take a notion to fire at us as they went by. They picked on the big guys mostly."

He didn't say if any of the soldiers were wounded or killed.

Italian Premier Asks Defense Cuts

ROME (AP)—Italian senators today studied new Premier Giuseppe Pella's financial prescription for their government's ailing finances —sharp cuts in spending, including defense costs.

The reductions were promised in Pella's budget estimates for the 1953-54 fiscal year, presented to the Senate yesterday. The Premier's admittedly temporary government won confidence votes in both the upper house and the Chamber of Deputies on promises to bring the budget closer to a balance.

Among his recommendations was a cut of 21 billion lire (about 34 million dollars) in the field of "international and internal security." This presumably would include the police as well as military forces.

Key to Farm Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said yesterday that research and education holds the key to the major farm problems, which he listed as reducing costs, improving quality and expanding markets.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 26, 1953

Let's Have All the Facts

The unceremonious heave-ho given Charles Figy from his $10,000 a year post as State Agricultural Director leaves some questions unanswered.

From the moment the five man Agricultural Commission voted two weeks ago to ask Figy's resignation, the suspicion has persisted that the move was political. Many Republicans protested expressing the opinion that the Morenci farmer had been tagged for ouster to make room for some deserving Democrat.

When Figy, who has held the job 11 years, refused to resign on the ground that no reason was given for the request, it was announced that he would be fired on Monday. In making the announcement Commissioner Ray T. Anderson said the Commission was "burned up" by the refusal.

The other two Democratic members, William A. Anderson and C. B. Smith supported the dismissal motion made by Ray T. Anderson. Chairman George McIntyre of Millington and Commissioner Roy Eagle of Sault Ste. Marie, Republicans, voted to retain Figy.

The only reasons given for the ouster were that the department heads were not working together and that the department was not functioning to its full efficiency. Figy countered a Democratic suggestion that he had had a stroke with statements from two doctors saying he was in excellent health.

If the Commission's Democratic majority wants the people to believe its claim that the action was "non-political," it should supply a more elaborate bill of particulars.

Tax Dodgers

The average American probably thinks of his fellow countrymen as law abiding, tax paying citizens. So it was something of a shock to learn from the revenue department that, like France and Italy, we also have a tax dodging class.

This eyeopener came during a campaign put on by the department under a 25-year-old law. Agents began knocking on doors at random in the New England area. Householders and storekeepers were asked if they had filed income tax returns. The results were surprising.

In two days the agents collected $80,000 from 8,800 persons and businesses checked. Even more surprising the central offices received $162,000 from those who had not been contacted but who had become frightened.

It was apparent that the campaign did nothing to increase regard for the revenue department among those questioned. Many others apparently considered the agents snoopers, feeling they had no right to ask questions. Some even wrote letters of protest to newspapers.

These people are all wrong. If resentment hadn't blinded their judgment, they'd realize the revenue men are doing them a favor. By collecting taxes from those who otherwise wouldn't pay, they are easing the burden on all taxpayers.

Tax dodging is bad citizenship.

Shrinking Farm Prices

Latest Department of Agriculture figures show why Government, business and economists, as well as farmers, are concerned by the shrinkage in agricultural income.

Cash farm income during the first half of this year was five per cent less than for the same period last year. Marketings were up. Yet prices were 10 per cent lower, with livestock products, mainly cattle and calves, bearing the brunt of the drop.

Farm prices have been declining since 1951. But the farmers' costs began to decline only in August, 1952. Since then farm income has declined slightly more than 12 per cent and costs only slightly more than three per cent.

Prices farmers get for the rest of this year will depend on the volume of this year's crops. The prospect now is for overall production just short of the record 1952 total, with livestock and livestock products setting new highs.

Domestic demand is expected to continue high. But farm exports are running at the low level of last year, in part because of improved production abroad.

What worries farmers is that they are getting less of the consumers' dollar. In 1946 the wife of the average wage earner spent $767 a year for farm products, according to USDA. Of this the farmer got $397 or 52 per cent. Today she spends $1,017 of which the farmer gets only $446, or 44 per cent.

"The future, both immediate and distant, remains full of trial and hazard," says President Eisenhower. We do wish he'd quit frightening us about the future, as it's all we have left.

'Another Parent' Says Longfellow Pupils Need Proper Crossing and Traffic Light

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

I'm glad to see that someone in the neighborhood is interested in the safety of our children. They do need sidewalks and also proper school crossing markings on Auburn because the traffic is fast and heavy at 3:30 every afternoon.

What happened to the petition that we all signed for a traffic light on Auburn at Astor for the Longfellow school children? That corner has been a school crossing since Longfellow was built. There are over 120 children who would normally use this crossing.

The children are forced to cross Auburn at East Blvd., which averages a mile each way for many of them. Many of us walked further than that when we were children, but we didn't have to go home for lunch.

Auburn is a military highway. How often is it used as such? If troops were ever moved along Auburn, wouldn't the lights remain green for them for a longer period of time than they do now?

David Lawrence Sees It This Way:

Next Presidential Winner Will Depend on Candidate's Strong Domestic Policy

WASHINGTON — Adlai Stevenson says that while the Democratic party lost the last election it won the admiration of the free world.

He added — in a facetious vein — that the Democrats could have carried "every country from Britain to Korea."

That was just the reason why the Democrats lost — there were too many Americans who thought the Truman-Acheson policy was a "Europe first" affair and that American billions were not limitless.

The "free world" — and it might be added facetiously, too, that nearly everything was free so far as giving away American billions were concerned — naturally believed the Democrats would be more "liberal" with American funds than the Republicans.

As it turns out, the Eisenhower administration is continuing foreign aid in rather substantial quantity, so the Europeans were unnecessarily alarmed when they put their bets on Stevenson and feared the Republican "economizers."

What former Gov. Stevenson didn't touch on was the real reason why the Truman-Acheson administration has been popular abroad, entirely apart from the money given foreign countries.

The belief has existed abroad that all Republicans are "isolationists" and that only the Democrats would maintain a large standing army of American soldiers overseas for many years to come, whereas the Republicans might become impatient and require that Europe undertake the biggest burden in defending itself.

The truth is the Eisenhower administration doesn't differ from its predecessor on long-range objectives abroad.

But what Europe or Asia thinks about American policy will not decide American elections. Gov. Stevenson's chances of being the presidential candidate of his party in 1956 do not depend on the evolution of American foreign policy.

It was a good thing from his own standpoint that he made the lengthly trip, because it had been argued by critics that he lacked experience in international affairs.

Wendell Willkie after his defeat in 1940 became a world traveler for much the same reason.

Presumably all aspirants to the Democratic nomination will be on the side of more money and more troops for the defense of Europe and Asia as against Communist imperialism.

But what will be the differences of opinion as between would-be nominees on domestic questions?

First of all, Mr. Stevenson may not like it, but he will discover that Trumanism is still unpopular with the majority and that "McCarthyism" as an issue will not be adequate to take care of the deep-seated distrust which so many voters have had concerning the Democratic Party's bungling tactics in handling Communists in the government.

A prospective candidate who is 100 per cent anti-Communist and has such a record by 1956 will have a better chance of capturing the party's nomination than someone who is lukewarm on the issue and spends his time arguing academic questions about congressional committee "methods."

Next, and not less important, is the attitude which Mr. Stevenson may decide to take on the record of the Truman-Roosevelt administration.

While he can say in general that he applauds that record, he must sooner or later begin to show that he is not going to be a Trumanite but an independent-minded person who doesn't hesitate to criticize some of the serious economic mistakes made by the Democratic Party.

If Mr. Stevenson is going to depend for his platform on the spending of larger and larger sums for so-called social welfare, he will not endear himself to the vast majority of the taxpayers who want their levies reduced.

The spending spree is nearly over—and the day that some alert and able personality in the Democratic Party discovers it, he will be on the road to a nomination by his party and possible victory at the polls.

As a matter of fact, the most logical individual in the Democratic Party today to become the presidential nominee is Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia.

He could get not only the support of the regular Democratic vote but a substantial Republican vote if he were nominated.

The Democrats might as well realize that the trend toward radicalism and state socialism has been reversed and that the majority to be corralled will be largely made up of the middle-of-the road American voters in both farm and factory.

Issues rather than personal charm or eloquence on the stump bring about the selection of candidates by a political party in America — and Gov. Stevenson has a good chance to be the Democratic standard bearer again only if he interprets correctly the trend away from Trumanism and new dealism.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Sleeping Without Pillow May Put End to Snoring

Clarence's bride says he drives her almost crazy. For he snores! And snoring has been cited as a cause of divorces and even murder. Unfortunately, it is the innocent bystanders who suffer, not the snorer himself. But it can be checked. So follow the advice below.

Case H-369: Clarence H., aged 29, has been married only six months.

"Dr. Crane, he has only one real fault," his new bride informed me, "but it is driving me crazy.

"Clarence snores! And that wakes me. I nudge him gently with my elbow and he rolls over on his side. Then he stops the snoring.

"But I barely get to sleep again before he is lying on his back once more and shattering the night with those awful noises.

"He sounds just like those saws they use at a lumber yard. And I lose so much sleep that I am irritable and jittery next morning.

"He says I have 'coffee nerves,' but I have quit coffee and still I am upset. So I know it is all due to his snoring. How can I break him of this habit?"

Dr. Morris Fishbein has estimated that there are 19,000,000 snorers in this country. Unfortunately, this affliction doesn't bother its victim.

No siree! It's the other occupant of the bedroom who suffers! So there must be close to 19,000,000 innocent victims like Clarence's wife.

Our great psychologist, Dr. Donald A. Laird, once measured the noise that snorers produce and found that it went as high as 40 decibels, which equals the racket in a busy street or noisy office.

mouth partly open. It is produced primarily by the flutter of the soft palate.

Since the lower jaw tends to sag and thus pull the lips apart, you can often check the snoring by wearing an elastic mask. Even a rubber strip, as from an old inner tube, may serve as a makeshift device to solve the problem.

And to prevent the patient's sleeping on his back, they sell a rubber ball which has a whistle inside. This is fastened to the back of his pajamas.

Then, whenever he rolls on his back, the rubber ball is squeezed and then produces a sharp whistle, thereby wakening the snorer.

Back in Colonial Days, they simply sewed a wooden spool on the back of the snorer's nightshirt. Whenever he rolled on his back, this spool proved so uncomfortable it would waken him.

Everybody may snore if he sleeps on his back. Some people, like myself for example, sleep on their abdomens with one cheek or the other flat on the mattress, so we escape censure for snoring.

But I have been accused of snoring if I fall asleep in a reclining chair. So snoring is not due to an anatomical defect, but to a habit of sleeping on one's back or in a chair where one's chin will sag.

If you snorers will omit your pillow, this straightening of the head may be enough to solve the problem.

But many fat people can't sleep comfortably without a pillow, so they better use a face mask or put a rubber strip under their chin.

Since divorces and even murders have been attributed to snoring, be on guard.

Since it is often the jittery wives who lie awake nights, send for the bulletin "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

It may let your husbands continue snoring with impunity.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

(International News Service)

The borrowing limit of small business men has been ear-marked at 150,000 markers. Nice pair of ear rings.

We find the small business man can borrow that amount from the government. But don't drive up in a push-cart.

The minute I got that kind of kale I would give the small business to the government. The first thing it knew it would be in the gageroo department.

How small can a business get? The most miniature gimmick in the world is the atom. They built a town to crack one.

A friend of mine makes individual cakes of soap for fleas. Another specializes in chromium plating dots over umlauts. Still a third patented a small funnel for cross-eyed people to thread needles.

Each one borrowed the certified loot from samples in the Fort Knox root cellar. The flea soap man is over in Monte Carlo verifying Einstein's theory that rolling stones gather your moss. The dot-plater is still in small business. He doesn't bet on any jockey over four foot-ten.

Messy Medicine Cabinets Apt to Be Full of Old Pills, Such as Strychnine or Aloes

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

In the 18 years I served as a family doctor, before I took to the public prints, as we doctors called the newspapers, I loved to peek, pry and snoop.

While puttering about the house waiting for a primipara to get down to business, or washing my hands, or making sure my hair was properly brushed — I did too! — I had plenty of opportunities to inspect the family medicine cabinet.

I can't tell you some of the things I found there, not in a family newspaper.

I do tell what should and what should not be kept in the medicine chest, in Little Lesson No. 14, The Medicine Cupboard, for which booklet send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

One thing I found in too many such medicine cabinets was a box or vial of pills or tablets known as A B & S — a nineteenth century shotgun mixture of horse medicine (aloes or its active principle aloin), belladonna (deadly nightshade) and strychnine.

There were several variations of the formula — perhaps nux vomica (the crude drug) instead of its alkaloid, strychnine; or atropine, the alkaloid, instead of crude belladonna; or dashes of mastic, ipecac, colocynth, cascara or what have you.

The tablets or pills were chocolate or candy-coated, which made them attractive for children who happened to get hold of them.

Now the striking feature of nux vomica (strychnine) poisoning is restlessness, twitching movements, stiffness in the finger muscles or in the muscles of the face when the victim laughs, jerking of arm or leg and finally general convulsions.

The mind remains clear and the spasms or convulsions are extremely painful. Death occurs within two or three hours after the strychnine has been taken.

When such death comes to a child, the responsibility rests heavily on the person who keeps the poison in the medicine cabinet or in any part of the house.

One who is reasonably well informed, not misinformed, will not take any such medicine in any circumstance.

Ignorance of the law excuses no man. Ignorance of physiology and hygiene is no excuse either.

The blunderbuss "aid" to regulation of the bowel came into use in this fashion: The old-timers recognized that aloe was a cathartic (for horses and other animals), so they applied it in human practice.

But it caused pretty severe griping, so they added an antispasmodic drug to lower the intensity of the griping — belladonna or its active principle atropine.

But, darn it, the antispasmodic checked suppressed secretion throughout the alimentary tract, causing dryness of mouth and throat, impairing digestion in stomach and intestine.

So they added a good dash of nux vomica or its active principle strychnine, you know, to stimulate the secretory functions which the belladonna (atropine) checked.

If it sounds silly, it is. But a lot of people have the old nineteenth century A B & S blunderbuss to thank for the constipation habit.

And this brings us to Little Lesson No. 25 The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene, but shucks, for 25 cents you can get enough of your favorite physic to last for a whole week.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Legionnaires Pack Homes for St. Louis Conventions

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The American Legionnaires are coming to town next week, and every hotel and tourist court for 25 miles around is booked solid.

Some 35,000 members of the legion and its auxiliaries are expected for the legion's 35th national convention. More than 5,000 rooms in private homes have been promised to take care of the overflow.

The grand parade, always a highlight of the meeting, will start at 10 a.m. Tuesday. Legion officials say it will require 10 hours to pass a given point, with about 100,000 persons, including about 250 bands and drum and bugle corps, marching in it.

The advance guard already is streaming into town. Preconvention events will include a speech at 12:15 p.m. Friday by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), chairman of the Senate Investigating Committee. He will speak before a joint meeting of the legion's commissions on foreign affairs, Americanism and security.

To help guard against shenanigans such as those that marred conventions several years ago, a special service committee of 410 legionnaires has been formed. The members are St. Louis policemen, Missouri highway patrolmen and St. Louis County officers.

Legion officials say they aren't expecting such trouble this time. David H. Fleischer, executive vice president of the St. Louis Legion Convention Corp., said damage claims have not exceeded $500 for any of the past five national conventions.

* * *

Nixon and Secretary of the Navy Robert B. Anderson will speak Monday, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Wednesday, and Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson Thursday.

New List Identifies 152 Korean Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department today identified 152 additional American battle casualties in the Korean fighting that ceased July 27. These casualties were counted in the preliminary total for the war announced by the Pentagon Aug. 19.

The new list (No. 885) included 35 killed, 107 wounded, 2 missing and 8 injured.

U. S. Ambassador Talks With Zahedi

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson conferred for the first time today with Iran's new Premier, Maj. Gen. Fazollah Zahedi. Presumably the Premier told Henderson how badly his government needs money.

The pair met at Zahedi's invitation. As a preliminary, Henderson had talked yesterday with the under secretary of foreign affairs, Abdul Hussein Meftah.

Both Zahedi and Iran's Shah already have stressed publicly that Iran's government urgently needs financial help from any country that will give it. Reports from Washington Monday said Zahedi likely would get emergency financial aid from the United States if he asked for it.

Fifty years ago, many scientists believed a transatlantic telephone would be impractical because of the 5-hour difference between European and American time.

HUMAN FLAME-THROWER—Tagora, performer in a London show, breathes a fireball during his act. Over eight years perfecting stunt, he's suffered internal burns five times.

In three years there will be more than 12,000,000 trucks and trailers on the roads, according to a newspaper estimate. Today there are about 9,981,000 of these vehicles in use.

Returned POWs Narrate Horror of Commie Game

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—Two returned American prisoners told today of a macabre Halloween night when North Korean Communists marched 750 men, women and children to the edge of a rock cliff and threatened to kill them all—then did not fire.

There were 700 captured prisoners of war and 50 civilians — priests, nuns and children.

The priests and nuns sang hymns and prayed. The children wailed. The guards leveled burp guns by flashlight and played the fiendish game for four hours before they marched the captives away.

Cpl. James E. Wilson, 22, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Pfc. Richard S. Sydnar, 22, Fayetteville, W. Va., told the story.

GMC POWERS the PARADE of PROGRESS

WHEN you visit the General Motors "Parade of Progress," make a special point of inspecting one of its most arresting features—the huge Futurliners that house and haul the exhibits. Each is on a GMC chassis.

That high cab, for example, that looks like the pilot's cabin of an air liner, is air-conditioned.

Its semi-circular windshield gives the driver a wider view than any other road vehicle.

Then see the dual front wheels, mounted on differential hubs which permit one wheel to turn independently of the other. They're essential to the unique weight distribution that places the load equally on all wheels, rather than putting most of it on the rear ones.

Power steering enables the drivers to swing these highway giants around as easily as you'd turn a passenger car. And Truck Hydra-Matic Drive does all gearshifting—automatically.

Under each driver's compartment is a power plant that in itself is an example of truck engineering progress. It's the famous GMC "302" engine that develops a walloping 145 h.p., yet weighs as much as 500 pounds less than comparable engines. And it gets its record 7.2 to 1 compression from economical regular gas!

This engine, in Army trucks, can hustle a 5-ton load up a 60% grade. It's serving our forces in Korea—as well as many a thriving trucking operation on home highways.

So see the GMC-built Futurliners when you visit the "Parade of Progress." Then come to our showrooms and see the advanced trucks GMC makes for every hauling need—including YOURS.

Your key to greater hauling profits

Schools Expect High Enrollment

One-Fourth Population to Study in U. S. During Next 12 Months

LANSING (UP) — Nearly one-fourth of the nation's 160,000,000 men, women and children will be attending school during the next year, Dr. Lee M. Thurston said today.

Thurston, who served two terms as Michigan's superintendent of public instruction and recently was named U. S. commissioner of education, said an estimated 36,949,700 children and adults will attend school during the next 12 months.

"That's 23.1 per cent of the nation's entire population," Thurston said. "I think it's quite remarkable."

Last year, 34,993,000 persons attended schools of all types.

Thurston was in Lansing to attend an educational conference at Michigan State College.

He said largest enrollment will be in elementary schools which have an estimated 26,931,300 students compared to 25,348,700 last year. High school enrollment ranks second with 7,302,400 students expected to enroll this year compared to 7,028,400 during the 1952-53 school year.

Universities and colleges will have about 2,500,000 students, an increase of 100,000 over last year, while other schools, including commercial and nurse training schools not affiliated with colleges and universities, will have 216,000 students.

Thurston said by 1960, the nation's schools will have 10,000,000 more pupils than they have today.

Thurston said about 50,000 new classrooms, a record, will be built this year but that construction of schools in the U. S. still "is not keeping pace with classroom needs."

