Faubus Pledges to Obey Integration Laws

Weary but Contented Press Theatergoers Return to Pontiac

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL, JR.

The Pontiac Press Theater Special has arrived home. Tired, but in that special way which follows happy activity, 154 Michiganders boarded two airliners in New York this morning bound for Willow Run Airport.

They arrived in Pontiac by bus at 12 noon to terminate five days of sight-seeing in New York City.

Our journeying 154 can be classed as gourmets deluxe after visiting many of the more famous restaurants and nightclubs. Memories of doing almost everything from A to Z in five days will linger for a long time.

Women as well as men don't have to be reminded that they tramped over some of Gotham's 6,000 miles of sidewalks. Luggage was somewhat heavier than when it left Pontiac last Monday. Shopping was a big part of the tour.

The 1957 Pontiac Press Theater Special is history. Judging from the conversations floating through the planes, the trip rates a special gold star. Some planners have raced ahead thinking of next year.

Although their quest to see as many of the sights as possible was slightly limited by time, the theatergoers didn't miss much. They learned, as any cab driver will vouch for, that one can never see it all.

Now and for some time to come, the playgoers will be weighing the merits of "My Fair Lady," "Bells Are Ringing," "A Visit to a Small Planet," "Tunnel of Love" and "Happy Hunting."

OTHER SHOWS

Some will be versed on other plays taken in Friday night. These were "Auntie Mame" and "Lil Abner."

Yesterday the itinerary included a visit to view the Italian liner Vulcania. Reports that some passengers came down with Asian flu on the ship's voyage here kept many away. Visitors had seen the Queen Elizabeth and the Constitution.

It was over to Radio City Music Hall Friday afternoon to see the popular chorus line of the Rockettes. Doris Day in "Pajama Game" rounded out the afternoon's entertainment.

Friday offered a last opportunity for many to take in last-minute sights and to finish shopping sprees. A few baseball fans made it

U. N. Condemns Red Repression

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly today brushed aside "neutralist" protests and voted a new condemnation of the Soviet Union for repressive measures against the Hungarian people.

★ ★ ★

The condemnation was a key provision of a 37-nation resolution approved in a special meeting of the 81-nation Assembly. The vote early this morning came after four days of debate. The count was 60 in favor, 10 against and 10 abstaining.

Those abstaining were Afghanistan, Ceylon, Egypt, Finland, India, Indonesia, Nepal, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Yemen. South Africa was absent.

The result was a smashing victory for the United States.

The U. S. delegation, headed by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, had taken the lead in lining up support behind the resolution and in resisting attempts by several Asian nations to tone it down.

COMMITTEE BACKED

The resolution placed the Assembly squarely behind the U.N.'s five-member Committee of Inquiry which had indicted the Soviet Union and the Hungarian regime of Janos Kadar for mass deportations and indiscriminate slaughter in putting down last fall's uprising.

★ ★ ★

It called on the Russians and the Kadar government to "desist" from the repressions. And it named the Assembly president, Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand, as special representative to carry on the U. N.'s efforts to aid the Hungarian people.

Prince Wan promptly accepted the mandate. He acknowledged

Quiz Slaying Suspect

DETROIT (INS) — Detectives began questioning a new suspect in the Barbara Gaca assault murder today in Detroit. A 44-year-old bachelor identified as Franklin E. Wilson (of 3424 Gilbert) was arrested late yesterday after he allegedly assaulted a five-year-old girl in an alley in the West Grand Boulevard area.

Detroit Northeast Airport Step Nearer Realization

LANSING (AP) — Hopes for an international airport northeast of Detroit moved one step nearer realization today, but a host of obstacles remained.

The State Aeronautics Commission agreed after a public hearing yesterday that the proposed four-square-mile site in Sterling Township, Macomb County, was "technically feasible" for airport development.

Members decided, however, that before the state okays the project, the city of Detroit must prove the need for a major airport in that area. The city also must provide evidence that it has the money and the legal authority to go ahead with construction, they said.

Detroit has tried unsuccessfully for 15 years to build a northeast airport. The latest rejected site was in Warren Township, now a city, also in Macomb County.

Citizens representing organized groups in Sterling Township, obtain state and federal help on the project.

Senate Probers Are Keeping Hoffa Guessing

Hearings May Resume Immediately — or After Teamsters Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Investigating Committee may hold further hearings soon into the affairs of James R. Hoffa, Midwest vice president of the Teamsters Union.

But the committee is keeping Hoffa guessing—for the moment, at least—as to whether such hearings might come before the union's convention at which Hoffa hopes to be elected president of the Teamsters.

The convention starts Sept. 30 in Miami.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said yesterday he plans to meet with Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) tomorrow or Monday to discuss the committee's next step in the Hoffa case.

McClellan said in Hot Springs, Ark., yesterday, he will announce Monday whether the Hoffa hearings will be resumed immediately, or postponed until after the Teamsters convention. He plans to return to Washington during the weekend.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy, just back from Detroit where he spent eight days probing further into Hoffa's affairs, indicated to newsmen hearings might be set before the convention. But he avoided any direct replies to questions on that subject.

NEW EVIDENCE

Several days ago, Kennedy said in Detroit he had new evidence concerning Hoffa and that he felt this evidence warranted further hearings before the teamsters convention.

★ ★ ★

In a four-day appearance before the rackets committee last month, Hoffa did not refuse to answer questions, but he repeatedly claimed his memory failed him.

Cloudy, Some Rain Is Sunday Forecast

Partly cloudy and cool with a low of 55 to 59 degrees is the weather outlook for the Pontiac area tonight.

Tomorrow will be considerably cloudy with a chance of a few showers late in the day. The mercury will hover in the 74 to 78 degree range.

Temperatures will average about three degrees below the normal 74 high and normal 55 low for the next few days, reports the U.S. Weather Bureau. Showers are expected Monday.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 52. At 2 p.m. the mercury rose to 74.

Kasper Linked to School Blast

Former Follower Tells Nashville Police About Storing Dynamite

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (INS) — Segregationist John Kasper was linked directly today with the dynamiting early Tuesday of the newly integrated half-million dollar Hattie Cotton School in Nashville.

★ ★ ★

The finger of accusation was pointed at the New Jersey born anti-integrationist by Charles Reed who told Nashville police that he and Kasper stored dynamite in his house before the school was blown up and that Kasper later removed it.

"We are on the threshhold of cracking the school dynamite case wide open."

He said that Kasper will be questioned in the bombing later today.

Kasper was indicted yesterday by the Davidson County grand jury on a charge of inciting to riot. He was unable to meet bond of $2,500 and remained behind bars in the county jail.

He has been in one Nashville jail or another since Tuesday night

Readers Find Pot-O-Gold at End of Puzzle Rainbow

After trying to strike it rich for nearly half a year, two Pontiac Press readers have finally found their "Pot-O-Gold."

That pot of gold is worth $1,225 apiece for Mrs. Grace Kennedy, 649 Lookout Dr., and Mrs. Carolyn Wyzgoski, 180 S. Edith St., who came up with the winning answers to the weekly Pontiac Press puzzle.

The checks for each woman included a $25 bonus because they are regular readers of The Press.

Informed this morning that she was to be the recipient of $1,200, Mrs. Kennedy screamed joyously into the telephone. "I just couldn't believe it," she said. "My husband heard me yelling from the other room, and guessed that I had won.

"But he didn't believe it either until I told him the wonderful news."

It was the first time that Mrs. Kennedy had received a prize in a Press contest, although she has taken the Press for 33 years.

"We've sent in solutions to 'Pot-O-Gold' ever since it began," she said. Sometimes, I'd send in from two to 18 answers a week.

Mrs. Kennedy became discouraged many times during the contest, but continued to plug away at the puzzle. "I thought that I'd continue it and see what we could make of it," she said. "And now look what's happened.

"No one can tell me that Friday the 13th is an unlucky day."

Although Mrs. Kennedy was declared a winner yesterday, she didn't receive the news until this morning because she was babysitting with a grandson. She has two grown children, Warren Jr., and Mrs. Eugene Foote.

Mrs. Kennedy plans to use some of her winnings to remodel her kitchen. She is an air hammer operator at GM Truck & Coach Division.

Since her husband, Warren, is no longer able to work because of a heart attack he suffered a few years ago, Mrs. Kennedy plans to use some of the money to pay for his trips to Florida during the winter months.

"It will all come in handy," she said.

When she's not working on Press puzzles, Mrs. Kennedy is busy with

Officer Has (Sob) Troubles

For Crying Out Loud - - !

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Workers in the Dayton Police Department's records section might be excused for applying the expression "for crying out loud" to Capt. T. R. Heywood, their boss.

Heywood brought some tear gas tubes in for recharging. Somebody asked how they worked. Heywood pushed the button. The tubes released enough gas to send 20 office workers tearfully scurrying into the halls.

When things returned to normal, Inspector Lawrence Taylor asked Heywood how it all happened. Heywood showed him. More tear gas. More crying. Another run for fresh air.

Have You Paid All Your Traffic Tickets?

Chief Orders Police to Seize 282 Cars

Pontiac Police Dept. has launched an all-out drive to pick up cars of persons who owe on two or more past parking tickets.

Armed with a list of 282 car license numbers, traffic officers under orders of Chief Herbert J. Straley, are cruising the streets and public parking lots in wreckers, ready to tow in past offenders' vehicles.

The order yesterday to begin the campaign was made despite a decision on Thursday by Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum that the ordinance permitting the towing was unconstitutional.

Judge McCallum ruled that the police could not tow in a car except at the time it was actually creating a nuisance.

Chief Straley said today that he had been advised the local court had no authority to void a city ordinance and his department would enforce every law on the books until they are repealed.

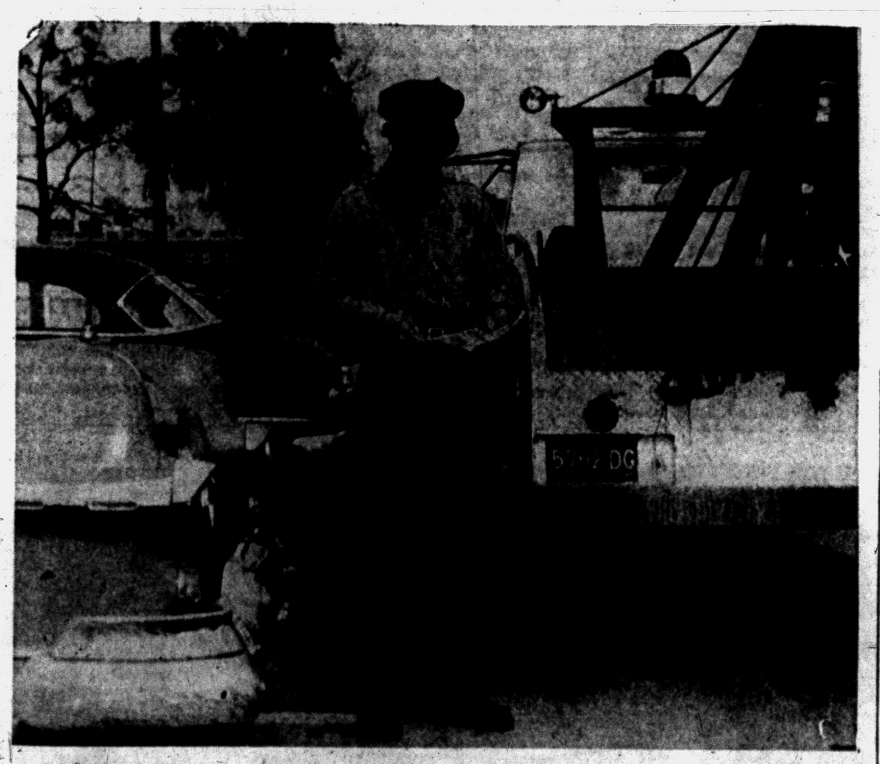

Capt. Joseph Koren, head of the traffic bureau, said that the 282 cars represented a total of some 1,500 unpaid parking tickets,, ranging from two to 36 per car.

Under the ordinance, owners of cars towed in, are required to pay $4 in towing fees, plus storage charges, and usually pay up their back parking tickets before they get their vehicles released.

Judge McCallum said that if a driver who has had his car towed in for back tickets comes to him, he will issue a writ of replevin ordering the car released without any payment of fees.

City attorney William Ewart said the city's legal department had not been consulted by the police department before starting the campaign, and he had no official knowledge of the matter.

Governor Calls Talk in Newport 'Very Friendly'

Observers Don't Know If Guardsmen at School Will Be Withdrawn

NEWPORT, R. I. (INS) —Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas declared today that he had assured President Eisenhower he will "accept the decisions of the courts" in the Little Rock school integration crisis.

Under questioning by newsmen after reading his formal statement, Faubus refused to say whether he would remove the National Guard troops who have ringed Little Rock Central High School for 10 days.

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

NEWPORT, R. I.—President Eisenhower and Gov. Orval Faubus discussed their historic clash over the Arkansas school integration crisis today in a meeting described by the governor as "very friendly and very constructive."

The chief executive and the governor who has defied his constitutional powers to enforce the orders of the federal courts met for 2 hours and 10 minutes but withheld immediate details on what they had to say to each other.

All but mobbed by newsmen as he left the meeting in the President's office overlooking the calm waters of Narragansett Bay, Faubus stopped only long enough to say:

"The President and I have had a very friendly and a very constructive conference.

Faubus recalled today that he first saw the President in England when Eisenhower, then a five-star general, reviewed his Army unit.

The big unanswered question as Faubus took off in a Marine helicopter for Providence was whether he will now withdraw the National Guard troops ringing Central High School in Little Rock.

On leaving Little Rock yesterday Faubus said he was optimistic about solving the problem in Little Rock where Federal District Court injunctive proceedings have been started against him in a move to clear the way for school integration.

COULD NOT ANSWER

But at Providence last night the governor replied he could not answer when a newsman asked whether he would order National Guardsmen away from Little Rock's Central High School if

Man Dies After Ramming Truck

Pontiac's second fatal accident of the year occured at 2:30 a.m. today on Auburn avenue, near Francis street.

A car driven by Anthony D. Betzing, 34, of 785 E. First St. smashed into the rear of a large truck-tractor parked on Auburn.

Betzing was taken to Pontiac General Hospital with a crushed chest and died at 5 a.m.

According to police, Betzing, a stock clerk at General Motors Truck and Coach Division, apparently drove into the parked vehicle without even applying his brakes.

The driver of the truck, Rex H. Ray, 46, of Paoli, Ind., was asleep at the Auburn Inn when the crash occurred. He is not being held.

Turkey Warned Against Attack

Russia Charges That U. S. Wants to Tamper With Syrian Affairs

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union again has warned Turkey that any military move against Syria might spread into world war.

★ ★ ★

The warning was based on Soviet charges that the United States wants "to organize military intervention from without in Syria's internal affairs." Turkey, which lies between Russia and Syria, was warned not to join in the alleged U. S. plans.

★ ★ ★

The warning was contained in a personal letter from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin to Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes. It was delivered in Ankara Wednesday and broadcast last night by Moscow radio.

★ ★ ★

The day before the Soviet letter was delivered, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko accused Turkey of concentrating troops on the Syrian border. Turkey replied that its troops are only on normal maneuvers.

In his first foreign policy declaration in about a month, Bulganin wrote:

"We have met with great concern the report about Turkish troop concentrations on Syria's borders, as well as about the shipments of American arms to Turkey to effect an attack against Syria . . .

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Premier did not note that the reports to which he referred have originated with Soviet and pro-Soviet Middle Eastern sources.

Bulganin said, "We are convinced that should military action against Syria be started and war begun in the Middle East, Turkey would undoubtedly only suffer as a result of participation in such a naggression, while her positions in that area would inevitably be undermined."

Teamsters Fight Hoffa

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Members of Teamsters Union Local 169 are expected to name an anti-Hoffa unit when they meet here tomorrow to pick nine delegates to the National Teamsters Convention scheduled for Miami, Sept. 30.

By E. H. SIMS

What is meant when we say winds flow out of highs into lows? What effect does this flow have on the weather?

A high pressure area simply means that the layer of gases above us (the weather) is very high. Therefore its weight, which the barometer measures is great. Actually, we are under a mountain of air when under a high pressure system.

When the barometer records a low reading the weather layer above is a comparative valley. So through a constant process of flowing into the lower areas.

Because of coriolis force, or the earth's spinning, this flow into the valley is counter-clockwise in the northern hemisphere.

This flowing and turning is actually wind, and when the flow is swift enough we have high wind or a storm. Thus a low pressure area usually means bad weather, and wind, since the valley above is filling up — so to speak.

READY NEXT FALL — Pontiac's new high school, now under construction, is shown as it will appear upon completion in this architect's drawing. Dr. Otto Hufziger, assistant superintendent, says the building is proceeding on schedule and should be ready for occupancy by next September. Being built now is about two-thirds of the planned structure, with a capacity of some 900 students. A later addition will bring the schools to an 1,800 capacity. The high school is located on North Perry street, adjacent to the new Madison Junior High School. The school is in the modern, cube design, on one floor, with overhead skylights.

House-Devouring Hole in Ground Terrifies Britons

FARNWORTH, England (AP) — While engineers kept watch for the slightest yawn of a new cave-in, workers today dug into debris beside a house-consuming rift in the earth.

★ ★ ★

Other workmen plowed trenches 600 yards to a brook to divert water from heavy rains and from a burst water main that might be the cause of the trouble.

★ ★ ★

The crater 50 feet square and 25 feet deep has wrecked 24 houses and forced evacuation of 118 others on densely populated Fylde Street in this industrial town. Cracks in the muddy ground spread out like an octopus to undermine the center of the district.

★ ★ ★

When the cave-in was discovered Thursday by terrified residents it was blamed on the collapse of a water main running under the street. Some officials said veins of a long-abandoned coal mine might have weakened the earth's surface.

She works near the husband of the other Pot-O-Gold victor, Frank Wyzgoski, at Truck and Coach.

Like Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Wyzgoski worked on the difficult puzzle for the past 24 weeks. She learned yesterday afternoon that she was a winner.

★ ★ ★

"I was real happy about it," she said. "And then I got scared. Gosh, that's a lot of money to win at one time.

★ ★ ★

"You just don't think that you'll win but you keep on going. It's a wonderful feeling."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Wyzgoski has four children, Arlene, 16, Nancy, 13, Sally, 7, and a baby boy, Paul, three months old.

With school just beginning, Mrs. Wyzgoski plans to use the money to buy new clothes for her children and "really get them organized" for classes.

"I never have been given so much money," Mrs. Wyzgoski said. "And you've got to think about what you're going to do with it before you make any definite plans."

The two women both had one mistake in their solutions, the only winners out of 20,089 entries received at The Press. Twenty-four weeks ago the new Pot-O-Gold started with $100 in the kitty and increased by that amount each week.

The Press had announced that two mistakes would be permitted starting next week. But Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Wyzgoski made that unnecessary.

★ ★ ★

25 Babies---That's Enough

NEW YORK (INS) — A Brooklyn grandmother who was an only child gave birth to her 25th baby today at St. John Episcopal Hospital in Brooklyn and resolutely announced: "That finishes it!"

Attractive Mrs. Malagura Folk, 45-year-old mother of five sets of twins and 15 single children, named the new 6-pound, 1-ounce baby girl Zezell, after the last letter of the alphabet, to prove she meant business.

But hospital officials were skeptical about Mrs. Folk's future plans. One official mused, "She told us that last year when she had her 24th!"

The slender, auburn-haired Mrs. Folk, who looks as though she's really 30 years old, was born in Liverpool, England, and came to America when she was 16.

She had her first 16 offspring by her first husband, John Smith, whom she married in Manchester, England. He died during the second World War leaving her with four sets of twins and eight other children.

Mrs. Folk remarried Melvin, 51, and proceeded to award him with a set of twins and seven singles, including the present infant.

Hospital officials said Folk, a disabled veteran of the second World War, was "completely confused" and didn't say very much during the four days his wife was in the hospital.

Mrs. Folk is the grandmother of 15 children and her own offspring range from 29 to 1 day. Five of her sons are members of the British Navy.

Her mother and father, who is South African, as well as her 91-year-old grandmother and grandfather all live in America.

Supervisors to Consider Final '57 Budget Monday

Oakland County supervisors will be asked Monday to consider the final 1957 budget and salary recommendations, including a $5-a-meeting raise for themselves.

The final budget prepared by the Ways and Means Committee totals $10,732,014, said Fred W. Smith, committee chairman.

He said he will ask that the budget be tabled one week, or possibly two, for study before final action is sought.

UP TO THE BOARD

It is up to the board as a whole to add to the budget, trim it, or pass it as it is.

Smith pointed out the tentative figures are only about $31,000 less than last spring's budgetary estimates, on the basis of which the county asked for and received a five mill tax rate this year.

Included in the budget is $4,592,472 in salaries being recommended this year by the Salaries Committee.

Salaries Chairman Willis M Brewer said there is $227,376 in recommended 1958 raises, averaging about a 5 per cent increase for most employes.

No raises will be recommended for elected officials, Brewer said.

The Salaries Committee is asking for an additional $380,184 salaries reserve, including $334,184 for new positions and $46,000 for emergency help, Brewer said.

Supervisors will be asked to consider raising their own salaries from $10 to $15 a meeting, Brewer said.

This is the first year that state law has allowed supervisors to set their own salary, and most of the counties in the metropolitan area are considering a $5 boost, Brewer believes.

PAID FOR MEETINGS

Supervisors get paid for every board and committee meeting that they attend. Oakland County board meetings are called about 10 times a year. The number of committee meetings varies greatly from committee to committee.

★ ★ ★

Mourning Citizens View Cobo's Body

DETROIT (AP)—Thousands of persons yesterday walked by the casket of Albert E. Cobo, paying tribute to their mayor who died Thursday night after a heart attack.

★ ★ ★

The body of Cobo, who held high city offices nearly a quarter of a century and was mayor nearly eight years, laid in state 2½ hours in the striking stone and marble City-County Building that was an achievement of his administration.

He was 63.

Masonic funeral will be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the Scottish Rite Cathedral. Burial will be in Woodawn Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

Acting Mayor Louis C. Miriani proclaimed today and tomorrow as "days of prayer in memory of our departed leader" and decreed a period of mourning of 30 days.

Kennett Road School Not Ready Monday

The delay in opening of the new $439,000 Kennett Road elementary school will be extended at least one more day according to Dr. Otto Hufziger, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business.

Students are not to attend school Monday as announced last week.

Hufziger said classes would begin sometime the coming week and he was hoping Tuesday would be the day.

The opening, now postponed for the third time, is attributed to a tie up of sewer and water connections.

Ike, Faubus Discuss Integration Crisis

Eisenhower requested him to do so.

Looking a bit tired after his flight of nearly 11 hours from the Arkansas capital, Faubus said it would be improper for him to discuss the conference in advance of the meeting.

In requesting the conference, Faubus wired Eisenhower last Wednesday that he felt they should "counsel together" regarding the course he, Faubus, should take.

The governor at the same time expressed willingness to "obey all proper orders of our courts," and added "it is certainly my desire to obey" the integration order in the Little Rock case.

Faubus, who sent troops to the Little Rock high school Sept. 3, has said repeatedly he did so to preserve peace and order — and not block integration.

He contends there would have been violence if a court-approved plan for admitting 10 Negroes to the school had been put into effect.

Three-Car Collision Sends 3 to Hospital

Two Rochester residents and a Utica man were sent to Pontiac General Hospital Friday night with injuries received in a three-car collision at Rochester and Hamlin roads, in Avon Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

The injured were Christopher E. Boyle, 29, of 604 Wilcox St., Rochester; his wife, Margaret, 28, and Charles M. Marmon, 16, of 12222 24 Mile Rd., Utica.

The Boyles were both treated for minor injuries and released. Marmon was admitted with severe leg cuts and a concussion, and is reported in satisfactory condition today.

The driver of the third car, Leonard E. Cram, 26, of 1471 Courtland St., Rochester, was uninjured.

Deputies said Marmon's car hit Boyle's from behind and knocked it into Cram's car. Both Boyle and Cram were stopped, waiting for a fourth driver to complete a left turn.

Adenauer Rests Political Future on Sunday Vote

FRANKFURT (INS) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer rested his case with the West German people today, confident they will call on him to lead them for another four years in tomorrow's parliamentary elections.

Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party is expected not only to win but possibly to pick up strength.

In the climax to a remarkable campaign in which the 81-year-old Chancellor made 50 vigorous speeches, Adenauer told the Germans what he wants them to be and to do.

He said they must continue to be a "dam against the Red flood not only for Europe but for the whole free world." He declared that his countrymen must remain faithful to their North Atlantic Treaty Organization partners and be good members of the Western community.

Adenauer called on the Germans to turn their backs on Socialist ideas, saying his goal is to make "every German a little capitalist with his own home and garden."

3 Fugitives Nabbed After Jailbreak

CLIO (AP) — Three fugitives were captured at the intersection of U.S.10 and Mt. Morris Road near here early today a short 11 minutes after they had escaped from the Bay City Jail in Bay City.

State Police from the Flint post apprehended the three, Floyd Heagle, Jr., 18, of Mondale, Calif., Robert Gawne, 18, of Bay City, and Marquess K. Winderg, 18, of Detroit, when the fugitives' car went out of control after attempting to turn onto Mt. Morris Road from U.S. 10.

