Coffee Break Exposed!

Press Reporter Challenges Lie Detector; Falls Victim to Cold, Calculating Science

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

This reporter is the victim of cold, calculating science and psychological warfare.

I entered Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem's office yesterday under suspicion of taking an illegal coffee break.

My confidence was supreme.

I was sure I could answer any questions put to me with bold-faced lies which would assure my leaving with reputation unsullied and job not in jeopardy.

Then Ziem closed the trap.

He winked meaningfully at Chief Investigator Robert C. Miller, who uncovered a fiendish looking box covered with gauges and sprouting two black cords.

"This is a lie detector," said Miller, chortling gleefully, "and I know how to operate it. This machine is 95 per cent perfect at catching a man who states a falsehood."

I was slightly taken aback, but still composed. I would keep my emotions under control and beat science.

Miller sat me down and attached the cords to each of my middle fingers with ring-like metal plates.

"This is an electric psychometer, the first machine of its type we've had for our use," he stated.

"Big words don't scare me," I retorted (wishing my hands would stop shaking).

Miller leered slyly and said, "It measures changes in your skin caused by fluctuations in blood pressure, breathing rate and the nervous system."

I promptly attempted to suppress my blood pressure, control my breathing and calm my nerves. (Who was the scoundrel who invented coffee?)

Miller arranged a series of vicious looking charts. "When you tell a lie the needles of these gauges will jump and we'll have you," he chuckled.

"I'm innocent, drink nothing but milk," I said, assuming a persecuted air (wishing I could see those gauges).

Then the questioning began. Miller's queries were ridiculous things like, "Who's your favorite movie star?" "He's setting me up for the kill," I thought, "Down pulse, down boy."

After some 20 minutes of nerve-racking, passing-the-time-of-day questions, the wily investigator suddenly said, "How many cups of coffee did you have yesterday?"

"None," I said. "Aha," he said, and took a calculated glance at Ziem.

"Did my pulse jump just a little?" I thought, trying to stop my left eyelid from twitching while loosening my tie.

Then the innocent questions started all over again. Finally the evil questioner asked, "Did you drink coffee on company time?"

I wiggled my toes furiously (read somewhere that helped) and said, "No."

"Aha, aha and aha," said Miller. "We've got you," Ziem trumpeted. "Confess!"

I'd had it. I broke down. I told all. "I'm guilty, let the law take its course. Where are the handcuffs?"

Well, that's it. I stand convicted by an infernal machine. So goodbye — the city editor is mumbling something about ditch-digging jobs open in Timbuktu.

Prison Uprising Hurts Eighteen

New York Riot Quelled by Alert Guards Within Twenty-Six Minutes

COMSTOCK, N.Y. (AP) — Guards and state police, using night-sticks and guns as clubs, battled prisoners for 26 minutes early today and broke up an uprising at Great Meadow Correctional Institute. Eighteen persons were injured.

One shot was fired accidentally when heavily armed guards and state troopers herded the 174 rebels back to their cells. The shot ricocheted and wounded two troopers and a guard. The other casualties were a trooper and 14 prisoners, who suffered cuts and bruises.

It was the first revolt in a New York state prison in a quarter century.

The rebels had defied an ultimatum from Thomas J. McHugh, state correction commissioner. McHugh raced here 100 miles from Canton and told the rebels to end the disturbance within five minutes. They did not comply.

The uprising began in a recreation area at about 5 p.m. when the supper whistle was blown five minutes early, cutting short a recreation period. Supt. Joseph Conboy said it was done because of a threat of rain.

The rebels huddled in a corner of the area and refused to go inside. They demanded to see McHugh, who was attending a conference on juvenile delinquency at St. Lawrence University.

He arrived a short time before midnight and delivered his ultimatum at 12:12 a.m. over the prison loud-speaker system. He counted the minutes aloud.

At 12:17, about 150 guards and 60 troopers moved in with nightsticks, rifles and submachineguns. The prisoners were armed with benches, nails and nail-studded slats from benches in the recreation yard.

The first 20 or 30 rebels entered the prison at 12:30. It was all over by 12:43.

McHugh said he believed the trouble originated when the men heard radio news reports of a revolt at Nebraska Penitentiary Tuesday night.

"These things are contagious," he said.

Blast's Cause Still Mystery

Authorities Continue to Comb Wreckage on Liberty Street

No evidence of criminal negligence has been uncovered as authorities today continued to comb wreckage to find the cause of a blast which leveled a home and injured three men here Monday.

Asst. Prosecutor R. George Gerue, investigating the explosion with city and state officials, said his interview with two of the victims yesterday failed to shed new light on the mystery.

Reports yesterday stated that a loose cleanout plug may have admitted gas into the home. Abbey, in his statement to Gerue, said he and his partner put the plug in but could not remember whether they had tightened it. He said gas valves at the meter were shut off.

Meanwhile Consumers Power Co. servicemen Benson Savedge, 20, 2401 Opdyke, and Lawrence Abbey, 21, Lake Orion, remained in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital. Both suffered severe burns while making repairs in the basement of the Liberty Street home, owned by Hugh Dana, 45.

Traffic Violator Tries New Trick on Wise Judge

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Traffic Judge James Demopolos never had heard a speech quite like it, especially from a defendant.

"I'm appalled at the reckless driving on main street," said 26-year-old Charles Hamilton Keegan.

"It sickens my heart. It makes me ashamed of my fellow man. I'm trying to do my part to help correct it."

"Why then are you charged with reckless driving?" asked Judge Demopolos, stirring uneasily on the bench.

"Because I saw a teen-aged boy who I knew," Keegan came back quickly. "He was driving recklessly. I was trying to catch him so I could take him some place and give him a quiet lecture on the principals of safe driving. You see, I've never received a ticket before in my life."

The judge whispered to his bailiff and shortly afterwards a file was brought into the courtroom.

It showed that Keegan had been arrested six times for traffic violations during recent weeks.

"Is that your record?" asked the judge.

"I guess so, your honor," Keegan replied.

He paid a $20 fine.

Hot Weather Can Be Fun

NARROW BUT NOT STRAIGHT—Ten-year-old Dean Stefanides, of Rochester, N. Despite high temperatures in Pontiac, traffic markings here have remained reasonably stationary.

Cooler Weather Promised Here Fails to Materialize

6 a. m.	67	9 a. m.	81	Noon	89
7 a. m.	69	10 a. m.	85	1 p. m.	90
8 a. m.	76	11 a. m.	87	2 p. m.	92

Those cooler temperatures promised for today failed to materialize as the mercury pushed right past the predicted high of 80 degrees and into the 90s shortly after noon.

And the silvery substance is slated to tease the 90-degree mark again tomorrow, the weatherman says.

Today marks the fourth consecutive day the temperature has climbed into the high 80s or low 90s. The mercury hit 90 Tuesday and Wednesday and 86 Monday.

Tonight's low is expected to range from 66 to 70 degrees, making for pleasant sleeping. Partly cloudy skies will continue through tomorrow.

The 8 a.m. temperature in downtown Pontiac was 76 degrees, rising to 92 at 2 p.m.

Meanwhile, in the east, Diane, the well - behaved hurricane, breezed northward early today as just another somewhat wet and windy storm. Her once-potent 100 m.p.h. winds had been dissipated in a long trips through the Carolina and Virginia.

But in Miami, observers are keeping an eye on an area of suspicion about 1,500 miles east of San Juan, Puerto Rico. It is approximately 2,500 miles from Miami and so far shows no indication of turning into a storm.

Tractor Upsets; Driver Drowns

August Tesolin Trapped in Canal on Highland Township Property

A 51-year-old Highland Township building contractor drowned this morning when his garden tractor overturned and pinned him in the waters of a canal on his property.

August Tesolin, 2995 Teff Dr., White Lake, was found beneath the tractor in about six feet of water shortly before 8 a.m., but it took the Highland Fire Department and police about an hour to extricate him. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Wellington Gibson, deputy Oakland County coroner.

Police said Tesolin had left his home at 7:35 a.m. to plow a section of his garden adjacent to the canal.

A few moments later, John Sebastian, a tenant of Tesolin's, heard a splash and realized that the sound of the tractor motor had stopped.

He found the overturned tractor at about 7:45 a.m. in a canal which runs into White Lake.

Tesolin leaves his wife, Stella; a 15-year-old daughter, Lydia, at home; and a son, Ronald, 24, of Pontiac.

He had been a building contractor in the area for 15 years, coming there from Detroit.

Funeral services are pending at the Richardson - Bird Funeral Home, Milford.

Another Actor Rebuffs House Probe Attempts

18th Gives Amendments 1, 5, 9 as Excuse Means to Refuse Answers

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Alan Manson, named in previous testimony as a one-time member of the Communist party, today refused to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee whether he had been a party member.

Manson was the 18th witness to appear before the committee here in its probe of Communist infiltration into show business. He was the 17th witness to balk at answering questions about possible Communist affiliations.

Actor George Hall admitted to the committee yesterday that he once had been a card-carrying member of the Communist party named six other actors, including Manson, he said were members with him of the midtown branch of the party.

Manson told the committee that he did not believe it had the authority to inquire into his personal beliefs and associations. He invoked the First, Fifth and Ninth Amendments to the Constitution in refusing to answer.

The First Amendment guarantees free speech, the ifth involves possible self-incrimination and the Ninth provides that the enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed as denying others retained by the people.

Manson told the committee he is 38 years old, was born in Brooklyn and that he had appeared in a number of Broadway shows and television performances after his discharge from military service in 1946.

The actor said that in recent years he has been unable to obtain much workand that lately his employment has consisted almost entirely of appearances in summer stock.

After Hall—the 12th witness—admitted yesterday he had been a Communist, five other persons took the stand and refused to answer committee questions on constitutional grounds.

Bares Surplus of $18 Million

Williams Says Excess in State Fund Due to Savings, Higher Taxes

LANSING (AP) — The state's general fund had a surplus of some 18 million dollars when the last fiscal year ended June 30, Gov. Williams said today.

Some six million dollars of this, however, was surplus carried over from the previous fiscal year.

Williams said the surplus figure was based on Department of Administration estimates which could be off a half million dollars either way.

He attributed the excess to "administrative savings" and to increased yield of some taxes, including the 3 per cent sales tax.

The governor said the 18 million dollars could have been used to finance a college building program which he recommended at the last session of the Legislature.

Four or five millions of the surplus was in unused appropriations, Williams said.

RECEIPTS HIGHER

Most of it, however, resulted from increased tax yields, he said.

The Department of Administration estimated receipts from the sales tax during the last fiscal year were about $6,200,000 more than in fiscal year 1953-54.

In addition, the yield from the corporations franchise tax increased an estimated $5,200,000 and business receipts tax receipts increased about $6,600,000.

1,500 Pencils Needed for School, Says Youth

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Police arrested a 13-year-old boy yesterday who admitted taking 1,500 pencils in a Sunday burglary at an advertising firm.

"What in the world did you want with all those pencils," officers asked.

"Well," replied the boy, "school starts pretty soon."

U. N. Protests Communist Act as 'Barbarous'

North Korean Gunners Fire on Search Plane Near Truce Line

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

PANMUNJOM, Korea — Communist antiaircraft guns yesterday shot down a small unarmed American training plane.

The U. N. Command today said the craft had "inadvertently intruded" over the demilitarized zone but not into North Korean territory.

The United Nations Command lodged a protest today with the North Korean Communists for the shooting down of the unarmed American plane.

The fate of the Americans in the T-7 training plane was not immediately known.

The U.N. protest was transmitted in a note to the Reds from Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior U.N. member of the joint military armistice commission.

The note recalled that there have been nine previous incidents of a similar nature in which Communists have damaged three planes and have killed two Allied airmen.

A Republic of Korea officer said frontline ROK troops, guarding the demarcation line, watched the plane crash and saw it burst into flames after being hit by ground fire from Communist soldiers.

MEN BELIEVED LOST

It was said that the ROK troops saw no evidence that the two Americans were able to get out of the plane.

The ROK report also said "a fusillade of shots" was heard from the area where the plane plunged to earth.

U.S. Fifth Air Force headquarters this morning called off a search for the plane which was downed yesterday afternoon.

The Air Force also said that a C-47 search plane was fired on and hit in the left wing by Communist ground fire. The search

Double Rail Wrecks Cut Lapeer Traffic

LAPEER (AP)—A locomotive and 20 freight cars were derailed in two separate accidents today, virtually halting all rail traffic at Lapeer.

No one was injured in either wreck, but it was estimated that train traffic here would be tied up from several hours to at least a day.

Twenty cars of a 67-car Grand Trunk & Western freight train were derailed five miles north of here when a wheel came off one of the cars.

Meanwhile, a New York Central freight locomotive also lost a wheel and was derailed at Otter Lake, about 25 miles north of Lapeer, blocking the north-south traffic.

Divider Strips on Dixie and Telegraph Proposed to Cut Highway Tragedies

A step to cut down on fatal accidents in Oakland County was proposed today by a Pontiac physician who has had close contact with numerous highway tragedies while acting as a deputy coroner.

Dr. Leon F. Cobb suggested construction of a cement divider strip on the section of Telegraph road north from Long Lake road and on the Dixie Highway north from Pontiac to Flint.

Both stretches are four-lane undivided highways which are the site for an increasing number of high-speed, headon collisions often resulting in deaths.

Two persons died from injuries suffered in a 4-car smashup only last Sunday on the Dixie 17 miles north of Pontiaic, Dr. Cobb pointed out.

"The significance of the yellow center-line is lost on some drivers," said Dr. Cobb. "They don't appreciate the potential collision-force of cars coming the other way.

"Since any extension road-building in this area appears several years off as yet, a stop-gap measure seems warranted. We can't sit back and watch this killing go on.

"Enough money should be available to build at least a 4-foot divider and widen the highways 2 feet on each side. The work could be done without stopping traffic."

Fewer serious accidents now occur on the parts of Telegraph which have been divided, Dr. Cobb pointed out The plan might save "50 to 100 lives" over the next several years, he stated.

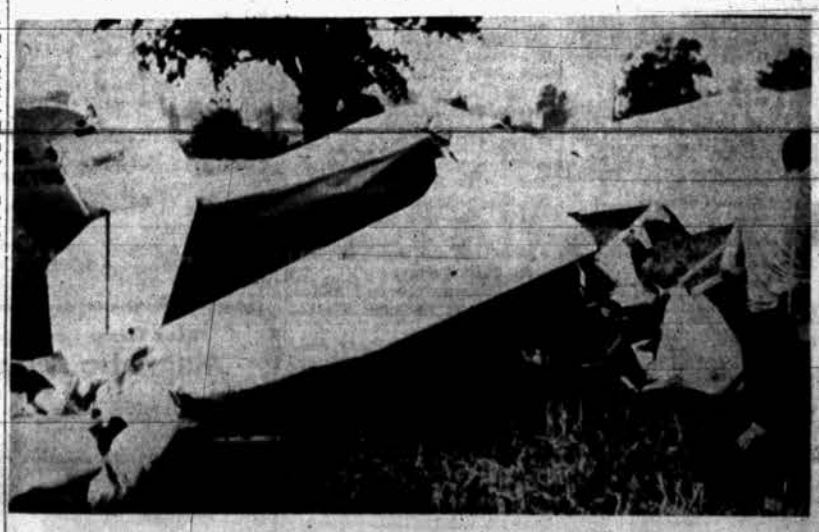

"A yellow line is just a strip of paint, but a divider is a physical object which drivers naturally recognize and keep in mind."

A four-lane undivided highway seems to encourage a false sense of security, the physician said. "Drivers tend to think they have plenty of room, while actually there is nothing between them and oncoming cars but thin air.

The dead are: Rudolph Schumaier, 44, of Saline, the owner, and William Beardsley, 49, of Clinton, his student. Unrest Rocks Argentina Again

Peace Dissolving as Street Fighting, Catholic Battle Renewed

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Peace seemed remote today for Argentina, her capital wracked by street fighting and her government renewing its battle with Roman Catholic Church leaders.

* * *

Reinforced police patrols roamed the streets of Buenos Aires after the third straight day of clashes yesterday between antigovernment demonstrators and followers of President Juan Peron.

Justice and Interior Minister Oscar Albrieu accused seven priests in Buenos Aires of using the pulpit to incite a "campaign of disobedience" against Peron.

* * *

He said no action had been taken yet against the priests but that their names would be handed over to church authorities.

"Toleration has its limit," he said, "and we cannot continue tolerating these things because that would in effect concur with them."

He told newsmen the government would resume its political campaign against the church leaders, But the regime, he added, would not abandon the policy of "pacification" Peron proclaimed in an attempt to restore order after the bloody abortive revolt of June 16. Until this week, the government had virtually stilled its attacks on the church since the revolt.

It was not known how many persons have been injured or arrested since the trouble began Monday, but the figure is expected to be high.

Chicagoan Suspect in Gorham Murder

MUSKEGON (AP) — Police today sought a 31-year-old Chicago man who they said had a record of morals offenses for questioning in the slaying of Peter Gorham.

Police said the man, whom they declined to name, arrived in Muskegon by plane July 3. He rented a car saying he planned to visit a nephew at a scout camp.

The car was returned July 6 after the rental agency had closed. A $58 rental bill was unpaid.

The Gorham boy vanished July 5 from Boy Scout Camp Wabanango near Muskegon. His body was found Sunday about five miles from the camp site. He had been shot through the head.

Police said a pathologist's report showed the 12-year-old Evanston, Ill., Boy Scout had been killed by a .30 caliber bullet. It was believed earlier the bullet had been fired from a .22 caliber weapon.

Efforts to find the bullet at the murder scene had proved fruitless.

Police have cleared a score of persons in the case by lie detector tests. Included among those cleared were nine counselors and officials of Camp Wabanango.

Chinese-U. S. Talks Continue in Stymie

GENEVA (AP)—The U.S. and Communist Chinese ambassadors met today for the eighth talk in nearly three weeks of secret negotiations here on repatriation of civilians each government claims the other is holding.

So far the two envoys, U. Alexis Johnson of the United States and Wang Ping-nan of Peiping, have announced no progress toward a solution.

* * *

The United States is seeking the release of 41 American civilians it says the Reds have jailed, put under house arrest or refused to let have exit permits.

Peiping contends that the United States is holding thousands of Chinese students in America against their will. Washington says all Chinese nationals are free to leave the country.

State Approves Gas Rate Hike

Michigan Consolidated Customers Begin Paying Increase Monday

LANSING (AP) — Some 771,000 customers of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company will begin paying increased rates totaling $4,400,000 a year Monday, the state Public Service Commission said today.

* * *

The rate increase ordered by the Commission will average 66 cents per month for Detroit district customers and 38 cents per month for outstate customers. About 640,000 of Consumers customers are in the Detroit district.

D. H. Gerhard, division manager of Consumers Power Co., said today the company's customers would not be affected by the announced increase in rates.

The company had asked for a $10,400,000 rate increase. Half of the increase ordered—$2,200,000—will be consumed by additional Federal income taxes the Commission said.

Commission Chairman John H. McCarthy said the Commission granted the rate increase only after an audit of company records revealed that earnings had dipped below the level required to "continue adequate service to its customers."

* * *

"The present increase does no more than restore the company to the same earnings position which prevailed in 1952," McCarthy said.

The gas company rate increase came a little more than two weeks after the commission granted a rate boost of $2,802,000 to Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Interior Announces Bird Regulations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interior Department announced today details of the 1955-56 migratory bird hunting season regulations, including Michigan.

The Michigan woodcock season is divided into three zones as prescribed by the state. They are: Zone 1—Oct. 1-Nov. 1; zone 2—Oct. 1-Nov. 9; zone 3—Oct. 20-Nov. 9. The possession limit is eight.

There is no open season on turtle doves in Michigan.

The hunting season in Michigan for rails and gallinules has not been decided.

Rails and gallinules are commonly called mud hens. They are rather heavy-bodied, long-legged members of the crane family.

Livonia Man Fined

Charged with being drunk and disorderly, Harvey Labadie, 53, of Livonia, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and $10 costs yesterday when he appeared before Orion Township Justice Court. He paid the fine in lieu of a 10-day jail sentence set by Justice Helmar G. Stanaback.

Detroit Firm Will Build Birmingham Branch Store

B. Siegel Co., of Detroit, today announced plans to construct a store at Maple Ave. and Bates St. in downtown Birmingham.

Utilizing the windowless department store design trend, the store will be the third Siegel unit, said C. A. Kramer, president, and Bernard F. Walker, executive vice president.

It will be a complete fashion store for women and children, with assortments of apparel, shoes, millinery and accessories comparable in scope and quality to that carried in the Woodward and 7-Mile road stores in Detroit, Walker said.

Construction of the tri - level structure is slated to begin immediately after the buildings are razed.

MOSAIC TILE FEATURED

The shop's front, on Maple, will feature mosaic tile and a glass display facade. The cocoa brick wall facing Bates will be windowless. A cantilevered canopy covered with porcelain will protect a secondary entrance on Martin street.

An elaborate salon will be featured on the store's upper level.

Towards the center core of the building from the main floor level will be a marble staircase with aluminum handrail.

Freight will be handled at the southeast corner of the building where dock facilities and a freight elevator will allow for swift movement of merchandise to storage space in the lower level.

Year - round air conditioning will be provided by a zone-controlled system which will permit temperature control on each level.

While the salon on the upper level will offer designers merchandise, full recognition is being given the trend toward the merchandising policy of customer "self - selection" in departments where suitable, the executives said.

"Serving this policy, the country's foremost designers were engaged to give this store for women, an extraordinary array of sharply designed special-purpose fixtures, specially lighted and arranged to show customers full lines of stock classifications," said Kramer.

Fireproofed and steel columns and beams will support the roof and floor. The steel frame has been designed to reduce the number of columns required, thus offering more wide-open sales areas.

Owner and builder of the project is the Maple-Bates Corp., of Detroit, headed by N. M. Schostak, who has been prominent in the development of shopping centers in the Detroit area. Theodore Rogvoy is the architect.

Schostak stated that plans are under way to re-develop the balance of the area with "complementary stores catering to the needs of the community."

Recognizing the desirablity of having ample parking facilities available, Kramer said, the Siegel company will cooperate with the city government in furthering its parking program.

Development of the new store is keyed to tie-in with Siegel's 75th anniversary, which will be celebrated later this year.

Lapeer Escapee Held in Murder

Detroit Police Disclaim Suspect's Connection in Gillespie Slaying

MT. CLEMENS (AP)—Detroit detectives say it now appears "highly unlikely" that a Lapeer training school escapee had any connection with the unsolved slaying of Joann Gillespie.

* * *

But they continued today to check out the story of Richard E. Dutton, 26-year-old odd jobs man who has admitted the slaying of one woman and attempted rape of another.

State Police Detective Ray McConnell yesterday described Dutton as "the best suspect yet" in the Gillespie case. Joann, a Highland Park coed, was raped and clubbed to death near her home Jan. 2, 1953. Dozens of persons have been questioned in her slaying.

Dutton, described by police as "mentally unstable," has been in and out of the Lapeer institution since he was eight. They said he had escaped 15 times.

Police said Dutton has admitted the slaying of Mrs. Hernedia Dunn, 32, in a hotel room here July 1. Mrs. Dunn at first was believed to have died of natural causes. But officers said Dutton admitted smothering her with a pillow.

* * *

A first degree murder warrant was expected to be drawn up against him today in that case.

Lad Is Bitten to Death by Pack of Farm Dogs

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont. (AP) — A 6-year-old boy was bitten to death by a pack of 14 farm dogs here yesterday when he tried to keep them from mauling his own pet dog.

Police said Wayne Baker had wandered away from his family's summer home at nearby Matthiasville. He was found in a clump of bushes on a neighboring farm an hour later.

Mrs. Vera MacDonald, who owns the farm and dogs, said she had gone to the store shortly before the incident. When she returned she found her dogs sniffing at some bushes. She chased them and found the mutilated child. He died in a hospital.

plane returned safely to its base.

A U.N. announcement said the shooting down of the plane was "another barbarous act" by the Communists" and a "violation of the spirit of the armistice agreement and of the rules of conduct observed by all civilized nations."

FELL IN RED AREA

The U.N. said the plane, manned by a pilot and an observer, was hit by ground fire while flying over Korea's demilitarized truce zone which separates the north and south.

The plane fell in North Korean territory according to the U.N. announcement.

The protest letter said:

"This unprovoked hostile act was clearly witnessed by United Nations command observers who saw your side open fire while the defenseless plane was over the demilitarized zone and subject it to continuous murderous and devastating ground fire until the aircraft crashed into territory under the military control of your side."

Winnie Sits for Portrait

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill is sitting for a portrait by Max Nauta, noted Dutch painter. It will be hung in the Netherlands Parliament.

Police Seek Man in Wife Shooting

A 27-year-old Pontiac man became the object of a police search after he reportedly shot his ex-wife early today as she sat in the living room of her home with her small daughter.

Mrs. Jessie Mae Lewis, 25, of 337 Howard McNeill St., was reported in fairly good condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a bullet wound in her right upper arm.

She told Detective James LaPonsie that her former husband, Levon Lewis, 27, entered her home about midnight and threatened to kill her.

The woman was shot as she struggled with her assailant, who fled from the home after the shot. Her daughter, Brenda, 8, was not hurt.

Admits Charge Here

Eliss McCoy, 32, of 32 Lexington Pl., paid a $25 fine and $10 costs yesterday after he pleaded guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge in Orion Township Justice Court. He appeared before Justice Helmar G. Stanaback.

The Day in Birmingham

Fire Department Moving to New Location Today

BIRMINGHAM—The City Fire Department is moving into a modern new home at Adams and Bowers today.

Under the direction of Fire Chief Park Smith, personnel are loading every available truck and car with equipment from their old headquarters in the Municipal Building, occupied since 1928, and transferring it to the new location.

Smith hoped that the department's six trucks, radio equipment and seven men and their equipment would be moved by tonight.

Along with the Chesterfield-Maple station, the occupancy of the Adams-Bowers headquarters completes the city's two new centers for the fire department.

* * *

Starting this fall, Birmingham will become the fourth residence teaching center in the state. The city's public schools will join Marshal, Muskegon, Niles and Grand Rapids' schools in providing a real-life teaching experience for 25 student teachers from Michigan State University.

Marjorie Tate, director of the project, said the future teachers will be assigned to the public schools throughout the city. Not only will they work with classroom teachers, they will also become acquainted with the resources of the community, participating in local community projects and activities.

* * *

To cope with the influx of 25 student teachers from Michigan State University and others that will be joining Birmingham's public school system this fall, an appeal has been made by the Board of Education to the citizens for housing accommodations.

If you would like to aid in this project, call MIdwest 4-9300 and list any available facilities with Miss McBride or Miss Tate. Miss Tate said her office has received from 10 to 15 calls to date and requests more with room and board and closer to the center of the city.

* * *

Calling all Spacemen! Put on your helmets and adjust your Mars seeking antennas and gas up your space ships. Pilot all ships, members of the Spacemen's Reading Club, to the Birmingham library Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. Three movies will be shown after which the children will display the model planet systems they have made during the summer.

* * *

The monthly accident summary released by the police department indicates following too closely and failure to yield the right of way have resulted in 149 out of the total 306 traffic mishaps reported to the department this year.

Enters Innocent Plea

Paul Morgan, 33, of Rochester, charged with driving under the influence of liquor, pleaded innocent yesterday when he was arraigned in Avon Township Justice Court. He was released on $100 bond after being ordered to appear for examination Sept. 1.

Ben-Gurion Accepts Israel Premiership

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — David Ben-Gurion, Israel's elder statesman called back to the premiership, said today he hoped to form a new Cabinet "on as broad a basis as possible" within a week.

Defense minister and Mapai party labor leader, Ben-Gurion was asked by Israeli President Izhak Ben-Zvi to form a government amid predictions he will have a tough time.

Ben-Gurion told reporters he will try to revive the Jewish state's first broad coalition established immediately after its foundation.

He said he is aiming at a grouping including all parties from the religious ultraorthodox "Agudath Israel" to both left-wing Labor parties, Achduth Avodah and Mapam.

Sudden Death Jails Restaurant Partner

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—His friendship for a Milwaukee optometrist caused Fred A. Thomas a lot of trouble but the red-haired restaurant worker will get $5,000 from the man's estate.

Dr. Albert Napientek, the optometrist, died in a Miami Beach hotel room last April 13.

* * *

A week later Thomas was found in a motel room at Dunedin with $60,480 of Napientek's money under the bed. Thomas claimed the optometrist gave him the cash to invest in a barbecue stand, but a charge of larceny was filed.

Harold Shapiro, attorney for Napientek's widow, said yesterday Thomas has agreed to settle his claim for $5,000.

* * *

County Judge Frank Dowling is expected to turn the money over to the widow, as executrix of Napientek's estate, tomorrow.

Thomas still faces the larceny charge but that is expected to be dropped.

Peiping's Claim False— Its Students Free to Go

Secretary DULLES' press conference announcement that negotiations with Red China have made no progress is disappointing but not surprising.

In these negotiations at the ambassadorial level in Geneva, the United States is seeking release of 41 U. S. civilians held in Red China. China's negotiation technic is typically Communist and helps explain why, so far, no progress has been made on this issue.

Against these 41 Americans Peiping is trying to balance some 4,000 Chinese students who came to the United States after World War II to attend American colleges. Actually, the cases are in no way parallel.

These students never were in custody. They were free to go and come as they pleased. During the Korean war, however, they were told that we would not permit their skills, learned here, to be used by Communists fighting us.

Moreover, no more than 124 students were prevented from leaving this country at any one time. A further significant fact is that all told only 75 wanted to return to Red China after the restriction was announced. Of these 35 did return after the regulation was withdrawn.

Despite all this, Red China has demanded that a neutral nation such as India be allowed to come here to screen all that remain of the 4,000. In view of the fact that most of these already have stated publicly their desire to remain in the United States and are free to go home if they wish, the demand for screening is ridiculous.

Morocco and NATO

A movement inside France born of continued unrest in Morocco has serious implications for NATO and the still precarious balance of power in Europe.

Spearhead of this movement is PIERRE MONTEL, chairman of the National Assembly's Defense Committee. His idea is that France's primary obligation is defense of North Africa and the Western Mediterranean.

He also contends that France cannot discharge that obligation and contribute at the same time to the defense of Europe. Therefore he wants to transfer to Morocco all French troops now attached to the forces headed by NATO Commander General GRUENTHER. The latter naturally opposes this idea.

Already the French are maintaining in North Africa some 100,000 troops and mobile police. These approximately 10 of the country's 13 active divisions. Foes of the transfer plan argue that if the existing forces in Morocco can't restore order, addition of the three divisions attached to NATO won't end the rioting.

They also point out that the transfer would leave the defense of Europe to French Reserves, American, British and German forces. This, they contend, would upset the military and psychological balance between France and a rearming Germany.

Force alone isn't going to solve the African problem. That problem is a mixture of native nationalism, racial and dynastic rivalry. Communist agitation and French weakness. Its solution obviously will have to be mainly political.

IT MUST be that a considerable number of people are afraid to take food on an empty stomach, as it seems they try never to allow it to become empty.

Magsaysay's Program

Any doubt about popular support of Philippine President MAGSAYSAY should have vanished in the wake of the island legislature's special session.

In that session the pro-American president's land reform program and foreign policy were given firm approval. As a result MAGSAYSAY emerges as a stronger than ever political figure in the republic and on the larger stage of Asia.

★ ★ ★

While the land reform legislation isn't drastic, it is a step forward. Besides enabling the government to combat the worst features of absentee landlordism, it clears the way for the task of putting the land into the hands of the farmers themselves. Also important is the new power given the government to curb usurious practices of middlemen and money lenders.

★ ★ ★

Magsaysay's obvious popularity stood him in good stead in bringing the legislature around to his viewpoint on such foreign policy issues as recognition of South Viet Nam. The same can be said of his strong stand regarding close association with the United States and the free world.

These victories are more than personal triumphs for President MAGSAYSAY. Through them he is making good his campaign promises to the Philipino people.

David Lawrence Says:

House Probe of Reds in Theatrical Field Runs Up Against Stone Wall of Defiance

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—A virtual insurrection against the Constitution of the United States is under way among some "left wing" groups in America. It involves a studied effort to encourage actions in contempt of the Congress of the United States. It amounts to an effort to frustrate the legitimate activities of the committees of Congress in performing their law-writing function.

The latest outcropping of defiance has occurred in connection with the hearings of the House Committee on Un-American Activities which is seeking information concerning Communist infiltration and influence in the theatrical field.

Many witnesses not only are invoking the Fifth Amendment by refusing to testify at the New York hearings but are also crying out that the committee has no authority even to call them or investigate their activities. It looks like a concerted move.

Even the American Civil Laborites Union, which claims to be disinterestedly concerned only with violations of civil liberties, in its report issued in December 1953, the union said in part:

PAPER QUOTED

"No Legislature has any right, even to 'expose' anything which is not pertinent' to constitutionally permissible legislation, just as the executive and the judiciary have no right to exceed their respective constitutional powers."