"This fall the United States will be short about 345,000 public elementary and high school class rooms and three out of every five classrooms will be overcrowded," he said. The commissioner said the nation's schools could use 72,000 additional teachers this fall.

3-Minute Drunk Cure

LONDON (INS)—A London hospital is experimenting with a "three-minute cure" for drunkenness, the antidote, administerd by injection, is reportedly obtained from yeast. The "cure" was accidentally discovered during research into a remedy for sickness that sometimes follows X-ray treatment.

Don't Help at Accidents

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Mark Painter, 44, of nearby Okolona, will probably think twice before he tries to help an out-of-state motorist at an accident scene.

Painter was fined $10 for being a nuisance at the scene of an auto crash. He told the judge he noticed one of the cars involved was from Illinois and butted in to help the stranger.

LADY LEGIONNAIRE — Mrs. Harold Soule Burdett, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will be the new president of the American Legion Ladies Auxiliary when the veterans' group meets in St. Louis, Mo., on Sept. 3. Mrs. Burdett, an Army nurse, succeeds Mrs. Rae Ashton, of Vernal, Utah.

FBI Reports Jump in Fraud Attempts

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today there was an alarming increase last year in attempted frauds against the government.

His agents, he said, had been called upon to investigate 1,620 such cases during the 12 months ending June 30. Hoover reported that prosecutions resulting from these inquiries had resulted in 202 convictions, up 96 from the previous fiscal year.

He said the savings and recoveries resulting from the investigations amounted to about $3,243,000 during the past year, an increase of almost 50 per cent from the previous 12 months.

Red PWs Shed Clothes; Greet Women in Caps

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Two attractive Polish women showed up today with a delegation of Polish and Cech officers to welcome returning North Koreans.

Many of the Communist prisoners had discarded their clothes on the way to the exchange point in a last defiant gesture.

By the time they sighted the Polish women—both interpreters—they had little to cover themselves with except their caps.

In 1836, to encourage temperance among seamen of the Coast Guard revenue cutters, the spirit ration was discontinued and a three-cent monthly allowance substituted.

Elderly Couple Claim Color TV on Old-Style Set

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — This will be a revelation to the Federal Communications Commission and, no doubt, quite a few oculists: A couple here claim they've been seeing color television on their black-and-white set for the last three years.

A TV technician who services their set says it's an optical illusion; none of their friends see anything but black and white on the set. But Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Billinger—he's 78, she 72—insist they see a colored picture.

"We have lived in three locations and we've changed our eye glasses," says Billinger, a retired Carmel, Calif., resort owner. And they're not rose colored either, he adds.

Policeman Wins Wife as Result of Flat Feet

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Police officer Peter Ellena, 23, got flat feet after two days walking a beat. But it had its compensations.

He and the chiropodist's nurse, Gail Ledwidge, 19, announced yesterday they'll be married Oct. 11. They first met when he limped in to get aid for his fallen arches.

Albuquerque Depot Bricks Modernized

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — The old brick walk in front of the Santa Fe railway depot—path of presidents, kings, queens, movie stars for the past half century—is being scuttled by progress.

Santa Fe officials said the bricks will be torn up to make way for a smooth concrete platform.

Among the famous who have tread the bricks are:

Begin Training Grants for Korean Teachers

Chemist Tires of Life, Mixes Up Deadly Gas

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A city chemist sealed himself in a small cabinet, police reported, and then mixed together chemicals that produced carbon monoxide.

The body of Eugene M. Diskant, 31, was found yesterday in his laboratory in the Department of Water and Power, where he apparently had gone Sunday night. Police said he wrote a long letter to his employer saying he was a "misfit" and tired of the "daily struggle leading to nowhere."

West Germany Plans Atlantic Service Again

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany announced plans today to resume transatlantic passenger ship service for the first time since 1939.

The Federal Transport Ministry said "successful conclusion" of negotiations by German shipping firms to operate the 16,777-ton liner Italia and the 19,105-ton Gripsholm is expected shortly. They would be used to start service from Hamburg and Bremerhaven to North America.

Moves to Halt Typhoid

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The Health Department ordered typhoid inoculations today for all persons in "Old Havana," center of much of the city's business and financial life, following the sudden illness of 85 persons in the quarter.

PROGRESSIVE PILGRIM—Egypt's Premier Mohammed Naguib wears centuries-old garb as he steps from a modern limousine in Cairo, to begin the customary pilgrimmage to Mecca and Medina, holy cities of Mohammedanism.

Scientist Shifted to Protect Self

British Fear Pressure Over Family in Russia May Be Used

LONDON (AP) — The British government has transferred one of its atomic scientists, whose Russian mother and British father live in the Soviet Union, from his post at Britain's chief atomic research laboratory.

A government announcement said the scientists, Russian-born Dr. Boris Davison, 42, has been given a year's leave of absence with pay from the highly secret Harwell nuclear fission laboratory. He will spend the year doing research at Birmingham University.

British newspapers said his post was changed because the Cabinet feared Soviet agents might try to blackmail him with threats against his parents in Russia.

The Daily Express said the Cabinet feared "if Dr. Davison were kept in his job, extreme anti-Communists in America might use the fact as 'proof' that British security is bad. That might ruin negotiations to widen the interchange of atomic secrets with Britain."

Dog Guards Mistress Dead for Four Days

That's the way neighbors, worried because she hadn't answered her telephone in four days, found the body of Mrs. Mildred J. Chappell, a 55-year-old widow, in her farm home near here.

An autopsy showed Mrs. Chappell had died of a heart ailment.

Indications were that the dog, a spaniel who growled before allowing Mrs. Chappell's friends to enter the house, had not eaten since he began the vigil, possibly four days before.

Scientists now know there are nearly 1,300 different kinds of atoms. In the past century, it was believed each element was a unit and existed in only one form.

Everybody Visits Capital Last 2 Weeks in August

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—What's this? Only 35 million grownup Americans have been to Washington?

That's what the latest Gallup Poll says. The number seems incredibly small to anybody who lives here all year round. Most of us would guess there must be 35 million a day.

Don't get us wrong—we love tourists. We take it as a personal compliment when they admire the Jefferson Memorial or the White House aglow with yellow lights in the summer twilight.

Our hotelkeepers and restaurant proprietors love tourists too. And there's a feeling the constant presence of peering strangers has a good influence on people in government—reminds them the United States is made up of flesh-and-blood Americans, not just zigzags on somebody's statistical charts.

But these days—in these last two weeks in August, when everybody and his brother-in-law is on vacation—is it possible there is a living American who doesn't come to Washington?

1. Honeymooners. You see them everywhere, strolling hand in hand. It is doubtful if they see you, however. From the sightseeing standpoint, they'd be as well off at a cabin in the woods.

2. High school kids. They come in the spring, mostly, but they're here in force right now too. Crammed into buses, convoyed by harassed teachers, they mostly (A) buy funny hats for souvenirs and (B) pair off in pre-honeymoon couples. Some learn a thing or two about the government.

3. Families. The late Robert Benchley said there are two ways to travel—first class and with children. There is one thing to be said in favor of seeing Washington with a couple of toddlers in tow—you get to know every restroom in every public building.

4. The real, eyes-open sightseer. Sometimes these are schoolteachers on their own, released somehow from their clamoring packs of pupils. More often they're middle-aged couples, contentedly wandering, clicking away judiciously with a camera they couldn't afford until daughter got married and junior finished college. Actually, they're on a second honeymoon though they'd blush if you mentioned it.

Only 35 million of them? It seems incredible. There must have been that many today alone—when I tried to get into the cafeteria around the corner on Pennsylvania avenue for lunch.

Chinese Reds Seek Aid of Hong Kong Relatives

HONG KONG (AP)—Press reports say the Chinese Communists have issued an increasing number of round-trip tickets to women crossing into Hong Kong from Red China to demand money from their relatives here.

The independent Kung Sheung Daily News estimated 300 women and children, mainly from the towns of Toishan and Sunwui in Kwantung province made up most of the recent influx.

Historian Blasts Popular Myth of Maine Town

SPRUCE HEAD, Me. (UP) — The official historian of this hamlet did some research and exploded Spruce Head's most popular myth.

George Snow was skeptical of the story that the reason Spruce Head was part of the distant town of St. George instead of nieghboring South Thomaston was a feud between two sea captains over a woman a century ago.

The legend had it that the loser pulled his property, now called Spruce Head, from South Thomaston because he didn't want to live in the same town with his successful rival.

"Not so," said Snow. "Never has a myth been so wrong."

What really happened, he added, was this:

The Spruce Head strip was always part of St. George, but—the owner of extensive neighboring lands grew angry during the Civil War because St. George was sympathetic to the South.

Red China Populace Resists Bankers' Tactics

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China's banking system has run into trouble. The masses are resisting the system and the banking cadres are overworked. Word of this comes from mainland papers reaching Hong Kong.

The Tientsin Ta Kung Pao said there was much criticism of handling farm credits. While collecting debts for banks, 57 cadres of the bank of Chiahsing in Chekiang Province were found repeated guilty of beating up people. In Anhwei Province, bank cadres bound and imprisoned all peasants unable to pay their debts.

I WAS DOOMED FOR A WHEEL CHAIR BEFORE DISCOVERING O-JIB-WA

Arthritis caused my knees to swell like balloons. Thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I am entirely better now, says Mrs. Jennie Gates, 2376 N. Cedar, Holt, Michigan.

"I am most happy to tell others of what O-JIB-WA BITTERS has done for me. I was told that nothing would ever help my arthritis and that I was doomed for a wheel chair for the rest of my life. I am entirely better now and walking perfectly again thanks to O-JIB-WA. I suffered from arthritis and sciatica for over 10 years, and had it mostly in my hips, legs and knees. Most of the time my knees were swelled like balloons and so big that you couldn't tell I had any. The only way I could move around at all was to grasp a chair or by sheer strength of my arms on a cane or crutch. I tried everything I ever heard of without success, but was determined not to give up, even though at times it was all I could do to drag my legs. Many times the pain was so bad that I actually fell down. My ankles were so sore I couldn't stand on my feet, and it was a task just to get out of a chair. My husband read about O-JIB-WA BITTERS in our paper and told me he would get a bottle for me to try. I took the medicine about a month before I could see any benefit, but from then on, I continually improved, and now I am all better. It's wonderful to be free of pain and stiffness again, especially after suffering for so long. I can't find words to express my gratitude for what O-JIB-WA has done for me. I want to boost it to the highest extent. I have told many people about O-JIB-WA BITTERS and know that it has helped them. My druggist started taking O-JIB-WA because of what it has done for me, and now he personally recommends O-JIB-WA BITTERS to his other customers."

Beet Pulp Used as Feed

CROOKSTON, Minn (AP) — Dried sugar beet pulp can be used successfully to replace two-thirds of the grain ration for fattening beef cattle. H. D. French, animal husbandman at the Nothwest Experiment Station, said the pulp is a palatable feed that tends to spur the animals' appetites.

Marine, Just From Korea, Sees Truce as Mistake

By RELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Capt. Bem Price, of the U. S. Marines, walked into the office the other day, fresh from Korea.

Naturally, I asked, "What do your guys think of the armistice?"

"Not much," said Bem. "They're not satisfied to have it end this way."

He went on to say that the war could have been carried to a complete military decision—in our favor.

Coming from a Marine, of course, any other report would have been a surprise. But there is more to it than the insignia on his cap.

Price had the unusual experience of serving in Korea twice, in two totally different roles.

On his first hitch, he was a correspondent. He came over early in that hot summer of 1950, covered the retreat and then the siege on the line laid down by Gen. Walker. After the North Koreans collapsed, and the war disintegrated into pursuit and mop-up, Bem came home.

He had been in the Marines in the second World War, however. So, a year or so ago, Uncle Sam called him and presently he was on his way back out to the old stamping ground, this time in uniform.

In short, he has seen the war from more different angles than most of us ever could.

"What we should have done," he went on, "is smash up the Chinese defenses, and then destroy their armies in Korea."

The Chinese have boasted of their depth-defenses, presumbly a system of bunkers, trenches and emplacements going back four or five miles, solidly.

"We didn't think much of the depth defenses," he said. "Every time we punched through the outer crust, they would react quickly and pretty well. But it didn't look to us as though they had the means of moving troops and material around quickly enough to seal off a real breakthrough."

This coincides pretty well with the opinion of Gen. James A. Van Fleet. When he came back, some months ago, he told this reporter, "The Chinese are nothing once you get 'em moving backward."

"Then why didn't we open a real offensive?" I asked Bem.

"I don't know," he said. "Nobody could make sense out of it. We would take one of their positions, and then pull back — on order."

He said the Marine officers reasoned that they were losing more men in the stationary war that finally developed than would have been lost in an all-out push.

"Which officers," I asked. "The big brass?"

"All of them," he said. "Any second lieutenant would tell you we should have been pushing instead of sitting there."

So if you drive up to the Yalu River again, then what? It would still be necessary to keep the whole army more or less intact, guarding the long border, even though the fighting had stopped.

Bem conceded that. But he said, "You're going to have to keep most of the army ready anyway. And if we're going to stop, the river is the spot. Not down where we are.

"In the first place, the problem of unifying Korea would then be solved automatically. In the second, it would be a lot better to bargain with the Chinese on their own border than down at the 38th parallel."

These ideas are not confined to the Marine Corps. A good many regular Army officers feel the same way.

History, alone, will show whether signing the armistice at this time was the right course to take.

Hobby Helps Blind

FARMINGTON, Me. (UP) — It took Mrs. Florence Fogg, 69, three months to copy a dictioinary, but she doesn't feel that it was a waste of time. Mrs. Fogg had decided too many hobbies are merely self-serving, so she bought a Braille typewriter and transcribed books for the blind.

Happy Worker Means Fewer Truck Accidents

CHICAGO (UP) — A national safety director says that if companies want to cut their truck accident rate they should teach the bosses to be kinder to employes.

P. L. Hand, safety director for a bakery automotive vehicle fleet, said the safest commercial driver is the one who is "happy with his job and his boss."

"Human attitudes, rather than mechanical defects or street and highway conditions are responsible for most accidents," he added.

Hand said he based his conclusions on a recent tour of cities in 13 states.

FATHERS OF FLIGHT—The Wright Brothers— By Wade Jones and Ralph Lane

Breweries Dismiss Nonpaying Employes

DETROIT (AP)—Agreement by five major Detroit breweries to discharge CIO employes delinquent in their union dues has averted a threatened strike, officers of the CIO Brewery Workers said today.

The walkout threat was an outgrowth of a long dispute among the three brewery workers locals representing employes of the five firms.

Eugene J. McCann, trustee for one of the locals, said about 20 per cent of the 500 members of Local 3 had failed to pay their dues. McCann said three years ago the local tried to withdraw from the union, protesting a long-term agreement with the breweries.

The dispute was settled in circuit court.

McCann said the strike threat was withdrawn because the breweries agreed to a request from the joint board of the three locals that delinquent members be discharged by Sept. 1. About 3,600 workers belong to the locals.

The discharge request, the union officer added, "is in accordance with the union's contract with the breweries and all perfectly legal under the Taft-Hartley Act."

Saginaw Begins Buying Housing Project Land

SAGINAW (UP)—Housing Director Robert J. Bliss said today Saginaw has purchased 19 of the 50 land parcels needed for a 236-unit public housing project approved in Washington.

He said purchase of the other 31 parcels involved condemnation proceedings and estimated it would be months before construction is started on the $2,762,000 project.

Communist Hate-Refrain Now Harping on Texas

It's rapidly overtaking the old Red whipping boy—"gangster Chicago."

Kids in Communist-ruled East Germany are persecuted and even ostracized if they wear Texas shirts and cowboy hats. Anything plaid and loud, by the way, is a Texas shirt.

"Civilized World Revolts Against Wild West Films," headlines the Communist-edited National Zeitung. "Europe Boycotts Hollywood's Shameful Product."

The article went on to say that many innocent kids the world over had been misled down the path of crime through "Texas films." It said not a word about how right and justice always triumph and how true love invariably wins the day in Western movies.

The real tipoff on this Communist gripe is that they don't dare show a Hollywood Western for the East German public. If they did, they'd probably have a stampede like the rush for free American food parcels in Berlin.

One of the most ridiculous—yet tragic—things is the Communist campaign against the "Texas shirt"—popularized by Americans and exported here through U. S. occupation civilians. German clothing manufacturers have copied the shirts, along with blue jeans, and any German kid loves them as much as American teenagers.

The "Texas shirt" is a particular target of Die Junge Welt (Young World), newspaper of the Communist Free German Youth (FDJ). This paper wants young Germans to be "just like our Soviet brothers—good activists, good collectivists, good tractorists."

5 French Red Leaders Freed Pending Trial

PARIS (AP) — A grand jury has temporarily freed five French Communist leaders arrested 10 months ago on charges of plotting against the security of the state. The jury says their continued stay in jail is not essential to the investigation of their cases, which have not yet come to trial.

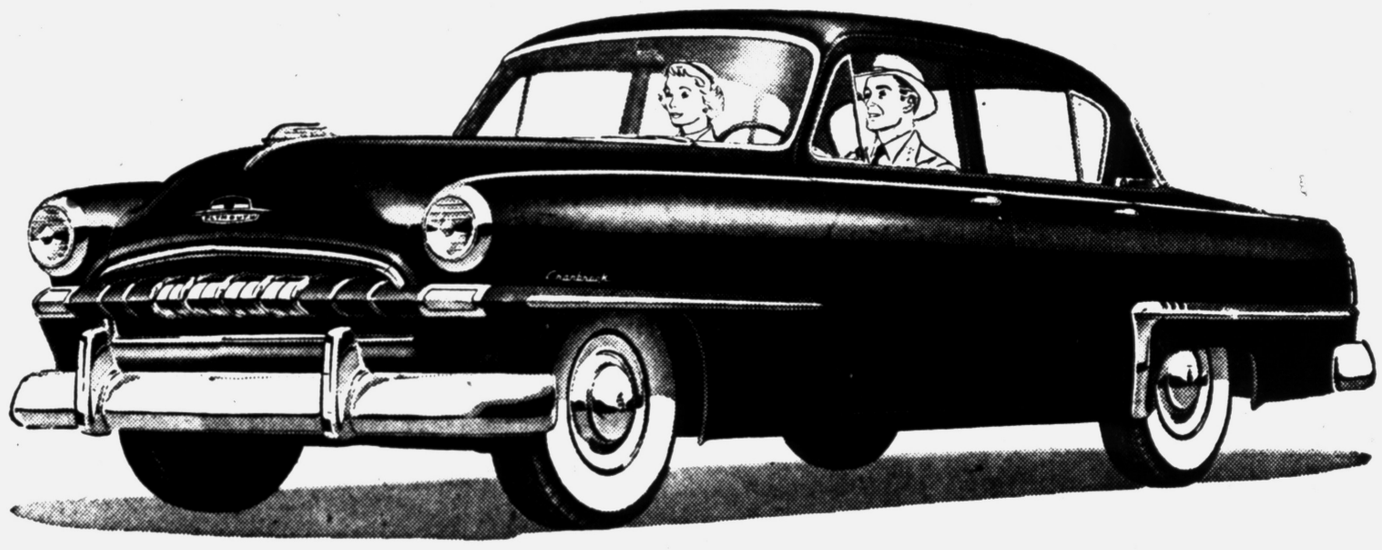
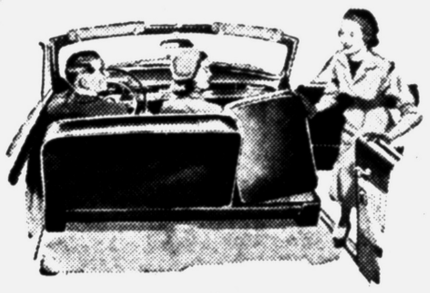
All-new styling and balanced designing make the new '53 Plymouth a more beautiful car, and a more spacious car! Inside, there's more head room, more hip room, more leg room—in all, 12 more cubic feet of space for passengers and luggage!

