U.S. Money Fights War Against Reds

When Peace Comes, Viet Nam Has Bright Future

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst
SAIGON, South Viet Nam — In the rich, rice-growing delta country today, Saigon a few days ago a United States agricultural expert completed his inspection of a U. S. aid project and prepared to go on to the next one.
The journey by air would take him six minutes from wheels up to landing.

But it was the only way he could go, for the area in between was under control of Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

There are the conditions which led Arthur Z. Gardiner, director of the United States Operation Mission to Vietnam (USOM) to write in his report for 1961:

"With peace, Viet Nam's future is bright, and the work her people have done for themselves can lead to a better life for millions. No one can prophesy when the threats and pressures of the Communists will cease, and until they do cease Viet Nam's social and economic development will be imperiled."
This correspondent has just completed a tour which included Thailand, Laos and South Viet Nam. Among the three, U. S. aid dollars amount to awesome totals with varying results.

In Laos, where the United States took a $200-million gam-

Bible, a Drink
Philip's Advice to Music Buffs

ALBENBURGH, England — Prince Philip yesterday advised music lovers to get with the Bible and take a drink while they listen.

Opening a club for visitors to the Albemarle Music Festival, he suggested the doors might be inscribed with two verses from the scriptures:
"A concert of music in a banquet of wine is as a signet of caruncle set in gold."
"As a signet of an emerald set in work of gold, so is the melody of music with pleasant wine."

He on establishment of a strong pro-Western government, the protracted civil war left results at near zero.

Until the United States cut off economic aid to Laos in February, U. S. aid amounted to about $1 million per month. Presumably, once a neutral Laotian state has been established, Laos again will receive that much and perhaps more.

WORK AT WAR

In South Viet Nam, U. S. aid will amount to about $175 million this year, with the U. S. effort devoted less to social reforms in the Ngo Dinh Diem government than to winning the war against the Viet Cong.

Nonetheless, U. S. interests continue in the development of a better breed of livestock, in the increase in the production of rice, in the development of land and water resources, in vocational training, in irrigation and better means of communication.
Altogether, in South Viet Nam, the United States has poured about $2.5 billion, much, much more than the entire national annual income per capita.

High Court Refuses to Reinstall Judge

LANSING — The State Supreme Court yesterday denied a petition by Probate Judge Henderson Graham by Cass, Tipton County, asking that it set aside an order suspending him from the bench.

The court said the fact that the House of Representatives rejected a joint resolution to remove Graham from office by a 165-3 vote in no way affected its own suspension order.

The court suspended Graham from his judicial office last May 17 after it held he improperly tried to borrow money from the trustee of an estate under his jurisdiction.

Thailand, never a colonial country and generally peaceful despite Communist threats, has shown the best results.

Exclusive of military help, U. S. economic aid to Thailand by the end of this year will have amounted to around $311 million.

Thomas E. Naughton, USOM director in Thailand, is enthusiastic about the efforts the people of Thailand have made for themselves. And he predicts that in four to five years Thailand will be ready to go it alone economically.

The rich land belt running northward from Bangkok has all the advantages of nature, growing almost anything that springs from the ground.

But at present it produces, without fertilizers or irrigation, only one crop of rice annually where it could produce three.

In the north, it has vegetables and rich teak forests. In the south there is silver.

And despite the heat and humidity of its climate, one sees few idle in Thailand.

Test Gls in W. Berlin With Surprise Alert

BERLIN (AP) — Most of the 5,000 U.S. troops in West Berlin turned out at 3:30 a.m. today for a surprise test alert.

They rushed out to tactical positions in various parts of the American sector. After four hours they returned to their barracks.

Such exercises are held at irregular intervals to test the garrison's operational readiness.

An atmosphere too thin to transmit sound waves adequately is found at a distance of approximately 1,000 miles above the earth's surface.

'59 Air Crash in Gulf Labeled 'Cause Unknown'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1959 mystery crash in the Gulf of Mexico of an airliner carrying 42 persons — and a "victim" who turned up alive — was stamped "cause unknown" yesterday by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board said it could find no relationship between the National Airlines plane's disappearance and the activities of Robert Vernon Spears, an ex-convict who had been listed among the dead but was later found alive and arrested by FBI agents in a Phoenix, Ariz., motel.

The Miami-to-New Orleans flight vanished in the early morning darkness over the Gulf Nov. 16, 1959. The plane was a Douglas DC7B.

Spears, of Dallas, was listed as a passenger, but when he was located he told the FBI he had given his ticket and place aboard the plane to another man at Tampa, Fla.

The other man, identified as William Allen Taylor of Tampa, hasn't been seen since.

ALL UNPROVED

Many theories — all unproved — were advanced during investigations, including that the plane may have been sabotaged and that Spears had someone take his place on the plane so that Spears' wife could collect on a large insurance policy.

Spears was sent to prison for unlawful possession of Taylor's automobile.

The CAB acknowledged that as far as the FBI is concerned the case still is not closed.

The board said "unknown cause" was a relatively rare end for one of its investigations. It has determined the probable cause in 94 per cent of the fatal airliner accidents it has probed over 23 years.

But the CAB said the analysis of the Gulf crash rests almost entirely upon circumstantial evidence because the wreckage still lies on the bottom of the Gulf.

Military radar tracking reports indicated that the plane fell into the Gulf of Mexico about 108 miles east-southeast of New Orleans and 30 miles east of Pilotown, La., near the mouth of the Mississippi River.

After an exhaustive search, Coast Guard crews recovered nine bodies, part of a 10th body, five life rafts and debris.

The CAB said the plane was airworthy at the time of departure from Tampa, about 11:30 p.m. Nov. 15.

It added that "the crew was competent, weather conditions were good, and when disaster struck, the flight was very close to being both on course and on schedule."

The board added that it found no operational or maintenance factor that could reasonably be linked to the accident.

Administration Finding It Now Needs 'Business'

It looks as though the Kennedy Administration is working overtime to change the "antibusiness" label. One need go no further than everyday news to discover these facts.

Evidence is mounting daily that President Kennedy and his top aides are seriously out to woo business back into the fold. Apparently they have figured they could "go it" without business, but now this attitude has abruptly changed.

Most reports and inside-Washington gossip have indicated that the real truth is, the braintrusts borrowed from colleges have been laughing up their sleeves at businessmen. At the fancy D.C. functions, these advisers have been joking and quipping over how they are really showing the businessman which way to head.

Apparently this has backfired. At least it is beginning to evaporate and a great deal of concern about the "anti" label is coming to the fore.

Kennedy aides seem to have discovered that to make their policies work they need support from business. The stock market really knocked the Administration officials for a loop. It was the first thing really to make them sit up and take notice that all was not just roses and that the economy was not as good as they had been preaching.

The public was worried and for the first time Washington had to admit it. Now the word is out in official circles to go easy on business. Let's not kick our "golden goose" quite so hard. Some of the recent actions—a little hard for us to stomach—KENNEDY acting like an "ol' buddy" of Blough in a photograph. Our memory is not quite that short.

The drive now is on to show a climate favoring business. The Administration is speaking out on tax cuts, easier depreciation, the need to enrich profits, etc.

Government ACTIONS will only restore confidence. Talk is not enough.

Guest Editorial Market gyrations Show Vote of No-Confidence

(The Dothan Eagle)
Just about everybody except the poll takers (and where are they, incidentally?) has had something to say about the stock market gyrations. Their explanations for the worst ups and downs since 1929 have covered a wide range. Market commentators opined that prices had been too high and were overdue for a decline. Astute brokers observed that investors new in the market and without experience became panicky and unloaded their stocks.

Interestingly, one broker blamed jumpy women customers, saying that 75 per cent of the sell orders he received the first day of the break came from excited female investors who didn't place a single order to buy.

This view was shared by Mrs. RUTH HAY, vice president of United Shareholders of America, who said that her organization was launching a broad program of education for women "to help keep the small shareholder from mass, nervous selling." She said this is of tremendous importance because more than 52 per cent of the stock wealth is owned by women; and when worried amateurs start to run, professional investors are inhibited from stabilizing the market because of heavy trading restrictions.

Pundits who played it close were satisfied to attribute the upset conditions to a gamut of reasons, or theories, ranging from justified to unjustified selling, economics, politics, hopes and fears. But this was not all. There was a general belief, sometimes expressed openly, that the sliding of stock values was inevitable after President KENNEDY moved in on the steel industry where the industry sought to raise prices. That interference at the Presidential level, rightly or wrongly, generated the opinion among many that the Government was going to become increasingly a party to wage, price and profit decisions. This disturbed not only the big but the small investors.

Since then the President has done and said nothing to alter this opinion. Nor has he given any persuasive assurance that he isn't hostile to business, an assurance that must come — along with deeds — if confidence is to be restored among the people who put up the money to keep the Nation's economy sound, healthy and progressing.

The conclusion is inescapable that what has been happening in the market reflects a vote of no-confidence in something.

The Man About Town

Past to Live

By HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND

Wm. S. (Willie) Downes of 1801 Opdyke Road, a longtime friend of the MAT, called with an intriguing item about the Chapman Hotel, nee Hodges House. In 1915 the property was bought by two local men, who remodeled and renamed it.

In the remodeling, done under the supervision of my informant, it was necessary to set in a steel column at the corner of the building, at the same time removing some five feet of stone foundation wall. In doing so, a doubled-over sheet of lead was come upon containing the names of dignitaries at the cornerstone laying in 1838 and other pertinent data.

The new owners left the material intact, added names of prominent contemporaries together with additional relevant matter, and returned the metal receptacle to its original position.

There should be a real treat in store for local Oldsters and the historically-minded when the ancient hostelry is razed and the documentary cache unearthed.

BELIEVE-IT-OR-NOT DEPT.: With the National Open Golf Tournament under way, we're reminded of the feat of Ray McGuire, presently pro at Birmingham Country Club, who, playing an afternoon qualifying round at Plum Hollow for the 1949 Open, shot not one but TWO ace. Despite it, however, he scored a 71—and didn't even qualify... Enough to drive you to an early grave.

From Detroit comes an interesting note from Judge W. McKay Skillman announcing the 50th reunion of the Oxford High School graduating class, of which he was president. The class, at that time, largest in many years, numbered 18. A reunion dinner is planned for Sunday, June 17, at the Oxford Congregational Church with Mrs. E. R. Regan in charge of arrangements.

This seems to be pretty much of a family matter.

Dick Hanson Press reporter, true to his calling, reports that an ardent friendship has sprung up between a Beagle pup owned by Sid Gregory of the composing room, and a sparrow. The two are constantly together and when the pup was being scolded recently by its master, the sparrow became protectively indignant, darting repeatedly at his face in protest against the treatment meted out to his buddy.

Most fathers are so busy keeping up with the procession of "Days" that pace our calendar that they're probably unimpressed that Sunday has been pegged for their special recognition.

So, much as the Old Man will probably feign deep indifference to the observance of the date, don't be misled. He's just as much a pushover for a bit of sentiment as the rest of the race... Why not come up with something really startling—like a little remembrance that he won't end up paying for!

Let Dad Have His Day

David Lawrence Says:

President Fails to Instill Confidence

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy missed at his Thursday news conference another opportunity to clear the air.

Instead, he spoke vaguely and briefly about the problems that have been adversely affecting the national economy. He repeated his previous observation about the need to study fiscal problems.

Even as Mr. Kennedy spoke, the stock market in New York City was recording a drop of from $6 to $8 billion in the value of stocks and was reaching the lowest point since last December—a decline of more than $126 billion.

Not a question was asked the President about the downward trend in business as revealed in the latest report, issued jointly by the Federal Trade Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Now, it is obvious that it doesn't matter much what yardstick is used to measure the value of stocks—whether it is 15 cents earnings, as Secretary of the Treasury Dillon suggested the other day, or 20 to 24 times as the scale has been—little the earnings start downward.

The public has been buying stocks on the expectation that earnings would rise.

But now it is evident that earnings are coming down. Hence values decline, too.

To say that stocks have been "overpriced" would mean something if earnings remained the same. But if the yardstick is being changed, even as the earnings are shrinking, it becomes increasingly difficult to feel confident in the immediate future of the economy.

NOTHING PERSONAL
Confidence or lack of confidence is not a matter of personal likes or dislikes or political antagonism toward an administration by businessmen.

Confidence is really related directly to what the government does about taxes and tax regulations, tariffs, wages and prices.

It is related fundamentally to the question of whether the government is pursuing a sound fiscal policy and balancing its budget.

The President at his news conference painted the economic progress made in Europe in recent years as if it were something worth studying to get some hints for our own government.

But the truth is that countries like France and Germany got rid of most of their war debt by repudiation or revaluation of their currencies.

Also, America handed over plenty of money for "foreign aid."

If France Sam could find some Good Samaritan to wipe out our enormous national debt, which is

While sufficient has already been said of the effects of smoking, coal dusts, and smog on the bronchial tubes, it is not enough to be said that there has been placed on irritations caused by other inhalants such as dusts and molds that produce what is called "farmer's lung" or "silicosis" or "milk-bank disease" or nitrous oxide fumes in "air-pollution" or "air-pollution."

And one of the ingredients of our sprays (PVP) apparently accumulates in the finer bronchi and assists in all efforts of the body to rid itself of these irritants.

So, even if you are a persistent costing more than $8 billion a year in interest alone, and if some of these very prosperous European nations began to share the "foreign aid" burden with the United States more equitably than they do now, America also might move toward a healthy economy.

But the idea of paying off debt is now supposed to be a "sterro-typed" view and just one of those "obscure" theories that have to be scrapped as the "sophisticated" theoreticians hereabout see it. That's what is weakening the confidence of the American businessman.

The administration hasn't found out yet that business really wants only a chance to earn a reasonable profit.

Manufacturing companies in the United States just a little more than a decade ago—1939—were earning a profit on average 11.1 cents after taxes on every sales dollar. But now the profit is down to 4 cents.

Governmental interference in the and its tampering recently with the price structure—which accentuated the stock market decline—might perhaps be termed academic matters now if the administration itself only showed some signs of understanding what is really happening to wipe out the values of American businesses in the markets of today.

'Why Do Politicians Depend on Group Voting Strength?'

I think that politicians place undue stress on the voting strength of groups bearing various political, social or economic labels. Why don't they just try appealing to plain, uncommitted Americans? There must still be quite a lot of them around.

'Keep Our Military Out of U.N. Control'

U Thant appointed Kissinger, Moscow's expert to head the military of the U.N. Kissinger will be Under Secretary for Political and Security Council Affairs.

This presents the "Under Secretary" as the real head. Nothing was said in the proposed charter about the post. An intent has been set forth to establish a command for a U.N. military establishment but stated that "the command shall be worked out subsequently."

Korea was an U.N. action. China attacked the greatest military machine in the world. This was madness or assurances and had to come through the U.N. If Laos and Southeast Asia come under U.N., we will just have another Korea. Our State Department wants to put our military under the United Nations command which has always been commanded by a Communist. If we stop foreign aid you will see us out of there. Russia has four votes to us one vote.

'Why Are So Many Students Failing?'

I would like to ask a few simple questions of the ex-teacher. Why, if the method of teaching is so much better than before, do so many teachers feel they have to fail three-quarters of the pupils in their class?

In our school alone I can name three rooms where the children have not learned what they were supposed to. Is this the method of the teachers or the child's hostility, as the teachers seem to think?

I have told by one teacher with 22 students that 20 were doing failing work. How can this be if everything is running so smoothly and the new method is so wonderful?

Says Abby's Advice Is Wonderful

Abby's "For Husbands Only" June 8 is wonderful. Ruth Millett has given advice to wives on how to treat their husbands, but it works both ways. Has Ruth a husband? I'm sure Abby has. Husbands that miss love and affection should take Abby's advice.

I hope Dr. Crane read "For Husbands Only." Maybe it will make him realize many husbands fail to do those little things that mean so much.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Quit Worrying About Your Health

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE M-41: Raymond E., aged 51, is a department store executive.

"But he is always worrying about his health," his efficient private secretary informed me.

"He goes to a doctor about once per month, and keeps all sorts of pills here at the office."

"He thinks he has heart trouble, though his doctors tell him he is O. K. Then he'll read the medical column in our newspaper, and if it talks about gall stones, he is sure that's his problem."

"Dr. Crane, I've worked for him for 15 years, and he's been ailing ever since I started at this job."

"I don't know what you'd call a typical hypochondriac. I wish he'd become a Christian Scientist and begin to live like a lion instead of a fearful sheep."

"After his negative thinking is even getting me that way, too!"

SUGGESTIBLE MCKINNEY

Many people are like Raymond, for as soon as they read the symptoms of gall stones or heart trouble, they imagine they have those ailments.

And all this modern advertising about vitamins and penicillin and cancer has done probably as much harm as good.

Even the wonderful new hospital insurance policies are likewise making hypochondriacs out of millions of Americans.

