Coming Down on Schedule

BITES THE DUST — Demolition of Oakland County's former courthouse in downtown Pontiac is proceeding right on schedule, George Arakelian, manager of the Wolverine Lumber and Wrecking Co. reported today. Shown here is the tall, brick chimney being pulled down by a crane using a cable. Walls of the 57-year-old sandstone building are scheduled to come down within the next two months. The razed site of the former county prosecutor's office is seen in the foreground.

Path Can Be Corrected

Mariner to Flirt With Venus

From Our News Wires

PASADENA, Calif. — Scientists were jubilant today over revised tracking figures which show the United States' Mariner-2 spacecraft can come within 10,000 miles of the mysterious planet Venus.

The scientists said the probe designed to find out if life can exist on the cloud-shrouded planet now gives promise of a "smashing success" and should give America her first major stride ahead of Russian space technology.

A small ace-in-the-hole motor weighing 37.5 pounds is the big key to attaining the world's most significant interplanetary achievement-shooting the Mariner 2 spacecraft on an exploratory mission past Venus.

If the complex space messenger sweeps within 10,000 miles of Venus in December as planned—after a 180-million mile trip — it would mark a major breakthrough for the United States in the race for space.

COULD BE HELPFUL

Information relayed by Mariner 2 could help scientists and astronomers unravel secrets concealed for centuries by the planet's constant cloud layers.

It could determine whether life as we know it possibly could exist on the planet, something doubted by most scientists.

The critical firing of the motor by ground signal is scheduled tentatively for next Tuesday, Sept. 4, after the flight path, alignment, speed and other factors have been carefully computed.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration expressed much concern shortly after the launching when early tracking indicated the spacecraft trajectory was off by as much as 600,000 miles.

This would have been too great for the midcourse motor, which has a capability of correcting an error up to 500,000 miles.

It is essential that the probe approach within 25,000 miles of Venus if it is to gather the desired measurements.

COULD 'HIT' TARGET

Several hours later, however, refinement of tracking signals revealed Mariner 2's error was only 250,000 miles. Project officials announced the "space craft is on a trajectory that can be corrected to make it fly by Venus within a distance of 10,000 miles as planned."

The trajectory error was caused by an unexplained rolling motion executed by the first stage of the Atlas-Agena B booster rocket.

★ ★ ★

While appearing confident the experiment would succeed all the way to the December encounter with Venus, the officials cautioned that many important functions must take place before the signal to ignite the engine is beamed from the tracking station at Goldstone, Calif.

★ ★ ★

Ten gas jets which control alignment of the craft must operate properly, radio transmitters must continue to relay vital information, and a highly sensitive antenna must lock on the earth to stabilize Mariner on its roll axis.

The pitch axis was stabilized one hour after launching when sensitive sensors zeroed in on the sun.

Once the vehicle is stabilized on two axes, Goldstone will transmit signals to gas jets to alter the roll and pitch so Mariner 2 is pointed at Venus. Then the midcourse motor will be commanded to ignite to accelerate speed by 80 miles an hour, enough in the vacuum of space to propel the spaceship close to the target planet.

★ ★ ★

At the time of midcourse maneuver, Mariner 2 will be about one million miles from earth traveling about 6,800 miles an hour.

At 2 a.m. today it had covered more than 200,000 miles of its planned 180 - million mile trek across space.

State Deficit $10.2 Million Under Figures

Swainson, Republican Differ on Whether Debt Could Be Less

LANSING (AP)—State officials yesterday credited increased business activity in Michigan with enabling the state to finish the 1961-62 fiscal year $10.2 million less in the red than it had figured to be.

But Gov. Swainson and a key Republican legislator differed on whether the rise in the general fund deficit could have been slowed even more.

State Controller Ira Polley reported the general fund deficit as of June 30, stood at $85.8 million instead of the $96 million which had been predicted last January.

He credited the less-than-expected increase in the general fund deficit to several factors, chief among them an unexpected tax return of $5.9 million, mostly from sales and corporation taxes.

KEPT RISE DOWN

Polley said adherence to austerity programs and the stressing of economy and efficiency in state government operations held the deficit down by another $2.5 million.

★ ★ ★

His report also said most of the state's economic indicators "point to progress in the months ahead."

★ ★ ★

The business activities tax return in the first six weeks of the current fiscal year is 17 per cent above the same period last year, it explained.

The deficit in the general fund was $71.1 million at the end of the 1960-61 fiscal year and forecasts issued in January estimated it would rise by $24.3 million by June 30, 1962. The actual increase, however, came to $14.1 million.

Gov. Swainson termed Polley's report encouraging.

Spirit Is Gone in E. Germany

EDITOR'S NOTE—East Germany usually is closed to Western correspondents except for such East-West events as the annual Leipzig Trade Fair or an all-European sports competition. LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP)—Hopes rise and fall along the Berlin wall with the slightest change in the East-West political climate. But inside East Germany, there is a spirit of resignation.

Walter Ulbricht, Germany's top Red, has succeeded in wiping out almost all hope for a change for the better.

"After 17 years of Communist rule," a Leipzig streetcar conductor said, "we are coming to accept our fate."

He expressed the opinion of dozens of people this reporter talked to during 10 days in this former cultural and commercial center.

Once known as a little Paris because of its sparkling intellectual and social life, Leipzig now has the drab uniformity and widespread shabbiness characteristic of East Germany's colorless cities.

★ ★ ★

"Since it looks to many of us as if it's going to stay this way, we're knuckling under and trying to make the best of a bad situation," said a student from East Berlin's Humboldt University.

MUST PRETEND

"The only way to get ahead here is to at least pretend you're a good Communist," he explained. Joining the party assured him a university education, a slightly better diet and preference for a job when he graduates next year.

"There are about 1.6 million of us in the party," he continued, "and about 1 per cent are true believers.

"What's the use of showing opposition? You'll only suffer for it. Why try to escape? You'll probably be killed."

He said the widely publicized shootings by East German border police of their fellow countrymen trying to escape over the Berlin wall "have discouraged a lot of DISARMING CANNON — Navy gunnery experts yesterday flush gunpowder from the barrel of a Civil War cannon that had stood peacefully in the Rhode Island State House in Providence for 88 years. The muzzle of the piece was stopped up by a cannon ball in 1863. It was only recently discovered that the cannon still held a large quantity of dangerous black powder.

Approve Poll Tax Ban; JFK Gets Satellite Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capping a 23-year battle, Congress has approved a proposed constitutional amendment which would ban poll taxes in federal elections.

Now it's up to the states, which have seven years to make up their mind.

Congress also wrapped up the communications satellite bill and sent it to President Kennedy.

It sets up a private, profit-making corporation to run the U.S. portion of an eventual global network on space relay stations.

★ ★ ★

The House approved a Senate version of the bill 372 to 10 Monday, foreclosing any chance to another Senate filibuster.

With 40 votes to spare, the House completed action Monday on a resolution submitting to the state legislatures the proposition of making it constitutionally wrong to require payment of a poll tax to vote in elections for federal officials.

The vote was 295 to 86. A two-thirds majority was needed for approval. The winners included 163 Democrats and 132 Republicans.

On the losing side were 71 Democrats and 15 Republicans.

Most of the dissenting Democrats were from the five states still having poll taxes: Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia.

The next move is up to the General Services Administration. That agency must certify the congressional action — approved last March by the Senate — to the governors of the 50 states.

If three-fourths of the state legislatures—38 of them—ratify the proposed amendment within seven years it will become the law of the land.

FIGHT SATELLITE BILL

A small group of House liberals argued again that the satellite bill represents a giveaway of millions of taxpayers' dollars spent on space research that makes the revolutionary communications system possible.

Rep. William Springer, R-Ill., said, "If you say this is a giveaway bill, you're saying the President sent down a giveaway bill to the Congress of the United States." He added, "The prestige of this country is on the line with this bill."

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, said, "Our nation needs it. It needs it now, and without further delay."

Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., who voted against the bill, said the corporation's board of directors would be dominated by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The poll tax abolition proposal does not affect elections for state and local officials. It applies only to presidential and vice presidential electors and to voters for senators and United States representatives.

Bury Youth Killed by Reds

East Berliners Ignore Secret Police, Attend Grim Funeral

BERLIN (UPI) — Peter Fechter, 18, who died without a doctor, was buried without a clergyman.

About 300 East Berliners ignored plainclothesmen of the Communist secret police yesterday to attend the grim funeral.

★ ★ ★

They paid silent tribute to a youth most of them had not known until he lost his life for turning his back on East Germany's totalitarian regime.

★ ★ ★

West Berlin's building workers union sent flowers and the Communist allowed them to pass into East Germany.

But the East German regime denied a religious burial for the youth that Communist guards shot down 11 days ago as he tried to scale the antirefugee wall to West Berlin.

★ ★ ★

According to letters received by his relatives in West Berlin, Peter became a construction worker in East Berlin because he thought he would get a chance to make a break for freedom.

Swainson to Campaign in City All Day Friday

Friday will be Gov. John B. Swainson's campaign day in Pontiac, the Oakland County Democratic Committee announced today.

The governor will kick off a full day of campaign activities in Michigan's hottest election battle in years by greeting workers at the gates of the GMC Truck & Coach plant on South Boulevard at 6 a.m.

Next stop on his tour through the Pontiac area in his bid for re-election against Republican challenger George W. Romney will be a breakfast at the Lakeside Housing Project on Branch Street at 8:30.

Moving along on a tightly scheduled itinerary, the governor will next attend a senior citizens rally at UAW-CIO Local 594 headquarters, 525 East Blvd., at 10:45 a.m.

Evening highlight of his tour will be a visit to Pontiac Mall Shopping Center at 6:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Other stops on his schedule will be a 2 p.m. press conference at the Waldron Hotel and an 8 p.m. dinner with Democratic candidates and county committee officers at the home of auditor general Billie Farnum, 3033 Lansdowne St., Drayton Plains.

★ ★ ★

Lunch with business and civic leaders is also planned for the day.

Gov. Swainson's first scheduled visit to Pontiac on July 19 was canceled at the last minute following the Supreme Court's ruling to force reapportionment of the State Senate.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Four persons were killed today when an automobile went out of control on the I-94 Freeway near here, jumped the center dividing strip and landed on top of a southbound station wagon, the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department reported.

Wage Hikes Set Sept. 1 for UAW

DETROIT (AP) — The record cost-of-living index figure announced today by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics will result in a one-cent hourly pay increase for some 525,000 auto and allied workers.

★ ★ ★

The cost-of-living increase follows a scheduled productivity pay increase of 6 to 9 cents an hour already announced for Monday.

★ ★ ★

The one-cent increase is provided for in contracts between the United Auto Workers Union and the auto industry.

The cost-of-living increase also will be passed on to some 140,000 salaried workers.

The largest segment of the auto industry affected by the cost-of-living increase is General Motors' 345,000 hourly rated workers.

The additional increase of 6 to 9 cents also is provided in union wage pacts.

★ ★ ★

The raise — called the annual improvement factor — also goes to thousands of UAW members in auto supplied plants later in the month.

At General Motors, for example, the salaries of eligible employes will be increased by 2½ per cent or $10.50 a month, whichever is greater.

The annual improvement factor has added 77 cents an hour to the paychecks of GM hourly-rated workers since it was first negotiated at GM in 1948.

2 Small Girls Die in Crash

PCH Teacher, Wife in Fair Condition as Daughters Perish

A Pontiac Central High School teacher and his wife were in fair condition in a Standish hospital today after a two-car crash yesterday which killed their two small daughters.

★ ★ ★

Suffering head and internal injuries are Jerry Beckner, 26, and his wife Judy, both of 98 Mohawk Road.

Killed instantly in the head-on collision on U.S. 23 near Standish was 3-year-old Jennie L. Beckner. Two-year-old Carrie M. Beckner died a few hours later of head injuries in a Bay City Hospital.

Also killed was the driver of the second car, Mrs. Emily J. Blum, 60, of Flint.

Arenac County Sheriff Edward Bessinger said Mrs. Blum apparently lost control of her car when it struck a raised center strip. The car, he said, swerved across the highway into the path of Beckner's small foreign car.

The Beckners have one other child, Stephen, 6 months old, who was staying with Mrs. Beckner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Guthrie of Pontiac.

Beckner has been teaching at PCH since last fall. He has been a science teacher but also handled two positions as assistant coach of the swimming and track teams. He also was the school's athletic manager.

Only for Officials, Not You

Convenience Tops City List

Don't try to pay a traffic violation ticket between noon and 1 o'clock until after Labor Day.

★ ★ ★

Things close up tightly.

You see, the City is observing a tranquil siesta hour like Rio, Buenos Aires and Paramonga.

It's "inconvenient" to open and whether it's inconvenient for the hapless taxpayers is unimportant.

Taxpayers don't count.

★ ★ ★

Last week a Florida man dropped in to pay his ticket as he was driving back. "We're closed until one," he was told.

"But I'm leaving for Florida."

"Sorry, we're closed just the same."

"Won't you take the money?"

"No."

★ ★ ★

A young woman put in: "I want to pay my ticket. I work and can't get here except at noon."

"We're closed. You know—shorthanded."

"My place of business get's shorthanded too, but it doesn't close. We respect the public."

"And I'm leaving for Florida," put in the male. "Down there we treat visitors respectfully. We want 'em back."

★ ★ ★

"Sorry for everybody, but we're closed. Good by."

And so, if you have a traffic ticket and are leaving for Africa, or if you have to work for a living and can only get off at noon, postpone your trip, quit your job or go jump in the lake.

The City Violations Department doesn't care a hoot about you or anyone like you. Personal convenience for them comes first, second, third and right on down to twenty-fifth.

Nothing else counts.

Statesman Hits Ben Bella Plans

ALGIERS (AP) — Belkacem Krim, one of the main authors of the Evian, France, peace treaty with France, bitterly attacked Ahmed Ben Bella's crippled Political Bureau today. He urged the people to oppose all efforts to "install a regime of personal power and dictatorship."

Krim, who was a vice premier in the Algerian government in exile, launched his attack on television and before 40 newsmen in his office in the old French colonial headquarters.

He spoke as Algeria's military leaders supporting Ben Bella were assembling in a strategy session east of Algiers. The military chiefs apparently were making an effort to weld a common front against the anti-Ben Bella guerrillas dominating Algiers and surrounding country.

MAGIC TOUCH

Krim said Ben Bella "speaks of imposing socialism as if it could be done with a touch of a magic wand."

But Krim himself said he favored reforms carried out "in Socialist perspective."

He attacked Ben Bella's Political Bureau for postponing elections from Sept. 2 and declared, "We must again start discussions to settle the problems of leadership. Only then we can give new hope to the nation."

OPPOSES FORCE

He expressed the hope "the people will not be rushed into a fratricidal war and will oppose any solution by force."

From his headquarters in western Algeria, Col. Houari Boumedienne called the commanders of Wilayas (military zones) Nos. 1, 2, 5 and 6 to the meeting in Setif, 150 miles east of Algiers on the road to Constantine.

★ ★ ★

The leaders of Wilayas 3 and 4, who chased Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau out of the capital, were not invited.

Boumedienne, chief of the 45,000-man regular army, clearly was attempting to unite most of Algeria's 100,000 troops against the anti-Ben Bella guerrilla commanders in central Algeria. But there was no sign that shooting was imminent.

Diplomatic observers believe the opposing sides will continue to try to avoid bloodshed. They fear, however, that a form of military dictatorship will emerge from the economic chaos and bitter political bickering that has prevailed since independence July 3.

3 Stand Mute Before Judge

Expect to Send Trio in Vasiliou Case Back to Municipal Court

The three men accused of the July 30 slaying of Pontiac market owner Eftimias Vasiliou stood mute on first-degree murder charges yesterday before Circuit Court Judge H. Russel Holland.

However, Joseph Page, 26, of 249 Orchard Lake Ave., Benny L. Spells, 23, and R. G. Stroman, 29, both of 235 S. Anderson St., are expected to be returned to Pontiac Municipal Court for examination on the charge.

The three were not represented by attorneys at last week's appearance before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Attorney John McIntosh of Ferndale, who represents Stroman, asked the court for the return to Municipal Court.

★ ★ ★

Judge Holland delayed ruling on the request until it was determined if John O'Connell of Detroit, attorney for Page and Spells, also wished the same move.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor, although not able to contact O'Connell immediately, said he was sure the three would be remanded to Municipal Court.

Judge Holland entered pleas of innocent for the three.

Rufus Wilson Jr., 29, of 44 Maple St., another alleged member of the "stocking bandit" ring, pleaded guilty to armed robbery charges in the Aug. 13 holdup of the Keg Kantgen, 84 Auburn Ave. He was returned to Oakland County jail to await sentencing Sept. 11.

George Page Jr., 30, of 249 Orchard Lake Ave., Joseph Page's brother, stood mute on the armed robbery charge. He was returned to jail on $10,000 bond.

Joseph Page, Stroman and Spells are held at the jail without bond.

100 Teachers Attend School

New Staff Members in Pontiac Going to Four-Day Workshops

Nearly 100 new teachers in Pontiac's school system are holding down pupils' desks in a four-day workshop this week.

"They will get acquainted with our instructional program, our textbooks and all our teaching materials," explained Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

"But most important they are being taught these things by our helping teachers."

The helping teachers have specialized in solving special problems arising in the classroom. A number of them have extended their activity into developing new ways of teaching for the system.

The newcomers are meeting in three separate workshops.

The largest, composed of 60 "teacher - pupils," includes all new elementary school teachers and is conducted under the direction of Gerald E. White, coordinator of elementary education.

Two others include 15 new teachers in a secondary school math workshop, directed by helping teacher Joyce Sweet who aided in developing Pontiac's new math program, and 20 in a language arts workshop directed by Mrs. Lorraine Leland, also a helping teacher.

Other master teachers include specialists in reading, math and science as well as some regular teachers.

The project started yesterday.

Meanwhile, the Oakland County Board of Education's third reading workshop today entered its second of five days.

The emphasis this year is on teaching of primary reading for the 146 teachers enrolled from 25 out of the county's 30 school systems.

Under the guidance of Dr. Helen Murphy, nationally known reading expert at Boston University, 1st, 2nd and 3rd-grade teachers will look at three reading areas:

1—A review of recent research into the psychology and behavior of children in learning to read;

2—A review of present methods of teaching reading;

3—A presentation of organizing reading materials for the early elementary grades.

Dr. Harry Hahn, county director of instruction, and Dr. Dodd Roberts, director of the county reading clinic, are assisting Dr. Murphy.

He also said a constant display of enthusiasm for official policy tends to remove a bit of the police surveillance that hovers constantly over the residents of this country.

"As you in the West say, it's square, but by playing this way I have a job and can get together now and then with my pals for private swing sessions of our own."

Greece Suffers Severe Quake

Man Reported Killed in Collapse of Home at Corinth

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A severe earthquake shook most of Greece for 20 seconds today, toppling homes in some areas. One death was quickly reported.

★ ★ ★

The massive temblor here was accompanied by strong tremors across southern Italy, where a quake last week took 20 lives. But no casualties were reported in Italy and officials said initial checks indicated the damage there was slight.

On the Amalfi coast of Italy where Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy is vacationing, the quake was barely felt. The American First Lady was sightseeing in the Amalfi cathedral and did not notice the disturbance.

The Athens Seismological Service said the quake centered 65 miles southwest of Athens. That would put the epicenter at the town of Nafplion, in the eastern Peloponnesus.

MAN KILLED

Reports reaching Athens from ancient Corinth said a 90-year-old man was killed in the collapse of his home. From Patrai, Greece's third largest port, came word that a number of homes were destroyed.

No damage to the Acropolis or the Parthenon, The ancient ruins on the hillside overlooking Athens, was apparent.

The quake struck the Peloponnesus Peninsula at 1:02 p.m. (6:20 a.m. EST). It was also recorded on the island of Crete and in southern Greece.

★ ★ ★

Police said they were unable to get word on the extent of destruction and casualties because all communications south of Corinth were disrupted.

Jackie Becomes a 'Citizen' of Ravello Tonight

RAVELLO, Italy (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy becomes an honorary citizen of Ravello tonight at an old-fashioned fiesta which residents of this seaside village hope to make the social event of the season.

Mrs. Kennedy, nearing the end of her vacation on the Mediterranean coast, will receive a scroll attesting her citizenship in formal ceremonies preceding the fiesta.

In London, a leading British columnist today defended Jacqueline Kennedy's frequent public appearances in a bathing suit.

"Since when has youth and grace and gaiety at the White House been improper?" asked the London Daily Mirror's Cassandra (William Connor), who rarely has a good word to say for the United States.

Living Costs Rise From June to July

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living rose by two-tenths of one per cent in July to a record high, largely because of higher prices for several important foods and services.

★ ★ ★

Announcing the figure today, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said the increase was largely seasonal. It said its consumer price index in the last 10 years always has risen between June and July.

★ ★ ★

The rise of 0.2 per cent brought the index to 105.5 per cent of the average prices in the 1957-59 base period.

This means that the purchasing power of the dollar has shrunk by a little more than a nickel since that period.

The Day in Birmingham

Application Accepted for Junior Art Classes

BIRMINGHAM — Applications are now being accepted for the fall term of children's art classes at the Young People's Art Center, sponsored by the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries.

Young people, 6 through 19, may enroll in classes which begin Sept. 18. Classes are divided by ages and are held in the YPAC room, located beneath the library.

The fall session will continue for 10 weeks with three classes on Saturdays and one class after school on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the latter, a high school class, ages 14 through 19, at 4 p.m.

Each group meets weekly for 90 minutes, working in a wide variety of media. Classes are specifically designed to stimulate the creativity and imagination of the student, according to YPAC instructor Glen Michaels.

Michaels, a Birmingham artist, is an alumnus of Eastern Washington College of Education, the Yale School of Music and Cranbrook Academy of Art, where he received his Master of Fine Arts degree in painting and ceramics.

The Bloomfield Township Board last night approved a resolution seeking permission from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to sell bonds totaling $49,000 to finance the construction of sanitary sewers at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

At the same time the board gave authority to the township attorney to begin court action to obtain easements for the sewer right of way.

Several property owners are protesting the construction of the sewer across their land and it is necessary to begin legal action, according to Township Clerk Delores Little.

The sanitary sewer would be connected to the Evergreen Interceptor Sewer.

The Birmingham City Commission postponed its meeting of last night to next week because it did not have a quorum needed to conduct official business.

Futura Model Out on Sept. 28

Ford's New Compact Convertible Lists Wide Range of Equipment

The Falcon Futura, first compact convertible built by Ford Motor Co., will be available with a wide range of sportscar-type optional equipment, including bucket seats, four-speed transmission and six different gear ratios.

★ ★ ★

The new convertible will be unveiled at dealers' showrooms Sept. 28, Ford officials said today.

The Futura convertible may be seen in this area at John McAuliffe Ford, Inc., 630 Oakland Ave.; Beattie Motor Sales, Inc., 2606 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township; and Jerome-Ferguson, Inc., 215 Main St., Rochester.

The Futura, according to company spokesmen, is the first compact to provide 36,000-mile factory installed major chassis lubrication and 6,000-mile oil change and minor lube intervals.

LUBRICANTS BETTER

The traditional 1,000-mile checkups have been eliminated because of improved lubricants and advancements in sealing designs, said Lee A. Iococca, Ford Division general manager.

Interior appointments include all-vinyl front and rear seats. Bucket seats, wire wheel covers and a sports console are options.

A vinyl top, electrically operated, is standard on all convertible models. It is anchored to each roof bow to prevent "ballooning" when the car is in motion.

★ ★ ★

Powered by a 170-cubic-inch six-cylinder engine, the Futura can be tailored to six different performance levels through various transmission and rear axle combinations.

Automatic, three-speed manual and four-speed manual transmissions are now available with the convertible model.

Soviets Again Reject Offer

Red Envoy at Geneva 'Will Not Consider' N-Treaty Proposal

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union said today it "will not consider agreement" on a nuclear ban on the basis of new Western proposals made yesterday by President Kennedy and British Premier Macmillan.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasili Kuznetsov rejected the new Western initiative for the second day in a row at today's session of the nuclear subcommittee of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

★ ★ ★

But American Ambassador Arthur H. Dean said he still hopes "the Soviet Union has not said its final word on the subject."

★ ★ ★

The West, he said, is "prepared to wait as long as necessary for the Soviet government to give due thought and consideration to these proposals."

Hoover Rests After Surgery of Three Hours

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover, 88, underwent an operation today for removal of an intestinal lesion.

★ ★ ★

Hoover withstood the operation well and is resting satisfactorily, a spokesman at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center told newsmen.

★ ★ ★

The operation took more than three hours.

The lesion was taken to a laboratory for examination.

Say No to Renewal of Jobless Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee turned down today President Kennedy's proposal to renew extended unemployment insurance.

The margin was only one vote. It is possible for the committee to reconsider its action next month.

★ ★ ★

However, administration leaders were visibly shaken by the action turning down a recommendation for which Kennedy made a personal plea. It was one of the measures he counted on to help the economy, when he decided against a quick tax cut.

Angry Young Man Sets Fire to House, 2 Cars

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP) — Fire chief Bill Knox said Robert Miller, 22, of Etowah, Tenn., told him that he became angry last weekend when he came home, found all the doors locked and his mother gone.

★ ★ ★

Knox said Miller signed a statement admitting he set fire to the house, two automobiles, two outbuildings and several acres of timber. Miller was charged with arson.

Nigerian Chief Doubts Apartheid in Rhodesia

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)— Nigeria Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa says he does not believe there is racial discrimination in the Rhodesian Federation as practiced under South Africa's apartheid policy.

★ ★ ★

He told a news conference Monday he had known Rhodesian federal Prime Minister Sir Roy Welensky for many years and Welensky does not "give the impression of pursuing racial discrimination."

Dems Bandy Over Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats fighting to restore the administration's tax revision bill to its original form narrowed their field of fire today and renewed hope for a final Senate vote this week.

★ ★ ★

But the situation was eased only to the extent that the battle will revolve around half a dozen major amendments instead of also swirling over scores of less important changes made by the Senate Finance Committee.

HOPES FOR ACTION

Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., floor manager of the controversial measure, said the opponents' agreement to pick six or eight issues for full debate and record votes gave him "some hope" of final action this week.

Kerr predicted he would have the votes to pass the bill as revised by the finance committee.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., one of the liberal Democrats trying to preserve the House bill, said his primary aim was to "save a democratic tax bill from special interest wreckage."

It was Gore's refusal to permit routine adoption of 174 committee amendments Monday which raised a threat that the bill might be hung up for several weeks.

TWO AGREE

Had Gore insisted, all or most of the 174 amendments could have been debated and formally voted upon.

Kerr initially branded Gore's objection as "dilatory." But later the two agreed that Gore, Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and others offering amendments would single out the major issues and let the other committee amendments be adopted in a block.

One major committee change was elimination of the House-approved plan for withholding taxes on interest and dividend income.

Kerr said the liberals undoubtedly would try to spike the $1-billion investment tax credit for business, restore the withholding plan and the original foreign tax provisions, eliminate tax deductions on legislative lobbying expenses, and restore the tougher House language on business entertainment deductions.

Gore and Douglas charged that the administration bill which started out 18 months ago as a "loophole-closing" measure, had become a "tax loophole-opening" bill.

TWO DISAGREE

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the finance committee was heading the drive to kill the 7 per cent investment tax break for business. Byrd, a leading conservative, was joined by the liberals in an unusual alignment against the provision.

Although Kerr sided with the liberals in trying to save the 20 per cent withholding feature in the finance committee, Byrd led the successful move to strip it from the House bill.

He had indicated he might support efforts to tighten the business expense account item, however.

Withholding on Dividends Hot Issue Since 1862

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Just over 100 years ago the first income tax in American history went into effect with a provision now being kicked around in Congress as if it were brand new and unthinkable.

BACK IN 1862

This act of July 1, 1862—among other things—called for withholding a tax on dividends and interest paid out by banks, trust companies, railroads, savings institutions and insurance companies.

The Supreme Court in 1881, by a unanimous decision, declared this act constitutional.

But now when President Kennedy asks Congress to approve a withholding tax on dividends and interest—as part of a general tax revision to close loopholes in the tax laws—he has run into fiery opposition.

'UNWORKABLE'

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, conservative Southern Democrat of Virginia, says the dividend withholding is "unworkable." Sen. Jacob K. Javits, liberal New York Republican, says it is "impractical."

Stock exchange firms, life insurance companies and banks want it knocked out of the bill or changed. The National Association of Manufacturers blasted the whole bill.

★ ★ ★

Support for the idea comes from equally strange mates, like liberal Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., and the conservative U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Stranger still, nobody on either side seems to remember that act of 1862 which provided for what Kennedy is asking now. But that law of a century ago should be an eye-opener to those who think some of the main features of the present tax system are of recent origin.

THEN—AS NOW

It was a gratuated income tax. Then—as now—the first $600 of income was exempt. Then the tax was 3 per cent on income between $600 and $10,000 and 5 per cent on all income over $10,000. It went up higher later in the Civil War. It also imposed a tax on inheritance over $1,000. And — the tax was withheld from the salaries of government employes.

★ ★ ★

The House passed Kennedy's tax revision bill March 29, leaving in the withholding tax on dividends and interest. Then the measure went over to the Senate where the Finance Committee, headed by Byrd, began hearings.

When the Byrd committee got through with the bill, the withholding tax on dividends was gone. The Senate this week began debate on the measure.

U.S. Could Take Havana Legally, Capehart Claims

ROCKVILLE, Ind. (AP) — The United States could legally occupy Cuba unless that country stops accepting Soviet military aid, says Sen. Homer F. Capehart, R-Ind.

Capehart coupled his statement Monday night with a demand that President Kennedy "start protecting the interest of the United States."

Under international law, he said the United States would have the right to land troops, seize Havana and occupy the country unless the Cuban government replied satisfactorily to a request that Soviet military men be sent home and imports of military equipment from Communist countries were halted.

One of Canada's major industries is the manufacture of basic chemicals.

Arrest of Politico Hooted in Burundi

USUMBURA, Burundi (AP)— Angry crowds and about 80 members of the gendarmerie demonstrated outside a private house following the arrest of the leader of Burundi's governing Uprona party, Paul Mirerekano.

Mirerekano was arrested by order of Prime Minister A. Muhirwa, who claims party leadership.

Mirerekano first was taken to prison, but when police and party supporters rushed there and called for his release he was removed to a private house.

Mwami (King) Mwambuta has called a government meeting today, presumably to consider the matter.

Bill Would OK Treaty

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) —Foreign Minister Joseph Luns introduced a bill in Parliament Monday night to approve the Dutch-Indonesian agreement on the transfer of West New Guinea. The lower house will meet Sept. 6 in special public session to discuss the bill, officials said.

Ted-McCormack Debate on TV Warms Up in Spots

BOSTON (AP) — If President Kennedy's youngest brother were simply "Edward Moore"—instead of Edward Moore Kennedy—his candidacy for the U.S. Senate, in his first try for elective office, "would be a joke," his rival for the Democratic nomination says.

The two youthful candidates for the Massachusetts nomination — Kennedy, 30, and State Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., 34, nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., met Monday night on the debating platform.

★ ★ ★

Television cameras and radio microphones carried their words throughout the state and beyond.

It was hot in the well-filled auditorium in the South Boston High School—and the debate was just as warm in spots.

McCormack went quickly on the attack with his reference to the magic Kennedy name.

Kennedy said the candidates "should not be talking about families or personalities, but about the people's destiny in Massachusetts."

McCormack said he and Kennedy agreed on most of the administration program in Washington but said the principal issue between them is their qualifications for the office of senator.

McCormack cited his 10 years in elective office, three terms on the Boston City Council and three as attorney general.

"I ask my opponent about his qualifications — you've never worked for a living and never ran for or held public office—you're running on a slogan 'he can do more for Massachusetts' — the most insulting slogan I've seen," McCormack said.

"This is a slogan that is an insult to the President of the United States, because it means the President is not doing enough for Massachusetts or will discriminate against a man who is not his brother."