NEW '53 PLYMOUTH



easy to handle!

Plymouth's new HY-DRIVE lets you drive all day without shifting. Hy-Drive, the newest, smoothest, least expensive no-shift drive in the low-price field, gives you instant acceleration with whisper quietness. And you'll be amazed at the new Plymouth's ease of steering and parking!



easy to get in!

The new front seat in two-door models is divided ⅓-⅔—not in the middle. Rear seat passengers don't have to move a large, heavy seat section to get in and out, and they can enter and leave the rear compartment without disturbing passengers in the front seat.

and wait till you feel that truly balanced ride!

It's easy to see why so many motorists say the new '53 Plymouth is the finest low-price car ever built! Why not visit your nearest Plymouth dealer soon, and let him show you all the new value features in this great new Plymouth? Your dealer will be happy to arrange a demonstration for you.

Flint Inviting Texas Mayor to See Big Job

FLINT (UP)—The mayor of Waco, Tex., whose city was struck by a tornado in May, was invited to a "building bee" of 7,000 volunteers this weekend to rebuild in two days what a twister took only minutes to destroy June 8.

Knowing the Texan reputation for "doing things in a big way," Mayor Donald W. Riegle of Flint invited Waco's mayor "to see how we do things in Flint."

Riegle said the "bee" as planned will be the largest ever held in this country.

Through churches, business and civic organizations, labor unions and contractors, the city is recruiting 7,000 volunteer workers to help rebuild 186 homes Saturday and Sunday for owners who have asked help. More than 300 homes were destroyed and 119 killed in the storm which hit suburban Beecher community.

Skilled workmen will direct the volunteers, who are being asked to bring their own hammers and saws.

All materials are being purchased with money from the Flint tornado disaster fund and government loans.

Some homes will be started from "scratch," according to Mayor Riegle. Others already started will be completed, and those damaged will be repaired.

Easy Payment?

WILLIMANTIC, Conn. (UP) — Police trying to make the payment of parking tickets less painful, have come up with a new-type ticket that's actually an envelope. All the violator has to do is put a stamp on the self-addressed envelope and drop it in the mailbox — with the $1 fine, of course.

Bradley Urges Speedup in Weapon Development

WASHINGTON (UP) — Gen. Omar N. Bradley says America's civilian and military leaders soon must make decisions in the battle of science with Russia that will affect "our very survival as a nation."

New weapons are so important, he declared, that they "are beginning to shake the present division of functions between the Army, Navy and Air Force."

He urged fuller use of scientific advances through giving scientists a larger share in strategic planning, including advice to the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Bradley's views — in brief, that the country's best protection lies in boosting its scientific and technological lead over the Soviets — were carried in an article in the issue of the Saturday Evening Post out today.

The 60-year-old career soldier retired Aug. 13 as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Now he is board chairman of Bulova Research and Development, Inc., where he expects to use his knowledge to see that military problems needing scientific and research solutions are passed along to the scientists.

"Soviet technical progress, like ours, is moving at an ever faster tempo," Bradley wrote. "As the pace gets hotter, the choices of what we must do become harder.

"Some of these choices, touching the question of our very survival as a nation, now loom close ahead of our civilian and military leaders."

Bradley listed among urgent problems facing U. S. leaders:

1. Giving more atomic information to U. S. Allies, because at present "we can give our most trusted Allied friends only meager information about weapons on which their survival as well as ours may depend."

2. Giving the American people more information on atomic developments so they may at least "form sound judgments on the great national decisions ahead."

3. Assigning Navy aircraft carriers to help bomb deep behind enemy lines. This "strategic bombing" role traditionally has been jealously guarded by the Air Force as its own.

4. Getting full cooperation between the Army, Navy and Air Force in developing guided missiles — "competition and jealousy among the services have become a drag on the application of the missiles to our strategy."

5. Working out with Canada a more effective all-continent defense command, to include parts of the armies and navies of both countries as well as their air forces.

Bradley suggested in this connection a personal conference between President Eisenhower and Canada's Prime Minister St. Laurent.

"The issues are too large, the time too pressing, for us to let this drift along in routine negotiation," he said.

There are 223 mountains 5,000 feet high or over in western North Carolina.

Ad-libbed for McNeill; Tillstrom Gives Her High Praise

NEW YORK — The name of Fran Allison has become so synonymous with those of her two puppet chums, Kukla and Ollie, that wherever she goes people expect to see them with her.

Born in LaPorte City, Iowa, Fran at first decided she wanted to sing professionally, and while studying education at Coe College in Cedar Rapids, she was active in the glee club.

However, when she graduated from college, Fran settled on a schoolteacher's career and taught for four years.

Then one day she went around to the radio station at Waterloo, Ia., and became a singer. One day a waggish announcer interrupted a news program as she entered the studio to remark: "Why here comes Aunt Fanny! Step up to the microphone and speak to the folks!"

Quite at ease, Fran stepped up and did just that. For five minutes she chattered away imitating a small-town gossip. The listeners loved it, and she became the popular impersonator of a rural busybody.

She soon became a regular on Don McNeill's "Breakfast Club" program as "Aunt Fanny."

It was about this time that tragedy entered the life of Fran Allison. Having just gotten started in her career, Fran was involved in an almost fatal auto accident while driving to Des Moines with a friend.

The next thing she knew she was at the hospital and through the haziness of her semi-conscious mind heard the doctor say, "Call her mother . . . nothing much we can do."

As the priest arrived to give the last sacraments, Fran remembered her mother, her faith which had given the family courage so many times in the past, and it gave her strength — strength which brought her through this crisis, although the accident left her with scars and severe headaches.

She went on the air with only a couple days notice but soon became a permanent and integral part of the team and the show's title was changed to "Kukla, Fran and Ollie."

Burr Tillstrom, creator of the program, says "Fran is one of the most sincere, heartwarming persons in the entertainment world. Her great understanding and love for people of all ages shows through her work with Kukla and Ollie and inspire everyone connected with the show.

Convict, Free After 52 Years, Is Happy Man

THOMASTON, Maine (AP) — Edward Graffam, 77, for 52 years a Maine State Prison inmate, looked forward today to "a quiet, peaceful life."

Graffam, the prison's oldest inmate, was freed yesterday under a new state law permitting parole for lifers who have served at least 30 years.

Convicted of murder during a robbery—a crime he still denies committing—Graffam will work as a cook for two prison guards who maintain bachelor quarters.

"I've hoped and prayed for this day a great many years," he said.

Headless Body Not Clem Graver

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—Police have ruled out the possibility that a headless body washed up on the Lake Michigan shore might be that of Clem Graver, missing Illinois legislator.

The decomposed body was washed up Monday. The head had been cut off.

Lt. John Walsh of the Chicago homicide squad said after examination yesterday that he was certain the body was not that of Graver. The 53-year-old Chicago legislator has been missing since his abduction from his home on July 11.

Deputy Coroner Peter Stecy said the body had been in the water at least six weeks.

95 Degrees in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's millions are sweltering in a late August heat wave. It was 95.2 degrees yesterday and a top of 95 was expected again today.

Three More Die as Quakes Hit Greek Islands

ARGOSTOLION, Greece (AP)—A Greek earthquake expert warned the devasted Ionian islands today they may get more "catastrophic" quakes — but probably not for 40 years.

The prediction was made by seismology professor Angelo Galanopoulos, who is touring the stricken islands of Kefallinia, Ithaca and Zakinthos, where an estimated 130,000 made homeless in quakes two weeks ago.

Shortly before the professor made his observation, the islands were rocked by new tremors, the worst since the first ones. Walls of partly destroyed buildings tumbled, killing three Italian demolition workers.

The King himself drove his wife by jeep yesterday through several destroyed villages. Weeping women rushed to kiss the hands of the monarchs.

New Hampshire sometimes is spoken of as the "Mother of Rivers" by geographers. Five of the major streams in New England originate in its granite hills.

Try for Phone Settlement Before Strike Hits Nation

NEW YORK (AP)—Company and union officials try again today, amid reports of a threatened nationwide walkout, to resolve a labor dispute involving 22,000 long-lines telephone workers.

The wage-contract dispute already has led to scattered walkouts. Other thousands of telephone workers for two Bell System afmany days. The two, the Indiana and Southwestern Bell telephone companies, yesterday reported new cases of cables bing cut or bullets shot into them.

Officials of the Long Lines Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA) met here esterday and then recessed overnight. There was no report of any progress in the talks.

Published reports last night said anationwide walkout of the long-lines workers would occur about noon today.

However, key CWA officials were not available for comment; and several other union sources said they were not aware of any strike plan.

John Lotz, president of the New York City Local 1150, representing about one third of the nation's long-lines workers, said that no strike hadbeen authorized by the union. But he added:

". . . There is a very definite threat of a walkout. The members are impatient with the stalling tactics of the management, and don't know if we can hold them."

* * *

Lotz said a long-lines walkout could idle all the 300,000 CWA members across the nation. He explained that local telephone workers would be expected to respect long-lines workers' picket lines at exchanges.

Rhee Meeting Delayed

SEOUL (AP) — Heavy rains prevented President Syngman Rhee from flying here today from his summer retreat at Chinhae to meet Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former 8th Army commander. Van Fleet is with the American-Korean Foundation mission to Korea.

The word "Eskimo" means fish-eater and was applied as a term of derision by the Algonquin Indians in speaking of natives of Southern Labrador.

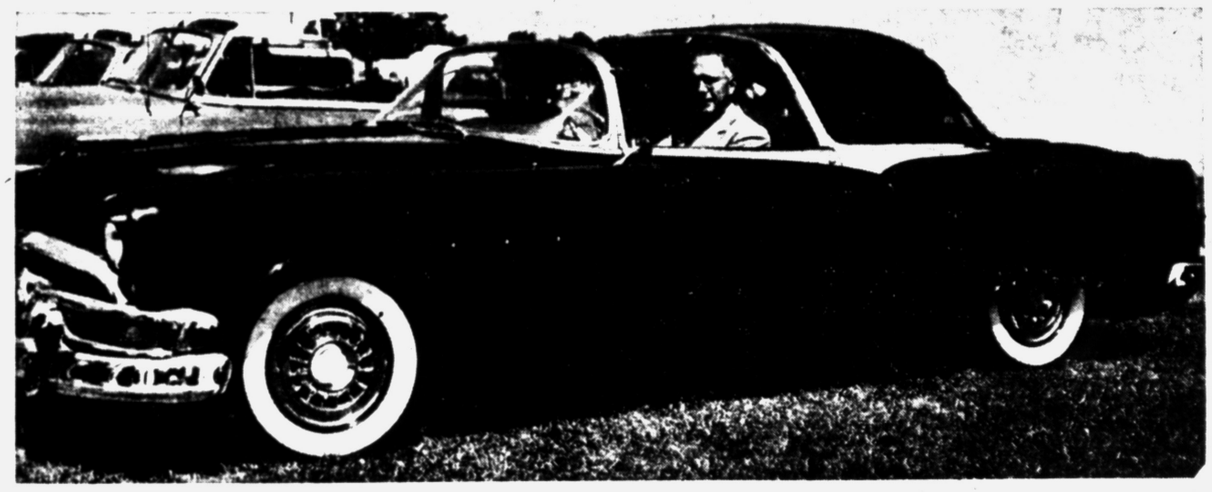
Old, New GM Models Join in City's Progress Parade



Pontiac Press Photos

GM SHOW ON WHEELS—Towering trucks carrying equipment for General Motors Parade of Progress were the giants of Tuesday's GM parade arrival in Pontiac. Equipment is being set up at Washington Junior High School grounds for a four-day series of shows, opening to the public Thursday at 2 p. m.

"DREAM CAR"—Robert M. Critchfield, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division and vice president of General Motors Corporation, takes the wheel of Pontiac's new experimental car, "La Parisienne." The "car of the future" stood out in sharp contrast against vintage autos and vehicles from an earlier manufacturing era as GM's Parade of Progress entered Pontiac yesterday noon.

Pontiac Reports 3 Polio Cases

Oakland County's Total Stands at 93, According to Health Department

Three new cases of polio in Pontiac and 12 in other county areas last week brought this year's county total to 93 cases, weekly health reports showed today.

Oakland County Health Department polio listings for last week, released by Dr. John D. Monroe, director, show a slight decrease. Thirteen cases were reported the preceding week in county areas other than Pontiac.

Two of last week's new polio cases were reported in Berkley, one in Clawson, three in Royal Oak, one in Farmington, one in Bloomfield Township and four in Waterford Township.

Only scattered cases of most other diseases were listed on the county department's report which follows in full:

	Past Week	Week Ending Aug. 15, '53	Aug. 23, '52
Chicken pox	0	8	0
Measles	2	7	5
Poliomyelitis	12	13	18
Tuberculosis (all forms)	1	8	2
Whooping cough	5	3	1
Mumps	2	9	6
Rubella	0	4	4
Hepatitis	4	0	0
Diarrhea	5	3	0

Only scattered cases of most communicable diseases were shown on Pontiac City Health Department's report for last week, also released by Dr. Monroe.

Three new cases of polio and one of Rubella (German measles) were listed. No new cases of chicken pox, mumps, pneumonia or measles are shown in the listings which read as follows:

	Past Week	Week Ending Aug. 15, '53	Aug. 23, '52
Chicken pox	0	1	0
Gonorrhea	15	18	2
Measles		0	4
Mumps	0	0	2
Poliomyelitis	3	3	1
Rubella	1	1	0
Syphilis	5	2	1
Tuberculosis	0	0	1

GMC Dealers Join Program to Promote Safety

About 3,000 GMC Truck dealers across the nation are participating in a program to promote highway safety and forest conservation, it was announced today by R. C. Woodhouse, general sales manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Wall and window displays have gone up in GMC Truck dealerships to focus attention upon the theme, "At Work or Play, Make Safety a Habit," Woodhouse said.

"Smokey," the black bear symbol of the nationwide forest fire prevention campaign, is used in the large poster display to urge conservation of our forests.

Other posters with suitable symbols get across to drivers of trucks and passenger cars what precautions they must take in the interest of safety.

The project is sponsored by the GMC Truck and Coach Division through its dealers.

Red Czech Government Hits Factory Accidents

VIENNA (UP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist regime says an increasing number of Czech workers are being injured or killed in factory accidents.

Calling for higher safety standards, Rude Pravo, the Czech government newspaper complained that "Accidents were caused not only by technical failures — for which in many cases the workers are responsible — but also by carelessness, since the workers are not aware of the dangers involved. The factory managements ignored and neglected the necessary safety precautions."

Car-Train Crash Kills One

OLD OAKLAND—A relic in good running order for the General Motors Parade of Progress trek through Pontiac Tuesday noon was a 1909 model Oakland, product of the old Oakland Motor Car Co. Driver is Kenneth Poole, 138 Mark St., general foreman of Pontiac Motor Division's experimental garage.

OLD AND NEW—Past and future merged as General Motors' Parade of Progress rolled down Saginaw street Tuesday noon. In the lead are a 1909 Oakland; a 1926 Pontiac, Pontiac Motor Division's first car; "La Parisienne," Pontiac's experimental "car of the future"; a World War I ambulance built by General Motors Truck Co., and a 1923 model bus built by Yellow Cab Manufacturing Co.

Pontiac City Affairs:

Parking Lot Condemnation Postponed Pending Re-Description of Property

Pontiac City Commission Tuesday night reconsidered and tabled an Aug. 18 resolution authorizing condemnation proceedings to acquire property at 11-49 Parke St. for public parking purposes.

Action followed a request from City Attorney William A. Ewart that the matter be tabled pending submission of a substitute resolution amending the description of property to be acquired.

The amended resolution is expected to come before the commission again Sept. 1.

Ewart was instructed to study possible ways of recording condemnation notices with the Oakland County Register of Deeds whenever the city takes condemnation action against any property.

The commission accepted engineer's estimates and set public hearings for Sept. 1 on construction of combined sewer in the north and south side of Walton boulevard from New York street to Stanley avenue, and in Stanley from Walton to Brooklyn avenue and in Chicago avenue from Stanley to Carlisle avenue.

Public hearings were held and confirmation deferred on special assessment rolls for constructing:

Curb and gutter on Monterey boulevard from Mt. Clemens to Omar;

Commissioners declared public necessity for curb, gutter, drainage and two-inch blacktop pavement on South Edith street from the Airline Railway to East Wilson avenue.

A public hearing was held on intention to construct and a special assessment roll authorized for public hearing Sept. 1 for curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Raeburn street from East boulevard to the Airline Railway.

A public hearing was held and action deferred one week on straight curb, curb and gutter and related work on Deland court from Oakland Avenue to Murray Street.

Commissioners received special assessment rolls for two-inch bituminous recapping, curb and gutter repairs, raising manholes and gate valves and related work on South Saginaw street from Whittemore street to South boulevard.

A request from Tel-Huron Shopping Center for termination of an escrow agreement and recording of deeds was referred to the city manager. Also referred to him and the city attorney was a petition from Monterey Subdivision residents asking that the zoning ordinance be enforced against reported digging of fill dirt in a residential area.

A $500 bid from Steve Secora for purchase of the west half of lot 609 of Ferry Farm Addition was rejected by the commission.

Referred to the City Plan Commission was a communication from Marion W. Russell regarding the use of outlot 7 of assessor's plat 29 for parking back of 39 Clark St.

Public necessity was declared and preparation of estimates authorized for storm drain, trunk and laterals in:

Women's Franchise Hailed by President

WASHINGTON (UP) — Today is the 33rd anniversary of the ratification of the constitutional amendment giving U.S. women the right to vote, and the National Women's Party planned an observance at the capitol.

The party made public yesterday a telegram from President Eisenhower, taking note of the occasion and saying:

"The long list of women who today hold high public office is itself convincing evidence of the sense and wisdom of the men who, one third of a century ago, gave to their daughters, their wives and their sisters the right fully to share the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship."

Guardsmen Undergo Combat Conditions

GRAYLING (AP) — Michigan National Guardsmen were operating under combat conditions today during a 24-hour tactical problem that highlights the annual two-week summer encampment.

The field problem, designed to coordinate infantry, signal, ordnance, engineer and quartermaster operations, was scheduled to end tonight.

After the exercise is completed, troops are to return to Camp Grayling for range firing and instruction on general military problems until the encampment ends Saturday.

Maj. Gen. Ralph Loveland, commanding officer of the 46th division, said the year's field problem was being conducted at battalion and company levels rather than on the divisional level.

More Leisure Has Made Males Clothes Conscious

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Men always razz women on how much time they spend fretting about their clothes, but today the truth came out.

We men have become clothes conscious too.

We now spend far more time than ever have fussing over the way we dress — and the trend is growing steadily.

This well-tailored word comes from Louis Rothschild, executive director of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, a man obviously happy over the way the trade winds are blowing.

Rothschild says one has but to look at the popular reading material to know this is true.

Some 600 newspapers now run regular articles on men's wear, almost 100 papers have put out special men's wear sections, some metropolitan papers employ men's fashion editors and 20 national magazines habitually discuss men's clothes.

The magazines alone give a clue to what has happened. Rothschild says 10 years ago only two paid much attention to men's wear.

What has brought this about?

Rothschild thinks the basic reason is that man now has enough leisure time to think about his clothes.

In the days when he had to work a 10 or 12 hour day, he had no reason to think about clothes since one pair of overalls looks pretty much like every other pair of overalls.

It will shock what remains of the celluloid collar trade to learn that last year, for the first time, more sports shirts were sold than regular dress shirts. More slacks were sold and fewer suits.

"It was," Rothschild said, "a terrific pants year."