* * *

But what is "constitutionally permissible legislation"? Congress has a right to rewrite the Constitution itself and to submit the amendments to the people's Legislatures. How can it get information on which to base amendments if its inquiries are to be confined only to the existing Constitution and laws permissible under that Constitution?

Sen. Hennings, Democrat, of Missouri, chairman of a subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, has just issued a questionnaire preparatory to public hearings on the religion clause of the first amendment to the Constitution. Among its questions are the following:

"Do you believe the free exercise of religion protects atheists in propagating a disbelief in religion?

"Speaking generally and considering the deep emotional nature of religious beliefs, do you feel that the present state of affairs in the United States with respect to the rights expressed in the religion clause is: Excellent, Good, Fair, Poor?"

Usually Congress steers clear of all investigations relating to the subject of religion.

FORCE DISMISSAL

It wasn't so long ago that the dismissal of J. S. Matthews as a member of the staff of the Senate subcommittee on governmental operations was forced by three Democratic senators because of an article about communistic influences in religion which he had written before he was employed by the committee.

* * *

From one end of the country to the other prominent churchmen denounced Matthews, though he merely exercised his right of free speech. Being politically responsive to such pressures, the Senate committee fired Matthews and wouldn't even grant him a hearing.

Few protests came from the "totalitarian liberals" who have always been so quick to denounce congressional committees for allegedly tampering with constitutional rights of individuals.

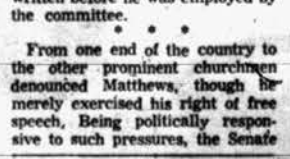

The committee now headed by Sen. Hennings has, of course, a right to inquire into religious beliefs as they relate to freedom of religion and to get any information needed to strengthen the religion clause of the first amendment either by a revision of that clause or by such legislation under the existing clause as may be tested in the courts.

It is a safe bet that the "totalitarian liberals" will not attack the Hennings committee. They will continue to exhibit their hostility and to urge non-coogeration only when witnesses are summoned whose testimony might be of assistance in exposing the ramifications of Communist conspiracies.

These conspiracies have been proved to exist in certain sections of the theater, the movies, the press, the church, the schools, the labor unions and the government itself, unlimited. Too many persons are abusing the Fifth Amendment by pretending they would be subject to self-incrimination when their real purpose is probably to conceal the illegal or improper acts of others. It is the duty of a citizen to furnish to his government any information he or she possesses about the Communist conspiracy against the United States if it involves the guilt of others.

Brady Recalls His Mistake in Reporting Joint Cure

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Some readers, I'm afraid, will recall that two years ago the conductor of this column, for all his therapeutic nihilism, committed a grievous sin: reported what the poor galoot thought was almost miraculous cure of joint disability of long standing by a few doses (tablets) of a new "wonder drug" instead of waiting until the immediate analgesic effect of the drug wore off.

* * *

When that effect had worn off, some days following publication of the report, the patient, the poor galoot (Brady, by name) and everybody present realized the painful truth—that the new nostrum was just another analgesic (pain killer) with no more actual remedial value than older analgesics such as acetanilid (phenylacetamide), phenacetin (acetophenetidin), aminopyrin antipyrin, aspirin, but far more dangerous than any of these familiar painkillers.

HORMONE BOOSTER

Today I received a message from paradise, a fool's paradise. I know because I was there when I rushed into print with the report of the near-miracle. The message came on a postal card and reads:

* * *

Re your column on "rheumatiz." Food is basic, I agree—but after 3 years of "rheumatoid arthritis" let me say—the hormones are not to be sneezed at.

My history: 18 months on cortisone — good effects — able to work. Then 18 months aspirin only — remission the first 12 months — then increasing pain and weakness — Now 2 weeks on metacortin 2 daily — magical effect — feeling OK — strong and well! Perhaps wrong diet affects pituitary and adrenals?

(No signature)

In the first place, in my opinion this message is a fabrication. In the next place, if I'm wrong in the first place, I'll pay $100 to the writer of the message for substantiation of his or her statement by the testimony of a reputable physician, provided the writer still feels "OK — strong and well!"

WHY ANONYMITY?

Please tell me, if you can, why any one with a heart or a soul would resort to anonymity in the circumstances this message describes?

I'll keep the postal card until it becomes evident that it was just another manifestation of inhuman nature.

Again I urge readers with joint disability of more than a year's standing, no matter what fancy name the leading trick specialist or "clinic" racketeer may have given it, to send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask in writing, signed if you expect an answer, for the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz.

If you change the title there will be no answer.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Voice of the People

Ex-Resident of Alaska Tells of Pleasant Life

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Having been a resident of Anchorage, Alaska, for quite some time during my husband's Army service, I have been reading Phyllis Battelle's travel columns with great interest and no little amusement.

First of all, most Anchorage-ites are much too busy working two or more jobs plus improving their homes to stay up "until they fall over" no matter how late the sun may shine.

Miss Battelle also states it isn't a woman's world, and goes on to mention that "bridge clubs are rare, plush hotels non-existant and shopping centers dull and costly." Most Anchorage women are too busy with the important jobs which abound in a pioneer territory to bother with bridge clubs. However, if a social whirl is considered necessary, there are plenty of social organizations.

The Westward Hotel and Cocktail Lounge in Anchorage is probably "plush" enough for most of us, and there are two very plush movie houses showing new releases before Detroit, and many lovely dinner clubs. There are more organized recreation areas than most cities here can boast, to say nothing of Alaska's being the greatest for outdoor sports facilities.

Shopping centers may be costly, but dull—never. Where else could you find lovely, chic new fashions and so many rare and lovely things, as well as the usual big city merchandise? I dare say you will not find so many in downtown Detroit as on Anchorage's 4th Avenue.

I also should like to mention that politeness is not a rarity in Anchorage. Neither are ties nor chic women. You will find many of the best dressed and most interesting people in this country on the streets of Anchorage.

Alaska undoubtedly has a long way to go, but its beauty and interest are unexcelled.

Shutterbugs Run Wild

Take to the Hills, Folks! but Don't Forget Camera

By ED CREAGH
For Hal Boyle

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the season of the amateur photographer. Innocent bystanders should take to the hills.

The shutterbug we have with us always. He goes forth laden with expensive cameras. He comes home with the rent money spent on film, filters, exposure meters, tripods. In between, he takes some pictures. You want to see them? Don't worry. You will.

He is with us the year 'round, this shutterbug. But come this time of year, the peak of the vacation season, he is everywhere. He teeters on the brink of the Grand Canyon. He leans out over Niagara Falls. There is no escaping him.

* * *

Amateur photographers outnumber the pigeons in Venice's St. Mark's Square. Shutterbugs shoulder-to-shoulder block your view at the Folies Bergere.

For this is by no means an American peculiarity, this picture-snapping. It used to be said every German child is born with a camera in his hand. Today it appears every Japanese child is born with an f1.4 lens in the middle of his forehead.

* * *

Why this worldwide preoccupation with taking of pictures of things?

One theory is that people expect the world may be blown up any minute now and so they want to keep a record of it. The flaw here is that the pictures would be blown up, too, along with the cameras and the amateur photographers.

A more immediate danger than the hydrogen bomb is the shutterbug himself.

* * *

He wheels down the highway, photographic gear beside him, wife and kids in the back seat. A plaintive cry arises: "Daddy! pull-lease. I mean it this time. I got to stop at a rest-room."

His brakes squeal and his wife squeals, simultaneously. Behind him, other drivers brake and comment on his forebears. The shutterbug does not hear. Out the door, across the highway, fingers fumbling at the camera controls.

"What a vacation!" his shaken wife moans.

"What a vacation!" the exuberant shutterbug cries, when and if he gets back safely across that busy highway, 'Got Old Faithful geyser reflected in the eye of a bear! Greatest scenic shot I ever made! Greatest anybody ever made!"

Well, it turns out, of course, after the film is developed, that the bear's eye was closed. No reflection of Old Faithful. The shutterbug is not discouraged, however. "Greatest close-up of a bear's eye ever made," he exults. "I planned it that way."

* * *

And you're going to see that foggy, out-of-focus, underexposed picture of a bear's eye, friend J. Edgar Hoover has no agent more cunning than the shutterbug who wants to exhibit a picture.

I know because I am an amateur photographer. And, since we're talking, I happen to have a picture here. It was supposed to be the Empire State building, but some butter off the popcorn got smeared on the lense, and — —

Case Records of a Psychologist

Friends Shocked at Woman's Plans to Wed Widower 16 Years Her Senior

There is an age gap of 16 years between Polly and Paul. Do you think this is too great a barrier to permit happy marriage? Study this case carefully; then send for the marriage charts below. And stress emotional age more than the calendar type.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-316: Polly S., aged 26, is in love with a man who is 42.

"Dr. Crane, my friends tell me there is too great an age difference for us to be happy," Polly protested.

"But Paul has the same interests and hobbies that I do. We also are both active together in the same church and sing in the choir.

"He was previously married but his wife died three years ago. He has two daughters in high school.

"They seem to like me very much. So do you think I am foolish to marry him?"

AGE BARRIERS

Age in itself is not very significant as regards your chances of happy marriage.

Some playboys of 38 to 45 are still emotionally juvenile, so they might be far younger than a 20-year-old girl who had earned her way through high school and had developed the social maturity of the self-reliant modern office girl.

Some boys of 18 to 20 may be far older in their experience with life than a lot of giddy social butterfly women who have been coddled and spoiled.

The real age to consider for permanently happy marriage is the emotional age of the bride and bridegroom.

And that is not necessarily anywhere near the calendar age. Polly is a mature woman with two years of college.

* * *

She has worked for her own living. She has high ideals coupled with a great deal of practical experience with people.

And her prospective husband is a stable personality who has already been housebroken for happy marriage.

That is vitally essential, too, for a bachelor of 42 is a dubious marriage risk. It is usually much safer to marry a widower than an old bachelor, though there are occasional exceptions to the rule.

Polly has a gay, happy disposition. And Paul likewise is a genial type who has high morals and who will give her economic as well as emotional security.

TALK WITH CHILDREN

Besides, Polly has no other likely suitors. And she is old enough to realize the happiness of being settled in a home of her own.

In this type of case, we psychologists usually are glad to endorse the marriage.

Polly should, of course, sit down privately with Paul's two high school daughters and ask their opinions.

A certain amount of jealousy is more or less inevitable in such a situation, but intelligent adults can generally handle all such problem that arise.

* * *

If she marries Paul, she likewise must decide whether she wants to be a mother of his high school girls.

If she "adopts" them as her own children, psychologically, and if they freely express their desire to "adopt" her as their mother, then this union of mother and daughters is just as vital and secure as that of Paul and Polly when they say "I do."

CLEAR AIR FIRST

It is always well to clear up these matters in a private session between the children and their prospective new parent so everybody will enter into the new home life with eyes wide open.

Marriage is a game. We have the rules and any intelligent person can follow them and be ideally happy.

So send for my 200-point "Tests for Husbands and Wives," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

They represent the frank, secret comments of 600 happily married wives concerning their husbands' faults and virtues. And also the similar confessions of those 600 husbands. So study them carefully.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Court Decision Settles Knotty Estate Problem

DANVILLE, Va. (INS)—The coroner's report said only that Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Scarce died en route to a hospital after an automobile accident.

Which died first became an important question. They left no children. The estate would go to the nearest relatives of the last to die. A jury pondered and decided they died at the same time.

Pick Tough Project

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (INS)—Skin divers are attempting to recover $5,000,000 in gold from the clipper Yankee Blade which sank off Port Arguello in the 1850s. The Yankee Blade sank in 120 feet of water in "the graveyard of the Pacific," so named because of its treacherous fog and currents. Mariners claim that skin divers will find it rough going because the hulk of the clipper is now believed to be buried at least 10 feet deep in the ocean bottom sand.

Production of pig iron in the U.S. uses about 57 tons of water for every ton of iron produced under modern methods.

NEW YORK (INS)—Earth from 24 foreign countries and all the states and territories of the United States now is a part of Bedloe's island in New York harbor, site of the Statue of Liberty.

The pinches of earth from countries which have contributed to the nation's populations and from the states and territories where people have taken up residence were dropped in a special ceremony symbolizing the mingling of all people who have made the nation.

Miami Asks U.S. Court for Suit Permission

JACKSONVILLE (INS)—Reorganization of the bankrupt Florida East Coast Railway, bounced around by federal courts and the Interstate Commerce Commission since 1931, took one of its strangest twists when Miami asked the federal court for permission to sue the railroad in state court. Miami wanted to file a condemnation suit to open four grade crossings across the railroad tracks.

It was necessary for the city to get Federal Court permission because a judge now dead issued an order years ago saying the FEC couldn't be sued during the reorganization proceedings.

French Painter Dies

PARIS (AP)—Fernand Leger, 74, famed French abstract painter, died of a heart attack yesterday at his home in suburban Gif-sur-Yvette. He spent five years in the United States after France collapsed in 1940. He is perhaps best known in America for the two giant murals he painted for the U.N. Assembly Auditorium in New York. Alluding to the machine age, he often depicted men with pistons for legs and steel claws for hands.

The United Nations has estimated world population as 2,528 million as of the middle of 1954.

Well Diggers' Bonanza

IONIA (AP)—At least six business establishments in Ionia's downtown district have turned to individual wells for water to operate air-conditioning systems. A recent water shortage, after part of the city's supply was found to be contaminated, led to restriction of non-essential water use. Well-digging firms report individual wells have been dug for two banks, a restaurant and three stores.

More than 14,000 farm residents are killed by accidents annually and more than a million injured.

Pet Bird Simply Goes From Cage to Cage

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Jack Benson wrote to his home in Columbus, Ohio, and asked them to send him his canary. It arrived yesterday, but an express man had a hard time finding the address. Finally he discovered it was the county jail.

Beason, held on a bad check charge, paid $3.70 express charges—in cash—and took the bird.

Career Mother Can Help Child

Patience, Good Sense, Humor Aid Working Parent's Problems

If the working mother maintains patience, common - sense and a sense of humor it shouldn't be too big a chore to keep her little brood contented.

A mother who has a full-time job does have a major problem. She must have (1.) Very competent help when she is away from home. (2.) She must be able to give each child individual attention and expression of her love for at least one hour each day. (3.) She must plan outings and play with her children on weekends. (4.) She must not become so sensitive about her role as a part-time mother that she excuses misbehavior.

The working mother must take an active part in affairs of her home even if she does have competent help.

She must plan the menu, children's playtime, books and television programs. She must know their friends, where they go and what they do in their free time. She must watch their school progress.

If Mom's job is part time, the problem is mainly only one of maintaining patience. She must be tolerant even though she is exhausted at the end of the day.

Every working person needs recreation. So Mom will earn her rest at the end of the week and the children should cooperate.

SUPERVISE CHILD

Children must be supervised. A "grown-up" level-headed youngster (sister or brother) can take over the younger children if he or she has displayed a sense of responsibility and provided it doesn't deprive him of his own right to fun.

Teen-age girls should not be permitted to entertain friends in the home when mother is away. They should be permitted house privileges weekends, even theough Mom also entertains.

Working mothers must be especially aware of their school child's diet. If a youngster is permitted to eat at local lunch counters choosing hot dogs, candies, sodas and pastries as luncheon fare, he will likely become malnourished.

A lunchbox should be packed by Mom or another member of the household unless the youngster can have lunch in a school cafeteria.

A working mother should do everything possible to keep her family happy, and she can do it by reassuring them of her love in many ways—rewards for chores performed, special outings and parties at home.

New Theater Named for Rosalind Russell

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Tonight in Waterbury, Conn., a ritzy movie house is to be named officially the "Rosalind Russell State Theatre," after a local tomboy who made good. This more or less assures Miss Russell of top billing for a lifetime.

* * *

"I am deeply honored and touched," said Miss Russell, as sedately as possible, today. "But most of all, perhaps, I am happy—" she gulped impressively—"happy that this high tribute is not in the least bit posthumous."

In that one statement, Rosalind Russell, the artiste and life-lover, sums up her life.

She is glad she has still got a hold on it!

"There are an awful number of people today who don't work on laughing," she philosophized, sitting on her feet which were lying on a chair in a Manhattan hotel suite. "Now I don't say that I go around making a hyena of myself. But I do know that any time I seem to get into a brief slump, it strikes me that I haven't laughed for three hours, so I hah-hah around a bit."

Snaps a slump's back, she says.

Miss Russell, who is as easy to talk to as an old shoe and infinitely more responsive, had not dressed yet for the theater dedication. In fact, she had hardly dressed at all, and there was a great deal of shapely leg emerging from a great shortage of shorts.

KEEP BUSY

Speaking of laughs, she said, draping one limb over her chair arm, "I'm in a musical comedy now, and so if I look like an ad for a girlie show, I am delighted. If surprised."

Anywya, Roz went on, what she means to say is the world is better than it looks to most people. And the secret of being happy in it is keeping busy.

"For the last 500 years, since I have been making movies," she explains in her basso twitter, "I have followed the rule of keeping my appointment schedule as jammed as I could so I wouldn't have time to wonder what the devil I was doing and get myself all worried and introspective."

She held up a long, warning finger. "However," she stressed, "you never look at your calendar at the beginning of the day. Just take a peek after each appointment.

"If you see a whole page of things you've got to do, you will immediately say 'Heaven bless me, I can never make it'—and you fall over dead."

WONT GIVE AGE

Miss Russell, who is not telling her age (but admits that she was the "other woman" when Jean Harlow was trying to win Clark Gable, and "That'll give you a loose, I hope, impression"), says that her philosophy of life is similar to that of Elsie Mendl. This one-time acquaintance of Roz's believed:

To win in life, you must have an identity. Either you must be very, very rich or very, very famous or very, very charming.

"Uncle Sam prevents most of us from being very, very rich," Roz says. "The breaks prevent us from being very, very famous sometimes. But who is to prevent us from being very, very charming?"

The essence of charm, in the view of Miss Russell who is undoubtedly the essence of charm herself, is "consideration for others."

"How many people do you know," she challenges, "who would walk across the room to greet you at a party? They would sit back and give you the barbaric 'Hi' treatment instead, most of them."

It all adds up to this. In Rosalind Russell's opinion a person gets the most out of life if he or she keeps busy, remembers how to laugh and is considerate of people. Seems to make sense. . .

American railroads, in the shipping of perishables, use approximately one-third of all the ice made in the U. S.

Hotel Boom in Hawaii

There's a hotel building boom along Waikiki Beach in Hawaii, according to a Pan American report. The Princess Kaiulani just opened its 290 rooms, the Waikiki Biltmore opened in January and the Reef is due to open shortly. The boom is expected to run up as high as $50,000,000 in new hotel construction.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Cheaper to Pay Victim Than to Hunt Thieves

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A large number of police and highway patrolmen descended on the muddy Trinity River bottoms to hunt two men who had robbed Charlie Jones, 78, of $7.

One patrolman's car got stuck in the mud. Other officers floundered in bushy wetness.

Someone suggested it might be better to give Charlie Jones $7 and forget the whole thing.

And that's what they did.

City Whistle Weakening Due to Rising Oil Costs

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Big Jim the city whistle that sounds each day at 7 a.m., noon, 1 p.m. and 5 is going to be a little weaker.

Reason is that oil costs have gone up. Oil is used for fuel to make the steam that blows the whistle and the city is going to cut down on the steam.

It takes about $12,000 a year just to blow Big Jim.

Narcotic Addicts Asked to Register in Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — If official figures are correct, a lot of people on Formosa are going to prison for narcotic addiction.

Authorities estimate there are more than 10,000 addicts on Formosa. But when a deadline passed for addicts to register or face prison, only 295 had shown up.

The oldest to register was a 76-year-old woman. The youngest was an 18-year-old.

Cautious Florida Saves 2 Anonymous Potraits

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida is preserving the portraits of a man and woman of a bygone era, although it isn't quite sure who they are. A Citizens Committee came across them while culling furnishings from the old governor's mansion to be placed in a new executive dwelling.

Said Committee Chairman Frank D. Moor:

"No one knows who they are, but someone said they are a former governor and his wife and we figured we ought to save them."

Found Out Which Side His Bed Is Buttered On

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Willie Rose knew which side his bed was buttered on, but he didn't want to lie in it.

Rose complained to police that an intruder ransacked his kitchen and bedroom and, among other things, left a container of butter in the middle of the bed. The butter melted and oozed over the covers and into the mattress.

An 8-year-old boy admitted everything and was handed over to juvenile authorities.

Excess Baggage Costs Four Times Ticket Fare

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Antonio Galli, a merchant from Sao Paulo, Brazil, doesn't travel light.

When he checked into the Miami airport for a flight to Buenos Aires, he had 13 pieces of luggage weighing 862 pounds. The excess baggage charge was $2,240, more than four times the cost of his ticket.

About 4.5 million U.S. women are employed in clerical positions, or about one-quarter of all employed women, according to government estimates.

Modern Mores Invade Baghdad

Iraqi Capital Emerges From Desert Waste to Vie With Newer Cities

BAGHDAD—This exotic city of the Arabian Nights in the heart of ancient Mesopotamia has blossomed into a modern metropolis.

Smooth new highways roll out across the desert and shiny American cars and red double-decker busses inch past camel carts and mules.

Modern apartments and the towers and spheres of oil refineries loom above adobe huts and Bedouin tents while steel bridges span the old Tigris River.

Along the main street of Baghdad are big, bustling hotels: the Sinbad, Zia, Tigris, and Semiramis. The Regent Palace, offers swimming pool and tennis courts and a single room and bath cost $8.40, including three meals, air-conditioning and service.

The best restaurants in Gaghdad are located in the hotels. Dinner averages a flat rate of $1.50 for one or two dishes or eat your way through nine courses.

One of the best places to observe the people of Gaghdad is the race track where the Iraqi are unreserved. When they win, they go wild with joy, embrace the jockey, throw their turbans in the air. When they lose, they thunder their disgust, and tear their programs into a cloudburst of confetti.

KANGAROO AIRCRAFT — A Republic RF-84F Thunderflash jet photo reconnaissance plane is loaded into the belly of a giant bomber, the 10-engined Convair GRB-36. The craft can fly separately, or during a mission the jet can take off from and rejoin its "mother" in midair.

Coast Guard Retrieves Wayward Coal Carrier

DETROIT (INS)—A huge coal barge which broke away from its moorings at the rail and waterways dock below West Grand boulevard, yesterday, was brought to a halt by the Coast Guard before it could interfere with shipping on the Detroit River.

A large Coast Guard cutter brought the barge under control just below Zug Island after police of the harbormaster's division failed in a towing attempt because the barge's lines snapped when pulled taut.

Ike Names Detroiter

DETROIT (INS) — President Eisenhower has named Dudley E. Whiting, a Detroit attorney, to a 3-man emergency board investigating the New York Central Railroad's eastern section dispute with its brakemen and conductors.

Irate Mothers Assail Detroit Teacher Habits

DETROIT (INS) — Two irate mothers appeared before the Detroit Board of Education to complain of conditions at the Pitcher School, including a charge that a teacher slept during classes. Another instructor at the school allegedly swore.

The board passed a resolution asking school superintendent Dondineau to investigate the charges.

Geiger Counter Can Determine Malignant Mole

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Doctors at the University of California at Los Angeles have discovered a new use for the Geiger Counter.

Instead of hunting for uranium, the medics use the instrument to determine whether a mole on a person's body is malignant or not.

The procedure, as reported in a recent Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Franz Bauer and Dr. Charles Steffen, works like this:

The doctor injects a small but harmless amount of radioactive phosphorous into a patient with a mole suspected of being malignant. After three hours a special Geiger Counter is passed over the mole and surrounding tissue to measure the radioactivity.

If the mole is malignant a higher reading will be shown on the counter because malignant growths such as those in cancer soak up more radiophosphorous than normal tissue.

The doctors say that in more than 70 experiments, all cases of moles that showed a higher radioactivity reading proved to be cancerous.

However the doctors indicated, the procedure is only effective in discovering malignant growth and cannot be used for treatment of cancer. This is due to the low radiation of the radiophosphorus used.

Remodeling of Wayne Buildings Gets Approval

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit Common Council has ordered full speed ahead on the $425,000 remodeling of the old county building to accommodate the traffic courts and allied offices.

Transfer of the courts from Cadillac Tower to the county building is expected in December.

Air conditioning of the building, which is desired by traffic judge George T. Murphy and D. Watts, was left unsettled after a lengthy council discussion on the remodeling.

Controls Under Study for Expressway Jams

DETROIT (INS)—Alger F. Malo, director of streets and traffic, said plans for controls to aid in untangling expressway jams will be ready in three weeks.

Malo outlined his plans when seven common council members witnessed a demonstration of the part television can play in expressway traffic control.

James selects every boy's favorite, blue jeans, with a Ski-Champ snow jacket and matching cap by Buddy.

Dog Is Man's Best Friend but Pound Belies Idiom

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — A new ordinance provides that dogs not on leash be impounded and Arland Smith, city dog officer, wonders if dogs really are man's best friend.

Impounded dogs can be retrieved by payment of a $5 fine and $1 a day for care. In the first month 60 dogs went to the pound and only three owners retrieved them. Meanwhile dog complaints average 20 a day.

Experiments with deer show that even when plenty of food is available, they cut their consumption of food about half in winter and lose about 20 pounds in that season.

Time-Buying Comes of Age

New Families Take Credit to Heart

By SAM DAWSON
Last of Three Articles

NEW YORK (AP)—Much of today's worry about living off the cuff comes from judging present customs by pre-war standards.

There's a new generation to whom the monthly payment is a fixed feature. When one series of payments is finished, a new one is begun. The family budget is drawn up as scrupulously on a credit basis as the cash one was worked out by their parents. So consumer credit and of home mortgages are at all time highs.

Most bankers feel they are going to stay that way—and without necessarily hurting the economy at all. For one thing, times have changed. The standard of living is much higher. Credit enables a family to lift its standard of living now above its present income. Also many monthly payments now merely replace other items in the old-fashioned budget. For example, where their parents paid out a weekly sum to the servants, today's young folk pay on household appliances that do the work.

* * *

Finally, there has been the remarkable upgrading of incomes in recent years, especially in the lower and middle income brackets where so much of today's instalment credit is concentrated. Most bankers contend that more persons than ever have incomes large enough to back the debt they have taken on, so that only a small minority are in financial hot water.

Between 7 and 10 million families in this country are reported to be strictly cash buyers who refuse on principle to buy on credit. And more than half of the nation's families are free of instalment debt, although some may still owe on their homes.

Of the 43 per cent of families repaying installment loans, almost three-fourths report payments are less than one fifth of their incomes after taxes. The great majority of those who have embraced the time payment way of life are repaying regularly.

"People are paying off their debts as fast as new debt is being contracted," says Arthur O. Dietz, president of C.I.T. Financial Corp.

"Mass production without mass sales would be impossible, and mass sales without mass credit would be a similar improbability," says Theodore H. Silbert, president of Standard Factors Corp.

Delinquencies now are lower than a year ago, according to 47 of the 57 credit executives attending a recent Consumer credit management meeting sponsored by Columbia University.

Then, with Americans doing such a fine job of handling their debts, what is all the worry in Washington about?

The administration says things are all right now: it just doesn't want credit terms made so easy that people will be tempted to get too far in debt.

So far the American consumer has shown great aptitude in handling his time-payment way of life—and the American economy has boomed as a result.

GM Survey Lauds DSR for Expense Trimming

DETROIT (INS)—The DSR has been credited with a near impossible record in trimming expenses through the improvement of maintenance operations of its bus fleet.

An independent study by General Motors Truck and Coach Division shows the DSR cut maintenance costs by $739,265 in the fiscal year which ended June 30.

Political Future Bright for Matskevich:

Folks Take to Boss of Red Farm Delegates

By TOM WHITNEY

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Vladimir Matskevich is a Communist politician with a promising future.

This bald and rotund 44-year-old Ukrainian, acting minister of agriculture of the U.S.S.R and chief of the Russian farm delegation now touring the United States, looks like one of the brighter rising stars in the Soviet political heavens.

He also looks very much the way Americans think a Soviet Russian politician ought to look.

He's bald except on the back and sides of his head, and these he shaves to create the billiard ball impression which Americans have come to associate with Russians. His face is round in typically slavic tradition.

• • •

I have been touring with the Soviet farm delegation for four weeks. I have watched Matskevich with particular interest. And I've conversed with him on numerous occasions.

I have been impressed with his flare for making friends and influencing people.

For example, at the Chamber of Commerce dinner for the Russians at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, an Iowan rose and asked Matskevich:

"When Premier Malenkov resigned, his statement referred to mistakes in farm policy as one of the reasons for his resignation. What were those mistakes?"

• • •

Immediately another Iowan rose.

"We have agreed," he said, "that we will not discuss controversial questions at this dinner. Therefore I suggest the question be withdrawn."

Matskevich listened to the exchange through an interpreter.

"But I would like to answer the question please," he said.

"When Premier Malenkov resigned, in his statement he covered the reasons for his resignation quite fully, and I don't have anything to add to that."

His audience thought he had answered the question but he had said nothing. The impression he had created was of an open and honest man.

• • •

And this has been the story all the way around on this lengthy tour.

Matskevich has a quality which Americans have not in general associated in the past with high-ranking Communist leaders: a sense of humor. It's not the bitter humor of a Vyshinsky but a good deal more gentle.

When he arrived in Detroit to visit the Ford plant, reporters asked him why he had come to their city:

"We're very interested in Japanese cherries," he cracked. "And we came here, of course, to study Japanese cherries."

• • •

Vladimir Matskevich was born, according to Soviet publications, in 1909 in the Ukraine.

His first big job seems to have been as the director of one of the biggest agricultural schools in the Ukraine—the Kharkov Agricultural Institute.

He was made minister of livestock for the Ukraine after the war, he has said. In 1949 he was made minister of agriculture of the Ukraine. That year he was also elected to the Ukrainian Party Central Committee.

In April 1950 he was named first deputy premier of the Ukraine and he became a member of the Communist party Politbureau for the Ukraine.

• • •

In March 1952 he was suddenly relieved of his job as first deputy premier of the Ukraine. He was not reelected to the Communist party organs of the Ukraine.

He became prominent again after Stalin's death when Khrushchev had become one of the two top men of the U.S.S.R. He was named first deputy minister of agriculture of the U.S.S.R. some time between September 1953 and February 1954.

TROPHY PRESENTED — M. Sgt. Paul J. Smith (left), Pontiac area recruiting supervisor, receives a trophy on behalf of his office, which was named the outstanding recruiting station for the month of June, when 45 men joined the service. Making the presentation is Col. Marvin E. Mitchel, commanding officer of Army recruiting in Michigan. There are 2 recruiting stations in the state. Area "B" includes the cities of Pontiac, Royal Oak, Mt. Clemens and Port Huron. The Pontiac station fulfilled 90.30 per cent of its overall June quota.

Wayne Prof Shouts 'Lie'

DETROIT (AP) — A Wayne University professor said today he would seek White House intervention, if necessary, to get an apology and retraction from the Army which described him as a supporter of a leftist group cited as Communist and subversive by the U.S. Attorney General's office.

The Army said Dr. Alfred H. Keily, head of Wayne's history department was "a contributor to and supporter of the American Youth for Democracy (AYD)." It made the accusation in list of charges made public yesterday bolstering a loyalty case against Sanford Waxer, 27, of Detroit, an Army veteran.

In Washington, Secretary of the Army Bucker promised a "thorough review" of the case.

"I am not familiar with the case," Bucker said. "The charges were made before I was appointed secretary.

'But if there have been any injustices, Dr. Kelly may rest assured they will be corrected."

Waxer, a Wayne University graduate and former student in one of Dr. Kelly's history classes, was denied an honorable discharge by the Army on the grounds he "associated with the Communist party."

Waxer was not accused by the Army of being either a Communist or a Communist sympathizer.

He refused to accept an undesirable discharge when separated from the Army last May after a two-year tour of duty.

Dr. Kelly's name entered the case as a character reference listed by Waxer in an application for an Army commission.

Dr. Kelly was backed by the university in his demand for a retraction of the charge and an apology.

Well-Known German Artist Visits Here; Sketches Beautiful Oakland Lake Scenes

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

A handful of Oakland County lakes are destined to become internationally known, thanks to the six-week visit of a well-known German landscape artist who signs his paintings "JOS, Munich."

Bavarian-born Josef Sussmayr yesterday left the Waterford Township home of his boyhood friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gregor Bader, with a sketch pad crammed with watercolors of lakes viewed on his visit here.

On return to his Munich studio in several weeks, the 58-year-old Sussmayr will begin transferring the sketches into the oil paintings for which he has become known here and abroad.

If it wegen't for Adolph Hitler, Sussmayr said, he might never have become a full-time artist.

OUSTED FROM ORCHESTRA

Sussmayr had been a violinist with the Munich Radio Symphony for a dozen years when Hitler began wildly wielding his power and political ideas in 1933. Sussmayr didn't agree wtih the fuehrer's philosophy and soon found himself out of the government-supported orchestra.