State Police said the youths escaped from the jail's bullpen and overpowering a turnkey, Stanley Kaczmarek, when he opened an outer door to a passageway surrounding the cellblock to admit another prisoner.

Taylor in 1-Up Lead in National Amateur

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Slow-starting Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor of Pomona, Calif., made a great comeback today and held a one up lead over Air Force Lieut. Hillman Robbins of Memphis, Tenn., after the first 18 holes in their 36-hole final match for the National Amateur Golf Championship.

Taylor had a medal score of 37-37—74 and Robbins 35-41—76 for the morning round.

Michigan Council of Blind to Celebrate 2 Occasions

★ ★ ★

First is the successful attempt to affiliate with the National Federation of the Blind at a recent convention of the national group in New Orleans. This was accomplished despite opposition from the Michigan Federation of the Blind.

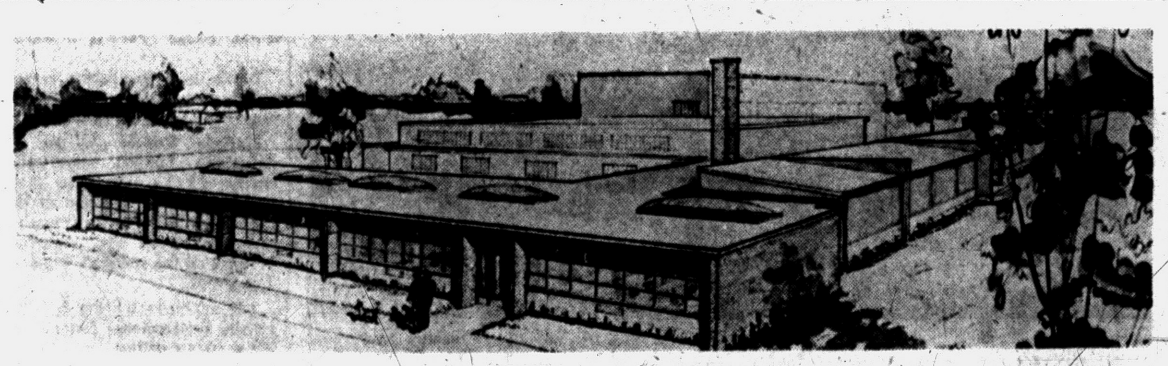

Secondly, the council will observe its eighth anniversary at the Waldron Hotel, the site of the organizational meeting in 1949.

U. S. Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) and Clyde Roos, second vice president of the national organization, from Akron, Ohio, will speak on the highlights of the convention at a dinner-dance in the Cook-Nelson American Legion Home, 206 Auburn Ave., this evening.

Approximately 60 delegates will represent the council's chapters in Pontiac, Detroit, Berkley, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids and Battle Creek.

After the council had been granted a co-affiliateship status, the Michigan Federation surrendered its charter. As a result, the council is now the sole Michigan affiliate of the National Federation of the Blind.

PLANNED ADDITION — The new five-classroom addition to the Owen School is shown in the foreground of this architect's drawing. The addition will also include a new supplementary boiler room to be at the wing and a new kindergarten room at the other end of the building. A paved outdoor play area will be added as well. Construction should be completed by next September.

The Day in Birmingham

Art Association Planning Fall Classes and Exhibit

Sponsored by the Bloomfield Art Assn., the classes start Sept. 23, at the Gallery at 361 North Woodward Ave. Classes, limited to 17 persons per unit are open to the public, as well as to BAA members.

Instruction will be offered in oils with a special class for men and another for young adults. Drawings, jewelry making, water color, portrait work, sculpturing, design and a life class also will be included.

Instructors will list several of the areas prominent artists and designers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dibble, chairmen of the October 4-12 exhibit, have selected approximately 40 paintings and sculptures from Birmingham private collections. It includes work of American, European and Mexican artists.

On Oct. 8, a round-table discussion in conjunction with the exhibit will include Mrs. Harry Winston, Albert deSalle, W. Woolfenden.

R. Eugene Oxford, 788 West Lincoln Ave., announces that Birmingham has received permission for the organization of a local chapter to of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.

No active plans for the organization have yet been made, but it is expected that it will get underway this fall.

Dean E. Davis

Service for Dean E. Davis, 49, of 6190 Franklin Rd., will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow from the Cedarholm Chapel in Kirk-in-the-Hills, with burial in Accacia Park Cemetery. His body is at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Mr. Davis died Thursday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a brief illness.

He was senior cost-analyst in the Property Department of the Detroit Edison Co. for 17 years, and had resided in Birmingham for six years.

He is survived by his wife, Leone W.; two daughters, Sarah L. and Diane Lee; a son, Harland, all at home; and a brother Neil of Port Huron.

Press Playgoers Head for Pontiac over to Yankee Stadium to see the White Sox challenge the Yanks.

★ ★ ★

Last night in the big city was probably the most quiet of the week for the Theater Special adventurers. This held true for some while others said they were going to take advantage of every last minute here.

HURRIED DEPARTURE

It was a stampede of hurriedly tossing clothes in bags, paying bills, and getting to bed early with departure set from the hotel at 7:30.

★ ★ ★

One young lady, Dianne Beach, a past Press front pager, had Flight 531 pasengers very curious when a "paper" circulated with the headlines, "Julie Leaves 'Lady,' D. Beach Sings Lead."

The passenger list back to Pontiac was slightly lower as six decided to stay on and see the things they had not been able to squeeze into their busy, busy schedules since Monday. Others did not return directly, with stops elsewhere planned.

Aboard the planes out or New York many passengers reminisced about their past times on the town. Some tried to catch a quick catnap.

The glances back renewed fabulous times at the plays, the visit to the United Nations Building, the get-acquainted buffet dinner, viewing the Mayflower II, the Manhattan Island cruise, and Thursday night's after-theater party at Leone's.

The weatherman cooperated with the tour except for one evening of rain and a blistering 90 degrees yesterday.

Throughout the five-day excursion one thing has remained with the group—enthusiasm. Both young and old will never forget the spectacular 1957 Theater Special.

Russia Condemned for Acts in Hungary

he had no plan of action, but expressed confidence that something could be done.

One suggestion was that he attempt to initiate direct negotiations in Moscow. The bitter Soviet opposition to the resolution, however, gave little encouragement for such a move. One favorable factor was the high esteem in which Prince Wan is held by the Russians as well as by the Western powers.

In the debate, Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev said:

"We regret that Prince Wan has been drawn into this shameful and noisy campaign against the socialist countries."

WAN PRAISED

Later as the 11th General Assembly was preparing to adjourn, Sobolev praised Wan for the way he had presided over the meetings that began last fall.

Story Links Kasper to School Explosion

TURNED OVER BY FBI

Reed, who described himself as a former follower of Kasper, was turned over to Nashville authorities by FBI agents yesterday. His importance in the school bombing case was pinpointed by an announcement from Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. in Washington that he was a prime suspect.

Brownell had stated that Reed, who has not been charged, would be an important link in solving the mystery bombing which climaxed disorders that followed Monday's integration of Negro children in first grade classes for the first time in Nashville's history.

Nashville authorities, told by Reed that he and Kasper "hid dynamite sticks in my old house two days before the Hattie Cotton School was blown up," rushed to the old house but could not find any explosives.

Reed explained to police that the dynamite vanished after he had helped Kasper hide it. But he added that Kasper later removed it himself without his (Reed's) knowledge.

The accusation by Reed was the first time that Kasper was linked directly to the school blasting. The institution was half demolished by the blast which broke windows in nearby homes.

Woman Injured in Blast Released by Hospital

Mrs. Gloria Ann Bray, who struggled against death for two weeks at Pontiac General Hospital, was released from the hospital yesterday.

Mrs. Bray, who was critically burned when a gas explosion leveled her home, Aug. 21, had remained in critical condition for two weeks before showing signs of improvement.

2 Set of Police Rules Await Action by Board

In yesterday's story in the Pontiac Press on a pending probe of the Pontiac Police Dept., it was stated that the Civil Service Commission has been unable to agree on a set of departmental rules proposed by the Pontiac Police officers Assn.

Commission Chairman Theodore Carlson pointed out today that he had himself formulated another set of rules which also have been stymied by failure of the other commissioners to act on them.

U. S. Communist Party Having Convulsions

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Communist party is having convulsions. They're not death throes. But the party is sick, torn by factions, and losing members.

It claimed 80,000 members in 1945. It claims only 10,000 now, and says it lost 7,000 in the past year. Some of its most dedicated members quit, like Howart Fast, novelist, and Joseph Clark, foreign editor of the Daily Worker.

On one side is the William Z. Foster faction. Foster is the party's chairman emeritus and an old-line Stalinist. He became party chairman after the war and under his leadership it reached the edge of disaster.

Chief spokesman for the other side is John Gates, editor in chief of the Daily Worker, the party's newspaper, and critic of the party's failure to find a way to keep its members and increase its effectiveness.

The membership began dwindling under Foster, and the party found itself isolated from all other groups in American life. And then for a party which pretended to have the solutions for American living, it made a pitiful and abject admission.

A year ago it admitted it had misunderstood American economics by predicting a depression; it misunderstood the American Negro, American politics, American labor and, in short, what Americans thought and wanted.

And after Nikita Khrushchev, Russian Communist party boss, denounced Stalin the American party made a complete abdication from any pretension to intellectual leadership.

It admitted that—up to the time of Khrushchev's revelations about Stalin's murders—it had accepted as "ipso facto valid" whatever the Russian Communist party did.

Khrushchev's speech rocked the American Communist party. But he opened the door to a split when he suggested non-Russian Communist parties could show some independence of Moscow and even be critical.

American Communists — but only some and in a limited way —became critical of Russia. But they became critical of one another too. This fitted in with what Khrushchev had in mind.

Since Communist parties—here and in Western Europe—were losing ground, a new front, with a pretension of independence from Moscow, might enable them to put on the appearance of independent, native Communist parties.

That in turn might enable them to infiltrate other groups and get their members elected to Parliaments.

But when the self-criticism began in this country it was the Gates group against the kind of leadership the Fosterites had provided and the Fosterites standing pat for the old-line kind of operation.

At its convention this year — which was in line with Khrushchev's ideas—the party made a show of independence from Moscow. This was just rearranging the furniture.

★ ★ ★

FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover told Congress shortly after this convention that American Communists "in fact have not broken with the Soviet Union" despite an "alleged declaration of independence."

Besides the nausea and disillusionment which drove some Communists out of the American party after Khrushchev's speech, there were other factors which caused a loss of membership.

One was the brutal Russian suppression of the Hungarians. An earlier one was this government's prosecution — and conviction — of more than 100 top and second-rung party leaders.

As of now the party is like a town council without mayor. It has a national executive committee running the show but no one man can claim to be the full boss.

California Next Site for A-Sub Launching

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The Navy's fifth atomic submarine will be launched on the West Coast Oct. 10, the Defense Department said today in an announcement made at the submarine base here.

★ ★ ★

The first four were built in New England.

The first built on the West Coast, to be christened the Sargo, will be launched from the Mare Island Navy Yard in Vallejo, Calif.

Two others will be built and launched at the yard, the department said. One, to be called Halibut, will be the first designed specially for guided missiles. The other will be named Scamp.

The four nuclear subs now in service are the Nautilus, Seawolf, and Skate, built in Groton; and the Swordfish, built in Portsmouth N. H.

Mike Todd Gets Garden for 'Intimate Party'

Todd said yesterday the party will be held on the night of Oct. 17 to mark the first anniversary of the Broadway opening of his Oscar-winning film, "Around the World in 80 Days."

OK Seaway Port Project for Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — The Ways and Means Committee of the County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved the trimmed-down seaway port project for Detroit.

The proposed project was cut almost in half by the County Port Committee earlier when it reduced the number of berths for ocean-going ships from four to two. Estimated cost of the proposal was reduced nearly four million dollars from $13,500,000.

The port plan still has two more hurdles to meet before it is put into operation.

It will come up before Common Council for approval Monday morning and later that day before the County Board of Supervisors.

'Teddy Boy' Delinquents Have England Worried

LONDON (INS) — Gangs of "Teddy Boys" are on a rampage in Britain and police and public are woried.

★ ★ ★

Raids and riots by the English-style junior delinquents have been mounting in recent days and operators of dance-halls, skating rinks, carnivals and other entertainment centers have put in hurry-up calls for brawny bouncers to cope with the problem.

The "Teddy Boys" go into battle in large groups — sometimes as many as 100 — wearing the same "uniform" as a rule — drape jackets, drainpipe trousers and slim-jim ties.

Their weapons are knuckle-dusters, bicycle chains, sometimes razor blades and anything else they can lay their hands on. They launched one battle the other day singing rock-'n'-roll tunes at the top of their lungs.

The increase in juvenile delinquency parallels a shocking general rise in crime figures and the highest murder rate in years.

FIGURES AT PEAK

Commission of Metropolitan Police Sir John Nott Bower has warned this year's crime figures already are at a higher peak than any full year since 1948.

A home office spokesman said that in the past year there has been an increase of nearly 14 per cent in indictable offenses committed by youths 14 to 17 years of age.

Twenty-seven of an estimated 70 youths who started a riot on carnival night and defied police to arrest them were fined a total of $1,806.

It took eight carloads of police a half hour to subdue 100 "Teddy Boys" on a rampage at the Barking fairgounds outside London. Six policemen were injured.

For more than a year "Teddy Boys" have ben carrying on a private war with Eton schoolboys, firing on rowers on the Thames with airguns and diving in and swamping scullers.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Peevish householder rang up the city water department and beefed: "A lot of your workers are not working, they're just hanging around a new fire hydrant here."

A housewife, seeing the men were about to test the hydrant, had dashed out to plead for a delay. She said she was washing curtains in her machine and feared rusty water might come through her house main.

It Seems to Me...

Investigation Shows No Crime

An estimable young man named JACK CASEY, for whom I have a high regard, writing in the Detroit Free Press, has been "investigating Oakland County."

Well, Oakland County is fair game. So is Cook County, the city of Kankakee or the sovereign state of South Dakota. Any political entity anywhere can be investigated. It seems to me the whole affair is rather well summed up in the conclusions of Dr. ARTHUR W. BROMAGE, University of Michigan political scientist, whom the Free Press quotes:

"A constitutional amendment would be needed to give county government the flexibility that cities enjoy." He proposed a county manager as the most efficient way, and concluded by saying: "You are talking about something that has been hanging fire for 25 years. Michigan voters rejected county home rule in 1934 and again in 1936. It doesn't matter what the experts say. The public must not want any change."

Thirty years ago, A. R. Glancy, General Manager of Pontiac Motor Division, took a very dim view of county government and personally paid the cost of a complete study of Oakland County with recommendations. The Reid report was an authoritative document on the weaknesses of all county government and especially this one. The Pontiac Press printed it completely and it was a lengthy and absorbing document.

Nothing happened.

The same weaknesses apparent then are still with us.

I do not believe there is anything consequential that is crooked in Oakland County government. There may be a minor malfeasance here and there, but nothing vitally wrong was uncovered by the astute and painstaking Mr. CASEY.

★ ★ ★

Judge MOORE was criticized for his method of appointing appraisers, but he has done nothing illegal; and personally I believe it's just normal, human nature to name friends instead of enemies to these posts. No one suggested or even hinted there had been any kick-backs. I believe Judge ARTHUR MOORE is as honest as ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

★ ★ ★

Judge MOORE'S outside practice was criticized earlier by attorneys and others and he has restricted that to "outside office hours." Personally, I think even that's questionable judgment but it isn't illegal and it isn't necessarily against the public interest, but I'm convinced it's against ARTHUR MOORE'S own interests.

★ ★ ★

And now there comes to hand a blistering attack on me and The Pontiac Press by our demon and excitable critic on Maywood Road in Birmingham. He practically bursts a blood vessel because The Press hasn't joined the Free Press in this investigation. Well, candidly we think Casey did a good job. He proved there is nothing illegal, immoral or crooked. The system does need revising.

That's for sure.

But it has for 30 years.

There was a need in 1927. My severest critic charges that Casey has "torn Republicans limb from limb and strewn them (I think he means the limbs) all over the front page of the Free Press."

He says voting in Bloomfield Township is "like Russia." You can only vote Republican. There really was a Democratic ticket on the ballot at the last election, but my critic must have missed it in his blind fury. He demands all 79 Oakland County county supervisors be investigated (and me, too, I guess).

Mr. H., please calm down and save some of that fire for more of those dirty Republicans that will cross your path before the end of the year.

And in Conclusion . . .

Miscellaneous bits gleaned here and there by your peripatetic reporter:

There's a new outbreak of chain letters. One involves savings bonds and lists are exchanged by hand instead of through the mail. "It's still illegal and we'll prosecute," says the Post Office Department. Don't volunteer to be a sucker . . . . . Not many people know it, but Mrs. ROBERT CRITCHFIELD is right handy with one of those small chording organs . . . . . Personal nomination for one of the top cooks in this entire section: "FRANNY" FURLONG . . . . . And as summer tans begin to fade, the darkest male I've glimpsed is one STUART WHITFIELD—and this isn't a new honor for HARRY'S boy . . . . . The darkest gal that comes quickly to mind is SUSIE GAWNE.

★ ★ ★

The Press ran a photo of "Bobby" Chapman with her four children the other day. She's one of Michigan's most attractive matrons and I'll back that with folding adult money. "Bobby" was a model once and appeared on the covers of top flight magazines. One of the best was a Fourth of July painting on Cosmopolitan, done by Bradshaw Crandell, one of the nation's top flight artists.

★ ★ ★

You may be curious to know which Wolverines are the favorite targets of football autograph hunters. Last year RON KRAMER walked away with the title and this year, oddly enough, his successor, GARY PRAHST, is tied for the lead. Co-holder is big JOHN HERRNSTEIN, destined to become one of the nation's greatest fullbacks in 1957 . . . . . Those tape recordings that lured wild geese have been declared illegal. They should be. Tapes originally taken in the midst of wild geese actually feeding called honkers from unbelievable distances; and the resulting carnage turned the stomach of honest hunters. The portals of the hoosegow yawn and yearn for those that transgress now.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

His legs horribly burned by the explosion of a kerosene stove, 8-year-old Glenn Cunningham said, "I will walk." The doctor was dubious but Glenn's parents prayed and massaged him. Soon he was hobbling around, doing chores. At 13 he won his first race, barefooted and in overalls. He grew up to become one of the world's great athletes. Today Cunningham tells youth in many churches: "You can do anything if you have faith in yourself and in almighty God."

Days of All Faiths:

Pilgrims Set Sail 337 Years Ago

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

On this Sept. 16 in 1620, 102 passengers and a crew of 30 set sail from England in the famous Mayflower, on a 67-day voyage that turned out to be one of the most meaningful events in the religious — or secular — history of the world. Much of the character of the New World can be traced to the men and women who brought their sturdy Protestantism to North America on this little sailboat.

This year, in commemoration of that sailing, the Mayflower II, a replica of the original ship, made the same voyage, beating the first Mayflower's time by 13 days. It was an imaginative way of dramatizing the Pilgrim's journey and paying tribute to their contribution to the 20th century world we all live in.

Naturally there were a few differences between Mayflower I and Mayflower II, and between their voyages. Mayflower II had two more members in its crew, it carried no women, and because of modern legal requirements it had a radio and was therefore able to be constantly in touch with the weather forecast.

But these differences were minor. Substantially it was the same type (90 feet, 238 tons) vessel, making the same trip, under the same primitive conditions.

STIGMATA

In August, 1224, the great St. Francis of Assisi took a respite from his usual, strenously active life. He would never have said he needed a rest — he was not the kind of person who even thinks about rest.

But he did need some quiet time alone with God. He went up the mountainside, leaving sharp orders that no one was to come near him, except Brother Leo, who was appointed to bring him food from time to time.

On Sept. 17 here on this mountain God granted His servant a vision such as few have ever had. Francis saw, in the air just above him, a seraph (an angel of the highest order) with six shining wings. Between the wings appeared the figure, not of a seraph, but of the Lord himself, on His cross. And Francis was given to understand somehow that he was to be transformed into a resemblance of the crucified Christ.

As the vision faded out, a most extraordinary thing began to happen. The wounds of Christ began to appear on the hands, feet, and side of St. Francis. These were not just spots that might be liberally interpreted as suggesting the wounds of Christ. They were actual gashes, of such reality and depth that the saint's clothes were stained with blood. Francis had received the "stigmata" (Greek for "marks").

This may or may not have been the first appearance of the stigmata, but it is the first on record, the first to be properly authenticated, and certainly the most famous. It is also the only appearance celebrated with a feast day in the Christian calendar.

Exposing Trick Methods Benefits GOOD Doctors

Answer. — I never knock the family doctor. I tell the truth about tricks of the trade. If any doctor is embarrassed by this I'm not sorry because I am helping good doctors.

"Your pamphlet on Excessive Sweating helped my daughter a lot. She believes in your teachings now — she's 21 and a junior at —— College. In her 'teens she rejected anything you said . . . (Mrs. L.M.)

Answer—The pamphlet on Excessive Sweating is available on request, if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope. If you change the title I won't understand what you want.

"How I wish I had received your advice before I had my operation for piles two years ago. It was the most atrocious thing I ever experienced, and have never been free from trouble since . . ." (N.L.)

Answer—That's what most victims say. Surgery is necessary for external hemorrhoids (piles), but injection treatment, which does not require hospitalization or anesthesia, is the method of choice for internal (bleeding) hemorrhoids — provided the doctor has sufficient skill. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet You Need Not Have Piles.

"I have taken the calcium pills and I don't have hot flashes as much as I used to. . . ." (Mrs. W.E.)

Answer — They are not pills, not medicine, but wafers or hard capsules. You probably will not notice any benefit from them until you have eaten them daily for at least two weeks. Many women have reported great relief. Some have reported no relief. In any case, it can do no harm to try. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet The Menopause.

"I have high blood pressure. A friend who knows (he knows everything) told me to drink chamomile tea for it. Another friend (also in the know) said I'd derive greater benefit if I used it to brighten my hair . . ." (Mrs. F.G.)

Answer—It is silly to imagine it would have any effect on blood pressure if you use it on your hair, please tell us your experience. Anyway it can do no harm.

The Country Parson

"If our noses were no more sensitive than our minds — our houses could burn down before we smelled the smoke."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Which Type of Parent Are You?

Are you an "expressive" or a "repressive" type of parent? If you are too repressive, your child may later go AWOL or get a divorce, so beware lest you "smother" his initiative in your misguided attempt to be a good mother to him. When a boy like Hall shows the typical negative protest, it means he feels unduly dominated.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-390: Hall M., aged four, is a bright youngster.

"But he has a negative attitude," has father protested. "It even extends to meal time.

★ ★ ★

"If I pass him anything, even his favorite delicacies, and suggest he take some, he will immediately say 'No!' even though he soon asks me to pass it back to him before I have set the dish down.

DR. CRANE

"I have heard of 'No, No, No,' types of parent, but how do you explain such a negative attitude on the part of children?"

NEGATIVE PROTEST

In psychology we call this the "negative protest" and it indicates a child's desire to be independent and unregimented.

Hall had an older sister who had dominated the family stage for a couple of years before he arrived thereon.

And this sister "mothered" him, which often means "smothered" him with her superior knowledge and commands.

Hall sensed that he was treated somewhat as the "baby" and he resented that sissy role. He was a "big" boy and he wanted all the world to know it.

So he subconsciously hit upon this "No, No, No" technique. It became his constant psychological shield which he held up to be sure people didn't dominate him.

Thus, when his daddy offered him his favorite dishes at the dinner table, he would first say "No," even without looking, to prove he wasn't just a rubber stamp.

Then, after he noticed what the food was, he would rescind his previous "No," by asking his daddy to hand the food right back to him.

AWOL PSYCHOLOGY

Hall is developing the independence of spirit that will insure his never going AWOL if he ever gets into the army.

For the typical AWOL personality is still tied to mama's apron strings. He has not been weaned, psychologically, so he can stand on his own feet.

He thus finds army life too rigorous and cruel, so he wants to flee from it and get back to a more sheltered, coddled existence.

If you parents wish to insure your child's happiness in his future marriage, as well as his success at college and in military service, start as soon as he is a toddler.

★ ★ ★

Give him choices, even as to punishment. Offer him a chance to take a quick spanking or a longer session on a chair in the corner.

And let him earn a little spending money at juvenile tasks so he can then go to the store and do his own buying.

At a restaurant, let him order his own food. At home you may coerce him re orange juice, spinach and other essential viands, so at least let him view a restaurant as a land of freedom.

One unbalanced meal occasionally will not do him serious harm, and it will inflate his ego.

Let him go on shopping trips with you and ask his opinion, at least on minor purchases. Thus, let him pick his favorite color in clothes and even in his toothbrush.

For it is the making of choices which builds up self-reliance. These choices should be encouraged.

However, he must learn that there are certain basic rules of conduct with which he must comply, for society does not permit complete freedom.

So send for my "Behavior Test for Children," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Marriage Shouldn't Be Way Articles Picture It'

All the unmarried women who read articles like "How to Catch and Hold a Man" must have decided by now that it's just not worth all that just to get a goof whose ego must be inflated regularly so he won't go astray.