$500,000 in Bank Box

DETROIT (AP) — A total of $500,000 in cash and securities were found Tuesday in the safe deposit box of Thomas F. Browne, pioneer greenhouse man who died Aug. 13 at the age of 84. Browne's greenhouse system was at one time the most extensive in the midwest. His will is to be filed for probate Sept. 22.

Franco, U. S. Treaty Ready

By WALTER G. RUNDLE
(UP Staff Correspondent)

Franco Spain, whose services and loyalties have been an international drug on the market since 1940, is about ready to sign a bargain-basement agreement with the United States.

Sometime around Sept. 20, barring some last-minute hitch, a mutual defense pact will be finalized giving United States access to Spanish bases in exchange for Spanish access to American dollars.

It will work out something like this:

The United States will hand over to Spain some $500,000,000 in military equipment and economic assistance over a four year period.

In return, Spain will give the U.S. the use, for 10 years, of four air bases and a naval base at Cadiz, anchorage and refueling rights and an option for two extensions of five years each.

For Spain that $500,000,000 price tag represents a colossal comedown from the days, 13 years ago, when Franco offered to enter the war on Hitler's side for this tidy consideration:

"Gibraltar, French Morocco, those parts of Algeria mostly colonized and inhabited by Spaniards, aggrandizement of Rio de Oro and the colonies in the Gulf of Guinea" plus "supply of the necessary military and other assistance required for the war."

Hitler turned down that offer because the price was too high.

In the interim Spain dickered with Russia for an economic arrangement and peddled a considerable amount of copper and other strategic items to the Soviets, until active American interest developed.

In spite of obvious disappointments on both sides, the final agreement offers the blessings of a "marriage of convenience." Spain desperately needs economic aid and military supplies for Franco's armed forces.

The United States has been made increasingly anxious to get the arrangements out of the discussion and into the action stage by the lagging European defense plans and a threatened swing to the left in several European countries.

OWOSSO (UP) — Keith W. Wilson, 27, didn't know his mother was planning to pay him a surprise visit Tuesday until his auto collided with another at an intersection. The other driver was his mother, Mrs. Lora Wilson, 61. Neither was injured.

The United States has shipped more than $1,000,000 worth of wheat to Pakistan to alleviate suffering among the country's famine stricken populace.

Because of a two-year drought, Pakistan's grave financial difficulties prevented her from financing the necessary wheat to stave off famine and she appealed to the United States for help.

President Eisenhower urged Congress to take prompt action and 15 day later the bill was signed authorizing the wheat shipment.

Under the famine aid legislation, up to one million tons of wheat can be supplied to Pakistan from surplus stocks.

About 700,000 tons will be an outright gift to Pakistan. Another 300,000 tons of wheat will be sent later as a reserve supply either on a grant or loan basis depending on the gravity of the situation at that time.

The Pakistan government promises to distribute the wheat "without discrimination" to those who are unable to pay for it.

They also agree to give continuous publicity to the objectives and aims of the U.S. Foreign Operations Administration, including information to the people that the program is evidence of American friendship.

Actress Sides With Dior: The More Leg the Better

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
(UP Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON (UP) — Elaine Stewart came all the way from Hollywood just to tell me that women with pretty legs ought to show them.

In other words, she is taking sides with Christian Dior, the French designer, who shocked the world recently by saying that the gals should go back to the flapper age and wear shorter dresses, to show a little more leg.

Elaine also came here to plug her latest picture, in which she is the only feminine player. It's a rugged comedy about Army life and won her the title of "The Sweetheart of 30,000 GI's" during the filming at Fort Bliss, Tex.

But getting back to legs; our gal has them — the kind worthy of being looked at.

Elaine didn't mention any names during our early morning interview, but she turned up a pretty nose at the way women dress in the nation's capital.

She was smart enough to say she thinks Mrs. Eisenhower has good taste, looks good in bangs and wears her dresses the proper length.

"But most Washington women," the pretty brunette said, "hide the best part of their legs. Dresses here, and in a lot of other places, are about 14 to 16 inches from the floor, according to the height of the woman. That's loo long. I think Dior has something. Not only that it would save husbands the cost of extra yardage at the dressmakers."

(Note: Elaine is unmarried.)

MRS. EDWARD A. SHAW

Couple Wed Here Sunday, Honeymoon in Colorado

Honeymooning in Colorado are Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Shaw who were married Sunday in a 4 o'clock rite at Central Methodist Church.

The bride, the former Betty Jean Langford is the daughter of the James C. Langfords of Pine street and Edward's parents are the Roy B. Shaws of Lawton, Okla.

For the ceremony Betty chose a ballerina-length white Irish lace gown with a bolero jacket trimmed with satin. Her veil was held by a white lace skull cap.

Her jewelry, a single strand of pearls, was a gift of the bridegroom and she carried a bouquet of white delphinium with a white orchid.

The bride's sister, Mrs. A. V. Witbeck of Ferndale, was the matron of honor. She wore a sheath dress of heavy pink cotton brocade and carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses.

Flabby Flesh Best Covered

If you're a woman past 40, don't make the mistake of robbing the cradle when you select your clothes. A perfect example of this beauty-destroying practice is the wearing of sunback dresses which properly belong to the young or young-appearing.

Few women past 40 have the figure which this type of dress demands. One wouldn't like to turn back the clock and have the older woman wrap herself up like a cocoon in hot weather.

But, one would wish her to maintain the attractive dignity which goes with older years. That dignity is destroyed when a fleshy bare back is revealed, outlined by fabric cutting into the skin, the flesh pushed into a dead-looking mass.

Young skin holds tightly to muscles which ripple over the bones — a pretty moving picture in a sunback dress. This loveliness disappears in most women all too soon. If a woman either can't or won't bring it back, and the answer usually is can't, she is infinitely more attractive with her back covered.

The sunback dress reveals all of the arm which, in the older woman, is in most cases flabby. Even when the upper arm isn't too heavy or too scrawny, it's not pretty if it's flabby.

Parents Reveal Girl's Betrothal

Dr. and Mrs. Clare L. Grigware of Grand Rapids are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Jean, to Russel Perkins Swaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Alger Swaney of Birmingham.

The bride-elect is a junior at Michigan State College, where she is a member of Alpha Phi Sorority. Her fiance is a junior at the University of Michigan, and an affiliate of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. No date has been set for the wedding.

Central Methodist Church was the setting for the Sunday wedding of Betty Jean Langford and Edward A. Shaw. Her parents are the James C. Langfords of Pine street and he is the son of the Roy B. Shaws of Lauton, Okla.

Bride-Elect Honor Guest at Dinners

Spinster, Rehearsal Events Given for Mary Sue Cloonan

A spinster dinner honoring Mary Sue Cloonan was given Tuesday evening at her home on Cherokee road.

Mary Sue, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cloonan, Jr., will speak her vows with William J. Dean Jr. Saturday morning in St. Vincent de Paul church. He is the son of the William J. Deans of Ottawa drive.

Corsages of pinocchio roses matching the centerpiece were presented to each of the guests.

Among the guests were Mary Andary of Sault Ste Marie, Delores Geisler of Wing Lake, Caroline Daneke of Birmingham, Patricia Dean and Mrs. Robert Schmidt.

At the same time the spinster dinner was being held, the bachelor dinner was given at the prospective bridegroom's home on Ottawa drive.

This evening Mrs. M. J. Cloonan of Ottawa drive will entertain members of the immediate family at a dinner at Pine Lake Country Club.

The rehearsal dinner will be an event of Thursday evening which Mr. and Mrs. Dean will give at their home.

Other parties which have been given for Mary Sue include a surprise brunch and pantry shower Sunday given by Caroline Daneke at her home in Birmingham.

Couple Reveals Their Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. John Seidenspinner of Norwood, Ohio, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Carol Jean, to Gerald Uhrland of Silverton, Ohio.

Gerald is the son of Mrs. Gene Patterson of New York, and Herbert W. Uhrland of Scottwood avenue. No date has been set for the wedding.

Shirley Hocevar Bride of Milton Green

Shirley Anne Hocevar, sister of Mrs. James Morton of Union Lake became the bride of Milton E. Green Saturday evening in the Orchard Lake Community Church.

He is the son of Mrs. Clarence Green of Birmingham and the late Mr. Green.

The bride wore a gown of heavy ivory satin with a cathedral-length train and a sculptured bodice fashioned with a mandarin collar. Imported Chantilly lace was formed over the satin bodice and peplum.

The veil of imported illusion was held by a cloche of lace over satin and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lily-of-the valley.

Preston Green, the bridegroom's brother, was the best man with Frederick and Vern Green, brothers of the bridegroom, and Robert Blower as ushers.

After a honeymoon in northern Michigan, the newlyweds will reside on State avenue.

Applauds New Work of Schools

Muriel Lawrence Tells of Pioneering in Wellesley

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Harry was the classroom "smarty."

His pencils always needed sharpening in the middle of spelling lessons. He was skilled in stalling collection of homework papers by forgetting where he'd put his.

He was fond of asking a neighbor for the loan of a ruler—and when it was offered, of displaying his new one, sneering, "Who wants an old splintery one like yours?"

But at recess, out on the playground, Harry lost his aggressiveness. On his own, beyond the protection of adult authority, he just whined when other children pushed him around. He hung unwanted on the edge of their games or moped by himself, angry and hating.

He was a lucky little boy. He lives in Wellesley, Mass. According to a magazine report of what goes on there, it's quite a place. There, his teacher didn't complain to Harry's mother about his behavior. She didn't demand that it be "improved."

Special briefing by the town's new Human Relations Service had prepared his teacher not to demand what Harry's mother couldn't give.

It had taught her to recognize a human limitation when she met one. So Harry's teacher suggested that his mother see the psychiatric specialists at the local Human Relations Service.

So far as I know, this Massachusetts town is the first American community to use its schools not merely as information centers, but as social instruments for the detection of emotional disorder.

I think that's exciting. I think so because, like Harry's teacher, I also accept human limitation. Though I think it would be fine if Harry's mother could relax so that he wouldn't be so scared to express rebellion at home, I think it's cruel too scold her because she can't relax.

But since I also know what Harry's anit-people feelings can cost in misery for his future family and the world he lives in, I applaud his town's effort to correct what his parent can't.

I am not one of those Americans who think schools should limit their services to the training of Harry's brain, because I'm scared of trained brains in anyone who hates people.

In a close-packed world like ours trained brains embodied in hate and fear of people are hazards, whether they belong to atom spies who use information on physics for treason or to criminals who use skill in engraving counterfeit $10 bills.

If Harry's mother cannot instruct him out of hate and fear of people, someone else has to try. That is why I welcome Wellesley's pioneering attempt to supplement the education of Harry's brain with education in character.

Rich auburn or titian tones that add gay sparkle to dull lifeless locks are yours for the asking with an Egyptian henna. A pure vegetable product, it is absolutely safe to use and may be applied with a brush as a paste or rinsed through the hair with a cup.

If a person uses his head, he won't go over it in debt.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Excitedly Sue passed on the news to her bridge club. A certain young couple was rumored on the verge of divorce. Then she eased her conscience by pleading: "Please don't say anything about it. There may not be any truth in it at all." How much kinder and more charitable it is to refuse to pass on gossip than to pass it along with the admonition: "Don't tell a soul."

She didn't ease her conscience. She rationalized her spite.

Girl Should Tell Boy She Misses Him ---Without Using Those 3 Little Words

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

It's hard for a girl to tell sometimes just how eagerly she can rise to a boy's bait without seeming too eager. He makes a gentle pass in her direction. Should she consider it a real hook? Should she bite on it hard?

Or should she skitter girlishly away, hoping a mighty hope that he'll try the same maneuver again and again so she can pretend she's been worn down by mighty persuasion?

Here's a girl who's wondering just how much eagerness she dares to put o paper. She has a letter to answer. She writes:

"I met him on vacation and we had a wonderful time together. Since we've been apart I've had three letters from him.

"The second letter is the important one. In that he told me that he really liked me.

"In the third one he said nothing more about it. I have all three letters to answer at once, and I don't know what to say about that important second letter!"

The second letter is sweetly important — but I think the third one is, too. He launched his hook into the air and he doesn't know how it's striking you, so he's a bit timid about repeating his efforts. At least until he gets some sort of response from you on paper.

But just because of that third letter—don't put anything incriminating in your letter. I mean, don't come right out and say how much you like him. Tell him, instead, what wonderful fun you had with him during vacation.

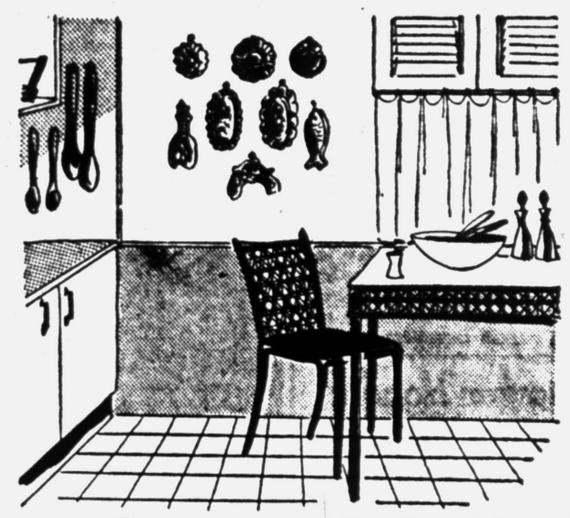
Remind him of special moments when you were both feeling particularly happy together and he had every reason to think you liked him a lot.

Tell him what you miss (it includes him, of course) now that you're back home again. Tell him how very glad you were to hear from him, how happy it made you—then give him the news, if any.

That's being enthusiastically responsive without putting your affections straight on the line. You'll have pleaty of time for that.

There are so many ways of telling a lad that he made a terrific hit with you without saying those three little words. If you say them right out at the very beginning, it spoils the game. His game, of course.

If he really likes you he'll keep trying to make you say them. The fun is in encouraging him without letting him trap you into ending the game. For end, it does. From then on there's nothing to do but repeat yourself!



Try Copper With Black for Sophisticated Kitchen

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Need ideas? Why not start with the sophisticated contrast of copper and black? Copper is on its way to new kitchen popularity — one manufacturer has just introduced a copper-finished range.

Play up the color brightness of copper pots and pans with copper molds in interesting shapes for wall decoration.

With the start of these two eye-catchers, the rest of the color scheme can be crisp as vegetables fresh from the garden, and easy to wor kout.

With white cabinets and a green, yellow or black and white floor, make the upper walls and curtains white, the lower walls brilliant clear yellow.

Black cabinet handles and baseboard strips, black and white and copper accessories add emphasis, or the lower walls and curtains might be a persimmon or melon shade with green or black floor and all the other colors the same.

A bright olive green, not the usual kitchen apple green, is also an interesting color for the lower walls with the curtains in narrow olive and white, or olive, yellow or bright blue and white stripes.

Remove Egg Stain With Knife, Sponge

To remove egg stain from fabric, first scrape away excess with dull knife; sponge in cold water.

Pimientos Add Color to Spread

Mrs. McCulloch's Recipe May Also Serve as a Dip

By JANET ODELL
(Pontiac Press Food Editor)

Mrs. John W. McCulloch shares one of her mother's favorite recipes with us today. She says it is delicious in a sandwich or served on crackers. If thinned down a little, it should make a good dip.

Mrs. McCulloch is a well-known Pontiac businesswoman. She is a member of the Junior Women's Club.

Her other interests include two grandsons and a mammoth garden on part of the nine lots surrounding her home.

ROSY SPREAD
By Mrs. John W. McCulloch

½ pound sharp cheese, grated
1 small can pimientos, chopped fine
2 hard-cooked eggs

Mash eggs, add pimientos and cheese. It will be necessary to use the juice from the can of pimientos to provide enough liquid to moisten the spread.

If you have an electric blender, make this spread in it. A fork will do the job adequately.

MR. and MRS. R. E. HALLENBECK

The former Sally Laurine Broadworth became the bride of Richard E. Hallenbeck Saturday afternoon in Central Methodist Church. The George C. Broadworths of Williams Lake and the Kenneth Hallenbecks of Watkins Lake are their parents.

Richard Hallenbecks Plan Their Home at Lake Orion

Sally, who is the daughter of the George C. Broadworths of Williams Lake, chose a gown of ivory spun glass and nylon, fashioned with a ballerina-length hoop skirt.

A deep fold outlined the pleated neckline and a matching jacket covered her shoulders. On her head she wore a scalloped lace cap outlined with seed pearls, and white roses and feathered blue carnations formed the bridal bouquet.

Her pearls were a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Hallenbeck wore navy blue with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses with white carnations.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Hallenbeck will live in Lake Orion after Sept. 1.

Play Hosts to Grinter Families

The David DeLongs of Lower Straits Lake are hosts at their summer farm on Elk Lake to Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Grinter. The Grinters, former Pontiac residents, are spending the summer in the U. S. Their home is in Portsmouth, England.

Press-Patch Needs Little Extra Stitch

By DOROTHY ROE
(Associated Press Women's Editor)

You may congratulate yourself on the current labor-saving age. Grandmother never had it so good.

The latest thing on the take-it-easy front is the ready-made, iron-on patch. In Grandma's day, patching a pair of pants was a tedious affair, necessitating careful matching of fabric, basting and hand-stitching.

Today's small fry like contrasting patches on their jeans or shorts, and today's smart mothers buy these in assorted colors to have on hand in case of emergencies, which always can be counted on to happen.

Denim press-on patches are widely available in a complete color range. These are first ironed in place over the tear, eliminating basting. Local sewing center experts remind us that it is important to reinforce the patch by stitching around the edges, thus eliminating wash-day hazards.

To make a decorative patch, use the zigzag stitch. If you own a straight-needle sewing machine, this is accomplished with the zigzag attachment, used in place of the regular presser foot and adjusted to the number 3 bite setting. If you have a swing needle machine, the same setting is correct, and no extra attachment is necessary.

Patches may be cut in amusing shapes and stitched down with contrasting thread to give new color to worn clothes.

Many women find, too, that preventive patching is wise insurance. Instead of waiting until holes appear, they iron and stitch decorative patches over such points of wear as knees and elbows of clothes destined for rough treatment.

These jig-time patches will stay put through hard scrubbing and active wear and will streamline mending problems.

Auxiliaries Elect Mrs. Lucy Parker

Mrs. Lucy Parker of Ferndale was elected national president of the Metropolitan Club Auxiliaries when the Metropolitan Clubs of America, Inc., convened at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.

Among the Pontiac women attending the 35th annual convention last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, were Mrs. Reuel Baker, Mrs. Ralph M. Dean and Mrs. John Morse.

Mrs. Harold Wright and Mrs. Arthur Carson also attended the meeting.

Shower Honors Amanda Materna

Guests included the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Paul Materna, and Mrs. Lacey Schieffler, Mrs. E. L. Wynne, Mrs. William Trousdale, Mrs John Kemler, Mrs. Charles Pace, Mrs. Carl Comps and Mrs. Lynn Bunker.

A dinner Aug. 29 at the Old Mill Tavern at Waterford will honor Amanda, who is the daughter of the Paul J. Maternas of Lowell street. Twenty-five guests are expected.

Amanda will speak her vows with John L. Pagacich, son of the Anton Pagacichs of Ironwood, in St. Michael Church Sept. 12.

Trim Flowers Under Water

Exposure of cut stems to air causes flowers to wilt. Give them a long drink of water, for at least several hours, before arranging them.

Pontiac GOP Women's Club Meets

"Time and space have been conquered by the progress of today. In the near future, many people will be asked to be world citizens, teaching the good to other continents," said Don Newman when he spoke before the Pontiac Republican Women's Club Monday evening.

The group met on the lawn of Mrs. Albert Kohn's home on Dick avenue.

Mrs. Duncan McVean led the opening prayer, and the pledge to the Flag was led by Mrs. Amelia Ball. Reports were given by Mrs. W. E. C. Huthwaite, Mrs. Lulu Luby and Mrs. Frank McGregor.