"But I didn't follow the steps down, but up," Sussmayr smiled.

Through as a musician, he turned to his second talent, art. He had been painting since he was 12 years old and had already had his work exhibited and proved salable by the time he was judged "politically untrustworthy."

He had a heriditary background for both talents. His grandfather was a painter of scenes on church ceilings and walls. And his great-great grandfather had completed an unfinished Mozart requiem.

PAINTS ONLY LANDSCAPES

Sussmayr always has limited his work to landscapes because "I love the outside—the lakes and what goes with it," he said. With a chuckle, he added:

"I make my living by stealing from nature."

The artist's gentle blues, green and yellows depicting the lands, trees and water of Oakland County may find their way back to their source. Before leaving, Sussmayr signed an agreement with an international art exporting firm in Detroit to send them several paintings each month.

His works are sold by at least one Detroit store. And persons living on the shores of Watkins, Cass, Loon, Brendel and Angelus lakes one day may find themselves with a painting on their walls of a scene almost identical to that viewed through their windows.

FROM MEMORY — Putting the finishing strokes on one of the Alpine scenes for which he is internationally known is Josef Sussmayr, 58-year-old Munich, Germany, landscape artist. Sussmayr, who signs his works JOS, left here yesterday after a six-week visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gregor Bader, 1700 Silver Lake Rd., Waterford Township. He is shown working on a specially commissioned painting in the cool of the Bader basement.

Polio Increase Alarms Nation

Public Health Service Reports Disease Uptake in Most States

WASHINGTON (INS)—The government reported today there were 1,781 cases of polio in the U.S. last week, an increase of 26 per cent over the previous week.

• • •

The Public Health Service added that last week's figure was "only six per cent below the number for the same week last year."

At the same time, the PHS said that, as of Aug. 10, there were 300 cases of polio among persons who received Salk vaccinations. Of these 158 were paralytic and 142 nonparalytic.

Altogether this year, polio has struck 9,720 persons, compared with 12,695 up to this point in 1954. Since the beginning of the current "disease year" on April 1, there have been 8,657 polio cases, compared with 11,142 during the corresponding period of 1954.

IN ALL AREAS

Last week's 26 per cent increase over the 1,412 of the previous seven days was felt in all sections of the country except the west south central and the mountain states.

The PHS reported a rise of approximately 30 per cent in the New England, Middle Atlantic, East North Central and the West North Central divisions.

The Service added: "Although Massachusetts reported a 30 per cent increase in cases for the current as compared with the previous week, the State Department of Public Health reported little extension of the disease, the 411 cases occurring principally in communities which had been involved in previous week."

Boston suffered 114 cases during the week ending Aug. 13, compared with 84 during the week ending Aug. 6.

The PHS said, however, the resort areas of Cape Cod, Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard, as well as the rural sections in the western part of Massachusetts, "are still considered. . .to be comparatively safe for summer visitors."

• • •

The report indicated that Wisconsin has become the newest polio trouble spot. "During the past few weeks," it said, the number of cases "has been increasing rapidly. . .40, 56, 105 and 135 cases, respectively, having been reported for the four weeks ended Aug. 13."

Strongman Wins Jail

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—An 18-year-old strongman bet he could yank a parking meter from its concrete setting. He won his bet, but lost to the police. They booked him for drunkenness.

Britain-Texas Flight Breaks Jet Record

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Refueled in flight, 10 F84F jet fighters flew from an American base in England to Austin yesterday in 10 hours 48 minutes, breaking two world records.

One of the records was for time, the other for nonstop mass flight distance.

• • •

The fighters averaged 480 miles per hour for the 5,118-mile trip from the English Midlands to their station here at Bergstrom Air Force Base. They refueled in flight.

Col. Richard N. Ellis, 39, led the Thunderstreaks.

The flight began with 12 aircraft but two landed at Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, La., and trailed the other 10 home. No reason was announced for the landings.

Bent Coins Keep Parking Meter Repairman Busy

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Twisted springs, jammed gears and bent coins are just a few of the headaches that confront Andy Kulich in his unusual occupation.

Andy is the man that keeps the city's 810 parking meters in tip-top shape.

He enjoys his work but sometimes wonders how many people feel sympathetic towards him. Kulich, who lives with his wife and two sons at 1277 Merry Rd., Waterford Township, has been the parking meter service repairman for the Pontiac Police department since 1938.

"I took one year out in 1941 for military service but the rest of my working days have been split between touring the city on my tricycle or sitting in this shop repairing any number of meters that might act up," 40-year-old Kulich said.

SEVEN-MAN STAFF

Kulich is attached to the electrical section of the department which staffs seven men and has its 5-by-8 foot workshop behind the police station on North Perry.

The manufacturer of the meters provides a five month school at Tulsa, Okla. for future meter repairmen.

But Andy picked up the meter repair business all by himself. "Back in 1937 I was janitor at city hall and, thanks to the city manager at the time, I was switched to the electrical department attached to the police force," Kulich said.

Kulich bought books from jewelers on timing devices and gear ratios and studied hours on his own time to learn his present trade.

Since their installation in the city around August 1938 and up until last year, Kulich took care of all meters himself. Merle Parent now assists Andy in his work.

Besides 472 older dual meters the city has installed, Pontiac employes 338 Park-O-Meters of a more modern design.

"The dual meters someday will have to be replaced by new Park-O-Meters because they are getting along in years," the repairman stated. "But I might add that they are very well constructed. In my 17 years experience with them I have never had to replace an inner-mechanism."

RECEIVES REPORT

Kulich receives a report from the violation bureau when a meter is out of order and hops onto his tricycle for the repair work ahead. An average of eight broken meters a day are reported to the bureau.

Andy has a cigar box full of slugs, foreign coins and bent coins that have caused him many a headache.

"You would be surprised how many bent coins people carry around in their pockets or purses without being aware they aren't fit for meters," Kulich declared.

Pranksters also keep Andy busy. "Take last Halloween for example. Sixty meters were reported out of order. Some trick - and - treaters had stuffed the meters with cheese, gum and various other things."

According to Kulich, dual meters have 462 springs, screws and gears that may jam or go out of adjustment at any time. The meters cost about $84 each.

50 MILES A DAY

Kulich figures he averages 50 miles a day repairing and winding meters.

The Park-O-Meters have a timing device three times the size of the average wrist watch and the main difference is in the gear ratio.

"Many times I have been asked if I was a policeman and could give tickets, and once I was told I was aiding and abetting these 'one arm bandits' as they often have been called by residents."

Around 1939 or 1940 all the meters were robbed and once Kulich had to retrieve two that had been dumped into the Clinton River.

"I once hunted all over the city for a meter reported out of order while they were being remembered," Kulich smilingly recalled.

British Navy Uses Paddle-Wheelers in Modern Fleet

WASHINGTON — The paddle wheel boat is stirring up a new tradition in faraway waters.

Seven paddle-equipped tugs, each 15 feet longer than Robert Fulton's 130-foot Clermont, have been ordered by the British Navy. The Admiralty explained old-fashioned paddle boats outperform propeller-driven tugs in pushing aircraft carriers about crowded dockyards. However, Diesel-electric engines will turn the paddles — not steam.

A few paddle boats still churn up frothy wakes on American waterways, the National Geographic Society says, but as an essential mode of river and lake transportation they are sentimental relics of the past.

Paddle-wheel boats predate the Christian era. Ancient Egyptians and Romans fitted war galleys with hand-operated paddle wheels.

A Spanish naval officer supposedly tried to propel a ship by paddles and a "vessel of boiling water" in the 12th century. Finally in 1807, Fulton drew upon the inventions of predecessors to build the first practical, commercially successful vessel combining steam power and paddles.

On its maiden run, the Clermont transported 14 passengers from New York to Albany, charging $7 a ticket. It traveled 5 miles an hour.

VA Pushing Demands for Warren Unit Repair

DETROIT (INS)—The Veterans Administration has renewed demands that a builder complete repairs to homes in a Warren Township subdivision.

Frank D. Beebe, chief appraiser for the VA, said an inspection of 122 homes on which complaints had been received, showed all the houses had not been satisfactorily repaired.

However, Beebe said a strong effort had been made to adjust the complaints by the Ira Hotchkiss Co., builder of the homes.

U. S. Imports Pork

CHICAGO—American imports of pork climbed to 170,000,000 pounds in 1954, a gain of 16 per cent above 1953. Pork imports have increased steadily since 1947, when less than 500,000 pounds of pork were imported. Canned hams are the principal imported pork product.

Citizens Group Wants Remedy for Suburban Ills

DETROIT (INS) — The Citizens Research Council of Michigan has urged action toward solving problems created by Detroit's suburbs.

The council said Detroit had handled its growth in an orderly manner but pointed out there are 12 local units of government in surrounding areas of Wayne, Macomb and Oakland Counties.

The problems cited by the council included water shortages, sewage troubles, lack of coordination in highway construction and lack of agreement on airport facilities.

Do Drop the New

SANTA FE, N. M. (INS) — A warning to New Mexicans: The Decca Recording Company may change the name of the song "In Lovely Old New Mexico" to "In Lovely Old Mexico." The song's composer, Mrs. Minnie Mae Everett expressed surprise the song hasn't caught on, and relayed the warning.

Navy Saves Here

WASHINGTON — A new chemical product now makes it possible for the Navy to patch holes in the jackets of fuel hoses at a cost of about $2.50 each. Replacement of the hose would cost as much as $900 a 50-foot length.

More than 8,000 American Indians saw service in World War I.

In 1954, Northeastern U. S. railroads originated 251,000,000 tons of coal and coke traffic, or 47.1 per cent of their total carload traffic for that year.

Denver Jail Inmates Get Indefinite Terms

DENVER (AP) — Detective John Leavitt notified a mother that her 9-year-old son had been jailed in Juvenile Hall for investigation of stealing comic books.

"Heavens!" she exclaimed. "How did he get out of the house? He has the mumps."

A police physician examined the boy and said she was right.

If the 20 other inmates had any hope of a quick release, they can forget it now.

Allies Eye Soviet Troop Cutback With Skepticism

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles justifiably is cautious about the Soviet announcement that its forces will be cut by 640,000 men by Dec. 15.

He says it is "not easy to judge" the military significance of the announcement because there is no official information on the size of the Soviet forces or their reserves.

In May last year Anthony Nutting, then British foreign office under-secretary, told the House of Commons that it was believed that Soviet forces totaled 4,750,000 with 3,200,000 of the men in the army.

A North Atlantic treaty organization report published last January put the armed strength of Russia and her satellites at 6,000,000 men. It added that within 30 days of mobilization they could put 400 divisions into the field.

Dulles said that even after a Soviet reduction of 640,000 men the Red armed forces "still will be much larger than those of the United States," which were cut from 3,500,000 to 2,900,000 in the last two years.

NEW LOOK WORRIES

American officials understandably are concerned that the Soviet announcement and the general sunny disposition being shown toward the west by Moscow will lead Western allied powers in NATO to call for a reduction in their commitments to that defense organization.

After the Moscow announcement, some British newspapers were quick to suggest that the London government consider cutting its forces—even though there is no way of checking whether Moscow ever does reduce its armed strength.

Despite the Moscow announcement it is clear meanwhile that the Russians are going to keep troops in some of the satellite nations.

Romania, which was overrun ten years ago by the Soviets who forced King Michael into exile and set up their Communist pupper regime, apparently is to have Soviet troops stationed on its soil indefinitely.

SHAM EXCUSE

Legally, the Russias have said that their troops were in Romania and Hungary to protect Soviet communication lines to Austria.

The question of whether they would withdraw from those countries, now that the occupation of Austria is ending, has been answered by the Communist premier in Bucharest. The answer is: They will not withdraw.

The Communists now have said publicly that "important changes" have occurred since the peace treaty days, one of which is conclusion of the Warsaw military pact of the Communnist bloc countries.

The latter pact, as was predicted, now is being used by the Communists as a legal excuse to keep Red army troops in the satellite nations.

Object to Wrigley Day

LANSING (AP) — An association of independent grocers asked Gov. Williams today to make an immediate investigation into why the opening day at the Michigan State Fair has been designated "Wrigley Day" after the Wrigley grocery chain.

Barney Baruch Decries Accepted Idea That Man Must Retire at Sixty-Five

By BURNETT HERSHEY
INS Feature Writer

Bernard Mannes Baruch refuses to accept old age as the inevitable consequence of having been around a long time.

"To me, old age is always fifteen years older than I am."

With this verbal vitamin Barney Baruch, America's youngest elder statesman, fortifies his philosophy on his 85th birthday tomorrow. From now on, as he begins to push toward that "fifteen years older"—the century mark—he says he does not believe he will ever be an old man.

That he firmly believes this is evidenced by the almost daily output of public utterances on American and world affairs. Baruch has, in fact, added still another president to the long list of chief executives he has guided and helped.

The phenomenon of Barney Baruch is that of a man who, at 85, refuses to grow old in the ordinary sense.

After sixty-five years of arduous labor on many levels of life, he still walks with a soldierly stride, has all his hair, and eats, with the enthusiasm of a gourmet, foods which would kill most men half his age, or send them groaning to the medicine chest for alkalines.

At a time in life when many people prefer quiet and aloneness—or are forced into it—Baruch sees more people in a single day than many a chief of state.

His days are crammed with diverse activities—speeches, letters, conferences with his staff of economists and researchers and intimate chats with hundreds of celebrated pilgrims who flock to his Fifth Avenue residence in New York City where the elder statesman holds "open house."

For one reporter, at least, it seemed particularly apt at this time to quiz Mr. Baruch on the subject of longevity and to try to learn his "secret," if any.

"Nowadays, surely," he said, smiling, "it is no great trick to live long. No disease is incurable if you can wait long enough. I'm an example of one who has survived, in large part, because of advancements in medical science which came along with advancement in my age.

"But, even in this day and age, if it is no longer a trick to live long, it is still a trick to live long and well.

"Rules, rules, there are no rules . . . every man is his own universe. Take the simple matter of eating breakfast." Baruch grinned. "I'm always hungry—eat like a young boy. Now I personally eat a big breakfast topped off with fresh fruit nearly every day of my life. Other people I know are satisfied with one egg; others require a large fruit juice and black coffee. Who is to say which of us is right? By the time a man is thirty, if he doesn't know what's good for him, no doctor can help him."

JUST A FAT KID

As a boy, he was so chubby that his schoolmates nicknamed him "Bunch" and teased him unmercifully about the rolls of fat on his ankles which hung down over his shoe tops.

Today, Baruch weighs about 200 pounds which is par for a man of six feet four, and his weight hasn't varied 3 pounds in 15 years.

The only habit Baruch will recommend to others is the practice of taking a cold bath each morning. His father, Dr. Simon Baruch, was one of the originators of hydro-therapy and greatly influenced his son's pattern of living in this respect.

But, if Baruch enjoys his cold plunge on arising, he makes sure of being warm the rest of the day. He wears long underwear both in winter and summer; believes it protects him from drafts and subsequent colds so debilitating to people of his age.

Like many big men, Baruch combines an intellectual distaste for strenuous exercise with a reluctant recognition of its importance.

As a boy, he played tennis, baseball, and other "violent" games. Today, he delights in piquing the muscle addicts with sharp, acidulous comments. For instance: "As I grow older I find myself less and less inclined to take the stairs two at a time." Or again: "It is my considered opinion that nobody who isn't set on killing himself should play singles in tennis after fifty."

LIKES THE GIRLS

Along with a youthful passion for taking a chance, Baruch has not lost interest in the distaff side. His wife, who was extremely attractive, died many years ago. Since then, he has often admitted that he has a roving eye for the girls.

"No, I haven't lost sight of the pleasure that comes from being in the company of beautiful women when a man becomes immune to such a cosmic force, then he is indeed old."

Possibly the key to Baruch's youth is his jaunty refusal to accept the idea of old age at all. He is convinced that old age is a state of mind that often happens to the middle-aged and sometimes to the old.

"To my way of thinking, our habit of regarding sixty-five as the logical age for retirement is a dangerous mental shibboleth," he explains. "Today, any man can look forward to twenty more years of physical vigor than he could two generations ago."

"Men often don't pace themselves well," he observes. "They drive too hard toward breakdowns, toward the wear and tear of their tissues, and then, suddenly, drop. Mind you, again, there's no rule. The idea of frequent short vacations is a good one. However, only if it suits—never if it doesn't."

He, himself, takes a three month winter vacation, shooting wild birds on his farm in South Carolina, but, for him, it is just another way of keeping busy—in no sense a rest cure.

Blood Vessel, Heart Disease Deaths Decline

NEW YORK — The American Heart Association reports a slight drop in deaths from diseases of the heart and blood vessels occurred in the United State during 1954.

Although such diseases caused 52.3 per cent of all deaths in the nation last year, deaths from such causes dropped to 773,980 from a record high of 794,120 in 1953.

The decline in the cardiovascular death rate, the association believes, was due primary to a sharp drop in the incidence of influenza and pneumonia last year compared with 1953, the first two months of which were marked by a severe and widespread influenza outbreak.

Mom Hopes Airman, Wife Will Reconcile

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The mother of Airman Daniel C. Schmidt says she has not given up hope of a reconciliation between him and his remarried wife Una.

The mother, Mrs. Nellie Peters, 43, said last night she would have to hear it from her son that he definitely was through with his wife.

• • •

"Danny never said anything like that to me," said Mrs. Peters, who has talked to her son by telephone since he came home to find Una married to another man. Mrs. Peters has not heard from Schmidt for several days but expects him to visit her soon.

She recalled that her son told her he was going to work out the problem himself but "now others have entered the picture and it doesn't sound like Danny any more."

Fire fighters dug them out. The parents were dead. The child died a short time later in a Burlington Hospital.

OTTAWA, (AP)—Issa the Smiler, an Eskimo from Port Harrison in northern Quebec, has never been in a museum but people who have are getting to know his work.

Issa is a carver. Several of his works have been selected for the permanent collection of the National Museum of Canada.

They will go on display in Toronto this month as part of what the Northern Affairs Department has billed as the finest collection of Eskimo art ever exhibited. Sixty pieces from the National Museum and 60 from the Canadian Handicrafts Guild will be exhibited in the Northern Affairs Department's "Meet the North" display at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Most of the carvings are from native soapstone. Others are whittled from granite, bone and ivory. The dominant motif is the hunt.

Army Relaxes POW Code, Stresses Loyalty

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new military code calls on every captured fighting man to withstand enemy pressure to the utmost, but to avoid at all costs disclosure of vital malitary information and disloyalty to his country or his comrades.

* * *

Drawing on experiences in the Korean War, it recognizes that physical and mental torture can force a man to the breaking point. It proposes idealistic standards and indoctrination to keep that breaking point high.

President Eisenhower proclaimed the new code yesterday and directed the military services to train all men to stand up to it, both in combat and in captivity.

It says that every American fighting man should be prepared:

To give his life for his country.

To refuse to surrender on his own initiative.

To continue resistance to pressures after capture.

To keep faith with his fellow prisoners.

* * *

The code holds to the loftiest ideals of bravery, but recognizes, as Gen. John E. Hull phrased it, that "any man can be broken if enough pressure is put on him." Hull, onetime supreme commander in the Far East, was vice chairman of a committee of retired officers and civilian officials which drew up the code and an accompanying report.

It officially relaxes for the first time the old requirement that a man give his captors only his name, rank and serial number.

That remains the first line of defense, to which he should hold if he can. The code calls on him to avoid answering other questions "to the utmost of my ability."

* * *

The report says he should stand "on the final line of resistance to the end—no disclosure of vital military information and above all no disloyalty in word or deed to his country, his service or his comrades."

The framers of the code noted that because modern warfare may reach "the doorstep of every citizen," it may well become a code "for all Americans if the problem of survival should ever come to our own main streets."

* * *

The presidential order directed the military services to start "specific training" for all ranks as soon as possible in ways and means to prepare Americans to resist pressure and foil enemy interrogators. But the defense report stressed the necessity for the training in Americanism to start in the homes, the schools and the churches, saying that by the time a man gets into uniform his character is pretty well established.

The American military man, according to the code and accompanying instructions, must oppose an enemy both before and after capture. He must try to escape and help his comrades do likewise. He must obey discipline in prison camps, following the leadership enforced by the senior ranking prisoner.

* * *

Informing, or doing anything to harm a fellow prisoner, is described as "despicable." No serviceman may sign a confession or assent to an oral one, whether true or false, or sign any peace or surrender appeals or anything on behalf of an enemy. Likewise forbidden is the making of propaganda recordings or broadcasts.

Balancing this demand for responsibility on the part of the military man is the defense report statement, backed up by the President himself, that the "United States will never forget and never forsake him and that it will win the ultimate victory."

* * *

The framers of the code drew upod the advice and personal experience of many experts, including Americans who survived the worst that the Communists could do to them in Korea. The committee rejected as impractical the "Spartan code of silence" that would demand of a prisoner that he say absolutely nothing to his captors.

The committee also rejected the advice of some who advocated either letting prisoners tell as much as they wanted to and others who would encourage prisoners to talk a lot but say nothing.

* * *

The report criticized the actions and failures of some Korean War prisoners who "failed to keep the faith," but said on the whole, those taken prisoner "cannot be found wanting."

Proud Papa Penguin Practices Patience

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—That proud male king penguin at the Stanley Park zoo is now two weeks faithfully along towards hatching an egg, a penguin accomplishment which has happened only a few times in North America.

His mate is giving him no help at all.

"Normally the female relieves the male at intervals during the egg's incubation period," zoo keeper Alan Beet said today.

"But so far she's shown no willingness to take over."

The incubation period is 64 days. So Mr. Penguin has a job until about Oct. 5, unless the Mrs. takes over.

Frightened Lad Flees Leaving Tots in Icebox

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police learned yesterday how Lewis Andrews, 5, and his brother Lee, 2, came to die in an abandoned refrigerator in an empty apartment Tuesday.

Five-year-old Carl Jenkins told Detective Patrick Ryan that he and the brothers were playfully taking turns getting in the refrigerator. When the brothers got inside, Carl found he couldn't open the door, either because he wasn't strong enough or was too short.

Fearing punishment, he said tearfully, he fled.

The bodies of the boys were found by their mother six hours later.

Jap Communist Takes Red Party Top Post

TOKYO (AP)—Sanzo Nosaka, who emerged from five years of hiding last week, today was named to the No. 1 Communist post in Japan.

The Japan Communist party announced his appointment as first secretary.

• • •

Nosaka succeeds Kyuichi Tokuda, whose death in Peiping in October 1953 was announced July 29.

Both Tokuda and Nosaka went underground in 1950 when Gen. Douglas MacArthur purged them from the Japanese Diet.

Police arrested Nosaka last week but turned him loose yesterday after prosecutors decided a MacArthur occupation order was null and void.

New Dallas Hoosegow Throws an Open House

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Sheriff Bill Decker announced today he would hold open house Sunday from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. as his new maximum security county jail quarters.

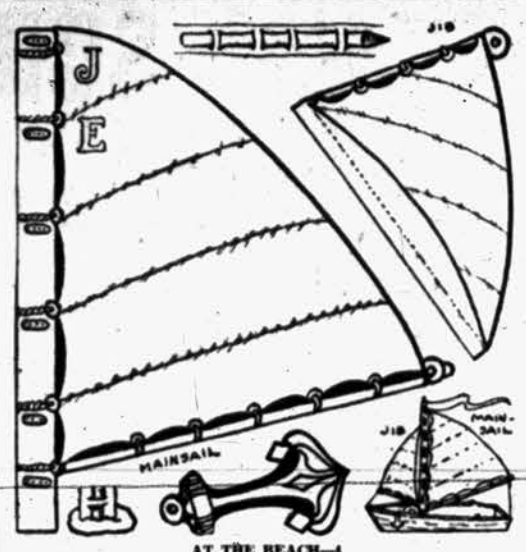

"This is a pretty swanky jail," he explained. "We're even going to have music for the opening—organist Jack Caldwell from the Dallas Athletic Club."

The prisoners move in next week.

AT THE BEACH—4
Making Our Sails

Today we will make sails for our boat. The larger sail shown here is called the mainsail. The smaller one is the jib.

Paste the picture on white writing paper. Cut out the two sails along with the mast and booms to which they are attached. Then cut through the dotted slits on the mast of the larger sail and slip a slender stick through them lengthwise as shown in the little sketch. Place a lump of molding clay in the bottom of your boat. Push the stick into this clay carefully so that it stands up with the sail.

Put the jib in place and paste the straight edge of it behind the mast which holds the mainsail.

Tie a short piece of string through the hole at the corner of each sail. Paste it to the boat as shown in the small picture.

Now your ship is ready to sail.

You can color the anchor red, put a string through the hole in the end and hang it outside your boat.

Autopsy Report Confirms Cause

Charles Hlavac Probe Will Continue Despite Coroner Verdict

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP)—An investigation into the death of wealthy Charles Hlavac will continue although an autopsy confirmed that brain injuries suffered in an auto crash were what killed him.

• • •

Hlavac's body was exhumed yesterday from the Grove Church cemetery in North Bergen, and reburied after the autopsy, ordered by Monmouth County Prosecutor Vincent P. Keuper.

Hlavac, of New York, died July 7 as a result of the crash on the Garden State Parkway. The car in which he was riding plunged down an embankment after a tire blowout.

• • •

Two days before the mishap, Hlavac left his $100,000 estate to his housekeeper Mrs. Carrie Spancell, 43, of New York. She was in the car at the time of the crash, along with William Jackson, 54, also of New York, who was driving. Mrs. Spancell and Jackson, both Negroes, were hurt.

Mrs. Spancell was held as a material witness and Jackson on a technical charge of causing death by auto. They were arraigned yesterday and held in $5,000 bail each.

After the autopsy, however, Keuper said bail would be reduced to $500 for the housekeeper and to $1,000 for Jackson, a real estate salesman.

The investigation was launched by Keuper when he said he was told that Hlavac changed his will in favor of the housekeeper shortly before the crash, that Hlavac had been under doctor's orders to remain at home, and that there was a bad tire on the car.

Hlavac's bother William Lavac, of Closter, N.J., had raised a question about the estate, Keuper said.

The prosecutor said last night the investigation would continue.

Brothers Plan to Wed Sisters From Germany

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Bluem brothers are marrying sisters in a double ceremony in about two weeks.

Eberhard F. Bluem, 43, and Elsberth Haefner, 28, and William R. Bluem, 42, and Irmgaard Haefner, 27, obtained marriage licenses yesterday.

The German-born brothers, U.S. residents for 26 years, met the sisters a year ago during a visit to Germany.

It was a year before the sisters obtained visas for permanent residence in the United States. They arrived a week ago and took an apartment in Glendale, next to that occupied by the brothers.

After the weddings, one brother and one sister will exchange addresses.

Rear View Mirror Useful

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Jack Fiener was driving his truck across a bridge when he saw in the rearview mirror the car that had been stolen from in front of his house earlier in the day. He blocked it with his truck. Two youths jumped out and fled. They were later captured on the Indiana side of the Ohio River and turned over to juvenile authorities.

Policeman Wounded by Slaying Suspect

CHICAGO (AP)—A 26-year-old ex-convict, hunted for the killing of a detective Monday night, shot and seriously wounded a rookie policeman in a gun fight last night in a movie theater.

• • •

The slayer, believed wounded, fled while some 250 persons watched the movie. Several screamed as shots exploded but there was no panic.

Police stepped up their search for the gunman, Richard Carpenter, who Monday night killed Detective William J. Murphy, 34, in a gun battle in a subway station.

Nearly 500 officers were sent into the Northwest Side district around the Baltimore Theater, where policeman Clarence Kerr, 25, was shot last night.

• • •

"The gunman was Carpenter, and we know he is wounded," said Philip Breitzke, deputy commissioner. "He's somewhere around here, we know, and we'll get him."

Embassy Cites Woman for Jap School Efforts

TOKYO (AP)—The American Embassy today cited Mrs. Eleanor H. Jorden, of New York and Vineyard Haven, Mass., for "intellectual eminence and unflagging industry" in founding and directing the embassy's Japanese language school.

Mrs. Jorden, wife of New York Times correspondent William J. Jorden, established the school in 1950 for embassy and consulate personnel in Japan. During the five years she has headed the school more than 700 have attended its language classes.

Scientist Holds Out Hope for Life on Moon

(Following is the fourth installment of a four-part condensation of the book "Going Into Space" by Arthur Charles Clarke, former chairman of the British Interplantary Society.)

By ARTHUR C. CLARKE

Is there life on the moon?

That is a question that is always being asked, and most astronomers would say, "Definitely, no. The absence of air and water rules it out."

However, it is wise not to be too dogmatic on this point. Many careful lunar observers have seen changes which they believe are due to some form of vegetation, and, when one considers some of the weird plants that have adapted themselves to life in earth's desert regions, it does not seem impossible that we might find remote relatives of our cacti or lichens on the moon.

When several expeditions have landed safely on the moon and returned to earth, plans would be made to set up a permanent scientific base there. It would probably be largely underground, to avoid the great variations in temperature between the lunar day and night, which last 27 times as long as ours.

In many ways, the moon will be an even better site than a space-station for an astronomical observatory.

The fact that the moon turns so slowly on its axis—once in 27 days as compared with earth's once in 24 hours—will also be a considerable advantage to the astronomers. Even during the lunar day it would be easy to observe the stars, because there is no atmosphere to scatter the sunlight and so to swamp the stars in its glare.

SUPPLIED FROM EARTH

The first lunar base would have to be supplied from earth, in much the same way as research stations in the Antarctic are provisioned from home. However, as the cost of transport will be so great, it will be necessary to make the base self-supporting at the earliest possible moment, particularly with oxygen.

Eventually, the lunar colony will be able to build up its own stocks of the precious gas chemically and will have no need to import any from earth.

Water must also be present on the moon, as it is on earth, combined with various salts and other chemicals in many types of rock. When we have had a chance to do some lunar prospecting, we should be able to locate supplies of any material we need. It would then be possible to grow crops on the moon.

The method of cultivation known as hydroponic or soilless farming would be very suitable. In this system, the plants are supported on wire netting and their roots dip into solutions of the necessary salts. Fourteen days of continuous sunlight would make things much easier for the farmer!

Altogether apart from purely scientific reasons, there are extremely powerful practical incentives for the colonization of the moon. Because of its low gravity, it is more than 20 times easier to escape from the moon than from the earth.

TRIPS SIMPLIFIED

If we can find sources of rocket propellants there, and thus set up refueling stations on the moon, the problem of interplantary flight will be enormously simplified.

Today, before we have built any spaceships at all, it is obviously impossible to guess how large or how swift they may ultimately become.

The first spaceships will take several months to make the journeys even to the nearest planets. But, as for all other forms of transport, speeds will steadily increase, bringing the trip down to weeks, and eventually to days.

There is no limit to speed in space, at least, according to Einstein's theory of relativity, not until one begins to approach the velocity of light. And as that is 670,000,000 miles an hour, it's not a speed limit that will worry us for a long time to come! At a thousandth of this velocity, one would get to Mars in a few days.

Though it may well take several hundred years, spaceships from earth will have reached all the planets of the sun, from scorched Mercury to eternally frozen Pluto and the unknown worlds that may lie beyond it.

2 Eccentric Lizards Chomp on Flowers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Did you ever see a lizard chomping on a mouthful of flowers?

At the Philadelphia Zoo there are two recent reptile arrivals who eat nothing else, making their daily banquet out of their favorite dish, heads of zinnias, and other flowers.

Keeper Edward Endy at first tried giving them ground meat, eggs and insects but the 18-inch long spiny-tailed Lizards refused such reptile delicacies.

Then Endy tried lettuce but the fat chunky animals would do no more than politely nibble at the keeper's fare. Finally he came up with heads of zinnias and they have been eating them with gusto ever since.

Firm Ups Copper Price From 36 to 40c a Pound

NEW YORK (AP) — The Anaconda Co. today raised the price of copper from 36 cents a pound to 40 cents.

Other producers did not follow suit immediately, but it was generally believed in the trade that the 40-cent price would become uniform.

Cheese Resale Charge Denied

Agriculture Department Lost $2 Million in Deal, Comptroller Asserts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says it acted "solely in the interest of American farmers" in cheese transactions frowned on by Comptroller General Joseph Campbell.

The Department issued a statement yesterday saying it would carefully review Campbell's opinion that the deal with a number of cheese distributors was "unauthorized and improper." It did not say immediately whether it would seek to recover the estimated two million dollars paid out.

* * *

Involved were "purchase resale transactions" around April 1, 1954, when Secretary of Agriculture Benson lowered the cheese support rate from 90 to 75 per cent of parity, and cheese firms hurried to unload at the higher rate.

Under these deals, the government paid distributors 37 cents a pound for the cheese, at the 90 per cent level, then sold it back to them at 34½ cents, without ever taking actual possession of the products. The department said the arrangements were made to keep the cheese in commercial channels and thus readily available to consumers, and to avoid transportation costs.

* * *

The Department contended the transactions saved money for the taxpayers. Campbell said they cost the government about two million dollars.