Write More About the Girl Scouts

Since I'm not officially affiliated with Girl Scouts, I have been able to observe activities.

Waterford District leaders have earned the name of "trouble-makers," as they will not realize that things must change. Scouts are revolting bylaws and some stubbornly refuse to change for the better. Since Scouts are worldwide their rulings are for the best of the entire organization.

Board members who are rigid and inflexible, fight against progress. Could this be the cause of the disinterest of the Scouts at this election?

Too many place importance upon how much glory they get themselves. If leaders are unable to abide by national bylaws, they have no other course than resignation.

Not Afraid of Changes

Can a handful of Girl Scout board members set rules to suit themselves? This has been done. It is legal to change the bylaws and vote by signing a postal card? When 175 Girl Scout leaders and committee members protest, and when women who have worked for years are deliberately dropped, there is something wrong.

These Girl Scout leaders are women who have spent many hours with the troops and days of training. They deserve the privilege of helping make the rules.

'Where Are Clubs for Newcomers?'

Is there a respectable club or organization where a newcomer may attend and meet people of both sexes of the in-between age (forties and fifties)?

I've been a widow for several years and I've found out being a fifth wheel is far from being pleasant. I go to church and Sunday school, but I've noticed how unkindly everyone seems to be. "Why bother with a stranger?"

We who are alive today, are the offspring of the toughest, sturdiest

Our forefathers, even at the time of the Pilgrim Fathers, had no vaccination at all! And they had no pasteurized milk. Their water was often contaminated.

They had typhoid fever and diphtheria and smallpox and all the rest of the ailments described in our modern medical textbooks.

Romney to Talk to News Execs

Publisher of Press, Harold Fitzgerald, on State AP Program, Too

GAYLORD (U) — Publishers and editors of Michigan Associated Press member newspapers will hear GOP gubernatorial candidate George Romney and a representative of the Defense Department's new mobility command at their annual meeting here today and Saturday.

A third scheduled speaker is Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press and a second vice president and member of the national board of directors for the AP.

Fitzgerald will speak at a Saturday morning business session of the organization.

Romney's appearance is part of the AP association's regular practice of inviting all candidates for the governor's chair to address their annual meeting during campaign years.

Romney is to address today's luncheon session.

Gov. John Swainson rejected a similar invitation to appear before the association this year.

Sections of the two-day meeting are to be devoted primarily to discussions of the Associated Press' news report.

Good Deed Pays for Class Trip of Youth's Pals

OLEN LAKE (U) — Cancer-stricken Duane Richardson's high school graduating class is going to Washington, after all, and Duane will go, too.

Duane's classmates voted recently to turn over their $700 for the trip to help pay for the 17-year-old youth's isotopic treatments for the disease. They forsook the trip.

News of this got out. Offers for help poured in. These now total $1,000 in cash and pledges. The class will go to Washington, perhaps Monday.

Still better news also came. Duane's mother, Mrs. Eugene Richardson, said he has responded well to the treatment. He'll go to Washington, too.

Waterford Twp. District

To Sign for Summer School

Registrations for the summer school program for secondary school students in the Waterford Township School District will be taken Monday through Wednesday at Waterford Township High School.

Classes will begin June 22 and continue through Aug. 3 at WTHS.

Purpose of the summer program is to give students the opportunity to make up a previous failure, to take courses that could not be worked into regular schedules and to provide junior high students the chance to do additional work in basic courses with which they have had trouble.

Registrations will be taken from 9 a.m. to noon each of the three days. Tuition will be $25 for both the two- and four-hour courses being offered.

An elementary school program also will be in progress during the summer beginning June 25 and continuing through August 3.

Waterford Twp. to Offer 'Learn-to-Swim' Classes

The Waterford Township Recreation Department will launch its annual 'learn-to-swim' program the week of June 25 at five area lakes.

All youngsters age 7 to 18 living within the township or the school district are eligible. Cost of the 14-lesson program is $3 per registrant, according to Recreation Director Robert Lawyer.

Qualified instructors will conduct the program and a lifeguard will be on duty at all times.

Lessons will be offered for beginners, intermediate swimmers, senior life saving and advanced swimming under Red Cross requirements.

A swimming location either at Elizabeth or Content Lake is being sought by the recreation department so children in this area won't have far to travel.

When this site is acquired, it will be announced, Lawyer said.

REGISTER AT BEACH
Registration for the program will be held at each beach during the first lesson. There is no need to bring swim suits the first day. Lawyer said, but youngsters age 7 must have a birth certificate.

20th Century Limited Still Gilt Though Golden Age Is Gone

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Going to be late, ma'am?" the porter said to a wealthy passenger. "Oh no. She's not exactly on time this morning, but she's never late."

That was back in the golden age of railroading, when a compartment on the Twentieth Century Limited was a bigger status symbol than a house at Hyannis.

When the "Century" hauled more passengers in a year than all the ships docking in New York, when a partying Chicago millionaire playfully shot out all the lights in the dining car with a revolver.

The age of majestic transportation has passed, but the Twentieth Century Limited still runs. Today, in fact, is the 60th birthday of its famous overnight run over the New York Central from New York to Chicago.

The Century was the first great "name" train. It was the invention of George H. Daniels, a 19th-century patent medicine salesman who entered railroading, created the "Red Cap" and became general passenger agent of the New York Central at a time when long-distance train riding was as about proven as rocket transport today.

The original Century — two five-car trains starting each way from New York and Chicago — began its run on June 15, 1902. The 901-mile trip took 20 hours.

A New York millionaire, John W. (Bet-a-Million) gates, told newsmen as he boarded the first train in Grand Central depot. "It makes Chicago a suburb of New York."

Today the Century is a 16-car streamliner drawn by a 6,750-horsepower diesel locomotive. The running time is 16 hours — from

Scribe Gives Cheer for Alcatraz Escapees

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — I found myself rooting for the three mugs who blew Alcatraz the other night, and who were immediately pursued by an armed task force that included everything except a Polaris submarine.

My feeling possibly can be traced to a slow leak in my reserve tank of morality.

The brothers Anglin and Frank Lee Morris are not the kind of chaps you'd want your slot to marry. The brothers were guests of the feds because they busted a Columbia, Ala., bank in 1955 for $18,000.

Morris, the third of the eleven members of that tiny group which solved The Rock's complex confinement system, withdrew certain funds from a New Orleans bank in 1956—using a gun instead of a ball point.

Bad ones, sure.

But if their escape hastened the day when the cells and dungeons of Alcatraz are spotted and dismantled somewhere else—Yucca Flat, Nev., let's say—the bookends should be called off and the men permitted to join Edward M. Gilbert in Brazil, or go into the surplus grain storage swindle.

LOVELY SETTING

Alcatraz, the island, sits in the center of one of the loveliest frames the Lord ever fashioned on His good green earth.

It was understandable, perhaps, that the Spanish would fortify it to protect the fair city they named for St. Francis.

But that was no reason why it should have become a U.S. military prison in 1858 or why it should have become our Leavenworth in 1932.

His claim to fame, in criminology circles, has been his rep as a madman, security pen.

But that hardly forgives it its very presence in the otherwise breath-takingly beautiful Bay.

San Franciscans who are prone to point to it with pride have always seemed to me to be capable of hailing the erection of a downtown apartment.

If Alcatraz is the post graduate school of American crime then it stands as a bitter monument to our system's inability to rehabilitate criminals somewhere between their first brush with the law and their damnation to The Rock.

OTHER USES

There is an articulate group in San Francisco, which would turn Alcatraz into a garden, a children's playground. A permanent exposition for the products of the states and nations of the Pacific.

But the group never seems to make progress, though Alcatraz, the prison, is about as expensive to operate as, say, the Senate Office Building in Washington, and much more so than the Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial and Statue of Liberty combined.

There are guys there who stole a grand years ago and whose caging must cost more than that per month, all costs considered.

Messrs. Anglin and Morris spooned their way out of the presumably impenetrable bastion.

The keeper of the two-man policy in Alcatraz, N. J., would be mortified if anything like that happened around his clinic.

So, if this can happen to Alcatraz, what further need does the taxpayer have for the place?

Alcatraz is a luxury the federal government could well deprive itself of, the times being what they are. The times require a bit of belt-tightening and a turn toward the culture.

We could elide both. The comparative handful of expensive inmates could be placed in some less conspicuous moor and the area turned over to the garden club.

Only then will the proud claim, "On a clear day you can see Alcatraz from this here balcony" be a reality.

It is said, the civilized mind can only conquer the vista of chains and tortured souls in beret solitary.

Save the cable car! Condemn Alcatraz!

We offer the above slogans, forthcoming gubernatorial race gratis, to the contestants in the they could use an issue or two.

Compressed air, pumped through perforated plastic pipes laid out along the bottom of a fjord where the water is saltier will churn up this water and help combat freezing ice in Norway this winter in a new experiment to cut down ice formation.

Don't Be a Drip Exercise Your Nose...for a Change

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In this day and age, you rarely run across anyone who has anything good to say about the human nose.

By and large, we have come to regard the nose as an unlovely instrument, mostly large.

Furthermore, the word "snell" has for most of us an unpleasant connotation.

This is what makes Dr. James W. Johnston, associate professor of physiology at the Georgetown University school of medicine, such an unusual man.

For the past several years, Dr. Johnston has been making a study of the human sense of smell, and he is pronouncing all the way.

Any disparagement of the olfactory organ is to Dr. Johnston displeasing, for he is convinced that the nose is a wonderful piece of machinery.

I had a nasal-type chat with the good doctor at the opening of an exhibit set up here by Schenley Industries. The exhibit is called "Scent-A-Rama," otherwise known as the "whiffy test."

The purpose of the demonstration is to show how aging improves the smell of whiskey, and how the smell, in turn, improves the taste. Somehow I got the impression that Schenley is in the whisky business.

AGING PROCESS

Personally, I am inclined to think that the effect of the aging process on whiskey is not as important as the effect of whiskey on the aging process of whiffy drinkers.

We needn't get into that. Back to Dr. Johnston.

He and I fell into a discussion as to why smelling is less popular than the other four senses.

Dr. Johnston said it was because most people don't smell well.

It is wrong, however, to hold the nose responsible for this. We have only ourselves to blame.

According to Dr. Johnston, the olfactory organ actually is more sensitive than the human eye. If it seems dull and lifeless, it is because we abuse and neglect it.

We constantly exercise our sight, hearing, touch and taste, while letting our sense of smell go to pot. Many of us hasten its decline by using our noses as smokestacks.

DRIFF, DRIFF

Under such conditions the nose brings us little pleasure. We tend to regard it as merely a pedestal for sunglasses, except when we have a bad cold. Then we criticize it for dripping so much.

But when properly developed, the sense of smell is a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

Mine is a bit clogged at the moment, but as soon as the sinus passages drain I intend to start a campaign to rehabilitate the nose and restore its good name.

Dr. Johnston has convinced me that smelling can be fun.

$25,000 for U.N. Bonds Pledged by Panama

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Panama promised Thursday to bring $25,000 worth of U.N. bonds, bringing the total pledges up to $85,000, from 38 countries.

President Roberto F. Chiari of Panama made the promise to Acting Secretary General U Thant in a visit here. Thant is trying to sell $200 million worth of 25-year, 3 per cent bonds to bail the United Nations out of a financial hole.

Nine Men Run Colorado Against Stiff Current

WASHINGTON — For the first time in history men have navigated the Colorado River between the Grand Canyon's awesome walls.

In 1869, Maj. John Wesley Powell ran the Canyon downstream despite the loss of an arm in the battle of Shiloh. Since then, many have followed in his wake, including tourists on inflatable rafts. But for 81 years no one rowed, or drove a boat upstream against the river's powerful currents and torrential rapids.

Recently a nine-man team pushed a string of jet-powered boats up a course stretching 350 miles through northwest Arizona from Lake Mead to Lees Ferry.

Between the two points the river level rises 2,000 feet. Along the way 15 to 20 major rapids and hundreds of lesser ones seethe and churn, says National Geographic Magazine.

The fleet that assembled on Lake Mead held four 18-foot boats with canvas-covered cockpits and fore-deck splashboards to ward off water.

Senators Trying to Find Out if Union Fails to Protect Dancers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators lifting the neon curtain on mobster terrorism in honky tonk night spots set the limelight today on a dancer, a Chicago hoodlum and officers of the entertainers' union.

The union has been pictured by some witnesses as standing aside while shady night club operators forced girls to sell drinks with sex.

STORY OF SORROW

Senate Investigations subcommittee sources hinted that dancer Anita Lapachok would reveal today a story of trouble and sorrow but gave no details. She was tight-lipped about it too. She would tell newsmen only that she was 27, married and a performer of Latin dances in Chicago and Canada.

How much information the subcommittee might pry from Chicago hoodlum Joey Aiuppa was questionable. He pleaded the Fifth Amendment in an earlier investigation of head-knocking restaurant rackets.

The subcommittee is exploring allegations that some officials of the American Guild of Variety Artists have conspired in white slavery, prostitution, pocket picking and other night club rackets run by crime syndicates.

The subcommittee also scheduled testimony from Ann O'Connor, a union official described as a foe of those under fire in the hearing, and from Martin Cavanaugh, AGVA's Chicago branch manager. AGVA is an AFL-CIO union for entertainers.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., the chairman, told his subcommittee "it is shameful condition they (AGVA officials) permit to exist. They fail to enforce the contracts they make for the protection of these girls."

But Breakdown Rate Is High

Marriages of Mixed Religions CAN Work

By LOUIS CASSELL
United Press International
For many years, pastors had one word of advice for couples contemplating a religious mixed marriage. The word was: Don't.

This is still the first and best counsel they have to offer to young people who are thinking of marrying outside their faith.

But they now recognize that it cannot be their last word on the subject. In spite of all warnings, mixed marriages are taking place in large numbers. Unable to prevent them, pastors are seeking ways to make them work.

There has been no change in the church's opposition to mixed marriages," Father John C. Knott, director of the Catholic Family Life Bureau, said in an interview. "We still say they're hazardous and ought to be avoided. But we are trying to take a positive approach to the ones which do occur."

A similar view was expressed from the Protestant side by David R. Mace, president of the National Council on Family Relations. In a recent issue of the Christian Advocate, Methodist magazine for clergymen, he pointed out that interfaith marriages have a breakdown rate "between two and three times higher than that of marriages within the same faith."

"It is still good policy to warn young people of the hazards involved — and to do it in time," Dr. Mace said. "But the stern realities of the situation demand that we consider what to do if such a marriage does develop."

Both Father Knott and Dr. Mace are convinced that a mixed marriage has a far better chance of survival if the partners avoid the temptation to treat religion as a taboo subject.

Instead of shying away from religion as a potential source of friction, Father Knott said, a Protestant-Catholic couple should "try to build up the religious life of the family from the common elements of their belief."

"They may find," he said, "that they share more important convictions than they had realized. After all, both of them are Christians."

He suggested, for example, that Protestant and Catholic couples join in grace at meals, in saying the Lord's Prayer, and in reading the Bible.

"They can start a little ecumenical movement on the domestic level," he said.

Dr. Mace said it is extremely important for partners in an interfaith marriage to "study carefully the meaning of each other's faith."

TO DISCUSS SUBJECT
"If they can see some way in which to unite in religious loyalty, that is best of all for the harmony of their marriage. But if not, they owe it to each other to take each other's convictions seriously, to know just what these convictions are, and just why they are held."

Substantially similar but more detailed advice is offered by the Rt. Rev. James Pike, Episcopal bishop of California. In his book, "You Marry Outside Your Faith" (Harper).

This book, first published in 1961, is now out of print, but a revised edition is due for publication in August, and will include an inexpensive paperback version.

Bishop Pike points out that arguments about religion are seldom the real problem in a mixed marriage.

"The greater danger is that a husband and wife will maintain a 'studied silence' about religion — and therefore about all of the deepest and most important questions of life."

Bishop Pike believes that this conspiracy of silence has such a devastating effect on a couple — and also on their children — that it would be far better for them to quarrel about their beliefs, which at least keeps religion to the forefront of the marriage.

But it is not really necessary to choose between silence and a quarrel, he says.

The best solution of all — indeed, in his opinion, the only satisfactory solution — is to "face the subject frankly together" and try to find common ground.

Bishop Pike says it is psychologically disastrous for one partner to sacrifice his own convictions and accept his mate's simply for the sake of harmony.

"What is called for is an open-minded examination — together — of the positions and claims of the two alternative traditions represented by the couple, or of any other likely possibilities."

If this joint exploration does not unite the couple in the same church, he says, it will at least lead to "a better understanding and a deeper appreciation of each other's faith."

Offer Course at St. Joseph

Hospital Has Plan to Combat Shortage of Registered Nurses

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital has announced plans to relieve what administrators termed an acute shortage of registered nurses in Oakland County.