★ ★ ★

Kennedy said the decisions to be made by the Senate in the next few years "will affect not only the United States but the world."

"We must nominate and elect a vigorous spokesman, not only for the state, but one who knows the problems of the world as well," Kennedy said.

★ ★ ★

He said it is essential to elect a Democrat, "because many issues are decided by a single vote and there are key programs coming up in the next year or two."

"If my opponent is successful (in the primary Sept. 18) I will support him," Kennedy said.

WOULD OPPOSE JFK

McCormack reminded the audience he was born in South Boston, had attended that very high school, that he had married a South Boston girl and their two children were born there.

He said Kennedy, only two years ago, was thinking of moving to the West.

"Massachusetts isn't a second choice to me," he said.

The audience obviously included many old friends and supporters of McCormack. But Kennedy also came in for rounds of applause—in one case when he said he believed surplus foods should be sent as aid to Yugoslavia and Poland. South Boston, once regarded as all Irish, now has many residents of Polish background.

The debaters disagreed on whether the United States should quit production of nuclear arms.

McCormack said a halt in production would show good faith.

Kennedy said he couldn't disagree more, that the United States must have a strong defense against communism.

McCormack said later he also favors a strong defense.

Both debaters insisted they could be independent as members of the Senate.

PRINCIPAL ISSUE

Kennedy said if his brother, the President, called for tariff cuts, he would have to oppose them if they affected the shoe and leather industry or other Massachusetts industries.

★ ★ ★

McCormack says he favors a tax cut now, but that his uncle, the speaker, had opposed it.

He said a tax cut in the lower and middle income levels would put more money in the hands of the consumers and help the national economy.

Kennedy said he opposes a cut because it might lead to a deficit. Anyway, he said, small taxpayers would be helped more if loopholes in the tax laws were closed.

Report Ready on Funds — Good and Bad Points

NEW YORK (AP)—A detailed university study covering some good and some bad points of the $21-billion mutual fund industry was ready for Congress today.

Even before its 600 pages were opened to the public the report, four years in the making, had stirred up a considerable fuss.

★ ★ ★

Prepared at the direction of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the report to the House Commerce Committee is expected to bring about revisions of the booming industry's basic law, the Investment Company Act of 1940.

COSTS $95,700

The study was made by the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania and cost the SEC $95,700. The fund industry cooperated in the study by answering detailed questionaires.

From two letters summarizing the report it is known the Wharton School raised serious questions about many practices and policies of the fund industry. The questions concern potential conflicts of interest, investment advisory fees and the effect of fund operations on the stock market.

★ ★ ★

The Wharton School was asked to survey the effects of the size of funds on their investment policies and performance. The report actually went far beyond and covers almost all practices and policies.

The two letters, made public Friday, accompanied the report from the university to the SEC and from the SEC to the House committee.

NO RECOMMENDATIONS

William L. Cary, chairman of the SEC, said the commission is undertaking a "detailed analysis of the study with the view to making such recommendations as may seem appropriate." The filing of the report with Congress was not accompanied by any recommendations.

Cary emphasized last week that publication of the report "should not be construed as criticism by the commission of the investment merits of mutual fund shares, or the investment company as an important vehicle for investment or of any particular company."

Although industry leaders have known for as long as a year that the report was approaching completion, some expressed fears that its publication will reduce share sales, at least temporarily.

Fund sales of shares during June and July fell behind a year ago (a record year) and to the lowest level since the last two months of 1960. Some industry officials consider this nothing out of the ordinary because of the big drop in stock market values this year.

A mutual fund sells its own shares to the public and pools the proceeds to invest in a wide variety of securities. Each fund has a different and specific objective. There are more than 250 funds of all types.

LBJ Winds Up Stay in Ankara

Vice President Flies to Izmir for Speech, Then to Istanbul

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson wound up a two-day stay in Ankara with a visit to Allied headquarters today and then left by plane for the Aegean port of Izmir.

After making a speech at the U.S. pavilion at the Izmir International Trade Fair, Johnson continues to Istanbul, last stop on his tour of Turkey. He plans to spend two days in Istanbul.

Johnson celebrated his 54th birthday yesterday and received a surprise greeting from a classroom of Turkish soldiers who are learning to read and write English.

"Happy birthday Mister Johnson," wrote one of the soldiers on a large blackboard at the armed forces literacy training center here. The 40 soldiers then shouted a carefully rehearsed birthday greeting.

SPENT BUSY DAY

The vice president spent a busy day conferring with government officials and meeting townspeople.

He treated 40 youngsters to ice cream and lemonade—$7 worth—and later stopped off in a rundown section of town to chat with a woman in a one-room mud dwelling.

Johnson gave the woman, Hanife Topcu, 50, a pass to the senate gallery. "Whenever you come to the United States you will be my guest," he told her. He gave similar passes to five children.

He also held talks with Turkish President Cemal Gursel and Prime Minister Ismet Inonu and assured them the United States would continue to support Turkey's attempts to modernize its military forces.

$35,000 Stolen From a Locked Armored Truck

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)— Two armored car company employes told police last night that 18 bags were stolen from their truck while they were making a delivery.

★ ★ ★

Officials of the firm, Armored Motor Service of Arizona, Inc., estimated the bags contained $35,000. The loss was insured.

Drivers George Troy, 45, and Roland Burnham, 26, said they left the truck for no more than five minutes. They said it was locked when they left and when they returned.

★ ★ ★

Owner Si Thompson said his firm periodically changes the locks and the thief must have had a key. He said there have been similar thefts in Denver and Los Angeles.

Pakistani Poet Wins Lenin Peace Award

MOSCOW (AP) — Faiz Ahmad Faiz, a Pakistani poet, was presented an international Lenin prize Monday for the "promotion of peace among nations." The prize includes 10,000 rubles — $11,000 — and a gold medal.

Tass quoted the poet as responding with a call for all to "dump military rockets into the sea, dump all weapons into the sea."

Holiday to Be Costly

LANSING (UPI) — The three-day Labor Day observance was expected to cost Michigan motorists about $1.5 million or more because of carelessness on the highways.

★ ★ ★

Michigan insurance companies said the figure represented the costs of errors which will be made by an expected 2,000 drivers who will pay the price for impatience, driving in spite of fatigue and driving after drinking.

The estimate, based on the accident-loss experience of recent three-day weekend holidays in Michigan, involves 15 or more deaths, the care of 900 injured persons and the replacement or repair of some 3,400 cars.

3 State Men Hurt in Plane Accident

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (UP) — Three Battle Creek, Mich., men were injured yesterday when their light plane crash-landed on a mountain slope after take-off from here.

★ ★ ★

Gallatin County Sheriff Donald J. Skerritt said the three were unable to explain the cause of the crash.

★ ★ ★

Roger Wilbur walked from the crash site into West Yellowstone for aid. Berry Jones, the most seriously injured, suffered a basal skull fracture.

Roy Peet, believed to be the pilot, suffered a fractured spine. They were hospitalized at Bozman, Mont.

Their intended destination was not known.

150,000 Flights Daily for Scheduled Airlines

MONTREAL (UPI) — Scheduled airlines now operate approximately 150,000 flights a day, it is estimated by the International Air Transport Association.

That's an average of about 6,250 flights per hour, more than 104 per minute, or five every three seconds.

Telstar Helping U.S., England Match Time

WASHINGTON (UP) — Telstar is being used to synchonize the master time clocks in England and the United States, the Defense Department said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The first demonstration was made Saturday at 1:51 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, when transmitting and receiving stations at Goonhilly Downs, England, and Andover, Maine, flashed time check signals simultaneously via the communications satellite.

An accuracy of 10 microseconds — one microsecond equals 1/1,000,000 of a second — was obtained.

Using conventional radio communications, the accuracy of these measurements has been about one or two thousandths of a second.

Experts of the naval observatory here said the use of Telstar was faster and better than conventional radio communications in which the pulse of signal is too variable for accuracy approaching that of the Telstar system.

Hart Will Address Jewish Vets Group

DETROIT (UP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., will speak today on United States immigration policy at the 67th national convention of the Jewish War Veterans.

★ ★ ★

The group's national commander, Theodore Brooks of New York, told delegates yesterday that John Birch Society members are as dangerous as Communists.

Brooks likened the Birch Society and extremist groups to "the lunatic fringe which advocates support of Fascism and Nazism."

"Birchites and so-called Crusaders, wrapping themselves in the cloak of patriotism, do little else but help divide the American people," he said.

Some 5,000 delegates and their families opened the week-long convention Sunday.

Senate Takes Long Time With JFK Appointments

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate appears to be inching toward confirmation of President Kennedy's appointment of Thurgood Marshall as a federal circuit court judge.

★ ★ ★

When Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., lifts a block he has placed against action, colleagues probably will give overwhelming approval of Kennedy's selection of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen as the new ambassador to France.

Little doubt remains that the Senate will confirm appointment of Irving Ben Cooper for the Southern District Court in New York.

LOOKS DIM

But there doesn't seem much likelihood of action on Kennedy's nomination of former Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. of Virginia to the U.S. Court of Customs and Patent Appeals.

The tortoise-like progress of Marshall's nomination since it was submitted last Jan. 15 is attributed to Southern Democratic reluctance to permit the elevation of a Negro to the circuit court.

This obstacle now seems likely to be overcome. Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D-S.C., has agreed to call a Senate Judiciary subcommittee together to act on the nomination.

Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., have teamed up on a motion to take the nomination away from the subcommittee. They say they intend to press it if the Johnston group doesn't act.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in an interview that he has no doubt the full committee will approve Marshall in time for Senate action before Congress adjourns.

"We've got the votes in the committee and in the Senate," he said.

Marshall's pay will be cut off if he isn't confirmed by the Senate before adjournment. It has been almost a year since Kennedy nominated him for the 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals which handles cases from Vermont, Connecticut and New York.

Although Thurmond has forecast opposition to Bohlen's confirmation, Dirksen said he knew of no Republican votes against the nomination. In the past, Bohlen was often a target of GOP attacks because he served as Franklin D. Roosevelt's interpreter at the Yalta conference.

★ ★ ★

Cooper has been under fire for his actions as a New York City magistrate. The indications are that a Judiciary subcommittee headed by Eastland doesn't believe opponents have made a strong case against him.

The fate of Almond's nomination is wrapped in some of that "golden silence" Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., applied to Kennedy's bid for the presidency in 1960. Partly because of that silence Kennedy lost Virginia, despite Almond's support.

Byrd and Almond broke over the then governor's school integration policies. The break has not been mended.

Officials Cross International Bridge at Soos

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The first vehicle, a bus packed with various officials, crosses the $20-million International Bridge yesterday.

The bridge is scheduled to open to general traffic between Oct. 1 and Nov. 1, but officials of the American and Canadian Soos decided to cross the span on a test run yesterday.

Concrete pouring was finished last week, but work remains to be done on railings and approaches. The bridge will link this Upper namesake and eliminate ferry boat trips across the St. Marys River.

Survey to Influence State's Pay Scale

LANSING (UP) —The pay rates for Michigan's 31,000 classified civil service employes will be strongly influenced by a wage survey of 400 private employers in 15 geographic areas in Michigan, the State Civil Service Commission announced yesterday.

★ ★ ★

A study group of 29 persons from the civil service commission and the Michigan Employment Security commission began the survey yesterday.

Questionnaires mailed to 61 public jurisdictions, including 23 states, the federal government and the Tennessee Valley Authority, preceded the Michigan wage survey, the commission said.

American pioneers believed country which could not grow trees was worthless and for years avoided settling on the prairies, among the most fertile of all farm lands.

Conventions Indicate Hot Campaign

The curtain rose over the weekend on the political drama that will unfold between now and the general election Nov. 6.

Republicans and Democrats held simultaneous conventions — the former in Detroit, the latter in Grand Rapids. With two exceptions, nominations for administrative posts had been resolved in pre-convention caucuses, with no upsets disturbing the order of the convention proceedings.

★ ★ ★

To round out the slate headed by previously-nominated GEORGE ROMNEY for governor and CLARENCE A. REID for lieutenant governor, the GOP chose NORMAN O. STOCKMEYER for secretary of state; GLENN S. ALLEN Jr. for state treasurer; and L. WILLIAM SEIDMAN for auditor general.

The attorney general nomination, decided by a floor vote, went to ROBERT J. DANHOF who overwhelmed MEYER WARSHOWSKI 955 to 191.

★ ★ ★

The four Democratic incumbents of state administrative posts nominated to team with Gov. JOHN SWAINSON and Lt. Gov. JOHN LESINSKI—both picked in the August primaries — were Secretary of States JAMES M. HARE, Attorney General FRANK J. KELLEY, State Treasurer SANFORD BROWN and Auditor General BILLIE S. FARNUM.

★ ★ ★

For the two nonpartisan Supreme Court positions, the Republicans picked MICHAEL D. O'HARA and LOUIS D. MCGREGOR—the latter defeating Circuit Court Judge TIMOTHY C. QUINN in the only other floor vote—to oppose the two incumbent Justices, PAUL L. ADAMS and OTIS M. SMITH, who were named by the Dems.

★ ★ ★

Both sides hurled charges of infiltration of un-American elements in the opposition party. Romney charged that the Democrats harbored Communistic segments and accused August Scholle, State AFL-CIO president with being the power behind the throne and a political manipulator who wielded union-supported power to the detriment of the best interests of union men themselves and the citizens as a whole.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Gov. LESINSKI mouthed the Democratic attack, charging the JOHN BIRCH Society and RICHARD DURANT, GOP 14th District vice chairman closely identified with it, with being opposed to good governmental principles, whom the Republicans had not repudiated. Countering this charge was ROMNEY's ringing denunciation of the Society together with its symbol, DURANT, as he called on the Democrats to condemn the equally extremist faction in their own party—the Americans for Democratic Action.

★ ★ ★

As campaign issues, the Dems replayed the worn record of "the do-nothing Republican legislature which has blocked all progress and a disease to be exorcised."

The Republican nominee saw the issues as the administration's poor leadership and fiscal management, its special-interest government and the stalemate and stagnation which has prevented adequate state services.

★ ★ ★

In prospect is one of the hottest campaigns in recent times with a record-breaking turnout at the polls.

Population—Going Up

Here are some statistics that you should store away in the back of your retentive memory as a part of American lore.

★ ★ ★

When we tossed off the British yoke, we had three million people — brave and valiant warriors — male and female. When A. Lincoln abolished slavery, we had 32 million, and at the turn of the century in 1900, we had grown to 76 million. At the outset of the Second World War, we had 132 million, and now — we're at 187 million.

★ ★ ★

Since Mr. KENNEDY went into office we've added as much population as there is in Sweden. And with births inching upward and deaths downward, there's lots more to come.

We're a prolific race.

Press Lensman Is Saved From Seaming Disaster

By HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND

The newspaper craft is replete with tradition. Fulfilling the assignment—be it story or photograph—is inherent in the character of newspapermen.

In pursuit of their calling they have endured hardship, privation and suffering —even given their lives.

They have covered the globe on a variety of missions, bringing off many journalistic coups in searching out the news or the mysterious.

These men have been closely allied with the armed forces, often going in with invading armies to unknown danger, in order to report objectively on fighting units and battlefront developments.

But nowhere is chronicled a reportorial exposure so fraught with peril as that faced by Press photographer of Ferndale, on a "back to school" pictorial assignment at Wisner Stadium. For just at the moment of photographing two feminine models, straining to get just the right focus angle, his pants gave way!

Ed Noble

Qualified authorities on the subject maintain that there is no known sensation comparable to the knowledge that your pants are coming atwain rearward.

Well, our resourceful lensman, true to his calling, got his shot, and then backed and maneuvered out of range of the models. Then, accompanied by Advertising Department's of 74½ Newberry St., they headed for a clothing store where a tailor was known to be employed.

Alas, no tailor; and with another appointment back at the stadium coming up, things seamed pretty bad.

But, never underestimate the power and resourcefulness of a woman! After obtaining thread and needle from store manager and de-panting the mortified male, repairs were quickly made and the pair raced off, to make the shooting deadline with two minutes to spare.

Whatsat? Oh — You shutter to think how much needling the photographer has been taking?

Indignant Union Man Speaks Up

WASHINGTON—Every now and then in the field of public controversy someone has the temerity to utter a piece of simple wisdom and everybody wonders why it hasn't been said before.

★ ★ ★

An example is the recent outburst of indignation by David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, who was testifying the other day before a subcommittee of the House of Representatives in answer to what he considered were trumped-up charges of "racial discrimination" inside his union. He said:

LAWRENCE

"I'll be damned if I will support the idea of the professional Negro, the professional Jew, the professional Italian that a man should be a union officer because of his race, color or creed. He should be an officer on his merits, ability, character."

★ ★ ★

This piece of advice might well be given consideration by those high officials here and members of Congress who sometimes deal with appointments to office in ways that they believe will obtain them the votes of minority groups.

STATEMENT UNTRUE

David Dubinsky is, moreover, a liberal in every sense of the word. He is vice chairman of the liberal party in New York State and is known as "the patriarch of a dozen liberal causes."

Dubinsky unhesitatingly points out that the political motive can be pushed too far.

He referred to a 14-page statement submitted to the subcommittee by Herbert Hill, labor secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

★ ★ ★

Hill happens also to be a paid staff member of the subcommittee, and in his statement he charged the garment workers union with being guilty of "defacto discrimination" against Negroes and Puerto Ricans.

Dubinsky called the statement "untruthful and irresponsible," as he cried out:

"There is no discrimination in membership, initiation fees, dues, wages. There is no Class A membership, no Class B membership. Our members eat together, meet together, dance together, celebrate together and fight together . . . .

★ ★ ★

"Eighty per cent of our members are women, but we have only one woman vice president. Can we be charged with discriminating against women? No!"

Dubinsky explained that most of the women members are married and want to be at home with their families, while men are willing to work long hours in union activity.

He said that, in the case of Negroes and Puerto Ricans, the reason they have not yet risen to the top is that they are only slowly acquiring the experience needed for the higher positions in the union. Many have become convention delegates and business managers of the local unions. He added in a loud voice:

"Discrimination? Why, I became president of the union not because I am Jewish, but because my fellow man thought I was capable. Show me a colored or a Puerto Rican or Italian who is capable and I'll make him a business agent or a vice president. And I'll spend half of my time giving him a position or a promotion."

★ ★ ★

Maybe someday someone will rise and say in Congress or even at the White House that "religious and racial discrimination" shouldn't be made the football of politics and that private organizations should feel free to select whomever they please for officer positions without finding themselves investigated by congressional committees at the behest of pressure groups.

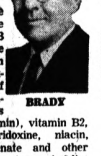
Dr. William Brady Says:

Most Folks Deficient in Good Ol' Vitamin 'B'

Plain wheat, as it comes from the thresher, is good chewing, provided you are not a dental cripple.



BRADY

Wheat is the best food source of vitamin B complex, and one of the little known and unappreciated functions of vitamin B complex — that is vitamin B1 (thiamin), vitamin B2, (riboflavin), pyridoxine, niacin, calcium pantothenate and other vitamins—is, in a sense, insulin-like, for it aids the metabolism or utilization of carbohydrate (starch and sugar).

It is for this reason that I have often called vitamin B "poor man's insulin."

I know of no authority on diabetes who advises potential or actual diabetics to be sure to get an optimal daily ration of vitamin B, but I don't know why they play the idea down.

DEFICIENT IN 'B'

If I have learned anything from my study of nutrition it is that most Americans suffer from one or more nutritional deficiencies, particularly vitamin B deficiency, calcium, iodin, and vitamin D deficiencies.

Many recognized nutrition authorities, if not authorities on diabetes, seem to agree, or I should say I agree with them, that the almost exclusive use of refined white flour in place of the whole wheat flour our ancestors brought home from the gristmill, in the last century, is one large factor in the causation of diabetes.

An equally important factor is the enormous per capita consumption of refined white sugar in America.

These items which furnish most of the calories in the everyday diet of millions of Americans, young and old, not only contain no vitamins or minerals to speak of, but such refined carbohydrates (starch and sugar) raises the body's requirement of vitamin B.

Thus what little vitamin B the diet supplies is pre-empted by the excess of carbohydrate, and the vitamin B deficiency becomes steadily worse.

In earlier pieces I have described some of the common manifestations of vitamin B deficiency. So, let's keep this day symptomless.

★ ★ ★

In many homes, they tell me, when they put their first measure of plain wheat through the hand or power mill for a batch of wheat cakes or muffins or breakfast cereal or waffles, it proved a red-letter day . . . a new experience in good eating and a considerable gain in health.

The Country Parson

"The most loved folks in our community seems to be the ones who never can recall anything bad about any of us."

Voice of the People:

City Manager Clarifies Taxicab Misunderstanding

There seems to be a misunderstanding regarding taxicab stands. A report in 1960 by Barton Associates pointed out the large amount of curb space allocated to taxicab zones in downtown Pontiac. It stated that modern, radio-controlled cabs can be moved easily to areas where they are needed and they suggested that more street space be designated for metered parking to meet demands of store customers.

★ ★ ★

Studies and discussions with representatives of Yellow, Oakland and Chief Cab Companies over a period of several months resulted in agreement in June 1962 between the city and the taxicab representatives on a reduction and relocation.

Space allocation was on a formula basis of one cab space for each four cab licenses, considering also the number of cabs actually on the street. Even though the number of spaces was reduced from 29 to 15, the number of stands was actually increased from 10 to 11, and it was possible to recover 17 spaces for metered parking.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Cab Co. filed bankruptcy proceedings, and Chief Cab was allocated 17 licenses by the Commission. Thus there are now 75 cabs licensed compared to 71 a few months ago, with an additional 8 cabs to be placed in service in the near future.

★ ★ ★

It was never the intention to reduce taxicab service in downtown Pontiac. Taxicab companies are being contacted with a request that they increase their efforts to make cabs available at the cab stands and otherwise. There will probably always be certain times such as during rain or snow storms when taxicabs will be difficult to obtain, due to heavy demands. In general, there should not be any decrease in cab service within the downtown area. In fact, service should improve with the cooperation of the companies.

Robert A. Stierer

Did one of Mr. Kennedy's Negro appointees actually say: "As soon as us colored people take over, a white man will be fined every time he breathes"?

Seeks Statement of Charges

I write an open letter to Atty. General Kelly. Again I have noticed where you and/or your office have made a blanket indictment of the legislature by the charge "illegal lobby activities." I would ask that my office be furnished an immediate copy of your criminal charges as I feel you are again walking ahead of the facts as you and your countrymen did in regards "the apportionment issues."

★ ★ ★

As State Senator your charge of "illegal lobby activities" indicts one and all and I charge in return that you are not dealing in truths but pure political fantasy. Could these activities of yours divert the minds of our Upper Peninsula people from the fact that your, and Governor Swainson's apportionment program would have the Upper Peninsula losing two of its three senators. These facts cannot be swept under the rug.

Would it be that you and your reapportionment-minded Governor are worried for your political future?

Write of Coverage Given Local Pastor

The south end of town is keeping Pontiac in the headlines. Let's see one of your editorials on the "Most Reverend Parker" as we did on the four who made the newspaper prior to him.

Mad Enough

The Pontiac Press published an article stating a local pastor was suspected of a thievery, although no convincing grounds had been established. Does a newspaper have a right to print insubstantially based scandal which may damage an innocent person, or is this an abuse of freedom of the press? That the pastor was subsequently found innocent is actually irrelevant (scandal is scandal, whether justified or not) — though it is undeniable that the damage to him is much worse in his innocence than it would have been in his guilt.

No doubt such practices are widespread among newspapers. In view, however, of Pontiac Press' frequent and self-satisfied full-page tributes to freedom of the press, one is forced to assume that such freedom is just another one of those numerous abstractions which never soil themselves by appearing in daily practice. It is always comforting to know that we are on the side of the angels, in theory.

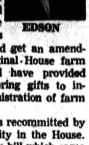
No 'Estes' Law Seen This Year

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Most significant fact about the new farm legislation just approved by the Senate is that it contains not one section which was in any way influenced by Billie Sol Estes case investigations, disclosures and scandals.



EDSON

The same thing is true of the farm bill passed earlier by the House. Rep. Ross Bass, D-Tenn., did get an amendment on the original House farm bill which would have provided penalties for offering gifts to influence the administration of farm programs.

But this bill was recommitted by a five-vote majority in the House. In the second farm bill which came before the House, the Bass proposal was killed on a day when the congressmen voted on the floor to drop all amendments to the main provisions.

To repeat, therefore, 1962 farm legislation as it stands today does nothing to correct any of the wrongs Billie Sol Estes may have been guilty of.

When the Estes case first broke, there was a lot of big talk that this was the beginning of the end for farm controls by government. At last the evils of acreage allotments, marketing quotas, subsidies and grain storage payments had been exposed. All farm programs would soon be ended and at last American agriculture would be free. So it was said.

It now appears that the greatest irregularity in the Billie Sol Estes operations under government farm programs was in his juggling of cotton allotment. He found loopholes in the government regulations and he made millions through them.

But the new farm legislation as passed by both Senate and House doesn't even mention the word "cotton."

Several cotton bills have been introduced in this session, to change the present program. But indications are now that none of them will be acted on this year. So the old acreage allotments and marketing controls will remain in force for next year, unless the Department of Agriculture can change its own regulations.

What Senate and House actions show, however, is that Congress is by no means ready to junk the whole price support system with rigid controls on production.

★ ★ ★

It is still too early to say what is going to be in the final farm legislation emerging from conferences between Senate and House Agriculture Committee members. They must work out a compromise between the two widely differing measures.

It is now admitted by Department of Agriculture officials that administration of existing farm programs by committees of farmers is too complex. The regulations are extremely complicated. The wonder is that the system had not broken down long before the Billie Sol Estes case ever came along.

Recognizing this weakness, Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman has had a 10-man committee working on it. The group includes former secretaries Claude Wickard and Charles F. Brannan. Dr. Joseph Hadja of Kansas State is heading the staff. It hopes to submit a report by the end of September on how the committee system and regulations can be simplified.

In this connection, it is recalled that nearly every Democratic and Republican party platform has for years called for "a farm program run by farmers" at the grass roots level and not by the bureaucrats in Washington.

It sounds wonderful in a political speech in the farm belts. But the system which Billie Sol Estes was able to corrupt to his own great profit was "a farm program run by farmers."

The trouble was that the bureaucrats in Washington didn't police the system hard enough. An attempt is being made to correct that by better inspection and auditing methods. A few official heads are rolling as a result of that, as sacrificial offerings on the altar of honest government. And Billie Sol Estes will apparently get whatever justice is coming to him from the courts.

What else may emerge from Congressional investigations of the Estes case is as yet uncertain. The House Government Operations subcommittee under Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., has stuck pretty closely to grain storage matters and hopes to have a report on that before adjournment.

Sen. John L. McClellan's committee, which is probing the whole range of Estes operations, may not conclude hearings before the end of September. Its report may not be ready until after the election. So no "Estes" law will pass this year.

His Brush With Death Frightens Nation

France Faces Void if De Gaulle Dies

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle's narrow shave with death spotlighted a situation which sends chills down the back of the Frenchman. There really is no one to succeed him.

* * *

De Gaulle, France's grand old man, autocratic, headstrong, the true kingpin of the Fifth Republic, never has pinpointed anyone as his successor.

France does not have the office of vice president.

Under the Gaullist Fifth Republic's constitution the president automatically is succeeded provisionally in the case of death by the president of the Senate.

He holds office only until such time as a new president of the republic can be elected.

The current president of the senate is Gaston Monnerville, 65, a Negro from French Guiana.

Monnerville has held that post since 1947. He is one of France's most respected political figures, but only a figure.

* * *

De Gaulle's death, particularly if it were sudden or violent, would plunge France into the gravest possible crisis. And in that moment of crisis it would be leaderless.

* * *

That is why Frenchmen dread to think what might have happened if the killer commandos' bullets had hit their target last Wednesday night.

DE GAULLE CONCERNED

Although De Gaulle is said to be completely impassive to danger and fully resigned to the fact he may die a violent death, he has been gravely concerned with the problem of his successor.

For some time he has been considering asking for a revision of the constitution to provide for the office of a vice president who automatically would succeed him.

He was reported recently to have abandoned the idea because of parliamentary objections. But insiders would not be surprised if he tried now to push it through as a result of his brush with death last week.

But the problem is not merely one of providing for an automatic successor. It also is one of finding someone who could succeed him at what inevitably would be a moment of deep national crisis.

De Gaulle himself is said to have prepared a secret "short list" of three names to be opened only in case of his death.

It would cause no surprise if one of those names was former premier Michel Debre. Debre resigned last April after growing disagreement with De Gaulle over Algeria and the date of parliamentary general elections. But De Gaulle is known still to have the highest regard for him.

OTHER POSSIBLES

Another "obvious" name is that of Antoine Pinay, a conservative former prime minister under the Fourth Republic and one time finance minister under De Gaulle. Pinay is a man who commands respect, but his views are far toward the political right wing.

Perhaps the only other political figure of distinction is Guy Mollet, another Fourth Republic prime minister, but Mollet is a Socialist and it is doubtful if a Socialist could pull together a nation rent politically asunder any more than a right-wing conservative could.

* * *

The grim fact is that, as of this moment, there is no obvious successor to De Gaulle.

Trying to Boost Trade

To Consecrate Bishop in State

First Catholic Priest From Lansing Diocese to Reach Episcopacy

LANSING (AP)— Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael Joseph Green will be consecrated auxiliary bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Lansing today, the first priest from the Lansing diocese to be elevated to the episcopacy.

The ceremony, to take place in St. Mary Cathedral, will be watched by Msgr. Green's mother, Mrs. Frank Fello of St. Joseph.

Elevation of Msgr. Green by Pope John XXIII was announced June 27.

Msgr. Green, currently pastor of St. Joseph's Church in St. Johns, is the son of Irish immigrants who settled in America shortly after they were married. His father died in 1920, leaving his mother with six children to tend.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Green, rebuffing suggestions that the youngsters be placed for adoption, took in boarders to raise enough money to feed and clothe her family. One of the boarders was Frank Fello, whom she later married.

HELPED BY WORKING

Young Michael Joseph helped the family finances by selling newspapers when he was in the first grade and later by working in the kitchen of his foster father's restaurant.

Michael Joseph was graduated from St. Joseph School in 1936 after having served as president of his class all four years.

While attending business college at Kalamazoo, he decided his career would be in the priesthood.

★ ★ ★

Most Rev. Joseph H. Albers, bishop of the Lansing diocese, made arrangements for the young man to enter St. Joseph Seminary at Grand Rapids as the first member of the diocese to do so.

And this was the start of a career which led to his ordination at St. Joseph's Church, the same place he was baptized, made his first holy communion and was confirmed.

Camera Returned to Negro Newsman

LIBERTY, Miss. (UPI)—A camera was returned yesterday to a Negro news photographer who lost it last week to an Amite County official while taking pictures of Negroes waiting in line to register to vote here.

Dewey Green, 21, a reporter and photographer for the weekly Mississippi Free Press in Jackson, said an official of the county seized the camera and ordered him to leave town.

Charles Butts, editor of the Negro newspaper, said the camera was returned Monday, minus the film, after he and Green called on the official here. Butts said no charges would be filed.

Flint Father Wins Degree and Honors

FLINT (AP) — Flint's college and cultural center is graduating a family man — the first to complete the curriculum entirely in afternoon and evening classes.

James J. Hesling, 30, father of two children and owner of his own home, is a full-time Fisher Body plant worker.

The college, more formally known as Flint College of the University of Michigan, is giving Hesling a bachelor of arts degree with honors.

FOR 6 YEARS

For six years Hesling worked his plant job from 6:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. and went to college from 4:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.

"I'm glad it's over but we would go through it again," said his wife Gertrude.

Hesling, with a "carefully mapped out program," successfully made it through the two years of junior college first and then the two at Flint College. Each took three years. Flint College gives only the third and fourth college years.

★ ★ ★

A high school graduate, Hesling came home from a four-year hitch in the Navy wondering about college.

From Germany he brought home Gertrude, whom he met in Wiesbaden.