The payments were said to have been made to about 100 distributors for about 90 million pounds of cheese.

Parolee Slips on Address of Love Letter

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Sheriff Owen Kilday didn't have any trouble serving a warrant on Donald Greiling, 18, of Milwaukee.

The Milwaukee probation and parole agent, J. A. Liberto, mailed the warrant for violation of parole with a letter stating Greiling had written a girl friend from San Antonio July 9. Liberto included the return address on Greiling's letter—120 Cameron St.

Kilday quickly recognized the address. It was the county jail, where Greiling had been held since Aug. 2 on a car theft charge.

Hey Kids — Tell Your Mom If You Swallow Pennies

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — Several pennies she swallowed two weeks ago contributed to the death yesterday of 7-year-old Judith K. Hamilton.

Medical Examiner T. Morton Gallagher said the child died of inflammation of the stomach and throat, adding that her condition was aggravated by the copper in the coins.

The child did not reveal she had swallowed the pennies until they showed up in X-rays last Friday.

GOP Welcomes Truman as Foe

Ex-President on Stump Is 'Asset' to Opposition, Capehart Believes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) said today Republicans will welcome as an "asset" to them any campaigning former President Truman does for the Democrats in 1956.

"The American people have the utmost confidence in President Eisenhower and are perfectly satisfied with his record," Capehart said. "I don't think anything Harry Truman says will change their minds."

* * *

Truman said in a telephone interview last night he is going to "tear into the Republicans" in a series of speeches beginning at French Lick, Ind., Aug. 27. He said he will talk politics at Mackinac Island, Mich., Aug. 29, in Detroit Sept. 5 at a Labor Day rally and at two subsequent Democratic dinners in California.

"We'll beat the Republicans with their own ammunition," he said.

* * *

"I am going to do all I can to help restore the government of this country to the people — I'll be available right along to the Democratic National Committee," he said.

"I'm not revealing my own ammunition," he added, but indicated he will talk largely about domestic issues.

* * *

The Democratic committee has made increasing use of Truman since his recovery from a major operation last year. He has been the stellar attraction at major party rallies since Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 nominee, took a temporary leave from politics to tend to his private business.

* * *

Capehart said in an interview he thinks Truman's active entry into the campaign would revive the issues of "crony government" and "Democratic mess in Washington" used by the Republicans in the 1952 campaign.

"Truman's statements and speeches will be an asset to us," he said. "I wouldn't know what his issues will be but I don't think the people want to go back to Trumanism."

POW Murder Case Summaries Readied

NEW YORK (AP)—Both sides sum up today in the court-martial of Sgt. James C. Gallagher, accused of collaborating with the enemy and of unpremeditated murder of three fellow Americans in a North Korean POW camp.

The 23-year-old Gallagher, from Brooklyn, has denied all charges against him.

The prosecution contends Gallagher curried favor with the Chinese Reds and threw three ailing POWs from a prison hut and left them to die in the freezing cold.

Gallagher faces a possible maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

There are more than 34 million non-professional camera fans in the U.S., who spend more than $400 million each year for supplies and many kinds of new equipment.

Ancient Greek Temple Fixed

Old Parthenon Beauty Restoration Undertaken by Government

WASHINGTON—The Greek Government is fulfilling century-old plans to restore the world-famous Parthenon to a degree of its original splendor.

Generations of visitors to Athens have marveled at the simple beauty of the ancient temple. Crowning the Acropolis, the oblong shell of Doric columns dominates the modern city.

With its sculptures and unsurpassed refinement of line, the Parthenon was the supreme architectural achievement of Athens' golden age, the National Geographic Society says. It stands today as a model of classic perfection in stone, although ravaged by time, war and weather.

Inspired by Pericles, the Parthenon was erected on the rugged plateau to honor the goddess Athena. It was started in 447 B.C. and dedicated in 438.

Measuring 228 by 101 by 65 feet, the superbly proportioned structure was built entirely of Pentelic marble. Sturdy fluted columns, 17 on each side and eight at the ends, comprised its distinctive feature.

The Parthenon's sculptural triumph was a frieze that encircled the sanctuary. It depicted the great Panathenaic procession, a city-wide offering made to the goddess every four years.

Now the roof of the temple's rear section is being reconstructed to preserve the remaining portion of the priceless frieze.

Hay Fever Season Officially Under Way Here

Ragweed by any other name for the hay fever season officially began Monday, and the pollen count will soon reach 100 grains per cubic yard.

This is a frightening statistic for thousands of hay fever victims who find themselves wheezing and gagging, while squinting through watery eyes.

Dr. John S. Lambie, health coordinator for the Oakland County Health Department, says the reasons for hay fever are relatively simple, and he debunks several erroneous theories on the sickness.

"Why one person is afflicted and another isn't, nobody knows. But physicians do know that conditions in the individual makeup of the body vary and make some people prone to attack. Even then the degree of susceptibility and severity of the sickness vary widely," Dr. Lambie said.

ALLERGY MANIFESTATION

He said the term "hay-fever," used originally as a folk word by harvesting farmers, is a manifestation of an allergy and can be cured or at least relieved like thousands of other allergies.

"Usually, high-strung or nervous people are more susceptible to hay fever than others. Foreign proteins are found in dust, and many individuals don't have sufficient antibodies to combat them," he pointed out.

He emphasized that hay fever is an environmental disease, striking some persons early in life, between the ages of 14 and 20. A person may lose a hay fever disorder by moving to another climate which is comparatively free of pollen and live dust.

Treatments in the form of a vaccine are available, and multiple tests must be given to determine what foreign body is present in a person's system.

"In children, allergies may first appear as an eczema. Later on it may manifest itself in a swelling of the mucous membranes in the nose (coryza) or in the bronchial tubes (asthma)," Dr. Lambie explained.

EARLY CARE NEEDED

One of the principal reasons for having hay fever treatments early is to prevent asthma which may follow in prolonged, neglected cases. To some extent, asthma is an occupational disease among bakers, furriers, chemists and others who are exposed to such foreign substances.

When a vaccine is prescribed which will combat hay fever, it takes a number of weeks to build up the antibody level. Afterwards fewer injections can be given, then," Dr. Lambie remarked.

"A few doctors in Detroit specialize in allergy treatments. Perhaps the most complete allergy clinic which deals with hay fever cases is located at Ann Arbor's University Hospital," he added.

WIND IS 'VILLAIN'

Meanwhile, the Michigan Department of Health reports that even if a region is ragweed free, pollen may be blown in by prevailing winds.

In a review of a 10-year ragweed pollen survey in Michigan, findings indicate the northern third of the Lower Peninsula and most of the Upper Peninsula were found to be relief havens for the average sufferer.

Nine times out of 10, hay fever in Michigan is caused by ragweed pollen, health officials said.

Hollywood Headlines

Is Italy's Rossano Brazzi Another Charles Boyer?

By STAN SWINTON
(For Bob Thomas)

ROME (AP)—Gina Lollobrigida and Sophia Loren steal the headlines, but Hollywood is more excited about another Italian — husky-voiced Rossano Brazzi.

Perhaps not since Charles Boyer whispered his invitation to the Casbah has a continental leading man hit American movie-goers with such impact. Thousands of U.S.-postmarked letters are delivered every month to his apartment on Via Sistina here.

keen ear to the feminine reaction to his role in "Summertime," with Katharine Hepburn, recently signed Brazzi to a contract for one picture annually for three years.

He plans two outside pictures each year and has a round dozen offers to pick from. He is favored for the lead in "South Pacific," the role played by Ezio Pinza on Broadway.

* * *

"For the first time in my life I am really excited," Brazzi admits. So are female film-goers.

What is there about Brazzi which sets female hearts spinning? He isn't the typical tall leading man with handsome, regular features. Rossano's height is average, his build solid. His face is rather square, with lips which break often into a friendly smile. His eyes are large and warm. His nose is more Midwestern than Roman. He is 38 years old and looks it.

* * *

Yet somehow the romantic sum total exceeds the parts. At a recent balcony party under the Roman stars, a semi-circle of handsome women clustered around Brazzi minutes after his arrival. Standing inconspicuously to one side, beaming with pride at her husband, was Mrs. Brazzi, a fat, cheerful woman who fits to perfection the average American idea of a middle aged Italian housewife.

* * *

Virtually ignored in a corner where he restlessly passed time with a journalist friend was such a matinee idol as Edmund Purdom. Even his lady love, Linda Christian, clung to the Brazzi group for more than an hour. Afterwards, a male guest asked a girl to explain Brazzi's appeal. Her answer:

"Rossano just looks nice — like someone who would be good to you; romantic, yes, but kind, too. A man wouldn't understand."

* * *

Neither did producers — for years. Brazzi made more than 70 Italian pictures with little notice abroad. Only once did Hollywood call — in 1948 for "Little Women" with June Allyson.

"I was given a 50-year-old character part and was so disgusted I came home to Italy," Brazzi recalls.

Then an American company hunting an Italian leading man for "Three Coins in the Fountain" picked Brazzi. That put him over.

Detroit DPW Leader Starts Lobbying Action

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit DPW commissioner Glenn C. Richards, the city's expressway coordinator, will fly to Washington this weekend in an attempt to win support for a "good roads" special session of Congress.

Richards hopes to line up the American Municipal Assn. which has 12,000 member cities in 44 states. He will talk to the executive committee of the association on Sunday.

Son of East Zone Chief to Run German Airline

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's Communist government has chosen the son of President Wilhelm Pieck to direct the operations of the civil airline the Russians have authorized it to organize.

Officials at East Berlin's Schoenefeld Airfield said today that Arthur Pieck, 55, has been appointed general director of the East Lufthansa, which has adopted the same name as West Germany's fledgling line.

The East line will fly inside the East zone to Liepzig, Dresden and other major cities, and will also have landing rights in Warsaw, Prague and other satellite capitals.

Set Grooming Example Early

Teach Tots Cleanliness by Making Events Daily Routine in Home

Good grooming can become a habit with school children.

Set the example yourself by making a routine of hair brushing, hand washing and shoe shining as matter of fact as breakfast, dinner or supper.

* * *

Once youngsters fall into this pattern, the rest is simple.

One way to encourage the habit is to revive the custom of taking all meals at the dining room table, except breakfast perhaps. Have the youngsters appear scrubbed and shined as in Grandpa's day or get six of the birch.

Popular now is the television snack dinner, relegating manners to a notch scarcely above the dark ages. Youngsters eat with the fingers if they choose because usually Mommy and Daddy are paying no attention.

By the time a youngster starts off to school he should be on the good grooming beam, indoctrinated into the proper use of the toothbrush, soap, water, hair brush, comb and shoe polish.

It'll make it easier for Mom, too, if a youngster can do some of these chores for himself. Even though a little fellow doesn't succeed in getting his hair combed just right or his hands immaculate each time, Mom can close her eyes to it occasionally.

* * *

He shouldn't be yanked into a chair while her exasperated voice announces his efforts must be repaired.

Unless his socks are on backwards or shoes on the wrong feet the lick-'n-promise grooming should be ignored. Tell him he looks good unless he makes a habit of sluffing off grooming chores.

Whenever possible permit your youngsters to relax in old clothes and get hands and face grimy if they like.

The point to get over is that there is a time for everything and that one must be well dressed for school, a visit to Aunt Minnie, or at the dinner table.

Fifteen per cent of U.S. families with both parents working have children under 6.

U. S. First Nation to Produce New Zirconium

GENEVA (AP)—The United States is the first nation in the world to achieve industrial production of zirconium—a relatively new aid to atomic power production.

It expects to make enough to supply all the needs of the United States and those of other countries as well, a report today at the atoms-for-peace conference disclosed.

Dr. Charles Eichner of France told newsmen about it in summarizing a technical paper delivered by an American scientist.

Eichner, chairman of a session at which zirconium was discussed, said a number of countries, including France, have been working on the production of the metal, used as a "moderator" in atomic reactors, but that the United States was the first to achieve it on a large-scale basis.

Eichner explained that the chief difficulty in producing zirconium of a quality needed for atomic purposes is to separate it from another element "hafnium" with which it occurs in nature.

Questions on Salk Vaccine Answered

(The following questions and answers concerning the Salk anti-polio vaccine are printed by the Pontiac Press as a public service. The information has been compiled by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., and released through its Oakland County chapter.)

Q— What assurance do we have that the Salk vaccine is safe?

A.—Every possible assurance. The report given by Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr. last April showed that the vaccine used in the 1954 field trials neither caused polio nor other major reactions and was 60 per cent to 90 per cent effective in preventing paralysis due to polio. It was 60 per cent to 70 per cent effective for Type 1 virus, about 90 per cent for Types II and III.

There is reason to believe the Type I part of the vaccine will be more effective this year than last. New and more stringent tests for safety also now are required by the U. S. Public Health Service on every lot of vaccine released for use.

Q — Isn't there a risk to vaccination?

A. — There is some statistical risk to every immunizing procedure, to every major and minor operation, to the use of many drugs. The risk in polio vaccination is less than exists in many widely used vaccines and drugs. The benefits far outweigh any risk.

So far as polio is concerned, the major risk in the future will be for a child to go through a polio season without protection of the kind vaccination can bestow.

Q — How long does it take for the vaccine to protect?

A. — Three injections are necessary for full protection. The first shot begins to take effect from seven to 10 days later; at that time, detectable antibodies are present in the blood stream. The second shot, two to four weeks after the first, brings a sharper rise in antibodies.

With these two injections, a child should be protected against paralytic polio for the current polio season. Long-lasting immunization develops only after a third or booster shot seven months to a year later.

Q — Can a vaccinated child become a polio carrier and spread the disease?

A. — Yes, but not because he has been vaccinated. Anyone can become a carrier of the disease if the polio virus enters his system. Childdren who are themselves protected by antibodies induced by the vaccine may be infected by natural exposure to the polio virus and for a brief period excrete the virus, thus exposing their contacts to infection.

The vaccine, while protecting those injected against paralysis, does not eliminate the possibility of subsequent infection. Only a very small percentage of those who carry the virus actually become sick from polio.

Q. — Can the vaccine CAUSE someone to become a carrier?

A. —No. Inactivated virus, such as is used in the Salk vaccine, cannot multiply in the body and be excreted, which is how polio is spread.

Q. — How is the vaccine made?

A. — The three known types of polio virus are grown on cells of monkey kidney tissues in flasks or bottles. The tissue culture fluids, containing the virus, are treated with formaldehyde to destroy the ability of the virus to cause disease.

This treatment is called "inactivation." The virus, however, retains its ability to stimulate the human body to produce its own polio-fighting antibodies. The final vaccine consists of inactivated virus of the three types known to cause polio.

Q. — What is meant by "provocation"?

A. — It has been found that certain kinds of injections during the polio season have a slight tendency to provoke paralytic polio with paralysis occurring in the arm injected IF THE INDIVIDUAL CONCERNED IS ALREADY INCUBATING THE DISEASE. The nature of this phenomenon is not wholly understood.

Q. — Should the vaccine be given during a period of rising polio incidence?

A. — Yes, because the protection it affords is greater than the possible risk of provocation. This was the decision of 26 physicians, health officers and virus experts who met with National Foundation medical advisers on June 18, 1955.

The benefit to be gained by polio immunization increases as polio incidence rises, they said, since under such conditions a larger number of paralytic cases can be prevented.

Q. —How long does it take for polio to incubate?

A. — From three to 35 days, in general, but most often in the neighborhood of two weeks. When a person is vaccinated, his body begins to develop polio antibodies. If he is vaccinated after he has been infected by the polio virus, however, one cannot expect protection from paralysis.

Q. — Does everyone produce antibodies?

A. — No, but most people do. Apparently there are some who do not have the power to produce antibodies, and some produce only limited quantities. But relatively few people are in this category.

Melons Aren't Ripe Yet but He's Got $26 Net

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — When George Kirchner's watermelon patch was invaded by groundhogs he shot and trapped 14 of them and collected county bounty of 25 cents each.

Kirchner said, "Last year I lost 20 watermelons to one big old groundhog. He just chewed into each melon for pure cussedness, I reckon, and not because he was real hungry. A few groundhogs can do more damage in a melon patch than a truck-load of grade school boys."

Mysterious Night Caller Leaves Change in Chair

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Tampa police, plagued with a series of break-ins, are shaking their heads over this one.

Mrs. Curile Harris was awakened by a noise at her front door.

She asked who was there and a stranger's voice told her: "Look in your chair."

She thought it was a prankster and went back to bed. The next morning she found $1.37 in small change in a frogt porch rocker.

She could offer no explanation for the incident.

Ain't No Justice

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — M/Sgt. Margaret Robertson of the Marines spent her 60-day leave and a good part of her savings touring Europe. She returned to the Fleet Marine Force here and found orders to report for duty with Allied Forces in Southern Europe.

Steel Shortage Appears Critical

Some Areas Drawing Material From Railroad for Production

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel supply is so short in some areas of the country that customers are drawing their material out of railroad cars or trucks and putting it immediately into the production line, Iron Age, the national metalworking weekly, said yesterday.

* * *

Some customers have less than a five-day supply on hand, it added.

Iron Age reported that production difficulties have caused the steel industry to lose as much as 10 to 12 per cent in steel ingot output over the past several weeks at a time when the volume of orders are running 110 to 125 per cent of capacity.

The present heavy demand for steel and the inability of many steelmakers to meet their production schedules are only a sample of what conditions will be after Labor Day, the weekly said.

Customer relations in the industry are so sensitive now that they rival similar conditions in the late 1940's. Executives have been paying personal visits to steel companies at an increasing rate to demand that their steel needs be filled.

The end of vacations and the continuation of the upward surge in business will cause howls over delayed steel deliveries, it said.

Iron Age predicted that many steel customers will be greatly disappointed when they fail to get expected tonnages in October or November.

Fourth quarter rolling mill schedules on major steel products are about filled, judging by appearances early this week. It looked like substantial carryovers into next year.

* * *

Iron Age said there is certain to be a gray market in steel if conditions keep going the way they have been.

Flood Not Explosion Causes Man Panic

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — When an underground gasoline tank suddenly burst through the concrete driveway, Cleo Milstead left his filling station at a dead run.

Firemen discovered it was a case of floating, not explosion.

A water main had broken, near the nearly empty 12,000 gallon tank, which started rising—right through the concrete.

European death rates are lower than ever before in spite of hardships of World War II which could have lowered the vitality of some residents.

Women Felons Beat Jail Riot Informer

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP)—State police kept a watch today at the women's reformatory where 50 inmates last night smashed windows, dishes and "everything breakable" in a wild riot.

Iris Allen, 26, of Fall River, serving a term for robbery, scaled a 10-foot barbed wire fence and escaped during the riot. Three others who tried to escape were captured.

An inmate tipped officials to the breakout. Other inmates pounced on the informant, scratching and beating her. Then they turned to smashing everything breakable in sight.

State police quelled the disturbance.

Detroit Tax Collection Lags Behind Last Year

DETROIT (INS)—Oren C. Bowen, assistant Detroit treasurer, states that city tax collections are lagging this year but probably will pick up by the end of this month.

Bowen said the city had collected over $76 million in Detroit and school taxes at this time a year ago. This year's exact totals have not yet been computed.

Xway Bridge Opens

DETROIT (INS) — The Wayne County Road Commission announced the Linwood avenue bridge crossing of the John C. Lodge expressway was opened to traffic today.

It has been estimated that 10 tons of blood must flow through a cow's udder in the production of 50 pounds of milk.

There are at least 45 different kinds of steel in the manufacture of one medium-priced automobile on the American market today.

About 10 million convention guests visit hotels to attend 18,000 meetings each year says the American-Hotel Assn.

ROK Completely Bans Citizen Travel to Japan

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea has "completely banned" Koreans from making any business or personal trips between South Korea and Japan, the Foreign Ministry said today.

Foreign Ministry officials said, "As a principle, no Koreans are allowed to make any private trips between the two countries . . . because "the Japanese are giving protection and encouragement to elements opposed to the government of the Republic of Korea, to Korean national traitors, and to pro-Japanese Koreans both economically and politically."

Just Wasn't Hungry

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Police and firemen went all-out in a search for Tommy Long, 8. Robert Pierce, police officer, said the lad was found a short time after the search party was organized. Tommy—oh, he just wasn't hungry so he didn't go home for lunch and dinner.

Impossible Questions Asked by Architects

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas architects are offering $25,000 in prizes for the best answers to these questions:

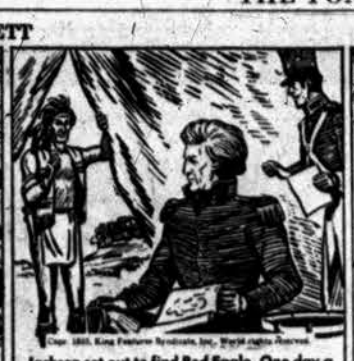

1. How to get people in and out of the downtown business district and provide parking facilities for them.
2. How to get city buses through downtown quickly.
3. How to integrate downtown streets with expressway systems.
4. How to beautify the downtown district.

IN THE DAYS OF DAVY CROCKETT — Told by an Old Scout

General Jackson waited until the Indian women and children were out of the village. Then, as the sun reached the top of the sky, his men, led by Ensign Sam Houston, charged. By sunset the battle had been won. The power of the Red Sticks was forever destroyed.

Jackson set out to find Red Eagle. One day a lone Indian came into Jackson's camp and asked to see him. "I am Red Eagle," he said. The Indian war was over, so Andy let the Creeks' conquered warchief go in peace. Davy Crockett would have done the same.

The Creeks were done, but not the British. They put their best troops, who had helped beat Napoleon at Waterloo, aboard a fleet which set sail for New Orleans. The scheme was to seize that city and maybe force the United States to quit the war.

The British king didn't reckon on Andy Jackson. Andy gathered up his army of Kentucky sharpshooters, Tennessee frontiersmen and regular soldiers, put them behind barricades built partly of cotton bales and got ready to give the Red Coats a hot reception.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Edwin H. Fox's commanding officer once called him the world's worst gardener — one who violated every rule any good flower gardener would tell you is a must.

But flowers are blooming at the Coast Guard's Berkley Base like never before. And the gardener is Fox, a retired machinist's mate with 30 years of service. Nobody understands his methods, it seems, except the flowers.

New Packaging Method Improves Franks and Sausage

This summer the meat display cases of your supermarket will have more to offer than ever before. You'll see more frankfurters—from the peanut or cocktail frank to the all beef variety.

* * *

You'll see a Bologna and Polish sausage bent round in a ring—a new shape which simplifies cooking and looks attractive on the platter. And you'll see a greater variety of sausage.

Why? Part of the credit must go to a new packaging process called Cryovac. This process makes sausages look better, keep better, cook more easily and taste extra fresh and flavorful.

It is based on a new kind of special plastic film, highly resistant to air and moisture, which is made to shrink to fit the product being packaged.

* * *

Meat is placed in these special plastic bags and all the air removed by vacuum. The neck of the bag is tightly twisted and clip-sealed.

Then the product is dipped in water just below boiling which shrinks the bag to form a tight-clinging "second-skin" that seals in all the freshness of the newly made sausage or bologna.

FOR OTHER FOODS

The Cryovac vacuum-sealed packaging process is used for meat and poultry, corned beef, smoked hams, pork products and cheese as well as for sausage.

* * *

Meat dealers like it because it keeps these products fresh and tasty longer — enables them to carry a more complete stock in their display cases. And homemakers appreciate the easy-to-handle packages and the fact that Cryovac-wrapped meats keep longer in the home refrigerator.

You'll find many Cryovac-wrapped products can be cooked right in the bag. This not only saves messy pots and pans but keeps all the good flavor and juices right where you want them—in the meat.

* * *

Ring bolognas and frankfurters can be cooked in the bag either in the oven or on top of the stove. To "boil," place the meat, still in the bag, in a pan of boiling water, cover and remove from heat. Let stand 20 minutes.

* * *

If desired, you can keep the water at a very low simmer, but the product is already fully cooked and only requires warming.

TO BAKE SAUSAGE

For baked sausage, place the sausage still in the bag in a baking pan with one-half cup of water in the bottom to prevent sticking. Bake at 325 degrees (moderately slow oven) 15 minutes for franks, 30 minutes for bolognas.

To remove the bag, slit with knife and peel off.

* * *

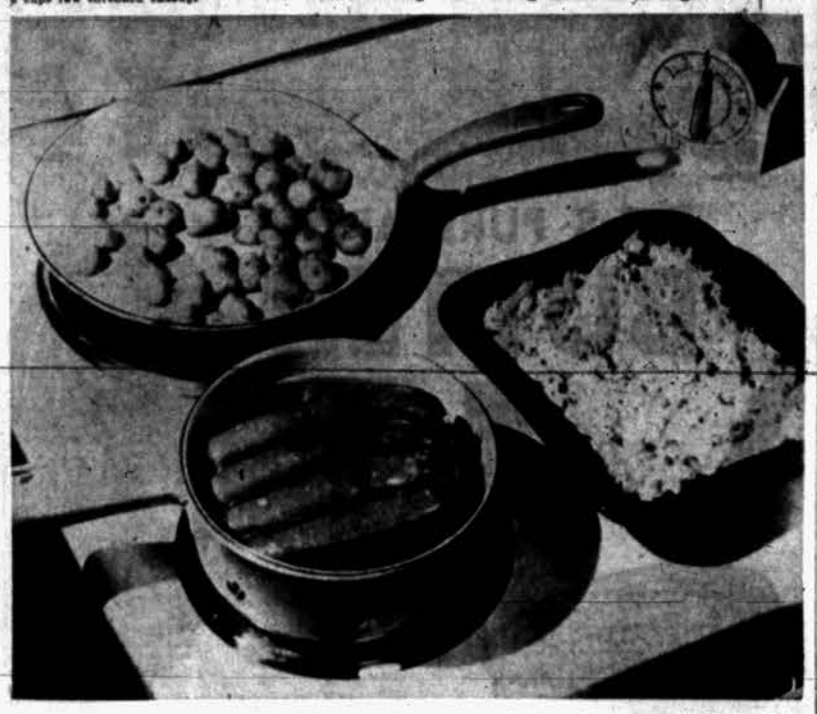

For a fast top-stove summer meal, serve frankfurters cooked in the bag with browned paprika potatoes and hot slaw.

To make the potatoes, drain canned small white potatoes well; pan-fry in butter or margarine, dusting them lightly with paprika as you turn to brown. Here's how to make the cabbage dish:

Hot Slaw

6 cups raw shredded cabbage
¾ cup milk, cream or evaporated milk
¼ cup mayonnaise
1½ teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon celery seed
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon sugar

Cook cabbage in covered pan with small amount of boiling salted water, turning once during cooking. Meanwhile, stir milk gradually into mayonnaise and warm gently while cabbage cooks. Drain cabbage. Stir remaining ingredients into dressing. Toss dressing and cabbage lightly together and turn into serving bowl. Makes six servings.

EASY SUMMER MEAL — Frankfurters cooked right in their plastic wrapping, browned canned potatoes and hot slaw make an easy and tempting summer meal. The cabbage is cooked before being mixed with the seasonings and the dressing.

Ices Two Layer Cake

Combine 1 egg white (unbeaten), ¼ cup water, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons unsulphured molasses, and ⅛ teaspoon salt, in top of double boiler. Beat over rapidly boiling water with rotary or electric beater until frosting stands in peaks. Remove from heat; add ½ teaspoon vanilla flavoring. Beat until of spreading consistency. Yield: Frosting for tops and sides of two 9-inch layers.

Whatever You Call 'Em, Franks Are Always Tops

Could you believe that we Americans eat over 8½ billion frankfurters ever year? That's proof enough that the butcher in Frankfurt, Germany, who originated the sausage over a century ago had a good idea.

* * *

Today they are so popular that they carry many nicknames and are happily called red hots, hot dogs, sizzle pups, wieners and other endearing terms depending on whether you get them at the ball park or are served them at a summer party.

Frankfurters probably taste their very best cradled inside a bun and eaten with all the fixings of mustard, catsup and pickle relish, but it's fun to dress them up, too, in a new glamour sandwich like this crusty French loaf whirl.

Buy one or two loaves of long bread and partially cut it into thick slices, cutting down to, but not through, the bottom crust. In every other cut spread butter and heap grated nippy cheddar cheese. If you like garlic, add garlic salt to the butter.

Spread the slices apart enough to lay frankfurters in the cuts with the cheese and butter. The bread will curve and form a partial circle.

HEAT WHOLE LOAF

Put the whole loaf onto a cookie sheet and heat in a 375-degree oven for 20 minutes. Franks and bread will be hot and cheese melted. It's easy to break the loaf apart and eat like a sandwich.

In selecting the frankfurters you'll like the skinless variety that come in the handy 1-pound cellophane packages—9-10 to the pound.

For the rest of this slightly festive meal, serve a tossed green salad, or sliced tomatoes, tall glasses of iced tea and plenty of your favorite summer melon.

The melon, too, may be given a party air by scooping a lengthwise half of watermelon and heaping it full of mixed cubes or balls of honeydew, cantaloupe and watermelon. Garnish with fresh mint and lemon wedges.

Sandwiches Boast Coney Island Touch

It doesn't take a large crowd or elaborate planning for a successful picnic. In fact, a family picnic in the backyard is often the most fun.

One of these summer evenings, make up this ground beef barbecue sauce, carry it to the backyard and let the family fill their own buns for Coney Island-style sandwiches.

Coney Island Beefwich

1 pound ground beef
1½ cups chopped onions
1 cup chopped celery
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 10½-11-ounce can condensed tomato soup
1 to 1½ tablespoons chili powder

Brown meat in small amount of fat. Add onions and celery; cook until tender. Add remaining ingredients, using enough chili powder to suit taste.

Simmer until thick. Serve in split buns, toasted or plain. Four servings.

Youngsters love this: Chill apricot nectar and pour into glasses. Add vanilla ice cream and stil until the nectar is partly dissolved. Serve at once!

Novice Cooks Can Test Skill on Ground Beef

When your children show interest in learning to cook, that's the time to help them. They'll become a real help to you and will probably maintain their interest in cooking.

Ground meat is a good choice for beginning cooks, says meat expert Reba Staggs. It's thrifty and a child can easily prepare an acceptable dish with it.

Meatballs En Brochette

1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
8 small dill pickles
4 wooden or metal skewers

Combine ground beef, salt, pepper and onion and mix well. Shape mixture into 12 small balls.

Let Teenage Chefs Fix Backyard Stew

Here's a simple cook-out main dish perfect for backyard chefs. Teenagers enjoy fixing this hot and hearty stew for friends and family.

Backyard Stew

2 large onions, chopped
1 pound ground beef
1 can (pound or 1 pound, 4 ounces) tomatoes
1 can (1 pound) whole kernel corn, drained
1 can (1 pound) green or lima beans, drained
1 can beef gravy
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Brown slowly onions and beef in large kettle over grill or outdoor fire. Add remaining ingredients; cook, stirring occasionally, 15 minutes. Serve in soup bowls. Serves six hungry chefs.

The world population increased by 35 million people last year.

Use Imagination to Serve Bountiful Supply of Fruit

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Do you load your shopping basket with fruit these warm days the way we do? The choice is great, prices are reasonable, and the eye appeal terrific. Let's talk about some of the ways we can serve fruit.

Beth Bailey McLean in her Modern Homemaker's Cookbook suggests watermelon as a first course for luncheon or dinner.

Cut the chilled melon in two-inch slices. Remove rind and cut slices into squares or rectangles. Remove seeds with a fork. Cover with waxed paper and chill until serving time. Serve squares of melon on a plate garnished with mint or water cress. Stick 6 or 7 salted toasted almonds into the top of each square. Serve with a fork.

Here's a different way to serve the little seedless green grapes. Cover them with brown sugar. Serve cold with thick sweet or sour cream, or with cream cheese beaten smooth with cream.

From Europe comes the following recipe using fresh peaches or apricots.

Fruit Creme

1-3 cup flour
¾ cup sugar
1 cup milk
4 eggs, separated
½ pound fresh peaches or apricots
1 tablespoon sugar

Sift flour, add sugar and milk and mix until smooth. Cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and continue stirring until cooled. Add egg yolks gradually, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Halve peaches or apricots and arrange skinside-down in a buttered casserole. Sprinkle sugar on fruit and pour creme mixture on top. Bake in a 300-degree oven about 40 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 8-10 servings.

Guests at our house always like this way of serving fresh peaches: To one can undiluted concentrate for frozen lemonade add one-third cup rose wine. Pour over sliced fresh peaches and let chill for several hours. Serve in sherbet glasses.

Creamy Salad Mold Features Tomatoes

This salad has elegant flavor—and it's pretty, too!

Tomato Cream Salad Molds

One No. 303 can stewed tomatoes
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
¼ cup cooking sherry
1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup finely cut celery
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon minced onion
Salt and pepper

Heat tomatoes to simmering; add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat.

Add sherry. Cool to lukewarm, then gently blend in mayonnaise with whisk or rotary beater. Chill.

When mixture begins to thicken, fold in celery, green pepper and onion. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Pour into six individual molds or custard cups. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp salad greens and serve with French dressing. Makes six servings.