What happens when the little woman is too bogged down by chores and little kids to compete with the pretty office chicks? Or do they discover real love where defensive tactics have no part?

A Christian marriage is built on honesty and trustworthiness which provide the necessary sense of security where mature, lasting love may keep growing. I praise my husband because he's a wonderful person and I respect and love him and want to make him happy.

Happy Old Married

'Is This the Cause of Heart Disease?'

Heart disease is on the increase among women in America. Is this because so many women work outside the home? This double burden of duties puts them under great strain and stress.

'Tiger Front Office Has Little Ability'

The Tiger front office is ready to trade about anyone except Kaline and Bunning. Someone should wise them up that they're a bunch of neophytes fencing skilled swordsmen. They'll lose their eye teeth and never know it happened.

The new owners have never had any baseball experience and the president is a nice young man who tried to build up a "farm system" but there isn't a replacement in sight. A successful farm system ought to replace half a dozen of a team that can only win half of its games. But the Tiger farm can't replace any.

Adams can trade half of the Wings and has done it repeatedly. He'll trade anyone but Gordie Howe, but Adams understands the business. It has been his life and a very successful life. What ability have the new Tiger owners in the front office aside from Gehringer who isn't very active? What?

'Bike He Rides Isn't American'

I read the editorial in The Press about Lieutenant Governor Hart's "penury and want" and his riding a bicycle "to save money" when his wife is inheriting several million dollars. One things bothers me more.

I saw a photo in the Detroit News of our hero on his bike and it was obviously English. Can't he even buy something built in the U.S. to help keep American workingmen out of the unemployment ranks? Governor Williams has driven enough industry out of Michigan without having the official Lansing family start on a national basis.

Sorta Mad

'What's Chief for in Such Cases?'

Here we go. Two Pontiac Police officers are suspended and right away they run to the trial board. What's the chief for? In all other businesses the head man runs the show. If the Pontiac chief is hamstrung by our civil service act, we have a sour, bad tasting lemon on our hands and we should repeal it fast. The police officers are making a monkey out of the thing we voted in good faith. The taxpayers were gypped.

Milford Man Opposes Law

About the new law forcing fruit and vegetable stands back to 120 feet from the middle of all state and county roads, maybe we would appreciate this act more if the State would accurately point out just how many people have been killed or injured in the last 10 years as a result of stopping at or leaving a farmer's stand. Then compare this with the number killed or injured leaving or stopping at stores and restaurants during the same period.

If this law is strictly enforced, it will close 90 per cent of the stands on the highways today, and wouldn't that make the chain stores and big shopping centers happy? Did anyone check the lobbyists around Lansing and find out whose cause they represented? Farmers and gardeners have no other means of selling their products.

Several Suggest Cure for Bullies

Probably the best way to handle that neighborhood bully Doting Mother wrote about would be to import a better bully for a few days and let nature take her course.

Anti-Bully

Practical Pete

Why doesn't that boy's father take him out and give him a few lessons in self-defense? You don't have to be big to protect yourself, and my father taught me to take care of myself.

Always a Runt

'Why the Publicity About Mussolini?'

What's all the publicity about Mussolini's body being sealed in a tomb? He was king pin of the Italians and they were against us in both world wars, and they turned tail in both. The last I heard of him they hanged him by his feet. Now they're burying him from a church. What a switch and what a joke. I wonder what they're going to do with Hitler.

Confident Living

Strength in Your Faith Aids Soul, Mind and Body

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Our annual baseball frenzy is upon us again and I am reminded of something dramatic that happened in a game between the New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians.

Twenty-two-year-old pitcher Herb Score was holding down the mound for the Indians when Gil McDougald of the Yankees came to bat. Score pitched a ball that was low, fast and straight. McDougald swung and the ball came back at Score at an estimated 100 miles an hour. It hit him in the eye and he went down with blood coming out of his eye, nose and mouth.

DR. PEALE

Yet he recovered enough courage in the midst of his pain so that when his teammate, Mike Garcia, leaned down over him, he managed to say, "Well, you can't say I didn't keep my eye on the ball."

Rushed to the hospital in an ambulance, he held the attention of the baseball world for days while his fans waited to see whether or not his injury would be permanent and whether he would ever pitch again. He did recover and, for the story behind his recovery, I am indebted to Joe Breig, writing in a Catholic magazine called The Ave Maria.

★ ★ ★

For Herb Score is a devout Catholic and he knows that faith can make men whole. He has reason to know. He was only three years old when he was run over by a bakery truck. The doctors found that both his legs were crushed and doubted that the child ever could walk normally again. They advised an immediate operation.

MIRACLE

Score's mother called her parish priest to the boy's bedside. He prayed for the youngster and blessed him with a relic of St. Jude. Overnight an apparent miracle happened. The bones slipped back into the right places and the operation became unnecessary. Herb Score grew up a happy, normal youngster.

It is no wonder that, according to newspaper reports, Score's first thoughts, when that ball hit him were of God and St. Jude. And when Score's mother in Florida heard the news by telephone, she, too, said she would put her trust in God and in the intercession of the saint who had helped her boy once before.

By coincidence, Gil McDougald, who blamed himself for the accident, is as devout a man as Score. His first statement to his friends was that he would quit baseball if Score lost his eye. And, that night, he prayed for Score.

Score's mother heard about McDougald's statement. She promptly telephoned him and scolded him for blaming himself. She said that she had prayed for him as much as for her own son because she knew how much he must be suffering.

Things couldn't help but turn out right for people like this. Strong in their faith, firm in their belief in the power of prayer, they know that God can make men whole — in soul and mind, as well as in body.

Whatever your own faith, if you believe in it as firmly as these boys and that mother did, your faith can make you whole.

Negro, White Ministers, Co-Pastors in Chicago

The Chicago Baptist Assn. through its executive secretary, Dr. W. Alfred Diman, announces that an innovation will be introduced at Normal Park Baptist Church, 70th Street and Stewart avenue, in Chicago, Sunday, at 11:00 a.m., when Negro and White ministers will be installed as co-pastors of the church.

★ ★ ★

Climax of the significant service will be the observance of Holy Communion.

The ministers involved in the unique attempt to serve a changing community are Rev. Merrel D. Booker and Dr. Fred R. Tiffany.

Rev Merrel D. Booker, formerly pastor of St. Timothy's Community Church of Gary, Ind., holds the A.B. degree from Howard University, B.D. from Howard University School of Religion and S.T.M. from Boston University.

In addition, he has studied at New York School of Psychiatry and has completed Pastoral Clinical Training.

His experience has included successful pastorates in Texas, New Jersey, and Gary; Dean of Men at Talledega College, Ala.; resident chaplain at Freeman's Hospital in Washington, D.C.; and chaplain at Federal Correctional Institution in Chillicothe, Ohio.

His wife holds a Master's degree in education and has been a teacher of Art in the Gary public schools.

FORMER PONTIAC PASTOR

Dr. Fred R. Tiffany, formerly pastor of the Bethany Baptist Church of Pontiac, holds the degrees of A.B. from Colgate University; B.D. from Northern Baptist Theological Seminary.

★ ★ ★

He has done advanced studies at Yale and in Europe, in addition to completing the Chaplain's course at University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

In 1954, he received the Urban League's award for community services of cultural understanding.

Last June, Wilberforce University conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities upon him for his outstanding inter-racial service.

His wife is trained in religious education, music, dramatics, and public school education. She has just concluded a ten year term as music supervisor in the public schools of Waterford Township.

Recently, the congregation deeded the church property to the Chicago Baptist Association to make possible the instituting of a new plan and program for serving the community.

A major part of the financing of the project is to be supplied by the Chicago Association. Also participating is the American Baptist Home Mission Societies through their Department of Cities.

On Sept. 15, the Covenant Baptist Church in nearby Englewood, will merge with the Normal Park Church.

★ ★ ★

Aim of the pastors and congregation will be to develop a community centered church which seeks to serve all persons, regardless of nationality, race or color.

Waldenwoods Conference Site

Women of Episcopal Churches to Convene for Workshops, Study

Episcopal churchwomen from 72 parishes and missions in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties will convene at Waldenwoods, near Brighton for a two day conference Tuesday and Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. William Henry Mead of the Parishfield community staff will be guest speaker Tuesday evening. Parishfield, a few miles from Brighton, is a retreat and conference center for the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan.

This second annual regional conference will feature workshops in five major divisions of Woman's Auxiliary work plus Bible study sessions.

Of the 200 women expected, the following will attend from All Saints Episcopal Church, Mrs. Loren Sheffield, Mrs. Robert Nienstedt, Mrs. James H. Hampton and Mrs. Bruce Hubbard.

DELEGATES FROM DRAYTON

Mrs. Arthur Petar, Mrs. Carl Hoffman and Mrs. Albert E. Ledger will be representatives from St. Andrew's Episcopal Mission, Drayton Plains.

★ ★ ★

From the Episcopal Church of the Advent, Mrs. Rogers I. Marquis and Mrs. John S. Black will be delegates.

Mrs. Paul B. Bell stated the following women will be at the conference with her from Christ Church Cranbrook, Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. Jonathan Ball, Mrs. Howard Barker, Mrs. Harold Heym, Mrs. Francis McMath, Mrs. James Bragaw, Mrs. H. C. Dumville and Mrs. William S. James.

Heifers Reach Germany

Sixty heifers and their three "minister cowboys" have arrived in Germany where the animals will be given to needy refugee families. Shipments are sponsored by Heifer Project, Inc., the interdenominational agency which sends livestock and poultry, contributed by U. S. churches and farmers, to agriculturally underdeveloped areas.

Pope Urges All Catholics to Protest Immoral Shows

VATICAN CITY (INS) — Pope Pius urged the world's 400 million Roman Catholics to assess radio, television and the movies and to protest strongly against immoral or anti-spiritual shows.

The bishops, clergy and faithful, the Pontiff said, have the "duty"" to use mass pressure to insure that "these great media" are used "in the service of truth, morality, justice and love."

The papal views on the three entertainment media were outlined in a historic 6,000-word encyclical letter addressed to the bishops of the world. The encyclical was entitled "Miranda Probsus"—admirable power—the first two words of the Latin text.

An encyclical letter is regarded as of great importance since it is described as "the voice of the Church teaching." This encyclical was published this week.

For years, and "with ever greater anxiety," the Pope said, he has pondered the problems caused by the development of movies, radio and TV. He said they could be the "reprehensible" cause of countless evils unless subjected to Christian principles.

The Pontiff supported censorship by competent government authorities and indicated he believed that policing by the industries themselves was good—but inadequate.

MORAL RESPONSIBILITY

Particularly in the field of children's TV shows, the Pope said, is there the "grave obligation" to make the programs conform with Christian morals.

He urged every nation to form a national committee to police movies and classify them as good or evil. And he warned theater owners that display of scandalous posters to attract patrons contributes to the corruption of public morals.

★ ★ ★

Movie theater managers, distributors, actors and especially producers and directors have the duty, the Pontiff declared, of insuring their art conforms with the precepts of the moral law.

Then, in forceful language, the Pope urged radio-TV listeners to rebuke stations broadcasting immoral shows.

Then he lashed out at Communist jamming of free world broadcasts. He said this practice—an "aerial iron curtain" — prevented the truth from reaching Russia and the satellites. He accused the Reds of using the movies, TV and radio for religious persecution.

The Pontiff praised the "tremendous technical steps forward" in TV. He showed a remarkable knowledge of TV programming and its problems, such as unoccupied time and the necessity for variety.

The TV industry, he said, must replace old movie thrillers with technically sound, as well as morally good, programs.

The Pope said he realized his statements might cause some inconvenience to TV authorities but added that the industry must be made aware of its responsibilities.

In summary, the Pope said the three great media have, in this order, the duty to inform, to teach and to entertain.

The Holy Father's views resulted from a nine-year study by a pontifical commission headed by Bishop Martin J. O'Connor of New York, rector of Rome's North American College.

The last papal encyclical on the radio and movies was issued in 1936 by Pope Pius XI.

Church Plays of Quality Listed in Publication

NEW YORK (AP) — The Department of Worship and the Arts of the National Council of Churches has announced publication of a compilation of recommended religious plays of high quality.

"So far as is known," the Rev. Marvin P. Halverson, department director, said, "no comparable listing has ever been published."

Young People Sponsor Rally

3 Pastors to Preach Tomorrow Afternoon in Church of God

The young people of the Church of God, 132 Wessen St. are sponsoring a Youth Rally at 6 o'clock tonight.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. John Buffington of Springfield, Ohio will be guest speaker and special music will be furnished by the Church of God choirs of Michigan and Ohio.

The Rev. Connie Keene Jr. of Detroit will be guest preacher at 11 a.m. Sunday.

At 3:30 Sunday afternoon, several ministers will be speaking. They include the Rev. Fletcher W. Pollard, the Rev. Robert Hardiman of Pontiac and the Rev. Marvin Smith of Flint.

★ ★ ★

The combined choirs of churches from Springfield, Flint, Detroit and Pontiac will provide the choral numbers. Elder M. J. Watkins is the pastor.

Northern Lights Spread Across West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Northern lights—aurora borealis — spread across California skies early Friday and generated excitement among spectators, many of whom had never seen the phenomenon before.

The Weather Bureau here said it had received reports of the shimmering light curtains from half way to Hawaii and from as far south as Los Angeles.

They were "very red with white flowing streaks which gradually coalesced and disappeared," said Mrs. Mary Ellen Lorenz.

A Transocean Air Lines pilot flying into the Oakland airport from Long Beach told the weather station there the lights appeared both pink and blue.

Associated Press radio reception from the Far East was washed out during most of the early morning hours. Commercial radio communications firms reported similar difficulties.

The lights also were observed over a wide area of Texas.

Ministers of Little Rock Differ on Faubus' Wisdom

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — Little Rock ministers of varying social and religious attitudes were of one mind this week in their concern over the school integration impasse in their city.

Some agreed, others differed on the wisdom of Gov. Orval Faubus stationing National Guard troops at Little Rock Central High School to keep out Negroes, but all of them had one thing in mind—prayer.

Dr. T. B. Hay, pastor of the Pulaski Heights Presbyterian Church, observed:

"I fear now any course toward integration will result in tragedy. Had Faubus not taken his action there would have been no trouble. The nine Negro students would have been accepted and the first hurdle passed.

"The governor's action has been a disservice to the community, state and nation and given us a black eye before the whole world."

Rev. J. Hodge Alves, an Episcopalian minister, who signed a seven point protest deploring the use of troops to prevent integration, said Little Rock was prepared to accept Negro students "as good citizens and Christians" before Faubus called out troops.

"We're dealing with a fait accompli and whether we like it or not no good can come from opposing court orders to integrate."

Rev. Vernon Yarborough of the Tabernacle Baptist Church is more optimistic. He says federal law should be obeyed but he believes Faubus acted in good faith calling out troops to "keep the peace."

He added he believes there will be no violence and citizens of Little Rock will accept whatever decree is issued from pending court action.

Some ministers expressed opinions but declined to be identified.

A Little Rock rabbi said; "I abhor violence but respect the law of the land."

He said the troops had heightened the very thing they were sent out to reduce—violence.

"The presence of troops at Central High School has created an emotional atmosphere which in turn has awakened dormant group hostilities.

"A week ago we could have carried out the law of the land with very little tension or difficulty. Then came the troops and with them the mob. Now—I'm not sure. Along with my congregation, I'm searching my soul on this."

A pastor of Fundamentalist faith said he was praying for a peaceful solution to the problems but he was not for integration of the races and thought it was time for someone to stop it regardless of consequences.

"A majority of the people," stated a Catholic priest, "are intelligent and will abide by the decision made in cuort on this matter.

"Faubus' decision was unwise since it defied a higher authority and didn't help the situation, but I don't believe citizens of Little Rock will tolerate violence in the final solution."

Some of the ministers refused comment on the problems at the forefront in the minds of people in the city. Nevertheless, they did not hide their concern. The rest also were praying.

Marimont Baptist Church Host to 2 Day Conference

REV. DEAN A. DALTON

The Rev. Dean A. Dalton, Christian Education Consultant of Baptist Publication, Denver, Colo., will be the instructor at the Sunday School Conference to be held Thursday and Friday in the Marimont Baptist Church, West Walton boulevard at Hollywood avenue.

★ ★ ★

The guest minister has had experience as a pastor, youth director, public school and college instructor.

With the theme, "Forward Look: Sunday School 1958," the conference will open with registration from 9 to 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

"Sunday School: Its Ministry and Purpose," "Techniques of Lesson Preparation" and "Problem Clinic" will be the subjects of morning discussion.

The afternoon study sessions will consist of "Providing Worship Experiences in the Sunday School," "Records and Reports" and "Problem Clinic."

"For Such an Hour as This" will be the topic of the evening message at 7:30.

Following registration Friday morning, a survey course will be on the agenda for the departmental work, from cradle roll through adult classes.

After the noon lunch, "Grading the School for Growth," "Visitation Evangelism" and the "Problem Clinic" will be studied with "Qualifications for Christian Teachers," the evening message.

★ ★ ★

The pastor, the Rev. David Mortensen, stated that a nursery and toddlers' room will be supervised for all sessions and area churches have been invited.

Chicago Group Acts to Allay Race Ratred

A "Plan of Action for Meeting Racial Disturbance" was forwarded last week to almost 1,800 ministers in the Chicago area by the Church Federation of Greater Chicago.

Under the plan, ministers and laymen are urged to challenge inflammatory statements made by "race-haters," to keep people away from the scene of disturbances, and to report incidents and rumors indicating future trouble.

Declaring that the recent outbreaks of racial violence in the Chicago area have resulted in "the worst summer record in two years," Dr. Paul M. Robinson appealed to all citizens to assist in promoting interracial understanding.

If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink;

German Groups Propose Link to United Church

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Church of Christ, America's newest Protestant denomination, has received a request for closer "fraternal relations" with a German church group.

The suggestion comes from the Evangelical Church Union which includes Protestant churches in six German provinces both in East and West Germany. They represent a union of Reformed and Lutheran Churches.

Among other points, the Germans proposed a joint declaration of intercommunion and mutual recognition of each other's ministries and sacraments, and an exchange of fraternal delegates at general synod meetings.

The United Church of Christ was formed last June by a merger of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches.

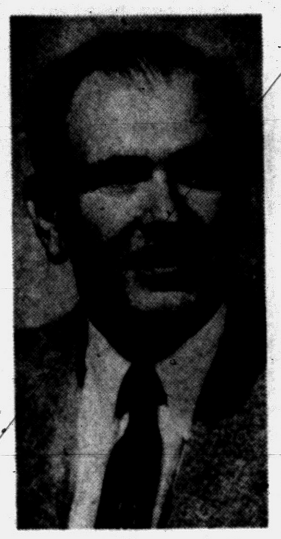

Time Schedule Changed

St. Stephen's Lutheran Church of Drayton Plains will change the time of the Sunday service from 9:30 to 9 a.m. beginning tomorrow. The Rev. William C. Grafe is pastor.

Morning Theme, Japan, Mrs. George Hagman to Give Highlights

The United Church Women will hold the annual Missions Institute Monday in First Christian Church, 858 W. Huron St.

The theme for the morning will be "Japan" and "Christ, the Church and Race" will be the subject of the afternoon program.

Registration is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. with Mrs. Brady Adams, president, in charge of the program beginning at 10 o'clock.

General chairman of the institute, Mrs. John E. Garrison, will present the topic, assisted by leaders from various churches. Mrs. J. C. Covert will give the morning meditation.

Mrs. Duncan D. McColl will give the invocation at the noon luncheon.

Mrs. Frank Gray, chairman for the afternoon, will introduce the Choral Reading and Mrs. James Overton will sing "Lord, I Want to Be a Christian in My Heart" accompanied by Mrs. Luther Strickland.

Highlights of United Church Women will be offered by Mrs. George Hagman, area chairman. Mrs. J. Allen Parker and Mrs. Gray will present the textbooks and supplementary materials for study.

CWS Program Feeds Children in Yugoslavia

In poverty - stricken villages of Montenegro and what used to be Serbia, undernourished school children are receiving one hot meal a day because American church people have made it possible.

In Belgrade, too, 78,000 children are getting a nourishing noonday meal in a school lunch program directed by Church World Service in Yugoslavia.

Facts about this little known work were learned last week when Betty Richardson, associate director of the Church World Service overseas program, returned home following an 11-country inspection tour of CWS relief and training projects.

"To see these children drinking large mugs of milk and soup and eating buns spread with butter and cheese was a joy," Miss Richardson said. She added that teachers report their charges already look and feel better and are learning more quickly.

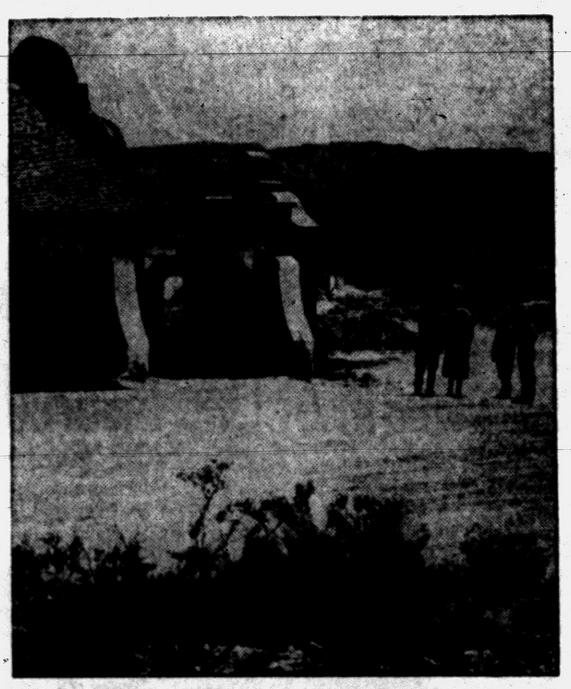

The 900-calorie-a-day meals are prepared in simple kitchens from U. S. surplus foods and Share-Our-Surplus wheat, Miss Richardson reported. Lutheran World Relief is a co-sponsor with CWS of the school lunch program, she said, but it will eventually be taken over by the Yugoslavs themselves.

Expands Slum Ministry

BOSTON (AP) — The New England Methodist Conference has launched an expanded ministry in Boston's slum area. A $16,000 budget for the first year was allocated for the purpose at the conference's annual meeting in Worcester, Mass.

Library Needs Money

LONDON, England (AP) — The library of the archbishops of Canterbury, one of the most important collections in London, is seeking $450,000 to insure its continuance. The library was founded in 1610, and has been open to all since that time.

SIGHTSEERS — The Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Heisler point out for tourists some of the sights in their retirement home of Rhyolite, a ghost town in the hills of Nevada.

Once a Boom City:

Ghost Town Is Home to Retired Minister, Wife

BY JACK LEFLER

RHYOLITE, Nev. (AP) — A massive old railroad station looks down in brooding silence upon the stone skeletons of Rhyolite — a city that lived briefly and wildly in the gold-filled hills of southern Nevada.

★ ★ ★

Half a century ago, its waiting room — then the most luxurious between Chicago and San Francisco — bustled with gold-hungry people.

Today, the station is home to a retired Methodist minister and his wife, who left the green, wooded countryside of Montezuma, Ga., to take up a new life among the stark ruins of Rhyolite.

The Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Heisler are among seven residents of the crumbled ghost town whose dusty streets once thronged with 18,000 people.

NAMED FOR ROCK

They own the sprawling old depot and an idle gold mine deep in the hills which rim Rhyolite — named after the volcanic rock that abounds in the area.

Mrs. Heisler, a retired schoolteacher, inherited the property from a brother in 1935.

"When we retired 2½ years ago," she says, "we decided to come out here and see what we had. And we're staying."

FIVE WEDDINGS

Heisler has performed five marriage ceremonies since he has been here — one an elaborate outdoor rite which united a California couple who wanted to combine a honeymoon with a rockhunting trip.

"If we were 20 years younger," says Mrs. Heisler, "we'd really go into business and make this place hum."

"And," dreamily adds her husband, a tall, rugged man who likes to tramp the desert and hills, "if the price of gold would go up, Rhyolite would boom again. Those mountains are still full of gold and other metals, too."

"There," says Mrs. Heisler, pointing to the rugged mountains pockmarked with mine tunnels, "is the Bullfrog Mine. It was the first rick strike around Rhyolite. Shorty Harris and Ed Cross made the strike in 1903.

"When news of the big strike got out, people poured in by the thousands.

They built three railroads into Rhyolite to haul supplies and people and to carry the ore.

"Rich folks came in on palace cars and ate eight-course meals in th 10 hotels and drank champagne and whisky in the 45 saloons. The city had four newspapers, an opera house and an electric light plant."

The hulk of the most magnificent building in Rhyolite — the John S. Cook & Co. bank — stands in ruined splendor a few hundred yards from the railroad station.

STONE RUINS

All across the sloping floor of the wide canyon and down into Amargosa Valley, ruins of stone buildings rise among the sage.

On a river of gold, Rhyolite lived its life to the hilt. Its rocky hills yielded more than three millions in gold and silver.

★ ★ ★

Then, one day, the city was as dead as those who lay in its bleak graveyard.