The hospital will inaugurate a centralized program of professional nursing education starting in September as a community service, Administrator Sister Mary Xavier, RSM, announced.

The three-year course will provide a basic diploma in professional nursing. Specialized training also will be available in such fields as out-patient nursing and psychiatric nursing due to the hospital's affiliation with various health agencies.

Already some 20 students have enrolled for the course, according to Marie E. Hickey, director of nursing. More enrollments will be accepted, she said.

At present, no other facility in the county is offering professional nursing education.

$700 TUITION
Tuition for the full three years is $700, including room and board, uniforms and books. Scholarships are available for eligible students, Miss Hickey said.

Applicants must be single, between 17 and 35 years of age, graduated from accredited high schools, and able to pass required physical examinations and pre-entrance tests.

The tests and first nine months of training will be given at the school's preclinical center in Detroit.

Initial application should be made by contacting Sister Mary Valentin, RSM, Mercy School of Nursing, 2242 E. Grand Blvd., Detroit.

Rule 9 Hearing Date Changed to July 16

LANSING (AP) — The date for a hearing on the rule nine forbidding discrimination in real estate dealings has been moved up from July 1 to July 16 by the State Supreme Court.

The high court said it postponed the hearing date to allow more time for preparing briefs in the case.

Ingham County Circuit Judge Sam Street Hughes recently held the rule invalid. The rule, by the State Corporation and Securities Commission, banned discrimination in real estate dealings because of race, creed or color.

A group of Michigan real estate dealers successfully challenged the rule. Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley appealed the circuit court ruling to the Supreme Court.

MSU Official Named Dean at Marquette U.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Wayne F. Tinkle, educational director of men's residence halls at Michigan State University, yesterday was named dean of men at Marquette University.

Tinkle, 33, will succeed the Rev. John G. Holbrook, who will shift to the university's development department.

Hospital Volunteers Most Valuable

SCRUB TUB—Gray Ladies at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital perform a multitude of duties that would otherwise have to be handled by nurses or hired employees. Here, Mrs. William Bersin (left) of 1664 Ledbury Road, Birmingham, and Mrs. Richard Delart of 1900 Fairview St., Birmingham, scrub a therapy tub.

"I don't know what I'd do without them!"

That's the way Dr. Walter Obenaus, superintendent of the Pontiac State Hospital, speaks of his volunteer workers.

Other hospital administrators in Pontiac and around the nation share his enthusiasm.

Some 1,963 volunteers give a total of more than 82,650 work hours per year to the four hospitals operating in Pontiac.

Working with hospital employees and at times under the supervision of professional nurses, the volunteers carry on simple, but time consuming tasks.

They help in such areas as caring for gift shop and gift mobiles, stuffing envelopes, sponsoring hospital benefits, dances, open-houses, visiting with and tending to patients.

At Pontiac General Hospital, where there are about 650 volunteers, they supplement the paid personnel escorting patients, assist in diversional therapy, work as receptionists, sort and distribute mail, care for flowers, act as messengers and do clerical work.

800 VOLUNTEERS

Pontiac State Hospital boasts of more than 800 volunteer workers, plus a number of service clubs and organizations which donate time to give patient parties, give recreational, occupational and horticultural therapy, and spend time visiting with the patients.

Gray Ladies, Women's Auxiliary, Youth Service and Junior League members numbering over 400, give their time to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The Women's Guild of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital is only four years old, but the 75 women in the guild carry out the work of running the gift cart and shop, sponsor dances to raise money necessary to operate the hospital, and act as hostesses at hospital open-houses and conventions.

"The value of the volunteer," says Dr. Obenaus, "cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents. They are the link between the hospital and community. Their interest in the patient is the incentive for the patient to want to get well and return to the community."

FRIENDLY CHAT—Mrs. B. F. Dickson of 2108 Linda Vista St., a member of the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Auxiliary, admires a bunny doll belonging to a patient, Kendra Taylor. The friendly smiles and kind words of Osteopathic volunteers does much to make the strange world of a big hospital seem almost like home to children.

WHEREVER THERE'S A WOMAN—There's usually a few powder puffs and eyebrow pencils too. An unusual service is this class in social development and better grooming at Pontiac State Hospital. Giving a well-trained, volunteer a helping hand is (center) Mrs. Charles Harper of 1729 Hollingsworth Drive, Walled Lake, a professional model.

MAKING STAY PLEASANT—Not all volunteer duties are aimed at helping with operational chores. The Birmingham Junior League wheels a cart through halls selling books, magazines, and other items to patients to make their stay more pleasant. Junior leaguers active in this program include (from left) Mrs. L. W. Llewellyn of 3425 Blossom Lane, Bloomfield Hills, and Mrs. Robert Baxter, 148 Pilgrim St., Birmingham.

PLAY TIME—Mrs. Olive Rath of 114 E. Howard St., a gray lady at Pontiac General Hospital, administers a special kind of medication. Her method is motherly. Her tools are toys and story books.

ESCORT SERVICE—Mrs. Roy Dudley of 169 Summit St., takes information from a new arrival and escorts patients to their rooms as a gray lady at Pontiac General.

Man Is Afraid to Live-Graham

Evangelist Says Chief Concern Today Not Soul but Material Wants

CHICAGO (UPI) — The 20th Century is an "age of anxiety and madness" in which Americans are not afraid to die but are afraid to live, evangelist Billy Graham said last night.

"A century ago man's chief concern was about his soul," he said. "Today his chief concern is physical and temporal."

"Vast numbers of people actually believe that if we give them food, shelter, clothing, education and vocational training, then we have attained our goal."

"Many of our statesmen, much of our literature and most of our advertising, support this utterly false view."

The evangelist spoke before a crowd of 35,000 persons — 1,000 more than the seating capacity — at the Lakefront McCormick Place convention hall.

At Graham's invitation, 500 persons came forward to make "decisions for Christ." More than half a million persons have attended Graham's Chicago Crusade and 14,533 have made "decisions for Christ."

The evangelist said that the basic cause of much of our anxiety is beyond the reach of the psychiatrist and the physician. Psychiatric therapy can relieve the mind; physicians can help the body; but only God can save the soul.

Earlier yesterday, Graham carried his crusade inside the walls of Illinois' Joliet and Stateville prisons, urging 2,400 convicts to become God's men. Some 150 convicts made "decisions for Christ."

Refuses to Sing, So Ray Charles Pays $757 Claim

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Blind Negro singer Ray Charles, whose record sales have crossed the million mark, paid a $757 judgment in Fulton County Court Thursday because he refused to sing at a segregated dance in Augusta, Ga.

Charles, a native of Albany, Ga., went blind when he was eight.

The singer's attorney, Guy Taylor, told the court that Charles refused to sing for the dance because Negroes were admitted as spectators only.

Taylor moved that the court direct a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, Arthur T. Wilson, who claimed in his petition that Charles owed him the money spent on advertising. Charles paid the $757 judgment for breach of contract.

Co-Workers Honor Waterford Teachers

Two retiring members of the Waterford Education Association were honored yesterday afternoon at the John D. Pierce High School.

Certificates and pins were presented to Mrs. Ina Kent, principal of McVittie Elementary School and Mrs. Alyce Berrard, teacher at Pontiac Lake School by Superintendent of Waterford Schools William Shumak.

Mrs. Kent is retiring after more than 30 years service. She came to Waterford Township in 1931 after teaching for six years in her native Ohio.

She became principal of Hudson Covert School and later served in the same capacity at the Waterford Village, Drayton Plains and McVittie elementary schools.

Mrs. Berrard has taught at Pontiac Lake School for the past eight years. Prior to this she was associated with school systems in Detroit, Wixom, Milford and Glaston.

Britain to Bow Out as NATO AF Head

LONDON (AP) — Britain next year will give up command of the nuclear armed Second Tactical Air Force in Europe of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and a German, Belgian or Dutchman will take over, Western diplomats reported Thursday night.

They said the German government is striving for the prestigious job that carries operational command of jet bombers and fighters equipped with U.S. nuclear bombs. The force includes American, British, West German, Belgian, Dutch and other allied planes.

It has been under British command since its formation.

Swainson OKs State School Aid

$46.5 Million to Fulfill Guarantee in Formula Is Signed Into Law

LANSING (AP) — A bill giving school districts $46.5 million in state aid to pay the total guaranteed by the state under the present school aid formula has been signed into law by Gov. Swainson.

The state department of public instruction estimated school aid for the year will add up to $282.9 million under the $208-per-pupil formula. The legislature has passed a bill increasing the formula to $224 per pupil in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The governor also signed bills to — Specify procedures for the creation of artificial lakes.

— Provide that funeral directors can issue a burial or removal permit for bodies under special circumstances.

— Amend the Municipal Employees Retirement Act to clarify the coverage for workers who receive part of their pay from other governmental units.

Pen Pals Write After 40 Years

Two Women Met Via Mail in 1922; Still Corresponding

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Two women "pen pals" have been writing letters to each other for 40 years — since they were 16-year-old girls.

Mrs. Clarence West, of St. Louis, the former Eva Marie Belanger of New Bedford, Mass., and Mrs. Ralph Sheppard, of Tulsa, Okla., the former Marie Hetrick of Nowata, Okla., are the persevering letter-writers.

The two were introduced to each other in a "pen pal" column which appeared in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch in May, 1922.

"A pen pal can be a great comfort," said Mrs. West. "It's good knowing someone will answer your letter."

UNABLE TO ATTEND

As young girls, their letters gave a chronological account of their lives. Mrs. Sheppard was married in 1929, and Mrs. West in 1933. Each invited the other to her wedding, but neither was able to attend.

Mrs. West recently moved to St. Louis, "the closest Marie and I have been."

"I feel that we are getting old together," she said. "My whole family knew Marie and felt she was one of the family."

The two women have never spoken a word to each other. But now that they are the closest in distance they've ever been, Mrs. West says: "I'm going to pick up the telephone and call Marie sometime."

Sees No More Room at the Top (of Class)

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The naming of class valedictorian and salutatorian at a high school in nearby Pittsford was dropped this year.

Arnold Carlson, school principal, said all seniors with averages of 90 per cent or better would be honored.

"When tens or hundreds of a point are separating factors (in determining top students) there has been some question over the years by educators and parents as to the selection of two top students."

PSA Shows Profit

All Envy Little Air Giant

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — What airplane even though it carries no mail, very little cargo and has never received a penny in government subsidy.

—Was a woman as its second highest officer.

—Boasts a perfect safety record in its 12 years of existence.

—Was the second U.S. carrier to become 100 per cent jet-powered.

—Competes successfully against airlines 19 times its size?

The answer is Pacific Southwest Airlines, an intrastate carrier which operates only between San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

PSA is little-known outside of California, but is the object of frank envy on the part of many big airlines.

PSA has only five planes — all 80-passenger Lockheed Electras. They operate weekly flights between the three California cities, last year carried 711,000 revenue passengers and probably will carry at least a million this year.

PSA's big prop-jet airliners are beating the competitors' pure jets in both schedules and load factors.

West Visitors Invited for Cup of Coffee

HARRINGTON, Wash. (UPI) — Visitors to Seattle are invited to stop off in eastern Washington and "take a coffee break with a farmer."

The project is, naturally enough, the idea of a farmer's wife, Mrs. Berna Eason of this little eastern Washington farming town.

She thought it would be a good idea to get eastern and city visitors acquainted with rural, honest-to-goodness western farms.

The idea was taken over by the Washington Association of Wheat Growers, which is signing up its members in 14 counties who are willing to have visitors drop in. Information centers will be set up in each community to direct visitors to a host ranch. The visits may be for a few minutes or a few hours. The visitors will be given a chance to see the land, the machinery and the buildings that make up a modern wheat ranch, which in this area may range from 500 acres to 3,000 or more acres.

Reads Red Article, Knows It's Stolen

NEW YORK (UPI) — Space scientist Donald J. Ritchie did a double-take recently when he read an article on the development of Soviet aircraft engines in the Russian technical journal Kridla Vlasti.

Ritchie, a scientist and a leading U.S. expert on Soviet space technology, recognized the Russian article as having been lifted almost totally from one he had written in 1959.

It appeared in the U.S. trade journal Aero Space Engineering. Did the Russians credit their source or include Ritchie's references to Soviet engines having their origin in British or German designs?

Not.

So Women Can't Drive? Well Look at This Golfer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Mrs. Velma Loyal of Phoenix might as well quit golfing. She's accomplished the goal of most golfers — twice.

Mrs. Loyal shot holes-in-one on two consecutive days using the same hole.

Now This Couple Is Really Cooking With-Ahem-Gas

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — With determination, and a lot of electrical sockets, you can cook dinner for six without a stove.

After Robert and Jean Zeh moved into a new apartment, they invited four friends to dinner. The guests arrived, but the new electric stove didn't.

The hostess plunked a chicken into an electric skillet and plugged it into the outlet in the bedroom. Over in the den, her husband baked potatoes in a dutch oven.

The brocoli went into the coffee pot and was cooked in the Soft rolls were heated in utensils connected to other plugs.

When everything was ready, the food was served by candlelight. The heavy load had blown a fuse.

And When He Retires, He Can Sit Under a Tree

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The white collar worker who sits at a desk and longs for his own tree farm is doing something about it.

American Forest Products Industries, the national Tree Farm sponsor, reports that investment ownership of tree farms in the nation has jumped 23 per cent in the past 10 years — from 10 per cent to 33 per cent of all tree farm ownerships, including farm.

Laos Settlement 'Near Plateau'

Kennedy Tells Newsmen Summit, However, Is Long Way Off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy believes the Laos government has moved Soviet-American relations to a new "plateau" but he said it is still a long way to the summit.

The President told his news conference yesterday he was waiting to see whether Premier Nikita Khrushchev stuck to his commitment to support the new coalition government pledged to maintain a neutral Laos.

If the Russian leader does, Kennedy said, "it would encourage us to believe that there has been a change in atmosphere and that other problems could be subjected to reason and solution."

The President disclosed that he and Khrushchev had agreed in Vienna a year ago on neutral Cambodia and Burma as the countries to provide a pattern for the Laos settlement.

Berlin, he said, is an entirely different type of problem and although the general diplomatic climate may be a bit better as a result of Laos, "there is nothing on a summit as yet."

LEAVING ALGIERS — This is part of a crowd of Europeans lined up near the Air France office in Algiers yesterday after a Secret Army broadcast told Algeria's European settlers to flee. The Air France office reopened for reservations after air passage to France had been handled by military authorities for several weeks.

Sudan Africa's Largest

KHARTOUM, Sudan — The largest political entity in Africa is the Sudan, which is larger than Alaska and Texas combined, and New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey thrown in for good measure. England would fit into the Sudan's area of 967,000 square miles 19 times.

Reds Strengthen Berlin Barricade

Out to Show 3 Western Officials Due There That Tension Still High

BERLIN (UPI) — The Communists built the Berlin Wall higher and stronger today to show three high-ranking Western officials coming here that they do not intend to ease tensions or relax travel restrictions in the divided city.

U.S. Ambassador to Bonn Walter C. Dooling was due here today for three days of consultations with U.S. mission officials and probably also with West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer visits Berlin Sunday to take part in ceremonies marking the ninth anniversary of the East German uprising, which was crushed by Soviet tanks.

Next Thursday, Secretary of State Dean Rusk will pay his first visit to Berlin since assuming office. He will come from Paris and stay for only a few hours before going on to Bonn Thursday evening, U.S. spokesmen said.

While the visitors planned to demonstrate Western firmness in holding fast in Berlin, the Communists made it plain that any solution to the Berlin problem will have to be on their terms.

Instead of helping ease tensions, the Communists have tightened their barricade around the city. They have built new trenches, put up additional sandbag barriers, cleared trees to give them a clear field of fire when shooting at refugees and erected more pillboxes.

Salutes of 21 guns by U.S. military forces are accorded only to the president, vice president, rulers of foreign countries and members of ruling royal families.

Pontiac School Affairs

Delay Fuel Decision

The Pontiac Board of Education last night postponed until next week a decision on whether to convert from coal to gas while buying new Pontiac Central High School boilers.

Fuel is a scheduled $75,000 item. The postponement was voted after representatives from local and state coal suppliers made a presentation arguing cheaper operation with new coal furnaces.

The representatives were L. M. Lotofsky, fuel engineer for Consolidation Coal Co. of Detroit, representing also the local Webb Coal Co. in the matter, and Frank & Scott, district engineer for the National Coal Association.

After hearing also from Wendell Smith, school architect, and engineer Gordon Lottis also with Eberle Smith Associates, the board decided to delay action on the administration-recommended conversion.

Both gas and coal suppliers were invited to meet with the architects to arrive at total conversion and operation costs for both fuels.