Serve Chilled Soup

CHICKEN NOODLE MOLD — This Chicken Almond Noodle Ring offers an interesting array of flavors: Chicken, almond, pineapple and pimientos. The savory flavor of chicken is achieved without fuss or muss by adding a package of chicken noodle soup mix when making the mold.

Avocado and Meat Featured in Salad

A summer luncheon idea that's a breeze to fix is avocado-meat salad made with diced canned luncheon meat.

* * *

It can be served in lettuce cups for individual servings or it can be made an attractive center of interest on a bed of crisp greens on a cold cuts tray. Here's the recipe:

Avocado-Meat Salad

1 can luncheon meat, diced
½ cup diced celery
1 teaspoon grated onion
2 ripe avocados
Lemon juice
Salad dressing or mayonnaise

Mix luncheon meat, celery and onion. Peel and dice avocados; sprinkle with lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Combine carefully with the meat mixture. Add enough salad dressing to moisten.

* * *

Chill, if you wish. Pile into crisp lettuce cups. Six servings.

Lobster Salad Provides Cool Eating on Hot Days

So many appetizing ways to use rock lobster tails for summer meals! Give them a brief boiling and they're ready for service.

What's righter for a hot day than chunks of the lobseter meat put into a cool salad and served on crisp greens? Here's the recipe along with directions for boiling the tails.

Rock Lobster Mayonnaise

2 (6 to 8 ounces each) rock lobster tails
½ cup real mayonnaise
2 tablespoons tomato catchup
1 tablespoon minced parsley
Fresh or dried herbs to taste (basil or chervil or tarragon)
Lettuce or other salad greens
1 cucumber (thinly sliced)
Radishes
Stuffed olives

Boil rock lobster tails according to directions below; cut meat into chunks and chill.

Mix mayonnaise, catchup, parsley and herb to be used. Line salad bowl with crisp greens and add rock lobster.

Surrounded with sliced cucumber; top with mayonnaise mixture. Garnish with radish roses and olives. Makes four to six servings.

Note: To boil rock lobster tails, either frozen or thawed, place them in a large kettle of boiling salted water. (Use 1 teaspoon of salt for each quart of water.)

When water reboils, lower heat so boiling is gentle and start counting time. Keep covered.

If tails weigh 6 ounces, boil seven minutes; if 7 ounces, boil eight minutes; if 8 ounces, boil nine minutes. Add 2 minutes to boiling time when tails are still frozen when cooked.

To remove meat from shell, drain tails; rinse with cold water; using scissors, cut lengthwise through center of the membrane that covers the flesh; pull out meat with fingers.

Twenty cents of all food dollars should go for dairy foods.

Cinnamon Adds Zest

The next time you're making French toast for the family, add a lavish sprinkle of ground cinnamon to the milk-and-egg mixture. Cook on a greased griddle as usual and then wait for the hurrahs!

Butterscotch Icing Is Smooth, Creamy

Rumor has it that Butterscotch Frosting is a favorite all over the country. Any way you look at it, a good creamy butterscotch flavor—with featherlight, white cake—is always good.

We have our own butterscotch version—wonderful, smooth frosting—it's a good traveler and just right for a picnic cake.

* * *

Do you know, if you want to make up your frosting ahead of time, keep it covered with a damp cloth. If it should become a little thick for easy spreading, just warm it a little over hot water and beat again.

Quick Butterscotch Frosting

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ cup milk
1¾-2 cups sifted confectioners sugar

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Add brown sugar. Boil over low heat two minutes, stirring constantly. Add milk and continue stirring until mixture comes to a boil.

* * *

Remove from heat and cool. Slowly add confectioners sugar. Beat well after each addition until thick enough to spread. Will top 13x9-inch cake.

Sauces Lend Gourmet Touch to Broiled Fish

Broiling is one of the easiest ways to prepare fish because it cooks so quickly and requires a minimum of handling from the stove to the table.

Though nothing approaches the sheer deliciousness of fresh broiled fish liberally sprinkled with lemon juice and amply seasoned, the following sauces make unusually outstanding dishes from most broiled fish.

Don't overlook the sauces you may list among your favorites even though you've never served them with fish . . . hollandaise, for instance.

Sour Cream Sauce

2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup sliced scallions
¼ cup diced green pepper
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon kitchen bouquet

Melt butter in small saucepan. Add scallions and green pepper. Cook over moderate heat about three minutes. Add seasonings, sour cream, lemon juice and kitchen bouquet.

Bring to boil and let simmer a couple of minutes. Pour over broiled fish. If desired, return under broiler until lightly browned. Makes about 1½ cups sauce.

Spicy Tomato Sauce

3 tablespoons chili sauce
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
½ teaspoon kitchen bouquet
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon curry powder

Combine all ingredients and heat thoroughly. Pour over broiled or baked fish. Makes about one-third cup sauce.

Summer Is the Season for Shimmering Gelatin

In the realm of culinary art, summer is the season of the shimmering gelatin molds. And rightly so, since there is nothing more cooling visually and palatably. It serves many uses from the beginning to the end of a meal—salad course, main dish, as well as dessert.

* * *

Here is a Chicken Almond Noodle Ring mold that offers an interesting array of flavors . . . chicken, almond, pineapple and pimiento. The toasted almonds are a perfect foil for the smooth blandness of the chicken and pineapple.

The unusual feature of this mold is that it is made with a package of chicken noodle soup mix. The unflavored gelatin is added to the hot soup so that the savory flavor of chicken permeates the whole ring mold.

This is a handy way to add the chicken and delicate seasonings that are contained in the soup mix and is just one of the many ways that dried soup mixes can be used in main dishes.

Chill the mixture in the refrigerator until partially jelled and then add the cube cooked chicken, slivered toasted almonds, pineapple tidbits and red pimiento. Pour into the aluminum ring and chill until it is firm.

* * *

The beauty of a gelatin mold is that it can be prepared ahead of time and is easily served. Furthermore it lends itself to all sorts of lovely garnishes. You might try surrounding this ring with a wreath of frosted grapes and watercress.

Chicken Almond Noodle Mold

1 package chicken noodle soup
3 cups water
2 tablespoons (2 pkg.) unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1½ cups cubed cooked chicken
½ cup slivered toasted almonds
1 cup pineapple tidbits
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

Cook chicken noodle soup according to directions on package using 3 cups water. Soak gelatin in cold water and add to hot soup stirring until gelatin is dissolved. Chill and refrigerate until partially jelled.

Add chicken, almonds, pineapple tidbits and pimiento. Pour into a lightly oiled 1-quart mold and chill until firm. Serve with celery, cabbage and tarragon mayonnaise.

Try This Cherry Treat

Add the juice of one lemon to two cups of pitted sweet cherries, ground. Freeze until mushy and combine with the beaten whites of two eggs and ¼ cup sugar. Freeze until stiff. This is a delicious accompaniment for meatballs or prime rib roast!

To replace mayonnaise as a binder for spreads in frozen sandwiches, try such sauces as catsup, chili, cooked salad dressing, and condensed soups.

Sauce Trio Increases Appeal of Ice Cream

TRIO OF SAUCES — There's no dessert quite like ice cream for a summer treat. Serve bowls of the chilly stuff and pass a trio of sauces for your guests to choose. Chocolate, Caramel and Coffee au Lait are suggested here. All are made with instant powdered cream.

In summer we always like to scream "Lets have lots and lots of ice cream"

Years may come and years may go, but there is one fact that always seems to remain the same. And this is cooking axiom No. 1 — ice cream is always the favorite dessert for summer. Although ice cream is not new — the recipes that we are giving today for the wonderful new sauces are new.

Yes, they are brand new and Oh! so good. They are made with instant powdered cream and it gives them the rich, smooth texture that is so important for sauces. We are giving three variations to give you your choice of flavors.

All flavors go well with vanilla ice cream so try and decide between Chocolate, Caramel (serve hot) and Coffee au Lait.

Chocolate Sauce

½ cup instant cream
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1½ cups sugar
Dash salt
2 cups water
3 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix instant cream, cornstarch, sugar and salt in saucepan. Stir in water, blending well. Add chocolate and cook and stir over medium heat until mixture boils and is thickened and chocolate is melted and blended. Add vanilla.

Serve hot or cold over ice cream or puddings. Serve with chopped nuts if desired. Makes 3 cups.

Caramel Sauce

1½ cups sugar
½ cup instant cream
¾ cup boiling water
Dash salt
½ teaspoon vanilla

Heat sugar in a large heavy skillet over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is melted and golden brown. Remove from heat. Dissolve instant cream in water and stir gradually into sugar.

Return to heat and cook five minutes longer. Add salt and vanilla. Serve hot over ice cream. Makes 1¾ cups.

Coffee Au Lait Sauce

½ cup instant cream
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Dash of salt
2 tablespoons instant coffee (powdered)
½ cup hot water
1 cup light corn syrup

Combine instant cream, cornstarch, salt and coffee in saucepan. Stir in water, blending well. Add corn syrup. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Simmer five minutes.

Cool. Serve over ice cream or other desserts. Makes 1½ cups.

Teachers' Leader Says Mediocrity Is Exalted

FORT WAYNE, Ind., (AP) — A vice president of the AFL American Federation of Teachers said today the nations public schools are educating for mediocrity and gifted students are being neglected.

Speaking at the union's convention here, Edward Jewett, Council Bluffs, Iowa, said:

"Under present conditions, teachers are obliged to pitch to the level of instruction to what can be done by the median ability group of pupils."

Frozen Lemonade Used for Cooling No-Bake Pie

Here's a pie that is as heavenly as it looks; and best of all, you can make it without turning on your oven. It's a pie with real hot weather appeal for the housewife. And its lemonade flavor is cool and refreshing, too.

* * *

Probably lemonade is the most refreshing of all beverages, and this pie is made with frozen lemonade. Yes, you use one of those handy little cans of frozen concentrate for lemonade—the pure California lemon juice which is frozen with sugar.

* * *

Even the crust of this pie needs no baking. Merely grind or crush your family's favorite wafers, mix with butter, and pat firmly on bottom and sides of pie pan.

Crumb Crust for Frozen Lemonade Pie

1½ cups crumbs (vanilla wafer, graham cracker, chocolate wafer, gingersnap or zwieback)
¼ cup sugar (more or less)
6 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Crush or grind the cookies until very fine, then put the crumbs through a sieve. Add sugar to taste (you'll want more sugar for zwieback or graham cracker crust than for a crust made from sweet cookies). Stir in melted butter and mix well.

Reserve one-fourth of the crumb mixture for garnishing top of pie. Place remainder of the crumb mixture in a 9-inch pie pan, patting it firmly in place until bottom and sides of the pan are thoroughly and evenly coated.

Chill crust thoroughly—at least three hours before adding filling.

Frozen Lemonade Pie Filling

1 can (6-ounces) frozen concentrate for lemonade
1 can water (fill lemonade-can once)
32 marshmallows
½ pint cream, whipped
Additional whipped cream for garnish

Combine concentrate for lemonade with water. Heat, but do not boil. Add marshmallows and stir over low heat (or in double boiler, over hot water) until marshmallows are melted.

Pour mixture into shallow dish and place in refrigerator until cool and thickened, about two hours. Whip cream and combine with the lemonade-marshmallow mixture, blending well.

Pile the filling into the chilled crumb crust and freeze—in freezer or in freezing unit of refrigerator—until firm, at least three hours. Garnish with whipped cream and remaining crumbs.

Pour Candylike Pineapple Syrup Over Ice Cream

Readers tell us that they are always in the market for party desserts. So here's one—using that year-round boon, canned pineapple.

Icecream Parlor Pineapple Sundae

1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
½ cup light corn syrup
½ cup sugar
2 pints pre-packaged pineapple ice cream

Drain pineapple; if necessary, add enough water to the syrup to make one-half cup.

Put the pineapple syrup in a small saucepan with the corn syrup and sugar; cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Boil five minutes.

Cool; add pineapple and stir until liquid is of even consistency. It may be candylike at first.

Deviled Ham Sparks Loaves

When you're planning a patio party; when the crowd meets at your place; or when the folks drop in while on their vacation trek sandwiches and snacks are the bill of fare for these warm days.

A refreshing, yet filling, frosted sandwich loaf will win you the title of the hostess with the best ideas and since large sandwich loaves can be messy to serve, how about small individual frosted loaves!

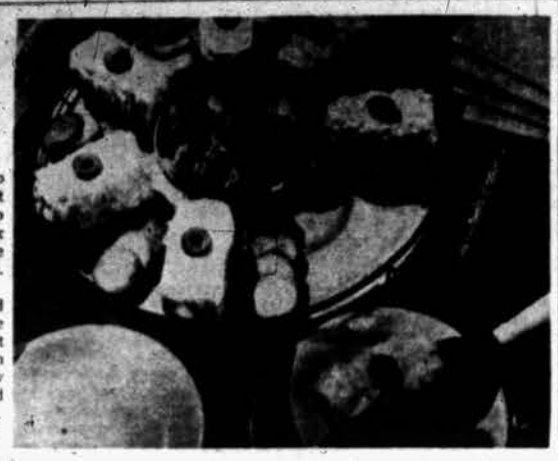

Ah, but the secret to success is what is inside the frosted loaf-ettes and what better filling than deviled ham? Vary this sandwich filling with sliced cheese, mayonnaise, etc., but it's the zestfully seasoned deviled ham that gives the sandwich loaf the taste to remember.

Deviled Salad Loaves

1 can (2¼ ounces) Deviled Ham
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon minced parsley
8 slices white sandwich bread
1 hard cooked egg, chopped
1 6-ounce package cream cheese wedges cut
1 tablespoon cream or milk

Combine mayonnaise, parsley and egg to make a smooth mixture. Spread on 4 slices bread. Spread deviled ham on remaining four slices bread. Make two stacks of four slices each, alternating fillings.

Remove crusts and cut each stack in half, to make 2 small loaves, or 4 individual loaves in all. Beat cream cheese with cream until it is light and of spreading consistency. Frost individual sandwich loaves on top and sides with whipped cream cheese. Garnish as desired with strips of pimiento and sliced olive. Serve one loaf to a portion.

COMPANY A LA CARTE — Individual frosted loaf-etts taste as good as they look when deviled ham is the zesty filling. Each little loaf is frosted with whipped cream cheese and decorated with a slice of stuffed olive.

Carrots 'n' Onions Combine Delightfully

Do you often wish you knew a way to prepare a different type of vegetable dish using carrots for their taste appeal and vitamin strength?

Here's a neat way to do it with ease. And it's sure to please the most fastidious eater.

Carrots 'N' Onions

Wash, scrape and shred enough fresh golden carrots to make 3 cups. Add 1 cup onion, chopped or grated.

Heat one-quarter cup bacon fat in a heavy skillet. Add carrots and onions. Season lightly with salt and pepper. Cover and cook slowly just until vegetables are tender—about 10 minutes.

Stir frequently to prevent sticking. Use liberal portions of butter or margarine over the dish just before serving.

If you are preparing an oven meal, place the carrots and onions in a baking dish with a tight cover. Bake at 350 degrees for one-half hour. Serves four.

Let's Discuss This 'n' That

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

It's back from vacation we are, with a desk full of mail and lots of work ahead. For a week we scarcely thought about food pages, recipes and new products. Today we'll gather up all the loose ends and get going again.

Just a word about how the picnic lunches en route worked out . . . they were fine. We must admit, however, that the last day the 6-year-old and Miss Teenager balked at our kind of sandwiches and pleaded for a hot dog and a hamburger. If we hadn't been near a refreshment stand, they would have been satisfied with peanut butter and jelly.

We found that any crossroads store carries milk and bread. Our supply of canned fillings and paper cups and plates held out. We made the mistake of taking all the bread we had at home. It was too much, and the warm weather made it mold. Next year we'll take just one loaf.

Have you seen the new superfine sugar that is ideal for iced drinks? You'll find it on your grocer's shelf in a new "picture package," a yellow package with the company's traditional color scheme of red and blue.

The pry-off cap is gaining in popularity. It provides a more perfect seal than the screw cap and allows the jar to be vacuum-packed. One cap manufacturing company is now making a new metal opener called a lid flipper. They expect it soon to be standard equipment in every kitchen. It leaves the cap in perfect condition for resealing.

Look for long rolls of Saran wrap. It's particularly useful for wrapping poultry and large pieces of meat for the freezer. A copy of a very useful little booklet describing the various uses of this transparent film is available from the manufacturers.

The well-known company that makes instant puddings sent us its newest one to try. It's strawberry flavored and is the prettiest pink you can imagine. Pudding lovers, take note.

Two new cakes now come in packages, both of them put out by one of the country's most famous gourmets. He has added Burnt Sugar Cake and Chocolate Angel Food Cake to his list of excellent package cakes. We give our family's seal of approval to both of these cakes. The burnt sugar cake has a little packet of liquid to add color and flavor to both cake and frosting.

Spinach and Cheese Team Up in Soup

Serve this good nutritious soup hot or cold.

Spinach and Cheese Soup

1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach
1 cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon onion salt
1 quart milk
1 cup grated cheddar cheese (packed down fairly well)
Salt and pepper

Put frozen spinach and boiling water in large saucepan (at least 2 quarts). Add one-fourth teaspoon salt; bring to a boil again, breaking up spinach with a fork. Simmer four minutes.

Drain spinach, reserving liquid; chop spinach even finer than it is with a knife. Return spinach liquid and spinach to saucepan.

Blend butter and flour; add to spinach with onion salt and milk. Stir constantly over moderate heat until slightly thickened and boiling.

Reduce heat to very low, add cheese, stir just until melted. Add extra salt and pepper to taste. Serve hot. Makes about six cups—enough for six servings.

To serve soup cold, be sure to use processed yellow cheese to assure smooth texture. Chill soup after cooking.

Sauce Glorifies Canned Meats

Some days it's just too hot to cook, and yet we know full well that we should plan at least one warm meal a day. "Store boughten," sliced and canned meats are easy and nourishing, but how to serve them hot without a lot of fuss and bother?

Here's an easy out (out of the breathless kitchen, that is, in record time). Even your own appetite will remain intact instead of wilted . . . and your conscience will be clear.

Make this quick raisin sauce with real New Orleans molasses, garnish a platter of luncheon meat with canned mushrooms, serve with sauteed potatoes, and even your own family will believe you've gone to a great deal of trouble. It's that good!

Molasses Raisin Sauce

2 tablespoons flour
1 cup cold water
¼ teaspoon salt
Juice ½ small lemon
¼ cup molasses
½ cup seedless raisins
1 tablespoon butter

Mix flour and water until smooth. Bring to boil, then stir in salt, lemon juice, molasses and raisins. Simmer about five minutes, or until desired thickness.

Stir in butter until melted. If desired, add 2-4 tablespoons wine at this point. Serve hot.

Good Luncheon Salad

Add a little grated onion and some orange rind to cream-style cottage cheese. Serve with sliced orange, melon balls, blueberries or blackberries, sliced banana, salad greens. Makes a good luncheon salad. Accompany with French dressing or mayonnaise.

Weekend Buyers to Find Tempting Meat Specials

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shoppers in the nation's food stores will find a tempting variety of meats on the list of specials this weekend.

In beef, round roast will be a favorite and boneless chuck pot roast also will be popular. Steaks and prime ribs, however, will be a couple cents a pound higher than a week ago in some stores. Elsewhere, there'll be no price change.

Loins of pork will be a feature in some parts of the country. Few markets will offer specials on legs of lamb, but there will be good buys in lamb shoulder roasts.

The rise in egg prices goes on. Increases of two cents a dozen on large grade "A" whites are planned in stores in many sections of the country. Butter prices show little change.

Pork prices should start coming down in the months immediately ahead. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says farmers expect to market considerably more hogs during this half of the year than they did in the same months of 1954. Abundant supplies should bring lower prices.

VEGETABLES UP

Stormy weather sent vegetable prices up in some sections of the country during the week, but the list of good buys offers a good variety, nevertheless. Produce men recommend onions, potatoes, peppers, tomatoes, eggplant, cabbage, pascal celery, and iceberg, romaine and big Boston lettuce.

Peach prices, which started out at a very high level, continue to drift lower. They took another drop this week.

DOUBLE DECKER SALAD — Cottage cheese and salmon combined in layers make a cool main dish for a hot summer day. Stuffed olives make the eyes, while pimiento strips do a good job of suggesting a fishy tail. Garnish with thin slices of lemon.

Cheese and Salmon Star in Double Decker Salad

Have the fishermen in the family not had much luck this summer? Here's a chance for Mom to show them all up and come forth with a catch that will tempt the appetites of the whole family on a warm summer day.

* * *

It's a delectable cottage cheese and salmon salad. Make it in a fish form to show those fishermen what can be caught in the kitchen. Here is a dish that looks beautiful on a buffet table at a fancy luncheon or right at home with the family.

If a fish mold isn't handy, don't let that stop you from using this recipe — a ring mold or a 9-inch square pan will do just as well.

Cottage cheese-salmon double Decker Salad is cool, easy to prepar eand a good nutritious combination. The cottage cheese layer is made separately and allowed to become firm in the refrigerator before the salmon layer is added on top of it. After the salmon layer is added it is returned to the refrigerator until set.

* * *

When serving, use a good-sized platter and garnish with a tomato stuffed with cottage cheese and twists of lemon peel which are accented with a whole clove. If a fish mold is used, put some strips of pimiento to form the tail and olives to make the eyes — it adds a dash of personality.

Accompanied by a vegetable, rolls, butter and cool milk, this cottage cheese and salmon loaf will excite the appetite on a warm day. Cottage cheese adds protein value as does the salmon, and supplies many of the nutrients found in milk.

Here is good food at reasonable cost for there is no waste to cottage cheese. That's why dairy foods are good buys — they give full value in food value.

DOUBLE DECKER SALAD
Cheese Layer

½ tablespoon gelatin
2 tablespoons cold milk
¼ cup hot milk
1 cups cottage cheese, sieved
½ teaspoon onion, minced
¼ teaspoon salt

Salmon Layer

2 cups red salmon, flaked
1 cup salad dressing
½ cup celery, finely chopped
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ tablespoon gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water

Combine salmon, salad dressing, celery, and lemon juice. Soak gelatin in cold water for five minutes, then dissolve over hot water. Add to salmon mixture. Cool. Pour over cheese layer.

To serve, unmold on large platter and garnish with watercress and tomato slices.

Barbecue Sauce Can Be Mild or More Zestful

Most Americans agree that barbecue sauce should have a barbecue flavor. We like recipes that give our personal tastes a break.

For that reason two sauces are suggested, one for those who want the barest of seasoning, and the other a bit more nippy. So use your imagination and experiment until you find the perfect sauce for you. There certainly is no set rule.

This mild-flavored sauce, made of one-half cup water, 1 cup vinegar, one-fourth pound butter and a dash of salt, must be kept hot and stirred frequently.

Here's one that's a bit more nippy, highly recommended by the Poultry and Egg National Board.

1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon paprika
1 tablespoon sugar
½ clove garlic or ½ teaspoon garlic salt
1 cup catsup
1 medium onion finely chopped
½ cup water
1-3 cup lemon juice or vinegar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup butter or margarine

Blend salt, pepper, paprika and sugar. Add garlic, catsup, onion and water. Heat to boiling. Remove from heat. Add lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and butter.

Shrimp and Apples Served Over Rice

A few grains of pepper

STUFFED SUMMER SQUASH — Vary the way you serve summer squash. Onions, olives and Cheddar cheese are in the stuffing, while pimiento-stuffed olives garnish the top. Scallops with lemon wedges, French-fried potatoes and tomato-cucumber salads round out the menu.

Onion, Olives and Cheese Give New Zip to Squash

Give summer menus a lift with plenty of fresh vegetables while they are available in good supply. If the family shows signs of being tired of the usual way vegetables appear at the table, surprise them tonight with Olive-Stuffed Summer Squash.

Delicious pimiento-stuffed green olives, sharp cheese and onion are combined with the squash, which is broiled.

The recipe is a perfect one on an evening when steaks, chops, fish or some other food to be broiled is on the menu.

Green olives add a tasty note to many vegetables.

Olive-Stuffed Summer Squash

3 large summer squash
1 medium-sized onion, chopped
½ cup cracker crumbs
1 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese (about ¼ pound)
½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives
1 egg, well beaten

Cut squash in half lengthwise. Scoop centers from squash and chop. Leave a shell about one-fourth-inch thick. Cook shells, covered, in boiling salted water five to eight minutes, or until tender. Drain and place in greased shallow baking dish.

Meanwhile, combine chopped squash and onion. Cook, covered, in a small amount of boiling salted water until onion is tender, about 10 minutes. Drain and add remaining ingredients.

Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until cheese is melted. Pile olive mixture lightly in shells.

Broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat five to eight minutes, or until lightly browned. Garnish with additional olive slices, as desired.

An interesting salad can be made by filling the scooped-out center of a tomato with your favorite gelatin salad mixture or jellied madrilene.

Pork Tenderloin Is the Choicest Cut

Pork tenderloin need not be cut into small patties before cooking. A small pork tenderloin weighing about three-fourths of a pound makes a delightful single service.

Tenderloins weighing 1 to 1½ pounds should be cut across to make two meaty servings.

This is the most tender of all pork cuts. The muscles run lengthwise but so tender it is that this makes little difference.

Dip each piece into seasoned flour. Use salt, pepper, a little sage or thyme, and some paprika.

Pan-fry slowly with a bit of chopped onion and parsley. Then add canned mushroom pieces with broth and chicken bouillon to give moisture, allowing 1½ hours of slow cookery on surface or in oven heat. Covered cookery is best.

Serve with browned rice, steamed until kernel-tender in tomato juice or beef bouillon. Garnish with pimiento olives.

Sardine Appetizer Delicious, Different

Try this recipe if you want a first course that is delicious and just a little different.

Broiled Sardine Appetizer

6 slices bread, buttered
¾ cup grated cheddar cheese (lightly packed)
One 3¾ ounce can Norway sardines
¼ cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
Paprika

Toast bread lightly; spread one side with butter; sprinkle 2 tablespoons cheese over each buttered surface.

Lift sardines from oil in can and arrange over cheese towards center of bread — there will be three or four sardines for each serving.

Stir mayonnaise, curry powder and onion together; spread over sardines; sprinkle with paprika. Broil just until heated and lightly browned.

Serve at once on small plates with knife and fork. Makes six servings.

2-Tone Loaves Let Family Select Favorite

The latest news in the cookbook field is the colorful "100 Prize-Winning Recipes" just released by Pillsbury Mills. Always a popular cooking guide in American kitchens, the 1955 edition contains the recipes which won out over the many hundreds of thousands submitted in the sixth Grand National Baking Contest last December.

* * *

Chapter headings in the book correspond to the recipe classifications for the contest — bread, cake, cookies, main dishes, pies and desserts.

In each, you'll find recipes for all occasions — the quick and easy kind we depend on for everyday meal preparation, and the extra fancy type which provides the ideas we want for special occasions and parties. All are written in Ann Pillsbury's simple step-by-step style.

The book itself is as intriguing to read as it is to cook from. A few of the attractive titles are "Rippling Shadow Cake," "Split Seconds," "Crunchy Currant Event," "Fruit Buttercups," "Almond Treasures," and "Marmalade Mixups."

* * *

As a teaser, we selected an unusual bread recipe to give you today. When you serve this, you can satisfy everybody in your family at the same time.

Called Two-Tone Loaves, it combines whole wheat and white bread in the same loaf. Three different patterns are shown in the picture — you can work out other designs of your own.

Two-Tone Loaves

½ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons salt
2 cups scalded milk
1 cup cold water
2 cakes compressed yeast (or 2 packages active dry yeast)
1 cup lukewarm water
8½ to 9½ cups sifted enriched flour
½ cup dark molasses
2½ cups whole wheat flour (unsifted)

Combine shortening, sugar, salt and scalded milk in large bowl; stir until shortening melts. Add cold water and cool to lukewarm.

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Then add to milk mixture; blend thoroughly.

Add 4 cups of the flour and beat with a rotary beater until smooth, about one minute. Cover and let rise in a warm place (85 to 90 degrees) until light and doubled in bulk, about one hour.

Divide dough in half and place each in a large bowl. Blend 3½ to 4 cups more flour into one part to form a stiff dough. Stir molasses into second part. Then blend in whole wheat flour and 1 to 1½ cups enriched flour to form a stiff dough.

Knead each dough on floured board until smooth and satiny, five to seven minutes. (To knead, fold dough over on itself and push it lightly with the palms of the hands. Repeat this process rhythmically, turning the dough one-quarter way around on the board each time.) Then place each dough in a large, greased bowl and cover. Let rise in warm place until light and doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours.

Divide each dough into three equal parts. For each loaf, combine one light and one dark section of dough, shaping into desired pattern (see suggestions below).

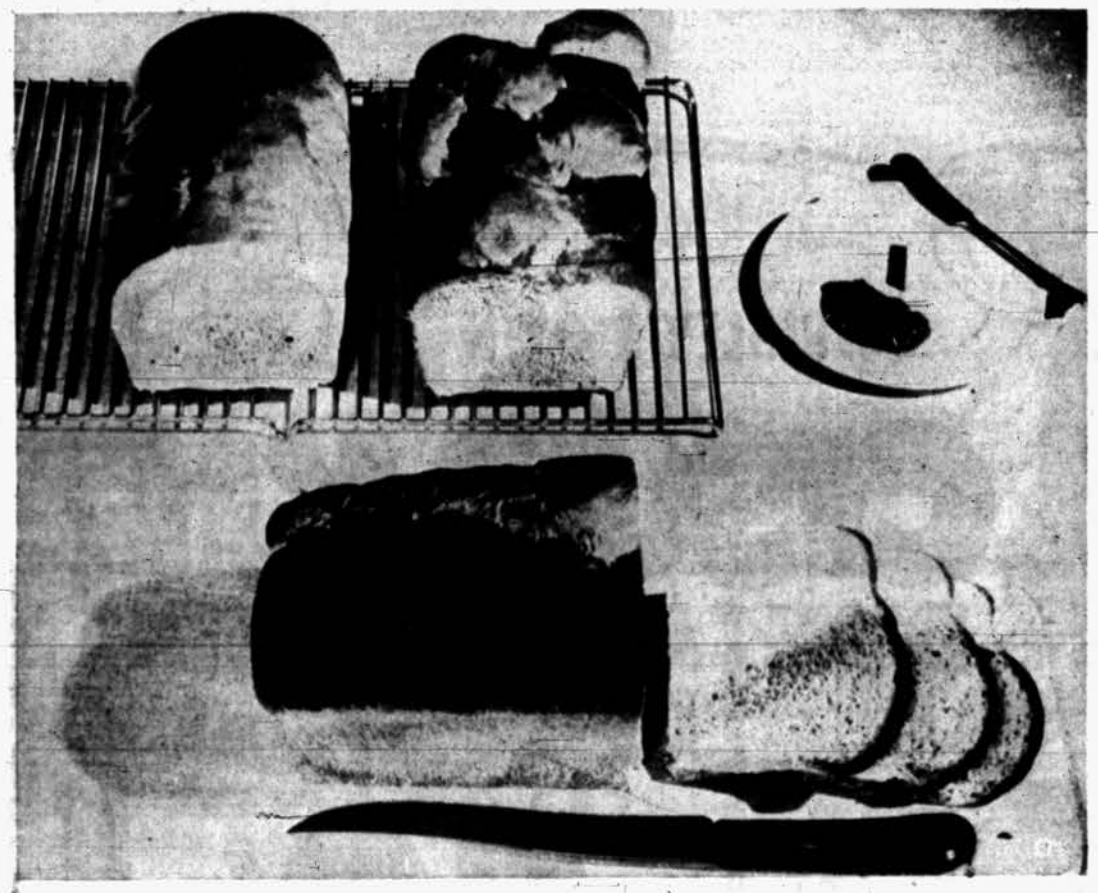

Press doughs firmly together to avoid air bubbles. Place each loaf in well-greased 9x5x3-inch pan. Cover. Let rise in warm place until light and doubled in bulk, about one hour. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 45 to 50 minutes.

For pinwheel loaf, roll out or flatten one section of light dough and one section of dark dough to 12x8-inch rectangle each; place one on top of the other. Roll up tightly, beginning with 8-inch edge.

For checkerboard loaf, shape strips from one section of each dough the length of the pan and about 1½ inches thick; alternate in pan.

For half and half loaf, shape one section of each dough into strip about 8 inches long; press strips together into a loaf.

For patchwork loaf, combine small, irregularly shaped portions of one section of each dough into a loaf.

TWO-TONE LOAVES—Here's a way to have whole wheat and white bread in the same loaf. You add whole wheat flour to half the dough, then shape the two together any way you like. This kind of bread should please everyone in the family.

California Suggests Lemonade Frappe

California, home of lemons, has an idea for sizzling weather. It's made of frozen concentrate for lemonade.