COMMUNITY WORKERS

"I convinced myself that the only way was to make a schedule and stick to it," Hesling said.

Both Hesling and Gertrude, who gets her U.S. citizenship in November, are active in community affairs.

Hesling said that despite his crowded time he felt he did not greatly neglect the family. He took most of the summers off from school.

He called it "wonderful" that an opportunity of this sort was at hand "for working people to get a college degree."

With his degree Hesling is going to a new job in Chicago for the U.S. civil service.

Lakes Cruise Vessel Winds Up Season Early

HOLLAND (AP) — The SS North American has ended its Great Lakes cruise season — reportedly the earliest ever — by entering its winter berth at Holland Harbor. It arrived Saturday.

A spokesman for the Chicago, Duluth and Georgian Bay Lines, which operates the vessel and its sister ship, the SS South American, claimed cool weather this summer resulted in reduced passenger numbers.

The South American is expected at winter quarters about Sept. 20.

State Highways Open

Negroes Plan New Protests

Albany Integration Ranks Bolstered by Arrival of Clergymen

ALBANY, Ga. (UPI)—Negro integrationists, their ranks bolstered by the arrival of a biracial group of 40 Northern clergymen, were expected to resume antisegregation demonstrations here today in their running battle against segregation.

The ministers arrived last night and were welcomed by Negro integration leader Martin Luther King Jr. who announced plans for "demonstrations and prayer pilgrimages" today.

King, who has spearheaded desegregationist activities here since December, indicated he expected some integrationists would go to jail as a result of today's racial activity.

"After the morning meal, there may not be so many left for the dinner hour," he told a mass rally of about 1,100 Negroes at two churches.

"After the dinner hour there may not be many left for the supper hour and after the supper hour there may not be any left at all."

Mayor Asa D. Kelley Jr. told newsmen the clergymen would be allowed to conduct normal activities but would be required to obey all laws while in the city.

He said any prayer meeting held in front of the city hall might be broken up if it is determined it might cause a disturbance or block traffic.

Ministers arriving last night were from New York and Connecticut. Another expected busload of clergymen from Chicago had not arrived early today and there was an unconfirmed report the bus had experienced mechanical trouble in Tennessee.

Guess Who JFK's Voting for in Mass.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said yesterday that President Kennedy definitely intends to vote in the Massachusetts primary Sept. 18 in which his brother Edward is trying for nomination to the U.S. Senate against Edward McCormack, nephew of the House speaker.

Asked for whom Kennedy would vote, presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said he would leave that to his questioner's imagination.

News Conference for JFK Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will hold a news conference at 3 p.m. (Pontiac time) tomorrow, the White House announced.

It will be carried live on all national radio and television networks except CBS-TV. The White House said CBS-TV will delay the presentation until 4 p.m. EST.

Violent Crime Jumps in U.S.

Thievery Rise Puts Rate 3 Pct. Above Same Period of '61

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big increase in crimes of violence plus a jump in thievery pushed the nation's crime rate during the first first half of this year 3 per cent above the same period of 1961.

★ ★ ★

In over-all crime, things got a little better in the largest cities and in rural areas but were worse in the in-between population cities.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover's report which Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy made public yesterday said the total of aggravated assault rose 6 per cent, murder 4 per cent, forcible rape 3 per cent.

Auto thefts were 6 per cent higher, robbery and larceny of $50 and over 3 per cent and burglary 1 per cent.

MURDERS SOAR

Murders soared 38 per cent in cities between 500,000 and 750,000 population. Murder, aggravated assault, forcible rape and robbery increased 7 per cent in cities over 100,000 populations.

In all crime categories, Hoover said, the largest over-all increase was a 6 per cent rise in cities between 10,000 and 25,000 population.

Next was a 5 per cent rise in cities ranging from 250,000 to 750,000 people.

★ ★ ★

There was a 2 per cent decrease in over-all crime in cities in the population range of 750,000 to 1 million. Rural counties reported a crime rate 5 per cent under that of the first six months of 1961.

★ ★ ★

By areas, the Western states reported a crime increase of 6 per cent, the Northeastern states 4 per cent and Southern states 2 per cent. The North Central states reported a 1 per cent decrease.

Citizens Council Working on Details

To Study State Mental Health Spending

LANSING (AP) — The Citizens Research Council of Michigan has been asked to conduct an independent study, using its own funds, of how the Michigan Department of Mental Health spends its money.

★ ★ ★

The 10-member legislative audit commission met yesterday to work out preliminary details of the proposed study which would deal with one aspect of the program administered by the department of mental health.

The Citizens Research Council is a non-profit Detroit organization which conducts research projects financed by private contributions.

Rep. Allison Green, R-Kingston, Republican House floor leader and commission chairman, said the exact area with which the mental health study deals has not been decided.

"We want to discuss it some more before we get into a specific deal," said Green.

The commission was created this year by a law which Gov. Swainson refused to sign, and has as its general objective inquiries to determine whether appropriated funds are used by state agencies as intended by the legislature.

Swainson declined to sign the bill setting up the permanent bipartisan commission, composed of five members of each house, because he feared it could become "a vehicle for witch-hunting."

BELIEVES IN COMMISSION

Green said he believes in the commission because "there are too many one-shot deals in studies of state operations. The studies get made and stuck away on a shelf to gather dust, with no follow-up.

"My hope is that this commission will be able to function as similar bodies do in other states."

A temporary audit commission established in 1961 conducted its own study of out-of-state students in state-supported colleges and universities.

"I think some good may have come out of that study," he said.

Green said mental health was selected as the first project for the permanent commission because "we've been dumping an awful lot of money into beds and other things but our discharge rate seems to be low in comparison with other states."

★ ★ ★

The commission hired one staff auditor of its own, Jack L. MacGregor of Lansing, soon after it was created. Another auditor, Arthur E. Ellis of Jackson, has since been appointed.

MacGregor said yesterday the commission's projects are intended as "an objective report" in which the research team will attempt to find the good points and the weaknesses in state agencies.

He said a preliminary report on the mental health study might be ready by December.

'No Trouble' for Negroes

Pupils Breaking Race Barrier in Florida Say Things Go Well in Class

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Negro pupils who broke the racial barrier in nine Escambia County schools said there was no trouble and things went well in the classrooms.

The 21 children who Monday became the first of their race to enter previously white schools in northwest Florida may be joined today by another—Alver J. Nichols, 10.

★ ★ ★

Alver backed out at the last minute Monday, telling his parents: "I don't think I could make it."

His parents indicated, however, they probably would let him go to previously white N. B. Cook Elementary School until arrangements can be made for his transfer back to his former Negro school.

Sheila R. Harris, 16-year-old Negro senior who entered Pensacola High School, said that on the whole everything was very nice.

"The majority of the kids were very nice to me," she said.

'KIDS VERY NICE'

"Of course I was apprehensive at first, but they helped me a lot. I lost my way to class twice and some students showed me how to get there. There were no complications."

Barbara Donaldson, a junior at Pensacola High, said she, too, experienced a good day.

"Nobody tried to start trouble or hurt my feelings," she said. "If they did I didn't hear them."

Sees Overuse of Medicine by Sick People

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) —Dr. Harold J. Burn, professor emeritus of pharmacology at England's Oxford University, said yesterday he believes many sick persons take too much medicine.

Burn, who addressed the annual fall meeting of the American Society for Pharmacology and Experimental Therapeutics, warned that excessive use of drugs builds up drug resistance and can sometimes lead to death.

Among drugs that are greatly overused, he said, are tranquilizers and penicillin. Burn said 35 persons died from penicillin reactions in New York last year and that studies revealed only 12 of these persons actually needed the drug.

The western edition will be printed in Los Angeles simultaneously with the New York edition through the use of ultra-high speed equipment capable of sending news at 1,000 words a minute.

'Lord Shows the Way' — Convict Takes It

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)— An inmate baptized Sunday at a nearby prison farm testified to onlookers that "the Lord has shown me the way."

Monday Walter McWilliams, 31, was reported missing from the prison, where he was serving a 16-year term for burglary and grand larceny.

Indonesian Guerrillas to Be Notified of Pact

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Brig. I. J. Rikhye, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's military advisor, said Monday that the United Nations will drop thousands of leaflets over West New Guinea this week, telling the Indonesian guerrillas to come out of hiding.

★ ★ ★

The leaflets will tell Indonesians of the recently signed cease-fire agreement that ended the Dutch-Indonesian dispute over the territory, Rikhye said.

Soblen's Attorneys to Attempt Appeal

LONDON (UPI) — Lawyers for fugitive Soviet spy Dr. Robert Soblen will make another attempt tomorrow to prevent Britain from deporting him to the United States.

★ ★ ★

They will ask the Court of Appeal to overrule a high court rejection last week of a habeas corpus application by the 61-year-old New York psychiatrist.

By turning him down the high court upheld an Aug. 11 deportation order by the government.

Soblen is wanted in the United States to start serving a life sentence for wartime espionage.

He jumped $100,000 bail and fled the United States June 28.

★ ★ ★

It is estimated that between 450,000 and 500,000 persons in the United States are undergoing medical treatment for some forms of cancer.

History Repeating Itself

Films Follow Comedy Trend

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Hollywood knows a trend when it sees one; no doubt "Birth of a Nation" produced a rash of Civil War films. Now the industry is hot on the trail of the sophisticated comedy, in which there is no greater practitioner than the durable Cary Grant.

THOMAS

This is history repeating itself, for a quarter century ago Grant was in the vanguard of the first wave of sophisticated comedy. The result was such classics as "The Awful Truth," "Bringing Up Baby," "My Favorite Wife," etc.

Comedy got lost in a miasma of realism and psychiatry after the war. But the vogue for the sick pic appears waning, praise be. Hollywood needs no better signpost for the future than the fantastic record of "That Touch of Mink" at the Radio City Music Hall. It collected $1,886,427 in 10 weeks of play in that one theater.

★ ★ ★

Universal has become a satinlined factory for the sophisticated comedy, having minted such smashes as "Pillow Talk," "Operation Petticoat," "Come September" and "Lover Come Back." Coming up: "40 Pounds of Trouble" (Tony Curtis); "If a Man Answers," (Sandra Dee, Bobby Darin) and "Three on a Match."

'THE THRILL'

Also coming up is "The Thrill of It All," with Grant's coleader in the sophisticated (sex) comedy, Doris Day, plus James Garner. Another wave-rider, Rock Hudson, will be back with "It Seems There Were These Two Irishmen." Even Marlon Brando will join the trend with "King of the Mountain."

MGM has made Tennessee Williams' only comedy, "Period of Adjustment" with Jane Fonda and Tony Franciosa. The studio also has two hopeful laugh-getters shooting in Europe: "Follow the Boys" (Paula Prentiss, Russ Tamblyn) and "Friendliest Girls in the World" (Hugh O'Brian, Dolores Hart.)

★ ★ ★

"Mr. Hobbs Takes a Vacation" was Fox's biggest grosser of the year so far. The company is following up with another James Stewart comedy, "Take Her, She's Mine."

★ ★ ★

Paramount is going along with the trend, having made "Who's Got the Action?" with Lana Turner and Dean Martin and "My Six Loves" with Debbie Reynolds. Currently shooting is "Paris When It Sizzles" with William Holden and Audrey Hepburn. Upcoming: "Come Blow Your Horn" for Frank Sinatra.

'CRITICS' CHOICE'

Warner Brothers made "Critic's Choice" with Lucille Ball and that veteran sophisticate, Bob Hope. Now in production is "Not On Your Life" with Robert Preston and Tony Randall, an expert at such films. The studio plans to film the Broadway smash "Mary, Mary" with the original cast.

★ ★ ★

United Artists will join the sweepstakes with "Irma la Douce" (Jack Lemmon, Shirley MacLaine), "Grand Duke and Mr. Pimm" (Glenn Ford, Hope Lange), "Pink Panther" (David Niven), "Five Pieces of Maria" (Danny Kaye, Melina Mercouri) and "Shot in the Dark" (Sophia Loren).

★ ★ ★

Oddly, Columbia, which practically invented the sophisticated comedy starting with "It Happened One Night" has only one in the immediate future: "The Man From the Diner's Club" with Danny Kaye.

★ ★ ★

But Columbia is also planning "Under the Yum-Yum Tree," "Playboy," "Three on a Couch," "Fair Game," "Roar Like a Dove" and others.

What do these comedies of the 1960s have that those of the 1930s lacked? Sex. Times have changed, and so has the production code.

Reiterate Stand on Oral Vaccine

State Health Officials Withhold Approval of Polio Drug

LANSING (AP) — Michigan health officials stood their ground yesterday against the use of live oral polio vaccine despite a federal government expression of confidence in the drug.

The U. S. Public Health Service said it believes the vaccine is safe and stated it is impossible to prove that any current cases of polio developed as a result of taking it.

Dr. Albert Heustis, state health commissioner, urged last week that all polio inoculation programs in Michigan be conducted with the Salk vaccine, which is injected.

He based his recommendation on the fact that two cases of type 3 paralytic polio turned up among the 100,000 Michigan residents who have received oral vaccine.

★

In a letter to Michigan doctors and local health officials, Heustis repeated his recommendation against the use of oral vaccine.

"When the U. S. surgeon general says it isn't possible to establish that the vaccine virus caused any of the cases he is in effect saying 'we are not wrong until proven wrong'," said Heustis.

"We do not believe this is quite the approach which the public expects. In all fairness, the surgeon general might well have also said his evidence is circumstantial and that he has no proof that the Michigan cases were not related to the vaccine."

Heustis said "it is worthy of note" that the federal government also had indicated its confidence in a vaccine produced by the Cutter Co. which "later paid substantial claims" as a result of persons inoculated with it coming down with polio.

"I have been advised that in one local area the occurrence of paralytic polio after ingestion of the oral vaccine was referred to as 'an unfortunate situation'," said Heustis.

"It is our strong belief that there is no need to take the risk of having any 'unfortunate situations' in Michigan."

★ ★ ★

Michigan has had only five reported cases of polio this year, including the two which occurred after administration of the oral vaccine.

Why Not Peace Crops for Us?

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House appropriations subcommittee has just published some testimony given at its hearings on the Peace Corps budget.

I was about midway through the volume when my thoughts suddenly snapped their anchor chain and began to drift off in another direction.

If the Peace Corps is a good thing for the United States, I asked myself, why wouldn't it be a good thing for other countries to have one as well?

I mean, wouldn't it be nice if other countries began sending us teachers and technicians to help us out in matters in which we are deficient?

★ ★ ★

Offhand I can think of a number of ways that this would work to our advantage. Someone like Sargeant Shriver undoubtedly could think of a good many more.

Suppose, for instance, that Italy had a Peace Corps. It could send a delegation to America to help us improve our pizza pies.

There is no denying that we are backward in the pizza field. The ones I have been served would make good auto hubcaps, but as comestibles leave much to be desired.

SCOTCH RECIPE

Then consider that we now have to import our Scotch whisky. If Scotland would send a few Peace Corpsmen into the hills of Kentucky, I dare say they could soon have our moonshiners turning out a domestic blend that would pass for the real thing.

★ ★

U. S. tax drivers are another group that could use some foreign assistance. Their horn honking technique can only be described as primitive when compared to that heard in many European cities.

If France formed a Peace Corps and recruited a few Paris cab drivers for duty in the United States, I am confident they could increase our decible count almost overnight.

We likewise are still one of the underprivileged nations in the use of small, foreign-built cars. They are used here primarily as a means of transportation, which is an outmoded concept.

★ ★ ★

Peace Corps instructors from Hong Kong or Rome or Rio de Janeiro could quickly teach us that these cars can be employed to better advantage in chasing pedestrians off the streets, and sometimes off the sidewalks.

★ ★ ★

It is to be hoped that other freedom-loving countries will recognize that we are an emerging nation in these fields and will get their Peace Corpsmen to us right away.

Otherwise, Russia undoubtedly will move in with a Peace Corps of caviar experts.

Small Rebellion Over in Panama

PANAMA (AP) — Another vest pocket rebellion against Panama's government was over today.

A government annoucement said National Guard troops took the leader, former Maj. Jose Hurtado, and 16 of his 25 men prisoner Monday without firing a shot. Authorities said Hurtado had been shot in the left leg but that government troops didn't shoot him.

★ ★ ★

Hurtado, who took U.S. Army guerrilla training and once headed the National Guard's public order company, was fired last week. He had been accused of subversion, but some authorities said the ouster was the result of marital troubles.

Macabre Plot Kills Italian Milk Dealer

ARMA DI TAGGIA, Italy (UPI) — Tranquillo Allevi, a wholesale milk dealer in this quiet Italian village, was doing well enough.

But, like most businessmen, he wanted to improve his financial status.

Allevi, 50, known to his friends as Tino, was pleasantly surprised last Friday when he received in the mail from Milan a registered package containing a bottle of a popular soft drink.

A note attached to the red-colored beverage said Allevi was being considered for a local distributorship. He was invited to sample the drink.

"That's wonderful," Allevi told his wife. "Maybe fortune is smiling on us."

He placed the bottle in the refrigerator and decided to let it cool until the next afternoon. Allevi invited two friends over, told them of the business proposition and invited them to taste the drink.

'IT'S BITTER'

Allevi took the first drink. "My gosh, it's bitter," he said. He told his wife he would go to a nearby store and pick up another bottle of soda.

Allevi collapsed with severe stomach pains just outside the door and was rushed to a hospital. He died the same night.

An autopsy last night showed that Allevi died of strychnine poisoning, the apparent victim of a macabre murder plot.

DENIED BY FIRM

Police, who ordered a nationwide investigation, noted that the package was addressed to "Tino" rather than Tranquillo Allevi. They said the address and note inside the package were written on the same typewriter.

The bottle had been sealed by both a regular metal top and a cork cap inside, which is not in accordance with the soft drink firm's regulations.

There was no return address on the registered package. The firm said it had not sent the package to Allevi.

All Workers Return to Huntsville Jobs

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Jobs were manned at normal strength at the Marshall Space Flight Center Monday for the first time since Aug. 14 when about 150 electricians began a strike.

★ ★

Members of the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers set up pickets protesting employment of non-union electricians by a subcontractor. About 1,200 members of other building trades unions honored the lines and several projects vital to the country's moonshot program were hampered.

Judith Irene Rouse, daughter of the Floyd E. Rouses, North Preda Street, Waterford Township and Robert D. Wood, son of the Louis J. Woods, Quillen Drive, Drayton Plains, were wed Saturday in the Community United Presbyterian Church, Drayton Plains.

MRS. ROBERT D. WOOD

To Reside in Flint

Couple on Honeymoon in Northern Michigan

New residents of Flint will be the Robert Woods who spoke vows before Rev. W. J. Davidson, Saturday evening in the Community United Presbyterian Church, Drayton Plains. They are presently touring northern Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The former Judith Irene Rouse is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Rouse of North Preda Street, Waterford Township, and the Louis J. Woods of Quillen Drive, Drayton Plains, are the bridegroom's parents.

★ ★ ★

Fontainebleau galloon lace accented the Empire waistline and back fullness of the bride's floor-length gown of white peau de soie. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was fitted to a crown of pearls and crystals. She carried white orchids and carnations with ivy.

★ ★ ★

FLOWER GIRL

Ann Elizabeth Denhoff, Saline, was flower girl and Michael J. Poppy carried the rings.

★ ★ ★

Best man was David Maguire, Drayton Plains. Seating guests for their brother were Fireman Bruce M. Wood USN, Key West, Fla. and James L. Wood; the bridegroom's brothers-in-law, Donald Denhoff, Saline and Richard H. Sanderson, Clawson.

Mrs. Rouse chose a pink lace-over-taffeta dress with matching lace jacket and corsage of azalea pink glamellias. The mother of the bridegroom, was wearing a champagne beige brocade jacket dress and cocoa brown accessories. Her flowers were ice-green glamellias.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lucy Noland of Minneapolis, Minn., attended her grandson's wedding and church reception. Other guests were Charles Noland, Dallas, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Martin Perkins, South Bend and the Kenneth Kizers of Niles.

Waterford Newlyweds on Trip

Nuptial vows of Kathryn Johnson to Charles Korpak of Lincolnshire Drive, Waterford Township, were spoken before Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer in an evening ceremony Saturday in the Grace Lutheran Church.

Receiving guests with the couple in the Coral Reef Room, Airway Lounge, were their parents, the Charles Johnsons of Chadwick Drive, Waterford Township, and the Michael Korpaks of Paw Paw.

Preceding the bride to the candlelit chancel were matron of honor, Mrs. David Johnson, and bridesmaids Marjorie Atkins, Barbara Loncharte, Royal Oak, and Mrs. William Ridenour.

Carnations to match their dresses of silk peasantina in mutation shades of pink, rose and coral, centered cascades of white carnations.

TWINS IN PARTY

The Waterbury twins, Cynthia and Michael, were flower girl and ring bearer.

A veil of English illusion held by a lace-and-taffeta crown billowed over the bride's gown of white silk organza, with chapel train. Leaf motifs in Venise lace accented the Sabrina neckline.

The bride wore the bridegroom's diamond pendant gift and carried a white orchid and Stephanotis atop her white lace prayer book.

Best man was Kenneth Johnson. Seating guests were Edward Duda, Detroit; Michael Korpak Jr., Grand Junction, and Walter Kowalczuk of Rochester.

After a honeymoon in northern Michigan and Canada, the couple will live in Pontiac. The bride was graduated from Eastern Michigan University and her husband from Michigan State University.

White roses accented Mrs. Johnson's pale green embroidered silk organza dress. The mother of the bridegroom chose a Madonna blue silk sheath dress and wore pink roses at her shoulder.

MRS. CHARLES KORPAK

Kathryn Johnson, daughter of the Charles Johnsons of Chadwick Drive, Waterford Township, and Charles Korpak, of Lincolnshire Road, Waterford Township, son of the Michal Korpaks, Paw Paw, were wed Saturday in the Grace Lutheran Church.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cosgrove of Orchard Lake, he is a delegate representing Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo. He'll return to classes in September as a junior in business administration.

Dior Model Quits ---'It's Too Much'

LONDON (AP) — A preety red-haired welsh girl shattered an illusion held by many women — that being a model in a top French fashion house is all fun and glamour.

★ ★ ★

In fact Maggie Griffiths, 23, said she found it tiring and not particularly well paying and walked out on the house of Dior.

She has found she prefers London to Paris.

"I should have been with them until December at least," she said in an interview, "but I could not stand it a moment longer. I flew back to London for the weekend — and decided to stay here.

"I sent them a telegram to say I had been held up and could not return. I don't suppose Mr. Bohan, whom I like very much, knows about it yet."

★ ★ ★

Marc Bohan, the Dior chief, picked beautiful Miss Griffiths in February because she represented a particularly British type of good looks.

"Frankly, it all got to be a bit of a bore," she said. "Fittings from 10 in the morning until 10 at night; the same clothes in the same shows day after day. And I earned less in a week there than I can in one day in London.

"It is great prestige to work for Dior. I am fed up with prestige. You can't bank it."

A spokesman for the house of Dior in Paris had this to say of Maggie's comments:

"It's quite true — the models stand for fittings from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., but only for about two months a year. The rest of the time they work about two hours a day."

★ ★ ★

The long hours, he said, come when the collections are being put together. As to the pay: "If our models wish to pose for photographers for extra money they are entirely free to do so."

Travel in State Follows Evening Wedding Rites

Barbara Anne Plouhar became Mrs. Lynn T. Ealy Saturday evening when the couple exchanged vows at First Christian Church. Rev. Jack H. C. Clark performed the ceremony in the presence of some 200 guests.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Plouhar of Lakeview Drive and the Kenneth Ealys of Boston Avenue.

For her marriage Barbara chose a gown of imported organza with a lace top. The overskirt was enhanced by organza flowers and two tiers of Chantilly lace. Rosettes and pearls secured her fingertip veil. White gladioli sparked with pink and blue, comprised her bouquet.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dee Davidson served as matron of honor wearing white lace over pink taffeta and carrying pink gladioli. Bridesmaids Nancy Plouhar, the bride's sister, and Jean Ealy, sister of the bridegroom, attended in blue taffeta and organza dresses carrying bouquets of blue gladioli.

★ ★ ★

David Davidson was the bridegroom's best man while Tony Plouhar, brother of the bride, and Roger Ealy, the bridegroom's brother, ushered.

Following a reception in Gingellville Community Hall, the new Mrs. Ealy changed to a light green tweed suit with white accessories for traveling to northern Michigan.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Plouhar wore a blue taffeta dress accented with lace and white accessories. Mrs. Ealy's choice was a cinnamon sheath with matching accessories.

MRS. LYNN T. EALY

Married Saturday in First Christian Church were Barbara Anne Plouhar and Lynn T. Ealy. Parents of the newlyweds are the Raymond Plouhars of Lakeview Drive, and the Kenneth Ealys of Boston Avenue.

Ask Kin What They Prefer

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My daughter is going to be married soon. I have a brother and sister who are not married nor engaged. Both asked if they could bring a friend with them to the reception and I consented.

However, this is the problem: I was going to seat my brother and sister at the first table with the grandparents and other close relatives.

Now that they are bringing guests I don't know what to do. Do I seat them with others at another table, must I seat them at the first table with my brother and sister, or should I seat all four together at another table?

A: The guests of your brother and sister would not be seated at the main table with members of the family. In fact, to do so would give others the impression that there is a serious relationship between them.

I would suggest that you ask your brother and sister whether they prefer to be seated at the main table or with their friends at another table.

Q: At this time of the year when it does not get dark until rather late in evening, is it proper to use candles on the dinner table even though it is still daylight?

A: Candles are never incorrect on a dinner table, although in midsummer their light is useless and only adds to the heat. Therefore they are not lighted unless the meal is to be long enough to run into darkness.

Before Babies Come

Go Back to Mama and Dad, They Love You, They'll Aid

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I thought I couldn't live without Alan, so my mama signed for us to get married. I am 16 and he is 22. My folks didn't want me to get married but they were fearful, if they didn't sign for me, we'd be sorry.

ABBY

Well, to make a long story short we have been married for four months and Alan has changed. He leaves me alone and runs with his boy friends. (He has even dated some old girl friends.) He has hit me a couple of times.

When I beg him to stay home or take me with him, he says I nag him. Abby, I can't tell my parents I made a mistake, and I can't live this way any more. Please help me.

TOO YOUNG

DEAR YOUNG: Admit you were wrong and go home to your parents. Alan obviously is not ready for the responsibilities of marriage.

Perhaps an annulment can be arranged because of your age. Invite a clergyman to sit in with your parents and his. Better now than three years and three babies later.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Whenever my wife and I want to go somewhere she tells me she has "nothing" to wear.

I swear to you you couldn't get another dress in her closet it is so crammed tight with dresses. Will you please tell me what a woman means when she says she has nothing to wear?

STUPID

DEAR STUPID: Your wife means she has nothing "new" to wear. But that is no longer a legitimate excuse because the older a dress is these days, the newer it looks!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have been married four years, I am 52 and my husband is 60. This is the second marriage for both of us. I have married children who never ask for a thing from us.

★ ★ ★

He has a son who is 38, has been married and divorced twice, and is planning a third marriage. He works for his father (when he feels like it) but he never has any money.

He wants his father to pay for the rings and the honeymoon. I told my husband absolutely not. He says he will do it for the last time and swear off helping the boy. I'd like your opinion.

MRS. K.F.

DEAR MRS. K. F.: The "boy" is 38 years old. He hasn't behaved like a man because he hasn't been required to. If your husband buys the rings and finances his son's honeymoon, he had better prepare to take care of this free-loader forever.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Do you think I am a case for a psychiatrist? I keep a diary, but it really isn't much good because it is full of lies. It tells about dates I never had with boys I don't even know.

★ ★ ★

I enjoy writing in it, but I am beginning to wonder if I am crazy. I keep it well hidden so there is no danger of my mother or anyone else finding it. What makes a person do things like that? I am 15 and not very popular.

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: If it will make you feel better, you have lots of company. Many people find escape from dull reality by creating a more exciting make-believe world. A certain amount of daydreaming is normal and healthy. Concentrate on developing your personality and becoming more social, and you'll enjoy reality more and dreams less.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are going to celebrate our 10th wedding anniversary shortly. I have heard that some of our friends are getting together and giving us a surprise party. Should we be "surprised"?

NOT SURPRISED

DEAR NOT: You can't "be" surprised — but you can ACT

MRS. WILLIAM P. VERHEY

Wed Saturday in the Wesleyan Methodist Church were JoAnn Lydia Smith, daughter of the Alfred W. Smiths, Lake Orion, to William P. Verhey, son of the Anthony W. Verheys of Lamont Avenue, Drayton Plains.

Verhey-Smith Vows Spoken in Evening

Potted ferns and baskets of white and yellow gladioli graced the candlelit chancel of Wesleyan Methodist Church for the Saturday evening vows of JoAnn Lydia Smith of Lake Orion to William P. Verhey.

A reception in Donelson Baptist Hall followed the ceremony performed by Rev. Jay DeNeff.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the newlyweds are the Alfred W. Smiths, Lake Orion, and the Anthony W. Verheys of Lamont Avenue, Drayton Plains.

Wearing white nylon lace over taffeta, styled with sequined bodice and floor-length skirt, the bride held a Bible bouquet of white orchids and gladioli with rose streamers. Her fingertip veil fell from a seed pearl crown.

Mrs. James Yoder, Keego Harbor, her sister's matron of honor, wore blue dotted Swiss over matching taffeta and a yellow carnation wrist corsage.

Best man was Ronald Davis of Garden City. Airman 3.C. Robert Verhey of San Antonio, Tex. seated guests at his brother's wedding with the bridegroom's uncle, James McDonald, Auburn Heights and Dale Wiltse.

Also in the wedding-party were Rebecca Rosales, flower girl; Roger Yoder of Keego Harbor, the bride's nephew, carried the Bible used for the ceremony and his sister Zanna who held a miniature white Bible topped with flowers, and Timothy J. Best.

★ ★ ★

The couple will be at home in Crescent Lake Estates, following a northern Michigan honeymoon. The bride previously attended Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill.

Yellow roses complemented green taffeta with silk overlay for Mrs. Smith and a brown and copper brocaded faille dress for the mother of the bridegroom.

Doctor Answers Question

Bachelor or Widower?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE N-408: Maude L., aged 34, is an attractive school teacher.

DR. CRANE

"I have been going with a bachelor for the past seven years," she told me. "He is now 39. We have many interests in common and get along very well.

"But he never seems to reach the point of actually talking about getting married.

"Recently I met a widower who is 36. We have had a few dates and my bachelor friend acts hurt and offended.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, if you were in my position, what would you do? This widower seems to be just as well suited to my background and temperament as the bachelor."

DIAGNOSIS

As a general rule, beware of bachelors, at least after they have passed 30, for such men are usually quite set in their ways.

There are some exceptions, but the batting averages are against older bachelors. If you have a choice, as Maude does, take the man who has been civilized and housebroken by a previous wife.

And be grateful to her, instead of jealous. A devoted young husband and wife get on each other's nerves frequently, and must learn to eliminate some of their previous selfish ways, while developing new habits of consideration and unselfishness.

★ ★ ★

A certain amount of heartache and tears is the lot of the usual wife, even in a devoted marriage, before she finally attains harmony in her marriage.

★ ★ ★

If she then dies, her husband is more likely to show consideration and greater fair play to his second wife, as a result of the efforts of Wife Number One.

A widower is really a graduate of a marriage training course under the direction of his first wife. He is normally a better prospect, therefore, than a self-centered bachelor.

BACHELOR VS. WIDOWER

A man who has reached the age of 35 in an unmarried state is an abnormal individual, viewed statistically, for the great majority of men marry before 30.

★ ★ ★

What can explain a single man past 35? Has he been too much addicted to a "mother complex?" Maybe he is still tied to his mother's apron strings.

★ ★ ★

Maybe he argues that his career or profession has not permitted marriage. That excuse is usually a cover up for such intense egotism that he prefers to struggle alone for the plaudits of the crowd than to cuddle an attractive wife in his arms.