★ ★ ★

The money panic of 1911 struck. The mines closed down and the people departed as quickly as they had come. The biggest city in Nevada had perished.

Vitamins, Milk for Korean Sick

Michigan CROP Head Plans Hong Kong Aid, 4-H Sheep to Ecuador

LANSING (AP)—Vitamin pills for the ailing in Korea and Hong Kong, milk powder for weakened babies in Korea and sheep for 4-H club youths in Ecuador are included in Michigan's planning for the Christian Rural Overseas Program.

Russell M. Hartzler, State CROP chairman, said a Michigan goal of $100,000 has been set for the November drive to raise money to send food to needy persons overseas.

He reported that advance donations from rural churches throughout the state already have totaled $8,000. Michigan CROP, he reported, already has sent 500,000 vitamin pills to Korea and Hong Kong and 5,000 pounds of whole milk powder to babies in Korea.

Most of the money will be used to purchase one million pounds of government surplus foods for shipment to the needy in nearly 50 countries, Hartzler said.

He reported that as a special project, a planeload of 125 purebred sheep will leave East Lansing by truck on Sept. 20 for shipment by air from St. Petersburg, Fla., to Ecuador. The animals will be distributed to 4-H club boys and girls in that country.

★ ★ ★

This project was started by Sunday School children in Kalamazoo County and donations of prize animals have come from farmers and rural youth groups throughout the state, Hartzler reported.

Housing Plan Seen as Aid in Race Problem

A plan to resettle non - white families in outlying city areas was proposed by Dr. Alfred S. Kramer at a recent conference conducted at McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago.

Dr. Kramer is associate executive of the Department of Racial and Cultural Relations of the National Council of Churches.

Discussing "Housing, A Moral Issue," those attending heard Dr. Kramer recommend a plan worked out in one West Coast city which recently placed 50 non-white families in outlying areas as "a conscious attempt to prevent the fear that goes with changing neighborhoods."

The Institute on Racial and Cultural Relations is held each year to seek ways to bring denominational rulings on race relations to the individual congregations, Dr. Kramer explained.

Dr. J. Oscar Lee, executive director of the department, who recently returned from a survey of world areas of racial tension, also addressed the institute.

Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

Muscle Split Corrects Limp

Transplanting of Half Brings Marked Help for Polio Defect

CHICAGO (INS)—A Shreveport, La., orthopedic surgeon reports that the splitting and transplanting of half a muscle is correcting the unsightly limp often caused by polio.

The technique was described in Chicago by Dr. Gene D. Caldwell of Louisiana State University, who is also chief surgeon at the Shriners' Hospital for crippled children.

Dr. Caldwell was among the final speakers to address the 22nd annual congress of the United States and Canadian section of the International College of Surgeons which winds up its four-day meeting today. Some 4,000 surgeons from five continents attended the congress.

Dr. Caldwell said the attack of the polio virus on the leg muscle results in what has been termed the paralytic foot drop.

He reported that 14 muscle transplants had been performed on 13 patients, 12 of whom had no active muscle controlling the foot except the one which serves the ankle.

This was split and one half was transplanted to provide power to raise the fore part of the foot.

In 10 of the transplants, Dr. Caldwell said, the medial half of the muscle was used and all the patients showed a markedly improved gait.

In four transplants, the lateral half of the split muscle was used with far less desirable results. This type of operation using the lateral half has been abandoned, he said.

Automation Group Meeting Scheduled

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today reported that the initial meeting of his new commission on automation will be held in his office Wednesday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The governor created the commission to study the impact of automation on unemployment. The last report of the Michigan Employment Security Commission said there were 201,000 unemployed in the state, about 6.8 per cent of the state's labor force.

"The legislature has repeatedly declined to set up a statutory commission to study the effects of automation and similar industrial changes on our economy," the governor said.

"Consequently, we don't have the information we should have now as to the part which automation may be playing in our unemployment problem. We can't wait any longer to get some of these facts on which any effective program or retraining and relocating displaced workers must be based."

★ ★ ★

George Cushman of American Motors, Detroit, was named chairman of the commission. Other members include representatives of business, labor and state agencies.

Churchill to Lend Pictures for Exhibit

President Eisenhower and Joyce Hall, Kansas City greeting card publisher, invited Churchill to hold the exhibition.

The President was said to have written a "most persuasive" letter delivered by Hall and Dr. Franklin D. Murphy, chancellor of the University of Kansas, during the visit with Churchill last June.

★ ★ ★

About 30 paintings of the former British prime minister will be shown in Kansas City at a date to be announced later. The exhibition then will be moved to Washington and other cities under arrangements with the Smithsonian institution.

Buttered-Up Burglary

GLASGOW, Scotland (INS)—Burglars broke into a grocery store, raided the shelves for several pounds of butter, greased the floor with it and then slid the safe to the door, where a truck was waiting.

Questions on Social Security

Lump Sum Due on Death of One Insured

By RAY HENRY

From J. M. of Pontiac, Mich.: "On May 15, my wife passed away. We were both drawing Social Security payments based on the money I paid in before I retired. My wife never was covered by Social Security on a job. There was a big expense to bury my wife and I have been told that I should have received help from Social Security to pay the expenses. Please tell me if this is true."

The Social Security Administration does pay a lump sum death payment to help defray the cost of burial. But, it is only paid to a widow, widower or, in some cases, o the person who paid the funeral expenses and only on the the death of a person who worked under Social Security the required length of time. Since your wife was never covered by Social Security no lump sum is due you.

From G. M. T. of Herndon, Va.: "I'm now getting $66.15 a month from the Veterans Administration because I'm totally and permanently disabled. If I were to be found eligible for Social Security disability payments, how would my VA pension be affected?"

The amount of money you're now getting from the VA shows that you're considered totally and permanently disabled from a disability not connected to your military service. Due to this, the amount of your VA pension will be deducted from any Social Security disability payment and you'll receive the difference. For example: If you should be found eligible for $90 a month in Social Security payments, the $66.15 a month from the VA will be deducted and your Social Security payment will be $23.85 a month.

From Mrs. M. T. of Hemet, Calif.: "I am nearing the Social Security retirement age of 62. My husband retired a year ago and is receiving monthly Social Security payments of $108.50. How much will I be eligible to receive if I apply for payments at 62?"

$40.80 a month.

From G. K. of Butler, Pa.: "Could you tell me what amounts the Veterans Administration pay to World War I veterans who are eligible for pensions?"

The ordinary pension for veterans who are permanently and totally disabled from a nonservice-connected disability is $66.15 a month. Veterans who have been getting the pension for at least 10 years or who have reached 65 receive $78.75 a month. A veteran who is blind or needs the constant aid and attendance of another person is eligible to a monthly pension of $135.45.

From S.K.C. of Santa Paula, Calif.: "I have been drawing Social Security for nearly six years. In case I get sick or have to go to the hospital, does the Social Security Administration pay for any hospital or medical care?"

No. Social Security payments have no connection with hospital or medical care expense.

From R. C. of Morgantown, W. Va.: "I am planning on retiring the last of September. I am 72. What steps should I take to apply for my Social Security payments?"

Your first step should be to get some sort of proof of your age. Then, you should visit the nearest Social Security office and apply for the payments.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

BIBLE QUIZ

QUESTION: Why was the deed of the Good Samaritan so great?

ANSWER: Jesus' parable of the wounded man and the Good Samaritan is related in the Bible (Luke 10:30). It tells of a Jew who was robbed and beaten by thieves and left by the roadside to die. Two of his fellow countrymen passed the victim but did not offer help. Then a Samaritan saw him, cared for his wounds and took him to an inn.

FOR YOU TO DO: Paste the picture on cardboard, cut it out and color it. Add it to your Bible collection.

($10 goes to Donnie Sanders of Greenville, S. C., for this question. Send yours to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. Monday: Why are cowbirds dangerous to other birds?)

Reflections

DON'T SMIRK! SMILE!

A saleslady has the most gracious smile of anyone I have ever seen. As I have watched her it seems that her whole face comes alive when she smiles. Her eyes reflect an inner happiness that lips alone cannot indicate. Other people smile; the corners of their lips turn up but their eyes are dull—it is a smirk. One must dredge up the happiness, the joy in our hearts to make our eyes glow with peace and goodwill. Then they will illuminate everything around them.

Emotions have a clear track to our eyes; a void created by the loss of a loved one is reflected in our eyes as if they were mirrors; this faculty can be acquired.

When you smile be happy; smile through your heart and people will smile with you.

French Singer, Lilo, Picks Up Our Ways

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The blonde French doll, Lilo, is getting so Americanized now that when she goes to Dallas, Houston, or New Orleans she can, if necessary, say, "How-low, Dowlin'!"

★ ★ ★

WILSON

She remained, to learn Texasese as well as Brooklynese. And now if Maurice Chevalier has a female counterpart in America, she's he.

"Dey didn't know me dere, so I didn't went," Lilo explained the other day while in a Parisian mood. "Is good, no?"

Is good, yes!

TV's calling her more and more now. France is even rediscovering her. Concentrating on Miami (nine visits), Chicago, Las Vegas, Dallas, Minneapolis—and a New Jersey town where a kindly lady wanted her to come over as a Father's Day present for her husband—Lilo's now been summoned back to France to cash in on her American reputation.

"She's learned Broadway English so good," exclaims her husband, the busy, bustling Marquis de Passardierre, whose title is genuine, "that she now says, 'I'm gonna and 'I gotta.'"

Lilo and her titled husband and manager were entertaining Monsieur Pettit, author of "C'est Si Bon," when I visited them recently.

"Didn't you introduce that song?" I asked Lilo.

With a shrug that seemed to say she wished she had, she turned to the good Monsieur—who told the story.

"I wrote it in 1947, about 10 years ago," he said.

"I tried to give it to a big singer, Yves Montand. Three months after, he gave it back to me. He says, 'I don't believe in that song.'

"I gave it to other artists, to Chevalier. He don't believe in it, either.

"We had a jazz festival in Paris. A girl singer named Suzy Delair wanted to sing it. She is a soprano. I said to her, 'I think that song is not for you.'"

LILO

★ ★ ★

He shrugged, "She sang it as best she could. She didn't do so well. But after that, an American came backstage to me, and he said, 'I want that song. I want to introduce it.' And he did—LOUIS ARMSTRONG."

Fog Halts Traffic in St. Mary's River

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Thirty-six lake freighters were forced to anchor today as heavy fog blanketed the St. Marys River.

The locks were closed for six hours last night, but were reopened at 3:30 a.m. as the fog lifted slightly. It still remained heavy over the river and Coast Guard officers halted all traffic.

Commander E. J. Bodenlows said one reason for the closing was the seaway channel dredging work now under way. He explained that the channels normally are 500 feet wide, but with dredging equipment, tugs, dynamite boats and other material connected with the dredging, the channel is temporarily only 190 feet wide. He said this makes navigation tricky, even in fairly light fog.

American Legion Meeting Today

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A blare of bugles and the rat-a-tat-tat of drums today opens the American Legion's national convention—one of the largest ever.

In colorful uniforms, scores of senior and junior drum and bugle corps compete in the first event of a lengthy program that will last through Thursday.

It is expected to attract at its height 100,000 visitors — legionnaires, their wives and children.

A highlight will be a 12-hour parade Monday — with an estimated 50,000 to 60,000 marchers pacing south along the Boradwalk paralelling the beach.

Formal convention sessions will begin Tuesday with National Commander W. C. (Dan) Daniel calling the 3,113 actual delegates to order, but committee and commissions sessions began yesterday and continued through today.

Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, president of the National Guard Assn., addressed the legion's military affairs committee today and protested in a prepared speech that "we seem to have a government by bureaucratic regulation rather than by legislative action."

Speaking of his association's efforts to maintain the Army National Guard at a paid drill strength of 400,000, Walsh said:

"The House Appropriation Committee contended, and with ample justification, that even if they did appropriate additional money, there was no assurance that it would be released by the bureau of the Budget, and here is the crux of the matter. . . ."

Forest Fire Damage Held Down by Rains

LANSING (AP)—Scattered rainfall throughout the state kept forest fire damage to a minimum during the past week, the State Conservation Department reports.

Only four small fires damaging slightly more than two acres were reported during the week. The department said 670 fires have been reported so far this year with damage to 5,654 acres.

Propose to Drill Hole 10 Miles Deep Into Earth

More than 1,000 IUGG scientists were ending a two-week session today. They meet every three years to exchange bits of information uncovered in years of research. There are 52 members countries.

The idea to bore beneath the earth's crust was contained in a resolution passed by the IUGG's oceanography, seismology and geodesy divisions.

The scientists hope one of the world's governments will pick up the drilling plan and carry it out. They figure the best spot to sink a drill would be on an island in the South Pacific, where the earth's crust is thinnest — about 7 to 10 miles. They say the project could provide as much information about the earth's interior as earth satellites will about the outer atmosphere.

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP)—A 21-year-old Altoona, Pa., Army sergeant was convicted of mistreating combat trainees. He was to be sentenced today.

The sergeant, Edwin C. Knutson, was acquitted by a special court-martial board of two other specifications of mistreatment.

A drill instructor, Knutson was convicted of maltreatment of trainees in Co. I, 39th Infantry Regiment, by "causing or inducing other trainee leaders to hit other members of the unit." The convictions involved accusations made by Abraham Abrahm, 21, of Highland Park, Mich., and William N. Dike, 22, of Oak Grove, Mo.

The board acquitted Knutson of charges involving blows aimed at Jose Louise Garcia-Valadez, 25, of Chicago.

Fire Guts 2 Buildings in Kansas Community

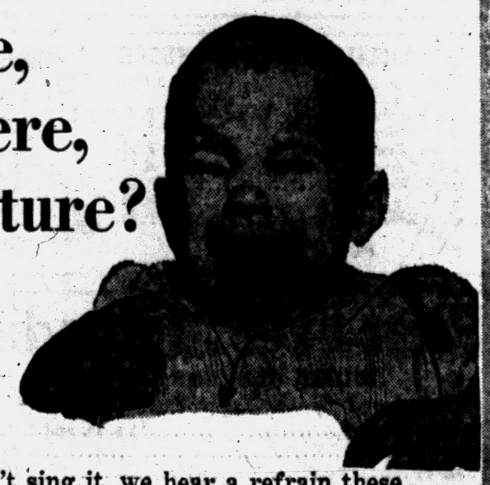

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Fire gutted two buildings and heavily damaged two others in the business district of this south-central Kansas community of 13,000 last night.

Cause of the fire was not known. Damage was expected to total half a million dollars.

Where, Oh Where, Is My Picture?

While consumers don't sing it, we hear a refrain these days from those who have ordered pictures (usually of children) from itinerant photographers and are anticipating early delivery. Some will report that they thought there was a local studio—until they tried to find it. And others will express disappointment in the work and state that the photograph delivered is not like the sample. Satisfaction in photographs depends upon the skill of the operators—and you leave a lot to chance when money is handed out to a floater—before you see the finished work. INVESTIGATE BEFORE YOU INVEST — and don't make advance deposits on orders to unknown people.

'I'm Out of the Rat-Race'

Berle Expresses Disdain for Regular TV Shows

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"Me go back in that rat-race? Not on your life!"

This was Milton Berle's comment on recurrent reports he was eager to get back into television with a regular show. The reports were bolstered by the fact that he had changed agents and was seeking more action on his career.

"Untrue," he replied. "After 31 years, I went with new agents because — well, because after so many years you get taken for granted by an agency.

"Why should I switch agents to get work in TV? In the first place, I can't work for anyone but NBC. I have an exclusive deal with NBC that pays me $150,000 a year until 1981. And the only work I have to do is two guest appearances a year for three years. Then I can do anything I want."

Berle made these comments as he rested between shows at El Rancho Vegas, where he is billed as "Mr. Television." As he sipped coffee with his wife and her mother, Berle seemed a different man from the years when he reigned in TV. He has dropped some weight and looks 10 years younger than his 49 years.

"I feel better too," he remarked. "I did '366 one-hour shows; that's enough for any performer.

"Now I want to do the things I enjoy. Several producers have approached me about doing a Broadway show. There are a number of picture deals in the wind. I'm bringing out a record album, 'Songs My Mother Loved.' And I'm also writing a novel, something completely apart from show business."

Apparently he still enjoys working before a live audience. After our talk, he went on stage at 2:30 a.m. for a special show for other Las Vegas entertainers. When he finished 90 minutes of furious clowning and hoofing, the star-studded audience applauded wildly in a tribute to a great performer.

Conference Planned to Study New Infection

LANSING (AP) — Plans for a conference to discuss a comparatively new and troublesome type of infection now found throughout the country have been announced by the State Health Department.

The conference will be held Thursday, Sept. 19, at the Lansing Civic Center.

The Health Department said the infections are caused by a group of bacteria belonging to the genus called staphylococcus.

Since the introduction of antibiotics, the department said, these bacteria have for some unknown reason become stronger and more deadly. Infections of this type formerly were found only in children but now develop among both the old and young, the department said.

RCA Settles Suit With Zenith

Pays 10 Million Dollars in Antitrust Damage Case in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A 61¾-million-dollar antitrust damage suit, filed against Radio Corp. of America by Zenith Radio Corp., has been settled for 10 million dollars—a settlement Zenith said is the largest in history.

The suit was settled last Monday in U. S. District Court but the sum was not made known until yesterday.

Zenith alleged RCA blocked Zenith's entry into world markets by maintaining a monopoly on foreign trade in electronic equipment.

The amount of the settlement was announced by W. Donald McSweeney, Zenith attorney. Another Zenith attorney, Thomas McConnell, said the company "has recovered more in this law suit than any previous antitrust litigant in history."

In preparing the nine-year case, McConnell said Zenith spent two million dollars. An RCA spokesman said his firm spent six million dollars fighting the suit, which named as defendants, RCA, three domestic electrical companies and 14 foreign firms.

Court aides said the previous high recovery in an antitrust action was nine million dollars, collected by the Ferguson Tractor Co. in a 1949 suit against Ford Motor Co.

Hits Youth on Bike After Warning

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Patrolman Robert McGowan warned a newsboy 10 days ago about riding his bicycle without a light.

The boy, Peter Koos, 14, member of a refugee Hungarian family that has been in this country only six months, was hit by a car yesterday and suffered a possible skull fracture. A lighted flashlight was found 10 feet from Peter's wrecked bicycle.

The driver? Patrolman McGowan, who said he didn't see the boy.

AEC Orders Mining Town to Be Evacuated

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—An entire mining town has been ordered evacuated by the Atomic Energy Commission in a move to speed up the much-delayed summer nuclear tests.

The AEC said last night that it had moved the 60 men, women and children from Lincoln Mine — about 45 miles northeast of the test site—to other locations.

On more than 20 occasions this summer atomic tests have been delayed because scientists feared that radioactive fallout might hit the little town.

Details of who is paying for the mass relocation were not disclosed. An AEC spokesman said the commission had been talking with the Wah Chang Mining Corp., operators of the mine, with the idea of paying a flat fee for the evacuation.

Residents are expected to return to their homes after the tests.

Directs Hebrew Unit

NEW YORK (AP) — Myron Schoen of New York has been appointed director of the newly created office of Synagogue Administration of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. The office will help the 542 Reform congregations in the United States and Canada in such matters as temple management, finances, and architecture.

Helicopter Spots Hurricane Carrie East of Bermuda

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Carrie, written off as a threat to the U. S. mainland, was located 800 miles east-southeast of Bermuda by a reconnaissance airplane today.

"The hurricane will remain on a north to northeast course far east of the United States mainland," the Miami Weather Bureau said in a 5 a. m. advisory.

Carrie is still a severe hurricane with top winds of about 110 m. p. h. at a small area near the center.

* * *

The latest advisory gave Carrie's position at latitude 28.5 north and longitude 52.0 west. The storm's forward speed is nearly 10 m.p.h.

Says She Saved Police From Voodoo Hex

DALLAS (INS)—A woman proudly told the police she had saved the whole force from a crippling voodoo hex. She said a witch doctor came to her home and demanded $5 or he would cripple her with a hex.

She threatened to call the police. The witch doctor then said that if she did he would apply the hex to the police. She paid the $5 and he left.

Group Tells of Grant to Publicize Nurses

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Hospital Assn. has announced a grant of $2,500 to the Michigan League for Nurses to publicize the need for nurses.

"The need of our hospitals for nurses is still desperate," said H. Allan Barth, association executive director. "We believe that every young woman should know that the opportunities in nursing have never been more attractive."

Yanks Romp Over Chisox, 7-1

Stengel Sizes Up Flag With 13 Games Left

Pierce Fails to Stop Bombers in Bid for 20th Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — "I feel better now but we ain't in yet."

Casey Stengel briskly sized up the American League pennant race after yesterday's 7-1 New York Yankee romp over the second-place Chicago White Sox.

"They're liable to get in there and win six or seven straight," he added. "Maybe we will go haywire like we have in the past. Who knows?

"This gives us 89 victories. But the big thing is that we beat Chicago 14 times. There is only one thing wrong with their ball club. Their contenders, the Yanks, beat them all season."

Old Case never expected the race to be as close as it has been when he brought his club out of spring training. He tried to discourage all talk of a runaway but privately he believed the same thing.

With only 13 to play, the Yanks lead the White Sox by six full games. Any combination of nine New York victories or Chicago defeats would clinch the pennant.

In other games yesterday Cleveland clobbered Boston 16-3 and Washington whipped Kansas City 11-6 in the AL.

The Yankees, with Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron coming off the injured list, socked the Sox early, rapping 19-game winner Billy Pierce for seven of their 13 hits and a 4-1 lead before he left in the third with his 11th defeat. Mantle, out for 10 days with shin splints, doubled home a run in the first and tripled and scored in the third. That raised his average to .370, six points shy of Boston's Ted Williams .376 who is still sidelined by a chest ailment and reportedly is out for the rest of the season.

The Indians battered four Boston pitchers for 21 hits, five by Dick Williams, while Vic Wertz drove in five runs with a homer and 2 flies. Mike Garcia won his 11th, giving up six hits, but allowing only two over the last six innings while beating the Red Sox for the second time in 11 decisions.

Roy Sievers, bidding to become Washington's first AL home run champ, clubbed his 37th and 38th for three runs that upped his league-leading RBI total to 105. Dick Hyde won it, pitching five innings of one-hit shutout relief as the Senators ended their losing streak at five games and fled the cellar while the A's dropped in. Virgil Trucks was the losser in relief.

Middlecoff Hits 63 for Record

Leads Dallas Tourney First Round With 8-Under Par Card

DALLAS (AP)—Golf may be seeing Cary Middlecoff less frequently from now on as the man with the jangled nerves takes a plush club job at Hollywood, Fla. But he appears determined to make the wind-up of regular touring something to remember him by.

Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist who seldom looks at teeth, was more calm and relaxed yesterday than for a long, long time as he whipped Glen Lakes Country Club's tight 6,328 yards with an 8-under-par 63 course record to take the first-round lead in the $40,000 Dallas Open.

Second was Al Besselink, the big blond from Grossingers, N. Y., who had a fine 64 with a putter that gave him eight birdies.

★ ★ ★

Third were a couple of Texans—Howie Johnson, the Houston star who registers out of Akron, Ohio, and Earl Stewart of Dallas, once a regular on the tour. Johnson and Stewart each had a 65 with fine chipping and putting.

Saginaw Fight Show Will Feature Lowry

SAGINAW, MICH. (AP) — Pat Lowry of Toledo will meet Willie Barbois of Toronto, a leading Canadian welterweight, in a scheduled 10-round bout here Sept. 26.

In the other half of what is billed as a double main event, Duke Harris, Michigan welterweight champion, will take on Gus Rubicini of Toronto.

Lions Meet Browns

Tonight the two teams meet for the second time this season and for the 14th time since 1951, including pre-season, regular season and post-season games.

New head coach George Wilson continued the hold over the Browns with a 20-10 win in Briggs Stadium in his debut with the Lions, and one thing is certain—Brown is wondering what he has to do to beat Detroit.

Since the opener, the Lions have beaten the Washington Redskins and Philadelphia Eagles while losing to the Steelers last week.

Cleveland defeated Pittsburgh 28-13 but lost to San Francisco 21-17 and Los Angeles 20-14, besides the loss to Detroit.

Brown will send quarterback Tommy O'Connell against the Lions in place of John Borton who started in Detroit. To confuse the issue of the name "Brown" in Cleveland pro ranks, Coach Brown will start rookie Jim Brown of Syracuse in attempt to dent the Detroit defensive unit.

Brown has gained 248 yards in the last three games for the Browns and is now the team's top ball carrier.

Bobby Layne will start at quarterback for Detroit despite an ankle injury.

Tom Tracy, who sparkled as a pass receiver and runner last week against the Steelers, is back in good shape after the minor surgery which hampered him for two weeks.

In NFL action last night, the Los Angeles Rams thumped the 49ers 58-27 before 75,000 fans in LA Coliseum. Tank Younger and quarterback Norm Van Brocklin provided most of the scoring punch with the help of rookies Tom Wilson, end Leon Clarke and fullback Ed Marconi.

Younger scored three touchdowns—one on a 39-yard pass play, one on a nine-yard end run and one on a four-yard shot through the line.

Van Brocklin pitched three touchdown passes, the most spectacular of which was a throw to Clarke. The play was good for 76 yards.