Lemonade Frappe

1 envelope plain gelatin
½ cup frozen concentrate for lemonade
1 quart chipped ice (preferably fine)

Empty gelatin into blender container. Add concentrate for lemonade. Blend for about five seconds to dissolve gelatin. Add ice.

As you mix in electric blender, use rubber spatula and work contents vigorously to speed blending action.

When contents are a smooth, snowy consistency, serve in tall glasses with straws. Or, the frappe may be served in sherbet glasses; plain or with fruit or whipped cream. Serves three-four.

Your boiled frosting too stiff to spread? Beat in boiling water, a very little at a time, until the frosting is soft enough to top a cake nicely.

Wholesome, Healthful Cheese Stars in Canadian Soup and Novel Meat Loaf

Cheese is nothing more than a concentrated form of milk. One-third pound of processed American cheese is equal in food value to a quart of milk. And it is one of nature's best foods.

* * *

Natural cheddar cheese has long been famous both in England and America. Processed American cheese is a modern adaptation of cheddar.

To make process cheese, natural cheese is blended carefully to produce the same flavor from batch to batch. Then the cheese is shredded and pasteurized in huge cookers that hold as much as 600 pounds of cheese at a time. It's the pasteurization that fixes the flavor.

From there, the beautiful, golden-smooth mixture pours into cellolined boxes holding from one-half to 20 pounds. After cooling, the smaller packages are ready to be shipped to retail stores, while the large blocks must first be sliced and wrapped in the familiar 8-ounce packages.

* * *

Processed cheese food and cheese spread are economical forms of cheese. With more moisture and minerals and less fat—so they're lower in calories—they make an excellent addition to the reducing diet, at less money.

THRIFTY MILK TOO

There are low-calorie, less expensive forms of milk, too. A full 8-ounce glass of skim milk contains only 85 calories, compared with 170 for whole milk.

The new instant dry milk is even more thrifty than fresh skim milk, and quite good, too. Even chocolate milk now comes in two types, whole or skim, as you like. Just check the labels.

* * *

Here's a hint for new buttermilk drinkers. Try it with a sprinkling of salt. Its flavor will be very much like mild creamy cottage cheese.

Cheese, like milk, combines well in cooking with other dairy foods. And milk, butter and cheese should all be carefully refrigerated away from strongly flavored foods.

Never freeze cheese, and always cook it at a low temperature. Stringiness and curdling will result if it is cooked for too long a time, or if a high temperature is used. Cheese will melt and blend better if it has been grated.

* * *

Here's a recipe for Canadian Cheese Soup that is tasty enough to turn the tables on a Mountie for some smart north-of-the-border maiden . . . out to "get her man." Local swains aren't immune, either.

Canadian Cheese Soup

3 medium-size carrots
¼ cup butter
1 teaspoon finely minced onion
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon celery salt
¼ cup flour
4 cups milk
1 cup (¼ pound) grated processed American cheese
2 tablespoons chopped parsley, fresh or flakes

Grate or grind carrots (a blender is fine if you have one). Melt butter in large saucepan or kettle. Add carrots, onion and salts to melted butter. Cook lightly, stir in flour to form a smooth paste.

Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add cheese, continue to heat and stir until cheese is melted.

Serve in hot soup bowls; sprinkle with chopped parsley. Hot buttered toast or toasted soda crackers are excellent with this soup. Yield: Four servings.

There's a gold vein in this unusual Golden Nugget Meat Loaf . . . but happily, it's good enough to eat.

Golden Nugget Meat Loaf

1 pound ground beef
¾ cup finely cubed process American cheese
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon celery salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups milk
1½ cup dry bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten

Place all ingredients together in mixing bowl. Stir lightly to mix well. Mixture will be very soft. Pour into a greased loaf pan, filling to 1 inch from the top.

Bake in moderate oven (350) 1½ hours. Remove from oven and allow to cool 10 to 15 minutes. Turn onto platter to serve. Yield: Four to six servings.

This meat loaf is excellent, too, chilled and sliced for sandwiches.

Tired From Shopping? Here's a Quick Dinner

You've been downtown all day, shopping. You're tired—and in a hurry to whip up something for dinner, but it has to be hearty and nourishing.

Open a 16-ounce can of macaroni and cheese; turn it into a buttered casserole. Cut a peeled tomato in thick slices and press them into the macaroni. Sprinkle them lightly with salt and pepper.

Bake the casserole in a 375-degree oven for 30 minutes. Garnish with parsley for added color and flavor — and there's your main dish. Makes three servings.

Marketing and consumer information agents tell us that the difference in frankfurters and wieners is that the franks are about 1 inch in diameter and 4 inches long, while the wieners are about three-fourths inch in diameter and from 4 to 5½ inches long.

Michigan has 36,350 miles of streams, about half of which are trout waters.

Here Are 6 Ways to Cut Food Bills

Here's some really valuable information for every family.

In the current issue of a home magazine there's an article called "Beat the High Cost of Eating." Simply, it's listing of ways to cut the food bill . . . all tried and tested methods . . . all easy to follow.

For example:

(1) Shop once a week for staples, twice weekly for fruits, meats and vegetables . . . and shop with a list.

(2) Be on intimate terms with prices.

(3) Buy jumbo sizes of anything you use constantly.

(4) Clean out the refrigerator and check the shelves the day before you load up . . . Maybe you'll turn up a free meal.

(5) Get the swing of the seasons. A grape is a grape is a grape (credit to Gertrude Stein) whether 50 or 15 cents a pound.

6. Careful use of your refrigerator is an art in itself.

Refrigerator boxes not only stack well, and are easy to clean, but they are made of materials that conduct the cold right to the food.

Paper bags, on the other hand act as insulators, and the motor has to work overtime to cool the food.

Golden Sauce Smothers Toast, Fresh Broccoli

Fresh green vegetables bring color and eating pleasure into family menus.

Fresh Broccoli on Toast With Cheese Sauce

1 bunch fresh broccoli
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
1-inch boiling water in pan

Wash broccoli. If stalks are large, split in half. Place in saucepan with remaining ingredients. Cover.

Cook until tender when tested with a fork. (15 to 20 minutes, lifting cover three to four times to permit gases to escape.)

In the meantime, make a cheese sauce with the following ingredients:

Cheese Sauce

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
½ cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese
1½ tablespoons fresh lemon juice
6 slices toast
12 slices crisp bacon

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Blend in flour. Remove from heat and stir in milk and seasonings. Cook until medium thickness, stirring constantly.

Add cheese and lemon juice. Place stalks of cooked broccoli on toast. Cover with cheese sauce. Makes six servings. Garnish with strips of bacon.

ORANGE SALAD BOAT — This appetizing fruit arrangement will tempt your family even on the hottest days. Arrange a row of peeled, sliced oranges with apple slices on one side of the bowl. On the other, alternate bananas with the oranges. Fill the center with chunks of fresh watermelon and tuck in bits of green around the edges. If you don't have a decorative boat-shaped bowl, use an oval meat platter.

Coarse Pepper Sold

Most spice companies now offer black pepper in a coarse, or "butcher's grind." A bit more pungent than regular grind pepper, it is especially suited to fresh air meals.

Only about 42 per cent of the nation's farm homes boast running water, according to the 1950 census.

About one-half of the chronically ill people in the U.S. are under 45 years old.

Enriched Breads Don't Add Calories

Does your morning toast contain extra calories because you use enriched white bread? Not really, but some women think it does.

Bakers spent a great deal of money to put extra vitamins into white bread and then announced that it had been "enriched." But they recently discovered that they have been sadly misunderstood.

A five-day survey of 437 women by the Home Arts Guild in Chicago brought out that only 38.6 per cent were aware of the vitamins in enriched white bread, while 18.7 per cent had never thought about it, and 42.7 per cent were sure the bread contained extra milk, sugar, eggs and butter—all fattening and on the forbidden list of diet-conscious women.

Since the language lacks a really appropriate word (such as envitaminized), the waxed paper manufacturers have come to the aid of the bakers with a national campaign designed to enlighten the housewife as to the vitamin content and nutritional value of enriched white bread.

The waxed paper manufacturers are vitamin-conscious because scientific tests by one of the country's leading independent laboratories (Foster D. Snell, Inc., New York) have shown that waxed paper, which is opaque, protects the vitamins in enriched bread from destructive light rays, which go right through the transparent wrappers.

Chinese-Style Pepper

Crisp squares of green pepper are an integral part of many Chinese dishes. The squares are heated in the sauce . . . sweet and sour, for example, . . until just warmed through. They should be almost as crisp as when uncooked.

Bolivia has an area of 416,000 square miles.

GRIMY, STAINED SHIRTS, socks, undies are no problem when you wash with Roman Cleanser Bleach. This triple-action bleach whitens clothes safely, easily . . . removes stains without hard rubbing—makes clothes sanitary, too, without extra work. Use Roman Cleanser Bleach and see the difference.

Canned Ham Stars at Picnic

Have a picnic at your picnic! Plan easy-to-serve foods and let everybody help. Take an assortment of bread-and-butter sandwiches, some favorite fillings, and even the youngsters can lend a hand.

For example—take a canned ham to the picnic on a wooden slicing board and slice it as desire for sandwiches. Then you won't have stale sandwiches left over. Warning: Don't forget the sharp knife!

Here's simple yet hearty picnic fare to serve 10 or 12—easy baked ham and a satisfying Kidney Bean and Cabbage Salad. From a medium-size canned ham (about 6 pounds) pour off the juice. (Save this to make an aspic salad with leftover ham.)

Mix three-fourth cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon dry mustard and 1 tablespoon pickle juice. Pour mixture over ham and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) about 1½ hours (allow 15 minutes per pound), basting occasionally.

Kidney Bean and Cabbage Salad

2 cans (17 ounces each) kidney beans
3½ cups coarsely chopped cabbage
1 cup chopped sweet-sour pickle
¾ cup seeded raisins
2 tablespoons minced onion
¾ teaspoon celery seed
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup chili sauce
Salt

Mix chilled and drained kidney beans with rest of ingredients. Add salt to taste. Twelve hearty servings.

Note: Carry salad to the picnic in a covered bowl. Before serving, tuck lettuce leaves around the edge—of course you've carried them separately, wrapped in aluminum foil, to keep them crisp.

Ninety per cent of Brazil's soil could be used for farming.

THE PICNIC PARADE — Any meal is a picnic to prepare when you build the menu around canned ham. Feature it with a spicy glaze. Take along a salad bowl that combines crisp cabbage with nutlike red kidney beans. Here's a twosome to satisfy hearty appetites.

Sweet Craving Is Subdued by Tangy Fruit Pie

It's dessert time! And here's the perfect way to cater to that sweet tooth. Serve a pie made with bright, juicy frozen raspberries and golden, luscious frozen peaches. The flavor is really tantalizing!

For a "goes-well" flavor with the frozen fruit, use a corn flake crust. It's crispy and a nice change. Sound interesting? It is! — Attractive and chock full of scrumptious flavor!

Frozen Raspberry - Peach Pie

1 (12 ounce) package frozen raspberries
1 (10 ounce) package frozen peaches
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
½ cup sugar

Defrost and drain frozen raspberries and peaches. Measure juice and add enough water to make 1¼ cups. Soften gelatin in ½ cup cold water. Heat juices and pour over gelatin to dissolve. Add sugar and dissolve. Cool until partially set; mix in raspberries and peaches and pour into corn flake crust. Chill until firm. Serve with whipped cream if desired. Amount: 4 to 6 servings.

Corn Flake Crust

3 cups corn flakes
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup melted butter or margarine

Crush corn flakes; add sugar and butter or margarine. Mix together 'til well coated. Press in bottom and around sides of 8" pie plate. Chill thoroughly before adding filling.

Strawberry Ice Cubes

Here's an eye-catching and unusual extra for your summertime lemonade parties. Freeze some strawberry-flavored pop in your ice cube trays. When frozen, put the cubes in a plastic freezer bag. At lemonade time, just pop one strawberry cube in each glass, and watch for the "ohs" and "ahs."

We Owe Puffed Potatoes to Tardy Royalty

Pommes soufflees, those fascinating puffed-up potatoes introduced by young Antoine to New Orleans in 1840, were first accidentally discovered because of a king's tardiness.

According to a recent issue of the mass-feeding, mass-housing publication, it occurred in 1837. A great banquet was being held in France to celebrate the initial run of that country's first train.

King Louis Philippe was the guest of honor, and the renowned chef Collinet planned to serve the King's favorite food—French-fried potatoes.

The train arrived on schedule; the potatoes were put on to cook, but no King. Rather than risk his life in this new-fangled contrivance the King was coming by carriage, and was delayed.

* * *

Distracted, the chef quickly dipped the potatoes out of the hot fat, but not before the edges had become slightly browned. He placed them aside. As the royal entourage approached, the potatoes were returned to the hot fat.

In amazement and delight, the chef saw the potatoes puff into crisp, hollow fingers shaped like balloons. The king thought them delicious, and a new dish was born.

The magazine suggests this procedure for making pommes souflees:

1. Peel potatoes, and cut in one-eighth-inch slices lengthwise.

2. Place potatoes in wire basket, and run cold water over them to remove any excess starch. Dry thoroughly.

3. Have two kettles of fat. Have fat in one kettle at a moderate temperature (275-300), and fat in other kettle at a very hot temperature (375-400).

4. Cover bottom of frying basket with layer of potatoes.

5. Place basket in pot of moderately hot fat.

6. Cook until potatoes rise to the surface, and edges show signs of puffing. (If the puff does not develop, start again with a new batch of sliced potatoes).

7. When faint puffing appears, transfer potatoes in basket to the very hot pot of fat.

8. Cook until fully puffed and browned.

9. Drain on absorbent paper, sprinkle with salt. Serve immediately.

Note: If desired, the potatoes may be put aside after the second cooking, and given a final dip in the very hot fat just before serving. If this is done, potatoes should not be fully browned in the second pot of fat, but finished off in the third cooking.

Camping doesn't necessarily mean traveling to the lakes or some remote place for Charles Cole of Lincolnshire road and Roger Knickerbocker of Brookdale lane. The boys set up camp in their own back yards and have camped out most of the summer. "Blackie," Charles' water spaniel, stands watch.

"Just going fishing" says Ralph Kimball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kimball of Colrain drive, (right) when asked how he is spending the summer vacation. With his cousin, Robbie Menzies, (left) who is visiting here from Tucson, Ariz., they have spent many enjoyable hours at the sport.

"One, two, three strikes you're out at the old ball game." Larry, Stephen and Jeffrey Rogers, (left to right) sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rogers of Claremont place, enjoy the sport and have most of the necessary equipment.

Spending many hours playing croquet, Carl Mercer, (left) son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mercer of Preston street reminds Bobbie Gottschalk (right) that it's okay to go through the wicket, but he says, "don't hit my ball."

Possibilities Waiting in Home Town

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Keokuk, Iowa, is a town which never fails to get roars of hilarious laughter, whenever it's mentioned by a radio or TV master of ceremonies. I know, because I was born there. But Keokuk is not a funny place, it's a wonderful place.

Recently, a friend of mine out there wrote to tell me about one of the best retirement setups I've ever heard of.

His name is Ray Garrison. He and his wife have built themselves a really good life.

Here's how it happened.

Ray Garrison was born and brought up in Keokuk but then, like many of us, he left. He put in nearly 30 years of big time newspaper work, covering, among other things, major league baseball, boxing—the glamour beats.

In 1948, he and his wife, Lois, tired of big town life, so decided to leave it. They headed west, intending to "stop by Keokuk and say good-bye to the home folks."

But they never left! The town looked so good, they settled down then and there.

Lois Garrison, whose background included retail advertising and teaching retail salesmanship, got herself a job in a Keokuk department store.

HISTORY WORK

Ray began work on a history of Keokuk which has turned out to be far more engrossing—and to take far more work—than he would ever have imagined.

It has involved correspondence with all kinds of Keokukians, all over the world; trips to southern battlefields where Iowans fought and died; to the Indian country, to dig up the relatives of old Chief Keokuk; and, of course, all kinds of miscellaneous research.

Ray and Lois have two grown children and two grandchildren, but unlike many couples their age, they do not live their children's lives. They're too busy with their own lives. They both love their work, they know everybody in town. "Every cat and dog, too," as Ray puts it.

And most remarkable of all, they have every bit as much fun together as they did when they first met.

Not everybody, of course, can successfully and happily pick up where they left off and settle down in the old home town.

But my advice to all retired people is: Before you move to Florida, California or some unfamiliar place, stop by the home town and say "good-bye." Maybe you'll never leave!

Junior's Bed Is Dream Stuff

Make Your Own Ruffly Baby Bassinet

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

This is dream stuff—a fabulously beautiful bassinet for the luckiest baby in the world. If you've ever mooned over the lovely, ready-made confections, chances are your dreams were doused by the ice-cold reality of the price tags.

* * *

A friend of mine turned her back on what she couldn't afford and devised one that's fluffy, ruffly and pretty as a pink cloud at a fraction of the cost of a store-bought job. Hers was a labor of love for a favorite niece.

She worked out the instructions which follow. The ruffled skirt snaps on and the quilted liner is one piece, eliminating several operations.

She used her trusty sewing machine (which isn't new) and emphasizes one point. Do pull out your sewing machine attachments and use them.

They'll save hours of time and effort. Attachments useful for this project are the binder, narrow hemmer, adjustable cording foot, quilting foot and guide, ruffler, tucker and shirring foot. If yours have been gathering dust in the sewing table drawer, practice on a few fabric scraps before you start.

True to the extravagant luxury of fine bassinets, this one is made of organdy and taffeta. It could as easily be fashioned of man-made fabrics that need no ironing, or a more tailored version could be made in gingham. Base is, of course, the standard laundry basket.

* * *

Here's what you'll need: five yards of 50-inch taffeta; three yards of 36-inch outing flannel; seven and a half yards of 36 or 39-inch organdy; one-third yard of 36-inch unbleached muslin; three yards of snap tape; three yards of bias binding; 10 yards of one-inch-wide ribbon; three yards of five-inch-wide ribbon; three yards of ¼-inch-side ribbon; 20 yards of ¾-inch-wide lace edging and three yards of ¾-inch-wide lace beading.

Nettie Rosenstein shows this mandarin-slender black broadcloth tunic costume for fall and winter. The jacket, edged with black silk braid, buttons closely over a narrow dress with a notched boat neckline and tight, bracelet sleeves.

CUT PAPER

Cut paper pattern exact shape and size of botton of basket. Use this to cut a piece of outing flannel. Quilted sides of basket lining are made from a single strip of taffeta and two strips of outing flannel cut just five inches longer than the measurement of the inside top of the basket.

Darts will fit lining to basket. Slash lining at the four points to fit around basket handles. Bind slashes and outside edge of lining. A hook and eye on each slash fastens the lining securely around handles.

Before attaching quilted sides to bottom section, sew on snap tape. (Lace edging conceals upper edge of snap tape).

Snap on other half of tape and pin on the muslin, which will form band for detachable skirt. Unsnap top half of tape and stitch on muslin band using the cording foot.

* * *

The taffeta underskirt is a straight piece of material twice as long as the distance around the basket. With narrow hemmer, hem both ends and lower edge. An eight-inch ruffle is easy to add with the ruffler attachment (you make it and attach in one operation). Ruffle top of underskirt. Use cording foot again to attach underskirt to band.

The organdy overskirt is also made from a straight piece of material twice as long as basket circumference. Width of this piece is distance from center of band to the floor plus three inches to allow for tucks.

Narrow hemmer saves another operation here by stitching on the lace edging and making the tiny hem at the same time. The tucker, set to make tucks a half inch deep and a half inch apart finishes off the three tucks in no time. Gather top edge.

Top tier or flounce is a repeat of overskirt except it's half as wide. Use the cording foot again to simplify attaching skirt and flounce to center of skirt band. A row of lace will soften the gathering line.

Wind basket handles with ribbon, finish off with bows at each end. Snap on skirt and garnish with a big, beautiful bow made from the five-inch ribbon.

Suggests Antiques for Novice

NEW YORK (INS)—An expert in American antiques says they are the best and safest bet for amateur collectors.

Her reason for saying this is the higher cost of American labor which makes it impractical to go to the trouble of copying old pieces.

Here are a few points to look for when buying the early U.S. variety of furniture, as suggested by Constance Williams, specialist in 18th century Americana.

First lok for the maker's name. It is very rare that you'll find one carved into the wood, but when you do it means you've probably found the real thing. Chalk and paper labels don't mean much, since they are easy to reproduce.

Keep in mind that our forefathers used hand tools. When examining the bottom of a chair or table, run your hand over it for scoop marks. There should not be any saw marks on a piece such as a Windsor chair.

Unevenness is another mark of the genuine article. The turnings on the leg of a piece of furniture should be uneven and unmatched. Also, since wood shrinks only with the grain, furniture parts that were originally round would today be oval.

Another sign of a true antique is the unfinished underside of a table top or chair seat. The true antique has gained an even, coffee color which is extremely hard to reproduce, and would probably cost more to do than the maker would get for the item.

Planter Mirror Aids in House Prettiness

CHICAGO (INS) — A woman can pretty up her kitchen and herself with a combination mirror and planter on the wall.

June Cabot, an artist-consultant, says an unframed square mirror and a planter box make an attractive primping mecca in the kitchen.

Just hang the mirror and put the planter under it — fastened to the wall separately, of course.

She recommends that the planter be filled with ivy, philodendron, snake plant or spider plant—just high enough to be deflected in the mirror and double the greenery effect.

About one-half of the world's people live on farms.

Heavy Woman Often Wears Tight Clothes

Wearing clothes that are too tight is one of the chief sins of the heavy mature women.

• • •

If an individual is heavy and has no intention of going on a diet or being any other weight than the weight she is, she should certainly find clothes to go with this weight.

The neckline may be all right, but the waist is straining every seam and the hemline shows it by bobbing up and down, unveiling a goodly portion of slip.

Or, if the waist is good, the sleeves may be cutting deep into the flesh of the arm, slowing down circulation and producing an unattractive effect. Sometimes the buttons on the bosom look as if they could just barely hold up.

This is all foolish. Clothes that fit don't cost any more.

Sometimes what happens is that a mature woman can find, in a style that suits her, only a dress that's tight here or there. She buys it, planning to let it out here or there, but never gets around to it.

Textured cotton knits go into fall in vivid fall colors. These wash and keep their shape (not yours).

Soil Retardant Treats Rugs and Upholstery

A new soil retardant is available commercially for treatment of rugs, carpets and upholstery material, according to manufacturers.

It is said to be colorless, odorless, non-flammable and safe for home use. It is made from sodium silicate, derived from sand.

It is sprayed or brushed on everything from painted walls to lamp shades. As the liquid carrier evaporates, particles fill crevices and leave a smooth surface on which dirt has no place to lodge.

Pal's Weekend Invitation Is Not Improper

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 17 and I have a boy friend who lives in a distant city. A girl friend of mine who lives in his city has invited me to come to visit in her home any time I want.

* * *

"Recently her mother phoned mine to reaffirm the invitation and urge me to come. So I've planned to go later this month for a weekend and will stay with them.

"Now my mother says she's afraid it is improper because it will look as though I am chasing the boy. She's afraid of public opinion.

"She wants a letter from his parents saying that they don't consider it improper. I think that's unnecessary. What do you think?"

Answer: The necessary and proper invitation has come from your girl friend's mother. And, to my mind, that's the only one you need. You will be a guest in their home, at their invitation, and any dates you might have with your boy friend are purely coincidental.

He will be calling to see you in your girl friend's home where there are "house rules" to obey. Her mother will be responsible for you.

The important thing is that your boy friend should know just when you are coming, and should show some interest in being with you that weekend. You can't very well make definite dates for yourself without consulting your girl friend and finding out whether it will be convenient. After all, you can't just use their home as a place to sleep.

It would be nice to arrange a double-date with your girl friend, and to save time to drop by and see his parents, if you know them. One big date alone is about all you can squeeze into a weekend.

As for public opinion: Who would object to your going for the weekend to visit your girl friend and her family? What could possibly be wrong with that? Who would care if you had two or three dates with a boy you meet there? He might be someone your girl friend knows. Or someone you know. What's wrong with that?

It's not as though you were traveling a long distance to stay alone in a hotel in a city where the only person you know is your boy friends. Somebody might call that improper. To some people it might look as though you were chasing him.

But you'll have a hostess. You'll have a headquarters. You'll have a chaperone in the background. One such hostess is enough.

Just be sure your boy friend knows you're coming and where to find you!

When traveling, insure your liquid cosmetics a safe journey by repackaging them beforehand. Purchase one round plastic jar for each lotion and a box of quilted cotton squares. Saturate the squares with each preparation and tuck them into plastic jars. Pour a little extra lotion into the jars to prevent drying out and then screw the lids on tightly. It's an ideal way to travel-pack skin freshener, eye lotion, and deodorant.

* * *

Central Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding. Rev. John W. Mulder officiated before a cross and candle arrangement. Only the immediate families were present.

The bride wore a redingote dress fashioned of dusty rose nylon with white accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

* * *

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Kenneth McQueen, sister of the groom, wore a pink faille dress with pink and white accessories, and a corsage of blue carnations.

Frank Thompson, brother of the bride, served as best man.

* * *

The mother of the bride wore a blue silk dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A hundred guests attended the reception held in the evening at the V. F. W. Hall in Drayton Plains. Out-of-town guests came from northern Michigan and Illinois.

The couple will reside for a short time on Hamlin road following a honeymoon in northern Michigan.

Yanks Hang On at Top of AL's Wacky Scramble

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This American League race is so screwy even the contending managers are talking with tongues in cheek. Each one maintains his guys are going to win it, but none of them really sounds convincing.

Just a couple of days ago, Al Lopez of Cleveland, observing there were no pushovers in the league, figured there wasn't much chance of one club getting hot and racing off with the flag—but if any club could do it, his Indians could, what with their pitching and all.

* * *

And Chicago's Marty Marion, ever sure his White Sox will come out on top, nevertheless conceded he couldn't see all that New York talent going to rot.

* * *

Casey Stengel, meanwhile, patted his Yankees on the head and warned that the Boston Red Sox were not to be written off.

So what happens? Detroit up and busts Cleveland for the second straight day yesterday 9-5. It was the Tribe's third loss in a row behind the failures of its mound aces —Mike Garcia, Early Wynn and Bob Lemon.

And Boston, still persistent if not as consistent, wallops the Yanks off a seven-game streak 7-1 behind the excellent pitching of Ike Delock.

All of which left the Yanks just one game and three percentage points ahead of the White Sox, who were idle. Chicago is half a game up on the Indians who are but two games ahead of fourth-place Boston.

* * *

The Yanks, who three times have won seven in a row this season, gave up their chance at eight straight as Boston scored five times in the sixth inning. Grady Hatton and Jim Piersall laced Bob Turley for back-to-back triples to get the frame under way.

Delock, a 25-year-old right-hander who had failed against New York in two previous tries, checked the Bombers on two hits until the seventh when Elston Howard's double and a pinch single by Joe Collins scored the Yanks' run. He gave five hits for the night.

* * *

A twi-night doubleheader between Baltimore and the Nats at Washington was rained out.

In the National League, Brooklyn lost its second straight to New York 5-1; Milwaukee homered past St. Louis 11-4; Chicago regained fifth place from Cincinnati 3-2, and Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 6-4.

* * *

Willie Mays led the Giants' attack with a triple, two singles and a walk and figured in all of New York's runs. Ramon Monzant, going the distance for the first time in the majors, won his second while scattering eight hits and striking out eight.

Del Crandall's grand-slammer in the eighth put the Braves beyond reach, following earlier homers by Andy Pafko and Ed Mathews that had built a 5-4 lead.

* * *

Hank Sauer, only a sometimes starter with the Cubs these days, belted a pair of homers for all of Chicago's runs. Smoky Burgess hit a two-run shot in the first for the Redlegs before Bob Rush settled down for his 10th victory.

The Phils got three runs in the first, then Elroy Face knuckled down while the Pirates battled back with 16 hits, 11 of them off loser Curt Simmons. Richie Ashburn, tops in NL hitting, pulled a back muscle trying to beat out a hit and left the game in the second inning.

Not Dying, Yet!

Tribe's Skipper Hasn't Given Up on Title Hope

DETROIT (AP)—Hold off on those Cleveland obituaries. The Indians may be gasping, but Skipper Al Lopez says they're not dying.

"We're still in pretty good shape, even though we're a game and a half out of first place," said the solid Senor today.

"We've had batting troubles all season and now, for no reason, our pitching has gone sour. But, then, we've been hot and cold right from the start," Lopez added.

Only last Saturday night the Indians held what appeared to be a firm two-game grip on first place. They seemed ready to make a run for their second straight flag.

Then Cleveland's pitching staff crumbled.

* * *

In the last three games Lopez has called on 12 pitchers—four in each game. He used Bob Lemon, Bob Feller, Ray Narleski and Art Houtteman yesterday but wound up on the short end of a 9-5 score to the Detroit Tigers.

Lemon, making his second start since returning to duty after missing three weeks with a pulled leg muscle, lasted only three innings. He was cuffed for six hits and five runs.

Much of Cleveland's troubles stems from a serious decline in production of the "Big Three"—Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia.

* * *

They've compiled an overall mark of 35-27, compared to 47-19 at this time last year.

Wynn, after a slow start due to a bronchial ailment, leads with 14-8. Lemon is 13-8 and Garcia 8-11. A year ago today Wynn was 15-9, Lemon 17-5 and Garcia 15-5.

The "Big Three" pitched 54 complete games last year, but so far this season have completed only 22.

"I'm not complaining about the way they've been going," Lopez said. "Garcia has a losing record sure, but he's been pitching well lately."

However, Lopez is anything but happy over the Tribe's hitting.

Weather Throws National Net Tourney Off Schedule

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The 75th National Doubles Tennis Tournament, washed out by a heavy downpour during the third day of play, was threatened with further delay today as the weatherman forecast more rain.

Another postponement would force a major change in match scheduling. The championship finals likely would have to be put over a day until Monday.

Such action would disrupt the plans of the U.S. and Australian Davis Cup teams which meet in the Challenge Round starting a week from tomorrow at Forest Hills, N. Y.

* * *

U.S. Davis Cuppers Tony Trabert, Vic Seixas, Ham Richardson and Gil Shea are competing this week at Longwood. Australia's Rex Hartwig and Neale Fraser also are playing in the doubles competition while teammates Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall defaulted.

The rain inundated Longwood's grass courts yesterday after only one major match was completed. In that, Louise Brough of Berkeley, Calif., and Mrs. Margaret Osborne du Pont of Wilmington, Del., No. 2-seeded women's domestic team, advanced to the third round with a 6-4, 6-0 victory over Janet Hopps, Seattle, Wash., and Barbara Green of Wilmington, Del.

Sifford Leads Fast Field in Canadian Open

Jazz - Singing Player From Philadelphia Has Sensational 63

TORONTO (AP)—If Charlie Sifford can push his luck again today he will send the Canadian Open Golf Championship chase into another tailspin.

The betting is he won't. His record doesn't say so. Just the same, the jazz-minded U.S. National Negro champion from Philadelphia pranced on the Weston Club course yesterday humming snatches of music and fired a sensational first-round 63, nine under par.

* * *

This figure equalled the Canadian Open record for any one round. It sent the fans into a brand new dither only a few minutes after word got around that little Jerry Barber of Laguna Beach, Calif., had shot a hole in one at the 130-yard par three fourth.

* * *

The Philadelphian's 63 stood up despite everything the highly-favored American pros—plus a superb round by Vancouver's Stan Leonard could do.

One stroke back, with 64, was Arnold Palmer, last year's U.S. Amateur champion from Latrobe, Pa., and now a pro, and at 66 came Leonard along with Fred Hawkins of St. Andews, Ill., and Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn.

* * *

Four more cashed in with 67—Barber, Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., Jackie Burke Jr., of Klamesha Lake, N.Y., and a surprise-package Canadian, 27-year-old Bob Dean of Cornwall, Ont.

Sifford couldn't do anything wrong and attributed his good luck to the phonograph jazz music he heard at breakfast—"boy, I really love jazz, and I was stepping it off high down the fairways."

Coast Man Sets Casting Marks

Gregory Sends Line Out 212 Feet for a New U. S. Record

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Myron Gregory of San Francisco set a pair of new records on the opening day of the annual National Fly Casting Tournament.

He broke the best cast record by casting 212 feet in the salmon fly event yesterday and averaged 200 2-3 feet in his three best casts in the same event to better that mark. The salmon fly record had been held by Jimmy Green of San Francisco with 206 feet. Gregory and Green held the other mark jointly with 198 2-3.

Gregory set the marks shortly after Jon Tarantino, also of San Francisco, had bettered the old average mark with 199 1-3 feet. Tarantino won the trout fly distance cast earlier in the day with an average of 169 feet.

Quebec Hurler Pitches a Ball for Nine Hours

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que. (AP)—An 18-year-old Shawinigan Falls youth today claimed a pitchathon record after pitching a baseball steadily for nine hours.

Georges Francoeur's effort beats a mark of 6 hours and 45 minutes set in Montreal recently by Jeane-Pierre Roy, former pitcher with Montreal Royals of the International League. Roy claimed his time as a record.