The following committees were appointed by Mrs. George Brown: Mrs. William Pateau, membership; Mrs. Kohn, program; Mrs. Sadie Williams, social; Mrs. Frank McGregor, legislature; Mrs. McVean, publicity and Mrs. John DeWees, tax.

Cardinal Rule of Good Grooming Helps Men in Selecting the Right Tie

Dark Suit Complemented by Light Hue, Vice Versa

By BERT BACHARACH

If your shower head doesn't function as it did when new, it may be because of clogged holes. If detachable, take it off and give it a good hot soapy washing.

File the contact points of an electric plug occasionally, to prevent oxidization and assure a steady flow of current to the appliance.

SHOE TIP: To lessen squeaks in soles and to keep them pliable, rub them with neat's-foot or linseed oil. But keep oil off the uppers.

AMATEUR CHEF: To keep bacon strips from tearing as you separate them, first roll the package gently. The slices will come apart easily.

If you want your frankfurters to be skinless, soak them in cold water. When slit, the skin peels off easily.

Here's a Peasant Sandwich as made in Paris: Put Swiss cheese between slices of pumpernickel, butter the outside of the bread and saute in a pan.

HOME HELP: You'll be able to hear your phone ring when you're in the basement if you put a metal pan on the floor and the phone atop it.

When you've emptied a tube of toothpaste or shave cream, put the little screw top in your change pocket. It will remind you to buy a new tube.

Wax your license plates to keep them as bright as the body of the car.

HAIRLINE: Movie star Howard Keel, who has a fine head of hair, is stumping for wider and more tolerant acceptance of toupees for men whose hair is sparse. Sees no reason why men shouldn't improve their appearance. Women do.

ORDERLY: An ingenious reader, tired of digging through a cluttered box to find cuff links, tie clasps, etc., offers a solution to the chronic men's jewelry problem.

It's simple and it keeps the jewelry from getting marred or scratched. Take a piece of any soft fabric about 18 inches long (see drawing, 1). In the lower half cut a number of small slits (or ask your wife to make buttonholes).

Insert cuff links and studs in the slits (2) and clamp or pin collar pins, tie bars, etc., on the remainder of the lower half of the cloth.

Proper for Young Couple to Travel on Same Train

By EMILY POST

A letter asks: "Would it be permissible for a young woman in her early 20s to take the same train home from a distant city with a young man she has grown up with, but who never was a beau. They were always just good friends.

"Now he is working in the same city in which she is nursing. The trip would necessitate three days and two nights on the train."

Answer: I can't see why he will be in any way different from all of your fellow passengers. You are both going home by public conveyance continuously surrounded by plenty of chaperoning passengers.

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter and her husband and their new baby plan to spend their vacation here with us. My daughter was born and brought up in this town. This will be her first trip home since her marriage two years ago.

I would like to give a party for them during their visit. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be worded and also what type of party would be best?

Answer: An evening reception is the most practical thing to give. The invitations are written: "to meet Mr. and Mrs. John Jones," then followed by the date and the time. ("To meet" does not mean they are strangers but merely that the party is given for them.)

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be possible for my four bridesmaids to be dressed alike in point of style, but each one in a different color?

The girls like the idea of not having identical dresses because they are all friends and very often go to the same dances. Thus they feel they will get more use out of the dresses if they are not exactly the same.

Answer: I'm sorry but four colors would produce a very odd-lot appearance — unless the bridesmaids' number is eight and the two-by-two bridesmaids all wear the same color in four shades.

Widow's Peak Hat Fashion for Centuries

The widow's peak hat has been in fashion for centuries. The superstition behind this fashion was the relief that a woman born with a V-shaped hairline would be a young widow if she married, and would also remarry soon after. It was also believed that such women were marked by the God's with the V as a long life symbol.

The ancient Egyptians always included a V sign with their dead for a successful after-life. And even in modern times, we have seen this symbol reappear in Winston Churchill's famous "V for Victory" figner sign during the 2nd World War.

Find Reason Why Paint Is Blistering

Look for Crack or Seam That Allows Moisture to Enter

By HUBBARD COBB

When paint is applied over a damp surface or if moisture gets in back of the paint the result is usually a blistering on the part of the paint.

Eventually the paint will peel off and leave the wood completely unprotected. In some cases all the paint on the outside of a house will blister and peel and this makes people very sad.

The more common state of affairs is to find little patches here and there where blisters have formed. Before you set to work to patch these up it's a good idea to find and correct the cause of the blistering.

Check around the wall and see if you can find any small crack or seam that might allow moisture to enter. It may be just a crack in the siding or a sizable seam between a window frame and siding.

Pay particular attention to the underside of windows for the seams here are so well hidden that you can't see them unless you really look.

Another point to check is where masonry joins woodwork for dampness in the masonry will be quickly absorbed by the wood.

Cracks and seams can usually be fitted either with white lead or putty. Large seams in woodwork or between wood and masonry should be filled with caulking compound.

Dont' Try to Smother Career Liability, but Turn It to Your Advantage Instead

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Several months ago I wrote about the problem of the woman who is job-hunting in a man's field.

I discussed whether it was wise to sign one's resume just with initials, thus permitting the employer to infer that the applicant was a man, only to have him lose interest when a woman came in for an interview.

At the time, I remarked that it is best to try, if possible, to capitalize on any liability.

The tall girl looks far better if she stands straight and makes her height an imposing asset, than if she slumps and tries to lose two inches. So it is with the woman in a man's field who must make an asset of her femininity.

Recently, I received a letter from a young woman who had read the column to which I refer, and who was kind enough to pass to me a pointer which worked well in her case.

"I am in the field of sales promotion," she wrote, "and most of the executive jobs there are filled by men. My experience had been good, but every job I applied for was eventually given to a man.

"Finally I reread my job-hunting letter and decided to take a chance. I inserted a simple sentence which went like this: 'If you are planning to expand your efforts in the field of selling to women, you might find it valuable to have a woman on your staff to help you do this.'

"It worked like a dream. I got more interviews than I had ever before, and the fourth interview resulted in a job."

If you have a liability, don't try to smother it. Highlight it instead, turn it to your advantage.

History Reflected in Fashion Changes

Fashion often gives the appearance of being without rhyme or reason, but this is not true. Fashion, whether in garments or footwear, is a faithful reflector of man's culture. One can reconstruct the history of the last 5,000 years, at least, by studying the pictorial record of the fashions of these 50 centuries.

Did you know that when you darken your lashes with mascara you are following an ancient superstition? The mascara was effected into a circle to ward off the "evil eye."

Roughing one's lips originated for the same reason, and since red was and still is the "stop" color in folklore and superstitious custom, it would also prevent the soul from leaving the body prematurely.

Try It

Tire Makes Sand 'Box'

Here is our winner of the week, Patty Dougherty of Fort Wayne, Indiana. She tells us of this idea of using a large, old tire for a sand box. I am sending her Try It Book on to her. What about your letter?

Patty's uncle works for the railroad, and he saw one of these sand boxes from a railroad car. We liked her idea so well that we made four of these here at camp — and they are always full of children!

The best part of these sand "boxes" is that they can be made in a hurry and with very little cost. Many tire companies will give large old tires away free or will not charge more than a few dollars. Too, they are fine for young children for there are no splinters.

If you want to have your tire dressed up you can give it a coat of paint from leftover cans. After the tire is dry, fill the inside of the tire with sand, then the center. Filling the inside with sand makes the tire always stay in place. Have fun!

Gavilan Slips, 'Tiger' May Test How Much

FOILED—Miss Joyce Ziske of Milwaukee and her caddie (right) express their disappointment as their bid for a winning birdie from 20 feet on the 18th green rims the cup and spins away in the third round of the National Women's Amateur championship at Rhode Island Country Club in West Barrington Tuesday. 'Keed' Still Favored but Rugged Jones Can Make Him Work Hard

By MURRAY ROSE

Ralph (Tiger) Jones, the Yonkers, N. Y., middleweight, will try to supply the answer tonight when he faces the 147-pound champion in a nontitle 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden. The 9 p.m. (EST) bout will be telecast coast to coast by CBS.

Gavilan is a 2-1 favorite but the rugged 25-year-old Negro is good enough to make the kid work for his money. Unbeaten in his last seven fights, Jones holds two wins over Danny (Bang Bang) Womber, who came up with the ring upset of the year May 2 when he defeated the overconfident Kid.

Since that loss, Gavilan has scored decisions over Italo Scortichini and Ramon Fuentes. He wasn't any ball of fire in either bout. The Cuban Flash, now 27, generally doesn't like to go all out unless the big chips are on the line.

He may consider Jones big enough and then there could be some fireworks. Unlike some of his critics, Gavilan doesn't think he's fading. He believes his added savvy and punching power makes up for the loss of some of his once-dazzling speed.

His ambition hasn't dimmed either. He hopes to whip Jones, Carmen Basilio and Johnny Bratton in welter title fights, and then get a crack at the winner of the Bobo Olson-Randy Turpin middleweight championship contest.

The 154-pound Jones saw how Womber beat Gavilan by swarming all over him. He plans to use the same tactics against Gavilan, who will weigh about 152. The Cuban likes to stay back, take his time, and then stage an eye-catching furious rally in the last half-minute or so of each round. Womber didn't permit him to get away with it.

This will be Gavilan's eighth fight this year. His record is 6-1 for 1953 and overall 93-13-4. Jones' record for the year is 6-1-1 and overall 30-6-3.

Biggie, MSC Climb Together

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—The story of Michigan State football is the personal success story of Coach Clarence H. (Biggie) Munn.

When Munn moved to East Lansing in 1947, Michigan State was a poor relation as far as football was concerned.

The fast-growing agricultural college in the central Michigan area could boast some good football years but never had known national renown.

Biggie started building and, after stumbling a few times at first, finally succeeded in putting together the nation's top football machine.

Michigan State lost only one game in 1950. In 1951 and 1952, the Spartans went unbeaten and now have won 24 in a row. They were acclaimed national champions last year. Once again this fall it looks as though they're the top team in the nation.

Munn was selected for "Coach of the Year" honors last season. This year, he's leading MSC into official Western Conference football competition for the first time. The shiny goal ahead is the Rose Bowl.

Football has been Munn's entire life. And he put in a long apprenticeship learning his trade before rising to the top of the coaching profession.

He was named to the Associated Press honor team when playing guard for Minnesota in 1931. After graduation in 1932, Biggie stayed at Minnesota for three years as an assistant to Bernie Bierman.

In 1935 and 1936, he was head coach and athletic director at little Albright College, Reading, Pa. His teams won 13, lost two and tied one.

Munn moved to Syracuse University as line coach in 1937. Then from 1938 through 1945 he was line coach at Michigan under Fritz Crisler. In 1946, Munn went back to Syracuse as head coach. He switched to Michigan State in 1947.

Biggie took over when Michigan State football was in the post-war doldrums. Coach Charlie Bachman retired from the scene after a 5-5 won and lost record in 1946.

State won seven and lost two Munn's first year as head coach. In 1948, MSC won six, lost two and tied two. In 1949, MSC had a 6-3 won and lost record.

Payoff year for the Spartans finally came in 1950, when Munn won his first game from Michigan by a 14-7 score. Letdown came the following Saturday as Maryland upset the cocky and confident Spartans, 34-7.

That was the last time Michigan State has been beaten.

Three Veterans Look Good in National Event

By HUGH FULLERTON JR

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—A few prominent feminine golfing names, which somehow had escaped their usual amount of attention during the first few days, popped up again today as the 53rd U. S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship got down to 32 players.

In the early excitement over such new stars as Marlene Stewart, Pat Lesser and Barbara Romack, the experts and galleryites alike seemed to forget about the 1951 champion Dorothy Kirby and such rugged contenders as Polly Riley and Mary Lena Faulk.

Possibly that was because they haven't been playing frequently and the younger girls had more chances to win.

But as the girls went into the fourth round today, with the lopsided draw finally brought into balance, the chances of this trio looked very good.

Miss Riley, one of the few top-flight stars who had to play right through from the first round, could show victories by margins of 7 and 5, 6 and 4, and 5 and 3. And the last two were against a pair of very strong rivals, Edean Anderson and Pat Devany.

Miss Faulk, who compiled a fine winning record during the winter and spring, shot the best golf of the opening day—even par for 13 holes—in a 7 and 5 victory and followed it up yesterday with a 6 and 4 decision over Mary Sargent of Memphis, a player of no little ability. And Miss Kirby moved into the fourth round with an 8 and 7 decision over Gloria Armstrong of Alameda.

The three tournament - tested stars have one thing in common, besides lack of publicity. The combination of hot weather and hard work has kept them from playing much this summer.

Herbert Disappoints Tigers

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)— Looking for just one more reason why the Detroit Tigers are a seventh-place team, first division?

If so, just glance out to the bullpen where a 22-year-old right-hander named Ray Herbert has been a big disappointment.

All last winter you kept hearing:

"Ray Herbert is getting out of the army . . .he'll help the Tigers . . . the kid has a lot of promise."

Herbert, you'll recall, had a 4-0 record for the Tigers in 1951, with a glittering earned run average of 1.38. All of his wins came in relief — just the spot where the Tigers needed the most help.

Herbert worked out with the Tigers this spring at their base in Lakeland, Fla. When the season started, he returned to the army and was discharged one month later.

He wasn't the same Herbert when he returned.

The 5-foot-11 righthander had trouble finding the plate but the experts agreed that this was due to the lack of actual major league competition.

When he did get the ball over it usually wound up bouncing against some outfield wall.

Herbert has a 3-6 record — which isn't bad. But he's given up 94 hits in 65 2-3 innings — which is very bad.

Herbert failed to get the ball over the plate Tuesday on a 3-2 pitch — and as a result the Tigers dropped a 6-3 decision to the Yankees.

With the score tied 2-2 in the 11th, Yankees filled the bases against Herbert. Gene Woodling worked the count to 3-2 and drew a pass when Herbert threw a fourth ball wide of the plate.

Moments later, Gil McDougald cleaned the bases with a three-run double and the Yanks had their eighth straight extra-inning victory.

In the 10th inning, a similar situation occurred but Yankee lefty Bob Kuzava wiggled free.

Tigers loaded the bases with one out and Kusava had to face two long-ball hitting righthanded batters, Walt Dropo and Steve Souchock. A fly ball of reasonable depth would have scored the winning run. Both failed.

Dodgers Blanked Only Once

Yank, Braves' Hurlers Set Major Shutout Pace

NEW YORK (AP)—It'll be the irresistible New York Yankee pitching staff against the immovable Brooklyn Dodger batters when, and if, the teams clash in the World Series this fall.

The Yankee hurlers have accounted for 17 shutouts, the highest mark in the major leagues. On the other hand, the power-laden Dodgers have been blanked only once, the lowest total in either circuit. The Brooks lead the National League by nine games and the Yankees the American by 9½.

Of the 17 Yankee whitewashings, Vic Raschi leads with four, Whitey Ford has recorded three, Jim McDonald, Ed Lopat and Bob Kuzava have two each and Allie Reynolds and Johnny Sain have one apiece. Raschi and Art Schallock teamed up for one as did McDonald and Tom Gorman. The champions themselves have been shut out seven times.

The Dodger mound corps have come up with 10 blankings, the third highest record in the National League. Carl Erskine, the right-handed ace, has four. Russ Meyer has two and Billy Loes, Preacher Roe and Johnny Podres one each. Meyer and Jim Hughes combined for one more.

The Washington Senators, with Bob Porterfield's eight (the major league high) are second in team shutouts with 15. Walt Masterson has blanked the opposition four times, Connie Marrero twice and Frank Shea once.

The Milwaukee Braves' pitchers lead the National League with 13. Left Warren Spahn (18-5), has five shutouts followed by Bob Buhl with three, Johnny Antonelli and Max Surkon with two each and Lew Burdette with one.

Prep Grid Stars in East-West's All-America Tilt

Annual Pre - College Feature Set Tonight at Memphis, Tenn.

MEMPHIS (UP)—Players who will power the college football squads of tomorrow will be on review here tonight when East meets West in the All-American High School Football game.

The classic, in its fifth year, has been the final game before college for some of today's top gridiron standouts. Halfbacks John Lattner of Notre Dame and Paul Cameron of UCLA, fullback Rick Casares of Florida and tackle Hal Miller of Georgia Tech all played in All-America tilts.

Most of the schoolboy athletes in tonight's game have already chosen their colleges and will head for school immediately after the game ends. Others are still considering offers or have decided not to enter college.

East squad, guided by head coach Harold "Red" Drew of Alabama, has dominated the All-America series. The East has won all four games and is favored by most to remain undefeated this year.

Quarterback Dean Loucks of White Plains, N. Y., who flings passes with both hands, is rated the top threat of the East squad. The Yale-bound youngster led his school to three undefeated seasons. Other east players include back Noel George, Valdosta, Fla.; back Tom Williams, Moline, Ill.; center Allen Spiller, Macomb, Ill.; tackle Fred Sington, Jr., Birmingham, Ala., and Michigan's Dave Kaiser.

Coach J. B. Whitworth of Oklahoma A & M, who will be in his first year as west coach, has Ronnie Knox of Santa Monica, Calif.; to quarterback his squad. Knox, who'll play for University of California, threw 27 touchdown passes and was named "prep player of the year" by two West coast groups.

Players' Lawyer Shifts Attack to Ford Frick

Says Commissioner Said He Could Attend Council Meetings

NEW YORK (AP) — J. Norman Lewis, the new lawyer of the major league baseball players, today shifted his attack from the club owners to commissioner Ford Frick.

In fact, he says, Frick went back on his word.

"I don't mind him insulting me," Lewis said. "But it's really the players he's insulting." Lewis was unhappy because he was not permitted to attend the meeting of baseball's executive council on Monday.

"That was a direct breach of an agreement I made with Frick," he said, "I had a letter from his attorney inviting me to the meeting and he called me on Aug. 19 about the matter."

Lewis has been hired by the players to handle their demands to the owners. Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees and Ralph Kiner of the Chicago Cubs, the player representatives, had been acting as spokesmen for the players.

"Kiner and Reynolds want me to attend those meetings. The executive council," said Lewis, "they told the others there are too many complex problems for them to handle."

Next meeting of the executive council is scheduled for early October during World Series time, and, unless Frick changes his mind, Lewis will not attend.

After barring Lewis fom Monday's meeting, Frick said he had no intention of inviting any "outsiders."

Young Club Members Shoot for Crowns in Monday Tourney

Junior golf club championships will be settled in two divisions Monday over an 18-hole route at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Titles are at stake in 18-20-year-old and 17-under classes. Low nets and grosses in both classes, along with driving and putting contests, also will be included. A novice nine-year-old division also will be installed.

Larry Miller of Birmingham is expected to defend his title in the 18-20 class against such players as Bob Thalacker, Steve Stubbs, Spike Osler, Payson Chapman and Bowen Brook.

Eddie Sisson and Dick Kleinsmith are among the top contenders in the 17-under division. Tee-off time is at 8:30 a.m.

Musial Is Still Hoping for Title

NEW YORK (AP)— Stan Musial, six-time National League batting champion, hasn't given up hope of adding this year's title to his collection, but he fears time may be running out on him.

The great St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder, after a wretched first half season, picked up speed in the second half to boost his mark by some 60 points. But today, with only 30 games remaining, he still finds himself 25 points behind teammate Red Schoendienst.

"I haven't been able to go on a real tear all season," Musial complained. "There haven't been many days when I've gotten three or more hits in a game. In fact, I don't remember making four hits in a single game all year. Two hits per game seems to be my limit. I don't know why, either. I've felt fine all year."

Mulloy, Perry Play in Tourney

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (AP)—Thirty-nine-year-old Gardnar Mulloy, the No. 1 ranked player in the country, played collegian Bob Perry today in a quarter-final round match of the annual Nassau Bowl Invitation tournament.