The 49ers had their biggest moment of glory in the second quarter when halfback J. D. Smith, 200-pounder from North Carolina A and M, took a kickoff and rambled 95 yards down the north sideline to a touchdown.

SHIN GETS BANGED — Mickey Mantle who just got out of the hospital because of painful shin splints, got back into the lineup against the White Sox yesterday and aggravated the injury. He swung and fouled the ball. It bounced and tore into his left leg and sent him to the ground. He then doubled to score a teammate as the Yanks won, 7-1.

Silent Bats Menace Milwaukee

Braves Lose 6th in Last 9 Games

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The first-place Milwaukee Braves plodded toward the National League pennant today armed with silent bats.

The quietest bat of all is the 35-inch, 34-ounce ash wielded by Hank Aaron, whose hitting helped put the Braves where they are now and whose slump if prolonged could pull the props out from under them.

Fred Haney's club has lost six of its last nine games, including a 5-1 verdict to Brooklyn last night, but still leads second-place St. Louis by five games, because the Cards lost to the Giants.

Cincinnati outlasted Philadelphia 8-7 and Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from Chicago's Cubs 4-1 and 2-1 in other NL games.

Don Drysdale, the sophomore righthander who tops Brooklyn's staff, won his 15th with a five-hitter, permitting the Braves only one hit over the last five frames in his first complete game against Milwaukee.

The Brooks bagged it with four in the seventh, getting the first two on Carl Furillo's double off loser Gene Conley and scoring the other pair on bases loaded walks from reliever Don McMahon.

Ex-Card Ray Jablonski junked St. Louis' winning streak at four, driving home New York's first three runs with a double and single. The Giants won it with three in the eighth off starter Larry Jackson, now 14-9, overhauling a 2-1 lead the Cards had nursed for four frames.

The Cards scored one in the eighth, but Marv Grissom came on to nail it by striking out the pinch-hitting Stan Musial with the bases loaded. Musial still leads in the bat race at .340—four points ahead of Willie Mays, who gained four points with four of the Giants' 16 hits.

Jack Sanford, Philadelphia's rookie of the year candidate, lost his second in a row for a 17-7 record, although all but one of Cincinnati's five runs against him were unearned.

Szuzina Unanimous Winner Over Sandy

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A pair of unranked middleweights proved why last night when Germany's Franz "Suzy" Szuzina, scored a unanimous 10-round victory over Randy Sandy, of New York City.

Szuzina, in winning his 41st bout, entered the match a 7-5 underdog. He has lost 18 and drawn in 13 bouts. Sandy's record now is 19-7-1.

ARROWHEAD CONFERENCE

"How can you graduate 23 seniors, and still be everyone's favorite to win the Arrowhead Conference football championship?" is a question being asked by Midland high coach Bob Stoppert as he drills his Chemics in defense of their unbeaten, 1956 league title.

Gone are such stalwarts as all-state guard Ralph Allswede, bruising halfback Oscar Hahn and power-running fullback Gary Jozwiak. But whether Stoppert cares to admit it or not, coaches of the other three Arrowhead rivals, Al Bush at Bay City Handy, Bill Beach at Alpena and Bob Bacon, new Traverse City mentor, all look with misgiving at a new powerhouse to come out of Midland this fall.

No. 1 challenger appears to be Alpena, where Beach greeted an 85-man squad including nine veterans.

BORDER CITIES CONFERENCE

By H. W. Funk, Monroe Evening News

Despite heavy graduation losses in both the offensive and defensive units, coach Mike Megregian's Dearborn Fordson eleven is favored to retain its Border Cities championship. Wyandotte, where coach Richard Hoffheins has 23 returning lettermen, is expected to be the No. 1 challenger with Grosse Pointe and Royal Oak as darkhorse contenders.

Highland Park, although improving yearly, and Monroe, seeking a football revival under former MSU fullback Jerry Planutis, are not expected to be in title contention.

The Tractors have only eight returning lettermen but they include a pair of great guards in Don Dimcheff, 5-8 and 205, and Milt Nolff; Larry Montry, a 6-3 junior end and co-captain Frank Pollard, hard-running fullback. Fordson employs the single wing offense.

Wyandotte needs experience at quarterback and at ends but all-league players Joe Carolla, 220 and 6-2 is back at tackle along with fullback Dan Galeski and halfback John Flum.

SOUTHWESTERN CONFERENCE

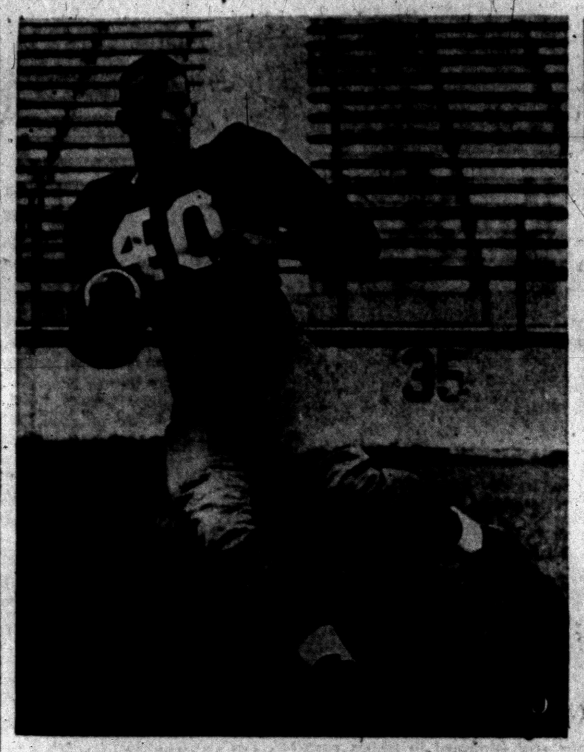

By Joe Eyler, Muskegon Chronicle

Muskegon Heights will go after its fourth straight Southwestern Conference football title, and for the first time since the league became a three-school affair the Tigers will be a slight favorite for the crown.

The Heights, Muskegon and Benton Harbor have waged a hot contest for the title and this year will be no exception.

The Northern Tigers get the nod because of a larger nucleus of lettermen than the other two.

Coach Oscar E. Johnson, embarking on his 31st season as head football, basketball and baseball coach, has 11 lettermen back, including three regulars.

VET AT FULLBACK — One of the returning lettermen in the PHS backfield is fullback Les Watkins, who last year saw regular duties in the latter part of the season. Watkins stands 5-feet-11 and weighs 165 pounds.

Bosox Officials Deny Williams Out for Season

BOSTON (AP) — A report that Boston slugger Ted Williams may be through for the season because of a heavy chest cold was denied today by the Red Sox team physician and the club trainer.

Dr. Ralph McCarthy said the return of Williams, sidelined since the first of the month, is a day-to-day proposition. He planned to examine the 39-year-old outfielder again today.

"Ted probably would have been back in uniform for the Cleveland series if he hadn't overdone it in a workout Thursday," trainer Jack Fadden said.

Tigers Held Up, but Gain Ground

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Detroit Tigers gained ground in their battle for third place last night, although rain forced postponement of their scheduled game with the Baltimore Orioles.

While the Tigers gave way to inclement weather, the third-place Boston Red Sox succumbed to a 21-hit Cleveland attack and took a 16-3 defeat at the hands of the Indians.

The Boston setback, coupled with Detroit's idleness, cut to two and a half games the distance between the Tigers and the Red Sox.

Tigers and the Orioles will make up for the lost ground in their schedules with a double-header today. Manager Jack Tighe indicated he would start Billy Hoeft in one of the games and either rookie Jim Stump or Paul Foytack in the other.

Going into the two-game series with the Orioles, the Tigers held a 12-9 advantage over Baltimore over the season.

9 From Wyandotte Still in Title Race

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — Knoxville, Tenn., and Wyandotte, Mich., their battle for a sectional playoff championship still unsettled, open play today in the national tournament of the American Amateur Baseball Congress.

Knoxville beat Wyandotte 5-0 last night to throw the Eastern playoff into a tie. The championship game was postponed.

Wings Oppose Canadian Club in Exhibition

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings move against their first opponent of 1957-58 today, taking on the Edmonton Flyers in an exhibition game.

The Wings, defending champions of the National Hockey League, will face the minor league Flyers with a squad of 14, including four new faces.

Dodger Status in Crucial Spot

LA City Council Holds Private Session With Negotiator McClellan

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Negotiations to bring the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles apparently were in a crucial stage today.

The city council met privately with negotiator Harold C. McLeland and scheduled another meeting with him today.

Various California public officials, including San Francisco's mayor George Christopher, continue to insist that the Dodgers are moving to Los Angeles despite the eleventh-hour effort in the East to keep them there.

Christopher said yesterday:

"I've talked with New York a dozen times the past few days, including a conversation at 4 o'clock this morning. I'm sure you'll get the team."

County supervisor Kenneth Hahn said he also talked to someone in New York, whom he would not identify, and is convinced, as a result of the talk, that the Dodgers will be playing in Los Angeles next season.

Free-for-All Finale

DETROIT (INS) — Grand Circuit harness racing comes to an end tonight with a free-for-all eighth race headlining a good week-end card.

Sonlie, a Detroit-owned trotter, won the last stake race last night in the $5,000 big five trot with Don McIlmuray in the sulky.

Bay City Favored, Saginaw Stronger, PHS Doubtful

SVC Again Rules 'A' Grid Scene

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Michigan's most powerful schoolboy conference, the Saginaw Valley, stole the show in the 1956 class A poll of AP when Flint Northern and Bay City Central finished 1-2 respectively in the state.

The picture looks pretty much the same this year except that a reversal of teams in the 1-2 positions is expected.

Bay City Central, with 12 returning lettermen, will have experience at every position except fullback. Even with the loss of such players as all-stater Namon Smith and sturdy linemen such as John Halstead and Dick Syring, the Wolves are picked to dethrone Northern for the SVC crown.

Northern won the title by taking a 24-21 thriller from the Wolves in the top prep game of the season last year. From this squad the Vikings still have 11 lettermen back, but missing are a pair of all-state halfbacks John Sharpe and Arden Relerford. Also gone are Wilbur Aaron, second team all-state center and Al Miller all-valley end.

The fight for the Valley crown this year could be a three way battle with Saginaw ready to make a strong bid, and Flint Central taking the role of darkhorse.

Saginaw, under Herb Korf in his 13th season, has 16 lettermen returning, including 11 big linemen who will average around 200 pounds. Dick Jones who took over the quarterback duties at mid-season a year ago is back along with halfbacks Terry McLean and Charley Griffin.

The center spot was bolstered with Bob Halliday, a transfer from Ann Arbor who will also be used as linebacker.

Pontiac gave new head coach Jesse MacLeay nine lettermen, but only three veterans with which to start. Quarterback Dick Whitmer, 6-foot-2, 195 pounds, returns to call the signals, but depth behind him is lacking.

★ ★ ★

Harrison Munson and Bill Davis are quarterback candidates, but it may be a little sophomore, one of the few on the squad, who may see some action.

Fred Staley, only 5-foot-7 and 135 pounds has shown the potential which may earn him a spot on the roster.

Coach Bill Doolittle at Flint Central pointing to the loss of 24 lettermen and only eight returnees does not figure he should take any darkhorse role. Tackles Ken Harden and Bill Mills a pair of 200 pounders lead the line contingent.

Northern still has speedy Phil Gaines back at fullback from the title team, but coach Andy McDonald does not feel he has any replacements for all-staters Relerford and Sharpe.

Arthur Hill, with Kurt Kampe starting his 7th year, may have to yield its third place position in the SVC to city rival Saginaw. The Lumberjacks have a good nucleus in the line with ends Paul Doersam and Bill Kolleth and guards John Wells and Lloyd Schmidt. Captain is veteran Tom Harvey at tackle.

After three non-league games, all schools get into SVC action October 11th. In next Friday's openers, Pontiac meets Wyandotte, Bay City hosts Owosso, Northern tangles with Detroit LaSalle, Central is at Midland, Arthur is at home to Grand Rapids Catholic and Saginaw is home to Grand Rapids South.

MONDAY—
SUBURBAN CATHOLIC

CALLS THE PLAYS — Veteran quarterback Dick Whitmer will be back at his position calling the signals when Pontiac opens its 1957 season next Friday night against Wyandotte at Wisner Stadium. Whitmer is a 6-foot-2, 195 pound senior.

Chippewas Open Tonight

★ ★ ★

Central, which won the contest last year in a 38-32 scoring duel, is favored to repeat. But Bradley has a strong nucleus back from its high-scoring '56 contingent which had a 7-2-1 record.

★ ★ ★

An estimated 10,000 fans are expected to be on hand for one of the earliest college games of the Michigan season.

Tonight's starting lineup will include two former Pontiac High stars. Walter Beach, a starter last year as a freshman, and Phil Officer will team at the halfbacks. Another ex-Chief, Ed Revis, is also expected to see considerable action in the ball carrying department.

Global Opener Won by Japan

Use Stengel Formula to Nip Canada in 13 Innings

DETROIT (AP) — In a reproduction of the opening game of a year ago, Japan has taken an early lead in the third annual Global World Series of baseball.

★ ★ ★

Beating Canada's champions by a single run last night, just as the Japanses team did last year in the opening game in Milwaukee, gave Japan a brief edge while six other teams were scheduled to swing into action today.

★ ★ ★

Japan's captain, who runs the team, operated like a Casey Stengel as he juggled his lineup time after time. And in true New York Yankee fashion, Capt. Sadayoshi Osawa's team came through with a 3-2 victory in 13 innings.

Osawa, listed as a pitcher but capable of playing the infield and outfield, was the pitcher a year ago when Japan handed the U.S. team its only defeat of the double elimination tournament.

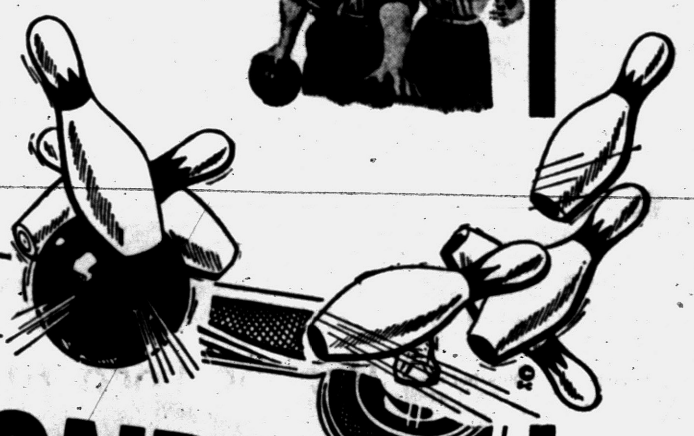

★ ★ ★

Japan will meet the winner of the Hawaii-Mexico game that will be played tomorow. Other games tomorow send Holland against Venezuela and the U.S. against Columbia. The first contest starts at 1:30 and will be followed by a twi-night doubleheader.

Engagements, Weddings in Spotlight

JULIE HUTCHINS

Mrs. Chauncey Sanborn Hutchins of Orchard Lake announces the engagement of her daughter, Julie, to James Stewart Hudson Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. James Stewart Hudson of Grosse Pointe. No wedding date has been set.

Victoria Micu Weds Richard Beyer

White gladioli and pompon chrysanthemums banked the altar of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church for the 10 a.m. wedding today of Victoria J. Micu and Richard J. Beyer. The Rev. Fabian Weber performed the ceremony.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Andres Micu of Midway avenue, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beyer of Mt. Clemens street.

★ ★ ★

A floor-length gown of Dupioni silk was the bride's choice for her wedding. It was fashioned with an Empire bodice, Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves. The princess skirt of Venice lace ended in a chapel-length train.

★ ★ ★

The bride's fingertip veil of French silk illusion fell from a pillbox headpiece of seed pearls and iridescent sequins, and she carried an arrangement of white roses and ivy in a chapel bouquet.

SISTER IS HONOR MAID

Andrea Micu acted as her sister's maid of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of bronze crystalette, featuring a bow and streamers in back, with a cowl neckline and princess lines. She wore a skull-type cap made with illusion net.

★ ★ ★

A dinner for the bridal party and relatives was held this afternoon. The American Legion Hall of Auburn Heights will be the setting for a general reception this evening.

★ ★ ★

For her son's wedding Mrs. Beyer chose a light blue linen dress with navy accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses. After a trip to Lake Huron the couple will live in East Lansing where both attend Michigan State University.

Victoria J. Micu and Richard J. Beyer were married this morning in St. Vincent de Paul Church. The bride is the daughter of Andres Micu, and the Arthur Beyers are the bridegroom's parents.

MRS. RICHARD J. BEYER

Kirk-in-the-Hills was the setting for the 3:30 p.m. wedding today of Gail Genevieve Smith and Gordon Alexander Mutch. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Stuart Smith and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mutch.

MRS. GORDON A. MUTCH

Gail Smith Wed Today in Kirk Rite

Says Nuptial Vows With Gordon Mutch at Bloomfield Hills

Gail Genevieve Smith and Gordon Alexander Mutch were united in marriage at 3:30 p.m. today in Kirk-of-the-Hills.

Mrs. Stuart M. Smith of Birmingham is the bride's mother, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mutch of Birmingham.

The train was court length, and an open crown cap with satin rosebuds held the bride's three-tier illusion veil. She carried an arrangement of white orchids centered on a Bible, with trailing ivy and stephanotis.

SISTER IS HONOR MAID

Gwendolyn Elaine Smith serving as her sister's honor attendant wore a green ballerina length gown and carried white chrysanthemums with ivy and stephanotis. Bridesmaids were Mable Harabedian, Jill Smith, Nancy McKenzie and Alice MacManus.

★ ★ ★

Mary Maurine Smith and Bonnie Lowrey Smith were junior bridesmaids and Michelle Lang was the flower girl. All wore gowns similar to that of the honor attendant.

★ ★ ★

The couple are on a northern Michigan trip, and will live in Royal Oak on their return.

100 See Barbara Lane Wed to Raymond Lange

One hundred guests witnessed the marriage of Barbara Isabel Lane and Raymond Charles Lange this morning at 11 o'clock. The Rev. John J. Hoar performed the ceremony in St. Benedict Catholic Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale B. Lane of State street are the bride's parents, and the Richard Langes of Dover road are parents of the bridegroom.

IN SATIN AND LACE

The bride wore a princess style floor-length gown of white satin and re-embroidered Alencon lace, with seed pearls and sequins accenting the crescent neckline. Her veil fell from a half-shell lace cap with iridescent sequin trim. She carried a chapel bouquet.

★ ★ ★

Janet Lane was her sister's maid of honor. Attendants were Carol Young of Pigeon and Mrs. Bryl Claxton, a sister of the bridegroom from Clawson.

They were gowned alike in dresses of coral lace over taffeta. Matching velvet trimmed the Sabrina necklines and framed large bows in back. Small feather hats and lace mitts completed their costumes.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

A wedding breakfast was held at Hotel Waldron for the bridal party, and a reception was held this afternoon at the bride's home.

For a northern Michigan trip the new Mrs. Lange has chosen a black wool suit with white fur hat and a corsage from her bridal bouquet.

★ ★ ★

The couple will live in Big Rapids where the bridegroom is a senior at Ferris Institute and a member of Phi Sigma Chi fraternity. The bride attended MSU and was graduated from Grace Hospital School of Nursing.

PATRICIA ANNE MOYNIHAN

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Moynihan of East Lansing announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Anne, to Paul M. Earl, son of the Marvin R. Earls of Park drive. Patricia was graduated from Michigan State University where she is a member of Mortar Board. He attends MSU.

J. Cecil Cox to Be Feted

J. Cecil Cox, retiring assistant superintendent of Pontiac's School System, will be honored at a public reception from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday at Madison Junior High School.

Mr. Cox joined the Pontiac system as a teacher in 1926. He taught science and mathematics until 1927, when he was named assistant principal of Eastern Junior High.

In 1945 he became principal of Lincoln Junior High and in 1948 when he was made assistant superintendent.

★ ★ ★

Graduated from Albion College with a B.A. Degree; Mr. Cox went on to earn a masters degree from the University of Michigan.

Born in Farmington, he is the father of three sons.

Mix Antique With Modern

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"I think there's a definite trend toward flamboyance, and I'm delighted to see it. People want the rich look of antiques mixed in with their modern, something I've been doing for the last 10 years.

GIVES ASSURANCE

"Emotionally, people need the comfort and assurance you find in antiques. Modern and its sterility is just too severe for our times today.

"I solidly, strongly believe interior design is not just furniture and fabric — it's a way of life. This is a real thing with me, like a cult.

"Because people do have this emotional need, they shouldn't be slavish to any one particular style. The antique look has been creeping back for the past few years. First it was Spanish, then Italian directoire.

"Even cliff dwellers want a back porch, even if it's a tiny terrace. It's another part of the emotional thing — people want greens around them, and that feeling isn't confined to city limits.

"As for the materials — you can buy wonderful marbelized vinyl and fabulous Renaissance damasks printed on two-dollar linens.

"I believe in using materials that are synonymous with elegance, but that isn't measured in dollars. Elegance is a point of view, not paying $32 a yard for material."

Silver Lake Golf Club Holds Doe Day Event

Silver Lake Golf Club was the setting for Doe Day Thursday. After golfing in the morning the group had lunch at the Watkins Lake home of Mrs. Charles Campbell.

Traveling trophy for low net of the year was awarded Mrs. Dale Aumaugher. Mrs. James received the award for most improved player.

Shrine Has Dinner

Mrs. William Anderson was hostess for a cooperative dinner when Pontiac White Shrine 22 met at the Roosevelt Temple Wednesday evening. Pontiac Shrine Drill Team entertained Royal Oak Shrie Drill Team.

Many From Area Attend State's Smaller Colleges, Outstate Schools

Many collegians have elected to go to some of the smaller schools in the state such as Hillsdale, Central, Western, Eastern and Ferris.

OFF TO EASTERN

Mary and Margaret Drake of Klingensmith road left Sept. 14 for Eastern Michigan College in Ypsilanti. Mary, a senior in physical education, is specializing in deaf education. She is serving as head counselor for Julia Anne King Hall, where Margaret will also live. Margaret is a freshman planning to study social welfare.

Housework Just Isn't Enough

Exercise Is Vital to Flatten Tummy

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A strong abdominal wall not only means better health but also a better figure. A nice flat front makes all the difference imaginable in your silhouete. Women will not keep this asset through the years without regular exercise in a more concentrated form than that they get in everyday life.

Women often are surprised to find that special exercises make their muscles sore at first because they had believed that their housework gave all their muscles a real workout. Today I want to give you a few exercises which will strengthen the abdominal muscles and flatten the tummy.

1. Lie on the floor on your back. Bend the left knee up close to the abdomen. Straighten the left leg, pointing the toe toward the ceiling. Lower left leg to the floor. Do the same thing with your right leg. Continue, alternating left and right. Do this briskly.

2. Same starting position. Bend the left knee up close to the abdomen. As you straighten the left leg bend the right. One leg straightens as the other bends. Do not touch the heels to the floor but bring them close to the floor.

* * *

3. Same starting position. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Straighten legs, bringing the heels close to the floor but not touching the floor if you can help it. Continue bending and straightening the legs.

4. Same starting position. Lift the left leg up as high as comfortable. As the left leg lowers raise the right leg upward as high as comfortable. One leg moves up as the other moves down. Feet do not touch the floor. Keep the knees straight. Do this a few times and rest. Continue in this way.

If you would like to have my tested abdominal exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2 to Josephine Lowman in care to The Pontiac Press.

This exercise will strengthen the abdominal muscles and flatten the tummy: Lift the left leg up as high as comfortable. As the left leg lowers, raise the right leg upward as high as comfortable. One leg moves up as the other moves down.

Guest of OES 228

Mrs. Paul Hagle, worthy grand matron, was a guest when Pontiac Chapter 228, OES, met Monday evening at Masonic Temple. Plans were made for Advanced Officers' Night to be held Sept. 23.

Circle Has Dinner

Esther Circle of Oakland Park Methodist Church met at the cottage of Mrs. John Mitchell on Williams Lake Tuesday evening for a cooperative dinner. Mrs. Kenneth Skelton was cohostess. Mrs. John Seifert was a guest of the group.

Guests of Amvets

District director Mrs. Kameron Hoxie and district secretary Mrs. Edward Marshall were guests of Wright-Fournier Amvets Post 161 when the group met Monday in the Anders street home of Mrs. Orval Russell.

PTA Kickoff Held

A kickoff breakfast to promote the PTA magazine was held Wednesday morning at the East Yale avenue home of Mrs. George Gray, magazine chairman of Pontiac Council of PTA. Each PTA local was represented. Mrs. LeRoy Koch is co-chairman.

Spadea's American Designer Pattern

Jo Copeland

Copeland Clothes Blend Worldliness and Restraint

Sophisticated lady that she is, Jo Copeland instinctively designs clothes that for all their worldliness have a dignified restraint, coupled with undeniable chic.

* * *

Best in fabrics that give body and stiffness to the hip detail, it is the perfect theater, restaurant and cocktail party dress made up in peau de soie, taffeta, brocade, satin or any novelty weave. Dark flowered silks are a new rage so it might be well to investigate them.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips in.
10	34½	24½	35
12	35	25½	36
14	37	27	37½
16	38½	28½	39
18	40	30	40½

Size 12 requires 3⅛ yards of 50-inch material. To order pattern 1159, state size, send $1.