Besides, a good man can have both fame and a charming wife. The latter is usually partly if not largely responsible for his fame.

Some bachelors are so weak in sexual vigor or hunger that they have no great romantic desire towards womanhood. They are thus content with maternal coddling and a woman cook or housekeeper.

PROOF OF PUDDING

"I married the widower," Maude recently wrote to me, "and I want to thank you for pushing me into this decision.

★ ★ ★

"We are most happy together, and I am very grateful that I didn't string along another seven futile years with my bachelor friend.

★ ★ ★

"My husband is very thoughtful and considerate, so I realize every day the debt I owe to his first wife. And now we are planning to have a baby, so please send me your bulletin on 'Facts About Pregnancy'."

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

In Candlelight Rite

Nancy Ohanesian Wed to Ralph J. LeVigne

A garden reception at the Frank Ohanesian home on Oxley Drive, Waterford Township, followed the vows of their daughter Nancy to Ralph J. LeVigne, Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church.

★ ★ ★

An Italian crown centered with an organza rose caught her silk illusion veil. White roses, Stephanotis and Ivy comprised her bouquet. Her pearl necklace was the bridegroom's gift.

Jeanette Paris Ohanesian, her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Douglas Conger, Rochester, and Bette Morris, appeared in peacock blue taffeta sheaths with petal overskirts. Their all-yellow bouquets were carnations and sweetheart roses. Nancy Ohanesian was flower-girl for her aunt.

The bridegroom, son of the Floyd J. LeVignes of Meyers Road, Drayton Plains, had the bride's brother John Ohanesian, Madison Heights, for best man. Ushers were Scott Tucker and Thomas Pinta, both of Flint.

After a honeymoon in the Smoky Mountain Park area, the couple will live in Pontiac. The bridegroom, who attended Flint Junior College, is a member of Beta Phi Sigma Fraternity.

Mrs. Ohanesian chose petal pink silk organza, matching hat and corsage of white roses for the wedding.

★ ★ ★

The mother of the bridegroom appeared in a gray Irish linen sheath dress with lace bodice and pink accents.

It Could Be Malignant

Treat Mole With Respect

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A mole which is not subject to irritation may be harmless—but it never should be given any home remedy. See an expert.

A beautiful complexion can make a face with only moderately good features look lovely, while a marred skin detracts greatly from even classic features. No wonder women struggle for the skin you love to look at!

There are so many different kinds of skin blemishes. Of course there are blackheads and pimples and large pores. Then there are rashes and warts and moles.

Most extreme or serious epidermis trouble occurs because the person tried to treat the condition and failed to obtain expert help in the early stages.

THEY PICK

Most folks who have skin trouble pick at their faces. This is especially true of teen-agers. Blackheads are squeezed and turn into pimples. Pimples are worked on and the infection spreads.

Warts and moles are subjected to home remedies, sometimes with disastrous results.

Many women write to me to ask about moles. Usually, these are harmless, though disfiguring. They can be removed by a dermatologist. Though moles generally are harmless they can be dangerous. Therefore, it is well to know something about them.

If you have a mole which is subjected to irritation by belts, collars, bras or girdles, it is safer to have it removed. If a mole changes in color or size, or has even a slight secretion or bleeds, you should see a skin specialist at once.

It is important to have an expert remove a mole because if this is inadequately done and should be malignant, the danger is great. This is true even if the mole is small.

As I said, most moles are harmless, but they should be treated with respect. If you want them removed for cosmetic reasons, this can be easily and safely done by a well-qualified person, but not by you.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Clear the Way for Beauty" (information about skin blemishes), send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 48 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Hominy Grits Casserole Excellent for Brunch

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If you're looking for something different to serve with the meat course, try a hominy casserole. This would make an acceptable brunch dish too.

Mrs. Harold Hughes shares this recipe with us. She is a charming energetic person who has no intention of retiring from life's activities even though her husband has retired from his job.

She does substitute teaching. She reads, sews, does lovely handwork and gardens. Furthermore, she bubbles over with enthusiasm about her interests.

HOMINY GRITS CASSEROLE
By Mrs. Harold Hughes

1½ teaspoons salt
3 cups water
1 cup dry hominy grits
1 cup milk
4 eggs, slightly beaten
¼ pound butter or margarine
½ cup grated sharp cheese

Cook grits in salted boiling water until done. Remove pan from heat and let stand until lukewarm. Then add milk, eggs and butter. Blend well. Pour into greased casserole. Bake 35 minutes, covered, in 350-degree ovcn.

Sprinkle cheese over top and bake an additional 10 minutes uncovered, or until cheese melts. Test for doneess as for custard pie. Makes 6 servings.

Tall Girls Get Advice Fashions

NEW YORK (NEA) — Because she is herself a tall girl, actress Paula Prentiss feels she is on sound ground in passing out fashion advice to other tall girls.

★ ★ ★

"When I was in the seventh grade," she says, "I used to droop to hide my height. By the time I reached the eighth grade, the boys had grown. So I straightened up and stayed that way."

★ ★ ★

At a height of 5 feet 9 inches, the actress prefers simple clothes, often with lowered waistlines for proper proportion with her long legs. Her taste runs to wide belts, soft fabrics, floaty scarves, important jewelry and brimmed hats.

★ ★ ★

"I feel that a hat focuses attention on my face and brings the eye downward so that my height seems gracefully balanced," she explains, "My husband (Richard Benjamin) usually doesn't comment on my clothes. But when I wore a little black evening hat last night, he said, 'Hey, that's cute,' without a bit of prompting."

★ ★ ★

Tragedy Not Right for Salesmanship

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Did you ever notice the triumphant excitement with which many television announcers give the grim details of a tragedy?

First they build up what is to come by "teasing" the audience with the assurance that a head-on collision took five lives, or a whole family was burned to death in a fire that swept their two story frame home, or a teen-ager shot his parents while they slept, and then they add, "Details on this story in just a moment — but first a word . . . ."

After a long commercial the announcer comes back on the air breathless with excitement over the gory details of whatever tragedy he is "featuring" in the day's news.

Nobody expects a television announcer to give the news of a terrible tragedy in a voice that shakes with emotion, or in the unctuous tones of a professional mourner.

★ ★ ★

But why do they have to build up a tragic story in the excited voices of midway barkers? And why don't they see how callous they sound when they build up a tragedy before a commercial like the preview of a coming attraction?

★ ★ ★

Their manner seems to say, "Just hold on a minute! Be good and listen carefully to our sponsor's sales pitch and you will be rewarded with the details of today's most harrowing story."

★ ★ ★

It would seem that somebody — announcer, television station executives or sponsor — would realize how unfeeling and in what poor taste it is to make use of a tragedy in order to get in a good sales pitch.

There's no sales pitch in Ruth Millett's booklet, "Happier Wives (hints for husband)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, care The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Hoffa Took Bobby in First Round

(Editor's Note — This is the second of five dispatches on the life and times of Jimmy Hoffa.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — About the only thing Bobby Kennedy and Jimmy Hoffa have in common is physical culture.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa is 5 feet, 5½ inches tall and 180 pounds of solid muscle. He doesn't smoke or drink, does push-ups and exercises with bar bells.

He has been known to sit alertly at the table for 36 hours in a contract negotiation. Kennedy is a push-up man, too, and rides horseback, hikes, swims and plays touch football.

So both were in the pink for the historic struggle that started on Aug. 20, 1957, when Chairman John L. McClellan of the Senate Rackets Committee said: "Mr. Hoffa, will you be sworn please."

JFK ON COMMITTEE

Kennedy, as committee counsel, was going to do the prosecuting. One member of the committee was Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

At the time Hoffa was ninth vice president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America. The President was Dave Beck of Seattle, now serving a prison term for income tax evasion, and already on the skids as head of the big union.

The one thing that probably wrecked Beck's career as a labor leader was that he took the Fifth Amendment (140 times in one session) when he appeared before the McClellan committee.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa was faced with a tough decision as he got ready to testify. If you are going to take the Fifth Amendment, you had better take it all the way rather than answering some questions and refusing to answer others.

If you answer a question as to whether you are a member of the Teamsters Union, then the next one is likely to be whether you ever stole any money from the union and if you decline to answer you are in contempt of Congress.

Dave Beck Jr., took the Fifth when asked whether he knew his father.

Hoffa, with a lawyer on either side, rejected the protection of the Fifth Amendment.

NOT TO BOBBY

He was deferential toward the senators on the committee and addressed them as "sir," but he treated Bobby Kennedy as though he were patting a shaggy dog on the head. Kennedy bored in immediately:

"You have been arrested a number of times, Mr. Hoffa. How many approximately?"

"Well, I don't know, Bob," Hoffa replied, "I haven't counted them up."

Kennedy counted them up for him. They skimmed over the arrests for illegal picketing (Hoffa claims he once was arrested 18 times in 24 hours but always returned to the picket line).

★ ★ ★

Two things were left. Hoffa was accused of violating the federal antitrust law in Detroit in connection with the collection and shipment of waste paper. He pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) and was fined $1,000.

He also was convicted of a misdemeanor in connection with collecting $5 in "initiation fees" from Detroit grocers and was ordered to return $7,500 to them.

Hoffa was calm and cool and almost every time he answered a question he took out insurance against a perjury charge by saying "to the best of my recollection . . . ." That meant he could change his testimony later if somebody refreshed his recollection.

KNEW SYSTEM

Gradually a pattern developed in Kennedy's questions and Hoffa's answers. When they got on the subject of his finances. Hoffa testified that he made the acquaintance of Owen Bert Brennan, president of a Teamsters local in Detroit.

Brennan had achieved something that millions of persons have sought without success — an infallible system for beating the horses.

Hoffa testified that each year he gave Brennan some cash to put on the horses and at the end of the year he got back winnings that ranged between $5,000 and $10,000.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa's income tax returns over a few years listed a total of $60,000 income in "wagering and miscellaneous."

The committee and everybody in the crowded room was eager to have the Brennan system of picking horses explained. Kennedy poured questions at Hoffa, but Jimmy professed to know nothing.

"Ask Brennan," he suggested.

That's what the committee did and Brennan was brought to the stand. His lawyer explained that Brennan was involved in some litigation in New York State, and then Kennedy stated the questions.

"On the advice of counsel," Brennan replied, "I respectfully decline at this to answer and under the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution I assert my privilege not to be a witness against myself."

★ ★ ★

He started saying that around 2 p.m., and said it steadily until 6:20 p.m. It soon became evident to everybody that the secret of picking horses was going to remain locked in Brennan's brain with the Fifth Amendment standing sentinel.

This was to become a familiar pattern in the hearings. Hoffa would suggest that somebody else knew the answer to the question and then that person would take the Fifth Amendment.

Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota, a member of the committee, finally leaned toward Brennan and said:

★ ★ ★

"I think Mr. Hoffa is taking the Fifth Amendment through your lips."

There wasn't any doubt that Hoffa had won the first round.

Peach Festival Plans Ready

FIRST IN LINE—Naturally enough the children of Mrs. Glenn Dietlin, chairman of the Children's Parade, one of the main attractions of the Romeo Peach Festival on Labor Day, would be first in line to register. Jerry Dietlin, 3, wearing his spaceman's outfit, is followed by his sister, Glenda, 10½, a majorette who will lead the parade. Indian Randy King, 6, patiently waits his turn.

By LEE WINBORN
Area News Editor

ROMEO — A crowd-pleasing mixture of the traditionally old and the excitingly new will mark the 30th annual Peach Festival program which opens here Saturday.

★ ★ ★

A highpoint of the Labor Day weekend festivities which customarily draw over 30,000 to the "heart of the fruit country" will be Saturday night's coronation ceremonies.

Gov. Swainson is expected to be on hand to place the crown on the head of lovely blonde Wallyse Ragel of Roseville, Peach Queen of 1962.

The appearance of the state's chief executive in Romeo for this occasion has been a popular tradition for more than a decade.

The auditorium of Romeo Junior High School will be the setting for the impressive 8 p.m. event.

A prelude to Saturday's program will be the opening of the carnival at the Lions Community Field at noon Friday. It will be followed by the judging of the Thumb Area Art Exhibit at 2:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple.

Judges will be nationally famous portrait painter John Coppin of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. C. K. Auvil, Romeo area artist and sculptor.

★ ★ ★

At 4 p.m. there will be a reception for the queen and exhibitors and the presentation of the sterling silver peach bowl award. The ribbon-cutting ceremonies at 4:30 p.m. will officially open the exhibit to the public.

The carnival opens at noon on Saturday after which sky diving exhibitions, new this year, will be staged continuously from 1 to 7 p.m. at Romeo Airport.

Participating will be the All America Sport Parachute Team and the 82nd Airborne Division Association.

The art exhibit will be open again from 1 to 8 p.m., and at 2 p.m. Village President Wayne Black will present the key to Romeo to Queen Wallyne at the corner of West St. Clair and Main streets.

GAMES PLANNED

Children's games will be played on West St. Clair between Main and Rawles streets beginning at 3 p.m. Prizes will be awarded.

★ ★ ★

Another new feature this year will be the pony pull by the Thumb Pony Pull Association at the Lions Field at 7 p.m.

Free variety acts will be presented at 9 p.m. on the stage at the Lions Field after the coronation.

Flyers from all over the state will converge on Romeo Airport between 7 a.m. and noon Sunday for the Dawn Patrol, an event being revived this year during the festival. Breakfast will be served in the hangar by the Romeo "R" Club beginning at 11 a.m.

★ ★ ★

The carnival will open at noon and the art exhibit at 1 p.m. Sky diving events again will be staged at the airport from 1 to 7 p.m.

Main afternoon attractions will be softball exhibitions at Memorial Stadium. Playing the slow pitch game will be the Romeo and Armada All Stars.

The fast pitch match will feature the Malow Excavating team from Utica against Garrison Chevrolet of Mount Clemens.

Parades will be the order of the day on Monday.

PARADES MONDAY

First will be the appealing Children's Parade at 10 a.m. It will form at the North Grade School, proceed down Main street to Church, then to North Rawles, West St. Clair to Main and return.

Prizes will be awarded for the most outstanding large floats, small floats, walking groups and single entries.

The gala floral parade at 2 p.m. will feature some 12 bands and drum and bugle corps, numerous marching units and drill teams, baton twirlers, floats and beauty queens from all over Southeastern Michigan — over 50 entries in all.

As in years past, crowds are expected to line the Main Street parade route at least 10 deep for this colorful event.

The carnival will open at noon and the art exhibit from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 3:30 to 9 p.m. The sky diving exhibitions again are slated for 1 to 7 p.m. and the free acts at 4 and 8 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Negro Leader Urges Equality

We Don't Desire Any Special Privileges, Elk Ruler Says

DETROIT (UPI)—The American Negro wants equality, not special privileges, a Negro leader said yesterday.

Hobson R. Reynolds, grand exalted ruler of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World, said, "The American Negro only wants equal opportunity, and we will find the way to success by ourselves."

He was addressing the national convention of the largest Negro fraternal group. He said the Elks have spent nearly $2-million sending children of all races to top-rated universities as part of its program to provide better opportunities for youth.

A guest speaker at the conclave was Michigan Supreme Court Justice Otis M. Smith, the first Negro to ever serve on the state high court.

"The only thing wrong with politics," Justice Smith said, "is that too many good people fail to participate." He urged the delegates to take an active role in government.

★ ★ ★

He said all citizens are perpetual dues-paying members of their government and should become interested in how their money is spent.

"There are two types of government, the type that promises and the type that delivers — and you know which type to support," he said.

Michigan Gov. John B. Swainson, Democrat, said he did not like to use the term "civil rights."

He said "equal fights" was more appropriate. He also appeared at the convention which ends Friday.

Error Slowing Up Action for Union Lake 'City' Vote

A time-consuming setback was suffered yesterday by supporters of the proposed city incorporation of Union Lake.

Because of an error between the legal description and the map of the 16-square mile area planned for incorporation, they learned from the boundaries committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors that new petitions will have to be submitted before further county action is taken.

★ ★ ★

The inconsistency was revealed at a preliminary hearing on the incorporation bid at the county offices, attended by about 50 persons, many of them voicing objections to the city proposal.

A group known as the Union Lake Citizens Committee for Progressive Government is seeking the incorporation as a city for the area which takes in parts of four townships, Waterford, Commerce, West Bloomfield and White Lake.

The purpose of the incorporation is to keep the identity of Union Lake intact, according to the citizens committee.

The group fears that Union Lake might be annexed if any of the townships, particularly Waterford, becomes a city, a move they say that is seriously being contemplated.

TO MEET SOON

Commerce Township supervisor and chairman of the supervisor's boundaries committee, Thomas Tiley said a meeting will be held in two weeks to decide whether to accept the amended boundary description and revised map.

Tiley, who yesterday surrendered the chairmanship to Holly Township Supervisor Seeley Tinsman, said it is likely that the boundaries committee will accept the revisions, saving the citizens committee the $500 filing expense of starting the procedure all over.

When the Board of Supervisors meets Sept. 17, Tiley said it will probably be his committee's recommendation that the revised documents be accepted.

If the full board agrees, Tiley explained, the public hearings can continue and the committee can review the maps and make a recommendation on a date for a special election to the supervisors.

An election could not be held until March or May, the supervisor said.

This election would not decide city incorporation but only name a commission to draw up a city charter, which also would have to be voted on at a later date.

Start Queen Judging Tonight

Honor Beauties at Fair

DETROIT (UPI) — Girls, girls, girls — the fairest of the state were honored today at the Michigan State Fair.

★ ★ ★

Prime examples of pulchritude were honored at a special "Beauty Queens Day," which was scheduled to end tonight when Miss Michigan State Fair of 1962 judging begins.

Each of the girls in the running for the Miss Michigan State Fair title must have won a sponsored beauty queen contest in the state since the last fair.

★ ★ ★

Ten finalists will be picked and they compete tomorrow night in the finals. Gov. John B. Swainson will present the crown to the winner in ceremonies at the music shell.

★ ★ ★

A bubble gum blowing contest was scheduled for 10 this morning to open another full day of the gala show.

TWIRLING CONTEST

For the older children, the freshman girls' division of the baton twirling contest was to be held at noon in the Old-Timers' Grove.

Three area youths, Douglas Long of Commerce Township, Steve Smith of Lyon Township and Dale Walker of Metamora Township, received major awards in the cattle judging competition yesterday.

Long, of 3988 Sleeth Road, won a coveted ribbon for his grand champion Holstein, which was also named first produce of dam.

★ ★ ★

Long was one of the most consistent winners at the Oakland County 4-H Fair earlier this month, winning a half dozen blue ribbons for his Holsteins, including the showmanship award which he also won at the State Fair yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Smith, of 2831S Dixboro Road, won a reserve champion award for his Angus.

GRAND CHAMPION

The grand champion shorthorn award went to Walker's entry.

Walker, 266 Sutton Road, had the reserve grand champion of all breeds at the Lapeer County Youth Fair held last week.

A Clio, Iowa, boy won the honors in the judging of the grand champion steer. The winner was a hereford owned by Gary Minish.

The reserve champion, an Angus, was owned by Mahogany Farm of Williamston.

In the junior show judging two top awards were given to Marcia King, of Coldwater. She won the grand champion steer with her Hereford and came back and took the honors in the reserve grand champion steer class with an Angus.

Beef showmanship award also went to Angela Shaft of Perry as well as Doug Long.

Firm Sues Farmington in Zoning Controversy

FARMINGTON — The Quigley Machine Products Co., 30966 Grand River Ave., yesterday filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court against the City of Farmington in a zoning controversy affecting the firm's expansion plans.

The firm had rejected a compromise plan offered by the city to satisfy both Charles A. Quigley, owner of the firm, and nearby residents who protested to a rezoning of property at the rear of plant.

Quigley said the compromise proposal left out two features that were essential to the plant's expansion.

★ ★ ★

Residents complained that Quigley's planned $250,000 enlargement of the plant to approximately three times its present size, would lower the value of their homes in the area.

MIGHT RELOCATE

Quigley indicated a relocation of the plant might be considered although he liked its present location.

The suit in Circuit Court to force the city to grant the rezoning, however, indicated the firm has not yet decided to leave Farmington.

Neither Quigley nor his attorney, Albert P. Herzog of Farmington, were available for comment on the details of the lawsuit this morning.

★ ★ ★

The key points left out of the city's proposed compromise, according to Quigley, were utilization of the plant's entire area on its Nine Mile Road side for parking and storage and extension of the main building to within 12 feet of a lot line.

The city's proposed agreement restricted the use of plant property on Nine Mile Road and specified expanding only to within 20 feet of the lot line.

Condemnation of Strip on 14-Mile Road OK'd

TROY — The Troy City Council last night authorized the city attorney to condemn a strip of land 20 to 27 feet wide along the north side of 14-Mile Road, as part of the city's water expansion program.

★ ★ ★

The easement will be used for extension of water main by the city.

Expect 900 Students at Clarkston High

CLARKSTON — An enrollment increase of 100 students over last year is expected when classes begin Sept. 5 at Clarkston High School.

Approximately half of the increase will occur in the freshman class, according to projected figures. Total enrollment of 900 is anticipated.

Registration sessions begin today and continue through Friday. Registration hours are 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. each day. Students will also purchase text books this week.

State Police Officer at Bad Axe to Retire

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The commanding officer of the Bad Axe State Police Post, Sgt. Otto A. Buelow, will retire Sept. 9 after 25 years of service with the department.

Sgt. Buelow began with the state police in 1937 and served in Romeo, Marquette, St. Ignace, Manistique, South Haven and East Lansing before becoming post commander at Bad Axe in 1955.

State Highway Toll 920

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Traffic accidents have claimed 920 lives in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll on the same date a year ago was 952.

W. Bloomfield Opening Its Schools Sept. 6

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Classes in the West Bloomfield School system will begin Sept. 6, with a full day planned for grades one through 12.

Kindergartern children will be registered that day but their classes will not begin until the following day.

New students to the district may register at the West Bloomfield High School any day this week from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

Buses will operate Sept. 6 according the same schedule as last year, school officials said. The cafeterias also will be opened that day.

★ ★ ★

Book rental and locker fees for high school students will be collected in the homeroom on Sept. 7.

Teachers will assemble at the West Bloomfield High School at 10 a.m. Sept. 4 for their first meeting.

Sylvan Lake Woman Injured in Collision

TROY — A two-car collision at the intersection of Adams and 18 Mile roads, yesterday, resulted in the injury to Mrs. Mathew Lingenfelter, of 2181 Ferndale St., Sylvan Lake, driver of one of the cars.

Driver of the other car, Robert Carroll, of 2955 Tewksbury St., Birmingham, stated to Troy police that Mrs. Lingenfelter failed to stop for the stop sign at the intersection.

Mrs. Lingenfelter is in fair condition with fractured ribs and multiple cuts at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. Carroll was treated at the hospital and released.

In Evening Ceremony

Couple Exchanges Vows

LAKE ORION — Candlelight vows of Janice Evelyn Williams and David John Elliott were exchanged before Rev. Robert Hudgins Saturday evening at Lake Orion Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Stuart E. Williams, 210 S. Broadway St., and the Melvin Bowers of Adrian.

A white peau de sole gown featuring a full skirt with chapel train and Sabrina neckline bordered with Alencon lace was chosen by the bride for her wedding.

★ ★ ★

A wreath of white velvet leaves which was centered with a gardenia accented with miniature pink rosebuds held her bouffant veil of silk illusion. Her bridal bouquet was a Hogarth curve of white glamellias highlighted with pink Carol Amling roses.

★ ★ ★

Maid of honor was Nancy Wilkinson, Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Drews of Muskegon, sister of the bridegroom, Nancy Matthes of Adrian, Susan Schaar and Carol Williams, sister of the bride.

Serving as best man was Larry Melendy of Mason. The guests were seated by William Sims, Terry Aldaugh and Gary Keller, all of Adrian, and David Williams brother of the bride.

The reception was held in the Methodist Church House immediately following the rites.

★ ★ ★

Following a honeymoon trip to Northern Michigan and Canada, the newlyweds will reside in Adrian.

Students Aiding Teachers in a Summer Course

Twenty Oakland County junior high school English teachers and librarians and an equal number of vacation - bored 14 - year - olds are spending the last week of the summer at work.

★ ★ ★

The teachers are learning how to direct youngsters in methods of research. The students, most of them Birmingham ninth graders, are learning about innovators of significant ideas.

Instructors for the workshop are Miss Jane Ward and Mrs. Margaret Friewald, who developed an English class-library use unit at Barnum Junior High School in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

The workshop, conducted with the cooperation of Dr. Harry T. Hahn, director of instruction, Oakland County Board of Education, is held in the County Schools Office. It opened Aug. 22 and will continue through Thursday.

Bills for Water Not Being Paid

Council at Lake Orion Studies Plans to Curb Use of Facility

LAKE ORION—The Lake Orion Village Council last night approved plans to curb the use of the village water facilities by customers with delinquent bills.

The move was made, according to Irvine J. Unger, village president, because of $2,006 in outstanding water bills for the use of the village utility.

★ ★ ★

Action was also taken by the council to begin tests of locations where commercial water meters are installed. Unger said the feeling of the council is that many of the establishments could be billed a flat rate and do not warrant the use of the meters.

★ ★

The council will also study water rates of the section of Orion Township that receives the service of Lake Orion water.

★ ★ ★

According to Unger, the village cannot put a lien on property of the township customers if bills are delinquent, and an agreement must be worked out between the village and township governments to control the delinquencies.

Caspers-Salzbrun Vows

Marry in Morning

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — St. Benedict's Catholic Church in Pontiac was the setting for the recent morning nuptials of Dianne Marjorie Salzbrun and Martin Alphonse Caspers. Rev. Thomas J. Purcells read the service.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Harris, 8504 Pontiac Lake Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Aloys M. Caspers, 8896 Arlington Drive, White Lake Township.

A gown of white silk organza, featuring flower-patterned re-embroidered Alencon lace at the V-shaped neckline and bodice and in graceful sprays on the skirt, was chosen by the bride for her wedding. The bouffant skirt cascaded into a chapel train.

A cluster of silk organza held her fingertip veil, and she carried a chapel bouquet of Rubrum lilies entwined with ivy.

★ ★ ★

Matron of honor was Mrs. Larry McKenzie with Amelia Martinez and Janet Eislander attending as bridesmaids.

Carolyn Howland was flower girl.

Serving as best man was Rev. Harris. The 200 guests were seated by Terry Andrews and Dudley Jenkins.

★ ★ ★

Lions Get Top 'Relief' Job From Plum This Time

When the rematch between the Detroit Lions and Pittsburgh Steelers comes around September 15th in the regular season opener for both teams at Tiger Stadium, coach Buddy Parker may go along with new faces.

Former Lions John Henry Johnson and Tom Tracy may have to give way to rookies Gary Ballman, Joe Womack and Bob Ferguson.

Tracy, the former Birmingham high school star, who saw his running statistics take a sharp drop last year, suffered a broken toe in the game last night.

It may keep him out of action until the season opener, but after the performances turned in by Ballman and Womack last night, "The Bomb" may find it difficult to get his job back.

★ ★ ★

Tracy carried four times for six yards and Johnson moved the ball twice backward for minus two yards.

Womack, who just a week ago was the subject of trade talk between Pittsburgh and Baltimore, ended even the slightest whisper of trades when he tore off big chunks of yardage with shifty running and 157 yards in 8 carries.

Ballman, the former East Detroit star from Michigan State, picked up only 12 yards but was impressive in his determined running.

Ferguson, who was hurt on the first play against Cleveland a week ago, is expected to be back for the regular season opener and the Steelers are very high on the former Ohio State All-American.

This trio with Bobby Layne could end up as the top Steeler backfield this year.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Biggest smile in the Lions' locker room after the game belonged to Wayne Walker who connected on the first field goal of his pro career. He had two in four tries last night.

Three of his kickoffs went into the end zone as well.

He'll be trying for his first official field goal of his career against the same team September 15th.

★ ★ ★

Unhappiest face in the locker room belonged to Joe Schmidt, the all-pro linebacker who got into his first game of the exhibition season.

Joe missed a clear shot at Womack near the 30 when the Steeler speedster raced 43 yards for a touchdown.

"I need more work, I sure played lousy," commented the Lions' fine defensive captain.

★ ★ ★

Todd Grant, member of The Press All-County team in 1957 as center from Southfield, reinjured his knee yesterday and may be out indefinitely. This could mean the disabled list or waivers for Grant.

LOOKING FOR RECEIVER—Milt Plum gets the protection of the Detroit Lions' forward as he searches for a pass receiver in the third quarter of last night's game against the Pittsburgh Steelers. Plum threw to Terry Barr (41) who took the ball between two defenders, got away from one tackler and then outran speedy halfback Brady Keys (26) for a spectacular 49 yard touchdown. The bottom photo shows Barr hugging the sidelines as Keys makes a last ditch effort to push him out of bounds.

Milt 'Relieves' Morrall; Hits 15 of 18 Attempts

Barr, Lewis Spearhead 26-20 Exhibition Win Over Steelers

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — The Detroit Lions may have what the Detroit Tigers have complained about not having for a long time, that is, a strong reliefer.

For the past two games it was Earl Morrall who came off the bench to turn in sparkling performances after relieving starting quarterback Milt Plum. Last night Morrall started and it was Plum who came into the game in the second period and moved the Lions to a 26-20 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers at Tiger Stadium.

The two strong defensive lines battled each other in the first period as neither team had the ball for more than four scrimmage plays in any one series.

LAYNE HITS

Early in the second period after recovering Morrall's fumble the Steelers broke the scoring ice when veteran Bobby Layne passed to Harlon Hill for a 45 yard touchdown. Hill shook off Bruce Maher for the last 10 yards.

Morrall then left the game with four completions in nine attempts and 37 yards, and Plum took over.

Using rookie end Larry Vargo as his primary receiver and Tom Watkins as his runner, Plum engineered the Lions to the Steeler 18. Wayne Walker, who missed a first quarter field goal attempt, then booted it through the uprights from the 27.

It was Walker's first pro football field goal, hitting on his 4th attempt this year.

Just before the quarter ended Plum again had the Lions on the move and with 45 seconds to play he passed on the flat to Ken Webb all alone on the five and Webb moved in easily to give the Lions a 10-7 halftime advantage as Walker converted.

★ ★ ★

The third period produced two picture-play touchdowns for the Lions.

Terry Barr, the bread and butter man of the Lions, who has specialized in spectacular pass receptions last year and thus far this exhibition season, made the impossible look easy.

The former U. of M. star, went up for one of Plum's passes sandwiched between two defenders John Sample and Dick Haley. He came down with the ball on the 22 yard line and outraced Brady Keys, the Steelers' fastest defensive back to the goal line for a 49 yard touchdown.

LEWIS LAUDED

Two minutes later after Pittsburgh was forced to punt, Danny Lewis, called by assistant coach Aldo Forte as "the most improved player on the team this year," turned in the trickiest downfield sprint of his career with the Lions in going 43 yards for a touchdown.

Lewis went over left tackle, was hit at the line, spun out and had three Steelers converge on him at the 30. He spun away again, found complete daylight and sped away so fast his own shadow was left 20 yards behind.

Coach George Wilson singled out Lewis' run after the game as "the prettiest run I've seen Lewis make."

★ ★ ★

The running star of the game however was Pittsburgh's Joe Womack, who replaced the injured Tom Tracy and rolled up 157 yards in eight carries himself.

Womack, a rookie from Los Angeles State who was listed as the third man in the three-deep roster, tore off runs of 24 and 34 yards and then went 43 yards for the Steeler touchdown which made it 23-14 with Lou Michael's placement.

Walker's field goal attempt from the 37 was short when tipped by Michaels, but he tried again from the 34 with 9:31 gone and made it, 26-14.

The Steelers and Womack were still alive when Dick LeBeau intercepted Ed Brown's pass on the Lion 7. With just 32 seconds left, sparked by another 42 yard Womack dash, Brown threw long to Buddy Dial who went up with Maher for the ball and came down with it for the touchdown to make it 26-20, Michaels' kick went wide.