Young Francoeur tossed the ball about 4,400 times, beginning with an average of 10 pitches a minute and finishing with eight a minute. He wore out about a dozen catchers.

Texan Still Tops Among Pro Hurlers

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., Aug. 17 (AP)—Rene Vega didn't quite make it in trying the iron man stunt but he took his 27th victory of the season to remain the winningest pitcher in organized baseball Wednesday night. Vega pitched both games of a double-header for Corpus Christi and allowed Port Arthur only 12 hits in both but he won the first game 2-1 and lost the second 4-0. Both were 7-inning affairs. They were Big State League games.

Jets Grab Spot in Series Final by 5-2 Victory

Big 4th Frame Gives Win Over GM; Realty, Motors Play Tonight

L. C. Anderson Jets, apparently recalling their 1954 championship days, rudely bounced General Motors, 5-2, in Wednesday night's Class A City Baseball League playoff. Victory advanced the Jets to the championship finals. It was the 1st loss for GM.

League champion GMC combined a single by Terry Thomas and a double by Wes Roberts with an enemy error to tally twice in the 4th for a 2-1 advantage. But the Jets exploded for four big runs in the 6th inning—and that was that.

Lou Seay and Fletcher Davis opened the 6th with back-to-back doubles, driving starter Jim Wagner from the mound in favor of veteran Herman Bishop. Eugene Cox greeted Bishop with a two-bagger, then an infield miscue and Bill Johnson's single wound up the scoring. Singles by Colle Hunt and Roy Beasly and an error notched the Jets' 1st run in the 2nd stanza.

Warren Hagyard, burler who pulled the Jets out of their tie series last week with Don Nicholie, throttled GMC's heavy bats last night. Hagyard limited the Coachers to five hits, two by Roberts, and fanned three while walking two.

General Motors faces Don Nicholie Real Estate in a 5:30 tilt tonight at Wisner. The winner in the double elimination tourney will meet the Jets in the final Friday. If a 2nd game is necessary, it will be held next Monday.

Sam Carmichael Fires 65 to Take One-Hole Edge in JC Event

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Par-breaking rounds and two eagles highlighted the first round of the International Jaycee Junior Golf Championships as 15-year-old Sam Carmichael of Martinsville, Ind., grabbed a one-stroke lead with a brilliant 65.

Carmichael, in his 34-31—65 round yesterday over the par-72, 6,537-yard Columbus Country Club course, dropped an eagle on No. 13, a 509-yard dogleg.

Phil Rodgers of San Diego, Calif. carded a six-under-par 34-32—66, including a holed-out wedge shot for an eagle on the par-4 12th.

Dick Foote of Santa Ana, Calif., tied for medal honors with Odell Massey of Durham, N.C., and Jack Niclaus of Columbus, Ohio, after the two qualifying rounds, captured the tourney medal and third place with a 34-33—67.

Boys Club Wins American Legion Title After 2-2 Deadlock With Birmingham

Huron Valley Boys Club won the 2nd-half championship in the American Legion's 18th District Baseball League after battling to a 2-2 deadlock with Birmingham Wednesday night on the latter's diamond. Game was stopped after nine innings because of darkness.

Since district chairman Al Voss has directed that no rained-out games can now be re-scheduled, Boys Club wins the crown by a slim half game over runner-up Birmingham. Boys Club finished with a 5-1 record, Birmingham with 5-2.

Dave Gaddis engaged in a pitching battle with two Birmingham hurlers in yesterday's stalemate. Don Plemann worked until the 7th inning when Terry O'Conner took over. Gaddis allowed five hits and both runs he yielded were unearned.

Gaddis also collected two singles and drove in a run, while teammate Roger Voorheis picked up a triple and two singles and accounted for the other run.

Waterford downed Rochester, 6-4, in a tiff halted by darkness after 5½ innings. Chuck Gillis pitched for the winners and yielded five hits, four in the 4th frame when Rochester posted all of its runs. Waterford's three-run 4th stanza wrapped up the game as catcher Ron Kind delivered the big blow, a two-run single.

Only seven players turned up for Clawson in its scheduled finale at Berkley, forcing the visitors to forfeit the decision. Loss doomed Clawson to a cellar-sharing role with Rochester.

Girls' Junior Tourney Opens

Top Youngsters Also File for U. S. Women's Amateur

FLORENCE, S.C. (AP)—The winner of the U.S. Golf Assn. National Girls' Junior tournament, for youngsters under 18 is, by custom, invited to play in the National Amateur event for women conducted by the USGA.

Such an invitation will be a mere formality for three of the four youngsters who teed off in the semifinals of the seventh annual junior event today at the Florence Country Club.

Both lower bracket rivals, Joanne Gunderson of Seattle, Wash., and Anne Quast of Everett, Wash., have already filed for the big one which opens Monday at Charlotte, N.C.

Carole Jo Kabler of Roseburg, Ore., another semifinalist, also entered the women's event. That left only her opponent in today's upper bracket match, Betsy Cullen of Tulsa, Okla., who hadn't entered in a position where she must come through here today and tomorrow to get an invitation to Charlotte.

Oakland Team Wins

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Pacific Southwest region champions from Oakland, Calif., eliminated the Southwest region winners from Tulsa 6-3 in the Babe Ruth Baseball Series tonight.

It was the second game of a twin bill. In the first game Birmingham, Ala., defeated Portland, Ore., 7-5, in 12 innings.

Mrs. Schwach Leader

Low net winner in this week's women's Golf League at Silver Lake was Mrs. Richard E. Schwach of Waterford. She carded 35 with her handicap. On No. 4 the blind hole, Mrs. Grant McDonald had the best count, a five, while the day's guest award went to Mrs. Frank Caverly of Pontiac.

Roseville-Drug 9's Meet in "C" Finals Tonight

Drayton Team Reaches District Final; Boe's 2-Hitter Turns Trick

Drayton Drug of the Waterford League and Roseville will clash tonight at Beaudette Park in the championship finals of the men's Class C district softball tournament. Game time is 7 p.m., with 8:30 reserved for a possible 2nd contest.

Drug nine reached the finals with a 3-0 victory over Roseville in Wednesday night's 8th-round tilt. Gary Boe twirled a two-hit shutout and Jerry Hesse chipped in a pair of singles to spark the Drayton club to its finals berth.

Roseville, smarting under its 1st playoff setback, moved to the lower bracket and eliminated Southfield, 3-1, in 11 innings. Southfield advanced to its test with Roseville by eliminating Pinckney of Howell, 3-0, behind the one-hit pitching of Porteous.

Mazur, who was Drug's victim, outdueled Porteous as Roseville dumped Southfield. Roseville tallied once in the 5th to match Southfield's 4th-inning run and set the stage for the winners' two-run 11th. Mazur allowed only two hits while his mates collected nine.

General Motors pushed across one run in the bottom of the 7th stanza to nose out Avondale, 6-5, in a girls' league Class C playoff game. Win enabled GMC to move into the finals. Coachers' opponent will be the winner of the Avondale-Gingellville scrap, slated tonight at North Side at 7 p.m.

Minors Face Realignment in Southeastern Section

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—There may be some realignments in minor league baseball memberships in the Southeast next year.

At a conference here Wednesday President George A. Trautman of the National Assn. of Professional Leagues said only the leagues and their individual member clubs can make any realignment decisions.

* * *

Trautman remained in Columbia today for private conferences with league presidents or club officials who wanted to talk with him.

He described Wednesday's discussions as "exploratory."

A particular problem, Trautman said, is posed by the Class B Tri-State League, which has only four clubs, Asheville, N.C., Greenville, Spartanburg, and Rock Hill, S.C.

The Tri-State hopes to add new members or to merge its member clubs into other leagues next year, he said.

* * *

Birrer Checks Tribe as Tigers Win Again

DETROIT (AP)—Here's a good bet for 1956:

Babe Birrer will solve the age-old bull pen problem of the Detroit Tigers.

The 26-year-old rookie right-hander has been making large strides this season, showing marked improvement each game.

Manager Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians says all the Tigers need is an ace reliever to become a pennant contender. Birrer may be just the man—next year. It's a little too late now.

Birrer stopped the Indians cold yesterday, blanking them over the final five innings as the Tigers jolted the Tribe for the 2nd straight day, 9-5.

Birrer took over for starter Jim Bunning after he had been rocked for successive home runs by Bobby Avila and Gene Woodling. He quickly quieted the Indians, allowing them only three hits—all singles— the rest of the way.

Birrer, product of the Detroit farm system who spent the last two years in service, has made 29 appearances this season. He has allowed 59 hits in 64⅓ innings, permitting only 29 runs. He has a 2-4 mark.

The Tigers supported Birrer with a resounding 14-hit attack against four Indian pitchers. They shelled ace Bob Lemon from the hill in three innings, cuffing him for six hits and five runs:

Detroit kept hammering away at Bob Feller and Ray Narleski.

Al Kaline and Bill Tuttle led the way with three hits apiece, while catcher Frank House, continuing his sensational hitting, chipped in with a double and his 11th home run.

Kaline's three hits—a two run triple and a pair of singles—marked the youngster's best day since the All-Star game. He pushed his average back up to .350.

After Lary Doby put Cleveland into a 1-0 lead with his 18th home run leading off the 2nd, the Tigers struck for two runs in the 2nd, three in the 3rd and never were headed.

Fred Hatfield drove in the 1st two runs with a bases-loaded single in the 2nd. Kaline delivered two with his right field triple in the 3rd while Earl Torgeson scored Kaline with a single.

House's homer and singles by Hatfield and Tuttle, plus an infield out, accounted for two more in the 4th. The Tigers closed it out with another pair in the 7th on a trio of singles by Kaline, Torgeson and Ray Boone, plus Charley Max-

WEDNESDAY'S STARS

PITCHING—Ike Delock, young Red Sox righthander held New York to two hits in first six innings, then relaxed to grant three more in 7-1 triumph.

BATTING—Hank Sauer, Cubs, belted two home runs for all Chicago's runs in 3-2 decision over Cincinnati.

When Deb Garms won the 1940 National League batting title with .355 it marked the last season in which he played more than 100 games. He played in only 103 games in 1940.

Money Produces Tales

Baseball's New Crop of Bonus-Rookie Stories Marks 1955, Recalls Old Ones

BALTIMORE — The year 1955 will be remembered in baseball for a fresh crop of bonus-rookie stories. A lot of new ones have been produced, though it's doubtful if they top some of the old tales.

For instance, there was the one about Dick Wakefield, signed by the Tigers some 10 years ago for, the newspaper said, "$50,000 and a big Cadillac."

When Wakefield saw the story, he phoned a sportswriter friend, "Could you get that story corrected?" he asked. "It isn't right. I didn't get a big Cadillac. I just got one of the little ones."

Which brings up the newest Baltimore story. The club has admitted it made a $36,000 mistake in signing pitcher John Swango two months ago and he has been turned loose. "He can never make it," opines Manager Paul Richards.

Swango's trouble, self-expressed, is nervousness. "I can't warm up in front of a crowd," he apologized.

They're also telling stories about Jim Brady, a 19-year-old pitcher signed by the Tigers this spring for $35,000. Since arriving with the club, Brady seems indifferent about his baseball future. Even Manager Bucky Harris has been unable to shake him up. Harris tried fatherly talk, then tried bawling him out.

Brady had a sore arm, so the club arranged for him to visit an X-ray specialist. He overslept and missed the appointment. A second appointment was made, but Brady asked to be excused "as I've made plans to go on a picnic."

In Baltimore one day, the Tigers' chartered bus stopped at the hotel and picked up 15 players who had been waiting in the lobby. Brady was sitting with the 15, but missed the bus.

"How come?" asked a coach. "Didn't you see all the other players get up and leave?"

"I thought something happened out on the street and went out to see what it was," said Brady.

All this, however, can't touch the crack made about a Phillies' bonus baby. The kid signed for $60,000 and his unimpressed teammates named him "Money Bags."

That's because one day the manager watched the boy run out a grounder and remarked, "How could a kid that cost so much be so slow?"

To which someone replied, "He can't run fast because he's carryin' all that money with him."

Sawchuk Faces Army Induction

WINNIPEG (AP) — Goalie Terry Sawchuk may have to appear for induction into the U.S. armed services—even though he's a Canadian citizen.

Sawchuk, a 5-time member of the National Hockey League All-Star team while with the Detroit Red Wings, said yesterday he recently got a U.S. draft board form to fill out. He tore it up thinking it a mistake.

A 2nd form got the same treatment. When a 3rd arrived Sawchuk took it up with the U.S. consul in Winnipeg.

The consul explained that under United States law if Sawchuk is to make his living in the U.S. he becomes subject to the draft law.

Sawchuk, 26, married and the father of a child, could escape the draft by remaining in Canada.

Sawchuk was sold by the Wings to Boston a few months ago.

Williams Lake Club Places 4 in Meet

Detroit won the recent Michigan Recreation Association state swimming championship at Saginaw. Dettrioters rolled up a victory margin of 149 points.

A dozen members of the Williams Lake Swim Club, Waterford Township standard-bearer, competed in the state meet with four placing in four events.

Bruce Sias was 3rd in the 75-yard medley; Glenda Roberts 3rd in the 25-yard freestyle; Mike Harrington 5th in the 25-yard backstroke, and Kathy Kantarian placed 6th in the 50-yard freestyle.

Williams Lake team scored 14 points to finish 9th in a field of 11 squads.

Phil Harris, the band leader, aced a 122-yard hole with his 8 iron.

County Gunners Gain Honors in State's Shoot

Oakland County shooters gained a considerable share of the honors in the recent state skeet championships at Detroit Gun Club. Top spot went to Ainsley Borsum of Baldwin, with a perfect 100.

Bill Brown, 13-year-old from Birmingham, shot 94 to win the junior title, while brother Ed, 10, captured the sub-junior title with a fancy 97. Ed also received the "most improved shooter" award.

Florence Schmidt of Hazel Park successfully defended her state women's crown, edging Jeanne Shields of Grand Rapids, 96-95. Bob Thiefels was a member of the Blue Rock Gun Club, which won the 5-man team championship with a mark of 488 x 500. Other members of the team were Joe Begin, Don Cohagen, Howard Confer and Borsum.

Scores of Oakland County gunners were as follows: Bob Thiefels, 98; Keith Van Kirk, 97; Florence Schmidt, 96; Sam Schmidt, 95; Jim Ashmore, 94; Mike Kenjalo, 92; Lee Vandewater, 86; Bud Brown, 79; and Dave Geraduzzi, 70.

Terrill Quits Job as Charlevoix Coach

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — Del Terrill, Charlevoix high school head football and basketball coach, since 1950, resigned yesterday to take a position as a sporting goods salesman.

Terrill's teams have won three northern Michigan Class C football championships and four basketball league titles. Terrill is a Wayne University graduate and former coach at Traverse City high school.

Alston Shakes Up Dodgers After Defeat

NEW YORK (AP)—The pennant-bound Brooklyn Dodgers, comforted by a fat, 14-game lead, experienced their first shakeup of the season today after a disturbed Walter Alston reportedly gave them what was termed in some quarters as a "you-better-wake-up" speech.

* * *

Alston, after seeing his Dodgers stagger through one of their most listless performances of the season in Wednesday night's 5-1 loss to New York, announced he was making a couple of changes in the lineup for today's series finale against the Giants.

The manager said Junior Gilliam would replace Don Zimmer at second and Jackie Robinson would be in left field instead of Sandy Amoros. He also had a few choice words to say to a couple of unidentified Dodgers who, most incidentally, were not the benched athletes. No Dodger would admit there was a speech by Alston, let alone disclose it's text.

* * *

Anyway, it was the Dodgers' sixth loss in their last nine games. Does this mean the Dodgers are experiencing their customary August jinx? Hardly. Only a rabid Dodger-hater would venture such a prediction and it would be more wishful thinking than anything based on fact. A 13 and 15-game bulge over a couple of crippled challengers like the Milwaukee Braves and New York Giants with less than six weeks to go should be enough to overcome any case of nervousness.

* * *

There's no denying the Dodgers not only looked but played like a bunch of tired athletes Wednesday night. They reached Ramon Monzant, Giants' rookie righthander, for eight hits and were presented with four walks but scored only one run as they left 10 runners stranded. On the field, they made three errors, only the third time htis season they have committed that many miscues in a game.

* * *

"This game might be the making of him," said Ray Katt, Monzant's catcher. "I caught him in Puerto Rico last winter and he looked like a real fine pitcher then. He threw hard and had great control. Then he came up here and became a different pitcher. Instead of throwing hard, he became cute, throwing nothing but curves. Also, his control was bad.

"I believe you can blame it all on nervousness. He was simply scared. Now he's beginning to gain confidence. I think he'll be a different pitcher from now on."

Babs Romack Gets in Shape for U. S. Test

California Star Will Defend Amateur Title at Charlotte, N. C.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Barbara Romack, out of tournament competition since her runner-up effort in the British Amateur last May, is sharpening her golf game for defense of her National Amateur title here next week.

After what she called "a practice round, not a scoring round" over the par-74, 6-413-yard course, she ventured the opinion that it was "a good course, with some long par-4 holes and some good par-3s that should furnish a fine test next week."

Barbara breezed through last year's tournament at Sewickley, Pa., closing out all her 18-hole matches in 16 holes or less. In the 36-hole finals she beat Mickey Wright, now a professional, 4 and 2, ending the match on the 16th—the second time around.

A pulled tendon in her left foot hampered Barbara's play in the British tournament in the spring. She has rested most of the time since. The 22-year-old insurance saleswoman said that exercises have the foot in the best condition since spring.

"It hasn't bothered me yet in practice," she commented, adding, "of course, I don't know how it will stand up under a daily schedule of play, but I believe it is alright now. I kept away from golf for several weeks until about a month ago to give it a chance to rest."

Standing in the way of her becoming the first champion to repeat since the 1939-40 victories of Betty Jameson is a field that list such youthful challengers as Margaret (Wiffi) Smith, who this month ran off with the Tam O'Shanter All American and World tournaments; Pat Lesser, winner of last month's Western Amateur; Jackie Yates, the Hawaiian girl who holds the National Intercollegiate title and a host of other teenage threats.

It's an all match-play event. The first round draw will be Saturday after the deadline for registration.

Don Pike Joins Gay Day; Amos Back at Speedway

Don Pike, operator of the Pontiac Speedway for the past three seasons, has announced his resignation to accept a more lucrative post at Gay Day Speedway, the fast half-mile, banked dirt track three miles north of Pontiac on Baldwin Avenue. Pike's resignation becomes effective immediately.

"The trend is toward open racing and Gay Day's track is the best type for midgets and big cars," Pike said.

Plans are being laid for late model stock and new car races in the near future, the new Gay Day manager announced. Hardtops will continue to run every Sunday.

Plans are also under way for state championship races on Labor Day. Feature event will be a lengthy, endurance run with an excellent guaranteed purse. Open competition will be the keynote of the holiday affair, which is expected to beckon the top drivers in the midwest area, Pike says.

Pike extended his best wishes to the Pontiac Speedway for good luck and continued success.

"I hope that it will run as smoothly as it did in 1952 when Bob Amos so capably held the reins," he said.

Amos is now returning to the M59 oval, succeeding Pike. Amos will be assisted by Dick Dewey, who will serve as promoter and publicity director.

Sam Snead's Golf Clinic

Use your head . . . by keeping it in fixed position.

This golfer knows how to play. By holding his eyes and head in fixed position after the ball is away he is permitting the follow-through of the clubhead along the direction line and he has made sure that the rhythmic application of all his power is expended on the ball. And I like the way his left shoulder is moving up in pretty much a vertical plane while his right shoulder passes under his chin. The shoulder pivot, as you know, is about a 90 degree pivot while the hip pivot is only about a 45 degree pivot. With a golfer swinging this way the hip pivot and the shoulder pivot contribute their share to the arm swing and hand action.

BONUS BELTER—Paul Pettit is leading the Class A Mexican League in batting as an outfielder with .417. The bespectacled slugger of the Mexican City Tigers is the same young man who several years ago was paid $100,000 for signing with the Pirates as a pitcher.

Texas Title for Dykes

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP)—Veteran Bobby Dykes won the Texas middleweight championship here last night by knocking out Chebo Hernandez and is now looking ahead to his world title match with champion Bobo Olson in Miami on Sept. 22.

Makes Revealing Debut

Kenny Kuhn, 18-year-old bonus rookie for the Indians, always will remember his first major league game. He entered the contest as a pinch runner and tore his pants when he slipped rounding second base.

Swaps to Make Chicago Debut in 'Derby' Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Swaps will make his Chicago debut Saturday in the $100,000 added American Derby at Washington Park against five rivals, including Parador, considered by many a real dark horse.

* * *

Besides Rex Ellsworth's Swaps and Harvey C. Fruehauf's classy 3-year-old Parador, the field will include Hasty House Farm's Summer Solstice; Clifford Moorer's Traffic Judge; W. L. Ronach's Honey's Alibi, and Mrs. Harry L. Nathenson's Ambiguous.

* * *

Calumet Farm's Trentonian was expected to go Saturday in the mile and three-sixteenths grass feature. However, after being nosed out Wednesday by Fraser Valley in the Mile Dyer Purse for 3-year-olds, Calumet trainer Jimmy Jones said Trentonian definitely will skip the American Derby.

Calls Ferris Gridders

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — Sam Ketchman, beginning his 3rd year as Ferris Institute football coach, has invited 65 candidates to early practice which is set for Sept. 6.

Ferris Bulldogs last year won five games, lost one and tied one for the best football season mark ever posted at the school. The team again has listed a seven-game schedule.

Stanley Hack has fined only one player in eight years of managing.

Basketball Tribute Reality in 3 Years

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The Naismith Memorial Hall of Fame for basketball to be located on the campus of Springfield College will be started in three years.

Iowa Mentor Hits Practice of 'Recruiting'

Claims Big Freshmen Squads Keep Many Out of Playing Chances

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa (AP)—Small college football is fighting a "battle for life," says C. L. (Buck) Starbeck, a small college football coach.

Unlike minor baseball leagues which receive some financial assistance from the majors, "the larger colleges prefer to ignore the problems of the smaller schools," he says. Starbeck is head coach at Iowa State Teachers College.

* * *

"The major leagues have restricted television in an effort to protect the minors at the gate," he says, "but the major colleges are clamoring for unlimited television.

"They say that they are acting only to satisfy fans, not for money," Starbeck continues in a letter to the editor of the Waterloo Courier. "Then it would not seem a handicap to televise the games on Monday when they would not openly compete with the smaller schools playing weekend football."

* * *

In the matter of recruitment, he says "the small school must compete openly with the large universities, and our elastic amateur code has been strained to allow them a tremendous advantage in offering scholarships and grants to prospective players."

Starbeck criticizes the actions of some large universities in "recruiting huge freshman squads to be boiled down to make up their varsity teams. Many a boy is thus denied the opportunity of enjoying competition even though he could have derived the benefits of playing, had he not been urged to attend the big school."

* * *

He says if the minor leagues and small college football should collapse, "it would be another great step toward making an already less active population a nation of watchers, and not participants."

Boros Paces Golf's Top Money Winners

CHICAGO (INS) — Professional Golfers Assn. statistics revealed today that Julius Boros' victory Sunday in the world championship tournament at Tam O'Shanter has given him a commanding lead for 1955 money winning honors.

Boros' 1st place purse of $50,000 at Tam raised his total earnings for the year to $61,971.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., is 2nd with $26,767. Third went to Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C., with $21,657.

Divisional Title to Birmingham Club

Blue Division (WDGA) golf title went to Birmingham Country Club yesterday, at Tam O'Shanter Club.

The Birmingham women wound up the season's play with 60½ points to edge Grosse Ile, which had 59½. Birmingham CC defeated Oakland Hills, 9½-2½, split with Western 6-6. Grosse Ile beat DGC 10½-1½ and split with CCD 6-6.

District title is at stake in the Sept. 7 test against the Red Division winner, to be determined by a playoff between Orchard Lake and Lochmoor.

Hurls Perfect Game

Porpoise Causes New Trouble by Eating Bass

WELAKA, Fla. (AP) — As if it weren't enough to have commercial fishermen illegally making catches with electric shock boxes, Putnam County sports fishermen have a new complaint.

They saw a porpoise a mile north of here gobbling up schools of young bass, normally so abundant they make the upper reaches of the St. Johns River a fisherman's paradise.

A porpoise is rarely seen so far upriver, 75 miles from the mouth at the Atlantic Ocean east of Jacksonville.

Titles to Saginaw

JACKSON (AP)—Baseball titles of the Michigan State Recreation Assn. have gone to Saginaw.

Saginaw Savings edged Battle Creek Eatons 6-5 for the 12 and under title yesterday. Saginaw Helfrich Machine whipped Battle Creek's Gas House Gang 10-7 in extra innings for the 14 and under crown.

Evers in Hospital After Injury to Eye

DETROIT (AP)—An eye injury suffered in yesterday's game with the Detroit Tigers kept veteran outfielder Hoot Evers of the Cleveland Indians in Detroit Memorial Hospital today.

Dr. Alfred Whittaker, staff physician, described the injury as "fairly severe." But he said Evers "will not lose his eyesight."

The hospital listed Evers' condition as "satisfactory." A spokesman said they would be able to tell more after treatment today. Dr. Whittaker estimated Evers would be in the hospital at least a day or two.

Evers suffered the injury pinch hitting for pitcher Bob Feller in the 6th inning. A foul tip struck him in the right eye.

Joe DiMaggio and Babe Ruth are the only players who have been in 10 World Series. DiMaggio leads in most Series games played with 51, one more than Frankie Frisch.

Bosox Ike Delock Picks the Right Spot to Recover; Fires 5-Hitter, Beats Yanks

BOSTON (AP)—Boston righthander Ivan (Ike) Delock picked a vital moment to recover from a sore arm; just ask the New York Yankees.

Delock threw a five-hitter to beat the Yanks 7-1 Wednesday night, cut their first place margin to one game over idle Chicago and snap a seven-game winning streak for the New Yorkers.

The Red Sox were at the crossroads.

They entered the game 4½ games off the pace after taking a 13-6 thumping from New York the night before. Another Yankee win would knock the Sox almost out of sight in the tight American League race and increase the Yankee lead.

Delock, who hadn't won a game or completed one since facing Washington June 29, shouldered the burden with an arm that had been so painful he'd been able to do only occasional relief work recently.

"My arm feels great—not a twinge," the 25-year-old from Highland Park, Mich., said in the locker room following the game.

"The arm actually feels as loose as it ever felt. It's hard for me to realize I had a sore arm. The pain had bothered me deep in the arm. It was okay when I threw easy but when I tried to put something on the ball it gave me a lot of trouble.

"I felt we had 'em in the sixth inning when we got those five runs for a 6-0 lead. That gave me a little more zip to finish up. From then on I felt I was going downhill to the victory."

Delock, boosting his record to 7-5, gave up just two hits until the seventh when Elston Howard doubled and pinch hitter Joe Collins singled for the only New York run.

SATTERFIELD SLIPS—Bob Satterfield of Chicago slips to canvas in early part of 10th round of fight with Nino Valdes of Cuba last night. Valdes was knocked down later in final round and Satterfield won the heavyweight bout on a decision.

Satterfield Batters Valdes, Takes Unanimous Decision

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Satterfield, the unpredictable heavyweight slugger, pondered over his in-and-out fistic progress today after scoring a unanimous decision over Cuban Nino Valdes, a leading contender for Rocky Marciano's title.

* * *

Satterfield dealt the giant Valdes his 10th defeat in 45 bouts Wednesday night in a nationally televised 10-rounder at Chicago Stadium.

In a bout that very few observers thought would go the limit since both men had 75 per cent knockout averages, Satterfield hammered Valdes to the floor in the final round, but couldn't keep him there. The Chicago Negro, outweighed 32 pounds was a 3-1 underdog.

Satterfield weighed 183; Valdes 215.

* * *

Previous to Wednesday night's bout Valdes had won 23 of 33 triumphs by knockouts and was ranked No. 5 among heavyweight ring contenders. Satterfield has scored 30 knockouts in 38 victories. He has lost 19 bouts, including a few to boxing unknowns.

* * *

Valdes' best round was the seventh when two right uppercuts staggered Satterfield, who crowded in and held on until the bell.

The fight was Valdes' first since he lost a close decision to light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in Las Vegas three months ago.

Attendance was 3,326. The gross gate was $3,992 and the net $3,326.

Nationals Triumph Minus Top Hitters

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The National League won the annual All-Star game without its two leading hitters. League leader Roy Campanella of Brooklyn was picked by the fans as the All-Star catcher but was inactive with an injured knee. He was hitting .335. The Phillies' Richie Ashburn, a center fielder, was hitting .327 but wasn't picked in the fan poll or by Manager Leo Durocher. The latter had a chance to select Ashburn but skipped him because the Nationals were overloaded with left-hand hitters.

Herman Wehmeier, Philadelphia Phillies pitcher, likes to hurl against the Pittsburgh Pirates. He has won 16 of his last 17 starts against the Bucs.

Slack Line—or Tight?

Whether to keep a tight or slack line when a fish leaps has frequently puzzled fishermen. Recent issue of a national magazine suggests that it is better to keep your line slightly taut when using a lure heavy enough to be thrown easily. Use a slack line with fly-rod stuff.

77,935 Fans See LeBaron Passes Beat Rams, 31-28

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A crowd of 77,935 saw Eddie LeBaron pass for four touchdowns tonight as the Washington Redskins humbled the Los Angeles Rams, 31-28, in their annual exhibition football game for Los Angeles Times Charities.

Vic Janowicz' 20-yard field goal in the second period was the margin of victory as the teams each scored four touchdowns and converted on each one.

* * *

LeBaron's passing was superlative as he hit Ralph Thomas and Johnny Carson for two touchdowns each. The last one to Carson caught the Rams flatfooted and went half the distance of the field.

The Redskins capitalized on a pass interception and a Ram fumble to build up a 10-0 lead. Eddie LeBaron's 8-yard pass to Thomas and Vic Janowicz' 20-yard field goal were the scoring plays, but the Rams came roaring back for two touchdowns in the second quarter to finish the half on the short end of a 17-14 score.

* * *

The Rams forged into a 21-17 lead in the third period as Corky Tharp, rookie halfback, got away on a 29-yard sprint for a touchdown, but the Redskins soon were back in the van as LeBaron spotted Johnny Carson and fired a 12-yard pass which Carson took away from defending Hall Haynes.

In the fourth period LeBaron completed a 51-yard pass play to Carson, who got behind the Ram secondary and caught the ball on the 14. The Rams bounced back with Bill Wade at quarterback. He engineered a 66-yard attack on the ground and Dan Towler completed it with a 10-yard rush that bowled over Chet Ostrowski at the goal line.

Washington	7	10	7	7	—31
Los Angeles	0	14	7	7	—28

Scoring: Washington—Touchdowns, Thomas 2, Carson 2. Field goal, Janowicz (20 yards). Conversions, Janowicz 4.

Los Angeles — Touchdowns, Fears, Boyd, Tharp, Towler. Conversions, Richter 4.

Little League Record Set by Jack Lowry

Best hitting performance of the season in Waterford's Little League softball play was turned in last night by Jack Lowry of Union Lake. Jack hit a triple, two singles, a double and a home run against Maceday Gardens in the 15-0 win. Lowry accounted for 5 runs.

Puertas Service dumped Pete's Service, 9-6, in another game, in which each team scored only one earned run.

Propose $1,200,000 Expansion for Holly Area Schools

Will Present Issue to Voters

Election Date to Be Set; Bonding to Supplement Other Recently Passed

HOLLY — A school expansion issue involving the expenditure of $1,200,000 will be submitted next month to the voters of the Holly Area schools.

The local Board of Education, on the recommendation of a citizens' committee, has approved such a course. The area includes property in five townships: Holly, Groveland, Rose, Springfield and White Lake.

The election must be held before Sept. 24, in order to be eligible to receive federal aid funds approximating $80,000.

The local board will set the exact date for the election within a few days, officials said.

The proposed bonding issue will supplement another which was passed by the voters a few months ago, and on which construction work soon will commence.

The big increase noted in the recent school census prompted the board to add another $1,200,000 to the building program, which covers schools in Holly Village, at Davisburg and in some of the rural sections included in the area.

Debar Carver School Head

Suspend Adelaide Long Pending Hearing on Charge by Otis Eaton

ROYAL OAK — Principal Adelaide Long of the George Washington Carver School was suspended last night at a special meeting of the Board of Education held in the Carver School.

The suspension is made pending a hearing on charges brought by Otis Eaton, chairman of the Citizen's Improvement League, that Mrs. Long was paid by another teacher for obtaining him a job on the staff.

The school board hearing has been set for Aug. 22.

At the meeting, the school board also decided to postpone action on other charges by Eaton against other members of the school faculty, until the outcome of an Oakland County Circuit Court hearing scheduled today.