In either action, the board passed a resolution recognizing Dr. Walter L. Goddard and Mrs. Elsie Mithakis as ex-recited members of the board following a canvass of the votes.

Following the formal session, Rev. J. Allen Parker presented a gift certificate on behalf of the

Ask Him to Go to Club Dance

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Will you please settle an argument my father and I are having? He insists, and I cannot convince him otherwise, that it is improper and cheapens a young woman to buy tickets to a dance and invite a man to go with her.

A: He claims that unless the man is her fiance he will think she is pursuing him. I am referring to a dance given by a club or other organization composed entirely of women. May we please have your opinion?

A: It has always been considered proper that a young woman secure tickets and invite a man to a dance given by a woman's club or organization. Naturally she would not invite a man who has not taken her anywhere or shown her other special attention.

Q: I am 16 years old and will have my first real date next Saturday night. My parents haven't met this boy yet but have heard me speak of him.

A: When he comes to call for me should I be ready and go out immediately or should I ask him to come into the house to meet my parents?

A: You should ask him to meet your parents and be ready to make up for the lack of a handclasp and a smile.

Q: Why is it that so many people say, "Thank you for calling," at the end of a conversation on the telephone and yet would not say, "Thank you for coming," when saying good-bye to a visitor?

A: Although one does on occasion say to someone, "Thank you for coming to see me," it is true that one does far more often say, "Thank you for calling," on the telephone—probably to make up for the lack of a handclasp and a smile.

Q: A friend of mine was engaged and received many presents at showers and at her engagement party. Before any one knew it, she was married—but not to the same man! Should she return the gifts or consider that these friends would have given her gifts regardless of who the bridegroom was?

A: She should keep the presents sent by her family and her own personal friends, but certainly those sent by the family and friends of the fitted bridegroom must be returned.

The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Formal Wedding Procedure," includes details on the wedding procession, the receiving line and other helpful wedding information. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Postage Press.

Will-O-Way Group to Be in Detroit

The Mayor's Committee of the City of Detroit has invited Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater to participate in this year's Freedom Festival.

"The King of the Golden River" will be presented as a gift to the children of Detroit at the Art Institute, June 20. There will be two matinees and the performances are free.

The Will-O-Way production is based on the story by the famous English author, John Ruskin. Celia Merrill Turner has dramatized the story using a minstrel to narrate with song composed in a folk idiom.

A real copper kettle from which the Golden King is "poured" dominates the set. A large Dutch door stands the test of a dramatic, realistic storm. The difficulties of climbing the mountains are portrayed through the use of mine. The glacial river are live girls ranging from 10 to 20 years who move to song and sound.

A child of seven plays the Golden King, a boy of 13 plays Gluck. The Black Brothers, the Seelights, the Wind and the Furious Friar are played by adults.

Don't Dispair, Mom—Abby

Yes, They Can Remarry

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREY
DEAR ABBY: Last night our 19-year-old daughter called us from over the state line and told us she was married.

It is okay for a girl her age to be married in that state, but not in this one.

She and the 20-year-old boy have gone together a year. They are both in college and my husband and I are ready to break their necks. We don't know what to do.

She said she was married in the courthouse and we want her married in a church. Is it too late for that now? Please advise us.

MIDNIGHT LETTER: When your daughter comes home, tell her and her husband that you would like them to be remarried in a religious ceremony. Then speak with your clergyman and he will guide you.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a young man and plan to marry him soon. Recently he told me that he is in the habit of sleeping in his underwear, and intends to do so after we are married. (He picked up this habit in the Army). The thought is repulsive to me. Is there any way I can get him to break this habit without making a big deal out of it?

BRIDE TO BE: Tell him you intend to sleep in yours!

DEAR ABBY: I am a man who likes his night out once a week. I usually go out with my father and we throw darts. My wife started bowling for a night out once a week, too, so I said, "Okay, so go ahead."

She goes out with her girl friends and they stop into a bar for a drink and then see a movie.

I don't like her in bars without me and told her so. But she says there is no harm in it. I trust her, but do you think

I am trusting her too much? We have been married 10 years and have three children.

JOSE: A married woman should not "drop into a bar" with other girls. Compromise. Tell her, "Movies, at —bars, no!"

DEAR ABBY: You were right the first time. In Napoli, Italy they eat pizza with a knife and fork. I saw it myself and have the pictures to prove it.

Here's Approach for Handling Children

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is a sample of a dialogue contained in a new book which offers much wise counsel to parents:

Mother: But we are supposed to show affection to a child.

Dr. B: Who said that? I never said you were "supposed" to show affection.

Second Mother: Well, any authority you read advocates it. Dr. B: I don't read authorities and then do as they tell me. I read books that can start me thinking on my own.

Mother: Anyway, kissing children isn't the only form of showing affection.

Dr. B: Look, we can start all over again? I think we've just been presented with something much more important than the problems of "showing" affection.

As for kissing babies, I think we should leave that to political candidates. More important is your statement that according to all authorities you read, you're supposed to show affection whether you have it or not.

The book is "Dialogues With Mothers" and the Dr. B who gives it to us is Dr. Bruno Bettelheim, psychoanalyst and noted director of the University of Chicago's Sonoma Shannan Orthogenic School, a treatment center for emotionally disturbed children.

FEW RECOMMENDATIONS

As you may have noted, I seldom recommend books by child guidance experts in this column. I refuse to recommend the majority of such books because their authors are often much more interested upon getting us to respect their superior knowledge of children than they are upon encouraging us to respect our own feelings toward our particular Johnny or Marilyn.

I joyously recommend Dr. Bettelheim's "Dialogues With Mothers" because he doesn't give a hoot about our respect for his knowledge of children. He is interested in teaching methods by which we can reach our own knowledge of what Johnny is experiencing when he resists bedtime, what goes on in Marilyn when she tries to shove baby sister from our lap.

By leading us back into our own experiences with fears of loneliness, of being disappointing, of showing ourselves hurt, angry and aggressive, Dr. Bettelheim leads us forward into compassion for similar emotions in Johnny and Marilyn.

This one, dear reader, is a reliable expert.

The book is a transcription of a series of meetings he held with groups of mothers of normal children over a period of years. What we read is the step-by-step process by which the mothers discovered that the questions they asked about their children's behavior were actually questions about their rights to feel what they felt about the children's behavior. As he says:

"We just don't trust ourselves enough to believe that we have the answers right inside us if we dared to look into ourselves."

Dr. Bettelheim taught his fortunate students how to do just that. In his book you can feel the mothers' self-confidence growing as they come into deeper contact with Dr. Bettelheim's uncompromising acceptance of himself.

ELLEN M. SCHACHERN

Ellen Marie Schachern, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. K. Schachern of Miami Road, was among the graduates receiving degrees during Marygrove College commencement exercises June 3. She earned the bachelor of arts degree in sociology and also received a state provisional teaching certificate. She was a member of Jaradan Club for sociology majors.

ALL the Kennedys Make the Headlines

BY HELEN THOMAS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy is gathering together a new wardrobe for her forthcoming travels to Mexico and Brazil with the President.
The First Lady has ordered a number of Oleg Cassini creations for her trip to Mexico from June 23 through July 1. And while she's at it she's picking her outfits for the three-day trip to Rio and Brasilia starting around July 30.
As an American fashion show-case around the world, the President's wife probably feels that her costumes must be stunningly new. Mrs. Kennedy selects her clothes with a discriminating eye but she has her favorite frocks which she loves to wear when she isn't on parade.
Mrs. Kennedy announced on her return from India and Pakistan that she preferred to travel with the President rather than solo. The summer trips will be a Kennedy duty with a few weeks of vacationing in between at Hyannis Port at the summer home of singer Morton Downey on Squaw Island.
RIDING IN STYLE
The First Lady has been seen riding in style lately. Mrs. Kennedy showed up at the National Gallery of Art in the new White House bubble top limousine which was acquired last week for state and official functions.
That makes two bubble top limousines for the White House, including the one President Kennedy uses in ceremonial parades.
The new limousine replaces a bubble top used for 14 years at the White House by former President Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower in addition to Kennedy for a time. It will wind up in the Ford Museum at Dearborn, Mich.

With a little ingenuity, home fabric dyes and trimmings, Dad's shirts can be converted quickly into such garments as a cobbler's apron (left) or lounge tunic (right). At left, the shirt is turned backwards, collar and sleeves removed and tails folded up for pockets. It is dyed a bright blue. Applique pattern was cut out of old sheeting rags. The red lounge tunic was made by cutting off collar and cuffs. Pattern was achieved by placing buttons under shirt fabric and binding them tight with rubber bands.

Retiring Pontiac Teacher Honored

A breakfast in her honor today at Devon Gables marked the retirement of Mrs. Calus Gordon, who is leaving the Pontiac schools after 33 years of teaching. Some 65 friends from Madison Junior High School were present. Mrs. Gordon and her daughter Jean were guests.

Madison principal, George Yansen, presented Mrs. Gordon with a gift certificate and a permanent gold key to the school. A surprise to the guest of honor was the reading of her "last will and testament" by Dominic Palerra, Madison teacher.

Toastmaster was Robert Vaccaro and James McCoy offered the invocation. Sally Leicht sang selections with original lyrics.

CLAUDIA M. BORDERS
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Borders of East Beverly Avenue, Claudia will receive a bachelor of arts degree in education at the University of Michigan commencement exercises Saturday. She will teach in Battle Creek next fall and is affiliated with Alpha Omicron Psi Sorority.

When Malraux was a guest of President and Mrs. Kennedy last month he expressed the hope that in the next five years, America can see all the masterpieces that France now holds. Walker is going to try to make that hope a reality.
CAST 'MR. PRESIDENT'
The new musical "Mr. President," is expected to go into rehearsal soon and already has been cast. A benefit opening of the musical will be held Sept. 25 with proceeds going to the L. Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Institute in Washington and the Kennedy Child Study Center in New York for retarded children.
The show revolves around the life of a fictional president of the United States and deals with the problems he and his wife, teenage daughter and son face in the last four months of the second term in the White House.
Robert Ryan has been cast as the president and vivacious Nanette Fabray as the first lady.
The benefit committee, including several members of the Kennedy clan, is sending out red-lettered invitations to 3,000 persons for the show.

Club Slates Installation
The Soroptimist Club of Pontiac completed plans for the installation dinner, June 25, in Fox and Hounds Inn at a business meeting in Hotel Waldron.
Announcement was made of the appointment of A. V. Carey, Pontiac Soroptimist, to the position of assistant librarian at Delta College University Center which serves a tri-county area in the Michigan Thumb district. Miss Carey has been librarian at Waterford Township High School.
Donations were approved to the furniture fund of Pontiac State Hospital therapy department, the Oakland County Youth Assistance Bureau, Camp Oakland for Boys and Girls Ranch.

Herrington PTA Honors Staff at Luncheon
Herrington School's Parent Teacher Association honored its teachers and school staff today with a banner brunch. The last-day luncheon was held at noon in the multipurpose room.
As the theme was suggested by Flag Day, both flowers and decorations carried out the red, white and blue color scheme.
Service squad girls cared for the small children.
Mrs. David Woodling served as chairman for the affair assisted by Mrs. Sidney Sinclair, Mrs. Donald Hearn, Mrs. Maynard Ramin, Mrs. Nancy Johnson and Mrs. Clinton Lefler.

Here's Exercise to Do It

Build Up Thin Calves

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "I am thin, but it is not very noticeable. However, my legs are quite thin. I have hardly any calves at all. To tell you the truth, I am 13½. The girls in my school wear nylons."

I don't wear them because I feel embarrassed about my legs. Will you please give me an exercise? I will do it regularly. I will be watching to see if you put my problem in the paper. Please do! I think it will help lots of other girls."

A. You are exactly the correct weight for your height and age. The only way to enlarge your legs is to increase the size of the calf by exercise. You do not need to gain weight. You start, beginning with 10 times a day and working up gradually to 50 times daily.

Stand facing the back of a chair. Place your hands on the back of the chair. Rise high on your right toe, letting the left leg hang with a stiff knee.

Lower right heel to the floor. Continue rising high on the right toe and then returning heel to the floor. The right toe bears all of the body weight.

After a while, raise the left heel, letting the right leg hang. Lower heel. Continue, rising high on the toe and then returning heel to the floor. Wear seamless nylons.

Q. "I am 15 years old and have dark rings under my eyes. I get from eight-and-a-half to nine hours sleep regularly."

I am very active and, therefore, get enough exercise—and I eat correctly.

This is very distressing to me because it detracts from my appearance. Is there any truth in the idea that these are inherited from parents? Is nine hours of sleep enough for a girl of 15?"

A. Nine hours of sleep should be enough. Have you had a physical check-up lately? It does seem that dark circles often are inherited and I imagine that yours are. Do not let them make you unhappy. You can cover them up with light make-up.

Want to build up your calves? Place your hands on the chair's back, rise high on your right toe, letting the left leg hang with a stiff knee. Lower right heel to the floor, repeat. Do the same with the left toe and heel.

Q. "I am 14 years old, 5 feet 11 inches tall and weigh 110 pounds. My measurements are bust 34 inches, waist 27 and hips 36. What is my ideal weight and what about my measurements?"

A. You are about eight pounds overweight. Just eat a little less and eliminate rich snacks. Your bust will naturally fill out to be about the same measurement as your hips. Your waist will slim as you lose the extra pounds.

Everyone Agrees That Putting at Oakmont Isn't Easy

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
OAKMONT, Pa. — There have been a variety of opinions offered about the tough Oakmont Country Club course, but every player, including those who were fired person, are in agreement that there isn't a putt of any distance which could have been called "easy."

There have been birdie putts of 30 feet and there have been bogie putts as short as eight inches on the beautiful but lightning fast greens on the Oakmont layout, hosting the 62nd USGA Open.

First round leader, Gene Littler, defending champion with a 3-under par 69, said "I putted beautifully in view of the fast and very tricky greens."

"I holed three 30-footers for 'birds' and the one on 13 went over a 6-foot mountain and took a 10-foot break," he jested.

Littler, fresh from a $2,000 first prize in his Thunderbird Classic victory, commented that he was playing the Oakmont course with the same caution he used at Oakland Hills where he won the 1961 crown.

"I was really shaky on those long birdie putts. I was really playing to keep from three putting," he commented.

LONG EAGLE
The little blond from San Diego thrived an early morning gallery with the only recorded eagle of the first round. His second shot dropped just inches short of a trap in front of No. 9 green. He used a wedge, hit the green 20 feet from the pin and knew it dropped when the crowd let out with a big roar over his 100-foot eagle-3.

This put him 1-under at the turn. He took bogey 5's on 10 and 11 and birdies on 12, 13 and 14. "If I only miss three fairways every day as I did on the last nine I'll be happy," he concluded.

AW: COME ONE!—Gary Player complains quite clearly as he misses a putt in the U.S. Open tournament's first round at Oakmont, Pa., yesterday. He posted a 71.

Yank Reaches British Semis

Davies Overcomes Rain, Foe, 2 and 1; Others From U.S. Ousted

HOYLAKE, England (UPI) — Richard Davies, 31-year-old real estate executive from Pasadena, Calif., reached the semifinals of the British Amateur Golf Championship today with a rain-soaked 2 and 1 victory over David Palmer of England.

The victory pitted Davies against 20-year-old Rodney Foster of England in this afternoon's semifinals.

Foster advanced with a 6 and 4 triumph over Dr. Colin Bird of Scotland. John Poulall of Wales played Brian Chapman of England in the other semifinal.

This marked the sixth straight year and the 16th time in the tournaments since World War II that the United States has placed a representative in the semifinals. The only year America missed was in 1958.

Davies beat England's Geoffrey Marks 5 and 3 in the fifth round yesterday after closing out Peter Flaherty of Ireland 6 and 4 in the morning.

Palmer, a 26-year-old Yorkshireman, had too much driving power yesterday for 30-year-old Robert Sweney of Palm Beach, Fla., the winner of this coveted crown in 1937. He won 6 and 4.

Bobby Nichols and Bob Rosburg, both at 1-under par 70, had good putting days. Rosburg, like Littler, had 28 putts, including nine one-putters and a three-putter. Nichols, a two-time winner on the tourney trail this year, did not have a bogey although he did have a double-bogey six on the third hole. His 30 on the back was the best nine-hole score of the day.

Joining tournament favorite Arnold Palmer at par-71 were Bob Shoener, Frank Byonton, Billy Maxwell, J. G. Goosie and Gary Player even with par. Goosie and Nicklaus at 72, must share the unwanted honor of suffering the biggest collapse of the day.

Goosie went out with 1-under 35 and after 15 holes he was 3-under. He bogeyed the last three holes, however, including three putts on 16 and 18, the last of which was less than 2 feet.

Nicklaus, who was paired with Palmer, had the gallery excited as he started out with three straight "birds," but the big former Ohio State star ran into trap and putting troubles and had to settle for a front nine 37, including a double-bogey seven on No. 9.