Favor Colt, Filly in Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — A colt and a filly were among the most frequently discussed trotters named for the 37th Hambletonian, harness racing foremost classic which will be renewed Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Fifteen 3-year-old trotters drew post positions Sunday for the race which will have a purse value of $116,612, with $62,845 to the first horse winning two heats.

The draw left three favorites in a second tier with several long-shots receiving more enviable starting spots among 10 horses in the front tier.

Drivers, owners and trainers were in almost unanimous agreement the first of the mile heats will be a scramble with favorites from the rear trying to breech the forward wall of horses.

SEPARATE WINNERS

There appeared a strong possibility of separate victors in the first two heats, pushing the race into at least a third heat.

Emily's Pride won a three-heat Hambletonian in 1958, and it went to four heats in 1960. Harlan Dean captured the first two heats last year.

Sprite Rodney, a filly to be driven by 30-year-old Eddie Wheeler, was discussed as having the best chance of capturing the first two heats this time.

She stepped a mile in 2:00 2-5 at Vernon Downs earlier this month, the best time this season for any of the five fillies, nine colts and one gelding in the race. Given unofficial odds of 3-1, Sprite drew No. 5 position in the front tier.

Tom Eaton of Norwich, N.Y., co-owner of Sprite, said she "is a very fast starter. The horse behind her could easily slip through the front tier as she leaves."

In No. 15 spot, behind Sprite, is A. C. Viking, a large, dark colt who was established the 5-2 favorite. Viking, owned by A. C. Peterson of West Hartford, Conn., has won 10 of 17 starts this year and $135,319 during his lifetime.

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—The Hambletonian field for Wednesday (no parimutuel betting):

Post	Horse	Driver	Odds
1.	Happy Newport, Del Cameron-trained entry		10-1
2.	Dubbie T., Jerry Landess		10-1

Report Offer to Scheffing for GM Post

DETROIT (AP) — Manager Bob Scheffing reportedly has been offered a promotion to general manager of the Detroit Tigers.

John E. Fetzer, Tiger president, made the proposal to Scheffing about three weeks ago, two authoritative sources told the Associated Press last night.

★ ★ ★

"Nobody has said a word to me about this at all," Scheffing said when contacted at Boston, where the Tigers are playing a three-game series.

The sources insisted, however, the offer was made to Scheffing to have him assume the duties currently administered by vice president Rick Ferrell.

They said Scheffing probably would turn down the promotion because of his preference for field managing.

His two-year contract as field manager extends through the 1963 season.

There have been several reports in recent weeks that Ferrell is on his way out of the Detroit organization or would be given other duties in the front office. The Tigers' lackluster showing this year plus their failure to make a major deal after last year's second-place finish have been cited as the reasons for his reported ouster.

Fetzer is known to hold Scheffing in great esteem.

★ ★ ★

During the current season when the Tigers faltered after being considered a bonafide pennant contender, little criticism was heaped on Scheffing. But in many areas—including some of the veteran players—the front office was faulted for not getting new players to strengthen the club after last year.

Aguirre Troubled in Loss Gets Warned About Spitter and Hit Hard

Claims His Signs Stolen at Boston; Al Kaline Stars in 7-4 Defeat

BOSTON (AP) — It just wasn't Hank Aguirre's night.

Umpire Ed Runge warned the Detroit southpaw for "spitting all over the ball," in a 7-4 loss to Boston Monday night. Aguirre later denied he was throwing a spitter.

★ ★ ★

Aguirre accused Red Sox third base coach Billy Herman of stealing the Tiger signs. Herman shrugged.

★ ★ ★

To top it off, Aguirre almost lost his position as the American League's earned run average leader. When he was lifted after 3 1-3 innings, Aguirre had given up five runs and his ERA climbed from 2.12 to 2.36, barely ahead of the 2.43 owned by Robin Roberts of Baltimore.

DISAGREEMENT

Runge called a ball in the first inning which Aguirre thought should have been a strike. They exchanged words.

Runge said he warned Aguirre when he went to the mound in the third inning.

★ ★ ★

"He was spitting all over the ball," Runge said afterward. "He was bringing the ball up to his mouth, wetting his fingers, then spitting on the ball. He tried to show me up because of that earlier disagreement and he's not going to do that to me."

★ ★ ★

Concerning the signs, Herman said Aguirre got after him when —after striking out the first two batters—Boston put together three straight hits for a run.

GAVE IT BACK

"I didn't say anything until he got on me," Herman said. "Then I gave it back to him."

Aguirre denied spitting on or wetting the ball, said the whole thing was blown out of proportion and retired to his hotel.

★ ★ ★

Lu Clinton hit his seventh homer in 13 days and added a double and single for three runs batted in while Carl Yastrzemski was 3 for-3 with a double and two singles, scoring three times and knocking in two runs for the Red Sox.

★ ★ ★

Billy Bruton and Al Kaline tagged winner Gene Conley (13-11) for consecutive homers in the first inning and Kaline's single in the seventh accounted for the other two Tiger runs and brought on reliever Dick Radatz of Berkley to finish up.

Locals Start State Play Friday

Huron-Airway Triumphs in District Final, 11-0

Pontiac will have one team in a state tournament this year.

The softballers couldn't come close but Huron-Airway made the grade last night in baseball with a resounding 11-0 belting of Ypsilanti in a completion of the Class A district title game Jaycee Park.

Placenning, the Saginaw district runnerup, will oppose the city stars Friday at 4 p.m. at Bailey Stadium in Battle Creek.

A 2nd game defeat by the Ypsi boys after an easy opening triumph apparently fired up the bowling-diamond contingent.

Ahead 3-0 when play was halted by rain Saturday, the locals went on to score in five of the last six frames in the romp.

Jim Ray, winner Don Sackett and Jim Wagner combined to pitch a six-hitter and fan 17. They stranded 11 runners.

★ ★ ★

Three different Pontiac players had two safeties in a 10-hit attack. John Fleser had two singles to bat in two runs. He also walked twice and scored two tallies. Chuck Johnson had two singles, scored two runs and batted one across. Stu Dell singled twice and batted in a run.

Al Barkeley contributed a two-run double and Bob Rabaja had a bit and three free passes and scored three times. Huron-Airway left 12 men on base.

Waterford softball had to be postponed for the 7th time in 11 play-off dates last night due to wet grounds.

Bob Beedle of the Recreation Department says they will try again tonight. Lakeland Pharmacy and Dixie Bar will be matched at 7 followed by Rockcote and Haskins Chevrolet at 8:30 at Drayton Plains. The 1st game victor will meet A & W in the only Wednesday contest at 7 p.m. All are Class C teams.

Laver Strong Favorite in National Tennis Play

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The National Tennis championships get under way on the polished turf of the West Side Tennis Club Wednesday and for all intents and purposes it will be Rod Laver against the field.

★ ★ ★

The red-thatched Australian lefthander has been cutting a wide swath all over Europe and Australia this year and has won just about everything in sight except his rivals' rackets.

At last count, he had won nine titles including the big three—Australia, France and Wimbledon. If he can win the United States championship—and he certainly is the heavy favorite—he will be the only other player besides Don Budge to capture the four top tournaments. Budge accomplished the feat in 1938.

SEEDED NO. 1

Laver, of course, is seeded No. 1. Who might make it tough for him? Well, there's his Davis Cup teammate and defending champion, Roy Emerson, who is seeded No. 2. Emerson whipped him in the 1961 final.

The United States contingent is headed by Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., who blows hot and cold. He is No. 3, one of the two U.S. players seeded. The other is Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., No. 8.

★ ★ ★

Behind McKinley comes Rafael Osuna of the Mexican Davis Cup team that squashed the United States in the American zone final. Fred Stolle, a second lite Australian, is No. 5, followed by Jan-Erik Lundquist of Sweden and Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy.

The women's division, too, is headed by an Aussie. Margaret Smith is No. 1, followed by Karen Hantze Susman of San Diego, Calif. Then there is Maria Bueno of Brazil, Vera Sukova of Czechoslovakia, defending champion Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., Rene Shuurman of South Africa, Leslie Turner of Australia and Sandra Reynolds Price of South Africa.

REED OVERLOOKED

Miss Hard is the No. 1 player in the United States, but she has not had a good year. However, compared to Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., the No. 1 ranked men's player in the country, she has been doing great. He has been clobbered so much in early rounds of tournaments, he wasn't even seeded.

★ ★ ★

This probably will be the most international of all 82 U.S. championships. Players from 30-odd nations will play. The field was so bulky, in fact, that qualifying rounds will be held Wednesday and Thursday to get the field down to 128 men and 96 women.

Four Russians are in the tournament. This is the first time the Soviets ever have sent a delegation here, and they are the first to admit they don't expect to do much.

Huron Five 3rd in Keg Tourney

Samardzija Hits 652 to Lead Way; Pointer Women's Standout

Pontiac's Huron Bowl team came up with a strong 3rd place finish in a field of 20 Detroit area teams in the 25th Annual John Gavie Invitational tourney at Taylor over th epast weekend.

★ ★ ★

Huron, featuring a 652 by Mike Samardzija, rolled 3,001 to win $100. The John F. Ivory team won with 3,217 for $150 and Stark Hickey followed at 3,104 for $125. Vernor's had 2,949 for $95 and Precision Steel Treating No. 5 at 2,921 for $85.

Bob Lowry hit 603, Joe Bonfiglio, 584, Arley Sheffer and Dick Carmichael 581 each to round out the Huron scoring.

Huron staffer Shirley Pointer was also on a 3rd placer. Her Sport Queens took the high slot among 16 entries with 2,678 led by Shirley at 581. Cadillac Coffee won with 2,800 followed by John F. Ivory with 2,720.

★ ★ ★

Tony Puglie fired 711, Dale Seavoy 679 and Hal Jolley 669 for high series to earn special awards. Helen Shablis had the two high games of 245 and 232 for two trophies.

Season Tickets for PCH Games Now on Sale

Season tickets for Pontiac Central home football games are now on sale.

The season books cost $4 each and can be obtained at the school or by writing the PCH ticket manager. The Chiefs play five games in Wisner Stadium:

Sept. 14, Flint Central; Sept. 29, Arthur Hill; Oct. 12, Flint Northern; Oct. 26, Saginaw; Nov. 16, Pontiac Northern.

Individual game tickets will go on sale the Monday preceding each contest at Osmun's downtown and Tel-Huron stores.

Angels Home Crowds Almost Doubled in '62

NEW YORK (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels, the sixth major league team to move past the million mark in home attendance, have virtually doubled their turnstile count this season.

Playing in the 56,000-seat Dodger Stadium, the Angels have drawn 1,030,294 customers in 65 home dates as compared to 567,097 in the same number of dates in 20,000-seat Wrigley Field a year ago.

Other teams over the million mark are the Los Angeles Dodgers 1,828,638, San Francisco Giants 1,241,459, Minnesota Twins 1,240,976, New York Yankees 1,132,789 and the Detroit Tigers 1,045,638.

Pittsburgh and the Chicago White Sox are closing in on a million paid admissions, the Pirates with 943,694 and the White Sox with 910,450. The figures include Sunday's games.

Ace at Twin Beach

Twin Beach Country Club in Commerce Township has recorded its 2nd hole-in-one of the season. Bob Langmau aced the No. 6 hole belting the ball 230 yards with his driver. A 10 handicap player, it was his 1st big one in 24 years of golf. Bob Shaw, Chet Kowalski and pro-manager Brownie Meyer witnessed the shot.

His Dodgers Host Reds Tonight

Alston Predicts Close Finish in National

By The Associated Press

Walt Alston, manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers and as such a knowledgeable observer of the National League scene, views it this way:

★ ★ ★

"I can't see any club running away with the pennant. Frankly, I don't think it will be decided until the last week of the season."

Could be. But there might be an interesting development or two to follow between now and the late-September stretch. For example, that three-game series opening tonight at Los Angeles between Alston's front-running Dodgers and Cincinnati's resurgent Reds.

MAJOR SKIRMISHES

Tonight's Dodgers-Reds opener is the first shot in a 10-day scrimmage involving the league's big three—Los Angeles, runner-up San Francisco and third-place Cincinnati.

After the set at Dodger Stadium, the Reds travel north for three games against the Giants and after that is a four-game scramble between the Giants and Dodgers at Los Angeles. The only remaining action among the top three is a two-game Reds-Giants series at Cincinnati Sept. 12-13.

★ ★ ★

There were no NL clubs playing Monday but there were three night games in the American League.

The Reds, surprise winners of the pennant last season and just as surprising this year with their recent three-week upward zoom, saw that climb stalled—at least temporarily—by Sunday's doubleheader loss to Houston. But by winning 18 of their last 23 starts, they've gained plenty of ground—from 10 games back of the Dodgers to 4½ behind.

GIANTS AT HOME

In between are the Giants, 2½ back of Los Angeles. They are back in friendly Candlestick Park after a road trip that very nearly was disastrous, but which turned out even at 6-6 with four straight victories at the end.

The Giants start a three-game series against Milwaukee tonight, sending Juan Marichal (16-9) against the Braves' Bob Shaw (15-8).

★ ★ ★

A wealth of pitching talent will be on display in the three-night Dodgers-Reds show, including the major leagues' three 20-game winners. Cincinnati will start Bob Purkey (20-4), Joey Jay (20-10) and Jim O'Toole (13-13) while the Dodgers will counter with Johnny Podres (10-10), Don Drysdale (22-6) and Stan Williams (12-8).

So far, the Dodgers hold an 8-6 edge over the Giants but trail in the season series with the Reds 7-8. San Francisco has beaten Cincinnati nine out of 13.

Defending Champion Wins Women's Opener

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Anne Quast Decker wouldn't talk about her chances in the Women's National Amateur championship, she insisted, until she had played her first round match.

★ ★ ★

Now that she's opened with a brilliant display of par golf that easily carried her past Helen Reynolds of Mansfield Center, Conn., she's not only talking but looking more than ever like a young lady who could become the first defending champion to repeat in 22 years.

"I'm happy," beamed the trim 24-year-old Marysville, Wash., brunette after her 8 and 7 victory. "If I can go in like this, I'll be very pleased."

Her "goings on" yesterday included nine pars, one tough luck bogey and a 10-foot putt for a birdie on 11 that closed out her opening match and enabled her to become one of only three entries out of the original 128 to stay even with par during the first round.

★ ★ ★

Anne was one of the lucky ones, avoiding all of the heavy rain that struck the 6,161-yard, par 36-36—72 Country Club of Rochester course just as play opened in the 62nd U.S. championship at 8:30 a.m. and again at mid-afternoon while the last 50 or 60 players were on the course.

BIG UPSET

Yesterday, she joined 17-year-old Mary Baker of Marysville, Tenn., and former pro Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn., as the only woman to match par in the first round. No one beat it.

Miss Baker pulled a tremendous upset, firing nine pars, two bogies and two birdies in eliminating veteran Curtis Cup player Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa, 7 and 5. Miss O'Sullivan, reinstated as an amateur at her request four years ago, blistered the back nine and was even after the 17 holes needed to split another of Mrs. Decker's Curtis Cup playmates, Clifford Ann Creed, 3 and 1.

Jean Ashley, a third U.S. cup star, fell by the wayside, beaten by Bonnie Byrne of Whittier, Calif., 1 up; and the five-woman delegation from the British Curtis Cup team was trimmed to four, when Brenda High of Glasgow, Ky., whipped long-hitting but erratic Jean Roberts, 2 and 1.

San Jose Champions Called Great LL Nine

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Observers in this home of Little League baseball were talking today about San Jose, Calif., winners of the 16th World Series, as possibly the greatest Little League team ever assembled.

★ ★ ★

The San Jose players won the title Saturday by beating Kankakee, Ill., 3-0. Ted Campbell, a 12-year-old pitcher who is 6-feet-1 and weighs 210 pounds on the official league scales, pitched a no-hitter in the final.

His mates collected two unearned runs in the fourth inning, and shortstop Vaughn Takaha hit a home run over the center field fence in the fifth inning for the California runs.

★ ★ ★

Takaha also pitched a one-hitter over the Mexicans in the semifinal.

Ralph Boston Steals Spotlight in Sweden Event

KRISTINEHAMN, Sweden (AP)—Ralph Boston, the former world broad jump record holder from Tennessee State, again showed his versatility in an international track and field meet Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Boston won the broad jump with a leap of 25 feet, 5½ inches, took the 110-meter high hurdles in 15 seconds and then tried the high jump "just for fun," and cleared 6-5.

★ ★ ★

Americans Bob Hayes and Dave James ran 1-2 in the 100-meter dash, both timed in :10.5, but Ove Jonsson of Sweden hipped James in the 200 as both finished in :21.5.

Ulis Williams of the U.S. won the 400 meters in :48.3 and Bill Dotson of the U.S. took the 800 meters in 1:54.7.

Injured Norm Cash Likely Out 2 Weeks

DETROIT (UPI) — Medical examinations indicated yesterday that Detroit Tiger slugger Norm Cash should be able to return to action within two weeks, instead of four as originally feared.

★ ★ ★

Cash was struck on the hand by a fast ball in Sunday's doubleheader with the Washington Senators.

Dr. Russell Wright said there were two breaks in the metacarpal bone but neither break went into the knuckle joint.

Cash's hand was put in a removeable splint and he will undergo therapy treatment.

Weatherly and Crew Will Rest Until Trials

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Weatherly, newly-chosen defender of the 111-year-old America's Cup, is in a shipyard cradle today, resting and drying out after a strenuous session of racing.

★ ★ ★

Skipper Bus Mosbacher and his crew have returned to their homes to catch up on affairs left untended during the almost daily racing.

★ ★ ★

They are scheduled to return and take up serious trials again Sept. 8. The races against the Australian challenger Gretel start Sept. 15. Victory, and the Cup, goes to the first boat to win four races.

3 Speed Marks Set by Boater in World Trials

MIDLAND (AP) — Dick Pond of Keokuk, Iowa, smashed three speed records yesterday in one-mile straightaway trials in the World Outboard Racing Championships on Sanford Lake.

★ ★ ★

Pond gunned his Class D hydroplane to 84.308 miles an hour, bettering the former record of 78.603 m. p. h. in that class.

In the C-runabout class, he boosted the speed record from 68.311 m.p.h. to 72.000 m.p.h. and in the B-runabout class he cracked the old record of 73.620 m.p.h. with a 77.586 m.p.h. clocking.

Yesterday's action closed out the meet here.

Pond tried to do better in the B-runabout class but came too close to a buoy and was thrown from his boat. He was unhurt.

Terry Wins 19th To End Yank Skid

By The Associated Press

Ralph Terry, who five years ago climbed out of a ditch to resume his pitching career, reigns today as king of the hill in the American League.

The 26-year-old right-hander reached the top Monday night with a sparkling performance, limiting Cleveland to three singles in a 5-0 victory that ended the first-place New York Yankees' longest losing streak in four years at six games.

It left Terry, the AL's winningest pitcher, only one triumph shy of the 20-victory circle, and propelled him another step upward in the long, hard climb that began on a bleak November night in 1958 when he fell asleep at the wheel of his car.

Terry's car shot into a ditch and rolled over four times.

'LUCKY TO LIVE'

"I could still hear the wheels spinning in the darkness," Terry recalls. "They took me to Kansas City (he had been traded by the Yankees in the swap involving Billy Martin) where they found I had fractured my hip. I spent seven weeks in traction, lucky to be alive."

★ ★ ★

In 1959, Terry was traded back to the Yankees. A year later he compiled a 10-8 record, but threw the home run ball to Bill Mazeroski that gave the Pittsburgh Pirates the World Series. Last year he was 16-3 although sidelined for a time but lost his one series start against Cincinnati.

Now, he seems fully to have grabbed hold of lady luck's skirt tails. He's been healthy all year, and has stepped in as Ralph Houk's big winner. The victory against the Indians was his third shutout and his 12th complete game, bringing his record to 19-10.

★ ★ ★

The triumph, halting the world champions' longest skid since they lost six in a row from Sept. 16-23, 1958, boosted the Yankees lead to 3½ games over second-place Los Angeles and third place Minnesota, both idle Monday.

In the only other games scheduled, Lu Clinton and Carl Yastrzemski powered Boston to a 7-4 decision over Detroit and Washington blanked Baltimore 7-0 behind Tom Cheney's four-hitter. There were no games scheduled in the National League.

THREE SINGLES

Terry hurled perfect ball until Bubba Phillips singled to open the sixth inning. A single by Tito Francona in the seventh and Al Luplow's infield single with two out in the ninth were the only other Indian hits as Terry faced only 30 batters, striking out nine while walking nine.

Rookie left-hander Sam McDowell (2-6) took the loss. He gave up two runs in the second inning when Mickey Mantle doubled for the first of his four hits and Tom Tresh and Elston Howard walked. Bill Skowron's grounder scored Mantle and Tresh also raced home when Jerry Kindall's relay to first base on the attempted double play went wild. Bobby Richardson's two-run double and Mantle's run-producing single wrapped it up in a three-run eighth.

★ ★ ★

Cheney (5-8) posted his third shutout with his third complete game, retiring the last 12 Orioles he faced, Russ Snyder and Whitey Herzog shared Baltimore's four hits. Harry Bright, who was 3 for-4 with two RBI, drove in the first Senator run with a first inning triple off Billy Hoeft (4-7). Another came across in the third on a sacrifice fly by Chuck Hinton before a five-run eighth inning uprising put it out of reach.

Three More Teams Advance in Baseball

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Three more teams have reached the fourth round of the National Non-Pro Baseball Tournament.

They are Fairbanks, Alaska; Cherokee, Okla., and Wichita Rapid Transit.

★ ★ ★

In Monday's games Fairbanks eliminated Winooski, Vt., 7-4; Cherokee ousted New Washington, Ohio, 1-0, and Wichita eliminated Santa Rosa, Calif., 11-1. Greensboro, N.C., defeated the Wichita Instants 5-4 in a second-round game.

Some Issues Off Sharply

Market Sags in Quiet Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—Some of the more volatile issues were off sharply as the stock market sagged in quiet trading early this afternoon.

The market was going through a period of caution prior to Labor Day, brokers said. The watch-and-wait mood actually got started last Friday, continued in yesterday's mixed market and resumed this morning.

★ ★ ★

Lacking any incentive to rally, in view of the uncertainties of the fall season, stocks began to sell off as bids continued to dry up. Light offerings were enough to depress prices disproportionately for some issues.

Wall Street took news of another record high in the cost of living and a gain in building contract awards without enthusiasm. The summer rally had left abundant chances for traders to take profits and await further developments.

The rise in living costs, said the Government, was largely seasonal.

The trend was lower among steels, motors, rails, rubbers, aerospace issues, electronics, utilities, nonferrous metals, building materials, and mail order-retails.

Ford, off about a point, was the worst in the automotive section. Chrysler was down nearly a point. General Motors held about unchanged while American Motors and Studebaker eased.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading.

Bond Prices Are Steady

NEW YORK, (AP)—Bond prices were steady at the opening of trading today. Activity was limited in both corporate and U. S. government markets.

An over the counter dealer in U.S. Treasury securities said no prices were changed in either intermediate or long maturities.

Corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange were narrowly mixed with practically no moves amounting to as much as a full point.

An exception were Philadelphia Electirc 2¾s of 1967, off 1 at 93¼.

Fractionally higher were Southern Pacific Railroad 4½s of 1981 at 93, Socony 2½s at 82⅝ and Ohio Edison 3s at 87¾. Seaboard Finance 5¼s at 102¼ and AT&T 5s at ⅞ were off fractions.

Interstate Department Store convertible 4⅝s fell 1¾ at 127¼.

To Clear Cars Before Strike

Telegraphers' Walkout Set Thursday Against Chicago Railroad

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago and North Western Railroad said today it would order a freight embargo in preparation for a telegraphers' strike which would force the 10,000-mile line to shut down.

A spokesman for the railroad said the line has "done all it can do" and planned no further action to head off a walkout of 1,000 telegraphers scheduled for 8 a. m. EDT Thursday.

The freight embargo will go into effect at a minute before midnight Wednesday in order that the North Western's freight cars will be as near empty as possible when the strike is called.

Another strike threat against the nation's entire railroad system marked time.

Five operating unions yesterday objected to requests from the railroads for early hearing by a U. S. Appeals Court of the union's suit to forestall widespread "antifeatherbedding" work rules changes.

The unions, representing more than 200,000 on-train rail employes, have said the new work rules would result in elimination of 65,000 jobs.

The rail brotherhoods said they would strike if the new work rules went into effect.

The North Western estimated its trains serve close to 80,000 passengers daily in the Middle West, the overwhelming majority of them in Chicago's suburbs.

Early Grain Trading Is Light and Slow

CHICAGO (AP) — Early dealings in the grain futured market were light and slow today with prices showing small fractional changes gererally on the board of trade.

Dealers said the factors which exerted a rather strong bearish influence in yesterday's activity seemed of little further influence today and that speculative transactions apparently lacked any urgency.

Corn started under continued pressure, but quickly steadied on scattered short covering and commercial buying. Hedge selling in wheat also slackened.

Sales Up, Profits Less; It's Called the Squeeze

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Profit seems likely to become an even more controversial word in the months ahead.

Management makes two words of it—profit squeeze. It complains of making less on each unit of production and sales.

Labor tends to regard any profit rise as an indication that workers aren't getting their fair share of the fruits of industry. Labor cites the still rising total of profits as showing management can pay more in wages.

PROVIDES TAXES

Government regards profit as a good thing—it provides tax receipts, for one thing—but not if a rise in profits comes from an inflationary rise in prices or from more unemployment brought on by cost-cutting automation.

The profit trend in many industries just now depends on two things: continuing recovery from the last recession rather than a dip into another one; and the next round of wage negotiations, with top union officials plugging for a 35-hour work week at the same pay as for the present 40 hours.

The steel industry, for example, is complaining of the profit squeeze. This was born from rising labor costs due to the fringe benefits granted last spring and the inability to raise prices because of government opposition at first, and later because of increased competition from foreign mills and new materials in the United States.

★ ★ ★

The steel labor contract can be reopened next year on the question of higher wages. By that time the mills should be producing more as the last of the stocks consumer built up as a hedge against a possible strike this year are used up.

COMPETITION!

But if wages go up and prices can't, there'll be even more of a profit squeeze. Competition from foreign mills and from other materials making inroads on steel's markets could make price hiking hard.

Part of the controversy over profits can very well swirl about what role the government plays next year if the steelworkers seek higher wages.

★ ★ ★

The profit question is further cluded by the fact that, with a few exceptions, each year since the war has seen the total of profits by all industries and services rise. And even in times of recessions some companies will et record profits.

★ ★ ★

Part of the dollar rise in the total of profits since the war is due to monetary inflation. The dollar totals are higher but they buy less in the marketplace, whether it be materials or labor.

Part of the rise in total profits is due to the even higher climb of the total of sales. More people are buying more things. They are paying out more for them.

But many companies complain that while their sales totals have climbed their profits either have not risen in the last year or two or have done so at a much slower pace than sales.

PROFIT SQUEEZE

This is the profit squeeze. It means a lower margin of profit on sales. It means production, transportation, merchandizing costs have risen faster than have prices and profits are less.

Many people are willing to leave this problem in management's lap.

★ ★ ★

But if profits don't justify it, industry won't expand. If profit prospects are poor, new ventures will be shelved.

★ ★ ★

The result is a squeeze on companies and their stockholders. It's also a squeeze on jobs. They don't increase as the population jump requires. Some jobs disappear because unprofitable companies fold.

Thus management argues when it tries to restore status to the word profit.

Successful Investing

BY ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I'm 59 years old and plan to retire at 65. I own a small villa on the Italian Riviera where I intend to live from May to November of each year. I own Bethlehem Steel, Penick & Ford, and Magnavox. Will these stocks appreciate enough in the next six years so that I'll have no worries?" R. R.

A. It looks as if you've planned a very attractive retirement, and I congratulate you. What you're really asking me is whether or not the stocks you own have very strong growth characteristics. In two instances, I'm sorry to say, the answer is no. Bethlehem Steel is cyclical, and the dividend isn't particularly safe. I would switch this holding into Avco. Penick & Ford is good but slow, and I think you would do better in Corn Products. Magnavox has one of the strongest growth rates of the hundreds of stocks I follow closely, and I would certainly hold this one.

Q. "I have Dayco shares which have been very disappointing. Would you recommend switching to San Diego Imperial, American Motors or Penn-Dixie Cement? I want some income which Dayco has failed to give me for two years." L. K.

A. I think you have held Dayco long enough. Sale of this company's unprofitable tire division has improved the earnings picture, but because of debt restrictions, dividends seem a long way off. Of the three replacements you mention, the only one I like is San Diego Imperial — but since it pays no cash dividend, that stock won't give you what you want. American Motors faces increasingly stiff competition and operates on a relatively low profit margin. Penn-Dixie suffers from overproduction in its industry, and I don't think the dividend is wholly secure. Why not raise your sights a little? As an income producer, I suggest American Investment Company of Illinois (NYSE) which sells around 20 to yield 5 per cent.

H. D. Hoskins Attending Airline Service Confab

Homer D. Hoskins, manager of Pontiac Municipal Airport, was one of nine representatives from Michigan cities attending a Michigan Department of Aeronautics hearing today on the proposed elimination of airline service.

The hearing was being held in Lansing.

Ten cities were invited by James D. Ramsey, state aeronautics director, to sit in at the meeting on two petitions submitted by North Central Airlines.

Only Bay City, a department spokesman said, had not responded to the invitation. Other cities expected to send representatives are Lansing, Muskegon, Cadillac, Reed City, Port Huron, Flint, Midland and Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

North Central seeks permission of the Civil Aeronautics Board to discontinue its service to Pontiac, Reed City, Cadillac and Port Huron. It also asks that United Air Line Service to four other cities be discontinued.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said both airlines were to be represented at today's meeting.

Pontiac officials claim that NCA patronage has been low here because its flight schedule — to Willow Run Airport and points north — doesn't conform to Pontiac's major business and industrial interests, which lie in Cleveland and Chicago.

Farmers Seek to Up Prices

Group Starts Move to Hold Livestock Off the Market

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Flushed with victory over the repudiation by two large firms of a controversial farm report, the National Farmers Organization launched today an attempt to boost farm prices by holding products off the market.

★ ★ ★

Oren Lee Staley, 39, of Rea, Mo., NFO president said he is confident such an action would force processors of farm products to agree to long term contracts calling for higher prices.

TO VOTE TODAY

NFO members from 15 states were to vote today on proposals to hold cattle, hogs, sheep and grain off the market. The organization went into its meeting after having gained statements from Ford Motor Co. and Sears, Roebuck and Co. disclaiming any connection with a farm plan proposed by the Committee on Economic Development (CED).

★ ★ ★

Theodore O. Yntema, Ford vice president, and Theodore V. Houser, a Sears director, were members of the CED research committee that drafted the plan calling for removal of some two million farmers from the farms and reduction of farm price supports over the next five years.

The NFO had demonstrated against the two firms, demanding that they issue statements clarifying whether the report represented the official policy of the companies.

REPUDIATES REPORT

Ford repudiated the report Sunday. Staley said he received a telegram Monday from Sears officials, saying that the company "is not connected in any way with the report on agriculture by the CED."

★ ★ ★

Staley said he expected quick approval of the holding action by the more than 15,000 NFO members expected at the meeting.

★ ★ ★

"We also plan to discuss the possibility of including milk among the products we will keep off the market," Staley said. "Our plans call for the holding action to start mighty soon."

News in Brief

A water pump valued at $140 was reported stolen yesterday from Dick Van Emerick, 1402 Nancywood St., Waterford Township. Van Emerick told police the pump, situated near the rear of his lot adjoining the Clinton River, was used to pump river water for lawn sprinkling.

An estimated $50 worth of wine and cigarettes and $221 were stolen by thieves who broke into the Bantam Market, 858 Oakland Ave., yesterday, according to Pontiac Police.

John Rehfus, 1112 Maurer St., told Pontiac Police yesterday that someone stole miscellaneous items and a transistor radio valued at $70 from his car while it was parked at his home.