In the other quarter-final listed for today, national intercollegiate champion Hamilton Richardson of Tulane, went against Fred Hagist, 21-year-old California graduate who has scored the biggest upset of the event so far. Hagist eliminated Kurt Nielsen, Denmark's top player.

Only one foreigner now remains in the tournament. He is Sven Davidsson of Sweden who edged Gil Shea of Los Angeles.

Other three in the round of eight are top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, third-ranked Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., and fifth-seeded Herbie Flam, of Beverly Hills, Calif., who is on leave from the navy.

Pershing Trophy at Stake

CAMP PERRY, O. (AP)—Teams from Great Britain, Canada and the United States compete for the Pershing trophy today to wind up small bore firing in the National Rifle and Pistol Championships.

M-Sgt. Jewell C. Palmer, an Oceanside, Calif., Marine now stationed at San Diego, turned in a score of 287 out of a possible 300 yesterday to win the National Trophy Individual pistol match.

Pontiac 9 in State Tourney

Coach Slated to Play Flint Softball Outfit on Friday at 9 P. M.

LANSING (AP)—The 19th annual major softball tournament of the Michigan Softball Association will get underway here Friday night.

The field will be wide open this year since Beauchamps of Royal Oak, the 1952 champions, will not be competing.

Winner of the tourney will represent Michigan in the Amateur Softball Association regional tournament to be held at Washington Court House, O.

Dow Athletic Club of Midland, 1951 champion, is the favorite among the five teams competing.

Friday games start at 7:45 p.m. with Dow Athletic Club playing Hazel Park Merchants. General Motors Truck and Coach of Pontiac will meet Heirlicks of Flint at 9 p.m.

Continental Motors of Muskegon will start play Saturday afternoon.

Semi-finals will be played Saturday afternoon and evening and Sunday afternoon. Finals are scheduled for Sunday night.

Sudden death tourney rules provide that two defeats puts a team out.

Elks Ladies Meet

A meeting of the Elk's Ladies West Side Bowling League will be held in the ladies lounge of the Elk's Temple on Tuesday evening, Sept. 1, at 7:30 p.m. All members are requested to be present. Captains are asked to have lineups ready.

'Old Timer' Winner

One-Hitter by Choiniere Wins for D&W Softballers

Dick & Wes Sports joined Drayton Drug in the winner's bracket of the Waterford Township Softball League playoffs Tuesday night with a 10-0 whitewashing of Richardson's Dairy.

Bob Choiniere twirled near-perfect ball to rack up a one-hit shutout. His mates pounded out 14 hits, including a single and triple by Cecil Hanes and a single and double by Bob Ferree.

Choiniere retired the first 19 men in a row to have a no hitter going with one out in the final inning. Then Wimpy Caswell blooped a pop fly in short right that fell between three players for a single. Caswell was out trying to stretch the hit.

A double-header is slated tonight. Richardson's and Dixie Recreation meet at 7 p.m., with D&W facing Drayton Drug at 8:30.

Golf Clinic: Here's How

By SAM SNEAD

Only a very fine player with perfect timing and powerful hands and wrists can get away with swinging the club as far back as our illustration today shows.

The average weekend golfer will find it almost impossible to get the clubhead back to the ball with timing and rhythm if he overswings to this extent.

The thing for the average golfer to do is to shorten his backswing — bring it back no further than the horizontal with woods, and even a little less with full iron shots.

Another important thing to remember is to keep a firm (but not tense) grip with the left hand at the top of the backswing. If you let go with the left hand at all at this point, it will also cause the clubhead to dip below the horizontal.

Call Is Issued for Rochester Gridders

Physical examinations will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the high school and equipment will be issued Friday at 1 p.m.

Rochester was co-champion with Lapeer last fall in the final football campaign of the Tri County league. Falcons will play an independent schedule this season opening Sept. 18 with Grand Haven at Rochester.

Also slated to meet the Konleymen are Farmington, Mt. Clemens St. Mary, Utica, Berkley, Lapeer and Romeo.

Rangers Face All-Stars

Ivory Rangers will meet an All-Star polo outfit tonight in the feature attraction of a polo double header at Ivory Field, Lahser and Eight-Mile Roads. Rangers have won 18 of 19 starts this season. Franklin Hills and the Birmingham Ramblers play the opener at 8 p. m.

Dodgers' Class Still Likely to Be Overwhelming in 1954; Yankee, Chisox Are Somewhat Erratic

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—It might be noted at this juncture a fellow by the name of Leo Durocher isn't the only National League manager who faces a heavy problem for next year.

Don't forget that Eddie Stanky has one just as big and knotty. Don't forget that Steve O'Neill and the Phillies are in just as sad a plight while the Reds, Cubs and Pirates are even worse. They are as close to being hopeless as anything can be.

As the Dodgers stand now they are about 20 games better than any team in their league except the Braves. It has been a bitter season for least expected to make a fight for the pennant—Durocher, Stanky and O'Neill, especially? They at least expected to make a fight for the pennant—not to be overwhelmed.

If they look through clear glasses they can see no chance for 1954, unless each Dodger has a leg or an arm or both sawed off.

The Dodgers stand so far above other National League clubs they might as well be on the peak of Mount Everest. This is what rival pitchers have to face—Billy Cox, Pee Wee Reese, Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella, Gil Hodges, Carl Furillo and Duke Snider—as tough a full lineup as I can recall from top to bottom.

Facing most lineups the pitcher has a few resting spots where he can afford to ease up a bit. There are no such resting spots in Dodger ranks. A pitcher, weary of bearing down, eases up a bit—and BAM—the explosion is on.

It may be that Durocher, Eddie Stanky, Charley Grim, O'Neill, Rogers Hornsby, etc., are not concerned for next year. They had better start now bothering about second place and hope to keep within 10 games of the top.

In the American League the Yankees and White Sox have both been too erratic to be ranked the distinct threat in their league that the Dodgers are in the National.

But for all that Cleveland, Boston and the others can see little hope for any 1954 flag unless there is a startling change in the situation. By rebuilding with youth the Red Sox have the better chance.

U.S. Hopes Rest With Trabert

CATCHING CUB AT HOME—Chicago Cub first baseman Dee Fondy kicks up some dust as he is tagged out at home plate by Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella in the eighth inning of second game of doubleheader Tuesday night at Ebbets Field. Umpire Babe Pinelli calls the play. Bill Serena had grounded to shortstop Bobby Morgan whose throw to Campanella nipped Fondy. Dodgers won, 6-5, after losing the opener, 3-1.

Return to Form by Tony Would Lift Americans

By GAYLE TALBOT

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP) — A thoroughly confused group of American tennis officials are gathered here, awaiting the start of the National Championships on Saturday and wondering what, if anything, can be done about breaking Australia's stranglehold on a game in which Uncle Sam once held world domain.

* * *

They are fresh from watching the Aussie pickup pair of Rex Hartwig and Mervyn Rose crush our best doubles teams in the championships at Boston. And two weeks before that they had sat glumly at South Orange while the visitors' singles aces took turns whacking our boys about. Now they don't know what to think.

"In my mind," said Alrick Man Jr., the head of our Davis Cup committee, "it comes down to whether Tony Trabert can play himself back into the form he had in 1951, when he carried Frank Sedgman to five sets in the Nationals here. If Tony can, after two years in the service and virtually out of the game, then we'll have a good chance of winning the cup back this winter at Melbourne. Tony looked great in spots at Newport."

If there is a pattern to the official thinking, that seems to be it. Trabert must become a really top player again, and up to this point the heavy-legged youngster from Cincinnati has been a big disappointment. He still believes in himself, but he has others wondering. Among the latter is Mercer Beasley, the noted coach.

"I've told Tony he must work a whole lot harder than he has been," Beasley said. "He must get out here and warm himself up for an hour or more before a match, the way Harry Hopman makes his Aussies do, instead of showing up maybe five minutes before he is due to play."

TUESDAY'S STARS

BATTING—Gus Zernial, Philadelphia Athletics, hit two home runs and drove in three runs as Philadelphia beat Chicago 4-2.

It's Time Out!

Leonard Skaggs Bests Field in 'Shoe' Tourney

Leonard Skaggs, 38 North Jessie Street, Pontiac, won the singles championship of the City Horseshoe tournament at Oakland Park Tuesday night.

Skaggs bested a field of nine players for the title. He was awarded a trophy by the sponsoring department of parks and recreation.

Skaggs defeated Walter Cook, 25-14, 11-25, 25-12, then ousted Walter (Sparky) Barkham, 25-13, 25-16. In the finals, he staged a fine comeback to defeat Bill Liechty, 25-3, 25-24. In the deciding game, Skaggs trailed, 24-13, but won 12 straight points while holding Liechty scoreless.

Doubles matches are slated tonight at 7 p. m. at Oakland Park with defending champions Skaggs and Cook installed as favorites after singles play.

Jewelers Move Into Semifinals

Pontiac Softball Club Beats Roseville, 4-2, in Traveling Series

Pontiac Shaw's Jewelers moved into the semifinals of the Inter-City Traveling Softball league playoffs Tuesday night at Hamtramck by defeating Roseville, 4-2. Shaw's will meet Hamtramck Thursday night at 7 p.m.

Hamtramck downed Hazel Park last night, 2-1. Parkers had beaten St. Clair Shores Monday. Tourney is a two-game knockout affair.

Clell "Mutt" Morse hurled five-hit ball against Roseville to rack up the pitching decision. Jewelers scored all four runs off Ray Gajewski in the first three innings, then were shut out with one hit by reliefer Paul Gatto.

In the first, Stan Hester singled, moved up on Tom Pearsall's sacrifice and scored on Vern Keebaugh's single. A single by Bob Baker scored Keebaugh.

Winning rally in the third came on a hit batsman, fielder's choice, Baker's single and a double by Jim Davis. Baker and Hester each had two hits for Shaw's.

Cotton Beats Payne

There were no knockdowns in the slow fight. Cotton staggered Payne twice, once in the eighth round and again in the tenth. But Payne just shook off the blows and came back for more.

Pair of 20-Game Winners Now in Sight for Chisox

By TOM BRANAGAN

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago White Sox haven't had a 20-game winner on their pitching staff for 12 years. This season it looks like they'll have two—if Billy Pierce can ever get by No. 17.

Virgil Trucks appears certain to reach the coveted 20 mark. The up-and-down former Detroit Tiger ace is having one of his best years and has 17 wins against six losses.

Pierce, who has lost nine, missed his second try for No. 17 in bowing to the Philadelphia Athletics 4-2 last night.

But the White Sox have 30 games left on their 1953 schedule and Pierce and Trucks — who never before have won 20 games in a single season — each probably will start at least six.

Last Sox pitcher to hurl his way into the 20-win column was Thornton Lee, in 1941.

Both lefty Pierce and righthander Trucks are at the top of the league's pitchers in strikeouts and earned run averages. Pierce leads the strikeout department with 156 and Trucks is next in line with 132.

In earned run averages, Pierce leads the league with 2.25. Trucks again is runnerup with 2.66.

Chicago Track Holds Richest Filly Race

If all 15 overnight starters go to the post, the race will gross $109,490 with the winner's share $70,320.

Little Angler Gets Big Fish, All Alone

Although her father was nearby, along the banks of Big Bear Lake, near Lewiston, a few days ago, Carol Ross, 12, hooked and landed a 5-pound small-mouth bass all alone.

Carol was using a casting rod, with a gob of crawlers on the hook when the big bronzeback hit. But nothing daunted, she "horsed" the big bass in after a brief fight, while Cecil Ross, her dad, watched. The Ross family was vacationing at the lake. They live at 3108 Pridham, Keego Harbor.

More than a third of a million of these good drivers are members of the AAA Automobile Club of Michigan.

Most of these are insured with this Insurance Exchange at the Automobile Club, operated for, by and of the members. They can expect more, and they get more.

If you follow the ways of these hundreds of thousands, you, too, can expect more.

Private Game Areas Aid to Conservation

Provide 'Hatcheries' for Nearby Lands; Improved Habitat Also Big Help

By JACK PATTERSON

An inveterate reader of letters-to-the-editor columns of national magazines is bound to run into some interesting points of view. The following gem was proposed in all seriousness as an answer to the problem of an increasing hunting population and decreasing wild land areas.

PATTERSON

Author of this novel thought opined that unused privately held wild lands should be open to public hunting, whether the owner agreed or not, on the theory that this was a "democratic" way to make additional hunting acreage available to the public.

Passing lightly over the Lower Slobbovian type of thinking that would advocate a public grab of private property rights, there's a good expression here of the general public lack of understanding of the necessity of unused wild lands to wildlife survival.

It is generally agreed by conservation men that proper habitat is the one condition absolutely necessarysary for maintenance of any game species. In fact many authorities are swinging around to the view that habitat improvement will do more to promote increase of game birds and animals than all restocking efforts combined.

Thus it can be seen that wild lands, be they farm fencerows or 10,000-acre club parcels, are necessary if there is to be any hunting at all. Owners of such lands, by "selfishly" withholding them from public use, are guilty of nothing more than sound conservation practice.

Relatively undisturbed wild tracts suitable for game maintenance act as "hatcheries" for surrounding areas. Public hunting grounds adjacent to say, a large club property, generally provide much better hunting than if the semi-refuge of the club were not there. This is a fact often overlooked by land-reform enthusiasts.

So don't be too quick to condemn the guy that hangs "No Hunting" signs around his property. Chances are he's doing you more good than harm by his "dog in the manger" attitude.

As long as this has started out on public understanding, or lack of it, there's another aspect relating to sound conservation practice that merits some attention. Probably the most maligned members of the animal kingdom are those carnivores who regularly or occasionally include game birds and animals in their diets.

These predators find almost every hand turned against them, and for years many states have offered bounties for their destruction. And yet, as game men have long suspected, and hunters are learning, predators play an indispensable role in maintaining nature's balance.

Life for creatures of the wild is dog-eat-dog existence. Predators are provided by a thoughtful nature to weed out the aged, the infirm, so that only the smartest and hardiest members of a species survive to propagate, thus insuring the continuation of that species.

Take away the predators and the whole scheme is upset. Look to Michigan's deer herd for a perfect example. Wolves and other natural checks on deer populations are gone. Man is the only remaining important predator. And man isn't doing his job properly.

Southfield Girl Is Winner of Two Titles, 17 Honors

Ann Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Jensen, 23000 Twelve Mile Road, took two championships and 17 honors in the recently concluded Michigan International Horse Show held at Northville Downs. Ann also qualified for Madison Square Garden's National Horse Show in November.

Ann, who will be a senior at Southfield High this year, has earned 57 trophies since 1946 and has 225 ribbons. Along with horsemanship, Ann has been active in school affairs and was center on the girls' basketball team last winter.

Honors won during the Northville meet include: championship in "working hunter" also reserve champion in this field and jumper champion; 1st and 3rd in FEI big jump; 1st and 2nd in amateur working hunter; 1st in local pleasure; 1st in knock-down and out; 1st and 2nd in working hunter stake; 1st in horsemanship over jumps; 1st in bare back jumping; 3rd in hunter hack; 2nd in open jump; 3rd in open working hunter; 2nd in novice jumper; 5th in ladies working hunter; 2nd in horsemanship hunter's seat; and 8th in jumpers stack.

8 Winners Named in Archery Trials

Sid Stark took first in the EBA free style, with Russell Payne and Joe Lavire second and third. Jack Overbaugh was first in EBB class and Thomas Adams in Class B.

Ed Kuder finished ahead of Fred Lawrence and Sam Imbranone in the archer's class and Mark Bowlers topped the instinctive shooters. Archer's instinctive was won by Rusty DeRousha and Reva DeRousha was first in women's instinctive archer's class. Theobell Payne was first in women's Class B.

Four Shooters Record Perfect Cards at OCSC

Carl Branberg, Thiefels, Wilkins and Ashmore Hit 25 Straight

Second place gunners, with 24x25 tallies were Gene Soper, Keith Van Kirk and Lloyd Sibley, while Jack Greathouse and Oliver (Red) Lemaux ran into trouble and could do no better than tie for third with 23x25.

Great majority of the shooting was done by the annual pre-hunting season shooters who are beginning to flock to the fields to sharpen up their eyes for the pending small and migratory waterfowl game seasons.

Skeet is excellent as a sharpener for any airbourne game and all members of OCSC are invited to take advantage of the club's practice facilities.

New Equipment for 'Frogmen' Is Announced

Now available to civilian "frogmen" for charging underwater breathing equipment is a tiny air compressor newly-announced by a Minneapolis, Minn., firm specialists in aircraft pneumatic equipment.

Weighing only 6½ pounds, the compressor can be belt driven by any ½ H. P. or greater power source and will charge a standard aqua-lung in 100 minutes with 70 cubic feet of free air.

Cost is about $200 and first production models will be available Oct. 1. Names and maker can be had by addressing the Press Sports department.

Gun Qualifying Slated Sunday at OCSC Range

A large number of Oakland County Sportsmen's Club members are expected to turn out for weekend qualifying for the Director of Civilian Marksmanship course. This is the regular Army training course of fire.

Members will be instructed by F. Brusha, C. Bond and R. Beard.

Rifles and ammunition will be furnished to those who participate.

New Fishing 'Gadgets' Brighten '54 Outlook

By MORT NEFF

In Chicago a few days ago fishing tackle distributors from all over the nation gathered for the annual prevue of fishing gadgets to be put on the market for the 1954 season.

NEFF

The ingenuity of manufacturers in this business almost defies one's imagination! A Florida real estate man decided to retire a few months ago. While lolling about the house he picked up a few of his wife's plastic hair-curlers, attached a couple of fish hooks, tied on a line and found out they "swam" thru the water with a tantalizing action, hooking many fisn. He introduced the lure at the tackle show, got orders for more than a million of 'em. Now he can't retire. He's too busy!

Lots of ladies like to fish. To them it is most unfortunate that fish go for night crawlers. The slippery, wiggly worms take all the joy out of fishing when it comes time to put the bait on the hook.

Next year it'll be different. Timid lady fishermen will be supplied with small tweezers tipped with non-skid rubber which will offer a firm grip on the crawler allowing it to be impaled on the hook untouched by human hands!

Rod manufacturers have long deplored the excessive weight of the average spinning reel. It made long, adjustable handles necessary to effect some sort of balance for easy casting. Next year's reels will be lightweights.

Perfection of the hollow glass rods for 1954 will just about doom the future of the bamboo rod industry, according to the experts.

Hunting arrows will be made of the same material, beautifully balanced and capable of truer flight than their wooden predecessors.

Robin Wins No. 21

By BEN PHLEGAR
(AP Sports Writer)

At least 11 pitchers still nurse hopes of joining Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies as 20-game winners this season, but most of them will need Lady Luck on their side to make the grade.

With less than five weeks to play, even Roberts, who at one stage looked a good bet to win 30, will probably consider himself extremely fortunate if he comes close to his last year's total of 28.

The strong-armed right-hander posted victory No. 21 last night, just one day shy of two weeks after winning No. 20. Between times he failed in two starts before handcuffing Milwaukee on five hits for a 6-1 decision.

Five of the other 10 hopefuls worked last night. Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, Gerry Staley of the St. Louis Cardinals and Bob Porterfield of Washington all won their 16th games. Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox failed in his bid for No. 17 and Bob Lemon of Cleveland was beaten trying for his 18th.

Harvey Haddix of the Cardinals, pitching his first full season, goes after his 17th victory today against the New York Giants. The others with a chance all are in the American League—Mel Parnell of Boston and Virgil Trucks of Chicago with 17 each and Whitey Ford of New York and Mike Garcia of Cleveland with 15 apiece.

Roberts' success last night enabled the Phillies to break even since the Braves took the second game 6-2. Brooklyn split a pair with Chicago, losing 3-1 and winning 6-5. The Giants beat the Cardinals 3-0 and lost 9-2. Cincinnati won two from Pittsburgh 8-6 and 9-8.