In typical Palmer fashion, the Latrobe pro who was naturally the hometown hero of the 17,837 first round crowd, made several great recoveries after getting into trouble on approach shots.

He dropped into every fairway and missed only three greens, but twice he pitched far past the hole and admitted he once misjudged distance and too short of 20 feet on the 14th hole.

"If I hit the same spot in every round as I did today, I'll do okay," Palmer commented. He said the injured finger on his right hand did not bother him, but found it difficult to get used to feeling of his left hand over the tape on the finger.

SHORT MISS
Although he did not get into a single trap of the 20 on the sprawling Oakmont course, Palmer was unhappy because he took 35 putts, including a 2-footer he missed on the bogey 11th hole.

Player, the bogey pro from South Africa, was unhappy over his putting. "When you hit 17 greens and still finish with par, it is pretty evident the putting must be terrible," he commented. Player used a driver on only three tees. On the other long holes he used a 4-wood off the tees.

"I thought the rough was bad, that's why I stayed with the 4-wood," said Player.

Longest reported putt of the day was according to Bob Schoener, 28-year-old Pro from Bethlehem, Pa. Playing in his first Open, he posted a 37-34-71 and dropped a 55-foot on the 16th green.

The shortest missed putt of the day reported was an eight-inch bogey putt by Ivan Gantz of Ft. Myers, Fla., on the 14th green.

Gajda, Knowles Pace Michigan Golfers

OAKMONT, Pa. — Forest Lake's Bob Gajda and Chuck Knowles of Battle Creek each posted a 75 to lead the Michigan contingent in the USGA Open at Oakmont.

Although six strokes behind the leader, Gene Littler, there is still a good chance that Gajda, Knowles and Davey Hill, Jackson pro playing out of Denver, could make it after the second round. Hill also posted a 75.

The guess is that the cut may be around 168. This would mean all three would have to save a couple strokes in today's second round which will qualify the first 50 plus ties.

Bill Stacey, Jr. of Grand Rapids fired a 78 and Bill Markham of Saginaw shot a 74 yesterday. Gajda had his putting problems on the last Oakmont greens despite some very good drives and good recoveries out of the traps. He missed putts of one foot, two feet, four feet and five feet.

On the first hole, his second shot landed 20 feet from the pin. His second putt, just 12 inches away, broke at the lip of the cup for a bogey-5.

ON LINE
On the second hole he hit the green 30 feet past the pin. His putt had the line but stopped just an inch short.

On the third hole, his approach shot went five feet over the green into the rough. From here he chipped about 4 feet. The ball rimmed the cup and rolled six inches away.

For the rest of the front nine, Gajda's putts continued to fall short most of the time, but on the back nine was putting long except on the 58th yard 12th hole when an eight footer stopped just two inches short.

Gajda birdied the 7th hole with a 15-footer and went into the back nine at even par 36. His bogies came on 12, 13 and 18. On the 31st, 16th hole Gajda putted from 35 feet and here again the ball rimmed the lip and went couple inches past.

Smith was very excited. He canceled 25 lessons he had scheduled for Thursday and Friday at his club and started packing for the trip.

A member of his club in Elyria suggested Smith take one of his 1962 autos because "it wouldn't look right for you to show up there in your old car."

After going through all the arrangements he finally started out at 3 a.m. Thursday, hoping to be at Oakmont at 7 a.m. and getting off tee at 9 a.m.

More time was consumed trying to convince the gate officials to let him enter. He raced out to the practice tee, hit 12 shots and hurried to the first tee. Fortunately the starters were 12 minutes late.

He got off a great drive but three putted and started with a first hole bogey. He finished 42-43, including a pair of aces and seven, having never seen the Oakmont course until half hour before tee off time.

Twins Edge Closer to Yanks

By The Associated Press
That's a nifty little scramble in the American League, what with the upstart Minnesota Twins and New York's perennial champion Yankees in their head-to-head duel for the lead. And it would have been even more crowded at the top if a pair of contenders like the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox hadn't hit a snag against a couple of a-larone out, but Billy Moran killed the chance by banging into a double play against reliever Jim Donohue.

The Twins had their opportunities against the Angels' celebrated stay-uplate, Bo Belinsky, but held only a 3-2 lead when the erratic southpaw left in the sixth after yielding six hits and eight walks. Bernie Allen homered against Bob Botz in the seventh, making it 4-2, then Moran's two-run homer in the bottom of the seventh tied it.

Moran, who alternated in playing the goat and hero for Los Angeles, hit in a run with an error in addition to grounding into the game-ending double play, but also had a double and single along with his homer and scored three times.

Danny O'Connell's bases-loaded single in the eighth inning knocked in the winning run for the Senators, who took the series from the Indians 2-1 and won for the sixth time in their last seven starts.

Cleveland fell behind 3-0 in the early going but got even with two runs in the top of the eighth when Tito Francona tripled home Al Luplow and scored himself on a sacrifice fly.

DECIDING BLOW
In the Washington eighth, Jim Piersall tagged Junior Gary Bell for a double, Ken Retzer singled and Gene Woodling walked, setting the stage for O'Connell's deciding hit.

The Athletics' Ed Chicago's fifth straight setback and beat the White Sox for the eighth time in 10 meetings this year, pounding out 15 hits against pitch rookie Joe Horlen and four other pitchers. Kansas City rookie Ed Charles homered his first two times up, his second coming in the third inning with two on and breaking a 3-2 lead.

League batting leader Manny Jimenez had two hits for the A's, Jerry Lumpe homered and singled twice. Jim Landis homered, singled and scored four runs for Chicago.

Gentile raised his league leading homer total to 21 when he connected in the fifth inning at Boston with one on and delivered another run as the Orioles put it out of reach with three in the sixth. Brooks Robinson also homered for Baltimore and added a double and single.

NEED MORE RUNS
"We've got to make more runs," Ferrell said. "There's no doubt about that. But we feel we've got the players to make them. They've just got to start hitting."

And that statement ranks right up in contention for the most obvious understatement of the year. The Tigers have lost eight of their last 10 games, and in the 10 games, eight were decided by one run and the other two by two runs.

With 107 games left on the schedule, the Tigers are in fifth place, five games behind league leading New York.

Ferrell indicated that if a trade is made, it would be for another infielder or a utility outfielder. Last Sunday, the squad brought up Purnell Goff from its Denver farm club to fill the outfield gap caused by Bill Bruton's injury, but so far Goff has appeared only as a pinch-runner.

The Tigers open a four-game series against the Boston Red Sox here tonight. They will be out to break a five-game losing streak.

The burden of the effort will rest on the broad shoulders of Don Mossi, who has won six and lost five. Gene Conley, who has a five and six mark, will pitch for the Red Sox. So far this year, Conley has beaten the Tigers twice.

Qualifying on Docket in NCAA Track Meet

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Nine star Bob Hayes who did not make the trip west, Frank Budd, defending NCAA 100 and 200-yard dash champ, was not in top shape due to a muscle injury. Host Oregon, with 21 men entered in 29 spots, remained a strong choice for the team championship.

From performances this year, at least a half dozen meet records appear threatened. All but three of the marks which were in the 1961 meet have been bettered this year.

Qualifying attention focused on the 800, which wound up with 27 entrants after Oregon's Doyl Burleson and Keith Forman, the nation's only sub-four-minute collegiate milers, decided to pass up the event.

The 800 field was headed by San Jose State's Ben Tucker, whose best is 1:47.5.

NINE LEFT

The mile field, with Burleson and Forman entered, dwindled from 22 to nine and a scheduled preliminary was cancelled.

What appeared to be a glittering field of sprinters was dulled by the event.

Missed Pop Fly Leads to Michigan's First Setback

'M' Last Team to Suffer Loss in NCAA Series

TEXAS TAKES ADVANTAGE OF BREAK, WHITWASHES WOLVERINES, 7-0

OMAHA, (AP) — The College World Series is a throwaway knot with Michigan, victim of misfortune when an easy pop fly fell safely, drawing the luck of a bye while Texas and Santa Clara battle it out on the edge of elimination.

It will be win or get out tonight when Texas and Santa Clara meet at 9 p.m. EST, in the double elimination NCAA Championships with Michigan watching from the grandstand. The winner plays the Wolverines, last team to lose in the tournament, Saturday night. Each survivor has a 5-1 record.

Texas broke open a scoreless struggle in the seventh inning with a run on a 30-foot pop and rode to a 7-0 victory over Michigan Thursday night. Santa Clara had it easy, benefitting from eight errors and sent Florida State to the sidelines 11-6.

Tom Belcher, who pitched his second shutout against Michigan—was battling John Kerr out for out when misfortune struck the Wolverines.

A Texas runner reached second on a single and a sacrifice that made it two outs in the seventh. Gary London hit a pop half way to the mound and catcher Joe Merullo signalled he'd take it for the third out.

BIG CIRCLE

The Wolverine backstop circled under the ball while third baseman Harvey Chapman raced toward it. Merullo had to lunge and missed the ball as the first Texas run scored.

The Longhorns opened the flood gates and four runs in the eighth and two more in the ninth poured through.

Qualifying on Docket in NCAA Track Meet

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Nine star Bob Hayes who did not make the trip west, Frank Budd, defending NCAA 100 and 200-yard dash champ, was not in top shape due to a muscle injury. Host Oregon, with 21 men entered in 29 spots, remained a strong choice for the team championship.

From performances this year, at least a half dozen meet records appear threatened. All but three of the marks which were in the 1961 meet have been bettered this year.

Qualifying attention focused on the 800, which wound up with 27 entrants after Oregon's Doyl Burleson and Keith Forman, the nation's only sub-four-minute collegiate milers, decided to pass up the event.

The 800 field was headed by San Jose State's Ben Tucker, whose best is 1:47.5.

NINE LEFT

The mile field, with Burleson and Forman entered, dwindled from 22 to nine and a scheduled preliminary was cancelled.

What appeared to be a glittering field of sprinters was dulled by the event.

Few Big League Prospects in College World Series

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—There are 53 major league scouts and possibly only three or four future major league ball players at the College World Series.

"But we've got to be here," said the scouts. "We can't afford to miss anyone who might make it."

Traditionally is a fresh-faced major league club opens their wallets the widest. The college season is ending—and the lingering illness of the minor league has made the colleges a top source of major league players.

The hope of signing a future big league star has brought President John McAlle of the Milwaukee Braves, General Manager Paul Richards of the Houston Colts, four New York Yankee scouts and representatives of all 20 clubs here for the NCAA Championship.

SILENT ORDER

One college team here has forbidden its players to talk to scouts. The college has shut off all phone calls to the players at their hotel.

Yet the father of one of the players is here openly soliciting a large bonus for his son.

"My boy has another year to go in school," said the father. "But I'm ready right now for him to sign. All I ask is that the table be covered with green."

TOP PROSPECTS

The scouts say the players in the College World Series are the best chance of shaking the majors are Bob Garibaldi and Ernie Fazio of Santa Clara, Tom Belcher of Texas and Woody Woodward of Florida State.

Only Belcher is a senior. Fazio is a junior. Woodward and Garibaldi are sophomores. Garibaldi and Belcher are pitchers, Fazio and Woodward shortstops.

No Competition at Red Run

Mrs. Hume Wins Crown by a 15-Stroke Bulge

They completed the script at Red Run Golf Club Thursday and it was merely a continuation, with additional emphasis, of the story of the previous two days.

It was strictly a case of no competition for Mrs. John Hume Jr. in the annual Women's District Golf Association 54-hole medal play tournament.

Mrs. Hume, an Essex member, tied a one-over-par 76 yesterday, her best round of the three-day tourney, to win the championship by a whopping 15-stroke margin.

It was the 2nd 54-hole medal play down in three years for Mrs. Hume, a Birmingham housewife and mother of three children, all under eight years of age.

Her closest rival was Mrs. Robert Gamble, the diminutive, pet swinger from Lochmore who shot a final round 82 to go with earlier scores of 83-81 for a total of 246.

HUMES LEAD DAILY

Mrs. Hume's complete scorecard read 77-80-76-233. She increased her lead daily, holding a six-stroke margin at the end of the first round and boosting the cushion to nine shots after 36 holes.

A WDGA headline-maker as the former Marjorie Row, Mrs. Hume will bid for the match play title Aug. 20-24 at Forest Lake, but she'll by-pass the Michigan Amateur July 9-13 at Battle Creek.

Mrs. Hume birdied the last two holes yesterday and for the 2nd consecutive day she sank a 7-iron chip shot for a birdie on No. 17. She took only seven strokes on the 17th in three days, putting just once.

Mrs. Charles Fox of Farmington won the first flight with 89-91-87-267. Mrs. Elmer Cornish of Oakland Hills took the 2nd flight with a card of 93-95-85-283 and Mrs. Paul Witt of Lakepointe was the 3rd flight winner with 95-98-97-293.

Leading scores in the championship flight: Mrs. John Hume Jr., Essex 77-80-76-233; Mrs. Robert Gamble, Birmingham 82-81-83-246; Mrs. H. G. Marquardt, Oakbrook 88-85-83-256.

Mrs. W. L. Mather Jr., Orchard Lake 89-88-89-266; Mrs. J. C. Gaudin, Detroit 87-84-81-252; Mrs. J. C. Gaudin, Detroit 87-84-81-252; Mrs. J. C. Gaudin, Detroit 87-84-81-252.

Puerto Rican Pulls Surprise in Tennis

SEATTLE, (AP)—Charles Pasarell of San Juan, Puerto Rico, provided the shocker Thursday in the National Hardcourt Tennis Championships when he defeated third-seeded Bill Bond of La Jolla, Calif., in their men's singles quarter-final match.

The 18-year-old Puerto Rican student at UCLA disposed of Bond, ranked 10th nationally, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 7-5. In Thursday's other quarter-final Larry Nagler, the No. 2 seed from Los Angeles, defeated Arthur Ashe, Richmond, Va., 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Top-ranked Marilyn Montgomery, San Antonio, Tex., defeated Mary Sherar, Yakima, Wash., 6-2, 6-3 in the women's singles match while Carol Hanks of St. Louis, seeded No. 2, downed Linda Yee, Seattle, 6-1, 6-3.

THE PALMER METHOD

by Arnold Palmer

MANIPULATING THE WEDGE

It has been said that the wedge revolutionized golf by enabling players using it to maneuver the ball from almost any position near the green. The medium wedge shot from a good lie in the range of 70 yards calls for a three-quarters backswing. As illustrated, the butt end of the grip should point to a spot just in front of the left foot at the top of the backswing.

The stance, as pictured here, is square, but if a golfer wants to restrict his backswing he could move his left foot back from the intended line of flight a couple of inches. This automatically shortens the backswing. This illustration is of a full wedge from 100 yards out. Note that while there is a definite body turn, the left heel remains snug to the ground.

Lumbermen Discover Rivals Have Timber

Talbot Lumber could have used some of the lumber that the Huron-Airway team found readily available in Thursday night's Class A City League baseball game at Jaycee Park.

Talbot was practically lumberless, making only two hits, but Huron-Airway went to the wood stockpile, pulled out some heavy timber and belted its way to a 10-3 triumph.

The winners collected 10 hits against three Talbot pitchers with John Lucadani and John Shanks each bagging a pair.

Shanks and Al Barkley swatted back-to-back homers in Huron's four-run first inning, both with the bases empty.

Jim Ray, Holly High School mound ace, received credit for the victory, although he gave way to Jim Wagner in the 6th inning. Ray fanned a dozen batters.

George Porter, Dave Kives and Dave Ross hunted for Talbot with Porter taking the loss. The time limit stopped the contest at the end of six innings.

On the City League softball front last night at Beauvoite and North-side parks, Howe's Lanes nipped 300 Bowl, 4-3; UAW Local 594 trimmed Huron Bowl, 11-4; Elks No. 698 blanked the Pontiac Police, 11-1; and Berry Door outscored Stadium Inn, 2-14, in a wild-and-wildly affair.

Don Kah's sacrifice fly in the bottom of the 6th inning scored Rod Trevis with Howe's winning run. Trevis was hit by a pitched ball and back-to-back sacrifices moved him to 3rd base. Dick McCoy was the winning pitcher and Art Weiss the loser. Howe's was outlived, 9-7.

The UAW bagged 10 hits, three by Tom Metzdorf, in its easy win. Losing pitcher Dale Badler socked a two-run homer for Huron in the 5th stanza. Al Santelle was the winning hurler.

The Elks launched an 11-hit assault to rout the Police. Gary Bee hurled a four-batter to claim the victory.

Berry Door made 15 hits and Stadium 10 in the craziest run scoring marathon of the 1962 season. Berry won the decision with 12 runs in the 5th frame as 16 men batted.