Miracle Center Plans Pep Rally for 23 Schools

The Miracle Mile Shopping Center will hold a two-day high school pep rally during which the center will present 23 area schools a total of 5,150 pennants to distribute among the students.

The event will run Thursday 3-9 p.m. and Friday 3-8 p.m. with members of the schools' pep and cheering squads decorating booths at the center in their school colors and leading cheers.

The high school rally will conclude with a dance in the shopping center parking lot at 8 p.m. conducted by a local disk-jockey.

Hills Man Protests Tax Revision Bill

Ray R. Eppert, president of Burrough's Corp. and a resident of 295 Lone Pine Court, Bloomfield Hills, has attacked the tax revision bill being considered by the Senate as containing "foreign tax and operating restraints" that would hurt America's foreign trade.

In a telegram to Senators Philip Hart and Partick McNamara, both D-Mich., Eppert said the restraints "would put handicaps on American business averseas not borne by our foreign competitors."

Eppert has represented the Detroit Board of Commerce five times before congressional committees studying tax and trade expansion acts.

Carlos E. Toro, manager of the board's world trade department, said the Senate version of the tax revision bill makes certain income abroad currently taxable in the United States whether or not the income has been received in this country.

This, he said, gives foreign firms an advantage over American firms with foreign subsidaries.

Chrysler Switches Advertising Account

DETROIT (AP) — Citing new corporate advertising objectives as the reason, Chrysler Corp. appointed Young & Rubicam yesterday to replace Leo Burnett Co. in handling Chrysler's corporate account.

Young & Rubicam also will continue to handle Chrysler and Imperial car advertising.

The change will be immediate for all print media and will become effective within 90 days on radio and television.

Residents, Visitors Flee

Five Fires Scorching California

LAKEPORT, Calif. (UPI)—Nearly 1,000 residents and vacationing visitors fled the Lake County area of northern California today in advance of an uncontrolled "fire storm" which swept through more than 5,000 acres of timberland.

Two ranches and several homes were destroyed by the wind-whipped blaze which leapfrogged through wooded areas of Cobb Mountain in quarter-mile spurts along a nine-mile front, 80 miles northeast of San Francisco.

The fire was one of four burning out of control in northern California.

An 8,000-acre blaze was "running wild" near Lake Shasta, a 6,000-acre fire was raging in Mariposa County northeast of Fresno, and another spread quickly through 400 acres near Napa late last night.

Nearly 2,000 fire fighters, aided by a dozen aerial tankers and hundreds of pieces of equipment, battled to control the blazes which were intensified by a heat wave which moved into northern California yesterday.

IN SOUTHERN PART

Other firemen were conducting mop-up operations in a 16,648-acre brush fire in the mountainous country near Hemet in southern California.

The Lake County blaze was touched off Sunday by a minor brush fire which exploded into a "firestorm." State forestry division officials said the firestorm condition was created by intense heat, producing a whirlwind effect with winds up to 100 miles-per-hour.

More than 250 fire fighters and 100 pieces of equipment were rushed to the scene and a call went out for another 200 men, including all available civil defense units and prison camp conservation crews.

The fire roared to within a half mile of Hoberg's, a Clear Lake resort where some 300 persons generally spend the week before the Labor Day holiday. They were ordered out of the resort yesterday.

Ranchers in the area drove their animals out of the danger zone, as five bombers dropped flame-quenching chemicals into the holocaust in an effort to contain it.

★ ★ ★

Nearly 1,500 men, six aerial tankers and four helicopters were on the scene at the Lake Shasta fire, 180 miles northeast of San Francisco. Aerial smokejumpers parachuted into the fire lines in the rugged mountain area 17 miles northwest of Redding.

★ ★ ★

"It's still running wild on the east, southeast and northeast," said a state forestry spokesman. "They're fighting along a 16-mile fire line."

The Mariposa County blaze started yesterday afternoon in the wooded areas of the Sierras, but efforts by aerial tankers to bomb the flames were severely hampered by clouds of dense, black smoke.

About 500 fire fighters and 40 trucks and bulldozers were rushed into the lines. The blaze is centered in an area where a similar fire trapped and burned an elderly couple in their car last year.

★ ★ ★

The Napa fire in Wild Horse Valley was reported expanding rapidly in an area containing some small ranches and small-acreage homesites.

Five aerial tankers and 100 fire-fighters, who were en route to the Lake County fire, were called back to battle the new outbreak.

Telegraphers Call Strike for Thursday

CHICAGO (UPI) — A strike against the Chicago & North Western Railway has been called for 7 a.m. (Pontiac time) Thursday by the AFL-CIO Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

A walkout by 1,000 telegraphers will force a shutdown of the railroad's 10,000-mile network, a union spokesman said, because 16,500 other employes belonging to other unions will refuse to cross picket lines.

The railroad operates passenger and freight service in nine states —Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan, Nebraska, Wyoming and North and South Dakota.

About 70,000 commuters who travel in and out of Chicago daily on the carrier's 180 suburban trains will be affected by the strike.

Hand 19 saw America pick up another nine International Match Points when the usually accurate Italian bidding system went a trifle sour in the world Championship tourney.

JACOBY

At both tables, South opened with one spade, North raised to two, and East overcalled with three hearts.

The American South could find no further bids in his hand and passed. West raised his partner to four hearts, but the defense was able to take two clubs, a diamond, and a spade putting East down one.

The Italian South produced a three spade bid. West went to four hearts and North decided to sacrifice at four spades. Of course, he wasn't sure he was sacrificing, but he certainly was. West doubled and the defense cashed two tricks in each red suit and still had to make a trump to score 300 points.

In delicate competitive situations such as this, the difference between being a hero and a dope frequently lies in the location of just a couple of cards. Take the queen of clubs and three of diamonds out of the East hand and trade them for North's jacks of diamonds and clubs and North and South would still be able to make but eight tricks at spades, but now East and West would be able to make their four hearts.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Wednesday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Unusual conditions prevail where fellow workers are concerned. Means you must be understanding, calm in the face of emergencies. Best course is one of moderation. If you maintain sensible attitude, you come out on top.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Surprise this evening could cause you to change from glum indifference to attitude of enthusiasm. Be willing to "go along" with plans made by those close to you. Excellent for new contacts, social events.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Fortunate if you attend to details early. Be frank, sincere. Trying to hide unpleasant facts will only add to confusion. Day is good one if maturity is stressed. Trying to "escape" adds to "costs," both emotional and material.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Desire for change. Gain indicated through reading, putting new knowledge to use. Break away from one who is so "traditional" he is old-fashioned. But be sure you make constructive revisions.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Not necessary to be flamboyant today. But take action which shows you have the means to carry through on desires, ambitions. Be gracious, diplomatic. Otherwise, feelings are hurt and enemies created.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Much in your favor where finances, bargains are concerned. You can also put across your ideas. Best to stress the unusual. Allow VIRGO ability to EXPLAIN to come forth. Be concise. Have facts at hand. There could be barrage of questions!

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Answer to recent question concerning INVESTMENT is YES. But be sure you are investing in your own desires, abilities. Avoid speculating on what you might LEARN to like. Think it over!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Push forward instead of looking backward. Cycle indicates relationship could be ending with one who has taken advantage of you. Tonight you could improve life socially. Do so!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Opportunity for publicity. Make sure it is the CONSTRUCTIVE kind. Avoid notoriety. Do this by insisting that all claims can be BACKED UP. Refuse to be part of any get-rich-quick scheme. You'll gain more by sticking to facts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Favorable lunar aspect, which today indicates you can make others "see" what you envision. Go after the "right" person and let him know what you can offer. Otherwise, could help.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Moon conjunct Uranus is in section of your chart dealing with ability to ENJOY. HELP. Means you can produce original ways of entertaining public. Making them feel indebted to you. Follow through on hints gained from reading and hobbies.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): World may appear bizarre to you. Best course is to attend to details, to make sure your own "world" is in good condition. Otherwise, you could spend day brooding, speculating, accomplishing little.

Surviving is one son, Larry, of Howell; a sister, Mrs. George Williams, of Pontiac; and a brother, George, of Sylvan Lake.

Burglars Busy Over Weekend

Number of Break-Ins Being Investigated by Sheriff's Detectives

A rash of break-ins, including a $2,800 burglary of a Pontiac Township service station, was being investigated today by sheriff's detectives.

Thieves cut a hole through the roof of the Leonard Station at 2260 Pontiac Road to gain entry.

Loss of $1,150 in cash and checks totaling $1,650 was discovered yesterday by the station manager.

Thieves who broke into Ed's Ashland Service Station at 3649 Auburn Road, also in the township, got some change from a cigarette machine, tools valued at $66 and three pair of shoes.

★ ★ ★

A break-in at the Village Market, 3342 Auburn Road, Pontiac Township, netted $160 in change. Thieves entered through a hole in the wall left when an ice machine had been removed earlier, deputies said.

Cigarettes and fruit valued at $46 were reported missing in a break-in at the Willo Hi Farm Market, 806 Opdyke Road in the township. The door had been forced open.

A new kitchen stove valued at $280 was stolen during a break-in at a new house at 3351 Granger Road in Independence Township.

★ ★ ★

The loss was discovered yesterday by owner, Fred Townsend of 65 Hi-Hill Drive, Pontiac. Entry had been forced by smashing a window in the door.

Judging Set Today at 4-H Club Show

EAST LANSING (UP) — Judging in many events of the 4-H Club Show starts today, as the 47th annual show begins in earnest for some 3,000 youthful entrants.

★ ★ ★

Show officials said dairy cattle entries were a record 565 this year, and the 450 demonstration exhibit entrants showed a gain of 100 over last year.

But livestock exhibitors are fewer this year, according to officials, presumably because the Michigan State Fair is going on in Detroit at the same time.

★ ★ ★

Livestock exhibitors entered 119 beef cattle, 140 swine, and 276 sheep.

The show will last through Thursday.

Band to Appear in Area

Brenda Lee's band, The Casuals, will appear Thursday at Dell's Inn, Elizabeth Lake Road at Cass Lake Road, featuring recording vocalists Gary Miles and Bob Beckham. The variety show and music will begin at 9 p.m. and continue to 2 a.m.

Jobless Father of 8 Presented With Triplets

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The 24-year-old wife of an unemployed man gave birth Monday to triplets—their 9th, 10th and 11th children.

★ ★ ★

A boy and two girls were born to Irma Washington, whose husband, Henry, 30, is on relief.

Their other children are Diane, 9; Thomas, 8; 5-year-old twins Ernest and Ernestine; Curtis, 4; Sherman, 3; Herman, 2, and Philip, 1. A daughter who would be 6 now died in 1960.

Maccabees Group Wins Championship

LAKE ORION — At ritual competition in Lansing yesterday, the Lake Orion Maccabees Ritual Team came out the international champion of the 24th Quadrinial Supreme Tent Review.

The team, commanded by Mrs. Beatrice Raab, beat out the Calgary, Alberta, ritual team for the team trophy. They had shared the championship with the Alberta team four years ago.

Individual winners from Lake Orion were: Mrs. Raab, commander, Mrs. Allece Carrothers, lieutenant commander; Mrs. Ethel Schiek, assistant record-keeper; Mrs. Hilda Weitschat, pianist; and Mrs. Sylvia Shafer, director.

The competition was held at the Civic Center Auditorium in Lansing.

K Backs Cambodian Call for Neutrality Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has endorsed Cambodia's call for an international conference to guarantee the Asian nation's neutrality, Pravda reported today.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state, has invited 12 other nations which took part in the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos to participate in the new conference.

African City Gets Snow

JOHANNESBURG (UPI)—Snow fell on Johannesburg today for the first time in 17 years. Several inches of snow lay on the ground when Johannesburgers awoke. It was the first snow since 1945 and the heaviest since 1936.

Romney to Talk at GOP Picnic

To Be Main Speaker at Ivory Farm Ox-Roast on Sept. 8

George W. Romney, Republican candidate for governor, will be the main speaker at the third annual Oakland County Republican picnic and ox-roast Sept. 8 at the John F. Ivory Farm on Cooley Lake Road near Union Lake.

Romney's acceptance of an invitation to speak was announced today by Ernest R. Crawford, chairman of the event.

U.S. Congressman William S. Broomfield also will address picnickers. 1960 Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul D. Bagwell will serve as master of ceremonies.

All other state and county Republican candidates also are expected to attend the ox-roast and give short talks.

Open to all Republicans, Independents and interested Democrats, the event is free of charge and will begin about noon, Crawford said.

★ ★ ★

It will be preceded from 9 a.m. to noon by a pancake and sausage breakfast at a nominal charge, he added.

★ ★ ★

Named as the 1962 ox-roast committee chairmen were Ernest Johnson, 3891 Woodland St., Highland Township; George Collingwood, 1123 Absequami Trail, Orion Township; Gordon Haupt, 454 Withington St., Ferndale; Richard A. Young, 2810 Indian Lake Road, Orion Township; Mrs. Keith D. King, 330 Winiry Drive, Rochester; and Kenneth Gidley, 1780 Baldwin Road, Pontiac Township.

★ ★ ★

Others named were Angus Browning, 2960 Poplar St., Highland Township; Owen O'Neil, 5505 Walling Drive, Drayton Plains; Mrs. Donald White, 5838 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township; Theodore Koella, 1845 Woodland St., Sylvan Lake; Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Donald Kraft; Alice Schoenholtz of Royal Oak; Ronald Smith, 441 Scott Lake Road, Waterford Township; and Thomas Ruska, 701 Orchard Lake Ave., Pontiac.

Eastern Town Gets Surprise Whitewash Job

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (UP) — The town of Thurptown got an unexpected whitewash Monday due to a highway employe who meant only to paint new divider lines along Route 122.

A hose connected to an automatic line painter sprung a leak as the unidentified worker drove through the center of town.

★ ★ ★

Quick-drying white paint gushed from a 200-gallon pressurized tank onto the road, sidewalks, fences, lawns, flowers, hedges, cars and trucks.

Police said the worker traveled at least two miles—almost the entire length of Thurptown—before honking automobile horns alerted him something was wrong.

Meeting Scheduled by Waterford Group

Members of Waterford Township's recently established General Citizens Committee will hold its organizational meeting tomorrow afternoon at the United Community Presbyterian Church, 4269 Monroe St., Drayton Plains.

Rev. Walter Teeuwissen, pastor of the church where the meeting will take place, is temporary chairman of the 30-member committee whose purpose is to work with area youth. The meeting is scheduled for 4 p.m.

Distiller's Daughter Dies

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Blanche Mattingly Gutig, 97, daughter of the late Wallace Mattingly, one of Kentucky's pioneer distillers, died Monday. Mrs. Gutig, a direct descendant of Leonard Mattingly, who helped settle Leonardstown, Md., was a retired receptionist for radio Station WHAS.

Watkins Hills, Holiday Farms

Street Lighting Up in Air

Two street lighting public hearings, generally routine business, stretched last night's Waterford Township Board meeting into a 4½ hour marathon. And both lighting issues are still unresolved.

WATKINS HILLS

A public hearing for Watkins Hills subdivision has been rescheduled for Sept. 24. Oct. 8 is the designated new hearing date for Holiday Farms residents.

Following a lengthy discussion on the Watkins Hills proposed lighting project involving a total yearly assessment of $270.57, it was brought to the board's attention that residents who signed petitions favoring the lighting were not shown a layout of the positioning of the lights.

Trustee Loren Anderson, who objected to a motion by Trustee John Coleman that the hearing be postponed, quickly concurred with Coleman's proposal when the fact that layouts were not presented was revealed.

"I was ready to support Anderson's motion and avoid a postponement," Trustee Joseph McGee said after the meeting, "but when everyone said the layouts weren't shown there was no alternative but to set a new hearing."

★ ★ ★

A total of 56.6 per cent residents of the subdivision had signed petitions favoring the lighting project that would have cost each residence $3.51 yearly in a assessments

★ ★ ★

Opposition to the proposal amounted to 27.6 per cent of the residents. The remainder of the 103 residents expressed no opinion.

Though there is no written policy, the board has generally sought at least 60 per cent support before approving a lighting district. A subdivision meeting will be set.

HOLIDAY FARMS

Holiday Farms subdivision residents had a somewhat different problem. The majority favored lighting but the type of lighting had not been resolved.

★ ★ ★

Several residents said at the hearing that they were told when they signed the petition that it was merely to determine if people wanted lighting.

Actually it incorporates the desire for lighting with the type of lighting to be utilized so that one hearing is sufficient to resolve the proposal.

Residents of the subdivision will hold a meeting to determine what type of lighting is desired prior to the rescheduled hearing Oct. 8. The petitions specified ornamental type poles at a unit assessment of $6.30 per year or a total cost of $642.60 for the 102 residences.

CHETOLAH SHORES

In a third lighting hearing no objections were raised to a lighting district in Chetolah Shores subdivision and the hearing was declared closed.

A unit cost of $2.73 was set for the 103 residences for a total assessment of $281.19.

I other business the board conducted a hearing on the roll for the Edgefield Street sewer project and there were no objectors. A motion was carried to proceed with the $4,566.72 project involving eight residences.

The board set Sept. 17 for a hearing of intent to proceed on blacktopping for Midland Street at an estimated cost of $14,294.69.

LOTUS LAKE

A delegation from Lotus Lake subdivision heard a report from Floyd Vermmette, sanitary engineer with the county sanitation department, stating that tests indicated no disease hazard in the swampy area behind the subdivision.

The group had requested such a study at a recent board meeting and also expressed concern then about the safety of their children who play near the low area.

Considerable discussion transpired on the safety factor last night. Trustee Byron Cole suggested that estimates be taken on the cost of dredging which met with board approval. Residents of the subdivision will be advised of the estimates by Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

★ ★ ★

A request to rezone a lot at M59 and Sylvertis Street from residential to light industrial was introduced and will be acted upon next week. It was pointed out that surrounding property is now zoned light industrial.

More Testimony on Billie Sol Due

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators scheduled testimony today from a government lawyer whose recommendation to keep Billie Sol Estes off an agriculture department advisory committee was vetoed by Charles S. Murphy, No. 2 man in the department.

The lawyer, John Francis, was called to tell the Senate investigations subcommittee this afternoon why he thought available information about Estes was "sufficiently derogatory" to keep him off the cotton advisory committee.

Francis, chief of the department's adjudication and review division, noted in a Nov. 21, 1961 memo that Estes had not been tried for alleged cotton allotment abuses and might not be guilty of wrongdoing.

Ohio Youth Questioned in Slaying of Girl, 12

AKRON, Ohio (UP) — Sheriff's deputies questioned a teen - age boy today in the death of 12-year-old Marion Brubaker, a minister's daughter whose nude, beaten body was found in a woods near her home.

★ ★ ★

The 15 - year - old boy reported finding the body late yesterday in a thicket in Coventry Township.

He was questioned until the early hours of the morning and was given a lie detector test, then was sent to the juvenile detention home. Deputies indicated they would have more questions for him later.

Blimey! A Yank at Buckingham?

LONDON (UP) — A Yank in a bearskin cap may go on guard duty some day outside the gates of Buckingham Palace.

He is Robert Mays, 24, from Kentucky.

★ ★ ★

Mays reported for 15 weeks of recruit training yesterday with the Elite Grenadier Guards. The Grenadiers are one of five regiments of foot guards who provide sentries for the palace.

By joining the British Army, Mays forfeited his American citizenship. He said he has applied for British citizenship.

"I had thought it over and was quite resigned to it before coming here," he told newsmen.

"I have thought about England and things English for so long that it doesn't seem at all strange to me."

★ ★ ★

The 5-foot-11 guardsman said an ancestor of his was killed with the regiment at the Battle of Waterloo.

"That started my interest in the Guards.

WATCHED PARADES

"I saved my money and came to England to watch all the ceremonial parades I could. On my return to America, I wrote to the war office about it.

★ ★ ★

"They told me if I made my own way to England, I could enlist."

Mays got to Bermuda, then hitched a ride from there on the British Navy frigate Troubridge.

As a Grenadier, Mays will be issued the dress uniform consisting of a scarlet tunic with blue collar, blue trousers and a tall bearskin hat. A Guards spokesman said he "more than likely" would have a turn at guard duty at the palace, like any other guardsman.

Mays said he took a bachelor of arts degree at Our Lady of Gethsemane Seminary in Kentucky and studied to become a Trappist monk. He said he quit before taking his final vows and subsequently worked as a schoolteacher and as a hospital orderly.

He said he has two brothers — John, serving with an American tank regiment at Nuernburg, Germany, and Nea Martin of Baltimore, Md.

N. Borneo to Build Up Defense Against Piracy

LABUAN, North Borneo (AP)—The North Borneo government has approved 1.5 million Malayan dollars (about $500,000 U.S.) for intensifying defensive measures against piracy in its territorial waters.

The money will be used to provide additional two-way radio communications equipment, air patrols and other aids to fight Sulu Sea pirates and armed gangs attacking villages along the territory's largely unprotected coastline, a government spokesman said yesterday.

Thant was there to talk with the Russian officials about attending the U. N. General Assembly in New York early this fall.

Newspaper Reporter Gets Glory

TV Journalist No Hero Type

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD — There's a touch of both irony and paradox in the fact that the hero of NBC's new "Saints and Sinners" series is a newspaper reporter.

★ ★ ★

After all, NBC and its sister networks spend vast sums of money and considerable time glamorizing, exploiting and publicizing their own staffs of electronic journalists — the Huntleys, Brinkleys and Cronkites—so one would expect that, under corporate policy if nothing else, a television portrait of a newsman would be the fellow with the microphone and the off-camera prompter.

★ ★ ★

The sad, sad truth is that television journalists, no matter how glamorous, just don't make good adventure-story heroes. They are weighted down by their broadcasting equipment and plots are likely to trip over the cables.

★ ★ ★

But the newspaper reporter, unencumbered by anything heavier than a notebook and pencil, is a proven, handy protagonist, even though he has been misused so badly through years of motion pictures and television quickies that naive viewers have come to regard him as either a quixotic drunk of some kind of a nut.

★ ★ ★

Even so, "Saints and Sinners," if you take the word of the show's developer and head writer, Adrian Spies, will be different although the pilot show, aired as a Dick Powell episode last season, was not likely to stimulate any spontaneous cheers from the nation's city rooms.

Spies, in his salad days, was a newspaperman himself, and looks back upon those carefree, $40-a-week days with a degree of romantic nostalgia permissible only in a man who has moved into upper income brackets. He promises that none of the usual cheap newspaperman cliches will creep into his show.

★ ★ ★

"There will be none of this yelling 'Scoop,' or 'Tear up the front page,' or funny Frank McHugh drunks," said Spies. "We'll even have reporters accept quietly the fact they've missed the deadline of an edition."

★ ★ ★

Spies is much more worried about the public's reaction to a newspaper-based series than he is about anguished screams from the wounded newspaper community.

★ ★ ★

"I wonder if there is a predisposition on the part of the public to accept those old cliches after so much exposure to them?" fretted Spies. "But even more, I wonder is the public still fascinated by the newspaper business?"

★ ★ ★

Obviously Spies is, and so is Nick Adams who will play what the show prospectus calls "star reporter of the New York Bulletin." (Gosh, Adrian, I haven't heard of a star reporter since the last time I ran into the city room yelling "Scoop!")

★ ★ ★

At any rate, it's one show the older women in the audience are almost guaranteed to adore: John Larkin will play the city editor, and as every veteran viewer of day-time television knows, John Larkin for many, many years played the lawyer-hero of "Edge of Night."

Former Troy Girl to Appear on TV Tonight at 10

A former Troy resident will appear as a member of a dance team tonight on CBS Television's "Talent Scouts" at 10 p.m.

Donna McKechnie, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don McKechnie of 230 E. Maple, Troy, will be introduced with her dance partner Tracy Everett by leading Broadway dancer Gwen Verdon.

Donna is now appearing with her partner in her first Broadway musical "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

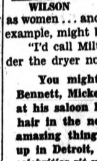
Though tonight will be the Pontiac-born dancer's first official introduction to television audiences, she had a small part in a "Naked City" segment and has appeared in a dancing commercial.

He-Men Wear Hairnets in Hollywood Salon

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD — Men don't flinch now—it's perfectly all right for you to wear hairnets.

Jay Sebring says it is.



WILSON

Jay's the lean, serious 28-year-old cosmetologist who repaired the wild, wooly, haircut that Liz Taylor inflicted on Eddie Fisher. He's revolutionized the hairdos of the glamour guys, even the muscular, tattooed TV heroes. When Andy Williams, Steve Allen, Paul Anka or Tony Franciosa say, "I can't do a thing with my hair," Jay shows them how — $15 for the first haircut, $10 for the others, or $50 if he comes to your digs, as he does to Frank Sinatra's and Marlon Brando's.

The guys are as daffy about their hair as women . . . and the fun the wives have! Mrs. Milton Berle, for example, might break up the crowd at the pool by saying:

"I'd call Milton at the barbershop—but he's probably under the dryer now in his hairnet."

You might see Henry Fonda, Jack Entratter, Tony Bennett, Mickey Rooney or George Hamilton in hairnets at his saloon here on Fairfax Av.—the drying off of the hair in the net is part of Jay's art. But there was one amazing thing (to me) about Jay, an Alabaman grown up in Detroit, who came out here to make all the male celebrities sit up and holler, "Hair, Hair!"

His own hair was very long (he was wearing blue levis and a matching shirt) and he doesn't heckle customers into frequent haircuts.

"I have one of the boys here cut mine every two months but this time it's gone two and a half months. I do think, though," he said, "that long hair isn't as bad as a bad haircut."

Jane Morgan Collapses, Goes Into Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Jane Morgan, 42, was taken unconscious to a hospital Monday night after telling a friend she had consumed "a dose of pills," police said.

She was given oxygen in an ambulance en route to Roosevelt Hospital. She regained consciousness early today and her condition was listed as good.

A private physician said there was no indication the singer had taken pills. He attributed her condition to nervous exhaustion.

The physician, Dr. Cornelius H. Traeger, said she regained consciousness early today but was too woozy to talk.

Scholle Denial 'Preposterous'

Prof. Pollock Claims Labor Chief's Lobbying at Con-Con Known

ANN ARBOR (AP)—James K. Pollock, a University of Michigan political science professor, yesterday branded as "simply preposterous" state AFL-CIO President August Scholle's plea of innocent to charges of lobbying at the state constitutional convention.

Scholle had denied a charge by Pollock, a Republican delegate to the convention, that he and Gov. Swainson had lobbied with Democratic delegates to the convention.

In an "oh-you-did-so-and-you-know-it" statement Pollock said:

"It is common knowledge that Mr. Scholle was often in the lobbies of constitution hall; that he utilized Tom Downs' (the Democratic convention vice president) office, and that he often talked to individuals and groups of Democratic delegates."

Pollock said he had a picture of Scholle using Downs' office. "And I am sure that there are many other similar pictures available to show his presence in the precincts of the convention," he added.

"He did not, I believe, register as a lobbyist," Pollock went on, "but with 15 or 20 Democratic delegates under his influence, he had a built-in organization."

The professor added:

"Such a santimonious statement flies in the face of many reports given me by affected Democratic delegates as well as my own observations and those of other delegates.

★ ★ ★

"Mr. Scholle's statement that I have let myself be used as a tool for special interests is laughable and beneath contempt."

Publisher Dead at 84

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank S. Bamford, 84, publisher of five magazines in the food trade field, died Monday in the New York office of the American Publishing Co., of which he was president. Bamford, who was born in Chicago, quit his job as a railroad clerk in 1908 to organize the company with his brother, the late Arthur J. Bamford.

DEAF MAN PERFECTS SMALLEST HEARING AID
A remarkable midget Hearing Aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.
This small aid has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a most unusual idea and design in a product for the hard of hearing.
It is especially made for those people who can hear but not understand. This new Hearing Instrument provides "Ear Level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech sounds, television and radio at his ear rather than at a transmitter located in the wearer's clothing.
Due to the use of new type transistors, the cost is extremely low and the instrument weighs approximately ½ ounce. It is about the size of a sewing thimble.
Call FE 8-0728 or write "Audivox," 1105 Pontiac State Bank Bldg., Pontiac, Mich. You will receive full information without any obligations whatever.

Dems to Deny Humphrey Reply Until After Elections

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Former Treasury Secretary George Humphrey doesn't know it yet, but Democrats will deny him a public forum in which to answer their charges of "windfall" nickel profits until after the November elections.

Chairman Stuart Symington, D-Mo., who angrily gaveled the Senate stockpile hearings to a close while Humphrey was futilely demanding the right to be heard, expects to convalesce from his hernia operation for five more weeks after leaving the hospital.

Stu has quietly passed the word that "since the elections will be coming up" shortly thereafter, he will call no more stockpile hearings before mid-November. This seems to lend emphasis to Humphrey's sarcastic observation that the investigation had a political slant.

The Cleveland industrialist and close Eisenhower friend was undoubtedly a bit too arrogant with the Senate committee, but the power play was all on the other side. Democrats would not permit him to testify even after Symington read his own ten-page blast into the record of the hearings.

★ ★ ★

Subsequently, Democratic Sen. Clair Engle delivered a blistering speech against Humphrey on the Senate floor, and President Kennedy at his televised press conference urged everyone to read the Engle speech. It's hard to compete with those forums.

RUNNING SCARED

The party in power always runs scared in an off-year election. It is obvious, therefore, that the donkey party boys wish they could find a few deep freezes and mink coat scandals buried in the archives of the Eisenhower administration, along with Sherm Adams' oriental rug.

★ ★ ★

The house will defer until after Labor Day a vote on the United Nations bond issue, which President Kennedy has listed as one of the five remaining "must" bills before Congress can adjourn.

Rep. Charles M. Teague of California, one of those attractive, dynamic young Republicans whom Ike wishes the GOP had more of, has been a consistent supporter of the U.N. since its inception.

Recently he has been disturbed by letters from some constituents who insisted that a majority of Americans want to withdraw from the U.N.

★ ★ ★

Deciding to test for himself, Teague appended to his regular newsletter a one-question poll: "Should the United States withdraw from the U.N.?" All he requested was a "yes" or "no" check, but the deluge of accompanying letters has been keeping him at his office nights and Sundays ever since.

Of the more than 2,500 replies received to date, Teague was astonished to find that 40 per cent favor outright withdrawal from the U.N.

Of the other 60 per cent, approximately a third qualified their vote against withdrawal by such comments as: "But we should not continue to pay a disproportionate share of the operating costs," or "I hope that a little more time will bring about some of the urgently needed changes."

★ ★ ★

Some of those who favored staying in the U.N. prefaced it by conditions like these: "Only if any nation is thrown out unless it pays all dues and assessments," and "It is all wrong for these new countries from Africa, etc., to have as big a vote in the U.N. assembly as the U.S. does."

★ ★ ★

Another wrote: "While we are keenly disappointed in the U.N. we would be worse off without it."

The Senate has already passed a trimmed down version of the U.N. bond purchase bill, but the House Democratic leadership has been too skittish about House sentiment to bring it up yet for the "yeas and nays."

Teague is beginning to understand why. As a matter of fact, he has not yet made up his mind how he himself will vote on the controversial, but bipartisan bond issue.

Cost, Setbacks Complicate Picture

Catching Up in Space Difficult Task

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The President says yes, we're behind the Russians in some important aspects of the race for space. But catching up and surpassing them is not a question of pushing a button, or putting more men to work, or even spending more money.

It's all a staggeringly complicated task. An organization named Defense Marketing Services, Inc., which keeps a sleepless eye on the cost and progress of our space quests, sheds some light on the complexities:

The Army's new solid-fuel two-stage Pershing missile has turned out to have a 400-mile range instead of the planned-for 200-mile range. The Army is now afraid the Air Force will protest, or claim it.

Fifty-two separate firms, including Continental Can, are building the Nike Zeus, the anti-missile-missile which recently intercepted an Atlas warhead in space about 200 miles over the Pacific. If it proves out, we'll spend $14 billion on Zeus bases around the 27 top U. S. cities.