For new jumbo 96-page Pattern Booklet 14, send 50 cents — for Jo Copeland label, send 25 cents. For airmail service in U.S., add 25 cents per pattern, 50 cents per booklet. Sales tax extra.

Address Spadea, The Pontiac Press, Box 535, G.P.O., Dept. P-6, New York 1, N.Y. If paid by check, bank requires 4 cents handling charge.

Obligation Considered Paid in Full

Hospitable Person Will Want to Issue Another Invitation

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were invited to a dinner party at the house of acquaintances several weeks ago. We, in turn, invited them along with two other couples to dinner at our house last week. They were not able to come. Does that pay back our obligation to them, or must we invite them again some other time?"

Answer: Strictly speaking, you have paid back your "obligation." But if you are a hospitable person you will wish to invite them again.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Three weeks ago I was invited to a shower for a friend of mine. Up to the present time I have not received a thank-you note for my present. In mentioning this to another friend, I was told that it is not necessary to send thank-you notes for shower presents. Is this true?"

Answer: At a shower, it is customary to open the presents and thank each giver verbally as her gift is unwrapped and admired. No further written thanks are necessary. Notes must be written to those who sent presents but who could not come to the party.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a young businesswoman in my early 20s. I ride the bus to and from work every day. On several occasions I have offered my seat to an elderly woman passenger.

"The other day an elderly gentleman got on the bus and my first impulse was to offer him my seat, but on second thought I did not do so for fear of embarrassing him. Is it proper for a young woman to offer her seat to a man? I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: If he's really old or in any way incapacitated it would be a very kind gesture, but a man still strong would resent it very much.

Wise Wife Never Makes Public Jibes at Husband

She Doesn't Remind Him About His Weaknesses and His Failures

By RUTH MILLETT

There are some things no smart wife ever reminds her husband of when others are present. Such as:

How she kept him from making a mistake, or tried to, only he wouldn't listen to her.

That it was her money that paid for this or that.

That her family was set against their marrying.

That the man she almost married is now Mr. Big, the inference being that if she had married the other man she would be on Easy street.

That if she hadn't married she would have had a fabulous career.

That the only reason the family gets by on her husband's paycheck is because she is such an excellent manager.

* * *

That she hasn't had a new dress in ages or that the dress she is wearing came from a bargain basement.

CONSULTS HER FIRST

That her husband always consults her before making any kind of decision.

That she is Mrs. Fix-It for the family because her husband can't hammer a nail without hitting his thumb.

That her husband's boss doesn't appreciate him enough to pay him what he is worth.

That her husband is the "biggest baby in the world" when he is sick and thinks he is dying if he gets a head cold.

That her husband—big laugh—is a sucker for any kind of hair tonic that promises to help him hold onto what hair he has left.

* * *

Lambda Chi Omega Told of Convention

Mrs. Raymond Howell was elected national treasurer of Lambda Chi Omega sorority at the national convention in St. Paul, Minn. Delegates Mrs. Clara Elwell and Mrs. Harry Gemmel read reports of the convention to Beta Theta Chapter of Lambda Chi Omega when that group met Thursday in the Midland drive home of Mrs. Donald Bryson.

Past Chiefs' Club Elects Mrs. Kerr

Mrs. Edward Kerr was elected president of the Past Chiefs' Club, Mizpah Temple, Pythian Sisters, Tuesday at the Cass Lake road home of Mrs. Milton E. Probert. Mrs. Delos Nicholie was named vice president and Mrs. Lewis Ellis, secretary. After luncheon it was voted to make rag dolls for children.

Outlines Program

Mrs. Thomas Ogden, program chairman of Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, outlined the year's cultural program when that group met Tuesday evening at Hotel Waldron. The social calendar was presented by Mrs. James Burlingame.

West Germany Will Vote for Men Instead of Issues

BONN, Germany (NEA)—West Germans will vote tomorrow, free—for the second time since Hitler seized power in 1933—from pressure of dictatorship or foreign occupation rules.

The Bundestag elections will thus mark another step in the democratic development of the Bonn Federal Republic.

Moscow recognized the historic importance of the occasion by dispatching Nikita Khrushchev and Anastas Mikoyan to warn Bonn's citizens that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's re-election would further impede Germany's reunification.

But even the Russians' threats of a nuclear war made little impression on the anti-Communist West German man-in-the-street and still less on the politicians of the two major parties. The leading Christian Democratic party and the opposition Social Democrats consider any Soviet support as an electoral kiss of death.

With the West German rump state still riding the wave of prosperity, it is primarily personalities—81-year-old Adenauer versus 56-year-old Socialist chief Erich Ollenhauer—rather than domestic or foreign issues that will decide the outcome of the general elections.

This goes even for German unity. The politicians regard reunification a "burning issue." But the ordinary West German, in the midst of his unprecedented economic well-being, contemplates it with a cool detachment.

DOMINANT PLACE

Twelve years after Hitler's defeat. West Germany has emerged from the abyss of war destruction to assume a dominant, if not the dominant place in non-Communist Europe.

There is a striking difference between the despairing nation seen in 1945 and the busy and bustling Germans who will go to the polls in September.

Never in their checkered history have Germans been more prosperous than they are today. The Ruhr industries and commerce are booming. Taxes have been cut and industrial insurance improved.

Adenauer's new pension scheme has reduced the fear of inflation for the aged. Wages have risen and low-cost housing continues to break new records.

With these gains—seen against a background of industrial expansion—the slogan of no economic and social experiments should work in favor of the ruling Christian Democrats. Its effectiveness can be judged by the fact that the opposition Social Democrats have been forced to echo it.

The difference between the Christian Democrats and Social Democrats on key issues of domestic and foreign policy have become very small indeed. There is only one exception: Ollenhauer would agree to Germany's withdrawal from NATO as the price for a U.S.-Soviet agreement on German unity.

In the last elections, held in Sept. 1953, Ollenhauer opposed German entry into NATO. However, he since said the Socialists would consider Bonn's withdrawal from NATO only if conditions for German reunification were agreed on by the Western powers and Russia.

CHANGED MIND

Thus, if the Russians considered Ollenhauer's Socialists somewhat of an asset when they were strongly against NATO they have since changed their mind.

With Gomulka in power in Poland and growing unrest in the satellites, the Kremlin fears the dangerous attraction which an anti-Communist Social Democratic regime in Bonn would exert on the restive people behind the Iron Curtain.

On Sept. 15, the average German voter will therefore vote for or against Chancellor Adenauer and not on issues of foreign and domestic policy which he does not understand well and about which he cares little.

Benson Spikes Rumors That He Plans to Quit

WASHINGTON (INS) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson spiked rumors yesterday that he will resign and said he will continue in office "indefinitely" at President Eisenhower's request.

Quizzed at a news conference on the results of his visit with Eisenhower in Newport, R. I., Benson said:

"The President asked me to continue; the church of which I am an official and on leave has approved; and I consented."

Benson, a high official of the Mormon Church said that Eisenhower was "pleased" with Benson's report that farm prices have shown a steady two-year increase.

Contributes to Hospital

FLINT (AP) — General Motors has announced a $375,000 contribution to a drive to raise funds for a new Flint osteopathic hospital. Thus far, $1,785,000, including the GM gift, has been pledged to the $2,500,000 goal to build a 240-bed hospital.

California has the largest state membership in the Parents and Teachers Assn. in the U. S. with 1,529,756. Ohio is second with 657,829.

Rules Prisoner to Be Extradited

Slayer's Attorney Asks Southern Governor to Drop Proceedings

HONOLULU (AP) — Attorney Bernard K. Trask said yesterday he has decided not to appeal a territorial Circuit Court order that slayer George Leroy Page be extradited to South Carolina.

Trask earlier had said he would take the case to Hawaii's Supreme Court. But he said today that he has put his faith instead in a message to the governor of South Carolina asking that extradition proceedings be dropped.

Trask asked the governor of South Carolina to reply collect. If none is received by noon tomorrow, he said he will telephone the governor.

★ ★ ★

Build New Fieldhouse

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Kalamazoo College will lay the cornerstone today for a new $85,000 fieldhouse at Angell Field. The fieldhouse is the second building under construction in the 125th anniversary fund program. The campaign seeks to raise $1,952,000 for capital improvement. The new fieldhouse will be named for Louis Calder, president and director of the Perkins-Goodwin Co. of New York.

Two Boys Perish in Tractor Plunge

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — A tractor plunged into a gulley near here yesterday, killing two of the five boys who were riding it in a bottle-gathering expedition.

Pinned under the tractor and killed were 10-year-old Jerome Bur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bur of Mullet Lake Village, and 9-year-old David Boda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Boda of Mullet Lake Village.

The other three boys escaped the falling tractor. One of them, Wallace Winters, 15, suffered a broken wrist. The other two, unhurt, were Donald Boda, 11, and James Boda, 15, brothers of the dead Boda boy.

Police said the boys were pulling a child's wagon with the tractor on Old Indian Trail, picking up bottles along the road. The tractor toppled into the gulley when it crumbled a soft embankment along the road.

Claim Red Jet Fastest

ZAKA, Southern Rhodesia (INS) —Rancher Ray Sparrow and his family feed their new baby a milk-and-gruel formula through a garden hose. The Sparows adopted a 350-pound baby elephant after its mother was killed.

Toss Book at Negro for Throwing Bottle

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The maximum sentence was pronounced in Recorders Court against a 16-year-old Negro convicted of throwing a soft drink bottle at a motor car.

Frank Coach was sentenced yesterday to six months in jail and a $100 fine. He was one of 76 Negro youths removed from a chartered bus Wednesday in the wake of complaints that they were hurling rocks and other objects at white persons.

Six other defendants were turned over to juvenile authorities.

The students were on their way to Parker High School for Negroes when they were taken from the bus.

The incident was one of several minor clashes here between white persons and Negroes since white men roughed up a Negro preacher who sought to enroll four Negro pupils in an all-white high school Monday.

Father and Son Killed in Crash of Car, Bus

HASTINGS (AP) — A father and son were killed when their car and a loaded school bus collided near here yesterday. Dead are Robert C. Clark, 40, and his son, William, 21, both of Mesick.

The bus was carrying 32 Middleville High School football players to a practice field. Several youths were hurt, none seriously.

Attractively Different

Some weeks ago your Home Editor and one of the Press photographers went fence-hunting. The number of different types of fences, and walls in and around Pontiac is amazing.

Fences serve various purposes. Obviously, the main one is to protect children and to keep them in their yard. Another important function is to insure privacy; several of the fences below do that — the stone wall, the woven plywood, the Chippewa and the cement block fence.

Other fences fall in the purely ornamental class. If you know of an interesting one in any category, let the Home Editor know and it will appear in a later edition.

THOUSANDS OF STONES — Count them if you can. It's sheer guess how many rocks went into this stone fence at the Henry W. Moss home on Watkins Lake road. The Mosses did not construct the fence themselves; it was done when they bought the house. Someone with an eye for symmetry worked on it to set the stones so evenly in mortar. It, too, is effective as a guardian for privacy.

TO MATCH THE HOUSE — The Harold J. Owens of 3795 Lakewood drive, Watkins Lake, have a log cabin house. To match the house Mr. Owens constructed a log fence and support for the mail box. Here is shown just a small portion of that fence.

CHIPPEWA FENCE — This fence is called either a rustic cedar fence or a Chippewa fence. A similar fence was used a couple of hundred years ago in both Indian villages and pioneer forts. At the present time it is excellent in insure privacy and to keep young children safe. Both purposes are served here at the George Reutter home on Edgewater drive. The yard is not far from West Huron street where traffic is heavy.

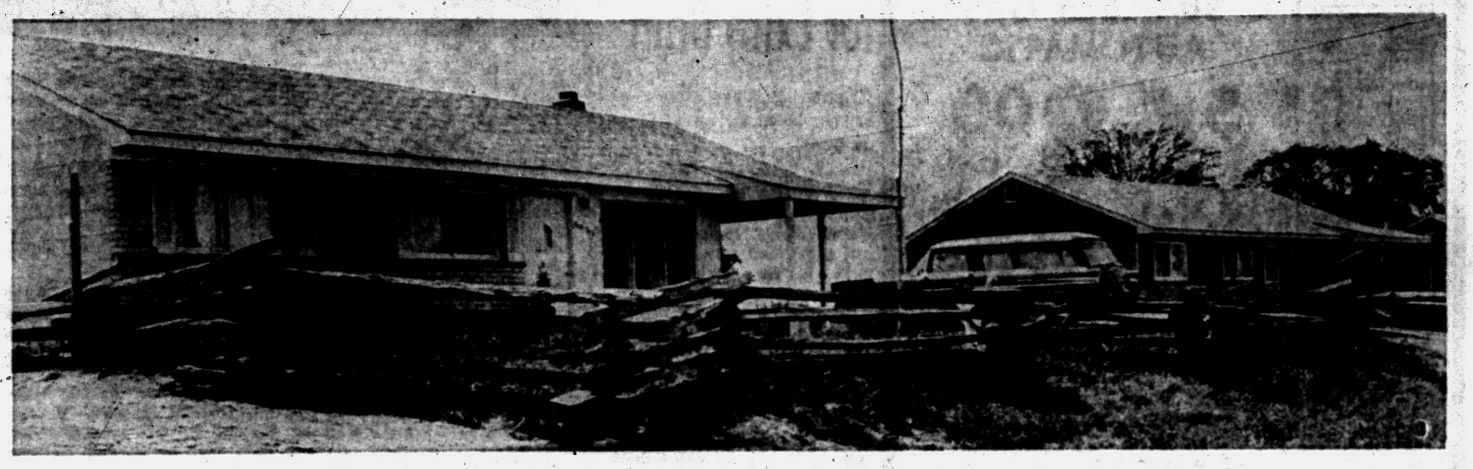

GUESS WHERE? — This is an entrance in a brick wall many of The Press readers have seen time and again. It is one of the gates in the ivy covered wall that surrounds Cranbrook school. This particular one is at the western end of the property. Through the open work at the top of the gates one of the school buildings is visible.

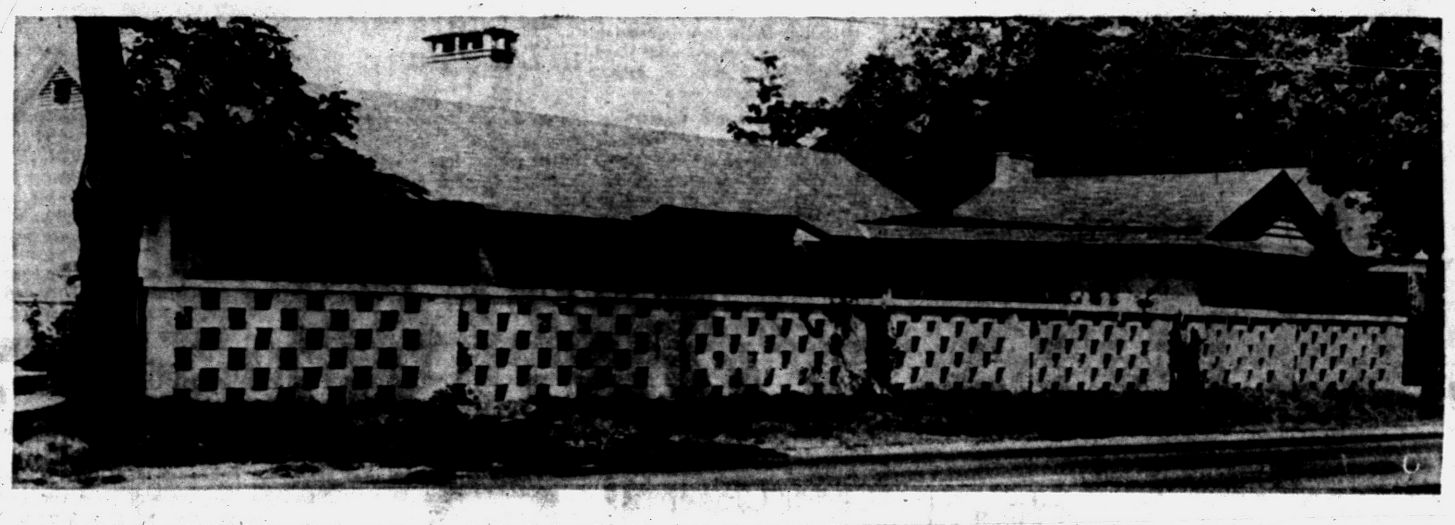

PLANTER BOX FENCE — Gray brick planters that match the G. C. Barnier home behind are joined by a simple wood fence painted white. Each planter is bright with red petunias and each has a single light mounted in the center. The Barniers live on Frankel Lane.

Pontiac Press Photos Ed Vanderwerp

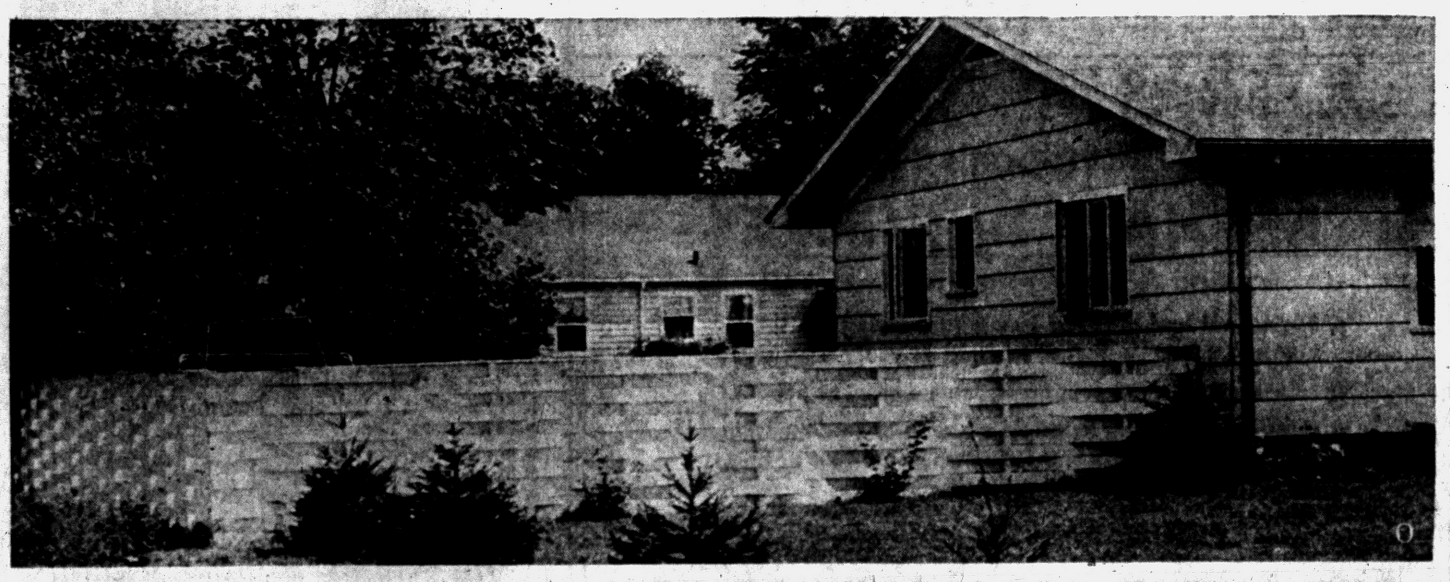

SHADES OF ABE LINCOLN — It is surprising to find a genuine split rail fence in a modern subdivision. The story of this one is even more unusual. Mr. and Mrs. Neil Newman moved into Bloomfield Knolls in Waterford township and brought their fence with them. The rails were split by Mrs. Newman's grandfather on a farm near Kingston, taken to East Lansing for a time, then brought here. Mrs. Newman says if the family moves again, they will dismantle their split rail fence and take it with them once more.

CEMENT BLOCKS — Cement blocks put together in checkerboard fashion make up this interesting wall at the Arthur B. Tilton home on Franklin road. Mr. Tilton saw a similar fence or wall in a magazine and decided to use the design for his property. Because the Tilton house is close to the road, some fence was indicated. The family did not want to be shut in completely and this open block design was the perfect answer. Painted white, it makes pleasing patterns of light and shade.

ONE WOMAN'S WALL — Mrs. V. L. Sumner of 2008 Denby drive in Drayton Woods wanted a rock wall on the slope of lawn next to the driveway. Last fall she started building this ledge rock one. By August of this year it was finished and the flower beds on top were gay with summer blossoms. There are five levels of flowers. Mrs. Sumner's work makes an attractive entrance to her home.

MODERN FENCE — More and more of these woven plywood fences are seen. Depending on the angle from which they are viewed, several interesting patterns show up. This fence is built directly across the street from the Chippewa fence on Edgewater drive. Both families have the same problems to be solved by some kind of fencing. Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Lund chose this kind, and painted it white to match their house.

Architects saw in these man-made giants in wood a new building material for churches. The giant arches form both roof and walls, cut costs, are more beautiful in their upsweeping majesty. Now three out of every four churches being built use glulam wood beams, many of them of Douglas fir lumber.

PONTIAC KNOLLS — New model homes are now open in Pontiac Knolls subdivision on Linda Vista drive. Two of the three models have full basements; all are brick. Each home has three bedrooms and ample closet space. Kitchen counter tops are Formica. Prices of the houses range from 12,500 to $14,800, with veterans' down payment of $250 and civilians' of $700. Practical Home Builders who are constructing these homes have already put in paved streets. The homes all have city water and sewers. "Hospitality House," the model, will be open from noon to nine daily and Sunday, starting this weekend. The address is 612 Linda Vista drive, just south of North Perry and North East boulevard.

Space Does Exist for Extra Bath

★ ★ ★

Chances are you have plenty of room, says the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association. It is just a question of knowing where to look. Here are a few suggestions:

1. An old pantry off the kitchen can be ideal. It's generally long and deep, providing ample space for a full bath.

2. If you plan to convert the attic into living quarters, a bathroom also can be added there.

3. A basement often is the answer, expecially for houses that no longer use coal heating. Here, the coal bin can be converted into a comfortable and convenient bathroom.

4. Hall or bedroom closets might be the answer. For a powder room, you only need a space as little as three by four feet.

Whenever possible, install new fixtures against a wall that already contains plumbing pipes. If adding the bathroom on another floor, locate it above or below existing facilities. This saves time and money.

And don't worry about the lack of a window. By adding an electric air vent and fluorescent lights, even a windowless bathroom can have planty of ventilation and lighting.

Extra Storage May Be New Cedar Closet

Nearly every home containing an active family needs more storage space than it has. Often, one additional storage room would be sufficient to hold off-season clothing, making more room in closets and cabinets for current wearing apparel.

Such a storage room can be built in unused attic space and lined with aromatic red cedar closet lining to provide a moth-safe storage space for furs, extra blankets and woolen clothing.

The framework for the storage rooms may be built of 2 x 4 lumber at the corners and vertical 2 x 2 inch members at 16-inch intervals. Tongued and grooved aromatic red cedar closet lining may be nailed directly to the wall studs to form the walls of the cedar storage room. Use small finishing nails, either four-penny or six-penny.

Quarter-round cedar molding at all floor, ceiling and wall junctions will give the storage room a professional appearance and will help keep the room air-tight. Don't paint or varnish the cedar closet lining, since that would seal the valuable cedar aroma into the wood.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—I'm planning to varnish some cabinets. How can I avoid a lot of hard rubbing and polishing to remove the air bubbles that will form on the surfaces?

A—Try thinning the varnish with one part turpentine to five parts varnish. Then stir it—don't shake it—for 10 or 15 minutes. Let it stand for 24 hours to allow the varnish and turpentine to completely flow together After this, the varnish should flow on without air bubbles.

Q—How can I keep screws from coming loose and popping out of soft wood from the weight of the fixtures I've attached to the wood?

A—Make small starter holes and fill them with thick glue. The screws will then force the glue into the surrounding wood fibres and voids, giving the wood increased hardness and resistance to screw pull - outs.

Q—The room we're planning to add to our home will have a roof that is almost flat. The house was recently reroofed with asphalt shingles. Can we use asphalt shingles on the addition?

A—Asphalt shingles can be applied to roofs that slope as little as two inches per horizontal foot. A new technique makes use of special precautions that protect the roof against leaks which might otherwise develop because of the relatively low pitch. Before starting on your guest room, check with your roofing contractor to make sure your plans call for a roof with at least the minimum two-inch slope.

Q—My wife and I often have admired the panel doors we've seen used in television plays. How can we obtain doors like these for our home?

A—Television set designers use many panel doors of ponderosa pine in their sets because of the three-dimensional effect of paneling. Usually, these doors are of a standard design that can be obtained from the local lumber dealer. Pine panel doors are popular with home owners because of their natural beauty, the ease with which they can be painted and their resistance to warping.

Higher Priced Paint Pays Off in Long Run

The Public Housing Administration has found that it is cheaper to use paint costing $8.00 a gallon than to use paint selling for only $1.85 a gallon.

So says Rutcher Skagerberg, assistant director of that agency's Operations and Engineering Branch. Speaking at a symposium on government procurement, Mr. Skagerberg said that "the time involved in applying the paint and the amount of material used made it more economical to use the expensive material."