Michigan State Coach Takes Minnesota Post

EAST LANSING (AP)—G. Robert (Bob) Stevenson, Michigan State's assistant swimming coach, has been named head swimming coach at the University of Minnesota.

The Gophers' present coach, Bill Heuser, is coming to Michigan State, where he will serve as physical education research specialist.

Mowman has assisted head coach Charles McCaffrey Jr., since coming to East Lansing from Battle Creek in 1957.

Carl Crowell is in his 10th season as coach of Army's track team at West Point.

Battle Lines Form on State Lakes

LANSING (AP)—With the onset of summer, battle lines are forming again in the continuing and growing conflict between various species of water users.

Primarily, it's a fight between fishermen and motorboaters, with watersiders prominent in the latter group.

Michigan boasts more than 11,000 lakes. Most aren't overcrowded. But hundreds of others, chiefly in Southern Michigan, are jammed with boaters every summer weekend.

The angle causes out boats that roar past a few yards from his fishing spot, leaving a wake that threatens to swamp his boat. Water skiers curse out the stubborn fisherman who defiantly draws a line in the course they have laid out for themselves.

And so the battle goes. Statistics give a pretty clear picture of the problem.

More than 850,000 fishing licenses are sold in Michigan every year, a total that ranks the state among the two or three highest in the nation. Add to that 200,000 or so wives and kids under 17 and Great Lakes anglers who don't buy licenses.

Next take a look at the boom in boating, which has hit Michigan hard.

More than 450,000 motor boats are registered in Michigan, more than in any other state, and last month the total was swelling at the rate of about 3,000 a week.

Put those statistics together, consider the fact that the number of lakes is fixed, the problem is obvious.

The legislature, it appears, is about to act in motion a program to combat the problem. A bill passed by both houses and waiting settlement of differences between the House and Senate will set up a system for adopting rules and regulations for crowded lakes.

The proposed code would empower a three-man state boating control committee to draw up regulations for a lake if the local governing body, or bodies, request it. The committee would be made up of representatives of the Secretary of State, the State Waterways Commission and the State Conservation Department, with the Michigan Sheriffs Association sitting in.

The committee, after hearings and an investigation, would set up the regulations, dealing with everything from boat speed limits to swimming. Its rules would be binding. State regulation would do away with a growing bodge-podge of local rules, recently upheld by the State Supreme Court in view of the lack of state authority.

The code also would boost the $2 boat registration fee, good for three years, to $3 and provide that money for enforcement be doled out to counties on a 2-1 matching basis instead of 50-50 as at present.

Currently, the entire amount goes to the Waterways Commission for harbor construction and improvements.

The Baltimore Colts played all seven home football games in the sun in 1961.

Life Stirs Among Giant Dodger Foes

Associated Press Sports Writer
There's rumbling in the ranks of the National League. The boys in the back room are showing signs of life.
The Los Angeles Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds had been threatening to run away from the rest of the league, but it's beginning to look as if the other boys have found them.
And to celebrate the discovery, the Cincinnati Reds hung a second straight three-hit shutout on the ordinarily pious Giants Thursday night and beat them 4-0, and the St. Louis Cardinals, who

Youth Golf Program Set to Begin Next Monday

The city's 3rd annual youth golfing program will begin next Monday at Pontiac Municipal golf course, the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department has announced.
As an added attraction this year, a series of instructions at Carl Rose's new driving range will be incorporated into the program.

Under the youth golf program, boys and girls from 13 through 18 years of age will have free playing privileges at the city golf course each Monday from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

These free playing privileges start Monday and conclude Aug. 20.

The requirements for participants are:

- 1—Obtain a youth golf program permit at City Hall; 2—Always register before playing each nine-hole round; 3—Learn and practice good golf etiquette.

Interested youngsters must register at the Parks and Recreation office to obtain their permits.

Arrangements are being made for a series of instructions in golf fundamentals at Rose's range.

Three sessions are planned—Saturday, June 23; Saturday, June 30; and Saturday, July 7. Each session will run from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Parks and Recreation officials urge interested youngsters to enroll now in order to reap the full benefit of these lessons.

Rose and his staff will conduct classes in grip, stance, swing and other basic skills of the game.

Boys and girls may sign up for these clinics at either the Parks and Recreation office or Rose's driving range.

A nine-hole tournament is tentatively scheduled July 9 as another highlight of the summer program. Eight awards will be made in four flights of competition—two boys' divisions and two girls' divisions.

For further information about this year's youth golf program, call the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department at 78-1131.

Conduct Final Tuneups for Race to Bermuda
NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—One of the greatest desperado sailing fleets ever assembled on the east coast was getting a final tuneup today before Saturday's nautical classic, the 740-mile ocean race to Bermuda.

With several last minute scratches, about 132 yachts are expected to hit one of four starting guns off Brewster Reef light.

Originally the entry list was closed at 140 boats with a dozen foreign contenders.

No-Hitter at Milford
Displaying a good curve, Dave Dennis, 12, of Highland, gave the Major League of the Milford Little League program and early highlight when he fired a no-hitter recently for the Bluejays beating the Reds, 14-0.

He faced only 19 batters in the six-inning game in his opening start as one of the two boys he walked was thrown out attempting to steal. Dennis had 13 strikeouts and did not allow a ball to hit out of the infield.

McGrath, Conklin Receive Evans Scholarships

Oakland Caddies Get Awards

Tom McGrath of Pontiac and chairman of the caddie scholarship committee of the Golf Association of Michigan announced the winners.

They will be among approximately 450 Evans Scholars in college this fall, including approximately 110 from Michigan. The G.A.M. has awarded 283 scholarships since joining the nation-wide Evans program in 1948.

STARTED IN 1880
This is the caddie scholarship program that Chick Evans, veteran amateur golf star, initiated in 1880. By the end of this summer approximately 1,350 Evans scholars will have been awarded nationally.

Each scholarship covers tuition and housing and is renewable for four years. Its value is in excess of $2,500.

The selections were made possible by the financial support given to the nation-wide Evans program by more than 42,000 golfers this year, including 8,400 in Michigan and the members of Orchard Lake Country Club where Conklin ended and Bloomfield Hills C.C. where McGrath worked.

To qualify for the scholarship, each boy must caddie at least two years at a G.A.M. member club, must graduate in the upper 25 per cent of his high school class, and must need financial help to attend college. The scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis using these factors.

Conklin, a graduate of Waller Lake High School and McGrath will enter the University of Michigan in September and will reside in the Evans Scholars Chapter house in Ann Arbor.

Honor Pontiac Keglers at Champions' Dinner

Five men and one woman from Pontiac ranked high on the list of leg stars honored Wednesday night at the 3rd Annual Champions' Dinner held at the Latin Quarter in Detroit.

The men were from the Veterans Disposal team which won the Class B crown in the Greater Detroit Bowling Association tournament. A big trophy went to the team and individual awards to Capt. Neil Ricketts, Truman McDonald, Bob Lawson, Cliff McBride and Otero Jewett.

Shirley Jewett was the lone local lady to share in the spoils. The Herve Bowl staff member was on the Sport Queen Dances quiet which won the "A" crown of Michigan and the Bowling Association meet. One of her teammates was Dorothy Aldred of Ferndale.

Powerful Stroh's Beer of Detroit dominated the GDBA top division. Gertrude Brown won Class C. Ken McDaniel of Livonia took both singles and all events in the latter class. John Minch of Midland Heights won Class B singles.

Prizes also were presented to the various winners in events sponsored by the Bowling Proprietors of Greater Detroit and the proprietors of Greater Detroit.

Ernie Babcock, who set a new Detroit record with 838, was given an award by former top scorer "Duke" Winston. Special honors went to Herb Case, secretary of the Greater Detroit Bowling Association, retiring area Brunswick representative Marc Baldwin, editor.

Recommend That Night Racing Ban Come to an End
DETROIT (UPI) — It was unanimously recommended yesterday that the ban against night racing be dropped from the code of standards of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations of the United States.

The recommendation was made at a meeting of the board of directors of the association at Detroit Race Course.

E. E. Dale Shaffer, TRA president, said a special meeting of the membership will be scheduled in the New York office of the TRA while the next three weeks to ratify the board's decision.

The membership will be asked to remove the entire section of the code which states "There shall be no racing between sunset and sunrise."

Representatives from most of the major tracks in the country were in attendance at the meeting.

They Taking Themselves Seriously?

Kennedys' Funny Bone Missing

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—The Kennedys seem to be going out more and more enjoying it less.

The presidency is a sobering experience for any man, and a family as close-knit as the Kennedys would inevitably be affected by the onerous burdens of JFK.

THEIR FUNNY BONES
Because their spontaneous gaiety was one of their most endearing qualities, however, it would be a pity if they began to take themselves too seriously. No one wants the once merry, ebullient clan to lose its funny bone.

Attorney General Robert Kennedy's idea of a good joke used to be pushing fully clothed dinner guests into his swimming pool.

The other night at the annual stunt party of the Women's National Press Club, he failed to muster even a weak smile for the humorous lampooning of his brother's administration.

Seated at the head table, Bobby stared stonily at the table cloth while others chortled, and sipped water when it was time to clap. Not once did he grin or applaud.

About midway through the skits, while four press girls sang "We're the Kennedy Clan, Man," to the tune of "Japanese Sandman," Bobby abruptly pushed back his chair and departed.

Most guests did not realize that he returned before the end of the show, but took a different seat near the other end of the table.

Those who observed him in a phone booth assumed that he was checking the progress of brother Teddy's successful bid for the senatorial nomination.

Since White House political pro Larry O'Brien was in the audience, however, it might have been better for him to slip Bobby by the report on the belting.

Bobby's wife Ethel always used to be the life of the party. Athletic and super-charged with energy, she could out-dance any of her guests.

On this particular evening, she said word that she was not feeling well enough to come, but when she learned that a "physical fitness" skit had been woven about her blooming good health, she hastily changed her mind and attended.

The demands on the President and his family are heavy and often onerous. Further, it is doubtful whether any public official likes to see himself spoofed in public.

President Roosevelt, having had enough of Gridiron Club ribbing, declined to attend the famed dinners toward the end of his regime.

Mrs. Kennedy went to the WNPC stunt party last year, but reportedly was unmused by the imaginary role of daughter Caroline. This year she and the prexy both declined.

No one can blame the Chief Executive or his family for enjoying the stunt dinners less than they used to, when they laughed uproariously at the ribbing of Ike's golf and the Eisenhower administration boo-boo.

That's a normal twist on an old tune.

Public, Private Ownership?

Satellite Debate Begins

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate began debate today on the quarrelsome issue of public versus private ownership of a satellite communications network.

The pending bill was a modified version of the administration's proposal to establish a private corporation to own and operate a worldwide network of communications satellites.

Stock would be for sale to the public.

Eventually, the corporation would operate a system capable of relaying commercial radio, television and telephone transmissions to any point on earth.

Several senators have attacked the proposal as a potential giant giveaway to private industry.

SPONSOR RIVAL PLAN
Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., are sponsoring a rival plan requiring government ownership of the system.

Morse at one time threatened to filibuster against the administration proposal.

Under the compromise bill worked out by both the Senate commerce and space committees, the global network would be operated for profit by a stock-issuing corporation.

The Senate measure differs in one important respect from the House bill.

It gives the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) power to decide who should own ground relay stations, the corporation or the private carriers.

The House bill directed the FCC to favor the industry in making its decision.

Only whirling station in the U.S. is at Eureka, Calif.

Can't Go Near the Water in Avon Township

AVON TOWNSHIP — As things stand now, there will be no swimming in the old swimming hole in Avon Township park this summer.

Despite a move by township trustees toward a reopening of the swimming area, prospects for soon eliminating the water pollution problem that forced closure of the swim area in March appear dim.

Oscar Boyea of the county health department said today there was no chance that the swimming area will be reopened for use this summer.

Trustees had decided to write the county and state health departments, the state conservation department and the Michigan Water Resources Commission asking them to look into the problem to determine if a solution can be expedited.

Boyes said although a representative of the Water Resources Commission is expected to join him soon in a study of Paint Creek, the source of the pollution, it will be some time before the condition can be corrected.

Paint Creek originates as an overflow of Lake Orion and joins the Clinton River west of Rochester. The swimming area was formed by gates where the river flows through the park in Rochester.

Septic tank drain field overflows in the Lake Orion area are responsible for part of the problem, especially after a rain, Boyea said.

COST PROHIBITIVE

A plan for an Oxford-Lake Orion sewage disposal system including a treatment plant south of Lake Orion fell through last year because the cost for Lake Orion was prohibitive.

Boyes also attributed the pollution problem to the stream's winding through areas where livestock is pastured.

The Township Board would like to have the swim area open for its summer recreation program.

In other action, the township board has passed a resolution formally accepting Pontiac Township into the Avon-Rochester Regional Planning Commission and retaining the group to Avon-Rochester-Pontiac Township Regional Planning Commission.

The resolution also set representation on the planning commission at five from Avon Township, four from Rochester and four from Pontiac Township, which approved a similar resolution earlier.

Trustees also reappointed Donald Frigo to a two-year term on the planning commission.

Mrs. Helen Frank was appointed as the township's representative to the Avon Youth Service and Recreation Association.

Vacation Church School to Start Monday in Troy

TROY — The Big Beaver Methodist Church will begin its Daily Vacation Church School Monday at 9 a.m. with Mrs. C. Gilbert Bennett serving as director. Classes will be held for children from 4 years through 15 years of age.

Rev. Albert E. Hartog, pastor, has announced a new Sunday morning worship schedule for the summer. One service will be held at 9:30 a.m. Classes for all ages will be held at the same time.

Huron School District to Ask Hike Again

MILFORD — Funds needed to staff new elementary classrooms will be asked of Huron Valley School District voters at the Aug. 7 primary election.

The board of education last night scheduled the election for a two-mill increase in hopes that the proposal will fare better than it did Monday when it was rejected by only four votes.

Supt. Ervin Johnson said the $26 to $28 vote was a "classic example" of the importance of everyone getting to the polls.

"Since the election I've talked to quite a few residents who said they had favored the increase but just didn't get out to vote," said Johnson. "They would have made the difference."

$55,000 A YEAR

The two mills would provide the school district with about $55,000 annually.

It would be used to hire nine new teachers for elementary school classrooms, now under construction and expected to be ready for occupancy in the fall.

Voters in May approved a $300,000 bond issue to finance construction of 20 elementary classrooms.

Funds from the proposed tax also would be used to restore the school system's vocal and instructional program and for general operations.

Current taxes in the district total $2.5 mills for an estimated $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

Information and application forms may be obtained from Mrs. Fox.

Contestants will be judged on talent, poise, personality, speaking ability and appearance.

The winner will be eligible to represent the area in contests to select the Romeo Peach Queen in August, Miss Michigan State Fair in September and other beauty queens.

Information and application forms may be obtained from Mrs. Fox.

Airport Fighters to Meet

A mass meeting of opponents of the proposed Oakland County jet airport will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at Pontiac Northern High School.

Sponsored by the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association, the meeting will feature a talk on the proposed airport by Airport City Commissioner Loy L. Ledford.

Marley Smith, an association member, will speak on taxation. The association has announced that 10 county communities have responded to its campaign against the airport by passing resolutions drawn up by the association against the project.

With a total population of 143,287, the 10 are the cities of Pontiac, Rye Lake and Berkley; the village of Lake Orion; and the townships of Orion, Pontiac, Oakland, Holly, Lyon and Rose.

"Public opinion as expressed through these resolutions definitely points to the fact that the voting public when informed feels that the airport project is not a necessary nor do they wish to assume the expense," the association said.

The group was formed by airport opponents after the County Board of Supervisors voted to spend $32,000 to buy 445 acres in Orion Township as the nucleus for a 3,000-acre jet airfield.

The tax, which provides the township with about $30,000 annually, has been levied since it first won voters' support in 1959. It expires at the end of the year, however.

This time voters will be asked to continue the tax for five years.

The special voted millage is in addition to what the township receives from the county as its share of the 15 mills.

Calling All Gals: Miss Orion Title Awaits I of You

One of the many fair dancings in the Lake Orion Community School District will be named fairest of them all in judging of the annual Miss Orion beauty contest July 2.

Lessons between the ages of 17½ and 20 who aspire to the title have until June 30 to file their entries, contest chairman Mrs. Harold C. Fox, 1044 Miller Road, Orion Township, has announced.

Contestants will be judged on talent, poise, personality, speaking ability and appearance.

The winner will be eligible to represent the area in contests to select the Romeo Peach Queen in August, Miss Michigan State Fair in September and other beauty queens.

Information and application forms may be obtained from Mrs. Fox.

Public to View Lapeer Nursery

$1.2-Million Structure to Be Open June 24 for Inspection

LAPEER — The new $1.2-million nursery at the Lapeer State Home and Training School will be open for public inspection 2 to 4 p.m. June 24. Dr. Anthony M. Abruzzo, superintendent, announced today.