MINUTEMAN A SUCCESS

We'll soon have 1,000 Minutemen ICBM's in place. It's a great success. But we've spent nearly $400 million trying to get the Centaur liquid hydrogen engine into the space hardware inventory.

The first launch attempt was scheduled for June 1961. It was postponed until last May 8, then the monster exploded 56 seconds after lift-off.

The second scheduled flight, once set for October, has slipped to February of '63, and probably later.

The project is two full years behind, and several other projects have been stalled or benched because of it.

WHAT'S TO COME

Here's what's upcoming in Project Mercury: Astronaut Walter Schirra will go for six orbits next month or the month after. There will be another six-orbit flight early in 1963, and the $400-million program will be concluded later next year with two or three one-day orbital missions.

It will then be replaced by Gemini, the two-men-in-orbit project.

Twelve of the capsules have been ordered ($36 million). Fifteen Titan II boosters have been bought ($50 million) and preliminary flight testing, operational support and capsule development engineering will cost a bit, too ($44.2 million, let's say).

And we're just beginning.

2 More Settlements in '60 Air Disaster

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two settlements announced yesterday brought to $1,195,000 the amount thus far paid relatives of persons killed in a Northwest Airlines crash over Tell City, Ind.

At least 14 damage suits were still pending in the crash that killed 63 persons on St. Patrick's Day, 1960.

Attorney John J. Kennelly said the settlements were reached in conferences with U. S. District Judge Julius H. Miner.

Probe Can Near Venus

Spirit Is Gone in E. Germany

EDITOR'S NOTE—East Germany usually is closed to Western correspondents except for such East-West events as the annual Leipzig Trade Fair or an all-European sports competition. AP correspondent Loyal Gould has been covering the European swimming championships in Saxony's largest city and sends this report of life behind the Iron Curtain.

By LOYAL GOULD

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP)—Hopes rise and fall along the Berlin wall with the slightest change in the East-West political climate. But inside East Germany, there is a spirit of resignation.

Walter Ulbricht, Germany's top Red, has succeeded in wiping out almost all hope for a change for the better.

★ ★ ★

"After 17 years of Communist rule," a Leipzig streetcar conductor said, "we are coming to accept our fate."

He expressed the opinion of dozens of people this reporter talked to during 10 days in this former cultural and commercial center.

Once known as a little Paris because of its sparkling intellectual and social life, Leipzig now has the drab uniformity and widespread shabbiness characteristic of East Germany's colorless cities.

"Since it looks to many of us as if it's going to stay this way, we're knuckling under and trying to make the best of a bad situation," said a student from East Berlin's Humboldt University.

MUST PRETEND

"The only way to get ahead here is to at least pretend you're a good Communist," he explained.

★ ★ ★

Joining the party assured him a university education, a slightly better diet and preference for a job when he graduates next year.

"There are about 1.6 million of us in the party," he continued, "and about 1 per cent are true believers.

"What's the use of showing opposition? You'll only suffer for it. Why try to escape? You'll probably be killed."

He said the widely publicized shootings by East German border police of their fellow countrymen trying to escape over the Berlin wall "have discouraged a lot of

Bury Youth Killed by Reds

East Berliners Ignore Secret Police, Attend Grim Funeral

BERLIN (UPI) — Peter Fechter, 18, who died without a doctor, was buried without a clergyman.

About 300 East Berliners ignored plainclothesmen of the Communist secret police yesterday to attend the grim funeral.

They paid silent tribute to a youth most of them had not known until he lost his life for turning his back on East Germany's totalitarian regime.

West Berlin's building workers union sent flowers and the Communist allowed them to pass into East Germany.

DENIED RELIGIOUS BURIAL

But the East German regime denied a religious burial for the youth that Communist guards shot down 11 days ago as he tried to scale the antirefugee wall to West Berlin.

★ ★ ★

According to letters received by his relatives in West Berlin, Peter became a construction worker in East Berlin because he thought he would get a chance to make a break for freedom.

★ ★ ★

He made the try on Aug. 17, a few blocks from the new East German Ministry or Internal and Foreign Trade on which he had been working.

Communist police gunned him down and he lay for an hour, unaided by East or West, as his life ebbed out.

The wreath from the West German unionists was laid on his grave yesterday by Peter's fellow workers in East Germany.

The Communist regime, however, would not allow a minister at the grave.

U.S. Scientists Jubilant Over Revised Data

Small Motor Is Key to Changing Course of Mariner 2

From Our News Wires

PASADENA, Calif. — Scientists were jubilant today over revised tracking figures which show the United States' Mariner-2 spacecraft can come within 10,000 miles of the mysterious planet Venus.

The scientists said the probe designed to find out if life can exist on the cloud-shrouded planet now gives promise of a "smashing success" and should give America her first major stride ahead of Russian space technology.

A small ace-in-the-hole motor weighing 37.3 pounds is the big key to attaining the world's most significant interplanetary achievement-shooting the Mariner 2 spacecraft on an exploratory mission past Venus.

★ ★ ★

If the complex space messenger sweeps within 10,000 miles of Venus in December as planned—after a 180-million mile trip — it would mark a major breakthrough for the United States in the race for space.

COULD BE HELPFUL

Information relayed by Mariner 2 could help scientists and astronomers unravel secrets concealed for centuries by the planet's constant cloud layers.

It could determine whether life as we know it possibly could exist on the planet, something doubted by most scientists.

The critical firing of the motor by ground signal is scheduled tentatively for next Tuesday, Sept. 4, after the flight path, alignment, speed and other factors have been carefully computed.

★ ★ ★

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration expressed much concern shortly after the launching when early tracking indicated the spacecraft trajectory was off by as much as 600,000 miles.

This would have been too great for the midcourse motor, which has a capability of correcting an error up to 500,000 miles.

It is essential that the probe approach within 25,000 miles of Venus if it is to gather the desired measurements.

COULD 'HIT' TARGET

Several hours later, however, refinement of tracking signals revealed Mariner 2's error was only 250,000 miles. Project officials announced the "space craft is on a trajectory that can be corrected to make it fly by Venus within a distance of 10,000 miles as planned."

The trajectory error was caused by an unexplained rolling motion executed by the first stage of the Atlas-Agena B booster rocket.

While appearing confident the experiment would succeed all the

Coming Down on Schedule

BITES THE DUST — Demolition of Oakland County's former courthouse in downtown Pontiac is proceeding right on schedule, George Arakelian, manager of the Wolverine Lumber and Wrecking Co. reported today. Shown here is the tall, brick chimney being pulled down by a crane using a cable. Walls of the 57-year-old sandstone building are scheduled to come down within the next two months. The razed site of the former county prosecutor's office is seen in the foreground.

Swainson to Stump in Pontiac on Friday

Friday will be Gov. John B. Swainson's campaign day in Pontiac, the Oakland County Democratic Committee announced today.

The governor will kick off a full day of campaign activities in Michigan's hottest election battle in years by greeting workers at the gates of the GMC Truck & Coach plant on South Boulevard at 6 a.m.

Next stop on his tour through the Pontiac area in his bid for re-election against Republican challenger George W. Romney will be a breakfast at the Lakeside Housing Project on Branch Street at 8:30.

Moving along on a tightly scheduled itinerary, the governor will next attend a senior citizens rally at UAW-CIO Local 594 headquarters, 525 East Blvd., at 10:45 a.m.

Evening highlight of his tour will be a visit to Pontiac Mall Shopping Center at 6:30 p.m.

Other stops on his schedule will be a 2 p.m. press conference at the Waldron Hotel and an 8 p.m. dinner with Democratic candidates and county committee officers at the home of auditor general Billie Farnum, 3033 Lansdowne St., Drayton Plains.

Lunch with business and civic leaders is also planned for the day.

Gov. Swainson's first scheduled visit to Pontiac on July 10 was canceled at the last minute following the Supreme Court's ruling to force reapportionment of the State Senate.

Deficit Less Than Expected

State Chiefs Credit Better Business With Keeping Debt Down

LANSING (AP) — State officials yesterday credited increased business activity in Michigan with enabling the state to finish the 1961-62 fiscal year $10.2 million less in the red than it had figured to be.

★ ★ ★

But Gov. Swainson and a key Republican legislator differed on whether the rise in the general fund deficit could have been slowed even more.

State Controller Ira Polley reported the general fund deficit, as of June 30, stood at $85.8 million instead of the $96 million which had been predicted last January.

He credited the less-than-expected increase in the general fund deficit to several factors, chief among them an unexpected tax return of $5.9 million, mostly from sales and corporation taxes.

KEPT RISE DOWN

Polley said adherence to austerity programs and the stressing of economy and efficiency in state government operations held the deficit down by another $2.5 million.

His report also said most of the state's economic indicators "point to progress in the months ahead."

★ ★ ★

The business activities tax return in the first six weeks of the current fiscal year is 17 per cent above the same period last year, it explained.

The deficit in the general fund was $71.1 million at the end of the 1960-61 fiscal year and forecasts issued in January estimated it would rise by $24.3 million by June 30, 1962. The actual increase, however, came to $14.1 million.

Gov. Swainson termed Polley's report encouraging.

Wage Hikes Set Sept. 1 for UAW

DETROIT (AP) — The paychecks of some 315,000 production employes at auto-making plants will be 2½ per cent larger starting Sept. 1 — bringing them yearly raises totaling about $30 million.

★ ★ ★

Under contracts between the United Auto Workers Union and General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp., some 500,000 workers in Michigan and other states are due for raises of 2½ per cent or six cents an hour, whichever is greater.

The raise — called the annual improvement factor — also goes to thousands of UAW members in auto supplier plants later in the month.

Depending on the federal government's cost of living index for July, a cost of living salary adjustment may add another cent an hour.

★ ★ ★

Salaried workers for the four auto-makers will receive increases, too.

At General Motors, for example, the salaries of eligible employes will be increased by 2½ per cent or $10.50 a month, whichever is greater.

The annual improvement factor has added 77 cents an hour to the paychecks of GM hourly-rated workers since it was first negotiated at GM in 1948.

★ ★ ★

The 2½ per cent increase was designed to represent the average worker's increase in productivity each year.

JFK Gets Satellite Bill

Okay Ban on Poll Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capping a 23-year battle, Congress has approved a proposed constitutional amendment which would ban poll taxes in federal elections.

Now it's up to the states, which have seven years to make up their mind.

Congress also wrapped up the communications satellite bill and sent it to President Kennedy.

It sets up a private, profit-making corporation to run the U.S. portion of an eventual global network on space relay stations.

★ ★ ★

The House approved a Senate version of the bill 372 to 10 Monday, foreclosing any chance to another Senate filibuster.

With 40 votes to spare, the House completed action Monday on a resolution submitting to the state legislatures the proposition of making it constitutionally wrong to require payment of a poll tax to vote in elections for federal officials.

The vote was 295 to 86. A two-thirds majority was needed for approval. The winners included 163 Democrats and 132 Republicans.

On the losing side were 71 Democrats and 15 Republicans.

Most of the dissenting Democrats were from the five states still having poll taxes: Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia.

The next move is up to the General Services Administration. That agency must certify the concessional action — approved last March by the Senate — to the governors of the 50 states.

If three-fourths of the state legislatures—38 of them—ratify the proposed amendment within seven years it will become the law of the land.

FIGHT SATELLITE BILL

A small group of House liberals argued again that the Satellite bill represents a giveaway of millions of taxpayers' dollars spent on space research that makes the revolutionary communications system possible.

Rep. William Springer, R-Ill., said, "If you say this is a giveaway bill, you're saying the President sent down a giveaway bill to the Congress of the United States." He added, "The prestige of this country is on the line with this bill."

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, said, "Our nation needs it. It needs it now, and without further delay."

Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., who voted against the bill, said the corporation's board of directors would be dominated by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The poll tax abolition proposal does not affect elections for state and local officials. It applies only to presidential and vice presidential electors and to voters for senators and United States representatives.

Only for Officials, Not You

Convenience Tops City List

Don't try to pay a traffic violation ticket between noon and 1 o'clock until after Labor Day.

★ ★ ★

Things close up tightly.

You see, the City is observing a tranquil siesta hour like Rio and Paramonga, Buenos Aires.

It's "inconvenient" to open and whether it's inconvenient for the hapless taxpayers is unimportant.

Taxpayers don't count.

★ ★ ★

Last week a Florida man dropped in to pay his ticket as he was driving back. "We're closed until one," he was told.

"But I'm leaving for Florida."

"Sorry, we're closed just the same."

"Won't you take the money?"

"No."

★ ★ ★

A young woman put in: "I want to pay my ticket. I work and can't get here except at noon."

"We're closed. Yo uknow—shorthanded."

"My place of business get's shorthanded too, but it doesn't close. We respect the public."

"And I'm leaving for Florida," put in the male. "Down there we treat visitors respectfully. We want 'em back."

★ ★ ★

"Sorry for everybody, but we're closed. Good bye."

And so, if you have a traffic ticket and are leaving for Africa, or if you have to work for a living and can only get off at noon, postpone your trip, quit your job or go jump in the lake.

The City Violations Department doesn't care a hoot about you or anyone like you. Personal convenience for them comes first, second, third and right on down to twenty-fifth.

Nothing else counts.

2 Small Girls Die in Crash

PCH Teacher, Wife in Fair Condition as Daughters Perish

A Pontiac Central High School teacher and his wife were in fair condition in a Standish hospital today after a two-car crash yesterday which killed their two small daughters.

Suffering head and internal injuries are Jerry Beckner, 26, and his wife Judy, both of 98 Mohawk Road.

Killed instantly in the head-on collision on U.S. 23 near Standish was 3-year-old Jennie L. Beckner. Two-year-old Carrie M. Beckner died a few hours later of head injuries in a Bay City Hospital.

Also killed was the driver of the second car, Mrs. Emily J. Blum, 60, of Flint.

Arenac County Sheriff Edward Bessinger said Mrs. Blum apparently lost control of her car when it struck a raised center strip. The car, he said, swerved across the highway into the path of Beckner's small foreign car.

The Beckners have one other child, Stephen, 6 months old, who was staying with Mrs. Beckner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Guthrie of Pontiac.

Beckner has been teaching at PCH since last fall. He has been a science teacher but also handled two positions as assistant coach of the swimming and track teams. He also was the school's athletic manager.

Magistrate David Hammer said the suspicions were groundless. In addition to the candy command, he levied a 60-day suspended jail sentence.

Statesman Hits Ben Bella Plans

ALGIERS (AP) — Belkacem Krim, one of the main authors of the Evian, France, peace treaty with France, bitterly attacked Ahmed Ben Bella's crippled Political Bureau today. He urged the people to oppose all efforts to "install a regime of personal power and dictatorship."

★ ★ ★

Krim, who was a vice premier in the Algerian government in exile, launched his attack on television and before 40 newsmen in his office in the old French colonial headquarters.

He spoke as Algeria's military leaders supporting Ben Bella were assembling in a strategy session east of Algiers. The military chiefs apparently were making an effort to weld a common front against the anti-Ben Bella guerrillas dominating Algiers and surrounding country.

MAGIC TOUCH

Krim said Ben Bella "speaks of imposing socialism as if it could be done with a touch of a magic wand."

But Krim himself said he favored reforms carried out "in Socialist perspective."

★ ★ ★

He attacked Ben Bella's Political Bureau for postponing elections from Sept. 2 and declared, "We must again start discussions to settle the problems of leadership. Only then we can give new hope to the nation."

OPPOSES FORCE

He expressed the hope "the people will not be rushed into a fratricidal war and will oppose any solution by force."

From his headquarters in western Algeria, Col. Houari Boumedienne called the commanders of Wilayas (military zones) Nos. 1, 2, 5 and 6 to the meeting in Setif, 150 miles east of Algiers on the road to Constantine.

The leaders of Wilayas 3 and 4, who chased Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau out of the capital, were not invited.

Boumedienne, chief of the 45,000-man regular army, clearly was attempting to unite most of Algeria's 100,000 troops against the anti-Ben Bella guerrilla commanders in central Algeria. But there was no sign that shooting was imminent.

FEAR DICTATORSHIP

Diplomatic observers believe the opposing sides will continue to try to avoid bloodshed. They fear, however, that a form of military dictatorship will emerge from the economic chaos and bitter political bickering that has prevailed since independence July 3.

HAVE 30,000

The anti-Ben Bella leaders command an imposing force of toughened veterans of the war for independence against France. Wilaya 4, controlling Algiers, is believed to have 20,000 men under arms. Their supporters in Wilaya 3, in the Kabylie Mountains to the east, are estimated at 10,000.

Boumediene's own troops are largely untested, having sat out most of the war in Morocco and Tunisia. Despite Boumediene's order placing them under the command of his general staff, the four other wilayas have given no indication that they are prepared to fight their guerrilla brothers.

It was resistance to Ben Bella's efforts to bring the six guerrilla zones under a unified central command that caused Wilaya 4's rebellion against the Political Bureau, sending it in flight to Oran. The Algiers guerrillas accused the Political Bureau of betraying the revolution and launched bitter attacks against the West, Europeans and "neocolonialists."

3 Stand Mute Before Judge

Expect to Send Trio in Vasiliou Case Back to Municipal Court

The three men accused of the July 30 slaying of Pontiac market owner Eftimias Vasiliou stood mute on first-degree murder charges yesterday before Circuit Court Judge H. Russel Holland.

However, Joseph Page, 26, of 249 Orchard Lake Ave., Benny L. Spells, 23, and R. G. Stroman, 29, both of 235 S. Anderson St., are expected to be returned to Pontiac Municipal Court for examination on the charge.

The three were not represented by attorneys at last week's appearance before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Attorney John McIntosh of Ferndale, who represents Stroman, asked the court for the return to Municipal Court.

★ ★ ★

Judge Holland delayed ruling on the request until it was determined if John O'Connell of Detroit, attorney for Page and Spells, also wished the same move.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor, although not able to contact O'Connell immediately, said he was sure the three would be remanded to Municipal Court.

Judge Holland entered pleas of innocent for the three.

Rufus Wilson Jr., 29, of 44 Maple St., another alleged member of the "stocking bandit" ring, pleaded guilty to armed robbery charges in the Aug. 13 holdup of the Keg Kanteen, 84 Auburn Ave. He was returned to Oakland County jail to await sentencing Sept. 11.

George Page Jr., 30, of 249 Orchard Lake Ave., Joseph Page's brother, stood mute on the armed robbery charge. He was returned to jail on $10,000 bond.

Joseph Page, Stroman and Spells are held at the jail without bond.

100 Teachers Attend School

New Staff Members in Pontiac Going to Four-Day Workshops

Nearly 100 new teachers in Pontiac's school system are holding down pupils' desks in a four-day workshop this week, said Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

"They will get acquainted with our instructional program, our textbooks and all our teaching materials," he explained.

"But most important they are being taught these things by our helping teachers."

The helping teachers have specialized in solving special problems arising in the classroom. A number of them have extended their activity into developing new ways of teaching for the system.

The newcomers are meeting in three separate workshops.

The largest, composed of 60 "teacher - pupils," includes all new elementary school teachers and is conducted under the direction of Gerald E. White, coordinator of elementary education.

Two others include 15 new teachers in a secondary school math workshop, directed by helping teacher Joyce Sweet who aided in developing Pontiac's new math program, and 20 in a language arts workshop directed by Mrs. Lorraine Leland, also a helping teacher.

Other master teachers include specialists in reading, math and science as well as some regular teachers.

The project started yesterday.

Meanwhile, the Oakland County Board of Education's third reading workshop today entered its second of five days.

The emphasis this year is on teaching of primary reading for the 146 teachers enrolled from 25 out of the county's 30 school systems.

Under the guidance of Dr. Helen Murphy, nationally known reading expert at Boston University, 1st, 2nd and 3rd-grade teachers will look at three reading areas:

1—A review of recent research into the psychology and behavior of children in learning to read;

2—A review of present methods of teaching reading;

3—A presentation of organizing reading materials for the early elementary grades.

Dr. Harry Hahn, county director of instruction, and Dr. Dodd Roberts, director of the county reading clinic, are assisting Dr. Murphy.

Her fiance is a 20-year-old machinist in a Leipzig factory. The party has promised them a 2½-room apartment in an apartment house to be completed in three months.

"I have to give lip service to party doctrine," said the machinist, "but why not when it's to my advantage?"

He said Communist and non-Communist workers in his factory meet almost daily to discuss the editorials in the party's main newspaper Neues Deutschland.

"These sessions are boring and time consuming and we dislike them," he continued, "but if you don't show you've read and understood the editorials, you're sunk."

He also said a constant display of enthusiasm for official policy tends to remove a bit of the police surveillance that hovers constantly over the residents of this country.

VISITS 'FALL OFF'

"If I'm a good boy and they begin to trust me a little," he added, "the sudden visits to my room by the police tend to fall off."

A young musician in a local night club for party big shots said 60 per cent of all popular music played by his band must be composed in the East bloc and the other 40 per cent must come from lists approved by the regime.

"This rules out real jazz and the type of music I like which is branded here as an example of Western decadence," he said.

"As you in the West say, it's square, but by playing this way I have a job and can get together now and then with my pals for private swing sessions of our own."

Seeking Neutral Support on Ban

Britain, U.S. Asking Backing of Bid for Nuclear Treaty

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and Britain sought neutral nation support today for their newest bid for some sort of agreement with Russia on a nuclear test ban treaty.

Time was growing shorter. Reports from Washington said U. S. officials believe Red China may be able to detonate its first nuclear explosion in a year or so.

The Soviet Union professes to be as anxious as the United States and Britain to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to other powers which do not have them, but it has done little to try to come to an agreement with the West.

Initial Russian reaction to the Western proposals introduced yesterday was frosty and there was no indication the Kremlin would go along with anything but an unpoliced test ban.

Nevertheless, U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean refused to accept this as the final word and he went into today's big three nuclear subcommittee meeting prepared to try to win the Russians over.

Incorporation Meeting Topic at Waterford

Appointees to a 20-member committee established to study the feasibility of Waterford Township's becoming a city will hold an organizational meeting tonight.

Election of a chairman and the naming of a steering committee are slated at the 7 p.m. meeting in the township hall.

Included in the group appointed Aug. 13 by the Township Board are teachers, housewives, lawyers, businessmen and municipal employes residing in the township.

Greece Suffers Severe Quake

Man Reported Killed in Collapse of Home at Corinth

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A severe earthquake shook most of Greece for 20 seconds today, toppling homes in some areas. One death was quickly reported.

★ ★ ★

The massive temblor here was accompanied by strong tremors across southern Italy, where a quake last week took 20 lives. But no casualties were reported in Italy and officials said initial checks indicated the damage there was slight.

On the Amalfi coast of Italy where Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy is vacationing, the quake was barely felt. The American First Lady was sightseeing in the Amalfi cathedral and did not notice the disturbance.

The Athens Seismological Service said the quake centered 65 miles southwest of Athens. That would put the epicenter at the town of Nafplion, in the eastern Peloponnesus.

MAN KILLED

Reports reaching Athens from ancient Corinth said a 90-year-old man was killed in the collapse of his home. From Patrai, Greece's third largest port, came word that a number of homes were destroyed.

No damage to the Acropolis or the Parthenon, The ancient ruins on the hillside overlooking Athens, was apparent.

The quake struck the Peloponnesus Peninsula at 1:02 p.m. (6:20 a.m. EST). It was also recorded on the island of Crete and in southern Greece.

★ ★ ★

Police said they were unable to get word on the extent of destruction and casualties because all communications south of Corinth were disrupted.

Jackie Becomes a 'Citizen' of Ravello Tonight

RAVELLO, Italy (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy becomes an honorary citizen of Ravello tonight at an old-fashioned fiesta which residents of this seaside village hope to make the social event of the season.

Mrs. Kennedy, nearing the end of her vacation on the Mediterranean coast, will receive a scroll attesting her citizenship in formal ceremonies preceding the fiesta.

In London, a leading British columnist today defended Jacqueline Kennedy's frequent public appearances in a bathing suit.

"Since when has youth and grace and gaiety at the White House been improper?" asked the London Daily Mirror's Cassandra (William Connor), who rarely has a good word to say for the United States.

Living Costs Rise From June to July

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living rose by two-tenths of one per cent in July to a record high, largely because of higher prices for several important foods and services.

★ ★ ★

Announcing the figure today, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said the increase was largely seasonal. It said its consumer price index in the last 10 years always has risen between June and July.

★ ★ ★

The rise of 0.2 per cent brought the index to 105.5 per cent of the average prices in the 1957-59 base period.

This means that the purchasing power of the dollar has shrunk by a little more than a nickel since that period.

The Day in Birmingham

Application Accepted for Junior Art Classes

BIRMINGHAM — Applications are now being accepted for the fall term of children's art classes at the Young People's Art Center, sponsored by the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries.

Young people, 6 through 19, may enroll in classes which begin Sept. 18. Classes are divided by ages and are held in the YPAC room, located beneath the library.

The fall session will continue for 10 weeks with three classes on Saturdays and one class after school on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the latter, a high school class, ages 14 through 19, at 4 p.m.

Each group meets weekly for 90 minutes, working in a wide variety of media. Classes are specifically designed to stimulate the creativity and imagination of the student, according to YPAC instructor Glen Michaels.

Michaels, a Birmingham artist, is an alumnus of Eastern Washington College of Education, the Yale School of Music and Cranbrook Academy of Art, where he received his Master of Fine Arts degree in painting and ceramics.

The Bloomfield Township Board last night approved a resolution seeking permission from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to sell bonds totaling $49,000 to finance the construction of sanitary sewers at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

At the same time the board gave authority to the township attorney to begin court action to obtain easements for the sewer right of way.

Several property owners are protesting the construction of the sewer across their land and it is necessary to begin legal action, according to Township Clerk Delores Little.

The sanitary sewer would be connected to the Evergreen Interceptor Sewer.

The Birmingham City Commission postponed its meeting of last night to next week because it did not have a quorum needed to conduct official business.

Herbert Hoover Undergoing Surgery Today

NEW YORK (AP) —Former President Herbert Hoover underwent an abdominal operation today at the age of 88.

★ ★ ★

Hoover was wheeled into the operating room at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center at 7:30 a.m. for removal of a polypoid lesion in the upper part of the large bowel.

★ ★ ★

The operation still was in progress at 9:30 a.m.

There was no immediate report on his condition.

The growth was described as a type that generally is noncancerous.

U.S. Venus Probe Can 'Straighten Up'

★ ★ ★

Ten gas jets which control alignment of the craft must operate properly, radio transmitters must continue to relay vital information, and a highly sensitive antenna must lock on the earth to stabilize Mariner on its roll axis.

The pitch axis was stabilized one hour after launching when sensitive sensors zeroed in on the sun.

Once the vehicle is stabilized on two axes, Goldstone will transmit signals to gas jets to alter the roll and pitch so Mariner 2 is pointed at Venus. Then the midcourse motor will be commanded to ignite to accelerate speed by 80 miles an hour, enough in the vacuum of space to propel the spaceship close to the target planet.

★ ★ ★

At the time of midcourse maneuver, Mariner 2 will be about one million miles from earth traveling about 6,800 miles an hour.

At 2 a.m. today it had covered more than 200,000 miles of its planned 180 - million mile trek across space.

Storm Alma Brushes Coast Rather Weakly

WILMINGTON, N. C. (UPI) — Tropical storm Alma, the first of the year, weakly brushed the North Carolina coast today with swollen tides and high waves but posed little threat of any damage.

The storm managed gusts of up to 45 miles an hour on the coastal side of its wide sweep but generally winds were around 30 miles an hour, "just another gale" to hurricane wise residents.

★ ★ ★

The weather bureau's 8 a.m. EST advisory placed the storm center near Cape Hatteras, N. C., near latitude 35.3 north, longitude 75.5 west. The storm was moving northeastward about 18 miles an hour and expected to continue in that direction today.

★ ★ ★

The weather bureau said Alma was "poorly organized" and was weakest on the coastal side of its giant circular sweep. Gale warnings were displayed from Morehead City, N. C., to Cape Charles, Va.

Futura Model Out on Sept. 28

Ford's New Compact Convertible Lists Wide Range of Equipment

The Falcon Futura, first compact convertible built by Ford Motor Co., will be available with a wide range of sportscar-type optional equipment, including bucket seats, four-speed transmission and six different gear ratios.

★ ★ ★

The new convertible will be unveiled at dealers' showrooms Sept. 28, Ford officials said today.

The Futura convertible may be seen in this area at John McAuliffe Ford, Inc., 630 Oakland Ave.; Beattie Motor Sales, Inc., 5806 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township; and Jerome-Ferguson, Inc., 215 Main St., Rochester.

The Futura, according to company spokesmen, is the first compact to provide 36,000-mile factory installed major chassis lubrication and 6,000-mile oil change and minor lube intervals.

LUBRICANTS BETTER

The traditional 1,000-mile checkups have been eliminated because of improved lubricants and advancements in sealing designs, said Lee A. Iococca, Ford Division general manager.

Interior appointments include all-vinyl front and rear seats. Bucket seats, wire wheel covers and a sports console are options.

A vinyl top, electrically operated, is standard on all convertible models. It is anchored to each roof bow to prevent "ballooning" when the car is in motion.

★ ★ ★

Powered by a 170-cubic-inch six-cylinder engine, the Futura can be tailored to six different performance levels through various transmission and rear axle combinations.

Automatic, three-speed manual and four-speed manual transmissions are now available with the convertible model.

FALCON'S NEW CONVERTIBLE — Ford Motor Co.'s first compact convertible, the Falcon Futura, is shown here in a picture released today by the company. The new soft top model will be available Sept. 28 with a wide range of optional equipment, including bucket seats, four-speed manual transmissions, sports car consoles and six different performance packages.

To Consecrate Bishop in State

First Catholic Priest From Lansing Diocese to Reach Episcopacy

LANSING (AP)— Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael Joseph Green will be consecrated auxiliary bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Lansing today, the first priest from the Lansing diocese to be elevated to the episcopacy.

The ceremony, to take place in St. Mary Cathedral, will be watched by Msgr. Green's mother, Mrs. Frank Fello of St. Joseph.

Elevation of Msgr. Green by Pope John XXIII was announced June 27.

Msgr. Green, currently pastor of St. Joseph's Church in St. Johns, is the son of Irish immigrants who settled in America shortly after they were married. His father died in 1920, leaving his mother with six children to tend.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Green, rebuffing suggestions that the youngsters be placed for adoption, took in boarders to raise enough money to feed and clothe her family. One of the boarders was Frank Fello, whom she later married.

HELPED BY WORKING

Young Michael Joseph helped the family finances by selling newspapers when he was in the first grade and later by working in the kitchen of his foster father's restaurant.

Michael Joseph was graduated from St. Joseph School in 1936 after having served as president of his class all four years.

While attending business college at Kalamazoo, he decided his career would be in the priesthood.

★ ★ ★

Most Rev. Joseph H. Albers, bishop of the Lansing diocese, made arrangements for the young man to enter St. Joseph Seminary at Grand Rapids as the first member of the diocese to do so.

And this was the start of a career which led to his ordination at St. Joseph's Church, the same place he was baptized, made his first holy communion and was confirmed.

Flint Father, Wins Degree and Honors

FLINT (AP) — Flint's college and cultural center is graduating a family man — the first to complete the curriculum entirely in afternoon and evening classes.

James J. Hesling, 30, father of two children and owner of his own home, is a full-time Fisher Body plant worker.

The college, more formally known as Flint College of the University of Michigan, is giving Hesling a bachelor of arts degree with honors.

FOR 6 YEARS

For six years Hesling worked his plant job from 6:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. and went to college from 4:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.

"I'm glad it's over but we would go through it again," said his wife Gertrude.

Hesling, with a "carefully mapped out program," successfully made it through the two years of junior college first and then the two at Flint College. Each took three years. Flint College gives only the third and fourth college years.

★ ★ ★

A high school graduate, Hesling came home from a four-year hitch in the Navy wondering about college.

From Germany he brought home Gertrude, whom he met in Wiesbaden.

COMMUNITY WORKERS

"I convinced myself that the only way was to make a schedule and stick to it," Hesling said.

Both Hesling and Gertrude, who gets her U.S. citizenship in November, are active in community affairs.