In the American League, the Yankees picked up a game on the White Sox and now lead by 9½. New York edged Detroit 6-3 in 11 innings. Chicago lost to Philadelphia 4-2. Washington beat Cleveland 8-4. Boston and St. Louis weren't scheduled.

Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee hit his 40th home run in the first game off Roberts. In the nightcap Lew Burdette, who already had the best percentage record in the league, won his 13th against two losses.

Erskine owed his success against Chicago to Jackie Robinson's two home runs.

Staley found things easy at the Polo Grounds, where the fumbling Giants committed five errors. Ruben Gomez tamed the Cardinals on four hits for his 11th victory and third shutout in the opener.

Pierce was beaten by home runs by a pair of former Chicago teammates, Gus Zernial and Dave Philley. Zernial hit two, one of them with a man aboard, and Philley hit one. The White Sox managed only two hits, singles by Nellie Fox and Sherm Lollar, off the combined offerings of Joe Coleman and Morris Martin.

American Weightlifters Favored in World Trials

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The 11th world weightlifting championships open here tonight with the United States team rated a 3 to 1 favorite despite strong Russian opposition.

U. S. prospects dimmed yesterday when it was reported that John Henry Davis, world and Olympic heavyweight champion, had scratched his leg. James Bradord of Washington also is entered in the heavyweight competition but he joined the team only six days ago direct from Korea.

Russia was expected to take an early lead in today's class, bantamweights, where they have Ivan Udodov, world record holder and Olympic champion of the little men. No American is in the class.

Little is known of the Russians' capabilities for they have been training at a special camp 15 miles north of here. Russian team officials have yet to announce what classes they will put their men in.

No Drill for Old-Timers

Pontiac Old Timers baseball team will not practice Sunday due to the GMC Parade of Progress at Washington Junior High School. However, the team will drill Sunday, Sept. 6, in preparation for a scheduled game at Toledo, O.

Pro Wrestling Back in City; 1st Bout Friday

Ex-Canadian Farm Boy Tops Card, Against Big Ferenz Siksay

Pontiac's TV fans can leave their sets shut off Friday night, when it comes to wrestling. The colorful mat game comes back to Pontiac, Friday for an outdoor appearance at M-59 Speedway park, west of the city.

Headline attractions will include the first showing in this area by the ex-Canadian farm boy, 215-pound Stan Holek. Holek has been seen frequently recently on TV around the Chicago area, and, according to promotor Johnny Silvi, has established quite a following by his splendid physique, wrestling ability and sportsmanship.

Holek grapples with the veteran Ferenz Siksay in the main bout. He is said to be only 20 and is several inches over 6 feet tall.

Other bouts include the opener between Karl Kruger and Fuzzy Cupid, a pair of midgets, and the semifinal, with Johnny Gates and Bert Rubi. Rubi is an old favorite in this area, but hasn't been in action here for some time. Al Thomas former junior high athletic coach here will referee the opener.

Opener is set for 8:30 o'clock and tickets may be obtained at Griff's Grill. Free parking is available, manager reports.

Pontiac Mayor Arthur Law will be one of several prominent figures at Friday's bout, according to the promotors.

Boston Boxer Wins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Featherweight Joey Cam of Boston can look forward to more main event billing on the West Coast after he took a unanimous decision over Ruben Smith in a 10-rounder last night.

Cam, 129, piled up points early with a jarring attack to the head and body and then weathered a final round flurry by the 128-pound local boxer. The Olympic auditorium battle was the Coast debut for the Bostonian.

Waterford Asks Former Teachers' Aid During Shortage

District Lacks 12 This Year

Nationwide Elementary Boom Reflected Here in Lower Grades

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Issuing a plea for the "return to the classroom" of former elementary teachers living in the Waterford township school district area, said that at least 12 are needed to complete this year's faculty.

Mr. Shunck, in conjunction with Waterford Township Board of Education policy, conducts a year-round teacher recruitment program.

"This year, without a doubt, has been the most difficult in my school administration experience," he said.

Pointing out that other school administrators from coast to coast were reporting the same problem, he said it was due to two major factors.

"The steady increase in school enrollments brought about by population influx is coupled with a decreasing number of teacher training institution graduates in the elementary education field," he said.

Waterford township schools anticipate an additional 700 children in their classrooms this fall, and that, said Mr. Shunck, was a conservative estimate.

"I am sure there are well qualified teachers living in this area who would return to the profession if they understood the plight of schools. An educational program is only as good as its classroom teachers, and in a child's basic school years, it is tremendously important that he have good teachers," he said.

He urged contacting the Board of Education offices at 3101 West Walton or calling, Orlando, 3-2413.

Royal Oak Resident Injured Critically

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP—A 39-year-old Royal Oak Township man was in "critical" condition this morning in Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital after he was struck by a car at Eight Mile Rd. and Wyoming early last night.

Charles Hollingshed suffered fractures of the skull, both legs, ribs and wrist, hospital attendants said.

According to Oakdale Gardens police, the victim was struck by an auto driven by William D. Corb, 54, of 3335 Pembrook, Detroit. They said Hollingshed was crossing Eight Mile Rd. against the traffic light.

Corb was released by police but will make a formal statement to Assistant Prosecutor Carl Braun later today.

'Peace Pilgrim' Heads for Detroit on Long Trek

KALAMAZOO (UP)—An anonymous lady "Peace Pilgrim," who plans to wander the earth afoot "until mankind learns the way to peace" was headed for Detroit today.

The graying, middle-aged woman who refused to say who she was or from whence she came, is walking to New York from Los Angeles.

She started her trip last New Year's day, she said.

She carries neither baggage, blankets nor food. She said she "walks until I'm given shelter, fasting until I'm given food."

Painted in white on the front of her tunic are the words, "Peace Pilgrim." In letters on the back are "walking from coast to coast for peace."

"Who I am is unimportant," she said in a stop here Tuesday. "Just call me Peace Pilgrim. I have no family. And until mankind learns the way to peace I shall remain a wanderer on the face of the earth."

The slim, 115-pound woman accepts no rides. "But anyone interested in my cause may walk with me," she said.

She averages about 25 miles a day and plans to be in New York by Christmas.

Kidnaps 2 Tots to Rob Market

Children Held Hostage by Oklahoma City Thief Escape Unharmed

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)— A cool, nattily dressed bandit kidnaped a supermarket manager's small son and a niece yesterday then robbed the store of several hundred dollars. A citywide manhunt early today had failed to unearth a clue.

The manager, Lawrence Dillard, gave up the money on being confronted with a note from his wife stating their 2½ year old son Michael and 4-year-old niece Peggy Jones were held as hostages.

The robber escaped into the city traffic.

About that time detectives, alerted by the children's mothers, found the tots on a downtown street. They had been released before the robbery, given a half-dollar by their abductor and instructed to buy ice cream.

The robber gained entry to the Dillar home by posing as a telephone repairman.

County Man's Body Is Returned to U. S.

The body of Army Cpl. Arthur A. Bouchard, son of Mrs. Georgia Bouchard of 2310 Tawas St., Hazel Park, was returned to the U.S. from Korea aboard the SS Massillion Victory, Monday, with the bodies of 22 other American servicemen who gave their lives in Korea. The ship arrived in San Francisco, Cal.

The body of Cpl. Bouchard will be transported to the Brooklyn Army Base in New York before being brought to Michigan under a military escort.

MR. AND MRS. JACK BITTLE

Bittle-Webster Vows Read at Orchard Lake Church

CLARKSTON — In a setting of palms and white gladioli, Glenna Jean Webster became the bride of Jack Bittle Sunday. The double ring ceremony was performed in Orchard Lake Community Church.

Glenna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lloyd of Pine Knob Road, Clarkston. Jack's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stedman Chase of 4610 Fiddle Rd., Pontiac.

Mrs. Wendell Cowdrey of Clarkston, herself a bride of Aug. 8, served as matron of honor for Glenna. Bridesmaids were Virginia Demski and Patricia Dennis.

Tom Course of Pontiac served as the bridegroom's best man. Seating the 175 guests were Gellette Miller of Sylvan Lake and Wendell Cowdrey.

Glenna chose a suit of brown and white with brown accessories for her going-away outfit. After a short trip through Northern Michigan the couple will live at 301 North State St., Ann Arbor, where Jack is attending the University of Michigan.

Glenna is a graduate of Clarkston High School and Jack a graduate of Pontiac High School.

MHSAA's Rules Questioned by State Senator

FENNVILE (UP) — State Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) said last night he is seeking to learn whether the rules of The Michigan High School Athletic Association are subject to review by the state legislature.

Hutchinson indicated he was interested in the association's recent action ruling six Hastings high school athletes ineligible for interscholastic competition because they accepted fishing poles after playing for the summer with an amateur baseball team.

The state senator is a member of the legislature's joint committee on administration rules.

He said he would ask the committee whether the published rules of the association are subject to review under the state administration rules act of 1943.

Red Tape Stops Lizards From Enjoying Fortune

DURBAN, South Africa (UP)—Legal technicalities are keeping seven "lucky lizards" from collecting their inheritances of $560 each, the Royal Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals reported today.

The will of Mrs. Marion Kellett was so involved that none of the bequests to her pet lizards has been paid, the society said. Four have died in the two years since Mrs. Kellett's death.

Patrolman Absolved in Shooting Death

A coroner's jury Tuesday absolved a Royal Oak Township policeman in the death of a Detroiter, killed Aug. 8 by a bullet from the officer's gun, but recommended more stringent firearm instructors for police officers.

Patrolman James Gatewood told the jury that his gun discharged accidentally and killed Arthur B. Hodges of 20000 Ohio while he was running from police who interrupted a crap game.

Oakland County Coroner Dr. John D. Monroe conducted the inquest in Royal Oak's Municipal Court. County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem ordered the inquest Aug. 10 and 18 witnesses testified before a verdict was returned.

2nd Driver Set Down at Wolverine Track

Driver Eddie Morgan was set down for five days for interference in the second race Monday. He was driving Ithemore Will which caused a three-way spill involving Pastime Mike and Forbes Zombelle.

Wife Shot by Husband Still in Critical Condition

FREMONT (UP) — The condition of Mrs. Charlotte Bitson, victim of a shooting early Tuesday in a domestic quarrel, remained critical at Gerber Hospital here today.

The 19-year-old Muskegon County mother is scheduled to undergo surgery for removal of two bullets from her head as soon as her condition is more favorable.

Funeral service for her husband, Donald, 26, who took his own life after wounding her, is scheduled Thursday afternoon in Muskegon.

Korean Red Guerrillas Now Fight Each Other

SEOUL (UP)—Communist guerrillas in South Korea's mountains are fighting among themselves as a result of the North Korean purge of ultranationalist Reds, the Republic of Korea Home Ministry reported today.

Some guerrillas were reported killed in fighting between the two factions—pro-Russians and nationalist North Koreans.

Group Pushing Raffle Ban Fight

Set Meeting at Drayton in Effort to Change Law for Charitable Purposes

DRAYTON PLAINS—The Charitable Bingo and Raffle Association will hold its second meeting tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Community Activities Center.

The association was organized two weeks ago by 18 civic organizations and groups to fight the ban on charitable bingo and raffle games.

"All interested persons, whether or not they belong to any organization, are invited to attend tomorrow night's meeting" Robert White, chairman of the association, said.

Representatives of the group said last week that plans were being made to hire legal advisers to see what could be done in fighting the ban on bingo and raffles.

Plans were also being made to circulate petitions in order to bring about a state-wide vote on the banning of the games. A total of $375 has been pledged by organizations to help finance the operation of the association.

Detroit Bus Operators Now 4th Highest Paid

DETROIT (UP)—Hourly pay of Detroit bus and streetcar operators ranked fourth in the nation today following a general increase to employes of the city's Department of Street Railways.

Operators and other hourly-rated workers were given boosts of 6½ cents an hour yesterday, while salaried employes received raises of 3½ per cent and 70 executives were given annual increases totaling $35,000.

Lawyers Hear Dulles Today

Sen. Bricker Warns of NATO Rule on Trials for GIs Abroad

BOSTON (UP) — The American Bar Association holds the second assembly of its 75th annual meeting today with a speech by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

His announced subject is treaty making power and its place in foreign policy.

U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) told a section meeting of the Judge Advocates Association last night that it will be "difficult, if not impossible" to protect the fundamental rights of American servicemen abroad under the NATO status of the treaty which was approved recently.

Bricker is the author of a proposed amendment to the Constitution to restrict the power of the executive branch of the federal government to negotiate foreign agreements.

"Some constitutions and laws read beautifully,' Bricker said, "but are given only lip service."

"A Communist judge, or one who is violently anti-American cannot be trusted to give an American boy a fair trial," he said.

"The previous administration," he said, "had made secret, illegal executive agreements under which American servicemen were already being turned over for trial in local foreign courts."

Bricker said the laws of many foreign countries fail to protect individual rights as does the American constitution, and he added:

"The treaty is silent on presumption of innocence, privilege against self-incrimination, protection against cruel and unusual punishment and many other fundamental rights."

Bricker said he excluded Great Britain and Canada from the list of countries with laws which fail to protect individual rights.

"American servicemen will receive a fair trial in their courts," he said.

Father of Two Killed

Rochester Group Forms to Study School Situation

ROCHESTER — Launching an educational "crusade for children" in the Rochester Community School district, over 350 interested citizens gathered Tuesday night to endorse the organization of a school citizens' advisory committee.

Objective of the group will be a thorough and unbiased study of the school district situation. Concluding the committee's study will be a recommendation to be presented to the Rochester Board of Education for that body's action.

The Central Steering Committee will be composed of one elected representative from each of the original 15 districts. Wallace Hodges was named chairman of the steering committee.

Dr. Edgar Geist, who served as temporary chairman of Tuesday night's meeting, urged that people forget all "personalities and prejudices" revolving around the two recently defeated school building bond issues and make a "clean start," remembering only the welfare of the community's children.

The Reverend Edgar A. Lucas offered a prayer at the opening of the mass meeting. Banners with the names of the original districts were placed in sections of the high school auditorium and each precinct's citizens sat together.

Following the introductory statement of the meeting's purpose, Dr. Geist asked each district to elect its representative.

Chosen from the village of Rochester was Clarence Burr. Other committee members will be Paul Epso, William McClelland, Roy Plauman, Mrs. Alex Geno, Frank Voll, Harold Bechler, Mrs. Allison W. Haidle, Jack Flumerfelt, Henry Purdy, Mrs. Charles Burgess and Carl F. Rathka.

Districts not represented will name their representatives shortly.

Hodges called a meeting of the committee for Thursday night. The committee then will establish the line of policy it will follow in arriving at decisions on the school situation.

June and July bond issues were turned down by the Rochester district electorate and the citizens' committee proposes to find out what changes the people want made in their schools before the group makes its recommendations to the board.

Livestock Loans Now Available

Cattlemen May Borrow if Hit by Recent Drops in Prices

Special livestock loans authorized by recent legislation are now available to eligible Oakland County farmers, it was announced today by O. W. Moore, supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration for Oakland and Wayne Counties.

Purpose of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's new loans is to provide temporary credit to livestock producers to continue operations after economic difficulties caused by the recent drop in cattle prices.

Top responsibility for the program will be held by R. B. McLeaish, national administrator of the FHA. State and county offices will disburse the funds, collect the loans and service the accounts.

Livestock loan committees in each area will consider applications. Established producers of cattle and sheep may borrow if they cannot get their credit needs from customary sources, if they have a good record of operations, and if credit would give them a reasonable chance to succeed.

Loans may be used to replace livestock, equipment, or for any purpose directly concerned with the producer's enterprise. Funds won't be issued to expand existing operations, however. The program will expire in 1955 with loans made for a maximum of three years at 5 per cent.

Infantry Division Plans to Hold 1st Family Picnic

DRAYTON PLAINS—The Michigan Chapter of the 88th Infantry Division will hold its first family picnic Sunday at Bloomer State Park 2, Lloyd R. Busch, secretary of the organization, announced today.

All members of the division and their families are invited to attend the picnic which will begin with box lunches at noon. Included in the day's activities will be softball, horseshoes, croquet and other games.

For information, members of the area are asked to contact Busch at 4664 Midland, Route 1, Drayton Plains, or Eldon Wright at 1785 Big Beaver Rd., Birmingham.

Science Fiction Mass-Produced

Arthur Koestler Finds 6 New Novels Monthly Typical of Times

NEW YORK—As a branch of literature, science fiction is not new. Swift, Samuel Butler, Jules Verne, Aldous Huxley all wrote it.

But while past exercises of this type (that is, fiction which deals with space travel, time travel, Martian maidens and supermen) were isolated literary extravaganzas, they are now mass-produced for a mass audience.

With an astute, analytical eye Arthur Koestler, writing in a recent national magazine, examines this newest literary craze. The popularity of science fiction in the United States is little realized.

A craze of such vast dimensions is never entirely crazy. It always expresses, in a distorted way, some unconscious need of the time.

Science fiction is a typical product of the atomic age. It is trying to fill a gap created in the last fifty years by new vistas and nightmares which literature and art haven't yet assimilated.

But with all this, Koestler feels that people, on reading about hydrogen bomb tests, are aware more than they admit to themselves that human civilization may be approaching its end, that man has become a biological misfit doomed to extinction like giant reptiles of an earlier age.

This intuition may account for the sudden interest in life on other stars.

Science fiction is good entertainment, not good art. Because it has only a curiosity thrill, it soon gives way to boredom.

The heroes of science fiction have unlimited power and possibilities but their feelings and reactions are limited within the narrow human range. Great art is disciplined imagination, not unlimited fantasy.

Nerve Cases Likely

NEW YORK (INS)—A medical expert says that nerve and mustard gases, affecting the respiratory system, are most likely to be used in chemical warfare against the civilian population of the United States. The opinion was expressed by Dr. James H. Defandorf, of Washington, D. C., in a panel discussion on Civil Defense at the 102nd annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

Lost Collie Dog Belongs to Black, Not Mr. Gross

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — Shep, the missing collie, was back with his owner today, a local man by name of William R. Black.

Mrs. Floyd G. Owens spent some money and lots of time trying to find the dog's owner—in one of several Evansvilles scattered around the country. That was natural because the dog's collar plainly said, "C. H. Gross, Cook Ave., Evansville."

The mystery was partly cleared up by Mrs. L. L. Crane who moved here five years ago from Evansville, Ind. She said her sons found a dog collar in Evansville and brought it with them to Knoxville. It had on it the name of C. H. Gross.

She said the boys recently found a stray collie and put the collar on him.

Detroit, Saginaw Allotted 790 Homes

WASHINGTON (UP) — Detroit and Saginaw were allotted 790 of the 20,000 low-rent homes authorized for construction during the current fiscal year by the public housing administration.

Detroit received authorization to begin construction of 544 of the homes and Saginaw the other 236.

The 20,000 limit on the number of family units was set by Congress, although PHA had entered into financial aid contracts with local housing authorities covering 55,946.

The homes have been rationed on a nationwide basis, said public housing commissioner Charles E. Slusser, with main consideration given to salvaging projects in which the local and federal government had the heaviest investments.

Henry Ford's "Tin Lizzie" was misnamed. The Model T, despite countless jokes about its ancestry, contained very little tin.

An early newspaper, the Observer in England, reported the Battle of Trafalgar without headlines.

You can tell in an instant
it's a Very great 8

At idling speed, the engine of this 1953 Buick is deceptively docile.

All you hear is a silken whisper, a kitten purr, a smooth flow of air channeling quietly through metal passageways.

Then—you want to go. You nudge the pedal. You go.

That's when you begin to know how the power of the first Fireball V8 can handle getaway, cruising, hill-climbing.

That's when you learn what Buick's highest-compression engine in fifty great years can mean in spirited and soul-satisfying road command.