Seven years of planning went into the structure before it became a reality, according to Dr. Abruzzo, who said that construction was begun in the spring of 1960.

The facility, designed by Lim Smith & Associates, Birmingham, recently was officially accepted by the state, which appropriated the funds for the project.

A one-story brick structure, the new nursery has a capacity of 200 beds and will house children from a few months to eight years of age. It is located just inside the administration building, across the road from the hospital.

It is so designed that an addition can be made that will bring the capacity up to 400 beds. This will bring the total cost up to $2 million, which is $800,000 less than the original building because the core of services was included in the initial structure.

Featured are the latest in lighting, bathing, dietary and laundry facilities.

The new building will replace the present nursery that was built in 1923 and has been wholly inadequate for many years. Dr. Abruzzo said. The old nursery will be renovated and used for a different type of patient, he explained.

Extra staff members will be added during the nursery opening house to show visitors through the building.

Bible School Classes for Avon Children Set

AVON TOWNSHIP — Annual Bible school classes for children of elementary school age will be held every weekday from Tuesday through June 26 at the Elmwood Methodist Church at Auburn Road and Grant Street.

Earl Davis, 3505 Donley Road, is chairman of the program.

Ellis is in the Oakland County Jail for failing to meet the $1,500 bond set by Cash.

Ellis is accused of the knife slaying of Bertha Foster, 62, his common-law wife for 17 years.

He said he had come out of the house to ask why she was lying on a blanket on the lawn.

When she didn't answer he said he turned to return to the house and was struck from behind.

It was then that he turned around and "started cutting," he told police.

GRADUATE — Karen S. Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Finley G. Kennedy, 137 Andrews St., Lake Orion, has received a BA degree in elementary education from Wheaton (Ill.) College. Karen will begin teaching first grade at Lexington, Ky., in September.

NEWS OF THE AREA

At St. Trinity Church

Nancy Andrews Wed

AVON TOWNSHIP — St. Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Pontiac, was the setting Saturday evening for the candlelight wedding of Nancy Edith Andrews and Dennis D. Doucette. Rev. Ralph C. Claus performed the nuptials.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Andrews of 3128 St. Clair Drive. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lois Doucette, of 2233 Marlin St., and Maurice Doucette of Roseman, Mont.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of French rose-pointe lace featuring a Sabrina neckline edged with sequins and pearls, and long tapered sleeves. The tiered skirt, also trimmed with sequins and pearls, swept into a cathedral train.

A sequin and pearl crown held her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Thomas Shaw attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridemaids were another sister, Mrs. Ivan K. Wischman, and Dora E. Arnett.

Serving as best man was Richard G. Brooks with the 125 guests seated by Ivan K. Wischman and Gerald W. Doucette, brother of the bridegroom.

IN CHURCH PARLORS

The reception was held in the church parlors, after which the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Northern Michigan.

The young couple will leave later this month for Ashaffenburg, Germany, where they will make their home for the next 14 months. They will then return to the United States.

Arraignment Set in Wife's Death

Blind Man Jailed on Failure to Meet Bond in Knife Killing

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Circuit Court arraignment of a 32-year-old blind man charged with killing his common-law wife has been scheduled for June 25.

Lester Ellis, 2027 Glenloch St., was bound over to circuit court on a manslaughter charge following his examination yesterday before Township Justice of the Peace Lonnie C. Cash.

Ellis is accused of the knife slaying of Bertha Foster, 62, his common-law wife for 17 years.

He said he had come out of the house to ask why she was lying on a blanket on the lawn.

When she didn't answer he said he turned to return to the house and was struck from behind.

It was then that he turned around and "started cutting," he told police.

Freeman believes the pending bill eventually will become law because of President Kennedy's support, a determined drive by administration leaders for it, the fact that "House Democrats apparently are more united on this farm bill than they have been for some years," and his own legislative work.

Economists See Big 'If' to Keep Share of Trade

Same Old Market Story

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made another turnaround this afternoon and prices on key issues moved up.

It had opened with an advance only to see the improvement wiped out as buying interest sank. This was a familiar pattern of recent sessions.

The comeback which followed produced these gains of the day: American Telephone $1 to $102.50, Du Pont $4.12 to $109.25, Chrysler $1.62 to $50.50, International Business Machines $2.25 to $308.25 and Polaroid $1 to $37.

A bit behind the trend of prices as trading went on into the afternoon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .30 at 102.20.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted immediate issues up 1/32 to 7/32 and long bonds mostly unchanged. The market was described as extremely quiet.

An unusually large number of changes amounted to a full point or more in early corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange. Most were on the plus side but overall the only section to edge upward was the rail.

Industrial shares mostly mixed, while utilities were mixed.

Gainers of a point or more included Louisville & Nashville railroad 3 1/2 at 77 1/2, Denver, Colo. 3 1/4 at 85, National City 4 1/4 at 101 and Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric 3 1/4 at 87 1/2.

Ohio Edison is dropped 1 at 87 1/2 and Wisconsin Central 4 1/4 at 80.

Ford Stopped Expected in U.S.

DETROIT (AP)—Ford car assembly plant at a standstill here today and expected to stop nationally to in a series of closures because of a parts shortage blamed on an Ohio strike.

Henry Ford II said in Dallas yesterday that nearly all Ford car manufacturing and assembly operations will be closed by Monday because of the strike at Ford's Walton Hills stamping plant at Cleveland.

A manufacturing plant, Ford's battery plant at Ocosingo, Mich., stopped operating Wednesday.

Later yesterday, assembly plants at Wilcox and Dearborn, Mich., and Kansas City, Mo., halted.

A spokesman for the firm here said that by the end of the workday today all assembly plants for cars would be stopped. He said most manufacturing units will shut in operation for the immediate future.

Ford, in Dallas for a Lincoln-Mercury dealer meeting, said the shutdown will affect most of the firm's 150,000 employees. He said none of the five truck assembly plants will close.

Ford blamed the shutdowns on an eight-day shutdown at Cleveland over work standards. The plant is Ford's sole source of hoods, quarter panels, doors, roofs and trunk lids.

The strike began June 6 after drawn-out disagreements on work rates on 41 jobs.

Top-level Ford and United Auto Workers union negotiators met yesterday at the Ford central office building here for five hours and agreed to resume talks today.

Reports that harvesting of the winter wheat crop had become somewhat more general through southern Kansas and Oklahoma brought a threat of increased early dealings today at the board of trade with soybeans showing the only firmness.

Setbacks generally were small, however, as speculators showed some tendency to ease the pressure of liquidation.

NEW YORK—The United States has a good chance of holding its own against the much vaunted European Common Market in any world trade contest.

This optimistic reassurance of many worried American manufacturers of government of officials handling finance and trade is expressed today by economists of the Chase National Bank, New York. But they quickly add a big "if."

The United States can hold its own—that is, halt the sharp percentage loss of world trade suffered in recent years, with its close bearing on the strength of the dollar and the outflow of U.S. funds.

—If production costs can be held in line with productivity gains.

The bank economists stress that the United States must improve its productivity. American wages aren't the answer to the problem.

After the war, the United States had 19 percent, Germany 17 percent, while 40 percent was divided between 10 others — Belgium, Italy, Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland and Japan.

Runaway Financier Seeks Visa Advice

NEW YORK (UPI)—Financier Edward M. Gilbert, who went flying down to Rio after withdrawing $15 million in company funds, was reported planning a "secret" conference today with a lawyer specializing in residence visas for expatriates.

No criminal charges have been filed against the merger-minded, 35-year-old executive.

He resigned Tuesday night as president of the multimillion-dollar E. M. Bruce Co., Inc., a hardware and manufacturing firm. Soon afterward Gilbert boarded a jet for Rio de Janeiro.

But in the Brazilian metropolis—which has provided a haven for several genuine fugitives—lawyer Joao Chaloupe said an American intermediary had arranged a meeting between him and Gilbert today.

Chaloupe, who in the past has represented several managers, said he was in Brazil to advise on the extradition treaty with the United States.

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's new income tax law, which took effect last week, has been hit by a group of business leaders who say it is "unfair and unjust."

The group, which includes many of the city's largest business firms, says the new law will result in a loss of $10 million in income tax revenue for the city.

Dear Dr. Nason:

I am a commercial teacher. Automation in the business world worries me. How can I, as a teacher, adequately prepare my students to cope with the changes that are a direct result of automation?

The skills needed to survive in a world of automated office procedure can be learned quite readily as they are needed.

If you can instill in your students the habits of accuracy and precision in their school work they will retain them throughout life and make them more easily retrainable for changing jobs.

And, if your students know that they have these habits of learning

Church Women

CHelsea (U) — Leaders of the United Church Women of Michigan decided unanimously yesterday to campaign for the adoption of the proposed new state constitution.

"We think the document will better serve the needs of all Michigan citizens than does the one of 1908 (the present basic law)," the executive committee's resolution said.

The United Church Women, a general department of the Michigan Council of Churches, was active in the 1960 petition campaign that led to the convention.

Negro Leader Cites Work of Urban League Here

A national Negro leader yesterday described urban leagues—like that in Pontiac—as possessing the method of peaceful change needed to accommodate ever-growing numbers of Negroes in urban areas.

"It is no secret," said the associate executive director of the national Urban League, "that the Negro population is becoming more stable in urban communities while the white population is on the decline and moving to the suburbs."

This is a trend which can be expected to continue, said Otis E. Finley.

Finley noted the coincidence of heavy Negro populations in cities which also are the pure of heavy industry.

"Industry will need more trained workers," he said, noting it was obvious where many of these would have to come from. "Unless we train these workers, we will not have the people necessary to turn the wheels; this would be a serious drain on the national economy and the national security."

"Even if only for enlightened self interest, citizens should take a look at what the Urban League has to offer."

"The world is in social revolution," he added. "Change will take place whether we like it or not. It will take place in violence or in harmony."

For the past 10 years the U.S. death penalty has taken the life of 10 per 1,000 population.

Jet Crews Vote Today

Engineers Mull Strike

Need GOP Votes, President Admits

WASHINGTON (P)—President Kennedy, giving Democrats in Congress a light pat on the back, has urged Republicans to ignore party labels and vote for his major proposals.

Kennedy's prod at his news conference Thursday amounted to a concession that he needs GOP votes on some issues.

It was also a challenge to Republicans to adopt a non-partisan stance on "matters of great national import."

As a senator, Kennedy recalled, he sided with former Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower on such questions as raising the debt limit and permitting aid to Communist Poland and Yugoslavia as a tool of foreign policy.

Volume Is Brisk as Mart Revives

Tape Is Running Late as Wall Street Tries to Overcome 4-Day Slip

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock prices, following somewhat the same trend as in two previous days, rose a little, and then turned mixed with some leaders lower in the first two hours on the New York Stock Exchange today.

NEW YORK (P)—The stock market moved higher in early trading today with volume brisk and the tape running late.

The market was struggling to rally from a four-day decline that hit the lowest level in many months.

The market closed yesterday at 362.08 on the popular Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks, marking the lowest level since that average hit 362.57 on Dec. 12, 1958.

By the Associated Press' 60-stock average, however, the market was at its lowest point since Nov. 2, 1960.

Most key stocks today moved up or down within a range less than a dollar in active trading. American Telephone gained 75 cents on an opening block of 10,000 shares and shortly added another 75 cents to $103. Texaco lost 50 cents to $48.50. Several stocks were unchanged on opening sales. U.S. Steel A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z, and Standard Oil (New Jersey) at $49.12.

The deep slide yesterday carried averages beneath the low point reached in the May 1962 collapse, and ended an estimated $5.6 billion from quoted values of issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

Why the market has kept dropping without a show by discounting developments was a baffling question on Wall Street.

Australia Offers Reds Rocket-Test Range (UPI)

WOOMERA, Australia (UPI)—Supply Minister Alan Fairbairn said today Russia and other Communist countries could use Australia's vast Woomera rocket-test range they would comply with Australian regulations.

Fairbairn added, however, that Australia's conditions for the use of the range — including disclosure to the Australian government of any information obtained from its use — made it appear unlikely that any Red-run nation would accept his offer.

WASHINGTON (P)—Flight engineers debated today whether to bow to President Kennedy's appeal to cancel a strike threat against three major airlines and submit their jet crew job claims to arbitration.

The Flight Engineers' International Association set up a news conference for 2 p.m. to give the union's answer.

It was uncertain whether there would be a walkout against the union to give Decision at 2 P.M.; Walkout to Affect Thousands

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Kennedy will be compelled to force new powers from Congress if the flight engineers go on strike against three of the nation's biggest airlines, administration officials said today.

Three big carriers—Pan American World Airways, Eastern Air Lines and Trans World Airlines.

Kennedy sharply criticized the engineers at his news conference Thursday after government-sponsored peace talks that had been going periodically for nearly two years ended in a complete deadlock and a walkout appeared imminent.

The President said a strike against the three carriers would seriously damage the nation's economy and welfare. He urged the union to reconsider his proposal for arbitration by a three-man board.

At Kansas City, Chairman H. S. Dietrich of the union's TWA branch said there probably would be no strike on that airline at least before early Saturday morning.

Union headquarters had no comment on Dietrich's statement, but said Ron Brown, the union's international president, might have a statement in the morning.

Kennedy hinted that if his appeal for a peaceful settlement went unheeded, and a strike was called anyway, the government might move in to seek an early end of the walkout.

He put off a question for the most time when he might seek emergency legislation from Congress to seize and operate strike lines.

No rainfall is expected before the first of the week. Morning winds northwesterly at 5 to 10 miles per hour will become west to southwest tonight and southwesterly at 10 to 15 m.p.h. from tomorrow.

House Backs JFK's Hike in Debt Limit; but Senate?

WASHINGTON (P)—The House has chalked up for President Kennedy what may be a short-lived victory in his fight for a temporary national debt ceiling of $308 billion.

By a vote of 211-192 it sent to the Senate Thursday a bill upholding the President's position after defeating, 258-145, a Republican-backed drive for a $306-billion limit.

More trouble lies ahead in the Senate, Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the finance committee, opposes the larger figure.

Byrd has suggested no compromise figure, but informed guessing is that in its final form the limit will be pegged at $306 billion, a figure the administration claims won't give it enough leeway to deal with fiscal fluctuations during the coming year.

Kennedy suggested at his news conference Thursday that failure to raise the debt ceiling could have a profound effect on the economy.

The question came up when he was asked to comment on Republican charges the administration has been pressuring congressmen to support a higher debt limit or risk loss of defense work in their districts.

Without replying directly, Kennedy said he hopes it was explained to all congressmen that failure to boost the limit would force the government to stretch out payment of its bills.

He recalled that the Eisenhower administration was forced to do this in 1957. Kennedy said the Brookings Institution and scholars from other organizations have concluded this stretchout was a factor in creating the 1958 recession.

The Senate Finance Committee, headed by Byrd, doesn't plan to take hearings on the debt limit increase before June 25. That is five days before the end of the present fiscal year, when the temporary debt ceiling of $300 billion drops to $285 billion.

Also on the early starting list were Arnold Palmer and Frank Boynton, both at even par 71 in the opening round, and Jack Nicklaus, who was one over at 72.

369 PCH Graduates Hear Address

Spells Out '3Rs' for Success

Why does one teen-ager make it and another fail? 369 graduates of Pontiac Central High School were asked in the commencement address given by Don Lonie at Winster Stadium last night.

Lonie, a member of The Assembly Counseling Service of Detroit, compared two young people of almost identical education, opportunity and background. When they are faced with working out their own destiny, he said, one achieves success while the other is a disappointing failure.

Lonie presented a roster of the principal weaknesses and strengths leading to success or failure.

Habits that will kill, he said, are continued tardiness, which reflects lack of planning and lack of respect for the person inconvenienced, the "tomorrow" attitude which delays whenever possible, and the "don't sweat it" philosophy of shrugging off and turning aside responsibilities.

Means for success the speaker sums up in his "3 Rs for Teen-Agers."

The first "R" stands for respect of others and oneself.

The second "R" is for responsibility, he said.

LAST, NOT LEAST

The third "R" is for religion. He

SPEAKER — Dr. Lester W. Anderson, professor of education at the University of Michigan, will deliver the commencement address to 320 Pontiac Northern High School seniors tonight. Dr. Anderson will discuss "Getting the Most Out of Life." Donald Glowatz, senior class president, will deliver an address on behalf of the graduates. The ceremony will be held in the school gymnasium at 8:00.

how to live, they will know how to make a living," Lonie said.

Robert Pomeroy, president of the senior class, gave the farewell address for the class.

Francis W. Staley, principal, presented the class, and Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, presided.

First Class Graduates at Waterford Kettering

Diplomas were awarded to 188 graduates at Waterford Kettering High School's first commencement program last night.