Hesling said that despite his crowded time he felt he did not greatly neglect the family. He took most of the summers off from school.

He called it "wonderful" that an opportunity of this sort was at hand "for working people to get a college degree."

With his degree Hesling is going to a new job in Chicago for the U.S. civil service.

State Highways Open

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department says all construction on state highways will be suspended during the Labor Day holidays, in order to minimize inconvenience to the traveling public. Many one-way sections of highway will be eliminated and temporary routes will be checked for hazards, the department said.

Negroes Plan New Protests

Albany Integration Ranks Bolstered by Arrival of Clergymen

ALBANY, Ga. (UPI)—Negro integrationists, their ranks bolstered by the arrival of a biracial group of 40 Northern clergymen, were expected to resume antisegregation demonstrations here today in their running battle against segregation.

★ ★ ★

The ministers arrived last night and were welcomed by Negro integration leader Martin Luther King Jr. who announced plans for "demonstrations and prayer pilgrimages" today.

King, who has spearheaded desegregationist activities here since December, indicated he expected some integrationists would go to jail as a result of today's racial activity.

"After the morning meal, there may not be so many left for the dinner hour," he told a mass rally of about 1,100 Negroes at two churches.

"After the dinner hour there may not be many left for the supper hour and after the supper hour there may not be any left at all."

Mayor Asa D. Kelley Jr. told newsmen the clergymen would be allowed to conduct normal activities but would be required to obey all laws while in the city.

He said any prayer meeting held in front of the city hall might be broken up if it is determined it might cause a disturbance or block traffic.

★ ★ ★

Ministers arriving last night were from New York and Connecticut. Another expected busload of clergymen from Chicago had not arrived early today and there was an unconfirmed report the bus had experienced mechanical trouble in Tennessee.

2 More Settlements in '60 Air Disaster

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two settlements announced yesterday brought to $1,195,000 the amount thus far paid relatives of persons killed in a Northwest Airlines crash over Tell City, Ind.

At least 14 damage suits were still pending in the crash that killed 63 persons on St. Patrick's Day, 1960.

Attorney John J. Kennelly said the settlements were reached in conferences with U. S. District Judge Julius H. Miner.

Mrs. Margaret Lavery, widow of Raymond J. Lavery, Evergreen Park, Ill., was awarded $125,000; and Mrs. Louise Thomson, widow of Albert G. Thomson, a former resident of Cedar Falls, Iowa, was awarded $100,000.

Violent Crime Jumps in U.S.

Thievery Rise Puts Rate 3 Pct. Above Same Period of '61

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big increase in crimes of violence plus a jump in thievery pushed the nation's crime rate during the first first half of this year 3 per cent above the same period of 1961.

★ ★ ★

In over-all crime, things got a little better in the largest cities and in rural areas but were worse in the in-between population cities.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover's report which Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy made public yesterday said the total of aggravated assault rose 6 per cent, murder 4 per cent, forcible rape 3% per cent.

Auto thefts were 6 per cent higher, robbery and larceny of $50 and over 3 per cent and burglary 1 per cent.

MURDERS SOAR

Murders soared 38 per cent in cities between 500,000 and 750,000 population. Murder, aggravated assault, forcible rape and robbery increased 7 per cent in cities over 100,000 populations.

In all crime categories, Hoover said, the largest over-all increase was a 6 per cent rise in cities between 10,000 and 25,000 population.

Next was a 5 per cent rise in cities ranging from 250,000 to 750,000 people.

★ ★ ★

There was a 2 per cent decrease in over-all crime in cities in the population range of 750,000 to 1 million. Rural counties reported a crime rate 5 per cent under that of the first six months of 1961.

★ ★ ★

By areas, the Western states reported a crime increase of 6 per cent, the Northeastern states 4 per cent and Southern states 2 per cent. The North Central states reported a 1 per cent decrease.

Camera Returned to Negro Newsman

LIBERTY, Miss. (UPI)—A camera was returned yesterday to a Negro news photographer who lost it last week to an Amite County official while taking pictures of Negroes waiting in line to register to vote here.

Dewey Green, 21, a reporter and photographer for the weekly Mississippi Free Press in Jackson, said an official of the county seized the camera and ordered him to leave town.

Charles Butts, editor of the Negro newspaper, said the camera was returned Monday, minus the film, after he and Green called on the official here. Butts said no charges would be filed.

Nancy Ohanesian Wed to Ralph J. LeVighe

A garden reception at the Frank Ohanesian home on Oxley Drive, Waterford Township, followed the vows of their daughter Nancy to Ralph J. LeVigne, Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church.

★ ★ ★

An Italian crown centered with an organza rose caught her silk illusion veil. White roses, Stephanotis and ivy comprised her bouquet. Her pearl necklace was the bridegroom's gift.

Jeanette Paris Ohanesian, her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Douglas Conger, Rochester, and Bette Morris, appeared in peacock blue taffeta sheaths with petal overskirts. Their all-yellow bouquets were carnations and sweetheart roses. Nancy Ohanesian was flower-girl for her aunt.

The bridegroom, son of the Floyd J. LeVignes of Meyers Road, Drayton Plains, had the bride's brother John Ohanesian, Madison Heights, for best man. Ushers were Scott Tucker and Thomas Pinta, both of Flint.

After a honeymoon in the Smoky Mountain Park area, the couple will live in Pontiac. The bridegroom, who attended Flint Junior College, is a member of Beta Phi Sigma Fraternity.

Mrs. Ohanesian chose petal pink silk organza, matching hat and corsage of white roses for the wedding.

★ ★ ★

The mother of the bridegroom appeared in a gray Irish linen sheath dress with lace bodice and pink accents.

Treat Mole With Respect

A mole which is not subject to irritation may be harmless—but it never should be given any home remedy. See an expert.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A beautiful complexion can make a face with only moderately good features look lovely, while a marred skin detracts greatly from even classic features. No wonder women struggle for the skin you love to look at!

There are so many different kinds of skin blemishes. Of course there are blackheads and pimples and large pores. Then there are rashes and warts and moles.

Most extreme or serious epidermis trouble occurs because the person tried to treat the condition and failed to obtain expert help in the early stages.

THEY PICK

Most folks who have skin trouble pick at their faces. This is especially true of teen-agers. Blackheads are squeezed and turn into pimples. Pimples are worked on and the infection spreads.

Warts and moles are subjected to home remedies, sometimes with disastrous results.

Many women write to me to ask about moles. Usually, these are harmless, though disfiguring. They can be removed by a dermatologist. Though moles generally are harmless they can be dangerous. Therefore, it is well to know something about them.

If you have a mole which is subjected to irritation by belts, collars, bras or girdles, it is safer to have it removed: If a mole changes in color or size, or has even a slight secretion or bleeds, you should see a skin specialist at once.

It is important to have an expert remove a mole because if this is inadequately done and should be malignant, the danger is great. This is true even if the mole is small.

As I said, most moles are harmless, but they should be treated with respect. If you want them removed for cosmetic reasons, this can be easily and safely done by a well-qualified person, but not by you.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Clear the Way for Beauty" (information about skin blemishes), send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 48 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Hominy Grits Casserole Excellent for Brunch

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If you're looking for something different to serve with the meat course, try a hominy casserole. This would make an acceptable brunch dish too.

Mrs. Harold Hughes shares this recipe with us. She is a charming energetic person who has no intention of retiring from life's activities even though her husband has retired from his job.

She does substitute teaching. She reads, sews, does lovely handwork and gardens. Furthermore, she bubbles over with enthusiasm about her interests.

HOMINY GRITS CASSEROLE
By Mrs. Harold Hughes

1½ teaspoons salt
3 cups water
1 cup dry hominy grits
1 cup milk
4 eggs, slightly beaten
¼ pound butter or margarine
½ cup grated sharp cheese

Cook grits in salted boiling water until done. Remove pan from heat and let stand until lukewarm. Then add milk, eggs and butter. Blend well. Pour into greased casserole. Bake 35 minutes, covered, in 350-degree oven.

Sprinkle cheese over top and bake an additional 10 minutes uncovered, or until cheese melts. Test for doneness as for custard pie. Makes 6 servings.

Tall Girls Get Advice Fashions

NEW YORK (NEA) — Because she is herself a tall girl, actress Paula Prentiss feels she is on sound ground in passing out fashion advice to other tall girls.

★ ★ ★

"When I was in the seventh grade," she says, "I used to droop to hide my height. By the time I reached the eighth grade, the boys had grown. So I straightened up and stayed that way."

★ ★ ★

At a height of 5 feet 9 inches, the actress prefers simple clothes, often with lowered waistlines for proper proportion with her long legs. Her taste runs to wide belts, soft fabrics, floaty scarves, important jewelry and brimmed hats.

★ ★ ★

"I feel that a hat focuses attention on my face and brings the eye downward so that my height seems gracefully balanced," she explains. "My husband (Richard Benjamin) usually doesn't comment on my clothes. But when I wore a little black evening hat last night, he said, 'Hey, that's cute,' without a bit of prompting."

★ ★ ★

Hollywood actresses have a fashion responsibility to their fans that they often fail to fulfill, Paula Prentiss feels.

Did you ever notice the triumphant excitement with which many television announcers give the grim details of a tragedy?

First they build up what is to come by "teasing" the audience with the assurance that a head-on collision took five lives, or a whole family was burned to death in a fire that swept their two story frame home, or a teen-ager shot his parents while they slept, and then they add, "Details on this story in just a moment — but first a word . . . ."

After a long commercial the announcer comes back on the air breathless with excitement over the gory details of whatever tragedy he is "featuring" in the day's news.

Nobody expects a television announcer to give the news of a terrible tragedy in a voice that shakes with emotion, or in the unctuous tones of a professional mourner.

★ ★ ★

But why do they have to build up a tragic story in the excited voices of midway barkers? And why don't they see how callous they sound when they build up a tragedy before a commercial like the preview of a coming attraction?

★ ★ ★

Their manner seems to say, "Just hold on a minute! Be good and listen carefully to our sponsor's sales pitch and you will be rewarded with the details of today's most harrowing story."

★ ★ ★

It would seem that somebody — announcer, television station executives or sponsor — would realize how unfeeling and in what poor taste it is to make use of a tragedy in order to get in a good sales pitch.

There's no sales pitch in Ruth Millett's booklet, "Happier Wives (hints for husband)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, care The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Before Rackets Committee in '57

Hoffa Took Bobby in First Round

(Editor's Note — This is the second of five dispatches on the life and times of Jimmy Hoffa.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — About the only thing Bobby Kennedy and Jimmy Hoffa have in common is physical culture.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa is 5 feet, 5½ inches tall and 180 pounds of solid muscle. He doesn't smoke or drink, does push-ups and exercises with barbells.

He has been known to sit alertly at the table for 36 hours in a contract negotiation. Kennedy is a push-up man, too, and rides horseback, hikes, swims and plays touch football.

So both were in the pink for the historic struggle that started on Aug. 20, 1957, when Chairman John L. McClellan of the Senate Rackets Committee said: "Mr. Hoffa, will you be sworn please."

JFK ON COMMITTEE

Kennedy, as committee counsel, was going to do the prosecuting. One member of the committee was Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

At the time Hoffa was ninth vice president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America. The President was Dave Beck of Seattle, now serving a prison term for income tax evasion, and already on the skids as head of the big union.

The one thing that probably wrecked Beck's career as a labor leader was that he took the Fifth Amendment (140 times in one session) when he appeared before the McClellan committee.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa was faced with a tough decision as he got ready to testify. If you are going to take the Fifth Amendment, you had better take it all the way rather than answering some questions and refusing to answer others.

If you answer a question as to whether you are a member of the Teamsters Union, then the next one is likely to be whether you ever stole any money from the union and if you decline to answer you are in contempt of Congress.

Dave Beck Jr., took the Fifth when asked whether he knew his father.

Hoffa, with a lawyer on either side, rejected the protection of the Fifth Amendment.

NOT TO BOBBY

He was deferential toward the senators on the committee and addressed them as "sir," but he treated Bobby Kennedy as though he were patting a shaggy dog on the head. Kennedy bored in immediately:

"You have been arrested a number of times, Mr. Hoffa. How many approximately?"

"Well, I don't know, Bob," Hoffa replied, "I haven't counted them up."

Kennedy counted them up for him. They skimmed over the arrests for illegal picketing (Hoffa claims he once was arrested 18 times in 24 hours but always returned to the picket line).

★ ★ ★

Two things were left. Hoffa was accused of violating the federal antitrust law in Detroit in connection with the collection and shipment of waste paper. He pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) and was fined $1,000.

He also was convicted of a misdemeanor in connection with collecting $5 in "initiation fees" from Detroit grocers and was ordered to return $7,500 to them.

Hoffa was calm and cool and almost every time he answered a question he took out insurance against a perjury charge by saying "to the best of my recollection . . ." That meant he could change his testimony later if somebody refreshed his recollection.

KNEW SYSTEM

Gradually a pattern developed in Kennedy's questions and Hoffa's answers. When they got on the subject of his finances. Hoffa testified that he made the acquaintance of Owen Bert Brennan, president of a Teamsters local in Detroit.

Brennan had achieved something that millions of persons have sought without success — an infallible system for beating the horses.

Hoffa testified that each year he gave Brennan some cash to put on the horses and at the end of the year he got back winnings that ranged between $5,000 and $10,000.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa's income tax returns over a few years listed a total of $60,000 income in "wagering and miscellaneous."

The committee and everybody in the crowded room was eager to have the Brennan system of picking horses explained. Kennedy poured questions at Hoffa, but Jimmy professed to know nothing.

"Ask Brennan," he suggested.

That's what the committee did and Brennan was brought to the stand. His lawyer explained that Brennan was involved in some litigation in New York State, and then Kennedy stated the questions.

"On the advice of counsel," Brennan replied, "I respectfully decline at this to answer and under the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution I assert my privilege not to be a witness against myself."

★ ★ ★

He started saying that around 2 p.m., and said it steadily until 6:20 p.m. It soon became evident to everybody that the secret of picking horses was going to remain locked in Brennan's brain with the Fifth Amendment standing sentinel.

This was to become a familiar pattern in the hearings. Hoffa would suggest that somebody else knew the answer to the question and then that person would take the Fifth Amendment.

Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota, a member of the committee, finally leaned toward Brennan and said:

★ ★ ★

"I think Mr. Hoffa is taking the Fifth Amendment through your lips."

There wasn't any doubt that Hoffa had won the first round.

No Leadership in Any Group

Mart in Labor Day Doldrums

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to wallow in the pre-Labor Day doldrums, with prices mixed and trading slow early today.

Changes of most key stocks were small.

On balance, the trend seemed to be mildly lower but there was no pronounced leadership in any group. Wall Street was waiting clues as to the course of business and the market after the traditional Labor Day milepost for both.

Fractional losses or unchanged prices prevailed among rails, steels, rubbers, aircrafts and building materials. Motors were mixed. Utilities and chemicals showed more plus signs.

Polaroid dropped more than a point following its spurt yesterday, apparently on speculation that the company will introduce its new color film before Christmas.

IBM was off about 3.

Western Union was off a fraction despite the congressional move toward repealing the requirement that the company divest itself of its International Telegraph operations.

Up slightly were General Motors, International Harvester, Eastman Kodak (ex-dividend), Union Carbide, and Consolidated Edison. Small losers included Bethlehem, Ford, Goodyear, Du Pont, and International Telephone.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Kirby Petroleum rebounded about 2 points.

Bond Prices Are Steady

NEW YORK, (AP)—Bond prices were steady at the opening of trading today. Activity was limited in both corporate and U. S. government markets.

An over the counter dealer in U.S. Treasury securities said no prices were changed in either intermediate or long maturities.

Corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange were narrowly mixed with practically no moves amounting to as much as a full point.

An exception were Philadelphia Electirc 2¾s of 1967, off 1 at 93¼.

Fractionally higher were Southern Pacific Railroad 4½s of 1981 at 93, Socony 2½s at 82⅝ and Ohio Edison 3s at 87¾. Seaboard Finance 5¼s at 102¼ and AT&T 5s at ⅞ were off fractions.

Interstate Department Store convertible 4⅝s fell 1¾ at 127¼.

Unions Against Early Ruling

Reject Request for Speedy Court Hearing on Work Rules

CHICAGO (UPI) — Five operating unions have moved to delay an early showdown on "anti-featherbedding" work rule changes sought by the nation's railroads.

Attorneys for the on-train brotherhoods objected yesterday to requests from the railroads for early hearing by a U.S. appeals court of the unions' suit t o forestall the work rules amendments, which would lead to eventual elimination of 65,000 jobs.

The union attorneys said speed-up of hearings in the case would deprive them of sufficient time to draft briefs.

The 180 railroads last Tuesday asked the Appeals Court to hear the case this fall. The lines said normal court procedure would delay a hearing until spring.

★ ★ ★

The Appeals Court made no decision on the counter arguments.

In another railroad labor dispute involving job security, the Chicago and North Western Railway Co. said it planned no further action to forestall a scheduled strike of 1,000 telegraphers scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. EDT Thursday.

A spokesman said the road "has done all it can do" in the way of court action to prevent a strike of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers (ORT) in the five-year-old dispute.

A strike against the North Western would affect passenger and freight service to nine Midwest and Great Plains states and force 70,000 Chicago commuters to find other means of getting to and from work if the road's 15,000 other unionized employes refused to cross ORT picket lines.

Early Grain Trading Is Light and Slow

CHICAGO (AP) — Early dealings in the grain futured market were light and slow today with prices showing small fractional changes gererally on the board of trade.

Dealers said the factors which exerted a rather strong bearish influence in yesterday's activity seemed of little further influence today and that speculative transactions apparently lacked any urgency.

Corn started under continued pressure, but quickly steadied on scattered short covering and commercial buying. Hedge selling in wheat also slackened.

Sales Up, Profits Less; It's Called the Squeeze

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Profit seems likely to become an even more controversial word in the months ahead.

Management makes two words of it—profit squeeze. It complains of making less on each unit of production and sales.

Labor tends to regard any profit rise as an indication that workers aren't getting their fair share of the fruits of industry. Labor cites the still rising total of profits as showing management can pay more in wages.

PROVIDES TAXES

Government regards profit as a good thing—it provides tax receipts, for one thing—but not if a rise in profits comes from an inflationary rise in prices or from more unemployment brought on by cost-cutting automation.

The profit trend in many industries just now depends on two things: continuing recovery from the last recession rather than a dip into another one; and the next round of wage negotiations, with top union officials plugging for a 35-hour work week at the same pay as for the present 40 hours.

The steel industry, for example, is complaining of the profit squeeze. This was born from rising labor costs due to the fringe benefits granted last spring and the inability to raise prices because of government opposition at first, and later because of increased competition from foreign mills and new materials in the United States.

★ ★ ★

The steel labor contract can be reopened next year on the question of higher wages. By that time the mills should be producing more as the last of the stocks consumer built up as a hedge against a possible strike this year are used up.

COMPETITION!

But if wages go up and prices can't, there'll be even more of a profit squeeze. Competition from foreign mills and from other materials making inroads on steel's markets could make price hiking hard.

Part of the controversy over profits can very well swirl about what role the government plays next year if the steelworkers seek higher wages.

★ ★ ★

The profit question is further cluded by the fact that, with a few exceptions, each year since the war has seen the total of profits by all industries and services rise. And even in times of recessions some companies will et record profits.

★ ★ ★

Part of the dollar rise in the total of profits since the war is due to monetary inflation. The dollar totals are higher but they buy less in the marketplace, whether it be materials or labor.

Part of the rise in total profits is due to the even higher climb of the total of sales. More people are buying more things. They are paying out more for them.

But many companies complain that while their sales totals have climbed their profits either have not risen in the last year or two or have done so at a much slower pace than sales.

PROFIT SQUEEZE

This is the profit squeeze. It means a lower margin of profit on sales. It means production, transportation, merchandizing costs have risen faster than have prices and profits are less.

Many people are willing to leave this problem in management's lap.

★ ★ ★

But if profits don't justify it, industry won't expand. If profit prospects are poor, new ventures will be shelved.

★ ★ ★

The result is a squeeze on companies and their stockholders. It's also a squeeze on jobs. They don't increase as the population jump requires. Some jobs disappear because unprofitable companies fold.

Thus management argues when it tries to restore status to the word profit.

Successful Investing

BY ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I'm 59 years old and plan to retire at 65. I own a small villa on the Italian Riviera where I intend to live from May to November of each year. I own Bethlehem Steel, Penick & Ford, and Magnavox. Will these stocks appreciate enough in the next six years so that I'll have no worries?" R. R.

A. It looks as if you've planned a very attractive retirement, and I congratulate you. What you're really asking me is whether or not the stocks you own have very strong growth characteristics. In two instances, I'm sorry to say, the answer is no. Bethlehem Steel is cyclical, and the dividend isn't particularly safe. I would switch this holding into Avco. Penick & Ford is good but slow, and I think you would do better in Corn Products. Magnavox has one of the strongest growth rates of the hundreds of stocks I follow closely, and I would certainly hold this one.

Q. "I have Dayco shares which have been very disappointing. Would you recommend switching to San Diego Imperial, American Motors or Penn-Dixie Cement? I want some income which Dayco has failed to give me for two years." L. K.

A. I think you have held Dayco long enough. Sale of this company's unprofitable tire division has improved the earnings picture, but because of debt restrictions, dividends seem a long way off. Of the three replacements you mention, the only one I like is San Diego Imperial — but since it pays no cash dividend, that stock won't give you what you want. American Motors faces increasingly stiff competition and operates on a relatively low profit margin. Penn-Dixie suffers from overproduction in its industry, and I don't think the dividend is wholly secure. Why not raise your sights a little? As an income producer, I suggest American Investment Company of Illinois (NYSE) which sells around 20 to yield 5 per cent.

H. D. Hoskins Attending Airline Service Confab

Homer D. Hoskins, manager of Pontiac Municipal Airport, was one of nine representatives from Michigan cities attending a Michigan Department of Aeronautics hearing today on the proposed elimination of airline service.

The hearing was being held in Lansing.

Ten cities were invited by James D. Ramsey, state aeronautics director, to sit in at the meeting on two petitions submitted by North Central Airlines.

Only Bay City, a department spokesman said, had not responded to the invitation. Other cities expected to send representatives are Lansing, Muskegon, Cadillac, Reed City, Port Huron, Flint, Midland and Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

North Central seeks permission of the Civil Aeronautics Board to discontinue its service to Pontiac, Reed City, Cadillac and Port Huron. It also asks that United Air Line Service to four other cities be discontinued.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said both airlines were to be represented at today's meeting.

Pontiac officials claim that NCA patronage has been low here because its flight schedule — to Willow Run Airport and points north — doesn't conform to Pontiac's major business and industrial interests, which lie in Cleveland and Chicago.

Farmers Seek to Up Prices

Group Starts Move to Hold Livestock Off the Market

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Flushed with victory over the repudiation by two large firms of a controversial farm report, the National Farmers Organization launched today an attempt to boost farm prices by holding products off the market.

★ ★ ★

Oren Lee Staley, 39, of Rea, Mo., NFO president said he is confident such an action would force processors of farm products to agree to long term contracts calling for higher prices.

TO VOTE TODAY

NFO members from 15 states were to vote today on proposals to hold cattle, hogs, sheep and grain off the market. The organization went into its meeting after having gained statements from Ford Motor Co. and Sears, Roebuck and Co. disclaiming any connection with a farm plan proposed by the Committee on Economic Development (CED).

★ ★ ★

Theodore O. Yntema, Ford vice president, and Theodore V. Houser, a Sears director, were members of the CED research committee that drafted the plan calling for removal of some two million farmers from the farms and reduction of farm price supports over the next five years.

The NFO had demonstrated against the two firms, demanding that they issue statements clarifying whether the report represented the official policy of the companies.

REPUDIATES REPORT

Ford repudiated the report Sunday. Staley said he received a telegram Monday from Sears officials, saying that the company "is not connected in any way with the report on agriculture by the CED."

★ ★ ★

Staley said he expected quick approval of the holding action by the more than 15,000 NFO members expected at the meeting.

★ ★ ★

"We also plan to discuss the possibility of including milk among the products we will keep off the market," Staley said. "Our plans call for the holding action to start mighty soon."

Miracle Center Plans Pep Rally for 23 Schools

The Miracle Mile Shopping Center will hold a two-day high school pep rally during which the center will present 23 area schools a total of 5,150 pennants to distribute among the students.

The event will run Thursday 3-9 p.m. and Friday 3-8 p.m. with members of the schools' pep and cheering squads decorating booths at the center in their school colors and leading cheers.

The high school rally will conclude with a dance in the shopping center parking lot at 8 p.m. conducted by a local disk-jockey.

Hills Man Protests Tax Revision Bill

Ray R. Eppert, president of Burrough's Corp. and a resident of 295 Lone Pine Court, Bloomfield Hills, has attacked the tax revision bill being considered by the Senate as containing "foreign tax and operating restraints" that would hurt America's foreign trade.

In a telegram to Senators Philip Hart and Partick McNamara, both D-Mich., Eppert said the restraints "would put handicaps on American business averseas not borne by our foreign competitors."

Eppert has represented the Detroit Board of Commerce five times before congressional committees studying tax and trade expansion acts.

Carlos E. Toro, manager of the board's world trade department, said the Senate version of the tax revision bill makes certain income abroad currently taxable in the United States whether or not the income has been received in this country.

This, he said, gives foreign firms an advantage over American firms with foreign subsidaries.

News in Brief

A water pump valued at $140 was reported stolen yesterday from Dick Van Emerick, 1402 Nancywood St., Waterford Township. Van Emerick told police the pump, situated near the rear of his lot adjoining the Clinton River, was used to pump river water for lawn sprinkling.

An estimated $50 worth of wine and cigarettes and $221 were stolen by thieves who broke into the Bantam Market, 858 Oakland Ave., yesterday, according to Pontiac Police.

John Rehfus, 1112 Maurer St., told Pontiac Police yesterday that someone stole miscellaneous items and a transistor radio valued at $70 from his car while it was parked at his home.

Dems to Deny Humphrey Reply Until After Elections

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Former Treasury Secretary George Humphrey doesn't know it yet, but Democrats will deny him a public forum in which to answer their charges of "windfall" nickel profits until after the November elections.

Chairman Stuart Symington, D-Mo., who angrily gaveled the Senate stockpile hearings to a close while Humphrey was futilely demanding the right to be heard, expects to convalesce from his hernia operation for five more weeks after leaving the hospital.

Stu has quietly passed the word that "since the elections will be coming up" shortly thereafter, he will call no more stockpile hearings before mid-November. This seems to lend emphasis to Humphrey's sarcastic observation that the investigation had a political slant.

The Cleveland industrialist and close Eisenhower friend was undoubtedly a bit too arrogant with the Senate committee, but the power play was all on the other side. Democrats would not permit him to testify even after Symington read his own ten-page blast into the record of the hearings.

★ ★ ★

Subsequently, Democratic Sen. Clair Engle delivered a blistering speech against Humphrey on the Senate floor, and President Kennedy at his televised press conference urged everyone to read the Engle speech. It's hard to compete with those forums.

RUNNING SCARED

The party in power always runs scared in an off-year election. It is obvious, therefore, that the donkey party boys wish they could find a few deep freezes and mink coat scandals buried in the archives of the Eisenhower administration, along with Sherm Adams' oriental rug.

★ ★ ★

The house will defer until after Labor Day a vote on the United Nations bond issue, which President Kennedy has listed as one of the five remaining "must" bills before Congress can adjourn.

Rep. Charles M. Teague of California, one of those attractive, dynamic young Republicans whom Ike wishes the GOP had more of, had been a consistent supporter of the U.N. since its inception.

Recently he has been disturbed by letters from some constituents who insisted that a majority of Americans want to withdraw from the U.N.

★ ★ ★

Deciding to test for himself, Teague appended to his regular newsletter a one-question poll: "Should the United States withdraw from the U.N.?" All he requested was a "yes" or "no" check, but the deluge of accompanying letters has been keeping him at his office nights and Sundays ever since.

Of the more than 2,500 replies received to date, Teague was astonished to find that 40 per cent favor outright withdrawal from the U.N.

Of the other 60 per cent, approximately a third qualified their vote against withdrawal by such comments as: "But we should not continue to pay a disproportionate share of the operating costs," or "I hope that a little more time will bring about some of the urgently needed changes."

Some of those who favored staying in the U.N. prefaced it by conditions like these: "Only if any nation is thrown out unless it pays all dues and assessments," and "It is all wrong for these new countries from Africa, etc., to have as big a vote in the U.N. assembly as the U.S. does."

Another wrote: "While we are keenly disappointed in the U.N. we would be worse off without it."

The Senate has already passed a trimmed down version of the U.N. bond purchase bill, but the House Democratic leadership has been too skittish about House sentiment to bring it up yet for the "yeas and nays."

Teague is beginning to understand why. As a matter of fact, he has not yet made up his mind how he himself will vote on the controversial, but bipartisan bond issue.

READY FOR NEW USE—Ornate lantern sections of old street gas lamps are made ready at Bournemouth, England, for export to the United States. The gas lamps, replaced by electric lighting, are in great demand as garden and driveway ornaments.

News Conference for JFK Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will hold a news conference at 3 p.m. (Pontiac time) tomorrow, the White House announced.

It will be carried live on all national radio and television networks except CBS-TV. The White House said CBS-TV will delay the presentation until 4 p.m. EST.

Guess Who JFK's Voting for in Mass.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said yesterday that President Kennedy definitely intends to vote in the Massachusetts primary Sept. 18 in which his brother Edward is trying for nomination to the U.S. Senate against Edward McCormack, nephew of the House speaker.

Asked for whom Kennedy would vote, presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said he would leave that to his questioner's imagination.

Lakes Cruise Vessel Winds Up Season Early

HOLLAND (AP) — The SS North American has ended its Great Lakes cruise season — reportedly the earliest ever — by entering its winter berth at Holland Harbor. It arrived Saturday.

A spokesman for the Chicago, Duluth and Georgian Bay Lines, which operates the vessel and its sister ship, the SS South American, claimed cool weather this summer resulted in reduced passenger numbers.

The South American is expected at winter quarters about Sept. 20.

Cost, Setbacks Complicate Picture

Catching Up in Space Difficult Task

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The President says yes, we're behind the Russians in some important aspects of the race for space. But catching up and surpassing them is not a question of pushing a button, or putting more men to work, or even spending more money.

It's all a staggeringly complicated task. An organization named Defense Marketing Services, Inc., which keeps a sleepless eye on the cost and progress of our space quests, sheds some light on the complexities:

The Army's new solid-fuel two-stage Pershing missile has turned out to have a 400-mile range instead of the planned-for 200-mile range. The Army is now afraid the Air Force will protest, or claim it.

Fifty-two separate firms, including Continental Can, are building the Nike Zeus, the anti-missile-missile which recently intercepted an Atlas warhead in space about 200 miles over the Pacific. If it proves out, we'll spend $14 billion on Zeus bases around the 27 top U. S. cities.

MINUTEMAN A SUCCESS

We'll soon have 1,000 Minutemen ICBM's in place. It's a great success. But we've spent nearly $400 million trying to get the Centaur liquid hydrogen engine into the space hardware inventory.

The first launch attempt was scheduled for June 1961. It was postponed until last May 8, then the monster exploded 56 seconds after lift-off.

The second scheduled flight, once set for October, has slipped to February of '63, and probably later.

The project is two full years behind, and several other projects have been stalled or benched because of it.

WHAT'S TO COME

Here's what's upcoming in Project Mercury: Astronaut Walter Schirra will go for six orbits next month or the month after. There will be another six-orbit flight early in 1963, and the $400-million program will be concluded later next year with two or three one-day orbital missions.

It will then be replaced by Gemini, the two-men-in-orbit project.

Twelve of the capsules have been ordered ($86 million). Fifteen Titan II boosters have been bought ($50 million) and preliminary flight testing, operational support and capsule development engineering will cost a bit, too ($44.2 million, let's say).

And we're just beginning.