It's an experience too wonderful to miss—the bossing of this brilliant new V8 Engine that powers every 1953 Buick SUPER and ROADMASTER.

So we cordially invite you to come in and try it.

We cordially invite you to hold rein on this truly advanced V8—the world's first V8 with vertical valves, with "F" type intake manifold, with zero-power-loss muffler—and the first standard-production American passenger-car engine to reach 8.5 to 1 compression ratio.

Why not come in for a sampling?

That way you can also try the other Buick gems—like Twin-Turbine Dynaflow*—and the Million Dollar Ride—and the room and visibility and handling ease of the greatest Buicks yet. Can you make it this week?

Ty Power, Wife Awaiting Second Child

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— The much traveled Tyrone Power is back in Hollywood to await the birth of his second child and to make a picture before continuing his journeys about the globe. Ty's wife, to give birth in about a week.

Having served valiantly in "Lloyds of London" and "A Yank in the RAF," Ty is again saving the British empire in "King of the Khyber Rifles." That's a 19th Century India tale being told by Linda Christian, is expected 20th Century-Fox, Power's old lot.

"Started here 17 years ago!" said the actor, who is as deucedly handsome as ever. "I've got a listing of the talent at the studio in those days. Not one player is still here!"

Even Power is connected with the studio only in a limited sense. He has but one more picture promised to the lot after this one. Otherwise he's a free agent. And that's the way he likes it.

I've always suspected that Ty has a little Gypsy mixed up with his Irish blood. As soon as his family gets squared away, and finishes a stage tour he'll take off for Brazil to take part in the Sao Paulo 400th Anniversary fete. Then he's heading back to Rome, where he hopes to make a picture called "Lorenzo the Magnificent" with his own company.

"I wouldn't mind signing with Fox for one picture a year," he remarked. "Then I could make pictures in the spring and summer and devote the fall and winter to stage an other work."

Ty has been touring the land with the concert version of "John Brown's Body" and he'll resume with Raymond Massey and Anne Baxter as soon as he finishes the picture. He is more enthused about this stage presentation than he has ever been about a picture.

Detroit Educator Returned to Post

Board Retains Bergman Despite Recent Probe by State Officials

DETROIT (UP)—Dr. Walter Bergman, whose passport was lifted by the State Department in Denmark last April, will return to his post as director of the Department of Instructional Research in the Detroit school system this fall.

The Detroit Board of Education said yesterday Dr. Bergman would be retained, along with his wife, Frances, who was with him in Denmark at the time of his passport difficulties.

Mrs. Bergman, whose passport was not questioned, is assistant principal of the Maybee School.

Dr. Bergman is a longtime socialist. At the time of the passport suspension, he was investigated for alleged Communist connections, but no charges were filed against him. Later the passport was returned, but limitations were placed on Dr. Bergman's movements before his return home.

The couple was on sabbatical leave and studying in Denmark when the passport was lifted.

The Board of Education also announced lowering of the price of lunches in public schools, reflecting a cash indemnity given by the U.S. Department of Agriculture for lunches to meet its standards.

A reduction of five cents will make hot lunches 25 cents in elementary schools and 35 cents in intermediate and high schools.

Morse Says Bingo Vote Is 'Inconceivable' Idea

DETROIT — The executive secretary of the Detroit Citizens League contends that the common council decision to take an advisory vote on the bingo issue is "inexcusable and inconceivable."

Chester Morse sent a letter to the council yesterday after its members had made preliminary plans to ask voters to say in the Nov. 3 election whether they favor amending the Constitution of Michigan to legalize charitable bingo and raffles.

Morse said:

"An advisory vote on any matter usually is inexcusable, but to take an advisory vote on a question which the council can do nothing about is inconceivable."

GREETINGS FOR DADDY—Pfc. Peter Fitzgerald of Jersey City, N. J., seems to have the situation well in hand, although the point can be argued. Here he holds his 10-month-old daughter, Kathleen, for the first time. Fitzgerald, a Korean veteran, just returned to the United States with 1,391 other GIs aboard the Navy transport Marine Caro.

Polio Treatment Costs Increase 59 Per Cent

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced today it has given $6,402,999 to its county chapters so far this year. This is an increase of 59 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

Although the number of polio cases this year is less than in 1952, the foundation said costs of its patient care program are higher than ever because patients stricken in previous years still need treatment.

'Dead' Soldier, 7 More State POWs Freed

(By United Press)

The release of eight more Michigan men, one of whom was reported "killed in action" last month, boosted to 94 today the number of state GI's freed from North Korean prison camps in "Operation Big Switch."

Pfc. Donald K. McCoy's mother, Mrs. Walter Friend of Muskegon, said she had received a wire from the Defense Department saying her son had been killed in action July 24.

McCoy and the other seven Michigan men arrived in Freedom Village Tuesday night. The others were:

Cpl. Joseph E. Cossetti, Branch.
Sgt. William A. Deming, Bayport.
Cpl. Thomas N. Jones, Detroit.
Cpl. Irving Langell Jr., Marine City.
1st Lt. Henry L. Nielsen, St. Joseph.
Cpl. Roy S. Smith, Highland Park.
Pvt. John P. Van Der Linden, Detroit.

Mrs. Friend said the news of her son's release was like hearing about some one "coming back from the dead."

She said she had reconciled herself to the fact that he was dead, although she retained a ray of hope because of a second Defense Department wire saying his body had not been found.

"I suppose a mother never gives up hope," she said, "but I had reconciled myself that he was dead and hoped they would be able to find his body and return it to American soil."

Mrs. Friend said she was "praying to God" that there was no mix-up in prisoner-of-war records that might have listed her son by mistake. McCoy is an only child.

"We will live in hopes there is no mistake and that he will call me," she said. "His voice will be the sweetest thing I'll ever hear.'

There was no way of telling how many more Michigan men still were being held by the Communinsts. The Defense Department has criticized Red records as being inaccurate.

There were 104 Michigan men officially listed as prisoners before the current exchange began. Another 58 were named by earlier repatriates. If both listings were correct, it would mean that 162 Michigan men had been taken captive.

In addition to the 94 returnees, the Reds said 33 Michigan men died in captivity and another six escaped. On the basis of 162 men captured, that would leave 29 Michigan men still held. However, there never has been any confirmation of the Communist death and "escape" reports.

Meanwhile, some of the Michigan GIs freed earlier in "Operation Big Switch" began arriving in their home state. One of them, Sgt. Edward Hewlett of Detroit, told how his "closest buddy" died because of inadequate medical facilities.

Hewlett would not identify his companion because his name has not yet appeared on Communist death lists.

"He had a terrible fever and was dying of what we thought was typhus," Hewlett recalled. "I was helpless while he raved. It went on three days. They (the Communists) never attempted to treat him."

Hewlett said sanitary conditions where he was confined were so bad "it's a wonder we all didn't die."

Kaiser Motors Won't Place Bid

UAW Says Corporation Will Not Seek Air Force Plane Contracts

DETROIT (UP)—The CIO United Auto Workers Union said today it has been told that Kaiser Motors Corp. will not bid for future Air Force cargo plane contracts.

Some 12,000 workers were idled at the company's Willow Run plant recently when the Air Force canceled Kaiser's contracts on ground that "union abuses" pushed production costs out of line.

Kaiser since has leased 1,500,000 square feet of floor space at Willow Run to General Motors Corp., which needed new facilities to replace those at the burned-out Livonia transmission plant.

Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, said he was informed that Kaiser "made its decision not to bid after it had worked out an arrangement to lease part of its Willow Run plant to General Motors for the purpose of producing hydramatic transmissions."

In canceling Kaiser's contracts, air secretary Harold E. Talbott charged that planes were being built at Willow Run at four times their normal cost. He blamed "widespread loafing," a seniority system which kept skilled workers off the job and shop stewards who drew large salaries for performing only union duties.

However, Talbott said Kaiser would be allowed to bid competitively with other firms on future Air Force contracts.

Woman Admits Slaying Girl, 14

Says She Shot Sister of Former Boy Friend After Argument

NEW YORK (UP) — A pretty brunette stenographer confessed to police today that she killed a 14-year-old girl at Somerville, Mass.

Mildred McDonald, 25, signed a statement in the presence of New York and Massachusetts police admitting she shot Mary Di Rocco to death in the girl's home Monday.

The victim was the sister of Miss McDonald's former boy friend, who jilted her four months ago to marry another woman.

Miss McDonald said she killed the Di Rocco girl following an argument over a remark the girl made that her brother and his bride were very happy. The stenographer said she held the girl at gunpoint for a while and shot her in panic when Mary made an attempt to escape.

The confession was announced by Massachusetts state police Lt. David B. Murphy, who flew here from Boston after an alert New York traffic officer spotted Miss McDonald in a crowd near Times Square Tuesday night. She had been the object of a three-state search since the slaying Monday noon.

Miss McDonald had denied for several hours after her arrest that she committed the bloody crime in the basement of the Di Rocco home. The girl had been shot several times, her body slashed with a knife and then covered with oil in an unsuccessful attempt to burn it.

After being questioned all night at a Manhattan police precinct stationhouse, she tearfully confessed.

A warrant was issued late Tuesday night at Somerville charging the dark-haired daughter of a respected schoolteacher with first degree murder. Murphy and Somerville detective Robert T. Brady flew to New York early today with the warrant.

Miss McDonald had a .22 caliber target pistol and a paring knife in her suitcase when police searched the room she had rented at a Greenwich Village YWCA after flying here from Boston.

Miss McDonald had dated the victim's brother, Joseph Di Rocco, for about three years before he married another girl four months ago. Members of the Di Rocco family said she had visited their home frequently in hopes of seeing Joseph.

Joseph, 25, told Somerville police he met Miss McDonald on the street Aug. 14 and she showed him a revolver in her purse. "Joe, I'm going to shoot you," she was quoted.

Orchestra Conductor Given an Earful

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y. (AP)—One of the audience spotted wrinkles in Walter Hendl's suit, so the conductor of the Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra changed clothes before 8,000 concertgoers.

Hendl asked for requests from the audience at this summer cultural center last night. Someone asked Hendl to wear a suit pressed better than the one he had on.

Moses was invited by Flint officials to look over possible sites for a city hall and make recommendations. He suggested that a $5,000,000 civic center could be built in the area bounded by South Saginaw, East 5th, East 7th and Stevens Streets.

Officials said any plan evolved would have to be put to a vote before action could be taken.

Highway Builders Take Leaf From Roman Book

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The pounding destruction of heavy traffic on modern highways has caused the revival of some of the basic engineering principles used 2,000 years ago in construction of the famous roads of ancient Rome.

Most renowned road in the Roman system, which at its peak totaled some 50,000 miles, was the 412-mile Via Appia (Appian Way), leading from Rome southeastward to Brundisium (modern Brindisi) and its port of Hydruntum (Otranto), in the heel of the Italian boot.

A recent survey by American engineers showed that the Appian Way is in better condition than many modern highways and streets. In other parts of the ancient Roman empire traces of once fine roads can be found — from Britain's Scottish border to Egypt and Syria.

The Roman roads owed much of their longevity and quality to careful, painstaking construction and to the engineering principle of building extremely deep, heavy foundations. Some of the roads are more than 40 inches from their base of large, hand-laid and fitted stones to the top of the pavement.

Modern roads, built to withstand the heaviest truck traffic, sometimes have built-up foundations as deep as 36 inches. But the deep foundation of the Roman roads and the latest heavy-duty highways was considered unnecessary for many years.

As late as 1934 so-called heavy-duty highways consisted of little more than an eight to 10-inch concrete slab over packed subsoil.

This was the principle of roadbuilding advanced by the famous British highway engineer, John Loudon McAdam (1756-1836), whose name has been adapted into the English language as macadam to describe the familiar tarred gravel or blacktop road surface.

McAdam reasoned that the deep foundations laid at great expense by the Romans were unnecessary if a comparatively thin layer of pavement waterproofed the subsoil upon which it was built. The reasoning held true until the automotive age brought highway pounding never dreamed of by either the ancient Romans or McAdam.

Breakup of thin pavements under heavy traffic led engineers back to the Roman theories. But now great machines do everything from basic excavation to final finishing.

In Roman times the work was done by hand, with slave and military labor. Foundation and surface paving blocks were laboriously fitted together.

It would probably cost more than $500,000 a mile to reproduce the hand-built Roman road today, while the modern concrete equivalent, a machine-made heavy-duty two-lane highway, costs from $60,000 to $100,000 per mile.

The excellent basic construction principles of the Roman roads are returning to use, but other features would rule the ancient highways out for modern traffic.

Because they were used largely by foot soldiers and comparatively slow moving wagons and chariots, some grades were extremely steep — much too steep for easy negotiation by modern wheeled vehicles.

In addition, the Roman roads were crossed by stepping stones that left only narrow tracks for the wheels of chariots or wagons, and they were dotted with arches or gates just wide enough for the vehicles of the time. Horse-drawn wagons or chariots could move through these easily, but they would be next to impossible for high-speed motor traffic.

Grains Inactive, Rally Slows Up

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains sold off on the Board of Trade today, being unable to extend this week's rally into a third day.

Dealings were not active. Selling pressure was not heavy. Main trouble was potential buyers were unwilling to follow the market higher. They wanted some sort of price concession before doing any buying.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 2 to 2¾ cents lower, September $1.89¼; corn was unchanged to 1¼ lower, September $1.51, and oats were ½-¾ lower, September 73¼. Soybeans were 1 to 2¾ cents lower, September $2.53¼, and lard was 10 to 50 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $15.20.

Stocks in Upturn Business Brisk

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock Market advanced today in a rebound from the sharp decline of the past two days.

The advance had moderate force and extended to around a point at the best. Minus signs were scattered throughout the list, but they were small and not concentrated.

Business was brisk at times, but the pace was under that of yesterday when 1,470,000 shares were traded.

Railroads were ahead as were the steels, motors, utilities, oils, coppers, chemicals, aircrafts and the radio-televisions.

A turn ahead of the type seen today was not surprising in Wall Street after the sustained losses of the past two days. Prices had fallen to the point where they became attractive to traders and investors.

U. S. Steel Names Three to High Executive Posts

PITTSBURGH (AP)—United States Steel Corp. today appointed S. M. Jenks to the newly-created post of assistant executive vice president —operations.

John H. Elliott was named vice president operations — steel, succeeding Jenks; and E. H. Gott becomes general manager operations — steel, succeeding Elliott. Jenks, a native of Port Huron, Mich., and graduate of Cornell University, has been with U.S. Steel since 1925 in Gary, Ind., and Chicago.

President Gets Trouble Shooter

Will Maintain Lookout for Economic Soft Spots Around Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter Williams, undersecretary of commerce, has moved to the White House on almost a full time basis as a special economic advisor and trouble shooter for President Eisenhower.

He is in charge of setting up a nationwide alarm bell service to warn the administration of any brewing troubles in the economy.

Williams is a west coast mortgage banker who headed the "Citizens for Eisenhower" movement in the campaign last year. His name was prominently mentioned as a possible choice for secretary of commerce before Eisenhower named Sinclair Weeks to the Post.

The informed administration source who disclosed William's new spot as a top aide to Eisenhower said Williams is putting together a nationwide network of businessmen whose task will be to give early warning of any economic weakening in their areas.

This would then be put together, the source said, with information from all other areas and with the slower reports from the Department of Commerce, the Federal Reserve Board and other government agencies. The administration would use the quick reports from the business world to begin working up counter measures to any impending economic slump, it was said.

The administration informant said that whether Williams leaves the Department of Commerce altogether will depend on how things work out.

GM Acceptance Unit to Expand Financing

NEW YORK — John J. Schumann Jr., president of General Motors Acceptance Corp., announced today that the company expects to file a registration statement on Friday with the Securities & Exchange Commission relating to an issue of $150,000,000 eight-year debentures, due Sept. 15, 1961.

It is expected that the offering will be underwritten by a nationwide group of underwriters headed by Morgan Stanley & Co. The proceeds from the contemplated issue would be used to help finance the company's increased volume of business.

$3 Million Business!

Mom and Pop Both Busy on Do-It-Yourself Projects

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen are going to give Mom more help in getting Pop out of his slippers and into old clothes busily sprucing up the place.

Do-it-yourself isn't a fad anymore. It's a market, estimated to be grossing three billion dollars a year.

Many companies are now giving their products a going over to make them more attractive and useful to the home-fixers and hobby tinkerers. Many stores are planning active promotions of materials and tools.

At New York's Do-It-Yourself Show this spring 50,000 persons paid to see 63 exhibits of materials and processes they could use in the hours away from their jobs.

Tool manufacturers, hardware stores, building material dealers, lumber yards and various retail stores now look upon home-fixers as a major market.

This trend among Americans is a return to the ways of their ancestors, in days when you did it yourself because there was no one else to do it.

But what is this new trend doing to the professional carpenters, painters and builders?

"There's more work for professional, skilled craftsmen today than there ever was," insists William S. Orkin, managing director of Do-It-Yourself Shows.

Maybe Mom figures the family budget can stand having the bathroom painted only if she can get a brush into Pop's hand.

The professionals add another, and perhaps cynical, reason for families jumping into ambitious projects, like making a playroom in the basement.

The final cost could be an accumulation of expenses which might have been quite a shock if realized before you got going.

This isn't fazing the home-putterer, however. Publishers of "how to" books say sales have doubled in the year or so.

The distaff side is busier these days, too. About 30 million women are reported making part or all of their own and their children's clothes.

Sewing machine makers estimate that home sewing has increased three-fold since the war.

Inflated prices and higher labor costs may be making Americans more self reliant—or maybe they find they like doing things for themselves.

IS THE "BIRD" TO SEE

COMFORT, STYLE
LK. FRONT COLONIAL
After a hard day there couldn't be a nicer place to come to than this lovely home that actually has 2 wonderful living rooms. And if you have children or entertain a lot, you'll favor the unique guest house that has even another big living room with a fireplace. This very attractive home is so well built and has so many good things about it that you'll want to stay at home all the time. There's over an acre on this close in lake with a sandy beach, a garden, picturesque trees and a location you'll say is the handiest of all. The children will attend the Webster and Washington Jr. High in the city. Priced at only $22,500 with $7,500 down. We believe this price to be about half of today's reproduction cost. Do yourself a favor and make an appointment now to see it.

Lost Legs Can't Stop Trainman's Fishing

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A railroad accident yesterday cost Barnum E. Medlock both his legs, but the 62year-old trainman said he wasn't going to let that interfere with his fishing.

"I can still fish without 'em," he assured his wife as he was being carried into a hospital operating room.

One leg was severed when he fell beneath the wheels of a Western of Alabama freight train. The other had to be amputated at the hospital.

The veteran of 40 years of railroading never lost consciousness. He told fellow workers that now he was going to retire and do some serious angling.

ROK Asks Registration of Foreign Newsmen

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government has asked the National Assembly to pass a bill requiring all foreign news agencies, magazines and individual correspondents to register with the Office of Public Information.

During the past three years of war, hundreds of foreign newsmen and magazine writers have come to South Korea with U. N. Command clearance only.

Kill, Take 1,100 Rebels in Mop-Up of Indochina

WITH FRENCH-VIETNAMESE FORCES AT BUI CHU, NORTHERN INDOCHINA (AP)— Sloshing knee-deep through seas of mud and rain-flooded rice fields, French and Vietnamese units today drove Communist-led Vietminh troops to the waters of the Gulf of Tonkin and into limestone hills.

The attackers had killed or captured more than 1,100 rebels or suspects in their drive to mop up Vietminh forces in the southeastern part of the Red River Delta.

Grin Is Only Punishment for Barefooted Driver

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—From Hyattsville, Md., Mrs. Mildred L. Hutchison wrote the North Carolina Motor Vehicles Department:

"I was in North Carolina over the weekend and was observed driving in my bare feet. I was told that there was a law forbidding such a practice. I would like a yes or no answer."