Today's hearing is on a suit by ousted school Superintendent Walter Buffington against the Carver Board of Education, to regain his job. Buffington was fired July 2 on charge that he was unfit to be superintendent of the school.

PATSY A. BOUCHARD

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bouchard of 1450 Birchton Dr., White Lake Township, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Patsy A., to Ronald I. Moore. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Kemppainen of Vassar. An April wedding is planned.

Southfield Special Election to Decide Minor Tax Boost

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Township board members gathered for a special meeting here last night to discuss a method of raising funds for road improvements.

Eugene Swem, supervisor, expressed a desire to repair roads this fall before winter weather further affects present poor conditions. Spring repairing, after receipt of allocated funds, will be too late to prevent unaccessible roadways throughout the area.

A half-mill increase in taxation would raise $58,000 for operational funds, of which figure $48,000 could be used for road repair. This increase would mean but a four dollar additional tax on a $15,000 home, board officials said.

A special election will be held Sept. 27 to vote on a half-mill increase. Ten thousand dollars was allowed in the current budget, all of which has been used to date.

Voters in precinct 3 will be reregistered and will hereafter vote at the Lutheran Church of Ascension, Fourteen Mile and Pierce Roads. Two precints, 3 and 13, formerly voted in Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church, but this proved confusing to the voters.

Set Reregistration of Southfield Voters

SOUTHFIELD — Reregistration of the entire township's eligible voters will be under way here Aug. 24, with 12 precincts open from 5 to 9 p.m. Aug. 24, 26, 31 and Sept. 9. Saturday mornings, Aug. 27 and Sept. 10 between 9 a.m. and noon, workers will be on hand to accept registrations also.

Precincts will reregister voters in regular voting locations, with the exception of precincts 3 and 13, which will be located at Church of the Ascension, Fourteen Mile and Pierce Roads.

Reregistration will also occur daily during regular office hours at Township Hall, Berg and Ten-and-a-Half Mile Roads, starting Aug. 24 and continuing until 30 days prior to the election in November.

U. S. Watershed Congress Slated

WASHINGTON (INS)—Plans are complete for the Second National Watershed Congress to be held in Washington on Dec. 5 and 6.

Purpose of the gathering is to focus public attention on the need for upstream flood prevention through soil and water conservation, forestry, and small dams.

Sponsoring organizations include all of the major farm groups and such other diverse bodies as the AFL and CIO, the National Association of Manufacturers, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the Isaac Walton League and the Audubon Society.

A major objective of the second congress will be to appraise progress made under legislation passed by Congress last year which provides for federal cooperation with the states and local groups in planning and carrying out watershed treatment programs.

Brandon Area School Opening Slated Aug. 29

One position for teaching English and Latin is still open.

Predict Meat Trade to Exceed '54 Level

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) —The Food and Agricultural Organization predicted this week the volume of trade in meat for 1955 will equal or exceed the 1954 level.

FAO noted that pork production is growing at a faster rate than production of other meat.

The volume of canned bacon and ham, which account for the major part of U.S. pig meat exports, has doubled since 1952. The main suppliers in 1954 were the Netherlands, Denmark, Poland and Western Germany.

Increases in domestic production of beef has caused a reduction of American imports in the past two years.

Union Lake Man to Open New Real Estate Office

UNION LAKE — Theodore G. Trocke has announced he will open a real estate office at 1648 Union Lake road, Union Lake Shopping Center. Trocke will operate a general real estate office with acreage farms, lake property and commercial listings. He is developing "Pinecrest Shores" subdivision at Bogie Lake and will act as exclusive sales agent. He is also developing acreage in the same area.

State Offers Instruction on Care of Wild Animals

The State Conservation Department said the school will be held to discuss new regulations on how wild animals should be housed, fed and handled if used for public display purposes.

Walled Lake, Commerce Share Township Assets

WALLED LAKE — Walled Lake city officials and the Commerce Township Board have reached an agreement as to Walled Lake's share of the financial and physical assets of the Township. The forming of the city of Walled Lake makes it mandatory to divide these assets.

In a meeting this week, auditors representing the city and township reported as follows:

At the close of the township's fiscal year on March 25 the city had an interest of $16,766.19 in cash, equipment and other items, less accrued expenses of $13,705.04 for fire protection, street lighting and other services, leaving a net balance of $3,061.15.

From March 25 to June 30, the end of the city's fiscal year expenses to the city for fire protection and street lighting were $962.62.

This leaves a net balance of $2,108.53 owing the city.

The joint group voted to accept this figure, but has not determined how the city would accept payment. It may be in cash or in office equipment.

Further action determined the city's share of the fire station land, building and equipment. An appraiser for the township and one for the city each submitted an appraisal, an average of which was $2250.

Since the city's share of this is 21 per cent the group voted to accept the figure, but again did not determine distribution.

The city may take over the fire station and equipment located on Common Street and sell services to the township; it may continue to buy fire protection from the township, or a plan of exchanging services may be chosen. These decisions will be made after the city council has had time to study the problem more fully.

In other action the City Council established office hours. The city office will be open from 9 to 12 noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays.

Drivers licenses will be issued by a county officer on Thursdays from 1 to 8 p.m.

A list of holidays to be observed by the city was recommended by A. J. Koenig, city manager. These were New Year's Day, Feb. 22, May 30, July 4, Labor Day, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving, and Christmas. On these days, city offices will be closed.

Holly Fish Fatalities Expected to Cease

HOLLY—During the hot weather the water in the mill pond here reached such a low level that many of the fish died. The weeds rose to the top of the water and created quite a hazard.

The pond is made by the impounded waters of the Shiawassee River, which now is being further held back and it is expected the water will soon reach a normal level, and the fish fatalities cease.

OPENS OFFICE — Thomas J. Dillon, attorney, has opened a law office at 2931 Orchard Lake Rd., Keego Harbor, in association with Howard I. Bond who also has offices in Pontiac. Currently serving as court clerk to Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, Dillon recently was appointed city attorney for Keego Harbor. He is married and lives at 76 S. East Blvd., in Pontiac.

Lawyers Claim Court Opinion Is Faulty

LANSING (AP) — A committee of the State Bar Association took a slap at the Supreme Court today in a report on the illegal practice of law.

The association's committee on the illegal practice of law said a recent decision of the high court would hurt thousands of prospective home owners.

It referred to a Supreme Court opinion that licensed real estate brokers may fill in standard printed forms if no additional fees are charged.

The Bar Association had contended that this amounted to an "illegal practice of law" by the brokers. The high court said the association's view was "unrealistic and impractical."

In 1955, more than ever

BUSINESS IS RELYING ON NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING TO KEEP SALES CLIMBING

In 1955's first half, newspaper advertising has made its biggest contribution on record to the continued growth of American business.

In the first six months, business invested more dollars in newspaper advertising than in any half-year in history.

Manufacturers' advertising set a new record.

So did retailers' advertising – including department stores, chain stores and all the rest.

So did classified advertising – mainstay of real estate, used cars and many another business.

Manufacturers and retailers alike are profiting from the salespower of newspapers – the salespower that stems from the fact that newspapers are the shopping medium – where consumers look eagerly for advertising – and from the fact that nowhere else can manufacturers' ads and retailers' ads work together so effectively to increase the productivity of both.

IF YOU ARE • a manufacturer • a retailer • a distributor • a merchandise broker • a manufacturer's salesman

...ASK YOURSELF: Is newspaper advertising being called on to do all it can to keep my sales going up?

HERE'S THE RECORD*

1955 VS. 1954

	June	1st Six Months
National advertisers	Up 15.9%	Up 9.5%
Retail advertisers	Up 8.9%	Up 6.8%
Classified advertisers	Up 17.8%	Up 14.4%
All advertisers combined	Up 12.5%	Up 9.2%

In each category—

Biggest June on record

Biggest six months on record

*SOURCE: Media Records 52-City Index. Available data from 291 smaller newspapers reporting to the Bureau of Advertising, ANPA, indicate substantial gains in these newspapers, too—e.g. national advertising in these 291 smaller newspapers was up 13.8% for June; up 4.8% for the first half—vs. 1954.

Lists Safety Spots to Stay in Storms

EAST LANSING, Mich. (INS) — The safest place to be during a thunderstorm is inside an automobile with an all-metal body but a Michigan State College safety specialist has some other suggestions if a car isn't handy.

David G. Steinicke suggests staying inside a building during an electrical storm. However, while in the house, persons should stay away from fireplaces, stoves and other metal objects. Open doors and windows also should be avoided.

When you're outdoors with no auto available, Steinicke says the best place to head for is a large metal or metal-frame building. He warns persons outdoors during a storm to stay away from small sheds and shelters if they are in an exposed location. Isolated trees, wire fences, hilltops and wide open spaces, also are dangerous spots.

If no metal, metal-frame or otherwise protected buildings are available, Steinicke says shelter should be sought in a cave, depression in the ground, a deep valley or canyon, the foot of a steep, overhanging cliff, dense woods or a grove of trees.

Five-Year-Old Rascal Gives Frank Confession

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Police wish all cuprits were as frank as this one.

Officers investigating a break-in spotted him when he reached up from behind a counter to pull a bottled drink down to swallowing level. They found him crouched down, his mouth stuffed full.

Asked what he was doing there, he replied calmly: "Eating bananas so they won't know I took them."

They marched the 5-year-old rascal home.

Bootleggers Concoct Neat Disposal Trick

ANDERSON, S.C. (AP) — Bootleggers hereabouts have a new gimmick that presents a nice legal question for officers.

Sheriff Clint McClain reports that some of the dealers in illegal booze empty a case at the time into a big stew pot, and put the pot in a bathtub in their homes.

Comes a customer, the bootlegger ladles up the purchase. Comes the law — and adequate warning — the bootlegger tips over the stew pot and the liquor gurgles down the drain, sometimes chased with a dash of disinfectant to kill the smell.

State law says the liquor and the container must be confiscated. McClain figures he'll have to get a ruling from the attorney general on whether to haul in the tubs, too.

Weather Boosts Corn Futures

CHICAGO (AP) — New crop corn futures drew some inspiration from the weather on the Board of Trade today, advancing around a cent at one time.

Hot, dry weather persisted over the main corn belt and only a few widely scattered showers were predicted for today, tonight and tomorrow. The two biggest corn producers — Iowa and Illinois — weren't expected to get any moisture.

The weather news also helped sustain soybeans, although there was less aggressive buying in that cereal than in corn. Wheat was firm early but then slipped back on a renewal of liquidation.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1⅛ lower, September $1.90⅝; corn ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.23½; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, September 56¼; rye ½ to ⅞ lower, September 94¼; soybeans ½ lower to ½ higher, September $2.20¼, and lard 10 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $10.87.

Flash Floods Block West Coast Trains

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Flash floods from desert cloudbursts temporarily blocked rail connections between Los Angeles and Las Vegas, Nev.

Union Pacific eastbound trains are being routed over the Santa Fe line south of Las Vegas, dispatchers said. Some trains will be as much as 12 hours late.

The floods blocked the UP right-of-way last night at three points in California near the Nevada border. For a while the main highway link, U.S. 91, also was closed.

Scout Vanguard Pitches Tents for World Jamboree

NIAGARA - ON - THE - LAKE, Ont. (AP) — Today was "Get Acquainted Day" for the vanguard of some 10,000 Boy Scouts from all over the world who will participate in the eighth world jamboree here.

About 2,500 scouts from 66 nations have already pitched their tents on the jamboree site, adjacent to historic Ft. George. Thousands more were arriving today. The jamboree will be officially opened Saturday afternoon by Gov. Gen. Vincent Massey, chief scout for Canada.

The scouts are expected to consume 800,000 pounds of supplies, most of which they will cook themselves over charcoal fires.

A daily newspaper will be published and a special telephone exchange "Jamboree Ontario"—has been established for the occasion.

Wildcat Strikes Idle Chrysler Body Units

DETROIT (AP) — Mushrooming wildcat strikes idled more than 4,900 production workers at Chrysler Corp.'s automotive body division plants yesterday. And wildcatters predicted the work stoppage would spread to all tool and die workers in the division.

A company spokesman said continuation of the strikes in key departments quickly will curtail production at the Plymouth plant, dependent on the division for bodies.

The walkouts came as Chrysler and the CIO United Auto Workers Union resumed negotiations on a national contract after a 5-day recess.

Chrysler said the work stoppages were "planned wildcat strikes." The UAW had no comment.

CATTY INTERLUDE — Snowball, a three-month-old kitten, proves that a cat can look at a queen — a jungle queen, that is — especially if the beast is safely behind a good strong fence. Things weren't always this good, however. Snowball spent some nervous moments inside the cage recently, fending off Mimi, the huge lioness, with arched back, profuse spitting, and extended claws until a keeper came to the rescue. Also in the den at the time was a lion called Nubia which took no note of Snowball, helping to prove that business about the female of the species being more deadly than the male.

Mart Advance Led by Rails

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced today with hesitancy in early dealings.

Best progress was made by railroads, which were in the van of a late rally yesterday, and by coppers, aircrafts, and some chemicals. No major division was definitely lower.

Curtiss-Wright, yesterday's most active issue up ⅞, gained a small fraction today.

The market yesterday was mixed with the Associated Press average up but with more stocks down than up at the close. The AP average of 60 stocks gained 40 cents at $171.00.

Prices today at the start were up around a point at the best while losses were fractional.

Trading was brisk initially, but there were few large blocks on the tape. Monsanto Chemical opened on 1,000 shares unchanged at 42⅝. Boeing 2,200 unchanged at 64, U. S. Steel 1,000 up ⅜ at 52⅛, and Westinghouse Electric 2,000 off ⅛ at 63⅛.

Army Plans X-Ray Exam of Young Crosby's Back

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP)—Madigan Army Hospital doctors planned more X-rays today on Pvt. Philip Crosby, 21-year-old son of singer Bing Crosby, to get an exact picture of his back injuries.

The young soldier's car went off a highway at Raymond, in southwestern Washington, into a riverbed Sunday and he suffered a fracture of one or more vertebrae. An ambulance brought him here yesterday. He had to wear a traction on his neck but his back was not in a cast.

Isle Wins 10-Year Fight

Horse Tails Get a Break as Flies Flee Mackinac

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — The flies have flown Mackinac Island—most of them, anyway.

So says the State Health Department in a report on its ten-year-old anti-fly campaign.

Unscientific but careful observations by islanders on the habits of horses' tails form the basis for the report.

The island has 300 horses, many of which pull tourist carriages.

Horses' tails once whipped wildly at the swarming pests but now hang at ease, the department said.

Back in the old days, it seems, island residents spent much of their time swatting flies, spreading coal and lard on horses' legs to ward off the insects.

ISLAND SPEECHLESS

"The flies almost ate you up and you couldn't talk some times without getting a mouthful," Ozrow I. Smith, chief of police, recalls.

Then came DDT and a swarm of governmental fly-killers representing the State Health Department, the U.S. Public Health Service and the island's Health Department.

The flies won the first skirmishes by cultivating a taste for DDT. But the sanitarians switched to a concoction of DDT, lindane and malathian which the insects found impossible to stomach.

Every morning just at six, a spray truck (one of the island's few motor vehicles) sets out on the insect patrol.

It blasts the flies in the business district, along wooded buggy trails, in the barns and dumps.

The 10-year campaign has really paid off—not only against flies but also in battling rats and other rodents, the department said.

Outlay for Ads This Year Seen at Record High

NEW YORK (AP)—Advertisers will spend more money in 1955 than in any year on record, Printer's Ink, magazine of the advertising profession, said Wednesday.

With the exception of network radio, all media are sharing in the increase with newspapers and television leading the race, the magazine said.

Last year, it pointed out, advertising expenditures climbed to an all . time high of more than eight billion dollars. This year the total is likely to pass 8½ billions. Volume for the first half of 1955 was 11 per cent above 1954.

National advertising in June was 3 per cent ahead of May and up 10 per cent from June last year, Printer's Ink reported.

"Newspapers, up 7 per cent, show the greatest gain over May," it said. "With television, they lead the race to a record this year. TV registered a 26 per cent increase this June over last June. Newspapers were a close second with a 22 per cent rise."

Joe Walcott Nails 2 Prison Escapees

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott, former heavyweight boxing champion, captured two escapees from the State Home for Boys last night in a short street chase after a $25 burglary of a sporting goods store.

Walcott is a special juvenile investigating officer attached to the Camden Police Department. Police said he and Patrolman Bernal Ford were standing a few feet away when the teen-age boys fled from the store.

The men gave chase and Walcott forced the youths against a wall. The boys were identified as Albert MacNeill, 15, and William Brothers, 16. They were charged with breaking and entering and larceny.

State Seeking College Survey

Would Find Educator to See If Private Schools Could Relieve Load

LANSING (AP)—The state is seeking a prominent businessman or educator to make a long-range study of higher education needs in Michigan.

* * *

An interim committee on higher education, with members from both houses, held its first meetings yesterday and decided on an immediate start to the study.

Sen. Donald Vander Werp (R-Fremont), named chairman of the committee, was instructed to screen candidates for director of the study and report back to the committee.

The director would be hired on a full-time basis under the plan.

Vander Werp has insisted that community and private colleges should take some of the loan from giant state supported institutions.

By 1970, Vander Werp said, college enrollment in the state is expected to double.

* * *

"This tremendous increase in enrollment is one of the worst problems facing colleges throughout the country," Vander Werp said.

Prime target of the study, he said, would be to find out to what extent private institutions can relieve the load on state-supported schools.

In addition to a director and staff, the committee decided, prominent businessmen and educators should be invited to join the committee as ex-officio members.

These extra members would come from all over the country.

Most of the ex-officio members should be businessmen, Vander Werp said.

* * *

"Legislatures have been under such pressure from educators that education is running away with itself," he said. "We have to stand between the educators and the taxpayers."

NEW YORK (INS)—Greyhound Corp. announced net income for the six months ended June 30 of $3,929,076, equal to 35 cents a common share. A spokesman said operations during the second quarter were adversely affected by an 84-day strike on its subsidiary, Atlantic Greyhound Lines.

NEW YORK (INS)—The American Railway Car Institute reported that new freight car orders in July increased for the fourth consecutive month. Ike's Vacation: Work and Play

President Signs POW Code; Off Fishing With Grandson David

FRASER, Colo. (AP) — Delighted over landing a two-pound Rocky Mountain trout, President Eisenhower today held the "biggest catch" championship at his secluded vacation retreat here.

He reeled in the trout yesterday in the first few seconds of 3½ hours of fishing in cold St. Louis Creek. He also caught several other smaller trout, and his 7-year-old grandson David—fly casting for the first time—hauled in two 12-inchers weighing under a pound. The youngster fished a quiet pond.

* * *

In addition to fishing, Eisenhower got in some golf practice shots, started painting a mountain scene, did nearly all the cooking for his party—and turned out quite a bit of work to boot.

Seated in the living room of his cottage 8,700 feet high in the Rockies, he signed an executive order providing for a new code of conduct for American servicemen who become prisoners in another war.

In an accompanying statement, he said:

"No American prisoner of war will be forgotten by the United States. Every available means will be employed by our government to establish contact with, to support and obtain the release of all our prisoners of war."

Plymouth Previews New V-8 Engine Plant

DETROIT—Plymouth Division of Chrysler Corp. today held a special press preview at its new V-8 engine plant, described by Plymouth President John P. Mansfield as "the most advanced automobile engine manufacturing operation in the world."

The new plant, situated on Mound Road in northeast Detroit, will have an eventual capacity of 3,000 engines a day. Currently, it is producing about 600 engines a day in accordance with a planned schedule.

Together with other manufacturing improvements completed or nearing completion, the new engine plant will strengthen Plymouth's position in the low priced field, Mansfield said. Plymouth sales thus far in 1955, he said, are running about 75 per cent ahead of 1954.

Flying Teacher, Student Killed in Saline Crash

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A flying instructor and his student pilot were killed in the crash of a single engine training plane yesterday near Saline, 10 miles south of Ann Arbor.

Police identified the two as Rudolph Schumaier, 44, of Saline, and William Beardsley, 49, of Clinton.

Sheriff's deputies said Schumaier, owner of the Saline Airport, was giving Beardsley flying lessons.

The plane crashed just after taking off from the Saline airport.

Witnesses said it seemed unable to gain altitude.

Americans have far more fatal accidents in summer than in any other season.

Nation's Postwar Boom Rough in School Planning

The wartime-postwar "baby boom" is a headache right now to school boards planning junior high schools.

New school rooms now cost an average $35,000 apiece—a price which takes in all the modern items like auditoriums, teachers' lounges, laboratories, gymnasiums, and the like, included in a school building.

Ray Hamon, of the U.S. Office of Education's school housing section, thinks the country will need 476,000 more schoolrooms by September 1959.

That's almost 15 billion dollars.

Only 59 per cent of the rooms will be needed to meet the new flood of youngsters, now just beginning to hit the junior high schools.

Forty-one per cent of the new class rooms, Hamon says, should be built to replace old buildings.

Hamon is not thinking of any program which would provide temporary buildings, nor of any program which would provide the two-shift teaching system, both of which have been used at other times in the country's history when schools were crowded.

FIGURE BASIS

His figures, he says, are based entirely on getting new, modern school rooms for the flood of students.

There is a corresponding shortage in another important end of education, the supply of teachers. The Office of Education estimates the nation's teaching system in the 1954-'55 school year was short 118,700 teachers.

That figure is a balance of grammar and high school teachers. There was a shortage of 124,480 grammar school teachers. There was a surplus of 5,780 high school teachers.

The Office of Education figures that there will be a constant increase of children in schools through 1960. The estimated increase, in the decade from 1950 to 1960, they say will be 14,195,000 youngsters.

In 1960 they expect 42,818,000 children in schools. That figure includes a little over five million attending non-public schools.

Census figures show how babies are being added annually to the numbers which must be taken by the schools.

In the year 1940 the Census bureau estimated about 2,559,000 births, in 1950 some 3,632,000. Both figures include registered births plus estimates on the children born but unregistered.

Beer Sales Up as State Tries to Forget Heat

LANSING (AP) — What are the drinking people drinking when they drink to try to forget the heat?

This is the State Liquor Control Commission report:

Beer sales are up.

Wine is slightly down.

Straight whiskeys are up but the blends are down.

Gin is up ten and a half per cent, on the latest available figures, mostly because of the popularity of summertime gin-mix drinks.

Here's the surprise: — Vodka sales are up 149.70 per cent.

As of the end of June, the Liquor Commission said it sold 12,977 cases of Vodka as compared with 5,197 cases during the same period last year.

The Vodka drinking apparently doesn't stem from the new friendly front with the Russians. Instead, its because the vodka manufacturers are plugging their product as a substitute for gin in mixed drinks.

All that vodka, by the way, is made in America.

Boy, 8, Lets Curiosity Get the Better of Him

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Eight-year-old Phillip French kicked at some old newspapers on the beach yesterday and made a fascinating find—an obsolete pair of handcuffs.

Naturally, he tried them on his ankles. Just as naturally, he couldn't get 'em off. He hobbled to a nearby hamburger stand run by his mother Mrs. Richard French.

She hustled him to police headquarters. Sgt. Robert Houghton tried all manner of keys and finally found one that set Phillip free.

Synod Delays Schism Action

Wisconsin Lutherans Put Off Severance Move With Missouri Group

SAGINAW (AP) — Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin and other states will delay until the fall of next year a decision on whether to sever religious ties with the Missouri Synod.

• • •

Delegates to the Wisconsin Synod's 33rd biennial convention voted 94-47 yesterday to postpone action. The convention ended yesterday.

The group's Union Committee had recommended the delay. It said the resolution to break the altar and pulpit ties shared since 1872 with the Missouri group would have "far reaching spiritual consequences."

The committee said it felt the Missouri group ought to have an "opportunity to express itself" as a corporate body at its triennial convention in the summer of 1956.

Some two dozen convention delegates insisted on going on record as opposing the delay. These included Prof. E. Reim, secretary of the Church Union Committee and president of the Theological Seminary at Thiensville, Wis.

• • •

Prof. Reim offered to submit his resignation from both posts because, he said, "I cannot change my stand in teaching." Convention delegates took no action on Prof. Reim's offer.

He described the delay as a sign of "weakness."

Moths Cause Illness

TOKYO (AP)—Poison moths whose scales cause a rash-like poison ivy have hit Japan. Victims complain of skin eruptions, sometimes accompanied by fever and nausea. Numerous cases have been reported from scattered areas of Japan.

Comic Specialty —Good Satire

Logical Humor, Be-Bop Fairy-Tales, Are Part of Witty Repertoire

(Second of two Dispatches)

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA)—Steve Allen picks up a card from his desk. "I have an important announcement," he'll say. "We're pleased to announce that the Army Camouflage Corps has named this program the one they absolutely cannot see."

• • •

And the Steve Allen Show is off again. It's technically called "Tonight," but most people refer to it by the name of the bespectacled, easy-going comedian who is the star.

Allen's style is something like camouflage, at that — it's well-planned but designed to appear natural. He's been ad libbing for so long that his mind is like a card file, with one-liners indexed therein.

All he needs is the cue, and out comes a funny comment. He'll talk to a man in the audience, say, who is a fire insurance salesman.

"Fire insurance, eh?" says Steve, and his mind goes down the Fs until the quip comes out. "I've got a fire insurance policy. If I get a fire in my house and somebody steals it, they get me a new one."

Gags come to him automatically, and if he hasn't got one handy, he makes one up. He used to sit on the panel of "What's My Line?" and there he utilized a gag-mechanism he calls the "reverse" gag. This is an automatic device, that results in silly-sounding phrases that produce laughs.

HERE'S THE TRICK

Here's how it works. The panelist sitting next to him might have made a wild guess about a person's occupation, like, "He's an olive stuffer in a pickle plant." Steve reverses it: "No, I think he's a pickle stuffer in an olive plant." The result makes no sense, but that's the gist of humor.

He also favors the ridiculous exaggeration, as a basis for humor. He will occasionally read off a list of prizes such as "a pair of monogrammed mustard plasters, a lop-sided side saddle for lop-sided horses and a quart bottle of watercress juice."

• • •

Much of his humor is more logical, more planned. The skits on his show, generally the product of his writers with Allen's editing, are often good satire. He occasionally reads from his witty "Be-Bop Fables," which are jive-talk versions of such tales as Little Red Riding-Hood.

But these, while clever, are not Allen's chief stock-in-trade. Primarily, he is an ad-libber. And these are some of his typical off-the-cuff remarks:

To a group of Boy Scouts, demonstrating how they wig-wag messages with signal flags: "Keep it up, I don't get your message, but you're sure making a nice breeze."

To the audience, after 15 minutes during which cues were missed, scenery fell down and nothing worked right: "Welcome to a new show called "Shambles."

When all else fails, Steve resorts to any one of several stock devices. He reads belligerent letters to the editor in a belligerent voice, he reads song lyrics as though they were great poetry, he squeezes a toy called a Goo-Goo doll which makes a silly noise, he talks to the audience.

NOTHING NEW

Actually, his brand of humor is nothing new. He is possibly a split-second faster on the ad-lib than most comedians and his sense of timing is a delight. But the humor itself, when analyzed, is the same old thing—a surprise ending, a switch, an incongruity.

Take these excerpts from a show he did on the do-it-yourself trend:

"For all the do-it-yourselfers, we have a new kind of fabric. This material can be hit, stepped on, dropped or banged. Lighted matches can be dropped on it. That's what it's used for — hitting, banging, spilling drinks, burning. Can't build a thing with it.

"Do-it-yourself is really the greatest movement these days. Take the case of Joe Doakes. Joe has has been building his own house for six years.

It's still not finished but it's snug, neat and beginning to look like something. He'll have a $25,000 home for $5,000. The reason he was able to have a home so cheaply can be told in two words—'Inferior material.'"

"There's a new material out. You can do anything to it—it can be cut, sawed, nailed, planed, hammered, anything. It's called wood."

• • •

Each one of those has a switch at the end. That's the stuff of which humor has been made for centuries. ("Who was that lady I saw you with last night?") What makes Steve Allen's humor seem fresh is that the approach is new, the delivery is a comedian's dream and the exposure is widespread.

(Last of a series)

GOO-GOO DOLLS — Gimmicks like these provide backdrop for some of Steve Allen's best humor. The comedian's split-second timing make his well-planned material seem natural.

'Strip Strikers' in India Keep Their Shirts On

NEW DELHI (AP) — Government clerks have decided to keep their shirts on. After only one day without shoes, they have suspended a "strip strike" for higher pay and improved working conditions.

They had planned to report for work wearing less and less each day until their demands were met. The original schedule called for pajamas by Aug. 22, and after that only loin cloths.

Asked then what would follow if their claims still were not met, a union leader replied, "Wait and see."

A spokesman said the campaign had been called off yesterday because some members of Congress had promised to support the clerks' cause. He added the union didn't want to embarrass the government "when the entire nation is have seethed with indignation since Portuguese guards killed a number of Indian marchers who invaded Goa and the two other Portuguese Indian territories Monday in support of India's demands for cession of the areas.

Detroit Superintendent Will Revitalize Parks

DETROIT (INS)—John J. Considine, Detroit's general superintendent of parks and recreation, has ordered his department to concentrate on improving existing facilities.

Considine said he plans to concentrate on "rehabilitating" the city's current parks and playgrounds. At the same time, he temporarily abandoned plans for the construction of new facilities.

Song Titles Hit Jackpot for Composer at Track

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS—The wife and I never bet more than $2 on a horse—so we were pop-eyed as we sat around the Beverly Hilton listening to tall tales about bangtails.

"Everybody thought I'd have a lot of inside information," spoke up composer Johnny Burke, "when I was appointed to the board at Delmar.

★ ★ ★ ★

"And I won so often it got embarrassing. I won on Stardust and on Moonglow. I was winning four or five races a day.

"People said, 'See? He knows something!' But what I did was go over the list every day and bet on horses whose names were song titles or musical terms. Some system I had!"

LeROY

The president of Hollywood Park, Mervyn LeRoy, the Hollywood producer, recounted how he had once given film tycoon Jack Warner a hot tip.

"I told him, 'Jack, see me just before the last race, when I can give you a very good tip—but promise me, whatever happens, you won't tell anybody I told you'."

Jack not only promised—he followed LeRoy around, begging him to tell him immediately.

"Not until just before the last race—but you must never tell anybody," LeRoy insisted.

And so, just before the last race, LeRoy told Warner—and Warner bet a bundle.

"It was a very thrilling race," LeRoy recalled. "The horse that Warner bet on finished eighth.

"And when I got home that night, I had a telegram from Warner. It said, 'Now can I tell?' "

★ ★ ★ ★

Attorney Arnold M. Grant, whose suite we were in, said to LeRoy, "Tell the Earl Sande story."

LeRoy chuckled softly. "This great jockey," LeRoy said, "was once persuaded to ride an unknown horse.

"The owner was also unknown—but confident.

"He said to Sande, 'The way to ride this horse is to start out slow, then push him up to fifth position, then on up to fourth position—then shoot out ahead and win the race'."

Sande followed instructions—started slow, got into fifth position, then into fourth—and finished there because another horse had won by now.

The owner was furious.

"You loused me up!" he screamed at Sande. "After you got into fourth position, you were supposed to shoot ahead of the field and win the race."

"What!" replied Sande. "And leave the horse!"

Says Plow Horse Had Six-Inch Moustache

RED BUD, Ill. (AP) — Mrs. O.W. Godbey has proof that horses do have mustaches. Her father once had a plow horse named "Old Dick." It sported a six-inch handlebar which flourished in the winter when the horse ate in the barn. But during summer, the grazing horse wore his facial hair down to a mere stubble.

A photograph of "Old Dick" with his mustache in full bloom has been mailed to Mrs. Bessie Myers, a London housewife, who appealed to a newspaper for help in proving that some horses have mustaches.

Michigan has 52,000 more people moving into it than move out in an average year.

Perfect Squelch Stops Irafe Texan's Tirade

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP)—Texas towns take their rivalry seriously.

A Nacogdoches man made a long distance call to nearby Lufkin.

"That'll be $4.50, plus tax," said the operator.

"Why, I could call hell for that much," said the man.

OVERSTOCKED WHOLESALER MAKES THIS TREMENDOUSLY LOW PRICE POSSIBLE!

"ETERNAL BEAUTY" diamonds are cut so that when light enters, it is reflected from facet to facet and comes back through the top in a rainbow blaze.

In a stone that is too deep, much of the light is reflected to opposite facets at the wrong angle to return through the top and so is lost through the sides.

In a shallow stone, much of the light is lost as it fails to be reflected at all and "leaks" out the bottom.

"ETERNAL BEAUTY" DIAMONDS HAVE THE CORRECT CUT!

★ 8 Genuine Precision Cut Diamonds
3 Beautiful Diamonds in Engagement Ring
5 Sparkling Diamonds in Wedding Ring

★ 14 K. Yellow or White Gold Mountings
Designed and styled by one of America's leading Ring Manufacturers

- For Your Sweetheart or Wife
- For Your Wedding Anniversary
- For Your Wife's Birthday
- For "Just an Expression of Love"