Pointing out that the Public Housing Administration annually paints 420,000 units and has a total bill of about $10,000,000, Mr. Skagerberg explained that the cost of the paint represents only 15 to 20 per cent of the total cost, with the major item of expense being labor. From the standpoint of economy, he said, the approach is to find out how to reduce the cost of labor.

"To reduce the labor involved," he said, "simply means making the job we do more durable so that we do not have to go back so often. I believe the better quality paint means that it is going to last longer. That is where the payoff is going to be."

Nails driven in at an angle will have greater holding power. When more than one nail is used in a line, they should be slanted in opposite directions.

Take Thought Now for Winter Ahead

A few asphalt shingles tossed into the trunk of your car now may get you out of a tight spot next winter. Placed under the rear wheels, the shingles give good traction when the car is stuck in snow or on ice.

This traction comes from the mineral granules embedded in the surface of the asphalt shingles, giving them the rough toughness of rock for long service on a roof. The granules also give the shingles color, for pigments are fired into them by a ceramic process before they are applied.

Painting Is Good Therapy

Mental therapists all concede the importance of color in treating so-called mental upsets. Many temperaments demand color for and air. Often people missing well-being, almost as much as light something in their lives find enriched enjoyment by going on a painting spree around the house.

Screen Prevents Sand-Clogging

If you want the pump to last, keep sand out of it, advises the National Water Well Association.

Many wells contain some abrasive sediment. Some wells have a lot of it. Abrasives are hard on all pumps, the association emphasizes.

All pumps will last longer and give beter service in a clean well. A slight amount of abrasive will produce a slight reduction in the life of the pump — a large amount of sand will cause a large reduction.

Sand in the well may reduce pumping efficiency to as low as 25 per cent of normal. Under these conditions, it would cost four times as much for power to run the pump.

The remedy for sand in the well is a well screen. A screen lets water into the well with the least resistance to flow, keeping the sand out. A well screen is part of the well structure itself. To work properly, the screen must be correctly selected and installed in the water-bearing formation as a part of the original well construction, the National Water Well Association says.

The use of a well screen, instead of leaving the bottom of the casing open, not only prevents the pumping of sand, but also results in the admission of more water into the well. This cuts the cost of pumping. There is a saving in both power and pump repair bills.

Actually, within a comparatively short time the waste in power to pump water from a sand-clogged well will have exceeded the cost of a well screen to insure a good sand-free well in the first place.

Suspended Panel Is Room Divider

An attractive room divider with a modernistic touch can be made by suspending a panel of Masonite "Peg-Board" between the ceiling and floor by plastic or Venetian blind cord.

Two 1-by-2 inch lumber strips attached opposite each other to the floor and ceiling support the panel. Screw eyes are turned at regular intervals into each strip and the cord is laced between them and the evenly spaced holes in the perforated hardboard.

Local Real Estate Men Attend Meet

Cramer E. Partridge, secretary of the Pontiac Real Estate Board, headed a delegation of local prominent real estate men attending the 43rd Annual Convention of the Michiga Real Estate Association at Grand Rapids, September 11 to 13th.

★ ★ ★

While the entire theme of the Convention is devoted to an analysis of the sales and financing markets, particular interest is centered in the presence at the Thursday evning banqut of a former Michigander, Kenneth S, Keyes of Miami, Florida, who is President of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Mr. Keyes is one of the leading real estate developers and promoters in the entire country and according to Mr. Partridge, he calls Michigan his second choice of all the 48 states.

★ ★ ★

Otherlocal real estate men include the following: Bruce J. Annett, V. K. Archer, Lester R. Arie and George L. Scales. Also attending were Ivan W. Schram, Tom Bateman, Ray O'Neil and Fasutin J. Dobski.

A Pretty Combination

Pale chartreuse paint was used for the living room of a two-room apartment. Draw drapes across the picture window covering one end were chintz in the same shade daringly printed in large leaves in three shades of green with exotic blooms in azalea pinks. An emerald green wall to wall carpet and several chairs upholstered in chintz striped in all colors employed in the room contributed to an exceedingly smart effect.

What the builders call "the most exciting home of the century" is open to the public this weekend. Called "Hospitality House," the model is located at 612 Linda Vista drive in Pontiac Knolls.

Two hundred and seventy eight homes are scheduled to be built in this new subdivision. At present about thirty are already constructed. They are set on lots that are at least 50 x 125 and have city water and sewer service.

Veterans need only $250 down, plus costs; while civilians may purchase these homes with a lowered FHA down payment of only $700, plus costs. The total price of the houses ranges from $12,500 to $14,800. Low monthly payments for both groups are available.

All the homes are brick. Two of the three models have basements. All have three bedrooms. In the large kitchens counter tops are covered with formica. Windows are the sliding type, made of aliuminum.

Practical Home Builders who are building and selling the houses have already put in paved streets. City transporation and shopping centers are nearby. The builders are planning gala opening days this weekend.

Prospective buyers may choose from a wide range of exterior and interior styles, including homes with studio or conventional ceilings. The model which is open from noon until nine daily and Sunday is on Linda Vista, just south of North Perry and North East boulevard.

Garage Wall Can Steal Heat

If your house has an unheated, attached garage, the wall between it and living areas of the house may be robbing you of expensive heat during the winter months.

Heat often is wasted in similar fashion when living quarters are built above the garage, as they are in many split-level homes. If the garage ceiling is not insulated, heat gets away and floors are cold in the upstairs rooms.

Home-owners usually can stop heat loss in the garage area by

In homes where garage walls, and ceilings have been enclosed with wallboard, plaster, or some other finishing material, mineral wool can be blown in by an insulation contractor, forming a tight, effective barrier against heat loss.

The mineral wool also helps keep the house cooler during the hot summer months, since it blocks the passage of heat from the outside to the inside, too.

Pliers Star Drill Aid

A pair of vise-like pliers is an efficient and knuckle-saving aid when drilling holes in concrete with a star drill. The pliers hold the drill firmly, make turning it easier, and keep hands away from possible misses with the hammer.

Stop the Damage That Moisture Does

You wouldn't keep a horse in your kitchen would you? Much less a Trojan Horse! Yet the chances are that you're harboring just as treacherous an enemy, one that can cause damage as surely as the Greeks conquered Troy with their ingenious scheme. Your enemy is moisture.

Did you ever stop to think how much steam is released in the house. It's a wonder the house doesn't fall to pieces. Statistics show that when you wash clothes for your family five pounds of moisture are released. Just breathing contributes to the moisture supply. If the whole family is home for a day, 12 pounds or 1½ gallons of moisture can be added to the intake in 24 hours.

How to combat this menace is spelled out for the layman in the little booklet entitled, "Save Your Home From the Menace of Moisture." The book is yours for the asking. Just send your name and address to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Avenue, N. W., Washington 5, D. C.

You Never Can Have Too Many Counters

Designers agree that the more counter space the better, but they have worked out a definite minimum standard for tile countertops in a modest size kitchen.

Adjoining the refrigerator, for example, there ought to be at least 18 inches of countertop. The mix and fix area needs a minimum of 36 inches of counter space. A sink should have 36 inches of counter on the right side and 27 to 30 inches on the left side. From 24 to 30 inches of heat-proof ceramic tile countertop and a built in cutting board are needed next to the range.

One designer suggests limiting the walking distance between refrigerator and sink, four to seven feet; from sink to range, four to six feet and range to refrigerator, four to nine feet.

New Plan Provides Retirement Homes

A Florida builder, F. P. Sadowski Corp., specializing in retirement housing in Marathon, has a unique plan that makes it possible for older couples to retire in their own resort-area homes, at an unusually low cost, Practical Builder magazine reports.

The plan works this way: A few years before retirement the couple buys a new home in the Florida community, using it only for winter vacations. The builder rents it for the rest of the year, making mortgage payments with the rent money.

In many cases, says Practical Builder, a house will be paid for by the time the owners are ready to retire.

Don't use lacquer or any other volatile material where there is not sufficient ventilation; in fact, use such materials outdoors if at all possible.

Be a Color Magician

It's easy to make a room look bigger, ceilings higher, dark corners brighter if you know how to do the stricks with color. The National Paint, Varish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Avenue N.W., Washington 5, D.C., has a booklet called "How to Do Tricks with Color." It will be sent to you upon request.

Brick Easy to Paint

Old common brick is relatively easy to paint. If the mortar has crumbled, or bits of brick have been chipped off by the effects of weather, the surface can be made smooth before painting by filling in cracks and broken places with mortar. After priming, small defects on the surface can be filled with putty. The final effect — thanks to paint—will be a brand new looking home.

Home Building Products Exhibit Center to Open

The midwest's first permanent exhibit center for home building products, in Birmingham, Michigan, will be open to the public October 26.

★ ★ ★

Filling a long standing need in the Southeastern Michigan area, the building will put every type of material for residential and commercial construction on year 'round display. The 12,500 square foot center has been named Showcase, Inc. by its owners.

The building is located between Woodward (US 10) and Hunter Blvd., south of Maple Road (15 Mile Road) in downtown Birmingham. It is adjacent to Detroit and to major trunk lines leading to key cities in Michigan and in neighboring states.

Showcase, Inc. has exhibit space for more than 300 displays, all on one floor, all under one roof. Its function is not a selling one, but one of bringing manufacturers' products to the home buying public.

There will be no admission charge to the public, and the building is expected to attract a large number of viewers who are planning to buy or build houses, or who are contemplating home improvements.

★ ★ ★

Showcase, is also designed to facilitate the work of architects, builders and contractors. They may take their clients there and, in a single, one-floor center, complete with private conference rooms, show them materials they plan to install in any proposed construction.

Clients benefit by having competitive products on display thus eliminating the problem of searching the city for various manufacturers' displays.

The exhibit center will be open daily. Weekdays, its hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sundays from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Plumber's Friend Helps

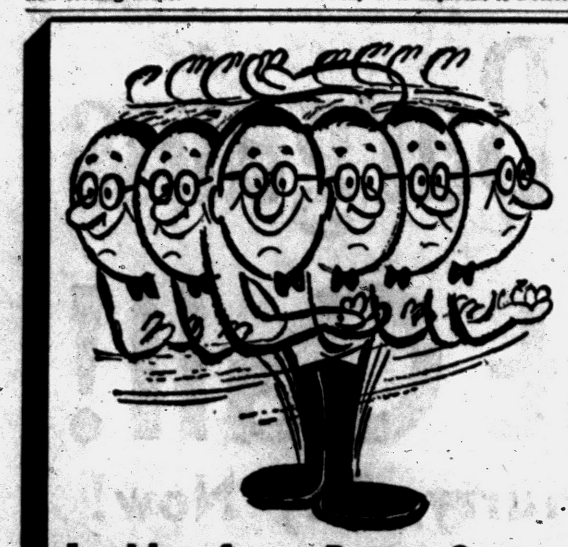

A "plumber's friend" often can unclog stubborn drainpipes. Try it before calling a plumber. First partially fill fixture with hot water. Then, with the suction cup over the drain, forcefully work it up and down. A commercial chemical may be the next step to clear up the trouble and avoid a plumbing bill.

Space Heater Beats Chill

Chilly mornings and evenings are coming on. You can delay starting up the furnace by using a modern gas space heater. Compact in design, the gas heater is simple to install, requiring only a gas connection and vent outlet. It may be used as the primary heat source for a wing or individual rooms in the house.

Prevent Home Accidents

Being at home doesn't mean you are safe from accidents. On the contrary, most accidents happen in homes. Falling down badly lighted stairs or stumbling in dark places are common home accidents. Light colored paint applied to danger spots in homes, as well as in business and industrial establishments, may save broken limbs—and maybe lives.

FEMININE PINK — High school girl redecorates her room in pink and white. Old vanity gets new fringe-trimmed skirt, marbleized top of self-adhesive plastic. Spray paint converts mirror in gold, table in white. Spread and vanity skirt are lintless and washable.

Help Daughter Redecorate Her Room

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

If your growing daughter's room is not the example of shining order and femininity it might be, encourage her to apply some of her high - school home economics lessons to transforming it.

It's good practice for a future homemaker to plan a color scheme, shop for furnishings within a predetermined budget and do at least some of the painting and sewing that may be necessary.

To get her started, you may need to offer suggestions for specific color schemes, for finished effects that will look pretty but not take forever to complete nor be too elaborate for simple care. Here are some concrete suggestions that sparked the attention of high school girls I know.

Because the bedspread is the largest item in the room, it often sets the color scheme. The variety of lovely, inexpensive, ready-made bedspreads is immense.

In an "example" room we did, we settled on a feminine pink-and-white color scheme. From the array of new spreads we picked a tufted pink-and-white check with a slender silver thread brightening its surface. White cotton fringe trims the hemline.

Matching cafe curtains for the window were ensembled with a new skirt for an old vanity, made from an extra pair of the curtains. In this case, several inches were clipped from the curtain to make it the right height for the vanity. The skirt, threaded onto a flexible curtain rod attached to the vanity top, is trimmed across the top with a strip of white cotton fringe.

From the scraps, it's easy to fashion a simple drawstring bag — a wide tube of fabric stitched to a circular base with a heading at the top for a cord — to serve as a decorative laundry bag for lingerie.

The top of our vanity is stained and scratched. But this can't be seen under its pretty new pink-and white marbelized covering of self-adhesive plastic.

Paint is one of the most useful disguisers of age and wear in old furniture. And it's considerably easier to work with than strippers and refinishers. I don't suggest slapping a coat of paint on a fine old piece. But the still-serviceable, not-so-fine and somewhat battered table or chest can be freshened and brought into the color scheme with paint.

Where there are moldings, carvings or irregular surfaces, paint in spray cans gives a professional-looking finish. A second-hand mahogany-stained end table, spray-painted white, was an easy and inexpensive answer for a bedside table.

Other candidates for the paint spray besides furniture are framed mirrors, picture frames and lamp bases. If a vanity mirror needs touching up mask the mirrored surface and spray on white, gold or the desired color.

Not much floor shows in a small room, so a dash of vivid color in a small rug can be used to lend sparkle to the setting. In our "example" room, we added an oval crimped-rayon scatter rug in a clear raspberry shade. Such rayon scatter rugs range the spectrum, coupling a luxurious pile with a modest price tag.

Stacking Saves Space

A sturdy platform to hold a clothes dryer above a washer solves a space problem in small laundry rooms. If both appliances have front openings and controls, the platform is built directly above the washer, using ¾-inch plywood for the top, and legs made out of pipe or by 2 x 4 lumber.

Thermometers Are Old but Popular

This year is the 350th anniversary of the thermometer, the invention of the great Italian astronomer, Galileo. And, while man has since learned a thing or two about regulating temperatures, he depends more than ever on modern-day versions of Galileo's "air thermoscope."

In resent years, we have become temperature conscious, and as a result, thermometer manufacturers say their sales are three to four times higher than in prewar days. Modern living has stepped up the use of temperature measuring instruments, points out the Minneapolis - Honeywell Regulator company. More outdoor activities, more travel, air conditioning and refrigeration all have combined to boost interest in temperature.

Newest idea in thermometers from M-H — spurred by the desire of most householders to maintain healthful indoor temperatures —is the decorator-type indicator, which may be had in either a wall model or a desk type. Wall models come in several different shapes and colors, while the destk thermometers also double as paper weights.

Why Not Consider Cedar Wainscoting

Beautifying the recreation room or den can be accomplished in one fell swoop simply by adding cedar wainscoting. The rich, rose-colored wood will add warmth and color to the room.

Although usually used to moth-proof storage closets, aromatic red cedar closet lining is beautiful and durable enough to be used as decoration. Cedar is impervious to rot and does not shrink or warp.

Easy to work with, cedar closet lining is tongued and grooved for snug, even fit and permanent good looks. It can be obtained from lumber dealers in handy packages, each containing enough pieces of the wood to cover at least 32 square feet of wall area. Each strip of cedar is ⅜ inch thick and up to eight feet long. The pieces in each package are uniform in width, but widths may vary from two to four inches.

An interesting effect may be obtained in the den or recreation room wainscoting by choosing packages of cedar with varying widths and alternating two and four - inch boards.

In cedar - lining a closet, the cedar boards are placed on the wall horizontally and nailed directly to wall studs. However, when applying wainscoting, it's best to mount the boards vertically for a better appearance.

Before applying the cedar to the walls, measure the area to be covered in order to determine how many packages of cedar will be needed. Remove all baseboards and molding and nail furring strips in place, if the boards are to be mounted vertically.

A low wainscoting will require a furring strip at top and bottom. Higher wainscoting should have a horizontal furring strip about midway between top and bottom for support at the center of the boards, and to provide a nailing base for shorter boards.

Premeasuring and cutting a section of wainscoting at a time will ensure a professional - looking job. Make sure the tops of the cedar strips are even by mounting each board with its top even with the preceding board. Any slight differences in length due to miscalculations in measuring or cutting will appear at the bottom of the wainscoting and may easily be covered with quarter - round cedar molding along the floor.

When aromatic red cedar closet lining is used to line a closet, it should not be finished, since paint or varnish seals in the moth-repelling cedar around. When used as wainscoting, however, cedar may be finished with clear varnish or shellac or left in its natural state.

Unfinished cedar requires little care. An occasional dusting with a damp cloth will keep the cedar wood colorful and fragrant for years to come. If varnished or shellacked, the wood may be refinished as often as necessary to keep it glossy.

Right Place for Rod

When installing a rod in a closet, set it out at least 12 inches from the wall, suggests D. R. Burrowbridge, director of the Thor Research Center for Better Farm Living. A height from the floor of 63 inches will accommodate almost all garments worn by adults. Moth-proof garment bags take more room and rods to hold them should be 72 inches above the floor.

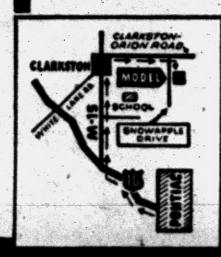

Rot Means Wood Eaten

Wood doesn't rot—it's eaten by living fungus growths and insects. For this reason it's important to apply first a coat of wood preservative to all sides of wood which are in contact with moisture or soil. Also apply it to all sides of which have "rotted." Among wood preservatives of this type are chlorinated phenols and copper naphthenate, the commercial forms of which can be bought in any hardware or paint store.

Vinegar added to water when mixing plaster of Paris will keep the mixture from hardening too quickly.

GOOD FOR CORNER LOT — The ideal spot for this house would be a corner lot, but it is designed to fit any normal size tract. There is plenty of room for good living in the first floor plan. The family room is two steps below the level of the rest of the house for an interesting sunken appearance.

Cape Cod House Can Have Apartment

Flexibility of design is combined with Cape Cod charm in this latest House of the Week.

It's a multi-purpose home, carefully planned so that it can be used for a small family, a large family—or for two families.

All the amenities for gracious living are embodied in the first-floor layout. It makes an excellent two-bedroom house with 1,390 square feet of space, exclusive of the garage.

Since one of the compensations of a Cape Cod design is that the upper floor is incorporated into the roof area, expansion can be achieved at a later date, if desired, merely by finishing off the interior.

The 800-square-feet area of the second floor makes it suitable for two additional large bedrooms, a bath and considerable storage space. This would make the house practical for a large family that needed four bedrooms.

If the family is small, and zoning regulations permit the upper floor can be made into an income-producing apartment with one bedroom, a kitchen, a dining area, living room and complete bath. In that event, a common enclosed vestibule would give access to the first-floor living quarters as well as upstairs, affording complete privacy to each family.

The architect, Sam Paul, has given careful attention to this feature in a revised alternate plan for a two-family setup.

No matter how the owner of this house utilizes the available space, the heart of HW-63 is the solid first-floor design.

The spacious bathroom, for instance, is located where it is easily accessible to the kitchen and living-dining areas as well as to the two bedrooms. Also, because the bathroom is adjacent to the kitchen and directly under the upper bathroom, if and when the second floor is finished, plumbing lines are short and consequently economical.

The kitchen features a corner sink in the popular "L" shape arrangement, space for family breakfasting, a double window looking out to the rear and an entrance to the tremendous outdoor terrace. The dining room, while tucked in place as a unit, gives the effect of being an extension of the living room, making the entire area especially suitable for entertaining.

Directly off the center hall entrance, the living room has wide front windows far enough off the ground so that the roof overhang provides shaded relief from the hot sun.

A two-way fireplace is shared by the living room and the family room, which is two steps below the level of the rest of the house for an interesting sunken appearance.

The family room can be entered from the dining room, from which it is separated by a folding partition, and from the rear terrace, from which it is separated by a jalousied door and jalousied windows. Add these to the jalousied windows at the front and you have a room with "through" ventilation—so important during hot weather — and suitable as an alternate or extra sleeping room. If there is no need for the family room, the area can be covered, without side enclosures, and used instead as a breezeway.

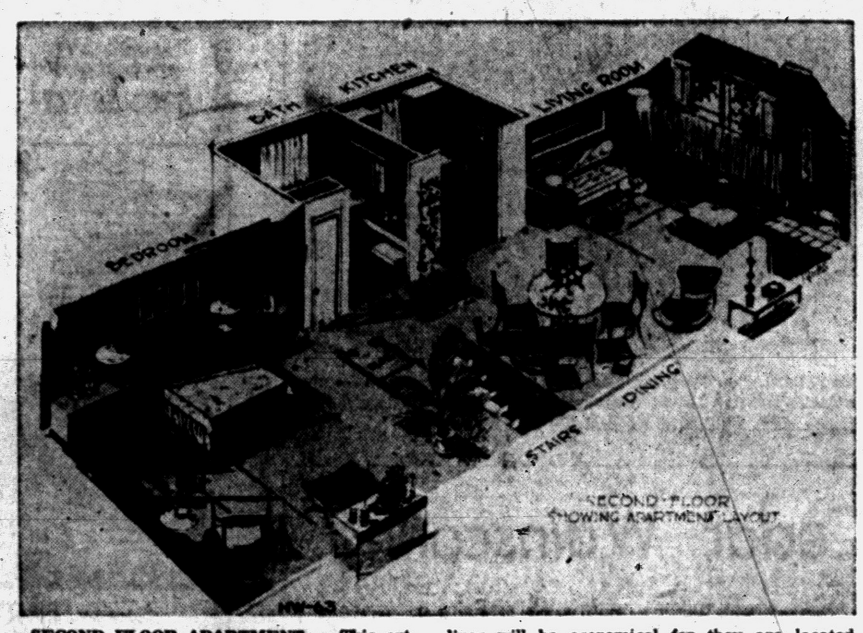

On the opposite side of the house is the bedroom wing. Both bedrooms have cross ventilation and large closets. The upper floor plan also provides cross ventilation for the bedrooms if that portion of the house is used.

The frontage of HW-63 is 65 feet 6 inches. That includes a one-car garage, although a two-car garage can be built where the size of the plot permits. The front-to-rear dimensions are 25 feet 8 inches.

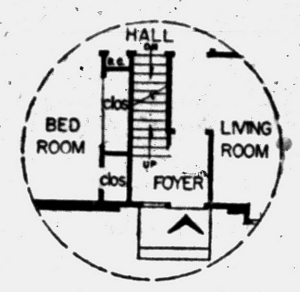

There's a pleasantly serene appearance to the exterior of this house. It has a "come on in, the living is fine" look to it.

Putty Saves the Glass

Cracked glass is often caused by lack of putty and paint on window frames. Moisture absorbed by unprotected frames during heavy rainfalls causes swelling of the wood. The resulting pressure on the glass often cracks it.

SECOND FLOOR APARTMENT — This cutaway drawing shows the possibilities for a furnished apartment on the second floor. Plumbing lines will be economical for they are located directly above those on the first floor. The bedroom has cross ventilation.

Investigate, Then Buy

In investigating homes to buy look for tell-tale signs of interior workmanship in the cellar. Cracked or sagging walls and loose cement warn of improper support and bracing. Stains on walls and floors indicate seepage, another sign of faulty construction. Examine all wooden members to detect traces of termites or dry rot. Thorough cellar investigation before making home purchases will eliminate future headaches.

Go "Sun-Sledding"!

The growing trend toward outdoor living has produced a new item of patio furniture—the "sun sled." Do-it-yourself enthusiasts can make one themselves. All that's needed is a few board feet of 2 x 2 lumber for the framework which looks much like that of a regular snow sled. Wood slats or canvas streatched across the top complete the project.

Don't stand directly in back of the blade of a table saw while it is operating ,as a kick-back can send the material flying at a terrific rate of speed.

Ranch Style Houses Lead All Others

★ ★ ★

This is the finding of the United States Savings and Loan League, nationwide trade organization for the $46 billion savings and loan business, as reported in a statement released in connection with National Home Week (Sept. 21-29).

According to the League, 90 per cent of today's new homes are of the one-story type; 6 per cent are of the split-level design; while only 4 per cent are built with two stories.

The League noted that the public was demanding a bigger and better house, as evidenced by increases in the size of new homes. It said the average floor area of today's new house is in excess of 1,230 square feet, compared with 1,170 in 1955, and with 1,140 square feet in 1954. At the same time, roughly 70 per cent of new dwellings come equipped with three bedrooms, compared with 53 per cent back in 1954.