Graduates and their families who filled the spacious school gymnasium to capacity, heard Dr. Tennyson Guyer deliver the commencement address that was alternately serious and humorous.

An Ohio state senator from Findlay, Dr. Guyer told the graduates that, "as long as they have courage, faith and love, they will overcome any handicap they may encounter on the road of life."

Dr. Guyer, who has spoken extensively throughout the Midwest, is often referred to as "Ohio's Ambassador of Good Will."

Following valedictorian Candace Winder on the platform, Dr. Guyer had high praise for the message she delivered to her fellow graduates.

The commencement speaker was introduced by superintendent of Waterford Township Schools William Shunk.

James S. Fry, principal of Waterford Kettering High School, presented the graduates.

School Board President Eldon C. Rowgert awarded diplomas after a congratulatory message to the seniors.

The commencement program concluded with benediction given by Rev. Wayne L. Peterson and the recessional, with accompaniment by Ann Denfelder. Rev. Peterson also gave the invocation.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday in the school auditorium.

20th Century Limited Still Gilt Though Golden Age Is Gone

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Going to be late, ma'am!" the porter said to a wealthy passenger. "Oh no. She's not exactly on time this morning, but she's never late."

That was back in the golden age of railroading, when a compartment on the "Twentieth Century Limited" was a bigger status symbol than a house at Hyannis.

When the "Century" hauled more passengers in a year than all the ships docking in New York. When a partying Chicago millionaire playfully shot out all the lights in the dining car with a revolver.

The age of majestic transportation has passed, but the Twentieth Century Limited still runs. Today, in fact, is the 60th birthday of its famous overnight run over the New York Central from New York to Chicago.

The Century was the first great

"name" train. It was the invention of George H. Daniels, a 19th Century patent medicine salesman who entered railroading, created the "Red Cap" and became general passenger agent of the New York Central at a time when long-distance train riding was as about proven as rocket transport today.

The original Century — two five-car trains starting each way from New York and Chicago — began its run on June 15, 1902. The 961-mile trip took 20 hours.

A New York millionaire, John W. (Bet-a-Million) gates, told newsmen as he boarded the first train in Grand Central depot. "It makes Chicago a suburb of New York."

Today the Century is a 16-car streamliner drawn by a 6,750-horsepower diesel locomotive. The running time is 16 hours — from cocktail hour in New York through dinner, a leisurely sleep and breakfast in Chicago.

In its 60 years, the Century has covered 62,450,000 miles. Habitual passengers ranged from William Randolph Hearst to Herbert Hoover to Jack Benny.

It has averaged 103,000 passengers a year, an annual gross of $41 million. A combination of press agency and the richest opulence on wheels made the Century America's best-known train.

Much of the opulence of plush upholstery and mahogany paneling is gone today — and they've attached an economy coach to the formerly all-Pullman train. But cocktails and comfort are still a byword.

A red carpet still greets the train at Grand Central terminal every day.

The synod, with 124 delegates, is in the third day of its annual session at Calvin College in Grand Rapids which is headquarters for the denomination.

Hospital Volunteers Most Valuable

SCRUB TUB — Gray Ladies at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital perform a multitude of duties that would otherwise have to be handled by nurses or hired employees. Here, Mrs. William

"I don't know what I'd do without them."

That's the way Dr. Walter Obenauf, superintendent of the Pontiac State Hospital, speaks of his volunteer workers.

Other hospital administrators in Pontiac and around the nation share his enthusiasm.

Some 1,985 volunteers give a total of more than 82,650 work hours per year to the four hospitals operating in Pontiac.

Working with hospital employees and at times under the supervision of professional nurses, the volunteers carry on simple, but time-consuming tasks.

They help in such areas as caring for gift shop and gift mobiles, stuffing envelopes, sponsoring hospital benefits, dances, open-houses, visiting with and tending to patients.

At Pontiac General Hospital, where there are about 650 volunteers, they supplement the paid personnel escorting patients, assist in diversional therapy, work as receptionists, sort and distribute mail, care for flowers, act as messengers and do clerical work.

800 VOLUNTEERS

Pontiac State Hospital boasts of more than 800 volunteer workers, plus a number of service clubs and organizations which donate time to give patient parties, give recreational, occupational and horticultural therapy, and spend time visiting with the patients.

Gray Ladies, Women's Auxiliary, Youth Service and Junior League members numbering over 460, give their time to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The Women's Guild of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital is only four years old, but the 75 women in the guild carry out the work of running the gift cart and shop, sponsor dances to raise money necessary to operate the hospital, and act as hostesses at hospital open-houses and conventions.

"The value of the volunteer," says Dr. Obenauf, "cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents. They are the link between the hospital and community. Their interest in the patient is the incentive for the patient to want to get well and return to the community."

FRIENDLY CHAT — Mrs. B. F. Dickson of 2108 Linda Vista St., a member of the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Auxiliary, admires a bunny doll belonging to a patient, Kendra Taylor. The friendly smiles and kind words of Osteopathic volunteers does much to make the strange world of a big hospital seem almost like home to children.

WHEREVER THERE'S A WOMAN — There's usually a few powder puffs and eyebrow pencils too. An unusual service is this class in social development and better grooming at Pontiac State Hospital. Giving a well-trained, volunteer a helping hand is (center) Mrs. Charles Harper of 1739 Hollingsworth Drive, Walled Lake, a professional model.

MAKING STAY PLEASANT — Not all volunteer duties are aimed at helping with operational chores. The Birmingham Junior League wheels a cart through halls selling books, magazines, and other items to patients to make their stay more pleasant. Junior leaguers active in this program include (from left) Mrs. L. W. Llewellyn of 3425 Blossom Lane, Bloomfield Hills, and Mrs. Robert Baxter, 148 Pilgrim St., Birmingham.

PLAY TIME — Mrs. Olive Rath of 114 E. Howard St., a gray lady at Pontiac General Hospital, administers a special kind of medication. Her method is motherly. Her tools are toys and story books.

ESCORT SERVICE — Mrs. Roy Dudley of 109 Summit St., takes information from a new arrival and escorts patients to their rooms as a gray lady at Pontiac General.

Pen Pals Write After 40 Years

Two Women Met Via Mail in 1922, Still Corresponding

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Two women "pen pals" who have been writing letters to each other for 40 years — since they were 16-year-old girls.

Mrs. Clarence West, of St. Louis, the former Eva Marie Belanger of New Bedford, Mass., and Mrs. Ralph Sheppard of Tulsa, Okla., the former Marie Hetrick of Nowata, Okla., are the persevering letter-writers.

The two were introduced to each other in a "pen pal" column which appeared in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch in May, 1922.

"A pen pal can be a great comfort," said Mrs. West. "It's good knowing someone will answer your letter."

UNABLE TO ATTEND

As young girls, their letters gave a chronological account of their lives. Mrs. Sheppard was married in 1928, and Mrs. West in 1933. Each invited the other to her wedding, but neither was able to attend.

Mrs. West recently moved to St. Louis, "the closest Marie and I have been."

"I feel that we are getting old together," she said. "My whole family knew Marie and felt she was one of the family."

The two women have never spoken a word to each other. But now that they are the closest in distance they've ever been, Mrs. West says: "I'm going to pick up the telephone and call Marie sometime."

Sees No More Room at the Top (of Class)

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The naming of class valedictorian and salutatorian at a high school in nearby Pittsford was dropped this year.

Arnold Carlson, school principal, said all seniors with averages of 90 per cent or better would be honored.

"When tens or hundreds of a point are separating factors in determining top students) there has been some question over the years by educators and parents as to the selection of two top students."

PSA Shows Profit

All Envy Little Air Giant

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — What airline: — Makes money even though it carries no mail, very little cargo and has never received a penny in government subsidy.

—Has a woman as its second highest officer.

—Boasts a perfect safety record in its 12 years of existence?

—Was the second U.S. carrier to become 100 per cent jet-powered?

—Completes successfully against airlines 10 times its size?

The answer is Pacific Southwest Airlines, an intrastate carrier which operates only between San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

PSA is little-known outside of California, but is the object of frank envy on the part of many big airlines.

PSA has only five planes — all 98-passenger Lockheed Electras. They operate weekly flights between the three California cities, last year carried 11,000 revenue passengers and probably will carry at least a million this year.

PSA's big prop-jet airliners are beating the competitors pure jets in both schedules and load factors.

West Visitors Invited for Cup of Coffee

HARRINGTON, Wash. (UPI) — Visitors to Seattle are invited to stop off in eastern Washington and "take a coffee break with a farmer."

The project is, naturally enough, the idea of a farmer's wife, Mrs. Berna Easton of this little eastern Washington farming town.

She thought it would be a good idea to get eastern and city visitors acquainted with real, honest-to-goodness western farms.

The idea was taken over by the Washington Association of Wheat Growers, which is signing up its members in 14 counties who are willing to have visitors drop in.

Information centers will be set up in each community to direct visitors to a host ranch.

The visits may be for a few minutes or a few hours. The visitors will be given a chance to see the land, the machinery and the buildings that make up a modern wheat ranch, which in this area may range from 500 acres to 3,000 or more acres.

A husky, curly-haired ex-flight instructor named Kenneth G. Friedl started PSA in 1949 when he leased a DC-3 to haul Navy personnel between San Diego and Oakland.

His attractive wife Jean is the company's executive vice president and the title is no honorary one, she not only takes an active role in the business but personally designed the Electra's interiors.

PSA is one of three intrastate airlines operating in the continental United States (the others are Apache which flies in Arizona and Aspen which operates in Colorado).

Pacific Southwest's fares run about 30 per cent under those of the interstate carriers. Because it is 100 per cent privately-owned, its finances are not public record.

Friedl merely says the airline is run at a profit.

He now has a payroll of 408 and competitors readily concede that PSA employees have a fierce, almost belligerent loyalty to their company.

Reads Red Article, Knows It's Stolen

NEW YORK (UPI) — Space scientist Donald J. Ritchie did a double-take recently when he read an article on the development of Soviet aircraft engines in the Russian technical journal Kridla Visti.

Ritchie, a scientist and a leading U.S. expert on Soviet space technology, recognized the Russian article as having been lifted almost totally from one he had written in 1959.

It appeared in the U.S. trade journal Aero Space Engineering. Did the Russians credit their source or include Ritchie's references to Soviet engines having their origin in British or German designs?

Now This Couple Is Really Cooking With-Ahem-Gas

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — With determination, and a lot of electrical sockets, you can cook dinner for six without a stove.

After Robert and Jean Zeh moved into a new apartment, they invited four friends to dinner. The guests arrived, but the new electric stove didn't.

The hostess plunked a chicken into an electric skillet and plugged it into the outlet in the bedroom.

Over in the den, her husband baked potatoes in a dutch oven. The brocoli went into the coffee pot and was cooked in the hall.

Soft rolls were heated in utensils connected to other plugs. When everything was ready, the food was served by candlelight. The heavy load had blown a fuse.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The white collar worker who sits at a desk and longs for his own tree farm is doing something about it.

American Forest Products Industries, the national Tree Farm sponsor, reports that investment ownership of tree farms in the nation has jumped 23 per cent in the past 10 years — from 10 per cent to 33 per cent of all tree farm ownerships, including farm

Laos Settlement 'Near Plateau'

Kennedy Tells Newsmen Summit, However, Is Long Way Off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy believes the Laos government has moved Soviet-American relations to a new "plateau" but he said it is still a long way to the summit.

The President told his news conference yesterday he was waiting to see whether Premier Nikita Khrushchev stuck to his commitment to support the new coalition government pledged to maintain a neutral Laos.

If the Russian leader does, Kennedy said, "it would encourage us to believe that there has been a change in atmosphere and that other problems could be subjected to reason and justice."

The President disclosed that he and Khrushchev had agreed in Vienna a year ago on neutral Cambodia and Burma as the countries to provide a pattern for the Laos settlement.

Berlin, he said, is an entirely different type of problem and although the general diplomatic climate may be a bit better as a result of Laos, "there is nothing on a summit as yet."

LEAVING ALGIERS — This is part of a crowd of Europeans lined up near the Air France office in Algiers yesterday after a Secret Army broadcast told Algeria's European settlers to flee. The Air France office reopened for reservations after air passage to France had been handled by military authorities for several weeks.

Sudan Africa's Largest

KHARTOUM, Sudan The largest political entity in Africa is the Sudan, which is larger than Alaska and Texas combined. With New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey thrown in for good measure, England would fit into the Sudan's area of 967,000 square miles 19 times.

Reds Strengthen Berlin Barricade

Out to Show 3 Western Officials Due There That Tension Still High

BERLIN (UPI) — The Communists built the Berlin Wall higher and stronger today to show three high-ranking Western officials coming here that they do not intend to ease tensions or relax travel restrictions in the divided city.

U.S. Ambassador to Bonn Walter C. Dowling was due here today for three days of consultations with U.S. mission officials and probably also with West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer visits Berlin Sunday to take part in ceremonies marking the ninth anniversary of the East German uprising, which was crushed by Soviet tanks.

Next Thursday, Secretary of State Dean Rusk will pay his first visit to Berlin since assuming office. He will come from Paris and stay for only a few hours before going on to Bonn Thursday evening, U.S. spokesmen said.

While the visitors planned to demonstrate Western firmness to hold fast in Berlin, the Communists made it plain that any solution to the Berlin problem will have to be on their terms.

Instead of helping ease tensions, the Communists have tightened their barricade around the city. They have built new trenches, put up additional sandbag barriers, cleared trees to give them a clearer field of fire when shooting at refugees and erected more pill-boxes.

Salaries of 21 guns by U.S. military forces are accorded only to the president, vice president, rulers of foreign countries and members of ruling royal families.

Carpenters Big Hatted

BERLIN — Master carpenters in Berlin can be identified by their dress — wide black trousers and a big black "picture" hats. A staff is part of this traditional garb. Berlin's chimney sweeps wear top hats.

Here's Exercise to Do It

Build Up Thin Calves

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "I am thin, but it is not very noticeable. However, my legs are quite thin. I have hardly any calves at all. To tell you the truth, I am 13½. The girls in my school wear nylons.

I don't wear them because I feel embarrassed about my legs. Will you please give me an exercise? I will do it regularly. I will be watching to see if you put my problem in the paper. Please do! I think it will help lots of other girls."

A. You are exactly the correct weight for your height and age. The only way to enlarge your legs is to increase the size of the calf by exercise. You do not need to gain weight. Do this, beginning with 10 times a day and working up gradually to 50 times daily.

Stand facing the back of a chair. Place your hands on the back of the chair. Rise high on your right toe, letting the left leg hang with a stiff knee.

Lower right heel to the floor. Continue rising high on the right toe and then returning heel to the floor. The right toe bears all of the body weight.

After a while, raise the left heel, letting the right leg hang. Lower heel. Continue rising high on the toe and then returning heel to the floor. Wear seamless nylons.

Q. "I am 15 years old and I have dark rings under my eyes. I get from eight-and-a-half to nine hours sleep, regularly.

I am very active and, therefore, get enough exercise—and I eat correctly.

This is very distressing to me because it detracts from my appearance. Is there any truth in the idea that these are inherited from parents? Is nine hours of make-up sleep enough for a girl of 15?"

A. Nine hours of sleep should be enough. Have you had a physical checkup lately? It does seem that dark circles often are inherited and I imagine that yours are. Do not let them make you unhappy. You can cover them up with light makeup.

Q. "I am 14 years old, 5 feet tall and weigh 110 pounds. My measurements are bust 34 inches, waist 27 and hips 36. What is my ideal weight and what about my measurements?"

A. You are about eight pounds overweight. Just eat a little less and eliminate rich snacks. Your bust will naturally fill out to be about the same measurement as your hips. Your waist will slim as you lose the extra pounds.

Toss That Mink 'Towel'

NEW YORK (NEA) — There's a new mink stole shape coming, fashion news says that most women will welcome.

For while a mink stole may be a girl's best friend in many ways, it often doesn't look that way. Slung around the shoulders like a bath towel, it's anything but graceful. Some women have a flair for wearing the mink stole, true, but they are in the minority.

The new shawl or triangle shape takes care of this problem nicely. It leaves the hands free and rids one of the desperate, clutching gesture. It's actually not a stole at all. Rather, it's a little fur wrap designed in depth from shallow to fairly deep.

Whatever its depth, the triangle shape remains a constant. And that that makes this new fur simple to wear. It ties, clasps or snaps at the front, stays snugly where it belongs and looks lovely.

One New York designer has done this little wrap in every shading of mink from white to ranch. And in many variations.

If you're reluctant to replace that mink towel you've been wearing, it's always possible to have it restyled just for you in the shawl shape.

On the other hand, if you've been looking for an excuse to buy a new fur wrap, it's here. And just think of all the air-conditioned spots in which you can wear it all summer long!

Of all the workers in the U.S., only about 10 per cent are self-employed, according to census reports.