This building of larger houses, noted the League, has had its effect on the prices which the new home purchaser must pay. The median price of new homes built in 1956, for instance, was $14,500, compared with a median price of $13,700 in 1955, and $12,300 in 1954.

Few Squirts of Oil Can Improves Furniture

A few minutes spent once every two or three months with an oil can, a screwdriver and a wrench will go a long way toward prolonging the life and comfort of your home's furnishings.

COOL FENCE—A fence that will keep out neighborhood pets and children and let in breezes can rightfully be called a cool fence. This is a simple louvered design made of inexpensive grades of western red cedar or Douglas fir lumber. Posts are cedar four-by-four inches. This fence design lends itself to hillside use on a stairstep plan.

According to Mr. Fox, a family can remedy the bothersome sticking, squeaks and rattles which sometimes develop in pieces containing revolving fixtures, rocker springs, table slides, softbed hinges, davenport bed and reclining chair mechanisms, casters or glides by a periodic lubrication and tightening of nuts and bolts.

A coating of light machine oil on bearings, hinges, joints, slides caster stems and other spots where metal touches metal will eliminate annoying sticking and squeaking when the furniture is in use.

If a light greasing seems necessary, Mr. Fox suggests a thin coat of petroleum jelly along the working parts to lubricate points of more severe wear.

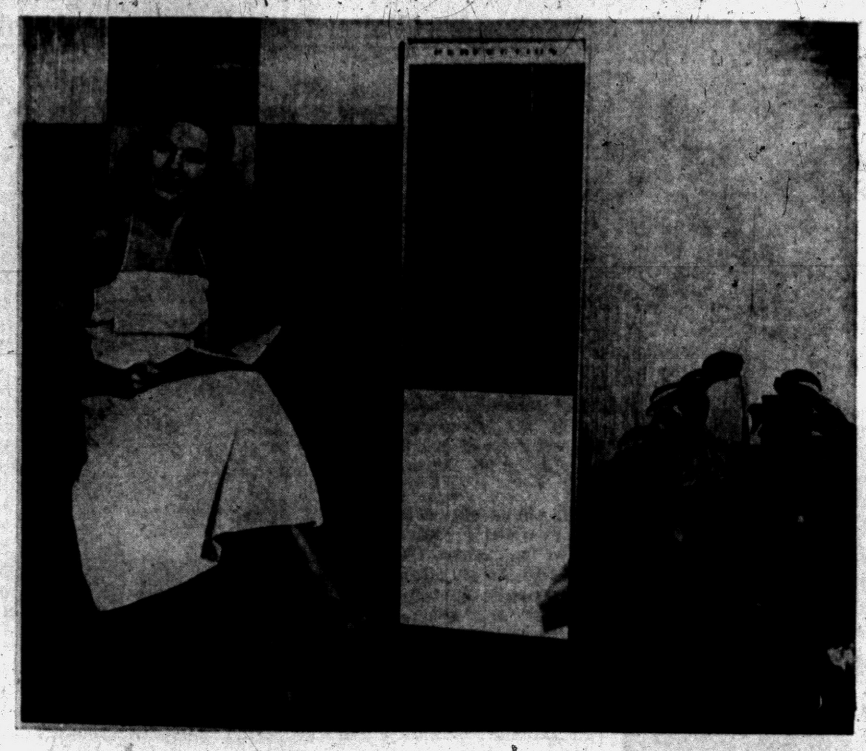

Nylon bearings are a standard feature of some mechanisms, and these should be lubricated with oil or almost any liquid available.

By using the wrench and screwdriver to tighten nuts and bolts that may have worked loose during weeks of hard use, you can remove rattles and make certain that the mechanism operates along its intended path.

While you have the oil can handy, it would be well to lubricate the other metal fixtures around the house, for, as Mr. Fox points out, the same treatment that is prescribed for metal furniture devices applies to almost any household fixture made of metal. A little oil applied to door locks, handles, hinges and stops, drawer slides in kitchen cabinets, fireplace flue controls and heating vents, and venetian blind mechanisms will assure long and satisfactory service from the metal devices that make living more enjoyable.

Set Washer Beforehand

The Norge division of Borg-Warner Corp. offers a new automatic washer with a timer device like an alarm clock which automatically starts the washer any time up to 10 hours after the wash is put in. This makes it perfect for the housewife who doesn't have time to wait for the wash to finish yet dreads leaving freshly laundered clothes in the washer, Norge says.

NEW STYLE FURNACE—You wouldn't know there's a furnace in this picture from its looks and location. The new Perfection appliance-styled furnace-air conditioner can be installed anywhere — even built into family rooms, recreation rooms or alcoves where conventional units would be considered unsightly. All duct work, piping and wiring can be completely hidden, without boxes or extended portions to mar its clean, modern lines. White baked enamel bottom panel and aluminum finish expanded metal grill with chrome trim harmonizes with any style of architecture. Furnace is supplied in capacities from 75,000 to 200,000 BTU; summer cooling unit can be made part of the initial installation or added later. The new furnace-air conditioner is made by Perfection Industries, Division of Hupp Corporation, Cleveland, Ohio.

Hidden Nails Won't Rust

A revolutionary method of fastening exterior siding to a house so there are no nail heads to rust out, stain the surface, or provide easy access for wood rot to start has been highly praised by the editor of a prominent lumber trade journal.

"They are in hiding, doing their duty by remote control," is the way he describes the use of nails with this hardboard siding.

Since nail heads have been a problem on exterior siding for an age, his article said, some alert engineers have come up with a siding that is held to a framework on vented aluminum strips. These strips are nailed, but no nails go into the siding itself.

He was referring to Masonite Shadowvent Siding, now widely used by some of the nation's top builders. As a result of this innovation, he continued, "nail heads cannot 'pop,' they can't rust and they can't 'freckle.' They are in hiding, doing their duty by remote control."

"This revolutionary siding is newsy from other standpoints, too. The mounting strips are vented in order to ventilate the interior of the wall and prevent condensation of the moisture. It is factory-primed, assuring a quick, beautiful finish coat that goes on easily in an economical amount.

"Comparative tests have demonstrated that this siding costs less to install than many conventional sidings which have few of its advantages. There is a longer period between paint jobs, too. Shadowvent is handled by lumber dealers Never stir paint with a brush. Always use a paint paddle for this purpose.

Kitchen Improvements for Do-It-Yourselfers

Plywood is an ideal material for the construction of cabinets and shelves. It is lightweight, easy to work and exceptionally strong. It comes in a variety of surface textures or may be stained or painted to match existing decor.

A helpful booklet being offered by Simpson Logging Company describes ways to use plywood in a variety of kitchen and other cabinets. Entitled "Manual on Finishing Plywood" and written especially for the home handyman, here are some pointers from the 36-page reference manual.

The following special use cabinets for the kitchen can be constructed out of rift grain fir plywood. However, most other plywoods are also well suited to these projects:

(No. 1) Kitchen office: This handy desk has four shelves on one side for storage of cookbooks and similar kitchen reference material. On the other side are four flip-out cubicles for storage of miscellaneous items such as grocery bills, equipment instruction booklets, pencils, notepads, paper clips and thumbtacks. The desk can be sized to fit available space and lined up with kitchen counters.

★ ★ ★

(No. 2) Spin-out shelf; Corner space that's ordinarily wasted is transformed into three handy shelves with addition of this ingenious spin-out cabinet that turns at a touch. Handy kitchen work-saver can be made with spin-out or fully revolving shelves. Easiest type of installation consists of spin-out shelves which are semi-circular and fastened on the back of the cabinet door. Protective sides keep small pans and kitchen accessories from falling when spin-out is turned.

(No. 3) Revolving plate shelf: One of the time consuming chores at mealtime is getting out and putting away dishes. This clever shelf arrangement stacks plates according to size on spin-out shelves, eliminates the need of stacking and unstacking to obtain the size you want. If the cabinet is deep enough, seldom used items may be stored conveniently behind the turn-out shelf plates.

(No. 4) Utensil file: Kitchen research has proven that vertical storage is both a space saver and a work convenience. This type of vertical storage unit can be made to suit individual storage needs. It is ideal for pot lids, pie tins and flat cooking pans. By widening the space between dividers you can store pots and pans in the same unit. Make the dividers so that they will slide in and out. For pots and pans use hooks for hanging them on divider walls or use a perforated hardboard for pot and pan sections.

★ ★ ★

These "kitchen organizers" are described in Simpson's "Manual on Finishing Plywood." It contains 68 color illustrations and gives many decorating ideas and suggestions for plywood in the home, as well as detailing and describing steps for finishing.

Decorate Venetian Blinds

Looking for an easy way to dress up those venetian blinds in the kitchen or bathroom? It's quick-easy with the new patterns of Marvalon adhesive veneer now on the market. Simply trace the desired designs on this washable fabric, snip them out with scissors and apply to the wood or metal strips. You can even add the family monogram to your blinds to match your towel sets.

Give Blinds a Real Bath

Did you ever try dipping your venetian blinds in the bathtub? It's an ideal place to clean them thoroughly. Suds and rinse the blinds and hang them to dry over a pair of parallel lines, outdoors or indoors. Venetian blinds should be carried outdoors in some container to prevent dripping on floors or rugs.

Dust Cloths to Discard

Ever hear of a disposable dust rag? One is a product called Duo-Dustin, a scientifically treated paper which will pick up dust and absorb it without scattering it about the house. When you're through dusting, just throw away the paper strip and next time start with a fresh length off the roll.

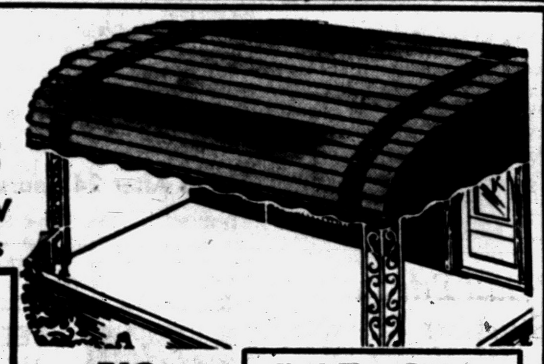

Sandpaper will last longer, work better, and resist cracking if the paper back is dampened slightly.

HIGH, MEDIUM, LOW — With removable tray for television dining or special top for a serving bar. Directions for a folding coffee table also are included in pattern 268, and a fold-away mending stand and even a folding drying rack all for 25c Or you may order packet 26 which includes these and also patterns for four other tables for $1. Orders under $1 add 10c service charge.

Name Allen Rush Board President

Romeo Replaces Walter Sewell in School Post; Enrollment 2,033

ROMEO — Allen Rush was elected president of Romeo Board of Education last night to replace Walter Sewell who recently moved to Hawaii. This the second time Rush has been named to top position on the board.

★ ★ ★

Two new members, Sewell's brother, John, and Clyde Hotchkiss were attending the first meeting since their appointment last month. Hotchkiss is filling out the school year for Charles Myers who also moved away.

School Supt. T. C. Filppula reported no new developments in board upcoming lawsuit. Architect R. J. West and the Detroit firm of Jensen and Keough Inc. are suing the Romeo School District for $50,000.

Enrollment in Romeo schools has increased from a total of 1950 students last June to 2,033 this week, said Filppula. He expects 15 - 20 additional registrations within the next few weeks.

★ ★ ★

MR. AND MRS. FRANK STADLER

GOLDEN WEDDING — Open house will be held from 2 to 6 p. m. Sunday at the home of Mrs. Bert Guilds, 5014 Sashabaw Rd., Clarkston. The occasion is the 50th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stadler, of 5186 Sashabaw. All seven of the Stadler children, including a daughter from New Mexico, and 15 grandchildren are expected to attend. The Stadlers were married Sept. 14, 1907, and came to Oakland County from Cass City, 30 years ago.

Multi-Millions Asked for School

Seek Voters' Approval Nov. 12 on $5,500,000 Bond Issue

BERKLEY — A special election will be held here Nov. 12 when voters will be asked to approve a $5,500,000 bond issue for a new high school.

★ ★ ★

If approved, it will be the largest bond issue in the school district's history. Residents will be asked to approve a millage increase which would hike present taxes about 38 per cent.

Half of that tax increase would be in effect for 10 years for operating expenses and the other half for thirty years to pay for the building.

On Government Time

Fishes in Palace Moat

LONDON (AP) — Each morning these days a man here goes trout fishing in as unlikely a spot as one would care to name.

The man is a government clerk employed by the Ministry of Agriculture. He fishes—on government time—in the moat around the jewel tower of the Palace of Westminster. And if you think he's nuts you ought to see the 13 spanking rainbow trout he landed in six days.

The Palace of Westminster is the House of the British Parliament. It is maintained and beautified by the Ministry of Works.

Until a few months ago, the moat was beautified only by a sprinkling of water lilies and some goldfish. It was all mildly decorative, but dull. Somebody at the Ministry of Works decided that an infusion of trout might liven the place up a little.

The trout, fed on ground ox liver and herring, thrived.

Not long ago a member of Parliament, who prefers to be anonymous, was peering pensively into the moat, pondering the problems of his constituents. To his horror, he saw one of the Ministry of Agriculture trout chase and gulp down one of the Ministry of Works goldfish.

The M. P. notified the Ministry of Works, which asked Agriculture to kindly come and remove its trout.

Agriculture thought of using an electrical stunning device, but this would stun the goldfish, too. A net was considered, but goldfish are delicate and might die of the excitement.

In the end, it was decided to fish the trout out, using liver for bait. Trout dote on liver. Goldfish can take it or leave it alone.

So each morning there's this man fishing in the moat around the jewel tower of the Palace of Westminster. There are still 13 of those rainbows lurking in the water lilies.

Four to Attend Legion Parley

Oakland County Sends Three Men and Woman to Atlantic City

Oakland County Legionnaires are preparing to embark today and tomorrow for Atlantic City, N. J., to attend the annual American Legion National Convention Monday through Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Three men and one woman will comprise the official group of delegates sponsored by the 18th District. They were elected to represent the district by fellow members.

From the Royal Oak Legion Post, Ernest W. Reinke of Royal Oak and Elton D. Knapp of Plymouth were chosen. The remaining member of the male delegation is Charles E. Larson of Southfield Township, from the Farmington Post.

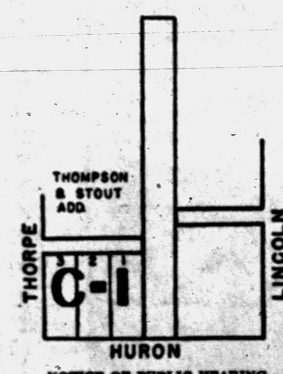

Representing all Oakland County auxiliaries will be Mrs. Joseph Phillips of 38 Texas St., Rochester. Mrs. Phillips is the immediate past president of Pontiac's Cook-Nelson Auxiliary.

Delegates will be sent with expenses paid by the district, while alternates will go expense free only if a delegate cannot make the trip.

Cars Increasing at Twice Rate of Humans

DETROIT (INS) — The passenger car population of the United States is increasing at twice the rate of the human population.

If that ratio continues unchanged there could be around 200 million autos for 350 million persons by the year 2000.

AWFUL LOT

Even these estimates may be a little conservative, since it's the normal desire of most every youngster to drive his or her own car.

The apparent never-ending move to suburbia and the failure of public transportation to keep pace with modern demands, no doubt, accounts for a large portion of the increase from 30 million to around 55 million cars since 1947.

SCHOOL SHORTAGE

Another problem accenting the demand for automobiles is the acute school shortage that makes it necessary for millions of youngsters—mainly those of high school age—to travel long distances to classes every day.

The alternatives to buying a car for the kids are for the parents to drive them to school and back (necessitating a second family car if the father drives to work himself) or let the youngsters wait around in all sorts of weather for buses.

In some states—including Michigan—children under 18 must now take driver training courses before obtaining licenses. Many of these kids rather expect a car as a graduation present from driving school.

Other methods of travel, mainly by air, may change the picture by the year 2000 and thereby cut down the volume of personal transportation. But it's a safe bet that a motor car of some sorts—with at least two in every garage—still will be the favorite method of getting around when the turn of the century comes upon us.

New car dealers are feeling better towards the factories these days and much worse toward one another.

This is the appraisal of Frederick J. Bell, executive vice president of the National Automobile Dealers Assn., who says "bootlegging" and "cross selling" is to blame for most of the dealer animosity.

"Bootlegging" involves franchised dealers selling new cars at a small profit to used car dealers for resale to the public. "Cross selling" is the sale of new cars to customers living in the area of a competitive dealer for the same make.

During the recent NADA meeting in Detroit, Bell suggested correcting these practices by having manufacturers "set forth in a code of business standards the type of man they want to sell their products to eliminate from the industry the bad actor, the unethical dealer, who is not going to live up to these standards."

The high-banked test circle, according to Goodyear engineers, will permit speeds up to 140 miles an hour without side force and capable of handling runs up to 1600 miles per hour.

United States Rubber Co. has introduced a new passenger car tire "strong enough to make aircraft landings at 140 miles an hour with seven times the weight normally carried by an automobile tire."

The new tire—called the U. S. Royal Master—was developed "to provide a margin of safety well beyond the demands on tire strength made by today's heavy, powerful cars equipped with power brakes and steering."

American Motors economy-sized Rambler, according to Ward's Automotive Reports, is showing an increased new car market sales penetration for the third straight year.

The Rambler is getting 1.4 per cent of the 1957 market, compared with 1.2 per cent in 1956, 1 per cent in 1955 and 0.6 per cent in 1954.

LAST LINK OF ROADWAY PLACED — Another important stage in building of the Mackinac Bridge was passed this week as workmen placed the last piece of roadway deck steel on the suspension span.

Bridge to Be Ready Nov. 1; Dedication Set Next June

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Nov. 1 still is the scheduled opening date of the 100-million-dollar Mackinac bridge joining Michigan's two peninsulas. But, says Larry Rubin, executive secretary of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, "if we can open it four, five or six days ahead of that, we will."

Rubin met with representatives of all contractors in an effort to determine if an earlier firm opening date could be agreed upon. The contractors held out for Nov. 1.

Work is ahead of schedule, but much remains to be done. Speculation on an Oct. 15 opening date was described as "a pipe dream" by Rubin.

"If we can improve on a Nov. 1 opening, we will to take advantage of the revenues," Rubin said.

A toll of $3.25 per automobile will be charged. It will replace a fleet of ferries operated by the State Highway Department on which the toll is $2.75 per car and 25c for each person.

Formal dedication of the bridge tentatively has been set for next June 25-28.

The twin cities of St. Ignace and Mackinaw City, at either end of the bridge across the Straits of Mackinac, are planning an elaborate four-day celebration for the dedication.

Close Plant Making Gas Into Gasoline

CHICAGO (AP) — The world's first plant for manufacture of gasoline from natural gas will be shut down as uneconomical, it was announced by Amco Chemicals Corp.

The plant, at Brownsville, Tex., will be closed within the next few months, with reduction of the work force to begin Oct. 1.

J. H. Forester, president of Amoco, a Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) subsidiary, said in a statement:

"We have determined that the Brownsville plant cannot make gasoline and chemicals from natural gas at present market prices as cheaply as they can be made by other processes."

★ ★ ★

Forester said, "We have proved the technical soundness of the process. However, results indicate that the units are more costly to operate and maintain then we had anticipated.

Dealer Reaction Varies

Wind Up of '57 Model Cars Stimulates Sales Contests

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Most of the nation's leading car makers wind up their 1957 model car output this month.

The immediate effect of this, of course, will be a sharp drop in production. And because the factories will not regain normal momentum with 1958 models until late in October a substantial drop in 1957 model inventories will result.

Trade surveys indicate new car demand has held up somewhat better than had been expected. They also show factory-sponsored sales contests are aiding in the outgoing model cleanup.

The majority of the sales contests are based on bonus payments to dealers reaching a certain percentage of pre-set sales quotas. The payments range from $30 to more than $200 a car.

A sampling of dealer reaction to the contests show a sharp division among the retailers. One view is that the contests stimulate dealer activity. Another is that they encourage price discounting at the retail level in order to attain increased unit volume.

The critics add that price slashing by only one retailer in a given area upsets the price structure of all retailers in that area. However, it has become fairly well accepted that price competition at the dealer level cannot be avoided in a market wherein the supply matches — if it does not exceed — the demand.

Shopping around from dealer to dealer and from one make to another has become commonplace among car buyers since the industry emerged from the scarcity era that marked the first five or six postwar years. The present buyer demand for price concessions is in sharp contract to the merchandising of a decade ago. At that time buyers were willing to pay premiums to get prompt delivery.

The price consciousness of car buyers apparently is not going to halt another round of increases with the coming of 1958 models. Undoubtedly it will serve to hold down the advances to some extent in the more highly competitive price fields.

The only price tags so far announced for 1958 model cars were those of the Edsel model. The Edsel, of course, was making its initial appearance on the car market and there were no previous model prices with which to compare the announced list prices.

The prices, however, were competitive with the 1957 listings of several makes in the medium-price field. This could complicate the pricing plans of some of the Edsel competitors for their forthcoming new models. Of course, there is nothing to prevent a later upward revision of the Edsel prices.

There have been varying estimates of how much may be added generally to 1958 model price tags. But they are purse speculation with no basis upon which to explain them. Some guesses have had it the increases might average as much as $100 per car.

In anticipation of the build-out of most 1957 models this month the industry put on an extra spurt in August to complete an estimated 523,000 passenger cars. That compared with the July total of 495,500 units. The September volume will be under 300,000 cars.

Rhue was injured when one bank of the 15 foot ditch he was working in, gave way, engulfing him with about 1½ feet of dirt. He received critical head, chest and internal injuries in the mishap.

Milk Shutdown Seems Unlikely

No Preparations Made for Detroit Area Strike Slated for Sunday

DETROIT (AP) — A threatened Detroit area milk strike set for tomorrow by the Dairy Farmers Cooperative Assn. appeared unlikely today to go into effect.

Samuel Bailo of South Lyon, secretary of the DFC, said no preparations had been made.

The strike date was set by Homer Martin, DFC organizational director, in support of demands for a price of $6 per hundredweight (46½ quarts) to farmers for drinking milk. Farmers currently get $5 a hundredweight for their drinking milk.

"Martin apparently intends to take it out in talk," Bailo said. "I haven't been informed regarding his moves since I and five other members of the board of directors announced him as a dictator and strikebreaker."

A DFC milk strike announced to begin Aug. 14 was called off after Martin argued against action at that time. He said then he wanted time to confer with agricultural and law enforcement officials and the State Labor Mediation Board.

A legislative committee investigating milk prices announced yesterday that Martin will be called to testify at a hearing Sept. 27 in Lansing.

The DFC, a splinter group formed from members of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., seeks to supplant the MMPA as bargaining agent for the farmers with the Detroit area creameries.

Bailo said that despite his denouncement of Martin "I'm staying in the DFC to do what I can."

"If there is a strike, I'll go along, but I don't see signs of one. There has been no strike meeting recently that I know of.

"Dairy farmers are waiting for action. We should have had the strike a month ago. That would have been a better time than now so far as farm work is concerned."

Four Persons Hurt in Headon Collision

Four persons were injured in a two-car headon collision Friday afternoon on Rochester road just north of Stark road in Avon Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's reports.

The driver of one car, Peter Waitkunas, 64, of 19171 Fleming St., Detroit, is reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with a broken leg, chest bone, and multiple bruises. His wife, Antoinette, 61, was treated and released.

Her brother, Konstanty Latvis, 65, of Schenectady, N. Y., was admitted with severe cuts of the head and face. His condition is satisfactory, said the hospital.

The driver of the other car, Theodore Madjecky, 49, of 232 Thaila St., Rochester, is reported in satisfactory condition with a broken collarbone and dislocated elbow.

Madjesky told deputies the car he was passing pulled out in front of him, and when he saw the Waitkunais car coming toward him, he tried to swerve to the left

Plea Rejected on Court Shows

TV Station's Request That Programs Remain on Air Rejected by Bar

DETROIT (AP)—The State Bar of Michigan has rejected a last-minute plea by WWJ-TV to permit continuance of the television shows "Traffic Court" and "Juvenile Court."

WWJ-TV officials appealed unsuccessfully earlier this month to officers of the State Bar for reconsideration of their opinion which held the shows violated the bar's code of ethics. The station said it had received requests from 3,800 viewers that the programs continue.

Traffic Judge John D. Watts, and Probate Judge Nathan J. Kaufman, who appeared on the respective shows, were notified by the Bar Aug. 17 that their performances constituted self-advertising in violation of State Bar codes. Both jurists agreed immediately to withdraw from the programs.

John W. Cummiskey of Grand Rapids, president of the State Bar, said the action of the two judges was "voluntary." He said the decision that the shows violated the bar's code of ethics was in no way critical of either judge. "In fact," Cummiskey said, "they have been most cooperative."

Since India nationalized life insurance, many insurance workers have quit writing new business because they have not been paid their commissions, Muzaffarpur reports.

Insurance Man to Speak at Agents' Conference

Louis Pohl, Pontiac manager of Life of Virginia, will be a speaker at the annual management program of the General Agents and Managers Conference of the National Assn. of Life Underwriters Monday in Detroit.

Results of that course show a 47 per cent improvement in management methods, Pohl reports, as a result of questionnaires completed by managers who finished the course.
